STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EMERGENCY RELIEF ADMINISTRATION,
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, May 29, 1935.

Hon. Edward Craig, Speaker of the Assembly.
California Legislature, Fifty-first Regular Session,
Assembly Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Re: Assembly Bill No. 2459.

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: The Relief Commission at its meeting in Los Angeles on May 25, 1935, resolved "vigorous opposition" to the passage of Assembly Bill

No. 2459, and as reasons therefore, approved in substance the objections set forth in a communication addressed to the Subcommittee on Legislation of the commission by Reuben B. Resnick, chairman of the Committe on Social Legislation, Council of Social Agencies in Los Angeles.

These objections are as follows:

"1. Legal—The bill, as it is presented, is couched in terms which attempt to make it a valid police power measure. It is the proponents' hope to sustain its constitutionality on this score and if this is a valid police power measure other constitutional restrictions will have to yield to the police power of this State. The question then arises, is this such a police power measure that is not 'unreasonable, arbitrary or capricious'?

There is much in the bill to indicate that the legislation is not a valid police power measure. There is an inherent uncertainty about many of its terms. The question arises, who are 'indigent persons, or persons likely to become public charges'?

There is much to indicate that this measure is a denial of the privileges and immunities of persons of several States. May California restrict citizens of other States from going and coming as they like? In this connection it is interesting to note that Nevada and Florida attempted somewhat similar legislation several years ago, but both legislative measures were held unconstitutional. For more elaborate discussion of this point and similar points, reference should be made to the famous 'Passenger' cases. (Smith vs. Turner, Norris vs. State of Washington, 48 U. S. 283, also Railroads vs. Husen, 95 U. S. 471.)

The constitutionality of this bill can also be questioned on the ground that this is an improper interference with a power of Congress which has the sole right to control and regulate interstate commerce. In other words, can persons who are agricultural laborers, selling their services in Arizona, Oregon and other agricultural States, be prevented from coming into this State and selling their services? They are dealing in a commodity, labor, selling it from State to State.

The bill also indicates that 'The Governor may likewise handle such rules and regulations from time to time.' This section may contemplate the delegation of legislative power in the hands of the Governor who clearly has only executive power.

In conclusion it should be said that there is an uncertainty and confusion of terms in the bill, such terms as 'pauper labor' are employed. The question has been asked if a laborer is a pauper; it may be because the wages are too low and not because he is of a pauper class, which is supposed to cling to idleness and refuse labor opportunities.

2. Social and Social Work Implication—The bill contemplates methods of enforcement which of necessity will have to be set up at various points on the State border It contemplates further that those stationed at the State border will have adequate means of determining who are 'paupers, vagabonds, indigent persons, persons likely to become public charges, and persons affected with contagious and infectious diseases.' It needs no astute economist or social worker to observe the difficulties that are inherent in a set-up of this kind. It is quite conceivable that X family, with four members in it and with $100 will not become public charges, and Y family, with the same number of persons in it, and with the same or even more resources, would after a short residence in this State become a public charge. The set-up would require altogether too many trained budget experts, physicians, social workers and others to administer it adequately and properly.

The bill itself is, in its underlying standpoint, a policing measure similar to the scope and function of our immigration officers at the Canadian and Mexican borders. The problems revolving around the exclusion of persons who are supposed to be, or are likely to be indigent, are not necessarily a policing matter but primarily a matter for consideration by social workers and other highly specialized professions.

The bill, if it means to exclude persons who are affected with contagious and infectious diseases, contemplates the set-up of custody for persons afflicted with these illnesses—a matter altogether too complicated to be handled with temporary facilities.

The matter of expense involved in enforcing the measures of this bill, together with cost of custody and deportation, is a serious problem to be considered, before this measure should receive favorable consideration.

3 Administrative Policy—Finally the matter of administrative policy arises. Is this bill opposed to the policy of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration in caring for transients and indigents coming from other States? In view of the comprehensive program of the Federal Transient Service, it seems that the policy of the Government is to provide adequate measure for caring for indigent nonresidents.

There is another serious matter of policy which has already been brought to the State Administrator, namely, that agricultural interests of the State might be embarrassed by the exclusion of migratory workers from Arizona, through California to Oregon. There is also the possibility that this measure might cause retaliatory measures in other States.

In conclusion it may be said that this bill is a hastily conceived measure which attempts by what it regards as a simple device, namely, exclusion, to cope with a problem which has many complicated factors. They can not be solved in the manner set forth in Assembly Bill No. 2459"

In addition to the statements heretofore quoted from Mr Reuben B Resnick's report, the following facts with reference to the care of transients in California are recited

(a) The Emergency Relief Act of 1933 made available funds to the State of California to aid needy persons who had no legal settlement in any one State or community.

(b) To meet conditions in California 15 central intake bureaus were opened to care for transient families, women and girls, and intake bureaus in the principal cities to register transient men and boys.

Fifteen city shelters provide for the emergency housing for transient men, with mandatory physical examination required at time of registration. Sixty camps have been built in localities throughout the State, adjacent to work progress of a public nature.

(c) During the month of April, 1935, 80,909 transients including 3791 State homeless were given care with 43,402 cases closed during the month. The registration on May 11, 1935, was 37,507 individuals.

Expenditure by the Federal Government during April, 1935, for the maintenance of the transients in the State, including the administration of the program, amounted to $515,290.28, virtually all of which was spent in California.

Should you desire any further information on the subject of the care of transients in California, we will be glad to furnish it upon your request.

Yours very truly,

FRANK Y. McLAUGHLIN, Administrator.

Motion to Print in Journal.

Mr. Lyon moved that the following statement concerning Assembly Bill No. 1273 be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

U. S. Webb, Attorney General.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, LEGAL DEPARTMENT,
SACRAMENTO, May 23, 1935

Hon. Dewell L. Pierce,
Secretary, State Board of Equalization,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. PIERCE: In a recent letter you called my attention to the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 1273, as amended in the Assembly on May 1, 1935, defining a "retail sale", or "sale at retail" to mean:

> "A sale to a consumer or to any person for any purpose other than for resale in the form of tangible personal property, except that the expressions 'transfer of possession,' 'lease,' and 'rental' as used in subdivision (b) of this section shall mean and include only such transactions as the board finds are in lieu of sales as herein otherwise defined."

You further directed my attention to the fact that subdivision (b) of section 2 of the Retail Sales Tax Act would be amended by this bill to define a "sale" as including any transfer of title or possession, lease or rental, etc., so that this, read in connection with the language above quoted, would make transfers of possession, leases or rentals taxable when the board finds that they are in lieu of what would normally have been a sale. You say that it has been suggested that under this language it might be possible to extend application of the Retail Sales Tax Act to the rentals of moving picture films to an exhibitor who uses such films for exhibition in his moving picture theater for a period of a few days or a week, and inquire as to my opinion on this point.

I do not believe that the proposed legislation could be so construed, but in order to clarify any doubt which might arise with respect to the scope of the amendment and the authority of your board thereunder, I suggest that the definition of a "retail sale" or "sale at retail" as incorporated in the bill might be revised to read as follows:

> "A sale to a consumer or to any person for any purpose other than for resale in the form of tangible personal property except that the expressions 'transfer of possession,' 'lease,' and 'rental' as used in subdivision (b) of this section shall mean and include only such transactions as the board, upon investigation, finds to be in lieu of sales as herein otherwise defined."
> (New language underscored, and "to be" substituted for "are.")

With this slight change in the wording of the proposed law, I am of the opinion that there would be no reasonable basis upon which your board could predicate a tax upon the gross receipts from rentals of moving picture films as above described, since it would appear impossible for you to make an investigation sustaining a finding that a transaction of this character is actually intended to replace what would otherwise have been a sale. The intent of the law would clearly limit the board to findings supported by appropriate inquiry, and would preclude any arbitrary determination on your part to the effect that a transaction of such a character would be in lieu of a sale as that term is otherwise understood.

Very truly yours,

Committee Amendments.

Amendment No. 1.

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out lines 2 to 7 of the title, and insert in lieu thereof the following: "of California, to create a Department of State to be known as the Prorate Department and creating a Prorate Board and setting forth the powers and duties thereof, and making an appropriation in support thereof."

Amendment No. 2.

On page 1, line 1, of the printed bill, after "SECTION 1.", insert the following: "In view of the fact that the natural resources of our country provide an abundance of the raw materials of production, and the further fact that modern science discovery and invention have provided extremely efficient machines and processes of production and distribution, and the still further fact that our schools and colleges have provided ample technical knowledge and skill and there being in addition an abundance of common labor, we, therefore, live in the very midst of potential abundance and security. And also while we live in the midst of potential abundance and security we live in the very presence of actual scarcity, poverty, and insecurity. This great fault can be attributed to no other cause than unsound incoordinated prorating of the activities of the various elements of our economic mechanism. This makes pertectly apparent the imperative need of a general coordinating prorating authority.

It is self-evident that without goods and services human needs can not be supplied and distress and revolution follow Without man hours plus technical knowledge and skill and common labor goods and services are impossible Without purchasing power, goods and services can not be procured, exchanged, or distributed, therefore, the coordinating prorating of production, man hours and purchasing power becomes a basic necessity to a successful mechanized civilization.

Assembly Resolution.

WHEREAS, The California Teachers' Association is composed of thousands of teachers, many of whom are reported to have been practically coerced into joining the association in order to avail themselves of the political pull to obtain teaching positions; and

Amendment No. 2.

On page 2 of the printed bill, as amended, following line 9, insert the following:

SEC. 2 Section 1 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows.

Section 1. All bonded indebtedness consisting of outstanding unpaid bonds and outstanding unpaid interest coupons of bonds issued by or for any special improvement district the bonds of which are payable from taxes or special assessments levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands may be funded or refunded under and pursuant to the provisions of this act. At least two of the interest coupons on the refunding bonds must be at a rate of interest less than the interest rate on the bonds to be refunded, and the rate of interest on the refunding bonds shall not exceed the rate of interest on the bonds to be refunded. The legislative body of the city or county or city and county which conducts the refunding proceedings may negotiate and contract with the holders of bonds for such refunding and to aid in such refunding may appropriate moneys from the general fund or from any available fund of the city or county or city and county Also, any county in which the district lies, whether the district be entirely or partly within a city or cities, or entirely or partially within unincorporated territory of the county, is hereby authorized to appropriate moneys from its general fund, road fund or any available fund to assist in such refunding In refunding such indebtedness under this act, the total amount of the reassessments to be levied under this act plus contributions, if any, of public money to aid in such refunding shall be less than the total amount of the outstanding unpaid bonds and the outstanding due and unpaid interest coupons which are to be refunded

Sec. 2 Whenever the legislative body of any city or county or city and county of this State determines by resolution that the public interest, convenience or necessity require the refunding of the indebtedness of any special improvement district which it is given jurisdiction to refund under the provisions of this act, said legislative body shall by resolution declare its intention to refund such bonds and shall determine the total maximum principal amount for which a reassessment shall be levied in the refunding proceedings, and shall determine the term of any refunding bonds to be issued to represent unpaid reassessments as herein provided and the rate or rates of interest of such bonds. The rate of interest during the entire term of such bonds need not be the same but different rates may be stated for one or more interest payments of such bonds. If such different rates of interest are proposed, each rate and the time during which such rate shall be paid shall be designated in such resolution. The amount of any proposed contribution of public funds to be made to assist in such refunding shall be stated in such resolution, but this shall not prevent said legislative body making additional contributions thereto at any time. In said resolution said legislative body shall state the total amount of the outstanding indebtedness to be refunded (which shall be deemed to be the principal amount of outstanding unpaid bonds and the amount of due and unpaid interest coupons), the amount of the principal of bonds included therein, and the amount of due and unpaid interest coupons included therein, all as of the date said resolution is adopted. No error or mistake in the computation of the amount of unpaid principal or unpaid interest shall affect the validity of the refunding proceedings, and no error or mistake in any statement of the amount of such principal or interest in any notice, resolution or order in the course of the proceedings shall invalidate in any way the reassessment or the refunding bonds or the refunding proceedings; provided that the total sum of the reassessment levied in the refunding proceeding, plus any contribution or contributions of public funds made to aid in such refunding, shall not exceed the sum of the principal amount of the bonds to be refunded and the amount of the due and unpaid interest coupons to be refunded. Said resolution shall contain a statement that for any reassessment not paid within thirty days from the date of recordation thereof a bond will issue in the manner and form provided in this act (designating the act by title or other suitable reference).

Said resolution shall also contain a date, hour, and place for the hearing of objections to said refunding, and the date fixed for said hearing shall not be less than twenty (20) days nor more than sixty (60) days subsequent to the date of adoption of said resolution. Said resolution shall also contain a statement that the refunding shall not be authorized unless the written consent of the owners of a majority in area of the land in the district subject to assessment to pay the principal and interest of the outstanding bonds is filed with the clerk of the legislative body, and that any owner of land in said district may file his written consent to such refunding at any time prior to the adoption of the resolution ordering the refunding.

Sec. 3. The resolution shall be published once a week for at least two (2) weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the city (if the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a city) or in the county (if the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a county). In the event no newspaper of general circulation is published in the city, then publication may be made in any newspaper of general circulation published in the county. Copies of such resolution headed "Notice of refunding and reassessment" shall also be posted upon all open streets within the district of lands proposed to be reassessed in the refunding proceedings Such notices shall be not more than three hundred (300) feet in distance apart and not less than three (3) of such notices shall be posted. The heading upon such posted notices must be in letters at least one inch in height and such notices shall be posted on or before the date of the first publication of said notice. A copy of the resolution as published shall be mailed, postage prepaid, by the clerk of the legislative body to each person to whom land in the assessment district is assessed as shown on the last equalized assessment roll of the county in which said district lies, at his address as shown upon such roll, and to any person, whether owner in fee or having a lien upon or legal or equitable interest in any land within said district, whose name and address and a designation of the land in which he is interested is on file in the office of said clerk. No error, failure or mistake in the mailing or posting of such notices or any of them and no failure of any owner or person interested in any land within the district to receive such mailed notice shall in any way affect the validity of the proceedings hereunder and the clerk's affidavit of mailing shall be conclusive evidence that all notices have been mailed as required by this act. Affidavits of publication, posting and mailing shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body The date of the first publication of the resolution of intention, the date of the posting of copies of such resolution, and the date of mailing of such resolution (which dates need not be the same) shall be at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of hearing fixed in said resolution.

Any owner of land within the district subject to tax or assessment for payment of the principal and interest of the outstanding bonds may file his consent in writing to the refunding and reassessment upon the terms stated in said resolution. Such consent need not be in any particular form and no error or informality thereof shall in any manner vitiate the proceedings. Owners of land within the meaning of this section are those, and those only, who appear to be such upon the records in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the district is situated on the day that said consents are filed with the clerk of said legislative body. Executors, administrators, special administrators, and guardians may consent for any property of the estate represented by them. Any trustee of an express trust in land, other than as security for the payment of money, may consent for all or any part of the land held in such trust. A trustee in bankruptcy may consent for all or any part of the property of the bankrupt. Such executors, administrators, guardians and trustees are deemed owners of land within the meaning of this act. The written consent of the owners of a majority in area of the lands in the district subject to reassessment in the refunding proceedings shall be binding upon the owners of the minority in area of the lands in such district.

At any time not later than the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed refunding, any person interested and any owner of property which is subject to reassessment in the refunding proceeding may file his written objection against the proposed refunding with the clerk of the legislative body. Such objection must contain a description of the property in which each signer thereof is interested, sufficient to identify the same, and shall set forth the nature of each signer's interest therein, and shall be delivered to the clerk of said legislative body at or before the time set for hearing, and no other protests or objections shall be considered. At the time and place fixed for the hearing of objections, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, the legislative body shall hear and consider all objections so filed. The hearing may be continued from time to time, by order of the legislative body to be entered upon its minutes. Any objection or protest to such refunding not made at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided shall be deemed to be waived voluntarily by any person who might have made such protest or objection, and such person shall be deemed to have consented to the proposed refunding. The legislative body may sustain or deny any or all objections and protests and its determination thereon shall be entered upon the minutes and shall be final and conclusive. Said legislative body shall also at said hearing, as originally fixed or as adjourned, by resolution entered upon the minutes, determine whether the written consent of the owners of a majority in area of the lands in the district subject to reassessment has been filed or not, and if it determines that such consent has been filed it shall thereupon acquire jurisdiction to proceed further under this act.

The validity, sufficiency, or genuineness of said consents, or any thereof, or the finding and determination of the legislative body thereon, shall not be contested in any action, suit or proceeding unless the same shall be commenced within three months after the determination of said legislative body has been made, and thereafter no person in any action, suit or proceeding may plead or prove that said consents or any thereof, or the finding or determination of the legislative body thereon, was in any way defective, invalid, or insufficient.

After the legislative body has determined that the written consent of the owners of such majority in area has been filed, it may by resolution entered upon the minutes order the refunding and reassessment.

SEC. 4. Section 6 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. The total amount for which said reassessment shall be levied shall not exceed the total principal amount of such reassessment as stated in the resolution of intention; but may be for a smaller amount. Said reassessment shall be made upon all such lots, pieces or parcels of land within the assessment district as are subject to tax or assessment to pay the principal and interest of the outstanding bonds to be refunded. The total amount to be reassessed shall be apportioned upon said lots, pieces and parcels of land in the manner hereinafter set forth, to wit: To the total principal amount of the reassessment proposed to be levied shall be added the total sum of all of the amounts (including such interest and penalties as go into such fund) paid into the interest and sinking fund of such district on or prior to the date the resolution of intention in the refunding proceedings was adopted, upon taxes or assessments levied upon any lot, piece or parcel of land subject to reassessment in the refunding proceeding to raise funds to pay the principal and/or interest of the bonds of said district which are to be refunded. The total amount of the two sums shall be apportioned as an assessment upon all such lots, pieces or parcels of land within the assessment district as are subject to tax or assessment to pay the principal and interest of the bonds to be refunded. The person making the reassessment shall proceed to estimate upon the lots, pieces or parcels of land within the assessment district and, subject to reassessment under the terms of this act, the benefits arising from the acquisition or improvement, or acquisition and improvement, for which the bonds to be refunded were issued and to be received by each such lot, piece or parcel of land, and shall thereupon reassess upon and against the said lands the total amount of the two sums hereinbefore in this section mentioned and in so doing shall assess the said total amount upon the several lots, pieces or parcels of land in said assessment district subject to reassessment in the manner following, to wit:

Upon each lot, piece or parcel of land, respectively, in proportion to the estimated benefits received by each such lot, piece or parcel of land from the acquisition or improvement, or the acquisition and improvement, for which the bonds to be refunded were issued.

When said total amount has been assessed upon each of the lots, pieces or parcels of land to be reassessed there shall be deducted from the amount so assessed upon any lot, piece or parcel of land any sum (including interest and penalties, if any) paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district on or prior to the date of adoption of the resolution of intention in the refunding proceeding upon a tax or assessment levied upon any such lot, piece or parcel of land to pay the principal and interest on bonds of said district. In case any such lot, piece or parcel of land was a portion of a larger parcel of land for which a payment was made, the portion of such payment to be deducted from the amount assessed against such smaller lot, piece or parcel of land shall be that proportion of such payment which the amount assessed against said smaller lot, piece or parcel of land bears to the total amount assessed against all of the parcels which comprised said larger parcel of land. After all of the amounts of taxes and assessments, including any penalties and interest paid into the interest and sinking fund, have been deducted from the amount assessed to each such lot, piece or parcel of land, the amounts remaining assessed against each such lot, piece or parcel of land shall be deemed reassessments and shall comprise the total reassessment to be levied and shall in total amount be the sum stated in said resolution of intention or a smaller sum. If in any case the amount paid as ad valorem taxes or assessments upon any parcel of land should exceed the amount assessed as benefits against said parcel, no refund shall be made to any property owner.

SEC. 5. Section 9 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

No defect in the form of such reassessment and no omission, failure or neglect of, or action or determination

SEC. 7. Section 12 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. If the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a city, said reassessment as confirmed shall be recorded with the superintendent of streets of said city. If the refunding proceedings are conducted by the legislative body of a county, said reassessment as confirmed shall be recorded with the county surveyor of said county. The reassessment shall not be recorded until the holders of all outstanding bonds and coupons have contracted to exchange such bonds and coupons in the refunding proceedings, or, if all holders of outstanding bonds and coupons do not so contract, the reassessment shall not be recorded until adequate provision has been made as required in this act for the retirement or payment of the bonds and coupons of nonconsenting holders. When so recorded, the several amounts reassessed upon the lots, pieces or parcels of land in said reassessment shall be a lien thereon as of the date of such recordation. Such lien shall continue until said reassessment and all interest and penalties thereon are paid or until it is discharged of record. The lien of said reassessment shall be superior to and have priority over all special assessment liens created against the same property subsequent to the date of such recordation. Any foreclosure of said reassessment lien or sale of property for said lien shall convey the said property to the purchaser free and clear of all encumbrances except taxes, and such special assessment liens, as at the date of the creation of said lien, are by law equal or superior to said reassessment lien. From and after the date of the said recording of said reassessment all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents thereof. The amounts assessed in said reassessment shall be payable to the said superintendent of streets or county surveyor with whom said reassessment is recorded, and said superintendent of streets or county surveyor is authorized to receive the amount due upon any reassessment and give a good and sufficient discharge therefor, provided a bond has not been issued to represent such reassessment. The officer with whom said reassessment is recorded shall give notice by publication for ten days in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the lands reassessed lie or by three successive insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed in such county that said reassessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein became due and payable upon the recordation of said reassessment, stating the date of such recordation and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty days after the date of such recordation. Said notice shall also contain a statement that for any reassessment not paid before the expiration of said thirty days, a bond will issue in the manner and form provided in this act and shall state the period over which said bond shall extend and the rate of interest which shall be payable thereon. Notice shall also be given by mailing a post card to the owner of each lot, piece or parcel of land reassessed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for county taxes prior thereto or as known to the superintendent or surveyor; provided that a failure of the superintendent or surveyor to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive the same shall not affect the validity of the proceedings or the validity of the lien of any reassessment or of any bond issued thereon. Upon payment of any reassessment, the superintendent of streets or the county surveyor with which the said reassessment is recorded shall mark upon the said reassessment note of the said payment and shall cancel the said reassessment, and upon request, said superintendent of streets or county surveyor shall also give a receipt to the person paying the said reassessment. Any reassessment upon public property shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of such property, and said reassessment shall be an enforceable obligation against the owner of or the governing body controlling the said property. If for any reason there are no moneys available for the payment of said reassessment, then the board or officer whose duty it is to levy taxes for the said owner of said public property shall include in the next tax levy an amount, in addition to moneys for all other purposes, sufficient to pay said reassessment and the interest thereon from the date the reassessment is recorded at the rate to be stated in the refunding bonds, and when the moneys received from said tax levy are available, said reassessment and such interest thereon shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of such land. Any reassessment upon public property not in use in the performance of a public function may be foreclosed in the manner provided in section 27 of the "Improvement Act of 1911" as amended; provided, however, that the notice to be given upon the tax bill need not be given or made and that such action may be brought at any time after thirty days after the recording of such reassessment, and in any such foreclosure action the said reassessment and diagram with proof of nonpayment shall be prima facie evidence of the right of plaintiff to recover in the action. Said action shall be brought in the name of the city or county the legislative body of which levied said reassessment upon the request of any person entitled to any portion of the moneys to be derived from said reassessment. The person requesting that said foreclosure action be brought must advance the plaintiff's costs and expenses thereof and said action may be brought by any competent attorney appointed by the legislative body which levied said reassessment. In any case in which the reassessment is levied by the legislative body of a county, the same shall be foreclosed as hereinafter provided, except that the various officers designated in said section 27 shall be the corresponding county officers as designated in the County Improvement Act of 1921 as amended. No refunding bond shall issue against public property, and the list of unpaid reassessments to be filed with the treasurer shall not include any unpaid reassessment upon public property.

SEC 8. Section 13 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 13 No action, suit or proceeding to set aside, cancel, avoid, annul or correct any reassessment hereunder or to review any of the proceedings, acts or determinations made in the proceedings for said reassessment and refunding or to question the validity of or enjoin the collection of said reassessment or any reassessment therein or to enjoin the issuance of any bond or bonds to represent the same shall be maintained by any person unless such action or actions shall have been commenced within ninety days after the date of confirmation of said reassessment, and thereafter all persons shall be barred from any such action, suit or proceeding or any defense of the invalidity of said reassessment or any of the reassessments therein contained or any bonds issued thereon.

In any action, suit, or proceeding brought after said ninety days has expired, to enforce any reassessment or bond issued to represent said reassessment no person may urge, plead or prove the invalidity of any reassessment or bond issued to represent said reassessment and in any action to foreclose a bond issued hereunder, said bond shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity and validity of the reassessment proceedings and reassessment, and the bond."

Amendment No. 3.

On page 2, line 10, of the printed bill, as amended, strike out the figure "2", and insert in lieu thereof the figure "9".

Amendment No. 4.

On page 2, line 12, of the printed bill, as amended, strike out all of the language following "15.", and strike out all of lines 13 to 49, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following.

"If the holders of all of the outstanding bonds agree to refund their bonds as proposed in the refunding proceeding, then all refunding bonds, all moneys collected on the reassessments levied in the refunding proceeding, and all public contributions (if any) shall be paid and delivered to the holders of the outstanding bonds, in such amounts and proportions as may be fixed by contract with such bondholders. Any contract with the holder of any bond may provide such terms and conditions of exchange as may be agreed upon by the holder and the legislative body, and may contain such terms and conditions relating to time of performance, conditions precedent thereto, and the method and mode of performance, as may be agreed upon by said parties Whenever the refunding bonds and moneys, if any, are delivered to said bondholders, said bondholders must concurrently deliver to the legislative body or its representative the outstanding unpaid bonds which are refunded and all outstanding unpaid interest coupons, constituting the entire indebtedness of said district, and the same shall forthwith be canceled.

In the event that the holders of one or more of the outstanding bonds do not enter any contract with the legislative body to refund the same, nevertheless if the holders of seventy-five per cent or more of the outstanding bonds do contract with the legislative body which conducts the refunding proceedings for the refunding of the bonds owned or held by them, said legislative body shall have authority to refund all of the bonds of said district under the provisions of this act, but in such event, prior to recording the reassessment levied under this act, sufficient moneys to adequately provide for the retirement or payment of the bonds of the nonconsenting holders must be provided and set aside in the proper fund for that purpose Any city or county or city and county which is authorized under this act to appropriate moneys to aid in refunding the bonds of the district, may make an advancement or contribution or an additional contribution in order to provide moneys to pay or retire bonds of such nonconsenting holders. Whenever any city or county or city and county or any person or corporation advances moneys to provide for the payment or retirement of the bonds of nonconsenting holders, the legislative body may deliver at par all or any portion of the refunding bonds which are not to be delivered to consenting bondholders to the person, corporation, city, county or city and county making such advance or advances, or sell at par all or any part of such refunding bonds not to be delivered to consenting bondholders, and from the proceeds thereof reimburse such person, corporation, city, county or city and county entirely or partially, and may contract to make such sale or delivery. If the legislative body makes all or any part of such advancement it may reimburse the city, county or city and county of which it is the legislative body, entirely or partially by taking all or any part of such refunding bonds at par. Any cash collected on reassessments and not required to pay consenting bondholders may also be used to reimburse in whole or in part any person, corporation, city, county or city and county making such advance or advances, and the legislative body may contract to so apply such cash. Any other method of raising funds for the payment or retirement of the bonds of nonconsenting bondholders which will prior to the time the reassessment is recorded under this act adequately provide the moneys necessary for such payment or retirement is hereby authorized. Wherever any moneys are placed in any fund for the retirement or payment of the bonds of nonconsenting holders the said moneys shall be used only for that purpose and after all of the bonds of said nonconsenting holders have been paid or retired any sum remaining in said fund shall be returned to the city or county or city and county which advanced the same.

If the contract with the bondholders so provides, said legislative body may sell all of the refunding bonds for cash and pay said bondholders in cash at a price to be fixed in said contract.

In the event that the discharge of the bonds of any nonconsenting holders at less than the par value thereof has been authorized by any final decree or order confirming a plan of readjustment under any bankruptcy law of the United States of America in any proceedings initiated under the authority of this act, said legislative body is authorized to do and perform all acts and things necessary for the discharge of such bonds in accordance with said decree or order.

Wherever the word "bond" or "bonds" is used hereinbefore in this section in referring to the outstanding bonds the word shall be deemed to include and shall be construed to mean also any outstanding unpaid interest coupon or coupons of any bond or bonds of the district, and the word "bondholder" or "bondholders" as used hereinbefore in this section shall be deemed to include and shall be construed as meaning also any holder or holders of outstanding unpaid interest coupons of bonds of the district.

After the date of the adoption of the resolution of intention in the refunding proceeding all sums paid for any parcel of land into the interest and sinking fund for the payment of principal and interest of the bonds to be refunded shall be credited upon the reassessment levied in the refunding proceeding upon such parcel and shall be applied as moneys paid upon such reassessment.

Upon the recordation of the reassessment in the refunding proceeding all unpaid taxes or special assessment taxes levied to pay principal and interest of the bonds refunded and all penalties and interest thereon shall be deemed canceled and annulled, and the clerk of the legislative body which conducted such refunding proceedings shall notify the proper city officials or the proper county officials, or both, as the case may be, that the bonds of said district have been refunded and that said taxes or said special assessment taxes, penalties and interest are canceled and annulled and such officials shall thereupon proceed to make the necessary entries showing the cancellation thereof."

Amendment No. 5.

On page 2 of the printed bill as amended, following line 49, insert the following:

"SEC. 10. Section 30 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 30. At any time within ninety days after the confirmation of the reassessment, any person interested in any of the bonds to be refunded or in any of the lands reassessed may bring an action in the superior court of the county the legislative body of which conducted the refunding proceedings, or the county in which the city the legislative body of which conducted the refunding proceedings lies, to determine the validity or invalidity of such reassessment. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for four weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Said summons shall contain a general description of the boundaries of the district of the lands upon which said reassessment is or is to be levied. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such reassessment or uphold the same. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Either party shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court at any time within thirty days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal. The motion for a new trial of any such proceeding must be heard and determined within ten days from the filing of the notice of intention

The court hearing the said proceeding, in inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of such reassessment, must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act are applicable to the proceeding herein provided for. The costs of the legal proceedings provided for in this section may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court After said reassessment has been confirmed, it shall not be contested in any way other than at the time and in the manner specified in this section, and in any such action all findings, conclusions and determinations of the legislative body which conducted the reassessment proceedings shall be conclusive in the absence of actual fraud.

If any reassessment or any refunding bond is held illegal or invalid in any action, suit or proceeding upon any ground which would apply to the entire reassessment or the entire issue of refunding bonds, then the unpaid bonds refunded, remain in full force and effect, and if said unpaid bonds have been canceled, the treasurer of the city or county which conducted the invalid refunding or reassessment proceeding shall issue new bonds of the same tenor, force and effect as such canceled unpaid bonds, and all of the provisions of the act under which the original bonds were issued (notwithstanding that said act may have been repealed in whole or in part subsequent to the issuance of such bonds) relative to the payment of the bonds issued thereunder and the levy, collection and enforcement of taxes or special assessment taxes therefore shall apply to such unpaid bonds, and to any bonds issued to replace such unpaid bonds Until all unpaid bonds which might be refunded hereunder have been fully paid or funds set aside for their payment in full or have been legally refunded, it shall be and remain the duty of the legislative body empowered and directed to levy taxes or the special assessment taxes for the payment of such bonds to proceed under the provisions of the act under which said bonds were issued to levy the said taxes or special assessment taxes provided in said act in accordance with the provisions of said act. The validity of any refunding bonds issued under this act shall not be contested in any action, suit or proceeding unless such action, suit or proceeding shall have been brought within three months after the issuance of such bonds.

Sec 31 Wherever all or any part of the lands in any district, the bonds of which are proposed to be refunded, lie in another district which has outstanding bonds payable by taxes or assessments levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of the lands therein, one reassessment may be levied and one issue of refunding bonds issued under the provisions of this act to refund the indebtedness of all of said districts It is the intent of this section to permit but not to require the refunding in one proceeding of the indebtedness of all districts which wholly or partially overlap. Such refunding shall be had and the reassessment shall be levied under the provisions of this act as in this section modified Said districts need not be formed under the same act, but if formed under any act under which taxes or assessments are levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of the lands, may refund their indebtedness in one reassessment proceeding hereunder The total amount of the reassessment shall be fixed by the legislative body. If the owners of a majority in area of the lands included within the exterior boundaries of the area which comprises the said several districts the bonds of which are to be refunded shall in writing agree to such refunding as provided in this act, then the legislative body shall be authorized to proceed with such refunding and to make a reassessment therefor as in this act provided. The reassessment shall be spread over all lands subject to tax or assessment for the bonds refunded in the area comprising all of the districts To the total sum of the reassessment shall be added the total sum of all taxes upon land and all assessments including interest and penalties paid into the interest and sinking fund of any of the districts for the payment of principal and/or interest of any bonds of the same issue as the bonds to be refunded The total amount thus ascertained shall be assessed against all of the lands in the area comprised by the districts in accordance with the benefits derived from the acquisitions or improvements or acquisitions and improvements to pay for which the said bonds to be refunded were issued From the assessment thus made upon each lot, piece or parcel of land shall be deducted the amounts of such taxes upon land and all assessments including interest and penalties, if any, levied upon such lot, piece or parcel of land to pay principal and/or interest of any bonds of the same issue as the bonds refunded as have been paid into the interest and sinking fund of any of said districts. The amounts remaining after such deductions have been made shall be and constitute the reassessments and the total amount of such reassessments shall be the total sum of the reassessment stated in the landowner's assent, or a smaller sum.

SEC. 12. Section 32 of the act designated in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows

SEC. 32 Special improvement district bonded indebtedness which is payable from taxes levied upon all property or upon all taxable property in the improvement district may be refunded under this act. The proceeding for refunding such indebtedness shall be the same as for refunding other indebtedness under this act and in making the reassessment hereunder, to the total sum of the proposed reassessment shall be added the total sum of all of the amounts (including such penalties and interest as go into such fund) paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district on or prior to the date the resolution of intention in the refunding proceeding is adopted upon taxes levied upon any lot, piece or parcel of land subject to reassessment in the refunding proceeding to raise funds to pay principal or interest of the bonds to be refunded, and the total of the two sums shall be apportioned upon the lands subject to reassessment according to benefits as hereinbefore provided in this act and from the amounts so apportioned to any lot, piece or parcel of land shall be deducted any sum paid into the interest and sinking fund of the district on or prior to the date said resolution of intention is adopted upon any tax levied upon such lot, piece or parcel of land to pay principal or interest of the bonds to be refunded."

Amendment No. 6.

On page 2, line 50, of the printed bill, as amended, strike out the figure "3", and insert in lieu thereof the figures "13".

Amendment No. 7.

On page 3, line 1, of the printed bill, as amended, strike out all of the language following "33.", and strike out all of lines 2 to 17, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following

"The word "improvement" where used in the phrase "special improvement district" in this act shall mean any public improvement of any nature whatsoever, including any acquisition of lands, rights of way or easements for public use, any acquisition or construction of buildings, structures or public works of any kind or nature, or a combination of any or all of the foregoing, and the word shall be given its broadest and most liberal construction as including all acquisitions of land and all acquisition and construction of public works authorized under any law of the State of California, including particularly the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925, the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and the Municipal Improvement District Acts of 1915 and 1927.

This act shall be known as and whenever mentioned, cited, referred to or amended may be designated as the "Assessment Bond Refunding Act of 1933" and by such designation shall be sufficiently identified in any proceeding hereunder or in any court action or proceeding, and whenever under the procedure set forth in this act the title of the act is to be stated in any resolution, notice or order, it shall be sufficient to designate the act as provided in this paragraph

The legislative body which conducts the refunding proceedings is authorized to pay any incidental expenses of such proceedings from any available funds of the city or county, or city and county, but no such incidental expenses of such proceedings shall be assessed upon lands in the district

This act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts now existing or which may hereafter be passed covering the same subject matter, or apply to any proceedings thereunder, but is intended to and does provide an alternative system for the refunding of bonds, and, when in the discretion of any legislative body proceedings are commenced under this act the provisions of this act only shall apply thereto.

Whenever the requisite number of property owners in any district or districts have filed their written consent to the refunding of the indebtedness of such district any city or county, or city and county, is authorized to file a petition and take all proceedings required under any bankruptcy law or laws of the United States of America now or hereafter enacted, for any district, the bonds of which are authorized to be refunded under this act, or to bring any action, suit or proceeding authorized under the equity powers of any court for the purpose of refunding the bonds of such district

No bond, coupon, reassessment or installment thereof or of the interest or penalties thereon, and no certificate of sale or deed shall be held invalid for error in the computation of the proper amount due on same, provided the error be found to be comparatively negligible or be found to be in favor of the owner of real property affected thereby

The bonded indebtedness of special assessment districts payable from ad valorem assessments is so great in many instances that the refinancing of such indebtedness is one of the most important problems of this State. In many of such districts both general taxes and special assessments are delinquent and have been delinquent for several years The property can not be sold for a sufficient sum to pay the delinquent taxes in view of the large amounts of delinquent special assessments thereon, which are on a parity with the general taxes

The accumulation of delinquent assessments, penalties and interest, and delinquent taxes, penalties and interest, has discouraged the owners of property in such districts and such property has become almost entirely unproductive of revenue for school, city and county purposes. The immediate refinancing of the obligations of these districts and the restoration of the property to the tax rolls so that it may bear its just burden of city, county and school taxes and so that property owners may be given relief is declared to be the policy of this State.

This act and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed to the end that the purposes hereof may be made effective. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional."

Notice of Reconsideration of Assembly Bill No. 598.

Mr. Heisinger gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 598 was this day refused passage.

Explanation of Vote.

I voted "No" on Assembly Bill No. 598, providing for the calling of a Constitutional Convention and setting up the machinery for the election of delegates thereto for the following reasons:

I believe there are some changes needed in our present Constitution but believe this is not the time for drafting a new Constitution on account of the present unsettled economic conditions.

I have made a thorough study of this bill in its original form and as it came before the Assembly and I desired to submit amendments to it. However, when the bill came up for final consideration it was so badly mutilated, and its provisions were so impractical, and could not be amended to be made practical, I could not vote for it.

EARL D. DESMOND.

Explanation of Vote.

The following explanation of vote was ordered printed in the Journal:

June 3, 1935.

The undersigned members of the Assembly voted against concurrence in the Senate amendments to the Budget Bill for the following reasons:

One of the amendments added by the Senate was $24,000,000 to take care of estimated unemployment relief requirements for one year. Our government is run on a biennium basis and the budget is supposed to cover the expenditures necessary for two years.

Further, we have been informed by the Controller that in his opinion the administration taxation program will fall short of all requirements for the biennium by $50,000,000 to $60,000,000. In the face of these conditions, namely, insufficient provision for unemployment relief and an insufficient and, what we consider to be, an unfair, unjust taxation program, we could not lend our approval to what is being done in those respects.

We are opposed to the practice of later holding extra special sessions of the Legislature to raise revenues known to be necessary at the current regular session, on the grounds that such piecemeal imposition of the taxes can be only for the purpose of misleading the public as to the true extent of the tax burden it must bear.

We predict that before the expiration of the next fiscal biennium, additional taxes, most objectionable in their nature, will be levied under the plausible but false excuse that they are necessary to meet an unexpected, unforeseen, emergency condition

Explanation of Vote.

June 3, 1935.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: My vote on the congressional representation on the Board of University Regents was based on the idea that our congressional districts are allocated on population representation.

I do know that many districts have no representation and pay the taxes to support these institutions.

I believe that we should have laymen and farm interests represented and not special political interests in control of our universities.

Sincerely submitted.

CHARLES J. WAGNER.

Relative to exemption from taxation of bonds issued by governmental agencies and memorializing the President and Congress of the United States to take immediate steps for the termination of the exemption of such securities from taxation.

WHEREAS, The exemption from taxation of bonds issued by the Federal, State and local governments has progressed to such a point that there are now outstanding tax exempt securities of this character amounting to the aggregate par value of approximately $45,000,000,000; and

WHEREAS, Such securities are owned and held by a very small percentage of the population of the country and there results a great and most unjust disproportion in the bearing of the cost of government as between the owners and holders of various types and classes of property; and

WHEREAS, It is a fundamental principle of government that one group or class should not be favored as are the owners of these tax exempt securities, and all persons enjoying the order and protection which government affords should share fairly equally and equitably in bearing the cost of government; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California jointly, That the Legislature of this State hereby memorialize the President and Congress of the United States to consider and enact such legislation and to propose such amendment or amendments to the Constitution of the United States as may be found suitable and appropriate effectively to prevent the further exemption from taxation of any and all bonds and other evidences of indebtedness issued by the Federal, State and local governments, to the fullest extent that the President and the Congress may have power so to do, and that the members of the Senate and of the House of Representatives from California are hereby urged and requested to use all honorable means in furtherance of the consideration and enactment of such legislation; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be forthwith transmitted to the President of the United States, the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the members of the House and Senate from the State of California.

Assembly Bill No. 2365 ordered to enrollment.

Explanation of Vote.

I voted for concurrence in Senate amendments to Assembly Bill No. 2365, not because I favored the exemption of the oil stations, but because I felt that if I did not concur, the bill would be lost, and all its benefits would be lost. To throw the bill into Free Conference at this late time, in my opinion, would mean the defeat of the bill.

JAMES D. GARIBALDI.

Explanation of Vote.

Having a previous engagement to be present at the Governor's office at three o'clock p.m., to witness his signature to the State College Bill, in which I was deeply interested, I regret that I was absent when the vote was taken on concurrence in Senate amendments to Assembly Bill No. 2365. Had I been present, I would have voted "Aye."

(a) The word "operator" shall include all persons, firms, associations and corporations who operate motor vehicles upon any public highway in this State and thereby engage in the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation, either directly or indirectly, or who agree to transport or to have transported persons or property in motor vehicles upon any public highway in this State for compensation, either directly or indirectly, regardless of the registered or legal ownership of such vehicles. The word "operator" shall exclude any person engaged in husbandry who occasionally transports property for neighboring farmers and whose sole compensation for such transportation is an exchange of like services, labor, or services or things of value other than money; nor shall the word "operator" include any person whose sole transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation consists of the transportation of children to and from any public elementary or secondary school and whose total compensation from all sources for providing such transportation does not exceed fifty dollars ($50) per month

(b) The term "registration certificate" shall include any and all certificates of registration of a motor vehicle issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles of the State of California.

(c) The term "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles, automobiles, trucks, or trailers, not exempt from registration fees under the laws of this State, operated upon or over public highways of this State, whether the same be propelled or operated by steam or electricity, or propelled or operated by combustion of gasoline, distillate or other volatile and inflammable liquid fuels.

(d) The term "gross receipts from operation" shall include all receipts from the operation of such motor vehicle or motor vehicles beginning and ending entirely within this State and a proportion based upon the proportion of the mileage within this State to the entire mileage over which such business is done of gross receipts of such operator on all business passing through, into or out of this State, or partly within and partly without this State, and shall include all that portion of the compensation received by any person, firm, association or corporation found by the State Board of Equalization to have been paid to such person, firm, association or corporation as compensation for the transportation of persons or property by motor vehicles, regardless of whether or not such compensation for transportation is separately stated in the contract or agreement between the operator and the person, firm, association or corporation for whom the transportation services are performed.

Sec. 2. Each operator of a motor vehicle within this State who transports or desires to transport for compensation or hire persons or property upon or over any public highway within this State shall make application to the State Board of Equalization, on such forms as said board may prescribe, for a license to operate motor vehicles for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation over public highways in this State.

All applications for licenses must be accompanied by a fee of twelve dollars; provided, however, that if such application is made after the beginning of the calendar year by an operator not previously taxable during such year, the fee required hereunder shall be reduced by one-twelfth for each calendar month which shall have elapsed since the beginning of such year. Upon the receipt of the application of any such operator, accompanied by such fee, the State Board of Equalization shall issue to such applicant a license to transport for compensation or hire persons or property upon or over any public highway within this State; provided, that no license issued in pursuance of this act shall be construed to authorize the operation of any vehicle over or upon the public highways of this State contrary to the laws now or hereafter in effect regulating the operation of motor vehicles. No license issued hereunder shall be assignable by operation of law or otherwise.

All licenses issued under the provisions of this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued. Licenses issued hereunder must be renewed annually upon application made to the State Board of Equalization on such forms as it may prescribe. If any person, firm, association or corporation shall become an operator within the meaning of this act without first securing the license for which provision is made in this section, or shall fail to renew any such license previously held, and shall continue to engage in transportation taxable hereunder, then and in that event there shall be added to the license fee to be charged to any such person, firm, association or corporation an amount of ten dollars not subject to any proration or deduction during the calendar year

Sec. 4. A license tax equal to three per cent of gross receipts from operation derived on and after the first day of the month after the effective date of this act, shall be levied and assessed by said board.

If any operator shall fail, neglect or refuse to file said report within the time prescribed herein, the State Board of Equalization must note such failure, neglect or refusal upon the tax roll hereinafter described, and must estimate the gross receipts from operation of said operator, assessing the license tax thereon, adding to said license tax a penalty of twenty-five per cent thereof for failure, neglect or refusal to report, and said operator shall be estopped from complaining of the amount of said estimate. Said penalty for failure to report shall not be in lieu of the penalty for delinquency prescribed by section 5 of this act.

The State Board of Equalization shall, on or before the first day of the third month after the effective date of this act, and on or before the first day of each calendar month thereafter, assess the license tax due hereunder, and prepare and complete an assessment roll showing the amount of the license tax assessed against each operator and immediately deliver said assessment roll to the State Controller.

Sec. 7. The State Board of Equalization shall have the power, and it is hereby authorized, to prescribe the forms of all reports of gross receipts from operation, to prescribe the forms for keeping records of gross receipts from operation, and to make any and all such examinations of the records of operators and such other investigations as it may deem necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act. If such examinations or investigations made by said board shall disclose that any reports of operators theretofore filed with said board by said operators pursuant to the requirements of this act, have shown incorrectly the gross receipts from operation of such operators, said board shall have the power, and is hereby authorized, to make such changes in subsequent assessments of said operators under this act as it may deem necessary to correct the errors disclosed by its examination of the records of said operators or its investigations as hereinbefore authorized.

The State Board of Equalization may appoint accountants, auditors, investigators and such other expert and clerical assistants as it may from time to time deem necessary to enforce its powers and perform its duties under this act.

Relative to the disposition of revenues received from the lease of marginal lands in the Tule Lake Division of the Klamath Project

WHEREAS, The Honorable Franklin D. Roosevelt, President of the United States, did, on the seventh day of January, 1935, recommend in his budget message to the Congress of the United States the enactment of certain measures designed to provide refunds to lessees of marginal lands in the Tule Lake Division of the Klamath Project; and

WHEREAS, The Klamath Project is under the jurisdiction of the Secretary of the Interior of the United States, acting through the Bureau of Reclamation, and was designed to reclaim marsh lands in the Tule Lake Division of the Klamath Project, and thereby add to the productive agricultural use in the State of California; and

WHEREAS, The refunding of such moneys to such lessees will result in a diversion of funds now available for the completion of the Tule Lake Division of the Klamath Project and will eventually result in the abandonment of said project, thereby causing a depressed market of land values in said region; and

WHEREAS, Such lands would no longer be a safe collateral for outstanding loans because of the reduced land values; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and Assembly of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California urge the assistance and the support of Congress in order to preserve the present use of funds accruing from leases of marginal lands in the Tule Lake Division of the Klamath Project; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States, the Vice President of the United States, and the Speaker of the House of Representatives.

Message from the Governor.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, June 7, 1935.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly,
State of California, Sacramento, California.

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 1165—An act to amend the title and sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 14 and 16 of, and to add section 14½ to, an act entitled "An act providing an additional and/or alternative method for financing the acquirement, construction, development, improvement, reconstruction, extension and repair of waterworks systems by any political subdivision or public agency of the State authorized by law to own and operate such waterworks systems by the issuance and sale to the United States Government or any agency of said government of revenue bonds payable solely out of the revenue derived or to be derived therefrom; providing for the operation of such systems in case of deficiencies in revenues, providing for a statutory lien on works acquired, constructed, improved, reconstructed, extended or repaired under the provisions of this act; providing for the use of the power of eminent domain by political subdivisions or public agency proceeding under this act; defining the terms political subdivisions and public agencies as included herein, and providing a time for the expiration of said act," approved May 27, 1933, relating to publicly-owned public utilities.

This bill requires only a majority vote of the electors as a condition to authorizing an issue of bonds. The State Constitution has always forbidden the State or counties, cities, towns, townships, boards of education, or school districts to incur any indebtedness or liability exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors voting at an election to be held for that purpose. This is a salutary and precautionary restriction.

The huge volume of bond debt now outstanding against the State and such subdivisions indicates no substantial difficulty in persuading two-thirds of the electors to approve general obligation bonds when there is real need for borrowing. The effect of this bill would be to make public borrowing and spending easier by getting around the constitutional requirement. Public borrowing and spending should not be made easier.

California's experiences with the bond debt of irrigation and reclamation districts teaches us that public debt is not to be lightly incurred. Reports show that at the beginning of the year 1934, the total sum of bonds and interest in default, together with outstanding registered warrants in irrigation and reclamation districts, amounted to many millions of dollars.

The bill fails to protect the expenditure of funds provided by the sale of the proposed bonds, in that there is no limitation of the amounts which may be expended for underwriting and promotional expenses, nor does it prescribe the minimum percentage of the proceeds of the bond sales that must actually go into the construction or improvements. The lack of such a wise provision and necessary limitations justified the rejection of the measure.

The bill also makes the bonds to be issued legal investments for all trust funds, State school funds, and funds of insurance companies and banks, and legal security for public deposits.

This may be done without any restriction, investigation, or approval of particular issues, either as to safety or legality, by the Commissioner of Corporations, the Bank Superintendent, or any other State officer or agency. The credit of the political subdivision issuing these bonds is not pledged for the payment of them. Payment depends, according to their terms, upon the success of a business enterprise. Certainly bank deposits and public money should not be subject to such hazardous investment.

Recent elections in this State indicate that the people are opposed to this type of financing. At the election held in the city of Los Angeles, on April 2d of this year, 86,001 people voted in favor of an amendment to the charter of the city of Los Angeles permitting the issuance of revenue bonds by various city departments and 138,855 voted against them.

In the city of San Francisco, on May 2d of this year, 50,306 votes were cast in favor of an amendment to the San Francisco city charter authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds by a majority vote of the people. Seventy-two thousand one hundred six votes were cast against this enactment. This was the third time that the people of San Francisco had rejected an amendment to its city charter authorizing the issuance of revenue bonds.

In November, 1934, a revenue bond amendment was voted into the charter of the city of Alameda by a narrow majority of 143 votes. Within four months thereafter the people of Alameda amended their charter by a majority of 2,406 votes to provide that no revenue or other bonds shall be issued, except on a two-thirds vote of the electors.

Probably the effect of this bill is to write into the organic law of political subdivisions such as San Francisco, Los Angeles and Alameda, permissive provisions respecting revenue bonds which the voters of those subdivisions have rejected I do not think such legislation should be thrust on the people of any community against their will.

The question of public ownership is not involved in this bill. I have and do now favor public ownership. This has been especially demonstrated in my support of the Central Valley Water Project and efforts to promote its realization. However, neither public ownership nor private ownership should be permitted to violate the fundamental principles of sound economics and well established constitutional limitations.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

By Mr. Speaker:

LOS ANGELES, June 4, 1935

Hon. Edward Craig, Speaker of the Assembly,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

Re: Constitutional Convention.

DEAR SIR: This committee which drafted a bill for the calling of a Constitutional Convention in accordance with the mandate of the electors of the State of California as expressed at the November, 1934, election, and which has conferred extensively thereon with Assemblyman Latham, desires to enter a vigorous dissent from the action of the Assembly in refusing to pass any enabling statute, thereby nullifying the expressed will of the people of California.

Freedom in a democracy can not endure and free institutions can not flourish if the will of the people as expressed in elections is made a futile and idle act. We can not believe that the Assembly will strike such a blow at constitutional government We ask that this letter be read from the desk and we appeal to the patriotism of the members that they should put aside all personal or partisan feelings and carry out the duty commanded of them by the people of the State of California.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES A. SON, Chairman.
THOS. C. RIDGEWAY.
N. W. THOMPSON.
JOHN F. KEOGH.

Assembly Resolution.

WHEREAS, Practically every member of this Legislature advised his constituents and campaigned on a platform of relief to distressed, overtaxed common property taxpayers; and

WHEREAS, There appears to be a well-planned attempt by various minority groups aided by certain tax supported groups to force this Assembly to vote for the levying of an ad valorem tax for State purposes, something that has not been done for more than 24 years; and

WHEREAS, Homes, farms and real estate in general are the chief support and backbone of revenues for counties, cities and districts; and

WHEREAS, Home owners through contributions to local governments now pay more than 70 per cent of all the tax revenues collected in California; and

WHEREAS, Throughout the State there is an unparalleled and continuing property tax delinquency due to the heavy and increasing costs of government and other public functions, including unemployment, old age pensions, relief to the widows and orphans; and

WHEREAS, Because of the present heavy delinquency in collection of real estate taxes it is obvious that this source of revenue could not reasonably be expected to actually yield any additional substantial revenue; and

WHEREAS, There is no source of revenue, other than real estate, whose owners are losing their property to the State because of excessive taxation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That we earnestly protest and will oppose the adoption of any legislation providing for additional ad valorem taxation on the common property taxpayers of California, and furthermore that we will not support any tax program for State purposes that includes an ad valorem tax on common property.

Statement on Senate Bill No. 1124.

I wish to state that, while I handled Senate Bill No. 1124 in the Assembly, it was largely through the assistance of Assemblyman Hawkins that this bill was passed.

JAMES D. GARIBALDI.

Explanation of Vote.

I am supporting this bill to insure the passage of legislation in case my own bill is defeated. But I do not thereby indorse the action of the special investigating committee of Lieutenant Governor Hatfield in "white-washing" the Rush Griffin case at the expense of the honor and safety of my district; or in refusing to extend legislative courtesy to me. Humanity should come before political ambition.

AUGUSTUS F. HAWKINS.

Explanation of Vote.

The people of California as shown by their votes are so favorable to the Central Valley Project, and the vote of both houses of the Legislature so overwhelmingly passed two separate revenue bond measures which would, if enacted, materially assist in the ultimate and beneficial use of the Central Valley Project; and inasmuch as the Governor has vetoed one bill and gives as one reason that a majority of the people should not be given such power; therefore, in voting to override the veto of the Governor I desire to say that our Democracy is predicated upon the majority rule of the people.

Our State Constitution properly may be changed upon a majority of those voting, and I am proud to vote, to enact this legislation regardless of the Governor's veto, as I think the people would vote had they an opportunity.

Explanation of Vote.

Since the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1165, I have become convinced that the Governor is justified in his refusal to approve this measure for the reasons set forth in his veto message to the Assembly. Although I am in accord with the general principle of public ownership, I am of the opinion that the so-called "Revenue bonds" are unsound because their issuance is predicated upon a practice of "counting chickens before they are hatched." To require a two-thirds majority for the approval of the issuance of revenue bonds, is but a fair restriction and protection against hasty and ill-advised financial schemes. In voting to sustain the veto, I feel that I am acting in accord with the mandate of the voters of San Francisco as expressed at a recent special election, at which time, San Francisco, by a large majority, voted against the issuance of such bonds

KENNETT B. DAWSON,
Assemblyman, Twenty-second District.

Notice of Reconsideration of Governor's Veto.

Mr. Anderson gave notice that on the next legislative day he would move to reconsider the vote whereby the Governor's veto to Assembly Bill No. 1165 was this day sustained.

Motion carried unanimously.

Reassembled.

At two o'clock and fifteen minutes p.m., the Assembly reconvened. Speaker Craig in the chair.

Amendment No. 12.

On page 10 of the printed bill, as amended, strike out lines 38 to 41, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"(g) (1) The term "dividend" when used in this act means any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders, whether in money or in other property, out of its earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913.

(2) For the purposes of this act every distribution is made out of earnings or profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings or profits. Any earnings or profits accumulated, or increase in value of property accrued, before March 1, 1913, may be distributed exempt from tax, after the earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, have been distributed, but any such tax-free distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in section 9.

(3) Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock, and amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock. The gain or loss to the distributee resulting from such exchange shall be determined under section 7, but shall be recognized only to the extent provided in section 8. Despite the provisions of subsection (a) of this section, one hundred per centum of the gain so recognized shall be taken into account in computing net income. In the case of amounts distributed (whether before January 1, 1934, or on or after such date) in partial liquidation (other than a distribution within the provisions of subdivision 8 of this subsection or stock or securities in connection with a reorganization) the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits within the meaning of subdivision 2 of this subsection for the purpose of determining the taxability of subsequent distributions by the corporation.

(4) If any distribution (not in partial or complete liquidation) made by a corporation to its shareholders is not out of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913, and is not out of earnings or profits, then the amount of such distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in section 9, and if in excess of such basis, such excess shall be taxable in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property.

(5) Any distribution made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1921, shall be exempt from tax to the distributees.

(6) A stock dividend shall not be subject to tax.

(7) If a corporation cancels or redeems its stock (whether or not such stock was issued as a stock dividend) at such time and in such manner as to make the distribution and cancellation or redemption in whole or in part essentially equivalent to the distribution of a taxable dividend, the amount so distributed in redemption or cancellation of the stock, to the extent that it represents a distribution of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, shall be treated as a taxable dividend.

(8) The distribution before January 1, 1934, in pursuance of a plan of reorganization, by or on behalf of a corporation a party to the reorganization, of its stock or securities or stock or securities in a corporation a party to the reorganization, if no gain to the distributee from the receipt of such stock or securities was recognized under the Federal Revenue Act applicable to such distribution shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits within the meaning of this subsection for the purpose of determining the taxability of subsequent distributions by the corporation. As used in this subdivision, the terms "reorganization" and "party to the reorganization" shall have the meanings assigned to such terms in section 112 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1932.

(9) As used in this subsection the term "amount distributed in partial liquidation" means a distribution by a corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of a part of its stock, or one of a series of distributions in complete cancellation or redemption of all or a portion of its stock."

Opinion of Legislative Counsel.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL,
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, June 11, 1935.

Hon. Charles W. Lyon, Assembly Chamber,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR MR. LYON: This is to confirm oral statement that in our opinion a majority vote is sufficient for adoption of the Free Conference report on Assembly Bill No. 1182, the Income Tax Bill.

We base this opinion upon the fact that the same situation obtained in 1933 in relation to the Sales Tax Act, and said act has been sustained by the courts.

Even if the bill should not take effect immediately, it will take effect in due course and in such case we believe it would be operative substantially in the same manner as if immediately effective, primarily because the returns under the act are not required to be filed until April, 1936

Very sincerely yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel.
