IN ASSEMBLY

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER
Monday, January 5, 1959

Pursuant to the requirements of the Constitution of the State of California and the law, at the hour of 12 o'clock meridian, the Assembly of the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature of California was called to order by Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk of the 1957 and 1958 Regular Sessions.

In conformity with the law, the following officers were also present: Eleanor K. Donoghue, Minute Clerk of the 1957 and 1958 Regular Sessions, and Tony Beard, Sergeant-at-Arms of the 1957 and 1958 Regular Sessions.

PRAYER

Upon invitation of the Chief Clerk, the following prayer was offered by the Reverend Robert S. Romeis, Chaplain of the Assembly for the 1957 and 1958 Regular Sessions:

Almighty and Everlasting God, In whose omnipotent hand lies the destiny of men and nations, we invoke Thy blessing at the beginning of this Legislative session. Grant that it may be truly a new session, new in spirit and new in purpose, with old rivalries and old prejudices forgotten. Give strength and guidance to the Governor-elect and to all the administrative officers. Endow the members of this body with wisdom and judgment, and especially with a sense of proportion, that they may distinguish the important from the trivial. Remind them ever that they are not their own, but that they belong first to Thee and then to the people of this State. Grant, O Lord, that none of us may ever forget that without Thee we cannot succeed, but that by Thy power we cannot fail; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Lord.—AMEN

ADDRESS BY GOVERNOR KNIGHT

Address by Governor Goodwin J. Knight

On this spot 12 years ago today I first took oath as a constitutional officer of this State.

I became Lieutenant Governor.

Five years and three months ago I relinquished that position to accept the greatest honor the State can bestow, the governorship.

The 12 years of state service have been challenging, rewarding, thrilling.

For those years I am deeply and humbly grateful

My gratitude goes to the Members of the Legislature, past and present, for the friendship and good will they have so generously extended me; to the members of the press, for their indulgence and personal warmth, and for the diligence with which they have fulfilled their responsibilities; and to all Californians, for the trust they have placed in me and their faith in our State's capacity and its destiny.

And to God, I offer a prayer of thanks for His Divine guidance.

These are my thoughts as I leave the office with which you have honored me. To these thoughts, allow me to add my warm best wishes to the new administration.

All of us share a firm conviction in the soundness and variety of a democratic republic.

When a small group of people landed on New England shores more than three centuries ago, they brought with them a belief. That belief was a deep determination to exercise self-government, to guarantee certain personal freedoms.

Those that followed added strength to this political philosophy: the dignity of the individual; creation of a state for the benefit of the people; denial of the practice of man living for and in fear of a regent or master.

These fundamentals were the cornerstones of the first civil government in California. They are the foundation of the structure we call constitutional government. They have been attacked, misrepresented, denounced and condemned.

And they will be again!

But you and I, and countless dedicated Californians will protect them and keep them. With courage and vigor we shall defend what is our priceless treasure—a sovereign people

In our daily lives that heritage shall inspire the highest aspirations of freedom under law and good will toward all men.

Inaugural Message to the California State Legislature by Governor Edmund G. Brown

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Chief Justice, Governor and Mrs. Knight, Members of the Legislature, and my fellow Californians:

Where democracy lives, free people speak in strong voices. Last November, a free people called for a new vision for California. We begin today the solemn duty and high privilege of translating that vision into public policy and into law.

The election reaffirms our conviction that the people of California are resolved to move forward with courage and confidence. Offered reaction by the radical right, the voters emphatically declined. Offered government by retreat, the people preferred progress. Clearly then, our duty is to bring to California the forward force of responsible liberalism.

The essence of liberalism is a genuine concern and deep respect for all the people. Not monuments or institutions or associations, but people. Not one race, or one creed, or one nationality, but all the people. When people come first and special privilege is scorned, government is truly liberal.

In a liberal atmosphere, the individual stands secure against invasion of his dignity or intrusion on his conscience. He has the right to require justice and fair play, the right to demand protection from economic abuse and selfish threats to his security. At the same time, government must not, in naive good intention, stifle his initiative or smother his growth. Men must indeed have freedom to breathe the air of self-respect.

A liberal program must also be a responsible program, a reasonable, rational, realistic program. We must know how much it will cost and where the money is coming from. Benefits must be measured against burdens. A program which pampers the people or threatens our solvency is as irresponsible as the one which ignores a vital need. But we will always remember that there is a difference between responsibility and timidity, and we are resolved to be governed more by our hopes than by our fears.

In the path of responsible liberalism, we walk in the giant footsteps of such memorable governors as Hughes and Roosevelt in New York, Wilson in New Jersey, LaFollette in Wisconsin, Altgeld and Stevenson in Illinois, and Johnson and Warren in California. Let us mark their example and set our sights to match their achievements.

Here in California, the explosive growth of our population and economy strains the fabric of government. Between election and inauguration, our population increased by 75,000 people. We must accept both the perils and the promise of this magnificent growth. No longer can we afford to stay on dead center, unresponsive and inert. I pledge a confident, pioneering leadership, ready to welcome growth, pursue its promise, and prepare for tomorrow.

A liberal's duty to be responsible has a special meaning in view of the grim crisis we face in the budget. From last year's budget, our bleak legacy is a 100 million dollar deficit. For several years, our State has spent more than it has taken in, and now almost all of our reserves and special funds are exhausted.

I am resolved that our new administration will face our financial responsibilities without flinching. Before the end of the month, I will recommend an economy-minded budget, and a courageous and fair program to obtain new revenues. I pledge, however, that we will not sacrifice essential services or narrow our vision for California.

Throughout the world, the cynical creed of Communism slanders democracy with the charge that men are too greedy, too ignorant, or too lazy to govern themselves. Let us, in our respect and concern for all the people, resolve to prove anew that representative government is the best government. Let us forge a program which will liberate our human resources and demonstrate the renewed vigor of American society. In this way, we will answer the slanders of Communism and expose its evil design.

This is a day of proper pride as well as earnest dedication for California Democrats. Not for 20 years, and only once before in this century, has a Democratic Governor made the inaugural address to the Legislature. And not since 1889 has there been a majority of Democrats in both houses of the Legislature.

The job of government, however, is not a narrowly partisan undertaking. I pledge my full co-operation to Democrats and Republicans alike. I know most of you personally, and I consider this to be one of the ablest legislative bodies in the United States. My door will always be open so that we can consider together our common problems of State Government. We must understand each other, trust each other, and work together in harmony. Where the good of the people is involved, I will expect the support of the distinguished members of both parties, and I hope by my actions to merit it.

In this connection, I express my deep appreciation to Governor Knight, to Mrs. Knight, and to the entire executive family for the genuine co-operation afforded me in the transfer of the functions and duties of this high office.

In obedience to the Constitution, I turn now to specific recommendations. I lay before you a program which in my considered judgment meets the test of being both liberal and responsible.

First. Guarantee Equal Job Opportunities. Discrimination in employment is a stain upon the image of California. We must recognize that conduct which degrades any member of society, degrades society as a whole. Every man must finally see the necessity of protecting the rights of others as the most effective security for his own.

I therefore urge you to enact legislation to bar discrimination by an employer or a labor union on grounds of race, creed, national origin, or age. We should provide the means for conciliation, public education, and enforcement to insure that there are no arbitrary barriers to useful and productive employment. In truth we are, and in practice we must be, one people, equal in privilege and opportunity. This is our moral duty.

Second. Protect the Consumer. We are all consumers. Yet, we have never been able to speak in a single voice because we are disorganized and our needs are so diverse Without a forceful spokesman in government, we have little defense against highly - organized special interests. I therefore recommend legislation providing for the appointment of a Consumers' Advocate, who should be empowered to advance the consumers' interests by public education and by representation before government agencies.

I also urge you to enact legislation to protect people from installment racketeers. Every year, thousands of Californians are deceived into signing sales contracts which contain unfair provisions and result in outrageous carrying charges. We need new laws to wipe out these vicious practices We need them fair, strong, and soon.

Third. Encourage Economic Development. To keep our economy strong, we need new industries, new payrolls, and new jobs for our expanding population. Accordingly, I recommend legislation for the establishment of an Agency for Economic Development to launch a vigorous program to bring business here. By augmenting private efforts to attract new industries, this agency will invigorate our economy and enrich our lives.

Fourth. Safeguard Workers' Rights. The voters have firmly rejected the so-called right-to-work law. In a new and objective atmosphere, let us move forward to strengthen the integrity of the collective bargaining process. I will soon send you a special message outlining my legislative proposals in detail. May I say now, however, that I intend to recommend:

Legislation under which employees in intrastate commerce can choose a bargaining representation;

Legislation specifically outlawing bribes to union officials;

Legislation setting up safeguards concerning union meetings and elections, and providing for the recall of union officers for misconduct;

Legislation preventing loans by unions to their officers, and requiring union officers and management consultants to file financial statements; and Legislation governing the relationship between a local union and its parent organization.

Such laws would be safeguards against the irresponsible minority whose conduct damages all of labor. But there must be no punitive measures against free and responsible unions, which have brought untold progress and improved living conditions to our State Cripple the responsible union and all of the people will suffer. Strengthen the responsible union and labor can contribute its full energy to the new vision for California.

Fifth. Increase Social Insurance and Public Welfare. In the stern judgment of history, our greatness as a State will largely depend on our sense of responsibility to the elderly, the sick, the needy, the injured, and the unemployed. I reject the outdated notion that concern for these people is not the business of government.

I believe that the level of unemployment insurance benefits clearly should be raised. At 1959 prices, no family can meet its basic needs on the $40 per week maximum. In the last year, there has been forceful evidence that thousands of workers are left stranded if benefit payments are limited to 26 weeks when recessions last longer. We should lengthen the period of coverage, at least whenever unemployment has reached a given percentage of the work force.

Turning to the Workmen's Compensation Law, I recommend that we take prompt action to correct the striking inadequacy in the vocational rehabilitation provisions for injured workers. In addition, the amount and duration of benefits may well need to be increased. The same is true of disability benefits.

In the field of public welfare, we should improve the operation of the 1957 Medical Care Program and insure that it fulfills its important purpose. One obvious shortcoming in the program is its failure to extend to persons now enrolled in the Aid-to-Disabled Program. For the disabled person, the need for medical care is especially great and compelling.

Our new laws in the field of social insurance and public welfare must be responsible as well as liberal. Thus, we must stop short of an extreme, isolated position which would discourage the entry of new wealth and industry and thus injure our economy and our people alike. But short of this extreme, we will remember that social insurance and public welfare benefits go directly into our life stream and that we serve our economy as well as our humanitarian principles by making California a leader in this field.

Sixth. Establish a Minimum Wage. I urge you to enact legislation which will establish $1.25 an hour as the minimum wage for California workers not covered by the federal law. Minimum wage laws assure a worker that he will be paid enough to maintain himself in health and decency. Elementary fairness dictates that this protection should not be denied a person because of the happenstance that he is employed in a local business. Moreover, a minimum wage law will protect ethical employers from the unfair competition of those who would pay substandard wages.

Seventh. Reform Election Practices. Because elections are the strong heartbeat of democracy, the reform of election practices deserves a top priority. I urge you to abolish cross-filing in primary elections, and thus strengthen representative government by making our parties more responsible and more responsive to the will of the people.

I also urge you to strengthen our laws providing for disclosure of campaign funds. The gaps in the present law threaten the integrity of our democratic processes.

In this electronic age, we continue to count ballots by primitive methods. I recommend that existing statutes be broadened to encourage electronic tabulation of votes in all counties of the State. We must also find a way to shorten our political campaigns and stop every election from being an endurance contest, both for the candidates and the voters. When we improve the election process, we strengthen democracy.

Eighth. Promote Efficiency in Government. I urge you to adopt legislation to enable us to reorganize and streamline State Government. Specifically, I believe that the Governor should be authorized to prepare and transmit to the Legislature plans for the reorganization of the executive branch of the State Government. I also pledge my wholehearted support for your efforts to improve the organization and operation of state agencies.

Not since 1928 have we made a thorough and penetrating analysis of the structure of our State Government. Today each citizen pays the price of a government which has developed haphazardly in a piecemeal response to the pressure of growth. We are burdened by layer upon layer of patchwork agencies, and confusing lines of authority. The time has come for us to modernize State Government and improve its services to our people.

Ninth. Control Crime. Crime and narcotics are ugly companions. Driven by fear and guilt, the criminal seeks escape through the use of narcotics; in turn, the addict steals to support his costly habit.

As a new approach to this complex problem, I urge you to authorize the Department of Corrections to establish pilot units for narcotic treatment and control in key areas of the State. This program would provide diagnostic testing and psychiatric aid for addicts released on parole or probation. By providing these new tools for control and rehabilitation, we take a promising and pioneering step toward narcotics control. We only endorse futility if we do no more in this field than renew procedures which time has already proven unsuccessful.

Our prisons are dangerously overcrowded. This not only magnifies the hazards of riots and breakouts, but inevitably produces the frustration of idleness. In meeting this problem, our first responsibility is the protection of society. We must initiate new studies to identify those prisoners who should never be released to prey again on an innocent public. We should also determine whether some prisoners are now kept confined after punishment has served its purpose. In addition, we should establish new forestry camps and industrial training programs so that after release, every man can offer society an effective skill and regular work habits.

Today's prisoners were yesterday's delinquents. The California Youth Authority has pioneered in the field of youth correction, but now we must press forward in the prevention of delinquency. To that end, I will immediately take personal leadership of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth to study the early causes of one of society's most difficult problems. If we can find a way to reach the promise and the core of goodness in our emotionally disturbed children, we strike at the roots of crime.

Tenth. Improve Quality in Education. Both our Constitution and our conscience enjoin us to invest money in young minds, our greatest natural resources Specifically, our growth requires us to meet these needs in public education: 18,000 new teachers a year, when we now graduate 11,000; 5,000 new classrooms a year, when we now build 2,500; facilities for 400,000 college and university students in 1970, when we now have space and equipment for but 100,000

These needs are the challenge of growth Let us meet them with adult dedication and ingenuity. We can attract and retain good teachers, if we offer practical training, adequate professional salaries, and new levels of community confidence and respect. We must also find the means to provide the physical plants as well as the intellectual climate for learning.

In turn, we have the right to require that our schools shall provide genuine education in a well-taught, disciplined curriculum. Every child deserves the chance to grow in fundamental knowledge, in special and technical skills, and in insight. I am determined that California will have the best public schools in the United States. I am persuaded, as I am confident you are, that whatever we invest in free public education is returned, manyfold, to our economy and to the strength of our democratic government.

Eleventh. Protect Public Health. We live in an era marked by new cures for old diseases and by dramatic new dangers to our health. Air pollution is a statewide menace It threatens the health of people not only in Los Angeles, but in every heavily populated region of the State. We must recognize that our attack on smog cannot stop at county lines.

I therefore ask that you supply additional funds for concentrated research on the dangerous effects of smog on people I call upon the automobile industry to expand and accelerate its research on smog prevention. I want to serve notice on every industry and every person involved that my administration will take effective action to protect the people of the State. People are more important than dollars.

Exposure to radiation from nuclear fallout and industrial accidents now threatens all of us. We should provide funds for the State Department of Public Health to maintain a constant guard against dangerous levels of radioactivity in air, water, food, and sewage.

In addition, I urge that California follow the example of other alert states and establish a co-ordinator of the many phases of atomic energy development now in process in several existing state agencies. Failure to act and plan in atomic matters, which are so promising to our progress and so critical for our safety, would be both irresponsible and dangerous.

I also recommend that the Legislature provide funds for the continuation of the Department of Public Health's program to combat alcoholism and promote temperance.

Fifteen years as a law enforcement officer have convinced me that although other problems may be better publicized, none causes more suffering and despair than alcoholism.

Twelfth. Improve the Administration of Justice. There is a log-jam in our California courts. In Los Angeles County alone, the backlog of civil cases climbed to nearly 16,000 in 1958. Each case has to wait in line well over a year after it is ready for trial. In other counties, the situation is even worse. Last October when Chief Justice Warren called attention to this crisis in the courts, we were forcefully reminded that justice delayed, frequently is justice denied.

Automobile accidents spawn a major portion of the congestion in our courts. For the accident victims, the net result is a grave social loss. After years of delay and uncertainty, the majority will recover nothing, and financial distress will be added to their pain and suffering. Those who eventually win their cases may not be able to collect their judgments, and what they do recover will have to be shared with others.

Three decades ago, California pioneered in establishing an expert commission to handle industrial accidents. Now, the time has come for us to weigh the wisdom of an Automobile Accident Commission to hear and determine claims arising out of auto accidents. If a commission modelel after our Industrial Accident Commission could provide a prompt remedy and fair compensation for the accident victim, we would reduce suffering and hardship. If the commission could gain an insight into the causes of accidents and issue safety orders, we would cut down the carnage on the highways. If, through the creation of such a commission, we could enable our courts to keep abreast of their dockets, we would take a long step toward our goal of equal justice under law.

The limits of this inaugural occasion do not permit a detailed statement of all that is in my mind and heart today. During the course of this session, I will bring you recommendations on traffic safety, billboards, the redevelopment law, improvements in our recreational program, and other matters.

Before the end of January, I will send you a major message on water. Development of our water resources is crucial to every segment of our State—the ranchers in our mountain areas, the farmers who make California the Nation's leading agricultural producer, and the homeowners in our population which will grow to 20 million by 1970. No problem has occupied more of my time in the weeks since election than water. Striking progress has been made. I can tell you now that I will soon present a water program which is rational, realistic, and responsive to the needs of all the people of the State.

I will also soon announce appointment of a Governor's Commission on Metropolitan Problems For the 85 percent of our people who live in urban communities, local government is often inefficient, costly, and confusing because the necessary services are rendered by overlapping and competing agencies The congestion of our streets symbolizes the necessity for a new and co-ordinated approach to the pressing problems in our cities. Any approach to these problems must respect our tradition of community responsibility and the high quality of our local officials, but I am convinced that we should make a concerted attack on these acute and chronic problems.

Looking beyond these specific matters, let us recall the warning of the Bible that where there is no vision, the people perish. Today we see successful industries accepting this judgment. They search out their most creative minds and put them to work studying distant horizons.

I propose that California follow industry's example and become the first state in the nation to set up a specific research and development program. I propose that we seek out our most creative minds both in and out of State Government and put them to work on a wide range of long-term problems, such as our crowded airways, the plight of workers frozen in their jobs by pensions which cannot be transferred, discrimination in housing, the defects of the present health insurance program, and on to new problems on the frontiers of space.

As I conclude, I would observe that providence seems intent on making us a great people in a great State This destiny of greatness requires of us our best laws and fairest administration. Let us lead with confidence and compassion as we draw the lines of the new vision for California. May we pray to God that our virtues grow with California and be durable, and that our vision for California be liberal and responsible.

INTRODUCTION OF GOVERNOR BROWN'S PARTY

At the conclusion of his address, Governor Brown presented to the Joint Convention his mother; his daughters, Barbara Casey, Kathy Brown, and Cynthia Kelly; his son, Edmund G. Brown, Jr.; and Miss Roosevelt, his first grade teacher.

PRESENTATION OF LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Hon. Ralph M. Brown, Speaker of the Assembly, then presented Lieutenant Governor Glenn M. Anderson to the Joint Convention.

ADDRESS BY LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Address by Lieutenant Governor Anderson

Governor Brown, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Speaker pro Tempore, President pro Tempore of the Senate, Chief Justice Gibson, Members of the Legislature, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Sixteen years ago I was first sworn in as a State Legislator in this same room. This Assembly Chamber holds many happy and nostalgic memories for me. Some of my fellow legislators of those years are still here, many are not. As Legislators we always strove to accomplish greater progress for our beloved State.

Today, particularly, we have just heard what I consider to be the most forward looking, courageous program that has ever been presented to a Legislature of California. We have heard Governor Pat Brown, obvious in his greatness, demonstrate that the confidence shown in him by the people on election day, will be fulfilled.

I am certain his administration will come to be identified as the one that drew new lines of vision, new goals, for a greater California of the future. His sights have remained high, never lowered, even with the current dilemma of a State facing difficult problems, and at the same time being encumbered by a huge deficit.

As he stated, his administration will never stay on "dead center," nor will it blindly stumble, but will always move forward meeting each crisis head on.

He has clearly stated many of the State's problems and has made recommendations for the solution of these problems. I have confidence that the Legislature in its good judgment will follow these recommendations, and the people of California will truly live in a greater and more glorious California.

As I listened to Governor Brown's address, it touched many responsive chords from the beginning to the end. For example his number one item . . . providing for equal job opportunities for all people regardless of race, creed, national origin or age . . . has been number one in my heart for as many years as I can remember. My office and staff will work diligently to help promote such legislation during this session, and I want Governor Brown to know that I feel California can lead the way in showing not only this Nation, but the entire world that we in America know what democracy means, and believe in it—wholeheartedly.

In my opening remarks I referred to the memories I hold of my years in the State Assembly. My experience in the Assembly brought me in close contact with the Members of the State Senate of California; and my respect for that body . . . for its co-operation, for its integrity, for its mature leadership, grew year by year. I consider the State Senate of California an outstanding deliberative group . . . as Presiding Officer of the Senate I will be part of that body, and it will be my full endeavor to work along with every member. I come to you in the spirit of complete co-operation.

In closing, I want the members of both houses, the Assembly and the Senate, each of the Constitutional Officers and the People of California to know that my office is ready and willing to serve you . . . and to you, Governor Brown, I want to assure you that your entire program has my full support. And knowing you as I do, I am confident that I will also be in full support of the subsequent programs that you will be presenting in the interests of our great State.

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This letter is in reply to your correspondence to the Department of Defense, dated 1 April 1958, concerning Resolution Number eight (8) as adopted by the California Legislature and pertaining to the recovery of infra-red sniperscopes sold by the Government to the public.

The M-2 sniperscope, as referred to in the Resolution, was formerly used by the U. S. Army. However, it is now obsolete and no longer an item of Army supply. The Army does not have any infra-red sniperscopes or viewers scheduled for disposal in the foreseeable future.

Items similar to the M-2 sniperscope generally referred to in commercial terms as infra-red viewers or night viewers are available through sources other than the military. Either of these viewers could be used for the purpose objected to by the Assembly.

The Department of the Army policy, in such cases, is not to destroy items which have sales value when the items or similar items are readily available on the commercial market. It would appear that the recovery of the sniperscopes would not be in the best interests of the Government.

I appreciate your interest in this matter and trust the above information will be of assistance to you.

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: We appreciate receiving your letter of April 19, enclosing a copy of the California Assembly Joint Resolution No. 10.

The action taken by the State Legislature on this resolution is most gratifying. Preliminary investigations indicate that the Dorris Reservoir area has an important place in the future of the waterfowl management in the Pacific flyway.

Field evaluation and reconnaissance surveys have been completed by U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service field personnel, and the project has been favorably recommended to the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

It is our hope that pending legislation will make available funds needed to carry on an accelerated acquisition program of important waterfowl areas such as the Dorris Reservoir.

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: Your letter of April 19, 1958, to the President of the United States, inclosing a copy of House Resolution No. 58, adopted during the 1958 First Extraordinary Session of the California Legislature, has been forwarded to this office for direct reply.

The Department of the Army very carefully observes every safety precaution in ocean disposal of any toxic, radioactive and deleterious material. Packaging of radioactive materials is in accordance with the minimum standards set forth in the National Bureau of Standards Handbook 58, and the minimum standards prescribed by the President's National Committee on Radiation Protection and the regulations of the Atomic Energy Commission mentioned in House Resolution No. 58.

In addition, the Department of the Army provides complete information on toxic and radioactive materials and their containers scheduled for ocean disposal to the Department of the Navy and the Fish and Wildlife Service in order that a safe dumping site may be selected.

As an example, prior to the ocean disposal of 8,025 tons of Lewisite and Mustard Gas on April 19, 1958, the question of possible hazard to fish life was thoroughly discussed with representatives of the Fish and Wildlife Service and the Navy Hydrographic Office. As a result the dumping location was selected in what is well known oceanographically as a "dead" area, in that it is not within any strong current system and has a depth of 2,257 fathoms of water. This location is 129 miles west of San Francisco, and far exceeds the provisions of House Resolution No. 58 that any ocean disposal be carried out in not less than 2,000 fathoms and not less than 60 miles from any sea mount.

You may be assured that any ocean disposal of any toxic, radioactive or deleterious material by the Department of the Army will be performed only after thorough study indicates no adverse effect on pelagic fishes.

Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: Transmitted herewith for the information and use of the State Assembly is Volume I of Department of Water Resources Bulletin 39-57 entitled "Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1956-1957." It marks a further evolution of the Bulletin 39 series, published regularly since first authorized in 1929.

In that year, the Legislature, by enacting Chapter 832, directed that a continuing investigation be conducted of basic hydrologic data to promote the conservation, development, and utilization of the water resources of southern California. This report is one of a series begun in 1932 as a result of that authorization.

Consisting originally of ground water level listings in the major valleys and plains of southern California, Bulletin 39 has added more information as the need manifested itself. It now contains a description of surface water supply, ground water supply, sea-water intrusion, outflow and sewage discharge to the ocean, weather modification operations, and construction activities affecting water supply conditions. Its geographic scope has also been expanded.

For the first time this year, Bulletin 39-57 has been published in four volumes. The text of the report is contained in Volume I, supplemented by data tabulations in Volumes II and III, and several cross indexes of water wells in Volume IV.

useful primarily to agencies concerned with detailed engineering studies of water supply conditions.

The data assembled herein indicate a continuation of drought conditions through 1956-57, resulting in greater dependence on imported water from the Owens and Colorado Rivers. While last winter's precipitation has relieved somewhat the water deficiencies depicted in this bulletin, a rapidly expanding population imposes ever greater demands on existing water supplies and conveyance systems.

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith Department of Water Resources Bulletin No. 66 "Quality of Ground Waters in California, 1955-1956." This is the second of a continuing series of reports concerning this important matter.

A statewide ground water monitoring program was initiated in 1953. Since that time the Department of Water Resources, as directed by Section 229 of the Water Code, has conducted this program in cooperation with numerous agencies and individuals. Securing and interpreting data on prevailing quality of ground waters in California is the main objective of the program. These data are utilized by the Department of Water Resources in conducting water resources development studies and implementing The California Water Plan; by the regional water pollution control boards in establishing waste discharge requirements for protection of ground waters in California; and by other water service agencies throughout the State.

This report covers the period January, 1955 through December, 1956, and presents mineral analyses of ground water in 31 important ground water areas throughout the State

Report of State Personnel Board

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD
December 5, 1958

The Governor of California and
Members of the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: The State Personnel Board, in accordance with Government Code Section 18712, submits this report on matters relating to civil service personnel under the jurisdiction of the board

The Legislature, in delegating to the Personnel Board the authority to set and adjust salary ranges for civil service and state college employees, has directed the board to: (a) consider the salaries for comparable service in private employment and in other governmental agencies; (b) consider proper internal salary relationships between state classes; and (c) keep expenditures for salary adjustments within the appropriation limits provided by the Legislature. (Government Code Section 18850)

The following summarizes the present salary situation:

1. The last general salary adjustment for state employees was effective July 1, 1957, based on March, 1957, salary data. No salaries were increased during the 1958-59 Fiscal Year because funds were not appropriated for the 3 percent general increase which was reported by the Personnel Board as being justified.
2. Even though there was a general reduction in business activity between 1957 and 1958, salaries and wages in industry continued to rise. Surveys will be conducted by the Personnel Board in March, 1959, to measure wage changes made by private industry between October, 1958, and March, 1959. If the current trend continues, a 7½ percent general adjustment of state salaries as of July 1, 1959, appears needed to catch up with the increases granted by other governmental jurisdictions and private industry over this two-year period.
3. In addition to a salary increase fund approximating 7½ percent, there will be need, as in previous years, for funds for specific salary adjustments. It appears, however, that special adjustments in excess of 7½ percent will be justified for only a small proportion of the employees

Based on these considerations, the following estimates of salary increase funds for the 1959-60 Fiscal Year are submitted:

1. The estimated cost of each 1 percent increase in salaries in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year for civil service employees and for employees of the state colleges is $2,500,000 from the General Fund The estimated cost of each 1 percent increase for employees paid from special funds is $1,665,000. The estimated cost of a 7½ percent increase is $18,750,000 from the General Fund and $12,500,000 from special funds
2. A fund for special salary adjustments will be needed in order to recognize changes in internal relationships and extreme changes in prevailing rates The Personnel Board estimates that an appropriation of $1,875,000 will be required from the General Fund and a commensurate amount from the special funds. About $1,000,000 of this fund will be required for a special 5 percent salary adjustment for state college faculty.

The estimated amounts for salary increases are sufficient only for adjustments of salaries for civil service employees and for employees of state colleges. They do not include funds for employees of the University of California and other exempt employees.

In addition to information on salaries, this report covers some of the more important current problems and aspects of personnel management in state service. These discussions may be summarized as follows:

1. Fundamental changes in the quality of individuals required and available for employment affect compensation, selection, employee development, and other personnel practices in state service These changes have resulted from the expansion of California's population and corresponding increases in the size of state service and the continuing demand for additional state services. This growth in size and complexity and advances in technology require greater skills of state employees and have increased the ratio of skilled to unskilled workers.
2. The State has continued to experience difficulties in recruiting employees with special skills such as psychiatrists, clinical psychologists, registered nurses, public assistance specialists, parole officers, engineers, and college faculty members. To meet these needs, the State has continued an active recruitment program. The increase in unemployment in the past year occurred mostly in the unskilled and semiskilled occupations and in specialty fields in which the State does not offer employment.
3. The growth in California's population with the resulting growth in state service has indicated a need for additional Personnel Board branch offices in order that reasonable services be given to people in all parts of the State The Personnel Board recommends the establishment of additional offices in Fresno, San Bernardino, and San Luis Obispo
4. Increasing complexity of state service and the need for more highly trained technical personnel have required increased emphasis in employee training and development by the state agencies. The acceptance by the state agencies of the responsibility for employee development is reflected in the increase in both the number and quality of training programs The Personnel Board will continue to direct its efforts to providing leadership and assistance to state agencies
5. It has become prevailing practice in local California jurisdictions to pay a salary differential to police officers assigned full-time to the operation of two-wheel motorcycles. The Personnel Board believes that this practice should be applicable to the California Highway Patrol. Funds are not available for the payment of a salary differential during the current fiscal year. The Personnel Board cannot take any action until funds are provided for this purpose
6. The nationwide shortage of and the increasing need for faculty members for the California state colleges require continued study of all of the factors which affect recruitment and retention. Such factors include: the enhancement of the prestige and status of teaching, the improvement of immediate and long-term incentives to pursue an academic career, and the improvement of facilities to permit full utilization of faculty members, plus raising the general level of academic salaries A special 5 percent salary increase is needed for state college faculty members in addition to any general salary adjustment which may be granted to state employees.
7. The responsibility for administering disciplinary actions rests with the operating departments. During the one-year period July 1, 1957, to June 30, 1958, state agencies took 361 formal actions to dismiss, suspend, demote employees, or reject probationary employees from their positions. The Personnel Board modified the action of the agency in six cases and reversed it in two cases

Respectfully submitted,

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD

If there is to be failure, let it not be for lack of vision or for dearth of daring enterprise. If we fall short let it be in an effort to achieve goals that are too great for us Whatever the outcome of this Assembly, let us at least start it with high idealism and great hopes, and as, in such an effort, we expend our resources, we believe we may turn to Thee, O God, for strength to go on. Thou hast never yet failed those who seek to do Thy work and will. We pray in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

REPORT OF THE JOINT LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE FOR THE REVISION OF THE EDUCATION CODE

January 1, 1959

Transmitted herewith is the Report of the Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Education Code. The Senate members of the committee, by committee request, will introduce the bill which represents the first stage of work completed by the committee. This report presents a summary of the committee's work to date together with its recommendations to the Legislature.

Major Objectives of Code Revision

The Joint Legislative Committee for the Revision of the Education Code was created by the Legislature (1957 Regular Session, Chapter 2419) based upon Bill No. 4118 introduced by Assemblyman Wallace Henderson in response to growing public sentiment that the State's educational code needed major reorganization and improvement to make it a more effective and usable document for the State's school personnel and citizenry. Some major criticisms that have been directed against the existing Education Code are that the subject matter is not integrated or in orderly sequence, that it contains obsolete, ambiguous, and conflicting provisions, and that the general format of the code including titles, annotations, and index possess major shortcomings.

After public hearings and consultations with numerous educational authorities, this committee concluded that a thoroughgoing revision of the Education Code would be a difficult and time-consuming task and the work would have to be undertaken in orderly stages if the job was to be satisfactorily completed. To aid in the development of a research program preparatory to the revision, the committee secured the services of Dr. Ernest A. Engelbert of the Bureau of Governmental Research of the University of California, Los Angeles, who was instructed to work in close co-operation with the Legislative Counsel's Office and the Legislative Analyst's Office in formulating the project's objectives. The preparatory work resulted in the committee adopting the following work program:

1. The reorganization of the Education Code should be done in stages, each stage to represent a completed product which could be submitted to the Legislature.

2. The committee decreed that insofar as possible work should begin on the structural and organizational aspects of the code, postponing substantive and controversial issues until the final stages of revision in order to minimize the chances of political disputes in the early periods of activity.

3. The committee approved a program of Education Code revision in three stages:

Stage I: Designed to produce a reorganized code with more logical arrangement and better integration of subject matter but without substantive change.

Stage II: Directed toward the preparation of specific pieces of legislation designed to remove glaring ambiguities, inconsistencies, omissions, obsolescences, and similar changes.

Stage III: To result in an intensive study and extensive rewriting of specific divisions of the code.

Legislative Committee Activities

This committee has undertaken a number of activities to enlist public aid and support for the revision of the Education Code. First, the committee sent letters to approximately 350 persons throughout the State soliciting their advice. Responses came from a broad cross-section of the State's citizenry including local school administrators, legal counsels and attorneys, college presidents, professors, personnel of various state departments and representatives of education and noneducational groups. Their proposals have been studied carefully by the committee and its staff.

Second, the committee has held five public hearings for the purpose of receiving testimony and acquainting the public with what is being done. The hearings were held in Monterey on November 30, 1957, in Los Angeles on December 27, 1957, in Sacramento on May 27, 1958, in Sacramento on September 30, 1958, and in Berkeley on December 29, 1958.

Third, the committee appointed a Citizens' Advisory Committee of 30 distinguished persons representing the major organizations in the State interested in the revision of the Education Code. The Advisory Committee has met jointly with our Legislative Committee and has worked with us in evaluating the work of the staff. Membership of the Citizens' Advisory Committee is listed in Appendix A.

Progress of Code Revision

The actual work of code revision has been done by over a score of professional personnel including lawyers, educators, and social scientists located at seven major institutions, namely, the University of California at Los Angeles and Berkeley, Stanford University, Fresno State College, Fresno Junior College, San Diego State College, and San Francisco State College. Insofar as possible the work was assigned to teams upon the basis of special fields of knowledge which the personnel in the teams represented. The work was done under contract with the University of California and co-ordinated by the Bureau of Governmental Research at the University of California, Los Angeles. The roster of staff is to be found in Appendix B.

Working closely with the staff throughout the entire project have been representatives of the Legislative Counsel's Office and the State Department of Education. In particular, the committee drew heavily upon the services of Mr. Angus Morrison, Deputy Legislative Counsel, and Dr. George Hogan, and Mr. Lawrence Kearney, Deputy Superintendent and Legal Counsel, respectively, of the State Department of Education.

Much of the Education Code revision accomplished so far has been done with the aid of machine data processing. The International Business Machines installation at UCLA was made available without charge to the committee.

The progress of the work done to date on the revision of the Education Code is as follows:

Stage I has been completed and has resulted in the preprint bill which will be introduced in the Senate. This bill represents a major reorganization of the entire existing Education Code but does not include any substantive changes. Divisions and chapters have been rearranged to provide more logical integration and sequence. The conversion table appended to the preprint bill gives the relocation of articles and sections. Also completed and to be added when the new code has been adopted are new titles for each section, an extensive system of cross-referencing, and a new, enlarged index.

Stage II, namely the preparation of individual pieces of legislation, should be completed by February 1, 1959. Nearly 300 separate items for legislation have been submitted to the Legislative Counsel on behalf of the committee which amend and clear up minor ambiguities, inconsistencies, and other deficiencies. Some of these items undoubtedly will be consolidated to provide fewer bills before they are introduced.

Stage III, namely the intensive study and extensive rewriting of major sections of the Education Code, is still in the initial phase. The staff is recommending to the committee, on the basis of priority, those divisions of the code which should be completely rewritten. Work will continue on this stage of code revision for the duration of the committee's existence.

Committee Recommendations

On the basis of this committee's work to date, the following recommendations are made:

1. The committee recommends that the preprint bill which will be introduced in the Senate be enacted into law as soon as reasonably possible.

2. The committee recommends passage of all trailer bills which are an integral part of the code reorganization program. These trailer bills will be introduced as committee bills with sponsorship and house origin to be subsequently determined by the committee.

3. The committee proposes to file a supplemental report to the Legislature at a later date setting forth further progress on the revision of this code.

REPORT OF SUBCOMMITTEE ON TAXATION OF SHIPS UNDER CONSTRUCTION

Scope of Report

The Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation Subcommittee on Taxation of Vessels Under Construction was created under the general authority of House Resolution No. 238 of the 1957 Regular Session to carry out the directives of House Resolution No. 57 of the First Extraordinary Session of 1958 to "ascertain, study, and analyze all facts relating to the taxation of vessels of less than 1,000 tons, under construction, and to report thereon to the Assembly, including in its reports its recommendations for appropriate legislation."

Recommendations

The Subcommittee on Taxation of Vessels Under Construction recommends that Section 209.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code be amended to read as follows:

An act to amend Section 209.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the tax exemption of vessels in the process of construction.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 209.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

209 5. All right, title or interest in or to any vessel ~~of more than 1,000 tons burden~~, in the process of construction which, when completed, will be of 50 tons burden or larger, or which, regardless of size, is, or when completed will become, the property of the United States of America, this State, or of any county, city and county or municipal corporation within this State, and the materials and parts held by the builder of the vessel at the site of construction for the specific purpose of incorporation therein, shall be exempt from taxation except for state purposes ~~; while the vessel is under construction within this State~~.

Findings

1. The addition of Section 209 5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, exempting vessels of 1,000 tons burden and over from personal property taxation, while under construction, has aided materially in the resurgence of the shipbuilding industry in California. Within months after the addition of Section 209.5 to the code, California yards were successful in obtaining contracts on new ship construction amounting to some 2,000,000 man-days of shipyard labor. It has been necessary for some yards to enter labor training programs to meet their own demands for skilled labor. Necessarily, these ships are built in the larger yards.

2. Industries allied to shipbuilding have increased their activity by two to three times this amount in order to support the increase in shipyard activity. This increase is reflected in the greater amount of labor employed by subcontractors, expanded inventories of marine supply houses and heavier demand on general services reflecting the increased activities in the shipyards.

3. Currently there is little activity in the State in the small yards geared to build the 50 to 1,000-ton category of ship Employment in these yards, which constructed approximately 100 million dollars worth of government vessels alone during the Korean war, is now only slightly above the caretaker level. Extension of the exemption from local taxation to this category of ships could be expected to revitalize this segment of the shipbuilding industry and affiliated industries as it has that part of the industry constructing ships of over 1,000 tons burden. No other major shipbuilding state imposes personal property taxes on ships, of any size, under construction.

4. Expanded activity in the yards would increase labor efficiency and lower the impact of overhead costs. This would help California shipbuilders overcome some of the competitive advantages held by other shipbuilding states.

5. Revenue to the State through income and sales taxes, contributions to the unemployment insurance fund, etc., and to local jurisdictions through increased valuation attendant to increased inventories of marine supply houses and industries serving the small ship builders as well as greater general economic activity reflected in greater demand for services, home construction, etc., would more than balance the loss of revenue due to the exemption from local property taxes on these vessels while under construction.

6. Vessels of 50 tons burden or more are almost exclusively commercial ships such as tuna boats, tugs, working platforms, etc., or government vessels such as minesweepers or minelayers, etc. Pleasure craft, almost invariably under 50 tons burden, would not be made exempt from property taxation while under construction by this amendment to Section 209.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

7. A considerably expanded program in shipbuilding of the 50 to 1,000-ton category of ships is expected in the near future. The tuna boat fleet, the sardine boat fleet are near obsolescence. The offshore oil industry, in its developmental stages in California, will make heavy demands for vessels and floating equipment. California industry will not participate in this activity if the continued levying of personal property taxes on vessels under construction places California yards on a noncompetitive status.

8. The construction which the State Supreme Court has placed on the words "tons burden" makes it necessary to include specific wording which would exempt from taxation government vessels of any size under contract for construction. "Tons burden" means essentially cubic capacity for carrying passengers or freight, beyond that necessary for the operation of the vessel. Few government vessels are designed to have a passenger or freight carrying capacity, hence seldom have an appreciably measurable "tons burden."

9. Application of property taxes to vessels under construction for the Federal Government, which is a distinct possibility in view of recent decisions of the federal courts, is especially to be avoided. Construction of vessels for the Federal Government constitutes a major portion of the shipbuilding in the small shipyards. Addition of personal property taxes to bids for government contracts, which go to the lowest bidder, would place California shipyards out of this market.

FULL REPORT

In 1957, the Federal Maritime Board established a program to sponsor construction of 300 ships of over 1,000 tons burden. As county assessors of the shipbuilding counties announced their intention to assess these ships while under construction, if any of them were built in the State, shipbuilders sought to have the Legislature establish a local tax exempt status for ships of over 1,000 tons burden, while under construction, in order that California shipbuilders could bid on these contracts without having to add to the bid the cost of personal property taxes. It was recognized by the Legislature that the preservation of the shipbuilding industry was of great importance to the national defense and to the economic and industrial development of the State. Since the end of World War II there had been very few major shipbuilding contracts awarded in California. One of the primary reasons for failure of California shipyards to receive major ship construction awards was that ships under construction in this State were subject to assessment of a personal property tax. This tax is not assessed against ships under construction in the other principal states in which competing shipyards are located. Until this disadvantage was removed, the California shipyards could not compete successfully for a share of the nationwide new ship construction. The exemption was achieved by the addition of Section 209.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code during the First Extraordinary Session of 1958.

The addition of Section 209.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code has had a very invigorating effect on the California shipbuilding industry insofar as vessels of over 1,000 tons burden are concerned. Several contracts which were being negotiated between California shipyards and purchasers of ships were concluded after the addition of this section. These contracts have resulted in 2,000,000 man-days of shipyard labor having been brought into the State. There has been two to three times this increase in industries serving the shipbuilding industry.

One northern yard reported that the number of its employees has increased from 2,400 at the end of 1957 to 3,400 in September, 1958, with hiring still going on and 220 persons in training. Its payroll is up 3 million dollars over 1957 and is expected to be up 6 million dollars in 1959.

Similar effects have been reported by the industries which serve the shipbuilders. Inventories of such material as marine cable, chain, marine electrical equipment, etc., have been increased for the purpose of supporting the greater activity in shipbuilding. Welders, machinists, boilermakers, makers of galley equipment, etc., as well as general service occupations such as retailers, doctors, etc., have felt the impact of the increased shipbuilding activity.

The builders of ships over 1,000 tons feel that similar effects would be felt by the builders of smaller ships if Section 209.5 were amended to include exemption from local property taxes for vessels of 50–1,000 tons, while under construction. The same logic which supported the exemption of ships over 1,000 tons applies to its extension to ships of 50-1,000 tons.

One of the reasons that this was not done in 1958 was because Assembly Bill No. 24, which provided for the addition of Section 209.5 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, was considered an emergency measure necessitated by the Federal Maritime Board's announcement of its construction program of ships over 1,000 tons. In order for California shipyards to benefit from the program, Assembly Bill No. 24 had to be passed as an emergency measure. The situation with regards to ships of 50-1,000 tons was not quite as acute.

The Constitution provides for the exemption from local property taxes of ships over 50 tons burden engaged in carrying passengers or freight. Amendment of Section 209.5, as suggested, would make the law on property taxation of vessels while under construction conform to the constitutional provision which exempts them upon completion. It is possible to build vessels smaller than 50 tons between tax lien dates, hence these can escape taxation while under construction.

It was pointed out that the reasons for exempting vessels under construction from property taxes might not apply to other industries. The shipbuilding industry in California is a dying industry in need of tax relief in order to be able to compete. Other industries, for example aircraft manufacturing, are operating at a higher rate of capacity and have other advantages which enable them to compete successfully without such a tax exemption.

The depressed condition of the California shipbuilding industry was emphasized by many witnesses. The Los Angeles area, which had some 135,000 persons in the industry at one time, is now down to some 2,000 persons so employed. Labor as well as management is anxious to prevent a further decline of the industry. Loss of employment in the industry is reflected in the fact that Marine Painters Local No. 1798, Los Angeles area, once the second largest painters union in the United States, is now the second smallest. Allied industries report a similar decline in employment. One supplier of marine mechanical equipment in the Los Angeles area reported that employment in his organization has shrunk by 60 percent.

The cause of the decline is not a result of labor-management problems. Wage and working standards are uniform on the Pacific Coast. Co-operation between labor and management, in attempting to solve cost and production problems is at a high level.

There is little work being done today in the construction of ships of the 50–1,000 tons category in California However, ships of this tonnage are being built outside of the State and sailed here for registry and operation. Numerous instances were given of bids going out to out-of-state builders on the construction of ships which were destined for California owners.

One witness remarked that although he did not know of any shipyards that build 50–1,000 ton vessels that had gone out of business, he did know of several that had changed hands, and he was aware of one yard which had recently undergone bankruptcy proceedings. He personally would be happy to sell two yards of this size in which he has an interest.

Exemption from local taxes would not bring the small shipbuilding industry back to the level of activity reached in California during the last war. As one witness stated, "It takes an incident like Korea to really trigger the work." Because of the heavy demand during wartime, a considerable amount of building facilities are developed which are in excess to peacetime demand. Nevertheless, in order to enable California shipyards to bid more competitively for what shipbuilding is available, it would be necessary to remove the handicap currently imposed by the levying of personal property taxes on vessels under construction.

Several witnesses emphasized the beneficial effects that an expanded small shipbuilding industry would have on the public economy of the State. Shipbuilding is a very heavy user of labor. The expanding population of California requires the employment opportunities of expanded industrial facilities that could be supplied, in part, by increased shipbuilding. Increased shipbuilding would increase sales and use taxes, increase contributions to unemployment and disability funds. It would take people off of unemployment rolls. In general it would help provide for the support of state services required by the people of the State.

An increase in small shipbuilding activity would have a beneficial effect on the general economy as well. It would provide for increased demand in industries allied to shipbuilding, such as gear and machine construction, electrical equipment manufacturing, etc. Further, the demand for steel inherent in shipbuilding could encourage the development of an integrated steel industry in California with cheaper steel and a better basis for competition with eastern industry.

Currently the tax revenue on ships under construction is practically nil, hence there would be no great loss to the counties if the exemption were extended to the 50–1,000 ton category. Under an expanded construction schedule the losses in tax revenue, due to the exemption, would be more than balanced by the increased revenues from other property taxes.

A considerable amount of construction in the 50–1,000 ton category of ships is expected in the near future. The tuna boat fleet is approaching obsolescence. Currently the contracts for the replacement of these ships are going to the Gulf states. In the last nine years at least eight steel tuna boat contracts have gone to Louisiana. These represent 60,000 man-hours of labor per ship. Further, construction of sardine vessels is expected to follow the increased sardine run of recent years. These ships can be built in Washington and Oregon and sailed to California for operation if it were more profitable for purchasers to do this.

Mention was made by numerous witnesses that the infant offshore oil industry of California will become a large user of floating apparatus and small ships. The construction of these vessels could easily be lost to California yards if their tax costs placed them outside the competitive range This was pointed up by the experience of one witness who stated that a firm in which he has an interest, which was established to provide such vessels in anticipation of the expansion of the offshore oil industry, had sought bids outside the State on the construction of its fleet, even though the firm was a subsidiary of a California corporation with two yards in the State capable of building such vessels.

If California yards could get a share of this work, it would enable them to increase efficiency to the point that they would be more competitive. Currently only skeleton crews are maintained in most yards. For each contract entered into it is necessary to recruit labor, which then moves on when the contract is completed. The result is that many skilled shipyard workers are lost to the industry. Delays in recruiting skilled labor which result in delays in construction are costly. In addition it is sometimes necessary to train for skills which, through disuse, have been lost to the labor market.

It is recognized that California yards operate under handicaps other than the property tax on vessels under construction Washington yards are closer to the supply of lumber necessary in the construction of wooden vessels. The Gulf states have an advantage in lower labor costs and cheaper steel from Alabama. Further, the Gulf states have the advantage of experience in the construction of vessels for the offshore oil industry. California is the only state which permits the levying of property taxes on vessels under construction. The elimination of this tax would put the California yards on a level, taxwise, with the yards in other states. It would be a step toward making them more competitive with other builders.

The builders would like an amendment which would include vessels of 50–1,000 tons burden and all government vessels of any size. The types of vessels thus included would be work boats, barges, tugs, large tenders, working platforms, large fishing boats and general service boats of 60-70 feet in length Pleasure craft would not be included as these are almost invariably under 50 tons.

The elimination of property taxes on vessels under construction would not make up the differential in bids all the time. However, the elimination of those taxes would go a long way toward making California yards competitive in bidding. Bids submitted today are made up just to keep the yard operating, they do not reflect a true cost-price picture. The expense of compiling a bid may run to $3,000 to $5,000 due to the costs of telephone calls, specifications, plans, etc. To know that personal property taxes will have to be added to this makes the yards hesitate to expend the initial sum to compile the bid.

The margin of profit commonly sought by the yards is from 5 percent to 7 percent. A tax amounting to 3 percent to 4 percent of the total value of the contract reduces this to 2 percent to 3 percent, which is too thin a margin of profit on which to calculate. If a bad bid is submitted, costs rise beyond expectation, or a delay develops in construction, the loss could be substantial. Most small yards could not sustain a loss on one major contract and still remain in business.

Several witnesses testified as to the magnitude of the taxes levied. One builder added $60,000 in taxes to a bid which amounted to approximately 2 million dollars in total value. He stated that at this figure he was only hoping he would not be taxed twice In the latter event, taxes would have amounted to about $100,000. The contract went to a Gulf coast shipyard. The larger the contract let, the greater likelyhood there is of being hit by several tax dates.

Though no witness gave data to show the loss of a bid due specifically to the addition of taxes, several did indicate that this would make the difference on many bids. Several recent small minesweeper bids were so close together that the addition of property taxes would be critical. One Stockton builder, who has government contracts, stated that his yard is competitive on government bids, but that he would be put at a disadvantage if he had to add taxes to the bid.

The builders are especially apprehensive about the possible loss of government contracts. Government contracts were referred to as "the backbone of the industry, without which shipbuilding is a depressed industry." Recent court decisions and the passage of Assembly Bill No. 24 in the past session have led attorneys for the builders to suggest to them that they add local property taxes to bids submitted on government vessels. This would, in effect, place the California yards out of the market for government contracts.

The reasoning behind this advice is as follows: If it was considered necessary to exempt by special legislation all vessels over 1,000 tons burden from property taxes while under construction, this raises the implication that all vessels of less than 1,000 tons burden are subject to taxation. This implication applies to vessels constructed for governmental bodies as well as for private concerns. In addition, decisions were made this year by federal courts favorable to the application of local property taxes to goods, title to which was the Federal Government, but which were in the possession of private concerns. The cases are United States v. City of Detroit (77 NW 2d 70) and Muskegon Township v. Continental Motors (77 NW 2d 799).

While there is a possibility that these decisions would not apply to the levying of the local property taxes in California on government vessels under construction, some builders are currently adding taxes to bids on government construction. It was reported that San Diego was levying property taxes on government vessels of the 50–1,000-ton category while under construction.

Exclusion from taxation of all government vessels is requested. This is because the words "tons burden" as used in Section 4, Article XIII of the State Constitution and Section 209.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, have been construed by the State Supreme Court to mean "net tons burden." "Net tons burden" is arrived at by subtracting crew-space, machinery, bridge, chart houses, etc., from gross tonnage. The purpose of Section 4, Article XIII of the Constitution is to exempt ships designed for carrying freight and/or passengers from local property taxation. A naval or military vessel, deliberately designed to have little or no excess carrying capacity, would seldom measure 50 "net tons burden."

Builders reported that they already were having difficulty making bids on and receiving government contracts. One of the more active yards reported that it had received a letter from the Navy asking if it wanted to be taken off the bidders list because it hadn't made bids on the past eight contracts let by the Navy. The yard felt that it could not realistically submit bids if taxes had to be added.

The Navy is interested in the tax situation in California as it would like to see the small yards continued in operation. The small yards are especially important in the construction of wooden, antimagnetic vessels required by the Navy. The Manpower Commission has found that the continued operation of the small shipyards is essential to the national defense of the United States, and that a constant flow of work is necessary to keep them operating. Without a continuing building program it is impossible to retain the nucleus group of trained workers which is necessary to meet expansion needs in cases of national emergency.

One builder gave facts and figures demonstrating the effect of obtaining or not obtaining government contracts From 1950 to 1955 his yard constructed seven minesweepers for the United States Navy. This represented 1,000,000 man-hours of labor and $4,500,000 in materials purchased from vendors. From 1955 to 1958 no new contracts were obtained. During this period his average monthly expenditure for materials was $138,000, for repair work primarily, and his average employment figure was 100-150. In 1958 a contract for three minesweepers was obtained. On this, his yard averages $400,000 monthly in expenditures to subcontractors, vendor's supply houses, etc. His labor force now averages 350-400.

This last contract would have been lost if taxes had been bid in, because he would have been hit by two or three lien dates. In May he bid on two minesweepers, but added as a condition that $120,000 in taxes would be added if he were taxed by the county. The bids went to a yard in Washington.

No testimony was given in opposition to the bill.

Report of Assembly Interim Committee on Government Organization

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE, ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION
SACRAMENTO, December 31, 1958

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

SIRS: In accordance with the provisions of House Resolution Number 251 of the 1957 General Session, the Assembly Interim Committee on Government Organization has reviewed certain aspects of the organization and policies of the executive branch of California's government, as they pertain to efficiency and economy, and particularly as they pertain to the ability of the Legislature to fulfill its major responsibility for reviewing the State's budget and determining the levels of service to be rendered to the taxpayers.

Specifically, this committee in recent months has explored the conditions brought about by the establishment of constitutional and statutory fixed and permanent appropriations and their effect upon the State's budget-making process.

To this end the committee held a public hearing in Sacramento on October 17 and heard testimony from all interested parties who wished to appear before it. Among others appearing were representatives of the State Department of Finance and other state agencies and the Legislative Analyst. In addition, the committee received written suggestions and recommendations from other interested organizations and persons, all of which the committee considered carefully in formulating its report and recommendations. The committee also reviewed reports, recommendations and suggestions made in previous years to other groups, both State and private, covering various aspects of this general subject.

The committee wishes to express its sincere appreciation to those persons within and without California's government who participated in the hearing and gave the committee the benefit of their views, and to the Legislative Analyst's Office for much detailed information and technical assistance in conducting this study and preparing the report.

The committee once again is very pleased to acknowledge the invaluable assistance furnished by Arthur Buck who has served as head of our staff for many years and performed exceptionally outstanding services for the committee.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
SACRAMENTO, January 5, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
California State Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR ASSEMBLYMAN BROWN: As required by Section 24210 of the Education Code the attached report concerning investigation made pursuant to Article 1 Chapter 2 Division 12 of the Education Code is submitted.

Sincerely yours,

ROY E. SIMPSON

ANNUAL REPORT TO THE GOVERNOR AND TO EACH HOUSE OF THE LEGISLATURE

January 5, 1959

Since the diploma-mill legislation became effective July 23, 1958, the Department of Education found it necessary to confer with the author of the legislation, the Attorney General's Office, and the Legislative Counsel as to the intent and meaning of many provisions included in Sections 24201 through Section 24220 of the Education Code. Several conferences were held concerning this legislation.

It was necessary to give notification to all private schools in order that they would be aware of the requirements and could take the necessary steps to comply with the law. The department issued news releases to press associations and newspapers and distributed about 4,000 copies of the legislation and instructions to private schools.

Emergency regulations were drawn up, filed, and distributed. Innumerable problems were encountered necessitating the presenting of questions to the Attorney General's Office for interpretation. In accordance with the requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act, a public hearing on the emergency regulations was held on September 25, 1958, and such changes as deemed necessary were incorporated and filed on November 5, 1958.

Recommendations for clarification and implementation of the law will be made to the Legislature at a later date.

Investigations made to determine compliance with Article I, Chapter 2, Division 12 of the Education Code excluding schools applying for authorization under Section 24206(f) are as follows:

I. Verification of Affidavit—35
II. Verification of Appraisal—12
III. Verification of both Affidavit and Appraisal—16
IV. Investigations of schools claiming religious exemption—3
V. Investigations referred to the Attorney General's Office—2
VI. Report of violation to be submitted to the Attorney General's Office—1

ANNOUNCEMENT

Speaker Brown announced that copy for the revised pamphlet listing the Members of the Legislature and other state and congressional officers was ready for printing, and requested that any members who desired changes in their addresses contact the Chief Clerk.

ADDRESS BY SPEAKER

Speaker Brown then addressed the Assembly as follows:

Members of the Assembly:

Last week when you elected me as your Speaker I promised to say a few words at a later date because of so many speeches you would have to hear that day.

Now that I have completed one week of my services as Speaker, I want to publicly thank each and every one for your support in electing me to this most important position. I shall always value this confidence and shall at all times endeavor to uphold the dignity and honesty which is a requisite of this honor.

I am sure that Mr. Bee, as your pro Tempore, with whom I am well pleased, will always work with me in the operation of an efficient administration.

As to committee appointments, may I say that I am doing my best to complete the assignments. It has not been easy. The appointment of a member to not more than three committees has been my goal—such a policy having been widely accepted by your letters and conversation to me during the last few weeks. The forms which you filled out for Mr. Ohnimus were given to me for the first time last Monday. Some of you have changed your minds as to your requests. These requests I am trying to follow. But I want you to know it is not easy. It is necessary to eliminate committee conflicts, divide up membership where feasible on a North-South basis, on a party basis, and other qualification requirements. Some committees have very few if any requests. Everyone wants to be on Ways and Means and Revenue and Taxation.

For example, no one wants on Engrossing and Enrolling except Mr. Burke and he selected it as his sixth choice. Some have been good soldiers and have stated they will serve wherever I put them. I like this because I have been in the same situation.

You have reported to me that you would like to have our committee meetings in the afternoon and not at night. This should complete our business during business hours. I think this will be good for the people of California. It will eliminate the problems of quorums at night, and still provide plenty of time for work.

Cutting the size of committees has been approved Some will have to serve on four committees, due to the estimated workload of certain committees.

The division of Conservation and Planning into Water, and Natural Resources, as well as dividing Judiciary into Criminal Administration and Civil Judiciary, has received 100 percent approval. I approve of such a rule change.

These changes will result in better work on one bill, rather than poor work on five bills.

So bear with me as I complete this task. I can only do my best and that is what I am going to do. Everyone cannot, nor should he or she expect, to get everything he wants. If this were the case I might have been Speaker in my first term.

We will be going through trying times for the next five months. I shall endeavor to be fair to every member. I shall try to recognize every member on this floor when recognition is asked. It will be difficult, as it is easy to see the Speaker, but difficult for the Speaker to watch the sideline members, such as Mr. Porter and Mr. Unruh. Last week I asked the members, when they obtain recognition, to tell the Speaker the purpose for which they rise, if other than speaking on the very matter under consideration. This will save time—my time and yours. Let us try this.

To keep everyone informed, let me show you a phone at my desk. Only last Friday did I learn how to run it It is not connected to Governor Brown's Office, but is an intercom to my secretary's office so I can get something from my office without having to leave the rostrum.

Throughout this building are loudspeakers which carry the happenings of the House. I have one in my office; there are speakers in the lounge, in the newspaper offices, and so forth. So, if I am not on the rostrum, but in my own office, I can keep my ear on the proceedings at all times.

On occasions I will be absent for the day. As you may know, the Speaker is a member of the Board of Regents, and other official bodies, and when I go, I know the shop will be in good hands with Carlos Bee as pro Tempore.

It will be my suggestion, after watching the photographers go wild on inaugural day, to propose to Mr. Behrens, President of the Capitol News Association, that he take up this problem with the cameramen to prevent future incidents of this kind I am going to suggest that he discuss the possibility of organizing the cameramen into a limited group, similar to the arrangements that now exist with the newsmen. In this way there will be a limited number of cameramen taking pictures but none will be deprived of coverage because, through the association arrangements, the photographs will be available to all. If this suggestion is adopted we will certainly eliminate the unauthorized and amateur photographers who cluttered up the rostrum during the Inaugural Ceremonies.

The general rule is that no pictures are to be taken during a session, but on extraordinary occasions there should be some restraint when the rule is waived for such affairs.

I hope that each of you will discuss your problems with the Speaker. I want to help each member as far as his district is concerned, as well as the State of California.

In closing may I suggest that we at all times endeavor to show to the people of California that we are a group of distinguished people; that we will serve them in an honest and forthright manner, and that they, in the end, will realize the sacrifices we are making, not only financially but as to our health and other considerations, and that we love our work.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. McMillan announced that his bill to abolish capital punishment was ready for introduction, and invited all members who desired to become co-authors of the bill to come to his desk and affix their signatures.

Mr. Miller announced that, at previous sessions, it had been the practice many times to introduce duplicate bills in both the Senate and the Assembly; that this practice was, sometimes, necessary in the bifurcated sessions, but that it greatly increased the cost of printing for the legislative session.

Mr. Miller further announced that the last Joint Committee on Legislative Procedure had requested the Legislative Counsel to advise the committee if a rule which would deter the introduction of duplicate bills in both houses could be enforced, in order to provide a substantial saving in the cost of printing. The committee was advised that such a procedure could not be enforced by rule, but that it could be enforced informally by the members if they would refuse to accept a bill for introduction if it had previously been introduced in the other house.

Mr. Miller further announced that yesterday the Senate had announced that it would be the policy of the Senate, insofar as possible, to keep duplicate bills from being introduced; and he requested that the Members of the Assembly adopt the same policy in accepting bills for introduction.

Speaker Presiding

At 10.17 a.m., Hon. Ralph M. Brown, Speaker of the Assembly, presiding.

APPOINTMENT TO JOINT INTERIM COMMITTEE

Speaker Brown appointed Mr. MacBride to the Joint Interim Committee on Highway Problems.

O God of Law and Order, As committees are established and their leaders chosen, in preparation for the vast amount of work which must take place behind the scenes, grant to us each one a clear understanding that order and method and procedure are essential. As mountain climbers tie themselves together, not only to hold safe one that may fall, but to draw higher any who need help, so may it be in this Assembly; that lawmakers may be held together by the strong rope of lofty aspiration; that all may proceed with ultimate care and concern for each other; and that through orderly procedure, Thy will and work, O God, may be done. Let us be kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as Thou, for Christ's sake, hath forgiven us.—AMEN.

Such talents as we have we would not bury, but use, for the good of our State and the glory of Thy name.—AMEN.

FINAL REPORT
INTERIM COMMITTEE ON LIVESTOCK AND DAIRIES

SACRAMENTO, January 15, 1959

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Pursuant to House Resolution No. 225 (1957 General Session), and pursuant to House Resolution No. 48 (1958 First Ex. Sess.), your Interim Committee on Livestock and Dairies herewith submits its final report, as follows:

Your committee held numerous meetings throughout the State on the assigned issues, with concentration on the known livestock, poultry, and milk producing areas, such as Eureka, Petaluma, San Mateo, Salinas, Fresno, Paramount in Los Angeles County, San Diego and in the State Capitol, as necessary. These meetings treated Assembly Bills Nos 2023, 2024, and 2025, authored by Assemblyman Lowrey, Assembly Bill No 3314, by Assemblyman Winton, Assembly Bill No. 11, by Assemblyman McCollister, and a controversy over rural highways in Los Angeles County which was not in bill form. A condensation of the hearings on these subjects now follows:

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 11

Through arrangements with the Joint Interim Committee on Agriculture both your Assembly committee and the joint committee met in concert in all of the above locations to simultaneously consider Assembly Bill No. 11, relating to the creation of a Poultry Promotion Council, and Assembly Bill No. 3314, which proposed control over the charges for hauling milk.

On the Poultry Promotion Council matter your committee heard many witnesses, yet it seems sufficient to say that there was little or no opposition to the proposal since it contained provisions for an industry referendum and both the joint committee and your committee therefore concluded that adequate information regarding Assembly Bill No. 11 should be broadcast to the resident California poultrymen. This was accomplished during the spring and summer of 1958, as per House Resolution No. 48 of the Special Session, wherein Assemblyman McCollister headed a subcommittee which undertook to mail a copy of Assembly Bill No. 11, and analysis material to the industry. It subsequently followed that the referendum on this Poultry Promotion Council did not gain the necessary majority and, therefore, your committee does not recommend the re-enactment of this measure unless amended to a voluntary basis.

ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 3314

On the milk hauling charges subject, wherein your committee also worked with the joint committee on agriculture and livestock problems within the same schedule and number of meetings, we submit herewith the following excerpt from our transcript which statement we feel most clearly sets forth the situation:

> "My name is L. F. Clifton, and I am representing the Western Milk Transport My company is engaged in both the transportation of milk from dairies to plants in this area as well as the hauling of milk and dairy products from country plants to city distribution plants in Southern California, as well as in other consuming markets. The proposed legislation, if it were enacted, would vitally affect our operations and create an uncertainty which could make it impossible for us to operate efficiently Therefore, we desire to put before you information on our operations which may be of assistance to you in your consideration of Assembly Bill No. 3314.
> "The hauling of milk and dairy products in the San Joaquin Valley is a highly competitive business. We must compete both against other contract carriers, and with plants which carry on their own hauling operations. Therefore, the permanency of our business is solely dependent upon two factors. One, our ability to assure producers and distributors that we can transport milk and fluid dairy products in the quantities desired, on the required schedules, and in the manner required by all health and quality standards. Second, we must be able to provide this service on a reasonably low cost basis.

"We entered the ranch-to-plant transportation field in the San Joaquin Valley after long experience in providing this type of transportation service in the Southern California area. We knew from the start that we would be under constant pressure to reduce the cost of the ranch-to-plant haul. Our present $0.14 per hundredweight hauling rate applicable to tanker shipments on whole milk is a reduction from the original rates established in this area. We are constantly seeking ways and means of reducing costs and improving service even though we have been faced with a steadily rising trend in labor, truck, fuel, and material costs.

"We would like to try to give you some ideas of the investment required to maintain an adequate area-wide transportation service. Currently, we are transporting from dairies to country plants, milk produced in Fresno, Kings, Tulare, and Kern Counties. And, I may also add, on the coastal areas too, which would be Santa Barbara, and San Luis Obispo Counties. We are also transporting milk from plants scattered throughout the San Joaquin Valley to points in Southern California and in the Bay area. For just the ranch-to-plant haul, we maintain a fleet of 15 tankers, and for the 'over the road' hauling operations in the San Joaquin Valley, a fleet of 52 tankers. Our investment in facilities and equipment for servicing the transportation needs of our customers in the San Joaquin Valley is in excess of $2,000,000. Our total personnel for the area exceeds 156, including a large group of men trained and licensed as weighers and samplers, in accordance with the requirements of the Agricultural Code.

"It is obvious in view of these figures that our planning and our negotiations on rates with distributors and producers are aimed at permanency for our business and are not based on a temporary fly-by-night approach. In this connection we are greatly concerned with the proposed legislation as contained in Assembly Bill No. 3314, since it would inject a terrific element of uncertainty into the situation. Actually, it is impossible for us to interpret the meaning of some of the provisions. It could mean that our entire program of maintaining a complete hauling service for an area would 'go by the boards.' We might be forced to negotiate new rates every year, and be unable to plan on a long-time basis. It would appear that we could no longer negotiate with plants to provide the required service, but that actually our negotiations would have to be carried on with the Director of Agriculture, since he would become the determining factor on what agency the plants could use for milk transportation.

"We certainly have no fears of the consideration of our rates on an open public bid basis, but we are concerned with the fact that individual parts of a territory might be segregated out under a lower bid which would make it impossible to properly serve an entire area on the lowest overall rate basis. In view of our many years of experience in operating as a common carrier and a contract carrier in other areas, we are apprehensive as to what will happen in the milk transportation field if the Director of Agriculture is to approve rate structures in only a cursory manner. By that, we mean, unless it is contemplated that the Department of Agriculture will be set up and staffed as a complete rate-making body, we will have no distinct and definite basis to estimate future rate structures and operating standards. Any public agency which has the responsibility of approving or establishing transportation rates for a dynamic industry such as our milk industry, must be prepared to carry on this function in a full and complete manner and be certain its actions will result in the maintenance of the needed hauling facilities

"In summary, we wish to state that from our experience we know that the rate structure currently in this area and in the foreseeable future, will be subject to competitive pressures, and that we cannot maintain our business permanently unless we are capable of providing a good transportation service on a reasonable cost basis. We do not believe additional legislation is necessary to regulate the hauling of both producers and distributors, and to enjoy their good will, we must fill their needs every day in the year. We believe the proposed legislation would only hamper our ability to do so."

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: (After introduction of members.)

This is the sixth meeting we have had on Assembly Bill No. 3314 having to do with milk hauling. We have found as we have traveled statewide, that while certain problems do exist as far as hauling is concerned, it is, in most instances, misunderstanding. It's something that I personally feel—especially in Southern California—should be left as is. If we're going to have new legislation, I think maybe if it applies only to one area it would be unconstitutional. When most legislation is introduced it has to be statewide and take into consideration the overall problem as it affects the industry statewide. We can't very well just pinpoint it to one certain area where maybe certain things have existed in the past that some producers and some small distributors or large distributors in that area, are not satisfied with. We have found, coming down from Eureka through Central California now into Southern California, that maybe we're in better shape if we don't have too much legislation. We have found that if you can work it out at the local level in most instances you have a better deal by far than having the State move in and pass legislation that may not do the job that producers and distributors think might be done. We have found that in certain legislation we have passed, that when that legislation is not thought through the way it should be—and if the producers and the distributors can meet themselves and work out their own problems and then come to the Legislature united on that problem—then we find in most instances that the legislators are not confused by the issue but it's clearcut and legislation can be introduced and passed and signed by the Governor that will take care of a problem that might exist in agriculture. We're going to first hear from proponents of this bill. I would like to read the bill—it's rather short. It was introduced by Assemblyman Winton from Merced County.

"SECTION 1. Section 4285 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

"4285. No hauling charge shall be charged by a distributor for the hauling of the milk of a producer, except pursuant to a contract entered into for a one-year period. Such contract shall be let upon open bidding with public notice to commercial haulers of fluid milk. The bid accepted and the terms of the contract shall be approved by the director."

If the legislation was passed in its present form as written, I can assure you there would be nothing but confusion in the dairy industry statewide. Do we have any individual here who would like to testify in favor of this bill? We have a producer here, Mr. Buckel, who is president of the Producers Council and he's also chairman of the local Control Board of San Diego County. Have you any statement, Mr. Buckel, that you'd like to make? I think we'd like to hear from you because I think you would know the problem perhaps from the producer's standpoint as well as anyone we could find here in San Diego

D. W. BUCKEL, President, San Diego County Milk Producers Council: Thank you, Mr. Erwin. I'm D. W. Buckel, producer for Hayes Foremost Creamery in San Diego and Chairman of the San Diego Milk Producers Council which consists of about 85 percent of the producers in San Diego County. I am also chairman of the San Diego Control Board. I have just a few brief remarks to make. I am fairly familiar with the conditions of San Diego County and the hauling. First let me say, to my knowledge, there are two independent haulers here that do a very good job. We also have a co-op that is hauling milk and an independent distributor, I understand. Generally speaking, and speaking from the Board of Directors of the Milk Producers Council, they're all fairly well satisfied with their general hauling setup. We do not believe that this proposed bill will do us any good. First it puts—let's say another one of our problems in the Department of Agriculture's hands and we're very much in favor of the Bureau of Milk Control, but not to have the milk hauling incorporated in the bureau's hands or the State's hands. Another thing, we're very much in favor of small business. We have two of the local haulers here that we would consider big business, but small business compared to the milk transport up north. We have a little different problem in San Diego County compared possibly with San Joaquin and the Los Angeles areas. Up there it's all pretty well flat ground. Due to our carrying down here, the hauler, I would think, in quite a number of areas is compelled to use a bigger tractor for fluid milk than what he would in the Los Angeles or San Joaquin areas. Another thing in San Joaquin, where possibly this bill was originated, they have a problem that I can sympathize with that we do not have here. Our rates are fairly uniform. I don't think there is any complaint—a little confusion possibly on the way a couple of the milk haulers are billing. One of them has one rate with a surcharge and the other one has a flat rate—possibly amounts to the same thing. Other than that I don't think I would have anything to say unless there are some questions you might want answered.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Are there any questions? I would like to invite legislators from San Diego County to feel free to ask any questions if you want. Mr. Britschgi.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Mr. Buckel do you know what you're paying—the charge for milk hauling?

MR. BUCKEL: Yes sir.

MR. BRITSCHGI: You're a producer yourself?

MR. BUCKEL: That's right.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Do you know what you're paying?

MR. BUCKEL: Oh, absolutely.

MR. BRITSCHGI: How did you get that information? How do you find out?

MR BUCKEL: It's on my statement each month. In other words the distributors charge off to the hauler.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Is it written in your contract?

MR. BUCKEL: No, there's nothing written in the contract—and let me say this that—I've been a producer since 1914 and I've had all types of problems and there're all types of contracts that are written. Some that are thirty days and some are year contracts. This would only cause confusion to make a contract for your hauling for a year when the producer has a six month or ninety day producing contract. They would conflict. Ours is pretty much a general understanding between the hauler and the producer—I don't have a copy with me—where the hauler has tried to inform the producers as to his general fixed charges and the reason for increasing prices. Then it's a matter of deduction on your milk check by your local distributor to pay your hauler.

MR. BRITSCHGI: The reason I asked the question is because I happen to be a producer, and was a distributor and a producer at the same time, and all the contracts that I had to make with my producers, the lease department always required me to put in the amount I was charging my producers for hauling. As we've gone around the State—as the chairman has told you—we have found that many producers haven't the slightest idea as to what they're being charged. I was just wondering if it was in your contracts in this area.

MR BUCKEL: To my knowledge there is no contract—I don't claim to be an expert, just general knowledge—the customary way as I understand it is to list your deductions whether it's for advertising purposes or for hauling or whatever, it is on your statement and so you've got so many pounds of milk at so much a hundred and it's very easy to see what your hauling is About a year ago last September we had an increase in hauling and there was quite a bit of confusion among some of the producers that felt that this hauling wasn't justified. Again I believe that comes mostly from misunderstanding. There was one hauler —hauls the same area for one group of distributors—was charging a certain price as a surcharge and the other made it just increase in hauling and they both amount to about the same money. I will say, to my knowledge, that the local co-op is hauling milk much cheaper, but again we can't compare a co-op organization with an independent businessman.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Senator Erhart.

SENATOR ERHART: Mr. Buckel, you're a producer?

MR. BUCKEL: Yes, sir.

SENATOR ERHART: Do you have any idea in regard to how many types of haulers you have in this area—contract haulers and the co-op haul their own milk and the processors also haul some of the milk, do they?

MR. BUCKEL: The answer to that—I would say there are four to my knowledge. There are two independent and then the co-op has their hauler and I understand one distributor has a truck that hauls for their producers. Again I might not be fully informed, but I think there are four with the exception of possibly some little producer hauling his own milk.

SENATOR ERHART: Percentagewise, what would the percentages be that the various haulers haul, of the milk that's produced in this area?

MR. BUCKEL: You say percentage——

SENATOR ERHART: Percentagewise, yes

MR. BUCKEL: I would say, roughly speaking, these four haulers would haul about 90 percent of the milk. Again I don't claim to be familiar with all the figures. There might be a little milk hauled by some of these producer-distributors that have a small producer that he might haul for in cans—with that I'm not acquainted.

SENATOR ERHART: Have you a hauler in this area whose rates are set by the commission?

MR. BUCKEL: That I don't know.

SENATOR ERHART: What is the average rate—the hauling charges?

MR. BUCKEL: I don't have the figures with me but according to the Milk Bureau's average hauling rate it's 18 cents and I think that is pretty well in line with the figures our organization making costs today has—around 18 cents a hundred.

SENATOR ERHART: As a producer do you feel that you have anything to say at all in determining the rates?

MR. BUCKEL: As a producer—let me speak now for only myself, not the organization or any other group—I would like to say this, that if there are any changes, we fully understand why the changes take place. I think that there is a cause for all of these things—taxes, fixed charges, gasoline, wages—I will admit that due to the unions and whatnot, the wages are continuously changing with the hauler and it is no control of the hauler. Again a man with a contract hauler or an organization, he has these charges increased on him through no fault of his own and they must be passed on to the producer. Unfortunately, the producer is in the squeeze.

SENATOR ERHART: You're satisfied then——

MR. BUCKEL: Generally speaking, I would say that I am satisfied and on behalf of our board of directors, who are very active in the area, they are satisfied in general—let's say—with hauling in the past and up to the present. We feel there should be a little more—let's say for a lot of dairymen here that don't understand English language and don't understand how to read the whyfor—there should be a little clearer explanation why some of these things are done. Here's one man in one zone that's paying 18 cents, another man in another zone 16 cents, but it might be five miles further out, it might be due to different conditions.

SENATOR ERHART: It's possible though for the producer who is confused about what he pays and what his neighbor pays to find out the reasons why, is it not, if he wants to dig into it?

MR. BUCKEL: I think so. I believe that if a person is interested in their own personal problems—if they feel like they're overcharged and they go to the source of it, there is always a pretty good explanation of why it's done. I know I've been aroused myself several times when we have these increases handed on to us just like our other increases, but then we try to find out and if we find out why they're being done we're pretty well satisfied.

SENATOR ERHART: Thank you.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Mr Hanna.

MR. HANNA: Just to clarify that last point, are there any producers in San Diego, to your knowledge, that contract themselves for their milk hauling with an independent hauler?

MR. BUCKEL: That I can't say. I don't know offhand

MR. HANNA: There is not a substantial number at any rate that do that?

MR. BUCKEL: I think again that most of it is done—I'm only thinking—by the distributor, and again I believe that goes pretty much with the Health Department coming in The Health Department, as I understand, doesn't permit haulers to haul my milk that goes to one distributor and then the neighbor's milk that goes to another distributor in the same tank. Therefore, he's got to pass us up and haul that into the plant, and come back and haul for another distributor and pick it up and make another load. So I think that's pretty much up to the distributor and his producers as to the—let's say—the routine of making a load and trying to have the truck come in with a full load That I'm not acquainted with. I'm only speaking in general

MR HANNA: You believe that for the most the contracts made by the distributor with the hauler to pick up the producer's milk? Is that right?

MR. BUCKEL: Whether the distributor has the contract or not I don't know. All I know is that again our hauling is based pretty much on the contract hauling figures and rates, and then that is passed on to us for the distributor to collect. Whether they have a contract, I'm not in a position to testify at this time I'm just speaking in general. Again let me emphasize I believe in small business and we have two men here to my knowledge that do a good job They've got a tremendous investment in a small way and I would hate—being a small businessman myself—to see those boys squeezed out. In the long run we'd have some big corporation coming down here and taking over and it wouldn't give us a bit more service and possibly the cost would be just as high. Now that, generally speaking, is my own thinking.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Are there any further questions? Thank you very much, Mr. Buckel. Do we have any other producer in the room that would like to testify? If not, we have Mr. Manly. You indicated that you would like to testify. Give your name and who you represent, please.

L. A. MANLY, Qualitee Dairy Products Association: I am L. A. Manly and I represent Qualitee Dairy Products Association. My only reason for making any statement is just to say that if this bill should be passed—we first submitted the bill to our attorney and asked him if this would affect us. We haul our own milk and we assess our members on a formula which we've worked out as close to the actual cost of the hauling as possible. Our attorney advised us that if this bill were passed that we would be governed by it. So we would only like to say that if such a bill is presented again, with any amendments, we would like to have it amended so that the co-operative marketing association would not have to base its rates on any rates stated or work approved by the State. Our attorney suggested that in the case of this Assembly Bill No. 3314 that this amendment should be made to it, "The section does not apply to hauling charges made within and to the membership of a co-operative marketing association."

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: We have that in our transcript and it won't be necessary to submit it. Are there any questions?

MR. HANNA: Mr. Erwin.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Yes, Mr. Hanna.

MR. HANNA: Mr. Manly, then you are representing the co-operative distributor-hauler that was referred to by Mr. Buckel.

MR. MANLY: I presume so.

MR. HANNA: And you say you assess on a formula that comes close to covering the cost of hauling. Can you at this time recite about what that formula is or can you produce that formula that we might have it for our records?

MR. MANLY: I can tell you how the formula is made up subject to change as conditions change, of course. We take into consideration three different factors, first the investment factor figuring that we have to have the hauling equipment—tankers—all of our milk is hauled in tankers—so we use an investment factor and charge the same rate per hundredweight with that investment factor whether the dairy farm is 5 miles from our plant or 50 miles from our plant. In other words, the dairyman who lives 10 miles away from our plant pays the same. We use the same factor on the hauling charge as the more distant ones. Then we use a time factor which gives advantage to the large producer. We're figuring that each man should pay the cost of hauling his milk. If he has an inconvenient dairy location, difficult to get our tanker into his milkhouse, we figure that he should be penalized for that. Actually it doesn't take us much longer to pick up a thousand gallons of milk at a dairy farm than it does 300 gallons of milk. I don't think we have any producer that small but the thing of it is the actual pumping time is small compared to the other time that enters into taking a reading on the tank, agitating the milk, sampling, connecting up your pump and disconnecting when the milk is pumped out, and recording readings, and so on. In other words, that time is the same whether the producer is delivering 1,000, 1,500 gallons of milk or 300. So we use a time factor and we charge a rate based upon what we're paying our men by making a cost study on each dairy. We charge from the time we pull off on a county road into his dairy farm until we get out. We just charge the man's time. Then the third factor is a mileage factor. We blend those three factors as best we can and establish a hauling rate for that particular member. If he gets a contract increase, or for one reason or another increases his production greatly or decreases it greatly, we would make a new time study and establish another rate for him. We may have two dairymen right together, maybe 30 miles out, who pay some difference in rate because of the size of the operation

MR. HANNA: Can you give us any idea about what your charge is at the present time?

MR MANLY: I think our lowest charge for a producer down here at Mission Valley, perhaps about five or six miles from the plant, is about 7½ cents a hundredweight.

MR. HANNA: What's your largest?

MR. MANLY: I think our most distant producer—would have to be for a large producer—about 57 miles is, I believe, 18 cents a hundredweight.

MR. HANNA: Thank you.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Are there any further questions? Senator Erhart.

SENATOR ERHART: Maybe I should direct this to you, I don't know. We've had producers testify at various meetings that we've held who claim that they really didn't know how much they paid for hauling. That the statements issued to them were complicated with a lot of figures on them and they didn't know exactly what they did pay. Would it be possible at our Paramount meeting—our next meeting—to have someone bring to us a formula, or a statement, just to show us how complicated the thing might be with his deductions and grades of milk and so forth. Is it complicated, this statement that you issue to the producer, so that he can't figure out what he does pay for hauling?

MR. MANLY: Our statement is rather complicated because we grade our milk as no other distributors do. But from the standpoint of the hauling rate, we just show the number of pounds of milk hauled and the rate per hundredweight on the statement and the dollar value.

SENATOR ERHART: One of these producers claimed that they really don't know what they pay. The statement has a lot of figures on it and they can't understand it because they don't read English or because they don't pay enough attention to it, or just take it for granted, or were they sincere when they said that "Well, we don't know what we pay. It varies from time to time and one really doesn't know what we do pay."

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: I think it was testimony that came to us in some of our meetings in the Central Valley that probably would not be applicable to Southern California. That's the reason I feel that it would be almost impossible to bring something like that out here at our San Diego meeting when that testimony came from around in the San Joaquin area and lower Sacramento Valley.

MR. MANLY: As far as our members are concerned, they all know what they're paying for hauling because it's shown right on their statement and they're very conscious of what they're paying.

SENATOR ERHART: Isn't that statement pretty universal throughout the State—the type of the statement that they issue to the producer?

MR. MANLY: I don't know.

SENATOR ERHART: I think I can get that information in Compton.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Mr. Britschgi has a question.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Mr. Chairman and Mr. Manly, you're operating under stabilization plans here in this area, are you not?

MR. MANLY: Yes.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I think on page 5 Section 3B it gives a formula as to what should be in a producer's contract. I believe Item 4 in that particular section states that it should state in the contract the transportation costs. Have you ever included that in your contracts?

MR. MANLY: No.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I'm just wondering why the department has never insisted on it being in in various areas. I know in my particular area, we all had to have it in. I was just wondering if that happened to be an administrative program through different heads of departments, whether someone insisted upon it. It's written in there in black and white and I just wondered if you had to have it in your contracts. If not, why not?

MR. MANLY: As a co-operative association, we're not bound by the stabilization act and some of the state men are here to say whether I'm right or wrong. We're not actually paying producers for milk, we're just selling our own milk so we don't even have to pay any state prices. We just pay back to our producers--remit it back to our producers—what is left after taking our processing and selling charges out.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I'll ask somebody else that question later on.

MR MANLY: From our standpoint all our producers' markets are the same price per plus.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Thank you very much. Are there any further questions? We have Bob Hodge. You'll give your name and who you represent, please.

BOB HODGE, Golden Arrow Dairy, San Diego: We would like to go on record as being opposed to this bill that has been written here. I think most creameries operate as we do. Our milk haulers perform a lot of services for us, and for the farmer also, I believe, besides hauling milk, which could be eliminated by the contract hauler who was merely interested in hauling the job as cheaply as possible. Our weighing and sampling is done by our haulers. Our hauler helps in our cost control and I think he performs a very valuable service to us

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Are there any questions by any of the members of the committee? Thank you very much, Mr. Hodge. Now we have Mr. Mosher We're going to number this as Exhibit 9 and it'll be carried in the record.

BURT MOSHER, Marketing Co-ordinator for Foremost Dairies: My name is Burt Mosher, I'm Marketing Co-ordinator for the Foremost Dairies. Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee, I would like to give you my views on Assembly Bill No 3314 as proposed in the last session of the California Legislature.

The proposed bill contains three provisions:

The first provision would require that no hauling charge could be made by a distributor except pursuant to a one-year contract. Milk contracts between producers and distributors are for varying periods of time and certainly all provisions should apply for the length of the contract which we believe should be a matter of private contract between the producer and his distributor.

The second provision requires that the hauling contract shall be let upon open bidding with public notice to commercial haulers of fluid milk. The investment in equipment required for hauling milk is so great that it must be utilized to its fullest possible degree in order to operate on present rates. If as a result of bidding the hauling function was performed first by one then by another contract hauler or distributor, idle equipment could substantially increase costs which would adversely affect the hauling rates and ultimately the price to the consumer.

The third provision of the bill requires that the director shall approve the bid and the terms of the contract. I think this addition to the law is unnecessary because the hauling is now highly competitive and by its very nature tends to develop the lowest possible rates and furthermore the provisions of Section 4231 already give the director the power to establish maximum rates.

In my opinion the director presently uses a practical method of establishing maximum rates by the inclusion of a provision in all stabilization and marketing plans which says in effect that a distributor who purchases, receives or otherwise handles milk at a producer's dairy location may deduct only the lowest rate in effect for a public carrier as filed with the Public Utilities Commission. If such a rate has not been established a deduction not in excess of the average rate paid to others engaged in hauling milk from the same territory may be made and in no case shall the deduction be more than the actual amount paid by the distributor for such transportation.

There is, of course, one other condition not specifically covered by the maximums enumerated above.

This would be where a distributor was hauling the milk from an area where no public carrier rate existed nor where others hauled milk and in this case a distributor could conceivably charge a price higher than reasonably necessary. I doubt very much if this occurs and can't think of an area in California where no competitive rate exists. In our particular contract, incidentally, we put in a clause that says in the absence of all these competitive conditions that the hauling rate shall be agreed upon between the producer and the distributor. However, in the Fresno interim committee hearing someone mentioned such a problem and it could possibly exist. I think if this situation did occur and this was called to the attention of the bureau, that it could quickly be corrected by bureau consultations with the distributor. If not, it appears clear to me that the bureau could investigate, call a public hearing, receive evidence, make a finding, and place in the stabilization and marketing plan a specific maximum charge for transportation from that area to the area where sold.

Section 4231 says in so many words: "The stabilization and marketing plan may further provide for maximum charges for plant and transportation services on fluid milk, fluid cream and fluid skim milk, or the milk fat or fluid skim milk components which are transported to the area where sold."

I would like to briefly discuss the competitive factors that to my mind insure low hauling costs. In California we have producers or associations of producers hauling milk, we have large area-wide contract haulers operating fleets of trucks, small contract haulers operating one or two trucks and distributors hauling their own milk. All of these compete for the business. No one of them could long maintain rates out of line with others and keep in business. We as a distributor might prefer to haul our own milk in order to co-ordinate its pickup and receipt closely with the changing needs of our processing operation.

However, the fact is that we haul the milk in some areas and contract for its haul in others, this emphasizes the competitive factors of this function. In areas where we can haul at competitive rates we are inclined to do so; however, where highly efficient contract hauling arrangements exist we use those facilities.

In 18 of our California processing or country plant receiving operations, we haul the milk in only five, the producers haul the milk in one—in fact that's three sets of producers hauling that one—large contract haulers haul the milk in five, and individual contract haulers haul the milk in seven. These individual contract haulers range from one to four in each of the particular operations, and in fact there are some exceptions to the other where even in these five where we haul our own there are one, two, three of those where we also have contract haulers hauling into the same area.

Over many years the rates for hauling have developed through the experience of many competing operators, which I think is the soundest way to develop rates.

Mr. Wolters, our California Transportation and Traffic Manager, will be in Paramount and will elaborate on the processes used in arriving at proper hauling rates.

It has been suggested that perhaps the Public Utilities Commission or the Bureau of Milk Control should establish rates for all hauls. I am sure either could do the job if they hired sufficient personnel to do so. Comprehensive rate setting by either agency would require voluminous studies on collecting milk from various volume shippers and on hauling the fluctuating volumes to the hundreds of points where the milk is used in California. This would be costly either to the taxpayers or to the industry and ultimately the consuming public and is, I believe, completely unnecessary.

I have not found it possible to attend all of your previous hearings on this subject, but I did attend the ones in Eureka and Fresno. From my observation of these hearings, particularly the one in Fresno, it does appear that a problem exists. The problem as it appears to me is one of misinformation, lack of understanding and the failure by producers to place their problem before their distributor or the bureau I don't believe that understanding can be legislated. I think that it can only be accomplished through the joint efforts of producers, distributors and the bureau.

For example: In Fresno a statement was made that a deduction of $1.06 per hundredweight was made from a producer who shipped milk from Los Banos to Bakersfield. The solution to this problem should be very simple. If true, it is a direct violation of the maximum provisions in the stabilization and marketing plan and I have no doubt the bureau would stop it immediately if it were called to their attention. It is much more likely that the $1.06 represented a haul to Bakersfield plus an authorized deduction for assembling, cooling and reshipping, plus transportation to Los Angeles or some other southern area and in fact the producer received a far better net return for this milk through the ability of the distributor to utilize this milk as Class 1 milk in the southern area than would have been the case if it were necessary to dispose of the milk for manufacturing purposes in the valley. Explanation of this by either the bureau or the distributor would eliminate one more case of misunderstanding.

Another case reported in the Fresno hearing was where a deduction of 35 cents per hundredweight was made from a producer for a haul that returned only 26 cents to the contract hauler. This also would be a direct violation of present stabilization and marketing plans and could be corrected overnight by the bureau if the case were brought to their attention and found to be true.

Another statement made was that the cost per ton to haul milk was twice as much as to haul a ton of hay. I completely fail to see what that has to do with whether the cost of hauling milk of varying volumes under varying conditions and varying distances is proper or not. Differences in equipment, cost, utilization of hay hauling equipment for other purposes, etc., failure to be able to use back haul on milk and such makes that comparison to me completely irrelevant to the cost of handling milk.

Another statement was made that a condition existed whereby a hauling rate of 32 cents per hundredweight resulted in a cost per mile of 60 cents, another producer had a hauling rate of 37 cents which resulted in a cost of 90 cents per mile. Other similar comparisons were made.

Upon questioning by the committee the witness declared that such variations were general, not isolated. I am sure that this is true. It explains one of the reasons why it does not cost five times as much to haul milk 150 miles as it does to haul it 30 miles. Examination of the equipment cost alone shows why this would be true. If a hauler has an annual depreciation of $4,000 on his equipment hauled the same volume of milk 30 miles for 300 days or 9,000 miles per year the cost per mile would be 44 cents for the equipment alone, but if he hauled that same milk 150 miles or 45,000 miles per year the cost would be only 9 cents per mile.

I was also interested in the results of a survey made by the California Milk Federation in which 1,947 questionnaires were mailed to producers, 201 replied and of these 201, 42 percent felt that the rates were too high; 36 percent felt they were fair; and 22 percent said they didn't know. I think it is quite a tribute to the effectiveness of the present competitive system of rate determination to find 36 percent of the producers saying the rates are fair and 22 percent not willing to say they were too high. I would have expected a much greater percentage to feel that the costs they pay for hauling or any other element of their cost was too high. I would likewise expect that a large majority of the same group would say the price they receive for their milk was low. This would seem to me to be a natural reaction to such a question. I would also expect results from a survey of consumers as to whether the cost of meat or coffee or automobiles was fair or too high to say it was too high in a great majority of the cases and conversely that the income they received for their contributions to the economy were too low.

I have said that there does appear to be a problem, but that not legislation but dissemination of information, understanding of the problem and use of the present provisions of the law were what is needed.

I think distributors might find it worth their while and contribute greatly if they were to examine their present reports to producers on hauling rates and make sure that they are giving them adequate information regarding those rates and giving their fieldmen full information so that they can better explain the deductions to the producer.

I think producer representations should also acquaint themselves more fully with the problem and use their efforts to clarify the situation and encourage their producers to take their complaints to their distributor or the bureau. It has been said that producers are reticent about complaining to their distributor about their rates—we had a notice that that was true, incidentally—for fear of losing their contract. I can assure our producers that they need have no concern of losing their contract because of any honest complaint on rate or any other subject.

I am sure the bureau is quite capable of enforcing their present maximum limits on transportation if violations are called to their attention. I further believe that the bureau should periodically make a comparison of rates of competing haulers for hauling milk under like conditions and for like distances and if they find violations or unreasonable variations that they proceed to correct them by consultation with the haulers or by exercise of the authority now granted them under Section 4232. I don't expect that they will find much to correct, but their routine check might be valuable in assuring producers that they are receiving fair treatment

The bureau already audits all payments and deductions to producers for transportation or other services and this sort of a study would be far less costly than setting up the bureau or any other agency as a rate-making body and be just as effective.

In summary I see no need for further legislation. I think the present law adequately provides for control of reasonable hauling rates in California.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: At this time I would like to introduce Assemblyman Hegland who just came in. That makes 100 percent of the legislators from San Diego County present this morning.

I was struck as you were, Mr. Mosher, by the statement made that they haul hay for $9 a ton as against milk at a much higher rate. I also wonder if the individual who made that statement—and we have it in the record—realized that the truck that hauls hay can haul barnyard fertilizer and haul iron. It can haul practically a hundred things but I think if you took your milk truck and hauled your milk one way and then tried to haul back gasoline, your equipment would be completely ruined and the Health Department would be on your neck. Not only that but the public wouldn't be drinking the milk. If you hauled beer in that kind of a container, it would also ruin milk because the flavor is there. The only other thing I could see would be orange juice and that in turn would ruin it. While the milk people do sell orange juice—you can feed orange pulp to your cows but you even flavor the milk by doing that—so that's one thing I think was not taken into consideration that the only thing you can haul in the truck is milk and you're going to the farm empty and you have to go empty and you have to come back full or approximately full to make the load pay. Another thing that struck me about many of these very expensive pieces of equipment, we've testimony that they go out and come back just about half full. It's a problem that I think will be brought out in our report and should be brought out for the benefit of everybody. Maybe those are some of the things that these producers—sometimes do not take into consideration. We all have our problems and that is one of the problems of the man that's hauling milk. Believe me if he's put out of business with this expensive equipment, we're going to find ourselves as producers in a bind that would raise the price much higher than it is presently. When we introduce legislation, in many instances, it's not given the chance to be heard like this piece of legislation. I think the committee when legislation dealing with this subject comes up in the future will be well-prepared to vote intelligently on it. We would not have been in that position had this legislation gone through, because I think the testimony we've had statewide will bring out that we'd have had nothing but confusion in the industry. Are there any questions that any of the members want to ask Mr. Mosher. Mr. Britschgi.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Same question I've asked a few of the others. Mr. Mosher, do your contracts contain the transportation charge? When your field man goes in and tries to sign up shipper "A", does he give him an idea as to just what the hauling charge will be or does he wait for the surprise when the statement comes?

MR. MOSHER: No, he would give them the hauling charge. However, in the contract itself it specifically repeats the provisions that are indicated in the Stabilization and Marketing Plan as to "It shall not be more than the lowest, the Public Utilities, the average." If that doesn't exist and then we go further and say, "If there is no competing factor in that market, the rate shall be one agreed upon between the producers and the distributors." Then on the statement itself, he gets his information of each of the deductions each month. But he is acquainted and let know what the hauling rate is.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Would you be willing, Mr. Mosher, to have for us at Paramount, or somebody in your organization have for us, a copy of one of your contracts and I assume they're probably just about the same all over the State. I don't know whether that's right.

MR. MOSHER: They're very similar.

MR. BRITSCHGI: More or less. I think, Mr. Chairman, to follow this along, if we could have possibly Mr. Dick or our Executive Secretary here secure copies of various companies' contracts for our inspection, I think we'd probably have the answers to a lot of these questions

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: You have them, Mr. Dick? Do you have copies of them in your department?

MR. DICK: I believe copies are filed with us.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I don't mean anybody in particular, Mr. Dick. Just sample copies of say Carnation or somebody.

MR. DICK: I think we can work with Harold Lewright and between us collect statistics.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I think you'll find all these answers are in these contracts in most cases.

MR. DICK: We'd be glad to furnish them—the contracts.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: That's fine.

MR. BRITSCHGI: We have had statements, if you'll remember, that they have no idea what they pay at all. I'd like to prove the fact that they are in the contracts. They have to be if they're going to live up to the stabilization plan.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Mr. Hanna.

MR. HANNA: I want to ask the witness, if where you are contracting for the hauling with an independent contractor, do they submit to you some idea of the zoning for the area in which they'll be picking up?

MR. MOSHER: In some cases it would be by area. Quite often that is developed based upon discussions with the producers themselves as to what they think is fair, whether it shall be on a zoning basis of 10 miles, 20 miles and so forth, or shall it be a flat rate for all within that area? Of course, when it's an individual contract hauler handling it, we don't often get into those negotiations at that point. We must approve the hauler, however, but I myself, back many years ago when I was in the office, have sat down with contract haulers, for example, who were hauling the milk and when they needed more money we would review the thing with them and have them bring in their figures. They had to bring in their bills and we knew what their income was because they got it from us—and go over the thing before we would ever do it. I think this will be a better question for Mr. Wolter, incidentally, since he does intend to cover just that point of how he goes about establishing with producers whether it be zones or whether it be flat pricing and so forth. He will be in Paramount and has been handling this thing for 25 years and I think he might better answer it.

MR. HANNA: Is there only the two ways that they approach it or is there some other way? Or are you able to state?

MR. MOSHER: I don't believe that I am.

MR. HANNA: I see.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Senator Erhart.

SENATOR ERHART: Mr. Chairman, I think we should thank Mr. Mosher on behalf of the committee for the very fine paper that he presented. I think it was self-explanatory and clears up some of the questions that were asked at previous meetings. I thought it was a very fine paper.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Are there any further questions? Thank you very much, Mr. Mosher. Do we have anybody else that would like to testify at this time? Are there any producers present who have anything to say? Anyone other than the Department of Agriculture? Assemblyman Schrade.

MR. SCHRADE: Mr. Chairman, before you adjourn the meeting I want to tell you, as one of the legislators here from San Diego County and I know that I'm speaking for the entire legislative team from San Diego, that we appreciate your committee coming into San Diego to listen to some of the problems that exist—not only statewide but here in our own county. We sincerely what to thank you and the entire committee for coming down and helping us with this problem.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Mr. Schrade, it was at your request and at the request of the delegation from San Diego County, that we're here. We probably would not have come had it not been for your asking us to come into your county where we have a great many poultrymen and dairymen. You have some very wonderful dairymen that I know down here and have been associated with during the years—Dr. Goode and others. We're happy to come down and be of service to you and also to be of service to the poultrymen and that's why the Joint Committee is meeting here. Mr. Britschgi.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Mr. Chairman, before you adjourn, I notice that Mr. Dick has this memorandum here to us and while we're going to have the information, I know that some of the people are not going to have it and while we have a little bit of time I think it might be well to have Mr. Dick go over this particular question here.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Will you do that, Mr. Dick? I'd appreciate it and I know the committee would. I have a copy right here for you.

MR. DICK: I'll go over the memorandum. If we get into any technical questions we have Mr. Weinland here who is chief of the bureau and he can answer the technical questions that I won't be able to. The memorandum is a memorandum to me from Mr. Weinland dated July 3d and was prepared at the request of your secretary, Harold Lewright. It reads as follows:

"You have requested information concerning the problem or problems with respect to milk hauling charges which may have motivated Assembly Bill No. 3314, which was referred to an interim committee for study. There are a number of fluid milk producers throughout the State who are of the opinion that transportation charges they are required to pay for the delivery of their milk are too high.

"In order to properly analyze the problem, it would appear necessary to outline the manner in which transportation charges are handled in the stabilization and marketing plans.

"Section 4204 of the Agricultural Code, which states the purposes of the act relating to the establishment of minimum prices, provides that the cost to distributors within any marketing area for fluid milk or fluid cream shall be uniform with all other distributors purchasing fluid milk or fluid cream of similar grade or quality under like terms and conditions. To accomplish uniformity of price, minimum producer prices are established in the stabilization and marketing plan on an F.O.B. plant basis for each marketing area. The stabilization and marketing plans further provide that, in the event the distributor purchases fluid milk or fluid cream F.O.B. producer's dairy location, that the distributor may deduct the lowest of the following transportation rates:

(Now we come to the meat of the thing, which is in the orders)

"(1) The lowest rate for transportation of said commodity then in effect for public carrier as filed with the Public Utilities Commission.

"(2) The average rate paid to others engaged in hauling said commodity from the same territory.

"(3) The actual amount paid by the distributor for such transportation.

(Now when we come to Class 2 and 3 milk there is a limit on that)

"(4) For Class 2 and 3 milk, a specific maximum rate is provided in addition to the aforementioned provisions.

"There are currently very few common carrier rates for milk filed with the Public Utilities Commission. Therefore, the review of transportation charges by the bureau is primarily concerned with items (2), (3) and (4) above. (Those are the items that are in the order)

"When a distributor's plant is audited by the bureau to determine whether or not the producer has been paid in accordance with his contract and the stabilization and marketing plans affecting the payment for his milk, the hauling charges levied against the producer are reviewed in the following manner:

"(1) If a contract hauler transports the fluid milk from the producer's dairy ranch to the distributor's plant, the invoices of the contract hauler are checked against the charges made against the producer for the hauling, and in no instances are these charges permitted to be greater than the actual charge of the contract haul.

"(2) If a distributor hauls the producer's milk in his own equipment, the charges made for the hauling are checked to see whether or not they are in line with the hauling rates charged by contract haulers, if such hauling rates are established and available.

"(3) If a distributor hauls a producer's milk in his own equipment and there are no contract hauler rates available for comparison with the charges made by the distributor, then the charges made are examined to ascertain whether or not they are reasonable and in line with charges made by other distributors hauling milk from the same vicinity. If there are no other distributors hauling milk from the same vicinity, the charges made are usually accepted as being reasonable.

"It has been found very difficult to compare charges for hauling made by one distributor with hauling charges made by another distributor because of the difference in distances from the road to dairy locations or pickup points and the varying road conditions.

"(4) On the charges for hauling made against Class 2 and Class 3 fluid milk the amounts charged are checked in the same manner as stated in (1), (2) and (3), except that in the instances where the stabilization and marketing plan has a maximum limitation on the amount of the haul, a determination is made as to whether or not this limitation has been exceeded.

"Certain distributors have set up separate entities (such as separate corporations) which they completely control, and which are engaged in the business of hauling the producer's milk that is utilized in their plant operations. In these instances, the charges made to the distributor by this separate entity are accepted but are scrutinized in line with paragraphs (1), (2) and (3) above. However, it should be noted that, in some of these instances, there is really no sound basis for ascertaining whether or not the charge made is equitable and fair. Therefore, we have no alternative except to accept the charge made.

"On the other hand, we have found that some distributors actually maintain cost figures on their hauling operations, and charge only enough for the hauling to take care of the replacement of equipment and overhead This results in a charge less than the rates normally charged for comparable haul distances."

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: Mr. Britschgi.

MR. BRITSCHGI: Isn't it true that the trouble that developed in San Joaquin County was due to the fact that you had a distributor hauling milk from producers and he had to use up the rest of the milk that went into Class 2 and 3 He might of had to send it to some other particular area—on that particular haul is where some of these producers probably ran into trouble They found out that the standard price, I know in San Joaquin it's $3.30, I think, and they've been getting their pay checks and it would be down to around $2.70 or $2 90. They figure that somewhere along the line they were being charged too much

Your department nowhere in here has any control over that portion of what happens to that milk, do they?

MR. DICK: I didn't understand what you meant.

MR. BRITSCHGI: If you can follow my thinking — if there is nothing here that is going to say that if certain amounts of producer A's milk is used into Class 2 or Class 3 that he would be therefore guaranteed at least $3.30, which is the set price in the valley for Grade B milk. He may get less than that.

MR. DICK: There is in this thing, however, a limit on what they can charge him for hauling that Class 2 or Class 3 milk.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I think that's where the misunderstanding has come along in that particular area in the valley. I have always felt that possibly the distributor was doing the farmer a favor by at least getting rid of the milk for him.

MR. DICK: You recall, Mr. Britschgi, that one of the witnesses testified that the distributor watched these contract hauls pretty carefully because the same contract hauler that hauls some of the Class 1 also hauled the Class 2 and Class 3 milk on which the distributor had to absorb the difference because he was limited by this order to a certain hauling charge on Class 2 and Class 3.

MR. BRITSCHGI: I feel, Mr. Chairman, that these several paragraphs sort of outline this thing in pretty fair shape.

CHAIRMAN ERWIN: I think they will be very valuable for our transcript when we have finished it and I want to thank you Mr. Dick for bringing it before the committee. Are there any further questions? If not, then we are going to stand adjourned.

The committee therefore concluded that the text of Assembly Bill No. 3314, as originally introduced, could not be recommended, yet our committee does feel that some clarification of the present law should be enacted, making sure that milk producers have the right to request a review of their charges and, making sure that if such a request is lodged with the Department of Agriculture, the department will have the right and duty to review and remedy the situation.

Assembly Bill No. 2023—Assembly Bill No. 2025

Prior to the opening of the 1958 Budget Session, your committee met in the State Capitol to consider Assembly Bill No. 2023 and Assembly Bill No. 2025, both of which proposed changes in the method of prescribing standards for the establishment of minimum prices to be paid by distributors to milk producers. The bills were supported and presented by the Western Dairymen's Association and variously opposed by other elements of the industry, all to the end that your committee found no grounds for any recommendation.

Rural Roads

Next, a situation arose in the rural portions of Los Angeles County where various resident and proprietory dairymen came to the committee with requests for an examination of the assignment of road and highway funds applicable to their area, the import being that roads servicing the dairies were not being adequately maintained and improved. Two sessions were held on this matter with appropriate state and Los Angeles County officials in attendance, yet your committee seemed almost prohibited from effecting any remedy since the distribution of highway funds for secondary roads within a county has traditionally and by law been reserved to the judgment of local county officials. Much as we might like to, therefore, your committee is refraining from making any recommendation on this subject.

Other Subjects

Toward the end of 1958, and as chairman of your committee, I communicated with the authors of all other measures which had been assigned to the committee, asking and offering our facilities if these authors wished their matters heard. Only one further request came from this invitation and your committee therefore met again in Sacramento to consider Assembly Bill No. 2024 by Assemblyman Lowrey, relating to duplicate milk inspection fees.

Assembly Bill No. 2024

This subject was also presented and supported by the Western Dairymen's Association with the contention that the present law makes it possible for inspectors from three levels of government, to-wit, city, county and State, to all make inspections of milk, resulting in a multiplicity of charges. However, none of the members of your committee seemed willing to accept the terms of Assembly Bill No. 2024 since it sought to place all inspection duties in the hands of the State Department of Agriculture to the complete exclusion of the lower levels of government. Further, Mr. Charles V. Dick, Deputy Director of the State Department of Agriculture, and members of his staff, explained that under the present law the State may qualify local inspection and that there are no duplicate fees. It still seemed possible, however, for a dairyman whose facilities are physically located in an area being inspected by one service to be charged inspection fees from that area (Los Angeles) whereas his milk was actually being shipped to another area (for example, San Francisco) Your committee therefore recommends that legislation be enacted in the form of an amendment which will give the Department of Agriculture the right to initiate changes in the boundaries between milk inspection areas.

Transcripts Available

Detailed transcripts of all testimony and proceedings, together with the several legal opinions relating to the topics heard, are here on file and available to anyone interested, yet for the sake of brevity they are not incorporated in this report. Also, we feel that you and the entire membership of the 1959 Legislature should know that our committee was assisted by Mr. Harold F. Lewright, who served us as Executive Field Representative, with splendid efficiency; that we are able to return a small unexpended balance of the funds allotted to us, even though our tasks and number of required meetings were extensive; and that all members of this committee join me in expressing the feeling that our activities have constituted a much-needed public service.

Bills

Bills to accomplish our recommendations have been drawn and placed in the hands of the incumbent members of your committee.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS M. ERWIN, Chairman

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Messrs. Beaver, Porter, Sumner, Schrade, and Lunardi:

House Resolution No. 38

Relative to directing the Assembly Interim Committee on Water to create a Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power

WHEREAS, It is the expressed policy of the United States Government to encourage the peacetime use of atomic power, thus creating a probability that substantial federal assistance might be made available to the State of California in developing a workable project for the application of such power in this State; and

WHEREAS, In its efforts to solve the problem of water shortage, the Legislature should carefully consider the possibility of solution or partial solution of the problem by means of an economical system of salt water conversion; and

WHEREAS, A great unsolved problem in connection with the future development of California consists of the need to transfer its surplus of water in the northern part of the State to areas of deficiency in the southern part of the State, together with a power requirement for transferring water over the Tehachapi Mountains greatly in excess of the electric power which will be produced by the Oroville Dam as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, California has, in the University of California, an institution which is exceptionally well qualified to study the possibility of utilizing atomic power for salt water conversion and to accomplish the transfer of water from north to south, not only because of the world-renowned atomic scientists on its faculty but also because of its close working relationships with the Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, As follows:

1. The Assembly Interim Committee on Water, created at this session, is directed to create a subcommittee designated as the Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power. The committee, through said subcommittee is authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the desirability of having a full-scale investigation, by a legislative committee, by the University of California, or otherwise, of the possibility that atomic energy can be used to furnish a feasible and economical means for producing the power needed for salt water conversion and to transfer surplus water from the northern part of California to the southern part of California

2. In addition to any money otherwise made available, the sum of five thousand dollars ($5,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly to the Assembly Interim Committee on Water for the expenses of the Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power and its members and for any charges, expenses, or claims it may incur under said resolution to be paid from the said Contingent Fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATION FROM LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL RELATIVE TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

SACRAMENTO, January 18, 1959

Hon. Allen Miller
Assembly Chamber

Joint Rules—No. 6227

DEAR MR. MILLER: We enclose amendments to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, relative to adoption of the Joint Rules, prepared at your request. These amendments would make the following changes:

1. Rule 6 is amended to eliminate language relating to a vote to authorize introduction of bills, which previously applied to introductions after the constitutional recess. Since the recess and restriction on bill introductions thereafter have been eliminated by constitutional amendment, this language is obsolete.

2. Rule 8.5, relating to digests of bills, is changed to conform exactly to the identical rules on that subject adopted by both houses.

3. Rule 10.5 is amended to change the date by which departmental bills must be introduced from the thirteenth calendar day to the thirtieth calendar day.

4. Rule 13 is amended to provide that the 10 organizations or individuals listed by each member shall receive Weekly Histories, the Legislative Digest and the Legislative Index, rather than bills and legislative publications.

5. Rule 17 is amended to eliminate the provision requiring compilation and printing of the History during the constitutional recess.

6. Rule 37.5 is amended to correct the erroneous reference to the Legislative Auditor to show the correct title, Legislative Analyst.

7. Rule 38 is amended to delete the reference to adjournment for the constitutional recess which has been eliminated by constitutional amendment.

8. Rule 39 is amended to delete the word "Hereafter" in the rule requiring sessions to be designated in the year in which held. This is a technical amendment making no substantive change in the rule.

9. A new Rule 13.1 is added to provide for the compilation and publication of the digests required by Rule 8.5 and of a cumulative Legislative Index.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Chief Deputy

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

God, Infinite and Eternal, That part of eternity with which Thou hast entrusted us is a day of giant cities, guided missiles, and atomic energy. We would not turn back to the quiet village life of the past, even if we could. Awaken us to the true nature and full dimension of today's task. As we continue the exploration of outer space keep us steadfast and vigilant in the conquest of inner space, where we find smog, death on our highways, prejudice among men of varied races, clashing sectional loyalties, and economic injustice. Help us, God, to solve these issues so near at hand, thus to become a worthy element of Thine eternity.—AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 20, 1959

To the Assembly of the State of California:

Attached hereto is a special message which I am sending you outlining my views on the need for legislation pertaining to labor-management relations.

Respectfully,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

Attch.

SPECIAL MESSAGE ON LABOR-MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

Earlier this month I addressed this distinguished Legislature on the course I have charted for my administration in the next four years.

I described that course as one of "responsible liberalism."

And I defined liberalism as a philosophy which believes that people—not institutions, or organizations, or corporations—come first.

It is a philosophy that believes the individual has a right to demand justice and fair play free of any unnecessary restraints either by society or by government.

But I think we must emphasize again and again that to be truly responsible, liberalism must be realistic; it must be practical; and it must be responsive to the needs of all our people.

Since the interest of government is the common interest, the truly responsible government must restrain individual conduct only to promote the common good.

On this basis, and where it has been found necessary, democratic society has determined that the common interest requires that government regulate certain activities.

On this basis, we have established uniform standards of conduct for banks, corporations, utilities and many other institutions making up our free enterprise system.

There is another vital area in our free enterprise system which I believe requires additional regulation. I refer, of course, to labor-management relations.

Those relations in a democratic society are carried out to an appreciable extent by employers and their associations on one hand and employees and their unions on the other.

This collective bargaining process is recognized and protected by law. Through it labor and management wield tremendous influence on our economy.

They set patterns of wages, hours and working conditions for organized workers ultimately extending to the vast bulk of employed persons in the Country, whether organized or not.

They also control vast sums of money—running into the billions of dollars—in dues and health, welfare and pension funds.

Most representatives of both sides are responsible, dedicated men. Responsible men, of course, try to set standards for their relationships voluntarily, and certainly we much prefer voluntary action.

The AFL-CIO, through its Ethical Practices Codes, has voluntarily set such standards for the relationship of union officials to union members and parent labor organizations to subordinate bodies.

Virtually all labor organizations include minimum standards of conduct in their constitutions or bylaws.

Many businesses and professions also have adopted their own codes of conduct.

Yet—just as responsible government has found it necessary to establish standards for the conduct of banks, corporations and utilities—I believe there is need to provide standards in labor-management relations.

For example, if labor seeks to maintain its right to bargain collectively, it must accept the corresponding responsibility—as most of it already has—to represent its members democratically and to act only in the public good.

I am acutely aware that labor historically has resisted many unfair efforts by government to interfere in its activities.

But labor also has recognized that it can promote both the welfare of its members and the general welfare if it supports government intervention where it is both responsible and necessary.

Its own decades-long fight for recognition resulted in laws guaranteeing its right to bargain.

On other fronts, it sponsored and vigorously pressed social welfare legislation which has removed the peril of poverty from almost all our population.

Labor's support of unemployment insurance, disability benefits, minimum wages, fair labor standards, health and welfare and pension plans and a multitude of other measures benefited all our people, not simply union members.

To obtain these things meant government intervention; but because it was responsible intervention, labor approved.

In the process, it demonstrated its changing character—from an institution which was primarily economic to one which was sociological and political as well.

Last year, George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, recognized the need for uniform standards of conduct in labor-management relations when he supported the Kennedy-Ives Bill in Congress.

Unfortunately, that bill was killed in the House of Representatives.

Its defeat by extremists on both sides means that we at the state level must show the way to the Federal Government in enacting a law which does establish minimum standards.

We must make certain that opposition by the same groups that killed Kennedy-Ives will not delay action in this vital field. We must lead, not follow.

Our state law must not be punitive or restrictive. It must assist, not obstruct, the collective bargaining process.

It must be fair legislation, impartial legislation, and it must be effective legislation.

I have caused to be drafted a series of amendments to the State Labor Code which I believe meet those requirements. I respectfully submit them to this distinguished Legislature for consideration.

The first of my proposals sets up standard democratic procedures for unions.

Virtually all union constitutions or bylaws already contain these procedures. Some, however, do not, and a few unscrupulous men—inside and outside labor—have used this situation for selfish motives.

Therefore, I recommend that the State Labor Code be amended to require that union constitutions or bylaws provide that local units of labor organizations hold a minimum of 10 regular meetings each year, that adequate notice of both regular meetings and meetings held to nominate and elect officers be given, and that minutes of meetings be kept and be made available to members.

This amendment also should require that union constitutions or bylaws provide that no business may be transacted at a meeting of a local unit unless a reasonable quorum is present, that members be given reasonable opportunity to nominate candidates for office or other representatives, that they be given reasonable opportunity to vote in elections, that all elections be by secret ballot, and that they be held at least once every three years. Provisions also should be made for recall of officers for misconduct.

I further recommend that the financial transactions of employee and employer representatives be regulated.

Unions should be required to file with the Department of Industrial Relations copies of their constitutions, bylaws or governing rules and practices.

The acceptance of money or anything else of value by any official representative or employee of a union from an employer or his representative with the understanding it will influence the official actions of such union official, representative or employee should be prohibited. Violation would be a misdemeanor.

We also must guard against the possibility that a conflict of interest in a labor union official's business holdings might lead to collusive labor contracts leading to low wages and poor working conditions for the union's members.

Therefore, I recommend that union officials and employees, other than clerical employees, be required to file reports of any stock, bond or other interest they hold in a company with which the union negotiates, in any company which does a substantial part of its business with a company with which the union negotiates or in any company which does business with the union itself. We should also require that they report any payment received directly or indirectly from any employer or any person who acts as an expert, adviser or consultant to an employer.

It is not the intent of these proposals to reveal the strength or weakness of a union so that it would be at a disadvantage in collective bargaining. Similarly it is not the intent that a union official's private financial affairs be laid bare to the public when we do not require that sort of disclosre from any other citizen. It is, however, the intent that union members, for whom the union exists, be permitted to know the financial structure of their organization and be assured that the conduct of their officers in financial affairs touching the union is above reproach.

For that reason, the legislation I propose requires that the reports be confidential, except that they must be made available for inspection by union members upon request and may be used by the department for compilation of statistical data without disclosing the names of the persons or organizations involved.

To assure standards for achieving the same purpose on the management side of the bargaining table, I recommend legislation which would prohibit an employer, or any person who acts as a labor relations expert or representative of an employer from giving any money or other thing of value to a representative of a labor organization with intent to influence his official actions or decisions. Violation of this provision would be a misdemeanor.

Any employer, corporation or association which paid money or any other thing of value for the purpose of influencing employees or their representatives in the collective bargaining process or in their right to organize, or for the purpose of investigating a labor organization, its members or representatives, would be required to file annual reports of such expenditures.

I propose also that any organization, corporation or consultant receiving such money or thing of value be required to file similar annual reports.

These reports also would be confidential, with the exceptions already noted in connection with the reports of labor organizations and their officials.

I propose also that the terms under which a parent labor organization imposes a so-called trusteeship on a subordinate body be made subject to certain safeguards.

Trusteeship often is a legitimate and necessary device for correcting abuses, eliminating subversive influences, or restoring democracy in a subordinate organization.

But the device sometimes is abused. It has been used in a few instances to restrict rather than to promote democratic procedures.

I propose that a report be required of the parent labor organization, to be filed with the department, setting forth the reasons for imposing the trusteeship.

The legislation I propose would require that during the period of trusteeship it would be unlawful to count the votes of delegates from the subordinate body in any convention or election of officers unless the delegates were chosen by a secret ballot vote among all the members of the subordinate body in good standing.

It also would be unlawful for the parent labor organization to commingle the funds or assets of the subordinate body with its own or to use the subordinate body's funds or assets for any purpose other than expenses of the trusteeship, expenses for conducting the affairs of the subordinate body, or the normal per capita tax and assessments payable by subordinate bodies not in trusteeship.

The trusteeship could be imposed only in accordance with the constitution or bylaws of the parent labor organization. It could not be imposed for any longer than one year, except for good cause shown to the Department of Industrial Relations.

The legislation gives any union member, labor organization or employer the right to seek enforcement of these uniform standards by submitting a petition to the department.

In addition, any person aggrieved by a decision or order of the Department of Industrial Relations relating to this portion of the act would expressly be assured the right to petition the courts for relief.

The department itself would be permitted to promulgate rules and regulations for the implementation of these procedures and would be empowered to take all proceedings necessary for the enforcement of its decisions and orders.

Finally, to obviate the necessity for duplicate and overlapping reports, the legislation provides that any of its provisions subsequently covered by federal law shall become inoperative.

I turn now to an area in which California law has long been deficient. Correcting this deficiency, in my opinion, would assist materially in improving the collective bargaining process and in assuring labor-management peace.

California has no machinery whereby employees working in intrastate commerce may select or reject a union as their collective bargaining representative. The result has been detrimental to the best interests of the employees, of organized labor, of the employers and of the public itself.

I recommend that you approve legislation setting up such machinery.

It would provide that whenever one or more unions claim to represent a majority of employees in a given unit, the labor organization or organizations involved would be permitted to file a petition for a representation election with the Department of Industrial Relations.

The department would be empowered to conduct hearings and to hold self-determination elections among the employees involved to determine what should be an appropriate unit. It also would be empowered to hold secret-ballot elections among employees in the designated unit to determine whether or not they wished to be represented by a union and which union they wanted as their collective bargaining agent. It would certify the union receiving a majority of the votes cast as the collective bargaining representative.

The legislation I propose would provide that following such certification a second election in the designated unit could not be held for at least a year, or until the expiration of a collective bargaining agreement, provided that in any event the restriction not run beyond two years.

This legislation does two things.

It closes the gap in our intrastate collective bargaining machinery, and it corrects what I think is a fundamental error in our present Jurisdictional Strike Act.

That act defines a jurisdictional strike as being, among other things, any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of a controversy between two or more unions over which of them has or should have the exclusive right to bargain with an employer on behalf of his employees.

I respectfully submit that this is a representation, not a jurisdictional, dispute. The machinery I have recommended would provide for the resolution of such a dispute, whereas present law merely provides that an injunction to halt economic action may be sought.

A second section of this legislation would provide machinery for the resolution of a true jurisdictional strike, which is correctly defined in the present Jurisdictional Strike Act as a concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of a controversy between two or more unions as to which of them has or should have the exclusive right to have its members perform work for the employer.

This section would provide that any employer whose employees become involved in a jurisdictional strike, or any of his employees, or any labor organization involved, may petition the Department of Industrial Relations to determine whether a true jurisdictional strike exists.

Excluded from the definition of a labor organization would be any organization, agency, committee or group which is, in whole or in part, financed, interfered with, assisted financially, dominated or controlled by any employer.

This would eliminate the possibility that an unscrupulous employer whose employees were on strike for other than jurisdictional reasons might encourage or set up a dummy or company union and then petition the courts for an injunction halting the strike on the grounds it was jurisdictional.

Upon the filing of a petition the department would be required to investigate the dispute summarily and within 48 hours either dismiss the petition or issue notice that a hearing would be held to determine whether a true jurisdictional strike exists.

Upon issuance of the notice, any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of an employer's operation or business arising out of the controversy would be required to cease and could not be resumed while the department maintains jurisdiction over the case.

Once the department determined that a true jurisdictional strike exists, the unions involved would have three choices.

They could submit the dispute for a final and binding decision to a tribunal of their affiliated organizations, or they could submit it to arbitration. In both cases, if the department found any concerted refusal to perform work or any other concerted interruption of any employer's operation or business arising out of the controversy, it could order such action to cease and not be resumed.

The third choice would permit the unions by mutual consent to submit the dispute to a final and binding decision by the Department of Industrial Relations. In making its decision, the department would be required to consider rules and working practices in the organizations and industries involved and to make a decision which would be in the public interest.

These choices retain the element of voluntarism. They encourage unions to resolve jurisdictional strikes through their own machinery. And they permit unions to have the State resolve those disputes if they wish.

In any event, harassment of an employer or action detrimental to the public good by the unions involved is prohibited in a true jurisdictional strike.

The department would be empowered to take necessary action to enforce its decisions and orders, and any aggrieved person would have the right of judicial review.

Since this legislation prohibits economic action arising out of a true jurisdictional strike, I recommend that you repeal the present injunctive provisions of the Jurisdictional Strike Act.

Those provisions have not served their purpose. Indeed, they have led to bitterness and strife. They have sometimes been used to throw the power of the courts behind one of the parties in the collective bargaining process.

The legislation I propose would keep government's hand to a minimum in collective bargaining. But it would prohibit economic action involving the public or an employer in a dispute between two unions and at the same time help solve such disputes, something present law fails to do.

In my opinion, the legislation I have outlined here is reasonable.

I am aware that we already have a vast bulwark of criminal laws against fraud, embezzlement, assault and other abuses.

But just as we have found it necessary to enact laws applying to other specific fields, I believe we must today apply specific laws to labor-management relations.

I am certain that the proposals made here are no more—but certainly no less—than was demanded by the people and is required by the circumstances existing in this field.

I believe they meet the tests of being fair and impartial, of being effective, of being neither punitive nor restrictive, and of assisting, not obstructing, the collective bargaining process.

I would hope and expect that reasonable men on both sides of the bargaining table, men of every political persuasion could agree on their merit and their necessity.

It is with confidence, therefore, in the judgment of all parties concerned that I recommend that this Legislature enact these proposals into law.

COMMUNICATION FROM LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL RELATIVE TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

SACRAMENTO, January 18, 1959

Hon. Allen Miller
Assembly Chamber

Joint Rules—No. 6227

DEAR MR. MILLER: We enclose amendments to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6, relative to adoption of the Joint Rules, prepared at your request. These amendments would make the following changes:

1. Rule 6 is amended to eliminate language relating to a vote to authorize introduction of bills, which previously applied to introductions after the constitutional recess. Since the recess and restriction on bill introductions thereafter have been eliminated by constitutional amendment, this language is obsolete

2. Rule 8.5, relating to digests of bills, is changed to conform exactly to the identical rules on that subject adopted by both houses.

3. Rule 10.5 is amended to change the date by which departmental bills must be introduced from the thirteenth calendar day to the thirtieth calendar day.

4. Rule 13 is amended to provide that the 10 organizations or individuals listed by each member shall receive Weekly Histories, the Legislative Digest and the Legislative Index, rather than bills and legislative publications.

5. Rule 17 is amended to eliminate the provision requiring compilation and printing of the History during the constitutional recess.

6. Rule 37.5 is amended to correct the erroneous reference to the Legislative Auditor to show the correct title, Legislative Analyst.

7. Rule 38 is amended to delete the reference to adjournment for the constitutional recess which has been eliminated by constitutional amendment.

8. Rule 39 is amended to delete the word "Hereafter" in the rule requiring sessions to be designated in the year in which held. This is a technical amendment making no substantive change in the rule.

9. A new Rule 13.1 is added to provide for the compilation and publication of the digests required by Rule 8.5 and of a cumulative Legislative Index.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Chief Deputy

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6, SHOWING PROPOSED AMENDMENTS

Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 6—Relative to the adoption of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly.

Resolved by the Senate of the State of California, the Assembly thereof concurring, That the following Rules be adopted as the Joint Rules for the 1959 Regular Session:

JOINT RULES OF THE SENATE AND ASSEMBLY

COMMITTEES AND COMMITTEE MEETINGS

Standing Committees

1. Each house shall appoint such standing committees as the business of the house may require, the committees, the number of members and the manner of selection to be determined by the Rules of each house.

Joint Committees

2. The Rules Committee of each house shall constitute the Joint Standing Committee on Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly.

Joint Meeting of Committees

3. Whenever any bill has been referred by the Senate to one of its committees, and the same or a like bill has been referred by the Assembly to one of its committees, the chairmen of the respective committees, when in their judgment the interests of legislation or the expedition of business will be better served thereby, shall arrange for a joint meeting of their committees for the consideration of such bill.

Effect of Adoption of Joint Rules

3.5. The adoption of the Joint Rules for any budget session or extraordinary session shall not be construed as modifying or rescinding the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for any previous session, nor as affecting in any way the status or powers of the interim committees created by those Rules.

BILLS AND RESOLUTIONS

Definition of Word Bill

4. Whenever the word "bill" is used in these Rules, it shall include constitutional amendments, concurrent and joint resolutions.

Concurrent and Joint Resolutions

5. Concurrent resolutions relate to matters to be treated by both houses of the Legislature.

Joint resolutions are those which relate to matters connected with the Federal Government.

Resolutions Treated as Bills

6. Constitutional amendments, concurrent and joint resolutions shall be treated in all respects as bills; except that they shall be given only one formal reading in each house and that they shall not be deemed bills within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall not be referred to the Committee on Introduction of Bills, ~~and shall not require a vote to authorize their introduction,~~ and except as provided in Rule 24. As in the case of bills, they shall be engrossed in the house in which they originate before being voted upon

PREPARATION AND INTRODUCTION OF BILLS

Title of Bill

7. The title of every bill introduced shall convey an accurate idea of the contents of the bill and shall be indicative of the scope of the act and the object to be accomplished. In amending a code section, the mere reference to the section by number shall not be deemed sufficient.

Division of Bill Into Sections

8. A bill amending more than one section of an existing law shall contain a separate section for each section amended.

Bills which are not amendatory of existing laws shall be divided into short sections, where this can be done without destroying the sense of any particular section, to the end that future amendments may be made without the necessity of setting forth and repeating sections of unnecessary length.

Digest of Bills Introduced

~~8.5. No bill shall be introduced in either house, unless it is accompanied by a digest showing the changes in the existing law which are proposed by the bill. If any bill is presented to either the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly for introduction and is not accompanied by a digest prepared by the Legislative Counsel the Secretary of the Senate or the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall deliver the bill to the Legislative Counsel after its introduction. The Legislative Counsel shall review the digest submitted with the bill, modify it where necessary in his opinion and return both to the officer from whom he received them, for printing.~~

~~The digest of each bill shall be printed in the Journal of the house in which it was introduced immediately following the title of the bill. The digests shall also be printed in looseleaf form (one digest to the page), and distributed in the same manner as other legislative publications.~~

~~The provisions of this rule shall be effective only if a constitutional amendment is adopted providing for the abolishment of the bifurcated session and the establishment of a continuous session.~~

8.5 No bill shall be introduced unless it is contained in a cover attached by the Legislative Counsel and unless it is accompanied by a digest, prepared and attached to the bill by the Legislative Counsel, showing the changes in the existing law which are proposed by the bill. If any bill is presented to the Secretary of the Senate or Chief Clerk of the Assembly for introduction which does not comply with the foregoing requirements of this rule the Secretary or Chief Clerk shall return it to the member who presented it.

The digest shall be printed on the bill as introduced in distinctive type upon the lower part of the first page thereof.

In any amendment to a bill which sets out for the first time a section being amended, any new matter to be added and any matter to be omitted shall be indicated by the author and shall be printed in the same manner as though the section as amended were a part of the original bill and was being printed for the first time.

Introduction of Departmental Bills

10.5. No departmental bill shall be introduced at the request of or on behalf of any state officer or agency after the ~~thirteenth~~ thirtieth calendar day of any general session, nor shall any departmental bill be introduced in both houses of the Legislature at any session.

The presiding officer shall first direct that the urgency section be read and put to a vote. If two-thirds of the members elected to the house vote in the affirmative the presiding officer shall then direct that the question of whether the house shall concur in the amendment or amendments shall be put to a vote. If two-thirds of all the members elected to the house vote in the affirmative, concurrence in the amendments shall be effective.

If the affirmative vote on either of such questions is less than two-thirds of all the members elected to such house, the effect is a refusal to concur in the amendment or amendments, and the procedure thereupon shall be as provided in Joint Rule No. 28.

When Senate or Assembly Refuse to Concur

28. If the Senate or the Assembly refuse to concur in the amendments, the Committee on Rules (if it be a Senate bill) or the Speaker of the Assembly (if it be an Assembly bill) shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference and the Secretary or the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the other house of the action taken and request the appointment of a like committee. Two of the members comprising such committee from each house shall be selected from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from each house of such committee shall be selected from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote. The first Senator named on the conference committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the Senate, and the first Assemblyman named on such committee shall act as chairman of the committee from the Assembly and the chairman thus selected shall arrange the time and place of all meetings and prepare or direct the preparation of reports. The committee on conference shall report to both the Senate and the Assembly.

Report of Committee on Conference

29 The report of the committee on conference shall not be subject to amendment, and if either house refuse to adopt such report the conferees may be discharged and other conferees appointed; provided, however, that no more than three different conference committees shall be appointed on any one bill.

It shall require the affirmative vote of not less than two of the Senate Members and two of the Assembly Members constituting the committee to agree upon a report. No member who has served on a committee on conference shall be appointed a member of another committee on conference on the same bill.

The report of a conference committee shall be in writing, and a copy of any amendments proposed in the report shall be placed on the desk of each member of the house before it is acted upon by the house.

When Conference Committee Report Is in Order

30. The presentation of the report of a committee on conference shall always be in order, except when a question of order or a motion to adjourn is pending, or during roll call, and, when received, the question of proceeding to the consideration of the report, if raised, shall be immediately passed upon, and shall be determined without debate.

Conference Committee Reports on Urgency Measures

30.5. When the report of a committee on conference recommends the amendment of a bill by the addition of a section providing that the act shall take effect immediately as an urgency measure, the procedure and the vote thereon shall be as follows:

The presiding officer shall first direct that the urgency section be read and put to a vote. If two-thirds of the members elected to the house vote in the affirmative the presiding officer shall then direct that the question of whether the house shall adopt the report of the committee on conference shall be put to a vote. If two-thirds of all the members elected to the house vote in the affirmative, the adoption of the report and the amendments proposed thereby shall be effective.

If the affirmative vote on either of such questions is less than two-thirds of all the members elected to such house, the effect is a refusal to adopt the report of the committee on conference.

In the exercise of the power granted by this rule, each committee may appoint a secretary and adopt and amend such rules governing its procedure (including the fixing of its own quorum and the number of votes necessary to take action on any matter) as may appear necessary and proper to carry out the powers granted and duties imposed under this rule. It may employ such clerical, legal and technical assistants as may appear necessary.

Each such committee is authorized and empowered to summon and subpena witnesses, require the production of papers, books, accounts, reports, documents, records and papers of every kind and description, to issue subpenas and to take all necessary means to compel the attendance of witnesses and to procure testimony, oral and documentary.

Each member of such committees is authorized and empowered to administer oaths, and all of the provisions of Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 2, Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to the attendance and examination of witnesses before the Legislature and the committees thereof, shall apply to such committees.

The Sergeant at Arms of the Senate or Assembly, or such other person as may be designated by the chairman of the committee, shall serve any and all subpenas, orders and other process that may be issued by the committee, when directed to do so by the chairman or by a majority of the membership of the committee.

Every department, commission, board, agency, officer and employee of the State Government, including the Legislative Counsel and the Attorney General and their subordinates, and of every political subdivision, county, city, or public district of or in this State, shall give and furnish to these committees and to their subcommittees upon request such information, records and documents as the committees deem necessary or proper for the achievement of the purposes for which each such committee was created.

Each such committee may meet at any time during the period in which it is authorized to act, even though the Legislature is in session, either, at the State Capitol or at any other place in the State of California, in public or executive session, and do any and all things necessary or convenient to enable it to exercise the powers and perform the duties herein granted to it or accomplish the objects and purposes of the resolution creating it. Each such committee may expend such money as may be made available to it for such purpose but no committee shall incur any indebtedness unless money shall have been first made available therefor.

Members shall not be entitled to any salary because of membership on any such committee but shall be allowed mileage at the rate of fifteen cents ($0.15) per mile each way for travel within the State and ten cents ($0.10) per mile each way for travel outside the borders of the State incurred in connection with their services upon the committee and actual and necessary expenses for living accommodations and meals incurred in connection with their services upon the committee, or in lieu of such expenses for accommodations and meals, an allowance of twenty dollars ($20) per day. No expenses for accommodations or meals or any allowance in lieu thereof shall be allowed for a day when the member is entitled to reimbursement for expenses under Joint Rule No. 35. The chairman of each committee shall audit and approve the expense claims of the members of the committee and shall certify the amount approved to the Controller, and the Controller shall draw his warrants upon the certification of the chairman.

The chairman of any such committee may appoint subcommittees and chairman thereof for the purpose of more expeditiously handling and considering matters referred to it, and such subcommittees and the chairman thereof shall have all the powers and authority herein conferred upon the committee and its chairman. The chairman of such subcommittee shall audit the expense claims of the members of such subcommittees and other claims and the expenses incurred by it and shall certify the amount thereof to the chairman of the committee who shall, if he approves the same, certify the amount thereof to the Controller, and the Controller shall draw his warrant therefor upon such certification, and the Treasurer shall pay the same. Whenever such committee or any subcommittee thereof is authorized to leave the State of California in the performance of its duties, then such committee or subcommittee shall, while out of the State, have the same authority as if it were acting and functioning within the State, and the members thereof shall be entitled to receive the same expense allowances as if the committee were functioning within the State.

Notwithstanding any provision of this rule, if the standing rules of either house require that expense claims of members of committees be audited or approved, after approval of the committee chairman, by another agency of either house, the Controller shall draw his warrants only upon the certification of such other agency.

Except salary claims of employees clearly subject to federal withheld tax and the requirement as to loyalty oaths, claims presented for services or pursuant to contract shall refer to the agreement, the terms of which shall be made available to the Controller.

Expenses of Interim Committee Employees

36.1. Unless otherwise provided by respective house or committee rule or resolution, employees of legislative committees shall, when entitled to traveling expenses, be entitled to allowances in lieu of actual expenses for hotel accommodations, breakfast, lunch, and dinner, at the rates fixed by the Board of Control from time to time in limitation of reimbursement of expenses of state employees generally; provided, that if an allowance for hotel accommodations, breakfast, lunch and dinner is made by a committee at a rate in excess of those fixed by the Board of Control the chairman of the committee shall notify the Controller of that fact in writing.

Appointment of Committees

36.5. The provisions of this rule shall apply whenever a joint interim committee is created by a statute or resolution which either provides that appointments be made and vacancies be filled in the manner provided for in the Joint Rules, or which makes no provision for the appointment of members or the filling of vacancies.

The Senate members of the committee shall be appointed by the Senate Committee on Rules; the Assembly members of the committee shall be appointed by the Speaker; and vacancies occurring in the membership of the committee shall be filled by the respective appointing powers. resolution of the committee defining the powers and duties of the subcommittee. Such powers may be withdrawn or terminated at any time by the committee.

The Legislative Budget Committee may render services to any investigating committee of the Legislature pursuant to contract between the Legislative Budget Committee and the committee for which the services are to be performed. The contract may provide for payment to the Legislative Budget Committee of the cost of such services from the funds appropriated to the contracting investigating committee. All legislative investigating committees are authorized to enter such contracts with the Legislative Budget Committee. Money received by the Legislative Budget Committee pursuant to any such agreement shall be in augmentation of the current appropriation for the support of the Legislative Budget Committee.

The provisions of Joint Rule 36 above shall apply to the Legislative Budget Committee, and it shall have all the authority provided in such rule or in Article IV, Section 37, of the Constitution.

The committee may meet either during sessions of the Legislature, any recess thereof, or after final adjournment, and may meet or conduct business at any place within the State of California.

"Lord, make me an instrument of Thy peace.
Where there is hatred, let me sow love.
Where there is injury, pardon.
Where there is doubt, faith.
Where there is despair, hope.
Where there is darkness, light.
Where there is sadness, joy.
O Divine Master, grant that I may not so much seek
To be consoled, as to console;
To be understood, as to understand;
To be loved, as to love;
For it is in giving, that we receive.
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned.
It is in dying, that we are born to eternal life."—AMEN.

Relative to directing the Assembly Standing Committee on Water to create a Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power

WHEREAS, It is the expressed policy of the United States Government to encourage the peacetime use of atomic power, thus creating a probability that substantial federal assistance might be made available to the State of California in developing a workable project for the application of such power in this State; and

WHEREAS, In its efforts to solve the problem of water shortage, the Legislature should carefully consider the possibility of solution or partial solution of the problem by means of an economical system of salt water conversion; and

WHEREAS, A great unsolved problem in connection with the future development of California consists of the need to transfer its surplus of water in the northern part of the State to areas of deficiency in the southern part of the State, together with a power requirement for transferring water over the Tehachapi Mountains greatly in excess of the electric power which will be produced by the Oroville Dam as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, California has, in the University of California, an institution which is exceptionally well qualified to study the possibility of utilizing atomic power for salt water conversion and to accomplish the transfer of water from north to south, not only because of the world-renowned atomic scientists on its faculty but also because of its close working relationships with the Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, As follows:

1. The Assembly Standing Committee on Water, created at this session, is directed to create a subcommittee designated as the Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power. The committee, through said subcommittee is authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the desirability of having a full-scale investigation, by a legislative committee, by the University of California, or otherwise, of the possibility that atomic energy can be used to furnish a feasible and economical means for producing the power needed for salt water conversion and to transfer surplus water from the northern part of California to the southern part of California.

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, January 19, 1959

Hon. Sheridan N. Hegland
Assembly Chamber

Federal Crop Allotments—No. 5713

DEAR MR. HEGLAND: You have requested this office to explore the possibility of state legislation which would require the crop allotment documents of the Federal Government to be open for public inspection.

It is our opinion that state legislation on this subject would not be enforceable because of the general principle that the departments of the Federal Government are not subject to regulation by the states (Mayo v. United States, 319 U. S. 441, 87 L. ed. 1504; Arizona v. California, 283 U. S. 423, 75 L. ed. 1154; Kauffman v. Kauffman, 93 Cal. App. 2d 808).

Under Request No. 6338, we have prepared a draft of a joint resolution requesting the Secretary of Agriculture to permit inspection of crop allotment records in this State. In this connection, Section 1362, Title 7, USCA, provides that all acreage allotments shall, in accordance with regulations of the secretary, be made and kept fully available for public inspection in a county or other local administrative area.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDSEL W. HAWS, Deputy Legislative Counsel

WATER MESSAGE BY GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN TO LEGISLATURE

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Members of the Legislature:

May I first of all thank you for your courtesy in arranging this joint session of the Legislature. I have asked to come here today, under these extraordinary circumstances, so that we can meet together as the single voice of all the people of California. I have come to present a water program which I believe is rational, realistic, and responsive to the needs of all the people of California.

Our State is magnificently varied in its resources, its scenery, its industry, and its people. Providence, as I said in my Inaugural Message, seems intent on making us a great people in a great State.

Yet, in spite of our great endowment, it has become the fashion in recent years to dwell on our water problems as being awesome and impossibly complicated. We have brooded over the expense and become lost in a forest of fear. In prior sessions of the Legislature, the result has been delay and frustration.

This stalemate must come to an end. If we take courage and put our fears behind us, we can replace narrow, sectional differences with confident, pioneering leadership. This the people of California demand and deserve.

It is not the lack of water which creates the problem we meet to discuss. Indeed, the average runoff exceeds our requirements by a safe margin.

The core of our problem is distribution. We do not have enough water when and where we need it. We have too much water when and where we do not need it Thus, it is obvious that we must build dams to capture water which would otherwise escape, and we must build canals and aqueducts to transport the water we have saved to the communities where it is needed.

To accomplish these vital tasks, our State has a great natural advantage. The physical setting of the delta of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Rivers is a gift from nature that we have never fully appreciated.

Above the delta, we have both a supply of water and the sites to store it. Within the delta, we have the natural point of convergence. When we wish to export water to an area of need lying to the south, the delta can serve as the pool, or, if you please, as the tap from which the water can flow.

Every year there are 3 million acre-feet of water in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta which are not being used. At present, the water goes wasting out to sea through the Golden Gate. We must build the facilities for offstream storage and move this water to areas where it is urgently needed. Unless we save this surplus water, we waste a precious natural resource and fail the people of our State.

We should remember that we store water, not alone for future use, but also to avoid flood damage. To protect human life and valuable property, we must arrest our rivers in their headlong rush to the sea Because the Federal Government contributes funds for flood control, we must impress the Congress with our urgent needs. We will also have to provide state funds to insure that flood control projects will be available for multipurpose use—not simply for flood control.

From our water development program, we should also create new sources of electrical energy. An ample supply of low-cost power is absolutely essential to our industrial future and to the needs of all our people The State, too, will need an enormous amount of power to operate the pumps which are required to carry the water from areas of surplus to areas of need.

Fortunately, the extra cost of adding power facilities to our water projects is small in relation to the cost of the projects and small in relation to the resulting benefits. In addition, revenues from the sale of power enable us to furnish water and other benefits to deserving areas of our economy which cannot pay the total cost of water. As an example, I cite the Central Valley Project, where the production of power has benefited our whole economy.

In planning our water projects, we must give a high priority to recreation and to the development of our fish and wildlife resources As our population grows and our leisure time increases, recreation requires added recognition as a beneficial use of water. Projects developed for recreational purposes provide our people with wholesome diversion and a happier and fuller life. At the same time, they stimulate the growth of portions of our State where recreation is the primary industry.

Against the background of these general observations, I propose the following program for water development:

First: I propose that this session of the Legislature appropriate 38 million dollars from the Investment Fund to start on a construction program. It is time to start moving dirt and stop throwing mud. This is the beginning of a positive program for water development In considering this 38-million-dollar appropriation and subsequent expenses, I want to emphasize that the major cost of water development is eventually repaid from project revenues.

Second: I propose that we commit the entire Investment Fund to water development. This fund is unique in that it was built up through the depletion of a great natural resource, our offshore oil. I am determined that it shall be dedicated to the development of another precious resource, our water.

Third: I propose that in 1960 we authorize a general obligation bond issue in the neighborhood of 500 million dollars to complete the program outlined in this message. To all of you, I pledge that I will fight to obtain adequate financing to complete the great aqueduct south. And to all of you, I pledge that I will fight to obtain adequate financing to provide the other facilities throughout the State necessary to meet the needs of our people.

Fourth: We must encourage the Federal Government to finance water projects designed for navigation, flood control, and irrigation. Considering the condition of our budget, it is plain nonsense to resist federal aid. I am glad to see that the old hostility to federal funds is now mellowing. We should use federal aid wherever we can, but we must also remember that we have our own responsibilities in the development of our water resources.

Fifth: We should undertake the development of our water resources on a comprehensive statewide basis. Local agencies, of course, must be encouraged to move ahead with those projects which have a primarily local impact. Yet, I am convinced that there must be an integrated statewide development of the massive works which affect many communities. Only thus can we prevent duplication and waste. Only thus can we avoid Balkanizing our State into competing water provinces.

Sixth: Many of the principles now applicable to the operation of utilities should guide us in the development of our state water resources. Thus, we should recognize our obligation to insure that water will be available to meet the proper demands of every part of the State. As in the case of a utility, we should be able to enlarge our facilities to bring more water into the delta pool and recover the cost from the system as a whole. Just as the first man to get a telephone does not enjoy a lower rate, so those who are first served by state water projects should not have a privileged status.

As long as the Legislature guides our water development, we can be certain that the system will be completed and administered in fairness and equity. Those who would doubt this are questioning, not the water program, but rather the fundamental basis of democratic government.

In explaining this program, I have made no attempt to answer every conceivable question or satisfy all extremists. In addition, I have put to one side the question of a constitutional amendment. After long thought, I have concluded that an amendment is not necessary to an affirmative water program. Beyond that, I have found that there is no general agreement on what the contents of such an amendment should be. I am not hostile to an amendment and I am not closing the door on one. But I am convinced that our positive program of water development should not be delayed by further frustrating debate over the terms of a constitutional amendment.

Now let us look at the main points of the 38 million dollar construction program which I propose for this year.

The great aqueduct system from the delta to the south is a key to pressing problems of water supply. By carrying water to Southern California the aqueduct will supply the area where the human need is the greatest. On the way southward, the aqueduct system will also serve areas of critical water shortage.

I urge you to appropriate 10.7 million dollars to enable us to start at both ends of this great aqueduct system. 1.3 million dollars would be for aqueduct rights-of-way from the delta to the San Luis Reservoir site. 3.8 million dollars would be for the rights-of-way from San Luis to southern Kern County. And 3 3 million dollars would be for rights-of-way for the aqueduct system into Southern California.

The remaining 2.3 million dollars would be used to complete the acquisition of the San Luis Reservoir site. This will provide an important portion of the State's share of the joint San Luis Project. I am determined that the dam at San Luis shall be constructed to its full height so that we can store 2.1 million acre-feet in the resorvoir.

In the past few days bills have been introduced by Senators Engle and Kuchel and Congressmen Sisk and Johnson to authorize federal participation in the San Luis Project. I will do everything in my power to insure the passage of these bills I see in them a reasonable compromise of the intrastate conflicts which have been a roadblock to this vital project. We must not allow disputes within the California family to delay us further.

There is also a vital need for a South Bay Aqueduct to bring water from the delta to Alameda and Contra Costa Counties and portions of northern Santa Clara County. I am asking you to appropriate 7.9 million dollars for rights-of-way and for initial construction of this facility.

The units proposed for immediate construction will serve the Livermore Valley and the Niles Cone area where fresh water is urgently needed to prevent sea water encroachment into the underground basin. When Santa Clara representatives have completed their studies, the South Bay Aqueduct can be extended to northern Santa Clara County.

The Department of Water Resources has recommended that water service to southern Santa Clara, San Benito, and Santa Cruz Counties should be provided by a Pacheco Pass route. I will urge the Bureau of Reclamation to accelerate their studies as to the feasibility of serving these areas as part of the Federal Central Valley Project.

The use of the delta as a collecting pool will require the construction of works to guard against sea water encroachment in the westerly portion of the delta. We are well aware of the hydraulic problems of the delta and the complex questions regarding water rights in that area. The Department of Water Resources has been studying this matter for a long time and, remarkably enough, there appears to be a relatively inexpensive physical solution. By April 1st, when these studies will be completed, I expect to ask an appropriation to begin the initial work for bringing fresh water to the threatened delta areas and thus also to permit increased diversions from the delta.

Let us now turn to consider facilities above the delta.

There are, of course, also areas in need of water which cannot be served from the delta. For example, Sierra Valley in Plumas and Sierra Counties is critically short of water necessary to support its agricultural economy. To provide service for this area, I will ask for 2.4 million dollars for rights-of-way and construction of upstream features of the Feather River unit. The principal one of these would be Frenchman Reservoir.

I will also ask for the appropriation of 11.9 million dollars for construction of the combination railroad and highway bridge over the west branch of the Feather River. The bridge will enable us to use the new high speed highway which is being completed this year.

A board of consulting engineers is conducting a study to determine whether construction on the Feather River should be started at Bidwell Bar instead of Oroville. On this technical question, I intend to accept the judgment of the Department of Water Resources after it has had the benefit of the study which will be completed on February 1st. I will then ask for funds to carry forward this major work on the Feather River which is vitally necessary for flood control.

Let me now turn to consider additional flood control works. I will ask for 7.3 million dollars as the State's share of the Black Butte Project presently under construction on Stony Creek in Tehama County. I will also ask for 6.4 million dollars for the State's share of the New Hogan Reservoir on the Calaveras River. Since the 1958 Legislature appropriated 10 million dollars of this amount, only 3.7 million dollars in new money is involved.

These are multipurpose projects, which are urgently needed for flood control, but are not immediately required for water conservation in their local areas. The flood control benefits will be paid for by the United States. If the State will assure repayment to the United States for the conservation features, we can move forward with these construction projects. Since the State's entire financial obligation will be eventually repaid from the sale of water made available by these projects, I urge their approval now.

We must also bend our efforts to develop an economical means of obtaining fresh water from the ocean. Therefore, I request an appropriation of 1.6 million dollars for use in co-operation with the United States in the construction of a sea water conversion plant. This plant, which will probably be located in Southern California, will include a nuclear reactor as a source of energy.

Turning to federal matters, I intend to urge the Congress of the United States to take the following action:

Authorize construction of the Auburn, Buchanan and Hidden River dams and the Folsom Canals;

Appropriate approximately 60 million dollars for flood control construction and 70 million dollars for reclamation in the State next year; and

Take the necessary steps to insure that water can be delivered in the Sacramento Valley canals area.

Further, I will urge the Federal Government to construct the power features of the Trinity Division and distribute the power in accordance with existing federal law. The State itself will purchase a large volume of Trinity power to operate the pumps for its water projects. I am firmly opposed to the suggested partnership arrangement. Such an arrangement would deny to the State the preference that public agencies are now granted by federal law.

I also intend to press for the enactment by Congress of the Engle-Kuchel Bill which would permit low-cost federal loans for irrigation features of projects which are primarily municipal and industrial in character.

In this broad statement I have emphasized the first and immediate steps that we must take. But in our long-range plans for water development, we must and we will give thought to the future facilities that will undoubtedly be needed as our State grows. These will include additional local projects, expansion of the aqueduct systems, new works in the delta, master drains for the Central Valley, and, at the proper time, importation of water from the Eel River system and other streams of the North Coastal area.

By all these recommendations, I have sought to bring the forward force of responsible liberalism to the specific problem of water. As I conclude, I would emphasize that our problem lies, not so much in the control and use of our rivers, as in ourselves. Let us resolve to prove that we are one State, one people, and that we can produce one good water program. Let us grow with the strength of unity, as we begin to fulfill our destiny of greatness.

PRAYER

O God, Creator of the Natural World, Thou who dost send the rain on the just and on the unjust, give us the wisdom to use justly the bounties which come from Thy hand. Water and minerals, mountains and sunlight, coastline and favorable climate; these are among Thy gifts to the people of our State. May all the people come to share these blessings because sincere legislators, with varying convictions, help to make it possible Let glistening snowy peaks, the rumble of cascades, the roar of Yosemite, and the murmur of trickling mountain streams all remind us again that water is essential to life. Ours is the task of distribution and use; Thine is the wisdom to do it, O God. Guide us in this difficult matter, as in all other vital issues, we humbly pray, through Jesus Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

Give us the courage to place taxes on the luxuries and nonessentials of life. Make the strong and thrifty more willing to carry the load of the weak and indolent. Let material wealth be translated into human uplift, public welfare, and spiritual blessing; and once a budget has been accepted, give us the character to live within it. We pray in the name of the Carpenter of Nazareth.—AMEN.

BUDGET MESSAGE BY GOVERNOR EDMUND G. BROWN

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California.

The budget is a stern test of our principles. It reveals our values and spotlights our goals. It is, indeed, a ledger of our character, our choices, and our courage.

I welcome the challenge of the budget This is a meaningful opportunity to show that liberal leadership can be also responsible leadership. I have prepared a fair and forthright budget, and I am prepared to fight for it

For years now, we have been deceiving ourselves about our state finances. Despite an expanding economy, we have spent far more than we have taken in In the last three fiscal years, including the current year, General Fund expenditures will have exceeded revenues by more than $323 million. In the 1958-59 Fiscal Year alone the deficiency of current revenues is estimated at $147 5 million.

Up to now it has been possible to avoid facing up to the fiscal realities because surpluses built up during and after the war and held in so-called "reserve" funds or in the General Fund have been used to meet the deficits But these fund balances are now exhausted or needed elsewhere. By using the fund surpluses to meet annual deficits we have succeeded only in postponing the day of reckoning. That day is now upon us

Again this year, we have been told that we can dodge the hard facts of fiscal life We have been urged to invade the Investment Fund and abandon our vital water program. I am determined that we shall not do this We must have the courage to face our financial responsibilities without flinching

We must now put our State back in the black To do this, I offer neither platitudes nor panaceas There will be no fancy schemes and no money miracles. I bring you, instead, economy in government, a balanced budget, and a sound program for financing it

Although the incoming Governor has no Constitutional or other responsibility for the $68.4 million deficit we are inheriting, I have concluded that it must be erased as rapidly as possible.

These are stringent times, and this is a stringent budget. We have examined the expenditure requests of every department and agency with rigorous care. There have been no special preserves or privileged exceptions.

To run our state departments I have appointed able, frugal executives. I have given them firm instructions and full authority to launch an aggressive economy drive. I intend to reward people who save money. We are already on our way to saving five million dollars before this fiscal year is out.

The increases in the budget reflect the paramount needs of our people. We are a great State with great resources. We would confuse responsibility with timidity if we failed to meet the vital needs of our people. Thus, for instance, no austerity aims have prevented us from providing funds for a Fair Employment Practices Commission, from increasing the funds for smog research, or from providing medical care for permanently disabled persons.

No matter how determined we are to make economies, we must recognize that our expenses are increasing.

As our population expands, so inevitably do costs for such items as schools, mental hospitals, courts, and prisons. We must be prepared to accept both the perils and the promise of our magnificent growth.

If we are to restore fiscal solvency to our State—and I say we must—we will need $200 million in new revenues next year. I have proposed a revenue program which will not only balance next year's budget but will serve us well as a fiscal vehicle in the years ahead.

In the proposed program, our goal has been to obtain broadly based revenues with contribution fairly geared to overall ability to pay. We have not surrendered to the power of vested interests or to the fear of public clamor. We have refused to yield to pressures to favor business or labor, industry or consumers. After long and intensive study, our program has been carefully fashioned to make the ultimate burden fall equitably on all of our people, and on all segments of our economy.

When we balance our budget with current revenues, we take a long stride toward responsible leadership. But we must remember that a balanced budget is not an end in itself. The budget exists, not as an exercise in bookkeeping, but as a measure of a government's service to its people. Only if our total program is confident, pioneering, and responsive to the needs of the people can we properly take credit for fiscal solvency. Even in the drama of the budget, people are more important than dollars.

1957-58 and 1958-59 Deficits

In 1957-58 General Fund expenditures exceeded General Fund revenues by $137 million. This deficit was met by application of a surplus from the preceding fiscal year of $110.2 million plus transfers from other funds of $32.3 million, thus leaving a General Fund surplus at June 30, 1958, of $6.8 million.

In January, 1958, when the current 1958-59 Budget was presented it had been anticipated that required transfers from other funds to balance the 1957-58 Budget would be less than $12 million and that the carry-over surplus would be $8 million. The current budget (1958-59) was presented to the Legislature in January, 1958, as a balanced budget. At the time the current budget was adopted spending was estimated to exceed revenues by $99.2 million, and it was proposed to balance the budget by transfers from other funds of $91.2 million and by application of the expected $8 million surplus from 1957-58.

Since the 1958 session of the Legislature, however, several things happened. There was a substantial decline in estimated revenues for 1958-59 and a substantial increase in estimated expenditures. To meet the 1957-58 deficit required use of about $20 million more of reserve funds than had been anticipated. Since substantially all of the balances in these funds (except the Investment Fund) would have been exhausted by June 30, 1959, in balancing the current budget, this had a cumulative effect.

As presently estimated, expenditures for the current fiscal year will exceed current revenues by $147.5 million, and the resulting General Fund deficit at June 30, 1959, will be $68.4 million.

This figure is exclusive of $7.2 million remaining unexpended from $7.5 million appropriated in 1957 from the General Fund to meet in part the capital expenditure program for the new State Fair. Since overall financing plans for this project include the marketing of authorized revenue bonds in the total amount of $13 million and since it is doubtful when funds from this source can be made available, it is not anticipated that the $7.2 million referred to will be expended in the current fiscal year. Hence this latter figure has been excluded from expenditures in calculating the deficit expected at June 30, 1959. For the same reason further expenditure from this appropriation for the 1959-60 Fiscal Year is not included in this budget.

1959-60 Expenditure Program

Formulation of the proposed budget has included a careful review of departmental requests. Wherever possible, without impairing needed state services or working a hardship on recipients of such services, these have been modified to reduce net expenditures. Major policy determinations in this area are noted in the budget document, and involve total reductions in departmental requests for General Fund expenditures of some $24 million. Budget requests for new functions or increased levels of service totaling $21.5 million were submitted. Of these, only $3.6 million have been approved. (These figures do not include the Department of Education request to the Legislature for an increased level of public school support.)

Mental Hygiene. In the Mental Hygiene budget, I am recommending a $9 million increase in appropriation over 1958-59 to provide for the opening of new facilities and growth factors, plus a $1.5 million increase to provide for improved and expanded programs. This latter amount covers augmentation of the inservice training program, psychiatric research activities, increases in professional, technical and nursing staff levels, and increased allowances for special drugs. A nonproductive statistical research unit has been deleted, thus saving $50,000. The budget also proposes elimination of 49 food service assistants for small congregate dining rooms serving less than 125 patients. This service can be adequately handled by regular ward personnel, with a resultant saving of $146,000.

Public Health. In addition to normal growth factor increases in expenditures, the budget provides $508,000 for new programs in connection with radiation hazards, air pollution research, and related activities. The subsidy for mosquito abatement has been eliminated except for districts now taxing at the maximum 40-cent tax rate. This will save $390,000. I recommend that in computing subsidies to the counties for tuberculosis sanitoria, we adjust the amounts to recognize the repayments the counties receive from paying patients. This will save $260,000.

Inaugural Message Programs. In my inaugural address, I presented certain proposals for new or augmented programs. Included in the budget is a total of $1.7 million for these proposals, as follows:

|---|---|
| To provide medical care for permanently disabled persons | $514,620 |
| To establish an Economic Development Agency | 350,000 |
| To establish a Fair Employment Practices Commission | 240,000 |
| To enable the Department of Public Health to maintain guard against levels of radioactivity that may endanger life or health | 239,216 |
| To supply additional funds for concentrated research on the causes and prevention of air pollution | 162,307 |
| To initiate special handling and treatment of paroled narcotic addicts | 125,000 |
| To establish the office of Consumer Counsel | 45,000 |
| To establish co-ordination of activities directed toward problems arising from the use of radioactive materials | 22,705 |
| Total | $1,698,848 |

Salary Increases. In its annual report dated December 23, 1957, the Personnel Board recommended a 3 percent salary increase for all employees under its jurisdiction for 1958-59. Funds to implement this recommendation were eliminated by the 1958 Legislature. In its last report of December 5, 1958, the board recommends an increase for Fiscal Year 1959-60 of 7½ percent, plus an added 5 percent for state college faculties, plus $875,000 for special salary adjustments. The board states that the cost would be $20.6 million. However, if these recommendations were adopted, a like increase presumably would be added to University of California salaries and to salaries of statutory and exempt personnel; also retirement contributions would increase for all affected employees. Hence the total cost to the General Fund would approximate $31.1 million.

While it is true that salary increases for state employees in a time of financial stress should be carefully weighed, it is also true that to hold state employees to existing salary levels in an inflationary period has the effect of requiring them to finance in part the state expenditure program. After full consideration, I have included in the budget provision for a 5 percent increase for salaries of all state employees for the Fiscal Year 1959-60 at a total cost of $32 million, of which the General Fund will bear $19.3 million.

The California Consumer Price Index at June 15, 1958 (which was the approximate effective date of the recommended 3 percent increase mentioned above) was 126.2; and it is estimated that at June 15, 1959, it will be 128.1, an increase of 1.9 points or 1.5 percent. As a check on these figures, a Personnel Board chart dated October 17, 1958, indicates that state salary levels were approximately equivalent to comparable industry and governmental salary levels at July 1, 1957; between that date and June 15, 1959, it is estimated that the index figure will rise from 121.7 to 128.1, an increase of 6.4 points or 5.2 percent. Assuming that the 3 percent increase recommendation referred to was a sound one, and adjusting it to the index figures, it would appear that a salary increase of from 4.5 percent to 5.2 percent would be equitable for 1959-60.

It is on this basis that I have arrived at the recommended 5 percent increase. I am aware of the fact that the wage statutes of California have eliminated regular use of cost of living data from salary survey studies since 1949. But these are stringent times for state finances. The burden of that stringency should not be permitted to fall unduly on state employees. Nevertheless, in making provision for them in the light of existing conditions, statutory guides for survey studies should not be the exclusive consideration.

I have not included any additional increase for the state college faculties, although of course they will receive the 5 percent increase recommended for all state employees. This should put them on better than a parity basis with similarly situated college personnel in other states. In 1957 state college faculty members received a 10 percent increase while state employees generally got 5 percent, and some university personnel 7 percent. Further preferential treatment for state college faculty members is believed unwarranted at this time.

Water Resources and the Investment Fund. The budget proposes operations of the Department of Water Resources in the total amount of $122 million, an increase of $9 million over the current year. This amount will be financed by $71 million from the General Fund and $5.1 from the Investment Fund. The capital outlay program is budgeted at $52.9 million, of which the Investment Fund will supply $52.8 million. $10 million of this amount has already been appropriated and is available from the current budget year. $4.7 million is for administration and design, leaving $38.1 million in new appropriations for construction.

The anticipated activities and capital outlay programs, and my views and recommendations with respect to dedication of the Investment Fund for water development, have been put before you in a special message, and financial details are contained in the budget. For these reasons further discussion here is unnecessary.

I will only repeat that the orderly and prompt development and distribution of California's water resources is a project of the highest priority for the future of our State.

Other Capital Outlay The state building program, which has been under way for a number of years, will continue under the proposed budget for total expenditures of $95.5 million. This will be funded by $20.9 million from special funds, $66.2 million from state construction bond issues, and $8.5 million from the Capital Outlay and Savings Fund. The last amount represents a transfer from the General Fund.

Other capital outlay expenditures, all from funds other than the General Fund, include $218 million from the State Highway Fund, $52.9 million for water resource development mostly from the Investment Fund, and $15.6 million from the State Beach and Park Fund. The total in this category is $318 million.

Military and Veterans Affairs I recommend elimination of the officers' uniform allowance to the extent that it is duplicated by a federal allowance for uniforms. I also recommend discontinuance of state support for the cadet corps program. These changes will save $541,000. I also recommend that the subsidy to veterans' organizations for furnishing claims and rights services to veterans, and the similar subsidy for county veterans service officers, be deleted. There appears to be inadequate justification for continuance of these expenditures by the State in view of federal responsibility and activities in this field. The saving here is $1.1 million.

Public School Apportionment I am determined, as I said in my inaugural, that California shall have the best public schools in the United States. Toward this goal, I offer two basic recommendations.

First, the improved level of state support at the ADA figure of $193.37, as authorized by the 1957 Legislature, must be continued. Unless legislative action is taken, apportionment aid will automatically return to the $180 formula that was in effect June 30, 1957. The result of this upon our public schools would be tragic. I am, therefore, making a budgetary provision for $76,260,680, the amount necessary to maintain the 1957 formula, adjusted for the larger number of children now in school. Of this amount, $34,171,920 is required to meet the ADA increase at $180, and $42,088,760 is necessary to provide $193.37, the 1957 figure, for the total ADA of 1959-60.

Second, I am recommending an additional $23,453,000 for the express purpose of improving the quality of education beyond that possible under the 1957 figure. Specifically, I recommend that the apportionment figure per unit of average daily attendance be increased by $7.45, or from $193.37 to $200.82.

In its January, 1959, report to the Legislature, the Department of Education directed attention to the increasing ratio of the number of children to our total population and to the higher costs of education for each child. The State must assume its share of these increased financial responsibilities. No activity we support is of greater importance than public education.

In urging this increase, I wish to point out that this is the first time since 1952, and the second time since 1945, that the budget message has contained a specific recommendation by the Governor for an improvement in the apportionment aid formula

The amount of increase I have recommended is less than that suggested by the Department of Education. This is dictated by the necessity of achieving a proper balance among our many state responsibilities, and also in order to keep a firm limit on tax increases

I am convinced that we must improve our support of the program for physically and mentally handicapped children. Thus, in principle though not in exact amount, I concur in the Department of Education's recommendation that the State increase its contributions for this purpose I am recommending $2.49 per ADA unit, which is part of the total increase of $7.45. To sustain the present support level of $193 37, adjusted for the larger number of pupils, and adding the improvement figure I have recommended, will provide a total increase in school apportionment funds of $60.7 million for 1959-60 over 1958-59

In tabular form, I compare below the increases proposed by the Department of Education and those which I am recommending.

| | Proposed Increases * | |
|---|---|---|
| | Department of Education | Budget |
| Basic and Equalization Aid | $44,175,000 | $20,336,000 |
| Amount per ADA | 13.97 | 6.46 |
| County School Service Fund | 316,300 | --- |
| Amount per ADA | 10 | --- |
| Pupil Transportation | --- | --- |
| Amount per ADA | --- | --- |
| Special Education | 10,785,830 | 7,839,000 |
| Amount per ADA | 3 41 | 2 49 |
| Apportionment for Growth | —3,398,760 | —4,722,000 |
| Amount per ADA | —1.07 | —1 50 |
| Subtotal, State School Fund | $51,878,370 | $23,453,000 |
| Amount per ADA | 16 41 | 7 45 |
| Driver Training | 2,309,175 | --- |
| Amount per ADA | .73 | --- |
| Total, State School Fund | $54,187,545 | $23,453,000 |
| Amount per ADA | $17 14 | $7.45 |

* These increases are over and above apportionments based upon the present amount per ADA of $193 37 (recommended for continuance both by the Department of Education and in the proposed budget), augmented to include the anticipated increased enrollment for 1959-60

In explanation of my recommendations, I offer the following analysis:

(1) Basic and Equalization Aid.

(a) My recommendations for changes in the basic and equalization aid funds represent a 5 percent increase, less the adjustments noted in the next two paragraphs.

(b) The levying of additional state taxes for increased allowances to the wealthier districts is not deemed warranted at this time. Accordingly, there is no increase recommended for basic aid The department's proposal for an increase in this figure from $125 to $130 is not included, reducing the proposed 5 percent increase by approximately $3 million This $3 million would have gone to those wealthier districts not eligible for equalization aid

(c) Large state expenditures for adult education must be weighed against the more pressing needs of the school system for additional funds to educate children, particularly in a time when every additional dollar provided by the State must come from a new tax levy. Thus I recommend a reduction in basic and equalization aid for adult education programs of approximately 25 percent or $2.5 million. The effect will be to encourage districts to recoup from fees more of the costs of those adult programs which are not of a truly basic educational character, or to curtail such offerings except to the extent that the district is willing to finance them from local funds.

(2) No increase in the basis of apportionments for the County School Service Fund is recommended. This fund was intended to take care of the very small inefficient districts, which have been decreasing in number since the fund was established. The fund, therefore, should be declining instead of growing.

(3) As I mentioned earlier, a substantial increase is included for special education to cover approximately 100 percent of current average excess costs to school districts in educating the physically handicapped and mentally retarded children; the increase amounts to $7 8 million. This involves a reduction in amount as compared with the request of the department Instead of basing its figure on present costs, the department projected annual increases in costs for the next two years.

(4) The department recommends a decrease in apportionment for growth. The previous apportionment for growth has proved to be too large. This allowance has been adjusted to bring it into conformity with the other allowances I have recommended There will be a resultant saving of about $1.3 million.

(5) Increased support for driver training programs, and for encouraging districts to lengthen the school year, is not recommended I cannot accord these items a priority high enough to justify a further tax increase.

The costs of education have taken an increasingly larger share of the General Fund in recent years This year the growth factor alone will require a significant portion of the new revenues we must develop Thus, because I must distribute revenues among the many functions and services of the State, I cannot concur in the total recommendations made by the Department of Education.

The years ahead will require greater effort by all to meet the costs of education Toward the goal of keeping these costs within the limits of our ability to pay, I urge all in the field of public education to make a critical re-examination of methods and offerings. Economies can be achieved through district reorganization and the elimination of small, highly expensive districts.

Improved visual teaching aids and the resources of electronic science can point the way to the wider and more economical distribution of teaching skills These and other improvements are vitally needed if we are to avoid being overwhelmed by the costs of education. We can, I am convinced, reduce some costs, and those which we cannot reduce we shall recognize as our obligation to the children of California. These we will meet.

University of California The recommended University appropriation totals $94.3 million. This will enable the Regents to continue the complete University program as contemplated by the budget requests. This figure contains funds based upon existing formulas for the larger student population expected in the next fiscal year, as well as for the gradual shift to a larger proportion of students in the more expensive upper division and graduate courses. Adjustments made in arriving at the total appropriation figure mentioned include: (a) Budgetary savings in 1959-60 (estimated excess of appropriations over actual expenditures) estimated at $2.7 million, and for the current fiscal year at $2 million; (b) A $1.2 million saving representing approximately 16 percent of the cost of the Extension Division heretofore subsidized by state funds. Since none of these courses are given without a fee charge, small fee increases will make the Extension program self-supporting as is presently the case with similar courses given by the state colleges. (c) Increase in nonresident tuition fees from $400 to $500 per year, adding $550,000 to reimbursements; (d) Providing for a contingent fund of $1 million instead of $1.1 million, which would appear reasonable in view of the $1 million contingent fund utilized for the General Fund operations, (e) Eliminating $100,000 requested for nonacademic merit pay increases, as not compatible with state employee compensation practices All employees and faculty of the University are, of course, included in the provision for a 5 percent salary increase which I am recommending, at a cost (for the University alone) of $5 million Provision is made for funds requested for operation of a radio astronomy telescope ($28,000).

State Colleges I recommend appropriations in the amount of $57.6 million, including funds for an off-campus resident center for teacher education in Imperial Valley ($47,000), and a contingent fund for college presidents' expenses in connection with faculty and student receptions ($15,000) An increase in resident fees from $40 to $50 was recommended by the Department of Education I recommend that these fees be fixed at $65 per year, thus increasing anticipated reimbursements by $1.2 million. The larger amount is justified on the basis of those special and other services for which fees have been customarily charged, and does not involve any charge in the nature of a tuition for educational purposes At the same time it is proposed to increase nonresident fees from $180 to $250 per year The new fee schedule is in line with charges made by similar institutions in other states. With respect to the authorized colleges in Orange and Alameda Counties, funds have been provided for a staff to continue planning only, and the $1.5 million requested to commence operation of these new colleges in rented quarters is not included. In view of the present fiscal situation, temporary deferment of actual opening is proposed until the colleges are prepared to open in their own plants.

Fiscal Affairs. Transfer of certain specialized auditing functions from the State Controller to the Departments of Social Welfare and Public Health respectively will result in additional federal grants to the State of $75,000. Preauditing of claims by the Controller in part duplicates accounting work of other agencies; elimination of this duplication will reduce the Controller's budget by 18 positions or $88,000. Improvements in methods and staff assignments in the Division of Buildings and Grounds will reduce the Department of Finance budget by $150,000. Provision is made for 30 additional auditors for the Franchise Tax Board for field audits both in and out of California. I have been assured that this will produce substantial additional tax revenues.

Other Functions. I recommend that administrative costs of the Division of Architecture be transferred to the Architectural Revolving Fund, reducing General Fund expenditures by $194,000. Similarly, it is proposed that the Division of Administrative Procedures recover from the agencies served (mostly special fund agencies) the full cost of hearing work performed ($134,000).

Expenditure Comparisons

A summary comparison of total state expenditures for the three years ending June 30, 1960, is as follows:

SUMMARY—ACTUAL AND ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES—ALL FUNDS

| | Actual 1957-58 | Estimated 1958-59 | Proposed 1959-60 | Change from 1958-59 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| State Operations | $541,469,972 | $596,320,446 | $656,925,743 | $60,605,297 |
| Capital Outlay | 354,787,661 | 344,322,192 | 326,620,252 | —17,701,940 |
| Local Assistance | 995,178,465 | 1,114,318,483 | 1,204,831,640 | 90,513,157 |
| Totals | $1,891,436,098 | $2,054,961,121 | $2,188,377,635 | $133,416,514 |

SUMMARY—ACTUAL AND ESTIMATED EXPENDITURES—GENERAL FUND

| | Actual 1957-58 | Estimated 1958-59 | Proposed 1959-60 | Change from 1958-59 |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| State Operations | $396,387,136 | $432,311,807 | $469,123,205 | $36,811,398 |
| Capital Outlay | 84,742,053 | 16,003,815 | 8,485,095 | —7,518,720 |
| Local Assistance | 765,332,588 | 840,281,034 | 941,455,180 | 101,174,146 |
| Totals | $1,246,461,777 | $1,288,596,656 | $1,419,063,480 | $130,466,824 |

It will be observed that General Fund expenditures are estimated to increase by $130.4 million in 1959-60 over the current 1958-59 year; whereas the increase for 1958-59 over 1957-58 was $42.1 million. Such comparisons can be misleading without an analysis of the major elements that enter into the difference.

Increase in expenditures proposed for Local Assistance amounts to $101.1 million of the total $130.4-million increase in 1959-60. Over and above increases necessitated by growth, which account for more than half the increase in this category, are these important elements: (i) the 1959-60 Budget includes the recommended increase in the level of school apportionments amounting to $23.5 million (no such increase was made in 1958-59); (ii) in 1959-60 a normal state contribution will have to be made to the Teachers Retirement Fund of $40.2 million, whereas the 1958-59 Budget reached into a reserve fund for $20.1 million of that year's contribution with only $14.5 million coming from current funds; this accounts for $25.7 million of the difference; (iii) the increase in the required transfer to the Flood Control Fund in 1959-60 is greater by $12 million than in 1958-59.

Comparisons as to expenditures from the General Fund for Capital Outlay for the three years are distorted by the relative use of bond funds (which are not included in the budget totals) in each of the years. In 1957-58 a smaller part of the building program was financed from bond funds with a correspondingly larger part from current funds. For this reason the 1958-59 Budget for Capital Outlay shows a reduction in expenditures of $68.7 million which obscures increases in other sections of the budget. This factor accounts for only $7.5 million in comparing 1959-60 with 1958-59.

The real test of a "tight" budget is in the part dealing with State Operations where a much greater portion of the expenditures are subject to budgetary control. General Fund expenditures for State Operations are budgeted to increase by $36.8 million in 1959-60 over 1958-59. The corresponding increase in 1958-59 over the preceding year was $35.9 million. The 1958-59 Budget, however, made no provision for salary increases, whereas the 1959-60 Budget includes $19.3 million for this purpose. Moreover, the uncontrollable provision for general debt service will increase by $5.3 million in 1959-60 compared to an increase of only $0.8 million in 1958-59.

When consideration is given to the necessity for providing for growth in the State's university, colleges, hospitals, and correctional facilities (in addition to the salary increase and debt service items totaling $24.6 million), it becomes apparent that the 1959-60 Budget compares most favorably to its predecessor.

Fair and Exposition Fund

The Fair and Exposition Fund is perhaps the outstanding example of the defects and dangers inherent in the special fund method of financing. Large sums of money from taxation, having no logical relationship to the purposes for which they are dedicated, are substantially diverted from the General Fund and are directed to various specific functions designated as "agricultural." These dedications, whatever might have been the case when they were created, today bear no relationship to the needs of the various functions and serve to swell their expenditures beyond actual need in many instances In addition, they have a definite tendency to inhibit appropriate annual budget scrutiny. Moreover, large sums of state moneys are frozen in "reserve" in the fund, for no apparent or justifiable purpose The sheer complexities of the Fair and Exposition Fund are inconsistent with any reasonable concept of understandable fiscal procedure

I am convinced this fund should be abolished forthwith, and the financing now handled through this fund be accomplished through the General Fund Fortunately, this is a matter that the Legislature has plenary power to deal with

I am not proposing any decrease for 1959-60 in appropriations that would otherwise have been made from the fund had it remained in existence during the coming year. To do so would have the effect of clouding my recommendation for abolishment of the fund.

As an integral part of my recommendation for abolishment of the Fair and Exposition Fund, I recommend abolishment of the Wildlife Restoration Fund which is fed solely by horse racing revenues, and transfer of the financing of the functions of this fund to the Fish and Game Preservation Fund. I also recommend abolishment of the State College Fund which is fed solely from Fair and Exposition Fund moneys and from horse racing revenues, with transference of the same functions at the same level of expenditure to General Fund financing.

Coincident with abolishment of the Fair and Exposition Fund and upon the assumption that my recommendation in this regard will be approved by the Legislature, I am proposing an increase in the tax on horse racing revenues as a part of my proposals relating to new revenue sources. This increase will produce new General Fund revenues of $12.4 million.

In addition, adoption of my recommendations concerning abolishment of the Fair and Exposition Fund will accomplish a nonrecurring transfer to the General Fund of $4 8 million accumulated in the Fair and Exposition Fund and not allocated or appropriated for any immediate purpose. In addition, there will be an annual accrual to the General Fund of the $750,000 which now goes to the Wildlife Restoration Fund, making the total 1959-60 benefit to the General Fund $5 6 million.

Other State Funds. There are, of course, many other funds for which accounts are maintained in the State Treasury; about 80 of these are reflected in the budget totals of revenues and expenditures. (See Schedule 5 of the 1959-60 Budget.) There has been much discussion, some reported in the press, of the desirability of doing away with the special fund method of financing, and statements have been made that all funds should be abolished. In this connection, I would call the following matters to your attention.

(a) Some of these funds are established by constitutional provision, and so are beyond the power of the Legislature to change. Principal items in this category are the various highway user funds and the Fish and Game Preservation Fund.

(b) Apparent fund balances do not always represent cash in the treasury, as some funds have substantial asset investments in realty

(c) Many funds are created from fees charged to a particular business or professional activity and legally committed to support of regulation in the particular field The courts have imposed a continuing obligation upon the State for support of such regulatory and service functions as were contemplated when the fees were imposed; and this obligation may affect the ability of the State to divert fund balances

(d) Where funds are used (as many of them are) for support and capital outlay purposes by the agencies to whose operations they relate, they obviously relieve the General Fund of the necessity of financing such expenditures If the funds are abolished and their surpluses and income diverted to the General Fund to the extent legally permissible, the recurring benefit to the General Fund will be limited to the amount by which agency expenditures annually are less than the annual income of the respective fund Furthermore, in a number of instances annual agency expenditures exceed the fund income related to the agency operation, and the General Fund is already "picking up the tab" for the excess, or the fund surplus is being used to provide this amount

(e) Apparent balances are not always available for diversion, as they may already have been committed by the agency within its authorized powers for specific purposes

(f) In a not inconsiderable number of cases where an agency is operating through a fund, the fund is used to provide working capital for agency expenditures For example, fund income may be derived from fees collected on a calendar year basis, whereas the agency operates on a fiscal year basis. In such cases the fund balance may be deceptively large at June 30 of each year because it includes the amount necessary to support agency expenditures between July and December. If balances of this type are diverted to the General Fund, no financial benefit to the General Fund would occur, because the money would have to be kept intact as working capital for subsequent use of the agency.

(g) As I have already pointed out, the large balances that the State accumulated in the past when General Fund revenues exceeded expenditures and which were placed in the so-called "reserve" funds, will have been entirely used up in meeting annual budget deficits by the end of the current fiscal year. The single exception is the Investment Fund, which I am proposing for dedication to the development of our water resources exclusively.

The special funds are so numerous and many of them are so complex in structure that it was impossible for me to present as a part of this budget an acceptable program for overall modification of special fund financing. Only a more thorough study than has been possible in the time available for preparation of this budget can lay the foundation for such a program. It is for this reason that I have confined my recommendations in this area to the Fair and Exposition Fund. If this recommendation is unacceptable, it is hardly to be expected that any general revision of special fund financing can be expected in the foreseeable future.

Reference is made to a special analysis of fund balances which will be found in the introductory section of the budget.

Financing the 1958-59 Deficit

The anticipated deficit from the 1958-59 Fiscal Year is now estimated to be $68.4 million on June 30 of this year.

With a deep conviction that fiscal responsibility calls for early payment of our past debts, I have chosen to deal with this deficit.

It is my recommendation that the method of assessment and collection of the insurance gross premiums tax be changed to a self-assessment procedure, so that the proceeds of that tax calculated on premiums for the calendar year 1958 instead of being received by the State in the fall of 1959 will be received in April, 1959.

This will produce added revenues for the current fiscal year of $55.6 million, which will be used to reduce the carryover deficit from the current fiscal year from $68.4 million to $12.8 million. It is proposed that this remaining deficit be carried by temporary borrowing during the next fiscal year.

The program that I offer is estimated to erase all but $5.4 million of the 1958-59 deficit by June 30, 1960. Moreover, the economy measures I have already initiated will materially reduce even this carryover.

1959-60 Revenue Program

The central problem in this whole massive document we call the budget can be summarized with three figures. The proposed total General Fund expenditure for the next fiscal year, 1959-60, is $1,419.1 million. The estimated General Fund income from presently expected revenues for that same period totals $1,218 million. That leaves a shortage of $201.1 million which must be obtained in order to balance income against outgo.

The Constitution enjoins me "to recommend the sources from which the additional revenue shall be provided." I would not have it otherwise. It is the proud responsibility of the chief executive of this State to provide courageous leadership when his tasks are most difficult. I am recommending not only the sources of additional tax money, but the amounts that should be obtained from each so that the budget may be balanced and the tax structure be fair and equitable.

Before I detail these recommendations, I shall discuss briefly the method used in arriving at them.

In the campaign for Governor it was agreed by both candidates that the State faced a fiscal crisis, and that the time had come to face up to the problem of obtaining sufficient revenues to put California back on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Immediately upon my election as Governor I began a study of this State's tax structure. I sought the counsel of leading experts in and out of State Government.

Among these experts, whether economists, tax attorneys, or specialists in governmental finance, I found an amazing degree of general agreement on the makeup of a new tax program for California. I found that it was widely recognized that the income tax, based as it is upon ability to pay, now plays too small a role in California's overall tax program. The income tax as now constituted is not constructed and graduated to reflect adequately the principle which makes it a fair tax.

I am recommending a substantial revision of the California state income tax structure. The revision can be made—and should be made—so that the family with up to $10,000 in annual income will not be adversely affected, and in many cases will benefit.

The income tax revisions alone, however, will not provide enough revenue to handle our fiscal problem. In making up the difference, we have gone to sources where the present taxes are considerably lower than in other major states or to recognized sources which California has left untapped.

In doing so, we have been careful to keep a reasonable balance between those taxes which place an added burden on industry and those which directly affect the consumer.

The following description of my tax recommendations, will, I think, explain why this is so:

1. Income Tax. I recommend revision of the personal income tax structure to increase revenues by $60.7 million in the next fiscal year. Here are the proposed changes:

a. The tax brackets should be narrowed from $5,000 to $2,500. Under the present system, a man who pays taxes on $10,000 in taxable income pays at about the same rate as a man who pays taxes on $14,999. With this change, the rate would increase at $12,500. At the same time the maximum rate should be increased from 6 percent to 7 percent so that there is a slightly steeper progression through the narrowed brackets.

b. The credit for dependents should be increased from $400 to $600, and the standard deduction from 6 percent to 10 percent. Taken together with the other proposed revisions, this would result in actual lowering of taxes for a married man with two children until his income reaches $10,500 a year. It would also bring this feature of state tax law into conformity with the federal income tax law and simplify preparation of returns.

c. The personal exemption for married couples should be reduced from $3,500 to $3,000, and for single persons from $2,000 to $1,500. This brings the exemptions into a more logical relationship, and broadens the tax base.

d. Capital gains taxation should be changed to conform to the federal law.

It should be noted that the income tax tends to produce increased revenues as the economy expands and to keep pace with the steady inflation that has become a major factor in our economy.

2. Inheritance Tax. I recommend an increase in the rates of the Inheritance Tax on bequests to persons who do not have a close family relationship to the deceased. The rates in Class "C" should go up 25 percent, and in Class "D" 50 percent. Present provisions for credit on payments of federal estate taxes should be eliminated. An estimated $2 million increase in revenue in 1959-60 would result. California's present rates were established in 1935 and there has been no increase since that date. The changes proposed would keep California well within the rate range of states which levy such taxes. The Gift Tax should be similarly modified, although the revenue effects would be minor.

3. Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax. I recommend the following changes in the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax:

a. The rate for general corporations should be increased from 4 to 5½ percent. This compares to such other states as New York with 5½ percent, Oregon 6 percent, Minnesota 7 percent, and Massachusetts 7 percent. It should also be noted that these taxes are deductions against the federal income tax on corporations, and thus carry an offset factor for the corporate taxpayer of approximately 50 percent.

b. There should be a corresponding increase in the maximum rate applicable to financial institutions from 8 percent to 11 percent for the same general reasons.

c. There should be an increase in the minimum annual corporate franchise tax from $25 to $100.

d. There should be a provision permitting accelerated depreciation of assets on the same basis as that in the federal law, once again bringing about federal-state conformity.

Together, these changes would add $33.6 million in revenues in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year. In the first full year in which the effect of these changes would be felt, the overall increase over present revenues from these taxes would be $58.6 million.

4. Insurance Taxes. Provision for self-assessment and advancing the date of payment of the insurance gross premiums tax, as proposed, would also increase revenue from that source on an accelerated basis in 1959-60, estimated at $5 million.

5. Severance Tax. I recommend a severance tax on petroleum products at the rate of 2 percent of the gross value. California now has a small severance tax which is imposed for conservation and regulation purposes and which produces only token revenues. Most other major oil-producing states obtain major revenues from severance taxes. The 2 percent rate recommended is well below average among the 28 states which now have such taxes, and far less than the 5 percent levied by Oklahoma and the 4.6 percent levied by Texas. This tax would produce an estimated $19.3 million in 1959-60, and an estimated $23.2 million for a full year.

6. Horse Racing. I recommend that the State revise its formula for obtaining revenues from horse racing to increase those revenues by some $12.4 million annually:

a. The gross commission on parimutuel betting should be increased from 13 to 15 percent. The track's share of the gross commission should be decreased by one-half percent on the handle between $50 million and $100 million, and by 1 percent on the handle over $100 million, and there should be a corresponding increase in the State's share.

b. The so-called breakage formula should be changed so that the accumulated amount up to $25,000 would be retained by the track; the accumulated amount between $25,000 and $100,000 would be shared equally between the track and the State; and all amounts over $100,000 would go to the State.

7. Cigarette and Tobacco Tax. I recommend an excise tax on cigarettes at 3 cents per pack, which will produce an estimated $52.9 million in the 1959-60 Fiscal Year and an estimated $60 million for a full year. I also recommend an excise tax on other tobacco products at 15 percent of the wholesale price, estimated to produce $7.1 million in 1959-60, and $8 million for a full year.

California is one of the few states which does not now have a tobacco tax of any kind and the rates proposed are modest in comparison to those levied in many other states.

8. Beer Tax. I recommend that the rate of excise tax on beer be increased from 2 cents per gallon to 7 cents per gallon. It is estimated that this change will produce $9.2 million in 1959-60 and $10 million for a full year.

The State's present beer tax is one of the lowest in the Nation The increase would leave the California beer tax rate still below that in some states in which prices of beer are at about the same level as in California.

Beer and cigarette taxes often hit the consumer the hardest, but it should be remembered that they are the only new taxes I am proposing which will have such an effect. Moreover, these taxes are levied not on necessities, but on items of personal choice.

In the first full year of impact for these new taxes, the estimated revenue is $256.6 million. Every dollar, I anticipate, will be needed to meet the needs of our booming population—new schools, more teachers, mental hospitals, more correctional institutions, and more of all the essential services rendered by the State. We should return to the principle of financing as much as possible of our capital outlay requirements out of current tax revenue.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

To Hon. Edmund G. Brown
Governor of California

Transmitted herewith is the proposed Budget of the State of California for the Fiscal Year 1 July 1959 to 30 June 1960. The detailed statements of the Budget are preceded by a section containing summary tables, charts, and other explanatory material.

I have made a sincere attempt to simplify and clarify the form of presentation of the budget.

For example, in the narrative explanatory material found throughout the detailed statements, wherever possible references dealing particularly with budgetary comments and changes have been italicized so that these important matters are "flagged" for more ready reference. The General Budget Summary found in Schedule 1 has been materially revised in manner of presentation, so that it is clearer and more easily understandable and usable. A new schedule comparing General Fund revenues under both present and proposed tax structures has been added as Schedule 2. Previously used schedules have been retained, and some charts have been added; but the order in which these will be found in the document has been changed. A table of contents has been prepared and included at the beginning of the book, and should provide a readier access to all portions of the volume than has been possible in the past.

As requested by you, the usual summary statement of fund conditions (now found in Schedule 5) has been augmented by a new schedule (Schedule 5-A) showing balances of the major funds with reference to their availability for diversionary use in lieu of additional tax levies.

You will appreciate that conclusions as to "availability" of fund balances not only involve accounting determination as to the number of dollars in the funds at any given time, but also require a complete and careful analysis of many legal and practical considerations.

In this connection, I would caution that the limitations of time for preparation of the budget document have made it necessary to treat this new schedule as a tentative and preliminary approach to a more detailed and thorough study of fund financing which I will present to you in a subsequent report. Of course, no effort has been spared to make the new schedule as accurate as available data has permitted. It is possible, however, that some revisions may have to be made.

In the relatively brief time that I have been working with them, I have already come to appreciate the ability and the devotion to duty of the staff of the Department of Finance. It is therefore with confidence that I advise you that the staff and facilities of the department will be able to furnish you with additional information and to assist in the consideration of the budget as you may require

Respectfully submitted,

BERT W. LEVIT, Director of Finance

REMARKS BY SPEAKER RALPH M. BROWN

Remarks by Speaker Ralph M. Brown

Within a few days the standing committees of the Assembly will begin their work. Mr. Bee and I have already met with the committee chairmen and vice chairmen and discussed the matter of conducting committee meetings in an efficient and fair manner. My staff and I have worked very hard on the matter of committee assignments and committee meeting schedules. As a result there are only a handful of conflicts. But your co-operation is needed for the efficient operation of the committees, and I expect each of you to co-operate.

Perhaps some of you have already had organizational meetings with your various committee chairmen and already know some of the plans I presented to them. I am sure there are some of you who have not had such a meeting as yet. In any event, I would like to call the attention of all of the members to some of the basic policies which I have instructed the chairmen to follow.

First, I would like to announce that there will be no night committee meetings. Every committee has a daylight schedule. It may be necessary later in the session to return to night meetings, and the present committee schedule can be very easily adapted if that necessity arises. In the meantime, if each of you co-operates, I believe night meetings can be avoided.

You can co-operate with your chairman and fellow committee members by prompt and regular attendance at meetings. Period I meetings will begin promptly at 1 30 and adjourn at 3 30. Period II meetings will begin promptly at 3.45 and adjourn at 5 45. Don't depend on the "other fellow" to make the quorum. Be prompt so there can be an early quorum and the committee can begin to function on time. I have already mentioned that there are very few conflicts. Consequently every committee member is expected to attend all meetings of his committees. There will be occasional exceptions and these should be discussed with your chairman in advance of meetings. You will find that if you work hard during the afternoon, evening meetings can be avoided.

The chairmen, too, will do their part to insure efficient and fair hearings. Your chairman has been instructed to call the meeting to order on time. He will also budget his time so that a bill which could be acted upon with dispatch does not monopolize the entire meeting period. I am very anxious to avoid the practice of carrying bills over to another meeting in order to better accommodate those interested persons who come from long distances, many times on very limited budgets, to testify before committees regarding such bills. It will be necessary for your chairman to limit the comments of both members and witnesses to the immediate subject at hand. Here again, your co-operation is needed.

With one or two exceptions, all of you have indicated a desire to eliminate night meetings. I am presenting you with an opportunity to do so. Whether or not night meetings can be eliminated rests squarely on the shoulders of each of you.

A new committee schedule which will enable us to avoid night meetings will also mean we will have to convene from 9.30 a.m. to 12 noon daily, and on Friday afternoons when our workload requires it. We are now scheduled to meet for 15 hours weekly. We will still meet for the same number of hours, that is, two and one-half hours during the morning, and an additional two and one-half hours on Friday afternoon when necessary. Convening one-half hour earlier may be somewhat of a hardship on a few of you. However, I believe there is general agreement that the elimination of night meetings is worth the very small sacrifice of convening one-half hour earlier.

Each of us is interested in doing a good job for all of the people of California. The plans I've laid before you today will enable us to do so, and at the same time provide us with an opportunity for deserved rest and a fresh approach to the new problems which come before us every day.

You can be sure that both Mr. Bee, who is doing a wonderful job, and I will always be available to help you with any problems which might arise, and I hope that each of you will feel free to call upon us. The most satisfactory results will be achieved if we all work together.

REPORT OF ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON MANUFACTURING, OIL, AND MINING INDUSTRY

Subsidence:

Findings: The chief matter to come before the committee during the 1957-59 interim period was that relating to subsidence of land levels in the Long Beach area assertedly due to the extraction of large volumes of oil and gas during the last 20 years.

Two hearings were held in the fall of 1957 at which times the methods and manner in which the subsidence could be halted were discussed.

The City of Long Beach, after first favoring the establishment of a subsidence abatement district (Assembly Bill No. 4163, 1957 Regular Session), in December, 1957, submitted to the committee a proposed draft of legislation to provide for co-operative development and unit operation and repressuring of oil and gas pools. The proposal called for the promotion of voluntary agreements insofar as feasible by the Oil and Gas Supervisor. If voluntary agreement were not achieved, the supervisor was empowered by the suggested legislation to require the repressurization by unit operation. The proposal of Long Beach met with the approval of most of the operators in the subsidence area.

Legislation reflecting the proposals presented to the committee by the City of Long Beach was introduced in the 1958 Special Session. Assembly Bill No. 5 together with Assembly Bill No 12 (providing for a city to enter into unit agreements) was passed by the Legislature and signed by the Governor (Chapter 73).

Recommendations: As legislation has already been considered and passed in reference to the subsidence problem, the committee makes no further specific recommendations. However, as some problems have developed since the legislation became law and due to the general gravity of the problem, the committee believes further legislative observation of the problem may be necessary.

Agricultural Minerals

Findings: The Subcommittee on Agricultural Minerals of the Interim Committee on Manufacturing, Oil, and Mining Industry investigated the taxation of agricultural minerals and chemical fertilizers at a hearing held in Bakersfield in May, 1958.

Background to the Question. The Agricultural Code requires that manufacturers of commercial fertilizers and agricultural minerals pay a tonnage license fee and a $50 registration fee each year. Commercial fertilizer is defined as substances containing 5 percent or more of nitrogen, available phosphorus pentoxide, or potassium oxide, soluble in distilled water, singly, collectively, or in combination, except manures, hay straws, peat and leaf mold. Agricultural minerals are similar, except they contain less than 5 percent nitrogen Funds collected from tonnage taxes and licenses are used in law enforcement by the Bureau of Chemistry. The bureau sees that the laws are complied with protecting farmers and the general public in sales of various agricultural chemicals.

Prior to 1943, the tonnage tax was 25 cents a ton on commercial fertilizer and 10 cents a ton on agricultural minerals. In 1943, the commercial fertilizer tonnage tax was reduced from 25 cents to 20 cents a ton, and then in 1952 was further reduced to 15 cents a ton.

In 1955 the tax on agricultural minerals was reduced from 10 cents per ton to 3 cents per ton to be in effect for two years. During the 1955-57 interim period, the committee reviewed the tax problem and recommended in their report the continuation of the three-cent tax level for an additional two-year period until October 1, 1959. This was provided by the 1957 Legislature. The committee recommended, as well, that costs studies be made to determine basic information needed to establish a permanent relationship between commercial fertilizer and the agricultural minerals tonnage taxes. (See Assembly Interim Committee Reports, 1955-1957, Vol. 14, No. 2, pp. 7, 13-18).

In light of the above, the Subcommittee on Agricultural Minerals has continued the study of the problem.

Committee Findings. At the request of the subcommittee, the Legislative Analyst's office studied the cost implications of the tax to arrive at some basis for establishing an equitable tax rate (See below for the full report.)

Cost studies conducted by the Legislative Analyst indicate that the proper relationship between the tonnage taxes on commercial fertilizers and agricultural minerals is 15 to 4.3. This calculation considers the cost of processing samples, collection costs, and the number of samples taken per ton; the major assumption being the tonnage tax on commercial fertilizers is equitable.

The above 15 to 4.3 ratio does not attempt to balance the revenues and expenditures of the Bureau of Chemistry. The existing rate for commercial fertilizers and agricultural minerals, according to the Legislative Analyst, would have to be increased to meet the current expenditure requirements if these two sources of revenue are to be relied upon for total support. To reach a balance of receipts and expenditures, the Legislative Analyst recommended to the subcommittee that consideration also be given to increasing revenues of the bureau by other means such as charging for the analyses of certain soil amendments and auxiliary plant chemicals which do not pay for the services performed on their behalf at the present time. To fully carry the bureau by means of existing taxes, the rates would probably have to be about 20 cents on commercial fertilizers and 6 or 7 cents for agricultural minerals.

The Legislative Analyst estimates that there is a surplus of about $400,000 in the special fund which provides resources for the Bureau of Chemistry to operate the agricultural minerals and commercial fertilizer inspection and enforcement. This surplus will be exhausted within about four years unless an adjustment is made in tax rates. The department's policy is that the amount of the revenue should equal the cost of one year's operation, or about $300,000.

Allen B. Lemmon, Chief of the Division of Plant Industry, Department of Agriculture, and formerly Chief of the Bureau of Chemistry, stated to the subcommittee that the general relationship between fertilizer materials enforcement is in the approximate ratio of 20 percent for agricultural minerals enforcement, and 80 percent for other classes of fertilizing materials, which includes commercial fertilizers, soil amendments, and auxiliary plant chemicals.

Mr. Lemmon, in general, supported the assessment provided by the Legislative Analyst and recommended that consideration be given to a registration fee for auxiliary plant chemicals which are currently not paying for the inspection and enforcement services. According to Mr. Lemmon, there should be little opposition to such a fee as many of the auxiliary plant chemical firms also sell economic poisons, fertilizers or agricultural minerals. In addition, the class of soil amendments (such as leaf mold, vermiculite, peat moss, etc.) could be examined to see if some of those included could be taken out and placed into one of the other currently taxable classes.

The California Fertilizer Association, according to M. M. Stockman, Chairman of the Legislative Committee, is as an industry in favor of the findings of the Legislative Analyst and the position of the Department of Agriculture. A ratio of about three to one between chemical fertilizer and agricultural mineral taxes is recommended by the association. Mr. Stockman asserted that the industry would support a measure to bring more money in from auxiliary plant chemicals, but noted that the amount of revenue would probably be small.

Harvey S. Holloway, President of the H. M. Holloway, Inc., pointed out to the subcommittee that the difference in price for gypsum as compared to commercial fertilizers is considerable. Gypsum sold by his company sells between $3 75 and $6.25 per ton as compared to rates for commercial fertilizers of $50 to $75 per ton. Therefore, the gypsum producer pays a much higher tax in proportion to his selling price. His findings indicate the tonnage tax on gypsum used in farming is about 12 cents to 15 cents per acre, whereas it is 6 cents to 7 cents per acre for commercial fertilizers. In addition, costs are lower for testing agricultural minerals and the samples taken are considerably less (five to one for 1956) in comparing commercial fertilizers and agricultural minerals. According to Mr. Holloway, it is reasonable and equitable to fix a tax on agricultural minerals at not to exceed the present rate of three cents per ton.

Recommendations: The committee recommends the retention of the three-cent tax per ton on agricultural minerals in view of the fact that the fund for inspection services is sufficient to continue the Bureau of Chemistry's functions for several years without additional tax income from the industry.

LETTER FROM MR. UNRUH

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE, January 13, 1959

Honorable Speaker of the Assembly; and
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento

GENTLEMEN: I am signing the committee report because it states the bare facts of the investigation into subsidence in the City of Long Beach and therefore is technically correct. However, I do not feel the committee report is specific enough in pointing out the deficiencies of the subsidence legislation which was enacted in 1958.

I also feel that the report should be much more specific in pointing out that certain oil companies and oil interests in the City of Long Beach have successively dragged their heels for years and were able to insert, what appears to me to be badly weakening provisions into the subsidence measure. While that measure may be of some help in combating subsidence which threatens the continued existence of the City of Long Beach, I personally feel that if the committee had more thoroughly pointed out the offending interests, that stronger legislation could have been enacted. It appears to me that it certainly should have been.

Also, it would be my recommendation that a continuing legislative study of this problem is imperative if the welfare of the City of Long Beach directly, and all of Southern California indirectly, is to be protected.

Sincerely,

JESSE M. UNRUH

Report of Special Study Commission on Juvenile Justice

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

The Honorable Ralph M. Brown
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR BROWN: Pursuant to provisions of Section 6028.3 of the Penal Code, I have the honor, in behalf of the State Board of Corrections, to transmit the First Interim Report of the Special Study Commission on Juvenile Justice

It is evident that the commission has made considerable progress and has pursued its objectives in an organized, well-conceived manner which has resulted in the active participation of local officials throughout the State.

The commission, in its preliminary findings, has already identified several problem areas in the administration of juvenile justice which require carefully conceived solutions. The commission's approach to this important task reflects its awareness of the complexity of issues under study. Their plans to base suggested solutions on a thorough analysis of data, and subsequent review by their advisory committee and leading professional organizations should produce favorable results. In view of the fact that the commission's staff was not assigned until early in 1958, the additional time which the commission requires to complete its responsibilities appears justified and necessary.

We, therefore, wish to join in the commission's request for an extension of time to June 30, 1960, in order that they may complete their study and respectfully urge favorable executive and legislative support of this request.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD A. McGEE
Chairman, State Board of Corrections

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

Hon. John A. O'Connell
Assembly Chamber

Amendment of Bills—No. 7704

DEAR MR. O'CONNELL:

Question

You asked whether there is any way by which author's amendments to a bill can be adopted within the 30-day period following introduction of the bill without securing a waiver of the constitutional waiting period by a vote of three-fourths of the members.

Opinion

In our opinion there is no way by which such amendments could be adopted during that 30-day period without the required waiver.

Analysis

The answer to your question depends on the proper construction to be placed upon the following portion of Section 2, Article IV of the State Constitution:

> "At the general session, no bill, other than the Budget Bill, shall be heard by any committee or acted upon by either house until 30 calendar days have elapsed following the date the bill was first introduced; provided, that this provision may be dispensed with by the consent of three-fourths of the members of the house."

A committee of the Assembly, whether it is a standing committee or the entire Assembly sitting as a Committee of the Whole, has no authority to amend a bill. It may recommend amendments, or recommend that the bill be amended in a specified way and then passed, but it cannot itself change the measure.

In other words, once a bill has been introduced in the Assembly only the Assembly can amend it, at least until it is passed and sent to the Senate. Further, amendments to a bill by the Assembly cannot be adopted without a consideration of the question presented by the original bill and by the changes which would be made by the amendments. After consideration of these questions, amendments may be adopted by the Assembly only by majority vote of the members present. In our opinion there is no doubt that this constitutes action by the house within the meaning of the constitutional provision quoted above.

In view of this conclusion it is our opinion that there is no way by which a bill may be amended during the 30-day period following its introduction except by "dispensing with" the constitutional provision quoted above by a vote of three-fourths of the members of the house.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By A. C. MORRISON, Chief Deputy

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: I am transmitting herewith a copy of the Report of the Joint Committee on Legislative Procedure dated December 15, 1958, which sets forth suggested procedures for the 1959 General Session. Although some of the suggested procedures have already been adopted, printed copies of the document will assist the members and others in considering the remaining proposals.

Also transmitted is the earlier report of the committee, dated March 6, 1956. This is the report which recommended elimination of the bifurcated session, which has since been accomplished, and other changes. This report contains much background material concerning the objectives sought to be accomplished by the new kind of session, as well as material relating to proposed changes in legislative procedures. It should also be of assistance in considering suggested procedures at this session, even though many of the suggestions it makes have already been adopted by the Legislature and by the people.

In order that these reports may be readily available, it is requested that they be ordered printed as a single document in the appendix to the Assembly Journal, and that 500 extra copies be printed.

Very truly yours,

ALLEN MILLER

Report on Proposed Bidwell Bar and Oroville Reservoirs

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, February 2, 1959

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS. I am pleased to transmit herewith 81 copies of "Report of Board of Consultants to Department of Water Resources on Proposed Bidwell Bar and Oroville Reservoirs for Control and Development of Feather River" dated January, 1959, for distribution to Members of the Assembly. This report has been prepared pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 4, Chapter 6, Statutes of 1958. In addition, it considers alternative plans of development of the water resources of Feather River as suggested by the Weber Foundation in its several reports to the Assembly Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works. The board has also considered features of other possible plans for development suggested some years ago by the United States Bureau of Reclamation which differed from the proposals of the State's authorized Feather River Project and the plan of the Weber Foundation. The board studied 14 plans composed of the various suggested development features either singly or in combination. The board's studies also encompassed possible upstream developments.

The Board of Consulting Engineers, appointed by me on August 11, 1958, was composed of the following outstanding consulting engineers:

PAUL D. BERRIGAN, Brigadier General, United States Army, Retired, had a distinguished career in the development, design, and construction of both civil and military works for a period of 30 years. Among General Berrigan's assignments was a tour of duty as Division Engineer, South Pacific Division, in which capacity he was responsible for a number of the major multipurpose developments in the Central Valley, including Folsom, Pine Flat and Isabella Reservoirs. General Berrigan retired in 1957 and now is a consulting engineer with headquarters in San Francisco.

JOHN A. COTTON is an eminent consulting engineer in the field of water resources, and particularly in the development of power projects and the design and construction of dams. Mr. Cotton is a registered civil, electrical, mechanical, and structural engineer in the State of California. Prior to entering consulting practice he was associated with the Federal Power Commission, in which capacity he was closely connected with a large number of the power projects in California. He has been called upon by various nations throughout the world to assist them in the development of water resources.

SIDNEY T. HARDING, Professor Emeritus of Civil Engineering at the University of California, is one of the outstanding authorities on water supply and use, engineering economics, and project feasibility in the western United States. He served on the faculty at the University for 35 years, during which time he was also consultant for many public agencies concerned with water development. Since his retirement in 1949, he has devoted full time working with such agencies.

The board performed its work independently of the department, but members of the departmental staff were made available to the board to make engineering analyses and computations requested by it. The board met with officials of the United States Bureau of Reclamation, United States Army Engineers, and the Federal Power Commission to obtain from those agencies any information, assistance or advice within the purview of the board's study. The board also discussed the various possible developments with interested local agencies and individuals. The board expresses its appreciation for the excellent co-operation received.

The conclusions and recommendations of the Board of Consultants are:

"CONCLUSIONS

"The board concludes that Bidwell Bar Reservoir is not needed for sound water resource development of the Feather River Basin and that the large Oroville Reservoir is economically feasible and is needed for such development. The board recognizes that as water needs increase, upstream developments, not now justified can be undertaken to conserve additional water supply in this basin"

"RECOMMENDATIONS

"The board recommends that Bidwell Bar Dam and Reservoir not be included in the State's development plans of the Feather River Basin."

I have reviewed the board's report and concur with its conclusions and recommendations.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Encls.

Above transmitted copies of report referred to the Committee on Water.

The following communications were presented by the Chief Clerk from:

Mrs. May Strickland of Ontario, relative to legislation. Referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

We know, Our Father God, That we cannot legislate morality, responsible attitudes, right feelings, nor good will. Grant that we may, however, through good laws, help to provide the climate in which these things may grow and flourish. "There ought to be a law" is a phrase that has echoed through the empty corridors of history, but there must be something more than law, and for this something more, we humbly pray. Through the enactments of this Assembly we would spare children and youth from violence and crime; we would save our citizens from unfair discrimination on any basis; we would provide an economic foundation encouraging to all industry. May we so work, think, and decide that we may deserve to hear the tribute "well done, good and faithful servants" of the people.—AMEN.

Mr. Johnson was granted unanimous consent that the following remarks by Mr. Gaffney, delivered yesterday on the adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 31, be ordered printed in the Journal:

Remarks by Mr. Gaffney on the Passing of Pope Pius XII

Eugenio Pacelli, known to the world as Pope Pius the XII, exemplified two cardinal attributes of character during his entire priesthood and his long incumbency of the Papacy.

First, he manifested an endearment for all the people of the world, an intense interest and understanding affection for each man, woman, and child who met him in audience; in many instances, addressing the person in his native language and expressing an intimate acquaintance with, and a concern for the visitor's home city or country and its people.

Secondly, he will be remembered in history for his intense, unfaltering, and uncompromising enmity toward communism as destructive of the social, economic and spiritual rights of the human person and the human family.

His profound knowledge of divine and human law dictated his pronouncement that the tenets of communism would enslave labor and industry, deny love of country and neighbor, sever the bonds of the human family, and deprive the human spirit of its aspiration for an eternity with God.

In all humility, I ask we pay respect in this resolution to the memory of a militant champion of human rights, a profound scholar, and a gentle, humble servant of God and man.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Miller was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, January 27, 1959

Hon. Allen Miller
Assembly Chamber

Executive Secretary, District Agricultural Associations—No. 6698

DEAR MR. MILLER: You have asked three questions pertaining to the position of executive secretary of district agricultural associations. We will answer those questions in series.

Question No. 1

Can the present board of directors of an agricultural district association make the position of executive secretary civil service?

Opinion No. 1

The answer is yes, subject to the approval of the Department of Finance.

Analysis No. 1

Directors of a district agricultural association are state officers (Sec. 84, Ag. C.) and each association is a state institution (Sec. 86, Ag. C.).

Section 4 of Article XXIV of the State Constitution provides that the term "state civil service" shall include every officer and employee of this State, with certain exceptions. Subsection 15 of Section 4 excepts officers and employees of district agricultural associations employed less than six months in any one calendar year. Inasmuch as these associations are state institutions, the provisions of Section 4, Article XXIV of the State Constitution would apply to their officers and employees working six months or more in any calendar year.

A district agricultural association is authorized one employee exempt from state civil service (subsection 5, Section 4, Article XXIV, State Constitution). Under subsection 5, such exempt position must be a confidential position. As a matter of internal organization an exempt employee will usually hold the position of executive secretary or a position of similar designation. We have been informed by the Department of Finance that all executive secretaries in district agricultural associations are exempt employees and that no civil service class is established for this position.

There is no requirement that the board of directors of such association designate the executive secretary as the exempt position. This would be a matter of internal organization, and thus the executive secretary position would come within the provisions of Article XXIV of the State Constitution. It is the purpose of the Civil Service Act and Article XXIV of the State Constitution to place all employees under the Civil Service System unless specifically excepted (Stockburger v. Riley, 21 Cal. App 2d 165) Establishing the executive secretary's position as civil service would require the approval of the Department of Finance (to be discussed more fully under question No. 3) and would have to be accomplished in accordance with the rules and regulations of the State Personnel Board (Sec. 18500 et seq., Gov. C.).

Question No. 2

Can the present board of directors execute term contracts with its executive secretary who is exempt from civil service as its confidential employee which would be beyond the power of the board to change when its membership is no longer the same?

As a general rule members of boards and commissions cannot, in the exercise of governmental powers, as distinguished from proprietary functions, bind their successors by contracts extending beyond their term of office (73 C.J.S. 399; McQuillin, Municipal Corporations, p. 408). The board of directors of a district agricultural association consists of eight members (Sec. 81, Ag. C.) and the terms are so fixed that two members are appointed on the 15th day of January of each year (Sec. 82, Ag. C.).

Applying the above principles, a present board could not execute a contract with the executive secretary which would be enforceable as to a board when membership is no longer the same. It seems clear that such a contract would destroy the nature of the position which exempts it from civil service, the confidential relationship between the employee and the board.

Question No. 3

What power does the Department of Finance have to approve establishing the position of executive secretary as civil service, and approving contracts of employment with executive secretaries?

Opinion No. 3

In our opinion the Department of Finance has the power to approve such determinations.

Analysis No. 3

Section 87 of the Agricultural Code provides that the board of directors of the association may, with the approval of the Department of Finance, "fix the term of office, the amount of bond, salary and prescribe the duties of the secretary and of the treasurer." In the event the board of directors should determine to establish the executive secretary's position as one within civil service, it would be necessary to establish a salary and prescribe the duties of such position. Under the plain terms of Section 87, this could not be accomplished without the approval of the Department of Finance.

Section 84 of the Agricultural Code provides as follows:

> "The directors are State officers. They shall meet at a place within the district and organize by the election of one of their number as president, who shall hold such office for one year and until his successor is elected. The directors shall also elect a secretary and treasurer not of their number. One person may be both secretary and treasurer." (Emphasis ours)

It is to be noted that Section 84 of the Agricultural Code does not by its terms require approval of the Department of Finance for the election of a secretary and it might be argued that under this section the board of directors could appoint a secretary without such approval. However, we feel that a court would construe Section 84 as meaning only that the secretary could not also be a director and that the specific provisions of Section 87 would control. Such construction would conform to the general rule that specific provisions on a subject control over more general ones.

We have heretofore concluded that contracts of employment between the directors and the executive secretary could not bind future boards. It would be necessary, however, for the Department of Finance to approve any employment contract with the executive secretary. Under subsection (b) of Section 87, approval of the department is required in managing the affairs of the association. A contract of employment would come within this provision.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDSEL W. HAWS, Deputy Legislative Counsel

Adoption of amendments to any bill in the Assembly prior to third reading, other than by a roll call, shall not preclude subsequent consideration in committee or on the third reading of the bill, of such amendments, or any part thereof, by the Assembly.

Amendments From the Floor

72. Any member may move to amend a bill during its second or third reading and such motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

Before debate four copies of the proposed amendment must be delivered to the Clerk's desk and one copy made available to the author of the bill. Bills so amended on second reading shall be treated the same as committee amendments. Any bill so amended upon second or third reading shall be reprinted and re-engrossed. The Chief Clerk shall order printed as many copies of all amended bills as he may determine to be necessary.

Consideration of Bills Re-referred to Committee

73. Whenever a bill which has been amended, and re-referred to committee, is reported out by that committee, it shall be placed on the second reading file and shall not be transferred therefrom to the regular third reading file until the following day.

Consideration of Constitutional Amendments, Concurrent and Joint Resolutions

74. Constitutional amendments, concurrent and joint resolutions may be amended by a majority of the members present and shall be treated the same as bills, except that they shall be read but once. The ayes and noes shall not be called upon the adoption of concurrent resolutions, except those presenting charter amendments or authorizing expenditures of money, unless regularly demanded or required by statute or by the Constitution.

Bills Transmitted to the Senate

75. Upon the final passage of any bill if no notice of motion to reconsider such bill be given, the Speaker shall order the bill transmitted to the Senate under signature of the Chief Clerk. Senate bills refused passage shall forthwith be returned to the Senate under similar signature.

Bills Considered During Period Prior to Final Adjournment

76. See Joint Rule 23 for provisions governing bills considered during this period.

Concurrence in Senate Amendments

77. It shall require the same affirmative recorded vote to concur in any Senate amendment to an Assembly bill as the vote required by the Constitution for the passage of such bill. It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to concur in any Senate amendment to an Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution. The vote on concurrence shall be deemed the vote upon final passage of such bill. When Senate amendments to an Assembly bill are concurred in, the bill shall be forthwith ordered enrolled, and the Chief Clerk shall notify the Senate of such concurrence.

Nonconcurrence in Senate Amendments

78. If the Assembly refuse to concur in Senate amendments to an Assembly bill, and when notified that the Senate has refused to concur in Assembly amendments to a Senate bill, the Speaker shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference, and the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the Senate of the action taken by the Assembly and request the appointment of a like committee.

Committee on Conference

79. The Speaker, in appointing a committee on conference, shall select two members from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote.

Whether a member has voted with the majority or minority on the point about which the difference has arisen is determined by his vote on the appropriate roll call, as follows:

(a) The roll call on the question of final passage of a Senate bill amended in the Assembly when the Senate has refused to concur with the Assembly amendments;

(b) The roll call on the question of concurrence with Senate amendments to an Assembly bill.

Meetings and Reports of Committees on Conference

80. The Chairman of the Senate committee on conference for the same bill shall arrange the time and place of meeting of such committee. It shall require an affirmative vote of not less than two of the Assembly members and two of the Senate members constituting the committee on conference to agree upon a report, and the report shall be submitted to both the Senate and the Assembly. Such report is not subject to amendment, and if either house refuses to adopt such report, the conferees shall be discharged and other conferees appointed. No member who has served on a committee on conference shall be appointed a member of another committee on conference on the same bill The presentation and consideration of any report of a committee on conference shall always be in order, except during a roll call or when a member has the floor It shall require the same affirmative recorded vote to adopt any conference report as required by the Constitution upon the final passage of the bill affected by such report. It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to adopt any conference report affecting any Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation which are subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution

The vote on concurrence or upon the adoption of such conference report by the Assembly shall be deemed the vote upon final passage of such bill.

Engrossing and Enrolling Bills

81. The Engrossing and Enrolling Clerk shall engross and enroll all bills which shall come to his hands for such purpose, in compliance with provisions of Section 9503 of the Government Code, and in the order of time in which the same shall be acted upon by the Assembly.

Enrollment

82. After final passage by both houses, any Assembly bill not amended by the Senate shall be forthwith ordered by the Speaker to be enrolled, as provided in Sections 9508 and 9509 of the Government Code. The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall report both the day and hour each enrolled bill is presented to the Governor, which report shall be entered in the Journal.

Adoption of Resolutions

83. House resolutions and concurrent resolutions that do not require a recorded roll-call vote, such as resolutions of congratulation or sympathy, shall be listed under a separate heading in the printed Daily File. They shall be considered for adoption under that order of business, or at any other time as determined by the Speaker.

SECTION 4
PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Motions and Questions

Precedence of Motions During Debate

84. When a question is under debate or before the Assembly, no motions shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

First—To adjourn;
Second—To recess to a time certain;
Third—To lay on the table;
Fourth—For the previous question;
Fifth—To set as a special order;
Sixth—To postpone indefinitely;
Seventh—To refer to or re-refer;
Eighth—To amend.

Questions of Order Decided Without Debate

85. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for any of the questions named in Rule 84 and pending such motion, shall be decided by the Speaker without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise.

Appeal From Decision of the Speaker

86. Any member may appeal from a decision of the Speaker without waiting for recognition by the Speaker, even though another member has the floor. No appeal is in order when another is pending, or when other business has been transacted by the Assembly prior to the appeal being taken.

Upon the appeal being seconded, the Speaker may give his reasons for the decision, and the member taking the appeal may give his reasons for making his appeal, and the Speaker shall forthwith put this question to the Assembly: "Shall the decision of the Speaker be sustained?"

An appeal cannot be amended and yields only to a motion to recess or adjourn, to lay on the table, or a question of personal privilege. If an appeal be laid on the table, such action shall have no effect on the pending question.

An appeal cannot be debated when relating to indecorum, transgression of Rules, or priority of business. A majority vote of the members present shall decide any appeal.

Speaker Explains Order of Business

87. The Speaker may, on his own motion or upon the motion of any Member of the Assembly, explain the order of business when the motion pending before the Assembly is not debatable. Such explanation is not to consume more than two minutes.

To Adjourn

88. A motion to adjourn is not debatable and cannot be amended, and is always in order, except (a) when another member has the floor; (b) when the Assembly is voting; (c) during a call of the Assembly. The name of any member moving an adojurnment and also the hour at which the motion was made and adjournment taken shall be entered in the Journal. A motion to adjourn must be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state to the Assembly any fact relating to the condition of the business of the Assembly which would seem to render it improper or inadvisable to adjourn. A statement shall not occupy more than two minutes and shall not be debatable.

To Recess to a Time Certain

89. A motion to recess to a time certain shall be treated the same as a motion to adjourn, except that such motion is debatable when no business is before the Assembly, and can be amended as to the time and duration of the recess. It yields only to a motion to adjourn.

To Lay on the Table

90. A motion to lay on the table is not debatable and cannot be amended.

A motion to table a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership.

Any motion to lay on the table, if carried by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, carries with it the main question and everything that adheres to it; provided, however, that a motion to lay an amendment on the table, if adopted, does not carry with it a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent, joint, or House resolution.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

The Previous Question

91. The previous question shall be put only when demanded by five members, and in this form: "Shall the question be now put?" and its effect, when sustained by a majority of the members present, shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a vote only on the question then pending; except that the proponent of the matter pending shall be allowed not to exceed five minutes to close the debate.

Motion to Set Special Order

92. A motion to set any matter before the Assembly as a special order of business must be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members elected. It is debatable only as to the propriety of setting the main question as a special order of business, and may be amended only as to the time.

Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain

93. A motion to postpone to a time certain shall be deemed and treated as a motion to set as a special order.

Motion to Postpone Indefinitely

94. When a motion is made to postpone indefinitely any bill, motion, or amendment, it opens the main question to debate. Should the motion to postpone indefinitely prevail by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, the main question shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Amend

95. A motion to amend may itself be amended, but no "amendment to an amendment" can be amended. A motion to amend is debatable, except where the main question to be amended is not debatable. Any motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

A motion to amend having been decided in the negative, shall not again be in order on the same day, or at the same stage of proceeding. A motion to amend by striking out certain words having been decided in the negative, shall not preclude a motion to amend by adding words, or a motion to amend by striking out and inserting words; but in no case shall a further amendment be substantially the same as the one rejected.

Subject to the above provisions of this rule, a motion to amend is in order during the second or third reading of any bill.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present, as provided in Rule 90.

Amendment to Be Germane

96. No amendment to any bill, whether reported by a committee or offered by a member, shall be in order when such amendment relates to a different subject, or is intended to accomplish a different purpose, or requires a title essentially different from the original title of any bill.

No amendment shall be in order which adds or deletes the name of a member as an author or co-author, or which changes the original number of any bill.

Substitute Motion

97. A motion to substitute shall be deemed and treated as a motion to amend.

Motions in Writing

98. Upon request of the Speaker all motions shall be reduced to writing and shall be read to the Assembly by the Speaker before the same are acted upon.

Constitution of Motions

99. No motion, whether oral or written, shall be adopted until the same shall be seconded and distinctly stated to the Assembly by the Speaker.

Division of Questions

100. Any member may call for a division of the question, and the Speaker shall order the question divided if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly.

Withdrawal of Motions

101. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, or a bill, resolution, or petition read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Assembly.

Motion to Be Germane

102. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted as an amendment.

Motion to Withdraw and Recall Bills

103. A motion to withdraw a bill or resolution from committee, or to re-refer a bill or resolution from one committee to another committee may be made during the regular order of business. A motion to re-refer shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

No bill or resolution shall be withdrawn from committee and placed upon the file except upon two days' notice thereof and except by a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Re-reference of Measures on File

104. A motion to re-refer a bill or resolution that is on the Assembly Daily File to committee may be made during the regular order of business. The motion shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Bills Stricken From File

105. A motion to strike from the file any bill or House resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership. Such bill shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Rescind Action and Expunge Record

106. Previous to the approval of the Journal by the Assembly, any action may be rescinded and its record ordered expunged by an affirmative recorded vote sufficient to take such action originally; except that no action shall be rescinded and the record expunged by a vote less than a majority of the entire elected membership. No motion to rescind the action and expunge the record shall be made twice on the same proposition.

Whenever any action of the Assembly is rescinded and its record ordered expunged, the record of the action expunged shall not appear in any form whatsoever, but the record of the proceedings on the motion to rescind and expunge shall appear in the Assembly Journal as and when printed.

Reconsideration of Vote

107. Notice of a motion to reconsider on the next legislative day, the vote whereby any bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution was passed or refused passage, must be given on the same day such vote to be so reconsidered was taken.

A notice of motion to reconsider a vote must be given by a member voting on the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, and shall take precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn. Upon such notice of motion being given, the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall forthwith be placed upon the unfinished business file, and no further action shall be taken prior to the next legislative day. When a notice of a motion to reconsider has once been made, the same shall be considered to be the property of the Assembly.

Any member voting on any motion, amendment, concurrence, Assembly resolution or proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, may give notice of reconsideration of the vote whereby the same was passed or refused passage on the same day such vote to be reconsidered was taken, which notice shall suspend all further consideration until the next legislative day; provided, however, that a motion to reconsider on the same day the notice was given shall take precedence over and above such notice and upon demand of any member must be put to an immediate vote. A motion to reconsider any proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership.

No notice of motion for reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day for consideration of Assembly or Senate bills in the Assembly. No motion to reconsider shall be adopted except upon an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership, except that it shall require a two-thirds vote of the entire elected membership to reconsider the vote on any matter originally requiring a two-thirds vote for its passage or adoption

When reconsideration is granted, the bill shall resume its exact position before the Assembly previous to its being voted upon.

Call of Assembly

108. After the roll has been called, and prior to the announcement of the vote, any member may move a call of the Assembly. A majority of the members present may order a call of the Assembly, and the Speaker shall immediately order the Sergeant-at-Arms to lock all doors and shall direct the Clerk to prepare a list of absentees as disclosed by the last roll call, which list of absentees shall be furnished to the Sergeant-at-Arms. Thereupon no members shall be permitted to leave the Assembly Chamber except by written permission of the Speaker, and no person shall be permitted to enter except such member as is taken into custody as herein provided, or Senators, officers, attaches, or employees of the Legislature in the official performance of their duties.

Those members who are found to be absent, and for whom no leaves of absence have been granted, shall be forthwith taken into custody wherever found by the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistants or any person designated by the Sergeant-at-Arms, including members of the California Highway Patrol, the State Police, and sheriffs or their deputies, and brought to the Assembly Chamber. No recess or adjournment shall be taken during a call of the Assembly. During such call, the Assembly may consider and transact any matter of business by unanimous consent. No call of the Assembly shall be ordered on any matter while the Assembly is already under call. A call of the Assembly may be dispensed with at any time upon a majority vote of the members present, such action to become effective upon the completion of the roll call and the announcement of the vote upon the matter for which the call was ordered.

Resolutions

109. The adoption of any resolution authorizing the expenditure of money shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of all members elected to the Assembly. All House resolutions shall be numbered and shall be referred to the appropriate committee by the Speaker.

Motions and Resolutions

110. Any motion or resolution not otherwise provided for under the Rules shall be placed before the Assembly only under this order of business. Unless otherwise provided by law or Assembly rule, any motion or resolution may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

Adjournment

111. Adjournment sine die shall be ordered by concurrent resolution. The resolution for adjournment sine die shall be adopted by the Assembly not less than seven days before the date set therein for such adjournment.

Members' Decorum and Privileges

Order in Speaking to Questions

112. When a member desires to address the Assembly, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr. Speaker." Upon being recognized, he may speak, confining himself to the question under consideration. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall designate the member who is entitled to the floor.

No member shall speak more than once during the consideration of any one question on the same day and at the same stage of proceeding, except that the author of a bill or resolution or the mover of a question shall have the right to open and close the debate thereon. No member shall be allowed to speak more than 10 minutes to open and five minutes to close the debate thereon, and no member other than the author or the mover of the question shall be allowed to speak more than five minutes thereon. No member shall yield to any other member the time for which he is entitled to speak on any matter.

Motions

112.5. When a member desires to make a motion, he shall obtain recognition as provided in Rule 112. Upon being recognized he shall open by stating his motion, except in the case of a nomination, and in any other case shall not speak to the merits of the motion at that time and shall confine his remarks to those necessary to explain the motion. If the motion is in order and is seconded, it shall be stated to the Assembly by the Speaker. If the motion is debatable, the member who made it shall then be entitled to recognition to open the debate thereon.

When a member obtains the floor during debate upon any question that is pending before the Assembly and addresses the Assembly regarding the merits of the pending question, he shall not be permitted to conclude his debate by making any motion or by demanding the previous question.

Leave of Absence

113. No member shall absent himself from attendance at any session of the Assembly without leave of the Assembly, and no member shall obtain such leave of absence or be excused for nonattendance, except by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to the Assembly, or by unanimous consent.

Personal Privilege

114. Any member may rise to explain a matter personal to himself and shall forthwith be recognized by the Speaker, but shall not discuss a question in such explanation. Such matters of personal privilege yield only to a motion to recess or adjournment.

Objection to Reading of Any Paper

115. Any member upon recognition by the Speaker may object to the reading of any paper before the Assembly. After such objection, the question of reading shall be determined without debate by a majority vote of the members present, upon a brief statement of its substance by the Speaker.

Members Called to Order for Transgressing Rules

116. a. If any member transgresses the Rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call the offending member to order. The member so called to order shall immediately take his seat, until the Speaker without debate, shall have determined whether he is in order or not. Such decision by the Speaker shall be subject to an appeal to the Assembly.

b. If any member be called to order for offensive words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall state to the Assembly the words to which exception is taken. No member shall be held to answer, or be subject to censure by the Assembly, for language used in debate, if other business shall have been transacted by the Assembly prior to exception being taken to the words spoken.

Members Voting

117. Every member in the Assembly Chamber when a roll call is required shall record his vote openly and without debate, unless the Assembly shall, by a majority vote of the members present, excuse him.

The name of any member who refuses to vote as required by this rule, after being requested by the Speaker to do so, shall be entered in the Journal of the Assembly, together with a statement that he was present and did so refuse to vote Any member who refuses so to vote may, if he so desires, and immediately after the announcement of the vote, submit a written explanation of his failure to vote and have such explanation printed in the Journal, provided no such explanation shall exceed 50 words in length.

In addition to the entry of his name in the Journal, any member who refuses so to vote when required, and who has not been excused from doing so, may, immediately after the announcement of the vote, in the discretion of the Speaker or upon demand of any member, be summoned to appear before the bar of the Assembly for public censure by the Speaker or by any member designated by the Speaker. Censure of a member as provided by this rule shall not constitute a bar to proceedings for his expulsion from the Assembly pursuant to Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution.

A member may submit a written explanation of his vote on any bill or House resolution, and have such explanation printed in the Journal immediately following such vote, provided no such explanation shall exceed 50 words in length.

Compensation and Expenses of Member Convicted of Felony

118. If a Member of the Assembly is convicted of a felony by a superior court, his right to further compensation or expenses is thereupon suspended and his membership on any interim committee is suspended. If such conviction becomes final, the right of the member to further compensation or expenses shall terminate and any compensation or expenses withheld shall be forfeited to the State. If the conviction is reversed by an appellate court or a motion for a new trial is granted and the member is thereafter found not guilty or the charges against him are dismissed, the amounts of the withheld compensation or expenses shall be paid to the member and the suspension of his committee membership shall terminate.

Whenever a member is convicted of a felony in the superior court, the Assembly Rules Committee shall give written notice to the State Controller, directing him to discontinue any further payments to the member unless and until the Rules Committee notifies the State Controller that the member has been found not guilty or that the charges against him are dismissed. The State Controller shall not draw any warrant payable to any such member except as provided in this rule.

Ayes and Noes

119. The ayes and noes shall be recorded by the electrical voting system on the final passage of all bills, or by viva voce when demanded by three members or when ordered by the Speaker, and on any other question when called for by three members or ordered by the Speaker, the names of which members shall be entered in the Journal.

Voting Not to Be Interrupted

120. When once begun, voting shall not be interrupted, except that before the vote is announced, any member may have the total pending vote flashed on the visible vote recorder. Prior to the announcement of the vote the Speaker shall inquire if all members have voted. Any member may move a call of the Assembly after the completion of the roll and prior to the final recording, but no member shall be allowed to change his vote, or have his vote recorded after the vote is announced.

Members at Clerk's Desk

121. No member or other person shall be allowed at the Clerk's desk while the ayes and noes are being recorded or the votes counted.

Tie Vote

122. In case of an equal division, or tie vote, the question shall be lost.

"Two-thirds of the Entire Elected Membership" Defined

123. Wherever the words or figures, "two-thirds of the entire elected membership" appear in any rule, it shall mean 54 votes.

Assembly Expenses Between Sessions

124. Pursuant to the powers vested in the Assembly Committee on Rules, and during such times as the assembly is not in session, the committee is authorized and directed to incur and pay such expenses of the Assembly not otherwise provided for as the committee determines are reasonably necessary, including repair, alteration, improvement and equipping of the Assembly Chamber and the offices provided for the Assembly in the State Capitol.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

O God, What shall we do with the profusion of bills? And still they come! Keep us faithful to our homework as good students. No matter the complexity of the issues, let there be no despair of understanding, and no shrinking from difficult decisions to be made; neither let there be any excuse for ignorance. Make effective in committee those who inquire, estimate, and recommend. May the right questions be asked so that the right answers may be made. Deliver every lawmaker from riding a hobby or having an obsession for a special interest to the point of blindness in other matters. We pray for the sake of the people, and in the name of Jesus Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 10, 1959

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly:

A month ago, my mail on air pollution brought a letter from Los Angeles which has left a deep imprint. The letter began, "I am a girl of 11, almost 12, and I would like to grow up." Quite unmistakably without the aid of her parents, the young lady observed, "The smog here in Los Angeles is so thick that it's pitiful—so thick that we could not tell if we were pink or blue." She concluded by saying, "Since you are Governor, I thought that maybe you could do something about it."

This letter brings the problem of smog into a compelling focus. No responsibility we have is more important than making certain that our children have a chance to grow up. No duty that we perform is more pressing than insuring that the people of our State can live in health and happiness.

People who have suffered the stifling effect of smog need no survey to convince them that it interferes with our health and our happiness. But the statistics are nevertheless significant.

Preliminary figures from the 1958 Survey of the State Department of Public Health show that more than 3 out of 10 adults in this State are bothered by air pollution in their home communities. The survey indicates that in Los Angeles and Orange Counties, more than half the adults are plagued by smog. The great majority of those affected reported severe eye or nasal irritation

An earlier aspect of the same survey indicated that at least 11 percent of the people who moved out of Los Angeles County in the last decade did so because of the smog. The survey showed that about 700,000 people in Los Angeles County alone, and 6 percent of the people in the State as a whole, have given serious thought to moving out of their communities because of air pollution. Smog, the survey indicates, is an important cause of job dissatisfaction, leading to high labor turnover and a significant economic loss.

Our health officials and our doctors are gravely concerned that the eye irritation and immediate discomfort from smog may only be the top of the iceberg. Almost without exception, they fear that the bulk of the injury to our health from smog may be under the surface, temporarily hidden from view. It is widely believed that in 10 or 20 years, chronic diseases may result from exposure to smog which took place this year.

Disturbing evidence accumulates that air pollution may be a factor in lung cancer. Chemical studies in California and elsewhere have revealed the presence of cancer-producing substances in polluted air. We know now that substances found in the air can cause cancer in animals. Studies have also demonstrated that lung cancer is more frequent and more deadly in cities than in rural areas, and the higher rate of cigarette smoking in cities will not account for all the difference.

There is also a strong suspicion that smog may cause or complicate emphysema, a chronic lung condition impairing the oxygen exchange between air and blood. In California, deaths from emphysema were nearly four times as high in 1957 as they had been only seven years earlier.

Scientists in England have shown that mortality from chronic lung conditions, including what we call emphysema, are associated with the fog index and that outdoor workers in heavily polluted areas are more severely affected than other workers. Another recent English medical study shows that the "degree of illness" of chronic bronchitis patients increased when air pollution did.

These English studies lead our researchers to suspect that the startling increase in emphysema deaths in California may be attributable to air pollution. Of course, careful investigation will be essential before firm conclusions can be drawn.

These are only examples of the chronic diseases in which air pollution is thought to play a part. Many experienced physicians are firmly convinced that smog is also an insidious influence on patients with heart disease, asthma, allergies, and many other chronic sicknesses.

A recent survey by the Los Angeles County Medical Association dramatizes the deep concern of doctors about the smog problem. Among the doctors who expressed an opinion, 95 percent said they recognized a smog syndrome which has symptoms similar to poisoning from ozone, peroxides, aldehydes and oxides of nitrogen. Eighty-seven percent of the doctors who stated their views, as well as over 80 percent of the cancer specialists, said that they believe that smog is a contributing factor in cancer of the lungs and air passages. Eighty-seven percent of the chest specialists said that smog aggravates lung diseases, and 60 percent said that they had recommended to patients that they move from the area because of the smog. Fifty-six percent of the doctors who expressed themselves—and a much higher percentage of certain specialists—said that they knew of people who left the Los Angeles area because of smog.

Beyond these disquieting facts relating to chronic diseases lurks the ever-present danger that air pollution aggravated by adverse weather conditions may produce a major disaster. While our knowledge about air pollution disasters of the past is far from adequate, we already know enough to be genuinely concerned.

In London in December 1952, in the midst of a cold heavy fog combined with air pollution, hospital admissions for diseases of the heart and lungs rose sharply and the death rate for a 10-day period was 4,000 higher than the normal. In 1956, a similar episode claimed about 1,000 lives, and again in the last few days, press accounts indicate that a killer-smog has pervaded London. Lethal attacks of air pollution were also reported in the Meuse Valley in Belgium in 1930 and in Poza Rica, Mexico in 1950.

Here in the United States, a similar disaster occurred in October, 1948, in Donora, Pennsylvania, an industrial town located in a steep valley. Fifteen deaths occurred and two-fifths of the population suffered definite symptoms during a week in which unusual weather conditions caused a concentration of industrial pollutants.

In stressing the health dangers of air pollution, I do not want to minimize the other serious consequences of the smog which hangs over our State. We know that air pollution causes serious crop damage. Our agricultural scientists estimate that smog completely ruins $8,000,000 worth of agricultural products every year in California alone. In the southern San Joaquin Valley, for instance, there is striking evidence of injury to such major crops as cotton, alfalfa, and grapes.

We also know that smog reduces visibility. This not only mars our scenery but it also endangers people traveling by air and produces accidents and delays on our freeways and highways

In California, smog is increasingly a statewide menace to our health. While Los Angeles remains the most critical area, smog has invaded the San Francisco area, the San Diego area, the San Joaquin Valley, and the Sacramento area, as well as the counties surrounding Los Angeles. Weather experts believe that every major metropolitan area of the State has a potential smog problem. In general terms, the air pollution problem of other metropolitan areas is now comparable to that which existed in Los Angeles after World War II.

From my study of this problem, I am convinced that we must adopt a new and constructive program to enlist the resources of the State in the fight against air pollution. I have found no magic cure-all for the riddle of smog. I offer you neither nonsense nor nostrums. Instead, I propose that the State take the following pioneering and positive steps.

First. I urge you to enact legislation to require the State Department of Public Health to develop and publish standards for the discharge of pollutants from motor vehicle exhausts by February 1, 1960. California should become the first state to undertake this vital task.

It is widely recognized that the most urgent control problem is to curb pollutants discharged from vehicle exhausts. Just as we combat water pollution by establishing standards for sewage disposal, so we must fight smog by clamping down on this prime source of noxious gases and smoke.

Widespread public insistence and effective newspaper work now appear to have spurred the development of an exhaust control device. However, as late as last November, a spokesman of the automobile industry referred to smog as a "mere pinprick" and urged us to avoid emotionalism. If any vestige of this complacency remains, I urge that it be abandoned immediately. Companies which trifle with the public health or scoff at the genuine alarm of the people about smog are certain to regret it in the long run. They will learn to their sorrow that the health of the people is more important than tailfins or chrome.

When the antismog devices are developed, the exhaust discharge standards will provide a vital basis for legislation which may be necessary to compel their use. The standards will also provide an essential tool for enforcement officials and the general public to measure the overall effectiveness of the devices. A number of different pollutants apparently flow from the exhausts of cars. We must be certain that the devices offered to the public will not ignore a noxious gas, or increase one as they remove another.

Second. I have instructed the Director of the Department of Motor Vehicles to launch an immediate study to determine the most efficient system for the inspection of vehicle exhaust discharges. Periodic inspection apparently will be necessary to insure the efficient operation of any of the proposed devices or methods to remove pollutants from vehicle exhausts. When a workable device is ready, we must be prepared with plans for a sensible inspection system.

Third. I urge you to enact legislation which will require the State Department of Public Health to develop and publish standards for the quality of the air we breathe by February 1, 1960. Years ago, the spread of disease and sickness required health authorities to develop standards for our drinking water. The time has now come for California to take the lead and establish standards for the purity of air.

Standards for safe air will give local control officials and health officers a measuring stick for smog. It is essential that we know what level of pollution threatens death or illness, or impairs the health of our people. Unless we establish these guideposts, we risk our happiness, our health, and, indeed, our lives.

Neither the standards for safe air nor those for vehicle exhausts will be static. They can be refined and improved as we increase our knowledge of the causes and effects of smog. But we now know enough to make an important beginning.

In developing these standards, the State Department of Public Health should have the assistance of its own outstanding Advisory Committee on Air Sanitation as well as air pollution experts from the University of California It should seek the advice of the United States Public Health Service and other qualified scientific consultants. And public hearings should be held so that there will be opportunity for a full presentation of views on this vital subject. We must be prepared, this year and in the future, to dedicate major resources to the vital work on these standards.

Fourth. I recommend the establishment in Los Angeles of a state-supported Air Pollution Field Unit of the Department of Public Health. This unit would be charged with responsibility for an intensive study of both the acute and the chronic effects of smog. To provide expert guidance for this unit, we must also maintain a strong core staff of chronic disease specialists in the Department of Public Health. I am convinced that we must install a skilled research team in the area of greatest smog concentration and that we must also strengthen the headquarters staff to supervise it.

Fifth I recommend that funds for contract research on air pollution should be further increased. Research on smog was one of the few items to receive added support in my stringent budget Weighing the urgency of this problem, I now recommend still more funds for contract research on smog. This would include closed-chamber tests to determine the effects of various quantities of air pollutants on human beings, a statewide survey of the immediate effects of smog on people's health, experiments on the mixture of air pollutants and fog-like droplets of water, studies on the resistance of human lungs to the flow of polluted air, and the development of biologic organisms as an index of air pollution. In view of the suspected relationship of smog to chronic diseases as well as our concern about smog disasters, it is plain that we can no longer afford the price of ignorance.

Sixth. I recommend the creation of a regional air pollution control district in the San Joaquin Valley. Weather experts advise us that air conditions in the valley invite dangerous pollution as industry expands there. A regional district, modeled on the Bay area district, will provide a practical mechanism for efficient, effective control. If we take prompt action, smog can be curbed before it gains a foothold and threatens the people and crops in this rich area.

In making these recommendations, I have acted on the premise that all levels of government—the county, the State and the Federal Government—have important duties in the fight against smog. I believe our present statutes are basically right in vesting primary responsibility for control and enforcement in the local control districts, or, in some instances, in regional districts. Wide variations in geography, weather, and population density mark our State. Communities or regions should have freedom to tailor their control and enforcement to local conditions, so long as their conduct does not endanger the health or economy of other communities or regions.

Earlier I sent messages to the President of the United States and to our Senators and Representatives in Congress urging that the United States shoulder its share of the burden. Now in this message I have outlined the obligations which I am convinced must be assumed by the State. The dimensions of this problem plainly require a major effort by all of us.

Air pollution, I would observe in conclusion, stands out as one of the major health problems in our changing environment. It is no excuse for apathy to acknowledge that we cannot promise miracles. We must press forward in the fight against smog with the same dedication, the same diligence, that has brought eventual victory over other threats to our health. Let us resolve that our children will have a full opportunity to grow up and flourish in the clean, clear air of California.

Respectfully,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

House Resolution No. 81

Relative to contumacious witnesses appearing before the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary

WHEREAS, The Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary has reported to the Assembly, pursuant to Government Code Section 9407, the contempt committed during this Session of the Legislature, to wit, on January 23, 1959, before said committee by Gene Burg and by Jack Fine, also known as Jack Kessler; and

WHEREAS, The report of said subcommittee clearly establishes that the contumacious refusal of said Gene Burg and Jack Fine to answer material questions asked by the subcommittee not only constituted contempt of said subcommittee, but also that they wilfully and without lawful excuse violated an order of the Superior Court of the State of California, in and for the County of Los Angeles, heretofore issued by the Hon. Philbrick McCoy, judge, and thereby committed a contempt of court; and

WHEREAS, While further proceedings under Section 9408 for contempt of court may later prove to be desirable, the wilful refusal on the part of said Gene Burg and Jack Fine to comply with said order of the Superior Court of the State of California and to answer questions which have already been determined by the superior court to be material and proper constitutes a misdemeanor under Government Code Section 9412 and under Penal Code Section 166 and should be prosecuted as such; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Chairman of the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary is instructed to file a complaint with the City Prosecutor of the City of Los Angeles; and be it further

Resolved, That said city prosecutor is requested to prosecute said Gene Burg and Jack Fine to the fullest extent of the law; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit to the City Prosecutor of the City of Los Angeles the Report of the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary concerning the contempt committed by said Gene Burg and Jack Fine, and a copy of this resolution.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Bruce F. Allen was granted unanimous consent that the following letter of transmittal and Report of the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary be ordered printed in the Journal:

CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY
SACRAMENTO, February 10, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown and
Members of the Assembly

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to Section 9407 of the Government Code, the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary transmits herewith its report on the contempt committed by Gene Burg and Jack Fine before said subcommittee at a hearing held in the State Building in Los Angeles on January 23, 1959.

Very truly yours,

BRUCE F. ALLEN

REPORT OF SUBCOMMITTEE ON RACKETS OF ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON JUDICIARY

SACRAMENTO, February 9, 1959

Assembly Chamber, Sacramento

MR. SPEAKER: We, the undersigned, members of the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary, hereby report to your honorable body, the Assembly of the State of California, pursuant to Section 9407 of the Government Code, as follows:

That the Assembly Committee on Judiciary was created by, and given the powers and duties specified in, House Resolution No. 224 of the 1957 Regular Session and was continued in existence until March 16, 1959, by House Resolution No. 25 of this session, with all the powers and duties previously conferred upon it;

That the Subcommittee on Rackets was created, as authorized by Rule 36 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly and Section 37 of Article IV of the Constitution, by letter of the Chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary;

That said letter authorized and directed said subcommittee to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the system of laws and judicial administration of the State, including, but not limited to, all laws relating to crimes and the manner of punishment therefor, control of subversive activities, civil rights, administration of justice, bribery, fraud, influence peddling, civil and administrative actions and proceedings and remedies, and the needed revision of any and all laws in any way bearing upon or related to the subject of House Resolution No. 224;

That said subcommittee consisted of Bruce F. Allen, Chairman, Clark L. Bradley, William Biddick, Jr., Thomas J. MacBride, and Bruce Sumner;

That said subcommittee commenced an investigation to determine whether the existing laws relating to crimes and the manner of punishment therefor are adequate to cope with criminal elements operating within industry, including specifically the garment industry, or whether changes in such laws are necessary to protect the public;

That said subcommittee received information, in the form of testimony of witnesses and reports of its investigators, indicating that certain manufacturers and contractors in the garment industry were being coerced into making payments to certain persons, said payments taking the form of salaries or commissions for fictitious services; that coercive methods were used to induce such manufacturers and contractors to hire the services of particular truckers and of persons purchasing salvage materials from such manufacturers and contractors; that persons who had engaged in criminal activities in the garment industry in the eastern United States had converged on California with intent to engage in criminal activities in California;

That in order to ascertain whether, and to what extent, the information mentioned in the preceding paragraph was accurate and whether, and to what extent, deficiencies in the existing penal laws were responsible for the existence of said conditions, said subcommittee duly scheduled and held a meeting in Room 115 of the State Building in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, commencing on January 14, 1958;

That Jack Fine and Gene Burg did appear before said subcommittee, a quorum thereof being present at all times, at said meeting pursuant to subpoenas duly served upon them in accordance with law, and then and there refused to answer material questions asked of them as more particularly set forth in the following excerpts from the transcript of the proceedings:

That thereafter, pursuant to Section 9408 of the Government Code, your subcommittee filed petitions in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles to compel said Jack Fine and Gene H. Burg to answer said questions and other material and proper questions;

That after notice and hearing the Honorable Philbrick McCoy, Judge of said superior court, concluded that said Jack Fine and Gene Burg had wilfully and without legal justification refused to answer material questions asked of them by a legally constituted subcommittee of the Assembly of the State of California, and issued an order to said Jack Fine and Gene Burg pursuant to Section 9408 of the Government Code directing them, and each of them, to appear before the Subcommittee on Rackets of the Assembly Interim Judiciary Committee at its hearing at a time and place to be fixed by the subcommittee and then and there answer the questions set forth in the petitions on file in the cause and any other material questions asked by the subcommittee;

That said findings, conclusions and order were duly served on said Jack Fine and Gene Burg;

That acting pursuant to said order and pursuant to the powers vested in it by House Resolution 224 and 25 mentioned above, said subcommittee scheduled a hearing on January 23, 1959, at 9.30 a.m. in Room 115, State Building, Los Angeles, and duly issued and served subpoenas on said Jack Fine and Gene Burg to appear and testify at said hearing;

That at the time and place specified said Gene Burg appeared with counsel and was then and there furnished a true and correct copy of the order of Judge Philbrick McCoy mentioned above, and thereafter wilfully refused to answer the following questions:

"Q. Mr. Burg, did you visit Mike Silvers' garment factory on or about November 17, 1953?

"Q. Mr. Burg, who sent you to the Mike Silvers' garment factory in November, 1953?

"Q. Do you know Tom Simone?
"Q. Do you know James Fratiano?
"Q. Did you have a telephone conversation with Charles Battaglio in December, 1952?
"Q. After you were convicted of your participation in the wrecking of Mike Silvers' garment plant, and while you were in the custody of the State at Soledad State Prison did you have any conversation there with James Fratiano?
"Q. On or about February 6, 1954, did you appear or be present in the Superior Court here in Los Angeles in a trial then being held of James Fratiano on a change of extortion?
"Q. Do you know John Tripodi?
"Q. Who was with you the night this garment factory of Mike Silvers was wrecked?
"Q. Are you presently under the influence of narcotics?
"Q. Mr. Burg, did you correspond by mail with John Tripodi while you were at Soledad Penitentiary?
"Q. While you were at Soledad Penitentiary and corresponded with John Tripodi was James Fratiano also an inmate of that institution?";

That at the time and place specified Jack Fine appeared with counsel and was then and there furnished with a true and correct copy of the order of Judge Philbrick McCoy mentioned above, and thereafter wilfully refused to answer the following questions:

"Q. What is your occupation, Mr. Fine?
"Q. Do you know a man by the name of Sam Miller?
"Q. Didn't you occupy a room at the Harvey Hotel in Los Angeles with Sam Miller in March of 1955?
"Q. Where do you live?
"Q. Have you ever been engaged in bookmaking?
"Q. Are you engaged in bookmaking at the present time?
"Q. Do you know Bennie Stein, who is known to the committee as a bookmaker, who has engaged in that activity in Los Angeles?
"Q. Do you know Herbert Fried, also known as 'Happy' Meltzer?
"Q. I will show you check number 4398 of Norad's Sportswear, Inc., dated September 20, 1957, in the amount of $75, and ask you if that is your signature on the back?
"Q. Were you ever employed by either Abraham Schafler or Norad's Sportswear, Inc.?
"Q. Do you have any connection with any union?
"Q. Do you get money, such as the check just showed you, or any other money from any garment manufacturers in Los Angeles County?
"Q. Referring to the check which I previously showed you, with your signature on the back, what appears to be your signature, did you keep the money in your own right that is represented by that check?
"Q. Do you know a Henry Auerbach, A-u-e-r-b-a-c-h?

"Q. The committee has information that you informed Henry Auerbach, a bookie, to give to his probation officer the names of Harry and Louis Levitt, L-e-v-i-t-t, as his place of employment.

"Q. Did you give any such advice to Henry Auerbach?

"Q. Do you know Mr. "B"?

"Q. Isn't Mr. "B" the owner of the Chestnut Room in Santa Monica?

"Q. And hasn't Mr. "B" been a partner with you in a bookkeeping operation known as the Santa Monica book?

"Q. What is the correct name of Mr. "B"?

"Q. Do you know Jack West, a person known to the committee as a bookmaker?

"Q. The committee has information indicating that you have engaged in bookmaking in association with Jack West, also known as Jack Wesotsky, W-e-s-o-t-s-k-y, a person having a New York conviction for bribery in 1952; is that correct?

"Q. Mr. Fine, it is a matter of record that Mr. West is now a fugitive, having jumped bail, and there is a no-bail warrant out for his arrest.

"The committee has information that subsequent to Mr. West's leaving these parts you took over the operation of his book in the Santa Monica area; is that correct?

"Q. The committee also has information that from time to time Herbie Fried, also known as Harold 'Happy' Meltzer, has been observed using your automobile or an automobile registered in your name. Is that a fact?

"Q. You were previously questioned by the committee as to Mr. Sam Miller, your acquaintance and occupying a room with him at the Harvey Hotel. Isn't it a fact that Mr. Sam Miller is also known as Morris Sedikaner and at that time was a fugitive on a charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution?

"Q. Haven't you from time to time worked as a clerk in Harold Meltzer's store known as Dabill?

"Q. Isn't it a fact that your alleged roommate, Sam Miller, also known as Morris Sedikaner, was apprehended by the FBI in the parking lot adjoining Harold Meltzer's store, the Dabill?

"Q. Referring to the Chestnut Room the committee has information that Mr. Henry Auerbach and others operating relay stations in a book allegedly operated by you were instructed and did pick up their paychecks at the Chestnut Room in Santa Monica.

"Q. Did you ever cash any of the checks you received from Abe Schafler, doing business as Norad, at the Chestnut Room?

"Q. After Murray Stein left Los Angeles early in 1958, isn't it a fact that you took over what is known as his action in the downtown district in bookmaking?

"Q. Isn't it a fact that the first check you received from Abe Schafler, doing business as Norad Sportswear, was on or about January 31, 1957?

"Q. Isn't it a fact, Mr. Fine, that on the date shown on that check of January 31, 1957, that you were actually in the county jail on a charge of bookmaking, on which you were later convicted or plead guilty?

"Q. It has been stated that you were a commission man, salesman or commission salesman for Norad Sportswear all during the time that you received these checks. Were you, in that first week when you were in the county jail, performing your duties as a commission man, in '57?

"Q. BY CHAIRMAN ALLEN: Well, let's clear this up. Mr. Fine, were you in jail around any time on or near January 31, 1957?

"Q. BY MR. HARRIS: Isn't it a fact that during the period covered by your first check from Norad Sportswear, Inc., this check was dated January 31, 1957, that some time during that week preceding that day you were in custody in a jail here in Los Angeles?";

That the refusal of each of said witnesses to testify was based on the contention that the committee has lost jurisdiction by reason of the 1957 Legislative Session having terminated as of January 5, 1959, and has no power to investigate any fact whatsoever; and for the reason that the scope of the inquiry as announced is not within the scope of the legislative investigation;

That said refusal of each witness to answer said questions constitutes a violation of the said order of Judge Philbrick McCoy and a contempt of the superior court, as well as a contempt of this committee and of the Assembly;

That said contempt was committed during the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature and your subcommittee hereby reports the same to the Assembly pursuant to Section 9407 of the Government Code for such action as may be deemed necessary by the Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

BRUCE F. ALLEN — THOMAS J. MACBRIDE
BRUCE SUMNER — CLARK L. BRADLEY
WILLIAM BIDDICK, JR.

Subject matter of above report referred to the Committee on Rules.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

Search us deeply, O God, That on this Ash Wednesday, we may turn our ill-accustomed hearts to true repentance. May we remember the life and passion of the humblest man earth has known, not vainly as a thing long gone, but as a living, compelling present reality; and so may these days of Lent be to each one of us a glad springtime of the soul. Let us not merely give up for a season some things that we ought to give up anyway, but may we crowd out of our lives all unworthiness by the expulsive power of a new affection for Him who came saying: "If any man would come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me."—AMEN.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

STATE BUILDING STANDARDS COMMISSION
SACRAMENTO, January 26, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
State Capitol Building, Sacramento

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: Section 18909 of the Health and Safety Code requires that the State Building Standards Commission shall biennially submit a report of its activities together with recommendations for legislation to the Governor and the Legislature. We submit herewith the third biennial report covering the calendar years of 1958 and 1959.

The commission has been hampered in carrying out the intent and purpose of the Building Standards Act by technical and legal provisions of the law. The commission believes that if the intent and purpose of the act is to be accomplished, several amendments will be necessary. This report contains the commission's recommendations with respect to the sections of the act which they feel are in need of amendment and have set forth at the bottom of each amendment the reason for and an explanation of the proposed change.

The commission will be happy to provide any additional information desired.

Sincerely,

JOE R. YOCKERS, Secretary
State Building Standards Commission

Encl.

THIRD BIENNIAL REPORT OF THE STATE BUILDING STANDARDS COMMISSION

Sacramento, January 2, 1959

To: Hon. Governor Edmund G Brown
Hon. Ralph Brown, Speaker of the Assembly
Hon. Hugh Burns, President pro Tempore of the Senate

FROM: Ernest C. Hillman, Chairman, Structural Engineer, Los Angeles; A. W. Russell, Vice Chairman, Chief Building Inspector, San Mateo County; Joe R. Yockers, Secretary, State Fire Marshal, Sacramento; Members: Anson Boyd, State Architect, Sacramento; Frank F. Burrows, Contractor, Belmont; Andrew T. Hass, Architect, San Francisco; Walter Zuetel, Retired Building Official, Pasadena; W. C. Jacobsen, Department of Agriculture, Sacramento; Dr. Malcolm H Merrill, Director of Public Health, Berkeley; Dr. M. E. Porter, Director of Mental Hygiene, Sacramento; John F. Henning, Director of Industrial Relations, San Francisco; George K. Wyman, Director of Social Welfare, Sacramento; George Uhl, M.D., Los Angeles City Health Officer, Los Angeles; and Harry A. Cobden, Senior Building Code Analyst, Sacramento.

I. History

The State Building Standards Commission was created by the Legislature and approved by the Governor in 1953.

The membership consists of seven state officials which are: the State Architect, the State Fire Marshal, the Director of Public Health, the Director of Social Welfare, the Director of Agriculture, the Director of Industrial Relations, the Director of Mental Hygiene; and six members appointed by the Governor.

The State Building Standards Commission was created after a three-year interim study by the Legislature. This interim committee made an exhaustive study and investigation into the entire field of building regulations on a state level, and a study of proposals for corrective legislation to relieve the burden imposed on contractors, owners, architects and the entire building industry by conflicting and duplicate building regulations between state agencies.

II. Commission Activities

Unfortunately the commission had no budget and it was impractical to obtain technical help from the several state departments involved in building regulations. In 1956 the Department of Finance set up a budget in the Department of Public Works for the commission, and since that time progress has been made in carrying out the provisions of the act.

From 1953 to May, 1957, the commission held regular meetings, but having no staff it was unable to accomplish much other than to screen new regulations to determine conflict or duplication.

The statutes creating the State Building Standards Commission provide for the publication of a single code of all building standards that are enforced by state agencies. It further provides that all regulations pertaining to building standards shall first be approved by the commission.

It is the purpose of the act creating the commission to provide the means of eliminating duplication, conflict and overlapping in state building regulations and to provide a single code containing all state building standards.

There are 23 administrative agencies in the State and some 17 of these write and enforce building regulations and standards. There are 10 state statutory code provisions dealing with building regulations and 19 general laws. Therefore, it can readily be seen that the commission faces an enormous task in sifting these rules and regulations for duplication or conflict and consolidating them into a single code.

In 1957 the commission attempted to work through the different departments that have membership in the commission. Finding that ineffective, the Department of Finance was asked to establish a small budget for the commission's operations during 1956 and 1957.

In May of 1957 the commission prevailed upon Harry A. Cobden, a housing and building code engineer, to accept the position of "Senior Code Analyst." They directed that his first efforts be the compilation of an index of the present existing rules and regulations having to do with building standards. That index is now complete and only refinement and publication remain.

This year the Attorney General's Office rules that the commission could not publish an index or digest of state building regulations, but that under the statutes was required to publish the entire code of all state agencies' building regulations. As this would bring about more of the sort of chaos that now exists, the commission is attempting to have legislation introduced and enacted to remedy this situation. Such proposed legislation is contained in this report.

The commission held four regular meetings in 1957 and four regular meetings in 1958, and had many special meetings of its Screening Committee and its Coding Committee and more recently, their Legislative Committee.

There presently exist some conflicts, duplication and overlaps among state agency regulations relating to building standards. The commission has been successful in co-ordinating the adoptions of new regulations to eliminate overlapping and conflicts between state agencies, but in no case does the commission attempt to enforce or administer building standards or to make any substantive change in any regulation.

The most difficult problem of the commission is the consolidation of the state building regulations into a single code. In the adoption of regulations by the various state agencies, a different pattern or format has been used by each agency and it is almost impossible to consolidate these regulations into a readily understandable code without rewording and rearranging the various sections. To accomplish this the commission has adopted a standard building code format to guide state agencies in redrafting their building standards in such a manner that they can be consolidated into a single code. Here again the commission feels that some minor changes in the law will be necessary to facilitate this work.

The State Building Standards Commission properly staffed can be of material value to departments in writing building regulations and construction standards. The construction industry, including the professional services such as architects and engineers, can be saved needless frustration and the construction industry will show a great economical gain. In the future agencies writing, administering or enforcing building standards would be able to bring their problems to the commission and the result will be an up-to-date and modern building code that would serve the needs of all state agencies.

A workable program has been established by the commission pursuant to the law and which will fully carry out the intent of the Legislature. The proposed work of the commission is generally believed to be beneficial by the agencies affected and the program will result in a modern and up-to-date code.

The commission hopes that it can write a uniform state code and it goes without saying that such a code would be of enormous value to the whole building industry as well as to the State. Such a code should be a performance code and not a specification code. There are nationally recognized standards and testing procedures for evaluating the performance of most materials, assemblies and mechanical devices used in the building trades. The use of any method or material of construction which is shown by test to meet minimum safety standards of the code would be acceptable. A performance code would encourage the development of better and more economical building materials and should be regularly brought up to date.

The commission hopes that antiquated specification standards can be scrapped in favor of performance standards. The specification code tries to tell builders just what material to use and how to use it, and tends to discourage the development of new and better construction materials and assemblies.

The performance code stresses the goal to be achieved rather than the material to be used and lets the builder do it in his own way. It makes no difference whether he uses one material or another method of construction, as long as he meets the basic requirements of fire protection, structural strength, sanitation and safety.

Only New York State has adopted a full-fledged performance code although a few other states have adopted codes that may be considered performance codes. The New York Code was drawn up in 1949 after three years of study by architects, engineers, labor, manufacturers, the National Bureau of Standards and other authoritative groups. In the past nine years more than 250 New York towns and cities have repealed their old specification codes in favor of the new performance code and applications for adoption are still coming into Albany every month.

Now that the various segments of the building trades are on record against featherbedding and antiquated construction methods, it seems that one of the main deterrents has been removed from modern advancement in building construction The performance code idea is sound, practical and economical. A building code that does not prevent such catastrophes as the recent school fire in Chicago or the Coconut Grove fire in Boston and which does not protect against structural failures under severe earthquake conditions is not a good code. The commission believes that a good performance code might have prevented those tragedies.

Sound building standards are not only desirable, but a necessity if we are to prevent the further growth of slum areas, substandard building and all the depraving conditions that go with it. Disease, fire and crime with all their resultant costs, are a byproduct of substandard building construction standards. Conservation of a structure after it is built is a vital and necessary function of every state building regulation, and adequate building regulations are a primary tool of every state agency charged with enforcing safety standards.

III. Proposed Legislation

After having an opportunity to study and operate under the State Building Standards Act, the commission believes that if it is to serve its intended purpose, several sections of the act must be amended. These amendments are set forth with explanations below.

The Governor's Office has reviewed and approved these amendments for introduction as departmental legislation.

Section 18901 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18901. The commission shall adopt, amend and publish a single code of all administrative regulations of state agencies ~~defining~~ relating to building standards, ~~and~~ which code may include, amend and publish therein portions of said administrative regulations or of applicable building codes by means of reference ~~: index or digest, as the commission may direct~~.

The commission may publish an index and reference guide to the administrative regulations and statutes relating to building standards. The publication of such index and reference guide shall not nullify nor supersede any existing regulation legally adopted by any state agency.

Explanation: This amendment would authorize the publication of an index and guide to present building standards which would serve a very useful purpose pending the writing of a single code. The commission believed that this was possible under the present act but the Attorney General ruled that the adoption and publication of an index and guide might have a legal effect upon existing standards. At the present time there is no complete index or guide to all state building regulations. An amendment is recommended to clarify this point.

Section 18902 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18902. Every state officer and employee authorized by law to adopt any rule or regulation ~~establishing~~ relating to or repealing building standards shall do so only through and with the approval of the commission.

Explanation: This is a change that clears up the present section and would require submission of proposals to repeal existing standards as well as those adopting new standards.

Section 18903 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18903. It is the purpose of this ~~act~~ part to provide the means for eliminating duplication, conflict and overlapping in state building regulations and not to substitute the ~~State Building Standards~~ commission for the responsibilities now vested by law in various state agencies.

To that end each state agency concerned shall continue to prepare such building regulations as it is authorized and finds necessary, but such regulations shall not be effective until approved ~~and published~~ by the ~~State Building Standards~~ commission

Explanation: This amendment adds the word "conflict" and takes out the three words "State Building Standards" and leaves just the word "commission." The amendment likewise strikes out the words "and published" in the last sentence thereby eliminating a legal technicality as to the effect of new standards pertaining to building construction.

Section 18904 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18904. The commission may withhold approval and require change in any proposed regulation only if it finds duplication, conflict or overlapping between proposed and existing regulations, or when the nomenclature or arrangement does not conform to that adopted by the commission. The commission shall not require any substantive change ~~not involving~~ unless such change is necessary because of duplication, conflict ~~or~~, overlapping, nomenclature, or arrangement, nor may it withhold approval on substantive grounds alone. The commission may advise all other state agencies concerned with respect to existing as well as proposed regulations and may make recommendations to eliminate conflicts and to assure consistency and uniformity of all statewide building standards.

Explanation: This amendment adds the word "duplication." It also adds "nomenclature" and "arrangement" as a grounds for not approving regulations that come before the commission. Also it gives the commission the authority to advise all other state agencies concerned and may make recommendations designed to assure consistency and uniformity of statewide building standards in existing as well as proposed regulations.

Section 18905 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18905. The responsibility for enforcing or supervising the enforcing of state building regulations shall remain ~~in departments~~ as vested by law.

Explanation: This amendment clears up the present section and leaves the intent the same as it was before. In many instances authority is delegated to other than a "department." Striking out the words "in departments" would leave the administration as vested by law.

Section 18906 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18906. ~~Within six months after the taking effect of this act~~ The ~~State Building Standards~~ commission in co-operation with all ~~departments~~ state agencies concerned, shall promulgate and publish a State Building Standards Code which shall, when completed and published, supersede all then existing regulations relating to building standards issued by individual state ~~departments~~ agencies. The code may quote or contain references to state laws relating to building standards. Thereafter the commission may approve and publish amendments to the code not oftener than once each 90 days, except that by three-fourths vote of all its members the commission may find that an emergency exists and may then adopt and publish amendments as needed.

Explanation: This amendment takes out the time element which has now expired, and allows the commission to publish an index and guide to existing statutes and state laws relating to building standards. This change will permit immediate publication of an index and guide of present-day building standards without affecting their validity. Under the present statutes the Attorney General feels that the commission is without authority to adopt and publish an index and guide, and such adoption may affect the validity of existing standards. Likewise the adoption of one agency's standards might tend to automatically repeal all other State Building Standards because of the provision of the existing section.

Section 18906.3 of the Health and Safety Code is added to said code, to read:

18906.3. For the purpose of this part the term "building standard" means any adopted state administrative regulation pertaining to the construction, alteration or improvement of a "building" as defined in Section 18906.4.

Explanation: This amendment defines building standards and also where a building regulation can be found and defined. It would exclude regulations that are operational in character and not require that they be included in the Building Standards Code.

Section 18906 4 of the Health and Safety Code is added to said code, to read:

18906.4. For the purpose of this part "building" means any structure as to which state agencies have regulatory power, built for support, shelter, housing or enclosure of persons, animals, chattels, equipment, or property of any kind, and also includes structures wherein things may be grown, made, produced, kept, handled, stored, or disposed of. All appendages, accessories, apparatus, appliances and equipment built in or installed as a part of a building or structure shall be deemed to be a part thereof, but "building" shall not include any tunnel, mine shaft, highway, or bridge, or include any house trailer or vehicle which conforms to the Vehicle Code.

Explanation: This amendment defines a building and excludes certain types of construction which the commission feels the Legislature did not intend to include.

Section 18907 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18907. The members of the ~~State Building Standards~~ commission shall serve without compensation. ~~The necessary technical and clerical assistance for the preparation and publishing of the State Building Standards Code shall be provided by the state departments whose directors are members of the commission and by the Division of Administrative procedure.~~ Members of the commission who are not state officers shall be paid actual necessary travel expenses~~, to be shared by the state departments represented on the commission~~. ~~The code and its amendments shall be published by the Division of Administrative Procedure after approval by the Building Standards Commission.~~

Explanation: This amendment takes out the unnecessary provision in regard to compensation and since the commission now operates under its own budget, there is no further need for reference to other state agencies.

Section 18908 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18908. The State Building Standards Code and all amendments ~~to it~~ and publications relating thereto shall be published in suitable looseleaf form and shall be made available to the public at a reasonable ~~cost~~ price . ~~The State Department of Professional and Vocational Standards shall notify all licensees in affected professions or industries regulated by that department of the availability of the code and of its amendments.~~ It shall be the duty of each state department concerned and of each city or county to have an up-to-date copy of the code available for public inspection. The code and its amendments shall be published by the Division of Administrative Procedure after approval by the commission.

Explanation: This amendment has to do with publication. This section allows the commission to make a profit on its publication, in other words, pay its way. It relieves the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards from the responsibility of notifying licensees.

Section 18909 as well as Section 18910 and Section 18911 remain the same.

The present handicaps under which the State Building Standards Commission is organized emphasizes the inadequacy of the present law under which it operates. The passage of the proposed legislation submitted herewith will eliminate these obstacles and the commission will be able to carry out the expressed intent of the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

STATE BUILDING STANDARDS COMMISSION

PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker Brown, the following prayer was offered by Rev. William James Hunt, Pastor of Kyles Temple, A. M. E. Zion Church of Sacramento:

Our Father, We thank Thee for the privilege of living and for the right to share in the making of our own lives. We know that the good life does not come for the asking; but that we have the special right, as men, to participate in the making of our own salvation.

We are especially grateful for this right, because it is the handle by which we can lift ourselves—even in days as trying and difficult as these. Help us, therefore, to find in this God-given privilege the strength that we need to live through the storms and the floods that break in upon us—every day.

We thank Thee for great men; men who have stood tall in history; men, like Abe Lincoln, who have helped to push us forward; men who have found the strength to lift us up. We thank Thee for all who have been great in public service.

May the spirit of Christ abide with us, as we face up to the problems of today. Help us to see that we cannot do our jobs aright unless the picture of the wholeness of life is larger than the picture of self. In the Name of Jesus Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

ADDRESS BY MR. GARRIGUS

Abraham Lincoln became an enthusiastic student of literature, particularly in the arts of poetry and drama, through the influence of Mentor Graham who was schoolmaster at the little log Clary's Grove schoolhouse near the tiny village of New Salem.

Lincoln was moved deeply by poetry and tried his hand valiantly at the art, but we soon hear him confiding to a friend with that amazing objective view of himself which characterized his life—that he was lacking in the necessary talent. Lincoln had three poets whose works were particularly appealing to him: Burns, Byron and Shakespeare. His interest in these poets is highly significant in throwing light upon his own complex personality, for Burns, the warm, humble, earthy poet of the hearth and heart is the extreme opposite of the lonely, misunderstood self-isolated genius of the aristocratic George Gordon, Lord Byron. Yet these men represent the extremes of Lincoln's own nature where even today he wanders as an image in the public mind, either as a folksy, canny, rude, humble, joke-cracking frontier lawyer or as a lonely, melancholy misunderstood genius who grieved over the awareness that the public would never understand or accept him on the basis of his own deep philosophical insights.

But it was neither Byron or Burns who wrote the poem which had the greatest appeal to and most completely expressed the philosophy of the personality of Abraham Lincoln. That honor belongs to a relatively unknown and obscure poet by the name of William Knox. A poem of this young poet came to the attention of Lincoln when he was still in his twenties and so influenced the young legislator that he committed it to memory at once and thereafter on numerous occasions both public and private he recited it aloud and with deep feeling. So today in reverent memory of the young legislator of that time in Illinois, I accept the privilege of reading to the legislators of the 1959 General Session of the California State Legislature the favorite poem of Abraham Lincoln.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN'S FAVORITE POEM

Oh! Why Should the Spirit of Mortal Be Proud?

By WILLIAM KNOX

Oh! why should the spirit of mortal be proud?
Like a swift-fleeting meteor, a fast-flying cloud,
A flash of the lightning, a break of the wave,
Man passeth from life to his rest in the grave.

The leaves of the oak and the willow shall fade,
Be scattered around, and together be laid;
And the young and the old, and the low and the high,
Shall moulder to dust and together shall die.

The infant a mother attended and loved;
The mother that infant's affection who proved;
The husband that mother and infant have blessed,—
Each, all, are away to their dwellings of rest.

The maid on whose cheek, on whose brow, in whose eye,
Shone beauty and pleasure—her triumphs are by;
And the memory of those who loved her and praised,
Are alike from the minds of the living erased.

The hand of the king that the sceptre hath borne;
The brow of the priest that the mitre hath worn;
The eye of the sage, and the heart of the brave,
Are hidden and lost in the depth of the grave.

The peasant whose lot was to sow and to reap;
The herdsman who climbed with his goats up the steep;
The beggar who wandered in search of his bread,
Have faded away like the grass that we tread.

The saint who enjoyed the communion of heaven;
The sinner who dared to remain unforgiven;
The wise and the foolish, the guilty and just,
Have quietly mingled their bones in the dust.

So the multitude goes, like the flowers or the weed
That withers away to let others succeed;
So the multitude comes, even those we behold,
To repeat every tale that has often been told.

For we are the same our fathers have been;
We see the same sights our fathers have seen;
We drink the same stream, and view the same sun,
And run the same course our fathers have run.

The thoughts we are thinking our fathers would think;
From the death we are shrinking our fathers would shrink;
To the life we are clinging they also would cling;
But it speeds for us all, like a bird on the wing.

They loved, but the story we cannot unfold;
They scorned, but the heart of the haughty is cold;
They grieved, but no wail from their slumbers will come;
They joyed, but the tongue of their gladness is dumb.

They died, aye! they died: and we things that are now,
Who walk on the turf that lies over their brow,
Who make in their dwelling a transient abode,
Meet the things that they met on their pilgrimage road.

Yea! hope and despondency, pleasure and pain,
We mingle together in sunshine and rain;
And the smiles and the tears, the song and the dirge,
Still follow each other, like surge upon surge.

'Tis the wink of an eye, 'tis the draught of a breath,
From the blossom of health to the paleness of death,
From the gilded saloon to the bier and the shroud,

READING BY MR. CONRAD

Mr. Conrad read Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

LINCOLN'S GETTYSBURG ADDRESS

Four score and seven years ago our fathers brought forth on this continent, a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal. We are now engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation or any nation so conceived and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met on a great battlefield of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of that field, as a final resting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this. But, in a larger sense, we cannot dedicate—we cannot consecrate—we cannot hollow—this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it far above our poor power to add or detract. The world will little note, nor long remember what we say here, but it can never forget what they did here. It is for us the living, rather, to be dedicated here to the unfinished work which they who fought here have thus far so nobly advanced. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us—that from these honored dead we take increased devotion to that cause for which they gave the last full measure of devotion—that we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain—that this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of freedom—and that government of the people, by the people, for the people, shall not perish from the earth.

The following excerpts from the Sacramento Bee were ordered printed in the Journal on request of Mr. MacBride:

LINCOLN'S LESSONS IN EARLY LIFE GAVE EVIDENCE OF HIS DESTINED ROLE IN HISTORY

By PETER J. SHIELDS

Thursday will be the 150th anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln. He died nearly a century ago. But the short years of his life were so rich in lessons taught and things done that more has been said and written about him than of any other man in the history of our Country.

Lest the story of his rare life should lapse into tradition or become a mere legend, I think the least of us should speak when we can to keep it as a living memory in our rapidly changing world.

Part of the Drama

I think history has dwelt too much upon the meager conditions of the birth of this man. If the child had grown up to indifference the emptiness of his life might have been attributed to the conditions of his birth. But when a Lincoln is born, every condition attending it becomes a part of the great drama of his life and partakes of its glory.

I think, too, the early years of a child's life are more important than they are held to be. The peace, the mystery, the strength of the things about him deeply impressed themselves upon his character and remained with him to the end.

It was the forest-born, praire-bred man who led the forces which later saved our Union. At a very early age this boy began to give evidence of the career which he was to conquer. He asked searching questions, he wanted to know why.

He early learned to read and devoured every book or leaflet within his reach. He walked long distances to clearings where frontier politicians were speaking. They were probably as irrelevant and lacking in issues as their modern brethren. But he probably got benefit from them in detecting this failure.

Walked Miles for Books

He heard of a book in a home 10 miles away which he wanted to read. He walked the 10 miles, got the book and read and reread it until he had made its lesson his own. He learned to write and wrote about what he saw or of what he was thinking. He would read the result to his sympathetic but illiterate stepmother and asked her eagerly: "Do I make that clear?" If she said no, he would rewrite the matter and keep on trying until his sympathetic listener said he had made clear the thing he wanted to say.

He thus learned the meaning of words, and their proper use as well, in that log kitchen as in the world's proudest university. Here he learned to write the Gettysburg Address, and the thousand other articles to which he put his pen, with a clarity and grace which made him one of the greatest masters of English expression.

He attended school only a few months. But to a youth with his mind hungry for knowledge and the ability to read the meaning of what he saw, he did not need the simple schools of that day. The world around him was a classroom and all of its activities were lessons and demonstrations.

Saw Slave Market

As a young man he rode on a flatboat down the river to New Orleans and visited a slave market. He saw it with all of its implications and he hated it. This experience had much to do with his later life and the history of our Country. Later his father moved with his family to Illinois where the young Lincoln studied law, to the amusement of the people of his community.

He was elected to the Legislature of Illinois and served two or three terms but without distinction. He was elected to Congress where he served one term and voluntarily sacrificed hope of re-election by making a speech condemning the Mexican War as unjust.

Hating slavery, he accepted the Missouri Compromise which confined the institution within limits believing that if it were so confined it would be "in process of ultimate extincton." When it was proposed to modify this restriction and permit slavery to extend to northern territory all of the pent-up forces of his mind were aroused to action to which he gave expression in the famous Lost Speech in Bloomington, which history still refers to as notable.

Debates With Douglas

Following this came the Lincoln-Douglas debates, to which a nation listened, the Cooper Union speech, and the presidency. All of this is history to which I will not attempt to add. What we want to know more about, is the intrinsic nature of the man who possessed so many virtues so strangely associated * * * a man to whom ridicule and attempted insult resulted only in a new strength of perfection * * * above all a man who grew increasingly humble as his honors multiplied. We must try to find an answer to this by a study of what he did. After his death, when the hearts of our people were softened by a sense of delayed appreciation, they sought for a more detailed knowledge of his earlier life.

'Suthin' Different'

Dennis Hanks, a simple fellow who had known Lincoln since his earlier youth, was asked about him and told many stories of what kind of boy and maturing man he had been. He told of many things and then, looking at his questioners, he said most interpretively: "There was suthin' different about Abe."

There was something different about him—tangible and obvious, but undefinable.

Threat of War

I have not dared to speak of this man's presidency. What he did there is beyond our power to estimate. Immediately following his assumption of office the threat of war became imminent. It took some time for an anxious people to realize that in a great crisis they had found a man fitted to meet it. Efforts were made to avoid war and compromises were variously offered. But our President stood firm to the proposition that no settlement would be considered which did not have as its major condition that the Federal Union should be preserved.

Unwilling to barter the power of his Country, to dim its prestige or to endanger its dreams of freedom, he was relentless. So the war came and for four tortuous years this man bore its responsibilities and suffered its sorrows. In time the war ended.

The courage, the fortitude and the faith of Abraham Lincoln had triumphed and the Union had been preserved, and then his life was taken. Unable to say more, with bowed heads we can say no less—a crown would have befitted so great a life.

That life should be preserved as a living memory and, in recognition of it, we should resolve to so strengthen and perfect our Country that it will be worthy of the price he paid to save it.

It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to concur in any Senate amendment to an Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution. The vote on concurrence shall be deemed the vote upon final passage of such bill. When Senate amendments to an Assembly bill are concurred in, the bill shall be forthwith ordered enrolled, and the Chief Clerk shall notify the Senate of such concurrence.

Nonconcurrence in Senate Amendments

~~78~~ 76. If the Assembly refuse to concur in Senate amendments to an Assembly bill, and when notified that the Senate has refused to concur in Assembly amendments to a Senate bill, the Speaker shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference, and the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the Senate of the action taken by the Assembly and request the appointment of a like committee.

Committee on Conference

~~79~~ 77. The Speaker, in appointing a committee on conference, shall select two members from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote.

Whether a member has voted with the majority or minority on the point about which the difference has arisen is determined by his vote on the appropriate roll call, as follows:

(a) The roll call on the question of final passage of a Senate bill amended in the Assembly when the Senate has refused to concur with the Assembly amendments;

(b) The roll call on the question of concurrence with Senate amendments to an Assembly bill.

Meetings and Reports of Committees on Conference

~~80~~ 78. The Chairman of the Senate committee on conference for the same bill shall arrange the time and place of meeting of such committee. It shall require an affirmative vote of not less than two of the Assembly members and two of the Senate members constituting the committee on conference to agree upon a report, and the report shall be submitted to both the Senate and the Assembly. No member who has served on a committee on conference shall be appointed a member of another committee on conference on the same bill. The presentation and consideration of any report of a committee on conference shall always be in order, except during a roll call or when a member has the floor. It shall require the same affirmative recorded vote to adopt any conference report as required by the Constitution upon the final passage of the bill affected by such report. It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to adopt any conference report affecting any Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation which are subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution.

Engrossing and Enrolling Bills

~~81~~ 79. The Engrossing and Enrolling Clerk shall engross and enroll all bills which shall come to his hands for such purpose, in compliance with provisions of Section 9503 of the Government Code, and in the order of time in which the same shall be acted upon by the Assembly.

SECTION 4
PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Precedence of Motions During Debate

~~84~~ 82. When a question is under debate or before the Assembly, no motions shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

First—To adjourn;
Second—To recess to a time certain;
Third—To lay on the table;
Fourth—For the previous question;

Fifth—To set as a special order;
Sixth—To postpone indefinitely;
Seventh—To refer to or re-refer;
Eighth—To amend.

Questions of Order Decided Without Debate

~~85~~ 83. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for any of the questions named in Rule ~~84~~ and pending such motion, shall be decided by the Speaker without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise.

Appeal From Decision of the Speaker

~~86~~ 84. Any member may appeal from a decision of the Speaker without waiting for recognition by the Speaker, even though another member has the floor. No appeal is in order when another is pending, or when other business has been transacted by the Assembly prior to the appeal being taken.

Upon the appeal being seconded, the Speaker may give his reasons for the decision, and the member taking the appeal may give his reasons for making his appeal, and the Speaker shall forthwith put this question to the Assembly: "Shall the decision of the Speaker be sustained?"

An appeal cannot be amended and yields only to a motion to recess or adjourn, to lay on the table, or a question of personal privilege. If an appeal be laid on the table, such action shall have no effect on the pending question.

An appeal cannot be debated when relating to indecorum, transgression of Rules, or priority of business. A majority vote of the members present shall decide any appeal.

Speaker Explains Order of Business

~~87~~ 85. The Speaker may, on his own motion or upon the motion of any Member of the Assembly, explain the order of business when the motion pending before the Assembly is not debatable. Such explanation is not to consume more than two minutes.

To Adjourn

~~88~~ 86. A motion to adjourn is not debatable and cannot be amended, and is always in order, except (a) when another member has the floor; (b) when the Assembly is voting; (c) during a call of the Assembly. The name of any member moving an adjournment and also the hour at which the motion was made and adjournment taken shall be entered in the Journal A motion to adjourn must be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state to the Assembly any fact relating to the condition of the business of the Assembly which would seem to render it improper or inadvisable to adjourn. A statement shall not occupy more than two minutes and shall not be debatable.

To Recess to a Time Certain

~~89~~ 87. A motion to recess to a time certain shall be treated the same as a motion to adjourn, except that such motion is debatable when no business is before the Assembly, and can be amended as to the time and duration of the recess. It yields only to a motion to adjourn.

To Lay on the Table

~~90~~ 88. A motion to lay on the table is not debatable and cannot be amended.

A motion to table a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership.

Any motion to lay on the table, if carried by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, carries with it the main question and everything that adheres to it; provided, however, that a motion to lay an amendment on the table, if adopted, does not carry with it a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent, joint, or House resolution.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

The Previous Question

~~91~~ 89. The previous question shall be put only when demanded by five members, and in this form: "Shall the question be now put?" and its effect, when sustained by a majority of the members present, shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a vote only on the question then pending; except that the proponent of the matter pending shall be allowed not to exceed five minutes to close the debate.

Motion to Set Special Order

~~92~~ 90. A motion to set any matter before the Assembly as a special order of business must be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members elected. It is debatable only as to the propriety of setting the main question as a special order of business, and may be amended only as to the time.

Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain

~~93~~ 91. A motion to postpone to a time certain shall be deemed and treated as a motion to set as a special order.

Motion to Postpone Indefinitely

~~94~~ 92. When a motion is made to postpone indefinitely any bill, motion, or amendment, it opens the main question to debate. Should the motion to postpone indefinitely prevail by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, the main question shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Amend

~~95~~ 93. A motion to amend may itself be amended, but no "amendment to an amendment" can be amended. A motion to amend is debatable, except where the main question to be amended is not debatable Any motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

A motion to amend having been decided in the negative, shall not again be in order on the same day, or at the same stage of proceeding. A motion to amend by striking out certain words having been decided in the negative, shall not preclude a motion to amend by adding words, or a motion to amend by striking out and inserting words; but in no case shall a further amendment be substantially the same as the one rejected.

Subject to the above provisions of this rule, a motion to amend is in order during the second or third reading of any bill.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present, as provided in Rule 90.

Amendment to Be Germane

~~96~~ 94. No amendment to any bill, whether reported by a committee or offered by a member, shall be in order when such amendment relates to a different subject, or is intended to accomplish a different purpose, or requires a title essentially different from the original title of any bill.

No amendment shall be in order which adds or deletes the name of a member as an author or co-author, or which changes the original number of any bill.

Substitute Motion

~~97~~ 95. A motion to substitute shall be deemed and treated as a motion to amend.

Motions in Writing

~~100~~ 98. Any member may call for a division of the question, and the Speaker shall order the question divided if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly.

Withdrawal of Motions

~~101~~ 99. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, or a bill, resolution, or petition read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Assembly.

Motion to Be Germane

~~102~~ 100. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted as an amendment.

Motion to Withdraw and Recall Bills

~~103~~ 101. A motion to withdraw a bill or resolution from committee, or to re-refer a bill or resolution from one committee to another committee may be made during the regular order of business. A motion to re-refer shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

No bill or resolution shall be withdrawn from committee and placed upon the file except upon two days' notice thereof and except by a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Re-reference of Measures on File

~~104~~ 102. A motion to re-refer a bill or resolution that is on the Assembly Daily File to committee may be made during the regular order of business. The motion shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Bills Stricken From File

~~105~~ 103. A motion to strike from the file any bill or House resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership. Such bill shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Rescind Action and Expunge Record

~~106~~ 104. Previous to the approval of the Journal by the Assembly, any action may be rescinded and its record ordered expunged by an affirmative recorded vote sufficient to take such action originally; except that no action shall be rescinded and the record expunged by a vote less than a majority of the entire elected membership. No motion to rescind the action and expunge the record shall be made twice on the same proposition.

Whenever any action of the Assembly is rescinded and its record ordered expunged, the record of the action expunged shall not appear in any form whatsoever, but the record of the proceedings on the motion to rescind and expunge shall appear in the Assembly Journal as and when printed.

Reconsideration of Vote

~~107~~ 105. Notice of a motion to reconsider on the next legislative day, the vote whereby any bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution was passed or refused passage, must be given on the same day such vote to be so reconsidered was taken.

A notice of motion to reconsider a vote must be given by a member voting on the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, and shall take precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn. Upon such notice of motion being given, the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall forthwith be placed upon the unfinished business file, and no further action shall be taken prior to the next legislative day. When a notice of a motion to reconsider has once been made, the same shall be considered to be the property of the Assembly.

Any member voting on any motion, amendment, concurrence, Assembly resolution or proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, may give notice of reconsideration of the vote whereby the same was passed or refused passage on the same day such vote to be reconsidered was taken, which notice shall suspend all further consideration until the next legislative day; provided, however, that a motion to reconsider on the same day the notice was given shall take precedence over and above such notice and upon demand of any member must be put to an immediate vote. A motion to reconsider any proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership.

No notice of motion for reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day for consideration of Assembly or Senate bills in the Assembly. No motion to reconsider shall be adopted except upon an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership.

except that it shall require a two-thirds vote of the entire elected membership to reconsider the vote on any matter originally requiring a two-thirds vote for its passage or adoption.

When reconsideration is granted, the bill shall resume its exact position before the Assembly previous to its being voted upon.

Call of Assembly

~~108~~ 106. After the roll has been called, and prior to the announcement of the vote, any member may move a call of the Assembly. A majority of the members present may order a call of the Assembly, and the Speaker shall immediately order the Sergeant-at-Arms to lock all doors and shall direct the Clerk to prepare a list of absentees as disclosed by the last roll call, which list of absentees shall be furnished to the Sergeant-at-Arms. Thereupon no members shall be permitted to leave the Assembly Chamber except by written permission of the Speaker, and no person shall be permitted to enter except such member as is taken into custody as herein provided, or Senators, officers, attaches, or employees of the Legislature in the official performance of their duties.

Those members who are found to be absent, and for whom no leaves of absence have been granted, shall be forthwith taken into custody wherever found by the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistants or any person designated by the Sergeant-at-Arms, including members of the California Highway Patrol, the State Police, and sheriffs or their deputies, and brought to the Assembly Chamber. No recess or adjournment shall be taken during a call of the Assembly. During such call, the Assembly may consider and transact any matter of business by unanimous consent. No call of the Assembly shall be ordered on any matter while the Assembly is already under call. If the conviction is reversed by an appellate court or a motion for a new trial is granted and the member is thereafter found not guilty or the charges against him are dismissed, the amounts of the withheld compensation or expenses shall be paid to the member and the suspension of his committee membership shall terminate.

Whenever a member is convicted of a felony in the superior court, the Assembly Rules Committee shall give written notice to the State Controller, directing him to discontinue any further payments to the member unless and until the Rules Committee notifies the State Controller that the member has been found not guilty or that the charges against him are dismissed. Mr. Rumford was granted unanimous consent that the following report be ordered printed in the Journal:

REPORT OF SPECIAL COMMITTEE TO ATTEND SOCIETY OF AUTOMOTIVE ENGINEERS ANNUAL MEETING AT DETROIT

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
SACRAMENTO, February 12, 1959

Mr. Ralph M. Brown, Speaker
Members of the Assembly
DEAR MEMBERS:

Subject: Report of the Special Committee delegated by the Assembly (House Resolution No. 29) to attend the Society of Automotive Engineers Annual Meeting at Detroit on January 16-19, 1959.

Your delegation, Seth Johnson and W. Byron Rumford, selected by you to attend the important convention given by the Society of Automotive Engineers in Detroit on January 16th pursuant to House Resolution No. 29, submits the following report:

The people of the State of California have been plagued by air pollution, called "smog," in the Los Angeles vicinity and in other areas throughout the State and have demanded that the Legislature take specific action with respect to the automotive industry in the development of some device to eliminate the emissions of hydrocarbons and other contaminants from automobile exhausts which have been declared to be responsible for at least two-thirds of the smog present in these areas today. Your committee was successful in meeting and discussing with America's outstanding automotive engineers this very delicate subject.

Your representatives arrived in Detroit on the morning of Friday, January 16th, and immediately went into conference with the following persons:

A. A. KUCHER, Vice President, Engineering and Research, Ford Motor Company,

C. A. CHAYNE, Vice President, Engineering, General Motors Corporation,

J. M. CAMPBELL, Scientific Director, Technical Center, General Motors Corporation,

J. M. CHANDLER, Section Supervisor of Test Engineering, Ford Motor Company,

A. L. HAYNES, Director, Engineering Research and Advanced Product Study, Ford Motor Company,

C. M. HEINEN, Assistant Chief Engineer, Chemical, Chrysler Corporation,

J. C. ZEDER, Vice President, Engineering, and Special Advisor to the President, Chrysler Corporation,

WM. F. SHERMAN, Manager, Engineering and Technical Department, Automobile Manufacturers Association, KARL M. RICHARDS, Manager, Field Services Department, Automobile Manufacturers Association.

At this conference your delegates related the serious thinking of the California Legislature with reference to the need of an immediate solution to the control of automobile emissions. Wide discussion was held on the California problem. We presented to these executives and engineers the bills and resolution which had been introduced in our session of the Legislature with reference to the control of automobile exhausts with which we felt they should be concerned. At this two-hour conference, your representatives pointed out to these technicians and executives, the importance of increasing the scope of their research so that the people in California could use their automobiles and enjoy them free from adverse smog conditions. It was pointed out to these men that the people of California had felt that little was being done, and that the automotive industry could have taken a stronger and firmer position in intensifying the research activities to develop a device necessary to remove hydrocarbon emissions.

J. M. Chandler, Section Supervisor of Test Engineering, Ford Motor Car Company, gave a complete description and demonstration of his catalytic converter which, through the efforts of the Ford Motor Car Company and scientists, has been developed. We heard from Mr. C. M. Heinen, Assistant Chief Engineer, Chemical, Chrysler Corporation, of the intensive work which Chrysler is doing in the field, in co-operation with other automotive groups. We were assured by the group present that we would see all that was being done by the automotive industry in the field of research and study, and the efforts to develop devices for the removal of hydrocarbons that they have been able to accomplish.

Immediately after this conference, we were taken to the annual meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers at which several papers were presented on the "control of gas emissions." Copies of these papers have been given to the Members of the Legislature. It is noted that at this meeting several representatives from the City of Los Angeles were also present. It was learned, through the papers presented at this scientific meeting, that considerable amount of work is being done on automobile exhaust gases, their conversion, and elimination.

Immediately after the meeting, the newspapers interviewed members of your delegation and attempted to determine if we were satisfied that the automotive industry had done all that they could. It was the feeling of your delegates that the Detroit newspaper representatives felt that smog in California was a local problem and that it should be handled on a local basis We were able to impress the reporters, however, that not only did California have smog within its state borders, but that it was a national problem, and that we totally disagreed that this scientific menace should be handled by local authorities alone without the assistance of either the automotive engineers or federal assistance.

Saturday, January 17th, a conference was held with members of the Automobile Manufacturers Committee at the New Center Building of the Automobile Manufacturers Association in Detroit with Mr. S. Smith Griswold of the Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District and Councilman Everett Burkhalter of Los Angeles in attendance. At this meeting pictures with explanations were shown by the engineers portraying the intensity of emissions of gases from large trucks and automobiles which they declared were not in good mechanical condition. Smith Griswold showed films of the main arterials, highways and freeways in Los Angeles during several periods of the day portraying the development of smog. It was shown that the intensity of smog increased as the number of automobiles increased, indicating very definitely that smog was a product of automobile emissions. This was a highly instructive and impressive movie in color, and showed the intensity to which smog develops at certain periods of the day. The conference lasted for at least three hours. Discussions were held by the members participating in the discussion and questions were answered both by your representatives and by members of the automobile industry.

In the afternoon your delegates visited the new fifty million dollar General Motors Engineering Research Center where we had discussions with Dr. Lloyd Withrow, head of the Department of Fuels and Lubrication, who is doing considerable work in the field of fuel research. We saw the $50,000 long path infa cell known as "Silent Sam." This is one of the two experimental units developed in the United States to determine the cause of smog. This device is not only important as an instrument to detect the hydrocarbon emissions, but it is a device which simulates smog conditions in which the various gases and the photochemical change which takes place in the air can be produced and recordings made as to the quantity, amount, and the intensity of other gases present. The information obtained from the studies of this instrument will be forwarded to the United States Public Health Service for further experimentation on human tissue.

On Monday, January 19th, your delegates again visited the engineering laboratories of the Ford Motor Car Company in which James Chandler, Section Supervisor of Test Engineering, gave us a demonstration of his catalytic converter and showed in detail the amount of research which the Ford Company was involved in, regarding automobile emissions. The automobile industry in their own words, "will rid the exhaust of unburned hydrocarbons, but we do not promise to get rid of smog."

In our final conference with the engineers and the officials of the automobile industry, an invitation was extended to the group to present in person their devices and information relative to the smog problem as it concerns the automobile to the California Legislature. We have received from the Automobile Manufacturers Association acknowledgment of this invitation, and they will present to the Legislature on February 16th, information relative to this important problem. The committee feels that the presence of these men before the Legislature will be of inestimable value, and to the members in determining their actions on pending legislation before this body.

Your representatives feel that the trip to Detroit was well worth while, and that the automobile industry as it concerns automobile exhausts has accepted their responsibility to help California and the Nation to obtain acceptable air.

Respectfully submitted,

SETH J. JOHNSON
W. BYRON RUMFORD

DEAR RALPH: Would you be so kind as to advise the honorable Members of the Assembly that "working" newspapermen covering the Capitol once again stand ready, willing and I think able to hand legislators their biennial shellacking in the Fifth Press-Legislature Golf Tournment?

The date for this year's tournament is Sunday, April 19th. The site is Haggin Oaks golf course. A dinner will be held after the tournament. Wives are invited to participate in the tournament and attend the dinner.

For the benefit of new members, competency with a brassie is not a requirement for the tournment. The high gross in the 1957 event was 206 strokes registered by Senator Fred Farr.

In order to arrange starting times and make pairings, we need to know quite early the number of participants. Legislators desiring to play should make reservations with members of the tournament committee—Robert M. Blanchard of the Los Angeles Times, Richard C Bergholz of the Los Angeles Mirror-News, Don Thomas of the Oakland Tribune, Al Latimer with Senator Arnold or Carl Holmes of Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Co, or the undersigned

One last word. To assure absolute fairness in the conduct of this great event, the handicapping once again will be done by two impartial and disinterested observers—Blanchard and Anderson.

Sincerely,

JAMES C. ANDERSON

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, February 9, 1959

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit for the information and use of Members of the Assembly, 81 copies of Bulletin No. 63, "Sea-Water Intrusion in California," and Appendix B thereto. The studies presented in these reports were authorized by Chapter 1500, Statutes of 1951, and Section 229 of the Water Code.

The bulletin discusses the present status of sea-water intrusion into coastal ground water basins in the State, describes methods of control, and summarizes relevant experimental work. Preliminary plans for prevention and control of sea-water intrusion are presented.

The results of a large-scale experimental project conducted by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District at Manhattan Beach, Los Angeles County, are presented in the appendix. The objective of this project was to determine the feasibility of preventing and controlling sea-water intrusion by creating a pressure ridge in confined aquifers by injection of fresh water through wells.

Additional phases of this investigation, including special studies by the University of California both at Berkeley and Los Angeles, and the United States Geological Survey, will be presented in other appendixes to be published in the near future.

This investigation reveals that intrusion of sea-water, induced by long-sustained overdraft conditions, has already damaged some of the State's most important ground water basins. It points up the need for effective measures to correct these present problems and to prevent intrusion into other coastal basins. Unless timely, remedial steps are instituted, extensive and irreparable damage will inevitably result.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

FAIRS CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE
SACRAMENTO, February 16, 1959

To the President of the Senate,
The Speaker of the Assembly,
Members of the Senate and Assembly,
The Director of Finance

The Fairs Classification Committee, established pursuant to Section 92.7 of the Agricultural Code, herewith presents its report and classification of fairs for the year 1958 as required by Section 92 8 of that code.

During 1958, the several fairs reached a new peak in fair and interim use activity, and attracted a new high totals of exhibitors, exhibits and visitors. The fairs accomplished much by way of meeting their responsibilities for expanded service to youth, industry and agriculture Room for continued improvement remains, however. Progressive fair boards of directors and management constantly strive to better the efficiency and value of their fairs. We believe the people of California can take pride in the results of their efforts.

Data prepared by the Division of Fairs and Expositions, Department of Finance, as well as that gathered by the committee itself, on which our classifications are based, has been retained in our files, and is open to inspection by interested parties.

The committee gratefully acknowledges the co-operation of Mr. A. E. Snider, Chief of the Division of Fairs and Expositions, and also the assistance of Mr. Leroy Sloane, who compiled the voluminous official statistics.

REPORT
FAIRS CLASSIFICATION COMMITTEE
FOR 1958

1958 a Good Year for Fairs

California's many district and county fairs again demonstrated their value as centers of agricultural and industrial progress, education, recreation and community activity during 1958. Including interim users, almost 8,000,000 people, the greatest total ever, visited the fairs during the year and benefited from their many exhibits and their other facilities.

The growth in fair activity paralleled the growth of our State as a whole. More than 400,000 entries competed for awards and premiums in the various classes of exhibits. The fairs continued to expand and improve their services and facilities to meet the new challenges of rapidly changing times.

Local Pride Stimulates Fair Activity

Our observations indicate that there is a considerable local pride in the great majority of fairs. No other local or district promotion can generate the interest, community effort, and co-operation between individuals that are required to prepare for a county or district fair Large groups are needed to plan, gather supplies for, and build community or organizational displays.

Competition between individual exhibitors is very keen. Everyone does his or her best to produce a better product, breed a better animal, or do a better job of canning. Award winners earn, and get, publicity and wider community acceptance as part of the reward for their achievement.

Junior Activities Grow Fastest

Fastest growing departments at every fair are those in the junior division. The 4-H, FFA, FHA and other youth groups are increasing their numbers at enormous rates. All are participating in fair activities. Doing so gives their members the real satisfaction of accomplishing something worthwhile on an individual basis. Their projects, and public acknowledgment of their successes can only result in the development of better adults. It is far better to encourage good citizenship through fairs, to create proper pride in well-directed effort and workmanship, than it is to tolerate problems of juvenile behavior. The thousands of our California youth who participate in fair activities are our greatest assets.

Since the industrial education department was placed on the Master Premium List there has been a great expansion in the type of activities to which our youth could direct their attention This is especially important in view of the phenomenal growth in industry within our State. Exhibitors from urban areas are now able to take much more active part in fairs. Enlightened fair management is encouraging interest in this department, to better serve more segments of our youthful population.

Many fairs have added a physical fitness program to their schedules. City and county recreation departments, who carry on such programs on a year-round basis, are encouraging the trend, because it enables them to give contestants in their final rounds the publicity and awards which go with outstanding accomplishment at fairs.

Basis for Classification of Fairs

When this committee first began its work in 1956, it established as the basis for its work three classes for fairs, following in this respect the divisions referred to in subsection 92.8(b) of the code. The three were Regional, Special and Sectional. As a result of its first year's experience, the committee developed a fourth class, Regional-Sectional fairs, and used it in its ratings for 1957, and is using it again for 1958.

The committee met several times during the calendar year 1958. It has received a detailed statistical analysis of population, fair attendance, revenues and finance relating to all of the 72 fairs, based upon 1957 operations, from the Division of Fairs and Expositions of the Department of Finance. In addition to this, the committee itself secured certain information on 1958 operations directly from 70 fairs by means of a questionnaire compiled by a subcommittee. Members of the committee also visited most of the fairs during the year, either at fairtime or during the interim, and their personal observations have been used as an additional guide in determining classifications.

Classification of Fairs Cannot Be Exact

The committee wishes to direct attention to the fact that a present classification of fairs cannot be anything like exact. Section 92.8 of the Agricultural Code merely enumerates certain standards which shall be applied, but leaves their definition to the discretion of the committee. This has the obvious effect of making committee judgments at least partially subjective. Three years of experience in attempting to develop and apply reasonable standards to the classification process has convinced committee members that very few fairs can be fairly judged by statistics or dollars and cents alone. Many factors influence the operations of every fair. To mention only a few, there is first the area, economic as well as geographic, in which a fair is located; there are changing weather conditions; there may be fires or other disasters; aging plant and equipment have their effect; and competing attractions may cut into attendance.

Classification Standards Used

The committee is convinced that its classifications for 1958 are probably more objective than those for the two preceding years because they are based not only on data for a longer period, but also on types of data which were not available for the first two years. It has been, and will continue to be one of the committee's principal responsibilities to test all data for validity, reliability, objectivity, and uniformity of definition and reporting. There is still much room for improvement in all of these fields. However, we are still of the opinion that it is not now possible to devise an arithmetical or mathematical formula which will enable automatic classification of the several fairs.

Factors taken into account in arriving at classifications for all fairs include:

(a) Attendance, both paid and unpaid, in relation to estimated current population of the area served. The Division of Fairs and Expositions prepared useful graphs to aid in evaluating this factor.

(b) Number of exhibit classes in which entries can be made, total number of entries, and total premiums paid in relation to total entries.
(c) Net operating expense—operating within the budget.
(d) Operating revenues and operating expenditures.
(e) Net revenues related to attendance.
(f) Kinds and numbers of interim uses, and revenues derived from such uses.

Sectional Fairs

Sectional Fairs have been defined as those which service primarily the immediate area in which they are located. They offer a considerable number of exhibit departments, but the number of exhibits is generally limited, and most of them are entered by residents of the area. There are, however, marked differences in the operations and efficiency of management between fairs which fit into this category. In recognition of these differences, the committee has divided the class into Sectional Fairs I and Sectional Fairs II.

Twenty-eight fairs have been classified as Sectional Fairs II on the basis of their overall ratings. They are:

|---|---|
| 4th District | Petaluma |
| 9th District | Eureka |
| 10th District | Yreka |
| 10A District | Tulelake |
| 14th District | Watsonville |
| 16th District | Paso Robles |
| 17th District | Grass Valley |
| 18th District | Bishop |
| 20th District | Auburn |
| 21A District | Madera |
| 26th District | Plymouth |
| 28th District | Victorville |
| 30th District | Red Bluff |
| 33d District | Hollister |
| 34th District | Cedarville |
| 36th District | Dixon |
| 42d District | Orland |
| 44th District | Colusa |
| 52d District | Sacramento |
| El Dorado County Fair | Placerville |
| Humboldt County Fair | Ferndale |
| Madera County Fair | Chowchilla |
| Mendocino County Fair | Booneville |
| Monterey County Fair | Kings City |
| Napa County Fair | Calistoga |
| Placer County Fair | Roseville |
| Shasta County Fair | McArthur |
| Trinity County Fair | Hayfork |

|---|---|
| 3d District | Chico |
| 7th District | Monterey |
| 12th District | Ukiah |
| 13th District | Yuba City |
| 23d District | Antioch |
| 24th District | Tulare |
| 24A District | Hanford |
| 25th District | Napa |
| 27th District | Anderson |
| 29th District | Sonora |
| 32d District | Costa Mesa |
| 35A District | Mariposa |
| 37th District | Santa Maria |
| 39th District | Angels Camp |
| 40th District | Woodland |
| 41st District | Crescent City |
| 45th District | Imperial |
| 46th District | Hemet |
| 49th District | Lakeport |
| Butte County Fair | Gridley |
| Plumas County Fair | Quincy |
| Solano County Fair | Vallejo |

Special Feature Fairs

Special Feature Fairs have been defined as those which service primarily some particular phase of our State's agriculture, horticulture, livestock raising, or industrial activity. Because each such fair has its own special and distinctive operation, it is difficult to arrive at standards by which to classify them fairly and adequately. Generally, they are typified by the facts that they offer only a limited number of exhibit departments, and concentrate their premium awards in one major division. Each such fair must have strong support in its own county or district, but most of them have a drawing power which attracts exhibitors and attendance from a much wider area.

The committee's list of Special Feature Fairs includes the following:

|---|---|
| 1st District | Oakland |
| 19th District | Santa Barbara |
| Lassen County Fair | Susanville |
| Marin County Fair | Ross |
| Merced County Fair | Los Banos |
| San Benito County Fair | Hollister |
| San Francisco County Fair | San Francisco |
| San Joaquin County Fair | Lodi |
| San Mateo County Fair | San Mateo |

Regional-Sectional Fairs

Regional-Sectional Fairs are defined as those that have management and operation equal to a Regional Fair, but on a smaller scale. Such a fair must have sufficient types of exhibits to attract the majority of exhibitors and spectators, community interest must be high, and interim use of facilities above average Paid attendance must exceed 50,000, and exhibits must number 4,700 or more

A total of 10 fairs have been classified as Regional-Sectional Fairs on the basis of their meeting these standards as well as because of their excellent overall ratings:

|---|---|
| 2d District | Stockton |
| 15th District | Bakersfield |
| 31st District | Ventura |
| 35th District | Merced |
| 38th District | Turlock |
| 50th District | Lancaster |
| 51st District | Northridge |
| Alameda County Fair | Pleasanton |
| Riverside County Fair | Indio |
| Sonoma County Fair | Santa Rosa |

Regional Fairs

For the purposes of determining Regional Fairs, the State was divided into four regions, and it was established that only one such fair could be designated for each region. By definition, such a fair must have paid attendance of at least 100,000, more than 10,000 exhibits, and sufficient interim use to involve year-round use of its facilities.

Again, for 1958 the committee has classed three fairs as Regional. The fairs in the San Joaquin, Coastal, and Southern Regions put in the Regional class are, we believe, unmistakeable in their superior overall ratings as compared to others.

The three are:

|---|---|
| 21st District Fair | Fresno |
| 22d District Fair | Del Mar |
| Santa Clara County Fair | San Jose |

It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to concur in any Senate amendment to an Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution. The vote on concurrence shall be deemed the vote upon final passage of such bill. When Senate amendments to an Assembly bill are concurred in, the bill shall be forthwith ordered enrolled, and the Chief Clerk shall notify the Senate of such concurrence.

Nonconcurrence in Senate Amendments

76. If the Assembly refuse to concur in Senate amendments to an Assembly bill, and when notified that the Senate has refused to concur in Assembly amendments to a Senate bill, the Speaker shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference, and the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the Senate of the action taken by the Assembly and request the appointment of a like committee.

Committee on Conference

77. The Speaker, in appointing a committee on conference, shall select two members from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote.

SECTION 4
PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

82. When a question is under debate or before the Assembly, no motions shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

First—To adjourn;
Second—To recess to a time certain;
Third—To lay on the table;
Fourth—For the previous question;
Fifth—To set as a special order;
Sixth—To postpone indefinitely;
Seventh—To refer to or re-refer;
Eighth—To amend.

Questions of Order Decided Without Debate

83. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for any of the questions named in Rule 84 and pending such motion, shall be decided by the Speaker without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise.

Appeal From Decision of the Speaker

84. Any member may appeal from a decision of the Speaker without waiting for recognition by the Speaker, even though another member has the floor. No appeal is in order when another is pending, or when other business has been transacted by the Assembly prior to the appeal being taken.

Upon the appeal being seconded, the Speaker may give his reasons for the decision, and the member taking the appeal may give his reasons for making his appeal, and the Speaker shall forthwith put this question to the Assembly: "Shall the decision of the Speaker be sustained?"

An appeal cannot be amended and yields only to a motion to recess or adjourn, to lay on the table, or a question of personal privilege. If an appeal be laid on the table, such action shall have no effect on the pending question.

An appeal cannot be debated when relating to indecorum, transgression of Rules, or priority of business. A majority vote of the members present shall decide any appeal.

Speaker Explains Order of Business

85. The Speaker may, on his own motion or upon the motion of any Member of the Assembly, explain the order of business when the motion pending before the Assembly is not debatable. Such explanation is not to consume more than two minutes.

To Adjourn

86. A motion to adjourn is not debatable and cannot be amended, and is always in order, except (a) when another member has the floor; (b) when the Assembly is voting; (c) during a call of the Assembly. The name of any member moving an adjournment and also the hour at which the motion was made and adjournment taken shall be entered in the Journal. A motion to adjourn must be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state to the Assembly any fact relating to the condition of the business of the Assembly which would seem to render it improper or inadvisable to adjourn. A statement shall not occupy more than two minutes and shall not be debatable.

To Recess to a Time Certain

87. A motion to recess to a time certain shall be treated the same as a motion to adjourn, except that such motion is debatable when no business is before the Assembly, and can be amended as to the time and duration of the recess. It yields only to a motion to adjourn.

To Lay on the Table

88. A motion to lay on the table is not debatable and cannot be amended.

A motion to table a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership.

Any motion to lay on the table, if carried by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, carries with it the main question and everything that adheres to it; provided, however, that a motion to lay an amendment on the table, if adopted, does not carry with it a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent, joint, or House resolution.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

The Previous Question

89. The previous question shall be put only when demanded by five members, and in this form: "Shall the question be now put?" and its effect, when sustained by a majority of the members present, shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a vote only on the question then pending; except that the proponent of the matter pending shall be allowed not to exceed five minutes to close the debate.

Motion to Set Special Order

90. A motion to set any matter before the Assembly as a special order of business must be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members elected. It is debatable only as to the propriety of setting the main question as a special order of business, and may be amended only as to the time.

Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain

91. A motion to postpone to a time certain shall be deemed and treated as a motion to set as a special order.

Motion to Postpone Indefinitely

92 When a motion is made to postpone indefinitely any bill, motion, or amendment, it opens the main question to debate. Should the motion to postpone indefinitely prevail by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, the main question shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Amend

93. A motion to amend may itself be amended, but no "amendment to an amendment" can be amended. A motion to amend is debatable, except where the main question to be amended is not debatable. Any motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

A motion to amend having been decided in the negative, shall not again be in order on the same day, or at the same stage of proceeding. A motion to amend by striking out certain words having been decided in the negative, shall not preclude a motion to amend by adding words, or a motion to amend by striking out and inserting words; but in no case shall a further amendment be substantially the same as the one rejected.

Subject to the above provisions of this rule, a motion to amend is in order during the second or third reading of any bill.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present, as provided in Rule 90.

Amendment to Be Germane

94 No amendment to any bill, whether reported by a committee or offered by a member, shall be in order when such amendment relates to a different subject, or is intended to accomplish a different purpose, or requires a title essentially different from the original title of any bill.

Withdrawal of Motions

99. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, or a bill, resolution, or petition read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Assembly.

Motion to Be Germane

100. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted as an amendment.

Motion to Withdraw and Recall Bills

101. A motion to withdraw a bill or resolution from committee, or to re-refer a bill or resolution from one committee to another committee may be made during the regular order of business. A motion to re-refer shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members

No bill or resolution shall be withdrawn from committee and placed upon the file except upon two days' notice thereof and except by a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Re-reference of Measures on File

102. A motion to re-refer a bill or resolution that is on the Assembly Daily File to committee may be made during the regular order of business. The motion shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Bills Stricken From File

103. A motion to strike from the file any bill or House resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership. Such bill shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Rescind Action and Expunge Record

104. Previous to the approval of the Journal by the Assembly any action may be rescinded and its record ordered expunged by an affirmative recorded vote sufficient to take such action originally; except that no action shall be rescinded and the record expunged by a vote less than a majority of the entire elected membership. No motion to rescind the action and expunge the record shall be made twice on the same proposition.

Whenever any action of the Assembly is rescinded and its record ordered expunged, the record of the action expunged shall not appear in any form whatsoever, but the record of the proceedings on the motion to rescind and expunge shall appear in the Assembly Journal as and when printed.

Reconsideration of Vote

105. Notice of a motion to reconsider on the next legislative day, the vote whereby any bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution was passed or refused passage, must be given on the same day such vote to be so reconsidered was taken.

A notice of motion to reconsider a vote must be given by a member voting on the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, and shall take precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn. Upon such notice of motion being given, the bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall forthwith be placed upon the unfinished business file, and no further action shall be taken prior to the next legislative day When a notice of a motion to reconsider has once been made, the same shall be considered to be the property of the Assembly.

Any member voting on any motion, amendment, concurrence, Assembly resolution or proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution, may give notice of reconsideration of the vote whereby the same was passed or refused passage on the same day such vote to be reconsidered was taken, which notice shall suspend all further consideration until the next legislative day; provided, however, that a motion to reconsider on the same day the notice was given shall take precedence over and above such notice and upon demand of any member must be put to an immediate vote. A motion to reconsider any proposition other than a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership.

No notice of motion for reconsideration shall be in order on the day preceding the last day for consideration of Assembly or Senate bills in the Assembly. No motion to reconsider shall be adopted except upon an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of the entire elected membership, except that it shall require a two-thirds vote of the entire elected membership to reconsider the vote on any matter originally requiring a two-thirds vote for its passage or adoption.

When reconsideration is granted, the bill shall resume its exact position before the Assembly previous to its being voted upon.

Call of Assembly

106. After the roll has been called, and prior to the announcement of the vote, any member may move a call of the Assembly. A majority of the members present may order a call of the Assembly, and the Speaker shall immediately order the Sergeant-at-Arms to lock all doors and shall direct the Clerk to prepare a list of absentees as disclosed by the last roll call, which list of absentees shall be furnished to the Sergeant-at-Arms Thereupon no members shall be permitted to leave the Assembly Chamber except by written permission of the Speaker, and no person shall be permitted to enter except such member as is taken into custody as herein provided, or Senators, officers, attaches, or employees of the Legislature in the official performance of their duties.

Those members who are found to be absent, and for whom no leaves of absence have been granted, shall be forthwith taken into custody wherever found by the Sergeant-at-Arms or his assistants or any person designated by the Sergeant-at-Arms, including members of the California Highway Patrol, the State Police, and sheriffs or their deputies, and brought to the Assembly Chamber. No recess or adjournment shall be taken during a call of the Assembly. During such call, the Assembly may consider and transact any matter of business by unanimous consent No call of the Assembly shall be ordered on any matter while the Assembly is already under call. 107. The adoption of any resolution authorizing the expenditure of money shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of all members elected to the Assembly. All House resolutions shall be numbered and shall be referred to the appropriate committee by the Speaker.

Motions and Resolutions

108. Any motion or resolution not otherwise provided for under the Rules shall be placed before the Assembly only under this order of business. Unless otherwise provided by law or Assembly rule, any motion or resolution may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.
