STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.

SACRAMENTO, May 12, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2799, the same being:

"An act to amend section 737s, as amended, of the Political Code of the State of California to provide an annual salary for each of the judges of the superior court in and for the county of Los Angeles of $10,000"

That there shall be no approval of expenditures necessitating increased taxes, seems to justify withholding my approval of Assembly Bill No. 2799.

Messages from the Governor.

The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 12, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 1938, the same being:

"An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled 'An act granting to the city of South San Francisco the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands of the State of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom to the city of South San Francisco and regulating the management, use and control thereof,' approved April 10, 1925, relating to the sale of certain of said lands by the city of South San Francisco."

The grant of the property to which reference is made in Assembly Bill No. 1938, was made to South San Francisco by an act approved April 10, 1925 This act granted to the city of South San Francisco certain property located within the city limits of the city of South San Francisco, which is salt marsh, tide and submerged land The act provides that the land shall be used by the city solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereof of wharves, docks, etc., necessary or convenient for the promotion of commerce and navigation and shall not at any time grant or convey the land or any part thereof to any individual, etc., providing, however, that it may grant franchises for the use of the wharves, piers, etc., not exceeding 25 years, and provides for necessary utilities and setting of tolls, rates, etc.

The bill amends this section by specifically stating that certain described land included in the grant is useless for the promotion or accommodation of commerce or navigation or for the conducting of a harbor or the maintenance of wharves, piers, etc The bill describes such land, by metes and bounds in two separate parcels, and specifically would authorize the city of South San Francisco to sell, grant, and convey such land.

Believing it against the policy and the best interests of the State of California to sell any public tidelands, under the terms proposed in this bill, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1938 without my approval

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F MERRIAM, Governor of California

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2474, the same being.

"An act to amend section 537 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to attachments."

In 1933 the California Legislature amended section 537 of the Code of Civil Procedure, by including the words 'deed of trust", and thereby providing that no attachment could be issued where the obligation was secured by deed of trust

Assembly Bill No 2474 would remove that provision from section 537 of the Code of Civil Procedure, and this I am informed by a number of attorneys, in whose opinion I concur, would be unwise.

For the above reason, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2474 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

(1) To interfere with, restrain, or coerce employees in the exercise of the rights guaranteed in section 7.

(2) To dominate or interfere with the formation or administration of any labor organization or contribute financial or other support to it; provided, that subject to rules and regulations made and published by the board pursuant to section 3 (h) an employer shall not be prohibited from permitting employees to confer with him during working hours without loss of time or pay.

(3) By discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment, to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization. If upon all the testimony taken, the board shall be of the opinion that any person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such person an order requiring such person to cease and desist from such unfair labor practice, and to take such affirmative action including reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this act. Such order may further require such person to make reports from time to time showing the extent to which it has complied with the order If upon all the testimony taken the board shall be of the opinion that no person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the said complaint.

on account of transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, except that such individual so testifying shall not be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying.

Explanation of Vote and Action on Assembly Bill No. 1826.

This bill originally provided $2,500,000 indemnity to operate under the present law with only part of the counties included in the controlled zones, and a maximum State indemnity of $12.50 per condemned animal. My amendments, which were credited to the committee through error, raised the indemnity to $15 per animal and to put all the counties under the act, and my amendments today make the act effective as soon as approved by the Governor

S. L. HEISINGER

Assembly Bill No. 1826 was presented as a health measure; that the great dairy industry of California was in jeopardy unless this appropriation was granted.

I raised the question in committee that the citrus industry was more vital to this State, and that the citrus fruits today are recognized to be as beneficial to health as milk, so why not an appropriation of an equal amount to repay citrus growers in part for their great loss sustained in the recent freeze. Why tax the entire State of California to pay the loss suffered by any one business? This is class legislation.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 602, the same being:

"An act to amend the Political Code by adding thereto a new section to be numbered 4049.5, authorizing boards of supervisors to expend county funds for the dissemination of information and for publicity in connection with the payment of taxes."

Assembly Bill No. 602 permits advertising by newspapers, radio, billboards and otherwise, for promoting the prompt payment of taxes. This would add another expense, of doubtful value, to the taxpayers' burden. What the taxpayer needs is a reduction of public expenses which would insure a reduction in taxes, and a way to secure funds for the payment of taxes, rather than further information regarding their collection.

For the above reasons, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 602 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Assembly Bill No. 602 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE.
SACRAMENTO, May 14, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2547, the same being:

"An act to amend section 487.5 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to use of trout roe or spawn."

In 1935 the Legislature passed a bill which was approved, and which prohibited the use of "fresh" trout roe or spawn for the taking of any fish. Some anglers have been able to avoid this provision, enacted in 1935, by treating the roe or spawn and then claiming it was not "fresh".

Assembly Bill No. 2547 was originally introduced to eliminate the word "fresh" However, the bill was amended opening Districts 1½, 2, 2½ and 3 to the use of trout roe or spawn.

Believing the law should apply alike to all districts in the State, and that the exemption of certain districts from the prohibition of the present law would make much more difficult the enforcement of the law, I am withholding approval of Assembly Bill No. 2547.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Assembly Bill No. 2547 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 14, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval Assembly Bill No. 481, the same being:

"An act to amend section 17 of the Inheritance Tax Act of 1935, relating to inheritance taxation."

Under the present law whenever an Inheritance Tax Appraiser is called upon to appraise an estate, and finds there is no taxable estate, the law provides for only a nominal fee for the appraiser. The proposed law would require the payment of a regular statutory fee to the appraiser, even though there is no tax to be paid.

This is, in my opinion, unfair, as the appraiser should determine first whether there is to be a tax paid, and if none is to be paid no appraisal should be necessary The present law provides for the fixing of such fee as a court deems reasonable, and this in my opinion is as it should be.

For the above reasons, I am refusing approval of Assembly Bill No. 481.

Respectfully submitted

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Assembly Bill No. 481 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 14, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 906, the same being:

"An act to amend section 23 of the District Investigation Act of 1933 so as to exclude sanitary districts, county sanitation districts, fire protection, local health, garbage disposal and county fire protection districts from the operation of said act."

Assembly Bill No 906 would exclude from the District Investigation Act of 1933, fire protection, sanitary, local health, county fire protection, county sanitation and garbage disposal districts. The present law provides for a preliminary investigation and report and hearing, and also provides certain restrictions and limitations, together with opportunity for protest by the owners of a majority of the property subject to assessment.

Believing that the District Investigation Act, the same being Chapter 806 of the statutes enacted by the Legislature of 1933 offers a proper and uniform procedure, and a protection against hasty and ill advised formation of such organizations, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 906 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Assembly Bill No. 906 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 14, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly

I am returning herewith without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2398, the same being.

"An act to amend the title of, and to add sections 2.2, 2.3, 2.4, 2.5 and 4 to, an act entitled "An act authorizing any city, city and county, county, town, municipality or political subdivision to acquire certain liens on property offered for sale for the nonpayment of certain assessments," approved June 4, 1915, relating to authorizing cities, counties, cities and counties and other political subdivisions to sell and otherwise dispose of real property acquired on tax sales."

The present law relates to disposal by political subdivisions of liens or property offered for sale for the nonpayment of certain assessments. The present law provides for the sale of such liens or property only for the full amount of the lien, except after notice has been given and no sale can be made, then the legislative body of the political subdivision may sell the property for the best price obtainable

Assembly Bill No. 2398 would permit each legislative body of a political subdivision to provide its own method of procedure and conditions and terms of sale, with no right to redeem the property from its delinquency after the consummation of the sale The present law provides uniformity of procedure, and offers a certain protection which this bill would delete

It is my belief that the present law provides ample authority whereby the legislative body may dispose of liens or property, and the proposed law is unnecessary and inadvisable.

For the above reasons, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2398 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted

FRANK F MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Assembly Bill No. 53—An act to amend section 1195a of, and to add a new section to be numbered 1195c to, the Political Code, relating to the printing of constitutional amendments and propositions, to be submitted to the vote of the electors.

Motion to Amend Assembly Bill No. 53.

Mr. King moved to amend Assembly Bill No. 53 as follows:

Amendment No. 1.

On page 1, lines 1 and 2 of the title of the printed bill, strike out "section 1195a of, and to add a new section to be numbered 1195c", and insert in lieu thereof the following: "sections 1195a and 1197 of, and to add sections 1195c, 1197.01, and 1197.25".

Amendment No. 2.

SEC. 3. Section 1197 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

1197. 1. There shall be provided at each polling place, at each election at which public officers are voted for, but one form of ballot for all the candidates for public office, and every ballot shall contain the names of all the candidates, whose nominations for any office specified on the ballot have been duly made and not withdrawn, except those candidates for electors for President and Vice President of the United States who have either been nominated by the respective State conventions of their political parties or who have designated the names of those candidates for President and Vice President of the United States for whom they pledged themselves to vote in conformity with section 1188.5 of this code, as provided by law together with the title of the office arranged to conform as nearly as practicable to the plan hereinafter set forth.

2. The order in which the list of offices shall appear on the ballot shall, as to State offices and district offices, when the district includes more than one county, be determined by the Secretary of State, and shall as nearly as may be practicable be the same for all counties. The order in which the list of county offices or district offices embracing one county or less, shall appear on the ballot, shall be determined by the county clerk.

The order in which the list of candidates for any office shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined as follows:

The name of the incumbent shall appear first upon a list of all candidates for any office and if two or more positions are to be filled at the same time and more than one incumbent is running, the name of each of the incumbents shall appear in alphabetical order for that Assembly District which is lowest in numerical order of any Assembly Districts in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for each succeeding Assembly District in which such candidates are to be voted on the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

The names of all other candidates for election for any office shall appear subsequent to the names of all incumbents and shall be determined in the following manner:

(a) If the office is an office the candidates for which are to be voted on throughout the entire State, including United States Senator in Congress, the Secretary of State shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for the First Assembly District; and thereafter for each succeeding Assembly District, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged; provided, however, that the names of those candidates for the office of Electors for President and Vice President who have either been nominated by the State conventions of their respective political parties or who have designated the names of the candidates for whom they pledged themselves to vote in accordance with section 1188-5 of this code, shall not appear upon the ballot. In lieu thereof, the names of the candidates of their respective parties for President and Vice President of the United States shall be printed together in pairs upon the ballot under the title, "Presidential Electors." The Secretary of State shall arrange such pairs for the First Assembly District in the alphabetical order of the names of the candidates for President and, thereafter for each succeeding Assembly District, the other pair appearing first shall be placed last, the order of the pairs remaining unchanged.

At the right of the names of the candidates for President and Vice President of each party shall be printed their party name or political appellation. At the right of such party name or appellation there shall be a square of sufficient size for the stamping of a cross (+). Every (+) stamped within such square shall be counted as a vote for each candidate for Presidential Electors of such party.

If the office is that of Representative in Congress, or is an office the candidates for nomination to which are to be voted on in more than one county or city and county, but not throughout the entire State, except the office of State Senator or Assemblyman, the Secretary of State shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order for that Assembly District which is lowest in numerical order of any Assembly District in which such candidates are to be voted on; and thereafter for each succeeding Assembly District in which such candidates are to be voted on the name appearing first for such office in the last preceding district shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged.

In certifying to each county clerk or registrar of voters the list of names as required in section 23 of the Primary Election Law, the Secretary of State shall certify and transmit the list of candidates for each office according to Assembly Districts, in the order of arrangement as determined by the above provisions; and in the case of each county or city and county containing more than one Assembly District, he shall transmit separate lists for each Assembly District. Except for the office of State Senator or Assemblyman, the order in which the names so certified shall appear upon the ballot, shall be for each Assembly District the order as determined by the Secretary of State in accordance with the above provisions, and as certified and transmitted by him to each county clerk or registrar of voters.

(b) If the office is an office to be voted on wholly within one county or city and county, except the office of Representative in Congress or State Senator or Assemblyman, the county clerk of such county or the registrar of voters of such city and county, shall arrange the names of all candidates for such office in alphabetical order, which order shall be the order of names upon the ballots; provided, there is no more than one Assembly District in such county or city and county. If there is more than one Assembly District in such county or city and county, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall so arrange on the ballot the order of names of all candidates for such office that they shall appear in alphabetical order for that Assembly District in such county, or city and county, which is lowest in numerical order, and thereafter for each succeeding Assembly District in such county, or city and county, the name appearing first for each office in the last preceding Assembly District shall be placed last, the order of the other names remaining unchanged

(c) If the office is that of State Senator or Assemblyman, the names of all candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order

(d) If the office is a municipal office in any city or town whose charter does not provide for the order in which names shall appear on the ballot, the names of candidates for such office shall be placed upon the ballot in alphabetical order.

If the nomination of a candidate for any office shall be made by petition, filed within the time and manner provided by law, but subsequent to the determination of the order in which names of candidates shall appear on the ballot, the name of such candidates with the word "Independent" printed to the right thereof, shall be placed on the ballot next below the names of the other candidates for the same office; provided, however, that in the case of judicial officers and school officers the word "Independent" shall be omitted.

3. The order in which all questions and propositions (including proposed laws and constitutional amendments), which are to be submitted to the vote of the electors, shall appear upon the ballot shall be determined by the Secretary of State The Attorney General shall provide and return to the Secretary of State a ballot title or designation by which all such questions, propositions, proposed laws and constitutional amendments shall be designated upon the ballot, provided, however, any person who is interested in any question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment, the petition as to which is being circulated for the purpose of having the same submitted under an initiative petition, as provided in section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, to a vote of the electors, or any proposed constitutional amendment to be submitted to a vote of the electors, may at any time prior to one hundred thirty days before the election at which such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment is to be submitted to a vote of the electors, file a copy of said question, proposition, proposed law or proposed constitutional amendment with the Secretary of State, together with a request that a ballot title be prepared for the same, such request shall be accompanied with the address of the person or association of persons proposing such measure. The Secretary of State shall forthwith transmit a copy of said question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment to the Attorney General. Within ten days after the same is filed with him, said Attorney General shall provide and return to the Secretary of State a ballot title for said measure. The ballot title may be distinguished from the legislative or other title of the measure and shall express in not exceeding one hundred words, the purpose of the measure. In making such ballot title, the Attorney General shall give a true and impartial statement of the purpose of the measure and in such language that the ballot title shall not be an argument or likely to create prejudice either for or against the measure. Immediately upon receipt of the ballot title as prepared by the Attorney General, the Secretary of State shall mail to any and all persons who may have requested the preparation of such ballot title, a notice addressed to such person or persons at the address accompanying such request, stating that the Attorney General has made and returned such ballot title, which notice shall also contain a copy of the ballot title as prepared by the Attorney General. Any person who is dissatisfied with the ballot title prepared by the Attorney General for any such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment may, after the same has been returned to the Secretary of State, as hereinbefore provided, and within ten days after said notice shall have been mailed by the Secretary of State, as above provided, file in writing with the Secretary of State his objections, who shall forthwith file a copy of such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment, together with the title thereof as so prepared by the Attorney General and the said objections thereto, with the Board of Title Commissioners, which board shall consist of the three justices of the District Court of Appeal of the State of California, in and for the Third Appellate District, who shall be ex officio Title Commissioners for the purposes of this act and which board is hereby created; said board shall fix a time at which any person may be heard either for or against the objection so made and shall notify all persons of the time so set and thereupon said Board of Title Commissioners shall proceed to consider the said title prepared by the Attorney General and the objections filed thereto, and shall prepare a title by which such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment shall be designated upon the ballot. Said title commissioners shall certify the said designation to the Secretary of State within ten days after said written objections have been received by them. The determination by the said Board of Title Commissioners shall be final and conclusive. Such questions, propositions, proposed law and constitutional amendments shall be designated on the ballot by the said ballot title certified to the Secretary of State by the said Attorney General, or in case a different title has been prepared, certified and filed by the said Board of Title Commissioners, then such title shall be the title and designation by which any such question, proposition, proposed law or constitutional amendment shall be designated upon the ballot.

4. All ballots shall be not to exceed twenty-four inches in length, and shall be three inches in width, and as many times such width as may be necessary to contain all of the names which are to be printed upon the ballots, with proper blank spaces to allow the voter to write in names not printed on the ballot, and also a separate column or columns of sufficient width for statements of all questions, propositions or constitutional amendments submitted to vote of the electors. Each group of candidates to be voted on shall be headed by the designation of the office and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, according to the number to be elected to such office; such designation of the office and of the number of candidates to be voted for shall be printed in heavy-faced gothic type not smaller than ten-point. The word or words designating the office shall be printed flush with the left-hand margin and the words "Vote for One" or "Vote for Two" or more, as the case may be, shall extend to the extreme right of the column and over the voting square. The designation of the office and the directions for voting shall be separated from the names of the candidates by a light line. The names of the candidates for such office shall be printed in eight-point roman type (capitals) in proper order below the designation of the office, and in the same line in which the name of the candidate is printed and at the right of the name, or immediately below the name if there shall not be sufficient space to the right thereof, shall be printed in eight-point roman type (lower-case) the designation of the political party or parties, which shall not be abbreviated, by or on behalf of which such candidate has been nominated, the first political party so designated being the party with which such candidate was affiliated on the date his nomination papers were filed as ascertained by the Secretary of State from the affidavit of registration of such candidate in the office of the county clerk in the county in which such candidate resides; provided, that when a candidate has been nominated by petition, the word "Independent," shall be printed to the right of his name; and provided also that as to candidates for judicial offices, and school offices the designation of the political party or parties, or the word "Independent," if there be an independent candidate, shall be omitted. The name of the candidate and the designation of the political party or parties by which he has been nominated shall be printed in a space three-eighths of an inch in depth, and shall be defined by light horizontal ruled lines, with a blank space on the right thereof three-eighths of an inch square, which blank space (called the voting square) shall be made use of by the voter to designate, by stamping a cross (+) therein and after the name of the candidate, his choice of particular candidates.

All of the provisions of this section relating to the form and size of ballot including the size of the type thereon, are mandatory. Any officer whose duty it is to supply such ballots who fails to supply ballots in compliance with such provisions shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

5. The names of the candidates for an office shall not be separated from each other on the ballot by names of candidates for any other office, and the list of candidates for each office shall be separated from the lists of candidates for other offices by a double rule, above and below such list. Each series of the lists of candidates for the several offices shall be headed by the word "State," "Congressional," "Legislative," "County," or "Municipal" or other proper general classification, as the case may be, printed in heavy-faced gothic capital type, not smaller than twelve-point, each such word being separated from the names of the candidates beneath by a three-point line.

Immediately under the name of each candidate and not separated therefrom by any line may appear, at the option of the candidate, one of the following designations:

a. Words designating the city, county, district or State office which the candidate then holds.

b. If the candidate be a candidate for the same office which he then holds, the word "incumbent."

c. The word designating the profession, vocation or occupation of the candidate. The profession, vocation or occupation so designated shall be the same as appears in the affidavit of registration of such candidate, provided, however, the word "incumbent" shall be used only under subsection b hereof.

In all cases words so used shall be printed in eight-point roman bold-face capitals and lower-case type.

6. The left-hand side of each column of names on the ballot, and also the right-hand side of each column of voting squares, shall be bordered by a broad printed line one-twelfth of an inch wide. The ballot shall be so printed as to give each voter a clear opportunity to designate, by stamping a cross (+) in a blank enclosed space hereinbefore designated as the voting square on the right of and after the name of each candidate whose name is printed on the ballot his choice of particular candidates, or his choice of each and all of a group of candidates as provided in subdivision 2 of this section. The binding or stitching of each package of ballots shall be on the left side thereof. The ballot shall be printed on the same leaf with a stub not over one and one-half inches in width and separated therefrom by a perforated line from top to bottom, one-half inch to the left of the broad printed line along the left border of the ballot. Upon this stub shall be printed the number of the ballot only. On each ballot a perforated line shall extend across the top of the ballot one inch from the top thereof. The same number as appears on the stub shall be printed above said perforated line within two inches of the perforated line on the left-hand side of the ballot, and above this number shall be printed in parenthesis, in small type, as follows: (This number is to be torn off by inspector); and one-half inch to the right of this ballot number there shall be a short perforated line extended from the perforated line along the top of the ballot to the top edge of the ballot. Immediately above said perforated line shall be printed in black-face lower-case type at least twelve-point in size, and enclosed in a parenthesis, the following, ("Fold ballot to this perforated line, leaving top margin exposed.") Above this printed direction, and midway between it and the top edge of the ballot, shall be printed in black-face capital type at least twelve-point in size, and, with the four middle words underlined or otherwise made prominent, the following: "MARK CROSSES (+) ON BALLOT ONLY WITH RUBBER STAMP; NEVER WITH PEN OR PENCIL." The number on each ballot shall be the same as that on the corresponding stub, and the ballots and stubs shall be numbered consecutively in each county. All ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters other than the separate ballots containing the names only of candidates for city and county offices, printed by the county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties, shall have printed immediately below the perforated line along the top of the ballot, and above the instructions to voters, the words in capital type at least twelve-point in size the words "GENERAL TICKET," followed by the respective number of the Congressional, Senatorial, and Assembly District in which the ballot is to be voted; and all ballots printed by county clerks or registrars of voters of consolidated cities and counties containing the names of city and county offices, and also all ballots printed by the clerk, registrar of voters, or secretary of a legislative body of any incorporated city or town, shall have printed in the same manner below the perforated line the words "MUNICIPAL TICKET." All municipal ballots shall be printed upon paper of a different tint from that of the general ballot.

7. All of the ballots of the same sort prepared by any county clerk or registrar of voters, or clerk or secretary of a legislative body, or other person having charge of the preparing of such ballots, for the same polling place, shall be precisely the same size, arrangement, quality and tint of paper, and kind of type, and shall be printed with black ink of the same tint, so that without the numbers on the stubs it shall be impossible to distinguish any one of the ballots from the other ballots of the same sort; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and character.

8. If two or more officers are to be elected for the same office for different terms, the terms for which each candidate for such office is nominated shall be printed on the ballot as a part of the title of the office. A cross (+) stamped in the square opposite the name of a party and its Presidential and Vice Presidential candidate, is a vote for all of the electors of that party, but for no other candidates." this instruction appearing immediately before the words: "To vote for a person not on the ballot."

If you wrongly stamp, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election and obtain another.

If a group of candidates for electors has been nominated under the provisions of section 1188 of this code and has under the provisions of section 1188.5 of this code designated the names of the candidates for that President or Vice President of the United States for whom such candidates have pledged themselves to vote, then the instructions to voters shall also contain the following:

"Article I. General Provisions.

SECTION 1. This act and each and every part thereof is an expression of the police power of this State under which it is hereby declared to be the policy of the State of California to cooperate with and assist the National Government in its efforts to eliminate some of the sources of labor disputes that have in the past disrupted trade and commerce. The destructive influences that have resulted in this State from contention between employers and their employees have resulted in vast economic waste and have been productive of widespread unemployment and disorganization of trade and industry, injuriously affecting the standards of living of the people of this State. It is a matter of common knowledge that protection by law of the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively, by eliminating or mitigating certain recognized sources of labor disputes and by encouraging amicable adjustment of grievances between employers and employees has tended to promote harmonious employer-employee relations. The inequality of bargaining power between employees who do not possess full freedom of association or actual liberty of contract, and employers who are organized in the corporate or other forms of ownership association substantially burdens and affects the flow of commerce and tends to aggravate recurrent business depressions by depressing wage rates and the purchasing power of wage earners in industry and by preventing the stabilization of competitive wage rates and working conditions within and between industries.

Experience had proved that equalization of bargaining power between employers and employees, by removing certain recognized sources of industrial strife and unrest, and by encouraging practices fundamental to the friendly adjustment of industrial disputes arising out of differences as to wages, hours, or other working conditions, would materially raise the standards of living of the people of this State, enabling them to consume more of the tremendous output of modern mass production and lessening the severity of business crises, resulting from a lack of consumer purchasing power. This act is intended to stimulate and encourage the practice of collective bargaining between employers and employees and to protect the exercise by workers of full freedom of association, self organization, and designation of representatives of their own choosing, for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment, or other mutual aid or protection. The above is an express declaration of the social public policy of this State, binding on all departments of the State Government.

SEC. 2. When used in this act—

(1) The term "person" includes one or more individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations, legal representatives, trustees, trustees in bankruptcy, or receivers.

(2) The term "employer" includes any person acting in the interest of an employer, directly or indirectly, but shall not include the United States, or any State or political subdivision thereof, or any person subject to the Railway Labor Act or National Labor Relations Act, as amended from time to time, or any labor organization (other than when acting as an employer), or anyone acting in the capacity of officer or agent of such labor organization.

(3) The term "employee" shall include any employee, and shall not be limited to the employees of a particular employer, unless the act explicitly states otherwise, and shall include any individual whose work has ceased as a consequence of, or in connection with, any current labor dispute or because of any unfair labor practice, and who has not obtained any other regular and substantially equivalent employment, but shall not include any individual employed as an agricultural laborer, or an employee engaged in interstate commerce, or in the domestic service of any family or person at his home, or any individual employed by his parent or spouse

(4) The term "representatives" includes any individual or labor organization.

(5) The term "labor organization" means any organization of any kind, or any agency or employee representation committee or plan, in which employees participate and which exists for the purpose, in whole or in part, of dealing with employers concerning grievances, labor disputes, wages, rates of pay, hours of employment, or conditions of work.

(6) The term "unfair labor practice" means any unfair labor practice listed in section 31.

(7) The term "labor dispute" includes any controversy concerning terms, tenure or conditions of employment, or concerning the association or representation of persons in negotiating, fixing, maintaining, changing, or seeking to arrange terms or conditions of employment, regardless of whether the disputants stand in the proximate relation of employer and employee.

(8) The term "Mediation Board" means the California Mediation Board created by this act.

(9) The term "Representative" means any person or persons, labor union, organization or corporation designated either by an employer or group of employers or by its or their employees, to act for it or for them.

SEC. 3. Unless the particular provision or the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in this act shall govern the construction of this act.

The secretary and such attorneys, clerks, and deputies shall perform such duties as the board shall assign to them. The board shall, with the approval of the Department of Finance, fix the compensation of such assistants, clerks, and deputies Each assistant and deputy shall, within fifteen days after his appointment, take and subscribe to the constitutional oath of office, and file the same in the office of the Secretary of State.

(3) By discrimination in regard to hire or tenure of employment or any term or condition of employment, to encourage or discourage membership in any labor organization. Nothing in this act or in any statute of the State of California shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization (not established, maintained or assisted by any action defined in this act as an unfair labor practice) to require as a condition of employment membership therein, if such labor organization is the representative of the employees, as provided in section 32 in the appropriate collective bargaining unit covered by such agreement when made.

SEC 34. Whenever a question arises concerning the representation of employees, the board may investigate such controversy and certify to the parties, in writing, the name or names of the representatives that have been designated or selected. In any such investigation, the board shall provide for an appropriate hearing upon due notice, either in conjunction with a proceeding authorized by this act or otherwise, and may take a secret ballot of employees, or utilize any other suitable method to ascertain such representatives.

SEC. 35 Whenever an order of the board made pursuant to section 38 is based in whole or in part upon facts certified following an investigation pursuant to section 34, and there is a petition for the enforcement of or hearing on such order, such certification and the record of such investigation shall be included in the transcript of the entire record required to be filed under section 42, and thereupon the decree of the court enforcing, modifying, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board shall be made and entered upon the pleadings, testimony, and proceedings set forth in such transcript.

Thereafter, in its discretion the board upon notice may take further testimony or hear argument If upon all the testimony taken, the board shall be of the opinion that any person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such person an order requiring such person to cease and desist from such unfair labor practice, and to take such affirmative action, including reinstatement of employees with or without back pay, as will effectuate the policies of this act Such order may further require such person to make reports from time to time showing the extent to which it has complied with the order If upon all the testimony taken the board shall be of the opinon that no person named in the complaint has engaged in or is engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the said complaint

SEC. 41. No person shall be excused from attending and testifying or from producing books, records, correspondence, documents, or other evidence in obedience to the subpena of the board, on the ground that the testimony or evidence required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to a penalty or forfeiture; but no individual shall be prosecuted or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of transaction, matter, or thing concerning which he is compelled, after having claimed his privilege against self-incrimination, to testify or produce evidence, except that such individual so testifying shall not be exempt from prosecution and punishment for perjury committed in so testifying

SEC. 42. The board may, after a hearing and decision on any complaint, bring an action to enjoin the violation or a threatened violation of any of its orders in the superior court in any county wherein the unfair labor practice in question has occurred, or is about to occur, or wherein any person charged with such unfair labor practice in the complaint resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of its orders and for appropriate temporary relief Upon the filing of the complaint in any such action, the court shall cause notices thereof to be served upon such person, and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the action and of the question determined therein. SEC. 44. No objection that has not been raised or urged before the board, its member, agent or agency, shall be considered by any court, unless the failure or neglect to raise or urge such objection shall be excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The findings of the board as to the facts shall be prima facie evidence of the truth thereof.

SEC. 45. The jurisdiction of the court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to appeal as in other cases provided.

SEC. 46 Any person aggrieved by a final order of the board shall have the right to petition the superior court of the State of California in the county wherein such order was made for a hearing or appropriate temporary relief or restraining order and shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding including the pleadings and testimony upon which such order was entered and the findings and order of the board. Upon such filing the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon the board and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper.

In any county containing more than six and less than fifteen Assembly Districts, the county central committee of each party shall be elected by each Assembly District and shall consist of five members from each Assembly District therein.

In all counties containing not more than six nor less than five Assembly Districts the county central committee of such party shall be elected by Assembly Districts and shall consist of one member for each seven hundred votes or fraction thereof in each such Assembly District cast for such party's candidate for Governor at the last general election at which a Governor was elected.

In all counties containing less than five Assembly Districts the county central committee shall be elected by supervisor districts, and the number to be elected from any supervisor district shall be determined as follows: The number of votes cast in such supervisor district for such party's candidate for Governor at the last general election at which such Governor was elected shall be divided by one-twentieth of the number of votes cast for such Governor in such county; and the integer next larger than the quotient obtained by such division shall constitute the number of members of the county central committee to be elected by such party in said supervisor district.

In each county and city and county the nominee of the party for State Senator or the incumbent State Senator and the nominees of the party for the Assembly shall be ex officio members of the committee.

The county clerk or registrar of voters in each county or city and county shall, between the first Monday and the second Monday of June next preceding the primary election, compute the number of members of the county central committee allotted to each Assembly District or supervisor district, as the case may be, by the provisions of this subdivision.

Each candidate for member of a county central committee shall appear upon the ballot upon the filing of a nomination paper according to the provisions of section 5 of this act, signed in his behalf by the electors of the political subdivision in which he is a candidate, as above provided; and the number of candidates to which each party is entitled, as hereinbefore provided, in each political subdivision, receiving the highest number of votes shall be declared elected; but no candidate for county committeeman shall be declared elected unless he shall have received votes equal in number to the minimum of signatures to the nomination paper which would have been required to place his name on the primary ballot as a candidate for member of the county committee. Each county central committee shall meet in the court house at its county seat on the second Tuesday in September following the August primary election, and shall organize by selecting a chairman, a secretary and such other officers and committees as it shall deem necessary for carrying on the campaign of the party.

6. No person shall be eligible for appointment or election to the State, county or district committee of any party who is not registered as affiliated with such party at the time of such appointment or election. In the event of the appointment or election to any party committee of an ineligible person, or whenever any member of any such committee dies, resigns or becomes incapacitated to act, or removes from the jurisdiction of the committee, or ceases to be a member of such committee's party, a vacancy shall exist, which shall be filled by appointment by the committee in which such ineligibility or vacancy occurs."

4051. The board of supervisors, directly or through an authorized investigator, shall upon receipt of an application for aid, promptly, without any unnecessary delay, and with all diligence, make the necessary investigation Such investigation shall be completed within ninety days after receipt of the application unless for good cause an extension of time for investigation is declared necessary by the board of supervisors Said extension shall be subject to the approval of the State Department of Social Welfare.

The board shall, upon receipt of the report of the investigation, decide upon the amount of aid, if any.

4052. If any applicant or recipient is dissatisfied with the action of the board of supervisors with respect to his application or receipt of aid, he shall upon filing a petition with the State Department of Social Welfare have the right of appeal and shall be accorded an opportunity for a fair hearing The Chief of the Division for the Disabled in the State Department of Social Welfare shall set such appeal for hearing before the State Social Welfare Board and shall give all parties concerned written notice of the time and place of such hearing. At such hearing the applicant or recipient may appear in person, with counsel of his own choosing, or in person and with such counsel

The county board of supervisors shall then pay to such disabled person the sum awarded, if any, by the State Social Welfare Board Payments of aid shall be commenced as of the first day of the month in which the application is granted, but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application.

An applicant whose application for aid under this chapter has been rejected may not again apply for such aid until the expiration of one year from the date of the previous application, except with the consent of the county.

4053. If the application for aid is granted, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall report the fact to the auditor of the county. All payments of aid under this chapter shall be made monthly in advance by the treasurer of the county. of reputable witnesses, found incapable of taking care of himself or his money, upon recommendation of the board of supervisors and with the approval of the Department of Social Welfare the aid authorized in this chapter may be paid to any responsible person acceptable to the recipient for the benefit of the recipient of this aid, but it shall be unlawful for the board of supervisors to order any part of the aid granted under this chapter to be paid in the form of merchandise orders for food, rent or otherwise.

4054. All aid under this chapter shall be renewed annually on verified applications and after such further investigation as the board deems necessary. The amount of aid may be changed if the board finds that the recipient's circumstances have changed.

4055. All necessary expense incurred by county boards of supervisors in carrying out the provisions of this chapter shall be paid by the county in the same manner as other expenses of the county are paid.

4056. Payments of the amount appropriated in section 4011 shall be made quarterly. The method of computing and paying such amount for each quarter of the calendar year shall be as follows:

(a) The State Department of Social Welfare shall, prior to the beginning of each quarter, estimate the amount to be paid for such quarter to each county under the provisions of section 4011, such estimate to be based on a report filed by each county containing (1) its estimate of the total sums to be expended in such quarter in accordance with the provisions of this chapter, and stating the amount appropriated or made available by the county for such expenditures in such quarter, and if such amount is less than that portion of the total sum of such estimated expenditures which is required under the provisions of this chapter to be paid by each such county, the source or sources from which the difference is expected to be derived, (2) records of the number of disabled individuals receiving aid under the authority of this chapter in the county, and (3) such other information and investigation as the State Department of Social Welfare may find necessary.

(b) The State Department of Social Welfare shall then certify to the State Controller the amounts so estimated by it for each county, reduced or increased as the case may be, by any sum by which it finds that its estimate for any prior quarter was greater or less than the amount which should have been paid to the county under this chapter for such quarter, except to the extent that such sum has been applied to make the amount certified for any prior quarter greater or less than the amount estimated by the State Department of Social Welfare for such prior quarter.

(c) The State Controller shall thereupon draw the necessary warrants, and prior to audit or settlement by the State Department of Social Welfare, and the State Controller, the State Treasurer shall pay to the treasurer of each county the amount so certified.

(3) The clerk of the board of supervisors of each county shall report monthly to the said State department in such manner and form as the latter may prescribe, the number of applications granted and the grants of aid changed, revoked, or suspended under this chapter by the board of supervisors, during the preceding calendar month, together with copies of all applications received and a statement of the action of the board thereon.

4058. During such time as grants in aid are provided or made available by the United States Government for aid to the disabled in this State and accepted by this State, the State shall reimburse each county in addition to the sums provided in section 4011, to the extent of its proportionate share of one half of the total amounts of payment made to the State by the United States Government for or in respect to aid for disabled citizens who receive aid under the provisions of this chapter.

4059. The State Social Welfare Board and the Director of the State Department of Social Welfare may cooperate with any public agency, Federal or State, which has as its purpose the retraining and rehabilitation of disabled persons.

Article 6. Change of Residence.

4070. Any recipient of aid under this chapter who removes from one county to another county in this State shall be entitled to aid, after residence of one year in the county to which he has so removed; and the removal of any person receiving aid hereunder from one county to another within this State shall not work a forfeiture during such one year period of the aid previously awarded under this chapter. The county to which such person has removed shall provide the necessary medical or hospital, or both, care if needed during the one year period of establishment of residence under this section. The county providing such medical or hospital or both, care may demand payment of the county granting the aid in an amount not in excess of the cost thereof and it shall be a proper charge and the duty of the county granting the aid under the provisions of this section to pay such medical or hospital charges, or both.

Article 7. Suspension, Revocation and Repayment of Aid.

4080. The board of supervisors may, for cause, and upon instruction so to do by the State Department of Social Welfare, shall cancel, suspend, or revoke aid.

4081. If at any time, the State department has reason to believe that aid to the disabled has been obtained improperly, it shall cause special inquiry to be made and may suspend payment of any installment pending the inquiry. It shall notify the board of supervisors of such suspension. If it appears upon inquiry that the aid was obtained improperly, it shall be canceled by the State department, but if it appears that aid was obtained properly, the suspended payments shall be payable 4082. If, at any time during the continuance of aid, the recipient thereof or the husband or wife of the recipient becomes possessed of any property or income in excess of the amount allowed under the provisions of this chapter, the recipient shall immediately notify the board of supervisors of the receipt and possession of such property or income The board may, on inquiry and with the approval of the State Department of Social Welfare, either cancel the aid or vary the amount thereof in accordance with circumstances. Any excess aid theretofore paid shall be returned, in equal proportions to the State and the county participating in the granting of such aid and shall be recoverable as a debt due proportionately to the State and such county.

4083. If, on the death of a recipient of aid under this chapter, it is found that he was possessed of property or income in excess of the amount allowed under the provisions of this chapter and that he has not disclosed the same to the board of supervisors, double the amount of the aid paid him in excess of that to which he was legally entitled may be recovered by the Department of Social Welfare as a preferred claim from his estate and upon recovery shall be paid in equal proportions into the treasury of the State and the treasury of the county participating in the granting of such aid.

Explanation of Vote on Assembly Bill No. 1238.

During the debate on Assembly Bill No. 1238 I was unavoidably absent from the Assembly Chamber participating in a conference on Assembly Bill No. 1177 which had been vetoed by the Governor and of which I was one of the co-authors. During the vote on Assembly Bill No. 1238 I returned to the Assembly Chamber and voted "No," under the impression that I was voting against amendments to the bill. Had I not been under this misapprehension I certainly should have voted "Aye," as I am heartily in favor of this truly American and highly meritorious bill.

Message from the Governor.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 17, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 1177, the same being:

"An act to amend the title of and sections 1 and 10, of, and to add sections 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21, 22, 23 and 24, to an act entitled "An act to provide for the aid and relief of indigents," approved June 5, 1933, as amended, relating to the aid and relief of indigents, the recovery of reimbursement therefor and the punishment of persons falsely obtaining or attempting to obtain such aid or relief or who misappropriate or assist in misappropriating the same, and providing for aid by the State of California to the counties and cities and counties charged with the duty of providing aid and relief under said act"

Assembly Bill No 1177 proposes to change the plan which now obtains in the State respecting care and aid to the "needy" in one group, and the "unemployed" in the other. Heretofore it has been the county's obligation to provide for the needy not included in old age aid and similar groups.

This bill proposes that the two groups above mentioned, needy and unemployed, shall be consolidated into one, and that the county and the State shall both contribute to the support, the county paying the bill up to five one-hundredths of one per cent of the assessed value, the county and the State paying on a 50-50 basis up to twenty-seven one-hundredths of one per cent, and the State paying the entire cost above the twenty-seven one-hundredths of one per cent of the assessed valuation in the counties.

While such an arrangement might be equitable for the first year, it would undoubtedly result in the State assuming an additional burden in the years to come. Since the State now pays more than 52 per cent of all the taxes its collects to the counties and cities, it does not seem reasonable that the State should pay for any additional functions of the counties. Of the $446,466,507 recommended in the budget to this Legislature, more than $233,570,720 will be paid to the counties and cities, the counties receiving most of the amount, $216,341,375.

Legislation this session has already slightly increased the allocations to counties and cities. I believe there should be no additions to this amount, and that the counties should continue to care for the needy, and the State, aided by the Federal Government, should provide for the unemployed.

This position is emphasized by the further efforts of the State to relieve unemployment. Unemployment insurance, designated as the Unemployment Reserves, will commence payment for unemployment on January 1, 1938. The four weeks "waiting period" provided before payments shall begin will make the actual date for first payments February 1, 1938. On May 1, 1937, the State had collected $23,648,056.60 in this fund, and it is estimated the payments to the State for unemployment will have reached $65,000,000 by January 1, 1938.

With the prospect of reducing this unemployment cost through the Unemployment Reserves, under Assembly Bill No. 1177, the State would assume a portion of the load now carried by the counties and the attendant possible increase of costs.

In case the Federal Government should fail to continue aid or withdraw its support as at present extended, a heavy burden will come to the State in caring for all the unemployment. This bill, however, does not give the State any relief in such a case since it is provided the State shall carry all the obligations above the specified twenty-seven one-hundredths of one per cent of the assessed value of the counties.

In a number of particulars the bill would prohibit the State from carrying on and assisting in certain present activities formerly operated in conjunction with the Federal Government. One such activity is the self-help cooperative program. More than 2,000 families are now partially self-supporting with the aid of the State-wide self-help program. This effort would be stopped by this bill and there are no other measures pending which would satisfactorily save the program which a substantial number of people have been developing for four years.

Believing the counties should continue to carry their obligations, and that the State should continue, with what aid may be available from the Federal Government, to provide for unemployment, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1177 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON ASSESSMENTS AND APPRAISALS OF REAL PROPERTY.

JOHN GEE CLARK.
HENRY MEEHAN.
ELEANOR MILLER.
FRANK WRIGHT.
H. DEWEY ANDERSON, Chairman.

To the Assembly of the State of California.

Your committee, appointed pursuant to the resolution adopted May 16, 1935, and printed in the Journal of the Assembly, page 3374, has held meetings, taken testimony, made investigations, and herewith submits its findings for your information and decision concerning the methods used in assessing real property for taxation purposes in the counties and cities of California.

The resolution which created this committee, as introduced by Assemblyman H. Dewey Anderson, clearly sets forth the need for such an investigation and the purposes it sought to accomplish, to wit:

WHEREAS, It is universally recognized that all forms of taxes should bear some equitable relationship to the ability of the person taxed, to pay the tax, and

WHEREAS, All taxes if paid at all, must be paid from income of some character or else constitute confiscation, and

WHEREAS, The tremendous number of sales of real property for delinquent taxes would seem to indicate that the taxes levied thereon have exceeded the net return to the owners of such real estate; and

WHEREAS, It has often and authoritatively been asserted that real property taxes, being based upon appraisals determined largely upon original purchase price, prospective sales price or both, frequently bear no relationship whatever to the actual or warranted return upon the property to the owner either in the form of rentals or usefulness; and

WHEREAS, It has been stated that the burden of real estate taxes, even though not further reduced in total amount, could be borne more easily by property owners if the amount of taxes levied thereon, was based, in some degree, upon the earning power of the particular property taxed; and

WHEREAS, It is contended that it is possible to cause real property taxes to bear a more equitable relationship to the earning power of the particular property taxed by modifications in the methods of assessment and in the methods of appraisals for assessment purposes now employed, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly of the State of California, That a committee of five members of the Assembly be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, to meet from time to time following the adjournment of the fifty-first session of the Legislature, for the purpose of thoroughly and adequately examining and investigating the methods of assessment and of appraisal for assessment purposes now employed, for the purpose of levying real property taxes and to study any and all methods for changes in the method of assessment which may come to its attention and to report thereon together with its recommendations, to the Assembly upon the convening of the fifty-second session; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall proceed to organize by the election of one of its members as chairman and by the selection of a secretary and shall thereon proceed with the study and investigation herein authorized in such manner as it is pertinent to the purposes herein stated; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee is hereby authorized and empowered to require the production of books, agreements, documents, records, accounts and papers of every kind; to issue subpenas to compel the attendance of witnesses and secure testimony, and as far as practicable to have material testimony reported so the same may be available for use by the Assembly; each member of the committee is authorized to administer oaths and all of the provisions of Article VIII, Chapter II of Title I of Part III of the Political Code, relating to the attendance of witnesses before the Legislature and committees thereof shall supply to the committee appointed under this resolution and it shall be the duty of all public officials to furnish such reports, information and evidence upon request of the committee as may be pertinent to the purposes herein stated; and be it further

Resolved, That the sum of $1,000 or so much thereof as may be necessary for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the committee and the cost of its investigation, is hereby made available and appropriated for the use of the committee out of the contingent fund of the Assembly, and the State Controller is authorized and directed to draw his warrants in favor of the person or persons entitled thereto for such expenditures as may be certified to him from time to time by the chairman of the committee, and the State Treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the same

Testimony of Witnesses.

One meeting was held at the State Building in Los Angeles on March 21, 1936. A second took place in San Francisco on May 2 of the same year. At both of these public hearings, interested citizens and specialists in the field of property appraisal and taxation appeared, were heard and questioned, and a record was made of their testimony. Much of that testimony was so important that it is herewith presented as recorded.

MR. HERBERT NELSON, SECRETARY OF THE NATIONAL REAL ESTATE BOARD, CHICAGO, ILLINOIS:

"Nationally we have two important plans with respect to the tax question. The first has to do with a fixed limitation on real estate taxes under which taxes in any one year are limited to certain percentages of the full value of the property. That has gone over in seven States, partially in an eighth State, and is being pressed in 22 other States. If there is to be a limitation on the taxation of real estate, proportional to its full and true value, it becomes important to the taxing authority, that there be some accepted method of finding the full and true value.

As long as we could count on rapid city growth, the increment in land values was sufficient to care for the mistakes in improvement and in management. But as city growth slows down, that increment tends to disappear, and real property becomes valuable to those who own it, more and more on a basis of what it will be able to produce, instead of what they can sell it for to a buyer.

Today the appraisal processes are predicated to a much greater extent than they have been before in American history, on the annual production value of real estate, measured in terms of either utility or money income. We are at present engaged in collecting from all of the assessors in the larger cities of the United States the present forms which they use in appraising real estate and it is our hope that we can suggest to them a standard form which will hit more closely to the mark, by setting up the criteria for assembling information about real estate so that utility can become the primary value in assessing. Certainly government should be realistic. It should not ask anybody to pay taxes on an assumed value which may some day be realized or again may never be realized.

That method of taxation has had serious effects in your own community, as it has in practically every American city. It tends to enforce premature usage of land. In Cook County, surrounding Chicago, the farm lands were assessed and valued at four times their value for agricultural purposes by the assessors. The effect of that type of taxation is to force the land on the market as subdivision property long before the community can absorb it. I know that happened here in Los Angeles and in every big community. So the present system of taxing an assumed sales value—often highly speculative—forces sales of land prematurely, and when you engage in premature land development in subdivisions, there goes with it, premature spending for streets, sidewalks, public service and utilities, which sooner or later fall back on the community.

Mr. Bartholomew, one of the principal city planning engineers from St. Louis, said that there are 600,000 vacant lots in Los Angeles, with improvements which have carrying charges of $10,000,000 a year.

So your program, Mr. Chairman, is most fundamental . . . the most fundamental you can attack, because if you solve it correctly, and tax land on the basis it should be taxed on, and do not force it into premature use, you will to some extent obviate the future problem of waste such as we have now. My suggestion would be that your committee consider the point of view that for tax purposes, land should be valued at its annual rental value, either in money or if that does not exist, the annual rental value should be fairly and properly appraised."

MR. CHASE B. SHATTOCK, PRESIDENT OF THE CALIFORNIA REAL ESTATE ASSOCIATION:

"I am very happy to be here this afternoon representing the realty profession of California, because we believe that while our present system perhaps may not be perfect, nevertheless it is functioning fairly well. There may be some things we might suggest which would tend to bring about more equitable assessments of real estate. I think in the main we agree in most particulars with our National Secretary, Mr. Nelson.

There is one thing I would like to point out, and that is this. In the valuation of real estate, usually grave error creeps in through the valuators—the assessors or deputies for instance. They approach the problem of assigning value to real estate from one point of view or method so long that they wind up in error.

The chief difficulty of the present method for taxation purposes, in my opinion, lies in the fact that in the vast majority of cases those who assess real estate consider it only from the physical angle, the standpoint of the physical location of the property, plus the cost of improvements, less the depreciation, which does not consider such matters as functional obsolescence. When approaching the problem from that angle, in many cases judgment is in error.

You will note in his remarks to you, Mr. Nelson said he thought the reasonable rental value of land should be considered as a major item in assessment levying. That is true. In other words, after having analyzed what a property would cost to reproduce physically, the next phase is whether or not that cost is justified in an economic sense. Nothing has any economic value unless it possesses utility, with benefit to those who use it, or money income.

We may take buildings in Los Angeles for instance. The Richfield Oil Building cost in excess of $2,000,000. Hundreds of thousands of dollars were spent for gold leaf and other decorations. The building was colored black—and the crepe was hung on that building. It never produced enough to warrant the spending of so much money in building it. Today, as our assessment system stands, the assessor assesses it on the basis of what it cost, without consideration of how much should be assessed in fairness.

If the assessors had to consider the cost of physical reproduction and also replacement and the economic possibilities of the property, from the standpoint of producing income, I think we would have made a long step forward in equalizing many problems which exist.

One thing we must all realize in taxation—the source of revenue. I think it fundamental that there is only one source of revenue, and that is the people: the question is what method we shall follow in tapping the source. It has been pointed out to you that real estate has paid more than its share in local, State and National Governments. For a long time the California Real Estate Association has been in the front line insisting upon an adjustment which we were fairly entitled to. We realized that real estate is the basic form on which other forms of wealth are predicated. We wish to make individual ownership of real estate more secure and attractive to our citizens, because we believe as ownership is improved and becomes more widespread, our characteristics as Americans will improve.

You must consider this problem in a practical light. First the assessment of real estate in large blocks, because of the area of the State and communities presents a practical problem. Obviously an assessor might be the finest expert in the country but his deputies are low-rate men for special work."

MR. WRIGHT: "In your opinion would it be practical for the Legislature to enact a law providing for a unified system of appraisals throughout the State with any set of rules or practical economic basis for such a law?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "Yes, I think it possible to lay down such a plan or principal of fundamental valuation conceptions and requirements that the assessors must follow so far as is humanly possible through proper attention to the education of those who compose the personnel of the various assessors' offices, to materially change the situation and change the understanding of those in the field."

MR. WRIGHT: "Should that be in terms of rental value?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "I think that should be one of the major factors. Some assessors do. Others do not, and I think in many cases they fail to when they should. I think the assessor should be in the position where if it could be shown by the property owner that he failed to take it into consideration, he could be forced to do so."

MR WRIGHT: "Could you suggest a legislative measure to do it?"

MR SHATTOCK: "We have discussed that at various times in the State association. As yet we have not a bill to present. However, I assure you the California Real Estate Association is interested in arriving at the proper solution. However, we do not wish to suggest anything until we are confident we have the right thing."

MR. ANDERSON: "In a certain county in this State the appraiser is an excellent man, capable and well respected, but he has to depend for appraisals upon 20 men, put in the field for four months, paid $140 a month. This must be considered; here is a part-time employed group doing a supposed expert's job. Can that be corrected?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "Yes, I think so. I see no reason why assessors in large communities like Los Angeles, where you have a great number of men who have actually been engaged in real estate for many years, should not be used as temporary employees as assessors, even though such fees might not be of interest to them. I think it is to the interest of the profession as a whole that they take part in it. I think something along that line should be worked out.

It was my privilege three or four years ago to sit in on behalf of the Civil Service Committee of Los Angeles, to hear the men who made application for the position of deputy assessor. You would be surprised to know the great number of people applying for the job, and few had mental knowledge of the phases of the business conditions and economics in general, that would affect real estate; nor had they practical experience. They came from other lines of business and were unfamiliar with real estate values."

MR. ANDERSON: "So you think one reason for friction between taxpayers and assessors is this haphazard appraising?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "Yes."

MR. ANDERSON: "How could we arrive at a state-wide program that would give to Alpine and Placer counties, with their difficult physical characteristics and small tax base—how could we give them a decent service like Los Angeles County?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "Your problem in those counties is more simple than in Los Angeles, or counties rich in agricultural resources, or heavily populated, with complex and various types of property, from hovel to skyscraper, harbors and so forth."

MR. CLARK: "I would like your organization's attitude on the exemption of homes from taxation. First, any exemption at all, or second, should it be on real estate, or should it be on improvements only. Has your organization taken a position on that?"

MR. SHATTOCK: "Our position in the matter of tax exemption is that no one, regardless of his position should be exempt from taxation. We believe that everybody who partakes of benefit should pay a just proportion in the cost of government. Only thus can you promote and make secure our free American institutions as we known them."

MR. JAMES O. STEVENSON, Executive Secretary, Bureau of Municipal Research, Los Angeles:

"The League and I are in hearty accord with the principles proposed by Mr. Nelson and Mr. Shattock on the point of rental value as the basis for estimating the value of land. I call your attention to the fact that it is the British system. England from the time of Elizabeth, has taxed land on the basis of rental value, and taxed the occupier, whether he was the owner or not. If you will read the laws and history of that tax, it is set forth clearly that it represents the best method of real estate taxation which we have, for the reason that it does not penalize capital invested in real estate which is high or unwise, but takes from real estate income a certain proportion of that income. In that system of taxation the toll you pay or tax you pay is in proportion to the annual rental value after deducting the cost of maintaining the property in a condition to command rent. That system is supported by our own Supreme Court."

MR. LOUIS BURKE, Legal Counsel, California League of Municipalities:

"It was interesting to listen to several assessors on the stand before the State Board of Equalization. They were asked about the assessing methods they employed. One employed the rule of thumb method, of cost basis for all buildings. They asked him, suppose he had a large building for a sugar refinery entirely removed from town; a beautiful building, earning nothing. Would he appraise it on the basis of cost? He admitted that he would not; he had to consider the earning power.

They placed Mr. Hartman on the stand. He cited a number of incidents where Los Angeles does not work on a cost basis. They consider whether the property is devoted to business. There is some progress being made in improving the technique of assessing value. It is my opinion that we will be able to improve the assessing of property. I want to say that if any of our experts in the various cities can be of help to you in making suggestions, we will be glad to do it."

MR. WRIGHT: "In your opinion, would it be a practicable thing for this committee to recommend to the State Legislature a law proposing a unified system of appraisals throughout the subdivisions of the State? Even if it were handled by the State Board of Equalization?"

MR. BURKE: "I think our present tax system is better than anything I have heard suggested yet. If we find ways of improving the administration of that system it is better than a new system. I can imagine confusion in the minds of ordinary assessors in assessing on rental value. The costs of government will increase in educating them."

MR. ANDERSON: "Do you believe we have come to the point where we can take the assessors job out of politics, making it appointive, not elective? Make it subject to civil service? Are we ready for that?"

MR BURKE: "I don't think I am qualified to answer."

MR. ANDERSON: "You know the history of public office. We have developed to a point where we are going to have to make political things technical and professional."

MR. BURKE: "Yes, I think that's right."

MR. FRANCIS V. KEESLING, CHAIRMAN, GOVERNOR MERRIAM'S CITIZENS COMMITTEE ON TAXATION:

"In the first instance I think that so far as saying anything constructive to this committee is concerned, I feel that would be far beyond any factual information I possess. I think this committee should know the attitude of the Committee of Twenty-Five.

That committee is merely attempting to perform a public service It is working in the interest of the State and eventually hopes the agencies which are competent will present something to the Legislature which will be supported by such added factual information as we can assemble, with recommendations of the committee. I may say the members of the committee are interested in the general problems which involve the physical set-up, and the essential taxes to fit in.

I don't know just what the committee may develop which will be of interest to your committee. If there is anything, it will be transmitted to this committee; but quite likely it will be the other way around. and this committee will develop information of importance to the Committee of Twenty-Five. The committee realizes its position. Each individual is merely serving in the capacity of attempting to do a job for his State.

There is a great deal of information available: there are some records apparently lost, which cost the State a great deal of money. Information gathered by many agencies in an effort to determine what should be done should be available The committee hopes to obtain the services of experts whose reputations are unquestionable, who have the essential qualifications, and who serve public institutions and not private individuals.

If we do this, it will be necessary to the government to extend the invitation to the agencies selected. We have nothing except what we get by contributions for funds. A Committee of Five is deciding what agencies are available, whether they shall be engaged, and what it will cost. We will report back in committee in a short time, week after next possibly. Then the entire Committee of Twenty-Five will determine the method of procedure.

I think this gives you a picture of the Committee of Twenty-Five, and particularly of the fact that they realize they are not an official but merely a cooperating body."

MR HAYDEN PITMAN, ASSESSOR, SANTA CLARA COUNTY:

"I am happy to say a few words in regard to what the average assessor has to face. It would seem to me that, going back to the Tax Commission of 1917, one important fact that all of the various committees have overlooked is the actual mechanics within the office of the county assessors where actual appraisals are made. I think the laws we now have will take care of any eventuality of any appraisal we might make.

I make no criticism of the bill introduced in the last session The Legislature does not prevent them—and the existing laws do not prevent the assessors from using the essentials of that bill, presented in the 1935 session of the Legislature.

The problem is this: Our county is composed of a large amount of unimproved land, and of land with improvements. We are allowed a few deputies to cover a vast territory. They work for a few months of the year at a low compensation. The average man in the past few years has been of a higher type than heretofore because so many people are out of work and we were able to pick them up. We do all we can to prepare them for the proper appraisal of property. It is simply impossible to educate a man for four months of the year at the compensation of $125 or $135 a month, to properly appraise property. The average taxpayer knows more about it than the man in the field. He sits back therefore and smiles to himself, at the assessor and all the forms, etc. Thus the system breaks down in the minds of the average taxpayer.

Now possibly instead of trying to change the engine, we should repair it, and we could get by. Assessors need experts to guide them. They need men in the office all year, knowing conditions as they change and break down. I have visited a number of assessors in the counties of this State and they could not show me the actual conditions of property in the county They have not the funds necessary to get this information.

Assessments are often made 'by guess or by God' This is not due to the fault of the laws now written, nor to the men in charge of the offices, probably. It is due to the fact that the assessor has had no assistance whatever. He could not get that through the county board of supervisors providing proper equipment for him, and individuals to work with him.

It would seem to me, before you go into new theories to try to revamp the whole structure of the existing laws, better that this system we have could be patched up.

I think we can work the system out nicely if we are given the proper equipment in the office, and enough money to employ the proper individuals, and if the assessor himself is qualified to hold his job. In other words I think it can be done.

The State Board of Equalization covers the entire State in a short time, dealing with a different class of property appraisals. I think they do a remarkable job in that short time, but if they had the handicaps we have, they would not have completed their appraisal in one third of the time."

MR. WRIGHT: "In your judgment, as a rule that is at all general, are the assessors throughout the State observing the laws that are on the statutes, and are they being encouraged by the State Board of Equalization in the observance of such laws?"

MR. PITMAN: "Yes In past years. We have an assessors' association which in the past years has gone thoroughly into assessments, forms, procedure, and practices of all kinds. We have a standing committee and we are working it out in detail, in order to give to our sister counties who have not had the fortunate office force or equipment that we have had, various forms of procedure. There should be certain procedures which would be mandatory on all assessors. There are certain lines they might follow out if this situation were in effect There is an accumulation of data so when they revamp their offices they will not make mistakes."

MR. WRIGHT: "Have you a suggestion regarding an amendment to the existing laws regarding the responsibility of the taxpayers?"

MR. PITMAN: "I believe that the taxpayer has regarded his obligation to the city, county and State in regard to taxation, in such a way that it is one of the main difficulties in the situation today. The average taxpayer probably knows more about the taxing of property than the individual calling on him. If he has that attitude you never accomplish anything.

When the Federal Government sends the income tax blanks out, you make them out and turn them back right away. When the county assessment form comes, you throw it away. At least that is what the average taxpayer does, and we are out on the end of a limb. If there would be some sort of act incorporated into the law making it mandatory for every taxpayer to cooperate with the assessors, and not tell them to call back five or six times, but give real cooperation, it would cut the cost of assessments and make a much better equalized system."

MR. WRIGHT: "Do you recommend the appointment of assessors instead of election?"

MR. PITMAN: "In some counties yes, and in others it is a question. Whenever you have appointments, you have to go beyond the mere appointment, to the organization making it."

MR. WRIGHT: "Do you recommend a law with reference to the responsibility of the taxpayer, and enforcement of the existing laws as pertaining to assessing—in other words, a greater efficiency in office; with a few experts serving all the time, and not a few slip-shod ones in for a few months?"

MR. PITMAN: "Yes. And I would recommend a tax code to be adopted throughout the State, including every law pertaining to a certain type of procedure; such as the Agricultural Code, the Civil Code, etc."

MR. WRIGHT: "I want to ask if that is included, or going to be contemplated by our codification of all laws?"

MR. PITMAN: "No."

MR. ANDERSON: "Why not?"

MR. PITMAN: "I don't know."

MR. ANDERSON: "How far do you have to go to get complete information on this?"

MR PITMAN: "We have in the State Board a book with the various laws pertaining to the subject. However, we think there are a number of sections which are conflicting, and a number are ambiguous. I believe that if a code could be revised thoroughly, all conflicting sections eliminated, and the assessors in the State given the code as brought up to date, simplified, etc., it would be of great benefit."

MR. ANDERSON: "Upon what basis do you now assess property in Santa Clara County? You say you can include the principle of the proposal introduced in the Legislature, under the existing law. What do you use as a method to ascertain the value of property?"

MR. PITMAN: "Cost does not indicate value. We attempt to get value. That is not necessarily cash value. For instance take the St. Clair Hotel. We maintain it is worth more where it is than it would be out in the middle of the bay. A lot of assessors would say we are wrong, but we say we are right."

MR. ANDERSON: "How do you determine what assessment to put on that property?"

MR. PITMAN "We have to take off as many of the sales as possible surrounding that particular property. We consult real estate men for the asking price. We ask them also as to what the property would bring within that year, and how much it could earn over a period of years. We have to call for a financial statement, which goes back to whether the individual is a good manager or a poor one We go back to the capital invested in the property, because if a certain amount is invested, the rate of income should be governed accordingly. After you get this all together, it has to be equalized."

MR. ANDERSON: "You have a good example of the way in which a far-sighted assessor could keep the community moving in the right direction; will you give us that now?"

MR. PITMAN: "We have a market in San Jose. It is misplaced, in that it is on the wrong side of Alameda Boulevard, so that the traffic passes it going into town—going to work, but when coming home, it is on the other side of the street, and they won't get out and cross the street.

It was built at a large cost; it folded up; reopened; and folded up again. Then a large San Francisco concern tried to make a go of it but it would not go. Here we knew the actual cost, but was there any value to it? No. So we reduced the assessments considerably.

A few years went by and the market was reopened by a chain store in San Jose, which has built up a remarkable reputation for its merchandise there, selling in the city, and the market from the moment of its opening has gone like hot cakes. What causes it to go? There your personality enters into it.

As the years go by and that market continues to flourish and is making money, we can incorporate the personality of the individual into the actual value of that property, because the chances are that if the market is sold and is continued to be run right, people will still go there."

MR. WRIGHT. "In your judgment then, the appraisal of property centers around existing conditions at the time in reference to each piece of property, making it flexible, with no fixed rule."

MR. PITMAN: "Yes, that's right. We have a large brewery in San Jose. It was putting out hundreds of carloads each day before prohibition and we had it assessed for a large amount of money. Prohibition came, and we fooled around a couple of years; no one knew what would happen. There was no beer made; the machinery sat there. We had to end by assessing the machinery for what it was worth in scrap.

When prohibition was repealed, the plant started up with the same old machinery, etc. The first year we took it easy because of not knowing the reaction as to what the brewing business would work into By the second year we knew. Now we have all that equipment plus more, and the assessments are back to what they were in 1914."

MR ANDERSON: "Do you take into account the principle of net income?"

MR. PITMAN. "You can't always do that."

MR ANDERSON "Suppose you deal with agricultural lands where the income power fluctuates; do you have any way of moving the assessments to be levied in keeping with economic conditions?"

MR. PITMAN: "Yes. It reflects back to the value of the land. Our curve on a graph would be less pronounced than the actual economic trend, however"

MR. ANDERSON "You are either over assessing, or under assessing?"

MR. WRIGHT: "Your idea is that you would have the appraiser on the job all the time, following the various conditions, and when the time came to assess, you would have a true picture."

MR CLARK. "This element of personal management. You first establish a general norm for that class of business, and then in individual cases, you make a variation to meet the particular condition. That can not however, universally apply. How are farms assessed at the norm established? One is badly managed, and one is not You can not make a difference in the assessment there, can you?"

MR PITMAN "No. Suppose an individual goes out and has vegetable land, but puts it all into prune trees, not adapted. We are assessing prune trees, but at a different rate than the prune trees properly planted in the proper place. The trees themselves will tell you how to determine that."

MR. ANDERSON: "As the forms are now, are they complicated for those poorly equipped to be assessors?"

MR PITMAN. "Yes, because their minds are poorly trained, and because they work only four months of the year That practice is general in the State Sometimes the assessor is tax collector as well, and has no assistants at all."

MR RICHARD GRAVES, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY CALIFORNIA LEAGUE OF MUNICIPALITIES.

"In the over all tax limitation you take away from the local governments the right or ability to raise the money to perform their essential functions of government Most men say it is not sound in municipal, county and State government, financially It is significant that in no State where an over all tax limitation has been demanded has there been any provision for supplementary revenue Cleveland is financing her operations by short term bonds The bonded indebtedness goes up almost in direct proportion to the cut enforced by the limitation.

Or you get situations where the municipal police are dismissed, and local business men, in lieu of taxation are operating a private police department. The fire department is out, and fire insurance rates go up It is a very short sighted way to deal with the problem Any reasonable man must believe that real estate taxes must be raised for the carrying on of municipal governments

It is a fact that real estate pays more than other comparable forms of wealth, but that does not necessarily prove it is too much It may prove that But if I own a house and lot with no income because I live in it should I receive services from the city and pay nothing? When we talk about income property, we talk about a peculiar type of property with improvements. But those who own property and use it themselves, are not reflected in that type. The total of all residential property used by the owners should be added to the 20 per cent of income property."

MR. ANDERSON: "Mr. Graves, assuming that expanding, or not greatly curtailed government expenses must be met; and assuming that there is an over all limitation on real estate due to the fact it is bearing a disproportionate load, where will you go for the money?"

MR. GRAVES. "To a consumers' tax, until we get to the point where the people who demand government service are also the ones who pay for it. We have a certain democracy, saying that all people when they reach a certain age can vote, regardless of whether they are taxpayers or not. As long as that is true you can not avoid the fact that government expenses will go up. Nothing will change the fact that people want more and more services from the government. Where will they get the money so far as local government is concerned? There is no local inheritance, income or anything but property tax, so how else are you going to pay for local government; how can you do it with a limitation on the tax? People can not live together in this century in cities without services, and I believe that a tax limitation will defeat itself."

MR. IVAN THORSON, EXECUTIVE SECRETARY, TAX AUXILIARY COMMITTEE, LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA:

"You have been kind enough to consider the bill which I wrote, and which was presented in the Legislature. When I say I wrote it, it is not quite fair, for many tax experts were consulted. It has been submitted and resubmitted to over 3,000 of the ablest tax administrators, large manufacturers, and big taxpayers in the Nation. It has been made possible by a tax committee formed in Los Angeles, by certain large taxpayers. This bill is the outcome. May I give you just a little background?

While I was vice president and chairman of the executive committee in a bank in the East, I made a remark in the directors' meeting that I was getting sick of buying properties on which we were lending money. I was asked if there were anything I could do about it. I said there was, but I needed a year's absence to study all methods of taxation and loaning money. I spent a year in studying the English, French, German, and Danish systems. I came back convinced we could not use a foreign system.

Take England for instance. There you have a real estate income tax. We have a real estate capital tax. In England you take it from the rent paid by the tenant. If there is a two or three months' vacancy, you don't pay. In England they don't build unless they need to. Here we do. In this country we have too much property not paying taxes which should. My research was for the bank, and I was not interested in general real estate business, but wanted a system to protect the bank.

When I came here 12 years ago, I went into the land valuation business. I went up to Tom Ingersoll's office—he is secretary of the board—and said I had a million dollars to invest for other people. He advised me on real estate and said it would double in value by the next year. It didn't, but I hadn't invested the money, and had sent it back to the people. But when it didn't, I decided to devote myself to this subject of land valuation and taxation. I spent two years in which I sold nothing, but rode around and asked questions. I studied and checked up, and I knew the system we had put in our bank was correct. I started teaching at U. S. C. and later had a regular position with U. C. L. A. I was in charge of real estate economics and real estate law. I started to promulgate my idea, got other professors interested and wrote a book on it, for the university.

Herbert Nelson, secretary of the National Realty Board urged me to write a bill to set forth tax plan number one of the association. The National Board has devoted much time to cleaning up the business; reform has been through effort on their part.

I agree thoroughly with Mr. Pitman that we have the laws on hand that will do the business if properly interpreted. But our statutory laws are vague, and permit almost any interpretation. There are more than 57 varieties of value. The two uppermost with real estate men is market value and use value. Capital goods have no market value. The minute you install a big machine, you depend on how much it can turn out. In order to have a market for anything you must have many of the same kind. In real estate it is the same.

The tax I proposed, only tries to define what value is. It does not change anything. It lays down an interpretation of a constitutional provision. It has nothing to do with tax limitation.

I have a chart here which I have shown various business men. There are three oil wells, one yields a thousand barrels a day, one a hundred and one nothing, but they are all on the same kind of land, and have the same equipment, so they are all worth the same and should pay the same taxes. Immediately there was a howl from all the business men. So I said I had another chart, and showed them one with three office buildings, one with an income of a hundred thousand, one ten thousand and one nothing, and pointed out they all pay the same taxes. Oil flow makes a well profitable, and income from rent makes a building profitable, what's the difference? They had never thought of it that way.

The single tax idea is that wherever there is labor applied to capital it makes wealth—wealth has been produced. But suppose you build an office building in the desert. There has been labor applied to capital, but there is no wealth produced.

Now real estate has no market value any more than a piece of furniture or a machine has. You have to start with research, find your premise, then reason to your conclusions. When the assessor takes cubic feet, or square feet without reference to value, that is a specific tax, not an ad valorum tax which the constitution calls for.

In Los Angeles for instance, starting at the Plaza and going south, I would make those owners of stores turn in a sworn statement showing the gross income for three years, with all expenses. I am not going to let the individual determine the net income, and give himself a $10,000 salary for instance. Here is a fellow who earned so much, and the next fellow earned more, making one of them $20 a front foot, and one $50. One is a good manager and the other is sloppy. But he is not going to get out of paying, he has to pay a penalty. Both are equalized to $40 a front foot.

Then take the 600 block. Here there is uniform earning power. And you can determine what the equalized base will be."

MR. PITMAN: "As you know, the assessors have a difficult time in getting a true statement from anyone. Last week we saw three reports. One was to the Federal government, one was to the State and one to the county assessor. All three were different. So how do you know when you have a true report.'

MR. THORSON: "You require a statement under oath, covering three years. Perjury carries a penalty you know. You find the statements in a block which are uniform, and it will be $50 a front foot in one block and $20 in another, which makes an equalized tax base It's very simple, and is like we use all the time for inheritance taxes.

Cost must be eliminated and value substituted. Now you know, all the large cities have had their growth. You know too, that chain stores are five times as efficient as a one man store; the one man store is permanently vacant. The chain stores go where the people are. Why should people go down town and trade when they can go to a better place in their own neighborhood.

In Los Angeles, take the district south of 10th Street between Figueroa and Main Street. That is blighted territory; it's through, unless we get taxes down to a point commensurate with the earning power there. It will then revive. They could build two-story apartments where clerks could live cheaply and well. Now, hundreds have defaulted for taxes, but if you assess it on a value basis, you will never take a property because if the person who has it now doesn't continue, somebody else will. That is the case when you assess it on income. During the past five years our tax delinquency has trebled in California."

MR. ANDERSON: "How could a banker place a loan on a piece of real estate on appraisal value."

MR. THORSON: "That is the only way they do it now. I do more appraising for banks and large properties than anyone in the city. I get the difficult cases. An insurance company had a large estate including a laundry. They had the matter of whether to lend half a million dollars on it. We made a thorough inspection of the laundry and secured from them a statement for five years, as to their operations, the type of laundry, etc. We then found their warranted income—what it should be and we showed it would be entirely out of line to lend $500,000 on it—at the utmost it would be safe to loan $300,000."

MR. WRIGHT: "Do you recommend the method used by the Federal Housing Administration?"

MR. THORSON: "They did not follow through. They should have had local people give financial information. This system on a rising market is okay, but let there be a deflation—and the government will rake those properties in."

MR. WRIGHT: "Will you give us a definition between inflation and deflation."

MR. THORSON: "Inflation means deflation of money, and inflation of prices, causing more money to be needed. Prices go up and money goes down in value. We have not had an inflation recently, because the dollar is now at a value of 121.2, just where it was a year ago. But the government never pays its debt. They get rid of debts either through inflation or devaluation or some other way.

For instance, there is no sense in taxing unused land before it is put into use It piles up and becomes so high it is out of all proportion for a prospective home owner. We provide that subdivided land that has not more than a certain amount of occupants be taxed as unused or unsubdivided land, until it is actually used. It saves money for the future home owner"

MR. ANDERSON: "Would that force subdivisions into use and occupancy or not?"

MR. THORSON: "It would encourage their building up. If our population came to a standstill in 10 or 20 years; if they had no further children—well let me put it this way, you will find that the increase in our population recently has been only 15 per cent, while there was an increase in families of 23 per cent. There will always be a need for human housing. The reverse is true in other housing. The efficiency there, is getting greater all the time. We reduce the space we need all the time—as with the chain stores doing five times the work of our little one-man stores. The amount of frontage shown for commercial usage would require 125,000,000 to use it—that is to occupy it. For warehouses, it would require 300,000,000 plus to occupy it. Why build more? Force these owners to put something on it. But we are way behind in human housing, particularly in single residential property."

DR VON T ELLSWORTH, DIRECTOR OF RESEARCH OF THE FARM BUREAU FEDERATION

Dr Ellsworth has specialized in rural land values and assessments. His knowledge of California tax problems made his testimony of great value. In addition to his oral presentation, he submitted an extensive and comprehensive report to the committee, from which the following has been taken:

Summary and Conclusions.

1 Annual assessment of all taxable tangible property at its full cash value is required by law.

2 In practice the general assessment rate (relationship of assessed value to full cash value) is far lower than that required by law and varies materially from county to county.

3 The practice of assessors arbitrarily adopting assessment rates other than those required by law and which are not uniform from one county to another.

(a) Gives assessors dictatorial powers as to amount of revenue to be raised;

(b) Tends to retain high relative inequalities in assessments;

(c) Makes possible a greater degree of flexibility in yield of property tax;

(d) Tends to encourage duplication of assessment by county and city governments;

(e) Alters the effect of property tax exemption provisions, and,

(f) Alters the effect of laws not relating to taxation.

4 Similar properties within a given taxing unit are assessed at vastly different rates.

5 In 1929 and 1930 a reasonably uniform assessment rate was applied to farm, residence, business, and apartment properties in the counties studied. The data at hand, however, are of little value in determining this relationship today.

6 The assessment rate applied to different forms of property, such as land, improvements, and personal property, varied materially from one to another, and the nature of the variation differed between counties, indicating the possibility that policy rather than nature of property was the guiding factor.

7. Some property of all kinds escapes the assessment rolls; that most common, however, seems to be subsurface property rights.

8 Legal provisions for the utilization of county assessed values by municipalities are not taken advantage of and, as a result, needless costs are incurred with no noticeable improvement in the quality of assessments.

Recommendations.

1 That suitable laws be enacted providing greater centralized control over county assessors.

2. That assessors be encouraged to exercise their powers of arbitrary assessments in cases where property owners fail to abide by the law in making a complete declaration of their property holdings.

3 That assessors be penalized for according preferential treatment to certain forms of property.

4. That all municipalities be required to take advantage of the law authorizing the use of county assessed values as a tax base.

5. That an adequate research program be initiated and maintained to make possible improvement in theory and method of assessment and to assure that assessed values are reasonably equitable at all times.

Introduction.

The importance of the assessment problem can be more fully understood when it is realized

First: That over half of all our tax revenue—Federal, State, and local—come from the property tax;

Second: That an amount equal to about 65 per cent of the tax revenues collected by California governments—State, county, city, and district—comes from the property tax;

Third: That the property tax is the only tax levied by local units—counties, cities, and districts—of California government;

Fourth: That the property tax is probably better suited than any other to the use of small local units of government whose jurisdictions are very limited in area;

Fifth: That the assessed value constitutes the base upon which this tax is levied;

Sixth: That value is an ever changing psychic phenomenon very difficult of determination under the conditions under which the assessor must work;

Seventh: That the valuations reported by the assessor would increase in usefulness with increase in accuracy;

Eighth: That, as a rule, any departure from an accurate determination of value of taxable properties creates inequalities in taxation and the "alleviation to the one is not, on the average, so great a good to him, as the increased pressure upon the other is an evil," in the words of Mill;

Ninth: That governmental costs are now unduly high and the services of government inexcusably inefficient due to needless duplication in the assessment of properties for tax purposes by county and city governments.

Legal Provisions for Assessment: The California Constitution provides that all property within the State not specifically exempted "shall be assessed for taxation at its full cash value" In carrying out the mandates of the Constitution, the Legislature has provided for assessment of all taxable property at its "full cash value" The exception to this is intangible personal property including both solvent credits and shares of capital stock. The law provides that in the assessment of solvent credits deduction be made for debts owed, and in the assessment of stocks and bonds of a corporation a deduction be made of the value of the corporate property within the State The term "full cash value" is defined as the "amount at which the property would be taken in payment of a just debt from a solvent debtor." The assessor, in determining the "actual value" of intangible personalty, is directed to disregard any "custom or method" under which he assesses other classes of property at less than full cash value.

All common property in California is assessed annually for county and district taxation by the county assessor, an officer who is elected by the people for a term of four years. Assessments are also made by city assessors in most of the incorporated cities of the State Provision is made in the general laws, however, whereby cities may have this function performed for them by the county assessor, but relatively few have taken advantage of this.

Public utility and certain other properties are assessed annually by a State Board of Equalization, a body consisting of four members elected from as many districts within the State and of the State Controller who is ex officio a member.

Legal Provisions for Equalization: The boards of supervisors of the several counties of the State constitute boards of equalization for their respective counties and are charged with the duty of equalizing the valuation of the taxable property in the county for the purpose of taxation. Provision is also made in the Constitution for equalization of the value of taxable property by the State Board of Equalization mentioned above. This board was established for the purpose of equalizing the assessment of property between the several counties in order that valuations might approximate as nearly as possible the equality and uniformity enjoined by the Constitution. It was apparent that if the value of property for purposes of State taxation was ascertained and finally determined by local assessors and county boards of equalization, inequalities would frequently exist between valuations in different counties, so that although a uniform State tax rate were applied, the constitutional requirement of uniformity of taxation would be practically abrogated In view of the above stated reason for establishing the State Board of Equalization it was early held by the State Supreme Court that the board could increase or lower the entire assessment roll of any county, but could not change individual assessments. Following amendment of the Constitution in 1910 providing for separation of sources of State and local tax revenue this State board ceased to exercise this function of equalization because it appeared that in the absence of the levy of a State ad valorem tax an equalization as between counties was unnecessary. However, with the repeal of the separation system effective January 1, 1935, and with the creation of numerous special tax districts that include the whole or parts of two or more counties, the need for a State equalization in the interest of uniformity has been renewed and this board now performs such an equalization function

General Assessment Rates Applied to Real Estate.

Ample evidence is readily available to justify the statement that the general assessment rate is far lower than that required by law, as previously cited, and, prior to equalization by the State Board of Equalization, varies materially from county to county It is quite general knowledge that the assessed value commonly represents but a fraction of the full cash value of the property assessed.

Table 1 presents the percentage relationship of county assessed value to full value of real estate in the various counties for each even-numbered year from 1926 to 1934, inclusive, as reported by the State Board of Equalization. It will be noted that in 1926 assessment rates ranged from 22.40 per cent for inside property in San Diego County to 66 23 per cent for similar property in Tulare County In 1928 these percentages ranged from 24.24 per cent for rural property in San Bernardino County to 58.11 per cent in Tehama County. The percentages for 1930 ranged from 25.19 per cent in rural Ventura County to 65.86 per cent for rural Glenn County. In 1932 the range was greater than for any other year for which data are available. It ranged from 21.63 per cent for rural property in Tuolumne County to 76.59 per cent for urban Inyo County. The 1934 data show a spread of from 26.24 per cent in Modoc County to 58.69 per cent in Mono County.

These data indicate with reasonable certainty that county assessors have endeavored to keep assessments down and that the assessment rate applied has varied materially from one county to another. The word "indicate" is used advisedly because the data presented contain an element of error due to the inability of the appraisers to determine accurately full value against which assessed value in each case was compared.

The prevalence of these low assessments seems to be attributable to the possibility of the levy of a State ad valorem tax, coupled with the hope that no equalization from one county to another would be effected.

Effects of Arbitrarily Adopted Assessment Rates.

The effects of assessors arbitrarily adopting assessment rates, as shown in Table 1, are varied and numerous. Some are beneficial, others harmful. The latter seem to outweigh the former and justify abandonment of the practice and the adoption of uniform methods and policies. The following seem to be some of the more important effects of the practice:

First: It gives the assessor dictatorial powers, within certain limitations, in permitting him to determine the amount of revenue to be raised. The reluctance and, in some cases, the legal limitations imposed upon local legislative bodies to raise the tax rates, largely places within the hands of the assessor the power to determine the amount to be raised and thus to be spent. This might be illustrated by reference to school taxes. In many instances part of the school district funds are raised by a tax levied upon property within the district. The tax rate, set by the county board of supervisors, must be sufficient, not to exceed $1 per $100 of assessed valuation for elementary schools and 75 cents per $100 of assessed valuation for high schools, to meet the demands of the governing board of the school district as approved by the county superintendent of schools. To say that such a tax rate shall apply upon a 20, a 30, or a 100 per cent valuation should not come within the jurisdiction of an official whose only express duty is to assess property at its full cash value. Yet in practice this is the effect of the arbitrary adoption by the assessor of the assessment rate.

Second: It discourages taxpayers in protesting against inequalities. It appears that the practice of assessors in adopting low assessment rates is due in part to expediency. It is the writer's observation that the disgruntled taxpayer is more easily pacified if he knows his property is assessed at a fraction of its full value than he is if he knows it to be assessed for an amount in excess of the price at which he would sell it. This seems to be true even though the percentage applied to his property is higher than that applied to adjacent property.

In addition to providing protection for the assessor as here indicated, it minimizes the apparent effect of existing inequalities and, as a result, society tolerates relative inequalities which it would not otherwise permit to exist. That is, society might countenance an average deviation from uniformity of 50 per cent on a low assessment rate when it would not tolerate a similar relative deviation from a full assessment.

Third: It makes possible a greater degree of flexibility in the yield of the property tax. That is, the ability of the assessor to vary the aggregate tax base upward or downward, depending upon local demands for revenue, increases the flexibility of the tax as a source of revenue. This feature is particularly significant in instances where a legal limitation makes it impossible for the legislative body to increase the rate. It must be recognized that in such instances, one official, the assessor, is over-riding the will of the Legislature, or even of the people in case of constitutional or charter tax rate limitations.

According to the testimony of several assessors, this discretionary power is occasionally exercised in varying the property valuations to conform to the owner's economic status. This again is not within the purpose of the law and the assessor, in doing so, is usurping powers not accorded him.

Fourth: It complicates the processes by which different taxing units, such as counties, cities, and joint county districts, utilize a single set of values for tax purposes.

For several reasons the tax base, instead of the tax rate, has often become the varying factor in producing the amount of tax revenue needed. Municipalities, for example, that have reached their tax rate limits, meet their growing demands for funds by increasing the percentage relationship of assessed value to full value. Having done so they commonly object to the acceptance of the county assessor's valuations of the properties within their borders even though a multiple of such an assessment might be used.

The difficulties encountered by the Golden Gate Bridge District at the time of its inception illustrate the difficulties encountered by different taxing units in attempting to utilize county assessed values due to the prevailing policy of assessors in arbitrarily adopting assessment rates which vary materially from one jurisdiction to another. The assessment rates applied by the various assessors of the counties within the Golden Gate Bridge District in 1931, as reported by the State

Source: State Board of Equalization Reports for corresponding years.

Board of Equalization, appear in Table 2. It is evident from these data that property within the incorporated municipalities of Sonoma County was assessed on the average at the rate of 27.32 per cent, while the corresponding figure for rural property in Mendocino County was 48.86 per cent. The other assessment rates applied by other counties fell within these extremes.

The renewed equalization activities of the State Board of Equalization have materially relieved this situation so far as joint county districts are concerned, but have had no effect in removing the criticisms of municipalities.

Fifth: It alters the effect of property tax exemption provisions. Low assessment rates increase the amount of exempt property and increase the number of property owners enjoying the property tax exemption privilege under existing law.

A case in point is the householder's personal property tax exemption. Relating to this subject, section 10½ of Article XIII of the State Constitution provides as follows:

"The personal property of every householder to the amount of $100, the articles to be selected by each householder, shall be exempt from taxation."

Obviously, a practice of assessing at 25 per cent, 50 per cent, or 100 per cent of full value would influence the amount of property exempted under the foregoing provision. The electorate have stipulated that $100 worth of personal property in the hands of each householder shall be exempt. By arbitrarily assessing at a fraction of full value, the assessor says, in effect, that this exemption shall be $400, $200, or $100, as the case might be.

As it applies to veteran's exemption, this assessment practice has a two-fold effect. First, it increases the amount of property exempted, and second, it increases the number of property owners to whom the property tax exemption privilege is extended.

Section 1¼ of Article XIII of the State Constitution relating to this subject is in part as follows:

"The property to the amount of $1,000 of every resident of this State who has served * * * shall be exempt from taxation; provided, this exemption shall not apply to any person named herein owning property of the value of $5,000 or more * * *".

The effect of the low assessment rate practice in increasing the amount of property exempted under the provisions of the act is similar to that discussed above in relation to householders' exemptions. However, the provision of the law limiting the property holdings of those to whom the privilege shall apply introduces a new problem. That is, by assessing at a fraction of full value, assessors increase, in effect, the size of this limitation and, in doing so, increase the number of persons qualifying for exemption.

This aspect of the problem is further complicated by the practice of some assessors of considering separately the assessed value of the different forms of the applicant's property. As a result, if the assessed value of the applicant's real estate (land) or of his improvements (house) is less than $5,000, he is considered as being eligible for exemption even though the combined assessed value of his land and improvement is far in excess of $5,000.

The ultimate effects of these practices are illustrated more clearly by a hypothetical case. For illustrative purposes, three interpretations of the law are applied to the figures presented in Table 3.

Table 3—Illustrations of Practices Frequently Followed in Assessing and Applying Veteran's Exemption Provisions.

	A	B	C
Assumed full value of property in question	30,000	30,000	30,000
Assessed value of land	8,000	4,000	4,000
Assessed value of improvements	22,000	11,000	11,000
Veteran's exemption allowed	none	none	1,000
Total assessed value after deducting exemption allowed	30,000	15,000	14,000

In the practice illustrated by Column A, property was assessed at full value. The question of veteran's exemption did not arise because under all interpretations, the applicant would have failed to qualify due to the possession of property equal to or in excess of $5,000

In the practice illustrated by Column B, property was assessed at 50 per cent of its assumed full value. Application for veteran's exemption was denied because the assessor contended that the applicant did own "property of the value of $5,000 or more" In this case, obviously the assessor grouped the value of land and improvements, or felt that the holdings in improvements disqualified the applicant for exemption.

In the practice illustrated by Column C, the property was assessed at 50 per cent of full value, as in the case of practice B, but the application for veteran's exemption was allowed because the assessor had assessed the applicant's land at less than $5,000, and he did not interpret improvements as being property under the meaning of the law previously quoted.

The law, Constitution and statutes, clearly directs that property shall be assessed at full cash value. Obviously, this mandate was not followed in the case in question and, as has been pointed out, is not followed in practice. The law, both the Constitution previously quoted and section 3612 of the Political Code enacted pursuant thereto, is less clear as to whether or not the veteran's exemption should have been allowed in the case at hand. In any event, however, in fairness to all, a uniform practice should be adopted

Sixth It alters the effect of other statutes.

The substitution of assessed value for full value in the Old Age Security Act of the State of California by action of the 1935 Legislature, for example, increased the number of applicants who could qualify for aid under the act The original form of the act is as follows.

> "Aid under this act shall not be granted or paid to any person the value of whose real property, or, if married, the value of the combined real property of husband and wife, at the time of such application exceeds three thousand dollars." (Deering Act 5846, sec. 4; Cal. Stats 1929, p. 914, underscore added) The 1935 Legislature amended the foregoing section to read as follows
> Aid under this act shall not be granted or paid to any person the assessed value of whose real property, as assessed by the assessor of the county or city and county, or, if married, the assessed value of the combined real property of the husband and wife, as assessed by the assessor of the county or city and county, at the time such person makes application for aid exceeds $3,000, nor shall any such aid be granted or paid to any person the value of whose personal property exceeds $500." (Cal. Stats., 1935, p 1769, underscore added)

Comparison of County Assessment Rates Applied to Different Properties Within the County.

The inquiring mind next logically asks, does the same relationship of assessed value to full value prevail from property to property within the same county? In other words, is a uniform assessment rate applied to all similar forms of property within a given county or city, high or low though that rate may be?

Unfortunately, due to lack of data, this question can be answered with less certainty for the State as a whole than the one previously discussed In an endeavor to answer it, however, some 821 parcels of property in Alameda County and 615 parcels in Santa Barbara County were studied in detail The more essential features of that analysis are here presented.*

According to these data, on the average, county assessed value represents about 32 69 per cent of computed full value when based upon all properties studied, and about 34 45 per cent when based upon the smaller number of properties which exclude those holdings of extremely high computed full value.

It is evident, however, that much disparity exists between the assessed value and computed full value of adjacent properties, so the answer to the question expressed in the opening paragraph of this part of the discussion must be negative That is, some properties are assessed a great deal higher than they should be and some are assessed a great deal lower.

In more general terms, this quality of assessment might be compared to lack of fit in dress Let us take shoes for illustrative purposes. Supposing your foot required a shoe size 10, but instead of wearing that size you place a size 5 on one foot and a size 15 on the other. Surely the inconsistency is apparent and yet this situation is little less ridiculous than conditions found to prevail, as best they can be measured, in assessments.

* For detailed presentation, see Ellsworth, The Property Tax in California with Emphasis on its Relation to Agriculture. Assessed values are there compared with different estimates of full value.

Comparison of Assessment Rates Applied to Farm, Residence, Business, and Apartment Properties.

The preceding discussion has been devoted to analysis of the relationship of assessed value to estimated full value of different parcels of property generally. In the study to which reference was previously made, the properties were carefully classified on the basis of use That is, they were classified under the headings farm, residence, business and apartment

It was found that a reasonably uniform average relationship existed between the assessed value and the estimated full values of these different kinds of property In fact, inequalities which did appear might have been due to inability to accurately measure full value of the properties against which assessed value was compared

While some variations were found, it is probably correct to say that no appreciable differences existed at that time in the counties studied, and that there seemed to be no conscious effort on the part of assessors to discriminate against or extend preferential treatment to any one classification.

In this connection, however, the reader should bear in mind that values are ever-changing. Some classes are moving in opposite directions while still others change in the same upward or downward direction but at varying rates of speed Therefore, eternal vigilance is imperative and an ever-changing assessment roll is necessary to maintain a balance which seemed to prevail at the time this study was made.

Relationship of County Assessed Value to Full Value of Different Forms of Property.

In addition to the provision that all property be uniformly assessed at its full cash value, the law requires separate assessment of land and improvements and equal assessment of cultivated and uncultivated land of the same quality and similarly situated. This separate assessment of land and improvements, as well as of different forms of personal property, permits comparison of the assessment rate applied to one with that applied to another.

Reliance for a measure of full value for comparative purposes must be placed upon the estimate thereof made by the property owner This is true in the case of land, improvements, and most forms of tangible personal property because the other estimates or indicators of full value, namely, purchase price and commercial appraisal, used in calculations of computed full value in the case of Alameda County real estate, are not available for these forms of property separately That is, in purchasing a home or a farm, transactions are not consummated for the land and for the improvements separately. However, in the case of motor vehicles, the blue book value was used in obtaining full value. In the case of intangible forms of personal property, more definite data were procured. In the case of solvent credits, the actual net amount appearing on the books of the interested party was used, while in the case of certificates of ownership, the taxable value was determined from market reports and from sundry records of corporation holdings.

Land and Improvements: The more important characteristics of the percentage relationships between the county assessed value and the owner's estimate of full value of the parcels of land and the improvements studied in Alameda County and Santa Barbara County appear in Table 4 The average (mg) of the individual percentage ratios of county assessed value to estimated full value, the probable error of the arithmetic mean, the range of probability of a value at the geometric mean, the coefficient of variation (V), and the skewness appear in Columns 3 to 8, inclusive, of Table 4. The relationship of total county assessed value to total estimated full value of the properties studied and the range of probability appear in Columns 9 to 11, inclusive.

It will be noted, from Column 3 of the table, that the average (mg) percentage relationship of county assessed value to estimated full value of the properties studied varied from one form of property to another. This variance, with the exception of personal property in Alameda County, no similar values being available for Santa Barbara County was less in amount, however, than the ranges of probability of values at the means as presented in the table by Columns 5 and 6 The classes of property in Alameda County, presented in order of magnitude of this relationship, are as follows improved land, 32 83 per cent; bare land, such as vacant city lots and uncultivated rural land, 29 80 per cent, and improvements, 28.85 per cent In contrast to this, the average (mg) assessment rate for tangible personal property is 15.96 per cent. Corresponding values for Santa Barbara County are as follows improvements, 22.07 per cent; bare land, 19.11 per cent; and improved land, 19 07 per cent.

[2] Range of probability of a single ratio of county assessed value to estimated full value, equal in magnitude to the ratio of the total of county assessed values to the total of estimated full values. See the footnotes to appendix tables 7, 8, and 9 for the formulas used in calculating these.
[3] Basis for ratio of totals only.

It should be noted that the average (mg) of the assessment rates applied to different forms of property were comparatively reversed in the two counties. That is, improved lands were assessed highest in Alameda County and lowest in Santa Barbara County, while improvements were assessed lowest, except personalties, in Alameda County and highest in Santa Barbara County.

The average assessment rate, as indicated by the percentage relationship of total county assessed value to total estimated full value, for each kind of the properties studied, as presented in Columns 9, 10, and 11 of Table 4, is of interest in comparison with the foregoing. The properties studied in Alameda County indicated that the average assessment rate, as thus measured by the ratio of totals, is practically uniform as applied to improved land and the improvements thereon. Bare land, however, appears to have been favored, and personal property was assessed at less than half the rate applied generally to the other forms of property. These average assessment rates are as follows: improvements, 30.84 per cent, improved land 30.56 per cent; bare land, 28.89 per cent, and tangible personal property, 11.06 per cent. In each case the range of probability appears in Columns 10 and 11 of the table.

The comparative order of rates at which different forms of property were assessed as indicated by ratio of totals is almost the reverse in Santa Barbara County from that found to prevail in Alameda County. The average assessment rates, as indicated by the ratio of totals in the order of magnitude in Santa Barbara County, are as follows: tangible personal property, 24.65 per cent, improved land, 22.25 per cent; bare land, 20.80 per cent, and improvements, 19.54 per cent. The rate for real estate, as previously pointed out, is 21.28 per cent.

If analysis of assessment rates in Alameda County were limited to the averages (mg) of the series of percentage relationships of county assessed value to estimated full value, as presented in Columns 3 to 8 of Table 4, the conclusions would be drawn that the rate applied to improved land, 32.83 per cent, was slightly higher than that applied to improvements, 28.85 per cent. As has been pointed out, however, the opposite conditions are reflected when the ratio of totals is used, as shown in Columns 9 to 11 of the table. Likewise in the case of Santa Barbara County, the average (mg) assessment rate was found to be higher for improvements than for improved land. Whereas, the ratio of totals indicates the opposite. While the amounts of these differences are less than the corresponding ranges of probability, their existence does shed light on the assessment rates applied to holdings of varying sizes. They indicate that in Alameda County large parcels of bare land were under-assessed; large parcels of improved land were also under-assessed, large improvements were over-assessed; and large holdings of tangible personal property were under-assessed. Following the same type of analysis in Santa Barbara County, the data indicate that the opposite conditions prevail. That is, large parcels of bare and improved land were over-assessed, and large improvements and parcels of realty were under-assessed.

Personal Property: As is the case with land and improvements when evaluated separately, reliance must be placed upon the owner's estimate for an expression of full value of most kinds of tangible personal property. Owners experienced more difficulty in evaluating certain forms of household goods than they did in evaluating their real estate, while, on the other hand, automobiles had a known resale value and numerous forms of farm produce had a known market value which were used to the greatest possible degree as a basis for comparison to assessed value.

The pertinent values appearing in Table 4 were discussed above in comparison with similar data for other forms of property.

The assessment of most forms of intangible property is a matter of past history in California due to legislation enacted by the 1935 Legislature in accordance with a constitutional provision adopted June 27, 1933. The dissertation from which most of these data are taken contains considerable interesting information indicating the extent to which the mill tax was applied.

Property Tax Evasion.

Any report on the subject at hand would be incomplete if it did not bring to the reader's attention the fact that there is a great deal of evasion in the property tax.

Data are not available to definitely show the extent of this, but the student soon finds property of every description that has escaped the assessor's eye. It includes land, improvements, and various forms of tangible and intangible property.

Probably the most general omission on the assessment rolls today is subsurface, or mineral rights. The practice is now common in the sale of land for the seller to retain mineral rights. This is particularly true of large land holders. Yet, strange as it might seem, in many of the counties the assessors do not follow the practice of assessing them.

Probably tax evasion is not the greatest undesirable result of retaining subsurface property rights. The procedure is clouding the titles and making it impossible for surface owners to use their holdings as security for bank loans. Several loaning institutions have adopted the policy of refusing loans on surface rights unless the owner of subsurface rights will subordinate his claim to that of the creditor.

Duplication of Assessment by Cities and Counties.

Sensing the need, in the interest of economy, for the elimination of unnecessary duplication of functions and officials in county and city governments, the Legislature, in 1895, provided for the consolidation of certain municipal and county offices. The office of the assessor was among those for which provision for consolidation was made. According to State law, the city council, or comparable body, may, by ordinance, eliminate the office of city assessor and use for tax purposes the values determined by the corresponding county officer. In the four decades that have elapsed since its enactment, comparatively few municipalities have seen fit to take advantage of this provision. The city of Oakland is the only municipality within the counties of Alameda and Santa Barbara that does not maintain a city assessor's office.

Cause of Duplication of Assessments. The continued existence of city assessors is most frequently justified on the ground that cities must apply an assessment rate higher than that commonly set by the county assessors for county tax purposes. It is argued that the tax rate and the bonding limitations imposed upon municipalities by State law necessitate a larger tax base than would be established by the county assessor.

It is doubtful, however, if this is really the basic reason for this repetition of work. As a matter of fact, some municipalities in the State avoid these limitations by applying a common multiple to the values established by the county assessors. It would seem, therefore, that the causes must be other than the limitations imposed by law. Instead, this remnant of the past is probably retained due to the reluctance of society to alter the structure of government, and the tendency for one jurisdiction to copy the provisions and practices of another.

Effect of Duplication of Assessments. It is reasonable to expect that two assessors evaluating identical properties for similar purposes would confer with each other in an effort to improve the quality of their work, and to thereby make such duplication a good investment of public funds. From analysis of the data procured, it is apparent, however, that such a practice is not followed. The county and city assessors make no pretense at collaboration. They apparently seldom agree as to the full value of property assessed because a comparison of the assessed values set by each on identical properties indicates a great disparity. This is illustrated by the data presented in Table 5, comparing actual county assessed values to city assessed values of the Piedmont homes included in the survey.

Table 5—Comparison of County Assessed Value to City Assessed Value of Sixteen Homes in Piedmont.

A comparison of county and city assessed values of all of the properties studied which are located inside municipalities are summarized in Table 6. The data presented in Table 6 do not include samples in the city of Oakland because county values are there used for city purposes. It will be noted that with the exceptions of San Leandro in 1928, and Emeryville in both 1928 and 1929, the evaluation placed upon properties by the assessors of the county and of the city was scarcely ever the same. While the rate of assessment purposely adopted by the city assessor is, as a rule, higher than that of the county assessor, the variations are not uniform and fluctuate widely from property to property.

While it is evident from the foregoing tables that there is less discrepancy in the total tax paid by urban taxpayers due to compensating tendencies of the county and city assessments, it is doubtful that the expense involved is justified, and it is reasonable to expect that greater uniformity could be effected by improving the quality of the county assessment and making that serve for the levy of both city and county taxes.

Conclusions of the Committee.

Your committee sincerly believes that it has spent time on the problems discussed in this report to good advantage, that its findings should assist in resolving the complicated issue herein treated It feels, however, that the lack of widespread knowledge and understanding of the present situation concerning the appraisal and assessment of real property, and the unknown effect of proposed fundamental changes in assessment procedure, urge gradual changes through reforms rather than radical alterations in present methods

1. Specifically, the committee feels that the present statutes concerning real property appraisals and assessments should be clarified so that assessors are required to levy tax assessments "according to value" of property in which "warranted net income" is taken into account in determining that value.

2. The Code Commission should be instructed to proceed at once with the codifying of all laws pertaining to real property appraisal and assessments, with a view to eliminating all conflicting sections, clarifying ambiguities, and revising these laws so that they may be presented in simplified, understandable language in order to be made available to county and city assessors, and property owners

3. Municipalities should be required to use county assessed values as their tax base, with legal provision for review in doubtful or disputed cases

4. Annual publication should be required of all property allowed tax exemptions for any cause, said publication giving a description of such property, its location, character, size and use, ownership, value and amount of tax exemption allowed

5 The practice of hiring part-time nonprofessional property appraisers in county assessors' offices is not economic, and is responsible in large measure for improper assessment levies, the loss of considerable tax moneys, probable favoritism to some citizens—all of which contributes toward the discrediting of government offices The committee therefore urges upon counties the employment of competent staffs of full-time appraisers, and suggests to the Legislature the desirability of enacting this provision into law.

Messages from the Governor.

The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 17, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2794, the same being:

"An act relating to alcoholic beverages, prohibiting licensees under the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act from transporting or importing into this State, purchasing, receiving, possessing, or selling alcoholic beverages manufactured in any State, the laws, rules, or regulations of which discriminate against alcoholic beverages manufactured in this State or against persons selling or dealing therein, defining discriminatory laws, and providing for the enforcement of the provisions hereof."

The primary objects sought in this bill are described by its proponents as seeking protection for certain California industries and as encouraging cooperation in interstate commerce.

The effects that usually follow legislation of this kind are generally contrary to the purposes and expectations of its supporters. Not only will retaliatory and discriminatory legislation in other States be invited, but the basic reciprocal relationship that should exist between the States may be seriously jeopardized.

While it is true that certain States do have discriminatory laws and regulations, the better way to meet and overcome such obstacles to the free flow of trade between the States would be to eliminate discrimination where it exists rather than set up legislative reprisals in our own State.

I am of the opinion that any benefits to be derived under this bill by individuals or groups would be wholly offset by penalties and laws which California industries as a whole would suffer with its enactment. Communications which I have received from the Governors of other States, together with information furnished me concerning the probable effects upon general interstate commerce, definitely indicate that this measure would prove most harmful to many industries within California, and would eventually result in loss of business by California industries selling their products outside of the State.

I am of the opinion that most State Legislatures will remove such discriminatory laws as exist, if called to their attention. May I suggest that by resolution or bill, the Legislature indicate its course if such changes are not made and that a commission be authorized to bring about reciprocal trade relations between California and the various States.

Indicating the feeling of the Governors of at least two of the States affected, telegrams received from them are presented herewith:

From Governor Charles H. Martin of Oregon:

"Am advised Assembly Bill No. 2794 has passed California Legislature. This will prevent importation into California of Oregon-produced beer, wine and brandy. Last session of Oregon Legislature at my request defeated all proposals for discrimination of this character. I urge you veto the bill."

From Governor Clarence D. Martin of Washington:

"I am advised by the Washington State Liquor Control Board, probably the largest single purchaser of California wine, that Assembly Bill No. 2794, or so-called Antidiscrimination Bill, has passed your Legislature and now waits your action, and that enactment of this measure may jeopardize present friendly commercial relations between our States. I am constrained to join our board in protesting this measure, which is regarded both unwise and unfair. Therefore, I trust you will consider this bill as an unfriendly barrier toward the neighborly State of Washington. Asking our board to give you further information."

In addition to protests from sources outside of California, I am in receipt of a large number of letters and telegrams supporting a veto from individuals and organizations representing business, agriculture, industry, retailers and wholesalers, chambers of commerce, shipping interests and allied interests.

The bill provides that it shall become effective on September 1, 1938. It is also contended this feature of the measure would work a hardship on a number of States, since States in which the Legislatures met in 1937 and will not meet again in regular session until 1939, will not have an opportunity to adjust their laws to our demands. If the imposing of the proposed penalties are delayed one year, the 1939 Legislature can enact the necessary legislation after due notice to all the offending States.

The representatives of the grape growers and wine producing organizations of the State have requested me to veto it. The author of this bill has consented to this action on my part.

For the reasons above set forth, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2794 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Assembly Bill No. 2794 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 17, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 406, the same being:

"An act to amend sections 3, 5, 6 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act. relating to licenses, declaring the urgency hereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately."

Assembly Bill No. 406 is a companion bill to Assembly Bill No. 2794. Assembly Bill No 406 amends certain sections of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, relating to licenses.

Since these bills are related and both should be signed, or neither of them, I am returning herewith without my approval Assembly Bill No. 406.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California.

Assembly Bill No. 406 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

Motion to Print Speech in Journal.

On motion of Mr. Boyle, the following speech, in support of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 47 was ordered printed in the Journal:

Speech by Mr. Geoffrey Morgan, Assemblyman, Sixtieth District, California State Legislature, Delivered on Floor of the Assembly Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento, California, on May 17, 1937.

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly.

In rising to support this resolution by Mr. Boyle and myself, I will begin by directing your attention to the fact that the resolution refers to all of the republics in Central and South America

The Countries of the Western World have much in common, and perhaps the most important attribute they all possess, is that of a republican form of government. No sceptered monarch exerts his sway within the confines either of these great United States, or those of our sister republics to the south When Thomas Jefferson enunciated the great principle that governments are instituted among men in order to preserve their inalienable rights, he laid just emphasis upon the fact that such governments must derive their powers from the consent of the governed. Here in the Western Hemisphere, the people of both North and South America are well persuaded that the doctrine is a sound one and each and all of us stand equally committed to the theory of democracy in our governmental forms.

In the second place, not only North and South America, but the areas between, have been abundantly blessed by the Creator with every form of wealth. The teeming wheat fields of the prairie States find their counterpart in the vast areas of the Argentine; the mighty forests of the western slopes are duplicated in the rich valley of the Amazon, and the boundless store of mineral wealth which we derive from the Rocky Mountains are only exceeded by the rich stores of the Andes and the mines of Montezuma.

In viewing the mighty resources of these mighty Nations, however, it would appear that the Divine Providence has designed that South America shall serve chiefly as a storehouse of vast natural wealth and great resources, while North America shall devote at least a portion of her strength to the creation of finished products. Thus, we find the rubber of the Amazon imported for our automobile tires; the rich woods of the tropic belt are here employed to make the finest furniture; the countless hides of South American herds are here transformed into a vast variety of leather products.

Thus, while our sister republics in the south find an abundant market for their vast resources in the factories of the United States, it is equally essential that we in North America must find an outlet for our finished products somewhere in all that vast area below the Rio Grande; and it is this very need for trade and commerce which has given rise to the project which is noted in these resolutions—that of establishing an Exposition of the World in Southern California and of maintaining a permanent Pacific Mercado where all the Nations of the Western World may meet for barter and for trade.

Mr. Speaker, there is something peculiarly appropriate in the fact that this mighty exposition is to be situated not only in California, but in Los Angeles.

We in California have more in common with the people of Latin America than any other State in these United States The very name of our great southern metropolis betokens its Spanish origin and every foot of this great Golden State is rich with the heritage and tradition handed down to us from the days of the Dons Not only is our climate almost identical with that of Spain, but our architecture, our manners and customs and the nomenclature of our cities, rivers, mountain peaks and valleys, all bear significant witness of our indebtedness to the mother countries of Spain and Portugal from whom have sprung the industry, the commerce, and the culture of the Western World

Our Honored President, Franklin D. Roosevelt, has never tired of preaching the gospel of the "Good Neighbor." The historic occasion of his visit to our sister republics of the south served more than any other thing, to emphasize the value and importance of peace and good will toward those with whom we have so much in common and from whose associations we can derive so much of mutual benefit. The present proposal to promote a vast commercial and cultural exposition here within the borders of this State affords gratifying evidence of the fact that the President's words have fallen on attentive ears, and that the people of California are well disposed to give practical evidence of their appreciation and affection for their friends and neighbors in Central and South America.

Within the confines of Los Angeles, our Pacific Mercado is destined to be the market place and cross roads of the world. Here shall come argosies from north and south for barter and for trade and here shall men exchange food for clothing and gold for bread. Here shall there be at the same time that meeting of minds, that community of interest, and that cooperation in fellowship and good will which shall build a nobler and a finer civilization for the future than the past has ever known Then will the Republics of the north and south alike be able to join with Catherine Lee Bates in a hymn of aspiration:

"America, America,
God shed his Grace on thee.
And crown our good with brotherhood,
From sea to shining sea."

Resolved by the Assembly, the Senate concurring, That the Legislature of the State of California, at its fifty-second regular session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1937, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the houses voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that section 31 of Article IV, of the Constitution of the State of California be amended to read as follows:

Sec. 31. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State, or of any county, city and county, city, township or other political corporation or subdivision of the State now existing, or that may be hereafter established, in aid of or to any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or otherwise, or to pledge the credit thereof, in any manner whatever, for the payment of the liabilities of any individual, association, municipal or other corporation whatever; nor shall it have power to make any gift or authorize the making of any gift, of any public money or thing of value to any individual, or corporation whatever; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Legislature granting aid pursuant to section 22 of this article; and it shall not have power to authorize the State, or any political subdivision thereof, to subscribe for stock, or to become a stockholder in any corporation whatever: provided further, that irrigation districts for the purpose of acquiring the control of any entire international water system necessary for its use and purposes, a part of which is situated in the United States, and a part thereof in a foreign country, may in the manner authorized by law, acquire the stock of any foreign corporation which is the owner of, or which holds the title to the part of such system situated in a foreign country, provided further, that irrigation districts for the purpose of acquiring water and water rights and other property necessary for their uses and purposes, may acquire and hold the stock of corporations, domestic or foreign, owning waters, water rights, canals, waterworks, franchises or concessions subject to the same obligations and liabilities as are imposed by law upon all other stockholders in such corporation; and

Provided further, that nothing contained in this Constitution shall prohibit the use of State money or credit, in aiding veterans who served in the military or naval service of the United States during time of war, in the acquisition of, or payments for, farms or homes, or in projects of land settlement or in the development of such farms or homes or land settlement projects for the benefit of such veterans.

The California Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921 (Statutes of 1921, Chapter 578), as enacted at the forty-fourth session of the Legislature of the State of California, authorizing the issuance and sale of State bonds in the sum of ten million dollars, for the purpose of creating a fund to carry out the provisions of the California Veterans' Welfare Act, providing land settlement for veterans (Statutes of 1921, Chapter 580), and the provisions of the "Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act," providing farm and home aid for veterans (Statutes of 1921, Chapter 519) is hereby approved, adopted, legalized, validated and made fully and completely effective irrespective of the vote that may be cast upon the proposition of approving or disapproving such Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921 at the general election of November 7, 1922. All provisions of this section shall be self-executing and shall not require any legislative action in furtherance thereof, but this shall not prevent such legislative action.

And provided, still further, that notwithstanding the restrictions contained in this Constitution, the treasurer of any city, county, or city and county shall have power and it shall be his duty to make such temporary transfers from the funds in his custody as may be necessary to provide funds for meeting the obligations incurred for maintenance purposes by any city, county, city and county, district, or other political subdivision whose funds are in his custody and are paid out solely through his office. Such temporary transfer of funds to any political subdivision shall not exceed eighty-five per cent of the taxes accruing to such political subdivision, shall not be made prior to the first day of the fiscal year nor after the last Monday in April of the current fiscal year, and shall be replaced from the taxes accruing to such political subdivision before any other obligation of such political subdivision is met from such taxes.

And provided further, that the city of Glendale, of Los Angeles County, may, when authorized so to do, by a majority of the voters thereof voting at an election held for that purpose, pay from the surplus of the public service department of said city the amount of any assessment or assessments levied by said city between the eleventh day of May, 1921, and the ratification of this amendment, for the replacement of water mains, to the person or persons owning the property so assessed at the time said payment is so authorized; and that no statute of limitations shall apply in any manner.

SEC 4 Section 28a of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 28a. Persons who are members of the California Highway Patrol become and remain members of the retirement system in the same manner as in the case of other eligible State officers or employees, except that when any such person is disabled or killed by injury or illness arising out of and in the course of such duties, such person, in respect to such disability or death, is deemed a member of the retirement system while in State service prior to the completion of the six months of service referred to in section 27, to the same extent as if such six months of service were completed prior to such disability or death.

"Member of the California Highway Patrol," and "member of the highway patrol of a county," for the purpose of the retirement system, includes persons employed in the Motor Vehicle Department or by a county in connection with its highway patrol function, respectively, whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service and excludes such persons whose principal duties are those of a telephone operator, clerk, stenographer, machinist, mechanic, or otherwise clearly not falling within the scope of active law enforcement service, even though such person is subject to occasional call, or is occasionally called upon, to perform duties within the scope of active law enforcement service.

SEC. 5. Section 65a of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec 65a The normal rates of contribution of each member, who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol, shall be based on his age at July 1, 1935,

The age at entrance into the highway patrol service, if said entrance was prior to July 1, 1935, shall be determined by deducting the total of such service credited to the member at July 1, 1935, from his age at that date. The normal rates of contribution of each such member who entered highway patrol service at or below age forty-five shall be such as, on the average for such member, if his service on full salary be uninterrupted and when accumulated with regular interest, added to the equal accumulated contributions of the State and applied according to the tables adopted by the board will provide a retirement allowance upon retirement for service at the age of sixty years, or upon completion of twenty years of service at an age higher than sixty years, equal to one-half of his final compensation, less than part of the retirement allowance set forth in section 83a, which is to be provided by contributions of the State on account of service rendered prior to January 1, 1932, if such member affirmatively exercises the option in section 65d, otherwise, less a pension calculated in the same manner as the pension in section 83a, but on the basis of highway patrol service rendered by him prior to July 1, 1935. If such member entered highway patrol service at an age greater than forty-five years, then his normal rate of contribution shall be such as will provide an average annuity at age sixty-five equal to one-eightieth of his final compensation, according to tables adopted by the board, for each year of service after July 1, 1935, or after entrance into the retirement system if he affirmatively exercises the option in section 65d. The normal rate of contribution of any member who received credit for service rendered as a member of the highway patrol of a county in California, shall be adjusted in such manner as may be necessary to comply with this section.

SEC. 6. Section 65d of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 65d. The rates of contribution provided for in section 65c for members of the California Highway Patrol shall apply on and after July 1, 1935. Each of such members, however, shall have the option, to be exercised on or before December 31, 1937, of contributing a sum sufficient to make the amount of the accumulated contributions standing to his credit on that date the same as such amount would have been had he been contributing at the rate, from and after the effective date of his membership in the retirement system, which would have applied to him at such effective date if said rates for the highway patrol had been then in effect. If such option is affirmatively exercised, then the rate of contribution for such member on and after July 1, 1935, shall be based on his age at such effective date and his age at the date of entrance into highway patrol service.

SEC. 7. Section 83a of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 83a. An additional pension for members who are also members of the California Highway Patrol, purchased by contributions of the State. Such additional pension shall be the same percentage of his final compensation, regardless of his age at retirement, for each year of highway patrol service rendered by him prior to January 1, 1932, as the contributions of the member and the State are calculated to provide upon retirement for service at sixty years of age or upon completion of twenty years of service at an age higher than sixty years or upon retirement with less than twenty years of service at age sixty-five, for each year of such service after said date.

SEC. 8. Section 84a of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby repealed.

SEC. 9. Section 109 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 109. In addition to such payments from the general fund, there shall be paid monthly, from and after the date this act takes effect, into the State Employees' Retirement Fund out of the motor vehicle fund a sum equal to nine and twenty one-hundredths per centum of the total compensation paid from said fund to members of the retirement system who also are members of the California Highway Patrol and out of said motor vehicle fund and every other fund directly controlled by the State, out of which the compensation of members is paid, a sum equal to three and seventy-five one-hundredths per centum of the total compensation paid members, other than members of the said highway patrol of the retirement system from the said fund. All such payments, whether heretofore or hereafter made are hereby validated and confirmed. The board of administration shall certify to the State Controller at the end of each month the total amount of compensation paid such members of the retirement system from each such fund and the State Controller shall thereupon transfer the percentages as specified in this section, of said total amount from each such fund, respectively, to the "State Employees' Retirement Fund." If any member of the said highway patrol shall affirmatively exercise the option in section 65d, the Controller shall transfer into the said retirement fund from the motor vehicle fund upon certification by the board of administration of the total compensation received by said member for service as a member of the retirement system rendered prior to July 1, 1935, three and ninety one-hundredths per centum of said total compensation. The appropriation made by Chapter 865, Statutes of 1933, shall no longer be held solely for the benefit of the persons designated therein, but shall be applied on the State's liability for benefits based on prior service of all members of the California Highway Patrol. In the event a special fund is created by law from which moneys for the support of the Department of Motor Vehicles are to be paid, all contributions to the State Employees' Retirement Fund for employees of the Department of Motor Vehicles shall be paid from such special fund."

Provided, however, that such schedules shall not contain minimum charges less than the minimum charges which have theretofore been fixed by the commission under the provisions of this act covering the transportation of property between the same points. No such carrier, unless otherwise provided by this act, shall engage in the transportation of property between points in this State unless the minimum charges for such transportation by said carrier shall have been published, filed, and posted in accordance with the provisions thereof, except as otherwise herein provided. Provided, however, that any such carrier, otherwise complying with this act, may transport perishable products, including agricultural products and live stock, in emergencies without publishing, filing and posting minimum charges, in accordance with the provisions of this section No change shall be made in any such charge either directly or by means of any change in any rule, regulation or practice affecting such charge, except after thirty days' notice of the proposed change filed in the aforesaid form and manner, but the commission may, in its discretion and for good cause shown, allow changes without requiring the thirty days' notice herein provided for by an order specifying the change so to be made and the time when they shall take effect. When any change is proposed in any minimum rate, rule, regulation, charge or practice affecting such charge, attention shall be directed to such change on the schedule filed with the commission, by some character to be designated by the commission, immediately preceding or following the item. Such notice shall plainly state the change proposed to be made and the time when such change will take effect. No such carrier shall demand, charge or collect a less compensation for such transportation or service than the charges filed in accordance with this paragraph, as affected by any rule, regulation or practice so filed, or as may be prescribed by the commission from time to time, and it shall be unlawful for any such carrier, by the furnishing of special service facilities or privileges, or by any other device whatsoever, to charge, accept or receive less than the minimum charges so filed or prescribed. Whenever there shall be filed with the commission by any such highway carrier other than a highway common carrier any schedule of charges stating a reduced charge directly, or by the means of any rule, regulation, or practice, for the transportation of property between points in this State, the commission is hereby authorized and empowered upon complaint of interested parties or upon its own initiative at once, and if it so orders, without answer or other formal pleading by the interested party, but upon reasonable notice, to enter upon a hearing concerning the lawfulness or reasonableness of such charge, or such rule, regulation, or practice, and pending such hearing and the decision thereof the commission, by filing with such schedule and delivery to the carrier affected thereby a statement in writing of its reason for such suspension, may suspend the operation of such schedule and defer the use of such charge, or such rule, regulation, or practice, for a period of ninety days, and if such hearing has not been concluded and a final order made within such period the commission may, from time to time, extend the period of suspension, but not for a longer period in the aggregate than one hundred eighty days beyond the time when such schedule would otherwise go into effect; and after hearing, whether completed before or after the charge, or rule, regulation, or practice goes into effect, the commission may make such order with reference thereto as would be proper in a proceeding instituted after it had become effective. If such hearing has not been concluded and an order made within the period of suspension, the proposed change in any such schedule or charges, or rule, regulation, or practice shall go into effect at the end of such period: provided that this paragraph shall not apply to any initial schedule filed by any such carrier."

Before establishing any retirement system, the board of directors shall secure a report from a qualified actuary, which shall show the cost of the benefits provided by the system, and the prospective assets and liabilities of the system. At least once in each four-year period after the establishment of the system the board of directors shall cause to be made an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement fund, and upon the basis of such investigation and valuation shall make such revision or change of the rates of contribution, the periods and conditions of service, and amounts of retirement allowances as may be necessary.

Said publication shall be made at least once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the district, or, if there be no such newspaper in the district, then within some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county where such district is situated.

All other things being equal, the board of directors shall appoint as general manager some person who has had experience in municipal engineering or in the construction or management of public utilities.

SEC. 5. Section 15 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows.

Sec. 15. Any district organized under this act may from time to time, as hereinafter provided, incur a bonded indebtedness to pay the cost of acquiring, constructing or completing the whole or any portion of any utility or works referred to in this act, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district.

Whenever the board of directors of any such district shall, by resolution passed by vote of two-thirds of all its members, determine that the public interest or necessity demands the acquisition, construction or completion by the district of any public utility or utilities referred to in this act, or any part thereof, or any works, lands, structures, rights or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district, the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such district, it may at any subsequent meeting of said board of directors provide for the submission of the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purpose set forth in said resolution, to the qualified voters of such district, at any election held for that purpose; provided, that propositions for incurring indebtedness for more than one object or purpose may be submitted at the same election. The ordinance calling such election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the utility, works, lands, structures, rights or other property proposed to be acquired, constructed or completed, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, and the rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness, and shall fix the date on which such election will be held, the manner of holding such election, and the voting for or against incurring such indebtedness, and in all particulars not recited in said ordinance, such election shall be held as provided by law for holding general elections in such district; provided, however, that if the rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed four and one-half per cent per annum, payable semiannually, the rate of interest need not be recited in said ordinance, but in its discretion the board of directors may recite in said ordinance a maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, not exceeding six per cent per annum, payable semiannually, which rate, when so recited, shall not be exceeded in the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness.

Said ordinance shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper published at least six days a week in such district, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days a week in such district; and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be a sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. In districts where no such newspaper is published, said ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein for two succeeding weeks. No other notice of such election need be given. It shall require the votes of two-thirds of all the voters voting at such elections to authorize the issuance of the bonds herein provided; provided, however, should the proposition so submitted at such election fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified voters voting at such election to incur the indebtedness for the purposes specified, the board of directors of such district shall have no power or authority within six months after such election to call or order another election for incurring any indebtedness for the acquisition, construction or completion of improvements or property substantially the same as voted upon at such prior election, unless a petition signed by at least fifteen per cent of the qualified electors of such district computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected be filed with the board of directors of such district, requesting that said proposition, or a proposition substantially the same, be submitted at an election to be called for the submission of such proposition and to be held in accordance with the provisions of this act. The bonds so authorized shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors; provided, that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than ten years from the date thereof and be completed in not more than fifty years from said date. Said bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors of the district determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified therein, which interest shall be payable semiannually. The board of directors may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of said bonds on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding five per cent upon the principal amount of said bonds, in which event a statement to that effect shall be set forth in the ordinance calling the election and the call price fixed by the board of directors shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district or if there be no such newspaper printed and published within the district then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the county in which the said district or any part thereof is situated, the first publication of which shall be at least thirty days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease. Said bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district or by such officer thereof as the board of directors shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof, and be countersigned by the secretary thereof. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer by his lithographed or engraved signature. All such signatures and countersignatures, except that of the treasurer, on said bonds may be printed, lithographed or engraved. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of said bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds. Said bonds may be issued and sold by the board of directors of the district as they determine, but for not less than their par value. The proceeds of said bonds shall be placed in the district treasury to the credit of the proper fund, and shall be used exclusively for the objects or purposes for which said bonds were voted.

No municipal utility district shall incur an indebtedness for public works which shall in the aggregate exceed twenty per cent of the assessed value of all the real and personal property of such district; provided, however, any indebtedness which has been incurred for the construction and operation of a public utility, where the revenue from said utility for three years or more next preceding has been sufficient to pay the interest and principal due on any bonds issued for its construction or acquisition, in addition to the cost of operation and maintenance, shall not be counted and included in ascertaining the limit of indebtedness.

The board of directors of such district shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of such district set apart for that purpose to meet all claims coming due for principal and interest on said bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on said bonds, and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance thereof, said tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on said indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes, and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

In lieu of a resolution passed as hereinbefore provided by its board of directors, proceedings for the issuance of bonds for the purposes in this section provided may be initiated by petition of the qualified electors of such district.

Whenever any petition or petitions, each signed by electors of the district equal in number to fifteen per cent of the qualified electors of such district, computed upon the total number of votes cast therein for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding election at which a Governor was elected, shall be presented to the board of directors of said district asking for the acquisition, construction or completion of the whole or any portion of any utility, or works referred to in this act, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of such district, and also asking that a bonded indebtedness be incurred to pay for the cost thereof, then it shall be the duty of the secretary of the district to immediately proceed to examine and verify the signatures of such petition or petitions, and to certify the result of such examination to the board of directors. If the required number of signatures be found to be genuine, the secretary shall transmit to the board of directors an authentic copy of such petition or petitions without the signatures thereto. Upon receiving the petition or petitions with the certificate of the secretary stating that it or they contain the required number of signatures, the board of directors shall formulate for submission to the electors of the district at a special election called for that purpose the proposition of incurring a bonded debt for the purposes set forth in said petition, and thereafter the said election and all things and proceedings with reference to the said bonds and the issuance thereof shall be conducted and performed in the same manner as if the proceedings had been initiated by resolution of the board of directors of said district as hereinbefore provided. In its discretion the board of directors may defer the calling of said election until the next general election to be held in the district in order that the same may be consolidated therewith.

Any election called for the submission of any question or proposition under the provisions of this section, may be held separately, or may be consolidated with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified voters of such district are entitled to vote; provided, however, that in the event any such election called pursuant to the provisions of this section is consolidated with any other election, the provisions of this section setting forth the procedure for the calling and holding of the election called pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall be complied with, except that the ordinance calling such election need not set forth the election precincts, polling places and officers of election, but may provide that the precincts, polling places and officers of election shall be the same as those set forth in the ordinance, notice or other proceedings calling the election with which the election called pursuant to the provisions of this section, is consolidated, and shall refer to such ordinance, notice or other proceeding by number and title, or by other definite description

SEC. 6. Section 15c of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15 Whenever the board of directors shall by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members determine that the refunding of the whole or any portion of its bonded indebtedness will be of advantage to the district, said board may refund such bonded indebtedness or any portion thereof and issue refunding bonds of the district therefor. The refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding the interest rate on the refunded bonds and shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors; provided that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than one year from the date thereof and be completed in not more than forty years from said date. Said bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors determine except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in said bonds, with interest at the rate specified therein, which interest shall be payable semiannually The board of directors may provide for the call and redemption of any or all of said bonds on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest plus a premium of not exceeding five per cent upon the principal amount of said bonds, and the call price fixed by the board of directors shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district, or if there be no such newspaper printed and published within the district then the publication shall be made in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the county in which the said district or any part thereof is situated, which shall be at least thrity days prior to the date fixed for such redemption After the date fixed for such redemption, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease. Said bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district or by such officer thereof as the board of directors shall by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof and be countersigned by the secretary thereof. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer by his lithographed or engraved signature All such signatures and countersignatures, except that of the treasurer, on said bonds may be printed, lithographed or engraved. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of said bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Said bonds may be issued and sold by the board of directors of the district as they determine but for not less than their par value.

The proceeds of the sale of such refunding bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the district to the credit of the "Refunding fund" and shall be applied only to the purchase, or retirement at not more than par and accrued interest, or the call price, of the bonded indebtedness for which said refunding bonds shall have been issued. In lieu of selling such refunding bonds and using the proceeds of such sale to purchase or retire the bonds to be refunded, the board of directors of the district may exchange refunding bonds at not less than par and accrued interest for the bonds so refunded.

Whenever such outstanding bonds shall be refunded, they shall be surrendered to the treasurer of the district, who shall proceed to cancel the same by indorsing on the face thereof the manner in which the refunding shall have been effected (whether by exchange or purchase, and the amount for which so purchased, if any) and by perforating through each bond and each coupon attached thereto, the word "canceled" together with the date of cancellation.

All moneys which shall remain in said "Refunding fund" after all outstanding bonds which were proposed to be refunded therefrom have been taken up and canceled, shall be paid into the sinking fund of such district and become a part thereof.

The issuance of said refunding bonds shall not be construed as the incurring or increase of an indebtedness within the meaning of the provisions of section 12, subdivision 8, or section 15 of this act, or of any other provision of this act.

The board of directors shall provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on said bonds and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds on or before maturity in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of this act.

The provisions of section 15b and 16 of this act shall apply to such refunding bonds except that the board of directors may cause refunding bond validation proceedings to be brought within sixty days from the date of the resolution authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds.

SEC. 7. Section 21 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Any person interested may within ten days after such posting file written objections to such proposed rules or amendments, or any part thereof, with the general manager, in which event such rules or amendments shall not become effective until the general manager has given notice of a hearing and heard objections thereto and announced his decision on the objections. The following messages from the Governor were received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 21, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2825, the same being:

"An act to amend section 737a of the Political Code, relating to salaries of judges of the superior court in and for the county of Alameda."

That there shall be no approval of expenditures necessitating increased taxes, seems to justify withholding my approval of Assembly Bill No. 2825.

Respectfully submitted.

CHAPTER 2. COUNTY AID AND RELIEF TO INDIGENTS.

Article 1. Duty and Power of County to Give Aid.

2500. Every county shall aid and relieve all able-bodied indigent persons and all indigents incapacitated by age, disease, or accident, when such indigent persons are residents of the county, and are not supported and relieved by their relatives or friends or by public or private institutions.

2501. Every county may give such emergency relief to dependent nonresidents as the respective boards of supervisors deem necessary.

2502. If no other funds are available for the purpose, a county may incur all necessary expenses in transporting a nonresident indigent to another State or county when information at hand reasonably tends to show that the person has a legal residence in such State or county.

2503. Whenever the respective boards of supervisors deem it best for the welfare of a family or in the public interest that an indigent remain in a county not responsible for his support, the county responsible for the support of the indigent may agree to support him in the county not so responsible; but no indigent supported in this manner shall be deemed to have acquired a residence in the nonresponsible county. Such agreement shall be made by the responsible county with the nonresponsible county, and a record or copy thereof shall be sent to and filed in the office of the State Department of Social Welfare.

2504. If a dispute occurs between counties as to the responsibility for an indigent, either county may submit the dispute to the State Department of Social Welfare. The decision of the department thereon shall be final.

2505. Work may be required of an able-bodied indigent as a condition of relief. Such work shall be created for the purpose of keeping the indigent from idleness and assisting in his rehabilitation and the preservation of his self-respect.

2506. The board of supervisors of every county as a board, or by committee or by such person or society as it may authorize, shall investigate every application for relief from the funds of the county, shall supervise by periodic visitation every person receiving such relief, shall devise ways and means for bringing persons unable to maintain themselves to self-support and shall keep full and complete records of such investigation, supervision, relief, and rehabilitation as shall be prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare. Such records shall be confidential and shall not be open to examination or inspection except by the grand jury of the county or by a board or an officer of the State or the county charged with the supervision or direction of such relief or with the control or expenditure of funds applicable to such relief. Any citizen shall be entitled to demand and receive from the board, officer, committee, person, or society having custody of such records a statement of the amount, character, and value of the relief received by any person.

Article 2. Residence.

2550. Except as otherwise provided in this chapter, a person, in order to be entitled to aid, shall be a resident of the State and of the county wherein application is made.

2551. The provisions of this article relating to residence are applicable in determining residence for the purposes of this chapter only.

2552. The residence is the place where one remains when not called elsewhere for labor or other special or temporary purpose, and to which he returns in seasons of repose.

2553. The residence of an unmarried minor child is the residence of the father, while he has legal custody of the minor, or if he has not such legal custody, the residence of the mother while she remains unmarried and has the legal custody of the minor.

The residence of an orphan is that of the last deceased person who had his legal custody.

The residence of a dependent child who has been declared free from the custody and control of his parent or parents, by order of the juvenile court, is not changed by change of the residence of the parent or parents.

2554. The residence of a married woman is the residence of her husband.

2555. A resident of the State of California is a person who comes within all the following descriptions:

(a) Who has lived continuously in the State for a period of three years with the intent to make it his home.

(b) Who, during the three-year period aforementioned, has not received any public or private relief or support from friends, charitable organizations, or relatives other than legally responsible relatives; but time spent in a public institution or on parole therefrom shall not be counted in determining the matter of residence in this or another State.

(c) Who has not lost his residence by remaining away from this State for an uninterrupted period of one year. Absence from the State for labor or other special or temporary purpose does not occasion loss of residence.

2556. A person who is a resident of California within the meaning of this chapter is a lawful resident of the county wherein he applies for aid if he has resided therein continuously for one year immediately preceding his application for assistance. If the applicant has no such residence, the county wherein he last resided continuously for one year immediately preceding his application shall be responsible for his support. If the applicant has no such year's residence within three years preceding application, that county shall be responsible for his support wherein he was present for the longest time during the three-year period. Time spent in a public institution or on parole therefrom or in a private charitable institution shall not in any case be counted in determining the matter of county residence.

Article 3. Responsibility of Kindred.

2576. If any indigent has living within this State a spouse, parent, or adult child, and such kindred or any of them, or any group of them has sufficient financial ability to support the indigent, he shall not be eligible for aid under this chapter except such emergency aid as may be extended hereunder pending a determination of responsibility for his support. Upon failure of such kindred to support the indigent, the county may extend aid, and such kindred in the order above named and to the extent of their ability shall reimburse the county for the support of the indigent by paying to the county the sums per month or per day fixed by the board of supervisors for such aid. In any case where such kindred are unable to pay the entire charge for such support, they shall reimburse the county to such an extent as may be determined under the provisions of this section.

The board of supervisors shall, in the case of aid granted by institutional care, fix a reasonable charge therefor, which shall be the measure of reimbursement to the county, and the existence of the order fixing the charge shall constitute prima facie evidence of its reasonableness.

2577. Upon failure of the kindred, referred to in section 2576, to perform their duty to support the indigent, the board of supervisors shall request the district attorney of the county to proceed against such kindred in the order of their responsibility for support. Upon such request the district attorney shall promptly commence and prosecute proceedings for the ascertainment and enforcement of the liability and responsibility of the kindred.

2578. Such proceedings shall be begun by filing in the name of the county a petition verified in the manner of a complaint praying that the responsibility and liability of the named kindred be ascertained, and that an order be made accordingly. The provisions of Titles I to IX, inclusive, of Part II of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to the proceedings in such action and the court shall therein determine the liability, if any, of each of the kindred for such support. The court shall, in such action, ascertain the financial ability of the defendants and each of them, and unless it finds that a defendant is unable to pay any sum for support, either because of lack of sufficient funds or because such payment would result in the probability of the defendant becoming at some future time a public charge, the court shall order each defendant to pay to the county a proper proportion, if any, of his liability for the support of the indigent.

If any relative or group of relatives has sufficient financial ability to support the indigent no relative beyond him or them in the order named in section 2576 shall be ordered to pay any portion of the support. The order of the court shall specify that a given sum shall be payable monthly in advance to the board of supervisors or its designated social agency for the entire or partial maintenance of the defendant's indigent relative in accordance with the defendant's financial ability.

2579. In any case where a person so ordered to make such payments fails so to do, the court may by order require him to show cause for such failure and may otherwise enforce its order to make such payments by such order or orders as in its discretion it deems necessary from time to time and such order or orders may be modified, altered, or revoked at the discretion of the court.

Article 4. Application of Property of an Indigent Person to His Support.

2600. The board of supervisors of any county may establish its own policies with reference to the amount of property, if any, a person shall be permitted to have while receiving public assistance, to the end that so far as it is possible an applicant for public relief shall be required to apply his own property to his support.

2601. As a condition to the grant or continuation of aid to an indigent the board of supervisors may require as security for the moneys so expended that the applicant transfer or grant to it such property or interest in property as the applicant has, or such portion thereof or estate therein or lien thereon as the board specifies. Such property shall be managed by the board of supervisors and the net income thereof shall be applied to the reimbursement of the county for the aid granted and any surplus in excess of such reimbursement shall be paid to the indigent. In the case of any estate, interest, or lien in such property held by the board, or any right of management transferred thereto, the board shall have all the powers of an attorney in fact for the indigent as to such estate, interest, or lien and may sell, lease, or transfer the same, defend and prosecute all suits concerning it, pay all just claims against it and be reimbursed out of the proceeds, and do all things necessary for the protection, preservation, and management thereof. Any such estate, interest, or lien shall be held by the board subject to the claim of the county for reimbursement for aid granted to the applicant or for moneys expended in its management, preservation, or protection, and such reimbursement shall constitute a preferred claim against such estate, interest, or lien.

2602. If there is in the hands of any officer of the county, or there is surrendered to any officer of the county, upon the death of any such indigent person, any personal property of a total of less than twenty-five dollars in value, belonging to such person, the board of supervisors of the county may by resolution order such property to be sold, and if the proceeds thereof do not exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars, they shall be applied to the payment of the claim of the county against such person. If the value of such property or the proceeds received from its sale exceeds the sum of twenty-five dollars, or exceeds the indebtedness due to the county, such property or the proceeds of the sale thereof in excess of twenty-five dollars or the amount of the claims of the county, shall be delivered to the public administrator of the county or to any other legal representative of the deceased for administration.

2603. In a proper case therefor the district attorney shall apply to the proper court for the appointment of a guardian of the person or estate, or both, of the indigent. The support of such indigent from public funds shall be deemed a ground for sale or encumbrance of his property under the provisions of section 1530 of the Probate Code.

If the indigent patient is a nonresident of the county or if a relative or a friend of the patient is found outside the county, of whose ability and willingness to assume the responsibility and the expense of the proper care of the patient the court is satisfied, the court may release the patient to the custody of such relative or friend and the cost and expense of transporting the patient to the home of the relative or friend or to the county or State where the patient has a legal residence shall be a charge upon the county in which the court has jurisdiction and shall be paid in the manner prescribed in this section for the payment of other expenses for the care of such patients.

SEC. 3. An act entitled "An act to provide for the aid and relief of indigents," approved June 5, 1933, as amended, is hereby repealed.

Message from the Governor.

The following message from the Governor was received and read:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE,
SACRAMENTO, May 21, 1937.

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly.

I am returning herewith, without my approval, Assembly Bill No. 2788, the same being:

"An act granting to the city of Los Angeles the tidelands and submerged lands of the State within the boundaries of the said city."

Assembly Bill No. 2788 would make a grant of certain tidelands and submerged lands to the city of Los Angeles. The city of Los Angeles already has been granted several parcels of such lands, they having been made from time to time in the past, each particular area having been described in making such grants.

The proposed measure would legalize or reaffirm the grants heretofore made by the Legislature, and which include all of such tidelands and submerged lands except a relatively small portion which it is proposed to grant by this measure. I can see no reason for the enactment of what would virtually be a validating act of the several statutes conveying tidelands in the past. It is my contention the Legislature should deal only with the strip of land which it is supposed is being conveyed by the State at this time.

Another reason lies in the fact that reservation is made as to lands bordering on parks of the State, for should this proposed grant be enacted and the State later acquire additional beach parks in Los Angeles County, the tidelands in front of the newly acquired parks would have been granted to the city. Further, the enactment of the bill would undoubtedly lead to a controversy as to what rights had been conveyed by these former grants. The reservations in the proposed law relate to minerals, including oil and gas, and such reservations might easily be nullified by the section of the law giving the city the right to lease these lands for 30 years. This provision would undoubtedly lead to confusion at some time in the future.

For the above reasons, I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2788 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

FRANK F. MERRIAM, Governor of California

Assembly Bill No. 2788 ordered on unfinished business calendar.

Statement Relative to Assembly Bill No. 1491.

During the arguments on the floor when Assembly Bill No. 1283 was under consideration, I stated that, in my opinion, the sponsors of this bill, Assembly Bill No. 1491, were not acting in good faith, and that this bill would not be urged for passage.

I believe that statement was erroneous, and I am now of the opinion that the authors of Assembly Bill No. 1491, and its sponsors, were actuated by the highest motives and an honest and sincere desire to furnish to the people of the State an adequate low-priced health and medical service.

However, our knowledge, gained from the deliberation on both Assembly Bill No. 1283 and Assembly Bill No. 1491 have convinced the authors of Assembly Bill No. 1491, as well as me, that the enactment of any legislation upon this subject is not practical unless and until the matter has been thoroughly considered by all interested—particularly having in mind the administrative and technical problems involved.

We feel that the entire future of health insurance may be jeopardized by unfavorable conditions which may be unthinkingly imposed through hastily enacted and not fully considered, legislation.

Because the two bills which have been presented to this Assembly might react to the detriment of health and medical service insurance, although being intended to have the opposite result, I feel, and am joined in my sentiment by the authors of Assembly Bill No. 1491, that the best interests of the public will be served by deferring action upon this important subject until the administrative and technical features have received more adequate consideration.

May I say again that I have the greatest of faith in the sincerity of the sponsors of this bill, and as I hope was made clear by me previously, I have never questioned the sincerity of its authors.

RALPH LOUIS WELSH

House Resolution No. 184.

WHEREAS, On or about April 5, 1937, the Railroad Commission made a reasonable ruling and regulation requiring the Pacific Electric Railway in the city of Los Angeles to place upon their lines into San Fernando Valley in such city additional badly needed and indispensable rolling stock; and

WHEREAS, On or about May 10, 1937, the Railroad Commission after a most perfunctory oral argument granted a rehearing at the request of the Pacific Electric Railway; and

WHEREAS, At such rehearing the Railroad Commission without reason and contrary to the interests of all of the public and especially of that portion of the public which reside in the San Fernando Valley within the city of Los Angeles so modified its order that such Pacific Electric Railway is no longer required to place upon its lines indispensable rolling stock, but is allowed to supplement its train service with bus service; and

WHEREAS, Such bus service is highly unsatisfactory and adds to the congested traffic conditions already existing in the city of Los Angeles; and

WHEREAS, The manner in which the hearing on the petition for rehearing was conducted was such as to cast grave doubt upon the integrity and impartiality of at least one of the employees of the Railroad Commission; and

WHEREAS, The whole situation as above outlined has severely shaken the public confidence of citizens of the San Fernando Valley in public utilities administration; and

WHEREAS, This recent action of the Railroad Commission above described has pointed toward a return to conditions as they existed before the reforms of Hiram Johnson in 1911, and

WHEREAS, An investigation of the recent action of the Railroad Commission by the Legislature is eminently necessary and proper; and

WHEREAS, The manner in which the hearing on the petition for rehearing was conducted was such as to cast grave doubt upon the integrity and impartiality of at least one of the employees of the Railroad Commission; and

WHEREAS, The whole situation as above outlined has severely shaken the public confidence of citizens of the San Fernando Valley in public utilities administration; and

WHEREAS, This recent action of the Railroad Commission above described has pointed toward a return of conditions as they existed before the reforms of Hiram Johnson in 1911; and

WHEREAS, An investigation of the recent action of the Railroad Commission by the Legislature is eminently necessary and proper; now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That there is hereby created an Assembly committee to consist of three members to be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, to make a special investigation to determine whether the modification by the Railroad Commission on or about May 10, 1937, of its order of on or about April 5, 1937, requiring the Pacific Electric Railway of the city of Los Angeles to place upon its lines additional rolling stock, was just and reasonable; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee is hereby authorized and empowered to do any and all things necessary to make a full and complete investigation of the matters herein referred to, and is hereby authorized and empowered to require the production of books, agreements, documents and papers of every kind, to issue subpenas and to compel the attendance of witnesses, and the production of testimony. Each of the members of said committee is hereby authorized to administer oaths and all of the provisions of Article VIII of Chapter II, Title I, Part III of the Political Code, relative to the attendance and assembly of witnesses before the Legislature and committees thereof, shall apply to the committee appointed under this resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That such committee shall make a report of its investigation and make such recommendations as it shall deem proper.

By Mr. Patterson:

House Resolution No. 185.

WHEREAS, Men and women have been imprisoned under the California Criminal Syndicalism Act solely for their political and economic opinions; and,

WHEREAS, In freeing Angelo Herndon, who had been convicted under the Georgia Slave Insurrection Law, the Supreme Court of the United States in its decision of April 26, 1937, declared:

> "The statute, as construed and applied, amounts merely to a dragnet which may enmesh anyone who agitates for a change of government if a jury can be persuaded that he ought to have foreseen his words would have some effect in the future conduct of others. No reasonably ascertainable standard of guilt is prescribed. So vague and indeterminate are the boundaries thus set to the freedom of speech and assembly that the law necessarily violates the guarantees of liberty embodied in the Fourteenth Amendment."

and,

WHEREAS, The above is equally applicable to the California Criminal Syndicalism Act; and

WHEREAS, On January 4, 1937, the Supreme Court of the United States reversed the conviction of Dirk DeJorge, who had been convicted under the Criminal Syndicalism Act of Oregon, following which the Legislatures of Oregon and Washington repealed the Criminal Syndicalism Acts of those States; and

WHEREAS, The 1936 Convention of the California State Federation of Labor went on record as favoring the unconditional release of the eight young men and women convicted at Sacramento April 1, 1935, under the Criminal Syndicalism Act; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly memorializes Governor Frank F. Merriam to pardon all those now under conviction under the Criminal Syndicalism Act who had not been found guilty at their trials of committing any act of force and violence.

House Resolution No. 185 read, and referred to Committee on Labor and Capital.

By Mr. Patterson:

House Resolution No. 186.

WHEREAS, Harold E. Pomeroy has acted contrary to the Constitutions and laws of the United States and of this State; and,

WHEREAS, In connection with the question of what constitutes an improper activity on the part of an employee of the State Relief Commission, the Attorney General of this State has ruled as follows

> "* * * In reply, the term 'Improper Activity' is not susceptible of a definition which could be applied in determining in each particular instance whether an activity of a political character were proper or improper. The propriety of political activity must in a large degree depend upon the circumstances of the particular instances.
> It is generally admitted to be not only the privilege but the duty of an American citizen to be politically active, and it has not been supposed that employment in State or municipal service, either civil service or otherwise, would prevent or prohibit an employee from the exercise of political right, including a reasonable and well ordered activity in behalf of those political principles which he favored, or in the support of those candidates whose success he believed would best contribute to the general welfare. Whether an employee in a particular instance exceeds the limits indicated must be determined as above indicated by a consideration of the facts and circumstances bearing upon the particular activity.

The propriety of political activity in a given instance does not depend upon the question whether such activity of the employee accords with the views of the principal, or even with the views of the political party represented by all or a majority of the office incumbents * * *";

and,

WHEREAS, It is inconsistent that said Harold E. Pomeroy has himself lobbied on State time both on the floor of this Assembly and elsewhere; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That said Harold E. Pomeroy is hereby requested to reverse any and all orders and directions made by him relative to the exercise of the rights of any citizen, whether employed by the State or not, and that he refrain from dismissing any employee for petitioning the State Legislature in person or otherwise; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor be and he hereby is requested to relieve said Harold E. Pomeroy of his duties as State Relief Administrator, if the practices condemned by this resolution are continued"

House Resolution No. 186 read, and referred to Committee on Labor and Capital.

Motion to Print Report in Journal.

On motion of Mr. Heisinger, the following report was ordered printed in the Journal:

SUPPLEMENTAL REPORT OF THE DAIRY INVESTIGATION COMMITTEE, SUBMITTED BY THE CHAIRMAN, RELATIVE TO TRANSPORTATION.

During the session of 1935, there was introduced in the Assembly, Assembly Bill No. 947, relative to powers of the Toll Bridge Authority. The bill was carefully studied by me, and I concluded it was loaded with dynamite for the people of California.

I gave statements to the press and wrote articles in an endeavor to focus attention upon it. Finally there came into my possession over 100 pages of correspondence between the Southern Pacific Company, the Key System, and certain persons connected with the Toll Bridge Authority

These letters and documents convinced me that a carefully laid and premeditated plan was on foot to loot the people of the State to the tune of millions of dollars

I finally succeeded in securing a hearing of a Committee of the Whole in the Assembly, where it was admitted by the parties concerned that the plan was made two years before and that Assembly Bill No. 947 was the enabling act to carry it into effect.

Upon final passage of the bill, several members of the Assembly endeavored to amend it in an endeavor to protect the interests of the State, but as shown by the record on pages 2728, 2729, and 2730 of the Journal of May 2, 1935, all of these amendments were defeated, and the bill was finally passed by both houses, and was signed as desired by the transportation companies

Upon final passage in the Assembly, several members made statements which are as follows:

BURNS MICHAEL J. "The purpose of the above amendments are to make the Bay Bridge publicly owned by the people of the State of California and to prohibit for all time the renting, leasing, or giving any rights to any privately owned utility to operate over the Bay Bridge for profit to themselves."

H. DEWEY ANDERSON AND S. L. HEISINGER: "In making explanation of our vote in opposition to the passage of Assembly Bill No. 947, permit us to say that we believe this Toll Bridge Bill, permitting a complete monopolistic control by the Southern Pacific Company of rail traffic across the bridge, is one of the biggest "grabs" ever made in the history of California

With the first plans for constructing the Bay Bridge the Southern Pacific and Key Route Systems have followed a very direct course of action culminating today in the passage of Assembly Bill No. 947. Proof of this is found in the following excerpts from letters of H. G. Butler, consulting engineer to F. L. Burckhalter of the Southern Pacific and A. J. Lundberg of the Key Route Systems

On May 4, 1932, Mr. Butler wrote these utility executives as follows, suggesting the course of action which has been taken:

> (1) If it should be found desirable for the companies to run trains over the bridge, under proper assurance as to bus competition and tolls, is there any legal way in which the Toll Bridge Authority can bind itself, for any given period, to keep buses carrying passengers between the East Bay cities and San Francisco, from operating over the bridge? If not under the existing law is it possible to frame a law so that it can be done?

The importance of the last question can be shown by assuming that the present schedule (60 cents per car and 5 cents per passenger) of the Southern Pacific Golden Gate Ferries was originally adopted by the Toll Bridge Authority and a 5 cent toll was charged per rail passenger, and that shortly after the bridge was placed in operation tolls on automobiles were reduced to 10 cents. By such a change the loss of business by the railroads might be sufficiently great to have justified them in not operating over the bridge had they foreseen its possibility in advance.'

On May 10, 1932, he wrote the same gentlemen concerning the results of conversations with Mr. Purcell, engineer for the Bay Bridge Authority

'I told him that I thought that the 75 per cent of the people that cross the bay by rail were such an important factor in the transportation situation that it would not be economically unsound to let the entire cost of providing excess facilities for their convenience be borne by the vehicles and their users. He agreed with this but doubted whether it would be practical to do it.

Mr. Purcell stated that with Mr. Cox, of his staff, Mr. Ready was making some studies which he would be glad if I would look over some time this week. I told him, of course, that I would be glad to do so.'

If space permitted in which to trace completely the development of this utility "grab" to the present moment when a Legislature was helpless to defeat the purposes of the utilities we could clearly show the activity of the utility groups which will reduce their taxes to the State, grant them a complete monopoly and an assured income profit possibly in excess of a million dollars a year. All this is done to the disadvantage of the public for whom the Bay Bridge was constructed.

We firmly believe that our negative vote on this measure will be completely vindicated by time."

The Toll Bridge Authority, having been given the power by the bill, proceeded to make the contract with the transportation companies which was signed on March 6, 1936, and which provided millions for the companies and red ink for the State.

The chairman of this committee, through the power imposed by the resolution to procure documents, probably is the only person in the Legislature who has a copy of these contracts.

As was predicted by the minority in the Assembly the contract provides one of the most outrageous plunders of the people that has ever occurred in California.

Letters to the chairman from Mr. Earl Lee Kelley, Director of Public Works, say: "That the State has and will expend $17,300,000 in transportation equipment to be used by the transportation companies which if added to 25 per cent of the space and cost of the bridge amounts to over $30,000,000 which the State has invested for the benefit of the companies and for which the State has not received one red cent and never will, because the contracts provide 2½ cents toll for each passenger which the passenger pays in addition to the fare as fixed by the Railroad Commission. The 2½ cents toll is estimated by Mr. Kelly to yield $650,000 per annum which is less than three per cent on the investment and means that the operators of motor vehicles must pay the total cost of the bridge together with rail transportation and part of the interest charge on the rail transportation. Therefore, we should not put the authority in position to impose another burdensome load upon motor transportation.

Similar Proposal for 1937.

This brings us to the 1937 session of the Legislature and it seems that the swindle of the people is to be continued, because we have before us Assembly Bill No. 1889 which I have had my eye upon during the several months since its introduction.

It has been peacefully sleeping in committee and like a serpent ready to spring at a moment when its passage would be most opportune. By a vote of the committee, the bill was sent to the floor, and provides that the Toll Bridge Authority may buy the obsolete ferries at a price with the sky as the limit.

Let us see the necessity if any of this bill. The ferries are worthless to their owner even now, when they are not operating the trains over the bridge, and, of course, they would be worthless to the State because the State has the bridge and needs no other transportation system.

Secondly, the State is under no obligation to buy from the Southern Pacific those ferries, because on page 17, section 14 of the contract is the following provision:

"COVENANT OF KEY SYSTEM AND INTERURBAN TO ABANDON FERRY SERVICE. Except as herein otherwise provided, Key System and Interurban covenants and agrees that, effective with the time for the commencement of the operation of Key System and Interurban over the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, it and its affiliated subsidiary and proprietary companies will abandon and not renew or undertake directly or indirectly unless with the express consent in writing of authority, or except as herein elsewhere expressly provided, the operation and or use of ferry boats or other means for transportation of passengers, save and only by the bridge railway, between the said City and County of San Francisco and the said counties of Alameda and Contra Costa."

Therefore, it is plainly to be seen that should such a purchase for $6,000,000 or any other millions by the State, it would amount to the payment to the Southern Pacific as part of a political debt which would continue California in bondage to the S. P.

Hiram Johnson as Governor of California broke the political supremacy of the Southern Pacific Company.

Shall we now give that octopus the economic supremacy over our State? I think we should protect our State rather than the S. P.

Respectfully submitted.

S. L. HEISINGER.

Assembly Bill No. 1831—An act to amend sections 12422, 12489 and 12629 of the Insurance Code, all relating to mortgage insurers.

The question being put: Shall the Assembly concur in the following Senate amendments to Assembly Bill No. 1831?

Amendment No. 1.

On page 1, line 1 of the title of the printed bill, as amended, strike out "12489 and 12629", and insert in lieu thereof the following "and 12489".

Amendment No. 2.

On page 1, line 2 of the title of the printed bill, as amended, after "Code", insert the following: "and to amend section 12629 of said code and to incorporate it in a new article, numbered 11.5, to be added to Chapter 2 of Part 6, Division 2, thereof".

Amendment No. 3.

Strike out pages 2 to 8, inclusive, of the printed bill, as amended, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

"SEC. 3. Section 12629 of the Insurance Code is hereby amended and incorporated in a new article, numbered 11.5, which is hereby added to Chapter 2 of Part 6 of Division 2 of said code, embracing sections 12629 to 12629.48, inclusive, to read as follows:

Article 11.5. Rehabilitation.

12629. The provisions of this article shall apply to any mortgage insurer:

(a) The property, business and assets of which are in possession of the commissioner;

(b) Which is no longer able to conduct the normal business of a mortgage insurer;

(c) Which is unable to discharge its debts or other obligations as they become due;

(d) Which is in such condition that unless such insurer is liquidated or a plan of reorganization consummated a preference is likely to be obtained by some holders of mortgage participation certificates over other such holders, or by some creditors over other creditors of the same class;

(e) Which is in such condition that it will probably be necessary, unless a plan of reorganization is consummated, to liquidate such insurer or to sell or otherwise dispose of a substantial part of its assets at substantially less than the amount which might reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the ordinary and proper conduct of a going business.

The determination of the commissioner that a mortgage insurer is included in one or more of the foregoing classifications shall be prima facie evidence of such fact.

12629.21. In the case of a mortgage insurer which has issued mortgage participation certificates under mortgage participation trusts pursuant to the provisions of Chapter VIII, Title II, Part IV, Division I of the Civil Code, such mortgage participation trusts, the mortgage participation certificates issued thereunder and any policies of mortgage insurance issued in connection therewith shall be subject also to the provisions of this article whenever a revision, modification or termination of such trusts, certificates or policies is found by the court to be necessary or advantageous in connection with any plan submitted to it as hereinafter provided.

12629.22. The term "plan" as used in this article means any plan for the rehabilitation, readjustment or reorganization of any mortgage insurer or of all or any part of the business, properties and assets of such insurer, or for the readjustment, modification or reorganization of the rights or interests of any or all of the holders of mortgage participation certificates or other certificates or securities or policies of mortgage insurance of such insurer, or of any creditors of such insurer and other persons, if any, interested therein.

12629.23. Without limiting the generality of section 12629.22, a plan may provide for any one or more of the following:

(a) For the delivery of all or any part of the business, properties, or assets of such insurer to the commissioner and the return thereof to such insurer after the plan is fully consummated;

(b) For the transfer of all or any part of the business, properties, or assets of such insurer to another corporation or to two or more other corporations, which corporation or corporations, or any of them, may, but need not be, a mortgage insurer or a national mortgage association;

(c) For the modification, revision or termination of any mortgage participation trusts which have been created by such insurer;

(d) For the issuance of new mortgage participation certificates or amended mortgage participation certificates or stock, bonds, debentures or other securities of such insurer or of any other corporation or corporations, to which the business, properties or assets, or any part thereof, of such insurer have been transferred, and for the exchange thereof to the holders of mortgage participation certificates issued by such insurer or to other creditors of such insurer for the outstanding mortgage participation certificates or other obligations of such insurer or for the sale or other disposition of such new cetificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities.

12629.24. Any new mortgage insurer formed pursuant to a plan to continue the business of an existing insurer may adopt and continue to use the name of such existing insurer or any part of such name.

12629.25. A plan may be proposed:

(a) By the commissioner; or

(b) Subject to the approval of the commissioner by any mortgage insurer through action of its board of directors.

12629.26. No plan shall be proposed or approved by the commissioner unless the commissioner is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable and does not discriminate in favor of any class of certificate holders, investors, creditors or other persons affected thereby, and is feasible.

12629.27. A plan, if proposed or approved by the commissioner, shall be presented by the proposer to the superior court of the county in which the principal office of such insurer is located, with a petition that the court determine the fairness of such plan and the approvals requisite to such plan becoming operative, which petition shall set forth such plan and the fact that it has been proposed or approved by the commissioner and any other facts which such proposer shall deem material to a consideration of the fairness of the plan.

12629.28. Thereupon the court shall fix the time and place for the hearing of such petition and shall direct that notice thereof shall be mailed to each of the known certificate holders, investors and creditors of such insurer affected by such plan and to the trustee or depositary under all mortgage participation trusts created by such insurer and then in existence, together with either a copy of such plan or a summary thereof, which summary shall be either prepared or approved by the commissioner. If the commissioner shall be the proposer of such plan the court shall direct such insurer to deliver to the commissioner a list of the names and addresses of all certificate holders, creditors, investors and other known persons affected by such plan. Said notices shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the respective addresses as shown on such list, or if no address be there shown, to the last known address.

12629.29. In addition the proposer of such plan shall cause notice of the time and place fixed for such hearing to be posted in three public places in said county not less than twenty days before the day fixed for such hearing and to be published at least once, not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days before the day fixed for such hearing in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county.

12629.30. At the time and placed fixed for such hearing or at the time and place to which such hearing may be continued by the court the court shall hear the parties interested therein and if it deem it necessary may take testimony relative thereto and may accept proof in affidavit form as to any fact or circumstance material thereto.

12629.31. Such hearing shall be, among other things, upon the fairness of the terms and conditions of the issuance of all new or amended mortgage participation certificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities to be issued pursuant to such plan and of the exchange thereof for outstanding mortgage participation certificates, claims or property interests, or partly for such exchange and partly for cash, and all persons to whom it is proposed to issue such certificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities in such exchange shall have the right to appear and be heard at such hearing.

12629.32. No plan shall be approved by the court unless the court is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable and does not discriminate in favor of any class of investors, creditors, certificate holders or other persons affected thereby and is feasible. In case an insurer has outstanding mortgage participation certificates issued under one or more than one mortgage participation trust, the holders of mortgage participation certificates in each of such trusts may be considered as one class.

12629.33. After the completion of such hearing the court shall approve, modify or disapprove such plan. No such plan shall become operative unless and until it shall have been approved in its original form or, if modified, in its modified form, by such court and the commissioner nor unless and until such plan shall have been consented to either in person or by a duly appointed agent, attorney or committee by the following persons:

(a) If the plan affects the stockholders of such insurer, then by the holders of a majority in amount of the outstanding stock of such insurer;

(b) If the plan affects mortgage participation trusts or the holders of mortgage participation certificates issued thereunder, then by the holders of two-thirds in interest of all mortgage participation certificates outstanding under each or all, as the court may determine, of the mortgage participation trusts which may be so affected;

(c) If such insurer shall have creditors, then by two-thirds of each class of creditors of such insurer; and

(d) By two-thirds in amount of each class of other known persons, if any, affected by the plan

12629.34. Consent shall not be required in the case of any stockholder, mortgage participation certificate holder, creditor or other person, or any class thereof, if:

(a) The rights of such person or class shall not be materially affected by such plan; or

(b) Such plan shall provide for the payment in cash of the value of the right or interest of such person or class.

Such consents shall not be required from stockholders of any insurer if the value of the assets of such insurer shall be less than the liabilities thereof (mortgage participation certificates and policies of mortgage insurance not being included as liabilities), or if the business, properties and assets of such insurer be then in the possession of the commissioner.

12629.35. For the purpose of this article real property, contracts for the sale of real property, loans and all other assets (whether like or unlike the foregoing) shall be valued at what may reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the ordinary and proper conduct of a going business.

12629.36. The consents required by this article may be given before the plan is presented to the court or after such presentation and before the court has approved it or after such approval.

12629.37. If at such time as the plan is approved by the court the proportions above required of the stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby shall not have consented to the plan, the order of court may provide that upon satisfactory proof of the fact that such consents have been given a further order may be entered ex parte providing that such plan shall become operative, which further order shall be binding upon the commissioner, the insurer and all such stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby.

12629.38. The superior court in which such petition is pending is hereby given jurisdiction to determine all questions required to be determined pursuant to this article including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: Whether the insurer subject to such plan is included in one or more of the classes specified in section 12629; whether any such plan, either in its original or modified form is fair and equitable; whether it discriminates in favor of any class of certificate holders, creditors or other persons affected thereby; whether it is feasible; whether the terms and conditions of any proposed issuance and exchange of stock, mortgage participation certificates, bonds, notes, debentures or other securities thereunder are fair, and to approve or disapprove such terms and conditions; the total liabilities and total assets of such insurer; the approvals requisite under this article to such plan becoming operative, including jurisdiction to determine, for the purposes of the plan and the consents, the division of the creditors and other known persons, if any, affected by the plan into classes according to the nature of their respective claims and interests.

12629.39. When the plan shall have been approved by the court and the commissioner, as hereinbefore provided, and shall have been consented to by or on behalf of the respective proportions herein required of stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby, such plan shall be binding upon the commissioner, the mortgage insurer affected thereby, all the stockholders, certificate holders and creditors of such insurer, and all other persons, if any, affected thereby; and such insurer, the trustees and depositaries under all mortgage participation trusts affected thereby and all stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons shall be conclusively deemed to have consented to all the terms and conditions of such plan whether or not all of such persons shall actually have consented thereto and whether or not all of them shall have received notice of such plan or of such hearing, as hereinbefore provided.

12629.40. Thereupon such steps shall be taken by the commissioner, the insurer and all persons affected by the plan, and all acts shall be done, or instruments executed and all new or amended certificates, stock, bonds, debentures, notes or other securities issued as may be required by such plan so approved and as may be necessary or desirable for the consummation of such plan.

12629.41. In all cases where the plan involves the revision, modification or termination of mortgage participation trusts and as an incident thereto the transfer of the title to trust assets, the title to and management of such trust assets pending the hearing on such plan and its approval by the court and the commissioner and for such further period as the court may prescribe and subject to such reserve powers as may be granted by the trust agreement to the insurer, or conferred by the court, shall continue in the trustee or depositary under the respective mortgage participation trusts affected. Upon the approval of such plan by the court and the commissioner the trust assets of all such trusts shall be transferred, conveyed, assigned, delivered, or otherwise dealt with, conformably to such plan, as the court may order and direct, upon application of the proposer of such plan.

12629.42. The superior court shall retain jurisdiction of all parties to said proceeding until the plan approved is fully carried out and consummated and the carrying out and consummation of such plan shall be subject to the supervision and control of such court. In connection therewith, the court may make all orders and decrees by way of injunction or otherwise as may be necessary, proper and equitable in order to carry out and consummate said plan and make the same fully effective.

12629.43 No appeal from an order of the superior court approving or modifying a plan shall be effectual for any purpose unless within thirty days after the entry of such order the appellant or appellants shall file with the clerk of such court a bond executed on the part of the appellant or appellants by at least two sureties to the effect that the appellant or appellants, in the event such order is affirmed on appeal, will pay all of respondent's costs, expenses and reasonable attorney's fees arising from such appeal, and also all losses and damages to the certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any affected by such plan, arising from any delay in consummating such plan during the pendency of such appeal. The form of such bond shall be approved and the amount thereof fixed by the superior court but in no case shall such bond be for an amount greater than one per cent of the total liabilities of such insurer, provided that if mortgage participation certificates are affected by such plan such bond shall be for an amount not more than one per cent of the total liabilities of the insurer plus one per cent of the aggregate face amount of all mortgage participation certificates of such insurer outstanding

12629.44. Appeals from orders approving plans shall be given preference in the hearing on appeal over all other appeals, except contested election cases and cases in which the people of the State are parties.

12629.45. The term "securities" as used in this article shall include not only stock of one or more classes issuable by corporations generally but also shares of national mortgage associations or other Federal agencies or corporations organized under Federal authority, whose purposes include the loaning of money on real estate, and also mortgage participation certificates, bonds, notes, debentures, warrants or evidences of indebtedness or of beneficial interests or of any other classes or rights

12629.46 A mortgage insurer may issue and may invest in, hold, own, sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of, pursuant to a plan approved under this article, any one or more of the above mentioned kinds of securities, regardless of any provisions of the laws of this State to the contrary. None of the provisions of the Corporate Securities Act shall apply to any securities issued pursuant to a plan approved under this article, whether or not such securities are issued by a mortgage insurer, except that brokers, as defined in said act, shall be subject to the provisions of said act with respect to all transactions involving such securities

12629.47 Any executor, administrator, guardian or receiver, and any trustee of any kind or nature, and any insurer, bank, banking institution or trust company, and any officer of the State of California, holding any securities or certificates of a mortgage insurer as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made by the State of California, may, without the necessity of obtaining any specific court approval (a) consent to any plan which has been approved by the court pursuant to sections 12629.30 to 12629.38, inclusive; (b) exchange any mortgage participation certificates or other securities or rights or claims for certificates, amended certificates or securities issued pursuant to such plan; and (c) may continue to hold as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made with the State of California any certificates, amended certificates or securities so received.

12629.48. No plan shall be operative pursuant to this article unless approved by the court and consented to as required by this article during the emergency period, which period, for the purposes of this article, shall commence with the effective date of this article and shall expire April 1, 1939, or at such earlier date as the commissioner shall find and declare that such emergency period has terminated, provided, however, that if, prior to the expiration or termination of said emergency period, such plan shall have been approved by the superior court, and shall have been consented to as required by this article, such plan shall become operative unless such approval be set aside on appeal, notwithstanding the fact that such approval of the superior court was not final at the expiration or termination of such emergency period"
