In this connection, attention is invited to the experience of the State of New York which under a similar constitutional amendment has issued housing bonds since 1938 to the extent of $265,000,000. The money has been used to aid low-rental housing for low-income groups through public and private agencies and to assist private agencies investing in houses to rent at low or moderate rates. Specifically, New York has lent money to cities and made contracts for periodic subsidies to public agencies not exceeding 60 years. By law, in New York, such subsidies are granted only when the local community makes at least an equal subsidy. It is to be noted also that periodic-subsidy contracts may not exceed the amount of the largest annual interest payment on the construction loan plus 1 percent of the cost of the project. As an indication of the success and public acceptance of this program, the Legislature of New York with the approval of Governor Dewey has voted to submit to the people of that state next November an additional $135,000,000 housing bond issue.

8. If the people of California approve the proposed Constitutional Amendment, the Legislature will at all times have the authority to determine the amount of and closely supervise the administration of any housing funds which it authorizes.

It may be said that the program suggested will be only a drop in the bucket as far as filling the housing needs of California is concerned. We do not believe that because we are unable to fully fill a need that we should refuse to do the best we can now and to make a start toward eventual solution of our problem. Moreover, we feel this program will give real and substantial housing help where it is most needed.

In this connection, we believe that the most pressing need at this time is for housing for the 195,750 veteran and 111,818 nonveteran families who now lack housing which meets the minimum standards of safety, sanitation and decency. Of these families approximately one-third hope to buy or build homes and two-thirds hope to rent. The federal and state veterans' home loan plans are doing much to assist those who wish to buy or build.

Our concern, therefore, must chiefly be with the 130,000 veteran and 74,000 nonveteran families who lack minimum housing and wish to rent. If we now remember that the average rent which veterans and nonveterans alike can pay is about $50 a month, we can safely say that about half of these veterans who wish to rent can pay more than $50 a month rent and that private enterprise will properly insist upon its right to build rental dwellings for them. This leaves about 65,000 veteran and 37,000 nonveteran families, a total of 102,000 families who most need help and who cannot hope for substantial assistance from private industry at this time, or in the immediate future. This group undoubtedly is made up for the most part of families living in critically overcrowded or transient quarters or conditions such as "doubling-up" with relatives, rented rooms, motels, trailer camps, basements, attics, and in some cases, even tents and chicken coops.

The undersigned have proposed a program which will make possible construction of at least 3,000 low cost rental units immediately, a minimum of 8,000 more units immediately following the special election if the people approve the proposed $50.000,000 bond issue and a minimum of 8,000 additional units if the Constitution is amended and the Legislature authorizes $50,000,000 more in housing bonds. This is a total of 19,000 units. It would relieve more than one-fourth of the 65,000 veteran families who most desperately need housing and who are the least likely to secure it from private enterprise or could be divided between veteran and nonveteran families in most need. This would leave ample room for private industry and the Federal Government to assist other less needy families.

In the course of their lives, these 19,000 units would house not only the 19,000 families who first occupied them, but because of constant turnover, many more. These figures should be contrasted with the total of 21,000 families intended to be benefited by the $130,000,000 California Veterans' Farm and Home Loan Purchase Program which the people approved. The undersigned also approve that program as entirely sound, necessary and desirable, but they wish to point out that a program to finance rental housing for veterans and low-income families is at least equally as sound, necessary and desirable.

It should also be borne in mind that one of the prime objectives of the program is to attract private capital into the low rental field. New York has done this successfully and there is every reason to believe that California likewise can do so and can so multiply the 19,000 minimum many times.

With reference to the claim that a large-scale state-sponsored housing program would attract veterans from other states, it will be remembered that the Legislature can impose residence requirements which will assure preference for the thousands of native-California veterans in all parts of the State who are today living under critically bad housing conditions. The Legislature also can be trusted to require safeguards which will prevent this State from becoming a happy hunting ground for houseless veterans from other states.

In any program such as the undersigned propose, administration would be as far as possible at the community level and in all cases construction would be accomplished by private industry and labor.

We hear it repeatedly said that California should not go into the housing business. With 9,000 units of permanent public housing and 75,000 units of temporary public housing scattered throughout the State, local communities and to a less extent the State itself are already in the housing business whether we like it or not. Certainly, public housing is here to stay. The only question now is whether the State will do a good job or a poor one.

We believe that in fairness to veterans, low-income families and the people of California generally, the State's most critical problem deserves the State's best endeavor to devise an affirmative solution.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF ASSEMBLYMEN MALONEY AND CALDECOTT

2. Submission to the people of a constitutional amendment which would authorize the Legislature to incur a debt for an additional $50,000,000 to be used for housing purposes.

Mr. Dunn asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following statement by Mr. Henry W. Magnuson be ordered printed in the Journal, in 10-point type:

STATEMENT BY MR. HENRY W. MAGNUSON

Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee

As a preliminary to a discussion of the major provisions of Assembly Bill No. 2120, I should like briefly to review the provisions of Constitutional Amendment No. 3.

Constitutional Amendment No. 3 provides for one school fund in place of the several funds incorporated in the Constitution before the passage of this amendment; also, that the State shall provide $120 per average daily attendance; a $90 average daily attendance guarantee to each district; a provision that no full-time certificated person is to receive less than $2,400 per year; no district to receive less than $2,400; and defines the School System as embracing kindergarten through grade 14.

Also, as a preliminary to the presentation of Assembly Bill No. 2120, I should like to indicate the membership of the committee of approximately 40 educational and lay members whose recommendations are incorporated in Assembly Bill No. 2120. This group consists of representatives of the school trustees, all levels of education, county superintendents, city superintendents, Parent Teachers Associations, California Teachers Association, large and small districts, heads of all the education professional sections and representatives of the State Department of Education. Assembly Bill No. 2120 was the result of a number of meetings of this group. Over 20 apportionment plans were computed in their entirety before agreement on Assembly Bill No. 2120. This was necessary in order to determine the operation of the proposed plans in terms of each of the school districts in California.

The bill provides for (1) a foundation program, (2) a district participating tax and (3) basic support as indicated in the constitutional amendment.

A foundation program for a given educational level is the most adequate state-wide program which can be financed by the moneys available from state and specified district support.

As an example of the manner in which this operates, let me indicate a typical case: Using a district with a $10,000 assessed valuation per average daily attendance, which is approximately the average assessed valuation per average daily attendance for the elementary districts of the State; first, the $145 foundation program is set up; second, a 45-cent tax rate is computed on 90 percent of the $10,000 assessed valuation which results in a figure of $40.50. This $40.50 is subtracted from the $145, which leaves $104.50, which is the financial support given this district by the State. Of this $104.50, $90 is indicated as basic support and $14.50 as equalization.

Special provision is made for small elementary districts below 83 average daily attendance. This schedule is given below:

Districts within a union are to be considered as at present; that is, elementary districts within the union are to be considered as separate elementary districts for purposes of computing apportionments. Special provision is made for transportation of pupils both in the elementary and secondary fields. This operates as follows: A 2-cent tax is computed on the assessed valuation of the district. This amount is subtracted from the total transportation bill of the district exclusive of capital outlay for transportation. The remainder is divided by two, the State supplying one-half of the cost, the district the other one-half. The amount for transportation provided by the State is not to exceed $2 times the average daily attendance of grades kindergarten through 12. In order to participate in this program, districts are required to have levied within 1 cent of their maximum tax rate.

During the Fiscal Year 1946-47, each 120 minutes of attendance, exclusive of recess, in the kindergarten is counted as a day of attendance. This is the present statutory definition of kindergarten average daily attendance. However, no state support was afforded kindergarten a.d.a. before passage of the constitutional amendment. During the Fiscal Years 1947-48 and 1948-49, a district which maintains two kindergarten classes on the same day, taught by the same teachers, the minimum school day for each such class shall be 130 minutes, inclusive of recess. Except for the Fiscal Year 1946-47, in which 120 minutes of attendance, exclusive of recess, will constitute one a.d.a. each 180 minutes of attendance shall constitute one a.d.a. for apportionment purposes. Thus districts maintaining kindergarten for the minimum day of 130 minutes, inclusive of recess, will receive 130/180 of an a.d.a.

The high school plan calls for a $175 foundation program; a 32-cent participating tax rate; and a $90 guarantee; and $1,000 per year maintained, with the exception of special assistance for small high schools, which is indicated as follows:

For high schools with an a.d.a. of less than 100, $2,500 per year maintained; a.d.a. of 100-109, $2,400. As the a.d.a. increases 10 units of a.d.a., the amount per year maintained is decreased $100 until $1,000 per year maintained is reached at 240 a.d.a. In order to participate in this program, high schools are required to levy within 10 cents of their maximum tax rate.

Transportation is the same provision as I indicated for the elementary schools.

There is also a provision that no high school district of less than 600 a.d.a. is to receive less than in the year 1946-47. A similar provision applies to elementary districts of less than 100 a.d.a.

There are no district allocations for classes for adults. Classes for adults come under the level in which they are taught; that is, adult education classes in high school are to be considered as high school a.d.a. and adult classes in junior colleges as junior college a.d.a. Evening high schools receive a flat apportionment of $4,000; i. e., the equivalent of the $1,000 per year for a four-year day high school. Classes for adults, evening high school and junior college classes and continuation education classes are to be apportioned money on the basis of 180 minutes per day constituting an average day of attendance.

The junior college program calls for a foundation program of $200 per a.d.a., a participating tax rate of 20 cents and $1,000 per year maintained.

Average daily attendance in the day junior colleges is to be based on 180 minutes per day as at present. Average daily attendance in grades 11 and 12 of four-year junior colleges is computed the same as junior college a.d.a. but the apportionment is based on the high school foundation of $175. The bill also provides that junior college grades 13 and 14 may earn up to 1⅓ a.d.a. for these grades. There is an apportionment of $2,000 for evening junior colleges; i.e., the equivalent of $1,000 per year for grades 13 and 14 of a day junior college. Evening schools may consist of classes for adults.

Miscellaneous provisions are as follows:

The money to be used for transportation of elementary and high school pupils is to be set aside by multiplying the a.d.a. of grades kindergarten through 12 by $2. Any of this money not so used is to be set aside as an emergency fund to aid distressed districts; i.e., districts that are within 1 cent of their maximum tax rate and who have shown to the satisfaction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction the need for an emergency apportionment because of an emergency condition existing in the district.

Elementary school supervision units are set up at $2,400 per unit. The basis upon which this fund is apportioned is the same as the present statutory provision except $2,400 is used per supervision unit instead of $1,570. This is to conform to the $2,400 minimum salary level incorporated in the constitutional amendment.

The county services fund is set aside by multiplying the a.d.a. of all levels by $3. This money is to be apportioned by the Superintendent of Public Instruction on the basis of need as indicated in the county superintendent's budget request. This fund takes the place of three former funds, the unapportioned county elementary school fund, the unapportioned county high school fund and the county elementary school supervision fund.

Average daily attendance for all levels is defined as follows: The total days of attendance of a pupil upon a regular full-time day kindergarten, elementary school, high school or junior college, during the fiscal year shall be the number of days school was actually taught for not less than the minimum school day during the fiscal year, less the sum of his absences due to causes other than his illness.

The bill calls for aid for physically handicapped minors in addition to the $120 per a.d.a. This is in line with the old statutory provisions which called for aid for physically handicapped minors in addition to the regular apportionment.

The bill also calls for one $2,400 allocation to each county toward the payment of the county superintendent's salary.

Assembly Bill No. 2120 provides that not less than 85 percent of all moneys apportioned to a school district from the State School Fund, exclusive of the amounts which are allowed for pupil transportation during any fiscal year, must be expended during the same fiscal year for the payment of salaries of persons employed by the district in positions requiring certification qualifications.

1947 GRAND JURY
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES
LOS ANGELES 12, CALIFORNIA

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, The Los Angeles County Grand Jury of 1947 is making a careful study of the care of the mentally ill in this county and within the State of California for the purpose of trying to bring about a better type of care for the mentally ill in this county; and

WHEREAS, There is now in the Welfare and Institutions Code a requirement that no person shall be permitted to stay in the psychopathic unit of a county hospital under a complaint for a longer period than 20 days; and

WHEREAS, Suitable and proper therapy might bring about an alleviation of the patient's mental condition to the extent that it would not be necessary for him to be sent to a state institution if that period of 20 days could be extended; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Board of Supervisors of Los Angeles County together with the Los Angeles County Grand Jury of 1947 present legislation during this present legislative session eliminating the present 20-day limitation on the stay of mentally ill patients now contained in the Welfare and Institutions Code in order that suitable therapy may be started and carried on within these county hospitals for those patients who might be aided by such treatment.

1947 GRAND JURY
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES
LOS ANGELES 12, CALIFORNIA

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, A part of California, including most of Los Angeles County, is suffering from a pall which covers the area from time to time like a blanket and is commonly known as "SMOG"; and whereas the smog is unpleasant to the senses, causes eye smarting, physical discomfort, and damage to property, reduces visibility and interferes with aerial navigation, and may be injurious to health; and whereas a large number of cities are included in the area and uniform, county-wide scientific regulation and enforcement are necessary to solve the problem; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Bill No. 1 now pending before the State Legislature authorizes the creation of air pollution control districts in counties suffering from smog; enables the board of supervisors as the ex officio governing body of such district to have county-wide jurisdiction in such matters; provides a simple objective test for the measurement of smoke, and authorizes regulations governing the emission of smoke, soot, fumes, gases, dusts, and all other detrimental air pollution; now, therefore,

The Grand Jury of Los Angeles County hereby endorses Assembly Bill No. 1 and the program of the board of supervisors of said county for the elimination of smog and other air pollution and asks the people of the State and their representatives in the Legislature to support this program.

Dated: Los Angeles, California, this tenth day of April, 1947.

Ruling by Speaker

Acting Speaker McCollister ruled the point of order well taken, in that the motion called for clarification, and that by his interpretation he would rule that the motion was to set a special order of business, and that, at that time, a motion that the Assembly resolve itself into a Committee of the Whole would be in order.

The question being on the motion by Mr. Evans.

Substitute Motion

Mr. Gannon offered the following substitute motion: That the matter under discussion be re-referred to the Interim Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy, and that the Speaker pro Tempore be authorized to appoint five Members of the Assembly to sit with said committee to make the investigation.

INTRODUCTION

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

Your Interim Committee on County and City Jails submits the following supplementary report:

The committee submitted to the 1945 Extraordinary Session of the Legislature a progress report which summarized its work up to that time. It was a resume of formal committee hearings, individual investigations by members of the committee, and investigations by the State Department of Public Health cooperatively executed by the department at the request of the committee.

To the 1947 Regular Session was submitted the committee's report containing recommendations as a result of the committee's findings. Highlighting the report were extensive hearings held in the State Building in Los Angeles which brought together a highly imposing collection of authorities from various parts of the State and the Nation. The Los Angeles sessions were supplemented by an additional hearing in Sacramento.

In view of the fact that reports of various grand juries, which under the law must report on conditions in county and city jails were not yet available on the date of the report's submission and since have become available, the committee feels that a supplementary report embracing the findings of these juries is a necessary part of the survey of the conditions the committee was empowered to investigate.

This supplementary report, then, embraces these various grand jury findings, together, in some instances, with a comparison with the committee's report. It should be noted here the committee, because of limitations of time and other considerations, did not visit all jails.

This report also includes the committee's report on the California Vocational Institute at Lancaster as of February 19, 1947; a summary of legislation submitted as a result of the committee investigations; a report from the Conference on Alcoholism held in Los Angeles February 12, 1947, and other pertinent data which has come to the attention of the committee.

Considering the jury reports as a whole, a most hopeful sign is the unmistakable increase of an awareness of the necessity for jail reform. And though many constructive suggestions and recommendations were offered by many juries, there was a notable lack of cohesion or direction toward a solution of the serious problem.

In spite of the laudable sense of responsibility shown, far too many juries made but a perfunctory inspection of the jails in their political subdivisions or none at all.

However, the realistic viewpoint of conscientious grand juries is encouraging. An analysis of the findings of these bears out the committee's discovery that in general, conditions in the State's penal institutions are shocking. The conclusion is unmistakable that our present jail system, for the most part, is antiquated. The steel and stone structures built to hold men in idle confinement are an anachronism, exorbitant in cost not only from the standpoint of the tax dollar required for their erection and maintenance but from a consideration of public health and the rehabilitation of the offender.

In all fairness we must state that there are in California city and county jails which are adequate, clean, well-run and a credit to their communities. These will pass the most exacting inspection any time and will have nothing to fear from proposals for the general improvement and inspection of all jails.

It is clear too, from jury reports, that the farm type of jail is infinitely less expensive and far more practical for the housing of all but a few types of prisoners. Not only does the inmate earn his keep but it is the rule for a man to come out of such an institution in such physical condition that he is able to accept employment elsewhere immediately. This is not true of the man who, over a period of time, has been confined to cells and forced to subsist on bare and inadequate diet and live under conditions of faulty sanitation and uncleanliness.

The more forward-looking juries take the healthy view that a penal institution is a place for rehabilitation, providing means of redemption where the antisocial person is taught to live in harmony with his fellows, rather than a place for punishment. The inmate of a jail, they declare, must be returned to society strengthened rather than damaged.

An illustration for the need for minimum standards are cases where grand jury reports found conditions excellent in one jail while another institution in the same locality was declared deplorable in respect to sanitation, health standards and segregation of diseased inmates.

Some juries reported that jails in their community would be in good shape and well managed if there were a way to avoid the horde of alcoholics which taxes the capacity of both the jails and the jailers. Here we must stress again the need for recognizing the alcoholic for the sick man he is, suffering from a definite and now-recognized disease. The problem of the alcoholic has been covered rather extensively in both your committee's report and the progress report.

An unavoidable conclusion from studying the findings of these juries is the soundness of your committee's recommendations, which were listed in the earlier report:

THE COMMITTEE'S RECOMMENDATIONS FOR THE REFORM AND IMPROVEMENT OF COUNTY AND CITY JAILS IN CALIFORNIA

1. Creation of a division of jail inspection, to function under the State Department of Corrections.

2. Establishment of minimum standards for county and city jails by the Department of Corrections, covering both facilities and personnel.

3. Obligatory approval by the Department of Corrections of all custodial building or remodeling plans where the expenditure involved is $1,500 or more; and similar approval for projected custodial programs where the amount of money involved is $1,500 or more. To insure enforcement, the committee recommends that all contracts within the scope of this provision will otherwise be null and void.

4. Delegation to the State Health Department of specific authority to enter any jail at any time for inspections and enforcement, plus explicit delegation of responsibility to the Health Department for sanitation and health in jails.

5. Establishment of uniform and detailed accounting systems for county and city jails, probably set up by the Department of Finance, and submission of annual financial reports to the State Director of Finance.

6. Prohibition of the fee system of feeding prisoners. The committee also favors abolition of kangaroo court.

7. Creation at the University of California of clinical facilities for scientific study of causes and treatment of alcoholism.

8. Establishment in the State Department of Mental Hygiene of a specific program covering research in alcoholism and outpatient treatment therefor.

9. Delegation of authority to the Department of Mental Hygiene to contract with other divisions of State Government for the establishment of work programs for patients committed as alcoholics or dipsomaniacs.

10. Establishment of two inebriate colonies, one in the northern and the other in the southern part of the State. This, like the three preceding recommendations, is in line with the committee's belief that alcoholism must be recognized as a medical rather than a criminal problem, and that handling of such cases must be adjusted accordingly.

11. Separation, as far as possible, of persons charged but not convicted of crimes from those convicted, and specific custodial training, at least in larger population areas, for those charged with custodial duties. The committee strongly feels that there should be more recognition of the need of distinguishing between apprehension and custody.

The grand juries of 19 counties reported perfunctorily or not at all on county or city jails. A list of these counties is appended.

PERFUNCTORY REPORT OR NO REPORT AT ALL

Alpine—No pertinent grand jury report made on jails.

Amador—No pertinent report.

Del Norte—No recommendations made by the grand jury since 1939.

El Dorado—The grand jury reports of the last two years made no recommendations concerning jails.

Lake—No pertinent report.

Lassen—Nothing pertinent, except that all county buildings were found in good order.

Madera—Perfunctory report. The only recommendation was that the old section of the jail be remodeled.

Modoc—No report made pertaining to conditions and supervision of jails.

Mono—No report.

Napa—No report.

Plumas—No mention in report regarding county and city jails.

San Joaquin—No pertinent report by grand jury.

San Mateo—No pertinent reports. Last report and present report not filed.

Sierra—Report confined to recommendation of a new jail.

Sonoma—Only one report in the last 10 or 12 years, except for six years ago when the grand jury recommended that prisoners be fed by the county instead of by the sheriff. That method was adopted.

Sutter—No recent pertinent report from the grand jury. However, the county has a practically new jail which will accommodate about 50.

Trinity—The only recommendation of the grand jury concerned routine repairs.

Yolo—The last grand jury report was filed in 1939. At that time it was recommended that new cells be built to relieve overcrowded condition and that the prison camp system be investigated. Neither suggestion was acted upon.

Yuba—No pertinent report.

These sketchy reports from some juries and lack of any report at all from others further point up the advisability of concrete action on the committee's recommendations. Also the committee is moved to recommend that Section 923 of the Penal Code, requiring grand juries to investigate jail conditions, be changed to require that these sections of grand jury reports be presented no later than September 1st of each year and that a copy of said report be forwarded to the Director, Department of Corrections no later than October 1st of each year.

It should be noted that a few juries reporting construed their duty as investigating the security of jails and confined their recommendations to measures which would make the institution as near escape-proof as possible.

These and some others took a dim view of the misdemeanants and the presumably innocent awaiting trial in their custody, giving little or no consideration to the manner of treatment accorded the prisoner or the conditions under which he is housed, or what he is fed. They refuse to face the fact that the offenses of many confined misdemeanants may be no greater, say, than the dereliction of a grand juror who visits the local prison and recommends "another strand of barbed wire," when under the terms of Section 923 of the Penal Code he:

> "Must inquire into the case of every person imprisoned in the jail of the county on a criminal charge and not indicted; into the condition and management of the public prisons within the county * * *"

The fact must be faced that misdemeanants are short term prisoners and under law will come out of jail. Surely conditions which send these men forth weakened and less able to cope with society rather than strengthened with some measure of reform is intolerable.

Following is a brief summary compiled from the reports of the grand juries on county and city jails in the various counties in California, as received from the county clerks, together with a comparison, in some instances, with the findings of the committee.

ALAMEDA

The grand jury found conditions in the Oakland city jail deplorable, practically with respect to fire hazard, lack of proper segregation of diseased inmates, ventilation, and general cleanliness.

ALPINE

No recommendation is made by the grand jury concerning jails.

AMADOR

No pertinent grand jury report made on jails.

BUTTE

The 1945 grand jury building committee recommended: "That again, the county jail facilities be improved by either construction of new additions, or relief from over-crowding by the City of Oroville."

The 1946 panel in the course of jail inspections found that the same conditions and needs existed as found by the previous jury, with the exception that the board of supervisors had endeavored to remedy building deficiencies. They have been unable to do so principally because of inability to obtain the necessary building permit from the federal agency granting such permits. The jury feels that during the next year the supervisors should be able to obtain these permits and earnestly urges that they carry out planned construction.

Your committee found conditions in the Butte County jail to be generally deplorable. Kangaroo Court was openly condoned and the objectionable fee system for feeding prisoners. Thus the food consisted of little more than beans flavored with broth from pork rinds at the time of investigation. Beds were of canvas hammock materials, dirty and ragged.

CALAVERAS

The 1945 jury reported: "Padlocks and new beds have been ordered but the sheriff states that so far it has been impossible to get them. The stovepipe from the heater in the cell building remains in the same condition. The cell building has been painted."

In a preliminary report the 1946 jury stated: "The jail yard needs cleaning very badly and the committee recommends that the dry grass be removed from around the wooden buildings."

The county clerk stated on March 27, 1947 that the grand jury of 1946 had not as yet rendered a final report.

The San Andreas jail, your committee found, was built in 1885 to accommodate about 10 persons without any provisions for segregation whatsoever as to sex or offense. It is now overpopulated. An outbuilding is used for juveniles or females. This outbuilding is merely a wooden shed, and both buildings are fire hazards. Two iron cots in bad repair are provided for use of the inmates in this shed. The main jail building is kept in fair condition so far as cleanliness is concerned.

COLUSA

The building and office committee of the 1946 Colusa County Grand Jury found upon inspection of the jail building that the grand jury room in the upper portion thereof should have certain repairs. However, in view of the fact that the present jury room will undoubtedly be converted to other purposes, the committee recommended that no repairs be made in the existing jury room at the present time. The jury also found a tin or metal chimney had become rusted and created an unsightly rust stain from the roof to the ground along the west wall of the jail. It recommended, " * * * immediate repair and renewal of this chimney extension; we suggest a new chimney extension be made out of nonrusty material such as stainless steel or aluminum so that this disgraceful appearance of the jail building will be satisfactorily repaired for years to come. We also recommend that the unsightly plastered condition of this same west wall be repaired. The committee inspected the kitchen of the jail proper and recommend that it be repainted and that other necessary sanitary improvements be made."

S. E. Crutcher, County Clerk, informed the committee that the Colusa County Board of Supervisors, "have plans to build an annex to the courthouse and hall of records to allow for space to relieve the crowded condition of the jail and it is their intention to remodel the jail so that there will be separate rooms for the internment of juveniles and females, something which is sadly lacking at the present time." He added that there was hope that outside assistance would be granted for the proposed building.

CONTRA COSTA

County Jail

The grand jury reports inspecting the newly completed county jail building on April 3, 1946. "It is modern in every respect and as near jail-break-proof as possible."

Sheriff Long and his staff were commended for doing an efficient job in view of the continued increase in crime.

Branch County Jail

The 1944 jury reported an expansion program which included new fire lines to cover all of the buildings, new sanitary systems to care for about 500 inmates and the purchase of equipment to provide a bathhouse for barracks and kitchen secured from the State of California.

The 1945 panel after an inspection of buildings and grounds reported completion of a new water reservoir and a solitary confinement room for unruly prisoners. This room is a separate building well constructed with concrete floor and steel bar cage and is provided with sanitary washbowl and toilet accommodations. They reported the kitchen to be clean. The service was plain but wholesome food which is stored under modern refrigeration. The jury recommended a central heating plant as more efficient and less of a fire hazard.

Detention Home

The building was reported to be kept clean but to have suffered undue damage by the inmates. The jury recommended a new building to replace the old one.

County Clerk W. T. Paasch reports that as far as he can determine the grand jury has made no investigation of the city jails at Richmond and El Cerrito.

DEL NORTE

The county jail at Klamath was found to be in a very insanitary condition and the 1943 grand jury recommended that the board of supervisors take suitable action to eliminate this condition.

The county clerk advises that the reports of the grand jury have made no recommendation or report of the jails since that time (1943).

EL DORADO

Grand jury reports for the last two years made no mention concerning jails within this county, according to V. H. Benson, Deputy County Clerk.

FRESNO

A committee of the Fresno Grand Jury made a conscientious and rather extensive study of the county jail and county road camp. Its findings, conclusions and recommendations coincided with those of your committee in similar investigations. The superiority of the farm or road camp type of institution where rehabilitation is accented over steel and stone confinement was graphically illustrated.

County Jail

Though woefully understaffed and overcrowded the jail was said to be run efficiently. It was pointed out that the sheriff's staff consisted of 45 men, while Kern County with a 50,000 smaller population than Fresno County has 63 men in the sheriff's office. Bookings for the year 1945 up to October were 8,951, an increase of 2,222 over the same period the previous year.

Contributing to the congestion of the county jail is the fact that the City of Fresno is still using the county jail for its prisoners. This fact makes it difficult for the jailers to control disease and vermin. While county prisoners are stripped upon entering and their clothing thoroughly steamed, this practice is impossible with overnight city prisoners.

The jury called attention to the fact that juvenile girls are now thrown into the same quarters with older women, in violation of law, and suggested that space occupied by the matrons quarters might be used for these girls. In reference to the county jail the jury recommended that the city make arrangements to house its own prisoners. This recommendation has been made by other grand juries but nothing has been done about it. Employment of three full-time matrons plus a relief matron was suggested. The committee also recommended that the $55 per month war bonus be made a part of the basic salary in the sheriff's office.

Fresno County Road Camp—Los Gatos Creek

The jury found the road camp to be primarily a rehabilitation camp and that the men placed there probably pay for their keep by road building. It was pointed out that men confined in the camp are not hardened criminals. The length of sentence varies from 30 days to six months. The jury was impressed with the cleanliness and order of the camp and reported that the men look healthy and well fed. They found provision for recreation which they felt was a valuable supplement to the work program. There is also a first aid room. A doctor visits the camp each Sunday and is on call for emergency. There are no guards and the record of escape has been low.

The jury concluded that the camp is accomplishing very well the purpose for which it is established. A man released from the camp is in a physical condition which enables him to go to work elsewhere immediately. It was also pointed out that from the rehabilitation value the camp was a saving to the taxpayer.

GLENN

County Clerk W. B. Sale informs that after going over reports of the grand jury for several years he finds nothing mentioned about county jails.

HUMBOLDT

The 1945-46 jury found the jail well managed and recommended that the building should be painted inside and out and some toilets replaced. The report of the 1946-47 jury has not yet been made available.

IMPERIAL

County Jail

Good condition, but too small.

Holtville

Very sanitary conditions, but mattress covers recommended.

Winterhaven

Building clean. Six mattresses in poor condition to serve 24 bunks. No mattress covers and cell doors out of order.

Calexico

Building clean and well managed.

Imperial

Building clean and sanitary. Walls and floor freshly painted.

El Centro

Jail building of corrugated iron lined with wood, wood stoves. Fire trap; "trusty" in charge out to lunch and it took officer in charge 20 minutes to locate key—11 men locked in. Other conditions insanitary; one prisoner stated he was there two weeks without a chance to take a bath.

Westmoreland

Building good. Jail clean and well kept.

Calipatria

Sanitary condition, but jail unkept as though not used recently.

Brawley

Fair condition, but no mattress covers. Hot and cold water inside jail.

County Detention Home—Imperial

Pleasant atmosphere, clean, but need window curtains, more pillow slips, hardware, screen for windows, refinishing and painting of walls.

The jury recommended mattress covers that could be removed and laundered, thereby saving the mattresses as well as making the beds more sanitary.

INYO

Bishop

In good condition but heating system and new toilet facilities needed.

Lone Pine

Present single door constitutes a dangerous condition; inner guard door needed. Guards for heating stove and ceiling lights recommended.

Independence Jail

Repairs to windows and window screens needed.

KERN

Investigations of the Kern County Grand Jury emphasize the advantages both to the prisoner and to the taxpayer of the farm type institution over the antiquated cell block type of jail.

County Jail

The jury found the jail clean and well tended but shockingly overpopulated. The institution houses 100 steady inmates with a weekend population reaching 200.

Sheriff John Loustalot presented alteration plans to the jury which would enable the housing of 200 prisoners in existing space through the use of available materials—concrete or brick. The sheriff also pointed to the need within the jail of a clinic because many prisoners have venereal disease and require medical attention. At present much of the deputies' time is required transporting prisoners to Kern General Hospital.

The jury found the matrons' department in a shameful condition. This section is badly overcrowded—beds being used in the runways around the cell blocks and women even sleeping on the floor. All women are thrown together. Approximately 60 percent of the women examined are infected with venereal disease. The jury recommended these inmates be segregated.

The jury also recommended the sheriff's plans for providing additional space be carried out immediately. It was further recommended that new jail blocks be installed at the industrial prison farm instead of any addition being built to the county jail.

Industrial Farm

There are 394 acres of well-kept land all under cultivation. While the buildings are old they are neat. Inmates do farm work, supply most of the county institutions with food at market prices. For the last few years the farm has been a paying proposition. The jury recommended new quarters for the guards.

Apache Prison Camp

The jury found the camp to be well kept and clean.

Detention Home

The jury found much need of improvement. The home built to house 16 inmates, held 19 boys and six girls. It found two beds to a cell and, in some cases, mattresses in use on the floor. There is no way of separating nondelinquents from the delinquents. A need was found for a school program. The yard was reported to be too small, playground equipment lacking and no room for exercise.

Mr. Clarence Miller, superintendent of the home, said he had submitted a report in detail to the California Youth Authority, including plans for a new building.

Camp Owen

The camp contains 40 boys who work out-of-doors, do laundry and help in mess hall. The boys sleep in Navy water-proof tents while their barracks (which was condemned) is being rebuilt. The work was held up due to unavailability of materials. Grounds and buildings were found to be neat and clean but old and worn.

Delano

The jury found the jail to be filthy and dirty in the extreme on March 4, 1946. The chief of police was advised to clean the jail and hire help to keep it clean. On September 4th, six months later, the jury returned to Delano to find that nothing had been done to improve these unsanitary conditions.

The jury pointed out to the mayor the need for proper cleaning of the jail and later talked with the new city manager who agreed to see that this condition be corrected. The jury notes, under date of January 29, 1947, that the jail had been cleaned.

Wasco

The jail was dirty and the plumbing especially bad. This is a county jail; Wasco was incorporated the first of this year and uses the jail and assumed the responsibility of its care. There is no janitor.

Shafter

The same filth was found here. The jury recommends the jail be cleaned.

McKittrick

Jail small and dirty, but only used for overnight inmates.

Taft

Clean, but badly located and a perfect fire trap. New jail needed.

Randsburg

Jail dirty but used only infrequently.

Tehachapi

Dirty bowls and filthy mattresses. Cleaning and fumigation recommended.

Mojave

This jail has been freshly painted.

Inyokern

This jail is in good shape. Jail scrubbed every two days and DDT used regularly. The jury commends the personnel for conditions here.

Tehachapi California State Institution for Women

The Kern County Grand Jury made a tour of inspection on Friday, August 16, 1946. The institution was found to be understaffed and overcrowded. The buildings were clean and orderly. Temporary workshops were crowded and found to present a fire hazard. Many small rooms, intended for occupancy by a single person, have two inmates crowded into them. The institution was said to be well-managed and the grounds clean and well-kept.

KINGS

No county jails.

The 1939-40 grand jury jail committee recommended that the Board of Supervisors of Kings County formulate plans to build a new jail as soon as feasible.

In the same report the entire grand jury recommended: "That the Board of Supervisors of Kings County proceed at once to formulate plans for a new jail."

The county clerk, E. F. Pickerill, advises that "The board of supervisors has been putting aside some money each year for the purpose of building a new jail, and for which the county has a site and plans. It is planned to go ahead with construction as soon as materials and labor are available.

"Our jail is very antiquated and inadequate, and at times has double the number of prisoners it should have."

LAKE

The last grand jury made no report pertaining to county jails.

LASSEN

No pertinent grand jury report made on jails except that all county buildings in good order.

LOS ANGELES

The 1946 grand jury inspected every jail except Avalon, a total of over 80. Conditions generally were good, but a few were in need of attention.

Pomona

The dirtiest jail in the county. Beds and wash bowls filthy; blankets and mattresses torn and scattered; trash piled in cardboard cartons, constituting a fire hazard. Kitchen facilities dirty and dusty. Only one shower in men's tank, apparently in disuse. Only two towels and two or three drinking cups available. Very dirty and insanitary conditions throughout.

Compton

Dark, dingy and full of flies. Beds, toilets and cell partitions very dirty. A thorough cleaning and painting of wall recommended.

Montebello

Toilets, surrounding floor and wash bowls very dirty. No covers on mattresses.

Inglewood

Wash bowls, toilets, mattresses and bars dirty. Paper cartons for wastepaper, constituting a fire hazard. Ventilation very poor. Full time instead of part time janitor recommended. Plans now being drawn for a new jail.

Los Angeles Central Jail

Antiquated and unsanitary—now closed.

County Jail Hospital

Dilapidated and poorly equipped. Old wood interior and floors constitute fire hazard. Located too far from main hospital. New location for county jail ward provided on 13th floor of main county hospital building.

County Jail

Built for normal capacity of 1,500; now has almost 2,400 prisoners. Recommended that a new jail with 1,000 to 1,500 capacity be erected on the Castaic Farm to relieve overload in county jail. Overcrowded condition prevents proper segregation or supervision. Food served in jails, road camps and honor farms is ample and of fairly good quality.

Castaic Honor Farm

Capacity of about 500. Provides ample outdoor work and healthful exercise under ideal conditions. Costs less than in jail. The jury recommends that a large honor farm for the city should be provided to facilitate the handling of alcoholics and relieve overcrowded condition.

MADERA

Recommended that old section of county jail be remodeled as soon as possible.

MARIN

On December 6, 1945, and at various times subsequent the Marin County Grand Jury inspected the county jail and found the building to be 40 years old with a capacity of 57 and 25 confined at the time of the first visit. The cells are fairly well lighted and ventilated. Heating of a new cell in the women's section was inadequate. The kitchen is equipped with a stove but food was prepared and brought in from outside. The jail on the whole was clean. Clean bedding was issued to each new prisoner and changed frequently. Prisoners wash their own clothing in sinks. County physicians visit jail only when called upon. Examinations for venereal disease are not given. No outside recreation yard.

The jury recommended: Segregation of prisoners as set forth in Sections 1732.4 and 6000 of Welfare and Institutions Code; visit by physician daily and inspection of menu by him; county library to furnish good books; bars be replaced with hard steel bars; jail clothing furnished; two-way radio in road camp and purchase of jeep for beach rescue work.

MARIPOSA

The 1945 Grand Jury of Mariposa County recommended that lights be installed at the entrance to cells, toilets be partitioned from remainder of room and health officer inspect jail to improve sanitary conditions. Supervisors urged to consider need for place of detention for children.

MENDOCINO

The jury found conditions favorable with the exception of the county jail where the ventilating system was out of order, no private cells and uncleanliness. Committee appointed to confer with sheriff in regard to cleanup. Conditions now much improved.

MERCED

The 1946 jury reports the county jail to be outmoded and inadequate. It was built for 40 and is now housing a maximum of 125. Insufficient money is budgeted to keep the jail clean and in proper repair. The jury recommends that a new jail and detention home be constructed on a farm sufficient to produce foodstuffs for feeding inmates and patients of the county hospital.

MODOC

County Clerk Ella C. Sloss advises that there was no report made by the grand jury pertaining to conditions and supervision of jails.

MONO

There is no report by the Mono County Grand Jury, according to County Clerk George C. Delury, Jr.

MONTEREY

The 1946 grand jury recommended: Construction of separate women's jail to relieve overcrowded condition; regular system of clothing and bedding sterilization; replacement of icebox, plates, cups, saucers, etc.; attention to hot water supply and cupboards; that a regular cook be employed; arrangements made for keeping intoxicated women on the ground floor overnight and signing of prisoner's receipt for personal property by prisoner and jailor. The jury commended Matron Lingley upon the cleanliness of the women's section.

NAPA

The 1945-46 Napa County Grand Jury made no comment at all on the Napa County Jail in their report.

NEVADA

The 1946 grand jury found the county jail adequate for adult male inmates but inadequate for women and juveniles. It was recommended that a new addition be constructed and provisions be made for an exercise yard.

Echo Ranch—Boarding Home

Clean and orderly. Children are under good home influence. It was recommended that the rate per day for transient children be increased.

ORANGE

County Jail

The jury visited the county jail several times and each time found the jail clean and food adequate for adults. The juvenile tank, however, was very bad—dark and poorly ventilated.

Huntington Beach

Good condition, part of the jail freshly painted. A shower is needed. There is none at present.

Seal Beach

Clean and in good condition.

Newport Beach

Dirty and poorly kept, blankets in disorder. It was recommended that special juvenile officers be employed during vacation periods.

Orange

In good condition.

Placentia

Fair condition on first visit and improved on the second.

Brea

In fair condition, but blankets used by the last prisoner were still on the bunk.

La Habra

Dirty and insanitary; unfit for use.

Fullerton

Model jail; light; well ventilated and clean.

Anaheim

In poor condition. Dirty; no light and practically no ventilation.

Laguna Beach

Fairly clean but used blankets were found on bunks.

San Clemente

Very clean. Clean folded blankets in each cell. A bulletin board in outer office with the names of men on duty; seemed to be excellent system.

General recommendations of the jury: Clean blankets be issued every prisoner. Police departments cooperate fully with sheriff's office. Immediate building of adequate facilities for juveniles. San Clemente and Fullerton commended for outstanding cleanliness, light, ventilation, care of blankets and cell arrangement in their jails.

PLACER

The grand jury recommended that firearms and ammunition be removed from basement closet to the sheriff's vault. Installation of steel gate at foot of stairs leading into the basement. Inspection of heating boiler at regular intervals. Repair of steam pipe and pump; servicing of testcocks and replacement of broken windows.

PLUMAS

The last grand jury report was filed November, 1946, and there was no mention of county or city jails.

RIVERSIDE

The 1946 grand jury visited all the county jails and found them to be operating efficiently, but all were overcrowded and in need of additional space.

The jury asks that the board of supervisors meet with the city officials of Banning in an endeavor to work out some solution to the jail problem there.

The jury considers the problems presented by the Indio and Banning jails are sufficiently serious in their nature to require definite action by the board of supervisors in the immediate future as the problems can be expected to increase rather than diminish in the ensuing years.

Your committee found the Riverside County Jail to be more modern and kept in better condition than most of the jails. It was one of the few jails where there is provided an open air space for prisoners. The jail floor is scrubbed every day and the whole jail appeared clean. It was found, however, that in addition to the jail's overcrowded condition there was no segregation of felons and misdemeanants.

SACRAMENTO

The grand jury recommended that improvements be made at the county jail. Reference was made to a preliminary report filed in 1942 stating that conditions were very bad. The jail was found to be overcrowded and extremely unsanitary. Cells and cell doors were in bad condition. Need for a psychopathic ward was pointed out. The jury suggested that another road camp be set up to relieve the congestion. The sheriff appears to be doing the best that can be done with what facilities he has.

Your committee agrees with the grand jury. Conditions are indeed bad. On the day of the committee's visit the Sacramento County Jail presented one of the worst conditions encountered. This was especially true of accommodations for boys. Several were sleeping on the floor with only a dirty blanket under them. The jail was built some 40 years ago, providing for about 135 persons, and its present-day population is approximately 230. There are few facilities for segregation and in many instances those awaiting trial are confined in tanks with sentenced prisoners. The women's ward has a capacity of about 16, yet more than 35 prisoners are confined there. Medical examination and treatment is insufficient.

The kitchen is in the basement, and all bedding renovation is done in an adjoining room, separated mainly by a wire screen which permits dirt from the renovating process to contaminate the food. The floors and walls of the jail were dirty as well as the toilet and wash bowl facilities. Conditions were so bad your committee appealed to the State Health Department, which made an investigation of the jail and recommended a thorough housecleaning.

SAN BENITO

The 1946 grand jury found the present jail inadequate and recommended that a new one be built. An immediate and complete cleanup of the jail is necessary: Clean and paint walls; remove and burn old and filthy cots and mattresses which are not being used; install new toilets and showers with adequate drainage; regular inspection by health department.

SAN BERNARDINO

The 1946 jury found detention home facilities inadequate for present day needs. The building is old. Equipment is needed in school rooms. Maximum security facilities are needed. Crowded conditions have resulted in juveniles being held in county jails.

The jury recommends that a ranch home be provided for juveniles where offenders can be given schooling, job training and outdoor life.

It recommends that juveniles be segregated from adults in jails and that county jails be enlarged to accomplish this. A new jail should be constructed at Victorville.

Your committee feels that the grand jury was properly concerned with juveniles and that its recommendation for the betterment of the young is well taken, but also found much to be desired in the treatment accorded adults. At the San Bernadino County Jail there is inadequate space and no yard for prisoners.

The San Bernardino City Jail has scarcely any facilities and is very overcrowded. As many as 20 sleep in the jail, which consists of one small room, on the floor and have blankets only in the winter. There is one toilet for all the prisoners. The prisoners eat out at a restaurant.

SAN DIEGO

The grand jury reports for the year 1946 make no comment on jails of city or county. However J. B. McClees, County Clerk, reports that conditions have been materially improved since the county jail no longer is filled with federal prisoners.

The interim committee found that San Diego had its problem of overcrowding in the county jail. Sixty-nine prisoners were confined to a tank built for 26. Mattresses were laid on the floor side by side in a cell five by nine feet, one of which had to be placed under a two-deck iron bed with the lower bunk only 16 inches from the floor, making three persons on one side of the cell, one above the other. Another mattress occupied the remaining floor space, leaving no passageway to the toilet or washbowl at the rear of the cell. The tank is a two-deck affair. Local authorities are stalemated in any endeavors to provide new quarters because of disagreement over a suitable location. It appears to the committee that the sheriff is showing remarkable tact in his continuous promotion of good will among the prisoners.

SAN FRANCISCO

The 1946 grand jury found county jails Nos. 2 and 4 in San Mateo County in good order. County Jails Nos. 1 and 3 were also in good condition and well cared for.

The jury reports that prisoners received nourishing food, well prepared, that the sanitation in the jails was commendable, and cells and clothing of prisoners were neat and clean.

Your interim committee found here a modern method of segregating the convicted from those awaiting trial. All persons awaiting trial are kept in the city and county jails in San Francisco. Most sentenced prisoners are sent to the city-county San Bruno jail, away from the congested area, where there is ground to be cultivated, and other work for those who wish to work. San Bruno jail is one of the best kept and equipped in the State, with most of the upkeep done by inmate labor. It is exceptionally clean and well painted.

Although the committee considers all that has been done here commendable it believes that cheaper construction of buildings, a more intensified work program, and further segregation of prisoners is desirable and possible.

SAN JOAQUIN

No pertinent grand jury report has been made on jails.

Your committee, after visiting the San Joaquin County Jail, did make a report of the findings. The bunks, mattresses, blankets, floors and walls were filthy. Some cells had no windows and only small vents for air. Food rationing and conditions were the worst found anywhere. The kitchen was inadequate and facilities in bad repair. Cockroaches by the thousands were running everywhere. Kangaroo court was openly condoned, with rules and regulations pasted on the walls within the tanks. The fee system for feeding prisoners was used. The sheriff receives 28 cents a day per prisoner. Rations were scanty and prisoners were forced to buy rations from the jail authorities, which are cooked on one of the many gas plates within the jail. The Health Department was requested to make a thorough investigation of this jail, and make recommendations to remedy its extremely bad conditions.

SAN LUIS OBISPO

The 1946 jury found all jails to be in good shape, and noted that the county jail was well operated. The jury recommended a new jail be constructed.

SAN MATEO

No pertinent grand jury report was made on jails.

SANTA BARBARA

The 1944 grand jury found juvenile quarters inadequate. The 1945 report stated that the county jail was immaculately clean and in good order. In the city jail conditions in the men's section were deplorable. Soap, water and paint were badly needed. The women's section was better—well-painted and clean. An entire new jail was recommended.

Your interim committee found here possibly the best conditions of any jails visited, with the majority of problems of other cities overcome. The sheriff of the county was cooperative and anxious to give the committee the opportunity to secure all information desired. There is no farm in connection with the Santa Barbara jail but prisoners work on road projects, building county roads in the hills and also fire breaks. They have built many scenic drives throughout the county. Sheriff Ross stated that he found the prisoners good workers and that they responded to good treatment, the alcoholics as well as others. He told the committee prisoners were not forced to work. Those unwilling to work are taken back to the jail. Those working receive $2 per day for each work day at the time of their release.

This jail is an example of what can be done not only in improving conditions but taking prisoners out into the open air where they can do constructive work. The committee could not help but notice the difference in the administration of justice in the jails of two adjacent counties and the cities within the counties.

SANTA CLARA

The Santa Clara County Grand Jury report presents an example of well-developed civic conscience plus an intelligent awareness of the multiple dangers to a community which may result from an antiquated crime-breeding and disease-harboring jail. The report stands out all the more in contrast to the numerous grand juries throughout the State who make but perfunctory inspection of jails or none at all. Not only because of its worth as an example of the duty of a grand jury, but its value as a social document, we present in full the report on the county jail of the law-enforcement committee of the Grand Jury of Santa Clara County.

"Your Committee on Law Enforcement has inspected the county jail and at a later date, many other members of this grand jury conducted a similar inspection.

"Like all other grand jury committees of the past decade, we found the jail to be an old, outmoded, dilapidated building of some 70 or 80 years of age, erected when this county was celebrating the boom of the horse and buggy era. A palatial bastile at that time perhaps, we now find it has become a structural antique, a fit historical landmark indeed, but certainly not an example of a modern, progressive, expanding county as we have today. We feel that we can and must relegate our present jail to some museum as a souvenir of Santa Clara County's colorful past. It is no longer a simple disgrace and a prime example of short-sighted economy and public administration; it is a tragedy deplorable and inexcusable. It would be a pleasure to point out our present jail as a mere replica of our county's early law enforcement era; as a mere uninhabitable, old, brick, barnlike edifice, some parts of which would be unworthy of a pig sty. Instead, we must, with a feeling of guilt, admit that we still use the jail as a place of enforced habitation for an unfortunate segment of our local people.

"There is practically a total lack of administrative facilities and definitely no central records section. Poor tools make for poor work, and thus our lack of office and file space helps create an inefficiency in the administration of the jail. Modern police methods are detailed and intricate in order to combat modern crime, and they require up-to-date office facilities and equipment.

"There is no segregation of the various types or ages of law violators in our jail, because this is impossible. It is the same jail in which cattle rustlers, horse thieves, brigands and renegade Indians were housed 75 years past. A youth, in jail for the first time, may be thrown into the same big tank with brutal criminals, burglars, sex perverts and vagrants of all description. In other words, modern treatment and penal methods cannot be applied to law violators in our present jail.

"Adequate facilities for the necessary short detention of those mentally ill do not exist, nor do we have a fit place for juveniles who prove too incorrigible for the detention home. In fact, the only facilities which are adequate are those which house the cockroaches.

"The board of supervisors are to be severely criticized for failing to cooperate with previous sheriffs; for failing to supply such basic items as kitchen equipment, tables and cutlery. It is a matter of public record that sheriffs, in the name of humanity and common decency, have been forced to supply such equipment from their personal funds; and we must add that even food has been bought for prisoners by the sheriff himself. Our county certainly does not believe in pampering prisoners but instead, incarcerating them practically without light or air is impossible to condone.

"It is entirely possible for a violent and major epidemic of contagious disease to originate and spread from the present county jail, and thus endanger the public health of Santa Clara County. Disease, be it bacterial or mental, originates in filth. Such is our present county jail.

"Nevertheless, the local newspapers recently offered some encouragement by reporting that a few much needed repairs and materials for the cleaning up of the jail, at least temporarily, had been authorized. The public is aware that this should have been done years ago, and ironic as it may seem, the aforementioned equipment is being purchased from our last elected sheriff.

"We can find no excuse for the board of supervisors not proceeding with the construction of a new jail. It is a foremost need of the county today. We repeat, our present jail is unsanitary, inadequate and inexcusable. It is a medieval masterpiece but a modern shame and disgrace to this county. The fact that jails are used to house law violators has little or no bearing on the case. Offenders of the public code must be helped and corrected, and it is everyone's civic responsibility to see that this is done. Santa Clara County is now witnessing a program of expansion and progress which promises a bright and prosperous future. Law enforcement must lead—not lag or hinder this development."

SANTA CRUZ

City Jail

New and well kept. Clean.

Watsonville City Jail

Clean and in good condition.

County Jail

Clean. In good condition and prisoners apparently well cared for.

SHASTA

County Jail

Clean and kept in excellent condition. The grand jury recommended that a women's ward be provided immediately and that means be taken to segregate young boys and that a gardener be hired to superintend work of prisoners on grounds.

SIERRA

The last two grand juries' report have recommended a new county jail.

SISKIYOU

The grand jury found plumbing insanitary and showers and toilets not clean. The building had been painted only once in the last eight years; lighting and ventilation bad. The juvenile block of cells was in deplorable condition, with a large percentage of the windows broken. Prisoners were well fed, however. It was recommended that new modern cell blocks be installed and that the entire jail be overhauled.

SOLANO

Benicia

The grand jury recommends a room for female prisoners and states that such a room is available in the present jail. The jail's bad condition could be remedied by structural improvements. In view of the close proximity of the very modern branch jail at Vallejo, where county prisoners could be confined, the jury felt that any extensive modernization of this jail should be carefully considered.

Rio Vista

Considered satisfactory by the jury.

Vacaville

In very poor condition for handling county prisoners. Such prisoners should be confined in the county jail at Fairfield.

Dixon

In need of modernization and painting. The jury recommends that a portion of the $10,000 set aside in the county budget for the proposed construction of a new county-city jail be used to recondition the present jail and to renovate the upstairs which is not being used, and that a police officer's headquarters and constable's office be built.

County Jail

The jury feels that upon completion of the new addition to the jail and the reconstruction of the old jail the county will have a penal institution of which the citizens may well be proud.

SONOMA

Walter H. Nagle, County Clerk, advises that there has been no report concerning county jails for the last 10 or 12 years, with the exception of six years ago when the grand jury recommended that prisoners be fed by the county instead of the sheriff. That method has been used since that time, with considerable saving to taxpayers. Trucks deliver food from the county hospital to the county jail.

STANISLAUS

Turlock

In excellent condition.

Ceres

A fire hazard exists because the jail is between a bakery and hardware store. Abandonment recommended.

County Jail—Modesto

In very good condition but overcrowded. Plans for construction of new jail have been made.

Oakdale

Clean and in good condition.

Detention Home

Building and grounds in very good condition but the building needs paint inside and out.

Newman

In very good condition, but lack of cell space and there appears to be no heating facilities in the cells.

Del Puerto Road Camp

In first class condition.

Patterson

In good condition, but the building is badly in need of a roof and plumbing fixtures. It was recommended that the entire jail facilities be remodeled.

The jury also recommended that a boys' camp should be established and the Ceres jail abandoned for detention of prisoners due to extended periods during which no officer is in attendance and the difficulty of rescuing prisoners in an emergency.

SUTTER

No recent pertinent grand jury report made on jails. The county clerk states that the county has a practically new jail which will accommodate about 50 inmates.

TEHAMA

The 1946 grand jury found the jail cells clean, with ample facilities for personal cleanliness. The kitchen was sanitary and the food apparently wholesome and sufficient. The jail was not overcrowded. The jury did make two suggestions for improvement, however. They felt that there should be a ward at the county hospital where insane persons could be taken directly, without having to pass through the county jail. The second recommendation concerned juveniles. A place is needed for their detention separate from adult prisoners and entirely separate from the county jail.

TRINITY

The only recommendation of the grand jury concerned routine repairs: Repairing or refinishing of plaster in the welfare office, women's cell and fingerprinting room.

TULARE

The grand jury found conditions "disgraceful and insanitary." The floors were filthy in the men's and boys' quarters. Toilets, wash basins and bedding in the prison quarters were not fit for human use. This county jail has been in use for 40 years. The grand jury, as others before them, repeated a recommendation for new quarters. The jail was seriously overcrowded.

TUOLUMNE

The 1946 grand jury recommends that the Health Department make periodic inspection of the county jail as to cleanliness. Also, as it was pointed out previously, a new jail is necessary. These findings are in line with the recommendations of your committee.

VENTURA

The grand jury investigated Oxnard, Moorpark, Piru, Fillmore, Santa Paula, Ojai, Ventura County and Ventura City jails.

The jury found room for improvement in sanitary conditions in the Oxnard jail. It was pointed out that the jail was overcrowded. Purchase of laundry equipment for the Oxnard jail was suggested. The administration there appeared to be capably handled. Members of the jury found the city jails of Fillmore, Santa Paula and Ventura in very satisfactory condition but advised that a fumigator or delouser be installed as soon as equipment is available. The jury committee commended Sheriff Durley for his efficient operation and administration of the Ventura County Jail.

Your interim committee investigators found in Ventura County an example of contrast in management and conditions of jails within the same area. At Oxnard jail the prisoners have no money and live in filth while at Ventura, 13 miles away, many work in the open and on their honor. In the Oxnard jail the walls have not been cleaned in years. The bedding is unbelievably dirty. Brooms and mops and other equipment are kept in a cell where prisoners are confined. The solitary confinement tank is almost without ventilation, and the odor so foul that it is almost impossible for anyone to stay in it for any length of time. The jailer claimed that it was not used but nevertheless it was ready for use. Conditions in this jail were so disgraceful that the chairman of this committee reported the matter to the State Department of Public Health.

A careful investigation was made of the situation and on October 18th a communication was addressed to the Ventura County Health Officer, and a report was submitted by Roscoe C. Davis, Public Health Department. The report stated: "The jail is constantly overcrowded with little light and ventilation and the plumbing facilities throughout the building are inadequate, resulting in a dangerous insanitary condition. It is recommended that a new and modern jail be provided and in the meantime the following conditions be improved: That not more than 30 prisoners be housed in the Oxnard jail at one time. That the entire building be thoroughly cleaned and that walls, cells, bunks and other facilities be repainted. That all bedding, linen, etc., be kept clean. That adequate light and ventilation as well as plumbing facilities be provided.

A letter signed by Malcolm H. Merrill, M. D., State Department of Public Health, stated that due to the present insanitary condition of the jail it would be necessary to have these improvements made at once or to vacate the building without delay.

YOLO

The 1939 grand jury found the county jail newly painted and clean. The jury recommended, however, that several new cells be constructed because the jail had become overcrowded, and that the prison camp system as practiced in Sacramento County be investigated and put into effect to take care of misdemeanants and short-term cases. The county clerk found that neither of the two recommendations were followed.

YUBA

No pertinent grand jury report made on jails.

CALIFORNIA VOCATIONAL INSTITUTION AT LANCASTER

Today 500 boys are housed in a former Army Air Field barracks taken over by the Department of Corrections under pressure of necessity, court and public censure. These barracks, surrounded by a newly constructed wire fence, were crudely converted into a temporary youths' custodial location where academic instruction and 20 or more courses in vocational training are in progress.

These courses in job training include carpentry, mill and cabinet, sheet metal, arc acetylene welding, machine shop, radio, electricity, plumbing, cooking, laundry, dry cleaning, janitorial, photography, business, auto mechanic, general shop, hospital orderly, drafting, blue printing, hobby shop, and a diesel engine correspondence course.

The California Vocational Institution opened on March 11, 1946, with but 20 boys. Each boy has a mattress, and a cot with plenty of blankets. A laundry on the premises provides regularly cleaned bedding and garments. There are three meals daily except for those in isolation. Food is seemingly ample and a rating of 4,200 calories per day is claimed. A year ago many of these 500 young men would have been confined in various overcrowded and dirty local jails throughout the State, many of them compelled to sleep on floors, mingle with hardened criminals. Space, plenty of sunshine and fresh air are attributes here not to be found in the best jails.

When this institution was first established community resentment and active opposition set in against a prison in Lancaster. This has changed, and credit is due the administrators at the institution for skill and ingenuity. The personnel participates in community service clubs and local activities. Much community cooperation has been accomplished. At Christmas the townspeople saw that every boy in camp received at least one gift. These accomplishments make it appear to the committee that California has made a long stride in the right direction within a single year. Yet there is much to be desired. This institution is far from a model project. Facilities have been hurriedly put together at heavy outlay of funds, and more are badly needed.

Operations have been carried on at Lancaster under the most trying conditions. There are provisions for 148 positions but 25 of them are vacant, and 25 percent of the officers have to sleep in barracks while their families live elsewhere. The long barracks, where far too many boys are housed under one roof are drab and dreary. There could be greater concern for moral and physical well-being.

LEGISLATIVE PROPOSALS

As a result of the committee's investigation and findings several bills have been introduced in the Assembly.

Assembly Bill No. 388, introduced by Messrs. Bennett, Kilpatrick, Hollibaugh, Rosenthal and Price, outlaws Kangaroo Court, prevents delegation to prisoners of authority to exercise disciplinary control over other prisoners; provides for impartial discipline for all prisoners and forbids special privileges to any class of prisoners. This section would not prevent the use of skilled inmates, under adequate and proper supervision and guidance of jailers or other employed personnel, as instructors of other inmates in the performance of assigned work, if such relationship does not include the exercise of disciplinary authority.

Assembly Bill No. 389, introduced by Messrs. Rosenthal, Price, Kilpatrick, Hollibaugh, and Bennett, prohibits use of the Fee System of feeding prisoners. The board of supervisors shall provide the sheriff with necessary food, clothing and bedding for prisoners, which shall be of a quality at least equal to the minimum standards and requirements prescribed by the Board of Corrections. Except as provided in Section 2, the expenses thereof shall be paid out of the county treasury. Sec. 2. If a county officer performs municipal duties he shall be paid from municipal funds while compensation determined to be for county duties shall be paid from county funds; the compensation and expenses of the officer may be apportioned by the board of supervisors. The sheriff shall receive $4 a day for conveying prisoners to and from state prisons, and for those conveyed to and from state hospitals, or other state institutions. Further expenses incurred, above such traveling expenses, shall be paid by the State.

Assembly Bill No. 601, introduced by Messrs. Kilpatrick, Price, Bennett, Hollibaugh, and Rosenthal, establishes minimum standards of health and sanitation. The Board of Corrections shall prescribe adequate measures for the protection of the health and safety of prisoners in county, city and other local jails, prisons and detention facilities, and for the peace and safety of the public; and minimum standards for the construction and equipment for all detention facilities as well as minimum standards for discipline, feeding, clothing, medical attention, and segregation of all prisoners. The board shall also establish minimum standards for personnel employed, with an in-service training program for personnel. The Director of Corrections shall establish a Bureau of Field Services within the Department of Corrections. Authorized employees of this bureau may at any time enter the premises of any detention facility for the purpose of inspection, examination of management, records or accounts. The State Department of Public Health and the State Fire Marshal may inspect any detention facility at any time. The Board of Corrections shall transmit to the Governor, in January of each year, and to each Regular and each Budget Session of the Legislature, summaries of all reports of the bureau pertaining to investigations.

Assembly Bill No. 715, introduced by Mr. Kilpatrick, provides for state inebriate colonies, and for an appropriation from the State Treasury to the Department of Mental Hygiene for the establishment, equipping and operation of these colonies. It further provides that the Department of Mental Hygiene may require inmates of the state inebriate colonies to perform such agricultural and other work upon colony premises as the department considers suitable for the rehabilitation and training of the inmates, the sum paid such workers to be determined by the department.

ALCOHOLISM

In view of legislation pending in the Assembly concerning the care and rehabilitation of alcoholics, a brief resume of a proposed bill before the United States Congress affecting the District of Columbia is in order.

The Hébert bill in nearly every particular parallels recommendations contained in the section entitled "Comment and Conclusions" in the report of your committee, presented earlier in this session. The Hébert bill indicates a trend toward advanced thinking in connection with what has become one of the Nation's leading social and medical problems. It is gratifying to be able to foresee that the State of California may be in the vanguard with constructive legislation.

H. R. 2659, introduced by Mr. Hébert, establishes a program for the rehabilitation of alcoholics and provides for medical, psychiatric and other scientific treatment for chronic alcoholism. It authorizes the courts of the District of Columbia to take judicial notice of the fact that a chronic alcoholic is a sick person and in need of proper medical, institutional, advisory and rehabilitative treatment. It further authorizes the court to direct that he receive such treatment.

It directs the establishment of a clinic in connection either with some existing hospital or correctional institution for the diagnosis, classification, hospitalization, confinement, treatment and study of persons who are found to be chronic alcoholics. It directs preparing and administering a program for the rehabilitation of alcoholics and for the teaching and training of professional personnel; and provides for a classification and diagnostic center.

Any chronic alcoholic may voluntarily submit himself for admission and treatment in the clinic. Every person committed to the clinic shall first be sent to the classification and diagnostic center for observation and examination. He may then be permitted to remain at liberty conditionally, under supervision.

The Conference on Alcoholism held in Los Angeles in February under the sponsorship of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Los Angeles, Southern California Society for Mental Hygiene, and individual members of Alcoholics Anonymous, thoroughly discussed the findings and recommendations of your committee concerning the problem of alcoholism and the jails.

Several of the speakers at the conference had earlier appeared before your committee and had assisted both with the investigation of penal institutions and alcoholism. The resolutions passed by the conference were in general agreement with the findings and recommendations of the committee and the conference voiced praise for and appreciation of the forward steps in investigation and education of your committee legislation along these lines.

The conference had a registration of 650 members and delegates. Among the speakers who also assisted with the committee work were: Karl Bowman, M. D., Director of the Langley-Porter Clinic; Dora Shaw Heffner, Director of Mental Hygiene; Lawrence Kolb, M. D., Medical Deputy Director, Department of Mental Hygiene. Other speakers were Anton Carlson, M. D., President, National Research Council on Problems of Alcohol; and Joseph Hirsh, Associate Director, National Research Council on Problems of Alcohol.

Dr. Carlson, who in addition to his work with the council, is Professor Emeritus at the University of Chicago and internationally accepted as an authority on several fields of medical research, told the conference that it was absolutely imperative that extensive research into the little-known disease of alcoholism be undertaken at once on a large scale. Dr. Carlson compared alcoholism today to diabetes 20 years ago when it was called "sugar disease" and about which almost nothing was known. He also pointed out that 30 years ago silicosis, asbestosis and kindred respiratory diseases of which we now have extensive knowledge and definite treatments were a medical mystery. They were referred to as quarry-workers' disease, asbestos-workers' disease, miners' consumption and the "wasting sickness."

Pointing to the beginnings along the lines of alcoholic studies being made in Delaware, New Jersey, Connecticut and the District of Columbia, Doctor Carlson logically pointed out that the great State of California should be the leader, rather than lagging behind. He was encouraged by the work of the interim committee but warned that this was but a first step and urged that alcoholic research and rehabilitation in the State must soon be made a reality.

The committee believes you will find the following resolutions of so large a representative group of interest.

Resolution 1.

WHEREAS, The problems of alcoholism are many and varied; and

WHEREAS, Whatever the causes of alcoholism, individuals suffering therefrom are sick persons and in need of medical care; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That alcoholism be known as a disease, be considered as an illness, and treated as such.

Resolution 2.

WHEREAS, Alcoholism is primarily an illness requiring medical treatment; and

WHEREAS, Medical facilities for the care and treatment of alcoholic patients in the Southern California area and throughout the State of California are seriously inadequate; and

WHEREAS, This conference has been advised that the State Department of Mental Hygiene is planning an extension of its out-patient clinic program; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the State Department of Mental Hygiene be commended for its action in extending its out-patient clinic program to include eight general psychiatric clinics throughout the State; and be it further

Resolved, That the State Department of Mental Hygiene be urged specifically to include in said program a provision for the treatment of alcoholics on an out-patient basis, and that this resolution be transmitted to the officials concerned for their appropriate action.

Resolution 3.

WHEREAS, Alcoholism is primarily a medical problem; and

WHEREAS, Medical facilities for the care and treatment of alcoholic patients in the Southern California area and in the State of California are presently inadequate; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the plan of the State Department of Mental Hygiene for the establishment of special hospitals for alcoholics, pursuant to the provisions of Section 7100 of the Welfare and Institutions Code known as the Inebriate Colony Act, be vigorously endorsed and supported, with the added recommendation, however, that the initial capacity of such special hospitals should be not less than one thousand beds; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the officials concerned for their appropriate action.

Resolution 4.

Be it resolved, That the Hospital Survey Committee of Metropolitan Los Angeles be urged to consider in its program for this community the urgent need of hospitals to provide care and treatment for alcoholic patients, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the parties concerned for their appropriate action.

Resolution 5.

Be it resolved, That private hospitals be urged, when additional hospital facilities make it possible, to provide care for alcoholic patients on the same basis as they would offer care to persons suffering from any other disease and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the parties concerned for their appropriate action.

Resolution 6.

WHEREAS, Scientific research into the causes and treatment of alcoholism is essential in any proper approach to this problem; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the program of the Langley-Porter Clinic, of San Francisco, in relation to this problem, be endorsed; and be it further

Resolved, That the plan for establishment of psychiatric facilities in the new medical school at the University of California at Los Angeles be endorsed and the proper authorities urged to include a program of study and treatment of alcoholism on both in-patient and out-patient basis, and that a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the officials concerned for their appropriate action.

Resolution 7.

Be it resolved, That the Los Angeles County General Hospital be urged to accept acute alcoholic patients for care on the same basis as sick persons suffering from any other disease are accepted.

Resolution 8.

Be it resolved, That the Family and Adult Service Division of the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Los Angeles be requested to call together a committee made up of members appointed by the three co-sponsoring agencies of this conference to serve as a continuing committee, and that it be known as the Los Angeles Civic Committee on Alcoholic Problems.

It is with gratification that your committee acknowledges receipt of a considerable volume of mail commending the committee for its work as outlined in the report to the Assembly. Letters have been received from numerous state, county and municipal officials; from social service organizations, civic groups, the judiciary and interested citizens. Numerous requests for copies of the report have come not only from within the State but from widespread sources beyond our borders. We feel, too, that the favorable response by the daily and weekly press to the committee report has served to focus public attention on conditions existing in our jails and will do much to bring about needed reforms.

The provision amended by this act was originally enacted to provide the means for veterans, who have been absent due to military service, to engage in the practice of accountancy which might otherwise be denied under the provisions of the act. This section as presently interpreted, however, does not give effect to this intent. There is at the present time a large number of unprocessed veteran applications pending before the board many of which will be denied under the provisions of the act as presently interpreted resulting in substantial inequities to the veterans. To avoid such inequities to veterans, it is therefore urgent that this act take effect immediately."

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Messrs. Doyle, Geddes, and Maloney:

House Resolution No. 145

Relative to adjournment in respect to the memory of Henry Ford

WHEREAS, The death of Henry Ford in his 83d year takes one of the last of the great figures who invented, designed, and built the machines which during the last half century in the United States have accomplished the almost complete transition from horse to motor power in highway transportation and much of farm equipment, a transition which has in turn revolutionized the life of the people of this Nation by vastly increasing the areas of quick and easy communication, produced a great network of paved highways to accommodate the new traffic, and reduced to a minimum the former gulf between rural and urban life; and

WHEREAS, Henry Ford, one of the greatest figures of this era, the son of Irish immigrants, left the farm to begin his career as a machine shop workman by day and a watch repairman by night, and reached the age of 40 years before entering upon the venture which was to make him one of the giants of American industry; and

WHEREAS, In the 43 years of his life as an automobile manufacturer, Henry Ford built up a great industrial empire, from the resources of which he paid his workmen high wages, built huge tracts of model homes, schools, and hospitals for their benefit, and twice during those years converted his manufacturing plants to the production of equipment which sped the United States to victory over its enemies in war, the most spectacular of his achievements being the production of a bomber an hour at the Willow Run plant during World War II; and

WHEREAS, These achievements stemmed from the mechanical genius, hard work, and administrative ability of Henry Ford, who had been designing and making various kinds of power-driven engines since he was a boy of 10, and began the manufacture of automobiles in Detroit in 1903, where six years later he devised the assembly line system of automobile manufacture which revolutionized the Nation's production methods and turned out millions of Model T Ford motor cars, until the Tin Lizzie became a household word of the whole continent and by 1919 brought motor transportation within the range of even moderate incomes, a feat nearly reenacted in 1932 when the Ford V-8 was put into production, bringing luxury type motor and construction to the field of low-priced cars; and

WHEREAS, Although his career encompassed the acquisition of huge farms, tracts of timberland, mines, railroads, and other properties which produced and carried the raw materials used in the Ford plants, included an international organization for the distribution of Ford products, accomplished miracles of finance, and embraced philanthropy on a scale so large that its true extent is not yet known, Henry Ford himself remained a modest, hard-working man, devoted to his family and to his small group of close friends which included others of America's great men, notably Thomas Edison, Harvey Firestone, and John Burroughs, taking pleasure and expending large sums of money in the preservation or restoration of historic American relics, music and folk dancing; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That this Assembly expresses profound regret upon the death of Henry Ford, a man unique among the men of his time yet typical of the men to whom the American continent and American Democracy brought unparalleled opportunity and who repaid that opportunity with hard work and the creation of machines and methods which have helped to make the American standard of living the highest in the world; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this Assembly transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Mrs. Clara Bryant Ford, widow of Henry Ford, and to his grandson, Henry Ford II, as an expression of esteem and sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That when this Assembly this day adjourns it do so out of respect to the memory of Henry Ford.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Mr. Doyle asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 145, at this time, without reference to committee or file.

Resolution read, and adopted unanimously.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Speaker Sam L. Collins arose to a question of personal privilege.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS BY SPEAKER SAM L. COLLINS IN THE JOURNAL

Mr. Debs moved that the remarks made by Speaker Sam L. Collins when he arose to a question of personal privilege be ordered printed in the Journal in 10-point type.

Mr. Evans seconded the motion.

Motion carried.

REMARKS BY SPEAKER SAM L. COLLINS

On a point of personal privilege, it is my desire to discuss the letter of Judge William Doran of March 28, 1947, which was read to this body by Assemblyman Kirkwood, the letter being addressed to C. Don Field. The why or wherefore of its being read in the manner it was is unimportant, since the subject matter is before this body and has been broadcast to the far corners of the State.

I will discuss the letter paragraph by paragraph. Judge Doran was speaking of Assembly Bill No. 538. The bill under consideration was Assembly Bill No. 537, but, to the end that no one could raise the point of order that the judge's letter was not germane, I purposely had Assembly Bill No. 538 withdrawn from the Senate, and brought back to this body so that we might discuss the judge's letter with respect to Assembly Bill No. 538.

The first paragraph of the judge's letter states that a copy of Assembly Bill No. 538 is enclosed.

The second paragraph states, and I quote, "THIS BILL IS POSITIVELY VICIOUS FOR IT IS DESIGNED TO PROTECT THE GAMBLING INTERESTS." This bill has been under consideration since January 20th, and the subject matter of this bill, contained in Section 817 of the Penal Code, has been there for years. Section 817 of the Penal Code defines who are peace officers, and for years it remained in substantially the same form until this section was amended in 1943 and in 1945 to include parole officers In 1943, for the first time, parole officers were mentioned in Section 817; for the first time under this section, they were given police powers, and, if the judge's letter is to be interpreted literally, then the gambling interests to which he refers had a free run of the State prior to 1943; and none of the other peace officers mentioned in Section 817 were concerned with nor authorized to interfere with gambling interests. Judge Doran would have you believe that, when this section was finally amended in 1943 and in 1945 to include parole officers, that then, and only then, were the gambling interests in a condition where they could be in jeopardy. The truth of the matter is that when this amendment was first introduced in 1943 the author stated to the Legislature, without reservation, that it was for the sole and only purpose of permitting parole officers to arrest and take into custody parolees who had violated the law or some rule or regulation of the Board of Prison Directors. It was questioned on the floor of this House whether this proposal would give to these parole officers general police powers to be exercised at their whim and pleasure with unlimited discretion throughout the entire State, and the author of this particular bill at that particular time stated that under no circumstances would they desire nor would they exercise general police powers.

VENTURA, CALIFORNIA, April 15, 1947

DEAR SAM: It has come to my attention through the newspapers, the radio, and other sources that the Honorable William Doran, Justice of the District Court of Appeal, has, through a letter dated March 28, 1947, directed to Assemblyman Don C. Field, made certain references to a bill which you introduced; namely, Assembly Bill No. 538. I have read what purports to be a copy of the Doran letter, and I draw from such reading the inference that the judge is of the opinion that the law, as presently written, gives to parole officers the powers of peace officers generally, and that such was the intention of the Legislature in the first instance.

I was in the Legislature during what is usually referred to as the 1943 Session, and at that time I introduced and handled a considerable number of bills for the then Board of Prison Directors. One of the bills in this category was Assembly Bill No. 451 which was ultimately adopted by both houses and signed by the Governor and became Chapter 106 of the Statutes of 1943. This bill provided, as I recollect it, that any parole officer of the State Board of Prison Directors would have the powers of and be a peace officer. I was in almost constant contact with the members of the board, or their duly constituted employees and representatives and we discussed thoroughly and completely each and every one of the bills which were to be heard. I recollect distinctly that the board was concerned with the problem that a parole officer could not under the law as then written go out and arrest a parole violator and, therefore, parole officers would frequently have to secure the assistance of the sheriff, police or other local authorities in making such arrests. My bill was to correct that evil and that alone. It was not contemplated that the parole officers would exercise general police powers and in fact it was specifically stated by me as the author of the bill that the parole officers needed to be peace officers for the purpose of being able to arrest parole violators and in transporting prisoners. This statement on my part was, of course, authorized and directed by the Board of Prison Directors. The question was raised on the floor of the Assembly that in truth and in fact the Legislature would be setting up a system of roving policemen with full police powers if the bill were passed. I hastened to assure those who so questioned that there was no thought of such a thing and the only purpose of the bill was as heretofore set forth, i.e., the authority of a peace officer in the actual performance of his official duties.

So far as I know, and I was in rather close contact with the activities of the board until it was replaced by the Department of Corrections, in the Special Session of 1944, no parole officer of the State Board of Prison Directors violated the understanding of the board and, therefore, made no arrests as peace officers excepting in the course of carrying out the provisions of the Parole Laws.

It would seem, therefore, that all your bill does is to spell out specifically and positively what was originally intended, and what was represented would be done in the first instance.

You may, of course, use this letter for such purpose or purposes as you may deem advisable and proper.

With my very best regards.

Very truly yours,

WALTER J. FOURT"

Based on this statement by the author, it is my belief and, in my opinion, it was the belief of the Legislature at the time, that, when these amendments were adopted, the authority of parole officers would be limited to the actual performance of their actual duties. As a matter of fact, the Adult Authority itself issued an order following the raids in question stating this very thing to be the policy of the Department of Corrections, and that, thereafter, parole officers should restrict themselves to the performance of their duties as parole officers. They were instructed to cooperate with local enforcement agencies, and that, if local agencies were not cooperative, they should refer the matter back to the head of the department.

The third paragraph states that the Chief of Police of Long Beach refused to act. This the chief denies emphatically.

The fourth paragraph states, "A worse condition existed in Santa Ana," where it is claimed the Chief of Police of Santa Ana refused to act. I have here a telegram from George G. Boyd, the then Chief of Police of Santa Ana, which reads as follows:

> "State Parole Officer Baxter raided a Santa Ana bookie that he knew was under investigation. His motive was shake down or political ambition. He advised me of his ambition before raid.
> GEO. G. BOYD, Former Chief of Police"

If you don't think that this was political ambition, let me read from the April 13th edition of the Santa Ana Globe:

> "Aside from the mayor, every incumbent seeking re-election succeeded. Police Chief B. A. Hershey had a wide margin over his opponents, State Parole Officer Clifford Baxter and Police Officer Charles Neer, exceeding their combined vote by 371."

Now, this is the State Parole Officer referred to in the former chief's telegram, and the political ambition referred to was his ambition to run for Chief of Police of the City of Santa Ana.

Speaking of political ambition, "My son, John," referred to in Judge Doran's letter, was running for city council in the City of Los Angeles at the time this letter was written. The reference in the letter to the number of men and the parolees that young Doran had under his jurisdiction was intended to aid him in his councilmanic race in the City of Los Angeles; but, despite the ruthless effort of Judge Doran, his son, John, was overwhelmingly defeated.

The fifth paragraph of the judge's letter reads as follows:

> "Following the raid in Orange County, Assemblyman Collins called on my son Jack in his office in Los Angeles, and protested against this raid in Santa Ana, informing my son that if this continued he would introduce a bill in the Legislature to deprive the parole officers of their authority as peace officers—which threat he has carried out."

The truth is that I called on "John" or "Jack" Doran at his office when my attention had been directed by the Sheriff of Orange County to the so-called raid conducted in Orange County, of which the sheriff complained to me that it appeared to be entirely political in its nature. The sheriff advised me that no word was received by him from the parole office, nor from any parole officer, concerning the matter; and he further advised that it was his opinion that none of the local police had been informed of any contemplated raid or raids. The sheriff stated that he felt that the local authorities should, at least, be consulted and extended an opportunity to cooperate in such matters; and particularly so when the cause or matter was in the midst of a political campaign. Following the sheriff's complaints to me, as I have stated, I called on "John" or "Jack" Doran and told him it was my belief that it had never been the intent of the Legislature to bestow upon parole officers general police authority or duties, and that I proposed to introduce a bill in the Legislature whereby the Legislature might express its opinion as to whether or not they intended the parole officers to have general police powers or only those powers necessary in the actual performance of their duties. My only protest against the raid or arrests in Santa Ana was that any gambling violations within the knowledge of parole officers should have been called to the attention of local authorities. The local authorities should have been given the opportunity to cooperate in the arrests, and, as local authorities, should not have been bypassed in the midst of a political campaign or at any other time. Young Doran made no mention at the time that the arrests were made because the local authorities refused to cooperate. No threats were ever made; I am not and never have been of a threatening disposition. I simply told young Doran that, irrespective of their activities, I proposed to introduce legislation to clarify the situation. Whether they stopped or whether they continued was not of any moment then, and is not of any moment now. The occasion of my visit to young Doran's office was the only time I have ever met him. I do not recall ever having met Judge Doran, the writer of the letter.

Subsequent to my visit to young Doran, I was invited to attend a meeting at which were present Frank Waters and Richard Fildew. I was introduced to Mr. Fildew by Mr. Waters, Mr. Waters stating that Mr. Fildew was the man who was largely responsible for young Doran's appointment as a parole officer. During the lunch, Mr. Fildew asked me what the complaint was about Jack Doran. I advised him that there was no complaint at all about Jack Doran, and there never had been any complaint as far as I was concerned. I explained to him that parole officers had made arrests in Santa Ana, ignoring and bypassing the local authorities while they were in the midst of a political campaign. I further explained to Mr. Fildew, in the same manner as I had explained to young Doran, that I did not think the Legislature intended that parole officers should exercise general police powers. I informed Mr. Fildew that I proposed to introduce legislation to have the matter clarified. The Legislative Counsel advises me that the following offices have like limitations:

The following are peace officers or have the authority of peace officers with respect to the enforcement of particular laws, or within designated areas, or under specified conditions:

> Persons in whom enforcement of provisions of Agricultural Code are vested, as to such enforcement. (Ag. C., Sec. 6.)

Board of Dental Examiners, inspector, as to duties. (B. & P. C., Sec. 1704.)

Director of Finance and civil executive officers enforcing any lawful order of Department of Finance. (Gov. C., Sec. 13,071.)

Division of Housing officers and agents as to laws administered. (Lab. C., Sec. 2424.)

Division of Labor Law Enforcement employees as to Labor Law. (Lab. C., Sec. 95.)

Division of Mines employees as to licensing gold and silver buyers. (Pub. R. C., Sec. 2268.)

Board of Equalization employees as to Motor Vehicle Transportation License Tax Law. (R. & T. C. 10402.) And as to law re alcoholic beverages (Sec. 38d, Deering Act 3796).

Division of Beaches and Parks employees for State Parks. (Pub. R C., Sec. 5008.)

Youth Authority officers and employees as to inmates escaped or inmates delivered to them. (W & I. C., Sec. 1150.)

Secretary, Department of Mental Hygiene, as to care of personal property of mentally ill persons. (W. & I. C., Sec. 6660.5.)

State Hospital, Business Manager and designated employees, as to hospital. (W. & I. C., Sec. 6563.)

Yours very truly,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

Shortly thereafter, I talked to Mr. Karl Holton, Director of the Youth Authority, and discussed this situation with him in its entirety, although I do not believe I mentioned the names of any individuals. There was nothing personal in it then, and there is nothing personal in it now, as far as young Doran is concerned. Mr. Holton said that, as he understood the law, it was never intended that they should exercise such authority. I advised Mr. Holton I intended to introduce legislation to clarify the matter, and no objection was offered.

The next paragraph of the letter read, as follows:

"Although he purports to be on friendly terms with the ministers in Orange County, actually Collins appears to be more interested in the gamblers."

The statement that I am interested in or appear to be interested in gamblers is a gross insult and a deliberate falsehood. Actually, in view of the charge, I desire to state that I have never been interested in nor connected with any gambling interests of any nature, and I never will be. It so happens I have never made or placed a bet with a bookie or any similar operation. Further, I do not recall ever stating that I was on friendly terms with the ministers of Orange County, but I believe I am, and until this attempt to distort my motive was circulated throughout the State, I am certain that they had full faith and confidence in me—and that confidence was and is fully justified.

It is a well-known fact in Orange County that, when I was district attorney of that county, there were no gambling operations conducted therein; that, following my resignation as district attorney to go to Congress, I, personally, appeared at a hearing in Orange County to prevent gamblers from opening and operating in Orange County. During my term as Congressman, I had introduced and passed in Congress a bill prohibiting gambling ships from operating off the coast of California.

In the last paragraph of the letter Judge Doran says he hopes Mr. Field will inform the Assembly of the contents of his letter and gives permission that it may be read. I desire to state to you Members of the Assembly that no Member of the Assembly advised me of the existence of this letter prior to the time it was read on the floor of the Assembly, and I had no knowledge thereof; but I am reliably informed that the letter was discussed by a few members of this body, namely, Mr. Phil Davis, Mr. George D. Collins, Mr. Robert Kirkwood and Mr. Albert Wollenberg, together with Mr. William Sweigert, one of the Governor's secretaries. I was advised that Mr. Field was informed of the existence of this letter for the first time when called on the telephone by this group to produce the original letter. There were at least two members of the press, that is, Mr. Hanson and Mr. Behrens, who knew of the existence of this letter prior to the time it was read on the floor. None of these gentlemen discussed the letter with me prior to its being read here. I understand that Mr. Walter Gordon, Chairman of the Adult Authority, was called by this group and, at that time, the letter was under discussion. This is the first time that Mr. Gordon ever raised a voice or protested against this bill or the contents of it. In fact, when the bill was heard in the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly not one person spoke against it, and no letter of opposition or protest was present in the committee.

I have heretofore stated that a full hearing should be had into all the matters contained in Judge Doran's letter, whether they pertain to my alleged interest in gamblers or otherwise. Grave charges were made in this letter against the chiefs of police of two of our large cities with the implication that they have ignored protests of parole officers having knowledge of gambling in their respective cities. These matters should be thoroughly investigated.

In my opinion, the judge who would read the law so loosely as to interpret this bill as being designed to aid gamblers has no learning in the law, and apparently has no conception of what evidence is or is not acceptable and satisfactory when he asks us to accept such rank hearsay testimony; and, furthermore, is completely lacking in judicial temperament, as evidenced by his intemperate letter of March 28th. Are there other qualifications lacking that make him wholly unfit to preside as a justice of the appellate court? I, personally, have received so many complaints about his qualifications that it is my opinion that this should likewise be the subject matter for consideration by this committee.

The gravity of this effrontery and attempt on the part of a member of the Judiciary to influence the Legislative Branch of the government, I am sure, is not, or was not, apparent on first reading. The furore and indignation was purely personal as an attack on a member of this body. Imagine this body passing a resolution and, on official stationery, advising the court that litigation pending was vicious, and that the court was designedly protecting gamblers as law violators! Would that be countenanced by the court? Would that be tolerated by the press? Would that be sanctioned by the people? Never! Never would this body be so presumptious! We would be held in contempt. If that be contemptuous on our part, is it not contemptuous on the part of the Judiciary? Yet here we have on the official stationery of the Judiciary this very attempt. Are they, or this member, so high and mighty that this can be done without comment from the press? Without a murmur from the Executive Branch? Or with no objection from the Legislative Branch? Maybe he is immune if we fail to protest. He certainly is immune to the will of the people. The people can only vote "yes" or "no"—nor can he be replaced by a qualified man running as an opponent.

Had the judge been interested in legislation, he knows that he could direct a letter expressing his views to the Committee on Judiciary. The letter, in which he enclosed a copy of the bill, stated that it was pending there—so that is not too violent an assumption. Yet no such letter was written. It follows, naturally, that he was not interested in legislation, but in furthering the political aspirations of his son, John.

As a sideline, and apart from this sinister scheme, I desire to call attention to the fact that my secretary's desk was recently broken into and her notebook and notes taken. My file was also broken into. My desk was open, so I was unable to ascertain if anything had been taken, although it was obvious the contents had been disarrayed. Just who could and who would be so interested? Had they but requested it, I certainly would have been happy to let them read any of the material contained in my desk—in my office here, or in my office in the City of Fullerton. It might be well to investigate the breaking of the locks in my office here in the Capitol and rifling of my files.

One element of the press yesterday even went so far as to suggest that Sam Collins should resign as Speaker because of these charges contained in a letter which discloses that the judge is not speaking of matters of which he has personal knowledge but only as to those things on which he has been informed by others—the rankest kind of hearsay testimony, which even this judge should know better than to admit as evidence. This element of the press, as is well known, was bitterly opposed to my election as Speaker and, no doubt, would be happy to have me resign. But, fortunately, the press does not elect Speakers of this body; the membership does that. I have no intention of resigning nor stepping down until the membership of this body directs that I do so by a majority vote. You members of this body always have that authority over your Speaker, whether it is Sam Collins or otherwise, without direction or intimidation by this or any other element.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT THAT REPORT OF ASSEMBLY FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE ON RETIREMENT RIGHTS AND BENEFITS UNDER STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT LAW

Mr. Stephenson asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following Report of the Assembly Fact-Finding Committee on Retirement Rights and Benefits, under State Employees' Retirement Law, (House Resolution No. 95) be ordered printed in the Journal, in 10-point type.

REPORT OF ASSEMBLY FACT-FINDING COMMITTEE ON RETIREMENT RIGHTS AND BENEFITS UNDER STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT LAW

(Pursuant to House Resolution No. 95, adopted by Assembly February 5, 1947)

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April, 1947

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

The Assembly Fact-Finding Committee appointed pursuant to House Resolution No. 57, adopted February 3, 1947, was directed, by House Resolution No. 95, adopted February 5, 1947, to study and report upon retirement rights and benefits under the State Employees' Retirement Law.

This committee held sessions in Sacramento on February 24 and 25, 1947, in connection with the State Employees' Retirement Law. At these meetings, exhaustive testimony was taken from Mr. Theodore H. Jenner, Chairman of the Retirement Committee of the California State Employees' Association, as well as testimony from Mr. Samuel G. Hanson, General Manager of the California State Employees' Association, Mr. Earl W. Chapman, Executive Secretary of the State Employees' Retirement System, and Mr. Donald Gallagher, member of the Board of Administration of the State Employees' Retirement System.

Mr. Jenner's testimony included a comprehensive analysis of the provisions and basic operations of the State Employees' Retirement Law, as they relate to and affect state miscellaneous members of the Retirement System, and a thorough discussion of the provisions and effect of Assembly Bills No. 1220 and 1224, inclusive, before us at this session of the Legislature.

No other individuals or representatives of organizations appeared before the committee, nor requested an opportunity to be heard, in connection with the State Employees' Retirement System. The following report, therefore, sets forth the findings and recommendations of the committee in connection with those matters covered by the testimony taken, and with particular reference to the provisions of the Assembly bills enumerated above.

The provisions of these Assembly bills, whose adoption was urged by the representatives of the California State Employees' Association in connection with the testimony given by them, are summarized in Exhibit A of the Appendix of this report.

As a result of this committee's consideration of the testimony given at its hearings, and pursuant to consideration given by it to the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law and to the results of the operations of the system, this committee respectfully submits its findings of fact, as follows:

FINDINGS OF COMMITTEE

I. ORIGIN OF THE STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Chapter 431, Statutes of 1927, effective July 29, 1927, created a commission "for the purpose of inquiring into the subject of retirement pensions, allowances and annuities for state officers and employees, especially with reference to the method of establishing and maintaining the fund from which such pensions, allowances and annuities shall be paid." The commission consisted of the commissioner of the State Department of Civil Service and four members appointed by the Governor. The act appropriated $6,000 for the expenses of the commission, and directed it to report the result of its inquiry to the Governor and Legislature, on or before July 1, 1928, including in its report such proposed legislation as it might deem advisable.

As a result of the committee's report, made in 1928, the Forty-eighth Legislature enacted Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 37 (Resolution Chapter 87, Statutes of 1929), submitting to the people as Proposition No. 5 at the general election of November 4, 1930, a proposed constitutional amendment, authorizing the establishment of a retirement system for state employees.

The proposed constitutional amendment, which was adopted by the people at the general election referred to above, added Section 22*a* to Article IV of the State Constitution; providing as follows:

> "SEC. 22*a*. The Legislature shall have power to provide for the payment of retirement salaries to employees of the State who shall qualify therefor by service in the work of the State as provided by law. The Legislature shall have power to fix and from time to time change the requirements and conditions for retirement which shall include a minimum period of service, a minimum attained age and minimum contribution of funds by such employees and such other conditions as the Legislature may prescribe, subject to the power of the Legislature to prescribe lesser requirements for retirement because of disability.
> "The rates of contribution and the periods and conditions of service and amount of retirement salaries fixed in pursuance of this section shall not be changed except by the vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature."

Pursuant to the above enabling act, the State Employees' Retirement Act (Chapter 700, Statutes of 1931) was adopted, effective August 14, 1931, creating the State Employees' Retirement System to become effective January 1, 1932. This act, which has been amended by subsequent Legislatures, was codified in Part 3 of the Government Code (Sections 20000 to 21455 inclusive) by the provisions of Chapter 123, Statutes of 1945, effective September 15, 1945. These Government Code provisions are known as the "State Employees' Retirement Law."

II. PURPOSE OF THE STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

The purpose of the State Employees' Retirement System is set forth in Section 20001 of the Government Code, which states:

> "The purpose of this part is to effect economy and efficiency in the public service by providing a means whereby employees who become superannuated or otherwise incapacitated may, without hardship or prejudice, be replaced by more capable employees, and to that end provide a retirement system consisting of retirement compensation and death benefits."

As stated by Dr. Lewis Meriam ("Principles Governing the Retirement of Public Employees"), there are three distinct parties concerned in the establishment and maintenance of a retirement system for public employees: the governmental agency, the employees and the taxpayers.

The State's interest in an adequate retirement system was stated in the "Report of the Commission on Pensions of State Employees, California, 1929," in the following words:

> "A sound retirement system provides the State with a sure and just method of eliminating from its active force those employees who have become incapable of performing their best work because of disability or superannuation. In the absence of a retirement system the aged or disabled employee is left in active service as long as he can 'go through the motions.' He is really retired on the job, but the cost to the State of paying his full salary is charged to the current budget. To a very great extent the State pays for a retirement system even though one is not established."

III. NATURE OF THE STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

The State Employees' Retirement System has, from the beginning, been operated on a sound actuarial basis. Under such a system, adequate funds are accumulated currently, through regular contributions of calculated amount, in order to cover the accruing obligations of both employer and employee.

Experience has consistently demonstrated that unless a public retirement system is based on sound actuarial principles, the time eventually arrives when the retirement obligations of the system are greater than can be met. The result is inevitably the drastic curtailment of benefits previously promised, together with a belated conversion of the system to a sound actuarial basis.

The continued soundness of the State Employees' Retirement System has been assured by the provision of the law requiring quadrennial actuarial investigations into the mortality, service and compensation experience of members and persons receiving benefits, and actuarial valuations of the assets and liabilities of the system.

The State has been fortunate in having had, since the inception of the system, the services of Mr. Ralph R. Nelson as its actuary, and Mr. Earl W. Chapman as its executive officer. Mr. Nelson is recognized as one of the outstanding actuaries of the Nation; and Mr. Chapman has earned national recognition for his able administration of the system, which has over 46,000 members at the date of this report.

The system is also fortunate in having the benefit of the expert advice of Mr. Rene L. Rothschild, Investment Adviser of the State Department of Finance. Mr. Rothschild attends all meetings of the Retirement Board, where his advice is available in connection with the formulation of the board's policies and decisions with respect to the investment of moneys in the State Employees' Retirement Fund.

Rates of member contributions, interest rates, and mortality tables are fixed from time to time, in the light of experience, by the Board of Administration of the State Employees' Retirement System. This board, which is the governing body of the system consists of:

(a) One member appointed by the State Personnel Board, selected by and serving at its pleasure. The present incumbent is Mr. Emery E. Olson, member of the State Personnel Board and Dean of the School of Public Administration of the University of Southern California.

(b) The Director of Finance. The present incumbent is Mr. James S. Dean.

(c) The Comptroller of the University of California or such other official as the university may designate. The present incumbent is Mr. Henry H. Benedict, Manager, Insurance and Retirement Systems of the University of California.

(d) Three members elected under the supervision of the board from the active members of the system. The present incumbents are:

1. Mr. Thomas E. Stanton, Materials and Research Engineer of the State Department of Public Works; a member of the Board of Administration since the inception of the system, and the present president of the board.
2. Mr. John R. Cornwell, Assistant Secretary and Los Angeles Branch Manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund; a member of the Board of Administration since the inception of the system, and the present Vice President of the board.
3. Mr. Donald Gallagher, Counsel of the State Compensation Insurance Fund; a member of the board since January, 1943.

(e) An official of a life insurer, appointed by the Governor. The present incumbent is Mr. Walter C. Kennedy, Vice President of the California-Western State Life Insurance Company.

(f) An official of a bank, appointed by the Governor. The present incumbent is Mr. Harold H. Robinson, President of the Merchants National Bank of Sacramento.

Because of the sound actuarial basis on which the State Employees' Retirement System is established; because of the legal provision for actuarial investigations and valuations; and because of the high calibre of men heading its board of administration and actuarial and administrative staffs, the actuarial soundness and financial integrity of the system are beyond question. This does not mean, however, that the provisions of the present law provide the assurance of adequate retirement allowances to members of the system, nor that the system is successfully achieving its purposes, as set forth above.

In its findings of fact, this committee has indicated the manner in which the benefits payable under the system fall short of the minimum standards now generally recognized as essential to the accomplishment of the purposes for which any public employees retirement system is established. In Exhibit A of the Appendix are summarized the provisions of the various legislative bills now before the 1947 Legislature, which, in the committee's opinion, and in the light of its findings, will obviate the outstanding inequities and deficiencies of the system.

IV. RETIREMENT ALLOWANCE FOR CURRENT SERVICE

Components of Retirement Allowance—Annuity and Pension

The law now provides for a Service Retirement Annuity, to be provided by the accumulated normal contributions of the member, and a Current Service Pension, to be paid for by the State and defined by law as equal to the Service Retirement Annuity. The sum of such annuity and pension represents the retirement allowance for current service.

Statutory Formula Since October 1, 1945

Since October 1, 1945, the law has provided that the Retirement Board shall fix rates of normal contributions for state miscellaneous members, sufficient to provide, upon retirement at the normal retirement age of 60, a Service Retirement Annuity equal to 1/120 times number of years of current service times average compensation earnable by the member during the five years immediately preceding his retirement. This annuity, plus the Current Service Pension provided by the State in an equal amount, are intended to provide, upon retirement for service at age 60, a retirement allowance for current service equal to 1/60 times number of years of current service times average compensation earnable by the member during the five years immediately preceding his retirement. For retirement at ages above or below age 60, the retirement allowance is actuarially increased or decreased.

For the reasons which will be given in this report, the present provisions of the Retirement Law render impossible of realization the retirement allowance goal contained in the rate-fixing directive referred to above.

Furthermore, the present statutory formula and normal retirement age which have been in effect since October 1, 1945, apply only to rates fixed by the board since that date; and will therefore affect only those benefits relating to state service since October 1, 1945.

Statutory Formula Before October 1, 1945

Prior to October 1, 1945, the law provided for a normal retirement age of 65 (instead of age 60, as at present); and the normal rates of contribution for state miscellaneous members were required to be such as would provide, upon retirement for service at age 65, a Service Retirement Annuity equal to 1/140 (instead of 1/120, as at present) times the average compensation earnable by the member during the five years immediately preceding his retirement. This annuity, plus the Current Service Pension provided by the State in an equal amount, were intended to provide, upon retirement for service at age 65, a retirement allowance for current service equal to 1/70 (instead of 1/60, as at present) times the number of years of current service times the average compensation earnable by the member during the five years immediately preceding his retirement.

It will be observed that the statutory formula and normal retirement age which were in effect until October 1, 1945, were the ones on which all contribution rates for state miscellaneous members were calculated prior to that date; and are the ones, therefore, which, notwithstanding the October 1, 1945, changes in formula and normal retirement age, continue to determine the retirement benefits payable to members with respect to all state service from January 1, 1932 to October 1, 1945.

Effect of 1945 Legislation on Members' Rates

The lowering of the normal retirement age from 65 to 60, and the increase in the fraction used in the formula, from 1/70 to 1/60, were provided by Chapter 1265, Statutes of 1945 (Senate Bill No. 51—Judah and Jespersen), effective October 1, 1945. As a result of these statutory changes, the normal contribution rates for state miscellaneous members were increased nearly 50 percent over the rates in effect prior to the change. In Exhibit B of the Appendix of this report are set forth the rates of normal contributions for state miscellaneous members, before and after October 1, 1945.

Reason for 1945 Legislative Changes—Minimum Retirement Standards

The changes in normal retirement age and formula effected by Chapter 1265, Statutes of 1945, were adopted by the Legislature in recognition of the fact that the minimum standards of a public employees' retirement system which will successfully accomplish the objectives of the system for the benefit of both employer and employee are those which will provide for half-pay after 30 years service (1/60 x 30 years service), upon retirement at age 60, with proportionately increased or reduced benefits for retirement above or below age 60, based on actuarial calculations. Experience has demonstrated that with a lower standard, employees will not retire from service when their value to the employer has diminished as a result of superannuation.

Theoretical Deficiency Due to Change in Formula

Because the accumulated contributions of all state miscellaneous members having service prior to October 1, 1945, reflected the effect of contribution rates based on a substandard formula prior to that date, a theoretical deficiency exists in each of said accumulated contribution amounts, representing the difference between the actual amount accumulated, and the amount which should now be accumulated to the credit of the employee, if he is to receive the benefit of the present normal retirement age and formula, in the calculation of his entire retirement allowance for current service at the time of his retirement.

Interest Rates and Mortality Tables

In calculating contribution rates, current interest rates and mortality tables are employed. The interest rate employed in the calculation of the normal contribution rates of members is fixed by the board, from time to time, in the light of the interest rate earned by the investments of the State Employees' Retirement Fund. Since January 1, 1932, the following rates have been fixed by the board:

January 1, 1932 to June 30, 1938	4%
July 1, 1938 to June 30, 1941	3½%
July 1, 1941 to June 30, 1944	3%
July 1, 1944 to present	2½%

Furthermore, effective July 1, 1944, a revised mortality table was adopted by the board, reflecting longer life expectancies than those previously employed.

Theoretical Deficiency Due to Reductions in Interest Rate

Each revision downward in interest rate has resulted in a theoretical deficiency in the accumulated contributions of the member, measuring the extent to which his accumulated contributions fall short of the amount they should be, if he is to be able to retire at the normal age of retirement and receive a retirement allowance equal to that contemplated by the formula on which his rates of contribution were determined.

Theoretical Deficiency Due to Revision of Mortality Tables

Each revision of the mortality tables to embody longer life-expectancies results in a theoretical deficiency in the accumulated contributions of the member, equal to the difference between such actual accumulation and the amount it would have been, had the current mortality table been the one always used in fixing contribution rates. This theoretical deficiency prevents the member, upon retirement, from receiving an allowance based on the formula contained in the law.

Theoretical Deficiency Due to Changes in Salary Levels

In fixing normal contribution rates for each age of entry into the Retirement System, the board must estimate, at the time a member first enters the system, the ratio which his "final compensation," immediately preceding his retirement, will bear to the average compensation which he will earn during his entire membership in the system. This forecasting is made by the actuary from statistical analysis of the past experience data of the system; and members' normal contribution rates are calculated on the basis of "progress curves" resulting from such studies. These "progress curves" are reviewed and revised, from time to time, on the basis of later experience, as revealed in connection with quadrennial valuations of the system. The contribution rates of members are subject to revision on the basis of changes made in the "progress curves" previously employed. Such revision, however, applies only to contribution rates applicable to future service; and has no effect on benefits obtainable with respect to past service, which are based on the rates of contribution previously employed.

As a result of the increase in the general level of state salaries, due to revisions of salary ranges and cost-of-living adjustments, the "progress curves" used in past years in calculating contribution rates have proved inadequate. This has resulted in a further theoretical deficiency in the accumulated contributions of state miscellaneous members, equal to the difference between such actual accumulation, and the amount it would now be had the rates of contribution always been fixed on the basis of "progress curves" calculated in the light of today's knowledge. This theoretical deficiency, like the others, causes the retirement allowance to fall below the amount contemplated by the statutory formula.

Effect of Inadequate Allowances Available Upon Retirement

The state miscellaneous members, as a result of the causes set fortn above, are, in general, remaining in service beyond the normal retirement age, because the allowances granted under the present provisions of the law are hopelessly inadequate to meet minimum subsistence standards.

Law Does Not Assure Allowance Based on Statutory Formula

The Retirement Law does not, at present, contain any assurance to a member of the system that he will receive a retirement allowance in the full amount indicated by the present statutory formula (i.e., 1/60 times years of service times "final compensation"). Instead, the statutory formula is merely a goal, provided by law since October 1, 1945, for the board to observe in fixing contribution rates after that date. Nevertheless, as a result of its investigations, this committee has found that until very recently, the great majority of state employees believed that they were, in fact, assured a retirement allowance in the full amount of the formula. Nearly every printed statement of benefits under the system, which has been available to its members, has read substantially as follows:

> "Allowance upon Service Retirement—If retired at age 60, allowance of approximately 1/60 of average salary earnable during five years immediately preceding retirement, for each year of future service, that is, service after January 1, 1932, as a member of the system, * * *" etc.

Connoted by the word "approximately" in the above quotation are all of the factors which have caused the retirement allowances to fall below the statutory goal.

Necessity for Statutory Assurance That Allowance Will Meet the Formula

An assurance by the State that the member, upon retirement at normal age of retirement, would receive a retirement allowance for current service equal to that contemplated by the present statutory formula, is the only means whereby employees may plan in advance for their retirement, with a definitely assured financial goal which will not be subject to change.

Unless such an assurance is provided in the law, it is probable that the system will not, in general, accomplish its fundamental purposes.

Recognition of Need for Statutory Assurance

The necessity for such an assurance has gained recognition in recent years. In his "Analysis of Retirement Plans for State Employees," Mr. A. A. Weinberg, a nationally recognized consulting actuary, recommended, with reference to the California State Employees' Retirement System, that "consideration be given to the elimination of the variables which now influence the formula for the computation of the retirement benefit by providing for a fixed rate of benefit of a certain percentage of average earnable compensation per year of service. Under such a formula, the employees would receive at retirement a fixed rate of benefit which would remain unchanged under any and all conditions and would not be influenced by fluctuations in the rate of interest or other factors. Any such fluctuations would be absorbed in the employer's contributions."

San Francisco Retirement Law Assures Full Benefits Under Formula

The necessity for an assured retirement allowance was recently recognized by the voters of the City and County of San Francisco, who in the last general election, adopted Charter Amendment No. 3, revising the retirement system of that city and county to provide an assured retirement allowance, upon retirement at age 60, equal to $1\frac{2}{3}$ percent (i.e., $\frac{1}{60}$) times number of years of service times final compensation. This is the same assured formula for normal retirement at age 60 that is provided by Assembly Bill No. 1224. (See Exhibit A of Appendix.)

Results to Be Achieved by Adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1224

The adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1224 would eliminate the defects of the present law with respect to the retirement allowance for current service payable to state miscellaneous members, and is probably the only means whereby the objectives of the system can be successfully accomplished with respect to the majority of members now in state service.

The adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1224 involves the assumption by the State of the existing theoretical deficiency in accumulated contributions. If the trend of interest rates goes up in the future, theoretical excesses will build up which will partially offset the amount of the theoretical deficiency, as it is calculated today.

Theoretical Deficiency to Be Amortized Over Future Years

The assumption by the State of the existing theoretical deficiency will not require the immediate transfer of the total amount of such deficiency to the State Employees' Retirement Fund. The theoretical deficiency will be amortized over future years by an increase in the present state rate of contribution. The amount of this increase in state rate of contribution is now being determined by Mr. Ralph R. Nelson, the system's actuary, in connection with the quadrennial valuation of the system now in process. This data is expected to be available to the 1947 Legislature during the latter part of April.

V. RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES NOW BEING PAID

Tables and Charts Show Inadequacy of Present Benefits for Service Retirement

The inadequacy of the present provisions of the retirement law, and the pressing need for the adoption of a statutory assurance that a retirement allowance measured by the present statutory formula will be paid upon retirement, is clearly demonstrated by Chart No. 1 printed below. In this chart is set forth a "frequency distribution" showing the number of state employees receiving service retirement allowances within various ranges, as of November, 1946.

Median Retirement Allowance—$38.55 per month

The committee believes that the above charts and tables speak louder than words in demonstrating the need for remedial legislation.

Prior Service Pension for Those Retiring Since October 1, 1945

For a state miscellaneous member who, on or after October 1, 1945, retired for service at age 60 with credit for prior service, the prior service pension payable to him by the State is a pension equal to 1/60 times number of years of prior service (i.e., before January 1, 1932) times average compensation earnable during three years immediately preceding January 1, 1932. If he retires below age 60, his prior service pension is reduced actuarially to the amount which the value of the pension, as deferred to age 60, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

Prior Service Pension for Those Retiring Before October 1, 1945

For a state miscellaneous member who, prior to October 1, 1945, retired for service at age 65 with credit for prior service, the prior service pension payable to him by the State is a pension equal to 1/70 times number of years of prior service times average compensation earnable by him during three years immediately preceding January 1, 1932. If such a member retired below age 65, his prior service pension was reduced actuarially to the amount which the value of the pension, as deferred to age 65, would purchase at the actual age of retirement.

Inequities in Application of Prior Service Pension

When the 1945 legislation lowered the normal age of retirement from 65 to 60 and increased the fraction in the prior-service pension formula from 1/70 to 1/60, the liberalized provisions of the law were not made applicable to those who had previously retired. Those persons, therefore, who retired for service before October 1, 1945, with credit for prior service, receive smaller retirement allowances than they would now be receiving, under the same conditions, had they remained in state service until October 1, 1945.

Minimum Guarantee Since October 1, 1945

State miscellaneous members who retired for service after October 1, 1945, at age 65 with credit for 20 years of service, or at age 70 with credit for prior service, receive retirement allowances based on a minimum guarantee of $60 per month.

Minimum Guarantee Before October 1, 1945

State miscellaneous members who retired for service before October 1, 1945, at age 70 with credit for prior service are receiving retirement allowances based on a minimum guarantee of $40 per month.

Inequities in Application of Minimum Guarantee

When the 1945 legislation increased the minimum guarantee in the retirement allowance from $40 to $60 per month, and extended this guarantee to those persons who retire for service at age 65 with credit for 20 years of service, as well as to those retiring at age 70 with credit for prior service, the liberalized minimum-guarantee provisions of the law were not made applicable to those who had previously retired. Those persons, therefore, who would have been affected by the new provisions relating to the minimum guarantee, are receiving smaller retirement allowances than they would have received, under the same conditions, had they not retired until after October 1, 1945.

Disability Retirement Allowance Since October 1, 1945

After October 1, 1945, the disability retirement pension, payable by the State, has been defined as "such an amount as with that portion of his annuity provided by his accumulated normal contributions, will make his disability retirement allowance equal:

(a) Ninety percent of one-sixtieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service credited to him; or

(b) If the disability retirement allowance computed under subdivision (a) does not exceed one-fourth of his final compensation, 90 percent of one-sixtieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service which would be creditable to him were his service to continue until attainment by him of age 60, but in such case the retirement allowance shall not exceed one-fourth of such final compensation.

Disability Retirement Allowance Before October 1, 1945

Prior to October 1, 1945, the disability retirement allowance for state miscellaneous members was defined as at present; except that the fraction, "1/70," was provided by law, instead of the "1/60" now contained in the statutory formula.

Inequities in Application of Disability Retirement Allowance

When the 1945 legislation increased the fraction in the disability retirement allowance formula from 1/70 to 1/60, the increased fraction was not made applicable to those who had previously retired. Those persons, therefore, who have retired for disability prior to October 1, 1945, are receiving smaller disability retirement allowances than they would have received, under the same conditions, had they remained in state service until October 1, 1945.

Present Inequities Represent Manifest Injustice

It is a manifest injustice that state employees who retired prior to October 1, 1945, should receive smaller retirement allowances than do those who retired thereafter under the same conditions.

Results to Be Achieved by Adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1223

The adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1223 would remedy the obvious injustices set forth above. This bill precludes, as to future payments, any prejudice in the retirement allowance received by a state miscellaneous member because of the date of his retirement, by providing that after its effective date, he shall receive a current and prior service pension, or a disability retirement allowance, equal to that which he would have received had the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law, as they exist on said effective date, been in effect on the date of his actual retirement. The provisions of this bill are not retroactive, and would have no effect on benefit payments heretofore made to retired members of the system.

VI. LIMITATION ON SALARIES SUBJECT TO COMPUTATIONS UNDER THE RETIREMENT LAW

Statutory Limitations in Fixed Dollars Economically Unsound

Because our national economy is not based on a stable dollar, the adoption of statutory or constitutional limitations in terms of a fixed number of dollars is an unsafe and unsound policy.

Retirement Law Has $416.66 Maximum Limitation on Salaries Subject to Contributions

The State Employees' Retirement Law has always provided, and now provides, that salaries of members in excess of $416.66 per month are excluded from all computations thereunder. This means that normal contributions of a member are made only on the amount of his salary up to $416.66 per month.

Present Statutory Maximum Has Become Obsolete

When the retirement law was adopted in 1931, $416.66 per month was the salary of all constitutional officers except the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. Very few state employees received salaries approaching that amount. However, from 1931 to the present time, the decrease in the purchasing value of the dollar, and the accompanying increase in living costs has caused a progressive increase in the salaries of state employees. As a result, today many state employees receive salaries considerably in excess of $416.66 per month; although the actual purchasing power of such salaries is probably no more than that reflected by the correspondingly lower salaries of 16 years ago.

Retirement Benefits Must Be Related to Previous Standard of Living

It is essential to the successful accomplishment of the purposes of any retirement system that the retirement benefits payable thereunder bear some reasonable relationship, in terms of purchasing power, to the earnings upon which the member's standard of living, prior to retirement, has been based.

Contributions Should Be Based on Entire Salary

Unless a member's contributions, and all computations involved in calculating his retirement benefits, are based on his entire compensation, the retirement allowance to which such a member will become entitled at the age of retirement will be too small, in relation to his previous standard of living, to enable him to retire without excessive hardship. As a result, such a member can be expected to remain in state service, and in practice, does remain in service, beyond the age at which he should be expected to retire; thus defeating one of the major objectives for which the Retirement System is maintained.

It Is Particularly Important That Higher-Salaried Employees Should Retire When Superannuated

From the standpoint of the public's benefit, it is more important that a higher-salaried member of the system be able to retire when his usefulness has been diminished by superannuation, than that a routine clerk should remain in service after he is no longer efficient. It is obvious that the higher-salaried employee, whose duties involve administrative responsibility, the formulation of policy, and the making of decisions, will cause considerably more loss to his employer, if "retired on the job" instead of under the Retirement System, than will a clerk whose duties are merely routine.

Results to Be Achieved by Adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1221

Assembly Bill No. 1221 would correct the defect in the Retirement System resulting from the $416.66 maximum limitation on salaries subject to computations under the act, by eliminating such maximum from the law, with respect to future periods, and by providing for its elimination, as to the period from January 1, 1932, until the adoption of the bill, in the case of those members who elect to pay into the State Employees' Retirement Fund the additional normal contributions they would have made, had there never been a maximum prescribed by law, together with the additional interest that would have been credited to their accounts under such assumption.

VII. EFFECT OF ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 1221 AND 1224 ON CONTRACTING AGENCIES

Public Agencies May Contract With Retirement System

Under the provisions of the State Employees Retirement Law, any public agency may participate in, and make all or part of its employees members of, the State Employees' Retirement System.

"Public Agency" is defined by the law to mean "any city, county, district, other local authority or public body of or within the State of California," and includes the office of county superintendent of schools with respect to its employees whose compensation is not paid from county funds.

Contracts With Public Agencies Do Not Involve Cost to State

The contract with a public agency provides for the payment of the resulting costs by the agency and its employees, as determined by actuarial studies and valuations made by the system's actuary at the expense of the contracting agency.

Contracting agencies pay into the Retirement Fund the pro rata portion of the administrative cost of the system, as determined by the Retirement Board.

Contributions are made to the Retirement Fund by the public agency and its employees, to cover the respective costs of benefits which are to be borne by the public agency, as employer, and by its employees, as members.

Contracts Not Approved Until Election Is Held

Under the law, the Retirement Board cannot approve a contract with a public agency until an election has been held to permit the employees of the public agency to express, by secret ballot, their approval or disapproval of the proposal that they be included in the system.

Contract Includes Firemen, Policemen and Other Employees, Except as Excluded by Agreement

The contract is required to include in the Retirement System all firemen, policemen, and other employees of the contracting agency, except as exclusions, in addition to the exclusions applicable to state employees, may be agreed to by the agency and the Retirement Board.

Such exclusions must be based on groups of employees, such as by departments, duties or age, and not on individual employees.

Contract Benefits Based on Present Retirement Law

The benefits to be provided by contract for employees of contracting agencies are based on the formulas and provisions now or heretofore set forth in the Retirement Law as applicable to state employees.

Under the present provisions of the law, employees of contracting agencies, like state employees, have no assurance that their retirement allowances will meet the statutory formula.

Under the present provisions of the law, there is a $416.66 per month maximum on the salaries of contract members subject to contributions under the system.

Application of Assembly Bills 1221 and 1224 to Contract Members

Assembly Bills 1221 and 1224, if adopted, will not apply to contracting agencies nor to their employees who are members of the system, unless and until the agency elects to be subject to such provisions by amendment to its contract; except that an election among the employees is not required. Contracts made after the effective date of these bills may, by express provision, make the contracting agency subject to the provisions of such legislation.

Employees of All Public Agencies Vitally Interested in Adoption of Assembly Bills 1221 and 1224

The employees of all contracting agencies, and indeed, of all public agencies whose employees look forward to the time when they, too, will become members of the State Employees' Retirement System, are vitally interested in and affected by the adoption of Assembly Bills 1221 and 1224; because the contracts under which they became, or will become, members of the system cannot be amended or executed to provide assured retirement allowance benefits, and to provide that the entire salaries of such members shall be subject to normal contributions, until the provisions of these bills have first been adopted by the Legislature.

There Were 142 Contracting Agencies as of March 4, 1947

As of March 4, 1947, a total of 142 public agencies have contracted to participate in the State Employees' Retirement System. Pursuant to these contracts, a total of 13,658 employees of public agencies were members of the system, as of June 30, 1946. From July 1, 1946 until March 4, 1947, an additional 1,750 employees have become members of the system pursuant to the execution of contracts during that period.

In Exhibit C of the Appendix of this report is set forth a table listing the public agencies participating in the State Employees' Retirement System as of March 4, 1947. This table gives the effective dates of such participation, and the number of employees affected thereby as of July 1, 1946, or on the effective date of participation, if after July 1, 1946.

VIII. MEMBERSHIP OF THE STATE EMPLOYEES' RETIREMENT SYSTEM

As of June 30, 1946, the membership of the State Employees' Retirement System was as follows:

State-employee members	Number of persons
Miscellaneous members	30,963
Patrol members	978
Warden members	134
Total state employee members	32,075
Public agency members	13,658
Total membership, June 30, 1946	45,733

IX. PROVISIONS OF ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 1220 TO 1224, INCLUSIVE

Assembly Bills 1220 to 1224 Would Result in Attainment of System's Objectives

It is the considered opinion of this committee, in the light of the facts set forth above, that the provisions of Assembly Bills Nos. 1220, 1222, 1223 and 1224, if adopted by the 1947 Legislature, will properly and effectively correct the existing inequities and shortcomings of the State Employees' Retirement System, and will result in the attainment of the major objectives for which the system was established. Upon the adoption of these bills, the necessary adjustment in the present state-rate of contribution should be effected by the adoption of Assembly Bill No. 1221.

Bills Have Been Prepared Under Actuary's Supervision

Assembly Bills. Nos. 1220 to 1224, inclusive, have been carefully prepared, with the advice and assistance of Mr. Ralph R. Nelson, Actuary for the State Employees' Retirement System. As a result, the provisions of these bills are sound from an actuarial and technical standpoint.

Bills Have Been Experted by Legislative Counsel Bureau

These Assembly bills have been carefully checked and experted by Mrs. Harriett R. Buhler, Deputy Legislative Counsel, who is the Legislative Counsel Bureau's expert on the State Employees' Retirement Law. As a result, the provisions of these bills are correct from the standpoint of legal phraseology and effect.

SUMMARY OF COMMITTEE'S FINDINGS

1. State Employees' Retirement System Financially Sound

The State Employees' Retirement System is based on sound actuarial principles, and has been ably administered since its inception.

2. Present Law Does Not Assure Adequate Retirement Allowance

The present provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law do not afford the assurance of adequate retirement allowances to members of the system; because the formula contained in the law is merely a guide to the board in fixing rates, and provides no assurance to the member that his actual retirement allowance will meet the formula.

3. Employees Should be Able to Plan for Definite Retirement Goal

A definite assurance under the law that the member, upon retirement, will receive an allowance equal to that contemplated by the statutory formula, is the only means whereby employees may plan in advance for their retirement, with a definite and assured financial goal.

4. Assurance Should be Based on Present Statutory Formula

Any assurance provided by law with respect to the allowance payable at retirement should be based on the statutory formula now contained in the Retirement Law; since this formula, providing for half pay after 30 years of service at age 60, with proportionate increases or decreases, actuarially calculated for other ages, represents the minimum standard of retirement benefits which will successfully accomplish the purposes for which the system was established.

5. Employees Have Believed the Law Provided an Assured Formula

Because of the highly technical provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law, and because of the manner in which these provisions have heretofore been described in official explanations available to members, the great majority of state employees, including most of those now retired, have believed that the law did, in fact, assure the payment of retirement allowances in the full amount indicated by the formula.

6. Cost to State of Providing Assured Benefits Should be Amortized over Future Years

The cost resulting from the adoption of provisions to assure benefits meeting the present statutory formula should be borne entirely by the State, and should be amortized over future years by an increase in the future state rate of contribution.

7. Basis of 50-50 Participation in Cost to be Maintained

The adoption of provisions for assured benefits, and the assumption of the cost of the present theoretical deficiency by the State, will not alter the basic principle of the State Employees' Retirement Law, under which the cost of all retirement allowances for current service is borne, one-half by the member and one-half by the State. It will, however, clarify the time at which the 50-50 allocation of such cost is determined; and will establish the sound and equitable principle that the 50-50 allocation of costs between the member and the State shall be determined, as to members' contribution rates, at the time such rates are fixed by the Retirement Board. The guarantee of a definite formula of benefits is merely a guarantee that this principle shall be observed.

8. Present Allowances Below Minimum Subsistence Standards

The retirement allowances now paid to those already retired are below minimum subsistence standards.

9. Members Who Retired before October 1, 1945 Receive Smaller Allowances than Others

Members who retired for service or disability prior to October 1, 1945, are receiving smaller prior service pensions and disability retirement allowances than do those who retired after October 1, 1945, under the same conditions.

Members who retired for service prior to October 1, 1945, and were affected by the minimum guarantee provisions of the law receive smaller retirement allowances than do those who, under the same conditions, retired after October 1, 1945, when more liberal minimum guarantee provisions became effective.

10. Prior Service, Disability, and Minimum Guarantee Benefits Should be Applied Under Uniform Provisions

All members retired for service or disability should receive prior service pensions, disability retirement allowances and minimum-guarantee benefits based on the same statutory provisions.

11. Present $416.66 Maximum Obsolete

Because of the decrease in the purchasing value of the dollar which has occurred since 1932 when the Retirement Law became effective, the $416.66 per month statutory maximum on salaries of members subject to computations under the law has become obsolete, and this has demonstrated the fallacy of enacting statutory limitations in terms of a fixed number of dollars.

12. Higher-Salaried Members Cannot Obtain Sufficient Benefits to Cause Retirement upon Superannuation

Because of the statutory maximum on salaries subject to members' normal contributions, it is impossible, under the present provisions of the law, for a member whose salary exceeds $416.66 per month to acquire the right, at retirement, to an allowance bearing a necessary ratio to his previously accustomed standard of living. As a result, such a member generally remains in state service beyond the age at which he should retire; thus defeating one of the major objectives of the system.

13. Entire Salary Should be Included in Calculations

The Retirement Law should be amended to provide that all calculations shall be based on the entire salary of the member, with respect to future periods, and to make the same provisions, with respect to the period from January 1, 1932 until the adoption of the bill, in the case of those members who elect to pay into the State Employees' Retirement Fund the additional normal contributions they would have made had there never been a maximum prescribed by law, together with the additional interest that would have been credited to their accounts under such assumption.

14. Assembly Bills Nos. 1220 to 1224 Technically Correct

Assembly Bills Nos. 1220 to 1224, inclusive have been carefully prepared for the purpose of correcting the existing inequities and shortcomings of the State Employees' Retirement System, and have been checked, as to technical and legal correctness, by the actuary and the Legislative Counsel Bureau.

15. Employees of Other Public Agencies Affected by Bills Under Consideration

The adoption of Assembly Bills Nos. 1221 and 1224 is of interest, not only to state employees, and to more than 15,000 employees of 142 public agencies who are contract members of the system, but to the employees of all public agencies in this State, who look forward to the time when they, too, will become members of the State Employees' Retirement System; because the adoption of these bills will permit amendment or execution of contracts with public agencies that desire to come under the provisions of such bills.

16. Adoption of Assembly Bills Nos. 1220 to 1224 will Enact into Law Provisions Essential to the Accomplishment of the System's Objectives

The adoption of Assembly Bills No. 1220 to 1224 inclusive will, in the considered opinion of this committee, remedy the existing inequities in the system, and will enact into the law such assurances and other provisions as are essential to the successful accomplishment of the purposes for which the State Employees' Retirement System was established.

Summary of the Provisions of Assembly Bills Nos. 1220 to 1224, Inclusive, Referred to in the Attached Report

The effective date of each of the bills summarized below is the first day of the first month next succeeding the ninetieth day after the final adjournment of the Fifty-seventh Regular Session of the Legislature.

Assembly Bill No. 1220 (Stephenson)

This is an omnibus bill containing in one bill all of the provisions of Assembly Bills Nos. 1221 to 1224, inclusive.

Assembly Bill No. 1221 (Stephenson)

This bill provides as follows:

1. For any period of state service on and after the effective date of the bill, the entire compensation of a member of the State Employees' Retirement System shall be subject to normal contributions by the member, and shall be included in any computation to be made under the State Employees' Retirement Law.

2. For any period of state service prior to the effective date of the bill, any compensation of a member of the system in excess of $416.66 per month shall be excluded from any computation to be made under the Retirement Law, unless, prior to July 1, 1948, such member elects, by written notice filed with the Retirement Board, to pay into the State Employees' Retirement Fund, by lump sum payment or by pay roll deductions over a period not exceeding 36 months, (1) such additional amount as he would have contributed as a part of his normal contributions, assuming that the entire compensation earnable by him was subject to normal contributions during the entire period of his membership in the system, and (2) an amount equal to the additional interest which would have been credited to his account under such assumption. At the time of making the election, the member may elect to apply toward the additional amount payable by him pursuant to such election, any additional accumulated voluntary contributions with which he is entitled to be credited.

3. The provisions of this bill shall not apply to the employees of public agencies who are members of the State Employees' Retirement System by contract, such as cities, counties, districts, etc., (see Exhibit C of Appendix), unless such public agency elects to be subject to such provisions by amendment to its contract with the Board of Administration of the State Employees' Retirement System, or by express provision in its contract, if the contract is made after the bill takes effect.

Assembly Bill No. 1222 (Stephenson)

This bill provides for such revision of the present state rate of contributions (now 7.20 percent) as may be found necessary as a result of the quadrennial valuation of the Retirement System now being made pursuant to the provisions of Section 20127 of the Government Code, and as a result of such legislation affecting the system as may be adopted by the 1947 Legislature.

Assembly Bill No. 1223 (Stephenson)

This bill provides that the current and prior service pensions and the disability retirement pension for a state miscellaneous member who retired for service or disability prior to the effective date of this bill are,

for all payments due and payable to him for time beginning on said effective date, pensions derived from the contributions of the State equal to the current and prior service pensions or the disability retirement pension to which he would have been entitled had the provisions of the State Employees' Retirement Law, as they exist on said effective date, been in effect on the date of his actual retirement; provided, that no reduction in the total retirement allowance heretofore payable to such retired person shall be made as a result of this provision.

The bill provides that calculations of pensions under its provisions shall be made on the basis of current interest rate and mortality tables.

The effect of this bill is that after its effective date, all state miscellaneous members who have theretofore retired for service or disability will receive current and prior service pensions or disability retirement pensions calculated on the basis of the same statutory formula, regardless of date on which they retired. This bill is prospective only, and has no retroactive effect on retirement allowances paid prior to its effective date.

Assembly Bill No. 1224 (Stephenson)

This bill provides that upon retirement for service at age 60, a state miscellaneous member shall be assured a retirement allowance for current service equal to $\frac{1}{60}$ multiplied by number of years of current service multiplied by average compensation earnable by him during the five years immediately preceding his retirement; with proportionate increases or decreases, mathematically calculated from actuarial tables, for retirement above or below age 60.

Under the provisions of this bill, the current service pension paid for by the State would be the amount required to be added to the service retirement annuity purchased by the accumulated normal contributions of the member, in order that their total (i.e., the retirement allowance for current service) shall equal the specified amount.

This bill enacts into the law two tables of fractions, one for men and one for women, set forth opposite each of the possible ages on which service retirement may occur (i.e., ages 55 to 70 inclusive). The assured retirement allowance payable upon retirement at the normal retirement age of 60, would be multiplied by the fraction opposite the actual age of retirement (if other than age 60), in order to increase or decrease such retirement allowance to the amount payable at the actual age of retirement. Thus, for retirement below the normal age of 60, the amount payable is decreased by the application of the fraction, to allow for the additional life-expectancy after retirement during which the member will (theoretically) live to draw the allowance, and to allow for the fact that a member retiring below the normal retirement age will make correspondingly less contributions than if he had remained in state service until age 60. Likewise, for retirement at ages above 60, the retirement allowance otherwise payable at 60 would be increased by the appropriate fraction, in order to reflect the shorter life expectancy after retirement, and in order to reflect the fact that normal contributions are made by the member beyond the normal retirement age.

A maximum is placed upon the amount by which the retirement allowance payable at age 60 shall be increased actuarially for retirement at ages above 60, by the provision that the fractions in the table, for ages above 65, shall be the same as for age 65.

Under the provisions of this bill, the table of fractions shall be adjusted by the Retirement Board, from time to time, in accordance with such interest and mortality tables as the board may adopt with respect to members subject to the provisions thereof.

This bill further provides that employees of public agencies who are members of the State Employees' Retirement System by contract shall not be covered by the provisions of such bill unless the public agency elects to be subject to such provisions by amendment to its contract with the Retirement Board, or by express provision in its contract, if the contract is made after the bill takes effect.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, April 17, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS:

I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Assembly Bill No. 721, entitled "An act to amend Section 3051 of, and to add Section 3052 to, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the prevention and cure of blindness, and to the powers and duties of the Department of Social Welfare in connection therewith."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

Section 2 of the bill adds a new section to the Welfare and Institutions Code to permit the State Department of Social Welfare to carry out an educational program and research on the causes and cure of blindness, and directs the department to cooperate with school and health authorities in the examination of the eyes of school children. I am advised by the Director of the State Department of Social Welfare and by the Director of the State Department of Public Health that all of the functions described in this section are now being performed by the State Department of Public Health and the local health departments of our counties and cities.

Since these functions are now delegated to existing agencies, it is undesirable to cause confusion and duplication of effort by assigning the same duties to another agency. In the interest of efficient operation of government, and not because I have any objection whatever to the desirability of the service, I am vetoing this bill.

There is no objection on my part to the provisions of Section 1 of this bill amending Section 3051 of the Welfare and Institutions Code. Other bills are pending before the Assembly which could be used to reenact the provisions contained in Section 1 of this bill.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Dolwig:

The following opinion of the Legislative Counsel was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal in 10-point type:

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 17, 1947

Scope of the powers and duties of the Assembly Special Investigating Committee created by H. R. 144, of the 1947 Regular Session—No. 4165

Hon. Richard J. Dolwig
Assembly Chamber

DEAR MR. DOLWIG: H. R. 144, as adopted, appears on page 37 of the Assembly Journal for April 16, 1947. It directs the committee to ascertain, study and investigate "any and all matters relating to those certain charges against a Member of the Assembly which were referred to and considered by the Assembly, as appears in the Assembly Journal for April 15, 1947, commencing at page 22," and any and all matters "relating to pending legislation involved therein," and to "report thereon to the Assembly."

When we turn to page 22 of the Assembly Journal for April 15, 1947, we find nothing more definite than a reference to "the charges contained in the letter read" by one of the Members. I have inquired and am informed that there do not appear to be at the desk or in the custody of the Chief Clerk any documents which might serve to amplify and make definite and certain this reference which appears on page 22 of the Journal for April 15th.

Under these circumstances, it is not possible for me to define or describe with definiteness or certainty the nature and scope of the powers and duties of this committee. It is my advice that the committee refrain from acting and avoid incurring any expenditures until the purpose and scope of the investigation committed to it shall have been more definitely expressed and declared by a House Resolution supplementing or amending House Resolution 144.

It is essential to the functioning of a legislative investigating committee that the subject of the investigation be expressed with adequate certainty. Section 37 of Article IV of the Constitution authorizes the appointment of committees to ascertain facts and to make recommendations "as to any subject within the scope of legislative regulation or control." If and when a committee's powers are challenged, as when a witness refuses to appear or to respond to questions, the resolution creating the committee, and supplemental resolutions further defining the nature and scope of the investigation, are necessarily examined and interpreted by the courts in ascertaining the jurisdiction of the committee and the rights, duties, and privileges of the witness (Ex parte McCarthy (1866), 29 Cal. 395; Ex parte Lawrence and Levings (1897), 116 Cal. 298; In re Battelle (1929), 207 Cal. 227).

Yours very truly,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

The reason I did not vote on this bill was because, at the time the matter was presented, I was in San Francisco, on legislative business. A member cannot delegate another person to cast his vote for him. I would have voted "Yes".

EDWARD F. O'DAY

Inasmuch as I am a co-author of Assembly Bill No. 1593, had I not been detained in San Francisco because of sickness in the family, I should have given the bill an "Aye" vote.

COMMUNICATIONS

By the Chief Clerk:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

CALIFORNIA STATE FAIR
STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY, SACRAMENTO 9, April 21, 1947

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California State Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: Reference is made to your letter dated April 17, 1947, relative to the item numbering machine, and in reply to this letter may I state that the original machine has been replaced but it will be impossible for me to complete the electrically operated unit within the time specified in your letter.

The original resolution calling for the electrification of this unit was issued to the Bureau of Buildings and Grounds which is now the Division of Buildings and Grounds, and I being an employee of that department at that time was given the assignment to produce the machine There is no contract between the Assembly and myself, neither is there any contract between Buildings and Grounds and myself, and any refunding that may be desired should be directed to them and not to me personally

I will state, however, that as I feel a personal responsibility in the producing of this machine and that the greatest part of the equipment has been purchased, I do feel that it is my obligation to deliver such a machine to the Assembly. As there was no date or time limit mentioned or fixed in the original resolution, I do not feel that the Assembly should at this time, due to the fact of scarcity, press this issue as they have been doing.

The Assembly will, as soon as it is possible for me to construct such a machine, be furnished with an electrically operated item numbering machine satisfactory in its operation and at a cost considerably more than the original sum mentioned. This additional expense I have personally assumed

Very truly yours,

STATE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY
By W. H. EPPERSON
Superintendent of Buildings and Grounds

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT THAT REPORT OF ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON UNIFORM WORKING HOURS FOR STATE EMPLOYEES BE PRINTED

Mr. Thompson asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following Report of the Assembly Interim Committee on Uniform Working Hours for State Employees, be printed in the Journal, in 10-point type.

REPORT OF ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON UNIFORM WORKING HOURS FOR STATE EMPLOYEES

Your Interim Committee on Uniform Working Hours for State Employees met in Sacramento on February 24 and 25, and heard testimony on the various proposals pending before the Assembly for a 40-hour, uniform work-week for state employees.

The following letter from the Personnel Board to Governor Warren, issued on Friday, January 31, 1947, was read to the committee:

"To the Honorable Earl Warren, Governor of the State of California:

As a result of many requests from employees and representatives of employees who have advocated the establishment of a basic 40-hour week for state employees, the State Personnel Board during the year 1946 has continued to study the problem of the 40-hour week. Since the ultimate decision on the problem involves the appropriation of additional funds by the Legislature and since the problem has been placed before the Legislature through the introduction of certain bills, the State Personnel Board submits this report.

Extent of Problem

As of July 1, 1946 there were approximately 14,300 full time civil service employees who were eligible to be paid overtime or given compensating time off for hours worked in excess of 40 in one week; 1,030 employees who were required to work 44 hours per week before being eligible to receive overtime or compensating time off; 4,600 employees who worked 48 hours per week before being eligible to receive overtime or compensating time off; and 5,500 employees whose work week is not subject to an hourly limitation and who were not included in any plan of cash payment for overtime. The bulk of the employees required to work more than 40 hours in a week are in the Department of Mental Hygiene, Department of Corrections, Division of Forestry, and the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Changes in Hours Worked by Hospital Employees

Prior to January 1, 1947 most hospital employees in California were required to work more than 40 hours per week. Recently, *however, the employees in the University of California Hospital, and in hospitals maintained by the Counties of Los Angeles and San Francisco and by the Veteran's Administration of the Federal Government were changed to a 40-hour week. Effective early in January 1947, all employees of the principal private hospitals in Los Angeles and in the San Francisco Bay Area were placed on a 40-hour week with no reduction in pay.

Changes in Hours Worked by Other Institutional Employees

If any change is made in the hours worked by employees in the Department of Mental Hygiene it should be realized that there has long been a tradition to treat the employees of the Veteran's Home, of the Department of Corrections and of the Youth Authority on the same basis as the employees in the Department of Mental Hygiene, and that all of these employees should be treated alike. In addition, consideration may be given to the fact that employees of federal prisons are on a 40-hour week.

Changes in Hours Worked by Forestry Employees

Outside of the state service, the chief measure of prevailing practices for positions in the Division of Forestry is the United States Forest Service. Since July 1, 1945, the Federal Government employees have been on a 40-hour week.

Changes in Hours Worked by Police Officers

The majority of other state employees working more than 40 hours per week are the State Traffic Officers of the Department of Manufacturing industry and other service industries such as banks and public utilities have been on a 40-hour week for many years.

Cost of 40-Hour Week

The total estimated annual cost of placing all state employees on a 40-hour week will, based on the current number of employees, be approximately $4,400,000. This cost will be increased by additional employees provided in the budget for 1947-48.

The State Personnel Board has not given recent salary adjustments to the employees who would be affected by a change to a 40-hour week. It appears to be the general practice to leave the weekly or monthly salaries the same when a change is made from a 44- or 48-hour week to a 40-hour week. The board believes that the existing salaries for these employees are equitable for a 40-hour week. If present 44- and 48-hour work weeks are continued, however, the studies made by the State Personnel Board indicate that increases in pay should be made to the employees in the groups affected, in order to compensate them for the longer work week."

From the factual information contained in the foregoing letter, it conclusively appeared that the State of California was the only major public agency in the State that had not yet established a uniform workweek of eight hours per day for five days per week for all of its employees.

To fully ascertain the attitude of the various state departments which would be affected by establishing a uniform 40-hour week they were requested to have representatives appear before the committee.

The following persons representing departments, or divisions in departments, appeared and testified:

Norman Woodbury, Personnel Officer for the Department of Corrections
Ellsworth Frank, Administrative Officer of the Youth Authority
Jack Meyer, Assistant to the Secretary, Board of Equalization
Anson Crutcher, Chief, Capitol Police, Department of Finance
Ernest B. Camper, Administrative Aid, Division of Parks and Beaches
C. R. Clar, Chief Deputy State Forester, Division of Forestry
C. Raymond Cato, Chief of the California Highway Patrol
Ellis Groff and Jack O'Toole, of the Department of Finance
Kelvin Sharp, Chief of the Pay Unit, State Personnel Board
James H. Phillips, Attorney for the California State Employees' Association
James S. McCormack, representative of the American Federation of Labor.

With the exception of those from the Division of Forestry, none of the witnesses expressed opposition to a 40-hour week, if sufficient funds were made available to them to employ the additional help that would be made necessary by a reduction in hours, or to take care of overtime, if necessary to require employees to work longer than 40 hours a week.

Speaking in favor of adopting the uniform 40-hour week, some witnesses testified that their efforts to recruit competent help are being blocked because when veterans and others apply for work and are told that the jobs are 48 hours, six days a week, and some with night work, they decline to accept inasmuch as they can earn the same money elsewhere in 40 hours working only daytime.

All witnesses indicated that any departmental administrative difficulties involved in changing to 40 hours could be overcome.

The Division of Forestry presented a special problem to the committee because of the emergency character of its fire control work in summer time. It was pointed out that their men are on 24-hour call during the summer months. When they are not on regular duty they are on "stand-by" duty. Many times men are on regular duty for many hours in addition to their regular hours, when a fire is burning. The department stated that for several reasons a straight 40-hour week with overtime would be extremely difficult to administer and would be very costly.

The department presented a substitute proposal to wit: That for its department the 40-hour week be adopted by reducing the regular number of work days from six to five and instead of regular overtime, 25 percent be added to the salaries for the period of the regular fire season to compensate for all hours worked beyond 40 in any week and for the stand-by time.

James H. Phillips informed the committee that this proposal had been discussed with representatives of the employees in the department; that they recognized the administrative difficulties involved in paying overtime in their division and had approved the department's proposal.

In addition to the witnesses who testified in person, communications were read to the committee from the Director of the Department of Mental Hygiene, Professional and Vocational Standards, Agriculture and Industrial Relations stating that they were not opposed to the establishment of a 40-hour week.

The committee also received testimony on the question of whether overtime should be on a straight time or time and one-half basis, on the question of a differential for night work and the groups or classes which should receive overtime compensation.

On the subject of compensation for overtime, although the evidence established that nearly all of private industry pays time and one-half for time worked beyond eight hours in any one day and 40 hours in a week and that a number of public jurisdictions, including the Federal Government, do likewise, the committee was of the opinion that the prevailing practice in public agencies was not yet sufficiently established to justify recommending its adoption for the State of California at this time. The committee believed that the provisions now contained in Section 18021 and Section 18023 of the Government Code for paying straight time or compensating time off within six months should be retained for the present.

In the matter of paying a differential for night work the evidence established that the practice of paying a 10 percent bonus for night work is definitely the prevailing practice in private industry, and is applied in several public jurisdictions, yet is not clearly a prevailing practice in public agencies. There was some evidence that failure to do so in state service is a detriment to recruiting desirable employees for state service Your committee believes that this matter should also be left for consideration by a future Legislature.

The reason for the introduction of Assembly Bill No. 937 on holidays was presented to the committee It appears that the conditions upon which the bill is based exist in departments working 48 hours and when the work must be performed every day in the week including Sunday. The committee believes that the adoption of the 40-hour program will overcome the problem in part and that the departments and the Personnel Board by rule can adjust the balance of it and, therefore, legislation is not necessary at this session.

COST

The Director of the Department of Finance in the following letter presented figures on the probable cost of adopting the program recommended herein, which is Plan III of the letter.

April 21, 1947

Hon. Sam L. Collins, Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR SPEAKER: Pursuant to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 11 of the Fifty-sixth (Second Extraordinary) Session of the Legislature, I am transmitting herewith a statement of the estimated additional costs which would result from the inauguration of a uniform 40-hour week for state employees. These estimates apply to the 1947-48 Fiscal Year and represent the additional costs over and above the Governor's Budget for that year.

The estimates were prepared by the individual agencies and as a result contain certain inconsistencies due to variations of interpretation as to the complete effect of the 40-hour week upon the operations of the particular agency. The elimination of these inconsistencies would require clarification as to the specific provisions of the law and Personnel Board rules under which the 40-hour week would be made effective. Particularly necessary would be a definition of the extent to which the 40-hour week would be applicable to the so-called "Group Four" employees who are not now included in any plan of payment for overtime because their duties and responsibilities are such that they are not adapted to a maximum number of hours per week.

While these inconsistencies cast some doubt as to the estimates of certain individual agencies, it is believed that their effect on the over-all total is negligible. In our opinion the aggregate of the estimates represents a fair approximation of the total cost involved in putting a general 40-hour week into effect.

In addition to the basic plan set forth in the resolution, namely, a 40-hour individual work week base with compensation at the rate of time and one-half for overtime, we have secured cost estimates based on two possible modifications embodied in bills pending before the Legislature.

(a) Compensation for overtime at "straight time" rates, instead of time and one-half; and

(b) Exemption of the Division of Forestry's administrative and field personnel from the general 40-hour week provisions and adoption, instead, of their suggested "Plan B" under which the work week would be reduced from six days to five days, but employees would continue to be subject to call 24 hours per day during the fire season. In lieu of payment for overtime and "standby" service, such employees would be given flat percentage increases in salary ranging from 10 percent to 25 percent.

A summary of the cost estimates under the several plans is given below:

	Plan I Uniform 40-hour week With time and one-half for overtime	Plan II Uniform 40-hour week With straight time for overtime	Plan III Div. of Forestry @ Plan B— Other agencies @ Plan II

* Including $657,847 for flat increases to Forestry employees in lieu of overtime and "standby" compensation.

The detailed estimates of the several agencies are on file in the office of the Division of Budgets and Accounts and can be made available, if desired.

(Signed) JAMES S. DEAN
Director of Finance

In connection with the cost of changing to a basic 40-hour week, it appears that considerable additional money will have to be spent by the State by the way of making further salary increases in the amount of 20 percent of existing salaries to compensate for the sixth day of work in order to meet the prevailing rates of pay, if the 40-hour week is not adopted. This will have to be done by the Personnel Board in accordance with the requirements of Section 18850 of the Government Code, so that employees in the state service will be paid on the same basis as other employees in public jurisdictions and private industry doing like work and certainly to enable the departments to hold their present employees and recruit competent new ones in order to keep the State functioning efficiently. For example, the evidence show that nurses in private hospitals and other public jurisdictions now work 40 hours for a starting salary of $200. The State of California still works its nurses 48 hours for the same salary as the nurses elsewhere who work only 40 hours. It is self-evident that the State must either reduce the working hours of nurses to 40 hours for the same pay or increase the pay by 20 percent in order to keep and recruit nurses. The cost to the State will be approximately the same in either case.

On the question of which employees or classes of employees should be covered by the basic 40-hour week with overtime beyond 40 hours, all state employees are eligible for overtime in accordance with the present provisions of Sections 18020, 18021, and 18022 of the Government Code.

It is the prevailing practice in California to provide overtime for all employees in the major public agencies in California. The following is a list of the larger public agencies in California in employee competition with the State and the number of their employees covered by overtime provisions:

Alameda County—All employees
Federal Government—All employees
Los Angeles City—All employees
Los Angeles County—All employees
Los Angeles Water and Power District—
All employees (time and one-half for employees earning $423 per month or more—equal time for employees earning $423 or more)
City of Oakland—All employees
City and County of San Francisco—
All employees, except certain executive and supervisory classes)

In order to take care of the special problem of the Department of Forestry, and because it is believed that other special problems might develop in some of the departments which would make the general proposal for the 40-hour week with overtime at the regular rate of pay unworkable, we believe that the present law should be amended to give the Personnel Board authority to make exceptions to the general 40-hour week with overtime at the regular rate of pay in the cases where a proper showing can be made by the department of the necessity in the public interest for a different work week or rate of overtime compensation or method of allowing it.

Your committee believes that it is in the best interest of the state service and of the state employees that the basic 40-hour week be established as soon as possible and, therefore, the money necessary to establish it should be made available by July 1, 1947 so that those departments that are experiencing difficulty in recruiting and keeping employees may take the necessary steps to place their department on the basic 40-hour week as early as possible in order to be able to meet the competition of private industry and other public jurisdictions for competent employees and to bring the working conditions and hours of work of state employees up to the prevailing practice immediately.

RECOMMENDATIONS

Your committee recommends that:

1. Legislation be adopted at this session of the Legislature to establish a basic eight-hour day, five-day week for state employees paid on a monthly basis; that provisions be made for payment of straight time for overtime worked beyond eight hours per day or 40 hours per week with the alternative of compensating time off within six months; that the Personnel Board be given authority, upon proper showing of the necessity therefore in the public interest to provide a different work week or a different rate of pay or method of payment for overtime compensation for any class or classes in the civil service or any exempt employees.

2. That Assembly Bill No. 941, as amended, be enacted by this session of the Legislature.

3. That the funds necessary to establish the basic 40-hour work week be provided for in the present Budget Bill so that they can become available for use in establishing the 40-hour work week by July 1, 1947.

Your committee begs to submit the above report.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the passage of Senate Bill No. 1561:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, April 22, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

> Senate Bill No. 1561—"An act making an appropriation for public assistance, including aid to the aged, aid to the needy blind, and aid to needy children, to be expended under the conditions and upon the terms specified therein, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

The Department of Social Welfare advises me that Congress has not yet acted upon the Deficiency Bill, H.R. 2849, for the Social Security Administration. If this bill should not become law before May 1st, there will be no federal funds available for aged aid, blind aid, or children's aid. Under the provisions of our statutes which apply in the absence of federal funds, some 39,800 aged persons would be denied aid for lack of 15 years' residence, and a majority of the remaining 131,600 would have their grants reduced by $5.

Of the 6,300 blind persons estimated to receive aid during May and June, about 700 would not be eligible for residence reasons. Aid to needy children would continue in the same manner and for the same amounts as heretofore.

It is the opinion of the Director of Social Welfare that Congress will pass the Deficiency Bill, but not in sufficient time for it to be effective by May 1st. If no legislation is enacted and the State should operate under our present laws as though no federal funds were to be received, the State would not be eligible for reimbursement from the Federal Government as our requirements would be more restrictive than permitted under the federal act.

It is the director's suggestion that emergency legislation such as this bill be introduced to be passed before May 1st in order to provide state funds in an amount equal to anticipated federal funds for assistance for the months of May and June, with a provision for reimbursement when federal funds are received, and to provide that the eligibility conditions operative under the receipt of federal funds will remain effective during the months of May and June even though no federal funds may be received.

The amount of federal funds involved for the months of May and June to continue assistance on the present basis is as follows:

Assistance	May	June	Total
Aged	$4,200,375.35	$4,216,282 81	$8,416,658.16
Blind	155,260 80	156,646.89	311,907.69
Children	259,210.82	268,583.72	527,794.54
	$4,614,846.97	$4,641,513.42	$9,256,360.39

There is now available in the Social Welfare Fund approximately $103,000 of federal money. This amount is necessary as a reserve for adjustments in both assistance and administrative costs The figure of $9,256,360.39 represents the amount necessary to meet the federal share of assistance costs for the two months. It does not involve funds to meet the administrative costs of $480,294 67 for counties and $95.946 for the State, because it is believed that federal money will be available before the end of June.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 1561 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

The question being on the passage of Senate Bill No. 1561.

The roll was called, and the bill passed by the following vote:

AYES—Allen, Anderson, Beck, Bennett, Berry, Blosser, Boyd, Brown, Burke, Burns, Butters, Caldecott, Carey, Clarke, Collier, George D. Collins, Conrad, Cooke, Crowley, Lester T. Davis, M. Philip Davis, Debs, Dickey, Clayton A. Dills, Ralph C. Dills, Dolwig, Doyle, Elliott, Erwin, Field, Fletcher, Gaffney, Gannon, Grant, Grunsky, Hahn, Hawkins, Heisinger, Hinckley, Hinton, Hollibaugh, Huyck, James, Johnson, Kilpatrick, Kirkwood, Knight, Loomis, Lowrey, Luckel, Lyons, Maloney, McCollister, McMillan, Miller, Robertson, Rosenthal, Sheridan, Sherwin, Silliman, Stanley, Stephenson, Stewart, Thomas, Thompson, Thorp, Thurman, Waters, Weber, Wollenberg, and Mr. Speaker—71.

NOES—None.

Bill ordered transmitted to the Senate.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Brady:

House Resolution No. 159

Commending the State Capitol telephone operators

WHEREAS, The State Capitol switchboard serving state offices throughout the City of Sacramento is operated entirely by the State of California and is staffed by girls employed by the State; and

WHEREAS, The present emergency status of telephone service throughout the Country has made the task of these state telephone operators much more difficult because those operating the regular telephone exchanges are for the most part unfamiliar with the equipment and inexpert in telephone work, causing delays and interruptions in service; and

WHEREAS, The state telephone operators are working extra hard during this emergency to maintain efficiency of the Capitol service and to get the legislative calls through expeditiously in spite of the handicaps and difficulties of the emergency; and

WHEREAS, The Capitol telephone operators who staff the long distance switchboard in the second floor corridor, but are the operators employed by the State to operate the state switchboard which is housed in Room 216 of the Capitol, where in spite of inadequate equipment and office space, these state operators are doing a marvelous job for Assemblymen, Senators and state officials; now therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That Mrs. Cruz Wallquist, Chief Operator for the State Capitol, and the members of her able staff are hereby commended for the fine work they have done in maintaining the efficiency of the Capitol Exchange at all times and particularly during the present emergency, and for the patient and courteous manner in which their work is carried on; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of this Assembly transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Mrs. Cruz Wallquist and her assistants as a token of appreciation by the Members of this Assembly and as an expression of the pride which they take in the commendably high standard of efficiency set by this fine group of state employees.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, March 26, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 497—"An act to amend Section 27 of an act entitled 'An act making an appropriation for allocation to cities, counties, and cities and counties to develop a postwar public works program comprising the preparation of surveys and plans and specifications for proposed public works and the acquisition of rights of way and sites for major streets, roads, bridges, sewerage and other public facilities, and providing the procedure for making such allocations,' approved June 20, 1944, relating to postwar public works programs, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 497 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, April 24, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS:

I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Assembly Bill No. 67, entitled: "An act to add Section 18972.5 to the Government Code, relating to physical qualifications of veterans for state civil service."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill prohibits any person other than a physician designated by the Personnel Board, discussing with a disabled veteran the nature of his disability unless the applicant is claiming special preferential treatment because of such disability.

Although this bill is intended as a benefit to a disabled veteran in state service, in practice the result would, I believe, be the reverse. I have not been informed of any case where the State Personnel Board or any department of State Government has in any manner discriminated against a veteran because of his disability. On the contrary, the State Personnel Board has a Veterans Personnel Section with a staff of six veterans whose primary duty it is to recruit veterans for California state service. This section has had no complaint from any disabled veteran regarding any discrimination because of his disability. Instead, it has met with real success and cooperation from all state agencies in assisting disabled veterans to secure employment.

The Legislature at its last regular session enacted Section 19400 of the Government Code which permits the Personnel Board to place a veteran in another comparable classification without examination if it appears that he is unable to perform the duties in his present classification. The beneficial provisions of this section would be made difficult of use if the present bill should become law.

Because this bill would hamper the operation of the State in assisting veterans to adjust themselves to state employment without any corresponding benefit to the disabled veterans, I am returning it without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

Assembly Bill No. 67 ordered to unfinished business file.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Thomas:

The following opinion of the Legislative Counsel was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, April 25, 1947

Fish and Game Commission Report—No. 4180

Hon. Vincent Thomas
Assembly Chamber

DEAR MR. THOMAS: You have asked (1) whether the above report submitted on April 18, 1947, complies with House Resolution 118 adopted March 20, 1947; and (2) whether the report indicates that the commission has complied with Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code.

It is our opinion that the Fish and Game Commission Report submitted on April 18, 1947, with two exceptions, complies in all respects with House Resolution 118. This resolution, among other things, requests a classification of expenditures to show the amount of money expended for each of the objects indicated in Section 1019, Fish and Game Code, in each fish and game district established as such pursuant to law.

The report indicates compliance to the extent that expenditures are itemized and classified to show the amount expended for each of the objects specified in Section 1019 but no indication is made of the amount spent in each fish and game district. The report indicates expenditures by area only. Three areas, Northern California, Monterey, and Southern California, apparently include all of the State or all of the coastal cities in which fees are collected

The report calls attention to a similar report requested by the Senate in 1929 (Senate Journal May 7, 1929) which showed expenditures by areas, which was accepted without comment by that body.

Although the report includes an explanation of expenditures by area, it is our opinion that this method does not technically constitute compliance with Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code, which requires that all moneys collected under Article 2, Chapter 5, Part 2, of Division 4, shall be expended in the district from which the revenues are derived.

The second exception noted is that the report does not include "a full statement of accounting procedure followed" by the commission. This part of the request is answered with the explanation that the present accounting method has the approval of the Department of Finance.

The accounting for the Division of Fish and Game is done by the Departmental Accounting Section of the Department of Natural Resources over which the Division of Fish and Game and the Fish and Game Commission have no direct control.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By JOHN P. GLEESON, Deputy

By Mr. Thomas:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
DIVISION OF FISH AND GAME, April 18, 1947

Hon. S. L. Collins
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: Pursuant to House Resolution No. 118, dated March 20, 1947, there is transmitted herewith, in triplicate, a report setting forth in detail, the data requested by subject resolution.

This report has been compiled by the Department of Natural Resources, Accounting Section, which maintains all the accounting records of the Division of Fish and Game. Attorney General decision No. NS-5330, dated February 21, 1944, inhibits the establishment of a separate accounting system in the Division of Fish and Game independent from that in the Department of Natural Resources.

Sincerely yours,

EMIL J. N. OTT, JR., Executive Director

OFFICE MEMO
ACCOUNTING OFFICE
SACRAMENTO

DATE April 16, 1947

FROM D. H. Blood
TO Mr. Emil J. N. Ott, Jr.
Executive Director
Fish & Game Commission

DEAR SIR In accordance with Assembly House Resolution No. 118, there is submitted herewith the following information:

(a) An itemized accounting of all moneys expended pursuant to Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code since July 1, 1935, classified as to the object of such expenditure in accordance with the objects indicated in Section 1019. (See schedules attached.)

No classification to show the amount of money expended for each such object in each fish and game district established as such, has ever been kept. The reason for not keeping such classification is set forth in the explanation under (d) of this report.

(b) An itemized accounting of all moneys expended pursuant to the last sentence of Section 1015 and Section 1016.5 of the Fish and Game Code. (See schedules attached.)

(c) A complete explanation of the deficit shown in the report. (See statement attached.)

(d) A full statement of the accounting procedures followed in complying with Article 2 of Chapter 5 of Part 2 of Division 4 of the Fish and Game Code. (See statement attached.)

Very truly yours,

D. H. BLOOD, Deputy Director-Comptroller

(d) Statement Explaining Accounting Procedure

Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code directs the Fish and Game Commission to expend moneys collected from the fishpackers tax and the wholesale packers and shellfish dealers licenses "for the patrol of packing plants, inspection and regulation of the industry, and conservation work for the benefit of the commercial fishing industry within the district from which the revenue is derived."

The commission, through the Division of Fish and Game, has engaged in activities designed to carry out the mandate of this section which include the following:

Laboratory studies at Terminal Island
Water Project studies at the Central Valleys
Auditing of Fish Cannery Records
Marine Patrol of Ocean and Inland Waters
Special studies in restricted areas
Special studies of certain commercial fish

It can readily be seen that the activities and studies made at any one location benefited the commercial fishing industry throughout the State, and that in fact any attempt to restrict expenditures to those fish and game districts from which the revenue was derived was not feasible. The difficulty was emphasized when an attempt was made to determine where the revenue was derived.

Actual revenue collections are practically all taken at four localities, namely: San Francisco, Monterey, San Pedro, and San Diego. Yet to argue that these four localities should be the only ones in which tax and license money should be expended, would be to deny that the fish were caught in the ocean often beyond the three miles limit which demarks the boundary of the State.

Accordingly Section 1019 was interpreted as calling for the expenditure of funds within the areas dominated by the port cities where the collection is made. However, inasmuch as the activities enumerated above were for the most part not confined to specific areas, and because of their very nature, could not be so confined, a functional chart of expenditures was set up to account the moneys expended and the actual expenditures were prorated to the northern, central, and southern areas in the ratio of the average revenue collections for each district. The expenditures were further analyzed for direct charges to the objects referred to in Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code. Expenditures not directly chargeable to these objects were prorated between the objects.

In 1929 the Senate requested a statement similar to the one requested by your body, and accepted one showing the expenditures by areas without comment. (See Senate Daily Journal of May 7, 1929, Forty-eighth Session.)

The present method of accounting was approved by the Department of Finance, which is responsible for all system installations in the State.

(c) Statement Explaining Deficit Shown in the Report.

In preparing a statement of the revenue and expenditures of the objectives as indicated in Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code, it is necessary in comparing the revenue and expenditures to show the amount one exceeds the other. Perhaps the choice of the words deficit or surplus is misleading to the average person. We used the term deficit to mean that expenditures for the objectives exceeded the amount received from the tax and license provision of Section 1019.

There is no provision of the Fish and Game Code which prevents spending more money from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund for the objects of Section 1019, than is received from the funds designated for the purpose. Any excess expenditure for this purpose which we called a deficit of the designated or earmarked revenue came from other revenues which go into the Fish and Game Preservation Fund and which are not designated for any specific purpose.

For the period July 1, 1917 through June 30, 1935, there was received from the privilege tax and license as provided in Section 1019 $1,865,604.93. There was expended for the objects as provided in this section $2,476,612.68, an expenditure in excess of the designated revenue of $611,007.75 which we termed a deficiency of the designated revenue.

For the period July 1, 1935 through June 30, 1946, the revenue amounted to $3,362,061.46 and the expenditures amounted to $3,063,902.36, or an excess of revenue over expenditures of $298,159.10.

The total revenue for the period July 1, 1917 through June 30, 1946, amounted to $5,227,666.39, and the total expenditures for this period amounted to $5,540,515.04, or an excess of expenditures over revenue (which we called a deficit) in the amount of $312,848.65. In other words there has been an expenditure of $312,848.65 for the objects designated in Section 1019 of the Fish and Game Code which have been paid for out of other revenue in the Fish and Game Preservation Fund which was not designated for any specific purpose.

Although this excess of expenditures over revenue was labeled "deficit" in our previously submitted statement, it is not a deficit in the ordinary sense of there being a deficiency of funds to meet the requirements of Section 1019 and requires no action to liquidate it.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Lester T. Davis:

House Resolution No. 162

Relative to the maintenance of satisfactory flows in the Klamath River for the preservation and maintenance of steelhead and salmon

WHEREAS, The people of the State of California by initiative act in 1924 set aside that portion of the Klamath River and the waters thereof, following its meanderings from the confluence of the Klamath River and the Shasta River in the County of Siskiyou to the mouth of the Klamath River in Del Norte County as a district in which the construction and maintenance of dams or other artificial obstructions was prohibited; and

WHEREAS, This prohibition was made in order to provide for the movement of steelhead and salmon from the ocean to their spawning grounds and for the movement of young steelhead and salmon from the spawning grounds to the ocean; and

WHEREAS, This objective is in large part nullified by the operation of the hydroelectric plant of the California-Oregon Power Company, known as the Copco Plant, located approximately 18 miles upstream from the mouth of the Shasta River, and arises from the intermittent operation of said plant which permits a satisfactory flow of water in the Klamath River only at certain times of each day when said plant is operated for the production of electric power. This causes daily fluctuations in the flow of the river which vary from less than 100 cubic feet of water per second to over 2,000 cubic feet of water per second, and which thus causes the loss of thousands of fish by stranding; and

WHEREAS, It appears that the operations of the Copco Plant might be modified so as to reduce said fluctuations to a satisfactory degree, or a regulating dam might be constructed on the Klamath River between the Copco Plant and the mouth of the Shasta River; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That a request be directed to the Public Utilities Commission of California, asking it to prepare and supply a report as to whether it would be more practical and economically feasible to require the California-Oregon Power Company to modify their operations or to construct a regulating dam to reduce the present average daily range of artificial fluctuations of the flow of the Klamath River by not less than 50 percent, and that the Public Utilities Commission be requested to submit a report in response to the above request to the Assembly Interim Committee on Fish and Game not later than January 1, 1948; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly be directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Public Utilities Commission of California.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

RE-REFERENCE OF BILLS BY UNANIMOUS CONSENT

By unanimous consent, the Speaker ordered Senate Bill No. 810 withdrawn from the Committee on Public Morals, and re-referred to the Committee on Public Health.

By unanimous consent, the Speaker ordered Senate Bill No. 811 withdrawn from the Committee on Municipal and County Government, and re-referred to the Committee on Public Health.

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out line 1, and insert

"SECTION 1. Section 8.5 is added to the act cited in the title hereof, to read:

Sec. 8.5. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, the director may, from any money made available for the purpose, allocate to a local agency sufficient money to complete any project the housing facilities for which were made available by the National Housing Administrator and as to which the local agency and the Federal Public Housing Authority had a valid and subsisting contract on April 1, 1947, pursuant to which the Federal Government was obligated to construct or otherwise provide for housing and housing facilities for such project but the completion of which project was suspended by the Federal Public Housing Authority on or about December 27, 1946. The local agency shall not be required to meet any cost of such completion, and the director may allocate the full amount necessary to complete the project in the manner and to the extent that the Federal Government was obligated so to do. The local agency is not hereby relieved of its obligation to pay the amount provided to be paid by it in any contract heretofore or hereafter entered into with the State under this act

At the time of applying for an allocation under this section, the local agency shall supply, in addition to such other information as may be required by the director, a detailed estimate of cost of performing the uncompleted work and a complete inventory of property made available by the Federal Government for the project.

In order to obtain such allocation the local agency must agree with the director that it will pay or deliver to the State any money or other thing of value received from the Federal Government on account of the contract between the local agency and the Federal Government

The director may authorize the local agency to complete such a project by assuming the obligations of the Federal Government under any contract with any private contractor, materialman or other person in relation to such project, or by entering into new contracts for the work of completion with the same persons or with others, or by a combination of both such methods Any such assumption or new contract shall be submitted to the director and approved by him prior to any payments thereunder from money allocated pursuant to this section.

The director shall prescribe the time and manner of payment of allocations pursuant to this section, and may provide for the advance of such portion of such allocation as he deems necessary to permit the local agency to meet its obligations as they become due

Any money received from a local agency pursuant to this section shall be paid into the State Treasury and credited to the General Fund Any property received from a local agency may be sold or otherwise disposed of by the director or used for any state purpose. If sold the proceeds of the sale of such property shall be paid into the General Fund.

SEC. 2. Out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of four million five hundred thousand dollars ($4,500,000) to be expended by the Director of Finance in carrying out the provisions of Section 8.5 of the act cited in the title hereof. There shall first be allocated from this appropriation for the use of the Department of Finance and the Controller such amounts as the Director of Finance shall determine is necessary for administration of the provisions of this section, the total of which allocations shall in no event exceed 1 percent of the appropriation made by this section for the Department of Finance and shall in no event exceed one-half of 1 percent of this appropriation for the Controller.

SEC 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution and therefore shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The withdrawal of the Federal Government from participation in the program for providing temporary emergency housing for veterans and servicemen's families has resulted in the cessation of work on such projects with the result that many housing facilities which the Federal Government has agreed to construct are not completed and may never be fully completed. The need for such temporary emergency housing in this State continues to be acute and the completion of the projects as to which the Federal Government has committed itself but on which it has ceased to work will supply a large number of veterans and servicemen's families with urgently needed shelter and eliminate to that extent the dangers to the public health and safety of over crowded living accommodations In order that funds may be provided for this urgently needed housing without delay it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 3

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 2 to 22, inclusive, and strike out all of page 2.

Article 12. Classification of All Buildings by Types of Construction and General Requirements

17305. The requirements of Articles 12 to 17, inclusive, of this chapter are the minimum requirements for the various types of construction In order that a building may be classed in any specific type of construction, it shall comply with all of the requirements for that type of construction, as specified in this chapter

No building or portion thereof shall be required to conform to the details of a type of construction higher than that type which meets the minimum requirements based on Occupancy (Articles 1 to 11, inclusive, of this chapter), even though certain features of such building actually conform to a higher type of construction

The various types of construction herein defined represent varying degrees of public safety and resistance to fire Where specific materials, types of construction or fire-resistive protection are required, such requirements shall be the minimum requirements and any materials, type of construction or fire-resistive protection which will afford equal or greater public safety or resistance to fire, as specified in this chapter may be used.

Any system or method of construction to be used shall admit of a rational analysis in accordance with well established principles of mechanics.

17305.1. All buildings shall be divided into the following types of construction based upon their resistance to fire, and Type I shall be deemed to be the most fire-resistive and Type V the least fire-resistive type of construction.

Type I—Fire-Resistive Construction.
Type II—Heavy Timber Construction.
Type III—Ordinary Masonry Construction.
Type IV—Light Incombustible Frame Construction.
Type V—Wood Frame Construction.

When two or more types of construction occur in the same building and are not separated by an unpierced wall of four-hour fire-resistive construction, the entire building shall be classed in the least fire-resistive type of construction and such buildings shall be subject to the restrictions of such type. Any building erected prior to the passage of this chapter, which by its construction cannot be classified definitely as Type I, II, III, IV, or V as defined herein, shall for the purpose of this chapter be deemed to belong to the least fire-resistive class of the two types to which it most nearly conforms. Any building which cannot be classed as Type I, II, III, or IV construction shall be considered to be of Type V construction.

17305.2. Exterior walls enclosing the floor areas shall be constructed and maintained for all buildings hereafter erected wherever no openings are allowed in exterior walls and wherever any fire protection for openings in the exterior walls is required in this chapter.
