In the event that the board shall not make the order excluding all of the area proposed to be excluded within 10 days later the hearing on the petition or resolution for exclusion, the board shall within 120 days thereof order and conduct an election within the area proposed to be excluded upon the question of whether the area shall be excluded from the district. However, if a general election is to be held within the territory proposed to be excluded within six months after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district the board may consolidate the election requested by this article with the general election. All resident electors of the area shall be eligible to vote at the election. The cost of the election shall be borne by the district.

Majority vote

15044. In the event that a majority of the votes cast at the election are in favor of the exclusion, the board, upon completion of the canvass, shall make an order excluding the area from the district. In the event that a majority of the votes cast at the election are opposed to the exclusion, the measure fails and no proceedings for exclusion of the area may be subsequently initiated within one year.

Recordation

15045. A copy of the order of exclusion, certified by the secretary of the district, shall be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the lands are situated. The record of the certified copy shall be prima facie evidence of the exclusion from the district of the lands which are purported to be excluded thereby.

Effect of order

15046. Subsequent to the making and recording of the order of exclusion, the lands excluded shall no longer be a part of the district.

The order of exclusion does not invalidate, in any manner, taxes or assessments previously levied or assessed against the lands excluded, nor relieve the property excluded from any outstanding bonds which are a lien upon the excluded property at the time of exclusion or from any taxes imposed to pay the principal or interest on the bonds.

SEC. 46. Chapter 10.5 (commencing at Section 15050) is added to Part 1 of Division 5 of said code, to read:

CHAPTER 10.5. SPECIAL TRANSIT SERVICE DISTRICTS

Article 1. Proposal of Formation

15050. One or more special transit service districts may be created within the boundaries of a district pursuant to this chapter. Special districts. Creation

15051. Resolutions shall first be passed by the legislative bodies of half or more, but of not less than two, of the public agencies, within all or any part of the area which would be included in the proposed special transit service district, declaring that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district and describing its boundaries. The boundaries of the proposed special transit service district may include territory outside any such public agency if the territory is within the area of the transit district. When the entire area of a public agency is to be included in the special transit service district it may be described in the resolutions by name. Certified copies of the resolutions shall be filed with the secretary of the district. Resolutions, boundaries, etc

15053. The petition shall declare that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district described in the petition. The petition may include one or more separate documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name signed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be. Contents of petition

15054. The secretary of the district shall compare the signatures on the petition with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk and he shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition. Certification

15055. The board may initiate proceedings for the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district by passing a resolution declaring that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district, and describing its boundaries, which shall include all or any part of two or more public agencies. A public agency to be included may be described by name if the entire area of the agency is included. No certified copy of the resolution need be filed with the secretary of the district. Proceedings initiated by board

Article 2. Hearing

Hearing

15060. Within 60 days after receipt of the resolutions of the public agencies or receipt of the certification of the sufficiency of a petition by the secretary of the district, or the passage of the resolution of the board, the board shall, by resolution, designate the special transit service district as "_____ (here insert name) Transit District, Special Transit Service District No._____ (here insert number)" (all such special transit service districts shall be numbered consecutively) and shall fix a time and place for a hearing on the proposed creation of the special transit service district, and shall publish notice of the hearing.

Notice

15061. The notice of hearing shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district.

Time

15062. The time fixed for the hearing shall be not less than 20 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice.

Objections

15063. At or before the hearing, any person interested may file with the secretary of the district written objections to the creation of the special transit service district or to the inclusion of his property therein. Upon the hearing the board shall hear and determine all protests and objections. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order to be entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of the adjournment.

Boundaries

15064. The board may reduce or enlarge the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district, but the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district shall be within the boundaries of the district.

Limitation

15065. The board shall not approve the creation of a special transit service district containing territory in addition to the territory included in the resolutions or petitions filed with the secretary of the district, or in its own resolution, until notice of its intention to include such additional territory has been published for the time and in the manner prescribed for the original hearing on the matter and a hearing is had pursuant to the notice.

Approval

15066. If no protests are filed, or if the protests filed are overruled and denied by the board, the board shall by resolution approve the creation of the special transit service district either as originally described or as revised by the board and, except as provided by Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080), shall by resolution order and declare the special transit service district created.

Article 3. Election

Election: Initiation by resolution

15080. Any public agency included, or partly included, within the boundaries of a special transit service district may, by a resolution adopted by its legislative body, adopted within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district, require the submission of a proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof, for the purpose of determining whether the public agency, or portion thereof, will be included within the boundaries of the special transit service district. However, no election shall be held, if the board, pursuant to Section 15066, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with the petition or resolution adopted by the legislative body of the public agency.

Petition

15081. Instead of the procedure by resolution of a public agency, a petition may be filed with the secretary of the district, signed by voters within any public agency, or portion thereof, included within the boundaries of the special transit service district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the vote cast, requiring an election to be held as described in Section 15080 of this chapter.

Same: Contents, filing

15082. The petition may include one or more documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name affixed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be. The petition shall be filed within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district.

Certification

15083. The secretary of the district shall compare the signatures with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk and shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

Effect of filing

15084. The filing of a resolution pursuant to Section 15080, or of a petition pursuant to Section 15081, shall stay the effective creation of the special transit service district within the public agency or portion thereof included in the resolution or petition until the results of the required election are canvassed.

Time

15085. The board shall call the election required by Sections 15080 and 15081 within 60 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district; provided, that if a general election is to be held within the petitioning public agency within 120 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, the board may consolidate the election required by this article with the general election.

Ballot

15086. The ballot for the election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following:

Shall the "(giving name of special transit service district)" be created and established in "(giving name of public agency or portion thereof)"?	YES
	NO

Voting qualifications, consolidation

15087. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he is a voter of the public agency or portion thereof requesting the election. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and may be consolidated.

Costs

15088. The costs of the election required by this article shall be borne equally by the public agency and the district.

Effect

15089. The question of the creation of a special transit service district, submitted to a vote pursuant to this article, shall be canvassed separately for each public agency or portion thereof in which an election is held, and the board shall order and declare the special transit service district created, including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which no election was held pursuant to Section 15085 and also including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted in favor of the proposition, and excluding each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted against the proposition.

Article 4. Taxing Subdivision

Taxing subdivision

15100. A special transit service district has no separate corporate existence, but shall be deemed to be a taxing subdivision of the district, and within each special transit service district the board may levy and collect or cause to be collected taxes for any lawful purpose in accordance with Article 8 (commencing at Section 14115) of Chapter 6.

Article 5. Bond Election

Bond election: Purposes

15110. At any time after the adoption by the board of the resolution creating a special transit service district, notwithstanding the effective date of the resolution, the board may provide for the submission of a proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to be incurred by the district on behalf of the special transit service district to pay the costs of acquiring, constructing, or completing the whole or any portion of any transit facilities, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of the district within the boundaries of a special transit service district created pursuant to this chapter.

Consolidation

15111. The proposition for incurring a bonded indebtedness under Section 15110 may be submitted to the voters of any public agency or portion thereof at the same election as a proposition to create the special transit service district within a public agency or portion thereof, held pursuant to Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080). 15113. The favorable vote of a majority of all the voters voting on the proposition to authorize the issuance of bonds at the election or elections held pursuant to Section 15110 or 15111 within the special transit service district as finally established is required to authorize the issuance of the bonds.

Taxable property

15114. Only the property in the special transit service district shall be taxable for the payment of the principal and interest on special transit service district bonds. Until the bonds are paid, taxes shall be levied in substantial compliance with Section 14117.

Limitation of proceedings

15115. Any proceeding denying the validity of the creation of any special transit service district, or of any bonds authorized by the voters thereof, pursuant to this part, shall be brought within three months after the date upon which the applicable resolution is adopted by the board or the applicable proposition is approved by the voters.

Article 6. Annexation

Election

15133. Except as otherwise provided herein, Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080) shall govern the procedure for the submitting of the annexation proposition to the voters of any public agency or portion thereof involved; provided, that no election shall be held if the board, pursuant to Section 15137, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with its petition or resolution.

Terms and conditions

15134. The terms and conditions for the annexation of territory to a special transit service district may provide (among other things) for the payment of taxes within the territory to be annexed, in addition to the taxes otherwise provided for in this part, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere, within the special transit service district, the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the territory proposed to be annexed.

It was provided that this policy is to be carried out in such a manner as to insure the maximum participation of private financing sources. In order to allow state banks to assist and participate in this program without a delay which not only would needlessly postpone the benefits of this program to many small businesses located in California, but, also, because of the limitations contained in the program, would jeopardize even the eventual participation of state banks, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

in general. Such advisory agencies and conciliation councils shall be composed of representative citizens, serving without pay.

(i) To issue such publications and such results of investigations and research as in its judgment will tend to promote good will and minimize or eliminate discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin, or ancestry.

Investigation conciliation, etc.

1421. The commission is empowered to prevent unlawful employment practices. When it shall appear to it that an unlawful employment practice may have been committed, the chairman of the commission shall designate one of the commissioners to make, with the assistance of the commission's staff, prompt investigation in connection therewith. If such commissioner determines after such investigation that further action is warranted, he shall immediately endeavor to eliminate the unlawful employment practice complained of by conference, conciliation and persuasion. The members of the commission and its staff shall not disclose what has transpired in the course of such endeavors.

Every member of the commission or its staff who discloses information in violation of the requirements of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor. Such disclosure by an employee subject to civil service shall be cause for disciplinary action under the State Civil Service Act.

No complaint may be filed after the expiration of one year from the date upon which the alleged unlawful employment practice or refusal to co-operate occurred; except that this period may be extended for not to exceed 90 days following the expiration of that year, if a person allegedly aggrieved by an unlawful employment practice first obtained knowledge of the facts of the alleged unlawful employment practice after the expiration of one year from the date of their occurrence.

Accusation

1423. After the filing of any accusation, an investigation shall be made and an attempt to eliminate such practice shall be made as provided in Section 1421 unless such attempt has previously been made.

In case of failure to eliminate such practice, or in advance thereof if in the judgment of the commissioner making the investigation, circumstances warrant, the latter shall cause to be issued and served in the name of the commission, a written accusation, together with a copy of such complaint, as the same may have been amended, requiring the person, employer, labor organization or employment agency named in such accusation, hereinafter referred to as "respondent," to answer the charges of such accusation at a hearing.

1424. Hearings held under the provision of this part shall be conducted, as nearly as practicable, in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commission shall have all the powers granted therein.

Findings, order

1426. If the commission finds that a respondent has engaged in any unlawful employment practice as defined in this part, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unlawful employment practice and to take such affirmative action, including (but not limited to) hiring, reinstatement or upgrading of employees, with or without back pay, or restoration to membership in any respondent labor organization, as, in the judgment of the commission, will effectuate the purposes of this part, and including a requirement for report of the manner of compliance. If the commission finds that a respondent has not engaged in any such unlawful employment practice, the commission shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on the complainant an order dismissing the said accusation as to such respondent. A copy of its order shall be delivered in all cases to the Attorney General, and such other public officers as the commission deems proper.

Any order issued by the commission shall have printed on its face references to the provisions of the Administrative Procedure Act which prescribe the rights of appeal of any party to the proceeding to whose position the order is adverse.

Rules of practice

1427. The commission shall establish rules of practice not inconsistent with law to govern the foregoing procedure and its own actions thereunder.

Judicial review

1428. Every final order or decision of the commission is subject to judicial review in accordance with law.

Action for injunction

1429. Whenever the commission believes, on the basis of evidence presented to it, that any person is violating or is about to violate any final order or decision issued by it pursuant to this part, the commission may bring an action in the Superior Court of the State of California against such person to enjoin him from continuing the violation or engaging therein or in doing anything in furtherance thereof. In such action an order or judgment may be entered awarding such temporary restraining order or such preliminary or final injunction as may be proper.

Interference, violation of order

1430. Any person who shall willfully resist, prevent, impede or interfere with any member of the commission or any of its agents or agencies in the performance of duties pursuant to this part, or who shall in any manner willfully violate an order of the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in a county jail, not exceeding six (6) months, or by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or both.

Saving clause

1431. The provisions of this part shall be construed liberally for the accomplishment of the purposes thereof. Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to repeal any of the provisions of the Civil Rights Law or of any other law of this State relating to discrimination because of race, religious creed, color, national origin or ancestry.

Nothing contained in this act shall be deemed to repeal or affect the provisions of any ordinance relating to such discrimination in effect in any city, city and county, or county at the time this act becomes effective, insofar as proceedings theretofore commenced under such ordinance or ordinances remain pending and undetermined. The respective administrative bodies then vested with the power and authority to enforce such ordinance or ordinances shall continue to have such power and authority, with no ouster or impairment of jurisdiction, until such pending proceedings are completed, but in no event beyond one year after the effective date of this act.

Severability clause

1432. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this part or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, shall, for any reason, be adjudged by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair, or invalidate the remainder of this part and the application thereof to other persons or circumstances, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered and to the person or circumstances involved.

1435.3. The spouse not incompetent, or the guardian of the estate of either incompetent spouse, as such guardian, may petition the court for an order under this chapter. SEC. 5. Section 1435.4 is added to said code, to read:

Same: Verification and filing

1435.4. The petition shall be verified and filed in the superior court of the county in which the real property, or some part thereof, or which is subject to the lien or encumbrance affected, is situated, or, if the proceeding affects only personal property other than a lien or encumbrance on real property, in the superior court of the county in which the spouses or either of them reside or in which a guardian for either spouse has been appointed; and shall set forth the following:

of their families as either of them may be legally obligated to support; or to pay taxes, interest or other encumbrances and charges for the protection and preservation of the homestead or the community property.

SEC. 6 Section 1435.5 is added to said code, to read:

Notice of the hearing shall be given as hereinafter provided. The citation and a copy of the petition shall be personally served on the spouse or spouses not petitioning, whether within or without the State, at least 10 days before the hearing if served within the State, otherwise three weeks before the hearing.

In the event the citation and copy of the petition cannot be personally served on a spouse by reason of inability to ascertain the whereabouts of such spouse, service of the citation may be made by publication pursuant to Section 6064 of the Government Code, and after the same showing as in the case of service of summons and complaint in a civil action in the superior court. No copy of the petition need then be served on such spouse.

Notice of the hearing of the petition shall give the name or names of the incompetent persons, the name of the petitioner and the purpose for which the order is sought, referring to the petition for further particulars, and notifying all interested persons to appear at the time and place mentioned in the notice and show cause, if any they have, why the order should not be made.

If there is a guardian of the estate of a spouse, no citation to such spouse need be issued if a copy of the notice and of the petition be personally served upon such guardian at least 10 days before the hearing. It shall be the duty of such guardian so served to appear and represent the interests of his ward.

A copy of the notice and petition shall be mailed, by the petitioner, by prepaid, first-class mail, at least 10 days before the hearing, to the adult relatives named in the petition at their addresses set forth in the petition.

If there is no guardian of the estate of the incompetent spouse to whom the citation is issued or if such guardian cannot be personally served with the notice and petition, a copy of such notice and petition must be served personally upon the public guardian or public administrator of the county in which the petition was filed or upon his deputy or assistant at least 10 days prior to the hearing and it shall be the duty of such public guardian or administrator to appear and represent the interests of such incompetent spouse. For all such services rendered by the public guardian or administrator he may be allowed a reasonable fee, to be fixed by the court, which fee shall be paid out of the cash proceeds of the transaction or otherwise as the court shall direct.

SEC. 7. Section 1435.20 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

If such spouse is not able to attend by reason of mental or physical condition, the affidavit or certificate of a duly licensed physician, surgeon, or other medical practitioner, or the certificate of the medical superintendent or acting medical superintendent of a state hospital in this State in which such spouse is a patient, shall be prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated as to the inability of the spouse to attend.

Appearance

If such spouse is not represented at the hearing by his guardian, or by the public guardian or public administrator or his deputy or assistant, or by the Director of Mental Hygiene, the court may, in its discretion, appoint a guardian ad litem to represent the interests of such spouse, and he may be allowed a reasonable fee to be fixed by the court and paid out of the cash proceeds of the transaction or otherwise as the court shall direct.

SEC. 9. Section 1435.23 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1435.8. If it appears to the court that said property is the homestead or community property of the spouses, and if it also appears that a spouse is or the spouses are then incompetent or has or have been so found under Division 4 or Division 5 of this code and has not or have not been restored to capacity, it shall so adjudge. If it further appears to the court that the petition should be granted it may then so order and authorize the petitioner to do and perform all acts and execute and deliver all papers, documents, and instruments necessary to effectuate the same.

Judgment

SEC. 10. Section 1435 9 is added to said code, to read:

The provisions of Sections 1483, 1483.1, 1483.2, and 1483.3 of this code relating to guardians and the bonds thereof are hereby made applicable to petitioners and the bonds thereof under the provisions of this chapter. Documents 1435.10. The petitioner shall, upon receipt of the consideration therefor execute, acknowledge, and deliver any necessary instruments or documents as directed, setting forth therein that they are made by authority of the order, and a certified copy of the order must be recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which is situated any land which, or an encumbrance on which, is affected thereby.

Any note or notes, pledges, mortgages, leases or deeds of trust so executed by a petitioning guardian as such, shall create no personal liability against the guardian so signing, unless said guardian is one of the spouses and then only to the extent that such personal liability would have resulted had both spouses been competent and joined in such execution.

SEC. 13. Section 1435.35 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Notes, etc.

1435.12. If a sale is made upon a credit in pursuance of the order, the petitioner must take the note or notes of the person to whom the sale is made for the amount of the unpaid balance of the purchase money, with such security for payment thereof as the court shall by order approve. Such note or notes shall be made payable to the petitioner or if his petition was made as guardian, then made payable to him as such guardian.

The proceeds, rents, issues and profits of community property dealt with or disposed of under the provisions of this chapter, and any property taken in exchange therefor, shall be community property; and the proceeds of sale of homestead property and any property taken in exchange therefor, or acquired with such proceeds with court approval, shall enjoy the exemptions prescribed in Sections 1265 and 1265a of the Civil Code; provided, in the case of property so taken or acquired, the declaration required by said Section 1265a is made by the petitioner, with leave of court.

SEC. 14. Section 1435.36 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

1435.13. If, after the authorization of any transaction under this chapter, any person to such transaction, other than the petitioner, neglects or refuses to consummate such transaction, the court, after such notice to such other party as the court on application of the petitioner shall direct, may vacate the order authorizing such transaction. In the event the original order provided for the sale or encumbering of any real or personal property, any other sale or encumbrance found by the court to be to the advantage, benefit or best interests of the spouses may be authorized by the court upon a verified supplemental petition copies of which shall have been served on the same persons and at the same time and in the same manner as the original application, except that no further citation need be issued.

SEC. 15. Section 1435.38 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Restoration to capacity

1435.14. Any person who has been found to be incompetent in proceedings under this chapter and is not then the subject of pending proceedings under any other chapter of this code, or any relative or friend of such person, may at any time apply by a verified petition filed in the same proceeding to have the fact of his restoration to capacity judicially determined. Such petition shall allege that such person is then sane or competent. The court, in proceedings under this chapter, shall retain jurisdiction to hear and determine any such petition. The proceedings upon such petition shall be as prescribed in Sections 1471 and 1472 of this code. Any adjudication of restoration to capacity shall not prejudice or affect anything theretofore lawfully done pursuant to and in accordance with any prior order made under the provisions of this chapter.

brown rot, and decay, and free from serious damage, due to cuts or skin breaks, growth cracks, bruises, scab, rust, blight, disease, hail, or other causes. Damage to any one peach is not serious unless it causes a waste of 10 percent, by weight, of the individual peach.

Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the peaches in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause.

Packed peaches shall not vary in size between the fruits, in any one container, more than three-eighths of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

Peaches of the freestone variety shall not be considered mature unless at the time of picking, the flesh breaks free from the pit. In addition the flesh of peaches of the Elberta variety shall be a yellowish color.

All containers of fresh peaches shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end: the name of the person who first authorized the packing of the peaches or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer; the name of the variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; the size description, when the peaches are packed in the four-basket crate, or the count when wrapped and packed throughout, in straight side containers in uniform layers and rows.

In the case of the four-basket crate the numerical description of the pack in the top layer of the baskets shall be used to designate size. When the count is used to designate the contents of the container a variation of four peaches more or less than the number stated shall be allowed.

Peaches, when packed, shall be in standard containers Numbers 1, 1A, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 9A, 9B, 12B, 22D, 25, 26, 27, 27A, or 27B. Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "irregular container."

SEC. 2 Section 803.5 of said code is amended to read:

Nectarines

803.5. Nectarines shall be mature, but not overripe; free from insect injury which has penetrated or damaged the flesh, split pits which are open at the stem end; and from mold, brown rot, and decay which has affected the edible portion; and free from serious damage due to skin breaks or cuts, growth cracks, bruises, or other causes. Damage to any one nectarine is not serious unless it causes a waste of 10 percent, by weight, of the individual nectarine.

Nectarines shall not be considered mature unless at the time of picking (a) an aggregate area of at least one inch in diameter of the surface of the individual fruit has broken from green or dark green to a distinct flecking of light green or a light green indicating equivalent maturity, or (b) the shoulders and suture are well developed and filled out.

Except in the case of nectarines affected by split pits which are visible, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the nectarines in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause. In the case of nectarines affected by split pits which are visible, an additional tolerance of not more than 10 percent, by count, of the nectarines in any one container or bulk lot shall be allowed.

Packed nectarines shall not vary in size between the fruits, in any one container, more than three-eighths of an inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section.

All containers of fresh nectarines shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end: the name of the person who first authorized the packing of the nectarines or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer; the name of the variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; the size description, when the nectarines are packed in the four-basket crate, or the count, when wrapped and packed throughout, in straight side containers in uniform layers and rows.

In the case of the four-basket crate the numerical description of the pack in the top layer of the basket shall be used to designate size. When the count is used to designate the contents of the container a variation of four nectarines more or less than the number stated shall be allowed.

Nectarines, when packed, shall be in standard containers Numbers 1, 1A, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 9A, 9B, 12B, 12C, 22B, 22D, 25, 26, 27, or 27A. Containers of nectarines placed in molded forms shall be marked with the exact number of nectarines placed therein, and may be packed in standard container Number 31. Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "irregular container."

SEC. 3. Section 804 of said code is amended to read:

804. Fresh pears shall be mature but not overripe, free from codlin moth larvae, mold, decay, black end, unsealed cuts, and skin breaks; and free from serious damage, due to hail, scab or other diseases, hard end, bruises, limb rubs, frost, codlin moth larvae or other insects. Pears

Damage to any one pear is not serious when it is caused by:

(a) Scab, unless the spots cover an aggregate area of more than one-half of an inch in diameter;

(b) Hail damage, unless it affects an aggregate area of more than one-half inch in diameter or is more than one-fourth of an inch in depth;

(c) Codlin moth larvae, unless it causes unhealed stings or holes in any part of the pear. Superficial, well-healed codlin moth stings are not serious;

(d) Thrip mark, blister mite or other superficial blemishes caused by insects, unless more than 10 percent of the surface of the fruit is affected or they cause a depression of more than one-fourth of an inch in depth;

(e) Limb rub, unless it affects an aggregate area of more than three-fourths of an inch in diameter;

(f) Frost, unless the constriction resulting from frost damage affects the shape of the pear and extends around the fruit more than one-half of the circumference;

(g) Other diseases, bruises, or hard end, unless such defects cause a waste of more than 10 percent, by weight, of the individual pear.

Not more than 10 percent, by count, of the pears in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause.

Pears which fail to meet the requirements of this section only because of the presence of codlin moth larvae, or because of serious damage caused by codlin moth larvae, which cannot be detected by external examination of the pears, shall be considered as complying with this standard, if the pears have been treated at point of origin during preparation and loading and before actual shipment to any market or storage plant, under the supervision of an enforcing officer, according to formulae and under conditions approved by the director and which is known to completely destroy codlin moth in any stage of development in such pears; provided, that the continued identity of the lot is maintained.

Pears which fail to meet the requirements of this section only because of serious damage caused by hail, shall be considered as complying with this standard, if the container in which they are packed or placed is plainly marked, on the outside of one end thereof, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the words "hail marked."

Packed pears in any container shall be uniform in size which means in the case of pears which are $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches in diameter or larger, a variation of not more than one-half of one inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross-section, between the fruits in any one container and in the case of pears which are smaller than $2\frac{3}{4}$ inches in diameter, a variation of not more than three-eighths of one inch when so measured.

Bartlett pears shall be considered mature when, (1) the average pressure test of not less than 10 representative pears of each commercial size of pears in any lot does not exceed 23 pounds or (2) the soluble solids in a sample of juice from not less than 10 representative pears of each commercial size of pears in any lot is not less than 13 percent or (3) the pears show a yellowish-green color, as indicated by the color chart prepared by the department.

As to maturity standards for Bartlett pears:

(1) The pressure test shall be determined by means of a fruit pressure tester measuring in pounds the force required to push a rounded plunger five-sixteenths of an inch in diameter into the flesh of the fruit to a depth of five-sixteenths of an inch, after the skin from the areas tested, but little of the underlying flesh, has been removed. Two such determinations are to be made on each specimen selected as a sample and the average of all individual readings from the sample shall be considered as the pressure test of the lot. Pressure test readings shall be made on opposite sides, and approximately at the widest portion of the cross section of the fruit at right angles to the core. Sunburned or very highly colored areas shall be avoided in making pressure tests.

(2) The soluble solids of a sample of juice shall be the percentage reading as shown by a standard refractometer instrument on a composite sample of a small amount of juice obtained from each of the pears in the representative sample selected when such pears are subjected to the method described in subsection (1) of this section.

All containers of pears shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end: the name of the person who first authorized the packing of the pears, or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer; the name of the variety, if known, and when not known the words "unknown variety"; the size description when the pears are packed in the four-basket crate or the count when wrapped and packed throughout, in straight side containers in uniform layers and rows.

In the case of the four-basket crate the numerical description of the pack in the top layer of the baskets shall be used to designate size. When the count is used to designate the contents of the container a variation of four pears more or less than the number stated shall be allowed.

Pears, when packed, shall be in standard containers Numbers 1A, 19, 20, 26, 27 or 29A. Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, "Irregular container."

SEC. 4. Section 828.45 of said code is amended to read:

828.45.

The county granting the aid shall make inquiry from such persons as to their intent to remain residents of California or to become residents of another state, and shall redetermine the residence of such persons for purposes of this chapter. The milk fat shall be not less than 33 percent of the percent by weight of the cream cheese used, but in no case shall it be less than 27 percent of the finished food.

(c) The name of the food is "cream cheese with_____" or "cream cheese and _____," the blank being filled with the common names of the foods added, in order of predominance by weight.

(e) If artificial coloring is used, the label shall bear the statement "artificially colored," except that if the food added to the cream cheese is the only portion artificially colored, the label shall bear the statement "_____ artificially colored," the blank being filled in with the name or names of the food so colored.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6801 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

6801. As an alternative to the functions of the treasurer, the district board may elect to disburse funds of the district. Such election shall be made by resolution of the board and the filing of a certified copy thereof with the treasurer. The treasurer shall thereupon and thereafter deliver to the district all funds of the district. Such funds shall be deposited by the board in a bank or banks approved for deposit of public funds and shall be withdrawn only by written order of the district board, signed by the president and secretary. The order shall specify the name of the payee, the fund from which it is to be paid and state generally the purpose for which payment is to be made. Such order shall be entered in the minutes of the board. The district board shall appoint a treasurer who shall be responsible for the deposit and withdrawal of funds of the district. The treasurer shall deposit with the district, prior to October 1st of each year, a surety bond in the annual amount certified to the board of supervisors, pursuant to Sections 6785 or as determined pursuant to Section 6745. The deposit and withdrawal of funds of the district shall thereafter be subject to the provisions of Article 2 (commencing at Section 53630), Chapter 4, Part 1, Division 2, Title 5, of the Government Code.

CHAPTER 161

An act to amend Section 6732 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to sanitary districts.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6732 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

6732. If the assessment roll has not been returned by the district assessor the board shall adjourn from time to time until the roll has been returned, and for the purpose of adjournment one or more of the members of the board present may make and announce the adjournment.

CHAPTER 162

An act to amend Section 3000 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to aid to needy blind persons.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3000 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

3000. The purpose of the provisions of this chapter is to relieve blind persons from the distress of poverty, to promote self-care, to enlarge the economic opportunities of the blind, and to stimulate the blind to greater efforts in striving to render themselves self-supporting.

CHAPTER 163

An act to amend Section 795 of the Agricultural Code, relating to citrus.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 795 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

795. Oranges and limes shall be mature and free from decay; free from serious damage due to freezing, drying at the stem or stylar end (resulting from causes other than freezing), splits, bruises or punctures. Damage by drying at the stem or stylar end of all oranges and limes (resulting from causes other than freezing), is not serious unless 20 percent or more of the pulp shows staining, drying or desiccation.

Damage from freezing to any one fruit is serious if it causes either a condition of (a) "damage on the segment walls" to the extent defined herein or (b) drying or desiccation in 20 percent or more of the exposed pulp as shown on a transverse cut through the center.

"Damage on the segment walls" means a water-soaked appearance, or evidence of previous water-soaking, or the presence of crystals or crystalline deposit, on the two surface membranes of each of two or more segments as shown on the separation of two or more segments of a section, which section shall not be less than one inch or more than one and one-half inches in thickness, obtained from the central portion of the fruit by cutting off a portion of each end—such evidence of freezing injury to show for the entire length but not necessarily the entire area of the surface membranes.

In any season in which freezing damage to oranges produced in California has occurred, the extent of damage by freezing to such oranges shall be determined as follows:

(a) By examination for damage on the segment walls from and after the time when the oranges were first exposed to freezing temperatures to the date, herein designated as Date A, when the director shall determine and by regulation declare that the drying process has developed to such extent as to furnish additional evidence of the extent of actual damage to the fruit.

(b) By examination of the exposed pulp on a transverse cut through the center, from and after the date, herein designated as Date B, when the director shall determine and by regulation declare that the drying process has developed to such extent as to permit reasonably accurate determination of the full extent of freezing damage by such examination, without regard to damage on the segment walls.

(c) Either by examination for damage on the segment walls or by examination of the exposed pulp on a transverse cut through the center, or by both such examinations, during the period from Date A to Date B. In no event shall the interval from Date A to Date B exceed three weeks.

As to oranges produced outside of the State of California and offered for distribution and sale in this State, the extent of damage by freezing shall be determined by the same methods and procedures as required for oranges produced in California unless is is not practicable to obtain sufficient accurate information upon which to establish Dates A and B as required by this section for such oranges. In such case the extent of damage by freezing in any lot of such oranges shall be determined by the "damage on the segment walls" unless examination of a representative sample of the oranges in said lot shows that the drying process has developed to such extent as to permit reasonably accurate determination of the full extent of freezing damage by examination of the exposed pulp on a transverse cut through the center, in which case the latter method shall be used.

The percentage of serious damage to oranges and limes in containers, or in bulk, may be established by inspection of a representative sample which shall consist of not less than 100 fruits. Damage caused by splits, bruises or punctures in oranges and limes is not serious if the injury is well healed and free from mold or decay.

With the exception of serious damage caused by freezing, not more than 10 percent, by count, of the oranges and limes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements but with the exception of serious damage by drying at the stem or stylar end of oranges and limes (resulting from causes other than freezing), not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause. In the case of serious damage by freezing injury, not more than 15 percent, by count, of the oranges and limes in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-third of this tolerance shall be allowed for oranges and limes which show a drying or desiccation in 40 percent or more of the exposed pulp, as shown on a transverse cut through the center. The total tolerance for a combination of defects shall not exceed the tolerance permitted for any one cause by more than 5 percent, by count.

CHAPTER 164

An act to amend Section 32009 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hospital districts.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.] In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 32009 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32009. When a district is dissolved its board of hospital directors shall convert all property of the district to cash and discharge all indebtedness of the district. All funds remaining after discharge of the district's indebtedness shall, in the event the entire district consists of unincorporated territory, be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the County General Fund. If the district consists entirely of incorporated territory of one city, said remaining funds shall vest absolutely in said city. If the district consists of incorporated territory of two or more cities or unincorporated territory and incorporated territory of one or more cities, said remaining funds shall be vested in the county and in the city or cities within the district, in the same proportion as their respective current total assessed valuations within the district bear to the total current assessed valuation of the entire district.

CHAPTER 165

An act to add Section 32005.5 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to hospital districts.

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.] In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 32005.5 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

32005.5. The board of hospital directors may by resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote, and without an election, dissolve the district, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 32005, if the following conditions exist:

(a) The district has been organized at least five years.

(b) The district has no hospital, no bonded debt, and no property of any kind except cash.

(c) The district board by resolution finds and determines that construction of a district hospital is unnecessary.

Pursuant to this section the district shall be dissolved for all purposes upon compliance with Section 32007.

CHAPTER 166

An act to amend Section 13241 of the Public Utilities Code and to amend Section 3835 of the Public Districts Code, relating to the maturity of bonds of municipal utility districts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13241 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

Bond maturity

13241. Bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board; provided, that payment shall begin not more than 10 years from the date of issuance thereof and be completed in not more than 50 years from that date; provided, further, that the board may divide any issue of bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter into two or more series, and may fix different dates of issuance and different maturity dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of each series shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board, and the board shall fix a date not more than 10 years from the date of issuance of each series for the earliest maturity of such series, and shall fix a date not more than 50 years from the date of issuance of each series for the final maturity of such series.

SEC. 2. Section 3835 of the Public Districts Code is amended to read:

Same

3835. Bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board; provided, that payment shall begin not more than 10 years from the date of issuance thereof and be completed in not more than 50 years from that date; provided, further, that the board may divide any issue of bonds authorized pursuant to this chapter into two or more series, and may fix different dates of issuance and different maturity dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of each series shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board, and the board shall fix a date not more than 10 years from the date of issuance of each series for the earliest maturity of such series, and shall fix a date not more than 50 years from the date of issuance of each series for the final maturity of such series.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if the Public Districts Code is enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as the Public Districts Code takes effect; at which time Section 13241 of the Public Utilities Code is repealed.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: Large scale projects for the development of water resources are under contemplation by municipal utility districts which have authorized the issuance of bonds in substantial amounts These projects consist of interdependent portions of an integrated development. The magnitude of the work contemplated by these districts necessitates the construction of these very large projects over a substantial period of time and the issuance and sale of the bonds from time to time to cover the costs of construction. It is impracticable to issue and sell substantial amounts of bonds at any one time or to complete the work contemplated by these districts except over a period of time. Some of these projects are now ready for immediate initial construction and as a result bonds must be issued and sold forthwith. If this law does not go into effect immediately upon its enactment, the public peace, health and welfare would suffer in that necessary water projects may not be constructed under existing authorizations in time, form and manner as therein provided. It is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 167

An act to amend Sections 9080.3, 9084.5, and Section 9087, of the Insurance Code, relating to fraternal fire insurance.

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

9080.3. Any religious organization engaged in the business of writing fire insurance solely for its members and its churches on the effective date of this section, and which has been doing so continuously in California since January 1, 1925, is subject to all applicable provisions of this chapter.

Such religious organizations shall not write insurance:

(b) On business property within any incorporated city.

SEC. 2. Section 9084.5 of said code is amended to read:

9084.5. An association may write insurance for an amount not exceeding forty thousand dollars ($40,000) on any one risk, if the excess over eight thousand dollars

Limitations

($8,000) is reinsured as provided in this section. Such associations may not accept reinsurance but may reinsure risks if such reinsurance is by contracts and with reinsurers which meet the standards therefor prescribed in Sections 922.1 to 922.8 of this code.

SEC. 3. Section 9087 of said code is amended to read:

Property within city limits

9087. No property within the corporate limits of any city or town shall be insured except dwellings and the contents thereof, grange halls and the contents thereof, other grange property, and any buildings appurtenant thereto.

CHAPTER 168

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 45308.1 of the Government Code is amended and renumbered to read:

Investment in bonds

45308.3. Notwithstanding Section 45308.1, funds received by city retirement systems and not required for current disbursements may be invested in bonds issued pursuant to the Improvement Bond Act of 1915; provided, that an ad valorem tax on all property taxable by the public agency which authorized the issuance of such bonds, at a rate not exceeding ten cents ($0.10) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value, computed as of the date of such investment, would produce an amount equal to a least 100 percent of the principal and interest payable in any year thereafter on the issue of bonds in which such investment is made.

SEC. 2. Section 45308.1 is added to said code, to read:

Authorized investments

45308.1. All funds received by city retirement systems and not required for current disbursements shall be invested only in:

(a) Securities which are legal for savings bank investments in this State, or which have been certified as legal investments for savings banks pursuant to Division 10 (commencing at Section 20000) of the Water Code.

(f) Deposits at interest in any state or national bank in accordance with law authorizing and controlling the deposit of public funds in banks.

(g) Certificates and shares of a savings and loan association or a federal savings and loan association, if the certificates or shares are insured as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act.

(h) Registered warrants of any political subdivision of this State.

SEC. 3. Section 45308.2 is added to said code, to read:

Investment in real property

45308.2. Notwithstanding Section 45308.1 funds received by city retirement systems and not required for current disbursements may be invested in real property or improvements constructed or to be constructed on real property, when such real property or such improvements are acquired for sale or lease to a city, county, school district, political subdivision, or political corporation of this State, subject to the following limitations:

(1) No investment shall be made in such real property or improvements unless it is approved by a four-fifths vote of the members of the body authorized by ordinance to invest the retirement funds.

(2) No such investment shall be made unless the assets of the retirement system exceed five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), and the investment, together with other investments in real property and improvements, do not exceed twenty-five percent (25%) of the assets of the retirement system.

(3) Before an investment is made in such real property or improvements, the investing authority shall enter into a lease or lease-option agreement with the public agency hereinbefore mentioned, under which said public agency agrees to rent the property at a monthly rental and for a period not to exceed 50 years, sufficient to return not less than the investment, together with interest at a rate hereinafter prescribed. The agreement may contain an option or options to purchase; provided, such option, together with the rentals, will return not less than the investment, together with interest at a rate hereinafter prescribed. In the event a building is built on land owned by the public agency, the agreement may contain an option to purchase the land at any time or at the termination of the lease at its fair market value.

(4) The interest rate each year shall be one-fourth percent ($\frac{1}{4}\%$) higher than the average interest rate received by the retirement system on assets other than real property or improvements for the preceding year.

(5) In order to make the provisions of this section relating to the investment in real property or improvements completely effective, the investing authority is authorized, for investment purposes only, to purchase, sell, or lease real property, or to enter into options therefor; and when necessary for investment purposes to enter into contracts for the construction of buildings, and to repair and maintain such property, and do any and all things necessary to protect the investment including, but not limited to, purchasing insurance against the loss of the property or the loss of use and occupancy of the property. It may also take any other action necessary to carry out the investment provisions of this section. In the construction of buildings the investing authority shall follow, substantially and insofar as applicable, the procedure and limitations prescribed by law for the construction of buildings by the city in which the retirement system is established.

CHAPTER 169

An act to amend Section 4362 of the Agricultural Code, relating to milk products.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4362 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

4362. Every distributor in any marketing area wherein an order establishing minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices is in effect, except as otherwise herein provided, shall file with the director schedules and any amendments thereto setting forth the prices at which each such distributor is selling or offering or agreeing to sell fluid milk, fluid cream and dairy products, excluding butter, cheese other than cottage cheese, canned milk, powdered milk, casein and ice cream, in such marketing area. Such filings shall be made in such office of the director as he shall designate. Such prices shall not become effective until the fifth day after filing. Evidence of any sale of, or offer or agreement to sell such fluid milk, fluid cream or dairy products by a distributor, made as a part of, or in connection with the sale of, or offer or agreement to sell fluid milk and fluid cream, or both, in a marketing area where an order establishing minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices is in effect, at less than the prices theretofore filed with the director by such distributor pursuant to the provisions of this section, shall constitute prima facie proof of a violation of this section. Offers and agreements to sell, as used herein, shall include offers and agreements which are conditional, or which shall become effective, upon the filing thereafter of amended prices by the distributor making such offer. Upon receipt of such amendments, the director shall forthwith date, file and index the same in such manner that the information therein contained shall at all times be kept current and be readily available to any interested person desiring to inspect the same. Any other distributor in the marketing area may meet any such prices so filed; provided, that such distributor shall file with the director a schedule of prices not exceeding the prices so met by him within 24 hours after meeting the same. In the event that any distributor shall elect to make a bid for the sale of fluid milk, fluid cream or other dairy products, excluding butter, cheese other than cottage cheese, canned milk, powdered milk, casein and ice cream, to any city, county, state or federal institution, installation, or facility within the jurisdiction of this State at prices less than the prices applicable to sales to such institutions previously filed with the director by such distributor, then such distributor at its election, in lieu of filing a schedule of amended prices with the director, as hereinabove provided, may deliver to the director, not less than five days before the day scheduled for the opening of bids, a schedule showing the prices contained in such bid, which schedule shall be contained in a sealed envelope with information written or typed on such envelope showing the name of the distributor, the name of the city, county, state, or federal institution, installation, or facility to which fluid milk, fluid cream or such other dairy products are proposed to be supplied as shown in such bid and the date, time and place scheduled for the opening of bids. The envelope containing such schedule shall be stamped by the director showing the time and date received and shall not be opened by the director until after the date and time scheduled for the opening of bids and shall then be opened and such schedule shall be filed and indexed by the director and shall constitute such distributor's amended schedule of prices covering sales to city, county, state, and federal institutions, installation, or facility and shall be available to any interested person desiring to inspect the same.

CHAPTER 170

An act to amend Section 9740 of the Government Code, relating to compilation of legislative manual.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9740 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9740. The Secretary of the Senate and the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall compile, as soon as practical after the convening of each general session, and publish and distribute a legislative manual, in such manner as they may determine.

CHAPTER 171

An act to amend Section 9020 of the Government Code, relating to the Legislature; the members, officers, and employees thereof.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor April 20, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 21, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9020 of the Government Code is amended to read:

9020. The Legislature shall assemble at the City of Sacramento at 12 o'clock m., on the first Monday after the first day of January in every odd-numbered year, and at 12 o'clock m., on the first Monday in February in every even-numbered year.

CHAPTER 172

An act to amend Section 71083 of the Government Code, relating to municipal and justice courts and judges thereof, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor April 23, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 23, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 71083 of the Goverment Code is amended to read:

71083. Whenever the territory of a judicial district (herein called the annexed district) is annexed to a judicial district theretofore having a municipal court (herein called the annexing district), a judge of a court partly or wholly superseded thereby shall, if eligible, succeed to the first vacant judgeship on such municipal court, whether such vacancy then exists or occurs within two years thereafter through the creation of a new judgeship or otherwise, if any one of the following subdivisions apply:

(a) All of the territory of the annexed district is annexed to the annexing district.

(b) A part of the territory of the annexed district is annexed to the annexing district and in such part more than 10 percent of the residents of the annexed district reside, as determined prior to the annexation.

(c) The annexed district is a judicial district with a justice court, and a part of its territory is annexed to the annexing district, and the justice court is discontinued by the board of supervisors under Section 71097.

Whenever part of an annexed district is annexed to an annexing district and because of the application of subdivisions (b) or (c), above, a judge of the annexed district becomes entitled to succeed to a vacant judgeship as above provided, no subsequent annexation of all or part of the remainder of the annexed district to the same annexing district shall entitle any judge of the annexed district to succeed to a vacant judgeship in the annexing district.

Whenever all of the territory of a judicial district is annexed to two or more judicial districts both or all of which theretofore have a municipal court, a judge of the court wholly superseded thereby shall, if eligible, succeed to the first vacant judgeship on any such municipal court, whether such vacancy then exists or occurs within two years thereafter through the creation of a new judgeship or otherwise.

Whenever the number of judges entitled to succeed as above provided exceeds the number of vacant judgeships on such municipal court, the order of their succession shall be determined as follows: by seniority as a judge within the territory annexed, and, in the case of successive annexations, within the territory annexed at the earlier date; and, in any remaining case, by lot between them.

Any judge entitled to succeed as above provided shall declare his acceptance of the judgeship for which a vacancy exists or occurs within 30 days of the date of annexation if the vacancy exists upon the date of annexation or, if no such vacancy then exists, within 30 days of the occurrence of the vacancy later occurring.

This section, as amended at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature, applies to annexations occurring before or after the effective date of the amendment to this section enacted at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature and no judge who, before the effective date of such amendment, became entitled to succeed to a vacancy on a municipal court and who has not succeeded to such vacancy before such effective date shall be entitled to so succeed unless he would be so entitled under this section as amended at the 1959 Regular Session.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The multitude of annexations to cities in recent years has affected judicial districts because (1) under the existing law when territory is annexed to a city the territory is also automatically annexed to the judicial district including the city, and (2) the existing law (Section 71083 of the Government Code) is susceptible of the interpretation that in all such cases the judge of any judicial district which is annexed to a judicial district which has a municipal court has the right, if he is otherwise eligible, to succeed to the first vacancy occurring in the district with the municipal court. Normally the Governor appoints judges to fill vacancies in municipal courts.

The legal problems arising from the present provisions of Section 71083 are so involved that, in at least one instance two persons claim the right to the same judgeship, with one claiming under Section 71083 and the other under an appointment of the Governor, and court actions have resulted in order to determine which person is entitled to be judge.

The problem is further aggravated by the fact that when, as is often the case, not only is the basic annexation of territory to the city an annexation of a small uninhabited parcel of land no more than a few acres in area but also by the fact that there is a continuous succession of such annexations to a particular city. In a city such as Los Angeles there are five pending annexations and the prospect of scores more within the next two years.

Where there is a succession of small annexations, the procedure by which a judge in the annexed territory becomes eligible for the first municipal court vacancy in the city district to which the territory is annexed, in effect, limits the choice appointments to the city district to those attorneys residing in the unincorporated territory surrounding the city district. In effect the board of supervisors, is making appointments to the municipal court of the city district by appointing attorneys to justice courts in the surrounding unincorporated territory which will in all likelihood be annexed to the city in a short time thereafter and who under Section 71083 may be eligible to succeed to the first vacancy in the municipal court of the city district. The net result is that the board of supervisors rather than the Governor is appointing judges to municipal courts.

Under this bill the possibility of abuses under Section 71083 is prevented but the main purpose of the section is preserved. This bill gives the judge of a judicial district which is annexed to a district with a municipal court the right to succeed to a vacancy on such municipal court only if all or a large part of his original judicial district is annexed. This cures the evils which arise under successive annexations of undeveloped territory to the judicial district of a large city with a municipal court. The bill preserves, in an equitable fashion the rights of a judge whose district is completely annexed so that the district in which he was elected no longer exists. The rights of such a judge to succeed to a vacancy are preserved.

In order to insure the orderly and uninterrupted administration of justice and to avoid conflicts arising under the existing law by which two persons claim one judgeship resulting in the interruption of the administration of justice, which is the basic foundation of our system of government it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 173

An act to amend Section 73 of the Vehicle Code, and to amend Section 285 of the Vehicle Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 5, relating to the definition of a vehicle dealer.

[Approved by Governor April 24, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State April 24, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 73 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

"Dealer"

73. "Dealer." (a) "Dealer" is a person not otherwise expressly excluded by this section, who:

(1) For commission, money, or other thing of value, sells, exchanges, buys, or offers for sale, negotiates, or attempts to negotiate, a sale or exchange of an interest in, a vehicle subject to registration hereunder, or induces or attempts to induce any person to buy or exchange an interest in a vehicle and, who receives or expects to receive a commission, money, brokerage fees, profit, or any other thing of value, from either the seller or purchaser of said vehicle, or

(2) Is engaged wholly or in part in the business of selling vehicles or buying or taking in trade, vehicles for the purpose of resale, selling, or offering for sale, or consigned to be sold, or otherwise dealing in vehicles, whether or not such vehicles are owned by such person.

(b) The term "dealer" does not include:

No right of action or defense arising out of a retail installment sale which the buyer has against the seller, and which would be cut off by assignment, shall be cut off by assignment of the contract to any third party whether or not he acquires the contract in good faith and for value unless the assignee gives notice of the assignment to the buyer as provided in this section and within 15 days of the mailing of such notice receives no written notice of the facts giving rise to the claim or defense of the buyer. A notice of assignment shall be in writing addressed to the buyer at the address shown on the contract and shall identify the contract and inform the buyer that he must, within 15 days of the date of mailing of such notice, notify the assignee in writing of any facts giving rise to a claim or defense which he may have. 1806.2. At any time after its execution, but not later than one year after the last payment thereunder, the holder of a contract shall, upon written request of the buyer made in good faith, promptly give or forward to the buyer a detailed written statement which will state with accuracy the total amount, if any, unpaid thereunder. Such a statement shall be supplied by the holder once each year without charge; if any additional statement is requested by the buyer, the holder shall supply such statement to the buyer at a charge not exceeding one dollar ($1) for each additional statement supplied to the buyer. The provisions of this section shall not apply to those transactions wherein, instead of periodic statements of account, the buyer is provided with a passbook or payment book in which all payments, credits, charges and the unpaid balance is entered. Statement

1806.3. Notwithstanding the provisions of any contract to the contrary, any buyer may pay the contract in full at any time before maturity and in so paying it shall receive a refund credit thereon for such anticipation. The amount of any such refund credit shall represent at least as great a proportion of the service charge or, if the contract has been extended, deferred or refinanced, of the additional charge therefor, as the sum of the periodic monthly time balances not yet due bears to the sum of all the periodic monthly time balances under the schedule of installments in the contract or, if the contract has been extended, deferred or refinanced, as so extended, deferred or refinanced. Where the amount of the credit for anticipation of payment is less than one dollar ($1) no refund need be made. Article 7. Refinancing and Consolidation

Extension and deferment

1807.1. The holder of a retail installment contract may, upon agreement with the buyer, extend the scheduled due date or defer the scheduled payment of all or of any part of any installment or installments payable thereunder. No charge shall be made for any such extension or deferment unless the agreement for such extension or deferment is in writing and signed by the parties thereto. The holder may charge and contract for the payment of an extension or deferral charge by the buyer and collect and receive the same, but such charge may not exceed an amount equal to 1 percent per month simple interest on the amount of the installment or installments, or part thereof, extended or deferred for the period of extension or deferral. Such period shall not exceed the period from the date when such extended or deferred installment or installments, or part thereof, would have been payable in the absence of such extension or deferral, to the date when such installment or installments, or part thereof, are made payable under the agreement of extension or deferment; except that a minimum charge of one dollar ($1) for the period of extension or deferral may be made in any case where the extension or deferral charge, when computed at such rate, amounts to less than one dollar ($1). Such agreement may also provide for the payment by the buyer of the additional cost to the holder of the contract of premiums for continuing in force, until the end of such period of extension or deferral, any insurance coverages provided for in the contract, subject to the provisions of Section 1803.5.

Refinance

1807.2. The holder of a retail installment contract or contracts may, upon agreement in writing with the buyer, refinance the payment of the unpaid time balance or balances of the contract or contracts by providing for a new schedule of installment payments. The holder may charge and contract for the payment of a refinance charge by the buyer and collect and receive the same, but such refinance charge (1) shall be based upon the amount refinanced, plus any additional cost of insurance and of official fees incident to such refinancing, after the deduction of a refund credit in an amount equal to that to which the buyer would have been entitled under Section 1806.3 if he had prepaid in full his obligations under the contract or contracts, but in computing such refund credit there shall not be allowed the minimum earned service charge as authorized by such section, and (2) may not exceed the rate of service charge provided under Article 5 of this chapter. Such agreement for refinancing may also provide for the payment by the buyer of the additional cost to the holder of the contract or contracts of premiums for continuing in force, until the maturity of the contract or contracts as refinanced, any insurance coverages provided for therein, subject to the provisions of Section 1803.5. The refinancing agreement shall set forth the amount of the unpaid time balance or balances to be refinanced, the amount of any refund credit, the amount to be refinanced after the deduction of the refund credit, the amount of the service charge under the refinancing agreement, any additional cost of insurance and of official fees to the buyer, the new unpaid time balance and the new schedule of installment payments. Where there is a consolidation of two or more contracts then the provisions of Section 1808.1 and 1808 2 shall apply.

Refinancing agreement

1807.3. In the event a contract provides for the payment of any installment which is more than double the amount of the average of the preceding installments the buyer, upon default of this installment, shall be given an absolute right to obtain a new payment schedule. Unless agreed to by the buyer, the periodic payments under the new schedule shall not be substantially greater than the average of the preceding installments

New payment schedule

Article 8 Add-on Sales

1808.1. A retail installment contract which otherwise conforms to the requirements of this chapter, may contain the provision that the seller may at his option add subsequent purchases made by the buyer to the contract, and that the total price of the goods or services covered by the contract shall be increased by the price of such additional goods or services, and that all service charges and installment payments may at the seller's option be increased proportionately, and that all terms and conditions of the contract shall apply equally to such additional goods or services. The contract may also provide that the goods purchased under the previous contract or contracts shall be security for the goods purchased under the subsequent contract but only until such time as the time sale price under the previous contract or contracts is fully paid.

Add-on sales

1808.2. When a subsequent purchase is made, the entire amount of all payments made previous thereto shall be deemed to have been applied toward the payment of the previous time sale price or time sale prices. Each payment thereafter received shall be deemed to be allocated to all of the various time sale prices in the same proportion or ratio as the original cash sale prices of the various purchases bear to one another; where the amount of each installment payment is increased in connection with the subsequent purchase, the subsequent payments (at the seller's election) may be deemed to be allocated as follows: an amount equal to the original rate, to the previous time sale price, and an amount equal to the increase, to the subsequent time sale price. However, the amount of any initial or down payment on the subsequent purchase shall be deemed to be allocated in its entirety to such purchase.

Allocation of payments

(j) The amount of the service charge computed in conformity with Section 1808.5.

(k) The consolidated time balance, which is the sum of items (i) and (j), payable by the buyer to the seller, the number of installments required, the amount of each installment expressed in dollars and the due date or period thereof.

The items need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth above; additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the buyer.

This memorandum shall contain the statement that the seller is adding the subsequent purchase to the buyer's existing contract in accordance with the provisions thereof.

Obligation

1808.4. Until the seller delivers to the buyer the memorandum as provided in Section 1808 3 the buyer shall be obligated to pay only the cash sale price of the subsequent purchase.

Service charge

1808.5. Subject to the other provisions of Article 5, the service charge to be included in a consolidated time balance shall be determined by applying the service charge at the applicable rate specified in that article to either:

(a) The total of the unpaid balance of the subsequent contract and the unpaid balance of any previous contract included in the consolidated total determined by deducting from the then unpaid time balance thereof any then unearned service charge in an amount not less than the refund credit for anticipation provided for in Article 6 of this chapter (computed, however, without the allowance of any minimum earned service charge), for the period from the date thereof to and including the date when the final installment of such consolidated total is payable; or

(b) The principal balance of the subsequent contract for the period from the date thereof to and including the date when the final installment of such consolidated total is payable and, if the due date of the final installment of such consolidated total is later than the due date of the final installment of any previous contract included in the consolidated total, on the time balance then unpaid on such previous contract from the date when the final installment thereof was payable to the date when the final installment of such consolidated total is payable.

Limitation

1808.6. The minimum service charge as provided in subsection (c) of Section 1805.1 may be used but once in any series of add-on transactions.

Notwithstanding any contrary provision of this title a financing agency may purchase a retail installment contract or installment account from a seller on such terms and conditions and for such price as may be mutually agreed upon. No filing of notice or of the assignment, no notice to the buyer of the assignment, and no requirement that the seller be deprived of dominion over payments upon the contract or installment account or over the goods if repossessed by the seller, shall be necessary to the validity of a written assignment of a contract or installment account as against creditors, subsequent purchasers, pledgees, mortgagees or encumbrancers of the seller, except as may otherwise be required by law.

This confirmation shall also contain a legend that the buyer may at any time pay his entire balance.

(a) The confirmation shall be in type no smaller than elite typewriter characters.

(b) If no copy of the confirmation is retained by the seller, a notation in his permanent record showing that such confirmation was mailed, and the date of the mailing, shall serve as prima facie evidence of such mailing.

The items need not be stated in the sequence or order set forth above; additional items may be included to explain the computations made in determining the amount to be paid by the buyer.

1810.6. The service charge shall include all charges incident to investigating and making the retail installment account. No fee, expense, delinquency, collection or other charge whatsoever shall be taken, received, reserved or contracted by the seller or holder of a retail installment account except as provided in this section. Agreements affected

Article 11. Attorney's Fees and Court Costs

1811.1. A contract or installment account may provide for the payment of reasonable attorney's fees and actual court costs if it is referred to an attorney for collection. Reasonable attorney's fees and costs shall be awarded to the prevailing party in any action on a contract or installment account subject to the provisions of this chapter regardless of whether such action is instituted by the seller, holder or buyer Where the defendant alleges in his answer that he tendered to the plaintiff the full amount to which he was entitled, and thereupon deposits in court, for the plaintiff, the amount so tendered, and the allegation is found to be true, then the Attorney's fees and court costs defendant is deemed to be a prevailing party within the meaning of this article.

Article 12. Attachment

Attachment

1812.1. In addition to any existing exemption under any other provisions of law, the salary or wages of a defendant are exempt from attachment for a period of 60 days from the date of default of the contract or installment account for any claim arising out of a contract or installment account subject to the provisions of this chapter.

Article 12.1. Repossession and Resale

Repossession and resale

1812.2. In the event of any default by the buyer in the performance of his obligations under a contract or installment account, the holder, pursuant to any rights granted therein, may proceed to recover judgment for the balance due without retaking the goods, or he may retake the goods and proceed as hereinafter provided. If he retakes the goods, he shall give notice to the buyer of his intention to sell the goods at public sale or give notice to the buyer of his intention to retain the goods in satisfaction of the balance due. In either case the buyer shall have an absolute right to redeem the goods within 10 days after the notice is given by paying or tendering the amount owing under the contract and any expense of taking, keeping and storage. If the holder gives notice of election to sell the goods the buyer shall also have the absolute right to redeem the goods at any time before sale by paying or tendering the amounts specified above and also any expense reasonably incurred by the seller or holder in good faith in repairing, reconditioning the goods or preparing them for sale. If the holder gives notice of his intention to retain the goods in satisfaction of the indebtedness he shall be deemed to have done so at the end of the 10-day period if the goods are not redeemed. Upon written demand of the buyer, the holder shall furnish the buyer a written statement of the sum due under the contract and the expenses provided for in this section. For failure to render such a statement within a reasonable time, the holder shall forfeit to the buyer ten dollars ($10) and also be liable to him for all damages suffered because of such failure.

Notice

1812.3. The notice provided for in Section 1812.2 shall be given to the buyer and any other person liable by causing it to be delivered personally or to be deposited in the United States mail addressed to the buyer or to such other person at his last known address and shall advise the buyer or such other person of his right to redeem as provided for in Section 1812.2. If the holder determines to sell the goods at public sale he shall give notice of the time and place of sale at least 10 days before the date of sale by delivering a copy of the notice personally to the buyer or other person liable or depositing the same in the United States mail addressed to the buyer or such other person at his last known address, and by publication at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the county in which the sale is to be held.

1812.4. The proceeds of a resale shall be applied (1) to the payment of the expenses thereof, (2) to the payment of any expenses of retaking, including reasonable attorney's fees actually incurred, and of any expenses of keeping, storing, repairing, reconditioning or preparing the goods for sale to which the holder may be entitled, (3) to the satisfaction of the balance due under the contract. Any sum remaining after the satisfaction of such claims shall be paid to the buyer. Proceeds of resale

1812.5. If the proceeds of the sale are not sufficient to cover items (1), (2) and (3) of Section 1812.4, the holder may recover the deficiency from the buyer or from anyone who has succeeded to the obligations of the buyer. The buyer may have the reasonable value of the goods at the time of resale determined in any action brought by the holder to recover the deficiency, the resale price being prima facie but not conclusive evidence of such reasonable value, and in such case the reasonable value as determined or the resale price, whichever shall be higher, shall be credited to the buyer on account of his indebtedness. Deficiency

If the holder does not sell the goods within a reasonable time after the goods are retaken, he shall be deemed to have waived any claim for a deficiency, but any sale made within three months of the retaking shall be deemed to have been made within a reasonable time.

If during any calendar year 3 percent of such return premiums paid by a surplus line broker exceeds 3 percent of the gross premiums upon such business done by him in that year, then he may either carry forward such excess to the next succeeding year and apply it as a credit against 3 percent of gross premiums on such business done by him in such succeeding year, or he may elect to receive, and thereupon be paid a refund equal to the amount of taxes theretofore paid by him on such excess of return premiums paid over gross premiums received.

For the purpose of determining such tax, the total premium charged for all such nonadmitted insurance placed in a single transaction with one underwriter or group of underwriters, whether in one or more policies, shall be allocated to this State in such proportion as the total premium on the insured properties or operations in this State, as computed on the exposure in this State on the basis of any single standard rating method in use in all states or countries where such insurance applies, bears to the total premium so computed in all states or countries in which such nonadmitted insurance may apply. This provision shall not apply to interstate motor transit operations conducted between this and other states. With respect to such operations surplus line tax shall be payable on the entire premium charged on all nonadmitted insurance, less

B. The premium for any operations outside of this State of an insured who maintains a headquarters operating office outside of this State and a branch office in this State.

A penalty of 1 percent shall be added for each calendar month or fraction thereof after said first day of July during which such tax or any portion thereof remains unpaid, except that the commissioner may remit the penalty in a case where the commissioner finds, as a result of examination or otherwise, that the failure of or delay in payment arose out of excusable mistake or excusable inadvertence.

(l) That the licensee has knowingly employed an agent, as defined in this chapter, without causing said agent to comply with the licensing requirements of this chapter applicable to agents.

(m) That the applicant or licensee has in the handling of any farm products been guilty of fraud, deceit, or willful negligence.

(n) That the licensee has failed or refused, upon demand, to permit the director or his agents to make the investigations, examinations, or audits as provided in this chapter, or that the licensee has removed or sequestered any books, records, or papers necessary to any such investigations, examinations, or audits, or has otherwise obstructed the same.

(o) That the licensee, without reasonable cause, has failed or refused to execute or carry out a lawful contract with a producer.

(p) That the licensee has failed or refused to keep and maintain the records as required by this chapter.

(q) That a dealer has obtained title to or possession, control, or delivery of any farm product from a producer thereof without having, in either case, executed a contract of purchase and sale, or a contract agreeing to purchase the farm product at a designated price to be paid by the dealer.

(2) Previous violation by the applicant or licensee, or by any person connected with him or it, of any of the provisions of this chapter, or Chapter 9 (commencing at Section 1299.18), of Division 6, of this code, shall be good and sufficient ground for denial, suspension or revocation of a license.

(3) The director, after hearing, or investigation may refuse to grant a license or renewal thereof and may revoke or suspend any license as the case may require, when he is satisfied that the licensee has become bankrupt or insolvent, and is thereby unable to pay producer-creditors of the licensee, or producers with whom the licensee has executory or executed contracts for the purchase of farm products, or for the handling of farm products on consignment.

In such cases, if the director is satisfied that to permit the dealer or commission merchant to continue to purchase or to receive further shipments or deliveries of farm products would be likely to cause serious and irreparable loss to said producer-creditors, or to producers with whom the said dealer or commission merchant has said contracts, then the director within his discretion may thereupon and forthwith shorten the time herein provided for hearing upon an order to show cause why the license of said dealer or commission merchant should not be forthwith suspended or revoked; provided, however, that the time of notice of said hearing shall in no event be less than 24 hours, and shall within that period call a hearing, at which the dealer or commission merchant proceeded against shall be ordered to show cause why his or its license should not be suspended, or revoked, or continued under such conditions and provisions, if any, as the director may consider just and proper and for the protection of the best interests of the producer-creditors involved. Said hearing, in the case of such emergency, may be called upon written notice, said notice to be served personally or by mail on the dealer or commission merchant involved, and may be held at the nearest office of the director or at such place as may be most convenient at the discretion of the director, for the attendance of all parties involved.

(4) Any order revoking or suspending a license may, within the discretion of the director, be made conditional upon the settlement, adjustment or satisfaction of the consequence of the violation or violations as specified, and the operation of such an order may be deferred for such purpose. Any such order may contain provisions for modification or dismissal thereof upon presentation to the director of evidence that the matter of complaint has been settled, adjusted or withdrawn at any time before such order becomes final.

An allocation shall be made only when the affected local agency or agencies furnish evidence to the department that all necessary orders of the Public Utilities Commission have been obtained, that all necessary agreements with affected railroad or railroads have been executed, that sufficient funds from the local agency or agencies are available and that all other matters prerequisite to awarding the construction contract within a period of six months have been or can be taken care of within that time Funds of a local agency shall be deemed available for purposes of this section to the extent of the amount of any general obligation bonds authorized but unsold if all proceedings prior to the issuance and sale of the bonds have been validly taken and if the bonds may be validly issued and sold by the local agency at any time, even though at the time of allocation under this section the bonds have not been issued or sold. Where such bond proceedings have been taken, if the bonds are not issued and sold within six months after the time of such allocation, or by the following October 1st, whichever first occurs, the commission may order the allocation canceled, and revert the amount thereof to the State Highway Fund, for reallocation to another eligible project, or for use on state highways if no other project is or becomes eligible on or before the following October 1st. In any event, regardless of the method proposed by the local agency for the financing of its share of the project cost, if after an allocation has been made, the construction contract has not been awarded within one year, the commission may order the allocation canceled and the funds allocated shall revert to the State Highway Fund for use on state highways.

The department and the commission may make allocations from a succeeding fiscal year's sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000) on and after January 1st preceding the beginning of such fiscal year. Engineering costs expended by a local agency or agencies prior to an allocation of funds for a project shall be included in the total cost thereof, even though expended prior to an allocation of state funds.

The department and the commission may revert as of October 1st of each fiscal year any unallocated amount from the annual sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000) for that fiscal year.

Such project may be constructed by the local agency or agencies concerned, or, by agreement between the local agency or agencies and the department, the department may acquire the necessary rights-of-way in the name of the local agency or agencies, execute agreements with railroad corporations, present necessary applications to the Public Utilities Commission and perform all other acts to complete the project. Construction work by the department shall be subject to the State Contract Act. Agreements between the department and local agencies are authorized relative to the handling and accounting of funds, including the making of advancements thereof so as to permit prompt payment for the work accomplished, and relative to any other phase of the work.

In the event the actual cost is less than that estimated, the allocation shall be reduced accordingly. If the actual cost exceeds that estimated, the allocation may be increased proportionately by the department and the commission, from the funds made available for the current or subsequent fiscal years. If more projects comply with the requirements hereof in a single year than can be financed from the sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000), allocations shall be made only to those highest on the priority list submitted by the Public Utilities Commission. Allocations to specific projects by the department shall remain available until expended. As used in this section, "local agency" includes a separation of grade district, as well as a city, city and county, or county.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There are within this State numerous streets and highways which cross railroad tracks at extremely dangerous and hazardous points. At such points the construction of railway grade separation structures, by their very nature and purpose a safety device, would result in the saving of life and property. The value of human life, the suffering of injured persons, and damage to property requires that these projects not be delayed This act would facilitate the construction of such grade crossing projects.

CHAPTER 285

An act to add Section 30.2 to, and to amend Section 1300.10 of, the Agricultural Code, relating to the floriculture and nursery products industries, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 5, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30.2 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read:

Declaration of public interest

30.2. It is hereby declared, as a matter of legislative determination, that the provisions of this section and the amendments of Section 1300.10 made at the 1959 General Session are enacted in the exercise of the power of this State for the purpose of protecting and furthering the public health and welfare. It is further declared that the floriculture and nursery industry of this State is affected with a public interest, in that, among other things:

(a) The production, processing, manufacture, and distribution of floriculture and nursery products constitute a paramount industry of this State which not only provides substantial and required revenues for the State and its political subdivisions by tax revenues and other means, and employment and a means of livelihood for many thousands of its population, but also furnishes substantial employment to related industries that are vital to the public health and welfare.

(b) Basic research and development for floriculture and the nursery industries contributes substantially to food production in this State which is essential to the welfare and health of its citizens.

It is also declared that the elimination of disorderly marketing of California floricultural and nursery products, and the development of new and larger markets through education, promotion and other means for these products, are affected with the public interest.

SEC. 2. Section 1300.10 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Declarations

1300.10. (a) It is hereby declared that the marketing of agricultural commodities in this State in excess of reasonable and normal market demands therefor; disorderly marketing of such commodities; improper preparation for market and lack of uniform grading and classification of agricultural commodities; unfair methods of competition in the marketing of such commodities; and the inability of individual producers to maintain present markets or to develop new or larger markets for California grown agricultural commodities, results in an unreasonable and unnecessary economic waste of the agricultural wealth of this State.

Such conditions and the accompanying waste jeopardize the future continued production of adequate supplies of food, fiber and other products of the farm and of the soil for the people of this and other states, and prevent agricultural producers from obtaining a fair return from their labor, their farms and the agricultural commodities which they produce.

As a consequence, the purchasing power of such producers has been in the past, and may continue to be in the future, unless such conditions are remedied, low in relation to that of persons engaged in other gainful occupations within the State. Agricultural producers are thereby prevented from maintaining a proper standard of living and from contributing their fair share to the support of the necessary governmental and educational functions, thus tending to increase unfairly the tax burdens of other citizens of this State.

(b) These conditions vitally concern the health, peace, safety and general welfare of the people of this State. It is hereby declared to be the policy of this State to aid agricultural producers in preventing economic waste in the marketing of their agricultural commodities, to develop more efficient and equitable methods in the marketing of agricultural commodities and to aid agricultural producers in restoring and maintaining their purchasing power at a more adequate, equitable and reasonable level.

(c) The marketing of agricultural commodities within this State is hereby declared to be affected with a public interest. The provisions of this chapter are enacted in the exercise of the police powers of this State for the purpose of protecting the health, peace, safety, and general welfare of the people of this State.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Marketing conditions in the floriculture and nursery industry are such that one of the periods of greatest need for the application of a marketing order to the floriculture or nursery industry is in early July, and therefore this act must take effect immediately if it is to be of maximum benefit.

CHAPTER 286

An act to amend Section 205.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, and providing for the effective date thereof, relating to the veterans' property tax exemption.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 5, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 205.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Veterans' exemption

205.5. There is exempt from taxation property, constituting the home, of every resident of this State who is a veteran as specified in Section 1¼ of Article XIII of the Constitution, and who, by reason of a permanent and total service-connected disability incurred in such military or naval service due to the loss, or loss of use, as the result of amputation, ankylosis, progressive muscular dystrophies, or paralysis, of both lower extremities, such as to preclude locomotion without the aid of braces, crutches, canes, or a wheelchair, has received pecuniary assistance from the Government of the United States in the acquisition of a home with special fixtures or movable facilities made necessary by the nature of the disability.

Where such a person sells or otherwise disposes of such property, constituting the home, and thereafter acquires, with or without assistance from the Government of the United States, any other property which such person occupies habitually as a home, the exemption allowed pursuant to this section shall apply to such other property.

No person shall be eligible for such exemption unless he was a resident of California at the time of his entry upon military or naval service, or unless he has resided in this State for five years out of the nine years immediately preceding the date of his application for the exemption, or unless he was a resident of California at the effective date of this section.

This exemption includes the home of such a person owned in either joint, common or community interest with his or her spouse.

The exemption granted to any such person or any such person and his or her spouse shall not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) and shall not extend to more than one home.

An exemption granted to a claimant in accordance with the provisions of this section shall be in lieu of any other property tax exemption to which the claimant may be entitled, and no property tax exemption may be claimed by any other person with respect to the same home for which an exemption has been granted under the provisions of this section.

Effect Stats 1959, Res Ch 139 or Res Ch 255

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect only if the amendment to Section 1¼ of Article XIII of the Constitution proposed at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature is adopted by the voters, and in such case this act shall take effect at the same time as such amendment takes effect.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Tamalpais State Park, and shall be available until June 30, 1961.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The restrictive description of the property to be acquired, as contained in the statutes cited in Section 1 hereof, has prevented the prompt acquisition of the property which should be added to Mt. Tamalpais State Park. Land values of this property are subject to rapid changes and the public interest will suffer if acquisition before the ninetieth day after this session is impossible. It is therefore necessary, in order to protect the public interest in the prompt and economical acquisition of this property for park purposes, that this act take effect immediately.

The petition shall concisely state the fact of abandonment, that the claimant is in possession of the abandoned portion, and that the claimant is entitled to possession thereof as against all other persons, to the best of his knowledge and belief. There shall be attached to the petition a copy of so much of the plat of the town site as will fully exhibit the particular lot or parcel of land owned by the claimant, together with the abuttals for which a deed is requested. The petition may include more than one request for such a deed if the claimant owns more than one lot or parcel of land to which this section applies. The petition shall be delivered to the clerk of the court.

At the expiration of 90 days after the delivery of the petition, if there shall have been no adverse claim filed in the meantime, the said judge shall make, execute, acknowledge and deliver to the claimant, or to his, her, or their heirs, administrators, or assigns, a good and sufficient deed of the premises described in the petition of the claimant originally filed. Upon the recording of such deed the lands so conveyed by it shall be deemed to be a portion of the lot or parcel of land upon which they abut. Any subsequent conveyance of the lot or parcel of land shall constitute a conveyance of such abuttals unless they are expressly excluded in the instrument of conveyance.

Nothing in this section shall be construed as preventing the owner of a lot or parcel of land from commencing and prosecuting to final judgment an action to quiet title in such owner to that portion of an abandoned street, road, lane, or alley abutting thereon.

SECTION 1. Section 4.5 is added to the Water Conservation Act of 1927, to read:

Sec. 4.5. If the board of supervisors finds that protests have been made, prior to its final determination for formation of the district, by the owners of real property within the proposed district, the assessed valuation of which, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll, constitutes more than one-half of the total assessed value of the real property within the proposed district, the proceeding shall terminate. The board of supervisors shall order the proceeding terminated when such protests are received.

SEC. 2. Section 35.5 of the Water Conservation Act of 1927 is amended to read:

Sec. 35.5. Co-operation. A. Contracts pursuant to the powers and for the purposes set forth in Section 2, subdivision E of this act, shall be made as in this section provided, and not otherwise, except that pursuant to the general powers of the district the board of directors by a majority vote may enter into any contracts which do not require the levy of the special assessment provided for in this section, and the provisions of this section shall not apply to any such contracts.

B. The board of directors must call a special election and submit to the qualified voters of the district the question of whether or not a proposal to enter into any contract pursuant to Section 2, subsection E of this act requiring the levy of special assessments on lands within the district, in addition to any other district tax or assessment, for the purpose of raising money required under any such contract, shall be authorized. Notice of such election shall be given, and the same shall be held, and the result thereof determined and declared, in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the biennial elections of directors, insofar as applicable. The notice must specify the maximum amount of money required under the proposed contract and state, generally, the nature and terms of the proposed contract. At such election the ballots shall contain the words "Contract—Yes" and "Contract—No." If the votes cast as "Contract—Yes" constitute a majority of the total number of votes cast at such election, then, but not otherwise, the board shall proceed with such other and further steps as may be required to enter into, validate, perform and carry out said contract, including the levy and collection of special assessments for the purpose, as provided in subdivision C of this Section 35.5 of this act.

C. Notwithstanding any provision of this act or other law, when any district has contracted pursuant to this act or any other law for the purposes set forth in this act, if the revenue of the district from water tolls or charges are, or in the judgment of the board are likely to be, inadequate to pay all charges payable under the contract, then any tax or special assessment levied for the payment of any such contract charges shall be levied only upon land within the district, exclusive of improvements and personal property. When collected, the moneys shall be paid into the district treasury for the purpose set forth in the notice at such special election. If the money raised by any such assessment shall exceed the amount necessary to be expended under the contract, the excess shall be held in a special fund of the district and shall be used for fulfilling the obligations of the district under such contract in the next succeeding year. Except as in this Section 35.5 provided, such special tax or assessment shall be assessed, levied, collected, and disbursed in conformity with the provisions of this act relating to the annual general tax as set forth in Sections 30 to 34, inclusive, of this act.

D. Any person having an interest in land within the district claiming that such land will not be benefited under any contract for which a special assessment is required under the terms of this Section 35.5 may file with the secretary a verified petition alleging all of the following:

(1) That his land, or a described portion of it, is not and will not be benefited by the operations of the district in a manner that would justify his taxation at the special contract rate of taxation.

(2) That said land is entitled to a reduced rate of taxation.

Such petition shall request that the board determine what percentage of the special contract rate of taxation of the district should be used in levying such special contract tax on the land described in the petition. No such petition may be filed or considered with reference to the annual general assessment of the district provided for in Section 30 of this act.

The petitioner shall pay all cost of publication of the notice and other expenses of the hearing, and such hearing shall be reported and transcribed by a phonographic reporter, and such transcript shall be filed with the board. If more than one petition shall be heard at the same time or upon the same notice, the cost and expenses of such hearing shall be equitably divided among all petitioners in such manner as may be determined by the board.

The board shall set a time and place for the hearing of the petition, or of all the petitions if more than one has been filed, and shall give notice of such hearing by publication pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code in a newspaper published in the county where the office of the district is situated, the first publication shall be at least 14 days before the date of such hearing. Such notice shall state all of the following:

(1) Petitions have been presented to the board praying for a determination that certain land, which need not be described in the notice, is entitled to a reduced rate of taxation.

(2) The names of the petitioners.

(3) The time and place set for the hearing.

The board shall meet at the time and place set for the hearing and proceed in the order it deems proper to hear the petitions, and shall hear all competent and relevant evidence offered in support of any petition or in opposition to it, and may adjourn the hearing from time to time.

After the conclusion of the hearing, if the board finds that any of the land described in any petition is not and will not be benefited by the operations of the district in a manner that would justify its taxation at the special contract rate of taxation, the board shall reduce the rate of taxation on the land in a resolution entered in full upon its minutes.

The resolution shall:

(1) Describe the land entitled to a reduced rate of taxation, or the respective parcels of it if separate parcels are to be assessed.

(2) Fix the percentage of the special contract rate of taxation which shall be applied in levying such taxes on the land described, or on each parcel of it if various parcels are found to be entitled to different reduced rates, in order that such taxes to be levied on such land will be proportionate with the benefits which it receives or will receive from the contract for which such special assessments are levied; and if any such parcel receives and will receive no such benefits, fix such percentage at zero.

A certified copy of the resolution determining that any land is entitled to a reduced rate of taxation shall be delivered to the assessor, and thereafter until notified of a change in the determination, he shall enter the land described in the resolution separately on the assessment roll and so designate it and the percentage of the special contract rate of taxation to which it is entitled so that it may readily be distinguished from other land not entitled to a reduced rate.

After a copy of the resolution is delivered to the assessor, the officer charged with the duty of entering on the assessment roll the amount of district taxes on the land shall in making the entry observe and conform to the resolution.

If the board determines that any of the land described in any petition is not entitled to any reduced rate of taxation, such determination shall be entered in full upon its minutes.

The determination of the board granting or denying a reduced rate of taxation as to any land after a hearing pursuant to this article shall not be changed by the board unless the board, on petition by a party affected, consents to another hearing, or on its own motion causes notice to be served on the owner of the land to show cause why the determination should not be changed, in either of which cases another hearing shall be advertised and held as provided in this subsection E; provided, however, that any person aggrieved by the determination of the board granting or denying a reduced rate of taxation may commence, at any time within 30 days after the entry of such determination on the minutes of the board, a proceeding in the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the district is located to have such determination corrected, modified or annulled.

[Approved by Governor May 16, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 18, 1959] In effect immediately

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: Urgency

The provisions of state law relating to the loan of state employees for service in technical co-operation programs in a foreign country are out of date. Currently, the Federal Government frequently contracts with universities to staff technical co-operation programs. Typically, the services of state employees loaned for such staffs are needed for two years. However, not more than a one-year leave of absence can be granted to a state employee who is loaned to a university to perform such services. Under existing law, only when the employee is hired directly by the Federal Government can he be granted a two-year leave of absence. Under the proposed amendment, an appointing power would be able to extend for an additional year any such one-year leave already granted. If this is not permitted, the State of California may lose the services of some valuable employees whose one year of absence will expire within the next few months.

SECTION 1. Section 10202.8 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10202.8. A group life policy conforming to all the following conditions may be issued to the trustees of a fund established by one employer, or by two or more employers in the same industry, or by an association of employers in the same industry, or by one or more labor unions, or by one or more employers and one or more labor unions, or by an association of employers and one or more labor unions, to insure employees of the employers or members of the unions for the benefit of persons other than the employers or the unions:

(a) The persons eligible for insurance shall be all of the employees of the employers or all of the members of the unions, or all of any class or classes thereof determined by conditions pertaining to their employment, or to membership in the unions, or to both. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include retired employees, and the individual proprietor or partners if an employer is an individual proprietor or a partnership. No director of a corporate employer shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless such person is otherwise eligible as a bona fide employee of the corporation by performing services other than the usual duties of a director. No individual proprietor or partner shall be eligible for insurance under the policy unless he is actively engaged in and devotes a substantial part of his time to the conduct of the business of the proprietor or partnership. The policy may provide that the term "employees" shall include the trustees or their employees, or both, if their duties are principally connected with such trusteeship.

(b) The premium for the policy shall be paid by the trustees either: (a) wholly from funds contributed by the employer or employers of the insured persons, or by the union or unions, or by both; or (b) partly from such funds and partly from funds contributed by either all of the insured persons or by one or more classes thereof. No policy may be issued on which the entire premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons specifically for their insurance.

A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by all of the insured persons may be placed in force only if at least 75 percent of the then eligible employees of any employer unit participating in the trust, or 75 percent of the then eligible members of any participating union if no employer unit is participating in the trust, elect to make the required contributions. A policy on which no part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by the insured persons must insure all eligible persons. A policy on which part of the premium is to be derived from funds contributed by one or more classes of insured persons but not from all the insured persons, must insure all eligible persons from whom no contributions are required and must extend insurance to each class from whom contributions are required when 75 percent of the then eligible persons of any such class elect to make the required contributions. Any eligible person as to whom evidence of individual insurability is not satisfactory to the insurer shall be excluded.

(c) The policy must cover at the date of issue at least 50 persons. If the fund is established by the members of an association of employers the policy may be issued only if (i) either (a) the participating employers constitute at date of issue at least 60 percent of those employer members whose employees are not already covered for group life insurance or (b) the total number of persons covered at date of issue exceeds 600; and (ii) the policy shall not require that, if a participating employer discontinues membership in the association, the insurance of his employees shall cease solely by reason of such discontinuance.

(d) The amounts of insurance under the policy must be based upon some plan precluding individual selection by the insured persons or by the trustees, employers or unions. No policy may be issued which provides term insurance on any person which together with any other term insurance under any group life insurance policy or policies issued to the employers, or any of them, or to the trustee of a fund established in whole or in part by the employers, or any of them, exceeds fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

Such insurance may be issued with or without medical examination. For the purpose of this section the word "industry" shall not include licensed professions, such as medicine, dentistry, pharmacy, law and accountancy.

SEC. 2. Nothing in this act, as it amends the introductory paragraph of Section 10202.8, shall be construed so as to broaden the scope of the type of employer who may participate in a trust.

The amount so extended against each such property shall be accounted for under this chapter as though it were a normal levy and shall be used in the determination of the cost to redeem such property. If valuations of such tax-deeded property entered on the roll under the provisions of this section exceed 1 percent of the total, such valuations shall not be included by the county auditor in any statement of equalized assessed valuations which he may be required to make as the basis for the determination of a bond debt limitation.

To the extent that moneys are so expended for a fund in advance of receipt of tax revenue therefor, the tax revenue may not be expended upon receipt. Moneys in the amount credited to the tax losses reserve, as well as tax revenues actually received for funds to the extent moneys have been expended therefor in advance of receipt, shall be available in the county treasury for payment for the same purposes and in the same amounts as the money advanced was available prior to being advanced.

4709. Upon completion of the delinquent roll as prescribed by Section 2627 of this code the auditor shall verify the total thereof against his accounts. (c) Amounts collected as costs shall be distributed to the county general fund.

(d) Amounts collected as redemption fees shall be distributed to the State.

(a) There shall first be determined the amount of taxes and assessments which would be included in an estimate of the cost to redeem on the date of the sale. The amount available for distribution shall be prorated on the basis of such taxes and assessments between apportioned levies and unapportioned levies.

(b) The pro rata share for unapportioned levies shall be prorated between the amount of tax levies and the amount of assessment levies. The remaining 5 percent of the tax amounts shall be apportioned to the tax losses reserve fund. Such apportionments shall constitute a full liquidation of the share of each fund in the liens for delinquent taxes appearing on the abstract list and any amounts thereafter received through redemption, sale or rental of the property shall be apportioned in the manner prescribed by Sections 4708, 4710, 4711 and 4712 for years in which the procedure authorized by this chapter has been in effect.

CHAPTER 486

An act to amend Section 22480 of the Financial Code, relating to charges on loans made by personal property brokers.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor May 19, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 22480 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22480. This article applies only to loan contracts payable in substantially equal and consecutive monthly installments of principal and charges combined, the first of which is due not less than 15 days nor more than one month and 15 days from the date the loan is made. In lieu of computing charges and applying payments as provided in Section 22454, a licensee may precompute charges and apply payments as follows:

(a) The total charges which would be earned if the contract were repaid exactly according to its terms, at the monthly rate stated in the contract, may be precomputed when the loan is made and added to the principal of the loan. For the purpose of computation a month shall be that period of time from any date in one month to the corresponding date in the next month and if there is no such corresponding date, then to the last day of the said next month. The principal amount of the loan shall be its face value as referred to in Section 22455. Every payment may be applied to the combined total of principal and precomputed charges until the contract is fully paid. The acceptance of payment of charges on loans made under the provisions of this article shall not be deemed to constitute payment, deduction or receipt thereof in advance nor compounding under Section 22455. Such precomputed charges shall be subject to the following adjustments:

(1) The portion of the precomputed charge applicable to any particular monthly installment period shall bear the same ratio to the total precomputed charge, excluding any adjustment made for a first period of more than one month, as the balance scheduled to be outstanding during that monthly period bears to the sum of all monthly balances scheduled originally by the contract of loan.

(2) If the loan contract is prepaid in full by cash, a new loan, refinancing or otherwise before the final installment date, the borrower shall receive a rebate of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to the full installment periods following the installment date nearest the date of such prepayment; provided, however, that if prepayment in full occurs before the third installment date the rebate shall be the difference between the total precomputed charge and the charges at the contract rate computed on unpaid principal balances by applying each payment first to charges and the remainder to principal. After the third installment date any prepayment made on or before the fifteenth day following an installment date shall be deemed to have been made on the installment date preceding such prepayment. The tender, by the borrower or at his request, of an amount equal to the unpaid balance less the required rebate must be accepted by the licensee in full payment of the contract.

(3) If three or more, but not all, installments are prepaid in full at any one time a special rebate shall be made which shall be equal to the portion of precomputed charge applicable to the last installment period multiplied by the total number of full months such installments are prepaid. Such special rebate shall be computed and made at the termination of the contract and shall be an addition to any required rebate for prepayment in full.

(4) If the payment date of all wholly unpaid installments on which no default charge has been collected is deferred one or more full months and the contract so provides, the licensee may charge and collect a deferment charge. Such deferment charge shall not exceed the portion of precomputed charge applicable, prior to deferment, to the first deferred monthly installment period multiplied by the number of months the maturity of the contract is deferred. Such number of months shall not exceed the number of full installments which are in default on the date of deferment or which may become due within 15 days of such date. When a deferment charge is made, no portion of the precomputed charge shall apply to the installment periods in which no installment payment is required by reason of the deferment. In computing any default charge or required rebate, the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to each deferred balance and installment period following the deferment period and prior to the deferred maturity shall remain the same as that applicable to such balances and periods under the original contract of loan. Such charge may be collected at the time of deferment or at any time thereafter. Any payment received at the time of deferment may be applied first to the deferment charge and the remainder, if any, applied to the unpaid balance of the contract; provided, however, if such payment is sufficient to pay, in addition to the appropriate deferment charge, any installment which is in default and the applicable default charge, it shall be first so applied and any such installment shall not be deferred nor subject to the deferment charge.

(5) In the event of default of more than 10 days in the payment of one-half or more of any scheduled installment, the licensee may charge and collect a default charge not exceeding an amount equal to the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to the final installment period. Said charge may not be collected more than once for the same default and may be collected at the time of such default or at any time thereafter. If such default charge is deducted from any payment received after default occurs, and such deduction results in the default of a subsequent installment, no charge may be made for the resulting default.

(6) A borrower and licensee may agree that the first installment due date may be not more than 15 days more than one month and the amount of such installment may be increased by one-thirtieth of the portion of the precomputed charge applicable to a first installment of one month for each extra day.

(b) The statement to be given to the borrower as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 22473 and the contract shall disclose in addition to other required information the principal amount of the loan exclusive of charges and the basis for computing the refund of precomputed charges in case of prepayment in full or acceleration of maturity and for computing default and deferment charges. The delivery of a receipt for each payment showing the total amount of each payment is compliance with subdivision (d) of Section 22473.

(c) If the maturity of the contract is accelerated for any reason, the licensee shall make the same refund or credit as would be required for prepayment in full.

CHAPTER 487

($200) up to, including, but not in excess of five hundred dollars ($500).

Article 2.5. Additional Water Supply Provisions

Definitions

4470. "Governmental agency," as used in this article, includes a city, city and county, and district, but does not include a chartered city or city and county.

"Body of water" means a reservoir or lake.

"Owned" means owned or controlled.

Public fishing plans

4470.1. The board of supervisors of any county wherein is located a body of water owned by a governmental agency, which is used to supply water for human consumption may by resolution request the governmental agency owning the body of water to open the body of water to public fishing and the surrounding land area for other recreational use. The governmental agency owning the body of water shall thereupon make and file with said board of supervisors an estimate of the cost of preparing a co-ordinated plan for public fishing in said body of water and other recreational uses in the surrounding land area. Said board of supervisors thereupon may deposit with the governmental agency owning said body of water the amount of such estimate not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), and the governmental agency owning said body of water thereupon shall proceed promptly with and complete such co-ordinated plan. In event the cost of preparing such plan shall be less than the amount deposited by said board of supervisors, the excess shall be repaid by the governmental agency owning the body of water to the board of supervisors which made such deposit. Such plan may provide for development of the area by stages and may exclude from public access structures, facilities or works of the agency necessary in supplying water for human consumption and such portions of the body of water and surrounding land area as may be reasonably required for the protection, maintenance or operation of such structures, facilities or works. Such plan may exclude such portions of the surrounding area as are unsuitable for public recreational use. The co-ordinated plan may also include an estimate of the cost of the capital improvements necessary or convenient for such public fishing and recreational uses, an estimate of the annual cost of maintenance and operation of the plan, and a recommendation as to the manner in which the plan may be financed.

After completion of the co-ordinated plan the governmental agency shall promptly make application to the State Department of Public Health for an amendment to its water supply permit, which would allow the opening of the body of water to public fishing and the surrounding land area for other recreational use pursuant to the co-ordinated plan.

Vote

4470.2. Upon receipt of the amended permit, if the agency does not allow such use, it shall call for a vote of its constituents at the next statewide primary election or general election, or if the agency is a municipal corporation at the next general municipal election, to determine whether or not such use shall be allowed and if a majority vote is in favor the public agency shall allow public fishing in the body of water and other recreational uses in the surrounding area in compliance with the amended permit.

Exception

4470.3. Nothing herein contained shall permit or require fishing or other recreational uses in a secondary reservoir from which water is supplied for domestic use without purification treatment after withdrawal from said reservoir.

Ballot

4470.4. The ballot for the election authorized by Section 4470.2 shall contain such instructions required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following:

Shall the (insert name of governmental agency) allow fishing in the (name of body of water) and other recreational uses in the surrounding area subject to the regulations of the State Department of Public Health?	YES
	NO

If the governmental agency concludes that a bond issue is required to pay for the capital improvements included in the co-ordinated plan as approved by the amended permit, there shall also be printed on the ballot, immediately following the ballot proposition aforesaid, the following proposition to be voted on by the constituents of the governmental agency:

Shall the (insert name of governmental agency) incur a bonded indebtedness in the principal amount of $_____ for providing the capital improvements for fishing in the (name of body of water) and other recreational uses in the surrounding land area, subject to the regulations of the State Department of Public Health?	YES

Fees

4471. The governmental agency owning the body of water may fix and collect fees, including charges for motor vehicle parking, for the construction of facilities, operation, and use of the area opened for public fishing and other recreational uses. Such governmental agency shall have the power to make and enforce rules and regulations which it may find necessary or convenient for proper control of the areas opened to public fishing and other recreational uses. The State Department of Public Health shall make recurring inspections of all recreational areas approved under this article to insure the continued purity of drinking water.

Rules and regulations

4471.1. The governmental agency shall cause a copy of the rules and regulations to be posted upon the area opened to public fishing and other recreational uses, and it shall cause the rules and regulations to be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the reservoir is in whole or in part situated, if there be such a newspaper, otherwise in a newspaper of general circulation published within the area of the governmental agency. Such posting and publication shall be sufficient notice to all persons. The affidavit of the secretary, clerk, or corresponding officer of the governmental agency that the rules and regulations have been so posted and published is prima facie evidence thereof. A copy of the rules and regulations, attested by the secretary, clerk, or corresponding officer of the governmental agency shall be prima facie evidence that the rules and regulations have been made by the governmental agency as provided by law.

Financing

4471.2. As far as possible the development and operation of the recreational uses authorized by this article shall be financed out of the revenues authorized by this article; provided, however, that the governmental agency owning the body of water is not required to fix fees which are unreasonably high and in its discretion may make use of any means of financing which it is otherwise authorized to use for any purpose.

Violations

4471.3. Any violation of any such rule or regulation lawfully made by the governmental agency is a misdemeanor. Any judge of a justice court within any judicial district within which such reservoir lies in whole or in part, or any municipal court which may be established within such district, shall have jurisdiction of all prosecutions for violations of any such rules and regulations adopted by the governmental agency.

All certificates issued after the effective date of this section shall expire on the last day of the calendar year for which they were issued. Certificates may be renewed upon application to the director, accompanied by a renewal fee of five dollars ($5), within the calendar year next following the date of expiration.

Such expenditures shall be made within each city, including city and county, in the proportion that the total population of such city bears to the total population of all cities in this State. For the purpose of this section the population in each city is that determined by the last preceding federal census. In the case of a city incorporated subsequent to the last census, or in the case of inhabited unincorporated territory being annexed to a city subsequent to the last census, the department shall ascertain the population of the city, or of the annexed territory, by multiplying the number of registered electors therein by three. In the case of uninhabited unincorporated territory being annexed to a city subsequent to the last census, the department shall ascertain the population of the annexed territory, by multiplying the number of registered electors therein by three two years after the completion of annexation proceedings or at such earlier time as the legislative body may request.

SEC. 2. Section 194.1 of said code is amended to read:

Special census by Federal Government

194.1. Any city or city and county whose population has been increased substantially since the last federal census may apply to the United States Bureau of Census to determine the increase in population. All allocations under Section 194 and all payments under Section 11005 of the Revenue and Taxation Code for any allocation subsequent to the filing of the determination shall be based upon the population so determined. The respective departments in making the computations required by these sections shall add to the total population of all cities and cities and counties all increases of population shown by the determination over the population of the last federal census. For the purposes of this paragraph, a written or telegraphic certification from the Director of the Census to the department and the Controller of the determination of population may be accepted by the department and the Controller in lieu of the filing by the city or city and county of the certified copy of the determination.

The cost of any investigation by the United States Bureau of Census is a proper charge against the city or city and county applying therefor and shall be paid by it to the bureau.

After January 1, 1960, no city or city and county may apply to the United States Bureau of Census to determine the increase in population more than twice in a period between decennial censuses.

194.2 On and after July 1, 1958, any city or city and county whose population has been increased substantially since the last federal census may apply to the Department of Finance to estimate the increase in population. The department may make the estimate if in the opinion of the department there is available adequate information upon which to base the estimate. Upon completion of the estimate, the Department of Finance shall file a certified copy thereof with the department and the Controller.

All allocations under Section 194 and all payments under Section 11005 of the Revenue and Taxation Code for any allocation subsequent to the filing of the estimate shall be based upon the population so estimated if the increase in population is 5 percent or more of the population as determined by the last federal census. The respective departments, in making the computations required by these sections, shall add to the total population of all cities and cities and counties all increases of population shown by the estimate.

The Department of Finance may assess a reasonable charge, not to exceed the actual cost thereof, for the preparation of population estimates pursuant to this section, which is a proper charge against the city or city and county applying therefor. The amount received shall be deposited in the State Treasury as a reimbursement to be credited to the appropriation from which the expenditure is made.

No population estimates shall be made between April 1, 1960, and the release of the 1960 federal census figures by the United States Bureau of Census. Subsequent to the release of the 1960 federal census figures, population estimates conducted pursuant to this section shall not be applied for more frequently than once in every calendar year.

The 5 percent limitation contained in the second paragraph of this section shall not apply to estimates made subsequent to the 1960 federal census.

[Approved by Governor May 23, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19615 of the Education Code as proposed by Senate Bill No. 2 is amended to read:

19615. If, on or before June 30th of any fiscal year, the governing board of any school district files a request with the State Controller for a deferment of the annual repayment due from such district during the next succeeding fiscal year for an apportionment received by the district pursuant to this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) or Chapter 8 (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive) of this division, and it is determined, in accordance with this section, that the district is entitled to a deferment of all or part of such annual repayment, the deferment shall be made in accordance with such determination. The request for deferment, having once been filed with the State Controller, shall remain in effect each ensuing year, and the State Controller shall continue to compute and allow the deferment in accordance with this section each year, until such time as the governing board of the school district files a written request with the State Controller to discontinue the deferment.

As used in the preceding paragraph, "any school district" means a district which is liable for the repayment of the principal amount of apportionments made to the district under the provisions of Chapter 8 (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive) of this division and which has received a conditional apportionment under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive).

The portion of the annual repayment to be deferred under this section shall be determined as follows:

There shall be computed the amount required to be raised by taxes on property within the district, during the fiscal year in which the annual repayment is to be deducted pursuant to Sections 19436 and 19611, for the payment of principal and interest on (a) any bonded indebtedness incurred for school purposes prior to the first conditional apportionment to the school district under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive), (b) any bonded indebtedness which was incurred as a condition to any apportionment under this chapter, and (c) any bonded indebtedness incurred, the proceeds of which were required to be contributed for the purposes for which an apportionment was made under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive). To this amount shall be added the amount required during such fiscal year, for the annual repayment of school building apportionments under Chapter 8 (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive) of this division and under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive). The total of these amounts shall constitute the "basic tax amount."

If the applicant district is a unified district, the amount to be deferred shall be separately considered for each grade level thereof. For this purpose, the basic tax amount shall only include the amounts specified in the preceding paragraph required to be raised for the repayment of principal and interest on bonded indebtedness which was incurred for, or as a condition to receiving an apportionment for, or required by the board to be contributed for the purposes of, the grade level being considered, plus those amounts required for the annual repayment of apportionments made under Chapter 8 (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive) of Division 14 and this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) for such grade level. It is hereby declared that this paragraph is not intended as a change in the present law but rather as a declaration of existing law.

There shall be computed the amount which would be produced by a tax of forty-five cents ($0.45) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of the district during such year, to be known as the "45-cent tax amount." The amount of the annual repayment to be deferred during the fiscal year in which the annual repayment is due shall be the amount, if any, by which the basic tax amount exceeds the 45-cent tax amount. The amount deferred shall be added to the annual repayment for the next succeeding fiscal year.

On or before the last day of July of each fiscal year, the State Controller shall request the Director of Finance to, and the Director of Finance shall, determine and certify to the State Controller the amount of bonded debt service included in the "basic tax amount." On or before the third Monday in August of each fiscal year, the State Controller shall request the county auditor of each county to, and the county auditor of each county shall, determine and certify to the State Controller the current assessed valuation of property within each district which has filed a request for a deferment under this section.

Before the date on which the board of supervisors makes the levy of taxes for county purposes, the State Controller shall make the deferment determination required by this section for each district requesting a deferment, and, for each district which is entitled to a deferment, shall notify, in writing, the board of supervisors of the county, the governing board of the district, the county auditor, and the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district of the amount of the repayment of the district which is to be deferred under this section.

For the purposes of this section the "annual repayment" means the amount of the annual repayment of the district due in a fiscal year as determined pursuant to Section 19434 and Section 19607, plus the then unpaid deferred amount of any annual repayment due in any previous fiscal years. Any repayments by a district of a deferred amount shall be first applied to loans granted under Chapter 8 (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive) of this division.

Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter, if, at the end of the 30-year period provided in Section 19439 or Section 19614, as the case may be, there are any deferred amounts due in any previous fiscal year remaining unpaid, repayments shall continue to be made in the manner provided by this section during each fiscal year thereafter until the amounts are paid, or for an additional period of 10 years, whichever first occurs. At the expiration of the additional 10-year period the unpaid portion of the deferred amounts shall be canceled on the books of the State Controller, and the provisions of Section 19439 or Section 19614, as the case may be, shall thereupon become applicable thereto and the board shall execute a conveyance to the district as provided in Section 19440 or Section 19616, whichever is applicable.

[Approved by Governor May 23, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 19301) of Division 14, and Sections 19566, 19567, 19569, 19573, 19575, 19578, 19605, 19622, 19652, 19653, and 19659 of the Educa- Repeals tion Code, as enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, are hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 19576 of said code is amended to read:

Apportionments

19576. The board may approve, in whole or in part, an application submitted by a school district under Section 19571 and in such amount, not exceeding the amount applied for, as the board may deem appropriate.

The board may, upon approval of the application, in whole or in part, and subsequently from time to time, make a conditional apportionment or conditional apportionments not exceeding in the aggregate the total amount determined by the board as aforesaid, to the applicant school district from the State School Building Aid Fund for such portion or portions of the construction project as the board determines the district is ready to proceed with. If the board has approved an application and made an apportionment as to a portion or portions of a construction project, the board may approve the remaining portion or portions of the construction project and make an additional apportionment or apportionments within two years after the original approval without requiring a district to issue additional bonds.

If the board determines that the actual cost is in excess of the estimated cost of the specific school plant facilities or sites for which an apportionment to a district has been made, or for which a district's application has been approved in whole or in part pursuant to this section, the board may make an additional apportionment to such district in an amount equal to such excess even though such additional apportionment will result in the total apportionments to the district exceeding the amount of the application originally approved by the board. Before such additional apportionment becomes final the district, pursuant to Section 19590, shall hold an election to repay the amount of such additional apportionment which is in excess of the amount which the district has previously voted to repay. Such additional apportionment shall become final when the county superintendent of schools transmits to the board and the State Controller a certificate in duplicate stating that the school district has authorized the acceptance and expenditure of the necessary amount of such excess. The first paragraph of Section 19595 shall not apply to such additional apportionments. If such additional apportionments are made by the board within two years after the original approval, the district shall not be required to issue additional bonds.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, all provisions of this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) relating to apportionments shall apply to apportionments made under this section.

Approval of an application under this section shall not be construed as creating or implying any obligation, commitment or promise on the part of the board or the State to make apportionments under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive).

SEC. 3. Section 19595 of said code is amended to read:

Same Limitations

19595. No apportionment shall be made to a school district for any grade level if the estimated cost of the project, as approved by the Director of Finance, is (1) an amount which would result in an apportionment to the district exceeding the amount authorized at the district election held under Section 19590, or (2) is an amount which if raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of the district running for 25 years bearing the current going rate of interest as determined by the board and the principal of which is payable in 25 equal annual payments, would require the levy of a tax under Section 22101 upon property in the district which would, when added to the tax actually being levied upon property in the district for the grade level as determined by the Director of Finance under said section, amount to less than thirty cents ($0.30) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property in the district during the next fiscal year.

SEC. 4. Section 19629 of said code is amended to read:

Unauthorized expenditures

19629. Whenever the State Controller determines that any money apportioned to a school district has been expended by such school district for purposes not authorized by this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive), or exceeds the final cost of the project which is authorized by Section 19571 of this chapter to be paid therefrom, the State Controller shall furnish written notice to the board, the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district, directing the school district and the county treasurer to pay into the State Treasury, at the time of the next county settlement following receipt of such notice, the amount of such unauthorized expenditures, or the amount of such excess apportionment, as the case may be. Upon receipt of such notice, such governing board shall, at the time specified herein, order the county treasurer to pay to the State Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in such notice. Such amount shall, upon order of the State Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State School Building Aid Fund, to be reapportioned by the board.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and the county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collection on behalf of the State.

[Approved by Governor May 23, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1959.] In effect immediately

SECTION 1. Section 71140.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

71140.1. The attaches of a municipal court may reside temporarily in counties adjoining the county in which they are employed if such temporary residence does not deprive them of their status as electors of the county or city and county in which they are appointed or elected.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

In reliance upon Section 71140, Government Code, and the holding of the Attorney General thereon (21 Ops. Atty. Gen. 51) an estimated 200 municipal court attaches throughout the State have purchased homes and established residence in judicial districts within the same county as, but in other than the judicial district of, their employment. Since the enactment of Section 71140.1, Government Code (Stats. 1957, Ch. 1630) a question has arisen as to whether the qualifying language used therein with reference to temporary residence has the further unintended effect of requiring other municipal court attaches to reside in the judicial district in which they are elected or appointed, contrary to the provisions of Section 71140, Government Code. Correction is urgently needed to avoid any possibility of personal and financial hardship to the many attaches involved, as well as the possible disruption of their services to the various courts in which they are employed. It is therefore necessary that this act take immediate effect.

Credits earned in a technical institute in a land surveying curriculum, approved by the board, shall be accepted as the equivalent of their proportionate part of one and one-half years of practice.

SEC. 2. Section 8745.5 is added to said code, to read:

B. To further intergovernmental co-operation and comity with respect to these resources and programs for their use and development and to remove causes of present and future controversies by providing (1) for equitable distribution and use of water among the two states and the Federal Government, (2) for preferential rights to the use of water after the effective date of this compact for the anticipated ultimate requirements for domestic and irrigation purposes in the Upper Klamath River Basin in Oregon and California, and (3) for prescribed relationships between beneficial uses of water as a practicable means of accomplishing such distribution and use.

C. "Commission" shall mean the Klamath River Compact Commission as created by Article IX of this compact.

D. "Klamath Project" of the Bureau of Reclamation of the Department of the Interior of the United States shall mean that area as delineated by appropriate legend on the official map incorporated by reference under subdivision B of this article.

E. "Person" shall mean any individual or any other entity, public or private, including either state, but excluding the United States.

F. "Keno" shall mean a point on the Klamath River at the present needle dam, or any substitute control dam constructed in Section 36, Township 39 South, Range 7 East, Willamette Base and Meridian.

H. "Domestic use" shall mean the use of water for human sustenance, sanitation and comfort; for municipal purposes; for livestock watering; for irrigation of family gardens; and for other like purposes.

I. "Industrial use" shall mean the use of water in manufacturing operations.

J. "Irrigation use" shall mean the use of water for production of agricultural crops, including grain grown for feeding wildfowl.

ARTICLE III. DISTRIBUTION AND USE OF WATER

Distribution and use of water

A. There are hereby recognized vested rights to the use of waters originating in the Upper Klamath River Basin validly established and subsisting as of the effective date of this compact under the laws of the state in which the use or diversion is made, including rights to the use of waters for domestic and irrigation uses within the Klamath Project. There are also hereby recognized rights to the use of all waters reasonably required for domestic and irrigation uses which may hereafter be made within the Klamath Project.

B. Subject to the rights described in subdivision A of this article and excepting the uses of water set forth in subdivision E of Article XI, rights to the use of unappropriated waters originating within the Upper Klamath River Basin for any beneficial use in the Upper Klamath River Basin, by direct diversion or by storage for later use, may be acquired by any person after the effective date of this compact by appropriation under the laws of the state where the use is to be made, as modified by the following provisions of this subdivision B and subdivision C of this article, and may not be acquired in any other way:

1. In granting permits to appropriate waters under this subdivision B, as among conflicting applications to appropriate when there is insufficient water to satisfy all such applications, each state shall give preference to applications for a higher use over applications for a lower use in accordance with the following order of uses:

(a) Domestic use,

(b) Irrigation use,

(c) Recreational use, including use for fish and wildlife,

(d) Industrial use,

(e) Generation of hydroelectric power,

(f) Such other uses as are recognized under the laws of the state involved.

These uses are referred to in this compact as uses (a), (b), (c), (d), (e) and (f), respectively. Except as to the superiority of rights to the use of water for use (a) or (b) over the rights to the use of water for use (c), (d), (e) or (f), as governed by subdivision C of this article, upon a permit being granted and a right becoming vested and perfected by use, priority in right to the use of water shall be governed by priority in time within the entire Upper Klamath River Basin regardless of state boundaries. The date of priority of any right to the use of water appropriated for the purposes above enumerated shall be the date of the filing of the application therefor, but such priority shall be dependent on commencement and completion of construction of the necessary works and application of the water to beneficial use with due diligence and within the times specified under the laws of the state where the use is to be made. Each state shall promptly provide the commission and the appropriate official of the other state with complete information as to such applications and as to all actions taken thereon.

2. Conditions on the use of water under this subdivision B in Oregon shall be:

(a) That there shall be no diversion of waters from the Upper Klamath River Basin, but this limitation shall not apply to out-of-basin diversions of waters originating within the drainage area of Fourmile Lake.

(b) That water diverted from Upper Klamath Lake and the Klamath River and its tributaries upstream from Keno, Oregon, for use in Oregon and not consumed therein and appearing as surface return flow and waste water within the Upper Klamath River Basin shall be returned to the Klamath River or its tributaries above Keno, Oregon.

3. Conditions on the use of water under this subdivision B in California shall be:

(a) That the waters diverted from the Klamath River within the Upper Klamath River Basin for use in California shall not be taken outside the Upper Klamath River Basin.

(b) That substantially all of the return flows and waste water finally resulting from such diversions and use appearing as surface waters in the Upper Klamath River Basin shall be made to drain so as to be eventually returned to the Klamath River upstream from Keno, Oregon.

C. 1. All rights, acquired by appropriation after the effective date of this compact, to use waters originating within the Upper Klamath River Basin for use (a) or (b) in the Upper Klamath River Basin in either state shall be superior to any rights, acquired after the effective date of this compact, to use such waters (i) for any purpose outside the Klamath River Basin by diversion in California or (ii) for use (c), (d), (e) or (f) anywhere in the Klamath River Basin Such superior rights shall exist regardless of their priority in time and may be exercised with respect to inferior rights without the payment of compensation. But such superior rights to use water for use (b) in California shall be limited to the quantity of water necessary to irrigate 100,000 acres of land, and in Oregon shall be limited to the quantity of water necessary to irrigate 200,000 acres of land.

2. The provisions of paragraph 1 of this subdivision C shall not prohibit the acquisition and exercise after the effective date of this compact of rights to store waters originating within the Upper Klamath River Basin and to make later use of such stored water for any purpose, as long as the storing of waters for such later use, while being effected, does not interfere with the direct diversion or storage of such waters for use (a) or (b) in the Upper Klamath River Basin

ARTICLE IV. HYDROELECTRIC POWER

Hydroelectric power

It shall be the objective of each state, in the formulation and the execution and the granting of authority for the formulation and execution of plans for the distribution and use of the waters of the Klamath River Basin, to provide for the most efficient use of available power head and its economic integration with the distribution of water for other beneficial uses in order to secure the most economical distribution and use of water and lowest power rates which may be reasonable for irrigation and drainage pumping, including pumping from wells.

ARTICLE V. INTERSTATE DIVERSION AND STORAGE RIGHTS, MEASURING DEVICES

Interstate diversion and storage rights

A. Each state hereby grants for the benefit of the other and its designees the right to construct and operate facilities for the measurement, diversion, storage and conveyance of water from the Upper Klamath River Basin in one state for use in the other insofar as the exercise of such right may be necessary to effectuate and comply with the terms of this compact. The location of such facilities shall be subject to approval by the commission.

B. Each state or its designee, exercising within the jurisdiction of the other a right granted under subdivision A of this article, shall make provision for the establishment, operation, and maintenance of permanent gaging stations at such points on streams or reservoir or conveyance facilities as may be required by the commission for the purpose of ascertaining and recording the volume of diversions by the streams or facilities involved. Said stations shall be equipped with suitable devices for determining the flow of water at all times. All information obtained from such stations shall be compiled in accordance with the standards of the United States Geological Survey, shall be filed with the commission, and shall be available to the public.

ARTICLE VI. ACQUISITION OF PROPERTY FOR STORAGE AND DIVERSION; IN LIEU TAXES

Acquisition of property for storage and diversion

A. Subject to approval of the commission, either state shall have the right (1) to acquire such property rights in the other state as are necessary for the diversion, storage, conveyance, measurement and use of water in conformity with this compact, by donation or purchase, or (2) to elect to have the other state acquire such property rights for it by purchase or through the exercise of the power of eminent domain. A state making the latter election shall make a written request therefor and the other state shall expeditiously acquire said property rights either by purchase at a price satisfactory to the requesting state, or, if such purchase cannot be made, then through the exercise of its power of eminent domain, and shall convey said property rights to the requesting state or its designee. All costs of such acquisition shall be paid by the requesting state. Neither state shall have any greater power to acquire property rights for the other state through the exercise of the power of eminent domain than it would have under its laws to acquire the same property rights for itself.

B. Should any diversion, storage or conveyance facilities be constructed or acquired in either state for the benefit of the other state, as herein provided, the construction, repair, replacement, maintenance and operation of such facilities shall be subject to the laws of the state in which the facilities are located, except that the proper officials of that state shall permit the storage, release and conveyance of any water to which the other state is entitled under this compact.

C. Either state having property rights other than water rights in the other state acquired as provided in this article shall pay to each political subdivision of the state in which such property rights are located, each and every year during which such rights are held, a sum of money equivalent to the average annual amount of taxes assessed against those rights during the 10 years preceding the acquisition of such rights in reimbursement for the loss of taxes to such political subdivisions of the state. Payments so made to a political subdivision shall be in lieu of any and all taxes by that subdivision on the property rights for which the payments are made.

ARTICLE VII. POLLUTION CONTROL

Pollution control

A. The states recognize that the growth of population and the economy of the Upper Klamath River Basin can result in pollution of the waters of the Upper Klamath River Basin constituting a menace to the health and welfare of, and occasioning economic loss to, people living or having interests in the Klamath River Basin. The states recognize further that protection of the beneficial uses of the waters of the Klamath River Basin requires co-operative action of the two states in pollution abatement and control.

B. To aid in such pollution abatement and control, the commission shall have the duty and power:

1. To co-operate with the states or agencies thereof or other entities and with the United States for the purpose of promoting effective laws and the adoption of effective regulations for abatement and control of pollution of the waters of the Klamath River Basin, and from time to time to recommend to the governments reasonable minimum standards for the quality of such waters.

2. To disseminate to the public by any and all appropriate means information respecting pollution abatement and control in the waters of the Klamath River Basin and on the harmful and uneconomic results of such pollution.

C. Each state shall have the primary obligation to take appropriate action under its own laws to abate and control interstate pollution, which is defined as the deterioration of the quality of the waters of the Upper Klamath River Basin within the boundaries of such state which materially and adversely affects beneficial uses of waters of the Klamath River Basin in the other state. Upon complaint to the commission by the state water pollution control agency of one state that interstate pollution originating in the other state is not being prevented or abated, the procedure shall be as follows:

1. The commission shall make an investigation and hold a conference on the alleged interstate pollution with the water pollution control agencies of the two states, after which the commission shall recommend appropriate corrective action.

2. If appropriate corrective action is not taken within a reasonable time, the commission shall call a hearing, giving reasonable notice in writing thereof to the water pollution control agencies of the two states and to the person or persons which it is believed are causing the alleged interstate pollution. Such hearing shall be held in accordance with rules and regulations of the commission, which shall conform as nearly as practicable with the laws of the two states governing administrative hearings. At the conclusion of such hearing, the commission shall make a finding as to whether interstate pollution exists, and if so, shall issue to any person or persons which the commission finds are causing such interstate pollution an order or orders for correction thereof.

3. It shall be the duty of the person against whom any such order is issued to comply therewith. Any court of general jurisdiction of the state where such discharge is occurring or the United States District Court for the district where the discharge is occurring shall have jurisdiction, on petition of the commission for enforcement of such order, to compel action by mandamus, injunction, specific performance, or any other appropriate remedy, or on petition of the person against whom the order is issued to review any order. At the conclusion of such enforcement or review proceedings, the court may enter such decree or judgment affirming, reversing, modifying, or remanding such order as in its judgment is proper in the circumstances on the basis of the rules customarily applicable in proceedings for court enforcement or review of administrative actions.

D. The water pollution control agencies of the two states shall, from time to time, make available to the commission all data relating to the quality of the waters of the Upper Klamath River Basin which they possess as the result of studies, surveys and investigations thereof which they may have made.

ARTICLE VIII. MISCELLANEOUS

Miscellaneous

A. Subject to vested rights as of the effective date of this compact, there shall be no diversion of waters from the basin of Jenny Creek to the extent that such waters are required, as determined by the commission, for use on land within the basin of Jenny Creek.

B. Each state shall exercise whatever administrative, judicial, legislative or police powers it has that are required to provide any necessary reregulation or other control over the flow of the Klamath River downstream from any hydroelectric powerplant for protection of fish, human life or property from damage caused by fluctuations resulting from the operation of such plant.

ARTICLE IX. ADMINISTRATION

Administration

A. 1. There is hereby created a commission to administer this compact. The commission shall consist of three members The representative of the State of California shall be the Department of Water Resources. The representative of the State of Oregon shall be the State Engineer of Oregon who shall serve as ex officio representative of the State Water Resources Board of Oregon. The President is requested to appoint a federal representative who shall be designated and shall serve as provided by the laws of the United States.

2. The representative of each state shall be entitled to one vote in the commission. The representative of the United States shall serve as chairman of the commission without vote. The compensation and expenses of each representative shall be fixed and paid by the government which he represents. Any action by the commission shall be effective only if it be agreed to by both voting members.

3. The commission shall meet to establish its formal organization within 60 days after the effective date of this compact, such meeting to be at the call of the governors of the two states. The commission shall then adopt its initial set of rules and regulations governing the management of its internal affairs providing for, among other things, the calling and holding of meetings, the adoption of a seal, and the authority and duties of the chairman and executive director. The commission shall establish its office within the Upper Klamath River Basin.

4. The commission shall appoint an executive director, who shall also act as secretary, to serve at the pleasure of the commission and at such compensation, under such terms and conditions and performing such duties as it may fix. The executive director shall be the custodian of the records of the commission with authority to affix the commission's official seal, and to attest to and certify such records or copies thereof. The commission, without regard to the provisions of the civil service laws of either state, may appoint and discharge such consulting, clerical and other personnel as may be necessary for the performance of the commission's functions, may define their duties, and may fix and pay their compensation. The commission may require the executive director and any of its employees to post official bonds, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the commission.

5. All records, files and documents of the commission shall be open for public inspection at its office during established office hours.

6. No member, officer or employee of the commission shall be liable for injury or damage resulting from (a) action taken by such member, officer or employee in good faith and without malice under the apparent authority of this compact, even though such action is later judicially determined to be unauthorized, or (b) the negligent or wrongful act or omission of any other person, employed by the commission and serving under such officer, member or employee, unless such member, officer or employee either failed to exercise due care in this selection, appointment or supervision of such other person, or failed to take all available action to suspend or discharge such other person after knowledge or notice that such other person was inefficient or incompetent to perform the work for which he was employed. No suit may be instituted against a member, officer or employee of the commission for damages alleged to have resulted from the negligent or wrongful act or omission of such member, officer or employee or a subordinate thereof occurring during the performance of his official duties unless, within 90 days after occurrence of the incident, a verified claim for damages is presented in writing and filed with such member, officer or employee and with the commission. In the event of a suit for damages against any member, officer or employee of the commission on account of any act or omission in the performance of his or his subordinates' official duties, the commission shall arrange for the defense of such suit and may pay all expenses therefor on behalf of such member, officer or employee. The commission may at its expense insure its members, officers and employees against liability resulting from their acts or omissions in the performance of their official duties. Nothing in this paragraph shall be construed as imposing any liability upon any member, officer or employee of the commission that he would otherwise not have.

7. The commission may incur obligations and pay expenses which are necessary for the performance of its functions. But it shall not pledge the credit of any government except by and with the authority of the legislative body thereof given pursuant to and in keeping with the constitution of such government, nor shall the commission incur any obligations prior to the availability of funds adequate to meet them.

8. The commission may:

(a) Borrow, accept or contract for the services of personnel from any government or agency thereof, from any intergovernmental agency or from any other entity.

(b) Accept for any of its purposes and functions under this compact any and all donations, gifts, grants of money, equipment, supplies, materials and services from any government or agency thereof or intergovernmental agency or from any other entity.

(c) Acquire, hold and dispose of real and personal property as may be necessary in the performance of its functions.

(d) Make such studies, surveys and investigations as are necessary in carrying out the provisions of this compact.

9. All meetings of the commission for the consideration of and action on any matters coming before the commission, except matters involving the management of internal affairs of the commission and its staff, shall be open to the public. Matters coming within the exception of this paragraph may be considered and acted upon by the commission in executive session under such rules and regulations as may be established therefor.

10. In the case of the failure of the two voting members of the commission to agree on any matter relating to the administration of this compact as provided in paragraph 2 of this subdivision A, the representative from each state shall appoint one person and the two appointed persons shall appoint a third person. The three appointees shall sit as an arbitration forum. The terms of appointment and the compensation of the members of the arbitration forum shall be fixed by the commission. Matters on which the two voting members of the commission have failed to agree shall be decided by a majority vote of the members of the arbitration forum. Each state obligates itself to abide by the decision of the arbitration forum, subject, however, to the right of each state to have the decision reviewed by a court of competent jurisdiction.

11. The commission shall have the right of access, through its authorized representatives, to all properties in the Klamath River Basin whenever necessary for the purpose of administration of this compact. The commission may obtain a court order to enforce its right of access.

B. 1. The commission shall submit to the governor or designated officer of each state a budget of its estimated expenditures for such period and at such times as may be required by the laws of that state for presentation to the legislature thereof. Each state pledges itself to appropriate and pay over to the commission one-half of the amount required to finance the commission's estimated expenditures as set forth in each of its budgets, and pledges further that concurrently with approval of this compact by its legislature the sum of not less than $12,000 will be appropriated by it to be paid over to the commission at its first meeting for use in financing the commission's functions until the commission can prepare its first budget and receive its first appropriation thereunder from the states.

2. The commission shall keep accurate accounts of all receipts and disbursements, which shall be audited yearly by a certified public accountant, and the report of the audit shall be made a part of its annual report. The accounts of the commission shall be open for public inspection during established office hours.

The commission shall make and transmit to the legislature and governor of each state and to the President of the United States an annual report covering the finances and activities of the commission and embodying such plans, recommendations and findings as may have been adopted by the commission.

C. 1. The commission shall have the power to adopt, and to amend or repeal, such rules and regulations to effectuate the purposes of this compact as in its judgment may be appropriate.

2. Except as to matters involving exclusively the management of the internal affairs of the commission and its staff or involving emergency matters, prior to the adoption, amendment or repeal of any rule or regulation the commission shall hold a hearing at which any interested person shall have the opportunity to present his views on the proposed action in writing, with or without the opportunity to present the same orally. The commission shall give adequate advance notice in a reasonable manner of the time, place and subject of such hearings.

3. Emergency rules and regulations may be adopted without a prior hearing, but in such case they may be effective for not longer than 90 days.

4. The commission shall publish its rules and regulations in convenient form.

ARTICLE X. STATUS OF INDIAN RIGHTS

A. Nothing in this compact shall be deemed:

Status of Indian rights

ARTICLE XI. FEDERAL RIGHTS

Nothing in this compact shall be deemed:

Federal rights

A. To impair or affect any rights, powers or jurisdiction of the United States, its agencies or those acting by or under its authority, in, over and to the waters of the Klamath River Basin, nor to impair or affect the capacity of the United States, its agencies or those acting by or under its authority in any manner whatsoever, except as otherwise provided by the federal legislation enacted for the implementation of this compact as specified in Article XIII

Article XII. General Provisions

General provisions

A. Each state and all persons using, claiming or in any manner asserting any right to the use of the waters of the Klamath River Basin under the authority of either state shall be subject to the terms of this compact.

B. Nothing in this compact shall be construed to limit or prevent either state from instituting or maintaining any action or proceeding, legal or equitable, in any court of competent jurisdiction for the protection of any right under this compact or the enforcement of any of its provisions.

C. Should a court of competent jurisdiction hold any part of this compact to be contrary to the Constitution of either state or the United States, all other provisions shall continue in full force and effect, unless it is authoritatively and finally determined judicially that the remaining provisions cannot operate for the purposes, or substantially in the manner, intended by the states independently of the portions declared unconstitutional or invalid.

D. Except as to matters requiring the exercise of discretion by the commission, the provisions of this compact shall be self-executing and shall by operation of law be conditions of the various state permits, licenses or other authorizations relating to the waters of the Klamath River Basin issued after the effective date of this compact.

E. The physical and other conditions peculiar to the Klamath River Basin constitute the basis for this compact, and neither of the states hereby, nor the Congress of the United States by its consent, considers that this compact establishes any general principle or precedent with respect to any other interstate stream.

ARTICLE XIII. RATIFICATION

A. This compact shall become effective when ratified by the legislature of each signatory state, and when consented to by an act of Congress of the United States which will, in substance, meet the provisions hereinafter set forth in this article. Ratification

B. The act of Congress referred to in subdivision A of this article shall provide that the United States or any agency thereof, and any entity acting under any license or other authority granted under the laws of the United States (referred to in this article as "the United States"), in connection with developments undertaken after the effective date of this compact pursuant to laws of the United States, shall comply with the following requirements:

1. The United States shall recognize and be bound by the provisions of subdivision A of Article III.

2. The United States shall not, without payment of just compensation, impair any rights to the use of water for use (a) or (b) within the Upper Klamath River Basin by the exercise of any powers or rights to use or control water (i) for any purpose whatsoever outside the Klamath River Basin by diversions in California or (ii) for any purpose whatsoever within the Klamath River Basin other than use (a) or (b). But the exercise of powers and rights by the United States shall be limited under this paragraph 2 only as against rights to the use of water for use (a) or (b) within the Upper Klamath River Basin which are acquired as provided in subdivision B of Article III after the effective date of this compact, but only to the extent that annual depletions in the flow of the Klamath River at Keno resulting from the exercise of such rights to use water for uses (a) and (b) do not exceed 340,000 acre-feet in any one calendar year.

3. The United States shall be subject to the limitation on diversions of waters from the basin of Jenny Creek as provided in subdivision A of Article VIII.

4. The United States shall be governed by all the limitations and provisions of paragraph 2 and subparagraph (a) of paragraph 3 of subdivision B of Article III.

5. The United States, with respect to any irrigation or reclamation development undertaken by the United States in the Upper Klamath River Basin in California, shall provide that substantially all of the return flows and waste water finally resulting from such diversions and use appearing as surface waters in the Upper Klamath River Basin shall be made to drain so as to be eventually returned to the Klamath River upstream from Keno, unless the Secretary of the Interior shall determine that compliance with this requirement would render it less feasible than under an alternate plan of development, in which event such return flows and waste waters shall be returned to the Klamath River at a point above Copco Lake.

C. Upon enactment of the act of Congress referred to in subdivision A of this article and so long as such act shall be in effect, the United States, when exercising rights to use water pursuant to state law, shall be entitled to all of the same privileges and benefits of this compact as any person exercising similar rights.

D. Such act of Congress shall not be construed as relieving the United States of any requirement of compliance with state law which may be provided by other federal statutes.

CHAPTER 636

An act to add Section 1241.5 to the Water Code, relating to Indian water rights.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State May 27, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1241 5 is added to the Water Code, to read:

1241 5. The laws of this State with respect to loss of water rights by nonuse, abandonment, prescription, and lack of diligence shall not apply to water rights appurtenant to or for use on any trust land for the period of five years following the conveyance by the United States of an unrestricted title to the land and the water rights appurtenant to or for use on such land.

As used in this section, "trust land" means any land in this State (a) to which the United States holds title in trust for any tribe, band, or other group of Indians, or for any particular Indian; or (b) owned by a particular Indian or any tribe, band, or group of Indians subject to a restriction against alienation imposed by the United States; or (c) held by the United States for the use of Indians in California, but not for any particular tribe, band, or group of Indians, or any particular Indian, if any part of such land is occupied by Indians or their families.

The Legislature hereby finds and declares that because of historical conditions, the Indians of California will not be in a position fully to utilize and to protect water rights owned by them when unrestricted title to trust land is conveyed to them by the United States. A period is required during which the laws with respect to loss of water rights by nonuse, abandonment, prescription, and lack of diligence are suspended with regard to such land and water rights so that they will not lose the benefit of the water rights and the opportunity to make productive utilization of their land. The Legislature further finds and declares that such a suspension of the laws of this State with regard to such water rights is in the public interest and will promote the public welfare since it will promote the economic and social well-being of the Indians and the communities in which they reside and will encourage the self-sufficiency of the Indians.

This section shall become operative upon the enactment of federal legislation authorizing the establishment of a California Indian Water Affairs Commission.

Availability of funds for expenditure

Any portion of an apportionment paid to a school district under this chapter shall be available for expenditure by its governing board for not less than one year nor more than three years, as the board shall determine, after the date on which the warrant covering such portion of the apportionment was issued by the State Controller, provided that no such limitation on expenditure shall be applicable with respect to any items the payment or reimbursement of which is required to be made by special resolution pursuant to Section 7718, whether such special resolution is adopted prior or subsequent to the termination of the period of availability herein specified. For the purposes of this chapter, an apportionment shall be deemed to be expended at the time and to the extent that the amount thereof on deposit in the county treasury has been encumbered by the creation of a valid obligation on the part of the school district. Upon the expiration of its period of availability, the unencumbered balance of any apportionment made under this chapter shall become due and payable to the State of California; and the governing board of the school district and the county treasurer shall, at the time of the next county settlement following the expiration of such period of availability, pay the amount of such unencumbered balance to the State Treasurer, out of the funds, and in the manner specified in Section 7745 of this code. Such payment shall, on order of the State Controller, be deposited in the State School Building Aid Fund in the State Treasury, to be reapportioned by the board.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collection on behalf of the State, provided that notwithstanding the above such duties shall not be deemed to exist with respect to any amount heretofore or hereafter due the State occasioned by the termination of the period of availability of expenditure provided by this section, where such period of availability of expenditure for the items representing such amount is subsequently made inapplicable by the adoption of a special resolution pursuant to Section 7718.

SEC. 2. Section 19631 of the Education Code as proposed by Senate Bill No. 2 is amended to read:

Same

19631. Any portion of an apportionment paid to a school district under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) shall be available for expenditure by its governing board for not less than one year nor more than three years, as the board shall determine, after the date on which the warrant covering such portion of the apportionment was issued by the State Controller, provided that no such limitation on expenditure shall be applicable with respect to any items the payment or reimbursement of which is required to be made by special resolution pursuant to Section 19589, whether such special resolution is adopted prior or subsequent to the termination of the period of availability herein specified. For the purposes of this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive), an apportionment shall be deemed to be expended at the time and to the extent that the amount thereof on deposit in the county treasury has been encumbered by the creation of a valid obligation on the part of the school district. Upon the expiration of its period of availability, the unencumbered balance of any apportionment made under this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) shall become due and payable to the State of California; and the governing board of the school district and the county treasurer shall, at the time of the next county settlement following the expiration of such period of availability, pay the amount of such unencumbered balance to the State Treasurer, out of the funds, and in the manner specified in Section 19629 of this code. Such payment shall, on order of the State Controller, be deposited in the State School Building Aid Fund in the State Treasury, to be reapportioned by the board.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collection on behalf of the State, provided that notwithstanding the above such duties shall not be deemed to exist with respect to any amount heretofore or hereafter due the State occasioned by the termination of the period of availability of expenditure provided by this section where such period of availability of expenditure for the items representing such amount is subsequently made inapplicable by the adoption of a special resolution pursuant to Section 19589.

Effect. Stats 1959, Ch 2

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if the Education Code as proposed by Senate Bill No. 2 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as Senate Bill No. 2 takes effect; at which time Section 7746 of the Education Code as amended by Section 1 of this act is repealed.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Section 7718 of the Education Code provides that eligible costs incurred in connection with a school building project prior to the date an application is approved by the State Allocation Board require specific authorization by special resolution of the board. The legal advisers of both the Department of Finance and State Controller have indicated that such authorization must be given within three years from the date of the state warrant to the district in order to be valid. In many instances it cannot be determined which of these expenditures will require special authorization until final audit of the accounts of a project have been made, which is often after the three-year period in which the board may validate such expenditures.

In order that school districts who have received state school building aid not be penalized unnecessarily, the provisions of this act should take effect immediately.

SEC. 2. Section 31813 of the Government Code is amended to read:

31813. If this article is effective simultaneously with the effective date of coverage of members under the federal system, the employee and employer federal contributions required with respect to salaries and wages paid for services rendered after the effective date of coverage of such member under the federal system and prior to the time that federal contributions are first deducted from the salaries and wages of such members shall be paid (1) the employee contribution by the county from the member's accumulated contributions to the extent that such retroactive costs do not exceed one-third of that portion of the member's contributions under this chapter which is payable with respect to the first three hundred fifty dollars ($350) monthly wage for such retroactive period (2) the employer contributions from contributions made by the county or district during such retroactive period. Payment of federal contributions

If the member's federal contributions payable for such period is greater than the accumulated contributions resulting from one-third of that portion of the member's contributions under this chapter during such period, which is payable with respect to the first three hundred fifty dollars ($350) monthly wage, the difference shall be paid by the member to the county or district in such manner as may be determined by the Retirement Board.

If the federal contributions payable by the member for such period is less than the accumulated contributions resulting from one-third of that portion of the member's contributions which are payable with respect to the first three hundred fifty dollars ($350) monthly wage, pursuant to the provisions of this chapter for such period, the county or district shall refund the amount of such excess to the member.

All refunds made under this section prior to the effective date of the amendments to this section enacted at the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature are hereby validated and confirmed.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public Urgency peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In the table in Section 31809 giving the fractions by which a retirement allowance can be calculated there was an error in the number for men opposite the age 58 in that the number was stated to be ".8964" whereas it should have been ".8764." If this act does not take immediate effect men will retire at the age of 58 and receive a larger retirement allowance proportionately than those retiring at certain older ages.

In his opinion No. 57-284 of April 2, 1958, to the County Counsel of Sacramento County, 31 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 153 at page 157, the Attorney General said, concerning Section 31813 of the Government Code:

" * * * A coordination of section 31813 with section 31809 seemingly would require the refund to be limited to the contributions attributed to that portion of the salary, the first $350., that is subject to old age and survivors' insurance contributions and upon which the County pays a one-ninetieth rather than a one-sixtieth retirement allowance. Such however is not the case. The last paragraph of section 31813 provides for a refund of contributions paid by the employee during the period of retroactive coverage less the amount to pay old age and survivors' insurance contributions. The refund is not limited to that portion of the salary that is subject to old age and survivors' insurance. * * *."

If this act does not take immediate effect, an unfair discrimination against employees on small salaries and in favor of the more fortunate highly paid employees will be continued, and the highly paid employees will not have contributed their fair share of the cost of the system.

SEC. 6. There is hereby reserved to the people of the State of California the right to fish in the waters on which the granted lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over the granted lands for said purpose.

SEC. 7. There is hereby excepted and reserved to the State of California the following:

SEC. 8. In the event of a violation of any of the provisions of this act, the granted lands and the whole thereof shall revert to the State of California.

SEC. 9. The State Lands Commission shall, at the cost of the city, survey and monument the granted lands and record a description and plat thereof in the Office of the County Recorder of San Diego County.

SEC. 10. If any provision of this act or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of this act which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this act are severable.

SEC. 11. Chapter 120 of the Statutes of 1925, Chapter 184 of the Statutes of 1947, Chapter 593 of the Statutes of 1953,

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 1, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Division 5, comprising Sections 30000 through 30010, is added to Title 4 of the Corporations Code, to read:

DIVISION 5. UNIFORM ACT FOR SIMPLIFICATION OF FIDUCIARY SECURITY TRANSFERS

30000. As used in this division, unless the context otherwise requires: Definitions

(a) "Assignment" includes any written stock power, bond power, bill of sale, deed, declaration of trust, or other instrument of transfer.

(b) "Claim of beneficial interest" includes a claim of any interest by a decedent's legatee, distributee, heir or creditor, a beneficiary under a trust, a ward, a beneficial owner of a security registered in the name of a nominee, or a minor owner of a security registered in the name of a custodian, or a claim of any similar interest, whether the claim is asserted by the claimant or by a fiduciary or by any other authorized person on his behalf, and includes a claim that the transfer would be in breach of fiduciary duties.

(c) "Corporation" means a private or public corporation, association, or trust issuing a security.

(d) "Fiduciary" means an executor, administrator, trustee, guardian, committee, conservator, curator, tutor, custodian, or nominee.

(e) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(f) "Security" includes any share of stock, bond, debenture, note, or other security issued by a corporation, which is registered as to ownership on the books of the corporation.

(g) "Transfer" means a change on the books of a corporation in the registered ownership of a security.

(h) "Transfer agent" means a person employed or authorized by a corporation to transfer securities issued by the corporation.

30001. A corporation or transfer agent registering a security in the name of a person who is a fiduciary or who is described as a fiduciary is not bound to inquire into the existence, extent, or correct description of the fiduciary relationship, and thereafter the corporation and its transfer agent may assume without inquiry that the newly registered owner continues to be the fiduciary until the corporation or transfer agent receives written notice that the fiduciary is no longer acting as such with respect to the particular security.

Good faith assumption

30002. Except as otherwise provided in this division: (a) A corporation or transfer agent making a transfer of a security pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary may assume without inquiry that the assignment, even though to the fiduciary himself or to his nominee, is within his authority and capacity and is not in breach of his fiduciary duties; and

(b) The corporation or transfer agent may assume without inquiry that the fiduciary has complied with any controlling instrument and with the law of the jurisdiction governing the fiduciary relationship, including any law requiring the fiduciary to obtain court approval of the transfer; and

(c) The corporation or transfer agent is not charged with notice of and is not bound to obtain or examine any court record or any recorded or unrecorded document relating to the fiduciary relationship or the assignment, even though the record or document is in its possession.

30003. A corporation or transfer agent making a transfer pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary who is not the registered owner shall obtain the following evidence of appointment or incumbency: Transfers by one not the registered owner

(a) In the case of a fiduciary appointed or qualified by a court, a certificate issued by or under the direction or supervision of that court or an officer thereof and dated within 60 days before the transfer; or

(b) In any other case, a copy of a document showing the appointment or a certificate issued by or on behalf of a person reasonably believed by the corporation or transfer agent to be responsible or, in the absence of such a document or certificate, other evidence reasonably deemed by the corporation or transfer agent to be appropriate. Corporations and transfer agents may adopt standards with respect to evidence of appointment or incumbency under this subsection provided such standards are not manifestly unreasonable. Neither the corporation nor transfer agent is charged with notice of the contents of any document obtained pursuant to this paragraph (b) except to the extent that the contents relate directly to the appointment or incumbency.

30004. (a) A person asserting a claim of beneficial interest adverse to the transfer of a security pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary may give the corporation or transfer agent written notice of the claim. The corporation or transfer agent is not put on notice unless the written notice identifies the claimant, the registered owner and the issue of which the security is a part, provides an address for communications directed to the claimant and is received before the transfer. Nothing in this division relieves the corporation or transfer agent of any liability for making or refusing to make the transfer after it is so put on notice, unless it proceeds in the manner authorized in subsection (b). Notice of adverse claim

(b) As soon as practicable after the presentation of a security for transfer pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary, a corporation or transfer agent which has received notice of a claim of beneficial interest adverse to the transfer may send notice of the presentation by registered or certified mail to the claimant at the address given by him. If the corporation or transfer agent so mails such a notice it shall withhold the transfer for 30 days after the mailing and shall then make the transfer unless restrained by a court order.

30005. A corporation or transfer agent incurs no liability to any person by making a transfer or otherwise acting in a manner authorized by this division. Nonliability action were being or were to be used wrongfully for the individual benefit of the fiduciary or that the transaction was otherwise in breach of duty.

If a corporation or transfer agent makes a transfer pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary, a person who guaranteed the signature of the fiduciary is not liable on the guarantee to any person to whom the corporation or transfer agent by reason of this division incurs no liability.

This section does not impose any liability upon the corporation or its transfer agent.

Law of sites where corporation was organized applies 30007. The rights and duties of a corporation and its transfer agents in registering a security in the name of a fiduciary or in making a transfer of a security pursuant to an assignment by a fiduciary are governed by the law of the jurisdiction under whose laws the corporation is organized.

This division applies to the rights and duties of a person other than the corporation and its transfer agents with regard to acts and omissions in this State in connection with the acquisition, disposition, assignment or transfer of a security by or to a fiduciary and of a person who guarantees in this State the signature of a fiduciary in connection with such a transaction.

Taxes Estate, etc.

30008. This division does not affect any obligation of a corporation or transfer agent with respect to estate, inheritance, succession or other taxes imposed by the laws of this State.

Construction

30009. This act shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

Short title

1154. The repeal of the California Gifts of Securities to Minors Act (Article 4, Chapter 3, Title 4, Part 4, Division 2, Civil Code, added by Chapter 1958, Statutes of 1955) does not affect gifts made in a manner prescribed therein nor the powers, duties and immunities conferred by gifts in such manner upon custodians and persons dealing with custodians. Notwithstanding its repeal, the provisions of that act, rather than this article, shall be applicable to gifts made pursuant to that act prior to the effective date of this article. This article applies to gifts made, on or after its effective date, pursuant to its provisions. Application

(Name of minor)
Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

(b) Any gift made in a manner prescribed in subdivision (a) may be made to only one minor and only one person may be the custodian.

(c) A donor who makes a gift to a minor in a manner prescribed in subdivision (a) shall promptly do all things within his power to put the subject of the gift in the possession and control of the custodian, but neither the donor's failure to comply with this subdivision, nor his designation of an ineligible person as custodian, nor renunciation by the person designated as custodian affects the consummation of the gift.

Irrevocable gift

1157. (a) A gift made in a manner prescribed in this article is irrevocable and conveys to the minor indefeasibly vested legal title to the security or money given, but no guardian of the minor has any right, power, duty or authority with respect to the custodial property except as provided in this article.

(b) By making a gift in a manner prescribed in this article, the donor incorporates in his gift all the provisions of this article and grants to the custodian, and to any issuer, transfer agent, bank, savings and loan association, broker or third person dealing with a person designated as custodian, the respective powers, rights and immunities provided in this article.

(c) The court, on the petition of a parent or guardian of the minor or of the minor, if he has attained the age of 14 years, may order the custodian to pay over to the minor for expenditure by him or to expend so much of or all the custodial property as is necessary for the minor's support, maintenance or education.

(d) To the extent that the custodial property is not so expended, the custodian shall deliver or pay it over, with an accounting, to the minor on his attaining the age of 21 years or, if the minor dies before attaining the age of 21 years he shall thereupon deliver or pay it over, with an accounting, to the estate of the minor.

(e) The custodian, notwithstanding statutes restricting investments by fiduciaries, shall invest and reinvest the custodial property as would a prudent man of discretion and intelligence who is seeking a reasonable income and the preservation of his capital, except that he may, in his discretion and without liability to the minor or his estate, retain a security given to the minor in a manner prescribed in this article.

(f) The custodian may sell, exchange, convert or otherwise dispose of custodial property in the manner, at the time or times, for the price or prices and upon the terms he deems advisable. He may vote in person or by general or limited proxy a security which is custodial property. He may consent, directly or through a committee or other agent, to the reorganization, consolidation, merger, dissolution or liquidation of an issuer, a security of which is custodial property, and to the sale, lease, pledge or mortgage of any property by or to such an issuer, and to any other action by such an issuer. He may execute and deliver any and all instruments in writing which he deems advisable to carry out any of his powers as custodian.

Minors Act." The custodian shall hold all money which is custodial property in an account with a broker or in a bank or in an account in an insured savings and loan association in the name of the custodian, followed, in substance, by the words: "as custodian for _____ under the California Uniform Gifts to Minors Act." The custodian shall keep all other custodial property separate and distinct from his own property in a manner to identify it clearly as custodial property.

(Name of minor)

(i) A custodian has and holds as powers in trust, with respect to the custodial property, in addition to the rights and powers provided in this article, all the rights and powers which a guardian has with respect to property not held as custodial property.

Custodian's reimbursement

1159. (a) A custodian is entitled to reimbursement from the custodial property for his reasonable expenses, including reasonable fees for his attorney, incurred in the performance of his duties.

(b) A custodian may act without compensation for his services.

(c) Unless he is a donor, a custodian may receive from the custodial property reasonable compensation for his services determined by one of the following standards in the order stated:

(1) A direction by the donor when the gift is made;
(2) A statute of this State applicable to custodians;
(3) The statute of this State applicable to guardians;
(4) An order of the court.

(d) Except as otherwise provided in this aricle, a custodian shall not be required to give a bond for the performance of his duties.

(e) A custodian not compensated for his services is not liable for losses to the custodial property unless they result from his bad faith, intentional wrong-doing or gross negligence or from his failure to maintain the standard of prudence in investing the custodial property provided in this article.

Persons exempt from responsibility

1160. No issuer, transfer agent, bank, savings and loan association, broker or other person acting on the instructions of or otherwise dealing with any person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian is responsible for determining whether the person designated by the purported donor or purporting to act as a custodian has been duly designated or whether any purchase, sale or transfer to or by or any other act of any person purporting to act in the capacity of custodian is in accordance with or authorized by this article, or is obliged to inquire into the validity or propriety under this article of any instrument or instructions executed or given by a person purporting to act as a donor or in the capacity of a custodian, or is bound to see to the application by any person purporting to act in the capacity of a custodian of any money or other property paid or delivered to him.

Successor custodian

1161. (a) Only an adult member of the minor's family, a guardian of the minor or a trust company is eligible to become successor custodian. A successor custodian has all the rights, powers, duties and immunities of a custodian designated in a manner prescribed by this article.

(b) A custodian, other than the donor, may resign and designate his successor by:

(1) Executing an instrument of resignation designating successor custodian; and

(f) Upon the filing of a petition as provided in this section, the court shall grant an order, directed to the persons and returnable on such notice as the court may require, to show cause why the relief prayed for in the petition should not be granted and, in due course, grant such relief as the court finds to be in the best interests of the minor.

Accounting

1162. (a) The minor, if he has attained the age of 14 years, or the legal representative of the minor, an adult member of the minor's family, or a donor or his legal representative may petition the court for an accounting by the custodian or his legal representative. The right to petition for an accounting shall continue for one year after the filing of a final accounting by the custodian or his legal representative and delivery of the custodial property to the minor or his estate.

(b) The court, in a proceeding under this article or otherwise, may require or permit the custodian or his legal representative to account and, if the custodian is removed, shall so require and order delivery of all custodial property to the successor custodian and the execution of all instruments required for the transfer thereof.

Construction

1163. (a) This article shall be so construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those states which enact it.

(b) This article shall not be construed as providing an exclusive method for making gifts to minors.

Short title

1164. This article may be cited at the "California Uniform Gifts to Minors Act."

Saving clause

1165. If any provision of this article or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, the invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the article which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are severable.

No school of cosmetology shall be licensed until the board has had ample opportunity to verify sworn statements as to the actual ownership and in this respect, if false statements are submitted to the board in connection with said application, this in itself shall constitute sufficient grounds for the refusal to grant any application hereunder, or if an application is granted and thereafter the board discovers that false statements were made in connection therewith, this shall constitute sufficient grounds for the cancellation of said school of cosmetology license even though it is detected after a license has been issued.

The board reserves the right to deny a school of cosmetology license to any applicant who fails to present satisfactory evidence of personal integrity and moral responsibility, and in the event that the said applicant is a corporation, this shall apply to all the officers thereof; provided further, that no school of cosmetology license shall be issued until the real owner files with the department a statement definitely designating who is authorized to accept service of notice from the said board and to transact all business negotiations in behalf of the said school, including answers to cita-

(c) That the requirements for registration or licensing of cosmetologists, electrologists and manicurists, in the particular state were, at the date of the previous registration or licensing, substantially equal to the requirements therefor then in force in this State.

Any person who fails to qualify for admission to the examination because his study or training does not fulfill the requirements of subdivision (c) shall receive credit for the number of hours of study and training successfully completed in the particular state where he is registered, and he shall be qualified for the examination upon completion of such supplementary study and training in a licensed school in this State as the board finds necessary to substantially equal the study and training of a qualified person who has studied and trained in a licensed school in this State only. For the purposes of this subdivision, each three months of practice of the occupation or occupations outside of this State shall be deemed the equivalent of 100 hours of study and training required in order to qualify for a license for that occupation or occupations.

An act to amend Section 19582 of the Education Code as enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, relating to school building aid.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 1, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19582 of the Education Code as enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session is amended to read:

19582. The board by the adoption of rules shall provide for the manner of determining the area of adequate school construction existing in an applicant school district at the time of application. Such rules shall define and provide for the method of determining building areas that are to be included in whole or in part, or to be excluded from the area of existing adequate school construction.

The board may make exceptions to the provisions of this section or to the rules adopted pursuant to such section when it determines that such will be for the benefit of children affected.

For the purposes of this section, "service area" may be defined as (1) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which the provisions of Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would not apply, whether or not such sections were in effect at the time when the building was constructed, or (2) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would apply, whether or not such sections were in effect when the building was constructed, but which building has been converted or is intended to be converted, as shown by the application, to use for purposes to which such sections would not apply. Service area may include, but is not limited to, construction used as bus garages, maintenance shops, centrally located district storage and warehouses, teacherage and custodial houses, utility shelters, administration offices, transformer vaults, and service yards.

The board shall exclude from the building area of a district the area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a parent co-operative nursery education facility, and for no other purpose, and which building at the time of acquisition thereof by the district was incidental to the purchase of a school site and unsuitable for classroom purposes or which was acquired by the district without expenditure of school district funds.

The area of adequate school construction existing in a district at the time of application shall be initially computed as all of the construction area of a district except (1) such areas as may be eligible for replacement under standards established by the board, and (2) such areas in an existing structurally inadequate building for which an application has been filed for structural rehabilitation or in a building previously structurally rehabilitated under either Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive, or Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive, of the Education Code, that exceeds the maximum building area allowed by Section 19581 for a number of pupils, equivalent to those that could be housed in the building after rehabilitation. The board shall prescribe by rule the method of computing the number of pupils which could be so housed for the purposes of this subsection. If such area of adequate school construction, when added to the minimum facilities needed by the district, results in a total construction area in excess of the amount prescribed in Section 19581, then the board may make the following adjustments to the initial computation or such revisions thereof as the board, in its discretion, deems desirable:

(a) Service areas constructed prior to July 19, 1947, shall be excluded, except as provided in (c) below.

(b) Service areas constructed subsequent to July 19, 1947, shall be recomputed by multiplying the total number of square feet of said service area by the percentage determined from dividing the actual construction cost per square foot as determined by the Director of Finance by the estimated average cost per square foot of the new school facilities for which the district has made application.

(c) If any inadequate nonservice area constructed prior to July 19, 1947, is, or will be, converted to a service area, such area shall be recomputed by multiplying said area by the percentage determined by dividing the depreciated value of said area by the replacement cost as such value and cost are determined by the Director of Finance.

(d) If, after the revised computation of service areas is made as prescribed under subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the existing and requested building area of the district is in excess of the schedule set forth in Section 19581, the existing building area of nonservice facilities may be determined on the basis of the number of pupils housed by such facilities at an allowance per pupil which is not more than 25 percent in excess of the amount per pupil prescribed in Section 19581.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method for computing the number of adequately housed pupils for purposes of this subsection.

This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the 1961 Regular Session of the Legislature.

An act to add Chapter 4 (commencing at Section 1960) to Part 7, Division 2 of, the Labor Code, relating to firefighters.

If in the opinion of the legislative body the contemplated work is of more than local or ordinary public benefit or of such nature that the costs and expenses should be assessed in proportion to estimated benefits arising therefrom, or if, according to the estimate furnished by the engineer, the total estimated costs and expenses thereof will exceed one-half the total assessed value of the lots or lands fronting upon the proposed work, if such lots or lands are assessed according to the valuation fixed by the last assessment roll whereon it was assessed for taxes for city purposes, and after allowing a reasonable depth from such frontage for lots or lands assessed in bulk, the legislative body may make the expense of such work chargeable upon a district, which the legislative body shall, in its resolution of intention, declare to be the district benefited by the work, and to be assessed to pay the cost and expense thereof. The territory comprising said district may, but need not, include all, or be confined to, or extend beyond, the lots or lands fronting upon the improvement, or be contiguous, and the district may consist of separate and distinct areas or sections. If the accused or his counsel desires to test the legality of the arrest, the magistrate shall fix a reasonable time to be allowed him within which to apply for a writ of habeas corpus. If the writ is denied or the accused is remanded to custody, and probable cause appears for an application for a writ of habeas corpus to another court, or justice or judge thereof, the order denying the writ or remanding the accused shall fix a reasonable time within which the accused may again apply for a writ of habeas corpus. When an application is made for a writ of habeas corpus as contemplated by this section, a copy of the application shall be served as provided in Section 1475 upon the district attorney of the county in which the accused is in custody, and upon the agent of the demanding state.

If the member whose current service pension will be calculated either under Section 21252.1, 21252.2, 21252.3, 21252.4, or 21252.6 elects to redeposit withdrawn contributions which had been deposited by him in the same or another such membership category, his normal rate of contribution beginning on the first day of the calendar month following the date his election is received in the office of the system shall be established under Section 20609.

Any such balance at the time of retirement for service or ordinary disability, or at death, with respect to which a benefit is payable under Section 21365.5 shall become due and payable forthwith, and if it is not paid the service credit included in the election shall be reduced proportionately and any prior service dependent on completion of payments eliminated for purposes of computing the allowance but not for purposes of determining entitlement to an allowance.

SEC. 3. Section 20897 of said code is amended to read:

Credit for absence because of ordered evacuation and relocation during war 20897. War relocation leave of a member shall include the period of time from the separation of a member from state service until his return to state service within the period provided herein.

sation earnable by him at the time of commencement of his period of war relocation leave multiplied by the number of months of war relocation leave for which he has elected to receive credit for state service and which will constitute current service under this system, (2) the contributions that would have been made by the State in respect to him if he had been in state service during the time he was on war relocation leave and for which he has elected to receive credit for state service, excluding any such contributions with respect to prior service, computed by applying the rate of state contribution with respect to members of his category at the time of commencement of his period of war relocation leave to the monthly compensation earnable by him at said time of commencement of his period of war relocation leave multiplied by the number of months of war relocation leave for which he has elected to receive credit for state service and which will constitute current service under this system, and (3) the interest which would have accrued to such member contributions and such state contributions if they had been made on the date of commencement of the member's period of war relocation leave from that date until the completion of payment of those contributions, computed at the current interest rate.

At the time of his retirement a member shall not receive credit as state service for any war relocation leave in excess of that for which he has completed payment of contributions as provided in this section. No judge of a court of record, who shall deny his disqualification, shall hear or pass upon the question of his own disqualification; but in every such case, the question of the judge's disqualification shall be heard and determined by some other judge agreed upon by the parties who shall have appeared in the action or proceeding, or, in the event of their failing to agree, by a judge assigned to act by the Chairman of the Judicial Council, and, if the parties fail to agree upon a judge to determine the question of the disqualification, within five days after the expiration of the time allowed herein for the judge to answer, it shall be the duty of the clerk then to notify the Chairman of the Judicial Council of that fact; and it shall be the duty of the Chairman of the Judicial Council forthwith, upon receipt of notice from the clerk, to assign some other judge, not disqualified, to hear and determine the question.

If, however, the parties to the action shall sign and file a stipulation, agreeing upon some other judge to sit or act in place of the judge disqualified under the provisions of this subdivision, the judge agreed upon shall be called by the judge so disqualified to hear and try such action or proceeding; provided, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as preventing the judge of the superior court of such county, or of the municipal court of such judicial district, from issuing a temporary injunction or restraining order, which shall, if granted, remain in force until vacated or modified by the judge designated as herein provided.

Sheriffs, police, firemen and wardens

3212. In the case of members of a sheriff's office or of police or fire departments of cities, counties, cities and counties, districts or other public or municipal corporations or political subdivisions, whether such members are volunteer, partly paid, or fully paid, and in the case of active fire-fighting members of the Division of Forestry of the State Department of Natural Resources whose duties require fire fighting or of any county forestry or fire-fighting department or unit, whether voluntary, fully paid, or partly paid, and in the case of members of the warden service of the Wildlife Protection Branch of the Department of Fish and Game whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service, excepting those whose principal duties are clerical or otherwise do not clearly fall within the scope of active law enforcement service such as stenographer, telephone operators, and other officeworkers, the term "injury" as used in this act includes hernia when any part of the hernia develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service in such office, division, department or unit, and in the case of members of such fire departments, county forestry or fire-fighting departments, and in the case of active fire-fighting members of the Division of Forestry whose duties require fire fighting, and in the case of members of the warden service of the Wildlife Protection Branch of the Department of Fish and Game whose principal duties consist of active law enforcement service, excepting those whose principal duties are clerical or otherwise do not clearly fall within the scope of active law enforcement service such as stenographer, telephone operators, and other officeworkers, the term "injury" includes pneumonia and heart trouble which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member is in the service of such office, department or unit. In the case of regular salaried county or city and county peace officers, the term "injury" also includes any hernia which manifests itself or develops during a period while the officer is in the service. The compensation which is awarded for such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia, shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits, as provided by the workmen's compensation laws of this State.

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the commission is bound to find in accordance with it.

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

SEC. 2. Section 3212.5 of the Labor Code is amended to read:

City police, highway patrolmen and sheriffs

3212.5. In the case of a member of a police department of a city or municipality, or a member of the State Highway Patrol, when any such member is employed under civil service upon a regular, full-time salary, and in the case of a sheriff or deputy sheriff employed upon a regular, full-time salary, the term "injury" as used in this division includes heart trouble and pneumonia which develops or manifests itself during a period while such member, sheriff, or deputy sheriff is in the service of the police department, or the State Highway Patrol, or the sheriff's office, as the case may be. The compensation which is awarded for such heart trouble or pneumonia shall include full hospital, surgical, medical treatment, disability indemnity, and death benefits as provided by the provisions of this division.

Such heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself shall be presumed to arise out of and in the course of the employment; provided, however, that the member of the police department or State Highway Patrol or the sheriff or deputy sheriff shall have served five years or more in such capacity before the presumption shall arise as to the compensability of heart trouble so developing or manifesting itself. This presumption is disputable and may be controverted by other evidence, but unless so controverted, the commission is bound to find in accordance with it.

Such hernia, heart trouble or pneumonia so developing or manifesting itself in such cases shall in no case be attributed to any disease existing prior to such development or manifestation.

In no event shall any retirement allowance payable under this chapter to any such member exceed seventy-five percent (75%) of the compensation payable to Members of the Legislature at the time the payment of the allowance is made.

(b) The retirement allowance for a member all of whose credited service was rendered as an elective officer of the State whose office is provided for by the Constitution other than a judge (and other than a member of the Senate or Assembly) is an annual amount equal to five percent (5%) of the compensation payable at the time payments of the allowance fall due, to the officer holding the office which the retired member last held prior to his retirement, or five percent (5%) of the highest compensation fixed for such office during the member's last term or any subsequent term prior to his retirement, whichever is greater, multiplied by the number of years of service with which the member is entitled to be credited at the time of his retirement, not to exceed eight (8) years.

An act to add Sections 43401 and 43648.1 to, and to amend Section 43652.1 of the Government Code, relating to limited obligation bonds and the deposit and use of sales and use tax funds, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 2, 1959.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 43401 is added to the Government Code, to read:

43401. All moneys received from sales and use taxes shall be paid into the General Fund, or into such special fund or funds for such purpose or purposes as shall be established by ordinance. Moneys received from sales and use taxes

SEC. 2. Section 43648.1 is added to said code, to read:

43648.1. City, as used in this article, shall also mean an incorporated city having a permanent resident population of not less than 12,000, and whose seasonal population, because of the recreational character of the city and its surrounding areas, increases to not less than three times that of its permanent resident population. The findings of the legislative body as to such population, made after notice and public hearing, shall be conclusive. "City"

SEC. 3. Section 43652.1 of said code is amended to read:

43652.1. Such bonds may be issued for the acquisition, installation, construction or improving of any or all works or improvements of a public nature and the acquisition of lands and easements therefor, except for the supply or distribution of water, gas or electricity other than street lighting. Purpose of bonds

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are: Urgency

There is presently an unprecedented population growth within the State and within the cities therein. In many cities this growth has caused a great shortage of municipal facilities which may be financed with limited obligation bonds. Primarily, these shortages arise in the nature of offstreet parking and other facilities within the commercial areas thereof. Frequently, these improvements are beyond the general financial means of such cities. Usually, little benefit from the improvements exists beyond the commercial area within the city. The proceeds of sales taxes are derived from the sale of merchandise within such commercial areas and constitute an appropriate means of revenue for relieving the conditions existing within such and other areas of such cities.

Other improvements required by reason of growth are of a more general benefit. However, by reason of said unprecedented growth or seasonal growth, property taxes have seriously increased and it is required that other sources of revenue be provided to pay the costs of needed improvements.

Dissolution of board

3491. The order declaring a unified school district dissolved shall not affect the continuance of the governing board of the unified school district or the maintenance of the schools of the district until the end of the current school year. At the expiration of the current school year, the board and the unified school district shall cease to exist.

Transfer of moneys

3492. When a unified district is dissolved pursuant to this article, all property of the district, together with any moneys in the treasury to the credit of the dissolved district, shall be transferred to the credit of the newly formed school districts that composed the dissolved district in accordance with the plans and recommendations of the county committee. Within 30 days after the dissolution of the unified school district becomes effective for all purposes, the county auditor of the county whose superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the district shall determine the balance of the funds standing to the credit of the dissolved unified school district as of the effective date of such dissolution. [Approved by Governor June 3, 1959 Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1959]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14370 of the Education Code as enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session is amended to read:

14370. (a) If the retiring member has attained the age of 60 years at the effective date of his retirement, the amount of disability annuity payable under subdivision (b) of Section 14369 shall be the same as the amount of the annuity which would have been payable to him under subdivision (b) of Section 14355 if his retirement were for service instead of for disability.

(b) If the retiring member has not attained the age of 60 years at the effective date of his retirement, the amount of disability annuity payable under subdivision (b) of Section 14369 shall be:

(1) Ninety percent (90%) of the sum of the annuity payable to him under subdivision (b) of Section 14355 at the age of 60 years, on the basis of his final compensation at retirement, and service rendered up to the effective date of his retirement, or

(2) If the retiring member is entitled to be credited with at least 10 years of service in this State, and the resulting disability retirement allowance does not exceed one-fourth of his final compensation, ninety percent (90%) of the sum of the annuity payable to him under subdivision (b) of Section 14355 at the age of 60 years, on the basis of his final compensation at retirement, and the service which would be creditable to him were his service to continue until attainment by him of age 60, but in such case, the retirement allowance shall not exceed one-fourth of such final compensation. If the retiring member is entitled to receive a retirement allowance from another retirement system to which the State or university contributes, the amount of such allowance shall be deducted from the amount otherwise payable under this subparagraph except that such reduced amount shall not be less than the amount payable under subparagraph (1) of this subdivision (b).

(c) In no event shall the disability annuity under this section be more than sufficient to make the disability retirement allowance, exclusive of any annuity provided by accumulated annuity deposits, exceed the service retirement allowance, exclusive of any annuity purchased by accumulated annuity deposits, receivable by the member should he continue until retirement at age 60.

CHAPTER 774

An act to amend Section 14411 of, and to repeal Sections 14110 and 14412 of the Education Code as enacted at the 1959 Regular Session, relating to State Teachers' Retirement System.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14411 of the Education Code as enacted at the 1959 Regular Session is amended to read:

Ceasing to be member of local system

14411. If a member of this retirement system who is or has been a member of another retirement system ceases to be entitled to retirement benefits from the other retirement system for any service rendered after July 1, 1944, which qualifies for credit under this retirement system and for which he has not contributed to the Retirement Annuity Fund under Section 14108, but continues to be a member of this retirement system, upon receipt of refund of his contributions to the other retirement system he may elect at any time prior to retirement to deposit in the Retirement Annuity Fund an amount equal to the contributions which he would have been required to make during such service if he had not then been a member of the other retirement system, with interest from the first of the year next following the date on which such contributions would have been payable to the first of the month following the date said election is received in the office of the system in Sacramento, California, at the rate of interest currently being used from time to time to credit interest to Retirement Annuity Fund contributions.

Subject to minimum payments and time limits fixed by the board, the member may make the deposit of said amount in one or more sums, but if not made within 30 days after said election to deposit is received in the office of the system in Sacramento, California, the member shall also deposit in the Retirement Annuity Fund interest on the unpaid portion of said amount at said rate.

Unless such deposit is made the member shall not be entitled to benefits from the Retirement Annuity Fund based upon service rendered after July 1, 1944, for which he has not contributed to the Retirement Annuity Fund pursuant to Section 14108, and the minimum retirement allowance applicable to such member shall be the minimum allowance calculated as if the deposit were made, and then reduced by the amount of the annuity which would have been the actuarial equivalent of such deposit. If the member elects to make the deposit, his rate of annuity fund contributions with respect to service rendered after the first of the month in which the election is received in the office of the system in Sacramento shall be based on his age at the beginning of the service under the other retirement system after July 1, 1944, or on a lower age, as determined under this chapter (commencing at Section 13801), because of other credited service. If the member does not make the election to deposit, his rate of annuity fund contributions shall be determined under this chapter.

If a member has elected to make the deposit and does not make it in accordance with rules established by the board, the election shall be canceled and his rate of annuity fund contributions shall be determined retroactively under this chapter and as it would have been had the election not been made; any payments made under the election shall be refunded to the member after deducting any retirement annuity fund contributions due because of the adjustment in his rate.

SEC. 2. Sections 14110 and 14412 of said code are repealed. Repeals

CHAPTER 775

An act to amend Section 21361 of the Government Code, relating to the State Employees' Retirement System.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 21361 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21361. The basic death benefit is payable in all cases where the retirement system is liable under Section 21360 for either the basic or a special death benefit and the special death benefit is not payable.

The basic death benefit shall consist of:

(a) The accumulated contributions of the member.

(b) An amount, provided from contributions by the State, or a contracting agency, equal to one-twelfth of the annual compensation earnable by the deceased during the 12 months immediately preceding his death, multiplied by the number of completed years of current service credited to the member, but not to exceed one-half of such compensation.

The basic death benefit for a member who dies under the circumstances described in subdivision (e) of Section 21360 shall not exceed an amount which when added to the death benefit paid for such member under such other system equals the maximum death benefit payable under that system, if the death is not the result of injury or disease arising out of and in the course of his employment under that system; provided, however, that such benefit shall be at least equal to his accumulated contributions. The basic death benefit for such member shall be the amount of his accumulated contributions if death is the result of disease or injury arising out of and in the course of employment under such other system.

CHAPTER 776

An act to amend Sections 20023.1, 20393, 20600.5, 21021.5, and 21360 of the Government Code, relating to the State Employees' Retirement System.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor June 3, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 3, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20023.1 of the Government Code is amended to read:

"Compensation earnable". Under county retirement system

20023.1. The average monthly salary during any period of service as a member of a county retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937 shall be considered compensation earnable by a member of this system for purposes of computing final compensation for such member provided:

(1) Entry into membership in one system occurred on or after October 1, 1957, and within 90 days of discontinuance of employment as a member of the other system.

(2) He retires concurrently under both systems and is credited with such period of service under the county system at the time of retirement.

SEC. 2. Section 20393 of said code is amended to read:

Elections re accumulated contributions

20393. Any other provision in this part to the contrary notwithstanding, a member whose accumulated contributions exceed five hundred dollars ($500) shall have the right to elect, not later than 90 days after the date upon which notice of said right is mailed by this system to the member's latest address on file in the office of this system, whether to leave such accumulated contributions on deposit in the Retirement Fund under any of the following conditions:

(1) If his state service is discontinued by reason of resignation or discharge.

(2) If his state service is discontinued by reason of layoff or leave of absence deemed by the board to have resulted in permanent discontinuance (and in such case, as of the date of the determination by the board that the discontinuance is permanent).

(3) If a member ceases to be entitled to credit in this system for future service because he has become entitled to credit for such service in another retirement system supported wholly or in part by funds of the United States Government, or any state government or political subdivision thereof.

(4) If the disability retirement of a member is followed by cessation of the disability and by cancellation of the disability allowance, but the member does not re-enter state service

A member whose accumulated contributions are five hundred dollars ($500) or less shall have such right to elect if he enters employment as a member of a retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937 on or after October 1, 1957, and within 90 days of leaving state service.

Failure to make such election shall be deemed an irrevocable election to withdraw his accumulated contributions unless the member is entitled to be credited with 20 years of service. An election to allow accumulated contributions to remain in the Retirement Fund may be revoked by the member at any time except while he is employed in state service in a position in which he is not excluded from membership with respect to such service, or while he is in service, entered on or after October 1, 1957, and within 90 days after discontinuing state service, as a member of a retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937. All contributions accumulated up to the time of revocation may then be withdrawn. A member whose membership continues under this section is subject to the same age and disability requirements as apply to other members for service or for disability retirement but he is not subject to a minimum service requirement. After the qualification of such member for retirement by reason of age, which shall be the lowest age applicable to any membership category in which he has credited service, or disability, he shall be entitled to receive a retirement allowance based upon the amount of his accumulated contributions and service standing to his credit at the time of retirement and on the employer contributions held for him and calculated in the same manner as for other members, except that the provisions in this part for minimum service and disability retirement allowances do not apply to him, unless he meets such minimum service requirements. If a basic death benefit becomes payable under Article 5 of Chapter 9 of this part because of death before retirement of such a member, the average annual compensation earnable in the year preceding the date of termination of such service rather than in the year preceding death shall be used in computing such benefit under such Article 5 of Chapter 9.

SEC. 3. Section 20600.5 of the Government Code is amended to read:

Determination of age at entry if a member under 1937 county act

20600.5. For purposes of this chapter, the age of entry into this system as a member in any membership category for a person who enters on or after October 1, 1957, and within 90 days after last rendering service as a member of a retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937 and who retains his membership in such system shall be his age at entry into such county retirement system.

SEC. 4. Section 21021.5 of said code is amended to read:

County employees

21021.5. A member whose membership continues under Section 20393 shall be retired for disability and receive a retirement allowance based on the service credited to him at time of retirement during any period in which he receives a disability retirement allowance under a retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937, subject to the following conditions:

(1) That such allowance shall not be paid if entry into membership of such county system occurred prior to October 1, 1957, or after more than 90 days of discontinuance of state service.

(2) That such allowance shall not exceed an amount which when added to the allowance paid under such other system equals the allowance which would be paid if the member's state service were credited under such other system where retirement is for disability not arising out of or in the course of employment subject to such other system; provided, however, that the allowance shall in any event be no less than an annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of member's contributions.

(3) That such allowance shall be an annuity which is the actuarial equivalent of accumulated contributions where retirement under such other system is for disability arising out of and in the course of employment subject to such other system.

SEC. 5. Section 21360 of said code is amended to read:

21360. This system is liable for either the basic or special death benefit upon the death of a member (a) while in state service, before the effective date of his retirement, or with respect to (1) any member whose retirement was not compulsory under Article 2 of Chapter 8, and (2) any member who has not elected optional settlement 2 or 3 or an optional settlement 4 involving payment of an allowance throughout the life of a beneficiary under Article 4 of Chapter 9, after such effective date and before his retirement is approved, or (b) while absent on military service and who makes contributions under Section 20891.1 or for whom contributions will be made under Section 20894.5, or (c) within four months after discontinuance of state service, or (d) while physically or mentally incapacitated for the performance of his duty, if such incapacity has been continuous from discontinuance of state service, or (e) while employed as a member of a retirement system established under the County Employees' Retirement Law of 1937; provided, such employment as a member was begun on or after October 1, 1957, and within 90 days of discontinuance of state service. However, if any contracting agency elects, by amendment to its contract with the board made as provided in Section 20461.5, to subject itself and its employees to the provisions of this part reducing the ages at which members may retire and increasing the benefits members will receive, then each local miscellaneous member employed by that contracting agency shall be retired for service upon his written application to the board if he has attained age 55 and is entitled to be credited with 20 years of state service or if the amount of his accumulated contributions standing to his credit exceeds five hundred dollars ($500).

Benefit payable upon death of a member qualified for service retirement 21365.5. Upon the death while in state service and before the effective date of his retirement of a member who had attained the minimum age for voluntary service retirement applicable to him in his employment at the time of death and who is credited with 20 or more years of state service, a monthly allowance equal to one-half of the unmodified retirement allowance which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired on the date of his death shall be payable:

(a) To the surviving wife of a male member as long as she lives or until her remarriage; or

(b) To a dependent surviving husband of a female member as long as he lives or until remarriage.

Where a member does not have a surviving spouse nor any children under the age of 18 years at the time of death, no allowance shall be payable under this section.

No allowance shall be payable under this section if a special death benefit is payable.

The payments provided by this section shall be paid in lieu of the basic death benefit but if the total payments made hereunder are less than the basic death benefit that would have been paid at the death of the member, the amount of the basic death benefit less any payments made pursuant to this section shall be paid as follows:

(1) To the remarried spouse if such spouse is the person last entitled to the monthly payments; or

(2) To the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to receive the monthly allowance.

The board shall compute the amount by which benefits paid pursuant to this section exceed the benefits which would otherwise be payable and shall charge any such excess against the contributions of the State so that there shall be no increase in contributions of members by reason of benefits paid pursuant to this section. As used in this section, "a surviving wife" means a wife that was married to the member for at least one year prior to his death, a "dependent surviving husband" means a husband that was married to the member for at least one year prior to the member's death and whose income from all other sources was less than one-half the earnings of the member, and "child" includes a posthumously born child of the member.

This section shall not apply to a safety member in the employ of a contracting agency which has elected to be subject to Section 21337.

The section shall not apply to any contracting agency nor to the employees of any contracting agency unless and until the agency elects to be subject to the provisions of this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts, except that an election among the employees is not required, or, in the case of contracts made after the time this section takes effect, by express provision in such contract making the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

Every company, municipality, or district whose right-of-way shall be intersected or crossed by said pipes, pipelines, canals, flumes, tunnels or other conduits shall unite with the agency in forming said intersections and crossings and grant the rights therefor.

SEC. 4.9. (a) If by any judgment in condemnation or agreement the agency is required to relocate any street, road, highway, railroad, canal or other property subject or devoted to public use, the board may acquire in the name of the agency, by agreement or condemnation, all rights of way and other property necessary or proper for compliance with such agreement or judgment of condemnation and thereafter to make such conveyance of the relocated street, road, highway, railroad, canal, or other property as may be proper to comply with the agreement or judgment. All agreements for the exchange of property and all judgments requiring relocation of other public uses, as specified in this section and in Section 3.4 of this act, shall provide that in making the exchange the property condemned and exchanged shall be limited to public use by the party with whom such exchange is made.

(b) In the event the agency and any common carrier railroad or other public utility fail to agree as to the character or location of new improvements or works sought to be performed by the agency, the character and location of such new improvements or works and any other controversy relating thereto shall be submitted to and determined by the Public Utilities Commission.

(c) Proceedings under this section relating to the jurisdiction of said commission may be instituted, maintained and determined in the manner prescribed in Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 1201) of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code.

SEC. 4.10. The agency may reimburse the county for any funds expended by the county in investigations, elections, or other acts incidental to the establishment and purposes of the agency.

SEC. 4.11. In connection with the construction and operation of the works of the agency, the agency shall have the power to contract for a term not to exceed 50 years, for the sale of the right to use falling water for power purposes with any public or private entity, engaged in the sale of electric power at retail.

SEC. 4.12. Nothing contained in this act shall deprive a county in which water originates of any water necessary for the development of such county.

SEC. 5. Any water or rights to the use of the works of the agency for the conservation, control or transportation of water may be sold, leased or otherwise transferred by the agency to member units, and the agency may fix and collect rates and charges for such purposes. The agency may transfer such water or the use of agency works to other than member units for use in or outside the agency upon a temporary or short-term basis, upon a finding by the board that such water or works exceed the needs of member units. Each contract for or sale of surplus water or the use of such water facilities shall expressly state that the sale or disposition is subject to the prior right to the use of such water or facilities by or for member units.

SEC. 5.1. The agency may enter into contracts with any member unit or with any district which becomes a member unit of the agency for any of the following purposes:

(a) The lease, purchase, or other acquisition by the agency of any of the works of such member unit or district.

(b) The construction of works by the agency for the conservation, regulation or transmission of water for the benefit of such member unit or district; or for the furnishing or sale by the agency or the State of California or the United States to such member unit or by such member unit to the agency of water or a water supply for any purpose.

(c) The sale, lease, or other disposition of water, water rights, and water storage facilities or interests therein, by the agency or by such member unit.

(d) The operation of works and the delivery of water by the agency or by such member unit, except that:

(1) The works shall be operated in conformity with the vested rights and appropriations of each of its member units having an interest therein.

(2) There shall be delivered to each member unit all water to which such member unit is entitled under the contract entered into by the agency and such member unit.

(3) There shall not be delivered to any member unit more water than the amount to which such member unit is entitled under the contract entered into by the agency and such member unit, except that the release of water from any reservoir in the amount required to satisfy any vested right shall not constitute a delivery of water, and any amount of water assigned under Section 5.6 by one member unit to another member unit shall be delivered to the latter.

SEC. 5.2. Before the board shall have authority to enter into a contract with a district or districts lying partly or entirely outside of the boundaries of the County of Yuba, it shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to enter into such contract with such district or districts, and further specifying that by such contract said district or districts shall become member units of the Yuba County Water Agency and subject to the provisions of this act. The resolution shall fix the time and place for a public hearing thereon. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication once a week for two consecutive weeks prior to such hearing, the last publication of which notice must be at least seven days before said hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation to be designated by the board circulated in such district or districts. Said notice must designate a public place within such district or districts where a copy of the proposed contract may be seen by any interested persons.

At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed contract. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed contract, or proceed with the same unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing written protests against the proposed contract signed by a majority in number of the registered voters residing within each district affected be filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to the contract with such protesting district or districts must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

SEC. 5.3. The agency in its discretion may suspend delivery of water conserved by the agency or obtained by or on behalf of the agency or a member unit to any member unit during the period which said member unit is delinquent in its payment for or obligations due in respect to such water under any contract entered into by it with the agency.

SEC. 5.4. The liability of each member unit, as distinguished from the liability of its taxpayers and property therein for taxes levied by the agency for agency purposes, shall be limited to that portion of the total cost for water or water supply or to that portion of the total cost of construction and the operation and maintenance cost of the works acquired or constructed by or on behalf of the agency or member unit which such member unit agrees to bear.

The liability of each member unit shall be set forth fully in a written contract which shall be legally approved by the member unit in accordance with the laws governing such member unit. No contract shall be altered or modified without the consent of the agency and the legal approval of the member unit.

Each contract may provide, among other things:

(a) The total capital obligation which the member unit agrees to bear.

(b) The minimum annual payments which the member unit shall make in amortization of its capital obligation.

(c) The amount or pro rata portion of water which shall be delivered to or held in storage for the member unit.

(d) The basis of allocation of operation and maintenance costs to be borne by the member unit.

(e) The amount or other measure of water supply or water agreed to be acquired by or furnished or sold to such member unit and the cost thereof to such member unit.

Such contracts shall be executed in accordance with the laws governing such districts.

SEC. 5.5. (a) In the event of any reduction in the principal of any debt of the agency underwritten by one or more member units, other than by payment thereof, the amounts to be paid to the agency by each member unit in amortization of its remaining portion of such debt shall be reduced proportionately so that the relative obligations of each such member unit shall be unchanged.

(b) In the event of any reduction in the rate of interest being paid on any part of a debt of the agency for which one or more member units are responsible, the amounts to be paid the agency by each such member unit shall be reduced proportionately so that the relative obligation of each such member unit remains unchanged in respect to its obligation to pay any remaining interest.

(c) In determining the amounts which member units shall pay for water due consideration shall be given to revenues to be derived from the sale of electric energy. All main water conduits to member districts' boundaries shall be included in the feasibility report and considered as part of the agency project.

SEC. 5.6. Any member unit may reduce its obligations under its contract with the agency by assignment to and acceptance by another member unit of any part of its right to receive water under its contract except that the assignment shall be legally approved, in accordance with the laws governing such member unit, by each member unit which is a party to the assignment. The total of all payments to be made by such member units to the agency shall not be reduced by virtue of the assignment and the assignor member unit may be required by the agency to guarantee the payments assumed by the assignee member unit.

SEC. 5.7. If any capital asset of the agency is sold or otherwise disposed of, the net proceeds therefrom shall be distributed to the member units, or applied against any liability of the member units to the agency in proportion to the amount contributed by each member unit to the cost of the capital asset. However, if any liability on the part of the agency or its member units for the original cost or any subsequent improvement or refinancing of such capital asset is not completely extinguished at or before the time of the sale or disposal thereof, the agency may apply as much of the proceeds of the sale as are necessary to extinguish the liability. In extinguishing such liability, the proceeds of the sale shall be applied only as the interests and liabilities of the agency and its member units shall appear.

SEC. 6. The agency shall have the power to co-operate and contract with the United States under the Federal Reclamation Act of June 17, 1902, and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto or any other act of Congress heretofore or hereafter enacted permitting co-operation or contract for the purposes of construction of works, whether for irrigation, drainage, or flood control, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation and maintenance of such works, or for a water supply for any purposes, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States, or for carrying out any of the purposes of the agency, and for said purposes the agency shall have, in addition to the powers set forth in this act, all powers, rights and privileges possessed by irrigation districts as set out in Chapter 2 (commencing at Section 23175) of Part 6 of Division 11 of the Water Code, not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

SEC. 6.1. All money collected in pursuance of contract with the United States shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the agency and shall be held in a fund to be known as the "United States contract fund" to be used for payments due to the United States under contract.

SEC. 6.2. The agency may co-operate and act in conjunction and contract with the United States, State of California, any municipality, district, public or private corporation, or any person, in the purchase and sale of water, in the acquisition of water or a water supply, in the construction of any works for the controlling of flood or storm waters in the agency, or for the protection of property, watersheds, watercourses, highways and life, or for the purpose of conserving and transporting said waters for beneficial uses and purposes, including recreational uses and the generation of electric energy, and for the use, operation and management and ownership of such works. The agency also may make and perform any agreement with the United States, the State, any county, municipality, district, public or private corporation, or any person for the joint acquisition, disposition, operation or management of any property, works, water or water supply of a kind which might be acquired, disposed of, or operated by the agency.

Any irrigation district, California water district, public utility district, municipal utility district, soil conservation district, county water district, water conservation district, municipality, flood control district, mutual water company and any other district or political subdivision of the State empowered by law to appropriate water and deliver water to users may:

(a) Co-operate, act in conjunction with and enter into contracts with the agency for all the purposes for which the agency is empowered to act.

(b) Carry out the terms of such contracts.

SEC. 7. (a) The board of supervisors of the county shall be ex officio the board of directors of the agency, and shall be entitled to receive from the agency the sum of twenty dollars ($20) for each meeting attended, plus actual, necessary and reasonable traveling expenses. The basis for compensation of the directors, and the amount thereof, can be altered only by a four-fifths vote of the directors and the approval of a majority of the advisory council. The board of directors may adopt reasonable rules and regulations to carry out its powers and duties. The board of directors shall elect a chairman, who shall preside at all meetings of the board and in case of his absence or inability to act, the members present must, by an order entered in their records, select one of their number to act as temporary chairman. Any member of the board may administer oaths when necessary in the performance of his official duties. A majority of the members of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but no act of the board shall be valid or binding unless a majority of all members concur therein.

(b) There shall be created an advisory council to advise the board of directors. Said council shall consist of one member to be appointed by each of the member units and one member by each district within the County of Yuba which is not a member unit, to serve at the pleasure of such member unit or district; two members to be appointed by the council of the City of Marysville, to serve at the pleasure of said council; and one member to be appointed by the council of the Town of Wheatland, to serve at the pleasure of said council.

SEC. 7.1. No director of the agency shall be interested in any manner, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or in the profits to be derived therefrom. A violation of this section is a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and such conviction shall by operation of law work a forfeiture of office. This section shall not apply to a contract made with a corporation of which a director is a minority stockholder if the contract is for the general benefit of the corporation.

SEC. 7.2. No director shall be liable for any act or omission of any appointee or employee appointed or employed by him in his official capacity, whether such employment or appointment was made singly or in conjunction with other members of the board, and no officer, agent or employee of the agency shall be liable for any act or omission of any agent or employee appointed or employed by him except when the director, officer or agent making such appointment or employment knew or had actual notice that the person appointed or employed was inefficient or incompetent to perform or render the services for which he was appointed or employed, or retained such inefficient or incompetent person after knowledge or notice of such inefficiency or incompetency.

SEC. 7.3. Nothing contained in Section 7.2 shall be considered as creating any liability or responsibility unless the same would have existed without the enactment of said section, nor shall the provisions of said section be deemed to amend, modify or repeal the provisions of Chapter 6 (commencing at Section 1950) of Division 4 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

SEC. 7.4. If a judgment is entered against a director, officer, agent, or employee of the agency for any act or omission in his official capacity, except in case of actual fraud or malice, the agency shall pay the judgment without obligation for repayment by the director, officer, agent, or employee.

SEC. 8. All officers of the county, and their assistants, deputies, clerks, and employees, shall be ex officio officers, assistants, deputies, clerks and employees respectively of the agency, and shall perform, unless otherwise provided by the board, the same duties for the agency as performed for the county; except that if the county surveyor is a registered civil engineer and is employed to supervise the engineering work of the agency, the board may provide compensation for his services in addition to his salary as county surveyor which shall be payable from the funds of the agency.

SEC. 8.1. The board may employ agents, superintendents, engineers, attorneys, and employees necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

The board may appoint a secretary and such other officers, agents and employees for the board or agency as in its judgment may be deemed necessary, prescribe their duties and fix their compensation. Such officers, agents and employees so appointed shall hold their respective offices or positions during the pleasure of the board.

SEC. 9. All ordinances, resolutions and other legislative acts of the agency shall be adopted by the board, and certified to, recorded and published in the same manner, except as herein otherwise expressly provided, as are ordinances, resolutions or other legislative acts of the county.

The initiative and referendum powers are hereby granted to the electors of the agency to be exercised in relation to the enactment or rejection of agency ordinances in accordance with the procedure established by the laws of this State for the exercise of such powers in relation to counties.

SEC. 10. Claims against the agency whether arising out of contract, tort, or the taking or damaging of property without compensation must be made in writing and filed with the board within six months after the cause of action arises. Claims shall be presented in the general form and manner prescribed by law for the making and filing of claims against counties. Such claims may be amended within six months to correct defects in form or statement of facts. No action against the agency shall be commenced or maintained unless a claim has been filed as provided in this section and a complaint has been filed within one year after the cause of action arose.

SEC. 11. The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall be in the agency and shall be held for the uses and purposes of this act. The board may hold, use, acquire, manage, occupy and possess such property and, after declaring by resolution entered in the minutes that any real or personal property held by the agency is no longer necessary, may sell or otherwise dispose of such property, or lease the same, in the manner provided by law for the disposition and sale of property by counties.

SEC. 12. All contracts for any improvement or unit of work, when the cost according to the estimate of the engineer will exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder or bidders as provided in this section. The board shall first determine whether the contract shall be let as a single unit for the whole of the work, or divided into severable convenient parts. The board shall advertise for bids by three (3) insertions in a daily newspaper of general circulation or by two (2) insertions in a weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the agency, inviting sealed proposals for the construction or performance of the improvement or work. The call for bids shall state whether the work shall be performed in one unit or divided into parts. The work may be let under a single contract or several contracts, as stated in such call. The board shall require the successful bidders to file with the board good and sufficient bonds to be approved by the board conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of their claims for labor and material. The bonds shall comply with Chapter 3 (commencing at Section 4200) of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code. The board may reject any and all bids. In the event all proposals are rejected or no proposals are received, or the estimated cost of the work does not exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000), or the work consists of channel protection, maintenance work, or emergency work when necessary in order to protect life and property from impending flood damage, the board may have the work done by force account without advertising for bids. The board may purchase in the open market without advertising for bids, materials and supplies for use in any work, either under contract or by force account. In awarding any contract or authorizing any work, the board shall comply with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing at Section 1770) of Chapter 1, Part 7, Division 2 of the Labor Code.

SEC. 13. The agency shall not incur any indebtedness or liability exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year, and any indebtedness or liability incurred in violation of this section shall be absolutely void and unenforceable. This section shall have no application to debts or liabilities incurred for feasibility reports nor to indebtedness incurred pursuant to the provisions of this act authorizing the issuance of bonds, the execution of contracts with the United States, nor the incurring of any indebtedness or liability authorized by a vote of the electors of the agency at an election held for such purpose.

SEC. 13.1. The agency shall have no power to incur any bonded indebtedness except as provided in Section 16.

SEC. 14. If from any cause, the revenues of the agency shall be, or in the judgment of the board are likely to be, inadequate to pay the expenses, costs, liabilities and indebtedness of the agency, the board shall have the power in any year to levy an ad valorem tax upon all taxable property in the agency to pay the costs and expenses of the agency to carry out the provisions of this act, except that the aggregate taxes levied for any one fiscal year shall not exceed ten cents ($0.10) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of the taxable property in the agency.

SEC. 14.1. The board shall avail itself of the assessments made by the assessors of the counties within which the agency or any parts thereof are situated, and of the assessments made by the State Board of Equalization for those counties, and shall take such assessments as a basis for agency taxation and have its taxes collected by the county officials if the board declares its election so to do by resolution or ordinance and files a certified copy of the resolution or ordinance on or before the first day of August with the auditors of the counties in which the agency or any parts thereof are situated. Thereafter, each year and until otherwise provided by the board, all assessments shall be made for the agency by the State Board of Equalization and the county assessors, and all taxes shall be collected for the agency by the tax collectors of the counties in which the agency or any part thereof is situated.

SEC. 14.2. The county auditor shall on or before the third Monday in August of each year, transmit to the board a statement in writing showing the total value of all property within the agency, ascertained from the assessments referred to in Section 14.1 as equalized.

SEC. 14.3. The board shall on or before the first weekday in September, or if such weekday falls upon a holiday, then on the first business day thereafter, subject to the provisions of Section 14, fix the rate of taxes, designating the number of cents upon each hundred dollars, using as a basis the value of property transmitted to the board by the county auditors, which rate of taxation, subject to the limitations of Section 14, shall be sufficient to raise the amount previously fixed by the board. These acts by the board shall constitute a valid assessment of the property and a valid levy of the taxes so fixed.

SEC. 14.4. The board shall immediately after fixing the rate of taxes as above provided transmit to the county auditors of the counties in which the agency or any portion thereof is situated a statement of the rate of taxes fixed by the board.

SEC. 14.5. The agency's taxes so levied shall be collected at the same time and in the same manner as county taxes. When collected, the net amount, ascertained as provided in this act, shall be paid to the treasurer of the principal county under the general requirements and penalties provided by law for the settlement of other taxes.

SEC. 14.6. Whenever any real property situated in the agency has been sold for taxes due to the agency and has been redeemed, the money paid for redemption shall be apportioned and paid to the agency by the county auditor receiving it in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 1c (commencing at Section 4656) of Part 8 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 14.7. All taxes levied under this act are a lien on the property on which they are levied. Unless the board has by ordinance otherwise provided, the enforcement of the collection of such taxes shall be in the same manner and by the same means provided by law for the enforcement for county taxes, all the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of the latter being made a part of this act so far as applicable.

SEC. 15. (a) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work of improvement for the benefit of any member unit, as determined in an agreement between the agency and the member unit, it may determine and declare by resolution the amount of bonds necessary to be issued in each member unit affected for such work of improvement. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution duly certified by the clerk to be filed with the governing board of such member unit.

(b) After such resolution is filed, the governing board of such member unit may call a special bond election to be held and conducted in the member unit in accordance with the laws applicable to the holding of such elections in such member units; but the adoption or filing of such resolution shall not be a condition precedent to the calling of special bond elections by member units.

(c) No member unit nor the property therein nor other land within the agency shall be liable for the share of bonded indebtedness of any other member unit for which bonds are issued under this act, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation or assessment in any of the several member units be used in payment of principal or interest or otherwise of the share of bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other member unit.

SEC. 16. If the board by resolution determines that a bonded indebtedness to pay for the acquisition or construction of any works for any purposes of the agency or for refunding any outstanding bonds should be incurred and can be repaid and liquidated as to both principal and interest from revenues designated by the board, the agency is authorized and shall have the power to define such works as an "enterprise" and to issue revenue bonds all in the manner and as provided in the Revenue Bond Law of 1941 as amended, and for such purpose the agency shall be considered a "local agency," as defined by Section 54307 of the Government Code; provided, however, that notwithstanding the provisions of Section 54310 of the Government Code, the board shall have the power, subject to the limitations of Section 4.1 hereof, to borrow money and issue revenue bonds for, and to define "enterprise" to include systems, plants, works or undertakings for the generation, production, transmission and sale of hydroelectric energy as authorized in this act.

SEC. 17. All revenue bonds issued by the agency may be certified as legal investments pursuant to the Districts Securities Commission Law (Chapter 1 (commencing at Section 20000) of Division 10 of the Water Code), in the manner and to the extent provided in Sections 54433 and 54434 of the Government Code; provided, however, that Sections 20003 and 20004 of the Water Code shall not be applicable to the agency.

SEC. 18. Any improvement for which bonds are voted under the provisions of this act, shall be made in conformity with the report, plans, specifications and maps theretofore adopted unless the doing of any of such work described in said report shall be prohibited by law, or be rendered contrary to the best interest of the agency by some change of conditions in relation thereto, in which event the board may order necessary changes made in such proposed work of improvement, and may cause any plans and specifications to be made and adopted therefor.

Whenever bonds have been authorized and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as authorized in this act, and the board shall by resolution determine that additional bonds shall be issued for carrying out any of the purposes of this act, the board may again proceed as provided in this act, and submit to the qualified voters the question of issuing additional bonds in the same manner and with like procedures as provided in this act, and the above provisions of this act for the issuing and sale of such bonds, and for the expenditure of the proceeds thereof, shall be deemed to apply to such issue of additional bonds.

Should a proposition for issuing bonds submitted at any election under this act fail to receive the requisite number of votes of the qualified electors voting at such election to incur the indebtedness the board shall not call or order, within six months after such election, another election for incurring indebtedness and issuing bonds under this act for the same purpose.

The repeal or amendment of this act shall not in any way affect or release any of the property in the agency or any member unit thereof from the obligations of any outstanding bonds or indebtedness until all such bonds and outstanding indebtedness have been fully paid and discharged.

SEC. 19. After all of the revenue bonds shall have been fully paid and discharged, or provision for their payment and discharge irrevocably made, any surplus moneys in the construction fund shall, subject to the limitations and restrictions in any indenture providing for the issuance of the revenue bonds, become and be the property of the agency, and be used by the agency for any lawful purpose.

SEC. 20. If the interest and principal of the revenue bonds and all charges to protect or secure them are paid when due, an amount for the necessary and reasonable maintenance and operation costs of the enterprise, which costs include the reasonable expenses of management, repair and other expenses necessary to maintain and preserve the enterprise in good repair and working order, may be apportioned from the revenues, and subject to any limiting covenants in the resolution providing for the issuance of bonds, the remaining surplus may be used for any lawful purpose of the agency, which without limiting the generality of the foregoing shall include the right and authority to expend any or all of such surplus as contributions in aid of necessary extensions of water storage and distribution facilities of the agency and the purchase or obtaining of additional water supplies.

SEC. 21. The agency at any time after the authorization of bonds or after the execution of any contract may bring an action in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Yuba to determine the validity of the bonds or of the contract. The action is in rem. Jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the agency and designated by the court in which the proceedings are pending. Jurisdiction is complete ten (10) days after the completion of the publication of the summons. Before the expiration of the 30 days after jurisdiction is acquired any person interested may appear and contest the validity of the bonds or the contract.

If no proceedings have been brought by the agency pursuant to this section, any agency assessee or taxpayer may at any time within thirty (30) days after the authorization of any bonds or execution of such contract bring an action in the superior court to determine the validity of the bonds or contract. The agency shall be a defendant. If more than one action is pending at the same time concerning similar contests provided for in this section, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The rules of pleading and practice in the Code of Civil Procedure not inconsistent with the provisions of this section are applicable to all actions or proceedings provided for by this section. In a contest provided for by this section, the court shall disregard any irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties. The judgment shall declare the bonds or contract either valid or invalid. The costs of any hearing or contest may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court. Any party may appeal at any time within thirty (30) days after the entry of the judgment. No contest of any act or proceeding authorized under this act shall be made other than in the time and manner provided in this section. In any such action all findings of fact or conclusions of the board upon all matters shall be conclusive unless the action was instituted within six (6) months after the finding or conclusion was made.

SEC. 22. Neither the establishment of the agency nor any provision of this act shall affect, restrict nor supersede the existence, property, right, or power of any municipality, public district, or public agency now or hereafter established in or partially within the limits of the agency for the purpose of flood control, reclamation, conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use, or development of water. The Legislature, because of conditions special to the county, hereby expressly declares its intent to permit within the limits of the Yuba County Water Agency, the existence of more than one district, municipality or combination thereof, having similar powers over similar territory in regard to flood control, reclamation and water conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use or development.

SEC. 23. Neither the formation of the agency nor this act shall impair the vested right of any person, association, corporation, municipality or district in or to any water or the use thereof.

SEC. 24. The agency, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the Superior Court of this State, in and for the County of Yuba, by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the agency, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal agency formed under this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county. The State of California shall be a defendant in such action, and consent therefor is given. Service of summons therein shall be made on the Attorney General. The Attorney General shall appear in such action on behalf of the State in the same manner as with appearances in civil actions. Within thirty (30) days after proof of publication of said summons the State, any property owner or resident in said agency, or any person interested may appear as a defendant in said action by serving and filing an answer to said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the agency and shall be served upon the district attorney before being filed in such proceeding. Such proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the final judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever, including the agency and the State of California.

SEC. 25. The agency may be dissolved in the manner provided for the dissolution of districts by Chapter 4 (commencing at Section 58950) of Division 1 of Title 6 of the Government Code, and the agency shall be considered a district within the meaning of all of the provisions of said chapter; provided, however, that if within 90 days after the effective date of this act, a petition is filed with the Board of Supervisors of Yuba County, the agency may be dissolved in the following manner. Upon the filing of the petition with the board signed by qualified electors of Yuba County equal in number to 10 percent of all the votes cast in the county for all candidates for Governor at the last preceding general election at which a Governor was elected, the board shall submit the question of dissolution of the agency to the agency electors. The question of dissolution shall be submitted at a special election held for that purpose not later than the ninetieth day after filing of the petition with the secretary of the board.

If a majority of the votes favor dissolution, the board shall by resolution dissolve the agency. The board shall file a certified copy of the resolution with the Secretary of State and for record in the office of the county recorder. Thereupon the agency is dissolved for all purposes.

SEC. 26. The Legislature hereby finds that water problems in the County of Yuba require countywide water conservation, flood control and development of water resources; that all land within the county will be benefited thereby; that the solution of these problems lies within and is peculiar to the area to be included in the Yuba County Water Agency; that the county for many years has made investigations and engineering surveys of the county's water resources by private, public and United States engineers; that county water districts, municipalities, irrigation districts and reclamation districts now exist within portions of the county, have acquired property and works, developed a limited water supply, and have incurred indebtedness, but have been and are unable alone to economically develop an adequate water supply and control the floods of said county, and for such reason it is necessary to have a political entity at least coextensive with the geographical limits of the entire county. It is therefore hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable to said county, and that the enactment of this special law is necessary for the conservation, development, control and use of said water for the public good and for the protection of life and property therein.

SEC. 27. If any provision of this act is declared unconstitutional or invalid, for any reason, the remainder of the act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 28. This act may be designated and referred to as "The Yuba County Water Agency Act," and any reference thereto by such designation shall be sufficient for all purposes.

CHAPTER 789

An act to add Section 2378.5 to the Business and Professions Code, and Chapter 7 (commencing at Section 1700), Division 2, to the Health and Safety Code, relating to the creation of a Cancer Advisory Council, and the regulation and control of the diagnosis, treatment, and cure of cancer.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor June 5, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 5, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2378.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

Unprofessional conduct

2378.5. The violation of any provision of Chapter 7 (commencing at Section 1700) of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, or any violation of an injunction issued under Chapter 7 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, constitutes unprofessional conduct within the meaning of this chapter.

SEC. 2. Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1700) is added to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 7. CANCER

Legislative declaration

1700. The effective diagnosis, care, treatment or cure of persons suffering from cancer is of paramount public importance. Vital statistics indicate that approximately 16 percent of the total deaths in the United States annually result from one or another of the forms of cancer. It is established that accurate and early diagnosis of many forms of cancer, followed by prompt application of methods of treatment which are scientifically proven, either materially reduces the likelihood of death from cancer or may materially prolong the useful life of individuals suffering therefrom.

Despite intensive campaigns of public education, there is a lack of adequate and accurate information among the public with respect to presently proven methods for the diagnosis, treatment, and cure of cancer. Various persons in this State have represented and continue to represent themselves as possessing medicines, methods, techniques, skills, or devices for the effective diagnosis, treatment, or cure of cancer, which representations are misleading to the public, with the result that large numbers of the public, relying on such representations, needlessly die of cancer, and substantial amounts of the savings of individuals and families relying on such representations are needlessly wasted.

It is, therefore, in the public interest that the public be afforded full and accurate knowledge as to the facilities and methods for the diagnosis, treatment, and cure of cancer available in this State and that to that end there be provided means for testing and investigating the value or lack thereof of alleged cancer remedies, devices, drugs, or compounds, and informing the public of the facts found, and protecting the public from misrepresentation in such matters.

The importance of continuing scientific research to determine the cause or cure of cancer is recognized, and the department shall administer this chapter with due regard for the importance of bona fide scientific research and the clinical testing in hospitals, clinics, or similar institutions of new drugs or compounds.

Cancer Advisory Council

1701. There is in the State Department of Public Health a Cancer Advisory Council composed of nine physicians and surgeons licensed to practice medicine in, and residing in, this State, three persons who are not physicians and surgeons, two persons representing nonprofit cancer research institutes recognized by the National Cancer Institute, and the director of the department, who shall be an ex officio member. The members of the council shall be appointed by the Governor to serve for terms of four years. The Governor shall make the first appointments hereunder for terms expiring, respectively, on the fifteenth day of January, as follows: three in the year 1960, three in the year 1961, four in the year 1962, and four in the year 1963. The Governor, in appointing the first members, shall appoint at least one member from the faculty of each of the schools teaching medicine and surgery and located in this State that are approved by the State Board of Medical Examiners and the State Board of Osteopathic Examiners, or either of them. The Governor shall endeavor to maintain one member from the faculty of each school in making subsequent appointments.

Compensation

1702. The members of the council, other than the director of the department, shall receive no compensation for their services, but shall be allowed their actual necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.

Election of chairman

1703. The council shall annually elect one of its members to serve as chairman. The council shall meet at least twice each year, and as often in addition as necessary, for the purpose of carrying out its duties.

Powers and duties

1704. The department shall:

(a) Prescribe reasonable rules and regulations with respect to the administration of this chapter.

(b) Investigate violations of the provisions of this chapter, and report such violations to the appropriate enforcement authority.

(c) Secure the investigation and testing of the content, method of preparation, efficacy, or use of drugs, medicines, compounds, or devices proposed to be used, or used, by any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity in the State for the diagnosis, treatment, or cure of cancer, prescribe reasonable regulations with respect to such investigation and testing, and make findings of fact and recommendations upon completion of any such investigation and testing.

(d) Hold hearings in respect of those matters involving compliance with the provisions of this chapter and subpoena witnesses and documents. Any or all such hearings may be held before the Cancer Advisory Council. Any administrative action to be taken by the department as a result of such hearings shall be taken only after receipt of the recommendations of the council. Prior to issuance of a cease and desist order under Section 1711, a hearing shall be held. The person furnishing a sample under Section 1707 shall be given due notice of such hearing and an opportunity to be heard.

(e) Contract with independent scientific consultants for specialized services and advice.

"Cancer"

1705. For the purposes of this chapter "cancer" means all malignant neoplasms regardless of the tissue of origin, including malignant lymphoma and leukemia.

1706. No person may undertake to treat or alleviate cancer by use of drugs, surgery, or radiation unless such person holds a license issued under a law of this State expressly authorizing the diagnosis and treatment of disease by use of drugs, surgery, or radiation. License required

1707. On written request by the department, delivered personally or by mail, any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity engaged, or representing himself, or itself, as engaged, in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer shall furnish the department with such sample as the department may deem necessary for adequate testing of any drug, medicine, compound, or device used or prescribed by such individual, person, firm, association, or other entity in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer, and shall specify the formula of any drug or compound and name all ingredients by their common or usual names, and shall, upon like request by the department, furnish such further necessary information as it may request as to the composition and method of preparation of and the use to which any such drug, compound, or device is being put by such individual, person, firm, association, or other entity. This section shall apply to any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity that renders health care or services to individuals who have or believe they have cancer. This section also applies to any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity that by implication causes individuals to believe they have cancer. Furnishing sample of drug, etc

The failure to either provide the sample, disclose the formula, or name the ingredients as required by this section shall be conclusively presumed that the drug, medicine, compound or device which is the subject of the department's request has no value in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer.

1708. This chapter shall not apply to the use of any drug, medicine, compound, or device intended solely for legitimate and bona fide investigational purposes by experts qualified by scientific training and experience to investigate the safety and therapeutic value thereof unless the department shall find that such drug, medicine, compound, or device is being used in diagnosis or treatment for compensation and profit. Investigational purposes

1709. The failure of any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity representing himself, or itself, as engaged in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter, or with any order of the department validly issued under this chapter, is a misdemeanor. Penalty

The provisions of this chapter shall not apply to any person who depends exclusively upon prayer for healing in accordance with the teachings of a bona fide religious sect, denomination, or organization, nor practitioner thereof.

1710. The investigation or testing of any product shall not be deemed to imply or indicate any endorsement of the qualifications or value of any such product. No person shall make Representations based on testing any representation that investigation or testing hereunder constitutes any approval or endorsement of his, or its, activities by the Cancer Advisory Council or the department. The investigation or testing of any product shall not be deemed to imply or indicate that such product is useless or harmful and during testing no person shall make any representation, except to the department or Cancer Advisory Council, that the product under test is discredited or that it has been found useless or harmful.

Cease and desist order

1711. Following an investigation or testing of the content or composition of any drug, medicine, compound, or device used by any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer, and after hearing as provided in Section 1704, the department, upon recommendation of the Cancer Advisory Council, may direct that any such individual, person, firm, association, or other entity shall cease and desist any further prescribing, recommending, or use of any such drug, medicine, compound, or device, or any substantially similar drug, medicine, compound, or device, in the diagnosis or treatment of cancer.

In the investigation or testing required by this chapter to determine the value or lack thereof of any drug, medicine, compound or device in the diagnosis, treatment, or cure of cancer, the department shall, as it deems necessary or advisable, utilize the facilities and findings of its own laboratories or other appropriate laboratories, clinics, hospitals, and nonprofit cancer research institutes recognized by the National Cancer Institute, within this State or the facilities and findings of the Federal Government, including the National Cancer Institute. Upon a recommendation by the Cancer Advisory Council, the department shall arrange, by contract, for investigation by and submission to it of findings, conclusions, or opinions of trained scientists in the appropriate departments of universities, medical schools, clinics, hospitals, and nonprofit cancer research institutes recognized by the National Cancer Institute, and the submission to it of findings, conclusions, or opinions of other qualified scientists. Prior to the issuance of a cease and desist order under this section, the Cancer Advisory Council, by the affirmative vote of at least 11 of its members, at least one of whom shall not be a physician and surgeon, shall make a written finding of fact based on such investigation that the drug, medicine, compound, or device so investigated has been found to be either definitely harmful or of no value in the diagnosis, treatment, alleviation, or cure of cancer and the department must be satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt that the written findings of the fact are true.

Restraining order or injunction

1712. If an individual, person, firm, association, or other entity, after service upon him or it, of a cease and desist order issued by the department under Section 1711, persists in prescribing, recommending, or using the drug, medicine, compound, or device described in said cease and desist order, or a substantially similar drug, medicine, compound, or device, the superior court in any county, on application of the department, and when satisfied by a preponderance of the evidence that the written findings of fact required of the Cancer Advisory Council by Section 1711 are true, may issue an order to show cause why there should not be issued an injunction or other appropriate order restraining such individual, person, firm, association, or other entity from prescribing, recommending, or using such drug, medicine, compound, or device, or any substantially similar drug, medicine, compound, or device. After a hearing on such order to show cause, an injunction or other appropriate restraining order may be issued.

Proceedings under this section shall be governed by Chapter 3 (commencing at Section 525) of Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure, excepting that no undertaking shall be required in any action commenced by the department under this section.

Restrictions on persons enjoined

1713. Any person against whom an injunction has been issued, under Section 1712, may not undertake to use in the diagnosis, treatment, or cure of cancer any new, experimental, untested, or secret drug, medicine, compound, or device without first submitting it to the department for investigation and testing.

Penalty

1714 It is a misdemeanor for any person willfully and falsely to represent a device, substance or treatment as effective to arrest or cure cancer. Nothing in this section shall abridge the existent rights of the press.

Same Third violation

1715. A third violation, and subsequent violations, of this chapter is a felony.

Investigation of violations

1716. The director shall investigate possible violations of this chapter and report violations to the appropriate enforcement authority.

Enforcement officials

Published reports

1718. The department, upon recommendation of the Cancer Advisory Council, may from time to time publish reports based on its investigation or testing of any drug, medicine, compound, or device prescribed, recommended, or used by any individual, person, firm, association, or other entity, and when, in the opinion of a majority of the members of the Cancer Advisory Council, the use of any drug, medicine, compound, or device in the diagnosis, treatment or cure of cancer constitutes an imminent danger to health or a gross deception of the public, the department may take appropriate steps to publicize the same.

Report of activities

1719. The department shall submit to the Governor, for submission to the Legislature in January of each year, a report of its activities under this chapter during the preceding 12 months.

Hearings

1720. All hearings authorized by this chapter shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code.

Expiration date

1721. The provisions of this chapter shall expire on December 31, 1965.

Such taxes shall be levied and collected with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and the revenue derived from said agency taxes shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the agency, and the board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof for said lawful purposes of the agency.

Such officers shall be liable upon their official bond for the faithful discharge of the duties imposed upon them by this act.

SEC. 18. Section 15 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 15. (a) The board by resolution shall establish such zones within the agency as in the judgment of said board are necessary to equitably apportion the benefits of the agency to the lands within the respective zones Such zones may be established within the agency without reference to the boundaries of other zones, by setting forth the descriptions thereof by metes and bounds and by entitling each of such zones by a zone number. The lands comprising a zone need not be contiguous. All zones shall be established only with respect to projects for the benefit of such zones and proceedings for the establishment of such zones may be conducted concurrently with and as a part of proceedings for the instituting of projects relating to such zones, which proceedings shall be instituted in the manner prescribed in this section.

(b) The board may institute projects for the financing, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any work of benefit to single zones or two or more zones. In cases of projects for the benefit of two or more zones, such zones shall become, and shall be referred to as, participating zones. For the purpose of acquiring authority to proceed with any such project, the board shall adopt a resolution specifying its intention to undertake such project, together with the engineering estimates of the cost of same to be borne by the particular zone or participating zones and fixing a time and place for public hearing of said resolution. The resolution shall refer to a map or maps showing the general location and general construction of said project. Notice of such hearing shall be given by publication pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code in a newspaper of general circulation designated by the board, circulated in such zone or each of said participating zones, if there be such newspaper, and if there be no such newspaper then by posting notice for two consecutive weeks prior to said hearing in two public places designated by the board, in such zone or in each of said participating zones. Publication shall be completed at least seven days before the date of the hearing. Said notice must designate a public place in such zone or in each of said participating zones where a copy or copies of the resolution and the map or maps of the proposed project may be seen by any interested person; said resolution and map or maps must be posted in each of said public places so designated in said notice at least two weeks prior to said hearing.

(c) At the time and place fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which said hearing may be continued, the board shall consider all written and oral objections to the proposed project. Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project or proceed with the same, or a portion thereof, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing written protests against the proposed project signed by owners of real property within the zone or participating zone the assessed value of which, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll, constitutes more than one-half of the total assessed value of the real property of such zone, in which event further proceedings relating to such project must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned at the discretion of the board.

(d) The board shall have power, in any year:

(1) To levy taxes upon all taxable property in each or any of said zones according to benefits derived or to be derived therein to pay the cost and expenses of carrying out any of the objects or purposes of this act of benefit to such zones, including the administering, constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing, or otherwise improving any or all works of improvement established or to be established within or on behalf of said respective zones. Said taxes shall be based upon the assessment rolls used by the county for general tax purposes and shall not exceed fifty cents ($0.50) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation, exclusive of any tax levied pursuant to subdivision (f), hereof.

(2) Said taxes shall be levied and collected together with, and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and the revenues derived from said agency taxes shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the agency and the respective zones thereof, and the board shall have the power to control and order the expenditure thereof; provided, however, that no revenues, or portions thereof, derived in any of the several zones from the taxes levied under the provisions of this section shall be expended for constructing, maintaining, operating, extending, repairing or otherwise improving any works located in any other zone, except in the case of projects for the benefit of participating zones or for projects authorized or established outside such zone or zones, but for the benefit thereof.

(e) Whenever the board determines that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any work in any zone or participating zones, the board may by resolution determine and declare the respective amounts of bonds necessary to be issued in each zone in order to raise the amount of money necessary for each work and the maximum rate of interest of said bonds. The board shall cause a copy of the resolution, duly certified by the clerk, to be filed for record in the Office of the Recorder of Placer County within five (5) days after its adoption. From and after said filing of said copy of said resolution the board shall be deemed vested with the authority to proceed with the bond election.

(f) After the filing for record of the resolution specified in subdivision (e) of this section, the board may call a special bond election in said zone or participating zones at which shall be submitted to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones the question whether or not bonds shall be issued in the amount or amounts determined in said resolution and for the purpose or purposes therein stated. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from annual taxes levied upon the lands situated within the zone or participating zones, and all such lands shall be and remain liable to be taxed for such payments as provided in this act.

(g) The board shall call such special bond election by resolution and submit to the qualified electors of said zone or participating zones the proposition of incurring a bonded debt in said zone or participating zones in the amount and for the purposes stated in the resolution referred to in subdivision (e) of this section. The resolution calling the bond election shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred; provided, that it shall be sufficient to give a brief, general description of such objects and purposes, and refer to the recorded copy of the resolution referred to in subdivision (e) of this section. The resolution calling such special bond election shall also state the estimated cost of the proposed work, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on said indebtedness. Said resolution shall also fix the date on which such special election shall be held and the form and contents of the ballot to be used. The rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall not exceed six percent (6%) per annum. For the purposes of said election said board shall in said resolution calling said bond election establish a special bond election precinct or precincts within the boundaries of each zone and participating zones and may form election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general elections in the agency to a number not exceeding six general precincts for each such special bond election precinct. Said resolution shall also designate polling places and appoint at least one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each of such special bond election precincts.

(h) In all particulars not recited in said resolution calling said bond election, such special bond election shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State.

(i) The board shall cause a map to be prepared covering a general description of the work to be done, which said map shall show the location of the proposed work and shall cause the said map to be posted in a prominent place in the county courthouse for public inspection for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election.

(j) Said resolution calling for such special bond election shall, prior to the date set for such election, be published in a newspaper of general circulation circulated in each zone and participating zone affected for six consecutive times if published in a daily newspaper of general circulation, or two times if published in a weekly newspaper of general circulation. The last publication of such resolution must be at least fourteen (14) days before said election, and if there be no such newspaper, then such resolution shall be posted in two public places designated by the board, in each zone and participating zone for at least thirty (30) days before the date fixed for such election. No other notice of such election need be given nor need polling place cards be issued.

(k) Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of such special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by said election. If at such election two-thirds of the votes cast in the zone or in each of the participating zones are in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then bonds for such zone or participating zones for the amount stated in such proceedings may be issued and sold as in this act provided.

(l) The board shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe by resolution the form of said bonds, which must include a designation of the zone or participating zones affected, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually, at the discretion of the board, each and every year on a day and date and at a place to be fixed by said board and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid.

(m) The board may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different dates from those of any other series. The maturity dates of each series shall comply with this section. The board may fix a date not more than two (2) years from the date of issuance for the earliest maturity of each issue or series of bonds. The final maturity date of each issue or series shall not exceed forty (40) years from the time of incurring the indebtedness evidenced by such issue or series.

(n) The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as the board may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and shall be payable on the days and at the place fixed in said bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six percent (6%) per annum, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually, and the bonds of each issue or series shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairman of the board, and countersigned by the auditor of the agency, and the seal of the agency shall be affixed thereto by the clerk of the board. One of such signatures may be printed, engraved or lithographed The interest coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the said auditor by his printed, engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such bonds and coupons, and signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officers had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

(o) Before selling the bonds, or any part thereof, the board shall give notice not less than 10 days prior to the date of sale by publication in a newspaper of general circulation circulating in the agency inviting sealed bids in such manner as the board shall prescribe. If satisfactory bids are received, the bonds offered for sale shall be awarded to the highest responsible bidder. If no bids are received, or if the board determines that the bids received are not satisfactory as to price or responsibility of the bidders, the board may reject all bids received, if any, and either readvertise or sell the bonds at private sale.

(p) Any bonds issued under the provisions of this section, and the interest thereon, shall be paid by revenues derived from an annual tax upon all taxable property in the zone or participating zones sufficient to pay the interest and such portion of the principal of said bonds as is due or to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy. No zone nor the property therein shall be liable for the share of bonded indebtedness of any other zone, nor shall any moneys derived from taxation in any of the several zones be used in payment of principal or interest or otherwise of the share of the bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other zone. Such taxes shall be levied and collected in the respective zones or participating zones, together with and not separately from taxes for county purposes, and the revenues derived from said taxes shall be paid into the county treasury of said Placer County to the credit of the zone of payment, and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds, and for no other purpose. It is hereby declared that for the purposes of any tax levied pursuant to this subdivision (p), the property so taxed within a given zone is equally benefited.

SEC. 19. Section 16 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 16 If the board by resolution determines that a bonded indebtedness to pay the acquisition or construction of any works for any purposes of the agency or for refunding any outstanding bonds should be incurred and can be repaid and liquidated as to both principal and interest from revenues designated by the board, the agency is authorized and shall have the power to define such works as an "enterprise" and to issue revenue bonds, all in the manner and as provided in the Revenue Bond Law of 1941; provided, however, that, notwithstanding the provisions of Government Code Section 54310, the board shall have the power, subject to the limitations of Section 4 1 hereof, to borrow money and issue revenue bonds for, and to define "enterprise" to include, systems, plants, works or undertakings for the generation, production, transmission and sale of hydroelectric energy.

If the interest and principal of the revenue bonds and all charges to protect or secure them have been paid when due, an amount for the necessary and reasonable maintenance and operation costs of the enterprise, which costs include the reasonable expenses of management, repair and other expenses necessary to maintain and preserve the enterprise in good repair and working order, may be apportioned from the revenues, and, subject to any limiting covenants in the resolution providing for the issuance of bonds, the remaining surplus may be used for any lawful purpose of the agency, which, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, shall include the right and authority to expend any or all of such surplus as contributions in aid of necessary extensions of water storage and distribution facilities of the agency, payment of in lieu taxes to the County of Placer upon works of the agency situate within the County of Placer, and the purchase or obtaining of additional water supplies.

SEC. 20. Section 17 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 17. All revenue bonds issued by the agency may be certified as legal investments, pursuant to the District Securities Commission Law, Division 10, of the Water Code, in the manner and to the extent provided in Sections 54433 and 54434 of the Government Code.

SEC. 21. Section 30 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 18. The agency at any time after the authorization of bonds or the levy of any special assessment or after the execution of any contract may bring an action in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Placer to determine the validity of the bonds or of the levy or of the contract. The action is in rem jurisdiction of all parties interested and may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the agency and designated by the court in which the proceedings are pending. Jurisdiction is complete ten (10) days after the completion of the publication of the summons. Before the expiration of the 30 days after jurisdiction is acquired any person interested may appear and contest the validity of the bonds or assessment or the contract.

If no proceedings have been brought by the agency pursuant to this section, any agency assessee or taxpayer may at any time within thirty (30) days after the levy of any assessment or authorization of any bonds or execution of such contract bring an action in the superior court to determine the validity of the assessment or bonds or contract. The agency shall be a defendant. If more than one action is pending at the same time concerning similar contests provided for in this section, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The rules of pleading and practice in the Code of Civil Procedure not inconsistent with the provisions of this section are applicable to all actions or proceedings provided for by this section. In a contest provided for by this section, the court shall disregard any irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties. The judgment shall declare the bonds or levy or contract either valid or invalid. The costs of any hearing or contest may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party in the discretion of the court. Any party may appeal at any time within thirty (30) days after the entry of the judgment. No contest of any act or proceeding authorized under this act shall be made other than in the time and manner provided in this section. In any such action all findings of fact or conclusions of the board upon all matters shall be conclusive unless the action was instituted within six (6) months after the finding or conclusion was made.

SEC. 22. Section 32 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 19. Neither the establishment of the agency nor any provision of this act shall affect, restrict nor supersede the existence, property, right, or power of any district, now or hereafter established in or partially within the limits of the agency for the purpose of flood control, reclamation, conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use, or development of water. The Legislature, because of conditions special to the county, hereby expressly declares its intent to permit within the limits of the Placer County Water Agency, the existence of more than one district, having similar powers over similar territory in regard to flood control, reclamation and water conservation, storage, distribution, sale, use or development.

SEC. 23. Section 33 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 20. Neither the formation of the agency nor this act shall impair the vested right of any person, association, corporation or district in or to any water or the use thereof.

SEC. 24. Section 34 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 21. The agency, in order to determine the legality of its existence, may institute a proceeding therefor in the Superior Court of this State, in and for the County of Placer, by filing with the clerk of said county a complaint setting forth the name of the agency, its exterior boundaries, the date of its organization and a prayer that it be adjudged a legal agency formed under this act. The summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof once a week for four weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county. The State of California shall be a defendant in such action, and consent therefor is given. Service of summons therein shall be made on the Attorney General. The Attorney General shall appear in such action on behalf of the State in the same manner as with appearances in civil actions. Within thirty (30) days after proof of publication of said summons the State, any property owner or resident in said agency, or any person interested may appear as a defendant in said action by serving and filing an answer to said complaint, in which case said answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the agency and shall be served upon the district attorney before being filed in such proceeding. Such proceeding is hereby declared to be a proceeding in rem and the final judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever, including the agency and the State of California.

SEC. 25. Section 35 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 22. The agency may be dissolved in the manner provided for the dissolution of districts by Chapter 4, commencing at Section 58950, of Division 1 of Title 6 of the Government Code, and the agency shall be considered a district within the meaning of all of the provisions of said chapter.

SEC. 26. Section 36 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 23. The Legislature hereby finds that water problems in the county require countywide water conservation, flood control and development of water resources; that all land within the county will be benefited thereby; that the solution of these problems lies within and is peculiar to the area to be included in the agency; that these problems are not general or statewide; that the county for many years has made investigations and engineering surveys of the county's water resources by private, public and United States engineers; that county water districts, municipalities, and water conservation districts now exist within portions of the county, have acquired property and works, developed a limited water supply, and have incurred indebtedness, but have been and are unable alone to economically develop an adequate water supply and control the floods of said county and for such reason it is necessary to have a political entity coextensive with the geographical limits of the entire county; that the county cannot be supplied with water from a common source or by a common system of works; that investigation having shown conditions in said county to be peculiar to it. It is, therefore, hereby declared that a general law cannot be made applicable to said county and that the enactment of this special law is necessary for the conservation, development, control and use of said water for the public good and for the protection of life and property therein.

SEC. 27. Section 37 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 24. If any provision of this act is declared unconstitutional or invalid, for any reason, the remainder of the act shall not thereby be invalidated, but shall remain in full force and effect.

SEC. 28. Section 38 of said act is amended and renumbered to read:

Sec. 25. This act may be designated and referred to as "the Placer County Water Agency Act," and any reference thereto by such designation shall be sufficient for all purposes.

SEC. 29. Sections 5.4, 5.5, 5 6, 5.7, 13.1, 14.2, 15.1, 15.2, 15.3, 15.4, 18, 19, 19.1, 19.2, 19.3, 19.4, 19.5, 19.6, 19.7, 19.8, 19.9, 19.10, 19.11, 19.13, 19.14, 19.15, 19 16, 19.17, 19.18, 19 19, 19.20, 19 21, 20, 20.1, 20.2, 20 3, 20.4, 20.5, 20.6, 20.7, 20.8, 21, 21.1, 22, 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28 and 29 of said act are repealed.

SEC. 30. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This act will provide the necessary revisions to enable the agency to proceed with a proposed project for flood control and water conservation which is necessary at earliest possible time to protect the public health and safety.

[Approved by Governor June 5, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 5, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8571 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

Annulment of certificate

8571. If the clerk has issued any certificate for the same office to any other person than the one declared elected by the court, or if the court finds a tie vote in a contest brought under this chapter, such certificate is annulled by the judgment.

SEC. 2. Section 8571.5 is added to said code, to read:

Tie vote

8571.5. If the court finds a tie vote, the governing body of the county or city, within 15 days after receipt of a verified petition by either candidate, shall call a special election to determine which candidate shall be elected. The special election shall be held within 30 days after its call and shall be conducted in the same manner as prescribed for other special elections in such county or city, except that only the names of the candidates involved shall be printed on the ballot.

This section shall cease to be operative on May 1, 1960.

SEC. 3. Section 8701 of the Elections Code is amended to read:

Same

8701. If at any election, except that for Governor or Lieutenant Governor, two or more persons receive an equal and the highest number of votes for an office to be voted for in more than one county, the Secretary of State shall forthwith summon the candidates who have received the tie votes, whether upon the canvass of the returns by the Secretary of State, or upon recount by a court, to appear before him at his office at the State Capitol at a time to be designated by him. The Secretary of State shall at that time and place determine the tie by lot. In the same manner, at a time and place designated by it, the election board shall determine a tie vote, whether upon canvass of the returns by the election board or upon a recount by court, for candidates voted for wholly within one county.

Urgency

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Under existing law there is no procedure prescribed for determining an election contest involving the election of a member of a board of supervisors where the court determines that the candidates have received an equal number of votes. Due to the fact that there are now cases pending involving such a situation, it is essential that such a procedure be established at the earliest possible time. Since this act would establish the necessary procedure, it is essential that it go into immediate effect.

(c) Any moneys standing to the credit of his individual account in the Annuity Deposit Fund pursuant to Section 13906, together with the interest accumulated thereon.

(d) An amount, provided from contributions by the State, and payable from the Retirement Annuity Fund, for each completed year of service as a member, not to exceed six and excluding those years of service with respect to which contributions have been refunded and the member had not elected to redeposit pursuant to Section 14155, equal to one-twelfth of the salary which would have been earned by the member at the rate of salary at which he was last employed preceding death, assuming engagement in duties for the number of school days during the school year in which said employment existed. From the amount determined under the sentence next preceding, there shall be deducted an amount equal to that portion of the benefit payable on account of said death by a local retirement system, which is provided from contributions of the district operating said system, and is in addition to the portion of the benefit payable by said local system which is made up of the accumulated contributions of the member.

Repeal

SEC. 2. Section 14252 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 14365 of said code is amended to read:

Election

14365. Any member who has qualified for service retirement under Section 14301, may elect, as provided in Section 14363, and without right of revocation or change after approval of the election by the retirement board, to receive the actuarial equivalent as of the date of his retirement, of the retirement allowance payable to him when and if he retires for service or disability in a reduced retirement allowance according to the provisions of either Option 2 or Option 3 as stated in Section 14363. If such a member at the time of making the election has a living spouse who would qualify for an allowance under Section 14366, the election under this Section 14365 shall be invalid and of no effect unless and until the consent of such spouse to it, is filed at the office of the Retirement System in Sacramento, California If the death of such member occurs within 30 days after the date upon which the election is received in the office of the Retirement System in Sacramento, California, then the election shall be void and of no effect and he shall be considered as an active member at the time of death.

Upon such member's death at least 30 days after the date upon which the election is received in the office of the Retirement System in Sacramento, California, and prior to the effective date of his retirement, the person who was nominated by him under the option he elected and who survives him, shall receive an allowance calculated under such option, upon the assumption that such member retired for service on the date of his death and died immediately thereafter. The payment of such allowance to such person shall be in lieu of both the death benefit provided by Section 14251 or Section 14151 and the allowance provided by Section 14366, and no such death benefit or such allowance shall be paid on account of such death to any person or beneficiary, regardless of whether the person nominated under the option elected, survives the member. Payment of the allowance under the option following such death, shall be in addition to the payment to any beneficiary, of any survivor allowance provided under this system.

If such member subsequently retires for service or disability, he shall receive, regardless of whether the person nominated by him under the option elected, is then living, a reduced allowance according to the provisions of Section 14363 and the option elected, and he shall be subject to Section 14364.

The amount of the allowance prior to optional modification, shall be calculated on the basis of the member's age at death before retirement, or at retirement, as the case may be, but the reduction of such allowance under the option elected, shall be based on the ages of such member and the person nominated by him under such option, at the effective date of such election.

SEC. 4. Section 14366 of said code is amended to read:

Payment to beneficiary upon member's death

14366. Upon the death before retirement of a member who is qualified for service retirement under subsection (a) of Section 14301, and on account of whose death the benefit provided by Section 14251 is otherwise payable, or who could have qualified for service retirement under subsection (b) of Section 14301 at the time of his death, a monthly allowance equal to one-half of the monthly retirement allowance prior to modification under options in Section 14363, which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired for service on the date of his death, shall be payable:

(a) To the member's widow, or to the member's widower who was receiving at least one-half of his support from the member at the time of the member's death, and with respect to both widow and widower, who was married to such member prior to the occurrence of the injury or onset of the illness which resulted in death; provided, such widow or widower does not qualify for an allowance under Section 14365; or

(b) If there is no qualifying surviving spouse, or if such spouse dies or remarries, to unmarried children, including stepchildren, of the member, who are under 18 years of age.

The allowances payable under this section shall be in lieu of the death benefit provided by Section 14251 or by Section 14151, except for the accumulated annuity deposits included therein, but a person qualifying for the allowance or such person's guardian may elect, before the first payment on account of it, to receive such death benefit in lieu of the allowance. The member's accumulated annuity deposits shall be paid to the person qualifying for the allowance, and the remainder of the accumulated contributions of the member shall be applied toward providing the allowance, and the balance not so provided shall be payable from state contributions.

If the guardian of one or more children otherwise eligible to receive the allowance elects that such death benefit be paid in lieu thereof, there shall be paid to each such child an amount equal to what said child would have received as an allowance hereunder had the election not been made (disregarding interest and the probability of death or marriage), and under the assumption that each monthly allowance would have been divided equally among such unmarried children then under age 18, said amounts to be reduced proportionally if their total would otherwise be in excess of the amount of such death benefit. Any balance of such death benefit remaining after such payments have been made shall be paid to the surviving spouse of the member, or if none, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike.

An act to amend Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to attachments.

[Approved by Governor June 8, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 8, 1959.]

In effect September 18, 1959

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 539 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

539. Before issuing the writ, the plaintiff must file with the clerk or judge a written undertaking with two or more sufficient sureties, to the effect that if the defendant recovers judgment, the plaintiff will pay all costs that may be awarded to the defendant and all damages which he may sustain by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking, and that if the attachment is discharged on the ground that the plaintiff was not entitled thereto under Section 537, the plaintiff will pay all damages which the defendant may have sustained by reason of the attachment, not exceeding the sum specified in the undertaking. The sum specified in the undertaking shall be one-half (½) of the principal for which the writ is to be issued, but not less than fifty dollars ($50). Nothing herein shall be construed to preclude the acceptance of an undertaking in which a larger sum is specified, if such undertaking be offered. The court on ex parte application of the plaintiff, may by written order, direct the issuance of the writ on the filing of an undertaking in a lesser sum, but not less than fifty dollars ($50).

At any time after the issuing of the attachment, but not later than five days after actual notice of the levy thereof, the defendant may except to the sufficiency of the sureties. If he fails to do so, he is deemed to have waived all objection to them. When excepted to, the plaintiff's sureties, within five days from service of written notice of exception, upon notice to the defendant of not less than two nor more than five days, must justify before the judge or clerk of the court in which the action is pending, in the same manner as upon bail on arrest; and upon failure to justify, or if others in their place fail to justify, at the time and place appointed, the writ of attachment must be vacated.

The court, at any time after issuance of the writ, on motion of the defendant, after notice to the plaintiff, may order the amount of the undertaking increased, but in no event to an amount exceeding the amount for which the writ has been issued.

(3) An individual not a head of a household or a married person shall be treated as a single person.

SEC. 3. Section 17072 of said code is amended to read:

"Adjusted gross income"

17072. For purposes of this part, the term "adjusted gross income" means, in the case of an individual, gross income minus the following deductions:

(a) The deductions allowed by this part (other than by Article 7 of this chapter) which are attributable to a trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, if such trade or business does not consist of the performance of services by the taxpayer as an employee.

(b) (1) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) which consist of expenses paid or incurred by the taxpayer, in connection with the performance by him of services as an employee, under a reimbursement or other expense allowance arrangement with his employer.

(2) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) which consist of expenses of travel, meals, and lodging while away from home, paid or incurred by the taxpayer in connection with the performance by him of services as an employee.

(c) The deduction allowed by Section 18151.

(d) The deductions allowed by Article 6 (Section 17201 and following) as losses from the sale or exchange of property.

(f) In the case of a life tenant of property, or an income beneficiary of property held in trust, or an heir, legatee, or devisee of an estate, the deduction for depreciation allowed by Section 17208 and the deduction allowed by Section 17681. Nothing in this section shall permit the same item to be deducted more than once.

SEC. 4. Section 17171 of said code is amended to read:

Standard deduction

17171. (a) A taxpayer, at his election, may take a standard deduction as follows:

(1) If his adjusted gross income is five thousand dollars ($5,000) or more, the standard deduction shall be five hundred dollars ($500);

(2) If his adjusted gross income is less than five thousand dollars ($5,000), the standard deduction shall be an amount equal to 10 percent of the adjusted gross income upon the basis of which the tax applicable to the adjusted gross income of the taxpayer is determined under the tax table provided in Section 17048;

(3) If the adjusted gross income of a married couple filing a joint return is less than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), the standard deduction shall be an amount equal to twice 10 percent of one-half of the total adjusted gross income of both taxpayers upon the basis of which the tax applicable to one-half of the adjusted gross income of the taxpayers is determined under the tax table provided in Section 17048;

(4) If the adjusted gross income of a married couple filing a joint return is ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more, the standard deduction shall be one thousand dollars ($1,000).

A husband and wife shall receive but one personal exemption of three thousand dollars ($3,000). If the husband and wife make separate returns, the personal exemption may be taken by either or divided between them.

(c) (1) An additional exemption of six hundred dollars ($600) for the taxpayer if he is blind at the close of his taxable year.

(3) For the purposes of this section an individual is blind only if either: his central visual acuity does not exceed 20/200 in the better eye with correcting lenses, or his visual acuity is greater than 20/200 but is accompanied by a limitation in the fields of vision such that the widest diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

(b) For taxable years beginning after December 31, 1958, the term "reasonable allowance" as used in subsection (a) shall include (but shall not be limited to) an allowance computed in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, under any of the following methods:

(1) The straight line method;

(2) The declining balance method, using a rate not exceeding twice the rate which would have been used had the annual allowance been computed under the method described in paragraph (1);

(3) The sum of the years-digits method; and

(4) Any other consistent method productive of an annual allowance which, when added to all allowances for the period commencing with the taxpayer's use of the property and including the taxable year, does not, during the first two-thirds of the useful life of the property, exceed the total of such allowances which would have been used had such allowances been computed under the method described in paragraph (2).

Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to limit or reduce an allowance otherwise allowable under subsection (a).

(c) Paragraphs (2), (3), and (4) of subsection (b) shall apply only in the case of property (other than intangible property) described in subsection (a) with a useful life of three years or more—

(1) The construction, reconstruction, or erection of which is completed after December 31, 1958, and then only to that portion of the basis which is properly attributable to such construction, reconstruction, or erection after December 31, 1958; or

(2) Acquired after December 31, 1958, if the original use of such property commences with the taxpayer and commences after such date.

SEC. 7. Section 17209 of said code is amended to read:

17209. (a) Where, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the taxpayer and the Franchise Tax Board have, after the date of enactment of this section, entered into an agreement in writing specifically dealing with the useful life and rate of depreciation of any property, the rate so agreed upon shall be binding on both the taxpayer and the Franchise Tax Board in the absence of facts or circumstances not taken into consideration in the adoption of such agreement. The responsibility of establishing the existence of such facts and circumstances shall rest with the party initiating the modification. Any change in the agreed rate and useful life specified in the agreement shall not be effective for taxable years before the taxable year in which notice in writing by certified mail or registered mail is served by the party to the agreement initiating such change.

(b) In the absence of an agreement under subsection (a) containing a provision to the contrary, a taxpayer may at any time elect in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board to change from the method of depreciation described in Section 17208(b)(2) to the method described in Section 17208(b)(1).

SEC. 8. Section 17211 is added to said code, to read:

Basis

17211. The basis on which exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence are to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041 for the purpose of determining the gain on the sale or other disposition of such property.

SEC. 9. Section 17211.5 is added to said code, to read:

Life tenant's deduction

17211.5. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust, the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each. In the case of an estate, the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the estate and the heirs, legatees, and devisees on the basis of the income of the estate allocable to each.

SEC. 10. Section 17212 is added to said code, to read:

Deduction re emergency, etc., facilities

17212. A taxpayer may elect to claim a deduction for amortization of emergency, grain, or atomic energy facilities, as defined in and to the extent provided by Sections 168 and 169 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, as amended by the Federal Technical Amendments Act of 1958, under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 11. Section 17213 is added to said code, to read:

"Reasonable allowance"

17213. (a) In the case of Section 17213 property, the term "reasonable allowance" as used in Section 17208(a) may, at the election of the taxpayer, include an allowance, for the first taxable year for which a deduction is allowable under Sections 17208 through 17211.5 to the taxpayer with respect to such property, of 20 percent of the cost of such property.

Section 17213 property

(b) If in any one taxable year the cost of Section 17213 property with respect to which the taxpayer may elect an allowance under subsection (a) for such taxable year exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000), then subsection (a) shall apply with respect to those items selected by the taxpayer, but only to the extent of an aggregate cost of ten thousand dollars ($10,000). In the case of a husband and wife who file a joint return under Section 18402 for the taxable year, the limitation under the preceding sentence shall be twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) in lieu of ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(c) The election under this section for any taxable year shall be made within the time prescribed by law (including extensions thereof) for filing the return for such taxable year. The election shall be made in such manner as the Franchise Tax Board may by regulations prescribe.

(d) (1) Any election made under this section may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

For purposes of this section, the term "Section 17213 property" means tangible personal property—

(A) Of a character subject to the allowance for depreciation under Sections 17208 through 17211.5,

(B) Acquired by purchase after December 31, 1958, for use in a trade or business or for holding for production of income, and

(C) With a useful life (determined at the time of such acquisition) of six years or more.

(1) The liquidation is made in pursuance of a plan of liquidation adopted on or after December 31, 1950; and

(2) The distribution is in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock, and the transfer of all the property under the liquidation occurs within some one calendar month following the year 1950, then in the case of each qualified electing shareholder (as defined in subsection (c)) gain upon the shares owned by him at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation shall be recognized only to the extent provided in subsection (e).

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "excluded corporation" means a corporation which at any time between January 1, 1956, and the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, both dates inclusive, was the owner of stock possessing 50 percent or more of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan.

(c) For purposes of this section, the term "qualified electing shareholder" means a shareholder (other than an excluded corporation) of any class of stock (whether or not entitled to vote on the adoption of the plan of liquidation) who is a shareholder at the time of the adoption of such plan, and whose written election to have the benefits of subsection (a) has been made and filed in accordance with subsection (d), but in the case of a shareholder other than a corporation, only if written elections have been so filed by shareholders (other than corporations) who at the time of the adoption of the plan of liquidation are owners of stock possessing at least 80 percent of the total combined voting power (exclusive of voting power possessed by stock owned by corporations) of all classes of stock entitled to vote on the adoption of such plan of liquidation.

(2) There shall be recognized, and treated as a short-term or long-term capital gain, as the case may be, so much of the remainder of the gain as is not in excess of the amount by which the value of that portion of the assets received by him which consists of money, or of stock or securities acquired by the corporation after August 15, 1950, exceeds his ratable share of such earnings and profits.

SEC. 14. Section 17411 of said code is amended to read:

17503. The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee shall not include net unrealized appreciation in securities of the employer corporation attributable to the amount contributed by the employee. Such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of such securities shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

(b) In the case of an employees' trust described in Section 17501, if the total distributions payable with respect to any employee are paid to the distributee within one taxable year of the distributee on account of the employee's death or other separation from the service, or on account of the death of the employee after his separation from the service, the amount of such distribution, to the extent exceeding the amounts contributed by the employee, which employee contributions shall be reduced by any amounts theretofore distributed to him which were not includible in gross income, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for more than six months.

Where such total distributions include securities of the employer corporation, there shall be excluded from such excess the net unrealized appreciation attributable to that part of the total distributions which consists of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed. The amount of such net unrealized appreciation and the resulting adjustments to basis of the securities of the employer corporation so distributed shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board.

SEC. 17. Section 17674 of said code is amended to read:

Same Taxable income

17674. The taxable income of a common trust fund shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as in the case of an individual, except that—

(a) There shall be segregated the gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets;

(b) After excluding all items of gain and loss from sales or exchanges of capital assets, there shall be computed—

(1) An ordinary taxable income which shall consist of the excess of the gross income over deductions; or

(2) An ordinary net loss which shall consist of the excess of the deductions over the gross income;

(c) The deductions provided by Section 17214 (relating to charitable, etc., contributions and gifts) shall not be allowed; and

For this purpose, to the extent that such amount consists of gain from the sale or exchange of capital assets held for more than six months, proper adjustment of the deduction otherwise allowable under this section shall be made for any deduction allowable to the estate or trust under Section 18151 (relating to deduction for excess of capital gains over capital losses).

In the case of a trust, the deduction allowed by this section shall be subject to Sections 17811 to 17818, inclusive (relating to unrelated business income and prohibited transaction).

SEC. 19. Section 17736 of said code is amended to read:

Same. Emergency facilities

17736. The benefit of the deductions for amortization of emergency facilities provided by Section 17212 shall be allowed to estates and trusts in the same manner as in the case of an individual. (b) No deduction shall be taken under Section 17733 (relating to deduction for personal exemptions).

(c) Gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded to the extent that such gains are allocated to corpus and are not (1) paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year, or (2) paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in Section 17734. Losses from the sale or exchange of capital assets shall be excluded, except to the extent such losses are taken into account in determining the amount of gains from the sale or exchange of capital assets which are paid, credited, or required to be distributed to any beneficiary during the taxable year. The deduction under Section 18151 (relating to deduction for excess of capital gains over capital losses) shall not be taken into account.

(d) For purposes only of Article 2 (relating to trusts which distribute current income only), there shall be excluded those items of gross income constituting extraordinary dividends or taxable stock dividends which the fiduciary, acting in good faith, does not pay or credit to any beneficiary by reason of his determination that such dividends are allocable to corpus under the terms of the governing instrument and applicable local law.

(e) There shall be included any tax-exempt interest to which Section 17137 applies, reduced by any amounts which would be deductible in respect of disbursements allocable to such interest but for the provisions of Section 17285 (relating to disallowance of certain deductions).

If the estate or trust is allowed a deduction under Section 17734, the amount of the modification specified in subsection (e) shall be reduced to the extent that the amount of income which is paid, permanently set aside, or to be used for the purposes specified in Section 17734 is deemed to consist of items specified in subsection (e). For this purpose, such amount shall (in the absence of specific provisions in the governing instrument) be deemed to consist of the same proportion of each class of items of income of the estate or trust as the total of each class bears to the total of all classes.

SEC. 22. Section 17852 of said code is amended to read:

SEC. 25. Section 18151 is added to said code, to read:

Deduction Capital gains

18151. If for any taxable year the net long-term capital gain exceeds the net short-term capital loss, 50 percent of the amount of such excess shall be a deduction from gross income. In the case of an estate or trust, the deduction shall be computed by excluding the portion (if any), of the gains for the taxable year from sales or exchanges of capital assets, which, under Sections 17752 and 17762 (relating to inclusions of amounts in gross income of beneficiaries of trusts), is includible by the income beneficiaries as gain derived from the sale or exchange of capital assets.

18152. For purposes of this subsection, taxable income shall be computed without regard to gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets and without regard to the deductions provided in Section 17181 (relating to personal exemptions) or any deduction in lieu thereof. If the taxpayer elects to pay the optional tax imposed by Section 17048, "taxable income" as used in this subsection shall be read as "adjusted gross income."

(b) If for any taxable year ending after the effective date of this section the taxpayer has a net capital loss, the amount thereof shall be a short-term capital loss in each of the five succeeding taxable years to the extent that such amount exceeds the total of any net capital gains of any taxable years intervening between the taxable year in which the net capital loss arose and such succeeding taxable year. For purposes of this subsection, a net capital gain shall be computed without regard to such net capital loss or to any net capital losses arising in any such intervening taxable years.

SEC. 27. Section 18161 of said code is amended to read:

18161. For purposes of this part, the term "capital asset" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include— "Capital asset"

(ii) The losses from such sales or exchanges.

For purposes of this subparagraph, taxable income shall be computed without regard to gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. (c) For purposes of subsection (a), losses upon the destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or requisition or condemnation of property used in the trade or business or capital assets held for more than six months shall be considered losses from a compulsory or involuntary conversion.

In the case of any property used in the trade or business and of any capital asset held for more than six months and held for the production of income, this subsection shall not apply to any loss, in respect of which the taxpayer is not compensated for by insurance in any amount, arising from fire, storm, shipwreck or other casualty, or from theft.

SEC. 31. Section 18183 of said code is amended to read:

18183. For the purpose of this part, in the case of bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates or other evidences of indebtedness, which are capital assets in the hands of the taxpayer, and which are issued by any corporation, or government or political subdivision thereof—

(b) (1) Except as provided in subsection (2), upon sale or exchange of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness issued after December 31, 1954, held by the taxpayer more than six months, any gain realized which does not exceed—

(ii) If at the time of original issue there was no intention to call the bond, or other evidence of indebtedness before maturity, an amount which bears the same ratio to the original issue discount (as defined in Section 18184) as the number of complete months that the bond or other evidences of indebtedness were held by the taxpayer bears to the number of complete months from the date of original issue to the date of maturity, shall be considered as gain from the sale or exchange of property which is not a capital asset. Gain in excess of such amount shall be considered gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset held more than six months.

(2) This subsection shall not apply to—

(A) Obligations the interest on which is not includible in gross income under Section 17137 (relating to certain governmental obligations); or

If this section and Section

18183(b)(1) apply with respect to gain realized on the sale or exchange of any evidence of indebtedness, then Section 18183(b)(1) shall apply with respect to that part of the gain to which this section does not apply.

SEC. 33. Section 18186 of said code is amended to read:

18186. For purposes of this part, gain or loss from the short sale of property shall be considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset to the extent that the property, including a commodity future, used to close the short sale constitutes a capital asset in the hands of the taxpayer.

If gain or loss from a short sale is considered as gain or loss from the sale or exchange of a capital asset under Section 18186 and if on the date of such short sale substantially identical property has been held by the taxpayer for not more than six months (determined without regard to the effect, under paragraph (b) of this section, of such short sale on the holding period), or if substantially identical property is acquired by the taxpayer after such short sale and on or before the date of the closing thereof—

(a) Any gain on the closing of such short sale shall be considered as a gain on the sale or exchange of a capital asset held for not more than six months (notwithstanding the period of time any property used to close such short sale has been held); and

(b) The holding period of such substantially identical property shall be considered to begin (notwithstanding Sections 18163 through 18170, relating to the holding period of property) on the date of the closing of the short sale, or on the date of a sale, gift, or other disposition of such property, whichever date occurs first. This paragraph shall apply to such substantially identical property in the order of the dates of the acquisition of such property, but only to so much of such property as does not exceed the quantity sold short.

For purposes of this section, the acquisition of an option to sell property at a fixed price shall be considered as a short sale, and the exercise or failure to exercise such option shall be considered as a closing of such short sale.

SEC. 35. Section 18188 is added to said code, to read:

Exception

18188. Section 18187 shall not include an option to sell property at a fixed price acquired on the same day on which the property identified as intended to be used in exercising such option is acquired and which, if exercised, is exercised through the sale of the property so identified. If the option is not exercised, the cost of the option shall be added to the basis of the property with which the option is identified. This section shall apply only to options acquired after the date of its enactment.

SEC. 36. Section 18189 is added to said code to read:

(ii) In the case of futures transactions in any commodity on or subject to the rules of a board of trade or commodity exchange, a commodity future requiring delivery in one calendar month shall not be considered as property substantially identical to another commodity future requiring delivery in a different calendar month; and

(iii) In the case of a short sale of property by an individual, the term "taxpayer," in the application of this section and Sections 18187 and 18189, shall be read as "taxpayer or his spouse"; but an individual who is legally separated from the taxpayer under a decree of divorce or of separate maintenance shall not be considered as the spouse of the taxpayer.

(c) Where the taxpayer enters into two commodity futures transactions on the same day, one requiring delivery by him in one market and the other requiring delivery to him of the same (or substantially identical) commodity in the same calendar month in a different market, and the taxpayer subsequently closes both such transactions on the same day, Sections 18187 and 18189 shall have no application to so much of the commodity involved in either such transaction as does not exceed in quantity the commodity involved in the other.

(d) (1) In the case of a taxpayer who is a dealer in securities (within the meaning of Section 18196)—

(i) If, on the date of a short sale of stock, substantially identical property which is a capital asset in the hands of the taxpayer has been held for not more than six months, and

(a) Subsection 18187(b) shall apply first to substantially identical assets acquired for arbitrage operations held at the close of business on the day such sale is made, and only to the extent that the quantity sold short exceeds the substantially identical assets acquired for arbitrage operations held at the close of business on the day such sale is made, shall the holding period of any other such identical assets held by the taxpayer be affected;

(b) In the event that assets acquired for arbitrage operations are disposed of in such manner as to create a net short position in assets acquired for arbitrage operations, such net short position shall be deemed to constitute a short sale made on that day;

(c) For the purpose of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section the taxpayer will be deemed as of the close of any business day to hold property which he is or will be entitled to receive or acquire by virtue of any other asset acquired for arbitrage operations or by virtue of any contract he has entered into in an arbitrage operation; and

(d) For the purpose of this section arbitrage operations are transactions involving the purchase and sale of assets for the purpose of profiting from a current difference between the price of the asset purchased and the price of the asset sold, and in which the asset purchased, if not identical to the asset sold, is such that by virtue thereof the taxpayer is, or will be, entitled to acquire assets identical to the assets sold. Such operations must be clearly identified by the taxpayer in his records as arbitrage operations on the day of the transaction or as soon thereafter as may be practicable. Assets acquired for arbitrage operations will include stocks and securities and the right to acquire stocks and securities.

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), if loss is attributable to failure to exercise a privilege or option, the privilege or option shall be deemed to have been sold or exchanged on the day it expired.

(c) This section shall not apply to—

(1) A privilege or option which constitutes property described in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 18161;

(2) In the case of gain attributable to the sale or exchange of a privilege or option, any income derived in connection with such privilege or option which, without regard to this section, is treated as other than gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset;

The above exception shall not apply if the surviving spouse remarries before the close of his taxable year, nor if the taxable year of either spouse is a fractional part of a year under Section 17553.

The sureties may be required to justify before the court within 10 days after the undertaking is filed and if they fail to do so, the order of attachment shall be discharged and the property released therefrom. The amount of the undertaking on appeal required by this section shall be such amount as is fixed by the trial court on motion of the defendant as provided in Section 553 of this code and if no such order shall have been made, the undertaking shall be in double the amount of the debt claimed by the appellant. continuing the attachment. If such an order be made, the attachment shall be discharged and the property released therefrom, unless the undertaking shall be executed and filed by at least two sureties within 10 days after the order is made. The sureties on any undertaking required by this section for the purpose of continuing an attachment may be required to justify before the trial court within 10 days after the undertaking is filed and if they fail to do so, the order of attachment shall be discharged, and the property released therefrom.

[Approved by Governor June 10, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 10, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11.5 is added to the Santa Barbara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act, to read:

Notice of such public hearing on the budget of the district and the zones thereof shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the district in a similar manner and the same number of times as is required by law of counties in giving public notice of hearings on the county budget.

Upon the conclusion of the hearing the board may abandon the proposed project, or projects, or proceed with the same, unless prior to the conclusion of said hearing a written protest against any or all the proposed projects signed by a majority in number of the holders of title to real property, or assessable rights therein, or evidence of title thereto, representing one-half or more of the assessed valuation of the real property within such zone or within any of the participating zones for which said project, or projects, was initiated, to be filed with the board, in which event the project, or projects, shall be deleted from the budget and further proceedings relating to such project, or projects, must be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of said hearing, or said proceeding may be abandoned in the discretion of the board.

Such order is authorization for the probation officer to close his books in regard to such item, but such discharge of accountability of the probation officer does not constitute a release of any person from liability for payment of any such amount which is due and owing to the county. In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor June 11, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 11, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30705 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

Sale of ferries, etc.

30705. therefrom in the State Highway Fund. If the amount of money received from such sale exceeds the total amount expended after June 30, 1959, from the State Highway Fund for maintenance of the ferry system in excess of the revenue received therefrom, then the excess amount shall be expended for construction solely in counties in County Group 1 as defined in Section 187.

In effect September 18, 1959

[Approved by Governor June 15, 1959. Filed with Secretary of State June 15, 1959.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10161 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

Cash surrender value

10161. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by Section 10160, shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, if there had been no default, over the sum of (a) the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in Sections 10163 and 10163.5 corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and (b) the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the policy. Any cash surrender value available within 30 days after any policy anniversary under any policy paid up by completion of all premium payments or any policy continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, whether or not required by Section 10160, shall be an amount not less than the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, decreased by any indebtedness to the company on the policy.

SEC. 2. Section 10163 of said code is amended to read:

Adjusted premiums

10163. The adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year, excluding extra premiums on a substandard policy, that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (ii) two percent (2%) of the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy; (iii) forty percent (40%) of the adjusted premium for the first policy year; (iv) twenty-five percent (25%) of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, which ever is less. In applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above, no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four percent (4%) of the amount of insurance or level amount equivalent thereto.

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy, the equivalent level amount thereof for the purpose of this section shall be deemed to be the level amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the inception of the insurance as the benefits under the policy.

Except as otherwise provided in Section 10163.5, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this article shall for all policies of ordinary insurance be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table; provided, however, that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured. Such calculations for all policies of industrial insurance shall be made on the basis of the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table. All calculations shall be made on the basis of the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half percent (3½%) per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits. However, in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred thirty percent (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table; and for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

SEC. 3. Section 10163.5 is added to said code, to read:

10163.5. In the case of ordinary policies issued on or after the operative date of this section as defined herein, all adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this article shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table and the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half percent (3½%) per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits; provided, that for any category of ordinary insurance issued on female risks, adjusted premiums and present values may be calculated according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured; provided, however, that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than those shown in the Commissioners 1958 Extended Term Insurance Table; provided further, that for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the company and approved by the commissioner

On or after January 1, 1961, any company may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this section after a specified date before January 1, 1966. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date (which shall be the operative date of this section for such company), this section shall become operative with respect to the ordinary policies thereafter issued by such company. If a company makes no such election, the operative date of this section for such company shall be January 1, 1966.

SEC. 4. Section 10164 of said code is amended to read:

Calculation of values

10164. Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary, shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary. All values referred to in Sections 10161, 10162, 10163 and 10163.5 may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10161, additional benefits payable (a) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means, (b) in the event of total and permanent disability, (c) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits, (d) as decreasing term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this article would not apply, and (e) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits, and premiums for all such additional benefits, shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits required by this article, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

SEC. 5. Section 10165 of said code is amended to read:

Exceptions

10165. This article shall not apply to any reinsurance, group insurance, pure endowment, annuity or reversionary annuity contract, nor to any term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, of 15 years or less expiring before age 66, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy, nor to any term policy of decreasing amount on which each adjusted premium, calculated as specified in Sections 10163 and 10163.5, is less than the adjusted premium so calculated, on such 15-year term policy issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance, nor to any policy which shall be delivered outside this State through an agent or other representative of the company issuing the policy.

SEC. 6. Section 10489.2 of said code is amended to read:

Minimum standard

10489.2. The minimum standard for the valuation of all such policies and contracts shall be the commissioners reserve valuation method defined in Section 10489.3, three and one-half percent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) interest, and the following tables:

(a) For all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for such policies issued prior to the operative date of Section 10163.5, and the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for such policies issued on or after such operative date; provided, however, that for any category of such policies issued on female risks modified net premiums and present values, referred to in Section 10489.3, may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured.

(b) For all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table.

(c) For annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table.

(d) For total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts—Class (3) Disability Table (1926) which, for active lives, shall be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(e) For accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies—the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(f) For group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis and other special benefits—such tables as may be approved by the commissioner.
