By Messrs. Hawkins and Allen:

House Resolution No. 210

Relating to memorializing and petitioning Congress to enact legislation adequate to stamp out and abolish the evil of lynching

WHEREAS, During the last few years and throughout the Nation as a whole, there have been many lynchings and attempts at lynching; and

WHEREAS, There is inadequate legislation by the United States and among the several states to discourage lynching; and

WHEREAS, Proper legislation by the Congress of the United States would have a salutary effect and would greatly tend to decrease the number of lynchings and attempts at lynching; and

WHEREAS, It has been definitely proved that legislation by the United States of America with regard to other crimes has tended to decrease such crimes, and that public protection now demands that the United States of America extend its legislation to this field of crime; and

WHEREAS, Many measures to curb lynching are now pending in the Congress; and

WHEREAS, This Assembly desires to affirm the position taken by the Legislature of California in 1935, and reaffirmed in 1937 and 1939, in urging the National Government to enact effective legislation to prevent lynchings; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Congress of the United States is hereby memorialized to enact legislation adequate to decrease and abolish lynching; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President pro Tempore of the Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Representative from California in the Congress of the United States.

Very truly yours,

By the Chief Clerk:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WAR DEPARTMENT SPECIAL STAFF
LEGISLATIVE AND LIAISON DIVISION
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., June 4, 1947

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk, Assembly
California Legislature, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: The Secretary of War has asked me to acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 26, 1947, and enclosed copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 47, which was adopted by the California Legislature on May 22, 1947.

As a result of the rapid demobilization of the Army from over 8,000,000 men to 1,070,000 men, which it is believed will be its strength as of July 1, 1947, many consolidations are being effected throughout the War Department in the interest of economy and in an effort to conserve manpower. Among these consolidations is the centralization of Army supply functions insofar as it is practicable at five regional depots. These depots will be located at Atlanta, Georgia, which will remain a central distribution point for the Third Army and Caribbean Areas; Schnectady, New York, for the First Army Area and the New York Port of Embarkation; Columbus, Ohio, for the Second and Fifth Army Areas, with the exception of Colorado and Wyoming in the Fifth Army Area; San Antonio, Texas, for the Fourth Army Area; and Ogden, Utah, for the Sixth Army Area, Colorado and Wyoming, and the Seattle and San Francisco Ports of Embarkation. It should be pointed out that these depots will be established for general supply of the Army. Therefore, it may be necessary to retain other depots in the various Army areas to fulfill the specific requirements of the Technical Services. However, the main distribution for all Technical Services will be controlled from the five general depots.

With respect to the Benicia Arsenal, the activities currently conducted at this installation are:

(a) The receipt, storage and issue of Ordnance general supplies for the Sixth Army Area less the States of Washington, Oregon, Montana, and Idaho, and also for troops in the Pacific through the San Francisco Port of Embarkation and a certain lesser portion through the Seattle Port of Embarkation.

(b) It is a storage depot for ammunition including demilitarization and renovation. It also issues ammunition in small quantities within the Sixth Army Area and to overseas through the ports of embarkation.

(c) It maintains and overhauls vehicles, weapons, combat equipment, and fire control equipment.

In the past distribution of Army supplies has been accomplished by one or more depots in each of the Army areas for each of the several Supply Services. Benicia Arsenal is one of these for the Ordnance Department serving the Sixth Army Area and San Francisco Port of Embarkation. The War Department has considered the necessity of consolidating the distribution of the most frequently issued items of supply now accomplished by several depots in each area into single distribution depots, as indicated above. Considering the economies and the expense incident to the change, it is expected that the over-all economies to be effected by the consolidations and centralization of the Army supply mission will outweigh the additional expense items which may be introduced.

The effect that the centralization of the supply activities will have on the City of Benicia and most of the individual employees in the immediate future will be negligible. For the present only a very small number of employees will be sent to the Utah General Depot. Benicia Arsenal will continue for some time to distribute fast moving items of Ordnance supplies. It is estimated that Benicia Arsenal will continue its distribution mission for the next four to six years.

Under the proposed centralization of activities, a small number of employees will operate for Ordnance at the Utah General Depot. These employees will endeavor to determine the most economical and expeditious method of getting supplies to troops utilizing existing stocks in presently operating depots of which Benicia Arsenal is one. As items of supply which are frequently issued are exhausted, they will be stocked at the General Depot, as will supplies of other Technical Services.

Benicia Arsenal will continue its large maintenance program, its receipt and recovery for use of materials returned from overseas, and its ammunition storage and issue mission.

The net loss to Benicia Arsenal over the coming years, as a result of this new method of supply, will be approximately 150 employees. The day to day loss of employees amounts to many more than this number. Therefore, the net result, it is believed, is that replacements will not be employed to fulfill the vacancies resulting from a normal turnover, thus reducing the number of employees affected.

The personnel affected by the above action should not be confused with the current reductions presently required at Benicia Arsenal from some 1,400 to approximately 1,260, since this reduction is necessary in order to comply with the personnel ceilings established by the Congress. These reductions are not limited only to depot operations but are required throughout the military establishment to enable the War Department to operate within its personnel authorizations.

It is contemplated that Benicia Arsenal will continue in approximately its present status until such time as the effect of the functions mentioned above can be definitely determined.

The interest that the California Legislature has shown in the activities of the War Department, particularly in respect to the Benicia Arsenal, is appreciated. However, it is believed that the present readjustments that are taking place are in the best interests of economy and efficiency, and, as indicated above, will affect Benicia Arsenal only to a limited extent.

Sincerely yours,

MILES REBER
Brigadier General, GSC
Deputy Chief, Legislative and Liaison Division

Amendment No. 1

In the title of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly on April 2, 1947, strike out lines 1 to 4, inclusive; and in line 5, strike out "March 20, 1874," and insert

"An act to regulate the conduct of pounds, prescribing the duties of persons in charge thereof or employed thereat, and regulating the disposition of animals impounded or sheltered therein, all".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 1 to 20, inclusive; and all of pages 2 to 14, inclusive, and insert

"SECTION 1. The following words, terms, and phrases, when used in this act, are for the purposes hereof defined as follows:

(a) "Pound" means any place, building, structure, yard, or inclosure publicly or privately conducted, where estray or unwanted animals are impounded, sheltered or held in custody, whether such animals have been acquired through the surrender of their owners, finders, or keepers, or taken up as a measure of humanity, public health, or nuisance abatement.

The word "pound" as herein defined shall not be construed to apply to kennels, buildings or inclosures maintained on its own premises by any university, college, hospital or accredited medical or surgical research laboratory; provided, the cats and dogs harbored therein have been bred on the premises or have been lawfully acquired.

(b) "Poundkeeper" means any person who permanently or temporarily has the custody of estray or unwanted animals in any pound.

(c) "Animals" means all domestic animals except livestock and poultry, and particularly refers to dogs and cats.

SEC. 2. The governing body of each county, city and county, city or town shall provide for the receiving, shelter, maintenance and destruction of unwanted or unclaimed animals. Such governing body may employ proper persons to attend to the duties described in this act, or they may enter into a contract with any humane society or other organization which will undertake to carry out the provisions of this act, and which shall give proper bond in whatever amount may be fixed by such governing board for the faithful performance of the contract.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the poundkeeper to seize and impound, subject to the provisions of this act, all animals found upon any public highway, or street, or alley, or court, or place, or public square, or public grounds.

SEC. 4. All animals so taken into the custody of the poundkeeper, and which, by reason of age, or disease, or other cause, are unfit for further use or dangerous to keep impounded, shall be forthwith destroyed by the poundkeeper.

SEC. 5. Every person, other than a police officer, taking up any animal under the provisions of this act, shall immediately thereafter give notice thereof to the poundkeeper, and every such person and any person in whose custody such animal may, in the meantime, be placed, shall deliver such animal to the poundkeeper without fee or charge; and the poundkeeper shall thereupon hold and dispose of such animal in the same manner as though such animal had been found running at large and impounded by him.

SEC. 6. The owner or person entitled to the custody of any animal so impounded may, at any time before the sale or other disposition thereof, reclaim or redeem the same by paying to the poundkeeper all fines and charges imposed thereon, as provided for herein.

SEC. 7. The poundkeeper shall seize and impound every dog found running at large or found upon any public highway or street, or alley, or court, or place, or public square, or public grounds, or upon any unfenced lot or not within a sufficient enclosure, whether in the immediate presence of the owner or otherwise; provided, however, that, except as provided hereinafter, no such seizure or impounding shall be made of any dog led by a string, rope or chain, or having around its neck or leg a license tag showing that such dog is duly licensed as required by any ordinance.

SEC. 8. The poundkeeper shall keep any dog so impounded for a period of ninety-six (96) hours, unless the same be sooner reclaimed or redeemed by the owner or person having control thereof as hereinafter provided. Such redemption shall be made by exhibiting to the poundkeeper the license certificate or license tag issued by the tax collector, showing that the license for such dog for the then current fiscal year has been paid, and by paying to the poundkeeper the fine and charges hereinafter provided for. Upon such redemption being made the poundkeeper shall release such dog; provided, however, that if the license for any such dog for the then current fiscal year was actually paid prior to the date of the impounding of such dog, and there shall be exhibited to the poundkeeper as evidence of such payment said certificate or license tag, the fine hereinafter provided for shall be remitted, but in all cases the charges hereinafter provided for keeping such dog must be paid.

SEC. 9. At any time after the expiration of said period of ninety-six (96) hours the poundkeeper may, without further notice, and without advertising in any manner, sell at private sale or public auction, to the highest bidder, for cash, any dog not so reclaimed or redeemed as aforesaid. All dogs impounded and not so reclaimed, redeemed or sold shall forthwith be destroyed by the poundkeeper. The owner of any dog at the time it is so impounded may, at any time within thirty (30) days after such sale, redeem the same from such purchaser by paying to him the amount of the purchase price paid by him to the poundkeeper, and in addition thereto a sum equal to twenty-five cents (25¢) per day for the number of days from the date of sale to and including the date of such redemption.

SEC. 10. It shall be the duty of every person who shall take into his possession any stray dog or any dog not owned by him or not placed in his possession by the person having the lawful custody and control thereof, immediately to notify the keeper of the public pound and to release such dog to the poundkeeper upon demand and without charge. If there shall be attached to such dog a license tag for the then current fiscal year, said poundkeeper shall notify in writing the person to whom such license was issued, at the address given in said license certificate, and shall, upon demand made within twenty-four (24) hours thereafter, and without charge, release such dog to such person; provided, however, that if no person lawfully entitled to such dog shall, within nine (9) days after the date of giving said last-mentioned notice, appear at the public pound and claim such dog, such dog may be sold or destroyed by the poundkeeper in the manner hereinabove provided for unlicensed dogs.

SEC. 11. If there is no license tag for the current fiscal year attached to any dog surrendered to the poundkeeper as provided herein, and such dog has not been redeemed by its owner within ninety-six (96) hours from the time of impounding such dog, the poundkeeper may return such dog to the person who surrendered such dog; provided, that such person procures a license for such dog for the current fiscal year.

SEC. 12. The owner of any dog at the time it is so impounded may, at any time within thirty (30) days after such dog has been returned to the person surrendering such dog to the poundkeeper, redeem the same from such person by paying to him the amount he paid for the license tag, and in addition thereto a sum equal to twenty-five cents (25¢) per day for the number of days from the date of receiving such dog from the poundkeeper, to and including the date of such redemption."

COMMUNICATIONS

By the Chief Clerk.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

WAR DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF ENGINEERS
WASHINGTON 25, D. C., June 5, 1947

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
Assembly, California Legislature
Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This office has received by reference from the Secretary of War a copy of the resolution adopted on May 14, 1947 by the Assembly of the State of California urging that immediate steps be taken to follow the recommendations of the District Engineer at Los Angeles, California, to correct beach erosion at Anaheim Bay, California.

As you know, the Corps of Engineers in response to an item contained in Section 7 of the River and Harbor Act approved July 24, 1946, has underway a preliminary examination and survey report of the "Harbor at Anaheim Bay, California, with a view to shore protection." In connection with the field investigations, the District Engineer at Los Angeles, California, held a public hearing on February 5, 1947, at Seal Beach, California, to obtain the views of all known interested parties concerning the erosion problem. The Division Engineer of the South Pacific Division, and the District Engineer have recently submitted their report on the preliminary examination which is favorable to a detailed survey of the locality. This report is now before the Beach Erosion Board for review and recommendation regarding a survey prior to submission of a report to Congress on the erosion of this shore.

At the present time there is no authority available which would permit the expenditure of federal funds to provide shore protective works at this locality. Federal participation in the construction of such works as may be warranted requires the specific approval of Congress after completion of studies provided for by law. You may be sure that the Corps of Engineers' report will be completed in the shortest possible time in order that its findings may be submitted to Congress.

In order that the Beach Erosion Board may know of the interest of the State of California in the authorized investigation now underway at Anaheim Bay, I am pleased to refer a copy of the California Assembly's resolution to the Beach Erosion Board

FOR THE CHIEF OF ENGINEERS:
Sincerely yours,

Lt. Col., Corps of Engineers
Deputy Chief of Civil Works for Rivers and Harbors

RECESS

At 10 a.m., on motion of Mr. Dickey, the Assembly recessed until 2 p.m.

REASSEMBLED

At 2 p.m., the Assembly reconvened.

Hon. Sam. L. Collins, Speaker of the Assembly, presiding.

Chief Clerk Arthur A. Ohnimus at the desk.

"SECTION 1. Chapter 1.5 is added to Division 1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.5. WELFARE EMERGENCY FINANCING

145. The purpose of this chapter is to provide for the continued operation of the state plans for aid to the aged, the needy blind, and needy children in the event that federal assistance therefor is temporarily delayed or not available, without the changes and modifications in such plans provided for in this code as a consequence of the withdrawal of federal assistance for such aid from this State.

145.1. As used in this chapter "joint public assistance" means the aid to needy children, aid to the aged, and aid to the blind provided pursuant to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2, Chapter 1 of Division 3, and Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 5 of this code, and "eligible recipient" means any person eligible for such joint public assistance under said chapters.

145.2. The Governor may, within 15 days prior to the commencement of any fiscal quarter or during any fiscal quarter, proclaim the existence of a period of welfare emergency, whenever he finds as facts all of the following:

(a) Assistance to this State for joint public assistance is provided for by the Federal Social Security Act or other federal legislation.

(b) This State has qualified to receive federal assistance for joint public assistance, and has not been notified that further payment of such federal assistance will not be made because of the failure of this State to comply with the requirements of the federal legislation.

(c) Federal assistance to this State for joint public assistance for the entire fiscal quarter has not been received, and it is improbable that such federal assistance will be received by this State prior to the usual time for transmitting such federal assistance to the counties of this State

Any period of welfare emergency proclaimed by the Governor pursuant to this section shall commence on the date of the proclamation by the Governor, and shall continue until federal assistance is received by this State for joint public assistance for the first quarter following the date of the proclamation, or until the commencement of the second quarter following said date, whichever first occurs. In no event shall any period of welfare emergency continue for more than four calendar months, nor shall any subsequent period of welfare emergency be proclaimed unless federal assistance has been received by this State for each prior fiscal quarter commencing during any prior period of welfare emergency.

145.3. Out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated, there is hereby appropriated each month to every county within this State for joint public assistance to eligible recipients, an amount, as estimated by the State Department of Social Welfare, equal to the aggregate amount of federal assistance payable to this State under federal law for joint public assistance to eligible recipients within the county This appropriation is in addition to any other appropriation to the counties of the State for joint public assistance or for any aid within the definition of joint public assistance.

Payment of the sums appropriated by this section shall be made in the manner provided by Section 2188 of this code.

This section shall be operative only during periods of welfare emergency duly proclaimed by the Governor pursuant to Section 145.2.

145.4. The sums appropriated by Section 145.3 shall be considered for all the purposes of Chapter 1 of Division 1, Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2, Chapter 1 of Division 3, and Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 5, of this code, to be "federal assistance" and "grants in aid" from the United States Government for aid to needy children, aid to the aged, and aid to the needy blind, respectively, and shall not be considered to be state moneys or appropriations from the State Treasury for the purposes of those chapters. All such sums shall be subject to all of the provisions of said chapters applicable to funds received by this State from the United States Government, and all of the provisions of said chapters shall be construed and applied in every respect as if such funds had been in fact received by this State from the United States Government. However, none of such sums shall be considered for any purpose to be federal assistance or grants for the cost of administering joint public assistance.

14553. Whenever federal assistance to this State for joint public assistance for any period of welfare emergency during which sums appropriated by Section 14552 have been expended is received by this State, any sums appropriated by Section 14552 which have theretofore been expended for joint public assistance pursuant to this chapter shall be repaid to the State from the funds so received, and deposited in the General Fund in the State Treasury to the credit of the appropriation made by Section 14552 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Many thousands of needy persons in this State are dependent for the necessities of life upon the continued receipt of aid to the aged, aid to the needy blind, and aid to needy children. The sudden deprivation of such persons of such aid would result in widespread hardship and suffering, and so imperil the public health and safety.

Numerous provisions of the state laws governing such aid, including provisions relative to the amounts thereof and eligibility therefor, are applicable only if, when, and during such times as federal assistance or grants for such aid are made available to this State, but such provisions were enacted in contemplation of the granting and subsequent permanent withdrawal of federal aid, and were not intended by the Legislature to provide for changes in the state program in the event of temporary delays or interruptions in the provision of federal funds. Inasmuch as the Congress has not yet appropriated the moneys for such federal assistance for the period beginning July 1, 1947, a temporary delay or interruption in the provision of such assistance is imminent. To prevent substantial modification in the state plans for aid to the aged, aid to the blind, and aid to needy children in consequence of such interruption, and the suffering and injury to the public health which would result therefrom, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 2 to 24, inclusive; and on page 2, strike out lines 1 to 12, inclusive.

Amendments read, and adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted, and engrossed.

REMARKS BY MR. ROBERTSON

June 10, 1947

MR. SPEAKER: During the routine tabling of Assembly Bill No. 1292, calling for a Constitutional Convention, by the Senate Committee of Governmental Efficiency and Economy, there occurred an incident that I think is worthy of the attention of this Assembly.

Had these words been uttered by Frank P. Doherty, speaking for himself, they would not have been worthy of note, but Frank P. Doherty made it very plain to the members of the committee and those present that he was speaking as a Past President of and in behalf of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and as a representative of the California State Chamber of Commerce. I regret indeed that his remarks were not recorded at the time, but I listened very intently and I believe I can repeat almost verbatim the words that he uttered, speaking as though the convention would consist of members of both houses, instead of elected delegates. They are as follows:

> "Gentlemen of the Committee, Could this proposed convention consist of only you 40 very fine gentlemen of the Senate, I would be very happy indeed to give it my full support, but, gentlemen, do not for a moment forget that in addition there will be 80 bad members from the Assembly. Every good proposition that you might advocate would be defeated, every effort that you made would be frustrated by these 80 bad members. You would be out-voted at all times."

Such an attitude on the part of these two organizations is surely worthy of note. Such an attitude tends to friction and trouble between the two branches of this Legislature and is inimical to good government.

I believe we should scan very carefully any proposition proposed by either of these organizations.

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, June 7, 1947

State Central Committee—No. 5519

Hon. Glenn M. Anderson
Assembly Chamber

DEAR MR. ANDERSON: You have asked us a series of questions relating to the state central committee of political parties and members thereof.

1. What is the status of members of the state central committee between the state convention and the next election?

The term of existence of the state central committee is not fixed in the law. The committee is formed on the day after the state convention (Sec. 2815, Elec. C.). Presumably, the committee continues to exist as such until the succeeding committee is organized.

The law provides for only the one meeting of the state central committee as a whole. The committee may appoint from its membership an executive committee to which it may grant any or all of its powers and duties (Sec. 2826, Elec. C.). The practice is for the central committee to grant all of the powers and duties to the executive committee.

Therefore, after the original meeting, the only members of the central committee who have any functions are those on the executive committee. The central committee, however, continues to exist and we know of no reason why it could not be convened in meeting by the executive committee if the latter so desired.

2. If a member of the state central committee dies, moves from the State or from one district to another, can a successor be appointed, and, if so, what are the steps?

3. If a member of the executive committee of a state central committee moves, dies, or resigns what is the method of filling the vacancy?

Section 2847 of the Elections Code provides that in the event of the appointment or election to any party committee of an ineligible person or whenever any member of any party committee dies, resigns, or becomes incapacitated to act or removes from the jurisdiction of the committee or ceases to be a member of the committee's party, a vacancy exists which may be filled by appointment by the committee in which the ineligibility or vacancy occurs.

A vacancy on the executive committee would under this provision be filled by the executive committee. The death or disability of a member of the central committee, other than a member of the executive committee, would be filled by the central committee, or if it had granted all its powers to the executive committee, by that committee.

The moving of a member from one district to another would have no effect on his membership as he would still be "within the jurisdiction" of the state central or executive committee, which is state-wide.

4. In case an Assemblyman dies and a successor is elected: (a) Does the successor become a member of the state central committee? (b) Can he appoint three other members to the state central committee? (c) If so, what is the status of the deceased Assemblyman's appointees?

(a) The newly elected Assemblyman does not become a member of the state central committee. A vacancy exists which may be filled in the manner above discussed. He is, of course, eligible to appointment to fill the vacancy but does not automatically become a member of the committee.

(b) (c) The newly elected member is not authorized to appoint three members to the state central committee. Each delegate to the state convention appoints three members of the state central committee (Sec. 2803, Elec. C.). When the deceased member appointed his three members they became members by virtue of such appointment. Such appointment is final and such membership continues regardless of the status of the person appointing them.

As indicated above, unless membership in the executive committee is involved, an appointment to fill a vacancy would be in the nature of an honorary appointment as the appointee would have no functions to perform.

Very truly yours,

FRED B WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH W. PAULUCCI, Deputy

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO 14, June 11, 1947

To the Assembly of the State of California
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN: I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to Assembly Bill No. 438, entitled: "An act to amend an initiative act entitled 'An act prescribing the terms upon which licenses may be issued to practitioners of chiropractic, creating the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners and declaring its powers and duties, prescribing penalties for violation hereof, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved by electors November 7, 1922, by adding Section 8 1 thereto, relating to the rights of blind persons in respect to the study and practice of chiropractic, said amendments to take effect upon the approval thereof by the electors, and providing for the submission thereof to the electors pursuant to Section 1b of Article IV of the State Constitution."

This bill, with my message relative thereto, I (through my Legislative Secretary) delivered to Kathryn T Niehouse, Member of the Assembly, at 9.40 o'clock p.m. on the tenth day of June, 1947, at which time your honorable body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO 14, June 10, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Assembly Bill No. 438, entitled: "An act to amend an initiative act entitled 'An act prescribing the terms upon which licenses may be issued to practitioners of chiropractic, creating the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners and declaring its powers and duties, prescribing penalties for violation hereof, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved by electors November 7, 1922, by adding Section 8 1 thereto, relating to the rights of blind persons in respect to the study and practice of chiropractic, said amendments to take effect upon the approval thereof by the electors, and providing for the submission thereof to the electors pursuant to Section 1b of Article IV of the State Constitution."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

This bill is opposed both by the Board of Chiropractic Examiners and by the California Chiropractic Association on the ground that its approval would lower the standards of chiropractic practice and would have the effect of admitting as chiropractors persons who could not properly examine patients and diagnose conditions.

Both bodies advise me that ability to observe external symptoms is highly necessary in the proper practice of the profession They also point out that a blind person is not qualified to make any diagnosis based upon laboratory work or upon examination of X-ray films.

The position of both the board and the association seems to be reasonable and consistent with public interest. I am, therefore, returning the bill without my approval

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 12, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 646, entitled: "An act to amend Section 2165 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to aid to the aged in respect to real property qualifications of applicants."

My objections are as follows:

This bill amends Section 2165 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relative to eligibility for aged aid, to increase the amount of real property which a married couple may own from $3,000 to $3,500 net assessed valuation. It does not amend Section 2164 of the same code which provides for $3,000 net assessed valuation of real property for a single person. The bill draws a distinction between the amount of real property owned by a single person and by a married couple and because of this would work a serious inequity. It would create a real hardship in a case where an aged couple own real property assessed in excess of $3,000 upon the death of one or the other spouse. The result would be that the survivor would be deprived of further assistance as a result of the death of one spouse.

The present law providing for the same property qualifications for a single person and married couples avoids this difficulty and has worked satisfactorily. I believe that this uniformity should be maintained and, accordingly, am returning the bill without my signature.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

Assembly Bill No. 646 ordered to unfinished business file.

PRAYER

O God, Thou hast put these words into the mouth of Thy prophet, Solomon: "I called upon God and the spirit of wisdom came upon me. And I preferred her before kingdoms and thrones, and esteemed riches nothing in comparison to her. Neither did I compare unto her any precious stone, for all gold in comparison to her is as a little sand, and silver in respect to her shall be counted as clay. I loved her above health and beauty, and chose to have her instead of light; for her light can not be put out." Send forth, O God, this same Spirit of Truth upon our legislators that they may ever frame laws in the light of Thine eternal wisdom—AMEN.

Remarks Given Before California Assembly June 13, 1947, by Paul H. Griffith, National Commander, The American Legion

Thank you Dick, Mr. Speaker, and Members of the Legislature. This is a rare treat for me to be able to come before this fine body and bring you the greetings of the National Organization of The American Legion, and thank you for the fine way in which you have cared for the veterans of the great State of California. I believe you deserve the compliments and the congratulations of the greatest veteran organization in the world for the way you have looked after your returned veterans, and I realize, as I am sure you do, that the problems in California are greater with regard to the care of veterans than in any other state in the Union.

Many veterans come to California because here, if they are disabled, they can better earn a living in the climate and the other advantages that California offers, than they can any other place in the Country. So you have many of them who come here for that purpose, and it increases the problem of the State in looking after their welfare.

Mr. Chamberlain has mentioned the article which appeared in the paper relative to Mr. Wallace's criticism of you for your reactionary methods. Mr Chamberlain said that he complimented you, and I believe that is right. I think most of us who are opposed by Henry believe that his opposition is a compliment. For those of us who have served our Country in one or two great wars believe in the American way of life, and we want to preserve it We have seen what other countries have to offer, and we believe the time has come when every loyal American must stand up for America.

The other day, our under-Secretary of State, in an appearance before the Committee on Un-American Activities in the House of Representatives, said that he believed that Russia was an aggressor nation, and he told how she was spreading herself over Europe and China and drawing the iron curtain behind her as she went. Mr. Molotov objected to that statement, but our great Secretary of State, General George C. Marshall, and I believe he is one of the greatest secretaries of State the Country has ever had, replied to that note of protest by saying that in America there wasn't much you could do about the statement of a fact. We of The American Legion agree with Mr. Marshall and his under-Secretary that Russia is an aggressor nation and is set on world domination. If it is true that Russia is an aggressor nation and is set on the domination of the world, then we in America should do everything we possibly can to preserve our way of life and our standards of living. Because of our desire for the continuation of these American ideals, The American Legion has introduced into the Congress a bill for universal military training in order that we might have a nucleus around which to build an adequate national defense and make ourselves so strong that no foreign aggressor would ever dare attack us.

Those of us who have served our Nation in time of war realize the less glamorous side of war and want no more of it. We want peace, but we know that we cannot have peace unless we are strong enough to preserve it, and so we believe that universal military training is a must in order that we might preserve this peace which has been bought at such a terrible cost.

Our plan for universal military training requires that every young man in the Nation, when he reaches the age of 18, or when he graduates from high school, receives a basic training period of four months in a training center nearest his home. At the end of that four-month basic training period he is permitted to choose for himself how he would complete the equivalent of a year's military training. If he is going on to college, he can complete it in R.O.T.C., or if he is taking up any of the sciences to become a doctor, or a dentist, or a chemist, he can qualify for a commission when he qualifies for his degree upon graduation. If he is going back to the farm or the factory or the shop, he can join the National Guard and complete the equivalent of his year's military training there, or he can go into the Naval Reserve training program, or any other recognized training program and complete the equivalent of his year's military training there.

We do not believe there is too much displacement in a plan of this kind. We believe that many who have opposed universal military training have it confused with compulsory military service, and there is a grave difference between the two. Compulsory military service would take the young men of this Country in peace time, as we took them in time of war, put them into the regular establishments of the Army or Navy, assign them to regular units and send them out into the army of occupation or into our outposts, or even have them man the posts here at home. The American Legion is opposed to compulsory military service in peace time, and I believe the majority of the American people oppose compulsory military service in peace time.

A recent Gallup poll informs us that about 73 percent of the American people today are in favor of universal military training, and we of the American Legion believe that if we are to preserve the peace and protect ourselves against aggression, universal military training is a must before the present Congress adjourns.

I am an American, and I am proud of it. I believe the time has come for every loyal American to stand up for America. We want no foreign ideologies in this great land of ours, but if we are to preserve the ideals for which we fought and for which so many of our comrades gave their lives, we must have an adequate defense and universal military training, and I am sure that all of you join with me in the hope that the Congress will make universal military training the law of the land before the adjournment of the present session.

It was grand of you to invite me here today, and I appreciate the opportunity of speaking to you and thank you for your fine attention.

STATEMENT BY MR. DUNN

My objection to the statement of Mr. Griffith to the effect that because former Vice President and Secretary of Commerce, Henry A. Wallace, had criticized this Legislature "we should feel complimented," was based on the fact that I knew nothing of the basis of the criticism, and on the further fact that Mr Griffith was occupying a privileged position as a guest of the Assembly, therefore I felt that such a remark in such a position was both unjustifiable and in extremely bad taste.

FRANCIS DUNN, JR.

MEMBERS EXCUSED

At 11.40 a.m., Mr. Dickey asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the members of the Committee on Rules be excused, at this time, for the purpose of holding a meeting.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 13, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 640, entitled: "An act to amend Section 59 of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, relating to sales on election day."

My objections are as follows:

The present law prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages in any election district or precinct in the State while an election is in progress. This bill would restrict the provision to city, county, city and county, state, or national elections The existing law is designed to insure good order during all elections and to protect the electorate from undue influence If it is sound for some elections, it is sound for all It is as essential for instance that a school election, which is a district election, be conducted on a high plane as for a municipal, county, or state election. If this bill were to become law, school and other district elections would not have the protection given to general elections It is opposed by the Peace Officers' Association of the State of California and by individual law enforcement officers. Accordingly, I am returning the bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

Hon. Vincent Thomas, Assemblyman
State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California

HONORABLE SIR: At today's meeting of the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce of San Pedro the board placed the chamber on record as being opposed to the proposition that San Pedro secede from Los Angeles and to the passage of Assembly Bill No. 14. The board also instructed me to advise you as follows:

The action of the board is the result of careful and prolonged study and investigation of the complex problems involved and of the underlying causes prompting the advocacy of the secession movement.

The chamber's opposition to secession from Los Angeles is based upon the firm belief that such a move would be an act—not of progress—but of retrogression, and that it would result in incalculable harm—financially and morally—to San Pedro. (For details see the attached copy of the report made by this Chamber's Governmental Affairs Committee.)

The chamber recognizes and appreciates your efforts in behalf of your district, but it believes that Assembly Bill No. 14 is ill-advised, and, if passed, that it will react to the disadvantage of San Pedro and become the cause of much needless expense and contention to and among the people of San Pedro.

The chamber believes that passage of the bill will provide—not a club with which to force concessions from Los Angeles—but a valid excuse for the administrators of Los Angeles to withhold appropriations, both for maintenance and capital investment, from San Pedro. In fact, the $85,000 appropriated by the city some time ago for a new regional library in San Pedro has not yet been released, and there is reason to believe on the basis of information at hand, that the money may not be released by the Library Department until the implied threat contained in Assembly Bill No. 14 has been removed.

The anticipated reaction of the city administration is entirely logical and reasonable, and the chamber believes that the same would apply to the State Legislature in the event that Los Angeles and other southern counties should succeed in placing themselves in the position where they could threaten the Legislature with secession from the State "or else".

The board also instructed me to comment on House Resolution No. 173 as follows:

Re "Fourth." San Pedro has good municipal ferry service to Terminal Island. True, the fare is 2½ cents or ½-cent over the promised 2-cent fare But, considering the vast difference between the cost of living in 1909 and today the present fare is eminently fair

Re "Fifth." Owing to a lack of detailed records and specifications concerning the "public fish market and fisherman's wharf" it is a moot question whether or not this pledge has been kept, and one which can be answered by members of the 1909 consolidation committee only. And, considering the conditions, the lack of development, and the infant fishing industry as they were in 1909, it is entirely possible that the consolidation committee, if it were here, would answer in the affirmative.

The foregoing remark is not to be construed, however, as approval of the present mooring facilities of San Pedro's fishing fleet as it exists today. These facilities are sadly in need of repairs, improvements, and additions. But, this current problem could not possibly have existed or been considered in 1909, and the chamber submits, that promises made relative to mooring facilities should not be confused with consolidation pledges.

Re "Eighth." San Pedro has and has had since consolidation with Los Angeles a branch of the public library, and the service apparently is satisfactory. The library first occupied the present Chamber of Commerce Building. Later the city built and operated an excellent library at 10th and Gaffey Streets This building was damaged in the earthquake of 1933, and later an earth fault made it necessary to raze the building. The library, however, was transferred to a store building in the 500 block on W Seventh Street in the downtown area of San Pedro, where it is still serving the community. And, as already mentioned, $85,000 was recently appropriated by the city for the construction of a new regional library second only to the main library in Los Angeles

Re "Eleventh." The chamber believes that the city does "lay out and expend annually" an amount of money not less than the amount of municipal taxes collected in San Pedro. According to the best figures available the estimated assessed property evaluation for tax collection purposes in San Pedro is between $25,000,000 and $30,000,000. The municipal tax is $1 805 per $100 of assessed evaluation The estimated amount of municipal taxes collected annually is therefore, at most, $540,000 and, since the total amount of the annual salaries paid to only two of the many municipal departments in San Pedro, namely the police and fire departments, is in excess of $500,000, it can readily be seen, that the total amount of municipal taxes collected in San Pedro does no more than begin to pay for all of the municipal services, maintenance, and investments accorded this community

As for the statements that "There are at the present time no emergency hospital facilities," no facilities for "booking and detention of women and juvenile residents," and "no services are provided for cleaning the streets" in San Pedro, the chamber wishes me to state, that the first and third statements are incorrect.

San Pedro has long had adequate emergency hospital facilities. The emergency hospital service needs one more full time doctor, however, and the Mayor of Los Angeles recently informed the city council, that money had been appropriated to supply this need and authorized the council to furnish such additional medical service.

Street cleaning services are and have been furnished five days per week. San Pedro has, however, long been desirous of having the street cleaning service extended to include street cleaning of its downtown area over the weekends, and the mayor has just announced, that Sunday street cleaning in San Pedro will be put into effect beginning next July 1st.

It is true that San Pedro has no detention facilities for women and juveniles arrested in San Pedro. However, the number of arrests of women and juveniles is too small in the opinion of the police department and this chamber to warrant the expense of installing and maintaining such facilities, and the practice of immediately transporting such cases to Los Angeles should, in the opinion of the chamber, be continued until such time as the volume has increased sufficiently to warrant a change.

The board also instructed me to call your attention to the recent meeting in San Pedro between the mayor and a committee of five representing 16 responsible and representative San Pedro organizations. The committee presented a 15-point program covering harbor and other municipal improvements and needs in San Pedro. This program was thoroughly discussed, and it is the considered opinion of the committee and of this chamber, that as a result San Pedro will receive whole-hearted consideration and cooperation of the city administration, to the end, that the program may be carried to a speedy conclusion, and that controversial policies may be settled to the satisfaction of all involved

In view of the foregoing facts the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce sincerely believes, that it is to the best interest of San Pedro and San Pedro citizens if Assembly Bill No 14 is not permitted to pass at this time, and you are asked to reconsider and to counsel your colleagues accordingly.

Very cordially yours,

SAN PEDRO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE
By E D. SEWARD, Executive Secretary

By order of the Board of Directors.

By Mr. Thomas:

Hon. John W. Evans
Sixty-fifth District
Assembly Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California

DEAR MR. EVANS By the way of pony express we have received news of a baseball game played by a team representing the Assembly in which said team was soundly trounced. Since you are the manager of this stellar team, we would like to determine the feasibility of a game between your team and ours

We think we have a team whose ability is equal to that of yours although we have a few members who have physical limitations Our pitcher has one arm, the first baseman is blind, and the catcher has arthritis and finds it impossible to stoop beyond the perpendicular.

However, this game will have to be played under one condition—that we are not responsible for any one who is spiked by a wooden leg, who gets any splinters off our members' crutches, or who is hooked by one of our armless outfielders.

Yours very truly,

JOE CASEY (SR.)

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, June 9, 1947

Practice of Cosmetology in the home—Assembly Bill No. 2452—No. 5395

Hon. Francis Dunn, Jr.
Assembly Chamber

DEAR MR. DUNN: You ask whether in our opinion Section 7322 as amended by Assembly Bill No. 2452, as amended June 5th, would be constitutional.

It is our opinion that this amendment to Section 7322 would be of doubtful validity.

Section 7320 of the Business and Professions Code makes it a misdemeanor to engage in the practice of cosmetology without a license. "Cosmetology" is broadly defined in Section 7321 to include practically every type of cleansing or beautifying ministrations to the hair, scalp, face or upper part of the body.

Section 7322 exempts from the provisions of the chapter requiring the licensing of cosmetologists, any practice in cases of emergency and the domestic administration of any practice without compensation. This section as amended by Assembly Bill No 2452 would delete the exemption provided for domestic administration without compensation and would require the services of a licensed cosmetologist in cases of emergency.

The entire chapter of the Business and Professions Code on cosmetology (Sections 7300-7457) relates to the regulation of the business of cosmetology, and of persons practicing therein. Since the domestic application of any practice included within the code definition of cosmetology would not constitute the practice of cosmetology, unless such person held their services out to the public, it is extremely doubtful whether the prohibitions of the chapter would apply to such domestic practice, regardless of whether it is expressly excepted from the application of the chapter.

The fact that such exemption is provided for in Section 7322 and that this exception is repealed by the amendment contained in Assembly Bill No. 2452 would indicate an intent to repeal such exemption. If this were the interpretation placed upon such amendment, the section would to that extent probably be held invalid.

A statute prohibiting, regulating or interfering with private business can be upheld only under the police power, which can be rightfully exercised only when the statute in question is for the protection of the public health, the public safety, the public morals, or the general welfare (People v. St. John, 108 Cal App. 779).

The means adopted to produce the public benefit intended, or to prevent the public injury, must be reasonably necessary to accomplish that purpose and not unduly oppressive upon individuals The determination of the Legislature as to these matters is not conclusive, but is subject to the supervision of the courts, and if a statute purporting to have been enacted to preserve public health, the public morals, or the public safety, has no real or substantial relation to these objects, or is a palpable invasion of rights secured by the fundamental law, it cannot be sustained as a valid exercise of the police power (Matter of Application of Miller, 162 Cal. 687).

It would therefore seem apparent that to the extent that this bill would prohibit personal care and treatment of the hair, face, nails, and such other acts as are included in the definition of "cosmetology," in the home, by a person not engaging in business of cosmetology and not performing or offering to perform such services to the public generally for compensation, would constitute an unconstitutional exercise of the police power.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

House Resolution No. 244

Relative to provision for a women's rest room immediately adjacent to the Assembly Chamber

WHEREAS, Such rest room facilities as exist for ladies at the southern end of the second floor corridor of the Capitol are open to the public, and therefore crowded and inadequate; and

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Legislative Process Committee immediately take such measures as will insure that adequate cloak and rest room facilities for women shall be provided at once adjacent to the Assembly Chamber.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 13, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 670, entitled: "An act to amend Section 981a of the Code of Civil Procedure, respecting dismissal of appeals from justice court."

My objections are as follows:

This bill would amend Section 981a of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to the dismissal of appeals from justice courts for lack of prosecution. The present law requires dismissal after a lapse of a specified period of time with certain exceptions, among which exceptions is found a provision that the parties may extend the time for bringing such a proceeding to hearing by a written stipulation filed with the clerk of the superior court to which the appeal is taken. This bill does not add anything to the existing law, other than an unintelligible phrase which literally interpreted would require the parties to file "time" in the action Because this amendment would add nothing to the law and would introduce an unintelligible phrase to a section, which now reads clearly, I am unable to approve the measure.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, June 13, 1947

Members of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber, State Capitol
Sacramento, California

The special investigating committee created and appointed by, and acting agreeably to Assembly Resolution No. 144, as amended and readopted by Assembly Resolutions Nos 157 and 158 respectfully submits to you its report of its findings of fact and its recommendations as to what action should be taken with reference to the matters committed to the special investigating committee for ascertainment, study and investigation, as follows:

I

OCCASION FOR, AND CREATION OF, THIS SPECIAL INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE, ITS ORGANIZATION AND PROCEEDINGS

Occasion for Creation of This Committee

At this Fifty-seventh Regular Session of the Legislature of the State of California, Sam L. Collins, a member and the Speaker of the Assembly, introduced in the Assembly, and caused to be amended in the Assembly, two Assembly bills, known as Assembly Bill No. 538 and Assembly Bill No. 537. On March 27, 1947, Assembly Bill No. 538 was passed by the Assembly and sent to the Senate. On April 11, 1947, Assembly Bill No. 537, as amended, was pending in the Assembly on motion for reconsideration. Both bills were then designed to amend Penal Code Section 817 and Assembly Bill No. 537 contained all of the matter in Assembly Bill No. 538 and additional matter. While the motion to reconsider Assembly Bill No. 537 was under consideration by the Assembly, Mr. Robert C. Kirkwood, a Member of the Assembly, read to the Assembly a copy of a letter dated March 28, 1947, and written and sent by William C. Doran, a Justice of the District Court of Appeal of the State of California, Second Appellate District, Division One, to Mr. C. Don Field, a Member of the Assembly. This letter (set out in full at page 4622, below) referred to Assembly Bill No. 538 and characterized it as "positively vicious for it is designed to protect the gambling interests." The letter also purported to state some factual background behind the introduction of the bill. It implied, and it could be inferred, that the bill's introduction had been motivated by considerations other than the merits of the legislation. The letter said of the author of the bill, Speaker Collins, that "although he purports to be on friendly terms with the ministers of Orange County, actually Collins appears to be more interested in the gamblers." It showed on its face that a copy was sent to the Governor. (This letter is hereafter referred to as the Doran letter.)

Speaker Collins, replying to the matter so presented, directly or by implication, made a statement of the factual background of the bill and its motivation so far as he was concerned, denied any charges made against him directly or by implication, and suggested that the background of the Doran letter was political aspirations of parole officer Clifford J. Baxter and parole officer John C. Doran, son of Judge Doran, the author of the letter. Speaker Collins' remarks are set out at length in the Assembly Daily Journal of April 16, 1947, p. 2319 and following.

The Assembly was of the view that the matters so presented to it warranted investigation and report and took steps to that end.

Creation of This Committee

The Assembly, by House Resolution No. 144, as amended and readopted by House Resolutions Nos. 157 and 158 created and appointed this special investigating committee, and authorized and directed it as to its functions and duties and designated its members. The resolution, as amended and readopted, specified the powers of the committee and defined the scope of inquiry. In regard to the subject and scope of inquiry, it was provided as follows:

"1. (a) At this Regular Session of the Legislature, under date of April 11, 1947, while the Assembly had under consideration a motion that the vote whereby Assembly Bill No. 537 was passed be reconsidered, a Member of the Assembly brought to the attention of and read to this Assembly a copy of a letter purportedly written by William C. Doran, Associate Justice of the District Court of Appeal, Second Appellate District, Division One, relating to Assembly Bill No. 538 and referring to the author of Assembly Bills Nos. 537 and 538, the original of which letter or a copy thereof is in the possession of this Assembly, in the custody of the Chief Clerk.

"(b) The Assembly Special Investigating Committee, to which said letter is hereby referred for consideration and report, is hereby created and authorized to ascertain, study and investigate all facts in any way bearing upon or relating to the writing of said letter and any and all statements contained or facts recited therein, and any and all matters incidental thereto, including in the inquiry the subject matter of Assembly Bills Nos. 537 and 538, the effect of the bills if enacted into law, the purpose or purposes for which they were introduced and amended, and the question whether or not in connection with said bills or the writing and transmission of said letter there has been any interference with the legislative process, and to report to the Assembly its findings of fact in relation to all these matters, including in its report the recommendations of the committee as to what action, if any, the Assembly should take with reference thereto, within the scope of the powers of the Assembly."

The Members of the Assembly designated to act, and who acted, on this Special Investigating Committee were, and are, the following: Richard J. Dolwig, Chairman; George A. Clarke, Vice Chairman; Don A. Allen, Julian Beck, William Clifton Berry, Philip L. Boyd, George R. Butters, Ernest C. Crowley, Randal F. Dickey, Clayton A. Dills, Thomas W. Erwin, John W. Evans, Carl Fletcher, W. E. James, Richard H. McCollister, Edward F. O'Day, Alfred W. Robertson, Albert I. Stewart, and Vincent Thomas.

Organization of Committee and Steps Preliminary to Public Hearings

It was determined that this committee should perform its functions through the process of executive sessions and public hearings. In preparation for those hearings it held a number of executive sessions. The time for commencement of such hearings was fixed at 2 o'clock p.m., on Thursday, May 8, 1947, and the Assembly consented to the holding of those hearings in the Assembly Chamber. In preparation for those hearings your committee appointed and employed an investigator, C. W. Ale, formerly an agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and now residing and maintaining an office in Monterey, California, and an attorney, Arthur B. Dunne, a member and Vice President of the State Bar of California. It made a preliminary review of possible available data and witnesses and determined on an order of proceedings and adopted general rules of procedure. At the beginning of the public hearings those general rules of procedure were read by the chairman of the committee to all those in attendance on the hearing as follows:

"The chairman has been designated to preside over all proceedings of the committee, and to be the only member of the committee to communicate with counsel or witnesses appearing before the committee, subject to the right of each member of the committee to question each witness.

Each witness is required to answer each question put by counsel for the committee, by members of the committee, by his own counsel, or by counsel for any other witness, unless an objection is made and sustained to a particular question, in which case the witness is not required to answer such questions. Counsel for any witness may not put any question to any witness for whom he is counsel relating to any matter other than that as to which the witness for whom he is counsel testified. This rule does not apply to Mr. Sam Collins, or Judge W. C. Doran, or the counsel of either, who shall be permitted to cross-examine any witness within the scope of the investigation committed to this committee.

In order to facilitate the orderly examination of witnesses, the chairman will determine the order in which the examination and reexamination of each witness will proceed. The chairman will recognize each member of the committee whenever he signifies he desires to be recognized, subject to the recognition of any other committee member, but no Member of the Assembly other than a committee member will be recognized.

In regard to evidence—hearsay evidence is inadmissible in the courts of California and will be excluded, unless it is relevant to the subject of the investigation committed to the committee. The members of the committee, the witnesses, and counsel for the committee and for the witnesses are all requested to cooperate with the committee by using the microphones provided.

Now, each witness subpenaed to appear before this committee is now admonished that it is his duty to be present at each session of this committee, and that he is not excused from attendance upon this committee by virtue of his being examined before it one or more times until specifically excused from all other examinations."

The Public Hearings

This committee commenced public hearings in the Assembly Chamber at 2 o'clock p.m. on Thursday, May 8, 1947, and the hearings were conducted on that day, on Friday, May 9, 1947, on Saturday, May 10, 1947, on the early morning of Sunday, May 11, 1947, and on Monday, May 12, 1947, when the proceedings were concluded at 10.15 o'clock p.m., and your committee adjourned subject to the call of the chairman. At the conclusion of the examinations of the witnesses called by your committee, Mr. Dunne, the attorney for your committee, at its direction, made the following statement:

"I am about to ask that this matter be submitted to the committee on the record that has been made, but before doing so, and I say this advisedly, in view of certain statements that have been made in the press, before asking that this matter be submitted, I want to ask whether there is anyone within hearing of my voice, and that includes members of the press, who has anything further to suggest, who would like to be sworn, or who can suggest that there are any other witnesses who should be sworn or called for further examination."

The chairman then stated:

"You have heard Mr. Dunne's request. If there is anyone in the Assembly Chamber that would like to take the stand and testify in any respect in regard to this matter, will they please come up and take the witness stand."

An opportunity for response was given but there was no response.

Further hearings were held in executive session on Thursday, June 5, 1947 and Friday, June 6, 1947, to hear further testimony from Ernest D. Webb and Clifford J. Baxter.

On the hearings 51 witnesses were called and examined, this committee introduced 32 documentary exhibits and counsel for Sam L. Collins introduced three documentary exhibits. This committee was represented throughout by its attorney, Arthur B. Dunne; Fred B. Wood, Legislative Counsel was in constant attendance upon the hearings through his deputies, J. D. Strauss and Albert J. Shults; and Mrs. Cristine B. Harrison, secretary of this committee, attended all hearings and acted as clerk. Sam L. Collins was represented by his attorney, Walter J. Fourt. Clifford J. Baxter was represented by his attorney, A. M. Mull, Jr., during the last session. No attorney appeared for any other person. The direct examination of all witnesses was conducted by this committee, through Mr. Dunne, its attorney, and various of the witnesses were cross-examined by members of the committee and Mr. Fourt, on behalf of Sam L. Collins. At the conclusion of the evidence, counsel for each witness was given an opportunity to make a summation, and Mr. Fourt made a summation on behalf of Sam L. Collins.

The public hearings were stenographically reported by duly sworn reporters and the transcript of the proceedings is filed with this report. All witnesses testified under oath.

And now, from the evidence adduced on said hearings, your committee finds as follows:

THE FACTS

Designation of Parole Officers as Peace Officers—Origin of the Statutory Change—Departmental Policy

Prior to August 4, 1943, insofar as it is material here, Cal. Pen. Code Section 817 provided:

"A peace officer is a sheriff of a county * * * and inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement."

The omitted matter was enumeration of other officials and agents. It did not include agents of the State Board of Prison Directors, or of the Youth Authority. Effective August 4, 1943, this section was amended by Stats. 1943, Ch. 106 (Assembly Bill No. 451) to add at the end of the section the words "and any parole officer of the State Board of Prison Directors." The State System of Corrections and Prisons was reorganized by legislation adopted at the special session of 1944, effective May 1, 1944. As part of this reorganization, the Department of Corrections was created. The Youth Authority was brought into the Department of Corrections. The Adult Authority was set up under the Department of Corrections. The powers and functions of the State Board of Prison Directors were transferred to the Adult Authority and parole officers of the State Board of Prison Directors became parole officers of the Adult Authority. In 1945, Penal Code Section 817 was amended by Stats. 1945, Ch. 153, Section 1, to make it conform to the change worked by this reorganization, and as so amended read and now reads, so far as it is material here, as follows:

> "A peace officer is a sheriff of a county, * * * a supervisor or guard employed by the Department of Corrections, while acting in the transportation of prisoners and in the apprehension of prisoners who have escaped, and any parole officer of the State Department of Corrections, and any placement or parole officer of the Youth Authority."

The substantial change in Penal Code Section 817 was that made by the amendment of 1943, by which parole officers were made peace officers. The amendment of 1945 was purely formal to correctly designate these parole officers in view of the 1944 reorganization of the prison and corrections system, and to include the designated officers of the Youth Authority.

In the Fifty-fifth Regular Session of the Legislature of the State of California (1943), at the request of the State Board of Prison Directors, Mr. Fourt, with Messrs. McCollister and Price, introduced Assembly Bill No. 451, which was adopted as Chapter 106 of the Statutes of 1943, and effected the 1943 amendment to Penal Code Section 817. The State Board of Prison Directors requested that parole officers be included among peace officers in order that they might more efficiently perform their duties as parole officers, and made the request with the assurance that parole officers would use their powers as peace officers only in the performance of their official duties as parole officers.

When Assembly Bill No. 451 came before the Assembly, the question was raised as to what use parole officers would make of the new powers conferred upon them, the assurance was repeated that they would use these powers only in the performance of their duties as parole officers and the Assembly passed the bill on that assurance.

As soon as the 1943 amendment of Penal Code Section 817 became effective, and on August 5, 1943, agreeably with the assurances which had been given by the State Board of Prison Directors, the Chief State Parole Officer issued a directive to all parole officers of the State Board of Prison Directors in which attention was called to the 1943 amendment of Penal Code Section 817, and by which parole officers were directed:

> "The new status does not in any way affect the attitude you are to display toward the parolee or any individual who may contact you in your official capacity. The policy of the bureau in this regard is well known by every officer of the bureau.
> In plain words, I do not want any of you to develop (for the lack of a better expression) 'a cop complex.' Your duties do not include directing traffic, arresting prostitutes, settling street brawls, et cetera. Our policy calls for courteous cooperation with the public, peace officers and other state agencies. Our approach to the parolee is still that of a friend and counsellor—not a policeman.

I have told you many times that the police powers invested in a parole officer are to be used only as the LAST resort in any case."

On May 1, 1944, when the reorganization of the State System of Corrections and Prisons became effective, the Adult Authority took over the supervision of parolees and the parole officers (except such parolees as were subject to the jurisdiction of the Youth Authority). By formal resolution, the Adult Authority adopted the rules, regulations and directives of the State Board of Prison Directors, including the directive of August 5, 1943. That directive has never been annulled or modified. It is in harmony with the policy adopted by the Adult Authority which finds formal expression in a manual now in course of preparation. That policy is as follows: Parole officers are to cooperate with and assist local law enforcement officers. Peace officer powers were conferred on parole officers to enable them to perform their duties more efficiently, not to broaden the range of their activities to include routine police work which is the responsibility of political subdivisions. Whenever law violations come to the attention of parole officers, "when practicable" such violations shall be reported to the law enforcement agency concerned, and when no action is taken by such agency the matter must then be reported, through the Chief State Parole Officer, to the Adult Authority for whatever action is deemed advisable.

By way of comparison, the policy of the Youth Authority has been to apprehend parolees only after a parole is revoked, and even then orders of apprehension are ordinarily sent to local peace officers. The Youth Authority endeavors to have local peace officers take parolees into custody when this is to be done, and its officers never use their powers as peace officers except to apprehend parolees of the Youth Authority. Officers of the Youth Authority are to use their peace officer powers only in the performance of their official duties and in taking their own parolees into custody.

The administrative policy of the Adult Authority to be followed in the exercise of peace officer powers by parole officers was communicated to parole officers by sending the directive of August 5, 1943, to all offices and was further communicated in staff meetings where parole officers were advised of their functions. Any parole officer who is diligent in learning and performing his duties should have known of it. In actual operation of the department, the policy was adhered to except in the case of the raid at Long Beach and the raid at Santa Ana, referred to below. No such raids were made before May 9, 1946, and none have been made since May 21, 1946. Parole Officers Clifford J. Baxter and John C. Doran stated they did not know of the department policy.

In the area falling under the jurisdiction of the Los Angeles office of the Adult Authority except as it was claimed (as will hereafter appear) that there was occasion for parole officers to make the Long Beach raid of May 9, 1946, and the Santa Ana raid of May 21, 1946, there had never been any occasion for departure from the fixed policy of the Adult Authority above referred to, or failure on the part of local law enforcement officers to fully cooperate with parole officers of the Adult Authority. Relations between those parole officers and local law enforcement officers had been harmonious.

Organization of Adult Authority—Los Angeles Area

The Adult Authority maintained an office in Los Angeles as the headquarters for supervision of parolees in Southern California. There were 14 to 15 parole officers attached to this office supervising 1,200 to 1,400 parolees. The Grade 1 parole officers were grouped into three squads. Each squad reported to a Grade 2 parole officer, the Grade 2 parole officers, in turn, reported to J. B. Babcock, District Supervisor, who in turn reported to the Chief Parole Officer, and the Chief Parole Officer, Thomas A. Pendergast, in return reported to the Adult Authority. The Adult Authority consisted of three members of whom Walter A. Gordon was chairman.

The parole officers who testified in this investigation and participated in one or more of the raids hereinafter referred to, were Grade 1 parole officers. Among these was Clifford J. Baxter who was a member of the squad of which John C. Doran, a Grade 2 parole officer had charge. John C. Doran in addition to having charge of a squad had charge of the running of the Los Angeles office. The testimony failed to disclose that any records of any nature or sort were kept in the office relative to any phase of the two raids mentioned.

The Long Beach Raid and Its Result

In April, 1946, parole officers working out of the Los Angeles office, particularly Baxter and Doran, received complaints that a parolee was losing money in a bookmaking establishment in Long Beach known as the Smith-Benson place and located at 138 Locust Street. Doran instructed Baxter, who worked in the Long Beach area, to take the matter up with the Long Beach police. Baxter testified that he did so by calling it to the attention of a uniformed but otherwise unidentified member of the Long Beach Police Department vice squad, who told him that the matter would be placed in proper channels. After a time Baxter reported back to Doran that he had notified the Long Beach police and nothing had been done. Doran instructed Baxter to notify the Long Beach police again. Baxter testified that he did so by calling the matter to the attention of a Captain Vinyard (who died in November, 1946). Baxter again reported back to Doran that nothing had been done. Doran, thereupon, without taking the matter up with any of his superiors, directed Baxter to raid the place. A few days later, on May 9, 1946, the raid was conducted.

To conduct the raid Baxter first went to San Antonio Township (on the way from his Los Angeles office to Long Beach) and obtained warrants. Baxter, accompanied by Parole Officer Jollings, then went to the Smith-Benson place and after being there several hours, but seeing no betting, took into custody the reputed operators of the place, Benson and Smith. Benson and Smith were then taken to the Los Angeles County Jail and bail was fixed at $5,000 each.

On May 20, 1946, a preliminary hearing was held in San Antonio Township on the complaint against Benson and Smith. Among other witnesses one Charles W. Cheatham, a reporter for the Long Beach Independent, was called, claimed his constitutional privilege and refused to testify on the ground that his testimony might incriminate him. The defendants were held to an answer in the superior court. On June 10, 1946, the matter came on for hearing in the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Los Angeles on a motion to dismiss the complaint under Penal Code Section 995, on the ground that the evidence at the preliminary hearing was insufficient to sustain the order holding the defendants to answer. The motion was granted, the defendants were dismissed and their bail was exonerated.

Alvin F. Slaight, Chief of Police of Long Beach, Lorin Q. Martin, Captain of Detectives, Long Beach Police Department, and Alvin B. Cobble, Police Sergeant, Long Beach Police Department, in charge of the vice squad, were called as witnesses. All denied that they had any prior notice of a contemplated raid on the Smith-Benson establishment or that they had been requested to take any steps in connection with that establishment and that inquiry in the police department had failed to disclose that any such information or request had been given to or made of any member of the Long Beach Police Department.

The Santa Ana Raid and Its Results

In the early part of May, 1946, John C. Doran received complaints that a parolee was losing money in a gambling establishment known as the Downtown Club at 411½ West Fourth Street, Santa Ana. Baxter lived in Santa Ana and Doran instructed Baxter to investigate the place. Baxter testified that he did so by observing the conduct of people going to and from the place and by making inquiries of various people, none of whom he was able to identify. Doran then instructed Baxter to notify the Santa Ana police. Baxter testified that he did so by notifying Chief of Police Boyd, but Boyd denied this. Two or three days before May 21, 1946, Baxter reported back to Doran that he had notified the Santa Ana police, and that the Chief of Police had told him to stay out of there and mind his own business. Thereupon Doran, without taking the matter up with any of his superiors, assigned four parole officers to accompany Baxter and directed Baxter to raid this Santa Ana gambling establishment.

On May 31, 1946, Baxter met the parole officers who had been assigned to accompany him on the raid of the Santa Ana gambling establishment, in Santa Ana, and gave them their instructions. Baxter then went to the Santa Ana police department and asked that an officer accompany him, stating that he was going to pick up an ex-convict in a bar. Detective Ely accompanied him and Baxter and Ely then went to 411½ West Fourth Street. It was not until they arrived there that Baxter informed Ely that the place was to be raided. The officers then entered the premises, found three operators and a large number of patrons, and took into custody the three operators and a number of patrons and physical evidence of betting. The persons taken into custody were then taken to the Orange County Jail, those who were found not to be operators of the establishment were released, and the three operators who were taken into custody were released on $500 bail each. The next day a felony complaint, signed by Baxter as complaining witness, and naming the three operators of the establishment who had been arrested as defendants was filed. The date for preliminary hearing was set for July 1, 1946.

After the raid it developed that the reputed chief operator of the Downtown Club, one Townsend, was not in the premises at the time of the raid, and was not taken into custody. It also developed that if the felony charges against the three defendants were to be tried, the preliminary hearing and the trial would take some considerable time. The whole situation was discussed by the attorney for the defendants with the District Attorney of Orange County, and by the District Attorney of Orange County and the parole office. It was ultimately agreed that if the felony charges against the three operators of the gambling establishment who had been taken in custody were dismissed and a misdemeanor complaint were filed against them and Townsend, all four defendants charged in the misdemeanor complaint would plead guilty. This arrangement was effected, and on June 22, 1946, the four defendants pleaded guilty to the misdemeanor of operating a lottery, were fined $400 each and the fines were paid.

Action of the Adult Authority

The Adult Authority did not know that any raid was contemplated before it was carried out. The first knowledge it had of any raid was that of the Long Beach raid which it received shortly before the Santa Ana raid. The report created wonderment and disturbed the authority. Nothing was done immediately, however, because the authority was shortly going to Los Angeles on one of its regular monthly visits. There was no reason to anticipate a second raid because there had never been any raids before and the authority did not have the facts of the raid. The report of a second raid came as a surprise. The chief parole officer was then directed to restate to the parole officers the established policy of the Adult Authority with respect to the use by parole officers of their powers as peace officers. This was done. Baxter and Doran testified that this was the first that they heard of the authority's policy.

On May 24, 1946, a few days after the Santa Ana raid, John C. Doran submitted a written report of the raids in response to a request from Chairman Gordon transmitted through the chief parole officer. Relative to the report, John C. Doran stated that "I didn't write the letter as actual facts, I wrote it quickly from hearsay, and I naturally didn't expect the letter to be read. I didn't realize the magnitude of it." Beyond this, the Adult Authority made no investigation, and Chairman Gordon testified that it did not have the facilities for making an independent investigation.

Actions of Sam L. Collins Consequent Upon the Santa Ana Raid

Sam L. Collins, Assemblyman from Orange County, did not learn of the Long Beach raid at the time. He first learned of the Santa Ana raid from the newspaper the day of the raid or the next day. A few days later he met Sheriff Elliott. The raid had led various chiefs of police to make inquiry of Elliott to learn what the raid meant, and Elliott, in turn, inquired of Sam Collins whether there had been any change in the law. Elliott seemed disturbed because of the political implications the raid might have in a primary campaign in which he was then a candidate. Sam Collins told Elliott that so far as he knew there was no change in the law and that it was his understanding that parole officers could exercise the power of peace officers only while they were performing their official duties but that he would investigate. Collins did investigate and then learned that although he understood the legislative intention to be that parole officers could exercise their powers as peace officers only while engaged in their official duties, the statute contained no such limitation. Collins then determined to make inquiry of the Adult Authority. He phoned to its Los Angeles office, asked for the man in charge, and was connected with John C. Doran. Collins then made an appointment for that day or the next day and kept the appointment by calling on John C. Doran at the Los Angeles office of the Adult Authority. In the discussion attention was called to the raids and Collins inquired what the policy of the Adult Authority was going to be. Collins expressed it as his view that the Legislature in amending Penal Code Section 817 had intended to give parole officers the powers of peace officers only for use in the performance of the official duties of parole officers and that if this sort of thing were going to continue he would introduce a bill in the next Legislature to limit the peace officer power of parole officers to the performance of official duties.

Shortly after this Collins met with Richard C. Fildew, a friend of John C. Doran, at Fildew's request. There was a general discussion in which Fildew undertook to state John C. Doran's point of view and Collins stated his point of view. More important was a discussion which Collins had with Karl Holton, head of the Youth Authority, at a time not fixed, but apparently in July or August, 1946. Collins pointed out to Holton how parole officers of the Adult Authority had been using their powers as peace officers in making raids and asked how the officers of the Youth Authority conducted themselves. Holton replied that the officers of the Youth Authority used their powers as peace officers only in apprehending their own parolees, and said that he did not believe that it was good policy for them to go beyond this. Collins indicated that he might do something about the situation. Twice later Collins indicated to Holton that he wanted to talk to him but they never again discussed the subject.

In the early part of August, 1946, Sam Collins met Fred B. Wood, Legislative Counsel, and requested Wood to prepare a bill amending Penal Code Section 817 to restrict the peace officer powers of parole officers to the performance of officially prescribed functions. Such a bill was prepared, sent to Collins and on January 20, 1947, was introduced in the Assembly by Sam Collins as Assembly Bill No. 538 (see below).

It had been suggested to Sam Collins that a statute should be enacted providing for certain jurisdictional requirements in actions for the annulment of marriage. In October, 1946, Sam Collins requested the Legislative Counsel to prepare such a bill. This was done and on January 20, 1947, Sam Collins introduced this bill in the Assembly as Assembly Bill No. 537. It was later amended to strike out all of the original bill and substitute everything contained in Assembly Bill No. 538 with some additional material (see below).

Before introducing Assembly Bill No. 538 and amending Assembly Bill No. 537, Sam Collins did not discuss with the agency concerned and affected, the Adult Authority, either the raids by the parole officers of the Adult Authority or the proposed legislation. Although Sam Collins knew that the persons ultimately responsible for the functioning of parole officers of the Adult Authority were its members, he explained his failure to discuss the conduct of the parole officers with the Adult Authority by saying he felt he had taken the matter up with the head of the office which was responsible for the raids. Sam L. Collins further explained his failure to discuss the proposed legislation with the Adult Authority by saying that it is not necessary to call legislation to the attention of agencies affected. He also indicated that, as a general rule, when a bill is introduced which affects a state agency, the agency calls the matter to the attention of the author of the bill with an inquiry as to the reason for the introduction of the bill.

The Legislative History of Assembly Bill No. 538 and Assembly Bill No. 537

Assembly Bill No. 538, as originally introduced, was designed to amend Penal Code Section 817 to remove parole officers from the enumeration of peace officers but to confer on any parole officer "the powers of a peace officer in the actual performance of his official duties." To accomplish this the bill in its ogiginal form as introduced and printed, so far as material to the present inquiry, was as follows:

> * * * Section 817 of the Penal Code is amended to read:
> 817. A peace officer is a sheriff of a county, * * * inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement, and a supervisor or guard employed by the Department of Corrections, while acting in the transportation of prisoners and in the apprehension of prisoners who have escaped. Any parole officer of the State Department of Corrections, and any placement or parole officer of the Youth Authority, shall have the powers of a peace officer in the actual performance of his official duties."

In this form Assembly Bill No. 538 fully complied with Rule 10 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly; the "new matter" was "underlined" (and hence printed in italics) and "matter to be omitted" was in "'strikeout' type."

On February 5, 1947, before the constitutional recess, Sam Collins, at the request of Assemblyman Lloyd W. Lowrey and Anson H. Crutcher, chief of the State Capitol Police, caused Assembly Bill No. 538 to be amended so as to include among peace officers the "police officers of the State Police." This amendment, agreeable to Rule 10 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly, had the effect of putting the language just quoted in italics, and of removing the strikeout type and italics indicating the new and omitted matter in the bill as first introduced. As a result, when the bill was considered after the constitutional recess, in the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly and on the Assembly floor, there was nothing on the face of Assembly Bill No. 538 in its amended form to indicate that Sam L. Collins' bill Assembly Bill No. 538 was designed to so amend Penal Code Section 817 to limit parole officers in the exercise of the powers of peace officers, except the line on top that it was being amended. This could be ascertained only by comparing the bill with the Penal Code section itself, or by going back to the original form of Assembly Bill No. 538.

Assembly Bill No. 538 came from the Judiciary Committee of the Assembly "do pass" on March 26th, and on March 27th was read for the third time, passed, sent to the Senate, read for the first time in the Senate and sent to the Senate Committee on Judiciary. This was its status on April 11, 1947, when reconsideration of Assembly Bill No. 537 was asked (see below). The proceedings in the Committee on Judiciary of the Assembly are dealt with below.

Assembly Bill No. 537 as originally introduced was a bill to provide for certain jurisdictional requirements in actions for annulment of marriage. It had nothing to do with peace officers or parole officers and did not mention either. It came on for consideration in the Assembly Committee on Judiciary on March 17, 1947, and its author, Sam Collins, finding that there was opposition to it, did not ask favorable consideration and it was tabled. Between March 17th and March 24, 1947, Sam Collins was requested to have Assembly Bill No. 538 amended to include among peace officers certain attaches of the offices of district attorneys. He declined to do this for fear it would jeopardize the chances of passage of 538, but did agree to attempt to use 537 for this purpose. To that end, on March 24, 1947, he requested the Legislative Counsel to prepare an amendment to Assembly Bill No. 537 eliminating the matter it then contained and substituting all of the matter contained in Assembly Bill No. 538 as it then read plus the addition of "detectives, investigators, inspectors, and process servers, regularly employed, and receiving pay as such, in the office of a district attorney," to the persons enumerated as peace officers. The Legislative Counsel prepared an amendment accordingly. Assembly Bill No. 537, as thus amended, considered by itself would be an amendment to Penal Code Section 817, for the first time adding to the designation of peace officers (a) police officers of the State Police and the attaches of the office of a district attorney just enumerated, and (b) restricting the powers of parole officers as peace officers to the performance of official duties, as already provided for in Assembly Bill No. 538. This was all new matter for the first time in Assembly Bill No. 537, and under Rule 10 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly should have been underscored in the draft prepared by the Legislative Counsel and italicized when printed. Due to an error in the office of the Legislative Counsel the second aspect of new material, the limitation of the peace officer power of parole officers, was not underscored and did not appear in italics in the bill as it was printed when Sam Collins caused the bill to be amended by using the draft of amendment prepared by the Legislative Counsel.

Having received the draft of amendment of Assembly Bill No. 537 requested by him, Sam Collins, on March 25, 1947, had Assembly Bill No. 537 lifted from the table, amended March 27, 1947, in accordance with the draft of amendment prepared by the Legislative Counsel as just noticed, and re-referred to the Committee on Judiciary on April 1st. Assembly Bill No. 537, as so amended, then came from the Committee on Judiciary, with a recommendation of "do pass" and after appropriate steps was read for the third time and passed on April 10, 1947. Thereafter, and on the same day, George D. Collins gave notice of motion to reconsider Assembly Bill No 537, and on the morning of April 11, 1947, Assembly Bill No. 537 was pending before the Assembly on motion for reconsideration.

In none of its printed forms did Assembly Bill No. 537 ever indicate by italics that if adopted it would amend Penal Code Section 817 so as to limit or restrict the powers of parole officers. Until its amendment on March 27, 1947, it dealt with annulment of marriage and was so indexed and digested. Anyone consulting the records to learn what bills might be pending which would affect parole officers would not have it called to his attention that he should watch the progress of Assembly Bill No. 537.

Preparation and Sending of the Doran Letter

Parole Officer John C Doran is the son of William C. Doran a Justice of the District Court of Appeal of the State of California, First Appellate District. Father and son lived in Los Angeles and saw each other frequently. Shortly after the Long Beach raid the son discussed it with the father and gave him some information about it and sometime later gave his father some information about the Santa Ana raid. As appears from the Doran letter itself, at some time not fixed, the son told the father of Sam Collins' visit to the Los Angeles parole office shortly after the Santa Ana raid. Such information as the son had transmitted was based wholly on hearsay except as to the son's own activity.

Sometime in February, 1947, John C. Doran received in the mail from a northern office of the Adult Authority, a copy of Assembly Bill No. 538 in its original form. He took it to his father. His father laid it aside for several weeks and then, in cleaning up his desk, came upon it and on Friday, March 28, 1947, under that date and on his letterhead as a justice of the district court of appeal, wrote the following letter:

March 28, 1947

"Assemblyman Don C. Field
State Building
Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: Enclosed for your convenience is a copy of Assembly Bill No. 538.

This bill is positively vicious for it is designed to protect the gambling interests. Its purpose is to take away from parole officers the authority of peace officers.

The reason I happen to know about this is because my son, John C. Doran, is in charge of the State Parole Bureau in Los Angeles and directs 15 deputies in this work in this area. They supervise 1,250 convicts on parole. Although the present law gives parole officers the same authority as peace officers, it is seldom necessary for them to assume the functions of the police. However, occasionally it is necessary.

About 10 months ago complaints came into the Parole Bureau that some of the men on parole were losing all of their money in a gambling joint down at Long Beach, California, and it was a serious interference with the function of the Parole Bureau. The chief of police in Long Beach refused to act, so my son ordered two or three of his men to raid the joint and arrest the operators, which was done. Of course, the chief of police in Long Beach was furious, for some reason or other—maybe you can figure that one out.

A worse condition existed in Santa Ana, in Orange County. Complaints came in of a similar nature and the chief of police in Santa Ana refused to take any action. Some of the parole officers raided this joint and arrested its owner and operators. It was an open and flagrant violation, and of course a howl went up from the chief of police in Santa Ana. These men, nevertheless, all pleaded guilty.

Following the raid in Orange County, Assemblyman Collins called on my son Jack in his office in Los Angeles, and protested against this raid in Santa Ana, informing my son that if this continued he would introduce a bill in the Legislature to deprive the parole officers of their authority as peace officers—which threat he has carried out.

Although he purports to be on friendly terms with the ministers in Orange County, actually Collins appears to be more interested in the gamblers.

So that is the background of Collins' bill and I hope that you will inform the Assembly accordingly, and, if you wish, you may read this letter to them.

I am sending a copy of this letter to the Governor in order that he may be informed.

Yours very truly,

W. C. DORAN"

The original of this letter, with a copy of Assembly Bill No. 538 in its original form enclosed, was sent to and received by Assemblyman C. Don Field. The judge also sent one copy of this letter, without enclosure, to the Governor and a second copy, without enclosure, to Gordon, Chairman of the Adult Authority.

A copy of the letter was sent to Governor Warren that he might have it before him if Assembly Bill No. 538 passed both houses and the Governor was considering whether or not to veto it. A copy of the letter was sent to Chairman Gordon as a matter of courtesy, since it was his agency which would be affected by the bill if it were enacted into law. The purpose of sending the original letter was allegedly to defeat the legislation. Judge Doran stated it was not his purpose or intention to injure Sam Collins in any way, and he stated that he was not concerned with the author of the bill as an individual, but was concerned only with the legislation. In writing the letter Judge Doran had before him no information except what he had read in the newspapers, statements made to him by his son John C. Doran and a copy of Assembly Bill No. 538 in its original form Judge Doran stated that he intended the statement in the letter that although Sam Collins "purports to be on friendly terms with the ministers in Orange County, actually Collins appears to be more interested in the gamblers" as only an argument based on what preceded it in the letter, and not as a statement of fact, and testified that it was only such an argument and not a statement of fact.

The original Doran letter escaped the attention of Assemblyman C. Don Field when it was received in his office until it was called to his attention by Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg, in the circumstances set out below. Until then Assemblyman C. Don Field did nothing about it, did not even acknowledge it. The copy of the Doran letter sent to the Governor's office was acknowledged by that office and filed, and nothing more was done with it until it was sent to Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg on the floor of the Assembly, in the circumstances hereinafter stated.

Gordon, Chairman of the Adult Authority, in March, 1947, was aware of the pendency of Assembly Bill No. 538, and was opposed to it. In order to voice his opposition he had made an appointment with Sam Collins but was unable to keep it because of illness. In making the appointment he did tell Sam Collins the subject he wished to discuss. Gordon also notified the secretary of the Adult Authority to watch Assembly Bill No. 538, so that it could be opposed in the Committee on Judiciary, but the secretary neglected to do so, and no opposition was voiced in the Committee on Judiciary of the Assembly. When Gordon received his copy of the Doran letter he immediately consulted W. T. Sweigert, the Governor's executive secretary. Assembly Bill No. 538 was then in the Senate. They discussed the bill and the Doran letter and concluded that the bill should be opposed in the Committee on Judiciary of the Senate on its merits and without reference to the Doran letter. At some time in April, 1947, before the 10th, Mr. Sweigert, in casual conversation with Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg, told Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg that Gordon had been in Sweigert's office, told him that parole officers had conducted raids and that Speaker Collins had objected to this procedure, and that the Adult Authority was in an embarrassing position as a result, but no mention was made of any written communication.

Judge Doran testified that he sent no copy of the letter to Sam Collins because it would have been a waste of time, Collins was the author of the bill; that the letter was written to Assemblyman C. Don Field because he wanted to write to someone he knew and someone whom he might be able to interest in the bill. Judge Doran and Assemblyman C. Don Field had been friends for a number of years. Judge Doran wrote his letter as an individual, not as a member of the court, and used his official stationery only to identify himself, because it was the only stationery furnished to him by the State, and because it was a custom of long standing for judges to use such stationery in transacting personal business and affairs. Judge Doran did not write the letter for the purpose of forwarding the political aspirations of his son.

Circumstances Leading to the Reading of the Doran Letter on the Floor of the Assembly

On the afternoon of April 10, 1947, Assembly Bill No. 537 was read in the Assembly for the third time and passed. Assemblyman George D. Collins then noticed that a portion of the bill which should have been printed in italics had not been so printed (see p. 4621 above), called this to the attention of Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg, and Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg, then at the desk of Assemblyman Phil Davis told a story he had heard of parole officers raiding a gambling establishment in Orange County. During the course of the discussion Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood joined the group. It was stated that the Department of Corrections had some objection to the bill. Assemblyman George D. Collins inquired where he could get in touch with the Department of Corrections, and Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg told him that he (Wollenberg) would endeavor to have Gordon come to Sweigert's office and Assemblyman George D. Collins could talk to him there. This is the extent of participation of Assemblyman George D. Collins in the discussion on the floor of the Assembly. The other three Assemblymen then entered into a discussion of Assembly Bill No. 537, its history, its background and the fact that there was a parallel bill, Assembly Bill No. 538. In the course of this discussion Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg suggested that Sweigert might have some information, phoned to Sweigert for such information as he had, and Sweigert sent to Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg on the floor of the Assembly the copy of the Doran letter which had been received in the Governor's office. The three Assemblymen then continued their discussion in the light of the Doran letter and were very much perturbed by what the Doran letter and the legislative history of Assembly Bills No. 537 and No. 538 showed. The background of the bills insofar as they affected the peace officer powers of parole officers (and as it has been set out in this report) was not known to them, except as Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg had heard talk of raids by parole officers. In the Judiciary Committee only two objections had been raised to the bills; (a) there had been an objection to the grammar in Assembly Bill No. 538; (b) when Assembly Bill No. 537 as first amended was presented in committee by Sam Collins it had been suggested that the amendment was not in order under Assembly Standing Rule 74 because the amendment was not germane to the original bill, but the point of order was waived on Sam Collins' statement that it was necessary for him to so amend the bill in order to bring its matter before the Assembly because some of the matter arose after the constitutional recess and he had used his two "spots" for the benefit of the Legislature. Sam Collins further testified that in presenting Assembly Bill No. 538 to the Judiciary Committee he called attention to the fact that there were two amendments, one of which did not appear in italics because of the second (see page 4628 below), but it is without dispute that in presenting Assembly Bill No. 537 as first amended he did not point out that the new matter, so far as that bill was concerned, affecting the power of parole officers, which should have been in italics, was not so printed. He excused himself for this failure by saying that he, himself, had not observed the error and had relied on the Legislative Counsel. At no time was there any recitation of the history of the raids made by parole officers as serving as a background to either of the bills, as in any way connected with either of them, or in any other way.

Assemblymen Albert Wollenberg, Phil Davis and Robert Kirkwood were so disturbed by what they had discovered from the legislative history of Assembly Bills Nos. 537 and 538 and reading the Doran letter, that immediately upon adjournment of the Assembly they went to Sweigert's office for the purpose of getting in touch with Gordon and obtaining further information. At their request Sweigert phoned Gordon and Gordon came to Sweigert's office with his file. They learned from him that the Adult Authority was opposed to the bills. They continued the discussion of the matters which they had been discussing on the floor of the Assembly, particularly the error in failing to properly italicize Assembly Bill No. 537 in its first amended form. In the course of the discussion Assemblyman Albert Wollenberg phoned Assemblyman C. Don Field and called Field's attention to the Doran letter. This came as a surprise to C. Don Field, he went immediately to his office, obtained the original letter and took it to Sweigert's office where he joined the discussion. The conclusion reached was that the whole situation was a serious one and should be called to the attention of the Assembly; that among other things the Assembly's attention should be called to the Doran letter. No definite conclusion was then reached as to how the Doran letter should be presented.

Later that evening Assemblyman C. Don Field phoned Judge Doran and told him that his letter would probably be read on the floor of the Assembly. Judge Doran said he had no objection. Still later Assemblyman C. Don Field again discussed the matter with Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood and stated his ultimate conclusion which was that he would not read the letter nor would he permit his original to be read. He made no objection to reading a copy, however, because he was fearful that in view of the fact he had done nothing about the letter since its receipt and had been the opponent of Sam Collins, when a Speaker of the Assembly was selected, it would be thought he was endeavoring to suppress something. Between that time and consideration of Assembly Bill No. 537 on motion to reconsider on the morning of April 11, 1947, it had been determined that Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood would read a copy of the Doran letter on the floor of the Assembly in connection with reconsideration of Assembly Bill No. 537.

No newspaper men were present at any of the discussions here referred to and leading up to the reading of the Doran letter to the Assembly.

On the morning of April 11, 1947, Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood obtained from Gordon the copy of the Doran letter which had been sent to Gordon, advising Gordon that he intended to read it to the Assembly. When the Assembly convened, and while the motion to reconsider Assembly Bill No. 537 was pending before it, Assemblyman Robert Kirkwood read to the Assembly his copy of the Doran letter. The proceedings recited at pages 4610-4613 above then followed.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

Baxter's Misconduct

Parole Officer Clifford J. Baxter was called and testified under oath as a witness. During the course of his testimony he deliberately, and knowingly, and wilfully, contrary to his oath, stated as true matter which he knew to be false, and did so with the design and purpose of deceiving your committee. During the course of his testimony he used and read from a memorandum and thereafter, and after that memorandum had been demanded of him and inquiry was made of him as to its contents, deliberately and wilfully destroyed it for the purpose of withholding it and its contents from your committee.

Clifford J. Baxter made an independent investigation for the purpose of connecting Sam L. Collins with gambling activities. He endeavored to show that Harold L. McCabe, an attorney sharing offices with Sam L. Collins in the Chapman Building in Fullerton, had represented bookmakers. This information was allegedly contained in a memorandum obtained from a bail bond broker in Santa Ana. This information was erroneous, for evidence subsequently presented showed that McCabe was the City Attorney of La Habra and presented the case referred to by Baxter instead of representing any of the defendants.

Clifford J. Baxter and John C. Doran made a further investigation in Northern California, using a state car for part of the trip. Clifford J. Baxter testified that their investigation revealed no connection, in any manner whatsoever, between Sam L. Collins and any gambling interest.

All the activities of Clifford J. Baxter before and during these hearings have convinced the committee that he does not possess any of the necessary qualifications of a parole officer.

John C. Doran's Conduct—Responsibility for the Raids Conducted by Parole Officers

The raids conducted by parole officers of the Adult Authority at Long Beach (pp. 4616-4617 above) and Santa Ana (pp. 4617-4618) were an unwarranted and unauthorized departure from the established policy of the Adult Authority for the exercise by parole officers of the powers of peace officers (pp. 4613-4616 above). These raids were directed and carried out without the knowledge, authorization or consent of the Adult Authority or any of its responsible supervising parole officers. They were directed to be made by John C. Doran acting in disregard of the established policy of the Adult Authority and without consultation with or authorization from any of his superiors. The conduct of John C. Doran exhibited a definite lack of that responsibility expected from a state employee in his position.

It is the considered opinion of this committee that John C. Doran does not measure up to the minimum qualifications which should be possessed by a parole officer. He is censured for the lack of responsibility indicated by his failure to follow the established policy of the Adult Authority, for his failure to keep any records relative to the two raids mentioned, and for his use of state property for personal purposes.

Sam L. Collins' Motive and Conduct—Purpose and Effect of Assembly Bills Nos. 537 and 538

Exhaustive investigation before the public hearings, including examination of the records of Sam L. Collins in his Fullerton and Sacramento offices, and examinations of witnesses in the course of those hearings, failed to disclose any connection between Sam L. Collins and any person engaged in any gambling activity, or any interest on the part of Sam L. Collins in any such person or in any gambling activity.

There was not, and there is not, any such connection or interest. There is no basis for a charge or implication of any such connection or interest, or that any legislation introduced by Sam L. Collins was motivated by any such connection or interest. Sam L. Collins did not introduce Assembly Bill No. 538, or cause to be amended Assembly Bill No. 537, from any motive or for any reason other than his belief that the proposed legislation was meritorious and sound and would amend Penal Code Section 817 to make it conform to the object and purpose for which the 1943 amendment to that section was requested and which the Members of the Legislature had in mind and intended when that section was amended in 1943.

Neither Assembly Bill No. 538 nor the amendment to Assembly Bill No. 537 was designed to protect any gambling interest nor is the purpose of either to take away from parole officers the authority of peace officers in the performance of their functions and duties as parole officers The purpose of the proposed legislation was to amend Penal Code Section 817 to make it harmonious with the assurances given and acted upon, and the intention of the Members of the Legislature, when it was amended in 1943 (pp. 4613-4615), to the end that there would be proper cooperation between state parole officers and local law enforcement agencies. The further purpose was to assure that the functioning of local law enforcement agencies would not be unnecessarily disrupted, and that matters which were essentially local police matters would be left to local law enforcement agencies.

As a matter of law the effect of Assembly Bill No. 538 or Assembly Bill No. 537 as amended, if enacted, would be to restrict parole officers in the exercise of powers of peace officers to the performance of their official duties as parole officers in harmony with the policy established by the Adult Authority itself. The effect of the proposed legislation, as a matter of fact, would not serve to protect gamblers or remove any appreciable hazard with which they are now faced, because as a practical matter the peace officer powers of parole officers in dealing with gamblers did not exist prior to 1943, and since that time have been exercised only in the two instances referred to above in this report.

Assembly Bill No. 538 was introduced and passed by the Assembly in accordance with usual legislative practice and in conformity with legislative rules. This bill amended Section 817 relative to parole officers and included State Police as police officers.

Assembly Bill No. 537 as originally introduced related to annulments. This bill had been tabled in the Assembly Judiciary Committee. Later it was lifted from the table and amendments to Section 817 were substituted for the bill. The substitution was made at the request of a representative of the District Attorney of Los Angeles County and added designated persons to those enumerated as peace officers. The new matter in Assembly Bill No. 538 was also included in this bill. All these amendments were incorporated in Assembly Bill No. 537 rather than adding the new amendment to Assembly Bill No. 538, because the author did not desire to jeopardize the enactment of Assembly Bill No. 538 by including the additional matters in Assembly Bill No. 537.

Although the amendment of Section 817 provided for by Assembly Bill No. 537 after it had been introduced to amend the law relating to annulments was not germane in that the bill as amended related to a different subject than the bill as introduced, the Assembly Judiciary Committee, after discussion, agreed to permit the bill to be so amended.

The new matter relating to parole officers in Assembly Bill No. 537 was not italicized in accordance with Joint Rule 10. This failure to italicize was not by design and originated in an error on the part of the Legislative Counsel. The testimony of Sam L. Collins was to the effect that he had no knowledge of the fact that it was not properly italicized.

Sam L. Collins cannot be charged with responsibility for the failure of the Adult Authority to oppose Assembly Bill No. 538 in the Assembly Committee on Judiciary. Gordon knew that the bill was pending and his failure to act was due to his own illness and the default of the secretary of the Adult Authority. But the events demonstrate that had Walter Gordon, Chairman of the Adult Authority, been able to keep his appointment with Sam L. Collins it would have served to prevent some of the misunderstanding that led to the reading of the Doran letter on the floor of the Assembly.

Mr. Justice William C. Doran's Conduct

Mr. Justice Doran stated that he wrote and dispatched his letter of March 28, 1947, solely for the purpose of defeating Assembly Bill No. 538; that he had no design or purpose to injure Sam L. Collins and was not concerned with the author of the bill as an individual: that the statement in his letter "actually Collins appears to be more interested in the gamblers" was intended as an argument and not as a statement of fact; and that he believed that the bill would do more harm than good. It still remains that his letter was intemperate and ill-tempered. It was unseemly in form and unbecoming of a man occupying high judicial office. Whatever right as an individual he may have had to write it, he could not entirely divorce himself from his position and give to a letter written by him the appearance of a letter of only a private citizen. Whatever legal right he may have had to write the letter, such a letter, from a man in his position, on appellate court stationery, was not consistent with mutual respect of, and the amenities of harmonious cooperation between the legislative and judicial branches of the government. Whatever Mr. Justice Doran's thoughts and motives may have been, the letter was calculated, and should have been known to him to be calculated, to arouse indignation and resentment on the part of Speaker Sam L. Collins, the Members of this Assembly and the public. The letter was susceptible of the interpretation, and should have been known to Mr. Justice Doran to be susceptible of that interpretation, of charging bad motives and want of good faith to Speaker Sam L. Collins and of charging Sam L. Collins with proposing legislation from considerations other than honest belief in the merits of that legislation. Insofar as the letter is susceptible of being understood to make charges against Speaker Sam L. Collins it was without basis in fact and was written without reasonable grounds for believing that an implied personal charge could be sustained.

In truth and in fact the statements made in the letter were based entirely upon hearsay information given Judge Doran by his son, John C. Doran. In turn that information was obtained by John C. Doran from Clifford J. Baxter, whose testimony your committee is compelled to disbelieve in toto. Furthermore, it is unfortunate that Mr. Justice Doran did not extend to Speaker Sam L. Collins the courtesy of sending him a copy of the letter as he extended that courtesy to Mr. Gordon because he was chairman of a state agency which would be affected if the proposed legislation were enacted.

The Doran letter exhibited a want of that self-restraint which should characterize the conduct of a justice of an appellate court, and sounded a note dissonant to that harmony which should exist between departments of the government, particularly in view of Judge Doran's admission that the letter written by him was based solely on hearsay.

It is the further well considered opinion of the committee, based upon a thorough consideration of all Judge Doran's testimony before this committee, that he is not a proper person to sit on the appellate bench of the State of California.

RECOMMENDATIONS

It is recommended that no action is necessary by the Assembly beyond the receiving and approval of this report. Such approval will seem sufficient censure of that conduct which is deserving of censure according to the terms of this report. The disclosure of the facts provides the proper degree of censure for those responsible for them in those instances in which, as disclosed by those facts, censure is appropriate.

The merits of proposed amendments to Penal Code Section 817 are for consideration in the ordinary course of proceedings of this Assembly, and for that reason no recommendations in respect of proposed amendment of Penal Code Section 817 are made in this report.

In regard to the parole officers, John C. Doran and Clifford J. Baxter, this report contains sufficient facts to justify the State Personnel Board and the Adult Authority to terminate their employment. Upon approval of this report by the Assembly, it is recommended that a copy of this report be forwarded to the State Personnel Board and Adult Authority for appropriate action.

This committee further recommends that the method of printing amendments to bills be referred to the appropriate interim committee for study.

It is further recommended that the appropriate interim committee of the Assembly review the power now possessed by all public employees classified as peace officers for the purpose of preparing legislation clarifying the extent of their powers.

This committee has certified the facts of Clifford J. Baxter's contempt and refusal to answer before the committee to the State Personnel Board and to the State Controller, in accordance with Section 9411 of the Government Code.

Respectfully submitted this thirteenth day of June, 1947.

STATEMENT BY MR. ERWIN

The Report of the Special Investigating Committee was not signed by me because of my illness and presence in the hospital during the time that the hearings were conducted.

Therefore, not having knowledge of what transpired at the hearings, I feel that I am not qualified to sign this report.

STATEMENT BY MESSRS. JAMES AND BUTTERS

We concur with the Report of the Special Investigating Committee except as to the conclusion that Judge Doran is not a proper person to sit on the appellate bench. If the evidence justifies such conclusion, proceedings for the judge's removal from office should be commenced pursuant to Article VI, Section 10 of the California Constitution, or, if guilty of misdemeanor in office, impeachment proceedings should be commenced. In our opinion, the evidence does not justify such conclusion.

The following resolution was offered:

By Messrs. Gaffney and Maloney:

House Resolution No. 245

Relative to Commemoration of Flag Day

WHEREAS, Reverence for the Flag is an expression of the devotion which every American feels to the ideals of liberty and Democracy upon which the United States of America is founded, and which the Republic, by the Bill of Rights included in its Constitution, guarantees to every man, woman, and child within its borders; and

WHEREAS, This love and this reverence for the Flag of the United States, engendered by its beauty and the ideals for which it is a symbol, have inspired the name Old Glory by which the Flag is known all over the world, expressing as it does both the reverence and the familiar affection with which every American regards his Flag; and

WHEREAS, So profound is this American feeling for the Flag that a day has been set aside and called Flag Day, upon which all Americans can unite in their common love of the Flag; an occasion upon which labor and management can reflect upon how best to compose their differences in the tradition of the democratic principles symbolized by the beloved Flag; when all conflicting groups, factions, and organizations may renew their devotion to those principles of tolerance and respect for the rights and dignities of every man which have been basic in the establishment, growth, and strength of this Nation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That on June 14, 1947, which has been proclaimed Flag Day by the Governor of California, all Americans unite proudly to display and to honor the Flag on the 170th anniversary of the adoption of the Stars and Stripes as our National Flag, and in so doing that we renew our resolve to live after the ideals which it has symbolized to generations of Americans, and to teach the children of America the history which has brought to them a great heritage of Democracy and freedom under the Flag which over a hundred and thirty-five years ago Americans hailed as the banner which "makes tyranny tremble," and which remains today the unsullied emblem of freedom and Democracy throughout the world.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Remarks by Mrs. Niehouse

I wish to pay a tribute to the fathers of this State and, particularly, do I pay tribute to the fathers in this Assembly.

I have seen the men, after a tedious legislative day, drop their cares at the sight of their children and their smiles of love.

It is with the aid and advice of fathers and their cooperation with the mothers that the sons become stalwart men and the daughters lovely girls.

I will never forget my own father. How impatiently I awaited his return at night.

Fathers of California, I salute you and ask that when we adjourn this day we do so in honor of the fathers of California.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Robertson:

LOS ANGELES 13, CALIFORNIA, June 12, 1947

Hon. Alfred W. Robertson
Member of the Assembly, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: I have just been handed what purports to be remarks by you on the afternoon of Tuesday, June 10th, respecting Assembly Bill No. 1292, and which appeared in the Assembly Journal on June 10th. The remarks, as transmitted to me and which, I am told, is a true copy of what appeared in the Journal, read as follows:

June 10, 1947

"Remarks by Mr. Robertson

MR. SPEAKER: During the routine tabling of Assembly Bill No. 1292, calling for a Constitutional Convention, by the Senate Committee of Governmental Efficiency and Economy, there occurred an incident that I think is worthy of the attention of this Assembly

Had these words been uttered by Frank P. Doherty, speaking for himself, they would not have been worthy of note, but Frank P Doherty made it very plain to the members of the committee and those present that he was speaking as a Past President of and in behalf of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and as a representative of the California State Chamber of Commerce I regret indeed that his remarks were not recorded at the time, but I listened very intently and I believe I can repeat almost verbatim the words that he uttered, speaking as though the convention would consist of members of both houses, instead of elected delegates. They are as follows:

> 'GENTLEMEN OF THE COMMITTEE, Could this proposed convention consist of only you 40 very fine gentlemen of the Senate, I would be very happy indeed to give it my full support, but, gentlemen, do not for a moment forget that in addition there will be 80 bad members from the Assembly. Every good proposition that you might advocate would be defeated, every effort that you made would be frustrated by these 80 bad members. You would be out-voted at all times.'

Such an attitude on the part of these two organizations is surely worthy of note. Such an attitude tends to friction and trouble between the two branches of this Legislature and is inimical to good government.

I believe we should scan very carefully any proposition proposed by either of these organizations.

ROBERTSON"

You are in grievous error in two major particulars. I will not argue the minor errors.

I at no time stated in my remarks to the Senate committee that I was speaking as a "Past President of and in behalf of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce." I stated that I was speaking as a representative of the California State Chamber of Commerce. I did not represent nor purport to represent the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and made no such statement.

The quoted part of your remarks is entirely erroneous. At no time did I make any statement even bordering on such remarks

My argument to the Senate committee was on this particular issue substantially as follows:

> I was pointing out the advantages of amending the Constitution by recommendations from the Legislature as being preferable to those by the convention. I was reciting how the Legislature had acted on numerous amendments in the past, how the committees of each body screened each proposal and then submitted the proposed constitutional amendment to the people and gave the people an opportunity to be selective in their decisions, that is, voting upon each amendment on its own merit, as opposed to a Constitution submitted by a convention where it had to be accepted or rejected as a whole and where the people could not be selective in their votes. In this connection, I pointed out that if the convention were made up of Members of the Legislature, (I hoped that all 40 Senators would be members of that convention) we would have experienced men in the convention as opposed to a convention made up of men and women without previous legislative experience. I followed this with the statement, again comparing the procedure of amending the Constitution by the Legislature as opposed to a new Constitution adopted by a convention, that in the Legislature the Senate had the veto power, but if all 40 were elected to the convention they would be but 40 of 120 members, and, if the other 80 were made up of Assemblymen, the Assemblymen had the votes to organize the convention, adopt its rules and procedure and the Senators would be a minority in the convention and a minority on each committee

There was not a word or suggestion made by me to the effect that in addition to the 40 Senators "there will be 80 bad Members of the Assembly" and "every effort that you made would be frustrated by these 80 bad members." At no time during my discussion did I ever refer to the Assembly where the word "bad" or its equivalent was used or inferred. This is a figment of your heated imagination. The argument that I was making to a Senate committee was a perfectly legitimate argument. If the Constitutional Convention were made up of 120 members, consisting of 80 Assemblymen and 40 Senators, it must be self-evident to you and every Member of the Legislature that the Assembly would organize the convention and in the committees there would, of necessity, be two Assemblymen to each Senator. Otherwise, what other disposition would be made of 80 Assemblymen and 40 Senators?

You showed very poor sportsmanship in bringing before the committee the argument that I was there as a "paid" spokesman; that I was getting money for the position that I was taking The statement was false. I received no compensation, directly or indirectly, and I paid my own expenses, including transportation and hotel.

You demonstrated your poor sportsmanship by going to the Assembly floor, where those who knew the facts were not in a position to expose your bias and poor sportsmanship, and making statements as above pointed out, knowing as you did that no one present was in a position to expose you and present the true facts.

If you deny that you are biased and wish to demonstrate that you are a good sportsman, please print this letter in the Journal You will find that not one member of the Senate committee will sustain you in your statements. If they did and the statements that you attribute to me are true, then you would be confessing, as would the Senators, that the Members of the Assembly, all 80 of them, were "bad" members. Such is not the case. Every member of the Senate committee would resent any statement reflecting upon the integrity of the lower house. It would be silly for me to make such a statement and prejudice my cause. We have in the Assembly men of outstanding ability and patriotism. We have men of courage and conviction. We have men who have demonstrated their intelligence and character. Many of them are my cordial friends.

If you were just attacking me, I would ignore what you have done. You are, however, in a demagogic way, misrepresenting what took place and using this misrepresentation to warn the Members of the Assembly against two outstanding organizations, namely, the California State Chamber of Commerce and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.

I am sending a copy of this letter to Senator Clarence C. Ward, who represents Santa Barbara County and who, I believe, was present during the argument before the Senate committee that heard Assembly Bill No 1292.

Fairness on your part requires and demands that you put before the Assembly my viewpoint, not as a favor to me but in justice to the two fine civic bodies that you maligned.

Very truly yours,

FRANK P. DOHERTY

Deductions for Voluntary Disability Compensation Plans—No. 5352

Hon. Earl D. Desmond
Senate Chamber

DEAR SENATOR DESMOND: You ask whether if Senate Bill No. 1100 is enacted, an employer would be authorized under Section 224 of the Labor Code, to make deductions from an employee's wages for the benefits provided in a private disability compensation plan without the written authorization of the employee.

It is our opinion that he would, unless the employee in writing rejected the benefits of the plan, or withdrew from participation in the plan pursuant to the provisions thereof.

Labor Code Sections 221, 222, and 223 make it unlawful for an employer to withhold a part of an employee's wages from him under certain conditions. It is provided by Section 224, however, that such prohibition does not apply "when the employer is required or empowered so to do by state or federal law * * *."

Article 10 of the Unemployment Insurance Act provides for a System of Disability Compensation Benefits to compensate in part for the wage loss sustained by individuals unemployed because of sickness or injury. The system covers all workers subject to the provisions of the Unemployment Insurance Act and is financed by contributions deducted from the wages of the workers, payable to a state fund from which the benefits are paid.

Part 6 of Article 10 provides for the optional coverage of workers under voluntary private plans, in lieu of the compulsory provisions of the act administered by a state agency. Such plans which meet required standards and are approved by the state agency, may be accepted by a majority of the employees of an employer, and thereafter such employees are exempt from the contributions to the state fund.

It is provided in Section 456 that "An employer may, but need not, assume all or part of the cost of the (voluntary) plan, and may deduct from the wages of an employee covered by the plan for the purpose of providing the disability benefits specified * * * an amount not in excess of that which would be required by Section 44 if the employee were not covered by the plan."

Senate Bill No. 1100 provides that upon the acceptance of a voluntary plan by 80 percent of the employees of an employer the plan shall thereafter cover all of the employees except those who in writing expressly reject the plan. Provision is also made for the withdrawal of an employee from the plan.

Thus under Section 456 an employer is authorized to make deductions from his employees' wages for the cost of a voluntary disability plan, provided such costs do not exceed the amount required by Section 44, and under Senate Bill No. 1100, the plan would be effective as to all employees, with the exceptions noted, if 80 percent of them accept the plan.

The statutory authorization for deductions for the costs of a voluntary disability plan, as provided by Section 456 of the Unemployment Insurance Act, appear to be clearly within the exception provided by Labor Code Section 224 and such deductions would therefore be permitted as to all employees except those who expressly reject the plan, or withdraw from the plan.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 16, 1947

To the Assembly of the State of California
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN. I am transmitting to you herewith a copy of a message with reference to Assembly Bill No. 1708, entitled "An act to add Section 20950 to the Education Code, relating to the California School for the Blind."

This bill, with my message relative thereto, I (through my Legislative Secretary) delivered to Mr. Thomas A. Maloney, Member of the Assembly, at 3.40 o'clock p.m. on the fourteenth day of June, 1947, at which time your honorable body had adjourned for the day but not for the session.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 14, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 1708, entitled: "An act to add Section 20950 to the Education Code, relating to the California School for the Blind."

My objection is as follows:

The bill does not apply to a deaf and blind pupil from this State. If it did, I would gladly sign it because the State should do everything reasonably possible to make life endurable for this group of its citizens. On the other hand, I do not believe that it is sound policy for us to say to the other states of the Union that we will take care of their deaf and blind children at approximately one-half the cost to the State of California of such care.

It is estimated that it costs the State of California $2,767 75 for each deaf and blind person cared for in our State School for the Blind. This bill provides that we will accept persons from other states at a maximum charge of $1,500, the balance necessarily being absorbed by the taxpayers of this State.

The present law permits our School for the Blind to accept out-of-state pupils, who are both deaf and blind, at actual cost. This seems to me to be as far as we should reasonably go.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

Assembly Bill No 1708 ordered to unfinished business file.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 14, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Assembly Bill No. 79, entitled: "An act to add Section 20363 to the Government Code and to add Section 1020 to the Military and Veterans Code, relating to employees of the Veterans' Home of California."

This bill would give to the Director of Veterans Affairs and the Commandant of the Veterans' Home the right to send doctors of the Home to medical schools, either in or out of the State and without limit as to time, for the taking of refresher courses. They would be sent at state expense as though on state business

While it is desirable for doctors in the state service to take refresher courses, and it may be appropriate for the State to make some provision for them, still there should be some time limit thereon and doctors of which there are several hundred in other state institutions should have the same rights.

Sincerely,

EARL WARREN, Governor

"SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall, therefore, go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

Unless this act becomes effective immediately, grave doubt may exist as to the validity of many millions of dollars of public funds which may be on deposit in banks on September 1, 1947, due to inability to effect deposits in compliance with the terms of the present law and unless this act is in effect on that date, treasurers of cities, counties, school districts, and other political subdivisions of this State may be compelled to withdraw from banks large sums of public money then on deposit at interest, and either hold the same in currency in their offices or deposit the same without interest It is necessary that the withdrawal of such an amount of currency from circulation at one time, and the loss of interest thereon, be prevented, and that the radical and objectionable changes in the handling of public financial transactions that would immediately ensue as an inevitable consequence of such withdrawal and holding of currency be obviated, and that the means of deriving revenue from the deposit of such public funds be impeded as little as possible."

SAMUEL C. MAY, DIRECTOR

OLD-AGE ASSISTANCE

BY BERNICE S. MEYER

May 29, 1947

Great interest has developed during the past few years in old age and other forms of public assistance. This concern has been stimulated by various factors, among them: (a) the stringent residence and financial requirements of many states, (b) the time an old-age pensioner can spend outside a state and still receive assistance.

Comparisons of state programs should be based on proper consideration of the factors that determine eligibility and need, the number of recipients, and the amounts of their grants. While a comparison of state programs constitutes the primary purpose of this report, attention is given also to the length of time an old-age pensioner can spend outside the state while still receiving assistance.

Special aid for the aged began in 1923 when Montana and Nevada passed old-age assistance laws. By 1934, the year before the Social Security Act was passed, 28 states had old-age assistance laws.[1] Under the Social Security Act, all of the states have plans for old-age assistance.

At the end of 1934 1,000,000 of the aged were dependent on public relief, though only 236,205 were receiving assistance under the state laws, and many of these payments were insignificant.[2] Today over 12,100,000 of the aged receive old-age assistance.

Before 1934, the counties had to bear all or part of the cost of old-age assistance. In 1934, five of the states assumed all of the cost, 11 of the states, including California, shared part of the cost, and in the remaining 12 states of the 28 giving assistance, the counties assumed the entire burden. The maximum monthly payments ranged from $10 to $30 per month with the exception of New York and Massachusetts, having no maximum amount fixed by law.[3]

Old-Age Assistance Under the Social Security Act

The Federal Government assumed part of the responsibility for old-age assistance when the Social Security Act was passed in August 1935. The act provides federal grants to the states to cover a substantial amount of the states' assistance expenditures and to insure more adequate assistance than had been available previously from state and local funds.

Prior to 1939, the Federal Government contributed one-half, up to $15 a month, or a federal-state total of $30 for aged aid.[4] In 1939, the maximum for federal matching was increased from $15 to $20 a month for each recipient, or a federal-state total of $40 per month.[5] The 1946 amendments to the act increased the federal maximum to $45 per month for old-age assistance, and provided that the Federal Government will pay a greater portion of the assistance costs and one-half of administrative costs of old-age assistance.[6]

Each state sets up and adminsters its own program. Before money is received from the Federal Government, the state's old-age assistance plan must conform to certain requirements to the Social Security Administration. These are: The plan must be state-wide, and, if administered by political subdivisions, be mandatory; the state participates financially; a single state agency administers or supervises the administration of the plan; the state must provide for fair hearings before the state agency; and the state agency, in determining need, shall take into consideration the income and resources of the individual claiming old-age assistance.

The Social Security Act does not require that a state plan impose residence or citizenship requirements as a condition of eligibility, but it provides that a state may not impose an age requirement of more than 65 years; any residence requirement which excludes anyone who has resided in the state five years during the nine years immediately preceding the application and continuously for one year immediately preceding the application; any citizenship requirement which excludes any citizen of the United States. To be eligible for old-age assistance under the Social Security Act, the person must not be an inmate of a public institution.[7]

In some states, the federal provisions for age, citizenship and residence have guided the establishment of eligibility requirements. In others, less restrictive eligibility requirments are imposed. The eligibility requirements established by the states within the provisions of the act are summarized in Table I and discussed in the following pages.

ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS

Eligibility requirements for old-age assistance in the states include a consideration of age, residence, citizenship, institutional status, need, and property and income limitations. These requirements vary considerably among the states. For example, in 1946, four states had no residence requirements while 30 states required the federal maximum of five years residence in the state. State eligibility requirements are presented in detail in Table I.

The Social Security Administration has recommended the abolition of state residence and citizenship requirements as a condition of eligibility, and the elimination of state requirements for transferring title or control of property by an applicant or recipient to the state or locality. They have sent to state public assistance agencies, along with other suggestions for improving assistance programs, these recommendations which would eliminate restrictive eligibility conditions which are neither required by the federal act nor considered desirable. According to the Social Security Administration, elimination of these restrictions will enable states to make fuller use of available funds, by permitting a state to increase the coverage of old-age assistance and by making maximum use of the state's own resources. Also some conditions of eligibility are difficult to administer and because of subjective judgment are not uniform in their application. Their elimination would facilitate the achievement of the principle of equal treatment within the state and among states.[8]

Age

In April 1946, all states had a minimum age requirement of 65 years for old-age assistance—the maximum age allowed by the Social Security Act Colorado specified a minimum of 60 years for those who had resided continuously in the state since April 25, 1906, and four states (California, North Dakota, Washington, and Wisconsin) provided that if the Federal Government makes funds available the age requirement might be lowered to 60 years.[9]

Citizenship

While the Social Security Act does not require citizenship as a condition of eligibility for old-age assistance, it permits the states to make such a requirement. Last year, 18 states, including California, required citizenship for old-age assistance, and five states required either citizenship or long residence in the United States. [10]

In many states, the effect of excluding needy noncitizens from old-age assistance has been to place the burden of their support on general assistance or to leave them without assistance. The Social Security Administration has recommended that the states eliminate all citizenship requirements as a condition of eligibility for public assistance. They are of the opinion that assistance should be available to non-citizens if they are needy and otherwise eligible [11]

Residence

In recent years, war and reconversion have accelerated the mobility of population. Since the beginning of World War II, eight million or more civilians have moved across state lines [12] to take jobs to help win the war, or to follow relatives in the service or war work The fact that many of these people lost their residence in the place from which they came without gaining it elsewhere, has brought the problem of residence requirements to the fore It cannot be assumed that all the people who moved will return to their community of origin.

Residence is not a requirement under the Social Security Act, which states that a state plan for old-age assistance, to be approved under the act, may not require residence in the state for more than five of the nine years immediately preceding application and one year continuously before filing the application. Though the act establishes the maximum requirement, many states have adopted this as their minimum requirement. Thirty states, including California, enforce the federal maximum number of years of residence. Vermont and Washington require five years residence during the 10 years preceding application.

In 1936, one year after the Social Security Act had been passed, only one state operating under the act had residence requirements below the maximum permitted by the act In 1946, however, 16 states required less than the maximum permitted, and four states had repealed all residence laws relating to old-age assistance. (See Table I)

In addition to the trend toward lowering residence requirements, some states reduce or eliminate residence requirements on a reciprocal basis In a reciprocal agreement each state continues assistance payments during the period of time required to establish residence in the other state, or both states agree to eliminate residence requirements between the cooperating states Approximately 13 states provide for reciprocal agreements. Wisconsin has done more than any other state to work out such agreements [13] According to Robert F. Roth, Director of the State Department of Public Assistance in West Virginia, reciprocal agreements are a "practical expendient in enabling us to continue to meet the needs of old-age recipients who move to other states but who are still in need of assistance."

Progress in eliminating or lowering residence requirements has been slow. Though the objective of public assistance is to aid any needy person, the states have hesitated to abolish residence requirements (a restriction not related to need) because:[14]

1. States with high levels of payments have feared that removal of residence requirements would attract needy persons from lower payment areas to their states.

2. States with more favorable climate have feared that removal of residence requirements would encourage the aged to move to their state for health or general welfare reasons.

3. There has been a belief, especially in states with inadequate funds, that the state's first responsibility is to its "own" people. (The concept that local communities were only responsible for their "own" people originated at a time when local government paid all cost of assistance.)[15]

On the other hand, the Social Security Administration has recommended that states eliminate all eligibility requirements that relate to length of residence in the state.[16] The Social Security Administration has also recommended adoption of a plan of special federal aid for low-income states in order to raise the payment in the low-income states.[17] This would reduce the "spread" between these states and states making higher payments and thereby eliminate to a great extent the supposition that people move into a state to receive higher assistance payments.

The Social Security Administration and the United States House Ways and Means Committee have presented a number of reasons why residence requirements in the states should be eliminated.[18] Some of these are:

1. Residence requirements in state laws keep some otherwise eligible persons from receiving assistance in which the Federal Government can participate. It leaves some needy persons in a "no man's land."

2. Residence requirements are costly and time-consuming to administer. The residence of every applicant must be investigated, though the number of nonresidents may be small. Proof must be obtained that the applicant has resided in the state for the required length of time. In border-line cases this determination is complicated and subject to many interpretations Proofs are often difficult to obtain, and cause delays in providing assistance. If the needy individual is found to be ineligible because of residence requirements, there is still a problem as to what to do about him.

3. There is no evidence that the aged move in order to receive assistance. Rhode Island, which has eliminated its residence law, has found that people do not move to obtain assistance.[19]

Proposals for Changes in Residence Laws: Several suggestions have been made for changes in residence laws to minimize their undesirable effects.

1. Reciprocal agreements can be worked out between the various states: Such agreements would enable a state to lower or eliminate its residence requirements as they affect an applicant from another state, if the other state will act similarly for applicants coming from the first state. Some of the states are now arranging reciprocal agreements. The effect of this type of agreement is, however, limited, as individual arrangements must be worked out between and among the states.[20] General use of these agreements would be complicated from an administrative viewpoint. Details of the agreements would have to be available to everyone investigating applications for assistance. They would not eliminate the expense and time of investigations to prove residency.

2. A uniform residence requirement, e g. one year, may be established with the provision that no person could lose his residence until he had gained a new one: This would provide assistance to all otherwise eligible needy persons, except transients, but would not eliminate extensive investigation of each applicant's residence. In addition, there would be extensive interstate correspondence to determine receipt of relief or to prove residence established in another state.[21] A few states have already enacted this type of law.

3. A uniform residence requirement may be established, with federal provision for assistance to nonresidents: Persons applying for assistance would be classified as residents and nonresidents, and assistance to the latter would be the sole financial responsibility of the Federal Government Residence requirements would be retained for fiscal reasons. Questions would arise as to whether assistance financed wholly by the Federal Government would be based on federal standards or state standards. Experience with the federal transient program under the FERA has shown the difficulty of classifying people on the basis of residence. A dual standard of care cannot be administered successfully. It is also possible, that with the incentive of full federal payment for nonresident cases, the State might be inclined to classify as many applicants as possible as nonresidents, increasing investigations of residence, in order to shift the burden of support to the Federal Government.[22]

4. All residence requirements may be abolished: Most of the above proposals are inconsistent with the objective of public assistance—to provide all needy people with assistance. The only approach removing all existing difficulties inherent in residence requirements—expensive and time-consuming investigations, delays in payment, etc.—would be to require state plans to eliminate their residence requirements. While every reduction in these requirements, qualifies more people, some needy people who are otherwise eligible continue to be unaided. Abolishing residence requirements would mean that persons living in a state, without other means of support, would not be denied assistance.

There have been several groups favoring the abolition of residence requirements The Council of State Governments, in recommending legislation to the states, indicated that residence requirements restricted the free movement of people and was a handicap in the prosecution of the war. The American Association of Social Workers favors a public assistance program covering all needy persons without regard to length or place of residence. The Conference of Northeastern States in Social Welfare and Relief in 1944 favored the "abolition of state settlement laws."[23]

The American Public Welfare Association recommends that "the Federal Government participate financially only in those assistance and other welfare programs in which all residence and citizenship requirements have been eliminated."[24]

The Social Security Administration also has recommended the "abolition of state residence and citizenship requirements as a condition of eligibility for assistance under state plans approved under the Social Security Act."[25]

From the viewpoint of many of the states that feel that state-local costs should not be increased by an influx of out-of-state persons, a residence requirement sufficient to restrict the mobility of the aged is considered essential protection. From the viewpoint of federal participation in public assistance, a needy person should not be deprived of aid solely on the grounds of his residence.

Institutional Status

The Social Security Act provides that federal funds will not be available for payments to inmates of public institutions (excepting temporary care), but it is available for aged in private institutions.[26] In a few states, persons in private institutions are not qualified to receive old-age assistance, and six states disqualify aged applicants if they need institutional care, even though they are not at the time in an institution. (Table I)

The Social Security Administration has recommended that "provisions be eliminated which disqualify applicants for old-age assistance * * * because they are living in private institutions or because they need continued institutional care."[27] According to the administration these restrictions are serious, since the need for sheltered facilities for the aged is increasing, while, in many localities, satisfactory accommodations for them are limited.

Recommendations have been made to Congress to permit federal participation in assistance payments to recipients in public medical institutions (not including mental and tuberculosis hospitals), if the State is responsible for establishing and maintaining standards for such institutions.[28]

Need

The majority of the states define need as insufficient income or other resources to provide a reasonable subsistence. As of April 1, 1946, California, Colorado, Utah and Washington stipulated a minimum sum in income and resources per month, below which an aged person would be in need. (See Table I)

Property and Income Limitations

A majority of the states specify the maximum amount of cash, other personal and real property which a person may own without being disqualified for aid (even though such property is considered in determining the amount of assistance). Income limitations included the amount of annual or monthly income which a person may receive and still be eligible for aid.

In addition to this, all but four of the states (Louisiana, Oregon, Rhode Island, Texas), provide that individuals are disqualified if they dispose of property for the purpose of qualifying for assistance. (Table I) Some states specify a period of two to five years preceding application for assistance, during which a transfer or assignment of property to qualify for assistance, disqualifies the individual for aid.

The Social Security Administration has recommended that provisions be eliminated that disqualify individuals for disposal of property for the purpose of qualifying for assistance, since the experience of the states indicates that the number of individuals thus disqualified is small and that these regulations are difficult to administer. Oftentime an individual is barred from assistance if he has transferred property within the specified period even though the intention was not to qualify for aid. In most instances, the proceeds from the transfer of property would be available as a resource to be considered by the agency in determining if the person is eligible for aid. Provisions in the state laws with respect to fraud and illegal receipt of assistance should be a protection against the few cases in which there is an illegal transfer of property to obtain aid.

Many states require needy persons, as a condition of eligibility for assistance, to transfer title or control of property or pledge property they own to the State [29] The Social Security Administration has recommended that provisions be eliminated "that permit the agency to require applicants or recipients to transfer title or control of their property to the agency during their lifetime." [30]

The Social Security Act does not require states to recover the value of assistance granted to the aged, nor does the Federal Government initiate efforts to recover this money. The act provides that, if the State makes recovery, the Federal Government shall receive its share. The main reason for the Social Security Administration's recommendation is that the various security devices used by states—liens, assignments, transfers, etc.—often require expensive administrative practices. Elimination of provisions permitting agency controls would not interfere with the ability of the State to make recoveries from the estates of deceased recipients. The Social Security Administration also recommends that the states not enforce claims against the property of a deceased recipient if that property is still being used as a home for the surviving spouse, or during the minority of surviving children.

Responsibility of Relatives

Assistance laws in many states provide not only that assistance from relatives shall be taken into account in determining an individual's need, but also that the existence of relatives considered able to support the applicant renders him ineligible for aid. In some instances, it may be known that the relative is not contributing to the applicant's support, but because of the law, aid must be denied and the applicant is left without any support.

The Social Security Administration has recommended that "provisions conditioning eligibility for assistance on the ability of relatives to support the applicant be eliminated for state public assistance laws.[31]

The applicant's income and resources should be actual, not potential, in determining need. The general support laws of the states provide the means of enforcing support from relatives if such action is desired by the individual or state. According to the Social Security Administration, the public assistance laws should not be used as a means of enforcing these support laws.

In the California Legislature, the Assembly has passed a bill removing liability of children and relatives to support persons who are receiving or are eligible to receive aid to the aged.[32]

ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS TO THE AGED

In determining the amount of assistance payments, some states take into consideration only the recipient's needs and resources, while other states consider also the needs and resources of the recipient's family. For purposes of this study, state comparisons have been made by considering the recipient only.

Recipients of old-age assistance in June 1946 numbered about one in five persons 65 years of age and over. Among the 25 states having a higher than national average of recipients, Oklahoma aided more than half, and Texas and Colorado more than two-fifths of their aged population. Seven states having less than half the national average, included New Jersey and New York.[33]

The number of persons receiving old age assistance increased yearly from 1936 to 1942.[34] From 1942 through 1945 the number of recipients declined, but has since resumed an upward trend.

Date	Number of recipients	Total amount of assistance payments
June 1936	603,855	$9,650,733

Texas has the largest recipient role, 187,161, with California next 165,124. Delaware has the smallest recipient role, 1,180. (See Table III)

In 30 states, including Alaska and Hawaii, half the expenditure for assistance has been met from federal funds. Twenty states have used local funds; among these states, local funds represented from 5 percent to 25 percent of total assistance payments.[35]

The amount of old-age assistance payments has increased from June 1943, when the national average was $24.67 [36] to November 1946, when it was $34.99. (Table III) The lowest average payment in any state for the same months was $9.15 and $14 91 respectively. The highest average payment in any state increased from $37.60 for June 1943 to $55.02 for November 1946. In the latter month, the average monthly payment ranged from less than $20 in seven states to more than $45 in six states (including California) (See Table III). Of the states with averages below $20, all are below the national average in per capita income, and all but one are among the 12 states with the lowest per capita income. Of the states averaging more than $45 per month in old-age assistance payments, California, Washington and Massachusetts are among the 12 states with the highest per capita income.

In March 1947, there were no statutory or administrative maximums on old-age assistance payments in 14 states. Maximums higher than the federal were in effect in 13 states; maximums were the same as the federal in 11 states; and they were lower than the federal in 12 states.[37] (See Table III)

LENGTH OF TIME AN OLD PENSIONER MAY REMAIN OUTSIDE A STATE WHILE RECEIVING ASSISTANCE

The problems involved in the disparity between state laws concerning residence requirements and payments to recipients who are out of state are becoming increasingly difficult. The policy of the Federal Government in this matter is that assistance should not be discontinued to a person, otherwise eligible, merely because he is temporarily out of a state with intent to return when the purpose of his absence has been accomplished. States differ in their interpretation of this question. Some limit the time a person can spent outside the state, though the person intends to return. Many, besides providing for an unlimited period of absence, even continue assistance for a time to recipients who have moved to a new state and who do not intend to return. Such payments serve the purpose of covering periods of adjustments in the new state, tiding the recipient over until he becomes eligible in the new state for old-age assistance. Information as to the recipient's continuing need for assistance is either provided by the recipient through correspondence, or by an assistance agency in the state to which the recipient has moved. Recipients do not always know whether they are leaving the state for a temporary period or permanently.

The state laws do not reveal a policy in regard to the length of time a recipient may remain out of the state while still receiving old-age assistance. This has been left largely to the administrative decision of the state departments and is often found in the staff manuals. States that have not incorporated the policy into their staff manuals, issue instructions to the various county or local offices in another fashion.

Public welfare officers in all of the states were canvassed on and answered the question, "How much time can an old-age pensioner spend outside of the state while drawing state pension, (a) if they intend to return to the state and (b) if they intend to establish residence elsewhere? If the recipient intends to return to the state, almost half of the states provide assistance indefinitely. The survey indicated that 22 states, including California, are in this category, and an additional nine states provide assistance until the recipient has been in another state long enough to acquire residence for assistance in that state.

For those recipients that have moved to another state with no intent to return, 16 states provide payments until the old-age pensioner has gained residence for assistance in another state, five states provide assistance for a year and three states provide assistance indefinitely. In California, when a person moves to another state to establish residence, aid ceases immediately. (See Table II)

The question has arisen as to whether a person in California can acquire residence for pension purposes while he is receiving assistance from another state. According to the SDSW—California Manual, assistance is not denied a person solely because he receives assistance from another state while he is establishing residence in California. The policy is that:

> When residence in another state or its subdivision is a condition to the granting of aid or relief, this may be considered as evidence indicating an intent to retain residence in that state. Such evidence may be refuted by other evidence indicating an intent to establish residence in this State. In cases of conflicting evidence, a preponderance of evidence is accepted.[38]

The counties in California seem to differ in their interpretation of this ruling. Some counties consider a person a resident of another state as long as he continues to receive assistance from the state of departure, unless there is proof to the contrary. This is true especially when the person comes from a state that gives assistance only if there is intent to return. Other counties grant aid or allow a person to acquire residence while he is receiving aid from another state unless evidence shows that he intends to return to the former state. If the counties in California refuse aid because the client is receiving aid from another state, the case may be appealed to the State Welfare Board. In most cases the appeal has been granted and aid given.

There has been some controversy between states as to the interpretation of "intent to return" The Assistance Director of the Department of Public Welfare in Wyoming has criticized California's interpretation of this clause by describing an actual case history, which follows:[39]

> Case history of_____resided in California since June 1939, visiting on two occasions in Wyoming, namely: From June 1940 to December 1940 and from July 1941 to November 1941. Each time the California Agency reviewed the case for Wyoming, they have been particular to have Mrs._____sign a sworn statement that she does not intend to make California her permanent residence.

[38] California Department of Social Welfare, Manual of Policies and Procedures, Sec 120-25, Revised December 18, 1945

[39] Information received through a survey of Public Welfare Officers conducted by the University of California, Bureau of Public Administration, Berkeley, California, January, 1947.

Since Mrs._____is old and childish, the San Bernardino Agency has easily convinced her that she should sign such a statement.

There is no question as to need of the Old Age Assistance grant for this recipient and need has been mutually recognized by the California Agency and the Wyoming Welfare Department * * *.

After Mrs._____lived in California for five years (June 1939 to June 1944) we feel that California should have accepted the case in July 1944. Due to the need Wyoming has continued the case beyond that period. Certainly this procedure is not promoting a good relationship between states that have had similar experiences with California.

We have given you this information in order that you may be able to have a definite case to use in advising your legislature.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 17, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 515, entitled: "An act to amend Section 1033.7 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to costs and interest on execution."

My objection is as follows:

This bill amends the same section of the Code of Civil Procedure amended by Assembly Bill No 240 also before me for consideration. Assembly Bill No. 240 is sponsored by the State Bar and is a more far reaching revision of the section than presented by this bill. I believe that the improvement in the present law which would be effected by Assembly Bill No. 240 is more complete than would be effected by the approval of this bill. Accordingly, I am signing Assembly Bill No. 240 and returning this bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

On page 2 of said bill, after line 7, insert

"SEC 5 This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Rapidly increasing legislative business in the southernmost counties of this State make it urgently necessary that an office be established immediately in San Diego for the use of Members of the Legislature in the performance of their official duties.

Similar offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Alameda Counties have demonstrated the usefulness and convenience to the public as well as to the Members of the Legislature in having a place where the legislative business of the State can be transacted promptly and efficiently.

San Diego as the metropolis of that commercially, industrially and agriculturally important area, and county seat of San Diego County, next in population to the counties of Los Angeles, San Francisco and Alameda, is the logical site for another legislative office now so urgently needed for the transaction of the legislative business of the State."

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO 2, CALIFORNIA, June 17, 1947

Compatibility of the Offices of Member of the Assembly and Member of the Governing Body of a City—No. 5918

Hon. Albert I. Stewart
Assembly Chamber

DEAR MR. STEWART: You ask whether or not it is competent for a person to hold, during the same period of time, the offices of Member of the Assembly of California and member of the governing body of a city, particularly including the City of Pasadena, a chartered city.

In my opinion it is competent for a person to hold and exercise the powers and duties of these offices at the same time, unless, in the case of a chartered city, the charter expressly or by necessary implication prevents such a holding. I find nothing in the State Constitution, nor in any statute, nor in the charter of the City of Pasadena, nor in the common law rule of incompatibility that prohibits such dual office holding.

The only provision of the State Constitution touching the subject is Section 19 of Article IV, which prohibits a Member of the Assembly during his term of office from holding any appointive office, trust, or employment under the State, a prohibition which expressly does "not apply to any office filled by election by the people." The office of City Councilman, including that of the City of Pasadena, is filled by election by the people.

I find no statute, and no provision of the Pasadena charter, that purports to prohibit the holding of these two offices at the same time.

This leaves for consideration the common law rule of incompatibility. It is a rule of public policy. "At common law the holding of one office does not of itself disqualify the incumbent from holding another office at the same time, provided there is no inconsistency in the functions of the two offices in question. * * * The inconsistency, which at common law makes offices incompatible, does not consist in the physical impossibility to discharge the duties of both offices, but rather lies in a conflict of interest, as where one is subordinate to the other and subject in some degree to the supervisory power of its incumbent, or where the incumbent of one of the offices has the power to remove the incumbent of the other or to audit the accounts of the other." (People ex rel. Chapman vs. Rapsey (1940) 16 Cal. (2d) 636, 642, holding incompatible the offices of city judge and city attorney, the latter being required to appear before the former from time to time and present or defend actions to which the city is a party; followed in People ex rel. Bagshaw vs Thompson (1942), 55 Cal. App. (2d) 147, offices of member of county board of supervisors and of member of bridge and highway district board of directors, the latter office being filled by appointment by the former board; and in People ex rel Kraemer vs. Bagshaw (1942), 55 C.A. (2d) 155, offices of member of county board of supervisors and of member of council of sixth class city in the same county, the board and the council having potential contractual relationships, each with the other, and each possessing an auditing power over the other.)

No such inconsistency as obtained in the cited cases appears to exist between the offices of Member of the Senate or the Assembly and member of a city council; e.g., no contractual relationship, no auditing power, no power of appointment or removal.

There is only the power of the Assemblyman or Senator to participate in the enactment of laws governing cities; including the city of which he is a councilman. In this sense, in this sense only, is the latter office subordinate or subject to the former.

I do not think this is the kind of relationship which creates an "inconsistency" within the meaning of the common law rule of incompatibility. It is not even a direct relationship, for under our constitution the Legislature can legislate concerning municipal corporations only by general laws, not by special laws dealing with particular cities (Art. XI, Sec. 6).

It may also be observed that "public policy," upon which the rule of incompatibility is founded, "is at best a vague and uncertain guide" (Miller & Lux vs. Madera Canal Co. (1909), 155 Cal. 59, 65).

The expert knowledge of important governmental problems which a person acquires as city councilman, well may be of such benefit to the people in his capacity of state legislator as to offset any putative personal interest he might have in considering and acting upon legislation affecting cities.

These factors, one of our appellate courts adverted to when, in holding that the position of high school teacher and office of Assemblyman could be held at the same time, it said:

"Is a teacher, by virtue of his employment and the state of mind arising therefrom, in such a position that he would be incapable of independent action as a member of the Legislature?

We do not believe that his voice and vote on legislation would be any more influenced by the bare fact of his contract to teach than they would if he had no present contract of employment

It may be admitted that from the nature of his profession he would have a considerable interest in those measures affecting education

He should have a knowledge and experience that should make his advice valuable on such matters

This is as it should be, for every legislator should possess some knowledge of certain activities of government He cannot be familiar with them all.

Legislators are, or should be, selected by the people because of a familiarity with governmental affairs and because they possess a knowledge of the needs and desires of their constituents and the State at large. In the Legislature we find members drawn from all callings, and from the combined knowledge and experience of all, the people at large should hope for legislation resulting in the common good." (Leymel vs Johnson (1930), 105 Cal. App. 694, 703.)

Significant, too, is the fact that throughout the history of the State there have been, from time to time, legislators who also served as city councilmen without any question raised concerning their legal right to do so This is a long standing interpretation by the Legislature, by the city councils, by state and local fiscal officers, and by the electorate, that these offices are compatible, an interpretation to which the Supreme Court would give great weight should this question come before it for consideration and decision.

In addition, there is a series of New York decisions quite persuasive of the views herein expressed

In the first of the series, heard at a special term of the court of common pleas, it was held that the offices of member of the state assembly and of deputy clerk of the court of special sessions, were compatible, a holding based upon an extensive review of English and American decisions and the practice in this county of electing local officers to the Legislature, also the fact that local officers had served as delegates to the several constitutional conventions of the State of New York. (People vs. Green (1874), 46 How Pr. Rep 169) This decision was affirmed upon appeal to the general term of the court (People vs. Green (1874), 5 Daly's Reports 254). These words of the court are quite significant:

"The power of the Legislature, of which the relator was a member, to pass laws affecting his local office did not create any incompatibility of office

All citizens, in office or otherwise, are equally subject to the action of that body, and whatever may be the personal interest of the legislator in the subject of legislation, he is not (aside from matters of delicacy or personal honor) precluded from taking part in its deliberations or acting upon the subject." (5 Daly's Rep. 254, 273.)

Although People vs. Green was reversed upon appeal to the Court of Appeals, the reversal was upon another ground. The upper court took particular care to point out that it concurred in the lower court's views as to compatibility of office, saying:

> "Nor is the office of a member of the assembly in the legal sense of the word, incompatible with that of deputy clerk of the Court of Special Sessions of the city and county of New York. After the exhaustive opinions delivered in the court below upon this point, it would be an unwarrantable use of time to go over the ground again, so well explored in them." (People vs. Green (1874), 58 N. Y. 295, 304.)

This ruling was later followed and applied in People ex rel. Gilchrest vs. Murray (1878), 73 N. Y. 535, 542, and in Stewart vs. Mayor of N. Y. (1897) 44 N. Y. S. 575.

The conclusion seems inescapable that the offices of Member of the Assembly and of city councilman are compatible and may be held at the same time, except in the case of a city whose charter prohibits its councilmen from also serving as state Assemblyman, and that the City of Pasadena charter contains no such prohibition.

Yours very truly,

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Collins:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS, SACRAMENTO, June 6, 1947

State Water Resources Board
Public Works Building
Sacramento 5, California

GENTLEMEN: Under the provisions of Chapter 1514, Statutes of 1945, an agreement, dated November 14, 1946, was entered into by and between the State Water Resources Board, the County of Santa Barbara, and the Department of Public Works. The agreement provided that the State Engineer make investigations, studies, surveys, plans and estimates necessary to enable the State Water Resources Board to make recommendation and report to the Legislature upon works for control of flood flows of the Santa Ynez River in the "Cantlay Cut" area near Lompoc, Santa Barbara County.

The cost of the investigation was borne equally by a contribution of $1,000 from the County of Santa Barbara and an allotment of $1,000 by the State Water Resources Board.

It was developed in the course of the investigation that the flood control problem included a major portion of the Lompoc Valley rather than the "Cantlay Cut" area alone and the scope of the investigation was accordingly broadened.

The report authorized as outlined above is transmitted herewith.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD HYATT, State Engineer

Above mentioned report ordered filed with the Secretary of State.

Amendment No. 1

On page 2 of the printed bill, after line 51, insert

"SEC. 2. Chapter 7.1 is added to Part 3, Division 2 of the Labor Code, to read:

CHAPTER 7.1—CALIFORNIA STATE LABOR ACT

Article 1. Findings and Policy

1125. The economic necessity for employees to possess full freedom of association, actual liberty of contract and bargaining power equal to that of their employers, who are frequently organized in corporate or other forms of association, has long been sanctioned by public opinion, and recognized and affirmed by legislatures and the highest courts. As the modern industrial system has progressed, there has developed between and among employees and employers an even greater economic interdependence and community of interest which have become matters of vital public concern. Employers and employees have recognized that the peaceable practice and wholesome development of that relationship and interest are materially aided by the general adoption and advancement of the procedure and practice of bargaining collectively as between equals. It is in the public interest that equality of bargaining power be established and maintained. It is likewise recognized that the denial by some employers of the right of employees freely to organize and the resultant refusal to accept the procedure of collective bargaining, substantially and adversely affect the interest of employees, other employers and the public in general. Such denial creates variations and instability in competitive wage rates and working conditions within and between industries and between employees and employers engaged in such industries, and by depressing the purchasing power of wage earners and the profits of business and tends (a) to produce and aggravate recurrent business depressions, (b) to increase the disparity between production and consumption, (c) to create unemployment with its attendant dangers to the health, peace and morale of the people, and (d) to increase public and private expenditures for relief of the needy and the unemployed.

When some employers deny the right of employees to full freedom of association and organization, and refuse to recognize the practice and procedure of collective bargaining, their actions lead to strikes, lockouts and other forms of industrial strife and unrest which are inimical to the public safety and welfare, and frequently endanger the public health.

Experience has proved that protection by law of the right of employees to organize and bargain collectively, removes certain recognized sources of industrial strife and unrest, encourages practices fundamental to the friendly adjustment of industrial disputes arising out of differences as to wages, hours or other working conditions, and tends to restore equality of bargaining power between and among employers and employees, thereby advancing the interests of employers as well as employees.

In the interpretation and application of this article, and otherwise, it is hereby declared to be the public policy of the State to encourage the practice and procedure of collective bargaining, and to protect employees in the exercise of full freedom of association, self-organization and designation of representatives of their own choosing for the purposes of collective bargaining, or other mutual aid and protection, free from the interference, restraint or coercion of their employers.

All the provisions of this article shall be liberally construed for the accomplishment of this purpose.

This article shall be deemed an exercise of the police power of the State for the protection of the public welfare, prosperity, health and peace of the people of the State.

1125.11. It shall be an unfair labor practice for an employer:

1. To spy upon or keep under surveillance, whether directly or through agents or any other person, any activities of employees or their representatives in the exercise of the rights guaranteed by Article 4.

5 To encourage membership in any company union or discrimination in regard to hire or tenure or in any term or condition of employment; provided, that nothing in this article shall preclude an employer from making an agreement with a labor organization requiring as a condition of employment membership therein, if such labor organization is the representative of employees as provided in Article 6

1125.13. The board shall decide in each case whether, in order to insure to employees the full benefit of their right to self-organization, to collective bargaining and otherwise to effectuate the policies of this article, the unit appropriate for the purposes of collective bargaining shall be the employer unit, craft unit, plant unit, or any other unit, provided, however, that in any case where the majority of employees of a particular craft shall so decide the board shall designate such craft as a unit appropriate for the purpose of collective bargaining.

1125.14. Whenever it is alleged by an employee or his representative or by an employer or his representative that there is a question or controversy concerning the representation of employees, the board shall investigate such question or controversy after public hearing and due notice. Article 7. Prevention of Unfair Labor Practices

1125.19. The board is empowered and directed, as hereinafter provided, to prevent any employer from engaging in any unfair labor practice. This power shall not be affected or impaired by any means of adjustment, mediation or conciliation in labor disputes that have been or may hereafter be established by law.

1125.20. Whenever a charge has been made that any employer has engaged in or is engaging in any unfair labor practice, the board shall have power to issue and cause to be served upon such employer a complaint stating the charges in that respect and containing a notice of hearing before the board at a place therein fixed to be held not less than seven days after the serving of said complaint. Any such complaint may be amended by the board or its agent conducting the hearing at any time prior to the issuance of an order based thereon. The person so complained of shall have the right to file an answer to the original or amended complaint not less than five days after the service of such original or amended complaint not less than five days after the service of such original or amended complaint and to appear in person or otherwise to give testimony at the place and time set in the complaint. In the discretion of a member or agent conducting the hearing, or of the board, any other person may be allowed to intervene in the said proceeding and to present testimony. In any such proceeding the board or its agent shall not be bound by technical rules of evidence prevailing in the courts of law or equity.

1125.21. The testimony taken at the hearing shall be reduced to writing and filed with the board. Thereafter in its discretion, the board upon notice may take further testimony or hear argument. If upon all the testimony taken the board shall determine that the respondent has engaged in or is engaging in any unfair labor practice, the board shall state its findings of fact and shall issue and cause to be served on such respondent an order requiring such respondent to cease and desist from such unfair labor practice, and to take such further affirmative or other action as will effectuate the policies of this article, including, but not limited to (a) withdrawal of recognition from and refraining from bargaining collectively with any employee organization or association, agency or plan defined in this article as a company union or established, maintained or assisted by any action defined in this article as an unfair labor practice; (b) awarding of back pay; (c) reinstatement with or without back pay of any employee discriminated against in violation of Article 5, or maintenance of a preferential list from which such employee shall be returned to work; (d) reinstatement with or without back pay of all employees whose work has ceased or whose return to work has been delayed or prevented as the result of the aforementioned or any other unfair labor practice in respect to any employee or employees or maintenance of a preferential list from which such employees shall be returned to work. Such order may further require such person to make reports from time to time showing the extent to which the order has been complied with. If upon all the testimony the board shall be of the opinion that the person or persons named in the complaint have not engaged in or not engaging in any such unfair labor practice, then the board shall make its findings of fact and shall issue an order dismissing the complaint.

1125.22. Until a transcript of the record in a case shall have been filed in a court, as hereinafter provided, the board may at any time, upon reasonable notice and in such manner as it shall deem proper, modify or set aside, in whole or in part, any finding or order made or issued by it.

1125.24. The board shall consider all complaints or petitions filed with it and conduct all proceedings under this article with all possible expedition.

Article 8. Judicial Review

1125.25. The board shall have power to petition the superior court of the State within the county wherein the unfair labor practice in question occurred or wherein any person charged with the unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, or if such court be on vacation or in recess, then to the superior court of any county adjoining the county wherein the unfair labor practice in question occurred or wherein any person charged with the unfair labor practice resides or transacts business, for the enforcement of such order and for appropriate temporary relief or restraining order, and shall certify and file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, including the pleadings and testimony upon which such order was made and the findings and order of the board. Upon such filing, the court shall cause notice thereof to be served upon such person, and thereupon shall have jurisdiction of the proceeding and of the question determined therein, and shall have power to grant such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and to make and enter upon the pleadings, testimony and proceedings set forth in such transcript a decree enforcing, modifying, and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board.

1125.26. No objection that has not been urged before the board, its member, agent or agency, shall be considered by the court, unless the failure or neglect to urge such objection shall be excused because of extraordinary circumstances. The findings of the board as to the facts, if supported by evidence, shall be conclusive. If either party shall apply to the court for leave to adduce additional evidence and shall show to the satisfaction of the court that such additional evidence is material and that there were reasonable grounds for the failure to adduce such evidence in the hearing before the board, its member, agent, or agency, the court may order such additional evidence to be taken before the board, its member, agent, or agency, and to be made a part of the transcript. The board may modify its findings as to the facts, or make new findings, by reason of additional evidence so taken and filed, and it shall file such modified or new findings, which, if supported by evidence, shall be conclusive, and shall file its recommendations, if any, for the modification or setting aside of its original order.

1125 26. The jurisdiction of the superior court shall be exclusive and its judgment and decree shall be final, except that the same shall be subject to review by the appellate division of said court, on appeal by either party, irrespective of the nature of the decree or judgment or the amount involved. Such appeal shall be taken and prosecuted in the same manner and form and with the same effect as is provided in other cases of appeal to the appellate division of the superior court, and the record so certified shall contain all that was before the lower court, and the order of the appellate division shall for all purposes, including appeal to the court of appeals, be deemed to be a final order in a special proceeding.

1125 27. Any person aggrieved by a final order of the board granting or denying in whole or in part the relief sought including any final orders made pursuant to the provisions of Article 6 hereof, may obtain a review of such order in the superior court of the county where the unfair labor practice in question was alleged to have been engaged in or wherein such person resides or transacts business, by filing in such court a written petition praying that the order of the board be modified or set aside, or if such court be on vacation or in recess, then to the superior court of any county adjoining the county wherein the unfair labor practice in question occurred or wherein any such person resides or transacts business A copy of such petition shall be forthwith served upon the board, and thereupon the aggrieved party shall file in the court a transcript of the entire record in the proceeding, certified by the board, including the pleading and testimony and order of the board. Upon such filing, the court shall proceed in the same manner as in the case of an application by the board under Article 7, and shall have the same exclusive jurisdiction to grant to the board such temporary relief or restraining order as it deems just and proper, and in like manner to make and enter a decree enforcing, modifying and enforcing as so modified, or setting aside in whole or in part the order of the board; and the findings of the board as to the facts shall in like manner be conclusive.

1125.28 The commencement of proceedings under Sections 1125 24 and 1125 27 of this article shall not, unless specifically ordered by the court, operate as a stay of the board's order.

1125 29. When granting appropriate temporary relief or a restraining order, or making and entering a decree enforcing, modifying and enforcing as so modified or setting aside in whole or in part an order of the board, as provided in this section the jurisdiction of courts sitting in equity shall not be limited by acts pertaining to equity jurisdiction of courts

Petitions filed under this article shall be heard expeditiously and shall be considered and determined upon the transcript filed, without requirement of printing. Upon the filing of a record in the superior court, the case shall be heard with greatest possible expedition, and shall take precedence over all other matters except matters of the same character.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE, SACRAMENTO, June 18, 1947

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: I am returning herewith without my signature

Assembly Bill No. 2014, entitled: "An act to amend Sections 8404 and 8503 of the Education Code, relating to ages of school children."

My objections are as follows.

This bill raises the age for admission to the kindergarten and the first grade in school districts maintaining two terms but leaves the age for admission unchanged in districts maintaining but one term The present ages for admission to kindergarten and first grade were established in 1945. There is no indication that they have remained in effect long enough to be given a fair trial Constant and frequent change leads to confusion. Confusion will also result from the terms of this bill itself It would go into effect late in September Many children will enter kindergarten under the present law. The Superintendent of Public Instruction points out that after completing one year of kindergarten such pupils will be unable to enter the first grade It is undesirable to require pupils to attend an extra half year of kindergarten by a change in the law relative to the age of admission. The Superintendent of Public Instruction further points out that the proposed increase in the minimum age of admission to the kindergarten and first grade in districts maintaining two terms discriminates against children residing in school districts not maintaining such terms and is not justified This bill is also opposed by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers and the California Association of Childhood Education. For the reasons stated I am returning this bill without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

By Mr. Dickey:

House Resolution No. 257

WHEREAS, The State of California does not have a uniform system or procedure for paying the salaries and wages of its employees as a result of which many employees are required to wait as much as 15 days to over 2 months to receive their pay following the end of the month in which it is earned; and

WHEREAS, This has caused and will continue to cause great hardship to many state employees who must pay their bills promptly and this condition also constitutes a serious handicap in the recruitment of new employees, and

WHEREAS, In addition to the inconvenience and discrimination caused to state employees by lack of any reasonably certain pay date there are other unsettled pay problems such as twice monthly pay and itemization of deductions of pay checks; and

WHEREAS, As a result of the many protests against the present pay system from both departments and employees, upon invitation of the State Controller, a special committee was established to make a complete study of these problems and recommend a solution, the committee consisting of a representative from the offices of the State Controller, the Legislative Auditor, the Department of Finance (Division of Administration), and the State Personnel Board; and

WHEREAS, Various bills and resolutions were introduced in this session of the Legislature to establish fixed pay dates, twice monthly pay and itemization of deductions on pay checks but because the subject matter of each bill was interrelated it was considered undesirable to pass said bills without due consideration for the effect each would have upon the other, or to what extent they would interfere with establishing a sound, overall plan; and

WHEREAS, Said committee has been continuously working on its assignment but will not be able to render a final report prior to the adjournment of this session of the Legislature; now, therefore, be it
