PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr Speaker:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, March 18, 1927.

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the Lower House of the State Legislature

GENTLEMEN At a regular meeting of Stanton Post No 55, Department of California and Nevada, Grand Army of the Republic, a motion was made and carried most heartily endorsing the request of Peter H. Mass, Department Commander of the California and Nevada Grand Army of the Republic, asking that the appropriation for improvements at the Veterans' Home near Yountville, Napa County, California, be doubled so that two new barracks can be erected during the ensuing two years instead of only one.

Stanton Post No. 55 has a membership of 500 members, veterans of the Civil War, who are deeply interested in this measure, and all that pertains to the defenders of our country.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY LUNDY, Commander.

Also:

Resolution No. 26945 (new series), as follows

WHEREAS, Senate Bill No. 650, introduced by Senator Lyon, if passed, would remove all discretionary powers of this board of supervisors and every other board of supervisors in granting franchises for private toll bridge projects; and

WHEREAS, This would be accomplished by the provision that, if a bridge project merely complies with the various State and federal laws and regulations, the supervisors of the county on the left-bank "shall grant the application by an order entered in its minutes and particularly describing the bridge"; and

WHEREAS, Under this provision, this board would be mandated immediately to grant bay bridge franchises for apparently five surface bridges and two subsurface tube projects which claim to comply with existing Federal regulations; thereby creating unbearable financial confusion, engendering litigation, removing all prospect that the existing War Department restrictions would ever be modified, and making it impossible for this board to select a bridge location properly based upon the advice of consulting engineers; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this board hereby shall proceed to do its utmost to bring about the defeat of Senate Bill No. 650; and be it further

Resolved, That to this end this board's legislative committee is hereby instructed to make this a main object of its work at Sacramento; that the delegates of this board to the State Supervisors' Convention are hereby instructed to seek similar action on the part of that body, and that copies of this resolution shall be sent to the Governor, the presidents of the Senate and the Assembly, the committees of the Senate and Assembly having this matter in hand and the individual members of the Senate and Assembly.

Adopted by the board of supervisors March 7, 1927.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 23, 1927.

Hon. Edgar C. Levey, Speaker of the Assembly,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California.

DEAR SENATOR: At a meeting of 1200 journeymen barbers held March twenty-first, I was instructed to write to you and solicit your good office for the passage through the Assembly of Senate Bill No. 99—Barbers' Sanitation Law. This bill has the endorsement of 8000 shop owners and 15,000 journeymen barbers in California and is a protective measure along sanitary lines.

The barbers of California, both shop owners and journeymen, are seeking this piece of legislation as a protective measure for the future barber along the lines of trying to inaugurate decent and efficient colleges for the same. The only objection that we meet at the present time comes from the so-called barber colleges that now exist. They have no regulation, nothing to govern their business, and nothing to protect the student who may enter their institution.

The barber bill is based on scientific educational requirements that have been endorsed by the International Association of Master Barbers and the International Journeymen Barbers. And, as I have said before, has the united support of all the shop owners and journeymen barbers in California.

My association would be very happy to have you lend your support on behalf of the passage of this measure without amendments.

Senate Bill No. 99 has received the endorsement of the State Federation of Labor, the State Building Trades Council, the State Board of Education, the State Board of Health, the Federation of Women's Clubs, the Hotel Men's Association and various chambers of commerce, so you can see that it is not a labor nor a capitalistic measure, but one that will perform civic benefit.

Hoping that you will give this your earnest support, I remain

Fraternally yours,

DANIEL T. TATTENHAM,
Secretary-Treasurer, California State Federation of Journeymen Barbers.

WHEREAS, It is deemed necessary that a certain bill pending before the State Legislature, to wit, Assembly Bill No. 54, relating to the establishment of airports by municipalities, be amended; and

WHEREAS, In the opinion of this council, section 1 of said bill should be amended as follows:

"Any city and county, or county, or city, operating under a freeholders charter, or otherwise, or any town or any municipal corporation in the State of California, is hereby authorized and empowered to acquire by purchase, condemnation, donation, lease, or otherwise, real or personal property, or to use any real property owned by it within or without its corporate limits for a site upon which an airport or airports may be maintained and upon which any such city and county, or county, or city, or town, or municipal corporation, may erect and maintain, or permit the erection and maintenance of hangars, flying fields, and all places for flying, taking off and landing of aircraft and the storage of the same when not in active use." Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the council of the city of Los Angeles hereby endorses said amendment and respectfully recommends to the Legislature of the State of California that said Assembly Bill No. 54 be amended in the manner above indicated and that the city attorney be and he is hereby authorized and directed to present such amendment, in proper form, to the Legislature for its action.

Hon. Edgar C. Levey, Speaker of the House,
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: At a recent meeting of our executive committee, it was decided to send you a letter urging you to interest yourself in the passage, without amendment, of Senate Bill No. 99, known as the California Barber Law

This measure is intended to raise the standard of our business and is a protective measure for the public. As men, women and children now patronize the barber, it will prove beneficial to 85 per cent of our population. There is at present no protection for the public as to mental, physical and mechanical fitness—any one can now practice barbering no matter how unfit he may be.

This measure is sponsored and endorsed by 8000 barber shop owners and 15,000 journeymen. It also has the endorsement of the Federation of Women's Improvement Clubs, of the State Board of Health, Mr. Cooper of the State Board of Education, the State Federation of Labor, the Building Trades Council, the approval of the California Hotel Men's Association and other bodies.

It has not been disapproved by any civic body or association. The only objectors have been the few owners of barber colleges who are adverse to being regulated.

Respectfully requesting your careful consideration of the above, we remain

Yours truly,

JOHN BERNHARD,
President Master Barbers' Association of San Francisco,
Vice President State Master Barbers' Association.

R. D. PENNY, Secretary Master Barbers' Association of San Francisco and California State Master Barbers' Association.

Any insufficiency of form or substance in such statement shall in no wise effect the validity of the election and proceedings held thereunder. The signatures to the petition need not all be appended to one paper. Each signer shall add to his signature his place of residence, giving the precinct, and if within a town having named streets and numbered houses, street and number. The secretary shall, within ten days after such supplementing papers are filed, make like examination of a supplementing petition, and if a certificate shall show that all the names to such petition, including the supplemental papers, are still insufficient, no action shall be taken thereon, but the petition shall remain on file as a public record; and the failure to secure sufficient names shall be without prejudice to the filing later of an entirely new petition to the same effect. If the petition shall be found to be sufficient, the secretary shall submit the same to the board of directors without delay, whereupon the board shall forthwith cause a special election to be held within not less than thirty-five nor more than forty days after the date of the order calling such election, to determine whether the voters will recall such officer; provided, that if a general election is to occur within sixty days, from the date of the order calling for such election, the board may in its discretion postpone the holding of such election to such general election or submit such recall election at any such general election for officers of such district occurring not less than thirty-five days after such order. If a vacancy occur in said office after a recall petition is filed, the election shall nevertheless proceed as in this section provided. One petition is sufficient to propose a removal and election of one or more elective officials. One election is competent for the removal and election of one or more elective officials. Nominations for any office under such recall election shall be made in the manner prescribed by section 22*b* of this act.

There shall be printed on the recall ballot, as to every officer whose recall is to be voted on thereat, the following question: "Shall (name of person against whom the recall petition is filed) be recalled from the office of (title of the office)?" following which question shall be the words "Yes" and "No" on separate lines, with a blank space at the right of each, in which the voter shall indicate, by stamping a cross (X) his vote for or against such recall. On such ballots, under each such question, there shall also be printed the names of those persons who have been nominated as candidates to succeed the person recalled, in case he shall be removed from office by said recall election; but no vote shall be counted for any candidate for said office unless the voter also voted on said question of the recall of the person sought to be recalled from said office. The name of the person against whom the petition is filed shall not appear on the ballot as a candidate for the office. If a majority of those voting on said question of the recall of any incumbent from office shall vote "No", said incumbent shall continue in said office. If a majority shall vote "Yes", said incumbent shall thereupon be deemed removed from such office, upon the qualification of his successor. The election shall be conducted, canvass of all votes for candidates for said office shall be made and the result declared in like manner as in a regular election within such district. If the vote at any such recall election shall recall the officer, then the candidate who has received the highest number of votes for the office shall be thereby declared elected for the remainder of the term. In case the person who received the highest number of votes shall fail to qualify within ten days after receiving the certificate of election, the office shall be deemed vacant and shall be filled according to law. If the vote at any such recall election shall not recall the officer, no further petition for the recall of such officer shall be filed before the expiration of six months from the date of such first recall election.

The legal title to all property acquired under the provisions of this act shall immediately and by operation of law vest in such natural resource district, and shall be held by such district, in trust for, and is hereby dedicated and set apart to the uses and purposes set forth in this act. And said board is hereby authorized and empowered to hold, use and acquire, manage, occupy and possess said property, as herein provided. The board of directors may determine by resolution duly entered upon their minutes that any property, real or personal, held by such natural resource district is no longer necessary to be retained for the uses and purposes thereof, and may thereafter sell such property; and a conveyance of any property held by any natural resource district, executed by the president and secretary thereof, in accordance with a resolution of the board of directors of such district, when sold for a valuable consideration, shall convey good title to the property so conveyed.

SEC. 38. For the purpose of constructing or purchasing necessary wells, pipe and power lines and works, and acquiring the necessary property and rights therefor, and for the purpose of acquiring natural gas, petroleum deposits and storages and storage sites, and other property necessary for the purposes of said district, and otherwise carrying out the provisions of this act, or any other act under which said district is or may be authorized to acquire property or construct works, the board of directors of any such district must, as soon after such district has been organized as may be practicable, and also whenever thereafter the board of directors shall find that the construction fund raised by the last previous bond issue is insufficient, or that the construction fund has been exhausted by expenditures herein authorized therefrom and it is necessary to raise additional money for said purposes, estimate and determine the amount of money necessary to be raised. For the purpose of ascertaining the amount of money necessary to be raised for such purposes, or any of them, said board shall cause such surveys, examinations, drawings, and plans to be made as shall furnish the proper basis for said estimate. Said surveys, examinations, drawings and plans and the estimate based thereon may provide that the works necessary for a completed project shall be constructed progressively during a period of years. In the estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by the first issue of bonds in any district, the board of directors may include a sum sufficient to pay the interest on all such bonds for three years or less. All such surveys, examinations, drawings and plans shall be made under the direction of a competent engineer and shall be certified by him.

SEC. 39. The board of directors shall then submit a copy of the said estimate and the said engineer's report to the commission authorized by law to approve bonds of natural resource districts for certification as legal investments for savings banks and for the other purposes specified in the act creating said commission. Said commission shall forthwith examine said report and any data in its possession or in the possession of said district and shall make such additional surveys and examinations at the expense of the district as it may deem proper or practicable, and as soon as practicable thereafter shall make to the board of directors of said district a report which shall contain such matters as, in the judgment of the said commission, may be desirable; provided, that it may state generally the conclusions of said commission regarding the supply of gas and petroleum products available for the project, the cost of works, rights and other property necessary for a complete and satisfactory project, the proper dates of maturity for the bonds proposed to be issued and whether in its opinion it is advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue. If the estimate of the amount of said bond issue shall have included any amount for the payment of interest on the bonds of such issue, as provided in section 30 of this act, and such estimate for the payment of interest, or any part thereof, is approved by the commission in said report, it shall be lawful for the board of directors, if the issuance of such bonds is thereafter authorized by vote of the electors of the district, to use for the payment of interest on any bonds of such issue so much of the proceeds of the sale of said bonds as may have been approved for that purpose in said report of the commission.

SEC. 40. If after such examination and investigation the said commission shall deem it advisable that the said plans be modified or that the amount of the bonds proposed to be issued be changed, or that certain conditions should be prescribed to insure the success of the project, or that in its opinion it is not advisable to proceed with the proposed bond issue, it shall so state in its report to the board of directors. After receiving said report, or if no report is received within ninety days after the submission of said estimate and engineer's report to said commission, said board of directors, if it shall determine and shall declare by resolution that the proposed plan of works or some modified plan recommended by said commission is satisfactory and that the said project or said modified plan is feasible, shall make an order determining the amount of bonds that should be issued in order to raise the money necessary therefor, and in determining said amount sufficient shall be included to cover the estimated cost of inspection of works in course of construction, as provided for by law; provided, that if any district shall issue bonds to carry out any plans approved by said commission as herein provided it shall be unlawful to said district to make any material change in said plans thereafter without the consent of said commission.

SEC. 41. After the making of the order specified in section 39 of this act said board of directors may call a special election, at which shall be submitted to the electors of such district possessing the qualifications prescribed by this act, the question whether or not the bonds of said district in the amount determined in said order of said board shall be issued, and said board must call such an election and submit said question upon receipt of a petition signed by a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district, representing, also, a majority in value of said lands, or by at least five hundred petitioners, each petitioner to the number of at least five hundred to be an elector residing within the district or a holder of title or evidence of title to lands therein; provided, that said petitioners shall include the holders of title or evidence of title to not less than twenty per cent in value of said lands. In determining the value of any lands within a natural resource district and the holders of title or evidence of title to such lands for the purpose of determining the sufficiency of any petition required by this act after the organization of the district, the assessment roll of the district last equalized at the time of the presentation of such petition shall be conclusive evidence, but if no assessment roll of the district has theretofore been equalized then the county assessment roll of the county within which any lands within the district are situated, which county assessment roll has been last equalized at the time of the presentation of such petition, shall be conclusive evidence of such facts for such land.

SEC. 42. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept, once a week for at least three successive weeks. Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, the amount of bonds proposed to be issued; and said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted.

SEC. 43. At said election questions as to the issuance of bonds may be submitted separately on the same ballot if estimates of the cost of the respective projects have been made and the natural resource district bond commission has reported thereon and the respective propositions have been stated in the notices of the election. At such election the ballots shall contain a general statement of the proposition or propositions to be voted on, including the amount of bonds proposed to be issued for each purpose, but no informality in such statement shall vitiate the election Each proposition shall be followed by the words "Yes" "No" on separate lines, with a small inclosed space after each of said words. The electors shall vote for or against any proposition by stamping a cross (×) in the voting space after the word "Yes" or "No" respectively. On the ballot shall be printed the following under the heading "Instructions to voters": "To vote for a proposition, stamp a cross (×) in the voting space after the word "Yes" following the proposition. To vote against a proposition, stamp a cross (×) in the voting space after the word "No" following the proposition." If two-thirds of the votes cast for and against any proposition are for "Yes", the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in such proposition to be issued; provided, that if said election shall have been called after the presentation of a petition therefor as provided in section 30*c* of this act, the board of directors shall cause bonds in the amount specified in any proposition to be issued if a majority of the votes cast for and against said proposition are for "Yes". If the number of votes for any proposition is less than the number required herein to authorize the issuance of the bonds provided for therein, the result of the vote on said proposition shall be entered of record, but said proposition may be again submitted to the electors of the district at a special election upon the presentation to the board of directors of a petition therefor signed as provided in section 30*c* of this act.

The date of issue of any bond authorized under this act or heretofore or hereafter issued in pursuance of this act shall be deemed to be the apparent date of the said bond appearing on the face thereof. Each bond shall be signed by the president and secretary of the board of directors of the district, who may be in the office at the date of said bond or at any time thereafter prior to the delivery of said bond to the purchaser thereof from the district, and the seal of the district shall be impressed on each bond. The interest coupons shall also bear the signature of the secretary of the board of directors or a facsimile of such signature The board of directors shall fix the denominations of said bonds, which shall not be less than one-hundred dollars nor more than one-thousand dollars. SEC. 45. The board may sell said bonds from time to time in such quantities as may be necessary and most advantageous to raise money for the construction of said wells, pipe and power lines and works, the acquisition of said property and rights, or the acquisition of any natural gas and petroleum rights, and otherwise to fully carry out the objects and purposes of this act. Before making any sale the board shall, at a meeting, by resolution, declare its intention to sell a specified amount of the bonds, and the day and hour and place of such sale, and shall cause such a resolution to be entered in the minutes, and notice of the sale to be given, by publication thereof at least three weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is located and in any other newspaper at its discretion. The notice shall state that sealed proposals will be received by the board at their office, for the purchase of bonds, till the day and hour named in the resolution. At the time appointed, the board shall open the proposals and award the purchase of the bonds or any portion or portions thereof to the highest responsible bidder or bidders; provided, however, that they may reject any or all bids; and provided, further, that no proposal shall be accepted which is not accompanied by a certified check for such reasonable percentage of the amount of the bid as shall be determined by the board of directors, but in no event less than two per cent of the amount thereof to apply on the purchase price of the bonds, the amount of which check shall be forfeited if after the acceptance of the proposal the bidder shall refuse to accept said bonds and complete his purchase thereof on the conditions stated in his proposal In case no award is made, the board thereafter may either readvertise said bonds or any part thereof for sale or sell the same or any part thereof at private sale but no sale of said bonds at private sale shall be valid unless approved by the California bond certification commission.

SEC. 46. The board of directors of any natural resource district organized and existing under or subject to the provisions of this act may, by a majority vote of the members of the board, submit to the electors of said natural resource district at any election, the proposition of the issuance of new bonds for the purpose of funding or refunding any or all bonds of such district outstanding at the time of such election.

Such election shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared substantially in the same manner, and the vote required for the authorization of such bonds shall be the same as provided by this act for the issuance of other bonds of such districts.

Such funding or refunding bonds shall be issued in substantially the manner and in the form required by this act for the issuance of other bonds of natural resource districts, and the provisions of this act, and of the act creating the California certification commission, concerning the authorization, certification, issuance and sale of bonds of natural resource districts, shall be applicable to funding or refunding bonds; provided, however, that the maturities of said funding or refunding bonds shall be fixed by the board of directors of said district, subject to the approval of the California bond certification commission, but in no case shall the maturity of any such bonds be more than forty years from the date thereof. Such funding or refunding bonds may be sold from time to time in the same manner as other bonds of the district, or, if the directors of the district and the holders of any outstanding bonds so elect, any such funding or refunding bonds may be exchanged for any outstanding bonds. Any such outstanding bonds so funded or refunded or exchanged shall be immediately canceled by the board of directors.

SEC. 47. If any natural resource district bonds have been authorized before the time when this section shall go into effect but have not been sold and the board of directors of said district deems it desirable that said board be authorized to sell said bonds for less than the par value thereof, said board may call a special election to submit to the voters of the district said proposition. Such election shall be held and notice thereof shall be given in the same manner as is provided in the case of special elections to authorize the issuance of bonds in natural resource districts. The proposition shall be stated in substantially the following form: "Shall the board of directors of_____(insert the name of the natural resource district) be authorized to sell bonds of the district for less than par value thereof?" followed by the words "YES" and "NO" as provided in section 30 hereof. If at least two-thirds of the legal votes cast at such election are for "YES" then the board of directors may sell any bonds authorized by said district before this section shall take effect to the highest responsible bidder.

SEC. 48. Said bonds and the interest thereon shall be paid from revenue derived from an annual assessment upon the land within the district; and all the land within the district shall be and remain liable to be assessed for such payments as hereinafter provided

SEC. 49. In case the money raised by the sale of bonds issued be insufficient, or in case the bonds be unavailable for the completion of the plan of development and works adopted, and the acquisition of the necessary property, gas and petroleum rights therefor, and additional bonds by not voted, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to provide for the completion of said plan, and the acquisition of such necessary property, gas and petroleum rights, by levy of assessments therefor; provided, however, that such levy of assessments shall not be made except first an estimate of the amount required for such purposes has been made by said board, and the question as to the making of said levy submitted to a vote of the electors of the district. Before such question is submitted the order of submission shall be entered in the minutes of the board, stating the amount to be levied and the purpose therefor, and if submitted at a special election said order shall, in addition, fix the day of election. Notice of such election must be given by posting notices in three public places in each election precinct in said district for at least twenty days, and also by publication of such notice in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors of such district is required to be kept once a week for at least three successive weeks Such notices must specify the time of holding the election, and the amount of assessment proposed to be levied Said election must be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects as nearly as practicable in conformity with the provisions of this act governing the election of officers; provided, that no informalities in conducting such an election shall invalidate the same, if the election shall have been otherwise fairly conducted At such an election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment"—"Yes", or "Assessment"—"No", or words equivalent thereto If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes", the board of directors shall cause an assessment in the amount named in the order of submission to be levied; if a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—No", the result of such election shall be so declared and entered of record

SEC. 50. The assessor must, between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in June, in each year, assess all real estate in the district, to the persons who own, claim or have possession or control thereof, at its full cash value, as follows: He must prepare an assessment book with appropriate headings, in which must be listed all such property within the district, in which must be specified, in separate columns, under the appropriate head: (1) the name of the person to whom the property is assessed, if the name is not known to the assessor, the property shall be assessed to "unknown owners"; (2) land by township, range, section or fractional section, and when such land is not congressional division or subdivision, by metes and bounds, or other description sufficient to identify it, giving an estimate of the number of acres and locality; (3) city and town lots, naming the city or town and the number and block, according to the system of numbering in such city or town; (4) the cash value of real estate, other than city or town lots; (5) the cash value of city and town lots, (6) the total value of all property assessed; (7) the total value of all property after equalization by the board of directors; (8) such other things as the board of directors may require Improvements on any lands or town lots within such districts shall be exempt from taxation for any of the purposes mentioned in this act Any property which may have escaped the payment of any assessment for any year, shall, in addition to the assessment for the then current year, be assessed for such year with the same effect and with the same penalties as are provided for in such current The term improvements as used in this section includes trees, vines, alfalfa and all growing crops and all buildings and structures of whatever class or description erected or being erected upon said lands or city or town lots

SEC. 51 The board of directors must allow the assessor as many deputies, to be appointed by him, as will, in the judgment of the board, enable him to complete the assessment within the time herein prescribed. The board must fix the compensation of such deputies, which shall be paid out of the treasury of the district The compensation must not exceed five dollars per day for each deputy, for the time actually engaged, nor must any allowance be made but for work done between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in August in each year.

SEC. 52 On or before the first Monday in August in each year, the assessor must complete his assessment book, and deliver it to the secretary of the board, who must immediately give notice thereof, and of the time the board of directors, acting as a board of equalization, will meet to equalize assessments, by publication in a newspaper published in each of the counties comprising the district. The time fixed for the meeting shall not be less than twenty nor more than thirty days from the first publication of the notice, and in the meantime the assessment book must remain in the office of the secretary for the inspection of all persons interested.

SEC 53 Upon the day specified in the notice required by the preceding section for the meeting, the board of directors, which is hereby constituted a board of equalization for that purpose, shall meet and continue in session from time to time, as long as may be necessary, not to exceed ten days, exclusive of Sundays, to hear and determine such objections to the valuation and assessment as may come before them and the board may change the valuation as may be just. The secretary of the board shall be present during its sessions, and note all changes made in the valuation of property, and in the names of the persons whose property is assessed; and within ten days after the close of the session he shall have the total values, as finally equalized by the board, extended into columns and added.

SEC 54 The board of directors shall then within fifteen days after the close of its session as a board of equalization, levy an assessment upon the lands within the district in an amount sufficient to raise the interest due or that will become due on all outstanding bonds of the district on the first day of the next ensuing January, and the first day of the next ensuing July, or that the board of directors believes will become due on either or both of said dates, on bonds authorized but not sold; also sufficient to pay the principal of all bonds of the district that have matured or that will mature before the close of the next ensuing calendar year; also sufficient to pay in full all sums due or that will become due from the district before the close of the next ensuing calendar year on account of rentals, or charges for lands, gas or petroleum rights acquired by said district under lease or contract; also sufficient to pay in full the amount of all unpaid warrants of the district issued in accordance with this act and the amount of any other contracts or obligations of the district which shall have been reduced to judgment, also sufficient to raise such amount not exceeding two per centum of the aggregate value of the lands within the district according to the latest duly equalized assessment roll thereof, as the board of directors shall determine may be needed to be raised by assessment for any of the purposes of this act. The board of directors may also include in any annual assessment such an amount as it may deem proper, not exceeding one per centum of the total assessed value of the land in the district to be apportioned to the bond fund and to be used as provided in section 52 of this act, for the redemption of immatured bonds of the district or for the creation of a sinking fund to pay any of such bonds as they become due, provided however that notwithstanding any provision of this act or any act amendatory hereof, or supplementary hereto, the board of directors may in lieu, either in whole or in part, of levying the annual assessment for the payment of interest on or principal of bonds or for any other purposes of this act, use any income or revenue of the district derived from the sale of electric power or from the sale or lease of gas or the use of gas or for power purposes.

SEC. 55. The secretary of the board must compute and enter in a separate column of the assessment book the respective sums in dollars and cents to be paid as an assessment on the property therein enumerated. When collected, the assessment shall be paid into the district treasury and be apportioned to the several proper funds.

SEC. 56. If as the result of the neglect or refusal of the board of directors to cause such assessment and levies to be made as in this act provided, then the duly equalized assessment made by the county assessor of the county or each of the respective counties in which the district is situated shall be the basis of assessment for the district, and the board of supervisors of the county in which the office of the board of directors of said district is situated shall cause as assessment roll of said district to be prepared, and shall make the levy required by this act, in the same manner and with like effect as if the same had been made by said board of directors and all expenses incident thereto shall be borne by such district and may be collected by suit at law, which shall be commended by the district attorney of the county whose board of supervisors caused said assessment roll to be prepared, unless the amount of such expenses shall be paid within sixty days from the time when proper demand shall have been made therefor. In case of the neglect or refusal of the collector or treasurer of any natural resource district to perform the duties imposed by law, then the tax collector and the treasurer of the county in which the office of the board of directors of such district is situated must respectively perform such duties and shall be accountable therefor upon their official bonds; but, in case any county tax collector shall collect any assessment for any natural resource district, he shall pay the same to the county treasurer, who shall place such money in special fund to the credit of the district and shall disburse the same to the proper persons for the purposes for which such assessments have been levied and shall not pay any part thereof to the treasurer of said district until said county treasurer shall be satisfied that all of the valid obligations for which such assessments were levied and for which payment has been demanded have been paid.

SEC. 57. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in which the office of any natural resource district is located to ascertain each year whether the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, have been performed, and if he shall learn that the board of directors or any official of any such natural resource district has neglected or refused to perform any such duty, said district attorney shall so notify the board of supervisors or the county official required by this act to perform such duty in such case, and unless such board of supervisors or such county official shall proceed to the performance of such duty within thirty days after the receipt of such notice the district attorney shall take such action in court as may be necessary to compel the performance of such duty, and said district attorney shall give such notice to other officials, and shall take such action, as may be necessary to secure the performance in their proper sequence of the other duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, that for the enforcement of the levying and collection of any assessment hereafter required to be levied and collected for the payment of any debt hereafter incurred, in case complaint shall be made to the attorney general of the State of California that the district attorney of any county has not performed any duty devolving upon him by the provisions of this section, or that he is not proceeding with due diligence or in the proper manner in the performance of any such duty, the attorney general shall make an investigation, and if it shall be found that such charge or charges are true, said attorney general shall take such measures as may be necessary to enforce the performance of the duties relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided

SEC. 58. If as the result of the neglect or refusal of any official or officials to perform any duty relating to the levying and collection of assessments, as in this act provided, it shall be impossible for such duty to be performed within the time required and such duty shall subsequently be performed, then the time within which all duties consequent upon the performance of such duty shall be performed shall be extended so as to allow the elapsing of the intervals required by this act to elapse between the performance of such duties, and the assessments herein provided for shall not become delinquent for at least thirty days after the first publication of the notice that such assessments are due and payable, as provided in section 41 of this act.

SEC. 59 In the event any land within said district subject to assessment for the purposes of the district has not been assessed by the county assessor or does not appear upon the county assessment roll adopted by said board of supervisors as the basis of assessment for the district, the land so omitted belonging to any person, association, corporation, or municipality shall be forthwith assessed by the county assessor upon an order of the board of supervisors and a description of the property so omitted shall be written in the roll prepared for the purpose of district assessments In such case, before any assessment is levied, the board of supervisors must meet and equalize said assessment with that of the assessment of other land in said district The same notice shall be given by the board of supervisors of such meeting for purpose of equalizing the assessment to be made as herein directed as is provided in this act to be given by the board of directors of a natural resource district when the said board is to meet for the purpose of equalizing assessments. All the powers and duties respecting the collection of all assessment on possession of, claim to, or right to the possession of land, now provided in sections 3820, 3821, 3822, 3823, 3824, 3825 and 3829 of the Political Code, as regards county assessors shall apply, so far as applicable, to natural resource district assessors

SEC. 60 Whenever any tolls and charges for the use of gas, petroleum or electric energy and other public uses provided for by this act have been fixed by the board of directors, it shall be lawful to make the same payable in advance. In case any tolls or charges remain unpaid at the time specified for the delivery of the assessment book to the collector of the district, the amount due for such tolls and charges, may be added to and become a part of the annual assessment levied upon the land upon which the gas, petroleum or electric energy for which such tolls and charges are unpaid was used and upon the lands subject to tolls and charges for other public uses, and shall constitute a lien on said land, and if such assessment is divided and made payable in two installments such unpaid tolls and charges may be added to and become a part of the first installment of said assessment.

SEC. 61. The assessment upon land is a lien against the property assessed from and after the first Monday in March for any year

SEC. 62 In case the board of directors of any natural resource district shall find that any property has been assessed in any year more than once or has been assessed by reason of a clerical error for more than its full cash value, or computed on an excessive acreage, or that any property assessed was not in the district when so assessed, the board may authorize the collector to cancel or modify such assessment, as may be proper, and in case of any such change in any assessment, the secretary shall credit the collector with the amount of said assessment if it is cancelled, or the amount by what it is reduced if it is modified

Any assessments, penalties or costs thereon or portions thereof, provided for by this act, heretofore or hereafter paid more than once or heretofore or hereafter erroneously, or illegally collected, may by order of the board of directors be refunded by the district treasurer

No order for the refund of assessments, penalties or costs under this section shall be made except upon a verified claim therefor, verified by the person who has paid said assessments, penalties or costs, or by his guardian, or in case of his death, by his executor or administrator, which said claim must be filed within one year after the making of the payment sought to be refunded.

SEC. 63 On or before the first day of November, the secretary must deliver the assessment book to the collector of the district, who shall within twenty days publish a notice in a newspaper published in each county in which any portion of the district may lie, that said assessments are due and payable and will become delinquent at six o'clock p m. on the last Monday of December next thereafter, and that unless paid prior thereto ten per cent will be added to the amount thereof, and also the time and place at which payment of assessments may be made, which notice shall be published for the period of two weeks. The collector must attend at the time and place specified in the notice to receive assessments, which must be paid in gold and silver coin; he must mark the date of payment of any assessment in the assessment book, opposite the name of the person paying and give a receipt to such person, specifying the amount of the assessment and the amount paid, with the description of the property assessed On the last Monday in December at six o'clock p m. of each year all unpaid assessments are delinquent and thereafter the collector must collect thereon, for the use of the district, an addition of ten per cent.

SEC. 64 The board of directors at any time after any assessment has become delinquent direct the collector not to proceed with the sale of any property on the delinquent list, but to bring suit against the delinquent in the proper court in the name of the district to enforce such collection The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and pleas are hereby made applicable to the proceedings herein provided for, and in such suit the district may recover the amount of said assessment together with the penalties and interests, provided in this act, and costs of suit

SEC. 65 On or before the first day of February, the collector must publish the delinquent list, which must contain the names of the persons and a description of the property delinquent, and the amount of the assessments and costs due opposite each name and description He must append to and publish with the delinquent list a notice, that, unless the assessments delinquent, together with costs and percentage, are paid, the real property upon which such assessments are a lien will be sold at public auction. The publication must be made once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county in which the property delinquent is situated, provided, that if any property assessed to the same person or corporation shall lie in more than one county, then such publication may be made in any county in which any portion of such property may lie The publication must designate the time and place of sale. The time of sale must not be less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from the first publication, and the place must be at some point designated by the collector within the district; provided, however, that if there should occur any error in the publication of the sale of the delinquent property, which might invalidate a sale made thereunder, and such error is discovered prior to sale thereunder the collector shall at once republish the sale of the property affected by such error, making such republication conform to the provisions of this law, and the time of sale designated in such republication must not be less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from the first publication, and the place of sale must be at some point designated by the collector within the district, and stated in such republication

SEC 66 The collector must collect, in addition to the assessments due on the delinquent list, and ten per cent added, fifty cents on each lot, piece or tract of land separately assessed. On the day fixed for the sale, or some subsequent day to which he may have postponed it, of which he must give notice, the collector, between the hours of ten a.m. and three o'clock p.m., must commence the sale of the property advertised, commencing at the head of the list and continuing alphabetically, or in the numerical order of the lots or blocks, until completed He may postpone the day of commencing the sales, or the sale, from day to day, but the sale must be completed within three weeks from the day first fixed; provided, that if any sale or sales shall be stayed by legal proceedings, the time of the continuance of such proceedings is not part of the time limited for making such sale or sales, and provided, further, that in any district where the validity of any assessment shall be in litigation at the time this act shall take effect, the sale of any property, whether it be involved in such litigation or not, may be postponed for a time not to exceed four months.

SEC 67 The owner or person in possession of any real estate offered for sale for assessments due thereon may designate, in writing, to the collector, prior to the sale, what portion of the property he wishes sold, if less than the whole, but if the owner or possessor does not, then the collector may designate it and the person who will take the least quantity of the land, or in case an undivided interest, is assessed, then the smallest portion of the interest, and pay the assessments and costs due, including two dollars, for the duplicate certificate of sale, is the purchaser. If the purchaser does not pay the assessments and costs before ten o'clock a.m. the following day, the property on the next sale day must be resold for the assessments and costs. But in case there is no purchaser in good faith for the same on the first day that the property is offered for sale, then, when the property is offered thereafter for sale and there is no purchaser in good faith for the same, the whole amount of the property assessed shall be struck off to the natural resource district within which such lands are situated, as the purchaser, and the duplicate certificate delivered to the treasurer of the district, and filed by him in his office No charge shall be made for the duplicate certificate where the district is the purchaser, and, in such case, the collector shall make an entry, "sold to the district" and he shall be credited with the amount thereof in his settlement. A natural resource district as a purchaser at such sale, shall be entitled to the same rights as a private purchaser, subject to the right of redemption hereinafter provided, and the district as such purchaser may sell, assign and transfer such certificate of sale for a consideration of not less than the amount of the assessment, penalties and costs.

SEC. 68 After receiving the amount of assessments and costs, the collector must make out in duplicate a certificate, dated on the day of sale, stating (when known) the name of the person assessed, a description of the land sold, the amount paid therefor, that it was sold for assessments, giving the amount and year of the assessment, and specifying the time when the purchaser will be entitled to a deed The certificate must be signed by the collector, and one copy delivered to the purchaser, and the other filed in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the land is situated.

SEC 69 The collector, before delivering any certificate, must in a book enter a description of the land sold, corresponding with the description in the certificate, the date of the sale, purchasers' names, and amount paid, regularly number the description on the margin of the book and put a corresponding number on each certificate. Such book must be open to public inspection, without fee, during office hours, when not in actual use On filing the certificate with such county recorder the lien of the assessments vests with the purchaser, and is only divested by the payment to him, or to the collector for his use, of the purchase money, and two per cent per month from the day of sale until redemption

SEC. 70. A redemption of the property sold may be made by the owner or any party of interest, within three years from the date of purchase, or at any time thereafter before a deed has been made and delivered. Redemption must be made in gold or silver coin, as provided for the collection of state and county taxes, and when made to the collector he must credit the amount paid to the purchaser or his assignees. In each report the collector makes to the board of directors, he must name the person entitled to redemption money, and the amount due each. On receiving the certificate of sale, the county recorder must file it and make an entry in a book similar to that required of the collector. On the presentation of the receipt of the person named in the certificate, or of the collector for his use, of the total amount of the redemption money, the recorder must mark the word "redeemed," the date, and by whom redeemed, on the certificate and on the margin of the book where the entry of the certificate is made. If the property is not redeemed within the time herein provided, the collector or his successor in office, upon demand, must make to the purchaser, or his assignee, a deed of the property, reciting in the deed substantially the matters contained in the certificate, and that no person redeemed the property during the time allowed by law for its redemption. The collector shall receive from the purchaser for the use of the district, two dollars for making such deed. Where property has been sold to the district and a deed for it has been given to the district as the purchaser, the title so acquired by the district may be conveyed by deed executed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of the board of directors; provided, that authority to so convey must be conferred by resolution of the board entered on its minutes fixing the price at which such sale may be made; and provided, further, that where property has been sold to the district it may be redeemed as herein provided at any time before the district has disposed of the same.

SEC. 71. The five year period herein prescribed for the redemption of properties sold for delinquent taxes shall not operate as a bar to the dissolution of any natural resource district. If any land has been sold for delinquent taxes of a district in process of dissolution, or in a district which has been dissolved, and the time allowed for redemption has not expired, the owner of such property or any one in interest may redeem the same by paying the amount due thereon, computed as provided in section 46 of this act, to the county treasurer, who must issue his receipt therefor, and upon presentation of such receipt the county recorder must cancel the certificate of sale in the manner required in the preceding section.

In the event any land has been sold for nonpayment of taxes as herein provided, and no redemption has been made within five years from the date of purchase in any district which may have been dissolved before the expiration of said redemption period, then a deed for the property sold and described in the certificate of sale must be made to the purchaser upon demand by the county treasurer of the county in which said natural resource district is or was situated. Such deed shall contain all the recitals of the certificate of sale, and in addition thereto, a recital that the district has been dissolved, and a deed executed in pursuance of the authority given by this section. A deed so executed shall have the same force and effect as if executed by the collector of a natural resource district

SEC. 72. The matter recited in the certificate of sale must be recited in the deed, and such deed duly acknowledged or proved is prima facie evidence that: (a) The property was assessed as required by law; (b) the property was equalized as required by law; (c) the assessments were levied in accordance with law; (d) the assessments were not paid; (e) at a proper time and place the property was sold as prescribed by law, and by the proper officer; (f) the property was not redeemed; (g) the person who executed the deed was the proper officer.

Such deed duly acknowledged or proved is (except as against actual fraud) conclusive evidence of the regularity of all the proceedings from the assessment by the assessor, inclusive, up to the execution of the deed. The deed conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein free of all encumbrances, except when the land is owned by the United States, or this state, in which case it is prima facie evidence of the right of possession.

SEC 73. The assessment book, or delinquent list, or a copy thereof, certified by the collector, showing unpaid assessments against any person, or property, is prima facie evidence of the assessment, the property assessed, the delinquency, the amount of assessments due and unpaid, and that all the forms of the law in relation to the assessment and levy of such assessments have been complied with.

SEC. 74 When land is sold for assessments correctly imposed, as the property of a particular person, no misnomer of the owner, or supposed owner, or other mistake relating to the ownership thereof affects the sale, or renders it void, or voidable.

SEC. 75. On the first Monday in each month, the collector must settle with the secretary of the board for all moneys collected for assessments, and pay the same over to the treasurer; and within six days thereafter he must deliver to and file in the office of the secretary a statement under oath, showing: (a) an account of all his transactions and receipts since his last settlement; (b) that all money collected by him as collector has been paid. The collector shall also file in the office of the secretary, on said first Monday in each month, the receipt of the treasurer for the money so paid.

SEC. 76. Upon presentation of any matured bond or any matured interest coupon of any bond of the district, the treasurer shall pay the same from the bond fund. If funds are not available for the payment of any such matured bond or interest coupon, it shall draw interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of its presentation for payment until notice is given that funds are available for its payment, and it shall be stamped and provision made for its payment as in the case of a warrant for the payment of which funds are not available on its presentation Whenever the bond fund contains ten thousand dollars in excess of the amount necessary to pay all bonds and interest coupons of the district that have matured or that will mature before the time when any part of the next annual assessment to be levied in the district will become delinquent, the board of directors may advertise, in the manner hereinbefore provided for the sale of bonds, for the receipt of sealed proposals for the delivery to the district for redemption of any of its bonds not due. Said advertisement shall state the amount which may be used for the redemption of such bonds. Any such proposals shall be opened by the board in open meeting at the time named in said advertisement, and the offer or offers of such bonds at the lowest rate or rates shall be accepted; provided, that no bonds shall be redeemed at more than the par value thereof except by unanimous vote of the directors. In case two or more proposals are equal and there is not sufficient money available to accept them all, the lowest numbered bonds shall have the preference. In case not enough bonds are offered for redemption at prices which the board of directors accepts, the board may invest any money available for redemption of bonds in bonds of the United States or the State of California and shall hold the bonds so purchased as part of the bond fund until such time as the board may determine that it is for the best interests of the district that such bonds or any of them be sold. In case of the sale of any such bonds, the proceeds of the sale shall be deposited in the bond fund.

SEC. 77. After adopting a plan for such wells, pipe lines and power lines, storages and works, as in this act provided for, the board of directors shall give notice, by publication thereof not less than twenty days in one newspaper published in each of the counties composing the district (provided a newspaper is published therein), and in such other newspapers as they may deem advisable, calling for bids for the construction of such work, or of any portion thereof, if less than the whole work is advertised, then the portion so advertised must be particularly described in such notice. Said notice shall set forth that plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the board, and that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, and that the contract will be let to the lowest responsible bidder, stating the time and place for opening said proposals, which, at the time and place appointed, shall be opened in public, and as convenient thereafter the board shall let said work, either in portions or as a whole, to the lowest responsible bidder; or they may reject any or all bids and readvertise for proposals or may proceed to construct the work under their own superintendence, provided, that in case of emergency or urgent necessity for the construction, extension or repair of works, the board of directors, by unanimous vote of those present at any regular or special meeting, may award contracts therefor without advertising for bids, but the cost of such work shall not exceed five hundred dollars and such additional amount as shall be equal to five cents for each acre of land in the district. Contracts for the purchase of material shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder. Any person or persons to whom a contract may be awarded shall enter into a bond, with good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by the board, payable to said district for its use, for twenty-five per cent of the amount of the contract price, conditioned for the faithful performance of said contract. The work shall be done under the direction and to the satisfaction of the engineer, and be approved by the board.

SEC. 78. During the construction of any gas, petroleum or electric works to be paid for out of the proceeds of any bond issue which has been certified by the state natural resource district bond commission as provided in the act creating said commission, the state engineer shall have access to all plans, specifications, and records of such construction, and shall from time to time make such investigations and such reports to the board of directors of the district as he shall deem to be in the interest of the public or of the district.

SEC. 79. No claim shall be paid by the treasurer until allowed by the board, and only upon a warrant signed by the president, and countersigned by the secretary; provided, that the board may draw, from time to time, from the construction fund, and deposit in the county treasury of the county where the office of the board is situated any sum in excess of the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars. The county treasurer of said county is hereby authorized and required to receive and receipt for the same and place the same to the credit of said district, and he shall be responsible upon his official bond for the safe keeping and disbursement of the same, as in this act provided. He shall pay out the same, or any portion thereof, to the treasurer of the district only, and only upon the order of the board, signed by the president, and attested by the secretary. The said county treasurer shall report, in writing, on the second Monday in each month, the amount of money in the county treasury, the amount of receipts for the month preceding, and the amount or amounts paid out; said report shall be verified and filed with the secretary of the board. The district treasurer shall also report to the board, in writing, on the first Monday in each month, the amount of money in the district treasury, the amount of receipts for the month preceding, and the amount and items of expenditures, and said report shall be verified and filed with the secretary of the board.

SEC. 80. During the construction of any work to be paid for out of the proceeds of the sale of any bonds of any natural resource district within this state, the secretary of the board of directors shall, within one week after each regular meeting of said board, forward to the state engineer copies of all reports made to said board as to the progress of said work and a statement of the amounts paid for the doing of any part of said work. Immediately after the publication of the statement of the financial condition of any natural resource district within this state, required by section 14 of this act to be made annually, the board of directors of said district shall cause a copy of said statement and a report stating the general condition of any works constructed or acquired by said district and whether or not the plans adopted by the district are being successfully carried out and any other matters which the board may deem proper, to be forwarded to the state engineer, who shall examine said statement and report and make to said board such recommendations and comments as he may deem proper. The state engineer may at any time make or cause to be made an examination of the affairs of any natural resource district within this state, or call upon the authorities of such district for such information as he may desire and make such report thereon as he may deem advisable.

SEC. 81. The cost and expense of purchasing and acquiring property and constructing the works and improvements herein provided for shall be wholly paid out of the construction fund; provided, however, that when any lands, waters, natural gas, petroleum rights or other property shall be acquired by the district by any lease or contract, under the terms of which the consideration or rental shall be payable in such installments that a like amount shall be payable in each year of the life of such lease or contract, then such rental or consideration shall be paid out of the funds derived from the levying of annual assessments, or from the collection of rates, tolls, and charges, fixed and collected as hereinafter provided for. For the purpose of defraying the expenses of the organization of the district, and of the care, operation, management of same, repairs and improvements, also salaries of officers and employees, and installments of rental or consideration accruing under any lease or contract as hereinabove in this section mentioned, the board may, in lieu (either in part or in whole) of levying assessments as herein provided for, fix rates of toll and charges for power and other public uses declared by this act, and collect the same.

SEC. 82. The board of directors shall have power to construct pipe and power lines across any street, avenue, highway or railway which the route of said pipe or power lines may intersect or cross, in such manner as to afford security for life and property, but said board shall restore the same when so crossed or intersected, to its former state as near as may be, or in a sufficient manner not to have impaired unnecessarily its usefulness; and every company whose railroad shall be intersected or crossed by said pipe or power lines shall unite with said board in forming said intersections and crossings, and grant the privilege aforesaid; and if such railroad company and said board, or the owners and controllers of said property, thing or franchise so to be crossed, cannot agree upon the amount to be paid therefor, or the points or the matter of said crossings or intersections, the same shall be ascertained and determined in all respects as is herein provided in respect to the taking of land. The right of way is hereby given, dedicated, and set apart, to locate, construct, and maintain said works over and through any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this state; and also there is given, dedicated, and set apart, for the uses and purposes aforesaid all gas and petroleum rights belonging to this state within the district.

SEC. 83. The directors when sitting as a board, or acting under the orders of the board, shall each receive not to exceed ten dollars per day and fifteen cents per mile for each mile actually traveled from his place of residence to the office of the board, and actual and necessary expenses paid while engaged in official business under the order of the board; provided, that in natural resource districts containing five hundred thousand acres or more the directors, in lieu of said per diem, shall each receive a salary of one hundred and fifty dollars per month. The board shall fix the compensation to be paid to all officers named in this act, to be paid out of the treasury of the district; provided, that said board shall, upon the petition of at least fifty freeholders within such district therefor, submit to the electors at any general election a schedule of salaries and fees to be paid hereunder, which may include the salary or per deim to be paid to the directors. Such petition must be presented to the board not less than twenty days, nor more than forty days, prior to a general election, and the result of such election shall be determined and declared in all respects as other elections are determined and declared under this act.

SEC. 84. No director or any other officer named in this act shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board, or in the profits to be derived therefrom; and for any violation of this provision, such officer shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work forfeiture of his office, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed six months, or by both fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 85. The board of directors may at any time call a special election and submit to the qualified electors of the district the question whether a special assessment shall be levied for the purpose of raising money to be applied to any of the purposes of this act or of any act supplementary hereto. Such election must be called upon the notice prescribed, and the same shall be held and the result thereof determined and declared in all respects in conformity with the provisions of section 30*d* of this act. The notice must specify the amount of money proposed to be raised, and the purpose or purposes for which it is intended to be used, and it may state that said assessment shall be levied in two or three annual installments and specify the amount of the installment to be levied in each year. At the special election the ballots shall contain the words "Assessment—Yes" or "Assessment—No", or words equivalent thereto. If a majority of the votes cast are "Assessment—Yes", the board of directors shall, at the time of the annual levy hereunder, levy a sum sufficient to raise the amount voted, or, if the notice of election shall have provided for levying said assessment in annual installments, the board of directors shall, at the time of the annual levy in each of the years specified in said notice, levy such assessment as shall raise the amount of the installment provided in said notice to be raised in said year.

SEC. 86. The rate of assessments levied under the provisions of this act shall be ascertained by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the aggregate assessed value of the property in the district as it appears on the assessment roll for the current year, and then dividing the sum to be raised by the remainder of such aggregate assessed value. Special assessments shall be computed and entered by the secretary and collected as a part of the regular assessment levied thereunder, and, when collected, shall be paid into the district treasury for the purpose or purposes specified in the notices calling the respective elections at which they were voted.

SEC. 87. The board of directors or other officers of the district shall have no power to incur any debt or liability whatever, either by issuing bonds or otherwise, in excess of the express provisions of this act; and any debt or liability incurred in excess of such express provisions shall be and remain absolutely void, except that for the purposes of organization, or for any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may before the levying of the first assessment, incur indebtness in such sum or sums as shall amount to two thousand dollars, or, if the district shall contain more than four thousand acres, to one-half as many dollars as there are acres of land in the district, and may cause warrants of the district to be issued therefor, bearing interest at not more than seven per centum per annum, said rate to be fixed by the board of directors. Each such warrant shall be made payable on a date not later than the first day of July next after the first assessment in the district shall be levied, and of not paid when presented on the due date or thereafter shall be registered and the amount due thereon shall draw interest as provided in section 61*a* of this act. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of the board to enter into any contract or lease for any lands, gas, petroleum or electric power rights or other property as elsewhere in this act authorized and such lease or contract to bind the district for the payment of the consideration specified in such lease or contract, but if the smallest payment to be made under such lease or contract in any year exceed an amount equal to ten cents an acre for all the land in the district such lease or contract shall not be valid unless approved by the commission authorized by law to approve the bonds of natural resource districts as legal investments for savings banks, or unless an assessment sufficient to meet all the payments to become due under such lease or contract shall have been or shall be authorized for that purpose in accordance with section 59 of this act.

SEC. 88. Whenever any warrant of the district payable on demand is presented to the treasurer for payment when funds are not available for the payment thereof, it shall thereafter draw interest at a rate to be determined by resolution of the board of directors, not, however, to exceed seven per centum per annum, until public notice is given that such funds are available. Upon the presentation of any such warrants for payment, other than warrants issued under the provisions of section 61 hereof, when funds of the district are not available to pay the same, the treasurer of the district shall endorse thereon the words, "funds not available for payment," with the date of presentation and shall specify the interest that such warrants shall thereafter bear and shall sign his name thereto. He shall keep a record showing the number and amount of each such warrant, the date of its issuance, the person in whose favor it was issued, and the date of its presentation for payment. Whenever there is sufficient money in the treasury to pay all such outstanding warrants or whenever the board of directors shall order that all such warrants presented for payment prior to a certain date, be made and there is sufficient money available for such payments, the treasurer shall give notice in some newspaper published in the district, or, if none is published therein, then in some newspaper published in the county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated, or, if none is published in such county, then the treasurer shall post such notice conspicuously in the place in which the board of directors of the district holds its regular meetings, stating that he is prepared to pay all warrants of the district for the payment of which funds were not available upon their original presentation, or all such warrants which were presented for payment prior to the date fixed by the board of directors, as the case may be, and no further description of the warrants entitled to payment shall be made in such notice. Upon the presentation of any warrant entitled to payment under the terms of such notice, the treasurer shall pay it, together with interest thereon at the rate specified by the board of directors, from the date of its original presentation for payment to the date of the first publication or posting of said notice, and all warrants for the payment of which funds are declared in said notice to be available shall cease to draw interest at the time of the first publication or posting of said notice. The treasurer shall enter in the record hereinbefore required to be kept, the dates of the payment of all such warrants, the names of the persons to whom payments are made, and the amount paid to each person.

SEC. 89. The board of directors of natural resource districts may acquire by purchase or condemnation gas or electric power systems and works through which lands in such districts have been or may be supplied, and may exchange bonds of such district for such system or works, or for any portion thereof, or for any interest therein, or for the capital stock of any corporation owning such system, or any portion thereof, upon such terms and conditions as the said board of directors may deem best.

SEC. 90. Where the board of directors of a natural resource district have exchanged bonds or have agreed to exchange bonds for property rights in any natural resource system or works or for any interest therein under the provisions of section 89 of this act, the court shall, in any proceeding brought under the provisions of the last section, by its decree determine the validity of all bonds issued or to be issued under any contract or contracts for the exchange of bonds for property interests and by its decree shall determine whether the bonds provided for in said contracts, when delivered to the person or corporation entitled thereto under the terms of any such contract, shall constitute valid obligations of said natural resource district against all persons.

SEC. 91. All rights of way, wells, rigs, pipe-lines, storages, gas and petroleum rights, and other property of like character, belonging to any natural resource district shall not be taxed for state, and county or municipal purposes.

SEC. 92. The following funds are hereby created and established, to which the moneys properly belonging shall be apportioned, to wit: bond fund, construction fund, general fund.

SEC. 93. Whenever an object for which money has been specially provided by assessment or by bond issue has been accomplished and any money provided therefor remains unexpended, the same shall in the discretion of the board of directors be transferred to the general fund and thereafter be available for any of the purposes of this act.

SEC. 94. The board of directors may, at any time after the issue of any bonds or the levy of any assessment herein provided for, bring an action in the proper superior court of the county wherein is located the office of such board, to determine the validity of any such bonds or such levy of assessments; such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such bonds or assessments. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Either party may have the right to appeal to the supreme court at any time within thirty days after rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal.

SEC. 95. If no such proceedings shall have been brought by the board of directors, then, at any time within thirty days after the levy of any assessment or issue of any bonds under the provisions of this act, any district assessment payer may bring an action in the superior court of the county where the office of the board of directors is located to determine the validity of any such assessment or such bonds. The board of directors shall be made parties defendant, and service of summons shall be made on the members of the board personally. Said board shall have the right to appear and contest such action. Such action shall be speedily tried, with the right of appeal to either party, within the time and manner herein provided for the bringing of actions by the board to determine such matters. Such appeal shall be heard and determined in the manner and within the time therein provided.

SEC. 96. If more than one action shall be pending at the same time concerning similar contests in this act provided for, they shall be consolidated and tried together.

SEC. 97. The court hearing any of the contests herein provided for, in inquiring into the regularity, legality, or correctness of such proceedings, must disregard any error, irregularity, or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The motion for a new trial of any such action or proceeding must be heard and determined within ten days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs on any hearing, or contest herein provided for, may be allowed, and apportioned between the parties, or taxed to the losing party, in the discretion of the court.

SEC. 98. No contest of any thing or matter herein provided shall be made other than within the time and manner herein specified, and in any such action all findings of facts or conclusions of said board of directors, or of the board of supervisors upon all matters shall be conclusive, unless such action was instituted within six months after such finding or conclusion was made.

SEC. 99. For any wilful violation of any express duty herein provided for, on the part of any officer herein named, he shall be liable upon his official bond, and be subject to removal from office, by proceedings brought in the superior court of the county wherein the office of the board of directors of the district is located, by any assessment payer of the district; but no officer of a natural resource district shall be personally liable for any damage resulting from the operations of the district or from the negligence or misconduct of any of its officers or employees unless such damage was proximately caused by the officer's own negligence or misconduct or by his wilful violation of official duty.

SEC. 100. The boundaries of any natural resource district hereafter organized under the provisions of this act, may be changed, and tracts of land which were included within the boundaries of such district at or after its organization under the provisions of said act, may be excluded therefrom, in the manner herein prescribed; but neither such change of the boundaries of the district nor such exclusion of lands from the district shall impair or affect its organization, or its right in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which said district was and may become liable or chargeable, had such change of its boundaries not been made, or had not such land been excluded from the district.

SEC. 101. The owner or owners in fee of one or more tracts of land which constitute a portion of a natural resource district may jointly or severally file with the board of directors of the district a petition, praying that such tract or tracts, and any other tracts contiguous thereto, may be excluded and taken from said district. The petition shall state the grounds and reasons upon which it is claimed that such lands should be excluded and shall describe the boundaries thereof, and also the lands of such petitioner or petitioners which are included within such boundaries; but the description of such lands need not be more particular or certain than is required when the lands are entered in the assessment book by the county assessor. Such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in the case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such a conveyance.

SEC. 102. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be published for at least two weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the board of directors is situated, and if any portion of such territory to be excluded lie within another county or counties, then said notice shall be so published in a newspaper published within each of said counties, or, if no newspaper be published therein, then by posting such notice for the same time in at least three public places, one of said notices must be so posted on the lands proposed to be excluded. The notice shall state the filing of such petition, the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in, or who may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district, to appear at the office of said board at a time named in said notice, and show cause, in writing, if any they have, why the change of the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice.

SEC. 103. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in the notice, or at the time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all evidence or proofs that may or shall be introduced by or on behalf of the petitioner or petitioners, and all objections to such petition that may or shall be presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid, and all evidence and proofs that may be introduced in support of such objections. Such evidence shall be taken down in shorthand, and record made thereof and filed with the board. The failure of any person interested in said district, other than the holders of bonds thereof outstanding at the time of the filing of said petition with said board, to show cause, in writing, why the tract or tracts of land mentioned in said petition should not be excluded from the said district, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by him to the exclusion of such tract or tracts of land, or any part thereof, from said district; and the filing of such petition with said board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent by each and all such petitioners to the exclusion from such district of the lands mentioned in the petition, or any part thereof, the expenses of giving said notice and of the aforesaid proceeding shall be paid by the person or persons filing such petition

SEC. 104. If, upon the hearing of any such petition, no evidence or proofs in support thereof be introduced, or if the evidence fail to sustain said petition, or if the board deem it not for the best interest of the district that the lands, or some portion thereof, mentioned in the petition, should be excluded from the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied as to such lands; but if the said board deem it for the best interest of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition, or some portion thereof, be excluded from the district, and if no person interested in the district show cause in writing why the said lands or some portion thereof, should not be excluded from the district, or if, having shown cause, withdraws the same, or upon the hearing fails to establish such objections as he may have made, then it shall be the duty of the board to, and it shall forthwith, make an order that the lands mentioned and described in the petition, or some defined portion thereof, be excluded from said district; provided, that it shall be the duty of said board to so order, upon petition therefor as aforesaid, that all lands so petitioned to be excluded from said district shall be excluded therefrom, which can not be supplied from, or which are not susceptible to supply of gas or electric energy from a common source or by the same system of works with the other lands of said district, or from the source selected, chosen, or provided, or the system adopted for the supply of gas or electric energy to the lands in said district, or which are already supplied or entitled to be supplied from another source or by another system of gas or electric energy.

SEC. 105 If there be outstanding bonds of the district at the time of the filing of said petition, the holders of such outstanding bonds may give their assent, in writing, to the effect that they severally consent that the lands mentioned in the petition, or such portion thereof as may be excluded from said district by order of said board or the decree of the superior court as hereinafter provided, may be excluded from the district; and if said lands, or any portion thereof, be thereafter excluded from the district, the lands so excluded shall be released from the lien of such outstanding bonds. The assent must be acknowledged by the several holders of such bonds in the same manner and form as is required in case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such conveyance. The assent shall be filed with the board, and must be recorded in the minutes of the board; and said minutes, or a copy thereof, certified by the secretary of said board, shall be admissible in evidence, with the same effect as the said assent, and such certified copy thereof may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county wherein said lands are situated.

SEC. 106. In the event the said board of directors shall exclude any lands from said district upon petition therefor, it shall be the duty of the said board of directors to make an entry in the minutes of the board describing the boundaries of the district, should the exclusion of said lands from said district change the boundaries of said district, and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of the district as the board may deem necessary; and a certified copy of the entry in the minutes of the board excluding any land, certified by the president and the secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder's office of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district; but said district, notwithstanding such exclusion, shall be and remain a natural recourse district as fully, to every intent and purpose, as it would be had no change been made in the boundaries of the district, or had the lands excluded therefrom never constituted a portion of the district.

SEC. 107. If the lands excluded from any district under this act shall embrace the greater portion of any division or divisions of such district, then the office of the director for such division or divisions shall become and be vacant at the expiration of ten days from the final order of the board excluding said lands; and such vacancy or vacancies shall be filled by appointment by the board of supervisors of the county where the office of such board is situated, from the district at large. A director appointed as above provided shall hold his office until the next regular election for said district, and until his successor is elected and qualified.

SEC. 108. In case land is excluded from any district, the board of directors thereof, if they deem it desirable, but not less than thirty days before any election in such district, may reestablish the boundaries of the divisions and election precincts within such district.

SEC. 109. A guardian and executor, or an administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward, or the estate which he represents, upon being thereto properly authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this act mentioned, and may show cause, as in this act provided, why the boundaries of the district should not be changed.

SEC 110. Nothing in this act provided shall, in any manner, operate to release any of the lands so excluded from the district from any obligation to pay, or any lien thereon, of any valid outstanding bonds or other indebtedness of said district at the time of the filing of said petition for the exclusion of said lands, but upon the contrary, said lands shall be held subject to said lien, and answerable and chargeable for and with the payment and discharge of all of said outstanding obligations at the time of the filing of the petition for the exclusion of said land, as fully as though said petition for such exclusion were never filed and said order or decree of exclusion never made; and for the purpose of discharging such outstanding indebtedness, said lands so excluded shall be deemed and considered as part of said natural resource district the same as though said petition for its exclusion had never been filed or said order or decree of exclusion never made; and all provisions which may have been resorted to to compel the payment by said lands of its quota or portion of said outstanding obligations, had said exclusion never been accomplished, may, notwithstanding said exclusion, be resorted to to compel and enforce the payment on the part of said lands of its quota and portion of said outstanding obligations of said natural resource district for which it is liable, as herein provided But said land so excluded shall not be held answerable or chargeable for any obligation of any nature or kind whatever, incurred after the filing with the board of directors of said district of the petition for the exclusion of said lands from the said district; provided, that the provisions of this section shall not apply to any outstanding bonds, the holders of which have assented to the exclusion of such lands from said district, as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 111. The boundaries of any natural resource district now organized or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act may be changed in the manner herein prescribed; but such change of the boundaries of the district shall not impair or affect its organization, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable, had such change of its boundaries not been made.

SEC. 112. The petition shall describe the boundaries of said parcel or tract of land, and shall also describe the boundaries of the several parcels owned by the petitioners, if the petitioners be the owners, respectively, of distinct parcels, but such descriptions need not be more particular than they are required to be when such lands are entered by the county assessor in the assessment book. Such petition must contain the assent of the petitioners to the inclusion within said district of the parcels or tracts of land described in the petition, and of which said petition alleges they are, respectively, the owners; and it must be acknowledged in the same manner that conveyances of land are required to be acknowledged.

SEC. 113. The secretary of the board of directors shall cause a notice of the filing of such petition to be given and published in the same manner and for the same time that notices of special elections for the issue of bonds are required by this act to be published. The notice shall state the filing of such petition and the names of the petitioners, a description of the lands mentioned in said petition, and the prayer of said petition; and it shall notify all persons interested in, or that may be affected by such change of the boundaries of the district; to appear at the office of said board, at a time named in said notice, and show cause in writing, if any they have, why the change in the boundaries of said district, as proposed in said petition, should not be made. The time to be specified in the notice at which they shall be required to show cause shall be the regular meeting of the board next after the expiration of the time for the publication of the notice. The petitioners shall advance to the secretary sufficient money to pay the estimated costs of all proceedings under this act.

SEC. 114. The board of directors, at the time and place mentioned in said notice, or at such other time or times to which the hearing of said petition may be adjourned, shall proceed to hear the petition, and all the objections thereto, presented in writing by any person showing cause as aforesaid why said proposed change of the boundaries of the district should not be made. The failure by any person interested in said district, or in the matter of the proposed change of its boundaries, to show cause, in writing, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on his part to a change of the boundaries of the district as prayed for in said petition, or to such a change thereof as will include a part of said lands. And the filing of such petition with said board, as aforesaid, shall be deemed and taken as an assent on the part of each and all of such petitioners to such a change of said boundaries that they may include the whole or any portion of the lands described in said petition.

SEC. 115. The board of directors to whom such petition is presented, may require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums, as nearly as the same can be estimated (the several amounts to be determined by the board), as said petitioners or their grantors would have been required to pay to such district as assessments, had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed.

SEC. 116. If the board of directors deem it for the best interest of the district that the boundaries of the district be changed as proposed and if no protest against such change is made as provided in this act, or, if such protest be made and enough signatures be withdrawn therefrom so that said protest is no longer sufficient, the board shall order that the boundaries of the district be changed so as to include therein the lands described in said petition; or such portion thereof as the board shall find will be benefited by such inclusion. The order shall describe the boundaries as changed and shall also describe the entire boundaries of the district as they will be after the change thereof as aforesaid is made; and for that purpose the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of such boundaries as is deemed necessary; provided, however, that any public land of the United States of America adjoining the boundaries of any natural resource district may be included within the boundaries of any such natural resource district by order or resolution of the board of directors of such district without any petition being filed asking for such inclusion; and provided, further, that when additional land is included within any natural resource district and the board of directors of such district finds either that such inclusion without condition would work an injury to the land already in the district, either by impairment of existing rights or by requiring a greater expense for furnishing gas or electric energy to the lands proposed to be included, the board may prescribe conditions upon such inclusion of land, either by providing for priority of rights or for the payment of an additional annual charge, or such other conditions as may to the board seem just. If such inclusion is upon petition of property owners, all such property owners shall sign and acknowledge an agreement with the district, specifying such conditions and describing the land so to be included. Such agreement must be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such lands are situated, together with a certified copy of the order including such lands, and thereupon such lands shall become a part of such natural resource district subject to such conditions.

SEC. 117. If a protest against the inclusion of such lands, signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of said district, shall have been presented to the board of directors and upon the hearing of said matter said protest shall not be withdrawn, or after the withdrawal therefrom of any signatures it shall still be signed by not less than three per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the district and holding the title or evidence of title to not less than three per cent in value of the lands within the district according to the last equalized assessment roll of said district, or if the board of directors deem it not for the best interests of the district to include therein the lands described in said petition for inclusion, or any of them, the board shall adopt a resolution stating the facts and describing the boundary of the tract of land proposed to be included in the district; but, before calling the election provided for in the next section, the board may require an undertaking with sufficient sureties, from the petitioners for the inclusion of said land conditioned that the petitioners or the sureties will pay all the costs of holding such election in case such inclusion shall be denied.

SEC. 118. Upon the adoption of the resolution mentioned in the last preceding section, the board shall order that an election be held within said district, to determine whether the boundaries of the district shall be changed as mentioned in said resolution, and shall fix the time at which such election shall be held and cause notice thereof to be given and published. Such notice shall be given and published, and such election shall be held and conducted, the returns thereof shall be made and canvassed, and the result of the election ascertained and declared, and all things pertaining thereto conducted in the manner prescribed by said act in case of a special election to determine whether bonds of a natural resource district shall be issued. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For change of boundary," or "Against change of boundary," or words equivalent thereto. The notice of the election shall describe the proposed change of the boundaries in such manner and terms that it can readily be traced.

SEC. 119. If at such election a majority of all the votes cast at said election shall be against such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall order that said petition be denied, and shall proceed no further in that matter. But if a majority of such votes be in favor of such change of the boundaries of the district, the board shall thereupon order that the boundaries be changed in accordance with said resolution adopted by the board. The said order shall describe the entire boundaries of said district, and for that purpose the board may cause a survey of such portions thereof to be made as the board may deem necessary.

SEC. 120. Upon a change of the boundaries of a district being made, a copy of the order of the board of directors ordering such change, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder's office of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon the district shall be and remain a natural resource district, as fully, and to every intent and purpose, as if the lands which are included in the district by the change of the boundaries, as aforesaid, had been included therein at the original organization of the district.

SEC. 121. Upon the filing of the copies of the order, as in the last preceding section mentioned, the secretary shall record in the minutes of the board the petition aforesaid; and the said minutes, or a certified copy thereof shall be admissible in evidence, with the same effect as the petition.

SEC. 122. A guardian, an executor, or an administrator of an estate, who is appointed as such under the laws of this state, and who, as such guardian, executor, or administrator, is entitled to the possession of the lands belonging to the estate which he represents, may, on behalf of his ward, or the estate which he represents, upon being thereunto authorized by the proper court, sign and acknowledge the petition in this act mentioned, and may show cause, as in this act mentioned, why the boundaries of the district should not be changed.

SEC. 123. In case land is included within any district as aforesaid, the board of directors thereof shall, but not less than thirty days before any election in such district, re-establish the boundaries of the divisions and election precincts within such district, so as to include such land therein and so as to make such divisions as nearly equal in size and population as may be practicable. In case of the inclusion of any land less than thirty days before an election within such district, the inhabitants of the land so included shall not be entitled to vote at such election.

SEC. 124. Whenever the board of directors of a natural resource district heretofore organized, or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act, shall determine that the authorized bonded indebtedness of such natural resource district is greater than such district is liable to need to complete its system as planned, and there be no outstanding bonds, the board of directors may call a special election for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to reduce such bonded indebtedness to such sum as the board may determine to be sufficient for such purpose.

SEC. 125. Notice of the said election shall be given in the same manner as provided in section 30 of said act, in relation to calling special elections for issuance of bonds. The notice of election must state the amount of the authorized bonded indebtedness of such district, and the amount to which it is proposed to reduce the same; also, the date on which said election will be held, and the polling places, as established by said board of directors. The ballots cast at said election shall contain the words "For reducing bonds—Yes," or "For reducing bonds—No,". When the vote is canvassed by the board of directors and entered of record, if a majority of the votes cast shall be "For reducing bonds—Yes," then in that event the board of directors shall only be empowered to issue or sell such amount of bonds as was stipulated in the said notice of such special election; but if a majority of said votes are not "For reducing bonds—Yes,", then the authority to issue bonds shall remain the same as before said special election was held.

SEC. 126. In case there be outstanding bonds of any district desiring to take advantage of the provisions of this act concerning reduction of bonded indebtedness, the assent of such bondholders may be obtained to such reduction of the bonded indebtedness, in the same manner as provided in section 79 of this act. If such assent is obtained in the manner therein provided, then, and in that event, such district shall be empowered to take advantage of all the provisions of this act, but not otherwise. No reduction of the bonded indebtedness, as in this act provided, shall in any manner affect any order of court that may have been made, adjudicating and confirming the validity of said bonds.

SEC 127. Whenever any natural resource district, heretofore organized, or hereafter organized under the provisions of this act, in the development of its works as by law provided, may have opportunity, without increased expenditure, to utilize gas or petroleum products or electric energy produced by the use thereof, by it owned or controlled, for any purposes not inconsistent with the provisions of said act, the board of directors may lease the same, as in this act hereinafter provided.

SEC 128 Whenever the board of directors may desire to lease the use of gas, petroleum or electric energy, as hereinbefore stated, they shall pass a resolution of intention to so lease the same. Immediately thereafter the secretary shall cause notice of such intention to be given by publication in one newspaper published in each county in which lands of the district are situated, for at least twenty days (provided, a newspaper is published therein, otherwise in any newspaper the board of directors may select), and, if the board thinks proper in such other newspapers as may be deemed advisable, calling for bids for the leasing of said gas, petroleum or electric energy for the purposes hereinbefore mentioned. Said notice shall state that the board will receive sealed proposals therefor, that the lease will be let to the highest responsible bidder, stating the time and place of opening said proposals.

SEC. 129. At the time and place appointed the board shall proceed to open the proposals in public. As soon thereafter as may be convenient the board shall let said lease in portions, or as a whole, to the highest responsible bidder, or they may reject any or all bids, and re-advertise for proposals for the same.

SEC. 130 The rental accruing upon said lease may vary from year to year, as shall be specified in said lease, and shall be payable semiannually, on the thirtieth day of December and thirtieth day of June of each year. All moneys collected, as in this act provided, shall be paid into the treasury, and be apportioned to such funds as may be deemed advisable

SEC. 131. The board shall power, as in this act provided, to execute a lease for any period not exceeding twenty-five years If at any time the rental shall not be paid on the days hereinbefore mentioned, the amount of such rental then due shall be doubled, and if not paid within ninety days thereafter, the said lease shall be forfeited to said district, together with any and all works constructed, owned, used, or controlled by said lessee

SEC. 132. Upon the letting of any lease, as in this act provided, the board may require the lessee to execute a bond for the faithful performance of the covenants of said lease, or give such other evidence of good faith as in their judgment may be necessary.

SEC. 133. Whenever there remains in the hands of the board of directors of any natural resource district heretofore organized or organized under the provisions of this act, after the completion of its system and the payment of all demands against such district, any bonds voted to be issued by said district, but not sold, and not necessary to be sold for the raising of funds for the use of such district, said board of directors may call a special election for the purpose of voting upon a proposition to destroy all unsold bonds, or so many of them as may be deemed best, or may submit such proposition at a general election.

SEC. 134. Such election shall be held in the same manner as other elections held under the provisions of this act. A notice of such election shall be given in the same manner as provided in section 30 of this act in relation to calling special elections for the issuance of bonds. The notice of election must state the amount of the bonded indebtedness of such district authorized by the vote of the district, the amount of the bonds remaining unsold, and the amount proposed to be destroyed, and the date on which such election is proposed to be held, and the polling places as fixed by the board of directors. The ballots to be cast at such election shall contain the words, "For destroying bonds—Yes," and "For destroying bonds—No," and the voter must erase the word "No" in case he favors the destruction of bonds, otherwise the word "Yes".

SEC. 135. When the vote is canvassed by the board of directors and entered of record, if a two-thirds majority of the votes cast should be found to be in favor of the destruction of said bonds, then the president of the board, in the presence of a majority of the members of the board, must destroy the bonds so voted to be destroyed; and the total amount of bonds so destroyed and cancelled shall be deducted from the sum authorized to be issued by the electors of said district, and no part thereof shall thereafter be reprinted or reissued

SEC. 136. Nothing in this act shall be so construed as to affect the validity of any district heretofore organized under the laws of this State, or its rights in or to property, or any of its rights or privileges of whatsoever kind or nature; but said districts are hereby made subject to the provisions of this act so far as applicable; nor shall it affect, impair, or discharge any contract, obligation, lien, or charge for, or upon which it was or might become liable or chargeable had not this act been passed; nor shall it affect the validity of any bonds, which have been issued but not sold; nor shall it affect any action which now may be pending.

SEC. 137. The name of any district hereafter organized hereunder shall contain the words "Natural resource district."

SEC. 138. Nothing in this act shall be construed as repealing or in wise modifying the provisions of any other act relating to the subject of gas, petroleum or power commissioners

SEC. 139. This act shall take effect from and after its passage and approval.

SEC. 140. This act may be referred to in any action, proceeding or legislative enactment as "The California natural resource district act."

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

An act to amend sections one, two, five and eleven of an act entitled "An act providing for the supervision and regulation of the transportation of persons and property for compensation over any public highway by automobiles, jitney busses, auto trucks, stages and auto stages, defining transportation companies and providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of violations thereof; and repealing all acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act." Approved May 10, 1917, as amended, relating to definition and regulation of transportation companies.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. (a) The term "corporation," when used in this act, means a corporation, a company, an association or a joint stock association.

(b) The term "person," when used in this act, means an individual, a firm or copartnership.

(c) The term "transportation company," when used in this act, means every corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, owning, controlling, operating or managing, any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage used in the transportation of persons and/or property, as a common carrier, for compensation, over any public highway in this state between fixed termini or over a regular route, and not operating exclusively within the limits of a single incorporated city or town or of a city and county; provided, that the term "transportation company," as used in this act, shall not include corporations or persons, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever in so far as they own, control, operate or manage busses engaged solely in the transportation of bona fide pupils attending an institution of learning when such pupils are transported solely between their homes and such institution of learning.

(d) The term "public highway," when used in this act, means every public street, road or highway in this state.

(e) The words 'between fixed termini or over a regular route," when used in this act, means the termini or route between or over which any transportation company usually or ordinarily operates any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage, even though there may be departures from said termini or route, whether such departures be periodic or irregular. Whether or not any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage is operated by a transportation company as a common carrier between fixed termini or over a regular route within the meaning of this act shall be a question of fact and the finding of the railroad commission thereon shall be final and shall not be subject to review.

SEC. 2. Section 2 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. No corporation or person, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever shall operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property for compensation as a common carrier on any public highway in this state except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(Sec. 3. Repealed by Ch 260, Stats 1919, approved May 13, 1919.)

SEC. 3. Change section 4 to section 3 and add a new section numbered 4, to read as follows

Sec. 4. Every transportation company shall file with the commission and shall print and keep open to the public inspection schedules showing the rates, fares, charges and classifications for the transportation between termini within this state of persons and property from each point upon its route to all other points thereon; and from each point upon its route to all points upon every other route leased, operated or controlled by it and all points not served by it upon the route of any other transportation company, with which it connects, directly or indirectly.

SEC. 4. Section 5 is hereby amended to read as follows

Sec. 5. (a) No transportation company shall hereafter begin to operate any automobile, jitney bus, auto truck, stage or auto stage for the transportation of persons or property, for compensation, as a common carrier, on any public highway in this state without first having obtained from the railroad commission a certificate, declaring that public convenience and necessity require such operation, but no such certificate shall be required of any transportation company as to the fixed termini between which or the route over which it is actually operating in good faith under a certificate of convenience and necessity issued by the railroad commission, at the time this act becomes effective, or for operations exclusively within the limits of a single incorporated city, town, or city and county. Any right, privilege, franchise or permit, held, owned or obtained by any transportation company, may be sold, assigned, leased, transferred or inherited as other property, only upon authorization by the railroad commission. The railroad commission shall have power, with or without hearing, to issue said certificate, as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the partial exercise only of said privilege sought, and may require transportation companies to issue joint through rates, one with the other, or may relieve them from so doing when it is shown that the same are not necessary to the public interest, and may attach to the exercise of the rights granted by said certificate such other terms and conditions as, in its judgment, the public convenience and necessity may require.

Every certificate, permit, or operating right, owned or obtained by any transportation company, shall be considered as an extension of every other certificate, permit, or operating right, owned, or leased by such transportation company, and shall be operated as part of all other certificates, permits or other operating rights, owned, operated or leased by such transportation company, in such manner as will best serve the interests of the public.

(b) Except as hereinafter provided, every transportation company shall file with the commission and thereafter keep in full force and effect a bond or policy of insurance in such form as said commission may deem proper, insuring the public against loss by reason of personal injury or death and damage or destruction of property, that may result to any person or property from the operation of any vehicle used by it in its business, or with the permission of the commission may file, in lieu of the bond or policy of insurance itself, evidence of the existence of said bond or policy of insurance satisfactory to the commission.

The minimum amount of recovery in such bond or policy of insurance shall not be less than the following sums, to wit:

For the injury to or death of one person in any one accident where but one person is injured or killed, the sum of five thousand dollars.

For the injury to or death of more than one person in any one accident, the sum of ten thousand dollars

For the damage to or the destruction of property in any one accident, one thousand dollars

Provided, that the commission may, in its discretion, increase the minimums above set out, where, in its opinion, the same in any particular case are too low, considering the hazards.

Provided, further, that subject to the approval of the railroad commission, any transportation company, financially able to pay all claims for injury or damage to, or death or destruction of, persons or property, arising out of accidents in which its vehicles are involved, shall not be required to file such bond, and may adjust and settle its own claims under such procedure and rules and regulations, and make such reports as the commission may prescribe.

(c) The railroad commission may at any time for a good cause suspend and upon notice to the grantee of any certificate and opportunity to be heard revoke, alter or amend any certificate issued under the provisions of this section. (Amended. Ch 280, Stats 1919, p. 457.)

The Legislature of the State of California, at its regular session commencing on the fifth day of January, 1927, two-thirds of the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature voting in favor thereof, hereby proposes an amendment to section 31 of article IV of the constitution of the State of California to read as follows:

Sec. 31. The Legislature shall have no power to give or to lend, or to authorize the giving or lending, of the credit of the State, or of any county, city and county, city, township or other political corporation or subdivision of the State now existing, or that may be hereafter established, in aid of or to any person, association, or corporation, whether municipal or otherwise, or to pledge the credit thereof, in any manner whatever, for the payment of the liabilities of any individual, association, municipal or other corporation whatever, nor shall it have power to make any gift or authorize the making of any gift, of any public money or thing of value to any individual, municipal or other corporation whatever; provided, that nothing in this section shall prevent the Legislature granting aid pursuant to section 22 of this article, and it shall not have power to authorize the State, or any political subdivision thereof, to subscribe for stock, or to become a stockholder in any corporation whatever; provided, however, that the provisions hereof shall not apply to, or preclude, the State, or any political subdivision thereof, or any municipality, or other public corporation, from acquiring or holding shares of the capital stock of any mutual water corporation, when such stock is so acquired or held for the purpose of furnishing a supply of water for public or municipal purposes or for the use of the inhabitants of any such political subdivision, municipality, or public corporation, and the State, and any political subdivision thereof, and any municipality, and any other public corporation are hereby severally authorized to acquire and hold such stock, and said holding of such stock shall entitle such holder thereof to all the rights, powers and privileges, and subject such holder to all the obligations and liabilities as are given or are imposed by law to or upon other holders of stock in the mutual water corporation in which such stock is so held; and provided, further, that irrigation districts for the purpose of acquiring control of any entire international water system necessary for its uses and purposes, a part of which is situated in the United States, and a part thereof in a foreign country, may in the manner authorized by law acquire the stock of any foreign corporation which is the owner of, or which holds the title to the part of such system situated in the foreign country; provided, further, that irrigation districts for the purpose of acquiring water and water rights and other property necessary for their use and purposes may acquire and hold the stock of corporations, domestic or foreign, owning waters, water rights, canals, waterworks, franchises or concessions subject to the same obligations and liabilities as are imposed by law upon all other stockholders in such corporation; and

Provided, further, that nothing contained in this constitution shall prohibit the use of State money or credit, in aiding veterans who served in the military or naval service of the United States during time of war, in the acquisition of, or payments for, farms or homes, or in projects of land settlement or in the development of such farms or homes or land settlement projects for the benefit of such veterans.

The California Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921 (Statutes of 1921, chapter 578), as enacted at the forty-fourth session of the Legislature of the State of California, authorizing the issuance and sale of State bonds in the sum of ten million dollars, for the purpose of creating a fund to carry out the provisions of the California Veterans' Welfare Act, providing land settlement for veterans (Statutes of 1921, chapter 580), and the provisions of the "Veterans' Farm and Home Purchase Act," providing farm and home aid for veterans (Statutes of 1921, chapter 519) is hereby approved, adopted, legalized, validated and made fully and completely effective irrespective of the vote that may be cast upon the proposition of approving or disapproving such Veterans' Welfare Bond Act of 1921 at the general election of November 7, 1922. All provisions of this section shall be self-executing and shall not require any legislative action in furtherance thereof, but this shall not prevent such legislative action.

And provided, still further, that notwithstanding the restrictions contained in this constitution, the treasurer of any city, county, or city and county shall have power and it shall be his duty to make such temporary transfers from the funds in his custody as may be necessary to provide funds for meeting the obligations incurred for maintenance purposes by any city, county, city and county, district, or other political subdivision whose funds are in his custody and are paid out solely through his office. Such temporary transfer of funds to any political subdivision shall be made only upon resolution adopted by the governing body of the city, county, or city and county directing the treasurer of such city, county, or city and county to make such temporary transfer. Such temporary transfer of funds to any political subdivision shall not exceed eighty-five per cent of the taxes accruing to such political subdivision, shall not be made prior to the first day of the fiscal year nor after the last Monday in April of the current fiscal year, and shall be replaced from the taxes accruing to such political subdivision before any other obligation of such political subdivision is met from such taxes.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Noyes:

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF SUTTER COUNTY.

Resolution against passage of Assembly Bill No. 681, asking for appropriation to purchase dam sites for hydraulic mining.

WHEREAS, At the forty-fifth session of the Legislature of the State of California there was appropriated the sum of $200,000 for the purpose of investigating the possibilities of storage control and diversion of water for public use and public protection of the State of California, said act being contained in chapter 889 of said session, and

WHEREAS, At the forty-sixth session of said Legislature an act was passed providing for the investigation by the State of California of the possibilities of coordinating the development of the water resources of the State for public protection and to the end that such waters may be put to the greatest beneficial use and an appropriation of $250,000 was made for such purpose; said act being contained in chapter 477 of said session; and

WHEREAS, Pursuant to said acts a report has been made to the Legislature now in session in which report the central idea or recommendation of the Division of Engineering and Irrigation of the Department of Public Works of the State is that the greatest beneficial use of the waters of the streams of the State can be best effected by the construction and maintenance of storage reservoirs in the mountain regions of the rivers of the State, in which the flood waters may be conserved for summer irrigation of the valley lands and for power development; and

WHEREAS, It is manifest from the increased growth of the farming and horticultural interests of the State that the waters of the streams of the State should be conserved for the use and benefit of such interests, to the end that California shall become the first State of the nation in the production of food products, and that such a result can not be obtained without a systematic conservation of the waters of the streams in winter seasons and that such conservation can not be effected except through the construction and maintenance of storage reservoirs as recommended by the Division of Engineering, and

WHEREAS, There is now pending before the Legislature Assembly Bill No. 681 which provides for an appropriation of the sum of $300,000 to be expended by the California Debris Commission in the purchase of dam sites and other necessary land to restrain tailings from hydraulic mining operations; and

WHEREAS, It appears from said bill that the sole purpose of said appropriation is to obtain money with which to construct dams in order that the outlawed occupation of hydraulic mining, which has caused the Sacramento Valley untold millions of damage, may be resumed under a seeming authority of law; and

WHEREAS, The construction of such dams for such purpose would not be for a public benefit but would be solely for advancing the interests of private individuals, owners of such mining property, to the detriment of the farming interests of the State and the navigability of the waterways thereof; and

WHEREAS, The construction of such dams for such purposes would not in any way tend to conserve the public waters of the State, but would decrease and lessen the storage capacity of such reservoirs by permitting them to be filled with tailings and mineral debris;

Now, therefore, the board of supervisors of Sutter County affirms,

1. That any project or plan for the conservation of the waters of the streams of the State should be under the exclusive management and control of State authority and not under the authority of the California Debris Commission which was created solely for the purpose of devising ways whereby hydraulic mining could be resumed after the courts, both federal and State, had decided that such operations were illegal.

2 That no appropriation should be made by the State for the purpose of furthering the interests of private owners of hydraulic mining property to the detriment of the rivers and streams of the State

3 That by simple reasoning it is apparent that any tailings or mining debris restrained behind dams must eventually find their way into the streams below such dams and will eventually place the streams and rivers on which such operations are permitted in the same condition they were in before the courts determined that such operations were illegal.

4. That if hydraulic mining is not resumed there is no necessity of constructing dams to restrain tailings from hydraulic mines, as such tailings from previous mining by that method have been removed from the mountain regions of the rivers on which such mining was carried on, and have been deposited in the beds of the rivers in the valleys and in the bays into which they flow.

5. That for the reasons above noted Assembly Bill No 681 should not become a law.

Passed and adopted by the board of supervisors of Sutter County March 8, 1927, by the following vote:

Ayes—F. H. Graves, E. E. Reeves, J. C. Ahlf, J. B. Heiken, Geo. H. Trevathan.

GEO. H. TREVATHAN,
Chairman Board of Supervisors.

Attest: ALBERT B BROWN, Clerk.

YUBA COUNTY FARM BUREAU.

WHEREAS, Mining by the hydraulic process, in the past filled the beds of the rivers and streams flowing through the Sacramento Valley with sand, gravel and mining debris, to such an extent as to destroy the navigability of the Feather River and to cause other rivers and streams to overflow their banks to the destruction of thousands of acres of the richest lands in Sutter, Yuba and other counties by covering these lands with sand and gravel to the depth of from five to twenty feet; and

WHEREAS, The destruction of whole counties was prevented by building of huge levees along both banks of these streams at tremendous expense to the farmers who were compelled to tax themselves for the purpose; and

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife, which greatly embittered the residents of the farming section of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains; and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the county and the farmers in reclamation and protection projects made necessary by hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the land of the farmers made necessary to pay for these projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any great extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees, which are now built as high as practicable, inadequate, experience has assured us that no dam can be constructed in such a manner as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the stream by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are convinced that a great portion of the debris from the mines now operating above the structure known as Bullard's Bar dam is now passing over the top of the dam and on down into the valley below, thus continuing to fill the rivers more and more; and

WHEREAS, In many places along some of our rivers the present bed of the river is as high, or even higher, than the natural ground outside the present levees; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Yuba County Farm Bureau, the personnel of which is composed of farmers, who have and are now bearing the burden of the fight in the past and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, that we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through the valley, and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent its resumption and if necessary to organize the Anti-Debris Society and carry on the fight as in the past, for our homes and this beloved valley.

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife, which greatly embittered the residents of the farming section of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains, and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the county and the farmers in reclamation and protection projects made necessary by hydraulic mining, and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the land of the farmers made necessary to pay for these projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any great extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees, which are now built as high as practicable, inadequate, experience has assured us that no dam can be constructed in such a manner as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the stream by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are convinced that a great portion of the debris from the mines now operating above the structure known as Bullard's Bar Dam is now passing over the top of the dam and on down into the valley below, thus continuing to fill the rivers more and more; and

WHEREAS, In many places along some of our rivers the present bed of the river is as high, or even higher, than the natural ground outside the present levees; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Board of Supervisors of Yolo County, the personnel of which is composed of farmers, who have and are now bearing the burden of the fight in the past and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, that we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through the valley, and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent its resumption and if necessary to organize the Anti-Debris Society and carry on the fight as in the past, for our homes and this beloved valley.

W. O. RUSSELL,
Chairman Board of Supervisors, Yolo County.

By Mr. Deuel:

OROVILLE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.

OROVILLE, CALIFORNIA, March 31, 1927.

To the California Legislature.

WHEREAS, There has been much criticism of lax law enforcement in cases pertaining to liquor making and liquor selling and the breaking of laws already on the statute books:

The Oroville Woman's Christian Temperance Union does hereby protest against the passing of any bills that would tend to further hamper or restrict the work of the federal, State or local enforcement officers, and protect law breakers, as such bills as Assembly Bills Nos. 117 and 118, relating to search and seizure, introduced by Mr. Hornblower;

Also, as the California voters at the State election held November, 1926, upheld by an increasing "dry" majority vote the State enforcement law, entitled the Wright Act.

We, as an organization, do protest against our State enacting any bill regarding modification of the eighteenth amendment or Volstead Act.

But the Union does endorse Senate bill in regard to establishing a State Department of Public Health and Nursing;

Also, the bill for a home for crippled children.

Respectfully,

OROVILLE WOMAN'S CHRISTIAN TEMPERANCE UNION.

Whenever in the opinion of the state fish and game commission it shall be necessary to screen any such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal in order to prevent fish from passing through or into such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal and away from any river, creek, stream or lake in which fish have been planted or may exist, the state fish and game commission shall order the person, company or corporation, irrigation district, or other political subdivision owning, leasing, controlling or having in charge any such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal to install and maintain a screen on such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal. Said order shall be in writing and shall specify the type, size, mesh, material and location of such screen and the time within which said screen must be installed.

After making and serving an order to install and maintain a screen as provided herein, the board of fish and game commissioners shall, when requested by said owners, lessees or operators of said irrigation district or other political subdivision owning, leasing or operating such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal, fix a time and place in the county in which the intake of such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal is situated for the taking of evidence upon the question of the necessity of installing and maintaining such screen and cause a notice in writing of the time and place of hearing to be served upon said owner, lessee, or operator, or upon the secretary or director of an irrigation district, or upon the chairman of the board of trustees or officers holding a corresponding position of such political subdivision owning or operating such mill race, irrigating ditch, pipe, flume, tunnel or canal at least ten days before such hearing at such time and place designated in said notice testimony under oath shall be taken on the part of the board of fish and game commissioners and the person, company, corporation, irrigation district or other political subdivision requesting such hearing. The court, upon the petition of the commission or its representative, shall enter an order directing the witness to appear before the court, at a time and place to be fixed by the court in such order, the time to be not more than ten days from the date of the order, and there show cause why he has not attended and testified or produced said papers before the commission or its representative. A copy of said order shall be served upon said witness If it shall appear to the court that said subpœna was regularly issued by the commission or its representative the court shall thereupon enter an order that said witness appear before the commission or its representative at the time and place fixed in said order, and testify or produce the required papers, and upon failure to obey said order, said witness shall be dealt with as for contempt of court.

MESSAGE FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA.
April 4, 1927.

To the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California.

Decisions have just been rendered, one by the Supreme Court of California, and two by the United States Supreme Court, which threaten very grave consequences to our taxation system and to our State revenues unless the situation is at once met by appropriate legislation.

By the first of these decisions corporations organized outside of this State are exempted from the payment of corporation license taxes. This not only entails a loss to the State of nearly half a million dollars per year, but also imposes a discrimination against our own domestic corporations. Manifestly this injustice to California corporations must not be permitted to continue.

The other decisions are even graver in their consequences, and, unless cared for by the Legislature, will mean a probable tax loss amounting to millions of dollars as well as serious confusion in our system of bank taxation. These decisions of the United States Supreme Court deal with cases arising in Wisconsin and Minnesota, and are based on the method of taxing so-called "intangible" property in those states. If applied to California, where similar laws prevail, they will wipe out practically all taxation on our national banks. This would not only be unfair to our State banks, which would still be taxed as at present, but would also unquestionably not be welcomed by the national banks themselves, which have never evidenced any desire to escape their fair share of the tax burden.

Fortunately these decisions have been handed down while this Legislature is still in session, and the State can therefore be saved from the major part of the danger with which it is threatened. The State Board of Equalization, State Controller, Board of Control and Attorney General have been busily engaged in working on the problem, and legislation is being suggested in the form of bills to accomplish the following:

First—To extend to our California corporations the relief from license taxes which the decision accords to foreign corporations.

Second—To adjust the tax on general corporate franchises to the present proper rate as determined by the State Board of Equalization:

Third—To eliminate the differential classification of so-called "intangible" property, on which the decisions affecting national bank taxation were based.

These steps are designed only to meet emergencies presented by these recent court decisions and will neither produce any increase in State revenues or effect any change in our tax system beyond what the decisions themselves render absolutely imperative. By this method our tax system may be properly safeguarded, and our State banks and domestic corporations may be assured of no greater tax burden than is borne by national banks and foreign corporations.

Respectfully submitted.

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

MOTION TO REFER.

On motion of Mr. Coombs, the above message was ordered referred to Committee on Judiciary.

PRESENTATION OF PETITIONS.

The following petitions were presented, and ordered printed in the Journal:

By Mr. Noyes:

LIVE OAK FARM CENTER.

On motion, the following resolution was unanimously adopted at a meeting held on the fifteenth day of February, 1927:

WHEREAS, Mining by the hydraulic process, in the past, filled the beds of the rivers and streams flowing through the Sacramento Valley with sand, gravel and mining debris to such extent as to cause our rivers and streams to overflow their banks to the destruction of thousands of acres of the richest lands in Sutter, Yuba and other counties by covering these lands with sand and gravel to the depth of from five to twenty feet; and

WHEREAS, The destruction of whole counties was prevented by building of huge levees along both banks of these streams at tremendous expense to the farmers who were compelled to tax themselves for the purpose; and

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife which greatly embittered the residents of the farming sections of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains, and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the counties and the farmers in reclamation and protection projects made necessary by hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the lands of the farmers made necessary to pay for these projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees which are now built as high as is practical, inadequate to hold the water in the streams; and

WHEREAS, Our past experience has assured us that no dam can be so constructed as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the streams by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are assured that a great portion of the debris from hydraulic mines now passes and will continue to pass over any dam that may be constructed and so on down into the valley, thus continuing to fill the rivers; and

WHEREAS, A number of the streams of the Sacramento Valley are now so filled with hydraulic mining debris that the present bed of the river is, in many places, above the natural ground outside the levees, therefore, be it

Resolved, By Live Oak Farm Center, whose personnel has borne their share of the burden of the fight in the past and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, that we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by the hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through our valley and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent the resumption of hydraulic mining, and, if necessary, to reorganize the Anti-debris Association and carry on the fight as in the past, for the protection of our homes and this beloved valley.

(Signed) HOWARD H. HARTER, President.

Attest. MRS. FRANK WITT Secretary.

ARBOGA FARM CENTER.

WHEREAS, Mining by the hydraulic process, in the past, filled the beds of the rivers and streams flowing through the Sacramento Valley with sand, gravel and mining debris, to such an extent as to destroy the navigability of the Feather River and to cause other rivers and streams to overflow their banks to the destruction of thousands of acres of the richest lands in Sutter, Yuba and other counties by covering these lands with sand and gravel to the depth of from five to twenty feet; and

WHEREAS, The destruction of whole counties was prevented by building of huge levees along both banks of these streams at tremendous expense to the farmers who were compelled to tax themselves for the purpose; and

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife, which greatly embittered the residents of the farming section of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains; and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the county and the farmers in reclamation and protection of projects made necessary by hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the land of the farmers made necessary to pay for these projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any great extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees, which are now built as high as practicable, experience has assured us that no dam can be constructed in such a manner as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the stream by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are convinced that a great portion of the debris from the mines now operating above the structure known as Bullard's Bar dam is now passing over the top of the dam and on down into the valley below, thus continuing to fill the rivers more and more; and

WHEREAS, In many places along some of our rivers the present bed of the river is as high, or even higher, than the natural ground outside the present levees; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Arboga Farm Center, the personnel of which is composed of farmers, who have and are now bearing the burden of the fight in the past and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, That we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through the valley, and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent its resumption and if necessary to organize the Anti-Debris Society and carry on the fight as in the past, for our homes, and this beloved valley.

WHEREAS, The report of the Department of Public Works, Division of Engineering and Irrigation, Bulletin No. 12, specifically recommends the rehabilitation of hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The report of the Hydraulic Mining Commission calls attention to the feasibility of the resumption of hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, Mining by the hydraulic process, in the past, filled the beds of the rivers and streams flowing through the Sacramento Valley with sand, gravel and mining debris, to such an extent as to destroy the navigability of the Feather River and to cause other rivers and streams to overflow their banks to the destruction of thousands of acres of the richest lands in Sutter, Yuba and other counties by covering these lands with a sand and gravel surface to the depth of from five to twenty feet; and

WHEREAS, The destruction of whole counties was prevented by building of huge levees along both banks of these streams at tremendous expense to the farmers who were compelled to tax themselves for the purpose, and

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife, and greatly embittered the residents of the farming section of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains; and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the county and the farmers in reclamation and protection projects made necessary by hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the land of the farmers made necessary to pay for those projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any great extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees, which are now built as high as practicable, inadequate, experience has assured us that no dam can be constructed in such a manner as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the stream by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are convinced that a great portion of the debris from the mines now operating above the structure of Bullard's Dam is now passing over the top of the dam and on down into the valley below, thus continuing to fill the rivers more and more; and

WHEREAS, In many places along some of the rivers the present bed of the stream is as high or higher, than the natural ground outside the present levees; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Yolo County Board of Trade, the personnel of which is composed of farmers, who have in the past, and are now bearing the burden of the fight, and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, that we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through the valley, and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent its resumption, and if necessary to organize the anti-debris society and carry on the fight as in the past, for our homes and this beloved valley

REPORT OF SANTA ANA COOPERATIVE INVESTIGATIONS.

The following report was ordered printed in the Journal:

REPORT ON SANTA ANA COOPERATIVE INVESTIGATIONS.

Pursuant to chapter 476 of the Statutes of 1925, by the State Engineer and the Engineering Consulting Committee appointed by Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
April 2, 1927.

To the Governor of California and the State Legislature, Session of 1927.

HONORABLE SIRS: The main source of water for these three counties is the Santa Ana River and its tributaries, draining 1485 square miles above the lower canyon of the river, which is near the eastern boundary of Orange County. The grand total water crop from this area for the last thirty years has been estimated at over three hundred thousand acre feet per annum. This water is discharged largely in the form of torrential floods during the winter, followed by extreme low stages in the summer when it is most required. In Orange County 80 per cent of the total supplies is now obtained from wells and probably over 50 per cent in San Bernardino and Riverside counties. In Orange County these large drafts on the ground water supply is causing its serious depletion. The same is true in large areas in San Bernardino County. In all three counties there is an excess of land not now served with water which under its present condition has little value, but if properly supplied with water would become exceedingly productive and valuable. The winter floods frequently occur in great volume rushing to the sea and causing great damage in their course. In Los Angeles County these flood damages in 1914 and 1916 were estimated at $10,000,000. The flood in February, 1927, destroyed bridges at a loss of approximately $400,000 in Riverside County. In Orange County the flood of 1916 is estimated to have done $1,000,000 in damage. The amount of damage in San Bernardino County, while large, has not been estimated for 1927.

PLAN OF STUDY.

The three counties of Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino, realizing the importance of an adequate water supply during periods of necessity and the avoidance of flood damage, requested the State of California to assist them in finding some remedy. This resulted in the passing of a State appropriation of $25,000 to be expended during the fiscal period 1925-1927, as contained in chapter CDLXXVI of the Statutes of 1925. This instructed the State Engineer's office to carry out a water supply study in cooperation with the three counties, provided the three counties contributed an equal sum to this work. This county cooperation was obtained. Each county also appointed an engineer to represent it in consultation with the State Engineer. In addition to this the three counties are cooperating in the actual work of conserving flood waters by spreading them on the debris cones where the streams leave their mountain canyons. The water companies, which are practically all public institutions, have been expending funds in investigation for the conservation of the winter flows by spreading in the higher portion of the mountain basins.

THE PROPOSED REMEDY.

The remedy for the problem of flood prevention and conservation as contemplated consists in the storage of flood waters in the mountains for purposes of regulation and conservation. It is also proposed to store flood waters in the lower portion of the drainage basin before they reach the coastal plain and to regulate the winter flow for summer use. By the regulation of these floods it will be possible to handle them in such a way that much greater quantities of water can be put under ground by spreading and absorption so as to sustain the ground water levels.

WORK ACCOMPLISHED

The work accomplished during the biennium under the 1925 appropriation consists of an investigation of the available water supply and of the flood flows in all the tributaries of the Santa Ana, except the San Jacinto. Reconnaissance of over forty miles of stream channel was made for reservoir sites with which their floods might be controlled. Field surveys were made of the sites found, the reservoir capacities determined, cost estimates made for several heights of dam at each site, and the degree of control of floods determined for several reservoir capacities. In all, 19 dam sites and 13 separate reservoir sites were so investigated. The foundations of two of the dam sites were explored with the diamond drill. In addition, an underground water contour map was made of the Santa Ana Basin and much data collected on the subsurface supply and the use of water.

WORK REMAINING TO BE DONE.

While the investigations provided for in the act referred to above have been carried on diligently and continuously for the last two years, the problem has been found to be so complex and involves such great values that a conclusion as to the best method of procedure and remedy can not yet be stated. Some of the dam sites surveyed have not been explored for bedrock. Others have been surveyed so recently that time has not been available for the study of plans and estimates. It is particularly important that the ground water supplies should be more thoroughly investigated, as a large portion of the water must always be derived from this source. When the physical data is complete some reasonable plan should be outlined for the improvement of the entire basin as a unit if possible.

Probably the largest undeveloped supply in southern California is the Mojave River in San Bernardino County. Very little is known of this stream except that its flood discharge is very great and its low water flow exceedingly small. Reservoir sites exist and the underlying lands are desert We recommend that this water supply study should be extended to the basin of the Mojave River.

ESTIMATED COST OF WORK.

It is proposed that the three counties should continue their studies and experiments as to the effectiveness of putting flood waters under ground by spreading operations, and that these counties should bear this portion of the expense. Partly in consideration of this, we advise that the State continue their general hydrographic studies of surface and ground waters in these three counties, including the Mojave River. The estimated cost of continuing this State work for the coming two years is $75,000.

Respectfully submitted.

PAUL BAILEY,
State Engineer.

AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE

On page 1 of the printed bill, strike out, after the enacting clause, all of pages 1, 2 and 3, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

SECTION 1. Five new sections are hereby added to an act entitled "An act for preventing the manufacture, sale or transportation of adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded foods and liquors and regulating the traffic therein, providing penalties, establishing a state laboratory for foods, liquors and drugs and making an appropriation therefor," approved March 11, 1907, as amended, to be numbered respectively sections 16*a*, 16*b*, 16*c*, 16*d*, and 16*e*, and to read as follows:

16*a*. The state board of health is hereby authorized to organize and establish local food inspection and enforcement divisions thereof, with headquarters at such points and with jurisdiction over such territory as the said board shall by order specify. For the purposes of this act, the term "local food inspection and enforcement division" shall be construed to mean the local health department headed by the duly appointed, qualified and acting health officer of any county, city or city and county designated by order of said board to act as such division within the territory specified in such order, which territory may include one or more counties, cities or cities and counties.

16*b*. Such local food protection and enforcement divisions shall each have power and it shall be their duty to make, or cause to be made, examinations and analyses of food on sale within the territory over which such local division has jurisdiction and suspected of being adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded, at such times and places and to such extent as the health officer of such local division shall determine. The health officer of any local food protection and enforcement division, together with his deputies, shall have, within the territory over which such local division has jurisdiction, the same powers as are possessed by peace officers of this state.

16*c*. When an examination or analysis made pursuant to the provisions of section 16*b* hereof shows that any provision of this act has been violated, notice of the fact, together with a copy of the findings thereof, shall be furnished to the party or parties from whom the sample was obtained, or who issued the guarantee, as provided in this act, and a day and place shall be fixed by the health officer of the local food protection and enforcement division, at which said parties may be heard before him. At least fifteen days notice of such hearing shall be served upon the parties interested, which hearing shall be private and confined to questions of fact. Appearances may be made in person or by attorney and testimony may be taken and evidence introduced as to the correctness of the findings made by the person making the examination or performing the analysis above referred to. If such examination or analysis be found correct, or if the party or parties fail to appear, after notice duly given as above provided, the health officer conducting the hearing shall certify the facts found to the district attorney of the county in which said adulterated, mislabeled or misbranded food was found, sold, or offered or exposed for sale. No publication as in this act provided shall be made until after said act is concluded.

16*d*. It shall be the duty of the sheriff of any county, in exercising the powers conferred upon him by section 10 hereof, to furnish samples of any and all adulterated, misbranded or mislabeled foods seized or purchased by him as in said section 10 provided, to the health officer of the local food protection and enforcement division, if any, having jurisdiction over the territory within which such seizure or purchase is made; and in carrying out the duties prescribed for him by section 17 hereof, it shall also be his duty to purchase an additional sample and forward the same to such health officer.

16*e*. The provisions of sections 16*a*, 16*b*, 16*c* and 16*d* hereof shall not be construed as repealing, either directly or by implication any of the existing sections of this act, but shall be construed as constituting an alternative method of enforcing the same and of carrying out the intent and purpose thereof.

The state board of health is hereby empowered to prescribe such rules and regulations relating to the operating of the "local inspection and enforcement division" as defined in section 16*a* as it may deem necessary to carry into effect the full intent and meaning of sections 16*a*, b, c, and d.

MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL.

On motion of Mr. Jones, the following decisions pertaining to legislation now pending before the California State Legislature were ordered printed in the Journal:

First National Bank of Hartford, Wis., plaintiff in error, v. City of Hartford and State of Wisconsin, Supreme Court of United States, No. 186.

The plaintiff national bank was entitled to recover a tax assessed and paid, under protest, for 1921 upon the shares of stock in the plaintiff bank, under a statute of Wisconsin, the Supreme Court of the United States held in this review, on the ground that the tax was prohibited by Revised Statutes, section 5219

Mr. Justice Stone delivered the opinion of the court as follows

Plaintiff in error, a national banking association doing business in Wisconsin, brought suit in the circuit court of Washington County, Wisconsin, to recover from the defendant in error, the City of Hartford, a tax assessed and paid for the year 1921 upon shares of stock in plaintiff bank, on the ground that the assessment and tax were prohibited by 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States (Act of June 3, 1864, c. 106, 13 Stat 99, 112; Act of February 10, 1868, c. 7, 15 Stat. 34).

Suit to Recover Tax Paid Under Protest The tax having been paid under protest, a suit for its recovery, raising the legality of the assessment, is permitted by local statutes. Wis Stat. 1923, section 74 73.

The trial court held the assessment illegal and gave judgment for the plaintiff. On appeal, the Supreme Court of Wisconsin reversed the judgment with a direction to the court below to enter judgment in favor of the defendant, dismissing the complaint. 187 Wis 290.

The case comes here on writ of error under section 237 of the Judicial Code. Merchants National Bank v. Richmond, 256 U. S. 635, 637; First National Bank v. Anderson, 269 U S 341, 346. The contention here is that the State Supreme Court erred in holding that these tax statutes are not repugnant to section 5219 Revised Statutes

"National banks are not merely private moneyed institutions but agencies of the United States created under its laws to promote its fiscal policies; and hence the banks, their property and their shares can not be taxed under state authority except as Congress consents and then only in conformity with the restrictions attached to its consent." First National Bank v. Anderson, supra, 347, Des Moines Bank v. Fairweather, 263 U. S. 103, 106.

Congress, by appropriate legislation, has permitted the taxation of shares in national banks subject to certain restrictions Section 5219 sanctions such taxation in the state where the bank is located, subject to the restriction that "the taxation shall not be at a greater rate than is assessed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of such state"

By decisions of this court construing this language, it is established that the phrase "other moneyed capital" does not embrace all moneyed capital not invested in bank shares, but "only that which is employed in such way as to bring it into substantial competition with the business of national banks." First National Bank v Anderson, supra, 348.

Hence the question presented by this record is whether the tax imposed upon the shares of stock of plaintiff under the Wisconsin statutes is at a greater rate than that imposed upon other moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of Wisconsin employed in substantial competition with national banks

By section 70 31 of the Wisconsin statutes, an ad valorem tax is assessed upon all shares of banks, including national banking associations, as personal property within the assessment district in which the bank is located. Section 70.11 exempts from such taxation "all moneys or debts due or to become due to any person and all stocks and bonds, including bonds issued by any county, town, city, village, school district, or other political subdivision of this state, not otherwise specially provided for."

No Tax on Credits or Intangible Property. Acting under these statutes, the taxing authorities imposed the tax now in question, but made no assessment and levied no tax upon credits or intangible property other than the shares of stock in banking corporations.

The state of Wisconsin imposes a tax upon incomes, including incomes derived from credits. The court below assumed, and it was not questioned upon the argument here, that this tax is not to be taken as an equivalent or substitute for the ad valorem tax levied upon bank shares and no question of the possible equivalence of the two schemes of taxation is presented.

From the sections cited, it appears that the tax statutes of Wisconsin discriminate in favor of moneyed capital and capital investments within the state, represented by credits or intangibles, and against that invested in shares in banking corporations.

But it is not sufficient to show this discrimination alone. The validity of the tax complained of depends upon whether or not the moneyed capital in the state thus favored is employed in such a manner as to bring it into substantial competition with the business of national banks.

The question thus raised involves considerations both of fact and of law. To answer it, it is necessary to ascertain the nature and extent of the moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens within the state and the relation of its employment, in point of competition, to the business of plaintiff and other national banks. It is necessary also to ascertain the precise meaning to be given the statute as applied to the facts in hand in order to determine whether the particular moneyed capital and the particular competition with which we are here concerned are moneyed capital and competition within the spirit and purpose of the statute.

The question is thus a mixed one of law and fact, and in dealing with it we may review the facts in order correctly to apply the law. Truax v. Corrigan, 257 U. S. 312, 325; Kansas City Southern Ry. v. Albers Commission Co., 223 U. S. 573, 591. Northern Pac. Ry. v. North Dakota, 236 U. S. 585, 593; Jones National Bank v. Yates, 240 U. S. 541, 552, 553, cf. Merchants' National Bank v. Richmond, supra, 638. The opposite view expressed in Jenkins v. Neff, 186 U. S. 230, 235, must be considered discarded by the later cases.

Also, as the case is brought here from a state court for review on the ground that a federal right there set up was denied, this court is not concluded by a finding of the state court that the asserted right is without basis in fact. Aetna Life Ins. Co. v. Dunken, 266 U. S. 389, 394; Southern Pac. Co. v. Schuyler, 227 U. S. 601, 611.

The evidence shows that plaintiff in the course of its business receives deposits, loans money, has a savings department, deals in exchange, buys and sells notes, government and other bonds, discounts commercial paper and acquires real estate mortgages by loan and purchase. On the trial, plaintiff called numerous witnesses who gave testimony, uncontradicted by defendant, tending to show the nature and extent of various classes of moneyed capital in the hands of individuals in the state and the nature of its employment in competition with the business carried on by national banks.

Evidence Introduced to Prove Competition. There are real estate firms engaged in lending money to individuals in the vicinity of plaintiff's banking house, the amount thus loaned amounting annually from $250,000 to $300,000. According to the testimony, the making of these loans affords the same competition to plaintiff as loans made by banks. And similar conditions obtain throughout the state.

There are various individuals, copartnerships and corporations in the vicinity engaged in the business of acquiring and selling notes, bonds, mortgages and securities. Substantial capital is employed in their business. Others, having their place of business in Milwaukee and in Chicago, are engaged within the state in the business of buying and selling securities both in the vicinity of plaintiff's banking house and elsewhere, and employ capital for that purpose.

Securities thus acquired and offered for sale include public utility and other forms of bonds, notes and farm mortgages. In 1921, one company alone, having its place of business in Milwaukee but doing business throughout the state, including the vicinity of plaintiff's bank, sold approximately $25,000,000 of bonds and other securities. This company is shown to be affiliated with and its stock held principally by stockholders of the First Wisconsin National Bank of Milwaukee, and to have been organized for the purpose of taking over the business of the bank in dealing in securities.

Neither the capital employed in these various enterprises by individuals or corporations, so far as invested in the credits, nor the shares held by investors in such corporations is subjected to the ad valorem tax.

Upon this evidence, the trial court found that during 1921 moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens in the vicinity of plaintiff's banking house, amounting to many hundreds of thousands of dollars, which was not assessed for taxation nor taxed, was employed in a manner which brought it into competition with the business conducted by national banks, including that of plaintiff. It also found that moneyed capital to the extent of millions of dollars held by individual citizens throughout the state, and employed in a manner which brought it into competition with such banks, was similarly exempt from this taxation.

State Bank in Error in Finding no Competition. The State Supreme Court held that it was not concluded by these findings of mixed law and fact. Since the Wisconsin tax law is one of statewide application, it took judicial notice of the general conditions within the state to which the law applies, and reached the conclusion that there was no capital in the hands of individual citizens which was invested or used in substantial competition with capital invested in shares of national banks.

In so doing, it pointed out that under section 224 03 (Wis. Stat 1923) all persons, firms and corporations doing a banking business are required to incorporate as banks and their shares are taxed in the same way and at the same rate as shares in national banks.

As the basic ground for its decision, the court stated that in consequence of these statutes, "there are no concerns or individuals within the state of Wisconsin engaged in enterprises in which the capital employed in carrying on its business, is money, 'where the object of the business is the making of profit by its use as money,' except banks. All such persons, firms and corporations are required under the laws of the state of Wisconsin to organize as banks."

But the Wisconsin statutes requiring those engaged in the banking business to incorporate as banks are expressly limited in their application to those engaged in "soliciting, receiving or accepting of money or its equivalent on deposit as a regular business." Wis. Stat. 1923, section 224.02. They have no application to transactions already described which formed the basis of the trial court's finding that competition existed.

It is not denied, and indeed it affirmatively appears from the evidence, that there are individuals, firms and corporations in Wisconsin, not required by its laws to be incorporated as banks, engaged in the business of loaning money on the security of notes, bonds, and mortgages, and buying and selling securities, all involving investment and reinvestment by them and their customers. Through the activities of these business concerns, large investments are made and remade in such securities. Large amounts of capital are thus employed in some of the ordinary banking activities although these individuals and firms do not receive deposits.

The state court did not ignore this evidence. It conceded that the local tax statutes were in fact discriminatory. But it apparently construed the decisions of this court as requiring equality in taxation only of moneyed capital invested in businesses substantially identical with the business carried on by national banks.

Consequently, since that class of business must under the Wisconsin statutes be carried on in corporate form and capital invested in it is taxed at the same rate as national bank shares, other moneyed capital, as defined in § 5219, within the state, it thought, was not favored. Under this view, if logically pursued, capital invested in business engaged in some but not all of the activities of national banks as well as that employed by individuals in investment and reinvestment in securities such as we have described could not be considered in determining the question of competition.

Equality in Taxation Interpreted in Opinion. But this court has recently had occasion, in reviewing the earlier decisions dealing with this subject, to point out that the requirement of approximate equality in taxation is not limited to investment of moneyed capital in shares of state banks or to competing capital employed in private banking. The restriction applies as well where the competition exists only with respect to particular features of the business of national banks or where moneyed capital "is employed, substantially as in the loan and investment features of banking, in making investments by way of loan, discount or otherwise, in notes, bonds or other securities, with a view to sale or repayment and reinvestment." First National Bank v. Anderson, supra, 348.

In so doing, it followed the holding in Mercantile Bank v. New York, 121 U. S. 138, 157, that,

"The terms of the act of Congress, therefore, include shares of stock or other interests owned by individuals in all enterprises in which the capital employed in carrying on its business is money, where the object of the business is the making of profit by its use as money. The moneyed capital thus employed is invested for that purpose in securities by way of loan, discount, or otherwise, which are from time to time, according to the rules of the business, reduced again to money and reinvested.

"It includes money in the hands of individuals employed in a similar way, invested in loans, or in securities for the payment of money, either as an investment of a permanent character, or temporarily with a view to sale or repayment and reinvestment In this way the moneyed capital in the hands of individuals is distinguished from what is known generally as personal property."

The amendment to section 5219 (Act of March 4, 1923, c. 267, 42 Stat. 1499), passed after the present tax was levied, provides that "bonds, notes, or other evidences of indebtedness in the hands of individual citizens not employed or engaged in the banking or investment business and representing merely personal investments not made in competition with such business, shall not be deemed moneyed capital within the meaning of this section." (Italics ours.)

It is said that this enactment is a legislative interpretation of section 5219 as it stood prior to the amendment; that consequently a narrower interpretation must be given to this section than in earlier cases and that under the section before and as amended, personal investments of individuals should, under no circumstances, be deemed included in the term competing capital.

But as was pointed out in First National Bank v. Anderson, supra, 350, the amendment did no more than put into express words that "which according to repeated decisions of this court was implied before." By its terms the amendment excludes from moneyed capital only those personal investments which are not in competition with the business of national banks.

Competition may exist between other moneyed capital and capital invested in national banks, serious in character and therefore well within the purpose of section 5219 even though the competition be with some but not all phases of the business of national banks. Section 5219 is not directed merely at discriminatory taxation which favors a competing banking business.

Competition in the sense intended arises not from the character of the business of those who compete but from the manner of the employment of the capital at their command. No decision of this court appears to have so qualified section 5219 as to permit discrimination in taxation in favor of moneyed capital such as is here contended for.

To so restrict the meaning and application of section 5219 would defeat its purpose. It was intended to prevent the fostering of unequal competition with the business of national banks by the aid of discriminatory taxation in favor of capital invested by institutions or individuals engaged either in similar businesses or in particular operations or investments like those of national banks. Mercantile Bank v. New York, supra, 155.

With the great increase in investments by individuals and the growth of concerns engaged in particular phases of banking shown by the evidence in this case and in State v. Minnesota v. First National Bank of St. Paul, today decided, discrimination with respect to capital thus used could readily be carried to a point where the business of national banks would be seriously curtailed. Our conclusion is that section 5219 is violated wherever capital, substantial in amount when compared with the capitalization of national banks, is employed either in a business or by private investors in the same sort of transactions as those in which national banks engage and in the same locality in which they do business.

Some of the cases dealing with the technical significance of the term competition in this field were decided before national banks were permitted to invest in mortgages as they now are. Act of December 23, 1913, c. 6, section 24, 38 Stat. 251, 273. Act of September 7, 1916, c. 461, 39 Stat. 752, 754; Act of February 25, 1927, section 24.

Extensive Loan Business Not Subjected to Tax. And others go no further than to hold that in the absence of allegation and proof of competition with national banking capital, it can not be said that an offending discrimination exists. And it is not sufficient to show that untaxed capital is invested in loans and securities without showing also that the class of investments favored is open to national banks.

Here, large amounts of capital are shown to be invested in business carried on throughout the state which are of the same character as some though not all of the business carried on by national banks. In two fields at least, loans and sales of credits, capital thus employed is shown to be in substantial competition with that of national banks.

The evidence might have been directed more in detail to the precise character of the competition. But that offered was uncontradicted, and when it was shown that national banks in the state of Wisconsin having a capital and surplus in excess of $50,000,000 are engaged in the business of making loans, and that there is an extensive loan business in the state not subjected to the tax burden of national banks, and it was testified directly that this business came into competition with the business of plaintiff and other national banks, we think that the finding of the trial court was supported by the evidence and should not have been disturbed.

There was also, we think, sufficient evidence that private individuals as investors of surplus funds are engaged in loaning money at interest on real estate mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness such as normally enter into the business of banking and that these investments are of substantial amount.

We do not conceive that in order to establish the fact of competition it is necessary to show that national banks and competing investors solicit the same customers for the same loans or investments. It is enough as stated if both engage in seeking and securing in the same locality capital investment of the class now under consideration which are substantial in amount.

It is argued that national banks are not authorized to deal in bonds or other evidences of indebtedness and that section 5219 was not intended to protect them from discriminatory taxation in favor of moneyed capital employed in a business in which they may not engage. But it is not necessary for the purposes of this case to determine the precise limits of their powers.

They are given authority, in addition to loaning money, to exercise all such "incidental powers" as shall be necessary to carry on the business of banking "by discounting and negotiating promissory notes, drafts, bills of exchange, and other evidences of debt." Section 5136 Revised Statutes. They are authorized, with certain limitations, to loan money on real estate mortgages Act of December 23, 1913, supra, Act of September 7, 1916, supra; Act of February 25, 1927, section 24.

Here plaintiff is shown to have investments in real estate mortgages and to be engaged in selling them The sale of mortgages and "other evidences of debt" acquired by way of loan or discount with a view to reinvestment is, we think, within the recognized limits of the incidental powers of national banks Compare First National Bank v. Anderson, supra, 348, Mercantile National Bank v. New York, supra, 156

To that extent the business of acquiring and selling such mortgages and evidences of debt, carried on by numerous individuals, firms, and corporations in Wisconsin, comes into competition with this incidental business of national banks. That the exercise of this incidental power has become of great importance in the business of national banks appears from the Report of the Comptroller of the Currency for 1924, 44 et seq, showing that approximately one-third of the investment of national banks consist of government, railroad public service corporation and other bonds, and "collateral trust and other corporation notes"

Finally it is said that section 5219 is directed to an unfriendly discrimination or hostile attitude on the part of a state and that here the Wisconsin legislation was not dictated by such considerations, since the challenged exemptions were merely incidental to the adoption of a state policy of substituting, so far as possible, an income for a personal property tax.

But a consideration of the entire course of judicial decision on this subject can leave no doubt that state legislation and taxing measures which by their necessary operation and effect discriminate against capital invested in national bank shares in the manner described are intended to be forbidden

The questions here considered arising from the application of ad valorem tax are not affected by the amendment of section 5219 by the Act of March 4, 1923, c. 267, 42 Stat. 1499, which permits in lieu of the ad valorem tax on shares of national banks either a nondiscriminatory tax on the income of national banks or on the income derived from their shares.

Judgment reversed

March 21, 1927

State of Minnesota, Petitioner, v First National Bank of St Paul, Supreme Court of United States, No. 245

Minnesota statutes, assessing upon shares of national banks within the state a tax higher than the tax assessed on competing moneyed capital of individuals invested in shares of corporations whose business competes with national banks, were held, by the Supreme Court of the United States on writ of certiorari to the Supreme Court of Minnesota, discriminatory in violation of section 5219, Revised Statutes.

Mr. Justice Stone delivered the opinion of the court as follows:

The state of Minnesota, the petitioner, brought suit in the district court of Ramsey County, Minnesota, to recover from the First National Bank of St Paul the respondent, taxes assessed against its shareholders for the years 1921 and 1922. Respondent resisted the payment of the tax on the ground that the assessment was at a higher rate than that on moneyed capital employed in competition with national banks and hence prohibited by section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States The trial court gave judgment for petitioner. On appeal judgment was reversed by the Supreme Court of Minnesota and a new trial ordered 204 N W. 874 Upon the second trial, had upon the record of the first, the district court held that at the time of the assessment of the taxes in question "a substantial and relatively material portion of the money and credits so listed and assessed in said Ramsey County consisted of moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens of said county, coming into competition with the business of national banks in said county, and with the business of said defendant" Judgment in respondent's favor was affirmed by the Supreme Court of Minnesota 205 N W 375 This court granted certiorari 269 U S 550, Jud. Code, section 237 (b)

Similar to Hartford Case. The questions raised are similar to those considered in First National Bank of Hartford v. City of Hartford, decided this day, and may be disposed of by the application to the present facts of the principles there considered.

Under the Minnesota statutes, shares of national banks and the moneyed capital of banks or mortgage loan companies organized under the laws of the state are assessed and taxed at forty per cent of their full value in the district where located. Gen Stat 1923, section 2023, Laws of 1921, c. 416. Money and credits are taxed at the rate of three mills on the dollar of their full cash value and are exempt from all other taxation Gen Stat. 1913, section 2316, Laws of 1911, c 285 Mortgages upon real estate and executory contracts for the sale of real estate are separately taxed at a lower rate, 15 cents per one hundred dollars where the period to run is for five years or less, and 25 cents per one hundred dollars on mortgages and contracts for a longer period Gen. Stat. 1913, section 2301, et seq.; Laws of 1921, c 445. Money is defined as gold and silver coin, all forms of currency, and all deposits subject to withdrawal on demand. Credits include every demand for money or other valuable thing. Gen Stat. 1923, section 1980, Laws of 1917, c 130.

Under these statutes money and credits, as defined, are taxed at the three-mill rate and mortgages on real estate at a lesser rate.

It appears that the tax assessed upon the shares of respondent was sixty-seven mills in 1921 and sixty-one and one-half mills in 1922. Although based upon a 40 per cent valuation, the actual rate upon the shares was higher than the prescribed tax of three mills per dollar of full valuation of money and credits and therefore was discriminatory. Petitioner argues that in its actual operation, the tax on national bank shares is no greater than the tax on credits, since under the statute individuals are taxed at the rate of three mills upon the full value of their credits without deducting their liabilities, whereas in taxing bank shares, the liabilities of the banks are deducted from their assets in ascertaining the 40 per cent valuation of their shares. Therefore, it is urged, if bank shares were taxed at the same rate without deducting the bank's liabilities in ascertaining the value of their shares, the amount of the tax would be approximately the same. This argument ignores the fact that the tax authorized by section 5219 is against the holders of the bank shares and is measured by the value of the shares, and not by the assets of the bank without deduction of its liabilities. Des Moines National Bank v. Fairweather, 263 U. S. 103, and that the bank share tax must be compared with the tax assessed on competing moneyed capital of individuals invested in credits, or the tax on capital invested by individuals in the shares of corporations whose business competes with that of national banks. Mercantile Bank v. New York, 121 U. S. 138, 156, 157; First National Bank v. Anderson, 269 U. S. 341, 348. Thus compared, the actual tax imposed upon the shares of respondent, like the tax imposed upon credits in the hands of individuals, is assessed without deducting the liabilities of their individual owners, but at different rates. This discrimination is prohibited by section 5219 if moneyed capital in the hands of individuals in Minnesota is employed in substantial competition with national banks within the state.

The evidence shows that there were money and credits listed for taxation in the entire state during each of the years in question in excess of $400,000,000, exclusive of municipal bonds and recorded real estate mortgages, and in Ramsey County alone, where respondent conducts its banking business, there were like money and credits in excess of $83,000,000, all of which were subject to the three-mill tax. The evidence shows that in Ramsey County there were listed for taxation for 1921 in the hands of individuals, promissory notes amounting to $2,481,446, and bonds, exclusive of tax-exempt bonds and real estate mortgages to $7,595,975; for 1922, notes to $1,648,810, bonds to $9,931,955. There was invested in those years in real estate mortgages in Minnesota over $185,000,000 annually. The investment of national banks in Minnesota in those years in real estate mortgages was in excess of $19,600,000; in United States government bonds in excess of $41,000,000, and in other securities $33,500,000. The share value of national banks in Minnesota in those years, not including real estate, was a little more than $60,000,000, and less than two-thirds of their total investment in the securities mentioned.

Brokers Sell Paper. Note brokers within the state in those years made loans to their customers upon paper which they sell to banks and other investors amounting to as much as $100,000,000 annually. Much of this paper is sold outside of the state, but the amount sold to banks and to individuals within the state is substantial. One class of this paper known as "cattle loan paper" exceeded $22,000,000 annually in the years in question, and of this $13,000,000 was sold to banks, corporations, firms and individuals in Minnesota. The amount shown to have been sold to individuals approximated $1,060,000. Eleven business concerns to whom respondent made loans, borrowed from their own officers and employees in one of the years in question about $1,500,000.

Individuals and corporations using substantial capital are engaged within the state in business as investment houses dealing in bonds and mortgages, such as normally enter into the business of banking. Two such corporations in Ramsey County had a capital aggregating $2,250,000. One of them sold $13,000,000 of bonds in Minnesota in 1922, and had sold prior to May 1, 1921, mortgages which were still outstanding aggregating more than $25,000,000.

Taken as a whole, the evidence tends to show without material contradiction that there is a large amount of moneyed capital in the state employed in normal banking activities such as loans, purchases and sale of notes, bonds and real estate mortgages, and that large amounts of capital are invested and reinvested in such securities by individual investors within the state.

But petitioner asserts that it does not appear from the record whether those engaged in the business of note brokers or in the business of acquiring and selling securities are individuals or corporations, and the amount of capital employed by any of them is not indicated. While this assertion is not borne out completely by the record, in the view we take, its truth is not of controlling consequence. The businesses and activities described could not be carried on in the volume indicated without the employment of large amounts of capital and in fact some corporations engaged in these activities were shown to have a large capitalization. It was not necessary that the particular amounts be specified. That capital, if invested in the business of individuals, is moneyed capital in the hands of individual citizens, within the meaning of section 5219. If invested in corporations, as appears in some instances, the share capital in the hands of shareholders is likewise moneyed capital within the meaning of that section.

It is said also that the evidence as to individuals was that large amounts of credits, including bonds, mortgages and notes, were acquired by individuals by loan or purchase in the state and county, but that there is no evidence tending to show that any of these securities were held or employed by individuals in banking or investment business or in any other business. But as we have held in First National Bank of Hartford v. City of Hartford, the competition guarded against by section 5219 may arise either from the employment of capital invested in a business, even though the competition be with some but not all phases of the business of national banks, or it may arise from the employment of capital invested by institutions or individuals in particular operations or investments like those of national banks

It is also urged that the record does not admit of a finding that the funds invested in these credits come into competition with national banks within the meaning of section 5219. To this it is answered by respondent that the court is required to take judicial notice of general conditions to which the law applies and that the taxing laws of Minnesota construed in the light of conditions generally known, show upon their face that they create a discrimination against national banks not permitted by the federal act

But it is unnecessary for us to enter upon the field of judicial notice, for it clearly appears from the evidence, as the court below found, that a large proportion of these investments consisted of investments of individuals out of surplus funds which they were investing and reinvesting in bonds, mortgages and other evidences of indebtedness and that these transactions or continued activities are such as normally constitute an important part of the business of banking as conducted by respondent and other national banks in Minnesota There is direct evidence, also, that the investments of individuals in this type of security aggregating large amounts lessens the opportunity for the investment of capital by national banks The only witness called by petitioner admitted that to some extent such competition existed In this state of the record we think the findings of the state court are supported by the evidence

That capital of individuals thus seeking investment and reinvestment in competition with the capital in national banks is moneyed capital coming into competition with the business of national banks within the meaning of section 5219 is the effect of our decision in First National Bank of Hartford v. City of Hartford, supra, and other cases there considered

MR. SPEAKER I ask permission to introduce the accompanying bill, the title of which reads as follows:

Request referred to Committee on Introduction of Bills.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The following messages from the Governor were taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO, April 5, 1927.

To the Assembly of the State of California

Assembly Bill No. 579 is herewith returned without my approval.

This bill relates to the manner of proving the laws of other jurisdictions in the courts of this State. Senate Bill No 249, which is also before me, would permit the courts of this State to take judicial notice of the laws of the several states of the United States, thereby eliminating the necessity of pleading and proving such laws.

Should the Senate Bill become a law, it would be no longer necessary in our courts to offer evidence to prove the laws of the other states. This would obviate the necessity of providing a manner of proving such laws as set forth in the Assembly Bill.

In the interest of obviating unnecessary technicality in cases where such laws are involved, I am this day signing Senate Bill No. 249, and for the foregoing reasons, I am withholding approval of Assembly Bill No. 579

Respectfully,

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

Also:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT STATE OF CALIFORNIA,
SACRAMENTO April 5, 1927.

To the Assembly of the State of California

Assembly Bill No. 731 is herewith returned without my approval.

This bill would authorize the Adjutant General to lease certain State property, and I am informed that it was drawn on the assumption that no authority exists at the present time for the leasing of such property by any State agency

I am advised that such authority does exist, having been conferred on the Board of Control in 1925 by amendment to section 681 of the Political Code. As the Board of Control, with the consent of the Adjutant General, can now lease the property referred to in Assembly Bill No. 731, I believe that this legislation would merely be adding an unnecessary law to our statute books, and I have therefore withheld my approval.

Aside from the foregoing, I also notice, upon reading this bill, that the words or phrase "and/or" are used in several places. This may be appropriate for use in legal pleadings, but I do not believe that it is good form for legislation.

Respectfully,

C. C. YOUNG, Governor.

SENATE MESSAGES.

The following messages from the Senate were taken up and read:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, April 4, 1927

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed to inform your honorable body that the Senate on this day passed the following:

By Mr. Noyes:

LIVE OAK COMMUNITY CLUB,
LIVE OAK, CALIFORNIA, March 29, 1927.

State Assemblyman Fred Noyes,
Sacramento, California.

DEAR SIR: The Live Oak Community Club, and community in general, is with you in the fight against the hydraulic interests.

Herewith is a copy of a resolution passed at a recent meeting of the club.

"Resolved, That this club approve and endorse the action of the Sutter County Chamber of Commerce, the Sutter County Farm Bureau, and the various local centers, in their action toward pending legislative enactment for the revival of hydraulic mining, and also in the matter of the Sutter By-Pass Causeway."

Very truly yours,

LIVE OAK COMMUNITY CLUB.
By H. R RAMSDELL, Secretary.

Also:

BEAR RIVER LAND OWNERS

To the Ways and Means Committee of Assembly.

We, the land owners of the Bear River District, representing 20,000 acres situated along the Bear River, assembled in meeting at Wheatland, March 22, 1927, have adopted the following resolution, and the secretary is instructed to send a copy of same to each member of the Assembly Committee on Mines and Mining, and a copy to our Assemblyman and Senator from this district:

"WHEREAS, Hydraulic mining in the past has been ruinous to the farmers in this district as well as the other districts where the practice of such mining has been conducted on the streams flowing through these districts; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Bill No. 681 by Cloudman proposes to appropriate money from the State treasury and to legalize hydraulic mining to the detriment of the agricultural interests of the State; therefore be it

Resolved, That we do vigorously oppose this measure as pernicious legislation."

(Signed) LAND OWNERS OF THE BEAR RIVER DISTRICT.
A. C STAGNER, President
C. M BURCHELL, Secretary.

Also:

THE TOWN OF YUBA CITY.

Be it hereby resolved, By the board of trustees of the town of Yuba City, that this board petition the Legislature and the Governor of the State of California, as follows, to wit:

That it has come to the knowledge of this board that an effort is being made to rehabilitate hydraulic mining on the Yuba, Feather, Bear and American rivers, and to secure State aid by having the dams constructed by the State of California; and that a bill is now pending in the Legislature asking for an appropriation for $300,000 for this purpose.

Hydraulic mining in the past has caused enormous losses to the people of this community and has required them to expend millions of dollars in the building of levees and other works of reclamation. It has filled the channels of the rivers and destroyed navigation upon the Feather River.

Dams that have heretofore been constructed have, after a lapse of several years, been washed out. They are quickly filled with debris, and with the increase of the debris behind them, more and more of this debris is carried down into the valley.

Hydraulic mining in the past resulted in long, expensive litigations between the valley counties and the miners.

This board of trustees respectfully submit that in view of the previous history of this kind of mining that the Legislature of the State of California should not aid by financial appropriation this industry which has proven to be dangerous in practice and unlawful in operation.

We also respectfully submit that the passage of the Cloudman bill will be but the entering wedge in securing enormous appropriations from the State of California, to favor an industry whose operations must necessarily result to the disadvantage and probable destruction of the valley regions and will have the effect of placing the power of the State of California behind the mining interests in aiding them to carry on their operations and against the agricultural regions of the Sacramento Valley, who have, unaided and without State appropriation, protected themselves from this mining.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of the resolution that the board of trustees of the town of Yuba City duly passed and adopted on the seventh day of March, 1927.

C. C. KLINE,
Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the Town of Yuba City, County of Sutter, State of California.

The following message from the Governor was taken up and read:

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, STATE OF CALIFORNIA,

April 6, 1927.

To the Assembly of the State of California.

Assembly Bill No. 1061 is herewith returned without my approval.

This bill provides that all money received under provisions of the "California Grain Standardization Act" shall be paid into the State treasury monthly and paid to the credit of the general fund.

There is also before me Senate Bill No. 348, known as "The California Field Crops Inspection Act." This Senate bill seeks to repeal and replace the "California Grain Standardization Act," and provides that all money received under the proposed act shall be placed in the general fund. If the Senate bill is enacted into law, the Assembly bill becomes unnecessary to accomplish the object sought.

I am this day signing Senate Bill No. 348, and am therefore returning Assembly Bill No. 1061 without my approval.

Respectfully submitted.

THE AMERICAN CONSERVATION CLUB.

WHEREAS, There has been proposed a bill before the Legislature of the State of California, to amend section 2322*a*17 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the horticultural commissioner and his deputies in Imperial County; and

WHEREAS, By said amendment the expense of said inspection will amount to approximately $40,000 per year and which it is contemplated to make a county charge; and

WHEREAS, Out of a total of approximately 600,000 acres of land in cultivation in Imperial County only a small portion thereof is planted to vegetables or which will in any manner derive any benefits from said inspection, yet which will be taxed and bear the expense thereof; and

WHEREAS, Said proposed amendment has not been approved by the grand jury of Imperial County; and

WHEREAS, The only purpose of said inspection is to protect the vegetable growers against themselves and which will give no general protection to the balance of the citizens or property owners of Imperial County; now, therefore be it

Resolved, By the American Conservation Club that said club protest against the enactment of such amendement and request that the Senate and Assembly of the State of California refrain from enacting the same and in the event that the same shall be enacted we hereby urge the Governor to veto the same Be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the Assembly of the State of California, and to our Assemblyman, Myron W. Witter

WHEREAS, The report of the Department of Public Works, Division of Engineering and Irrigation, Bulletin No 12, specifically recommends the rehabilitation of hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The report of the Hydraulic Mining Commission calls attention to the feasibility of the resumption of hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, Mining by the hydraulic process in the past filled the beds of the rivers and streams flowing through the Sacramento Valley with sand, gravel and mining debris to such an extent as to destroy the navigability of the Feather River and to cause other rivers and streams to overflow their banks to the destruction of thousands of acres of the richest lands in Sutter, Yuba and other counties by covering these lands with sand and gravel to the depth of from five to twenty feet; and

WHEREAS, The destruction of whole counties was prevented by building of huge levees along both banks of these streams at tremendous expense to the farmers who were compelled to tax themselves for the purpose; and

WHEREAS, This destruction and menace were abated only after years of expensive legal strife, which greatly embittered the residents of the farming section of the valley and the mining sections of the mountains; and

WHEREAS, Great sums of money have been spent by the State, the county and the farmers in reclamation and protection projects made necessary by hydraulic mining; and

WHEREAS, The bond issues upon the land of the farmers made necessary to pay for these projects still hang over the farmers in staggering amounts; and

WHEREAS, We are certain that mining by the hydraulic process can not be carried on in any way to any great extent without causing further fills in our rivers and streams, thereby rendering our levees, which are now built as high as practicable, inadequate, experience has assured us that no dam can be constructed in such a manner as to retain all of the debris which is thrown into the streams by the hydraulic process of mining and from past experience and observation we are convinced that a great portion of the debris from the mines now operating above the structure known as Bullard's Bar Dam is now passing over the top of the dam and on down into the valley below, thus continuing to fill the rivers more and more; and

WHEREAS, In many places along some of our rivers the present bed of the river is as high, or even higher, than the natural ground outside the present levees, therefore be it

Resolved, By the Sutter Basin Chamber of Commerce, the personnel of which is composed of farmers who have and are now bearing the burden of the fight in the past and who must suffer the consequences of this destructive force in the future, should it be resumed, that we are unalterably opposed to the resumption of mining by hydraulic process upon the headwaters of the streams which flow through the valley, and we pledge ourselves to use all legal means to prevent its resumption and if necessary to organize the Anti-Debris Society and carry on the fight as in the past, for our homes and this beloved valley

SUTTER BASIN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

March 12, 1927.

Mrs. Cora Woodbridge, Assemblywoman, Ninth Assembly District, State Capitol Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR MRS. WOODBRIDGE: We are writing you in regard to pending legislation which is now before the Legislature. Our Assemblyman, Mr. F. B. Noyes, has introduced a bill for the appropriation of $250,000 for the construction of a causeway over the Sutter By-pass at a point west of Tudor, on the Yuba City-Woodland cut-off road.

As you are probably aware, the Sutter By-pass cuts Sutter County in half, and practically isolates southwest Sutter County from all of the territory lying east of the by-pass during the winter months, when the by-pass is full of water. During the summer time, this road which has been open for travel for several years, although only a dirt road for part of the distance, is a very popular cut-off and is destined to become one of the most important cross lanes in the State. Sutter County and Yolo County have joined together in the formation of a Bi-county Highway Association for the purpose of paving the twelve miles of dirt road which is not already paved.

We in this community feel that this bridge is a vital necessity, and will do for the upper Sacramento Valley what the Yolo Causeway has done for Sacramento and the lower Sacramento Valley. We are sending you herewith a copy of the resolution adopted by our local chamber of commerce sponsoring this bill, and hope that you will be able to give it your very able assistance.

We wish also to bring to your attention Assembly Bill No 681, which calls for an appropriation of $300 000 for building dam sites in the mountains for the purpose of retaining the tailings from placer mining. We also enclose herewith resolution adopted by our local chamber of commerce protesting against this measure for the following reasons

First—Because the proposed plan will not function as it is supposed to, this being proven by the Bullards Bar Dam, which is a living example of what would result should this bill pass Dams in the mountains built for the purpose of restraining the tailings from hydraulic mining will not prevent sand or gravel and sediment from reaching the lower rivers, filling the stream beds

Second—The territory adjacent to the rivers of the interior valleys, and particularly in the reclamation areas, are already heavily burdened with taxes, and the further filling up of the streams with debris would necessitate even heavier taxation, beyond the point which the farmers would be able to bear.

Third—We do not believe that the State of California should subsidize any industry to the extent of $300,000, when the money could be spent to so much greater advantage in the further development of State highways, water ways, flood control measures, State institutions, etc.

Fourth—We believe that federal aid, which is necessary for the assistance of California reclamation districts will not be forthcoming from Congress as long as hydraulic mining is legalized and permissible, and is a subsidized industry of the State

We know that you represent a district which has a great many people engaged in the mining industry but your largest centers of population are in the agricultural district, and we feel that your keen interest in the future of the Sacramento Valley will convince you that this measure will work injury on a territory which is already heavily overburdened with taxes, and that your territory will swing to the support of the people of this great valley and work to defeat this measure.

We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate you on your enthusiastic and common sense stand on all sound and just matters which have come before you

With kindest personal regards to yourself and to Dr. Woodbridge, we beg to remain

Very truly yours,

SUTTER BASIN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.
By W. J. DUFFY, JR., President.
