PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty God, Creator of Heaven and Earth, Who dust fill with vast potential the land and sea, the mountains and rivers, the forests and fields; help us ever to remember that Thou art the owner of all resources and that we are but stewards. Grant that Thy gracious gifts may never at our hands be exploited for purely personal gain and selfish interest, but may rather be developed and used that Thy people in all places and in all stations may enjoy a richer, fuller life; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Lord.—AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. McCollister asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up Senate Bill No. 153, at this time, without reference to file.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 153

Senate Bill No. 153—An act to add Chapter 24 to Division 3 of the Education Code, to provide for the preparation, issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund to provide aid to school districts of the State; defining the powers and duties of state officers in respect to the administration of the provisions hereof; providing ways and means for the payment of the interest of such bonds as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such bonds as such principal matures; and appropriating money for the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale of bonds herein authorized to be issued, and for the administration of this chapter, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Senate Bill No. 153:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 14, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California
GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 153, "An act to add Chapter 24 to Division 3 of the Education Code, to provide for the preparation, issuance and sale of state bonds to create a fund to provide aid to school districts of the state; defining the powers and duties of state officers in respect to the administration of the provisions hereof; providing ways and means for the payment of the interest of such bonds as such interest falls due, and also for the payment and discharge of the principal of such bonds as such principal matures; and appropriating money for the expense of preparing and of advertising the sale of bonds herein authorized to be issued, and for the administration of this chapter, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

At the last general election, the people adopted a Constitutional Amendment (Sec 18 of Art. XVI, State Constitution) continuing and augmenting the program of state assistance to the many school districts otherwise unable to provide adequate school buildings and facilities. Senate Bill No. 153 carries out this provision and makes available the additional state aid which it authorizes. In order that the education of pupils in school districts with little financial means be not curtailed, it is essential that the state assistance voted by the people be made promptly available for allocation and loan to those districts through an early passage of this bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 153 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

This letter includes the specific recommendations and resolutions on which the study committee as a whole has taken action thus far, and gives some of the background of facts and reasoning on which these actions were based.

Your study committee has held three full-day meetings in Sacramento, as follows: November 13 and December 10, 1956, and January 14, 1957. In its initial meeting the committee made a complete survey and listing of those problems on which it appeared that we might be able to offer useful suggestions to the Joint Legislative Committee on Transportation Problems.

As a second order of business your study committee spent considerable time reviewing the current status of highway financing in California, especially as it has been affected by enactment of the Federal Highway Act of 1956.

The Federal Program of 1956 and Its Uncertainties

The study committee recognizes that the federal legislation of 1956 provides a considerable sum (278 million dollars) in addition to California's normal financing for the first three years of the federal program. The additional amounts for the first two years of the program—fiscal years 1956-57 and 1957-58—have already been taken into the State Highway Budget, in full compliance with statutory provisions regarding the division of construction funds both North and South and requirements for minimum expenditures in each of the counties. It should be noted that these formulas apply to federal aid and state funds combined, with the result that the state highway improvement programs in each of the counties will be accelerated regardless of whether it has little or no mileage on the National System of Interstate Highways. In other words, the statutory formulas will apply to a considerably expended base which includes the additional federal funds.

It should be emphasized that your study committee is deeply concerned about some provisions of the Federal Highway Act of 1956 which create uncertainties that vitally affect fiscal planning of the highway, road and street program in California. In reality, the much publicized 13-year program for completion of the Interstate System can at present be regarded only as a three-year program at best.

As you know, the Congress continued an outdated formula for apportionment of funds for the interstate system which has no relationship to needs and which adversely affects California by giving it only 5.7 percent of interstate funds, instead of the nearly 10 percent which it would have received on a needs basis. While the 1956 Act provides for adoption of a needs formula beginning with the 1959-60 Fiscal Year, before such formula becomes effective the Congress must approve by concurrent resolution a new estimate of needs to be submitted to it by the Bureau of Public Roads in 1958. Since a large majority of states obviously would benefit by continuation of the present formula rather than by adoption of the needs basis, it is incumbent on your committee and everyone else interested in highway development in California to urge Congress to accept the needs formula in 1958. This is the only possible way in which the stated objectives of Congress (namely, to complete the interstate system promptly and simultaneously in each of the States) can be fulfilled. Our California representatives in Congress should be fully informed as to our vital interest in this matter.

Even if the needs formula is approved in 1958, we cannot at this time be sure of the amounts of federal aid that will be forthcoming for California in 1960 and subsequent years because the needs estimates of all States are currently being revised. There is reason to believe that California's share may be something less than the 9.98 percent indicated by the 1954 needs study, but it should be substantially above the 5.7 percent which the present formula allocates to California for interstate highways

Another unsettled matter in the 1956 federal legislation involves the question of reimbursement for roads on the interstate system, whether toll or toll-free, which have heretofore been improved to interstate system standards. Congress has provided for a study of this issue. If reimbursement is to be made—and the general consensus of your study committee is that it should not—then the rate of completion of interstate highways will be retarded unless Congress provides additional financing for its highway program.

Another issue that may adversely affect the rate of completion of the interstate system in California and elsewhere involves the very considerable pressures now being exerted on the Congress to increase the authorized mileage of the interstate system above the 41,000 miles now provided for. It is to be noted that applications for some 13,000 additional mileages were submitted to take up the 1,000-mile addition provided for by the Congress in the 1956 legislation.

Your committee also studied recent trends in highway costs which have shown a rather pronounced upward trend in recent months. There is reason to believe, in view of recent trends in labor costs and the fact that the expanded Federal highway program is just beginning to get under way, that the upward trend in highway costs may continue for some time.

System Study Recommended

All of these considerations taken together suggest to your study committee the need for care in making any substantial and basic changes in fiscal and other highway policy at the State level at the 1957 Session of the Legislature.

Beyond this, we find that a sound factual and conceptual basis for making fundamental changes in 1957 is lacking. It occurs to us that the interim between 1957 and 1959—a period during which it is anticipated that the Federal program will be clarified and stabilized—will afford a good opportunity to acquire and digest the factual basis for wise decisions on fundamental policy questions at the State level in 1959. After long deliberation, your study committee adopted the following resolution:

> The committee recognizes that there should be planning for a statewide system of freeways and limited-access highways, and that its scope and composition should be the subject of a thorough study between now and the convening of the 1959 Session of the Legislature.

This action of the committee substantially follows the line of thinking contained in SCR 26 which you have introduced. The key item of your resolution—an item that has the full endorsement of your study committee—reads, as follows:

"The Department of Public Works is requested to undertake a study which will provide a basis for an over-all statewide plan of freeways and expressways for the State of California, such study not to be limited to State highways and such study to locate the potential freeway and expressway routes of such a statewide system, and the necessary connections thereto, as nearly as is practicable in advance of detailed engineering design of projects."

The provision for this study, in the committee's view, is the most important single action that the Legislature can take in 1957 with regard to highways. We regard this study as an indispensable first step to the formation of a sound legislative program for 1959. Our specific actions on the other items that we have thus far considered have all been influenced by the fact that we have proposed this comprehensive study as well as by the fact that uncertainties in the Federal program must be clarified in 1958 before California's program can be modified intelligently.

Recommendations on Additions and Deletions in State Highway System

Your study committee has spent considerable time reviewing suggestions for changes in the composition of the State Highway System, including those which have emanated from testimony before your committee. Your committee found in the course of its review that a number of additions and deletions appeared to be desirable, particularly those which were of a technical corrective nature and those necessary to conform the State Highway System to the Interstate System as approved by the Bureau of Public Roads. However, the committee finally decided that rather than choosing among specific proposals for changes its best service would be done by drafting a statement of principles which might serve as a guide in evaluation of specific proposals for additions or deletions in the State Highway System. The committee's main resolution on this subject is intended to be highly restrictive insofar as 1957 legislations is concerned, and reads as follows:

WHEREAS, This committee has previously recommended to the interim committee that a study be made for an over-all statewide plan of freeways and expressways for the State of California; and

WHEREAS, It is the judgment of this committee that the results of this study should be available before consideration be given to any further additions to the State Highway System other than those required for: (1) the planning and construction of the Interstate Highway System; (2) necessary corrections in the descriptions of legislative routes; and (3) other urgent additions and deletions necessitated to permit the immediate and continuing planning and construction of the State Highway System; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That this committee recommend to the Interim Committee that no additions be made to the State Highway System at this session of the Legislature except as above described.

Additionally, the committee felt that the practice of recent years of bringing highways into the state system initially with conditions attached regarding their construction or maintenance, or both, with efforts being made subsequently to remove these conditions was highly undesirable. Accordingly, the study committee adopted the following resolution:

We recommend to the interim committee that it is not in the public interest for the Legislature to continue the practice heretofore followed in a number of instances of adding routes to the State Highway System upon the basis that they should not be constructed or maintained; but, on the contrary, all routes added to the State Highway System should be on a parity with other routes and made eligible for construction and future maintenance as constructed.

Certain highways are now in the state system under restrictive conditions as a result of the aforementioned practices which the study committee disapproves as a matter of principle. Your committee recognizes that an annoying and unfortunate situation has been created by the Legislature in setting up these routes in their present conditional status. It therefore believes that the Legislature should enact a concurrent resolution advising the Highway Commission as to its wishes with respect to these conditional routes. The study committee's resolution reads as follows:

We recommend that the Legislature determine definitely and instruct the State Department of Public Works, by concurrent resolution, as to the policy to be observed with regard to the maintenance or non-maintenance of the following named routes:

Route 56—Portion from near Westport to near Rockport; portion from near Rockport to Leggett Valley; portion from near Valley Ford to Jenner.

Route 15—From Route 56 near Fort Bragg to Route 1 near Willits

Route 233—From Route 83 near Sierraville to Route 21 near Vinton via Loyalton.

Route 232—From Sacramento to Marysville.

Your committee felt that it would be improper for it to go further in this particular matter, lest it appear that the committee was in any way condoning action to bring routes into the State Highway System via the back door

It should be said in regard to all of the recommendations on additions and deletions that your study committee anticipates that the entire matter will be largely resolved as a result of the system study that we have recommended.

Recommendation on Route Adoptions and Freeway Locations

Your committee carefully considered current practices of the commission and the Department with respect to route adoptions and freeway locations. It reviewed current policies and traced their evolution over the last several years It also considered the impact of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 and its requirement for public hearings on all federal-aid projects.

The study committee is fully cognizant that there has been pressure at times for restrictive legislation on powers of the California Highway Commission and the Department of Public Works in regard to route adoptions. The committee earnestly considered the need for legislation on this subject, but finally concluded that no legislation is needed or would be in the public interest. It found no concerted demand from local government for any kind of veto power over commission action. On the contrary, it was informed that local governments generally will oppose efforts to give them controls over the California Highway Commission or the Department of Public Works in the matter of route adoptions and freeway locations The committee found that specific legislation on the subject would prove to be undesirably restrictive and inflexible, and that any such legislation would involve the danger of creating legal obstacles which might impede California's freeway program.

Your committee felt that the present policies of the commission and the department afford ample protection to the people who may be affected and should be commended for continuation.

In assuming this position, the committee is fully cognizant that situations arise in which there is heated controversy over particular freeway routings, but the committee is also aware that these individual cases attract a disproportionate amount of public attention. In the large majority of cases no controversy at all is to be heard regarding the route adoption. Even in cases in which controversy arises, usually the dissidents represent a small but vocal minority of those affected by the location.

One of the current difficulties, in the committee's view, is that freeway route adoptions are, in many cases, made on a piecemeal basis. Thus, each adoption is treated as a separate problem and is not seen by the interested public as an element of a plan for an over-all system of freeways and expressways. This basic deficiency in present practice contributes to the seeming lack of support at times for the over-all program. Removal of this deficiency is another of the important reasons underlying the committee's recommendation urging the system study discussed above, which is designed to provide an over-all plan of freeways and expressways, and the necessary connections thereto, for the entire State of California. With such a plan laid before the public, the committee believes that public support for the freeway program will be greatly enhanced.

Recommendation on Freeway Landscaping

In the matter of landscaping, your committee finds that the Division of Highways under present policy undertakes two classes of construction work generally under the classification of planting:

1. Roadside development and control, which is constructed for the purpose of traffic control, economics of maintenance, or other engineering requirements. Within this classification is included that work which may be required for erosion control, traffic safety, fire control, or traffic noise abatement.

2. Landscaping, which is for the purpose of enhancing or preserving the aesthetic values of the highway and its immediate environs.

Under present policy planting for landscaping is being done on freeways on a minimum basis and only in built up or highly developed areas. Functional planting for roadside development and control is also being done on a minimum basis consistent with actual requirements.

After reviewing the facts submitted to it, the committee concluded that these practices of the division under the policies established by the commission are fully satisfactory in the light of the current budgetary situation and the uncertainties of the federal program. The committee also calls attention to the high cost involved in extensive landscaping under California's climatic conditions. It urges that the Legislature take no action on this matter, but rather leave control over landscaping policy and practice in the hands of the commission and the department.

Recommendation Against Diversion of Highway User Taxes

During the course of its review of the financial situation, the committee became fully aware that funds are still insufficient to meet all the important highway needs in California in a reasonable time, and that this situation will continue to prevail even if the most favorable actions are taken by the Federal Government. Consequently the committee believes that all efforts to divert any state revenues which are now devoted to highways to any other purpose, including the support of transit facilities, should be discouraged. The committee recognizes that highways alone may not solve California's transportation problems, but it is convinced that the diversion of funds from one form of transportation to another, not only would be inequitable, but would do nothing to provide an over-all solution to the transportation problem. Accordingly, the committee resolved as follows:

The committee recommends strict adherence to Article XXVI of the Constitution of the State of California prohibiting the diversion of highway-user taxes to non-highway purposes.

Recommendation on Vehicle Size and Weight Limitations

In the final action of the committee taken to date, the matter of size and weight limits for vehicles on California's highways was considered. It is recognized that the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 prohibits California from liberalizing its laws on sizes and weights for any vehicle operating on state highways which are also in the Interstate System. It would seem unreasonable and discriminatory if California were to have different limitations for sizes and weights on state highways that do not happen to be in the Interstate System. It is to be noted that interstate highways are to be built to the highest design standards. It is also to be noted that Congress has provided for a comprehensive study to be made of maximum sizes and weights, after which study it is not unlikely that the Congress may place limitations on sizes and weights on all federally aided highways. Such action would virtually preclude any possibility for dual standards on any of California's state highways. In any event, the committee felt that the Legislature should make no changes whatsoever in California's size and weight limitations until the results of the federal study which are to be based on the American Association of State Highway Officials' comprehensive road test in Illinois are available.

The committee wishes to assure you that it has been a pleasure to serve in this instance and that the committee stands ready to continue with such additional studies as your interim committee may deem to be advisable.

Sincerely,

HARRISON R. BAKER, Chairman

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Mr. Lanterman:

House Resolution No. 68

Relative to conflict of interest and compensation of legislators

WHEREAS, His Excellency, Goodwin J. Knight, Governor of the State of California, in his message to the Legislature on January 7, 1957, the Members of the Senate and the Assembly meeting in Joint Session, included specific reference to the problems of conflict of interest and compensation for legislators; and

WHEREAS, Governor Knight deemed it appropriate to include in his message, the following:

"Anyone who has attained position in the community which commands sufficient respect to justify election to the State Legislature surely has some degree of personal interest in one or more phases of our government's operation which can be profoundly affected favorably or adversely by legislative action.

"Every legislator is bound to be affected personally by a vote on a tax law, a motor vehicle regulation and other similar legislation. In our State nearly every profession and vocation is licensed or otherwise regulated by legislative action. The question then arises: 'Must the State be deprived of the services of all but princes and paupers in order to avoid conflict of interests?'

"Under existing policy governing the compensation of legislators, members of necessity must actively pursue outside, private vocations in order to sustain their appropriate economic and social positions as individual members of the community.

"For example attorneys in the normal development of practice, are called upon to appear before numerous boards and commissions as well as courts, over which, as legislators, they have great power. Accountants, real estate and insurance brokers, doctors, dentists and pharmacists, publishers, labor union members and nearly every business or occupation are touched by legislative action. To exclude all such men and women from direct participation in government or, on the other hand, to expect them to sacrifice the legitimate fruits of their life work without adequate compensation is equally unjust and unrealistic.

"Since the business of government is the business of all the people, it cannot and should not be separated from day-to-day lives of the individuals who compose the citizenry of the State. It seems to me that what is needed is not accusation and protestations, nor debate over differences of opinion. What is needed is clear appraisal and adequate definition.

"The suggestion has been made that Members of the Legislature be precluded from pursuing their professions and business enterprises in direct connection with state agencies. To compensate for any sacrifice, it has been proposed that a constitutional amendment be presented to the people raising the pay of legislators so that they could reasonably be expected to devote the major portion of their time solely to their duties as Members of the California Legislature. At the same time, explicit prohibitions should be spelled out so that the entire question of conflict of interest and influence would be clearly defined.

"California is a large and complex commonwealth, and each year the legislative process has become more involved and more demanding of the time and energy from each Member of the Legislature. It is not, therefore, outside the realm of probability that the functions of its legislators now justify such a course of action. I commend this to your attention as one possible solution to a most vexing economic and ethical problem in which each of you has a deep personal concern."; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11 has been introduced and embodies the substance of definitive standards of conduct for Members of the Legislature to the end that they may devote the major portion of their time solely to their duties as Members of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11 also contains a provision raising the compensation of legislators from $500 to $1,000 per month; and

WHEREAS, No determination has been made as to what actually constitutes the ever increasing obligations to public service in terms of time and energies required of Members of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, A realistic, scientific, and complete job analysis should be made before any increase in compensation can or should be recommended to the Legislature for consideration by the people of California at the General Election of 1958; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature should be guided by the objective findings of a nationally recognized management consultant firm or association as to what would constitute a factual, reasonable, prudent, and constructive job analysis; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature should have the benefit of recommendations of a statewide committee consisting of outstanding citizen leaders of all walks of life in determining the scope and nature of these problems; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Rules Committee be hereby authorized to engage such professionally qualified analysts as may be recommended by the Advisory Committee to the end that a full and complete report and recommendation shall be submitted not later than May 15, 1957, for the consideration of the Members of the Legislature, it being fully understood that, in any event, the people of the State of California will make the final determination of this problem at the general election of 1958, and even if approved, no legislative salary increase will become effective until January 1, 1959.

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Rules.

CONSIDERATION OF SPECIAL ORDER

The hour having arrived, Assembly Bill No. 100 was taken up.

CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 100

Assembly Bill No. 100—An act making an appropriation for the construction and relocation of the railroad and state highway in the vicinity of the site of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir.

Bill read third time.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No. 100:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 22, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California
GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 100, "An act making an appropriation for the construction and relocation of the railroad and state highway in the vicinity of the site of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir, declaring the urgency thereof to take effect immediately."

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill appropriates $25,190,000 from the Investment Fund for the relocation of the Feather River Highway and the Western Pacific Railroad to clear the site for the construction of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir of the Feather River Project. This project has already been authorized and its feasibility established. Previous state appropriations have also provided for the preparation of the plans and specifications, and for the acquisition of the site, for this dam. By enacting this bill in January, the State will gain from six to nine months in the construction schedule of this greatly needed project. This time is critical. There is an urgent need for water in the lower San Joaquin Valley, in San Diego County and elsewhere. Any delay will also unnecessarily increase the risk of future loss of life and property, such as was experienced during the 1955 floods. Further, we are presently seeking a federal appropriation of $100,000,000 on account of the flood control which this multiple-purpose project will provide. The firm commitment by the State to its construction under this bill should enable us to secure the maximum federal contribution, which will be of great aid in this State undertaking. For these reasons, it is imperative that the additional funds provided by this bill be made immediately available.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 100 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

HAROLD J. POWERS, Acting Governor

Recommendation of the Governor read.

Urgency Clause

Urgency clause read.

Motion to Amend

Mr. O'Connell moved the adoption of the following amendment:

Amendment No. 1

On page 1, of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly on January 22, 1957, strike out lines 12 to 14; and on page 2, lines 1-7, inclusive, and insert

"SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

This appropriation is required to provide for the construction of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir at the earliest possible time as a state water development project for the purposes of flood control and the sale of water to public agencies for distribution by such public agencies, with the same limitation as to the acreage of land which may be served with such water as is provided in the Federal Reclamation Laws. The disastrous floods of 1955 have demonstrated the immediate necessity for the construction of the Oroville Dam and it is therefore necessary that this act take immediate effect for the preservation of the public peace, health, and safety.

REMARKS BY MR. KELLY RELATIVE TO ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 34

During the time that I was coaching football in the late 1920's and the early 1930's, I had the pleasure of knowing Mr. Helms. Much of the work done by Mr. Helms goes unheralded. He did great acts of kindnesses on behalf of the entire athletic world, and was responsible for getting youth interested in education by giving recognition to talents possessed by athletes. We are paying respects today to a Great American whose contribution goes on forever as a memento to a life worthwhile. I join the entire State Assembly of the California Legislature in this tribute to Mr. Helms.

REPORT OF SUBCOMMITTEE ON PUBLIC LANDS, GRAZING AND FOREST PRACTICES RELATIVE TO DIVISION OF FORESTRY FIRE CONTROL PLAN

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE, January 17, 1957

Hon. L. H. Lincoln
Speaker of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber
Sacramento, California

MR SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY: In accordance with House Resolution No. 189, 1955 Session, the Assembly Interim Committee on Agriculture authorized its Subcommittee on Public Lands, Grazing and Forest Practices to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the State Division of Forestry's fire control plan.

The volume of material reviewed by the subcommittee on forest problems in the State of California along with an illustrated report on film, prepared and expertly narrated by the Forestry Division warranted special treatment of the subjects.

The Legislature was particularly fortunate in having these splendid films to view on the activities of the division, and the subcommittee arranged a visual report in the Assembly Chamber for all to see the division's fire prevention and control programs.

It is believed that the visual report demonstrated far better than the written word the myriad problems confronting the State and the State Division of Forestry. Information contained in these films was sufficient to suggest the complexity of the program and legislation has been proposed in conformance with these suggested adjustments to the Forest Practice Act and is now pending before you.

Respectfully submitted,

LLOYD W. LOWREY, Chairman
Subcommittee on Public Lands,
Grazing and Forest Practices

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No. 2932:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 23, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 2932, "An act to add Section 30608.1 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill authorizes the Department of Public Works to expend $50,000 from the Revenue Fund of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for studies and other expenses in regard to necessary alterations and other work upon the bridge and its appurtenances so as to make this entire bridge useable for vehicular traffic. Proceedings are now pending before the Public Utilities Commission which may result in the abandonment of tram service on the lower deck of this bridge. Before the portion of the lower deck now used for trains can be used for vehicles it must be paved, and changes made to the approaches and appurtenances of the bridge. It is urgent that the sum provided in the bill be immediately available so that upon final determination to abandon such train service, the Department of Public Works will be able to commence without delay the necessary work to make the entire bridge available to vehicular traffic.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 2032 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 23, 1957

HON. L. H. LINCOLN
Speaker of the Assembly
MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN: This Report on Metropolitan Governmental Organization, submitted in pursuant to House Resolution No. 239, 1955, was prepared at the request of the Interim Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works in an attempt to furnish the exploding metropolitan communities of California information upon which they can assess their metropolitan problems and develop new governmental forms.

All of the nine subcommittees of this committee have during their interim studies come face to face with the importance of simplifying the consolidation of governmental units in our heavily populated urban areas. The involved cities and counties struggling with these problems were found to be in need of a review of efforts in the other states to establish over all governmental structures.

The purpose of this study by the Bureau of Public Administration, University of California, therefore, is to furnish assistance to both the local units of governmental administration in California and to the Legislature in their joint efforts to meet the growing metropolitan problems of this State.

While the staff of our committee worked closely with the authors of this study in the content and scope of the report, the authors themselves and the Bureau of Public Administration under Professor Chernin are solely responsible for the facts presented and their emphasis.

Sincerely,

FRANCIS C. LINDSAY, Chairman

Consideration of House Resolution No. 52, as Amended

By Messrs. Elliott and Wilson:

House Resolution No. 52

Relative to authorizing and directing the Assembly Rules Committee to conduct investigations relating to improving the Assembly Committee System

WHEREAS, Approximately two-thirds of the bills introduced at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature and considered by Assembly committees were referred to the Committees on Judiciary, Education, Conservation, Planning, and Public Works, and Municipal and County Government, which represented less than one-sixth of the committees, thus giving these committees a disproportionate load of the work to be accomplished; and

WHEREAS, It would greatly improve the efficiency of the Assembly if the committee work of the body were distributed as equally as feasible among the members and responsibilities shared to the extent reasonably possible; and

WHEREAS, It may be possible to accomplish this more equitable distribution of the work load of the body by amending the Assembly Standing Rules so as to reorganize the present committee system, particularly by separating the codes and subject matter covered by the Judiciary, Education, Conservation, Planning, and Public Works Committees, into subject headings for two or more smaller committees in each case and a further division of the Ways and Means Committee into a Budget and an Appropriations Committees; and

WHEREAS, This reform of the Assembly Committee System would enable the Assembly to give more time and fairer consideration to bills in committee and would be in the interest of the people of the State of California; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is hereby authorized and directed to conduct an investigation into the feasibility of re-organizing the Assembly Committee System in order to facilitate and improve the operation of the Assembly by establishing a more equitable distribution of the committee work load; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee is directed to report its findings to the Assembly by not later than March 15th of the year of 1958.

Resolution read, and adopted.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO TAKE UP HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 68

Mr. Lanterman asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 68, temporarily passed on file, out of order.

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 68

By Mr. Lanterman:

House Resolution No. 68

Relative to conflict of interest and compensation of legislators

WHEREAS, His Excellency, Goodwin J. Knight, Governor of the State of California, in his message to the Legislature on January 7, 1957, the Members of the Senate and the Assembly meeting in Joint Session, included specific reference to the problems of conflict of interest and compensation for legislators; and

WHEREAS, Governor Knight deemed it appropriate to include in his message, the following:

"Anyone who has attained position in the community which commands sufficient respect to justify election to the State Legislature surely has some degree of personal interest in one or more phases of our government's operation which can be profoundly affected favorably or adversely by legislative action.

"Every legislator is bound to be affected personally by a vote on a tax law, a motor vehicle regulation and other similar legislation. In our State nearly every profession and vocation is licensed or otherwise regulated by legislative action. The question then arises: 'Must the State be deprived of the services of all but princes and paupers in order to avoid conflict of interests?'

"Under existing policy governing the compensation of legislators, members of necessity must actively pursue outside, private vocations in order to sustain their appropriate economic and social positions as individual members of the community.

"For example attorneys in the normal development of practice, are called upon to appear before numerous boards and commissions as well as courts, over which, as legislators, they have great power. Accountants, real estate and insurance brokers, doctors, dentists and pharmacists, publishers, labor union members and nearly every business or occupation are touched by legislative action. To exclude all such men and women from direct participation in government or, on the other hand, to expect them to sacrifice the legitimate fruits of their life work without adequate compensation is equally unjust and unrealistic.

"Since the business of government is the business of all the people, it cannot and should not be separated from day-to-day lives of the individuals who compose the citizenry of the State. It seems to me that what is needed is not accusation and protestations, nor debate over differences of opinion. What is needed is clear appraisal and adequate definition.

"The suggestion has been made that Members of the Legislature be precluded from pursuing their professions and business enterprises in direct connection with state agencies. To compensate for any sacrifice, it has been proposed that a constitutional amendment be presented to the people raising the pay of legislators so that they could reasonably be expected to devote the major portion of their time solely to their duties as members of the California Legislature. At the same time, explicit prohibitions should be spelled out so that the entire question of conflict of interest and influence would be clearly defined.

"California is a large and complex commonwealth, and each year the legislative process has become more involved and more demanding of the time and energy from each Member of the Legislature. It is not, therefore, outside the realm of probability that the functions of its legislators now justify such a course of action. I commend this to your attention as one possible solution to a most vexing economic and ethical problem in which each of you has a deep personal concern."; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11 has been introduced and embodies the substance of definitive standards of conduct for Members of the Legislature to the end that they may devote the major portion of their time solely to their duties as Members of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 11 also contains a provision raising the compensation of legislators from $500 to $1,000 per month; and

WHEREAS, No determination has been made as to what actually constitutes the ever increasing obligations to public service in terms of time and energies required of Members of the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, A realistic, scientific, and complete job analysis should be made before any increase in compensation can or should be recommended to the Legislature for consideration by the people of California at the General Election of 1958; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature should be guided by the objective findings of a nationally recognized management consultant firm or association as to what would constitute a factual, reasonable, prudent, and constructive job analysis; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature should have the benefit of recommendations of a statewide committee consisting of outstanding citizen leaders of all walks of life in determining the scope and nature of these problems; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Rules Committee be hereby authorized to engage such professionally qualified analysts as may be recommended by the Advisory Committee to the end that a full and complete report and recommendation shall be submitted not later than May 15th, 1957, for the consideration of the Members of the Legislature; it being fully understood that, in any event, the people of the State of California will make the final determination of this problem at the general election of 1958, and even if approved, no legislative salary increase will become effective until January 1, 1959.

WHEREAS, The Secretary of State, by law, is the custodian of the public archives of the State, and

WHEREAS, The Secretary of State, under statutory requirements beginning with "An act concerning the Public Archives" passed January 5, 1850, which was the first law enacted by the First Session of the California Legislature sitting in San Jose in 1849-1850, is made responsible for the preservation of materials deposited in the State Archives, and

WHEREAS, The ravages of usage and time now threaten the total destruction of a large number of the historically valuable records deposited in the State Archives, should their present condition be allowed to obtain, and

House Resolution No. 83

Relative to creating the Special Assembly Investigating Committee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power

WHEREAS, It is the expressed policy of the United States Government to encourage the peace-time use of atomic power, thus creating a probability that substantial federal assistance might be made available to the State of California in developing a workable project for the application of such power in this State, and

WHEREAS, The greatest unsolved problem in connection with the future development of California consists of the need to transfer its surplus of water in the northern part of the State to areas of deficiency in the southern part of the State, together with a power requirement for transferring water over the Tehachapi Mountains greatly in excess of the electric power which will be produced by the Oroville Dam as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, California has, in the University of California, an institution which is exceptionally well qualified to study the possibility of utilizing atomic power to accomplish this transfer of water from north to south, not only because of the world-renowned atomic scientists on its faculty but also because of its close working relationships with the Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, As follows:

1. The Special Assembly Investigating Committee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power is hereby created as an interim committee and is authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the desirability of having a full-scale investigation, by a legislative committee, by the University of California or otherwise, of the possibility that atomic energy can be used to furnish a feasible and economical means for producing the electric power needed to transfer surplus water from the northern part of California to the southern part of California

2. The committee shall consist of seven Members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker Vacancies occurring in the membership of the committee shall be filled by the appointing power.

3. The committee is authorized to act during this session of the Legislature, including any recess, with authority to file its final report not later than the date of final adjournment of the 1957 Session of the Legislature.

4 The committee and its members shall have and exercise all of the rights, duties and powers conferred upon investigating committees and their members by the provisions of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly and of the Standing Rules of the Assembly as they are adopted and amended from time to time at this session, which provisions are incorporated herein and made applicable to this committee and its members

5. The committee has the following additional powers and duties:

(a) To select a chairman and a vice chairman from its membership.

(b) To contract with such other agencies, public or private, as it deems necessary for the rendition and affording of such services, facilities, studies and reports to the committee as will best assist it to carry out the purposes for which it is created

(c) To cooperate with and secure the cooperation of county, city, city and county, and other local law enforcement agencies in investigating any matter within the scope of this resolution and to direct the sheriff of any county to serve subpenas, orders, and other process issued by the committee.

(d) To report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature and to the people from time to time and at any time, not later than herein provided.

(e) To meet at the State Capitol or at any place within the State or the United States.

(f) To do any and all other things necessary or convenient to enable it fully and adequately to exercise its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objects and purposes of this resolution.

6. The sum of one thousand dollars ($1,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the said Contingent Fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer

Senate Bill No. 1367—An act to add Section 30608.1 to the Streets and Highways Code,. relating to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Bill read third time.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Senate Bill No. 1367:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 23, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Senate Bill No. 1367, "An act to add Section 30608.1 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This bill authorizes the Department of Public Works to expend $50,000 from the Revenue Fund of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge for studies and other expenses in regard to necessary alterations and other work upon the bridge and its appurtenances so as to make this entire bridge useable for vehicular traffic. Proceedings are now pending before the Public Utilities Commission which may result in the abandonment of train service on the lower deck of this bridge. Before the portion of the lower deck now used for trains can be used for vehicles it must be paved, and changes made to the approaches and appurtenances of the bridge. It is urgent that the sum provided in the bill be immediately available so that upon final determination to abandon such train service, the Department of Public Works will be able to commence without delay the necessary work to make the entire bridge available to vehicular traffic.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 1367 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted,

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

Amendment No. 2

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended in the Senate on January 24, 1957, strike out lines 15 to 19, inclusive, and insert

"In order to provide for flood control and the conservation of water of California, it is necessary that funds be made available immediately for the construction work in connection with the Feather River Project contemplated by this act and authorized by Section 11260 of the Water Code."

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 25, 1957

Honorable Harold K. Levering
Assembly Chamber

Assembly Bill No. 100, as Amended in Senate January 24, 1957—No. 8025

DEAR MR. LEVERING:

Question

You have requested our opinion as to whether any of the money appropriated by Assembly Bill No. 100 as amended the second time in the Senate January 24, 1957, can be expended for the completion of acquisition of lands, easements, and rights of way, or for other purposes in connection with the development of the Upper Feather River Service Area. You have referred specifically to the following Upper Feather River Service Area reservoirs: Antelope Valley Reservoir; Abbey Bridge Reservoir; Dixie Refuge Reservoir; Frenchman Reservoir; and Grizzly Valley Reservoir, which were the subject of a proposed amendment to Assembly Bill No. 100, printed in the Assembly Journal of January 18, 1957, page 533.

Opinion

In our opinion none of the moneys appropriated by the bill as amended could be expended in connection with the five dams mentioned.

Analysis

We base our conclusion upon the fact that the title of the bill is not broad enough to include the five dams mentioned and, secondly, upon the proposition that the second amendment of January 24 in the Senate is an amendment of the urgency clause only and as such is nothing more than a statement of facts which does not confer any authority.

Section 24 of Article IV of the Constitution of this State provides, in part, as follows:

"* * * But if any subject shall be embraced in an act which shall not be expressed in its title, such act shall be void only as to so much thereof as shall not be expressed in its title."

In accordance with this provision of the Constitution it has been held that the portion of a bill dealing with a subject not embraced in the title of the bill is void (People vs. Curry, 130 Cal. 82, 91; Williams vs Carver, 171 Cal. 658, 663; General Petroleum Corp. vs. Hobson, 23 Fed. 2d 349, 350).

The title of Assembly Bill No. 100 as amended the second time in the Senate on January 24th, reads:

"An act making an appropriation for the construction and relocation of the railroad and state highway in the vicinity of the site of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir, and declaring the urgency thereof to take effect immediately."

As we stated in our opinion No. 6837 to Assemblyman Thomas J. Doyle, printed in the Assembly Journal January 19, 1957, at page 660:

"The subject of the bills as introduced is an appropriation for the construction and relocation of a specified portion of a designated railroad track and a designated state highway in the vicinity of the Oroville Dam and Reservoir."

The only change in the title of the bill since that opinion was written was the addition of the words "and declaring the urgency thereof to take effect immediately." The subject expressed in the title is as above stated and in our opinion would operate to restrict the bill to that subject, to the exclusion of any expenditures in connection with the five enumerated dams, even if it were assumed that the second amendment in the Senate on January 24 conferred such authority.

The second amendment in the Senate on January 24, 1957, made no change in Section 1 of the bill. It substituted a new declaration of facts in Section 2 of the bill for that previously contained in the bill. It is our opinion that while the recital of facts in an urgency clause may be used by the court as an aid to the interpretation of the language of the act, it does not of itself confer any authority or constitute any substantive provision of law. Thus, in the case of Allen vs. Franchise Tax Board, 39 Cal. 2d 109, 113, the court said with reference to the effect to be given to the statement of facts in an urgency clause:

"There is no merit in the defendant's contention that the legislative declaration was a statement of the public use of state moneys. The declaration was nothing more than the statement of facts deemed to constitute the urgency necessary for immediate effectiveness pursuant to Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution."

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

Explanation of Vote

I was very much in opposition to the amendments as put in by the Senate to Assembly Bill No. 100. The reason I voted "Aye" on the amendments was at the request of the southern legislators so that I might be appointed on the Free Conference.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, January 25, 1957

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California:

In the few hours remaining before the recess, you will have for decision a vital question involving the future development of California.

There are certain facts which in my judgment you should have as Members of the Legislature when you make your decision on the water questions now before you.

It appears highly probable that if an appropriation is not made now for the initial construction in connection with the Oroville Dam, the work cannot be sufficiently under way before winter. If the urgency appropriation is not passed now we may lose one entire construction season.

The construction of the Oroville Dam will take approximately seven years to complete, if there are no serious interferences of any kind. If the work is commenced now, flood control can become a reality by 1962.

If any delay intervenes, it will be later than 1962 before the people of this State can be protected from floods.

If for any reason the State does not proceed with the project, and even assuming that the Federal Government would be immediately willing to undertake it, it would be five years before federal plans could be drawn and construction could begin, and probably 10 years before there would be effective control against floods. I am informed that the constructing agencies of the Federal Government have made no studies of development of the Feather River since the late 1940's.

The failure to appropriate money forthwith to commence the construction of the Oroville Dam will jeopardize federal flood control aid on that dam and will also unquestionably jeopardize federal cooperation or aid in the development of the San Luis Project.

The Congress of the United States and the federal departments are fully aware that California can well afford to assume its responsibility in water development. The President emphasized in his recent message to the Congress that the states must assume a greater share of the over-all financial burden in water development if they expect to continue receiving federal assistance.

We must be realistic and conclude that Congress is not going to be enthusiastic about appropriating money, unless we do so first.

The California Supreme Court decision announced yesterday, which invalidates the applicability of the 160-acre limitation and the utility type contracts which the Bureau of Reclamation has heretofore written, may well have the effect of delaying further reclamation appropriations for some years until the questions raised by the decision are resolved.

Failure to act now on the Feather River Project appropriation will endanger financing and construction of other needed water development projects from Humboldt and Modoc Counties to Kern and San Diego Counties. Northern California needs water projects just as badly as does Southern California. I point out also that it is equally as important to the interests of Northern California and the areas of origin to solve the water rights problems which confront us, as it is to the interests of Southern California The protection which the present statutes afford to the so-called counties of origin for their ultimate water requirements is entirely tenuous and could be completely negated by failure of the Legislature on just one occasion to renew the exemption from diligence under the State filings.

Every day's delay increases the risk of further loss of life through dangerous floods and further imperils the welfare of millions of Californians because of inadequate water supply.

If the Legislature is to meet its clear obligation with reference to our immediate water problems, action must be taken today in the few remaining hours before the recess.

Due to the procedural difficulties of resolving disagreement between the houses, I recommend that the subject be placed before a conference committee at the earliest possible moment, or that you take such other course of action as, in your wisdom, will assure the prompt passage of the urgency appropriation.

Respectfully submitted.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Lowrey:

House Resolution No. 87

Relative to the Glenn County Willows Airport Beacon

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Glenn County was advised on December 4, 1956, by the Civil Aeronautics Authority that that authority was discontinuing Beacon Site 12 on the San Francisco-Seattle airway located at the Glenn County Willows Airport; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority then advised that the discontinuance was the result of a meeting which had been held on September 6, 1956, of which the board of supervisors had not received any notification; and

WHEREAS, Had the board of supervisors been able to oppose the discontinuance of this beacon, it would have been able to show that the beacon is in an airport which is the only all weather airport on the airlane within 46 miles, and that the beacon reaches far beyond Glenn County, having rendered emergency service to air force search and rescue missions after a crash of a P-51 and also rendered service when a B-50 crashed within five miles of the Glenn County Willows Airport, aside from other emergency service to aircraft; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority has agreed to transfer this beacon to the County of Glenn with the provision that the same be maintained by the county; and

WHEREAS, The County of Glenn has no trained personnel to maintain such a beacon and it would be unfair to impose the cost of this public service benefiting a much greater area than Glenn County upon this county; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Civil Aeronautics Authority is respectfully requested to reconsider the discontinuance of Beacon Site 12 on the San Francisco-Seattle airway located at the Glenn County Willows Airport; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit a copy of this resolution to the Civil Aeronautics Authority

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Public Utilities and Corporations.

GENTLEMEN .

Senate Bill No. 1, "An act making an appropriation for the purchase of poliomyelitis vaccine and for the administration of a poliomyelitis vaccination program, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I am confident that this bill provides the means for preventing major epidemics of infantile paralysis in this State. It appropriates $3,000,000 in State funds for poliomyelitis vaccine and the administration of an immunization program. This sum will provide approximaely four million injections of this effective vaccine. These will be given to persons under 40, the age group with the highest incidence of this disease. While not all in that group can receive the recommended three innoculations, the program will induce many more of them to secure the full protection than would otherwise do so.

I therefore recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 1 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Beaver:

House Resolution No. 88

Relative to directing the Assembly Interim Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works to create a Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power

WHEREAS, It is the expressed policy of the United States Government to encourage the peace-time use of atomic power, thus creating a probability that substantial federal assistance might be made available to the State of California in developing a workable project for the application of such power in this State; and

WHEREAS, The greatest unsolved problem in connection with the future development of California consists of the need to transfer its surplus of water in the northern part of the State to areas of deficiency in the southern part of the State, together with a power requirement for transferring water over the Tehachapi Mountains greatly in excess of the electric power which will be produced by the Oroville Dam as presently planned; and

WHEREAS, California has, in the University of California, an institution which is exceptionally well qualified to study the possibility of utilizing atomic power to accomplish this transfer of water from north to south, not only because of the world-renowned atomic scientists on its faculty but also because of its close working relationships with the Atomic Energy Commission and other federal agencies; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, As follows:

1. The Assembly Interim Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works created by House Resolution No. 239 of the 1955 Regular Session is directed to create a subcommittee designated as the Subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power. The committee, through said subcommittee is authorized and directed to ascertain, study and analyze all facts relating to the desirability of having a full-scale investigation, by a legislative committee, by the University of California or otherwise, of the possibility that atomic energy can be used to furnish a feasible and economical means for producing the electric power needed to transfer surplus water from the northern part of California to the southern part of California.

2. In addition to any money heretofore made available, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly Interim Committee on

Conservation, Planning, and Public Works for the expenses of the subcommittee on Water Project Uses for Atomic Power and its members and for any charges, expenses, or claims it may incur under said resolution to be paid from the said Contingent Fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. Lowrey asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 87, at this time, without reference to file.

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 87

By Mr. Lowrey:

House Resolution No. 87

Relative to the Glenn County Willows Airport Beacon

WHEREAS, The Board of Supervisors of Glenn County was advised on December 4, 1956, by the Civil Aeronautics Authority that that authority was discontinuing Beacon Site 12 on the San Francisco-Seattle airway located at the Glenn County Willows Airport; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority then advised that the discontinuance was the result of a meeting which had been held on September 6, 1956, of which the board of supervisors had not received any notification; and

WHEREAS, Had the board of supervisors been able to oppose the discontinuance of this beacon, it would have been able to show that the beacon is in an airport which is the only all weather airport on the airlane within 46 miles, and that the beacon reaches far beyond Glenn County, having rendered emergency service to air force search and rescue missions after a crash of a P-51 and also rendered service when a B-50 crashed within five miles of the Glenn County Willows Airport, aside from other emergency service to aircraft; and

WHEREAS, The Civil Aeronautics Authority has agreed to transfer this beacon to the County of Glenn with the provision that the same be maintained by the county; and

WHEREAS, The County of Glenn has no trained personnel to maintain such a beacon and it would be unfair to impose the cost of this public service benefitting a much greater area than Glenn County upon this county; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Civil Aeronautics Authority is respectfully requested to reconsider the discontinuance of Beacon Site 12 on the San Francisco-Seattle airway located at the Glenn County Willows Airport; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit a copy of this resolution to the Civil Aeronautics Authority.

Resolution read, and adopted.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT LETTER IN JOURNAL

Mr. Shell asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following letter be printed in the Journal:

JOINT LEGISLATIVE BUDGET COMMITTEE
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, January 25, 1957

Hon. Joseph C. Shell
Assemblyman, 58th District
4167 State Capitol
Sacramento, California

DEAR ASSEMBLYMAN SHELL: I am replying to your letter of January 25th in which you request that I restate in writing the answer which I gave you orally last week in reply to the question as to whether there could be any basis for comparing prior leases issued by the State of California on proven lands with those lands yet to be leased under the Cunningham-Shell Act which are not proven.

You will recall that you prefaced your question to me last week by asking whether my office was responsible as such for the estimate which had been made by Assemblyman Miller as Chairman of the Subcommittee on Conservation and Development of Hydrocarbon Products on State Lands. I emphasized to you then that this estimate was entirely the product and responsibility of that subcommittee and that I had no direct knowledge of it nor of the particular factors which went into its computation, and that although a member of my staff had prepared estimates for the subcommittee I had expressly instructed him to make it clear to the subcommittee that such estimates were not to be considered those of the Legislative Auditor.

In response to your question as to whether, under any circumstances, I could provide an estimate based on comparing prior leases issued by the State of California on proven lands with lands yet to be leased under the Cunningham-Shell Act which are not proven, I stated that I personally knew of no basis upon which this could be done since on its face this comparison involved unlike factors. I stated that it was my feeling there would have to be information other than the experience of prior leases to draw any firm conclusion and that I did not have in my possession any such information although I was not in a position to say whether such information might or might not be available

Sincerely,

A. ALAN POST, Legislative Auditor

In making this determination, it has been necessary to review and restate the purposes of the law and to measure those purposes against the actual results.

Findings

1. The State has been well-advised in requiring the advocates of legislation to identify themselves and whom they represent and in requiring the solicitors of funds used to influence legislation to similarly identify themselves and their purposes.

2. The language of the existing statute is ambiguous, however, partly because of confusion of intent; but it can be redrafted to maintain and strengthen the disclosure requirements.

3 There has been almost no enforcement of the law and little attempt to publicize it. Certain sections of the law have been almost universally ignored, making it awkward for enforcement officers to single out known violators for prosecution.

4. Administration of the law has been left to an office that does not have staff or funds to investigate the validity of statements filed by legislative advocates.

5. Inequalities result almost inevitably from the requirement that advocates report all expenses, including the cost of living; but no adequate criteria for separating living expenses from lobbying activity were presented to the committee It would appear desirable that legislative advocates should continue to report all major items of expense.

6. Legislative salaries appear to have a general bearing upon the susceptibility of a minority of legislators to the influence of lobbyists. This is an intangible point, however, and was considered outside the purview of the committee.

7. Rules for preparing expense reports have been misunderstood.

8. Improved laws regulating campaign contributions would minimize the influence that lobbyists could bring to bear upon legislators.

9. Establishment of an office of legislative research, analogous to the Legislative Auditor and Legislative Counsel offices, would minimize the reliance of legislators upon legislative advocates for factual information.

10. Attempts to restrict the activities of legislative advocates to certain areas, such as committee hearings or the submission of written petitions, do not appear enforceable or desirable.

11. Paper work, expense and public inconvenience are caused by requiring representatives who spend small sums on brief appearances in Sacramento to register as legislative advocates.

12. The Senate and Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation have been overlapping in functions.

Recommendations

In general, the lobbying statutes of the Government Code, Sections 9900-9911 should be amended with the objective of forcing increased disclosure of the source, amount and uses of money spent to influence legislation; of requiring revelation of the identity of individuals, firms, institutions and associations attempting to influence legislaton; of maintaining a high standard of ethics among professional legislative advocates.

1. Groups or indivduals that spend less than (a fixed minimum) in advocating legislation should be added to those exceptions (Section 9906) from the requirement to register and report expenses.

2. Persons (except political committees) who "spend," as well as those who receive, solicit or collect money to influence legislation should be required to register and report (Section 9905).

3 The Senate and Assembly Committees on Legislative Representation should hereafter undertake jointly to review the applications for registry of legislative advocates.

4. The two committees should jointly undertake a program to gain compliance with the Lobbying Act, including publication of legislative analysis, promulgation of rules for filing expense accounts, etc.

5. Radio and television stations should be granted exemption from registration on the same terms as newspapers are—that is, for their editorial statements for or against legislation and for their appearances before committees of legislators in support or opposition to legislation.

6. Legislative advocates should be invited to file 30 days before the opening of a Legislative session, a notice of intention to appear as a legislative advocate. (This would enable the Legislative Auditor to prepare a list of advocates earlier in the session.)

7. The Legislative Auditor should be allocated funds adequate to establish and maintain an administrative staff capable of investigating possible infractions of the disclosure rules.

8. Language in all portions of the existing law should be re-drafted to conform with recent Supreme Court decisions on Federal lobbying statutes and with other State laws in the same field.

THE REPORT

I. Foreword

Before starting this review of the state law on legislative representation, its strengths and its weaknesses, this special committee should make known several of its fundamental assumptions.

First of all, the committee does not regard the advocacy of legislation as a reprehensible practice; to the contrary, it would strongly oppose any attempted abridgement of the right of individuals, associations, institutions and business firms to legitimately petition the legislature—whether in person or through a hired representative.

The committee further realizes that there are expenses in sending representatives to the Capital, in preparing and presenting information on pending legislation and in contacting legislators.

Finally, the committee recognizes that advocating legislation is a reputable profession for hundreds of competent, serious and highly scrupulous Californians.

It has not been the intention of this committee to search out ways to restrict political freedoms or curtail the proper practices of a profession.

But, like other democratic processes, the right to petition the Legislature is subject to regulations to prevent abuses. For example, the strictures on criminal lobbying, bribery, intimidation, etc.—are written into the State Constitution and the Penal Code, and their wisdom has never, to our knowledge, been questioned.

Furthermore, legislative representation, as a profession, needs and deserves rules that will maintain high standards of integrity.

There is, moreover, an increasing need of vigilance in forcing full public disclosure of the amounts and sources of money spent to influence elections and legislation. This has been the committee's basic position.

The object of this study was to make workable those sections of the existing code that have not functioned, to make clear what has been vague, to make simple what has been complex.

To these ends, the committee has found it essential to re-examine the purposes of the law.

II. Origin and Nature of the State Laws on Lobbying

The California Lobbying Act was signed into law in 1949. It has been slightly amended since—in 1950 and 1955.

Impetus for its enactment came from a widespread public suspicion that the "Third House" was putting undue pressure on the Legislature. This suspicion, well founded or not, had seemed to find confirmation when a lobbyist, publicized nationally as "The Secret Boss of California," was quoted as bragging that he did, indeed, control the Legislature.

Humiliated, the Legislature acted quickly to put lobbying activities under regulation. Yet, it is now apparent that the nature of the problem was not recognized as clearly as it now can be with longer perspective.

The act itself was a hastily-prepared replica of the Federal Lobbying Act, and it incorporated from that act certain ambiguous language that has only recently been interpreted—in the case of the federal law—by a Supreme Court decision. (U. S. vs. Harriss, 347 U. S. 612 1954).

The basic requirements of the State act are clear and fall into two categories:

The first set of regulations, governing the soliciting or receiving of funds for the purpose of influencing legislation, require the keeping of detailed accounts of contributions and expenditures; the rendering of detailed reports to the principal on the contributions and expenditures.

The other regulations, covering legislative advocates who are paid for their work, require the advocate to register with the Legislative Auditor; file monthly reports listing the bills he has been employed to support or oppose and the money he has received, along with each expenditure of over $25 he has made.

(The Legislative Counsel's analysis of the Law, Sections 9900-9911, Government Code, was published by this committee jointly with the Senate Committee on Legislative Representation in September, 1956. The pamphlet is distributed through the registration office for legislative advocates, maintained by the Legislative Auditor in Room 304, Capitol Building, Sacramento.)

As Professor Frank C. Newman of the University of California School of Law noted in an article on lobbying in the May-June 1956 "Journal of the State Bar of California": "The most troublesome question since the enactment of the California Lobbying Act has been, 'Exactly what does the act mean?' Many of its provisions are ambiguous, and many citizens and lawyers have been troubled in their efforts conscientiously to discover what the statute requires of them."

In its three public hearings—On February 23, and September 26, 1956, in San Francisco and on March 22, 1956, in Sacramento—the committee heard this opinion echoed by legislative advocates, administrators of the law, enforcement officers and outside observers.

III. The Law as the Advocates See It

Vagueness, ineffectuality, unfairness, distortion — these were the charges legislative advocates brought against the law that regulates their activities.

Yet, a minority of the legislative representatives who addressed the committee were actually in favor of the law and felt it needed only to be amended to further restrict certain practices.

The most common complaint was that the monthly statements of expenses give a distorted picture of the advocates' activities.

Some men, it was pointed out, live in Sacramento whereas others take hotel rooms, have heavy living costs during the legislative session.

Published by newspapers, expense statements including living and secretarial costs give the public the impression of heavy spending by the "Third House."

In the words of Frew Morton, representative of Foster and Kleiser: "I don't think it's fair to you people, because the impression that the public has, in my mind, is that it looks as if we're doing a terrific lot of stuff—that we must be spending it and throwing it around and everything else, and they can't figure that . . . I have no objection whatsoever, never have had, but I do think that to have to declare all of this, it makes it look like a tremendous thing when not 25 per cent of it is for lobbying."

Morton suggested that in Section 9900 (b), the definition of a reportable expenditure be amended to include the words: "Provided, however, the term 'expenditure' shall not include payments or contracts to pay any sum or sums which represent the personal living expenses of any person required by the provisions of Section 9906 of this Code to register with the Clerk of the Assembly and the Secretary of the Senate."

A similar provision, Morton testified could be inserted in the definition of "expenses" in Section 9906.

In his desire to eliminate personal living expenses from the reportable outlays of legislative advocates, Morton was supported by Edward D. Landels, representative of Bankers Association of California (and others); Donald W. Cleary, representative of the City and County of San Francisco; Vincent Kennedy, representative of the California Retailers Association (by mail); from Charles E. Gibbs, representative of the Associated Farmers of California; from Wesley E. Robbins, representative of the California State Nurses Association; from Bert Trask, representative of the California Motor Transport Association; from George F. Meredith, of Meredith and Company; and from John R. Chelew, representative of the Merchants and Manufacturers Association.

A slightly different but related problem of interpreting the law was reported by Goscoe Farley. As representative of the State Bar Association and administrator of Bar Examinations, Farley reported difficulty in differentiating between his functions as an advocate of legislation and his functions as an administrator.

In his report of expenses, he divides his salary between his two activities, Farley said, but this distinction of purpose is lost when the report is summarized and published.

William Hadeler of the California Grocers Association complained of a similar difficulty in separating his salary between his functions as an association manager and as an advocate.

Farley raised another point of practical annoyance in complying with the law:

"We have five or six or seven committees who work on legislation, and many times when a particular bill of ours comes up, I have a committee chairman of a committee that's worked on that bill come up and help me with the presentation. All the chairman gets is his bare traveling expenses. We don't register him as a representative, as I don't think we need to. He appears and explains the bill at a hearing, but you can't keep these just black and white. After the hearing breaks up, well, then a few members of the Legislature may stay around and ask him questions . . . Yet, I don't think it was the purpose of the Legislature to require registration in such a case . . . If that could be clarified, it would ease our mind a little bit . . ."

Landels had also suggested that this problem be clarified by amending the law.

It was the consensus of the legislative advocates who attended the committee hearings that the act of reporting, while an annoyance, was not intolerable. A chronic problem appears to be distinguishing between expenses for lobbying and for non-lobbying activities.

As an instance of this difficulty, Landels cited one of his trips to Los Angeles, taken primarily to attend a directors' meeting, which also included an interview with a legislative committee chairman to discuss a pre-legislative program.

"Now, I'd like to ask the members of this committee what portions of the expenses of that trip I should report, if any? I don't know . . ."

Several witnesses appeared to feel that the law should have restricted or terminated unsavory lobbying tactics that have been unaffected by it.

H. G. Stevens, who represents several small boat manufacturing associations, asserted that many actual lobbyists who did not appear before legislative committees did not register or report their expenditures; that some legislators had encouraged advocates to stimulate campaigns of letters and telegrams in support of bills that the advocate had not had time to study and appraise; and that the committee should investigate cases where large fees were paid for short-term legislative representation.

Cleary, the San Francisco representative, was asked if he thought enactment of the Lobbying Act had "improved the situation in Sacramento any?"

"Well, I don't want to be facetious," he answered, "But the same people are there today that were there when the act was drawn, and I think . . . 99 percent of the lobbyists I have encountered are thoroughly honest and reputable men . . . Like all these laws, they tend to penalize the honest, while not turning up the dishonest . . . I don't think it does what you want it to do; that is, get at the man who is up there with a slush fund, as Mr. Landels said, trying to improperly influence legislation."

A minority view was that of John B. Long, general manager of the California Newspaper Publishers Association: "The Act should be repealed."

"I think the man that is capable and fit to be a State Senator or an Assemblyman should have the courage to stand up under any kind of pressure," Long said. "I don't care what kind of lobbying it is. If he's fit to represent his district and his county and his people, he's going to have the courage to stand up and vote his conscience . . ."

The variety of interpretations that advocates themselves place upon the Act and its purpose gave added significance to a later comment from A. C. Morrison of the Legislative Counsel's Office:

"There has been a determination on the part of the California Legislature as to what conduct they want to regulate, what conduct they want to prohibit . . . and then we could write an act that would put into words what you want."

IV. The Law as the Administrators See It

The same areas of ambiguity that have confused legislative advocates have troubled State agents charged with administering the Lobbying Act.

Margaret Smith, who is in charge of the office for legislative advocates maintained by the Legislative Auditor, made two appearances before the committee, each time offering practical suggestions for improving the operations of the law.

She suggested that monthly expense reports from registered legislative advocates be filed "under penalty of perjury," as are income tax returns, rather than under oath.

This would save the time and effort of having each form notarized, Mrs. Smith said.

She believed, further, that cost to the State and inconvenience to individuals could be eliminated if persons visiting the Capital on rare occasions at small expense could be exempted from the requirement to register and file expense statements.

Morrison declined to advise the committee on this suggestion, holding that means of administering the law would follow naturally from a policy determination as to the desired results.

"This statute was never intended to stop what might be called corrupt practices," he said. "What is intended by this act is to provide a means whereby people, as I see it, will know who is representing whom before the Legislature."

The committee made what it regarded as two important administrative steps.

1. In its 1956 supplement to the 1955 List of Legislative Advocates and Organizations, representatives who had terminated their connection with former clients were listed as having done so; and

2. An analysis of the laws on influencing legislation was prepared by the Legislative Counsel and published jointly by the Assembly and Senate Committees on Legislative Representation in September, 1956.

V. The Law as Enforcement Officers See It

The lack of prosecutions during eight years under the Lobbying Act was a subject of concern to the committee, and the third public hearing, in San Francisco on September 26, 1956, was chiefly devoted to remarks and suggestions from law enforcement officers.

The vagueness of the act, in both purpose and detail, was again a cause of complaint. Attorney General Edmund G. Brown reported only two cases in recent years involving apparent infractions of the law; in neither of those did the State attempt to prosecute because there has been no active compliance with the law by any other persons subject to the provisions that had been violated.

The apparent violations of the act, according to Brown, were the case of an association that did not report it was financed by oil interests to oppose the Shell-Cunningham bill and the case of another group that did not report it was financed by a gas company to advocate the Allen bill to give Long Beach tideland oil royalities to the State.

Failing to report in these instances was, in Brown's opinion, a violation to Section 9903 of the Government Code—the section requiring any person except a political committee that solicits, collects or receives money to influence legislation to register and report the sum collected and the lobbying expenses.

The Attorney General had not acted on these cases, however, because his staff reported that there had been no filings under the section of the statute since the lobbying regulations were enacted.

Publicity of the regulations had also been insufficient, Brown reported In neither case were the principals aware that the activities of such "front" organizations were restricted by the Lobbying Act.

Roy Gustafson, District Attorney of Ventura County, suggested the Legislature might create an enforcement agency for the lobbying regulations or assign the task to the Attorney General; might tighten the language of the statute.

As a general defense against the blandishments of the "Third House," Gustafson suggested, the Legislators should have higher salaries and be provided a legislative research department analogous to the Legislative Counsel and Legislative Auditor.

District Attorney J. Francis O'Shea of Sacramento County said he had heard of only one alleged violation of the lobbying regulations in his seven years in the home county of the Legislature.

In that case, the lobbyist was sought by former clients for possible grand theft, and this charge—if it were true—implied that he was also in violation of the registration requirement for legislative advocates.

O'Shea suggested the committees of the Legislature might police their own chambers by demanding indentification of witnesses, then checking with the Legislative Auditor's office to be sure the representative had credentials.

VI. The Law as an Outside Observer Sees It

Dr. Frank C. Newman, a professor of law at the University of California, author and lecturer on lobbying and the legislative process, began his testimony to the committee by discounting the continued existence of a thriving "Third House" as evidence that the Lobbying Act has failed.

"I'm glad that the lobbying act has scared no people away from Sacramento," Dr. Newman said. "It seems to me that we may have too few lobbyists. In fact, it seems to me that the State has benefited from the fact that these fellows now have to identify the interests they represent, and I think they ought to identify those interests proudly."

Dr. Newman's thesis was that more disclosure, rather than more regulations. of lobbyists was required.

"We have bribery laws now. We have laws against false statements, and it seems to me that in general those laws that prohibit lobbyists from doing certain things are adequate. On the other hand, it seems to me that the disclosure provisions of our statute are not adequate at the present time."

His suggestion was that the Legislature concentrate on improving the disclosure requirements of the Lobbying Act, ignoring the obvious fact that there have been many past violations of the statute.

The law should be clarified, he said. Language changes in the statutes covering campaign contributions should be reflected in the Lobbying Act, for example; the definition of legislation should be sharpened; a definition of "contact with the legislature" should be included.

The committee might consider narrowing the law so that it would not apply to persons who spent only a small sum to make a single appearance in Sacramento, Dr. Newman said.

He went on to suggest that the reporting requirement be extended to persons "spending" (as well as merely "soliciting and receiving") funds to influence legislation; that there be an educational campaign to gain compliance with the law; that all forms of present reporting be continued.

"First of all," Dr. Newman concluded, "there are a lot of people that come to Sacramento and argue that what they are proposing is in the public interest, and they may believe it, and it may be in the public interest. Nonetheless, it seems to me relevant that we know whether it's also for their personal profit, or whether they are being paid to put forth this idea.

"Second, I think it's important that we know when large sums of money are being spent. The mere fact that large sums of money are being spent doesn't mean that the legislation is bad . . . But it's one thing if a group goes out and spends $57 for stamps and a letterhead. It's another thing if they spend $57,000 for a major public relations program.

"Third, it seems to me that with a good disclosure law, we can help avoid a good deal of what we call 'legislative corruption.' . . . I think that many years ago, Justice Brandeis made this point clear when he said that it's sunlight that's the best disinfectant, it's the electric light that's the best policeman. And that's the purpose of a disclosure law, to keep these things out in the open—to run government in a goldfish bowl."

During these coming days may the words of our mouths and the meditations of our hearts be acceptable in Thy sight, O Lord. Cleanse our souls from self-concern, lead us away from temptation, and make us truly instruments of Thy will. Grant that we may know that the only abiding realities are faith, hope, and love; and that the greatest of these is love. Through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Lord—AMEN.

Assembly Bill No. 152, entitled: "An act to amend Section 262 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the church exemption, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

The Legislature passed and presented to me this Assembly Bill 152 and Senate Bill 202. These bills are identical. Accordingly, I have signed Senate Bill 202 and that bill has become a law, and I am returning Assembly Bill 152 to the house in which it originated with this statement of my objections thereto.

Respectfully submitted,

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Mr. Weinberger:

House Resolution No. 96

Relating to the "Parade of Ideals"

WHEREAS, Although faced with many problems resulting from its phenomenal growth, California finds that the problem of its youth and the delinquency thereof has become one of the state's major problems; and

WHEREAS, It is with the gravest concern that we observe the increasing waste of our most valuable resource, the youth of our state; and

WHEREAS, Prevention of delinquency is always a better and less costly solution than any form of rehabilitation or punishment; and

WHEREAS, The basic defect in those of our youth who take the path of delinquency appears to be the absence of moral standards and character; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Albert C. Hartnack of San Francisco is the author of a plan that goes to the very crux of this problem of character building; and

WHEREAS, This plan, "The Parade of Ideals" involves presenting the message of high moral standards and good character to the youth of our State during their formative school years by the simple medium of pictures of the Ideal Boy, the Ideal Girl, the Ideal Home, and the Tree of Good Character on their composition books and tablets that they use daily in their school work; and

WHEREAS, The plan is in the field of prevention of juvenile delinquency rather than in the field of punishment; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly compliments Mr Albert Hartnack on his good work in this field, and be it further

Resolved, That this Assembly does hereby request all manufacturers of tablets, composition books, and notebooks to please give serious consideration to the question of whether they can adopt this plan called the Parade of Ideals; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to Mr. Albert Hartnack, the author of this "Parade of Ideals."

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. Erwin:

House Resolution No. 97

Relative to congratulating and honoring Aubrey Wardman

WHEREAS, It is traditional for the Legislature to honor outstanding citizens of this State; and

WHEREAS, Aubrey Wardman of Whittier is such a citizen, having significantly contributed to the economic growth of Southern California and the development of the telephone industry in that area, and being known as an untiring worker for community betterment; and

WHEREAS, He came to this country from Canada as a young man and through diligent effort and business acumen worked his way up from a lineman to manager and owner of telephone companies, and by prudent investment in new industries and discoveries, shared in the growth of this State; and

WHEREAS, He has made generous contributions to Whittier College and other philanthropic causes, and indefatigably served on many civic committees and boards; and

WHEREAS, "Gus" Wardman, as he is known among the old-timers of Whittier, and his wife, Bonnie Bell Wardman, are beloved and esteemed by the citizens of Whittier, as demonstrated by the honor bestowed upon them by the celebration of "Wardman Day" in 1948; and

WHEREAS, The wealth and stature of our State and Nation have been acquired and attained by the work and ingenuity of men of vision such as Aubrey Wardman; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly extend its hearty congratulations to Aubrey Wardman for his singular achievements in life, and honors him for his magnanimous contributions to the welfare of his community; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to prepare and transmit a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution to Aubrey Wardman.

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Rules.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. McCollister asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following information, prepared by the Chief Clerk, be ordered printed in the Journal:

STATEMENT RELATIVE TO BILLS TO BE CONSIDERED

During January, 1957, 4,121 Assembly bills were introduced. Of the 120 days allowed by the Constitution to complete this session, 19 were used in January, leaving 101 calendar days to act upon the measures before us.

Of the 101 remaining days there are 14 Saturdays and 14 Sundays in addition to Good Friday and Memorial Day. If we work one-half of the Saturdays and recess for the other one-half, as well as all of the Sundays which has been our custom, we will only have 78 working days to complete the business of this session. The committees, therefore, must act on 53 Assembly bills a day. In addition to this, we can expect that we will be sent approximately 1,200 Senate bills for committee action, which means 15 Senate bills must be heard by our committees each day, bringing the average committee action to 68 bills a day.

During the 1955 Session the Assembly passed and adopted a total of 3,831 measures in the 78 working days between recess and adjournment. In this session we will have a larger number of measures to act upon in the same number of working days.

The 1955 session passed in Assembly and sent to the Senate 41.2 percent of the bills introduced. This figure, when related to floor action, is actually much higher due to the fact that many bills are reported from committee, considered by the Assembly, and reported back to committee where they have died, consuming the time and consideration of the Assembly without a showing being made in the percentage column of bills passed. By applying the percentages of the 1955 Session to the work before us, we are confronted with the fact that we must have a floor action on at least 37 measures a day for every working day from now until Wednesday, June 12th, our adjournment date.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. McCollister announced that committee chairmen with bills scheduled for hearings on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday should make their requests for suspension of Rule 56 in order that the bills may be heard on those days.

Mr. Collier withheld unanimous consent.

Announcement by Speaker

The Speaker announced that committee chairmen have been requested to schedule only noncontroversial bills for hearings this week; and that requests for suspending Rule 56 will be made in order to expedite the business of the House.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Collier arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: Who will determine if a bill is controversial?

Reply by Speaker

The Speaker replied that the committee chairman would make the decision, and if any controversy arises when the bill is heard, it will be put over for a week.

Objections Withdrawn

Mr. Collier withdrew his objections.

FLEET RESERVE ASSOCIATION
WASHINGTON 6, D. C., January 29, 1957

Captain Frank Luckel, U. S. Navy (Retired)
San Diego, California

DEAR CAPTAIN LUCKEL: I wish to acknowledge belatedly your cordial letter of last June on the subject of survivor benefits

As you probably already know, the Survivor Benefit Act cleared the Congress and the President, and it is comforting to note that we are now receiving copies of amended death compensation awards which increase payments to widows from $69 and $87 to $140, $150, $160 per month and higher for upper grades, all the fruits of the labor that went into the development and enactment of the Bill.

It is comforting to note your participation in spearheading through the California Legislature last year the Joint Assembly Resolution dealing with this subject, and I am sure that all service widows owe you a vote of thanks for your helpful assistance.

It was a pleasure to meet your daughter at Annapolis and to discuss with her the cooperation you have always extended to the boys of the Fleet Reserve Association in California.

I do not believe we ever served together, but rather that you came to know me through your honorary membership in the Fleet Reserve Association.

With high respect,

Faithfully yours,

CHARLES E. LOFGREN
Commander, U.S.N. Retired
National Secretary

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, February 25, 1957

Hon. Sheridan N. Hegland
La Mesa, California

Assembly Bill No. 64—Crime Comic Books—No. 4779

DEAR MR. HEGLAND: You have asked for our opinion on the constitutionality of Assembly Bill No 64.

Opinion

In our opinion the bill would probably be held constitutional.

Analysis

Assembly Bill No. 64 would add to the Penal Code Section 653a, making it a misdemeanor to "sell or circulate" to any person under the age of 18 years any "crime comic books." "Sell or circulate" is defined in the bill as including "to sell, offer for sale, attempt to sell, exhibit, give away, keep in possession with intent to sell, or give away, or in any way furnish or attempt to furnish."

"Crime comic book" is defined as "any book, magazine, or pamphlet in which an account of crime [as otherwise defined] is set forth by means of a series of five or more drawings or photographs, in sequence, which are accompanied by either narrative writing or words represented as being spoken by a pictured character . . ." "Crime" is defined as "the commission or attempted commission of an act of arson, burglary, kidnapping, mayhem, murder, rape, robbery, theft, train-wrecking, or voluntary manslaughter, or the commission of an act of assault with caustic chemicals or assault with a deadly weapon . . ." and "includes but is not limited to, acts by human beings, and further includes acts by animals or any non-human, part-human, or imaginary beings which, if performed by a human being, would constitute any of the crimes named." The section does not apply to (1) those accounts of crime which are part of the general dissemination of news, (2) those accounts of crime which appear in a newspaper of general circulation, (3) those accounts of crime which delineate actual historical occurrences, and (4) those accounts which delineate occurrences actually set forth in the Sacred Scriptures.

The bill contains certain legislative findings. There is a finding that many children have been incited to commit crimes as a consequence of looking at "crime comic books." There is a finding that there is a clear and present danger which the Legislature finds is great and imminent that the continued sale and circulation in this State of crime comic books to children will incite them to commit or attempt to commit crimes and inculcate a preference in the minds of the children to commit crimes. There is a finding that the prohibition of sale or circulation of "crime comic books" to children is a reasonable measure to meet this clear and present danger.

This bill, we note first, appears to be sufficiently certain so that it would not be held unconstitutional on the ground of being "void for vagueness" (see Connolly v. General Constr. Co., 269 U. S. 385; Winters v. New York, 333 U. S. 507).

The argument could be advanced that this bill unconstitutionally impairs freedom of the press. Though the absence of authority directly in point renders it impossible to predict with certainty what the courts would hold on this point, it appears to us probable that the bill would be upheld as against such attack. The guarantee of freedom of expression extends to publications intended to entertain and applies to distribution as well as publication (Winters v. New York, 333 U. S. 507). It has been said that any attempt to restrict freedom of expression "must be justified by clear public interest threatened not doubtfully or remotely but by clear and present danger" (Thomas v. Collins, 323 U. S. 516). The great difference of opinion that exists among experts in the field as to the causal connection between reading crime comic books and the commission of crime renders possible the judicial conclusion that this test is not met (see authorities collected in Comic Book Regulation, 1955 Legis. Probes: No. 2 pp. 6-9).

On the other hand, there is no doubt that there are responsible persons who believe that the causal relationship exists (see, e g., Wertham, Seduction of the Innocent, particularly Chapter 6). Further, the bill contains a finding that crime comic books have incited children to commit crime, a finding that there is a clear and present danger which the Legislature concludes is great and imminent that continued sale and circulation of crime comic books will incite children to commit or attempt to commit crimes and inculcate in their minds a preference for commission of crime, and a finding that the prohibition of sale or circulation of crime comic books to children is a reasonable measure to meet this clear and present danger. Such legislative findings are entitled to be given great weight (Block v. Hirsh, 256 U. S. 135). It must be noted that this bill, unlike the New York statute held unconstitutional in the Winters case, is limited to sale or circulation to persons under the age of 18 years, and in the Winters case itself there is a dictum that "We recognize the importance of the exercise of the state's police power to minimize all incentives to crime, particularly in the field of sanguinary or salacious publications with their stimulation of juvenile delinquency." * In view of these considerations and the usual presumption of constitutionality (see Rainey v. Michel, 6 Cal. 2d 259), the probabilities appear to be that the bill would be held not violative of the guarantee of freedom of expression.

A possible attack that might be made on the bill is that it contains classifications so arbitrary as to deny the equal protection of the law. The basic prohibition in the bill applies to a book, magazine, or pamphlet in which an account of crime is set forth in no less than five drawings or photographs. That is, five drawings or photographs is the minimum applicable to the account of crime, not to the size of the book, magazine, or pamphlet. The argument might be advanced that an account of rape or murder in three or four drawings or photographs would be of the same basic character as such an account in five drawings or photographs and the distinction is an arbitrary one. However, it may also be, though we do not have personal knowledge of the matter, that accounts of crime in "comic books" always or generally are of at least five panels in length, that the evil sought to be combatted is peculiar to comic books, and that the bill is tailored to fit "comic books." It has been held that the Legislature is free to recognize degrees of harm and may confine its restrictions to those classes of cases wherein the need is deemed to be clearest (Lelande v. Lowery, 26 Cal. 2d 224).

As noted above, there are certain exemptions from the general prohibition in the bill. Taking them in a different order than that in which they appear in the bill, we note first that the prohibition does not apply to an account of crime which delineates an actual historical event. It appears, in view of this exemption, that the bill's prohibition is applicable only to fictional accounts of crime. The argument might be made that a comic book account of the deeds of Jack the Ripper is as harmful, if harmful at all, as a fictional account of similar crimes. On the other hand, it could be argued that the value to children in knowing of the realities of the world they live in outweighs the negative effect on children which such accounts may have. The same can be said with respect to the exemption for "those accounts of crime which are part of the general dissemination of news."

The bill provides also that the section it would add to the Penal Code does not apply to those accounts of crime which appear in a newspaper of general circulation. Actually, the basic prohibition in the bill applies only to books, magazines, or pamphlets, none of which seems to cover newspapers. In any event, the argument might be made that an account of crime, otherwise subject to the bill, is as harmful to a child, if it is harmful at all, whether he sees it in a magazine or a newspaper. However, it might also be argued that the value of free circulation of newspapers of general circulation is so great that it outweighs the harm that might result from sale or circulation to a child of such a newspaper.

* In Butler v. State of Michigan, 25 U. S. Law Week 4105, decided by the United States Supreme Court on February 25, 1957, the court held unconstitutional a statute dealing with obscene literature which prohibited sale of a book to the general public on the basis of the injurious effect it may have on youth. As noted above, A.B. 64 is restricted in its scope to distribution to persons under the age of 18 years.

There is an exemption for accounts of crime in the Bible or any writing of similar stature in any established religion. As in the case of the apparent exemption for nonfiction, it could be argued on the one hand that a pictorial account of the crime of murder, for example, has the same effect on the child viewer whether it is part of the scriptures of his religion or not, and, on the other hand, that the value in the child being familiar with his religion outweighs such harm as he may suffer from viewing such pictorial accounts of crime. It may also be that if the prohibition extended to occurrences in the scripture, the bill would, as so applied, be held to interfere unconstitutionally with the free exercise of religion.

It has been said that in order to declare a law violative of the guarantee of equal protection, it must appear that the class to which the act is applicable has been arbitrarily selected from the general body of those who stand in the same relation to the subject of the law (In re Herrera, 23 Cal. 2d 206). As indicated above, it seems possible to think of rational bases for the various classifications contained in the bill. In view of the usual presumption of constitutionality and the rule of the Herrera case expressed above, the probabilities seem to be that the bill would be held not violative of the guarantee of equal protection.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

"SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

With the coming of this year's irrigation season, it is imperative that many irrigation districts undertake the construction of facilities for the storage and distribution of water. The existing statutory requirement that most works, to be paid for with the proceeds of the sale of bonds or a limited assessment, be let by bid for contracts has proved to be a serious obstacle in many instances to the timely and efficient construction of the works. This act would permit a district board, with the approval of the California Districts Securities Commission, to construct works without the necessity of letting the works to bids. In order that irrigation districts will be able to take advantage of the authorization granted by this act in time to construct works urgently needed for the coming irrigation season, it is essential that this act go into immediate effect."

On page 1, strike out line 1, and insert.

"SECTION 1. The State has a vital interest in the salmon resources of the Pacific Ocean both within and beyond the territorial limits of the State, in that a large number of such salmon spawn in its fresh water streams, migrate to the waters of the Pacific Ocean and, in response to their anadromous cycle, return to the fresh water streams to spawn.

Expansion of fishing for salmon by the use of nets in waters of the eastern Pacific Ocean, which has occurred in the past year, will result in a substantial depletion of salmon originating within the State because the salmon runs are intercepted before they separate to move in toward the rivers of their origin. Oregon, Washington and Canada, through their respective fisheries agencies, have likewise expressed a deep concern over this problem since portions of such salmon originate within their respective jurisdictions. Short of absolute prohibition, it appears to be presently impracticable to regulate salmon net fishing in such waters of the Pacific Ocean by any known scientific fisheries management techniques in order to insure adequate salmon escapement to the three Pacific Coast states and Canada, the reason being that salmon stocks and races are so commingled in such Pacific Ocean waters that they are indistinguishable as to origin until they enter the harbors, bays, straits and estuaries of the respective jurisdictions.

Canada, through its authorized officials, has proposed to prohibit its nationals from net fishing for salmon in Pacific Ocean waters provided the United States or the three Pacific Coast states apply such appropriate conservation measures to their respective citizens. Inasmuch as there is presently no congressional legislation prohibiting such fishing, and inasmuch as authorized officials of the State Department of the United States have expressed a desire to have the states act in this area, the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission has proposed and recommended appropriate legislation to the three Pacific Coast states to insure the survival of their valuable salmon resources.

SEC. 2. Section 870 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

870. It shall be unlawful for any person to take by the use of any type of net, any salmon within the waters of the Pacific Ocean over which the State has jurisdiction.

SEC. 3. Section 871 is added to said code, to read:

871 It shall be unlawful for any citizen of this State to take by the use of any type of net, any salmon within the international waters of the Pacific Ocean.

"International waters" means waters outside the territorial boundaries of any state, territory, or country.

A "citizen of this State" means a person who maintains his usual place of abode within the State.

SEC. 4. Section 872 is added to said code, to read:

872. It is unlawful for any person to transport through the Pacific Ocean waters of the State or to have in his possession anywhere within the State, any salmon which were taken by any type of net within the international waters of the Pacific Ocean or within the territorial waters of this State or of another state, territory or country where fishing for salmon with nets is unlawful, and it is unlawful for any person to possess any salmon on board any vessel carrying any net within Pacific Ocean waters of this State. The provisions of this section do not apply to bait gill nets with meshes less than two inches in length or to hand dip nets, or to salmon taken lawfully under the authority of any other state, territory or country

SEC. 5. Section 873 is added to said code, to read:

873. The intent of Sections 870, 871, and 872 of this code is to give effect to the recommendations of the Pacific Marine Fisheries Commission in providing comparable regulations coastwide for salmon only. These sections shall become inoperative one year from their effective date, unless laws or regulations are in effect in Oregon, Washington and Canada which are determined by the director to be in substance or effect similar either to Sections 870 and 871 or to the provisions of Section 872 relating either to transportation or to possession. The director shall announce his determination within 30 days of receiving notification from the Secretary of State that copies of such laws or regulations have been received by the Secretary of State. Each year, on or before April 15, the director shall ascertain whether or not such laws or regulations are still in effect. If they are still in effect, Sections 870, 871, and 872 shall remain operative. If they are not in effect, these sections shall be inoperative from April 15 of the year in which such determination is made. The laws or regulations shall be considered to be in effect initially upon receipt by the Secretary of State of a certificate from each of the respective secretaries of state of Oregon and Washington and, on behalf of Canada, from the Department of State of the United States, setting forth copies of such laws or regulations and the date of the enactment.

In any prosecution under Sections 870, 871, and 872, proof of the existence of such laws and regulations may be made by filing copies of such certificates, certified by the director to be true copies, with the court. In any such prosecution, if written demand or proof of the existence of such laws or regulations is not made by the defendant prior to the commencement of trial, he shall be deemed to have waived his right to demands and thereafter such laws or regulations shall be presumed to be in existence and in effect.

SEC. 6. Section 874 is added to said code, to read:

874. None of the provisions of Sections 870, 871, and 872 shall be construed to make it unlawful to use nets for the taking of salmon for purposes of scientific investigation authorized by the State."

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 63

CHAPTER 204

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 63—Relative to directing the Law Revision Commission to prepare a revision of the Fish and Game Code and to make related studies and recommendations.

[Filed with Secretary of State, June 8, 1955]

WHEREAS, The Fish and Game Code is unique among the codes by reason of the fact under Article 1, Chapter 2, Division 1 thereof, the Fish and Game Commission is granted authority to issue regulations in derogation of provisions of said code; and

WHEREAS, The Fish and Game Commission has exercised this authority with the result that there are numerous provisions in the code superseded by subsequent regulations, and, in addition, there are ambiguities and other defects in the code, so that such code does not provide a clear and accurate statement of the law of fish and game; and

WHEREAS, The net result of these conditions is that it is extremely difficult for the citizen to apprise himself of the law of fish and game; and

WHEREAS, The California Law Revision Commission has been created by the Legislature for the purposes, among others, of examining the statutes of the State and judicial decisions for the purpose of discovering defects and anachronisms in the law and recommending needed reforms and of recommending, from time to time, such changes in the law as it deems necessary to eliminate antiquated and inequitable rules of law and to bring the law of this State into harmony with modern conditions; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, the Senate thereof concurring, That the California Law Revision Commission is directed to undertake a study of the Fish and Game Code and to prepare a proposed revision of such code, which would eliminate obsolete, superseded, ambiguous, anachronistic, and other defective provisions of such code, and to submit such proposed revision to the Legislature not later than the tenth legislative day of the 1957 General Session of the Legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That the California Law Revision Commission is directed to study the problem of how best to inform the public of the provisions of the Fish and Game Code and regulations of the Fish and Game Commission and is directed to report to the Legislature its recommendations on this matter at the same time as it submits its proposed revision of the Fish and Game Code; and be it further

Resolved, That the Fish and Game Commission and personnel of the Department of Fish and Game are directed to cooperate with the California Law Revision Commission in its efforts pursuant to this resolution, and the California Law Revision Commission is authorized, for the purposes of this resolution, to consult with persons interested in the law of fish and game.

Analysis of the Revised Fish and Game Code — Assembly Bill No. 616, 1957 Regular Session

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 7, 1957

Analysis of the Revised Fish and Game Code—Assembly Bill No. 616, 1957 Regular Session, as Amended in Assembly, March 7, 1957

This analysis of the revised Fish and Game Code shows the changes from the present law which would be effected thereby.

The revised code is based on the 1933 Fish and Game Code (Stats. 1933, Ch. 73, as amended). The revision was done by the California Law Revision Commission, pursuant to a 1955 concurrent resolution introduced by Mrs Pauline Davis which requested such a revision (Stats. 1955, Res. Ch. 204). The drafting was done by the Office of Legislative Counsel, pursuant to a contract with the Law Revision Commission under which all policy decisions were referred to the commission for its action thereon.

In preparing this analysis we compared the provisions of the bill as introduced with the text of the present law. Throughout the revised code the language of the present law is rearranged, frequently with no change in legal effect. Such instances are noted in the analysis by the expression "no substantive change," or where the section is identical by "no change."

In certain instances in the bill a provision is inserted which is implied, but not expressed, in the present law. In such instances we have indicated that we think the bill does not add a new provision but simply rounds out the expression of the present law.

The analysis proceeds section by section as the provisions appear in the bill. The first number given is the number of the section in the bill. Following that, and enclosed in parentheses, is an indication of the source of the provision in the present Fish and Game Code.

Several general matters concerning the reivsion should be noted:

(1) As a matter of arrangement, commercial fishing provisions relating to licensing and taking have been separated out and are treated together, commencing at Section 7600 and following, of the revised code.

(2) The general regulatory powers of the commission with respect to the taking of fish and game—other than for commercial purposes—are set forth at Sections 200-250 of the revised code. Specific provisions are included to cover such problems as adequate availability of commission regulations (Sec. 216), the superseding effect of commission regulations (Sec. 219), and the continuance of commission regulations as law if the general regulatory powers are terminated (Sec. 250).

(3) Insofar as the division of responsibility between the Fish and Game Commission and the Department of Fish and Game is concerned, no notation of substantive change is made in the event that the revised code merely reflects the existing law set forth in Sections 13, 13 1, 13 2 and 13 3 of the Fish and Game Code. A specific mention of substantive change is contained, however, where a shift from "commission" to "department" is made which appears to modify existing law.

(4) All penalty provisions have been arranged together at Section 12000 and following of the revised code

(5) Many sections of the present Fish and Game Code, which apparently set seasons and limits for sport fishing, have been repealed because they have been superseded by commission regulations.

(6) The general term "fish and game" has been replaced by "birds, mammals, fish and amphibia" throughout to reflect the Legislature's construction of the general term. (See Sections 14, 15.4 and 16 3 of the Fish and Game Code.)

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT REPORT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Burton asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following Progress Report on the World Trade Center for Northern California be ordered printed in the Journal:

Progress Report, February, 1957, World Trade Center

THE SAN FRANCISCO BAY AREA COUNCIL, INC.
WORLD TRADE CENTER, FERRY BUILDING
SAN FRANCISCO 11, February 15, 1957

San Francisco World Trade Center Authority
Board of State Harbor Commissioners
Board of Governors, Bay Area Council

GENTLEMEN: This is a Progress Report Summarizing the Activities of the World Trade Center from May 23, 1956, to February 1, 1957. Although considerable progress has been made, much still remains to be done.

The continued cooperation and support of all organizations interested in world trade development are required if we are to secure a full measure of success.

Very truly yours,
FRANK E. MARSH, Executive Vice President and General Manager

PROGRESS OF THE WORLD TRADE CENTER FOR NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

May 23, 1956 - February 1, 1957

Major proof of regional unity in Northern California is the new $2,500.000 World Trade Center, a physical structure created to prove the axiom that trade is greater than any other single influence in building peace, prosperity, and friendly profitable relationships between nations.

The California Legislature, acting in 1946 to serve a request for greater interest in world trade, requested the California State Board of Harbor Commissioners to investigate the potential of a new World Trade Center. After two years of study and investigations, the proposed center project was introduced through a report to the Legislature. This led to establishment of the San Francisco World Trade Center Authority, an 11-member agency appointed by Governor Earl Warren, then head of California's State Government.

After several years of planning and development, the Authority and the Harbor Board were jointly responsible for the appropriation of $2,500,000 for the construction of the new World Trade Center for Northern California, a handsome, modern three-story structure located in the north wing of the historic Ferry Building.

The World Trade Center, through mutual agreement between the San Francisco World Trade Center Authority and the California State Board of Harbor Commissioners and with the approval of the State Department of Finance, took official action on March 30, 1956, designating the San Francisco Bay Area Council, Inc., nonprofit regional organization for the development of the nine Bay counties, to be the authorized management agency for the World Trade Center for a two-year period effective April 1, 1956, through March 31, 1958.

The World Trade Center is now moving forward in the second half of its first year of operations to a total occupancy level approximately 75 percent on or before March 1, 1957.

The center building, occupying three floors and 110,000 square feet of space in the remodeled north wing of the 60-year-old Ferry Building, has made substantial progress since its official opening on May 23, 1956.

The new $2,500,000 World Trade Center was officially dedicated at ceremonies attended by officials of the foreign, Federal and State Governments, members of the San Francisco Consular Corps and ranking heads of major agencies of the United States Government, including Mr. Samuel Waugh, President, Export-Import Bank, who brought an official message of greetings from President Dwight D. Eisenhower extending wishes for the success of the center. Governor Goodwin J. Knight of California also extended invitations to the embassies of foreign governments in Washington, D. C. He also appointed members of the San Francisco Consular Corps as Honorary Founders of the World Trade Center.

The center opening also marked the opening of a 12-day International Trade and Travel Exhibition, in which 19 foreign nations and forty commercial exhibitors displayed products available for export, as well as the scenic attractions of their homelands.

More than 107,000 visitors, including Governor and Mrs. Knight, attended the Center International Exhibition which gained world-wide attention through the circulation of an illustrated report to United States and foreign embassies in Washington, D. C., and in overseas nations; to American chambers of commerce, foreign and domestic trade associations and other international organizations.

An International Club projected for location in the World Trade Center is now in the process of organization, and will occupy approximately 16,000 square feet of space on the center's third floor. This area affords a panoramic view of San Francisco Bay with specially designed picture windows that will provide a mural for club members and visitors from the main dining room. Club plans also call for a series of smaller luncheon conference rooms and other facilities catering to world traders and selected invitational groups.

World Trade Center—current status: The World Trade Center family of world traders is growing rapidly as an increasing inflow of prospective office and exhibitor tenants direct their inquires to the center offices.

Center occupancy, by policy of the World Trade Center Authority, is now restricted to those firms and individuals engaged in international commerce and related activities, although several tenants from State Government and other fields were originally assigned a limited portion of the building on a temporary basis.

Four foreign nations are now represented in the center directory—Denmark, Belgium, the Dominican Republic, and Italy, the latter through the Italian-American Chamber of Commerce of the Pacific Coast, which has been revitalized under the leadership of prominent organizations in the Italian-American trade and affairs. Numerous other foreign governments have been negotiating for space for offices and exhibits, pending termination of their leases and required official authorization from their home governments.

An increasing number of export-import firms are locating offices and exhibits in the center and a roster of present tenants and those being reserved will indicate the scope of international commerce covered by the center's present occupants.

The present tenants and those who have firm reservations include:

The World Trade Center Reference Library and reading room occupies approximately 4,000 square feet of space on the third floor and is rapidly expanding its shelves of world directories on manufacturers, export-import firms, and listings of products available for sale and purchase in United States and overseas markets. More than 250 American and foreign trade, maritime and commercial publications, magazines and newsletters are now available to trade analysts. Public and private reports and bulletins on international commerce are also being donated or collected for the reference library.

Other World Trade Center services include: The Bay Area Council, a non-profit regional planning and industrial development organization to serve the nine Bay counties; the Marine Exchange, which is an official source of information on shipping movements, sources of marine supplies and related interests; the Northern California Ports and Terminals Bureau, a non-profit organization for cargo traffic information and rate protection.

Through the center management, tenants may also arrange for:

Exhibits of their products, special receptions and conference meetings;

Translation and interpretation for interviews, correspondence, reports, etc.;

Telephone answering service and mail-handling services;

Foreign trade personnel and part-time employment services;

Counseling on foreign trade, American and foreign investments, overseas trade promotion, public relations, and export-import product publicity.

The center will soon have an international banking program in operation, and application is pending for a branch of the Foreign Trade Zone No. 3 which permits importers to store, process and exhibit inbound products duty-free until withdrawn for sale.

In summary: The World Trade Center has progressed in the first eight months of its operation from an uncompleted construction status to a finished structure with approximately 75 percent of its total office and exhibit space now occupied or pending final lease agreement on or before March 1, 1957.

The new World Trade Center focuses attention on a potential of California and the West's expanding economy that is not as well known as it should be. World trade represents that margin of production which can mean the difference between success or failure, profit or loss, in an annual budget balance of the farms and factories of many sections of the Nation, and especially in California.

Estimated total annual value of world trade in California is more than $1,500,000,000, practically equal to the total biennial budget required to operate California's State Government. This income represents the movement of more than 12,000 ships annually through the harbors of California, with cargoes that provide employment directly or indirectly for approximately one out of every three nonfarm workers in the metropolitan harbor areas of California. Farm workers benefit greatly, too, since upwards of 10 percent of many California farm products move largely to world markets.

Thus the World Trade Center serves as a clearinghouse for buyers and sellers in world trade who come to the ports within the Golden Gate to work out their two-way commercial projects and inspect each others' products and commodities available for sale in overseas and United States markets.

World traders are saving time and money by taking advantage of the varied world-wide commercial services available in the center, including freight forwarding, customs brokerage, documentation, overseas cable and wireless, translation and interpretation, etc.

These negotiations can be carried on in offices and exhibits, or in conference rooms adjoining the International Club area where the spectacular bay view and hospitable atmosphere are conducive to increased goodwill in establishing world-wide business relationships.

Summing it up, the World Trade Center for Northern California is the first project of its scope in the Pacific area, and the progress it has registered to date is evidence of its ultimate benefit to the people of the San Francisco Bay area, California and the entire slope of the Western United States which it is designed to serve.

It is in this spirit that the sponsors of the World Trade Center invite the support and cooperation of the peoples and governments of all foreign countries to foster a program that ensures peace and prosperity in a world of free nations.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT STATEMENT OF PROTEST IN JOURNAL

Mr. Levering asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that he be permitted to file the following Statement of Protest by Mr. Lanterman and himself, that it be printed in the Journal; and that he be granted sufficient time to file a Minority Report.

STATEMENT OF PROTEST BY FRANK LANTERMAN AND HAROLD K. LEVERING, MEMBERS OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON THE PLACEMENT OF INSURANCE BY THE STATE — ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND INSURANCE

We have refused to sign the report submitted to us by the Democrat chairman of this subcommitte for the reason that it is a political document, prepared for political purposes, without any regard for a fair appraisal of the facts produced at public hearings conducted by the subcommittee.

The draft of the report submitted to us contains material that has been doctored, edited and taken out of context in an effort to show that insurance has been placed improperly by the present administration. The fact is that no testimony was presented to show that the manner in which insurance has been placed by the present administration is in any way illegal or contrary to customary business procedure.

The report as drafted minimizes—in fact practically ignores—evidence presented to the subcommittee showing bald-faced political handling of insurance by the Department of Finance of the Olson Administration, headed by Phil Gibson and George Killion.

Furthermore, it purposely overlooks the fact that insurance practices of the present administration are identical with those of the Warren Administration and, in fact, a great many of the brokers who handled insurance under the Warren Administration were, at the time of the investigation, still handling the placement of insurance under the present administration.

The action of the chairman in drafting his political document is an abuse of legislative privilege and what amounts to a misuse of state funds for political purposes. In conducting his one-man wrecking crew, the chairman has very carefully eliminated any derogatory references to his own political friends. Excerpts from the transcript cited in the report are confined almost entirely to the chairman's own statements, while the remarks of other members of the subcommittee are ignored.

For these, and other similar reasons, we will not be parties to a report which is a prejudiced report and one not in keeping with the high traditions of the California Legislature.

There was not the slightest evidence of any violation of law or of any improper expenditure of state funds by the present administration.

The testimony given to the committee by no means supports the charge that the insurance program carried on by the Department of Finance had been "loose and inefficient." Actually it is our opinion that the Department of Finance has done a good job in obtaining insurance at a low cost to the State and has exercised sound business judgment.

The evidence did not support the charge that most brokers who received commissions on state business performed no services whatsoever. On the contrary, there was evidence that a number of brokers had given valuable assistance to the State in its insurance procurement program.

In one noteworthy incident presented to the subcommittee, it was brought out that a suggestion made by a broker resulted in savings of many thousands of dollars to the State. There have been many other similar money-saving suggestions received by the State from brokers.

The draft of the report is utterly unfair in its treatment of the issue of political favoritism in respect to designation of brokers to receive commissions on state business. By citing only portions of the testimony out of context it gives the impression that only during the administration of Governor Knight has it been the practice to designate members of the Legislature or public officials who were licensed insurance brokers to receive commissions on state insurance business. Actually there was abundant evidence presented to the committee that this practice had been in effect for many, many years and that previous administrations had established this precedent. We are attaching copies of correspondence with Mr. George Killion, Director of Finance under Governor Olson, as examples of the kind of political favoritism practiced under the Olson Administration.

We are convinced that there is a conflict of interests when Members of the Legislature and other public officials are selected as brokers and receive commissions on state insurance business. We note with approval that Director of Finance Peirce has voluntarily discontinued the practice of designating Legislators and other public officials as brokers for state business. We will give our active support to legislation which will prohibit such conflicts of interest not only in the insurance field but in all business and professional relationships where income or profit is involved in dealings with the State Government.

Several references are made to a recommendation that the State's insurance should be procured under "open bid purchasing procedures." The report indicates a lack of understanding as to how insurance business operates. Insurance cannot be purchased through competitive bids such as apply to buying supplies or equipment. There are more than 36,000 insurance agents and brokers in this State. It is not possible for the State to solicit all of them for its business.

We do not concur with the statement that the evidence submitted indicated a need for greater centralization in respect to handling the State's insurance business. Three major items of insurance are handled separately from the Department of Finance: (1) insurance procured by the Department of Public Works for the California Toll Bridge Authority; (2) workmen's compensation insurance, and (3) insurance procured by the Department of Veterans Affairs in connection with the Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Program. (A minor instance of independence in respect to insurance by the Treasurer's Office was cited, which is being corrected with the full cooperation of the present State Treasurer.) No evidence whatever was shown that any of the above enumerated programs has not been handled in a thoroughly business-like and satisfactory manner. In our opinion centralization merely for the sake of centralization gives no guarantee of improvements, but can increase bureaucracy and the cost of government.

We question seriously that there is sufficient evidence of inadequate staffing of the Insurance Adviser's Office to justify adding to the administrative expenses of the State

The draft report seems to lose sight of the fact that the State has always been largely on a self-insurance basis. Fire insurance is carried only in a few special situations such as the San Francisco Harbor. The other coverages are for automobile liability, a few comprehensive liability policies, official bonds, and the bridge and veterans home coverage mentioned above.

We think that it would be well for the State to have a comprehensive survey made of its insurance program by an outside firm or agency which would be thoroughly competent and completely unbiased. Such a survey would indicate the extent to which the State has had proper coverage at proper costs, and would point out any possible improvements that could be made under sound insurance practices.

It is our intention to file a complete and documented minority report based on the contents of the actual transcript.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT REPORT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Nielsen asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent that the following Report of the Committee on Military Affairs be ordered printed in the Journal, in 10-point type:

REPORT OF ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON MILITARY AFFAIRS

MR. SPEAKER: The Assembly Interim Committee on Military Affairs constituted under authorization set forth in House Resolution No. 188 of the 1955 Regular Legislative Session herewith, submits its report.

Many subjects relating to the military and to veterans were presented to the committee. Primary consideration, however, was given to a study of the California Farm and Home Purchase Act. Assembly Bill No. 3531, advocating an increase in the amount of loans, was referred to this committee for interim study. In addition, the committee received many resolutions from veterans' organizations, advocating increasing the loans to a realistic level. Upon authorization of the committee the chairman requested the State Department of Veterans Affairs to make a survey of Cal-Vet Loans and the $8,500 maximum loan in relation to the opportunity of California veterans to acquire new homes under current conditions in the real estate market.

The Cal-Vet Loan Survey was compiled and received by the committee It disclosed a wide difference between real estate prices and the allowable amount of the state loan. The program of acquiring homes for veterans had been curtailed to the extent of refinancing operations principally rather than the purchase of new homes. That is, after a veteran had reduced a loan which he made through a bank, GI or FHA to $8,500, the State would then take over the loan

The committee discussed the Cal-Vet Survey and the entire subject in detail with Mr. Marvin J Russell, Director of the Department of Veterans Affairs. It was apparent that the average California veteran was priced out of the medium-cost new home market. Although the average veteran applicant had sufficient income to make the payments on a home required for his family, he did not have the cash necessary to bridge the gap between the Cal-Vet Loan of $8,500 and the cost of the medium-priced home on today's market. Further, the survey showed that a great number of veterans had two to five dependents and needed a three-bedroom home or larger, costing on today's real estate market from $12,000 to $16,000 or more.

The evidence was quite clear that the existing maximum loan of $8,500 made it impossible for California veterans to take advantage of California's splendid Farm and Home Purchase Program which has been operating with such signal success and benefit to California veterans since World War I. Therefore, the members of this committee and 27 other Assemblymen, introduced Assembly Bill No. 2 in the 1956 Budget Session, increasing the maximum amount of the loan for the purchase of a home from $8,500 to $15,000 and increasing the maximum amount of the loan for the purchase of a farm from $17,500 to $40,000. The bill was adopted and signed by the Governor. In order to finance the increase in these loans, a $500,000,000 bond issue was sponsored by the Senate and submitted to the people at the General Election on November 6, 1956, and was approved by them. The adoption of these proposals provided a vastly expanded Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Program for California veterans. (Copies of transcript of hearing and Cal-Vet survey are available from the committee chairman.)

Consideration was given by the committee to a request of the California Federation of Women's Clubs that improvements and additions be made to the "Hostess House" at the California Veterans Home in Napa County. It was brought to the committee's attention that some years ago the California Federation of Women's Clubs raised the sum of $43,000 towards the construction of this guest house. There are no housing facilities near the Veterans Home and such housing is necessary for wives and relatives of veterans who desire to visit them. Similar facilities are provided in a number of federal veterans' hospitals.

Rather than request an appropriation for this specific improvement at the California Veterans Home, the committee suggested to Col. Stanley F. Dunmire, Commandant of the California Veterans Home, and to Mr. Marvin J. Russell, Director of the Department of Veterans Affairs, that the necessary amount to make the additions and improvements to the "Hostess House" be included in the 1957 Budget for the support of the California Veterans Home. They were assured that this item in the budget would have the full support of this committee.

The committee endorsed a Senate resolution by Senator Farr, requesting the State Beaches and Parks Commission to consider extending facilities in a Northern California State Park and in a Southern California State Park to serve disabled veterans. These facilities to include ramps and other improvements necessary to serve veterans in wheel chairs.

A complaint was received by the committee that civil service examinations for drivers' license examiners made it difficult for veterans to qualify because of a four-year college education requirement. The chairman was requested to check with the State Personnel Board in regard thereto. The board advised that from their records the chances of veterans of obtaining employment in this classification appears that veterans are heavily favored. "In a list established July 29, 1954, containing 184 names, 133 of them were veterans. The first 44 on the list were all veterans and only 1 out of the 90 eligibles was not a veteran On the promotion eligible list established at the same time, 7 out of a total of 10 were veterans. The committee further decided that the subject was a civil service matter and should be referred to the Assembly Committee on Civil Service and State Personnel for its consideration.

House Resolution No 58, 1955 Regular Session, was referred to this committee for interim study. It suggested an investigation of the use of moneys by the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards for its investigation of boxing and wrestling in California. After considerable debate on the subject a subcommittee was appointed to conduct this investigation. However, the Legislative Counsel rendered an opinion to the chairman of this committee that there was nothing illegal in the use of the funds for this investigation and that the use of money in the Athletic Commission Fund for the purpose of investigation by the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards was entirely legal. (Copies of this opinion are available from the chairman of this committee.)

A number of other subjects of interest to veterans was presented to the committee but no specific action was taken thereon.

The committee feels the enactment of the committee's Assembly Bill No. 2 at the 1956 Budget Session increasing the loans under the California Veterans Farm and Home Purchase Act was the broadest liberalization of the Farm and Home Purchase Program since its inauguration back in 1923. This legislation assures more benefits to a greater number of veterans than ever before.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Nisbet:

House Resolution No. 115

Relating to coordination of the building and location of surface transportation facilities with the development and expansion of air transportation facilities

WHEREAS, The rapid growth of population in the State and the resulting expansion of areas of dense population have necessitated the construction of freeways, limited access highways, and grade separations and approaches necessary thereto; and

WHEREAS, The building of these freeways and highways in proximity to airports, unless carefully integrated with projected development and expansion of the airport and related activities, has the effect of containing and restricting growth of the air transportation facilities forever; and

WHEREAS, Failure to locate freeways and highways in such manner as to facilitate to the greatest extent possible rapid access to and from airports would be a major obstacle to the further development of air transportation; and

WHEREAS, Integration and coordination of air and surface transportation mediums is one of the most important problems in the field of transportation and commerce and its solution is vital to the public interest; and

WHEREAS, In the placement of freeways and highways, failure to take into account the necessity of furnishing rapid access to and from air facilities and avoiding interference with further development of those facilities can lead only to extensive and expensive readjustments in the foreseeable future; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly requests and urges the Division of Highways, the California Highway Commission, county boards of supervisors, and legislative bodies of cities, to coordinate the location and improvement of freeways and highways with the management of affected public and private airports, and in selecting locations and types of improvements, to give thorough consideration to the necessity of not preventing or impeding expansion of air transportation facilities or denying free access to and from those facilities; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Director of Public Works and the State Highway Engineer

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Transportation and Commerce.

"7712. Funds apportioned to a school district under Section 7713 of this chapter for a project, remaining unencumbered or unexpended one year from the date the application of the district for such apportionment was approved, shall not be encumbered or expended except as provided in this section.

The governing board of the district shall notify the board of its desire to encumber or expend such funds. The board shall immediately request the Department of Education to, and that department shall, review the project for which apportionment was made. If the Department of Education finds that the conditions existing at the time it approved the project for which the apportionment was made have so changed that the needs of the district are less than originally determined, it shall notify the board of its findings and of the respects in which the project should accordingly be modified. The board shall review the project and revise the project in such manner as it deems necessary subject to the provisions of Section 7724, and make such changes in the purposes for which the apportionment may be expended as it deems necessary. The cost of the project as revised by the board shall be computed in the manner prescribed by Section 7713 and the excess, if any, of the amount theretofore apportioned to the district over the computed cost of the revised project shall be deducted by the board from the apportionment made to the district. The board shall give notice of its action, in writing, to the State Controller, the governing board of the district, and the county auditor and the county treasurer having jurisdiction over the state school building fund of the district. If the amount of such excess, or any portion thereof, has not been paid to the district, such excess, or portion thereof, shall be made available for apportionment to other districts. If such excess, or portion thereof, has been paid to the district, it shall not be encumbered or expended by the district and shall become due and payable to the State of California. The governing board of the district and the county treasurer shall, at the time of the next county settlement following receipt of such notice from the board, pay such amount to the State Treasurer, out of the funds, and in the manner specified in Section 7745 of this code. Such payment shall, on order of the State Controller, be deposited in the State School Building Aid Fund in the State Treasury.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collection on behalf of the State.

This section does not authorize the board to increase any apportionment made to a school district.

SEC. 2. Section 7712.1 is added to said code, to read:

7712.1. Funds apportioned to a school district under Section 7713.1 of this chapter for a project, together with all available funds of the district applied to such project, shall be expended only for the purposes of this project.

The governing board of the district shall notify the board upon completion of the project and acceptance by the governing board. The State Controller, pursuant to Section 7745, shall determine the amount of money expended for the project. If the maximum amount that could have been allowed pursuant to Section 7713.1 for the project is greater than the amount expended for the project, the difference shall become due and payable to the State of California. The governing board of the district and the county treasurer shall pay such amount to the State Treasurer out of the funds and in the manner specified in Section 7745 of this code. Such payment shall on order of the State Controller be deposited in the State School Building Aid Fund in the State Treasury.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and the county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collections on behalf of the State.

SEC. 3. Section 7713 of said code is amended to read:

7713. Each school district which desires an apportionment for (a) the purchase of a school site, (b) the improvement of a school site, (c) the planning and reconstruction of a school building, and (d) the planning and alteration of a school building for a grade level maintained by it, shall submit through its governing board to the board an application therefor in such form and number of copies as the board shall prescribe. Each copy of the application shall be accompanied by a statement of the estimated cost of the project certified by an architect or structural engineer, and by layout plans showing the entire construction project for which the district desires an apportionment. [Before the board approves an application for a construction project and makes an apportionment pursuant to this chapter, it shall after consultation with the Division of Architecture establish standards for all new construction included therein. After such consultation the board shall establish current construction cost standards for such construction. Such standards shall not exceed typical comparable new construction by school districts in the same area not receiving or eligible for apportionment under this chapter, or if there has been no new construction by school districts in the area, the standards shall not exceed the reasonable current cost of similar construction in the area. The board shall determine such typical current costs or such reasonable current costs. In applying such standards the board shall take into account the size and type of the construction proposed and may make such deviations as in their judgment are justified. When a standard has been set by the board to cover any individual apportionment, no apportionment shall be made by the board in excess of such standards, unless the board shall find that in view of a rapid increase in building costs an adjustment is warranted.] Immediately upon receipt of an application in the prescribed form accompanied by the required estimate of cost, a copy thereof shall be transmitted by the board to the director and to the Director of Finance.

[A school district shall not let any contract for new construction included in an application for a construction project which has been approved by the board if the cost exceeds the construction cost standards fixed by the board under this section for such new construction.]

A school district may at any time amend or supplement its application.

Each construction project for which a district applies for an apportionment shall be applied for on a separate application and shall be considered separately by the board. If a district applies for more than one construction project, at the same time or at different times, the priority points of the district shall be recalculated after the approval of each separate construction project and before a subsequent construction project is approved.

The Allocation Board shall require such changes in the plans which an applicant school district submits with its application as the board determines is necessary or desirable to reduce the cost of the project. The board may also by rule provide for the vesting in the director or in the Director of Finance of the responsibility for requiring such changes, according to whether the subject matter of the change is subject to the jurisdiction or approval of the director or the Director of Finance, respectively.

The board may for such good cause as it shall determine, reduce the amount of, or modify any provisions relating to, any contribution required of a school district under the terms of an apportionment, other than any contribution required of such district under Section 7719 from the sale of bonds; provided, that the board may not, without the consent of the district, increase the amount of any district contribution under the terms of an apportionment, in the absence of mistake arising from any source, or misrepresentation, concealment, or omission, on the part of the district, intentional or otherwise. The provisions of this paragraph shall be applicable to apportionments heretofore or hereafter made.

The Director of Finance shall determine the school district's financial ability to meet all or a portion of the cost of the project and the amount which the school district can contribute toward the cost of the project out of its available funds, and shall submit his report thereon to the board.

The director shall as promptly as possible prepare a report and recommendation with respect to the application and refer the application, report, and recommendation to the Director of Finance, who shall, if he finds said documents to be in proper form and otherwise sufficient, refer them to the board. If the Director of Finance finds said documents to be lacking in any respect as to any matter which is subject to the jurisdiction or approval of the director or Department of Education, he shall refer them to the director who shall take such action as may be necessary. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this chapter approve or reject each application referred to it by the Director of Finance. If the board approves of the application, either in whole or in part, it shall, by a resolution adopted by it, apportion to the district from the State School Building Aid Fund the amount applied for, or such portion thereof as the board may deem appropriate; provided, that it may order that the apportionment or any part thereof shall be paid in progressive installments at such times and under such conditions as it may then prescribe. This shall be known as a conditional apportionment and shall become final only if the vote provided for in Section 7719 is favorable and if bonds are authorized and sold in the amounts prescribed by the board, and the proceeds of the bonds sold earmarked for the project as approved. The conditional apportionment shall remain effective for a period of nine months from the date of said resolution of the board, and if it does not become a final apportionment by that date, it shall become void and the money so apportioned shall become again available for apportionment pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 4. Section 7713.1 is added to said code, to read:

7713.1. Each school district which desires an apportionment for (a) the purchase of equipment, (b) the planning and construction of school buildings, or (c) the planning and construction of additions to school buildings for grade levels maintained by it, shall submit through its governing board to the board an application therefore in such form and number of copies as the board shall prescribe.

Each construction project for which a district applies for an apportionment shall be applied for on a separate application and shall be considered separately by the board, except that a single application, under this section, may contain a request for an apportionment for construction, site development, and equipment when all apply to a single project. If a district applies for more than one construction project, at the same time or at different times, the priority points of the district shall be recalculated after the approval of each separate construction project and before a subsequent construction project is approved.

Each copy of the application shall be accompanied by a preliminary floor plan in sufficient detail as to clearly indicate the dimensions of each room and number of square feet contained therein. All measurements shall be taken from the outside of exterior walls to the center line of interior walls Such plans shall be prepared by an architect or a structural engineer and shall be certified as a true and correct copy of the proposed construction project plan A school district shall prepare its application and plans after consultation with the Department of Education, and may at any time amend or supplement its application.

Before the board approves an application for a construction project, it shall, after a consultation with the Division of Architecture, establish standards for all new construction included therein. After such consultation, the board shall establish current construction cost standards for such construction. Such standards shall not exceed typical comparable new construction by school districts in the same area not receiving or eligible for apportionment under this chapter, or if there has been no new construction by school districts in the area, the standards shall not exceed the reasonable current cost of similar construction in the area. The board shall determine such typical current costs or such reasonable current costs. In applying such standards, the board shall take into account the size and type of the construction proposed and may make such deviations as in their judgment are justified. All such standards shall be reviewed by the board quarterly and adjustments made in accordance with current cost standards. Such standards shall consist of square foot costs for each type of construction which represents a differential in cost.

Before the board approves an application for an equipment project or an application for a construction project including equipment, it shall, after a consultation with the Department of Education, establish current equipment cost standards. Such standards shall not exceed typical comparable equipment purchased by school districts not receiving or eligible for an apportionment under this chapter. Such standards shall consist of equipment cost for each type of classroom or pupil station which represents a differential in cost. The standards shall be reviewed by the board quarterly and adjustments made in accordance with current cost standards. In applying such standards the board may make such deviation as in their judgment are justified.

Before the board approves an application for a site development project, or a construction project, including site development, it shall, after consultation with the Department of Education, establish current cost standards for site development. Such standards shall not exceed typical site development completed by comparable school districts not receiving or eligible for an apportionment under this chapter. Such standards shall include development for each type of work required and for each different type of teaching station which represents a differential of cost. The standards shall be reviewed by the board quarterly and adjustments made in accordance with current cost standards In applying such standards, the board may make such deviations as in their judgment are justified

Immediately upon receipt of an application in the prescribed form accompanied by the required floor plan, a copy thereof shall be transmitted by the board to the director and to the Director of Finance. The director shall as promptly as possible review the application and the accompanying plan. If he finds the plan unacceptable, the district shall be notified and be required to make such changes as are found necessary. If he finds the plans sufficient and satisfactory, he shall certify his approval to such plans and to the application and refer it, together with his report and recommendation, to the Director of Finance who shall review the documents. If the Director of Finance finds the said documents to be lacking in any respect as to any matter which is subject to the jurisdiction or approval of the director or Department of Education, he shall refer them to the director who shall take such action as may be necessary. If the Director of Finance finds the said documents to be in proper form and otherwise sufficient he shall refer them to the board. The board shall, subject to the provisions of this chapter, approve, in whole or in part, or reject such application referred to it by the Director of Finance.

As to any construction application approved by the board, in whole or in part, under this section, the maximum amount that may be apportioned shall be the sum of the products of the number of square feet in the construction project of each type or class of construction as may be determined by the board, and that has been approved by the board, and the cost per square foot for each established by the board in its standards adopted pursuant to this section. The total number of square feet in the application and plan shall not, with the area of other adequate school construction in the applicant district, exceed the areas prescribed in Section 7717 of this chapter.

As to any equipment application approved by the board, in whole or in part, under this section the maximum amount that may be apportioned shall be the sum of the products of the number of each type of classroom or pupil station and the cost for each established by the board in its standards adopted pursuant to this section.

As to any site development application approved by the board, in whole or in part, under this section, the maximum amount that may be apportioned shall be the sum of the products of the number of each type of work required or teacher station and the cost for each established by the board in its standards adopted pursuant to this section.

The Director of Finance shall investigate the school district's financial ability to meet all or a portion of the amount determined to be the maximum amount that may be apportioned, shall estimate the amount which the school district can contribute, and shall submit his report thereon to the board.

The board shall determine the amount the school district shall contribute but this amount shall not be less than the amount the district is required to conribute under Section 7719 of this chapter from the sale of bonds; provided, that the board may not, without consent of the district, increase the amount of any district contribution under the terms of the apportionment, in the absence of mistake arising from any source, or misrepresentation, concealment, or omission, on the part of the district intentional or otherwise.

The amount that the district shall contribute, as determined by the board, shall be subtracted from the maximum amount that may be apportioned and the remaining amount shall be apportioned to the district from the State School Building Aid Fund; provided, that the board may order that the apportionment or any part thereof shall be paid in progressive installments at such times and under such conditions as the board may prescribe by regulations.

This apportionment shall be known as a conditional apportionment and shall become final only if the vote provided for in Section 7719 is favorable and if bonds are authorized and sold in the amounts prescribed by the board, and the proceeds of the bonds sold earmarked for the project as approved. The conditional apportionment shall remain effective for a period of nine months from the date of the apportionment of the board and if it does not become a final apportionment by that date, it shall become void and the money so apportioned shall become again available for apportionment pursuant to this chapter.

SEC. 5. Section 7713.2 is added to said code, to read:

7713.2. Whenever an apportionment of the board under Section 7713.1 becomes final, the governing board of a school district may award a contract for the construction of the project. The contract awarded shall call for at least the number of square feet of construction that was shown in the plan upon which the apportionment was computed. The contract may call for the construction of space in addition to the square feet in the plan upon which the apportionment was based provided that the final plans and specifications for construction had been approved by the Department of Education and the Division of Architecture.

SEC. 6. Section 7745 of said code is amended to read.

7745. Whenever the State Controller determines that any money apportioned to a school district has been expended by such school district for purposes not authorized by this chapter, or exceeds the final cost of the project which is authorized by Section 7713 of this chapter to be paid therefrom, or that the school district has constructed less area than was represented in the plan for which an apportionment was made under Section 7713.1 of this chapter, the State Controller shall furnish written notice to the board, the governing board of the school district, the county superintendent of schools, the county auditor, and the county treasurer of the county whose county superintendent of schools has jurisdiction over the school district, directing the school district and the county treasurer to pay into the State Treasury, at the time of the next county settlement following receipt of such notice, the amount of such unauthorized expenditures, or the amount of such excess apportionment, or the amount of the apportionment made under Section 7713.1 to construct the area not constructed by the district, as the case may be. Upon receipt of such notice, such governing board shall, at the time specified herein, order the county treasurer to pay to the State Treasurer, out of any moneys in the county treasury available to the school district for that purpose, the amount set forth in such notice. Such amount shall, upon order of the State Controller, be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the State School Building Aid Fund, to be reapportioned by the board.

It shall be the duty of such governing body and the county treasurer to make the payments to the State Treasurer as provided in this section, and it shall be the duty of the State Controller to enforce such collection on behalf of the State."

30055 There shall be transferred to the General Fund in the State Treasury from the State School Building Construction Fund, on order of the Controller, such amount as the Controller, with the concurrence of the Director of Finance, estimates is the cost incurred by him during the current fiscal year in connection with the administration of this division The amount transferred pursuant to this section is hereby appropriated for the support of the Office of the Controller and shall augment the current support appropriation for that office.

CHAPTER 5. TRANSFER OF FUNDS

SEC. 2. All acts and proceedings heretofore taken by or on behalf of any school district under any law, or under color of any law, for the authorization, issuance, sale, or exchange of bonds of any such school district for any public purpose, or to increase the tax limit on the rate of taxation otherwise permitted by law in such school district, are hereby confirmed, validated, and declared legally effective. The peace, health and safety of citizens of the State require the orderly and unhampered functioning of school districts, and such functioning depends upon the validity of acts, proceedings, and bonds of school districts, and it is therefore imperative and essential that such matters be validated so that during the period before this act would otherwise become effective:

(1) Citizens of the State can be afforded the services and facilities provided by school districts;

(2) Public works and construction by school districts can be commenced and continued without delay or restriction to provide services and facilities required for the public peace, health, and safety, and immediately needed to provide for an increased population;

O

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON FINANCE AND INSURANCE

Public Hearing Held on October 31, 1956, at Terminal Island, California

Chairman Munnell called the hearing to order at 10.30 a.m. Members present were:

Wm. A. Munnell, Chairman
Augustus F. Hawkins
Jesse M. Unruh.

Others present included Assemblyman Vincent Thomas, Senator Fred S Farr, Bernard Czesla, Deputy Legislative Counsel, and Marian Kober, Executive Secretary.

Chairman Munnell stated that the hearing was called for the primary purpose of receiving testimony on Assembly Bill No. 3809, 1955 Regular Session of the California Legislature, which was referred by the Assembly Rules Committee to this committee for interim investigation.

SENATOR FRED FARR spoke of the problems of fishermen in the Monterey area. There are about 300 fishermen who work on all types of vessels. They are denied unemployment benefits by the Department of Employment if they go out on a boat hunting for fish but are unable to find any They are paid on the basis of a percentage of the catch, and if their share is less than the weekly unemployment allowance, they are denied partial unemployment benefits.

Senator Farr added, "I think there is no industry that we know of in California where these people are denied the benefits of unemployment insurance when they are out searching for work The position is taken that they are employed, yet actually they are out searching for work." If a skipper does not take his boat out to hunt fish then the men are entitled to unemployment insurance. He requested that the Legislative Counsel review Assembly Bill No. 3809 to determine whether it is drafted properly to give the fishermen the unemployment insurance coverage they need.

MAURICE McCAFFREY of the Department of Employment said he did not come prepared to make a statement for the department as the problem is one for policy determination by the Legislature. He offered his services, however, if technical assistance were needed in the drafting of the bill.

Assemblyman Unruh asked whether there were any other workers who faced a situation comparable to the fishermen. He was especially interested in salesmen who work on a commission only basis. Mr. McCaffrey replied, "* * * nothing exactly parallels the fishing industry. They have their own peculiar problems and peculiar working relationships."

CHARLES SCULLY, General Counsel for the California State Federation of Labor, spoke on behalf of the State Federation and the fishermen's unions. The measure under consideration embodies language used by the Director of the Department of Employment in 1953 when he attempted to resolve the problem through regulation. It is, therefore, assumed the language is appropriate

The problem stems from litigation where a favorable ruling was received that fishermen are not independent contractors or self-employed individuals, but are actually engaged in employment within the framework of the Unemployment Insurance Act. The contention was then raised that fishermen were fully employed and the Appeals Board ruled they could not obtain partial unemployment benefits. The director then promulgated a regulation which contained substantially the language of the proposed measure, but the Appeals Board ruled the director was without authority to adopt a regulation in conflict with a previous decision of the Appeals Board.

There is no other comparable situation in the State; therefore, the measure was restricted narrowly to apply exclusively to the fishing industry. Because of the peculiar circumstances surrounding the situation, this legislation is necessary.

Assemblyman Unruh asked whether the word "employed" might not be substituted in place of the word "engaged" to limit the legislation to commercial fishermen and exclude sports fishermen. Chairman Munnell commented that the word "employed" was implied, but Mr. Scully agreed that the word "engaged" could be changed to "hired," the word "commercial" could be inserted in front of the word "fishermen" to clarify the situation, and in addition to Subsection 2, the words "in the act of catching or attempting to catch fish" could be used.

BEN MARGOLIS spoke in support of the legislation on behalf of the Fishermen's Union, Local 33, affiliated with the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. The proposed bill does not apply to the situation described by Senator Farr where a fisherman is on a boat at sea hunting fish but unable to locate any. The committee may want to consider legislation authorizing the payment of partial unemployment compensation in such cases. If, however, it is felt to be desirable to limit the initial effort to the first step, the proposed measure would effect a tremendous improvement.

He recommended amendment to assist in the determination of partial employment by using the language, "If normal, customary full-time hours are not determinable, and normal number of days during a week on which the work is performed is determinable, then work less than the normal number of days shall be one of the qualifications for meeting partial unemployment." Mr. Scully agreed to this change.

Mr. Margolis compared the situation of fishermen with that of workers unemployed because of a plant shut down. Normally, when such a worker returns to work, he is required to work a great deal of overtime and makes additional money. The Department of Employment ruled, however, that a fisherman's wages are contingent upon the catch, and that "he will make up in weeks that he does have catches for the lack of earnings in weeks that he does not have catches." Mr. Margolis concluded this was "standing logic on its head."

Assemblyman Thomas invited Mr. Margolis to discuss the terms of employment by fishermen. Mr. Margolis replied that normally the term of employment is for the full fishing season, but the rate of pay is a share of the catch. Nevertheless, a fisherman is considered unemployed unless the boat is actually at sea hunting fish. When the boat is tied up at the dock the fisherman can collect his unemployment insurance benefits. There is a further problem of interpretation of whether or not a fisherman is actually engaged in fishing when he is on board the boat but not catching fish

The situation was compared to that of a real estate salesman hunting a prospective customer. Mr. Margolis pointed out that the fisherman was subject to the whims of nature and could do nothing to induce the fish to appear in the vicinity. A salesman, however, can advertise or otherwise aggressively seek his customer.

Mr. Scully, at the request of the chairman, gave his views on the remarks made by Mr. Margolis. He read Section 1252 of the Unemployment Insurance Code which provides that an individual is unemployed "in any week during which he performs no services and with respect to which no wages are payable to him." It was Mr. Scully's interpretation that this provision had nothing to do with whether a worker was on or off a boat. If he received no remuneration whatsoever, his claim would be for total unemployment compensation rather than partial benefits. Partial unemployment is founded on the concept that there is no termination of the employer-employee relationship, that the employee earned less than his weekly benefit allowance, and that he worked less than his regular work week.

MASON CASE, Manager of the Fishermen's Cooperative Association, stated his organization consists of boat owners who are normally the employers of the fishermen. He spoke in support of the legislation particularly because the inadequate unemployment coverage made it more difficult to obtain crews. Assemblyman Thomas also discussed with Mr. Case the peculiar nature of the industry. Normally a man is engaged for either the tuna or sardine season or both yet receives no compensation unless fish are actually caught. The proposed bill would help, but Mr. Case stated, "I, personally, do not see how it will entirely rectify the situation."

HERBERT C. DAVIS, representing the California Fish Canners Association, expressed his interest in the problems of both fishermen and boat owners for the catch provides the fish canners with their necessary raw material. He cautioned, however, that the committee be "fully cognizant of the fact that they must create a very special and circumscribed classification for these people to fit into so that the entire structure of unemployment insurance and its reserve is not disturbed actuarially * * *"

Mr. Davis added, "We do believe that the man who is on a fishing vessel subject to the whims of nature is so located that if he fails to catch any fish he cannot get off his boat and go someplace else and earn a day's pay; he is frozen to his chosen profession, and unless he has the same security that provides that he can get some relief * * * to compensate him for the days that he doesn't catch any fish, then we are not going to be able to keep these people in the industry and keep them employed * * * . If we don't have the men on the vessels, we don't have the vessels going to sea, and if we don't have the vessels going to sea, we have no canning industry."

No one appeared in opposition to this legislation.

Assemblyman Hawkins made the motion which was seconded by Assemblyman Unruh and carried that the subject matter, together with the clarifying amendments, be submitted to the full committee with the recommendation that an appropriate measure be introduced in the 1957 Session of the State Legislature and be enacted into law. Chairman Munnell thereupon requested Mr. Czesla to draft the measure.

GRAHAM R. MITCHELL, Chairman of the California State Legislative Board, Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, asked consideration by the committee of an insurance problem. The Brotherhood's Relief and Compensation Fund, established in 1912, was intended to supplement the earnings of railroad employees who can be removed from service for periods ranging from thirty days to three years in disciplinary measures against conductors, engineers, or sometimes the entire crew of a train for infractions of company rules. The fund was intended to assist members in paying necessary day-to-day expenses such as rent, groceries, medical bills, etc.

CHARLES E. ELLIOTT, locomotive engineer, submitted a recommended amendment to Section 1040 of the California Insurance Code. This amendment was formulated after consultation with the Insurance Commissioner four years ago to permit a nonprofit, incorporated, mutual benefit association to operate on railroad properties without the benefit of solicitors or salesmen with no commissions paid. Such activities are deemed to be incidental to union activities. He explained there was no need for salesmen, solicitors or commissions as one member proposes another.

Mr. Elliott cited his personal experience as an example for the need for such a fund. He has been employed by railroads since 1917 and never had one demerit on his record until December 12, 1955, when he was operating a locomotive with a defective feed valve which prevented proper operation of the train brakes. As they approached a derail in a stop position, the fireman, under instructions from Mr. Elliott, applied the brakes at the proper distance but nothing happened, and by the time the second application of the brakes could be made the front wheels of the locomotive were on the ground. There was no damage to the train, to the railroad, or to the company as there was no delay in the delivery of the goods the train was carrying. After 50 minutes of work, the train was back on the track, but the company ruled that both the fireman and the engineer were responsible and Mr. Elliott was unemployed for five months and four days during which period the only work he could secure was that of pumping gas for two weeks.

WILLIAM E. HILL, a locomotive engineer, read the desired amendment, explained that the fund was in no way an insurance company, and asked that the amendment be adopted into law.

Chairman Munnell assured Messrs. Mitchell, Elliott, and Hill that the Legislative Counsel would be requested to draft a proper measure to be introduced in the 1957 Session of the State Legislature.

Chairman Munnell thanked all participants and particularly the Cannery Workers Union for their hospitality in providing coffee and refreshments, and he adjourned the hearing at 12.30 noon.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. CHAS. B. KOBER, Executive Secretary

DEAR MR LINCOLN: Pursuant to House Resolution No 200, 1955 General Session, I am transmitting to you and the members of the Assembly the Report on Youth Employment, with the request that it be printed as a separate document.

Our report makes the conclusion that the need for more employment opportunities for our young people is so great that encouragement should be given to all groups now attempting to find solutions. The subcommittee found no duplication of effort by these groups. It was the consensus of opinion that the virtual absence of work opportunities for young people below the age of sixteen makes the Rumford proposals necessary. The subcommittee, therefore, supports the passage of Assembly Bills Nos. 1826, 1825, and 1824.

GENTLEMEN: Mental hospitals throughout the Country have, in the last five years, made increasing use of the new tranquilizing drugs, especially chlorpromazine and reserpine, in their treatment programs. Because mental illness constitutes California's largest single health problem, the Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health felt that it should study the effect these drugs might have on the program of the California State Department of Mental Hygiene. This report presents the results of the study conducted by the Subcommittee on Drugs for the Mentally Ill.

The committee wishes to express its appreciation to the many persons, especially the hospital administrators and staffs, and administrative officers of departments of mental hygiene in this and other states, whose cooperation and assistance have been invaluable.

INTRODUCTION

In 1956, the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation submitted to the Legislature a report entitled "A Resume of California's Tax Structure, 1850-1955." That report traced the growth and productivity of the State's taxes, and pointed out that the existing tax structure is, for all practical purposes, one which was adopted to resolve the fiscal dilemma of the 1930's. The committee further noted that whether existing taxes will continue to produce sufficient revenues to meet the fiscal requirements of the State in the years immediately ahead remain to be seen.

Since submitting that report the committee has maintained a position of watchfulness with regard to tax productivity as related to state expenditures. It has been increasingly apparent to the committee members that tax productivity would be higher in 1956-57 than in any previous year and that the continued high level of economic activity in California and throughout the Nation would be reflected in continued high productivity on the part of the existing tax structure. This observation resulted in a conclusion by the committee that no tax problem of major magnitude could be anticipated for the General Fund and that the committee need not undertake an interim program of any consequence.

That these committee observations were correct appears now to be substantiated by the continued high production of the State's taxes and the projections contained in the Governor's Budget for 1957-58 as presented to the Legislature at the beginning of the 1957 General Session. In his budget message, the Governor stated:

> "I am pleased indeed to be able to submit to you another budget which can be financed within the existing revenue structure without increased tax rates or additional revenue measures."

Not only can the proposed budget be financed within existing revenues and balances on hand, but the Governor's budget message further points out that the budget for 1958-59 probably can also be financed without changes in our tax structure provided the General Fund expenditure program is not substantially increased:

> "If our economic situation continues at present trends and if there are no substantial additions to the State's expenditure program, there appears to be a good prospect of continuing for still another year beyond 1957-58 without the necessity for new revenue measures. A projection of General Fund income and outgo through the fiscal year 1957-58 as proposed by this budget and through the following year 1958-59, as shown in the following tabulation, indicates the narrow margin of approximately $25,000,000 by which revenues would fail to meet expenditure requirements after exhausting the carry-over surplus. New or additional taxes for the 1958-59 fiscal year could probably be avoided, either by drawing upon reserves or by making some adjustment in expenditures.

ESTIMATED FINANCIAL OPERATIONS OF THE STATE GENERAL FUND

(Projected through 1958-59, in millions of dollars)

	1956-57	1957-58	1958-59
Outgo:
State Operations	$343.7	$401.8	$452 3
Capital Outlay	86.0	112.5	51.3
Local Assistance	693.9	741.5	787.0
Total Outgo	$1,123.6	$1,255.8 *	$1,290.6
Income	$1,088.2	$1,171.3	$1,240.0
Surplus (—Deficiency) of Current Revenues	—35.4	—84.5	—50.6
Prior Year Surplus	145.7	110.3	25.8
Year End Surplus	110.3	25.8	—25.2

* Includes $14,000,000 reserved for medical care for recipients of public assistance

Because the State has no significant revenue problem for the coming year, the committee has limited its activities since the 1956 Session to an anlysis and hearing on those bills referred to it.

ACTION ON BILLS

On November 15, 1956, the committee held a hearing in Los Angeles to receive testimony on measures previously referred to it.

The following bills were on the agenda:

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 45, 1955 General Session, as amended.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 41, 1955 General Session, as amended.

Assembly Bill No. 2551, 1955 General Session, as amended.

Assembly Bill No. 3219, 1955 General Session.

Assembly Bill No. 3523, 1955 General Session, as amended.

Assembly Bill No. 6, 1956 Regular Session.

House Resolution No. 175, 1955 General Session.

House Resolution No. 247, 1955 General Session.

The first three measures were not taken up on request of the authors. Testimony was received on the remaining measures and the committee took action with respect to each item as is indicated in the following resume.

Assembly Bill No. 3219, 1955 General Session

Digest of Bill

This bill proposes to eliminate the federal excise tax on alcoholic beverages as a consideration in determining assessed value for property tax purposes.

Summary of Testimony

A proponent of the bill testified that distilled spirits bear such a high federal excise tax ($10 50 per proof gallon on distilled spirits) that the property tax is substantial and is a tax upon a tax This, it was contended, is unfair and therefore constitutes a legitimate reason why the Legislature should exempt from property taxation that portion of value of alcoholic beverages which is attributable to the federal excise tax.

Information presented to the committee from the Board of Equalization's staff indicates that an exemption of this type would result in a property tax loss to the local governments of approximately $750,000 a year. It was also pointed out that:

1. Problems would be created for assessors in that:
   a. The excise tax on distilled spirits is based upon proof and the assessor would have to ascertain proof as well as gallonage held by wholesalers as a basis for establishing value.
   b. There are differences in the federal tax as between sweet and dry wines, and between naturally carbonated and artificially carbonated wines.
   c. The assessor would probably have to resort to arbitrary methods as a practical means of determining values if this proposal should become law.
2. Additional work would probably be created for retailers in that they do not normally keep gallonage records, their stock being in bottle or case lots. Because of this they would have to maintain new records of gallonage and proof as a basis for assessment of stock.
3. There appears to be no desirable characteristics of this proposed exemption which are not common to other items of personal property which bear excise taxes.

Committee Action

The committee finds that property taxes are levied upon many items which bear heavy federal excise taxes and that alcoholic beverages should merit exemption no more than they. The committee recommends disapproval.

Assembly Bill No. 3523, 1955 General Session, as Amended in Assembly, May 21, 1955

Digest of Bill

This bill proposes an alternative personal property assessment date. Under existing law the assessment date is the first Monday in March. The bill would allow the taxpayer the option of reporting his personal property holdings as the average of inventories held at the end of each quarter during the past calendar or fiscal year.

Summary of Testimony

It was stated by proponents of this measure that the present assessment date is unfair to certain businesses because they have heavy inventories during that time of the year in which the assessment date falls, a condition which makes the personal property tax inequitable as between them and other businesses whose inventories are small at this time.

Committee Action

The committee recommends that this proposal be given further study at a later date, at which time a substantial body of information should be developed as to its equity and effect upon property tax administration.

Assembly Bill No. 6, 1956 Regular Session

Digest of Bill

This bill provides that the State will impose sales and use taxes of 4 percent with the "net collections" from the extra 1 percent to be distributed by the State to cities and counties. The distribution is to be made on the basis of the location of place of sale in the case of sales tax and the place of use in the case of use tax. Where the place of the sale or use is within the boundaries of an incorporated city, 85 percent of the net collections will go to the city and the remainder to the county in which the city is located. The county will receive 100 percent of the distribution if the sale or use is in its unincorporated territory.

Summary of Testimony

A proponent of the bill stated that the intent of this measure was to make uniform the exemptions and application of local sales taxes and thereby to remove administrative problems which now arise under the Bradley-Burns Law.

Committee Action

The committee recommends that this proposal be given further study as a basis for resolving problem areas arising in the administration of the existing law.

and
Assembly Bill No. 3284, 1955 General Session, as Amended in Assembly, April 15, 1955

Digest of Resolution

This resolution pertains to revenue sources of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District. Assembly Bill No. 3284 is made a part of the resolution and, in its present form, would exclude "trade fixtures" from the property tax base of the flood control district.

Summary of Testimony

The proponent of this measure stated that the measure would remove from taxation as real property those items classified as trade fixtures. This would include such things as machinery and equipment which is attached to a building by bolts or other means. It was further stated that at present those owners of such fixtures which are not attached to a building do not pay any taxes to the Los Angeles Flood Control District thereon because the property tax base of the district does not include personal property.

The Chief Engineer of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District testified before the committee that the exclusion of trade fixtures from the property tax base would result in an estimated annual revenue loss to the district of approximately $1 million. On this basis he stated that the district was opposed to the measure.

It was further pointed out that under existing court decisions, trade fixtures are taxable by other local jurisdictions as real property.

Committee Action

The committee recommends that this proposal be given further study to determine the effect upon local tax revenues if trade fixtures are classified as personal property.

House Resolution No. 247, 1955 General Session

Digest of Resolution

This house resolution pertains to the possibilities of compromising those instances in which individuals and organizations have become delinquent in sales and use taxes and the contributions for unemployment and disability compensation insurance.

Summary of Testimony

Information presented to the committee by representatives of the Department of Employment and the State Board of Equalization is summarized hereafter:

1. The current rate of delinquency is small, being less than 1 percent in both instances.
2. The amount of delinquency was as follows:
   Unemployment and disability compensation insurance contributions, August 31, 1956 ..... $4,995,936
   Sales and use tax, June 30, 1956 ..... $6,267,266
3. Significant portions of existing delinquencies are ultimately collected.
4. A firm or taxpayer (or employer) that has gone out of business while delinquent in his taxes or contributions may re-engage in business, but both departments require satisfactory arrangements for the liquidation of the previous delinquency.
5. Delinquencies are canceled only by a court process in which the Attorney General may stipulate a judgment, except for minor amounts which otherwise may be canceled under provisions of the Government Code.
6. Both agencies state that they make every effort to collect any and all delinquencies.
7. Both agencies indicate that no advantage would accrue to the State in collecting a delinquency if a compromise arrangement became law.
8. Both agencies state that the power to compromise would not aid collectability and, in fact, might have an adverse effect in that taxpayers might attempt to take advantage of the compromise process.

Committee Action

The committee has concluded that no particular benefit would derive from enactment of legislation providing for a compromise of delinquencies beyond that already available in the law and recommends that this measure be disapproved.

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 7, 1957

Hon. Frank Luckel
Assembly Chamber

Meetings of Local Legislative Bodies—No. 6629

DEAR MR. LUCKEL: You have asked us two questions in respect to Assembly Bill No. 227, which prohibits any member of the public from being required, as a condition to attendance at a meeting of a legislative body of a local agency, to register his name and other information, or fulfill any condition precedent to his attendance.

Question No. 1

Does Assembly Bill No. 227 apply to a chartered city?

Opinion and Analysis No. 1

In our opinion it does apply to a chartered city.

The bill on its face does not say whether it is to apply to chartered cities. Chartered cities are not subject to a general law of the State with respect to conduct of their municipal affairs unless the law deals with a matter of state-wide concern. We believe that protection of the right of the people to be admitted to the deliberations of their legislative bodies is a matter of state-wide concern, and this view is shared by the Attorney General Therefore, in our opinion Assembly Bill No. 227 would apply to all cities of the State including chartered cities. It may be noted that the Attorney General has expressed the opinion that even in the absence of a provision such as that contained in Assembly Bill No. 227 a resolution of a chartered city requiring citizens to give their names, ages, occupations, the groups they represent, the item on the agenda in which they are interested, and whether they are trying to influence the passage of, or defeat of, such legislation, is invalid as contrary to the public policy of the State and the laws requiring meetings of legislative bodies of public agencies to be open to the public (27 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 123).

Question No. 2

Is there anything in Assembly Bill No. 227 that would apply to witnesses or others appearing before a city council, who are asked to give their names, addresses, whom they represent and similar data?

Opinion and Analysis No. 2

We do not believe that the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 227 would excuse a witness or other person actively participating in the meeting from giving his name, address, and pertinent data when asked for such information The bill prohibits requiring information as a condition to attendance. We understand this to mean as a condition to his physical presence in order to hear and observe the deliberations of the body. Such data required from a witness or other active participant in the meeting would be a reasonable requirement for the orderly conduction of the meeting and would certainly appear useful if not necessary in preserving a record of what opinions were voiced at the meeting.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

Registration of Visitors Attending City Council Meetings—No. 1016

DEAR MR. LUCKEL: You have submitted a news clipping which reprints a letter to the editor expressing dissatisfaction with the policy of the San Diego City Council to require all visitors attending its conferences to register their names, addresses, organizations or groups they represent and the purpose of their visit.

You state that our previous opinion to you indicates that such restrictions were not allowable under the present law, and ask what action can now be taken.

In our previous opinion to you on this subject, we answered the question of whether a city council could limit attendance at "pre-meeting conferences" to persons interested in specific items. You will recall that our answer was that they could not so limit the attendance, that is, that in our opinion the meeting had to be open to the public.

The situation described in the news clipping, however, does not indicate that the public or any portion of the public is excluded from the meetings, but that everyone who desires to attend must register, giving their name, address, organization or group which they represent, and the purpose of their visit.

We believe that there is a valid distinction between excluding people from a meeting, and in imposing certain restrictions on the attendance. For instance, local fire and police regulations must be observed in all public assemblages, which may necessarily impose restrictions on the public attendance. It would therefore seem that the city council could impose reasonable restrictions on attendance at their meetings. When such restrictions were designed to exclude attendance rather than to serve some legitimate object, the restrictions would probably cease to be reasonable, and would be in violation of Chapter 9 (Secs. 54950-54958) of Part 1, Division 2, Title 5 of the Government Code.

Requiring people to register their name, address, affiliation and purpose, would seem to be a reasonable requirement designed to produce information which could be of use to the council, and which would not place any burden on the members of the public desiring to attend.

It is therefore our opinion that the policy of the city council to require visitors to their meetings to register their name, address, affiliation and purpose would not be in violation of Chapter 9 (Secs. 54950-54958) of Part 1, Division 2, Title 5, of the Government Code.

Very truly yours,

Bulletin 59—Investigation of Upper Feather River Basin Development

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, March 6, 1957

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: There is transmitted herewith Bulletin No. 59 of the Department of Water Resources, entitled "Investigation of Upper Feather River Basin Development, Interim Report on Engineering, Economic, and Financial Feasibility of Initial Units." This is a report of the investigation conducted as authorized by the Legislature in Item 223.1 of the Budget Act of 1956.

Bulletin No. 59 contains results of studies showing that the Frenchman Project, the Grizzly Valley Project, and the Indian Creek Recreation Project are engineeringly feasible and economically justified. Based upon the assumptions made in the report as to financing, policy for which has not been established by the Legislature, the projects would be financially feasible.

Recommendations are included, with certain qualifications, for the appropriation of funds to be expended on these projects to complete the acquisition of lands, easements, and rights of way, prepare construction plans and specifications, and relocate public utilities.

At a joint public hearing of the State Water Board and the Department of Water Resources, held in Quincy on February 14, 1957, interested individuals and agencies were invited to submit comments on this report. These comments are to be submitted in the 30-day period following the hearing. Following this period, the comments are to be bound and published as a separate appendix to the report.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director of Water Resources

"SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The present law limits the sum which may be loaned to a veteran for the construction of a home to thirteen thousand five hundred dollars ($13,500), while permitting a loan of up to fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) for purchase of a completed home This creates an inequitable situation for a veteran who desires to have a home built. In order to receive the benefits of a fifteen thousand dollar ($15,000) loan, he must finance its construction through another lending agency and, on completion, refinance through a state loan. Under the present lending conditions, this presents difficulties, involves additional costs, and tends to discourage veterans from constructing new homes. In addition, the veteran loses the advantage of the State's inspection service during the construction of the home. There is an urgent necessity for correcting this inequity."

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 8, 1957

To The Honorable Members of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN: As a result of appropriations made under Items 223.1 and 419.6 of the Budget Act of 1956, the Department of Water Resources has recently completed and submitted to you its Bulletin No. 59, "Investigation of Upper Feather River Basin Development, Interim Report on Engineering, Economic, and Financial Feasibility of Initial Units." This report presents the results of engineering, economic and financial studies of five local water development projects in the Upper Feather River Basin; namely, Grizzly Valley Reservoir and Frenchman Reservoir, which would be used for both irrigation and recreational purposes, and Antelope Valley Reservoir, Dixie Refuge Reservoir, and Abbey Bridge Reservoir, which have recreational development as their primary function.

The Department recommends that the Legislature establish definite policies for the financing and construction of such needed local water development projects for which there is determined to be a substantial amount of State interest.

Among the policy questions which must be resolved before action can be taken on the recommendentions of Bulletin 59, are.

1. To what extent is it a State responsibilty to finance and construct recreational and fish and wildlife facilities associated with water development, in which there is in fact a substantial degree of State interest?

2 Should the cost of such recreational and fish and wildlife facilities be non-reimbursable?

3. Should the State contribute the cost of lands, easements, rights-of-way and relocation of utilities on a non-reimbursable cost basis, for water development projects in which there is a substantial degree of State interest?

4. What agencies of the State, or what local agencies, should operate and maintain recreational and fish and wildlife facilities associated with water development?

In my message to the California Legislature of January 7, 1957, I pointed out that the Legislature will be called upon to formulate definite policy as to the source of funds for construction of recreational facilities associated with water development, such as those presented in Bulletin No. 59.

The Director of Water Resources and the staff of the Department of Water Resources, as well as other state departments, will be glad to consult with you and to provide needed information to assist you in arriving at sound policy decisions in these matters.

Cordially,

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 6, 1957

Hon. Jesse M. Unruh
Assembly Chamber

Appropriation Bills—No. 8301

DEAR MR. UNRUH: You have asked whether it is necessary that the Budget Bill be passed by both houses of the Legislature and sent to and approved by the Governor before other appropriation bills may be considered by either house without the recommendation of the Governor.

The answer to your question is in the affirmative, except as to appropriations for expenses of the Senate and Assembly.

Section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution provides, in part, that until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor, or appropriations for the salary, mileage, and expenses of the Senate and Assembly. The Budget Bill is not "finally enacted" until it has passed both houses and has been sent to the Governor and signed by him.

While it is not specifically required, the general practice in cases where the Governor does recommend emergency appropriation bills for passage prior to the Budget Bill is for the Governor to write a letter containing such a recommendation which is published in the Journals of the houses at the time the bill is acted upon.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By LAWRENCE G. ALLYN, Deputy

Letter of Transmittal
Report on Surplus State-owned Lands

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1957

Hon. Harold J. Powers
President of the Senate
Hon. L. H. Lincoln
Speaker of the Assembly

GENTLEMEN: Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 1573, Statutes of 1951, the Department of Finance submits herewith its report to the Legislature on surplus state-owned lands.

On September 24, 1956, the Department of Finance sent instructions to all land-holding state agencies under the subject "Annual Inventory and Report of Excessive State Lands." These instructions read in part as follows:

"This is to call to your attention Section 11011 of the Government Code, which requires all state agencies to submit to the Department of Finance an annual report on lands that are in excess of foreseeable needs.

"It is requested that each agency make a careful and thorough review of the state lands under its jurisdiction, and on or before October 30, 1956, inform this department of properties that are in excess of needs. A written statement should be submitted to this office, declaring that either:

"All land owned by the agency has been checked and the following found surplus:

or

"All land owned by the agency has been checked and none found surplus"

In response to the above, 11 parcels comprising approximately 6,100 acres have been submitted by various agencies as being surplus to their foreseeable needs These properties have an estimated value of $300,000 and are described in detail in the body of this report. It is recommended that legislation to sell, exchange, or otherwise dispose of these parcels be enacted at the 1957 Session. The Department of Finance has caused Senate Bill No 624 to be introduced for this purpose.

Since the beginning of the surplus property program established by Chapter 1573, the Department of Finance has sold approximately 1,320 acres of property under specific legislative authority and the property returned to the local tax rolls. The total revenue received by the State as a result of these sales has amounted to $611,000. Supplement "A" to this report describes in detail those properties disposed of during the period 1955-56.

Presently held as surplus by the Department of Finance but not yet sold are approximately 2,340 acres of land representing a total estimated value of approximately $975,000. The current status of these lands is shown in Supplement "B" of this report.

To date this department has relied essentially upon the voluntary submissions of the land-holding agencies themselves. The Department of Finance now plans to move more actively into a second phase of the surplus property program wherein a thorough analysis will be made of all proprietary holdings. Field investigations by our staff will be undertaken and all operating agencies will be asked to explain how apparently unused land fits into present and future planning. A report on the progress of this phase will be made in our next surplus property report.

Yours very truly,

JOHN M. PEIRCE, Director of Finance

Above transmitted report ordered referred to the Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

Assembly Resolution No. 120

Relating to congratulating Charles Albert Van Dusen of Escondido

WHEREAS, The Members of the Assembly have been advised that Charles Albert Van Dusen was granted the Musick Award of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences for his contributions to aviation in its pioneer days; and

WHEREAS, The accomplishments which have earned this coveted award and the acclaim of his associates are equally deserving of the admiration of all his fellow Californians; he was born in Wisconsin on October 17, 1887; he began working as a boy in the toolmaker's trade and first entered the field of aviation as a toolmaker with Glenn L. Martin in 1912; with that organization he progressed through the ranks by being promoted to foreman, chief tool engineer, production manager, factory manager, vice president in charge of manufacturing, and finally, vice president and general manager; from 1934 to 1942 he was first vice president of Consolidated Aircraft and served as president of Brewster Aeronautical in 1942 and 1943; since 1943 he has managed his own Van Dusen Engineering Company in Escondido; and

WHEREAS, His specific contributions to aeronautical science include development of the idea of carrying fuel in the wings and hull of aircraft and the means of preventing the corrosion of aluminum alloys used in the construction of planes; the progress of the aviation industry that is attributable to his genius for aircraft production defies estimation, but his rise to pre-eminence in an industry that has assumed pivotal importance in our economy and national defense is indicative of the fruitfulness of his foresight and capacity for organization; he is one of those notable men who envisioned the air age, labored to bring it into being, and in doing so earned the respect and acclaim of his associates and the gratitude of all acquainted with his accomplishments; and

WHEREAS, In a State which has contributed so much to the accomplishment of miracles in the air and in which the aviation industry has become one of the foremost enterprises, it is altogether appropriate that the recognition and honors accorded to him be proclaimed to the citizenry; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Members of the Assembly congratulate Charles Albert Van Dusen on his winning of the Musick Award, join the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences in honoring him, and wish him every success in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Charles Albert Van Dusen.

Resolution read, and ordered referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Messrs. Crawford, Schrade, Luckel, and Hegland:

Assembly Resolution No. 121

Relating to congratulating Isaac Machlin Laddon of San Diego

WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of the Members of the Assembly that the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences has bestowed the coveted Musick Award upon Isaac Machlin Laddon of San Diego; and

WHEREAS, That richly deserved award honors his contribution to water-based aviation in the days of its infancy and its receipt by him is an appropriate occasion on which to take note of the accomplishments of his many years of leadership in the aviation industry; he was born in Garfield, New Jersey, in 1894, and graduated from McGill University; he served as aeronautical engineer for the United States Army Air Corps from 1917 to 1927 and thereafter held that position with Consolidated Vultee until 1941; he later became vice president and general manager of General Dynamics Corporation and remains a director of that corporation; he now serves as president of the Langley Corporation, as a director of Rohr Aircraft Corporation, Hiller Helicopter, Inc, Menasco Manufacturing Company, Harbor Insurance Company, and the First National Bank of San Diego, and as chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of Convair; and

WHEREAS, While his genius as an aviation executive is evident, he has also displayed brilliance and foresight as a pioneer aviation designer; he has been instrumental in designing four of the widely known flying boats, he is an original fellow of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences and a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers; he is one of those remarkable leaders in the field of aviation who, in addition to envisioning the age of miracles in the air and conceiving the means to achieve them, has possessed and made full use of the executive ability and capacity for organization which has been required to bring the aviation industry to its pre-eminence in our economy and national defense; and

WHEREAS, His contribution to the progress of an industry which has assumed pivotal importance in the enterprises of this State is worthy of the appreciation of all Californians and the aviation genius which has earned recognition and acclaim from his associates is deserving of the admiration of all; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Members of the Assembly congratulate Isaac Machlin Laddon on his receipt of the Musick Award, express to him their admiration of his brilliant leadership in California's vast aviation industry, and wish him further successes in the future; and be it further

OPINION OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
STATE BUILDING, SAN FRANCISCO, March 8, 1957

Assemblyman Frank G. Bonelli
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Re: Crime Comic Book Legislation

DEAR ASSEMBLYMAN BONELLI. I want to thank you for forwarding this week a copy of the Legislative Counsel's Opinion No 4779 concluding Assembly Bill No. 64 "would probably be held constitutional." I have carefully reviewed it and the decision of the United States Supreme Court handed down February 25th in Butler v State of Michigan, striking down a broad Michigan obscenity statute enacted to prevent "the corruption of the morals of youth" but "not reasonably restricted to the evil with which it is said to deal" in that it proscribed even adults from getting material harmful to minors. Neither of those documents materially alters the conclusions expressed in my prior discussions with you.

Unfortunately, the Attorney General will not return from Washington until March 12th, and consequently is not available to express his comments on the constitutional aspects of Assembly Bill No. 64 prior to the March 11th hearing. However, in lieu of that you asked for an expression by me. I believe the bill is as explicit and specific a piece of legislation as has yet been proposed in any of the various states to meet the constitutional objection of vagueness raised against such legislation. I would conclude Assembly Bill No 64 probably overcomes that objection It certainly, for example, is far more explicit than the language of the Michigan statute in the recent Butler decision (aimed at material "containing * * * lewd or lascivious language or * * * pictures tending to incite minors to violent or depraved or immoral acts, manifestly tending to the corruption of the morals of youth") or that struck down by the Supreme Court as too vague in the leading case in this field, Winters v. New York, 333 U. S. 507, ("publications that * * * massed their collection of pictures and stories of bloodshed and of lust 'as to become vehicles for inciting violent and depraved crimes against the person,'" as the provision was construed by the New York court).

There is still need to keep in mind, however, the fact that an ordinance of the County of Los Angeles against crime comic books and with very similar wording to Assembly Bill No. 64 in defining the criminal activity which crime comic books are prohibited from depicting, was struck down by the Appellate Division of the Superior Court of Los Angeles County in December, 1949. Unfortunately, no appeal was taken from that decision. But since the result was that of a lower court and Assembly Bill No. 64 has had substantial refinements incorporated into it, I do not believe the Los Angeles County decision should be taken as final in the problem.

As to other constitutional objections, you will recall that in 1955 this office rendered an opinion to the Governor that the legislation on this problem raised doubts as to its constitutionality. Those have not been dispelled by the courts since then. But Assembly Bill No. 64 is now substantially more explicit than the former legislation and more sharply restricts its scope to meeting the evil of crime comic books made available to those under 18—an entirely proper legislative objective, it would seem, in a constitutional sense. I believe the amendments which I have previously suggested and which I understand you are adopting also substantially strengthen the bill constitutionally. But the ultimate question of whether the bill actually overcomes the various constitutional objections can most accurately be answered in the frank words of Los Angeles County Counsel Harold Kennedy in his letter to you dated September 27th: "No person can say that (the bill) would be sustained for the reason that no legislation of this type has ever been approved by the appellate courts."

In that connection, however, it should be noted that in the next few months there is likely to be considerable clarification as to the constitutional principles governing statutes aimed at printed materials with immoral content and thus also, at least indirectly, the related problem of crime comic book legislation. The Butler decision on February 25th was the first step in that process. The United States Supreme Court has also agreed to review this spring a case involving California's statute against obscene publications and a New York factual situation involving federal provisions controlling use of the United States mails. The Supreme Court of the State of Washington has under review a crime comic book statute enacted in that state in 1955; and similar laws in other states are now working their way up through the courts.

By way of summary here, I would conclude that there is still a cloud on the constitutionality of any crime comic book legislation which only the courts can resolve, but Assembly Bill No. 64, with specific limitations on its own scope, reaches an evil in the field of juvenile violence which the law enforcement and crime prevention activities in this office have found to be most serious and in need of correction.

Respectfully,

FREDERICK G. DUTTON, Assistant Attorney General

P.S. I am returning the Legislative Counsel's opinion and the summary of Butler v. Michigan by that office, as requested by you. I am also enclosing a copy of the full Supreme Court decision in the Butler proceeding. You will note that its text fails to contain a single sentence which indicates what the court's opinion would have been had the Michigan statute been limited only to distribution of immoral material to minors. The court must have been attempting to be most circumspect in that regard for the justices in recent years have mainly been far more generous in their dispensation of gratuitous dictum.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No. 1166:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1957

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

GENTLEMEN:

Assembly Bill No. 1166, "An act to maintain the Agricultural Code, by amending Sections 41, 668, 746.3, 872, 878, 880, 1300.7, 1300.24, and 4009 thereof, relating to the plant and animal industry and the products thereof and making an appropriation in connection therewith,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill

This bill was submitted by the Legislative Counsel as a codification of existing law to maintain the codes. The Legislative Counsel further advises that among its provisions there is an appropriation, but that no additional funds are made available for expenditure. In these circumstances, prompt consideration of this bill is desirable and no purpose would be served by withholding action upon it until after final passage of the Budget Bill.

I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 1166 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted.

GOODWIN J. KNIGHT, Governor

CONSIDERATION OF HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 120

By Messrs. Crawford, Luckel, Schrade, and Hegland:

House Resolution No. 120

Relating to congratulating Charles Albert Van Dusen of Escondido

WHEREAS, The Members of the Assembly have been advised that Charles Albert Van Dusen was granted the Musick Award of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences for his contributions to aviation in its pioneer days; and

WHEREAS, The accomplishments which have earned this coveted award and the acclaim of his associates are equally deserving of the admiration of all his fellow Californians; he was born in Wisconsin on October 17, 1887; he began working as a boy in the toolmaker's trade and first entered the field of aviation as a toolmaker with Glenn L. Martin in 1912; with that organization he progressed through the ranks by being promoted to foreman, chief tool engineer, production manager, factory manager, vice president in charge of manufacturing, and finally, vice president and general manager; from 1934 to 1942 he was first vice president of Consolidated Aircraft and served as president of Brewster Aeronautical in 1942 and 1943; since 1943 he has managed his own Van Dusen Engineering Company in Escondido; and

WHEREAS, His specific contributions to aeronautical science include development of the idea of carrying fuel in the wings and hull of aircraft and the means of preventing the corrosion of aluminum alloys used in the construction of planes; the progress of the aviation industry that is attributable to his genius for aircraft production defies estimation, but his rise to pre-eminence in an industry that has assumed pivotal importance in our economy and national defense is indicative of the fruitfulness of his foresight and capacity for organization; he is one of those notable men who envisioned the air age, labored to bring it into being, and in doing so earned the respect and acclaim of his associates and the gratitude of all acquainted with his accomplishments; and

WHEREAS, In a State which has contributed so much to the accomplishment of miracles in the air and in which the aviation industry has become one of the foremost enterprises, it is altogether appropriate that the recognition and honors accorded to him be proclaimed to the citizenry; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members of the Assembly congratulate Charles Albert Van Dusen on his winning of the Musick Award, join the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences in honoring him, and wish him every success in the future; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Charles Albert Van Dusen.

Resolution read, and adopted.

WHEREAS, It has come to the attention of the Members of the Assembly that the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences has bestowed the coveted Musick Award upon Isaac Machlin Laddon of San Diego; and

WHEREAS, That richly deserved award honors his contribution to water-based aviation in the days of its infancy and its receipt by him is an appropriate occasion on which to take note of the accomplishments of his many years of leadership in the aviation industry; he was born in Garfield, New Jersey, in 1894, and graduated from McGill University; he served as aeronautical engineer for the United States Army Air Corps from 1917 to 1927 and thereafter held that position with Consolidated Vultee until 1941; he later became vice president and general manager of General Dynamics Corporation and remains a director of that corporation; he now serves as president of the Langley Corporation, as a director of Rohr Aircraft Corporation, Hiller Helicopter, Inc., Menasco Manufacturing Company, Harbor Insurance Company, and the First National Bank of San Diego, and as chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of Convair; and

WHEREAS, While his genius as an aviation executive is evident, he has also displayed brilliance and foresight as a pioneer aviation designer; he has been instrumental in designing four of the widely known flying boats; he is an original fellow of the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences and a member of the Society of Automotive Engineers; he is one of those remarkable leaders in the field of aviation who, in addition to envisioning the age of miracles in the air and conceiving the means to achieve them, has possessed and made full use of the executive ability and capacity for organization which has been required to bring the aviation industry to its pre-eminence in our economy and national defense; and

WHEREAS, His contribution to the progress of an industry which has assumed pivotal importance in the enterprises of this State is worthy of the appreciation of all Californians and the aviation genius which has earned recognition and acclaim from his associates is deserving of the admiration of all; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Members of the Assembly congratulate Isaac Machlin Laddon on his receipt of the Musick Award, express to him their admiration of his brilliant leadership in California's vast aviation industry, and wish him further successes in the future; and be it further

Whenever a unified school district is formed to include territory which is a portion of the territory of an existing school district, the obligations of the existing school district must be divided between the districts affected in proportion to the assessed valuation of the territory included in the newly formed district and that remaining in the existing district. With respect to obligations of contracting school districts under the State Employees Retirement System for prior service benefits of employees, it is impossible to compute with exactness the obligation of any such contracting district since the liability is subject to adjustments from time to time as need requires by the Board of Administration of the system. In order to avoid the inequities which will result from any attempt to divide the obligation for prior service benefits, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."
