OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 14, 1959

Hon Jesse M. Unruh
Assembly Chamber

Assembly Bill No. 91—No. 8529

DEAR MR UNRUH:

Question

You ask whether Assembly Bill No 91 may be passed before the Budget Bill without a letter from the Governor.

Opinion

In our opinion the bill may be passed before the Budget Bill without a letter from the Governor.

Analysis

Article IV, Section 34 of the Constitution provides in part that "Until the Budget Bill has been finally enacted, neither house shall place upon final passage any other appropriation bill, except emergency bills recommended by the Governor, or appropriations for the salaries, mileage and expenses of the Senate and Assembly."

Whether or not Assembly Bill No. 91 can be passed before the Budget Bill without a letter from the Governor depends on whether or not the bill contains an appropriation.

The bill in question, in general, prohibits discrimination by employers, labor organizations, and employment agencies against any person because of his race, creed, color, national origin, or ancestry. It also provides for the establishment of a State Fair Employment Practice Commission to enforce the act and prescribes the terms of office, salaries, and functions of the members of the commission.

We find nothing in the bill that authorizes the expenditure of state funds or which purports to appropriate state funds. On the contrary, the appropriation for the support of the commission is contained in the Budget Bills (Item 135, Assembly Bill No. 800 and Senate Bill No 350). In view of this, it is our conclusion that the bill may be passed before the Budget Bill without a letter from the Governor.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDWARD K. PURCELL
Deputy Legislative Counsel

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. MacBride was granted unanimous consent that the following analysis of Assembly Bill No. 1170, with proposed amendments, be ordered printed in the Journal:

From Legislative Analyst to Thomas J. MacBride

ANALYSIS OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1170
(As Proposed to Be Amended February 19, 1959)

Tax: Insurance Tax

Effect on Revenue: Increase in Revenue to General Fund during 1958-59 of $55,600,000 and $5,000,000 during 1959-60

Analysis:

This analysis is based on the printed copy of Assembly Bill No. 1170, introduced February 4, 1959, after giving effect to the proposed author's amendments which are attached hereto.

The main purpose of the bill, which is a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution, and will go into effect immediately, is to advance the payment date of the tax from November 15th to June 15th. It makes no other substantive changes in the existing law except:

1. To place the tax on what is essentially a self-assessed basis.
2. To provide for assessment of deficiencies as to past periods currently, instead of only once each year.
3. To provide for interest on deficiencies and overpayments.

Procedure Under Existing Law

Under existing law ocean marine insurers, which pay only about one-tenth of 1 percent of the total tax, file annual reports with the Insurance Commissioner on May 1st. All other insurers file their reports on April 1st, including a "premium tax return" in duplicate. The Insurance Commissioner files a report with the Board of Equalization on or before July 1st showing the amount of tax payable by each insurer as computed by him, and includes with the report one copy of each "premium tax return."

On or before August 10th, the Board of Equalization assesses the tax and notifies each insurer of the amount. On or before September 10th any insurer dissatisfied with the assessment may apply to the board for correction and the Board of Equalization has until October 15th to make any changes in the assessments and to notify the insurers accordingly. On October 20th the Board of Equalization notifies the Controller of the amounts of all assessments against insurance companies, and if the taxes are not paid to the Controller by November 15th a 10 percent penalty attaches.

Currently about 28 percent of the tax is received in October of each year and the remaining 72 percent in November.

The only procedure for assessing and collecting any deficiencies as to past periods which may be disclosed by the Insurance Commissioner's periodical examinations of the records of the insurance companies, or otherwise, is to include them with the regular amounts assessed by the Board of Equalization on August 10th, which need not be paid until November 25th, and there is no provision for interest on deficiencies or overpayments such as is common to most other tax laws.

Procedure Under Assembly Bill No. 1170

Under Assembly Bill No. 1170, the insurers are required to file two copies of a tax return with the reports filed with the Insurance Commissioner on April 1st or May 1st, as the case may be, and to pay the tax indicated on the return to the Insurance Commissioner not later than June 15th in order to avoid a 10 percent penalty and interest at one-half of 1 percent per month or fraction thereof from June 15th to date of payment.

On July 1st the Insurance Commissioner forwards one copy of the tax return to the Board of Equalization together with recommendations for any changes in the reported tax and the Board of Equalization, on or before August 10th, after making the assessment, which it is required to do under Article XIII, Section 14¾(h) of the Constitution, notifies only those insurers whose assessments differ from the amounts on the returns, with a copy of the notice to the Insurance Commissioner and the Controller.

The insurer has the same right as at present to apply to the board on or before September 10th for correction of any assessment, including his own "self-assessment," and the board has until October 15th to change any assessment, at which time it must notify the insurer of the revised assessment, with a copy to the Insurance Commissioner and the Controller.

Assessments made by the board on August 10th or October 15th are payable to the Controller and bear interest at one-half of 1 percent per month or fraction thereof from June 15th to date of payment and if not paid by November 15th, a 10 percent penalty attaches.

If at any time the Insurance Commissioner should discover a deficiency which has not been assessed he shall notify the insurer and the board of the amount and the insurer has 30 days to protest to the board. The board within an additional 30 days must reassess the tax and notify the insurer and the Controller of the amount, and the insurer must pay the Controller within 30 days after receiving such notice in order to avoid a 10 percent penalty. All such assessments bear interest at one-half of 1 percent per month or fraction thereof from June 15th of the year in which the tax would have been payable if properly assessed to the date of payment.

The procedure for assessing deficiencies at any time is new, and conforms generally to the procedure for assessing such deficiencies under other tax laws.

Any overpayments disclosed in the course of the assessment process may be offset against any tax due on the next or succeeding due dates, and bear interest at 6 percent per annum from the date of overpayment to the date the credit is used but to not later than April 1st following the date of approval.

The allowance of interest on overpayments is new and is in accordance with the provisions in most other tax laws.

Administrative Costs

During 1958 there were 716 assessments against insurance companies which required some processing by each of three agencies, the Insurance Commissioner, the Board of Equalization and the Controller, including the mailing of approximately 750 notices to insurers by the Board of Equalization and the maintenance of collection records for 716 assessments by the Controller.

Under Assembly Bill No. 1170, the number of notices required per year will be reduced from approximately 750 to an estimated 160 since notices will be required only in cases where self-assessments have been changed or deficiencies discovered, and the record-keeping required by the Controller will be reduced accordingly.

These changes should result in some overall reduction in administrative cost.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Miller was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 16, 1959

Hon. Allen Miller,
Assembly Chamber

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49—No. 8576

DEAR MR. MILLER: You ask whether the phrase "one hundred twentieth calendar day of a general session" as used in Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49 requires Saturdays and Sundays to be counted as calendar days.

In our opinion the answer is yes.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 49 would add Rule 8.3 to the Joint Rules, prohibiting introduction of bills "after the one hundred twentieth calendar day of a general session" except on motion made after five days' notice of intention to do so, and after securing favorable recommendation of the Committee on Rules and a favorable vote of two-thirds of the elected members of the house of introduction.

A calendar day is generally defined as the space of time that elapses between two successive midnights (Booker v Chief Engineer (Mass.) 85 N E. (2d) 766,767). This would include Saturdays and Sundays.

It should be noted that under the Constitution the session must terminate at the end of the 120th calendar day, exclusive of Saturdays and Sundays. A rule prohibiting introduction of bills after that date would be without any practical effect, and rules of statutory construction prevent a construction which not only departs from the literal meaning of the words used, but also leads to absurd results.

We think it is clear, therefore, that under Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49 Saturdays and Sundays must be counted as calendar days.

The 120th calendar day, therefore, will fall on May 4, 1959, and if Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49 is adopted, commencing with May 5th no bill may be introduced without complying with the requirements of that resolution.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

Joint Report of Department of Natural Resources and University of California Pursuant to Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 84, 1957 Session

THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA
BERKELEY, February 11, 1959

To: HON. GLENN M. ANDERSON
President of the Senate
HON. RALPH M. BROWN
Speaker of the Assembly

We have the honor to present a joint report on studies and preliminary plans for basic research and field studies dealing with all phases of mining and the mineral industries prepared by the State Department of Natural Resources and the University of California, as required by Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 84 of the 1957 Regular Session.

California's annual mineral production has now reached the value of 1.6 billion dollars, a source of new wealth second only to agricultural products. Three quarters of this comes from the petroleum industry, which can benefit from the proposed research through the expansion of geological information, and the development and application of new geochemical methods such as those now used by the Russians for locating oil fields. Most of the readily accessible and obvious mineral deposits in the State have been discovered and are being used. However, great stores of mineral wealth still remain unexploited. If the new sources of mineral raw materials are to be located and developed, all modern methods of exploration and field studies must be employed. Detailed geological mapping of rock formations and mineral deposits, development and application of geophysical and geochemical methods, and fundamental studies of the origin of ore deposits can lead to the development of new and more efficient exploration tools. Improvement in mining and production methods through research in cheaper and more efficient drilling and extraction practices can increase yield of valuable mineral products. Research in beneficiation of ores, and in methods of concentrating and separating many types of nonmetallic raw materials can lead to the successful exploitation of deposits heretofore considered uneconomic.

Knowledge of the uses of minerals by industry in California, and of the specifications required by industry, is a fruitful field for research. Research in this field of mineral utilization can lead to the development of new markets and new industries, and to the increased use of mineral raw materials produced in California. It seems evident that through research, California's income from mineral production can be increased substantially.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARK KERR, President, University of California
DEWITT NELSON, Director, Department of Natural Resources

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Kilpatrick was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 11, 1959

Hon. Vernon Kilpatrick
Assembly Chamber

County of Origin—No. 8222

DEAR MR. KILPATRICK:

Question

You have asked if contracts between the State and water users for water exported from the area in which it originated would be subject to the so-called "county of origin" provision (Wat C, Sec. 10505).

Opinion and Analysis

The so-called "county of origin" provision relates to applications to appropriate water held by the Department of Water Resources and filed as being required "in the development and completion of the whole or any part of a general or co-ordinated plan looking toward the development, utilization, or conservation of the water resources of the State." The "county of origin" provision precludes the department from releasing from priority or assigning any such appropriation which, in its judgment, will deprive the county in which the appropriated water originates of any such water necessary for the development of the county (Wat. C., Sec. 10505).

The "county of origin" provision thus applies only to applications filed under Section 10500 of the Water Code, and unless the water to be appropriated is obtained by virtue of such inapplication, the provisions would be inapplicable.

Assuming that the water was obtained from an application filed under Section 10500 of the Water Code, the effect of the "county of origin" provision on the water user under a state contract would depend on the conditions under which the appropriation was assigned or released from priority.

By its terms the "county of origin" provision is applicable only with respect to assignment or release from priority of certain applications. Thus, if in the judgment of the department the assignment or release from priority of an appropriation would not deprive the county in which the water originates of the water necessary for development of the county, and the department makes an unconditional assignment or release of the appropriation for uses in other areas, those uses could provision. Under such circumstances, the "county of origin" provision would not affect contracts to deliver such water

On the other hand, if conditions were imposed on the assignment or release from priority, the uses under the assignment or release would be subject to change to the extent permitted by the conditions. Under such circumstances, the "county of origin" provision could affect contracts to deliver water.

It will be noted that the "county of origin" provision would not necessarily become a part of a contract to deliver water Rather, it might limit the water right on which the contract was based and, to the same extent, limit the water available to be disposed of by contract.

In this connection it should be noted that the so-called "watershed protection" provisions (Wat. C. 11460 et seq.) generally preclude any agency of the State in the construction and operation of the Central Valley Project (of which the Feather River Project is a unit) from depriving a watershed or area in which the water originates of the prior right to all water reasonably required to adequately supply the beneficial needs of the watershed or area.

As a limitation on the powers of these agencies, the "watershed protection" provisions would limit the power of any such agency to contract for the delivery of water.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By RAY H. WHITAKER, Deputy

The Honorable Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly

DEAR MR. BROWN: For the past year the Board of Corrections, pursuant to Section 6027 of the Penal Code, has again been giving the problem of the narcotic traffic careful study. This report presents facts hitherto not known concerning offenders in state custody. In addition the recommendations of the Committee on Narcotics, endorsed by the Board of Corrections, February 13, 1959, are included for your consideration.

It is recognized that interim committees of the Legislature have held numerous hearings and that this is a complex problem with diverse viewpoints The Board of Corrections objective has been to secure and analyze facts which are presented with some recommendations for your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,

RICHARD A. McGEE, Chairman, Board of Corrections

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON PROGRAM AND POLICIES OF THE STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION

Study Relating to the State Colleges
As Approved February 11, 1959

Background Statement:

The State Board of Education is the governing and policymaking body for the state colleges. Rapid growth of California has brought increased enrollments within the existing institutions and has led to the creation of new state colleges. As the state colleges have emerged as recognized educational institutions offering bachelor's and master's degrees in many fields, there has been the need for greater attention to be given to clarifying and strengthening the board's role as the operating legal agency.

State college presidents and faculty members have joined legislators, college advisory boards, the press, and the general public in expressing interest in having the board provide leadership and direction as a positive influence in the organization and direction of the state colleges. The board has responded by increasing its meetings to provide 11 during 1959, by holding the majority of its meetings on state college campuses, and by setting aside a major part of each meeting for a consideration of state college matters.

Accomplishments of the state colleges in recent years speak well of the efforts of the State Board of Education, and the Director of Education as its key officer, but at the same time there is a recognition by the board that further improvements must be made in the structure, particularly in light of the great growth and related problems in the years just ahead. The present report is intended to provide a constructive foundation upon which sound improvements in structure and in management may be based.

Organization of the Committee:

The State Board of Education at its meeting on May 9, 1957, established a working committee to review the responsibilities, policies, and program of the board. The committee consists of Board Members Mrs. Eva Noland, William Werner, and William N. Bucknam, chairman; Presidents Malcolm Love (San Diego State College) and Julian A. McPhee (California State Polytechnic College); and Associate Superintendent of Public Instruction J. Burton Vasche, secretary.

Purpose and Procedures of the Study:

After considerable discussion it was the consensus that the committee concentrate upon one segment of its responsibility, namely, that of the state colleges and after the first study is completed to consider studies embracing other segments of the educational structure.

The following statement summarizes the committee's position:

The committee is concerning itself first with the important problem of the role of the board as the governing and policy-making body for the state colleges, particularly as to how the board may strengthen and improve its work in the state college field, and its relationships with other agencies of State Government.

The committee considered how best to obtain reactions and recommendations from interested agencies and individuals as to how the board may best carry its responsibilities as a governing and policy-making body. The secretary was directed to prepare a tentative letter for review by the chairman, the letter to stress the organization and background of the committee, a statement of its responsibility and a request that suggestions and reactions be sent to the committee. The following paragraph presents the committee's request:

> "* * * Accordingly, the committee would appreciate receiving from you in the near future any suggestions or reactions which you and your staff associates feel should be considered by the board in its study. At a subsequent time, the committee will want to confer with you personally to review tentative recommendations growing out of the study which relate to your own field of interest"

It was decided that the following key officials should receive the letter: the Governor; State Controller; Director of Finance; State Architect; Legislative Analyst; Executive Officer, State Personnel Board; and state college presidents.

It was agreed that the committee would consider answers to the letters which are to go to the above enumerated governmental leaders and that it further would solicit, through letters and interviews, reports from representatives of state agencies, college administrators and faculty, public school officials, officials, officers of professional organizations, and other interested parties.

It was further suggested that the secretary bring together documents and materials bearing on state college organization and administration. The administrative adviser reported that he had available certain summaries of statutory powers of the State Board of Education and that these would be made available to the committee.

Chronology of Committee Work:

Important stages in the development of the work of the committee may be summarized as follows:

May 9, 1957—the State Board of Education established a working committee to review the responsibilities, policies, and program of the board.

October 4, 1957—work of the committee was directed to the review of a state board-state college relationship, and a tentative plan established for the conduct of the study.

November 20, 1957—a meeting of the full committee provided opportunity to formally establish the purposes of the study and to initiate a program for its implementation.

January 2, 1958—the committee met with the Director of Education and with all state college presidents for a full evening discussion of matters relating to state college administration.

July 23, 1958—the committee met with the State Director of Finance and his associates for discussion of fiscal relationships as they affect board responsibility and state college operations

August 8, 1958—the committee held an evening meeting with the State Personnel Board and the Executive Officer of the Personnel Board for a review of problems, relationships and procedures in the personnel field as they affect state college staff members

December 16, 1958—the committee met jointly with the state college faculty representatives and state college presidents in a review of those matters which college faculties feel are most significant in college organization and operation.

Areas of General Agreement:

Letters from key state officials and from discussions with both lay and state college personnel indicated agreement upon the following basic points:

1. Policy making should rest within the State Board of Education.
2. Consideration must be given as to the extent of autonomy necessary for successful administration of the individual college.
3. Policy making must rest within the State Board of Education and the State Department of Education rather than in another agency of government.
4. It is desirable to have the State Board of Education clarify and improve its role as a governing and policy-making body for the state colleges.
5. In addition to its function as a top policy-making board, the State Board of Education should serve as a sounding board of public opinion for the state colleges.
6. The board must give consideration to defining the role of the state colleges in higher education, the programs to be offered, the students to be admitted, and other basic policy matters.

Conclusions and Recommendations:

1. The board should establish broad policies and rules and regulations for the state colleges.
2. The board should delegate responsibilities for administrative responsibilities to appropriate administrative officers.
3. Duties of administrative offices should be clearly specified in writing.
4. Administrative officers should report regularly to the board on the status and progress of work in the colleges.
5. The board should maintain a published handbook on board policy.
6. On-going operating procedures within the colleges and from the colleges to the board should be clearly established and reviewed at frequent intervals, with revisions made as needed.
7. At the present time the board has no direct authority for state college fiscal matters and must depend on other state agencies for approval in this area, but the board should have full fiscal authority for the state colleges, subject only to review by the State Legislature.
8. At the present time the board has limited authority in state college personnel matters because many policies and administrative decisions in this area are granted to the State Personnel Board and to the Department of Finance; the State Board of Education should have full policymaking responsibility for state colleges, including administrative, classification, and salary-setting authority now exercised by the State Personnel Board and the Department of Finance.
9. The board should maintain a close working relationship with the State Legislature through a continuing program of information and recommended legislation.
10. The board should establish and maintain sound budget planning procedures for the state colleges, review the annual budget request, and transmit the budget request to the Legislature with recommendation for action.
11. Close co-operation should be maintained with all other state agencies, and with federal agencies in those areas where there are problems of mutual interest to the state colleges.
12. The board should continue to develop programs and procedures through which state college faculty members may have an opportunity to participate in planning and work projects of interest to the state colleges.
13. The board should emphasize the fundamental importance of instruction and related activities in the state colleges.
14. The board should establish its meeting schedules on a yearly basis, modifying this schedule only when emergencies demand such changes.
15. At each regularly scheduled meeting of the State Board of Education, a section of the meeting should be set aside for the consideration of state college matters.
16. Meetings of the State Board of Education should be held frequently on state college campuses in order to acquaint members with the work of the colleges and college faculty with the programs and services of the board.
17. Part of each board meeting should be devoted to the presentation of information relating to the colleges and discussion of matters of current concern to the colleges and to the board. Presidents of state colleges and faculty members should be encouraged to attend meetings of the State Board of Education when the board meets on the college campus. Plans of communication should be clearly established between the board and the college administration and faculty.
18. The agendas for board meetings and minutes of meetings, along with other reports to the board, should be available for faculty study, and filed on the campus in a central place.
19. The board should sponsor the publication of a regular bulletin on the state colleges which would have as its purpose the distribution to state college faculties of information relating to the programs and work of the state colleges.

20. Provisions should be made for a clearly established and well-understood appeal procedure within the colleges and from the colleges to the Director of Education and the State Board of Education

21. The board should develop an adequate staff within the Division of State Colleges and Teacher Education to conduct on-going studies in various areas of state college administration and instruction and to carry out the necessary details of the central office Members of the board should participate in professional meetings and professional groups both within California as well as nationally, and report back the results of such meetings and contacts to regular board meetings.

22. The board should maintain close working relationships with the Regents of the University of California and with governing boards of the several private colleges and universities within the State.

23. The board should establish and frequently evaluate the purposes of the state colleges.

24. The board should evaluate critically the admission requirements of the state colleges and direct on-going research in this significant area of responsibility

25. The board should encourage the further development of the junior colleges and relate junior college services to the programs of state colleges in those communities where both types of institutions exist.

26. Each state college should be encouraged to develop a long-term development program in educational offerings, in faculty increases, and in capital outlay construction.

27. The board should work with the Regents of the University of California and in co-operation with the regents recommend to the Legislature a program for the orderly expansion of higher education in California, particularly as it relates to the rapid growth of the decade ahead

28. The board should from time to time propose to the Legislature changes in law which will clarify and strengthen the board's leadership responsibilities and increase the effectiveness of the state colleges

29. The board should make provision for the development of an adequate salary and professional welfare program for state college personnel

30. The continuing program of public information should be sponsored by the board in order that the people of California may know of the program, work, and opportunities provided by the state colleges

31. The board should devote a major part of its time to a critical review of its operations, and make those improvements where reviews show changes are desirable.

EXPLANATION OF VOTES ON ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 341, 342, AND 344

Reference is made to Assembly Bills Nos. 341, 342, and 344 on third reading file this morning. The four members of the San Diego Delegation believe that the Assembly has the responsibility to determine which bills should be placed on the Governor's desk and deplore either the committee or the Assembly abrogating this responsibility by passing substantially similar bills.

The San Diego Delegation supports Assembly Bill No. 342 and opposes Assembly Bills Nos. 341 and 344.

GEORGE G. CRAWFORD
SHERIDAN N. HEGLAND

We voted "No" on Assembly Bill No. 341 because we object strongly to the procedure of asking the Assembly to pass a series of three inconsistent bills affecting the same code section on the improper argument that the Governor and the Senate can "choose between them."

We, nevertheless, favor the principle of granting arrested persons the right to make proper telephone calls and would have voted for a single bill to accomplish this purpose.

JOHN A. BUSTERUD

I voted "No" on Assembly Bill No. 341 providing for three telephone calls by arrested persons. I am in favor of the principle of telephone calls for arrested persons and voted for Assembly Bill No. 342 allowing one telephone call on which roll call the record was expunged. I also object strongly to the procedure of asking the Assembly to pass a series of inconsistent bills relying on the Senate and the Governor to make the correct ultimate decision.

Letter of Transmittal
Water Resources Bulletin 62—Recommended Water Well Construction and Sealing Standards—Mendocino County

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Assembly Bulletin No. 62 of the Department of Water Resources entitled "Recommended Water Well Construction and Sealing Standards, Mendocino County." This report has been prepared under authority of Section 231 of the Water Code. The investigation was conducted and report prepared by the Division of Resources Planning of the Department of Water Resources.

This report is the first of a series of reports designed to formulate and recommend areal standards of waterwell construction and sealing in order to adequately protect the waters of the State from quality impairment caused by improperly constructed, defective, or abandoned wells. The recommended standards presented are based on physical conditions and current well construction practices found in Mendocino County.

While there are at present no statewide laws in California setting forth standards for well construction and sealing, the Legislature recognized the need for such standards in the enactment of Chapter 1552, Statutes of 1949, by directing the Department of Water Resources to formulate minimum standards of well construction and procedures for the abandonment of wells. This report is designed to assist those who may undertake to formulate legislation or regulations for control of well construction and sealing practices in Mendocino County.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Encl.

Above transmitted report referred to the Committee on Water.

The following communications were presented by the Chief Clerk, and ordered printed in the Journal:

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 19, 1959

Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
Assembly, California Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge and thank you for your letter of February 6 enclosing copies of Assembly Joint Resolutions Nos. 2, 4 and 5.

For your information, I am attaching copies of two bills I have sponsored, one to amend the Federal Airport Act in order to extend the time for making grants under the provisions of that act; the other to extend the duration of the Federal Air Pollution Control Law.

As regards the admission of Hawaii into the Union as a state, all indications thus far from both houses lead me to feel very optimistic about the outcome of legislation on this issue which is now pending before the Congress. The house bill, H.R. 4221, has been reported out of the Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs and is now awaiting consideration by the Whole House. On the Senate side, hearings have been scheduled by the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee for February 25 and 26 on S. 50, the Hawaiian statehood bill introduced by Senator James E. Murray and sponsored by 53 other Senators. I am hopeful that we will have this legislation through the House and even through the Senate by the end of April.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN F. SHELLEY, Member of Congress

Above transmitted copies of bills referred to the Committee on Rules.

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
Assembly, California Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR ARTHUR Thank you for your letter of February 6th, and for the enclosed copies of Assembly Joint Resolutions Nos. 2, 4, and 5

Insofar as the smog issue is concerned, you may be interested to know that I introduced legislation on January 15, 1959, in the House of Representatives on this problem. One bill, H R 2409, would provide for fast tax write-offs of smog treatment works The other, H R 2347, is to extend for five years the Federal Air Pollution Control Act, which as you know authorizes appropriations of five million dollars per year to support and aid technical research to abate air pollution, to provide federal technical services and financial aid to states and local air pollution control agencies, and similar activities. Copies of these bills are enclosed for your information. Senator Kuchel has introduced similar measures.

Prospects for early consideration of legislation to grant statehood to Hawaii are encouraging. As you may know, the House Interior and Insular Affairs Committee began meeting on this matter early in the session, and reported a bill out on February 11th. A rule has been requested, and it is hoped that it will reach the floor at an early date. Be assured that I intend to support the Hawaiian statehood measure when it comes before us on the floor of the House.

Sincerely yours,

GLENARD P. LIPSCOMB, Member of Congress

REPORT BY MR. BUSTERUD

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
SACRAMENTO, February 19, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. SPEAKER: I am submitting this letter to you as a report upon my recent trip to the State of Oregon as the personal representative of Governor Brown and of the State of California at the centennial ceremonies held last Saturday, February 14th, in Salem, Oregon.

The State of Oregon and the Centennial Commission extended Mrs. Busterud and me every possible courtesy, and we feel that this spirit of good will should be pointed out in some way to my fellow legislators. I intend, therefore, to ask that this letter be printed in the Journal.

Upon our arrival by train in Portland, we were met by a representative of the Centennial Commission, shown a number of courtesies, and taken on a sightseeing tour of the city.

The next day, which was Saturday, we were met at noon by a member of the Statehood Commission, Mr. Thomas C. Young, and his wife who drove us to Salem for the ceremonies Upon my arrival at the capital, I was assigned a military aide and a limousine and was accorded all of the honors which would have been due to the Governor of California in connection with the parade and ceremonies which followed.

At the conclusion of the formal ceremonies, in which both Governor Mark Hatfield and Vice President Nixon participated, I had an opportunity to meet personally with both of these officials and convey to them the greetings of Governor Brown and our legislators. Mrs. Busterud and I then attended a dinner at the home of Mr. Gerald Frank, a Salem civic leader, where we again had the opportunity to meet with a number of governmental and consular officials and with a number of leaders of the Oregon Legislature.

All in all, the weekend was a most interesting one to us in view of the fact that Oregon is the state of my birth. During the course of my conversations with the Oregon legislators, we exchanged a number of worthwhile experiences and ideas which, I hope, will be of mutual benefit to our neighboring states.

Incidentally, I have made no request for reimbursement of my expenses in connection with my trip to Oregon, and I intend to bear them personally.

Sincerely yours,

JOHN A. BUSTERUD

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was presented by the Speaker, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

STATE OF NEVADA
LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
CARSON CITY, February 24, 1959

To the Honorable Speaker and Members of the California State Assembly

MY FRIENDS: It is always a privilege and a happy event when I cross the Sierras to enter Nevada's neighboring state. It is even more of a privilege at this particular time.

How much of your fair state should rightfully be under the banner of battle-born Nevada, and how much of Nevada should be under the protection of the Bear Flag is a moot question, one that has recently been before the public because it seems that in the earliest days of our State Governments our Legislatures may not have been as prone as are we now to go into all the details, even when they concern such a vast amount of territory as that now in dispute.

However, the Nataqua Territory dispute can be settled, and settled by clubs if the Members of the California Legislature see fit to accept the invitation I am about to issue to you. This dispute has now reached such proportions that we, in Nevada, think that it could well be settled by clubs.

In behalf of Nevada, and as the Lieutenant Governor of that State and with full accord of the Senate of that State, it is my pleasure at this time to issue this invitation:

The legislators of Nevada and the legislators of California will meet at Hidden Valley in Reno, Nevada where there is an attractive clubhouse and golf course, and on March 21st, we will then and there decide the issue with clubs—golf clubs.

To the end that there will be no hard feelings, we, of Nevada, will provide the transportation from Sacramento to Reno and return, the lodging while in Nevada, the entertainment and the necessary refreshments for the California legislators who wish to make the trip, together with their wives. Furthermore, we agree that they shall be returned to Sacramento sound in mind and body.

To the end that neither the Legislature of Nevada nor the Legislature of California may be charged with expending public funds for such a battle of clubs, the cost of the entire trip, together with the entertainment, food and housing for the group, will be paid by Nevada friends.

This invitation is extended to further cement the friendly relations between the great State of California and the great State of Nevada, and to notify all concerned that a feeling of good fellowship exists between the two great states, and to settle once and for all the reason for the Nataqua Territory dispute, which, after all, was a dispute between the citizens of one section of one state and the citizens of one section of another state.

In holding this Nataqua "Powwow," we will write a new chapter in the relationship between two great states and set an example for the world to follow in the friendly settlement of disputes.

Cordially yours,

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, January 29, 1959

Hon. William A. Munnell
Assembly Chamber

Legislative Procedure—No. 6983

DEAR MR. MUNNELL: You have asked four questions with respect to the effect on legislative procedure of the amendment to Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution which was adopted at the 1958 General Election. These questions are set forth and answered separately below.

I

What is the earliest date a Senate bill may be heard by an Assembly committee or acted upon by the Assembly in order to comply with the provisions of Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution?

The pertinent portion of Section 2 of Article IV of the Constitution as amended at the 1958 General Election reads as follows:

> "At the general session, no bill, other than the Budget Bill, shall be heard by any committee or acted upon by either house until 30 calendar days have elapsed following the date the bill was first introduced; provided, that this provision may be dispensed with by the consent of three-fourths of the members of the house."

Under this provision the day after the date on which a bill is introduced is the first day included in the 30-day count. Starting with, and including this day, 30 days are counted. The bill can be heard by a committee or acted upon by either house on the day following the thirtieth day counted.

Therefore, assuming that a Senate bill should reach the Assembly prior to the day following the thirtieth day counted, due to the Senate having dispensed with the constitutional provision referred to, it could not be heard by an Assembly committee or acted upon by the Assembly until the day following the thirtieth day counted, unless the Assembly should itself, by consent of three-fourths of the members, also dispense with the provisions of Section 2 of Article IV.

II

Can the provisions of Section 2 of Article IV prohibiting hearing by a committee or action by the House until 30 calendar days have elapsed be dispensed with by a compound motion requiring but a single vote?

In our opinion it can.

We presume that your question has reference to a situation in which it is desired by one motion to be adopted by three-fourths of the Members of the House to dispense with the constitutional provision referred to for the dual purpose of permitting a bill to be both heard by a committee and acted upon by the House prior to the elapsing of the 30 calendar day period.

There is nothing in the constitutional provision in question which would appear to prohibit the accomplishment of this purpose by the adoption of a single motion; neither are we aware of anything in the Joint Rules or Rules of the Assembly which would require that a separate motion be made and adopted for the purpose of permitting the hearing of a bill in a committee and the subsequent action upon the bill on the floor of the Assembly. It would appear to us that, once the 30-day limitation is dispensed with in connection with a particular bill, it is dispensed with for all purposes with respect to that bill.

III

Does the re-reference of a bill from one committee to another committee constitute action upon a bill within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV?

We do not believe it does.

Pursuant to Assembly Rule 53 a bill is referred to an appropriate committee by the Speaker, unless upon a motion of the Assembly, by a majority vote of its entire elected membership, shall refer it to some other committee. Such a motion to refer a bill is not debatable.

Under the provisions of Assembly Rule 103 a motion to re-refer a bill from one committee to another committee may be made during the regular order of business, but is only debatable as to the propriety of such a reference. The substance or merits of the bill cannot be considered.

Such a motion would appear to us to relate strictly to the procedural aspects of the business of the Assembly which are a necessary preliminary to the proper distribution of the business of the Assembly so that the various bills may be heard and acted upon in an orderly fashion. The substance of a bill is not before the Assembly under such a motion and no action is being taken which has a relationship to its merits. We, therefore, do not believe that a re-reference of a bill from one committee to another would constitute action upon the bill within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV.

IV

Is a motion to withdraw a bill from committee an action upon the bill within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV?

We do not believe it is.

Pursuant to Assembly Rule 103 a motion to withdraw a bill from committee may be made during the regular order of business. The provision of Rule 103 that a motion to re-refer a bill shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference does not literally cover the point on the question of withdrawal. However, in the absence of a rule specifically covering the point, the provisions of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure are applicable pursuant to Assembly Rule 8 in which it is specified that Mason's Manual shall be the authority in all cases not covered by the Rules.

Mason's Manual provides on this point as follows (Sec. 491).

> "It is not in order to discuss the merits of a bill upon a motion to discharge a committee or withdraw the bill from committee. Debate in such cases must be confined strictly to the purpose of the motion, for if this were not true, the merits of any question could be forced under discussion merely by such a motion."

Similarly, the same authority declares (Sec. 83):

> "The motion to discharge a committee or to withdraw a measure from committee is debatable as to the advisability of that action, but the measure is not open to debate."

For the reasons mentioned under question number III, we do not believe that a motion to withdraw a bill from committee, in and of itself, would constitute an action on the bill within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By ROBERT G. HINSHAW, Deputy

PRAYER

Infinite God, Set our minds on things distant and profound—that the goal of a noble society may never get lost in lesser matters such as how fast shall we travel on our highways, or how shall we prevent collisions in mid-air. Important as these things are, it is more essential, Our Father, to know our destination. We dare to pray that those who live in this State one hundred years from now will look back with gratitude to the 1959 Legislature. Make us to be courageous architects of a better way of life, for we pray in the name of One who set in men's minds an eternal dream of a kingdom of heaven here on earth and near at hand.—AMEN.

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL RELATIVE TO ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 250, 251, 254, AND 324

The following opinion of the Legislative Counsel was ordered printed in the Journal, pursuant to the request for unanimous consent previously granted to Miss Donahoe:

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 20, 1959

Hon Charles Edward Chapel
Assembly Chamber

Property Taxation: Tax Exemptions—No. 8992

DEAR MR. CHAPEL: You have referred us to Assembly Bills 250, 251, 254 and 324 and you call our attention to the second paragraph of each such bill where the following language is shown in strikeout:

> "No amount shall be canceled or refunded pursuant to this section unless the person or organization otherwise entitled to such cancellation or refund has first complied with the provisions of Section 32 of this code, relating to the loyalty declaration."

Question

You ask whether the amendments found in the first paragraph of each such bill would be effective without the strikeout of the language found in the second paragraph of each such bill.

Opinion

In our opinion the objective of each such bill as set forth in its first paragraph can be accomplished without the deletion of the language found in the second paragraph.

Analysis

The language shown in each second paragraph refers to the filing of a loyalty declaration pursuant to Section 32 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

The provisions of Section 32 were found to be unconstitutional by the United States Supreme Court in Speiser v. Randall (1958), 2 L. Ed. 2d 1460; First Unitarian Church of Los Angeles v. County of Los Angeles (1958), 2 L. Ed. 2d 1484.

Thus the language found in the second paragraph of each bill here in question now shown in strikeout, would, if not deleted, be meaningless in view of these decisions, unless, of course, Section 32 is amended to include a provision that could be sustained constitutionally.

Notwithstanding this conclusion, however, the first paragraph of each bill would, in our opinion, nevertheless be legally operative even if the language of the second paragraph is not deleted.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDWARD F. NOWAK, Deputy

Two copies to Hon. Jack A. Beaver and to Hon. Bert DeLotto, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

EXPLANATION OF VOTE ON ASSEMBLY BILLS NOS. 251, 252, 254, AND 324

I want it distinctly understood my vote in connection with Assembly Bills 251, 252, 254 and 324 was only against abolishing the loyalty oath, and feel that this matter should not have been included with other provisions in the bills of which I approved.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. Levering was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
Sacramento, February 25, 1959

Hon. Harold K. Levering
Assembly Chamber

Registration of Legislative Advocates—No. 9095

DEAR MR. LEVERING: You have asked whether Sections 9900-9910 of the Government Code require a person registering as a legislative advocate to answer the question of how much he is paid by the person engaging his services "in all capacities."

Opinion

In our opinion, if the registrant can answer how much compensation he receives for activities subject to Section 9906 of the Government Code, he is not required to answer how much he receives for other services. However, if he receives a lump sum for services, some of which are within and some outside of Section 9906, and he cannot answer how much of that sum he receives for services within Section 9906, he can be required to answer how much he receives in all capacities.

Section 9906 of the Government Code prescribes what information must be furnished on registration. That section reads, in part, as follows.

> "Any person who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature of the State of California or the approval or veto of any legislation by the Governor of the State of California shall, before doing anything in furtherance of such object, register with the Clerk of the Assembly and the Secretary of the Senate and shall give to those officers in writing and under oath, his name and business address, the name and address of the person by whom he is employed, and in whose interest he appears or works, the duration of such employment, how much he is paid and is to receive, by whom he is paid or is to be paid, how much he is to be paid for expenses, and what expenses are to be included. . . ." (Emphasis added)

The reasonable interpretation of the underlined phrase, read in its context, appears to us to be that it calls for information about how much the registrant is to be paid for legislative advocacy, i.e., for services within the scope of Section 9906.

Sometimes, a person who is required to register performs a variety of services for the person or organization he represents, not all of which are within Section 9906; he is paid a lump sum periodically, as, for example, a monthly salary; no definite part of this sum is identified by the employer as compensation for services under Section 9906; and the legislative advocate concludes that he cannot make such allocation. In such a case we believe that he can properly be required to report the total compensation received from the person or organization he represents. Various committees on legislative representation have, in fact, arrived at the same conclusion, which they formalized by rule. For example, Rule 36 of the Rules of the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation, issued in 1955 (A.J., Mar. 15, 1955, p. 1406), and an identical rule of the corresponding Senate committee issued in 1953 (S.J., Jan. 13, 1953, p. 199) have provided as follows:

> "The failure of a registrant to include in his registration a statement of how much he is paid, and is to receive, shall be deemed sufficient ground for refusing to issue a certificate.
> "If the registrant's employment is on a regularly monthly or annual basis and is for services other than activities specified in Section 9906 of the Government Code, the committee will deem that he has complied with this rule if he does either of the following:
> (a) States his annual or monthly compensation.
> (b) States that he is paid on a monthly or annual basis for various services, some of which do not constitute activities under Section 9906, and further states that he will make appropriate allocation of his compensation for activities covered by Section 9906 when such services are performed. If the registrant thereafter fails to make such allocation of his compensation in any monthly report, this failure shall be deemed sufficient ground for refusing a certificate or suspending or revoking a certificate."

It is our conclusion that where the advocate receives lump-sum payment, and cannot identify the amount of the compensation given for his services within the scope of Section 9906, he can be required to state his total compensation for his services in all capacities for the person or organization he represents.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH, EDUCATION, AND WELFARE
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 25, 1959

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have been requested by Secretary Flemming and Surgeon General Burney to acknowledge with sincere thanks your thoughtful referral of Joint Resolution No. 6 of the California Assembly with reference to the National Conference on Air Pollution.

We are indeed appreciative of the commendatory statements in this resolution regarding the National Conference on Air Pollution. We too feel that the conference was quite successful in its several major missions—that of affording the opportunity for citizens representing the many interests concerned with the air pollution problem to discuss and exchange ideas, of assessing the present state of knowledge and level of air pollution research activity, and of determining future objectives of that research.

The National Conference on Air Pollution appears to have done much to alert the public and its leaders to problems of air pollution, to assess these problems nationally, and to chart a general course for dealing with them. It is felt that another national conference might be appropriately considered at a later date, when it would serve to appraise the progress made and any developments during the interval.

Sincerely yours,

M. D. HOLLIS, Assistant Surgeon General
Chief Engineer

WHEREAS, 41 out of the 80 Members of the Assembly and six Members of the Senate reside in portions of Southern California which could receive improved air service to Sacramento via either Los Angeles or San Diego; and

SEC. 2 Section 401.1 is added to said code, to read:

401.1. Legal or equitable interests in tax-exempt tangible personal property shall be valued for assessment purposes, so far as practicable, in the same manner and to the same extent as taxable interests in tax-exempt improvements

SEC. 3. Part 10 (commencing at Section 5150) is added to Division 1 of said code, to read:

PART 10. LOCAL PRIVILEGE AND USE TAXES

5150. As provided in this part, a tax may be imposed annually on the use, storage for purposes of use by the assessee, processing or other consumption in this State, by a person in connection with the conduct of a business for profit, of tangible personal property consisting of inventories, raw materials, supplies, or work in process, where any or all interests in such property are exempt from property taxation.

The tax may be collected by suit as provided in Chapter 5, Part 5, of Division 1 of this code.

The property constituting a measure of the tax shall be shown on the unsecured roll and shall be assessed and equalized in the same manner as tangible personal property subject to ad valorem taxation.

The taxes authorized by this part shall be subject to cancellation or refund under the conditions and in the manner provided with respect to ad valorem property taxes.

5153. Any such tax shall not apply with respect to any property held for a period of 30 days or less prior to 12 o'clock noon of the first Monday or first Monday in March specified in Section 5157. Such period shall be known as the "exclusion period."

This section shall not be construed as providing for the exclusion of any such property held by the assessee immediately prior to the exclusion period, which during the exclusion period is incorporated into, or consumed in the manufacture of, other property not included in a measure of the tax held by the taxpayer as of noon of the first Monday or first Monday in March specified in Section 5157.

5154. Any county, city and county, city, school district or any other public agency having the power to tax tangible personal property, may by resolution of its governing body impose a tax in accordance with this part. The resolution shall be effective upon its adoption and shall continue in effect from year to year thereafter until rescinded by action of the governing body. Within 10 days after its adoption, certified copies of the resolution shall be filed with the assessor and the auditor of the county in which the taxing agency is located.

So far as practicable, the provisions of the Education Code regarding the determination and levy of school district ad valorem property taxes shall apply to any taxes for school districts that may be imposed pursuant to this part.

5155. Any tax imposed by a taxing agency pursuant to this part shall be in lieu of all ad valorem property taxes which would otherwise be levied by such taxing agency upon any or all taxable interests in the tangible personal property which is a measure of the tax.

5156. The tax shall not apply with respect to any property or to any interest therein which is exempt from ad valorem property taxation under Section 209.5 or 220 of this code.

5157. Any tax imposed pursuant to this part before June 1, 1959, shall apply with respect to property held for the purposes described in Section 5150 as of noon of the first Monday after the effective date of this part, and annually thereafter as of noon of the first Monday in March. If a tax is imposed after June 1, 1959, it shall apply with respect to property held for the purposes described in Section 5150 as of noon of the first Monday of March following the date of its imposition and annually thereafter as of noon of the first Monday in March.

5158. A tax imposed pursuant to this part shall not apply with respect to property used, stored for use, processed or otherwise consumed in the performance of a contract which by its terms requires the burden of the tax to be borne by the contractor, which is not subject to price renegotiation or redetermination, and which either was entered into between November 24, 1958, and the effective date of this part or was entered into pursuant to an irrevocable bid submitted between November 24, 1958, and the effective date of this part.

5159. If any provision of this part, or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of this part, or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

SEC. 4. For the Fiscal Year 1959-1960, legal and equitable interests in otherwise tax-exempt tangible personal property shall be subject to taxation pursuant to the provisions of this act, and such interests shall be assessed for taxation for that year at the full cash value of such interests as of noon of the first Monday following the effective date of this act.

SEC. 5. Every legal and equitable interest in otherwise tax-exempt tangible personal property acquired and held under a contract which by its terms requires the burden of a property tax to be borne by the contractor, which is not subject to price renegotiation or redetermination, and which either was entered into between November 24, 1958 and the effective date of this act or was entered into pursuant to an irrevocable bid submitted between November 24, 1958 and the effective date of this act, shall be exempt from property taxation.

SEC 6. Legal and equitable interests in tax-exempt tangible personal property created by a lease of such property entered into prior to the effective date of this act shall be valued for assessment purposes at the full cash value of such property interests less the present worth of the rentals payable under said lease for the unexpired term thereof. This section shall not apply to a renewal or extension of any such lease occurring after the effective date of this act."

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Bill No. 11—An act to amend Section 2615 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to physical therapy, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

The question being: Shall the Assembly concur in the following Senate amendments to Assembly Bill No. 11?

Amendment No. 1

In line 2 of the title of the printed bill, after "therapy", insert ", declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately".

On page 1, after line 20, insert

"SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There is a serious shortage of physical therapists in this State which has caused untold hardships to the people of California. To alleviate this shortage the Legislature has provided that graduates of approved physical therapy schools who have filed an application for registration with the Board of Medical Examiners may practice as physical therapists under specified supervision prior to taking the examination for registration. However, this privilege is limited to an applicant who files with the board prior to the date of the first examination given after he graduates.

This act would delete this limitation and would authorize a person otherwise qualified to practice as a physical therapist during the period between the filing of an application with the board and the next succeeding examination for registration which occurs after such filing. Thus a greater number of qualified persons could immediately begin practicing as physical therapists and the critical shortage of such trained persons would be greatly alleviated."

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

Most Gracious God. We pray for one of life's rarest blessings, a sense of humor, greatly to be desired in this Assembly and wherever men work and live. Reveal to us the similarity of humor and faith, humor dealing with surface incongruities and surprises; faith dealing with deep variances and uncertainties If the deep center of life is tragic and unsound, then we may not smile, for there are some things too serious and sad to smile about. Grant to us, O God, such faith as will provide a sound base for an undiscourageable good humor, else life is bereft of joy. Give us understanding of a word reputedly spoken by a son of Ireland, "Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three, and the greatest of these is a sense of humor."—AMEN.

Chief Clerk Arthur A. Ohnimus at the Desk

Report of California Public Outdoor Recreation Plan Committee

CALIFORNIA PUBLIC OUTDOOR RECREATION PLAN COMMITTEE
SACRAMENTO, March 2, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the State Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. BROWN. In compliance with Section 1, Chapter 3, Division 7, Statutes of 1957, as Chairman of the California Public Outdoor Recreation Plan Committee, I submit the attached progress report. As required, a copy has also been submitted to the President of the State Senate and to the Governor.

This is a report of the progress of the work of this committee towards producing a guiding Outdoor Recreation Master Plan which will be presented to the Legislature and to the Governor in March of 1960. This committee believes that the extensive work comprising this plan will be of great help to the executive and legislative branches of government in consideration of any reorganization to handle the complex burgeoning demands for recreation. One of the key objectives of the California Public Outdoor Recreation Plan is to assess the fair responsibility that each level of government in California should assume in assuring that the public needs are met with no gaps nor overlaps in services.

Because the work of this committee is now in an advanced stage, we stand ready to counsel with you or any group on problems of recreation requiring immediate solution.

Sincerely yours,

DEWITT NELSON, Chairman
California Public Outdoor Recreation Plan Committee

Above transmitted report referred to the Legislative Reference Library.

"SECTION 1. Section 19582 of the Education Code as enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session is amended to read:

19582. The board by the adoption of rules shall provide for the manner of determining the area of adequate school construction existing in an applicant school district at the time of application. Such rules shall define and provide for the method of determining building areas that are to be included in whole or in part, or to be excluded from the area of existing adequate school construction.

The board may make exceptions to the provisions of this section or to the rules adopted pursuant to such section when it determines that such will be for the benefit of children affected.

For the purposes of this section, "service area" may be defined as (1) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which the provisions of Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would not apply, whether or not such sections were in effect at the time when the building was constructed, or (2) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would apply, whether or not such sections were in effect when the building was constructed, but which building has been converted or is intended to be converted, as shown by the application, to use for purposes to which such sections would not apply. Service area may include, but is not limited to, construction used as bus garages, maintenance shops, centrally located district storage and warehouses, teacherage and custodial houses, utility shelters, administration offices, transformer vaults, and service yards.

The board shall exclude from the building area of a district the area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a parenty co-operative nursery education facility, and for no other purpose, and which building at the time of acquisition thereof by the district was incidental to the purchase of a school site and unsuitable for classroom purposes or which was acquired by the district without expenditure of school district funds.

The area of adequate school construction existing in a district at the time of application shall be initially computed as all of the construction area of a district except (1) such areas as may be eligible for replacement under standards established by the board, and (2) such areas in an existing structurally inadequate building for which an application has been filed for structural rehabilitation or in a building previously structurally rehabilitated under either Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive, or Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive, of the Education Code, that exceeds the maximum building area allowed by Section 19581 for a number of pupils, equivalent to those that could be housed in the building after rehabilitation. The board shall prescribe by rule the method of computing the number of pupils which could be so housed for the purposes of this subsection If such area of adequate school construction, when added to the minimum facilities needed by the district, results in a total construction area in excess of the amount prescribed in Section 19581, then the board may make the following adjustments to the initial computation or such revisions thereof as the board, in its discretion, deems desirable:

(a) Service areas constructed prior to July 19, 1947, shall be excluded, except as provided in (c) below.

(b) Service areas constructed subsequent to July 19, 1947, shall be recomputed by multiplying the total number of square feet of said service area by the percentage determined from dividing the actual construction cost per square foot as determined by the Director of Finance by the estimated average cost per square foot of the new school facilities for which the district has made application

(c) If any inadequate nonservice area constructed prior to July 19, 1947, is, or will be, converted to a service area, such area shall be recomputed by multiplying said area by the percentage determined by dividing the depreciated value of said area by the replacement cost as such value and cost are determined by the Director of Finance.

(d) If, after the revised computation of service areas is made as prescribed under subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the existing and requested building area of the district is in excess of the schedule set forth in Section 19581 the existing building area of nonservice facilities may be determined on the basis of the number of pupils housed by such facilities at an allowance per pupil which is not more than 25 percent in excess of the amount per pupil prescribed in Section 19581.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method for computing the number of adequately housed pupils for purposes of this subsection.

[This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the 1959 Regular Session of the Legislature.]"

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 3, 1959

Hon. W. Byron Rumford, Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health

DEAR MR. RUMFORD: Enclosed is the Report on Air Pollution in California prepared by the Subcommittee on Air Pollution and Radiation

October 28, 1958, Los Angeles.
November 12, 1958, Berkeley.

The subcommittee found that air pollution was remaining a serious problem in the State's two largest metropolitan areas and was a growing problem in other areas of the State, largely because of the State's rapid growth in population, industry and motor vehicle use. The subcommittee has come to recognize that the continued presence of air pollution represents a health hazard to the people of the State, one that could result in widespread sickness and death. The exact nature of this hazard has yet to be determined, although some research work to this end is in progress. The subcommittee feels that the recommendations advanced in this report, if acted upon, will provide more information on this problem.

The subcommittee wishes to express its appreciation to the many witnesses who appeared before it, to the staff of the Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District and the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, and the Department of Public Health for their valuable assistance, and to the California Legislative Internship Program for making available to the subcommittee the services of Mr. Edward Levy.

Respectfully submitted,

STUDIO CITY, CALIFORNIA, February 28, 1959

Capitol Building Office, Sacramento

MR. SPEAKER: For most high school students, the study of government is a dull necessity. But for the members of the Y. M. C. A Model Legislature, government is an interesting and vital part of our American way of life. Our participation gave us a small idea of the enormous problems involved. We feel that we will want to exercise a citizen's responsibility to the fullest degree, now that we understand, at least to some extent, the functions of the Legislature.

As Youth Secretary of State I have been requested, by the members of the Eleventh Annual Model Legislature, to express our appreciation to the Members of the Assembly of the State of California, for the privilege of the use of the Assembly Chamber, and the individual help which they gave us.

Sincerely yours,

ROBERT L. MASTEN, Youth Secretary of State

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Hon. S. C. Masterson
Assembly Chamber

Committee Amendments—Assembly Rule No. 56—No. 9803

Question

DEAR MR. MASTERSON: You have asked whether a bill must be noticed in the Daily File under Assembly Rule No. 56 when the author wishes to have author's amendments accepted by the committee and the bill sent out to the floor for adoption of the amendments and re-referred to the committee prior to being set for hearing.

Assembly Rule No. 56 requires that all bills "set for hearing" by any Assembly committee must be published in the Daily File not less than three days in advance of such hearing.

Only if the committee is going to "hear" the bill is the notice required. The term "hearing" as commonly used in legislative parlance connotes an investigation into the merits of the bill by means of listening to witnesses for and against it. We are sure that this is the sense in which the term is employed in Assembly Rule No. 56, and that the purpose of the rule is to inform such prospective witnesses of the pending hearing so that they may present their arguments.

It follows that both by construction of the language of the rule and by considering its purpose, an action by a committee which simply sends the bill to the floor for adoption of author's amendments and re-referral to the committee would not be considered a "hearing" of the bill within the meaning of Assembly Rule No. 56 and no three-day notice need be given.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By ROBERT G. HINSHAW, Deputy

COMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON
CONSERVATION, PLANNING, AND PUBLIC WORKS
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
Members of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento

The full Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works, under the chairmanship of Francis C. Lindsay, has followed hearings and investigations of the Subcommittee on Beaches and Parks with great interest and concern. In fact, a majority of the full committee has attended one or more of these critical hearings.

The legislation submitted with this report for the consideration of the Assembly is the result of six years of investigation. This legislation, moreover, meets the standards of accepted administrative principles and is in such form as not to hinder the final reorganization of the recreation function. It is my belief that the recommendations of this report are minimum, necessary reforms which, if followed by the Legislature, will result in important advances in our recreation program so necessary to serve the needs of the people of California.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS M. REES, Vice Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on
Conservation, Planning, and Public Works

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Hon Thomas M. Rees, Vice Chairman
California State Assembly, Sacramento

DEAR SIR: This report of the Assembly Subcommittee on Beaches and Parks, submitted pursuant to House Resolution No. 215, contains findings and recommendations, and the substantiating material on which these are based.

Our investigation of acquisition policy and processes of the State Park Commission and the division began in 1955 and were reviewed in our report of March 1, 1957. During the past interim the subcommittee has continued its investigation of these matters by holding four hearings where all testimony was taken under oath and where all assistance available to the legislative arm in critical situations was utilized Thus, the subcommittee requested and received the support of the Legislative Counsel's Office in the preparation and conduct of the hearings. It requested and received detailed reports from the Legislative Analyst and from the Auditor General involving the acquisition processes of the division and the progress that has been made in the purchase and development of park areas. It is felt by our committee that these matters are of sufficient statewide importance to be included in the appendix of this report.

These investigations and the testimony presented to the committee resulted in the inescapable conclusion that the major cause of delay in the acquisition program resides in the policies of the Park Commission. The work of the subcommittee, in the interim ending 1957, demonstrated that major difficulties in the acquisition processes were based on commission policies. The subcommittee recommended to the commission and the division that these policies be adjusted realistically to meet the crash purchase program the division has been involved in for the last three years. The investigations during this last interim, however, indicate that these policies and processes have not been changed appreciably; consequently this report contains legislation that limits the commission to an advisory function in the department and integrates fully the division, the chief, and the commission into the departmental structure.

The report further recommends that the entire acquisition program of all state agencies other than the Division of Highways be transferred to the Department of Finance. The evidence we have received and the investigations we have conducted show that action programs are hindered by property acquisition. Moreover, property acquisition programs presently distributed among the various action agencies of the State can be expected to increase with population growth. The State needs a uniform policy in this activity. The Department of Finance with its long concern for the protection of the State of California is the appropriate agency to handle this activity. It would be indeed remiss of me if I did not emphasize the devotion of this subcommittee to its public duty. I want particularly to commend Assemblywoman Pauline Davis for her interest in this matter and for chairing a special unit of the subcommittee which carried on the important hearings on acquisition, policies and processes of November 24 and 25, 1958.

It is our recommendation that the legislation submitted with this report be adopted and that the matter of the full consolidation of the recreation function be studied carefully during the interim by an appropriate subcommittee of the Assembly so that the Legislature in 1961 will be in a position to consider this question.

Respectfully submitted,

Subcommittee on Beaches and Parks

CHAPTER 10.5. SPECIAL TRANSIT SERVICE DISTRICTS

Article 1. Proposal of Formation

27401. One or more special transit service districts may be created within the boundaries of a district pursuant to this chapter.

27402. Resolutions shall first be passed by the legislative bodies of half or more, but of not less than two, of the public agencies, within all or any part of the area which would be included in the proposed special transit service district, declaring that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district and describing its boundaries. The boundaries of the proposed special transit service district may include territory outside any such public agency if the territory is within the area of the transit district. When the entire area of a public agency is to be included in the special transit service district it may be described in the resolutions by name. Certified copies of the resolutions shall be filed with the secretary of the district.

27403. As an alternative to the instigation of the formation of a special transit service district by resolutions, a petition may be filed with the secretary of a district signed by voters within the proposed special transit service district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the total vote cast. The boundaries of the proposed special transit service district shall be described in the petition and shall include at least two public agencies or portions thereof. A statement of the name of any public agency constitutes a sufficient and legal description of the territory if the entire area of the agency is included.

27404. The petition shall declare that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district described in the petition. The petition may include one or more separate documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name signed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

27406. The board may initiate proceedings for the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district by passing a resolution declaring that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district, and describing its boundaries, which shall include all or any part of two or more public agencies. A public agency to be included may be described by name if the entire area of the agency is included. No certified copy of the resolution need be filed with the secretary of the district.

Article 2. Hearing

27411. Within 60 days after receipt of the resolutions of the public agencies or receipt of the certification of the sufficiency of a petition by the secretary of the district, or the passage of the resolution of the board, the board shall, by resolution, designate the special transit service district as "_____ (here insert name) Transit District, Special Transit Service District No. _____ (here insert number)" (all such special transit service districts shall be numbered consecutively) and shall fix a time and place for a hearing on the proposed creation of a special transit service district, and shall publish notice of the hearing.

27412. The notice of hearing shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district.

27414. At or before the hearing, any person interested may file with the secretary of the district written objections to the creation of the special transit service district or to the inclusion of his property therein. Upon the hearing the board shall hear and determine all protests and objections. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order to be entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of the adjournment.

27415. The board may reduce or enlarge the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district, but the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district shall be within the boundaries of the district.

27416. The board shall not approve the creation of a special transit service district containing territory in addition to the territory included in the resolutions or petitions filed with the secretary of the district, or in its own resolution, until notice of its intention to include such additional territory has been published for the time and in the manner prescribed for the original hearing on the matter and a hearing is had pursuant to the notice.

27417. If no protests are filed, or if the protests filed are overruled and denied by the board, the board shall by resolution approve the creation of the special transit service district either as originally described or as revised by the board and, except as provided by Article 3 (commencing at Section 27421), shall by resolution order and declare the special transit service district created.

Article 3. Election

27421. Any public agency included, or partly included, within the boundaries of a special transit service district may, by a resolution adopted by its legislative body, adopted within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district, require the submission of a proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof, for the purpose of determining whether the public agency, or portion thereof, will be included within the boundaries of the special transit service district. However, no election shall be held, if the board, pursuant to Section 27417, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with the petition or resolution adopted by the legislative body of the public agency.

27422. Instead of the procedure by resolution of a public agency, a petition may be filed with the secretary of the district, signed by voters within any public agency, or portion thereof, included within the boundaries of the special transit service district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the vote cast, requiring an election to be held as described in Section 27421 of this chapter.

27423. The petition may include one or more documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name affixed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be. The petition shall be filed within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district.

27424 The secretary of the district shall compare the signatures with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk and shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

27426. The board shall call the election required by Sections 27421 and 27422 within 60 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, provided that if a general election is to be held within the petitioning public agency within 120 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, the board may consolidate the election required by this article with the general election.

27427. The ballot for the election shall contain such instructions as are required by law to be printed thereon and in addition thereto the following.

| Shall the "(giving name of special transit service district)" be created and established in "(giving name of public agency or portion thereof)"? | YES | |

27428. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he is a voter of the public agency or portion thereof requesting the election. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and may be consolidated.

27429. The costs of the election required by this article shall be borne equally by the public agency and the district.

27430. The question of the creation of a special transit service district, submitted to a vote pursuant to this article, shall be canvassed separately for each public agency or portion thereof in which an election is held, and the board shall order and declare the special transit service district created, including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which no election was held pursuant to Section 27426 and also including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted in favor of the proposition, and excluding each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted against the proposition

Article 4 Taxing Subdivision

27441. A special transit service district has no separate corporate existence, but shall be deemed to be a taxing subdivision of the district, and within each special transit service district the board may levy and collect or cause to be collected taxes for any lawful purpose in accordance with Article 8 (commencing at Section 25891) of Chapter 6.

Article 5. Bond Election

27451. At any time after the adoption by the board of the resolution creating a special transit service district, notwithstanding the effective date of the resolution, the board may provide for the submission of a proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to be incurred by the district on behalf of the special transit service district to pay the costs of acquiring, constructing, or completing the whole or any portion of any transit facilities, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of the district within the boundaries of a special transit service district created pursuant to this chapter.

27456. Any proceeding denying the validity of the creation of any special transit service district, or of any bonds authorized by the voters thereof, pursuant to this part, shall be brought within three months after the date upon which the applicable resolution is adopted by the board or the applicable proposition is approved by the voters.

Article 6. Annexation

27461. Any public agency or portion thereof within the boundaries of a district, hereafter referred to collectively as "territory," not included within the boundaries of a special transit service district, may be annexed thereto in the manner provided in this article.

27463. Any public agency or portion thereof included as part of the territory to be annexed to a special transit service district pursuant to this article may, by resolution of its legislative body, or a petition of its voters filed prior to the hearing on annexation, require the submission of an annexation proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof.

27464. Except as otherwise provided herein, Article 3 (commencing at Section 27421) shall govern the procedure for the submitting of said annexation proposition to the voters of any public agency or portion thereof involved, provided that no election shall be held if the board, pursuant to Section 27468, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with its petition or resolution.

27465. The terms and conditions for the annexation of territory to a special transit service district may provide (among other things) for the payment of taxes within the territory to be annexed, in addition to the taxes otherwise provided for in this part, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere, within the special transit service district, the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the territory proposed to be annexed

27466. Notice fixing the time and place for hearing on the question of the annexation of territory to a special transit service district shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district.

27467. The time for hearing shall be not less than 20 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice.

27469. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of adjournment. In the event that no protests are filed or the protests filed are overruled and denied, the board shall, by resolution, declare the territory, or a portion thereof, annexed to the special transit service district.

27470. From and after the date of filing of the resolution with the secretary of the district the annexation of the territory, or portion thereof, to the special transit service district is complete; provided, that if pursuant to Sections 27463 and 27464 of this article, an annexation election is to be held, the annexation is stayed until the canvassing of the results of said election.

27471. From and after the date of annexation any territory annexed to a special transit service district is liable for payment of its proportionate share of any indebtedness then existing and payable by the special transit service district. From and after the date of annexation the board shall levy upon all of the property in the territory annexed such taxes, tolls, or charges as are necessary to comply with the terms and conditions of annexation, in addition to any other district taxes otherwise authorized in this part.

Article 7. Dissolution

27481. A special transit service district may be dissolved by resolution of the board if any proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness fails to carry, and if the special transit service district is then subject to no other indebtedness or liability pursuant to this part and has been organized for not less than two years. Dissolution of a special transit service district shall not prevent subsequent proceedings for the creation of a special transit service district including the same or any part of the area of the special transit service district dissolved.

Article 3. Exclusion of Territory

15035. The provisions of this article are alternative to any other provisions for the exclusion of territory from the district.

15036. Any time after the defeat of a bond issue by the voters of the district and prior to the approval of a bond issue at a subsequent election by the voters of a district or a special transit service district therein any city or unincorporated territory, a majority of whose voters voting on a district bond issue proposition voted against said proposition, may be excluded by order of the board upon receipt by the board of a verified petition of ten percent (10%) of the total vote cast in the territory proposed to be excluded, or of a resolution adopted by the city council or board of supervisors having jurisdiction of the territory. However, no city shall be divided and not less than one-half of the territory under the jurisdiction of the board of supervisors and then remaining within the district shall be included in any petition or resolution or combination thereof filed simultaneously, nor shall any territory be excluded by any petition or resolution or combination thereof which creates areas of noncontiguous territory or will be entirely surrounded by the remainder of the district.

15037. The petition or resolution shall state the reasons for the proposed exclusion and that the area will not be benefited by inclusion in the district, shall define the boundaries of the area proposed to be excluded, and request that the area be excluded.

15038. (a) If the exclusion is initiated by a city council or board of supervisors, such legislative body shall hold a public hearing on the proposal to adopt the resolution. A notice of the hearing shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the area proposed to be excluded, or in a newspaper published within the city and county the legislative body of which has initiated the proceedings, in the event that a newspaper is not published in the area.

(b) The notice of the hearing shall be entitled "Proposal to Exclude the _____ Territory from the _____ Transit District." The territory shall be designated by an appropriate name descriptive of the area proposed to be excluded. The notice shall also contain a description of the area, state the time and place for a hearing by the legislative body, and shall state that all persons interested in the exclusion may attend and be heard. The hearing shall be held not less than 10 days after publication of the required notice.

(c) The legislative body shall conduct the hearing and at its conclusion, or at the conclusion of a further hearing to which adjournment has been made, may adopt the resolution and transmit it to the board.

15039. Within 60 days after the receipt of a petition for exclusion, the board shall hear the petition or resolution at a regular or adjourned meeting of the board. Notice of the filing of the petition or resolution shall be given by publication of the petition or resolution in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the district and selected by the board The notice shall also state the date of the filing of the petition or resolution and that it will be considered by the board, and shall state the time and place of the hearing The time fixed for the hearing shall not be less than 20 days from the date of the first publication of the notice. The property to be excluded may or may not be specifically described in the notice, but if not described, the notice shall refer to the petition or resolution on file for purposes of a particular description of the property sought to be excluded and shall make reference to the property by a descriptive name.

15040. Any landowner or taxpayer within the district may appear at the hearing, either in behalf of or in opposition to the granting of the petition or resolution

15041. The petition or resolution shall be heard by the board at the time and place specified in the notice of the hearing.

15042. If, upon the hearing the board determines that it is in the best interests of the district that the lands mentioned in the petition or resolution, or some portion of them, be excluded from the district, or if it appears that the lands, or some portion of them, will not be benefited by their continued inclusion in the district, the board shall make an order that the lands, or some portion of them, as the board may determine, be excluded from the district, describing specifically the lands excluded.

15043. In the event that the board shall not make the order excluding all of the area proposed to be excluded within 10 days after the hearing on the petition or resolution for exclusion, the board shall within 120 days thereof order and conduct an election within the area proposed to be excluded upon the question of whether the area shall be excluded from the district. However if a general election is to be held within the territory proposed to be excluded within six months after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district the board may consolidate the election requested by this article with the general election. All resident electors of the area shall be eligible to vote at the election. The cost of the election shall be borne by the district.

15046. Subsequent to the making and recording of the order of exclusion, the lands excluded shall no longer be a part of the district.

The order of exclusion does not invalidate, in any manner, taxes or assessments previously levied or assessed against the lands excluded, nor relieve the property excluded from any outstanding bonds which are a lien upon the excluded property at the time of exclusion or from any taxes imposed to pay the principal or interest on the bonds.

The boundaries of the proposed special transit service district may include territory outside any such public agency if the territory is within the area of the transit district. When the entire area of a public agency is to be included in the special transit service district it may be described in the resolutions by name. Certified copies of the resolutions shall be filed with the secretary of the district.

15052. As an alternative to the instigation of the formation of a special transit service district by resolutions, a petition may be filed with the secretary of a district signed by voters within the proposed special transit service district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the total vote cast. The boundaries of the proposed special transit service district shall be described in the petition and shall include at least two public agencies or portions thereof. A statement of the name of any public agency constitutes a sufficient and legal description of the territory if the entire area of the agency is included.

15053. The petition shall declare that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district described in the petition. The petition may include one or more separate documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name signed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be.

15055. The board may initiate proceedings for the creation of a special transit service district within the area of the district by passing a resolution declaring that the public interest or necessity demands the creation of a special transit service district, and describing its boundaries, which shall include all or any part of two or more public agencies. A public agency to be included may be described by name if the entire area of the agency is included. No certified copy of the resolution need be filed with the secretary of the district.

Article 2. Hearing

15060. Within 60 days after receipt of the resolutions of the public agencies or receipt of the certification of the sufficiency of a petition by the secretary of the district, or the passage of the resolution of the board, the board shall, by resolution, designate the special transit service district as "_____ (here insert name) Transit District, Special Transit Service District No. _____ (here insert number)" (all such special transit service districts shall be numbered consecutively) and shall fix a time and place for a hearing on the proposed creation of the special transit service district, and shall public notice of the hearing.

15061. The notice of hearing shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district.

15062. The time fixed for the hearing shall be not less than 20 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice.

15063. At or before the hearing, any person interested may file with the secretary of the district written objections to the creation of the special transit service district or to the inclusion of his property therein. Upon the hearing the board shall hear and determine all protests and objections. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order to be entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of the adjournment.

15064. The board may reduce or enlarge the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district, but the boundaries of the proposed special transit service district shall be within the boundaries of the district.

15065. The board shall not approve the creation of a special transit service district containing territory in addition to the territory included in the resolutions or petitions filed with the secretary of the district, or in its own resolution, until notice of its intention to include such additional territory has been published for the time and in the manner prescribed for the original hearing on the matter and a hearing is had pursuant to the notice.

15066. If no protests are filed, or if the protests filed are overruled and denied by the board, the board shall by resolution approve the creation of the special transit service district either as originally described or as revised by the board and, except as provided by Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080), shall by resolution order and declare the special transit service district created

15080. Any public agency included, or partly included, within the boundaries of a special transit service district may, by a resolution adopted by its legislative body, adopted within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district, require the submission of a proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof, for the purpose of determining whether the public agency, or portion thereof, will be included within the boundaries of the special transit service district. However, no election shall be held, if the board, pursuant to Section 15066, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with the petition or resolution adopted by the legislative body of the public agency.

15081. Instead of the procedure by resolution of a public agency, a petition may be filed with the secretary of the district, signed by voters within any public agency, or portion thereof, included within the boundaries of the special transit service district equal in number to at least 10 percent of the vote cast, requiring an election to be held as described in Section 15080 of this chapter.

15082. The petition may include one or more documents, but each document shall contain the affidavit of the party who circulated it, certifying that each name affixed thereto is the true signature of the person whose name it purports to be. The petition shall be filed within 30 days after the adoption of the resolution creating a special transit service district.

15083. The secretary of the district shall compare the signature with the affidavits of registration on file with the county clerk and shall certify to the board as to the sufficiency or insufficiency of the petition.

15084. The filing of a resolution pursuant to Section 15080, or of a petition pursuant to Section 15081, shall stay the effective creation of the special transit service district within the public agency or portion thereof included in the resolution or petition until the results of the required election are canvassed.

15085. The board shall call the election required by Sections 15080 and 15081 within 60 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, provided that if a general election is to be held within the petitioning public agency within 120 days after the petition or resolution is filed with the secretary of the district, the board may consolidate the election required by this article with the general election.

|---|---|---|
| Shall the "(giving name of special transit service district)" be created and established in "(giving name of public agency or portion thereof)"? | Yes | |
| | No | |

15087. No person is entitled to vote at the election unless he is a voter of the public agency or or portion thereof requesting the election. The election may be held on the same day as any other state, county or city election and may be consolidated

15088. The costs of the election required by this article shall be borne equally by the public agency and the district.

15089. The question of the creation of a special transit service district, submitted to a vote pursuant to this article, shall be canvassed separately for each public agency or portion thereof in which an election is held, and the board shall order and declare the special transit service district created, including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which no election was held pursuant to Section 15085 and also including each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted in favor of the proposition, and excluding each public agency, or portion thereof, in which an election was held and in which a majority of those who voted upon the proposition of creating the special transit service district voted against the proposition

Article 4. Taxing Subdivision

15100 A special transit service district has no separate corporate existence, but shall be deemed to be a taxing subdivision of the district, and within each special transit service district the board may levy and collect or cause to be collected taxes for any lawful purpose in accordance with Article 8 (commencing at Section 14115) of Chapter 6.

Article 5 Bond Election

15110. At any time after the adoption by the board of the resolution creating a special transit service district, notwithstanding the effective date of the resolution, the board may provide for the submission of a proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness to be incurred by the district on behalf of the special transit service district to pay the costs of acquiring, constructing, or completing the whole or any portion of any transit facilities, or for acquiring any works, lands, structures, rights, equipment, or other property necessary or convenient to carry out the objects, purposes or powers of the district within the boundaries of a special transit service district created pursuant to this chapter

15111. The proposition for incurring a bonded indebtedness under Section 15110 may be submitted to the voters of any public agency or portion thereof at the same election as a proposition to create the special transit service district within a public agency or portion thereof, held pursuant to Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080). In such event a proposition for incurring a bonded indebtedness shall be submitted at a separate special bond election in all portions of the special transit service district in which no election is held pursuant to said Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080).

15112 Except as otherwise provided in this article, the provisions of Chapter 7 (commencing at Section 14250) shall substantially govern as to all matters pertaining to the issuance of bonds under this article, including, among other things and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the calling, holding, and consolidation of the bond election, the formation, execution, issuance, maturity, redemption, refunding, validation, the payment of interest from bond funds, and the status of the bonds as investments.

15114 Only the property in the special transit service district shall be taxable for the payment of the principal and interest on special transit service district bonds Until the bonds are paid, taxes shall be levied in substantial compliance with Section 14117.

15115. Any proceeding denying the validity of the creation of any special transit service district, or of any bonds authorized by the voters thereof, pursuant to this part, shall be brought within three months after the date upon the applicable resolution is adopted by the board or the applicable proposition is approved by the voters.

Article 6 Annexation

15130. Any public agency or portion thereof within the boundaries of a district, hereafter referred to collectively as "territory," not included within the boundaries of a special transit service district may be annexed thereto in the manner provided in this article.

15131. The board shall, by resolution, determine that the annexation of the territory will facilitate the acquisition or operation of transit facilities for the special transit service district, describe the territory, declare its intention to annex the territory to the special transit service district, set forth the terms and conditions upon which the territory shall be annexed, fix the time and place for hearing on the question of the annexation, and provide for notice of the hearing.

15132. Any public agency or portion thereof included as part of the territory to be annexed to a special transit service district pursuant to this article may, by resolution of its legislative body, or a petition of its voters filed prior to the hearing on annexation, require the submission of an annexation proposition to the voters of the public agency, or portion thereof.

15133. Except as otherwise provided herein, Article 3 (commencing at Section 15080) shall govern the procedure for the submitting of said annexation proposition to the voters of any public agency or portion thereof involved, provided that no election shall be held if the board, pursuant to Section 15137, excludes from the territory to be annexed the whole or any portion of a public agency in accordance with its petition or resolution.

15134. The terms and conditions for the annexation of territory to a special transit service district may provide (among other things) for the payment of taxes within the territory to be annexed, in addition to the taxes otherwise provided for in this part, the fixing of rates, rentals, and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere, within the special transit service district, the making of a payment or payments, or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to the district by the territory proposed to be annexed.

15135. Notice fixing the time and place for hearing on the question of the annexation of territory to a special transit service district shall be published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district.

15136. The time for hearing shall be not less than 20 nor more than 60 days from the date of the publication of the notice.

15137. At or before the hearing, any person interested may file with the secretary of the district written objections to the annexation of the territory to the special transit service district or to the inclusion of his property. Upon the hearing, the board shall hear and determine all protests and objections.

15138. The hearing may be adjourned from time to time by the board without further notice other than an order entered upon the minutes of its meeting fixing the time and place of adjournment. In the event that no protests are filed or the protests filed are overruled and denied, the board shall, by resolution, declare the territory, or a portion thereof, annexed to the special transit service district.

15139. From and after the date of filing of the resolution with the secretary of the district the annexation of the territory, or portion thereof, to the special transit service district is complete, provided that if pursuant to Sections 15132 and 15133 of this article, an annexation election is to be held, the annexation is stayed until the canvassing of the results of said election.

15140. From and after the date of annexation of any territory annexed to a special transit service district is liable for payment of its proportionate share of any indebtedness then existing and payable by the special transit service district. From and after the date of annexation the board shall levy upon all of the property in the territory annexed such taxes, tolls, or charges as are necessary to comply with the terms and conditions of annexation, in addition to any other district taxes otherwise authorized in this part.

Article 7. Dissolution

15145. A special transit service district may be dissolved by resolution of the board if any proposition for the incurring of a bonded indebtedness fails to carry, and if the special transit service district is then subject to no other indebtedness or liability pursuant to this part and has been organized for not less than two years. Dissolution of a special transit service district shall not prevent subsequent proceedings for the creation of a special transit service district including the same or any part of the area of the special transit service district dissolved.

SEC. 47. Sections 24 to 46, inclusive, become operative only if the Public Service Code is enacted by the Legislature at its 1959 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as said code takes effect, at which time Sections 1 to 23, inclusive, added to the Public Utilities Code by this act are repealed.

SEC. 48. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

Because of recent court decisions and the outcome of recent bond elections the provisions of this act are urgently required to permit districts already formed under

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. O'Connell was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 5, 1959

Hon. John A. O'Connell
Assembly Chamber

Bank and Corporation Tax Law: Loyalty Declaration for Exemption—No. 6593

DEAR MR. O'CONNELL: You have referred us to Section 23705 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the loyalty declaration by an incorporated organization which claims an exemption from taxation under the Bank and Corporation Tax Law, and you ask whether the requirement for such loyalty declaration is constitutional in view of the recent decision (June 30, 1958) of the United States Supreme Court in Speiser v. Randall (2 L. Ed. Adv. 1460).

Opinion

In our opinion, based on Speiser v. Randall, the nonsubversive declaration requirement in Section 23705 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is unconstitutional.

SECTION 23705 of the Revenue and Taxation Code* provides as follows (Stats. 1957, Ch. 2072):

> "Any incorporated organization which claims any exemption prescribed by this article shall file annually with the Franchise Tax Board, on or before May 15th, a declaration that it does not advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States or of the State of California by force or violence or other unlawful means nor advocate the support of a foreign government against the United States in event of hostilities. If any such organization incorporates, qualifies to do instrastate business, commences activities within this State, revives or is restored to good standing in any year after May 15th, it shall make and file such declaration before it is allowed any exemption prescribed by this article. Any incorporated organization which makes such declaration knowing it to be false is guilty of a felony. This section shall be construed so as to effectuate the purpose of Section 19 of Article XX of the Constitution.

* Unless otherwise noted, all section references are to the Revenue and Taxation Code.

"No exemption under this article shall be allowed to any incorporated organization for any year in which it fails to file on or before May 15th the annual declaration required by this section."

This section was enacted pursuant to Article XX, Section 19, of the California Constitution, adopted at the General Election of November 4, 1952, which provides:

"SEC. 19. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, no person or organization which advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States or the State by force or violence or other unlawful means or who advocates the support of a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities shall:

(a) Hold any office or employment under this State, including but not limited to the University of California, or with any county, city or county, city, district, political subdivision, authority, board, bureau, commission or other public agency of this State; or

(b) Receive any exemption from any tax imposed by this State or any county, city or county, city, district, political subdivision, authority, board, bureau, commission or other public agency of this State.

"The Legislature shall enact such laws as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this section."

Also enacted, pursuant to the above amendment, was Section 32 which reads as follows:

"32. Any statement, return, or other document in which is claimed any exemption, other than the householder's exemption, from any property tax imposed by this State or any county, city or county, city, district, political subdivision, authority, board, bureau, commission or other public agency of this State shall contain a declaration that the person or organization making the statement, return, or other document does not advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States or of the State of California by force or violence or other unlawful means nor advocate the support of a foreign government against the United States in event of hostilities. If any such statement, return, or other document does not contain such declaration, the person or organization making such statement, return, or other document shall not receive any exemption from the tax to which the statement, return, or other document pertains. Any person or organization who makes such declaration knowing it to be false is guilty of a felony. This section shall be construed so as to effectuate the purpose of Section 19 of Article XX of the Constitution."

The constitutionality of Section 32 was questioned in Speiser v. Randall in its application to the veterans' property tax exemption.

The basic issue with which the United States Supreme Court was confronted was whether California had chosen a fair method consistent with due process to determine when a claimant is a member of the class to which the tax exemption in question would be applied.

The primary attack made by the appellants upon these provisions was that they denied them freedom of speech without the procedural safeguards required by the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United State Constitution.

The court pointed out that a discriminitory denial of a tax exemption for engaging in speech is a limitation on free speech. It emphasized that under the California procedure the person claiming an exemption had the affirmative burden of proof in court, as well as before the assessor, to show that he is a proper person to qualify for the tax exemption in question.

The court held that when the constitutional right to speech is sought to be deterred by a state's general taxing program, due process demands that the speech be unencumbered until the state comes forward with sufficient proof justifying its inhibition.

Accordingly, the court further held that the enforcement of Section 19 of Article XX of the California Constitution through procedures which place the burden of proof and persuasion upon the taxpayer, is a violation of due process. It followed, according to the court, that the appellants could not be required to execute the declaration as a condition for obtaining a tax exemption.

The similarity between Section 32 and Section 23705 is immediately recognizable upon a comparison of the two. Section 23705 requires an organization to assume an affirmative duty to show by declaration that it does not engage in the activities described in the constitutional amendment—the very requirement which the Supreme Court of the United States found to be a violation of due process.

Thus, noting the identical duties in the two sections, we can, by reference and comparison, conclude that Section 23705 is unconstitutional.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

APPOINTMENT TO STATE SCHOOL BUILDING FINANCE COMMITTEE

OPINION ORDERED PRINTED IN JOURNAL

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 9, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Assembly Chamber

Olympic Organizing Committee—No. 9613

DEAR MR. BROWN: You have requested information concerning the California Olympic Commission, the Olympic Organizing Committee, and the rendering of emergency medical aid by the organizing committee's staff with reference to the material set forth in the attached telegram.

The California Olympic Commission was created as a part of the State Government by Chapter 124, Statutes of 1955, as amended by Chapter 1069, Statutes of 1957. The commission is charged with the responsibility of preparing facilities for the Winter Olympic Games to be staged in 1960 and performing these responsibilities. It is authorized to employ a staff and enter into contracts to accomplish such purposes.

The statutes creating the commission and the amendments thereto do not contain any provisions pertaining to the furnishing of medical aid by its staff.

The commission, with the approval of the Department of Finance, has entered into a contract with the Olympic Organizing Committee, a nonprofit corporation organized in California for the staging of the Olympic Games. Under the recitals of the contract the organizing committee has been given sole and exclusive rights to hold and stage the games by the International Olympic Committee and the United States National Olympic Committee. Generally speaking, it may be said that under the terms of the contract with the commission, which we have examined, the commission agrees to acquire the land and the fixed equipment, title to which remains in the State, and the organizing committee agrees to provide all services necessary in preparation for, and during the games. The commission periodically allocates money to the organizing committee as necessary for the latter's functions.

Under the terms of the contract the organizing committee agrees to purchase or acquire such first aid rooms, supplies and equipment for use during the pre-Olympic trial events and during the games as may be necessary and to staff such first aid facilities (Section 8.11, Appendix 1 to Standard Agreement Form 2).

Section 8 of Chapter 124 of the Statutes of 1955 provides that the State of California shall not in any manner or under any circumstances be liable for any of the acts, doings or proceedings of any person, association or corporation with which the commission shall act, co-operate or join to carry out the purposes of the act. Section 9 of Chapter 124 of the Statutes of 1955 provides that no member of the commission or employee or any officer thereof shall be personally liable for any debts or obligations or liability that may be incurred or created by the commission or by the State of California acting by or through the commission.

There is no statutory requirement that a physician or surgeon render professional aid to one who seeks such aid. In Coleman v. Middlestaff, 147 Cal. App. 2d Supp. 833, 835, the court quoted the general rule as stated in 41 Am. Jur. 135, as follows:

> ". . . 'In the absence of statute, a physician or surgeon is under no legal obligation to render professional services to everyone who applies to him or seeks to engage him. Physicians are not public servants who are bound to serve all who seek them, as are innkeepers, common carriers, and the like.' "

It would thus appear that the rendering of aid by a physician under any particular circumstance is a matter to be determined by the physician involved.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

Almighty and Eternal God, The work of this Assembly moves inexorably to the place where deliberation must lead to decision and conviction will sorely test co-operation. When issues become sharpened and emotions deeply stirred, we will need Thee, O God, all the more. In all our doings let us put service above self, justice above personal triumph, idealism above personal gain. There was one who set us all an example when he said, "Here I stand, God help me, I can do no other." So may we stand, humbly, but firmly, always for the right as we see it, standing over against other men, good men and true, if we must so stand.—AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Frew was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 10, 1959

Hon. Myron H. Frew
Assembly Chamber

Registration of Legislative Advocates—No. 10108

Question

DEAR MR. FREW: You have asked whether a person who engages himself for pay to influence legislation embodied in a particular bill must register as a legislative advocate if he does nothing more than appear before a committee when the bill is heard.

Opinion

In our opinion he does not have to register.

Section 9906 of the Government Code requires generally that "Any person who shall engage himself for pay or any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature" shall register as a legislative advocate. However, the section further provides that its provisions "shall not apply to any person who merely appears before a committee of the Legislature of the State of California in support of or opposition to legislation."

This exemption, in our opinion, covers the person described in the situation presented to us. We have considered the possibility that the exemption should be interpreted as applying only to persons who appear without compensation or who appear on their own behalf rather than for other persons. However we have rejected the former interpretation on the ground that the exemption would be unnecessary as so interpreted, as the general provisions of Section 9906 apply only to persons who receive consideration for their efforts. We have rejected the second interpretation on the ground that the language of the statute will not support it. We cannot read into the term "merely" the meaning "merely on his own behalf." Rather the term would appear to mean that the exemption applies when the form of advocacy in which the person engages is confined to appearances before committees and does not include other forms of advocacy otherwise covered by Section 9906.

This conclusion is bolstered to some extent by the case of United States v. Slaughter, 89 F. Supp. 876. That case involved the interpretation of the Federal Regulation of Lobbying Act (2 U.S.C. Secs. 261-270), with which the California law is in all material respects identical. Section 267, which corresponds with Section 9906 of the Government Code, contains the same exemption as does the latter section for persons who merely appear before committees. In that case the exemption was held to extend to a person who, for compensation, helps a witness before a committee prepare his statement. This interpretation indicates that it is immaterial that the person seeking to come within the exemption receives compensation or acts on behalf of another person. This interpretation, said the court, was necessary to give effect to the intent of the exemption that there be no interference with or hampering of the giving of testimony before committees.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

SUMMARY REPORT OF THE HEARING ON ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1234

July 9, 1958

BRIEF ANALYSIS OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1234

Background

In 1951 the California Council of the Blind, an affiliate of the National Federation of the Blind, introduced a bill to establish a separate agency within the State Department of Education for rehabilitation of the blind. This bill was opposed by the Department of Education on the grounds that it was administratively cumbersome. The bill died in committee.

Since then the council has introduced, in each successive session, bills of varying sorts designed to establish a separate agency and split off vocational rehabilitation of the blind from the program of vocational rehabilitation services to all other handicapped groups. The many bills which have been introduced have been characterized by certain common features, among which are provisions for almost complete autonomy of the new unit for the blind with a minimum of controls by the State Department of Education. In fact, some of the bills have proposed that the new unit be responsible only to the Governor.

In each instance the Department of Education and the Department of Finance have opposed bills setting up a separate agency for the blind on the grounds that it would duplicate services, divide responsibility, disintegrate co-ordinating efforts, and increase cost to the State. No bills have passed the Assembly or the Senate.

The California Council of the Blind has sponsored the bills each session until 1957 when Assembly Bill No. 1234 was introduced—this bill was not sponsored by the council, however, at the request of the council the present amendments were added to the bill in order to make the special agency eligible to receive federal funds.

The California Council of the Blind is a co-ordinating body for various affiliated local clubs in different communities of the State. This council is the largest organized group of blind in the State. They represent approximately 2,000 of the 25,000 blind persons in California. This council has been responsible for many pieces of legislation liberalizing benefits and services for the blind, and has obtained other concessions for them.

The program of the California Council of the Blind appears to be identical with that of the National Federation of the Blind—political action and legislation. There does not appear to be a specific service program. Undoubtedly the National Federation of the Blind, founded in 1940, and its affiliates have had a healthy influence from the viewpoint of stimulating action on programs for the blind that aroused the blind from the lethargy of traditional patterns.

Both the Federation and the California Council have been subjected to criticism, even among the blind population, because of their intensely single-minded preoccupation with the blind to the exclusion of the interests of other handicapped groups. The council holds that if services for the blind are improved it should ultimately result in the improvement of services for all handicapped groups.

In 1953 the Legislature passed the first California Rehabilitation Act, independent from the federal program, which has proved most valuable in strengthening the legal position of the program. In spite of the fact that this bill was discussed at length with the council, and certain amendments were added at their request, the group still feared some damage to programs for the blind and attempted to campaign for the Governor's veto. Fortunately for the entire group of handicapped in the State this campaign was not successful.

Purpose

Arguments presented in favor of Assembly Bill No. 1234, designed to set up a separate agency for the blind are briefly as follows:

1. A separate agency will permit better integration and co-ordination of services.

In this separate agency would be the four existing services that lend themselves to training: Rehabilitation, Field Work; California Industries for the Blind, and Orientation Centers. Consolidating these services would enable them to work together more effectively and harmoniously.

2. Many states have established separate agencies for the blind.

Under the first vocational rehabilitation legislation many states, where services for the blind were already established as separate entities, established separate commissions for the blind; other states continued the tradition of separate agencies until there are now 37 states which have separated rehabilitation of the blind from that of the total handicapped population. Separation of the blind for rehabilitation purposes tends to increase their share of available rehabilitation funds.

3. Problems of the blind are so complex and unique as to demand separate treatment from all other groups.

Sight is a person's primary sense. Without this sense of sight a blind person must become adjusted to a world and a society geared to sighted persons. Most handicapped individuals can receive the same type of training that a sighted person would and get a great deal out of it—but this is not possible for the blind person because he is cut off from the normal environment, and must create or have created for him, a completely different kind of environment in which by means of various devices, and without the sense of sight, he must become a competent and capable person. The types of equipment necessary for the blind are highly specialized and often more costly than is necessary for other handicapped persons.

4. Vocational rehabilitation of the blind in California is a failure under the present method of administration.

The separate agency would be headed by a new administrative and supervisory staff, with the necessary consultative and accounting personnel. There are approximately 75 percent of the blind persons in California over the age of 60, and for that reason probably not rehabilitable, but within the 25 percent there are a great many people who are immediately available and good risks for rehabilitation. These people are not being reached. This emphasizes the need for a separate agency for the blind.

5. Only the blind should lead the blind and, therefore, the new agency should be under the leadership of a blind person.

Persons most apt to understand the problems of the blind are the competent blind persons who have experienced the problems of blindness, lived with it daily and solved the business of dealing with the exigencies of life.

Arguments presented against Assembly Bill No. 1234 are as follows:

1. If a separate agency is established for the rehabilitation of the blind there is no increase in federal appropriations for this purpose. Federal grants-in-aid are made to a state on the basis of a formula based on population and per-capita income from each state, so that the amount available is the same whether for a single agency, or for two agencies. This amount of money would be allocated, at the discretion of the state between two agencies, the general one for all handicapped, and the separate one for the blind.

The total budget in the general program for vocational rehabilitation during the past fiscal year was approximately four and one-half million dollars. Of this about 55 percent was federal funds—and 45 percent or about two million dollars state funds.

During the past fiscal year about $450,000 or roughly 10.1 percent of the budget of the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation was spent on rehabilitation of the blind. There are approximately 150,000 persons in all disability categories in the State needing rehabilitation services. The blind represent less than 2 percent of those needing services.

The estimated number of blind persons eligible and feasible for vocational rehabilitation services is 2,000 About 500 or 25 percent are now being served. Compare this with other severe disability groups.

| Disability | Estimated number needing service | Number being served | Percent |
|---|---|---|---|
| Cerebral Palsy | 5,000 | 100 | 2 |
| Mentally Retarded | 15,000 | 750 | 0.5 |
| Epilepsy | 20,000 | 160 | 0 8 |
| Paraplegia | 3,000 | 150 | 5 |
| Muscular Dystrophy and Multiple Sclerosis | 6,000 | 60 | 1 |

Since the amount of federal funds for rehabilitation are fixed by law, it is obvious that any increase in services to the blind must come at the expense of the general program for all handicapped unless the State appropriates from the General Fund additional money for the blind alone. The blind in California have commanded more services and more financial outlay in proportion to their number than any handicapped group

2. The quantity and quality of service being rendered to the blind is important, but there is no evidence that a transfer of services to a separate agency for the blind would improve services. There is no sound administrative reason why the four existing services that would be placed in a separate agency, i e , rehabilitation, field work, California Industries for the Blind, and Orientation Centers, cannot work together effectively and harmoniously under the present administration setup if there is strong leadership and willingness on the part of these services to co-operate.

3. To separate the blind and consolidate them into a special disabled group serves to emphasize their "differentness." This is especially undesirable in the case of blind persons because the numerous agencies and services now set up for their benefit have engendered a feeling of separateness which often hinders their easy adjustment to normal life.

The philosophy of all agencies and individuals dealing with handicapped is to avoid any plan that would accentuate their differentness.

4. The fact that 37 states have established separate agencies for the blind is largely a historical development which should not be allowed to confuse the issue in California Where a separate agency exists in a state it is necessary for that state to determine the amount of federal funds which is to be given to the separate agency. The blind, with a single approach, have averaged 19 percent of the available funds with the range up to 39 percent in one state. Such an increase in cost (California rehabilitation of blind runs 10.1 percent) would legislate against the other handicapped in California instead of providing an equitable way for caring for all handicapped through a central agency.

5. The problem of whether or not services to the blind in vocational rehabilitation are adequate should be reviewed in the light of services to all handicapped people. If the services have been unsatisfactory for the blind, it would seem reasonable that the needs of other handicapped groups have not been met.

6. It seems less important that the blind be led by a blind person than that the person leading be a skilled person In actual practice the California blind program is largely staffed with blind workers, not because they understand the problems of the blind any better than sighted workers, but because of the belief that the blind counselor is better able to demonstrate actual performance of industrial operation when "selling" a blind person to an employer. The program as a whole, is co-ordinated by a staff officer who himself is blind and who is responsible directly for the vending stand program. This vending program is acknowledged nationally to be the best vending stand program in the United States. There are 171 installations throughout the State with a gross sale business of $3,600,000. A total net earning of $714,000 with an average earning per month per person of $342.

7. Assembly Bill No. 1234 in its present form gives to the director of the proposed separate agency power and authority that are in conflict with the power and authority of: (1) The Director of Education, (2) The State Board of Education, (3) The Personnel Board. It appears that the separate agency would be housed in the Department of Education without the department having responsibility for it.

Recommendations:

1. We recommend against the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1234, and the idea it represents of a separate agency, for partial welfare coverage.

2. We recommend that greater effort be made (by the present administrative unit) for rehabilitation of the blind so they may become useful and economically sound citizens.

3. We recommend closer co-ordination and improvement of those services to the blind that come under the Department of Education's Division of Special Schools and Services, and the Department's Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr Miller announced that May 4th is the one hundred twentieth calendar day for the introduction of bills under Joint Rule No. 8.3; and announced the procedure which will be followed for the introduction of bills on and after May 5th under said Joint Rule; and the procedure which will be followed under Joint Rule No. 10.8 for the consideration of bills or constitutional amendments within 30 calendar days after their introduction; and stated that these procedures are set forth in an opinion of the Legislative Counsel which he would request to be printed in the Journal this day.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT OPINION IN JOURNAL

Mr. Miller was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL RELATIVE TO JOINT RULES NOS. 8.3 AND 10.8

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Hon. Allen Miller
Assembly Chamber

Procedure Under Joint Rules Nos. 8.3 and 10.8—No. 9520

DEAR MR. MILLER: You have asked for a brief summary of the procedure to be followed under Joint Rule No. 8.3 (as added by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 49) and Joint Rule No. 10.8 (as added by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 42).

Joint Rule No. 8.3

Joint Rule No. 8.3 relates to the introduction of bills and provides as follows:

"8.3. No bill shall be introduced after the 120th calendar day of a general session except as follows:

"(a) A written notice of intention to introduce a bill, a copy of the bill and a digest prepared pursuant to Rule No. 8.5 shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly or the Secretary of the Senate, as the case may be, and shall be transmitted to the Rules Committee of the appropriate house The notice and digest shall be printed in the Journal of that house.

"(b) The Rules Committee of the Assembly or Senate, as the case may be, shall determine whether there exists an urgent need for the introduction of the proposed bill.

"(c) If the Rules Committee recommends that introduction of the proposed bill be permitted, the member may offer a resolution, without further reference thereof to committee, granting permission to introduce the bill. The adoption of the resolution granting such permission shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the elected members of the house in which the request is made.

"As used in this rule 'bill' includes constitutional amendments but does not include joint or concurrent resolutions."

Under this rule the "120th calendar day" of this session is May 4, 1959 *, and thus no bill may be introduced on or after May 5th without complying with the requirements of the rule As used in the rule, "bill" includes constitutional amendments, but not joint or concurrent resolutions.

* See Legislative Counsel Opinion No 8576; Assembly Journal for February 17, 1959, at page 746.

The first step to be taken by a member who wishes to introduce a bill under the rule on or after May 5th would be to file a written notice that he intends to introduce a bill with the Chief Clerk or the Secretary of the Senate, as the case may be, together with a draft of the bill and a digest prepared by the Legislative Counsel.

The clerk or the secretary would then transmit the notice, the bill, and the digest to the Rules Committee and cause the notice and the digest to be printed in the Journal.

The Rules Committee would determine whether there exists an urgent need for the introduction of the bill. If the committee recommends that introduction be permitted, the member could offer a resolution, without further reference to committee, granting permission to introduce the bill. The resolution could be adopted only by an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the elected members of the house in which the request was made Thereafter the bill could be introduced.

Joint Rule No. 10.8

Joint Rule No. 10.8 relates to the consideration of bills and provides as follows:

> "10.8. No bill shall be heard by any committee or acted upon by either house until 30 calendar days have elapsed following the date the bill was first introduced, except this provision and the limitation contained in Section 2(a) of Article IV of the Constitution may be dispensed with as follows:
> "(a) A written request for such dispensation entitled 'Request to Consider and Act on Bill Within 30 Calendar Days' shall be filed with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly or the Secretary of the Senate, as the case may be, printed in the Journal and transmitted to the Rules Committee of the appropriate house.
> "(b) The Rules Committee of the Assembly or Senate, as the case may be, shall determine whether there exists an urgent need for dispensing with the 30-calendar-day waiting period following the bill's introduction.
> "(c) If the Rules Committee recommends that said waiting period be dispensed with, the member may offer a resolution, without further reference thereof to committee, authorizing hearing and action upon the bill before the 30 calendar days have elapsed. The adoption of the resolution shall require an affirmative recorded vote of three-fourths of the elected members of the house in which the resolution is presented.
> "As used in this rule 'bill' includes constitutional amendments but does not include joint or concurrent resolutions."

The first step to be taken by a member who wishes to have a bill or constitutional amendment heard by a committee or acted upon prior to the required waiting period under Rule No. 10.8 would be to file a written request with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly or Secretary of the Senate, as the case may be, entitled "Request to Consider and Act on Bill Within 30 Calendar Days."

The written request would be printed in the Journal and transmitted to the Rules Committee. The procedure to be followed after the filing of the written request under Joint Rule No. 10 8 is the same as that required under Joint Rule No. 8.3 relating to introduction of bills after the 120th calendar day except that the resolution must be adopted by an affirmative recorded vote of three-fourths of the elected members of the house.

When that procedure has been followed and the resolution adopted, the bill (or constitutional amendment) can be heard in committee or acted upon by the house, or both.

Joint Rule No. 10.8, like Joint Rule No. 8.3, does not apply to joint or concurrent resolutions.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By ROBERT G. HINSHAW, Deputy

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Francis was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 10, 1959

Hon. Louis Francis
Assembly Chamber

Property Taxation: Exemptions—No. 10043

Question

DEAR MR. FRANCIS: You have asked whether the provisions of the proposed amendments to Assembly Bill No. 215 as set forth on page 1203 of the Assembly Daily Journal of March 9, 1959, are sufficient to eliminate the constitutional objection to Section 32 of the Revenue and Taxation Code which the United States Supreme Court found in Speiser v. Randall (1958), 2 L. Ed. 2d 1460.

Opinion

Section 32 prohibited the allowance of a tax exemption in the absence of a loyalty declaration on the part of the exemption claimant.

The Supreme Court in Speiser v. Randall, supra, held in effect that Section 32 unconstitutionally limited or penalized the right of free speech in that it placed on the taxpayer the burden of proving his loyalty in order to qualify for tax exemption. The issue before the court was thus stated (2 L. Ed 2d, at p. 1471):

> "... The question for decision, therefore, is whether this allocation of the burden of proof, on an issue concerning freedom of speech, falls short of the requirements of due process."

Further, the court indicated what the minimum requirements for due process would be in such matters by stating (2 L. Ed. 2d, p. 1472):

> "It is true that due process may not always compel the full formalities of a criminal prosecution before criminal advocacy can be suppressed or deterred, but it is clear that the State which attempts to do so must provide procedures amply adequate to safeguard against invasion speech which the Constitution protects."

And further (2 L. Ed. 2d, p. 1473):

> "... Where the transcendent value of speech is involved, due process certainly requires in the circumstances of this case that the State bear the burden of persuasion to show that the appellants engaged in criminal speech."

The amendments as drafted do not place on any exemption claimant the burden of proving nonadvocacy of the overthrow of the State or Federal Government by force or violence or other unlawful means or nonadvocacy of the support of a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities.

We believe it would overcome the particular objection to Section 32 which the court voiced in the Speiser case.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDWARD F. NOWAK, Deputy

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

Great and Merciful God, Since it is not given us to see ourselves as others see us, deliver us from undue dread of what they may see when they look our way. Since the labor of this Assembly requires that we work closely together, make us to be cheerful when it is difficult to be cheerful, and patient when it is difficult to be patient. Enable us to push on when we want to stand still, to keep silent when we want to talk, and to be agreeable when we really want to be disagreeable. Give to us a courtesy born of a knowledge that every person fights a battle to keep rested, and to keep his spirits high. We pray to Thee, Our Father, who dost alone see us as we really are, and hast promised to forgive all.—AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Chapel was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 11, 1959

Hon. Charles Edward Chapel
Assembly Chamber

Loyalty Oaths—No. 9798

DEAR MR. CHAPEL: You have asked whether the recent tax cases or any other cases indicate that the loyalty oath required of public officers and employees by Article XX, Section 3, of the California Constitution and various statutes violates the Federal Constitution.

On the contrary, the court in the tax case of Speiser v. Randall (1958), 357 U.S. 513, 2 L. ed. 2d 1460, distinguished between requiring a loyalty oath of public employees, and requiring the oath in order to secure a tax exemption. The following is an analysis of the Speiser case including reference to the distinction drawn by the court between the tax exemption loyalty oaths and the loyalty oath cases relating to public employees.

Speiser v. Randall;
Prince v. City and County of San Francisco
(Consolidated cases on appeal from the Supreme Court of California, 1958, 357 U.S. 513, 2 L. ed. 2d 1460, 78 S Ct. 1332)

Appellants were veterans of World War II who claimed the veterans' property tax exemption provided by Article XIII, Section 1-¼ of the California Constitution.

Under California law applicants for such exemption must annually complete a standard form of application and file it with the local assessor. The form was revised in 1954 to add an oath by the applicant as follows:

> "I do not advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States or of the State of California by force or violence or other unlawful means nor advocate the support of a foreign government against the United States in event of hostilities."

Each appellant refused to subscribe the oath and struck it from the form which he executed and filed for the tax year 1954-55. Each contended that the exaction of the oath as a condition of obtaining a tax exemption was forbidden by the Federal Constitution. The respective assessors of Contra Costa County and the City and County of San Francisco denied the exemption solely for the refusal to execute the oath. The Supreme Court of California sustained the assessors' actions against the appellants' claims of constitutional invalidity.

The oath printed on the tax exemption form was based upon Article XX, Section 19, of the California Constitution, adopted at the General Election of November 4, 1952, which provides as follows:

> "Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, no person or organization which advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States or the State by force or violence or other unlawful means or who advocates the support of a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities shall:
> "(b) Receive any exemption from any tax imposed by this State or any county, city or county, city, district, political subdivision, authority, board, bureau, commission or other public agency of this State.
> "The Legislature shall enact such laws as may be necessary to enforce the provisions of this section."

The California Legislature enacted Section 32 of the Revenue and Taxation Code pursuant to the above constitutional amendment, which section requires the claimant, as a prerequisite to qualification for any property tax exemption other than the householder's exemption, to declare that he does not engage in the activities described in the constitutional amendment.

The primary attack made by the appellants upon these provisions was that they denied them freedom of speech without the procedural safeguards required by the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment to the United States Constitution.

Thus, the basic issue with which the United States Supreme Court was confronted was whether California had chosen a fair method consistent with due process to determine when a claimant is a member of the class to which the tax exemption in question would be applied.

The court pointed out that a discriminatory denial of a tax exemption for engaging in speech is a limitation on free speech. It emphasized that under the California procedure the appellants, as taxpayers under the state law, had the affirmative burden of proof, in court as well as before the assessor, to show that they are proper persons who qualify under the constitutional provisions for the tax exemption in question; that is, that they are not persons who advocate the overthrow of the Government of the United States, or of the State, by force or violence or other unlawful means, or who advocate the support of a foreign government against the United States in the event of hostilities.

The court further pointed out that when the State undertakes to restrain unlawful advocacy, it must provide procedures which are adequate to safeguard against infringement of constitutionally protected rights, and that only considerations of the greatest urgency can justify restrictions on speech. It stated that the separation of legitimate from illegitimate speech calls for more sensitive tools than California has supplied, and that it is plain that where the burden of proof lies may be decisive of the outcome

The court held that when the constitutional right to speech is sought to be deterred by a state's general taxing program, due process demands that the speech be unencumbered until the state comes forward with sufficient proof justifying its inhibition.

Accordingly, the court further held that the enforcement of Section 19 of Article XX of the California Constitution, through procedures which place the burden of proof and persuasion upon the taxpayer, is a violation of due process It followed, according to the court, that the appellants could not be required to execute the declaration as a condition for obtaining a tax exemption. In reaching such a conclusion the court indicated that it might be conceded for the purposes of argument, that the provisions of Section 19 of Article XX, in and of themselves, without the additional requirement of the declaration as a prerequisite to a tax exemption, might be valid.

Thus, Article 19 of Section 20 is not expressly declared unconstitutional, but enforcement through the statutory procedures utilized is unconstitutional.

In rendering its decision, the court distinguished the cases previously decided relating to loyalty oaths required of public employees. It pointed out that each of those cases concerned a limited class of persons in, or aspiring to, public positions by virtue of which they could, if evilly motivated, create serious danger to the public safety. The principal aim of those statutes was not to penalize political speeches but to deny positions to persons supposed to be dangerous because the speech might be misused to the detriment of the public.

The court stated that the tax exemption loyalty oath legislation could have no such justification, in that it purported to deal directly with speech and the expression of political ideas. In answer to the argument that veterans as a class occupy a position of special trust and influence in the community, and therefore any veteran who engages in the proscribed advocacy constitutes a special danger to the State, the court stated that while a public employee may be deprived of his position and thereby removed from the place of special danger, the State is powerless to erase the service which the veteran has rendered to his Country. According to the court, therefore, the State consequently can act against a veteran only as it can act against any other citizen, by imposing penalties to deter unlawful conduct.

Moreover, the court pointed out that the oaths required in the public employee cases performed a different function from the declaration or oath in issue in the instant cases. In the earlier cases it appeared that the loyalty oath, once signed, became conclusive of the facts attested so far as the right to office was concerned. If the person took the oath he retained his position. The court pointed out that the oath was not part of a device to shift to the officeholder the burden of proving his right to retain his position The signer could be prosecuted for perjury, but only in accordance with the strict procedural safeguards surrounding such criminal prosecutions, whereas in the present case, the declaration might be accepted or rejected on the basis of incompetent information or no information at all.

Based on these distinctions, the court held that the principles of the employee loyalty oath cases had no application to the present cases it was considering.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By (MRS.) ROSE WOODS, Deputy

Purge our souls of selfishness, cleanse our hearts of pride, sweep from our minds the cobwebs of shallow thought and hasty judgment. Enable us, O Father, to make choices that are right in Thy sight, that are comfortable to our consciences, that will stand the strictest test of sincerity and truth. Help us so to do Thy will, O Lord, that this day will be a good day, a lucky day for the people of California, a prelude to a better tomorrow and a finer future; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, one God, world without end—AMEN.

CITY OF LOS ANGELES
OFFICE OF CITY CLERK
March 9, 1959

Arthur A. Ohnimus
Clerk of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber, State Capitol, Sacramento

GREETINGS: At the meeting of the Council held March 9, 1959, upon recommendation of the State, County and Federal Affairs Committee, the following motion was adopted

"I MOVE that the State Legislature be memorialized by the Los Angeles City Council to take adequate steps to insure state legislation to aid and assist in smog control in this city, and

I FURTHER MOVE that the proposed legislation include the regulation or prohibition of the sale of automobiles in California after January 1, 1961, unless said automobiles are properly equipped with smog prevention equipment or unless the development of smog control devices permit an earlier date for the enforcement of smog control on all automobiles sold.

I FURTHER MOVE that the proposed legislation provide for the control of automobiles from out of state using Los Angeles streets, allowing a visitor's automobile a reasonable time for use here before being required to install smog control equipment, and

I FURTHER MOVE that the proposed legislation provide for the equipment of privately-owned automobiles already in use on the streets of Los Angeles and that a period of grace of one or two years be allowed before requiring the equipment of older cars with the acceptable smog control equipment, and

I FURTHER MOVE that Los Angeles representatives in the State Legislature be advised that smog control is the most important single subject to come before the Legislature and that the problem affects the lives of our citizens, the economic well-being of the community, the growth and development of the area as a metropolitan area, and that no time or expense be spared to bring the matter forcibly to the attention of the entire Legislature that smog is the paramount problem of the City of Los Angeles."

Respectfully yours,

WALTER C. PETERSON, City Clerk

I HEREBY CERTIFY the foregoing to be a true and correct copy of the action taken by the Council of the City of Los Angeles at its meeting held March 9, 1959.

SACRAMENTO, March 5, 1959

To the Committee on Conservation,
Planning, and Public Works
California State Assembly, Sacramento

GENTLEMEN: More than four years of extensive study have been expended by your subcommittee on the problems of succession to public office and preservation of records in view of a possible devastating enemy nuclear attack.

It is gratifying to be able to report real progress through the cooperation of the Legislature, men like Chairman J. Warren Beebe and his colleagues in the Los Angeles and State Bar associations, capable staff assistance by Mr. James Williams, Mr. John Caswell of the office of Legislative Analyst, Professor Charles Fairman, Professor of Law in Harvard Law School, Mr. John E. McCormick, the host of witnesses who have given valuable help, and all others who have an interest in the problems and necessity of adequate civil defense.

The subcommittee has concluded after careful consideration that the scope of its activities should be expanded. There are many aspects of the civil defense problem in which a legislative committee can assist.

We would particularly stress the importance of an exhaustive review of all necessary factors involved in the site selection and construction of an alternate seat of government and State Disaster Control center.

We are deeply appreciative of the interest and co-operation of the Legislature in its consideration of our program.

Respectfully submitted,

COMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON
CONSERVATION, PLANNING, AND PUBLIC WORKS
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
Members of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento

The full Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works, under the chairmanship of Francis C. Lindsay, in all of the work of its 10 subcommittees has found the primary difficulty in meeting the problems of growth in California are related to the inadequacy of existing jurisdictions to cover full problem areas.

Thus, in the field of planning, it is possible to establish a metropolitan or regional planning agency covering the full problem area, but the plan itself, to be effective, must be adopted by all the cities and counties within the area. Further, it must be reflected in the area-wide physical development at programs, whether they be streets and highways, air pollution, sewerage, or water supply and distribution. This frustration with the inadequancies of jurisdictions appropriate to cover the problem areas resulted in the full committee assignment of this subject to the Subcommittee on Planning for study and report.

This report is the second produced during this interim on the subject of metropolitan organization. The first was a background report prepared by the staff of the committee for the purpose of discussing in more detail the problems of metropolitan organization in California. The two reports together are important contributions to this subject and should be carefully reviewed by Members of the California Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS M. REES, Vice Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on
Conservation, Planning, and Public Works

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Committee on Conservation,
Planning, and Public Works
California State Assembly, Sacramento

GENTLEMEN: While six years of hearings and staff work have emphasized the importance of a workable method of establishing area-wide government to meet area-wide problems, the decision to prepare legislation and the report supporting it was made at the full committee programming meeting following the 1957 Session. The committee desired a solution not in violation of the strong home rule principles characteristic of California local government and one that would not necessarily result in big government.

Staff research indicates that major proposals for governmental consolidation in metropolitan areas have often been defeated, even though such proposals were sound, because of political inacceptability. It is felt that area-wide government based on present local governmental structures will meet the test of both acceptability and adequacy.

The general framework of the legislation submitted with this report was first developed for the San Francisco Bay Area Air Pollution Control District. This legislation was prepared over a two-year period in close co-operation with the cities and counties in the San Francisco Bay area. It was deliberately designed to permit the same pattern of government structure to be used as other functions of an area-wide nature were identified and support developed for transfer to area-wide government. The same pattern of structure was used in the Metropolitan and Regional Planning Legislation prepared by this subcommittee and accepted by the Legislature at the 1957 Session.

It is the belief of the subcommittee that the permissive legislation submitted with this report will make possible area-wide government, strongly founded on the principle of home rule, yet with sufficient authority and responsibility to meet present and developing metropolitan problems.

Respectfully submitted,

Subcommittee on Planning

REPORT OF THE SUBCOMMITTEE ON SCHOOL DISTRICTS CONSTRUCTION FUNDS

Scope of Report

The Subcommittee on School Districts' Construction Funds was created under the general authority of House Resolution No. 285 of the 1957 Regular Session of the California Legislature.

Hearings of this subcommittee were held on October 9, 1957, in San Mateo; February 6, 1958, at Sacramento; October 9, 1958, in Los Angeles; and October 22, 1958, in San Francisco.

At these hearings Assembly Bill No. 3903 of the 1957 Session of the California Legislature was under discussion. Assembly Bill No. 3903 has two main purposes. They are (1) to place public school construction on a pay-as-you-go basis and (2) to equalize support for school construction throughout the State.

This report outlines the present method of financing school construction in California and the analysis, as developed from witnesses at the hearings, of Assembly Bill No. 3903.

Because of the vast amount of money presently being spent on the construction of school buildings throughout the State of California and the huge interest charges each year on outstanding bonds which have been passed by the citizens of the State for school construction purposes, it was generally agreed by all witnesses that it was going to be necessary in the future to develop another method of school construction financing.

Findings

(1) That under the present system of bond-financed school construction the amount of yearly interest charges on bonds are getting to be astronomical.

(2) That a pay-as-you-go method of school construction financing would be advantageous to the State.

(3) That it is necessary that the amount of money being spent by the taxpayers of this State on school district construction be equalized on a county-to-county basis.

(4) That the bonds presently being written for school construction cannot now be paid off before their expiration date, which is detrimental to the financial stability of many school districts.

Recommendations

(1) Further study should be given to pay-as-you-go financing of school construction.

(2) Further study should be given to the establishment of county school construction funds which would equalize payments of taxpayers within counties.

(3) Provisions in new state bonds should be such that they could be paid off in full at any time.

(4) Any measure changing the present method of school construction financing should insure more local control.

Proposed Legislation

(See bills attached.)

Report

Assembly Bill No. 3903 of the 1957 Session of the Legislature was authored by Assemblyman Sheridan N. Hegland. The bill has two purposes, as explained previously, of placing public school construction on a pay-as-you-go basis and of equalizing support for school construction throughout the State.

The achievement of the pay-as-you-go basis is prescribed in Assembly Bill No. 3903 as follows:

Pay-As-You-Go

1. The State School Building Construction Fund would be established and funds sufficient to meet the requirements of the following expenses would be placed therein:
   a. Paying interest and principal on the outstanding bonds of all school districts.
   b. Paying interest and principal on outstanding state bonds for school building loan purposes.
   c. Paying expenses of current school construction in all school districts.
   d. Paying expenses of administering the program

2. The requirements of this fund are to be provided by:
   a. Thirty percent (30%) from the State General Fund.
   b. Seventy percent (70%) to be raised from an ad valorem tax levied by the board of supervisors in each county. The tax to be levied shall not exceed $1.20 for each $100 of assessed valuation.

Equalization

The equalization features of Assembly Bill No. 3903 are achieved in the following manner:

1. That thirty percent (30%) of the construction and bond interest and redemption costs for the year shall be met from the statewide taxes.
2. That seventy percent (70%) of the construction and bond interest and redemption costs shall be met from an equalized tax on all the assessed valuation in the State.

Operation

It is contemplated that Assembly Bill No 3093 will be operated in the following manner:

1 Each county superintendent of schools each year, on or before May 30th, shall secure for each school district a five-year estimate of the children to be in attendance and certify such to the State Allocation Board and to the State Department of Education.
2. The Department of Education, on or before May 30th of each year, shall certify to the State Allocation Board and the State Controller, the area of adequate school construction in each school district and the number of pupils that can be housed in the area determined. (Pupils housed in facilities requiring replacement are inadequately housed )
3. The State Allocation Board, on or before June 30th of each year, shall determine and certify to the State Controller the amount of money necessary, in accordance with construction standards they are authorized to adopt for:
   a. Purchase and improvement of school sites.
   b. Purchase of desks, tables, chairs, and equipment
   c. Planning and construction, reconstruction, alteration of, and additions to school buildings in each school district.
   d. Housing for the education of exceptional children.
   e. Administrative and auxiliary facilities.
   f. Replacement of facilities.

   Allowances for site purchase shall be based upon a five-year projection by the State Allocation Board.
   Allowances for all other purposes shall be based on a two-year projection by the State Allocation Board.
4. The State Controller shall set up the fund to meet all costs of the program and determine amount to be contributed by the State General Fund and the amount to be raised by each county.
5. The board of supervisors in each county shall levy the tax necessary, not in excess of $1 20 for each $100 of assessed valuation, to raise the required amount in the county.

6. Provisions are contained in the proposal for the allocation and disbursement of the moneys to the funds and agencies responsible for the expenditures.

Author's Statement

Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland appeared before the committee and gave some background material on school district construction funds and what he felt were certain requirements that any permanent financing plan should be.

Assemblyman Hegland explained that he felt this bill places school construction on a permanent basis instead of a temporary basis. He explained that 10 years ago when the school construction program was started as an aid to local school districts, about a quarter of a million youngsters were on half-day sessions and that even today, after spending hundreds of millions of dollars of state aid funds, there are still a quarter of a million youngsters on half-day sessions. This, of course, is because of the large expansion of the school facilities in the State and the large number of children that have come in from other states.

Mr. Hegland went on to say that other requirements of a permanent plan should be:

1. That costs would be lower under state construction than in other ways of building schools.
2. That a plan should be devised so that school construction is an operational cost and not a capital cost. Mr. Hegland compared it with the same category as the buying of chalk or the hiring of teachers or the purchase of blackboards or desks: that is, it is a continuing recurring cost. Therefore, it should not properly be considered a capital expenditure.
3. That any new plan should be on a pay-as-you-go basis, on which we could save millions of dollars in financing costs.
4. That it would promote equity among taxpayers.
5. That it will alleviate the building shortage in California.
6. That any new financing method would both preserve and extend local control.
7. That it would be financially sound.

Mr. Hegland explained that he felt that Assembly Bill No. 3903 met these requirements, but that there were also some economics to be worked out, and also the question to be answered of whether it is politically feasible to change the whole system of school construction methods at one time, and at this time, in our State Government.

State Department of Education

Dr. Ronald Cox, Chief of the Bureau of Public Administration of the State Department of Education appeared before the committee and gave the following analysis of this bill:

1. The advantages of a pay-as-you-go basis for school construction are widely known. The adoption of the proposal would eliminate the necessity of future borrowing by the State and by individual school districts and the resultant payment of interest on the borrowed money. It would reduce the total cost of providing school facilities by a very significant amount.

2. The equalization of support for school construction proposes that the revenues of the State be available for thirty percent (30%) of the cost of the program and that the total assessed valuation of the counties of the State be available for seventy percent (70%) of the cost of the program, both sources being available for the construction of school facilities wherever they are needed.
3. The initial and continuing costs of the program are large. The immediate and continuing large out-of-pocket costs of a pay-as-you-go program have been the principal deterrent to the adoption of such programs at the local district level. It also has been the principal factor in the adoption of statutory authority for school districts to issue bonds for construction purposes. There is little doubt that the adoption of the proposal would result in savings to the State and to local districts if both were willing to accept the proposal and meet the costs.
4. There are dangers in the proposal that the plan will tend to require a larger measure of state control to be exerted, especially in city districts that are not now under the State School Building Aid Program The determination of what constitutes adequate school facilities would likely rest with a state agency under the program, and the type of school facilities to be provided also would likely be determined by a state agency.
5. The proposal as currently drafted assigns functions of an educational nature to other than the Department of Education. These responsibilities should be assigned to the Department of Education.

California Association of School Administrators

Paul Salmon, Superintendent of the Covina School District, representing the State Building Committee of the California Association of School Administrators appeared before the committee and testified that his organization had gone over Assembly Bill No. 3903 and found that it generally answered many of the problems of school construction today.

The Present State-Aided Building Program

We feel the following explanation of the state-aided bond program for school construction prepared by H. H. Jaqueth, Executive Officer of the State Allocation Board would be helpful in understanding the present problems involved in schoolhouse construction.

Under the state-aided program, 1027 construction projects have been completed, of which 963 have been for elementary schools, and 64 high schools have been constructed. These schools provide housing for 313,902 pupils. There has been an average of over 300 construction projects approved by the State Allocation Board each year.

Financing

Inasmuch as the existing State School Building Aid Program has become a permanent program due to the 30-year repayment provisions and other requirements, and, further, because this program represents a very large, substantial part of school construction within the State, experience of the State Allocation Board may be used indicating problems and operational activities.

Under present legislation, funds are raised by means of statewide bond issues supplemented by funds which are almost entirely individual school district bond amounts. The State has provided 690.5 million dollars for school construction, or 76 percent of the cost of state-aided projects, and districts have provided the balance of 24 percent of the cost. The accompanying chart (see page 1431) of "What Happens to State Aid School Bond Issues for a Complete Project" provides information relating to the bond funds. On this chart it is to be noted that presently 66 percent of available funds is spent for schoolhouse construction with the balance being spent for the purchase of sites, preparation of plans, furniture and equipment, and other items.

Characteristics

In order to provide information relating to the trend of state aid for school construction purposes, see Appendix, page 1432, under the heading of "Cost and Other Characteristics of State Aided School Facilities." Reference is made to the discussion and tables for information relating to sites, new construction, additions, and furniture and equipment. It is to be noted that in 1954 building construction costs represented 79.1 percent of the total; whereas, in 1958 the building construction total dropped to 71.1 percent of total, with the remainder of the costs indicating increases in non-building items such as preparation of plans, site development and site acquisition.

It should be noted that through the first 10 months of 1958, 2,328 applications for state aid have been received by the State Allocation Board, with 400 being received in 1958 (an increase of 20 percent over 1957). Approved projects totaling 600.4 million dollars include funds for 1,640 projects, with a total pupil capacity of 426,821.

During the past few years the trend of the cost of state aid per average project has increased, principally because of additional allowable expenditures authorized by the Legislature for expanded facilities. For instance, the Legislature has provided that funds may be used for furniture and equipment and these costs now represent approximately 6 percent of each application. In addition, allowable costs for outdoor teacher station construction has been authorized by the State Allocation Board and these represent a cost of approximately from 5 to 10 percent per application, where this type of facility is provided.

General

It is almost impossible to satisfactorily provide funds to a district on a per-pupil basis. During the period from 1953 to 1957 school construction costs for new structures have varied from approximately $200 per pupil to over $3,000 per pupil, depending upon the facilities being provided. Some of the items which cause this disparity are as follows:

1. Variance in cost of site acquisition.
2. Variance in cost of providing utilities services.
3. Variance in cost of developing the sites to make them usable.
4. Variances in the allowable building area per pupil (small schools receive special area adjustments, large schools need less area per pupil).

5. Cost variances for providing special facilities, such as a. Multipurpose room only.
   b. Special types of rooms for junior high schools, etc.
6. Variances in cost on a geographical basis throughout the State (metropolitan areas v. isolated and/or rural areas).
7. Variance in the desires of districts in providing facilities.

During the period of the state-aided program, about one-third of the school districts receiving aid have applied for replacement of facilities, or rehabilitation or reconstruction of existing facilities. Costs of this type of construction have varied from very small amounts to amounts nearly equal to the cost of new construction.

In answer to specific questions, we have the following to report:

"1. How much money has been made available this year?"

Answer—From October 8, 1957, to October, 1958, the State Allocation Board has approved applications for state-aid amounting to $97,719,084.

"2. How much has been returned this year?"

Answer—The computed repayments from state-aided school districts to be made during the 1958-59 Fiscal Year is $15,638,999.

"3. What is an estimate of the total annual interest on bonds—local and state?"

Answer—It is estimated that the interest costs of local and state bonds for 1958-59 will be as follows:

|---|---|
| Local | $38,000,000 |
| State | 13,000,000 |
| Total | $51,000,000 |

Appendix
Cost and Other Characteristics of State-Aided School Facilities That Were Completed and Ready for Use by August 31, 1958
(Chapter 19, Div. 3, Ed. Code)

School Building Aid Costs to Date

By the end of August, 1958, the State Allocation Board had approved applications for 598.4 million dollars in new school facilities under the School Building Aid Law of 1952. These facilities require 452.3 million dollars in state aid and 146.1 million dollars in district funds.

The status and total cost of these facilities on August 31, 1958, is as follows:

| | (Millions of Dollars) |
|---|---|
| Completed Construction Projects | $314.5 |
| Construction Projects Not Yet Completed | 244.3 |
| Advance Purchase of Site | 37.4 |
| Separate Applications for Furniture and/Equipment | 2.2 |
| Total | $598.4 |

Cost Characteristics of Completed Construction Projects

This analysis is based on project costs of completed facilities as known when the construction contract was awarded. As a result, the detail of project costs in the analysis adds to 319 million dollars, which is 1½ percent more than the 314.5 million dollars actual costs as known on August 31, 1958. The difference represents the return of unused contingencies and minor adjustments in other items. The analysis excludes the value of sites unless they were acquired as a part of the construction project.

By August, 1958, a total of 1,027 school construction projects had been completed and occupied. The number completed increased rapidly each year, from 55 in 1954 (includes one project actually completed in 1953) to a peak of 334 completions in 1957. A total of 158 projects were reported as completed in the first eight months of 1958. The facilities so far completed contain over 9,400 classrooms designed to house 314,000 pupils.

The average school construction project cost $311,000 during the period 1954-58. Elementary projects averaged $276,000 while the relatively smaller number of high school projects averaged $841,000 each. The contract cost of buildings comprised 72.9 percent of the total cost of completed projects in the period 1954-58 and ranged from a high of 79.1 percent in 1954 to a low of 71.1 percent in 1958.

In terms of capital outlay per pupil, project costs averaged $1,017 per pupil during the period 1954-58 for all grade levels. Elementary schools which include 83 percent of the value of all projects completed, were provided at an average cost of $951 per pupil during the period 1954-58. Elementary project costs have gained steadily, ranging from $810 per pupil in 1954 to $1,056 per pupil in 1958. The cost of constructing elementary school buildings on new sites has remained relatively constant during the period, ranging between $650 and $681 per elementary school pupil. In 1958, the cost is actually slightly lower than in the preceding year. The overall increase in cost per pupil has been principally in nonbuilding costs. These project costs rose from $184 per elementary pupil in 1954 to $322 per pupil in 1958. The principal items contributing to the increase were site acquisition, development of the site, and utilities. These costs have increased significantly in the amount per pupil, and as a percentage of the total project cost.

There is no clearly defined trend from 1954 to 1958 in the computed cost of high school projects. It is probable, however, that underlying trends are obscured by an appreciable shift in the composition of high school projects from smaller schools in areas with relatively high construction costs, to larger schools near metropolitan centers.

Reconstruction costs per pupil appear relatively high in the accompanying tables because of the method of computation. The count of pupils was limited to those in classrooms actually reconstructed and to those in new classrooms in the project while costs include considerable sums for improving general service facilities which would affect all of the students at the attendance center.

The following tables classify the cost of completed facilities by type of project expenditure and grade level for new schools, school additions, and reconstruction projects:

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO EXTEND TIME FOR FILING REPORTS

Miss Donahoe was granted unanimous consent that two more subcommittees of the Assembly Interim Committee on Education be granted an extension of three days to file their reports for printing in the Journal; and stated that there would be no additional expenditure of committee funds required to complete the reports.

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 15, 1959

Hon W Byron Rumford, Chairman
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento,

DEAR MR RUMFORD: Enclosed herewith is the report of the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Medical Care Facilities. The committee in its investigations examined county responsibility for medical care and treatment of medically indigent persons, and county reimbursement policies for care provided by non-county medical institutions that treat medically indigent persons in an emergency

The committee held hearings in Long Beach on November 1, 1957, and in San Diego on February 20, 1958 A number of meetings were held with representatives of the various medical and hospital associations and the public health agencies This report is the result of those hearings and the independent research conducted by the committee

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE G. CRAWFORD, Chairman
Subcommittee on Hospitals and Medical Care Facilities

CLAYTON A. DILLS
SETH J. JOHNSON
HOWARD J THELIN

FINDINGS

1. There is wide variation in the standards and policies regarding eligibility for admission to county medical facilities in the State and consequently the policies for determining inter-county responsibilities for medical care and treatment This lack of uniform standards has created some confusion between counties while attempting to discharge their responsibilities for indigent medical care.

2. The lack of a uniform policy regarding county financial responsibility for hospital care provided to county indigents treated at district or private hospitals in an emergency situation has complicated the problem of determining financial responsibility for such care.
3. That there may be a serious question as to the adequacy of the medical care provided the public in some California hospitals. The subcommittee believes that the area of hospital administration needs to be closely examined by the Legislature.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. That there be additional study by the Legislature on the problems of standards of eligibility for admission to county medical facilities, inter-county responsibility for medical care and treatment, and financial responsibility for hospital care provided indigent patients at noncounty hospitals.
2. The Legislature should undertake to study all facts relating to whether or not California hospitals are meeting the standards necessary to insure adequate protection to, and medical care of, the public, including the operation, effect, administration, enforcement and needed revision of any and all laws relating to this subject.

REPORT OF SUBCOMMITTEE ON HOSPITALS AND MEDICAL CARE FACILITIES

Pursuant to House Resolution No 219 creating the Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health and House Resolution No. 261 authorizing a continuing study of district hospitals, the Interim Committee on Public Health appointed a Subcommittee on Hospitals and Medical Care Facilities. The subcommittee held hearings as follows:

November 1, 1957, Long Beach
February 20, 1958, San Diego

The subcommittee's inquiry at these hearings was generally limited to three areas of hospital care. These areas were:

1. Standards of eligibility and policies regarding admission to county medical facilities.
2. Inter-county responsibility for medical care and treatment.
3. Financial responsibility for hospital care provided for indigent patients at noncounty hospitals.

In California, at the present time, every person averages approximately one day a year spent as a hospital patient. The operation of hospitals has become the fifth largest industrial or business activity in the United States, involving huge amounts in capital investment, payrolls, and other operating expenses. In California, for example, our hospitals represent a current depreciated value of over half a billion dollars. Replacement would cost more than double this amount.

A significant proportion of the total cost of hospitalization in California falls upon the counties since approximately 20 percent of the people in California receive their hospital care in institutions operated by counties. Because counties are responsible for the major part of treatment for tuberculosis and other chronic diseases involving long periods of hospitalization, the 20 percent of the State's population served by county hospitals actually receives something in excess of 30 percent of the hospital care provided by all hospitals throughout the State.

To provide this care, the 58 counties in California operate 81 hospitals of various types. These include 52 with 11,486 beds for general hospital services, 12 with 5,998 beds for tuberculosis care and 17 with 6,991 beds for chronic and custodial care.

Legal Basis for County Hospitals

Sections 200-222 of the Welfare and Institutions Code establish the legal basis on which county hospitals are operated in California. The board of supervisors of each county has the responsibility of establishing and maintaining the hospital, prescribing rules for its government and management, appointing the county physician and other employees determining the standards of elegibility governing patients' qualifications for care in the county hospitals, fixing the rates which may be charged for care, establishing the policy for collections from patients for care, and adjusting or compromising patients' liability for payments covering care. With regard to patient care, Section 211 provides that: "No county shall withhold emergency care pending the patient giving security for reimbursement to the county."

Certain court decisions have interpreted these sections of the Welfare and Institutions Code, particularly Goodall v. Brite, 11 Ca. App 2d 540, 54 Pac. 2d 510. Some of the more significant elements are:

1. Boards of supervisors have broad powers on establishing and maintaining county hospitals and in prescribing rules for their management.
2. County hospitals are established to provide care for:
   a. Indigent sick.
   b. Partially dependent sick (the so-called medically indigent).
   c Psychiatric and other custodial cases.
   d. Physically handicapped children who qualify legally for care.
   e. Tuberculosis patients, with provision for payment by those who are able to pay.
   f. Contagious cases.
   g Prisoners.
   h. Emergency cases. An emergency includes the situation in which the patient is unable to secure admission to a private facility and needs immediate hospitalization. The hospital has the responsibility of collecting full actual cost when patients can afford to pay.

The State and County Hospitals

The State has relatively little jurisdiction over county medical facilities. As indicated above, the boards of supervisors of the counties have broad powers in the establishment and maintenance of these facilities.

Although some subsidies are received from the State, county hospitals are supported almost entirely by local taxpayers. Subsidies received include those given for the support of the needy blind, crippled children, tubercular persons, and persons receiving old age security payments who are under treatment in a county hospital.

As is usually the case, receipt of subsidies means that the counties must meet certain state requirements; e g., in the case of aid in caring for needy tubercular patients, the State prescribes minimum standards of construction and operation of sanatoria Aside from these exceptions, however, the State does not exercise administrative control over county hospitals.

State Department of Public Health

This department prescribes the standards which must be maintained by the counties in order to obtain the subsidies mentioned above.

Under the Federal Hospital Survey and Construction Program, counties may apply for assistance from federal and state funds for construction and equipping of new hospital facilities in areas determined to be in most critical need of them. Allocations are made in equal amounts by federal, state, and county authorities. Hospitals receiving such assistance must maintain the facility in accordance with the minimum requirements for hospitals under California's Hospital Licensing Act (Sections 1400-1421, Health and Safety Code).

State law does provide that the department shall investigate, examine, and make reports upon county facilities and that all plans for the use of existing buildings or new buildings, or additions and alterations in buildings, must be submitted to the department for suggestions and approval, but only as to the "social requirements" of the occupants.

Quarterly inspections are made by the department, but since county institutions (unless in one of the categories mentioned above) do not require a state license in order to operate, the department's recommendations and suggestions are not mandatory.

The State Department of Social Welfare

The department's responsibility in this field is limited to the deciding of disputes between counties as to the responsibility for an indigent. This function is provided for in Section 2504 of the Welfare and Institutions Code as follows:

> "If a dispute occurs between counties as to the responsibility for an indigent, either county may submit the dispute to the State Department of Social Welfare. The decision of the department thereon shall be final."

The department has no powers of enforcement of its decisions. If the responsible county fails to pay the county of hospitalization after a department decision, resort to the courts is necessary.

The only other relationship between the department and county hospitals stems from payments which may be made by the department to certain county outpatient clinics under a plan of medical care for welfare recipients

Standards of Eligibility and Admission Policies of County Medical Facilities

Final responsibility for any decision as to who is eligible for county care rests ultimately with the board of supervisors; day to day decisions, however, are made by the hospitals or by county welfare departments. Examination of financial eligibility for hospital care is made by the county welfare department in 23 counties and by the hospital itself in the remainder.

The most usual method of judging need for county care is to measure the applicant's income, personal property, and value of unencumbered real property against the cost of family maintenance and the probable cost of hospitalization and convalescence for a particular illness. These elements are considered not only to test eligibility for using county facilities but also as a criteria for weighing the patient's ability to pay some proportion or all of the hospital bill.

From an examination of admission policies, one can only conclude that there are as many different policies as there are counties.

A study conducted by the Bureau of Public Administration of the University of California discloses that:

> "Almost half of the county hospitals have no set maxima regarding financial eligibility for care in that all resources—income, personal property and real property—are considered in relation to the medical diagnosis and probable cost of medical care, plus the inability to secure private care. Twenty-three counties fall into this category; fourteen of them, however, require a lien on all property, if any.
> "Sixteen counties place a ceiling on the amount of personal and real property the applicant may own but the provision with regard to income is flexible and depends on the family's total basic needs in relation to the cost of medical care. Eleven of these require a lien on real property owned.
> "Virtually all the hospitals which have set maxima on personal or real property holdings set these amounts much below the state requirement for recipients of the categorical aids. The limit on real property, under the Old Age Security and Blind Laws for example, is an assessed evaluation, less all encumbrances on record, of $5,000
> "In twelve counties the limit is $3,500, one of them disregarding encumbrances In three counties the limit is $3,000, in one $2,500 and in one $250. None of these counties would consider as eligible for care an applicant who had as much personal property as the State allows in old age security or aid to the blind
> "After an applicant is considered both financially and medically eligible for hospital care, most hospitals require that certain other conditions must be met before he is admitted.
> "In 30 counties the patient must sign a lien on any real property he possesses, 36 counties require that hospital insurance, if any, must be assigned, and 31 require that the patient sign a written agreement to make periodic repayments of the cost of hospital care. Twenty-four counties require that the patient waive the statute of limitations on collections."

This great variation between counties in determining eligibility for admission to county hospitals raises serious problems of intercounty responsibility for indigent care when an indigent is unable to be hospitalized in his county of residence because of an emergency situation Such is often the case when a person is injured in an automobile accident outside his home county. Although this individual might be eligible for indigent care under the standards prevailing in the county in which the accident occurs, he might not be eligible for such care in his home county.

When the county providing the care wishes to transfer the patient to his home county or presents a bill for medical care to his home county, the county of residence will often refuse responsibility for future care or refuse payment of the bill because the patient would not be eligible for indigent care on the basis of the home county's definition and standards of eligibility. The county that rendered the aid in the emergency is then left with the cost of the care provided and further care required to get the patient back on his feet.

In an attempt to resolve this problem of inter-county responsibility for medical care, the subcommittee formed an advisory committee composed of representatives of the California Medical Association, the California Hospital Association, the County Supervisors Association, the Association of California Hospital Districts, and the County Hospital Administrators.

The Advisory Committee, in a statement adopted April 18, 1958, subscribed to the principle that:

> ". . . each county is responsible for emergency care of all alleged indigents in their said county and to this end shall provide that emergency care facilities shall be readily available to the people within the county either through facilities owned by the county or through other facilities which are under contract in the county. Provided:
> 1. The county providing care shall determine the patient's county of residence and shall report the case to said county of residence. In event legal residence cannot be established, the county wherein the emergency arises shall be considered to be the county of residence for these purposes, only.
> 2. The county providing care shall be reimbursed the cost of said care by the county of residence.
> 3. In all instances, the county of residence will verify or disprove indigency of the patient and when he is found to be nonindigent seek reimbursement from him or his responsible relatives in accordance with the county's usual policy.
> This program is possible under present law and is being observed in some counties. The committee recommends that it be adopted by the remaining counties."

Although the State Department of Social Welfare has the responsibility to decide disputes between counties relating to hospital care, its decisions can only be enforced through the courts, a sometimes long and expensive procedure.

A closely related problem concerns the financial responsibility of counties for hospital care provided for indigent patients at non-county hospitals. These would include nonprofit, church sponsored, private and district hospitals.

Although our present statutes state that the counties are to provide care for the indigent residents of the respective counties, the law is silent in regard to the method and the requirement of reimbursement to any person or agency who may have rendered the service or care. Many counties have been found to ignore the legitimate claims made by all types of hospitals for reimbursement of the actual cost of rendering care to such patients. This procedure results in hospitals bearing a 100 percent loss on services rendered on a humanitarian basis.

Nonprofit and church hospitals naturally have to pass this loss on to their paying patients.

In this connection, district hospitals have been faced with a somewhat serious dilemma The law requires that district hospitals establish rates which will enable the hospitals to operate as nearly as practicable without using tax funds for operation. It also provides that contracts for the care of indigents shall not provide for rates below cost. (Section 32125, Health and Safety Code). Further, there is no specific authority permitting any difference in rates for patients except if the patient is a district resident.

Many counties have insisted that rates paid for care rendered indigents should be less than the regular established rates. This creates problems of administration as well as questions of legality. For example, one county has entered into contracts with most private hospitals in the county for rates to be paid for care rendered indigents and with one district hospital outside that county. However, the district hospital within the county has not signed the contract because it was felt that it would be improper and illegal to do so. The district hospital which has signed the contract has been unable to secure a contract of any kind from its own county.

The following table illustrates the various types of arrangements existing between counties and district hospitals: (35 district hospitals considered)

Numerical Table Showing Types of Arrangements

|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Counties | 24 | 13 | 6 | 5 | 7 | 12 | 4 |
| District Hospitals | 35 | 18 | 8 | 9 | 11 | 15 | 6 |

At this time it is not possible to present the magnitude of the problem in terms of number of indigent patients cared for by district hospitals or the extent of financial responsibility assumed.

Blood Donations

As a result of the committee's investigation into hospitals and medical care facilities, it was brought to the committee's attention that certain counties were possibly "demanding" a donation of blood by relatives and friends of prospective patients as a condition to the patient's admission to the county's hospital. Section 2500 of the Welfare and Institutions Code prescribes the duty of a county to aid its indigent residents:

> "Every county and every city and county shall relieve and support all incompetent, poor, indigent persons and those incapacitated by age, disease, or accident, lawfully resident therein, when such persons are not supported and relieved by their relatives or friends, or by their own means, or by state hospitals or other state or private institutions."

In this connection, the Office of the Legislative Counsel in Opinion No. 3021 states that:

> "The obligation imposed on counties by (Section 2500 of the Welfare and Institutions Code) is a mandatory duty (County of Los Angeles v. Frisbie, 19 Cal. 2d 634, 639), and it has been indicated that it obligates a county to provide its indigent residents with necessary medical care (County of Los Angeles v. County of Imperial, 82 Cal. App. 2d 136, 139; see also Goodall v. Brite, 11 Cal. App. 2d 540). This is reflected also in Section 2500 itself, which specifically mentions those indigents who are incapacitated by disease or accident. "It also appears clear that a county which establishes a hospital has the duty to admit indigent residents in need of hospital care. The following statements made by the Supreme Court of this State in the case of Goodall v. Brite, 11 Cal. App. 2d 540, are indicative of the county's duty in this regard:

> 'It is admitted that a resident pauper must be hospitalized at public expense. This is a matter of pure humanity and no one, solely because of poverty, should be permitted to suffer because of lack of funds.' (page 549)
> 'It is admitted that indigent persons are to be admitted when in need of hospitalization.' (page 549)
> 'When a board of supervisors is given management of a county hospital that body is given the power to adopt rules for the admission of patients, provided, of course, that it must admit those entitled by law to enter and cannot admit those whose reception is prohibited by law or the Constitution.' (page 550)

"We do not mean to imply by the foregoing that a county is powerless to impose reasonable conditions relative to the admission of indigents to its hospital. Section 203 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, which authorizes the board of supervisors to establish a county hospital, expressly gives to the board authority to prescribe rules for the government and management thereof. Further, the courts have held, with respect to the granting of indigent aid, that the board of supervisors has discretion to determine eligibility for, the type and amount of, and conditions to be attached to the granting of such aid, and that the courts will not interfere with these determinations in the absence of a clear showing of fraud or arbitrary or capricious conduct (County of Los Angeles v. Department of Social Welfare, 41 Cal. 2d 455, 458; Patten v. County of San Diego, 106 Cal. App. 2d 467, 470)."

During the Subcommittee on Hospitals and Medical Care Facilities' hearing in Long Beach on November 1, 1957, George McClain, Chairman of the California Institute of Social Welfare, charged that Sonoma County had tentatively approved a plan under which "Each patient treated by the tax-supported Sonoma County Hospital would be forced to agree to submit to a blood donation before receiving treatment."

"In other words, no blood, no treatment.

"* * * Under this proposal these people would escape this blood-sucking requirement only if they could get a friend or relative to agree to give the blood instead * * *

"Now, members of the committee, lest you think this can't happen, let me clear your minds. It has happened! Tulare and Merced Counties have already adopted just such a 'no blood, no treatment' policy at their county hospitals."

Responding to these charges by Mr. McClain, Mr. Neale Smith, Sonoma County Administrator, read into the record at the committee's February 20, 1958, hearing in San Diego a letter from Mr. Guy A. King, Chairman of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors to Attorney General Edmund G. "Pat" Brown. The letter states:

"It has been the policy of the Sonoma County Hospital in cases where it is known or suspected that a patient will require blood or plasma to advise the patient's family that blood will be required, and they are requested to provide blood in the name of the patient on a basis of two pints donated to one pint used. If, as sometimes happens, the family or friends cannot or will not donate the required blood, it is provided and the patient's account is charged. If the patient is able to pay, the county is eventually reimbursed for the cost of the blood. If not, it is provided by the taxpayers as part of the hospital service. Although two pints of blood are requested for each pint received, the actual amount of blood obtained under this program is less than one pint provided to one pint received.

"No patient has ever been refused blood or any other medical service when it was required. Frequently, however, elective surgery is not scheduled until the blood is donated. However, when it would be unusually difficult or impossible for the patient or his relatives to obtain the blood donations, even elective surgery is performed without donations of blood.

"As far as old age security recipients are concerned, their own blood is not acceptable, as the Blood Bank accepts blood only from persons under 60 years of age. Blood from the patient himself is rarely obtained as the patient is not in condition to give blood or he would not be in the hospital.

"The present policy of requesting blood applies only to patients who require blood in their treatments. Many patients requiring blood are not able to have it provided for them by friends or relatives. The cost to the hospital for undonated blood is continuously increasing, placing a burden on the taxpayer. But, actually the greatest need is for blood donations irrespective of cost.

"In his written recommendations to the board of supervisors on the 1957-58 Budget, the county administrator stated:

'Because of the increased cost for blood and plasma service, two counties that we know of are now demanding a pint of blood a year for any out-patient, and two pints a year from patients admitted for care or from their relatives. This offsets to some extent the increase in the cost of this service. It is my opinion we should explore this arrangement. The receiving of blood could be a consideration for care given out-patient clinic patients who now pay nothing for the service. A small payment fee has been proposed and will undoubtedly come before you for consideration before too long, at which time, the possible blood donation program might be integrated with the payment plan. I have a feeling that some abuses of the out-patient clinic services are made by patients to whom going to the hospital occasionally is almost a source of entertainment. Requiring the payment of a small fee or the donation of blood might tend to curtail any abuses if there are such.'

"This recommendation was discussed by the board of supervisors with the county administrator and with the medical director and the business manager of the hospital during budget discussions but no action has yet been taken by the board relative to requiring hospital patients who do not require blood or out-patient clinic patients to obtain blood donations on their behalf * * *."

Following this statement, Dr. Henry D. Stailey, Medical Director of Sonoma County Hospital, stated that at the present time, Sonoma County Hospital did not demand blood from patients; however, according to the transcript:

DR. STAILEY: ". . . but two counties have adopted this, and we studied it a little bit and they seem to be getting along all right. Now you cannot demand blood as a reason for getting the county hospital care, I don't believe—maybe you can, but the idea was not just to demand from everyone. You take a person, an elderly person, who has no friends, no young relatives, no one to get blood from—you just forget it. . . ."

MR. RUMFORD: "It says here, in this letter to Brown that in his opinion you should explore the arrangement. Is this arrangement being explored already?"

DR. STAILEY: "Not by me. I don't know whether Mr. Smith is."

MR. SMITH: "Actually we haven't followed through on that. It was discussed last July at the budget sessions."

MR. RUMFORD: "In other words, they had seriously given thought of demanding or at least asking blood from patients who received local attention at the hospital."

MR. SMITH: "Well it was a proposal that was submitted to the board as a means by which we could reduce some of the cost of rendering hospital services."

Quite obviously the problem of obtaining sufficient quantities of blood to be used in hospitals and replenishing the supply of blood expended on patients is a serious one. However, the question arises as to what lengths a county or a county board of supervisors may go in obtaining blood. It is to be admitted that the board of supervisors has the discretion to determine eligibility for the type and amount of and conditions to be attached to the granting of aid, and that the courts will not interfere with these determinations. However, the Legislative Counsel in Opinion No. 3021 doubts that "the courts would regard as reasonable a requirement imposed by a county that indigents or their relatives or friends donate blood as a condition to admitting the indigent to the county hospital for needed care."

The Attorney General's Office, seized of the problem at the behest of the committee, recognizes the "impropriety and possible illegality of denying medical care to patients unless they 'donate' blood." Although the Office of the Attorney General doesn't believe needed medical care is being denied because patients have refused to "donate" blood, it "seems likely that in attempting to maintain adequate blood supplies, conscientious county administrators and doctors may well have created the impression that medical care is being denied or withheld pending receipt of blood donations from the patient or his friends or relatives."

Due to the fact that further complaints concerning these improper demands upon patients at certain county hospitals have come to the committee's attention, the committee feels that the various county boards of supervisors and hospital administrators should keep clearly in mind the limited conditions they may impose upon individuals seeking admission to county hospitals, and certainly a demand of blood in lieu of monetary payment or as a condition for entrance into the hospital is not only improper but probably illegal.

Hospital Care in California

During the summer of 1958 widespread newspaper publicity concerning published reports by the California Medical Association examining patient dissatisfaction with hospital treatment and related abuses provoked demand for an inquiry into the extent to which conditions of inadequate patient care in California hospitals existed, and the appropriate state responsibility for correcting and preventing any deficiencies in this area.

Several years ago the CMA embarked on a series of studies of the relationship between physicians and their patients. They sought to learn why some patients are happy and enthusiastic in their relationships with their own physicians and others are not. These studies were undertaken as the groundwork for seeking the causes for medical malpractice actions that have been finding their way into our courtrooms in increasing numbers and severity in the past decade or so The cost of these actions has been high but, more important, there is the underlying question of why such actions should ever arise in the first place

The first such study (1955) was made in the form of an analysis of physicians who had had malpractice suits filed against them. Contrasted with these physicians was a control group of physicians in comparable situations who had not had such suits This pilot study—called the San Mateo Project—led to a conclusion that further research on this problem was required. Another study was made on patients who had been plaintiffs in malpractice actions, contrasted with a control group of patients who had not been involved in such litigation.

More recently, because there was evidence to show that some 70 percent of malpractice actions arose from patients who had been hospitalized at the time of the alleged incident, an effort was made to find out what happens in some hospitals that results in a high incidence of such actions Four hospitals with the highest malpractice rates were selected to be compared with four hospitals with the lowest malpractice rates.

This report, known as the "Blum Report" concluded that "the number of malpractice suits arising from hospital incidents involving staff physicians is related to the quality of the organization of the hospital as a whole, and to the quality of the organization and performance of the medical staff."

This report, although intended to be kept confidential until the CMA could officially act upon it, was released to the press. The publication of certain exerpts of the report, taken out of context and with no direct relationship to the major conclusion, caused widespread public concern, if not alarm.

The publication of the report and the response to it prompted the committee to call a meeting of those agencies and organizations that have a responsibility in the field of hospital care. The meeting, held in San Francisco, was attended by representatives from the California Hospital Association, California Medical Association, the Association of California Hospital Districts, and the State Department of Public Health.

The results of this meeting indicated that any problems of hospital administration leading to malpractice suits were probably not confined to only the four hospitals surveyed in the Blum Report, but that the committee could not undertake a further investigation of this situation without first doing the research necessary for the laying of a proper background to study this extremely complicated area of administration and legislation. The committee felt that a complete study of the hospital situation was very much in order once the scope of the investigation was decided upon.

Since that time the committee has determined that an investigation should be made to ascertain areas in which patient dissatisfaction arises; to determine whether California hospitals are meeting standards necessary to insure adequate protection and medical care of the public, and to determine if legislation is necessary to establish and insure compliance with such standards The purpose of the study would also be to assign to appropriate medical authority the responsibility for correcting those areas which relate to medical practice and responsibility and to assign to the State those areas of responsibility which are regulatory in nature.

This study would serve two public purposes. First, it would establish a sound basis upon which added protection would be afforded to the general public which uses hospital services and defining the appropriate roles of the medical profession through self-government of certain medical matters and state by definition of public regulatory responsibilities.

Secondly, by correcting these problems, it would provide encouragement to the medical profession to practice in California. There has been some strong feeling that the growing frequency of malpractice suits is turning medical doctors away from California. This is contrary to public welfare and should appropriately be a matter of concern to this committee.

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 16, 1959

Hon. W. Byron Rumford, Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health

DEAR MR. RUMFORD: The Subcommittee on Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs was appointed following adjournment of the 1957 General Legislative Session in accordance with the provisions of House Resolution No. 180. This report is the result of the hearings held by the subcommittee since that time.

During the same interim period other legislative committees have been investigating various aspects of the narcotics problem. This committee has attempted to co-ordinate its work with that of these other committees to avoid duplication of effort. The Subcommittee on Narcotics of the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary has studied the penal aspects of the narcotics problem. The Senate Committee on Narcotics has been concerned with a number of aspects of the narcotics problem. The Senate committee and this committee held a joint hearing to consider the need for a public school educational program in the field of narcotics.

This committee has restricted its study, and this report, for the most part, relates to the problem of the treatment and rehabilitation of narcotic drug addicts, calling attention to or discussing other aspects of the problem only when necessary for an understanding of the problems of rehabilitation or treatment.

The subcommittee wishes to express its appreciation to the many individuals, the representatives of medicine, state and local agencies, and other organizations whose testimony at the public hearings and whose advice and consultation throughout the interim have been of such assistance.

Respectfully submitted,

REX M. CUNNINGHAM, Chairman W. BYRON RUMFORD

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON
CONSERVATION, PLANNING, AND PUBLIC WORKS
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Hon Ralph M. Brown,
Speaker of the Assembly,
Members of the Assembly,
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento

This report of the Subcommittee on Bay and Water Pollution, prepared in accordance with House Resolution Nos. 215 and 297, 1957, comes at a time of accelerated population growth and resulting problems of water quality These problems can be expected to increase with growth in the absence of passage of this legislation. The active service of the Regional and State Water Pollution Control Boards and the departmental directors, serving ex officio on this board, in the work of the subcommittee, is evidence of official state recognition of the importance of immediate action.

It is my belief that action taken now will save the State and its political subdivisions great expenditures of money and assist private enterprise by clearer definitions of standards and controls, both on the amount of pollution discharge and on appropriate location of discharge plants. Unquestionably, the lack of clarity in present legislation is a factor not conducive to sound industrial development of the State. I earnestly recommend that both houses of the Legislature pass the legislation submitted herewith as a guarantee to the future health and welfare of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

THOMAS M. REES, Vice Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on
Conservation, Planning, and Public Works

SUBCOMMITTEE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

ASSEMBLY CHAMBER, STATE CAPITOL
SACRAMENTO, March 1, 1959

Hon. Thomas M. Rees, Vice Chairman
Conservation, Planning, and Public Works
California State Assembly, Sacramento

DEAR SIR: Extensive hearings were held by your subcommittee on the problems of water pollution in the State of California. As the committee work progressed, it became apparent that the focal point of practically all comments was a series of recommendations for revision on the Water Pollution Control Act which had been prepared by a committee consisting of five state department heads who are ex officio members of the State Water Pollution Control Board at approximately the same time, the committee was provided with joint recommendations by the State Water Pollution Control Board and the Regional Water Pollution Control Boards. These two reports were the result of requests by your subcommittee at an executive programing meeting following the close of the 1957 Legislature.

The last hearing in San Francisco resulted in testimony being directed primarily to the recommendations of the five-man committee because their report had been sent by your committee to all agencies and industrial organizations with the request that review comments be prepared and submitted at a subsequent meeting of the subcommittee. The testimony submitted at the San Francisco hearing on December 19, 1958, consequently, was related to the proposals submitted by the State departmental committee and the discussions centered around committee recommendations. Few substantive proposals were made beyond the recommendations of the five-man committee.

Your subcommittee, consequently, has prepared legislation basically in accord with these recommendations which have as their purpose the strengthening of the act in two ways: first, by a declaration of state legislative policy including a clear provision that the disposal of waste to the waters of the State is a privilege, not a right, and second, placing the responsibility on the State Water Pollution Control Board to establish policy sufficiently detailed in accordance with these goals to provide direction to the regional boards in their enforcement of the act. Other sections would strengthen the enforcement powers of the regional boards. In addition to clarifying amendments to the act, this legislation will increase the membership of the regional boards through the addition of two members, one representing recreation and wildlife and the other representing the public at large.

The success of the hearings of this subcommittee and its working relationship both to private organizations and public agencies throughout the State is the result largely of the programing of the Staff Assistant, James T. Williams, and Charles Kunsman, Legislative Intern. The summary and comparison of the many proposals both public and private for changes in existing legislation which resulted in the subcommittee decisions for amendments to the act were prepared by Jan Stevens, Legislative Intern, assigned to the subcommittee.

Respectfully submitted,

CHARLES W. MEYERS, Chairman
FRANK P. BELOTTI
WILLIAM BIDDICK
DON A. ALLEN, SR. *
WILLIAM A. MUNNELL
EUGENE G. NISBET
BRUCE SUMNER

* I decline to sign the report because it is based on the recommendations of the five department heads. No attention was given to the testimony and recommendations given by other expert witnesses.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Rees was granted unanimous consent that the following report be ordered printed in the Journal:

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON CONSERVATION,
PLANNING, AND PUBLIC WORKS
SACRAMENTO, March 13, 1959

Hon. Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR SIR: This report of the Subcommittee on Public Works of the Interim Committee on Conservation, Planning, and Public Works, under the chairmanship of Francis C. Lindsay, is submitted in accordance with House Resolution No. 80 by Charles W. Meyers.

The Subcommittee on Public Works has continued the extensive investigations carried on during the interim 1955 to 1957 by the Subcommittee on Highways, chaired by Richard J. Dolwig. Ten hearings during that interim throughout the State, and numerous conferences of the subcommittee, fully support the legislation and report submitted in March, 1957. All the legislation recommended in the report passed both houses of the Legislature. Assembly Bill No. 4057, however, was held in committee on the Senate side and an identical bill by Mr. Dolwig reached the Governor's desk where it was pocket-vetoed on the assurances of the Highway Commission that the procedures advocated in the legislation would be instituted by administrative direction of the commission.

The findings of the subcommittee in 1957 relative to this bill follow:

"1. The present procedures of the Highway Commission and the division involving the selection and adoption of freeway routes were found to be inadequate in the following particulars:

a. Inadequate liaison between state and local agencies involved.

b. Inadequate consideration on the part of the Division of Highways of local community plans and objectives.

c. Inadequate provisions for public information and local participation in the determination of freeway routes.

d. Failure of the Division of Highways and local responsible agencies to adjust problems during the planning stage.

e. Lack of uniformity in the procedures utilized by the various district offices of the Division of Highways.

f. The Highway Commission itself in its relationships with local agencies is inappropriately involved as a protagonist in what should be administrative level discussions."

With the passage of Mr. Meyers' House Resolution No. 80 in response to widespread local dissatisfaction which the procedures of the vetoed bill attempted to remedy, staff investigations continued and two hearings were held; one in Los Angeles on August 5, 1958, and one in San Francisco on August 7 and 8, 1958. These hearings and continued staff investigations substantiated the need for legislation prescribing the procedures of the Division of Highways for planning, design and location of freeways and highways. In the meantime, the Highway Commission, in accordance with its assurance at the time of the veto, revised its procedure regarding freeway location processes. These changes are described by Mr. T. Fred Bagshaw, Assistant Director of the Department of Public Works at the San Francisco hearing on August 7, 1958, as follows:

On February 26, 1958, after conferences with groups including representatives of cities and counties, the commission adopted a new resolution substantially revising its past procedures. While the main intent of the commission in this new resolution was to insure opportunity to local agencies for close liaison between them and the Division of Highways at all times in studying various freeway locations, several other changes were made. The changes are outlined as follows:

1. Under the new resolution, the Division of Highways will confer with all local agencies which may be affected by the freeway at the time studies are initiated and from time to time thereafter. In the previous resolution, such conferences were not required until a tentative conclusion had been formed by the Division of Highways as to where a freeway should be located. There was some feeling that this was too late in the procedure. Experience under the old resolution indicated the value of liaison between the Division of Highways and local agencies at an early stage in the studies and such liaison in many instances had actually been maintained. In any event, all conferences will now start to take place at the beginning of the studies and will continue throughout the period of study. This should insure a close working relationship between local agencies and the Division of Highways.

2. The Division of Highways will obtain a copy of any master plan which has been formulated by a local agency. Moreover, this copy must be sent to the California Highway Commission when the Division of Highways makes its recommendation to the commission.

3. The Division of Highways will now notify local agencies, during such conferences, of the provisions of Section 75.5 of the Streets and Highways Code pertaining to the community values and the rights of the local agencies to present evidence thereon.

4. The Division of Highways will now hold such meetings as are necessary to acquaint citizens with possible freeway locations and the reasons therefor, and to hear from citizens regarding their thoughts on the matter, as soon as studies have produced sufficient information to permit intelligent discussion. Under the old procedure, such meetings were held after a tentative conclusion had been reached. The word "meeting" rather than "hearing" was used here in order that the gatherings might be kept informal in nature and because they were not being called to make a decision on the issue at that time, but rather to acquaint all parties with the problems of the others. If it appears that the adoption may be controversial in nature, the State Highway Engineer may appoint another employee of his division who is not employed in the district office to be presiding officer of the meeting The purpose of this provision is to have a chairman who has not been involved in the problems.

5. After meetings are held and studies are completed, the district office of the Division of Highways sends a report to headquarters in Sacramento, including therein all necessary data and its recommendation as to the location of the freeway. The State Highway Engineer then either makes his decision as to the recommendation of the Division of Highways on the matter or he orders further studies. Under the revised resolution, the district will include in its report to the headquarters office information relating to the relationship of the proposed locations and any master plans, and all information submitted pursuant to Section 75.5 of the Streets and Highways Code. When the State Highway Engineer makes his recommendation to the Highway Commission, this data will also be submitted to them

6. The State Highway Engineer will also now hold any other hearings required under federal law.

The hearings of the subcommittee during the past interim do not support the position of the Highway Commission that its procedural instructions are a substitute for the legislative procedure submitted in the 1957 report and resubmitted with this report. The following testimony from the San Francisco hearing, on August 7th, furnishes the reasons for this committee conclusion:

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: Again I think this should be in the record that any change that has been made on the resolution took the efforts of both houses and I would say especially Assemblyman Meyers who was author of the Assembly bill. I think it again emphasizes the need to have this put in the code to give the cities and counties and local property owners rights that they don't have under the present system. There are a few points here that our committee advisor here, Mr. Samuel Wood, would like to get into the record Sam, do you have some of these points that you want to cover?

DR. SAMUEL WOOD: Yes, I think so, Mr. Lindsay. One of the problems that I think the Division of Highways has faced in the selection and adoption of a freeway route has been the failure of local agencies to agree among themselves. Is this right, Mr. Bagshaw? Among themselves on the adoption in such fashion that you found local confusion rather than unity on a freeway route adoption.

MR. BAGSHAW: That does happen. We find division on a city council and board of supervisors.

DR. WOOD: No, I'm talking about a community itself. All the agencies within a community haven't been able to make up their minds and come to a conclusion in regard to the adoption.

MR. BAGSHAW: That's correct.

DR. WOOD: Now one of the purposes of this legislation was to not only direct the commission and the division in regard to certain procedures, but more importantly it was the feeling of the subcommittee in drafting the legislation that local agencies need to be guided in this process, you see? And, consequently, in the legislation there are shalls and mays regarding local action in this regard. For example, in Section 2112 of the bill, the notice that you sent out is supposed to acquaint local agencies with the provisions of 75 5 which has to do with community values, and as I understand your resolution, this is covered, but I don't know just when this notification goes out. Is it the first one that goes out when you are considering the adoption of a freeway?

MR. BAGSHAW: I think the statement I read indicates that at the first conferences, which are at the initiation of study, the district engineer shall notify the local governing bodies of the provision of the so-called Hegland bill.

DR. WOOD: This is to acquaint them with their responsibilities and their duties and powers under the section of the Highway Code. This first substantial section of the bill also states that the community may designate officials and officers to deal directly with you during this period of conferences and advice in regard to the freeway location. Now this is the directive, you see, to the local people to proceed to get their own house in order. This is one phase that is not covered and you can't cover in your resolution, but is covered in the substantive features of this bill.

Another one is that the community may and the department shall accept general plans and studies and so on, as indicating their own preference and their own decisions. Now you see this isn't a directive to you as much as it is to the local people to get their own house in order again. These factors can't be covered in your resolution and can be covered in the legislation.

There are other factors here, I think, that have not been covered in the resolution that are important. The first is this question of notification, notice of hearings, publication of notification in the press. The purpose of this after long study by the subcommittee was to be sure that all the factors including maps and including the alternate routes and so on, were presented in each locality. There was great discussion, as you know, you sat in on some of these conferences, in regard to this action. The main purpose being that the committee felt that there should be assurance at the legislative side that the full notice and the full facts were presented and that these would not be dependent upon the feelings of the local newspaper editor upon a news release by your department.

Another section, this is 216. I'm going through these substantive sections to try to point out some of the voids in the resolution. The whole purpose of Section 216 was to require that the same type of information that went to the commission from the staff of the commission, which is the Division of Highways, regarding the selection of a route and the considerations and the economic information involved on why this route was more feasible than another route, all this data would be submitted to the locality 45 days before the hearing by the commission. Now, the feeling of the subcommittee, at this time was that, if this was submitted to the locality and they had all the facts upon which to discuss this matter, they would be in a position then to defend any position or to support the division and the commission in the hearings.

One of the other provisions of this section, which is in reality another section, 217, of the measure, was that at this time the Division of Highways was to request an agreement from the board of supervisors or from the city commission regarding the closing of streets * * * an official resolution of this agency. Now if it were accomplished before the final commission hearing on the recommendation of the division to the commission on the selection, then the whole argument would be settled at this time Now the purpose of this was not caprice on the part of the subcommittee. It was to settle some of these controversies that could only be settled locally before they appeared and were thrashed out in heated argument in front of the commission.

Now these are the substantive measures that I think have been left out of your resolution, and some of them you can't handle by resolution. Now the question of the final hearing in Sacramento was one that we felt that the local agencies were entitled to, and actually if there were no problems involved, and this has often been the case on these locations, there would be no time consumed by the commission. It would be a simple perfunctory sort of adoption.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: Now, Fred, you made the comment that you thought that the requirement of 45-days' notice might cause undue delay in getting some of the freeway routes adopted. Haven't the facts of the matter been just the opposite that where you have had conferences and where people understood what you were trying to do, usually you get hearings waived. But I can remember this Junipero Serra thing has been holding fire practically as long as I have been in the Legislature, for years, and it has been just recently, Lee, that you have finally adopted a route and there are still problems concerning it. There are other freeways that we know about where there have been repeated problems. Isn't it true that, if you had been required to sit down with these people and furnished them your figures and your reasons for doing it and then had the advantage of legislation which required them to answer, we could have probably saved many years' time on some of these freeways.

MR. BAGSHAW: No, I don't think that would have been the case, Mr. Chairman. The Junipero Serra has only been in the State Highway System and a matter that we have been concerned with for less than two years.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: Oh, it's just been two years since you agreed to take it into the highway system.

MR. BAGSHAW: We had not theretofore made any studies or had any concern with it or any responsibility in connection with it. It's really gone through in a remarkably fast period of time. Now as far as having hearings in Sacramento, as I read the law this morning, it says, "that before any freeway route adoption is accomplished by the commission, there should be a hearing in Sacramento." It says nothing about being waived, and that would mean that the commission would be there almost constantly and there would be 35- or 45-day delay here where everyone was in agreement in many of these cases.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: Fred, if nobody shows up at the hearing in a regular commission hearing, it could be dismissed in one minute's time. You could have a list of 25 or 30 of these and, if there was nobody appearing on this or if the hearings had been waived, you could wipe out the whole group.

MR. BAGSHAW: Mr. Chairman, this last report on this question brought the committee up to the end of last year. There is to be another report made by the department to the Legislature in January. Each year we are to report on this whole freeway route adoption program, but we have adopted this year, which is not as yet a matter of formal record to the Legislature, some 30 freeway routes and there have only been five days of hearing, one in Oakland on the Grove-Shafter, two-day hearing on the Junipero Serra, and two days last week on the Westside. All the rest have been done by simple action of the commission after the local city council or board of supervisors, following extensive hearings by the Division of Highways, have said, "We've talked this out enough, we are satisfied that we now have all the facts, we don't think any further public good would be accomplished by the commission coming down into the community and having a hearing."

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: No, the final hearing required here was in Sacramento.

MR. BAGSHAW: That's right.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: And the point is that when you finally bring this to the commission for their final action, it is finally done in a public meeting anyway, isn't it?

MR. BAGSHAW: That's right

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: And so in effect anybody that is on the floor can be heard at that time anyway, isn't this true?

MR. BAGSHAW: Yes. The procedure very briefly is, and I may be telling the committee something they already know, that the State Highway Engineer makes a recommendation to the commission at a formal meeting that here's the problem, we've made studies, here's our recommendation. The commission then directs him to contact the local city government, the local county government, that this matter is before them for consideration They haven't gone into it, they haven't made any decision. Do you or do you not think it's in the public interest for the commission to go down into your community and hold public hearings before they make a decision? If the answer is yes, as in the case of this little town of Yermo that I mentioned, the commission goes and holds a hearing before they take action If the answer is no, which is in the majority of cases, then the commission gives 30 days' time and notice that within 30 days they propose to act. In that time and before they act, any interested individual or group or governing body has the opportunity to come before the commission and be heard before final action is taken.

DR. WOOD: After these hearings that the subcommittee held over a period of two years, it was the conclusion of the subcommittee that because of your local hearings where the commission itself was a participant that the commission became a party to the decision and you did not have really a quasi-judicial hearing on the final adoption, do you follow me? In other words, the commission itself sat in on the arguments in the locality between your division people and the local people. The whole purpose of this procedure was to set up a system whereby the responsible administrative people in the field who attempt to adjust most of these problems or at least pinpoint them, so that when they appeared before the commission, the commission would not have been involved in this thing earlier and could listen to the facts in an unprejudiced sort of way. Do you think that this is possible under your present procedure?

MR BAGSHAW: I think that the fact of the matter is that when the commission meets this month they don't know, as of now, what the State Highway Engineer is going to bring before them in the way of a recommendation for a freeway location in a particular area. He presents it. Outside of the fact that generally knowing there is a problem coming before them some day in the area, they are not well-informed on the details.

DR. WOOD. Unless, of course, they sat in on these hearings locally.

MR. BAGSHAW: They don't sit on the local * * *

DR. WOOD: They were doing this. You are saying that they are not now doing it.

MR. BAGSHAW: No. In one case, I think Mr. Bishop sat in on a hearing on the Junipero Serra, he walked in at the meeting, sat in the audience. Aside from that, the commission generally is certainly not in on these early hearings by the state highway engineers. I sit in on some of them because part of my work is when the commission comes to a conclusion to write some of these reports I don't participate in it. I don't discuss it with the members of the commission, that is, until it gets to the point where they are making a decision

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: One of the things that we are putting in the record here today is that this is a two-sided coin, all right, that while the Legislature was endeavoring to set up certain policies for the commission to act within, at the same time particularly for the benefit for those in the audience, we were also setting up certain requirements for the counties and the cities and the local agencies to meet at the same time. That it is not fair and the Legislature is not interested in simply setting up a set of rules which would make freeway progress in this State a shambles. What we are trying to do is to answer the question of really getting to the problem of other than just straight dollar values, the human and economical relationships within the communities, but at the same time we want the communities themselves to have by law certain responsibilities of being prepared after due notice and being ready to give you their answer. So, I think that this is one of the things that people must understand that was in the legislation that we have had.

I notice that we have been joined by Assemblyman John O'Connell and, John, if you would like to sit up with the committee you are quite welcome to. If you have any questions of the witnesses, you are quite welcome to join with the committee in doing so.

DR. WOOD: Mr. Bagshaw, you stated that one of the advantages of the resolution type of approach to this problem was that you were able to modify the procedure as you moved forward.

MR. BAGSHAW: Yes.

DR. WOOD: And in the process of discussing that point, you said, for example, that now after the location has been determined the commission prepares a report that summarizes all the reasoning, this is economic and engineering, I assume, including community values, and this report then is made available to the local people to help convince them that the selection is a proper one, is this true?

MR. BAGSHAW: That's right.

DR. WOOD: Now, under this Section 216, this is the one that would ask that the Division of Highways submit to the locality the same type of brief, the same sort of information, including a request for a resolution agreeing to the closing of streets. The purpose of this, you see, was to submit to these local people these types of data so they would have the same basis for review of this situation before the adoption. The whole purpose of the procedure is to involve them before the commission makes its own stand. Do you feel that this new amendment to your procedure in regard to notifying the people afterwards is a better process than notifying them before the decision is made?

MR. BAGSHAW: Well, Mr Wood, these matters are all discussed with the local governmental officials and the State Highway Engineer holds a public meeting, a record of which is kept by a court reporter, and the matter of the streets that are affected while not final, certainly are all discussed. After the adoptions are out certainly the State cannot legally and would not as a matter of policy want to go in and build a freeway through a city or county and affect any city streets or county roads without formal approval of the city government. That's the procedure now. Also, when the commission acts, they adopt a general line and the exact type of structure is not known at that time whether this street is going to be closed, whether there will be an interchange at this block or two blocks away. So that you might there be determining something in advance which was not going to result eventually.

DR. WOOD: A question there, Mr. Bagshaw, don't you think that the engineering detail, the engineering facts, on your interchanges and on whether this is a submerged freeway or whether it's elevated would have a great deal to do with the local communities' position in regard to an agreement on the location?

MR. BAGSAW: Certainly, I agree with that.

DR. WOOD: Yet these facts are not submitted at the time the committee is requested to agree to make up its mind.

MR. BAGSHAW: They are not known as facts and as Mr. Booker testified later, being the man who actually designs these freeways and builds them, he might be able to talk more intelligently than I can, but the design does change after the law is adopted.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: Yes, and of course, when you change the design from a freeway that is either on a ground level to an elevated freeway or to a submerged freeway, you probably upset the calculations of the whole planning commission and everything else within the area, but they are already stuck because they have agreed to this particular route.

MR. BAGSHAW: They don't have to sign a freeway agreement if they are not satisfied with the proposal of the State to affect any city street or county road. That's certainly the final word that the local governing body has on the development of these freeways.

CHAIRMAN LINDSAY: I just wanted to mention, too, that I notice on the title of Mr. Meyers' bill that John O'Connell is one of the principal co-authors of it indicating that he's been extremely interested in the freeway problem also in the City of San Francisco.

ASSEMBLYMAN REES: Fred, the Highway Commission is opposed to any of their resolutions being placed in the code. I was wondering if you could perhaps do the committee a favor by taking the code sections of the Dolwig-Meyers bill, which Mr. Wood read, which referred to the duties of local government and their relations with the commission, if you could take those code sections and present them to the Highway Commission and see what the Highway Commission would accept in terms of legislation. I hate to get into the spot where the commission says we are opposed period to any reference in the code. I think that both sides have to give and take. If there are some parts you are opposed to, let's put them in a different bill. Have two bills going side-by-side. But in one bill let's see if we can't reach some agreement as to the function of local government, local planning commissions, in terms of the route adoption process. Now, can you do that? I would like to get away from this 100 percent no on everything. * * *

MR. BAGSHAW: Well, I would say first, Mr. Rees and members of the committee, that the commission, while they are concerned with what the committees of the Legislature do and what the Legislature does and they are interested in bills that are introduced and those that are passed and not passed, they don't take any formal action either opposing this bill or approving it; but the department, of course, is interested and I would be glad to do what you suggest with the commission. I'd just like to make a very brief statement. Any proposal either by resolution of the commission, by committee action, by the enactment of legislation that is produced that the members of the commission feel will improve the procedures and be in the general interest of improving the California highway program, I'm confident that you will find the commission unanimously in support of it. They are not trying to protect any rights or prerogatives they have. They are fundamentally interested in getting on with the building of the important system of highways in California. I'm sure they would be in favor individually of any legislation whether it's written into the law or whether it's by resolution. I think you have a mistaken notion that they are sitting there guarding jealously some rights that they have and are unwilling to let go of them.

ASSEMBLYMAN REES: Of course, I have the notion, Fred, but I don't think it's mistaken. I would appreciate it if you could submit that to them, because I think we can actually come out with some legislation that both of us agree on.

MR. BAGSHAW: Would that be Senate Bill No. 725?

ASSEMBLYMAN REES: Yes, the Dolwig Bill * * * the amendment that Sam was reading off to you on local legislation.

DR. WOOD: Fred, there is another question. Does the commission have a staff of its own?

MR. BAGSHAW: No. The Division of Highways is the staff for the Department of Public Works. The Director of Public Works, as you know, is the chairman of the commission. We have a limited staff. The Division of Highways has the technical staff. They are, in effect, the staff of the commission.

DR. WOOD: Then the commission perforce is faced with the types of data and the recommendations of the Division of Highways.

MR. BAGSHAW: Yes, they can and occasionally do outside, but largely they depend on us.

DR. WOOD: Has the commission ever been known to hire a staff to advise the commission in an area where the local people are in heavy conflict with the staff of the division?

MR. BAGSHAW: Not to my knowledge.

A detailed comparison of the two procedures is contained in the opinion of the Legislative Counsel attached to this letter report.

Following these hearings and staff investigations during the past interim, the subcommittee through an executive session submits the same legislation vetoed by the Governor in 1957. This legislation is supported through the report of the subcommittee at that time, Volume 13, No 13, and the transcripts of both the Los Angeles and San Francisco hearings, which were printed and given wide distribution. These documents, in addition to this letter, constitute our report and will substantiate and the Subcommittee on Public Works endorses Assembly Bill ____.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 25, 1959

Hon. Charles W. Meyers
Assembly Chamber

State Freeways—No. 8739

DEAR MR. MEYERS. You have requested an analysis of the differences between the 1955 and 1958 freeway location policy resolutions of the California Highway Commission * and a statement of which of these changes appear to be similar to the provisions of Senate Bill No. 725 of the 1957 Regular Session (which bill was passed by both houses but pocket-vetoed by the Governor).

The 1955 resolution did not provide for conferences with local officials and public hearings until sufficient engineering and economic data had been accumulated to support a tentative conclusion as to a basic plan for the location of the freeway.

The 1958 resolution provides for such conferences at the initiation of studies and from time to time thereafter, requires the State Highway Engineer to notify the governing body of the local agency of the provisions of Section 75.5 of the Streets and Highways Code (added by Chapter 69, 1956 (1st Ex.) Session, to provide for consideration, when requested, of a freeway's effect on community values), and provides for obtaining of local master or general plans if available. After sufficient information has been accumulated, public hearings would be required. This procedure under the 1958 resolution appears to be substantially similar to that proposed in Senate Bill No. 725, although not as detailed (see Secs. 212-215, incl., S. & H. C., in Senate Bill No. 725).

From this stage of the proceedings on, the procedure under both the 1955 resolution and the 1958 resolution are substantially similar. In other words, after the conference with local officials and the public hearings, the State Highway Engineer would submit a report thereon to the commission and a recommendation as to the freeway location. Thereafter, hearings would be held by the commission, after notice of its intended action, if such hearings were requested by the local governing body, or such hearings could be held by the commission on its own. One difference under the 1958 resolution is the requirement of consideration of information submitted pursuant to Section 75.5 of the code, both in the State Highway Engineer's report to the commission and at hearings held by the commission.

Senate Bill No. 725 would have required notification to the governing bodies of local agencies affected of the department's proposed recommendation to the commission prior to the commission's hearings; and would have required such notification to include a statement of the law as to agreements for the closing of local streets and highways and a request that the local governing body adopt a resolution of its position with respect to the recommended freeway location. The bill would have required a public hearing by the commission in the affected area, upon request by the governing body of the local agency concerned, and a public hearing by the commission in Sacramento. None of these provisions in Senate Bill No. 725 are contained in the 1958 resolution, although the 1958 resolution does contain a provision for the holding of a hearing by the commission, if requested by the local governing body.

* The 1955 resolution was adopted on February 18, 1955.
The 1958 resolution was adopted on February 26, 1958.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. R. Wilbur Simmons:

As Saint Patrick once prayed for God's safekeeping, we use his words in our prayer today:

"May the strength of God pilot us. May the power of God preserve us May the wisdom of God instruct us. May the hand of God protect us. May the way of God direct us May the shield of God defend us

May the host of God guard us against the snares of the Evil One and the temptations of the world

May Christ be with us Christ before us Christ in us. Christ over us May Thy salvation, O Lord, be always ours this day and forevermore"—AMEN.
