WHEREAS, The Honorable H. Allen Smith, Member of the United States House of Representatives from the 20th District of California, has been appointed a member of the House Rules Committee; and

WHEREAS, Congressman Smith was formerly a Member of the Assembly, and served with distinction as Chairman of the Judiciary Committee and performed outstanding work on the revision of the state narcotics law; and

Relating to congratulating the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association for consummation of a special agreement on mechanization and modernization

WHEREAS, The International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, representing the dock workers of the Pacific Coast, and the Pacific Maritime Association, representing the employing steamship and stevedoring companies, have reached a five and one-half year special agreement on mechanization and modernization; and

WHEREAS, The agreement at the same time permits and encourages the employing companies to introduce labor-saving machinery and devices and to institute more efficient methods of cargo handling without individual speedup; and

WHEREAS, The parties to the agreement have gone far toward solution of one of the most pressing problems of a difficult era; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Assembly of the State of California does hereby take official notice of this epochal achievement brought about by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Pacific Maritime Association through the processes of peaceable collective bargaining, and extends to these parties its hearty congratulations; and, be it further

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Assembly Chamber

A.B. 242—Wiretapping—No. 8975

DEAR MR O'CONNELL You have asked whether the wiretapping permitted under Assembly Bill No 242, as introduced, 1961 Regular Session, would constitute a violation of Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act and whether the Legislature, in adopting this bill, would be sanctioning conduct which is criminal under the federal law

Opinion

In our opinion interception and divulgence of a telephone or telegraph communication pursuant to A B 242 would constitute a violation of Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act It thus could be said that by enacting the bill the Legislature would be authorizing conduct which is criminal under the federal law

Analysis

Assembly Bill No 242, as introduced, provides a procedure whereby a district attorney or the Attorney General on application to the superior court, accompanied by a prescribed affidavit, can secure from the court an order authorizing wiretapping for the purpose of investigating criminal offenses under the narcotics laws The bill provides that evidence so obtained could be used in prosecutions for such offenses

Section 605 of the Federal Communications Act of 1934 provides, in part, with reference to communications by wire or radio:

". . . no person not being authorized by the sender shall intercept any communication and divulge or publish the existence, contents, substance, purport, effect, or meaning of such intercepted communication to any person." (47 U S.C., Sec. 605 )

It is made clear by the cases that although Section 605 does not directly prohibit admission in evidence in a state court of evidence obtained by wiretapping, testimony in court constitutes divulgence within the meaning of the term as used in Section 605, and there is no exception to the section for state and local officers acting pursuant to a state law similar to Assembly Bill 242 (Schwartz v Texas, 344 U S 199, 97 L. ed 231; Benanti v United States, 355 U S 96, 2 L ed 2d 126)

At this late date the United States Supreme Court apparently has not decided whether interception, without divulgence, violates Section 605 (see Benanti v United States, supra, 355 U S at p 100, fn 5), but clearly interception and divulgence do Assembly Bill No. 242 contemplates both, i e, interception and use of the information thereby obtained in court We therefore conclude that an officer who would intercept and divulge pursuant to the terms of the bill would be guilty of a violation of Section 605

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By TERRY L BAUM, Deputy

We also take note of some cases that don't fit very well into the above outline.

Where the trial court erroneously refused to require disclosure, but defendant in his later testimony admitted to the elements of the offense, there was no prejudicial error requiring reversal

People v Boyd, 173 Cal App 2d 537

* This includes cases where the court said that neither ground for disclosure, i e., that the informant was a material witness or that his identity was necessary with respect to the issue of probable cause, was present, or where the court said that there was no evidence that there was any informant at all

When the prosecution has identified the informant, it has no duty to produce the witness

People v Prewitt, 52 Cal 2d 330
People v Rodriquez, 180 Cal. App 2d 434

When the defendant has received all the information the prosecution has about the identity of the informant, there is no violation of defendant's rights, even though the information is not very complete.

People v Escoto, 185 A.C A. 682
People v Venegas, 185 A C A 885

Where defendant was arrested, released because it was believed that the identity of the informant would have to be disclosed, then rearrested and prosecuted many months later, after the informant had left the jurisdiction, and was convicted, there was a denial of a fair trial requiring reversal

People v. Kuhoa, 53 Cal 2d 748

However, when the prosecution at first declined to identify informant, but defendant consented to delay in proceedings pending determination of some appellate court cases relating to identification of informants, and prosecution at second preliminary hearing, identified informant, but he had, in the meantime, been killed in an automobile accident, there was no denial of defendant's rights

Assembly Chamber

A.B. 205, 208, 308, A C.A. 3, 15; S B. 82—Admissibility of Evidence— No. 8993

DEAR MR O'CONNELL You have directed our attention to Assembly Bills Nos 205, 208, and 308, Assembly Constitutional Amendments Nos

3 and 15, and Senate Bill No 82, all as introduced, 1961 Regular Session You ask:

Question

(1) Under the rule of People v Cahan, 44 Cal 2d 434, is the only evidence excluded that which is seized in violation of the Fourth Amendment guarantees against unreasonable searches and seizures?

(2) Is an unreasonable search and seizure by a state officer a violation of the United States Constitution?

(3) Is it accurate to state that all of the above mentioned bills and measures would permit the use of evidence seized in violation of the United States Constitution?

(4) Under the above mentioned bills, could evidence be used although it had been gained by secreting a microphone or recording device in the bedroom of a suspect?

(5) Under the above mentioned bills, would evidence be admitted if it had been obtained by unlawfully breaking into a private home?

(6) Under the provisions of the above mentioned bills, would evidence be admitted if it were obtained as the result of wholesale arrests, i.e., "rousts"?

Opinion

(1) Yes.

(2) Yes

(3) Yes

(4) Yes, as to A B 205, 208, and 308 and S B 82 A C A 3 relates only to admission of narcotics and would not admit a recording or transcription obtained by secreting a microphone or recording device in a bedroom It would appear, however, that if narcotics are taken from the person of an individual as a result of obtaining information by such use of a microphone or recording device, the narcotics would be admissible A C A 15 would not admit such a recording or transcription However, if, as a result of such use of a microphone or recording device, the police are enabled to seize evidence outside the curtilage of a dwelling house, that evidence would be admissible

(5) Yes, with the same qualification as to A C A. 15

(6) Yes

Analysis

Assembly Bills Nos. 205 and 208, and Senate Bill No 82 are identical Each would add Section 11689 to the Health and Safety Code, to read

> "In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division [Div 10, re narcotics], all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged, shall be admissible No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights "

Assembly Bill No 308 contains the above provisions but excepts therefrom evidence seized as a result of a "lead" obtained by wiretapping.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 3 adds to Section 19 of Article I of the California Constitution the following sentence:

> "No evidence consisting of narcotics taken from the person of an individual shall be excluded in any criminal proceeding because the manner in which such evidence was obtained constituted an unreasonable search and seizure."

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 15 would add to Section 19 of Article I of the California Constitution the following provision:

> "In any criminal proceeding evidence of the commission of a narcotics offense, including but not limited to, narcotics, opium pipes, and "hypodermic needles or other paraphernalia used to administer narcotics, or a deadly weapon, seized by any peace officer outside the curtilage of any dwelling house in this State, that is, outside the boundaries of the area normally used in conjunction with occupancy of the dwelling house, shall not be rendered inadmissible in evidence because of the manner in which it was seized This section shall not be construed to prohibit the Legislature from enacting legislation permitting introduction of evidence seized within the curtilage of a dwelling house, regardless of the manner in which it was obtained"

(1) and (2) In People v Cahan, 44 Cal 2d 434, the California Supreme Court held that evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure is not admissible in a criminal prosecution over the objection of the defendant The prohibition against unreasonable searches and seizures is found in the Fourth Amendment to the United States Constitution and is incorporated in the Fourteenth Amendment By virtue of the latter provision, the prohibition applies to the state, and to state officers (Wolf v Colorado, 338 U S 25, 93 L ed 1782, People v Cahan, supra) Perhaps some question might be raised whether the exclusionary rule does not apply also to evidence "illegally" obtained but not obtained by unreasonable search and seizure We are not aware of a case in which the California courts have so stated, and the Cahan case itself dealt with evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure *

(3) Each of the bills and measures you have referred to, though they vary somewhat in breadth, would admit evidence seized in violation of the United States Constitution A B 205 and A B. 208 and S B 82 would, in cases under Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, admit any relevant and material evidence, regardless of the manner in which the evidence was obtained Thus, they would admit evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure The same is true of A B. 308, unless

* It has been suggested that the federal exclusionary rule may exclude evidence obtained by means which are illegal but do not constitute an unreasonable search and seizure, but that it may also be that the United States Supreme Court has taken the view that if officers act illegally in obtaining evidence they obtain that evidence by unreasonable search and seizure (Grant, "The Tarnished Silver Platter: Federalism and Admissibility of Illegally Seized Evidence," 8 U C L A L Rev. 1, 19-20)

the evidence was obtained by a seizure that was a result of a "lead" obtained by wiretapping Evidence obtained in violation of the United States Constitution would be admitted under A C A 3 if the evidence consists of narcotics taken from the person of an individual Under A C A 15 evidence obtained in violation of the United States Constitution would be admissible if seized outside the curtilage of a dwelling house.

(4) and (5) Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 15 adopts a nonexclusionary rule with respect to seizures outside the curtilage of a "dwelling house" It leaves the exclusionary rule intact so far as acts committed within the curtilage of a dwelling house are concerned Thus, A C A 15 would not admit a transcription of conversation obtained by secreting a microphone or recording device in the bedroom of a dwelling house Does this provision relate only to a house in the limited sense or does it apply as well to other places in which a bedroom can be situated? Although the matter is by no means clear, we believe that "dwelling house" would be construed to refer also to apartments, motel rooms, hotel rooms, and similar places "Dwelling house" is a term of variable meaning, and, depending on its context, does or does not apply to apartments, hotel rooms and similar places (see 28 C J S "Dwelling or Dwelling House," p 599, and see numerous cases digested in 13 Words and Phrases, p 716 et seq ) In the case at hand, it is used with reference to searches and seizures, and in a section providing that "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable seizures and searches shall not be violated " In this type of provision, "houses" includes an apartment or a room in a hotel or motel (79 C J S "Searches and Seizures," Sec 12) Thus we conclude that A C A 15 would not admit a transcription of conversation obtained by secreting a microphone or recording device in the bedroom of a place of residence nor would it admit evidence seized in a private home by officers who have broken into the home.

However, A C A 15 admits, regardless of the manner in which it was obtained, any evidence seized outside the curtilage of a dwelling house It thus appears that if, as a result of secreting a microphone or recording device in a bedroom or breaking into a private home, officers obtain a lead which enables them to seize evidence outside the curtilage of a dwelling house and they seize such evidence, it would be admissible

A C A 3 relates only to evidence consisting of narcotics taken from the person of an individual Thus, this measure would clearly admit evidence consisting of such narcotics so seized by breaking into a private home It would not admit a transcription of conversation made by secreting a microphone or recording device in a bedroom However, if, as a result of so secreting a microphone or recording device, officers obtain a lead enabling them to seize narcotics from the person of an individual, the narcotics would be admissible.

(6) Evidence obtained by wholesale arrests without probable cause would be admissible under each of these bills and measures As noted previously, each bill permits introduction of evidence regardless of the manner in which it was obtained, except that A C A. 3 relates only to evidence consisting of narcotics, A.C A. 15 relates to evidence seized outside the curtilage of a dwelling house, and A B 308 would not admit evidence seized as a result of leads obtained by wiretapping

Assembly Chamber

A.B. 205, 208, 308; A.C.A. 3, 15; S B. 82—Admissibility of Evidence—No. 8993

DEAR MR O'CONNELL This is a correction and amplification of our opinion written under the above heading and request number, dated February 7, 1961, insofar as the opinion relates to Assembly Bill No 308 (Flournoy).

On pages 2 and 2a of the opinion, we stated

> "Assembly Bills Nos 205 and 208, and Senate Bill No 82 are identical Each would add Section 11689 to the Health and Safety Code, to read·
> > 'In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division [Div 10, re narcotics], all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged, shall be admissible. No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights '
> Assembly Bill No 308 contains the above provisions but excepts therefrom evidence seized as a result of a 'lead' obtained by wiretapping "

This is not accurate because the only evidence that A B 308 would admit (with an exception where the evidence was obtained as a result of wiretapping) is evidence consisting of a narcotic or narcotics The bill would add Section 11689 to the Health and Safety Code, providing:

> "In any criminal action or other proceeding to enforce provisions of this division [Div 10, H & S C., re narcotics], evidence consisting of a narcotic or narcotics shall, if relevant, material, and not otherwise privileged, be admissible regardless of the manner in which it was obtained, unless obtained by a seizure that was a derivative of acquisition of information in violation of Section 640 of the Penal Code or federal law of like import Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of these rights "

Similarly, on page 4 of the opinion, we stated

"A B 205 and A B 208 and S B 82 would, in cases under Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, admit any relevant and material evidence, regardless of the manner in which the evidence was obtained Thus, they would admit evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure The same is true of A B 308, unless the evidence was obtained by a seizure that was a result of a 'lead' obtained by wiretapping "

Rather, A B 308 would so admit evidence only if the evidence consists of a narcotic or narcotics

Accordingly, we believe that our discussion of Question (4) should be modified with reference to A B 308 The question was.

"(4) Under the above mentioned bills, could evidence be used although it had been gained by secreting a microphone or recording device in the bedroom of a suspect?"

Our answer was:

"(4) Yes, as to A B 205, 208, and 308, and S B 82 A C A 3 relates only to admission of narcotics and would not admit a recording or transcription obtained by secreting a microphone or recording device in a bedroom It would appear, however, that if narcotics are taken from the person of an individual as a result of obtaining information by such use of a microphone or recording device, the narcotics would be admissible A C.A. 15 would not admit such a recording or transcription However, if, as a result of such use of a microphone or recording device, the police are enabled to seize evidence outside the curtilage of a dwelling house, that evidence would be admissible "

With respect to A B. 308, this opinion should state, instead of a flat "Yes".

A B 308 relates only to the admission of evidence consisting of a narcotic or narcotics and would not admit a recording or transcription obtained by secreting a microphone or recording device in a bedroom It would appear, however, that if the narcotic or narcotics were seized as a result of obtaining information by such use of a microphone or recording device (but not by wiretapping), the narcotic or narcotics would be admissible

It should be understood that in our discussion of Questions (5) and (6), relating to evidence obtained by unlawfully breaking into a house or obtained incident to a "roust," our affirmative answers refer, with reference to A B 308, only to evidence consisting of a narcotic or narcotics.

Letter of Transmittal
Bulletin No. 39-58—Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1957-1958

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, February 15, 1961

Hon Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Assembly Volume I of Department of Water Resources Bulletin 39-58, entitled "Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1957-58" This is the latest of the Bulletin 39 series resulting from 1929 legislative authorization In that year the Legislature, by enacting Chapter 832, directed that a continuing investigation be conducted of basic hydrologic data to promote the conservation, development, and utilization of the water resources of Southern California The effect of this legislation was included in Sections 225 and 226 of the State Water Code when the code was established in 1943 This report is one of a series begun in 1932 as a result of the foregoing authorization

Bulletin No 39 contains a description of surface water supply, ground water supply, sea water intrusion, outflow and sewage discharge to the ocean, weather modification operations, and construction activities affecting water supply conditions Bulletin 39-58 has been published in three volumes The text of the report is contained in Volume I, supplemented by data tabulations in Volumes II and III The last two volumes are useful primarily to agencies concerned with detailed engineering studies of water supply conditions

The data assembled herein indicate the 1957-58 season was above normal, the second such season since the current drought began in 1944 Some improvement was noted in surface water storage, and in a number of basins ground water levels increased Despite this, the Southern California area is heavily dependent upon water imported from the Owens and Colorado Rivers for supply This dependence is further emphasized by the dry years of 1958-59 and 1959-60, which more than offset the beneficial effects of the wet year discussed in this bulletin These problems have been further compounded by the continued expansion of population which is imposing ever greater demands on existing water supplies and conveyance systems

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE, Director

House Resolution No. 112

Congratulating George Washington High School on its 25th Anniversary

WHEREAS, This year marks the 25th anniversary of the opening of George Washington High School in San Francisco; and

WHEREAS, The history of the school may be said to have commenced in 1861 when a plot of ground 150 by 240 feet at the site of the present school was set aside for future school purposes, and

WHEREAS, The first students attending George Washington High School on its opening in 1936 were obliged to either stand up or sit on the floor because of a scarcity of chairs and desks, and

WHEREAS, Since that time, George Washington has proudly seen its alumni become leading citizens in the fields of music, science, law, the theater, athletics, and politics, to name but a few, and

WHEREAS, The school has contributed greatly to the culture of San Francisco since its first spring concert was held in 1941, and

WHEREAS, Its athletic achievements have filled its trophy cases to overflowing, winning, as it has, an average of eight citywide athletic championships a year since 1946, and

WHEREAS, Most important of all, George Washington has become one of the outstanding high schools of the State in respect to scholastic achievement, and recently earned an Award of Merit based on the collective scholarship record made by those graduates who entered the University of California in the 1959-60 school year; and

WHEREAS, As it was summed up in a magazine article several years ago, the history of George Washington High School is not just in the bright lights of a few individuals or activities but in the kind of scholars and citizens it produces; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members commend the principal, faculty, students, and alumni of George Washington High School on their distinguished record of scholastic achievement, and offer heartiest congratulations to the school on its 25th anniversary; and be it further

Governmental Tort Liability—No. 8902

DEAR MR DAHL You have asked if, in view of the recent decision of the State Supreme Court in Muskopf v Corning Hospital District, 55 Adv Cal 216 (decision filed January 27, 1961), abolishing the doctrine of governmental immunity from liability for the torts of its employees committed in a ministerial capacity, it is necessary to establish an insurance fund for the payment of tort claims against governmental bodies

In the Muskopf decision the State Supreme Court abolished the heretofore judicially established sovereign immunity doctrine that a governmental body was immune from tort liability arising out of the acts or omissions of its employees The Muskopf case held liability could be imposed for negligence arising out of the performance of duties in a ministerial capacity In a companion decision, Lipman v Brisbane Elementary School District, 55 Adv Cal 229, the Supreme Court made it clear that although the judicial doctrine of sovereign immunity was abolished by the Muskopf case, this did not mean that immunity from suit would not extend to the governmental body for the discretionary conduct of public officials in situations where the public interest so required The Lipman case held that liability would not be imposed for the discretionary acts of public officials acting within the scope of their employment where the public interest is in maintaining immunity from suit for a governmental body

However, as a result of the Muskopf decision there is potential liability for tort imposed upon the State and other governmental bodies in the State which is substantially greater than the potential liability which could have been imposed prior to that decision

There are existing procedures for the submission of claims against the State (see Gov C Secs 600 to 655, inclusive) and against local governmental bodies (see Gov C. Secs. 700 to 730, inclusive) which would be applicable to tort claims arising as a result of the Muskopf decision

There are also existing provisions providing for the payment of judgments against the State (see Gov C Secs 653 to 655, inclusive) and against local governmental bodies (see Gov C Secs 50170 to 50175, inclusive, Ed C Sec 904) which would be applicable to tort judgments secured as a result of the Muskopf decision

If the amount of a judgment against a local governmental body or school district is too large to pay in one fiscal year, provision is made for extending the payment period over several fiscal years (see Gov. C Secs 50170 to 50175; Ed C Sec 904).

With regard to judgments against the State, a legislative appropriation is necessary in all cases for the payment of such judgments (Cal. Const, Art IV, Sec 22, see Polk v State, 138 Cal 384, Westinghouse Elec & Mfg Co v Chambers, 169 Cal. 131) This appropriation may be made in a lump sum amount for the payment of all judgments entered against the State during a fiscal year, or it may be a separate appropriation for each judgment as it is entered and presented to the Legislature, or it may be a continuing statutory appropriation for the payment of all judgments of a particular kind

The state and local governmental bodies are authorized to insure against tort liability in certain specified cases (see e g, Ed C Secs 1044, 1045, 8112—negligence of officers, employees, students; Veh C. 17003—vehicle liability; Gov C Sec. 53056—dangerous or defective condition of property)

Thus, the payment of a tort judgment or claim against the State or local governmental bodies can be made pursuant to existing procedures, or an insurance fund can be established for that purpose The question of which method should be used is one of legislative determination upon which we do not express an opinion.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH E COOMES, JR, Deputy

House Resolution No. 113

Relating to compensating the Philippine Scouts for their services rendered in World War II

WHEREAS, The Philippine Scouts units serving with the United States Army rendered heroic and invaluable services in behalf of the United States of America and the Free World during World War II, and suffered particular hardship and cruelties in the early days of that conflict when their homeland was overrun by the hostile forces of the common enemy, and

WHEREAS, The Philippine Scouts served side by side with American troops and conducted themselves with great valor and distinction in the campaigns in the Philippine Islands, and particularly in the battles on the Bataan Peninsula and at the island of Corregidor, and

WHEREAS, During these campaigns and prior thereto the Philippine Scouts were compensated pursuant to pay scales fixed by the Government of the United States with levels of remuneration substantially lower than those prescribed for other soldiers serving with the United States Army, with the result that the compensation received by these brave men was not commensurate with the extraordinary service they rendered, and

WHEREAS, Action taken by the Congress of the United States, through enactment of Public Law 607 of the 77th Congress on June 16, 1942, to raise pay scales applicable to the Philippine Scouts to levels of equality with those of other soldiers serving with the United States Army were never fully effectuated in respect to services rendered by those men in the early campaigns in the Philippine Islands, and

WHEREAS, Many important and prominent personages, including the former commander in the Philippine area, General Douglas MacArthur, have commented upon and urged that appropriate actions be undertaken to effect the long overdue adjustments in compensations earned by the men who served in the Philippine Scouts during those critical days, and

WHEREAS, There is presently a bill in Congress, H R No 1133, to provide benefits for members and survivors of members of the Philippine Scouts on the same basis as such benefits are provided for other members of the armed forces of the United States and their survivors, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Congress of the United States is respectfully requested to enact into law H R 1133 to compensate those Philippine Scouts who served in World War II for the lesser wage and salary amounts paid them at that time, and be it further

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES

WASHINGTON, D C., February 15, 1961

Mr Arthur A Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

DEAR FRIEND Whereas you asked me to acknowledge receipt of Assembly Joint Resolution No 5, adopted by the California Legislature on February 8, 1961, I am pleased so to do

It so happens that several years ago I believe I had the great privilege of emphasizing in Congress that there was great asset available there to be developed ready for the purposes of recreational activities and facilities and uses along similar lines, along channel control works, along the shores of federal reservoirs, lakes, etc., and including making the waterways available for conservation and for wildlife protection and development So, I will be especially pleased to report the receipt of this resolution, and A J R No 7 to the House of Representatives

Cordially

President of the Senate
California State Legislature

Hon Ralph M Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
California State Legislature

GENTLEMEN In accordance with Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 20 (California Statutes, Ch 38, 1960), the attached Report of the Economic Development Agency is respectfully submitted

Yours very truly,

CARL ZACHRISSON, Commissioner

Attach.

ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AGENCY—A.C.R. NO. 20

In April, 1960, by Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 20, the Assembly and Senate requested the Economic Development Agency to.

" submit a report of its recommendations for executive or legislative action necessary to improve the business climate of the State and to include in the report its recommendations for executive or legislative action necessary to create new job opportunities for the people of this State "

Since "business climate" like climate itself, is composed of more than yesterday's rain, today's temperature, and tomorrow's sunshine, more than yesterday's unemployment, today's taxes, and tomorrow's markets, the Economic Development Agency, in June 1960, contracted for a comprehensive study designed to factually determine California's business climate and job opportunities, past and present, intending with this information to place itself in a position for action designed to strengthen and improve the State's future economy

It was at once apparent that some determinants of California's business climate were national, not regional Federal tax and tariff levies, international relations and defense requirements, the state of the national economy as a whole, both factually and psychologically, are but a few of the many such effecting California's business climate and job opportunities, immediate and long range In this area the powers of the legislative and executive branches of California government may be said to be more persuasive than direct

There are other determinants of business climate and its inseparable corollary, job opportunities, that are directly affected by California legislative and executive action These include not only the ever important state, county and municipal taxes, but such variable locational factors as labor, freight, and utilities. It was with these and other geographically variable costs that the study especially concerned itself

It was carried on under the direction of Dr J A Stockfisch of the University of California, Los Angeles, a recognized authority on the subject It was a long and exhaustive job; was completed as scheduled, and, delivered to the Economic Development Agency early in February, 1961 A digest of it was presented to the Legislature and to the Governor's Council on February 16 Copies of this digest have been given to all Members of the Legislature. Copies of the complete study have been placed with Assemblyman Jesse Unruh as Chairman of the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, and Senator James K. McBride as Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee Additional copies of the complete study will be available as soon as they can be printed

We recommend this study to both legislative and executive branches in the belief that time spent with it will prove valuable in helping to solve some of the many problems now confronting our State It is the intent of the Economic Development Agency to continue its studious consideration of the document and, from time to time, make such recommendations for action, based on its findings, as might seem desirable

Progress reports on a second significant study, this on the Metalworking Industries of California, indicate that it too, will have considerable value in successfully planning California's economic development It is scheduled for completion in early spring, 1961, and will be presented to the Legislature at that time

Conclusions based on such studies as these make it tempting to request legislation to expand the activities and staff of the Economic Development Agency in order to carry through the State and into the nation generally the provable facts of California's favorable business climate and job opportunities However, in the interest of economy, and with the conviction that the same job can be equally well done by an alternate procedure, the agency proposes instead to work closely with the hundreds of existing industrial development groups on local, county, regional and state levels, such as chambers of commerce, development boards, area councils, industrial parks, etc Supplementing and not supplanting their activities, the agency expects to make such suggestions and put such information into their hands that will make this skilled and experienced force even more effective in increasing the profitability and job opportunities of business now operating in California, and in attracting new industry into our State

Through the encouragement of the field staff of the Economic Development Agency, a considerable number of California communities and counties have undertaken studies of their economic resources These are designed to disclose their liabilities as well as assets and to lead to intelligent and productive efforts to improve and broaden their own economic base The agency suggests, guides, and helps in the interpretations of such studies which are generally carried on by volunteer committees in the areas concerned It is planned to continue this work which, to our knowledge, is not being done by anyone else Quite obviously, as the agency gathers more and more experience in this field, it will become increasingly effective as a central point for the interchange of methods, ideas, and promising solutions to economic problems

Preliminary steps have also been taken to establish the Economic Development Agency as a central point of information on all economic studies and surveys having to do with California, past, current and future It is the agency's ambition to be thoroughly informed on such research by private firms, labor organizations, industrial development groups on all levels, and to serve as an informational and coordinating body for such studies carried on by many of our state departments and agencies The agency is hopeful that a year hence, considerable progress will have been made and that this library of California economic information will prove useful to the Legislature, to all departments of state government, and to business and labor generally

To increase the effective service of the Economic Development Agency, headquarters have been moved to Sacramento where the commissioner now has his office The San Francisco office will be closed as of March 1, 1961 The staff functions that were carried on in San Francisco have been transferred to Sacramento headquarters; the field services for the area formerly served out of San Francisco will be directed with equal effectiveness from Sacramento

The agency pledges its full and continuing co-operation with the Legislature, its individual members, its standing and interim committees, with the purpose of achieving a common goal, the maintenance and continuing improvement of the business climate and job opportunities in California

The Economic Development Agency has no specific legislation to propose at this time, but asks as before stated, to reserve that privilege for future action

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, February 18, 1961

Hon John A. O'Connell
Assembly Chamber

A.B. 205, 208, 308; S.B. 82—Admissibility of Evidence—No. 8976

DEAR MR. O'CONNELL: You have submitted to us a newspaper clipping about a case in which a woman seeking revenge on her husband "planted" marijuana cigarettes in his automobile, taping them under the dashboard and under the front seat, then informed the police that marijuana could be found in her husband's car.

You have directed our attention to Assembly Bills No. 205, 208 as amended February 15, 1961, and 308 and Senate Bill No. 82, relating to admissibility of evidence in narcotics cases, and you ask:

Question

If any of these bills passed, would defendant have the right that he now has to demand disclosure of the identity of the informant, whose information constituted the basis for the arrest and search and seizure, so that defendant could attempt to prove that the narcotics were "planted" on him by the informant

Opinion

In our opinion he would not.

Analysis

Assembly Bill No 205, as introduced, and Senate Bill No. 82, as introduced, would each add Section 11689 to the Health and Safety Code, to read

"In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division [Div 10, H. & S C., re narcotics], all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged shall be admissible No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights"

Assembly Bill No. 208, as amended in Assembly February 15, 1961, would add a section of that number reading:

"In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division, all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged and not required to be excluded by the United States Constitution or California Constitution shall be admissible. No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained. Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights.

"This section does not apply to evidence obtained in violation of, or as a result of a violation of, Section 640 of the Penal Code or a federal law of like import."

Thus, this bill differs from Assembly Bill No 205 and Senate Bill No. 82 by the addition of language excluding evidence the admission of which is prohibited by the United States Constitution or California Constitution, and by excluding evidence obtained by wiretapping or as a result of wiretapping but is otherwise the same as Assembly Bill No 205 and Senate Bill No 82

Assembly Bill No 308, as introduced, would add a section of the same number, the same as Assembly Bill No 205 and Senate Bill No. 82 except that it applies to admissibility of evidence consisting of a narcotic or narcotics, and it excludes evidence seized as a result of a "lead" obtained by wiretapping

An effect of the bills is that (with the variations as to the type of evidence covered, as noted above) they would admit evidence although seizure of the evidence was not lawful, e g, it was seized incident to an unlawful arrest. At present, evidence obtained by unreasonable search and seizure is inadmissible over objection by defendant (People v. Cahan, 44 Cal 2d 434).

Under the Cahan rule, the defendant has the right to have evidence excluded when it was seized incident to an arrest without a warrant for a felony, when the arrest was unlawful because the requisite probable cause was absent (see Sec 836, Pen. C) It often happens that in a prosecution under Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code the prosecution will seek to introduce in evidence narcotics seized from the person or premises of defendant, and will offer, in justification of the arrest, and search and seizure, testimony that certain information was received from a confidential informant Under the rule of Priestly v Superior Court, 60 Cal 2d 812, if the information received from the informant is necessary to establish probable cause, defendant is entitled to demand that the identity of the informant be disclosed, or, in the alternative, that testimony as to information received from the informant be stricken This right is granted so that, for example, the defendant can attempt to disprove that the informant said what he is alleged to have said, and, perhaps, can show that the informant never really existed

Under these four bills, defendant would no longer be entitled to make this demand. Since, under these bills, a narcotic would be admissible however obtained (with the limitations in Assembly Bills Nos. 208 and 308 discussed above), probable cause for the arrest, search and seizure would no longer be an issue The occasion for invoking the right granted by the Priestly case would no longer exist

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 21, 1961

Hon John A Busterud
Assembly Chamber

Burning of Unused State Elementary Textbooks—No. 10221

Question

DEAR MR BUSTERUD You have directed our attention to a newspaper account concerning the burning by the State Department of Education of unused elementary textbooks which were superseded because of the adoption of a new series of textbooks

You ask whether the destruction was required by law.

Opinion

Our research reveals no provision of law requiring such destruction

Analysis

The only provisions of law on the subject revealed by our research are Sections 9701 and 9702 of the Education Code, which provide as follows:

"9701 The State Board of Education may provide for the disposition of such textbooks as are no longer in a fit condition to be used for purposes of instruction

"9702 Whenever in the judgment of the State Board of Education it is practicable to sell old textbooks for use in the manufacture of paper pulp or similar substances, the highest price obtainable shall be secured, and the money obtained deposited in the State General Fund"

Neither of these sections require the destruction of surplus state textbooks

Yours very truly,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By BARBARA COCHRANE CALAIS, Deputy

REMARKS BY MESSRS. GAFFNEY AND GARRIGUS ORDERED PRINTED IN JOURNAL

Speaker Brown ordered the following remarks by Messrs Gaffney and Garrigus on the adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 52 printed in the Journal

REMARKS BY MR. GAFFNEY ON ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 52

Mr Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

It is appropriate we pause to honor and venerate the 229th birthday of the founder of our Country, George Washington

What manner of man was he to whom the birth and nurturing of a nation of free men in a world of monarchy and despotism was entrusted?

A wealthy popular gentleman farmer, a surveyor, public office holder, military genius and statesman

A man of cool forbearance and keen intellect in exterior aspect, both in the field and later at the councils where the articles of the immortal Constitution and the Bill of Rights were discussed, adopted and ratified

Inwardly, he was a man of great compassion, intense love and affection toward his fellow man and constantly held reverential communion with his Maker as witness the lonely man kneeling in the snow at Valley Forge during the hunger and privation of the lowest ebbtide of the Revolution

Modest, kindly, wise and courageous Adapting himself to the exigencies of a war that demanded masterful retreat at times as well as assault Wherein he earned the title of "Master of Retreat" bestowed by seasoned European military contemporaries

We are all conversant with the military genius that brought victory in what Creasy's "15 Decisive Battles of the World" terms the decisive Battle of the Revolution at Saratoga and the culminating final victory (assisted by the French) at Yorktown

However, it was at the army encampment at Newburgh on Hudson in the spring of 1782 awaiting the signing of peace that all of Washington's wisdom, understanding, faith, and conrage was put to test

First, he sternly suppressed a plot by some anonymous officers to induce him to take the army over the Alleghenies in resentment and defiance of Congress because of wrongs and neglect

Had he not acted swiftly and decisively this revolt would have endangered the reward of seven years of struggle that was at that very time being written into history in the Treaty of Paris

And were it not also for his scornful rejection of a crown (only two months later) at the Newburgh encampment the dream (to quote

Lincoln) of "bringing forth on this continent a new nation, dedicated to the proposition that all men are created free and equal and are endowed by their Creator with certain inalienable rights, among which are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

Were it not for George Washington this dream of the American colonists and of all mankind would have died aborning and "perished from the earth."

So, let us commemorate the birthday of the Founder of our Republic who was "first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen"!

I respectfully ask adoption of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 52.

Appendix—Re. A.C R. No. 52—Re. George Washington

Rejects Monarchy

To Colonel Lewis Nicola, Newburgh on Hudson, May 22, 1782

"With a mixture of great surprise and astonishment, I have read with attention the sentiments (that the Army wished Washington to take the title of king) you have submitted to my perusal. Be assured, Sir, no occurrence in the course of the war has given me more painful sensations, than your information of there being such ideas existing in the army, as you have expressed, and which I must view with abhorrence and reprehend with severity For the present the communication of them will rest in my own bosom, unless some further agitation of the matter shall make a disclosure necessary

I am much at a loss to conceive what part of my conduct could have given encouragement to an address, which to me seems big with the greatest mischiefs that can befall my Country If I am not deceived in the knowledge of myself, you could not have found a person to whom your schemes are more disagreeable. . . Let me conjure you, then, if you have any regard for your country, concern for yourself or posterity, or respect for me, to banish these thoughts from your mind, and never communicate, as from yourself or any one else, a sentiment of like nature"

Appendix—Re. A.C.R. No. 52

In April of 1783, the ratification of the preliminary articles of peace between France and Great Britain was received, and on the 19th of that month, a cessation of hostilities was proclaimed in the American camp

In June General Washington addressed a circular letter on the important interests of the Union, to the Governors of the several states (to be read to the respective Legislatures and in the conclusion of which he admonished

"There are four things which I humbly conceive are essential to the well being, I may even venture to say, to the existence of the United States, as an independent power

"1st An indissoluble union of the states under one federal head

"2dly A sacred regard to publick justice

"3dly The adoption of a proper peace establishment And,

"4thly The prevalence of that pacifick and friendly disposition among the people of the United States, which will induce them to forget their local prejudices and policies, to make those mutual concessions which are requisite to the general prosperity, and, in some instances, to sacrifice their individual advantages to the interest of the community

"I now make it my earnest prayer, that God would have you, and the state over which you preside, in his holy protection; that he would incline the hearts of the citizens to cultivate a spirit of subordination and obedience to government, to entertain a brotherly affection and love for one another, for their fellow citizens of the United States at large; and particularly for their brethren who have served in the field; and finally, that he would most graciously be pleased to dispose us all to do justice, to love mercy, and to demean ourselves with charity, humility, and pacifick temper of mind, which were the characteristicks of the divine Author of our blessed religion; without a humble imitation of whose example, in these things, we can never hope to be a happy nation"

REMARKS BY MR. GARRIGUS

What is the important meaning of Washington for this generation of "Cold War" Americans? I think that meaning is faith in America as an example of political liberty and personal freedom to all men everywhere Washington had such a faith. He affirmed it with a courage and loyalty and sacrifice which, when viewed in the true perspective of history, should inspire each of us to do likewise

FREEDOM FROM SEARCH, SEIZURE IMPERILED IN NARCOTICS BILLS

One of the basic guarantees of the Constitution of the United States is the right of a citizen to be free from search and seizure without cause

Today bills are before the Legislature in Sacramento to take this right from citizens.

The bills deal with the narcotics problem, but they open the door for police to use the pretext of entering a home in search of narcotics without a search warrant.

No person in California would ever be assured that the police one night would not knock at his door, enter his home, and go through his every possession whether he had violated a law or not

What kind of thinking is going on in the legislative halls at Sacramento which would indicate serious consideration of any such violation of the rights of citizens?

Are these legislators trying to return us to the era before Magna Carta?

Are they trying to put us all at the mercy of a police state?

William Pitt, in a speech on an excise bill in Parliament, once declared:

> "The poorest man may in his cottage bid defiance to all the forces of the Crown It may be frail; its roof may shake; the wind may blow through it; the storms may enter, the rain may enter—but the King of England may not enter it; all his forces dare not cross the threshold of the ruined tenement"

What the Legislature is being asked to do is overturn recent rulings of the State Supreme Court on the law of search and seizure

It is said that these rulings handcuff the police. If so, the Federal Bureau of Investigation has been handcuffed a long time For the federal courts adopted similar rulings years ago

The high standard of police work set by the FBI can in fact be traced to these rulings FBI agents show scrupulous concern for the rights of the citizens and the provisions of the law

It is said that police need to be free of legal restrictions in obtaining evidence in narcotics cases

But it is certain that the next step would be to give them the same advantage in all cases

It is said that the police should be given the right to use evidence obtained illegally on the street, but not in the home

It is certain that the next step would be to give them the right to use evidence obtained illegally in the home

Let us maintain our freedom

Let the State be as assiduous in protecting the rights of the decent citizen as in prosecuting the criminals.

EUGENE F WILLIAMS

A beginning date of July 1, 1947 and an ending date of June 30, 1958, which coincided with the normal reporting period for tuberculosis subsidy claims, were used Normal administrative channels are available for adjustments applicable to subsequent periods

During inspection of the records, it appeared that subsidy was not claimed for some patients who might have been eligible No amounts are included for such omissions, since this would not have been consistent with the court decision In addition, inclusion of such cases would require complete statewide reconstruction of all tuberculosis subsidy records since July 1, 1947

Amendment No. 2

On page 5, line 48, strike out "realtor", and insert "Realtor".

Amendment No. 5

On page 8, between lines 19 and 20, insert

"(k) Violated any of the terms, conditions, restrictions, and limitations contained in any order granting a restricted license."

Amendment No. 6

On page 13, between lines 22 and 23, insert

"SEC. 24. In 1955 the Legislature enacted two sections of the Business and Professions Code, partially identical, numbered 10131.1. These sections were, respectively, added by Chapters 1791 and 1792, Statutes of 1955. Chapter 1942, Statutes of 1959, repealed "Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code." Some confusion has arisen on the question whether both sections so numbered or only one, and if so, which one, was repealed. From an examination of the bill (Senate Bill No. 1397) which became Chapter 1942, Statutes of 1959, it appears that it was the section as added by Chapter 1792 that was so repealed. Section 4 of this act repeals Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code as added by Chapter 1791, Statutes of 1955. It is thus the intention of the Legislature to dispel any ambiguity and to make it quite clear that both sections added in 1955 numbered Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code are repealed."

Amendment No. 7

On page 13, line 23, strike out "24", and insert "25".

Amendment No. 8

On page 10, commencing in line 4, strike out "and who receives no compensation directly from the borrower", and insert "or is that of negotiating for and making loans qualified for sale to such institutions insofar as such business is concerned"

Amendment No. 9

On page 9, line 49 after "10131 (d)", insert ", 10131 (e)"

Bill ordered reprinted, engrossed, and to be re-referred to the Committee on Finance and Insurance.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following message from the Governor was received, and read

Letter of Transmittal

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 27, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly:

I have the honor to transmit to you herewith my recommendations on traffic safety in California

I invite your thoughtful consideration both of the recommendations and of the constructive ends I am confident they will achieve.

Respectfully

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE ON TRAFFIC SAFETY

February 27, 1961

The tragic, costly and distressingly complex problem of traffic safety is one to which the legislative, administrative and judicial branches of the State of California must address themselves during this session

All of us know something of the problem All of us are familiar with some of the statistics relating to it, and all of us are familiar with one or more of the popular slogans whose currency does not seem to have abated it Few of us, however, really qualify as experts on the subject

Let us begin by noting that the picture in this State is not entirely black

California has the safest highways of all the states, and California's traffic death rate has fallen steadily in the last 15 years

If the 1946 death rate had prevailed in 1960, we might have expected 8,009 traffic deaths last year rather than the 3,723 which actually occurred

The California Highway Patrol believes that the overwhelming majority of our drivers are willing to abide by the rules of the road and will do so if they are more or less constantly reminded They estimate that our chronic and willful violators are only a small percentage of our drivers

Such statistics are no comfort to those who are maimed in traffic, however, and no consolation to the families and friends of those killed

Any approach to sound solutions to this complex problem must start with the realization that the automobile is basic to the lives of most Californians and that the privilege of driving on our roads is woven deeply into our social and economic fabric

This indicates to me that our efforts should be preventive and educational as well as punitive The flagrant violators are probably amenable to nothing but punishment, and they should be punished But we must not forget the positive approaches to the problem to which the vast majority of our drivers will respond

A strong argument for the positive approach was made recently by an official of a turnpike authority in a southwestern state who noted that nearly all turnpike accidents in his state—90 percent, in fact—were attributable to driver failure not detectable in advance by enforcement patrols

He noted further that almost all his agency's accident-prevention money was being spent on enforcement, which he said is mainly effective against speeding and drunk driving—which accounted for only 10 percent of his state's turnpike accidents

He wondered if official emphasis on the spectacular had not lulled drivers into a false sense of security on the erroneous assumption that they were safe on the highways if only they were sober and not speeding.

Bad accidents do happen to ordinary people, and the victims most frequently meet their death simply by driving off the road and hitting something

This problem of drivers, roads, vehicles and human wreckage is a difficult one. There are some areas in which we can and must move swiftly, but there are others in which we simply do not have the facts to justify radical changes in procedures or passage of new and harshly punitive measures At the same time, in view of the carnage, we cannot be perfectionist enough to do nothing until every last shred of evidence is in and has been digested

Earlier I pointed out that our auto death rate has steadily declined Why has this been so?

I believe there is no single answer as some are prone to suggest. I think better highway design, better lighting, better enforcement, better medical care, better public education, better automobiles and better drivers have all played their part

The State of California must not fall into the error of attacking this problem by grasping at the plausible but partial solution and sweeping the complex realities under the rug

Therefore, I am recommending the following

1 An increase of 310 Highway Patrolmen, plus 50 sergeants, and the development of a formula to keep the Patrol's strength at a figure adequate to the management of our highways

2 Revision of the roles of the Department of Motor Vehicles and the judiciary in the matter of license suspensions for drunken driving and effective use of chemical tests for the detection of drunk drivers Specifically, I believe the six months suspension program is a good one However, I recommend that the trial court be permitted to reduce the period of suspension in first offense cases of unusual hardship provided, however, that the judges set forth in writing the specific reasons for reducing the period of suspension We must also make effective use of breath tests for drunkenness, which would require enactment of (a) the uniform vehicle code provisions dealing with presumptive evidence of intoxication, and (b) a requirement that motorists agree to submit to chemical tests as a condition to their using the public highways

3 The immediate establishment of an interagency traffic safety committee charged with co-ordinating and increasing the research work now being carried out by the Departments of Public Works, Public Health, Motor Vehicles and the Highway Patrol When the transportation agency I have proposed becomes a reality, its director would head this committee and report directly to me A fund of approximately $100,000 for the first year should be provided, putting highway user taxes to work on research on new approaches to highway safety

4 An 18-month program of selective daytime enforcement by the Highway Patrol, aimed at those willful violators who presumably drive sanely only when they think a policeman is watching This would include allowing the Patrol the use of speed-detection radar during the period It would also include authorizing the Patrol to buy and use cars of various makes, models, sizes and colors—in numbers not to exceed 15 percent of the total fleet These cars would be manned by uniformed men and would be marked just as are the cars of the regular fleet—with white door panels bearing the Highway Patrol insignia During the 18-month life of these cars we could gauge their effectiveness without at the same time risking the dangers and abuses inherent in the use of unmarked cars

5 An overhaul of our licensing and license suspension procedures This would include doing away with chauffeur's licenses and the adoption of a single license, bearing on its face an endorsement stating what kind or kinds of vehicles the licensee is qualified to drive It would include also adoption of the interstate driver's license compact, ensuring that California examiners learn about the driving records of prospective licensees from other states I would ask, in addition, for adoption on a trial basis of the so-called New Jersey system of retraining and relicensing delinquent drivers Under this plan, all except drunk driving suspensions are for an indefinite period, which puts the burden on the driver to regain his license as soon as he can convince the Department of Motor Vehicles that he is both able and willing to conform to the rules of the road A reinstatement fee would cover the cost of retraining and re-examination To discourage those willful violators who would frustrate our efforts by continuing to drive after their licenses to do so have been suspended or revoked, I am recommending mandatory jail sentences for this offense Such sentences should not be limited to a fine, although jail terms could be made short enough to be served on weekends in particular cases. In this way we may be able to convince these delinquents that we mean business, without inflicting unnecessary hurt on their dependents

Many facets of traffic safety fall in that area in which more information is needed before effective action can be taken, the interagency committee should concern itself with such problems, including the following:

Should all posted speed limits be made mandatory rather than prima facie, provided that drivers are given adequate advance notice of speed zones ahead? Do any steps need to be taken to ensure that doctors licensed in other states are not legally barred from performing errands of mercy on California highways? What safety devices, such as seatbelt fittings and safety locks, for instance, might be required as original equipment on autos sold in California? Is the European system of yellow tail-lights and red brake-lights superior to our system of red, redder, reddest? What would be the cost and benefits of closed-circuit television surveillance and control on our congested freeways, such as Detroit is now experimenting with?

I am sure you in the Legislature will add to this list with suggestions of your own, and you can be sure that I will welcome and support any and all measures that proceed out of reason rather than emotion and that are backed by fact rather than fancy.

Director of Finance
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR SIR In order to meet the January 1st deadline for the report on university and state college utilization of facilities it was necessary to submit the tables without auditing the data I have since completed the audit and submit herewith the revised data of Tables 1, 2, and 4 You will note that the minor changes have no effect on the general conclusions and report, but for the sake of accuracy the revised tables should be substituted for the original Tables 1 2 and 4

I also submit herewith Tables 8 and 9 which show the utilization in both university and state colleges by days of the week, whereas Tables 1 and 2 show the utilization by hours of the day

The main significance of Tables 8 and 9 is that they show further the need for altering the course contents and credit hour valuations of curricula to develop a preponderance of 5-unit courses as recommended in my original report. You will note the weak utilization of non-lab instructional facilities on Tuesday and Thursday and lab facilities on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday. This is because of the mechanics involved in scheduling the traditional 3-unit courses on Monday, Wednesday, and Friday and lab courses on Tuesday and Thursday

A preponderance of 5-unit courses would not only substantially increase the possible utilization of instructional facilities but would also relieve any pressures on parking, library, and cafeteria facilities because many students would be in classes only 3 hours a day instead of 5 or more

Sincerely yours,

H. R. WYLLIE

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Busterud was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 25, 1961

Hon John A Busterud
Assembly Chamber

Elections—No. 10509

Question

DEAR MR BUSTERUD: Is there anything now in the law that would require the testing of a prospective voter, either at the time of registration or otherwise, to determine whether or not he can read the English language as required by the Constitution, and if so, what effect would Assembly Bill No. 370 have in this regard?

Opinion

The only requirement prescribed by law for administering such a test is in connection with the challenge of a voter at the polls Assembly Bill No. 370 would eliminate this test as an incident to eliminating the right to challenge a voter on the ground of his inability to read the English language

Analysis

The provisions of law relating to the registration of voters appear in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 120) of Division 1 of the Elections Code

Under these provisions a person desiring to register must state in his affidavit of registration whether or not he is able to read the Constitution in the English language (Elec C, Secs 220, 230)

We find nothing in the law, however, that would require the person registering a voter to administer any test to the voter to determine his ability to read English.

The provisions of law relating to challenges of persons offering to vote at the precinct polling places appear in Article 2 (commencing with Section 5620) of Chapter 2 of Division 8 of the Elections Code Under these provisions, a person offering to vote may be orally challenged by any voter of the county upon the ground that he cannot read as required by the Constitution, and it does not appear by statement in the affidavit of registration that he is entitled to vote notwithstanding such inability (Elec C, Sec 5620(i)) The law also provides that if a person has been challenged at the polling place for his inability to read, the election judges shall determine the challenge by requiring the person offering to vote to read any consecutive one hundred words of the Constitution (Elec. C, Sec 5626) This section, in effect, provides for the judges to test the ability of a voter to read the English language and is the only test of this nature now prescribed by law

Assembly Bill No 370, as introduced, repeals subdivision (i) of Section 5620 of the Elections Code, and it repeals Section 5626 of the Elections Code. The effect of Assembly Bill No 370, therefore, is to eliminate as a ground for challenge at the polls a person's inability to read Assembly Bill No 370 would also eliminate the requirement of a test to be administered by the election judges to a person offering to vote to determine the ability of that person to read.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

Letter of Transmittal

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 28, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly

I have the honor to transmit to you herewith my recommendations on the control of California's illegal narcotics traffic

I invite your thoughtful consideration both of the recommendations and of the constructive ends I am confident they will achieve.

Respectfully,

EDMUND G BROWN, Governor

RECOMMENDATION ON CONTROL OF ILLEGAL NARCOTICS TRAFFIC

The people of California, their legislative representatives, the press and other media, the Governor—all of us—have long been deeply concerned at the increased incidence of narcotics violations and the intolerable spread of drug addiction, especially in Southern California

An unprecedented number and variety of measures dealing with this problem have now been presented to the Legislature. I have carefully considered them all, and I now propose to set forth my analysis of the narcotics problem, the principles I believe must guide us in solving that problem, and a specific program for accomplishing this result

Most of the program I am advocating stems from the very valuable report submitted by the Governor's Special Study Commission on Narcotics They have given us a current and factual position paper on the scope of the problem, and copies have been furnished to each Member of the Legislature With one or two major differences, I am in agreement with their 22 suggestions.

The positions I am taking today also accord fully with the 11-point recommendations made on January 10, 1961, by former President Eisenhower's Interdepartmental Committee on Narcotics.

In setting forth a specific program for California in considerable detail, I am not attempting to invade the legislative process Within certain limits which will be clearly marked in my statement, I intend to give the same courtesy and attention to the Legislature's views and actions which I am confident will be extended to my own as Governor

Briefly, I support the following program

1. A substantial increase in prison terms and penalties as now provided in Assembly Bill No 9, by Assemblyman Clayton Dills, and in Senate Bill No 83, by Senator Edwin J Regan, retaining the power of the court, however, in proper cases, to grant probation to any first offender

2. The creation of a new offense, possession for the purpose of sale This offense should be more severely penalized than simple possession

3 Legislation which would protect informants by allowing peace officers to obtain search warrants without disclosing their informants' identity except to the magistrate himself. Under this proposal, the information would be sealed and the informants' identity would not be revealed except where the defense makes a showing of "planting," "entrapment" or other participation by the informant In such a case, it is generally recognized that constitutional due process requires that the name be disclosed

4 Legislation authorizing the service of search warrants both day and night

5 Legislation requiring persons convicted of narcotic offenses to register for a period of five years following their release from custody.

6. Revocation of vehicle operator's licenses of those convicted of narcotic offenses

7 An increase of $183,000 in the Attorney General's appropriation over a two-year period for further intensification of the fight against narcotics

8 Legislation providing for the acquisition of a state narcotic detention and treatment facility, under the Director of Corrections, and the adoption of a complete procedure for addict commitment and control The program, as recommended by the Narcotic Commission, would embrace treatment, psychological, physiological, vocational and educational therapy, and long-range post-release supervision and rehabilitation

As a preliminary, I am this week authorizing Richard McGee, Director of Corrections, to represent the State in discussing with federal officials the possibility of obtaining a surplus naval hospital at Norco, Riverside County, as the facility for this program

In connection with this declaration of support for eight major measures, I also want to speak with force and clarity on what I oppose in this field

I want to make it entirely clear that I will veto any legislation, in whatever form, that impinges on the Constitutional protections in the area of search and seizure.

To be quite specific, I would, for example, veto a legislative repeal of the so-called "Cahan case" rule.

One hundred and seventy years ago the Fourth Amendment to the Constitution set forth the right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures. In the often-repeated language of the Justices of the United States Supreme Court, the Constitution interposed a court magistrate between the citizen and his government, and forbade the state from entering homes to search except in connection with a valid arrest or pursuant to a search warrant.

The Cahan decision brought new vitality and effectiveness to an old principle by holding that evidence obtained as the result of an unreasonable search and seizure cannot be used to prosecute the citizen whose rights have been invaded.

One of the great judges of this country, Louis Brandeis, once wrote that "decency, security, and liberty alike demand that government officials shall be subjected to the same rules of conduct that are commands to the citizen * * * Our Government is the potent, the omnipresent teacher. For good or for ill, it teaches the whole people by its example. Crime is contagious. If the Government becomes a law-breaker, it breeds contempt for law; it invites every man to become a law unto himself; it invites anarchy."

The Cahan case rule makes the State follow its own commands of right and wrong.

These principles are not only sound law. They are the shining moral precepts which illumine the progress of our society. However imperative be the need efficiently to administer the criminal law, the end does not justify unlawful means.

As Governor—but also as one member of the great community of government under law—I must resolutely set the power of this office against any weakening of constitutional protections.

It has been suggested by the Attorney General that legislation extending the permissible area of search to automobiles, as an incident of a valid arrest, does not thrust at this constitutional protection. The Legislature may wish to consider such a measure, and should one along these lines reach my desk with the backing of the Attorney General, I will sign it into law.

I know of no other proposed modification of the Cahan rule, however, that would meet with my approval.

My position on wiretapping is that expressed by the Narcotics Commission. Regardless of what may be the technical, legal or constitutional issues of such legislation, I will veto any bill which extends the government's listening ear into the citizen's telephone.

At this point, I would also note that the State Bar has consistently opposed both the legalization of wiretapping and legislative repeal of the Cahan rule.

As a matter of experience, too, federal officials have operated since 1914 under the exclusionary rule established in California by the Cahan case in 1955. They have not found it an obstacle to effective law enforcement.

They have also worked effectively without resort to the legalization of wiretapping.

As set forth in my program, moreover, there are other valid proposals which will give new assistance to our splendid law enforcement officers in the difficult task of coping with the narcotics menace.

It is my belief that the proposal for protection of informants when a search warrant is issued by a magistrate, along with easing of restrictions upon the obtaining and service of warrants, will afford much greater flexibility to peace officers, and at the same time will encourage their use of this protective procedure.

Adoption of these programs would, I believe, bring some relief to California. It is clear that this is one of the country's major areas of sensitivity. Its 700 miles of ocean shore, its busy ports of entry, its long exposed border with neighboring Mexico, all give it a geographical vulnerability far in excess of that of any other state. That it still is not a third as badly infested as New York, with whose population it compares, is a tribute to the caliber of law enforcement in California.

It is also dramatic rebuttal of the irresponsible suggestions heard in some quarters that our attitude toward narcotic control has been "weak" or that our programs have in that regard been "soft."

The fact is that over the past 10 years the Legislature has steadily tightened the narcotic statutes, revising our court procedures and increasing penalties to the extent that they now range upward to a possible life sentence.

It is obvious that these past efforts by five Legislatures and three successive executive administrations have not stopped the illegal flow of drugs nor rooted out the spread of addiction.

But it would be an undeserved slur upon the competence of those dedicated public officials, past and present, to set at nothing their earnest labors simply because experience now shows that other and newer measures are required.

Let us keep the record entirely straight.

The present laws of this State are not "weak." Implemented by the constant vigilance of law enforcement, the support of the Legislature, and assistance from the executive, the narcotic menace has been kept within controllable bounds in most of the State.

We are in agreement that in the Los Angeles area the problem has become most acute and difficult to control. The very size of the region, its proximity to the Mexican border, its status as a worldwide terminus of shipping and travel, have given rise to special needs not entirely shared by the northern areas, but which we must meet at the state government level.

Every responsible person in this State abhors the illegal narcotic trade. Everyone wants to put it at an end. In these common aims there is no room for division of thought by any rational mind. Only in the method of accomplishing our objectives is there real contrariety of thought.

It is regrettable that such honest differences of opinion should become obscured by the extremes of emotionalism and rancor. No one may claim omniscience. It is therefore all the more shameful that a small minority of political opportunists should engage in dangerous and distorted misrepresentations when what we most need are intelligent solutions.

The harsh, perhaps unpalatable, but undeniable truth is that any narcotic program, to be effective, must be primarily directed at both the sources of supply and the addict market which it serves.

California absolutely must take every step within its power in both directions. The program I am suggesting today has that objective in mind.

Much of our success, however, depends upon the federal government. Every gram of heroin has to be brought in from outside the State. It is inconceivable to me that anyone can view with smug satisfaction our national efforts in this regard when every trace of powder vended in California's illicit market signifies that someone successfully eluded the vigilance of the federal government's policing.

The law enforcement officials of Southern California last year joined me in warning the President's Interdepartmental Committee on Narcotics that the traffic cannot be halted unless the source is eliminated.

There is urgent need for better co-operation between the federal government and the states, and between the states themselves. A White House Conference on Narcotics would be most helpful in this respect, and the new Administration has assured us that such a meeting is under serious consideration. A decision will definitely be made soon.

It is not our purpose to shift any of our own responsibility to the federal government, however, and I believe a good case has also been made for the kind of state action I am here urging.

With this program California will meet head-on the great antisocial challenge of narcotics, with its millions of dollars of property loss, its drastic weakening of society, and its creation of havoc and unredeemed misery.

CITY OF SACRAMENTO
February 27, 1961

Hon Ralph M Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
California State Legislature
State Capitol Sacramento

DEAR MR BROWN The City Council is most grateful for the concern recently shown in the Assembly for the preservation of historic landmarks as evidenced by Assembly Resolution No 28, dated January 18, 1961 It is the feeling of the council that courtesy dictates a reply and that an answer is expected

In 1956 the Legislature enacted statutes requiring that 'community values" be considered in locating state highways and freeways The law mentions property values, public facilities, and traffic as being some of the things which constitute 'community values" In Sacramento there had been a co-operative highway planning study project between the State, county, and city The De Leuw, Cather Co made the study and presented its report and freeway plan in January, 1958 The State Division of Highways carefully studied the De Leuw, Cather report and then produced a slightly modified freeway layout of its own It was at this time that the hue and cry arose that community values had not been given due consideration The criticism at that time was directed at the location of the East-West freeway route

In an effort to be helpful the city again entered the picture As broad and uncertain as the term 'community values' may be, there seems no doubt that a city, within its boundaries, might be expected to assist in a determination and evaluation of these factors The city undertook to give this type of assistance The approach taken was cautious, it was thorough Professional study seemed indicated, yet

rather than rush headlong into the matter, a Citizen's Core Area Advisory Committee was formed It was made up of 21 conscientious and respected Sacramento citizens representing the broad business, cultural, and civic interests of the community The committee was charged with two immediate duties, first, it was to outline the scope of such a study and, second, it was to interview expert consultants in the field and recommend one to do the work The council received recommendations from this committee, it followed those recommendations The Leo A Daly Co, an architectural and planning consultant of national reputation, was employed The consultant was charged with far broader investigations than the limited statutory terms might imply The assignment included the evaluation and weighing of such matters as present and future land use in the central area of the city, redevelopment progress and fulfillment of plans for the rebuilding of that portion of the city, motor vehicle traffic problems, including consideration of parking needs, the expansion of governmental offices in the downtown area, including full liaison with consultants employed by the State to plan the growth of the state complex, the best utilization of the river frontage to take advantage of this natural recreational asset, the arrangement of land uses to preserve the maximum of historical buildings within a practical and economically feasible project which could have some assurance of fruition—these broad subjects and many others were studied and reported upon by the consultant

Now we had persons, whose specific immediate interest is historic landmarks, most critical of the Daly recommendations because historic landmark preservation has not been made the controlling factor in the recommended plan. The council hired the consultant and made the not inconsiderable amount of money available for the study so that there could be developed truly objective and impartial answers All factors were weighed and a plan was produced which reconciled these many factors in a reasonable and workable manner Business interests, redevelopment interests, recreational interests, historical interests, traffic and access interests—all have been considered, all are part of the plan designed to become the concept of community development essential to Sacramento's growth

Because of the critical need for traffic relief in the western part of the city the consultants had been asked to define recommended freeway routes at the earliest time possible in their study They did this and their recommendations were not greatly different from those developed by De Leuw, Cather and by the State Division of Highways The council on December 8, 1960, by resolution adopted the following

'Subject to such minor changes or adjustments as may be reasonably necessary or required in order to provide adequate engineering and planning flexibility the City Council hereby approves and endorses the locations of freeways on W and X Streets (East-West) and 2d and 3d Streets (North-South) as recommended by the Leo A Daly Core Area Study and urges the favorable consideration thereof by the California State Highway Commission'

The council is the duly elected governing body of the City of Sacramento and as such it has expressed the official position of the city in this matter This official position reflects the fact that the council gave the matter months of exhaustive study, was advised by an impartial citizen's committee, secured competent professional advice, considered and weighed all divergent interests and factors, and believes that the recommended plan best serves the total interests of the community

Upon direction of the City Council, a copy of this letter is being sent to the State Division of Highways to be made a part of the record of the public hearing on "Proposed Freeways in Sacramento and Vicinity" held by the Division of Highways on February 21, 1961

Very truly yours,

JAMES B McKINNEY, Mayor

GREETINGS At the meeting of the council held February 23, 1961, the following report was submitted by the State, County and Federal Affairs Committee

"Your committee has considered Assembly Bill No 354 as introduced by Assemblyman Houston I Flournoy on January 16, 1961 This bill provides for the elimination of the necessity to include a list of per diem wage rates in the advertisement for bids for public work improvements This bill will be heard by the Assembly Committee on Industrial Relations on February 23 Passage of the bill would make possible substantial savings by the elimination of a considerable amount of clerical work necessary to be performed by city employees and the reduction of advertising costs

"Your committee recommends that the California Legislature be advised that the Council of the City of Los Angeles endorses Assembly Bill No. 354 in principle, but that the terms of the bill should be broadened so that the benefits may be enjoyed by all governmental agencies, and further that copies of this action be sent by air mail special delivery to Assemblyman Houston I Flournoy, Assemblyman Edward E Elliott, Senator Richard Richards, to the Chief Clerk of the Assembly and to the Secretary of the Senate Further, that the city's legislative representatives be instructed to press the passage of the bill"

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Hon. Milton Marks
Assembly Chamber

Scheduled Committee Hearings—No. 10683

DEAR MR MARKS· You have referred to Rule No 59 of the Permanent Standing Rules of the Assembly which relates to scheduled committee meetings That rule provides in part·

> "Every scheduled committee meeting shall be open to the public, unless the committee, by a majority vote of its entire membership, shall order an executive session."

This sentence requires only "scheduled" meetings to be open to the public, and thus recognizes the possibility of unscheduled meetings not open to the public The "scheduled" meetings are those which are required to be held at the time and place specified in the schedule[1] (see "Schedule of Assembly Committee Meetings" published in each Assembly Daily File)

You have noted that the meetings of the Standing Committees on Legislative Representation and Constitutional Amendments meet "subject to call of the Speaker or the Chairman" in a room designated "by request," as shown in the Daily File. You ask whether these meetings come within the term "scheduled committee meetings" which Assembly Standing Rule No 59 requires to be open to the public, except for executive sessions

In our opinion the requirement of Assembly Standing Rule No 59 that "scheduled committee meetings" be open to the public applies to meetings called of Standing Committees on Legislative Representation and Constitutional Amendments

The "scheduled" meetings referred to in Rule No. 59 are those which are required to be held at the time and place specified in the schedule. The "Schedule of Assembly Committee Meetings" published in each Assembly Daily File lists the Assembly Standing Committees on Legislative Representation and Constitutional Amendments. The meetings of these standing committees are "scheduled" in the Daily File to be held at the call of the Speaker or the chairman at the place requested, rather than having the time and place of such meetings predetermined for a specific time and place each week

[1] No action can be taken on bills except at such scheduled meetings Bills set for hearing must be published in the Daily File and two full days must elapse before they are heard (Rule No 59 )

It seems clear, therefore, that the called meetings of these standing committees are "scheduled committee meetings" as that term is used in Rule No 59, and thus are required to be open to the public, except for executive sessions. Prior notice to the Members of the Legislature and to the public of hearings on bills by these committees which meet "subject to the call of the Speaker or the Chairman" is afforded by the requirements of Assembly Standing Rule No 59 that bills set for hearing be published in the Daily File and that two full days must elapse before they are heard

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Bruce F. Allen was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
Sacramento, February 28, 1961

Hon Bruce F Allen
Assembly Chamber

Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District—No. 9656

Question

DEAR MR. ALLEN: You have asked whether the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District has the power to contract with the State for a water supply under the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1405 of the Statutes of 1951).

Opinion

In our opinion the district has the power to contract with the State for a water supply

Analysis

The Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District was created by the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District Act (Chapter 1405 of the Statutes of 1951).

Section 4 of the act provides in part, that, incidental to the primary purpose of flood control, "* * * it is the object and purpose of this act * * * to increase, and prevent the waste or diminution of the water supply in the district, and to obtain, retain and reclaim drainage, storm, flood or other waters from any sources, within or without the watershed in which the district is located for beneficial use within the district." (Emphasis added)

Section 5 of the act sets forth the powers of the district, which include:

". . . to appropriate and acquire water and water rights, and import water into the district and to conserve within or outside of the district, water for any purpose useful to the district; and to do any and every lawful act necessary to be done that sufficient water may be available for any present as future beneficial use or uses of the lands or inhabitants within the district, including but not limited to, the acquisition, storage, and distribution of water for irrigation, domestic, fire protection, municipal, commercial, industrial, and all other beneficial uses . . ." (Subdivision 5 of Section 5)

". . to cooperate with, act in conjunction with, enter into and do any acts necessary for the proper performance of any agreement with the State of California, or any of its engineers, officers, boards, commissions, departments, or agencies, . . . for the ownership, joint acquisition, leasing, disposition, use, management, construction, installation, extension, maintenance, repair, or operation of any rights, works, or other property of a kind which might lawfully be acquired or owned by the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District . . ." (Subdivision 7 of Section 5, emphasis added)

"To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district or any of the officers thereof, by this act." (Subdivision 12 of Section 5)

From these provisions it is very clear that the Santa Clara County Flood Control and Water Conservation District has authority to contract with the State for a water supply.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
SACRAMENTO, February 21, 1961

Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
Assembly, California Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR OHNIMUS· Thank you very much for sending me a copy of House Rule No 77.

Having been intimately connected with the junior college problem at the local level, I understand and am in sympathy with the Assembly resolution relating to the accounting of junior college costs In my own district, in which the junior college was part of the high school district, we always maintained a separate accounting system and felt very strongly that this should be done I have also seen in my vicinity areas where the financial needs of the junior college have been abused in favor of another segment of the system

Sincerely yours,

MRS TALCOTT BATES

House Resolution No. 136

Relative to an interim study of persistent unemployment in the State

WHEREAS, An increasingly grave factor in the State's unemployment is the existence of persons who are "persistently unemployed" because of their lack of skills and the increasing automation of technology for our society, and

WHEREAS, These persons are "unemployable" not only because jobs which they might fill have been eliminated because of automation but also because the number of jobs for unskilled persons is rapidly diminishing in relation to the number of jobs requiring skills or training of some kind; and

WHEREAS, Many persons presently limited to unemployable status require public assistance of some kind and represent a now untapped resource of manpower, utilization of which would add to the wealth and welfare of the State, and

WHEREAS, The entire problem of "persistently unemployed" persons should be thoroughly studied to determine the social and economic effects and the most appropriate and effective means for alleviating it, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is directed to assign to the appropriate interim committee for study and report to the Legislature at its 1963 Regular Session, the subject of unemployment because of automation or because of lack of skills or training on the part of the unemployed persons, including the nature and magnitude of the problem and the determination of the agency or agencies which can best provide the training and research necessary to alleviate the problem, and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall study all facts and circumstances relating to the subject of this resolution, shall in connection therewith call upon the aid and counsel of specialists in this area of study from management, labor, education and appropriate state agencies, shall make appropriate recommendations as to the advisability or necessity for legislation in this area of law and shall report its findings and recommendations to the Legislature by the fifth calendar day of the 1963 Regular Session

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

By Mr. Schrade:

House Resolution No. 140

Relative to complimenting the Sacramento Bee

WHEREAS, On February 11, 1961, the Sacramento Bee published a news story saying that Governor Edmund G. (Pat) Brown today served notice he will veto a bill to restore candidacy crossfiling in California primary elections if the Legislature sends him one, quoting the Governor as saying: "I am opposed to it I would veto a bill for restoration of crossfiling"; and

WHEREAS, On February 20, 1961, the Sacramento Bee published an editorial criticizing Governor Brown for threatening to use his veto in a statement issued prior to consideration of the crossfiling matter by the Legislature; and

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Bee said further "The Governor, of course, has the veto power but to throw this weight around as an applied threat to the Legislature can serve only to throttle the legislative process, in that it tends to create a sense of futility and discourage full and fair consideration of the issue There is much to be said in behalf of the system of crossfiling and action by the Governor to impede legislative deliberations on the matter is ill-timed Brown's veto threat should not prevent a full discussion of the legislation when hearings are opened this week on one of the two bills before the committee on elections and reapportionment. Let the Legislature proceed with a free hand as though the Governor had not spoken", and

WHEREAS, The Sacramento Bee has been a strong supporter of Governor Brown, both prior to and since his election, and

WHEREAS, This editorial in defense of the proper division of powers between the administrative and legislative branches of the government is an outstanding effort toward constructive political leadership without regard to partisanship, and

WHEREAS, It is clearly the prerogative of the Members of the Legislature to study, discuss, debate, and vote upon matters before it, without undue influence or pressure from the EXECUTIVE Branch of Government, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Assembly of the State of California compliments the Sacramento Bee, its editors and publishers, for their forthright statement of a basic principle of American Democracy, even though it meant a criticism of an office holder they had supported as a candidate, and be it further

Resolved, That the sense of the Legislature in this matter be communicated to the publishers and editors of the Sacramento Bee and the McClatchy newspapers in Fresno and Modesto with appreciation for a service rendered to the people of California

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Britschgi was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal·

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, February 17, 1961

Hon. Carl A Britschgi
Assembly Chamber

Uncertificated Legislative Advocates—No 9942

DEAR MR BRITSCHGI You have asked us to assume that a person required to register as a legislative advocate under Section 9906 of the Government Code has so registered, but that he has not been issued a certificate under Section 9909 by the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation because of a failure to file the required reports.

Question

You ask whether the standing committees of the Assembly, after having ascertained such facts, could decline to hear such an advocate when he seeks to present matters on behalf of his employer.

Opinion

We think the standing committees of the Assembly could properly decline to hear such an advocate under the circumstances suggested

Analysis

Registration under Section 9906* is required of any person who engages himself for pay to influence the passage or defeat of legislation Such a registrant is also required to file various reports and other information periodically with the Legislative Analyst. (Sec 9906(b)) Failure to file reports and information constitutes a specific reason for refusal of the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation to issue certificates attesting to the good moral character of legislative advocates Thus Section 9909 provides in part:

"9909. It shall be the duty and responsibility of the respective houses of the Legislature, and they are each vested

* Section references hereafter are to the Government Code, unless otherwise indicated with the power, through appropriately established committees thereof as they shall determine

"1. To grant certificates of registration as legislative advocate to all persons registering under, and supplying the information in connection therewith as provided in, Section 9906 who, after such investigation and submission of such proof as the committees deem proper, have been found to be of good moral character particularly as evidenced by never having been guilty of conduct proscribed by Section 9910 and specifically by subparagraphs 2, 3, 4, 6, and 8 of Section 9910 and who have filed the written authorization required" (Emphasis added)

While the lack of a certificate is not a prerequisite to acting as a legislative advocate, since no penalty attaches for the lack of the certificate if the advocate has registered, we think it is a matter about which any standing committee of the Legislature could properly be concerned.

Section 9909 of the Government Code provides for the issuance of certificates of registration as legislative advocate to persons registered under Section 9906 who are found by the respective houses to be of good moral character, particularly as evidenced by never having been guilty of conduct proscribed by Section 9910 of the Government Code The certificates of registration issued by the respective committees serve the threefold purpose of identification of the person registered, identification of the interests which that person represents, and evidence the fact that, in the opinion of the committee issuing the certificate, the person registered has not violated the obligations of legislative representatives as prescribed by Section 9910 of the Government Code.

In order to intelligently perform their functions in holding hearings, the standing committees must necessarily have the power to inquire into the identity and interests of the persons testifying before them, and to properly evaluate that person's testimony, the committee must further be empowered to inquire into the factors relating to the reliability and credibility of that person's testimony Inasmuch as the certificate of registration provides a standard means of identification of a person and of the interests which he represents, and evidences the credibility and reliability of such person's testimony, we think that it would be entirely proper for standing committees to ask legislative representatives appearing before them whether such persons have been issued a certificate of registration, and if such persons have not, to inquire whether they come within a class of persons which is not required to register under Section 9906 of the Government Code

Upon ascertaining that a particular advocate has not been issued his certificate for reasons arising from lack of compliance with the statute regulating legislative advocates, we see no reason why the standing committee must permit the advocate to appear in his representative capacity before it

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH E COOMES, JR, Deputy

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 3, 1961

Hon Bruce A Allen
Assembly Chamber

A.B. No. 205, A.B. No. 208—Admissibility of Evidence in Narcotics Cases—No. 10165

DEAR MR ALLEN You have asked for our opinion on the constitutionality of Assembly Bill No 205, as introduced, and Assembly Bill No 208, as amended in Assembly February 15, 1961

Opinion

In our opinion Assembly Bill No 208, as amended in Assembly February 15, 1961, would be held constitutional

Assembly Bill No 205 literally admits, in addition to the evidence that would be admitted by Assembly Bill No 208, evidence required to be excluded by rule of constitutional law If construed to so provide, the bill would, at least to that extent, be unconstitutional, and could well be held to be entirely unconstitutional

Assembly Bill No 205 would add Section 11689 to the Health and Safety Code, to read·

> "In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division [DIV. 10, re narcotics], all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged, shall be admissible No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights"

Assembly Bill No 208 would add a section of the same number, to read:

> "In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division, all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged and not required to be excluded by the United States Constitution or California Constitution shall be admissible No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained Nothing in this section shall be construed to limit the right of any person to seek and obtain redress for any injury to his person or property or for the infringement of any of his rights
> "This section does not apply to evidence obtained in violation of, or as a result of a violation of, Section 640 of the Penal Code or a federal law of like import"

Thus the two bills differ in that Assembly Bill No 208 would not admit wiretapping evidence, but Assembly Bill No 205 would, and Assembly Bill No 208 contains a disavowal of intent to admit evidence excluded by the United States Constitution and California Constitution, but Assembly Bill No 205 does not Of this latter difference more will be said later

The bills have in common that they would admit evidence now excluded only by a judicial rule of evidence or by a statute More specifically they would admit evidence now excluded by the Cahan rule. In People v Cahan, 44 Cal 2d 434, the California Supreme Court concluded that evidence obtained by unreasonable searches and seizures cannot, over objection of defendant, be admitted in evidence in a criminal case The court noted that the United States Supreme Court had thus far held that the exclusionary rule was not imposed by the United States Constitution (Wolf v Colorado, 338 U S 25, 93 L ed 1782, Irvine v California, 347 U S 128, 98 L. ed 561) and expressly declared that the rule it was announcing is a judicial rule of evidence (44 Cal 2d, at p 442)

The Irvine case can be read as indicating that at some future time the United States Supreme Court may conclude that the due process clause of the Fourteenth Amendment imposes the exclusionary rule on the states, or at least does in some circumstances, and, in fact, that was the way the California Supreme Court read the case It stated (People v Cahan, supra, at p 441)

> "Not only was the court closely divided, but Justice Jackson felt it appropriate to declare for the majority· 'Now that the Wolf doctrine [the guarantee of the Fourth Amendment is enforceable against the states through the Due Process Clause of the Fourteenth] is known to them, state courts may wish further to reconsider their evidentiary rules But to upset state convictions even before the states have had adequate opportunity to adopt or reject the [exclusionary] rule would be an unwarranted use of federal power' (347 U S at p 134) Thus, after states that rely on methods other than the exclusionary rule to deter unreasonable searches and seizures have had an opportunity to reconsider their rules in the light of the Wolf doctrine, the way is left open for the United States Supreme Court to conclude that if these other methods are not 'consistently enforced' and are therefore not 'equally effective' (see Wolf v Colorado, supra, 338 U S 25, 31), the 'minimal standards' of due process have not been met"

Nevertheless, the United States Supreme Court has not yet so concluded Accordingly, we are of the opinion that, as the authorities now stand, the Legislature can abolish the exclusionary rule

These bills would abolish the exclusionary rule only with respect to cases under Division 10 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to narcotics In our opinion, as the authorities now stand, the Legislature can choose to abolish the exclusionary rule in a particular class of cases such as this (see Salsburg v Maryland, 346 U S 545, 98 L ed 281)

We recognize that a contrary argument can be made The California Supreme Court in the Cahan case stated that it was adopting the exclusionary rule because nothing else had proved effective to discourage unreasonable searches and seizures In Wolf v Colorado, supra, the United States Supreme Court said that were a state affirmatively to sanction arbitrary police intrusion into privacy, the Fourteenth Amendment would be violated These bills abolish the exclusionary rule and do not substitute any other remedy Thus it could be contended that by enactment of either bill, the Legislature would be affirmatively sanctioning unreasonable searches and seizures in violation of the Fourteenth Amendment We do not believe that this contention would be sustained First, neither bill on its face purports to authorize any searches and seizures of any kind, and enactment of either bill would not appear to be affirmative action of the sort referred to in the Wolf case Second, an abolition of the exclusionary rule could as well imply a conclusion that the rule does not in fact deter unreasonable searches and seizures as the conclusion that it does deter such action but this deterrence should be removed (see Irvine v California, supra, at pp 135, 136)

The first two sentences of the section to be added by Assembly Bill No 208, with differences from the section to be added by Assembly Bill No 205 emphasized, would read

> "In any criminal action or other proceeding commenced to enforce provisions of this division, all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged and not required to be excluded by the United States Constitution or California Constitution shall be admissible No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained "

Reading the first sentence alone, it is clear that the section would not admit evidence excluded by the United States Constitution or California Constitution, such as coerced confessions (see 16 A C S S 646 et seq ) or evidence obtained in the manner described in the Rochin case (Rochin v California, 342 U S 165, 96 L ed 183) Some ambiguity may result from the fact that the next sentence states, without qualification in itself, that "No evidence shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained " However, reading these sentences together, in the light of rules of construction requiring the parts of a section to be harmonized, if possible (Neuwald v Brock, 12 Cal 2d 662) and the rule favoring a construction consistent with constitutionality (People v Albin, 111 Cal App 2d 800), we conclude that the proper interpretation is that the second sentence means that no evidence of a type described in the first sentence—i e , evidence which is relevant and material, not otherwise privileged, and not excluded by either constitution—shall be excluded because of the manner in which it was obtained

On the other hand, Assembly Bill No 205 generally provides, without qualification, that all relevant and material evidence not otherwise privileged shall be admissible, regardless of the manner in which it was obtained It thus would literally permit introduction of evidence now inadmissible by virtue of a rule of constitutional law, such as those types referred to above Should the section be so construed, it would, of course, be invalid to the extent it admits such evidence A severability clause applies to this section (see Sec 24, II & S C ) Nevertheless, we do not believe that this could be relied on as completely effective insurance for the other aspects of the bill (see In re Blaney, 30 Cal 2d 643)

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By TERRY L BAUM, Deputy

Two copies to Hon Charles E
Chapel, pursuant to Joint Rule 34

* Perhaps it should be emphasized that what we are referring to here is evidence excluded by rule of constitutional law, not generally evidence obtained in violation of constitutional law Thus, evidence excluded by the Rochin rule and evidence excluded by the Cahan rule can both be said to be obtained in violation of constitutional provisions but admission of the former type of evidence is prohibited by the due process clause and admission of the latter type of evidence is not, as of now, at least, so prohibited

Artificial Insemination of Animals—1959-1960 Biennial Report

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
SACRAMENTO, March 7, 1961

Mr Arthur A Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR OHNIMUS Enclosed herewith is a copy of the 1959-1960 Biennial Report on Artificial Insemination of Animals

This report is submitted in compliance with Section 30 6 of the Agricultural Code

Sincerely yours,

CHARLES PAUL, Director

ARTIFICIAL INSEMINATION OF ANIMALS 1959-1960 BIENNIAL REPORT

Bureau of Livestock Disease Control
H. G. Wixom, Chief

In compliance with Section 30 6 of the Agricultural Code, the following report is submitted

Artificial Insemination of Dairy Cattle

Seven organized artificial breeding associations operating in California continued to account for approximately 96 percent of the insemination services conducted throughout the State during the years of 1959 and 1960 Copies of reports submitted by these organizations are attached as reported by the Department of Animal Husbandry, University of California at Davis

| Year | Organization | No of First Inseminations Reported |
|---|---|---|
| 1959 | Seven organized associations | 339,626 |
| 1960 | Seven organized associations | 343,600 |

District offices of this bureau reported the independent breeding services conducted within the State, the sources of semen being other than the organized groups listed

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1959 | Independents | *13,500 |
| 1960 | Independents | *12,000 |

* Approximately 10 percent, or 1,200 head, were purebred beef cows

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| 1959 | Combined total | 353,126 |
| 1960 | Combined total | 355,600 |

Artificial Insemination in Other Animals

Artificial insemination is used extensively in turkey breeding flocks during all or the latter part of the breeding season when egg fertility starts to drop Some turkey breeding associations supply trained personnel for this service, obtaining semen from tom turkeys maintained by the flock owner

No other reports were received on artificial insemination services in domestic animals, except the beef cows as reported

Estimate of the Extent of Artificial Insemination of Cattle

Insemination services were reported from 47 counties Approximately 37 percent of an estimated 985,000 head of dairy cows two years and over are now being bred by artificial insemination By counties, in some concentrated dairy districts, herd insemination rates were reported as high as 90 percent and ranging down to 10 percent in outlying areas

An average of 50 veterinarians and 250 lay technicians are employed in conducting these services throughout the State

The use of frozen semen is steadily increasing, the larger national associations using frozen semen exclusively Liquid nitrogen refrigeration units capable of maintaining temperatures of —320° F are used for storage of frozen semen

Conception rates continue to improve and records of some associations show that cows bred between 30 and 60 days after calving are attaining conception rates of 78 percent on first services Cows bred between 60 and 90-day periods showed a 72 percent rate

Standards of Performance

The purebred cattle breeders associations, artificial insemination associations, research agencies and practicing veterinarians are doing an excellent job in improving services, techniques and maintaining their high standards of performance Selected members of the Purebred Cattle Breeders Association are elected to check on all operations of the organized artificial breeding associations This includes health requirements on all studs, records, advertising, training of personnel to ascertain that all control requirements meet prescribed standards which govern artificial insemination of purebred dairy cattle

Bulls used by the independent group are also under veterinary supervision for health and semen examinations, and includes tests for tuberculosis, brucellosis, leptospirosis and vibriosis

Irregularities

None were reported

Complaints

Reports received from district areas were only of a minor nature and are incidental to the service Examples

a Keeping animal/s confined until inseminator arrives
b Calls must be within a certain hour for service that day
c Some inseminators feel that some owners submit only animals difficult to breed These owners often maintain a herd bull
d Some owners complain the service is too high ($10 in some cases) in outlying areas (The state average is $7 per service, and will include one repeat service if necessary )

Fraudulent Practices

None were reported The era of petty gripes, irresponsible advertising and questionable service appear to have gone This is now a multimillion-dollar industry service, well supervised and disciplined by the livestock industry itself

Suggestions or Recommendations None

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered

By Mr George E Brown:

House Resolution No. 149

Relative to the Los Angeles Board of Water and Power Commissioners

WHEREAS, The Legislature has found and declared that public commissions, boards, councils and other public agencies of the State exist to aid in the conduct of the peoples' business, and that the actions of these agencies should be taken openly and that their deliberations be conducted openly, and

WHEREAS, The Legislature has further declared that the people of this State do not yield their sovereignty to the agencies which serve them, and that the people, in delegating authority, do not give them public servants the right to decide what is good for the people to know and what is not good for the people to know, and

WHEREAS, In furtherance of these findings and declarations the Legislature enacted the Brown Act which requires that the meetings of the governing bodies of these agencies be open and public, and

WHEREAS, It has been reported that the Los Angeles Board of Water and Power Commissioners reaches its decisions at meetings in a manner inconsistent with the declared intent of the Brown Act, and

WHEREAS, The Los Angeles Board of Water and Power Commissioners is the governing body of the Los Angeles Department of Water and Power, which serves millions of citizens of the City of Los Angeles and is thus charged with the responsibility of administering a very substantial portion of the business of the people of this State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That this body urges the District Attorney and Grand Jury of Los Angeles County to investigate the activities of the Los Angeles Board of Water and Power Commissioners to determine whether it is violating any law in the conduct of its meetings, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly transmit copies of this resolution to the District Attorney and the Grand Jury of Los Angeles County

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

By Mr Ralph M Brown.

House Resolution No. 150

Relating to compulsory motor vehicle inspection

WHEREAS, Traffic safety in California is a matter which demands immediate and thoughtful attention, and

WHEREAS, An integral part of traffic safety is the condition of motor vehicles which are being operated on California's roads and highways, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Interim Committee on Transportation and Commerce be directed to conduct an exhaustive study and analysis of the necessity and feasibility of compulsory motor vehicle inspection in the State of California and to report thereon to the Assembly at the 1963 Regular Session, including in the report its recommendations for appropriate legislation

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

By Mr Bruce F Allen

House Resolution No. 151

Relative to gasoline price wars

WHEREAS, Gasoline price wars at the service station level are rampant in certain parts of California at present, resulting in wide variation in retail gasoline prices in different areas of California which have no relation to differing costs of production or distribution, and

WHEREAS, There are indications that the current gasoline price wars have started for the purpose of forcing what are variously called "independents" or "cut rate" stations to raise their gasoline prices to the motorist or in the alternative to force such stations out of business, and that retail gasoline prices are controlled by certain oil companies, and

WHEREAS, The public has a vital interest in the continued existence of a healthy and competitive gasoline industry, and

WHEREAS, The interest of the motoring public is not served by measures which control gasoline prices or destroy competition, and

WHEREAS, The Attorney General has previously been provided by the Legislature with funds for enforcing California's laws prohibiting combinations in restraint of trade, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Attorney General is requested to forthwith investigate the causes and effects of the current gasoline price wars in California and to report thereon to the Legislature within 30 days, together with his recommendation, if any, for remedial legislation, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is requested to transmit a copy of this resolution to the Attorney General

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 1751

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 27, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly and Senate.

Assembly Bill No. 1751, "An act making an appropriation for the contingent expenses of the Assembly, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill

The new procedures established for the operation of district offices of the California State Assembly have exhausted the Assembly appropriation made by the Budget Act of 1960 Additional funds are necessary for the continued normal operation of the Assembly offices.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No 1751 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted,

"SEC. 26. In 1955 the Legislature enacted two sections of the Business and Professions Code, partially identical, numbered 10131.1. These sections were, respectively, added by Chapters 1791 and 1792, Statutes of 1955, Chapter 1942, Statutes of 1959, repealed "Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code." Some confusion has arisen on the question of whether both sections so numbered or only one, and if so, which one, was repealed. From an examination of the bill (Senate Bill No. 1397) which became Chapter 1942, Statutes of 1959, it appears that it was the section as added by Chapter 1792 that was so repealed. Section 6 of this act repeals Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code as added by Chapter 1791, Statutes of 1955. It is thus the intention of the Legislature to dispel any ambiguity and to make it quite clear that both sections added in 1955 numbered Section 10131.1 of the Business and Professions Code are repealed."

On page 16, line 1, after "SEC.", strike out "25", and insert "27".

"SEC 28 This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are Emergency legislation controlling and regulating the market in mortgages and trust deeds was enacted at the 1960 (First Extraordinary) Session of the Legislature Since that legislation became effective serious irregularities in the mortgage market have been discovered and the investments of many people have been placed in great jeopardy Permanent legislation is urgently needed to provide uniform and effective regulation, and to give stability to the mortgage and trust deed market"

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Messrs. Munnell, Collier, and Burton:

House Resolution No. 152

WHEREAS, Approximately 80 percent of all natural gas consumed in the State of California is imported from out-of-state sources through the instrumentalities of natural gas pipelines, and

WHEREAS, The importation of such natural gas has been steadily on the increase from its inception in 1947; and

WHEREAS, The growth in the volume of such imported natural gas has increased to the point where the gas distributing companies of California are now paying an annual bill to natural gas suppliers for imported natural gas of approximately $260,000,000; and

WHEREAS, It would be reasonable to forecast that, based upon the growth of the volume of natural gas imported into California during the last decade and the entry of new gas pipelines into California, the annual bill which the California distributing companies will be paying within the next five or ten years for imported natural gas may approach the amount of three-quarters of a billion dollars, all of which has been, is being, and will be passed on to the ultimate gas consumers of California; and

WHEREAS, Because of the permissive provisions of the Federal Natural Gas Act whereby these natural gas suppliers may file increased rates with the Federal Power Commission and after a period of five months place such increases in effect, the operation of said act has resulted in the natural gas ratepayers of California paying approximately $230,000,000 in increased natural gas rates, which have not, as yet, been adjudicated as reasonable by the Federal Power Commission, and which amount will constantly and with regularity grow because of the operation of said federal statute and the filing by these natural gas suppliers of consecutive rate increases; and

WHEREAS, The Public Utilities Commission of the State of California, in conjunction with the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners, has presented to the Congress of the United States certain proposed remedial legislation calculated to remedy the present oppressive situation created by the operation of the Federal Natural Gas Act, which proposed legislation seeks to prohibit consecutive rate increases being pyramided one upon top of the other by operation of law, seeks to outlaw indefinite pricing clauses in natural gas contracts, which clauses automatically increase the price of natural gas without relation to cost or value, and seeks to require the Federal Power Commission to find upon the consistency with the public interest of the price at which natural gas is first certificated for sale in interstate commerce, said proposed amendments being embodied in S 606, now pending in the Senate of the United States, and H R 2781, now pending in the House of Representatives of the United States, the former bill having been introduced by Senator Magnuson of Washington, Chairman of the Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and the latter bill having been introduced by Congressman Moss of California, a member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Assembly of the California State Legislature does hereby go on record supporting S 606 and H R 2781, and urging their enactment into law at as early date as possible, and calls upon the members of the California Delegation in the Congress of the United States to support said bills.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules.

Section 3081 05 was added to the Civil Code at the 1959 Regular (General) Session of the Legislature, and was amended at the 1960 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature As enacted, and as amended, the section contained a clause intended to exempt mortgage brokers who do not "actually or constructively in any way keep, have charge of, or otherwise handle" any funds involved in their transactions An error in the wording has caused the exemption clause to be construed as exempting mortgage brokers only when engaged in loan transactions Desist and refrain orders have been served on several hundred brokers engaged in other mortgage transactions who have not obtained bonds Because the surety companies generally have refused to write the required bonds, these orders have forced many mortgage brokers to suspend operations contrary to the intent of the Legislature, causing great hardship to the brokers and their principals " may be designated as spices, flavorings, and colorings, without naming each

"The requirements of clause (2) of this section shall ~~not~~ apply to ~~any carbonated~~ every beverage ~~identified by registered trademark or trade name in which the ingredients have been fully and correctly disclosed to the board in the manner described by clause (2) above in a sworn affidavit, provided, however, that the filing of such affidavit shall not exempt carbonated beverages identified by registered trademark or trade name from any other requirement of this chapter, and particularly the requirements of stating in the label thereon any imitation or artifical flavor or color, or chemical preservative. If no affidavit covering a carbonated beverage identified by trademark or trade name has been filed with the board all the requirements of clause (2) of this section shall apply to such product, except the following ingredients are exempt from declaration on the label: water, carbon dioxide, caramel, sugar, and citric acid,~~ except beer and wine Beer and wine, as defined in the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, are exempt from the requirements of clause (2) of this section

"To the extent that compliance with the requirements of clause (2) of this section is impractical or results in deception or unfair competition, exemption shall be established by regulations promulgated by the board."

As we construe the bill, it would eliminate the present provisions of Section 26495 which exempt certain carbonated beverages from the requirement that a food be deemed to be misbranded unless its label bears the name of the ingredients and would require every beverage, except beer and wine, to be deemed to be misbranded unless its label bears, in case it is fabricated from two or more ingredients, the common and usual name of each such ingredient

The Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (Sec 301, et seq , Title 21, U S C.A.) presently contains a provision similar to Section 26495 of the Health and Safety Code, except that it does not contain any exception for carbonated beverages Section 343 of Title 21 of the United States Code provides, in part, as follows:

"A food shall be deemed to be misbranded—

(i) If it is not subject to the provisions of subsection (g) of this section unless its label bears (1) the common or usual name of the food, if any there be, and (2) in case it is fabricated from two or more ingredients, the common or usual name of each such ingredient; except that spices, flavorings, and colorings, other than those sold as such, may be designated as spices, flavorings, and colorings without naming each Provided, that, to the extent that compliance with the requirements of clause (2) of this subsection is impracticable, or results in deception or unfair competition, exemptions shall be established by regulations promulgated by the Secretary [Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare]." (Emphasis added)

While the language of the federal act and Section 26495 of the Health and Safety Code, as it would be amended by Assembly Bill No 2022, would be similar, the federal act regulates beverages in interstate commerce and has no application to intrastate matters regarding beverages which would be regulated by Section 26495 of the Health and Safety Code, as it would be amended (see 22 Am Jur 816 to 818, incl )

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

Hon. Louis Francis
Assembly Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR LOU Since discussing personally with you the statements you recently made regarding subversive activities at Humboldt State College, I have consulted with prominent citizens of Humboldt County and responsible officials, who like myself, are protesting those charges without you revealing sufficient proof of evidence

Humboldt State College has grown and developed in the years since its establishment from a small teachers' college to its present position as one of California's institutions of higher education As Assemblyman from that area for over 10 years I have been privileged to have participated in all of its constructive programs of development and achievements I have nothing but praise for Humboldt State College and the schools of Humboldt County, under the leadership of able and dedicated administrators and teachers

It is most regrettable that you, a Member of the State Legislature, denounced Humboldt State College as being one of the most subversive in the State Your charges have cast a black shadow upon the entire faculty, student body and alumni of Humboldt State College, one of the finest in our state college system

Since your charges are directed against the loyalty and patriotism of Humboldt State College and the schools of Humboldt County, I respectfully request a public retraction of your accusations

Sincerely yours,

FRANK P BELOTTI

An Active Disservice

Governor Brown has properly condemned a proposal by Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo County to set up a Joint Legislative Committee on Un-American Activities

Creation of such a committee would be an active disservice because the body would invade and duplicate work now being done on a statewide basis by the State Senate Committee on Un-American Activities, and on a state and national basis by the House Committee on Un-American Activities and the FBI

The State Senate committee, which has long experience, has demonstrated that it can meet the need for any studies leading to legislation in this field

Inevitably, a body such as that proposed by Assemblyman Francis would make more difficult the task of agencies operating responsibly. This is particularly so because Assemblyman Francis, who presumably would be chairman of the committee he proposes, has offered as a foundation for his proposal nothing more than fright language and one anonymous letter

The fight against the domestic Communist conspiracy is much too important to permit it to fall into the hands of extremists of any stripe

Tantivy, Tantivy! Red Hunting We Will Go

The John Birch Society, an ultra-conservative organization that has apparently been winning converts, has been called to public notice through some condemnatory speeches in the U S Senate Senators Milton Young (Rep -N D ) and Mike Mansfield (Dem -Mont ) have deplored the growth of the organization and set out to rally public opinion against it

Despite their testimony that the society has recruited "able and influential" citizens in their states, we find it difficult to become alarmed over its potential damage Unless the national intelligence has suffered more profound and lasting impairment from the McCarthy epidemic than seems possible, this organization is ideally contriving to get itself laughed to death Nobody with a remnant of common sense is likely to swallow its ominous assertions that President Eisenhower was a Communist in purpose and in act, or that the income tax and social security are diabolical Communist devices to ripen America for Soviet plucking

The very extravagance and extremity of the John Birch articles of faith are insurance against anything but crackpot acceptance Far more cause for nervousness, where the much-feared revival of McCarthyism is concerned, may be found among the neo-Red-hunters closer to home

In Sacramento, Assemblyman Louis Francis of San Mateo county has proposed a joint legislative committee to ferret out Communists in government, schools, press, radio, television and labor Though a Senate Un-American Activities Committee already exists, Francis wants $100,000 for a second committee with wider scope and more power He solemnly told a legislative committee that he has evidence that Humboldt County is the most subversive county in the State

Asked to produce such evidence, he offered a letter signed "Eurekian Patriot" which spoke of political science professors at Humboldt State College expounding "idealism theories" and of "students being swayed and Communism acceptance (sic) "

A public official who asks for substantial sums of public moneys and a huge investment of official time and energy on such preposterous grounds ought to be laughed out of the committee room

'Students a Firm Bunch'
FBI Agent Reports Few Campus Reds

Liberal and sometimes fuzzy-headed thinking by university groups should not be misinterpreted as communistic or subversive activity, the San Francisco Bond Club was told yesterday.

Richard D Auerbach, local special agent in charge of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said university students are a "firm bunch" and there was no sign of deep Communism among them

"But those on the fringe we must be careful of," he warned.

Speaking at a club luncheon in the St Francis Hotel, Auerbach, replying to questions on the film "Operation Abolition," said·

"I have no comment on the demonstrations at the House Unamerican (Activities) Committee hearing here, but I'm sure no one can question the validity of the movies

"However, whether they tell the story of the committee or the hearings, that depends on a variety of conflicting ideas "

Auerbach said the Bay area—with its military and industrial activities—is one of the major areas in the country where the FBI carries out security work

The Bay area, he said, is keeping parallel with the national increase of 12 percent a year in major crime, which rose to two and a half million cases in 1960 Of these, juveniles committed one-third.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT EDITORIAL IN JOURNAL

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

A New Committee

Assemblyman Louis Francis, San Mateo Republican, is worried about the complacency with which most Americans seem to regard the threat of communist subversion across the country in general and California in particular He would like to do something about it

He has proposed the creation of a joint Assembly-Senate Committee on Un-American Activities to prove—even further than has the House Committee that has gone after the native reds—that the threat is a real one

"The American people," he said, "are apathetic and complacent about communism They are not going to move until we show them the danger."

Mr Francis knows, of course, that what he proposes will meet with bitter and well-organized opposition, but that is not going to deter him from pressing for approval of his proposal He wants the lower house of the Legislature to give its support and active participation in the drive against subversives which has been carried out, sporadically, by the Senate committee headed by Sen Hugh Burns

What Mr Francis proposes should receive popular support, enough of it to override the effects of the pressure that is certain to come from those who oppose legislative investigation of the communists among us

It is, as he says, time for more Americans to turn from apathy and complacency in this matter, and do something to help those who realize the danger.

House Resolution No. 160

Relative to gasoline price wars

WHEREAS, Gasoline price wars at the service station level are rampant in certain parts of California at present, resulting in wide variation in retail gasoline prices in different areas of California which have no relation to differing costs of production or distribution, and

WHEREAS, There are indications that the current gasoline price wars have started for the purpose of forcing what are variously called "independents" or "cut-rate" stations to raise their gasoline prices to the motorist, or in the alternative to force such stations out of business, and that retail gasoline prices are controlled by certain oil companies, and

WHEREAS, The public has a vital interest in the continued existence of a healthy and competitive gasoline industry; and

WHEREAS, The interest of the motoring public is not served by measures which control gasoline prices or destroy competition; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Standing Committee on Manufacturing, Oil, and Mining Industry is requested to forthwith investigate the causes and effects of the current gasoline price wars in California and to report thereon to the Legislature within 30 days, together with their recommendation, if any, for remedial legislation, and be it further

Resolved, That the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby made available from the Assembly Contingent Fund for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from said Contingent Fund and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasury
