Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 303

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 27, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly and Senate:

Assembly Bill No. 303, "An act making an appropriation for study of the pear decline disease, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

The future health of California's pear orchards is seriously threatened by the existence of pear decline. The cause of this disease is at present unknown. Studies of the causes and prevention of pear decline are urgently required to preserve our pear orchards. The appropriation provided for in this bill will enable the University of California to proceed immediately with these studies.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 303 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. George E Brown was granted unanimous consent that the following editorial be ordered printed in the Journal:

EDITORIAL FROM MONTEREY PARK PROGRESS

Monterey Park Progress, March 2, 1961

MY ACRE

By Norm Lieberman

The City Council resolution calling the public's attention to the threat of Communism and asking a rededication to the principles of democracy is an insult to the community's intelligence.

But if you're a councilman, what are you going to do? Somebody asks you to vote on motherhood and you're trapped

We in Monterey Park don't have to be told not to step in front of fast-moving trucks on a freeway when it's raining And we don't have to be told by our City Council that we should be against Communism. If the Council or whoever wrote the resolution has some information that Monterey Park favors Communism, let's hear it.

The resolution, like so many others wrapped in righteousness with strings of platitudes and a bow of Jefferson, has all the effectiveness of trying to bring down sputnik with a spitball

Nikita says this country will be Communist by choice in a couple of generations because capitalism is an inferior economic system. Now if the Council wants to show us the way, let's hear something about the problems of a capitalistic society

With all due respect to Jefferson, what did he know about cheating on income tax returns? Where is his counsel on shifts in employment opportunities and the resultant lag in absorbing workers from another industry?

What did he have to say about featherbedding? Price rigging? Economic pessimism which can give birth to economic depression?

Nikita says capitalism will be a victim of suicide It's his assumption that people are basically immoral and that without putting the means of production in the hands of the government, they will be abused to such an extent that economic survival is possible only for a few.

Our ability to survive in an economic war depends a great deal on our will to be honest and efficient If the City Council has some ideas along these lines, let's hear them.

The plasterers' union recently turned down a pay increase, saying $4 15 an hour is plenty in these times and that a wage hike would be inflationary. The plasterers don't want to price themselves out of the market That's good thinking, the kind of thinking that is healthy for capitalism and bodes ill for Communism

The man who takes jobless benefits because he doesn't want to work is no friend of free enterprise Neither is the captain of industry who fails to recognize his responsibility to the economy.

Let's raise the flag and pledge allegiance to it. But the struggle for survival of democracy doesn't even begin there

REMARKS BY MR. HOUSE

Mr Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

When men die it is a tragedy to their friends and families When Senator Hulse passed away it was a tragedy to all of California

Yet this loss is lessened by his accomplishments, which are living There will be memorials to Senator Hulse, but these will not mean more than his achievements, which are permanent

For Senator Hulse was a champion His was a statewide stature Imperial Valley is the place in which the stature was developed that offered the opportunity to capitalize on rigid integrity, on hard work, on resolute will to accomplish

He came to Imperial County, like so many of his friends, with little in assets other than those of his character

He put his mark on Imperial County, then California The characteristics which spelled success and appreciation in Imperial Valley were carried to Sacramento, from where their impact was felt on the entire State Senator Hulse was soon recognized as an uncompromising fighter for the best in government, a hard man to beat The respect he earned elevated him to Chairman of the Rules Committee, Chairman of the Finance Committee, and President Pro Tempore of the State Senate, all at the same time.

I feel a deep sense of personal loss He was a good friend of mine for many years I ask that when we adjourn today, we do so in respect and tribute to the passing of a great man—Senator Ben Hulse I ask for an "Aye" vote

REMARKS BY MR. GAFFNEY

Saint Patrick—March 17, 1961

Mr Speaker and Members of the Assembly:

On this day, the 17th of March, people of all races and creeds pause to remember a one-time shepherd slave boy who tended his flocks on the hills of Antrim, Ireland, and who rose to command the respect and devotion of the Irish race and the love and affection of people throughout the world for 15 centuries

Fifteen centuries ago in the year 461 Anno of March Domini, Patricius Magonnis Succatus died, and was born again in the hearts of his countrymen and in the hearts of men of good will everywhere in all lands under the sun, during all these 1,500 years.

As to the place of his birth there is conflict of historical opinion, but, according to his confessions in the ancient Book of Armagh he was born in the year 389 at Bannavem Taberniae or Plain of Tents, a Roman military and civilian cantonment at the confluence of the Leven and Clyde Rivers as the estuary opened into the sea at what is now called Dunbarton on Clyde, Scotland

His father Calpurnius, a man of Roman high rank, was a deacon or mayor of the civilian population and his mother Concessa was the sister of St Martin of Tours

At the age of 16 he was kidnaped by a band of Irish marauders and sold into slavery to an Irish chief He tended his flock for six years and in the long days and nights of solitude, Patrick prayed that God would deliver him back to his people and his prayer was answered in a flight to the coast and a ship to the continent Patrick had learned to love the Irish people and yearned to someday return to them So, it seems he was destined to become a bishop and an apostle of Christianity to the pagan people he had served and loved Patrick did return 18 years later in the year of A D 433 at the mouth of the Vantry near the present city of Wicklow, and with his small group of followers converted a whole nation to Christendom without a single martyrdom He was, however, taken captive by certain war-like Druids and once was loaded with chains and condemned to die.

What kind of a people were the Gaels whom St Patrick was commissioned to evangelize? Druids in religion—who worshipped stone images and the elements—turbulent in nature, fierce in battle, feuding, battling amongst the clans, but possessed of a system of government and laws democratically drawn in assemblies, and a tradition of merit to individuals and families based upon service to the state in the following order: Ard chiefs, lesser chiefs, Druid priests, bards, poets, and teachers—and corresponding rank for artisans in order of importance: goldsmiths, armorers, silver and ironsmiths, ship and building men, and tillers of the soil

To this strange, warlike people he brought the gospel of Christianity, and, with no weapons except the Cross, converted a whole nation, set up monasteries of piety and learning from which scores of Irish Monks spread the gospel throughout Britain, Scotland and Northern Europe. They also traveled across Europe rekindling the fires of faith and bringing the tidings of the faith in the one God and His love and mercy to countless peoples.

May the blessing of Saint Patrick descend upon us today. May the hills rise gently before you and the wind be always at your back and may God hold you always in the hollow of his hand.

LETTER FROM MR. BRITSCHGI

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION, March 17, 1961

TO: All Legislative Advocates
FROM: Carl A Britschgi, Chairman
Legislative Representation Committee

It has been brought to my attention through a series of complaints by legislators of a practice that deserves some serious consideration.

The problem stems from the fact that when a legislator has presented a bill in committee and the chairman asks if anyone wishes to appear against such legislation, then, for reasons unbeknown to the legislator, an advocate appears in opposition to the bill It would seem to me that it would only be common courtesy that the legislative advocate contact the legislator before the presentation of legislation and tell him of his opposition to the bill and the reasons for them. Possibly some amendments could be worked out favorably for both parties concerned by discussion before presentation

I only offer this as a suggestion to the legislative advocates and hope that this condition will be corrected in the very near future

Thank you for your co-operation.

CARL A BRITSCHGI, Chairman
LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION COMMITTEE

Communications to Certificated School Personnel—No. 11544

DEAR MR HEGLAND: You have directed our attention to Assembly Bill No. 1574, as introduced, and have asked whether there is any possibility that the privilege would cover a teacher who in a confidential conversation urges a pupil to commit a crime, or has an improper conversation with a pupil concerning homosexual acts or other acts of perversion and urges the pupil to commit such acts or makes other improper advances

In our opinion the answer is no.

The provision to be added by the bill to Section 1881 of the Code of Civil Procedure reads.

> "A certificated person as defined in the Education Code cannot be examined as to a communication made to him in confidence by any pupil, nor any communication made to him in confidence about a pupil by any other certificated person or any natural or foster parent or guardian of such pupil. and no person employed in the public schools of this State can be examined as to any such communication, or as to a record thereof, without the consent of the certificated person to whom the communication was made No such person can be adjudged in contempt of a court or any administrative body for refusing to testify concerning such a communication or to produce or testify concerning a record of the communication." (Emphasis added)

This provision relates only to certain communications made to a certificated person and thus could not apply in the cases you have described

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel

INTERIM REPORT OF COLORADO RIVER BOUNDARY COMMISSION

COLORADO RIVER BOUNDARY COMMISSION
LOS ANGELES, March 15, 1961

Hon Edmund G. Brown
Governor of California
State Capitol, Sacramento
Hon Hugh M Burns
President of the Senate
California State Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento
Hon Ralph M. Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
California State Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento

GENTLEMEN This Interim Report of the Colorado River Boundary Commission of California is presented for the purpose of advising you that an agreement has been reached with the Colorado River Boundary Commission of Arizona as to the location of the common boundary between the two states with respect to the present channel of the Colorado River from the southern boundary of the State of Nevada to the International Boundary between the State of California and the United States of Mexico

In this regard, your commission reports that after prolonged negotiations with its counterpart, Arizona Commission, a joint meeting of the two boundary commissions was held at Las Vegas, Nevada, on February 27, 1961, and at that meeting it was agreed by and between the two commissions that the location of the common boundary shall, in general, consist of a line running down the middle of the present channel of the Colorado River and shall be midway between the abutments of bridge crossings and dams but shall be subject to the following specific agreement as to certain areas

(1) Yuma Island area In the area commonly known as Yuma Island there have been extensive investigations and negotiations conducted by the two commissions and, as a result thereof, they have now agreed that the common boundary in the island area shall follow approximately the United States General Land Office 1874 survey line, except that in place of being a tortuous boundary, it shall follow surveyed section lines; and

(2) Cibola Valley area The United States Bureau of Reclamation has adopted a plan of river channelization in the Palo Verde and Cibola Valley areas. The route selected for this channelization has been approved by the Department of Interior and, as far as both the department and the bureau are concerned, the plan has been authorized as to location of the proposed channel Inasmuch as it is planned to have water at all times in both the natural channel of the river and in the artificial channel after the project is put into operation, the boundary commissions have agreed that the common interstate boundary in the Cibola Valley area will consist of the existing river channel.

The commission respectfully requests that this Legislature indicate its approval of the proposed boundary location as outlined herein, subject, of course, to necessary surveying, marking and legally describing the boundary, and also subject to the drafting and execution of an appropriate interstate boundary compact.

Respectfully submitted,

F. J. HORTIG, Chairman

13400 If any provision of this division (commencing with Section 13000), or the application thereof to any person or circumstance, is held invalid, the remainder of the division or the application of such provision to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby

SEC 2 The Legislature finds the necessity for the enactment of the legislation contained in this act to be as follows

That since 1955 a number of individuals and corporate entities, including those operators referred to as ten percenters, operating with their principal or main offices in California, have themselves and through their salesmen and agents, engaged in an investment business, giving it the appearance of a banking operation, making false and fraudulent misrepresentations in their advertising to attract California investors to entrust their money in return for the promise of a "secured" 10 percent return thereon, based upon the acquisition of sound second deeds of trust, land sale contracts, or other real estate securities That these securities dealers in many cases manufactured deeds of trust which were essentially of little or no value to transfer to these investors or did not transfer any deeds of trust That these securities dealers commingled investors' funds in their general accounts and dissipated the moneys

That as a result of the aforesaid practices, thousands of investors, both within and outside California, have been deceived and defrauded by said securities dealers, and have lost millions of dollars

That not all individuals nor corporate entities who deal in real estate securities engage in the aforesaid practices Many are long established and legitimate businesses

To protect the aforesaid investors, as well as the general public, and to insure the general welfare, and to correct the evils uncovered, it is necessary to apply traditional standards for the sale and quality control of securities and to subject the real estate securities business to regulations so as to deal with abuses on a preventive basis and to limit the persons or entities who engage in this business to those of proven honesty and integrity

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Francis was granted unanimous consent that the following open letter to Mr Belotti be ordered printed in the Journal·

OPEN LETTER BY MR. FRANCIS

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE, March 20, 1961

Hon. Frank P Belotti
Member of the California Legislature
1st District, Humboldt County
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR FRANK· In reply to your "open letter" addressed to me on March 14th, which the record will show that I had no objections and supported the motion for its publication in the Assembly Daily Journal, I appreciate and understand your great concern over the recent charge made by me relative to subversive activities at Humboldt State College However, I can assure you that it was based on considerably more than an anonymous letter as reported and charged.

It would have been dangerous to have revealed any evidence publicly or to have disclosed my confidential sources of this evidence in order to defend and save myself last Tuesday in the Assembly Chamber, which, unfortunately, through no fault of your own, resulted in a "political hassle." The security and safety of our nation and State, and especially the future of our children and grandchildren, are so much more important than the future career of any one of us.

I cannot agree that this charge reflected upon the loyal and good people of your county or upon the students, faculty or alumni of the college in general. It certainly was not intended to do so. There is no question of the loyalty and patriotism of nearly all of the citizens of your county Nevertheless, you and I know that communists, subversives and their supporters do not dwell, infiltrate or operate in America as communities; they assign their agents sparingly, skillfully, and in a manner designed to get the most from the least number in their subversive endeavors

I am fully aware of the programs of academic development and high achievement of Humboldt State College and the honors that have been derived from those programs, and for these reasons, this institution deserves praise That is another good and forceful reason why we should so zealously guard our colleges, our youth, and our communities from the insidious forces which can be brought about by a comparatively small segment of anti-American agents

The conspirators against democracy in our land do not depend upon an entire college faculty or student body to indoctrinate and inculcate

their ideas, a lone propagandist, given the proper medium and position, can sway thousands to his or her thinking Often a few can accomplish the purpose by aiding and abetting the atheistic communist conspiracy.

California is the prime target of the Communist Party, U S A It has been designated as the "corral " The fact is that special concentration is being made by communists and subversives in our State Over 15 percent of all Communist Party members in the nation live in California, ranking this State at least second in party membership.

Our rapidly growing population, industries, political position and strategic location have made California communism's prey for a long period of time, and that is the reason that the party is operating a highly efficient underground organization in our State, as well as trying to increase its above-ground organization The Reds are now intensely increasing their infiltration in the major fields. Let's wake up, face the facts, prepare and fight against this continuing conspiracy which advocates the overthrow of our government by force, violence or other unlawful means It is determined to destroy our American heritage and way of life In the face of these facts, there are no other considerations

As a result of my investigations, and with the help of others, I have collected, in my opinion as a lawyer, certain evidence over a period of time of subversive activities at not only Humboldt State College, but also at the University of California and some other state colleges. This evidence will be delivered to one of the proper authorities In submitting this evidence, I do so not as a Member of the Legislature, but as a tremendously concerned individual citizen responding to the desires of both our federal and state governments for information which might aid them. I earnestly urge other citizens to do likewise when they have evidence of any dangerous activities in any major field, particularly in the danger zone of our institutions of learning

As you know, I have proposed a Joint Senate-Assembly Committee to investigate communist activities in California with the necessary appropriation to include members of both houses and to cover more fields with a large staff of investigators, expert and technical assistants, and secretaries

If this proposed legislation is passed and the committee established, despite the strong opposition to it, there is no question that the people in California will have the many additional facts of the growing menace of atheistic communism before it is too late Armed with facts, there is no question in my mind that the people can curb the dangerous and intensive Red activities in our State.

In view of the foregoing, I am sure you will want your request for a retraction of the charge to be held in abeyance until further developments.

Sincerely yours,

LOUIS FRANCIS

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Dahl was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Attorney General be ordered printed in the Journal.

Opinion of Attorney General

November 17, 1960

The Honorable John A Murdy, Jr
Senator, 35th District
1623 West 17th Street
Santa Ana, California

Subject: Applicability of Water Code Section 31053 to Cities

DEAR SENATOR MURDY: This is in response to your letter of October 13th, requesting an opinion of this office

Attached to your letter was a copy of a letter to you by Mr B Z McKinney, City Attorney for the City of San Clemente Mr McKinney's letter posed a question concerning whether Water Code Section 31053, limiting the authority of publicly-owned utilities to supply water in a county water district under certain circumstances, could be applicable to cities in view of the authority granted to cities by Article XI, Section 19 of the California Constitution

Mr McKinney's letter mentioned that Mr Keller, associate counsel for the League of California Cities, had expressed a view that Section 31053 could not be constitutionally made applicable to public utility service by a city We, therefore, requested Mr. Keller's views on the question posed prior to preparing our opinion

Mr Keller submitted his views to us by a letter dated November 10th, a copy of which is attached hereto We are in accord with the opinion expressed by Mr Keller and concur therein Our research on the question posed has not revealed any additional applicable authorities to those set forth in Mr Keller's letter.

If we can be of any further assistance on this matter, please advise us

Letterhead—LEAGUE OF CALIFORNIA CITIES
BERKELEY, November 10, 1960

Hon. Stanley Mosk, Attorney General
Library and Courts Building
Sacramento, California

Attention E G Benard
Assistant Attorney General

DEAR GENERAL MOSK: This is in response to your letter of October 18 requesting our comments concerning a request for an opinion on the application of Section 19 of Article XI of the California Constitution to Section 31053 of the Water Code as added by Chapter 2076, Statutes of 1959 The specific question is the extent to which Section 31053 can constitutionally be applied to cities in the furnishing of water to land annexed to the city after the effective date of Section 31053.

Article XI, Section 19 of the Constitution reads as follows

"SEC 19 Public works in municipalities; municipal operation or regulation

SEC 19 Any municipal corporation may establish and operate public works for supplying its inhabitants with light, water, power, heat, transportation, telephone service or other means of communication Such works may be acquired by original construction or by the purchase of existing works, including their franchises, or both Persons or corporations may establish and operate works for supplying the inhabitants with such services upon such conditions and under such regulations as the municipality may prescribe under its organic law, on condition that the municipal government shall have the right to regulate the charges thereof A municipal corporation may furnish such services to inhabitants outside its boundaries; provided, that it shall not furnish any service to the inhabitants of any other municipality owning or operating works supplying the same service to such inhabitants without the consent of such other municipality, expressed by ordinance."

Section 31053 of the Water Code reads as follows:

"SEC 31053 Prohibition against performing service for, etc., land subject to bond lien.

"No publicly owned utility shall commence to provide any service for, on, or to any land within a county water district which is subject to the lien of a general obligation bonded indebtedness incurred by the district for the purpose of providing a service similar to that which the utility proposes to provide

"However, a publicly owned utility may commence to provide service, otherwise prohibited, upon either of the following conditions.

"(a) If the board of directors of such a county water district shall by resolution permit such service; or

"(b) If any portion of such a county water district proposed to be served by the publicly owned utility in which the total numbers of registered voters residing therein exceeds 200, and in which at least two-thirds of the voters shall have voted at a special county water district election to permit such service The election shall be called and held as an initiative measure pursuant to Section 30830 "

The power granted to municipal corporations by Article XI, Section 19 has been held to be self-executing, and in City of Mill Valley v. Saxton, 41 Cal. App. (2d) 290, the District Court of Appeal states: (at page 294)

"The Constitution expressly authorizes 'any' city to establish and operate public works for 'transportation.' It expressly authorizes such city to furnish 'such services to inhabitants outside its boundaries ' Here is the grant of power If the Legislature should attempt by statutory enactment to deny or withhold that power as to any special class of cities its act would be clearly unconstitutional If it attempted the same result indirectly by failing to mention the power in some corollary legislation, its act to that extent would have no effect on the constitutional grant."

Again, in Sacramento Municipal Utility District v. Pac G. & E, 72 Cal. App. (2d) 638, the Court makes the following statement. (at page 653)

"Moreover, the Constitution expressly authorizes a political subdivision, such as respondent district herein, to furnish services for light, heat, and power to inhabitants outside its boundaries. (Const, Art XI, Sec. 19 ) This section of the Constitution is self-executing, and the Legislature could not, even if it would, limit such authorization (City of Mill Valley v. Saxton, 41 Cal. App. (2d) 290, 294-295 (106 p 2d 455) )"

Turning to Section 31053, it seems apparent on its face that it purports to limit any "publicly owned utility" from serving land within a county water district which is subject to the lien of a general obligation bond incurred by the district for the purpose of providing the particular service provided by the publicly owned utility The prohibition would extend to such service either within or without the limits of the publicly owned utility

This prohibition would withhold from cities and other "municipal corporations" the authority directly granted them by Article XI, Section 19 to provide the utility services enumerated therein to their inhabitants and inhabitants outside their boundaries As applied to cities and other municipal corporations within the constitutional grant, therefore, a direct and inescapable conflict occurs The Constitution grants the authority to serve and Section 31053 withholds it In this situation it is fundamental that the legislative enactment must yield to the paramount authority of the Constitution For this reason the answer to the specific question must be in the negative

To conclude, however, that Section 31053 is constitutionally inapplicable to "municipal corporations" as that term is used in Article XI, Section 19 does not mean that it is invalid in all respects The term "publicly owned utility" may very well be broader than the term "municipal corporation" and to that extent Section 31053 may be validly applicable to publicly owned utilities other than municipal corporations.

For the foregoing reasons, it is the very firm conclusion of this office that Section 31053 of the Water Code, as added by Chapter 2076, Statutes of 1959, cannot be constitutionally applied to cities, or any other municipal corporation

Your courtesy in requesting our views on this question, which as you will appreciate is one of extremely great importance to California's cities, is very much appreciated If we can be of any further assistance in connection with your consideration of this matter please let us know

Sincerely,

LEWIS KELLER, Associate Counsel

The following resolutions were offered:

By Messrs Rumford, Reagan, McMillan, Don A Allen, Elliott, Hawkins, Kilpatrick, Munnell, and Petris.

House Resolution No. 168

Relating to redevelopment projects

WHEREAS, One of the most serious and distressing problems with regard to community redevelopment projects is the tragic plight of the residents of the project areas who are displaced from their homes as a result of the redevelopment project, and

WHEREAS, These persons are, in general, far less able than any other group in our society to bear the crushing personal and economic losses which are imposed by a redevelopment project; and

WHEREAS, The redevelopment agencies are not giving sufficient consideration to such persons in the planning and execution of redevelopment projects; and

WHEREAS, The redevelopment agencies are not making adequate provision in their redevelopment plans for the establishment of housing, as a part of the redevelopment plan, which the displaced persons will be able to afford and which will be available to all such persons, including such persons who are members of minority groups; and

WHEREAS, Redevelopment agencies are now specifically authorized to make relocation payments to or with respect to persons (including families, business concerns and others) displaced by a redevelopment project, for moving expenses and losses of property for which reimbursement or compensation is not otherwise made (Sec 33270 1, H & S C ), but too few redevelopment agencies are doing so, and

WHEREAS, The John Birch Society is an organization founded by Robert H W. Welch, Jr., of Belmont, Massachusetts, for the alleged purpose of combating the influence of communism in the United States, and

WHEREAS, The fostering of national loyalty and patriotism is a worthy aim, but some of the methods used by the John Birch Society are as un-American in their way as many employed by a subversive organization; and

WHEREAS, The John Birch Society has been unusually active in California lately, attacking the methods, motives, and morals of those with whom it disagrees, always in the name of pure patriotism, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members hereby denounce the divisive, coercive and un-American tactics employed by the John Birch Society and its adherents.

State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR LOU The Assembly Journal of March 21, 1961, page 1664, contains a letter from you to the Honorable Frank Belotti In that letter, you state that you have collected "certain evidence" pertaining to subversive activities not only at Humboldt State College but also at the University of California and some other state colleges

In view of the published statement by Senator Hugh Burns, Chairman of the Senate Fact Finding Committee on Un-American Activities, that within a few weeks, he will publish the report of that committee, I request that you immediately present to this committee any evidence that you have to support your statement In my opinion, you will render a genuine service to the people of California by coming forward with this information to the only committee in the Legislature authorized to receive it.

I suggest that you can only deal with facts and that the people of California, because of the publicity that has been attached to your charges, have a right to the facts

Sincerely,

DON MULFORD

TWELFTH ANNUAL FINANCIAL REPORT AND REPORT OF OPERATIONS OF THE LEGISLATORS' RETIREMENT SYSTEM FOR THE FISCAL YEAR ENDED JUNE 30, 1960

Administered by the Board of Administration State Employees' Retirement System
William E. Payne, Executive Officer

I. FOREWORD

Administration

The Legislators' Retirement Law (Government Code) is administered by the Board of Administration of the State Employees' Retirement System, as set out in the law. The facilities and staff of the State Employees' Retirement System are used for the administration of both systems.

Summary of Operations

The financial statements in Part II, which follows, reflect an income of $202,093 37 and disbursements for the year ending June 30, 1960, of $127,616 48, leaving income to be applied to reserves of $74,476 89

Assets totaled $378,407 15, at June 30, 1960 Of this amount $345,966 56 was invested in United States Government Bonds, and the balance of assets was represented by cash on hand, receivables, and interest accrued on investments, but not yet due.

Earnings on investments (as a percentage of total accumulated contributions) were at the rate of 3 09 percent Interest is credited to contributions at the rate of 3 25 percent, the rate set by the Board of Administration

There were 33 persons on the service retirement roll and one person on the disability retirement roll on June 30, 1960. Two retired legislators died during the year

Principal Provisions of Law

The member contribution required is 4 percent of the compensation.

The benefits provided are:

1. Retirement—A life income of 5 percent of the compensation for each year of credited service with a maximum of 75 percent for legislators, and 40 percent for elected constitutional officers, available at age 63 for persons who were members on September 22, 1951; age 63, with six years of credited service, if membership occurred thereafter; or at any age if 20 years of service are credited "Compensation" is defined in the law as "compensation payable, at the time payments of the allowance fall due, to the officer holding the office which the member last held prior to his retirement." If the member is disabled, he may retire at any age The disability allowance is also calculated as set out above.

   The highest life allowance as described, or one of four optional settlements, may be selected by the member at retirement
2. Prior Service—Any member who rendered service prior to the date he became a member may elect, at any time prior to retirement, to contribute to the Legislators' Retirement Fund for each year or fraction thereof for which he desires to receive credit, four percent (4%) of the compensation received by him in respect to such services.
3. Death Benefit—Death Before Retirement—Member Not Eligible to Retire—For a Member of the Legislature, one month's salary for each year of service to which the member is entitled to be credited, plus the return of the contributions of the member with interest; and an amount equal to the annual compensation of a legislator during the 12 months preceding death. (Added Chapter 32, Statutes 1960, Section 9359.95)

For an elective officer of the State, other than a Member of the Legislature, whose office is provided for by the Constitution, one month's salary of the office is paid for each year of service, to a maximum of six months, plus the return of the contributions of member, with interest (Effective September 18, 1959, Chapter 2133, Statutes of 1959)

4 Death Benefit—Death Before Retirement—Member Eligible to Retire Who Has a Surviving Spouse—Provides that in lieu of the lump sum death benefit, upon the death of a member who is eligible for retirement and has elected one of the optional settlements, the surviving spouse of such member shall receive the retirement benefit provided by the optional settlement, calculated as if the date of death had been the date of retirement If the member dies without having selected an optional settlement, his surviving spouse shall receive a life allowance under Optional Settlement 2, as though the member had made such an election The life allowance payable shall take into account all credit for service rendered prior to membership date whether or not contributions were paid for such service.

If there is no surviving spouse, the benefit described in paragraph 3 is payable to a named beneficiary

5 Death Benefit—Death After Retirement—$300, payable to the beneficiary in addition to any optional settlement selected by the member at retirement

Analysis of State Park Potentials—Agua Mansa

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, March 21, 1961

The Honorable Ralph M Brown
Speaker, State Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR BROWN In response to Senate Concurrent Resolution No 14, 1960 Session, relative to the proposed establishment of Agua Mansa State Park, I submit the attached report, entitled "An Analysis of the State Park Potentials of Agua Mansa, Riverside and San Bernardino Counties" A copy has also been submitted to the State Senate

I concur with the recommendations of the Division of Beaches and Parks and the State Park Commission that the Agua Mansa area does not possess the necessary features or meet the criteria for its establishment as a state park This recommendation was reached after thorough investigation, studies and surveys were completed The expensive acquisition costs, the prohibitive development factors of cost and complete construction of necessary attractions and features, the question of adequate water supply, and the detractions caused by the nearby mining and other industries, when considered together negate the establishment of this area as a state park

The Division of Beaches and Parks is working very closely with Riverside and San Bernardino Counties to present for your consideration, a recreation area or areas within both counties that possess the necessary qualities to be established and developed as state parks We are very confident that there are much better opportunities to do a good job of recreation development in much less adverse surroundings and still be close to the major population areas

Sincerely yours,

DEWITT NELSON, Director

Above transmitted report referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, Planning, and Public Works

House Resolution No. 172

Relative to the California Association for Health and Welfare and its 50th State Conference

WHEREAS, In 1901 a group of people assembled in Oakland to found what is now known as the California Association for Health and Welfare; and

WHEREAS, It is a foretaste of the quality of effectiveness this young organization was to have in its long life that the State Board of Charities and Corrections was created by law in 1903, and the Juvenile Court of San Francisco established in 1917, and

WHEREAS, The third, fourth, and fifth meetings of the Conference of Charities and Corrections, as it was then known, were centered around attacks on the deplorable conditions of county and state hospitals, and led to great reforms in the conditions, and

WHEREAS, Attendance at most of the meetings of the association held during the last 25 years has run close to 2,000, the peak attendance being at the Pasadena Conference of 1938 when 2,656 persons were registered, and

WHEREAS, In its early years there were four allied organizations which met concurrently with the conference, the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, California Probation Officers Association, Central Section of the California Teachers' Association, and the District Mothers' and Teachers' Association; and

WHEREAS, From the first, the conference always met controversial issues with openness and courage; and

WHEREAS, The earliest concerns of the conference were its work for a state welfare department, building a membership, and holding an annual meeting where resolutions were considered on a variety of topics, and

WHEREAS, The opposition of the conference in 1933 was instrumental in killing a bill which would have abolished the State Department of Social Welfare, and

WHEREAS, In 1936 the president of the conference called together representatives of a number of California organizations for the purpose of setting up a co-ordinated public welfare plan for the State, and

WHEREAS, One of the most valuable contributions which the conference has made is as a forum where different and even conflicting opinions are sure of a fair and unbiased hearing, and

WHEREAS, One piece of legislation sponsored by the conference stands out above all others, the law requiring registration and certification of social workers adopted in 1945 after many years of study and experimentation by the conference, and

WHEREAS, Among the topics which the conference has pursued over the years is the problem of mental hygiene, and as early as 1927 a resolution urged that the directors of the State Departments of Public Welfare and Institutions should develop a mental hygiene program for the State, and

WHEREAS, The conference also supported a resolution asking the State Board of Education to introduce a course on behavior problems into required teacher training curricula; and

WHEREAS, The conference early showed a lively interest in the problems of the immigrant and migratory worker, and

WHEREAS, Noting other important milestones over the years, it was at the Pasadena meeting of 1926 that California's Executives in Public Welfare set up their organization, and in 1928 a resolution was passed that resulted in the publication four years later by the State Department of Social Welfare of a "Directory of Social Welfare Organizations in California"; and

WHEREAS, Also in 1928, the subject of health insurance was first brought to the attention of the conference, and

WHEREAS, This organization is to be praised for its outstanding achievements in sponsoring programs of social betterment, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members in honor of the 50th Conference of the California Association for Health and Welfare take this occasion to commend the Association for its invaluable services to the people of this State, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to the California Association for Health and Welfare

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

House Resolution No. 173

Relative to the John Birch Society

WHEREAS, The John Birch Society is an organization formed in 1958 by Robert H Welch, Jr., of Belmont, Massachusetts, for the alleged purpose of combating the influence of communism in the United States, and

WHEREAS, The John Birch Society has resorted to scurrilous and irresponsible attacks on various Americans in public office and, in the semi-secret document entitled The Politician, written and circulated by Robert Welch, it is charged that former President Eisenhower is a 'dedicated, conscious agent of the communist conspiracy' and that former Presidents Truman and Roosevelt were tools of international communism, along with the Dulles brothers and various others governmental officials including Chief Justice Earl Warren, and

WHEREAS, Various news publications, such as Time Magazine, the Los Angeles Times, and the Santa Barbara News Press have exposed the destructive campaign of hate and vilification that the John Birch Society is waging against national leaders who deserve our respect and confidence, and

WHEREAS, The tactics and methods of an organization such as the John Birch Society pose real dangers to our free society, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Honorable Robert Kennedy, Attorney General of the United States, is respectfully memorialized to investigate the organization and methods of the John Birch Society, including any affiliated organizations or groups, to determine whether the society and its affiliated groups should be listed as subversive organizations, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to send a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Robert Kennedy, Attorney General of the United States

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 139.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly and Senate

Assembly Bill No. 139, "An act to provide for a study of recreational uses of the levees of the Sacramento River, and making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately,"

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill

It is imperative that the appropriation called for by Assembly Bill No 139 be heard in advance of the budget The survey of levee development must be undertaken as soon as possible so that the levees will not be unnecessarily denuded of vegetation Unless this is undertaken quickly, irreparable damage may ensue

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No 139 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G BROWN, Governor

Almighty and Eternal God, We ask Thy help to sustain us in the work Thou hast given us to do As the legislative session advances, the size of our task seems more burdensome; the decisions to be made frightening; the responsibilities of public office overwhelming Grant to each the light and strength he needs to fulfill his obligations to Thee and Thy people Give us, we humbly pray, charity in our considerations, prudence in our judgments courage in our decisions, that our role in Thy plan might be worthy of Thy trust This we pray through Christ, Our Lord —AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Bradley was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal.

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, March 23, 1961

Hon Clark Bradley
Assembly Chamber

Civil Engineering—No. 12278

Question

DEAR MR BRADLEY You have directed our attention to Assembly Bill No 611, as amended in Assembly March 21, 1961, and have asked if the bill makes any substantive changes in the law

Opinion

We cannot say that the bill, as amended, does not make any substantive changes in the law The changes which it does make, however, express the position which we think a court would take in construing the present law which is somewhat ambiguous

Assembly Bill No 611, as amended in Assembly March 21, 1961, proposes to revise Section 6731 of the Business and Professions Code as follows

"6731 Civil engineering embraces the following studies or activities in connection with fixed works for irrigation, drainage, water power, water supply, flood control, inland waterways, harbors, municipal improvements, railroads, highways, tunnels, airports and airways, purification of water, sewerage, refuse disposal, foundations, framed and homogeneous structures, buildings, or bridges

(a) The economics of, the use and design of, materials of construction and the determination of their physical qualities

(b) The supervision of the construction of engineering structures

(c) The investigation of the laws, phenomena and forces of nature

(d) Appraisals or valuations

(e) The preparation and/or submission of engineering designs, engineering plans and specifications and engineering reports

Civil engineering also includes city and regional planning insofar as any of the above features are concerned therein, and land surveying as defined in Chapter 15 (commencing at Section 8700) of Division 3 " *

The purpose of the section is to define the term "civil engineering " The "designs, plans and specifications" as used in subdivision (e) of Section 6731, refer to activities taken with respect to certain enumerated things (e g , irrigation, drainage, railroads, highways, buildings, and the like) So related, we think this would be engineering designs and engineering plans and specifications whether so designated specifically or not

It is doubtful, therefore, in our opinion that adding the word "engineering" before the word "design" and the words "plans and specifications" will materially change the interpretation which a court would make of this language

The bill also proposes to revise subdivision (e) of Section 6738 of the Business and Professions Code That subdivision is amended as follows·

"(e) This chapter does not prevent or prohibit an individual, firm, company, association or corporation engaged in any line of business ~~other than the practice of civil engineering~~ from employing a registered civil engineer to perform civil engineering services incidental to the conduct of their business "

This subdivision merely provides that the Civil and Professional Engineers Act does not prohibit nonengineering firms from employing registered civil engineers to perform whatever civil engineering work may be incident to their business We believe the phrase "other than the practice of civil engineering" is intended to exclude from the operation of the section those persons and firms engaged in civil engineering and required to be registered under the act Such persons and firms are controlled by the remainder of the statute and, in this connection, we note that the statute does not purport to prohibit registered engineering firms from employing registered civil engineers Nor do we believe it can be given such a construction in view of the fact that civil engineering may be affected through the medium of partnerships, firms, or corporations (Subd (a), Sec 6738)

* The italic indicates the material to be added
 The strikeout indicates the material to be deleted

In view of the fact that the term "engaged in the practice of civil engineering" can only refer, in our opinion, to those firms required to be registered under the statute, we do not believe that the deletion will materially change the interpretation of the section

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By (MRS.) ANN MACKEY, Deputy

''SEC. 8 Section 2224 of said code is amended to read·

2224. ~~The board of supervisors or an agent designated by the board shall determine if the applicant or recipient of aid has within this State a spouse or adult child responsible to contribute to the support of the applicant or recipient of aid pursuant to the relatives' contribution scale of Section 2181. A form shall be sent to the relative requiring the information essential to the determination of the relative's liability to support under said scale.~~ If an adult child living within this State fails to contribute to the support of his parent as required by Section 2181, the county granting aid under this chapter may proceed against such child Upon request to do so the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county may maintain an action, in the superior court of the county granting such aid, to recover that portion of the aid granted as it is determined that the child is liable to pay, and to secure an order requiring payment of any sums which may become due in the future

The granting of or continued receipt of aid shall not be held to be contingent upon any court action or order or the child's compliance with provisions of Section 2181.

~~Upon request the relative shall file such statement within 10 days if living in the county, or within 30 days if living elsewhere in the State, provided, however, that the granting or continued receipt of aid shall not be contingent upon the filing of such statement by such spouse or adult child.~~

~~If the person receiving aid has within the State a spouse or adult child found by the board of supervisors or its authorized representative pecuniarily able to support said person, the board of supervisors may request the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county granting such aid to proceed against such kindred in the order of their responsibility to support. Upon such demand, the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county granting such aid shall, on behalf of said county, maintain an action, in the superior court of the county granting such aid, against said relative, in the order named, to recover for said county such portion of the aid granted as said relative is able to pay, and to secure an order requiring the payment of any sums which may become due in the future for which the relative may be liable. If the district attorney or other civil legal officer of the county determines for any reason that an action should not be brought, a report of his findings and the reason therefor shall be made to the board of supervisors of the county. Any sum so recovered shall be credited by the county to the county, to the State and to the Federal Government in proportion to the contribution of each respectively, or in the manner prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare.~~

~~The granting of or continued receipt of aid shall not be contingent upon such recovery.~~

~~No court action filed under the authority of this section shall seek the recovery for a county of any sum paid to a recipient of aid at a time prior to the day upon which the board of supervisors made a finding that the defendant spouse or adult child was pecuniarily able to support the recipient. If the responsible relative wilfully and without good cause delays in filing the statement of his income within the time limits as provided in this section the county may seek recovery from such responsible relative from the date said statement is required to be returned to the board of supervisors or their designated agent.~~

Any adult child held to be liable to make a contribution for the full or partial support of his parent pursuant to the provisions of Section 2181 of this code may appeal to the State Social Welfare Board for modification of the required contributions. Such appeal shall be handled in the same manner as specified in Sections 104 1 to 104 6, inclusive, for appeals filed by an applicant for a recipient of public assistance

A county shall not, in determining a relative's liability to support an applicant or recipient, contact the relative's employer"

DEAR SPEAKER BROWN. Pursuant to House Resolution No 144, I attach herewith our report on the recent Folsom prison disturbances

Sincerely yours,

STANLEY MOSK, Attorney General

REPORT OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL PURSUANT TO HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 144

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
March 28, 1961

Hon Ralph M Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

Re: House Resolution No 144

DEAR SPEAKER BROWN. On March 10, 1961 we received from Arthur A Ohnimus, Chief Clerk of the Assembly, a copy of House Resolution No. 144, adopted on March 8, 1961 That resolution reads as follows

"Relative to the investigation of disturbances at Folsom State Prison

WHEREAS, There has been a recent outbreak of violence at Folsom State Prison and this violence has caused injuries to inmates and disrupted prison routine, and

WHEREAS, There appears to be a continuing threat of such tensions at Folsom State Prison which may reflect on the correctional system of the State of California and spread elsewhere; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Civil Rights Division of the California Attorney General's office be requested immediately to investigate these recent disturbances and to make a public report thereof, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly send a copy of this resolution to the Honorable Stanley Mosk, Attorney General of the State of California"

Pursuant to the request contained in the above referred to resolution, I assigned Franklin H Williams, Assistant Attorney General and Chief of the Constitutional Rights Section of our office, to conduct the requested investigation. He was assisted by several members of our staff and in the closing interviews connected therewith, and in the preparation of this report, I personally participated.

Background

In the daily press of March 3 and 4, numerous stories were carried of "Race Rioting at Folsom Prison" The stories reported, among other things, that:

> "White and Negro inmates at Folsom State Prison today rioted for the second consecutive day causing officials to impose racial segregation in the dining halls .
> ". . . Warden Robert A. Heinze said . . 'that the first of today's riots started in mess hall number 1 when about 100 Negro prisoners attempted to eat in a dining section normally used by whites.' "

Subsequently the stories quoted the warden as saying:

> ". . . there is no official racial segregation in the 3,000-inmate prison but explained that the convicts themselves have of their own accord segregated themselves in the mess halls. Recently, however, Negroes led by Muslims have staged 'sit-ins' in sections usually occupied exclusively by whites."

The warden added that "Muslims" aggressively tried to create incidents.

In earlier stories Walter Dunbar, Deputy Director of the State Department of Corrections, is quoted as having said that:

> "The removal of 24 black nationalist Muslims from Folsom Prison and their transfer to Soledad Prison was to prevent violence and as a result thereof the problem is solved."

After the dining hall rioting Warden Heinze was quoted in news stories as having said that "the situation now is black against white, rather than just the Muslim sect against the white" Further, he is quoted as follows:

> "Some of these colored people are trying to take over We are now seating these people to our liking, not to theirs"

See exhibits "A" attached hereto.

Procedure of Investigation

In conducting the requested investigation, members of our staff visited Folsom Prison and the State Correctional Institution at Soledad They observed the assignment and treatment of Negro and white inmates, both in the dining facilities as well as in the cell block White and Negro inmates, both participants and nonparticipants in the alleged "rioting," were interviewed at Folsom Approximately 18 of the Negro prisoners who had been transferred to Soledad, alleged Muslims and non-Muslims, were also personally interviewed

In addition, conferences were held with Richard McGee, Director of the Department of Corrections, Warden Heinze, his two associate wardens, the captain of the guards and a sergeant thereof at Folsom Prison Discussions were also had with the Superintendent of the Correctional Institution at Soledad.

Findings

On or about July 1, 1944, the California Board of Corrections enunciated a policy against racial segregation in any of the facilities under its jurisdiction At that time there was widespread segregation existing at several of these institutions As new facilities were opened, the non-segregation policy was firmly enforced in all activities at such places, including dining rooms (see Exhibits "B," "C," "D,' and "E" attached hereto).

Over the years several incidents have occurred as a result of the department's determination to enforce this policy The most widely reported incident occurred at San Quentin in 1945 when a sit-down strike resulted from the warden's effort to eliminate racial segregation in the dining rooms The problem faced by the authorities there was so severe that successful integration was achieved only during the past year upon completion of a remodeling program in the dining room, which included a change in the type of seating facilities Today the only dining room segregation yet practiced is in the main facilities at Folsom Prison

According to Warden Heinze, the problem of eliminating the "traditional pattern of segregation" is severely complicated by Folsom's inadequate dining and culinary facilities The Director of the Department of Corrections, on March 14, 1961, reported as follows·

> "At Folsom Prison the culinary services are exceptionally inadequate On July 5, 1945, the kitchen and bakery at that institution burned down It was necessary to rebuild them on an improvised basis in order to carry on The understanding at that time was that a whole new culinary service and dining rooms would be provided in the immediate future. This item has been on our capital outlay agenda now for more than fifteen years and each year gets postponed because 'rebuilding a dining room and kitchen does not provide capacity for new population ' One of the dining rooms is an old, remodeled cell block. The second dining room is a very grim and unsavory place, and since that institution has no assembly room for moving pictures or group recreation, the windows of the dining room are painted black in order to permit the showing of motion pictures there The seating is of the Nineteenth Century prison type—long benches, all facing in the same direction. This is the last vestige of this kind of dining facilities in the California Department of Corrections."

Memoranda and materials prepared and distributed by the director, and other material circulated by the Department of Corrections, clearly communicates the department's deep concern with the rapid elimination of this condition at Folsom Prison (see Exhibits "F" and "G" attached hereto) As recently as the first of this year, memoranda were exchanged between the head of the department and the warden at Folsom relative to the segregation pattern in the main dining rooms. The warden's communication, dated February 1, 1961, reflected his judgment that the atmosphere and physical facilities at Folsom were not such as to make an attempt at the elimination of segregation feasible in the dining facilities at this time His concluding statement in such memorandum was.

> "We feel that we should not attempt integration until we have funds to install four-place tables in at least one of the dining rooms "

The table facilities apparently being referred to by the warden are of the type which have been installed in the Ranch Dormitory Dining Room at Folsom (Exhibit "H" attached hereto) as compared with the long narrow tables presently in dining room number 1 and 2 of the main prison facilities (see Exhibits "I" and "J" attached hereto). It should be noted that integration is complete and without any apparent tension in the Ranch Dormitory Dining Room

On the 28th of February, 1961. a Negro prisoner, Albert Turner, sent a handwritten note to Warden Heinze, as follows:

> "DEAR SIR· We, the Afro-American prisoners of this institution have a petition to Gov Brown in regards to the segregated policies of this prison.
> "For we cannot and will not believe that Gov Brown is an active and supporting partner in racial segregation
> "Folsom Prison is the only penal institution in the State of California that still enforces racial segregation, and we, the Afro-Americans, are at a great disadvantage from a rehabilitation standpoint, for racial segregation prevents the very rehabilitation that a stay in prison is supposed to produce
> "We are segregated as a breed apart in living quarters eating facilities and we are also segregated as far as job placements are concerned We are definitely not classified according to our qualifications, but are according to the color of our skin
> "According to Capt Jacobs, there is no segregated policy in this institution, however, there has never been an official announcement to this effect, and there are rumors that we the Afro-Americans would rather be segregated.
> "I most emphatically assure you that no survey has ever been taken to determine what we would prefer, and there is also a rumor that there would be trouble should integration ever come to Folsom Personally we do not think so, that is, if it is put to the men in an intelligent manner, as a new ruling. We feel that the majority of men would abide by it.
> "Very frankly, sir, it all boils down to this
> "The officials make the rules and control this prison, or the prisoners make the rules and control the officials There have been no serious trouble in this prison in almost 30 years.
> "And you can be assured that there was no serious trouble in other California prisons when they were integrated, there will not be any in Folsom because the majority of the inmates appreciate the shows. the sports, the canteen, and their radios, but these are all 'privileges,' not 'rights'

"We feel that the care and rehabilitation of prisoners is a complex problem itself without compounding this any longer with the evils and unfairness of racial segregation"

We know of no written reply to this from the warden Previously on February 23d, Turner had sent the following handwritten communication to Assoc Warden Chamlee

DEAR SIR: We the Afro-American population of this institution are wondering exactly what, if anything, is being done in regards to the ugly and evil segregated policies of this institution?

"As you know, California likes to boast about having one of the most enlightened penal systems in the world, there is some evidence to support this claim, however, Folsom Prison is 'the' only institution in the State of California that is still segregated in the very same manner that it was in 1898

"And we are very much concerned about this matter, we are incarcerated because we violated, or were accused of violating the laws of society. However, under the Constitution of the United States of America, we are rightfully and lawfully entitled to certain rights, that no state government, or employees by the state government have a right to abuse

"But with each passing day our people of this institution are being abused physically and mentally We are being taken undue advantage of by persons who feel that it is their duty to use their authority to persecute and intimidate those who will not co-operate and help them earn their pay

"Unscrupulous individuals who make false allegations without proof and who intimidate us because we are a minority in the prison, these misguided persons use the rules and regulations for an outlet for their own pent-up emotions and frustrations and they use you to enforce their desires, Sir, this is not 1898, this is the year of 1961. You deny us the opportunity to learn skilled jobs, so that you can keep us doing your menial work, the sad fact is then, prison work seems to appeal to bigots and ignorant persons, for in a segregated setup it allows them to allow a field day to vent their evil passions The Afro-Americans are persecuted and abused before imprisonment, and they are persecuted while imprisoned, and they emerge bitter and full of resentment and hatred, not good ingredients for a successful assimilation into society

"Yet you wonder why your penal system is a failure.

"We do not believe that the Governor is aware of the inhuman and barbaric methods that go on behind these huge granite walls, and we cannot believe that the officials of this prison would want to see how men can react when they are being taken undue advantage of and everyone turns their head in another direction.

"There is a lot of discontent because of this deplorable thing called segregation.

"This prison is a powderkeg and it is subject to blow up and you can be assured that those who have turned their heads on us will be the very first to be replaced with competent and unbiased persons.

"The care and rehabilitation of prisoners is a complex problem in itself without compounding it with the evils of racial segregation.

"I personally feel that Folsom should get out of the segregation business completely.

"Since prison would seem to be the last place for 'White only, clubs,' what do you think, sir?

Respectfully yours,

AL TURNER"

While Turner has been described by Folsom authorities as an agitator and troublemaker, it would appear that by correspondence he had chosen an orderly method of ascertaining policy. In a memorandum dated February 28, 1961, addressed to A26363 Turner, Associate Warden Chamlee replied as follows.

"Subject: Segregation complaint

"In reply to your letter of February 23, 1961, in which you complain about segregation policies of this institution, please be advised that I have carefully read your letter and feel that you are certainly misinformed about the policies at this institution

"We do not have any racial segregation policy or rules in this institution and any man, no matter what his color, race, or religion, is eligible for all of the programs that are available here.

"We will certainly remember your complaint, however, and if any segregated practices are brought to our attention, we will take appropriate action Your letter is being placed in your file

Associate Warden
Classification and Treatment"

The foregoing reply was less than candid in that no reference was made to the practice of "voluntary segregation" in the main dining rooms.

The contents of Associate Warden Chamlee's memorandum became widely known among Negro inmates On Thursday, March 2, 1961, at the breakfast meal, several Negroes sat on the traditionally white side of the dining room (for purposes of easy description hereafter we shall refer to the "white" and "colored" sides of the dining room, meaning thereby those sides traditionally occupied by Caucasian or Negro inmates). At the noon and evening meals the number thus integrating themselves increased in both dining rooms. At the Thursday evening meal a large number of white inmates milled around their cell blocks refusing to enter the dining rooms. On Friday, March 3d, at breakfast a number of Negroes again sat on the white side of both dining rooms and a number of white inmates again refused to enter.

On that morning and prior to the noon meal 24 Negro inmates, including Turner and 23 other Negro inmates labeled by the prison authorities either as members of the so-called Muslim Sect or "agitators", were physically transferred to the Correctional Institution at Soledad. Folsom authorities justify the selection of these 24 men for removal variously as to "head off violence," "to remove the leading agitators," or "troublemakers"

In spite of continuing reaffirmations that all segregation in the dining room was voluntary, Warden Heinze, Captain Jacobs, and Associate Warden Chamlee, all felt that "under the circumstances," "leading," "urging," or "pressuring" Negroes to sit on the white side of the dining room was sufficient conduct to justify the label "agitator" and the removal of such "agitators" from Folsom

All three of the above named authorities expressed the conviction that the "agitation" was somehow connected with a petition for a writ of habeas corpus which had been previously filed by a group of 10 alleged Muslims, eight of whom were among those transferred to Soledad As stated by Captain Jacobs in a memorandum to Warden Heinze.

> "It was our intent in selecting the inmates to be transferred to Soledad to reach the main core of agitators responsible for the disturbances in an attempt to ease the tension that had been created and in order to avoid a major incident"

At the noon meal on Friday, March 3d, after the 24 "agitators" had been transferred to Soledad, colored inmates continued to sit on the white side of the dining room and at the evening meal during the first serving in dining room number 1

> "several white inmates started throwing trays, cups and utensils A warning shot was fired by each of two officers on the gun walk and the demonstration subsided . the serving of the second meal line was handled without incident, although many white inmates refrained from going to the dining room"

On Saturday, March 4th, in dining room number 1, approximately 100 colored inmates sat on the white side In apparent protest a white inmate threw a tray through the movie screen at the end of the room In dining room number 2, approximately 100 colored inmates also sat on the white side There a white inmate hit a colored inmate in the back with a tray and fighting ensued during which stacks of trays were up-ended and a warning shot was fired

According to Warden Heinze, on March 4th·

> "a self-appointed and integrated group of ten (10) inmates representing the mail line of the institution met with the warden at approximately 12 30 p m After nearly two hours' discussion, it was decided that from what has taken place in the last few days this is not the time for full integration, but a step forward.

"It was the request of the committee that the back tables, the last two rows of Mess Halls No. 1 and No 2, be set up and reserved for permissive or voluntary integration. Those who wish to eat with their friends, regardless of race, may do so in this section. The procedure in the balance of the Mess Hall shall remain as in the past"

This decision was thereafter communicated to the general prison population and since that time few if any persons have sat in the "integrated sections" and tension apparently has subsided

Ten inmates have been identified by prison authorities as "ringleaders or agitators" and disciplined A number of inmates have been identified as having participated, in some fashion, in either the dining room melees or in efforts to agitate a work stoppage thereafter. This group included Negro, white, and Mexican-American inmates

The warden and a portion of his staff appear firmly convinced that this "incident" flows from the activities of a small number of Muslims in the prison He has attempted to identify the Muslim inmates and feels they may constitute a continuing problem to the discipline of the institution

Conclusions

1 We do not find that the outbreak of violence in the Folsom dining rooms was the direct result of Muslim activity. It should be noted that the so-called Muslims described as ringleaders had already been transferred to Soledad at the time of the dining room violence

2 We believe the tendency of Folsom authorities to label all Negroes opposing segregation as Muslims is a serious error While we have not undertaken a study of the Muslim philosophy and principles, their basic tenet of black supremacy suggests that the Muslims themselves may prefer segregation.

3 Justifiably or not, Negro prisoners at Folsom believe there is widespread discrimination there, not only in the refusal of the authorities to enforce integration in the main dining rooms, but in job and classification opportunities We do not assert the foregoing as a fact and have not been able in our brief inquiry to establish the truth or falsity of the charges We do believe it is significant, however, that Negro inmates believe the foregoing to be factual.

4 We believe the Folsom administration should forthrightly adopt one of two alternatives
   (a) it should enforce integration and make it abundantly clear that policies will be dictated by the prison administration and not by bigoted and intransigent prisoners, or
   (b) if that is deemed inappropriate at this time from the point of view of proper prison administration, it should be made abundantly clear to both the prisoners and to the public that integration is the goal, but can be achieved only if adequate facilities are made available to the dining rooms The failure to do this in the memorandum of February 28, 1961, may have been a significant contributing factor to the disturbances

It is our belief that in the absence of a firm adherence by the Folsom administration to one of those two alternatives, tensions may remain a serious danger at the prison

Respectfully submitted,

STANLEY MOSK, Attorney General

MUSLIMS AT FOLSOM SENT TO SOLEDAD

SACRAMENTO, March 3—(UPI)—The removal of 24 black nationalist Muslims from Folsom prison "to prevent violence," was reported today by the State Department of Corrections

The department reported to the office of Gov Edmund G Brown that the 24 were being transferred to Soledad Prison in Monterey County.

Walter Dunbar, deputy director of the department, said that the "problem is solved" by the transfer The 24 will join 11 other Negroes believed to be Muslims at Soledad

A department spokesman said the Muslims had been moving into normally white areas of the mess hall at Folsom and some whites were refusing to eat with them

The spokesman said the prison is not segregated, but the prisoners normally stay together in lines and in the mess hall

The Muslims, in seating themselves in the middle of the area normally used by whites, apparently were asserting the beliefs of their religion, which teaches black supremacy

The spokesman said there are an estimated 114 black nationalists in the state prison system. The transfer will leave 18 at Folsom, the state's maximum security facility

Eight of the Folsom Muslims have petitioned the State Supreme Court for protection of their religious freedom They claimed prison officials had denied them copies of the Koran, the holy book of Mohammedanism, and the right to meet in religious services

FOLSOM RACE RIOTING GOES INTO SECOND DAY

10 Cons Hurt as 'Sit-Ins' Spark Melee

FOLSOM, March 4—White and Negro inmates at Folsom State Prison today rioted for the second consecutive day, causing officials to impose racial segregation in the dining halls

Ten inmates were injured in a dining room race fight last night Prison officials blamed it on agitation by members of the Negro Muslim "black supremacy" cult

Warden Robert A. Heinze said there were no injuries in the more serious of today's clashes, which ended as a guard fired a warning shot and 20 other guards rushed into a melee in Dining Hall No. 1.

"We were lucky to get off with this," Heinze said

Other Negroes Join

Heinze attributed last night's fight to agitation by members of the Negro Muslim cult, but said that now "some of the other Negro boys are joining up and taking over."

---

San Quentin Tense

Guards at San Quentin are keeping close watch on prisoners today for any hint of a race conflict such as rocked Folsom Prison last night.

Associate Warden Louis Nelson said there are about 60 known members of the Muslim sect in San Quentin, whose 5,000 inmates make it the State's largest prison

Folsom, California's maximum security prison, has an inmate population of 3,000, of which some 25 percent are Negroes.

Heinze said that the first of today's riots started in Mess Hall No. 1 when about 100 Negro prisoners attempted to eat in a dining section normally used by whites He said that "somebody" threw a dining tray through a motion picture screen at one end of the hall.

Whites Walk Out

"A goodly number of whites got up and left," he said, adding that 20 guards bulled through the outgoing prisoners to put down the fight. There were about 300 prisoners in the hall

A second fight broke out in Dining Hall No 2 when a former bookmaker from Los Angeles jabbed a Negro prisoner with a dining tray. That also ended in minutes as one guard fired a warning shot over the 620 prisoners' heads and out a window, Heinze said.

Heinze said that henceforth the prisoners would be fed in smaller groups and that they would be segregated.

Bull by the Horns

"We're not trying to force integration or segregation," he said, "but somebody has to take the bull by the horns."

Heinze said that the segregation would not affect other joint activities among the prisoners. Today, for instance, all prisoners are scheduled to see a film titled "Shake Hands With the Devil."

Heinze said Joe C Crossland of Pleasanton, a convict serving time for illegal possession of firearms, provided the spark for the earlier riot when he tossed his metal tray into a group of the sect sitting in a traditionally white section of the prison's dining Hall No. 1

Within seconds scores of white and Negro convicts scrambled into the battle. The riot broke up only after guards fired the two warning shots into the ceiling. Two convicts suffered minor wounds from the flying fragments Others were injured by fists and trays. The most seriously hurt suffered a fractured rib

Potential Danger

Heinze described the potential today as incendiary, although the morning meal was served without incident.

A few hours before last night's riot, 24 Negroes, including 11 Muslim leaders, were transferred from the maximum security Folsom Prison to isolation facilities at Soledad Prison. Prison officials said the transfer was an attempt to cool off the rising tensions between Muslims and white convicts

Heinze said there is no official racial segregation in the 3,000-inmate prison but explained that the convicts themselves have of their own accord segregated themselves by race in the mess halls. Recently, however, Negroes led by Muslims have staged "sit-ins" in sections usually occupied exclusively by whites The warden said the Muslims have aggressively tried to create incidents.

"The Muslims definitely do not have the support of the majority of the Negroes here," Heinze said "As a matter of fact, many oppose the movement"

Thirty More

He estimated there may be as many as 30 more Muslims still in the prison "We've got to find out who they are," he said

The Muslims are members of a Negro nationalist movement which preaches the supremacy of the black man and advocates setting up of separate Negro states in this country

Heinze said the riot came in the wake of a series of incidents staged by the Muslims Last night's sit-in apparently was a demonstration to attract attention to a petition by 10 "Black Muslims" to the State Supreme Court

They are members of a movement called the "Lost-Found Nation of Islam in North America" They are seeking an order permitting them to hold religious services in the prison. They claim to have ties with the Moslems, but have been disavowed by Moslem leaders as well as recognized Negro organizations

No Pattern

All told, there are as many as 114 members of the sect serving time in the state prison system A prison official said there is no pattern of crimes evident in their records. "They're serving for the whole gamut of felonies," he commented

Heinze said a contributing factor to the conflict is the overcrowding and consequent idleness of inmates The prison is filled to capacity now, and there are not enough jobs in the shops and mills to keep the convicts busy.

Crossland, 34, was placed in isolation after the riot He was sentenced to prison in November of 1959 for carrying a firearm as an ex-convict. He served a previous sentence from Alameda County for assaulting a California Highway Patrolman in 1951

THE SACRAMENTO BEE—March 4, 1961

RACIAL OUTBREAKS INJURE 10 PRISONERS IN FOLSOM

Folsom Prison authorities today clamped a tight control on the movements of the institution's 3,000 inmates after outbreaks of violence in the dining rooms last night and this morning forced guards to fire warning shots

Ten inmates, six Negroes and four whites, were injured in the melee last night, none seriously None was injured in this morning's set-to.

"This has gotten beyond the Muslim point," said Warden Robert Heinze, referring to a small controversial religious sect which authorities say advocates black supremacy.

Twenty-four Folsom inmates, some members of this sect, were transferred to the California Training Facility at Soledad, Monterey County, yesterday because the prison authorities said they were agitating and might cause violence

Heinze said the situation now is black against white, rather than just the Muslim sect against the white He pointed out just a small number of the estimated 700 Negroes in the prison are forcing the issue.

Trying to Take Over

"Some of these colored people are trying to take over," Heinze declared. "We are now seating these people to our liking, not to theirs."

The seating Heinze referred to is in the dining rooms where the recent trouble has occurred. Heinze explained the prison has not forced segregation or integration, but the Negroes normally sit by themselves and the whites by themselves

Thursday night, Heinze said, the Negroes led by the Muslim believers spread out through the dining room. Many white inmates moved or left without eating

The warden reported the same thing happened yesterday morning and it was because of this 24 of the inmates, all Negroes, whom he termed agitators, were transferred.

Tosses Mess Tray

Last night at dinner, Heinze said, a white convict, Joe C Crossland of Alameda County, tossed a mess tray into a group of seated Negroes

In seconds, trays, cups and other items were being thrown.

Guards fired two shots into the ceiling and the trouble stopped abruptly.

Several of the injured inmates were struck by fragments of a bullet which splattered. Others were treated for cuts, bruises and possible fractured ribs caused by flying tableware

Only 300 Show Up

This morning, Heinze declared, only about 300 of the normal 450 inmates showed up for breakfast in the No 1 messhall

"About 100 colored people took over the center of the hall," he said, "then some fellow, a white man threw a tray and it went through our moving picture screen."

A number of white inmates walked out and the trouble stopped.

However, at a second feeding a short time later trouble broke out again.

"It was quiet to start with," said Heinze, "but only 400 showed up to eat and we normally have 600 to 620 One hundred colored people began to integrate with the whites.

"Then one prisoner knocked another in the back with a tray And another one pushed a pile of about 25 trays on the floor.

Guard Fires Shot

As the inmates began milling around, the warden reported, a guard fired one shot and the hall quieted immediately.

No one was injured

Three white inmates have been placed in isolation, all from the trouble last night. They are, Crossland, who was sentenced in Alameda County for possession of a deadly weapon by a narcotic addict; Alex

Martinez, sentenced in Los Angeles County for robbery, and John D Van Deutekom, sentenced in San Francisco for robbery

Situation Not Critical

Heinze said the situation is not critical but the number of guards has been increased and different feeding techniques are being used

"We are feeding smaller groups now," he reported. "This means we will be feeding all day, but it gives us smaller groups to work with

"What we have is an attempt to take over by the colored people There aren't many involved in the start, just a handful gets things going

Called Nonconformists

"These are the nonconformists, the ones who want to do things their way regardless

"I don't think the situation is critical We have a lot of people who don't want to get involved in trouble I think it will straighten out"

RACIAL SEGREGATION CUSTOMS AND PRACTICES

The Question: What if any are the present customs and practices in the institutions with reference to racial segregation? Should we take any affirmative action? If so, when and how?

The matter of custom and practice on racial segregation has been a recurring and nagging issue for sometime There are ethical, social, and political dimensions involved. Always, there is the suggestion or spectre of possible violence or at least discomfort, in making any changes

Current international, national and statewide events have highlighted the issue. Most recently in California there has been added emphasis given by the Governor in legislation sponsored by this administration and in executive edicts which have followed this legislation. At the September 11, 1959, Davis Conference for Department Heads and Deputies, the Governor issued a statement on discrimination in state government Primarily this statement was geared towards racial discrimination in state employment, and it included the following quotes:

> ". . . it is the unequivocal policy of this State to give equal treatment to all its citizens regardless of race, religion, or ancestry.
> "It is therefore of prime importance that we in state government follow in our own official family life the same policy which we have set for the public generally"
> Another quote from the same statement: "No matter what the problems may be, it behooves us to place our own house in order so that we can honestly and proudly say that what has been declared good for the public is also good for the State of California.

"As I see it, it is the individual responsibility and duty of each department head to examine carefully and critically the existing practices of his own department Even in the most ideally run organization, examination will disclose ample room for improvement "

As noted, the foregoing statement was issued primarily with reference to policy in job employment but it takes little imagination to extend the meaning of the policy to practices within our institutions

Occasionally, there have been complaints by inmates with reference to segregation practices There is now an inmate petition before a federal court charging enforced segregation in the feeding and housing practices at San Quentin.

Regardless of our personal point of view concerning the morality of this issue one can foresee increasing pressure to eliminate segregation in the institutions It therefore seems logical that the department make its own plans to deal with the problem and make as much progress as possible before it becomes a major public concern which would then oblige us to make difficult changes under the spotlight of publicity.

Finally if we are foreseeing the necessity for changing customs and practices, the current period of relatively low population may be the most opportune time to work on the problem

Examples of Organizations Which Have Changed to Integration:

1. Armed Services

The Navy formerly used Negro personnel only in culinary assignments, has now changed to general assignment. The Army formerly segregated Negro personnel into colored units, has now integrated into mixed racial units The Marine Corps not long ago had no Negro personnel at all, has now integrated In all cases there was a strong body of opinion which insisted that integration of the armed services would be accompanied by violence and other major disturbance. This has not proved to be the case

2. Professional Sports

Particularly in organized baseball the integration of Negro athletes which occurred shortly after World War II was long preceded by intense arguments that integration would not work because of the large number of southern white ball players Within a relatively short period of time the integration was managed with a minimum of problem resulting The use of Negro professional football players likewise has caused no major problem.

3. Segments of the Department of Corrections

At all the new institutions and in the feeding of the west block inmates of San Quentin, in the camps and specialized feeding units within the institutions, racial integration has been achieved with no known major difficulty

The point to be made here is not that no difficulty will occur. Undoubtedly there will be some problems and these will have to be weighed against the problems that will arise from doing nothing.

Principal Areas Where Segregation Practices Are Involved

There are four major areas in which discriminatory practices might occur. These are:

1. Inmate privileges and disciplinary practices
2. Job and training assignments
3. Feeding
4. Housing

It may be helpful to consider the areas one at a time.

1. Inmate Privileges and Disciplinary Practices

We do not generally hear of discrimination among racial groups with reference to privileges and discipline. Occasionally there have been informal statements made by staff that Negroes are treated more leniently in matters of discipline because of the possible fear that discrimination charges will be leveled. Where this occurs, it is believed to be poor practice. Our standards should be consistent and should be based on individual case evaluation. Largely this is not seen as a problem area.

2. Job and Training Assignments

Our Classification Committee practice is viewed largely as impartial. Casual observation of assignments reveals a distribution of races throughout the various jobs and training stations. Occasionally one hears of specific areas where staff and inmate collusion works against the assignment of a minority group member. Apparently this occurs not too often and mainly takes the form of devious means by which an inmate is removed from a position after he has been assigned there for a short period. Since our policy, procedures and informal customs seem relatively clear in most instances, the point to be made here is that we are obliged to maintain consistent observation of staff and inmate practices. Especially where an inmate and staff collusion may be defeating our impartial policy, this must be treated just as staff and inmate collusion is treated where it interferes with other policies and laws.

Another area in which job and training assignment is involved has to do with those trades in which union-management practices on the outside discriminate against minority group employment. In such instances, we seem to agree it is our obligation to inform the qualified inmate that he may be getting into a training program in which his opportunities for employment would be limited. However, if he is qualified for training in this specific trade we should so train him.

The Manual of Procedures for Classification states that, "As a phase of institutional assignments it is the responsibility of the Institutional Classification Committee to ascertain at its meetings whether inmates are being discriminated against because of racial or religious prejudices or for other reasons in the receipt of opportunities for work or training. The existence of any such condition shall require corrective action and be reported by the Warden or Superintendent to the Director."

3. Feeding

The present dining hall practices within the Department of Corrections vary among the several institutions. The newer institutions, with the smaller dining halls and tables of four follow the practice which results in relatively integrated racial groupings. The general tendency is for Negroes to more or less eat together. DVI appears to be the only institution which has a conscious practice of assuring integration of the racial groups into its dining halls, such that one hall will not by inmate intent be completely filled by one racial group or another. At Chino there is a large dining hall and permissive feeding conditions which tend to result in most of the Negroes and white inmates segregating themselves into two sections of the messhall but with a relatively small sprinkling of intermixture. The question which might arise here is whether by administrative direction or discussion with inmates, it would be desirable to avoid the tendency towards large-scale self-segregation

The principal institutions in which definite conscious segregation takes place are San Quentin and Folsom. The administrative personnel at San Quentin and Folsom emphasize that the segregation is maintained by custom and inmate tradition rather than by staff enforcement The point in question here is whether custom, if maintained by inmate tradition and if supported or allowed by administration has the effect of declaring our policy on segregation? For example one might ask if the inmate customs provided for open gambling and the department had no rules on gambling but allowed inmate custom to control gambling activity, would be in effect having administrative policy which allowed gambling?

Because the specific situations at Folsom and San Quentin have never been made completely clear to this group some detail on these institutions seems indicated.

San Quentin: The south dining hall is actually four distinct units which fill from two sets of serving tables of two each The north dining hall is one large room filling from four serving tables

In the south dining unit, the "short line" eats early and consists of special workers at the noon meal and special workers and maximum custody inmates for the evening meal The "short line" feeding is maintained on a completely integrated basis with intermixture of the races

For the main line, the noon feeding is preceded by colored and white lines in the yard The San Quentin messhall procedures are written such that it appears to be mandatory that the inmates line up in this fashion—with written references in the procedures made to colored and white lines As the lines come into the messhall they are diverted to each of the four separate sections This results in some sections being completely white or colored and depending upon the overflow, perhaps one section divided white and colored but not intermixed

In the north dining hall for the noon meal the San Quentin procedures indicate that no colored inmates are sent to the unit.

The evening meal in the south dining hall is preceded by inmates coming into the unit in integrated lines from the cell blocks. The west block eats in one section, and is integrated The men from the other cell blocks divide themselves as they come off the serving tables and file into separate sections of the south dining hall The net result during the feeding is that one section is integrated, one section is completely colored, one section completely white and the fourth section with colored and white segregated by an aisle

For the evening meal the inmates in the blocks enter the north dining hall via integrated lines, then by apparent custom segregate themselves after passing the serving tables such that the colored inmates start sitting in one far corner of the unit while the white inmates sit in another far corner The result during most of the meal is that the two races are eating at a large distance from each other for most of the dinner. The inmate help at the serving tables is mixed

The San Quentin procedures emphasize that staff shall not force inmates to maintain the custom or practice of segregation nor force segregation of inmates at meals However, within the regulations are clear indications to the contrary For instance on page 4 of the noon and evening meal procedures it states that colored inmates will be "directed into the aisle in No 3 section . the white inmates will pass into the aisles of No 2 section " There are other similar references throughout the procedures The ranch feeding at San Quentin was not observed but is reported to be integrated

Folsom: The Folsom procedures on meal schedules make no reference to segregation However, the custom or inmate practice as allowed by the staff results in separation of the races In the No 1 dining hall the inmates from the blocks enter in integrated lines but segregate themselves In No 2 messhall the same thing occurs, except that a section of approximately two or three hundred is reserved for inmates who have special work assignments This section is mixed

The diet line which eats in No 1 messhall between the two feedings at Folsom is integrated during the feeding The ranch feeding at Folsom was not observed but was reported tends to segregate itself in the ranch dining hall except that there was some sprinkling of integration particularly with inmates who work together and who might want to eat together

General Observations: At both San Quentin and Folsom the observation of feeding leaves one to believe that despite potential problems of feeding large numbers of inmates in mass congregated areas, there is evident relaxation and considerable efficiency in the feeding To the eye of the observer there is no obvious tension At the same time the observer cannot help but note the factor of segregation The most striking evidence of this is in the north dining hall at San Quentin where the division is accomplished at least during the early part of the evening feeding by many empty rows of tables between the two racial groups

Whether segregation has occurred as a result of inmate and staff custom and tradition seems less significant than the fact that the segregation itself is so obvious This observation is further confounded by the specialized feeding units as noted above in which there is no segregation and some of which are eating in a different area of the same room where other inmates are eating in segregated sections

Throughout the department, where there is dormitory housing, integration is practiced as far as is known Where housing units consist of single cells or rooms, the dispersion of the races occurs. Where there is double celling, the total housing units are integrated but within the cells Negroes and whites are not housed together At San Quentin the report was that the Mexican inmates are celled only with each other. At Folsom, Mexican and Anglo inmates have been allowed to cell together

Discussion:

In Areas 1, 2, and 4 noted above, no policy changes are considered in need of discussion at the present time As noted above, there are specific practices which should require constant attention from administration but policy and general practice seems quite adequate In the matter of housing, there has been some pressure from white and Negro inmates to cell together However, since the feeding issue is the major one now, it may be well to dismiss this item except to indicate that where institutions may wish to experiment with further integration of housing this might be considered for possible exploration

The principal concern being feeding, the following observations are offered as a tentative proposal for discusison

1 The department should clearly set forth an understanding that segregated feeding will not be the practice The tenor of official discussions should no longer raise the question as to whether or not desegregation should occur, but rather should be based on the agreement that it will occur and focus then on the consideration as to how it can come about Our policy and practice in the area should be as clear as policy and practice in other areas of major concern

2 The principal staffs at the institutions where segregation is practiced should discuss the problem at an early date, first to develop understanding of the reasons why desegregation should be accomplished; second, to develop ways and means of working carefully but definitely towards the desired goal In this connection it should be noted that the most disturbed elements of the inmate population would not be involved in the change The most serious problem behavior cases are in the adjustment centers At San Quentin many of the difficult inmates are in maximum custody, already eating as an integrated group on the ' short line " It will be recognized that changes in practice will not come about without problems but these should be looked upon as no different from other problems of institutional management with which staff is faced from time to time Once the changeover has occurred all experience points to the belief that problems will subside Best example of this was the west block experience at San Quentin some years ago

At institutions, such as Chino where voluntary segregation is carried on to a large extent, staff discussion should be held to indicate means by which personnel and inmates can work together to minimize voluntary segregation where this is feasible

3 Specific training sessions should be set up for staff most directly concerned with messhall procedures at Folsom and San Quentin to allow full discussion of the proposed change to integrated feeding. However, discussion should be held with the understanding that desegregation will be the policy

4 In preparation for the move, the matter should be discussed with inmate council representatives and with other major sources of inmate support, if possible with some of the known inmate leaders who exert generally constructive influences

Also as part of the inmate indoctrination, conscious efforts should be made to have group counseling leaders introduce the subject at group sessions for discussion As part of this procedure, there perhaps should be a general statement from the director's office which would set forth the policy, which would acknowledge that there will be inmates who may resent the change but that we expect them to co-operate.

In all preparation of staff and inmates two points should be made very clear (1) why we are changing custom and policy, and (2) while we appreciate the strong attitudes held by some people on this issue, that we will treat any disruptive activity seriously

5 At such time as the change to integrated feeding begins, special efforts should be made to prepare especially attractive menus for the first few meals, taking every measure to insure that general satisfaction with the feeding will be a positive factor

6 In conformity with the above, it is proposed that the head of each institution concerned should after further discussion with his own staff develop a plan as soon as possible, either in increments or by total change, to shift to integrated feeding at a relatively early date, in view of this being a period of relatively low population

SUCCESSFUL DESEGREGATION TACTICS FOR PRISON ADMINISTRATORS

By DANIEL GLASER, Associate Professor of Sociology, University of Illinois, Director, Ford Foundation Research in the Federal Prisons

Regardless of a prison administrator's personal opinions as to the desirability of racial desegregation, it is an inescapable fact that desegregation is a growing trend in the United States In the Armed Forces, in education, in industry, and in innumerable other settings, the reduction of required racial separation has predominated in recent history, despite some scattered local reversals in this trend

In 1954, immediately after the Supreme Court ruling against racial segregation in schools, public opinion polls indicated that a majority of Southern Negroes and an appreciable proportion of Northern Negroes favored maintenance of segregation in many aspects of the life to which they were accustomed Today the polls indicate a marked shift in Negro opinion A clear majority of Negroes now consider desegregation a right to which they are entitled in all public facilities An increasing number of Negroes are taking risks in efforts to achieve this right

This shift in Negro attitude, plus the growing experience of urban Negroes in overt opposition to prejudicial treatment, probably explains what seems to be an increase in race conflict incidents in prisons However, repeated research on anti-Negro attitudes in whites, as well as on anti-white prejudice in Negroes, shows that interracial hostility tends to decrease with increased informal and personal contact between the races as equals and as co-operators, in work or play.

In the light of the probable continuation of current trends in Negro attitude and experience, it would seem reasonable to expect a progressive increase in interracial conflict in those prisons in which segregated conditions persist Race conflict also may increase as an immediate consequence of efforts to desegregate, but it would appear from the research on conditions reducing prejudice, and from the relative racial calm in prisons long without segregation, that the only way to markedly reduce race conflicts in the long run is to achieve a stable desegregated condition What seems most conducive to interracial conflict in a prison, however, is inconsistency between verbal policy and actual practice Where official pronouncements oppose racial discrimination, but actual practices concentrate large minority groups in the less desirable assignments and bar them from preferred places regardless of their qualifications, the probability of conflict grows

Perhaps a prison administrator will decide to desegregate because he has considered arguments like the foregoing Perhaps, instead, his decision may be based mainly on his opinions regarding the morality of segregation Most likely, perhaps, his decision will simply result from direction by higher authority We shall not here be concerned further with reasons for adopting a policy of desegregation. Our problem in this paper is. What are the most effective methods of carrying out a desegregation policy once such a policy is decided upon

"Successful desegregation" will be defined here as desegregation—

(1) Which is achieved with a minimum of tension;
(2) Which once achieved is likely to be permanent, in that situation;
(3) Which is likely to contribute to an enduring reduction of interracial prejudice in the persons involved, so that it will carry over to other situations

The purpose of this article is to summarize the tactics which have been demonstrated most effective in achieving successful desegregation in the armed forces, in industry, in business offices, and in other organizations Presumably, experience in these settings will be of value to administrators interested in achieving desegregation in prisons

Basic Principles

First principle Desegregation generally will be more successful when it is directed than when it is requested.

Experience has indicated that in most situations in which there is a clearcut authority, as in employment or in the armed forces, persons in subordinate positions attached more importance to complying with the requests of their supervisors, than with maintenance of a particular pattern in race relations A Southerner going to work in the North will accept whatever racial pattern he finds in the employment in which he is interested, and Northerners moving to the South conform quickly to the patterns of race relations expected there. This is true as long as a race relations policy is not administered in a manner which provokes those involved to have more emotional concern with achieving a particular race relations condition than with holding their job or getting along with the authorities over them.

Work and residential assignment in the prison involves decisions in which inmates may properly be consulted with respect to their prefererence among some alternatives However, difficulties arise if the administration delegates to the inmates or to lower staff members sufficient preference to determine or greatly influence overall policy or racial assignment

Once one submits a racial assignment policy to decision by the preference of those whose life may be changed by the policy, these persons are likely to utter all latent fears This very utterance will make them more than ever emotionally committed to the cultivation and fostering of such fears People who once take a stand will "lose face" if they retreat, so that prior argument at the lower levels of authority increases the likelihood of strained relations and resistance in subsequent efforts to carry out any policy Management of a prison requires official leadership in many areas Race relations is one of these areas

Second principle· Desegregation policy generally will be directed most effectively if the direction is transmitted through the staff by stages, from the top down, making certain that the policy will be strongly backed at one level before transmitting it to the next lower level

In order for direction to be most effective, it has to be uniformly supported by the staff An official's overt expression of disagreement with a clear prison policy, or his willingness to overlook deviations from the policy, is likely to cause a diverse response by those underneath him, and potential conflict among inmates Officials are entitled to their own views on desegregation when acting as citizens in democratic discussion or voting, but when acting as officials they are obligated to carry out official policy

Once a warden has made a decision to desegregate he should first brief the associate wardens and other senior officials immediately below him and feel assured that they will make a genuine effort to carry out this decision, regardless of their views on it If he can persuade them to consider the policy desirable they will be more motivated to make it succeed, but in any case, until they clearly commit themselves to see that the policy works out or are in a position where they cannot hamper it, the policy decision should not be transmitted further Once such assurance is procured from top officials, they and the warden should seek similar assurance from other officials immediately below them, and so on down the line to the most junior officer All should be committed to accepting any minority group members assigned to their control, and to facilitating their successful integration.

Third principle· Choice of minority group pioneers should be discriminatory; the highest practicable standards should be employed in selecting the first minority group members for assignments where they have not traditionally been admitted

The first Negro or other minority group member entering a housing or work unit in which their group have traditionally not been assigned is going to be very much "on the spot " If he confirms the fears which the fearful may have, he will greatly handicap successful integration If, on the other hand, he is an outstanding individual who clearly contradicts the stereotype images which prejudiced persons promote, he will make it much easier for minority group members who may be assigned there later It is, therefore, especially important that standards for selecting the first minority group members admitted to a particular assignment be higher than the standards prevailing for the majority of persons assigned there The minority group members should be clearly and unquestionably qualified for the assignment rather than have borderline qualifications

Fourth principle Two pioneers are more than twice as effective as one

The first minority group member in an assignment is not only on the spot, which may cause him considerable psychological strain, but he is likely to be socially shunned and lonely there. It has repeatedly been the experience of administrators endeavoring to desegregate an assignment that, after they go to great lengths to persuade an outstanding minority group member to pioneer at that assignment, he soon requests removal from it However, having at least two persons pioneering as minority group representatives in an assignment permits these two to give each other social support, which may be extremely important in this situation In addition, since the two are likely to be different in personal characteristics, the prejudiced individuals tend to differentiate between them and this tends to break up stereotyped reactions to the new assignees

Fifth principle Endeavor by formal manipulations to break up informal self-segregation

Even after an institution is formally desegregated, there frequently develops a large amount of racial segregation which is voluntary This is inevitable in circumstances where people of different groups differ in prior interests and information as a consequence of their living apart in their home communities It also reflects their personal prejudices, or their anticipation of prejudice in others, which leads them to try to avoid a possible rebuff This self-segregation of minority groups is particularly conspicuous in dining rooms and other settings in the prison, such as the yard, where inmates are allowed to socialize fairly freely Under these circumstances one will observe that Negroes will sit in one area and whites in another, almost as if there were signs saying "Whites only" and "Colored only" When segregation has been long in existence, the tradition that Negroes congregate in one location and whites in another survives the official abolition of this requirement.

Whenever such self-segregation occurs extensively, it may have the same consequences for increased race tension as an officially sponsored segregation policy. Only by increasing informal and equalitarian communication across racial lines will a diminution of prejudice be a probable long-run development Although officials cannot order informal communication and friendliness across racial lines, they frequently can arrange situations so as to maximize the probability of such contact and communication Among the devices which may serve this end are impersonal rules which are likely to locate people in a random distribution as far as race identity is concerned For example, seating people in a classroom by alphabetical sequence or by number may be justified as a means of recording attendance more easily, but it may also serve to break up informal racial (or other) cliques. Assigning people to jobs by test scores or by seniority also tends to break up racial segregation, and has the additional advantage that it provides a rational basis for selection which cannot very reasonably be opposed as expressing prejudice or favoritism by officials

Principle six. Individual complaints over race contacts are best kept from mushrooming by making the complainant move rather than the one complained about

Any official who readily allows complaints of an inmate about his cell partners or coworkers determine the assignment of the latter, is allowing an infection to enter his institution which may become a cankerous sore Once this practice develops, a few individuals acquire a claim to a particular assignment, or place of residence, and their success in maintaining this claim subverts respect for the administration It has been found in industry and other areas, that the best principle for dealing with someone who complains about a locker partner or about someone assigned to the same bench or tool as them is to have the person complaining move, not the person complained about This movement away should not be to any place of the individual's choice, however, but should be based on the assignment principles prevailing in the institution

Sometimes instead of complaints, the pressure of conniving of a vested group of inmates, based on their prejudices, is effective in keeping minority group inmates out of a dormitory, shop, or activity. The technique employed may vary from threats to frameups This, of course, can embitter the minority groups and keep tension high while subverting official assignment policy Even where the dominating inmates are very valuable workers and dependable from a custody standpoint, the temporary demoralization of such inmates by denying their exclusive right to an assignment is not likely to be nearly as serious to the administration as the long-run effect of more permanently and profoundly demoralizing inmates of the minority group Usually a fixed policy of having the complainant or agitator move goes a long way in reducing efforts to oust new assignees. Learning to be tolerant of those whom they initially dislike may also be a valuable part of the complaining inmate's training

Principle Seven The easiest situations to desegregate are those in which there is much turnover, or those which are entirely new

It has been the experience in industry and government that desegregation is achieved most smoothly and extensively when it is instituted at the establishment of a new unit It is much more difficult to establish in old units where there has been little turnover of personnel This principle should be borne in mind in desegregation in prison Frequently, there is something attractive about being assigned to a new work or residence unit The desire to succeed there may motivate the prejudiced person to suppress his fears or hostility In turn, these feelings are likely to diminish or vanish as he gains experience at getting along in an interracial situation

Where an assignment which has been long established with influential oldtimers is to be desegregated, it is well to sound out their probable reaction before making them aware of the desegregation decision If an inmate who is influential can be persuaded to back the administration and assist in promoting the acceptance of the minority group members, this will make the transition a much smoother thing On the other hand, where opposition appears likely to develop, it may be expedient to determine who are likely to be the key leaders or organizers of the opposition and to transfer them from the assignment, either temporarily or permanently, in advance of the period of transition

These seven principles are by no means exhaustive, nor do they go far beyond common sense Unfortunately, people who become fearful of difficulties in human relations are likely to act without common sense It is surprising how often prison or other administrators who are fearful of race conflict adopt principles which are just the opposite of those stated here, and make race tension a near certainty The interracial conflict which they fear is induced by fear-inspired, inconsistent, or poorly thought out policies

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Richard C. Dwyer:

Lord Jesus Christ, For Whom these days that we commemorate were so significant, help us to be aware not only of their lesson for each one of us, but of the precious inheritance that is ours. At the Last Supper Thou didst give us Thy own Body and Blood to be the food of our souls and the preparation of them for eternal life. On Good Friday we were redeemed and the forgiveness of our sins effected through Thy suffering and death. On Easter Sunday the pledge of our own resurrection was given when Thou didst gloriously rise from the dead. As we recall these events let it not be just a memory, but in each of our hearts a renewal of the love and faith they deserve. May we be worthy of every drop of blood shed for our salvation. Through Christ, Our Lord.—AMEN

House Resolution No. 183

Relative to an interim study of storage and management of records, documents, securities and papers held by state agencies

WHEREAS, Evidence from testimony before various legislative committees indicates that an increasing and unnecessary amount of space is being used by various state agencies for the storage, handling, and disposition of records, documents, securities and papers, and

WHEREAS, There is and has been an accumulation of a vast amount of unnecessary, superseded and obsolete material in storage, largely stored in highly valuable and expensive space which could be put to much better use, and

WHEREAS, The increasing scope of this problem is indicated by the requirement that the vault of the State Treasury be increased in size, and

WHEREAS, As to the holding and management of securities, a great deal of valuable space and man-hours are unnecessarily taken up because many securities are held in relatively small denominations, requiring, for example, a disproportionate amount of time merely in clipping coupons and managing each of the individual securities, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Committee on Rules is directed to assign to the Interim Committee on Ways and Means for interim study the subject matter of this resolution, including the more efficient utilization of storage space of all kinds and the proper disposal of obsolete or unnecessary records and documents, and be it further

Relating to an interim study of allowing discounts for prompt payment of the state sales and use taxes

WHEREAS, Assembly Bill No 475 has raised major questions as to the propriety of granting to a retailer or other person subject to the state sales and use tax a discount for prompt payment of the tax, and

WHEREAS, A study in this regard of the laws of other states would aid in the resolution of these questions; and

WHEREAS, A thorough study of the costs of collection incurred by the State, as well as the expenses incurred by a retailer in his collection, as reimbursement, of the tax from the consumer, should indicate whether a discount would be equitable and proper, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Committee on Rules be directed to refer to a proper interim committee for study the subject matter of Assembly Bill No 475, and that such interim committee be directed to report to the Assembly on this subject matter and include in such report its recommendations

Analysis No 1

The provisions of law relating to the Veterans Home at Yountville appear in Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1010) of Division 5 of the Military and Veterans Code

The home has been established for aged and disabled veterans who served during a war period and who are eligible for hospitalization or domiciliary care in a veterans facility of the United States Veterans Administration (Military and Veterans Code, Sec 1012).

Section 1012 1 of the Military and Veterans Code requires the Department of Veterans Affairs, prior to the admission of a veteran as a member of the home, to investigate the veteran's financial status to insure that the veteran is unable to pay for necessary hospitalization or domiciliary care outside of the home

It is clear from these provisions that the home is authorized to provide both hospital and domiciliary care, and it may be stated that it is in part a hospital and in part simply a home for aged veterans

Question No 2

Is the California Veterans Board charged with the establishment of policies for the administration of the home, or does the Director of Veterans Affairs exercise this function?

In our opinion, the California Veterans Board is the authority directed to establish policies for the administration of the home. The director has no such authority.

Section 1014 of the Military and Veterans Code provides that the home shall be under the management and control of the department and, subject to the policies adopted by the California Veterans Board and the direction of the Director of Veterans Affairs, shall be administered by the Commandant, Veterans Home of California, known as the Manager of the Division of Veterans Homes

Thus Section 1014 vests in the California Veterans Board the authority to establish policies for the administration of the home. The administration of the home is conducted by the commandant of the home, subject to the direction of the Director of Veterans Affairs The director, in other words, has ultimate control over the administration of the home, subject to policies adopted by the California Veterans Board The director does not establish those policies

Question No. 3

May the Director of Veterans Affairs appoint an official, such as a doctor, to administer the home and "supersede" the present commandant?

Opinion and Analysis No 3

The law confers on the Commandant of the Veterans Home the authority to administer the home, subject to the direction of the Director of Veterans Affairs and to policies adopted by the California Veterans Board (Military and Veterans Code Sec 1014)

It further provides that the commandant shall manage the home and administer its affairs and, subject to the direction of the Director of Veterans Affairs, adopt rules and regulations for the government of the home (Military and Veterans Code Sec 1023)

Inasmuch as the law confers on the commandant the duty to manage and administer the home, the Director of Veterans Affairs would not, in our opinion, have authority to place those functions in any other person A change in the law would be required to enable him to do so

Moreover, we do not think that the Director of Veterans Affairs could arbitrarily remove the present commandant and replace him with another person, such as a doctor The position of Commandant of the Veterans Home, also known as Manager of the Division of Veterans Homes, is a civil service position (Military and Veterans Code Sec 1018) A civil service employee may be removed or demoted only in accordance with the procedure set forth in the State Civil Service Act, involving notice and hearing, and only for the causes expressly stated in that act (see Government Code Secs. 19570 et seq.; see Winslow v. Bull, 97 Cal App 516, Hanley v Murphy, 40 Cal. 2d 572, 581). Such an employee may not arbitrarily be removed from his position.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By Edward K Purcell, Deputy

UNFINISHED BUSINESS

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE AMENDMENTS

Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3—Relative to memorializing the Congress of the United States to adopt an amendment to the Constitution of the United States either to substantially reform or abolish the Electoral College

The question being: Shall the Assembly concur in the following Senate amendments to Assembly Joint Resolution No. 3.

Amendment No. 1

On page 1, lines 4 and 5, of the printed measure, as amended in the Assembly on January 16, 1961, strike out "is inherently inaccurate and".

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, line 5, after "people", insert "as expressed in the popular vote".

Amendment No. 3

On page 1, line 6, after "College", insert "generally".

Amendment No. 4

On page 1 of the printed bill, as amended in the Senate on January 30, 1961, strike out line 1, and insert

"WHEREAS, The present system of election of the President and the Vice President of the United States by means of the Electoral College and the Congress of the United States originated as an unfortunate political compromise of the founding fathers at the Constitutional Convention of 1787 between those favoring a strong executive and those representing the large states on the one hand and those favoring a weak executive and those representing the small states on the other hand; and

WHEREAS, This system of election is uncertain in that the people do not know, when they vote, whether these high officers will be selected by the Electoral College or by the Congress of the United States and whether or not either of these groups will follow the will of the people as expressed in the popular vote for those offices, and

WHEREAS, This system of election is unfair in that in proportion to their populations, the small states are over-represented in the Electoral College by reason of their two Senatorial votes and in the Congress of the United States by reason of the equal voting power of each state in this matter, and

WHEREAS, This system of election is unfair in that, again in proportion to their populations, the light-voting states are over-represented in the Electoral College and the Congress of the United States, when voting on this matter, and

WHEREAS, This system of election is unfair in that because of the unit rule method of voting in the Electoral College attention is concentrated in the campaigns for these high offices upon the largest states either to the practical exclusion of the remainder of the states or to their considerable disadvantage, and

WHEREAS, This system of election is unfair to the rapidly growing states, such as California, because their representation in the Electoral College, is changed only once every 10 years and the elections for these high offices occur every four years; and

WHEREAS, This system of election is unfair to the people of the United States as whole in that neither the vote in the Electoral College nor that in the Congress of the United States is guaranteed to reflect exactly and accurately the popular vote for these high offices; and

WHEREAS, This system of election is undemocratic in that the selection among the candidates for these high offices is accomplished in both the Electoral College and the Congress of the United States not on the basis of who receives the most popular votes for these offices but rather where and in what states they receive their votes, and

WHEREAS, This system of election, because of the inequities stated above, violates the basic democratic principle, applicable in voting for all elective offices throughout the Nation, except the members of bicameral legislative bodies, local, state and national, that each voter's vote throughout the Nation, from California to Maine, shall be equal in arithmetical value to every other vote; and

WHEREAS, This system of election is inconsistent with the federal system in that it violates the direct relationship existing between the citizens of the United States and the federal government; and

WHEREAS, This system of election has erred three times in the past, namely, in the years 1824, 1876 and 1888 in that candidates were chosen for the highest office in the land who did not obtain even a plurality of the popular vote, and

WHEREAS, Even the United States Senate has been elected by direct popular vote by means of a Constitutional Amendment for over one-half century, and

WHEREAS, Election by direct popular vote is the rule rather than the exception throughout the United States in local, state and other federal elections, and

WHEREAS, Essentially equal voting rights among citizens of this Nation is the essence of the democratic process and is one of the cardinal equal rights the people of this Nation value so dearly; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly and the Senate of the State of California, jointly, That the Legislature of the State of California respectfully memorializes the Congress of the United States to adopt an amendment to the Constitution of the United States to abolish the Electoral College and the United States Congressional system of election of the President and Vice President and to provide in lieu thereof for their direct popular election, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the President pro Tempore of the Senate, to the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Representative from California in the Congress of the United States."

That by reason of the facts and circumstances touching the organization, control, and management of the partnership or corporation business the policy of such business will be directed, controlled, or managed by individuals who, by reason of their conviction of violations of the provisions of this code, would be ineligible for a license and that by licensing such corporation or partnership the purposes of this code would likely be defeated, or,

(a) Requires a purchaser of a motor vehicle as a condition of sale and delivery thereof to also purchase special features, appliances, accessories, or equipment not desired or requested by the purchaser, except that this prohibition shall not apply as to special features, appliances, accessories or equipment ordinarily installed on the vehicle when received or acquired by the dealer

(b) Sells or offers for sale to a franchised motor vehicle dealer any supplies, materials, or other thing of value at the time of and as a part of the negotiations for a new or renewal contract renewing or extending for an additional period of time such motor vehicle dealer's franchise agreement, regardless of whether such sale or offer of sale shall be made a prerequisite to the renewal of the franchise agreement or not

(c) Unfairly, without due regard to the equities of the said dealer and without just provocation, cancels the franchise of any motor vehicle dealer The nonrenewal of a franchise or selling agreement without just provocation or cause shall be deemed an evasion of this paragraph and shall constitute an unfair cancellation regardless of the terms or provisions of such franchise or selling agreement

(d) Attempts to enter into a franchise agreement with a dealer who does not at the time of the franchise agreement have proper facilities to provide the services to his purchasers of new automobiles which are guaranteed by the new car warranties issued by the manufacturers.

House Resolution No. 188

Relative to commending the basketball team of the University of Loyola

WHEREAS, The basketball team of the University of Loyola at Los Angeles recently completed a highly successful season, and

WHEREAS, The team won the championship in the West Coast Athletic Conference with 10 games won and only two games lost, and

WHEREAS, The team won 20 out of 27 games in overall season play, and this record was achieved against major competition from all parts of the Country, and

WHEREAS, By its fine showing of ability combined with sportsmanship, the team has brought great honor upon itself, upon the university it represents, and upon the community; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Members of the Assembly take this means to extend their recognition of the accomplishments and contributions made by the basketball team of the University of Loyola, and to commend the players, the coach of the team, William Donovan, and the university on this record of merit; and be it further

Consideration of House Resolution No. 183, as Amended

By Mr Reagan

House Resolution No. 183

Relative to an interim study of storage and management of records, documents, securities and papers held by state agencies

WHEREAS, Evidence from testimony before various legislative committees indicates that an increasing and unnecessary amount of space is being used by various state agencies for the storage, handling, and disposition of records, documents, securities and papers, and

WHEREAS, There is and has been an accumulation of a vast amount of unnecessary, superseded and obsolete material in storage, largely stored in highly valuable and expensive space which could be put to much better use, and

WHEREAS, The increasing scope of this problem is indicated by the requirement that the vault of the State Treasury be increased in size; and

WHEREAS, As to the holding and management of securities, a great deal of valuable space and man-hours are unnecessarily taken up because many securities are held in relatively small denominations, requiring, for example, a disproportionate amount of time merely in clipping coupons and managing each of the individual securities, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Committee on Rules is directed to assign to an appropriate committee for interim study the subject matter of this resolution, including the more efficient utilization of storage space of all kinds and the proper disposal of obsolete or unnecessary records and documents, and be it further

Resolved, That the committee shall report thereon to the Assembly not later than the fifth calendar day of the 1963 Regular Session of the Legislature.

Resolution read, as amended, and adopted

Consideration of House Resolution No. 172, As Amended

By Mr Burton.

House Resolution No. 172

Relative to the California Association for Health and Welfare and its 50th State Conference

WHEREAS, In 1901 a group of people assembled in Oakland to found what is now known as the California Association for Health and Welfare; and

WHEREAS, It is a foretaste of the quality of effectiveness this young organization was to have in its long life that the State Board of Charities and Corrections was created by law in 1903, and the Juvenile Court of San Francisco established in 1917; and

WHEREAS, The third, fourth, and fifth meetings of the Conference of Charities and Corrections, as it was then known, were centered around attacks on the deplorable conditions of county and state hospitals, and led to great reforms in the conditions; and

WHEREAS, Attendance at most of the meetings of the association held during the last 25 years has run close to 2,000, the peak attendance being at the Pasadena Conference of 1938 when 2,656 persons were registered; and

WHEREAS, In its early years there were four allied organizations which met concurrently with the conference, the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, California Probation Officers Association, Central Section of the California Teachers' Association, and the District Mothers' and Teachers' Association; and

WHEREAS, From the first, the conference always met controversial issues with openness and courage; and

WHEREAS, The earliest concerns of the conference were its work for a state welfare department, building a membership, and holding an annual meeting where resolutions were considered on a variety of topics; and

WHEREAS, The opposition of the conference in 1933 was instrumental in killing a bill which would have abolished the State Department of Social Welfare; and

WHEREAS, In 1936 the president of the conference called together representatives of a number of California organizations for the purpose of setting up a co-ordinated public welfare plan for the State; and

WHEREAS, One of the most valuable contributions which the conference has made is as a forum where different and even conflicting opinions are sure of a fair and unbiased hearing; and

WHEREAS, One piece of legislation sponsored by the conference stands out above all others, the law requiring registration and certification of social workers adopted in 1945 after many years of study and experimentation by the conference, and

WHEREAS, Among the topics which the conference has pursued over the years is the problem of mental hygiene, and as early as 1927 a resolution urged that the directors of the State Departments of Public Welfare and Institutions should develop a mental hygiene program for the State, and

WHEREAS, The conference also supported a resolution asking the State Board of Education to introduce a course on behavior problems into required teacher training curricula, and

WHEREAS, The conference early showed a lively interest in the problems of the immigrant and migratory worker, and

WHEREAS, Noting other important milestones over the years, it was at the Pasadena meeting of 1928 that California's Executives in Public Welfare set up their organization, and in 1928 a resolution was passed that resulted in the publication four years later by the State Department of Social Welfare of a "Directory of Social Welfare Organizations in California", and

WHEREAS, Also in 1928, the subject of health insurance was first brought to the attention of the conference, and

WHEREAS, This organization is to be praised for its outstanding achievements in sponsoring programs of social betterment, now, therefore, be it

Resolved, by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members in honor of the 50th Conference of the California Association for Health and Welfare take this occasion to commend the association for its invaluable services to the people of this State, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to the California Association for Health and Welfare, Mr Arthur Hellender, Vice President of the Association; Mr George Krell, Executive Secretary; Mrs John Douglas, Northern Vice President, and Mr Maurice Schwarz, Jr, Southern Vice President

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were presented by the Chief Clerk from

The following communication was presented by the Speaker, and ordered printed in the Journal.

HOLY CITY APOCALYPSE
HOLY CITY, CALIFORNIA, April 5, 1961

Ralph M Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

MR SPEAKER We note that the Senate has put its imprimatur on the designation of the government anti-secrecy act as the Ralph M Brown Act. In view of the fact that you were the author of the bill, we should like to draw to your attention an instance of the violation of the Ralph M Brown Act which, unfortunately, occurred before you introduced the bill into the Assembly

On September 18, 1956, on its front page, the San Jose Mercury reported that Holy City had a new Mayor—and a new City Council This came as an apocalypse not only to the residents of San Jose, but also to most of the Holy Citizens For 38 years Holy City was governed by "The Wisest Man That Walks This Earth" (by his own modest admission), also known as William Edward Riker, D D The Holy City was not incorporated as a sixth-class city, but the 190 acres of sacred soil were the corporate property of THE PERFECT CHRISTIAN DIVINE WAY, incorporated as a nonprofit religious organization on September 24, 1918, by Dr Riker and two of his disciples Legally, at least, it was holy

The Mercury revealed that the new mayor and city council was one Maurice R Kline, formerly of Hollywood It quoted the new mayor as saying that he had bought an undivided one-half interest in Holy City from Dr Riker—and had received from him an irrevocable power of attorney, enabling him to administer the half he did not own, but which (ostensibly) still belonged to W E Riker

The Mercury was not entirely accurate in its report A check of the papers in the County Recorder's office shows that W E Riker transferred half of Holy City to Maurice R Kline on June 27, 1956, as a gift Kline did not buy anything from Riker—but Riker "bought" Kline as the 'New Jewish Messiah" destined to rebuild Holy City with much Los Angeles loot

The full apocalypse of the transfer of power was revealed to the Holy Citizens by James Milton Wood, 55, a registered Democrat—and the last of the "Holy City Disciples" The citizens, when they discovered that the Holy Father of Holy City had casually given half of what was in fact, if not in law, their city to Maurice R Kline, protested same, arguing that all of the owners of the property should be the ones to give the minuscule metropolis away, rather than just one—Dr Riker

On January 1, 1957, Riker and Kline, acting jointly, banished Wood from "their" property for his sin, i e, the revelation of the details of the transfer to the true owners But the good was done On July 22, 1957, Kline was forced to "buy" the other half of the city from eight owners (three more refused to sell), paying to each of the eight (including Dr Riker) equal amounts for their interests Under ordinary circumstances this transaction would have made it clear to all concerned that the first transfer was fraudulent But in Holy City nothing, but nothing, is ordinary

The frosting on the holy cake came in 1959, during the trial (for fraud) of Riker vs Kline, when Dr Riker attempted to recover "his" property—and lost his case on May 1, 1959 In the course of this trial Kline made the point that Dr Riker had, in 1956, fraudulently and falsely represented himself as the sole owner in fee of the holy city atop the Holy Cross Mountains

Since that time Kline has sold the city (at a considerable profit) and invested his ill-gotten gains in the Minden Inn, Douglas County, Nevada But his sins have caught up with him On February 8, 1961, the Gaming Control Board refused to grant him a gambling license, citing his "questionable character" and "activities in California" Rumor now hath it that he is out on $25,000 bail, with three federal charges against him

To acquaint you with the character of the government of Holy City prior to 1956, we enclose Dr Riker's HEART AND BLOOD GOVERNMENT PLAN, which is but a rewrite of his four campaigns for the seat now warmed by that other Brown in Sacramento—the one with the corner office While Dr Riker's political program (which was something of a violation of the doctrine of the segregation of the church and state, he headed a political party after 1937, as well as a church) did not sway the voters of California, it did impress the United States Attorney in San Francisco enough to get him tried for sedition (Riker, not the United States Attorney) in 1942.

That James Milton Wood has been a member of the Fourth Estate for many years (in 1924, when he went to the Naval Academy, he was telegraph editor of the Burlington Hawkeye) may be particularly germane to a suggestion we should like to offer—one which might dramatize the concepts implicit in the Ralph M Brown Act

Were you to introduce a resolution by which the Assembly would recognize James Milton Wood as Mayor of Holy City, honoring him for his dedication to the cause of democracy (and Democracy) in 1956-57, great would be the gnashing of the teeth of THE COMFORTER, whose fallibility (and theocratic dictatorship) would automatically be revealed to the public Riker's selection of a front man for the Mafia as his successor is vivid proof of the wisdom in Proverbs 11 14—"Where no vision is, the people perish, in the multitude of counselors there is safety"

Only fair it is, in concluding this epistle, to reveal that Mr Wood is in addition to his duties as Secretary-Treasurer of the Holy City Safety Patrol our Managing Editor Germane also may be the fact that we hope, through the Holy City Apocalypse, to create a whole new image of Holy City—as the holy city of the Apocalyptics of America, the "strange, new doctrines" of which will remain (for the moment) apocryphal

Would not any image of Holy City be an improvement over that graven by Dr William E Riker?

Or are you considering the conversion of California to the HEART AND BLOOD GOVERNMENT PLAN—and the election of THE COMFORTER as Governor in 1962? A candidate he will be once again—or so he announced to the San Francisco Examiner recently

We, being a registered Progressive, have only one editorial comment thereon O! GEWALT!

Apocalyptically,

ROBERT CLOGHER, Litt D, Editor

c Edmund G Brown

Analysis of Feasibility of Establishing Bolton Hall in Los Angeles as a State Historical Monument

DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, March 31, 1961

Hon Ralph M Brown
Speaker of the State Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR BROWN In response to House Resolution No 61, adopted April 1, 1960, relating to a Little Landers Historical Monument, I submit the attached report which has been prepared by the Division of Beaches and Parks

This report is an analysis of the feasibility of establishing Bolton Hall, in the City of Los Angeles, as a State Historical Monument I concur with the division's recommendation that Bolton Hall not be considered as a State Historical Monument because it is of local and not statewide historical significance

Funds available for the preservation and interpretation of California's rich heritage are not unlimited, and there are many historical sites more worthy of preservation by the State of California than is Bolton Hall Some of these sites have been listed in the State Park Commission's proposed program for California's Beaches and Parks which was submitted to the Honorable Edmund G Brown, Governor

Sincerely yours,

DEWITT NELSON
Director of Natural Resources

Above transmitted report referred to the Committee on Natural Resources, Planning, and Public Works

This is a Criminal Complaint

Dear Sirs;

On March 20,1961, Judge Roy B Lyon,of the Superior Court of the State of Calif, in and for the County of San Luis Obispo, Calif Refused to ALLOW us to argue the Motions to Strike our Cases against the Dist Atty Paul W Davis and Judge John M Burritt, in open Court or any other way Their Demurrer were Unconstitution, UnTrue, due to there own statement in the demurrers Which Judge Lyon, Sustained the demurrers without leave to amend But Judge Lyon Granted their Motions To Strike, Without allowing us to argue these Motions Their Motions was based on the grounds of, that the complaints was not filed in good faith, and that the filing of said purported pleading violated orderly judicial administration This Is UNTRUE and WRONG Said COmplaints were filed in good Faith and by the LAWS of this State, and The U S Constitution That said Complaints were filed as Criminal Complaints that first but Judge Lyon ruled them as civil These Officals committed a misdemeanor by violateing the Calif Gov Code And the U S.Constitution, and under the CALIF Supreme Court Ruling we as the Plaintiff have a right to filed these Complaints and asked for relief Under the Laws of THis State A person is intitled to a fair and just hearing in any case from the Court of this State Therefore gentlemen, We are planing to file our cases in the Federal Court against This State and all John Does connected to these cases Judge Lyon set aside the statue laws in order to let these men off This was Their points and Authorities of the Laws

Judge Lyon Violated the VI Article of the U S Constitution and the 14-th Amendment of the U S Constitution, and the 7-th Amendment of the U S Constitution

Dear Sir,

In my DICTIONARY a Grant is difference from a JUDGEMENT A GRANT IS something gaven as a gift and a JUDGEMENT is a true and just decision base upon the LAWS and JUSTICE Therefore you did not get a JUDGEMENT, you got a free gift from your polical friend Which done not CONFORM to LAW Or JUSTICE I would hate to think I had to rely on a polical friend to get me out of a jam, when I had broken all the statute laws and lied too Nice to have such polical friend when you need them I guess you will help him out too

As far as your Motions to Strike there were unconstitution and hes too, just like your demurrers Get rid of all of the statute laws so you can let me off This is what your motions stated just what he did too

I believe the Federal Judge will go by the Statute LAWS and the true facts and not by these lying demurrers and Motions See you all in Federal Court BY,By now see you later

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 5, 1961

Hon Ralph M Brown
Assembly Chamber

Powers of Speaker—No. 13604

DEAR MR. BROWN· You have asked for an analysis of the powers of the Speaker of the Assembly to remove members from committees

Section 9026 of the Government Code confers upon the Speaker the power to appoint all standing committees, except as otherwise provided by House rule or resolution The Permanent Standing Rules of the Assembly empower the Speaker to fill vacancies in the appointive membership of the Rules Committee (Rule 10), determine the membership of the standing committees and appoint the members and chairmen of all standing and special committees (Rules 20 and 23)[1], and fill interim vacancies on the Committee on Legislative Representation (Rule 22). The Joint Rules of the Senate and the Assembly provide that the Speaker shall appoint the Assembly members and fill vacancies of the Joint Legislative Budget Committee (Rule 37).

With respect to public officers, the general rule of law which appears to have been adopted almost universally is that in the absence of constitutional or statutory provisions governing removal, the power of removal is incident to the power of appointment, and that where no term of office is specified the officer may be removed at the pleasure of the appointing authority (43 Am Jur. p. 31, 32 Annotation, 91 A L R 1097).

This principle, of course, would not be binding on the Assembly and the Assembly could, by majority vote, overrule the Speaker on the removal of a chairman or change in a committee assignment of a standing committee since the House is vested by the Constitution with complete authority to determine the rule of its proceedings (Const, Art IV, Sec. 9; see also Gov. C 9026) However, in the absence of a contrary expression by the House, and in the absence of any House action which necessarily implies such a prohibition,[2] we believe that when the power of appointment is vested in the Speaker, that power carries with it the power of removal.

Rule No. 19 of the Permanent Standing Rules of the Assembly sets out the 26 standing committees and does not prescribe the number of members to be appointed to each such committee The number is initially left to the discretion of the Speaker However, Rule No 20 provides that "upon publication in the Journal of the number of members on each standing committee, no further change in the number of members of the committee shall be made otherwise than by a majority vote of the elected membership of the Assembly." Thus the Speaker, after the publication in the Journal of the number of members of the standing committees, could not change the number of the members otherwise than by a majority vote of the elected membership of the Assembly. With respect to the Committee on Rules, the number of members of that committee has been established by Rule No. 10 and may not be changed at any time except by action of the Assembly.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By JOSEPH E. COOMES, JR, Deputy

---

[1] An exception is the Committee on Rules The Speaker appoints only one member of that committee (Rule 10, Standing Rules of the Assembly)

[2] For an example of an implied prohibition against removing a member from a committee without his consent see H R 157 (1951 Session) and H R 264 (1951 Session)

MEMO FROM SPEAKER ORDERED PRINTED IN JOURNAL

Speaker Brown ordered the following memorandum printed in the Journal·

MEMO TO MEMBERS

MEMO TO ALL MEMBERS·

In order to expedite the business of the Assembly it will be necessary for every member to make a special effort with regard to committee meetings It has become very apparent during the past several weeks that many committees cannot get their business under way for lack of a quorum I realize there are many good reasons for the temporary absence of members from committee meetings In order to avoid unnecessary delays in starting committee meetings I suggest you adopt the following procedures

1 If for any reason you cannot sit with your committee when the meeting opens, be certain to report to the chairman so that a quorum may be declared and the business of the committee can proceed, even though you must be elsewhere Members with a conflict of committee assignments should report to both committees

2 Return to the committee as promptly as possible.

Many members have indicated that they are absent from their committee meetings because they are waiting in other committees for their bills to be heard In order to solve this problem, on the Assembly side, I would like each chairman to have the authors of the bills to be heard sign up with the Sergeant at Arms or the secretary so that he may leave the hearing and be called from his own committee immediately before his bill is to be heard I have instructed the Sergeant at Arms to set up a runner system which will be conveniently located on the 4th floor A member will be called in plenty of time to be present when his bill is ready to be heard I think, with a little co-operation on the part of all the members, this system will work, and every member will be able to spend more time sitting with the committee to which he has been assigned. We will make our first attempt to operate in this manner beginning Monday, April 10th

In order to alleviate the problem of getting a quorum and starting the business of the day, it may become necessary to reduce the size of some of our larger committees Members who have consistently been absent from committee meetings will be the first candidates for removal.

I hope we can avoid making any committee changes by following the suggestions I have made above. Your co-operation will be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

RALPH M BROWN
Speaker of the Assembly
