(1) Provisions for determining the existence and extent of the surplus of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, and providing for the control and disposition of such surplus, and for equalizing the burden of such surplus elimination or control among the producers, processors, distributors or other handlers affected Notwithstanding any other appropriate means of equalizing the burden of surplus control and the elimination thereof as provided in this chapter, provision may be made for the creation of a stabilization fund to be used for purchasing or otherwise acquiring any portion of the surplus of any agricultural commodity either in fresh or processed form, except when processed in hermetically sealed containers, and for the diversion of such surplus quantity of such commodity so acquired into noncompetitive or by-products uses or for disposing of such surplus in noncommercial channels Moneys for such stabilization fund shall be provided by means of the establishment of an assessment rate for such purpose levied upon producers or handlers or upon both producers and handlers Such assessment rate shall be based upon the units in which such agricultural commodity is handled or marketed or upon any other uniform basis which the director determines to be reasonable and equitable For convenience of collection, the director may collect any producer assessments from handlers of such commodity Handlers paying such assessments for and on behalf of any producers are authorized to deduct such producer assessments from any moneys owed by such handlers to such producers

(2) Provisions for limiting the total quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which may be marketed by producers or processed, distributed or otherwise handled within this State during any specified period or periods, by any and all persons engaged in such producer marketing, processing, distributing or handling, provided, that any such limitation shall be applied under a uniform rule applicable to all such persons so regulated The total quantity of any such commodity so regulated and permitted to be marketed by producers, processed, distributed or otherwise handled, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is reasonably necessary to supply the market demands of consumers of such commodity.

(3) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may purchase or acquire from, or handle on behalf of, any and all producers thereof, within this State during any specified period or periods under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated based upon the amounts produced or sold by such producers in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or upon the current season's production or sales of such producers, or both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof, so purchased or handled within this State shall be apportioned equitably among the producers thereof

(4) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may process, distribute or handle within this State under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated, based upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof of the current season's crop which each such handler has available for such processing, distribution or handling, or upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof so processed, distributed or handled by each such handler in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or based upon both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or any grade, size or quality

thereof, processed, distributed or handled within this State during any specified period or periods shall be equitably apportioned among all such handlers thereof

(5) Provisions regulating the period or periods, during which any agricultural commodity, or any grade, size or quality of such commodity, may be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed within this State by any and all persons engaged in such processing, distributing or marketing within this State, provided, that the total quantity of such commodity so regulated and permitted to be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed during such period or periods, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is necessary to reasonably supply the needs of consumers of such commodity

(6) Provisions for the establishment of surplus, stabilization, or by-product pools for any agricultural commodity or of any grade, size, quality or condition thereof, and providing for the sale of the commodity in any such pool and for the equitable distribution among the persons participating therein of the net returns derived from the sale of such commodity Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of any such pool or pools the advisory board shall have power to receive such commodity from each producer or handler and to handle the same according to the grade, size, quality or condition thereof and to account to each producer or handler participating therein upon a pro rata basis for the net proceeds derived from the sale thereof

The contents of any surplus pool shall not be marketed by the board in any form which would compete directly with that portion of the commodity which is marketed in regular channels of trade However, any portion of any surplus pool may be transferred by the board upon any gratuitous basis to charitable organizations and other similar agencies under proper safeguards to insure that none of such commodity shall compete directly with the unrestricted portion of such commodity The board may dispose of the contents of a stabilization pool in the regular marketing channels in such manner and at such times as the board deems advisable, consistent with the maintenance of stabilized marketing conditions for such commodity The board may dispose of the contents of any by-product pool only for by-products or for other similar purposes under proper safeguards to prevent such portion of the commodity so disposed of from directly competing with that part of the commodity which is marketed in the usual form or in the regular channels of trade

Whenever the marketing order authorizes the establishment of a surplus, stabilization, or by-product pool, the board shall have authority to arrange for and operate any necessary facilities for the storing, financing, grading, packing, servicing, processing, preparing for market, selling, and disposing of the contents of any pools provided for in this section, provided, however, the board shall not have authority to engage in commercial warehousing

The board shall have power to pledge all of the commodity in any such pools with banks or other lending agencies for the purpose of obtaining loans thereon The board shall have title, for the purpose of financing and handling, to all of the commodity in any such pools

(7) Provisions establishing or providing for establishing with respect to any agricultural commodity either as delivered by producers to handlers or processors, or as handled, processed, or otherwise prepared for market, or as marketed by producers, handlers or processors (A) grading standards of quality, condition, size, maturity or pack, which standards may include minimum standards provided the standards so established shall not be established below any minimum standards prescribed by law for such commodity, and (B) uniform inspection and grading of such commodity in accordance with the standards so established

(8) Provisions for the establishment of plans for advertising and sales promotion to maintain present market or to create new or larger markets for agricultural commodities grown in the State of California, or for the prevention, modification or removal of trade barriers which obstruct the free flow of agricultural commodities to market The director is hereby authorized to prepare, issue, administer and enforce plans for promoting the sale of any agricultural commodity

Provided, that any such plan shall be directed toward increasing the sale of ~~such commodity~~ agricultural commodities without reference to ~~a particular~~ any private brand or trade name used by any handler with

No program of production adjustment adopted hereunder shall authorize payments for the removal of acreages of trees or vines of the species, variety or varieties specified in the program which have, during the three years immediately preceding the date of application, produced an annual yield per acre in excess of the comparably computed average yield from bearing trees or vines of the same species, variety or varieties for the State as a whole, such yields and averages to be determined by the director from statistical data compiled by state or federal agencies or such other data as the director deems to be representative and reliable

(11) Provisions for carrying on research studies in the production, processing or distribution of any agricultural commodity and for the expenditure of moneys for such purposes In any research in production or processing carried on hereunder, the Dean of the College of Agriculture of the University of California and the advisory board provided for in Section 1300 15 hereof shall co-operate in selecting the research project or projects to be carried on from time to time Insofar as practicable such projects shall be carried out by said College of Agriculture, but if the dean of said college and the advisory board determine that the college has no facilities for a particular project or that some other research agency has better facilities therefor, the project may be carried out by other research agencies selected by the dean and the advisory board

Any official brand or trade name established pursuant to this paragraph shall not be construed as a private brand or trade name with respect to paragraph (8) of subdivision (b) of this section*

(c) In addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the processing or preparation for marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity processed within this State, and in addition to authority to issue marketing orders regulating the distribution of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity within this State and subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations of Section 1300 14 of this chapter, the director may also issue marketing orders regulating the handling, processing, preparation for marketing or marketing of any or all portions of any agricultural commodity produced in this State for which marketing regulatory

Mr. Hegland was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL
SACRAMENTO, April 7, 1961

Hon. Sheridan N. Hegland
Assembly Chamber

Local Property Taxation—No. 13663

DEAR MR HEGLAND: You have asked us two questions which we have separately stated and considered below.

Question No 1

Is there any provision in the present law which requires a county, city or school district to levy an ad valorem tax at a specified minimum rate to be used only for a specified purpose?

Opinion and Analysis

We have examined the applicable provisions of law and have not found any provision which would require any such tax levy

Question No 2

Does Assembly Bill No 1000 as introduced require the imposition of an ad valorem tax by a county at a specified rate?

Yes.

The bill among other things adds Section 20911 to the Education Code to read:

"20911 The board of supervisors of each county, and city and county, shall annually, beginning with the 1961-1962 fiscal year, at the time and in the manner of levying other county, and city and county, taxes, levy and cause to be collected in the county, or city and county, taxes for the support of the elementary school districts and high school districts as follows

(a) For elementary school support, at the rate of sixty cents ($0 60) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property in the county

(b) For high school support, at the rate of fifty cents ($0 50) for each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property in the county

In any county, or city and county, where the territory under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent of schools comprises a single school district, the levy of district taxes on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property in the district at a rate of at least sixty cents ($0 60) if an elementary school district, fifty cents ($0 50) if a high school district, or one dollar and ten cents ($1 10) if a unified district will be deemed to have met the requirements of this section"

It is clear, therefore, that a county would be required pursuant to this proposed section to levy a tax at a specified rate

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By EDWARD F NOWAK, Deputy

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

LETTER FROM J. EDGAR HOOVER—DATED JUNE 1, 1960

UNITED STATES DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION
WASHINGTON, D C., June 1, 1960

TO ALL LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS·

The question of capital punishment has sent a storm of controversy thundering across our nation—millions of spoken and written words seek to examine the question so that decisions may be reached which befit our civilization

The struggle for answers concerning the taking of men's lives is one to which every American should lend his voice, for the problem in a democracy such as ours is not one for a handful of men to solve alone.

As a representative of law enforcement, it is my belief that a great many of the most vociferous cries for abolition of capital punishment emanate from those areas of our society which have been insulated against the horrors man can and does perpetrate against his fellow beings Certainly, penetrative and searching thought must be given before considering any blanket cessation of capital punishment in a time when unspeakable crimes are being committed. The savagely mutilated bodies and mentally ravaged victims of murderers, rapists, and other criminal beasts beg consideration when the evidence is weighed on both sides of the scales of Justice

At the same time, nothing is so precious in our country as the life of a human being, whether he is a criminal or not, and on the other side of the scales must be placed all of the legal safeguards which our society demands

Experience has clearly demonstrated, however, that the time-proven deterrents to crime are sure detection, swift apprehension, and proper punishment. Each is a necessary ingredient Law-abiding citizens have a right to expect that the efforts of law enforcement officers in detecting and apprehending criminals will be followed by realistic punishment

It is my opinion that when no shadow of a doubt remains relative to the guilt of a defendant, the public interest demands capital punishment be invoked where the law so provides

Who, in all good conscience, can say that Julius and Ethel Rosenberg, the spies who delivered the secret of the atomic bomb into the hands of the Soviets, should have been spared when their treachery caused the shadow of annihilation to fall upon all of the world's peoples? What place would there have been in civilization for these two who went to their deaths unrepentant, unwilling to the last to help their own country and their own fellow men? What would have been the chances of rehabilitating Jack Gilbert Graham, who placed a bomb in his own mother's luggage and blasted her and 43 other innocent victims into oblivion as they rode an airliner across a peaceful sky?

A judge once said, "The death penalty is a warning, just like a lighthouse throwing its beams out to sea We hear about shipwrecks, but we do not hear about the ships the lighthouse guides safely on their way We do not have proof of the number of ships it saves, but we do not tear the lighthouse down"

Despicable crimes must be dealt with realistically To abolish the death penalty would absolve other Rosenbergs and Grahams from fear of the consequences for committing atrocious crimes Where the death penalty is provided, a criminal's punishment may be meted out commensurate with his deeds While a Power transcending man is the final Judge, this same Power gave man reason so he might protect himself Capital punishment is an instrument with which he may guard the righteous against the predators among men

We must never allow misguided compassion to erase our concern for the hundreds of unfortunate, innocent victims of bestial criminals

Very truly yours,

JOHN EDGAR HOOVER, Director

Bill read third time

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 266

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 10, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly and Senate

Assembly Bill No. 266, "An act to add Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 25800) to Division 20 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous substances," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill

Last year in California approximately 500 children died due to the swallowing of poisons and poisonous materials contained in various household items This bill provides for the labeling of such substances and will provide a means whereby effective and immediate remedies can be provided to children, and others, who consume or come into contact with such materials Prompt action is needed so that further unnecessary injuries and deaths can be prevented

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No 266 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted

EDMUND G BROWN, Governor

EXCERPT FROM THE CALIFORNIA LEGIONNAIRE—APRIL 1, 1961

Beginning January 1, 1960, congressionally chartered veteran organizations, including The American Legion, had their contract agreements with the California State Department of Veterans Affairs terminated by executive action on the part of the Governor. Through the contract agreements the veteran organizations rendered a most valuable and outstanding service to war veterans and their dependents with the State of California paying a part of the cost By reason of the Governor's action in terminating the contract agreement with The American Legion, Department of California, we were left with a tremendous load which had been building up for over forty years Most of it was built up subsequent to World War II during the sixteen years the State contracted with The American Legion to render this service

Our Department was left with a moral and legal obligation to represent hundreds of thousands of veterans and their dependents with no more financial assistance from the State

The Governor took this adverse action against war veterans and their dependents over the objection and vigorous protest of The American Legion It was also in opposition to the action of the State Legislature and in opposition to the recommendations of the California Veterans Board

As a substitute, the Governor caused to be set up, a Claims and Rights Service under the Division of Service and Coordination, State Department of Veterans Affairs with State Civil Service employees It is interesting to note a comparison of the workload, services rendered, and monetary recoveries for veterans and their dependents as a result of cases which were represented before the Veterans Administration by The American Legion, Department of California and the California State Department of Veterans Affairs for the calendar year 1960 (12 months)

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

On April 17, 1961, Mr. Hawkins was granted unanimous consent that the following statement by Joseph M Farber be printed in the Corrected Journal for April 12, 1961, at page 2417, following the excerpt from The California Legionnaire

VETERANS CLAIMS AND RIGHTS SERVICE

In the April 1 issue of the California Legionnaire, Lewis S. Sloneker, Department Rehabilitation Director, presents some rather interesting figures in his column comparing the claims and rights service of the American Legion and the California Department of Veterans Affairs during the calendar year 1960, then voices concern over the legal and moral responsibility of this State representing veterans and their dependents, taking no account of 38 other states, the territory of Puerto Rico and the the District of Columbia which are accredited by the Veterans Administration to provide comparable service, and finally sets forth three further restrictive policies of the American Legion with regard to accepting new powers of attorney.

The statistical information for the Department of Veterans Affairs was furnished Mr. Sloneker on January 26, 1961 in response to his request of January 24 Such figures are published monthly in the report of the department to the Governor and the California Veterans Board. Earlier that month we had asked for similar information from the American Legion, but until the appearance of this column it was not made available He has erred in his breakdown of state awards for veterans and dependents and there are certain other discrepancies, some minor, others of more consequence

The total amount of awards to claimants represented by the American Legion in 1960 is shown as $32,584,249. Ten technical employees were employed at an expense of $124,000.

The total amount of awards to claimants represented by the American Legion in 1959 was $32,256,428 Total number of employees that year varied between 53 and 91 at an expense of $466,253, to which the State of California contributed $374,972 A decrease of 6 percent in number of claimants represented, and 2 percent in awards, from 1959 does not correlate well with the drastic reduction in personnel and total costs.

It is alleged in the column that the Department of Veterans Affairs had 20 technical employees engaged in claims and rights service at an approximate expense of $300,000 in 1960. The maximum number of technical employees in the State's veterans claims and rights service at any one time in the year was 11 The actual cost for this service was $125,955, slightly more than one-third the State's contribution to the American Legion alone the previous year

On January 1, 1960, the department established two offices—one in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles—each near a Veterans Administration Regional Office The original authorization was for 32 positions which were to be established and filled as workload developed. Experience has proven that all 32 positions would not be required, and in preparing our budget for the 1961-62 fiscal year the number was reduced to 23.

The claims and rights function is an integral part of the department's Division of Service and Co-ordination, and for comparative purposes the following table illustrates the cost of the division both before and after contracts with the veterans organizations were terminated.

Expenditures

| Fiscal Year | Division of Service and Co-ordination | Contract Payments to Veterans Organizations | Total |
|---|---|---|---|
| 1956-57 | $145,720 | $574,000 | $719,720 |
| 1957-58 | 158,272 | 574,000 | 732,272 |
| 1958-59 | 148,525 | 596,700 | 745,225 |
| 1959-60 | 210,506 | 298,350 (6 mos ) | 508,856 |
| 1960-61 | 329,163 * | -- | 329,163 |
| 1961-62 | 346,602 * | -- | 346,602 |

 Estimated

The rate at which new positions have been established has been determined by the increase in volume of business, and not until the 1961-62 fiscal year will the entire staff of 23 be employed for a full 12-month period This accounts for the fact that each fiscal year after 1958-59 shows a progressive increase in expenditures which, as we foresee, will level off during the coming fiscal year

A comparison of the expenditures for the 1961-62 fiscal year with those of 1958-59 will disclose an annual saving of nearly $400,000 resulting from a discontinuance of the subsidy to veterans organizations and furnishing the claims and rights service direct to veterans by the Department of Veterans Affairs

The charge is made that the services of the Department of Veterans Affairs is limited to California Action was taken by the Veterans Administration Board of Appeals in Washington, D C on 48 appeals of California Regional Office rating board decisions where the department held power of attorney In each instance a carefully prepared written brief was submitted One out of three of these appeals was allowed In 1959 the American Legion was successful in but one out of six The Vice Chairman of the Board of Appeals on April 20, 1960, informed us that the great bulk of appeals handled by veterans organizations are similarly presented for hearing and perhaps only 10 percent involved personal appearances of organization representatives

Mr Sloneker presents three new restrictive policies adopted by the American Legion Department Rehabilitation Commission

> "1 That we no longer give assistance to any veteran who is not eligible to join the American Legion unless we are specifically asked to do so by a relative who is a member of the American Legion (this will eliminate the peacetime veteran and will be in keeping with the policy of our National Organization) "

The Department of Veterans Affairs has always maintained that every veteran should be given complete freedom at any point in selecting the organization he desires to represent him, and it denies its service to no veteran nor dependent requesting it

> "2 That we do not accept a power of attorney to the American Legion where there is one of record to another organization except where the veteran is a member in good standing in the American Legion We are experiencing an increasing number of requests to take over claims from other organizations either because they are not properly equipped to handle them or there has been dissatisfaction with the manner in which they have been handled "

It is interesting to note that only six-tenths of one percent of the claimants who designated the California Department of Veterans Affairs to represent them in 1960 revoked their power of attorney

> "3 That we inform County Service Officers of these new rules and urge, for the sake of more prompt and better service to Legionnaires and dependents and to their offices, on their difficult and problem cases, that they do not invite powers of attorney to The American Legion from veterans who are non-Legionnaires, and unless they are specifically requested to do so, suggest the veteran sign a power of attorney to some other organization of their choice "

In 1960, 54 66 percent of claimants conveying powers of attorney through county service offices designated the California Department of Veterans Affairs while 33 15 percent designated The American Legion

Another factor overlooked in this comparison was that the department began its operation in 1960 while perhaps over one-half of the recoveries shown for The American Legion were as a result of a review of old ratings This assumption is based on the 1959 statistics of The American Legion

Perhaps we should take a look at the activities of the department in its first three months of operation with the corresponding months this year

| | 1960 | | 1961 | |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| | Claims Established | Awards | Claims Established | Awards |
| January | 53 | $ 47,091 | 861 | $1,078,652 |
| February | 94 | 127,205 | 900 | 1,130,008 |
| March | 318 | 328,675 | 1,135 | 1,200,203 |

This is our rebuttal to Mr Sloneker's article

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Elliott, on behalf of Mr George E Brown, was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal·

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
Sacramento, April 11, 1961

Assembly Chamber

Assembly Bill No. 428: Employment Where A Labor Dispute Exists—No. 12764

DEAR MR BROWN You have asked us several questions with respect to Assembly Bill No 428 We will endeavor to answer them in series below.

Question No 1

Would any of the sections which the bill would add to the Labor Code be ineffective in their application by virtue of federal pre-emption of their subject matter in the so-called Byrnes Act (18 U S C 1231) and the National Labor Relations Act (29 U S C 141 et seq )?

Opinion No 1

No

Analysis No. 1

Assembly Bill No 428 generally provides that it is a felony for any person to, "recruit, procure, supply, or refer" any person for employment in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute in which the person recruiting, procuring, supplying, or referring is not directly interested (Sec 1150*), employ in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute any person who "customarily and repeatedly offers himself for employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute" or who is "recruited " by one not directly involved in a labor dispute (Sec 1151, subd (a)), take or offer to take the place in employment of employees involved in a labor dispute when the person so taking or offering "customarily and repeatedly offers" himself for such employment (Sec 1151, subd (b)), or contract or arrange with another, when involved in a labor dispute, to "recruit ." persons to replace employees involved in the labor dispute (Sec 1152).

The bill provides further that it is a misdemeanor to recruit, solicit, or advertise for employees, or refer persons for employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute without adequate notice to such person that there is a labor dispute and that employment is in place of employee involved in the dispute (Sec 1153).

The bill does not contain any limitation upon its application with respect to whether or not the labor dispute affects interstate commerce and employers engaged in interstate commerce

Under the Constitution of the United States (Art I, Sec 8, subd 3) Congress is empowered to regulate commerce among the several states, and, pursuant to Article VI, subdivision 2, of that instrument, the laws of the United States made pursuant to the Constitution are the supreme law of the land. It is therefore the general rule that in matters affecting interstate commerce the powers of a state to regulate matters affecting interstate commerce are suspended when Congress occupies the field with legislation with which the state action would conflict (see 11 Cal. Jur 2d, Const Law, Secs 93 and 94, and cases cited therein)

* Sections referred to herein, except as otherwise indicated, are sections proposed to be added to the Labor Code by Assembly Bill No 428

The question with respect to Assembly Bill No 428 then becomes to what extent Congress, by enactment of the so-called Byrnes Act and the National Labor Relations Act, has occupied the field to the exclusion of the State

The so-called Byrnes Act provides as follows (18 U S C 1231).

> "Whoever wilfully transports in interstate or foreign commerce any person who is employed or is to be employed for the purpose of obstructing or interfering by force or threats with (1) peaceful picketing by employees during any labor controversy affecting wages, hours, or conditions of labor, or (2) the exercise by employees of any of the rights of self-organization or collective bargaining, or
> "Whoever is knowingly transported or travels in interstate or foreign commerce for any of the purposes enumerated in this section shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisonment not more than two years, or both
> "This section shall not apply to common carriers"

Insofar as we are aware there are no reported appellate decisions concerning prosecution brought under the so-called Byrnes Act. It appears to us, however, that it is limited by its provisions to transportation in interstate commerce of persons who are employed or to be employed for the purpose of obstructing or interfering by force or by threat with peaceful picketing or the exercise by employees of protected self-organization or employment rights Inasmuch as the provisions of Assembly Bill No 428 do not relate to persons who are to be employed to obstruct or interfere by force or threats, but rather prohibit the employment of persons to replace employees involved in a labor dispute, we do not believe that the provisions that Assembly Bill No. 428 would add to the Labor Code are in conflict with the so-called Byrnes Act The State is therefore free, in our opinion, insofar as the Byrnes Act is concerned, to enact legislation in the form of Assembly Bill No 428.

With respect to the National Labor Relations Act,* its provisions declare it to be the policy of the United States to eliminate and mitigate obstructions to the free flow of commerce by encouraging the practice and procedure of collective bargaining and by protecting the exercise by workers of full freedom of association, self-organization and designation of representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment and for other mutual aid or protection (Sec 1, National Labor Relations Act, 29 U S C. 151)

* Hereinafter referred to as the N L R A † Hereinafter referred to as the board.

U S C 153) and vests in the board the power to, among other things, prevent unfair labor practices (Sec 10, N L R A , 29 U S C , 160)

The Supreme Court has held that labor disputes and activities in relation thereto which the N L R A does not cover may be subject to state regulation (International, etc Union v Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (1948) 336 U S 245, Algoma Plywood & Veneer Co v Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (1948) 336 U S 301)

As indicated above, the purpose of the N L R A is to provide a means for facilitating the settlement of labor disputes which involve interstate commerce The bill does not relate to the settlement of labor disputes, but rather, seeks to prohibit certain practices concerned with the securing of employees in places where there is a labor dispute

We are unaware of any decision by the courts or the board in which it has been held that the N L R A covers activities that would be regulated by Assembly Bill No 428

We conclude therefore that the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 428 would not be ineffective by virtue of federal pre-emption of their subject matter by the N L R A.

Question No 2

You have asked if any provisions of Assembly Bill No. 428 are ineffective because they conflict with federal law, can the bill be limited to eliminate the conflict?

Opinion and Analysis No 2

In view of our conclusion that the provisions of Assembly Bill No 428 do not conflict with federal law, no change in the bill would be required in this regard.

Question No 3

With respect to Section 1151 of the proposed bill, you ask whether this section violates the constitutional test of due process because of the definition "any person who customarily and repeatedly offers himself for employment."

Opinion No 3

No.

Analysis No 3

Section 1151, as proposed by Assembly Bill No 428, declares it a felony to employ any person who "customarily and repeatedly offers himself" for employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute or to customarily and repeatedly take or offer to take such employment.

In order to meet the constitutional test of due process, a criminal statute must be so definite and certain that it gives a person of ordinary or average intelligence fair warning of what acts or omissions are to be punishable (14 Cal Jur 2d, Criminal Law, Sec 110, and cases cited therein) Various rules are used by the courts to judge the sufficiency of a statute with respect to whether or not it is definite enough to provide a standard of conduct These rules have been stated to be The words used in the statute should be well enough known to enable persons within its purview to understand and apply them (People v Nunn, 46 Cal 2d 460, 467)

Webster's New International Dictionary, Second Edition, Unabridged, defines "customary," in part, as 1 Agreeing with or established by custom, established by common usage; habitual; as one's customary exercise ." "Repeated" is defined by the same source as "that is repeated, said, done, performed, etc, again or frequently, happening, appearing, etc again and again, as a repeated performance, course or design, repeated changes of plans "

A California court (Jones v Robertson, 79 C A 2d 813, 818-19) similarly defined "customarily" as "usually, habitually, according to customs, general practice, or usual order of things, regularly," quoting from Fuller Brush Co v Industrial Commission (Utah, 1940), 104 Pac. 2d 201, 203

In Jones v Robertson and Fuller Brush Co v Industrial Commission, supra, the courts did not question the term "customarily" as vague or uncertain, but accepted it as meaning substantially the same as that found in the dictionary By the same token, we doubt that the courts would find "customarily and repeatedly" vague or uncertain as used in A B No 428

Question No 4

Does Section 1150 preclude any employment agency from recruiting, procuring, supplying or referring any person for employment in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute in which the agency is not directly interested, and is this an unconstitutional infringement on the right to contract?

Opinion No 4

We are of the opinion that Section 1150 does bar an employment agency from so acting, however we do not believe this to be an unconstitutional infringement of the right to contract

Analysis No 4

Section 1150 provides that it is unlawful for an agency to "recruit, procure, supply or refer" any person for employment in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute when the agency is not directly interested in the dispute We are of the opinion that these terms would be construed to preclude any employment agency from supplying an employer involved in a labor dispute with replacement employees

Although freedom of contract is one of the liberties protected by both the Federal and State Constitutions, this guarantee is freedom from arbitrary restraint and not immunity from reasonable regulation to safeguard the public interest The right to make contracts, like other personal and property rights, is subject to reasonable regulation to promote the general convenience, propriety and welfare (see 11 Cal. Jur 2d, Constitutional Law, Sections 167 and 198) We are of the opinion that it is within the power of the Legislature, upon a determination that the public safety requires reasonable regulation of labor disputes, to require that persons shall not supply replacements for persons involved in labor disputes (see cases cited 11 Cal Jur. 2 Constitutional Law, Section 167)

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By GEORGE H MURPHY, Principal Deputy

Two copies to Honorable Phillip Burton,
pursuant to Joint Rule No 34

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Levering was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 12, 1961

Hon. Harold K Levering
Assembly Chamber

Labor Disputes—No. 14248

Question

DEAR MR LEVERING You have asked if Assembly Bill No 428, as introduced, would be constitutional if enacted.

Opinion

It is our opinion that the bill would be constitutional.

Analysis

Assembly Bill No 428 generally provides that it is a felony for any person to: "recruit, procure, supply, or refer" any person for employment in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute in which the person recruiting, procuring, supplying, or referring is not directly interested (Sec 1150*); employ in place of an employee involved in a labor dispute any person who "customarily and repeatedly offers himself for employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute" or who is "recruited " by one not directly involved in a labor dispute (Sec 1151, subd (a), take or offer to take the place in employment of employees involved in a labor dispute when the person so taking or offering "customarily and repeatedly offers" himself for such employment (Sec 1151, subd (b)); or contract or arrange with another, when involved in a labor dispute, to "recruit . . . " persons to replace employees involved in the labor dispute (Sec 1152).

The bill provides further that it is a misdemeanor to recruit, solicit, or advertise for employees, or refer persons for employment in place of employees involved in a labor dispute without adequate notice to such person that there is a labor dispute and that employment is in place of employee involved in the dispute (Sec 1153)

The bill does not contain any limitation upon its application with respect to whether or not the labor dispute affects interstate commerce and employers engaged in interstate commerce

The only constitutional questions presented by the bill of which we are aware concern (1) the possible conflict between its provisions and the so-called Byrnes Act (18 U.S.C 1231) and the National Labor Relations Act (29 U S C 141 et seq ) and (2) the possible violation of the constitutional test of due process because of the use of the phrase "customarily and repeatedly "

(1) Under the Constitution of the United States (Art. X, Sec. 8, subd 3) Congress is empowered to regulate commerce among the several states, and, pursuant to Article VI, subdivision 2, of that instrument, the laws of the United States made pursuant to the Constitution are the supreme law of the land It is therefore the general rule that in matters affecting interstate commerce the powers of a state to regulate matters affecting interstate commerce are suspended when Congress occupies the field with legislation with which the state action would conflict (see 11 C 1 Jur. 2d, Const Law, Sees 93 and 94, and cases cited therein)

* Sections referred to herein, except as otherwise indicated, are sections proposed to be added to the Labor Code by Assembly Bill No 428

The question is thus posed as to whether Congress, by enactment of the so-called Byrnes Act and the National Labor Relations Act, has occupied the field to the exclusion of the State in the areas covered by Assembly Bill No 428

"Whoever wilfully transports in interstate or foreign commerce any person who is employed or is to be employed for the purpose of obstructing or interfering by force or threats with (1) peaceful picketing by employees during any labor controversy affecting wages, hours, or conditions of labor, or (2) the exercise by employees of any of the rights of self-organization or collective bargaining, or

"Whoever is knowingly transported or travels in interstate or foreign commerce for any of the purposes enumerated in this section . . shall be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisonment not more than two years, or both

"This section shall not apply to common carriers "

Insofar as we are aware, there are no reported appellate decisions concerning prosecution brought under the so-called Byrnes Act. It appears to us, however, that it is limited by its provisions to transportation in interstate commerce of persons who are employed or to be employed for the purpose of obstructing or interfering by force or by threat with peaceful picketing or the exercise by employees of protected self-organization or employment rights. Inasmuch as the provisions of Assembly Bill No 428 do not relate to persons who are to be employed to obstruct or interfere by force or threats, but rather prohibit the employment of persons to replace employees involved in a labor dispute, we do not believe that the provisions that Assembly Bill No 428 would add to the Labor Code are in conflict with the so-called Byrnes Act. The State is therefore free, in our opinion, insofar as the Byrnes Act is concerned, to enact legislation in the form of Assembly Bill No. 428.

With respect to the National Labor Relations Act,* its provisions declare it to be the policy of the United States to eliminate and mitigate obstructions to the free flow of commerce by encouraging the practice and procedure of collective bargaining and by protecting the exercise by workers of full freedom of association, self-organization and designation of representatives of their own choosing for the purpose of negotiating the terms and conditions of their employment and for other mutual aid or protection (Sec 1, N L R A , 29 U S C 151).

* Hereafter referred to as the N L R A creates the National Labor Relations Board † (Sec 3, N L R A ; 29 U S C 153) and vests in the board the power to, among other things, prevent unfair labor practices (Sec 10, N L R A , 29 U S C., 160).

The Supreme Court has held that labor disputes and activities in relation thereto which the N L R A does not cover may be subject to state regulation (International, etc Union v Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (1948) 336 U S 245, Algoma Plywood & Veneer Co. v. Wisconsin Employment Relations Board (1948) 336 U S 301).

As indicated above, the purpose of the N L R A is to provide a means for facilitating the settlement of labor disputes which involve interstate commerce The bill does not relate to the settlement of labor disputes, but rather, seeks to prohibit certain practices concerned with the securing of employees in places where there is a labor dispute

We are unaware of any decision by the courts or the board in which it has been held that the N L R.A. covers activities that would be regulated by Assembly Bill No 428.

(2) In order to meet the constitutional test of due process, a criminal statute must be so definite and certain that it gives a person of ordinary or average intelligence fair warning of what acts or omissions are to be punishable (14 Cal. SACRAMENTO, April 12, 1961

Members of the California Assembly
California Legislature
c/o Arthur A Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
State Capitol, Sacramento

GENTLEMEN: The Redevelopment Agency of the City of Sacramento has received and considered House Resolution No 168, adopted March 24, 1961, relating to redevelopment projects and relocation activities in connection therewith

The agency has directed me to advise you of our consistent attempts to extend as much assistance as possible to those individuals, families and businesses which occupy redevelopment area property In this connection there is enclosed a copy of the Relocation Report of this agency dated March 31, 1961, which explains the procedures followed by our office.

As you may be aware, each family in our project area is eligible for moving costs up to a maximum of $200 Businesses in this second project will be allowed up to $3,000 for moving expenses and losses of property suffered by the occupant because of displacement by our operations.

In our first project area we have found that 89 percent of the householders in the project area were moved into substitute housing which complied with or was superior to the standards set forth in the American Public Health Association's standards for decent and sanitary housing Ninety-five percent of these householders moved into housing which was considered superior to the housing they occupied in the project area. It is our intent to improve further upon this record.

You will also find attached a list of those actions which, if taken, can modify our existing state legislation in order that agencies such as our own may be able to offer even greater assistance to those occupants displaced by redevelopment projects

Respectfully,

FRED W READ, Chairman

cc Assemblymen Rumford, Reagan, McMillan, Allen, Elliott, Hawkins, Kilpatrick, Munnell, Petris, Bradley, Hicks, Z'berg

State Legislation Recommended for Consideration to Place Agencies in a Position to Be of Greater Assistance to Residents Displaced by Redevelopment Projects

1. Empower redevelopment agencies to purchase property outside as well as within a project area for the purpose of acquiring, developing and constructing housing for those displaced by the project
2. Empower agencies to dispose of project land at less than fair market value to stimulate the development of low cost housing not otherwise available in the community for the use of displaced families
3. Empower the state to finance or insure the financing of long-term, low interest mortgages to stimulate the development of moderately priced, privately owned dwellings for displaced families
4. Creation of a Governor's Advisory Commission on Housing Problems to study and recommend legislation needed to implement the above and to effect any other changes necessary or desirable in the carrying out of the relocation programs by redevelopment agencies.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 12, 1961

Hon Harold K. Levering
Assembly Chamber

Labor Injunctions—No. 13866

DEAR MR LEVERING You have directed our attention to Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 With respect to these bills you have asked several questions which we have considered in series below

Question No 1

If Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 were enacted, would Negro workers be able to secure an injunction to prevent an employer from discharging them, or a union from securing their discharge, because they are not members of a labor union which will not grant Negroes full membership? The question contemplates an injunction of the type secured by Negro employees in James v Marinship Corporation (1944), 25 Cal 2d 721

Opinion No 1

No

Analysis No 1

Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 would add Chapter 8 5 (commencing with Section 1140) to Part 3 of Division 2 of the Labor Code, relating to labor disputes The chapter, as added by both bills, would contain only Section 1140 * The section would provide, in general, in subdivision (a) that no restraining order or injunction shall be granted by any court in any case between employers and employees or between employees, or between persons employed and persons seeking employment, or their representatives, involving or growing out of a dispute concerning terms or conditions of employment, unless necessary to prevent irreparable injury to property or to a property right of the party making the application for which there is no adequate remedy at law Subdivision (b) of Section 1140 would provide, in general, that in any such restraining order or injunction issued under subdivision (a) the court shall not prohibit any person or persons, whether singularly or in concert from (1) stopping work or recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful means to do so; (2) attending any place where they may lawfully be for the purpose of peacefully obtaining or communicating information, (3) ceasing to patronize or employ any party to a dispute or recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful and lawful means to do so; (4) paying, giving or withholding strike benefits; (5) peacefully assembling in a

* Assembly Bill No 425 differs from Assembly Bill No 426 in that Assembly Bill No 425 repeals Chapter 7 (commencing with Section 1115) of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Labor Code, relating to jurisdictional strikes and Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 1131) of Part 3 of Division 3 of the Labor Code, relating to hot cargo and secondary boycotts Assembly Bill No 425 does not repeal these chapters We do not believe this distinction is material to the determination of the questions asked lawful manner and for a lawful purpose; or (6) doing any act or thing which might be lawfully done in absence of such dispute

Further, the section would provide that none of the acts enumerated in subdivision (b) shall be considered or held to be violations of any law

It is to be noted that the effect of subdivision (b) of Section 1140, when read in conjunction with subdivision (a) of the section, is to prohibit courts from issuing any injunction or restraining order prohibiting the various activities enumerated in subdivision (b) of the section regardless of possible injury to property or property right

In James v Marinship Corporation (supra), the union had a closed shop agreement with the employer, but would not admit Negroes to full membership in the union The union maintained auxiliary lodges for Negro workers and required them to belong to these lodges, to pay fees and dues and to obtain work clearances for employment with the employer The Supreme Court of California sustained an injunction which, among other things, restrained the employer and the union from discharging or causing the discharge of the Negroes because they were not members of the union with which their employer had the closed shop agreement

We are of the opinion that inasmuch as Section 1140 as proposed by Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 would by virtue of subdivision (b) bar a court from issuing any injunction or restraining order which would prohibit any person or persons from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to a dispute concerning terms and conditions of employment or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful and lawful means to do so, we believe that a court could not issue an injunction such as was granted in the James v. Marinship Corporation case

If Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 were enacted, would it be possible for independent merchants to secure an injunction to stop a union from preventing the merchants from obtaining goods and from coercing dealers to refrain from selling goods to the merchants? The question contemplates an injunction of the type secured by certain milk distributors in Bautista v Jones (1944), 25 Cal 2d 746

No

In Bautista v Jones (supra), certain merchants were engaged distributing milk which they purchased from milk brokers and delivered in their own trucks The union had a closed shop agreement with the milk brokers and when the milk distributors refused to employ union drivers and sought to join the union themselves, the union refused the distributors' membership in the union and sought to induce the milk brokers to cease selling milk to the distributors. The California Supreme Court sustained a lower court injunction enjoining the union from preventing the distributors from obtaining milk from the milk brokers and from coercing the brokers to refrain from selling milk to the distributors

Here, again, we are of the opinion that inasmuch as Section 1140 as proposed by Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 would by virtue of subdivision (b) bar a court from issuing any injunction or restraining order which would prohibit any person or persons from ceasing to patronize or to employ any party to a dispute concerning terms and conditions of employment or from recommending, advising, or persuading others by peaceful and lawful means to do so, we believe that a court could not issue an injunction such as was granted in the Bautista v. Jones case

If Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 were enacted, would it be possible to enjoin a strike in violation of a no-strike provision in a collective bargaining agreement?

Opinion No 3

No

Analysis No 3

Subdivision (b) of Section 1140 would provide that no restraining order or injunction issued under the section shall prohibit any person or persons from singularly or in concert terminating any relation of employment or ceasing to perform any work or labors We believe these terms would be construed to prohibit the enjoining or restraining of strikes Therefore, we think that strikes in violation of a no-strike provision of a collective bargaining agreement would be included within the prohibition against restraining orders or injunctions contained in subdivision (b)

Question No 4

If Assembly Bills Nos 425 and 426 were enacted, would it be possible for an employer or a union to secure, pursuant to Section 1126 of the Labor Code, an injunction in order to prevent a breach of a collective bargaining contract?

Opinion and Analysis No 4

Section 1126 of the Labor Code provides, in part, that collective bargaining agreements shall be enforceable at law or in equity, and that breach of such agreements shall be subject to the same remedies, including injunctive relief, as are other contracts

Without a particular fact situation before us, we cannot give a categorical answer to this question However, if a breach of a collective bargaining agreement involved irreparable injury to property or to property rights, such a breach could be enjoined under subdivision (a) of Section 1140 if none of the activities enumerated in subdivision (b) of Section 1140 were involved If, on the other hand, there was no showing of irreparable injury to property or to property rights, breach of a collective bargaining agreement could not be enjoined

We do not believe that Section 1126 as presently found in the Labor Code alters this conclusion In our opinion Section 1140, as proposed by both bills, would be controlling over Section 1126 of the Labor Code because these bills constitute subsequent special statutes limiting injunctions, whereas Section 1126 is a prior general statute regarding enforcement of collective bargaining agreements (see 45 Cal. Jur. 2d, Statutes, Section 8)

Very truly yours,

RALPH N KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By SHERWIN C MACKENZIE, JR, Deputy

Two copies to Hon Phillip Burton,
pursuant to Joint Rule No. 34.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

Veto Message Concerning Assembly Bill No. 204

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, April 14, 1961

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS

I am returning herewith, without my signature,

Assembly Bill No. 204 entitled "An act to repeal Section 647 of the Government Code, relating to claims against the State"

My objections to this bill are as follows

Assembly Bill No 204 eliminates the present requirement that the plaintiff, in bringing suit against the State, file a bond to insure payment of the State's costs, including a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court, in the event the plaintiff fails to recover judgement

The purpose of this bond filing requirement is to discourage the filing of frivolous or unmeritorious law suits against the State or any of its departments or agencies This requirement has been in the statutes for many years Since the recent Supreme Court decision in Muskopf v Corning Hospital District, 55 A C 216, abolishing the so-called doctrine of sovereign immunity in this State, it has become increasingly important for the State, and its departments and agencies, to have some measure of protection against unmeritorious law suits, such as that afforded by the Government Code section which this bill would repeal

Accordingly, I am returning the bill without my signature.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G BROWN, Governor

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL
DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE
LOS ANGELES, April 17, 1961

Hon Ralph Brown
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR SPEAKER BROWN Pursuant to the provisions of House Resolution No 151, I have conducted an investigation of the current gasoline price war in California and am submitting herewith my report and recommendations thereon as requested

Respectfully,

STANLEY MOSK, Attorney General

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION OF THE CURRENT GASOLINE PRICE WAR IN CALIFORNIA

The oil industry is one of the basic, as well as one of the largest, industries of California The total assets of the companies which are engaged in the production, refining and marketing of petroleum products within the State exceed several billions of dollars The marketing practices of the oil industry are complex and involved, and have been the subject of recent antitrust litigation in the federal courts by the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice and the Federal Trade Commission. [1]

The Government complaint in the second Standard Oil case, (civil action No 11584C) supra, was filed in the Federal District Court at Los Angeles on May 12, 1950 following an 18-month investigation of the oil industry in the West Coast area by a special federal grand jury, which grand jury investigation had been preceded by an extensive FBI investigation. Extensive and exhaustive documentary material covering the integrated operations of the oil industry in the West Coast area was secured by the Government as a result of the searching FBI and grand jury investigation which preceded the filing of this case The complaint charged in substance that the seven major oil companies, which were engaged in the producing, refining and marketing of petroleum products in California and the West Coast area, had engaged in a combination and conspiracy to control and monopolize all segments of the industry within that area in alleged violation of Sections 1 and 2 of the Sherman Antitrust Law. It alleged further that the seven companies named as defendants therein accounted for approximately 85 percent of all of the petroleum products produced and marketed within California and the West Coast area. The complaint, among other things, requested the court in its prayer for relief, to divest the defendants named therein of any interest in the retail marketing end of the petroleum products business.

The court ruled on October 31, 1958 that it would not grant the requested divestiture—even if the government established its charges that the defendants were violating the federal antitrust laws This ruling by the court was followed by a consent decree which was entered on June 19, 1959 as to all of the defendants except the Texas Company The case was dismissed by the government without prejudice as to the Texas Company on March 7, 1961.[2]

All three of the F T C proceedings are still pending, although a Cease and Desist order was entered by the F T C in the Sun Oil Company matter on January 19, 1959 (CCH Trade Regulation service P No 27717)

[2] This report does not consider or discuss the divestiture issue since any consideration of such issue would obviously be outside the scope of any legislative recommendation which might be called for by House Resolution No 151

The consent decree, which was entered on July 19, 1959 against six of the seven defendants, among other things, imposed injunctive provisions against the continuation of exclusive dealing practices which had already been held illegal as to the Standard Oil Company of California and the Richfield Oil Company in the Standard and Richfield cases, supra It did not, however, prohibit any of the six consenting defendants from " . granting, increasing, decreasing or withdrawing an allowance or price reduction to a reseller, whether in the form of a rebate, subsidy or otherwise, which is based, calculated or conditioned by such consenting defendant upon the amount or level of a resale price established by such reseller in the exercise of his own decision and choice, "

The apparent reason for the insertion of the foregoing provision in the consent decree was the fact that the Federal Trade Commission had attacked the legality of such pricing and marketing practices in the Purolt, Sun Oil and Texas Company proceedings, supra, which were then and still are pending before the commission

The California antitrust laws, which are involved in the instant investigation, are the Cartwright and Unfair Practices Acts (Business and Professions Code, Sections 16700 et seq and 17000 et seq ) While the antitrust laws of the State have been on the statute books since 1907, no money was appropriated for their enforcement until 1959 When a special appropriation was made for this purpose in 1959, no trained deputies who were familiar with the intricate legal problems involved in antitrust enforcement were available on the staff of the Attorney General It was accordingly necessary to secure the services of an antitrust expert to aid in establishing an enforcing unit within the State Department of Justice and to train deputies in antitrust enforcement work The services of a recognized antitrust expert were acquired for these purposes, pursuant to a special contractual arrangement authorized by the State Personnel Board, and such a unit was established in August, 1959 The attorney whose services were thus acquired had been responsible for the preparation, filing and trial of the beforementioned federal antitrust cases [3]

An investigation of the 1960 price war to determine whether either of the state antitrust laws were being violated failed to develop sufficient evidence to justify the filing of any litigation While several private actions were instituted for alleged violations of the Unfair Practices Act, none of these actions were carried through to a successful termination by the plaintiffs therein [4] While no legal action was brought as a result of the 1960 price war investigation, the marketing practices of some of the California companies were allegedly modified as a result of this investigation The general marketing practices of the oil industry, which were expressly exempted from the injunctive

The Current Gasoline Price War

When the current gasoline price war commenced in January, 1961 members of the Department of Justice antitrust enforcing unit were again assigned to the task of determining whether any of the industry pricing and marketing practices were in possible violation of law or were being utilized to effect a violation of the antitrust laws. As the price war soon spread throughout the State, it became impossible, with the limited staff available in the antitrust enforcement unit, to follow price trends or to investigate marketing practices on a statewide basis Members of the enforcing unit did attend two meetings of the independent retail marketers of gasoline who had registered general complaints with the Department of Justice to the effect that their competitors were selling gasoline at prices which were in possible violation of the Unfair Practices Act [5]

The type of evidence which is necessary for a legal determination of the question as to whether the marketing or pricing practices of suppliers or retailers of gasoline violate the state antitrust laws was explained to the retailers who were present at such meetings

A few of the complaints which were received by the Department of Justice during the current price war dealt with the alleged efforts of suppliers to control the resale price of gasoline sold by them to dealers for resale to consumers Such control was allegedly exercised by conditioning dealer rebates off the tank wagon price, dealer aid and/or subsidies, on the dealer reducing his selling price to the consumer, to a price dictated by the seller Such practices might violate the Cartwright Act [6] The quantum of such complaints was, however, negligible, and were insufficient to establish the pattern of violation required to make a case under the Cartwright Act.

It is obvious, from the foregoing facts, that the pricing and marketing pattern in the current gasoline price war is different from the one in 1960 The difference lies in the source and nature of the present dealer or retail seller complaints The absence of a volume of complaints from major dealers suggests that their suppliers are absorbing some, if not most, of the consumer price reduction in the price war via the rebate, dealer aid or subsidy method, and that the retailer, wholesaler or refiner who does not receive, or whose financial condition does not permit him to grant such rebate, dealer aid or subsidy, is caught in the ensuing price "squeeze" resulting from a sharply dropping retail price and a stable, or noncompetitive wholesale or refinery selling price

A questionnaire was prepared and mailed to 28 of the oil companies which were known, or presumed to be engaged in, the refining and marketing of gasoline at the wholesale level in California. Some of these companies also sold gasoline to the consumer at company-operated outlets and through consignee-dealers who are also station lessees of the supplier company. Some of these companies also sold gasoline to lessee dealers of their suppliers who operated the leased dealer outlets as "independent" businessmen A copy of this questionnaire is attached to and made a part of this report as Exhibit "A"

Answers were received from substantially all of the companies to which the questionnaire was submitted Answers had not been received at the time of this report from four companies whose total operations are not a substantial factor in effecting or determining the marketing and pricing practices of the California oil industry An analysis of the answers received disclosed the following relevant information concerning the marketing and pricing practices of the oil industry in the State of California

1 The total assets of the seven major oil companies[7] doing business in California exceed $13,724,000,000

2 The total assets of the secondary majors exceed $380,000,000 This type of major consists of one integrated oil company which produces, refines and markets its products at all marketing levels Included in such companies are Signal Oil & Gas Company, Wilshire Oil Company of California and the Douglas Oil Company The Signal Oil & Gas Company is the only truly independent oil company that can be included in the category of a secondary major as its assets represent a consolidation of several California independent marketers and refiners into one integrated unit Its assets exceed $300,000,000 The control of Wilshire and Douglas was acquired by non-California majors whose total assets would exceed several billion dollars

3 The total assets of the remaining independent refiners and marketers would not exceed $45,000,000

Three of the seven majors sold no gasoline to other refiners The remaining four firms sold gasoline to other refiners but only two such companies sold in any substantial amounts None of the companies selling posted a public rack price, but stated the price was arrived at by competitive market factors Some of the secondary majors and "independents" sold small amounts to other refiners, but posted no rack price

Four of the seven majors sold gasoline to rebranders for resale purposes All of the secondary majors and "independents," with one unimportant exception, sold to rebranders for resale purposes The selling rack price varied according to octane rating, from 198 per gallon to 254

All of the majors, secondary majors and "independents" sell gasoline under brand names None of the seven majors reported that they owned more than 51 percent of the stock of any company which sold any of their brands One secondary major and one "independent" owned

[7] Texaco, Inc., Tidewater Oil Company, Richfield Oil Corporation, Standard Oil Company of California, Shell Oil Company, Socony Mobil Oil Company, Inc., and Union Oil Company of California

more than 51 percent of the stock of a company selling its brand of gasoline

A total of over 850 retail outlets are operated directly by two of the seven major companies. Three of the seven majors operate approximately 70 such outlets. The remaining two companies operate none. The secondary majors operate approximately 100 retail outlets The "independents" also operate approximately the same number.

All of the majors, secondary majors and "independents" sell a brand of gasoline to distributors or dealers for resale purposes The lowest and highest prices at which regular gasoline was sold in the State, delivered to dealers for resale purposes by the majors, secondary majors and "independents" was .1514 and 345; 129 and 305 and .2015 and .229 respectively.

Over 8,300 outlets are leased by the seven majors to dealers who buy the gasoline sold to consumers at such leased outlets from the lessor-supplier. Over 450 such outlets are leased to such dealers by secondary majors Approximately 200 are leased by "independents" to such dealers

All the majors posted a tank wagon price. None of the secondary majors and only one independent posted a tank wagon price. The posted price of the majors in Los Angeles did not vary in any of the trade areas during the price war The posted tank wagon price in Los Angeles was approximately nine cents higher than the actual lowest delivered price in the Los Angeles area during the price war period.

Two of the majors, two of the secondary majors, and none of the "independents" sell gasoline through dealer-leased outlets on a dealer consignment basis There are approximately 1,500 and 100 such outlets for major and secondary major gasoline The amount of commission per gallon paid the lessee-dealer varied from five to seven cents for majors and from three to five cents for secondary majors This differential may be accounted for by different lessee rental arrangements

None of the companies reporting stated that their posted tank wagon price was the actual price charged to all dealers within the posting area The reason generally given was that the actual dealer price was lower than the posted tank price because of the dealer aid or discounts given from the tank price to enable the dealer to meet competition. Where tank wagon prices were posted, the seller indicated that the tank wagon posted price was determined by market conditions, supply and demand, cost of doing business, etc None of the companies selling brand gasoline fair trade their gasoline under the California Fair Trade Laws

All of the majors and secondary majors keep records on price and market information Such records are used to price the gasoline sold to consumers at company or consignee-operated outlets, and to provide information from which the amount of dealer aid, assistance or discounts off tank wagon price might be determined

Conclusions

The information and data developed from the information secured by the questionnaire, together with such investigation as could be made by the available staff, both before and subsequent to the passage of House Resolution No 151, lends support to the following conclusions

(1) The current price war is statewide, whereas former price wars—particularly the price war of 1960—were confined to particular areas within the State

(2) The tank wagon prices posted by the major sellers and suppliers of gasoline for resale purposes to retail dealers does not reflect or represent the actual selling price of gasoline to dealers

(3) The suppliers and sellers of gasoline to retail dealers have continued to utilize the "discount," "dealer aid," or rebate from the posted tank wagon price as a condition for the grant of a lower supplier price to the dealer, and as a means of controlling the price charged to the consumer [8]

(4) The State of California is one of the largest retail marketing areas for gasoline in the country Since the second Standard Oil case was disposed of by a consent decree, other major oil companies have endeavored to break into the California and West Coast gasoline market by acquiring control of the refining or marketing facilities of so-called nonmajor or "independent" refiners or marketers of gasoline within the State

Where refining facilities could not be acquired, such efforts have found expression in the acquisition of retail outlets which were formerly markets for surplus major and/or "independent refiners' " gasoline As a result of these acquisitions by integrated oil companies not heretofore engaged in the refining or marketing segments of the oil industry in California, the so-called "independent refiner" and marketer of gasoline within the State and the West Coast area has been practically eliminated, and the market for the gasoline produced by the "independent refiners" who still remain in business has been drastically reduced

As of the date of the filing of U S v Standard Oil Company of California, et al in May 1950, it was estimated that the independent refiners and marketers of gasoline in the West Coast area accounted for approximately 15 percent of all the petroleum products refined and sold within the State of California and the West Coast area It is now estimated that less than 5 percent of the gasoline which is refined and marketed in this area is marketed by independent refining and/or marketing companies

(5) Since the development of self-serve stations as an outlet for gasoline to consumers, the gasoline sold to consumers at such outlets has uniformly been a nonmajor or independent brand The price thereof to the consumer has generally been two cents per gallon below the price of major gasoline sold in the same marketing area. Self-serve retail outlets, as well as retail outlets selling nonmajor brand gasoline, are generally supplied by independent refiners and marketers of gasoline, or secure their supply by spot-market purchases of surplus gasoline from major refineries The rack price of surplus gasoline purchased from major refineries and independent refiners and marketers' gasoline is generally competi-

[8] This is the same type of practice which was expressly exempted from the consent decree entered in the second Standard Oil case, and the legality of which is being presently tested by the Federal Trade Commission in the Puroll, Sun Oil and Texas Company proceedings (ante Footnote 1)

tive Some major refiners also sell gasoline through subsidiaries under nonmajor brand names Other major refineries sell gasoline only under major brand names

(6) With the advent of control over the refining and marketing facilities of the so-called independent refiners by other major integrated oil companies from areas outside California within the last two years, sales of the so-called "independent" brands of gasoline increased at the retail level and became an increasing threat to the marketing and dealer outlets of the long-established California major refiners and marketers

Some of the majors which were apparently suffering a loss of markets as a result of this new, competitive development and which did not market any gasoline through spot-market or independent brand outlets, decided to eliminate the traditional two-cent retail price differential between major and independent brands

(7) The efforts of major marketers of gasoline to eliminate the traditional two-cent differential between major and so-called "independent" brands of gasoline in the California market touched off an explosive reaction which soon resulted in the general collapse of the retail pricing structure, with a sharp drop in the retail price of gasoline throughout the State as the marketers of major and independent brands sought to keep their share of the consumer market

(8) The price war immediately resulted in the major suppliers granting additional rebates, dealer aid, or subsidies to their dealers from their posted tank wagon price This practice is allegedly justified by the supplier on the ground he is "meeting or enabling his dealers to meet competition" The rebates, dealer aid or subsidies were frequently granted by the supplier on condition the dealer drop his retail price to the consumer This practice, in effect, is a form of resale price control, the legality of which is questioned The suppliers are thus, in effect, determining the price at which gasoline is sold by the dealer to the consumer

This action soon resulted in major gasoline actually being sold to many major retail dealers at prices which were below the rack or spot-market price at which "independent" refiners and marketers sold their gasoline to independent or nonmajor brand distributors or retailers A price "squeeze" was thus put on the independent refiner and retailer of gasolines which either required the "independent" refiner to sell his gasoline to the distributors or retailers at a loss, or to close down his refining operations until normal marketing pricing practices were restored

(9) The rack price of gasoline sold by some major refiners for resale purposes during the price war under nonmajor brand names was frequently above the actual selling, laid-in price of substantially the same gasoline which was sold by such refiner to its dealer through a retail outlet Where the major brand gasoline was sold by the major refiner through a retail dealer outlet handling the same on a consignment basis, the price at which said gasoline was sold to the consumer was probably below the actual production cost thereof, after allowing for the per gallon commission paid to the major dealer.

(10) The investigation failed to develop sufficient evidence to indicate that the marketing practices before-mentioned actually violated either the Cartwright or Unfair Practices Act of California in their present form It would obviously require a further, extended investigation (longer than the 30-day limitation placed upon this office by the legislative resolution) including an exhaustive examination of pricing and cost records of major and independent refiners and marketers of gasoline, to determine the nature and extent of any illegal below cost selling in the spot-market, the rack, or at the wholesale or retail levels

(11) The current gasoline price war is the result of current, vigorous competition for the consumer market between major integrated companies, which do not sell or control the sale of "independent" brand gasoline, and major-controlled "independents" which have recently entered the California market by acquiring control of the refining and marketing facilities of companies which were theretofore marketing independent brands of gasoline in the California market The consumer is obviously benefiting from the results of this vigorous price competition, and will continue to do so as long as the price war between the titans of the oil industry continues

The owners and operators of the few remaining companies which are truly independent refiners and marketers of gasoline in California, as well as the retail outlets which depend upon them as a source of supply, are currently caught in a competitive price "squeeze" between the rack and actual dealer prices of the majors Their ability to long continue to sell the gasoline they refine to either wholesalers or dealers at below rack or actual dealer cost, in order to retain their rapidly shrinking consumer market, can only be measured by the extent to which they are willing to continue to dissipate their assets by further below cost selling

The remaining truly independent refiners and marketers are no longer a competitive factor in the California gasoline market, since they probably do not account for more than 5 percent of the total amount of gasoline refined in the State Their production and sales are accordingly "de minimis" as a factor in determining a competitive rack or realistic tank wagon price, when compared with the remaining 95 percent of the market which is controlled, directly or indirectly, by the major integrated companies

(12) The investigation indicates that the price war between the titans of the gasoline industry in California to eliminate the traditional two-cent price differential between "independent" and major brands of gasoline, or to reduce it to a one-cent differential, may well ultimately result in the elimination of the few remaining, truly "independent" refiners and marketers of gasoline in California. Such companies cannot long continue to refine and market gasoline under present competitive conditions They may soon be forced out of the market entirely, or be forced to sell their facilities to other major companies who desire to acquire their refining and/or marketing facilities in order to enter the California market. Such a result might well bring about the ultimate elimination of any truly-independent brands of gasoline in the California market, and the elimination of any industry "recognized" price differential between "major" and "independent" brands of gasoline at the consumer level Suffice to say that such a result has not as yet been achieved

(13) It is extremely doubtful whether any litigation, which might be brought by the State against any major refiner or marketer of gasoline in California, could be successfully prosecuted if brought under the Cartwright or Unfair Practices Acts in their present form This for the reason that the present price war stems from the desire of major companies which do not market "independent" brand gasoline in California to diminish, if not eliminate, the traditionally industry-recognized price differential between "major" and "independent" brand gasoline at the consumer level Such desire per se does not add up to the type or quantum of evidence that is necessary to establish an intent to eliminate or injure the competition of the truly independent refiner and marketer of gasoline Any injury or damage to such a refiner or marketer, and they are being damaged or injured as before stated, is incidental to the main purpose of the majors which allegedly started the price war and which had previously recognized the traditional price differential between "major" and "independent" gasoline

Litigation by the State, assuming the availability of staff, etc, under the Unfair Practices Act, would probably fail for the foregoing reason It is further doubtful, in view of the fact that rebate-off-tank-wagon-pricing-practices were left untouched by the consent decree in the second Standard Oil case (ante Pg 3) and the legality of such practices has not as yet been determined in any of the three pending F T C proceedings, that such practices could be effectively enjoined by any action which might be brought by the State against any refiner and marketer for any alleged violation of the Cartwright Act in its present form Any litigation which might be brought would have to be based on a price-fixing conspiracy theory between a supplier and its subsidized dealers Certainly, such litigation would be ineffective, even if successfully prosecuted, until and unless such litigation could be successfully brought against all refiners and marketers of gasoline within the State who were resorting to the same pricing and selling practices complained of In either case, any such litigation obviously would be vigorously contested and would require extensive additions to the staff of the present antitrust enforcing unit

Recommendations

One of the means and methods whereby the refiners and marketers of gasoline are able to effectuate a control over the retail price of gasoline which is sold to the dealer for resale to the consumer is the "rebate," "dealer aid," or "subsidy," which represents the difference between the public posted dealer price of the seller and the actual price charged the dealer by the seller. Where this rebate, dealer aid or subsidy is conditioned on the dealer dropping his selling price to the consumer to a price specified by the supplier, such a marketing practice constitutes a form of illegal resale price control or price-fixing.

The refiner-marketer may also achieve the same result by appointing the dealer as its agent to sell its brand of gasoline on a consignment basis While the latter method frequently assures the consignee-dealer a guaranteed margin, the ability of the refiner-marketer to control and stabilize the retail price of its gasoline and to change or adjust the guaranteed commission in accordance with its pleasure and competitive market conditions, frequently work a hardship on the consignee-dealer when the supplier forces the captive dealer to accept a lower margin or commission when competitive market conditions force a reduction of the retail selling price

Since the tank wagon or invoice price of gasoline sold to dealers frequently does not represent the actual selling price, and the practice of granting rebates, dealer aids and subsidies enables the seller to control the resale price of its brand gasoline, it is recommended

(1) That legislation be enacted which will require the seller of any product sold for resale purposes to specifically state upon the invoice, bill, or delivery ticket therefor, the actual and true selling price of such product, and that the failure of the seller to so state the true and actual selling price on such invoice, bill, or delivery ticket shall constitute a misdemeanor and a complete defense to an action by the seller for the purchase price

Such a requirement would enable a reseller of a product to readily determine the actual cost thereof, and a reasonable and profitable markup for resale purposes Such a requirement would also facilitate the enforcement of the Unfair Practices Act

(2) That legislation be enacted which will prohibit a refiner or marketer of gasoline, who is also the owner or lessor of a retail service station at which gasoline may be sold to the consumer, from consigning gasoline to the lessee-operator of such retail service station for sale to the consumer at such station at prices specified or determined by the lessor-supplier

Such legislation would make for a more competitive retail gasoline market, under normal marketing conditions, by enabling the lessee-dealer, who operates a lessor-supplier controlled retail outlet, to independently determine the selling price and margin of profit on all gasoline sold to the public at each such outlet

Certain specific and definite recommendations have already been submitted to you as a result of the creation of an antitrust enforcing unit in the office of the Attorney General in 1959, in the interest of bringing the Cartwright and Unfair Practices Acts up to date and more in line with the federal antitrust laws Action on some of these recommendations has already been taken by the Assembly, and awaits action by the Senate These recommendations, however, relate primarily to the enactment of broadening and clarifying provisions of the Cartwright Act, and deal with suggested procedural changes in the enforcement provisions of the law Such recommendations should, however, be adopted if an effective antitrust enforcement program is to be carried forward within the State

Mr. O'Connell was granted unanimous consent that the following "Open Letter to the Press" be ordered printed in the Journal:

OPEN LETTER TO THE PRESS
(Copy)

SAN LUIS OBISPO, CALIF.

EDITOR:

Our legislature is being asked to make changes in State criminal procedures that are reasonable and realistic John A O'Connell, chairman of the Assembly Criminal Committee, has stated in a press release, that it seemed to him we should make the punishment more fitting to the crime Governor Edmund G Brown has stated that the death penalty is uncivilized, immoral and a gross failure

It certainly must be quite obvious to all that our present system is falling short of its intended purpose We cannot feel safe in our home or secure in our possessions. We are asked to contribute staggering amounts of tax dollars and energies to no avail Our custody institutions are bursting at the seams and our parole officers are so overloaded, they have trouble meeting all of their obligations

Yet, we continue with the same obsolete and archaic policies of the dark ages, seeing demons and evil spirits as the causes for all anti-social behavior. Why do we let such superstitions and fables be our guide in the treatment of our anti-social?

No amount of doctoring by our legislature can possibly correct such a sick policy To deal with this terrible blight in our midst, we will have to face up to intelligent and realistic thinking. We pride ourselves on our social and technical advances, yet, we seem willing to bury our heads in the sands of such ignorance, not having the courage or wisdom to challenge this ugly attitude that has us enslaved. We cannot solve this social problem or understand its cause with our present view or attitudes.

I can state categorically that no person is anti-social by deliberate choice, regardless of the popular accepted views and attitudes It's certainly long over due that we question such an unscientific approach We give lip service to the idea of mental health, while our attitudes and actions deny all we say and do

Why people behave anti-socially is the big question—and not justice and how much punishment to fit their behavior To really prevent crime, we have to correct the causes and not seek appropriate ways and means to punish it

No anti-social person needs punishment to know what they have done is incorrect These people, as a whole, are very unhappy They are in trouble emotionally and do not know why These people are in trouble because their communication system is out of order. Do they choose to put their system out of order in order to feel incorrectly, not at all Their brain is malfunctioning It is not properly interpreting, it is giving them incorrect answers, misguiding them The product of this kind of mental malfunctioning is improper feelings No person can choose by deliberation how they are going to feel Feeling is a product of our mental processes To say that a person behaves anti-socially by deliberate choice is grossly cruel and inhuman It displays total ignorance of the true causes of anti-social behavior.

If human society wishes to really and honestly do some constructive work toward relieving our society, we are going to have to lay aside all of this nonsence we have learned since childhood, and do some honest research, with an open mind, applying our energies toward understanding the factual reason for this sick behavior.

These people want desperately to be social, but their brain, being sick in the emotional area, cripples them and deprives them of this capacity. It is this that so frustrates, defeats and causes their social rejection It is this that deprives them of the normal, healthy, emotional responses

This is the true cause of anti-social behavior This continual defeat makes them so hostile that they strike out at what seems to them to be the ones that reject their attempts to be social These people are totally unable to see their emotional error Therefore, they justify their feelings and actions.

We, of society, demand that these people function mentally as we do. How can they? We demand that they think as we do, saying "See me, I don't have to do these things, therefore, you do not either".

But, dear friends, you would not say to a person who was physically crippled, "See me, how healthy I am, you can be too" But, this is exactly what we do to these emotionally sick people.

This in no way condones misbehavior or excuses it It only recognizes its cause so that we can treat it appropriately This type of emotional illness can be corrected if we go about it in the right way. It's like any other physical illness, we have to treat the causes properly to correct their emotional responses

These people do not need or want our sympathy, they need and want our understanding to help them find social fulfillment It is not a case of making them do anything, but rather to help them find a socially acceptable way of feeling that will satisfy them and society.

We cannot hope to understand these causes or to give them proper treatment until we ourselves have a healthy view and attitude. It is not a case of the good people against the bad people It's rather the healthy people against the sick people This new view and attitude attacks the causes without attacking the person This reduces the great feelings of hostility that we find so active in the anti-socials that make them so difficult to work with

We can be understanding and recognize their hostile behavior when we are aware of the causes and reasons for their action and attitudes. First of all, these people feel hostile before they become anti-social To punish their behavior only, leaves this feeling active. To protect our society and to restore these people to emotional health we have to help them find the reason and cause of this feeling. When we do this, we no longer have a hostile person Therefore, they have no need to be anti-social

But, before we can do this, we ourselves are going to have to take a good look at our own mental health toward this problem Let us stop throwing our money down a rat hole and so much lip service on mental health and do some down to earth work that is constructive and not destructive

We of society raise such a howl when one of these sick people hurt us Yet, we are unwilling to do anything but ridicule them until they hurt us, then we howl justice be done We ourselves are a party to every one of these unfortunate incidents as long as we view this problem with such ignorance, which deprives these people of a chance to be emotionally healthy and social

Let society raise up and demand that we put a stop to this nonsense We of society are entitled to a better way of handling this situation. Let society join hands in honest research to rid ourselves of this "bogie man"

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: Thank you very much for calling my attention to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 59 that you sent us on April 11, 1961

It has been my policy since I became Director of the Youth Authority in 1952 that before I either oppose or support a bill in the Legislature I discuss the bill with the author. In my opinion this is the only courteous thing to do in handling our legislation

If at any time it comes to your attention that any representatives of my department do anything that in any way tends to vary from this policy, I should like to be informed.

Sincerely,

HEMAN G STARK, Director

ASSEMBLY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION No 59

DEAR ARTHUR Thank you for your letter of April 11 with which you enclosed a copy of a resolution adopted on April 6, 1961 relating to co-operation between the legislative and executive branches of state government on legislation

In conformity with similar legislative action taken at prior sessions it has been the practice of all representatives of this board to discuss the reasons for our opposition to any bill with its author prior to the time set for its hearing in committee You may be sure that we shall continue to do so in conformity with Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 59 adopted this month

As pointed out in the resolution, this practice has proven beneficial to all concerned and we are indeed happy to co-operate with the Legislature along such lines

Sincerely yours,

DIXWELL L PIERCE, Secretary

cc Mr Ronald B Welch
Mr Harry L Say

Bill read second time

Amendment No. 1

In line 4 of the title of the printed bill, as amended in the Assembly on April 19, 1961 after "recreation", insert ", and making an appropriation therefor"

Amendment No. 2

On page 1, strike out line 10, and insert "for the general public health and welfare that facilities for the storage, conservation or regulation of water be constructed in a manner consistent with the full utilization of their potential for the enhancement of fish and wildlife and to meet recreational needs, and further finds and declares that the providing for the enhancement of fish and wildlife and for recreation in connection with water storage, conservation, or regulation facilities benefits all of the people of California and that the project construction costs attributable to such enhancement of fish and wildlife and recreation features should be borne by them

The Legislature further finds and declares it to be the policy of this State that recreation and the enhancement of fish and wildlife resources are among the purposes of state water projects, that the acquisition of real property for such purposes be planned and initiated concurrently with and as a part of the land acquisition program for other purposes of state water projects, and that facilities for such purposes be ready and available for public use when each state water project having a potential for such uses is completed

11901 It is the purpose of this chapter to provide for the planning and construction of water storage, conservation, and regulation facilities and associated fish and wildlife and recreation features consistent with this declaration and to provide funds therefor on a continuing basis

In enacting this chapter, however, it is not the intent of the Legislature to diminish any existing powers of the Department of Water Resources, the Department of Natural Resources, or the Department of Fish and Game, but rather to provide specifically for the enhancement of fish and wildlife resources and for a system of public recreation facilities at state water projects as part of a co-ordinated plan for multipurpose use of these projects

11906. In any project constructed by the State in co-operation with the United States, the funds made available under this chapter shall be limited to that portion of the construction costs attributable to the enhancement of fish and wildlife and to recreation that the State is obligated to furnish

Article 4. Planning and Construction of Projects

11910. There shall be incorporated in the planning and construction of each project such features (including, but not limited to, additional storage capacity) as the department, after consultation with the Department of Fish and Game, the Division of Small Craft Harbors and the Division of Beaches and Parks of the Department of Natural Resources, and any local governmental agency with jurisdiction over the area involved, determines necessary or desirable to permit, on a year-around basis, full utilization of the project for the enhancement of fish and wildlife and for recreational purposes to the extent that such features are consistent with other uses of the project, if any

11910.5. Such recreational purposes include, but are not limited to, those recreational pursuits generally associated with the out-of-doors such as camping, picnicking, fishing, hunting, water contact sports, boating and sightseeing and the associated facilities of campgrounds, picnic areas, water and sanitary facilities, parking areas, viewpoints, boat launching ramps and any others necessary to make project land and water areas available for use by the public

11911 The planning for public recreation use and fish and wildlife enhancement of state water projects shall be a part of the general project formulation activities of the department through the advance planning stage including, but not limited to, the development of data on benefits and costs, recreation land use planning, and the acquisition of land In planning and constructing any project, the department shall, to the extent possible, acquire all lands and locate and construct, or cause to be constructed, the project and all works and features incidental to its construction in such a manner as to permit the use thereof for the enhancement of fish and wildlife and for recreational purposes upon completion of the project

11912 Funds expended under this chapter shall be used to provide for the enhancement of fish and wildlife and for recreation and shall not be used for preservation of fish and wildlife.

Article 5 Financing

11913 All moneys made available to the department for purposes of this chapter shall be expended pursuant to this chapter to meet the requirements of Sections 11910, 11911, and 11912. The department shall not make any such expenditure with respect to any project unless and until the expenditure, and the plans for enhancement of fish and wildlife, and recreation, for the project have been approved by the California Water Commission

11914 The department shall alter the rates to be charged for water or power from any project on which funds under this chapter are to be expended to reflect any change in the allocation of costs which would result from the expenditure of funds under this chapter

SEC 2 The sum of eight hundred fifty thousand dollars ($850,000) is appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury to the Department of Water Resources for expenditure during the 1961-62 fiscal year pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 11900) of Part 3 of Division 6 of the Water Code

Members of the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: The State Personnel Board in its December 1, 1960, Report to the Governor and Legislature on the status of State salaries, indicated that "if the current trend continues, the March 1961 surveys may show salaries and wages in private industry about 2 percent higher, on the average, than salaries for corresponding positions in state service" Recommendations for salary increase funds for the 1961-62 fiscal year were submitted in the amount of $8,700,000 from the General Fund and $7,400,000 from special funds or a total of $16,100,000 A portion of this fund provided for a July 1, 1961, salary increase for Psychiatric Technicians and related classes with the balance to be used for other state classes. We note that funds for salary increases for the Psychiatric Technician classes are included in the budget of the Department of Mental Hygiene but no other salary increase funds are provided in the 1961-62 budget

Our March 1961 salary surveys have been completed. The application of this pay data, together with salary data from other governmental jurisdictions, substantiates the need for the recommended salary increase fund A significant fact disclosed by the surveys is that an increased number of occupational groups are now below prevailing industry rates by as much as 5 percent Other groups that are now less than 5 percent below prevailing industry rates may be expected to be 5 percent below by January 1, 1962 Many state salaries are below those of other governmental jurisdictions—federal, county, city, and school districts—currently in effect or to become effective on July 1, 1961.

In view of these salary comparisons and trends, it now appears that a 5 percent increase will be warranted for almost all state classes by January 1, 1962. The estimated cost of such an adjustment for practically all employees, including another 5 percent increase for Psychiatric Technicians, during the subsequent six-month period of the 1961-62 fiscal year would be about $8,000,000 from the General Fund and about $7,000,000 from the special funds for a total of about $15,000,000. The annual cost during the 1962-63 fiscal year of such an adjustment would be about $30,000,000. These salary increase estimates are for civil service employees and for nonacademic employees of the state colleges, and include the cost of retirement contributions Estimates of salary increase needs for the employees of University of California, academic and administrative employees of the State colleges, and other exempt employees are not included in these figures.

If salary adjustments are not provided for state employees during the 1961-62 fiscal year and the current salary trend continues, it may be expected that by July 1, 1962, state employees' salaries will lag behind salaries in industry and other government by at least 7 percent.

We recommend, on the basis of the current salary data, that salary increase funds for the proposed 5 percent salary increase for Psychiatric Technicians as of July 1, 1961, be approved, and that, in addition, funds be appropriated for a general salary increase for practically all classes as of January 1, 1962, provided the trends continue as anticipated.

Respectfully submitted,

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

STATE OF CALIFORNIA
OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
SACRAMENTO, April 4, 1961

Hon Stanford C. Shaw
Senate Chamber

California-Arizona Boundary—No. 13151

DEAR SENATOR SHAW You have asked several questions with respect to the boundary between the State of California and the State of Arizona, which we shall set forth and answer separately below.

Question No. 1

You have informed us that a certain portion of the boundary between California and Arizona, which is described in Section 1 of Article XXI of the California Constitution as running along the middle of the channel of the Colorado River, is the subject of dispute due to an avulsive change in the Colorado River caused by floods in the winter of 1920-21, which caused the main channel of the Colorado River to shift to a location some distance easterly of its 1920 location. You have informed us that the river remains in that position today

Under such set of facts, should the boundary between California and Arizona follow the middle of the channel of the old and presently dry channel of the Colorado River as it was in 1920, or should it follow the middle of the present channel of the Colorado River?

Opinion No. 1

Under such set of facts the boundary should remain along the middle of the old channel of the Colorado River.

Analysis No. 1

The rule to be applied with respect to changes in the channel of a river constituting the boundary between two states is set forth in 49 Am Jur. 242 and 243, as follows

> "The effect upon boundaries of a state, where such boundaries are fixed by the middle of the main channel of a river by changes in that channel through processes of accretion and avulsion is dependent upon the gradualness or suddenness of the change; when the course of the river and its channel changes gradually, the boundary follows the channel but if the river suddenly changes its course or deserts its natural channel, the boundary remains where it was before, that is, in the middle of the altered or deserted river bed. The boundary of a state along a river is not changed by a sudden change of the channel so as to cut an island off from the mainland In fixing the boundary along a main navigable channel which has been left dry by avulsion all that is required is such certainty as is reasonable as a practical matter, having regard to the circumstances"

Under the facts you have given us, it would appear that the change in the channel of the Colorado River was a sudden change caused by floods during the winter of 1920-21 Therefore, under the rule quoted above, it would appear that the boundary between California and Arizona in the area involved should follow the middle of the old channel of the Colorado River.

Question No 2

You point out that Colorado River Boundary Commissions have been created by the States of California and Arizona (see Chapter 1693 of the Statutes of 1953 for the creation of the California commission) and that said commissions propose to present to the legislatures of the respective states a proposed compact establishing a compromise boundary line between the two states

If such compact is approved by an appropriate act of the California Legislature, and is also approved by the Arizona Legislature and thereafter by an act of Congress, will the compact thereafter be a valid existing interstate compact?

Yes.

A compact between two states establishing the line between them adopted by their commissioners and to which Congress assents, is binding upon both states and their citizens (49 Am Jur 239).

Section 2 of Article XXI of the California Constitution expressly authorizes the legislature in co-operation with the properly constituted authority of any adjoining state, to change, alter, and redefine the state boundaries, with such change alteration and redefinition to become effective upon approval of the Congress of the United States.

Question No 3

You state that a provision reading substantially as follows is proposed to be included in the boundary compact:

> "Nothing contained in the provisions of this act or any operation thereof shall prejudice the titles, rights or claims of any person, public or private, natural or artificial, to any of the lands herein involved, whether such titles, rights or claims arise or exist upon the basis that the lands affected by the designation of boundary as set forth in the compact and in this act were previously part of the State of Arizona and have now become a part of the State of California, or were previously a part of the State of California and have now become a part of the State of Arizona, or otherwise "

Would the inclusion of such a provision in the compact be adequate to protect land ownership as affected by the boundary change made by the compact?

Opinion and Analysis No 3

In our opinion such a provision contains adequate safeguards to protect land ownerships notwithstanding any change of boundaries made by the compact.

Very truly yours,

RALPH N. KLEPS, Legislative Counsel
By RAY H WHITAKER, Deputy

Letter to Members of Assembly

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
April 21, 1961

Letter to Mr. George W. Johns

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE
April 21, 1961

Mr George W. Johns, Secretary-Treasurer
San Francisco Labor Council
2940—16th Street
San Francisco 3, California

DEAR MR. JOHNS: I am in receipt of the San Francisco Labor Council official bulletin of April 19 in which considerable space was devoted to criticizing Members of the Legislature because of their resentment of some picketing which took place at the homes of two of our members in connection with A.B. 17.

I am the author of A B. 17, and I was extremely interested in making every effort possible to have this legislation enacted into law this year.

The Members of the Legislature are not opposed to free speech, criticism of our efforts or the public petition of any group of people We do resent, however, the type of pressure which was demonstrated by the foolish picketing of the homes of two Members at which time the families of these two Members were subjected to embarrassment and fear.

Organized labor has always had a great opportunity, as long as I have been a Member of the Legislature, to present all of their problems in a proper and dignified manner, and they have never been denied the right to present their case before any Member of the Legislature or before any of our Committees, to the best of my knowledge. This bill might have been passed from the Assembly Ways and Means Committee on the Monday following the unfortunate action of the union people who decided they should harass two Members of the Ways and Means Committee After this action was taken, however, it merely created an unfortunate situation whereby we not only gave those Republican Members of the Committee who were originally opposed to it justification for their opposition to the bill, but also lost the support of several very prolabor Members of the Committee.

Picketing the homes of Members of the Legislature is not my interpretation of free speech or the right of petition, but is a disgraceful act which has no place in American government If this bill fails to progress in the Legislature this year, it is not the fault of Democratic Members of the Legislature or of any other person other than the members of the union who decided they would act in this childish manner I am sorry that this action was taken It has delayed serious consideration of a very important problem that has affected the hospital employees of our State for a long time and is something that will not soon be forgotten by the State Legislature of California Organized labor will not enhance its position with the Legislature by adopting the type of resolution which was done by your Labor Council as reported in the Bulletin of April 19 Those of us who have worked with labor would like to continue working with labor in every way possible, but we will not allow ourselves to be subjected to the type of ridicule that was committed upon two Members of our Body on April 9

Very truly yours,

CHARLES H WILSON

The following resolutions were offered

By Messrs. Z'berg, Meyers, Knox, Waldie, Bagley, Bane, Belotti, Britschgi, George E Brown, Burke, Burton, Cameron, Carrell, Casey, Crown, Cusanovich, Mrs Davis, Messrs. DeLotto, Elliott, Frew, Gaffney, Garrigus, Hanna, Hegland, House, Kennick, Leggett, Lunardi, McMillan, Mills, Mulford, Munnell, O'Connell, Porter, Rumford, Schrade,

Sedgwick, Sumner, Thomas, Williamson, George A Willson, and Winton

House Resolution No. 240

Relative to political activities of public employees

WHEREAS, Federal law now prohibits employees of the United States and employees of state and local government agencies engaged in activities supported in whole or in part from federal funds from engaging in partisan political activities, and

WHEREAS, This restriction serves to relegate such employees to a status of second-class citizenship; and

WHEREAS, The basis of the restriction is to preclude the exertion of political influence by both officers and employees on each other to the detriment of their service to the federal government, and

WHEREAS, This purpose would be served to its fullest extent by limiting such officers and employees in their political activities for or against federal officeholders and candidates for federal offices, and

WHEREAS, This would enable the officers and employees to engage in state election campaigns, would permit them to exercise basic political rights, and would in no way conflict with their duties and functions in behalf of the federal government, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly hereby memorializes the Congress of the United States to enact legislation amending federal law to permit federal employees, and state and local employees engaged in activities financed in whole or in part with federal funds, to engage in political activities in connection with state elections, and to modify the present restriction so that it applies only in the case of campaigns relating to federal officeholders and candidates for federal offices, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit suitably prepared copies of this resolution to the President of the United States, the President pro Tempore of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the House of Representatives, and to each Senator and Representative in this State's delegation to the Congress of the United States.

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

By Mr. Belotti:

House Resolution No. 241

Relative to an interim study of the sport fishing problems of the north coastal area

WHEREAS, The increasing pressures of population in the State have resulted in many more sport fishermen in the counties of the north coast area of the State, and particularly in Del Norte County, and

WHEREAS, The result has been that sport fishermen visiting the north coast fishing areas have been confronted with more fishermen and fewer fish, and

WHEREAS, The problem is particularly acute with respect to the supply of silver salmon on such rivers as the Smith River, and

WHEREAS, Suggestions have been made by Chambers of Commerce and by other groups that a study of this problem be undertaken with a view to ameliorating the conditions existing before the supply of fish for sport fishing in the north coastal area becomes totally inadequate, and

WHEREAS, The participation on a local level might well be of great aid in solution of these problems particularly in view of the great success of the hatchery operation by the county in Humboldt County especially if state fish and game funds were made available on a co-operative basis, and

WHEREAS, A general survey of all of the coast streams to determine their potential in meeting the need for increased fishing areas would give a firm foundation for future planning, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is directed to assign to the appropriate interim committee the conduct of a study of the problem referred to in this resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That such interim committee shall report thereon to the Assembly not later than the fifth calendar day of the 1963 Regular Session, including in the report its recommendations for appropriate legislation

Resolution read, and referred to the Committee on Rules

By Mr. McMillan:

munity, Culver City, California, and our State, through the publication of his newspaper, The Citizen, and through his numerous other civic, community activities, and

WHEREAS, Roy E Donovan was born in San Francisco, California, and as a young boy, came to Los Angeles where his father, Eugene Donovan, founded The Citizen, a weekly newspaper, devoted exclusively to local news and matters of community significance, and

WHEREAS, Roy E Donovan has through the years, first as a member of the staff and then as publisher of The Citizen, and as a member of numerous civic groups, dedicated his life to furthering the democratic principles upon which our Nation was founded and making Culver City a more perfect example of a thriving American community, and

WHEREAS, The Citizen, under his guidance and direction has reached a position of pre-eminence among the weekly newspapers of our State and received many awards for the excellence of its makeup and news coverage, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the members commend Roy E Donovan for his years of service to his community, State and Nation and wish him continued success in his many endeavors, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to transmit a suitably prepared copy of this resolution to Roy E Donovan
