REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Dymally was granted unanimous consent that the following Opinion of Legislative Counsel be printed in the Journal

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

Office of Legislative Counsel, Sacramento, June 16, 1965

Honorable Mervyn M Dymally
Assembly Chamber

Anti-Poverty Program—No 25654

Dear Mr Dymally:

QUESTION

Would the terms ''private agency,'' ''any agency,'' or ''entity'' as used in A B 1169 (1965), as amended June 12, apply to private trade, technical, or business schools or colleges?

OPINION

It is our opinion that the term ''private agency'' as used in A B 1169, as amended June 12, would include private trade, technical, or business schools or colleges, and that the terms ''any agency,'' or ''entity'' could be construed to include private trade, technical, or business schools or colleges

A B 1169, as amended June 12, would add Section 11016 to the Government Code as follows

> ''11016 Any state agency may, within the powers otherwise conferred by law upon the state agency, in order that this state may participate in the federal antipoverty program embodied in the 'Economic Opportunity Act of 1964' (Public Law 88-452, 78 Stat 508), contract with any public agency or private agency or with any agency or entity provided by an agreement executed pursuant to Article 1 (commencing with Section 6500) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of Title 1 of this code ''

The term ''private agency'' is not defined in Article 1 (commencing with Section 11000), Chapter 1, Part 1 of Division 3 of the Government Code to which Section 11016 would be added, nor is the term defined elsewhere in the Government Code However, since Section 11016 provides that ''Any state agency may . contract with any public agency or private agency . ,'' a reasonable interpretation of ''private agency'' would seem to include a nonpublic organization such as a private trade, technical or business school or college

The terms ''any agency'' or ''entity'' as used in Section 11016 could also be construed to include a private trade, technical, or business school or college Article 1 (commencing with Section 6500) of Chapter 5 of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code provides for joint powers agreements between public agencies which possess common powers Section 6506 allows agreements entered into by such public agencies to be administered or executed by a person, firm or corporation designated by the agencies The terms "person, firm, or corporation" could, we think, include a private trade, technical, or business school or college.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Unruh was granted unanimous consent that following opinion of Legislative Counsel be printed in the Journal

Opinion of Legislative Counsel

Office of Legislative Counsel
Sacramento, June 16, 1965

Honorable J Eugene McAteer
Assembly Chamber

Compensatory Education: Senate Bill No 483 (as amended June 15, 1965) of 1965 Regular Session—No 26151

Dear Senator McAteer

QUESTION

With reference to the above bill you ask whether Section 6466 * therein contained would control over all other provisions of the bill which specifically assign duties to the Director of Compensatory Education

* References to sections contained in Senate Bill No 482 are to sections of the Education Code which are amended or amended and renumbered by the bill, or which are added to the code by the bill

OPINION

In our opinion Section 6466, when considered in relation to provisions of the present law defining the organizational structure of the Department of Education, would be controlling in respect to the position of the office of Director of Compensatory Education within the Department of Education. All duties and responsibilities to be performed by the director under the terms of the bill would be under the administrative jurisdiction and control of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, except his duty to serve as executive secretary and to report to the State Board of Education on recommendations and other matters for the Advisory Compensatory Education Commission which would be created by the bill

Senate Bill No 482 would recodify and revise the McAteer Act (Ed C, Secs 6450 et seq) dealing with programs of compensatory education for disadvantaged minors The bill would provide for the establishment of the office of Director of Compensatory Education, in Section 6466, in the following terms:

"6466 There is in the Department of Education the office of Director of Compensatory Education The Director of Compensatory Education shall be appointed by the State Board of Education, upon nomination by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and he shall be subject to state civil service The authority and position of the director within the Department of Education shall be equivalent to Associate Superintendent of Public Instruction, and in that capacity he shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction In performing his duties and responsibilities under this chapter the director shall act as the representative of the Department of Education The Director of Compensatory Education shall be provided with such facilities and staffing necessary to provide him with such technical and clerical assistance as is required in order for him to carry out his duties under the provisions of this chapter "

These provisions specify that the Director of Compensatory Education shall have a position equivalent to Associate Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and in performing his duties and responsibilities shall act as the representative of the Department of Education

These provisions, which are to be added to the Education Code by the bill, will have to be considered together with existing provisions of the code which state that · the Department of Education is to be administered through the State Board of Education which shall be the governing and policy determining body of the department and through the Director of Education in whom all executive and administrative functions of the department are vested and who is the executive officer of the State Board of Education (Ed C, Sec 352), the Department of Education shall be conducted under the control of an executive officer known as the Director of Education who is the Superintendent of Public Instruction (Ed C, Secs 353, 354), the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall execute, under direction of the State Board of Education, the policies which have been decided upon by the board and shall direct, under general rules and regulations adopted by the State Board of Education, the work of all appointees and employees of the board (Ed C, Sec 252), and the State Board of Education shall determine questions of policy within its powers and adopt rules and regulations for its government and its appointees and employees (Ed C, Secs 151, 152)

We believe that when the language of Section 6466 is considered in the light of these present provisions of the Education Code, no departure from existing organizational structure or arrangement would be effected by its provisions alone with respect to the Director of Compensatory Education He would, under Section 6466, serve within the Department of Education under the executive and administrative direction of the Director of Education

However, we know of no constitutional limitations on the power of the Legislature to change, or to make exceptions to, the established organizational structure and lines of authority and responsibility within the Department of Education, and it remains to be determined whether other provisions of Senate Bill No 482 would make changes or departures in particular instances with respect to the Director of Compensatory Education

In Section 6467 the following complex language is used in delegating powers to the Director of Compensatory Education.

"6467 The Director of Compensatory Education shall, under the direction of the State Board of Education, have overall supervision and control of programs of compensatory education provided throughout the state, and shall take action necessary to coordinate all such programs "

Considered alone, the latter language could be construed as vesting in the Director of Compensatory Education powers to be exercised under the direct supervision of the State Board of Education for purposes of the entire new chapter to be added to the code by Senate Bill No 482 If so construed the language would be inconsistent with the organization structure established by the existing provisions of the Education Code noted above, and with the provisions of Section 6466 requiring that the director act as a representative of the Department of Education, serve within the department, and report to the Superintendent of Public Instruction

In our opinion, while the language of the bill could be considerably more clear in this regard, the more general language of Section 6467 quoted above is properly to be interpreted as being qualified by the more particular provisions of Section 6466, which specifically define the position of the Director of Compensatory Education in the department, as well as by the provisions of the code dealing with the organizational structure of the department which will have a bearing on the question if the bill is enacted

That such is the proper interpretation to be made of the language is further indicated by the additional factor that nowhere in the bill is any provision made which purports specifically to give the State Board of Education, to the exclusion of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, direct supervision and control of local programs of compensatory education The board is required, in the customary language of direction to this policy making body, to adopt rules and regulations necessary to implement the provisions of the chapter (Sec 6472). The establishment of an Advisory Compensatory Education Commission is provided for, which is to formulate and present to the board policy recommendations and assist in the effective implementation of the chapter (Sec 6470) The board is given ultimate authority to provide for the establishment of particular forms of programs of compensatory education (Sec 6455), and to assign priorities to program elements (Sec 6458), and these responsibilities appear to be in the nature of policy-making functions, and the provisions vesting these responsibilities in the board form no basis for its assumption of direct administrative control and direction of local programs

On this basis we are of the opinion that the language of Section 6467 quoted above, insofar as it would grant to the Director of Compensatory Education powers of overall supervision and control under the direction of the State Board of Education, would have to be construed as referring only to the customary policy making powers of the board, and not as either making the Director of Compensatory Education independent of the controlling direction and authority of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, or as vesting in the State Board of Education powers of direct supervision and control over local programs of compensatory education

We are further of the opinion that the same holds true with respect to some additional, rather complex language in Section 6467 which specifies that "The State Board of Education, on recommendation of the director [meaning Director of Compensatory Education] shall determine the eligibility of applicant school districts for grants under this chapter," and like language in Section 6473 concerning approval of programs That is, because of the provisions of Section 6466 and the other provisions of law dealing with the organizational structure of the Department of Education, the power granted the director to make eligibility recommendations and program approvals would have to be construed as one to be carried on by the director under the administrative jurisdiction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction

On the basis of our analysis of the effect of Section 6466 particularly defining the position of the Director of Compensatory Education, and the other pertinent provisions of the present law bearing on that question, we conclude, additionally, that any provisions of the bill which would simply give powers and responsibilities to the director without qualification would not change or effect departures from the existing organizational structure or lines of authority and responsibility within the department Thus, Section 6459 in the bill, which gives the director power to approve school district compensatory education programs, would be subject to the provisions of Section 6466 and the other organizational provisions of the Education Code, and would be executed by him under the executive direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction (Director of Education) and as a representative of the Department of Education The same is true of the provisions of Section 6461 which would require him to direct the reporting of school district governing boards on programs maintained, the provisions of Section 6467 which would require him to conduct continuing research and study, collect and provide information, and perform related duties, and the provisions of Section 6474, which would require him to array and assign priorities to programs maintained by different school districts

There is one responsibility given to the Director of Compensatory Education to which, in our opinion, the analysis and conclusions arrived at above would not apply, and which should be discussed As we noted previously, the bill would provide for the establishment of an Advisory Compensatory Education Commission, to serve as an advisory body to the State Board of Education (Secs 6468–6471, incl) Under Section 6470, the Director of Compensatory Education would be made the executive secretary of that staff agency and would report, on its behalf, its recommendations and other matters, to the State Board of Education.

This particular function of the director would appear to be somewhat incidental or collateral to his regular responsibilities in compensatory education program administration. We believe that this section would be interpreted by the courts as vesting in the director duties to be performed under the sole direction of the advisory commission and not under the control or direction of the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 1147·

By Assemblyman Hinckley.

House Resolution No. 807

Relative to Interstate Highway 40

WHEREAS, The location for Interstate Highway 40, via Needles, has been approved by the California Highway Commission and by the Bureau of Public Roads of the Department of Commerce, and

WHEREAS, Freeway agreements in connection with the construction of this freeway have been executed with the cities involved and with the County of San Bernardino, and

WHEREAS, Design and right-of-way acquisition for this freeway have proceeded on schedule, certain projects for this freeway are currently under construction, including a project involving the Colorado River Bridge at Topock, south of Needles, at an aggregate cost of $7,272,000, another project has been advertised for bids; and four additional projects are included in the 1965-66 state highway budget; and

WHEREAS, In addition to the state's commitments, there has been extensive local development undertaken on the basis of the established freeway location; and

WHEREAS, It has recently been proposed by the Bureau of Public Roads, despite the existing approval of the route location and the extensive federal, state and local commitment to the construction of Interstate Highway 40 on the established freeway location, that the location of this portion of the interstate highway be moved, and

WHEREAS, Such action would not be in the best interest of the people of this state and of the area involved, and would result in an enormous waste of money already expended and currently being expended for the construction of the freeway on the established freeway location; and

WHEREAS, The Department of Public Works has taken a stand opposing the proposed change in the location of Interstate Highway 40 via Needles; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Department of Public Works is hereby commended for the stand it has taken opposing the proposal to change the established location of Interstate Highway 40, via Needles and is urged to remain steadfast in this stand and to take every step possible to convince the Bureau of Public Roads that, in view of the considerations set forth in this resolution and in order that this important interstate freeway may be completed at the earliest possible time, no change should be made in the location of this portion of Interstate Highway 40, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the Governor of the State of California, to the Director of Public Works, and to the Commissioner of Public Roads.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Burton was granted unanimous consent that the following commencement speech be printed in the Journal

Rochelle Gatlin Commencement Speech
June, 1965

Taking Issue

The serene and traditional ceremony of commencement is taking place at American colleges after a year of campus uneasiness and protest Since each of us here may hold different opinions regarding recent student action, it may be presumptuous of me to speak as if I represent the entire graduating class But I can think of no subject more appropriate to a commencement than some reflections on the ways in which colleges and universities might improve their twin functions of occupational training and the encouragement of intelligent and alert citizens

With regard to these functions, many colleges have been cognizant of the need to understand and cope with social change Even in the face of demands for highly specialized training, institutions of higher learning have re-emphasized integrated and inter-disciplinary approaches Some examples include San Francisco State's Departments of Interdisciplinary Studies in the Social Sciences and American Studies in the Humanities, Brandeis University's History of Ideas program, and a new four-year completely integrated course in the humanities offered to students at the San Francisco Art Institute

The biggest practical problem facing the colleges—and publicly supported institutions in particular—is lack of money, space and imaginative teachers to cope with increasing enrollments. According to a statement prepared by Faculties for the Defense of Education, the sum expended for each student in California state colleges has fallen 30 percent below the national average per student at public colleges and universities five years ago. The proposed 10 percent increase in faculty salaries—½ less than what state college professors requested—will bring them to a level slightly below those at Bowling Green University and the state universities of New York, Iowa and Colorado. Californians can keep the commitment made in the 1961 Master Plan to provide quality higher education for everyone who is qualified only by continually allocating high priority and adequate budgetary support to our State College system. Otherwise, tens of thousands of qualified applicants will be excluded or State College educational standards will be lowered at a time when higher standards and a richer curriculum are desperately needed.

Financial problems should not be difficult to remedy in our abundant society. But the more elusive, philosophical questions of educational purposes and goals become problematic when what is common, integral and traditional is soon out of date.

In our changing and complex society, college becomes not only a center for occupational and (hopefully) intellectual training, but a place where students can decide how, when and even whether they will fit into society. The college as "resting-place" has probably helped to create a group of students who take themselves seriously as a community and have a formidable program. Being in school, they want more contact with teachers; they want their college to stand for something in the world.

Paul Goodman has gone so far as to call college students "the major exploited class." Small farmers and the aged are outcast groups whose labor is not needed. But the brains of intelligent youth are needed, and they are subjected to tight scheduling, speedup and other factory methods. Although Goodman's views are particularly appealing in their analogy to the labor movement, college still allows initiative, independence, critical thinking, dissent, and relatively free exploration and experience. And certainly, as recent events in this country testify, students do feel that college should allow and even encourage these qualities.

The university or college has a role beyond training people for industry, even beyond a quiet resting place for young scholars. Not only are the "pleasant groves of academe" a thing of the past, but knowledge as an industry is being challenged by other values and priorities. Institutions of higher education can be a viable testing ground for new ideas and practices. They can show by example a freer and more experimental way of living.

College students of the 1960's are different from those of ten years ago. Specific issues in which questions of ethics are sharply defined have impelled them to reject the Beat-style withdrawal of the 1950's. To paraphrase Crane Brinton—"Many of the new generation have thrown themselves into movements like the Peace Corps, civil rights, disarmament and international government. They do this often to the accompaniment of words of despair and anger, but their deeds belie their words." Many of the same students who heroically went to Mississippi last summer were carried out of Sproul Hall last winter. Although the Berkeley Free Speech Movement contained a few hipsters and revolutionary zealots; there were a surprisingly large proportion of what U C graduate Michael Miller calls the most intellectually serious and morally alert students on campus, who demand the most from the university, who are concerned with putting knowledge of the past to work in the present and who believe that the educational process should provide a continuum between ideas and social action.

Fortunately, demonstrations, sit-ins and arrests are not the only ways to affect university and social reform. The Free Speech Movement was a dramatic event that occasioned sensational headlines, but at other institutions less publicized programs have been initiated. For example, the Committee for an Ideal Campus at Brandeis University in Massachusetts is an officially recognized organization which receives a budget from the associated student body. Some of the programs of this committee include: compiling a critique of professors and courses, tabulating a student-faculty poll intended to ascertain what issues concern the campus community, making plans for a national convention of similar student groups, and initiating The Spinoza Institute—which will offer non-graded courses and seminars next fall in the Modern Cinema, Eastern Thought, Psychedelic Stimulants and the History of Peace Movements.

In its first Statement of Purpose, the Committee for an Ideal Campus summed up principles which are advanced by student reformers and university critics all over the country. This statement says in part:

We believe that the ideal university is an intellectual community of teachers and students . . . We believe that learning is the cultivation of the intellect and the fulfillment of human potentialities . . . In this context, knowledge is advanced as a force which is personally relevant and meaningful, not as a commodity which is produced and marketed

Far from becoming an isolated community, the independent university is prepared to contribute most significantly to society By virtue of its intellectual freedom, the university can serve society as a center of independent thought and criticism The members of the university may challenge undesirable customs and values offer suggestions for their improvement, and exercise their rights as citizens to participate in social and political action Every society has this need for a critical body to judge what is happening and to consider what ought to be done

Obviously the constant scrutiny of university and social practices found in the above declaration may lead to unrest, but I do not believe that unrest is something that can or should be "remedied" by suppression To state this positively—the effect of current student unrest may be a critical analysis—even exposé—of hypocritical practices in relation to traditional American values of peace, equality and individual freedom For example, it took the Freedom Riders and the registering of disenfranchised Southern Negroes—and unfortunately the murder of a few White Northerners—to focus the country's attention on the wide discrepancy between the ideal and the practice of equality

One characteristic of socially alert students is their dissatisfaction with and even discarding of the liberalism of Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt and Clark Kerr Stanley Kauffmann has expressed the growing irrelevance of liberalism with its optimistic belief in progress by saying that although liberal sentiments are unimpeachable, they are almost irresponsible in the light of existing conditions, the contemporary equivalent of a hundred Hail Marys to avert the Black Plague To many students, there is something ineffectual about the liberal-bureaucrat with his tools of mediation and compromise "Furthermore, (as Michael Miller has said in a recent article in Dissent) "the more militant students regard liberalism with something less than satisfaction They believe it to be somehow implicated, if only by default, in the heritage of nightmares that compose modern history—Auschwitz, Hiroshima, the Cold War McCarthyism"

But student radicals do not look to bureaucratic puritanical Russia or to underdeveloped, over-populated and poverty-ridden China as models Not Marx, but Gandhi and Thoreau are their mentors Their goal is to eliminate the divorce between the political and the personal, no definite programs, no slogans, only a direct emotional response to hypocrisy and injustice

This graduating class joins with others throughout the country in facing tasks that require a radical and experimental frame of mind guided by generous social impulses We must find workable ideas to replace the myths that have been outrun by technology and social upheaval, we must develop a social vision less shallow than the duty to spend money to keep the economy going, and we must emphasize that although education might sometimes produce practical innovations beneficial to our health and material comfort, it should always produce greater understanding of the human condition and promise

Relative to Alcoholic Beverage Control

WHEREAS, More than thirty years have passed since the repeal of national prohibition and the enactment by the California Legislature of a comprehensive law to regulate and control the sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages in this State, and

WHEREAS, The controls imposed upon the alcoholic beverage industry, from manufacture to ultimate consumption, make it one of the most highly regulated of all business activities, and

WHEREAS, Serious questions have been raised as to the desirability of the economic and social effects of these restrictions, and

WHEREAS, The stated purpose of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act is to "protect the health, peace, and morals of the people of the State and to promote temperance in the use of alcoholic beverages", and

WHEREAS, Alcoholism and alcohol-related problems remain one of the most important concerns of the citizens of this State, and

WHEREAS, Previous studies of alcoholic beverage control by the California Legislature have been limited in scope and purpose, and there has never been a comprehensive study of the many economic and social effects of liquor control and related problems, and

WHEREAS, Although the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control in administering the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act has provided California with effective and efficient law enforcement, all laws need review and reevaluation to determine their effect in the light of rapidly changing conditions in California, and

WHEREAS, It is clear that a major reappraisal of California's present approach to liquor control is both timely and essential, now, therefore, be it

House Resolution No. 837

Relative to special district representation on local agency formation commissions

WHEREAS, The thrust of recent state legislation regarding local government has been toward a greater consolidation of the plethora of special districts in our counties, thus pointing toward an elimination of many such districts, and

WHEREAS, This reduction in special districts has been further enhanced by the increasing annexation of unincorporated areas by municipal governments, and

WHEREAS, The creation in 1963 of local agency formation commissions was intended as a means of providing planning and direction in the future interaction between the various local governments as this consolidation and annexation proceeded, said commissions being composed almost entirely of representatives of the city and county governments, and

WHEREAS, There has been no guaranteed provision that the special districts, which were the most vitally affected by the new developments, would have any representation on the local agency formation commissions, and

WHEREAS, Representation of these special districts, would permit a fairer handling of planning for district consolidation not only by permitting membership on the commission of persons well-acquainted with the problems of the special districts, but also better avoiding legal entanglements and laying a better basis for popular acceptance of the eventual plans drawn by the commissions, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the subject of special district representation on the local agency formation commissions be assigned by the Assembly Rules Committee to an appropriate interim committee for study, said interim committee to make its report and submit its recommendations not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 General Session

Mr. Allen was granted unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal:

Office of the Lieutenant Governor
State of New York
Albany, June 8, 1965

Hon. Don A Allen, Sr
Room 4126, State Capitol
Sacramento, California 95814

Dear Mr. Allen: I acknowledge receipt of your letter of May 14th with its enclosures which provide excellent background information with respect to the current status of legislative reapportionment. Your recitation of the New York situation beginning at page 46 is a masterpiece of synthesis and I congratulate you on its excellence

As I am sure you are aware, since that particular portion of your report was prepared the Democratic legislative leaders in New York retained former Federal Judge Rifkind as their counsel and sought to persuade the Federal District Court to authorize the extension of the terms of present legislators for another year with weighted voting to be in effect during 1966 The Federal District Court refused to do so—but, rather, directed an election this fall on the Plan A lines. Judge Rifkind then sought a stay from Mr Justice Harlan and the matter was argued before him by the attorneys for the several parties involved. He submitted the application to the full bench of the United States Supreme Court for its determination and the full court denied the stay—the practical effect of which will be to cause an election on Plan A lines this November for a 1-year term

Kindest regards.

Sincerely,
MALCOLM WILSON

CHAPTER 2 5 SPECIAL ELEMENTARY SCHOOL READING INSTRUCTION PROGRAM

Article 1 General Provisions

7603 This act may be cited as the Miller-Unruh Basic Reading Act of 1965

7603 3 It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature that the elementary school reading instruction program provided for by this chapter shall be directed to the prevention of reading disabilities, and the correction of reading disabilities at the earliest possible time in the educational career of the pupil The instruction program shall be provided in grades one, two, and three in the elementary schools

It is the further intent of the Legislature that the reading program in the public schools be of high quality, and that the program be designed to permit early development of reading skills, and the early correction of reading disabilities The Legislature recognizes that early development of reading ability enhances the opportunity of each pupil for success in school and for success in a career upon leaving school The Legislature further recognizes that to achieve its intent and purpose it will be necessary to provide means to employ teachers trained in the teaching of reading, to provide incentives to encourage such training, and to stimulate the establishment and maintenance of school libraries To carry out its intent and purpose, the Legislature has enacted this chapter to provide salary payments for specialist teachers in reading, scholarships to encourage the development of skills in the teaching of reading, and salary payments for the employment of professional librarians in school districts It is also the intent of the Legislature that the provisions of this chapter shall be administered to provide funds and services first to those school districts and to the schools in such districts where the need for reading instruction is greatest and the financial ability of the district to provide it is least This program is voluntary and any school district may participate or may decline to participate If a district participates, it shall participate fully with respect to those schools in the district in which the program is established 7603.5. The State Board of Education shall have the power to adopt and promulgate all rules and regulations necessary to the effective administration of this chapter, including but not necessarily limited to those specifically required to be adopted by particular provisions of this chapter.

(b) "Average daily attendance" shall, except as otherwise specifically provided, mean average daily attendance during the preceding fiscal year

7603 9 The governing board of any school district is hereby authorized to accept the provisions of any act of Congress under which federal funds are available for purposes of this chapter, and may participate in any program provided thereunder in order to accept and expend such federal funds pursuant to such act of Congress and this chapter Participation may include the expenditure by the school district of whatever funds may be required by the federal government as a condition to such participation

Article 2 Nomination and Designation of Specialist Teacher in Reading

7604 The governing board of any school district maintaining grades one, two, and three in elementary schools may, in writing, nominate to the Department of Education qualified certificated employees of the district for the position of specialist teacher The nominations shall be based upon the observed performance of the teacher in instructing elementary school pupils to read, and the written nominations to the department shall so attest

Any certificated employee of a school district who has not been so nominated may, in writing, petition the Department of Education to be appointed a specialist teacher Thereupon, the department shall appoint a panel of three persons, selected on the basis of criteria established by rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, who shall observe the performance of the employee in the classroom, and either nominate the employee for the position of specialist teacher or deny such nomination

7604 1 Each certificated employee nominated for the position of specialist teacher shall be notified of the time and place at which a written examination will be held to determine whether such employee is qualified for appointment as a specialist teacher

7604 3 The State Board of Education shall designate a written examination to be administered by the Department of Education to each person nominated for the position of specialist teacher The examination shall be one designed to test the knowledge of the nominee concerning the various approaches and techniques which have been determined by competent authority to be most effective in imparting reading instruction to young school pupils, and concerning the appropriate selection of various techniques to meet the requirements of different pupils. Such an examination shall be administered on a statewide basis at least once in each school year. For such purposes the State Board of Education may select an examination prepared by any competent public or private person, organization, or agency.

Uniform tests for each grade shall be recommended by the Department of Education and shall be submitted to the State Board of Education for approval and adoption no later than January 31, 1966 Any test so adopted shall be in national use and nationwide norms shall have been developed for such test. The tests which have been approved and adopted by the board shall be printed or purchased, and distributed to the various school districts in the state by the Department of Education.

Committee on Elections and Reapportionment
June 18, 1965

Honorable Jesse M Unruh
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento 14, California

My Dear Speaker: As you know, A B 1978 will be considered today. In the present version of the bill as amended June 17, 1965, there are a few typographical errors which do not effect any of the district boundaries but should be inserted in the bill for purposes of clarity

I recommend that these amendments be made in the Senate at the time they consider the bill, since time does not permit amendments in our house

These changes are as follows:

On page 2, line 1, strike "southeasterly", and insert: "southwesterly"

On page 2, line 4, strike "easterly", and insert "westerly"

On page 2, line 25, after "line", insert. "of"

On page 3, line 11, between "the" and "intersection", insert· "northerly"

As you can see, none of these amendments makes any substantive change in the bill Your assistance is greatly appreciated

Sincerely,

DON A ALLEN, SR

The Legislature finds and declares that because of home and community environmental conditions which give rise to language, cultural, and economic disadvantages, the latent talents of many minors in the elementary and secondary schools in the state remain undiscovered and are not adequately developed by the general educational programs afforded by the public school system and private schools or school systems. It is the intent and purpose of the Legislature to encourage the establishment and development of programs by local officers and agencies of the public school system directed to identifying those pupils affected by language, cultural, and economic disadvantages who are potentially capable of completing the regular courses of instruction leading to graduation from the public elementary and secondary schools, and by special services, techniques, and activities to stimulating their interest in intellectual, cultural and educational attainment.

It is further recognized that to effectively combat the evils of cultural disadvantage a comprehensive and communitywide and statewide cooperative effort will be required together with a marshaling of all public and private resources and aids which may be useful in the endeavor Securing cooperation, unity of action, and the concentration and effective direction of available outside resources and aids, public and private, should be an essential element of the programs for compensatory education, at both the state and local levels.

~~(b) A "program for compensatory education" is an undertaking by any school district maintaining any of grades kindergarten through 12, which is over, above, and in addition to, the regular educational programs of the district, having the purpose of providing positive stimulation of the educational and cultural propensities of culturally disadvantaged minors, and which embodies a positive plan for the identification of culturally disadvantaged minors and any one or more of the following elements designed to meet the needs of such minors.~~

Article 2 Programs for Compensatory Education

6456. The purpose of this article is to establish criteria to guide local school districts in making applications for either federal funds under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 as accepted in Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 570) of Division 2, or any state funds provided specially for the purposes of this chapter.

These criteria shall apply to the extent that they do not conflict with the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 or administrative regulations promulgated under that act.

6457. Each application of a local school district for federal funds or state funds shall include a comprehensive compensatory education plan which shall demonstrate that the district has fully utilized all other sources of funds, and the assistance of all volunteer aid offered by individuals and public and private organizations providing assistance for similar educational endeavors, and has effectively coordinated the same. This plan should emphasize a preventive program aimed at the child between the ages of three years and eight years, and have an ultimate goal of teaching the child to read, awakening the child's interest in learning, giving the child a sense of success in school achievement, and preventing the child's alienation from the school. It shall also include remedial programs for older children. Expenditures should be directed to schools with large concentrations of educationally disadvantaged children. If the situation involves culturally disadvantaged children who speak English as a second language, any programs should include early English language instruction, and the use of teachers, teachers' aides or volunteers who are proficient in the child's primary language, and in-service training for teachers in that language.

6458. For purposes of applications for federal funds a plan should be comprehensive in scope, and if possible, should provide program elements identical or comparable to the following.

(a) Reduction of ratios of pupils to teachers, directed specifically to enabling more individual attention to be given to culturally disadvantaged pupils. Such efforts shall be directed especially to the area of reading instruction, and may propose the employment of additional teachers, special reading teachers, subprofessional teacher aides, and voluntary aides.

(b) Preschool programs provided through the use of either school facilities, other public or private facilities, or any combination thereof, for children three years of age or older, involving intensive parent participation, established pursuant to standards prescribed by the State Board of Education.

(c) In-service professional study involving instruction and orientation of school district personnel to enable them to more effectively deal with cultural disadvantage.

(d) School-home cooperation, including home visitation, parent education and participation, parent-teacher conferences, utilizing, whenever necessary, bilingual interpreters, such as Spanish-speaking persons.

(e) Cultural enrichment programs including the use of field trips, special speakers, movies, records, library programs, concerts, and other means which will serve to broaden the cultural experience of the pupils.

(f) After-school tutoring programs utilizing the services of qualified college and university students and volunteers from the community.

(g) Remedial and corrective programs directed to enhancing the pupils' interest and competence in the English language, including extended remedial reading programs, special speech and oral programs, and the teaching of English as a second language, as, for example, where Spanish-speaking children are involved

(h) Evaluation, testing, and consultation, involving the formulation of evaluation standards which are as rigorous as feasible under the circumstances, the yearly administration of comprehensive achievement tests to all compensatory education students, and the development and use of data based on group controls which will provide evidence of contrast, and the assembly and classification of data for use at the statewide level

6459 In addition, the district may propose other programs, subject to the approval of the Director of Compensatory Education, to include the following elements.

(a) Employment of competent school-community coordinators, to secure effective coordination of the efforts of pupils, parents, schools, and the community

(b) Curriculum revision and the development and use of new instructional equipment and facilities to reorient the education program to meet the particular needs of the culturally disadvantaged pupils, with special attention to be given to the teaching of the English language

(c) Intensive use of auxiliary personnel, such as pupil personnel specialists, the services of whom may be made available not only by the public school system, but by other public and private agencies and organizations, including ethnic organizations

6460 A school district may establish nursery schools and may admit thereto children who are at least three years of age Nursery schools shall be maintained pursuant to standards set by the State Board of Education which standards shall provide for the qualifications of the teachers to be employed in the schools The governing board of the school district may accept funds provided under this chapter or under any federal act for the maintenance of such nursery schools. The governing board of a district may, subject to such terms or conditions as may be agreed upon, contract with any other school district or with the county superintendent of schools for furnishing the program for such minors The governing board of a school district or any county superintendent of schools may contract with any public or private university or college for services or other assistance in establishing or conducting a program for compensatory education

Mr Lanterman was granted unanimous consent that the following poems be printed in the Journal

FREEWAY DRAGON

The Year of the Dragon is at hand
Through valleys and villages coiling,
From ocean to mountains despoiling,
The Beast leaves his mark upon the land
How blasphemous is his appetite!
The Houses of God are devoured,
And classrooms where learning once flowered
Are crushed by this vandal overnight
Here slithers the Dragon, belching smoke,
A thousand metallic scales gleaming,
His deep-throated roar his high screaming
Disturbing the sleep of weary folk
Beware the whip-lashing of his wrath,
The noxious breath that would strangle!
Here comes the mad Beast who would mangle
Beware lest you fall within his path!

DRAGONS OF DESTRUCTION

Dragons of destruction
Loosed upon my hill—
Where the mountain lilac
And the buckthorn spill,
Chewing off the summit
In their hungry jaws,
Slashing through the live oaks,
Sharpening their claws,
Ripping up green meadows
With their taloned feet—
Meadows that in springtime
Blossomed, clover-sweet;
Fierce metallic monsters,
Pushing toward their goal;
Robots of road builders—
Minus heart or soul!

in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No 2202, as amended June 14, 1965, as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted,

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Allen was granted unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal

TO Senator Rees
FROM ARNOLD YORK
SUBJECT Constitutionality of Assembly Bill No 467 as amended

You have asked me to review the opinion of the Legislative Counsel concerning the constitutionality of Assembly Bill No 467, as amended in the Senate After careful consideration of the opinion and the applicable principles of law, I have come to the conclusion that Assembly Bill No. 467, as amended, would withstand a constitutional attack in the courts

The basic question to be resolved is whether the Legislature, pursuant to the requirements of Section 3 of Article XX of the California Constitution, is empowered to provide that an oath of non-disloyalty (as contained in the above Section)

taken at the time of the filing of nomination papers for public office, can satisfy the requirement of Section 3 that an oath be taken by persons elected to public office

Stated in other words, the question is whether the Legislature can provide that the constitutional oath, once taken at the time of filing, not be repeated at the time of election

For the following reasons I believe that the Senate amendment provides for reasonable exercise of legislative power, in keeping with purpose of the constitutional oath of office

The Legislative Counsel concluded that the Senate amendment "at least raises a serious question . (of) constitutionality " However, the conclusion is based solely on a single sentence taken out of a 1909 opinion of the California Supreme Court

That sentence states that Section 3 of Article XX "only applies to persons who have been appointed or elected to office and are about to assume a discharge of the duties thereof" Socialist Party v Uhl, 155 Cal 776, 792 (1909)

I believe that the statement in the Uhl case is entirely consistent with the action taken by the Senate The question in the Uhl case was whether Section 3 of Article XX, which set forth an oath to be taken by certain public officers and provided that, "No other oath . shall be required as a qualification for public office", prohibited the Legislature from setting forth certain qualifications in nomination papers (including party affiliation)

The court's answer, put most simply, is that Section 3 was not intended to apply to the nomination stage of the elective process That conclusion is not disputed by the Senate amendments For a quite different question is here involved—not whether Section 3 prohibits the oath requirement in the nomination papers but whether the oath when taken at that stage (although not constitutionally required) can satisfy the constitutional requirement

I believe that the appropriate constitutional test here is whether the Legislature is acting reasonably to comply with the constitutional mandate The Uhl case adopts this test of reasonableness as the test of constitutionality

The purpose of Section 3 of Article XX, in requiring a loyalty oath of those elected to office, is to guarantee the loyalty of those who assume the responsibilities of public office Section 3 only requires that the oath be taken " before they (the elected officials) enter upon the duties of their respective offices" (emphasis added)

The Senate amendment certainly complies with the only language which bears on the issue here involved

The next question to be asked is whether the taking of the oath, as required in Assembly Bill No 467 as amended, can reasonably be said to meet the purpose of Section 3 of Article XX

I believe that the answer can fairly be said to be "yes"

The oath set forth in Assembly Bill No 467, is taken by the only people who can assume elective office and it is taken within a reasonable period of time before entering upon the duties of the office Surely, the loyalty oath taken at the time of nomination must be as good a test of loyalty as the loyalty oath taken a few months later at the time of taking office

The same problem posed in this memorandum has been dealt with by the Legislature in Section 3102 of the Government Code Section 3102 provides that (as to public employees) " (in) the case of intermittent, temporary, emergency or successive employments, then in the discretion of the employing agency, an oath taken and subscribed as required by this chapter shall be effective for the purposes of this chapter for all successive periods of employment which commence within one calendar year from the date of subscription"

The provisions referred to are those of the Levering Act which (in part) implement Section 3 of Article XX The problem faced by the Legislature in enacting Section 3102 was precisely that faced here—that is, whether a situation otherwise requiring a multiplicity of oaths would be avoided by providing that one oath shall suffice

It should be noted that the Legislature considered that a period of up to a year in advance of the employment for which oath was required was not unreasonable If the Senate amendment to Assembly Bill No 467, is subject to constitutional attack, then, by the same reasoning, Section 3102 of the Government Code must also be subject to attack Yet there have been no challenges whatever to the validity of Section 3102

I believe the conclusion reached here is also one of common sense I have great difficulty in believing that any court would overturn the reasonable efforts of the Legislature to comply with the constitutional mandate The reliance of the Legislative Counsel on one sentence taken out of a 1909 opinion decided for a different and not inconsistent purpose is misplaced

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Senate Bill No 1032·

State of California, Governor's Office
Sacramento, May 25, 1965

To the Honorable Members of the Senate and Assembly:

Senate Bill No. 1032, "An act to add Section 236 to the Water Code, relating to river forecasting and flood warning, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately," in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

The facts constituting such necessity are The recent disastrous and extensive storms and floods in the northern part of this state demonstrated the inadequacy of the present flood forecasting and flood warning network In order that this situation may be remedied, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Senate Bill No 1032 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted

Recommendation of the Governor

WHEREAS, Both versions of redistricting contained in S B 6 and A B 1978 based on strict mathematical districts show great violence to correct representative government as it pertains to community interests and less of legislative expertise, and

WHEREAS, Independent tabulation operations taken by technicians in both the Assembly and Senate, independently, show that if an increase in both houses could be effected, the result would come within a very close if not exact compliance with the wishes of the court, and would minimize the violence heretofore referred to for at least the next four decades, now, therefore, be it
