MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following veto messages from the Governor were received and ordered printed in the Journal and the bills ordered to the unfinished business file:

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 686

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 686 without my signature.

This bill would require the Department of Transportation to use the sealed bid process exclusively when competitively bidding leased airspace to private entities.

The legislation would eliminate the option for the state to use the oral auction process which experience has shown to produce consistently higher bids than when using the sealed bid process. I am concerned that the loss of flexibility in choosing the appropriate bidding process will result in a significant loss of revenue to the State, and may facilitate collusion by some bidders when there is a relatively small number of bidders in a given geographical area.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 744

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 744 without my signature.

This bill would require that, as part of the one-semester course in American government and civics required for high school graduation, pupils 18 years of age or older be given the opportunity to register to vote on school premises.

In 1991, I vetoed a similar bill, AB 997. High school government and civics teachers are not precluded by statute from providing their students with an opportunity to register to vote, if that is a priority of the district.

Under current law, California registration by mail easily affords to all citizens the opportunity for electorial participation. Moreover, California is about to embark on the recently signed federal National Voter Registration Act of 1993. The Act requires State driver's license applications and renewals to double as voter registration forms for elections of federal offices. This will make registering to vote more accessible than ever before in our nation's history. Should a student desire to register to vote, there will be greater convenience to do so upon the Act's implementation.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1812

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1812 without my signature.

This bill would require the Secretary of Trade and Commerce to perform a feasibility study on business incubators and to report to the Governor and the legislature on or before June 1, 1994.

This bill is unnecessary. The importance of incubators is already recognized in statute through the priority given incubators in California's Small Business Development Corporation.

Moreover, the study required in this bill will, in part, examine and measure the effectiveness of business incubators and provide specific recommendations designed to improve and expand the current program. As mentioned, the effectiveness has already been recognized. AB 648 (Epple) amended August 19, 1993 and pending on the Senate floor, would create the New Business Incubator Enterprise Program consisting of four new loan programs administered by the Office of Small Business. This bill, supported by my Administration, would outline a new program design. Consequently, any additional recommendations designed to improve that design should await implementation of the new program.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 7th day of September 1993, at 5:55 p.m., of Assembly Bills Nos. 686, 744, and 1812, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

LAWRENCE A. MURMAN
Assistant Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1206

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1206 without my signature.

This bill would require the Office of Emergency Services to develop emergency operating procedures for each mutual aid region and to conduct emergency exercises in each region every two years.

I returned an identical bill last year without my signature. As I stated in my veto message then, the Office of Emergency Services already has a multi-hazard plan and presently conducts emergency exercises. Therefore, this bill is unnecessary. Additionally, the OES is developing a statewide emergency management system which incorporates the use of mutual aid regions. This bill may require an expansion of these programs but it provides no specific guidelines or recommendations.

While I agree that this may be a worthwhile endeavor, the provisions of this bill could cost as much as $815,000. Any program expansions at the State level which may place a direct or indirect financial burden on the General Fund or local entities must be deferred during these times of severe fiscal constraint.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

RECEIPT

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Gracious God, Who Like an Ocean of Water Is Vast, but Near and Close as Lapping Water Hugs an Island Shore, Be near to us in this moment of quiet from the turbulence of the Capitol scene. As the psalmist exclaims, "Lead us beside the still waters; restore our souls." We bring to You our expectations and difficulties inherent in our work of the day. Brood over us, be with us as we diligently seek for what is true and all that is good. Grant us patience with each other that all may be heard, and the better and the best solutions shall prevail. O Lord, may all we undertake this day make life richer and fuller in California, thereby declaring as do the changing seasons of every clime, the glory and honor of Your name.—AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following messages from the Governor were received and ordered printed in the Journal:

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill 871.

I view the powers of eminent domain provided for in this bill as an avenue of last resort I note that the bill is permissive in granting this power to Cal-Trans. Before Cal-Trans would exercise this authority, it would be necessary for a very high threshold to be established by the requesting parties that this action is truly needed.

Therefore, I would urge all of the parties to immediately begin negotiations so that an amicable solution can be reached in the near term.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1117.

This bill extends existing prohibitions on the use of known unauthorized signatures in campaign advertisements to include any representation of a person's name that serves the same purpose as a handwritten or mechanical signature.

While I strongly support this protection against the use of fraudulent endorsements in campaign advertising, I must set the record straight as to the events which gave rise to this bill.

The author has alleged that her Republican opponent in the November 1990 general election for the 80th Assembly seat distributed a campaign mailer under the type-written signature of the California Republican Party Chairman discrediting the write-in Republican candidate. The author has suggested that this endorsement was used without authorization and was therefore fraudulent. This bill purportedly targets such type-written signatures.

The author's accusations in this instance are utterly without foundation. In fact, the California Republican Party (CRP) told the author as much in its letter of April 23, 1993 (see attached). According to the CRP, the Chairman's endorsement "was sanctioned by the California Republican Party, was authorized by the California Republican Party, and was approved by the California Republican Party."

Although this bill has merit, the proffered reason has absolutely none.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1659.

This bill would, in part, specify that the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors may, by resolution, exclude cafeteria or flexible benefit plan contributions, transportation allowances, car allowances, or security allowances from the definition of "compensation" and "compensation earnable" for the purposes of determining member pensions.

I emphatically support measures which curb pension abuse as this provision purports to accomplish. However, I am concerned that the particular language in this provision, given its legislative history, may be misinterpreted to make pension spiking prohibitions only optional.

In an effort to prevent pension abuse, Governor Deukmejian signed AB 3146 (Harvey, Chapter 142, 1990) which allowed counties governed under the County Employee Retirement Law of 1937 to exclude flexible benefits and other allowances from the calculation of final compensation. The "optional" nature of AB 3146 was misconstrued by Los Angeles County which inappropriately used the bill as justification to enhance member pensions. Consequently, AB 3146 was repealed last year and intent language was enacted to clarify the prohibition on pension spiking (SB 193, C. Green, Chapter 45, 1992).

However, with the repeal of AB 3146, the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors has argued it lacks authority to exclude flexible benefits and allowances from compensation. AB 1659 would authorize Los Angeles County to exclude these benefits and allowances.

The Legislature clearly stated its opposition to pension abuse when it enacted AB 3146 and again when it stated the Legislative intent of SB 193. I would have preferred that this bill followed the intent of the Legislature more closely and strictly prohibited the inclusion of flexible benefits and allowances from the definition of compensation. I urge the Legislature to enact clean-up legislation to this effect next year.

However, in the meantime, this bill would allow Los Angeles County to curb pension abuse immediately. The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors appears eager to accomplish this as well.

I have signed this bill with the hope that clean-up legislation will be enacted next year to eliminate any ambiguity as to the intent to prohibit pension abuse unconditionally.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2616

September 8, 1993

Hon. Dotson Wilson
Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Re: Assembly Bill 2616, Chapter 1348, Statutes of 1992

Dear Dotson: It has come to my attention that there is some confusion as to the burden of proof allocated to parties on motions for summary judgment as a result of my AB 2616 chaptered last year. The allocation of the burden of proof pre AB 2616 is set forth in cases such as Chevron, U.S.A. v. Superior Court, (1992) 4 Cal.App.4th 544 and Nymark v. Heart Federal Savings and Loan Association, (1991) 231 Cal.App.3d 1089. These decisions unfairly required plaintiffs not only to prove up their own case but to negate all affirmative defenses as well.

AB 2616 adopted in a modified form the rule of Celotex Corp. v. Catrett, (1986) 477 U.S. 317 and overrode pre-existing California law by providing that a plaintiff may obtain a summary judgment if it proves up on the allegations of its complaint. Post AB 2616, a plaintiff no longer has to negate affirmative defenses in order to obtain a summary judgment.

AB 2616 did not change the applicable burden for a defendant to obtain a summary judgment.

Therefore, the suggestion that post AB 2616 a defendant can now meet its burden of proof simply by pointing out that the nonmoving party has no evidence, as is allegedly the case under Celotex, is simply not true. AB 2616 merely codified the already existing burden of proof for defendants without change.

Earlier this year, the Governor signed into law AB 498 (Goldsmith-Peace), Chapter 276, Statutes of 1993, makes crystal clear that the intent behind AB 2616 was to provide that a plaintiff may obtain a summary judgment if it proves up on the allegations of its complaint.

I trust that this puts to rest any questions as to the intent behind AB 2616 as to summary judgments.

Sincerely,

STEVE PEACE, Assembly Member
Seventy-ninth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Isenberg was granted unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal:

September 8, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Room 3196, State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Dotson: I hereby request that this letter and enclosures be published in the Assembly Daily Journal.

The enclosed undertaking and related documents represent the product of prolonged negotiations among Blue Cross of California (BCC), my office, and the offices of Senators Hill, Johnston and Torres.

The intent of this letter is to memorialize the attached undertaking (and related documents). At the same time, the need to pursue my related legislation, AB 1784, relating to the charitable obligation of restructured public benefit corporations, is eliminated. AB 1784 will be used for a more generic examination of the charitable obligations of nonprofit corporations.

Thank you for your cooperation.

Sincerely,

PHILLIP ISENBERG, Assembly Member

SUMMARY DESCRIPTION OF PLAN ORGANIZATION AND OPERATION

Attached hereto for review by the Department of Corporations ("Department") are proposed Undertakings relating to the restructuring ("Restructuring") of Blue Cross of California ("BCC") approved as part of the licensure of BCC as a health care service plan on January 7, 1993. The proposed Undertakings were developed as part of the legislative process relating to A.B. 1784. The Undertakings further the commitment of BCC, as described in its Plan License Application, to augment its public benefit activities in connection with the Restructuring and set forth quantifiable minimum levels of public benefit support and activities to be undertaken by BCC.

A detailed report outlining BCC's public benefit activities will be submitted to the Department under separate cover.

UNDERTAKINGS

Blue Cross of California ("BCC") hereby undertakes as follows to the California Department of Corporations ("Department") in connection with BCC's licensure under the Knox-Keene Health Care Service Plan Act of 1975 ("Act")

1. Restructuring Public Benefit Support. As part of the restructuring of BCC ("Restructuring") approved by the Department in connection with the licensure of BCC under the Act on January 7, 1993, BCC outlined to the Department its envisioned post-Restructuring activities as a nonprofit public benefit corporation. To further its mission as a nonprofit public benefit corporation and in conformity with the purposes of the Restructuring, BCC undertakes to provide services and support to certain health care-related governmental and public benefit programs ("Public Benefit Support") and further undertakes to provide minimum annual levels of Public Benefit Support (the "Quantified Support") as provided in these Undertakings.

2. Quantified Support. BCC undertakes to make available at least $5 million of Quantified Support each calendar year for a period of twenty (20) years (the "Quantified Period"). 1994 will be the first calendar year of the Quantified Period and 2013 will be the last calendar year of the Quantified Period. Public Benefit Support will qualify as Quantified Support only if it is support that is (i) designated and approved by the Board of Directors of BCC, (ii) is utilized for Subsidized Care, Health Care Partnerships or Charitable Contributions as defined in paragraph 2 (a), (b) and (c) and (ii) does not exceed the maximum amounts set forth in paragraph 2 (a), (b) and (c).

   (a) Subsidized Care. BCC undertakes to make available subsidized health care coverage by providing cash sums to public and private organizations to be dedicated by those organizations to making available health care coverage or services to medically underserved Californians ("Subsidized Care"). Qualified recipients of amounts to be dedicated to providing Subsidized Care shall include, but are not limited to, the Major Risk Medical Insurance Program ("MRMIP"), the Aid to Infants and Mother Program ("AIM"), health care delivery organizations, and health care providers who will use the amounts as compensation for otherwise uncompensated provider services rendered to the medically underserved. Amounts dedicated to providing Subsidized Care will be considered Quantified Support only up to a maximum of $2 million per calendar year, of which no less than 50% will be dedicated to MRMIP, AIM or other government sponsored health care related programs

(b Health Care Partnerships BCC undertakes to make available (i cash, and (ii in-kind support including but not limited to staff time and administrative resources ("Partnership Support") to its Health Care Partnership Program, which is comprised of public benefit initiatives designed to improve the affordability and accessibility of care and to emphasize patient personal responsibility for improving their health status. Health Care Partnerships will include, but are not limited to, programs for research of health care issues, pilot programs implementing research findings and public education programs ("Health Care Partnerships"). Partnership Support dedicated to Health Care Partnerships will be considered Quantified Support only up to a maximum of $2 million per calendar year, 50% of which must be cash.

(c Charitable Contributions BCC undertakes to provide cash contributions to organizations engaged primarily in health care related activities which are exempt from federal taxation under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code ("Contribution Support") Contribution Support will be considered Quantified Support only up to a maximum of $1 million per calendar year.

3. Maintenance of Tangible Net Equity The obligation of BCC to provide Quantified Support pursuant to these Undertakings will be subordinate to the requirement that BCC maintain the tangible net equity ("TNE") required under the Act and will be suspended and deferred if and to the extent the amounts to be expended to provide Public Benefit Support would cause BCC not to meet the minimum TNE requirements of the Act ("Deferred Amounts") Deferred Amounts will be added to the minimum amounts of Quantified Support in later periods in such amounts as are determined as appropriate by BCC's Board of Directors in view of BCC's then-existing financial condition and its need to maintain the TNE required under the Act, provided, however, that BCC's obligation to provide Quantified Support under these Undertakings will cease at the end of the Quantified Period, regardless of the then existence of any Deferred Amounts.

4 Reporting BCC will annually report in writing to the Department and to the Chief Clerks of the California Assembly and the California Senate during the Quantified Period on its compliance with the terms of these Undertakings

5 Rules If, at any time during the Quantified Period, there is enacted any law, regulation or administrative decree or ruling ("Rule") which stipulates the level, quantity or type of public benefit or charitable support, activities or expenditures which must be made or undertaken by BCC, which alters the standard of care applicable to or potential liability of members of BCC's Board of Directors, which imposes a payment obligation on BCC to the State of California, any instrumentality thereof or any other person, or which seeks in any fashion to affect the terms and conditions under which the Restructuring was approved by the Department, then these Undertakings will cease to be of any force or effect, without the requirement of any further act or deed on BCC's part, effective upon the enactment of the Rule.

6 Credit. In no event shall an amount required to be made available under any subparagraph of paragraph 2 be credited to an amount required to be made available under any other subparagraph of paragraph 2.

7 Modifications. If any of the government programs identified in subparagraph 2(a, above are eliminated or modified in such a way as to defeat the intent of subparagraph 2(a), this Agreement may be modified with the consent of the Department of Corporations, with notice to the California Legislature.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1625

September 7, 1993

Honorable Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Re: Legislative Intent of AB 1625

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter is intended to clarify legislative intent behind Assembly Bill 1625.

Assembly Bill 1625, as before the Assembly for concurrence in Senate amendments, is intended to address a number of concerns relating to privately operated electronic home detention (EHD) programs. These programs are currently not regulated, and therefore pose a potential risk to public safety.

AB 1625 prohibits the placement of violent and other serious offenders into electronic home detention programs. It gives the County Correctional Administrator sole authority over screening and placement of individuals into EHD programs, and gives judicial recommendations great weight in these matters.

The bill also requires that all privately operated EHD programs have a written contract with the Correctional Administrator of any county which places individuals in electronic supervision programs.

Just as important, AB 1625 requires that privately operated EHD programs comply with all reasonable and applicable local health, safety, fire and zoning statutes in the operation of their business facilities.

Sincerely,

TOM CONNOLLY, Assembly Member
Seventy-seventh District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1370

September 7, 1993

Mr. Dotson Wilson, Chief Clerk
California State Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: A question has been raised about the intent and effect of the addition of subdivision (b) to the Unemployment Insurance Code Section 629. This subdivision is added by AB 1370.

The sole intent and effect of Section 629 is to make clear that no "employment" results as between an employment agency, operating in compliance with Unemployment Insurance Code Section 687.2, and the domestic workers it refers. This subdivision is not intended to and does not affect the relationship between the referred domestic worker and the person to whom the referral is made. The status of that relationship is to be determined by the common law and subdivision (a) of Unemployment Insurance Code Section 629.

Moreover, nothing contained in AB 1370 is intended to, nor does it apply to, public entities and non-profit organizations as defined in Unemployment Insurance Code Sections 605(a) 608.

Sincerely,

GIL FERGUSON, Assembly Member
Seventieth District

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Gracious God, Our Help in Ages Past and Our Hope for Years to Come, The hours and days of the week are passing by, leaving us yet with unsolved problems and issues to resolve. Is it like we are halted in the valley of decision and at our wits end? Without Your help, this is what we are and this is where we are, except You lead and guide us. Your prophets and seers of many creeds and faiths, have proclaimed, that with You, "Nothing is impossible". Grant us, this day, that strength which moves mountains, these mountains of paper, rhetoric and self . . . that every valley shall be filled, and every mountain and hill brought low, so that the people of California shall know again the beauty of life, for the rough place, by what we do, shall be made plain.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Alpert then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 3620

August 26, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson, Last year the Legislature passed and the governor signed into law my AB 3620 (Chapter 883, Statutes of 1992), which overhauled California law governing the use of lis pendens. Since its enactment, the new law has been the subject of numerous questions from attorneys and judges wishing to know the Legislature's intent in enacting these changes.

To clarify this issue of legislative intent, I submit for publication in the Assembly Daily Journal the California Code Comments which were developed by the sponsors of AB 3620, the Real Property Law Section of the State Bar of California. These comments accompanied the draft legislation when it was submitted to me for authorship, were provided to Legislative Counsel for its use in drafting AB 3620, and were considered by legislative committee staff in both houses in preparing their official analyses of the bill. The comments have been modified only to reflect Legislative Counsel's re-numbering of the new code sections contained in the draft legislation as submitted, and to take into account the two substantive amendments made to the bill during its consideration by the Legislature:

1). New §405.21 was revised on March 26, 1992, to give a judge discretion to approve a notice of pendency of action.

2). New §405.4 was revised on April 29, 1992, to exempt from the provisions of the bill easements obtained pursuant to statute by any regulated public utility.

With these revisions, the Code Comments prepared by the Real Property Law Section should be considered an accurate, contemporaneous expression of the Legislature's intent in enacting AB 3620.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

BOB EPPLE, Assembly Member
Fifty-sixth District

TITLE 4.5 RECORDING NOTICE OF CERTAIN ACTIONS [WITH CALIFORNIA CODE COMMENTS]

CHAPTER 1, DEFINITIONS AND GENERAL PROVISIONS

§ 405: The definitions in this chapter govern the construction of this title.

Code Comment

1. This section is new.

§ 405.1: "Claimant" means a party to an action who asserts a real property claim and records a notice of the pendency of the action.

Code Comment

1. This section is new.

Origin and Purpose

1. This section is new. Its meaning is roughly equivalent to the undefined terms "party filing the notice" and "party recording the notice" in former CCP 409.1. The purpose of the newly provided definition is to clarify that the party recording a lis pendens must be a party asserting a Real Property Claim as defined in CCP 405.4.

Cross References

2. The term "claimant" appears in CCP 405.22 (service and filing of notice, other than eminent domain); CCP 405.32 (no probable validity of real property claim); CCP 405.33 (undertaking where pecuniary relief will suffice); CCP 409.350 (presumption that pecuniary relief will suffice); and CCP 405.36 (permission to record after prior expungement).

Definitional Cross References

3. "Real property claim" is defined in CCP 405.4.

§ 405.2: "Notice of pendency of action" or "notice" means a notice of the pendency of an action in which a real property claim is alleged.

Code Comment

1. This section is new.

§ 405.3: "Probable validity", with respect to a real property claim, means that it is more likely than not that the claimant will obtain a judgment against the defendant on the claim.

Code Comment

Prior Law

1. Former CCP 409.1 placed upon the proponent of a lis pendens the burden of proving "to the satisfaction of the court, by a preponderance of the evidence" that the proponent's action "does affect title to or right of possession of the real property described in the notice". Notwithstanding this statutory directive of proof by a preponderance of the evidence, the effect of the California Supreme court ruling in Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 518, and of the subsequent appellate court rulings in cases such as Urez Corp. v. Superior Court (1987) 190 Cal.App.3d 1141, Mason v. Superior Court (1985) 163 Cal.App.3d 989, and Okuda v. Superior Court (1983)

144 Cal.App.3d 135, was essentially to prohibit review of evidentiary merits on a motion to expunge. The confusing rulings in Malcolm and its progeny reduced court review on a motion to expunge to little more than a demurrer-like examination of the adequacy of pleadings. Examination of evidence was for the most part prohibited notwithstanding the express evidentiary requirements of the statute.

Origin and Purpose

2. This section is new to lis pendens law. It drawn from and is in substance identical to the definition of "probable validity" in CCP 481.190 of The Attachment Law. See also CCP 511.090 (same definition of "probable validity" also used in Claim and Delivery law).

3. The purpose of this definitional section is to aid in clarifying the test for expungement of a lis pendens now set forth in CCP 405.32. The well-established term "probable validity" from The Attachment Law is adopted for this purpose. The test of "probable validity" is intended to supersede the construction placed upon former CCP 409.1 by Malcolm and its progeny to the effect that, notwithstanding the stated evidentiary requirements of the statute, the evidentiary merits could not be considered on a motion to expunge. This definitional section is intended to aid in substituting the familiar probable validity standard for the Malcolm "no mini-trial" standard.

Cross-references

4. The term "probable validity" appears in the lis pendens law in CCP 405.32 (no probable validity of real property claim) and CCP 405.33 (undertaking where pecuniary relief will suffice). The terms "probable validity" or "probably valid" are used with identical meaning in The Attachment Law; see CCP 481.190 (definition of "Probable validity"), CCP 484.050(b) (notice that right to attach order will be issued if court finds plaintiff's claim "probably valid"), CCP 484.090(a)(2) (right to attach order issued on notice when plaintiff establishes "probable validity"), and CCP 485.220(a)(2) (right to attach order issued ex parte when plaintiff establishes "probable validity"). The terms "probable validity" or "probably valid" are also used with the same meaning in the Claim and Delivery law; see CCP 511.090 (definition of "Probable validity"), CCP 512.040 (notice that writ of possession will be issued if court finds plaintiff's claim "probably valid"), CCP 512.060 (writ of possession issued on notice when plaintiff establishes "probable validity"), and CCP 513.010 (temporary restraining order may issue when plaintiff establishes "probable validity").

Definitional Cross-references

5. "Real property claim" is defined in CCP 405.4.

§ 405.4: "Real property claim" means the cause or causes of action in a pleading which would, if meritorious, affect (a) title to, or the right to possession of, specific real property or (b) the use of an easement identified in the pleading, other than an easement obtained pursuant to statute by any regulated public utility.

Code Comment

Prior Law, Origin and Purpose

1. Prior law authorized a lis pendens "in an action concerning real property or affecting the title or the right of possession of real property". See former CCP 409(a). The former statute did not carefully distinguish between the concepts of adequate pleading of a claim justifying a lis pendens and the evidentiary merit of the claim. As a result, the courts misconstrued the statutes to allow in effect recordation and maintenance of a lis pendens whenever the proponent's pleading was technically proper, regardless of whether the claim had factual merit. See, e.g., Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 518, Urez Corp. v. Superior Court (1987), 190 Cal.App.3d 1141, Mason v. Superior Court (1985) 163 Cal.App.3d 989, Okuda v. Superior Court (1983) 144 Cal.App.3d 135, and Perry v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 837.

2. This section is new. It defines the type of claim which must be pleaded to support a lis pendens. If the pleading filed by the claimant does not properly plead a real property claim, the lis pendens must be expunged upon motion under CCP 405.31. If the claimant does plead a real property claim, but the claim pleaded has no evidentiary merit, the lis pendens must be expunged upon motion under CCP 405.32. By expressly distinguishing the concepts of pleading and evidence in this fashion, the statute makes clear that factual merit is also necessary to the maintenance of a lis pendens. This section aids in distinguishing pleading from evidence.

3. Prior law contained a confusing redundancy. Former CCP 409(a) authorized a lis pendens in an action "concerning real property" merely to assure availability of the lis pendens procedure in federal cases. Although the phrase was ruled otherwise meaningless, Allied Eastern Financial v. Goheen Enterprises (1968) 265 Cal.App.2d 131, Kendall-Brief Co. v. Superior Court (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 462, its inclusion created confusion.

The prior law extending the lis pendens procedure to federal actions is preserved, but is dealt with expressly in CCP 405.5. This section therefore deletes the "concerning real property" phrase as redundant and likely to cause confusion.

4. Prior statutory law was not clear regarding the availability of the lis pendens procedure in cases involving easements. An easement does not technically "affect" title in the sense of changing it, nor does the existence of an easement oust the title holder of possession. Nevertheless, California title insurance practice treats an easement as both an insurable interest and an exception to title. This state of law and practice created confusion regarding the availability of the lis pendens procedure in cases involving easements. See Kendall-Brief Co. v. Superior Court (1976) 60 Cal.App.3d 462 and Woodcourt II Limited v. McDonald Co. (1981) 119 Cal.App.3d 245.

This section expressly includes cases affecting the use of easements within the definition of "real property claim". Use of this definition in CCP 405.20 (notice of pending action, required contents, recordation.) thus expressly makes the lis pendens procedure available in all cases which affect the use of an easement (other than one obtained pursuant to statute by a regulated public utility) upon or appurtenant to the property affected by the action.

5. Current law is in conflict regarding the availability of the lis pendens procedure in cases claiming a constructive trust or equitable lien. See Coppinger v. Superior Court (1982) 134 Cal.App.3d 883 and Okuda v. Superior Court (1983) 144 Cal.App.3d 135 as opposed to Burger v. Superior Court (1984) 151 Cal.App.3d 1013, Deane v. Superior Court (1985) 164 Cal.App.3d 292, Moseley v. Superior Court (1986) 177 Cal.App.3d 672, Urez v. Superior Court (1987) 190 Cal.App.3d 1141, Wardley Development Co. v. Superior Court (1989) 213 Cal.App.3d 391 and LaPaglia v. Superior Court (1989) 215 Cal.App.3d 1322. The definition of "real property claim" neither includes nor excludes claims of constructive trust or equitable lien. Instead, the law in this area is left for judicial development. Should case law continue to allow use of the lis pendens procedure in cases claiming a constructive trust or equitable lien, any abuse which might have previously occurred should be mitigated by the provisions of CCP 405.32 (requiring proof by the claimant of the probable validity of the claim) and the provisions of CCP 405.34 (allowing the court to require a bond from the claimant). Moreover, the provisions of CCP 409.360, which continue prior law maintaining the availability of injunction, attachment or other relief in connection with a real property claim, should also reduce any perceived need for availability of the lis pendens procedure in cases involving allegations of fraudulent or deceptive conduct leading to claims for a constructive trust or equitable lien.

Cross-references

6. The term "real property claim" appears in CCP 405.20 (notice of pending action, required contents), CCP 405.21 (procedure for creation and recording, other than eminent domain), CCP 405.31 (action does not contain real property claim), CCP 405.32 (no probable validity of real property claim), CCP 405.33 (undertaking where pecuniary relief will suffice), CCP 405.34 (undertaking required of proponent) and CCP 405.8 (availability of other relief).

§ 405.5: This title applies to an action pending in any United States District Court in the same manner that it applies to an action pending in the courts of this state.

Code Comment

This section continues the law stated in the second sentence of former CCP 409(a), simply restating it in language consistent with the terminology of the revised lis pendens statute.

§ 405.6: In an action by a public agency in eminent domain pursuant to Title 7 (commencing with Section 1230.010) of Part 3, the issuance, service and recordation of a notice of pendency of action shall be governed by Section 1250.150 and shall not be subject to Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 405.20).

Code Comment

This section continues the provision of prior law that lis pendens procedures in eminent domain actions are covered by the Eminent Domain law, CCP 1230.010 et. seq.

§ 405.7: Whenever an action is commenced to declare a building uninhabitable, the plaintiff public agency, at the time of filing the complaint, shall record in the office of the recorder of the county in which the building is situated, a notice of the pendency of the action, containing the names of the parties and a description of the real property upon which the building affected by the action is situated.

Code Comment

This section repeats verbatim the first paragraph of former CCP 409.7. The second paragraph of former CCP 409.7, specifying the effect of recordation of a lis pendens, was redundant under prior law and would also be redundant in the revised statute. The effect of recordation of a lis pendens generally is now covered by new CCP 405.24.

§ 405.8: Nothing in this Title precludes any party from seeking an attachment, injunction, or other relief in connection with a real property claim or the expungement of a notice of pending action.

Code Comment

Purpose

This section preserves and makes express prior law preserving other remedies in connection with a real property claim.

Cross-references

This section is comparable to CCP 482.020 of The Attachment Law.

CHAPTER 2 RECORDATION SERVICE AND FILING

§ 405.20: A party to an action who asserts a real property claim may record a notice of pendency of action in which that real property claim is alleged. The notice shall be recorded in the office of the recorder of each county in which all or part of the real property is situated. The notice shall contain the names of all parties to the action and a description of the property affected by the action.

Code Comment

Origin and purpose

1. This section is comparable to the first sentence of former CCP 409(a). The primary purpose of the revised wording is to simplify the syntax of the statutory provision authorizing the recordation of a lis pendens.

2. The only change of substance effected by this section is the deletion of the former requirement that the lis pendens document contain a statement of the "object" of the action. This requirement served little purpose; the "object" (purpose) of the action can best be determined by review of the pleading supporting the lis pendens. This section continues the requirements of former CCP 409(a) that the lis pendens document contain the names of the parties and a description of the property affected.

3. CCP 405.22 continues the requirement of former CCP 409(c) that the lis pendens document be filed with the court in which the action is pending. It is thus expected that the format of the lis pendens document authorized by this section will be consistent with the requirements for court filings. See California Rule of Court 201.

Cross-references

4. See also Gov't Code 27250 (county recorder must maintain index of all lis pendens recorded), Gov't Code 27257 (alternative authorization of general grantor-grantee index), Gov't Code 27324 (lis pendens must be indexed as indicated by title or endorsement) and Gov't Code 27325 (lis pendens recorded without title or endorsement to be indexed as recorder determines).

§ 405.21: An attorney of record in an action may sign a notice of pendency of action. Alternatively, a judge of the court in which an action that includes a real property claim is pending may, upon request of a party thereto, approve a notice of pendency of action. A notice of pendency of action shall not be recorded unless (a) it has been signed by the attorney of record, (b) it is signed by a party acting in propria persona and approved by a judge as provided in this section or (c) the action is subject to Section 405.6.

Code Comment

Origin and purpose

1. This section is drawn from former CCP 409(b). The section continues the policy of allowing an attorney of record to sign the lis pendens document. The section also preserves the special procedures applicable to creation of an eminent domain lis pendens. See CCP 405.6.

2. Prior CCP 409(b) allowed the creation of a recordable lis pendens by parties appearing in propia persona by requiring that the court "issue" a lis pendens to a party requesting it or, alternatively, that a party "obtain certification" from the court that an action affecting real property had been filed. The former law did not define the scope of the court's duties and responsibilities under either the "issuance" or "certification" options. This section simplifies and clarifies the court's duties in cases in which a party appearing in propria persona requests approval of a lis pendens. In the event of such a request, it is the duty of the court pursuant to this section to confirm that an action containing a real property claim, as defined by CCP 405.4, is pending, and to approve a lis pendens proper in form if such a claim is pending. The procedures for hearing and ruling upon such requests, and for establishing a record of approval or rejection, are left to determination by the courts. However, it is expected that an approval will be endorsed upon or appended to the lis pendens document for the information of the recorder and persons referring to land title records.

3. This section continues the rule of former CCP 409(b) that, except for eminent domain actions, a lis pendens may not be recorded unless it is signed by an attorney of record or has been preapproved by the court. The court's supervisory powers over attorneys should have a deterrent effect upon abuse of lis pendens procedures in actions prosecuted by an attorney of record. The court's duty to review a lis pendens proposed by a party in propria persona prior to it's recordation is intended to aid in avoiding abuse of lis pendens procedures in actions prosecuted by parties in propria persona.

§ 405.22: Except in actions subject to Section 405.6, the claimant shall, prior to recordation of the notice, cause a copy of the notice to be mailed, by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, to all known addresses of the parties to whom the real property claim is adverse and to all owners of record of the real property affected by the real property claim as shown by the latest county assessment roll or more recent assessment information in the possession of the county assessor. If there is no known address for service on an adverse party or owner, then as to that party or owner a declaration under penalty of perjury to that effect shall be recorded instead of the proof of service required above, and the service on that party or owner shall not be required. Immediately following recordation, a copy of the notice shall also be filed with the court in which the action is pending. Service shall also be made immediately and in the same manner upon each adverse party later joined in the action.

Code Comment

This section continues the service and filing requirements specified in former CCP 409(c) and (d), which apply except in eminent domain actions now covered by new CCP 405.6.

§ 405.23: Any notice of pendency of action shall be void and invalid as to any adverse party or owner of record unless the requirements of Sections 405.22 are met for that party or owner and a proof of service in the form and content specified in Section 1013a has been recorded with the notice of pendency of action.

Code Comment

This section continues the rule of former CCP 409(d) that a lis pendens is void and invalid unless the service and filing requirements now specified in CCP 409.235 are satisfied. It is not the intention of this section to disapprove the principles of waiver applied in Biddle v. Superior Court, (1985) 190 Cal.App.3d 135.

§ 405.24: From the time of recording the notice of pendency of action, a purchaser, encumbrancer or other transferee of the real property described in the notice shall be deemed to have constructive notice of the pendency of the noticed action as it relates to the real property and only of its pendency against parties not fictitiously named. The rights and interest of the claimant in the property, as ultimately determined in the pending noticed action, shall relate back to the date of the recording of the notice.

Code Comment

Origin and Purpose

1. This section preserves and clarifies prior law. The last sentence of former CCP 409(a) provided that constructive notice dated from "the time of filing the notice for record". Proper terminology is that the notice is not "filed", but rather "recorded" in the land title records maintained by the county recorder. The first sentence of the new section uses the phrase "from the time of recording" to clarify that it is recordation of the lis pendens which begins constructive notice.

2. The last sentence of former CCP 409(a) also provided that the constructive notice given was only of the pendency of the action against "parties designated by their real names". The first sentence of the new section states that constructive notice extends only to "parties not fictitiously named". The purpose is to clarify that the constructive notice given extends only to the pendency of the action against named parties other than those fictitiously named pursuant to California's "Doe" Pleading practice. This is consistent with the purpose of the lis pendens procedure of making actual notice available to those who review land title records. Cf. Orr v. Byers (1988) 198 Cal.App.3d 666, regarding the importance of correctly naming parties in documents recorded to affect title to real property.

3. The second sentence of this section is new to the lis pendens statute. Prior law stated only that the recordation of a lis pendens afforded constructive notice to subsequent purchasers or encumbrancers. The effect of constructive notice was not stated in the lis pendens statute, but rather was supplied by CCP 1908(a)(2) (a judgment is conclusive between the parties and their successors in interest by title subsequent to commencement of the action provided they have constructive notice of the pendency of the action). The second sentence of the new section is consistent with CCP 1908(a)(2) and preserves prior law, but simplifies application of the lis pendens law by expressly stating the effect of constructive notice in the lis pendens statute.

4. This section is not intended to affect existing law regarding the effect of actual notice.

CHAPTER 3 EXPUNGEMENT AND OTHER RELIEF

§ 405.30: At any time after notice of pendency of an action has been recorded, any party, or any non-party with an interest in the real property affected thereby, may apply to the court in which the action is pending to expunge the notice. However, a person who is not a party to the action shall obtain leave to intervene from the court at or before the time the party brings the motion to expunge the notice. Evidence or declarations may be filed with the motion to expunge the notice. The court may permit evidence to be received in the form of oral testimony, and may make any orders it deems just to provide for discovery by any party affected by a motion to expunge. The claimant shall have the burden of proof under Sections 405.31 and 405.32.

Code Comment

Prior law, Origin and Purpose

1. Prior law, as interpreted by the courts, provided five bases upon which expungement of a lis pendens could be sought: a) "void and invalid" lis pendens, former CCP 409(d) and McKnight v. Superior Court (1985) 170 Cal.App.3d 291; b) action as pleaded does not affect title, former CCP 409.1(a), Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 518, Urez v. Superior Court (1987) 190 Cal.App.3d 1141; c) action not commenced or prosecuted for proper purpose and in good faith, former CCP 409.1(b); d) monetary relief adequate, former CCP 409.2; and e) proponent fails to file bond as ordered, former CCP 409.1, last sentence, Earp v. Nobmann (1981) 122 Cal.App.3d 270. The procedure for seeking expungement on these alternative grounds was not uniformly stated and in some cases no particular procedure was specified. In practice, however, courts generally followed the procedure now specified by this section.

2. The primary purpose of the new section is to state in one section a uniform procedure for seeking expungement. The new statute provides four bases upon which expungement may initially be sought: a) "void and invalid" lis pendens, CCP 405.23, McKnight v. Superior Court (1985) 170 Cal.App.3d 291, and Biddle v. Superior Court (1985) 170 Cal.App.3d 135; b) action as pleaded does not contain a real property claim, CCP 409.31; c) claimant fails to establish probable validity of claim, CCP 405.32; and d) monetary relief adequate, CCP 405.33. The new statute also provides a separate procedure for expungement when the proponent fails to file a bond as ordered, CCP 405.34. The procedure for moving to expunge on the first four grounds is that specified in CCP 405.30.

3. This section creates no timing or service requirements peculiar to a motion to expunge. It is expected that these requirements will be fixed by standard notice of motion requirements as they may from time to time be amended. See CCP 1005.

4. The section makes clear that the party moving to expunge may, but is not necessarily required to, file evidence with the moving papers. Whether the moving party is required to file evidence with the moving papers depends upon which party bears the burden of proof on the motion.

A motion to expunge under CCP 405.31 (action does not contain real property claim) involves only a review of the adequacy of the pleading and normally should not involve evidence from either side, other than possibly that which may be judicially noticed as on a demurrer. This section nevertheless specifies that the "burden of proof" is upon the claimant on a motion to expunge under CCP 405.38 in order to make clear that it is the claimant which bears the burden of establishing the legal proposition that the pleading does contain a real property claim.

This section also specifies that a motion to expunge under CCP 405.32 (no probable validity) places the burden of proof on the claimant. The moving party hence need not present evidence until the claimant has initially met its burden. Evidence Code 500, 550. Nevertheless, the moving party may choose to present evidence with the moving papers in anticipation of the claimant's response. The court retains discretion to continue the motion for further evidence as required.

A motion to expunge under CCP 405.33 (undertaking where pecuniary relief will suffice") places the burden of proof upon the moving party by operation of Evidence Code 500 and 550. Unless the court can find that an undertaking would secure adequate relief, the motion to expunge must be denied. The moving party must therefore file supporting evidence with the moving papers.

A motion to expunge a void and invalid lis pendens places the burden of proof upon the claimant by operation of Evidence Code 500 and 550. Unless the court finds that the requirements of CCP 405.22 have been met, the lis pendens is void and invalid and must be expunged.

As to those motions to expunge on which the burden of proof rests upon the claimant, and as to which the moving party need not initially support the motion with evidence, the court's power to award sanctions pursuant to CCP 128.5 and attorney's fees under CCP 405.38 is deemed sufficient to deter frivolous motions designed to harass the claimant.

§ 405.31: In proceedings under this chapter, the court shall order the notice expunged if the court finds that the pleading on which the notice is based does not contain a real property claim. The court shall not order an undertaking to be given as a condition of expunging the notice where the court finds the pleading does not contain a real property claim.

Code Comment

Prior Law, Origin and Purpose

1. This section concerns pleading. Prior law became confused because of failure of the courts to distinguish between allegations (pleadings) and evidence. This section concerns judicial examination of allegations only. Judicial examination of factual evidence is separately governed by CCP 405.32.

2. This section preserves and clarifies existing law. Existing law is clear that a lis pendens may not be maintained of record if the pleading filed to support the lis pendens does not state a claim which affects title or right to possession. This section similarly mandates expungement if the pleading does not contain a real property claim. The analysis required by this section is analogous to, but more limited than, the analysis undertaken by a court on a demurrer. Rather than analyzing whether the pleading states any claim at all, as on a general demurrer, the court must undertake the more limited analysis of whether the pleading states a real property claim.

3. This section also clarifies that the court may not require a bond as a condition of expungement if the court finds that the pleading does not contain a real property claim. A bond requirement in such a circumstance would in effect require a defendant to supply pretrial security for a plaintiff's damage claim. Such requirements were once routine, but were the subject of extensive Due Process litigation leading to the enactment of The Attachment Law and the claim and delivery law with all their attendant Due Process protections. The lis pendens law is not intended to substitute for other remedies or to provide a means to circumvent Due Process protections. The new statute expressly notes in CCP 409.360 that nothing in the lis pendens law precludes any party from seeking attachment, injunction, or other appropriate relief.

Definitional Cross-references

4. "Real property claim" is defined in CCP 405.4.

Cross-references

5. CCP 405.30 specifies that the burden of proof on a motion to expunge pursuant to this section is on the claimant.

§ 405.32: In proceedings under this chapter, the court shall order that the notice be expunged if the court finds that the claimant has not established by a preponderance of the evidence the probable validity of the real property claim. The court shall not order an undertaking to be given as a condition of expunging the notice if the court finds the claimant has not established the probable validity of the real property claim.

Code Comment

Prior Law

1. Former CCP 409.1 placed upon the proponent of a lis pendens the burden of proving "to the satisfaction of the court, by a preponderance of the evidence" that the proponent's action "does affect title to or right of possession of the real property described in the notice". The California courts, in cases such as Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 518, Urez Corp. v. Superior Court (1987:1 190 Cal.App.3d 1141, Mason v. Superior Court (1985) 163 Cal.App.3d 989, and Okuda v. Superior Court (1983) 144 Cal.App.3d 135, nevertheless interpreted the statute to prohibit review of evidentiary merits on a motion to expunge. Instead, court review on a motion to expunge was reduced to little more than a demurrer-like examination of the adequacy of pleadings. The result of Malcolm and its progeny was that a lis pendens could be maintained of record even if the claimant was unable to demonstrate any factual merit in the claim.

2. Some courts have characterized the lis pendens as a provisional remedy, see, e.g., Urez v. Superior Court (1987) 190 Cal.App.3d 1141, while others have treated the procedure as only a method of giving notice. Any distinction is one of semantics, not of substance. As a result of the historic growth in secured real property financing and the now nearly universal use of title insurance to insure title, the recordation of a lis pendens gives a claimant a de facto, if not a de jure, provisional remedy. The cloud created on title generally precludes either sale or encumbrance of the affected property for the duration of the action. The rule of Malcolm that the merits may not be considered on an expungement motion therefore created an anomaly in California law. In every analogous situation, judicial review of the merits is a prerequisite to obtaining relief of this nature. See, e.g., CCP 484.090 (probable validity must be shown to obtain attachment), Cohen v. Board of Supervisors (1985) 40 Cal.3d 277, 286 (court must evaluate likelihood of success in determining whether to grant injunction), CCP 512.060 (probable validity must be shown to obtain writ of possession under claim and delivery law), CCP 564 (evaluation of probable interest, irreparable injury, other pertinent equitable considerations, etc., required in determining whether to appoint receiver), Corp. Code 800(c)(1) (plaintiff in shareholder derivative action must file bond if court finds no reasonable possibility of benefit to corporation).

Origin and Purpose

3. This section expressly concerns factual merit. Provision for a demurrer-like review of the pleading is preserved in CCP 405.31. This section is intended to disapprove Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d. 518 and other cases which have held that the court on a motion to expunge may not conduct a "minitrial" on the merits of the case. This section is intended to change California law and to require judicial evaluation of the merits.

4. This section requires the claimant to prove, by a preponderance of the evidence, the "probable validity" of claimant's real property claim. The term "probable validity" is drawn from The Attachment Law. CCP 484.090. See also CCP 512.060 (same standard applicable to claim and delivery proceedings). This section is intended to require a hearing on the merits of the same type as those conducted in attachment and claim and delivery proceedings.

5. This section also clarifies that the court may not require a bond as a condition of expungement if the claimant fails to establish the probable validity of claimant's real property claim. A bond requirement in such a circumstance would in effect require a defendant to supply pretrial security for a plaintiff's damage claim. Such requirements were once routine, but were the subject of extensive Due Process litigation leading to the enactment of The Attachment Law and the claim and delivery law with all their attendant Due Process protections. The lis pendens law is not intended to substitute for other remedies or to provide a means to circumvent Due Process protections. The new statute expressly notes in CCP 405.8 that nothing in the lis pendens law precludes any party from seeking attachment, injunction, or other appropriate relief.

Other Changes

6. Former CCP 409.1(b) required the proponent of a lis pendens to prove that the proponent was proceeding "for a proper purpose and in good faith"; otherwise the lis pendens was to be expunged. This language was construed by the courts to require an inquiry into the proponent's subjective state of mind. See, e.g., Malcolm v. Superior Court (1981) 29 Cal.3d 518. Questions of subjective state of mind are more appropriate to criminal law notions of moral culpability than to resolution of real property disputes. The provisions regarding proper purpose, good faith and subjective state of mind are superseded in the new statute by the new requirement that the claimant objectively establish the probable validity of the real property claim.

Definitional Cross-references

7. "Probable validity" is defined in CCP 405.3. "real property claim" is defined in CCP 405.4.

Cross-references

8. CCP 405.30 specifies that the burden of proof on a motion to expunge pursuant to this section is on the claimant.

§ 405.33: In proceedings under this chapter, the court shall order that the notice be expunged if the court finds that the real property claim has probable validity, but adequate relief can be secured to the claimant by the giving of an undertaking. The expungement order shall be conditioned upon the giving of the undertaking of such nature and in such amount as will indemnify the claimant for all damages proximately resulting from the expungement which the claimant may incur if the claimant prevails upon the real property claim. In its order conditionally expunging the notice, the court shall set a return date for the moving party to show fulfillment of the condition, and if the moving party fails to show fulfillment of the condition on the return day the court shall deny the motion to expunge without further notice or hearing. Recovery may be had on the undertaking pursuant to Section 996.440.

For purposes only of determining under this section whether the giving of an undertaking will secure adequate relief to the claimant, the presumption of Section 3387 of the Civil Code that real property is unique shall not apply, except in the case of real property improved with a single-family dwelling which the claimant intends to occupy.

Code Comment

Prior Law, origin and Purpose

1. The first paragraph of this section preserves and clarifies prior law. Former CCP 409.2 provided for expungement upon filing of an undertaking if the court found that "adequate relief" could be secured to the proponent by an undertaking. This section continues that rule.

2. The first paragraph of this section clarifies that the court shall order expungement whenever a bond would afford adequate relief even if the claimant can show the probable validity of claimant's real property claim. If claimant cannot establish the probable validity of claimant's real property claim, expungement should follow without an undertaking pursuant to CCP 405.32. Establishment of probable validity does not constitute a meritorious opposition to a motion under this section. The focus of this section is on whether monetary damages will fully compensate claimant.

3. The second sentence of former CCP 409.2 simply restated the effect of recordation of an expungement order. This was redundant under the former statute and would similarly be redundant here. This sentence has therefor been omitted. The effect of recordation of an expungement order is now governed generally by CCP 405.60 and 405.61.

4. Former CCP 409.2 did not specify any procedure for court review of compliance with an order to provide an undertaking. This section now requires that the court set a return date to review compliance and specifies that expungement be denied if the moving party has not complied.

Definitional Cross-references

5. As to the second paragraph of this section, Civil Code 3387 is based upon the historic common law proposition that all real property is unique, and creates a presumption that breach of an agreement to convey real property cannot be adequately relieved by pecuniary compensation. With respect to a single family dwelling which the claimant intends to occupy, the presumption is conclusive. This section does not affect the conclusive presumption regarding single family dwellings.

6. Case law regarding when real property other than a single family dwelling may be considered unique is not completely consistent. Compare Sheets v. Superior Court (1978) 86 Cal.App.3d 68 and Stewart Development Co. v. Superior Court (1980) 108 Cal.App.3d 266 with Jessen v. Keystone Savings & Loan Assn. (1983) 142 Cal.App.3d 454. With respect to commercial real estate, a presumption of uniqueness is often inappropriate. The essence of commercial activity is the earning of money; loss of a commercial investment opportunity can normally be offset by a pecuniary award.

The presumption generally created by Civil Code 3387 with respect to property other than single family dwellings is only a presumption affecting the burden of proof. The effect of this presumption is merely to place the burden of proof upon the moving party. Evidence Code 605 and 606. CCP 409.340 is already worded to place the burden on the moving party, since the court must deny expungement on this ground unless the court finds that an undertaking will secure adequate relief. Evidence Code 500, 550. A proper application of the law would thus be the same regardless of whether the presumption as to property other than single family dwellings is preserved or not. This section nevertheless makes the presumption inapplicable to property other than single family dwellings for the purpose of clarifying that the moving party's burden is not a heavy or extraordinary one, but rather one which can be satisfied by a simple preponderance of the evidence. See Evidence Code 115. Sheets and Stewart Development are disapproved to the extent inconsistent with this purpose.

7. "Probable validity" is defined in CCP 405.3. "real property claim" is defined in CCP 405.4.

§ 405.34: Subject to the provisions of Section 405.31 and 405.32, at any time after a notice of pendency of action has been recorded, and regardless of whether a motion to expunge has been filed, the court may, upon motion by any person with an interest in the property, require the claimant to give the moving party an undertaking as a condition of maintaining the notice in the record title. However, a person who is not a party to the action shall obtain leave to intervene from the court at or before the time the person moves to require an undertaking. The court may permit evidence to be received in the form of oral testimony and may make any orders it deems just to provide for discovery by any affected party. An undertaking required pursuant to this section shall be of such nature and in such amount as the court may determine to be just. In its order requiring an undertaking, the court shall set a return date for the claimant to show compliance and if the claimant fails to show compliance on the return date the court shall order the notice of pendency of action expunged without further notice or hearing.

Recovery of an undertaking required pursuant to this section may be had in an amount not to exceed the undertaking, pursuant to Section 996.440, upon a showing (a) that the claimant did not prevail on the real property claim and (b) that the person seeking recovery suffered damages as a result of the maintenance of the notice. In assessing these damages, the court shall not consider the claimant's intent or the presence or absence of probable cause.

Code Comment

Prior Law, origin and Purpose

1. The last sentence of former CCP 409.1 authorized a court to require the proponent of a lis pendens to give the other party an undertaking as a condition of denial of an expungement motion. This section continues the court's authority to order the claimant to give an undertaking, but allows the court to order an undertaking on motion independent of a motion to expunge. This separation of motion to expunge from motion to require undertaking serves two purposes. First, it brings lis pendens undertaking procedures into line with provisional remedy practice generally, in which the party receiving the provisional relief typically is required to provide an undertaking. Second, the former inclusion of the undertaking authority within the provisions dealing with expungement has lead some courts to regard an undertaking as an alternative to expungement. CCP 405.31 and CCP 405.32 now make clear that a lis pendens must be expunged if the claimant cannot meet the statutory tests. This section provides the court with authority to require an undertaking when appropriate even if the claimant does meet the statutory tests. Decisions regarding an undertaking requirement are to be governed by normally applicable equitable principles.

2. The opening clause of the section makes clear that the provision for an undertaking does not authorize a court to require an undertaking in lieu of outright expungement when the claimant cannot establish that the pleading contains a real property claim, CCP 409.31, or when the claimant cannot establish the probable validity of the real property claim, CCP 409.32. In such circumstances the lis pendens must be expunged without an undertaking.

3. The last sentence of former CCP 409.1 did not specify any procedure for court review of compliance with an order to provide an undertaking. This section now requires that the court set a return date to review compliance and specifies that expungement be granted if the claimant has not provided the undertaking as ordered.

4. The last two sentences of the section make clear that recovery may be had upon the undertaking upon a showing of the two elements specified and that the amount of such recovery is determined solely by the amount of damage suffered by the moving party. The claimant's subjective intent or the strength of his claim are not relevant.

§ 405.35: No order expunging a notice of pendency of action shall be effective, nor shall it be recorded in the office of any county recorder, until the time within which a petition for writ of mandate may be filed pursuant to Section 405.39 has expired. No order expunging a notice of pendency of action shall be effective, nor shall it be recorded in the office of any county recorder, after a petition for writ of mandate has been timely filed pursuant to Section 405.39, until the proceeding commenced by the petition is finally adjudicated. This section imposes no duty on the county recorder to determine whether the requirements of this section or of any order expunging a notice of pendency of action have been met.

Code Comment

Origin and Purpose

1. The first sentence of this section restates and continues prior law that an order expunging a lis pendens shall not be effective until the time to petition for a writ of mandate has expired.

2. The second sentence of this section clarifies the status of an order of expungement during the period after the timely filing of a petition for writ of mandate but before the appellate court has ruled. This sentence requires that an expungement order not be recorded after timely filing of the petition until after the appellate court has ruled upon the petition.

3. The third and final sentence of this section restates and continues prior law that made clear that the court recorder has no duty to determine compliance with the requirements stated in the section.

§ 405.36: Once a notice of pending action has been expunged, the claimant may not record another notice of pending action as to the affected property without leave of the court in which the action is pending.

Code Comment

This section continues the rule of Ranchito Ownership Co. v. Superior Court (1982) 130 Cal.App.3d 764, which disallowed rerecording of an expunged lis pendens without consent of the court. Although the court in McKnight v. Superior Court (1985) 170 Cal.App.3d 291 ruled that a lis pendens expunged as "void and invalid" for defects in service, recording or filing, could be rerecorded, this section requires leave for re-recording of any expunged lis pendens. It is expected that leave to re-record a lis pendens expunged as "void and invalid" can be obtained when appropriate at the expungement hearing.

§ 405.37: After notice and hearing, for good cause and upon such terms as are just, the court may exonerate or modify any undertaking required by an order issued pursuant to Section 405.33 or Section 405.34 or pursuant to a stipulation made in lieu of such an order. An order of the court under this Section may be conditional upon the giving of a new undertaking under Section 405.33 or 405.34.

Code Comment

This section makes clear that the court retains authority to modify an order requiring an undertaking as warranted. The section makes clear that the court may exonerate one undertaking upon the condition that a different undertaking be given.

§ 405.38: The court shall direct that the party prevailing on any motion under this chapter be awarded the reasonable attorneys' fees and costs of making or opposing the motion unless the court finds that the other party acted with substantial justification or that other circumstances make the imposition of attorney's, fees and costs unjust.

Code Comment

Former CCP 409.3 provided that the court "may" award reasonable attorney's fees and costs to the party prevailing on an expungement motion. This section modifies the rule to provide that the court must award fees and costs to the prevailing party unless special findings support denial of fees.

§ 405.39: No order or other action of the court under this chapter shall be appealable. Any party aggrieved by an order made on a motion under this chapter may petition the proper reviewing court to review the order by writ of mandate. The petition for writ of mandate shall be filed and served within 20 days of service of written notice of the order by the court or any party. The court which issued the order may, within the initial 20-day period, extend the initial 20-day period for one additional period not to exceed 10 days. A copy of the petition for writ of mandate shall be delivered to the clerk of the court which issued the order with a request that it be placed in the court file.

Code Comment

Origin and Purpose

This section is derived from former CCP 409.4. The section preserves the provision of prior law that an expungement order is not appealable, but rather that review may be had by petition for writ of mandate filed within 20 days of service of written notice of the order. The section clarifies that the written notice which begins the 20 day period may be served by either the court or any party. The section modifies prior law to provide that the trial court may extend the 20 day period for one additional period not to exceed 10 days. Prior law allowed an extension for 20 days provided that the entire period from entry of the order did not exceed 60 days. The prior law is otherwise unchanged by this section.

CHAPTER 4, WITHDRAWAL

§ 405.50: At any time after notice of pendency of an action has been recorded pursuant to this title or other law, the notice may be withdrawn by recording in the office of the recorder in which the notice of pendency was recorded a notice of withdrawal executed by the party who recorded the notice of pendency or by the party's successor in interest. The notice of withdrawal shall be acknowledged.

Code Comment

This section repeats substantially verbatim the first and third sentences of former CCP 409.55. The second sentence of former CCP 409.55 merely repeated the effect of withdrawal and would be redundant here. The effect of withdrawal or expungement is now generally stated in CCP 405.600 and 405.61.

CHAPTER 5, EFFECT OF WITHDRAWAL OR EXPUNGEMENT OF NOTICE

§ 405.60: Upon the withdrawal of a notice of pendency of action pursuant to Section 405.50 or upon recordation of a certified copy of an order expunging a notice of pendency of action pursuant to this title, neither the notice nor any information derived from it, prior to the recording of a certified copy of the judgment, or decree issued in the action, shall constitute actual or constructive notice of any of the matters contained, claimed, alleged or contended therein, or of any of the matters related to the action, or create a duty of inquiry in any person thereafter dealing with the affected property.

Code Comment

Prior law

1. Prior law stated the effect of withdrawal or expungement of a lis pendens in several different places. See CCP 409.1, 409.2, 409.55 and 409.8.

Purpose

2. The purpose of this section, together with following CCP 405.61 is to state in one place and for general application the consequences of withdrawal or expungement of a lis pendens.

3. This section continues prior law that after the withdrawal or expungement of a lis pendens, neither the lis pendens nor any information derived from it constitutes either constructive or actual notice, nor do they create a duty of inquiry. It is the intention of the section to ensure free transferability of real property after withdrawal or expungement.

§ 405.61: Upon the withdrawal of a notice of pendency of action pursuant to Section 405.50 or upon recordation of a certified copy of an order expunging a notice of pendency of action pursuant to this title, no person except a nonfictitious party to the action at the time of recording of the notice of withdrawal or order, who thereafter becomes, by conveyance recorded prior to the recording of a certified copy of the judgment or decree issued in the action, a purchaser, transferee, mortgagee, or other encumbrancer for a valuable consideration of any interest in the real property subject to the action, shall be deemed to have actual knowledge of the action or any of the matters contained, claimed or alleged therein, or of any of the matters related to the action, irrespective of whether that person possessed actual knowledge of the action and irrespective of when or how the knowledge was obtained.

It is the intent of the Legislature that this section shall provide for the absolute and complete free transferability of real property after the expungement or withdrawal of a notice of pendency of action.

Code Comment

Origin and Purpose

This section restates substantially verbatim former CCP 409.8, with minor modification solely for purposes of consistency with the new statutory numbering. Its purpose is to emphasize the intention that property be freely transferable after withdrawal or expungement. It is intended that this new section be interpreted as former CCP 409.8 was interpreted in Knapp Development & Design v. Pal-Mal Properties, Ltd. (1987) 195 Cal.App.3d 786.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Valerie Brown was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1885

September 9, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter is to express my understanding of the legislative intent of certain provisions of AB 1885 of the 1993–94 Regular Session.

Existing law allows experience to be gained for marriage, family and child counselor licensure in settings specified in Business and Professions Code sections 4980.43 (e) and (f).

The intent of the language found on page 14, lines 19–22 ("Experience shall be gained by interns and trainees either as an employee or as a volunteer in any allowable work setting specified in this chapter.") was not to override or negate the provisions for gaining experience in private practices as contained in Business and Professions Code section 4980.43 (f). Section 4980.43 (f) states:

> "The experience required by Section 4980.40 may be gained as an intern as specified in subdivision (e) of this section, or when employed in a private practice . . . "

Section 4980.43(f) further states as a condition of that employment that:

> "An intern employed in a private practice setting . . . shall receive fair remuneration from his or her employer."

These separate, private practice experience requirements are not changed by the broader language contained in Business and Professions Code section 4980.43(b). The intent of that language was to include experience gained as an employee (Section 4980.43(f) or as a volunteer (which is permitted for setting contained in Section 4980.43(e), thus ensuring inclusion of experience gained in all possible allowable work settings.

Therefore, as currently stated in law, interns are required to be paid fair remuneration in private practice, and this requirement will continue with passage of this bill.

Sincerely,

VALERIE K. BROWN, Assembly Member
Seventh District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Horcher was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1974

Dear Colleagues:

The purpose of this letter is to clarify the legislative intent of AB 1974 and describe the purpose for delaying this measure until next year.

I introduced AB 1974 to expedite the process of reopening many of the convenience stores which were burned down during the civil disturbance in Los Angeles during April 1992. I am disturbed that after 14 months only 6 of the 174 Korean-American owned stores have been able to reopen for business.

The problems associated with reopening are a direct result of the City of Los Angeles' planning commission's policy of using the riots as an opportunity to exclude businesses which they now determine to be undesirable. Rather than simply approving plans to reconstruct and reopen these businesses under essentially the same conditions which existed prior to the riots, the City wants to change the rules and impose costly restrictions and conditions to the new operating permit which essentially prohibits stores, that historically operated with very small profit margins, from being able to make a profit on the business.

In my view, the City has simply decided that it would like to eliminate a number of convenience stores in the neighborhood by imposing conditions which make it impossible to reopen. If it is a desirable public policy objective to reduce the number of commercial establishments, and to change the character of a neighborhood, then it should be done through a process where property owners and businesses are compensated for the taking of their vested property rights. The current course of simply delaying the permits and adding impossible restrictions will inevitably result in draining the resources of the small business owner and lead to bankruptcy and unemployment—two statistics we can ill afford to promote in these difficult times.

We should be doing everything we can to put these victims back in business and allow them to finally recover from the devastating effects of the riots. Everyone is anxious to put this chapter of history behind us, but we cannot, in good conscience, do that until we have dealt honestly and fairly with the victims. They should not be caused to become victims a second time to an unbending bureaucracy.

As AB 1974 left this house, it would simply prohibit the city from imposing any new rules on these businesses that did not exist before the riots. In the Senate I amended it to allow more flexibility for the City to consider buying out the assets of the closed businesses and making it possible for them to relocate elsewhere in the state. The bill in its present form would even let the City impose some of the less costly new conditions on the businesses before authorizing the reopening.

Even with these changes, the City remained opposed. The Mayor stated that he would like an opportunity to make a good faith effort at solving the merchant's problems. Accordingly, the Mayor has agreed to allow this good faith effort to proceed without my legislation. If the City fails to deal with the problem during the interim, I fully intend to proceed with AB 1974 as an urgency measure in January, 1994.

These people have waited long enough.

Sincerely,

PAUL V. HORCHER, Assembly Member
Sixtieth District

NEWS

From the Office of the Mayor
RICHARD J. RIORDAN

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE CONTACT: ANNETTE CASTRO
September 8, 1993 (213) 847-3556

Los Angeles, September 8—This morning Mayor Richard Riordan, State Assemblymember Paul V. Horcher (R-Diamond Bar), and several Korean-American community leaders made headway on the difficult question of re-building South-Central Los Angeles.

As a result of the civil disturbance of April 1992, almost 200 Korean-American-owned "Mom and Pop" convenience stores burned to the ground. Due to difficult conditional use permit requirements arbitrarily imposed by the City of Los Angeles under the previous administration, only 6 stores are back in business today.

Recognizing the patent injustice of denying these people their vested property right to rebuild, Assemblymember Horcher introduced legislation to put these people back in business. The bill, AB 1974, is currently awaiting review on the Senate Floor, two floor votes away from the Governor's desk. Unfortunately, even if AB 1974 passes, it would not go into effect until January 1994.

Mayor Riordan, in an effort to circumvent the lengthy state process, pledged today to make the re-opening of these stores under reasonable conditions one of his highest priorities of the re-building of South-Central Los Angeles.

"I believe many of the Korean-American convenience store owners were left to the mercy of a bureaucracy run-a-muck, seemingly unanswerable to no one but themselves." Riordan said, "It must be the new administration's policy to attack the problems of South-Central—running these people out of business is not the answer. We must work together, not against one another."

"We must find ways of assisting and encouraging business development by making Los Angeles a climate where business can do business," Riordan said.

Horcher cited the old adage, "it's like throwing the baby out with the bath water", when referring to the previous administrations's handling of the matter, punishing 171 stores for the sins of a few.

Most of these Korean-Americans have only been in American 10–15 years. They work(ed) 12–16 hours a day, 365 days a year. They need a hand, not a hand out, to earn a living. Taking away the stores they have worked hard to build up is not the answer. We must promote the good stores and punish the bad—no different than we should treat any business owner in Los Angeles.

Horcher noted that the Korean-American Grocers Victims Association (KAGVA), the Korean-American Grocers Association (KAGRO), the Korean-American Coalition (KAC), and the Korean-American Legal Advocacy Foundation (KALAF) have been vital components in the effort to shine a light on this subject. They are useful tools for the community if more information on AB 1974 is needed, he added.

COMMUNICATION PRINTED IN JOURNAL

The following communication was printed in the Journal:

September 9, 1993

Honorable Pete Wilson
Governor, State of California
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Governor Wilson: Thank you for signing my AB 1117. This bill closed an important loophole in laws governing campaign advertisements. The people of the state of California will be well served by your actions in allowing this bill to become law.

There is a mistake in your announcement to members of the legislature, however, which must be corrected. In your announcement, you refer to a letter that I purportedly received from Tirso Del Junco, Chairman of the California Republican Party. I have received no such letter and in fact, you will note that the letter is addressed to Ms. Hunter, not to me. You will also note that the letter was sent to Ms. Hunter April 23, 1993—after the bill was introduced and after it passed out of the Assembly Elections and Reapportionment Committee. Your announcement is the first time I have seen the letter from Mr. Del Junco.

Your message to the Legislature indicates that my "accusations" are unfounded. However, these are not my accusations. The suggestion for this bill came from Dr. Philip Dreisbach, a write-in Republican candidate in last fall's race for the 80th Assembly District. I have attached Dr. Dreisbach's letter of November 24, 1992 to the Riverside County District Attorney wherein Mr. Dreisbach confirms a conversation he had with the then California Republican Party Chairman Jim Dignan (whose typed name was used in the Hunter campaign piece). These documents were offered to your staff when they called my office seeking information on this bill, but your staff refused them.

It was the January 11, 1993, letter from the District Attorney's office that led to my introduction of this bill. I have attached copies of these letters for your information. The campaign piece used by Ms. Hunter was not directed at me and I did not know of this defect in the law until Dr. Dreisbach brought it to light. I believe voters are best served when accurate representations are made. Thank you again for your support of AB 1117.

Cordially,

JULIE BORNSTEIN

cc: All Members of the Legislature

GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

September 7, 1993

To The Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1117.

This bill extends existing prohibitions on the use of known unauthorized signatures in campaign advertisements to include any representation of a person's name that serves the same purpose as a handwritten or mechanical signature.

While I strongly support this protection against the use of fraudulent endorsements in campaign advertising, I must set the record straight as to the events which gave rise to this bill.

The author has alleged that her Republican opponent in the November 1990 general election for the 80th Assembly seat distributed a campaign mailer under the type-written signature of the California Republican Party Chairman discrediting the write-in Republican candidate. The author has suggested that this endorsement was used without authorization and was therefore fraudulent. This bill purportedly targets such type-written signatures.

The author's accusations in this instance are utterly without foundation. In fact, the California Republican Party (CRP) told the author as much in its letter of April 23, 1993 (see attached). According to the CRP, the Chairman's endorsement "was sanctioned by the California Republican Party, was authorized by the California Republican Party, and was approved by the California Republican Party."

Although this bill has merit, the proffered reason has absolutely none.

Cordially,

Pete Wilson

The Honorable Tricia Hunter

Dear Tricia:

I understand that the Assembly will be considering Assembly Bill 1117 by Assemblywoman Julie Bornstein in the very near future. This measure prohibits the use of a person's name in a political mailer without prior authorization.

I am in total disagreement with the method Assemblywoman Bornstein is using to campaign for adoption.

As you know, she is using as the basis for her bill a letter that was signed by the Chairman of the California Republican Party last year, Jim Dignan. This letter was sanctioned by the California Republican Party, was authorized by the California Republican Party and approved by the California Republican Party. The use of Jim Dignan's signature was sanctioned by, authorized by and approved by the Executive Director of the California Republican Party, who had the Chairman's authority to conduct such an action.

In addition, any reference Assemblywoman Bornstein may make to a resolution introduced at our recent Party Convention should be taken in context. Any registered Republican may submit a resolution to a Party Convention. These resolutions are not screened for their merit, but assigned to the Resolutions Committee exactly as they are received. The Resolutions Committee looked at this resolution, as they are charged under our Bylaws. They quickly killed the resolution at Jim Dignan's request because it had no basis in fact and was meritless.

I hope this further clarifies this matter. Please feel free to call me should you wish additional information on this or any other issue.

Sincerely,

TIRSO DEL JUNCO, M.D.
Chairman, California Republican Party

November 24, 1992

Dear Mr. Trask.

This letter is in regard to my complaint of November 12 and November 20, 1992 concerning possible violations committed by the Tricia Hunter for Assembly committee.

Today I received a telephone call from Jim Dignan, Chairman of the California Republican Party. He told me the following and I will swear to it:

(1) He did not author the letter sent by the Tricia Hunter committee.

(2) He did not preview the letter, did not know of the content of the letter, and certainly did not approve and would not have approved of this particular letter which was sent as a last minute mailer to Republican voters in the 80th A.D.

(3) He was certain that it was illegal for the letter to have been mailed without a disclaimer on the letter to show that it was sent by the Tricia Hunter campaign. He further stated that the California Republican Party did not pay for the mailer.

(4) He was also upset that the word "California" was spelled incorrectly as "Califirnia," and that he would never have allowed a letter to go out under his name with a wrongly spelled word, especially the word, "California.

(5) He said he understood how voters could have been easily misled into thinking that I as the referred to "write in candidate" was also the same "opponent" who was "being run and funded by Willie Brown."

I note that the letter used the name of "JAMES DIGNAN" as signee, but he always identifies himself as "Jim Dignan," even on official California Republican Party letters.

I further remind you that the letter was sent in telegram style so that the name at the end is the implied signature and the receiver understands that the typed name is indeed the name of the sender who would have used a signature in a regular letter----other than an "URGENT" telegram.

I request that you confirm Mr. Dignan's statements. I believe that there is then sufficient merit upon which to initiate a prosecution of the responsible party (parties) based on violation of Penal Code Sec. 115.1 and certain other sections of the Election Codes.

The Legislature did declare to all law enforcement "that the voters of California are entitled to accurate representations in materials which are directed to them in efforts to influence how they vote."

Sincerely,

Philip B. Dreisbach, M.D.

To the Senate Elections Committee:

This is a request that you evaluate the reply of Mr. Jay Orr of the Riverside Attorney General's office (enclosed).

I have also enclosed a copy of my original complaint to the District Attorney's office, including a copy of the offending mailer sent by the TRICIA HUNTER FOR ASSEMBLY COMMITTEE.

Penal Code Section 115.1 and its legislative findings seem perfectly clear to me, but I ask that you research this section to determine if you believe that this legislation was intended to prevent the sort of abuse to which I and the voters were subjected here in the 80th Assembly District.

In brief, I ran as a write in candidate during the General Election last year, particularly against incumbent, Tricia Hunter. The enclosed mailer was received by Republican voters on the Monday before the election. The letter has no TRICIA HUNTER FOR ASSEMBLY disclaimer on it, so the voter is truly led to believe that the correspondence is from Jim Dignan, Republican Party Chairman. The letter is drafted to deliberately deceive voters into thinking that I, as the "opponent" had a campaign "being run and funded by Willie Brown." The TRICIA HUNTER COMMITTEE had no proof of such a relationship, and in fact, had knowledge to the contrary from my campaign disclosure. They were simply trying to confuse and deceive voters into thinking that I was a tool of Willie Brown.

Jim Dignan did not write that letter and had no prior knowledge of the letter. He did not give authority to put his name to the letter. While Penal Code Sec. 115.1 speaks directly of a signed signature, I believe that the legislative intent would also be concerned with this particular situation where the telegram style is used without written signature but uses an implied signature.

Please do not hesitate to contact me for further information or clarification.

Sincerely,

Philip B. Dreisbach, M.D.

Dear Dr. Dreisbach:

A member of my staff has further researched Penal Code Section 115.1 and 115.2.

After reviewing the legislative history and statute, the allegations you reported to this office, even if true, would not be prosecutable under either code section. The campaign material that you presented shows a mechanically printed name, not a signature or mechanical signature as required by the statute.

If the elements of the statutory offense do not exist, there is nothing further we can do.

Gracious God, So High Above All, Yet in Spirit, You Are in All, When we reflect on the many responsibilities of state which seek fulfillment in this room, it is awesome indeed. And how thankful we are, therefore, to be this close to the end of a long but fruitful session. How grateful we are for the untiring efforts of these legislators and staff. At work in this vineyard, they have been apart from home and family, friends and constituents; absent there, but busy here. By Your blessings and their labor and diligence, the harvest has been reaped and entrusted to the common good of citizens of this state. When the last hour of today is come, send them home, O Lord, thankful for the greening of the future and hope come alive, rejoicing to have been here. This is the day which the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it.—AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Jones was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2154

September 10, 1993

Honorable Willie Brown, Jr.
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Speaker: This letter is to clarify questions that have been raised by the Western States Petroleum Association regarding the implementation of my AB 2154.

AB 2154 requires the Department of Food and Agriculture to establish specifications for gasoline or automotive spark-ignition engine fuel, and for compression-ignition engine fuel, kerosene and fuel oil.

In adopting these specifications it is the intent of the department to adopt by reference the latest standards of the American Society for Testing and Materials (ASTM). If there are no ASTM standards for a particular fuel, the department shall adopt an interim standard established by a recognized consensus organization or standards writing organization. If the ASTM later adopts a standard, it shall be the recognized standard.

It is the further intent of the department that a "recognized consensus organization or standards writing organization" is an organization whose fuel performance standard setting expertise is established in testimony from the fuel manufacturers, the fuel distributors, the engine manufacturers, and other interested parties during the department's rulemaking proceedings.

Sincerely,

BILL JONES, Assembly Member
Twenty-ninth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Bates was granted unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal:

September 10, 1993

The Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 219
Sacramento, California

RE: Title IV-A Emergency Assistance Plan Amendment

Dear Mr. Speaker: The State Department of Social Services (DSS) recently amended its Title IV-A Emergency Assistance plan. The purpose of the plan amendment is to allow counties, and in some cases the state, to use federal funds to pay the costs of shelter care and services provided in juvenile assessment centers, juvenile halls, county camps and ranches, residential group care, and foster care for wards and dependents of the court. There is no doubt the federal dollars generated by the plan amendment will be significant.

While the actions of the department are laudable and will certainly be fiscally rewarding to the counties, I fear, as Chair of the Assembly Human Services Committee, that the plan creates fiscal incentives to place youth in settings that may be ultimately harmful to them. Thus I believe it is necessary to enter this letter into the Assembly Journal.

After reviewing the plan amendment and the accompanying documents, including memoranda of understanding (MOUs) between DSS and the counties, and between county social services and probation departments, I see no evidence that any thought has been given to the individual needs of youngsters, particularly wards of the court. Reference to needs assessments, case service plans, and documentation of appropriate placements is missing entirely from the plan amendment.

I feel strongly that in its negotiations with counties, DSS must ensure that procedures are developed and agreed upon to assure that children and youth funded by Title IV-A are properly assessed for needed services, and that placement is appropriate (i.e. in the least restrictive setting). To accomplish this, the following minimal procedures must be required:

1) The case plan and assessment for all IV-A youth must look like the case plan required for IV-E (see the MOU between local welfare and probation departments).
2) If the placement is in a camp, ranch, shelter, or other county-operated facility, the placement must be reviewed for appropriateness every thirty days. The proposed MOU requires only a six-month review; yet Title IV-A funding is available for only that amount of time.

In addition, as the single state agency, DSS must exercise oversight of activities funded by Title IV-A. At a minimum, this oversight should consist of:

1) Collecting statewide and county-specific data on the disposition of wards, to track where placements are being made. This would first require baseline data on the placement of wards prior to IV-A funding availability. DSS will then be able to determine if IV-A, as a funding source, is driving placement decisions, rather than the best interests of the youth.

2) Monitoring the lengths of stay in county emergency shelters if IV-A funding is available for more than thirty days. Case data should reflect why a child remains in the county shelter for more than 30 days.

3) Scrutiny of county-specific rates of reimbursement, with information on specific costs included in the rates. This will help determine whether counties are being encouraged to build more institutions because of the availability of IV-A funds. Information should also be sought on the ratio of overhead to direct service costs.

These procedures would substantially address the concerns expressed in the beginning of this letter. I hope that the inclusion of this letter in the Assembly Journal will encourage the Administration to consider these suggestions and make use of them in its negotiations with the counties. The Assembly Human Services Committee, in its oversight role, will review the MOUs during the interim, in order to determine if legislative action is necessary when we return.

Respectfully yours,

TOM BATES, Chair
Human Services Committee

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Isenberg was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 392

September 10, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter is to address the legislative intent of Assembly Bill 392, Chapter 158, Statutes of 1993.

The intent of the Legislature in passing AB 392 was to provide the state's share of funding for trial court operations for the 1993–94 fiscal year.

It is further intended that the amounts scheduled for each county includes both the block grant for trial courts and the block grant supplement for salaries for municipal and justice court judges.

Sincerely,

PHIL ISENBERG, Assembly Member

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Cannella was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 609

September 10, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson, Chief Clerk
California State Assembly
State Capitol—Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Dotson: I am writing this letter to outline, in a clear manner, the intent of my Assembly Bill 609 which is currently on the governor's desk awaiting his signature.

The intent of AB 609 is to require a credit card issuer, who discloses marketing information to marketers of goods, to provide notice to their cardholders that they disclose such information and to give the cardholder an opportunity to prohibit such disclosures. AB 609 requires only one notice to each consumer that the credit card issuer discloses marketing information on.

If a credit card issuer does not disclose marketing information on a consumer, no notice is required by AB 609. Furthermore, if the consumer received notice which complies with the provisions of this bill prior to the effective date of this legislation, no additional notice is required by this bill.

Lastly, it is not my intent to restrict credit card issuers from sharing information within corporate entities with common ownership or control.

Thank you for allowing me to clarify the intent of AB 609.

Sincerely,

SAL CANNELLA, Assembly Member
Twenty-sixth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Eastin was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2136

September 10, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: I wish to have this letter printed in the Assembly Journal on the day Assembly Bill 2136 is sent to enrollment. The purpose of this letter is to clarify my intent regarding amendments to AB 2136, of the 1993–94 Regular Session of the Legislature. AB 2136 would create a program within the California Integrated Waste Management Board for cleaning up illegal and abandoned solid waste disposal sites.

When my bill was before the Senate Appropriations Committee on August 25, 1993, it was the wish of the Committee that the solid waste disposal site cleanup program become a Trust Fund with monies solely dedicated to the cleanup of these important sites. In addition, it was the intent of the Committee that the Trust Fund not be used, loaned, or transferred for any other purpose. As part of the agreement, specific legislative intent language was to have been added to AB 2136 that clearly established the uses and purposes of the Trust Fund. As a result of an inadvertent oversight, the majority of the Committee amendments were included in AB 2136 (as amended September 8, 1993), but the legislative intent language was omitted.

Given the lateness of the Legislative Session, I am unable to amend the legislative intent language into AB 2136. I am committed to work with the Senate Appropriations Committee in the future to ensure that the omitted legislative intent language is enacted into law next year.

Respectfully,

DELAINE EASTIN, Assembly Member
Twentieth District

Clarification—Assembly Bill No. 264

September 10, 1993

Mr. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter is to inform you that there was an inadvertent typographical error in Assembly Bill 264, which was enrolled on September 3. The error is located on page 4, line 23.

The line currently reads "a reasonable sale of interest." It should read "a reasonable rate of interest."

Sincerely,

JIM COSTA, Assembly Member

Clarification—Assembly Bill No. 1769

September 10, 1993

Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: I request that this letter be printed in the Assembly Journal to clarify a provision of Assembly Bill 1769 concerning rechargeable batteries. The reference to Public Resources Code Section 51013 on page 6, line 33, is a typographical error that should read, Section 15013. The California Integrated Waste Management Board is aware of the error and intends to include a technical correction in code clean-up legislation in 1994.

Sincerely,

BURT MARGOLIN, Assembly Member
Forty-second District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Speier was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal.

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 891

September 10, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Assembly Chamber

Dear Chief Clerk: With this letter I wish to underscore my intention to introduce clean-up legislation in January to address remaining issues concerning the implementation of AB 891, my measure to require physicians to report specified financial interests to the Medical Board of California.

I am authoring AB 891 with the intention of enabling government entities, and public and private payors, to both track the recently passed prohibition on physician referral in the workers' compensation system and pinpoint potential problem areas regarding physician ownership and referral in the future. Since the workers' compensation system identifies many other health care providers as physicians, the provisions of my clean-up legislation to AB 891 should cover the additional providers classified as physicians in the Labor Code, as well as the classifications of physician and surgeon licensed pursuant to the Business and Professions Code.

Sincerely,

JACKIE SPEIER, Assembly Member
Nineteenth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Horcher was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1972

September 10, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk

RE: Assembly Bill No. 1972 (Horcher)

Dear Mr. Wilson: On September 3, 1993, this honorable body concurred in the Senate amendments to my AB 1972 and transmitted it to the Governor. This bill, among other things, adds Sections 26751 and 41612 to the Government Code concerning the payment of a fee to a sheriff or chief of police pursuant to Section 28 of the Vehicle Code. I would like to make clear my intention that the reference to "responsible party" in Sections 26751 and 41612 of the Government Code is to the person in possession or the legal owner of a repossessed vehicle and not the debtor. I intend to introduce legislation in January to clarify this issue.

Sincerely,

PAUL V. HORCHER, Assembly Member
Sixtieth District

Legislative Intent—Senate Bills Nos. 268 and 458 and Assembly Bills Nos. 1246 and 2222

September 9, 1993

Dear Mr. Speaker and Members:

It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting SB 268 (Roberti), SB 458 (Hart), AB 2222 (Lee), and AB 1246 (Quackenbush) that the "regional technology alliances" created by these bills will not be grant recipients of project specific technology defense conversion funding, but instead serve, in part, to "pass-through" grant awards to private businesses, or other public or private entities, who may be selected for funding as a result of the grant selection process established in these bills.

Further, it is the intent of the Legislature that the Office of Strategic Technology within the Trade and Commerce Agency, as established by AB 1246 (Quackenbush) and referenced in SB 458 (Hart), AB 2222 (Lee) and SB 268 (Roberti), shall establish a statewide network of experts in defense conversion technology fields, including but not limited to: advanced transportation technologies; energy/environment; commercial aerospace; information technologies; medicine; and electronics. These experts shall include, as applicable, representatives from non-profit statewide consortia involved in advanced transportation technologies and other defense conversion technologies mentioned above.

Further, it is the intent of the Legislature that the review panel or panels established pursuant to Government Code section 8452 in SB 268 (Roberti) shall include experts from non-profit statewide consortia involved in advanced transportation technologies and other defense conversion technologies, as applicable.

Sincerely,

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

RE: Legislative Intent of Assembly Bill 1086

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter for the Assembly Journal is to clarify the intent of the Legislature regarding my Assembly Bill 1086. AB 1086 adds a definition of insurance manuals to the 1991 law which authorized advisory organizations to file them for the Commissioner's approval. The definition that AB 1086 adds clarifies what was intended in the 1991 law, and it follows a 1989 model bulletin put out by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

My intent in authoring this legislation is to make it clear that, with the exception of expressly prohibited final rates, advisory organizations, such as Insurance Services Office, Incorporated (ISO) or the American Association of Insurance Services, are permitted to make manuals available for use in California which have the same content and format as those made available to insurers and agents in every other state, nothing more and nothing less.

It is intended that these manuals may be used together with rates prepared by individual insurers and approved by the Insurance Commissioner, so agents and brokers may more easily "shop the market" for their customers and provide them with premium quotations. The bill was amended in the Assembly on June 3, 1993 to make it clear that advisory organization manuals cannot contain final rates.

Sincerely,

ROBERT J. CAMPBELL, Assembly Member
Eleventh District

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2137

September 10, 1993

The Honorable Willie Brown, Speaker
California State Legislature
State Capitol, Room #219
Sacramento, California

Dear Speaker Brown: I respectfully request that this letter be published in the journal to clarify legislative intent with respect to my Assembly Bill 2137.

I have learned that there is some concern as to whether or not future amendments to an existing card club ordinance must be submitted to the voters for approval if the amendments relate to the hours of operation, games to be played, or wagering limits. It was never my intention to require that ordinances in existence prior to January 1, 1994, be resubmitted to the voters for approval of any changes to the hours of operation, games to be played, or wagering limits. I believe that the bill is sufficiently clear that the above items should only be addressed by the voters for those ordinances which are enacted on or after January 1, 1994.

Thank you in advance for assisting me to clarify this issue.

Most cordially,

BILL HOGE, Assembly Member
Forty-fourth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Quackenbush was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2288

September 10, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk
California State Legislature
State Capitol—3rd Floor
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter is intended to clarify my intent and understanding of the criminal penalty provisions included within AB 2288. These provisions provide penalty authority necessary for California's implementation of the federal air quality operating permit program included in Title V of the Federal Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Section 7661 et seq.). Consistent with the legislative history of the enactment of the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 (see the joint Explanatory Statement of the Committee of Conference, in the October 26, 1990 Conference Report on S. 1630), my intent relative to proposed Health and Safety Code Section 42400.4 is as follows.

Nothing in Section 42400.4 is intended to discourage owners or operators of sources subject to Title V of the Federal clean Air Act from conducting self-evaluations or self-audits and acting to correct any problems identified. The criminal penalties available under subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 42400.4 should not ordinarily be applied where a person, acting in good faith, promptly reports the results of an audit and promptly acts to correct any deviation from applicable conditions and requirements. Knowledge gained by a person solely in conducting an audit or while attempting to correct any deficiencies identified in the audit or the audit report itself, should not ordinarily form the basis of intent which results in criminal penalties under Section 42400.4.

Sincerely,

CHUCK QUACKENBUSH, Assembly Member
Twenty-fourth District

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Sher was granted unanimous consent that the following statements of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 724

September 10, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: It is my understanding that the intent of the August 31 amendment to Section 8 of my AB 724 of the 1993–94 Regular Session was to exempt parcels from the provisions of the bill if the agricultural preserve was in the process of disestablishment. For example, this grandfather clause would include, but not be limited to, agricultural preserves such as El Prado in San Bernardino County where a general plan amendment had been initiated as a prerequisite to disestablishment. Such lands may be at various stages of the disestablishment process including development of the necessary California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) documentation. It was my intent to exclude these parcels from the more rigorous compatible use standards because their applications for alternative uses were already in the local review process.

Sincerely,

BYRON D. SHER, Assembly Member
Twenty-first District

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 440

September 10, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Room 3196
State Capitol

Dear Mr. Wilson: I wish to have this letter printed in the Assembly Journal for the day AB 440 is sent to enrollment. The purpose of this letter is to clarify my intent regarding amendments to AB 440, of the 1993–94 Regular Session of the Legislature. AB 440 is legislation which makes needed changes to the state integrated waste management laws. In the drafting of the September 8 amendments to the bill, an inadvertent error occurred. Due to the end-of-session deadlines there was not time to resubmit the amendments to Legislative Counsel for redrafting. Section 41770.5 of the Public Resources Code, as added by the version of this bill which was sent to enrollment, was intended to be struck from the bill in this final set of amendments, but was inadvertently not struck. I intend to introduce legislation next year to strike this section of law as it is not needed, and as it needlessly confuses approval and review procedures for the source reduction and recycling elements and household hazardous waste elements of countywide or regional agency integrated waste management plans.

Sincerely,

BYRON D. SHER, Assembly Member
Twenty-first District

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 1467

September 9, 1993

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: I would request that the following letter be inserted in the Journal:

This letter is to address my legislative intent in authoring Assembly Bill 1467. It is my intent that the expenditures described in Section 14549.6 of the Public Resources Code, as amended by this bill, shall have a lesser priority than the payments authorized by Section 14581 of the Public Resources Code. The expenditures described in Section 14549.6 shall in no way serve to decrease the payments authorized by Section 14581.

Sincerely,

BYRON SHER, Assembly Member

Room 3196, State Capitol
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: This letter clarifies an erroneous reference made in AB 557 (Farr), which contains a provision addressing county fire departments and the 1993–94 special districts' property tax shift as enacted by the AB 1519 (Isenberg) Conference Committee Report.

Page 31, lines 20 and 21 of AB 557 refers to the State Controller's 1991–92 Edition of the Financial Transactions Report Concerning Counties as the source of financial data for calculations for county fire departments. The 1991–92 edition of this State Controller's report is not in print yet, and reference to this report should be deleted from the bill.

As the county auditors prepare guidelines to implement the 1993–94 property tax shift, they should note that it was the intent of the members of the AB 1519 Conference Committee to clarify that a special district includes any special district that is allocated property tax revenue and does not appear in the State Controller's Report on Financial Transactions Concerning Special Districts, but is engaged in fire protection activities and appears in the State Controller's Report on Financial Transactions Concerning Counties. It is further the intent of the Legislature to delete the reference to the 1991–92 State Controller's Report on Financial Transactions Concerning Counties in legislation to be introduced in January 1994 when the Legislature reconvenes.

Sincerely,

MARIAN BERGESON

RESOLUTION

By the Honorable Ken Maddy, 14th Senatorial District;

Relative to Commending the Freshman Class of 1993

WHEREAS, The Freshman Class of 1993 took up the challenge to entertain at the End-of-Session bash, but alas, their senior colleagues they proceeded to trash; and

WHEREAS, The Freshman Class came to Sacramento with reform in their hearts, but it seems their real agenda is just to throw darts; and

WHEREAS, The Freshman Class has pledged to bring change to the ranks, the only change they have produced is found in a bank; and

WHEREAS, The mission of the skit was to free Willie, but the "fossils" in the Senate just thought they looked silly; and

WHEREAS, No one in the Capitol was immune from their jabs with Wilson, Maddy, Roberti, and even Mountjoy all getting the nab; and

WHEREAS, The Freshman hoped that we'd miss it because of the early hour we slept, don't think that our failing memories will let us forget; and

WHEREAS, Despite calling the Senate "Geriatric Park," the greenback-paved road to this house is one path many of you will soon embark; and

WHEREAS, Until that time, the Members of the California Senate want to remind the Freshmen that we are fully in charge, but after that skit, there will be many bills we may not discharge; now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED BY SENATOR KEN MADDY, That the performance by the Freshman Class of 1993 at the End-of-Session Bash was one of the more creative and witty bipartisan displays in recent memory; and be it further

RESOLVED, That special congratulations be extended to the director of the performance, Assembly Member Vivien Bronshvag; and be it further

RESOLVED, That the camaraderie and cooperation displayed by the Freshman Class of 1993 reflect their emerging leadership skills and assure the current Members of the State Senate that the California Legislature will be left in very talented and capable hands.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Sher was granted unanimous consent that the following statement of legislative intent be printed in the Journal:

September 10, 1993

E. Dotson Wilson, Chief Clerk
California State Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3164
Sacramento, California

Re: Legislative Intent Regarding AB 1888 (Sher and Allen)

Dear Mr. Wilson: We are writing to express our legislative intent with respect to several provisions contained in AB 1888, of which we are joint authors.

First, due to an error in drafting, the date which appears on page 19, line 14, in the September 9, 1993 amended version of the bill, should be October 1, 1994.

Second, at the request of the Irvine Company, it was our intent to delete the second sentence in subdivision (d) of Section 21100 (Section 14 of the bill, page 25, lines 30–36). Due to the lateness with which the amendments were released from the Legislative Counsel, we were unable to accomplish this change.

Third, the titles of the articles created by this bill and SB 919 (Dills) for expedited review of environmentally mandated projects need to be reconciled.

It is our intent to introduce urgency legislation when the Legislature reconvenes to address these and other cleanup issues associated with these two measures.

Sincerely,

Byron D. Sher, Chairman
Assembly Natural Resources
Committee

Doris Allen, Lead Republican
Assembly Natural Resources
Committee

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Assembly Member Areias was granted unanimous consent that the following communication be printed in the Journal:

September 10, 1993

Members of the Legislature:

There is no profession in California more dangerous than firefighting. Assembly Bill 3198 (c. 1217, 1992 stats) makes provisions for a Firefighters' Memorial, honoring those firefighters who have paid the ultimate price protecting our communities, to be built in Capitol Park.

The actual site for the memorial has now been chosen after consultation and approval from the Department of General Services, the State Office of Historic Preservation, the California Fire Foundation and the Historic State Capitol Commission.

There were four sites considered. Three of them were suggested by the Department of General Services. A fourth was proposed by the Historic State Capitol Commission.

The site decided upon was General Services Site B.

The memorial will be built just beyond the second intersection from the east steps exit of the State Capitol Building. On the General Services map of the park, it will be located between trees 184 and 185.

There is a commitment from all involved that the Firefighters' Memorial will serve a dual purpose: to pay a deserved tribute to those who have fallen, and to enhance the beauty and integrity of Capitol Park.

Sincerely,

RUSTY AREIAS, Assembly Member
Twenty-eighth District

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following veto messages from the Governor were received, and ordered printed in the Journal and the bills placed on the unfinished business file:

Veto Message–Assembly Bill No. 116

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 116 without my signature.

This bill would require school districts and county superintendents of schools to provide an appeals process to school administrators for specified procedural violations related to demotions.

Administrators receive higher salaries and higher prestige than other employees in school districts. Along with those rewards comes the traditional burden of serving at the pleasure of the school governing board. AB 116 would change this traditional relationship.

For example, this bill would add obstacles for new superintendents who want to bring in a new management team. Similarly, it would add obstacles for a school board that wants to make major changes in the direction of the district. Finally, it would foster legal action against school districts, adding expenses that districts can ill-afford.

In sum, I support maximum flexibility for local boards to manage their affairs in trying to educate children. This bill emphasizes the employment program at the expense of the education program.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1235

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1235 without my signature.

This bill would increase the layoff notification for K–12 and community college classified employees from 30 to 90 days, except under specified conditions.

It does not make sense to pass laws which decrease the flexibility of school districts and community colleges to manage their resources. The State should be enhancing, not limiting, the ability of local governing boards to handle their affairs.

In addition, this bill would result in an increased incidence of employees receiving layoff notices that are subsequently rescinded, causing those employees unnecessary stress.

Finally, layoff notices greater than 30 days are within the scope of collective bargaining. If this is a high priority for employee organizations, they can negotiate extended notice periods.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 188

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 188 without my signature.

This bill would authorize the Trustees of the California State University to establish an Institute for Preservation of Jazz at the California State University at Long Beach. It would also authorize the Chancellor to appoint an advisory board for the Institute.

The bill includes intent language that the Institute be funded by a variety of sources, including federal, state, local or private sources. I am concerned that this listing is so broadly stated that it could include public funds that are intended to support the education of students at the CSU. While I cannot support the diversion of scarce public educational dollars, I would have no objection to signing legislation that would allow for public funding for such an institute as long as the funds were awarded by public entities expressly dedicated to the arts.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 974

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 974 without my signature.

This bill would reauthorize and reinstate the Miller-Unruh Basic Reading Act of 1965, renamed as the Miller-Unruh Reading/Language Arts Program, effective January 1, 1994. This program sunset in 1987.

While the measure includes reforms with respect to the manner in which districts are funded, I still believe this bill has several flaws. First, I would prefer to provide districts with greater flexibility in their financial matters, not just substitute one set of rules for another, or possibly even decrease their flexibility.

Second, by increasing the subsidy amount per reading specialist from $22,500 to $28,800, this bill would actually decrease the number of positions funded.

Finally, under the prior statutes, the rules and regulations for the administration of the program were adopted by the State Board of Education. Under AB 974, this would shift to the Superintendent of Public Instruction. I do not see any reason for this change in oversight.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1024

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1024 without my signature.

This bill would declare the Legislature's intent that the Superintendent of Public Instruction allocate $50,000 in federal Child Care block grant funds for reproduction and dissemination of information on language development. This funding is intended to be in addition to the $250,000 already allocated for this purpose in the statewide child care plan.

While I support the purpose of this bill, signing it may actually confuse the issue of how much to allocate for information on language development. Contrary to my understanding of what the bill in intended to do—that is, augment an existing allocation—the plain reading of the bill indicates that $50,000 is to be allocated, not $300,000 or even $250,000. Since the State Department of Education has already indicated its intent to award the funds in a manner consistent with my understanding of the author's intent, I think it is better not to confuse the issue with the enactment of this bill.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1077

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1077 without my signature.

This bill requests the University of California (UC) and the California State University (CSU), in consultation with the Department of Housing and Community Development, to conduct a study of the feasibility of providing reduced-price or free housing to students in exchange for community service work.

While I am very supportive of the goals of this bill—to provide community services and reduce students' housing costs—the plan requested by the bill could only realistically be implemented through an increased taxpayer subsidy for housing costs. No matter how creatively it is packaged, such a subsidy would have to be provided by the owners of student housing, whether it is campus-based student housing, local government public housing projects, or privately owned property. It is unlikely that any subsidy arrived at in this fashion would be funded by any other source than public funding. In effect, the value of the community services rendered would have to be paid for by the taxpayers as a subsidy for students. While enhanced community service is a desirable objective, such an approach would merely be a cost shift from the students to the taxpayers. This is a very convoluted method of enhancing student aid.

Finally, if UC and CSU wish to undertake such a feasibility study, legislation is not required. They are capable of doing so under existing law.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1989

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1989 without my signature.

This bill would require school districts who receive funding from the State Allocation Board to obtain specific authorization to expend funds before entering into or modifying a construction contract.

I am concerned that this bill would increase the state's potential liability with respect to construction contracts between local schools and contractors. Under current law, the state enters into a fiduciary relationship with a school district, providing funding for the district to execute school construction projects. Currently, the district acts as the state's agent in this regard, and the contracts entered into are viewed as local instruments without direct state influence.

This bill would fundamentally change the state's involvement in local contracts and change orders, from one of reviewing conformance to program requirements to one arguably of specific approval. As such, delays in the processing or approval of these contracts and change orders could result in costly delays, with the state incurring a liability for damages.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 21st day of September 1993, at 4:40 p.m., of Assembly Bills Nos. 116, 1235, 188, 974, 1024, 1077, and 1989, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

RALPH ROMO
Chief Assistant Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 439

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 439 without my signature.

This bill would prevent the reduction of state officers' and supervisory and managerial employees' salaries authorized in a prior budget act unless the state first meets and confers with those employees' representatives regarding the reduction.

The state needs flexibility to manage its resources in times of fiscal emergency. This bill would restrict the state's ability to reduce state employees' salaries in an effort to avoid lay-offs and balance the state budget. This bill is not in the best interests of state employees, state government, or the California taxpayer.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 634

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 634 without my signature.

This bill would define the term "family member" in the Government Code under the Department of Personnel Administration Law to determine benefit eligibility for the State dental and vision programs.

The increasing cost of employee benefits including dental and vision is a continuing concern of both the State employer and the employee organizations. The changes in this bill could increase both employer and employee benefit costs. Because of these concerns, the recently negotiated state collective bargaining contracts provide for labor/management cost containment committees which are addressing the issue of benefit coverage for family dependents.

AB 634 circumvents the collective bargaining process and is premature in light of the recommendations of these cost containment committees.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 725

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 725 without my signature.

This bill would roll back the traditional restrictions against representatives in small claims court and allow a public agency to appear and participate in small claims actions through uncompensated volunteer representatives.

The Administration is committed to the original intent of the Small Claims Act, which emphasizes the principle of self-representation. This bill is inconsistent with the principle of self-representation upon which the claims court system was founded.

This bill would invite public agencies to use small claims court as a collection bureau. This would interfere with small claims court's purpose of providing a forum for parties in interest to resolve minor disputes quickly and inexpensively. It would also invite further exceptions which would overburden the system and degrade the quality of service in the small claims court system.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 787

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 787 without my signature.

This bill would extend the protection for whistleblower retaliation that is currently available to the California state civil service employees to employees of the California State University (CSU) system who are exempt from civil service.

Under current law, civil service employees may appeal to the State Personnel Board (SPB) for protection against reprisals when they report other employees for improper activities. The SPB can take action against an employee who misuses his or her authority to prevent or punish such disclosure.

Employees who are not part of state civil service, on the other hand, may appeal to the grievance board of the agency where they are employed. For example, employees of the University of California (UC) may appeal to the University itself for whistleblower protection.

In contrast to the current appeal procedures, this bill would permit non-civil service CSU employees to appeal to the civil service appeals board, the SPB. A more effective solution would be to give the CSU the same authority for whistleblower protection as provided to the UC which allows its employees to complain directly to the university system.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 22nd day of September 1993, at 4:25 p.m., of Assembly Bills Nos. 439, 634, 725, and 787, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

E. DOTSON WILSON
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 397

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 24, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 397 without my signature.

This bill would exclusively authorize the port agent of the pilot's association to assign pilots to vessels entering San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun ports.

The California Department of Fish and Game is currently preparing a statutorily required study of all the state's separate pilotage authorities. It is premature to name an authority for port assignments until the Department completes its study.

This bill would also require the Governor to select prospective appointees to the Board of Pilot Commissioners from nominees offered by the pilot's association. The Governor already solicits the input of the pilot's association in selecting licensed pilots to serve on the Board. This provision is therefore unnecessary.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1068

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 24, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1068 without my signature.

This bill would extend the sunset date for the Commission on State Finance from July 1, 1994 to July 1, 1999.

Because virtually everything the Commission does is duplicative of either or both the Department of Finance and the Legislative Analyst, my budget proposal included it as one of several actions to downsize state government.

The 1993–94 budget includes $178,000 for the Commission, which is intended to provide for an orderly phasing out over this fiscal year. I see no reason to continue to expend funds for a duplicative function when we have been forced to reduce and eliminate critical programs and services.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1753

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 24, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1753 without my signature.

This bill would revise the composition of the Board of Governors of the Community Colleges by replacing a public member with a classified employee member, who would be selected from a list of three persons nominated by the classified employee unions.

The Community College Reform Act of 1988 created the existing composition of the Board of Governors. That balance was achieved after extensive deliberations involving all participants in the community college community. I see no reason to change the current appointment structure.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 24th day of September 1993, at 3:25 p.m., of Assembly Bills Nos. 397, 1068, and 1753, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

RALPH ROMO
Chief Assistant Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 493

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 25, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 493 without my signature.

This bill would require the Department of Finance to compile an inventory of state infrastructure projects that have been approved by state agencies and submit the inventory to the Legislature by July 1, 1994.

Every year the Department issues a report describing the state's potential need for the financing of major capital outlay and infrastructure projects for a ten year period. The report also discusses potential funding sources. This report is sufficient for strategic planning purposes. Thus, it is not necessary to require the Department to incur additional costs to compile an inventory as well.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1424

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 25, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1424 without my signature.

This bill would create a five year parole assistance pilot project within the Department of Corrections.

The Department of Corrections, in a joint effort with the Department of Alcohol and Drug Abuse Programs, has already implemented four demonstration projects that provide treatment and recovery services to over 2,000 parolees. These demonstration projects are currently in their last year of funding and evaluations are being conducted. If found effective, these projects could be modified, enhanced or expanded.

While this bill would provide similar services for this purpose, it does not contain an appropriation to cover its substantial costs. Since this bill did not compete with others for an appropriation on a priority basis, I am not willing to sign this bill.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1658

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 25, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1658 without my signature.

This bill would declare that it is the policy of the State of California that the tasks and duties necessary for providing telephone service to Californians shall be performed by Californians.

I sympathize with those workers seeking new employment in the telephone industry, however, this bill appears to be unconstitutional. Our collective efforts are better served by making economic and regulatory changes to the California business climate in order to retain these employers in California.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1701

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 25, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1701 without my signature.

This bill would direct the Public Utilities Commission to require telephone corporations and providers of information-access services to offer a local or toll-free telephone number and live operators for customer inquiries.

Currently, the Public Utilities Commission requires that local telephone service providers make available local or toll-free numbers making this section of AB 1701 unnecessary. As to information access services, many of these businesses operate out of state, beyond the jurisdiction of the Public Utilities Commission, making enforcement of these provisions problematic.

Although I share the author's frustration with automated phone systems, as opposed to line operators, these services are a technological reality. If used correctly, these systems can both cut costs and better inform the caller utilizing the service.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 257

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 257 without my signature.

This bill would require the Department of Fish and Game to prepare an annual report on its authority to levy civil penalties. I signed into law last year, a bill which placed a moratorium on the preparation of a long list of statutorily required reports. This bill is contrary to that statute and to my policy and goals, which is movement toward less—not more—bureaucracy.

The information required by this bill can and will be made available by the Department when requested by any interested person. A statutory mandated report is not necessary.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 981

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 981 without my signature.

This bill would require redevelopment agencies to submit a report which included a list of properties or structures of historic significance within six months of the adoption of any preliminary (general) plan which is approved on or after March 15, 1994.

AB 981 also requires each local county or city authority to develop and update a Historic Property Data-base. It would also permit a redevelopment agency to charge fees to defray any cost in implementing the bill.

The laudable goals of this bill have been achieved by existing requirements for identification of already listed properties during the CEQA process, making this measure unnecessary and duplicative.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1711

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1711 without my signature.

This bill would establish the Monterey Bay State Seashore within the State park system. This bill would also appropriate the balance of the revenues from the Violation and Remediation Account to the State Coastal Conservancy for beach related projects.

I do not have any objections to establishing the Monterey Bay State Seashore. I do, however, object to appropriating the revenue outside of the budget process.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1814

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1814 without my signature.

This bill requires Trade and Commerce Agency to study all regulations pertaining to small businesses; develop a program for small business to complete the permit process at one location and examine ways to reduce the complexity and volume of that process. The Agency would be required to submit a report of findings and recommendations to the Legislature and the Governor on or before August 1, 1994.

Several agencies within the Administration are currently taking action to provide streamlined regulations in California's permitting processes. Within the Trade and Commerce Agency, the Office of Permit Assistance is providing assistance to businesses in understanding environmental regulation and permitting issues. The Agency's Red Teams work with businesses every day to deal with permitting problems and red tape. The two dozen Small Business Development Centers statewide provide a wide range of business assistance, including assistance on regulatory issues. And just this summer, I opened the Business Revitalization Center in Los Angeles, to provide one-stop shopping for large and small businesses in Los Angeles Revitalization Zone. Requiring the Trade and Commerce Agency to conduct yet another study on the feasibility of permit streamlining is duplicative and unnecessary.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1844

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1844 without my signature.

This bill would enumerate fees that local governments may charge to finance building code enforcement activities and restructures the fine imposed for violations of housing laws.

This bill is unnecessary. Local governments already have the authority to charge fees to offset the cost of enforcement. Local governments should have the discretion to implement this provision without additional State intervention or direction.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 2145

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 26, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2145 without my signature.

This bill would recommend a procedure for state and local agencies to follow prior to selling or disposing of property of homeless people which is found on public property.

The bill includes a legislative recommendation for the minimum requirements of a model procedure to be used. This model would require notices to be posted 24 hours prior to property removal, except in the case of a health or safety issue. Under the model the notices would contain information regarding retrieval. Notices would be required to remain in place for 48 hours after removal and property would be required to be stored for 20 days before disposal.

Local governments and affected state agencies are in the best position to determine the most effective method of handling the property of the homeless. The procedures outlined in this measure are overly prescriptive and could unnecessarily result in considerable cost to implement. Moreover, existing law mandates that unclaimed property must be kept for a minimum of 90 days. A better alternative to AB 2145 would be to encourage the homeless outreach organization to make a concentrated effort at informing people of the need to contact law enforcement in order to receive their belongings.

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 27th day of September 1993, at 4 p.m, of Assembly Bills Nos. 493, 1424, 1658, 1701, 257, 981, 1711, 1814, 1844, and 2145, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

PAMELLA J. CAVILEER
Acting Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 714

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 28, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 714 without my signature.

This bill would request the California Conference of Directors of Environmental Health (CCDEH) in cooperation with the Departments of Health Services and Education, to develop guidelines for voluntarily resolving health permit fee practice discrepancies by local agencies as they apply to schools. The CCDEH would report the progress to the Legislature by July 1, 1994.

This bill is an attempt to find a process to resolve local disputes regarding health permit fees between school districts and local public health enforcement agencies.

While guidelines to help resolve those disputes may be desirable, it is not necessary for this to be authorized by state law. Further, this bill would insert two state agencies—the Departments of Health Services and Education—into the arena of determining appropriate fee levels for local agencies. This is a matter best left to the affected agencies whose fee structures are determined within a local context.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 888

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 28, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 888 without my signature.

This bill would establish procedures in statute for verifying union members' support for an election to replace the employee organization which represents them in negotiations with the state.

Under existing law, the Public Employees Relations Board is responsible for establishing "reasonable procedures" to govern petitions for elections by employee groups and elections conducted pursuant to those petitions. This bill would circumvent PERB's authority to promulgate regulations regarding elections by placing into statute what is more properly governed by PERB regulations.

To the degree that this bill addresses problems with the current rules and regulations in this area, these processes are better corrected by PERB which has the statutory responsibility in this area.

Cordially,

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1973

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 28, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1973 without my signature.

This bill would authorize San Bernardino County to impose a surcharge on civil filing fees of up to $35 to fund courthouse operations.

Last year I signed Assembly Bill 1344 which established a uniform statewide amount of $182 for civil filing fees. Concurrently, two counties experiencing revenue shortfalls were authorized to either retain or create additional fee revenue to fund major capital improvements deemed necessary at the time.

This bill seeks to revise the fee schedule for the benefit of San Bernardino County. I am not willing, however, to revisit the fee schedule issue for any county so soon after the civil filing fee schedule has been established statewide.

E. DOTSON WILSON
Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 2374

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 1, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2374 without my signature.

This bill would provide that a candidate or any member of a campaign committee not be personally liable for any debt or tortious conduct of the committee or of any agent, officer, employee, or other member of the committee, unless the candidate or member has personally agreed in writing or orally to be liable for the debt or has personally committed the tortious act.

According to the author, AB 2374 is merely declaratory of existing law. However, I have vetoed the measure at his request.

While the issue of personal liability of candidates and committee members for debts and obligations arising out of a campaign may merit legislative review, I remain unpersuaded that there is compelling reason to codify that law on an urgency basis at this time.

LAWRENCE A. MURMAN
Assistant Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 2109

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 1, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2109 without my signature.

This bill would establish the High School Limited-English Proficient Pupil Retention and Graduation Act of 1993, to provide concentrated English language acquisition to high school students in four school districts. Attendance in this program shall be in addition to the minimum school day for high schools. School districts operating this program would receive supplemental average daily attendance (ADA) through a specified formula.

While the aim of this program is admirable, it is unclear why this program is needed because schools could provide these services already if they so choose. Schools are currently required to provide bilingual education programs for limited English proficient students. Further, this bill leaves the funding to be provided in the annual Budget Act. This puts one more program "on the books" that will not be implemented unless or until funding is provided.

Finally, in these times of extremely scarce fiscal resources, it is totally inappropriate to be establishing a new categorical education program that would benefit only a handful of school districts at the expense of all other districts in the state.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1650

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 1, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1650 without my signature.

This bill would exempt Regional Occupational Centers and Programs (ROC/P) from required attendance accounting procedures until June 30, 1996.

The current method required for these programs is based on a positive accounting for attendance. As such, this program is different from the regular K–12 instructional program, which only has to record attendance once a day.

This method encourages ROC/P instructors to ensure that pupils attend class for the entire session in courses beyond one hour. Removing this requirement might result in less instruction to pupils. Furthermore, AB 1650 would establish a precedent for other programs that use positive attendance accounting, such as adult education and continuation high schools.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1493

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 1, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1493 without my signature.

This bill would allow a deduction to property tax increases that were levied to pay for general obligation school bonds. That deduction would be calculated based on existing debt to the homeowner for Mello-Roos bonds.

While I believe that this bill is a good faith attempt to deal with a real problem—that of "double-taxation" of property owners for school bonds—the remedy is flawed.

By allowing a group of homeowners to vote while simultaneously exempting or limiting their tax liability, this bill would separate the act of voting from its consequences. That is, one set of homeowners could vote to increase the taxes of another set of homeowners without having their own raised.

Despite the admitted difficulty of passing a district-wide school bond created by the existence of Mello-Roos obligations, this bill doesn't solve the problem, but instead substitutes one problem for another.

I believe a more appropriate solution would be passage of Proposition 170 on the November 1993 statewide ballot that would reduce approval of local school bonds from two-thirds to a simple majority vote.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 349

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 349 without my signature.

This bill would provide a pre-retirement death benefit for survivors of school members of the Public Employees' Retirement System (PERS).

The additional benefit provided by this bill would result in a local mandated program, the costs of which are state-reimbursable and payable from the General Fund. The annual cost of the bill could reach $4.5 million.

I am opposed to any benefit enhancement that increases General Fund costs at a time of unprecedented fiscal crisis. In addition, the benefit enhancement proposed in this bill is an issue that would more appropriately be addressed through the collective bargaining process. Legislating benefits in advance of the outcome of that process is inappropriate.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1027

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1027 without my signature.

This bill would establish a two-year California Task Force to Promote Public Safety by Reducing Recidivism. Ten of the twenty-one appointments to the Task Force would be made by the Legislature.

This measure would duplicate the current efforts of the Board of Corrections, California Council on Criminal Justice, the Office of Criminal Justice Planning, and the Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs which administers the California Master Plan to Reduce Drug and Alcohol Abuse.

Considering California's current revenue shortfall, the recent dissolution of hundreds of non-essential task forces, commissions, and advisory groups, and the fact that most, if not all, of the objectives of the proposed task force are already being met, I do not believe that the creation of this task force is necessary. Moreover, I do not believe it is appropriate for the Legislature to make appointments to an entity charged with Executive Branch duties.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1293

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1293 without my signature.

This bill would require the state to provide reasonable accommodation to a state employee who has family care responsibilities that need to be undertaken during the employee's regular working hours, unless that state employer can demonstrate that it would create an undue hardship on the employer's operations.

In this legislative session, I have signed AB 1460 (Moore) which provides up to 12 weeks a year of leave for both public and certain private employees to care for the health and needs of family members. That measure brought California Medical into conformity with the Federal Family and Medical Leave Act of 1993.

Furthermore, other provisions in state law and collective bargaining agreements permit the state employer to grant flextime, workshift adjustments, bereavement leave and family sick leave which frequently are used to allow employees to attend various family care responsibilities.

I believe that these existing provisions are sufficient to meet reasonable needs in this area. Moreover, the reasonable accommodation provisions included in this bill are terms and conditions of employment. Any changes should be negotiated through the collective bargaining process.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1471

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1471 without my signature.

This bill would authorize constitutional officers and non-legislative members of the Legislator's Retirement System to elect an enhanced retirement benefit for their survivors.

Under existing law, a state employee who designates a survivor to receive benefits upon his or her death must take a reduced retirement benefit over the course of their life to fund the survivor's benefit.

Legislation first enacted in 1961 authorized legislative members of the Legislative Retirement System to take full retirement benefits and still elect for their survivors to take full benefits upon the member's death. The ability to take this unmodified retirement allowance was unique to legislative members. This benefit is not extended to legislators anymore since they no longer accrue retirement benefits pursuant to Proposition 140 of 1990.

This bill would extend the unique ability to take an unmodified retirement allowance to constitutional officers and statutory members of the LRS. This bill would also increase the member contribution rate to offset additional costs effective January 1, 1994.

I do not believe it is fair, however, to offer an enhanced benefit for a select group of state employees and not to the rest. Moreover, the funding mechanism of this bill presents a risk of adding to the unfunded liability of the present LRS system.

I have no objection to the other unrelated technical provisions in the bill.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2265 without my signature.

This bill would require that traffic citations include a specified written statement or reference to the telephone number of a recorded message which provides information related to penalties and traffic school.

The intent of this bill is to save money at the local level by reducing the extent to which traffic offenders utilize court services to rectify traffic citations. I applaud the author for his well-intentioned effort.

To the extent this bill imposes new requirements on local government, however, this bill is premature. The Judicial Council is developing a plan for uniform statewide procedures in this area. I think it is better to consider the Judicial Council's final recommendations before implementing any new procedures.

This bill would implement the federal Intermodal Surface Transportation Efficiency Act of 1991 (ISTEA) provisions relative to recycled paving materials, including the mandated percentage utilization of recycled rubber in asphalt.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 2, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1309 without my signature.

Under this bill, the State would mandate every city and every county to adopt an ordinance permitting the establishment of home enterprises in areas zoned for residential use, on or after January 1, 1995.

While I am sympathetic to the desires of people wishing to engage in home enterprises, I do not believe that this problem warrants the establishment of a new state mandate.

Cities and counties are currently authorized to enact ordinances authorizing home enterprises in residential areas. Increasingly, local governments are enacting such ordinances. It stands to reason that they will encourage and cooperate with their residents who seek to engage in home enterprises, provided such activities do not degrade surrounding residential neighborhoods. This is a factual question better resolved and regulated locally than by State prescription.

Additionally, State government simply cannot afford to incur the added costs of reimbursing local governments for a new State mandate.

This bill would repeal the sunset date of June 30, 1994 for the Adult Education program.

Last year, a comprehensive legislative package was enacted which modified funding and programmatic operations for adult education programs. The changes just became effective July 1, 1993. The Department of Education is required to report on the efficacy of the reformed program by January 1, 1996. Any decision to permanently eliminate the sunset provisions should wait until the required report is submitted. I would have no objection to signing legislation which temporarily extended the sunset until the report could be completed.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 3, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

This bill would require the Public Utilities Commission (PUC), in consultation with the California Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, to conduct a proceeding into the matter of the future role of electrical corporations in providing electric service to their customers, including the generation and purchase of electric power. The PUC would also be required to make findings and issue its decision in this matter.

The issues and requirements raised by AB 1694 have already been addressed in the PUC's informal process. Requiring the PUC to re-examine what it has already done through its quasi-judicial formal proceeding process is inappropriate, and a waste of ratepayer funds in the amount of $620,000.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 407

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 4, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 407 without my signature.

This bill would repeal current law provisions which prohibit part-time teachers, who are full-time members in another retirement system, from membership in the State Teachers' Retirement System.

Any part-time STRS member who is already participating in another public retirement system may participate in social security. This bill would permit the member to elect STRS membership instead of social security and require the local school district to pay the higher STRS contribution rate.

While both employees and employers contribute to STRS, there is also a General Fund obligation under the Elder Full Funding Act for those costs not funded by the combined employer and employee contributions. Currently, that amount is approximately 1.2 percent of payroll.

This bill would increase the STRS' unfunded liability thereby resulting in increased General Fund costs because of the requirements of the Elder Full Funding Act. Additionally, the bill would result in a state-reimbursable, local mandated program cost payable from the General Fund. This benefit increase would be counted toward the Proposition 98 guarantee and thus would inappropriately divert money available for classroom expenditures.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 4, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1791 without my signature.

This bill would establish a Citizenship Center Program to provide naturalization outreach activities, as defined, which is to be funded by service fees and federal funds.

I strongly support assisting legal immigrants achieve citizenship status. I have, in fact, previously signed legislation such as SB 1764 (Torres), which gives eligible immigrants priority enrollment in adult education English-as-a-Second Language. By contrast, AB 1791 achieves nothing so substantive in the way of help for legal immigrants despite all its grandiose rhetorical flourishes.

It lacks clarity in concept and drafting.

It seeks to create "citizenship centers" both to duplicate the role of the federal Immigration and Naturalization Service with respect to naturalization—and to go far beyond that role by informing "New Californians" (who are imprecisely defined as citizens "of a country other than the United States . . . eligible for educational services in California") about services having nothing to do with citizenship.

Whatever its purposes, the bill also raises false expectations by failing badly to address its funding needs as defined in the bill itself.

Provisions in the bill assume a cost per individual of $150, which results in a total program cost of some $555 million for the 3.7 million immigrants cited. The portions of the bill addressing how this is to be funded indicate that one-third of the costs are to be paid by the individuals who are receiving services, and another one-third with federal funds. However, there is no accounting for the remaining third, which would be $185 million. The bill contains a specific prohibition on expending state funds, which is appropriate, given the current condition of the state's finances.

But the worst sin of AB 1791 is that it seeks to fund a needless state duplication of federal effort and its other less clear purposes by raiding the few federal dollars which the state has finally succeeded in wheedling out of the federal government to pay California for all we've been mandated by federal law to spend on illegal immigrants.

After shamefully defaulting on its obligations to reimburse state and local governments for the expenditures they've made under the SLIAG (State Legalization Impact Assistance Grant) program, the federal government has finally made good what it owes. Now, when state and local money has been spent to provide the assistance required by federal law to assimilate the "amnesty" population, AB 1791 proposes the gross unfairness and bitter irony of ripping off a fund already spent to prepare immigrants for citizenship.

Small wonder that the author's home county, Los Angeles County, is outraged and has requested a veto of this attempted raid on its anticipated reimbursement of over $200 million.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1181

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 5, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1181 without my signature.

This bill would allow licensed clinical social workers and marriage, child, and family counselors to bill the Medi-Cal fee-for-service program for outpatient psychology services.

The State is currently in the process of shifting and consolidating the mental health fee-for-service system and the Short-Doyle/Medi-Cal system under the Department of Mental Health. Further, the State is moving rapidly towards a managed care system of providing services under the Medi-Cal program. A system of managed care will determine the most cost effective means of providing care to meet the needs of the mentally ill.

ARVETTA M. DOWNS
Acting Chief Clerk of the Assembly

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 66

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 6, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 66 without my signature.

This bill would expand and extend the research and development tax credit, extend the child care tax credit, and increase the Subchapter S tax rate.

This bill is unnecessary, since it contains provisions regarding the research and development tax credit that are identical to SB 671, which I recently signed.

Furthermore, this measure would undo one of the tax reforms within SB 671—providing relief from double-taxation of closely-held corporations, most of which are small businesses. This would send a negative message concerning California's business climate: that California can move its tax rates up and down like a yo-yo.

Today California spends more than $487 million each year on a variety of subsidized child care and child development programs which is augmented by an additional $168 million in federal funds. Even while general fund expenditures have decreased government wide, I have raised expenditures to fund child care programs for California's most needy children and families and have signed the nation's most comprehensive state family care leave program into law.

Consistent with that commitment to give increasing attention and resources to the conditions that shape our children's lives, I support the policy of extending and limiting the personal income tax child care credits as proposed by this bill, but must also consider the associated revenue loss and its impact on the overall budget situation. As I have already noted, this bill would fund these credits by reversing the Subchapter S corporate tax rate reduction that was recently enacted as part of the business investment incentive package contained in SB 671. This legislation was negotiated in good faith in an effort to improve competitiveness of our state and to bring jobs to California and I cannot justify reversing that action.

Finally, I am saddened that this Legislature is using the child care issue in a cynical effort to muddy the gains we have made in improving the State's business climate.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 868

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 868 without my signature.

This bill would dissolve the County of San Bernardino free library as of June 30, 1993, transfer its powers and duties to the county, and thereby exempt the library from the 1993–94 shift of property tax revenues from local governments to school districts and community college districts.

While I am sympathetic to the hardships faced by many local libraries, I believe this bill is contrary to the intended shift of property tax revenues from special districts including county free libraries, to school districts and community college districts. By dissolving the San Bernardino County free library and transferring its powers and duties to the county, this bill would allow the county to retain property tax revenues that would otherwise have been shifted to schools. I do not believe that it would be equitable to allow an exception such as this for one county.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 905

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 7, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 905 without my signature.

This bill would require the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency to enter into a contract for the purposes of establishing a California Action Center for Self-Esteem and Community Empowerment, and to appoint (or designate) an advisory body to facilitate the development of the Center.

I support the goals of the bill, but do not believe that statutory authorization is necessary. The proposed workplan in this legislation is generally consistent with efforts currently underway in the Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs. In addition, the Department administers a Resource Center that develops and disseminates information and provides referrals regarding alcohol and drug abuse problems.

I am therefore directing the Director of the Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs to assure that, to the extent possible within existing resources, the self-esteem and empowerment objectives of AB 905 are carried out through the department's current programs.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 45

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 45 without my signature.

This bill would require the Geographic Managed Care (GMC) pilot project to permit Medi-Cal beneficiaries to choose a fee-for-service option rather than select from among managed care plans, if the beneficiary certifies to an existing patient/provider relationship.

This bill will derail the GMC pilot project authorized by AB 336 (Chapter 95, Statutes of 1991) and reinforced by SB 485 (Chapter 722, Statutes of 1992), the Managed Care Initiative. The pilot, which is scheduled for implementation in January 1994, is designed to ensure that all Medi-Cal beneficiaries have access to a physician and quality care.

Concerns have been raised that some beneficiaries will have to change providers in those cases where the current provider is unwilling or unable to affiliate with a participating managed care plan. However, preliminary reviews of the GMC network indicate that most current providers are already affiliated with managed care plans.

Moreover, to ensure continuity of care in individual instances, a case-by-case exemption process is planned. A beneficiary in a complex, high-risk treatment plan with a provider who is not affiliated with a managed care plan will not be required to enroll in a plan until treatment is completed. Additionally, the beneficiary will be advised should their current provider be affiliated with a plan in the GMC network. Finally, there will be strong outreach efforts to attract providers into the GMC.

Critics charge that Medi-Cal recipients in the GMC area are being treated differently than other Medi-Cal recipients in California. This statement is inaccurate. Within three years from the start-up of Managed Care in each of the initial counties, the fee-for-service option will be eliminated.

There has been a tremendous effort by the Administration, Sacramento County, public and private managed care plans, Sacramento Medical providers and many others to successfully implement the project. With the nation looking to various alternative means to promote access to health care and because there are protections for the beneficiary built into the project design, let's not waste this opportunity to pilot this model of health care delivery.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 88

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 88 without my signature.

This bill would require that county welfare departments provide applicants for public assistance with information regarding sex education, Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome, the health risks of drug use during pregnancy, family planning, birth control, and federally qualified health center services.

As I noted last year in my veto of a similar bill, much of the information required by this bill is already being provided by county welfare departments throughout the State.

This bill attempts to minimize the cost impact by limiting its application to existing materials available at no cost to counties. However, requiring that all county welfare departments supply information would impose a state-mandated local program on counties, for which the State would be fiscally responsible, even when the counties already provide this information. The current fiscal situation of State and local governments in California argues against the imposition of new State-mandated programs on local government, even programs that are well-intentioned or small in scope.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 606

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 606 without my signature.

This bill would create the CalServe Council for Service and Volunteerism which would be composed of 29 voting members. The Council would develop and administer the state plan under the federal National and Community Service Trust Act of 1993.

If enacted, AB 606 would create a governance structure that would not meet the requirements for state commissions on service under the new federal law. These requirements specify that commission membership shall not exceed 25 individuals, that certain members of state commissions shall serve in a voting capacity, and that commissions shall carry out specific duties.

Moreover, in crafting the legislation, Congress clearly vested the appointing authority for state commissions solely with the chief executive officer of a state. AB 606 fails to recognize this role.

In addition to these concerns about the bill, AB 606 is unnecessary. The requirements of federal law can be achieved administratively. Therefore, it is my intention to establish the California Commission for Improving Life Through Service by executive order and to fully comply with the requirements of federal law to ensure that California receives its full share of federal funding.

I welcome the Legislature's involvement as the state planning process begins. Together, we can meet the challenges that lie ahead.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 678

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 678 without my signature.

This bill would require the standards of performance for civil service employees in managerial and supervisorial positions whose duties or responsibilities include procurement of goods and services to include an evaluation of these efforts to attain affirmative action goals.

The directors of each State agency are currently given the necessary discretion to maximize their agency's participation in the procurement of goods and services from Minority-Owned, Women-Owned, Disabled Veteran-Owned Business enterprises through Chapter 1330, Statutes of 1992. Responsibility for meeting these participation goals appropriately lies with the head of each State agency.

California civil service employees, on the other hand, are not directly responsible for meeting these participation goals. Rather, the bidder on a State contract is responsible for meeting the participation goals or for documenting a good control this decision. State contracts for the procurement of goods and services must be awarded to the lowest responsive and most responsible bidder.

Consequently, this bill would result in the performance of certain civil service employees being unfairly evaluated on standards that are not within their control. Furthermore, the imposition of these standards could encourage civil service employees, fearful of the results of their performance evaluation, to discount legitimate good faith effort documentation.

California civil service employees are extremely hard-working and dedicated. They should not be evaluated on factors beyond their control.

October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 739 without my signature.

This bill would establish the Biotechnology Revolving Loan Program to be administered by the Trade and Commerce Agency. The mission of the program would be to make loans to biotechnology firms for capital facilities located within local jurisdictions with expedited permitting processes. The bill states legislative intent that $10 million will be appropriated in future budget years for the purpose of the bill.

This measure inappropriately separates the policy issues from the proposed funding source. There is no appropriation made by AB 739 to pay for the proposed loan fund.

While I agree that the biotechnology industry is a leading growth industry, establishing a loan program without the necessary funding would create needlessly burdensome requirements on the Trade and Commerce Agency.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 887

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 887 without my signature.

This bill declares principles governing a California Children's Bill of Rights, the development of which is to be supervised by the Secretary of the Health and Welfare Agency. The Secretary is also required to develop a strategic plan to make the principles operational.

I am a strong supporter of the goals of this bill. However, I have grave reservations about the manner in which this legislation would achieve them.

First, this bill is terribly anti-family. It would have government assume the primary responsibility for assuring that children are guaranteed an array of services, everything from food and shelter to affordable, quality child care. I believe that provision of the basic necessities for children is the responsibility of each child's parents and family. Government should only be involved to the extent that families are so unable to provide for their children that they are putting those children at risk of not achieving a productive adulthood.

Second, the Children's Bill of Rights and the strategic plan envisioned by this bill would put in place a massive, multi-billion entitlement system for services to children that the state's resources could not possibly sustain. For instance, just two of the rights/services mentioned are "comprehensive health care" and "affordable and quality child care". Since the bill makes no distinction in eligibility for services based on a family's financial situation, these two services alone could create an obligation exceeding $20 billion.

With an entitlement system restricted only by a vague set of undefined utopian goals, we would guarantee that resolution would be attempted through the courts. Since these services are established as "rights", this legislation would encourage lawsuit upon lawsuit, without any realistic ability for the state to defend itself from bankruptcy.

The sponsors and proponents of this bill assert that there are no costs associated with this legislation. While that may be narrowly and technically true, such an assertion is either naive or disingenuous.

The specific purpose of this bill is to create a vast new set of entitlements, without regard for parental responsibilities or the taxpayers of the state.

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1218 without my signature.

This bill would authorize the University of California, the California State University, the California Community Colleges, and the California Maritime Academy to include voter registration forms in materials distributed to students during either enrollment or registration for classes.

Existing law allows any approved organization to obtain voter registration forms from the Secretary of State for distribution. College institutions of course are among those eligible organizations. This bill would do nothing more than restate this authority.

Additionally, the state is in the process of developing an implementation plan for the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 which is intended to make registration even easier. This new federal act is yet another unfunded federal mandate imposing millions of dollars in new costs upon state taxpayers. This bill would encourage activities that would add still more state costs.

This bill would request the University of California, and require the California State University, the California Community Colleges, and the California Maritime Academy to include voter registration forms and absentee ballot applications in materials distributed to students during either enrollment or registration for classes.

Existing law allows any approved organization to obtain voter registration forms and absentee ballot applications from the Secretary of State for distribution. College institutions of course are among those eligible organizations. It is more appropriate to allow the governing boards of these institutions to continue to determine the institutional policy in this area.

This bill would also provide for the establishment of polling places on these campuses. However, existing law also allows election officials to locate polling places on college campuses. This determination and the assessment of area needs for polling places are decisions better left at the local level.

Additionally, the state is in the process of developing an implementation plan for the National Voter Registration Act of 1993 which is intended to make registration even easier. This new federal act is yet another unfunded federal mandate imposing millions of dollars in new costs upon state taxpayers. This bill would mandate state activities that would impose even more state costs for the same purpose.

AB 1751 would provide that the local enforcement agency for Los Angeles County may not revise a solid waste facilities permit for expansion of the La Puente Hills Landfill in Los Angeles County, unless the expanded landfill lies more than 2,000 feet away from property used for residential housing, child care facilities, hospitals, schools, or retail businesses.

Under existing law, a local enforcement agency is required to enforce laws pertaining to minimum standards for solid waste handling and disposal, which included the issuance of solid waste facility permits.

AB 1751 runs contrary to solid waste management planning which focuses on the local decision-making process. As it happens, AB 1751 is now unnecessary because the local enforcement agency for Los Angeles County has recently approved a 2,000 foot buffer area at the La Puente Hills landfill site.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2101 without my signature.

This bill would extend the provisions of the Peace Officers Bill of Rights to any reserve officer who is under an internal investigation by a law enforcement agency.

The Peace Officers Bill of Rights was designed to maintain stable employer-employee relations. Among other things, it provides that an officer under investigation must be formally charged and advised of his/her right to representation at an administrative hearing prior to discharge. These protections establish procedures which must be followed to honor the employer-employee commitment.

The Peace Officers Bill of Rights was not intended, however, to apply to volunteers because they do not have an employer-employee commitment. Instead, volunteers are retained "at will" and may quit or may be discharged without a formal proceeding.

This bill would require law enforcement agencies to file a formal dismissal charge against a volunteer who is not performing to departmental standards and would require the agencies to conduct an administrative hearing into the matter. This administrative burden would frustrate the fundamental "at-will" nature of the relationship.

While I do not believe it is appropriate for the state itself to impose this requirement on the law enforcement agencies, they may elect to assume this obligation themselves as a matter of departmental policy as some agencies have already done.

This bill would establish the Teacher Diversity Recruitment and Training Program of 1993 to recruit ethnic minority individuals into programs leading to a teaching credential. This program is structured after a successful recruiting program that is based at CSU Northridge.

I believe that we should work within existing programs to address minority teacher shortages and stimulate interest in the teaching field. The state and public colleges simply do not have the funds, and are unlikely to find them, to establish new organizational and administrative structures.

Further, this statutory authority is unnecessary because (as has been done at CSU Northridge) the program can be implemented if a campus decides that it is the correct program for its goals.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 410

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 410 without my signature.

This bill would require the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development to maintain a centralized information base and establish a toll-free hotline for the purposes of providing information regarding available education, loan, grant and related programs in the health care professions. It would also require the Office to include mental health professionals in the career opportunity program.

This bill is unnecessary. The Department of Education maintains a list of health training programs in the state and refers callers to the individual schools for details on admission criteria. While the service may not be well publicized, it is inappropriate to duplicate this function in the Office. Additionally, the Office has a health professions and occupations program which is designed to increase the number of health care professionals and primary care providers.

More importantly, this bill will not increase the number of individuals in the health professions. The provisions of this bill assume that the significant vacancy rates in several critical health care professions and the declining enrollment in nursing programs can be reversed by providing information and assistance to individuals interested in a career as a health professional. The real problem is not so much one of uninformed individuals, but one of a lack of open slots available in post-secondary institutions.

Finally, expanding the focus of the health professions and occupations programs to include mental health professionals would require additional general fund resources or a redirection of limited resources from recruiting of primary care physicians. Given our limited resources I cannot support an expansion in this area or a redirection from the critical task of recruiting primary care physicians.

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 858 without my signature.

This bill would require the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development to prepare a plan with regard to health care professions and health-care related professions needed in the state in anticipation of an expanded federal job training program. The Office would be required to conduct a survey of the educational institutions willing to provide the training for those professions and to report to the Legislature by June 1, 1994.

This bill is duplicative and unnecessary. The Office will be releasing a report this fall that addresses the current and future roles of allied health professionals in California, projected needs, if any, availability and requirements of various health care delivery systems for each type of allied health personnel, and the ability of educators and health care institutions to help allied health professionals fulfill their potential in the future health care delivery systems of the state.

Additionally, there is no evidence that a new expanded federal job corps program with a special emphasis on health care professionals is being contemplated, let alone pursued at the federal level.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning AB 2155 without my signature.

This bill would establish the Ad Hoc Committee on Prescription Pain Management to study pain management and to report on patient care issues involving the treatment of pain. The committee would be comprised of five members appointed by the Governor, four members appointed by the Senate Rules Committee, and four members appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly. The authorization for the committee would sunset January 1, 1997.

The need to statutorily establish a committee that can be established administratively is questionable. More importantly, this bill represents an inappropriate intrusion by the Legislature into the Executive Branch's authority.

The proponents make a compelling argument that the medical community and law enforcement community need to work together in a cooperative fashion to make certain patients are receiving medically necessary pain treatment while at the same time acting collectively to be assured improper prescribing is eliminated. To facilitate that endeavor, I am directing the State and Consumer Services Agency to establish a committee with representatives from the various boards under their purview that involve health care providers who provide direct patient care. The Committee shall work with the Attorney General and focus on appropriate pain management procedures and make recommendations on how to overcome the obstacles that contribute to inadequate pain management.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 62 without my signature.

This bill would authorize the creation of a pilot multijurisdictional gang and drug task force in a target area within Los Angeles County subject to the approval of certain law enforcement agencies.

As I indicated in my veto message of a nearly identical bill last year, legislative authorization is not required for this purpose. The participating agencies may simply execute a joint powers agreement to establish this task force on their own initiative. What is required, however, is the close cooperation of the federal and local executive branch agencies which still needs to be secured.

This program could have been started last year through independent means. In fact, numerous multijurisdictional task forces currently in operation have been initiated independent of the state. I recommend that the author seek the approval of the participating law enforcement agencies so that this task force may be considered as a way to address the pressing problems of gang violence and drug trafficking.

This bill would prohibit, as of January 1, 1994, the issuance or renewal of any club license to a club which makes any discrimination, distinction, or restriction against any person based on certain criteria.

I am personally opposed to any form of discrimination. I do not, however, think that this belief entitles the State of California to dictate without limit how its citizens socialize with one another.

As I stated in 1991, one need not approve of or condone a private club's practices in order to recognize their members' constitutional right to associate privately and voluntarily with each other. The author incorrectly argues that because a liquor license is a privilege granted by government, the State should intervene in the club members' private social practices and customs. This is akin to government saying that because you have a drivers license, the State is going to determine with whom you are going to carpool. Moreover, the measure appears to violate the guarantee of freedom of association found in the First and Fourteenth Amendments of the U.S. Constitution.

My commitment to combating discrimination remains unchanged. The Administration will continue to strive for equal access to education, employment, housing and all facilities open to the public.

AB 196 is already law. SB 41 by Senator Presley, which I have signed, defines "habitual sexual offender" and imposes a state prison sentence for such repeat offenders of either 25 years or 25 years to life depending on the number of offenses committed.

AB 196 is nearly identical to SB 41 but does not contain useful language expressing legislative intent which is contained in Senator Presley's legislation.

Last year, I signed Senator Presley's first attempt to implement this policy but the bill did not become law only because it was double-joined to a measure which was vetoed. At that time, I urged Senator Presley to reintroduce the bill this year in order to enact this important legislation.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 491

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 491 without my signature.

In response to the property tax shifts enacted as part of the budget package for the past two years, counties have reduced staff and resources for various functions including property tax administration. AB 491 is an attempt to mitigate the effects of the property tax shifts on property tax administration functions. This bill would reduce the amount to be shifted from counties to the Educational Revenue Augmentation Account in 1993–94, therefore providing additional local funds to enhance enforcement and collection of property taxes. The amount of this reduction would increase General Fund support for K–12 schools by $47.8 million.

I agree that the state and counties have a common interest in promoting the effective administration of property tax. Unfortunately, the cost of this bill exceeds the funds available to the state for this purpose. I also am concerned that state funding alone is not sufficient to strengthen the property tax system. I believe that additional statutory changes may be required to assure that the various components of the program, including assessment, creation of the tax roll, rate setting and factoring billings, and collections, are administered as efficiently as possible.

In light of my commitment to strengthening the property tax system, I have directed the Department of Finance to work with county officials over the interim recess to review the property tax system and also the state's financial responsibility for its support. It is my hope to sign an urgency bill in 1994 that protects the state's and counties' interests in administration of the property tax.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 624 without my signature.

This bill would require the Department of Health Services to develop a written strategic plan to ensure that at least 80 percent of children eligible for the federal Early Periodic Screening, Diagnosis, and Treatment Program or the Child Health and Disability Prevention Program receive a health assessment, or treatment, or both by July, 1995.

This bill is unnecessary. Federal law already requires states to provide EPSDT screening and services, and to achieve an 80% participation rate for eligible recipients by Fiscal Year 1995.

Moreover, this bill mandates services in excess of the current CHDP requirements. As such, this bill would result in significant state-only costs and create a county mandate.

Finally, while the development of a strategy to meet this worthwhile goal is admirable, the Department of Health Services (DHS) has already invested a great deal of time and resources in the development of a strategic plan regarding health care for California's women, children and adolescents (AB 99 Steering Committee Report—"Delivering the Future"). Therefore, I am directing DHS to reevaluate that portion of the report dealing with this issue to determine what additional strategies, if any, need to be developed.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 852 without my signature.

This bill would add intentional drive-by killing to the first degree murder statute and would increase the penalty for second degree drive-by murder by five years to twenty years to life.

These provisions have already been enacted this year when I signed Senate Bill No. 310 (Ayala) earlier this session. In fact, Senate Bill No. 310 was more comprehensive. Senate Bill No. 310 provides a penalty enhancement of up to five years which could be added to the murder sentence of a drive-by killer who uses a firearm. This bill, by contrast, fails to provide this important penalty enhancement. This bill is therefore incomplete.

Since I have signed Senate Bill No. 310 which provides greater protection for the citizens of California, this bill is unnecessary.

This bill would establish the California Task Force to Prevent Drug and Alcohol Abuse. The role of the Task Force would be to conduct a comprehensive study on the extent, costs, causes and cures of drug and alcohol abuse in order to develop public policy strategies for preventing drug and alcohol abuse.

This bill is unnecessary. I established the Governor's Policy Council on Drug and Alcohol Abuse which can be used to support many of the public involvement and information objectives of the proposed Task Force. Additionally, the department is implementing major epidemiological and outcome study efforts which can be used to meet the information objectives of the Task Force. Finally, the department has recently initiated the Director's Advisory Committee comprised of private and public sector representatives from various constituency groups who are charged with the task of advising the department on prevention and treatment issues.

This bill would authorize members of the Legislature to accept complaints from state employees who allege improper governmental activity.

State government requires a "whistleblower" procedure to disclose improper government activity. In a bill enacted only very recently this year, the Legislature has placed that very important function as the responsibility of the State Auditor. That is the proper place for it. This bill would involve individual Legislators in performing the functions that the Legislature has wisely placed in the hands of the State Auditor.

When Legislators receive complaints they should refer them to the State Auditor so that the complaints may be investigated in an apolitical manner.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

While I agree with the intent of the bill to provide increased support for defense industry conversion, I believe that this legislative mandate targeting a specific sector for assistance establishes a bad public policy precedent.

This measure arbitrarily identifies an "aerospace transfer network" to receive state assistance, while other entities are required to participate in a state competitive application process. The Trade and Commerce Agency is currently assisting various California entities in competing for 1993 federally allocated Technology Reinvestment Project funds. In the first cycle of state competition, over 500 businesses and other organizations applied for state financial match or endorsement. The state was able to provide matching funds to 149 applicants and endorsements to another 185.

This measure seeks to bypass the competitive application process by legislatively mandating state assistance to a specific local entity.

Moreover, this measure is largely duplicative of the Administration's coordinated statewide defense conversion efforts as embodied in legislation I recently signed which created in statute the Defense Conversion Council, the Office of Strategic Technology and the Defense Conversion Matching Grant Program.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1478 without my signature.

This bill requires that the Secretary of Trade and Commerce designate a Special Assistant for Business Affairs and Job Development, from an existing position.

This bill would duplicate functions currently performed by the Trade and Commerce Agency and the Office of Permit Assistance. The written agreements and reporting activities required under this measure would merely create paperwork without improving the business climate or increasing California's competitiveness.

My Administration's "Red Teams", as well as TeamCalifornia efforts currently perform virtually all of the responsibilities listed in this bill. Through activities such as these, Trade and Commerce has established itself as the lead in California's economic development efforts without expending valuable time and resources composing "non-binding, good-faith" agreements.

While I agree with the intent of this bill to promote the economic development of the State, we already have these activities well underway. This measure provides no new incentive and could potentially add another unnecessary layer or bureaucracy to the State's process.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1497 without my signature.

This bill would require state agencies to grant a 5 percent contract bid price reduction to a "California bidder" and require that at least 50 percent of workers on a state public works project be residents of California.

The bill's bid preference provisions would apply a 5 percent contract bid reduction to California bidders on state projects or purchases in excess of $100,000. The lowest California bidder would have the option of accepting a contract at a lower price bid by a non-California low bidder as long as that price was within 5 percent of the actual low bid.

The residency requirement in this bill would impose additional costly and burdensome enforcement and monitoring requirements on all bidders since a bidder will want to determine the residency of its workers prior to the bid submittal in case it is successful. The added burden this requirement places on contractors far outweighs any advantage which is gained; informal studies have shown that the strong majority of workers on these projects are California residents. It must also be recognized that any additional costs incurred by bidders will be passed on to the state through increased bids. Verification and auditing of the validity of worker residency will also add administrative staff time to state agencies for each contract and could delay award of the contracts.

With current economic conditions, the state should be taking all possible measures to encourage an open marketplace, and encourage businesses to contract with the state. This bill is going in the wrong direction.

On a different note, one provision of this legislation which I do believe is good policy is the section prohibiting any state contracts from being let to a company that has been convicted of hiring illegal workers during the preceding five years. Reasonable employer sanctions are an essential part of our immigration policy. The sanction embodied in this legislation is the type of disincentive the state needs to discourage businesses from hiring illegal workers.

This bill would permit a person to register to vote after the deadline if he or she certifies that an affidavit of registration was timely tendered to a third party for delivery to an elections official before the deadline.

Under current election law, a county elections official may accept an affidavit of registration after the normal 29 day deadline in advance of the election if the affidavit is postmarked prior to the deadline or a photocopy of a properly executed affidavit is produced.

This bill would relax those requirements and instead would consider a voter's signed affidavit certifying that he or she had registered in time as a sufficient showing of eligibility to vote.

I believe that it is important to continue to require physical evidence as proof of timely registration. Relaxation of the existing requirements invites voter fraud. By contrast, the current procedures are broad enough to account for errors in delivery of registration materials and are narrow enough to prevent election fraud.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1654 without my signature.

This bill would require that the approximately $1.8 million in new Federal Child Abuse Prevention and Treatment Act funds be allocated to county Children's Trust Fund for prevention programs and services. Counties would be required to consider as a priority a program to initiate or enhance neonatal and early childhood home-based prevention services for families at risk of child abuse and neglect.

I have long been an advocate of child abuse prevention and treatment programs. I have signed legislation which provided for a major expansion of the family preservation program. This program is designed to provide, among other things, child abuse prevention and treatment to families. I have publicly encouraged contributing to the state and local children's trust fund which supports child abuse and neglect prevention services. Moreover, it is under my Administration that we successfully pursued a lawsuit to obtain these federal funds and qualified California for $900,000 additional dollars under the Children's Justice Act.

This bill while admirable in its intent to increase resources for these programs, in unnecessary. Statutory authority is not required for the expenditure of the funds.

More importantly, this bill is inconsistent with recommendations made by an advisory group expressly formed by the Department of Social Services for the purposes of recommending programs that would maximize these limited funds. In May of this year, consensus was reached and the group recommended programs that have communities and individuals, not government, determine their own needs and choose and implement effective solutions.

Consistent with the recommendations of this group, I am directing the Department of Social Services, by January 1994, to fund several demonstration projects designed to empower communities by providing incentives for them to develop programs through a collaborative planning and decision making process which involves providers, recipients and local government.

This process will strengthen communities' and individuals' sense of responsibility and ownership of the chosen activities, and will stimulate long-term commitments to the health and well-being of families and children to a far greater extent than would the process of allocating to each county as required by this bill.

As I noted last year, both UC and CSU presently have aggressive outreach efforts including graduate mentor programs, graduate research assistantships and faculty development programs that provide opportunities for diversity. LAWRENCE A. MURMAN

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 260

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 260 without my signature.

This bill would allow the Department of Health Services to authorize a clean needle and syringe exchange pilot project in the City and County of San Francisco and would permit the Department of Health Services to authorize additional pilots in other jurisdictions.

Prior to making this decision, I closely reviewed a recent Centers for Disease Control (CDC) evaluation of existing needle-exchange programs in North America and Europe. This evaluation concluded that needle exchange programs should be established for two reasons. First, with data from various program sites, researchers subjected the data to mathematical and behavioral models and found (through this modeling) that a substantial reduction in HIV transmission should occur as a result of needle exchange programs. Second, from analyzing the data, the researchers could find no clear evidence of harm associated with needle exchange programs.

Critics of the needle exchange program point out that this modeling data does not amount to clear evidence that in those areas where needle exchange programs have been undertaken, a demonstrated reduction in HIV transmission has in fact occurred.

There is an even more basic issue presented. The real question put by AB 260 is whether the hoped-for reduction in needle-transmitted HIV infection justifies sending a mixed message that will threaten to undermine the credibility of all of society's other anti-drug efforts—especially those preventive education efforts aimed at dissuading young audiences from choosing not to engage in drug use.

In blunt terms, is it worth reducing the risk of infection to intravenous drug users at the potentially far greater cost of undermining all our other preventive anti-drug efforts and suffering as a result an enormous increase in the number of young people who make a wrong choice that leads to an enormous increase in addicts?

If we are going to demand that young people exercise personal responsibility, if we say that they must suffer the consequences of their personal choices, what are they to think when in the next breath we give formal sanction to a project which facilitates drug use?

AB 260 is a bill inspired by the most humane concern about what is conceded to be a grave public health hazard. But the inherent contradiction of all other efforts to prevent drug use—by formal sanction of a project which facilitates drug use—just poses an unacceptably high risk. Ironically, this bill poses a choice that is essentially an exercise in triage. I have not made lightly the decision to withhold my signature. I have done so fully mindful that by some estimates there are as many as 400,000 active intravenous drug users in California exposing themselves, their sexual partners and future children to HIV.

Witholding my signature from this well-intended legislation is not an easy choice. But the choice I am compelled to make is for prevention of tomorrow's addicts, and the avoidance of all the waste, heartbreak and tragedy that flow from drug-use.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1296

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1296 without my signature.

This bill would require the Alameda County Hate Violence Task Force and the Alameda County Multicultural Multilingual Coordinator to adapt their model program against hate violence for statewide application, contingent upon the procurement of private or federal funds. This bill would also require the Department of Justice to notify county governments and boards of education of this program and distribute it to them upon request.

The scourge of hate violence deserves statewide attention and has received it. Last year I signed legislation to authorize the State Fair Employment and Housing Commission to address hate crime issues under the Ralph Civil Rights Act. The Commission was given enhanced authority to provide remedies to hate violence victims, including civil penalties of up to $25,000 and actual damages of up to $150,000.

Additionally, I have directed my Administration to seek legislation next year targeting hate crimes for enhanced criminal penalties.

This bill would establish the Alameda program as the model for use statewide by law enforcement, local governments, community groups, and educational institutions. These groups, however, may adopt their own hate violence response procedures.

Current law states that it is the intent of the Legislature to encourage counties, cities, and school districts to establish education and training programs to prevent violations of civil rights, including hate crimes. Additionally, existing law requires the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training to develop a course of instruction and training guidelines for specified peace officers on hate crimes before December 31, 1993. Existing law also requires every law enforcement agency in the state to make a brochure available to the public and to the victims of hate crimes. This bill would accomplish nothing more than current law already provides.

Nevertheless, if county governments deem this particular program necessary, they may implement it on their own initiative or through their statewide association.

Hate crimes are particularly abhorrent acts of cowardice. All people deserve to live free of violence motivated by hate. The state has and will continue to strive to eliminate hate violence and I encourage local governments as well to redouble their efforts to eradicate this scourge from California.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1299

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1299 without my signature.

This bill would require the State Board of Education, upon the request of the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and in consultation with a newly created Human Rights Advisory Committee, to adopt policies and programs in primary and secondary institutions to reduce hate violence. It would also instruct the Committee to develop course materials on ethnic studies and human relations for schoolchildren.

Eliminating hate violence from California is everyone's responsibility. The strongest, most important role is that played by parents in teaching their children basic values, including the value and dignity of the individual.

Our schools also have an important role. The State Board of Education has primary responsibility for development of curricula to invest our children with understanding and respect for California's diversity and multiculturalism. To that end, the State Board is well along in its efforts to implement legislation I have signed this year and last which would incorporate specific consideration of civil rights, genocide, and the Holocaust in the curriculum frameworks and model curriculum. In addition, the State Board of Education has already adopted a comprehensive policy statement on school safety, which speaks to creating a school environment free from discrimination and hate violence.

The author's good intention would have the undesired effect of slowing rather than advancing the work of the Board. I'm sure the author would agree that the Board should not be delayed but should instead continue to expedite the integration of these new materials to combat hate violence into the instructional materials used by California's schoolchildren as early as practically possible.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1604

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1604 without my signature.

This bill would require that all Medi-Cal managed care plans ensure the provision of the full range of services required by the federal Early and Periodic Screening, Diagnosis and Treatment (EPSDT) program and California's Child Health and Disability Prevention (CHDP) program, and contains specific provisions for managed care plans to administer this requirement, including scheduling assessments and enhanced data reporting.

Preventive services has been a cornerstone of my Administration. This is most recently evidenced by my signature of SB 1085 (Bergeson). SB 1085 will implement a program to provide appropriate early intervention services and support to all eligible infants and toddlers and their families.

While I completely support the goal of this bill to improve the performance of California's EPSDT and CHDP programs, I am concerned about the differences between AB 1604 and recently released federal regulations. Specifically, proposed federal regulations, released October 4, 1993, require a different set of reporting requirements than those included in AB 1604. In light of these new federal requirements, I believe that it is premature to impose additional data requirements in state statute.

The Department of Health Services has convened a Managed Care Management Information Systems/Data Work Group to assist it in systems design, and the Department intends to ensure that its efforts are consistent with federal requirements and the efforts of national groups. The Department's goal is to develop reporting requirements for managed care plans that minimize administrative costs while providing essential outcome indicators for preventive programs like EPSDT and CHDP.

Given the importance of the EPSDT and CHDP programs, this administration remains fully committed to improving delivery of children's preventive services as we transition to a managed care environment. For this reason, I am directing the Department of Health Services to add scheduling and outreach requirements to its managed care contracts, and to work with managed care plans to ensure that these critical preventive services are provided to California's low-income children.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 2227

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 8, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2227 without my signature.

This bill would revise the Cal Grant student aid program by decreasing the number of awards based primarily on merit (Cal Grant A) and increasing in the number of awards based primarily on need (Cal Grant B).

I am sympathetic to the increased need for aid, especially in light of the recent fee increases at UC and CSU. That is precisely why significant amounts of the new fee revenues, at my request and with my strong support, have been set aside by the UC and CSU each year for increased student aid. Specifically, UC and CSU have available to them in 1993–94 approximately $120 million in new student financial assistance. That increased aid is derived from increased student fees and is intended as response to increased need.

Despite the availability of these new funds, AB 2227 would redirect a significant portion of available Cal Grants away from needy students who are the most academically able to needy students based upon need alone, rather than on both need and academic achievement.

The Cal Grant A program is the only government-funded student aid available to California students where high achievement is rewarded, at either the state or national level.

The redistributive scheme proposed in this bill would be devastating to high-achieving students from low- and middle-income families. The typical student who would lose a Cal Grant A under AB 2227 would have a GPA of 3.2 or 3.3 and a family income below $30,000. In his or her place would be a student with a GPA that could actually be below a "C" average.

All of the students who would lose a Cal Grant A would have a GPA between 3.0 and 3.5. In contrast, 20 percent of the new Cal Grant B recipients would have a GPA below 2.0, or no GPA; 22 percent of them would have a GPA between 2.00 and 2.49; 30 percent would have a GPA between 2.50 and 2.99; and 28 percent would have a GPA above 3.00.

The typical student who would lose a Cal Grant A under AB 2227, as well as the new Cal Grant B recipient, would need financial assistance to attend college. Since we have limited resources, it only makes good sense to provide the aid to the student with the higher GPA—not only as a reward for superior academic achievement, but because there is a strong correlation between high school achievement and completion of college.

There is one provision in AB 2227 which is extremely dubious, at best. Under the terms of this bill, ten percent of Cal Grant B awards would be set aside for students whose GPA was either missing or below a "C" average (2.0). The current number of such awards is 640, and AB 2227 would boost this category to 1,740, almost a threefold increase in this category of eligibility.

What kind of a message does a provision like this send to high school students about working to achieve high grades? While I can appreciate the need to have a small amount of freedom to deal with exceptional cases, this is an unacceptably high level.

AB 2227 would eliminate the current requirement that the majority of Cal Grant B awards go to community college students. This change could be expected to encourage greater freedom of choice for Cal Grant applicants, and could form the basis of future reform efforts.

Overall, however, AB 2227 would send a signal to students and their parents that high achievement was no longer valued. Recognizing "merit" is not an anachronism.

Liquefied petroleum gas and natural gas would not be affected.

The important goal of improving the effectiveness and reducing the cost of collecting the underground tank fee does not appear to have been reached by this measure. To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 449 without my signature.

This bill would authorize school districts, community college districts, and county superintendents of schools to elect a new early retirement option for employees who are members of the State Teachers' Retirement System.

This bill would permit retirement at or over age 55, without an allowance reduction, if the total of the member's age and credited service is at least 85.

The Legislative Analyst's Office issued a report late in this session which recommended a number of fiscal safeguards for early retirement programs. According to the report, such programs should include audits to certify and document cost savings, limit financing periods to four years, and authorize the executive to designate the eligible departments, programs, and position classifications. These recommendations are well-advised and should be applied to all golden handshake options.

The "Rule of 85" proposed in this bill lacks several safeguards. Although the bill provides for strengthened certification procedures, it does not require an audit over the life of the program to document that cost savings actually occurred. Also, there is no specified time limit for districts to finance payments for the enhanced benefits. Also, the bill denies districts the needed flexibility to determine the minimum age at which they should offer retirement. Finally, there is no directive to keep the deleted classifications empty.

Even if this program contained these safeguards, I would still question the need for yet another early retirement option for STRS members. Many options currently exist such as the standard early retirement, the "30 and Out," the limited term reduction, the two year golden handshake, and other early retirement incentives.

The consortium would be financed through available Employment Training Panel Funds.

As I said in 1992, this bill is unnecessary. The private sector has already taken the lead in establishing public/private partnerships to

This bill would increase the annual salary threshold from $30,000 to $50,000 for instances in which employers may consider information contained in the investigative consumer credit report of a potential applicant for employment. This bill would conform to federal law by prohibiting investigative credit reports from containing information on bankruptcies that are over 10 years old.

This bill would prohibit investigative credit reporting agencies from making an inquiry in preparing a report to be used for employment or housing purposes which, if made by an employer or owner of a dwelling unit, would be an unlawful discriminatory practice. This bill would require a user of an investigative credit report for housing purposes, prior to requesting a report, to provide written notice to the consumer.

This bill would also require that a user of an investigative consumer credit report for employment purposes, prior to requesting a report, must provide written notice to the consumer informing him or her that a report will be used, and to provide a free copy to the consumer if requested.

While there are some provisions of this legislation that have merit, including the provision to conform the bankruptcy reporting requirements to federal law and the provision to increase the salary to $50,000 for jobs whose applicants' investigative credit reports may be utilized, the sponsors have failed to demonstrate widespread abuse of information contained in investigative credit reports by potential employers or within the housing industry. I believe the protections in existing law for discrimination from housing and employment are adequate (Civil Code Section 51 and Government Code Section 12940 et seq.). Without sufficient justification for these new requirements, it seems unreasonable to impose these new mandates on the business and housing industry in our State.

This bill would also require every state appointing authority to make appointments which would result in representation on a state or regional board or commission that reflects a geographical balance.

Current law requires that the composition of state boards and commissions shall be broadly reflective of the general public including ethnic minorities and women, and that appointing authorities shall be responsible for nominating a variety of persons of different backgrounds, abilities, interests, and opinions; and that formulas or specific ratios are not to be utilized.

I support equal opportunity for members of all segments of the population to serve on state boards and commissions and have personally worked during my tenure to assure this representation when making such appointments. However, I believe placing a limitation on appointments, as this bill does, is inherently unfair to the most qualified applicants and to the public who have the right to expect the appointment of the most qualified applicants.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 700 without my signature.

This bill would require the Board of Psychology to implement a fictitious name permit program and establish fees for such a program. This bill would exempt the implementation of this program from the regulatory review process, and would also exempt psychologists from the current requirement that they file fictitious business name statements with the county clerks.

While I am sympathetic to the concerns of psychologists regarding limitations of current law on fictitious names, this bill offers an impractical approach to the problem. This bill would allow the Board to bypass the Office of Administrative Law and the Department of Consumer Affairs, in establishing the regulations and fees for the permit program. An exemption from the regulatory process is unnecessary and is contrary to the public interest.

I believe a far better solution to the current problem of the Board's fictitious name permit program, is to simply repeal the State statute and have the psychologists continue to register with county clerks. In this way, we are reducing a state regulatory burden for psychologists while still allowing consumers easy access to fictitious name filings at the local level.

October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 745 without my signature.

This bill would require a local public entity, including a school district or community college district, to give preference to a veteran over other identically qualified applicants in the case of entrance exams.

This legislation imposes an unnecessary mandate on local governments. I would hope that local governments give such preference to veterans as does the State; I don't believe it is appropriate for the State to mandate personnel practices on local governments and school districts. Further, evidence indicates that a number of localities already have veterans preferences in place. Local governments should be free to implement such a preference without a State mandate.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

This bill would limit the ability of the court to order litigants to pay the fees of referees for those cases in which the parties agree to the reference, and those cases which constitute complex litigation. This bill would clarify time frames associated with filing an amended complaint.

I am concerned that any limit on the court's ability to assign a reference may reduce the number of cases in which settlement is reached and force the courts to substantially increase their workloads. Our overburdened courts should not be forced to cut back on the use of references or bear the additional reference costs particularly when the use of a reference is clearly appropriate.

The issue of whether all parties should be expected to bear the cost of a referee is a legitimate concern to me. This is especially true for parties experiencing financial hardship. However, I fear this bill would result in lengthy delays and increased court costs by effectively precluding references except in complex litigation. The Judicial council, as the administrative body for the courts, is aware of the problem of excessive referees costs and is working to curb any abuses. I believe this administrative remedy which provides for flexibility is preferable to a legislative solution.

This bill would require that all state publications and government records be printed on alkaline paper, and that state publications and government records of "enduring value" be printed on permanent paper.

The intent of this legislation is indeed meritorious; to assure that state publications and government records of historic significance are property preserved. However, legislation is unnecessary to carry out this goal. The Department of General Services (DGS) currently has the appropriate authority to consult with the State Archivist and the State Librarian to develop regulations governing the appropriate printing paper for documents of historic importance. Since the DGS is responsible for issuing administrative directives via the State Administrative Manual (S.A.M.), the S.A.M. can be used as the vehicle to communicate to State entities the appropriate procedures regarding the printing of records and publications of historic significance.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 671 without my signature.

This bill would prohibit health plans and policies that cover diagnostic or surgical procedures for the correction of congenital, developmental, traumatic, or pathologic anomalies, disorders, syndromes or diseases from refusing to cover such conditions simply because they occur in the head, neck, face, or jaws as long as the treatment is medically necessary.

Efforts to prevent unfair denial of coverage when it is medically necessary are supportable; efforts to mandate benefits are not. AB 671, while not directly mandating a benefit, prohibits health plans from excluding certain benefits, subject to the terms and conditions of the plan. This approach will undoubtedly further muddy the water when a plan is silent on the provision of this type of care, and will operate as a proxy for a mandate.

Numerous state requirements exist that require insurers to assure certain medical services as part of a health care plan. Though such mandates when reviewed individually may be desirable, the collective costs of state requirements are significant and contribute to the rising cost of health care insurance. Furthermore, plans compete against each other on the basis of benefits provided. Mandates only serve to reduce competition by limiting the basis on which they can differentiate themselves from each other.

The imposition of additional mandates to offer services as part of a health care plan will only further escalate health coverage costs and increase the number of small employers unable to purchase any health care coverage at all for their workers. The goal of any health proposal should be to make health care more affordable and accessible.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

This bill would require payment of hospice provider claims prior to receipt of otherwise required documentation concerning beneficiary share-of-cost and third party coverage. The bill would direct the Department of Health Services to seek federal waivers and approval; the department would not be required to implement provisions for which waivers and approval are denied and for which federal financial participation would not be available.

This bill is unnecessary. The Department of Health Services is implementing, beginning July 1994, a magnetic card reader system to permit providers to obtain prompt eligibility and share-of-cost information at the point of service.

This bill would inequitably favor one class of provider over others. Moreover, this bill could increase the costs to the Medi-Cal program by permitting hospice providers to initiate a claim prior to pursuing third party liability.

The costs would result from unrecovered overpayments as well as administrative costs associated with special claims handling and tracking. Over and above the ongoing costs related to the separate claim tracking system, there would be costs associated with developing a new claims processing system specific to this provider category.

This bill would require Primary Care Case Management (PCCM) plans, a type of Medi-Cal managed care plan, to meet Knox-Keene licensing requirements. The Department of Corporations would be required to ensure compliance with these standards, and any increased Department of Corporation support costs would be funded through an interagency agreement with the Department of Health Services.

This bill is unnecessary. The Department of Health Services' managed care strategic plan states its intent to hold all PCCM plans to Knox-Keene standards.

More importantly, the bill would require duplicate oversight responsibilities by the Departments of Health Services and Corporations at a significant cost to the Department of Corporations. Given our limited resources it is inappropriate to incur additional general fund costs without demonstrable benefits.

This bill would exempt recyclable chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs) compounds from hazardous waste regulations and prohibit venting and disposing of CFCs.

This bill is unnecessary. The United States Environmental Protection Agency has already promulgated national regulations that restrict the venting and leakage of CFCs from refrigeration units, set certification standards for maintenance personnel, and has established penalties. California's business climate has been seriously damaged by duplicative and often conflicting regulations on the same subject from both state and federal governments. Since CFC emissions are a matter of national and global concern, they are more appropriately regulated nationally and under international conventions, such as the Montreal Protocol.

This bill is a clean-up to SB 35 and would provide clarification in the area of In-Home Supportive Services (IHSS). AB 1355 would specify that public authorities created to provide for the delivery of IHSS may enter into contracts for this purpose. It would also require public authorities or nonprofit consortia delivering IHSS services to provide, as a minimum, training and monitoring of recipients and providers. Additionally, it would clarify that the state and county are immune from any liability for actions taken by the public authority or nonprofit consortium.

This bill would provide that certain arbitration awards under a health care services plan over $30,000 must be reported as a judgment to the Medical Board of California and may be publicly disclosed. It would also specify the manner in which plans must disclose an enrollee's waiver of a jury trial and agreement to binding arbitration. Third, this bill would provide that whenever a health care service plan requires binding arbitration, it must provide for only one neutral arbitrator.

While it may be good public policy to publicly disclose a court entered judgment after applying the rigorous standards of the Evidence Code and exhausting all rights of appeal, it may not be sound public policy to publicly disclose all arbitration awards. Because arbitration necessarily involves a truncated litigation process and attempts to settle the dispute, arbitration awards may not accurately reflect a provider's professional competence.

This would be especially true since this bill would also mandate that arbitrations may only be heard before a single arbitrator, and not a panel. This restriction will delay and discourage the use of arbitration hearings because of the difficulty of both parties agreeing to a single arbitrator.

In sum, the ultimate result of this bill would be to discourage plans and providers from participating in arbitration, which would increase the costs of health care.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 690 without my signature.

This bill would require the seller of a mobile home park to complete and provide a prospective buyer with a prescribed written disclosure statement, and provides the buyer with 10 days after receipt to withdraw the offer to purchase the park.

While this disclosure statement would allow prospective purchasers, particularly resident organizations, to gain knowledge regarding park conditions and could be useful in determining whether or not to purchase the park, existing legal standards already protect buyers by requiring sellers to disclose park conditions. Further, many sales occur between sophisticated buyers and sellers who, when making multi-million dollar investments, will require that the park be fully inspected prior to its purchase.

Finally, existing law does not require the seller of commercial properties to provide a written disclosure statement. This legislation would, for the first time, codify language in statute that requires owners of commercial properties to provide written disclosure statements and could set a precedent for similar requirements for other types of commercial properties, such as apartment houses.

This bill would make numerous changes regarding property tax administration, including authorizing assessors to charge nonresidential property tax appellants $50 to consider assessment appeals and authorizing the same attorney in the county counsel's office to represent both the assessor and the county's assessment appeals board.

I am concerned that permitting the same attorney to represent both the assessor and the assessment appeals board could lead to a serious conflict of interest in the case of taxpayers who appeal their assessments.

I am also concerned that authorizing a $50 charge per parcel for assessment appeals is excessive, especially for taxpayers who are small business owners.

Tax collection is already an onerous and intimidating procedure. This bill would inappropriately add to the tax collector's arsenal.

This bill would exempt the City of Los Angeles from state and local hazardous waste cleanup liability at a site located in the City of Los Angeles (formerly the Franciscan Pottery Factory), if the property is used for the development of a police training academy and the Department of Toxic Substances Control certifies that the site has been cleaned of toxic waste.

The intended use for this property is laudable; however, AB 1526 inappropriately leaves the remaining liability to the State. This would cost the State nearly $400,000 in expended costs and approximately $80,000 a year in ongoing maintenance.

Although I am vetoing this measure, I wish to encourage the purpose of this bill, namely the siting of a police training academy in the inner-city. Accordingly, I have directed the Department of Toxic Substances Control to initiate discussions with Mayor Riordan's staff to develop a solution that will solve the State's fiscal and liability concerns and expedite the redevelopment of this property by the City of Los Angeles.

This bill would enact numerous changes in the State's environmental regulatory and assistance program, including development of an expedited permit system, a Small Business Environmental Regulatory Assistance Center, and standardized risk assessment guidelines.

While I support the goals of this bill, it is unnecessary because it duplicates several bills that I have already signed this year to foster permit streamlining and environmental assistance. In particular, I have approved SB 1185 (Bergeson), sponsored by my Administration, to establish a consolidated environmental permit agency process. I have also signed SB 1082 (Calderon), which establishes a unified hazardous materials and regulatory process and develops standardized risk assessment guidelines.

This bill would also result in additional costs of as much as $2 million to implement this bill, above and beyond any costs associated with the already-enacted permit streamlining reforms. This is an unnecessary new expenditure, given the newly approved reforms.

This bill would express legislative intent that, to the extent practicable, school districts should prepare notices of suspension, and notices of proposed and final expulsions, in a language easily understood by a parent or guardian, in accordance with federal law.

Current law already requires that when fifteen percent or more of the pupils at a school speak a language other than English, the school is required to provide all notices in English and in the other language. There are no criteria in this bill regarding a minimum number of students at a school or in a district who must speak a non-English language before the translations are recommended. Such criteria would be warranted given the expense involved.

AB 1352 contains a provision prohibiting the governing board from basing a decision to expel solely on sworn declarations or other hearsay evidence, which would limit the flexibility of school boards in these matters. Further, the requirement that sworn declarations be provided to the accused student not less than seven days prior to the hearing places innocent witnesses in unnecessary danger.

Finally, the bill as written may create a local mandate, and if so, it could cost $2.3 million the first year and $400,000 annually thereafter.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1603 without my signature.

This bill would establish a three-month employment tax amnesty program, and would require the Employment Development Department to clarify the definition of employee for workers in service industries.

The amnesty provisions of this bill are supportable. However, the portions of the bill that would clarify the definition of an independent contractor vs. an employee are problematic.

First of all, significant amendments were made in the bill late in the legislative process. These amendments would change the traditional standard for determining when an individual is an independent contractor or an employee from "a preponderance of evidence" to "clear and convincing evidence". This is a dramatic increase in the burden of proof for the employer.

Compounding this issue is that the bill also contains language stating that "the amendments made . . . do not constitute a change in, but are declaratory of, existing law". Such a provision has enormous implications for retroactivity of application, and upon pending litigation.

I have no concerns with the amnesty provisions of the bill, and I support attempts to clarify the distinction between independent contractors and employees. However, such policy changes need to be fully debated in the legislative process and should be negotiated carefully with the employer community, to avoid unfairness and hardship especially to small business owners who employ the vast majority of California's workforce.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 995 without my signature.

This bill would authorize a public corporation which was recently licensed as a racing association to operate a gaming club subject to certain conditions.

Current law limits the registration of gaming clubs to individuals and does not permit registration of entities legally organized as corporations under the Securities and Exchange Act of 1934. This bill, however, would make a singular exception to that limitation.

As conceived, the bill would inure to the sole benefit of one public corporation licensed as a racing association, Hollywood Park. The effect of this bill raises serious constitutional concerns based on equal protection grounds. Until these questions are resolved, this bill is premature.

Moreover, if gambling is to be conducted in California, it must be closely and carefully regulated, with sufficient safeguards to ensure its safe and honest operation. There is a clear present need for the kind of regulatory mechanism that would have been established by Senator Maddy's SCA 29, introduced in this session.

My veto is requested by the Attorney General and the law enforcement community and reflects the concern I share with them about the lack of adequate regulatory controls on gaming at present.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1173

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1173 without my signature.

This bill would make various changes to the election procedures for declarations of intention of candidacy, nomination processes, candidate filing papers, and other related issues.

While most of the provisions contained in this bill are technical in nature, there is one objectionable provision. This provision would repeal the requirement that independent candidates for state office file a declaration of intention of candidacy.

In 1991 legislation was enacted to require independent candidates to file a declaration of intention of candidacy at the same time as partisan candidates, between 127 and 118 days before the primary election. According to the author, the bill was intended to level the playing field in terms of public disclosure for all candidates, regardless of party affiliation. California Common Cause supported that legislation.

Last year I signed legislation that eliminated the requirement that independent candidates file a declaration of intent of candidacy for federal office. That was because partisan candidates were not required to file such declarations. Again, this was to level the playing field.

At the same time, in my signing message of that measure, I expressed the importance of conforming all the filing requirements for independent candidates to those for partisan candidates seeking election to state office. As I stressed last year and continue to believe now, it is important that the voting public knows the entire field of candidates when voters are required to select the candidates of their choice. Even though independent candidates do not compete in primary elections, the fact that they have declared an intent to seek office may affect voter choices for the other partisan candidates.

This bill would reverse the existing conformity between independent and partisan candidates in this regard. This bill goes in exactly the wrong direction. If it were to become law, independent candidates would not have to declare their candidacy at all until just as few as three months before the general election whereas partisan candidates would have to declare up to some four months before the primary election.

That would be a disservice to the voters of California.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1458

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1458 without my signature.

This bill is designed to expand existing law that precludes the State from buying cars produced outside of the United States.

This domestic content legislation needlessly denies the State the benefits of an open and competitive market. While U.S. automobile manufacturers today produce truly world class products, it was competition from foreign competitors that drove them to their current levels of excellence. Domestic content legislation would remove the beneficial effects of the marketplace. The result would be products of lesser quality at higher prices, thereby increasing the price and operating costs of the cars purchased by the State. Even in the near-term, prices are increased by domestic content laws because they reduce the number of possible vendors.

Assuming that any domestic content law could be beneficial, this one is not, for it mandates the purchase of U.S.-made cars which are overwhelmingly produced outside of California with non-California-made parts. As a result, while the drain on the State treasury would be increased, the benefits would primarily flow to other States. Those states would appreciate the help, but California taxpayers cannot afford the cost.

When Californians go out to buy a new car, they look for the best value for their money. About half of them buys foreign cars, while the other half buys American cars.

These same Californians deserve the best value for their money when their government spends their tax dollars, and this bill would deny that to them. That is why I am returning this bill.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1710

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly.

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1710 without my signature.

This bill would permit the Department of General Services to implement a system to negotiate and execute agreements and contracts to establish master equipment financing agreements for master lease financing of deferred-payment purchases, installment sales, or lease-purchases with a financial institution or a consortium of financial institutions.

I support efforts to streamline the procurement process so the State may obtain the most cost competitive financing arrangements for equipment purchases. However, this bill would limit the Administration's discretion in selecting the best price package for equipment purchases. The Department of General Services as the purchasing agent for the State is best suited to evaluate the bid package, including financing. By extending to the Treasurer the financing authority for any equipment, software, and services acquisitions over $50,000, this bill would remove the discretion from the Department to determine which method of financing is in the best interest of the State.

I agree with the author's intent to streamline the State's procurement process and am issuing an Executive Order directing the Department of General Services to undertake a comprehensive review of the State's procurement process in an effort to make our system more competitive, more efficient and more value-effective.

This bill is primarily intended to repeal certain statutory responsibilities of the State Board of Control and reassign some of the Board's other responsibilities.

This bill, as introduced, was one part of my Administration's program to streamline government. Unfortunately, it now contains a provision that would needlessly inflate state costs by imposing a rigid domestic content requirement on the purchase of automobiles. This language is also contained in a separate piece of legislation, Assembly Bill No. 1458, which I am also vetoing.

I commend the author of AB 2051, Assemblyman Frazee, for his efforts to achieve the important regulatory streamlining embodied in his original bill. I look forward to working with him next year towards that goal.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 10, 1993

To the Member of the California Assembly:

This bill would require greater disclosure on ballots for elections to authorize cardrooms in cities and counties after January 1, 1994. This bill would also require reference in the sample ballot to the full implementing ordinance, including at least the hours of operation, the games to be played, and the wagering limits.

I agree with the author's intent for full disclosure of gaming club measures on ballots and sample ballots, and if these provisions were presented in a separate bill, I would sign them assuming the disclosure would not expand the scope of permissible activities beyond what is currently allowed.

This bill would also create an exception for annexed territories to current law which requires voter approval to authorize cardrooms in cities or counties which had not authorized cardrooms prior to January 1, 1994.

It is important to continue to require voter approval as a condition to the operation of all cardrooms, even for cardrooms in territories annexed by any city or county. While cardrooms in annexed territory may have received the approval of the voters in their original jurisdiction, this does not constitute voter approval in the new jurisdiction. The voters in the new jurisdiction have a right to express their will.

This bill would also authorize a surcharge of $100,000 on publicly traded corporations that could register as a gaming club pursuant to Assembly Bill No. 995. Since I have vetoed AB 995, this provision is of no effect.

Additionally, this bill would authorize the Governor to negotiate and execute compacts with federally recognized Indian tribes in the state and submit those compacts to a joint legislative committee. I am in favor of this provision and would sign it into law in subsequent legislation.

This bill would require the California Building Standards Commission (CBSC), in conjunction with all state agencies involved in the development of building standards, and the interested public, to adopt regulations establishing procedures for the publication of those state agencies' interpretations of building standards by December 31, 1994.

Under this bill, the CBSC would have the authority to review state agencies' interpretations of building standards to make sure they are in a common format and are, in fact, interpretations of building standards and not new standards.

The bill is similar to a bill I vetoed last year, AB 225 (Areias). As I stated last year, this bill is unnecessary. In fact, the CBSC is already proceeding to implement the goals of this legislation. By implementing this program adminstratively, the affected agencies can move ahead quickly in working with the building industry to simplify the process of interpreting state building standards. Additionally, by accomplishing this goal administratively, agenies will be able to work within existing resources and have greater flexibility in carrying out the intent.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1550

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1550 without my signature.

This bill would require the addition of 30 parts per million of denatonium benzoate-NF, a bittering agent, to any engine coolant or antifreeze sold in California after July 1, 1995, that is manufactured after January 1, 1995, and that contains more than 10% ethylene glycol. The agent would also have to be added to any automotive product containing more than 4% methyl alcohol that was not formulated as a motor vehicle fuel.

This bill mandates the use of a product which has failed to demonstrate its overall effectiveness. As recently as 1992, the U.S. Consumer Products Safety Commission concluded that, "the CPSC recommends that the use of aversive agents should not be required due to a lack of efficacy data." Further, tests performed by Proctor and Gamble found that the addition of denatonium benzoate does not reduce the incidence of ingestion.

It is premature for the State of California to require that manufacturers add bittering agents to products before these substances are fully evaluated and determined to be effective.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 629

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 629 without my signature.

This bill would add a year sentence enhancement for persons who are convicted of possession for sale, or sale, of heroin, cocaine, methamphetamine or PCP at a public park or ocean-front beach.

This bill would also require the Department of Corrections to develop an antirecidivism plan for each inmate convicted of these offenses. The plan must offer academic training, vocational education, counseling, drug treatment, and job placement assistance tailored to the individual inmate's needs.

I am fully supportive of the legislation as it was introduced by the author to increase sentences for drug offenders. But I am troubled by the new requirements placed upon the Department of Corrections by amendments late in the session. Services are provided now by CDC to inmates generally, including academic training, vocational education, counseling, drug treatment, and some job placement services.

But the more individualized services required by the amendment—particularly the job placement services which would be better performed by other agencies having that primary responsibility anyway—would create significant new unbudgeted costs and threaten to divert CDC from performance of its primary mission.

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 2295 without my signature.

This bill would permit women who either pled guilty or were convicted of murder in a trial that commenced prior to 1992 to petition the court for a new trial, even after all appeals are exhausted, on the basis of battered woman syndrome evidence which relates to the battering of the petitioner by the victim of the homicide.

This bill would create a special procedure for a single class of convicted murderers who claim they were deprived of an adequate defense. It would lower the requirements that must be met for a court to grant a petition for a writ of error coram nobis or a writ of error coram vobis for prisoners who claim they were prevented, prior to the effective date of Evidence Code 1107, from fully presenting evidence of battered woman syndrome.

While this bill is obviously well intended, I do not believe it is an appropriate solution to the problem it seeks to address. Several elected District Attorneys in the state similarly believe that this bill would not offer an appropriate solution and have therefore requested a veto of this measure.

Special requirements for particular types of psychological defense should not be made for a generally applicable writ. There are numerous psychological defenses, including battered woman syndrome, that have been widely-accepted by the courts. It is simply not appropriate to alter the specific requirements of an established writ for the sole purpose of affecting and benefiting a single class of defendants affected by one type of psychological defense.

First, there are legal alternatives available to a defendant who believes an impropriety occurred at trial. Second, this bill will inevitable establish a precedent for recognizing and providing special standards for other novel defenses (abused child syndrome, abused elder syndrome, oppression artifact disorder, etc.) which may be developed or gain greater acceptability after a defendant's trial is over.

Finally, I am very concerned that the bill's provisions would apply to guilty pleas. There should be a presumption favoring the finality of convictions and judgments, and this should never be stronger than in a case in which the defendant openly admits his or her own culpability. This bill would allow the relitigation of guilty pleas years after conviction; forcing survivors through the emotionally-painful process of a new trial. This is particularly problematical when the conviction results from a guilty plea and where there will be little or no prior testimony. Thus, it will be extremely difficult for reviewing court, years later, to make evidentiary determinations, or to ensure the veracity and reliability of the "after the fact" claims made under the terms of this bill.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1957

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1957 without my signature.

This bill would create the new felony offense of "premises invasion."

Under the bill, premises invasion would exist when three or more persons enter an inhabited place through force against the will of the occupant. One of the perpetrators must threaten or actually commit great bodily injury on a person, other than the accomplice.

Existing criminal statutes cover burglary, robbery, and felonious assault. These statutes are broad based, easy to apply, and have penalties which are the same or substantially similar to the penalties provided for "premises invasion." It is difficult to imagine a prosecutor attempting to satisfy all of the requirements of this new statute when existing laws can be used to achieve the same result with a fraction of the effort and risk.

The California District Attorneys' Association and the Department of Justice have requested a veto of this measure because it poses several areas of serious concern. I share their concerns.

First, the penalty provided for a violation of this statute is absolutely not commensurate with the severity of the crime described. This is a major defect in the bill.

Second, although the base term for premises invasion is substantially similar to the ones for burglary and robbery, the overall sentence for premises invasion could be lower due to the disparity in the application of sentencing limitations and enhancements. Unlike residential robbery and residential burglary, multiple violations of premises invasion would be subject to sentencing limitations. Furthermore, the new crime would not qualify for the five year "serious felony prior" enhancement in contrast to robbery and burglary. Thus, a defendant guilty of premises invasion could actually be sentenced to lower penalties than are already provided under other statutes.

Third, while the bill provides that the crime of "premises invasion" does not supersede the crime of burglary, it fails to specify this in the case of robbery. This omission could prevent prosecutors from using an existing simple, straightforward statute when the criminal conduct was severe enough to overlap with the complex, difficult to prove crime of "premises invasion."

Fourth, the bill defines the term "inhabited" to require the premises to be actually occupied at the time of entry; this definition is directly contrary to existing law, which defines "inhabited" to mean simply a dwelling place. When the identical phrase is given two conflicting meanings in two closely related statutes, misunderstanding and trouble is sure to follow.

California citizens deserve stronger legislation which in no uncertain terms affords substantially greater protection from violent criminals who prey on people in their private sanctuaries.

This bill would require health care insurers and health care plans that deny coverage for an experimental procedure to notify the patient of the reasons for denial, and offer the patient a hearing.

This bill is very similar to a measure I vetoed last year, AB 853. While this bill incorporates some changes requested by opponents of the bill, it fails to address my previously stated concern that the administrative procedures mandated by the bill would increase the cost of health care without any commensurate benefit to the health of patients.

Moreover, this bill would benefit lawyers not patients. The provision requiring a "full and fair" hearing which is not limited to written communication is so broad that it may be interpreted to allow quasi-judicial proceeding.

The insured could be entitled to conduct discovery and even cross-examine the insured's medical experts who provided the "specific medical and scientific" reasons for denying coverage. Thus the insurer's would be forced to retain legal and medical experts to provide individualized "medical and scientific" reasons for the denial of coverage.

This elaborate review procedure will not resolve the coverage dispute as the insured is still entitled to proceed with litigation in the event of an adverse decision.

Higher costs for medical providers and insurers will have the effect of reducing access to health care rather than improving access to care.

This bill would establish medical physics as a licensed profession in California. The Department of Health Services would be responsible for licensing and disciplinary actions. The bill would also authorize the department to charge a fee for this responsibility.

This bill would create undue hardship for many practicing physicists. Many experienced medical physicists have obtained professional certifications, but from Boards not recognized by this bill. Others have been practicing for years, but are not board certified.

The bill does not contain a grandfather clause to protect currently practicing individuals who do not meet the standards established in this bill. Additional, there is no reciprocity allowed by this bill. A licensed medical physicist from another state would be unable to practice in California.

By failing to provide adequate provision for current practitioners, this bill could reduce the State's supply of medical physicists in the near term.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1385

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1385 without my signature.

This bill is designed to require the deployment of integrated services digital network telephone technology (ISDN) throughout California by the start of 1997. In order to finance the costs associated with accelerating deployment beyond what the market would otherwise invite, the bill authorizes an increase in telephone rates.

According to an estimate by the California Public Utilities Commission, such a rate increase for accelerated ISDN deployment could total $200 million. Yet, it is generally recognized that ISDN is only a transitional technology, allowing expanded use of the existing copper-based telephone system until broadband technologies, such as those using fiber optics, are deployed in the coming years.

Furthermore, there is little indication from either consumers or the consumer-products market that ISDN technology is a service likely to be broadly used other than in some commercial settings. Therefore, it is far from clear that deployment beyond business users—who generally already have access to ISDN—is justified on an accelerated basis. Taking into account the PUC's projection that market forces will lead to wide deployment of ISDN by the end of 1997—one year after the bill's deadline—there is no substantial argument for statutorily mandating PUC intervention. Also, to the extent that a local exchange company wants to leapfrog ISDN to directly deploy a fiber-based technology, this bill could be counterproductive. In other words, any possible benefits do not justify the substantial $200 million cost.

While specific aspects of AB 1385 are objectionable, I do appreciate that the Legislature's broad goals embodied in the bill are in concert with those I set out in my State of the State Address last January: California's telecommunications infrastructure can contribute greatly to the competitiveness of the State and to our quality of life. Additionally, in some instances State policy should not only engender the deployment of state-of-the-art technology, it should promote it. Nevertheless, the means mandated by this bill will not get us to our shared goal in a reasonable and cost-effective way.

This bill would prohibit any officer, employee or agent of a telephone corporation from monitoring or recording the conversation of their employees except for quality assurance and training purposes.

Currently, the PUC has developed regulations that limit the manner in which telephone corporations may monitor their employees. These regulations permit monitoring for the purpose of quality assurance and training, establishes that monitoring must be done in the direct line of sight of the employee, and does not allow written records of the monitoring to be kept.

These regulations already provide strong safeguards for telephone corporation employees. Any additional changes to these regulations should be more appropriately addressed through the PUC.

This bill would require, with specified exemptions, the California Environmental Protection Agency (Cal-EPA) and any local qualified agency to coordinate, conduct, and complete inspections of a public or private facility during the same period of time.

AB 2102 duplicates the current administrative procedures of Cal-EPA in coordinating environmental protection inspection of facilities with local agencies to maximize resources and minimize any inconvenience to those being inspected. This bill would compel the units of Cal-EPA to provide inspections within 30 days of a written request by a local agency without consideration by the local agency for current statewide obligations, priorities and standards in this area. While the goals in this bill are laudable, the actual result would be to redirect current Cal-EPA staff workload away from high priority investigations and federally required inspections.

disposition of the patients' medical records, at least 30 days prior to the sale, closure or transfer.

To mandate notice as envisioned in this bill is overly prescriptive and limits the flexibility of a physician to provide notice in any other form.

This bill would preclude a simplified and expedient process to notify patients of a pending sale, closure or transfer of a physician's practice. The notice of this action could be accommodated by providing the patient with the name and address of the purchasing physician.

There may, however, be a legitimate concern in those cases in which physicians close a practice and destroy the medical records in their possession. In these situations it is appropriate to require a notification as provided in this bill.

This bill would repeal the authority of the Commission on Peace Officer Standards and Training to cancel a certificate issued to a peace officer when that peace officer is convicted of an alternate misdemeanor/felony offense.

POST is the agency responsible for establishing the professional standards and training requirements for peace officers in this state. POST certifies peace officers when they have completed the minimal requirements but POST also retains the authority to revoke that certification based on noncompliance with the professional standards.

Currently, POST has the authority to revoke a certification when a peace officer is convicted of an alternate misdemeanor/felony offense. This bill would limit POST's ability to cancel certification to felony offenses only.

However, this bill would compromise POST's ability to carry out its mission. POST would not be able to cancel peace officer's certificate based on misdemeanor convictions for crimes of moral turpitude, drunk driving, and theft. This would deprive POST of its ability to ensure peace officers comply with the professional standards it has established.

I agree with the author's objective of consolidating the procedures for placement of home detention prisoners and vesting the authority to carry out the program under the auspices of the Correctional Administrator.

One provision in this bill is not supportable, however. It would grant sentencing credits to prisoners participating in the home detention programs in the same manner as other county inmates.

This bill goes in exactly the wrong direction. I am ardently opposed to the extension of sentencing credits. Instead of increasing sentencing credits for home detention inmates, this bill should reduce credits for the other prisoners.

This bill would require the court to conduct a hearing to determine the ability of each inmate sentenced to state prison to pay all or a portion of the reasonable costs of incarceration.

On its face, this bill would appear to achieve a highly laudable purpose—requiring solvent inmates to defray the costs of incarceration so that the taxpayers' share would be diminished. If this bill achieved that purpose, I would support it enthusiastically. Unfortunately, it does not.

Incredibly, the bill requires by its own terms that up to $740,000 of the inmate's assets will be shielded from the payment obligation. Furthermore, the inmate would be allowed to sequester funds sufficient to pay existing and foreseeable financial obligations. By the time all the exclusions are tabulated, it appears that only millionaires would be subject to the payment obligations.

If this bill were only just window-dressing, it would not concern me much. However, the bill mandates that the courts to conduct extensive ability-to-pay hearings for every inmate sentenced to state prison with full rights to representation and the ability to present and cross-examine witnesses. Why force the courts to undergo this all but rarely futile exercise 30,000 times a year? There must be a better way to achieve this purpose, and a better use for taxpayer's dollars.

This bill would permit the court to award attorneys' fees to a plaintiff who prevails in a sex discrimination action against an educational institution receiving public funds.

This bill is unfairly one-sided. It would authorize attorneys' fees only for a person who brings a civil action and not for an educational institutional who successfully defends against an action, even if it were frivolous. This imbalance may encourage frivolous lawsuits.

As I indicated in my veto message of a similar measure last year, this bill does not provide for simply equity in the treatment of both sides of a civil action.

This bill would make various changes to the Trial Court Realignment and Efficiency Act of 1991 to enhance trial court coordination plans.

This measure would further consolidate the functions of the different trial courts and would move the state far in the direction of full consolidation. Full consolidation, however, would eviscerate the distinctions between the trial courts and would threaten the constitutional foundation upon which those distinctions are based.

An even more extensive re-organization of the trial court system is proposed by Senate Constitutional Amendment 3 which would unify the trial courts. This constitutional amendment is expected to qualify for the June 1994 ballot.

I think it is important to know the outcome of SCA 3 before the state moves further in the direction of consolidation.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 730 without my signature.

This bill would establish health and safety requirements for license-exempt child care providers receiving payment through the Federal Child Care and Development Block Grant or the State's Alternative Payment Programs. Adoption of enforceable health and safety standards is a federal requirement for receipt of Block Grant funds.

The State Department of Education has sufficient authority to adopt enforceable health and safety standards without resorting to statute. Both the emergency regulation process and the contracts between the Department of Education and chid care providers are available for this purpose. In addition, since the federal government could be issuing new regulations regarding health and safety requirements shortly, it would be unwise to enact State statute at this time.

Finally, the health and safety standards which are eventually enacted by the State concerning license-exempt providers should extend to all subsidized child care programs uniformly. Therefore, I am requesting that the Department of Education and the Department of Social Services cooperate in creating a seamless child care system for those low-income families who choose license-exempt providers.

This bill would change the method of allocating Educational Technology funds from a project basis to a per pupil basis.

This bill addresses a real problem, which is that many small school districts have not benefited from the School-Based Grants component of the Education Technology Program. The solution proposed by AB 830, however, is too drastic.

This bill would allocate $2 per pupil with a minimum of $1,000 per district. This would potentially earmark $10.8 million of the total $13.4 million available to the program. While it may be appropriate to allocate more funds to districts that have not received funding from this program, it would be better to phase in the funding shift more gradually. As written, AB 830 would result in the elimination of $5 million to $6 million currently spent on regional and statewide technology programs that benefit numerous districts.

This program is scheduled to be evaluated on or before January 1, 1996—that evaluation should examine the appropriateness of redirecting more funding to districts and away from the programs which benefit numerous districts, such as instructional television, model schools, software clearinghouses, and information services.

This bill provides that disciplinary action against an attorney may only be pursued if the complaint was filed within one year of the complainant's actual knowledge or discovery of the alleged violation. The State Bar would be allowed two years to file a notice to show cause after receipt of a complaint or after discovery. This two year period could be tolled under specified circumstances.

I believe the one-year statute of limitations contained in this legislation would unduly restrict the ability of individuals to bring legitimate complaints against unscrupulous attorneys. This limitation on the grievance procedure is unprecedented and restricts the ability of the State Bar to pursue its regulatory function.

The primary function of any regulatory licensing agency is to implement professional standards and to monitor and curtail the improper or illegal activities of its licensees. This important function serves to protect not only consumers, but the profession as well. Any legislation which restricts the ability of the State Bar of California or any other regulatory agency from properly carrying out its regulatory function does not serve the best interests of the citizens of California.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 479

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 479 without my signature.

This bill would establish a procedure for the consolidation of court-related services in Los Angeles County.

Existing law requires the Sheriff's Department in Los Angeles County to provide court-related services such as bailiff, security and service of process functions to the superior court and the Marshal's Association to provide these services to the municipal court. The Los Angeles County Auditor has determined that upwards of 10 million dollars can be saved annually through the consolidation of these services under one agency upon full implementation.

This bill would establish a procedure for the consolidation of these services whereby, upon a finding of cost savings by the Board of Supervisors, a simple majority vote of the county superior and municipal court judges would determine the governing agency subject to the ratification or rejection of this decision by the Board.

However, I have signed a competing bill, Assembly Bill No. 1587, which establishes a preferable method for consolidation. AB 1587 authorizes the Board of Supervisors to make a final determination as to the most cost-effective and most efficient manner of consolidation after considering public comment and an advisory vote of all the judges of the superior and municipal courts.

I believe that the Board of Supervisors is the appropriate body to make this final decision. It is the governing board of the county. Surely the determination of how the county government is organized is properly a decision of that executive body. Moreover, the Board is elected to make these very decisions and is directly accountable to the voters for them.

In this case, the Board of Supervisors has unanimously endorsed AB 1587 and has expressed its desire to exercise its authority in this area. I have approved previous consolidation plans all of which were premised on the Board of Supervisors' desire to exercise its authority or its willingness to defer to another body. This consolidation plan is similarly premised on the supremacy of the Board's authority in this area.

At the same time, it is not appropriate for the Board to make this decision in a vacuum. AB 1587, however, does not suffer from this infirmity. It provides for input from the public at formal hearings and from the judges themselves by way of an advisory vote at the very least.

While the procedure in AB 1587 is inclusive, it is also conclusive. After the Board holds public hearings, it must make a final decision and consolidate either under the sheriff or under the marshal.

The procedure in AB 479, on the other hand, makes the judges' decision binding only if the Board ratifies the judicial preference. If the Board rejects the judges' decision, consolidation does not take place. This disagreement would cost the county approximately 10 million dollars each year consolidation is delayed. And the citizens of Los Angeles County would suffer from the delay which would be indefinite. At a time when there is a desperate need for police officers on the street, a delay caused by bureaucratic stalemate is intolerable.

Because AB 1587 provides the Board of Supervisors with the authority to make a final determination based on input from those most closely affected by the services, I have signed AB 1587 instead of AB 479.

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1254

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 11, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1254 without my signature.

This bill would require the Bay Area Air Quality Management District to adopt a stationary source permitting program for all ozone precursors which is at least as stringent as: (1) the permitting program requirements of the San Joaquin Valley Unified Air Pollution Control Districts; and (2) any new source review provisions required by the 1990 amendments of the federal Clean Air Act.

AB 1254 is premature in requiring more air restrictions on the Bay Area. A more extensive examination needs to be completed before this action can be justified. Moreover, I would prefer an approach that accomplished the same objective without restricting the development of needed jobs in another region of the State.

I am, however, directing the Air Board to more fully examine the extent of mitigation required by the Bay area. The framework for making these decisions is through the cooperative air quality transport study, and I am committed to completing this effort quickly. Additionally, I have signed AB 1062, which provides for the addition of a member from the San Joaquin district to the Air Board. This should assist the Valley in developing a fair and responsible solution of this problem.

RECEIPT

I acknowledge receipt this 11th day of October 1993, at 11:49 p.m., of Assembly Bills Nos. 479 and 1254, without the Governor's signature, together with a statement of his objections thereto, signed by the Governor, delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

Assistant Chief Clerk of the Assembly

The following item veto message from the Governor was received, and ordered printed in the Journal and the item veto placed on the unfinished business file:

Item Veto—Assembly Bill No. 447

Governor's Office, Sacramento
October 5, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am deleting the $100,000 appropriation from the Teachers' Retirement Fund contained in Assembly Bill No. 447.

This bill would create a new service program for inactive members of the State Teachers' Retirement Fund (STRS) and would relieve STRS from issuing annual statements of account to both active and inactive members for which STRS does not have an address.

I understand that STRS has sufficient administrative flexibility to fund the costs related to this bill from within its existing resources.

With this deletion, I approve Assembly Bill No. 447.

I acknowledge receipt this 6th day of October 1993, at 5:10 p.m., of the Governor's statement of the items of appropriation reduced or eliminated from Assembly Bill No. 447 delivered to me personally by Karen Morgan.

ARVETTA M. DOWNS
Acting Chief Clerk of the Assembly

The following messages from the Governor were received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Governor's Office, Sacramento
September 21, 1993

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 141.

This bill would authorize all honorably retired peace officers who carried a firearm in the course of his or her duties when active to carry a concealed weapon upon retirement. Also, this bill would require full notice and a binding arbitration for any denial or revocation of this privilege.

I am concerned, however, that the requirement for law enforcement agencies to participate in binding arbitration to deny or revoke a retiree's authority to carry a concealed weapon is too onerous. Currently law enforcement agencies follow departmental procedures and offer limited hearings prior to making their decisions whether to deny or revoke a retiree's privilege. This is sufficient. If a retiree is denied by the employing agency, the retiree may still apply for a permit to the local law enforcement agency in the community where he or she resides.

The author and the sponsor have agreed to introduce legislation next year to eliminate these new arbitration provisions.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1548.

This bill would establish the tort of "stalking" and would provide civil damages for redress.

While I am supportive of this measure, I am concerned that the language contained in the bill is not sufficiently clear to ensure that its provisions are applied as intended.

For example, the bill does not specifically define "harassment" or "pattern of conduct". In comparison, the criminal stalking provision defines both terms. Both the State Bar Committee on the Administration of Justice and the California Judges Association have expressed concerns about this fact.

The author has agreed to introduce legislation next year to define these important terms consistent with the definitions contained in the criminal statutes.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1330.

Although I have signed AB 1330, I do so recognizing that this was yet another example of a measure which, as originally introduced, would have had a much more significant impact upon our current criminal sentencing structure. However, the bill was amended during the Legislative process to substantially narrow its scope, and therefore to narrow its impact in keeping criminal offenders behind bars.

Originally this bill would have applied to all felons who, while either released on bail or on their own recognizance, continue to reoffend. Under existing law there are limitations upon sentencing which actually preclude certain classes of felons from feeling the full brunt of the law, and this bill would have ensured that these individuals were punished for every single offense they commit while they are released from custody. AB 1330 provides that those who are convicted of a previous violent felony and are then arrested for a second serious violent felony while out on bail, can serve a longer time in prison. I have signed this legislation because it is better than current law. However, I urge the Legislature to pass a measure in the next session that removes every single felony from the double-the-base term sentencing limitation.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed Assembly Bill No. 1264 on this day.

This bill requires the Commission on Teacher Credentialing to adopt standards and requirements that emphasize the preparation of teachers as active partners with parents in the education process

This critically important aspect of teacher preparation programs can be appropriately emphasized and incorporated into existing curricula without adding to the total level of coursework. Further, under no circumstances should this addition require an expansion of coursework so as to require students to go beyond the traditional fifth year.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1717.

This bill streamlines the process by which insurers change their state of incorporation, and will provide a simpler process for insurance companies already admitted to sell insurance in California, but incorporated in other states, to move to California. By adopting uniform legislation already in place in thirty-nine other states, this bill removes barriers to competition.

Further, this bill provides significant protection to California consumers and businesses by granting the Insurance Comissioner the authority to disapproved any transfer of a California insurer's charter to another state when that transfer is not in the best interest of California policyholders.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1273.

This bill would expand the definition of the basic teaching credential, extend the timeframe for preliminary credentials for out-of-state teacher candidates from one year to two years, and establish a new credentialing examination process for prelingually deaf credential candidates who teach or counsel solely in special classes or in state special schools for the hearing-impaired.

I am signing AB 1273, however, I am directing the Commission on Teacher Credentialing (CTC) to implement the requirements of this bill in a manner consistent with the limited fiscal resources available to the Commission. In addition, I am requiring the CTC to continue to maintain prudent reserves of 10 percent in the Teacher Credentialing Fund and 5 percent in the Test Development and Administration Account. While I understand that this requirement may restrict the manner in which the CTC is able to operate existing programs and implement new programs and requirements, I believe this action is necessary because of the revenue volatility in these two funds.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed Assembly Bill No. 160 this date.

This bill will provide a loan and a revenue limit adjustment for school districts that experience a substantial decline in enrollment due to a military base closure.

I have been advised that the sponsors of the bill have agreed to provide for cleanup legislation that will clarify the bill's intent that the repayment period of the loan is to begin in the year after the declining enrollment adjustments end, and to insure that the base revenue limit adjustment to the statewide average revenue limit is prospective, not retroactive.

With that assurance, I have signed this bill.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed Assembly Bill No. 202 on this date.

This bill was originally introduced by Assemblyman B.T. Collins prior to his death last March. This measure appropriately honors B.T. by naming the CCC Sacramento headquarters the "B.T. Collins California Conservation Corps Building".

With the help of Assemblymen Isenberg and Conroy, AB 202 takes the California Conservation Corps into a new era—an era of exciting new challenges. The CCC will be doing business in new and creative ways, and going to greater lengths to help youth develop educationally and emotionally. AB 202 recasts the Corps' mission to be the state's environmental work team and builds upon its youth development mission. In addition, this measure creates the mechanism for the CCC to be more cost-effective, more accountable and more entrepreneurial.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have on this date signed AB 557. Notwithstanding my concerns regarding Section 20 of the bill. The author has informed me that this section may not carry out the Legislature's intention, which was to limit special districts' 1993–94 property tax shift to the amount of remaining Proposition 13 fiscal relief.

I am signing the bill with the understanding that legislation will be introduced in January to clarify this language and that county auditors will be requested to implement this legislation in a manner consistent with expressed legislative intent.

I have signed this date Assembly Bill 1224.

This bill would provide exemptions from the property tax shifts for a special district in the Tahoe Basin with specific water quality control costs.

The author has committed that legislation will be introduced next year to clarify that the adjustments to the property tax reductions associated with the costs of complying with the requirements of the Porter-Cologne Act are limited to the 1993–94 fiscal year only.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 2053.

This bill would extend the Trustline process to child care providers in the At-Risk Child Care, Aid to Families with Dependent Program, and related programs such as GAIN, and Cal-Learn.

Expansion of the trustline registry is consistent with my commitment to protect the children of California. This bill would provide an additional safeguard to children in exempt care and would also increase the consistency between various subsidized child care programs.

I am asking President Clinton to assist California in ensuring that low-income children are provided the same protections that are currently enjoyed by other children in the state. To that end, I am directing the Department of Social Services to actively pursue federal financial participation in the program embodied in this measure.

There are provisions of this bill that are problematic and will require subsequent legislation. The legislation should clearly place the administrative responsibility for the Trustline system with the Department of Justice. The Department of Social Service's responsibility with regard to Trustline would be to act as an agent to transfer federal matching funds to the Department of Justice. The transfer of funds would be contingent upon federal approval of those costs as an allowable administrative expense.

There is agreement along among all concerned regarding these issues. The author has committed to introducing a measure to correct these problems. With that commitment I am signing this bill.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill 279.

This bill would designate the Western Commercial Space Center, a nonprofit corporation, as the California Spaceport Authority.

While I agree with the objectives of this legislation, I am concerned that the provisions of this measure regarding the receipt of federal grants may preclude any other California entity from receiving space-related federal funds. Although it is the intent of the bill to designate an entity to receive federal funds and not to preclude any other entity from applying for and receiving federal grants, the bill's provisions do not explicitly make that distinction. It is critical for California's successful defense industry conversion efforts that entities throughout the State be eligible to compete for federal funds.

I would support future legislation codifying this clarification.

I am signing on this date Assembly Bill No. 36.

This bill would require the Department of Health Services to reimburse providers, such as nursing facilities or home health agencies, for their actual cost of caring for technology dependent children if it would result in overall savings when compared to current treatment facility costs.

In calculating the overall savings that would be necessary to meet the criterion for this bill's implementation, the Department of Health Services is hereby directed to include within the costs that will need to be offset by savings any support costs that are or will be incurred to carry out AB 36.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 1888.

This bill would enact changes to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA), which prescribes the environmental review requirements preceding project approval by State and local government agencies.

Although I am signing AB 1888 and SB 919, I view these bills, as a modest reform of the California Environmental Quality Act. These reforms do not match the expectations that were raised by the Competitiveness Council and the Economic Summit. It is imperative that the Legislature revisit this issue early next year.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have this date signed Assembly Bill No. 107.

This bill would authorize the transfer of specified off-sale liquor licenses from Los Angeles County to other counties for a reduced fee.

It is not clear whether proponents intended these transfers to occur if the receiving county already has the maximum number of permits as authorized under existing law.

As such, I have instructed my Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control to deny transfers to areas that already have a high concentration of liquor stores, or that would be in conflict with existing local conditions or restrictions.

While I understand the importance of relieving some of the problems in South Central Los Angeles associated with alcohol abuse, it is important that we do not simply transfer these same problems to neighboring jurisdictions.

I believe the restrictions I have imposed on the Department in approving these transfers will provide the intended relief.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 342.

This bill requires the principal or superintendent of schools to suspend and recommend for expulsion any pupil found to be in possession of an explosive, firearm, or knife. This bill further requires that the pupil be expelled or referred to an alternative education program if there was no reasonable cause for the pupil to be in possession of the weapon.

I have signed this bill because it represents an improvement over current law which makes the decision whether to expel a pupil completely subjective on the part of the governing board.

This bill represents progress. But we ought not have two layers of review to decide whether pupils who possess dangerous weapons at school or at a school activity off campus must be expelled. On the contrary, if a pupil possesses a dangerous weapon, that pupil should be expelled immediately. There simply are no acceptable reasons for bringing a dangerous weapon to school.

That is why I have today also signed SB 1198 (Hart), which provides for a more certain removal of the offending student from the campus. Under the provisions of SB 1198, the student must be suspended immediately by the principal and either expelled or referred to a community school by the governing board.

Since this bill is an urgency measure, it will take effect immediately. On January 1, 1994, the provisions of SB 1198 will take effect and supercede this bill.

I would encourage both authors to introduce legislation next year that would combine the strengths of both measures, without the necessity of choosing between them.

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 547.

This bill would deem, effective January 1, 1994, that all health care service plans, disability insurers, and nonprofit hospital service plans provide coverage related to the diagnosis, treatment, and appropriate management of osteoporosis.

This bill does not mandate the coverage of osteoporosis and does not require providers to provide unnecessary medical treatment.

This bill would merely codify the standard practice of providing coverage for the diagnosis and "appropriate" treatment of osteoporosis. Moreover, the bill would serve to increase awareness of the incidence and the severity of osteoporosis. This can, in turn, result in better efforts on the part of the health plan and individuals in the prevention and treatment of osteoporosis.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Governor's Office, Sacramento

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I have signed this date Assembly Bill No. 897.

This bill would create a four year sentence enhancement for offenders who inflict injury upon a child that results in the child's death.

This bill was introduced to correct an inequity within current law which was thought by the author to allow for more severe penalties in cases of child abuse that result in traumatic injury than for child abuse that results in death.

Traumatic child abuse carries a penalty of two, four, or six years. There is no existing penalty that specifically punishes fatal child abuse.

This bill provides one more year than the existing penalty enhancement for corporal child abuse. This new penalty enhancement applies if the child dies. Because this increases the penalty for fatal child abuse and ensures that fatal child abuse will be punished more severely than traumatic child abuse, I have signed this bill.

At the same time, the additional one year provided by this bill still is not enough. My Administration has proposed stronger legislation in each of the last three years to ensure that when a death results from felony child abuse, the charge would be second degree felony murder. This would guarantee that fatal child abuse is treated as what it is—murder. Unfortunately, the Legislature has failed to pass this measure each year.

I urge the Legislature to pass this alternative proposal when it is introduced again next year for it would substantially distinguish between traumatic child abuse and deadly child abuse.

To the Members of the California Assembly:

On this date I have signed Assembly Bill No. 1289.

At the start of this year, in my State of the State Address to the Legislature and in correspondence with the Public Utilities Commission, I set out a vision of California's telecommunications future—our needs for a state-of-the-art system and its benefits to our economic competitiveness and the quality of our lives. With the passage of AB 1289, the Legislature has endorsed this vision.

In response to my request, the PUC has undertaken a major study of our telecommunications infrastructure and the opportunities presented by technology and the marketplace. The Commission has also surveyed the needs of the State's myriad telecommunications users, including schools, businesses large and small, health care facilities, and people at home—whether seeking to do business, telecommute, or be entertained. With the completion of this study and other proceedings at the PUC, the process required by AB 1289 is already underway.

When the Commission's study is released in the near future, I look forward to working with the Legislature on any statutory changes necessary to engender the telecommunications system California needs to take us into the next century.

STATEMENT OF ASSEMBLY EXPENDITURES PRINTED IN JOURNAL

The following Statement of Assembly Expenditures was ordered printed in the Journal:

Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Speaker: Transmitted herewith is the annual report of Assembly expenses. It includes the total expenditures by Member, committee, leadership office, service operation, and overhead according to various categories for the 12-month period ending November 30, 1992. Every expenditure made from the Assembly Operating Fund during this period is accounted for. Additionally, the report includes an itemization, by Member, of per diem expenditures from the General Fund during the same period of time.

It is important to note that this report is compiled on a cash basis. Therefore, the cost of goods and services incurred by a Member during the preceding reporting period but paid for during the current period are included. Furthermore, some goods and services which were received toward the end of this reporting period were not paid for until the beginning of the December 1992–November 1993 reporting period and are, therefore, not included in this expenditure report.

The following indicates the types of expenditures which are included within each classification:

Staff Salary: This includes the salaries paid to all employees in the Member's district office as well as those employees who work in the Member's Capitol office, provided they are not committee or leadership office personnel. The salaries of the latter group of employees are included in the specific detail report for each of the respective committee and leadership offices.

All Assembly personnel are classified according to job descriptions approved by the Assembly Rules Committee. The committee has established specific salary ranges for each of the classifications. The salary within a range for a specific employee reflects a combination of years of service in his or her position and his or her own job performance since the amount of annual merit salary increases is based on evaluations of each employee's work. Thus, a Member whose office staff includes employees with substantial Assembly seniority, and/or outstanding records of service, will have a higher total expenditure for salaries than will a Member who employs more junior personnel.

Member Travel and Per Diem: Separate totals are shown for in-state travel and out-of-state travel. Most in-state travel expenditures are for attendance at interim committee hearings. Out-of-state travel expenditures are generally for participation in conferences dealing with an issue area pertinent to the legislative specialty of the Member or are for investigative trips.

Staff Travel: Almost all expenditures reported, by Member, in this category, are for mileage reimbursements to district office personnel. The staff travel expenditures reported, by committee, are generally costs incurred in connection with interim committee hearings which are generally held away from Sacramento for the convenience of citizens who wish to provide testimony to the committees.

Car Lease: The amount reported in this category is the share of the automotive lease payment made by the Assembly Rules Committee. Assembly policy stipulates that a car will be leased for the legislative use of each Member but that the Assembly will pay only 90% of the monthly lease rate or $400, whichever is less. The Member must pay the difference from personal funds.

Car Maintenance: The costs reported in this category will vary significantly because of the variance in the number of miles driven by the Members. Members in large-sized districts and Members who represent districts wherein air travel between the Capitol and the district is not practical tend to utilize their cars more than other Members. Accordingly, the maintenance costs of such cars is likely to be higher than for others.

Gas and Oil: Expenditures in this category are for gasoline and oil supplied to cars and private aircraft for legislative business. These costs, too, vary for the same reasons as those affecting car maintenance.

Car Rental, Staff and Member: This expenditure category includes the use of state-owned pool cars and commercial rental cars by both the Member and his/her staff in the course of legislative business.

This category, as listed in the Support Services section of the report, includes, in addition to car rental, the costs of gas, oil, and maintenance for cars utilized by the office of the Sergeant at Arms.

District Office Rent, Maintenance and Utilities: Each Member is entitled to rent an office within the district he/she represents so that constituents may have direct access to their legislators. In some of the larger districts, two or three offices are sometimes authorized. Accordingly, Members representing districts in high-rent metropolitan areas or Members representing large districts requiring more than one office will be reported with higher expenditures in this category than will other Members. Costs included in this expenditure item are rent, utilities (except telephone), janitorial service, and incidental maintenance costs.

Telephone and Telegraph: All telephone charges (except equipment installation charges for the Capitol phones) are reported in this expenditure category. Included are district office phones, Capitol phones, credit card charges, and state lease-line charges. Members who will likely have higher charges than many of their colleagues are those representing districts which are either far from the Capitol, in areas not serviced by the state lease-line network, or in regions which cover large geographic areas.

Postage: The category includes the total amount expended for postage except for the postage utilized in the mailing of legislative mailings.

Communications—Printing and Postage: The costs included in this expenditure category are printing, handling and mailing of legislative mailings authorized under provisions of Proposition 73 of June, 1988.

Furniture and Equipment: This category includes the purchase, rental, and maintenance of certain furniture and equipment items utilized in the Capitol and district offices of the Members. It does not include the purchase of items which will, during the course of their usefulness, be utilized by a number of Members during succeeding years. Expenditures for items of that description are reported in the Furniture and Equipment category as General Overhead expenditures.

Office Supplies: Stationery items, other printing costs charged to the Assembly Operating Fund, general office supplies, and related miscellaneous supplies utilized in the Members' Capitol and district offices are reported in this expenditure category.

Subscriptions and Publications: Each Member is authorized to subscribe to the newspapers generally circulated within his/her district and to certain metropolitan daily newspapers. Members representing districts which include many cities and towns will frequently have higher expenditures in this category than will Members representing relatively compact areas. Expenditures for subscriptions and publications incurred by the committees and leadership offices are reported separately. Each committee is authorized to purchase relevant books and to subscribe to periodicals specializing in the subject matter of the committee for which the expenditure is made.

Miscellaneous Services: Most of the expenditures shown in the Miscellaneous Services category for the Members are for services such as telephone answering services in district offices and newspaper clipping services. Included in this category for the committee reports are such items as witness expenses, meeting expenses, data-processing costs, and other miscellaneous services.

A number of operational costs incurred by the Assembly are not directly attributable to any of the Members, committees, leadership offices, or support services. Such expenditures are classified as General Overhead and are reported according to the following categories:

Miscellaneous Salaries: Accrued vacation payments made to terminating employees, and salaries paid to employees on extended sick leave are reported in this category.

Employee Benefits: This expenditure category includes the Assembly's contribution to the OASDI (Social Security) fund, the Public Employees' Retirement System, various health and dental insurance premiums, the Compensation Insurance Fund, and unemployment and disability insurance.

Building Rent, Maintenance and Utilities: Reported in this expenditure category are construction and remodeling costs and the rent, maintenance, and utilities for offices (other than Members' individual district offices) utilized and paid for by the Assembly outside the Capitol.

Telephone: This listing is for the cost of telephone equipment installation in all Assembly offices except for the Member's district office.

Furniture and Equipment: The expenditure indicated in this category is for the purchase, rental, and maintenance of furniture and equipment not reported elsewhere in the report. Most furniture and equipment is considered a capital investment which will be used, through the years, by a number of different Members or other offices and can therefore not be appropriately reported as an expense on behalf of any particular Member or office.

Office Supplies: The amount shown in this expenditure category represents office supplies which were purchased by the Assembly for the use of Members and other offices but which were not distributed to any such offices before the end of this reporting period.

Annotated Codes and Law Books: Each Member's office and certain other Assembly offices are furnished with Annotated California Codes and certain other law books. The cost of these books is considered a capital expenditure in the same manner as many furniture and equipment items, and is therefore reported in this General Overhead category.

Meeting Expenses: This expenditure category includes certain costs incurred by the Assembly relative to the conduct of Assembly Sessions and Joint Sessions of the Legislature which cannot be readily charged to any other expenditure category, rental costs for some meeting rooms, and some conference registration fees.

Freight, Moving and Delivery: This expenditure category includes costs incurred for the transport of furniture, supplies, and other items which are not chargeable to any particular office.

Printing Reimbursements: This category reflects the charges made for printing performed by the Assembly.

Other Miscellaneous Services: The major expenditures reported in this category are for the costs of photography services related to official Assembly publications, vehicle liability insurance, and organization memberships.

Study Contracts: From time-to-time the Assembly finds it practical to contract with individuals, firms, universities, and other governmental agencies in order to expand its research capability with respect to specific projects. The costs reported in this category are for payments made under such contracts during this period.

The next report of Assembly expenditures will be for the period between December 1, 1992 and November 30, 1993.

Sincerely,

JOHN BURTON, Chairman
Assembly Committee on Rules

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly

Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents an audit report prepared under contract with Ernest & Young concerning the California Department of Toxic Substances Control's Implementation of the Hazardous Waste Source Reduction and Management Review Act of 1989. This report concludes that implementation of the Hazardous Waste Source Reduction and Management Review Act of 1989 has contributed along with other factors to a net reduction in the generation of hazardous waste for those who complied with the Act. However, the department needs to better identify generators and establish an information system to support implementation of the Act. Further, the department needs to establish a more effective compliance verification process.

Respectfully submitted,

KURT R. SJOBERG
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Environmental Safety and Toxic Materials.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

The prayer this morning is in memory of James Lyle Meyer and Michelle La Franca, members of the Assembly staff.

Gracious God, so Far Above Us, so Wide Around Us and so Deep Within Us, Awaken us to the enlightenment of Your presence; cause us to rejoice in Your truth, power and glory. As we are called to this new session endow us with the strength of Your spirit for we are amid the clamor, noise and pain of world, national and local events, so much before us.

Be with this government and especially with this Assembly as they confront the agenda for this new session. Give to them the consciousness and direction that leads to sound and just legislation which meets Your people's needs. Make a reality, the high purposes for which they are sent here. Save all of us from ourselves, our fears and inner doubts. May no cross-purpose hinder our way, that we all, leadership, members and staff may serve in full measure and care. In all that we do may we make goodness attractive and justice with mercy, real in all we do this day.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker Brown, Assembly Member McPherson then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

MOTION TO DISPENSE WITH READING OF THE JOURNAL

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bills Nos. 3093, 2109, and 3090

January 3, 1994

Mr. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: In 1992, the Legislature passed and the Governor signed three bills that each included amendments to Section 65089.3 of the Government Code (AB 3093, AB 2109, and AB 3090, chaptered in that order), relative to congestion management programs. In order to avoid chaptering problems, an attempt was made by Legislative Counsel to include appropriate contingency language in all three bills. However, the last enacted bill, AB 3090, inadvertently failed to include subdivision (e) of Section 65089.3, which had previously been enacted in both AB 3093 and AB 2109. This subdivision (e) was a statement of legislative intent with respect to Section 65089.3 which read as follows: It is the intent of the Legislature that a deficiency plan be prepared and adopted by the city or county, and approved by the agency, prior to the occurrence of a deficiency.

The purpose of this letter is to clarify that the intent of the Legislature with respect to Section 65089.3 of the Government Code is that a deficiency plan for a congestion management program should be prepared and adopted by the city or county, and approved by the congestion management agency, prior to the occurrence of a deficiency.

Sincerely,

RICHARD KATZ, Chairman
Assembly Transportation Committee

Appraise us in the eyes of Your wisdom that we may understand more fully the directions, our efforts here must take. Save us from whatever cause might overshadow the good we might achieve this day. Grant us higher visions and livelier expectations as we seek to heal the hurting and pain of a blemished state, nation and world. Endow us with a sense of urgency now at hand, for some great work to be done. May our work, this work, so much before us now, make shadows fade, and hope spring alive, brightening our skies and laying out more clearly, the way.—AMEN.

GOVERNOR'S STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

The following is the text of Governor Pete Wilson's State of the State address:

A California Safe For Jobs And Safe For Families

Lt. Governor McCarthy, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President pro Tem., Members of the Legislature, Constitutional officers, and fellow Californians, thank you . . .

As we begin 1994, let me thank you for what you did to bring change in 1993.

Last year, gridlock gave way to progress. In one of the most productive legislative sessions in history, we united in common purpose to promote job-creation, to remake welfare and to pass a budget on time. Newcomers and old lions joined together to make a difference.

It was progress in the finest tradition of those giants whose memories haunt these halls.

Unfortunately, last year those giants were joined by another when we lost our colleague and our friend B.T. Collins.

B.T. devoted his free-wheeling life to public service . . . to helping others. He believed it was possible to make a difference in people's lives. I think he'd be proud of last year's progress. But he'd also say, "Quit slapping yourselves on the back and get back to work." Well, that's not quite how B.T. would put it.

But get back to work we must, because there is still much more to do. Tonight, I ask you to continue the bipartisan cooperation that marked last year to face and meet the challenges that remain as we begin this year. California needs our leadership as never before.

The world is changing, and we can either shape change, or suffer change. We can lead or we can be led. Californians have never been content to sit back and just wait for the future.

So tonight, I say: Let's take charge. Let's lead that change. And though we have not finished the job, we've already made major change in our state. Think where we'd be now if we hadn't.

Without the reforms we have made to workers' comp, without reforms creating investment incentives and cutting red tape, businesses would continue to flee our state taking jobs with them. But we did make those important changes. We have reversed that flow of non-defense jobs out of California. More and more, the announcements these days are good news of new companies and new jobs for California.

If we hadn't made tough decisions to cut spending, our budget would still be on autopilot growth. It would be nearly $16 billion higher than it is today. That would be $1,300 more in taxes for the average California taxpayer. But we did hold the line on spending, to create more growth.

And if we hadn't begun to reform welfare, the system would still penalize those who choose the dignity of a job over the dependence of welfare. But we did reform welfare to finally make work pay.

So I salute you in this chamber—freshmen and veterans—on a year of genuine achievement. I especially thank the legislative leaders of both houses and both parties for their leadership and cooperation. You have made important changes. You put public interests ahead of the special interests to produce more jobs for California.

Tonight, we must continue moving forward, continue building a better future for California. It's a future whose only limits are those of our own imagination, hopes and tenacity.

Let us not forget, after all, what California is. We aren't just another state. California is the place where the continent ends and the future begins. For generations, California has led the world in agriculture and education, in high-technology and popular entertainment. Californians put computers into homes across the country and food on kitchen tables all around the world.

For sure, we've known adversity. We've been shaken by earthquakes, scorched by wildfire, battered by global recession, devastated by Washington's defense cuts. But the California spirit has never been broken.

Today, we're coming back and building the future. Our state is uniquely poised to take advantage of expanding global trade with Mexico and the bustling trading nations of Asia. We have the finest universities, the most productive workers, and the most creative entrepreneurs in the world. California is where the next generation of high-technology is invented.

If we continue to make the right choices even though they are tough choices today, California can soar into the 21st Century.

But right now, many Californians—quite understandably—are less concerned about the coming century, than about the security of their job today, and the safety of their family tonight.

The most urgent questions facing us are: How do we accelerate job-creation? And how do we slam the brakes on violent crime? The questions are very much related. New jobs and safe streets are the twin pillars on which we must build California's future. But employers don't bring or even keep jobs in neighborhoods that are no longer safe for their customers or workers.

Last year, I said that we would rebuild our state job, by job, by job. That rebuilding process has begun. But to attract more jobs we must first reclaim our communities from violent crime—house by house, street by street, in each neighborhood of every town and city of California.

Every Californian has a fundamental right not to become a crime victim . . . and not to live in fear. That's why I've called a special session of the Legislature, as well as convening a state-wide crime summit in Los Angeles two weeks from today.

We must move on three fronts to make California safe.

First, we need to put more police on the street.

Second, we must prevent children from ever turning to crime.

And finally, to those criminals who are the most serious threat to society, we must send a clear and certain message: California is through with revolving-door justice. If you commit a violent crime, you're going to do serious time.

We know that the first and best defense against violent crime is to have adequate police patrolling our streets. That's why the people of California joined in passing Proposition 172, to keep cops on the street and criminals behind bars.

In the city of East Palo Alto, we saw what even more police working with a community could do. In 1992, that city was the murder capital of the nation. But with help from the California Highway Patrol and police from neighboring communities, the people fought back.

The murder rate in East Palo Alto has fallen by 86 percent—the largest drop in the state. The people fought back and the people are winning.

To repeat that success story around the state, tonight I propose sending more police officers to those communities especially hard-hit by violent crime. We'll recruit and train 500 new CHP officers and place them in high-crime areas to fight crime with local law enforcement. To the criminal on the street—our answer will be the cop on the beat.

Swift response and a united community worked in East Palo Alto, and it can work around our state to reduce the fears felt by too many Californians.

But to make California safe, we must also prevent children from becoming involved in gangs and crime in the first place. I remain committed to the concept of preventive government—that giving a kid a good start in life is the best ticket to a bright future.

That's why during the past three years, despite the largest state budget cuts in American history, we've doubled the number of children in pre-school, increased mental health counseling for young children five-fold and expanded health care for poor pregnant women, new mothers, and infants.

But we must continue to do all we can to rebuild the best anti-crime institution there is: a safe home with a nurturing two-parent family.

At the California crime summit later this month, we'll explore ways to heal the problems of California's fractured families. We'll seek new incentives to keep families together, to discourage children from having children, and to require deadbeat dads to shoulder their responsibilities.

We must enforce a simple rule: Father a child—support that child.

We sympathize with those neglected children who are tempted by drugs or gangs. But when as teenagers or adults they victimize others, our sympathy must yield to responsibility. And our first responsibility must always be to protect the innocent, and punish the guilty.

We must prosecute as adults the perpetrators of vicious, violent crime at age 14, and above.

To make our streets safe again, we must target the most dangerous criminals. Research shows us that most serious crimes are committed by relatively few habitual criminals.

Richard Allen Davis is the most recent example. Davis has confessed to the tragic murder of little Polly Klaas. Davis is a repeat felon, a career criminal with a long, long record of habitual sordid crimes and violence.

This animal . . . should have never been at large.

Last year, in California more than four hundred children were murdered.

Our streets are being stained with the blood of our children—and it's got to stop. Damn it, it has got to stop.

So I ask you, please, work with me to pass tougher laws. We know what California needs to make our cities, our suburbs, and our small towns safe again.

We should start with the "Three Strikes, You're Out" bill. Let's double the penalty for two-time felons, and put three-time losers behind bars for life.

It's time to turn career criminals into career inmates.

I urge you to make this bill law. If we fail in our duty, the people will not fail in theirs. They will qualify and pass the "Three Strikes, You're Out" initiative in November . . . and they should.

But for some vicious criminals, three strikes is two too many. For those who commit forcible rape, who molest a child, or devastate a community through arson, the first offense should be the last.

Arsonists and sexual predators are habitual offenders. What we need for them is a simple law: One Strike, You're In—for Life.

Third, we need new laws to attack the growing tide of armed thugs on our streets. Law-abiding citizens have the right to a weapon for self-defense. Criminals do not. But they are not deterred by a 3-year sentence. A repeat felon with a gun is a new tragedy waiting to happen. Don't let it happen. Give him life.

Fourth, we need to ensure that all dangerous criminals serve more of the time to which they're sentenced. For the last three years I've demanded that we slash good-time credits that allow criminals to walk free—routinely serving only half their sentence. Even murderers can now subtract one-third of their sentence for good behavior.

That's an outrage.

Worse, it is inexcusably dangerous. We can't let killers walk out of prison early just because they've done a good job folding shirts in the prison laundry.

Yes, these reforms will mean building more prisons, and hiring more correctional officers. There's no getting around that fact. But that's a price we've got to pay. As governor, I've opened five new prisons. Tonight I propose that we offer $2 billion worth of bonds to build six more.

There will be those who protest such costs. They'll complain that they would prefer to spend the money on higher education rather than more prisons. Well, so would I. But this is not a matter of choice. The cost of California's failure to keep Richard Allen Davis behind bars was paid by little Polly Klaas. Does anyone want to tell me how much a child's life is worth?

Does anyone want to assign a dollar value to 400 murdered children?

We can—we must—prevent these crimes by building the prisons we need to put violent criminals away.

These are changes we must make. We should all be able to agree on that. There are no partisan points to be scored here. We will judge our success in crimes prevented and victims saved.

Only when we have restored safety to our streets can we fully succeed in our other mission—to create more and more jobs for California.

Last year, we showed that we could work together to make a better California. Your reforms are creating California jobs.

The growing confidence of job-creators in California's improving business climate is dramatic evidence that California's on the mend.

Intel, the world's largest producer of computer chips, operates around the globe with facilities from Ireland to Israel, from Puerto Rico to the Pacific.

But when Intel decided to expand this fall, adding 1,000 more new jobs, where did they decide to go? California.

And they cited our business reforms as the reason for their decision saying, and I quote, "These reforms have made California more competitive for new jobs and new investment."

Intel was just one of many firms that chose California this year. Together these firms are sending the nation a message.

That message is: California is indeed coming back. But for California's comeback to continue, we must take several steps. And take them quickly.

Here is what I propose: First, we must help small business. That's where the vast majority of new jobs in California will come from. We've improved the climate for small businesses to grow in California, but we must provide an extra incentive for those risk-takers willing to start a business and help us build the new California.

So, tonight I propose a $1,000 tax credit for each new job up to 100 jobs created by a start-up business during a two-year period beginning July 1. I say, let's reward those Californians who have the guts to start a new business and put our people back to work.

Second, we must continue our campaign to slash job-killing regulations—tearing away the red tape that ties the hands of California's job creators—especially our small business men and women.

Throughout state government, we're shrinking the paperwork burden on job creators. We've required all government agencies to issue regulations in plain and simple language—language that non-lawyers can understand.

We're opening one-stop shops so that getting the permits needed to create new jobs doesn't become a job in itself. The first two shops have opened in Los Angeles and Orange County. Four more will soon follow, and we intend to create them all over California.

And we're trimming forms that force small business men and women to spend more time doing paperwork than doing productive work.

This form required of small businesses to monitor air pollution once ran hundreds of pages. We've cut it to two.

But some of the most burdensome regulatory requirements are at the local level. So I propose to cities and counties that they take steps to cut their own red tape. The cost of their failure to do so will be measured in jobs lost and higher home prices in their own communities. And I propose that we assist them in doing that with state grants.

And to straighten out the maze of environmental rules and regulations, I ask you to join me in making California a world leader in the way we approach environmental regulation. Too often our regulations protecting our air, overlap with our regulations protecting our water, and both overlap with still more regulations. This redundant process wastes times, raises prices, and kills jobs. It's not the standards that are the problem, it's the process. We're going to develop a plan with the Conservation Foundation to consolidate these regulations. We're going to insist they make sense.

Third, we must promote exports. Many of California's new jobs will come from the goods and services we sell overseas. Even in these tough times, foreign trade is creating thousands of new jobs in our state.

So tonight, I propose expanding our marketing efforts in Mexico and doubling our export financing program. Let's help California companies take full advantage of NAFTA in entering the Mexican market and creating new jobs at home.

My Administration will be holding "How to Export to Mexico" seminars around the state. We'll be working with California's farmers and ranchers, high-tech entrepreneurs and engineers, California's small business men and women . . . working to find new markets for California products and California produce around the world.

Fourth, we must put California's tremendous assets—human, physical, and industrial to work.

The world is changing and that means changes in the nation's defenses. But California defense workers deserve—they have earned—the time and resources to adapt to new industries.

Federal defense cuts triggered half of all the jobs lost in California during the past three years. For decades California workers helped America win the Cold War. Let's be sure that they're not left out in the cold now.

This year, the Federal Government will provide increased funds for worker retraining and technology development. We'll continue to press for California's fair share. But the real key to making this money productive is to meld worker retraining programs with local economic development efforts and, in particular, to channel it into California's emerging technologies.

I've directed the Employment Development Department to work closely with the Trade and Commerce Agency to achieve a new synthesis that will produce real jobs in new industries.

Californians are already using technologies that fought the Cold War to win the war against cancer. Technologies that once built jet fighters are now building electric cars. Environmental clean-up offers a particularly exciting world-wide market for California expertise, and the prospect of many new jobs for California.

We can use the workers and the energy that helped America win the Cold War to help California win the global competition for jobs.

But we must also ask—not just as Californians, but as Americans—has our nation's headlong rush to cut defense investment gone too far?

The world remains a dangerous place. These deep cuts don't just threaten California's jobs, they threaten our nation's security

Too often it seems that for every step forward we take in California, we get a big push back from Washington.

It's not just that further defense cuts are idling aerospace workers. Federal water cuts are squeezing our farmers. A failed immigration policy is busting our budget. And higher federal taxes are pinching our wallets.

In California, we've been cutting the cost of state government. In the past two years, we've reduced General Fund spending by $4 billion. We've abolished 111 unnecessary boards and commissions. We've left 22,000 state jobs unfilled and saved a billion and a half dollars in welfare costs.

Tonight, I ask you to join me in making government even more efficient by abolishing the Energy Commission and the Integrated Waste Management Board and by trimming middle management in state government by 10 percent.

Unfortunately, while we were cutting the cost of government in Sacramento, Washington was passing a tax hike that hit California taxpayers harder than taxpayers in 45 other states.

As the chief economist of the Bank of America, John Oliver Wilson recently said, "You couldn't have designed a program that would have a more negative effect on California."

Well, for middle-class taxpayers, instead of a hike, I say we give 'em a break.

Specifically, I propose that, for California taxpayers earning less than $40,000 who will pay higher taxes under the Clinton tax plan, we reduce income taxes by an average of 19 percent for single taxpayers, 18 percent for joint filers.

In fairness, it will offset the Federal tax hike for the 4.2 million taxpayers who can least afford to pay.

We must continue to do whatever we can to further stimulate California's economic recovery. I am asking my Council of Economic Policy Advisors to advise how we can reduce income or other taxes to most effectively spur additional job creation.

I'm convinced that California must go further in making our tax structure competitive. Taxes are a cost of doing business. States that tax less than California are clearly more attractive on that score. As a case in point, our reform of the unitary tax has won California the 700 jobs which Legoland will bring and greatly increased interest on the part of the investors with whom I spoke on my recent 17-day trip to Asia.

No other state is so well positioned to seize the opportunities of expanded global trade and the high-tech industries of the future.

No other state in the Union is more blessed by nature—or by our richest resource, a creative and resilient people.

But my friends, we must act to guarantee that future for California's children—and we can only do that by defeating crime and creating jobs.

If we work together, we can restore California as America's preeminent state in which to live, work, and raise a family. We can ensure a California comeback.

We're already seeing signs of that comeback. Businesses large and small around the state are responding to initiatives that together we enacted last year.

We've begun to build the better California we all want—a California safe for jobs and safe for families—a California full of promise and opportunity.

I'm confident that California has a magnificent future.

It's within our power, working together, to continue making needed change; and to hasten the arrival of California's magnificent future—to speed the day when promise becomes reality.

We owe the people nothing less. Let us achieve nothing less.

Now, as B.T. would say, let's get to work.

Gracious God, Our Help in Ages Past and Our Hope for Years to Come, Be near to us. For without Your presence, Your care and grace, we are as ships, rigged, but cannot sail. Without Your truth, we labor here but in vain. This is what we are except You guide us, O Lord. Gather us together, make us a working force for the good and better, for this state and its people. As You have brought us from north and south, east and west, as You have bestowed upon us a multiplicity of skills, gifts and graces, meld us together for this cause. In the midst of so much hurt and suffering among people who cry for help, the homeless whose bedrooms are the streets, the poor and unemployed and children who live in fear. Bind us together Lord, to do this work. As Your word affirms a time for everything. Bring us together, to do this work.—AMEN.

REPORTS

The following letters of transmittal were presented by the Speaker, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Office of the Auditor General

92001
December 28, 1993

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents the financial report of the State of California for the year ended June 30, 1992. This financial report includes a financial section with the State's general purpose financial statements presented on a basis in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles (GAAP) and a statistical section with important labor, income, and population statistics.

The financial statements show that the State's General Fund spent approximately $3.3 billion more than it generated in revenues for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1992, and ended the fiscal year with a fund deficit of $3.8 billion. The GAAP basis statements include all liabilities owed by the State while the budgetary basis statements that are used to report on the State's budget do not reflect all liabilities.

We conducted this audit to comply with the California Government Code, Section 8546.4.

Respectfully submitted,

KURT R. SJOBERG
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Office of the Auditor General

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents its audit report prepared under contract with Deloitte & Touche concerning the Department of Health Services' Licensing and Certification Program (department). This report concludes that the department needs to strengthen the controls over the preparation of the fee schedules for acute care and long-term care facilities. Further, the Legislature needs to amend the law to allow the department to adjust the fee schedules to more accurately reflect the costs of administering the program. In addition, according to provisions in the law, general and acute care facilities are subsidizing services to other types of facilities. Finally, the department needs to improve various administrative procedures.

Respectfully submitted,

KURT R. SJOBERG

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following Budget message from the Governor was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

Governor's Office, Sacramento
January 7, 1994

To the Senate and the Assembly of the California Legislature:

I submit for your consideration the Governor's Budget for 1994–95.

The budget reflects the priorities that are paramount in the minds of Californians: improving the state's jobs climate and protecting the safety of Californians from violent crime.

Over the past year, as we have confronted the challenges of an economy that is in fundamental transition, we have acted to shape our future and change it for the better. Working together, we made significant achievements in 1993 that have set the stage for the California Comeback.

But while we have moved forward in California, policy decisions in Washington continue to work against our progress in a number of areas.

We must engage both the Congress and the Administration in a partnership, in order to make the changes needed so that California can join in the national economic recovery. I look forward to your joining with me in sending a clear and united message that a cooperative effort can result in benefits for both California and the nation.

With your responsible leadership in 1994, we can build on our accomplishments and chart the course for California's future—a future of economic opportunity, of personal security, and of opportunity for all Californians.

Sincerely,

PETE WILSON

Accompanying Governor's Budget and Budget Summary ordered filed with the Secretary of State.

Gracious God, Who Is as Close to Us as Waters Surrounding an Island Shore, Call us, to know, You are near. Grant us to feel, what our eyes cannot see, Your presence in the midst of this Assembly room. From counties, cities and rural towns of California, these, our public servants have come, and are now confronted with the problems, needs and uncertainties of today, tomorrow and time unborn. Grant to each of them, and to every working hand, a clarity of purpose above all else, be it party, district, cause, or issue, that Your people of state, nation and world, may be served. So brood over us, Lord, that Your Spirit may lift us to a higher ground of insights into the many tasks at hand. Send us forth, Lord, now to serve.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Gracious God, Whose Powers of Might and Strength Amaze Us, The more, when we behold twisted and broken masses of freeways and structures across acres of destruction, chaos and ruins. There was once the pride of our work and the fruit of our genius and hands. Be near to Your people caught so in this disarray. So deal with us this day, that high business may be done in this room, for the healing and restoration of wounded communities asunder, and homes and businesses destroyed. Grant us a full working of Your powers, inherent in us, that through our efforts, walls may rise again, and highways shall be made straight and life and light shall shine again. Although we face problems which perplex us and tasks difficult to complete, we ask Your guidance and strength, committing us, that this work be done, with big steps today.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

"This is the day which the Lord has made. Let us rejoice and be glad in it."

O Lord, You have blessed us with a gift of a new day. Here now, our unspoken prayer, to be good stewards of the hours at hand which the new day brings. May the schedule of time in which we pursue the business of this Assembly be fruitful, and serving the purpose for which we are here. Let us not forget the many demands upon us which require our dedication at its highest and best. Grant us that concern, which goes an extra mile and does in great evidence, a little more. May we keep our sights ever focused on the needs of California, its wounded communities and hurting people. With this a burden, still may we meet all other needs and routine chores, because with us, You are here.—AMEN.

Bureau of State Audits

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents its audit report concerning our review of the reports submitted by the Department of Corrections and the Department of the Youth Authority on the Early Intervention Program. In 1989, these two departments each implemented an early intervention pilot program, as a component of their workers' compensation programs. This report concludes that events other than the implementation of the early intervention programs are currently blurring the California Department of Corrections' (CDC) and Department of the Youth Authority's (CYA) attempts to measure the effectiveness of early intervention. In addition, no mechanism currently exists to effectively collect and report certain data requested by the Legislature. Furthermore, some data reported by the CDC and the CYA did not completely conform to statutory requirements. Also, some of the source data utilized by the two departments could not be validated for accuracy. Finally, some of the data reported by the CDC and the CYA was not accurate.

Respectfully submitted,

KURT R. SJOBERG
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Public Safety.

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents its investigative report concerning employees of the University of California, San Diego (UCSD). This report concludes that two employees of the UCSD conspired to file falsified payroll documents. In addition, they misappropriated over $12,680 in state and local funds for their personal profit and participated in other improper activities such as conspiring to submit false mileage reimbursement claims. Also, one of the employees engaged in conflict-of-interest practices, established a secret, unauthorized bank account, and used money from an outreach program for nonprogram-related expenses. As a result of our investigation, we identified more than $40,000 in costs associated with these improper activities.

Respectfully submitted,

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: The Bureau of State Audits presents its audit report concerning the State's compliance with the Government Code, Section 5703, for bond sales during 1991 and 1992. The Government Code, Section 5703, requires the state treasurer to use a competitive process in selecting underwriters for negotiated bond sales, and also requires that the state treasurer, financing authorities, and the California Housing Finance Agency maintain certain records related to the bond sales. This report concludes that the State has generally complied with the Government Code, Section 5703. However, because the state treasurer believes the law can be interpreted to require competitive selection of only lead underwriters rather than lead underwriters and co-managing underwriters, we believe more needs to be done. Therefore, to ensure that a competitive process is used to select all underwriters in the future, we recommend that the Legislature consider amending the Government Code, Section 5703, to specifically state that co-managing underwriters as well as lead underwriters be selected through a competitive process.

Respectfully submitted,

SALLY L. FILLIMAN
for
KURT R. SJOBERG
State Auditor

EXPLANATIONS OF ABSENCE

Pursuant to the Assembly Rules, the following explanations of absence were ordered printed in the Journal:

Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 219
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Speaker: I would like to be excused from Session Thursday, January 27, 1994. I will be in Washington D.C. testifying before the House Public Works Committee regarding the Northridge earthquake.

Sincerely,

RICHARD KATZ, Assembly Member
Thirty-ninth District

Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 219
Sacramento, California

Willie - I request to be excused from Legislative Session on Thursday, January 27, on legislative business. I will be participating in Bolinas (Marin County) from 10:30 a.m. through 1:30 p.m., in an advisory group brainstorming the creation of a new and pioneering national initiative (with a ground project likely to be conducted here in California) named "The Common Enterprise."

"The Common Enterprise" (TCE) intends to pilot new techniques and generate new models for overcoming the bitter conflicts within our society today, by bringing together all the diverse stakeholders concerned with each of several of our most divisive public issues in an environment and with coaching which will, hopefully, enable them to find common ground, and proceed together toward reconciliation and problem solving.

In practice, TCE will involve the design and facilitation of "Democracy Roundtables" in a set of American cities (including, hopefully, one here in California) in crisis or severe conflict.

This project could well lead to developing a valuable model for California. My involvement well fits the negotiation and conflict resolution themes of my legislative efforts here in the Capitol.

I wish you well,

JOHN VASCONCELLOS, Assembly Member
Twenty-second District

(NOTE: For letter explaining the absence of Assembly Member Frazee on this day on legislative business pursuant to the Assembly Rules, see Assembly Daily Journal for January 26, 1994.)

PRAYER

Gracious God, Before Whose Face, Empires of the Past Have Risen and Fallen Away, Make our foundations sure. Give us the grace to respect and honor all those men and women who give us leadership in these trying times. We would remember in Your presence our leaders in nation and state, in church and community, in home and school. Their wisdom has saved us, their devotion has shamed us and their character inspires us. Especially today, we would join with the Roman Catholic Diocese of Sacramento in high respect and honor of Bishop Francis Quinn, for so long in our midst, an advocate and doer of good works. Our prayers go with him as he retires from a work well done. Give us this morning, O Lord, something of his example, that here from this room, we may keep bright lights shining, making clear, by what we do, the wide perspectives of state.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Knight then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Legislative Intent—Assembly Bill No. 2327

January 31, 1994

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Wilson: I would like to request that this letter be printed in the Assembly Daily Journal to clarify my intent with regard to AB 2327, which is currently pending in the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The California Supreme Court will soon hear arguments in the case of Moore v. Conliffe. In briefs filed with the Court, attorneys for the plaintiff have argued that the Court should not issue a decision in the case. Rather, the plaintiff argues, the Court should wait for the Legislature, through AB 2327 or another measure, to act.

It is my intent to hold AB 2327 until the Court issues its ruling in the Moore v. Conliffe case. I did not introduce, nor do I intend for, this measure to influence the Court in any way.

Cordially,

DEBRA BOWEN, Assembly Member
Fifty-third District
