PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Gracious God, Who without deserving, You have brought us this far along the way. Guide us, that we fail not ourselves, this office or You. This morning, leave us not to ourselves, but abide in all we plan and do, our thoughts, our hopes and ways. From the superficiality of so much of the Capitol scene, we would find in You, a rock of stability and strength. From the thinning of our spiritual resources, we would find in You a strong reserve. Make these moments, a time of searching the past. Recall to us those high moments in our lives which inspired, encouraged, and brought us to these desks, with so much eagerness and faith. And may we never forget, but always remember, as You were with us in beginning, You are with us now, the same yesterday, today, and forever.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Caldera then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

In Your calm hands receive us, and fill us with serenity and power. From the noisy yesterdays through which we have come, lead us to the high hills from which comes our help. Encourage us, in our efforts on this floor, to do this work, our calling to fulfill. Bring us closer to a common purpose, as together, we would achieve the goals of this Assembly. How marvelous are Your gifts and the possibilities for good which can come from this hour. And as we begin our work of the day, may Your spirit be evident in all we say, propose and do.—AMEN.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Assembly Member Woodruff was granted unanimous consent that when the Assembly adjourns on this day it do so out of respect to the memory of former President of the United States, Richard M. Nixon, and that the following statement be printed in the Journal:

I would request that when we adjourn we do so out of respect for the memory of former President Richard Nixon, a native son, and the only California native ever elected President, who died Friday, at age 81.

Richard Nixon represented California in the House of Representatives from 1947 to 1951 when he became one of California's U.S. Senators. Selected by Dwight Eisenhower as his running mate, Richard Nixon served as Vice President from 1953 to 1961. Following failed attempts at the Presidency in 1960 and the California Governorship in 1962, Nixon was sworn in as President on January 20, 1969.

Rather than review Richard Nixon's many foreign policy achievements, I'd like to review domestic achievements on which he campaigned in 1968:

creation of the Environmental Protection Agency, giving 18-year-olds the right to vote,
ending the draft,
Revenue sharing—giving power and money back to the state and local Government.

After his resignation from Office on August 9, 1974, Nixon returned to his native California where he began the first of nine books he would write after leaving Office.

During his years out of Office, Nixon advised both Democratic and Republican presidents on foreign policy and regained respect from many Americans for his endless efforts to achieve world peace. George McGovern, the man Richard Nixon defeated in 1972 has said, "Richard Nixon grew enormously as a human being after leaving the White House."

In June 1993, Pat Nixon, his partner in everything he had achieved, died of lung cancer. While Nixon continued to travel and speak out, he was never the same without Pat. For me personally, and for many who serve, our political lives started working for or against Richard Nixon. You can despise or admire the man, but no one can deny that his impact on our nation during his nearly 50 years in public life is enormous. For me personally, Nixon was always focused on others. The last time I spoke to President Nixon was at Pat's funeral. He asked how I was doing politically and I told him I was thinking of getting out of elective politics. Instantly, he said "You're too young to quit, we've got to talk."

After all he had experienced in his nearly fifty years in public life, Richard Nixon could never conceive of life out of the arena. In the world arena, Nixon made the world a safer place and for this fact alone he deserves our respect and gratitude.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Gracious God, Before Whose Face Kingdoms of the World Both Rise and Fall, We pause in gratitude and thanksgiving for our nation and state. We would lift up to You, this morning, all those presidents and leaders, whose service has sustained us, whose wisdom has led us, whose devotion and sacrifice shed light upon the path in darkness and speak loudly of the demands of state. In particular we remember President Richard Milhous Nixon who has departed this life and place. And we pray Your comfort for the nation and especially his family, who but so recently are in sadness again and find another empty space in their sky. And by our love for our nation and leadership may we measure the love of others for theirs, honoring their devotion and respect, as we honor our own.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Knight then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Eternal and Most Gracious God, Our Refuge and Strength; to Whom We Never Turn in Vain, Just as we look into a mirror to see any blemish on our face, so let us look to You. As again we are assembled in this important place, so do we pray Your strong presence with us. For we meet in a time of trouble and strife, and problems of state perplex us from our state and nation, and areas throughout the world. Yet how thankful we are, that in Your hand every crisis of chaos and ruin is shadowed by given opportunities for better days to be. So lead us forth this morning to the secret places, to the wells of water that never run dry, always there, behind every concern and fear, the opportunities, reaching out to be.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Eternal and Most Gracious God, Whose Hand Is Not Shortened That It Cannot Save or His Ear Dull That It Cannot Hear, Be near to us. Help us to think wise thoughts, speak sincere rhetoric and strive for good deeds in all that we do. For we know, all too well, that the best of all plans and labor are empty and futile unless, we build on You, the Solid Rock. Grant us the wisdom, of one who long ago admonished, "Except the Lord build the house, they labor in vain that build it." Guide this Assembly, breathe upon them power, understanding and light, that what they do here, may open doors for better living in California. Grant them that none shall be fearful when courage calls, or weary when strength of faith will make our day.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker Brown, Assembly Member Johnson then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Bureau of State Audits

May 5, 1994

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the Bureau of State Audits presents its audit report concerning its review and evaluation of the operations of the Department of Insurance's Conservation and Liquidation Division (division). Specifically, we reviewed the division's operations concerning management of conserved insurance companies, personnel practices, contracting, allocation of costs to conserved companies, disposition of assets and claims processing. This report concludes that although the division has made efforts to improve its management practices, our review of the division's operations for calendar years 1991 through 1993 disclosed the need for more focused oversight in the areas mentioned above. For example, the division has not developed plans for closing the conserved and liquidated insurance companies it manages. Without such plans, the division cannot adequately assess its effectiveness and efficiency in managing the assets of the insurance companies under its control.

In the area of personnel practices, the division failed to adequately advertise for positions and, until late March 1994, used questionable practices in granting merit salary increases and promotions. Furthermore, the division's former managers authorized inappropriate payroll payments totaling over $127,000 to division employees and severance payments of $72,000 to employees who had not been severed.

The division did not provide for competitive bid proposals in its contracting procedures and contracts' terms were often unclear as to the scope and duration of the work to be performed. Additionally, flaws in the division's review of consultants' invoices caused duplicate and questionable payments.

Finally, this audit report concludes that the division did not properly handle the sale of assets in several of its most recent liquidation sales. Moreover, in some instances the division did not promptly process claims for policyholders of liquidated insurers.

Respectfully submitted,

KURT R. SJOBERG
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Insurance.

The following communication was presented by the Chief Clerk from:

Kathleen F. DaRosa, Initiative Coordinator, Department of Justice, Office of the Attorney General, transmitting copies of the title, summary, and text of the following proposed initiatives, pursuant to Section 3506, Elections Code:

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Eternal and Most Gracious God, So High Above Us, Yet So Deep Within Us, How thankful we are for the triumph of justice and goodness in the world of human affairs; to be alive and witness the healing of brokenness, in the beleaguered life of a nation state. For as we peruse the birth of a new South Africa, and see Your hand at work, we are grateful for the inspiration we feel in the dawning of Your peace in that place. We thank You for the courage we can take for victories yet to be in other sundered nations, divided people, embittered classes and hostile faiths. As we come to this room this morning, this Capitol of so great this state, beget in us, so true a remembrance of the democratic ideals we espouse, that in all we do today, we too, shall rejoice.—AMEN.

Eternal and Most Gracious God, Unseen to Our Eyes, but Very Present in Mind and Spirit, How thankful we are for life and the privilege it is to be here this morning. In the freshness of the early day as we assemble in this room, be near to us. Renew in us understanding of the needs of our state, and the will to do something about them. Help us to be sensitive and alert to the good we can do today. Make clearer to us opportunities both hidden and obvious calling out for recognition, today. And when this day is done and our workload is put away, may we know deep within, as though Your voice, speaking to us saying, "Well done my faithful servant, you have been diligent in this vineyard, go in good conscience, take your rest, earned today."

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Katz then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

Sovereign of the Universe, Whose glory is manifest in the highest mountain peaks and in the solitary flower, Whose wonders cannot be contained by the expanse of the universe, yet Who dwells within the human heart, share some of Your Spirit with us. Enable us to see the beauty of the sunrise or the blossoming of the flowers, to feel the warmth of the sun upon our faces and to fill our lungs with the fragrance of the world in bloom, to appreciate the beauty of Your world. Bless us also with the wisdom to see the difficulties in the world around us, and bless us with the understanding to find solutions. Bless us with compassion to remember that we are working for the benefit of Your creatures, and our brothers and sisters. Bless us with the strength to persevere and not become discouraged by setbacks, despair, apathy and intolerance. Permit our eyes to capture glimpses of Your glory to inspire us to fulfill the dream of making the world that we inhabit as beautiful and as whole as the world which we were given.—AMEN.

An Anonymous Prayer

O Lord, We buzz around like busy flies on the window sill of life. Shock us into remembering, that we are sent here for a purpose: to stand up when others would want us to be still; to speak out, when others would want us to be silent; to reach out when others would have us turn inward. You have given us eyes to see the unemployed and the under employed. Ears to hear the cries of hungry children. Lips to speak up for civil and human rights. Lord give us minds that work for economic justice and peace in the world. Give us hands that reach the edge of freedom and liberty wherever they are denied. Give us feet that can't be moved and feet that stand on principle.—AMEN.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following veto message from the Governor was received and ordered printed in the Journal and the bill ordered to the unfinished business file:

Veto Message—Assembly Bill No. 1470

Governor's Office, Sacramento
May 20, 1994

To the Members of the California Assembly:

I am returning Assembly Bill No. 1470 without my signature.

This bill would authorize an early retirement incentive, or "golden handshake", for employees of the state, the county superintendent of schools, local agencies, and the California State University (CSU) system.

The ostensible purpose of golden handshake programs is to save money. The theory is that savings will accrue through moving more highly-paid senior employees off the payroll and hiring lower paid employees or leaving those positions vacant.

This bill, however, would not produce savings. In fact, the result would be the opposite. If for no other reason, this bill is unacceptable, especially during this difficult budget period.

The costs associated with this retirement incentive are extraordinary. For the state alone, this bill would provide a benefit enhancement for an estimated 14,000 state employees at a cost of over $1 billion dollars. These huge costs would not be offset because of the immediate need to fill vacancies in public health and safety positions and the inability to hold other positions vacant for the two years required to achieve savings while still providing necessary services to the public. The schools and the local agencies that opt to participate in the program would also experience substantial costs. The California taxpayer cannot afford to fund this windfall for public employees.

Experience with retirement enhancements has proven to be expensive. The CSU four year service credit offered in 1992 cost approximately $25 million more than expected and the San Francisco retirement plan, similar to this bill's, is estimated to cost over $100 million—not the $20 million in savings forecast when the program was offered in 1991.

Additionally, this bill would impair the state's ability to perform its mission. The state would have to make this retirement incentive available to all state employees, if any, regardless of the personnel requirements of the affected departments. Departments would be in the perverse position of offering key employees an incentive to leave when they serve in areas where there are recruitment difficulties, in positions where the employees must be replaced, in jobs where extensive training and experience are required, and under other circumstances where it is not prudent to offer employees incentives to leave. As a result, this bill would indiscriminately reward early retirement and would accordingly detract from the level of service state government provides to the public.

According to the bill's proponents, a primary purpose of this measure is to avoid layoffs. However, there is no evidence of any imminent widespread layoff. If the need should arise for public employers to offer an early retirement incentive, they may take advantage of the existing authority in current law which provides two years of additional service credit for public employees.

Cordially,

PETE WILSON

Endangered Species: Swainson's Hawk—#19094

Dear Mr. Pringle:

FACTS

You have furnished us with a copy of the draft mitigation guidelines proposed by the Department of Fish and Game for Swainson's Hawk in the Central Valley of California, dated October 17, 1993 (hereafter the guidelines). The guidelines state that the Swainson's Hawk is a threatened species under the California Endangered Species Act and contain criteria to guide state lead agencies and project sponsors to follow in developing adequate mitigation for the loss of the Swainson's Hawk habitat. The introduction to the guidelines states that they ". . . are to be considered interim and will remain in effect until a comprehensive Swainson's Hawk Recovery Plan is completed by the Department [of Fish and Game]" (emphasis added).

The guidelines also state that the Department of Fish and Game has interpreted the term "take," as defined by the California Endangered Species Act, "to include the destruction of either nesting and/or foraging habitat necessary to maintain the reproductive effort. Implementation of the take provisions of the [California Endangered Species Act] requires that project-related disturbance at active Swainson's [H]awk territories be reduced or eliminated during critical phases of the nesting cycle (March 1–August 15 annually). Disturbance that causes nest abandonment and/or loss of reproductive effort ([for example], killing or abandonment of eggs or young) or the loss of habitat upon which the birds depend is considered 'taking' and is potentially punishable by fines and/or imprisonment. Such taking would also violate federal law protecting migratory birds . . . ."

QUESTION NO. 1

Does the term "take," as defined by the California Endangered Species Act, include habitat modification or other acts that might indirectly harm the Swainson's Hawk?

OPINION NO. 1

The term "take," as defined by the California Endangered Species Act, does not include habitat modification or other acts that might indirectly harm the Swainson's Hawk. However, whenever the Department of Fish and Game consults with a state lead agency with respect to a proposed project subject to the California Environmental Quality Act, as discussed more fully in Analysis No. 1, the department is required to issue a written finding based on its determination of whether a proposed project would jeopardize the continued existence of the Swainson's Hawk or result in the destruction or adverse modification of habitat essential to the continued existence of that species.

ANALYSIS NO. 1

Under the California Endangered Species Act (Ch. 1.5 (commencing with Sec. 2050), Div. 3, F. & G.C.; [1] hereafter the act), the Fish and Game Commission (hereafter the commission) is required to establish a list of endangered species and a list of threatened species (Sec. 2070). The Legislature has declared, in the act, that it is the policy of the state to conserve, protect, restore, and enhance any endangered species or threatened species and its habitat (Sec. 2052), and that state agencies should not approve projects that would jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered species or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of habitat essential to the continued existence of the species if there are reasonable and prudent alternatives available consistent with conserving the species or its habitat that would prevent jeopardy (Sec. 2053).

Sections 2062 and 2067 define "endangered species" and "threatened species," for purposes of the act, as follows:

> "2062. 'Endangered species' means a native species or subspecies of a bird, mammal, fish, amphibian, reptile, or plant which is in serious danger of becoming extinct throughout all, or a significant portion, of its range due to one or more causes, including loss of habitat, change in habitat, overexploitation, predation, competition, or disease. Any species determined by the commission as 'endangered' on or before January 1, 1985, is an 'endangered species.' "
> "2067. 'Threatened species' means a native species or subspecies of a bird, mammal, fish, amphibian, reptile, or

[1] All further section references are to the Fish and Game Code, unless otherwise specified plant that, although not presently threatened with extinction, is likely to become an endangered species in the foreseeable future in the absence of the special protection and management efforts required by this chapter. Any animal determined by the commission as 'rare' on or before January 1, 1985, is a 'threatened species.' "

Thus, a threatened species is one that is likely to become an endangered species in the foreseeable future in the absence of the special protection and management efforts required by the act.

Section 2080 prohibits the taking of endangered or threatened species and reads as follows:

"2080. No person shall import into this state, export out of this state, or take, possess, purchase, or sell within this state, any species, or any part or product thereof, that the commission determines to be an endangered species or a threatened species, or attempt any of those acts, except as otherwise provided in this [act], the Native Plant Protection Act (Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 1900) of this code), or in the California Desert Native Plants Act (Division 23 (commencing with Section [80001]) of the Food and Agricultural Code)."

For purposes of the act, "take" is defined by Section 86 as follows:

"86. 'Take' means hunt, pursue, catch, capture, or kill, or attempt to hunt, pursue, catch, capture, or kill."

Neither the act, the Native Plant Protection Act, nor the California Desert Native Plants Act referenced in Section 2080, provide an exception for the taking of the threatened species known as the Swainson's Hawk.[2] Section 2081, however, permits the Department of Fish and Game (hereafter the department) to authorize persons and specified entities to take endangered or threatened species for scientific, educational, or management purposes.

As pointed out in the Facts, the department has interpreted the term "take" as including loss of habitat and disturbances that cause nest abandonment or loss of reproductive effort. Stated somewhat differently, the department has included loss of habitat and disturbances to nesting pairs of Swainson's Hawks within the actions prohibited by Section 2080.

A statute should be interpreted with reference to the whole system of law of which it is a part (People v. Comingore, 20 Cal. 3d 142, 147) and should be construed so as to harmonize, if possible, with other laws relating to the same subject (Isobe v. Unemployment Ins. Appeals Bd., 12 Cal. 3d 584, 590–591).

In this regard, Section 2090 prescribes the procedures and authority of the department with respect to a proposed project subject to the California Environmental Quality Act (Div. 13

[2] In this regard, Section 3503 also prohibits taking, possessing, or needlessly destroying the nest or eggs of any bird, Section 3503 5 prohibits taking, possessing, or destroying any birds that are birds-of-prey or the nests or eggs of those birds, and Section 3800 prohibits taking any nongame bird, except as otherwise provided by the Fish and Game Code

(commencing with Sec. 21000), P.R.C.; hereafter CEQA),[3] and reads as follows:

"2090. (a) Each state lead agency [4] shall consult with the [D]epartment [of Fish and Game], in accordance with guidelines developed by the department, to ensure that any action authorized, funded, or carried out by that state lead agency is not likely to jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered or threatened species.

"(b) Whenever the department consults with a state lead agency pursuant to Section 21080.3, 21080.4, 21080.5, or 21104.2 of the Public Resources Code, the department shall issue a written finding based on its determination of whether a proposed project would jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered species or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of habitat essential to the continued existence of the species. The written finding shall also include the department's determination of whether a proposed project would result in any taking of an endangered species or a threatened species incidental to the proposed project. The department shall base its determination on the best available scientific information."

Thus, if the department finds that a proposed project would jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered species or threatened species or result in the destruction or adverse modification of habitat essential to the continued existence of the species (subd. (b), Sec. 2090), the department is required to determine and specify to the state lead agency reasonable and prudent alternatives consistent with conserving the species that would prevent jeopardy to the species or the destruction or adverse modification of the habitat (Sec. 2091). If jeopardy is found, the department is also required to determine and specify to the state lead agency reasonable and prudent measures that are necessary and appropriate to minimize the adverse impacts of any incidental taking (Secs. 2090 and 2091). Section 2091 further provides that any taking that is in compliance with the alternatives or measures specified pursuant to that section is not prohibited by the act. If, after consulting with the department, jeopardy is found, the state lead agency must require reasonable and prudent alternatives consistent with conserving the species that would prevent jeopardy (subd. (a), Sec. 2092). However, if specific economic, social, or other conditions make those alternatives infeasible, the state lead agency may approve a project when jeopardy is found if certain conditions are

[3] Among other things, CEQA requires state and local governmental entities to prepare an environmental impact report before undertaking any project that may have a significant effect on the environment (Secs 21100 and 21151, P R C) "These reports compel state and local agencies to consider the possible adverse consequences to the environment of the proposed activity and to record such impact in writing" (Friends of Mammoth v Board of Supervisors, 8 Cal. 3d 247, 254–255)

[4] For the purposes of the act, "state lead agency" means the public agency which has the principal responsibility for carrying out or approving a project which may have a significant effect upon the environment" (Sec 2065, and Sec 21067, P.R C.)

met (subd. (b), Sec. 2092).[5] A state lead agency may not approve a project that would likely result in the extinction of any endangered species or threatened species (subd. (c), Sec. 2092).

In this case, the department has made a determination in the guidelines that loss of habitat or disturbances of nesting pairs of Swainson's Hawks constitute a taking under Section 2080. However, it is our opinion that a "taking" is limited to the actual or attempted hunting, pursuing, catching, capturing, or killing of a species and that loss of habitat or disturbances of nesting pairs of Swainson's Hawks does not constitute an actual or attempted taking under the act (see Sweek Home Chapter v. Babbitt (D.C. Cir.), 17 F. 3d 1463). The department's role in situations where a project may lead to loss of habitat is limited, under Section 2090, to issuing a written finding to a state lead agency. The guidelines interfere with the authority of a state lead agency, after consultation with the department under Section 2090, to approve a project that results in loss of habitat or disturbances of nesting pairs of Swainson's Hawks that may jeopardize the continued existence of the species (subds. (a) and (b), Sec. 2092), short of resulting in extinction of the species (subd. (c), Sec. 2092).

Stated somewhat differently, the guidelines elevate the role of the department in the CEQA analysis from consultative to determinative. That is, by equating habitat modification under Section 2090 to a taking under Section 2080, the determination delegated to the department by Section 2090 becomes, in effect, authority for the department to prohibit a project when it finds a loss of habitat or disturbance of a nesting pair of Swainson's Hawks, contrary to the authority granted to the state lead agency pursuant to Section 2092 to approve a project notwithstanding the detrimental impact of the project on the species short of causing its extinction. "[I]t is fundamental in our law that an administrative agency may not, under the guise of its rule-making power, abridge or enlarge its authority or act beyond the powers given to it by the statute which is the source of its power . . ." (Kerr's Catering Service v. Department

[5] Section 2092 provides that the state lead agency may approve a project when jeopardy is found, if both of the following conditions are met

"2092 * * *

"(b) * * *

"(1) The state lead agency requires reasonable mitigation and enhancement measures as are necessary and appropriate to minimize the adverse impacts of the project upon the endangered species or threatened species, or habitat essential to the continued existence of the species, including, but not limited to, live propagation, transplantation, and habitat acquisition, restoration, and improvement.

"(2) The state lead agency finds all of the following

"(A) The benefits of the project as proposed clearly outweigh the benefits of the project were it to be carried out with the reasonable and prudent alternatives consistent with conserving the species which would prevent jeopardy.

"(B) An irreversible or irretrievable commitment made after initiation of consultation required pursuant to Section 2090, of resources to the project, which has the effect of foreclosing the opportunity for formulating and implementing reasonable and prudent alternatives consistent with conserving the species which prevent jeopardy, has not been made" of Industrial Relations, 57 Cal. 2d 319, 329–330). Furthermore, "[a]dministrative regulations that alter or amend the statute or enlarge or impair its scope are void and courts not only may, but it is their obligation to strike down such regulations . . ." (Morris v. Williams, 67 Cal. 2d 733, 748; citations omitted). Rules and regulations in conflict with the authorizing statute are void (Oddo v. Hedde, 101 Cal. App. 2d 375, 388). It is our opinion that the enlargement of the scope of the department's authority in the guidelines is in conflict with the authorizing statute and is, to that extent, void.

Further support for this conclusion is based upon the fact that the Legislature has defined the term "take" in the act in a different manner than the Congress has defined that term in the federal Endangered Species Act of 1973 (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1531 and following). Under the federal act, the term "take" is defined to include "harm" and "harass" (16 U.S.C. Sec. 1532(19)), whereas the definition of "take" in the act does not include those additional factors. The term "harm" has been interpreted by the federal Fish and Wildlife Service to encompass any significant habitat modification that leads to an injury to an endangered species of wildlife (50 C.F.R. 17.3).[6] It is a general rule of statutory construction that "[w]hen a statute, with reference to one subject, contains a given provision, the omission of such a provision from a similar statute concerning a related subject . . . is significant to show that a different intention existed" (Anthony v. Superior Court, 109 Cal. App. 3d 346, 355–356). Thus, we think that by defining "take" in the act in a different manner than the Congress has used in the federal Endangered Species Act of 1973, the Legislature intended to exclude habitat modification from the definition of that term.

We conclude, therefore, that the term "take," as defined by the California Endangered Species Act, does not include habitat modification or other acts that might indirectly harm the Swainson's Hawk. However, whenever the Department of Fish and Game consults with a state lead agency with respect to a proposed project subject to the California Environmental Quality Act, as discussed above, the department is required to issue a written finding based on its determination of whether a proposed project would jeopardize the continued existence of the Swainson's Hawk or result in the destruction or adverse modification of habitat essential to the continued existence of that species.

QUESTION NO. 2

Does Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code apply to the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department?

---

[6] There are conflicting federal appellate court decisions as to the validity of that regulation (compare Sweet Home Chapter v. Babbitt, supra, with Palila v Hawaii Dep't of Land and Natural Resources (9th Cir.), 852 F 2d 1106, 1108)

OPINION NO. 2

Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code applies to the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department.

ANALYSIS NO. 2

Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code (hereafter Chapter 3.5) establishes basic minimum procedural requirements for the adoption, amendment, or repeal of administrative regulations (Sec. 11346, Gov. C.). Generally, Chapter 3.5 requires at least 45 days' prior notice and a hearing before any regulation or order of repeal, other than an emergency regulation, is adopted (Secs. 11346.4 to 11346.8, incl., Gov. C.), generally precludes any regulation or order of repeal, other than an emergency regulation, from becoming effective until the 30th day after it is filed with the Secretary of State (Sec. 11346.2, Gov. C.), and requires the Office of Administrative Law to review and approve or disapprove regulations before the regulations are filed with the Secretary of State (Secs. 11349.1 to 11349.3, incl., Gov. C.).

Chapter 3.5 applies to "every rule, regulation, order, or standard of general application or the amendment, supplement or revision of any rule, regulation, order or standard adopted by any state agency to implement, interpret, or make specific the law enforced or administered by it, or to govern its procedure, except one that relates only to the internal management of the state agency" (subd. (b), Sec. 11342, Gov. C.). For the purposes of Title 2 of the Government Code, which includes Chapter 3.5, the term "state agency" includes "every state office, officer, department, division, bureau, board, and commission" (Sec. 11000, Gov. C.). An administrative action that creates a binding legal obligation, in contrast to statements of general policy, is required to conform to the act (see Herron v. Heckler, 576 F. Supp. 218, 229).

"For a rule of a public entity to be 'of general application,' it does not have to apply to all the citizens of the state" (Roth v. Department of Veterans Affairs, 110 Cal. App. 3d 622, 630). For purposes of Chapter 3.5, "the word 'general' means pertaining to all of the members of a class, kind, or order" (Ibid.).

Thus, under Chapter 3.5, a state agency is prohibited from issuing, utilizing, enforcing, or attempting to enforce any guideline, criterion, bulletin, manual, instruction, order, standard of general application, or other rule, that is a regulation, unless it has been adopted as a regulation and filed with the Secretary of State in accordance with the specific procedural requirements of Chapter 3.5 (subd. (a), Sec. 11347.5, Gov. C.).

The term "regulation" has been construed broadly by the courts in the context of Chapter 3.5 (Ligon v. State Personnel Bd., 123 Cal. App. 3d 583, 588). Whether the action of a state agency constitutes a regulation does not depend on the designation of the action, but rather on its effect and impact on the public. If the action is not only of local concern, but of statewide importance, it qualifies as a regulation despite the fact that it is called a "resolution," "guideline," "ruling," or the like (Winzler & Kelly v. Department of Industrial Relations, 121 Cal. App. 3d 120, 127).

The purpose of Chapter 3.5 is "to establish basic minimum procedural requirements for the adoption, amendment or repeal of administrative regulations" (Sec. 11346, Gov. C.). With respect to the scope of Chapter 3.5, Section 11346 of the Government Code provides, in relevant part:

> "11346. . . . Except as provided in Section 11346.1,[7] the provisions of this article [Art. 5 (commencing with Sec. 11346) relating to the procedure for the adoption of regulations] are applicable to the exercise of any quasi-legislative power conferred by any statute heretofore or hereafter enacted, but nothing in this article repeals or diminishes additional requirements imposed by any such statute. The provisions of this article shall not be superseded or modified by any subsequent legislation except to the extent that such legislation shall do so expressly."

Thus, other statutes preempt Chapter 3.5 only when they are enacted subsequent to it and only when they do so expressly (Engelmann v. State Bd. of Education, 2 Cal. App. 4th 47, 59).

As discussed in Analysis No. 1, Section 2090 requires each state lead agency to consult with the department, "in accordance with guidelines developed by the department," to ensure that any action authorized, funded, or carried out by that agency is not likely to jeopardize the continued existence of any endangered or threatened species. In this regard, Section 2090 was last amended by Chapter 286 of the Statutes of 1987 and Chapter 3.5 was enacted by Chapter 567 of the Statutes of 1979. Section 2090 was thus last amended subsequent to the enactment of Chapter 3.5 and does not provide for preemption of Chapter 3.5.

The guidelines adopted pursuant to Section 2090 apply by its terms to each state lead agency and to any action authorized, funded, or carried out by that state lead agency. Therefore, those guidelines are, generally, of statewide importance, apply to every state lead agency, and, therefore, constitute regulations under Chapter 3.5.

Hence, we conclude that Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code applies to the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department.

QUESTION NO. 3

Are the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department in effect?

OPINION NO. 3

The mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department are not in effect.

---

[7] Section 11346.1 applies to the adoption of emergency regulations and certain regulations adopted by the Superintendent of Banks or the Savings and Loan Commissioner.

ANALYSIS NO. 3

In Analysis No. 2, we concluded that the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department are regulations subject to Chapter 3.5. The guidelines state that they are in "draft" form and are to be considered interim measures until a comprehensive Swainson's Hawk Recovery Plan is completed by the department. You have informed us that the guidelines are being considered in public hearings by the commission. Without further information on the nature of the hearings or their purpose, we would surmise that the public hearings are those provided for by Chapter 3.5 (see Sec. 11346.8 and Stauffer Chemical Co. v. Air Resources Board, 128 Cal. App. 3d. 789, 794). If so, the proceedings for adoption of the guidelines are in process and are, apparently, not yet complete.

You have also informed us that the guidelines are not on file with the Secretary of State. As stated in Analysis No. 2, a regulation is not effective and may not be enforced until after it is filed with the Secretary of State (Secs. 11346.2 and 11347.5, Gov. C.).

Thus, it is our opinion that the mitigation guidelines for the Swainson's Hawk proposed to be adopted by the department are not in effect.

Very truly yours,

You have blessed us with endurance to cope with urgencies of this hour, yet we pray deliverance from anxieties and cares which would burden our day. Help us to face life with its blunt realities which confound our way. Cause us to use these solemn powers of state, to uphold the weak and allay the hurt of the poor. Be near to us this day, that we too, as the Prophet declared, "Shall mount up with wings of eagles, run and not grow weary, and walk and not faint."—AMEN.

Our God, Creator of the Vastness of the Universe, Shaper of the Human Spirit, We offer our thanks to You for the sense of justice that You have implanted within us. Though we apply that justice yet imperfectly and haltingly and falter and stumble in the darkness about us, may we be guided by Your light of justice that shines from within our hearts.

Help us to be more unwavering in our desire to do Your will. Cause us to recall that the men and women about us are our brothers and sisters, and fill us with love for them that we never wrong them, exploit them, or take advantage of their weakness or ignorance.

Kindle that passion for righteousness and justice in our hearts. Cause it to be a beacon casting light into the shadows of oppression and injustice, pain and suffering, bringing light to those who dwell in darkness. Give us the vision to see that only justice can endure, and only in acting justly with each other can we make our lives acceptable before You and our fellow citizens.

Upon request of Speaker Brown, Assembly Member Conroy then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

May 27, 1994

The Honorable Willie L. Brown, Jr.
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 219
Sacramento, California

Dear Mr. Speaker: This letter is to clarify my attendance of Friday, May 27, 1994 Floor Session. Although I was scheduled to arrive on time to participate in session, due to an airplane mechanical malfunction in San Diego, I did not arrive at the Capitol until 10:30 a.m. Unfortunately, by this time the Assembly was out of session and I was unable to record my votes.

I would appreciate this explanation being printed in the Assembly Journal. Your favorable consideration of this matter would be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

DENISE MORENO DUCHENY, Assembly Member
Seventy-ninth District

May 27, 1994

Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk
State Capitol, Room 3196

Dear Dotson, Although I was scheduled to arrive for floor session this morning, I had experienced a flight delay due to unforeseen circumstances imposed by the airline. Due to this delay I was unable to arrive at capitol until 10:30 a.m. When I did arrive the Assembly had concluded session, which made me unable to record my votes taken up on this day.

I would appreciate your printing of this explanation in the Assembly Daily Journal.

Sincerely,

BILL MORROW, Assembly Member
Seventy-third District

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Hamilton T. Boswell:

Eternal and Most Gracious God, In the quiet of the morning and place, we lift up to You, our workload for today. Sometimes, our tasks can be overwhelming, and we can lose direction, shuffling through a mountain of papers on our desks. In other ways our spirits become faint amid the humdrum of voices. Make us more aware of the strength to be gleaned from Your presence. As You have been with us in the past, keep us in mind that we face not these tasks alone. Help us to know that what at first seems impossible is mostly fear. And that whatever is to be, awaits our courage to be. Reassure us, as we begin this day that in every voice we hear, and in every face we see, something of You is there.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore O'Connell, Assembly Member Tucker then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

PRAYER

Eternal and Most Gracious God, the Source and Presence in Which We Move and Have Our Being, We come here, this morning, fully aware that what ought to be done in our work cannot be done by us alone, and we admit our need of light and guidance in this world of baffling and complex events. We can grow weary and feel so ill equipped to resolve the tasks of the day. Breathe on us power and enlighten us together in common purpose that we may meet the needs of the day and hour. Visit us this day, surprising us with fresh insights into the agenda before us. As we reflect on so many days in the past, when at our wits end, You moved the stone away, how thankful we are that You are our guide and a lamp unto our feet. Help us to so embody truth, in what we do here, that all God's children may know that love is real, and truth will never die.—AMEN.

COMMUNICATIONS

The following communication was presented by the Chief Clerk, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Explanation of Vote—Assembly Bill No. 3474

June 2, 1994

Mr. E. Dotson Wilson
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
Room 3196
State Capitol

Dear Dotson: I am writing with reference to my Assembly floor vote on Assembly Bill 3474, by Assemblyman Jack O'Connell, to require the state General Fund to backfill shortfalls of California Community College property tax revenues when the amount collected is less than the amount anticipated in the state budget.

When the roll call vote was taken on AB 3474, I was inadvertently recorded as a "no" vote. Although my signature was verified on the ballot, I failed to request permission of the House for a vote change. I would like the Journal record to clearly reflect my intention to be an "aye" vote on this bill.

Thank you for your attention to this request.

Sincerely,

BERNIE RICHTER, Assembly Member
Third District
