The expenditures for the State of California for 1915-16 (exclusive of the San Francisco Harbor) are shown to be $33,317,000 in Table 24, page 99. In 1919-20 the expenditures had increased to $50,348,000 and in 1923-24 to $85,633,000. These increases were largely found in expenditures of the Industrial Accident Commission, State Highway Commission, University of California, Department of Agriculture, Reclamations Commission, mental hospitals, bond requirements, and payments to local governments in the form of motor vehicle licenses, gas tax, and support for elementary and high schools.

Comparison of Prewar I Expenditures With Prewar II—State

Prewar I expenditures for the State of California (1915-16) compared with Prewar II (1940-41) are shown in Table 25, pages 104 and 105. In this period, State expenditures increased from $35,274,000 to $277,244,000.

The major expenditures or functions which contributed to this large increase were: The State Board of Equalization (with its Liquor Control Division), Department of Industrial Relations, Department of Motor Vehicles, Division of Highways, University of California and State colleges, Department of Agriculture, Department of Natural Resources, unemployment relief, mental hospitals, bond interest and redemption, State employees' retirement, and subventions to local governments.

Subventions to local governments increased from $9,067,000 to $138,535,000. These were for elementary and high schools, junior colleges, categorical aids, gasoline and other taxes.

State Bonded Debt

State bonds outstanding totaled $140,804,000 in July, 1942. The detail of the several issues is shown in Table 26, page 106. Totals by general and special funds are summarized in Table 27, page 107.

Local Government

Counties, cities, schools, and other districts receive most of their revenue from property taxes (Table 1, page 52, lines 11 and 12). The expenditures for these jurisdictions (excepting special districts) are detailed in succeeding sections but are summarized by counties in Table 33, page 118. This table shows the 1941 expenditures for each type of government, the total for each county, and the per capita expenditure. The average per capita expenditure for all jurisdictions within the counties was $80.15; Napa was lowest with $52.32; and Alpine highest with $174.83.

Also marked in variation are per capita property tax levies which for 1941-42 ranged from $21.46 in Solano County to $62.60 in Kern. Both total levy and per capita levy are shown for each county for 1938-39 and for 1941-42 in Table 34, page 119.

Property Valuations

Per capita assessed valuations vary materially among counties, ranging in 1941 from $739 for San Diego to $3,853 for Alpine (Table 32, page 113). The total valuation for each county for the period 1938 through 1942 inclusive is shown in Table 28, page 109. The succeeding tables show for each county for 1942 the operative and nonoperative values (Table 29); land improvements, personal property, and exemptions (Table 30).

County Tax Rates and Levies

County tax rates are widely variable, both among the 58 counties and from year to year in the same county, as illustrated in Table 35, page 120. This table shows for the three years, 1941 through 1943, not only the total rate for each county, but also the respective rates for general county purposes, county bonds, county library, junior college tuition, and road districts. (Cities and special districts are not included.) The lowest rate for countywide purposes in 1942-43 was in Kings County.

County Expenditures

County expenditures per capita are summarized by major classification in Table 36, page 124, for the period 1935-36 through 1941-42. Some classifications show increases and others show decreases. Protection to person and property has increased in cost from $1.77 to $2.22 in the period. Interest on debt has decreased from $0.36 to $0.16, and redemption of debt has decreased from $0.56 to $0.46.

The cost of charities and corrections has more than doubled in the last six years, going from $7.82 to $16.94 for 1941-42. This is a slight drop from the $17.56 high for 1940-41.

Per capita payments in each county for 10 types of county activities for 1940-41 are shown in Table 37, page 124. Per capita county payments for general government averaged $3.74 throughout the State, and ranged from a high of $34.40 for Alpine County to $2.52 for Tulare County. Payments for charities and corrections averaged $17.56 per capita, and ranged from $41.45 in Trinity County to $7.42 in Solano County. Detail for each county for per capita payments for protection to persons and property, health and sanitation, highways and bridges, recreation, education which includes county payments only for education, interest on debt, redemption of debt, and miscellaneous are also shown.

Per capita costs have increased yearly in almost every county during the period 1935-36 through 1940-41 (Table 38, page 125).

County Subventions

Up to 1937 common property taxes were the main source of revenue for county expenditures other than highways, which have benefited from large subventions in the form of shared State taxes for many years. Following the adoption of the Federal Social Security Act in 1938, subventions particularly for social welfare, play a much greater part in county finance. The first subvention to counties was for children's aid and started before 1900. The second was the apportionment from motor vehicle license fees in 1915. In 1924 the gas tax was put into effect and apportionments started. Blind aid was started in fiscal 1930 and aid to the needy aged started in fiscal 1931. In 1935 the Legislature transferred automobiles from property taxation by the counties to the State, and the first apportionment of the motor vehicle "in lieu" tax to the counties and the cities was made in fiscal 1936. Liquor licenses were first apportioned in 1933-34. Data shown in Tables 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, pages 62 to 66, inclusive, are Federal and State subventions.

Tax Burdens in Counties

Expenditures, assessed valuations, population, and geographical and economic factors enter into property tax burdens. The population at January 1, 1941, of the 58 counties, county expenditures per capita, valuations per capita, and population in unincorporated areas, and the subventions per capita are shown in Table 39, page 126. The counties are listed in the order from the lowest rank in expenditures, and are grouped and averaged in series of 10. The results of such averages are extremely interesting and are as follows:

County Government

Rank for lowest expenditure	Expenditure per capita	Valuation per capita	Population in unincorporated area	Subvention per capita	Property tax burden per capita
1 - 10	$23.93	$ 595	38%	$10.03	$13.90
11 - 20	29.55	1,080	50	13.98	15.57
21 - 30	35.24	1,364	60	15.27	19.97
31 - 40	41.28	1,322	65	17.15	24.13
41 - 50	49.52	1,308	73	22.29	27.23
51 - 57	77.35	1,894	84	40.94	36.41

The subventions are largely for welfare and highway purposes. Expenditures per capita vary from an average of $23.93 for the least expensive group of counties to an average of $77.35 in the highest—this is more than triple the lowest average. Assessed valuations vary from an average of $959 per capita to $1,894, which is nearly double. The population in unincorporated areas varied from 38 per cent to 84 per cent, which is more than double. The average subventions per capita vary startlingly, ranging from an average of $10.03 in the first group to $40.94 in the last, leaving for local revenue payments $13.90 in the first group to $36.41 in the last group.

From this table and summary it is apparent that the State and Federal Governments already give large subventions to the counties with higher per capita expenditures.

Local Bond Requirements

Bonded debt for counties, cities, schools, and special assessment districts, together with the total, is shown for each county in Table 40, page 127, for June 30, 1941. The per capita total debt in each county is also shown; the variations are extreme, ranging from an average of $3.70 in Plumas County to $143.42 for Los Angeles, with no debt in Alpine and Mono counties.

The interest and redemption requirements for the corresponding debt are shown for 1940-41 in Table 41, page 128, in both total amount and per capita. The per capita payments range from $0.11 in Plumas County to $14.80 in Los Angeles, with no payments in Alpine and Mono.

Tax Rates of Cities

Tax rates in at least 78 California cities dropped for 1942-43, the current fiscal year, when compared with rates for 1941-42. In 109 cities the rate showed no change, and in 54 of the cities reporting the city tax rate went up. Table 42, pages 129 and 130, shows tax rates for 283 California cities for 1941-42 and rates for 241 cities reporting for 1942-43.

Property Tax Levies of Cities

Total and per capita tax levies for each of the California cities for 1939-40, 1940-41, and 1941-42 are shown in Table 43, pages 131 to 134. The per capitass for cities are based on 1940 census data and, where population has changed considerably, levies will be either higher or lower than that shown. It should be noted that the levies shown are for cities only; counties, schools, and frequently special districts also have property tax levies. Cities receive revenues from State and Federal subventions and, in a great many cases, from licenses and other fees.

Bonded Debt of Cities

Thirty-nine California cities had no bonded debt outstanding at June 30, 1941. Per capita debt outstanding for cities ranged from a high of $4.110 per capita in Vernon, a next to the highest of $263 05 in San Clemente, to a low of $0 43 in Gridley followed by 39 cities with no bonded debt owing. Vernon, an industrial area, had a population of $50 in 1940, and a bonded debt outstanding of $3,493,200 at June 30, 1941. Table 44, pages 135 to 138, shows total and per capita bonded debt outstanding at June 30, 1941, population according to the 1940 census, and debt payments of each California city for fiscal 1941.

Due to the $1 tax limitation for sixth class cities, and limitation of charters in others, tax levies have not increased in cities as they have in other units of government.

School Enrollment

The number of children enrolled in the public schools does not follow population trends. To study school cost trends it is necessary to examine school enrollments. Elementary school unit costs are lower than those of the high school; so it is desirable to summarize trends in the respective grades. It is also useful to segregate kindergarten enrollments from the elementary grades. Day school enrollments since 1928 are detailed in Table 45, page 139, and are summarized for selected years as follows:

	Kindergarten	1-8	Grades 9-12	13-14	Total
1931-32	78,573	770,436	258,315	22,006	1,129,330
1934-35	63,925	755,446	284,211	26,835	1,130,417
1940-41	70,596	767,957	362,534	44,059	1,245,146

It may be observed that kindergarten enrollment was less in 1940-41 than in 1931-32. This is also true of the elementary school (grades 1-8). High school enrollment (grades 9-12), however, increased by 104,219 to 362,534 or 40 per cent. Junior colleges, with a total enrollment of 44,059 in 1940-41, almost exactly doubled in the period. High school and junior college enrollments today are down in most places, due to the demands of the armed services and war industries.

While enrollments determine, in a large degree, the number of teachers required, costs are measured by attendance, the unit being average daily attendance (hereafter referred to as A.D.A.) Costs vary widely between grades, schools, and districts.

Elementary School Costs

Average elementary school costs per A.D.A. have increased yearly from 1933-34 as follows:

School year	Average cost per A.D.A.	School year	Average cost per A.D.A.
1932-33	$86 67	1937-38	$98.13
1933-34	85.17	1938-39	102 36
1934-35	88 74	1939-40	105.17
1935-36	92 60	1940-41	105.99
1936-37	93 68

The total expenditure for current purposes by elementary school districts in California during 1940-41 was the greatest on record, despite the fact that the average daily attendance was 24,807 less than it was nine years before. The all-time high record of A.D.A. in elementary schools, including kindergarten but excluding grades 7 and 8 in junior high school, was 655,455 in 1931-32. Only 630,648 A.D.A. were reported for 1940-41, yet the current expenditure by elementary school districts was several millions of dollars greater.

Each year since 1933-34 there has been an increase in the total current expenditure of elementary schools exclusive of capital outlay and bond interest and redemption. In 1933-34 the total current expenditure was $55,099,193; for 1940-41 it was $66,839,494.

The state-wide averages indicate that the general trend of school expenditures has been sharply upward. The range of current expenditure per A.D.A. is wide, certainly far greater than the difference in the quality or quantity of education offered to the pupils.

The expenditures of the 209 elementary districts in California with more than 450 A.D.A. have been broken down into their major elements of teachers' salaries, auxiliary expense, and other current expense, and the results are shown in Table 47, pages 140 to 143. The 209 districts account for about 75 per cent of the total attendance and 80 per cent of total elementary expenditures.

Table 46, page 140, shows averages for groups of districts within certain limits of size as measured by A.D.A. For example, one group contains all districts having attendance of more than 4,000, the next takes in those districts with attendance between 2,000 and 4,000.

The reason for tabulating the data in Table 46 in several small groups, rather than in one large group, is to illustrate the effect of the size of the district upon the unit costs. Groups IV and V, which include districts ranging from 676 A.D.A. to 1,250 A.D.A., have unit costs which "on the average" are noticeably lower than the median or average unit costs in groups above or below that range in size. Districts with over 4,000 A.D.A. average $20 to $25 higher total current expenditure per A.D.A. than the middle-size districts. Spot checks of districts with less than 450 A.D.A. indicate that their unit costs are frequently somewhat higher than in the larger districts.

The expenditure for teachers' salaries is and should be the largest single item in the cost of schools. However, the fact that it varies from a low of $36.76 to a high of $122.40 per pupil in the 209 elementary school districts indicates that many districts might make substantial economies and still maintain a high standard. In particular, the number of pupils per teacher and the trend of enrollment should be studied to see if positions that fall vacant need be refilled.

School accounts carry a classification called auxiliary agencies and coordinate activities, in which are recorded the expenditures for a number of services, such as pupil transportation, civic center activities, cafeteria expense, and nursing services, all adjuncts of the regular school program, but not a part of it. The cost per pupil for these auxiliary items varies from a low of $0.02 to a high of $25.87. The smaller rural schools which have a pupil transportation problem usually spend more per pupil for auxiliary agencies than the larger urban districts.

Current expense other than for teachers' salaries and for auxiliary agencies includes administration, schoolroom and library supplies, maintenance of school plant, operation of school plant, and certain fixed charges, such as rent and insurance. Among the 209 elementary districts studied, the extreme variation for the "Other Current Expense" per pupil was from a low of $10.72 to a high of $77.39 per A.D.A. The group medians range from a low of $21.01 in the districts with 451 to 550 A.D.A. to a high of $28.07 in those with over 4,000 A.D.A.

Secondary School Costs

The unit costs of secondary schools, which include high schools and junior colleges, are materially higher than those for elementary grades. Secondary school costs per A.D.A. from 1932-33 through 1940-41 average as follows:

School Year	High Schools	Junior Colleges
1932-33 -----	$143.21	$171.87
1933-34 -----	140.70	187.06
1934-35 -----	143.34	176.94
1935-36 -----	151.24	190.18
1936-37 -----	153.54	199.68
1937-38 -----	157.78	199.68
1938-39 -----	160.59	183.33
1939-40 -----	166.48	182.78
1940-41 -----	170.90	201.49

During the eight years from 1931-32 to 1939-40 A.D.A. in the high schools of California increased about 33 per cent and in the district junior colleges by about 100 per cent. During 1940-41 high school A.D.A. increased only a little more than 2 per cent, and preliminary checks indicate that for this current 1942-43 school year there will be a substantial decrease. The shortages of children observed for eight years in our elementary schools have carried through to the upper school grades In addition, young people are going into the armed services, war industries, or less essential employment. Careful studies made in the past indicated that if school enrollments and attendance followed their normal prewar trends, declines might be expected in junior high schools (grades 7 to 9 inclusive) until 1946 and in the senior high school level (grades 10 to 12 inclusive) until 1949. In former years, high school and junior college budgets were often increased year after year in anticipation of larger attendance.

On the junior college level (grades 13 and 14), the wartime economy has introduced a new factor not previously anticipated. Many of our young people, who in normal times might have remained in junior college, are now being drawn into the armed forces of the Nation and into both war and civilian industry. Junior college A.D.A., which in eight years grew 100 per cent, decreased 14 per cent in 1940-41, the school year immediately preceding Pearl Harbor. While this was a small loss, it marked a turning point in the trend which is now obvious.

The amount of the loss in A.D.A. in each high school and junior college will vary according to the circumstances within the district, and some may even increase, contrary to the general trend.

Per Pupil Costs Rising

The average current expenditure per A.D.A. in California high schools and junior colleges was higher in 1940-41 than for any year since 1932-33. While the average was higher, there are many districts which were below the average and others which exceeded the average. Table 49, page 145, shows the unit costs for 1939-40 and 1940-41 of the 176 California high school districts which had more than 300 A.D.A. in 1940-41 and of the 17 junior college districts in the State. The statewide averages show a sharp upward trend in the cost per pupil during recent years. Each district, of course, has its own peculiar problems, which are reflected in its expenditures, however, the range of current expenditure per A.D.A. is so wide that the costs of many districts appear to be distinctly out of line with the averages.

In Tables 48 and 49, pages 144 to 148, the total unit costs have been broken down into three major elements: Teachers' salaries, auxiliary agencies, and other current expense. Each of these three major classifications of costs is governed by a different set of circumstances. Frequently districts are quite similar in one of these three major classes of expenditure and differ widely in another.

Comparisons

High school and junior college costs are directly affected by the number and level of grades maintained. The cost of instruction in grades 7 and 8 in junior high schools is usually less than in the regular four-year high schools, and in grades 13 and 14 of the junior college level it is frequently greater; therefore the districts in Table 49, pages 145 to 148, have been grouped by levels of instruction offered. In order to furnish a ready measure for comparison, Table 48, Part 2, shows median or midpoint averages for groups of districts within certain limits of size measured by A.D.A. For example, one group contains all districts having an attendance of more than 5,000; the next group takes in those with an A.D.A. between 1,000 and 5,000.

In addition, size appears to have a decided effect upon the unit costs of high schools in this State. Lower median costs have a tendency to appear in the group between 1,000 and 5,000 A.D.A. The median average unit cost of districts with more than 5,000 A.D.A. is substantially higher than for other groups in the same type of school. Below 1,000 A.D.A. there is a definite trend toward high unit costs in the smaller schools.

Because teaching is the basic function of schools, the expenditure for teachers' salaries should be a more equitable basis of comparison among the several districts than the other classifications of expenditure. In the regular four-year high schools (grades 9 to 12 inclusive) the cost per A.D.A. for teachers' salaries varies from a low of $60.04 to a high of $161.38. The median average per pupil cost of teachers' salaries for the group of high school districts with more than 5,000 A.D.A. is from $14 to $32 higher than the median average for the groups below 5,000 A.D.A.

The cost per pupil for auxiliary items in the high schools and junior colleges varies from a low of less than one-half cent to a high of $43.45. There is a very definite tendency for the per pupil cost of auxiliary agencies to be low in the larger districts and high in the smaller districts. Here, again, the principal factor in this trend is pupil transportation, which is a relatively unimportant factor in the thickly populated urban areas but becomes an item of major importance in the rural districts.

Among the 176 high school districts and 17 junior college districts studied, the extreme variation for "Other current expense" per pupil was from a low of $27.65 to a high of $121.75.

Elementary School District Tax Rates

Property tax rates in the numerous elementary school districts in California show wide variations (Table 48, page 144). No tax was levied in 299 districts in 1941-42. The distribution of tax rates in 10-cent brackets is as follows:

	No. of districts
No tax -----	299
Less than $0.10 per $100 -----	362
Over $0.10 and including .20 -----	375
Over .20 and including .30 -----	311
Over .30 and including .40 -----	254
Over .40 and including .50 -----	225
Over .50 and including .60 -----	196
Over .60 and including .70 -----	128
Over .70 and including .80 -----	257
Over .80 and including .90 -----	80
Over .90 and over -----	17
Total -----	2,504

Many of the very small school districts receive enough money from the school apportionments to pay for all teacher and current expense cost. Occasionally a tax is levied for extraordinary building maintenance. The higher rates are caused in some part by bond interest and redemption requirements.

California's School Costs Compared With Nation

California's average school cost per pupil in A.D.A., amounting to $148.43 in 1940-41, was exceeded only by costs in the State of New York, according to data published by the United States Office of Education. Only 16 States had costs which exceeded $100 per A.D.A. Only eight States exceeded $120 per A.D.A. These are as follows:

1. New York -----	$160.24	5. District of Columbia -----	$136.71
2. California -----	148.43	6. Illinois -----	125.89
3. New Jersey -----	147.05	7. Connecticut -----	123.14
4. Nevada -----	138.07	8. Massachusetts -----	120.86

The average cost for the continental United States in 1940-41 was $92.38 per A.D.A.; the annual costs for the period 1879-1880 through 1940-41 are shown in Table 51, page 150, together with the data by states for 1940-41 showing average daily attendance, instructional staff, expenditures and average salaries, current expenditures, and the average per pupil in A.D.A. cost.

The average salaries paid teachers show California to be the third from the highest, with $2,373. New York was highest, with $2,591, and District of Columbia second, with $2,456.

Federal Income and Expenditures

Federal income and expenditures, other than Federal subventions to the State and local governments, are not included in "Income and Expenditures of Government in California." Both Federal Government receipts and expenditures for 1941 and 1942, shown in Tables 52 and 53, page 162, are taken from a statement by Henry Morgenthau, Jr., Secretary of the Treasury. In this statement expenditures are classified as general, war activities, revolving funds, and transfers to certain administrative funds. General expenditures are shown to drop from $6,221,000,000 in 1941 to $6,050,000,000 in 1942. War activities have, of course, increased tremendously in this period and continue to increase.

Federal aid to States, Territories, and local governments, by purpose, is shown in Table 54, page 163, for the year 1941; and Federal aids to States by purpose are shown in Table 55, page 163, for selected years from 1925 to 1941. These show an increase from $113,600,000 in 1925 to $744,200,000 in 1941. Federal subventions to California governments for the years 1929 to 1942 are shown in Table 14, page 67.

Federal aid in each of the 48 States, including both grants and shared revenues for State and for local government, are shown for 1941 in Table 56, page 164.

A description of the Federal Tax System starts on page 165. The description relates to the Federal Tax System as a whole, describing the several sources of revenue and detailing some of the larger taxes. Customs revenue made up a substantial part of the Federal total prior to World War I, as shown in Table 57, page 172. Total revenue has varied materially up to 1939-40. In 1919-20 the total revenue amounted to $5,738,000,000. The amount declined to reach a low of $1,878,000,000 in 1932-33, and then went to $5,679,000,000 in 1939-40, which may be considered to be the last of the Prewar II expenditures. The Federal Budget estimate of revenue under existing taxes for 1943-44 is $34,767,000,000

Federal taxes related to the population of the United States are shown in Table 58, page 173. In 1919-20 the per capita tax amounted to $54.28. The drop during the depression brought the burden to an even $15 in 1932-33. By 1940-41 the burden was again above the 1919-20 level, amounting to $58.45. The budget for 1943-44 calls for $255 per capita, based on existing tax laws.

Details of receipts from the personal income, pay roll, and corporation income taxes are shown in Tables 59 and 60, pages 174 and 175. Taxes on commodities, services, and occupations are contained in Table 61, page 176. The detail of motor vehicle taxes is shown in Table 62, page 177, and that for inheritance, gift, and other taxes on transactions in Table 63, page 178.

Federal Tax Burden in California

As previously shown, income in California is high compared with that of the Nation. For that reason people in California pay a larger part of Federal taxes than taxpayers in most other States. The average of the Federal burden for the Nation as a whole is $255 as previously stated. Figuring the portion of the burden which will fall on California (Table 64, page 181), it becomes evident that the California burden will be about $310 per capita in 1943-44 (based on existing laws). This is an increase from $30.59 in 1933-34. Increases in Federal taxation will increase this burden.

California's Ability to Bear Tax Burden

A Federal tax burden in California of $310, plus an estimated State and local tax burden of about $100, gives a total of $410 per capita. This is a terrific burden of taxation. Under normal conditions a tax as severe as this would curtail the standard of living of most persons. However, the stopping of production of many items which go into a normal standard of living, together with the rationing of many essential items, is going to reduce the standard of living of almost every person in California.

It has been pointed out by authorities in State Departments that the reduction of several of the State taxes, including corporation and income taxes, will not be a complete reduction to the California taxpayer. It is estimated that a large part of such reduction would flow into the Federal treasury because such items would not be deductible in making out the Federal tax statements. Thus, the taxpayers in California would still have a very heavy tax burden in spite of any State tax reduction that the Legislature in its wisdom may make.

Salaries and Wages

Salaries and wages have been increased by a large number of governmental jurisdictions in the State of California, including the State Government, to offset increases in the cost of living. While these increased costs have been in some degree offset by vacancies in positions, with the corresponding savings in pay rolls, the cost of service has frequently increased to the taxpayer.

In 1942 the State placed in effect a salary increase of $15 for each employee. This $15 increase was included in the Governor's Budget for the Fiscal Biennium 1943-45 and was stated to amount to some $10,000,000.

The Legislature recently passed an act providing, for the balance of the current biennium, salary increases of $25 per month for employees receiving under $300 a month, and $20 for those over $300. The increased salary cost by the recent action is roughly estimated to amount to $6,000,000, and would give salary increases totaling $16,000,000. In considering the total revenues of the State and the surplus, this amount is apt to appear small. However, it exceeds the estimated yield of inheritance taxes, which are expected to yield $15,000,000 for the biennium.

The cost of living index, as reported by the United States Bureau of Labor, is based on the purchase of commodities, many of which are no longer being manufactured, services which have been reduced, and food items, some of which are no longer available or are being rationed. There is considerable question as to whether the index ever was thoroughly sound for salary purposes. At the present time its use is thoroughly discredited.

Aid to the Needy Aged

The number of persons who are receiving old age assistance in California reached a maximum of 158,723 in December, 1941. Since that time the roll has decreased and, in December, 1942, numbered 153,896. The number receiving assistance is approximately 25 per cent of the total number of people in California who are 65 and over.

The saturation point in aid to the aged has been discussed and attempts to determine it have been frequently made. Some persons may believe that, in view of the fact that old age assistance has leveled off at approximately 25 per cent of the number 65 and over, the saturation point has been reached. There appears to be no saturation point with respect to aged assistance. The number who apply for and receive aid is dependent on the generosity of the people as expressed in the eligibility requirements. A liberalization of any feature of eligibility in the past has brought a greater number on the roll.

If the present legal provision for the responsibility of relatives for support of needy members of their families, is eliminated and assistance is regarded as a right, rather than based on need, the cost will become huge. It is estimated that to give $60 per month per person over 60 years as a right would cost nearly $700,000,000 per year in California in 1943 and would increase. The cost under similar conditions for persons over 65 would be over $400,000,000. The total expenditures for all forms of government in California, exclusive of direct Federal expenditures, totaled $765,000,000 in 1941-42. Thus a liberalized program of aid to the aged could nearly double expenditures.

Conclusion

The data presented show that governmental costs and taxes in California have increased materially in the last decade, despite the depression. Total State and local expenditures in California in fiscal 1932 were $498,000,000; in fiscal 1942 they amounted to $765,000,000. Per capita State and local expenditures in fiscal 1932 were $83.71; in fiscal 1942 they were $103.08. State expenditures per capita accounted for $10.43 of the increase; expenditures of the counties, cities, schools, and other districts for the remainder.

In considering the State surplus, taxes, and expenditures, it must be remembered that California, in its future growth, is in business competition with all the other States. And, for the duration of the war, it must not interfere with the war effort in its demands for men, materials, or tax money.

While the desire for expanded government services may be great, we must respect the limits of our ability to pay—not only State and local taxes, but the Federal tax bill for the war. We must take the long view and build soundly for a better postwar future, which to the taxpayer—in fact everyone—means the best government service necessary at the least possible cost.

Statement to Governor's Pension Committee

Presented by A. J. MCFADDEN

Past President, California State Chamber of Commerce

LOS ANGELES, MARCH 12, 1943

In his letter of February 25, 1943, to the chairman of this committee, the Governor set forth four fields which he thinks warrant the attention of this group, and in addition made certain statements with respect to his own opinions or conclusions as to certain changes in the old age security laws or administration which should be made. By formal action, we have indicated our approval of the objectives stated by the Governor, and have thereby established a basis for our own consideration of the many grave problems connected with old age security in California.

The California State Chamber of Commerce has long been concerned with the matter of old age security, not only from the standpoint of the taxpayer, but equally from that of maintaining as adequate a program as is consistent with the welfare of all the other groups which together make up our State's economy. As early as 1935, even before the public assistance provisions of the Federal Social Security Act went into effect, the chamber established a special committee on old age aid to investigate the possible effect of anticipated Federal legislation, and to report its findings thereon. The interest thus expressed has not waned, and the chamber's tax, research and social security committees have continued to follow both legislative and financial developments closely.

It is with the feeling that perhaps something of the experience gained during the past eight years may be helpful to us in our deliberations that this statement is presented. Neither the factual material, nor the financial estimates by way of illustration, should be regarded as indicative of the position of the State Chamber of Commerce with respect to any of the proposals before this committee or introduced as bills in the present Legislature. The position of the chamber can be determined only by action of its appropriate committees and the board of directors.

History of Old Age Security

Before entering into a discussion of the fields of exploration enumerated in the Governor's communication, it might be well to review briefly the chronology of old age security in California, both before and after the advent of Federal assistance.

California was probably the first State in the Union to extend assistance from State resources to her aged citizens, as a class distinct from the general body of indigent. Section 22 of Article IV of the Constitution of 1879 empowered the State to grant aid to private institutions for orphans, or aged persons in indigent circumstances, provided such aid was granted by uniform rule, and further empowered similar grants to local subdivisions on the same basis. Beginning in 1883, grants were made to the counties at the rate of $180 per year per case. Costs were entirely controlled by the counties, and rose so rapidly that the law providing the grants was entirely repealed in 1895, when the expenditure was 7 per cent of total State revenues.

After this experience, it was 30 years before our Legislature again seriously considered the problem of the needy aged. In 1925, an aged assistance law passed the Legislature, but was vetoed. It was not until 1929, after an intensive investigation, that the present Old Age Security Act, in its original form, was enacted. This act was not the first State aged assistance law to go into actual operation, but it did establish the present pattern in several important respects: It was the first truly state-wide law, being mandatory on the counties; and it was the first to bring in the broader tax base of a State Government to help carry the financial burden.

Major provisions of this original law were relatively few and simple:

1. County administration, with county and State dividing the cost of aid equally;
2. Seventy-year age limit;
3. Fifteen-year residence requirement;
4. Fifteen-year citizenship requirement;
5. Aid plus income from all sources could not exceed $1 per day; and
6. The applicant could not own property of more than $3,000 actual value.

Experience during the first four or five years under this act demonstrated that an adequate amount of aid could be granted without unduly burdening either counties or the State, though both caseload and cost rose rapidly. From approximately 6,000 cases in June, 1930, the number increased to 22,300 by June, 1935; from $2,213,000 in 1930-31, total aid cost multiplied to $4,965,000 for Fiscal Year 1934-35.

Congressional consideration of National legislation for the aged again brought the terms of California law under review in 1935. Anticipating the terms of the Social Security Act as it was finally enacted, the Legislature rewrote our law in order to qualify for Federal grants to meet specific National requirements. It:

1. Lowered the residence requirement to five within nine years;
2. Lowered the citizenship requirement to simple citizenship;

Over and above these requirements, however, the Legislature made further liberalizing changes not required by the Social Security Act.

1. It lowered the age limit to 65, effective September, 1935, when Federal law did not require it until 1940;
2. It changed the valuation of permitted property from actual to assessed basis, thus practically doubling the effective amount;
3. It increased the maximum grant to $35 per month, and set a minimum of $20.

The California Act was approved by the Social Security Board, and Federal grants became available in April, 1936.

The effect of these major amendments to our law were startling, even to those who had anticipated their results. By June, 1936—only 12 months after the last figure mentioned above—caseload was more than 42,000—almost double in one year; at the peak in 1940, 158,000 aged received assistance. Costs skyrocketed—from $8,000,000 in 1935-36 to $23,000,000 in 1936-37, and to a peak of $68,478,000 in 1940-41.

In 1937, the Legislature made the flat $35 grant fully effective by exempting $15 of earnings, and certain other income. The next major change was enabled by our Legislature in 1939 but made effective by the 1939 amendments to the Social Security Act. Effective January, 1940, Congress raised the maximum Federal share to $20 per case month, and it was ruled that this automatically raised the California maximum to $40 per case.

Viewed in the light of the flat-grant basis established in our California law, an equally significant 1939 change in the Social Security Act was the requirement that, beginning July 1, 1941, the States should, "in determining need, take into consideration any other income and resources of an individual claiming old-age assistance." The results of this latter requirement have been discussed at length by this group, and need not be touched upon here.

This chronology of old age assistance demonstrates two things: First, California has been neither slow nor niggardly in providing for her aged indigent citizens. Generally, we have preceded other States and the Federal government in our enactments, and the average monthly grant we pay—Colorado with its generosity and its difficulties notwithstanding—has consistently provided a mark for other jurisdictions.

Second, we have not always paid sufficient attention to the obvious limitations on our own ability, within our law, to pay the assistance we grant. As witness, early in 1937, Del Norte County found it impossible to pay its aged recipients on a cash basis, and consequently for a time the Federal grant was threatened; in that same year, Los Angeles County was obliged to ask for help in meeting its administrative cost; and in 1938-39, the Legislature felt obligated to relieve the counties of $6,000,000 in aged aid costs they would otherwise have had to bear.

Reflected in terms of tax rates, the average burden on real property rose from one cent per $100 in 1930-31 to three cents in 1934-35, and 24 cents in 1940-41. Stated differently, while the total assessed valuation fell 30 per cent (10 billion dollars to 7 billion dollars), the county cost of old-age aid multiplied 1600 per cent (1 million dollars to 17 million dollars).

This chronology also would seem to demonstrate that we must approach the task before us with due regard for all of the factors involved in order to arrive at recommendations which will be equitable both to the aged and to the whole population of California, and which our economy will support under conditions far different from the present. If we fail in this, it is entirely conceivable that what happened in 1895 may repeat itself.

Suggestions of Governor Warren

The first of the fields of exploration suggested in the Governor's letter of February 25 is the sufficiency of the present pension. In connection with this matter, the Governor indicated that "we must give full consideration to the continuing advance in the cost of living and to the fact that people can not now live on $40 a month."

It would seem that no reasonable person could deny the validity of the first factor in this statement of the Governor's—that with respect to the continuing advance in the cost of living. It might well be borne in mind, however, that this advance affects not only the aged, but every citizen in California and the Nation. Despite recent sizeable increases in California and National income, most citizens and taxpayers are confronted by a two-edged attack on their finances—a ceiling on income, and enormous increases in Federal taxation necessary to win the war. This is in addition to the attack on their standard of living caused by rationing and shortages of civilian supplies.

As for the second factor, that relating to the inadequacy of $40 a month, there are a number of important considerations which might properly be borne in mind. To enumerate, these are:

1. The effect of present law upon total income available to old-age assistance recipients;
2. The outlook with respect to employment for aged persons both at present, and in the future;
3. The ability of the State and counties to pay a larger grant, during and after the war, regardless of Federal participation in the addition; and
4. The possible effect of proposals for increased payments upon State and county finances.

The discussion of these matters at this point will be without consideration of Federal legislation or administration, which will be referred to later. Nor will comparisons with other States be mentioned.

1. Effect of Present Law. We have been informed that under present law, and with the consent of the Social Security Board, all recipients are now being offered, on an experimental basis, the option of having their needs budgeted, and that many of them are accepting the option. For those who accept the option, and whose grants are still less than $40, there is the possibility of increasing the budget allocation for certain items, as has been done recently in the case of food, and thus provide a larger grant. For those now receiving the full $40, apparently only legislation could enable any increase. The payment of $40 under the budget plan would seem to leave room for a considerable amount of part-time earnings from essential work.

It would seem obvious that the value of the present $40 varies wildly as between individuals, and generally, between counties. Cost indices vary even between the two metropolitan centers, and it would appear that there can be no equity, either between aged or taxpayers, in granting a disproportionate excess over a decent amount.

2. Employment Outlook for the Aged. The continued stringent lack of manpower for both agriculture and industry has greatly improved the demand for services of the aged. A recent report of the State Department of Social Welfare reveals that case closings because of earnings were five times higher for the period July-December, 1941, than they were during July-December, 1940, and we are informed that the trend is still upward. Employment Service placements of aged persons reveal the same strong trend. A question which the committee might wish to consider is, "Would an increase in the benefit amount now deter the aged from seeking employment during the National emergency?"

What employment conditions will be after the war is anybody's guess. It seems logical to presume that many aged now working will require this form of assistance, so it would seem advisable to maintain it on a basis we can afford after the war.

3. Ability to Pay a Larger Grant. This matter divides itself into two closely inter-related parts, first, the ability of the State to increase its contribution, and second, that of the counties.

With respect to State finances, much is being made of the present and prospective surplus in the General Fund. Admittedly this surplus is accumulating because of war activity. It would therefore appear exceedingly unwise to regard it as anything more than a windfall which, in the Governor's words, "constitutes a sacred trust * * * collected from all the people and should be expended or preserved only for uses which will redound to the benefit of all."

Certain plain facts concerning State finance are: (1) The Governor has appointed another committee, whose assigned task it is to recommend appropriate reductions in State taxes, and thus decrease the prospective surplus; (2) there are other functions of government upon which war is making great demands, and those of necessity will compete with the aged for whatever additional funds are available; and (3) our postwar financial situation is still a matter of conjecture, and it would therefore seem downright unfair to the aged as well as to our whole body politic to enact a program we could not support after the emergency.

Concerning the ability of California counties to participate in financing payment of larger grants, there also appears abundant evidence of need for extreme caution. The proposal of the Supervisors' Association that county participation in the present program be limited to a maximum of $5 per case month has been put before this committee. The fact that taxes on real and personal property are the only source of county revenue has been mentioned, and the substantial decrease in total assessments since 1930 has already been cited. We have also been informed that the removal of taxable property from the rolls by Federal acquisition for war purpose has created a problem of great magnitude.

Converting the admittedly conservative estimates of cost in the Governor's Budget to tax rates per $100 value gives another indication of the difficulties with the present program, which confront most counties. Necessary rates range from a minimum of 7 cents in King and Kern counties, through 15 cents for Marin and San Francisco, 25 cents for Los Angeles, to 55 cents for Santa Cruz and to a maximum of 74 cents for Trinity.

When we view this situation in connection with the probability that county revenues will also undergo major readjustment after the war, we can really begin to appreciate the significance of the question, "Can the counties participate in larger grants?"

4. Proposals for Expansion and Increased Payments. Members of the committee are acquainted with the various proposals submitted to it for increased grants, for expansion to cover the age 60-64 group, or for both, so there is no necessity to enumerate them here. From the foregoing, the importance of weighing these proposals in accordance with their effect on State and county costs should be apparent.

At the request of a member of the Legislature who is also a member of this committee, estimates of cost covering the Biennium 1943-45 for these proposals in their varying combinations have been prepared by the State Department of Social Welfare, and have been published in the Assembly Journal. Subject to later slight changes, these estimates reveal that, for instance, the State's share of paying $60 per month only to the group 65 and over would exceed $65 million per biennium ($32.5 million per year) as compared to approximately $33 million per biennium ($16.5 million a year) for the present program. Bringing in the 60-64 group, for which the Federal Government would not contribute, and paying only $50 per month, would increase State costs to approximately $75 million a biennium, $37.5 million per year. Similar sizeable increases in cost would be created by any other such proposals.

Using these same department estimates as a basis for considering county costs, and converting them to tax rates per $100 assessed value to make readily apparent their effect, we find that the additional burden would vary widely as between counties, and generally speaking, would strike hardest at those counties least able to pay. For example, using the cost forecast with a 60-year age limit, a $50 grant, cost divided as under present law, we find that for 1943-44 under present law Trinity County's rate would jump to $1.41 as compared to 74 cents; Santa Cruz would go to $1.04 as compared to 55 cents; Los Angeles, 48 cents as against 25; and Alameda, 34 cents as compared to 18. It might perhaps be well to give a thought to what this doubling of costs would mean to the security of the small homeowner.

With reference to the estimates of the Social Welfare Department, some doubt has been expressed on the grounds that they are too conservative, do not reflect to any extent the additional increment of cases which might be expected from certain changes, and relate principally to the next biennium, which is obscured by the war. On the thought that it might be helpful to the committee to prepare estimates taking into account these factors as far as possible, certain forecasts have been made independently. However, it is acknowledged that there is no actuarial basis upon which estimates of old-age assistance costs can be made; the best that can be prepared are only "informed guesses." Therefore, assumptions based on these estimates are merely presented by way of illustration of what might happen.

Assuming that present provisions of law were to continue, on the basis of these estimates total California old-age costs during postwar 1945-46 would total $67,000,000. State and county shares would each be slightly more than $16,000,000. Assuming, however, a $60 per month grant, the 60-year age limit, and no relatives responsibility, the total cost would approach $177,500,000, and the total State and county contribution would be $133,000,000. With the further assumption that this amount would be divided two-thirds State, one-third county, the county share would total $44,000,000. On this basis, tax rates for selected counties would be: Trinity, $2; Santa Cruz, $1.47; Alameda, 49 cents; San Francisco, 41 cents; and Los Angeles, 68 cents.

Administrative Practices

The second suggested point for investigation mentioned in the Governor's letter is the reasonableness of present administrative practices.

In connection with this matter, there are only two points which it seems advisable to raise for committee consideration. First, it is apparent that many recipients confuse the aid granted by the present program with an outright pension, and resent the investigation necessary to establish their need. Second, other States, such as Oklahoma, Texas and Ohio have had Federal old age subventions withdrawn for various periods because of maladministration; such action with respect to California for the same reason has apparently never been considered.

Eligibility—Conformity with Federal Legislation

The third point—eligibility for pension, and the fourth—"Forward Looking Legislation" committing California to immediate action if and when the Federal Government will authorize it under its social security legislation—are so closely inter-related that they will be reviewed together at this point.

In passing, however, it might be appropriate to indicate that within the fourth point, it is conceivable that this committee might be precluded from considering any proposed programs which can not be "authorized" under existing Federal social security legislation. Separately, the Governor has stated his belief that we might adopt legislation declaring our readiness to act when Congress authorizes similar action throughout the Nation, but there is no indication that our recommendations should encompass programs or provisions which might threaten stoppage of Federal aid.

The principal points concerning eligibility to which the attention of the committee has been directed are:

1. The income of an applicant from earnings;
2. The imputed value of real and personal property; and
3. The responsibility of relatives.

Each of these factors affects not only the rights of present recipients to larger grants, but also the rights of otherwise eligible nonrecipients to qualify for any grant.

From material already presented to the committee, and from our discussions, it would appear that no satisfactory solutions to these problems can be developed until we succeed in framing such questions to the Social Security Board as will elicit some understandable and firm statement as to the limits beyond which the Federal Government considers it can not go under present Federal law. It would appear useless for us to recommend legislation exempting any type of income, or repealing any requirement that certain resources be applied against the grant, as long as the Social Security Board insists that "any other income or resources" means any income or resources, regardless of derivation.

This conclusion leads to a consideration of the somewhat embarrassing plight in which the Social Security Board finds itself—a plight which probably reflects itself into our California situation. The Federal Old Age Insurance and Survivors System has not previously been referred to herein, but its existence should not be overlooked. Old age insurance is the nation-wide, permanent pension system; old age assistance is merely, and designedly so, the stop-gap program established to care for the group already aged when social security went into effect and for those not covered under the contributing program. Throughout the Nation, some 50,000,000 workers, including perhaps 3,000,000 in California, are through their own contributions slowly acquiring rights to a pension which may not average $25 for the worker, $13 for his wife. Yet, under an aged-aid system as liberal as our present California program, an aged couple without resources can qualify for $80 per month. It would take a worker earning $250 per month 35 years to qualify himself and wife to receive $80 per month under old age insurance.

The Social Security Board has a responsibility to those 50,000,000 workers to see that the insurance for which they pay and which is their right is available when due, and that the amounts they receive are not overshadowed by those paid to another class of the aged. With these facts in mind, perhaps we can appreciate as very pertinent the concern of the Social Security Board that the declared intent of Title 1 of the Social Security Act be preserved; namely, to provide assistance to the needy aged in accordance with their resources and needs, on as liberal a basis as possible.

The State Social Welfare Board shall consider the appeal, and shall dismiss the appeal or award aid as prescribed in this chapter. The county board of supervisors shall then pay to such aged person the sum awarded, if any, by the State Social Welfare Board, the payments, if awarded, to commence from the date [the applicant was first entitled thereto] of application.

[Payments of aid shall be commenced as of the first day of the month in which the application is granted, unless otherwise directed by the State Social Welfare Board in cases in which an appeal is taken; but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application.]

An applicant whose application for aid under this chapter has been rejected may not again apply for such aid until the expiration of one year from the date of the previous application, except with the consent of the county or an order of the State Department of Social Welfare [.] , or until the condition because of which his application was rejected has been eliminated.

If the applicant or recipient feels himself aggrieved by any decision of the State Welfare Board, he may file with the superior court of the county in which he resides, a petition, praying for a review of the entire proceedings in the matter, upon questions of law involved in the case.

SEC. 25. Section 2182.1 is added to said code, to read:

2182.1. No filing fee shall be required from an applicant for or recipient of aid under this chapter for the filing of a petition in the superior court for a review of the proceedings in his case.

Within ten (10) days after being served with notice of the filing of the petition, the State Department of Social Welfare shall file with the clerk of the court the record of the proceedings in the case, and no further pleadings shall be required to bring the matter to issue.

No bond shall be required in the case of any petition for review, nor in any appeal therefrom.

If the decision of the court is in favor of the applicant for or recipient of aid, aid shall be paid from the date of application therefor, and the applicant or recipient shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

Src 26 Section 2183 of said code is amended to read:

2183. If the application for aid is granted, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall report the fact to the auditor of the county. All payments of aid under this chapter shall be made monthly in advance by the treasurer of the county.

A county shall have a period of [90] 30 days after the date of application within which to determine whether or not the applicant is eligible for assistance, and if it is determined that he is eligible the aid shall be granted to him from [the first day of the month in which the determination is made that he is eligible but in no event shall the aid commence prior to] the date of application. If the investigation is not completed at the end of the [90 day] 30-day period, the investigation shall continue until completed and if eligibility is established, aid shall begin as of the [first day of the month following the end of the 90-day period.] date of application.

Such payment shall be paid by warrant and shall be delivered to the applicant at his residence if he so requests. If the recipient of old age assistance is, on the testimony of reputable witnesses, found incapable of taking care of himself or his money, upon recommendation of the board of supervisors and with the approval of the Department of Social Welfare the aid authorized in this chapter may be paid to any responsible person acceptable to the recipient for the benefit of the recipient of this aid, but it shall be unlawful for the board of supervisors to order any part of the aid granted under this chapter to be paid in the form of merchandise orders for food, rent or otherwise.

SEC. 27. Section 2186 of said code is amended to read

2186 During such time as grants in aid are provided or made available by the United States Government for old age assistance in this State, the State Treasurer shall pay to each county from the sums so granted (1) an amount which shall be used exclusively as old age assistance equal to one-half of the total of the sums expended therefor under this chapter, not counting so much of such expenditure with respect to any individual for any month as exceeds the maximum fixed by the United States Government in granting or making such sums available, and not counting so much of such expenditure as represents aid granted to any individual who has not attained the minimum age specified by the United States Government in granting or making such aid available; and (2) an additional amount equal to such county's proportionate share of any amount so granted or made available to this State by the United States Government for the costs of administering such aid, which additional amount shall be used exclusively for paying such administration costs. The State Department of Social Welfare shall determine the portion of the amount so granted or made available for administration costs to be paid to the counties, which portion shall be not less than one-half of the amount so granted or made available. The State Department of Social Welfare shall adopt rules and regulations which shall be of uniform application for determining the proportionate shares of the respective counties of the portion so determined to be paid to such counties.

Sec. 28. Section 2187 of said code is amended to read:

2187. From the sums appropriated therefor by the State of California in Section 2021 of this chapter, the State Treasurer shall pay to each county an additional amount which shall be used exclusively for aid to needy aged equal to [one-half] the full amount of the remainder of the sums expended by the county as aid to the needy aged under this chapter, after deducting from the sums so expended:

(a) The amount paid to the county under subdivision (1) of Section 2186 of this code [.] ; and

(b) The sum of ten dollars ($10) for each resident of the county granted the maximum amount of aid, and such lesser sum for each resident of the county granted less than the maximum amount of aid as bears that proportion to the sum of ten dollars ($10) which the amount of aid granted to the individual bears to the maximum amount of aid which may be granted to any individual [except that the State shall pay the county the full amount of aid granted any person otherwise qualified who has resided in the State for the required period and who has no county residence, after deducting the amount paid with respect to such person under subdivision (1) of Section 2186 of this code.]

Sec. 29. Section 2187 5 is added to said code, to read:

2187.5. The sums deducted under subdivision (b) of Section 2187 from the moneys paid under that section to each county constitute the county's share of the cost of aid to the needy aged in the county, and each county shall pay such share from the funds of the county.

Sec. 30. Section 2222 of said code is amended to read:

2222. If, at any time during the continuance of aid, the recipient thereof or the husband or wife of the recipient becomes possessed of any property or income in excess of the amount allowed under the provisions of this chapter, the recipient shall immediately notify the board of supervisors of the receipt and possession of such property or income. The board may, on inquiry and with the approval of the State Department of Social Welfare, either cancel the aid or vary the amount thereof in accordance with circumstances. Any excess aid theretofore paid shall be returned [in equal proportions] to the United States Government, the State, and the county participating in the granting of such aid, in accordance with the provisions of Section 2024, and shall be recoverable as a debt due proportionately to the State and such county.

SEC. 16. Section 2182 of said code is amended to read:

2182. If any applicant or recipient is dissatisfied with the action of the [board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged, he shall upon filing a petition with the State [Department of] Social Welfare Board, have the right of appeal and shall be accorded an opportunity for a fair hearing. The [Social Welfare Department shall set such] appeal shall be set for hearing before the State Social Welfare Board and [shall give] all parties concerned shall be given written notice of the time and place of such hearing. At such hearing the applicant or recipient may appear in person with counsel of his own choosing or in person and without such counsel.

The State Social Welfare Board shall consider the appeal, and shall dismiss the appeal or award aid as prescribed in this chapter. The [county board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged shall then pay to such aged person the sum awarded, if any, by the State Social Welfare Board, the payments, if awarded, to commence from the date the applicant was first entitled thereto.

Payments of aid shall be commenced as of the first day of the month in which the application is granted, unless otherwise directed by the State Social Welfare Board in cases in which an appeal is taken; but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application.

An applicant whose application for aid under this chapter has been rejected may not again apply for such aid until the expiration of one year from the date of the previous application, except with the consent of [the county or an order of] the State Department of Social Welfare.

If the applicant or recipient feels himself aggrieved by any decision of the State Welfare Board, he may file with the superior court of the county in which he resides, a petition, praying for a review of the entire proceedings in the matter, upon questions of law involved in the case.

SEC. 17. Section 2183 of said code is amended to read:

2183. [If the application for aid is granted, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall report the fact to the auditor of the county.] All payments of aid under this chapter shall be made monthly in advance by the [treasurer of the county] department.

[A county] The Division of State Aid to the Aged shall have a period of 90 days after the date of application within which to determine whether or not the applicant is eligible for assistance, and the aid shall be granted to him from the first day of the month in which the determination is made that he is eligible but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application. If the investigation is not completed at the end of the 90-day period, the investigation shall continue until completed and if eligibility is established, aid shall begin as of the first day of the month following the end of the 90-day period.

Such payment shall be paid by warrant and shall be delivered to the applicant at his residence if he so requests. If the recipient of old age assistance is, on the testimony of reputable witnesses, found incapable of taking care of himself or his money, [upon recommendation of the board of supervisors and with the approval of the Department of Social Welfare] the aid authorized in this chapter may be paid to any responsible person acceptable to the recipient for the benefit of the recipient of this aid, but it shall be unlawful for the [board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged to order any part of the aid granted under this chapter to be paid in the form of merchandise orders for food, rent or otherwise.

SEC. 18. Section 2184 is added to said code, to read:

2184. SEC. 16. Section 2182 of said code is amended to read:

2182. If any applicant or recipient is dissatisfied with the action of the [board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged, he shall, upon filing a petition with the State [Department of] Social Welfare Board, have the right of appeal and shall be accorded an opportunity for a fair hearing. The [Social Welfare Department shall set such] appeal shall be set for hearing before the State Social Welfare Board and [shall give] all parties concerned shall be given written notice of the time and place of such hearing. At such hearing the applicant or recipient may appear in person with counsel of his own choosing or in person and without such counsel.

The State Social Welfare Board shall consider the appeal, and shall dismiss the appeal or award aid as prescribed in this chapter. The [county board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged shall then pay to such aged person the sum awarded, if any, by the State Social Welfare Board, the payments, if awarded, to commence from the date the applicant was first entitled thereto.

Payments of aid shall be commenced as of the first day of the month in which the application is granted, unless otherwise directed by the State Social Welfare Board in cases in which an appeal is taken; but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application.

An applicant whose application for aid under this chapter has been rejected may not again apply for such aid until the expiration of one year from the date of the previous application, except with the consent of [the county or an order of] the State Department of Social Welfare.

If the applicant or recipient feels himself aggrieved by any decision of the State Welfare Board, he may file with the superior court of the county in which he resides,

SEC. 17. Section 2183 of said code is amended to read:

2183. [If the application for aid is granted, the clerk of the board of supervisors shall report the fact to the auditor of the county.] All payments of aid under this chapter shall be made monthly in advance by the [treasurer of the county] department. [A county] The Division of State Aid to the Aged shall have a period of 90 days after the date of application within which to determine whether or not the applicant is eligible for assistance, and the aid shall be granted to him from the first day of the month in which the determination is made that he is eligible but in no event shall the aid commence prior to the date of application. If the investigation is not completed at the end of the 90-day period, the investigation shall continue until completed and if eligibility is established, aid shall begin as of the first day of the month following the end of the 90-day period.

Such payment shall be paid by warrant and shall be delivered to the applicant at his residence if he so requests. If the recipient of old age assistance is, on the testimony of reputable witnesses, found incapable of taking care of himself or his money. [upon recommendation of the board of supervisors and with the approval of the Department of Social Welfare] the aid authorized in this chapter may be paid to any responsible person acceptable to the recipient for the benefit of the recipient of this aid, but it shall be unlawful for the [board of supervisors] Division of State Aid to the Aged to order any part of the aid granted under this chapter to be paid in the form of merchandise orders for food, rent or otherwise.

Upon receipt of the affidavit, and without the filing of any bond by the payee, the State Controller shall issue and deliver to the payee of the original warrant a duplicate warrant for the full amount of the original warrant, and the State Treasurer shall pay the duplicate warrant in lieu of the original warrant.

A warrant shall be considered to have been lost if it has been mailed, and has not been received by the addressee within 20 days after the date of mailing.

[The State Department of Social shall determine the portion of the amount so granted or made available for administration costs to be paid to the counties, which portion shall be not less than one-half of the amount so granted or made available. The State Department of Social Welfare shall adopt rules and regulations which shall be of uniform application for determining the proportionate shares of the respective counties of the portion so determined to be paid to such counties.]

(c) The State Controller shall thereupon draw the necessary warrants, and prior to audit or settlement by [the State Department of Social Welfare and] the State Controller, the State Treasurer shall pay to the [treasurer of each county] State Department of Social Welfare the amount so certified.

No. 974

INTRODUCED BY SENATOR DONNELLY

January 30, 1943

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE ON REVENUE AND TAXATION

An act to raise revenue and to provide for the payment of annuities therefrom.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The term "gross income" means the gross receipts of the taxpayer received as compensation for personal services and the gross receipts of the taxpayer derived from trade, business, commerce, or the sale of tangible or intangible property and including interest, dividends, discounts, rentals, royalties, fees, commissions, bonuses, or prizes or any other emoluments however designated and without any deductions on account of the cost of property sold, the cost of materials used, labor employed, taxes, royalties, interest or discount paid, or any other expenses whatsoever.

SEC. 2. When used in this act the term "wages" means all remuneration for employment, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash.

SEC. 3. The term "State Welfare Board" means the present State Welfare Board of the State of California.

SEC. 4. The term "property" means real and/or personal property and includes stocks, bonds, and choses in action: It includes also any right, interest, or estate whatsoever in such property.

SEC. 5. The term "persons" or "companies" shall include every individual, partnership, society, unincorporated association, joint venture, group, joint-stock company, corporation, trustee, executor, administrator, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust or other entity, whether doing business for itself or in a fiduciary capacity, and whether the individuals composing it are residents or nonresidents of the United States and whether the corporation or other association is created or organized under the laws of the United States or of another jurisdiction.

SEC. 6. The term "California," when used in a geographical sense, means all areas in the State of California; and the term "employee" includes an officer of a corporation.

SEC. 7. In addition to all other excises, duties or taxes, there shall be levied, collected, and paid a premium of 2 per cent of the gross income of all persons or companies derived from any and all sources, over and above one hundred dollars ($100) for each calendar month. Such one hundred dollars ($100) shall be deducted monthly if received as wages or salary, and may be deducted on quarterly, semiannual or annual basis if derived on any other basis.

SEC. 8. The premiums imposed by this act shall be collected by the State Welfare Board and shall be paid into the treasury of the State of California and allocated to a special fund solely for the purpose of this act.

SEC. 9. The State Welfare Board may distrain any goods, chattels, or intangibles, represented by negotiable evidences of indebtedness, of any premium payer who is delinquent under this act, for the amount of all premiums, penalties and interest accrued and unpaid hereunder.

SEC. 10. The State Welfare Board shall be empowered to designate the manner and place for filing returns and payment of premiums, and shall provide such forms and instructions as may be necessary for the proper administration of this act.

SEC. 11. The premiums shall be computed on the total gross income of all persons and companies at the end of each calendar month, and a complete return must be filed with the State Welfare Board before the twentieth day of the calendar month following the month in which the premium accrues, unless no premium is due under the exemptions as provided in Section 7.

SEC. 12. All remittances of premiums imposed by this act shall be made to the place designated by the State Welfare Board on or before the twentieth day of the second month after they accrue; such returns shall be verified by the oath of the premium payer if an individual, or by oath of an officer or director, if made in behalf of a company. If made in behalf of a partnership, firm, society, unincorporated association or group, joint venture, joint-stock company, corporation, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust, or other entity, any individual delegated by such partnership, firm, society, unincorporated association or group, joint venture, joint-stock company, corporation, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust or other entity shall make the oath in behalf of the premium payer. If for any reason it is not practical for the individual premium payer to make the oath, it may be made by any duly authorized agent, who shall then be held entirely responsible for the correctness of such return.

SEC. 13. If the premium payer shall make any error in computing the premium assessable against him the State Welfare Board shall correct such error, reassess the proper amount of premium and notify the premium payer of its action by mailing to him promptly, by registered mail, return receipt requested, a copy of the corrected assessment, and any additional premium for which such premium payer may be liable shall be paid within 10 days after the receipt of such notice.

SEC. 14. If the amount already paid exceeds that which should have been paid on the basis of the premium so recomputed, the excess so paid shall be immediately refunded to the premium payer by the State Welfare Board out of the funds collected under this act. The premium payer may, at his election, apply an overpayment credit to premiums subsequently accruing hereunder.

SEC. 15. If any person having made the return and paid the premium as provided by this act feels aggrieved by any assessment so made upon him for any specified period by the State Welfare Board, he may appeal from said assessment by filing a petition in the manner provided by law.

SEC. 16. The State Welfare Board shall enforce the payment of the premiums required by this act to be paid, and shall promptly deposit in the State treasury all moneys received by it through or from the collection of such premiums.

SEC. 17. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the following persons: (1) Fraternal benefit societies, orders, or associations, or for the exclusive benefit of the members of the fraternity itself, operating under the lodge system, and providing for the payment of death, sick, accident, or other benefits to the members of such societies, orders, or associations, and to their dependents or beneficiaries; (2) corporations, associations, or societies organized and operated exclusively for nonprofit, religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes; (3) business leagues, chambers of commerce, labor organizations, boards of trade, civic leagues, and other similar organizations operated exclusively for the benefit of the community and for the promotion of social welfare, and not for commercial trading in any form, and from which no profit inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual; (4) hospitals, infirmaries, and sanatoria, from which no profit inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual; (5) amounts received under life-insurance policies and contracts paid by reason of death of the insured; (6) amounts received under property-insurance policies; (7) amounts received by any person under any accident-insurance or health-insurance policy or contract or under workmen's compensation acts or employer's liability acts, as compensation for personal injuries, death, or sickness, including also the amount of any damages or other compensation received, whether as a result of action or by private agreement between the parties on account of such personal injuries, death, or sickness; (8) amounts received by any person as compensatory damages for any tort injury to him, or his character or reputation, or received by any person as compensatory damages for any tort injury or destruction to property, whether as the result of action or by private agreement between the parties; except amounts received by any person as punitive damages for tort injury or breach-of-contract injury; (9) amounts received by any person as a benefit payment so-called or like payments by virtue of acts passed by the Congress of the United States relating thereto and disbursed to others as such benefit payment; but the State Welfare Board may by regulation require any such deductions to be set forth specifically by the taxpayer in his return: Provided, however, that exceptions, (1) to (9) inclusive, shall apply only to the gross income received from nonprofit activities.

or both. In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person who shall knowingly swear to or verify any false or fraudulent return, or any return containing any false or fraudulent statement, shall be guilty of the offense of perjury, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner provided by law. Any corporation for which a false return, or a return containing a false statement, shall be made, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000). If the premium imposed under this act is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the premium, interest at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent per month, from the date the premium became due until it is paid.

SEC. 19. There is hereby created an account of the treasury of the State of California to be known as the General Welfare Account, hereinafter referred to as the "account." There are hereby authorized to be appropriated annually amounts equal to the estimated revenue derived under this act. On the twentieth day of the month succeeding the month in which this act is enacted, and on the twentieth day of each calendar month thereafter, there shall be credited to the account a sum equal to the amount of revenue to be collected under the provisions of this act, as indicated by the returns filed during the preceding calendar month. Such sums shall be available for making the payments as hereinafter provided. The State Treasurer shall submit annually to the State Welfare Board an estimate of the appropriations to be credited to the account.

SEC. 20. Amounts estimated by the State Treasurer to be necessary for monthly expenditures in the administration of this act shall be deducted from amounts credited to the account each month. The remaining amount credited to the account for each month shall be prorated and paid monthly to each qualified annuitant for the first month after the amounts are credited to the account except that no payment shall exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for any one month. Any surplus remaining in the account after the maximum monthly payments are made to each such annuitant shall be applied toward the liquidation of the State debt, if any exists, until the State debt is paid, after which it shall go into the General Fund of the State.

SEC. 21. Every citizen who is 60 years of age or over, and every physically incapacitated person unable to sustain himself, shall, upon filing an application under oath as hereinafter provided, be entitled to receive an annuity payable in monthly installments during the remainder of his life, or until he is physically able to sustain himself.

(c) An annuitant shall not engage in any occupation, business, or other activity from which a profit, wage, or other compensation is realized or attempted, except that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit an annuitant from collecting interest, rents, or other revenues from his own investments. No annuitant shall support an able-bodied person in idleness except a spouse. No annuity shall be paid to any person for any period that such person is forcibly confined in a penal institution or an institution for mental incompetents, and no person shall be entitled to an annuity when released, until a new application is approved for him.

(d) Any annuitant may waive all or any part of his right to an annuity under this act by filing a notice thereof with the State Welfare Board in such manner as it shall prescribe. Any such waiver shall not affect the right of any person to apply for an annuity at any time thereafter.

(e) Any sum received by an annuitant which represents the proceeds of a sale of any real property acquired through the use of money received as an annuity under this act shall be expended by the annuitant within six months after the receipt of such proceeds of such a sale.

(f) An annuitant shall not pay to any person any salary, wages, or other compensation in disproportion to the services rendered.

(g) It shall be the duty of each annuitant while receiving an annuity to pay his just obligations for purchases, rents, or services rendered, and to pay at least 10 per centum of any monthly installment on just obligations incurred before such annuitant received any money under this act.

(h) Each annuitant shall covenant and agree in his application for an annuity to comply with all the provisions of this act and all rules and regulations prescribed by the State Welfare Board to carry out the provisions of this act.

SEC. 23. (a) Payments of the amounts due to each annuitant under this act shall be made at regular monthly intervals so that the payments will be in possession of each annuitant as near the first day of each month as possible.

(b) The State Welfare Board shall furnish application blanks and other necessary forms to their branch offices, for distribution to persons who wish to apply for benefits under this act.

(c) Applications for annuities and any returns required to be made by an annuitant may be filed in local State Welfare Board offices and forwarded by them to the State Welfare Board. Welfare Board employees designated by them and notaries public shall have power to administer oaths where required under this act and may collect a fee of twenty-five cents ($0.25).

SEC. 24. (a) State Welfare Board is authorized and directed to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

(b) The State Welfare Board is hereby empowered to call upon other departments or agencies of the State to aid in the administration of this act.

(c) The State Treasurer is also empowered to make adjustments with respect to the time in which installments shall be expended in case payments to any person may have been delayed and there is an accumulation of two or more installments.

SEC. 25. The right to receive any payment under this act shall not be transferable or assignable, at law or in equity, and none of the moneys paid or payable or rights existing under this title shall be subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process, or to the operation of any bankruptcy or insolvency law.

SEC. 26. Whenever any person, in an application or when making a payment under this act knowingly or wilfully makes a false statement of a material fact, or fails or refuses to obey any rule, or regulation, issued by the State Welfare Board under this act, or violates any provision of this act, shall be prosecuted by the Attorney General in the court in the county in which the offense occurred, and upon conviction the annuitant shall forfeit for the remainder of his life one-fourth of the annuity to which he would otherwise be entitled each month, but shall suffer no other penalty, regardless of the number of counts on which he was convicted. Upon a subsequent commission and conviction for such misdemeanor he shall forfeit an additional one-fourth of the annuity to which he would otherwise have been entitled, for a third conviction, another one-fourth, and for a fourth conviction he shall forfeit entirely his right to any annuity under the terms of this act.

SEC. 27. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of the act are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SEC. 28. Any person who accepts an annuity under this act shall not be entitled, for any period that such annuity is received, to any pension, unemployment insurance, or other benefit to which he would otherwise be entitled under State law.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

No. 12

INTRODUCED BY SENATORS TENNEY AND SHELLEY

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE ON WELFARE AND INSTITUTIONS

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State by adding Article XVIa thereto, relating to pensions.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring. That the Legislature of the State of California, at its Fifty-fifth Regular Session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1943, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that the Constitution of the State be amended by adding Article XVIa thereto, to read:

Article XVIa

Pensions

Section 1. The Legislature shall have power to provide for the payment of pensions to disabled or aged citizens of the United States who reside in this State, and who have such qualifications in respect to age, length and place of residence, property holdings, and income, as the Legislature may prescribe. The Legislature shall have power to provide by taxation the necessary funds for the payment of such pensions, whether such pensions are paid by the State, or by the Federal Government and the State jointly.

Sec. 2. If the Federal Government establishes a uniform Nation-wide retirement system of old-age pensions for citizens of the United States not less in amount than the pensions provided by the State of California, such National pensions shall be in lieu of the State pension provided pursuant to this article; but if a National pension is provided in an amount less than the amount of the pension provided by the laws of the State of California, the Legislature shall provide for the payment of the difference between the amount of the National pension and the amount of the pension provided by State law, such payments to be administered and the conditions of eligibility therefor to be as provided in this article.

Sec. 3. No applicant for or recipient of a pension shall be denied a pension because of the property holdings or income of any other person, whether child, spouse, or other relative, of the applicant or recipient, or because of any provision of law requiring any such relative to support the applicant or recipient, or because of the financial ability of any such relative to support the applicant or recipient.

Sec. 4. Any recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article shall be permitted to own, hold, or convey to others real estate, cash, or other personal property in such amount as the Legislature shall provide, without thereby becoming ineligible to receive the pension.

Sec. 5. Any recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article may receive remuneration for his labor or services, or rentals of property owned by him, in any amount provided by the Legislature, without thereby becoming ineligible to receive the pension.

Sec. 6. Any legislation providing pensions pursuant to this article shall be administered by a department established for that purpose, which shall be separate and distinct from any agency or organization engaged in the administration of laws governing the distribution of public or private charity. Any citizens' pension provided pursuant to this article shall be deemed a right accorded to citizens by virtue of their status as citizens, and the receipt thereof shall never be considered as an act of indigency or pauperism, nor shall any legislation granting such a pension be deemed to be nor administered as legislation providing aid to indigents or paupers.

Sec. 7. No pension granted to a citizen under legislation pursuant to this article shall be terminated except by the death of the pensioner, nor shall the amount of any such pension be reduced, until the pensioner has been granted a hearing before a court of record in the county in which he resides, and accorded full opportunity to defend his right to continue to receive the pension in the amount which has been granted.

Sec. 7.5. Any applicant for or recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article who feels that he has been discriminated against by reason of any ruling by any administrative officer or body empowered by law to administer laws enacted pursuant to this article shall have the right, upon cause shown, to obtain a writ of review from any court of record in the county in which he resided at the time the action complained of occurred, and to have the question or questions judicially determined and proper relief granted.

Sec. 8. No grant of a pension to an aged person, or the enjoyment of a pension, shall create the relationship of debtor and creditor between a pensioner and the State of California, or any political subdivision of the State, save where the pension has been obtained by fraud. When a pension has been obtained by fraud, action may be maintained against the recipient, in such manner, and the person who obtained the pension fraudulently shall be subject to such penalties, as the Legislature may provide.

Sec. 9. No action shall be hereafter maintained in any court of the State of California against any person for the recovery of any sums heretofore or hereafter paid as a pension pursuant to this article, or as old-age assistance, except to recover such pensions or such assistance obtained by fraud.

Age Pension Stabilization Proposal Submitted to Governor Warren's Committee on Age Pensions

We quote Governor Warren from his statement of October 4, 1942:

The senior citizens of California have been deceived and misled long enough. They are entitled to pensions, not as a charity or a dole, but as a matter of right—as something they have earned in their productive years by their contributions to the upbuilding of the community. I do not believe a senior citizen should have to be in need in order to secure a pension. I do not believe he should be forced to relinquish any outside income he may have or any property he may have acquired. I don't believe he should be forced first to look to his children for support. I do not believe that a pension should be longer considered or called "Old Age Charitable Relief."

It is not just the number of years people have lived that should determine their right to a pension, because many people are efficient and able to work to very advanced ages, but rather the limit beyond which they are not permitted to obtain productive employment because of the stern dictates of a machine age. In order to be both realistic and humane, therefore, we must proceed upon the theory that a system which arbitrarily freezes people out of industry and declares them to be obsolete, merely because they have lived a fixed number of years, must make honorable provision for their support during the years of their enforced idleness.

The State of California must proceed upon this principle, and in doing so adopt a new policy of promptness, courtesy and cooperation in dealing with its citizens who are entitled to pensions.

We quote from Governor Warren's address to the Associated General Contractors, Palace Hotel, San Francisco, December 11, 1942:

We must provide a job with good living wages for every person wanting work; and from the abundance these enthusiastic workers produce provide adequate pensions for those unable to work.

* * * I am creating in California a scientifically planned model State, after which the Nation and the world may pattern.

and again from the Governor's statement of February 17, 1943, given at the time of the naming of this committee:

Every thinking person must realize that old age security is our most fundamental social problem and that an industrial system which arbitrarily rules out productive employment because of age and irrespective of fitness must provide an honorable means of livelihood in lieu thereof.

GENTLEMEN: We are face to face with an economic, social, financial situation that is without parallel or precedent. It was born years ago. It grows apace. The business sag of the thirties which generated the acuteness of our social problems of unemployment and old age, has been temporarily offset in the forties by a stupendous pouring out of Federal Government tax-financed war material and supply orders which are now supporting the California economy to the extent of around $10,000,000,000, so far.

Many of our younger people are out of private life now and in the services. We have less unemployment and more people on pay rolls than in any previous period. Less employable people but more people employed. For the first time women are being employed extensively in all crafts; they will not return to the kitchen voluntarily.

The 45-year hiring age limit which previously prevailed has been pigeonholed for the duration so that any man or woman who can walk without crutches may now find a place on the production line. Employment is still increasing. Unemployment is at low tide. The needy unemployment and old age case load is at a bottom below which it probably can not further recede, but prices and the cost of living are increasing despite all efforts at stabilization.

Every citizen of every age and of every employment or unemployment classification now carries a ration book in one pocket and a purse, we hope, in the other. Such goods as are available for civilian use are thus universally advertised as available to every person regardless of his or her financial status. Each has his basic ration, theoretically.

If we deal with old age aid as aid and not as pensions as a matter of right, we do so without reckoning the political and economic implications and the consequences which will follow almost before tomorrow's sunrise.

We have only about 150,000 persons in and above the 65-year age bracket reduced to pauperism, for whatever reasons, who are now being supplied out of tax moneys at an official rate of $40 per month per person. This involves total tax money in the estimated amount of $65,000,000 per 12 months, $32,500,000 of which is Federal, $16,300,000 State and $16,200,000 county.

The cost of decent mere-existence for these people—even without anticipating further price increases—demands 50 or 100 per cent increase—all or nearly all of which would have to be raised out of State and county taxes because of the Federal aid contribution limit of $20 per person per month—a total of not less than $200,000,000 for the 1943-45 biennium—and that at the lowest case load point which may be by any means anticipated. What then of those under 65; what of those frozen out of their jobs in their late forties? What of those between 45 and 65 who, at the moment, find a few short months of temporary employment in war or allied work?

What of those younger men and women whom we hope will soon be returning from the services in high hopes for their peacetime future? Shall we, by the recommendations of this committee, deal with upper-age abject poverty and again postpone the inevitable day of financial and political reckoning with the basic realities of the problem?

We submit that the solution either to the immediate present or to the immediate future problem is not to be found in any further raids upon the taxpayers. That cow is well nigh dry.

With the present demonstration of full employment resulting almost exclusively from Federal war orders, we ask also from the standpoint of industry, agriculture and business—where are the orders for produce and product to come from to replace the inevitable recession of war-generated orders which at the moment reduce our unemployment and our social case load to the present lows?

Far from any hope for reductions in the tax burden which social displacements have engendered the present burden must shortly become not only intolerable to the average taxpayer, but an insuperable impediment to private enterprise and to competitive trade intercourse with low standard areas in America or abroad.

Cost of production efficiencies brought forth by the remarkable intelligence of the workman, the engineer, the scientist and of management must not and need not be canceled out by a system of taxes, tax assessments and tax accounting constantly aggravated by old age unemployed people who are the end product of those very efficiencies.

The way is simple enough. It leads to placing age pensions on the assets side of the taxpayers' ledger instead of on the liabilities side. The Payroll Guarantee Association, whom I represent, proposes:

1. That private enterprise, public works and government shall employ as many people as in their judgment may be required for the efficient conduct of such undertaking; that employment preference be given to younger men and women.

2. That those remaining after manpower demands have been satisfied will be men and women who temporarily or permanently have been functionally disqualified and arbitrarily frozen out as unemployable for reasons of age or disability.

3. That all unemployed who have resided in California for some prescribed duration shall be granted pensions.

4. That since responsibility for disemployment does not necessarily rest with the applicant no burden of proof of his right to a pension shall exceed his or her affidavit as to residence requirements and that weekly application to the nearest employment office for employment suitable to his or her qualifications has resulted in no employment during the four weeks immediately preceding his or her original application for pension.

5. We propose that pensions should be of two classes—temporary and permanent.

6. That pension payments must at all times represent purchasing power equivalent to $20 a week at the price level which prevailed in January, 1942, as determined by Heller Reports, University of California, United States Department of Labor and other recognized statistical authority.

7. That "permanent" irrevocable pensions shall begin at an arbitrary age which is five years above the prevailing employment age level established by industrial practice.

8. That "temporary" pensions shall begin at the arbitrary permanent age and be reduced automatically by units of six months each as, for example, from age 50 to age 49 years and six months—then to age 49 years and so on down until the number of applicants for pensions whose age is below the current temporary pension age bottom exceeds the total number of men and women in the next succeeding lower six months age group.

9. That as and when demands for manpower exceed the supply of available workers then those temporary pension recipients in the lowest six months age group whose qualifications for work are in demand shall be obligated to accept such employment and be stricken from the pension rolls with the privilege of being returned to the pension rolls immediately upon further cessation of their work assignment.

10. That all paid employment shall be reserved as opportunities for younger people. That pensions must be really adequate and that pension recipients be required to abstain from odd-job extra income except in periods officially declared to be of public emergency.

11. We strongly emphasize that California should not be made a mecca for the elders of other areas but that it should be operated as a safe haven for those whose extended years of residence and service in this State yet finds them without further opportunity for productive earnings.

12.—We submit that such a program by stabilizing basic income will at once stabilize not only the social but more particularly the economic environment so necessary to the health of sound industrial, agricultural and business development.

13.—We propose that such a stabilization program be financed by a line of credit which the State of California will establish with the banks of California and that this Stabilization Exchange Fund shall be used exclusively for the payment of pensions.

14.—We propose that an account shall be opened in the nearest bank for each pension recipient and that the State shall "deposit" to the account of each pension recipient each week, the amount of the pension due for that week.

15—We propose that each pension recipient shall draw "Stabilization exchange checks" on his account in bank in payment for his supplies and that his stabilization account will then be debited to the account of the pension recipient and credited to the merchant, the landlord or the supplier in whose favor the pensioner's check is drawn.

16—We propose that the merchant will then draw "Stabilization checks" against his "Stabilization exchange account" in settlement of his bills payable and so on.

17—We propose that receipts of "Stabilization exchange" shall not be regarded as income and not subject to income taxes and that merchandise distributed by means of stabilization exchange shall not be subject to sales or use or excise taxes.

18—We propose that the bank shall debit each private "Stabilization exchange" account 2 per cent and credit the State stabilization exchange account 2 per cent at the close of business on some prescribed day each week to the end that all drafts by the State on its line of "Stabilization credit" at bank shall be liquidated and canceled out 50 weeks after the drafts are made.

19—We propose that by this method all financial costs of pensions are in effect paid out of the business generated by pensions and not out of taxes assessed against real or personal property and not out of taxes assessed against sales or ordinary income.

20—We propose the example of a grocer who takes $100 worth of stabilization exchange checks. Assuming that he does not immediately transfer this credit to his wholesaler or other supplier, the grocer's account at bank would be debited 2 per cent at the fiscal week end. The grocer has transferred $100 of merchandise at an expense of $2. If the grocer does transfer the $100 credit to his wholesaler within the week then the 2 per cent debit would be charged to the account of the wholesaler and $100 at retail and another $100 at wholesale of business will have been done for a total cost of $2 or an average of 1 per cent on the turnover. Let this occur once each week for the ensuing year and the total debits at 2 per cent weekly will cancel out the credit while in that same period that $100 worth of stabilization credit, passing from merchant to wholesaler to farmer to merchant, will account for the transfer to 50,000 worth of goods and services and each merchant or farmer has enjoyed whatever his profit markup is, minus 2 per cent.

21—We propose that this method will take care of the immediate need on a matter of right basis and thus meet Governor Warren's objective and not on a dole or charity basis, which must be abhorrent to every American. We propose further that this method holds the answer to where are the orders to come from to take the place of the soon-to-end government war orders which now sustain our economy.

22—We ask bold foresight in the matter of a million or more people who will be looking for nonexistent jobs in California at war's end—people with ration books but little or no money left over.

CITIZENS' COMMITTEE FOR OLD AGE PENSIONS

527 West Eighth Street
Los Angeles, California

MARCH 18TH, 1943

To the Members of the Fifty-fifth Legislature of the State of California

Statement

For the past two years the members of the board of trustees of the Citizens' Committee on Old Age Pensions have been engaged in an active exploration of conditions surrounding the lives of old age pensioners of California. By word of mouth and by thousands of letters the senior citizens have told us of the way of their lives, not in the spirit of complaint but with the seasoned courage to meet every condition which may confront them. They have even smiled at the telling of their efforts to stretch their small incomes to win the comforts of life.

We have discussed with these senior citizens the difficulties they have met as old age pensioners and we are in possession of the facts. These difficulties do not all arise from the limited amount of pension payments. They must also carry the mental burden of worry over trying provisions of existing law. They have been harassed and even persecuted by unfeeling social welfare visitors whose sole qualifications are political pull for county appointments. The cause of old age pensions has too long been a football in the political arena of local governments. Anyone who has been in personal touch with these old age pensioners must realize the demand for a change in the administration of the law.

A Prayer

In the name of thousands of old age pensioners throughout the State we beg consideration for their present condition and action looking to their immediate relief.

We respectfully represent that 50 per cent or more of the $40 monthly income of the old age pensioners of California goes to the purchase of foodstuffs. We represent, and challenge successful contradiction, that a dollar today in California will buy not more than half as much human food as it would two years ago.

We represent that the Federal Government surplus commodity food stamps, which enabled the old age pensioners of California to purchase half as much food again with their dollar, have been withdrawn.

We represent that the ever increasing cost of living and the withdrawal of the surplus commodity food stamps, has reduced these old age pensioners of California to a starvation diet which they can not long survive.

Responsibility for their immediate relief rests with the State. This can be accomplished through urgency legislation increasing the amount of pension payments, and to take effect not later than April 1, 1943.

We pray that in the name of the people of the State of California, you share in the enactment of such legislation as a temporary measure of relief. We feel that you will do your part.

Permanent Legislation

The old age pension system of California can be put upon a humane and adequate basis through simple amendments to existing law. There is no present need to resort to any scheme for raising additional money. It is well within the ability of the State to meet larger payments for old age pensions. Governor Warren has stated that in these days people can not live on $40 a month. Then there is nothing left to do except for the State to increase its contribution to the payment of old age pensions. There is no alternative in the liberal State of California.

Sixty Dollars a Month

"We must give full consideration to the continuing advance in the cost of living and to the fact that people can not now live on $40 a month."—Governor Earl Warren.

Our study of conditions has convinced us that an old age pension payment of $60 a month should be provided. It is true that in these days of higher costs this sum will afford only a skimpy living for the modest demands of these older people, but it is to be hoped that conditions will change with the coming of peace. It is also to be considered that under changes in existing laws the old age pensioners of California who still possess the physical strength, will be permitted to augment their income by casual employment. In normal times a total payment of $60 a month is the lowest possible sum to maintain an old age pensioner in reasonable comfort and investigations that might last over years would prove nothing to the contrary.

Sixty Years of Age

"An industrial system which arbitrarily rules out productive employment because of age and irrespective of fitness must provide an honorable means of livelihood in lieu thereof."—Governor Earl Warren.

Private industry, as though by stated agreement, has adopted a rule that it will give employment to no person who is 40 years old or more. In some respects this rule has been relaxed in the quest for manpower for wartime activity, but in many of the war industries it is still strictly enforced. The same rule is frequently invoked in civil service and other governmental agencies. If it runs against a man or woman 40 years old, how much stronger must it run against a person 60 years old?

Making persons 60 years old and upward eligible for old age pensions does not necessarily mean crowding of the pension rolls. It has been proved that men and women who can obtain employment carry on as long as they are physically and mentally capable of holding their jobs. Reducing the age eligibility to 60 years merely provides for those who would otherwise be subjects of public charity and therefore adds no great burden to the taxpayers of the State.

Responsible Relatives

"Whatever the amount fixed by the Legislature, we must see that it is distributed to those entitled thereto in a manner free from red tape and humiliating delay."—Governor Earl Warren.

There is a provision in existing law in California that the sons and daughters of recipients of old age pensions can be held legally responsible for contributions toward the payment of these pensions in accordance with their ability to pay. Our research reveals that in most cases where children are able to pay they willingly support their parents and will not permit them to apply for old age pensions. In any event, this provision of law yields but an insignificant sum toward the payment of old age pensions and with the high cost of snooping by an army of welfare workers, is an added expense to the taxpayers. It has been a source of harassment and persecution both to old age pensioners and their children. It is a noxious provision of the law and should be repealed.

Administration of Counties

"It (the old age pension) must be distributed in a manner reflecting the cheerful willingness and concern of a warm hearted State."—Governor Earl Warren.

Administration of the Old Age Security Law by the county governments of the State has proved a costly mistake. It should be returned to the State, where it rightfully belongs, in order to give an even administration of the law.

Administration of the Social Security Laws by the counties has injected local politics into the situation and has built up an army of tax-eating so-called welfare visitors whose competency is measured solely by their political influence. The consequence has been petty and despotic practices on the part of many of these political favorites and has brought downright misery to thousands of old age pensioners. An even administration of the law can only be conducted through a State agency. This reform is strongly recommended.

Conclusion

Provision that the State shall grant $100 for funeral and burial expenses of old age pensioners whose estate will not take care of such expense, is simply a humane provision of law. Reissue of lost checks will prevent unnecessary hardships. Opening of records to old age pensioners or their authorized agents merely gives them the opportunity to correct faulty records.

We have outlined for the members of your honorable body the major reforms which we believe to be necessary to the establishment in California of a humane and adequate form of old age pension relief. We have made to you our prayer for immediate relief of thousands of the aged, infirm and helpless who find themselves face to face to starvation and with the fear of the morrow ever present in their hearts. We ask you to accept our testimony as the truth, and the whole truth, and to use your best judgment in the ameliorating of a condition affecting our aged citizens which can not be permitted to persist in our great and liberal State.

We beg leave to subscribe ourselves

"The Only Way to Prosperity"

California Prosperity Plan

AN AMERICAN PLAN FOR AMERICAN PEOPLE

No Obligation on the Part of the State

Self Liquidating—Self Redeeming

Prosperity for All—Poverty for None!

SECURITY A BIRTHRIGHT

PROSPERITY LEAGUE OF AMERICA

307 S. Hill Street, Los Angeles, California

California Prosperity Plan Fully Explained

Self-Liquidating Credits Offer Easy Solution

THE PREMISE

The Prosperity League of America recognizes the principle that the American Nation is not only virtually self-sustaining, but in a position to produce the necessities and luxuries of life in abundant degree for all its citizens, provided a method of enabling their distribution could be developed.

It further accepts the principle that the distribution of goods, merchandise and services has been obstructed by a slowing up of the circulation of money, and the restriction of credits, thus reducing the Nation's purchasing power.

THE PROSPERITY PLAN

It is proposed that the State, by an act of Legislature, put into immediate effect the California Prosperity Plan whereby every (American citizen) man or woman, 21 years or over, shall receive a credit in the bank of $100 each month. Such credit shall be authorized by the State of California, and shall be liquidated by a self-redeeming method described herein.

That the Governor shall appoint commissioners in the respective communities throughout the State for the purpose of registering every man and woman eligible for such credit. That upon the qualification of the applicant, the local commissioner shall issue a signed order authorizing a bank, selected by the applicant, to credit to the account of the applicant, the sum of $100 per month for a period of 48 months. The applicant may then draw upon said account by check, in any denominations up to the amount of $100, monthly.

When each prosperity credit is granted, the bank shall open up a "special prosperity account" for this purpose, in a separate ledger or set of ledgers, so that all transactions in prosperity credits can be kept separate from all ordinary cash and credit transactions. The bank will also open similar accounts for each individual, merchant, manufacturer, corporation, or any other body of men or organizations or associations, on request, so that prosperity checks accepted by them may and shall be deposited in such separate accounts.

For the purpose of writing checks, or drawing upon such prosperity bank credits or accounts, the State shall cause to be printed and issued a special red, white and blue prosperity check, form or blank. Each time a citizen shall draw upon his account, he shall be obliged to use such red, white and blue checks for that purpose, and the same applies to merchants, business firms, individuals, etc., who receive same in exchange for merchandise, services, etc.

LIQUIDATION OF ACCOUNTS

At the end of each calendar month—the bank—which is to say all the banks of the State considered jointly—shall charge each depositor 2 per cent of the total deposits or credits made during the month in his prosperity account.

But, however, this charge must be paid in ordinary credits or cash, and shall not be considered interest, commission or otherwise, but a return of principal to the State for the purpose of creating a redemption or liquidating fund.

Since ordinary credits turn over at the rate of five times per month, it can be expected that prosperity credits shall turn over at least five times monthly if not faster, since these credits will be used for spending purposes, in the purchase and turnover of consumption goods.

The banks will, therefore, collect for the account of the State each month, through this turn-over, 10 per cent of all outstanding credits, or $10 for each $100 of credit money in circulation. In 12 months, if all credits were allowed to circulate, the State would have received 120 per cent of the amount of each individual month's credit issue.

In round figures, there being approximately 4,000,000 adult citizens of 21 years and over, the State would have put into circulation $400,000,000 in prosperity credits each month.

However, to permit the assimilation of the credits by business and industry and to further permit the absorption of unemployed workers, the State would probably decide to apply its accrued collections for the liquidation of the prosperity credit accounts two or three months after the first month's issue. Millions of dollars would have been received, and these could be applied on a sliding scale to wipe out the credits.

There would be a sufficient surplus or revenue to operate the State without it being necessary to derive a single dollar through taxation of any kind, or from any other source whatever. This would eliminate all State taxes.

It would permit the State to go on a cash basis and stay there. There would be a substantial amount to apply on the State deficit. The repayment of the loans or credits would have been accomplished through a small, painless 2 per cent on transactions.

At the end of the four-year period, the State can stop issuing prosperity credits, and allow a 12 months redemption period for the credits outstanding, paying back to the last holders the full amount in ordinary cash or credit. It could then determine by a vote of the people or their representatives, whether or not it wishes to continue the plan.

During the operation of the plan, the banks would be paid as compensation for acting as depositories, a fair and equitable service charge, to be mutually agreed upon between the banks and the State.

The advantage of this plan is that it is self-liquidating. It permits the restoration of purchasing power without the necessity of the State going farther into debt in order to catch up with unemployment, and it is the only way the State can work its way out of its deficit.

Under this plan, every man or woman may earn all that he or she can in addition to his or her $100 monthly prosperity credits, for in no way will it interfere with their present or future income. The plan is not designed to supplant or disturb our ordinary credit currency system. It will not set aside or interfere with the profit system.

To be eligible for the credit, each applicant must be regularly employed, unless he or she be at least 50 years of age, an invalid, or a housewife. If the applicant is not employed, he or she shall be obliged to work for the State, at such type of employment the State shall designate. Such work will be furnished by the State, but at lesser wages than those paid by industry.

It shall be specifically understood that no one shall be compelled to work who can furnish satisfactory evidence of their incapacity or physical deformity, or anyone over the age of 50, or any married woman who has a husband or children.

But it shall be specifically understood that every able-bodied man under the age of 50 shall be expected to work, and a regular certificate of employment shall be required of the borrower each month, which shall be inspected by the commissioners in each district.

If the applicant refuses to work, he or she shall be denied the prosperity credit, which shall be a most effective penalty for preventing idleness. Those who are habitual drunkards or users of narcotics shall not be eligible for the credit until they have been cured of their habit, and their cure certified to by a city or State physician.

The plan will also be an inducement to criminals to "go straight" since they would forfeit their right to the credit through habitual criminality. Those discharged from our penitentiaries and other institutions would have a place in the scheme of things, and would not be obliged to return to their criminal pursuits in order to exist, through inability to obtain employment.

It will be impossible to hoard any of the prosperity credits, as they will incur a levy or deduction of 2 per cent each month. If, for example, your monthly credit is not spent immediately, there will be no penalty apart from this 2 per cent charge. But in this way the State is assured of always receiving a sufficient return to liquidate every dollar put into circulation. However, where the credit is put into circulation, the State receives its redemption fund much faster due to the "turnover."

The only benefit the State receives is the surplus left over, at the end of each year, which shall be used for operating the State and wiping out any existing indebtedness.

While this idea may seem almost unbelievable at first thought and too good to be true, it merely puts into application some simple, fundamental and well-known principles of arithmetic and finance, but employs to the advantage of the State and the whole people, instead of a chosen few.

Obviously the plan will make business better almost immediately, and should create sufficient jobs in ordinary business and industry for every man or woman capable or desirous of working. The State will allow each person a reasonable period of time (not exceeding 45 days) in which to find regular employment before obliging them to accept work furnished by the State, in order to promote the greatest degree of satisfaction and fitness.

This program is not merely one of "goals desired," but a specific provision of the ways and means to place into immediate operation a plan which has been analyzed and should be endorsed and approved by bankers, business men, credit houses, expert accountants, economists, advertising and merchandising experts, as it is "foolproof" in every particular.

SUMMATION OF BENEFITS

By increasing the State's purchasing power, through the medium of the self-liquidating prosperity plan, the following summation of benefits to be derived is respectfully offered as being possible of fulfillment:

A—The prosperity plan will prevent criminality, as all habitual criminals will lose their rights to receive prosperity credits.

B—It will eliminate poorhouses, as each person will receive a definite income and there will be no need for poorhouses.

C—It will eliminate charitable institutions of every kind, including welfare organizations, county hospitals, and all relief organizations.

D—It will protect thousands of girls now out of a job and in desperate need, thereby raising the moral standards of the State.

E—It will relieve all present burdens of the cities and municipalities to carry the tremendous load of taking care of those in need.

F—It will make it possible for parents now depending on their children to be self-supporting.

G—It will make it possible for children now depending on their parents to be self-supporting.

H—It will raise the present standard of living and treat all alike.

I—It will eliminate the various taxes from the shoulders of the manufacturers and producers, so they in turn can put more money into circulation and increase labor.

J—It will put the State on a cash basis and will make it possible for every man and woman to purchase the things that he or she wanted and could not have.

K—It will make it possible for anyone with a family desiring to acquire a little ranch or to build a home, to pay for it out of these monthly credits, without affecting their regular income.

L—It will increase life insurance as it will give each one the assurance that they can pay the premiums when due.

M—It will eliminate taxation, stimulate business, stabilize the State, normalize the people, and make all happy and contented, without them being obliged to "beg" for their very existence, from a State which has more wealth and natural resources than any other State in the Union.

N—It will make it possible for the farmers who have been paid to "under plow" their farms, to go back into production so that every man, woman, and child can have all they want to eat and to wear, instead of denying it to them and putting a premium on the curtailment of production.

O—It will put a premium on honesty, and a penalty on crime. It will put a premium on morality and a penalty on vice. It will start turning the wheels of industry to produce the additional items necessary to absorb the $400,000,000 placed into circulation each month.

P—It will increase marriages and encourage larger families, as everyone desiring larger families will be assured of a definite income to care for and educate these children.

Q—It will protect widows and orphans so that they will not become a charge on the State.

R—It will stabilize real estate, and fill up vacant houses, factories and office buildings. It will give a prisoner leaving the penitentiary an opportunity to start life all over again, and it will provide for his family while he is serving his sentence and paying his debt to society.

S—It will not inflate prices. On the contrary, it will stabilize them. It will save the State millions of dollars annually now paid out in interest on the outstanding obligation. It will not interfere with industry, it should increase profits of industry by removing the present tax and by increasing the volume of business at the rate of $400,000,000 per month.

T—It does not soak the rich nor the poor, but divides the burden equally and equitably. It is self-liquidating and self-redeemable through the income of 2 per cent per month from four million people revolving at the rate of five turnovers per month.

U—It will help finance wars, if necessary to protect our country, and will prevent wars by eliminating the need for them. It does not in any way interfere with the present currency, or cause any change in the present monetary system.

V—It will not affect the outstanding bonds or obligations of the State. On the contrary, it will strengthen the value of such bonds and securities.

W—It will have a tendency to eliminate radicalism, of which we hear so much lately, as radicalism is caused mainly by economic conditions that deny a man the opportunity of earning a livelihood to sustain himself and family, through no fault of his own.

X—It will protect the crippled and the homeless, help the church and the minister, support institutions, lodges, fraternities, and other organizations.

Y—It is not confined to old age or middle age. It is a plan for all of the people of this State, designed to prevent suffering and poverty in a State of plenty.

Z—Prosperity credits will not be subject to attachment or liens, judgments or any debts created prior to the issuance of the prosperity credits

What this State is in need of is a better understanding of arithmetic.

DISTRIBUTION OF INCOME AND PRODUCTION

Intelligent people who advocate "spreading" or "sharing the wealth" really mean increasing and sharing the production and income of the Nation.

By production is meant the goods, merchandise and services created by the farms, factories, mines, mills, and fisheries of the country. It also means the entertainment provided by the theatres, the services of the doctor, dentist, nurse, attorney, accountant, advertising man, etc.

A man on a desert island with a barrel of gold would be in a sad fix indeed, and would soon be willing to trade his whole barrel for a good cow, or a laying hen. If he were marooned on an ice floe, he would probably favor a fur coat, or a good boat.

These are simple, fundamental facts which we sometimes forget in our eagerness to remedy conditions as we see them about us. We forget the simple rules and tables of our arithmetic and algebra, if we do not have occasion to use them, often.

Therefore any plan to divide up existing wealth accomplishes no worthwhile purpose or permanent results, and—

We could even go so far as to say that the man who promises you to divide up the wealth of the country would also promise you a cow, if you were on the island, or the coat if you were on an ice floe. For either he is not sincere, or he is not sound. Either he seeks to win your vote, or your barrel of gold, or he has not investigated to find out if there are any cows, coats or boats in the vicinity.

If, for example, the $5,000,000,000 in money which exists in the United States were divided up, each person would receive something like $41.66. One payment on his back rent, and it would be gone. He would be as bad off as he was before.

If we decided to divide up all the property, stocks, bonds, factories, locomotives, automobiles, farms, mines, etc., while we would have a total of $300,000,000,000, thus giving each person a bookkeeping interest of around $2,400, nevertheless, to actually utilize such wealth, it would be necessary to group several families together in some of our larger residences. Others would wind up with an interest in a locomotive, or a balloon. Still others would find they had been allotted a lighthouse, or fish hatchery, or a motion picture set.

In any event, the confusion and dissatisfaction would soon offset the prospective pleasure involved, besides which it would be obviously unfair to any man or family who had worked honestly and saved thriftily.

On the other hand, to make it possible to increase our production and share it, so that every family would have an automobile, a radio, a home or farm, good food and nice clothes, entertainment, medical care and the other things people really want, is an entirely different matter.

America is capable of producing plenty for all. That fact has been expounded and explained so often and so thoroughly that there are few who even question it. We have only to recall, how, during war times, we not only produced some $10,000,000,000 worth of commodities which we presented to Europe, but we produced silk shirts for ourselves which even laboring men found it possible to possess. Economists assert that even then we were only producing at 20 per cent to 25 per cent of our capacity. Surely we remember that millions of our young men were either under arms or in the training camps, and had been withdrawn from industry.

But with all this production ability, we have been unable or unwilling to devise or adopt a method of "bridging the gap," between the manufacturer or producer, and the consumer. Through the blindness, stubbornness or unwillingness of those who have gravitated to the head of affairs in business, industry, finance and government, no specific remedy has been advanced, or if it has, it has been lost in the shuffle, side-tracked, derided, condemned, or ignored.

The California Prosperity Plan appears to be a permanent cure for all depressions. It puts purchasing power into the hands of the public at large. It will start the wheels of industry turning. It will make business good. It will make it possible for any man to patronize the doctor, practitioner, attorney, or other man or woman who has services to sell. It will bring about the exchange of merchandise, goods and services, permitting the man to exchange what he has to offer with what the other man has.

But through this plan, the result will be to distribute income—and not wealth. Production, as it is made * * * not the property that belongs to someone else.

The Depression—a Rank Failure

"The American public has been lulled into a state of insecurity. They have been slowly becoming 'depression conscious,' in a Nation of workers, and a land of plenty. Americans now realize that the depression has failed!"

The American mind is no longer willing to listen to excuses. There is a solution to every problem; beyond each dark cloud there is a silver lining; out of each abyss there is an entrance to pure sunlight. Americans have unwittingly let themselves become the slaves of the machinery they created until, like a Frankenstein monster, it has all but engulfed them. No longer are we willing to sit by and let the other fellow show us the way out. The depression is an enemy, a hideous monster that we must fight with every fiber of our being. The Prosperity League of America, has declared ruthless warfare on this arch enemy of society.

We have the most modern equipment yet devised, (in the California Prosperity Plan) with which to fight it, and with the wholehearted support of our people, we can and will "hew a path" to a land of happiness and plenty!

Pension Feature in Plan Attracts "Old Age" Workers

For those who have been working for, and advocating an old age pension plan, attention is called to the fact that the retirement of men and women over 50 at their option is an outstanding feature of the California Prosperity Plan.

Moreover, for those who feel that the injection of a new idea into the economic uproar in which the Nation is engaged at this time, will "muddy the water," it may be pointed out that if the Prosperity Plan were adopted for the sole purpose of paying an old age pension to start with, in order to acquaint the Nation with its workability, it still would have accomplished a worthwhile purpose.

It is recognized by the Prosperity League of America that many well-meaning people who do not understand the principles involved in money and credit turnover can not understand "how and where the money is coming from" to put any such plan in operation.

The California Prosperity Plan outlines the ways and means of financing any and all such constructive proposals in a manner which can be understood by all, if they will take the time to study the facts and analyze the features with an open mind.

A Dreamer's Vision

I see a Nation that is freed from slavery—a Nation where people are helpful, a country of peace—endowed with every form of contentment. Where people will live with words of love and truth. A Nation where labor reaps its full reward. Where work and worth go hand in hand. I see a country without the beggar's outstretched palm; the miser's heartless, stony stare; the piteous wail of want; the vivid lips of lies, the cruel eyes of unemployment, and the awful fear of penniless old age. I see a people without disease or pain, shapely and fair with married harmony of form and function; and as I look, life lingers, fear vanishes, joy deepens, and over all in the great dome above shines the eternal star of human hope.

WHAT OTHERS SAY ABOUT THE PROSPERITY PLAN

GENTLEMEN: At last! A workable, practical Plan and you are to be congratulated in the business-like manner in which you have gone about putting your plan before the general public.

It is so simple * * * a child could understand it.

I intend to interest my friends in your wonderful "Prosperity" ideas and I feel they will be forever grateful.

Sincerely,

MRS. W. C. JACKSON

GENTLEMEN: I have read a copy of the plan put out by the Prosperity League of America and I can not refrain from voicing a loud and lusty hurrah for the author of this amazing plan.

The Prosperity Plan is particularly interesting because it makes no discrimination because of age, sex, creed or color. Can you picture those who will stand in line for their prosperity checks?

To my mind the most notable feature of this unique idea is the fact that while theoretically a loan, it is, in the final analysis, more of a gift. After all, the countless plans and arguments that have been offered in the recent past have evidently served a good purpose. More power to the Prosperity League, who has taken up the cudgels in behalf of this worthy program.

Yours very truly,

JENNIE LINDSTROM

GENTLEMEN: I am taking it upon myself to write in and tell you how wonderful I think your plan is for it is something everyone needs and everyone can understand. If there is any way I can be of actual assistance to you in your work, please know you can count on me. I also want to subscribe to your book "The Only Way to Prosperity."

Cordially,

N. S. DAVIS

GENTLEMEN: I have read with interest a copy of the California Prosperity Plan, and have just about come to the conclusion that it is the most reasonable plan that has, as yet, been offered. Most of the plans, thus, far, have done little else but arouse my curiosity, since all meant but one thing—additional tax burdens. If the public will get behind this plan, I predict it will surely be adopted since aside from antagonizing no group or class, its greatest value is in the fact that it does not impose an objectionable and additional tax feature in order to execute it.

Yours very truly,

C. M. SMYTHE

GENTLEMEN: Congratulations! I have just read the California Prosperity Plan and wish to compliment the "Prosperity League" for taking up the cudgels in its behalf. I have had the pleasure of meeting the author, and should anyone doubt the feasibility of this "gold nugget," my advice is to meet him personally and in fifteen minutes they will be completely satisfied that he "knows his subject."

Very truly yours,

A BOOSTER

GENTLEMEN: I have read every word of your Prosperity Plan and I think it is the very thing all of us have been looking for. It is foolproof and I see no flaws in it. It is true there should be a balance and a more equal distribution of money * * * and there is certainly one way to bring this about and it is via the Prosperity Plan.

I carry several extra copies in my pocket and pass them out to friends I meet on the street. Many have phoned me to thank me. I most certainly want the book "The Only Way to Prosperity."

Very truly,

MRS. VERNE WILLIAMS

DEAR SIR: Never thought I would see the day when I actually hastened to endorse any new "idea" along a prosperity plan. I was the kind of person who sits back and says "Well, we have been running things rather well all these years; let's leave well enough alone * * *" but I am head and heels enthused over your plan!

I want to be an early subscriber to the book "The Only Way to Prosperity" and please put me at the head of the list * * * I want one as soon as possible.

Very sincerely,

MRS. NAN OGDEN

GENTLEMEN: As a staid professional man may I thank you from the bottom of my heart for the inspiration your Prosperity Plan has brought me.

I seldom enthuse. Your Plan has jogged me loose and I want to support your League a hundred per cent. I have never seen a "remedy" like yours! I prescribe it to all patients suffering from the malady known as the "poor house blues" and I want a volume of the book as well as two extra copies for two of my friends.

Yours truly,

DR. J. B. EWALD

DEAR SIR: Yes, sir! From now on I intend converting every man and woman who cross my path to your wonderful plan. It is clear and easy to understand.

I certainly intend to purchase the book "The Only Way to Prosperity" and please send it to me by mail C. O. D. I have enclosed the necessary blanks.

Thanking you again, I am,

Most sincerely,

J. C. BOTHWELL

HERE IS YOUR OPPORTUNITY TO HELP

The Prosperity League of America will depend entirely on "public support" to conduct its campaign, which is as it should be, since this is your campaign, and it should be your duty and privilege to support a program, the purpose of which is to put into operation, the California Prosperity Plan, as speedily as possible.

You have now received your primary affiliation with the Prosperity League of America. A portion of our program has been unfolded to you. There is, however, more to be unfolded, and this can be obtained only by the possession of additional literature. In the possession of this, you will necessarily learn more of our program. In order to make it possible for us to distribute additional literature and perhaps get on the radio, it will require funds and this we will accept only through voluntary contributions, from a postage stamp up. That is entirely up to you, as you are in no way obligated to contribute. Do not give until it hurts, but give until it feels good.

To anyone that will send a voluntary contribution, regardless of how small, we will send a free enrollment card, without any dues or further obligation on your part.

Do you seek advancement? Then send for your enrollment card at once

APPENDIX 9(g)

WHEREAS, The Los Angeles Chapter of the Old Aged Pensioners of California have had many and varied experiences in connection with the administration of the Old Age Security Law, as now written; and

WHEREAS, We realize a woeful need for many amendments thereto; and

WHEREAS, We have given very earnest consideration to upward of 20 bills now pending in the State Legislature, proposing one or more desirable amendments each; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this organization endorses Assembly Bill No. 660 as embodying by far, the most complete coverage of meritorious legislation of any bill yet proposed; and, be it further

Resolved, That we hopefully urge its enactment, but wish to offer for consideration amendments thereto as follows:

For the purpose of further protection for our needy aged citizens and to minimize the chances for maladministration, to the disadvantage of such citizens, we deem it necessary and expedient that the following amendments to the present Old Age Security Law, other than those included in Assembly Bill No. 660, as introduced, should be enacted by the present session of the State Legislature.

We offer some of these amendments as amending Assembly Bill No. 660 and some that might be better handled in separate bills.

Underscore herein represent insertions. "Strikes" are indicated thus:

Amend 2003 to read:

2003 This chapter shall be liberally construed and in case of doubt the applicant shall be given the benefit of such doubt.

Amend 2007 to read:

2007 Any person who, knowing he is not entitled thereto, obtains or attempts to obtain aid to which he is not entitled, or a larger amount than that to which he is legally entitled, or the payment of any forfeited installment grant, is guilty of a misdemeanor and any person who has illegally obtained aid under this chapter shall make restitution, and all actions necessary to secure restitution may be brought against him.

(Sections 2007.5, 2160 (j), 2184, 2220, 2221, 2222 and 2225 of this chapter and Sections 12 and 13 of Article XVI of the California Constitution provide every safeguard and render the omitted portion of above section useless, confusing and a source of needless investigation and expense.)

Amend 2007.5 to read:

2007.5 No person shall be denied any aid under this chapter for any transfer of his property which transfer (1) does not diminish his current resources or income or (2) does not render him ineligible under Section 2163 or 2164.

Insert the following definitions somewhere: The term "income" shall not include matter, either cash or kind, that does not contribute directly to the current support of the applicant or recipient and "casual income" shall include any income received in any month, which is not recurrent in subsequent months or does not render the person ineligible for aid under Sections 2163 or 2164 of this chapter.

(We recommend the above be added to Section 2020, or entered into Assembly Bill No. 660 instead of 2000.2, which we think should be stricken from the bill to avoid probable complications with the Federal Social Security Board.)

2015 Insert a prefix to 2015, as "added" by Assembly Bill No. 660 to make the first part thereof read: "Application forms end" a copy of all laws relating to, etc.

2180 Amend this section, as it appears in Assembly Bill No. 660 by adding: and if such statements are in accord with all the requirements for aid under this chapter, they shall constitute sufficient evidence of the applicants eligibility and aid shall be granted.

2181 Amend the last portion of this section as it was introduced in Assembly Bill No. 660 to read: The board shall immediately notify the applicant in writing of its decision, and failure to notify the applicant within the 30-day period that his application has been denied, shall be construed as approval of his eligibility as provided in Section 2180 of this code and aid shall be paid accordingly. Also in line 31 of pamphlet, page 8 strike "and" insert "any".

Amend line 22 on page 10 of the pamphlet to read: The board of supervisors shall within 10 days pay to, etc.

Immediately preceding the last paragraph of 2182 as it appears in Assembly Bill No. 660, as introduced, insert: Provided, however, nothing in this chapter shall prohibit a county from reconsidering its previous actions on any application and adjusting same in accordance with the provisions herein contained, including retroactive payments, if any be due.

- 2183 On page 11 pamphlet Assembly Bill No. 660, lines 16 to 22, inclusive, are a repetition of Section 2181. Lines 22 to 26, inclusive, are inconsistent with 2181. (Sections 2181 of Assembly Bill No. 660 and 2184 of the present code furnish ample provisions to care for the same matter, therefore, all of the second paragraph of Section 2183 should be stricken from Assembly Bill No. 660.)
 Insert as part of 2193 or as a new section: No person connected with the administration of this chapter shall dictate how any recipient shall expend the aid granted to him.
 (Copied from Section 3003 of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 5—Blind Persons.)
 Amend the last paragraph of Section 2200 of the present code to read: The county through which a recipient has been receiving his aid shall continue to pay his aid during any absence from said county not exceeding one year.
- 2221 Amend by adding: Not more than one payment shall be suspended for the purpose of such inquiry.
- 2227 Repeal and replace with Section 12 of Article XVI of California State Constitution.
 (This section (2227) appears outlawed by the constitutional amendment but is confusing.)
- (If proposed legislation to give each applicant a copy of the law is enacted the confusion would be more widespread, therefore should be repealed.)
 Unanimously adopted by Los Angeles Chapter Old Age Pensioners in regular session February 17, 1943.

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 31, 1943

Honorable Earl Warren, Governor of California
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR GOVERNOR WARREN: We, the undersigned, members of the Citizens' Committee on Old Age Pensions pursuant to your appointment under date of February 17, 1943, beg leave to submit our findings and conclusions. It is a matter of regret that we should be forced to join in a separate report, but not to do so would be an evasion of our duty to the people of California, and to you as their Governor.

Sessions of the committee were held in Sacramento on February 25th; in San Francisco on March 2d and 3d; in Los Angeles on March 11th and 12th; and in Sacramento on March 17 and 18, 1943. A concluding meeting was held in Sacramento on March 30 and 31, 1943, to review the findings of the committee and to approve the report.

In preparing this report and particularly in the finding of facts much help was had from both the State Welfare and Finance Departments. Voluminous reports with compilations as to revenues and estimates of cost of the solution of the problem before the committee were voluntarily tendered by the chambers of commerce, taxpayers associations and other related groups. However, the members of your committee, parties to this report, relied chiefly upon and were guided by the information supplied by the departments of State.

There was laid before the committee your letter addressed to the chairman, in which you state:

It seems to me that there are at least four fields for exploration by the committee.

First: The sufficiency of the present pension.

Second: The reasonableness of administrative practices of the present system.

Third: The basic question of qualification for pension.

Fourth: Forward looking legislation expressing California's objectives and committing the State to immediate action if and when the Federal Government will authorize it under its social security legislation.

We herein submit our report on the matters referred to and in the order indicated.

Sufficiency of Present Pension

We recommend that the amount of grant be increased from $40 per month to $60 per month, the State to pay the $20 increase.

This recommendation is made with the apology that the amount is inescapably below any gauge of a today's decent standard of living.

In the past a recipient of old age assistance received up to $40 per month with a bonus in the form of Federal food and cotton stamps.

This recommendation and statement of fact is made having in mind the increase in living costs and the Federal withdrawal of the allowance of food and cotton stamps.

As an index to the committee's finding as to the increase in living costs the committee went on record as believing the basis of need should be established at $75 per month.

This in itself is evidence conclusive that in the committee's own mind "needy" citizens who are unable to work could not live decently on any amount substantially less than $75.

Supporting evidence as to minimum present living costs faced by old age aid recipients was submitted to the committee by the State Department of Social Welfare in the form of a budget developing the need as follows:

Food	$15 97	Incidentals and personal needs ..	10 00
Housing	20 00	Transportation	3 00
Utilities—Electricity	1 72	Other needs
Gas	2 10
Water	1 50	Total	$64 17
Other (heat, etc.)	2 00	When meals purchased in restau-
Household operation	3 31	rants add	12 00

We note the amount allowed for food is $15.97 per month or 16½ cents per meal. It is common knowledge that the price of every basic item of food with the possible exception of bread has, since 1939, increased anywhere from 50 per cent to 200 per cent. Even according to this budget based on need the allowance for food is so low as to spell one thing—malnutrition. Sixteen and one-half cents per meal with basic food costs, excepting bread, up 50 to 200 per cent, tells the aged recipient he can not eat what he wants nor can he have what he needs. It tells him that his State which he has served will not permit him food even approaching that which it gives the inmates of its prisons. They, the offenders against the State, can and do enjoy better food cost allowance paid for by the State and not a word about what the State can or can not afford. These and numerous related facts of rising cost, including the fact that the great majority of aged recipients are unable to work or by any means able to increase the allowance by budgeting or any other device forces the parties of this report to resolutely affirm the conclusion reached that the grant be increased to $60 per month.

Relative's Responsibility

We recommend the elimination of relative's responsibility.

The need for old age aid arises, in most cases, from causes and conditions over which the aged recipient has had no control and for which he is in no way responsible. By the same token the children are in no way responsible for the system or the conditions which deprived their parents of self support. It follows, therefore, that the people, or the society, or the State permitting conditions which deprive the aged citizen of his means of self support, should be charged with the full responsibility of providing the essentials of a decent living. The Federal Social Security Law wisely and justly requires no aid from relatives—on the other hand, the present State law has been the source of much annoyance and administrative malpractice and has provoked and estranged, and in some cases destroyed, that which binds the family one to another.

We concur with the forthright statement of the Governor of the State "We must proceed upon the theory that the system which arbitrarily freezes people out of industry and declares them to be obsolete, must make honorable provision for their support during the years of their enforced idleness" * * * "I don't believe they should be forced to look to their children for support."

Age Qualification

We recommend that the qualifying age be fixed at 60 years.

It is obvious that the aged citizens' need for aid is not postponed until he is 65. Neither are the causes or conditions which brought about that need delayed in their effect until he reaches the age of 65. Neither are these conditions and their effects delayed until he is 60. It follows that the relief tendered a few years earlier than is now being given would be progress toward a real solution of the problems of those deprived of self-support.

That progress in reducing the old-age aid below age 65 should be made, and at this time, is evidenced by a report submitted to the committee by the Research Division of the State Welfare Department.

This report stated that with a 15-year residence requirement the additional case load which would result from including that group may be 25,000 persons. This is probably the lowest case load to be expected in that age bracket and the most opportune time for the picking up of this load. On the other hand the State finance is at the highest potential in years. These two factors make for the advisability of action now.

We recommend that old-age-aid be extended to include the years 60 to 64 inclusive, with a 15-year residence requirement, and that the whole of the costs pertaining thereto be borne by the State.

Qualification and Administration

1. Outside income should be allowed without deduction up to an amount which, added to the public assistance, does not exceed $75 per month, and up to this amount budgetary statements should not be required.
2. Provisions of the law respecting property eligibility in old age assistance should be amended to permit possessions of real property of an assessed value not exceeding $3,500 instead of the present limit of $3,000 in cases where a man and wife live together, and that 12 months be allowed after the death of a spouse for property readjustment. An amendment should be adopted to make allowance for cases where encumbrances on such property operate to reduce the owner's actual equity therein to less than $3,000 or $3,500 for man and wife. Personal property limit should be increased from $500 to $600 per person.
3. A duplicate warrant for a grant should be issued expeditiously when the original has been lost or destroyed.
4. The confidential file in case of dispute of a person applying for or receiving aid should be open for inspection either by himself or an authorized agent.
5. The present county administration and State supervision should be continued.
6. The statutes should be revised and rules and procedures should be simplified so that applicants for and recipients of aid will not be harassed or humiliated.
7. Medical, dental and clinical care should be furnished by county administering aid.
8. Attorney fees and court costs, in case of court decision in favor of the applicant or recipient of aid, should be borne by the State.

9. No advisory county welfare board should pass upon any application for aid, but it must be passed upon directly by the Board of Supervisors. Provision should be made to give 30 days' notice to applicant or recipient to appear and show cause why the board's action is unsatisfactory. The right to appeal to the State Social Welfare Board shall not be impaired.

10. The committee recommends the passage by the Legislature of Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12.

11. We are in general accord with the report submitted by the sub-committee.

12. Congress should be memorialized for a revision of the Federal Social Security Act in respect to (1) contributions by the Federal Government to the States by making the ratio 2 to 1, (2) age requirements be reduced to 60 years, and (3) outside income up to $15 a month be allowed.

Long Range Planning

Any plan looking ahead and extending over an indefinite period of time must function with the least interference with the economic structure and with no impairment of free enterprise and with the least interference with the operative processes involved within the social structure.

In other words every principle, method and plan that has proved its worth or its value over a period, must be preserved.

At the same time the obsolete, the tried and failed, the ceased to serve methods and practices, must be set aside.

The inescapable fact that the aim of human security has not been achieved must be faced and the problem it presents, solved. There must be planned and provided some means by which the slack and the tension of the recurring breakdowns in our economic life must be met. There must be had some device or the employment of some means that will adjust itself and will respond to existing need—something that will yield itself to just what is required and at the time the need arises.

The parties to this report, directing their efforts to a complete solution of the problem of pensions as a right, suggest for serious consideration a gross income tax plan, a self-liquidating credit plan operated by the banks, or such other answers to the requirements as could have their founding and beginning in the State of California.

SENATE CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

No. 12

INTRODUCED BY SENATORS TENNEY AND SHELLEY

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE ON WELFARE AND INSTITUTIONS

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 12—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of the State by adding Article XVIa thereto relating to pensions.

Resolved by the Senate, the Assembly concurring, That the Legislature of the State of California, at its Fifty-fifth Regular Session commencing on the fourth day of January, 1943, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of the Legislature voting therefor, hereby proposes to the people of the State of California that the Constitution of the State be amended by adding Article XVIa thereto, to read:

Article XVIa

Pensions

Section 1. The Legislature shall have power to provide for the payment of pensions to disabled or aged citizens of the United States who reside in this State, and who have such qualifications in respect to age, length and place of residence, property holdings, and income, as the Legislature may prescribe. The Legislature shall have power to provide by taxation the necessary funds for the payment of such pensions, whether such pensions are paid by the State, or by the Federal Government and the State jointly.

Sec. 2. If the Federal Government establishes a uniform Nation-wide retirement system of old-age pensions for citizens of the United States not less in amount than the pensions provided by the State of California, such National pensions shall be in lieu of the State pension provided pursuant to this article; but if a National pension is provided in an amount less than the amount of the pension provided by the laws of the State of California, the Legislature shall provide for the payment of the difference between the amount of the National pension and the amount of the pension provided by State law, such payments to be administered and the conditions of eligibility thereof to be as provided in this article.

Sec. 3. No applicant for or recipient of a pension shall be denied a pension because of the property holdings or income of any other person, whether child, spouse, or other relative, of the applicant or recipient, or because of any provision of law requiring any such relative to support the applicant or recipient, or because of the financial ability of any such relative to support the applicant or recipient.

Sec. 4. Any recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article shall be permitted to own, hold, or convey to others real estate, cash, or other personal property in such amount as the Legislature shall provide, without thereby becoming ineligible to receive the pension.

Sec. 5. Any recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article may receive remuneration for his labor or services, or rentals of property owned by him, in any amount provided by the Legislature, without thereby becoming ineligible to receive the pension.

Sec. 6. Any legislation providing pensions pursuant to this article shall be administered by a department established for that purpose, which shall be separate and distinct from any agency or organization engaged in the administration of laws governing the distribution of public or private charity. Any citizens' pension provided pursuant to this article shall be deemed a right accorded to citizens by virtue of their status as citizens, and the receipt thereof shall never be considered as an act of indigency or pauperism, nor shall any legislation granting such a pension be deemed to be nor administered as legislation providing aid to indigents or paupers.

Sec. 7. No pension granted to a citizen under legislation pursuant to this article shall be terminated except by the death of the pensioner, nor shall the amount of any such pension be reduced, until the pensioner has been granted a hearing before a court of record in the county in which he resides, and accorded full opportunity to defend his right to continue to receive the pension in the amount which has been granted.

Sec. 7.5. Any applicant for or recipient of a pension provided pursuant to this article who feels that he has been discriminated against by reason of any ruling by any administrative officer or body empowered by law to administer laws enacted pursuant to this article shall have the right, upon cause shown, to obtain a writ of review from any court of record in the county in which he resided at the time the action complained of occurred, and to have the question or questions judicially determined and proper relief granted.

Sec. 8. No grant of a pension to an aged person, or the enjoyment of a pension, shall create the relationship of debtor and creditor between a pensioner and the State of California, or any political subdivision of the State, save where the pension has been obtained by fraud. When a pension has been obtained by fraud, action may be maintained against the recipient, in such manner, and the person who obtained the pension fraudulently shall be subject to such penalties, as the Legislature may provide.

Sec. 9. No action shall be hereafter maintained in any court of the State of California against any person for the recovery of any sums heretofore or hereafter paid as a pension pursuant to this article, or as old-age assistance, except to recover such pensions or such assistance obtained by fraud.

Report of Subcommittee on Improvement of Administrative Practices

MARCH 30, 1943

*Mr. Ralph T. Fisher, Chairman, Governor's Old Age Pension Committee
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. FISHER: Your Subcommittee on Improvement of Administrative Practices would suggest points of correction in the law that the administration of the so-called Old Age Pension in California might be more dignified and humane. In order to accomplish the task we have been given, we have gone into minute detail and considered section by section the Social Welfare Code.

- (1) Inasmuch as the State Social Welfare Board administers a very large department, it is our opinion it should be a full time board.
- (2) The members of the board should be compensated on a full-time basis and their terms should be staggered so that no one Governor could control the board.

- (3) Much severe criticism was presented to the general committee regarding the activities of social workers and it is our opinion that there is room for much reform in this department in administering old age assistance.
- (4) Every applicant shall be given an itemized report setting forth the amount of deductions, if any, made from his grant
- (5) Any new rules and regulations shall be filed with the Secretary of State 30 days prior to effective date, and copies shall be available to people upon request.
- (6) The State department should be given authority to try social workers accused of maladministration or order the case to be tried before the State Personnel Board, and if found guilty the State shall have the power to suspend the social worker for a reasonable period of time, and after two such suspensions the employee may be dismissed.
- (7) The unnecessary language in Section 2180 of the Welfare and Institutions Code should be stricken out and the section should be made to read as follows:
 "Application for aid under this chapter shall be made to the board of supervisors of the county in which the applicant resides. An applicant may apply in person or the application may be made by another in his behalf. This application may be made in writing or reduced to writing upon the standard form prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare, and a copy of his application shall be furnished to each applicant at the time of application. The form shall contain questions, the answers to which will provide the information necessary to establish eligibility for aid under this chapter. All statements in the application shall be verified, under oath, by the applicant."
- (8) The clause pertaining to insurance policies shall be so worded that no insurance policy may be valued at more than its present cash value to the recipient, and premiums on insurance policies may not be deducted from the recipient's award—no matter by whom paid.
- (9) Personal effects include clothing, furniture, household equipment, foodstuffs, and fuel, and shall not be considered as personal property, and the assessed value shall be considered in both real and personal property and then only net values after deductions of all encumbrances.
- (10) Trust deeds should be considered as mortgages, and not as personal property, in the matter of determining eligibility bearing on personal property.
- (11) Applicant's affidavit shall be deemed prima-facie evidence, and the county give 30 days' time in which to investigate and to affirm or deny the application.
- (12) Payments shall begin as of the first day of the month following date of application.
- (13) The county board of supervisors may reconsider previous denials, eliminating necessity in those cases of appeal to the State board, and must upon written request of the applicant hold a public hearing to determine the sufficiency of the application
- (14) A transcript of the hearing shall be made and the cost borne by the department.
- (15) The present provision of the law should be amended to provide that the applicant may reapply when the condition which resulted in his application being rejected has been eliminated.
- (16) Add language to Section 2003 to read: "In case of doubt the applicant shall be given the benefit of the doubt."
- (17) In Section 2005 after the words, "other suitable home," add the words: "of his own choosing."
- (18) In Section 2008 add this language: "Any applicant or recipient of aid under this chapter, and any person connected with the administration of such aid, or other person, who knowingly violates any provision of this chapter for which no penalty is specifically provided, is guilty of a misdemeanor."
- (19) In Section 2009 provide "that the public designation of any building or place used for aid under this chapter may not make any reference to charity or indigency."
- (20) Require that the State or County Welfare Department shall mail a copy of any bulletin, policy rule or the law itself to any recipient upon demand.
- (21) In Section 2160 provide under "F"—"that free board and lodging supplied to an applicant, because of his necessity, by a friend or relative who is not responsible for his support, shall not be grounds for refusing aid."

- (22) Any place of abode of recipient or applicant, whether it be a house, boat, trailer, or other habitation, shall be deemed to be real estate for the purposes of this act.
 - (23) All means of determining eligibility filed by applicant on affidavit before a judge of the superior court, shall be deemed to be sufficient evidence, in the absence of other factual data.
 - (24) Add "that no person connected with the administration shall dictate how the recipient shall spend the aid granted to him."
 - (25) Provide that all offices used for administration shall easily be accessible to the aged or maimed, and shall be either on the ground floor or served with an elevator and operator.
 - (26) Provide that absence from the State, not in excess of 90 days of any calendar year, shall not be considered evidence to establish residence elsewhere, nor to interrupt receipt of aid.
 - (27) Estates shall not be considered until they are available to the client for occupation or use, or until an income is available therefrom to the client.
 - (28) Provide an urgency clause for immediate passage of enactment.
 - (29) Provision should be made for the simplification of the responsible relatives affidavit form; for instance, a very brief initial form could be sent to the relative for the purpose of determining whether that relative has an income in his or her own right. This relates to the married daughter, primarily. Unless the married daughter has a separate income she shall not be required to make relatives' contributions. If the answer indicates a separate income, then a more elaborate form could follow.
 - (30) The committee should recommend that the state department review all present requirements of the State and counties governing the complete operation of the application and renewal process, and that anything of an unnecessary nature be eliminated.
- Respectfully submitted.

Hon. Earl Warren, Governor, State of California
Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: The members of your state-wide committee appointed to study pensions are submitting to you both a majority and a minority report and recommendations.

Throughout the deliberations of this committee there was general, common agreement on most all points which you recommended that a study be made. The only general difference of opinion was on the following points:

1. Amount to be paid recipients.
2. Age at which payments should begin.
3. Whether relatives should contribute.

There was general agreement that the actual minimum need under present conditions was $65 to $75 per month. There was general agreement that there are a great many people below age 65 unable to secure employment and maintain themselves, especially in normal times. There was general agreement that the requiring of relatives to support recipients was very unsatisfactory and created much unhappiness and required much investigation by welfare workers, so often referred to as "snooping"

In spite of this general agreement that all three of the above major items were necessary to achieve your objectives as stated by you on several occasions and in your letter to the committee, several members voted against making these recommendations. The only reason these members offered for so doing was that the taxpayers could not pay the necessary taxes and that these increased benefits to our senior citizens would bankrupt the State. They took this position despite the fact that at no time did you ask this committee to investigate and recommend ways and means to finance a broadened old age assistance program. It seems to me, that function properly belonged to your "tax committee" and not to your "pension committee."

Why these pension committee members were so worried about the taxpayers and so little interested in the desperate condition of hundreds of thousands of our senior citizens, I can not understand.

They all knew well that you have indicated pensions should be paid as a "matter of right" and that they should be available without property qualifications and relative responsibility and in amounts to insure a decent American standard of living. Everyone knows no one can exist on $40 per month, or $50 per month, under present costs. Fifty dollars today will buy much less than $40 would a short time ago. In addition the food stamps have been discontinued, further reducing the income of the senior citizens and increasing their problem of existence. I ask you and the members of the Legislature of our great State, what are these pensioners—these fathers and mothers—to do? How can we deny them these simple and just needs in the face of such a large treasury surplus and which is rapidly increasing? How can we deny them the little they ask when we increase all State employees' salaries and travel expenses and we improve conditions for other groups? Why are they forgotten and neglected? Why are they left in such miserable poverty, want and distress with all of the unhappiness that follows? Is that their just reward for what they have given?

Governor Warren, the people of California believed you meant what you said about the needs and rights of our senior citizens and that the pension issue should be taken out of politics. I still think you are sincere in wanting to solve this great problem practically and fairly for all of our people. You have a great responsibility and also a great opportunity. It is to boldly face the issue as outlined in the enclosed suggested recommendation, a copy of which I delivered to you personally several weeks ago. I can not urge you too strongly to study this simple, equitable and practical proposal with an open mind. It is no idle theory! It has been proven beyond a question. We must not overlook its great possibilities, not only for meeting this pension issue fairly and practically, but to establish a system of taxation on a "pay-as-we-go" basis—taxing according to our ability to pay. It is so simple and equitable and could supplant the red tape and innumerable kinds of taxes we now have. It would raise large sums of money to meet all of our legitimate public needs. Think what such a system would mean for all of us, not only in California! Think of the value of keeping a large amount of money in circulation. Think of the happiness that would follow when all able persons could be assured employment and the aged and physically unfit would be assured the means to maintain themselves. Are not these objectives worthwhile? Think what it will mean if we of California can prove such a system which would be applied to meet our national problems to carry and liquidate the national debt.

I feel certain you will realize these opportunities. If you will assume leadership and take action to put this program into effect, you will render the highest service to our State, our Nation and to all people.

I am also enclosing a copy of Senate Bill No. 974, introduced by Senator Donnelly at my request. A close study of this bill will reveal how such a program as I am recommending could be initiated and operated. It may be desirable to add a section to this bill providing for a certain number of years' residence in California. It may also be advisable to start with a lower rate of premium for a test period of a year. These are details, but the basic principles are provided for in the attached copy of suggestion to you and in Senate Bill No. 974.

Please give these your most serious and careful consideration. There is so much at stake. Unless some such program can be developed to establish a plan of equitable, simple taxation on a pay-as-we-go basis and we make adequate provisions for support of our senior citizens, and provide jobs for our people able to work, there is a dark future ahead for all of us. Dissatisfied people are driven to follow radical leaders and programs. If we want to avoid this and take the pension issue out of politics, provide security and justice, we can not fail to take some such action as is herein recommended. I hope that you will see the wisdom of these constructive proposals and act boldly and promptly. Tomorrow may be too late and we will again have to admit that we did "too little, too late."

Yours for a better day in our Grand U. S. A.
P. S. If I can be of service, command me.

JOHN C. CUNEO

C. A. "CAPPY" RICKS, MAYOR

CITY OF MARTINEZ

April 4, 1943

The Honorable Earl Warren, Governor of California
Sacramento, California

DEAR GOVERNOR WARREN: I beg leave to submit the following as a dissenting report from a member of your Committee on Old Age Pensions. I signed one report with the following reservations:

One half of the Committee recommended and of $50, paid as follows:
65 years, Federal $20, State $20, Counties $10.

One-half of the committee has recommended aid of $60, paid as follows:
 65 years: Federal, $20; State, $20; Counties, $20.
 60 years: Federal, none; State, $60; Counties, none. I do not subscribe to either plan. I recommend:
 65 years: Federal, $20; State, $35; Counties, $5 and 60 years: Federal, none; State, $35; Counties, $5, until Federal adds to its aid or cost of living is lowered.

Relatives Responsibility

I am against relatives responsibility on account of the necessity of "snooping" and irritation to in-laws in families. It has no place in a pension system. But California has aged aid system on a basis of need instead of pensions. Case load increases in States where no relatives responsibility is demanded makes me hesitate on going all the way now on abolishing relatives responsibility. A compromise would be a new scale of requirements from relatives and less stringent investigation of relatives by department employees

State and Counties Participation:

The State has a wide basis of taxation possibilities. The county has real estate only. The State should take over all the load until the Federal Government does the right thing.

Lack of State funds is no excuse. The sales tax should not be lowered from 3 per cent to 2½ per cent until all aged are fed and housed. Postwar nest eggs should not be provided when aged are in need. The spectre of returning soldiers in the distant future should not be considered as important as caring for the old folks right now. The soldiers will well be able to take care of themselves when that time arrives. I believe the average soldier would rather have the surplus spent on his parents now than to save it for public works for his benefit after the war.

I hope the Legislature will not conform to the usual practices of cutting down recommendations. I believe that $53 now will not establish the same standard of living as the old folks had in 1941. We were informed that if the Legislature were to raise the aged aid $10 that only a portion of the present case load would get the full $10. Investigators would cut down added payments according to the "need" of the case.

I am against all State aid and State pensions and believe it is entirely a problem of the Federal Government.

Sincerely,

CAPPY RICKS

MY DEAR MR. FISHER: Please be advised that the undersigned jointly concur on the compromised report as submitted by the Citizen's State-wide Committee on Old Age Pension, under date of March 31, 1943. However, this is not to be misconstrued as meaning that we have entirely disregarded the former joint stipulation as submitted on March 17, 1943, which in principle embodied Assembly Bill No. 660, but that we temporarily set this matter aside for reason that after careful consideration and study of all statistical, financial and factual matter submitted, together with the division of committee on said bill; we can do nothing other than to admit the inadvisability of forcing the issue at this time.

It is our sincere belief that under the circumstances the compromised report will to some extent bring about the desired effect in solidifying the committee and in receiving the necessary support of the Governor and the Legislature, which in our opinion is another successful step in advancing the Old Age Security Law and a further step towards complete liberalization, of which we still feel can only be ultimately accomplished by the enactment of legislation, similar to, or as embodied in Assembly Bill No. 660.

The undersigned want it known however, that they will not subscribe to any grant which is less than that stipulated in the above-mentioned compromised report, under date of March 31, 1943.

In conclusion may we request that this letter be made part of said report.

On page 1 of said bill, strike out lines 4 to 15, inclusive, and insert "512. War Emergency Speed Limit. Whereas, during the present war emergency it is necessary to conserve tires on motor vehicles until such time as additional supplies of rubber are obtained; and whereas, this Legislature has determined that the reduction of speed of motor vehicles is necessary to conserve motor vehicle equipment, including tires, now in use until the emergency is past; and whereas, Federal agencies have directed that motor vehicles shall not be operated at speeds in excess of thirty-five (35) miles per hour, and Federal agencies have called upon State Governments to provide means for the enforcement of said directive imposing a thirty-five (35) mile per hour speed limit, unless and until otherwise changed; now, therefore, this measure to restrict the speed of motor vehicles is deemed essential to the maintenance of motor vehicle transportation and successful prosecution of the war.

Notwithstanding other provisions of this code, no person shall operate or knowingly permit the operation of any motor vehicle within this State at a rate of speed in excess of thirty-five (35) miles per hour, subject to the exceptions and unless and until said maximum speed limit is changed as hereinafter provided.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to: (a) any motor vehicle driven or operated by or under the direction of the military or naval forces of the United States or State military forces organized pursuant to Section 61 of the National Defense Act, as amended; (b) any motor vehicle when driven or operated in an emergency for the protection or preservation of life, health, or for public safety.

Nothing herein shall be deemed to increase any applicable speed limit prescribed by this code.

Whenever the Governor of this State, after investigation, finds and determines that a different limitation on speed than that above provided is permissible or is required to accomplish the necessary conservation of rubber or to facilitate or maintain necessary motor vehicle transportation either with respect to all vehicles on highways or any particular classes thereof, he shall proclaim such different limitations on speed with reference to vehicles or specified classes thereof, which shall thereupon become the speed limitations of this State. In making such investigation and determination the Governor is hereby directed to consider the findings and recommendations of any and all Federal agencies concerned with the problem of rubber conservation, and in no event shall he proclaim a speed more restrictive than that specified by Federal laws, rules, regulations, directives or orders, it being the intention that so far as possible the regulations so adopted shall conform exactly to such Federal laws, rules, regulations, directives or orders.

This section shall remain in effect only until the cessation of hostilities in the present war in which the United States is engaged, as declared by the President or the Congress of the United States, or until such time as there is no Federal law, rule, regulation, or order, civil or military, regulating the speed of vehicles throughout the United States, whichever date is the earlier.

SEC. 2. This act is declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The Federal Government has found it necessary as a war measure to restrict the speed of highway vehicles throughout the Nation for the purpose of conserving rubber. There are no present available facilities with which the Federal Government may enforce such order, and it is necessary to the war effort that the State, in order to enforce such order, immediately adopt the restricted speed limits called for by the present emergency so as to provide an efficient enforcement thereof. It is, therefore, provided that this act take effect immediately."

COMMUNICATIONS

By the Chief Clerk:

The following communications were received and, upon motion of Mr. Sam L. Collins, ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION

*Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature Assembly, Assembly Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: We acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 18th, transmitting a copy of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 38, adopted by the California Legislature on March 16, 1943, calling attention to the necessity for making ample provision for the performance of services essential to the caring for the dead.

We call your attention to the provisions of Section 7706 (j) of Ration Order 5C which establishes eligibility for preferred mileage for embalmers rendering necessary services in connection with the preparation for interment of deceased persons, provided such embalmers are licensed by the appropriate government authority.

Preferred mileage is also established in subdivisions (a) and (1) of the same section for permitting ministers and certain other religious practitioners to perform their duties in connection with the burial of the dead.

Undertakers generally may obtain occupational mileage to a limit of 470 miles per month for a private passenger car used in connection with their duties. We believe that these provisions make adequate mileage available for the purposes covered by the resolution of the California Legislature. The matter has received very careful study by this office and will continue to be investigated if it appears that changes are necessary in the regulations to take care of the matter satisfactorily.

We can assure you that we are in entire agreement with the views expressed in the resolution of the Legislature as to the necessity of providing proper gasoline rations for those things in connection with the caring for the dead which can only be taken care of through the use of private passenger automobiles.

Sincerely yours,

PRENTISS M. BROWN, Administrator

*The Honorable Arthur A. Ohnimus
California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 27th enclosing a copy of House Resolution No. 139 and also receipt of your letter to The President which has been forwarded to this office.

The resolution of the California Assembly is being given our most respectful attention. The Poultry and Egg Section has been making a very exhaustive study of the fundamental factors of prices and costs appropriate to the various producing areas of the United States. Every effort should be made to maintain maximum prices for poultry which follow a consistent pattern for the whole United States. Regional differences can be recognized, but they should be such as not to cause undue disturbance in other areas.

To meet the California situation and still maintain a uniform system has been a knotty problem. Emphasis has been placed on the fact that California is separated by a natural barrier from contiguous regions. The natural barrier does not prevent the spreading of information, however. Other areas are already pointing out that they too have special conditions justifying a concession similar to that granted the West Coast.

It is our purpose to prepare an amendment in the near future which we think will embody in principle most of the suggestions contained in the Assembly resolution. Meanwhile, the regional order is meeting the California situation reasonably satisfactorily. This belief on our part is borne out by all the official figures at our command. For example, only a very small percentage of the leghorn chicks are being destroyed. The latest survey reports less than 5 per cent. Some destruction would probably be normal under the most favorable production conditions. Only three hatcheries reported any destruction, and they were all in the same locality.

We assure you of our solicitude for the well-being of the California poultry industry and for the whole food program.

Sincerely yours,

PRENTISS M. BROWN, Administrator

MY DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of March 15th, enclosing copy of the Assembly Journal of March 9th, containing an editorial from the San Francisco Examiner and the remarks of Assemblyman Ralph C. Dills regarding the "Food Shortage Created by Bureaucratic Rule."

I read the Journal with sympathetic interest, and you may rest assured these problems are having my constant thought.

*Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: In answer to your letter honoring me with the opportunity of speaking before the California State Legislature, I regret to inform you that as much as I should like to do so, it will be impossible for me to do so. The Commanding Officer in recently refusing a similar request for my services to a Los Angeles group, stated that the sole aim of the Sixth Ferrying Group was the delivery of airplanes.

In view of the fact that Colonel Spake has not mentioned your request up to this time, I feel that it precludes any possibility of appearing before you. I feel deeply honored by your kind invitation, and it would be my personal desire and pleasure to accede to your request.

Very truly yours,

LIEUTENANT JAMES C. WHITTAKER

Explanation of Vote

Four Assembly bills—Nos. 876, 879, 883, and 884—have been cunningly and legally tied together so that the defeat of one means defeat of all.

This bill provides for but one-half per cent reduction in the sales tax, which is inconsequential in comparison to substantial reductions for those in the high income brackets.

Under the circumstances I believe all should be defeated together, hence my "No" vote.

5.725a. Not later than 15 days after the effective date of this act in 1943, and on or before the tenth day of April in any subsequent year, the governing board shall, by resolution, designate the employees to whom it proposes to grant emergency leaves of absence, and shall serve notice of such action, and a copy of such resolution, on each of the employees so named, in the manner provided by Section 5.651 of this code.

5.725b. If, within 15 days after service of such notice, the employee files with the board a protest against the proposed action of the board, with a written statement of his reasons therefor, the board shall grant him a hearing, which shall be public or private at the option of the employee. At the hearing, evidence of all pertinent facts relating to the qualifications and competency of such employee shall be heard and considered.

5.725c. Within 30 days after service of the notice, in 1943, and on or before May 15th in any subsequent year, the board shall grant to each employee on whom such notice has been served and who has not protested, or whose protest has been overruled, an emergency leave of absence, effective at the beginning of the next school year, which leave of absence shall entitle the holder thereof to accept other employment.

5.725d. The provisions of this article shall apply to all employees who are classified as permanent and, at the discretion of the board, may apply also to all employees classified as probationary or substitute.

5.725e. Emergency leaves shall be granted in the inverse of the order in which the employees affected were employed in their respective classifications, provided that:

a. The employee is qualified and competent to serve in a subject field in which service is required by the district.

b. No such notice may be given to a permanent employee while a probationary, substitute, any other employee with less seniority of service, is retained to render a service which said permanent employee is qualified and competent to render, and, in districts where the provisions of this article are extended to probationary teachers, no probationer may be given notice while a substitute is similarly retained.

c. An employee shall be deemed qualified and competent to serve in any subject field which is the same as the one in which he was originally employed to serve, or to which he has been assigned for more than one school year within the past seven years. The board also shall consider other evidence showing such qualifications and competence.

d. Subject to the foregoing, in junior colleges, other than those maintained in unified school districts, employees in any subject field shall be placed on emergency leave of absence in the inverse of the order of their employment therein.

5.725f. The board shall make assignments and reassignments in each subject field in such way that employees shall be employed to render service which their seniority and qualifications, as defined in this article, entitle them to render.

5.725g. For the purposes of this article, governing boards shall establish seniority rankings of all certificated employees under their jurisdiction and shall keep the same as a public record. Seniority shall apply from the date upon which an employee first accepted employment in other than a substitute or temporary position in said district, or in any district any part of which has become a component part of the employing district, if said employee was transferred to the employing district's pay roll at the time of the transfer of territory to the employing district.

5.725h. In areas in which two or more districts have the same governing board, when any school or part thereof shall have been transferred from one district to another within the jurisdiction of the said governing board, seniority shall date from the original acceptance of employment in the school or part thereof so transferred.

5.725i. If any certificated employee in a district to which this article applies shall request such an emergency leave of absence, and if no substitute would be required for such employee during his absence, the governing board shall grant the same with all of the benefits in this article provided

5.725j. With the employee's consent, the governing board may grant part time emergency leaves.

5.725k. The provisions of this article shall apply to employees on leave of absence as well as to those actively employed.

5.725l. Should any certificated employee of a district to which this article applies have been dismissed in accordance with the provisions of Article 7 of this chapter since January 1, 1943, such employee shall be granted an emergency leave of absence, as provided in this article, in lieu of such dismissal.

5.725m. All rights and privileges of employees under emergency leaves of absence shall continue until two years after hostilities in such war have ceased.

5.725n. If, within such period, it becomes necessary to employ additional employees in said district, in positions requiring certification qualifications, for either full or part time, employees on emergency leave shall have preferred right to reappointment in the inverse of the order in which they would have been placed on leave had the board granted all leaves in accordance with the provisions of this article, and with no requirements for reappointment that would not have been imposed had they continued in service, but any such employee may waive his right to reemployment at that time, without prejudice.

5.725o. Any employee who has been given an emergency leave who has reached age 60, and who is credited with at least 25 years of service in the California State Teachers' Retirement System, may elect either to accept said emergency leave or to retire and receive such allowance as is given by said system to members retired for disability.

If such an employee is also a member of a district retirement system and chooses to retire, he shall receive the benefits to which his membership in the district system shall then entitle him; provided, that if he then shall have completed the number of years of service required for disability but not for service retirement, then for the purposes of this article, he shall be deemed to be incapacitated for further service and shall receive such allowance as is given by the said district system to members retired for disability.

5.725p. In the case of any employee who is a member of either the State or a district retirement system and who is given emergency leave as provided in this article, his rights under said retirement system during such leave or upon resumption of service entitling him to membership in either or both of such systems shall remain as they were at the time he was granted such leave; provided that

a. The period of such absence shall not count as part of the service required for retirement thereunder;

b. Such absence shall not be construed as a break in the continuity of service;

c. Any credit for prior service under the system shall not be affected by such absence.

5.725q. Whenever the date of expiration of any credential or certificate granted to certificated employees under this code occurs while the holder thereof is on emergency leave, such credential or certificate is hereby continued in force until two years after the cessation of hostilities in said war.

13716. Any employee who has been given an emergency leave who has reached age 60, and who is credited with at least 25 years of service in the California State Teachers' Retirement System, may elect either to accept said emergency leave or to retire and receive such allowance as is given by said system to members retired for disability.

If such an employee is also a member of a district retirement system and chooses to retire, he shall receive the benefits to which his membership in the district system shall then entitle him; provided, that if he then shall have completed the number of years of service required for disability but not for service retirement, then for the purposes of this article, he shall be deemed to be incapacitated for further service and shall receive such allowance as is given by the said district system to members retired for disability.

13717. In the case of any employee who is a member of either the State or a district retirement system and who is given emergency leave as provided in this article, his rights under said retirement system during such leave or upon resumption of service entitling him to membership in either or both of such systems shall remain as they were at the time he was granted such leave; provided that

- a. The period of such absence shall not count as a part of the service required for retirement thereunder;
- b. Such absence shall not be construed as a break in the continuity of service;
- c. Any credit for prior service under the system shall not be affected by such absence.

13718. Whenever the date of expiration of any credential or certificate granted to certificated employees under this code occurs while the holder thereof is on emergency leave, such credential or certificate is hereby continued in force until two years after the cessation of hostilities in said war.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Due to conditions arising out of war, many pupils will be compelled to leave school; the number of teachers required will thereby be temporarily decreased; under the present law, governing boards have no recourse but to discharge many teachers whose services in normal times are of great value to the districts, and notice thereof must be given immediately; discharge of such a large number of teachers would be demoralizing to the public schools; in order to provide an orderly means for dispensing with the services of teachers during such emergency without the necessity of wholesale dismissals, and assuring, as far as possible, their return to service when required, a means of providing emergency leaves of absence must be established, and this bill is intended to accomplish such purpose."

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted and re-engrossed.

Upon request of the board of supervisors of any county, the department may expend money that otherwise would be apportioned to that county from the Motor Vehicle Fund, for salaries and wages of crossing guards in that county, and such expenditure shall be deducted from that county's share. SEC 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Crossing guards are primarily used for the protection of children from vehicular traffic on main arteries. Unless this act takes effect immediately and makes money available for the salaries and wages of crossing guards, no money will be available for the purpose, and in the absence of such guards the lives of many children will be endangered"

The normal rates of contribution of each member, who is also a fish and game warden, shall be based on his age at January 1, 1944, or at his later entrance into the Retirement System, and his age when he entered warden service, both ages being taken to the next lower completed quarter year. The age at entrance into warden service, if said entrance was prior to January 1, 1944, shall be determined by deducting the total of such service credited to the member at January 1, 1944, from his age at that date. The normal rates of contribution of each such member who entered warden service at or below age 45 shall be such as, on the average for such member, if his service on full salary be uninterrupted and when accumulated with regular interest, added to the equal accumulated contributions of the State and applied according to the tables adopted by the board will provide a retirement allowance upon retirement for service at the age of 60 years, or upon completion of 20 years of warden service at an age higher than 60 years, equal to one-half of his final compensation, less that part of the retirement allowance set forth in Section 83a, which is to be provided by contributions of the State on account of service rendered prior to January 1, 1932, if such member affirmatively exercises the option in Section 65h; otherwise, less a pension calculated in the same manner as the pension in Section 83a, but on the basis of warden service rendered by him prior to January 1, 1944. If such member entered warden service at an age greater than 45 years, then his normal rate of contribution shall be such as will provide an average annuity at age 65 equal to one-eightieth of his final compensation, according to tables adopted by the board, for each year of warden service after January 1, 1944, or after entrance into the Retirement System if he affirmatively exercises the option in Section 65h.

SEC. 6. Section 65g is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 65g. If a member ceases to be a fish and game warden and continues to be a member of the Retirement System in a different employment status, or if the reverse be true, then the accumulated contributions standing to his credit or re-deposited by him shall remain in his individual account, and the rate of his contribution thereafter shall be the normal rate provided herein for persons in his new group or class of employment and at his then attained age.

SEC. 7. Section 65h is added to said act, to read:

SEC. 65h. The rates of contribution provided for in Section 65c for fish and game wardens shall apply on and after January 1, 1944. Each such warden, however, shall have the option, to be exercised on or before December 31, 1944, of contributing a sum sufficient to make the amount of the accumulated contributions standing to his credit on that date, the same as such amount would have been had he been contributing at the rate, from and after the effective date of his membership in the Retirement System, which would have applied to him at such effective date if said rates for fish and game wardens had been then in effect. If such option is affirmatively exercised, then the rate of contribution for such warden on and after January 1, 1944, shall be based on his age at such effective date and his age at the date of entrance into warden service.

SEC. 8. Section 78 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 78. From and after January 1, 1933, until January 1, 1937, every member shall be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of 75 years. Every employee of the university who becomes a member, and who, at the time of becoming such member has attained the age of 70 years, shall be retired forthwith. On or after January 1, 1937, every member who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol or a fish and game warden or a city policeman or city fireman, and who [at that time] has attained the age of 65 years shall be retired forthwith, and thereafter every such member must be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of 65 years. On and after January 1, 1937, every member other than one who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol, or a fish and game warden or a city policeman or city fireman, who at that time has attained the age of 70 years, shall be retired forthwith, and thereafter every such member other than one who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol or a fish and game warden or is a city policeman or city fireman must be retired on the first day of the calendar month next succeeding that in which he attains the age of 70 years.

SEC. 9. Section 79 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 79. Upon attaining the age of 60 or more years and completing 20 years of continuous State service credited under this act, among which must be included one year of service after becoming a member of the Retirement System, any member, who is not a member of the California Highway Patrol, a fish and game warden, or a city fireman or city policeman, shall be retired upon his written application to the board.

A member who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol or is a fish and game warden and who has completed 20 years of continuous [State Highway Patrol] service credited under this act and attained the age of 50 or more years shall be retired upon his written application to the board.

A city fireman or city policeman who has completed at least 20 years of continuous State service credited under this act, and who has attained at least the minimum optional retirement age, which shall be not less than 55 years or more than 60 years, specified in the contract provided by Section 38c, in lieu of 60 years required of other members, shall be retired upon his written application to the board. Any member, other than members employed by a contracting city [and], members of the California Highway Patrol, and fish and game wardens, who is separated from State service because of a curtailment of such service or a change in the manner of performing such service, but not because of resignation or dismissal under charges, and who has attained the age of 50 years and is credited with 15 or more years of State service, shall be retired upon his written application to the board; provided, said board determines said separation to be of an extended and uncertain duration, and not the separation normally experienced by members in positions known at the time of employment to be of limited duration or employed on a seasonal or intermittent basis.

SEC. 10. Section 83 of said act is amended to read:

SEC. 83. An additional pension, purchased by the contributions of the State, for members other than members of the California Highway Patrol, fish and game wardens, persons who are employees of the university at the time of becoming members, and members employed by a contracting city. Such additional pension shall be equal to one-seventieth of the average annual compensation earnable by him during the three years ending December 31, 1931, multiplied by the number of years of prior service credited to him, except that if a member retires before attaining the age of 65 years, the additional pension shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pension computed as provided in this paragraph as deferred to age 65, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

SEC. 11. Section 83a of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 83a. An additional pension for members who are also members of the California Highway Patrol, or who are fish and game wardens, purchased by contributions of the State. Such additional pension shall be the same percentage of his final compensation, regardless of his age at retirement, for each year of Highway Patrol or warden service, as the case may be, rendered by him prior to January 1, 1932, as the contributions of the member and the State are calculated to provide upon retirement for service at 60 years of age or upon completion of 20 years of service at an age higher than 60 years or upon retirement with less than 20 years of service at age 65, for each year of such service after said date.

If a member retires before attaining the age of 60 years, the additional pension shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pension computed as provided in this section as deferred to age 60 will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

SEC. 12. Section 101 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 101. No modification of the benefits provided herein shall be made on account of any amounts payable to a beneficiary, as defined herein, under Division 4 of the Labor Code, except that the portion of any retirement allowance or death allowance which is provided by contributions of the State or of a contracting city and which is payable by the Retirement System because of the death or retirement of any member of the California Highway Patrol or of any city policeman or city fireman, or the retirement of any fish and game warden, as a result of injury or illness arising out of and in the course of employment, shall be reduced in the manner hereinafter described, by the amount of any benefits, other than medical benefits, payable to or on account of such member under Division 4 of the Labor Code, because of his death or the disability resulting in his retirement.

If said benefits under Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with said allowance hereunder and shall be due the beneficiary in payments which are equal to or less than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then said portion shall be reduced each month by the amount of said benefits so due during said month, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such reduction than if the Retirement System had never existed.

If said benefits under Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with the allowance hereunder and shall be due to the beneficiary in payments which are greater than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then payment of said portion shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of said benefits paid, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the Retirement System had never existed.

It is the purpose of the preceding paragraphs of this section to reduce the portion of the retirement or death allowance payable from the Retirement Fund and which is provided by contributions of the State or by a contracting city, by the amount of benefits, other than medical benefits, due to the beneficiary concurrently with said portion, under Division 4 of the Labor Code, and the payment before due date by the commutation through compromise or otherwise of such benefits shall not prevent the reduction of said portion, as provided in this section, in the amounts which would have been payable concurrently with the retirement allowance in the absence of such commutation.

If any benefits, other than medical benefits, shall have been paid under Division 4 of the Labor Code because of a permanent disability concurrently with payments of wages or salary, to said beneficiary, then payment of said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of such benefits paid because of the permanent disability, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the Retirement System had never existed. Said benefits which are payable for time during which salary is not paid and prior to the effective date of the retirement or death allowance, shall not be considered hereunder.

If an injury, known to result in the retirement of and/or the death of a member of the California Highway Patrol or a fish and game warden, or of a city policeman or city fireman, is the proximate consequence of the act of a person other than his employer, the Retirement System shall have the right to recover from said person an amount which shall be the actuarial equivalent of the benefits for which it shall be liable because of said injury and/or death, and said right shall be determined under the provisions of Chapter 5 of Part 1, Division 4 of the Labor Code. Any claim in favor of the Retirement System, now pending or which shall arise under this paragraph, may be settled and compromised, and the proceeds of such settlement and compromise shared between the Retirement System and said retired employee, or person entitled to benefits under the Retirement System because of the death of said employee, in such amounts as may be recommended by the President of the Board of Administration, and approved by the Attorney General. Said Retirement System may join with the employer and/or its compensation insurance carrier in any proceeding under said section, and any amount recovered by any of the parties shall be applied first on the amounts which the employer or its insurance carrier shall have paid or become obligated to pay, and second, on the amounts which the Retirement System shall have paid or become obligated to pay.

Amounts by which retirement and death allowances are reduced and amounts recovered from third persons under the provisions of this section shall be paid by the Retirement System to the Motor Vehicle Support Fund, or any other fund out of which the compensation of [members who are also members of the California Highway Patrol] the member is paid, or to the contracting city in the case of a city policeman or city fireman.

Sec 13 Section 109 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 109. In addition to such payments from the General Fund, there shall be paid monthly, from and after the date this act takes effect into the State Employees' Retirement Fund (1) out of the Motor Vehicle Support Fund, or any other fund out of which the compensation of members who are also members of the California Highway Patrol is paid, a sum equal to 13 40/100 per centum of the total compensation paid from said fund to members of the Retirement System who also are members of the California Highway Patrol, or which would have been so paid in the case of members electing to continue and continuing their contributions under Section 47 of this act and absent with the armed forces of the United States, (2) out of the Fish and Game Preservation Fund or any other fund out of which the compensation of members who are also fish and game wardens is paid, a sum equal to ----- per centum of the total compensation paid from said fund to members of the Retirement System who also are fish and game wardens, or which would have been so paid in the case of members electing to continue and continuing their contributions under Section 47 of this act and absent with the armed forces of the United States, and (3) [and] out of said Motor Vehicle Support Fund and every other fund directly controlled by the State, out of which the compensation of members is paid, a sum equal to 3 75/100 per centum of the total compensation paid members, other than members of the said Highway Patrol and fish and game wardens, of the Retirement System from the said fund, or which would have been so paid in the case of members electing to continue and continuing their contributions under Section 47 of this act and absent with such armed forces. All such payments, whether heretofore or hereafter made are hereby validated and confirmed. If any fish and game warden shall affirmatively exercise the option in Section 65h, the Controller shall transfer into the State Employees' Retirement Fund from the Fish and Game Preservation Fund upon certification by the Board of Administration of the total compensation received by said member for service as a member of the Retirement System rendered prior to January 1 1944 ----- per centum of said total compensation. The Board of Administration shall certify to the State Controller at the end of each month the total amount of compensation paid such members of the Retirement System from each such fund, and the total amounts which would have been paid members absent with such armed forces and electing to continue and continuing their contributions under Section 47 of this act, if they had not been so absent, and the State Controller shall thereupon transfer the percentages as specified in this section, of said total amount from each such fund, respectively, to the "State Employees' Retirement Fund."

SENATE BILL

No. 974

INTRODUCED BY SENATOR DONNELLY

January 30, 1943

REFERRED TO COMMITTEE ON REVENUE AND TAXATION

An act to raise revenue and to provide for the payment of annuities therefrom.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The term "gross income" means the gross receipts of the taxpayer received as compensation for personal services and the gross receipts of the taxpayer derived from trade, business, commerce, or the sale of tangible or intangible property and including interest, dividends, discounts, rentals, royalties, fees, commissions, bonuses, or prizes or any other emoluments however designated and without any deductions on account of the cost of property sold, the cost of materials used, labor employed, taxes, royalties, interest or discount paid, or any other expenses whatsoever.

SEC. 2. When used in this act the term "wages" means all remuneration for employment, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash.

SEC. 3. The term "State Welfare Board" means the present State Welfare Board of the State of California.

SEC. 4. The term "property" means real and/or personal property and includes stocks, bonds, and choses in action. It includes also any right, interest, or estate whatsoever in such property.

SEC. 5. The term "persons" or "companies" shall include every individual, partnership, society, unincorporated association, joint venture, group, joint-stock company, corporation, trustee, executor, administrator, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust or other entity, whether doing business for itself or in a fiduciary capacity, and whether the individuals composing it are residents or nonresidents of the United States and whether the corporation or other association is created or organized under the laws of the United States or of another jurisdiction.

SEC. 6. The term "California," when used in a geographical sense, means all areas in the State of California; and the term "employee" includes an officer of a corporation.

SEC. 7. In addition to all other excises, duties or taxes, there shall be levied, collected, and paid a premium of 2 per cent of the gross income of all persons or companies derived from any and all sources, over and above one hundred dollars ($100) for each calendar month. Such one hundred dollars ($100) shall be deducted monthly if received as wages or salary, and may be deducted on quarterly, semi-annual or annual basis if derived on any other basis.

SEC. 8. The premiums imposed by this act shall be collected by the State Welfare Board and shall be paid into the treasury of the State of California and allocated to a special fund solely for the purpose of this act.

SEC. 9. The State Welfare Board may distrain any goods, chattels, or intangibles, represented by negotiable evidences of indebtedness, of any premium payer who is delinquent under this act, for the amount of all premiums, penalties and interest accrued and unpaid hereunder.

SEC. 10. The State Welfare Board shall be empowered to designate the manner and place for filing returns and payment of premiums, and shall provide such forms and instructions as may be necessary for the proper administration of this act.

SEC. 11. The premiums shall be computed on the total gross income of all persons and companies at the end of each calendar month, and a complete return must be filed with the State Welfare Board before the twentieth day of the calendar month following the month in which the premium accrues, unless no premium is due under the exemptions as provided in Section 7.

SEC. 12. All remittances of premiums imposed by this act shall be made to the place designated by the State Welfare Board on or before the twentieth day of the second month after they accrue; such returns shall be verified by the oath of the premium payer if an individual, or by oath of an officer or director, if made in behalf of a company. If made in behalf of a partnership, firm, society, unincorporated association or group, joint venture, joint-stock company, corporation, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust, or other entity, any individual delegated by such partnership, firm, society, unincorporated association or group, joint venture, joint-stock company, corporation, trust estate, decedent's estate, trust or other entity shall make the oath in behalf of the premium payer. If for any reason it is not practical for the individual premium payer to make the oath, it may be made by any duly authorized agent, who shall then be held entirely responsible for the correctness of such return.

SEC. 13. If the premium payer shall make any error in computing the premium assessable against him the State Welfare Board shall correct such error, reassess the proper amount of premium and notify the premium payer of its action by mailing to him promptly, by registered mail, return receipt requested, a copy of the corrected assessment, and any additional premium for which such premium payer may be liable shall be paid within 10 days after the receipt of such notice.

SEC. 14. If the amount already paid exceeds that which should have been paid on the basis of the premium so recomputed, the excess so paid shall be immediately refunded to the premium payer by the State Welfare Board out of the funds collected under this act. The premium payer may, at his election, apply an overpayment credit to premiums subsequently accruing hereunder.

SEC. 15. If any person having made the return and paid the premium as provided by this act feels aggrieved by any assessment so made upon him for any specified period by the State Welfare Board, he may appeal from said assessment by filing a petition in the manner provided by law.

SEC. 16. The State Welfare Board shall enforce the payment of the premiums required by this act to be paid, and shall promptly deposit in the State treasury all moneys received by it through or from the collection of such premiums.

SEC. 17. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the following persons: (1) Fraternal benefit societies, orders, or associations, or for the exclusive benefit of the members of the fraternity itself, operating under the lodge system, and providing for the payment of death, sick, accident, or other benefits to the members of such societies, orders, or associations, and to their dependents or beneficiaries; (2) corporations, associations, or societies organized and operated exclusively for non-profit, religious, charitable, scientific, or educational purposes; (3) business leagues, chambers of commerce, labor organizations, boards of trade, civic leagues, and other similar organizations operated exclusively for the benefit of the community and for the promotion of social welfare, and not for commercial trading in any form, and from which no profit inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual; (4) hospitals, infirmaries, and sanatoria, from which no profit inures to the benefit of any private stockholder or individual; (5) amounts received under life insurance policies and contracts paid by reason of death of the insured; (6) amounts received under property-insurance policies; (7) amounts received by any person under any accident-insurance or health-insurance policy or contract or under workmen's compensation acts or employer's liability acts, as compensation for personal injuries, death, or sickness, including also the amount of any damages or other compensation received, whether as a result of action or by private agreement between the parties on account of such personal injuries, death, or sickness; (8) amounts received by any person as compensatory damages for any tort injury to him, or his character or reputation, or received by any person as compensatory damages for any tort injury or destruction to property, whether as the result of action or by private agreement between the parties; except amounts received by any person as punitive damages for tort injury or breach-of-contract injury; (9) amounts received by any person as a benefit payment so-called or like payments by virtue of acts passed by the Congress of the United States relating thereto and disbursed to others as such benefit payment; but the State Welfare Board may by regulation require any such deductions to be set forth specifically by the taxpayer in his return; provided, however, that exceptions, (1) to (9) inclusive, shall apply only to the gross income received from nonprofit activities.

SEC. 18. It shall be unlawful for any person to refuse to make any returns provided for in this act; or to make any false or fraudulent return, or false statements in any return with intent to defraud the State of California, or to evade the payment of the premium imposed by this act or any part thereof; or for any person to aid or abet another in any attempt to evade the payment of the premium imposed by this act or any part thereof; or for any officer or director of any company to make, or permit to be made, or any company, corporation, association, or other legal entity to make any false return, or any false statement in any return required by this act, with the intent to evade the payment of any premium hereunder. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a felony, and, upon conviction, shall be fined not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or by imprisonment not exceeding 10 years, or both. In addition to the foregoing penalties, any person who shall knowingly swear to or verify any false or fraudulent return, or any return containing any false or fraudulent statement, shall be guilty of the offense of perjury, and, on conviction thereof, shall be punished in the manner provided by law. Any corporation for which a false return, or a return containing a false statement, shall be made, shall be guilty of a felony and shall be punished by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000). If the premium imposed under this act is not paid when due, there shall be added as part of the premium, interest at the rate of one-half of 1 per cent per month, from the date the premium became due until it is paid.

SEC. 19. There is hereby created an account of the treasury of the State of California to be known as the General Welfare Account, hereinafter referred to as the "account." There are hereby authorized to be appropriated annually amounts equal to the estimated revenue derived under this act. On the twentieth day of the month succeeding the month in which this act is enacted, and on the twentieth day of each calendar month thereafter, there shall be credited to the account a sum equal to the amount of revenue to be collected under the provisions of this act, as indicated by the returns filed during the preceding calendar month. Such sums shall be available for making the payments as hereinafter provided. The State Treasurer shall submit annually to the State Welfare Board an estimate of the appropriations to be credited to the account.

SEC. 20. Amounts estimated by the State Treasurer to be necessary for monthly expenditures in the administration of this act shall be deducted from amounts credited to the account each month. The remaining amount credited to the account for each month shall be prorated and paid monthly to each qualified annuitant for the first month after the amounts are credited to the account, except that no payment shall exceed one hundred dollars ($100) for any one month. Any surplus remaining in the account after the maximum monthly payments are made to each such annuitant shall be applied toward the liquidation of the State debt, if any exists, until the State debt is paid, after which it shall go into the General Fund of the State.

SEC. 21. Every citizen who is 60 years of age or over, and every physically incapacitated person unable to sustain himself, shall, upon filing an application under oath as hereinafter provided, be entitled to receive an annuity payable in monthly installments during the remainder of his life, or until he is physically able to sustain himself.

SEC. 22. (a) The annuity shall be spent within California for goods or services (except gambling), giving preference to commodities grown, produced, or manufactured within California and for services rendered by citizens of the United States in the State of California.

(b) Each installment of the annuity shall be spent by the annuitant within 30 days of the time of its receipt.

(c) An annuitant shall not engage in any occupation, business, or other activity from which a profit, wage, or other compensation is realized or attempted, except that nothing in this act shall be construed to prohibit an annuitant from collecting interest, rents, or other revenues from his own investments. No annuitant shall support an able-bodied person in idleness except a spouse. No annuity shall be paid to any person for any period that such person is forcibly confined in a penal institution or an institution for mental incompetents, and no person shall be entitled to an annuity when released, until a new application is approved for him.

(d) Any annuitant may waive all or any part of his right to an annuity under this act by filing a notice thereof with the State Welfare Board in such manner as it shall prescribe. Any such waiver shall not affect the right of any person to apply for an annuity at any time thereafter.

(e) Any sum received by an annuitant which represents the proceeds of a sale of any real property acquired through the use of money received as an annuity under this act shall be expended by the annuitant within six months after the receipt of such proceeds of such a sale.

(f) An annuitant shall not pay to any person any salary, wages, or other compensation in disproportion to the services rendered.

(g) It shall be the duty of each annuitant while receiving an annuity to pay his just obligations for purchases, rents, or services rendered, and to pay at least 10 per centum of any monthly installment on just obligations incurred before such annuitant received any money under this act.

(h) Each annuitant shall covenant and agree in his application for an annuity to comply with all the provisions of this act and all rules and regulations prescribed by the State Welfare Board to carry out the provisions of this act

SEC. 23. (a) Payments of the amounts due to each annuitant under this act shall be made at regular monthly intervals so that the payments will be in the possession of each annuitant as near the first day of each month as possible

(b) The State Welfare Board shall furnish application blanks and other necessary forms to their branch offices, for distribution to persons who wish to apply for benefits under this act.

(c) Applications for annuities and any returns required to be made by an annuitant may be filed in local State Welfare Board offices and forwarded by them to the State Welfare Board. Welfare Board employees designated by them and notaries public shall have power to administer oaths where required under this act and may collect a fee of twenty-five cents ($0.25).

SEC. 24. (a) State Welfare Board is authorized and directed to prescribe such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

(b) The State Welfare Board is hereby empowered to call upon other departments or agencies of the State to aid in the administration of this act.

(c) The State Treasurer is also empowered to make adjustments with respect to the time in which installments shall be expended in case payments to any person may have been delayed and there is an accumulation of two or more installments.

SEC. 25. The right to receive any payment under this act shall not be transferable or assignable, at law or in equity, and none of the moneys paid or payable or rights existing under this title shall be subject to execution, levy, attachment, garnishment, or other legal process, or to the operation of any bankruptcy or insolvency law.

SEC. 26. Whenever any person, in an application or when making a payment under this act knowingly or wilfully makes a false statement of a material fact, or fails or refuses to obey any rule, or regulation, issued by the State Welfare Board under this act, or violates any provision of this act, shall be prosecuted by the Attorney General in the court in the county in which the offense occurred, and upon conviction the annuitant shall forfeit for the remainder of his life one-fourth of the annuity to which he would otherwise be entitled each month, but shall suffer no other penalty, regardless of the number of counts on which he was convicted. Upon a subsequent commission and conviction for such misdemeanor he shall forfeit an additional one-fourth of the annuity to which he would otherwise have been entitled, for a third conviction, another one-fourth, and for a fourth conviction he shall forfeit entirely his right to any annuity under the terms of this act.

SEC. 27. All acts or parts of acts in conflict with the provisions of the act are hereby repealed to the extent of such conflict.

SEC. 28. Any person who accepts an annuity under this act shall not be entitled, for any period that such annuity is received, to any pension, unemployment insurance, or other benefit to which he would otherwise be entitled under State law.

SEC. 29. If any part of this act is held to be unconstitutional, it shall not affect the validity of any other part of this act.

A Suggestion for Governor Warren and His Tax and Pension Committees

1. That present State tax programs be continued for one year with such minor changes as may be thought necessary for efficiency and equity.

2. That State surplus be held intact for the one-year period.

3. That a reasonable State pension plan be adopted, "as a right," payable to all citizens 60 years of age and over. As soon as the war ends, recipients to retire from gainful employment. The money for this purpose to be raised by a 2 per cent gross income tax on all business as now levied in Hawaii. The amount to be paid to be a pro rata share of money available after payment of operating expenses each month. The rate of tax and the minimum age to be raised or lowered by Governor and a committee, within certain limits, as conditions warrant.

At the end of a year after the 2 per cent gross income tax plan has been in operation we will know how successfully it operates and how much money will be available. At that time, if the results justify, a gross income tax plan can then be adopted with a rate high enough to absorb most all other forms of State taxes. The State surplus could then be allocated to the best advantage at that time. By lowering, or raising, the age requirement, the problem of unemployment should be under control. With a flexible rate of tax, the State could be on a "pay-as-we-go" basis and we would tax according to the ability to spend and at a time when the taxpayer has the money—MONTHLY, as sales are made. This plan need not interfere with the present old age assistance grants. The pro rata amounts available each month would apply on the assistance now paid to senior citizens each month and when such amount exceeds the sum they are now eligible to, they would automatically go off the old age assistance rolls.

Advantages of Transactions, or Gross Income Tax

1. Simpler—one tax, one report. No complicated formulas with deductions and additions.
 2. More equitable. Collect the tax according to the ability to receive and as received.
 3. On "pay-as-you-go" basis. No bonds issued or interest to pay.
 4. Flexible. As costs rise, the revenue rises proportionately.
 5. Governing body has full facts on kind and amount of business being done in area.
 6. Taxpayer sees what he pays. Taxes not hidden.
 7. With flexible rate, within limits prescribed, changing conditions can be met promptly without need for further legislation.
 8. Keeps money in circulation. No large amount in treasury like on annual tax plan.
 9. More people pay taxes, but more equitably. Raises more money.
 10. Disadvantages—None known.
- Respectfully submitted.

(COPY)

TERRITORY OF HAWAII, BUREAU OF THE TAX COMMISSIONER
HONOLULU, T. H., January 18, 1943

Mr. Jno. C. Cuneo
Modesto, California

DEAR MR. CUNEO:

I am sending under separate cover two copies of the Gross Income Law. It is still working wonders for us. Regardless of whether it is used for pensions, it should be a Federal law. It's the solution of the tax problem due to its simplicity and the fact that it will produce the revenue for the war effort.

The gross income has more than doubled our receipts from that source. In fact, it has jumped from an estimated five million to over 14 million in a biennium. California needs this type of tax. So does the United States of America.

Sincerely,

W. BORTHWICK, Tax Commissioner

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Lyon:

The following communication from the Legislative Counsel was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 14, 1943

Honorable Charles W. Lyon, Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

VOTE ON TAX MEASURES

DEAR MR. LYON: You have asked us if it is necessary that there be two separate roll calls in connection with the passage of a bill which is to take effect immediately because it provides for a tax levy or an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State.

We assume that you have reference to clauses which are substantially in either of the following forms:

"This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately."

"This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately."

It is our opinion that a separate roll call is not necessary on either of the above quoted clauses when included as a section in a bill.

The requirement of a separate roll call on an urgency measure is restricted to the type of urgency measure that is enacted as such because it is necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety. Such a section contains a statement of the facts deemed by the Legislature to constitute the necessity.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By SIDNEY L. WEINSTOCK, Deputy

We thank Thee for the unspeakable gift of Thy Son to be the Way and Truth and Life. Our hearts would flow in ceaseless praise for

Never doubted clouds would break,
Never dreamed, though right were worsted, wrong would triumph,
Held we fall to rise, are baffled to fight better,
Sleep to wake."

PRAYER

Our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for the wonders of Thy creation.
The heavens declare the glory of God and the firmament showeth Thy handiwork.
We thank Thee for the lessons which our Master taught, the lilies of the field, arrayed in beauty surpassing human imitation and the sparrow that can not fall to the earth without the concern of a Heavenly Father.

We thank Thee for Thy bountiful provision for our every need and for Nature's constant inspiration :

"The harp at nature's advent strung
Has never ceased to play ;
The song the stars of morning sung
Has never died away
So nature keeps the reverent frame
With which her years began ,
And all her signs and voices shame
The prayerless heart of man."

AMEN

"CHAPTER 2. CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL RESPONSIBILITY LAW

405. Powers and Duties of Department.

(a) The department shall administer and enforce the provisions of this chapter.

(b) The department is hereby authorized to adopt and enforce such regulations as may be necessary for the administration of this chapter.

(c) Any person aggrieved by an order or act of the department under the provisions of this chapter, may maintain a proceeding for review by the courts, as provided by law, but the commencement of such proceedings shall not suspend the order or act unless a stay thereof shall be allowed by said court pending final determination of the review.

406. Grounds Permitting Revocation or Suspension.

Upon any reasonable ground, appearing on the records of the department, the department may suspend or revoke the operator's or chauffeur's license of any person or may refuse to issue to any such person any new or renewal license or to register in the name of such person any motor vehicle unless and until such person gives proof of financial responsibility as hereinafter provided.

407. Proof Required Upon Certain Convictions.

(a) Whenever the department suspends or revokes the operator's or chauffeur's license of any person under the provisions of Sections 304, 307 or 308 of this code, the department shall also suspend any and all registration cards and license plates issued for any motor vehicle registered in the name of such person except that such evidence of registration shall not be suspended in the event such owner has previously given or shall give and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility.

(b) Such suspension or revocation shall remain in effect until terminated as elsewhere provided for under this code and not then until such person gives proof of financial responsibility.

(c) Reversal on appeal of any conviction because of which any license or registration has been suspended or revoked shall entitle the holder to restoration thereof without proof of financial responsibility.

(d) For the purposes of this chapter, a plea of guilty, or a judgment of guilty whether probation is granted or not, or a forfeiture of bail, constitutes a conviction of any of the crimes mentioned in Sections 304, 307, or 308 of this code.

408. Report Required Upon Accident.

(a) Every person operating a motor vehicle which is in any manner involved in an accident, anywhere within the boundaries of this State, in which any person is killed or injured, or in which damage to the property of any one person, including himself, in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25), is sustained, shall immediately report the matter in writing to the department. If such operator or chauffeur be physically incapable of making such report and there be another occupant in the vehicle at the time of the accident not incapacitated, such occupant shall make or cause to be made such report immediately. If the operator or chauffeur involved in such accident be physically incapable of making such report, the owner of the motor vehicle involved in such accident, if such owner be not involved in such accident or incapacitated, shall as soon as he learns of the fact of such accident immediately report the matter to the department together with such information as may have come to his knowledge relating to such accident. Every person required herein to make such reports shall make such other additional reports as the department shall require.

(b) Failure to report an accident as herein provided or failure to give correctly the information required of him by the department in connection with such report shall be a misdemeanor and shall constitute a ground for the suspension or revocation of the operators or chauffeurs license or all evidences of registration of a motor vehicle, or of both, or such person.

(c) In the case of a nonresident the failure to report an accident as herein provided shall constitute ground for suspension or revocation of his privileges of operating a motor vehicle in this State and of the operation within this State of any motor vehicle owned by him.

409. Following Accident, Security and Proof Required.

(a) Ten days after receipt of a report or notice of an accident which has resulted in bodily injury or death, or in damage to the property of any one person in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25), the department shall suspend the license of any person operating and the registration cards and license plates of any person owning a motor vehicle in any manner involved in such accident unless and until such operator (or chauffeur) or owner or both shall have previously furnished or immediately furnishes security sufficient, in the judgment of the department, to satisfy any judgment or judgments for damages resulting from such accident as may be recovered against such owner or operator (or chauffeur) by or on behalf of any aggrieved person or his legal representative and until such owner or operator (or chauffeur) or both shall immediately furnish and thereafter maintain proof of financial responsibility.

(b) The preceding section shall not apply:

(1) To such owner or operator or chauffeur if, at the time of such accident, with respect to such motor vehicle, there was in effect a standard provisions automobile liability policy in form approved by the Insurance Commissioner and issued by an insurance company authorized to do business in this State or, if such motor vehicle was not registered in this State, or was registered elsewhere than in this State at the effective date of the policy, or the most recent renewal thereof an automobile liability policy acceptable to the Insurance Commissioner as substantially the equivalent of such standard provisions automobile liability policy;

(2) To such operator or chauffeur, if not the owner of such motor vehicle, if there was in effect at the time of such accident such a policy with respect to his operation of motor vehicles not owned by him, or, if such motor vehicle was a private passenger vehicle, with respect to his operation of private passenger motor vehicles not owned by him, or

(3) to such owner or operator or chauffeur if the liability of such person for damages resulting from such accident is, in the judgment of the department, covered by any other liability insurance policy issued by an insurance company authorized to do business in this State or by a bond, provided every such policy or bond mentioned herein must be in the same amounts as is herein provided for a motor vehicle liability policy of insurance.

(c) Upon receipt of notice of such accident, the insurance carrier or surety company which issued a policy or bond as required by subsections (1), (2) and (3) hereof shall furnish for filing with the department a written notice that such policy or bond was in effect at the time of such accident.

(d) In case any such operator or chauffeur or owner has no license to operate issued under this code or no motor vehicle registered in his name in this State, he shall not be issued any license or registration until he has complied with the chapter to the same extent as would be necessary if he had held an operator's or a chauffeur's license and a motor vehicle registration issued under this code at the time of the accident.

(e) The provisions of this section shall not apply to the owner of a motor vehicle operated at the time of the accident by one having obtained possession or control without his express or implied consent or to either the owner or operator of a motor vehicle involved in an accident wherein no damage or injury was caused to other than the person or property of such owner or operator

409.1. Form of Security to be Required.

(a) The security required by Section 409 subsection (a) of this code shall be in such form and in such amount as the department may require, but in no case in excess of the amount of proof required by Section 417 of this chapter.

The department may reduce the amount of security ordered in any case within six months after the date of the accident if, in its judgment, the amount ordered is too large. In case the security originally ordered has been deposited, the excess deposited over the reduced amount ordered shall be returned to the depositor or his personal representative forthwith, notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (c) of this section.

(b) Such security shall be deposited by such person with the State Treasurer who shall determine the sufficiency of such security in accordance with the amount specified by the department and shall issue and shall notify the department in writing of such deposit.

(c) Such security shall be applicable only to the payment of a judgment or judgments against the depositor for damages arising out of the accident, for which a deposit of security was required by this code, in an action at law in a court of this State begun not later than one year after the date of such accident; and such deposit, or any balance thereof, shall be returned to the depositor or his personal representative whenever, after the expiration of such year, the department shall be given reasonable evidence to believe that there is no such judgment unsatisfied

409.2. Confession of Judgment.

(a) In lieu of deposit of security when required, pursuant to the provisions of Section 409 of this code, the motor vehicle owner or operator or chauffeur may, if the person who has sustained bodily injury, including death, or damage to his property, or his legal representative consents, effect and deliver a confession of judgment for such amount and payable when and in such installments as the judgment creditor may agree to do.

(b) In the event the judgment debtor fails to pay any installment, then upon notice of such default the department shall suspend the license, and registration cards and license plates of the judgment debtor until such judgment is satisfied as provided in this chapter.

(c) In no case shall such confession of judgment be used in lieu of proof of financial responsibility required pursuant to the provisions of this code.

409.3. Termination of Suspension

(a) The suspension required in Sections 409 and 409.2 shall remain in effect and the motor vehicle in any manner involved in such accident shall not be registered in the name of the person whose license or registration was so suspended and no other motor vehicle shall be registered in the name of such person nor any new licenses issued to such person

(1) unless such person complies with the requirement with respect to furnishing security, or

(2) unless and until he has obtained a release, or a judgment in his favor in an action at law to recover damages resulting from such accident or

(3) unless he shall have satisfied in the manner herein provided any judgment rendered against him in such an action,

(4) and in any event gives and thereafter maintains proof of financial responsibility.

(b) However any person whose license or registration has been suspended pursuant to Section 409, whether or not he has furnished security and proof of financial responsibility, shall be relieved from furnishing and maintaining proof of financial responsibility if one year has elapsed since the date of the accident and he has neither paid nor agreed to pay anything for damages resulting from such accident and no suit for damages because thereof has been brought against him, or if a suit was brought, it resulted in a judgment in his favor, and he is not required to furnish or maintain proof of financial responsibility for some reason other than for having been involved in such accident. In such case, the fact of having been involved in such accident shall not bar the issuance of license and registration to such person

410. Proof Required in the Event of Certain Judgments.

(a) The department shall suspend the privilege of any person to operate a motor vehicle upon a highway or the operator's or chauffeur's license issued to him evidencing such privilege, and the registration cards and license plates issued for all motor vehicles registered in the name of such person, upon receiving a certified copy of a judgment as hereinafter described, and a certificate of facts relative to such judgment, on a form provided by the department, indicating that such person has failed for a period of 30 days to satisfy any final judgment rendered against him in amounts and upon a cause of action as hereinafter stated

(b) The judgment herein referred to shall mean any judgment in excess of twenty-five dollars ($25) for damages because of injury to or destruction of property, including loss of use thereof, or any judgment for damages, including damages for care and loss of services, because of bodily injury to or death of any person arising out of ownership, maintenance, use, or operation of any motor vehicle, except any judgment based upon statutory liability by reason of signing the application of a minor for an operator's or chauffeur's license.

(c) The judgment hereinbefore referred to shall mean a final judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction of this or any other State, or of the District of Columbia, or of the United States, or of any province of Canada, against a person as defendant upon a cause of action as hereinbefore stated

410.1. Bankruptcy. A discharge in bankruptcy following the rendition of any such judgment shall not relieve the judgment debtor from any of the requirements of this chapter.

410.5. Duty of Courts to Report Judgments. The clerk of a court or the judge of a court which has no clerk, shall forward to the department a certified copy of any judgment or a certified copy of the docket entries in an action resulting in a judgment for damages, and a certificate of facts relative to such judgment, on a form provided by the department, the rendering and nonpayment of which judgment requires the department to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license and registrations in the name of the judgment debtor hereunder, such document to be forwarded to the department immediately upon the expiration of 30 days after such judgment has become final and when such judgment has not been stayed or satisfied within the amounts specified in this chapter as shown by the records of the court.

411. Relief from Suspension Upon Failure of Insurer to Pay Judgment. Any person whose operator's or chauffeur's license or registration has been suspended, or is about to be suspended or shall become subject to suspension under the provisions of this chapter, may relieve himself from the effect of such judgment as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter by filing with the department an affidavit stating that at the time of the accident upon which such judgment has been rendered he was insured, that the insurer is liable to pay such judgment, and the reason, if known, why such insurance company has not paid such judgment. He shall also file the original policy of insurance or a certified copy thereof, if available, and such other documents as the department may require to show that the loss, injury or damage for which such judgment was rendered, was covered by such policy of insurance.

If the department is satisfied from such papers that such insurer was authorized to issue such policy of insurance in the State of California at the time of issuing such policy and that such insurer is liable to pay such judgment, at least to the extent and for the amounts hereinbefore provided in this chapter, the department shall not suspend such license or licenses and such registration, or if already suspended, shall reinstate them.

412. Installment Payments.

(a) The department shall not suspend a license, or registration of a motor vehicle, and shall restore any license or registration suspended following nonpayment of a judgment, when the judgment debtor gives proof of financial responsibility and files with the department an order from the court in which such judgment was rendered, permitting the payment of such judgment in installments, and while the payment of any said installment is not in default.

(b) A judgment debtor, upon five days' notice to the judgment creditor, may apply to the court in which such judgment was obtained for the privilege of paying such judgment in installments and the court, in its discretion and without prejudice to any other legal remedies which the judgment creditor may have, may so order, fixing the amounts and times of payment of the installments.

(c) Whenever the trial court orders the payment of a judgment in installments as provided in this section, such court shall forward a certified copy of such order to the department.

(d) In the event the judgment debtor fails to pay any installment as permitted by the order of the court, then the court shall give notice of such default to the department and the department shall suspend the license and registration cards and license plates of the judgment debtor until such judgment is satisfied as provided in this code.

(e) If the judgment creditor consents in writing, in such form as the department may prescribe, that the judgment debtor be allowed license and registration the same may be allowed by the department, in its discretion, notwithstanding default in the payment of such judgment or any installment thereof, for six months from the date of such consent and thereafter until such consent is revoked in writing, if the judgment debtor furnishes proof of financial responsibility.

413. When Judgment Deemed Satisfied. Every judgment referred to in this chapter shall, for the purposes of this chapter, be deemed satisfied:

(a) When five thousand dollars ($5,000) has been credited upon any judgment in excess of that amount, or upon all judgments, collectively, which together total in excess of that amount, for personal injury to or death of one person as a result of any one accident.

(b) When, subject to said limit of five thousand dollars ($5,000) as to one person, the sum of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) has been credited upon any judgment in excess of that amount, or upon all judgments, collectively, which together total in excess of that amount, for personal injury to or death of more than one person as a result of any one accident.

(c) When one thousand dollars ($1,000) has been credited upon any judgment or judgments rendered in excess of that amount for damage to property of others as a result of any one accident.

(d) Payments made in settlement of any claims because of bodily injury, death or property damage arising from a motor vehicle accident shall be credited in reduction of the amount provided for in this section.

413.1. Transfer of Registration. Whenever under this chapter the registration cards and license plates of any person are suspended no vehicle registered in the name of the person affected shall be registered in the name of any other person where the department has reasonable grounds to believe that such registration will have the effect of defeating the purposes of this chapter.

413.2. Duty of Courts to Report Judgments.

(a) The clerk of a court or the judge of a court which has no clerk, shall forward to the department a certified copy of any judgment or a certified copy of the docket entries in an action resulting in a judgment for damages, and a certificate of facts relative to such judgment, on a form provided by the department, the rendering and nonpayment of which judgment requires the department to suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license or registrations in the name of the judgment debtor hereunder, such documents to be forwarded to the department immediately upon the expiration of 15 days after such judgment has become final and when such judgment has not been stayed or satisfied within the amounts specified in this chapter as shown by the records of the court.

(b) Any person required to forward to the department a record of a conviction or a judgment for damages or certificate of facts as provided for in this code, who wilfully fails or neglects to do so, shall be punished by a fine of not less than ten dollars ($10) for each separate offense.

413 3. Duration of Suspension The suspension required in Sections 410 and 412 shall remain in effect and no motor vehicle shall be registered in the name of the person whose license or registration card and license plates were suspended nor any new license issued to such person unless and until such judgment is satisfied and the judgment debtor gives proof of financial responsibility as required by this chapter except as otherwise provided for in this chapter.

414 Proof of Financial Responsibility.

(a) Proof of financial responsibility when required by this code means proof of ability to respond in damages resulting from the ownership or operation of a motor vehicle, and arising by reason of personal injury to, or death of, any one person of at least five thousand dollars ($5,000), and, subject to the limit of five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each person injured or killed, of at least ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for such injury to, or the death of, two or more persons in any one accident, and for damages to property of at least one thousand dollars ($1,000) resulting from any one accident. Such proof of financial responsibility may be given by any of the following methods.

(1) By proof that a policy or policies of motor vehicle liability insurance have been obtained and are in full force and effect, or

(2) By proof that a bond has been duly executed, or

(3) By proof that deposit has been made of money or securities.

All methods of giving proof shall be as hereinafter provided.

414 1 Proof of Financial Responsibility by Means of Motor Vehicle Liability Insurance

(a) Proof of financial responsibility may be made by filing with the department the written certificate or certificates of any insurance carrier duly authorized to do business within the State, that it has issued to or for the benefit of the person named therein a motor vehicle liability policy or policies as defined in Section 415, which, at the date of said certificate or certificates is in full force and effect, and designating therein by explicit description or by other appropriate reference all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is granted by the policy certified to. The department shall not accept any certificate or certificates unless the same cover all motor vehicles registered in the name of the person furnishing such proof. Additional certificates shall be required as a condition precedent to the registration of any additional motor vehicles or motor vehicles in the name of the person required to furnish such proof. Said certificate or certificates shall certify that the motor vehicle liability policy or policies therein cited shall not be canceled except upon 10 days' prior written notice to the department.

(b) No motor vehicle shall be or continue to be registered in the name of any person required to file proof of financial responsibility unless such motor vehicle is so designated in such a certificate.

415. Motor Vehicle Liability Policy.

(a) A "motor vehicle liability policy," as used in this code means a policy of liability insurance issued by an insurance carrier authorized to transact such business in this State to or for the benefit of the person named therein as assured, which policy shall meet the following requirements:

(1) Such policy shall designate by explicit description or by appropriate reference all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is thereby intended to be granted.

(2) Such policy shall insure the person named therein and any other person using or responsible for the use of said motor vehicle or motor vehicles with the express or implied permission of said assured.

(3) Such policy shall insure every such person against loss from the liability imposed by law for damages, including damages for care and loss of services, because of bodily injury to or death of any person and injury to or damage to property arising out of the ownership, maintenance, use, or operation of such motor vehicle or motor vehicles within this State, or elsewhere in the United States in North America (exclusive of Alaska) or the Dominion of Canada, subject to a limit, exclusive of interest and costs, with respect to each motor vehicle, of five thousand dollars ($5,000) because of bodily injury to or death of one person in any one accident and, subject to said limit for one person, to a limit of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) because of bodily injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, and to a limit of one thousand dollars ($1,000) because of injury or damage to property of others in any one accident.

(b) Such policy shall

(1) cover the assured in the use or operation of all vehicles owned by him or registered in his name but not insuring such person when operating any motor vehicle not owned by him, or

(2) cover the assured in the use or operation of all vehicles owned by him or registered in his name and insure such person in the operation of any motor vehicle now owned or registered in his name, or

(3) cover the assured only in the operation of any motor vehicle not owned by him nor registered in his name, or

(4) cover the assured only in the operation of a certain vehicle or vehicles not owned by him nor registered in his name.

(e) Any such policy may grant any lawful coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage herein specified or contain any agreements, provisions or stipulations not in conflict with the provisions of this code and not otherwise contrary to law.

(d) Any liability policy issued hereunder need not cover any liability for injury to the assured or any liability of the assured assumed by or imposed upon said assured under any workmen's compensation law nor any liability for damage to property in charge of the assured or the assured's employees or agents.

(e) Several policies of one or more insurance carriers which together meet the requirements of this section shall be termed "motor vehicle liability policy" within the meaning of this code.

(f) No motor vehicle liability policy shall be issued or delivered in this State until a copy of the form of policy shall have been on file with the Insurance Commissioner for at least 30 days, unless sooner approved in writing by the Insurance Commissioner, nor if within said period of 30 days the Insurance Commissioner shall have notified the carrier in writing that in his opinion, specifying the reasons therefor, the form of policy does not comply with the laws of this State. The Insurance Commissioner shall approve any form of policy which discloses the name, address and business of the insured, the coverage afforded by such policy, the premium charged therefor, the policy period, the limit of liability and the agreement that the insurance thereunder is provided in accordance with the coverage defined in this section and is subject to all the provisions of this article.

(g) Every motor vehicle liability policy shall be subject to the following provisions which need not be contained therein:

(1) The liability of any company under a motor vehicle liability policy shall become absolute whenever loss or damage covered by said policy occurs, and the satisfaction by the insured of a final judgment for such loss or damage shall not be a condition precedent to the right or duty of the carrier to make payment on account of such loss or damage. No such policy shall be canceled or annulled as respects any loss or damage by any agreement between the carrier and the insured after the said insured has become responsible for such loss or damage, and any such cancellation or annulment shall be void. If the death of the insured shall occur after the insured has become liable during the policy period for loss or damage covered by the policy, the policy shall not be deemed terminated by such death with respect to such liability and the company shall be liable thereunder in the same manner and to the same extent as though death had not occurred. Upon the recovery of a final judgment against any person for any such loss or damage, if the judgment debtor or the decedent whom he represents was at the accrual of the cause of action insured against liability therefor under a motor vehicle liability policy, the judgment creditor shall be entitled to have the insurance money applied to the satisfaction of the judgment. But the policy may provide that the insured, or any other person covered by the policy, shall reimburse the company for payments made on account of any accident, claim or suit involving a breach of the terms, provisions or conditions of the policy; and further, if the policy shall provide for limits in excess of the limits designated in this section, the insurance carrier may plead against such judgment creditor, with respect to the amount of such excess limits of liability, any defenses which it may be entitled to plead against the insured. Any such policy may further provide for the prorating of the insurance thereunder with other applicable valid and collectible insurance. If the death, insolvency or bankruptcy of the insured shall occur within the policy period, the policy during the unexpired portion of such period shall cover the legal representatives of the insured. No statement made by the insured or on his behalf, and no violation of the terms of the policy, shall operate to defeat or avoid the policy so as to bar recovery within the limits provided in subdivision (a) Subsection (3) of this section.

(2) The policy, the written application therefor (if any) and any rider or endorsement, which shall not conflict with the provisions of this section, shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(3) Any insurance carrier authorized to issue motor vehicle liability policies as provided for in this article may, pending the issue of such a policy, execute an agreement, to be known as a binder; or may, in lieu of such a policy, issue an endorsement to an existing policy; each of which shall be construed to provide indemnity or protection in like manner and to the same extent as such a policy. The provisions of this section shall apply to such binders and endorsements.

(h) When an insurance carrier has certified a motor vehicle liability policy under the provisions of this chapter, the insurance so certified shall not be canceled until at least 10 days after a notice of cancellation of the insurance so certified shall be filed in the office of the department in Sacramento, except that such a policy subsequently procured and certified shall, on the effective date of its certification, terminate the insurance previously certified with respect to any motor vehicles designated in both certificates.

415.1. Not to Affect Other Policies.

(a) The provisions of this chapter shall not be held to apply to or affect policies of automobile insurance against liability which may now or hereafter be required to any other law of this State, and such policies, if endorsed to conform to the requirements of this code, shall be accepted as proof of financial responsibility when required by this code.

(b) The provisions of this chapter shall not be held to apply to or affect policies insuring solely the insured named in the policy against liability resulting from the maintenance, or use by persons in the insured's employ or in his behalf, of motor vehicles not owned by the insured.

415.2. Self-Insurance.

(a) In lieu of other means provided in this code, any person having registered in his name in this State more than 25 motor vehicles may apply to the Insurance Commissioner for a certificate of self-insurance to be filed with the department as proof of financial responsibility.

(b) The Insurance Commissioner may, in his discretion, upon application of such a person, issue a certificate of self-insurance when he is reasonably satisfied that such a person is possessed and will continue to be possessed of financial ability to respond to judgments, as hereinbefore described, obtained against such person, arising out of the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of any of such person's motor vehicles.

(c) Upon due notice and hearing, the Insurance Commissioner, may, in his discretion, and upon reasonable grounds, cancel a certificate of self-insurance.

415.5. Restrictions on Operator's or Chauffeur's Licenses.

Unless the certificate or certificates of insurance filed with the department, evidencing the issuance of a motor vehicle liability policy, show that the person in whose behalf they are filed is covered in the operation of all vehicles owned by him or registered in his name, and any motor vehicle not owned or registered in his name, the department shall place an appropriate restriction on any operator's or chauffeur's license issued to such person. It shall be unlawful for such person to operate any motor vehicle not covered by the certificate or certificates filed by him with the department as proof of financial responsibility.

416. Proof of Financial Responsibility by Means of Bonds.

(a) A person required to give proof of financial responsibility may file with the department a bond meeting the requirements of this section.

(b) Such bond shall be executed by the person giving such proof and by a surety company duly authorized to do business within this State or by the person giving such proof and by two individual sureties, each owning unencumbered real estate, which shall be scheduled therein, and approved by a judge of a court of record.

(c) Such bond shall be conditioned for payments of the amounts and under the same circumstances as would be required in a motor vehicle liability policy furnished by a person giving such proof under this chapter.

(d) No such bond shall be canceled unless 10 days' prior written notice of cancellation is given the department at Sacramento but cancellation of such bond shall not prevent recovery thereon with respect to any right or cause of action arising prior to the effective date of cancellation.

(e) A bond with individual sureties shall constitute a lien in favor of the State upon the real estate of any individual surety, which lien shall exist in favor of any holder of any final judgment against the principal on account of damage to property or injury to any person resulting from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of his motor vehicles, upon the recording of notice to that effect in the office of the county recorder of the county where such real estate be located.

(1) Such notice shall be signed by the Director of Motor Vehicles or by an officer or employee of the department authorized by the director pursuant to the provisions of Section 8 of this code, and the seal of the Department of Motor Vehicles placed thereon.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the county recorder shall, without fee, record such notice.

(f) When a bond with individual sureties filed with the department is no longer required under this chapter, the department shall, upon written request, cancel the same as to liability for damage to property or injury to any person or persons thereafter caused.

(g) When such a bond has been canceled by the department, or otherwise, the department, upon written request, shall furnish a certificate of such cancellation signed by the Director of Motor Vehicles or by an officer or employee of the department authorized by the director, with the seal of the Department of Motor Vehicles thereon.

(h) Such a certificate, notwithstanding any other provision of law, may be recorded in the office of any county recorder without charge therefor.

(i) Upon satisfactory proof that such a bond has been canceled and that there are no claims or judgments against the principal in such bond on account of damage to property or injury to any person or persons resulting from the ownership, maintenance, use or operation of a motor vehicle of the principal caused while such bond was in force and effect, a court of record may make an order discharging the lien of such bond on the real estate of the sureties described therein.

(j) If a final judgment rendered against the principal on a bond filed with the department as provided in this chapter shall not be satisfied within 15 days after its rendition, the judgment creditor may, for his own use and benefit and at his sole expense, bring an action on said bond in the name of the State against the company or persons executing such bond.

(k) Where the sureties on said bond are individual sureties, the judgment creditor may maintain such action or actions on said bonds and for the foreclosure of the lien on the real estate of said sureties and for the sale thereof to satisfy said lien.

417. Money or Securities Deposited as Proof of Financial Responsibility

(a) A person may give proof of financial responsibility by filing with the department evidence that he has deposited with the State Treasurer eleven thousand dollars ($11,000) in cash, or securities such as may legally be purchased by savings banks or trust funds, of a market value of eleven thousand dollars ($11,000). The State Treasurer shall determine the sufficiency of such security.

(b) All moneys or securities so deposited with the State Treasurer shall be subject to execution to satisfy any judgment mentioned in this chapter within the limits of coverage and subject to the limits on amounts required by this chapter for motor vehicle liability policies, and if such moneys or securities shall be otherwise subjected to attachment or any execution, the depositor shall immediately furnish such additional moneys or securities, not otherwise subjected to attachment or execution, to meet the requirements of this section.

(c) The State Treasurer shall not accept such money or securities unless accompanied by evidence that there are no unsatisfied judgments filed in the office of the county clerk of the county where such person resides.

418. Owner May Give Proof for Chauffeur or Member of Family. Whenever the department determines that any person required to give proof or furnish security under this chapter is or later becomes a chauffeur or motor vehicle operator, however designated, in the employ of an owner of a motor vehicle, or is or later becomes a member of the immediate family or household of the owner of a motor vehicle, the department shall accept proof of financial responsibility given by such owner in lieu of proof by such person to permit such person to operate a motor vehicle for which the owner has given proof as herein provided. In case such person is one who is furnished proof of financial responsibility by his employer, he shall not be required to furnish security. The department shall designate the restrictions imposed by this section on the face of such person's operator's or chauffeur's license.

419. Substitution or Failure of Proof.

(a) The department shall cancel any bond or any certificate of insurance or direct the return of any money or securities deposited with the State Treasurer to the person entitled thereto, upon the substitution and acceptance of other adequate proof of financial responsibility pursuant to this code.

(b) Whenever any proof of financial responsibility filed by any person under the provisions of this code no longer fulfills the purpose for which required, the department shall, for the purpose of this code, require other proof of financial responsibility as required by this code, and shall suspend the operator's or chauffeur's license, and registration cards and license plates of such person pending such proof.

420. When Department May Release Proof

(a) The department shall upon request cancel any bond or any certificate of insurance or direct the return to the person entitled thereto of any money or securities deposited pursuant to this code as proof of financial responsibility, or the department shall waive the requirement heretofore or hereafter imposed of filing proof of financial responsibility in any of the following events:

(1) When such person is no longer required to maintain such proof under the provisions of this code, or

(2) In the event of the death of the person on whose behalf such proof was filed or the permanent incapacity of such person to operate a motor vehicle, or

(3) In the event the person who has given proof of his ability to respond in damages surrenders his operator's or chauffeur's license, registration cards and license plates to the department.

(b) The department shall not release such proof in the event any action for damages upon a liability referred to in this chapter is then pending, or any judgment upon any such liability is outstanding and unsatisfied, or in the event the department has received notice that such person has within the period of three months immediately preceding, been involved as a driver in any motor vehicle accident. An affidavit of the applicant of the nonexistence of such facts shall be sufficient evidence thereof in the absence of evidence to the contrary in the records of the department.

(c) Whenever any person to whom proof has been surrendered, as provided in this section, applies for an operator's or chauffeur's license or the registration of a motor vehicle, any such application shall be refused unless the applicant shall reestablish proof of financial responsibility.

421. Surrender of License and Evidences of Registration.

(a) Any person whose operator's or chauffeur's license or registration have been suspended as provided in this chapter and have not been reinstated shall immediately return every such license, registration certificate and registration plates held by such person to the department. Any person wilfully failing to comply with this requirement is guilty of a misdemeanor.

421.1. Operating Without Giving Proof When Proof Required. Any person whose operator's or chauffeur's license or registration or other privilege to operate a motor vehicle have been suspended or revoked, restoration thereof or the issuance of a new license or registration being contingent upon the furnishing of proof of financial responsibility, and who during such suspension or revocation or in the absence of full authorization from the department shall drive any motor vehicle upon any highway or knowingly permits any motor vehicle owned by such person to be operated by another upon any highway except as permitted hereunder, shall be punished by imprisonment for not less than two days nor more than six months and there may be imposed in addition thereto a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500).

421.2. Forging or Without Authority Signing Proof of Financial Responsibility.

Any person who shall forge, or without authority, sign any evidence of financial responsibility as required by the department in the administration of this chapter, and any nonresident who shall operate a motor vehicle in this State from whom the privilege of operating any motor vehicle has been withdrawn as provided herein, shall be fined not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisoned not more than 30 days or both.

421.3. Otherwise Violating Article.

Any person who violates any provision of this chapter for which another penalty is not prescribed by law shall be punished by imprisonment for not more than 90 days or by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars ($100) or more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or both.

422. Application to Nonresidents.

(a) Whenever, by the laws of this State, the department has the power to suspend or revoke a license if the operator or chauffeur were a resident, the department shall have similar power to suspend or revoke the license or to forbid the operation of a motor vehicle in this State by such nonresident. Whenever by the laws of this State, the department has the power to suspend or revoke the registration card and license plates if the owner were a resident, the department shall have similar power to forbid the operation within this State of any motor vehicle of any owner who is a nonresident.

(b) All of the provisions of this chapter shall apply to any person who is not a resident of this State under the same circumstances as they would apply to a resident; and in such event, such a nonresident shall not operate any motor vehicle in this State nor shall any motor vehicle owned by him be operated in this State, unless and until such nonresident or the owner of the motor vehicle, if another person, has complied with the requirements of this chapter with respect to furnishing security and giving proof of financial responsibility.

(c) Upon the conviction of a nonresident or in case of any unsatisfied judgment rendered against a nonresident which conviction or unsatisfied judgment results in the suspension or revocation of such nonresident's driving privileges in this State and/or the prohibition of the operation within this State of any motor vehicle owned by such nonresident, or upon suspension or revocation of a nonresident's driving privileges in this State and/or the prohibition of the operation within this State of any motor vehicle owned by such nonresident pursuant to any other provision or provisions of this chapter, the department shall transmit a certified copy of any record of any such conviction or any such unsatisfied judgment or any other action pursuant to this article resulting in the suspension or revocation of a nonresident's driving privileges in this State and/or the prohibition of the operation within this State of any motor vehicle owned by such nonresident to the Director of Motor Vehicles or officer performing the functions of such director in the State, District of Columbia or Territory or lands in continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States or a province of Canada, in which such nonresident resides.

(d) The department shall take action as required anywhere in this chapter, upon receiving proper evidence that any person in another State, District of Columbia, or Territory or lands in continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, under the jurisdiction of the United States, or a province of Canada, has had his driving privilege suspended or revoked and/or the operation within such jurisdiction of any motor vehicle owned by him prohibited pursuant to a law providing for such suspension, revocation or prohibition for causes which would require similar action under this code.

422.1. Proof of Financial Responsibility by a Nonresident.

(a) The nonresident owner of a foreign vehicle may give proof of financial responsibility by filing with the department a written certificate or certificates of an insurance carrier authorized to transact business in the State, District of Columbia, or Territory or lands in continental United States, exclusive of Alaska, under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, or a province of Canada, in which the motor vehicle or motor vehicles described in such certificate is registered or if such nonresident does not own a motor vehicle, a certificate or certificates issued as required herein otherwise conforming to the provisions of this chapter, and the department shall accept the same when said insurance carrier complies with the following provisions of this section:

(1) Said insurance carrier shall execute a power of attorney authorizing the Director of Motor Vehicles to accept service on its behalf of notice or process in any action arising out of a motor vehicle accident in this State.

(2) Said insurance carrier shall duly adopt a resolution which shall be binding upon it, declaring that its policies shall be deemed to be varied to comply with the law of this State relating to the terms of motor vehicle liability policies issued herein.

(3) Said insurance carrier shall also agree to accept as final and binding any judgment of any court of competent jurisdiction in this State duly rendered in any action arising out of a motor vehicle accident in this State.

(4) Said insurance carrier shall also agree to pay any assessment for expenses of administration of this chapter levied against it as provided in Section 424 of this chapter.

(b) If any insurance carrier which has qualified to furnish proof of financial responsibility as heretofore required defaults in any said undertakings or agreements, the department shall not thereafter accept any certificate of said carrier, whether theretofore filed or thereafter tendered as proof of financial responsibility so long as such default continues.

423. Expenses of Administering Chapter.

(a) The department and the State Department of Finance annually as soon as practicable after July 1st of each year shall ascertain the total amount of expenses incurred by the department during the preceding fiscal year in connection with the administration of this chapter.

(b) Such expenses, in addition to the direct costs of personal service, shall include the cost of maintenance and operation, the cost of retirement contributions made and workmen's compensation premiums paid by the State for or on account of personnel, rentals for space occupied in State-owned or State-leased buildings and all other direct or indirect costs.

(c) A statement of the expenses so ascertained shall be open to public inspection in the office of the Director of Motor Vehicles and of the Insurance Commissioner for 30 days after notice of those liable to be assessed for such expenses before the Insurance Commissioner shall make an assessment upon them as provided in this section.

(d) The Insurance Commissioner shall thereupon assess the total amount of such expenses, as so ascertained, pro rata upon all insurance carriers in proportion to the gross direct premiums, less return premiums thereon, written by them during the calendar year ending December 31st immediately preceding the fiscal year for which the assessment is made for policies or contracts of automobile bodily injury insurance covering risks resident or located in this State. The Insurance Commissioner shall levy and collect such assessments and pay the same into the State treasury, to reimburse the General Fund for moneys advanced to the department to finance the administration of the provisions of this chapter as hereinafter provided.

(e) Sufficient money not to exceed seven hundred fifty thousand dollars ($750,000) shall be withdrawn from the General Fund from time to time and deposited in the Motor Vehicle Support Fund to meet the necessary expenses of the department, as given in subsection (b) of this section, in the administration of this chapter for each fiscal year.

423.1. Chapter Not to Repeal Other Motor Vehicle Laws.

This article shall in no respect be considered as a repeal of any of the provisions of this code or of other laws relating to the registration, numbering and regulation of motor vehicles; the licensing and regulation of chauffeurs and operators; the use of the public highways by motor vehicles and the accessories used upon them and their incidents; the speed of motor vehicles upon the public highways; or the punishment for the violations of such provisions, but shall be construed as supplemental thereto.

423.2. Uniformity of Interpretation.

This article shall be so interpreted and construed as to effectuate its general purpose to make uniform the law of those States, the District of Columbia, or territory or lands in continental United States (exclusive of Alaska) under the exclusive jurisdiction of the United States, or provinces of Canada, which enact it.

423.5. This Chapter Does Not Prevent Other Process.

This chapter shall not be construed to prevent the plaintiff in any action at law from relying for security upon the other processes provided by law.

423.6. Constitutionality.

If any part or parts of this chapter shall be held unconstitutional, such unconstitutionality shall not affect the validity of the remaining parts of this chapter. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining parts of this chapter if it had known that such part or parts thereof would be declared unconstitutional.

423.7. This act shall be of full force and effect commencing on the first day of January, 1944.

2021.1. There is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated to every county within this State for maintaining or supporting aged persons who come within the provisions of this chapter and not in excess of three hundred sixty dollars ($360) per annum for each such aged person maintained or supported by such county.

There is hereby further appropriated to every county within this State for the purpose of maintaining or supporting aged persons who come within the provisions of this chapter and who have no county residence as provided in this chapter, and not in excess of four hundred eighty dollars ($480) per annum for each such aged person.

Payments of aid shall be made in the manner provided in Sections 2187.1 to 2189, inclusive, of this code.

This section shall remain in effect until July 1, 1945. While this section is in effect it shall supersede Section 2021 of this code, and wherever in any provision of law reference is made to Section 2021, such reference shall be deemed to refer to this section; but Section 2021 is not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective Section 2021 shall have the same force and effect as though this section had not been enacted.

SEC. 2. Section 2187.1 is added to said code, to read:

2187.1. From the sums appropriated therefor by the State of California in Section 2021.1 of this chapter, the State Treasurer shall pay to each county an additional amount which shall be used exclusively for aid to needy aged equal to three-fourth of the remainder of the sums expended by the county as aid to the needy aged under this chapter, after deducting from the sums so expended the amount paid to the county under subdivision (1) of Section 2186 of this code, except that the State shall pay the county the full amount of aid granted any person otherwise qualified who has resided in the State for the required period and who has no county residence, after deducting the amount paid with respect to such person under subdivision (1) of Section 2186 of this code.

SEC. 3. This act shall become operative on July 1, 1943.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The temporary assumption by the State of a portion of the cost of aid to the aged now borne by the counties will enable the counties to reduce their tax rates, and so relieve property taxpayers of a burden which has become excessive. The increases in the cost of living and in Federal taxation consequent upon the wars in which the United States is now engaged strain the resources of the county governments and of local taxpayers alike, and threaten the economic life of the community. To make the relief afforded by this act available at the commencement of the next fiscal year, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately."

On page 1, line 1, of said bill, strike out "The act cited in the title hereof is repealed.", and insert "Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is amended to read:

SECTION 1. Any officer, department, board or commission taking bids for the construction of any public work or improvement shall provide in the specifications prepared for the work or improvement or in the general conditions under which bids will be received for the doing of the work incident to the public work or improvement that any person making a bid or offer to perform the work, shall, in his bid or offer, set forth the name and the location of the mill, shop or office of each subcontractor who will perform work or labor or render service to the contractor in or about the construction of the work or improvement and the portion of the work which will be done by each subcontractor.

Any subcontractor who has submitted an estimate to any bidder must have on file with the office, department, board or commission taking bids for the construction, prior to 24 hours of the time set for closing of bids, a statement that the subcontractor has submitted an estimate on a subcontract for a portion of the work for which the bid is being received, said statement to also contain a general description of the portion of the work for which the estimate has been given to the contractor, and the statement must be accompanied with a certified check payable to the awarding authority in the amount of ten per cent (10%) of the estimate. If said subcontractor has given estimates on the same subcontract to two or more contractors, he need deposit only one certified check for ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the highest estimate given to any contractor and the statement shall designate the name and address of each contractor to whom the estimate has been furnished. If estimates are given for a subcontract for different portions of the contract, a separate certified check shall be deposited for each class of subcontract work.

Such certified check shall be deposited with the agreement and the statement shall provide that if the subcontractor so depositing the certified check and statement is named in the bid as a subcontractor, that he will enter into the subcontract in the event the bidder to whom the estimate for subcontract has been furnished is awarded the contract by the awarding authority; otherwise such check shall be forfeited to the awarding authority. All certified checks so deposited shall be immediately returned to the subcontractors depositing the same, excepting for those subcontractors who are named in the bid of the successful bidder. Certified checks deposited by subcontractors named in the bid of the successful bidder shall be retained by the awarding authority until the subcontract is entered into between the contractor and the subcontractor, and on proof of such subcontract being made, said certified check shall be returned.

If a contractor fails to specify a subcontractor for any portion of the work to be performed under the contract, he shall be deemed to have agreed to perform such portion himself, and he shall not be permitted to subcontract that portion of the work except under the conditions hereinafter set forth.

No contractor whose bid is accepted shall, without the consent of the awarding authority, either:

- (a) Substitute any person as subcontractor in place of the subcontractor designated in the original bid, or
- (b) Permit any subcontract to be assigned or transferred or allow it to be performed by anyone other than the original subcontractor, or
- (c) Sublet or subcontract any portion of the work as to which his original bid did not designate a subcontractor.

Subletting or subcontracting of any portion of the work as to which no subcontractor was designated in the original bid shall only be permitted in cases of public emergency or necessity, and then only after a finding reduced to writing as a public record of the awarding authority setting forth the facts constituting such emergency or necessity.

Should the contractor violate any of the provisions of this act, his so doing will be deemed a violation of his contract and the awarding authority shall have the right to cancel the contract. The contractor shall not, after any such violation, recover thereon for any of the work done or materials furnished on such public work or improvement.

The failure on the part of a contractor to comply with any provision of this act shall not constitute a defense to such contractor in any action brought against him by a subcontractor.

This act shall not apply to contracts for the construction or improvement or repair of State highways, including bridges, nor to city or county projects financed in whole or in part with motor vehicle fuel funds.

Nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to limit or diminish any rights or remedies, either legal or equitable, which either an original or substituted subcontractor may have against the contractor, his successors or assigns, nor any such rights or remedies (including the right to take over and complete the contract) which the State of California, or any municipal corporation, county, body politic, or public corporation, or public agency may have against the contractor, his successors or assigns."

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Carey :

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal :

LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO Co.
SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, April 15, 1943

Edward J. Carey, Assemblyman
Assembly Chamber, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. CAREY. We acknowledge your card of April 12th inquiring relative to the rumor about saving red cellophane bands used to open cigarette packages. This is just another one of those vicious rumors, which from time to time sweep the country, and for which there is not the slightest foundation.

This rumor was originally supposed to be connected with the securing of seeing eye dogs for blind persons, and we considered it particularly cruel because of its tendency to raise the hopes of afflicted people, only to crush them when the truth of the matter became known.

If there is any circulation of this false rumor among your associates, we would greatly appreciate anything you may do to stop it, as it is not only disappointing to persons who are misled by it, but it is damaging to the best interests of any concern with whom it may be associated.

Thanking you for the inquiry.

Very truly,

I. K. BROWN, Department Manager

By Mr. Sargent:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, April 14, 1943

*Honorable Willis Sargent, Member of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR WILLIS: Arthur Ohnimus advised me of the resolution which you introduced on March 18th, just as I was leaving for Chicago. I had expected to be in Sacramento before now to thank you personally for the distinct honor reflected in the resolution, but I haven't been able to find a good excuse to come north. I certainly think that the Assembly and yourself were most courteous in its adoption.

Incidentally, the people of Southern California, every night in their prayers, include first, that we win the war and, second, that the Legislature adjourn.

With kindest personal regards, I remain

Sincerely yours,

LAWRENCE COBB

The State Conservation and Planning Board shall aid in the coordination of all State, regional, county and city plans and shall prepare uniform rules and outlines for the drawing up of annual reports of the several planning commissions.

Each State department, board or agency shall give consideration to such other State projects and to the regional and county master plans, to the end that, where in the judgment of such State department, board or other agency it is practical and feasible, its projects may be properly coordinated with those of all other governmental agencies.

SEC. 8. For the purpose of providing State coordinated regional planning, the State Conservation and Planning Board shall divide the State into regional planning districts. These districts shall be established so far as possible so as to include:

(b) Areas having mutual social and commercial interests, as exemplified by radiating and connecting routes of transportation, by trade, and by common use of recreation areas within the region.

SEC. 9. A regional planning commission shall be established for each regional planning district. All members of the regional planning commission shall be appointed by the Governor from nominees selected by the board of supervisors of each county or portion of county lying within the regional district from the membership of the county planning commission of such county, so that the regional planning commission shall always consist of an odd number of members. Nomination and appointment shall be as follows:

(a) If the regional district consists of but one county, the county planning commission for that county shall be ex officio the regional planning commission.

(b) If the regional district consists of all or part of two counties, two nominees shall be selected by each board of supervisors and the Governor shall appoint them and one additional member from either of the county planning commissions.

The commission may prepare and adopt all or any part of the master plan or any subject thereof for all or any part of the city, county or region; provided, however, that master regional plans shall be coordinated with similar plans of adjoining regions and that master county and city plans within each region shall be coordinated so as to fit properly into the master plan for the region.

SEC. 13. The planning commission may from time to time prepare precised sections of master plans or detailed or precise plans based thereon and may recommend such plans to the legislative body for adoption as official plans. Such precise plans may include proposed regulations limiting the uses of land, the uses of buildings, the height and bulk of buildings, the open spaces about buildings, the location of buildings and other improvements with respect to existing or planned rights of way and such other matters as will accomplish the purposes of this act, including procedure for the administration of such regulations.

SEC. 14. The commission shall endeavor to promote public interest in and understanding of the master plan and of official plans and regulations relating thereto. It shall be part of its duties to consult and advise with public officials and agencies, public utility companies, civic, educational, professional and other organizations, and with citizens generally with relation to the carrying out of such plans. All public officials shall upon request furnish to the commission within a reasonable time such information as they may have which the commission may require for its work. The commission, and its members, officers and employees in the performance of their functions, may enter upon any land and make examinations and surveys and place and maintain necessary monuments and marks thereon. In general the commission shall have such power as may be necessary to enable it to fulfill its functions and carry out the purposes of this act.

SEC. 15. Each commission appointed pursuant to the provisions of this act shall elect its chairman from among the appointed members for a term of one year and, subject to other provisions of law, may create and fill such other offices as it may determine. The commission shall hold at least one regular meeting in each month; except that each regional planning commission shall hold at least one regular meeting every three months. The commission shall adopt rules for the transaction of business and shall keep a record of its resolutions, transactions, findings, and determinations, which record shall be a public record. The commission may appoint such officers and employees as it may deem necessary for its work, whose appointment, promotion, demotion and removal shall be subject to the same provisions of law as govern other corresponding civil employees. The commission may also employ or contract with planning consultants and other specialists for such services as it may require. The legislative body of the city or county shall provide the funds, equipment, and accommodations necessary for the work of the planning commission of such city or county and such appropriation may include funds to be appropriated for the work of the regional planning commission of the regional planning district within which such city or county is situated. The expenditures of the commissions, exclusive of gifts, shall be within the amounts appropriated for the respective purposes. Each city and each county which has established a planning commission, may, in making its annual tax levy and as a part thereof, levy and collect a tax, not to exceed in any fiscal year the sum of two mills on the dollar of assessed valuation, for the purpose of defraying the lawful expenditures incurred by the planning commission in carrying out the purposes of this act, and may make appropriations from other funds therefor. The planning commission is hereby authorized to accept gifts for any work of the commission which is authorized by law.

SEC. 16. The county and city planning commissions in the various regions shall accept and embody in the respective master plans under their control the features and findings of the respective regional planning commissions in matters pertaining to the regional and State welfare. When such features and findings have been accepted and embodied in the plans of any county or city planning commission and such plans have been adopted by the legislative body of the county or city as herein-after provided, such features and findings shall have the same force and effect as other portions of any such plan and shall be carried out by the legislative bodies of such counties and cities in accordance with their police powers as provided in this act.

SEC. 17. The body creating such planning commission may, by general or special rule, provide for the reference of any other matter or class of matters to the planning commission before final action thereon by the public body or officer of said city, county, or city and county, having final authority thereon, with the provision that final action thereon shall not be taken until said planning commission has submitted its report thereon or has had reasonable time, to be fixed in said rule, to submit the report. The planning commission shall have full power and authority to make such investigations, maps and reports, and recommendations in connection therewith relating to the planning and development of the city, county, or city and county as it deems desirable, provided, the total expenditures of said board shall not exceed the funds available therefor.

SEC. 18. Each officer, department, board or commission of the city or county whose functions include recommending, preparing plans for or constructing major public works, and each other governmental body, commission or board having such functions and the scope of whose jurisdiction lies entirely within such city or county, shall, at least three months before the end of each fiscal year, submit to the planning commission of such city or county a list of the proposed public works recommended by such body, officer, department, board or commission for planning, initiation or construction during the ensuing fiscal year. The planning commission shall list and classify all such recommendations and shall prepare a coordinated program of proposed public works for such ensuing fiscal year, which program shall be recommended by the planning commission to the legislative body of such city or county and to such other bodies, officers, departments, boards or commissions as have jurisdiction over the recommending, planning or constructing of such public works. A copy of such recommended program of public works shall be included in the annual report of the planning commission as hereinbefore provided.

SEC. 19. Before adopting the master plan or any part of it, or any substantial amendment thereof, the commission shall hold at least one public hearing thereon, notice of the time and place of which shall be given by at least one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county or in the case of a regional planning commission by one publication in a newspaper in each county within the regional district, at least 10 days before the day of said hearing. The adoption of the master plan, or of any amendment, extension or addition thereof, shall be by resolution of the commission carried by the affirmative votes of not less than two-thirds of the total membership of the commission. The resolution shall refer expressly to the maps and descriptive and other matter intended by the commission to constitute said plan or any amendment, addition or extension thereof, and the action taken shall be recorded on the map and plan and descriptive matter by the identifying signatures of the secretary and chairman of the commission. No plan or map, hereafter, shall have indicated thereon that it is a part of the master plan until it shall have been adopted as part of the master plan by the commission as herein provided. The commission may from time to time amend, extend or add to the master plan or part thereof, as herein provided for the adoption thereof, whenever changed conditions or further studies by the commission require such amendment, extension or addition.

An attested copy of any part, amendment, extension of or addition to the master plan adopted by the planning commission of any city or county shall be certified to the legislative body of such city or county. An attested copy of any part, amendment, extension of or addition to the master plan adopted by any regional planning commission shall be certified to the county planning commission and to the board of supervisors of each county within the regional district.

SEC. 20. After the adoption of the master plan or any part thereof by the planning commission of any city or county, such commission shall render an annual report to the legislative body of such city or county on the status of the plan and progress in its application. The annual report of the commission shall be prepared in accordance with such outlines and uniform rules as may be established by the State Conservation and Planning Board and shall include:

(a) A statement of any changes made in the master plan and of any additions thereto, with copies of all plans and reports adopted as part of the master plan by the commission;

(b) Copies of portions of the master plan and reports relative thereto, adopted by the legislative body, as hereinafter provided;

(c) A list of improvements and accomplishments resulting from adoption of the master plan and official plans, as hereinafter provided, or from the work of the commission;

(d) A program of proposed public works, improvements and development based on the master plan and official plans and recommended to the legislative body of the city or county for execution during the ensuing year, prepared as hereinafter provided; and

(e) Such other information and data as may be pertinent to the work of the commission.

A copy of the annual report of the commission as made to the legislative body shall be filed with the State Conservation and Planning Board.

Article 3. The Legislative Body

SEC. 21. Upon receipt of a certified copy of the master plan, or of any part thereof, as adopted by the planning commission, the legislative body shall adopt such parts thereof as may practically be applied to the development of the city or county for a reasonable period of time next ensuing. Such parts shall thereupon be endorsed and certified as master plans thus adopted for the territory covered and are hereby declared to be established to conserve and promote the public health, safety and general welfare. Before adopting any such plan or part thereof, the legislative body shall hold at least one public hearing thereon, notice of the time and place of which shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county at least 10 days before the day of such hearing. No change in or addition to the master plan or any part thereof, as adopted by the planning commission, shall be made by the legislative body in adopting the same until the said proposed change or addition shall have been referred to the planning commission for a report thereon and an attested copy of such report shall have been filed with the legislative body. Failure of the planning commission so to report within 40 days, or such longer period as may be designated by the legislative body, after such reference shall be deemed to be approval of the proposed change or addition.

SEC. 22. Whenever the legislative body of any city or county shall have adopted a master plan or part thereof for such city or county, or for any major section or district thereof, it shall be the duty of such legislative body, upon recommendation of the planning commission, to determine upon reasonable and practical means for putting into effect such master plan or part thereof, in order that the same will serve as a pattern and guide for the orderly physical growth and development of such city or county and as a basis for the efficient expenditure of the funds thereof relating to the subject of such master plan. Such legislative body may adopt and use such procedure as may be necessary for this purpose.

SEC. 23 The planning commission may from time to time prepare precised sections of master plans or detailed or precise plans based thereon and may recommend such plans to the legislative body for adoption as official plans. Such precise plans may include proposed regulations limiting the uses of land, the uses of buildings, the height and bulk of buildings, the open spaces about buildings, the location of buildings and other improvements with respect to existing or planned rights of way and such other matters as will accomplish the purposes of this act, including procedure for the administration of such regulations. Before recommending to the legislative body any such plan or any amendment thereto, the planning commission shall hold at least two public hearings thereon, at least 10 days apart, notice of the time and place of each of which shall be given by at least one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county, and by such other means as the commission may deem necessary. A copy of any plan recommended pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be certified to the legislative body and shall be accompanied by a report of findings, summaries of hearings and recommendations of the planning commission. Upon receipt of such certified copy the legislative body may, by ordinance, adopt such plan in such form as the legislative body may determine. Before adopting any such plan the legislative body shall hold at least one public hearing thereon, notice of the time and place of which shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county at least 10 days before the day of such hearing. No change shall be made by the legislative body in any such plan as recommended by the planning commission until said proposed change shall have been referred to the planning commission for a report thereon and an attested copy of such report shall have been filed with the legislative body, and no ordinance or resolution establishing any of the regulations specified in this section shall be adopted by the legislative body until such ordinance or resolution shall have been referred to the planning commission for a report thereon and an attested copy of such report shall have been filed with the legislative body; provided, however, that failure of the planning commission so to report in any such case within 40 days, or such longer period as may be designated by the legislative body, after such reference shall be deemed to be approval of the proposed change.

SEC. 24. Whenever the legislative body of the city or county shall have adopted a master plan for the city or county, or for any major section or district thereof, no road, street, highway, square, park or other public way, ground or open space shall be acquired by dedication or otherwise, and no road, street, highway or public way shall be closed or abandoned, and no public building or structure shall be constructed or authorized in the area for which such master plan shall have been adopted by the legislative body, until the location, character and extent thereof shall have been submitted to and shall have been reported upon by the planning commission. If the authorization, acquisition, financing or acceptance of such road, street, highway, square, park or other public way, ground or open space, or the construction or authorization of such public building or structure, be vested by law or charter provisions in some governmental body, commission or board other than the legislative body of such city or county, then such other governmental body, commission or board having such jurisdiction shall first submit to the planning commission the location, character and extent of such proposed public improvement for report thereon. In the event that the planning commission shall disapprove the same, its disapproval may be overruled by such other governmental body, board or commission only by a vote of not less than two-thirds of its entire membership. Failure of the planning commission to act within 40 days, or such longer period as may be designated by the legislative body or such other governmental body, board or commission, after the date of the official submission of any matter to it by the legislative body or by such other governmental body, board or commission, shall be deemed to be approval of such matter by the planning commission.

SEC. 25 The legislative body is authorized and empowered whenever, and as often as, it may deem it to be for the public interest, to change or add to the master plan or any part thereof, as adopted by the legislative body, or to change or add to the official plan or any part thereof. The legislative body shall first refer the proposed change or addition to the planning commission for a report thereon. Before making any such report, the planning commission shall hold hearings on the proposed change or addition and shall give notice of such hearings, in accordance with the procedure hereinbefore specified for the adoption by the planning commission of the master plan or any part or amendment thereof or for the recommendation by the planning commission of any official plan or any part or amendment thereof, as the case may be. Failure of the planning commission to report to the legislative body on any such proposed change or addition within 90 days, or such longer period as may be designated by the legislative body, after receipt by the planning commission of the request of the legislative body for such report shall be deemed to be approval of such proposed change or addition by the planning commission. After the receipt of such report, or after the expiration of such 90 days or longer designated period, the legislative body shall hold at least one public hearing on the proposed change or addition, notice of the time and place of which shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in the city or county at least 10 days before the day of such hearing. Proceedings for any change or addition to the master plan or any official plan, or any part thereof, may also be initiated by the planning commission.

Sec. 26. Whenever the city, city and county, or county, shall have established a planning commission pursuant to and in accordance with the provisions of this act and shall have adopted regulations governing subdivisions, which regulations thereafter have been officially adopted by ordinance by the governing body of said city, city and county, or county, such planning commission shall have such control over subdivisions as is granted to it by such regulations and by the statutes of the State of California.

Sec. 27. No city or county shall improve any street, or lay or authorize sewers or connections or other improvements to be laid in any street or right of way within any territory for which an official street and highway plan shall have been adopted by the legislative body unless such street (a) has been accepted, opened or has otherwise received the legal status of a public street prior to the adoption of such plan; or (b) corresponds with streets shown on such official plan; or (c) corresponds with a street shown on a subdivision plat approved by the legislative body; or (d) corresponds with a street shown on a subdivision map theretofore approved by the planning commission in accordance with the provisions of law; until such matter shall have been referred to the planning commission for a report thereon and an attested copy of such report shall have been filed with the legislative body. Failure of the commission so to report within 40 days, or such longer period as may be designated by the legislative body, after such reference, shall be deemed to be approval of such matter.

Sec. 28. For the purpose of this act, certain terms are defined as provided in this section. Whenever appropriate the singular includes the plural, and the plural includes the singular. The term "street" includes streets, highways, avenues, boulevards, parkways, roads, lanes, walks, alleys, viaducts, subways, tunnels, bridges, public easements and rights of way, and other ways. The term "right of way" shall include all public and private rights of way and shall include all areas required for public use in accordance with any master plan or official plans. The word "county" includes city and county. The word "board" means the "State Conservation and Planning Board."

Sec. 29. The State Conservation and Planning Board shall have possession and control of all records, books, papers, offices, equipment, moneys, funds, appropriations and real and personal property now or hereafter held for the benefit or use of the State Planning Board necessary and convenient to the use and benefit of the State Conservation and Planning Board.

Sec. 30. All employees of the State Planning Board, who are in State civil service on the effective date hereof, engaged in the administration of any provision of law hereby committed to the jurisdiction of the State Conservation and Planning Commission, shall continue to serve as officers and employees of the State Conservation and Planning Commission subject to the provisions of Article XXIV of the Constitution and statutes continued in force thereby or adopted pursuant thereto.

Sec. 31. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed each provision of this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, phrases, or provisions be declared unconstitutional.

Sec. 32. Violation of any of the provisions of this act shall upon conviction be punishable as a misdemeanor.

Sec. 33. This act shall be known and shall be cited as the State Conservation and Planning Act.

Sec. 34. The Planning Act is repealed.

Sec. 35. Chapter 331, Statutes of 1935 is repealed.

Sec. 36. Nothing in this act shall affect or impair the validity of any plans, actions or proceedings taken before the effective date of this act except as such plans, actions or proceedings may be hereafter modified or affected by the State Conservation and Planning Board or any planning commission pursuant to the powers granted by this act."

A few weeks ago we distributed some Prune Recipe Books and thought we should have the prunes to go with them. Therefore, the prunes are on the desks this morning.

These prunes are the gift of Mr. R. V. Garrod, and he asked that Mr. Miller and I distribute them to the members.

Mr. Garrod raised these prunes on his ranch, and they were packed by the California Prune and Apricot Growers Association of San Jose. Mr. Garrod says the best prunes in the world are raised in California, and the best prunes in California in Santa Clara Valley, and the best prunes in Santa Clara Valley on his ranch, and it is hoped that these few prunes will cause the members to eat a great many prunes in the future.

WHEREAS, The great American game of baseball offers to the Nation good, clean amusement that redounds with credit to the morale and good citizenship of the youth of our Nation, and enjoyment of our adults; and

WHEREAS, And while many of our outstanding stars will be missing when the umpire shouts, "Play ball," due to their entrance into the armed forces of this Country, their places will be filled by both younger men, who are anxiously awaiting call into the armed services eager and ready to answer the call, and by older men who still have many years of their baseball careers still before them; and

WHEREAS, The United States Government recognizing the necessity of maintaining the morale of those who are not called into active service with our military service will designate high officials in the military service to open the ceremonies on all baseball fields in California so that the boys in the armed forces of the Allied Nations, in this Country and in foreign countries may receive baseball news, and radio broadcasts during the baseball season; and

WHEREAS, The baseball management of the Pacific Coast League has pledged its full cooperation to the United States Government, to carry into effect any rules, regulations and orders issued by the United States Government in support of the war effort; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Members of the Assembly of the State of California do hereby extend their best wishes for a successful baseball season to the management of the Pacific Coast League, with the thought in mind of carrying on in a manner that will assure the citizens of this Country, and our boys in the armed forces a clean, wholesome sport through news and broadcasts that has for centuries been established as "The Great American Pastime," and also with the thought in mind, that whatever request made by the military authorities will be adhered to.

Request for Unanimous Consent

By Messrs. Heisinger, Stream, and Weber:

House Resolution No. 188

WHEREAS, Many bills have been introduced in the Legislature pertaining to gas taxes, fees or other charges upon motor vehicles, also to provide funds to survey or procure rights of way for highways for financing construction and reconstruction at this time and also for postwar purposes; and

WHEREAS, A Fact-Finding Committee from the State Senate states at page 690 of the Senate Journal of March 20, 1943 that State maintenance of highways is many millions of dollars in arrears; also it is generally known that the highways of State, counties and cities are all in need of millions of dollars to bring such highways to normal condition; and

WHEREAS, There have been introduced in the Assembly, bills which would extend the State Highway System more than 400 miles, some of which might cost $2,000,000 per mile and as it appears some of these highways should be a part of the State highway, a factual study could greatly assist the Legislators; and

WHEREAS, A Fact-Finding Committee might be able to reveal to the Legislature that certain motor vehicle taxes could be reduced, or at least equalized so that more equitable taxes could be placed upon the motoring public; and

WHEREAS, There is very little correlation between the State and county or city highways' building plans, which is not conducive to the best interests of all the people; and

WHEREAS, It is generally known that the highways of the State, the counties, and the cities are receiving destructive damage from war traffic, while at the same time highway funds have decreased by many millions of dollars; and

WHEREAS, The reports of the State Engineer and the county supervisors do not fully reveal the full damage suffered by the highways under war conditions; and

WHEREAS, The Legislature should be in possession of more factual and accurate information upon all matters referred to in this resolution; therefore, be it

Resolved, That a Committee of Three Members of the Assembly be appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly to make investigation of all matters referred to in this resolution.

Resolved, That the committee shall be empowered and requested to gather all facts possible from such departments of the State as may possess information on the subjects, also from the political subdivisions and to consult with State, county and city engineers.

Resolved, further, That the committee is instructed to make investigations at such places and at such times as may best serve it in securing facts upon which to make its report and recommendations to the Assembly not later than March 15, 1945.

There is hereby appropriated from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly the sum of fifteen hundred dollars ($1500), which may be expended by the committee to carry out the purposes of the resolution.

For the purposes of this resolution the committee shall have all the powers and privileges conferred upon an investigating committee by Rule 35 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly, as the same now exists or as hereafter from time to time be amended.

The Milk Products Act of 1941 requires that separate rooms be provided for the handling of milk and the sterilization of containers and equipment on dairy farms producing market milk. This act, by modifying this limitation so as to permit the sterilization of containers and equipment in the same room where milk is handled for the duration of the war or until the ninety-first day after the adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature will aid to increase the number of dairies which can qualify for the production of market milk. Explanations of Vote

My vote in opposition to Senate Bill No. 140 was occasioned by the inclusion in its provisions of others than Japanese. Chinese and others who are our allies in this war are also included, and I do not approve of such treatment for those who are fighting with us in this world conflict.

WILLIS SARGENT

Married women and children in their inheritance can be prejudiced by Senate Bill No. 140. The bill is so worded, I contend, that a husband may lose his wife's community property for less than one year in defiance of Senate Bill No. 140 (possibly in collusion with the alien) and lose the property which should go to his widow and children upon his death. Assemblyman O'Day's amendment would have corrected this situation, and enabled all of us to vote for the bill, but the amendments were refused passage.

BERNARD R. BRADY

WITHDRAWAL OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 159 FROM COMMITTEE BY UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. Waters asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to withdraw Assembly Bill No. 159 from the Committee on Finance and Insurance, for purpose of amendment, at this time.

COMMUNICATIONS

By the Committee on Rules and House Functions :

The following explanations of Assembly bills were received and ordered printed in the Journal :

Explanation of Assembly Bill No. 639, as Amended April 3, 1943, Proposing Amendments to the Corporation Income Tax Act
By CHAS. J. MCCOLGAN, Franchise Tax Commissioner

Amendment No. 1

This amendment is intended to clarify existing law. See Fifth Street Building vs. McColgan, 19 Cal. (2) 143.

The amendment is self-explanatory—merely defines "State" to include Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, District of Columbia and possessions of the United States. Will allow reciprocal exchange of information under Section 22 of the act with these governments.

Provides that Attorney General will be chief attorney in court litigation. In all other matters commissioner for counsel handles the legal work of the commissioner's office.

This amendment protects both the taxpayer and the State in case the former pays or the latter assesses a tax under the Franchise Tax Act which should have been assessed or paid under the Corporation Income Tax Act, i.e., the amendment treats the assessment or payment as having been made under the proper act.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 110A of Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment allows a transferee in a nontaxable exchange to pick up the same exemption of insurance, endowment, or annuity proceeds which was available to his transferor before the exchange. For example: A corporation transfers an insurance policy to another corporation in a tax-free reorganization. The proceeds received by the transferee corporation will be exempt if they would have been exempt if received by the transferor. Correlated to Section 12 (a) (5) and (6). Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 115 (a) of Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment provides that upon the termination of a lease the lessor will not have to include the income attributable to the value of improvements, other than rent, made by lessee in his gross income. This changes the law established in Helvering vs. Bruun, 309 U. S. 461 (1940), which held that improvements made by lessee constitute income to lessor to the extent of the value of the improvements at the time the lease is forfeited and lessor secures control and possession of property (except in case improvements are part of rent).

(See Amendment No. 46, post.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 116(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Prior to the 1942 act, the Federal rule as to taxation of recoveries of amounts previously deducted in loss years was that the recovery was income and taxable. (G.C.M. 22163 C.B. 1940—2.76) This is also our rule. See S(f) -1 of 1941 regulations. This amendment provides that recoveries of bad debts, taxes, and delinquency amounts are not taxable as income to the extent that prior deduction of such amounts did not reduce taxpayer's income tax liability.

Effective date—Retroactive, see Section 25(b) of Assembly Bill No. 639.

Adopts provisions of Section 114(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 to the effect that a taxpayer is not in receipt of income attributable to the discharge of indebtedness of taxpayer insofar as such income is attributable to the amortized discount with respect to such indebtedness provided the indebtedness was evidenced by a security. Unamortized premium not included in income and unamortized discount not deductible.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 9

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 114B of Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment provides that indebtedness of railroad company discharged in proceedings under the National Bankruptcy Act shall not constitute income. Unamortized premium not included in income, and unamortized discount not deductible.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 10

(Page 5, line 49)

Amendment consists of a rewording of the language relating to taxable stock dividends. What was formerly set forth in the negative is now set forth in the affirmative. See Helvering vs. Griffiths, U. S. (March 1, 1943).

This amendment would give taxpayers relief from the possibility of double taxation resulting from treating the gain from the sale or exchange of property as "earnings or profits" at the time a "tax-free exchange" is made and also when the property received in such exchange is sold. The same is true in case of a stock dividend that was exempted from taxation. The amendment provides in effect, that gain or loss, resulting from transactions, which is not recognized for the purpose of computing net income shall not be recognized for the purpose of computing "earnings and profits." This was copied from Section 501 of the Second Revenue Act of 1940 (Title V, thereof). This amendment clarifies our act to conform to our present administrative and the Federal bureau's interpretation of the Federal and our act. The Federal provision contained in Section 146 of Revenue Act of 1942 is adopted which provides that loss from wash sales disallowed under our act shall not be recognized for computing earnings and profits. The Federal made this change effective as if part of 501 of Second Revenue Act of 1940. Our effective date is January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 12

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 121(a) of Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment is self-explanatory merely states existing law. Our provision is made retroactive.

Amendment No. 13

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 121(c) (2) of Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment allows deductions for expenses incurred for production or collection of income, or the management, conservation or maintenance of property held for production of income. These expenses were previously disallowed as not incurred in carrying on a business as defined in Higgins vs. Commissioner, 312 U. S. 212, 61 S. Ct. 475.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 14*(Page 9, lines 19-32)*

The proposed amendments conform to Section 122 of Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment allows the deduction by purchaser of retail sales taxes, if tax is separately stated, formerly allowed only to retailer.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 15*(Page 14, lines 19, 24-28, and 32)*

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 124(a)(1) of Revenue Act of 1942, changes the test to "worthlessness" rather than "ascertained and charged off." The reason for this change is that the two requirements of the present law (1) debt must be ascertained and (2) must be charged off during the taxable year have caused difficulty especially the requirement of charge off where the taxpayer keeps inadequate records. The new test of the fact of worthless appears to be a better criterion. Provides special rule for debt which became worthless prior to January 1, 1943.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 16*(Page 14, line 36)*

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 121(c) of Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment allows depreciation deduction for property held for the purpose of carrying on activities which were formerly determined to be of a nontrade or business character in Higgins vs. Commissioner, 312 U. S. 212, 61 S. Ct. 475.

Amendment No. 17*(Page 14, lines 40-43)*

Amendment provides for allowance of depreciation on emergency facilities. Our section differs from Federal in merely providing generally for the deductions while Federal Act describes deduction in detail (See Section 124 of Internal Revenue Code.)

Effective date—See Section 25(d) of Assembly Bill No. 639.

Amendment No. 18*(Page 15, lines 11, 12, 47, 48, and page 16, lines 4-6, and elimination of language in line 6)*

Adopts Section 145(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Provides for basis of depletion for taxable years ending after December 31, 1942, in connection with "fluorspar, ball, and sagger clay, rock, asphalt" mines. Adopts Section 145(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Provides that for taxable years beginning after December 31, 1942, percentage depletion is extended to fluorspar, ball, sagger clay, or rock asphalt mines. Deletes that requirement that taxpayer making his first return under this act in respect of a property state whether he elects to have the depletion allowance computed with or without regard to percentage depletion.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 125 of Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment allows contributions to the United States, State, etc., and provides that for the duration of war contributions can be made which are to be used without the United States; also adopts provision that payment of gifts or contributions must be made within the taxable year.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment provides for a deduction for amounts paid by an employer to or under a plan creating an employees' trust or pension system, or a profit-sharing or annuity plan. Sets forth specifications of those plans which qualify and places limitations on the deductible amounts under such plans. Conforms to Section 162(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 126(a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942, would allow a bondholder, at his election, a deduction for amortization of bond premium and contains rules relative to the termination of the amortizable premium, method of amortization and amounts attributable to any income year. (See Amendment No 44, post.) Item formerly treated as a capital account.

Effective date—January 1, 1943

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 156(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 relative to allowance of loss incurred by reason of property seized or situated in a country under enemy control or in enemy country on or after December 7, 1941, in the course of military or naval operations incident to the present war. Contains detailed provisions relative to the basis of property so destroyed or seized and an adjustment to such basis, and provides method of computing income realized upon the recovery of any property so destroyed or seized. Establishes a convenient method of determining date of such loss.

Effective date—See Section 25(e) of Assembly Bill No 639.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 129 of the Revenue Act of 1942 Amendment disallows any deduction for amounts paid on indebtedness incurred to purchase life insurance or endowment contract of the single premium type, includes contracts in which substantially all the premiums are paid within four years from purchase.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

By adopting Section 130(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942, we would allow a taxpayer to capitalize taxes and carrying charges under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, in which event no deduction is allowable in respect to payments of such taxes or charges.

The effect of this proposed amendment is to permit a taxpayer to treat as chargeable to the capital account (either as a component or original cost, for the purposes of Section 12(a) or as an adjustment to basis for the purposes of Section 12(b)(1)(A) notwithstanding that they are expressly deductible under Section 7(c)) such taxes and carrying charges with respect to property if, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner are so chargeable, but expressly to prohibit the deductibility of the amounts thus charged to capital account in the exercise of such an election.

The clause with respect to unimproved and unproductive real property is proposed to be deleted from Section 12(b)(1)(A) so as to make it clear that the provisions of that subparagraph, to the effect that no adjustment of basis under that section shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years, are not limited to the case of taxes and carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but apply with equal force whether the property, to which accounts the items are properly chargeable, is real or personal, improved or unimproved, productive or unproductive.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(Page 26, lines 29, 31, 32, 33, and 39-42)

In 1939, Section 9(f) of the act was added, and incorporated verbatim, the provisions of Section 24(c) of the Internal Revenue Code. Amendments made to have provisions conform to our other taxing acts. Lines 39-42 would prohibit deduction for interest and expenses between closely held corporations.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Adds new section to cover situation and reflect income or loss attributable thereto by virtue of "renegotiations" effected under provisions of the "Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act" (Public 528, Seventy-seventh Congress, Second Session). The provisions of this amendment which were adopted from Section 508 of the Revenue Act of 1942 are believed self-explanatory. It is our opinion that by rule and regulation, the commissioner may make this section flexible enough to meet any situation which may arise involving this problem.

Effective date—Retroactive (See Section 25(b) of Assembly Bill No. 639)

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 118(a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Besides the ordinary method of keeping inventories, taxpayers are given the option of using the so-called "last in-first out" method. Federal act adopted this provision in 1938 and clarified same to its present form by Section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939.

The 1942 amendment (page 29, lines 5-10) provides that if such an election is made, all annual reports have to be based on the same inventory method (formerly all reports had to be so made) and also provides (page 28, lines 38-51, page 30, and page 31, lines 1-37) under prescribed conditions that relief will be granted to taxpayers who have made an election to use such inventory method and thereafter are forced, by war conditions to involuntarily liquidate, that is, adjustments are allowed to be made for the year of involuntary liquidation within three years of the war's termination if the goods so liquidated are replaced.

Taxpayers may use this alternative method of keeping their books to show profits and losses, receiving credit and making reports to shareholders, etc. They would be given this privilege for tax purposes as well. If adopted, it will tend to stabilize the revenue and will not reduce or increase the revenue. Makes the administration of our act easier, as it will conform to the Federal Act.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 28

(Page 32, lines 23-30)

Amendment No. 32

(Page 35, lines 28-32)

Amendment No. 34

(Page 36, lines 10-35)

These four amendments were copied from the 1939 amendments to Sections 112(b)(5), 112(g), 112(i) and 113(a)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code. To avoid the unjust and inequitable result effected by U. S. vs. Hendler, 58 S. Ct. 655, these amendments were made. In effect, the amendments provide that transferor will not have recognized gain where transferee in a tax-free exchange or reorganization assumes a liability of the transferor. Provides for an adjustment in transferor's basis to assure recognition of gain in future disposal of property received in exchange. Assures that what would otherwise be considered a tax-free exchange or reorganization will be considered such even though transferee assumes such liability.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 29

This amendment conforms to Section 112(b)(8) of the 1938 Revenue Act. It provides for nonrecognition of gain or loss from distributions ordered by the Securities Exchange Commission.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 30

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 142(a) of the Revenue Act.

Amendment provides for nonrecognition of loss if the property of a railroad is transferred in pursuance of a court order in a receivership proceeding or in a proceeding under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 31

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 151(d) and (e) of the Revenue Act.

Amendment provides that in the case of involuntary conversion, the loss shall be recognized but not the gain. If the money is not expended the gain, if any, shall be recognized to the extent of the money not expended (regardless of when received and whether the money which is not expended constitutes gain). Prior rule as held in Wilmore Steamship Co., Inc. vs. Commissioner, 78 Fed. 2d 667, was that if the money received in the taxable year is so expended, the gain in such taxable year will not be recognized, even though the money received in previous taxable years (and not treated as gain since not in excess of the basis of the converted property) was not so expended.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Merely changes wording to emphasize fact that section applies only to foreign corporation created or organized in a foreign country.

Amendment No. 35

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 143(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment merely clarifies existing law.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(Page 37, line 11)

The proposed amendment conforms to 143(b) of Revenue Act. Amendment provides basis for gift in trust to be computed in the same manner as in case of other gifts.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment to conform with Section 113(a) (19) of Internal Revenue Code (added in 1939). Provides that stock rights received in 1937 and subsequent years and constituting income will take a basis of fair market value as of the date of their distribution. Those acquired in prior years (except those acquired prior to 1937 which constitute income) and those not constituting income will share in the basis of old stock in respect to which they were issued. Breaks away from former administrative practice where taxpayer was given choice as to method of reporting gain or loss on sale of stock right. However, taxpayers who relied upon former practice are fully protected.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 142(b) of Revenue Act. This amendment is a change related to Section 11(b) (8) and permits the basis of property of railroad corporation in receivership or proceedings under National Bankruptcy Act to permit the basis of the property to be carried over undiminished to the reorganized corporation.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 142(c) of Revenue Act. This amendment same as preceding except it is applicable only to enumerated special types of railroad corporations.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 41

Amendment is complementary to Amendment No. 29, supra. Provides for a carry-over of stock received in liquidation of a corporation pursuant to orders of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission.

Amendment No. 42

(Page 41, line 22, elimination of language after the word "capital account")

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 130(b) of Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment merely complements the new Section 8(d) (2) relating to the election of capitalizing taxes and other charges by deleting language allowing an adjustment to basis for such charges. See explanation of Amendment No. 24.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 43

Explanation of Assembly Bill No. 640, as Amended April 3, 1943, Proposing Amendments to the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act

By CHARLES J. MCCOLGAN, Franchise Tax Commissioner

Amendment No. 1*(Page 2, lines 38-40)*

Proposed amendment accrues tax on "last" day of "income" year, whereas present tax accrues the same on the "first" day of the "taxable" year. (See Amendment No. 63, post.)

Amendment No. 2*(Page 3, lines 23, 26, 27, and 29-33)*

Provides that within 30 days after the determination of the rate, the commissioner shall mail notice of such determination to all banks and financial corporations which are then classified on his records as banks or financial corporations. Provides that the data used by the commissioner in determining the rate shall be available to the taxpayers affected by such determination, in manner prescribed by regulations adopted by the commissioner. Does not affect present rights and remedies of taxpayer for recovery of, or relief from tax erroneously assessed.

Amendment No. 3*(Page 3, lines 48-51)*

Enlarges definition of "bank" and "corporation" in accordance with principle announced in Fifth Street Building vs. McColgan, 19 C. 2d 143. Restates existing law.

Amendment No. 4*(Page 4, lines 4-8)*

Provides that Attorney General will be chief attorney in court litigation. In all other matters commissioner for counsel handles the legal work of the commissioner's office.

Amendment No. 6*(Page 4, lines 43-46)*

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 115(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment provides that upon the termination of a lease the lessor will not have to include the income attributable to the value of improvements, other than rent, made by lessee in his gross income. This changes the law established in Helvering vs. Bruun, 309 U. S. 461 (1940) which held that improvements made by lessee constitute income to the lessor to the extent of the value of the improvements at the time the lease is forfeited and lessor secures control and possession of property (except in case improvements are part of rent)

(See Amendment No. 52, post.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 116(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Prior to the 1942 act, the Federal rule as to taxation of recoveries of amounts previously deducted in loss years was that the recovery was income and taxable. (G. C. M.

22163 C. B. 1940 2:76.) This is also our rule. This amendment provides that recoveries of bad debts, taxes, and delinquency amounts are not taxable as income to the extent that prior deduction of such amounts did not reduce taxpayer's income tax liability.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 8

Adopts provisions contained in Section 114(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 to the effect that a taxpayer is not in receipt of income attributable to the discharge of indebtedness of taxpayer insofar as such income is attributable to the amortized discount with respect to such indebtedness provided the indebtedness was evidenced by a security.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 114(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment provides that indebtedness of railroad corporations discharged in proceeding under the National Bankruptcy Act shall not constitute income.

Effective date—January 1, 1943

(See Amendment No. 36, post.)

Amendment No. 10

(Page 7, line 9)

Amendment consists of a rewording of the language relating to taxable stock dividends. What was formerly set forth in the negative is now set forth in the affirmative. See Helvering vs. Griffiths.

U.S. (March 1, 1943).

This amendment would give taxpayers relief from the possibility of double taxation resulting from treating the gain from the sale or exchange of property as "earnings or profits" at the time a "tax-free exchange" is made and also when the property received in such exchange is sold. The same is true in case of a stock dividend that was exempted from taxation. The amendment provides in effect that gain or loss, resulting from transactions, which is not recognized for the purpose of computing net income shall not be recognized for the purpose of computing "earnings and profits." This was copied from Section 501 of the Second Revenue Act of 1940 (Title V, thereof). This amendment clarifies our act to conform to our present administrative and the Federal bureau's interpretation of the Federal and our act. The Federal provision contained in Section 146(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 is adopted which provides that loss from wash sales disallowed under our act shall not be recognized for computing earnings and profits. The Federal made this change effective as if part of 501 of Second Revenue Act of 1940.

Our effective date—January 1, 1943.

Incorporates provisions of Section 121(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 which provides that charitable contributions unallowable by virtue of other provisions of the act may not be claimed as business expenses. This is merely in clarification of the act as it now exists.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Follows Section 122 of the Revenue Act of 1942 in allowing retail sales tax paid as a deduction from income if the tax is separately stated.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(Page 15, lines 20, 25-29, and 33)

Follows Section 124(a) (1) of Revenue Act of 1942 by removing the requirements of "ascertainment" and "charge-off" within the taxable year as a prerequisite to allowance of deduction for bad debts. The amendment provides that the test of whether or not the deduction is allowable is dependent upon the year in which the debt "became" worthless. Provides special rule for deduction which became worthless prior to January 1, 1943.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(See Amendment No. 60, post.)

Amendment No. 15*(Page 15, lines 40-43)*

Permits a taxpayer an election to claim a deduction for amortization of emergency facilities (as defined by Section 124 of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended) under regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Retroactive—See Section 27(d) of Assembly Bill No. 640.

Amendment No. 16*(Page 16, lines 11, 12, 48-49, and page 17, lines 4-6, elimination of language at end of line 6)*

Conforms to Section 114(b)(2) of the Revenue Code by providing for basis of depletion for income years ending after December 31, 1942, in connection with "fluorspar, ball, and sagger clay, rock asphalt" mines. Adopts Section 114(b)(4) of the Revenue Code and provides that for income years beginning after December 31, 1942, percentage depletion is extended to fluorspar, ball, and sagger clay or rock asphalt mines. Deletes requirement that a taxpayer making his first return under this act in respect of a property state whether he elects to have the depletion allowance computed with or without regard to percentage depletion.

By adopting provisions of Section 125 of the Revenue Act, a corporation would be entitled to claim a deduction for contribution to a charitable trust, fund, etc., which contributions are to be used without the United States; provided, that such a deduction is limited to payments made during an income year beginning within a period prior to cessation of hostilities in the present war. Present law provides that such contributions or gifts are only allowable if the contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 126(a) and (b) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Would allow a bondholder, at his election, a deduction for amortization of bond premium and contains rules relative to the termination of the amortizable premium, method of amortization and amounts attributable to any income year. Formerly, gains and losses were capitalized.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 19*(Page 19, lines 35-52, page 20, page 21, and page 22, lines 1-17)*

Amendment provides for a deduction for amounts paid by an employer to or under a plan creating an employee's trust or pension system, or a profit sharing or annuity plan. Sets forth specifications of those plans which qualify and places limitations on the amounts paid under such plans which are deductible by the employer. Conforms to Section 162(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Conforms to Section 156(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 relative to allowance of loss incurred by reason of property being destroyed or seized on or after December 7, 1941, in the course of military or naval operations incident to the present war. Contains detailed provisions relative to basis of property so destroyed or seized and adjustments to such basis, and provides method of computing income realized upon the recovery of any property so destroyed or seized.

Effective date—See Section 27(d) of Assembly Bill No. 640.

Amendment No. 21*(Page 27, lines 4-11)*

Conforms to Section 129 of the Revenue Act of 1942 by disallowing any deductions paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred to purchase life insurance or endowment contracts of the single premium type, and also includes contracts in which substantially all of premiums are paid within four years from purchase.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

By adopting Section 130(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 would allow the taxpayer to capitalize taxes and carrying charges, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, in which event no deduction would be allowable in respect to payments of such taxes or charges.

The effect of this proposed amendment is to permit a taxpayer to treat as chargeable to the capital account (either as a component or original cost, for the purpose of Section 21(a), or as an adjustment to basis for the purpose of Section 21(b)(1)(A), notwithstanding that they are expressly deductible under Section 8(c)) such taxes and carrying charges with respect to property if, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner are so chargeable, but expressly to prohibit the deductibility of the amounts thus charged to capital account in the exercise of such an election.

The clause with respect to unimproved and unproductive real property is proposed to be deleted from Section 21(b)(1)(A) so as to make it clear that the provisions of that subparagraph, to the effect that no adjustment of basis under that section shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years, are not limited to the case of taxes and carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but apply with equal force, whether the property to which accounts the items are properly chargeable is real or personal, improved or unimproved, productive or unproductive.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

If amended, would disallow deductions for expenses incurred or interest accrued if the corporation to which payment is to be made owns, or is owned by, the taxpayer to the extent of more than 50 per cent in value of the outstanding stock and payee is on cash basis.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Adds new section to cover situation and reflect income or loss attributable thereto by virtue of "renegotiations" effected under provisions of the "Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act" (Public 528, Seventy-seventh Congress, Second Session). The provisions of this amendment which were adopted from Section 508 of the Revenue Act of 1942 are believed self-explanatory. It is our opinion that by rule and regulation the commissioner may make this section flexible enough to meet any situation which may arise involving this problem.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Technical amendment which merely adds definition of the word "State."

Amendment No. 26

Adopts provisions of Revenue Code, Section 42(b) and allows holder of non-interest bearing obligations issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals, to treat, when its method of accounting does not reflect such increase as income, such increase as income in the year in which it occurs. Once election is made it shall be binding in reporting income for subsequent years and in respect to similar obligations acquired.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Mere change in wording of Section 12(c), and adds new subsection covering computation of refunds under certain circumstances where tax for "short" periods is placed on an annual basis. Affects financial corporations only. Conforms to Sections 135(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Amendment protects taxpayers who erroneously file returns under this act instead of the Corporation Income Tax Act, i.e., treats return as having been filed under latter. Affords same relief if taxes have been paid under one act when payment should have been made under other.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 29

(By elimination of language after the word "occurs" in line 34 and 50 on page 34, page 35, lines 1-12)

Provides for the computation of taxes, where one corporation, pursuant to a reorganization, transfers all of its business and property to another corporation, i.e., provides that the transferee shall within the time specified file a return and pay a tax for the transferor in the same manner that the transferor would have if the transfer had not occurred and the transferor had continued operations.

Section 14 of the act is amended to have the third paragraph conform to the first paragraph, i.e., not necessary to find that corporation has made intercorporate contract to allocate income outside State. The commissioner has always had this power under paragraph 1 of Section 14 and therefore no change is effected and the act is merely clarified. To prevent evasion of taxes and consistent with the recent decision of the Supreme Court in Butler Bros. vs. McColgan, 62 S. Ct. 701.

Amendment No. 31

Covers instances where no returns are filed. Provides in effect that the commissioner may, at any time, require a return or make an estimate of tax due, i.e., makes it clear that there is no statute of limitations where a return is not filed.

Effective—Retroactive.

The proposed amendment conforms to Sections 118 and 119 of Revenue Act of 1942, Section 22(d) of the code, effective January 1, 1939.

Besides the ordinary method of keeping inventories, taxpayers are given the option of using the so-called "last in-first out" method. Federal act adopted this provision in 1938, and clarified same to its present form in Section 219 of the Revenue Act of 1939.

The 1942 amendments (page 38, lines 40-48) provide that if such an election is made all annual reports have to be based on the same inventory method (formerly all reports had to be so made) and also provides that relief, (page 39, lines 24-51, pages 30 and 41, lines 1 to 24) under prescribed conditions will be granted to taxpayers who have made an election to use such inventory method and thereafter are forced by war conditions to involuntarily liquidate; that is, adjustments are allowed to be made for the year of involuntary liquidation within three years of the war's termination, if the goods so liquidated are replaced.

Some taxpayers use this alternative method of keeping their books to show profits and losses, receiving credit and making reports to shareholders, etc. They would be given this privilege for tax purposes as well. If adopted it will tend to stabilize and will not reduce or increase the revenue. Makes the administration of our act easier, as it will conform to the Federal act.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 33

(Page 42, lines 9-17)

Amendment No. 37

(Page 45, lines 16-20)

(Page 45, lines 50-52 and page 46, lines 1-23)

These four amendments were copied from the 1939 amendments to Sections 112(b)(5), 112(g), 112(i) and 113(a)(6) of the Internal Revenue Code. To avoid the unjust and inequitable result effected by U. S. vs. Hendler, 58 S. Ct. 653, these amendments were made. In effect, the amendments provide that transferor will not have recognized gain where transferee in a tax-free exchange or reorganization assumes a liability of the transferor. Provides for an adjustment in transferor's basis to assure recognition of gain in future disposal of property received in exchange. Assures that what would otherwise be considered a tax-free exchange or reorganization will be considered such even though transferee assumes such liability.

Adopts provisions of Section 112(b)(8) of the Revenue Act of 1938 in providing for nonrecognition of gain or loss from distributions ordered by the Securities Exchange Commission.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 142(a) of the Revenue Act and 112(b)(9) of the code.

Amendment provides for nonrecognition of loss if the property of a railroad is transferred in pursuance of a court order in a receivership proceeding or in a proceeding under Section 77 of the Bankruptcy Act.

Effective—January 1, 1943.

(See Amendment No. 9, supra.)

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 151(d) and (e) of the Revenue Act. Amendment to conform to Section 151(d) (e) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Provides that in the case of involuntary conversion, the gain shall not be recognized but the loss shall be recognized and that the money received constitutes gain, regardless of when received and whether the money which is not expended constitutes gain. Prior rule as held in Wilmore Steamship Company, Inc vs Commissioner, 78 Fed. 2d 567, was that if the money received in the taxable year is so expended, the gain in such taxable year will not be recognized even though the money received in previous taxable years (and not treated as gain since not in excess of the basis of the converted property) was not so expended.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Merely changes wording to emphasize fact that section applies only to foreign corporations created or organized in a foreign country.

Amendment No. 40

Adopts provisions of Section 143(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 relating to basis for computing loss on sale or exchange of property acquired by gift. Amendment one of clarification.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(Page 46, line 51)

Conforms to Section 143(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942 by providing basis of gift in trust to be computed in same manner as that of a gift.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Adds a new subsection to protect taxpayers who relied upon Attorney General's opinion N.S. 44 which held that no gain or loss was to be recognized upon a liquidation of a wholly owned subsidiary, i.e. was a tax-free reorganization. Section 20(b) (6) was added in 1939 to provide for this nonrecognition. Recently, the Attorney General in Opinion N.S. 3119 ruled that such liquidation constituted a reorganization but that prior to Section 20(b) (6) gain or loss was to be recognized. This amendment will protect the State and taxpayers who relied upon Opinion N.S. 44, i.e. State will eventually receive tax but its collection is temporarily postponed.

Amendment to conform with Section 113(a) (19) of Internal Revenue Code (added in 1939). Provides that stock rights received in 1937 and subsequent years and constituting income will take a basis of fair market value as of the date of their distribution. Those acquired in prior years (except those acquired prior to 1928 which constitute income) and those not constituting income will share in the basis of old stock in respect to which they were issued. Breaks away from former administrative practice where taxpayer was given choice as to method of reporting gain or loss on sale of stock right. However, taxpayers who relied upon former practice are fully protected.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 45

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 142(b) of the Revenue Act, 113(a) (20) of the code.

This amendment is a change related to Section 11(b) (8) and permits the basis of property of railroad corporation in receivership or proceedings under National Bankruptcy Act to permit the basis of the property to be carried over undiminished to the reorganized corporation.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

(See Amendment No. 9, supra.)

Explanation of Assembly Bill No. 641, as Amended April 3, 1943, Proposing Amendments to the Personal Income Tax Act

By CHAS. J. MCCOLGAN, Franchise Tax Commissioner

Effective date—See Section 20(b) of Assembly Bill No. 641.

Definition of military or naval forces of the United States for purposes of proposed Sections 7(b)(10) and 34.2. Conforms to Section 511 of the Revenue Act of 1942. Effective retroactively.

Proposed amendments eliminate alimony payments, within the provisions of Section 7(k) from the exemptions prescribed by Sections 7(b)(1)(2).

Effective date—See Section 20(b) of Assembly Bill No. 641. Conforms to Section 120(d) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Proposed amendment treats amounts received under an annuity contract plan (which would meet the requirements of Section 12(f) if the trust device had been used instead of the annuity plan) in same way as amounts received under pension trusts as provided by Section 12(f), i.e. not taxable to employee until he receives payments under the plan or such payments are made available to him

If the annuity contract is not purchased under such plan and the employees' rights are nonforfeitable (except for failure to pay premiums) the amount paid by the employer each year shall be included in the income of the employee

However, if the employee's rights are forfeitable at the time of the contributions, it is not treated as employee's income until the employee receives the same.

Effective date—See Section 20(c) of Assembly Bill No. 641.

Amendment No. 6

Proposed amendment to Section 7(b)(3) to conform to Section 111(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Merely clarifies Section 7(b)(3) because we have interpreted our act in this manner relying on Duin vs. Garit, 268 U. S. 161, and the 1937 amendment to Section 12(d)(2).

Proposed amendments would (1) exclude from exemption amounts received under an accident or health insurance act which are attributable to deductions taken under Section 8(q) for medical care expenses, (lines 16-18); and (2) would grant exemption to pension, etc., received for personal injuries resulting from service in the armed forces of any country (lines 22-25).

Conforms to Sections 113 and 17(d) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 8*(Page 5, lines 44-47)*

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 115(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment provides that upon the termination of a lease the lessor will not have to include the income attributable to the value of improvements, other than rent, made by lessee in his gross income. This changes the law established in Hieberling vs. Bruun, 309 U. S. 461 (1940) which held that improvements made by lessee constitute income to lessor to the extent of the value of the improvements at the time the lease is forfeited and lessor secures control and possession of property (except in case improvements are part of rent).

(See Amendment No. 43, post, for complementary basis provision.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 116(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Prior to the 1942 act, the Federal rule as to taxation of recoveries of amounts previously deducted in loss years was that the recovery was income and taxable. (G. C. M. 22163 C. B. 1940 2:76.) This is also our rule. See 8(f)-1 of the 1941 Regulations. This amendment provides that recoveries of bad debts, taxes, and delinquency amounts are not taxable as income to the extent that prior deduction of such amounts did not reduce taxpayer's income tax liability.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 10*(Page 6, lines 51-52, page 7, lines 1-4, 21-25, and 34-49, page 8 and page 9, lines 1-36)*

Conforms to Section 118(a) (b) and 119 of the Revenue Act of 1942 relating to "last in-first out" method of keeping inventories which we first provided for in 1941.

First amendment (page 6, lines 51-52 and page 7, lines 1-4 and 21-25) provides if election, to use such inventory method, is made, a taxpayer must make all annual reports on the basis of such method (formerly all reports had to be so made). See Section 118(a) (b) of Revenue Act of 1942.

Second amendment (page 7, lines 32-49, page 8, and page 9, lines 1-36) provides relief, under prescribed conditions, to taxpayers who have made such an election and thereafter are forced, by war conditions, involuntarily, to liquidate, that is, adjustment may be made, for the year of involuntary liquidation, within three years of the war's termination—if the goods so liquidated are replaced. See Section 119 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 11*(Page 9, between lines 47 and 48)*

Language purporting to treat royalty, etc., income as California income, which was added in 1941, is deleted. Matter was litigated in the superior court (Sacramento County) in Hazeltine Case, and court held such income, in absence of business situs, was out of State income. Conclusion reached that California could not constitutionally tax such income to a nonresident and thus this deletion.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 12*(Page 10, lines 6-7 and 9-12)*

This amendment is merely a rewording of the existing section to clarify the meaning thereof. Conforms to Article 7(f) (6) (d) of 1941 regulations.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 13*(Page 10, line 36, after the words "recognized only to the extent provided in Section 92")*

Eliminated language which treated losses by stockholders in partial liquidation as limited capital losses. Under proposed language they would be 100 per cent deductible. Conforms to Section 147 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Amendment No. 14*(Page 11, lines 12-16)*

Amendment consists of a rewording of the language relating to taxable stock dividends. What was formerly set forth in the negative is now set forth in the affirmative. See Helvering vs. Griffiths, U. S. (March 1, 1943).

Amendment No. 15*(Page 12, lines 29-33)*

This proposed amendment conforms to Section 146(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942 and provides that loss from wash sales disallowed under our corporation tax acts shall not be recognized in computing earnings and profits. Liberalizes 1941 amendment.

Amendment No. 16*(Page 14, lines 6-45)*

Recipient of alimony, payable periodically, is taxable thereon if paid pursuant to court decree divorcing or separating spouses. Lump sums excepted unless payable in installments extending over more than 10 years. Child support—payments taxable to payor. If trust annuity, life insurance, etc., device used, payor excludes amounts from gross income. Conforms to Section 120(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Effective date—Section 20(b) of Assembly Bill No. 641 (generally effective on or after January 1, 1943).

(See Amendments Nos. 27, 49, and 53.)

The proposed amendment liberalizes the existing provision as to reporting sums received in one year for services performed over a period of years and provides that if at least 80 per cent of the total compensation for personal services (covering a period of 36 calendar months) is received in one year, it shall not be taxed higher than if received yearly.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Conforms to Section 139 of the Revenue Act of 1942.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 134(e) of the Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment changes existing law that income of a decedent be accrued as of date of death and provides that the income shall be taxed to the beneficiary in the same manner as if the decedent had received the income. Deductions will be treated in the same manner as described for the treatment of income. Deduction granted for inheritance taxes, Helvering vs. Enright, 312 U.S. 636, nullified.

(See Amendments Nos. 31 and 55, post.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 19*(Page 17, lines 37-42)*

Proposed amendment incorporates provisions of Section 121(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Provides that charitable contributions which are not allowable by virtue of Section 8(1) of the act may not be claimed as business expenses. This is merely in clarification of the act as it now exists.

Effective date—Retroactive.

Amendment No. 20*(Page 17, lines 43-46)*

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 121(a)(2) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 21*(Page 18, lines 29-42)*

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 22*(Page 23, lines 20, 25-30, 33 and 39)*

Follows Section 12(a) (1) of the Revenue Act of 1942 by removing the requirements of "ascertainment" and "charge-off" within the taxable year as a prerequisite to allowance of deduction for bad debts. The amendment provides that the test of whether or not the deduction is allowable is dependent upon the year in which the debt "became" worthless. Page 23, lines 25-30, provides special rule for debts which were worthless prior to January 1, 1943.

(See Amendment No. 59, post.)

Amendment No. 23*(Page 24, lines 30 and 31)*

The proposed amendment conforms to Section 121(c) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Amendment allows depreciation deduction for property held for purpose of carrying on activities which were formerly determined to be of a nontrade or nonbusiness character in Higgins vs. Commissioner, 312 U.S. 212, 61 S Ct 475.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 24*(Page 24, lines 32-35)*

(See Amendment No. 18, supra.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Adds new section to cover situation and reflect income or loss attributable thereto by virtue of "renegotiations" effected under provisions of the "Sixth Supplemental National Defense Appropriation Act" (Public 528, Seventy-seventh Congress, Second Session). The provisions of this amendment which were adopted from Section 508 of the Revenue Act of 1942 are believed self-explanatory. It is our opinion that by rule and regulation the commissioner may make this section flexible enough to meet any situation which may arise involving this problem.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

By adopting Section 130(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942, we would allow a taxpayer to capitalize taxes and carrying charges under regulations prescribed by the commissioner in which event no deduction is allowable in respect to payments of such taxes or charges.

The effect of this proposed amendment is to permit a taxpayer to treat as chargeable to the capital account (either as a component or original cost, for the purpose of Section 93(a), or as an adjustment to basis for the purpose of Section 93(b)(1)(A), notwithstanding that they are expressly deductible under Section 8(c)) such taxes and carrying charges with respect to property if, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner are so chargeable, but expressly to prohibit the deductibility of the amounts thus charged to capital account in the exercise of such an election.

The clause with respect to unimproved and unproductive real property is proposed to be deleted from Section 93(b)(1)(A) so as to make it clear that the provisions of that subparagraph, to the effect that no adjustment of basis under that section shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years, are not limited to the case of taxes and carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but apply with equal force, whether the property to which accounts the items are properly chargeable is real or personal, improved or unimproved, productive or unproductive.

Prior rule as held in Wilmore Steamship Company, Inc. vs. Commissioner, 78 Fed. 2d 567, was that if the money received in the taxable year is so expended, the gain in such taxable year will not be recognized even though the money received in previous taxable years (and not treated as gain since not in excess of the basis of the converted property) was not so expended.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 38

Adopts provisions of Section 143(a) of the Revenue Act of 1942. Relates to basis for computing loss on sale or exchange of property acquired by gift. Amendment one of clarification.

(Page 46, line 22, and eliminates language formerly found between the words "capital account" and "by no such adjustment")

Conforms to Section 130(b) of Revenue Act of 1942. This amendment merely complements the new Section 9(a)(7) relating to the election of capitalization of taxes and other charges.

(See explanation to Amendment No. 36, supra.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 41

Provides for adjustment to basis of emergency facilities where amortization thereof has not been claimed.

Effective date—See Section 20(e) of Assembly Bill No. 641.

Amendment No. 42

(Page 46, lines 43-49)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 115(b) of the Revenue Act of 1942. It is a complementary section to new Section 7(b)(8) and provides that basis of the property of lessor is not affected by the value of improvements which the lessor acquires on the termination of a lease and the value thereof is excludible from gross income.

(See Amendment No. 8, supra.)

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Proposed amendment conforms to Section 152 of the Revenue Act of 1942. Provides that the holding period of stock acquired through the exercise of stock rights shall start from the date the right to acquire stock was exercised.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Amendment No. 47*(Page 49, lines 8-40)*

Section 9.4(b) is proposed to be amended to exclude "real property used in the trade or business of the taxpayer" from the term "capital assets" as used in the act. If no other amendment was proposed, gains and losses from such property would thus be 100 per cent taxable or deductible. This proposed amendment provides special rules for such property which is subject to an allowance for depreciation and is not property includible in the inventory of a taxpayer or held by him primarily for sale. Gains and losses from such property are only to be taxable or deducted fully in cases where the gains from the sale or exchanges of the same, plus the gains from the sale of capital assets, do not exceed the losses from the sale or exchanges of such property.

Effective date—January 1, 1943.

Article 4. Special Service Paroles

3100. In order to assist in meeting the growing crisis in manpower in the present war emergency and also to further the rehabilitation of men in the several prisons and jails in this State, there is hereby created for the duration of said war emergency a system or form of parole to be known as special service parole for release of such men into the armed forces of the United States through the facilities of National Selective Service.

3101. The agencies charged with administering the provisions of this article shall at all times work in cooperation with National Selective Service and be familiar with the rules and regulations thereof and with the type of men acceptable thereto.

3102. The agencies charged with administering the provisions of this article shall make such rules and regulations, not inconsistent with law, as it may deem necessary in relation to the granting of selective service paroles in order to effectuate the purposes of this article.

3103. The Division of Prison Terms and Paroles is hereby charged with the administration of the provisions of this article with respect to selective service paroles of prisoners in State prisons. The board of parole commissioners of each county is hereby charged with similar duties with respect to prisoners under their control. Said county boards, however, shall in the exercise of said duties cooperate with and conform to the pattern or system of selective service parole prescribed by the rules and regulations of the Division of Prison Terms and Paroles to the end that the functions of all said agencies shall be coordinated into a uniform system that will best meet the needs of National Selective Service.

3104. Special service paroles are paroles granted by the Board of Prison Terms and Paroles or by a county board of parole commissioners, as the case may be, to men in State prisons and county or city jails, who are qualified for service in the armed forces according to the National Selective Service Act and rules and regulations made pursuant thereto. Persons given this parole shall go directly from custody into the hands of military authorities and shall in no case be paroled to civilian life.

3105. Special service paroles shall be conditional in nature and shall continue in force, unless sooner revoked, for a period of time equal to the maximum term of imprisonment theretofore fixed for the parolee.

3106. Such persons given such paroles who complete their service in some branch of the armed forces and receive an honorable discharge therefrom may then be eligible for full pardon from the Governor even though they have not served their full period of parole by the end of their period of service, or such person may petition the authority granting his parole for a full discharge from parole and the paroling authority may consider the honorable discharge from any branch of the armed services as ground for granting such discharge.

Should no pardon or discharge be granted then the parole shall continue according to law.

3107. The names and records of all men granted special service paroles shall be kept in the confidential files of the administrative agency, but shall be available to the Governor, the Attorney General, the Advisory Pardon Board, National Selective Service and the military authorities, including the commanding officer of any such parolee.

3108. With respect to State prisoners, no prisoner who has had imposed upon him two or more cumulative or consecutive sentences shall be eligible for special service parole, until he has served, at least one calendar year, of the aggregate of such cumulative or consecutive sentences.

3109. No prisoner confined in the State prison, and no prisoner under sentence to the State prison, who is convicted of an escape or an attempt to escape from the prison or the guards shall be eligible for special service parole, until he has served at least one calendar year from and after the date of his return to the prison after such conviction.

3110. No prisoner who has served a previous sentence in a State prison, in this or any other State, or in a Federal penitentiary, shall be eligible for special service parole, until he has served at least one calendar year.

3111. No prisoner under a life sentence shall be eligible for special service parole, until he has served at least five calendar years.

3112. In all other cases not specially provided for in the sections immediately preceding, no prisoner shall be eligible for special service parole until he has served in a State prison either the minimum term of imprisonment provided by law for the crime of which he was convicted, or one year, whichever may be deemed best within the discretion of the paroling authorities. In special meritorious cases special service parole may be granted a prisoner who has served nine months with benefit of credits.

3113. The Board of Prison Terms and Paroles and the Governor shall have, over persons granted special service paroles, the same rights and powers of revocation as are now possessed in all other paroles as provided under this title.

3114. The dishonorable discharge of a special service parolee from the armed forces shall be sufficient cause for revocation of parole, whether such dishonorable discharge occurs either during or after the present war.

3115. All persons granted special service paroles shall report in writing by mail directly to the agency which paroled him at such intervals as that agency may prescribe. Such report shall consist of a statement that said parolee is still serving in the armed forces, and, so far as military regulations will permit, shall designate the particular military organization with which he is serving together with such other matters as the paroling agency shall prescribe. Such report shall be approved by the unit commander of the parolee.

3116. It shall be permissible for any and all men who, at the time this article becomes law, are on parole from any State prison or county jail in California, to apply to the authority which placed them on parole for permission to be placed on the special service parole for the purpose of entering the armed forces. Any and all such persons who then enter the armed forces become subject to all of the duties, obligations, and rights embodied in the article in relation to discharge, pardon, reporting, and revocation of parole."

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting urgency are as follows:

There are now many able-bodied men serving time in State prisons, county jails and city jails who, if given an opportunity to serve in the armed forces could materially assist the military manpower needs of this Nation. This legislation would not only provide men for armed service but would also provide a method of rehabilitation. COUNTY SUPERVISORS ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, April 20, 1943

*Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature Assembly
Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR OHNIMUS Attached hereto is a copy of a resolution adopted by the County Supervisors Association of California in a meeting held in Sacramento Friday, April 16, 1943, relating to Japanese now in relocation centers.

Very truly yours,

COUNTY SUPERVISORS ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA
ROSCOE L. PATTERSON, President
By J. H. HUNTER, Secretary

COUNTY SUPERVISORS ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA HEADQUARTERS RESOLUTION

In the matter of the release of Japanese from Relocation Centers, and, or, their induction into the armed forces of the United States of America

WHEREAS, It has been announced through the press:

1. That the Secretary of War contemplates that some 28,000 native-born Japanese shall be incorporated into the United States Army in separate combat units; and
2. That the Federal authorities contemplate the release of from 25,000 to 40,000 Japanese from relocation camps where they are now restrained, with no announced provision of adequate surveillance or control; and

WHEREAS, The County Supervisors Association of California believes that such contemplated action would be inimical to the best interests and to the welfare and effective defense of our Country; be it

Resolved, That we most vigorously and earnestly protest against the above proposed actions and each of them, that we convey this protest to the Secretary of War, to the War Relocation Board, to our Congressmen and Senators, to the President of the United States and to the Legislature of the State of California.

That we urge upon these authorities the following reasons, based upon an extensive experience with the Japanese for more than 40 years, an intimate knowledge of their character, and our observation of what occurred on December 7, 1941, and immediately thereafter:

(1) Following Pearl Harbor and for the defense of the West Coast against attack and sabotage, the Army wisely moved the Japanese from the Pacific Coast. Now to permit them to return to their former habitat would subject us again to the danger of serious sabotage and difficulty in defending our shore line in the event of attack.

(2) Due to the temper of the American public since the dastardly attack at Pearl Harbor we feel that it would be detrimental to the best interests of the Japanese themselves to allow them to return for residence on the West Coast, and that difficult additional policing problems would be presented thereby in effecting their safety.

(3) It is impossible to distinguish between loyal and disloyal Japanese. We are in no position to judge the emotions of the Japanese in as much as they have maintained their own schools and religion, and in many cases, dual citizenship with their main allegiance to the Emperor of Japan.

(4) If Japanese were allowed to return to this area we could not expect the cooperation of present agricultural or industrial laborers already engaged in the war effort if they were called upon to work with Japanese evacuees.

(5) To allow young Japanese to leave relocation camps for educational purposes in our colleges would be unjust and inequitable as it affects our own American boys who have been taken out of college and are so loyally serving their Country in the armed forces to the detriment of their education and employment.

(6) It is the opinion of the County Supervisors Association that these Japanese should be contributing substantially to the war effort but we feel that it should be in areas removed from the Pacific Coast and by group movement under full and proper control and supervision by the Army. In no event should they be disbursed throughout the Country without proper provision for absolute surveillance and control; be it further

Resolved, That the Japanese, both alien and American born, should be retained in relocation centers for the duration unless they are placed under direct and absolute supervision and full control of Army authority and engaged in the furtherance of our war effort.

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The time of an enemy attack on, or invasion of, the State of California is unpredictable. It may well occur after the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature and before the statutes would normally take effect if not enacted as urgency measures. It is therefore imperative that no risk be taken that the State will be powerless to expend moneys necessary for the immediate and temporary relief, protection and safeguarding of the health and safety of persons in this State in the case of such an event.

It is also essential to the successful prosecution of the war that all moneys in the State treasury not required for immediate expenditures be made available to the Government of the United States by means of purchases of securities of said Government, and insofar as this act authorizes the immediate expenditure of all or a portion of the moneys appropriated for this act it will contribute to the successful prosecution of the war."

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Revenue from the sale of motor vehicle fuel is decreasing and in addition the counties and cities and counties are not receiving all of the moneys which otherwise would be distributed to them from the Motor Vehicle Fuel Fund because of the retention of part thereof to pay obligations incurred by the counties and cities and counties under the Unemployment Relief Bond Act of 1933. The appropriation made by this act is intended to grant to the counties and cities and counties the sums of money that otherwise would normally be received by them under the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Law were it not for the decrease in revenues and the deduction under the Unemployment Relief Bond Act of 1933. Unless this appropriation is made immediately, the counties and cities and counties will be without funds necessary for the proper repair and reconstruction of roads and highways to the consequent detriment of the public peace, health, and safety."

17250. The amount of all items of gross income in respect of a decedent which are not properly includible in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death or a prior period shall be included in the gross income, for the taxable year when received, of.

(a) The estate of the decedent, if the right to receive the amount is acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent;

(b) The person who, by reason of the death of the decedent, acquires the right to receive the amount, if the right to receive the amount is not acquired by the decedent's estate from the decedent; or

(c) The person who acquires from the decedent the right to receive the amount by bequest, devise, or inheritance, if the amount is received after a distribution by the decedent's estate of such right.

17251. If a right, described in Section 17250, to receive an amount is transferred by the estate of the decedent or a person who receives such right by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, there shall be included in the gross income of the estate or such person, as the case may be, for the taxable period in which the transfer occurs, the fair market value of the right at the time of such transfer plus the amount by which any consideration for the transfer exceeds the fair market value.

The right, described in Section 17250, to receive an amount shall be treated, in the hands of the estate of the decedent or any person who acquired such right by reason of the death of the decedent, or by bequest, devise, or inheritance from the decedent, as if it had been acquired by the estate or person in the transaction by which the decedent acquired that right. The amount includible in gross income under Sections 17250 and 17251 shall be considered in the hands of the estate or person to have the character which it would have had in the hands of the decedent if the decedent had lived and received that amount.

The amount of any deduction specified in Sections 17301, 17304, and 17305 (relating to deductions for expenses, interest and taxes), in respect of a decedent which is not properly allowable to the decedent in respect of the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, or a prior period, shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid to the estate of decedent. But if the estate of the decedent is not liable to discharge the obligation to which the deduction relates, the amount of the deduction shall be allowed to the person who, by reason of the death of the decedent or by bequest, devise, or inheritance acquires, subject to that obligation, from the decedent an interest in property of the decedent.

The net value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17250 shall be the excess of the value for inheritance tax purposes of all the items described in Section 17250 over the deductions from the gross estate in respect of claims which represent the deductions described in Sections 17254 and 17255. Article 15. Plans Deferring Receipt of Compensation 17324. In computing net income, if contributions are paid by an employer to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or if compensation is paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of the compensation, contributions or compensation shall not be deductible under Section 17301 but shall be deductible, if deductible under Section 17301 without regard to this article, under this article but only to the extent allowed under Sections 17324.1, 17324.2, 17324.3, and 17324.4.

17324.1. There shall be a deduction allowed in the taxable year when paid of contributions paid into a pension trust.

17324.2. If the taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Article 3 of Chapter 8, the amount deductible is:

(a) An amount not in excess of 5 per cent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to all the employees under the trust, but the amount may be reduced for future years if found by the commissioner upon periodical examinations at not less than five-year intervals to be more than the amount reasonably necessary to provide the remaining unfunded cost of past and current service credits of all employees under the plan, plus

(b) Any excess over the amount allowable under (a) necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the commissioner. However, if the remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 per cent of the remaining unfunded cost, the amount of the unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five taxable years.

17324.3. In lieu of the amounts allowable under Section 17324.2, the amount deductible may be

(a) An amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, plus

(b) If past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount not in excess of 10 per cent of the cost which would be required to completely fund or purchase the pension or annuity credits as of the date when they are included in the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, except that in no case shall a deduction be allowed for any amount (other than the normal cost) paid in after such pension or annuity credits are completely funded or purchased.

17324.4. Any amount paid in a taxable year in excess of the amount deductible in that year under Sections 17324.2 and 17324.3 shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for that year.

17324.5. A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, in an amount determined in accordance with this article, if the contributions are paid toward the purchase of retirement annuities and that purchase is a part of a plan which meets the requirement of Sections 18159, 18160, 18161, and 18162 and if refunds of premiums, if any, are applied within current taxable year or next succeeding taxable year toward the purchase of these retirement annuities.

17324.6. A deduction shall be allowed in the taxable year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if the taxable year ends within or with a taxable year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Article 3 of Chapter 8 in an amount not in excess of 15 per cent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan.

17324.7. If in any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under Section 17324.6, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible, shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this section in any succeeding taxable year shall not exceed 15 per centum of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during that succeeding taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan.

17324.8. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, in excess of the amount allowable with respect to that year under Sections 17324.6 and 17324.7 shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this section in any one succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under Section 17324.6 shall not exceed 15 per centum of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to the beneficiaries under the plan.

17324.9. As used in this article "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust" shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, these trusts shall be considered a single trust for the purposes of applying the limitations in Sections 17324.6, 17324.7, and 17324.8.

17324.10. There shall be allowed a deduction in the taxable year when paid, if the plan is not one included in the preceding sections of this article, if the employees' rights to or derived from the employer's contribution or compensation are non-forfeitable at the time the contribution or compensation is paid.

17324.11. For the purposes of the preceding sections in this article, except Section 17324.10, a taxpayer on the accrual basis shall be deemed to have made a payment on the last day of the year of accrual if the payment is on account of the taxable year and is made within 60 days after the close of the taxable year of accrual.

17324.12. If amounts are deductible under any of the preceding sections in this article except Sections 17324.10 and 17324.11, in connection with two or more trusts, or one or more trusts and an annuity plan, the total amount deductible in a taxable year under these trusts and plans shall not exceed 25 per cent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable year to the persons who are the beneficiaries of the trusts or plans.

17324.13. In addition, any amount paid into a trust or under annuity plans in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under Section 17324.12, shall be deductible in the succeeding taxable years in order of time. The amount deductible under this section in any one succeeding taxable year together with the amount allowable under Section 17324.12 shall not exceed 30 per cent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the taxable years to the beneficiaries under the trusts or plans.

17324.14. Sections 17324.11, 17324.12, and 17324.13 shall not have the effect of reducing the amount otherwise deductible under the preceding sections of this article, except Section 17324.10 and 17324.11, if no employee is a beneficiary under more than one trust, or a trust and an annuity plan.

17324.15. If there is no plan, but a method of employer contributions or compensation has the effect of a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or similar plan deferring the receipt of compensation, this article shall apply as if there were a plan.

17324.16. Any deduction allowable under Section 17303 (as it read prior to its repeal in 1943) for a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, which was apportioned to any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, shall be allowed as a deduction for the years to which so apportioned to the extent allowable under this article as it then read if it had remained in force with respect to that year.

Sec. 77. Article 1.7, comprising Sections 17325 to 17350, inclusive, is added to Chapter 4, Part 10, Division 2 of said code, to read:

Article 1.7. War Losses

17325. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction losses sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise of property destroyed or seized on or after December 7, 1941, in the course of military or naval operations by the United States or any other country engaged in the present war.

17326. Property described in Section 17325 shall be deemed to have been destroyed or seized on a date chosen by the taxpayer in the manner provided in Section 17323, which falls between:

(a) The latest date, as established to the satisfaction of the commissioner, on which that property may be considered as not destroyed or seized, and

(b) The earliest date, as established to the satisfaction of the commissioner, on which that property may be considered as having already been destroyed or seized

17327. For the purposes of this article property within an area which comes under the control of a country at war with the United States after the date war with such country is declared by the United States shall be deemed to have been destroyed or seized in the course of military or naval operations by that country.

17328. The date specified in Section 17326 (a) shall not be later than the latest date determined by the commissioner as the date on which that area was under the control of the United States or a country not at war with the United States, and the date specified in Section 17326 (b) shall not be later than the earliest date determined by the commissioner as the date on which that area may be considered under the control of the country which is at war with the United States.

17329. Property within any country at war with the United States, or within an area under the control of that country on the date war with that country was declared by the United States, shall be deemed to have been destroyed or seized on the date war with that country was declared by the United States.

17330. Any interest in, or with respect to, property described in Sections 17325, 17326, 17327 and 17329, including any interest represented by a security as defined in Section 17307 or Section 17312, which becomes worthless shall be considered to have been destroyed or seized, and the loss therefrom shall be considered a loss from the destruction or seizure. The destruction or seizure shall be deemed to occur on the date chosen by the taxpayer which falls between the dates specified in Section 17326, or on the date prescribed in Sections 17327 and 17328, as the case may be, when the last property described in the applicable section to which the interest relates would be deemed destroyed or seized under the applicable section.

17331. Section 17330 shall apply only if the interest would have become worthless if the property had been destroyed. For the purposes of this section, an interest shall be deemed to have become worthless notwithstanding the fact that the interest has a value if that value is attributable solely to the possibility of recovery of the property, compensation (other than insurance or similar indemnity) on account of its destruction or seizure, or both. Sections 17311 and 17307 shall not apply to any interest which under this section is considered to have been destroyed or seized.

17332. Under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, a taxpayer who owns 100 per cent, excluding qualifying shares, of each class of stock of a corporation may elect to determine the worthlessness of his interest, described in Section 17331, in or with respect to the property of the corporation, without regard to the amount of the property of that corporation which would be excluded under Section 17349 in determining the adjusted basis of all the assets of the corporation for the purposes of Sections 17348, 17349 and 17349.5, but that amount shall be treated under Section 17334 as a recovery by the taxpayer in the taxable year with respect to such interest.

17333. The taxpayer's choice of a date under Sections 17326 and 17330 shall be effective only if made within the time and in the manner as may be prescribed by regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

17334. In the case of any property or interest in or with respect to property deemed to be destroyed or seized under this article, the amount of the loss on account of that property or interest shall be determined with regard to any recoveries with respect thereto in the taxable year but without regard to any possibility of recovering that property or interest, or of receiving any compensation (other than insurance or similar indemnity) on account of that property or interest in the taxable year or in any future taxable year.

17335. In the case of any property or interest in or with respect to property deemed to be destroyed or seized under this article, the taxpayer may choose to decrease the amount of the loss by all obligations or liabilities of the taxpayer with respect to that property or interest discharged or satisfied out of the property or interest upon its destruction or seizure, if the commissioner is satisfied that those obligations or liabilities are so discharged or satisfied in a subsequent taxable year, or that the taxpayer is unable to determine whether or not those obligations or liabilities are in fact discharged or satisfied.

17336. No loss shall be deemed to have been sustained upon the destruction or seizure of the property or interest to the extent that it is compensated for by the discharge or satisfaction of obligations and liabilities of the taxpayer out of the property or interest in the taxable year in which the destruction or seizure is deemed to have occurred. The taxpayer's choice under this article shall be effective only if made within the time and in the manner as may be prescribed by regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

17337. Upon the recovery in the taxable year of any money or property in respect of property considered under this article as destroyed or seized in any prior taxable year, the amount of the recovery shall be included in gross income to the extent provided in Section 17338.

17338. The amount of the recovery of any money or property in respect of property considered under this article as destroyed or seized shall be an amount equal to the aggregate of the money and the fair market value of the property, determined as of the date of the recovery.

17339. To the extent that this amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous recoveries do not exceed that part of the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in this article which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part, this amount shall not be includable in gross income and shall not be deemed a gain upon the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure.

17340. To the extent that this amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous recoveries exceed that part of the aggregate of the deductions which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part and do not exceed that part of the aggregate of the deductions which did result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part, this amount shall be included in gross income but shall not be deemed a gain upon the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure.

17341. To the extent that this amount plus the aggregate of the amounts of previous recoveries exceed the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in this article, the amount shall be considered a gain upon the involuntary conversion of property as a result of its destruction or seizure and shall be recognized or not recognized as provided in Section 17672.

17342. If for any previous taxable year the taxpayer chooses under Sections 17334, 17335 and 17336 to treat any obligations and liabilities as discharged or satisfied out of the property or interest described in Sections 17330, 17331 and 17332, and if such obligations and liabilities were not so discharged or satisfied, the amount of such obligations and liabilities treated as discharged or satisfied under Sections 17334, 17335 and 17336 shall be considered for the purposes of this article as a deduction by reason of this article which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part.

17343. For the purposes of Sections 17338, 17339, 17340, 17341 and 17342, an allowable deduction for any taxable year on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in this article shall, to the extent not allowed in computing the tax of the taxpayer for the taxable year, be considered an allowable deduction which did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this part.

17344. For the purposes of Sections 17337 to 17342, inclusive, the restoration in whole or in part of the value of any interest described in Sections 17330, 17331 and 17332 by reason of any recovery of money or property in respect of property to which the interest related and which was considered under Sections 17326 and 17327 as destroyed or seized shall be deemed a recovery of property in respect of property considered as destroyed or seized.

17345. The unadjusted basis of property recovered in respect of property considered destroyed or seized under this article shall be determined under Sections 17346 and 17347.

17346. The unadjusted basis shall be an amount equal to the fair market value of that property, determined as of the date of the recovery, reduced by an amount equal to the excess of the aggregate of the fair market value and the amounts of previous recoveries of money or property in respect of property considered under this article as destroyed or seized over the aggregate of the allowable deductions in prior taxable years on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in this article and increased by that portion of the amount of the recovery which under Section 17341 is treated as a recognized gain from the involuntary conversion of property.

17347. Upon application of the taxpayer, the aggregate of the bases, determined under Section 17346, of any properties recovered in respect of properties considered under this article as destroyed or seized may be allocated among the properties so recovered, in such manner as the commissioner may determine under regulations prescribed by him, and the amounts so allocated to any property so recovered shall be the unadjusted basis of the property in lieu of the unadjusted basis of the property determined under Section 17346.

17348. If:

(a) A taxpayer owns not less than 50 per cent of each class of stock of a corporation; and

(b) That corporation has property described under this article as destroyed or seized; and

(c) The adjusted basis for determining loss of that property is at least 75 per cent of the adjusted basis for determining loss of all the property of that corporation; and

(d) That corporation completely liquidates within one year after that property is deemed to be destroyed or seized, or by December 31, 1943, whichever is later; and

(e) The liquidation is accomplished by distributing all the assets which it is able to distribute and all its rights to assets which it is not able to distribute, including the right to the recovery of the property described in Sections 17326 to 17329, inclusive.

Then that part of the loss by the taxpayer on the liquidation which would be attributable to the destruction or seizure of the property, as established to the satisfaction of the commissioner, shall be treated for the purposes of this part as a loss by the taxpayer upon the destruction or seizure of the part of the stock or other interest of the taxpayer to which such loss is allocable. That part of the stock or other interest of the taxpayer shall be treated for the purposes of this article as property described in Sections 17330, 17331 and 17332.

17349. In determining the adjusted basis of all the property of the corporation, there shall be excluded money in the United States, bank deposits, the right to receive money from any person not situated in a country at war with the United States or in a territory under the control of that country, and obligations issued or guaranteed as to principal or interest by the United States, except that there shall not be excluded any property which is destroyed or seized as described in this article within or before the taxable period.

17349.5. The adjusted basis of property of the corporation shall be determined as of the date immediately preceding the first date on which any property was destroyed or seized, as described in this article, or as of any later date falling within or before the taxable period on the basis of which the determination will produce a greater amount.

17350. The determination as to whether and to what extent an allowable deduction on account of the destruction or seizure of property described in this article did or did not result in a reduction of any tax of the taxpayer under this chapter shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

SEC. 78. Section 17351 of said code is amended to read:

17351. In computing net income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of:

(a) Personal, living, or family expenses[.], except extraordinary medical expenses deductible under Sections 17319, 17319.3 and 17319.5.

(b) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate.

(c) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

(d) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under the policy.

(e) Any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction which is allocable to one or more classes of income (whether or not any amount of income of that class or classes is received or accrued) wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by this part.

(f) Any amount paid or accrued on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase a single premium life insurance or endowment contract. For the purposes of this subsection, if substantially all the premiums on a life insurance or endowment contract are paid within a period of four years from the date on which such contract is purchased, such contract shall be considered a single premium life insurance or endowment contract; or

(g) Amounts paid or accrued for such taxes and carrying charges as, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, are chargeable to capital account with respect to property, if the taxpayer elects, in accordance with such regulations, to treat those taxes or charges as so chargeable.

SEC. 79. Section 17357 is added to said code, to read:

17357. In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed under Section 17301 for any contribution or gift which would be allowable as a deduction under Sections 17315 and 17316 were it not for the 15 per cent limitation therein contained and for the requirement therein that payment must be made within the taxable year.

SEC. 80. Section 17503 of said code is amended to read:

17503. The method described in Section 17502 may be used

(a) Only in inventorying goods (required under Section 17501 to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe; and

(b) Only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 17502 in inventorying [(to ascertain income, profit, or loss for credit purposes or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first taxable year for which the method described in Section 17502 is to be used] to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of the first taxable year for which the method described in Section 17502 is to be used, for the purpose of a report or statement covering the taxable year to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries, or for credit purposes.

SEC. 81. Section 17506 of said code is amended to read:

17506. If a taxpayer, having complied with Section 17503, uses the method described for any taxable year, that method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless

(a) With the approval of the commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or

(b) The commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any [period beginning with or during any] such subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in subdivision (b) of Section 17502 in inventorying [(for ascertaining income, profit, or loss for credit purposes or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries)] the goods specified in the application [.] to ascertain the income, profit, or loss of such subsequent taxable year for the purpose of a report or statement covering such taxable year to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or beneficiaries, or for credit purposes. and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in Section 17502 beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter.

In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

SEC. 82. Article 15, comprising Sections 17507 to 17516, inclusive, is added to Chapter 5 of Part 10 of Division 2 of said code, to read:

Article 15. Involuntary Liquidation Due to War Conditions

17507. As used in this article, "involuntary liquidation" means the sale or other disposition of goods inventoried under the method described in Article 1, either voluntary or involuntary, coupled with a failure on the part of the taxpayer to purchase, manufacture, or otherwise produce and have on hand at the close of the taxable year in which a sale or other disposition occurred such goods as would, if on hand at the close of such taxable year, be subject to the provisions of Article 1, if such failure on the part of the taxpayer is due, directly and exclusively:

- (a) To enemy capture or control of sources of limited foreign supply;
- (b) To shipping or other transportation shortages;
- (c) To material shortages resulting from priorities or allocations;
- (d) To labor shortages;
- (e) To other prevailing war conditions, beyond the control of the taxpayer.

17508. The net income of the taxpayer otherwise determined for the year of involuntary liquidation shall be adjusted according to the provisions of Sections 17509 and 17510:

(a) If, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, and prior to the termination of the present war as proclaimed by the President of the United States, the closing inventory of a taxpayer inventorying goods under the method provided in this section reflects a decrease from the opening inventory of goods for this year; and

(b) If, at the time of the filing of the taxpayer's income tax return for such year, the taxpayer elects to have the provisions of this section apply and so notifies the commissioner; and

(c) If, at the time of such election, it is established to the satisfaction of the commissioner, in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner, that such decrease is attributable to the involuntary liquidation of the inventory as defined in Section 17511; and

(d) If the closing inventory of a subsequent taxable year, ending not more than three years after the termination of the present war as proclaimed by the President of the United States, reflects a replacement, in whole or in part, of the goods so previously liquidated.

17509. The taxpayer's net income shall be adjusted as follows:

(a) Increased by an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the aggregate cost of such goods reflected in the opening inventory of the year of involuntary liquidation over the aggregate replacement cost; or

(b) Decreased by an amount equal to the excess, if any, of the aggregate replacement cost of such goods over the aggregate cost thereof reflected in the opening inventory of the year of the involuntary liquidation.

17510. The taxes imposed by this part for the year of such liquidation and for all taxable years intervening between that year and the year of replacement shall be redetermined, giving effect to adjustments provided for in Section 17508. Any increase in taxes resulting from these adjustments shall be assessed and collected as a deficiency but without interest, and any overpayment so resulting shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer without interest.

17511. If, in the case of any taxpayer subject to the provisions of Section 17508, the closing inventory of the taxpayer for a taxable year, subsequent to the year of involuntary liquidation but prior to the complete replacement of the goods so liquidated, reflects an increase over the opening inventory of the goods for the taxable year, the goods reflecting such increase shall be considered, in the order of their acquisition, as having been acquired in replacement of the goods most recently liquidated (whether or not in a year of involuntary liquidation) and not previously replaced. If the liquidation was an involuntary liquidation, the goods reflecting the increase shall be included in the inventory of the taxpayer for the year of replacement at the inventory cost basis of the goods replaced.

17512. An election by the taxpayer to have the provisions of this article apply, once made, shall be irrevocable and shall be binding for the year of the involuntary liquidation and for all determinations for subsequent taxable years insofar as they are related to the year of liquidation or replacement.

17513 If the adjustments specified in Section 17509 are, with respect to any taxable year, prevented, on the date of the filing of the income tax return of the taxpayer for the year of the replacement, or within three years from such date, by any provision or rule of law (other than this article), such adjustments shall nevertheless be made if, in respect of the taxable year for which the adjustment is sought, a notice of proposed additional assessment is mailed or a claim for refund is filed, as the case may be, within three years after the date of the filing of the income tax return for the year of replacement.

17514. If, at the time of the mailing of the notice of proposed additional assessment or the filing of the claim for refund, the adjustment is so prevented, then the amount of the adjustment authorized by this article shall be limited to the increase or decrease of the tax imposed by this part previously determined for the taxable year which results solely from the effect of Section 17508. The tax previously determined shall be ascertained in accordance with rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

17515 The amount of the adjustment shall be assessed and collected, or credited or refunded, in the same manner as if it were a deficiency or an overpayment, as the case may be, for such taxable year and as if, on the date of the filing of the income tax return for the year of the replacement, three years remain before the expiration of the periods of limitation upon assessment or the filing of claim for refund for the taxable year.

17516. The amount of the adjustment shall not be diminished by any credit or set-off based upon any item, inclusion, deduction, credit, exemption, gain, or loss, other than one resulting from the effect of Section 17508. The amount, if paid, shall not be recovered by a claim or suit for refund, or suit for erroneous refund based upon any item, inclusion, deduction, credit, exemption, gain, or loss, other than one resulting from the effect of Section 17508.

SEC 83 Section 17560 of said code is amended to read:

17560 If a separate return is made on account of a change in the accounting period, the net income, computed on the basis of the period for which the separate return is made, hereafter referred to as the "short period," shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by 12 and dividing by the number of months [included] in the [period for which the separate return is made] short period. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of months in the short period is of 12 months.

SEC 84 Section 17560 3 is added to said code, to read:

17560 3 If the taxpayer establishes the amount of his net income for the period of 12 months beginning with the first day of the short period, computed as if the 12-month period were a taxable year, under the law applicable to that year, then the tax for the short period shall be reduced to an amount which is that part of the tax computed on the net income for the 12-month period as the net income computed on the basis of the short period is of the net income for the 12-month period.

SEC 85 Section 17560 5 is added to said code, to read:

17560 5 The taxpayer (other than a taxpayer to which the next sentence applies) shall compute the tax and file his return without the application of Section 17560 3. If the taxpayer was not in existence at the end of the 12-month period, then in lieu of the net income for the 12-month period there shall be used for the purposes of Section 17560 3 the net income for the 12-month period ending with the last day of the short period.

SEC 86 Section 17560 7 is added to said code, to read:

17560 7. The tax computed under Section 17560 shall in no case be less than the tax computed on the net income for the short period without placing the net income on an annual basis. The benefits of Section 17560 shall not be allowed unless the taxpayer makes application therefor in accordance with and at such time as regulations prescribed hereunder require, but not after the time prescribed for the filing of the return for the first taxable year which ends on or after 12 months after the beginning of the short period.

SEC 87 Section 17560 9 is added to said code, to read:

17560 9 The application, in case the return was filed without regard to Section 17560 3 shall be considered a claim for credit or refund with respect to the amount by which the tax is reduced under Section 17560 3. The commissioner shall prescribe such regulations as he may deem necessary.

SEC 88 Section 17562 of said code is amended to read:

17562 The amount of all items of gross income shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year in which received by the taxpayer unless under the methods of accounting permitted under Section 17556 any such items are to be properly accounted for as of a different period. In the case of the death of a taxpayer [there shall be included in computing net income for the taxable period in which falls the date of his death amounts accrued up to the date of his death if not otherwise properly includible in respect of such period or a prior period], whose net income is computed upon the basis of the accrual method of accounting, amounts (except amounts includible in computing a partner's net income under Chapter 9 of this part) accrued only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be included in computing net income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death.

SEC 89 Section 17563 of said code is amended to read:

17563 The deductions and credits provided for in this part shall be taken for the taxable year in which "paid or accrued" or "paid or incurred," dependent upon the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed, unless in order clearly to reflect the income the deductions or credits should be taken as of a different period. In the case of the death of a taxpayer [there shall be allowed as deductions and credits for the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, amounts accrued up to the date of his death (except deductions for contributions and gifts) if not otherwise properly allowable in respect of such period or a prior period] whose net income is computed upon the basis of the accrual method of accounting, amounts except amounts includible in computing a partner's net income under Chapter 9, accrued as deductions and credits only by reason of the death of the taxpayer shall not be allowed in computing net income for the period in which falls the date of the taxpayer's death.

SEC. 90. Section 17567 is added to said code, to read

17567. In the case of a taxpayer not in existence during the whole of an annual accounting period ending on the last day of a month, or, if the taxpayer has no annual accounting period or does not keep books during the whole of a calendar year, the return shall be made for the fractional part of the year during which the taxpayer was in existence.

SEC. 91 Section 17568 is added to said code, to read

17568 If, in the case of a taxpayer owning any noninterest-bearing obligation issued at a discount and redeemable for fixed amounts increasing at stated intervals, the increase in the redemption price of the obligation occurring in the taxable year does not (under the method of accounting used in computing his net income) constitute income to him in that year, the taxpayer may, at his election made in his return for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1942, treat the increase as income received in such taxable year.

SEC 92 Section 17569 is added to said code, to read:

17569 If any election is made as provided in Section 17568 with respect to any obligation, it shall apply also to all obligations owned by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first taxable year to which it applies and to all obligations thereafter acquired by him and shall be binding for all subsequent taxable years, unless upon application by the taxpayer, the commissioner permits him, subject to such conditions as the commissioner deems necessary, to change to a different method. In the case of any obligations owned by the taxpayer at the beginning of the first taxable year to which his election applies, the increase in the redemption price of obligations occurring between the date of acquisition and the first day of the taxable year shall also be treated as income received in the taxable year.

SEC 93 Section 17672 of said code is amended to read:

17672. No gain [or loss] shall be recognized, but loss shall be recognized, if property, as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation, or the threat or imminence thereof, is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or into money which is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund.

If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain, if any, shall be recognized [, but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended] to the extent of the money which is not so expended (regardless of whether the money is received in one or more taxable years and regardless of whether or not the money which is not so expended constitutes gain).

SEC 94 Section 17673 of said code is amended to read:

17673 No gain or loss shall be recognized to a shareholder from a distribution of stocks or securities in liquidation of a corporation made pursuant to an order of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission under authority vested in it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended [prior to January 1, 1939]

SEC 95 Section 17711 of said code is amended to read:

17711 "Capital assets" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include stock in trade of the taxpayer or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business or property used in the trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17313 [] or real property used in the trade or business of the taxpayer.

SEC. 96. Section 17713 of said code is amended to read:

17713. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property received on an exchange, there shall be included the period for which he held the property exchanged, if under Articles 4 or 5 of this chapter, the property received has, for the purpose of determining gain or loss from a sale or exchange, the same basis in whole or in part in his hands as the property exchanged. For the purposes of this section, an involuntary conversion described in Section 17672 shall be considered an exchange of the property converted for the property acquired.

SEC. 97. Section 17716.5 is added to said code, to read:

17716.5. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities acquired from a corporation by the exercise of rights to acquire the stock or securities, there shall be included only the period beginning with the date upon which the right to acquire was exercised.

SEC. 97.3. Section 17721 is added to said code, to read:

17721. For the purposes of this section and Section 17722, the term "property used in the trade or business" means property used in the trade or business, of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17313, and real property used in the trade or business, which is not:

(a) Property of a kind which would properly be includable in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or

(b) Property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business.

SEC. 97.5. Section 17722 is added to said code, to read:

17722. If, during the taxable year, the recognized gains upon sales or exchanges of property used in the trade or business, plus the recognized gains from the compulsory or involuntary conversion, as a result of destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation or the threat or imminence thereof, of property used in the trade or business and capital assets into other property or money, exceed the recognized losses from the sales, exchanges, and conversions, the gains and losses shall be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. If the gains do not exceed the losses, the gains and losses shall not be considered as gains and losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets.

SEC. 97.7. Section 17723 is added to said code, to read:

17723. In determining whether gains exceed losses, the gains and losses described therein shall be included only if and to the extent taken into account in computing net income except that Sections 17711 and 17717 shall not apply.

SEC. 97.8. Section 17724 is added to said code, to read:

17724. Losses upon the destruction, in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or requisition or condemnation of property used in the trade or business of capital assets shall be considered losses from a compulsory or involuntary conversion.

SEC. 98. Section 17743 of said code is amended to read:

17743. If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that [for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift whichever is lower] if such basis (adjusted for the period prior to the date of gift as provided in Article 5 of this chapter) is greater than the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, then, for the purpose of determining loss, the basis shall be the fair market value.

SEC. 99. Section 17744 of said code is amended to read:

17744. If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a gift, bequest or devise) the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

SEC. 100. Section 17782 of said code is amended to read:

17782. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made for expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items, properly chargeable to capital account, [including taxes and other carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property.] but no such adjustment shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years.

SEC. 101. Section 17783 of said code is amended to read:

17783. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases also be made for exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization and depletion, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1935, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this part. However, if a taxpayer has not claimed an amortization deduction for an emergency facility, an adjustment shall be made only to the extent ordinarily provided under Section 17313.

SEC. 101.5. Section 17784.5 is added to said code, to read:

17784.5. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases also be made in the case of any bond (as defined in Section 17318.5) the interest on which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part, to the extent of the amortizable bond premium disallowable as a deduction pursuant to Section 17318 1 (a), and in the case of any other bond (as defined in that section) to the extent of the deductions allowable pursuant to Section 17318 1 (b) with respect thereto.

Src 102 Section 17787 is added to said code, to read:

17787 Neither the basis nor the adjusted basis of any portion of real property shall, in the case of the lessor of the property, be increased or diminished on account of income derived by the lessor in respect of the property and excludible from gross income under Section 17131. If an amount representing any part of the value of real property attributable to buildings erected or other improvements made by lessee in respect of the property was included in gross income of the lessor for any taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, the basis of each portion of the property shall be properly adjusted for the amount so included in gross income.

Src. 104 Section 17813 of said code is amended to read:

17813 In the case of mines (other than metal, coal, fluorspar, ball and sagger clay, rock asphalt or sulphur mines) discovered by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, the basis for depletion shall be the fair market value of the property at the date of discovery or within 30 days thereafter, if the mines were not acquired as the result of purchase of a proven tract or lease, and if the fair market value of the property is materially disproportionate to the cost.

Src 105 Section 17817 of said code is amended to read:

17817 The allowance for depletion under Section 17314 shall be, in the case of coal mines, 5 per cent, in the case of metal fluorspar, ball and sagger clay or rock asphalt mines, 15 per cent, and, in the case of sulphur mines or deposits, 2 1/2 per cent, of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, exclusive from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. The allowance shall not exceed 50 per cent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property[], except in no case shall the depletion allowance under Section 17314 be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

Src 106 Sections 17818, 17819 and 17820 of said code are repealed.

Src 107 Section 17952 of said code is amended to read:

A payment to a wife which is includible under Sections 17104, 17105, 17106 and 17107 or Sections 18172 3 and 18172 7 in the gross income of the wife shall not be considered a payment by her husband for the support of any dependent. If the taxpayer would not occupy the status of head of a family except by reason of there being one or more dependents for whom he would be entitled to credit under this section, the credit under this subsection shall be disallowed with respect to one of the dependents.

Src 108 Section 18133 of said code is amended to read:

18133 There shall be allowed as an additional deduction in computing the net income of the estate or trust [(a)] the amount of the income of the estate or trust for its taxable year which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the legatees, heirs or beneficiaries, [(and (b) the amount of the income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct,] but the amount so allowed as a deduction shall be included in computing the net income of the legatees, heirs, or beneficiaries whether distributed to them or not.

In the case of a nonresident beneficiary his income derived through such an estate or trust is taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Src 109 Section 18135 of said code is amended to read:

18135 If the taxable year of a legatee, heir or beneficiary is different from that of the estate or trust, the amount which he is required under Section 18133 to include in computing his net income shall be based upon the income of the estate or trust for any taxable year of the estate or trust ending within or with his taxable year.

Src 110 Section 18156 of said code is repealed.

Src 111 Section 18156 is added to said code, to read:

Src 112 Section 18157 is added to said code, to read:

18157 A trust described in Section 18156 is not taxable if contributions are made to the trust by the employer, or employees, or both, for the purpose of distributing to the employees or their beneficiaries the corpus and income of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with the plan.

SEC. 113. Section 18158 is added to said code, to read:

18158. A trust described in Section 18156 is not taxable if under the trust instrument it is impossible, at any time prior to the satisfaction of all liabilities with respect to employees and their beneficiaries under the trust, for any part of the corpus or income to be, within the taxable year or thereafter, used for, or diverted to, purposes other than for the exclusive benefit of his employees or their beneficiaries.

SEC. 114. Section 18159 is added to said code, to read:

18159. A trust described in Section 18156 is not taxable if the trust, or two or more trusts, or the trust or trusts and annuity plan or plans are designated by the employer as constituting parts of a plan intended to qualify under this subsection which benefits either:

(a) Seventy per cent or more of all the employees, or 80 per cent or more of all the employees who are eligible to benefit under the plan if 70 per cent or more of all the employees are eligible to benefit under the plan. The percentages shall exclude in each case:

(1) Employees who have been employed not more than a minimum period prescribed by the plan, not exceeding five years; and

(2) Employees whose customary employment is for not more than 20 hours in any one week; and

(3) Employees whose customary employment is for not more than five months in any calendar year, or

(b) Employees who qualify under a classification set up by the employer which is found by the commissioner not to be discriminatory in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist in supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees.

SEC. 115. Section 18160 is added to said code, to read:

18160. A trust described in Section 18156 is not taxable if the contributions or benefits provided under the plan do not discriminate in favor of employees who are officers, shareholders, persons whose principal duties consist in supervising the work of other employees, or highly compensated employees.

SEC. 116. Section 18161 is added to said code, to read:

18161. A classification shall not be considered discriminatory within the meaning of Sections 18159 and 18160 merely because it excludes employees the whole of whose remuneration constitutes "wages" under Section 1426 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code (relating to the Federal Insurance Contributions Act) of the California Unemployment Insurance Act or merely because it is limited to salaried or clerical employees. Neither shall a plan be considered discriminatory within the meaning of these provisions merely because the contributions or benefits of or on behalf of the employees under the plan bear a uniform relationship to the total compensation, or the basic or regular rate of compensation, of the employees. Nor shall a plan be considered discriminatory merely because the contributions or benefits based on that part of an employee's remuneration which is excluded from "wages" by Section 1426 (a) (1) of the Internal Revenue Code or the California Unemployment Insurance Act differ from the contributions or benefits based on employee's remuneration not so excluded, or differ because of any retirement benefits created under State or Federal law.

SEC. 117. Section 18162 is added to said code, to read:

18162. A plan shall be considered as meeting the requirements of this article during the whole of any taxable year of the plan if on one day in each quarter it satisfied these requirements.

SEC. 118. Section 18163 is added to said code, to read:

18163. The amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee by any trust shall be taxable to him, in the year in which so distributed or made available, under Article 2 of Chapter 3 as if it were an annuity the consideration for which is the amount contributed by the employee, but if the total distributions payable with respect to any employee are paid to the distributee within one taxable year of the distributee on account of the employee's separation from the service, the amount of distribution to the extent exceeding the amounts contributed by the employee, shall be considered a gain from the sale or exchange of a capital asset.

SEC. 119. Section 18164 is added to said code, to read:

18164. Contributions to a trust made by an employer during a taxable year of the employer which ends within or with a taxable year of the trust for which the trust is not exempt under Section 18156 shall be included in the gross income of an employee for the taxable year in which the contribution is made to the trust in the case of an employee whose beneficial interest in the contribution is nonforfeitable at the time the contribution is made.

SEC. 120. Section 18172.3 is added to said code, to read:

18172.3. There shall be included in the gross income of a wife who is divorced or legally separated under a decree of divorce or separate maintenance the amount of the income of any trust which the wife is entitled to receive and which, except for the provisions of this section and Sections 18172.3 and 18172.5 would be includible in the gross income of her husband, and such amount shall not, despite any provision of this part, be includible in the gross income of the husband.

SEC 121. Section 18172.5 is added to said code, to read:

18172.5 Section 18172.3 shall not apply to that part of any income of the trust which the terms of the decree or trust instrument fix, in terms of an amount of money or a portion of the income, as a sum which is payable for the support of minor children of the husband. In case the income is less than the amount specified in the decree or instrument, for the purpose of applying Section 18172.3, the income, to the extent of the sum payable for support, shall be considered a payment for support.

SEC 122 Section 18172.7 is added to said code, to read:

18172.7 For the purposes of computing the net income of the estate or trust and net income of the wife described in Sections 17104, 17105, 17106 and 17107, or Section 18172.3, the wife shall be considered as the beneficiary specified in Sections 18172.3 and 18172.5. A periodic payment under Sections 17104, 17105, 17106 and 17107 to any part of which the provisions of Sections 18172.3 and 18172.5 are applicable, shall be included in the gross income of the beneficiary in the taxable year in which that part is required to be included.

SEC 122.5. Section 18431 of said code is amended to read:

18431. Returns required by Section 18405 shall be under oath: [.] all other returns required by this chapter shall contain, or be verified by, a written declaration that they are made under the penalties of perjury. Such returns shall be in such form as the commissioner may from time to time prescribe, and shall be filed with the commissioner at his main office or at any branch office which he may establish. The commissioner shall prepare blank forms for the returns and shall distribute them throughout the State and furnish them upon application. Failure to receive or secure the form does not relieve any taxpayer from making any return required. Any individual who wilfully makes and subscribes a return which he does not believe to be true and correct as to every material matter, shall be guilty of a felony, and upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to the penalties prescribed for perjury by the Penal Code of this State.

SEC 123. Article 4, comprising Sections 18470 to 18479, inclusive, is added to Chapter 10 of Part 10 of Division 2 of said code, to read:

Article 4. Returns by Persons Outside the Americas

18470. If an individual is continuously outside the Americas after December 6, 1941, for longer than 90 days, that period of time and the next 90 days thereafter shall be disregarded in determining under this part the amount of any credit or refund (including interest) or in respect of any liability for taxes, interests or penalties of that individual, whether any of the following acts were performed within the time prescribed:

- (a) Filing any return of income tax (except income tax withheld at source);
- (b) Payment of any income (except income tax withheld at source);
- (c) Filing an appeal with the State Board of Equalization;
- (d) Allowance of a credit or refund of any tax;
- (e) Filing a claim for credit or refund of any tax;
- (f) Bringing a suit upon any such claim for credit or refund;
- (g) Assessment of any tax;
- (h) Giving or making any notice or demand, for the payment of any tax, or with respect to any liability in respect of any tax;
- (i) Collection, by the commissioner or the collector, by distraint or otherwise, of the amount of any liability in respect of any tax;
- (j) Bringing suit by the State of California, or any officer on its behalf, in respect of any liability in respect of any tax; and
- (k) Any other act required or permitted under this part.

18471. In any case to which Section 18470 does not apply in which it is determined by the commissioner, under regulations prescribed by him, that—

- (1) By reason of an individual being outside the Americas, or
- (2) By reason of any locality (within or without the Americas) being an area of enemy action or being an area under the control of the enemy, as determined by the commissioner, or
- (3) By reason of an individual in the military or naval forces of the United States being outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia, it is impossible or impracticable to perform any one or more of the acts specified in Section 18470, then in determining, under this part whether the act was performed within the time prescribed therefor, in respect of any liability for taxes, interest or penalties affected by the failure to perform the act within such time, and in determining the amount of any credit or refund (including interest) affected by that failure, there shall be disregarded the period after December 6, 1941, as may be prescribed by the regulations.

18472. The period of time disregarded under this article shall not extend beyond whichever of the following dates is the earlier:

(1) The fifteenth day of the third month following the month in which the present war with Germany, Italy, and Japan is terminated, as proclaimed by the President of the United States; or

(2) In the case of an individual with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under this article, the fifteenth day of the third month following the month in which an executor, administrator, or a conservator of the estate of the individual qualifies.

18473. Notwithstanding the provisions of this article, any action or proceeding authorized by Article 4, of Chapter 11 (regardless of the taxable year for which the tax arose), Article 5 of Chapter 8, Sections 18621 and 18622, as well as any other action or proceeding authorized by law in connection therewith, may be taken, begun, or prosecuted.

18474. In any case in which the commissioner determines that collection of the amount of any assessment would be jeopardized by delay, the provisions of this article shall not operate to stay collection of that amount by distraint or otherwise as authorized by law. There shall be excluded from any amount assessed or collected pursuant to this section the amount of interest, penalty, additional amount, and addition to the tax, if any, in respect to the period disregarded under this article.

18475. In any case to which this article relates, if the commissioner is required to give any notice to or make any demand upon any person, that requirement shall be satisfied if the notice or demand is prepared and signed, in any case in which the address of such person last known to the commissioner is in an area for which United States post offices under instructions of the Postmaster General are not, by reason of the war, accepting mail for delivery at the time the notice or demand is signed. In that case the notice or demand shall be deemed to have been given or made upon the date it is signed.

18476. The assessment or collection of any tax or of any liability under this part, or any action in connection therewith, may be made, taken, begun, or prosecuted in accordance with law, without regard to the provisions of Sections 18470 and 18471, unless prior to such assessment, collection, action, or proceeding it is ascertained that the person concerned is entitled to the benefits of those sections.

18477. This section shall not operate to extend the time for performing any act specified in Section 18470 (g), (h), (i) or (j) if such time under the law in force prior to the date of enactment of this section expired prior to that date.

18478. For purposes of this article:

(a) The term "Americas" means North, Central, and South America (including the West Indies but not Greenland), and the Hawaiian Islands.

(b) For the purpose of determining whether any act specified in Section 18470 (g), (h), (i) or (j) was performed within the time prescribed therefor, if any period of time is disregarded under this section by reason of any individual being outside the Americas or within an area of enemy action or control, that individual shall not, if he returns to the Americas or leaves the area after the date of enactment of this section, be deemed to have returned to the Americas or ceased to be within that area before the date upon which the commissioner receives from that individual a notice thereof in such form as the commissioner shall by regulations prescribe. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a member of the military or naval forces of the United States with respect to whom a period of time is disregarded under this section by reason of being outside the States of the Union and the District of Columbia.

18479. For the purpose of determining whether any act specified in Section 18470 (g), (h), (i) or (j) was performed within the time prescribed therefor, the month in which an executor, administrator, or conservator qualifies, if he qualifies after the date of enactment of this section, shall be deemed to be the month in which the commissioner receives from him a notice thereof in such form as the commissioner shall by regulations prescribe.

SEC. 125. Section 18596 of said code is amended to read:

18596. The board's determination becomes final upon the expiration of [60] 30 days from the time of the determination unless within the [60-day] 30-day period the [determination is modified] taxpayer or the commissioner files a petition for rehearing with the board. In that event the determination becomes final upon the expiration of [60] 30 days from the time [it is modified.] the board issues its opinion on the petition.

SEC. 125.3. Section 19053.3 is added to said code, to read:

19053.3. The period within which a claim for credit or refund may be filed, or credit or refund allowed or made if no claim is filed, shall be the period within which the commissioner may make an assessment under the same circumstances, if:

(a) The taxpayer has, within the period prescribed in the preceding sentence, agreed in writing, under the provisions of Article 2 of Chapter 11, to extend the time within which the commissioner may propose an additional assessment, or

(b) The taxpayer has agreed with the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue for an extension (or renewals thereof) of the period for proposing and assessing deficiencies in Federal income tax for any year.

SEC. 125.5 Section 19053.5 is added to said code, to read:

19053.5. The provisions of Section 19053 shall apply to any claim filed, or credit or refund allowed or made, before the execution of an agreement pursuant to Section 19053.3.

SEC. 125.7. Section 19053.7 is added to said code, to read:

19053.7. Insofar as the claim for credit or refund relates to an overpayment on account of the deductibility, under Section 17310, of a debt as one which became worthless, or a loss from worthlessness of a security under Section 17311, or Section 17307, or an erroneous inclusion of an amount attributable to the recovery of a bad debt, prior tax or delinquency amount, under Sections 17132, 17133, 17134, 17135, and 17136 due to an adjustment of a bad debt deduction under Section 17310, or a loss deduction from worthlessness of a security under Section 17311, or Section 17307, in lieu of the period of limitations prescribed in Section 19053, the period shall be seven years from the date prescribed by law for filing the return for the year with respect to which the claim is made.

SEC. 126 Section 19061 of said code is amended to read:

19061. The determination is final upon the expiration of [60] 30 days from the date of the determination unless within the [60-day] 30-day period [it is modified.] the taxpayer or commissioner files a petition for rehearing with the board. In that event the determination becomes final upon the expiration of [60] 30 days from the date [it is modified] the board issues its opinion on the petition.

SEC. 127 This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

SEC. 128. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not effect the remaining portions of this act. CONSIDERATION OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1624

Assembly Bill No. 1624—An act to amend Section 70 of and to add Sections 70.1 and 70.2 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the California Highway Commission and providing for the organization thereof.

Bill read third time.

Motion to Amend

Amendment No. 1

Strike out line 1 of the title of the printed bill, as amended; and in line 2, strike out "70.2", and insert "An act to add Section 356.5".

"356.5. The commission and the department are expressly authorized to abandon and to relocate any portion or portions of Route 56 as now established and laid out between the intersection of Route 56 and Route 55 south of San Francisco and the town of Farallon City, in San Mateo County, and to take any and all action necessary for such abandonment and relocation. Such abandonment may be effected prior to relocation and pending relocation the commission and the department may adopt and maintain any traversable road around the portion or portions so abandoned.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall, therefore, take effect immediately. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Since the establishment and construction of portions of Route 56, as now laid out, the maintenance costs thereon have been greatly excessive, due to development of slides to an extent greatly exceeding anything reasonably to be anticipated at the time the highway was laid out. It now further appears that the final cost of acquisition of right of way on such portions of said route, as now laid out, will likewise be greatly excessive. It is necessary that express authorization be conferred on the responsible State officials to act immediately to abandon, and, if conditions prove necessary, to abandon prior to relocation of the highway around the said portions; otherwise, further expenditure of large sums of State highway funds on portions of the highway which must eventually be abandoned, in favor of less expensive locations, will be unavoidable. The continued use of the portions of the highway, subject to such extensive slides, and falling rocks, is hazardous to the safety of the traveling public, as well as economically disadvantageous to the State and, accordingly, it is necessary that authorization be granted by the Legislature for abandonment without delay."

Amendments read and adopted.

Bill ordered reprinted and re-engrossed.

MOTION TO PRINT REPORT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Middough moved that the following Report of the Fact Finding Committee on Correctional Problems be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Report of the Fact Finding Committee on Correctional Problems to the Members of the Assembly, State of California

Assembly Resolution No. 117 adopted by the Fifty-fifth Session of the Legislature provided for an Interim Committee of seven members of the Assembly to be termed "The Assembly Fact Finding Committee on Correctional Problems" to consist of seven members.

So far as it pertains to the Youth Correction Authority your committee was charged with the following duties by House Resolution No 117:

To consider, evaluate, and appraise the Youth Correction Authority Act for the purpose of determining whether it should be continued in effect without change, amended, or repealed:

If it is determined that the Youth Correction Authority Act should be continued in effect, to determine the amount of funds necessary for the support of the Authority and the carrying on of those activities and functions which are determined to be proper; to determine whether those funds should be provided in the Budget Bill or in a special appropriation bill; and if a special appropriation bill is recommended, to consider and make recommendations concerning the inclusion of restrictions in such bill in respect to expenditures and the types of projects for which the sums appropriated may be expended.

To investigate and consider the integration of the Youth Correction Authority in the penal and correctional system of the State, and the relationship of the Authority to other State penal and correctional agencies and authorities.

As members of this committee the following were appointed:

FRANKLIN J. POTTER, Chairman
GARDINER JOHNSON
EDWARD F. O'DAY
T. FENTON KNIGHT
LORNE D. MIDDOUGH
MICHAEL J. BURNS
RANDAL F. DICKEY

The resolution creating this committee mandated the committee to make an immediate report on the Youth Correction Authority. The time within which to make the investigation has been too short in order to render an adequate report before adjournment of the Legislature. The members of the committee have also had their regular legislative duties to perform but your committee is satisfied that it has received sufficient evidence and heard enough witnesses to make a reliable preliminary report with recommendations on the Youth Correction Authority.

Reasons for Creation of This Interim Committee

The Youth Correction Authority Act was passed by the last session of the Legislature with a limited appropriation of $100,000. Under the provisions of the act Mr. Harold A. Slane, Los Angeles; Mr. Karl Holton, Probation Officer of Los Angeles County; and Mr. O. H. Close, of Preston School of Industry, were appointed members of the Authority. Due to the limited funds appropriated to the Authority and the emergency created by the war, Mr. Holton and Mr. Close expressed the desire to serve only part time on the Youth Correction Authority and retain their present positions. Accordingly, the Legislature passed legislation authorizing Mr. Holton and Mr. Close to serve part time on the Youth Correction Authority without compensation.

The Youth Correction Authority began its official function of receiving commitments from the courts on August 17, 1942, when it accepted its first commitments. It can readily be seen that the Youth Correction Authority has had only a very short period of time and a very small amount of money with which to initiate any program. It was difficult for the Youth Correction Authority to plan a future program without knowing what funds the Legislature would appropriate to it or what changes might be made in the law. Preparing a budget was made uncertain for the reason that Section 17315 provided that commitments from the courts would become mandatory to the Youth Correction Authority on January 1, 1944, greatly increasing the work and responsibility of the Youth Correction Authority, if unchanged.

Because it was a new agency pioneering a new principle in the handling of youthful offenders, many questions regarding the program, functions, and cost of the Youth Correction Authority were being presented in bills sponsored by Legislators. It was, therefore, decided by the Ways and Means Committee of the Assembly that the proper procedure would be to remove the Youth Correction Authority Budget from the Governor's Budget, thus permitting the Legislature to have more time to study the budget and program of the Youth Correction Authority. In this way facts could displace rumors and a more intelligent budget might be prepared. In order to make this study this committee was created and entered upon its duties.

History of the Youth Correction Authority

The Assembly in setting up this committee recognized that the problem of juvenile delinquency in particular and crime in general is one of the major domestic problems of our present time. It further recognized that the problem of juvenile delinquency and youthful offenders is one of the least solved of our principal social problems in California and the United States today.

The increasing trend in the amount of juvenile delinquency and its growing menace to society in general was recognized by the American Law Institute in 1935 when it created the Criminal-Youth Justice Committee to thoroughly study the problem and propose new and modern methods for dealing with it. This committee consisted of leading authorities on the subject throughout the United States. As a result of the study of this committee, the American Law Institute, after much study and debate, in May, 1940, proposed what they termed "A Youth Correction Authority." The principal change provided for in this model act as compared to the present systems was the provision that youthful offenders should be committed to a single agency, to be known as the Youth Correction Authority, instead of commitment to the various unrelated disintegrated agencies and institutions. The act further provided for the centralization and integration of agencies dealing with the problem of juvenile delinquency and would give to the Authority more flexibility and opportunity to scientifically and intelligently deal with the entire problem and the individual offender in particular by individualized study and treatment of the youth.

The American Law Institute then encouraged the Legislatures of selected key States in the Union to give consideration to the enactment of at least the principle of the Youth Correction Authority Act. California was one of the States so selected and the 1941 Session of the California Legislature enacted the present Youth Correction Authority Act following in general the outline of the model act. California thus became the first State in the Nation to pioneer this important and forward-looking change in dealing with juvenile delinquency. The spotlight of the Nation is focused on California as it watches the administration and functioning of the act in California. The American Law Institute proposed the model Youth Correction Authority Act and the Legislature enacted it into law in an effort to correct certain evils in the existing systems of dealing with juvenile delinquency and to generally improve the handling of the problem. It has long been believed that the present system of dealing with the problem of correction and juvenile delinquency has generally failed in its purpose and been ineffective because of the lack of integration and centralization of the various agencies dealing with the problem and lack of flexibility to deal with the problem. A weakness of the old systems has been the lumping together in institutions of every kind and character of boy or girl because of lack of proper facilities for classification and segregation. By providing for commitments to the Youth Correction Authority instead of direct to institutions, the new law opens up a broader horizon for a more flexible system of dealing with delinquents and a more scientific and individual treatment of them with continuing jurisdiction of the person while a youth.

The sponsors of the California act made certain additions and alterations to the model act in which respects, we believe, the model act was improved upon. An important change from the model act was the inclusion of a provision giving the California Youth Correction Authority power to deal in the field of predelinquency as well as correction after conviction. This provision gave to the California Youth Correction Authority broader and continuing jurisdiction to deal with the entire problem of juvenile delinquency. The model act provided that the Youth Correction Authority could retain jurisdiction of a person indefinitely. The California Act provides for termination of jurisdiction by the Youth Correction Authority at the age of 25 either by release of the individual or his return to the court to be dealt with according to law. Your committee has determined that the principle of the Youth Correction Authority is widely supported and endorsed by many organizations, agencies, judges, district attorneys, and other individuals who have had experience in the field of juvenile delinquency and whose ability and judgment in this regard is recognized and respected. Persons with national reputations who have endorsed the Youth Correction Authority Act include:

James D. Bennett, Director, Federal Bureau of Prisons.
Edward R. Cass, General Secretary of the American Prison Association.
August Vollmer, former Chief of Police of the City of Berkeley.
James Johnston, Warden of Alcatraz Prison.

As evidence of the fact that there has developed a general acceptance throughout the United States of the principles of the Youth Correction Authority Act, we call attention to the fact that the Judicial Conference of the United States Circuit Court Judges has had drafted for submission to Congress a Federal Corrections Act, providing for a Federal Youth Authority. Official or citizen committees are adapting and sponsoring the plan in Illinois, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massachusetts, Washington, Virginia, Florida, and other States.

Increase in Juvenile Delinquency

Your committee calls attention to the fact that there has been an unusual increase in the amount of juvenile delinquency during the last two years in particular; that the condition is becoming critical, and that this increase is of sufficient magnitude to demand the attention of the Legislature as evidenced by the following figures from Los Angeles, Alameda and San Joaquin Counties, which are typical of the increasing trend in juvenile delinquency in California.

CASES REFERRED TO LOS ANGELES COUNTY JUVENILE COURT

	Boys	Per cent	Girls	Per cent
1940-----	3,020	100	1,043	100
1941-----	3,621	119.9	1,141	109.4
1942-----	3,748	124.1	1,402	134.4

ALAMEDA COUNTY DETENTION HOME ADMISSIONS

Boys Only

1941 -----	1,043
1942 -----	1,503

Increase 460—44 per cent. Last eight months each year shows increase of 76 per cent.

Girls Only

1941 -----	349
1942 -----	516

CASES REFERRED TO SAN JOAQUIN COUNTY JUVENILE COURT

Increases over a five-year period

	1938	1939	1940	1941	1942
Number of children adjudged wards and/or placed under supervision or other plan-----	72	104	114	140	177
Total number of children placed in juvenile hall during the year-----	334	345	343	340	677

Information received by the committee indicates that the detention homes in the counties and all juvenile institutions are full beyond capacity with large waiting lists because of the inability of the institutions to accept commitments. These young persons must either be held for long periods of time in the county juvenile homes or released from custody to be a further menace in the community.

The girl situation is particularly acute. The increase in delinquency among girls has soared to great proportions. The Ventura School for Girls, which has a capacity of 180 persons, has a substantial waiting list. The situation is such that immediate steps should be taken to increase the capacity of the institution in order to take care of this waiting list and give to many of these girls the custodial care that the courts have determined they should have, but which can not be given them because of lack of facilities.

Need for State Participation in Programs for Prevention of Juvenile Delinquency

Except as it does through education, the State of California has not participated in the prevention of juvenile delinquency. That task has been left to the various volunteer organizations and public agencies in the counties and local communities. The State of California is called upon to confine and correct in its institutions many of the boys and girls who commit public offenses. It would seem sound, therefore, that the State of California should spend some of its funds and effort in the direction of preventing delinquency for the purpose of relieving the case load in our institutions as well as to attempt to reduce crime in general. There does not exist in California today any State agency whose functions are primarily devoted to this work. The Youth Correction Authority can now fill that important need.

Although under laws existing for a number of years correctional schools could have established forestry camps and other methods of rehabilitation, no particular attempt has been made to establish such methods. The usual policy has been to confine youths to correctional schools and in many instances parole such charges, which allowed them to return to the same environments and surroundings which led to their original confinement. Your committee believes that those in charge of correctional schools should have developed a reasonable system of forestry camps or projects.

Your committee believes that there is no possibility of basing a budget on present plans of the Authority. Projects are only in the anticipation stage, and will be so until after the adjournment of the Legislature.

It is just as impossible to have an intelligent budget submitted by the Authority as it was impossible at the time the Budget was presented to the Ways and Means Committee. It is therefore necessary, if the Authority is continued, to have some restriction on the expenditure of funds made available to the Authority. Governor Earl Warren has indicated his interest in this type of rehabilitation. It is believed that he should have power to assist the Authority in determining its course and growth. His long experience in criminal reform will be an invaluable aid to its future.

Your committee heard testimony from the members of the Authority, from an official representative of the American Law Institute, received and studied reports and communications from many interested citizens, public officials, and groups in California. The President of the California Conference of Judges appointed a committee consisting of Judge Robert Scott, Judge Clement D. Nye, and Judge W. Turney Fox, Superior Court Judges of Los Angeles County, to study and make an official report on the Youth Correction Authority, which report was made available to your committee and is as follows:

*The Honorable Franklin J. Potter, Member of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*
