SENATE BILL NO. 411

"An act to amend Section 19626.5 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the disposition of moneys in the Fair and Exposition Fund, making an appropriation, to take effect immediately."

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Lyon:

The following communication was received, read, and, on motion of Mr. Price, ordered printed in the Journal:

ONTARIO, CALIFORNIA, January 28, 1943

*The Presiding Officer, California Assembly
Sacramento, California*

MY DEAR SIR: Yesterday our local newspaper carried an item to the effect that the California Legislature is considering a bill to increase the present 48-hour week to 70 hours. As women workers the undersigned vigorously protest such an extension in the legal work week.

A work week more than 48 hours long would be altogether too much for women physically, and there are many employers who would require the maximum hours of work. Many women workers are now carrying a full-time home responsibility in addition to their 48-hour work week.

If more workers are required than seem to be available, may we suggest the registration and conscription of all women, because many women who are able to work are still carrying only their home responsibilities.

Most sincerely yours,

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules and House Functions.

By Mr. Call:

House Resolution No. 99

Relating to the creation of a Legislative committee, to be assisted by leaders in labor, agriculture, business, and industry, to make a thorough study of economic conditions in the State of California, and to formulate a Legislative program designed to protect this State from the economic and social effect of those depressions which ordinarily follow a period of artificial prosperity created by defense spending and the participation of other nations in war

WHEREAS, This State and the Nation as a whole are now experiencing a period of rapidly expanding business activity with corresponding increases in employment due to the National Defense Program and the purchase in this country of the materials of war by belligerent nations; and

WHEREAS, The maladjustment of economic conditions and the severe business depression with its consequent unemployment which followed the cessation of hostilities in the last World War provides a grim reminder of the necessity for the formulation of long-range plans which will cushion the economic shock of the termination of the present war and the spending of billions of dollars for National defense; and

WHEREAS, History has demonstrated that it is the laborer and his family and the farmer and his family who first feel the effects of business recession, and if employment and business activity are to be maintained at the highest possible level after the defense program ends, plans must be made to:

(a) Absorb defense industry workers in peacetime enterprises and to that end the development of new industries and new uses for agricultural products must be stimulated and encouraged; and

(b) Develop new markets for the products of California industries and farms; and

(c) Provide adequate vocational training for the youth of today in peacetime pursuits; and

(d) Provide permanent housing and educational facilities to accommodate the population shifts caused by the migration of workers to those industrial centers where defense industries are located; and

(e) Provide for a constructive program of industrial and agricultural development which will assure the gainful employment of all able-bodied persons; and

(f) Provide an economical and efficient, yet adequate program for the care of all needy persons including the physically handicapped; and

(g) Make adequate provision for the aged in order that workers may be assured of security for themselves and their families in old age; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California. That a committee, designated "The Legislative Committee on Economic Security," consisting of 15 members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, is hereby created, which committee shall, and it is hereby authorized to, gather, assemble, study and analyze all facts relating to any and every phase of the matters specified in this resolution and of the economic and social conditions in the State of California, both as those conditions exist during periods of intense activity in agriculture, business and industry and as those conditions exist in periods of severe business depressions, all with a view to formulating a plan and preparing and submitting such legislative measures as will enable the State to bring about and assure the least possible maladjustment of economic and social conditions following the cessation of defense activities after the present European War, to which end the committee shall, except when inconsistent with this resolution, have and exercise all the powers, duties, and privileges conferred upon committees by Rule No. 35 of the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly for the Fifty-fifth Session (and the provisions of said Rule 35 as they exist on the adoption of this resolution are, to the extent not inconsistent with this resolution, hereby incorporated herein and made a part hereof as though set forth in full in this resolution), and shall also have and exercise the duty and power:

(1) To create subcommittees from its membership, assigning to the subcommittee any study, inquiry, investigation or hearing which the committee itself has authority to undertake or hold, and the subcommittee for the purpose of this assignment shall have and exercise all of the powers conferred upon the committee limited by the express terms of the resolution or resolutions of the latter defining the powers and duties of the subcommittee, which powers may be withdrawn or terminated at any time by the committee;

(2) To contract with such other agencies, public or private, as it deems necessary for the rendition and affording of such services, facilities, studies and reports to the committee as will best assist it to carry out the purposes for which it is created;

(3) To make a complete study, survey and investigation of every phase of the subject of this resolution, including but not limited to the operation, effect, administration, and enforcement of any and all laws in anywise bearing upon or relating to the subject of this resolution;

(4) To act during this session of the Legislature, including any recess hereof, and after final adjournment hereof, and to report its findings and recommendations to the Assembly and to the people from time to time and at any time and to make its final report to the Assembly at the Fifty-sixth Session of the Legislature on or before March 15, 1945; and be it further

Resolved, That every department, commission, board, agency, officer and employee of the State Government and of any political subdivision, county, city, or public district of or in this State shall furnish the committee and any subcommittee, upon request, any and all such assistance, and information, records and documents as the committee or subcommittee deems proper for the accomplishment of the purposes for which the committee is created; and be it further

Resolved, That the members of the committee shall serve without compensation but shall be allowed mileage at the rate of five and one-half cents ($.055) per mile each way incurred in connection with their services upon the committee and other actual and necessary expenses for living accommodations and meals, incurred in connection with their services upon the committee, or in lieu of such expenses for accommodations and meals an allowance of eight dollars ($8) per day; and be it further

Resolved, That the sum of fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby made available from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly for the expenses of the committee and its members and for any charges, expenses or claims it may incur under this resolution, to be paid from the Contingent Fund of the Assembly and disbursed, after certification by the chairman of the committee, upon warrants drawn by the State Controller upon the State Treasurer, and be it further

Resolved, That an Advisory Committee to the Legislative Committee is hereby created, to consist of _____ nonlegislator members, appointed by the Speaker of the Assembly, the appointees to include industrial, military, naval, aeronautical, transportation, employment, vocational training and scientific experts, and representatives of labor and of agriculture to advise, aid, and counsel the Legislative Committee in the studies conducted by the latter in carrying out the purposes of this resolution, the Advisory Committee to have and exercise such powers and duties as shall be defined from time to time by the Legislative Committee, within the scope of the powers and duties committed to the latter by this resolution.

MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

The following poem was received and, on motion of Mr. Sam L. Collins, ordered printed in the Journal.

I went out to work in the fields today,
While others from school went home to play;
And I began to think, what with war and all,
Why these others couldn't into work fall.

So I thought and I thought, as it seemed for ages;
Till it suddenly dawned that they wanted high wages.
But high wages are something a farmer can't pay,
Because ceilings are placed on his products today.

Now, the people won't work for four bits an hour,
And their disposition to farmers is exceedingly sour.
So the farmers are leaving their crops in the ground,
Because men to pick them can't even be found.

Fields lie barren, cattle are slain,
Machinery lies useless, rusted by rain
Crops unharvested rot on the ground,
And one sees waste all around.

Next year, perhaps, some people may starve,
Because farmers could raise no meat to carve.
And war workers and grafters will see to their sadness,
That no food is the result of their money madness.

For they will see that the strength of their Country is food,
And will no more from the farmer his helpers exclude.
They will work and will work 'til the end of the day,
And will work for no more than the farmer can pay.

MOTION TO PRINT SPEECH IN JOURNAL

Mr. Maloney moved that the following speech by Hon. Charles W. Lyon be ordered printed in the Journal:

Mr. Doyle seconded the motion.

Motion carried.

Speech by Hon. Charles W. Lyon

We reconvene today as a wartime Legislature. Our purpose should be the enactment of laws for the protection of the lives and property of the people of the State of California.

The efforts of the Legislature, the governments of the cities and counties of the State should be directed to the winning of the war and the reduction of taxes and the curtailment of local and State expenditures wherever possible, in order to permit the people of this great Commonwealth to respond to the necessary expenditures of the Federal Government.

There are certain legislative matters which, in the light of present-day conditions, demand our attention.

I feel that we should cooperate with the military forces in every way. The splendid work of defending our lives and property, particularly in California, by the Army and Navy authorities should, and I know will, receive 100 per cent cooperation from this Legislature and from the people of the State of California.

Defense measures, aid to our senior citizens, departmental needs, the Budget, and the reduction of California State taxes, as nearly as possible in the same proportion as Federal taxes are increased, should be the primary concern of this Legislature.

One of the greatest evils of legislative procedure is the practice of delaying action until the closing days and hours of the legislative session. This practice is vicious in two principal directions, as it not only jeopardizes the enactment of essential laws, many of which are discarded in the last minute rush to reach adjournment, but it likewise results, all too often, in the adoption of measures which are neither necessary nor desirable.

While I have spoken of the desire to limit our present legislative scope to those matters dealing directly with the war and our fullest cooperation with the National Government in bringing the present conflict to a speedy and successful conclusion, we should not be unmindful of the problems the peace will present to us. Many small businesses have suffered and are likely to be further threatened as the war progresses. Equally important is the problem of the survival of the small enterprise. I quote from Donald Nelson, Chairman of the War Production Board: "If we are to win the peace as well as the war, the principle of independent enterprise—small business—must not only survive but also become a stronger, more effective force in our economic life. Our Nation, built upon the firm foundation of free enterprise, must not sacrifice that cornerstone of our Democracy."

The Speaker will lend his best efforts to facilitate the work of all committees and to aid all members to obtain prompt and adequate consideration of their proposals and it shall be my endeavor to make this session as short a one as possible, consistent with the enactment of good legislation.

More than a thousand bills less than the previous session have been introduced. The Budget, for the first time in the history of our State, has been reduced—and to the extent of nearly $100,000,000. The people of California expect a substantial reduction of their tax burden, and I commend to you the consideration of these subjects during this, the final portion of the Fifty-fifth Session.

APPOINTMENT OF STANDING COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The Speaker announced the appointment of the following members to the standing committees made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Fred N. Howser:

- Committee on State-Federal Cooperation in Petroleum—Mr. Middough.
- Committee on Conservation, Natural Resources, and Planning—Mr. Dunn.
- Committee on Finance and Insurance—Mr. Stream.

Concurrent Resolution Memorializing the President and the Congress of the United States to Preserve Inviolable the State Rights as Provided in the Constitution

WHEREAS, We are engaged in a great World War fighting for the preservation of democratic principles, our form of government and the American way of life, and WHEREAS, These issues, now on trial, have caused the American people to reexamine the basic concepts of our form of government to reaffirm their loyalty and devotion to our Federal type as established by our fathers; and

WHEREAS, The Federal form of government was created to insure a positive division of powers, conferring upon the National specified enumerated powers and reserving to the States all others; and

WHEREAS, Under this form we have enjoyed unexcelled progress, the full realization of life, liberty and pursuit of happiness and the enviable position of being the peer of all nations; and

WHEREAS, It has ever been our cherished policy to keep government as close to the people as possible in order to effect desired economies, more direct participation and more rigid control of problems, sectional and local in character; and

Resolved, By the Senate of the State of Minnesota, the House of Representatives concurring, That we deplore this tendency and view with alarm any and all encroachment upon our State rights granted under the Constitution, and that we strongly urge the executive and legislative branches of our National Government to be diligent in adhering to the rights and powers as expressed and defined in the Supreme Law of the Land; and be it further

SAN FRANCISCO TYEE CLUB,

Mr. Charles W. Lyon, 604 N. Oakhurst Drive, Beverly Hills, California

DEAR SIR: The San Francisco Tyee Club, with a 355 membership, held a special meeting at the Fraternity Club, Palace Hotel, on February 23, 1943.

After due deliberation a resolution was unanimously adopted against the passage of Assembly Bill No. 1374 which would permit the commercial fishing of striped bass.

The club members also unanimously voiced that in the event the sacrificing of our fish and wild life was necessary to win the war, they would support any measure to accomplish this end.

In the case of Assembly Bill No 1374, the striped bass has been wrapped in an American Flag by selfish interests for personal gains and not for any patriotic reason.

The 450,000 California sportsmen and their families are appealing to you as sponsors of this bill, to withdraw same as they are of the opinion that you have been misinformed on this subject.

Yours very truly,

*Speaker of the Assembly, California State Legislature
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: We are inclosing a resolution which was recently adopted by the Central Labor Council of Humboldt County.

We request that you give this resolution every consideration possible in view of the food shortages that our Nation is now being confronted with

Sincerely yours,

CENTRAL LABOR COUNCIL OF HUMBOLDT COUNTY

RESOLUTION IN REGARD TO EXTENDING THE COMMERCIAL SALMON SEASON

WHEREAS, The production of greater quantities of food for the armed forces, for domestic consumption and for lend-lease purposes is a very important factor in winning the war; and

WHEREAS, The production of salmon becomes increasingly important in view of meat shortages; and

WHEREAS, The salmon fishing fleet has lost a large part of its man power to the Army and Navy and to the shipyards; and

WHEREAS, Experience shows that the best salmon begin to run along the Northern California Coast about the time the commercial salmon season is closed at present by California law; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Central Labor Council of Humboldt County petition the California Assembly and Senate to revise the present law governing the salmon season so that the salmon season in Fish and Game Districts 6 and 7 corresponds with the season in Southern Oregon (that is, that no legal closing date be set on the season, but allow the season to be regulated entirely by the forces of nature). Or, if such a change is not possible, that at least the commercial salmon season closing date be set at October 31st, so that the best runs of salmon may be used in the present emergency.

Adopted February 22, 1943.

THE SECRETARY OF THE NAVY
WASHINGTON, February 27, 1943

Arthur Ohnimus, Esquire, Chief Clerk, California Legislature, State House, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: Thank you for your letter inclosing Assembly Joint Resolution No. 14 as adopted by the Legislature of the State of California on January 31, 1943.

The Navy has been under the urgent necessity of obtaining the maximum possible production to meet immediate and vital needs. To this end the procurement practice with reference to small production units has been to expand the use of their facilities to the greatest practicable extent. This policy has been and will continue to be followed in recognition of the very great advantages that result both in speed and volume of production.

In order that you may be more fully informed concerning the specific steps taken by the Navy Department to distribute Naval contracts more widely, there is inclosed a condensed report of these activities.

I have further directed that the San Francisco field representative of the Office of Procurement and Material, Commander John J. Haviside, U. S. N. R., call on you and discuss with you any points concerning California smaller war plants which you may wish to bring to his attention.

Sincerely yours,

FRANK KNOX

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
WASHINGTON, February 15, 1943

*Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge your letter of January 30th addressed to Secretary Wickard together with the joint resolution adopted by the Assembly and by the Senate regarding placing grapes and raisins on the essential list of farm products.

The list of essential farm products was recently revised and approved by both the department and Selective Service of the War Manpower Commission. This revised list now includes the production of grapes for all purposes, including raisins.

In order to guide local Selective Service boards in reaching determinations regarding the deferment of necessary men in agriculture, certain standards of production have been established under a plan known as the War Units Plan. Under this plan, it is recommended that any person who is responsible through his own efforts for the production of at least 16 war units of essential farm products should be eligible for deferment. Seven-tenths of one acre of grapes equal one war unit. In other words, any individual who is personally responsible for the production of at least 11.2 acres of grapes should be eligible for deferment.

We trust this action satisfactorily answers the joint resolution of the California Legislature.

Sincerely yours,

M. CLIFFORD TOWNSEND, Director
Food Production Administration

WAR DEPARTMENT
HEADQUARTERS, SERVICES OF SUPPLY
WASHINGTON, D. C., February 20, 1943

*Honorable Arthur A. Ohnimus, Assembly Chamber
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: The Secretary of War has directed that I reply on his behalf to your letter of February 3, 1943, inclosing a copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 14, adopted by the Legislature of the State of California on January 31, 1943, memorializing the Secretary of War to distribute military contracts more widely by purchasing in smaller quantities and awarding a proportionate share of such contracts to small business enterprises.

Since the beginning of the National emergency, the distribution of a fair share of War Department contracts to smaller business enterprises has been the subject of serious consideration in the department. During the ensuing period, with our purchases representing a larger and larger share of the National economy, this consideration has been continuously intensified. Since the establishment of the Smaller War Plants Division of the War Production Board and the creation of the Smaller War Plants Corporation by the Small Business Act (Public No. 603, Seventy-seventh Congress, June, 1942) we have been working actively with these bodies to perfect the organization and procedure necessary to make available to the small business of the country an appropriate share of War Department purchases. Included among the steps that have been taken in this direction are the lengthening, where possible, of the time for bidding on contracts, to avoid the disadvantage which a short time limitation has sometimes imposed on small firms; the allocation of a portion of each procurement for placement with qualified small firms designated by War Production Board field officers; and the review in advance with the Smaller War Plants Division of the War Production Board of the articles which the Army contemplates buying in the future, to permit the necessary advance planning for placement of a fair share of this business with small firms.

The Members of the California Legislature will of course understand that in wartime considerations of speed of delivery, proper quality and adequate quantity must be paramount in the Army purchasing policy. You may be sure, however, the War Department is bending every effort to ensure the placement of a proper part of its purchasing with small business.

Sincerely yours,

LUCIUS D. CLAY,

Major General, General Staff Corps, Assistant Chief of Staff for Material

*Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

MY DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge receipt of your note of January 28th, inclosing Assembly Joint Resolutions Nos. 9 and 12—the former referring to observation and celebration of the birth of Thomas Jefferson, and the latter to the classification of the grape and raisin industry as "essential."

I have read both resolutions with sympathetic interest and thank you for sending them to me.

With reference to the status of the grape and raisin industry, I recently had this matter up with the Department of Agriculture and quote the following excerpts from the response I received:

"There is, I think, some misunderstanding of the significance of the list of 'essential' crops. The Department of Agriculture recommended to the Selective Service a revised list of essential farm products and war unit conversion factors which would be used by the local Selective Service Boards in determining deferments from military service. This revised list specifically includes grapes with small fruits and berries. The Department of Agriculture has no complete list of commodities which would receive preferential treatment with regard to labor, transportation and containers. We hope that this revised list will be accepted for use by the Selective Service Board. Grapes have been classed with small fruits and berries, seven-tenths of an acre of which equal one war unit. Tree, deciduous and citrus fruits require one acre to equal one war unit."

Thanking you for sending me copies of the resolutions, I am

Sincerely yours,

HIRAM W. JOHNSON

Motion carried.

Report of the Committee on State-Federal Cooperation in the Discovery, Production, Transportation, Refining, and Use of Petroleum

To the Speaker and Honorable Members of the Assembly of the State of California
Your Committee on State-Federal Cooperation in the Discovery, Production, Transportation, Refining, and Use of Petroleum herewith submits its report
Your committee met on February 15, 1943, at Los Angeles, California. After organization and discussion the following resolution was adopted:

WHEREAS, California is one of the principal oil-producing States of the Union, and the present productive capacity of California's oil fields is being severely taxed to supply the existing demands of our armed forces and essential civilian activities; and

WHEREAS, It is clear that the demands of both our armed forces and civilian activities are increasing and will continue to increase; and

WHEREAS, It is common knowledge that the cost of labor and materials has greatly increased in the past 18 months, during which time there has been no increase in the prices of crude oil paid to producers; and

WHEREAS, It is essential to the promotion of increased production and the discovery of new oil reserves that substantial increases be had in the prices of crude oil and for allied products; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by this committee, That the Office of Price Administration and the Honorable Prentiss Brown, director thereof, be and they are hereby urged to forthwith recognize the need for the encouragement of further and greater production of crude oil and new discoveries thereof through increases in prices paid to the producers of crude oil, and that they forthwith direct a reasonable, substantial increase in prices for all crude oil produced in California and the products of crude oil, in order to avoid a serious and critical shortage in the available supplies of such products; and be it further

Resolved. That copies of this resolution be sent to the Petroleum Administrator for War and to all Members of Congress from California and that they be urged to use their best efforts to bring about reasonable, substantial increases in the prices of crude oil in California and the products derived therefrom

Pursuant to the terms thereof, copies were transmitted to the Petroleum Administrator for War and to all Members of Congress of the United States from California.

Your committee is pleased to report that on motion of Congressman Thomas Rolph, of San Francisco, the resolution was ordered printed in the Congressional Record on page 2-507, on February 23, 1943.

Acknowledgments of receipt of said resolution have been received, with assurances of complete cooperation, from the following Congressmen: Leroy Johnson, Ed V. Izac, Harry L. Englebright, Richard J. Welch, Norris Poulson, John Z. Anderson, Thomas Rolph, John M. Costello, Bertrand W. Gearhart, Harry R. Sheppard, Albert E. Carter, and from senior United States Senator Hiram W. Johnson and United States Senator Sheridan Downey.

A communication was also received from Ralph K. Davies, Deputy Petroleum Administrator, acknowledging receipt of a letter from your committee addressed to Mr. Harold L. Ickes, Petroleum Administrator for War, which is as follows:

Your letter of February 17th to Mr. Harold L. Ickes, Petroleum Administrator for War, and the attached resolution of the Interim Legislative Committee on State-Federal Cooperation in Petroleum have been referred to me for reply.

At the present time this office is engaged in a study of the costs of producing crude oil. Upon completion of this study, appropriate recommendations will be made to the Office of Price Administration.

Your consideration in referring this matter to our attention is appreciated.
Sincerely yours,

RALPH J. DAVIES
Deputy Petroleum Administrator

Your committee will conduct further hearings with relation to the purposes for which it was formed and will subsequently report to your honorable body.

MOTION TO PRINT INTERIM COMMITTEE REPORT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Sam L. Collins moved that the following Report of the Interim Committee to Inquire Into the Administration and Enforcement of Criminal Laws be printed in the Journal:

Mr. Call seconded the motion.

Motion carried.

Report of Interim Committee to Inquire Into the Administration and Enforcement of Criminal Laws

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 81, and the adoption of the resolution authorizing the Interim Committee created by said resolution to inquire into the administration and enforcement of criminal laws; your committee submits the following findings and recommendations:

Chess Players	(1) That a defendant by the name of STANLEY BEEBE entered the central jail of the City of Los Angeles at the approximate hour of 7 o'clock p.m. on December 19, 1942. The uncontradicted testimony disclosed that Mr. Beebe was in perfect health save and except for the fact of a condition of intoxication. The degree of intoxication is in doubt. The fact is certain that at the moment of Mr. Beebe's entry into said jail, he picked up a dial phone and dialed his home number, and his wife, Mrs. Beebe, answered. The conversation was rational and intelligible. After this episode, the conflict of testimony creates an uncertainty as to the exact whereabouts of Mr. Beebe until the hour of 1 29 a m. of December 20, 1942, the time of the departure of Mr. Beebe in the police wagon for the Lincoln Heights Jail. From that hour until 6 a m. the same morning, Mr. Beebe's presence was not noted. At 6 a m., or thereabouts, Mr. Beebe talked with Mrs. Beebe through the screen at the Lincoln Heights Jail, at which time she observed his swollen and distorted features. From then until his release several hours later, the testimony shows that Mr. Beebe was in a battered and bruised condition. This condition was, or should have been, apparent to all. His departure and arrival at his home and his condition at said time is established by reliable and wholly disinterested parties. From this uncontroverted physical fact, and the testimony of the doctors at the coroner's inquest, your committee finds that Mr. Beebe received injuries while in the custody of the Los Angeles police from which injuries Mr. Beebe died.

Officer
Kucera

(2) That during the time Mr. Beebe was confined to his bed over one week, an officer called at the request of Mrs. Beebe. He observed the physical condition of Mr. Beebe and commented on the gravity of his injuries. This officer made his report to his superior officer, reporting the physical condition of Mr. Beebe and the charge that his injuries were inflicted by the police while in their custody.

Capt
Irwin

This notice and the subsequent requests for action by Mrs. Beebe brought no response from the police department.

From this established fact, your committee finds that the police department could have easily established that the police were or were not responsible for the injuries, and could have conclusively shown that the allegations were true or false had they chosen to have taken the accused before Mr. Beebe while he remained conscious. This they did not do. The reason must be obvious.

(3) The evidence established that a police board of inquiry had been appointed for the purpose of inquiring into the death of Mr. Beebe and the cause thereof.

As a result of this inquiry, six officers have been suspended, five accused of perjury arising out of their testimony at the coroner's inquest and one charged with manslaughter. If the allegation of manslaughter refers to the kicking administered to Mr. Beebe, which kicking caused his death, certainly this charge is the lightest that could be considered in view of the evidence.

Your committee feels that the charge of perjury will in nowise aid the district attorney in the prosecution of this case, but rather will hinder and handicap him in the proof. The fact that it required almost two months to make any recommendation and then to make a recommendation of this sort proves conclusively to your committee that the provisions of the charter hereinafter set forth are an aid to no one other than the accused police, and instead of being an aid in the furtherance of justice it thwarts this purpose and every other known orderly procedure provided for the protection of the innocent and the prosecution of the guilty.

Your committee's attention was directed to scores of cases where complaint was made to the proper officials regarding beatings received by complainants at the hands of the police. In many instances these complainants obtained judgment against the officers administering the beating, but practically without exception the officers have gone unpunished, no hearings having been held in accordance with the charter provisions.

Your committee wishes to call attention to the following provisions of the CITY CHARTER OF LOS ANGELES:

Sec 202 (1) The right of an officer or employee of the Police Department to hold his office or position and to the compensation attached to such office or position is hereby declared to be a substantial property right. . . . No officer or employee of the Police Department shall be suspended, removed, deprived of his office or position . . . except . . . after a full, fair and impartial hearing before the Board of Rights . . .

(6) The Board of Rights shall be constituted of three (3) officers of the rank of Captain or higher . . . , the officer or employee shall draw six (6) cards from a box containing the names of all of the officers who are qualified to sit upon such board (. . .), and shall select any three (3) of the six (6) names thus drawn to constitute the Board of Rights to hear and decide upon the charges against him, rejecting the three (3) not selected by replacing them in the box. The three (3) thus selected shall constitute the Board of Rights to hear and decide the matter.

(12) At such hearing the accused shall have the right to appear in person and by counsel or representative, or both, . . . The accused shall have the right and privilege to select and name any officer of the department of any rank not higher than the rank of lieutenant (who is not otherwise disqualified by reason of prejudice or being a party to the action in any capacity) to act as his defense representative at such hearing. The Chief of Police must immediately assign the officer so selected and named to act as such representative, and it is hereby made the duty of such officer to use every legal means available and exercise the best efforts of which he is capable to defend the accused at such hearing. All testimony at such hearing shall be . . . reported by a stenographer and . . . the accused shall be entitled to a certified copy of such transcript without charge or payment of fee.

(16) At any time within three (3) years after any case of removal as hereinabove provided, the officer or employee so removed may file his request with the Chief of Police to be reheard or to be heard on the cause of his removal, . . . the Chief of Police must . . . cause a Board of Rights to be constituted in the manner hereinabove provided for the purpose of hearing and deciding the matter. The said Board of Rights shall proceed as hereinabove prescribed, and shall at the conclusion of the hearing render and certify its findings (independent of any previous findings by any other Board of Rights, or any other court, board or other tribunal, or any investigation or report of or discretion exercised by the Chief of Police in such cases where no hearing was had before a Board of Rights), based upon the evidence adduced before it at such hearing and not otherwise, and shall make and certify its decision and order in writing, and shall deliver a copy thereof to the Chief of Police. (Underlining added.)

It is the opinion of your committee that these provisions of the charter be entirely deleted, since all the officers have the rights conferred upon civil service employees and in addition have this added means of perpetuating themselves in office.

The people should be permitted to vote as provided by law upon proposed changes or amendments. Upon submitting to the electorate the form of amendment or provision, it is then for the people to determine the choice. With the substitute or the amendment, your committee is not concerned, excepting that all the evidence submitted has conclusively shown that this provision definitely permits justice to be circumvented and the guilty to go unpunished.

Your committee further finds that the inalienable rights of citizens are suspended by the police. The police rule that the accused is not entitled to bail or release from custody until such time as the police themselves so decide, it being established that they now have decided by present rule and regulation that after an incarceration of five hours these rights may be asserted.

The right to the aid of counsel at all stages of the proceedings likewise are suspended under the same rules and regulations as promulgated by the police department.

Your committee desires to call attention of the Legislature, and the people of Los Angeles in particular, to the fact that the alleged brutality referred to in this report was not confined to the Beebe case. Your committee established by sober, reliable, and disinterested persons that brutal and inhumane treatment was accorded other prisoners on the night of December 19, 1942, and from this and other testimony your committee finds that this manner of treatment is not unusual, but appears to be the prescribed course of conduct. Your committee was not delegated the task of solving the Beebe case by disclosing who was responsible for his injuries, but rather to ascertain whether or not the rights of persons accused had been abridged. This, your committee did, in no uncertain manner. In addition thereto, the district attorney of Los Angeles County graciously announced that your committee had been of material aid in securing indictments.

Your committee further finds that police reports, prepared primarily for police departmental use, are considered by the judges of the municipal court upon a plea of guilty before sentence is pronounced. The report is frequently incorrect and may contain untrue and highly prejudicial matters that are intentionally or thoughtlessly incorporated therein. This offers opportunity for deliberate or negligent distortion of facts and usually contains extraneous matter based upon suspicion and hearsay obviously prejudicial to the defendant, no part of which report is made under oath.

There is a further recommendation of your committee which we feel of the utmost importance in order to prevent the occurrence of deaths within the jail from injuries received before or while in custody, and that is the presence at all times of a licensed and practicing physician and surgeon to administer immediately aid needed by those sustaining injuries.

Your committee further recommends as one of the conditions to the hiring of any person as a policeman or police officer, that such person be required to post, at his own expense, a bond in the penal sum of $1,000, before assuming his duties, the condition of the bond to be the payment by such policeman or police officer of any amount or judgment recovered by a plaintiff against him for injuries received from such police officer arising out of any misconduct or mistreatment at the hands of such police officer; and provided that in event any such judgment should remain unsatisfied for the period of 60 days from the date of the entry thereof, such officer would, upon the expiration of said 60-day period, become automatically disqualified from holding his position or any position as policeman, police officer, or law enforcement officer in the State of California.

IN CONCLUSION, your committee desires to express its appreciation for the cooperation of Fred N. Howser, the present district attorney of Los Angeles County, and his staff.

We take particular pride in pointing out to the Assembly and to the citizens of Los Angeles that in thus fulfilling the last official wish and act of the late District Attorney John F. Dockweiler, we believe his judgment has been proven sound in this particular respect, in thus forcefully calling to the attention of the electorate of Los Angeles and to the Assembly the acts of which he complained and the possible remedy therefor. This problem was so acute and of such moment as to prompt him to make this unusual request. The great and immediate need for a remedy should be apparent to all. The character of the remedy to be afforded, we leave to the democratic process. To the people of Los Angeles County we intrust its fate.

MOTION TO PRINT LETTER IN JOURNAL

Mr. Kilpatrick moved that the following letter be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

DAIRY AND FOOD DEPARTMENT
 CITY OF ABERDEEN, SOUTH DAKOTA, February 27, 1943

*Chairman Sam L. Collins
 Fullerton, California*

DEAR SIR I wrote you on February 24th calling your attention to letters that I had previously written John C. Dockweiler, District Attorney, a copy of which I inclosed. I also have written two letters in rather complete detail to the Los Angeles Examiner. Inasmuch as there was an error in the address of my former letter, I am again writing covering the content of my former letter.

I lost my son, Ward Leland Buttz, 41 years old, married, with two minor children, in August, 1941. He had been in Los Angeles but three days, was arrested for being drunk and although in full possession of his faculties and evidence of the officers making the arrest that he was not intoxicated but uncooperative, inasmuch as he insisted on driving his car to his rooms. He was booked at 12.10 and at 3.25 was removed from his cell with a fractured skull. Two fractures, one on top of the right side and one over the left ear indicating that he was beaten, the police theory was that he fell from a bunk.

This occurred in Hollywood Jail on Thursday night or Friday morning, August 28, 1941. He died August 30th, at 9.30 p.m. He was not taken to the hospital until some time after 7 o'clock in the morning, lying in the jail at No. 110 adjacent to the Los Angeles General Hospital although removed from Hollywood at 3.35 a.m. with a diagnosis of fractured skull and hemorrhage. Notations on the police record and in the Emergency Hospital adjacent the Hollywood, together with the delay in reaching medical attention indicated to me that he had been roughly handled.

I have many notations and data, collected at that time, which I would be glad to submit if you care to look into the matter, and I have many friends in Los Angeles to whom I could refer you as to my responsibility.

This young man was the past Exalted Ruler of the Elks, a member of the Masonic Fraternity, a World War Veteran, Vice President of our Country Club, and past President of the State Golf Association.

Will you kindly advise me if you receive this letter

Very truly yours,

W. L. BUTTZ

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 8, 1943

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly
State of California, Sacramento, California

GREETINGS: Pursuant to the provisions of Section 312 of the Political Code of the State of California, you are hereby notified that on the twelfth day of February, 1943, at 4:07 o'clock p.m., Assembly Bill No. 290 was returned without my signature, and together with a statement of my objections thereto, was delivered to Arthur A. Ohmmus, Chief Clerk of the Assembly. A copy of the statement mentioned is attached hereto

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, February 12, 1943

State of California, Sacramento, California*

GREETINGS I am returning herewith, without my signature, Assembly Bill No. 290, entitled: "An act to add Section 214 to the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to the exemption from taxation of merchandise arrested by war conditions from actually continuing to move in interstate or foreign commerce, declaring the urgency thereof and providing that this act take effect immediately."

My objections to this bill are as follows:

It grants a special and preferential exemption and would shift the burden of public protection of the property affected while in the State to other taxpayers. Meanwhile other property, lying idle and depreciating in value due to war conditions, would have to pay its share of public expense.

The inherent unfairness of so shifting the burden and the tendency of this kind of legislation to impair the whole tax structure of the State greatly outweigh in importance the need for relief to owners of property exempted from taxation by this bill. If this exemption is granted, other taxpayers will make similar claims for relief and the gates will be opened for other exemptions.

Furthermore, no practical standard is set up to enable the assessors of the State, charged with the responsibility of levying and collecting such taxes, to determine what property is properly within the provisions of the act. No provision is made for payment of taxes even though the intent to move the property in interstate or foreign commerce is abandoned and the property is thereafter sold.

The assessors of the State, through their association, object to the act as being bad tax policy and inequitable.

The Attorney General has also questioned the sufficiency of the urgency clause. The resulting uncertainty in the effective date of the act might result in expensive litigation to the counties.

Respectfully submitted.

EARL WARREN, Governor

May visions call and faith inflame,
And banish lust and greed;
Make Thou America to be

COMMUNICATIONS

By the Chief Clerk:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 4, 1943

In reply refer to: S24:FEM

*Mr. Arthur A. Ohnimus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature Assembly, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: This will acknowledge your letter of February 3d, inclosing a copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 20.

Let me assure you that immediate instructions are being sent to the regional office in San Francisco so that sufficient personnel will be available to assure full compliance with the Maximum Rent Regulations in the Vallejo Defense-Rental Area. You are aware, of course, that there are budgetary limitations to the number of personnel available in any given defense-rental area.

It would be of interest to note that though there may be individual exceptions, a recent survey of rents in Vallejo by the Bureau of Labor Statistics indicates that there is over-all compliance with the regulations which were issued by this office.

Sincerely yours,

PRENTISS M. BROWN, Administrator

By Mr. Dunn:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Pensioners in the War Effort

A prolific source of casual labor, vitally needed in the war effort, is being entirely overlooked. Thousands of old age pension recipients who could, in the aggregate, contribute heavily, are precluded from taking any part.

Many of them are entirely capable of aiding in the harvest of crops. Many could rent rooms or apartments to relieve housing shortages. All need to supplement their pensions with additional funds to meet sharply rising living costs.

The Livermore Chamber of Commerce believes that pensioners should be included in the war program. It suggests that for the duration of the emergency, pensioners should be permitted to engage in necessary activities related to the war, without suffering any involvement of their status as pensioners.

The following resolution has been adopted by the Livermore Chamber. It is offered for your consideration with the request that, if it should be deemed to have merit, you will take whatever action is possible to accomplish the objective:

WHEREAS, Many sections of the State of California, including Livermore, face an acute shortage of agricultural labor which will impede the harvesting of essential crops; and

WHEREAS, Many sections of California, including Livermore, are involved in a critical housing shortage, resulting directly from the war, and

WHEREAS, Thousands of persons now receiving old-age pensions are capable of working, either full-time or part-time, in the harvest fields; and

WHEREAS, Many others would be able to provide housing accommodations in their homes for persons engaged in war activities; and

WHEREAS, Present regulations prohibit pensioners from engaging in any activity for remuneration, without deduction of earnings from pension payments or involvement of their status as pension recipients, thereby preventing such persons from assisting in the war effort; and

WHEREAS, Such regulations although undoubtedly necessary and proper during normal times, are today seriously interfering with the war effort; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Livermore Chamber of Commerce, That all officials and agencies of the United States Government and the State of California having jurisdiction, are urged to act immediately to change existing regulations so that pensioners residing in localities where agricultural labor and housing shortages exist, will be permitted, for the duration of the emergency, to participate in whatever casual and emergency activities are necessary to relieve war conditions without deduction of earnings from pension payments and without involvement of their status as pensioners; be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to all Federal and State officials and agencies having jurisdiction, and that attention of all other chambers of commerce be called to this matter, with request that they contribute their efforts toward securing the necessary changes in regulations

MOTION TO PRINT EDITORIAL IN JOURNAL

Mr. Ralph C. Dills moved that the following editorial from the San Francisco Examiner of March 4th be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Scandal!—Bureaucratic Rule Brings Food Shortage

The food shortage in the United States resulting from bureaucratic mishandling of the farm manpower problem, is rapidly assuming the proportions of a national disaster.

Mr. Louis Bromfield, famous author and New Deal Democrat, emphasized the extent and imminence of this disaster in a recent Town Hall address in New York City.

"The American people," said Mr. Bromfield, "will one way or another be fighting for butter, pork, beef, dairy products, eggs and many other commodities."

"There are already many metropolitan and industrial areas where, for days and even weeks, few of these things are even available today. The situation will grow worse rather than better . . ."

"I think it fair to say that nothing practical whatever has been done to help the farmer to produce more . . . This scandal, and by next autumn it will be one of the greatest scandals in American history, affects the whole future history of ourselves and of the world."

"Its repercussions will destroy the future of the Democratic Party for years, the future of liberalism, even the future possibility of a decent peace."

"And throughout the world, millions of people will sicken and die and generations of children will grow up stunted and sickly because a frivolous and incompetent bureaucracy, in the richest country in the world, did not do its job."

Mr. Bromfield does not speak with excessive alarm about this ominous situation, as many other informed authorities attest.

The war food goal for America has been set 8 per cent above 1942 production, and 30 per cent above normal production.

But the Senate Appropriations Committee has just received the stunning report from 85 per cent of the nearly 3,000 county farm agents of the country that farm food production this year will be from 10 to 31 per cent LESS than last year.

Mr. Guy Kinsley, regional food rationing representative of the Office of Price Administration, told the Hatfield Committee of the California Legislature:

"There is no such thing as a civilian meat quota. The armed forces and lend-lease are going to get whatever meat they need, and what is left will be the civilian quota.

"Regardless of what the population basis is, civilians will be lucky to get one pound of meat a week in the future. Whoever figures there will be two and one-half pounds available for each civilian is crazy."

Why does the United States, which has abundant and virtually inexhaustible food resources, confront such a disaster?

Why is the American nation producing less food when it should be producing more?

Farmers know the answers to these questions.

Hundreds of thousands of skilled farmers have been inducted into the armed forces, or have been attracted by higher wages to war industries, in utter disregard of the fact that agriculture itself is the most vital and essential of all industries.

Farm machinery is virtually unobtainable.

Acreage is reduced. Planting is curtailed. Care and cultivation are neglected. Harvesting is impossible in many cases.

And in the livestock and dairying industries, lack of skilled farm help has caused the wasteful decimation of herds and thus a shortage of dairy products and an exhaustion of meat.

Somebody is crazy all right, but it is not the civilian who is supposed to feel "lucky to get one pound of meat a week in the future."

It is the bureaucratic czars of America who are crazy.

Civilian economy will collapse with insufficient food, and war production will collapse, and the armed forces will suffer and even the idealistic lend-lease commitments will ultimately be unfulfilled.

Bureaucracy has had many failures. It has in fact had few if any successes. But of all its failures, its reduction of both civilian and armed Americans toward starvation levels is the most unnecessary and stupid, the most unpatric and criminal.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS IN JOURNAL

Mr. Dickey moved that the following remarks by Mr. Ralph C. Dills before the Assembly be reduced to writing and printed in the Journal, and that copies of the Journal be sent to Members of the California Delegation in Congress and to the Office of Price Administration in Washington:

Motion carried.

Remarks by Assemblyman Ralph C. Dills

MR SPEAKER: In requesting that the San Francisco Examiner's editorial, "Food Shortage Created by Bureaucratic Rule," be reprinted in the Assembly Journal, I do so with the hope that it will play some part in bringing order out of the chaos that is Washington today.

These know-nothing bureaucrats, these swivel-chair saboteurs, are doing as much to disrupt our war effort as if they were actually in the pay of a foreign enemy.

From the fighting fronts comes back the cry for production and more production. The American people, the workers in the factories and on the farm are doing their utmost to meet the demands of our fighting forces.

Willingly we join with our military, knowing that by working together we are combining to save our Country and its democratic ideals.

That is—we are trying to!

But, in Washington, instead of implementing our natural desires for cooperation in the battle of production, we find an endless array of petty officials, men with little or no knowledge, to say nothing of their lack of practical experience, issuing countless edicts whose only purpose, it appears in the cold light of practicality, is to slow up, if not stifle completely, all action on the home front.

The farmers of our State—the producers of our foods from the field, the dairy men, stockmen, the tillers of our great fields and orchards—are as much a part of the Nation's war effort as are the men in uniform.

The farmers, like our fighters, must be given every cooperation—every possible assistance and not legalistic impediments, not bureaucratic bottlenecks, not insane edicts, to promote this production to the fullest.

When an individual slows up production or damages the machinery of production in a defense plant he is indicted for sabotage and prosecuted at once.

Today, however, we have government officials who are slowing up or arbitrarily preventing the production of food in California.

Without regard for our varied climatic conditions, our diversified crops, of the almost limitless potentialities of our great agricultural industry, they have held up needed farm machinery, prevented the planting of crops, dissipated our animal feed supplies, and forced the slaughter of some of our State's finest dairy herds.

Such action is nothing short of criminal.

At a time when the farmers are straining every muscle, every nerve, to meet higher production goals, they are hamstrung with arbitrary and unreasonable regulations under which planting and harvesting of vital food crops can not be accomplished.

This Examiner editorial, I believe, best expresses the plight of our Nation. It takes courage in times such as these with Government in every industry, where none of us are beyond the reach of some bureau which may take "disciplinary" action should we express our honest convictions.

Yet, let me say, it appears that only a revolt—a verbal shaking of the bureaucratic Washington by the victims—will awaken President Roosevelt and his Cabinet to the awful situation they have allowed to be created.

A marked copy of the Assembly Journal containing this editorial should be sent to President Roosevelt, the members of his Cabinet, the OPA Administrator and every Member of Congress.

The time for action is now!

Food, like tanks and planes, must be produced

It can be produced, it will be produced—but bureaucratic meddling, bureaucratic bungling must stop NOW!

MOTION TO PRINT EDITORIAL IN JOURNAL

Mr. Kellems moved that the following editorial from the San Francisco Examiner of March 9th be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

His Own Medicine—Whipping Post for Wife Beaters

For generations, the State of Maryland has been singularly free from cases of the cowardly, base and often atrocious crime of wife beating.

Maryland long ago discovered the way to deter and cure these sluggers.

They are simply turned over to the sheriff, who legally and publicly administers to them a whipping.

In California, we have no such law.

We either fine the offender, sentence him to a few days in jail, simply reprimand or put him under peace bond.

How well this system works can best be judged by the constant increase, in number and brutality, of cases where wives and children have been subjected to inhuman beatings.

That is why Assemblyman Doyle's bill, providing for a public whipping post in California, expressly for the punishment by flogging of heavy-handed bullies and husbands, should be promptly passed.

The measure is now before the Crime and Correction Committee, which should approve it and place it before the house.

The sad truth is that no amount of reasoning, no jail sentence or fine, seems adequate to reform an habitual wife beater.

But a little of his own medicine, heartily applied, does seem to work wonders.

An abuser of women and children, after all, is essentially a coward.

No manly man, no decent man, ever vents his anger on the weak and the helpless.

His attitude is primarily concerned with his own hide and so the official whip often prevents maltreatment of wives and children.

The prospect or the remembrance of the lash is an admirable deterrent to a coward.

Let our State give us the whipping post for wife beaters.

It will work here as well as in Maryland.

MOTION TO PRINT COMMITTEE REPORT IN JOURNAL

Motion carried.

Report of Committee to Investigate Military Affairs

March 10, 1943

MR. SPEAKER: Pursuant to House Resolution No. 47, your Special Committee on Military Affairs respectfully submits the following report containing its testimony, conclusions, and recommendations for the consideration of all Members of the Legislature.

Meetings

The committee met in executive sessions in Sacramento, Los Angeles, and San Francisco. A total of 52 witnesses were subpoenaed, all of whom testified under oath. Those interviewed were, by occupation, enlisted men and officers of the State Guard, officers of the State Militia, and leading citizens whose opinions are to be respected.

In addition, members of the committee visited and inspected State Guard camps, offices, and installations.

This report contains only a small portion of our discoveries, sufficient, we believe, to establish the deficiencies that exist.

Testimony

The committee subpoenaed and reviewed numerous records of audits and accounts dealing in property and finance. Testimony was presented to the effect that property given over to the State Guard from the State Relief Administration was not inventoried and the exact disposition and location of approximately $1,000,000 worth of these properties is unknown to persons responsible to The Adjutant General.

The committee found 334 automobiles in the possession of the State Guard and further found that officers could not account for the use or location of the automobiles in their charge. A great deal of private use has been made of the mobile State property, and private persons were permitted to lease their automobiles to the Guard in addition to the overwhelming number of vehicles already in its possession. Reports from local motor pools were intended to show the use and location of mobile equipment, but the inefficiency of those in charge prevented a full record from ever being compiled.

Testimony, accompanied by official records, was given the committee showing that the side arms and revolvers issued to various individuals within the Guard are now unaccountable. Many such revolvers are missing, and it appears to be an impossible task to accomplish their recovery.

The committee further found that in many instances untrained and unqualified persons were permitted to buy food and staples for feeding the enlisted personnel, all of which resulted in the expenditure of State funds for misrepresented quality, odd and unusable quantities, and most important of all, duplicate payment of invoices. Testimony from the officers charged with keeping records of mess funds showed that no system of accounting exists within the Guard that would prevent the misapplication of funds.

Testimony was given at length showing duplicate payment of wages approximating $25,000. This occurred soon after the passage of Senate Bill No. 36 in 1942. While a portion of these duplicate salary payments have been recovered, it will be impossible to recapture the amounts in full since many persons to whom the money was paid have now left the Guard for places unknown.

In one instance, enlisted men were obliged to feed themselves as best they could and were later to be paid the allowable subsistence money provided by the Legislature. When the warrants for this subsistence arrived, the checks bore a rubber stamp with a place for the payee to sign, which he was instructed to do, indorsing this money back to his regiment. Some men refused to sign, and testimony came before our committee to the effect that other persons indorsed the checks in a fraudulent manner. The total amount involved in this instance approximated $1,200, and the final disposition of this money found its way to the purchase of a $1,000 war bond in the name of a commanding officer. Many of the rightful benefactors of this investment have or will leave the Guard without receiving their share.

Promotions

The question was asked of every witness likely to be in a position of experience "Were incompetent men promoted and commissioned within the Guard at the expense of other well qualified candidates?" Without exception, the answers were in the affirmative, and many witnesses proceeded to discuss instances of promotion for political favor that had not been the object of the original question. The underlying cause of this situation came through the fact that many former employees of the State Relief Administration were carried over into the State Guard. In order to pay these people a salary similar to that which they had been receiving, it was necessary that they be given military ranks such as Captain, Major, Colonel.

One instance of a commission of Captain being granted to an alien was presented to the committee. Several instances of misrepresentation regarding the previous military experience of commissioned officers was also willingly discussed by witnesses. Typical of this situation is the following case of an officer from the southern area. The committee gathered evidence of a police record and a felony for which this officer had been convicted. We also secured documents in his own handwriting, in which he alleged a college and West Point education. When this officer came before the committee, he wore the insignia of a Major and was suitably decorated with three rows of combat service award ribbons. We discovered he was listed in the telephone book as a Colonel, though upon questioning it was admitted his actual rank was that of Captain. Further questioning of this witness developed the fact that he had been a Private in the United States Army, and had not been to college or to West Point, nor had he received the combat awards his own statements declared.

It is not to be concluded that our State Guard is without competent personnel, for there are many enlisted men and officers serving this Commonwealth with true patriotism, efficiency, and ability. The intermingling of unqualified officers has, however, been a discouraging factor to the good personnel.

Examinations

A great deal of testimony came before the committee to the effect that no attempt to eliminate unfit or diseased recruits was made. Active venereal disease cases were admitted to the Guard service upon the insistence of officers anxious to fill the ranks of their own command. In one case, medical examinations were made by a dentist. The free hospitalization given men in the Guard was an incentive for enlistment, and the State has borne an expense along this line that should have been eliminated. Drunkenness is in no sense uncommon among officers and/or enlisted men, and considerable testimony covering instances of this nature is in the transcript of our hearings.

Disregard for Senate Bill No. 36

Throughout the change of command in The Adjutant General's Office, a thorough mixup in systems and orders resulted. No sincere effort to live by the wording of Senate Bill No. 36 was made, and a staff of 40 officers, not authorized by the bill were found on the pay roll in January of this year. A school near Chino was established for training purposes, and while the idea is commendable, the expenditures connected therewith contributed to the fact that the Guard has exceeded its budget. While our State Guard still has money, the commitments against the remaining funds are such that an additional appropriation of $1,800,000 is now necessary if we are to maintain the Guard for the balance of this fiscal year.

The number of persons on active service has never been in excess of the authorized 7,000 for the reason that sufficient manpower has not been available. By comparison, California has maintained a Guard many times greater than all other 47

States put together. Reports as of this date indicate a working active force of 4,000 men still remaining on the California State pay roll, although the rate of desertions has averaged 20 per cent, or one out of five men per month.

Actual Guarding

The committee caused a full map of the State to be prepared, showing by pin-heads the exact location of our Guard forces, their deployment, and the number and names of properties being guarded. From this information we were able to get a full picture of our intended operations. From witness after witness, however, the committee heard testimony to the effect that no real good was being accomplished and that our forces were poorly trained and entirely inadequate. The most reliable estimate of the number of men required to do a good job was 20,000, and even this is believed to be conservative. For example, there are approximately 400 men on duty guarding gas wells at Rio Vista, but the commanding officer could not guarantee that destruction of the installations could not be accomplished in spite of the regiment on duty under his command. Of the 54 wells in the location, only one-third are under guard. Therefore, about 1,000 men should be on this project. The Golden Gate Bridge should have 10 times the number now allocated, and so forth. The real cause for this condition is that sufficient able-bodied manpower is not available within the State, and that the magnitude of the task undertaken is actually so great as to be judged impossible.

No efficiency exists, and our units are not organized in a full military manner. The morale of our Guard has suffered tremendously for many, many reasons and the feeling that they are not on a par with the United States Army predominates.

In this connection, it is believed that the attitude of the United States Army is as follows: The State Guard or other units may do whatever guarding deemed necessary, BUT should any installation become a military objective its protection will be immediately undertaken by the Regular Army. It would thus be open for serious debate, or at least appear, that our efforts and expenditures for a State Guard have been exaggerated and are not as necessary as originally believed.

Militia

There exists a state of jealousy between the active State Guard, the State Guard Reserve, and the "Minute Man" Militia. The reputation of these three branches of citizen soldiery has all been under question by the public at one time or another. The committee is pleased to report, however, that a fine sense of enthusiasm and patriotism exists throughout the Militia. Testimony was received at length, substantiating the contention that an immense reservoir of willing man power exists through service in the Reserve Militia. Companies of this sort have been formed in nearly every farming community, in our larger cities, and in most counties. Their status, however, is entirely political, since they were created only upon a directive from former Governor Olson. Testimony was brought before the committee in the form of pleas and earnest requests that the remnants of this organization be recognized and encouraged. The important and basic point involved is that we are faced with a Federal draft of all able-bodied men, and that, obviously, the potential material that could otherwise fill an active State Guard will not be available. There does remain, however, a virtually unlimited number of able men who are married, in business, in defense plants, or otherwise exempt from the draft whose essential occupations will prevent them from engaging in active State Guard service. These men can, will, and desire to be of some patriotic service.

This committee is, therefore, of the opinion that a large Militia, serving in a reserve capacity, is available and should be immediately organized as the basis for California's State military forces.

Recommendations

(1) Based on the information contained above, the committee recommends that the present State Guard be completely abolished in its entirety, and that all statutes and acts under which it was created be repealed.

(2) Considering the testimony brought before this committee that the account books of the Guard have not been balanced for the last preceding three months, and considering the known laxity in the handling of funds and properties during the past year, the committee recommends that an appropriation of $10,000 be made for the purpose of employing an independent auditor, who shall audit both finances and properties of the existing State Guard and report back again to this Legislature.

(3) Considering the experience of other States and the fact that an excellent reservoir of man power suitable for service in a Militia exists within the State of California, this committee recommends passage of a new bill creating a new California State Guard in lieu of the existing Guard organization.

(4) With the realization that one failing of the past Guard organization has been the lack of a clear definition of its objectives and duties, the committee proposed the following definition: That the new State Guard be organized to guard against sabotage, in the manner of a police force, such public installations as may be deemed necessary by the military authorities; and that, in addition thereto, it may guard private installations if and when the necessary active manpower within the Guard is available.

(5) Considering the difficulties of organization at variance with other military units, and with full recognition of the difficulties experienced by the California State Guard under Senate Bill No. 36, the committee recommends that all future organization within the newly created California State Guard be in accordance with the tables of the United States Army.

(6) With acknowledgment to the size of this State, the committee recommends that two full regiments of modified Infantry be permitted active duty, with pay, at all times. These regiments, on Army tables, will approximate 1,200 men each. However, without provisions for available manpower, such as might be provided through cooperation with the Federal Selective Service System, such active personnel need not be maintained.

(7) The committee recommends that the duties of the active regiments be to serve the Governor according to constitutional manner, and, when not so serving the Governor, that they be assigned to various guarding posts. In addition hereto, it will be the regular duty of the active regiments to function as a Training Corps for the schooling and inspecting of such reserve units as may be organized.

(8) As a supplementary force, the committee recommends the organization of an unlimited number of regiments and companies of Guardsmen to serve on the reserve basis. Any kind of unit, such as Cavalry, Communications, Quartermaster, Medical, etc., as may be desired by The Adjutant General of this State, may be maintained on reserve. These forces shall remain on reserve unless and until a Proclamation declaring a state of emergency, insurrection, or invasion is issued by the Governor.

(9) The committee recommends that the personnel of the reserve units be not required to serve beyond the limits of the county in which they reside and/or are organized, unless upon being called to active duty under the Governor's Proclamation they elect to serve elsewhere.

(10) For the purpose of keeping records and making periodical inspections, the committee recommends that, in addition to the active regiment, two additional commissioned officers and three noncommissioned officers be activated per 1,000 reserve men.

(11) The committee recommends that enlistment in the Guard shall be open to all male citizens between the ages of 18 and 64, and shall also be open to any alien of the United Nations who has obtained his first papers of citizenship. Enlistment, or the acceptance of a commission, should be for the duration of the present war. In order to avoid absenteeism and to assure the public that reliable reserve units exist in their communities, desertion from service should be a punishable offense.

(12) The committee recommends that active and reserve units of the Guard meet and drill in the already established armories and/or public school buildings, and that all enlisted men be paid a drill fee of $1 per night. It is to be recognized that the payment of a drill fee entails considerable extra work, together with a moderate amount of money, but the necessity for such a drill fee was confirmed by every witness testifying before the committee.

(13) As noted in previous paragraphs of this report, the State of California has been put to considerable expense in maintaining hospitals within the State Guard. The staff of officers, nurses, and enlisted men, including cooks, etc., is a much more expensive procedure than will be necessary when only one regiment of active guard is on duty. The committee, therefore, recommends the abandonment of the State Guard hospitals now maintained, and that hospitalization in the future be accomplished in county hospitals and/or private institutions.

(14) With regard to equipment, the committee has concluded that the State should supply suitable arms and ammunition to be stored for the use of all members of the Guard. Unless available through United States Army issue, we further recommend that the entire personnel of the Guard be obliged to purchase their own uniforms.

(15) In order to provide for schooling and the training of reserve members of the Guard, the committee recommends that the Camp Hopkins School in Southern California, which can accommodate approximately 400 persons, be reopened as a training center.

(16) We further recommend that a system of competitive examinations be established through which members of the reserve may compete for selection as active trainees, and that, for two-week periods, such trainees be sent to the training center for instruction, and that full pay and allowances be given these trainees for these periods.

(17) There are, at the present time, in excess of 300 women on various duties with the State Guard, and this committee wishes to recommend that these persons be relieved of their military status, and that, in the future, such stenographic and clerical help as may be required within the Guard and in The Adjutant General's Office be obtained from the Personnel Board under civil service ratings.

(18) The committee also recommends that the active regiments of the State Guard, under direction of The Adjutant General, proceed with the disposition of the excess properties now in possession of the existing Guard, and that these items be sold, stored, or given over to other State institutions.

(19) Considerable information establishing the cost of an active Guard was brought before the committee, leading to the conclusion that a man may be maintained, including his overhead, at a cost of $6 per day. The committee therefore recommends an appropriation for the next biennium which is based on this factor and which should not exceed $7,500,000, including all fees, supplies, and miscellaneous items.

(20) While not a subject expressly assigned to this committee we wish further to recommend and endorse the bills now before this Legislature creating compulsory military training in high schools. Testimony was received from Assemblyman Don Allen in support of an appropriation for a California Cadet Corps. We believe the principles of such a corps for students and minors below the age of 18 are commendable, and that pre-military practice will be of value to the prospective draftee, but believe that such military training should be a part of and accomplished by our public schools. In this connection, the administration of military training in schools should be under the administration of The Adjutant General, and assisted by his active forces.

Remarks

All members of this committee wish to express their appreciation to Adjutant General Ray Hays for his directives which assisted the committee in obtaining data from his office, and to further commend him for his splendid cooperation.

We wish further to point out as accomplishments credited to your committee that some 50 officers in the California State Guard have already been retired to inactive duty as no longer necessary. Also, the practice of leasing private automobiles has been stopped. And, further, the men now within the State Guard are being fed by rations purchased from the United States Army, thus eliminating the uncertainty found in private buying of food commodities. Many cases of surplus foods will be turned over for the use of other institutions.

We believe most sincerely that the adoption of the recommendations contained in this report will give the State of California the very best kind of secondary protection, and that under this plan the available manpower within the State may be best utilized, organized, trained, and made ready for emergency public service.

Respectfully submitted.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Carlson:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

CARMEL, CALIFORNIA, January 31, 1943

The Honorable Arthur Carlson

DEAR MR. CARLSON: On behalf of my daughter, Micaela Martinez, and myself, I wish to express our very deep appreciation of the tribute paid the memory of Mr. Martinez by the California State Assembly at noon, January 19th.

For this honor extended to Mr. Martinez we are grateful and place it as a wreath upon the imperishable bronze plaque of New York's "World of Tomorrow" on which his name is inscribed for his cultural contribution to our great Country—an award justly earned since he gave the best of the cultural heritage of his native land, Mexico, to his beloved adopted Country. He had devoted himself to a better understanding between Mexico and the United States and his greatest hopes are now realized and carried on by the Pan-American Union of Washington, D. C., which, so magnificently, is furthering friendship and a cultural exchange between us and our southern neighbors.

By this public recognition of Mr. Martinez, California set her seal upon his achievements and his long, fruitful life of half a century as an artist and a teacher in the State. Will you kindly extend to the Members of the Assembly our very grateful thanks.

Very sincerely,

ELSIE W. MARTINEZ

MOTION TO PRINT EDITORIAL IN JOURNAL

Mr. Middough moved that the following editorial from the Long Beach Independent of February 9th be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Forgotten

Can you imagine a person living on $40 a month these days? Well, that is what we are making our old people do who must live on State old-age pensions.

No labor union speaks up for them, no cost-plus war contracts are available to them, no relatives can take care of them, otherwise they would not have been given a pension.

An old lady, 80 years of age, wrote us a letter asking if we could not influence our Legislature to reduce the sales tax on foods and get a little increase in old folks' pensions to help out in these days of high living costs.

This old lady gave as an example that, for her, honey was an absolute diet essential for the preservation of her life, and yet she now pays 90 cents for honey that she used to buy for 50 cents.

Forty dollars per month is $480 per year and, according to Government estimates on this amount of money, over 50 per cent goes for food. If you get $200 a month, only 22 per cent goes for food. In these rising costs, food has gone up 50 per cent or more; therefore, this old lady used to spend $20 of her $40 for food and she now must spend $30 for the same food.

Almost every person we know has more income than they had a year ago, but not these old people who were given a $40 pension years ago and, apparently, have been forgotten during the money-mad year just past.

There are thousands of these old people in this district, and most of them are much too old to work and very many are ill.

In our opinion, no greater disgrace could face this present session of the Legislature than that they would adjourn without correcting this situation.

Who are these old people? Why are they dependent upon a $40 pension? And are they deserving? From our knowledge of these people, they are the people who made this Country what it is. They have lived, worked, and sacrificed for this Country for 60 years or more. They have raised children and seen them go off to war. These are the people who worked when wages were low, who developed new lands, and who have contributed more, in a way, than 90 per cent of we younger people ever will contribute.

Most of us are assured now that when we reach that old age social security will take care of us, but we would never settle for $40 per month.

To say these old people never contributed to social security by having 1 per cent of their pay checks deducted is a ridiculous statement. These old people made this Country possible, they worked for 40 per cent or 50 per cent less than people now demand and surely they should be given as good a break as we expect by our 1 per cent contribution to old age retirement.

It is a terrible thing to grow old, with no dear ones to care for you, and yet if these old people had dear ones who could care for them they would not get that $40 pension.

With a hundred-million-dollar cash surplus on hand, and an ever-mounting surplus, surely our State can increase these pensions to help take care of the tragedy of ever-increasing costs of living of those who never can work again.

APPOINTMENT OF STANDING COMMITTEE MEMBERS

The Speaker announced the following changes in membership of standing committees:

Committee on Public Morals—Mr Sawallisch, Chairman

Committee on Motor Vehicles—Mr Burns, Chairman; Mr Rosenthal, Vice Chairman

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Mr. Erwin:

House Resolution No. 115

WHEREAS, The Director of Agriculture called and held a public hearing in the Assembly Room of the State Office Building at Los Angeles, California, on Wednesday, January 20, 1943, for the purpose of considering demands from fluid milk producers in the Los Angeles County marketing area for increases in producer prices sufficient to cover increased production costs; and

WHEREAS, There was present at said public hearing Dr. Norman S. Buchanan, Regional Price Executive of the Office of Price Administration for the five western States, who made the following statements, among others, at said hearing:

Our attitude from an operational point of view is this, that a price increase is something that is granted only as a last resort, only when all other means of solving the problem have been tried and found incapable of solving it. Now, then, that position, I think, is already a matter of common knowledge. Certainly Mr. Cecil and Mr. Kuhrt have been in conference with the Dairy Section in the Washington office of OPA, and they understand that our position is the one that I have just described, namely, that a price increase is the last thing and is to be undertaken after other measures have failed.

It appears to us, however, that on the basis of the information now available that is preferable to either raising the price in what appears to us to be a somewhat vain attempt to increase output substantially, or the alternative—and it may be we will have to come to this—some rationing scheme with respect to the consumption of fresh milk products. I don't think there is any one in this room who would welcome the introduction of a rationing program with respect to fresh milk consumption any more than there is any one in this room who feels particularly happy, I suppose, about rationing in a great many other fields.

now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California. That a copy of said statements be transmitted to His Excellency, the Governor of this State, to the Senators and Representatives in Congress from California, to the Honorable Prentiss Brown, Administrator, Office of Price Administration in Washington, D. C., and to Mr. Harry Camp, Regional Price Administrator, Office of Price Administration in San Francisco

I have filed this resolution with the Clerk of the House, with request that it be referred to the Agricultural Committee for consideration.

I am a member of the Special Committee appointed by the California Delegation to work on this matter. I have had constant conferences with the departments, and while we have made some headway, we have not accomplished as yet all that must be done if proper relief is to be given. *To the Honorable Members of the Assembly

GREETINGS:

ASSEMBLY BILL No. 1120

"An act making an appropriation for the operation, maintenance, and organization of the State Guard, to take effect immediately", in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Sections 1 and 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill. I therefore recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No. 1120 as necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety and as an emergency measure.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Price:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

March 3, 1943

Mr. R. Fred Price, Assemblyman Seventy-second District Ontario, California

DEAR FRED: A day or two ago Mr. D. M. Tyler, Mr. Gordon Nicholson, and I talked briefly with you on the problems facing the citrus industry, by reason of the farm labor shortage. In order that you, as our Assemblyman, may better help us in the solution of the problem facing the industry, there are given below some facts and suggestions.

The O. K. Exchange District produces more than 5,000,000 field boxes of citrus fruits annually. These fruits must be harvested before the canned juices for the Army and Lend-Lease may be processed, and before fresh fruit for civilian consumption may be packed. To date about 15 per cent of the navel crop is harvested. To avoid heavy spoilage loss, the remainder should be off the trees in 60 days from now, but lemon picking schedules are from four to eight weeks behind normal pickings in the various houses in the district.

The urgent and immediate need for a large number of agricultural laborers is obvious. Some time ago, to obtain this labor, the industry turned to Mexico for men, and under the direction of the Farm Security Administration, Mexican Nationals were imported. In January this district received a portion of its quota, but since then no Mexican Nationals have been delivered. An importation was promised February 1st by F. S. A. However, this importation was diverted to other noncitrus areas. The F. S. A. again promised delivery on February 15th to 18th, February 25th to 27th, and March 1st and 2d. As far as can be learned, no deliveries have been made to any agricultural area.

Upon definite representation by F. S. A. that imported labor would be delivered, many citrus associations have gone through the steps necessary for the reception of this labor. Contracts have been signed, bonds have been posted, housing and feeding facilities have been made available, commissary contracts have been signed—all at a very considerable cost.

The press reports that recruiting of Mexican Nationals has stopped because of departmental changes within the Mexican Government. By negotiation, the F. S. A. claims to have corrected the difficulties in recruiting which arose from these departmental changes. However, inquiry develops that no Mexican Nationals whatsoever have entrained since February 1st. Our Congress last week refused to appropriate funds for the continuance of F. S. A., indicating that F. S. A.'s activity will be heavily curtailed, if not stopped, as far as the recruiting of labor is concerned.

Mexican Nationals are necessary to harvest the citrus crop; if they are not made available the consuming public will be deprived of this essential food and the armed forces of the canned juices ordered by the Government. These juices, as ordered by the Government, require 20 per cent of orange shipment and approximately 40 per cent of lemon production. Our State should recognize this break-down of the set-up for the importation of these Nationals, and should also take appropriate steps either to expedite the importation of labor or undertake the importation itself.

For your consideration, we offer the following possible programs as solutions:

(1) The State to urge Congress that labor recruiting be resumed in Mexico at once.

(2) The State to create an agency or use an already established agency to make labor importations with the authority of the Federal Government.

(3) The State Agricultural Committee to survey the possibilities of reallocation of those Mexican Nationals now here on the basis of seasonal crop demands.

Our citrus district is, of course, not alone in its pressing need for farm labor, and undoubtedly your colleagues in the Assembly representing other citrus producing areas have had similar requests from their constituents. If a grouping of these Assemblymen could be made, and their appearance arranged before the State Agricultural Committee, adding, perhaps, an audience with Governor Warren, we feel that without question a solution of the problem could be made.

Sincerely yours,

WARREN H. WASS

Request to Submit Communication for Consideration by Committee

Mr. Bashore requested that the above communication, presented by Mr. Price, be referred to Mr. Hastain for presentation before the Joint Committees on Agriculture on Wednesday, March 17, 1943.

Request granted.

House Resolution No. 117

WHEREAS, The problems of juvenile delinquency, crime prevention and control, and supervision, custody, and treatment of offenders are of major importance to the people of the State; and

WHEREAS, The Youth Correction Authority was established by the Legislature in 1941 as a partial and empirical means toward the solution of these problems; and

WHEREAS, Sufficient time has elapsed since the organization of the Authority for the definition of its objectives, the determination of appropriate means to the achievement of those objectives, and the exercise of its functions, so that an evaluation can now be made of the adequacy of the laws under which it is organized, the validity of the program adopted, and the integration of the Authority in the penal and correctional systems of the State; and

WHEREAS, Many bills have been introduced and are now pending before the Legislature relating to the jurisdiction, powers, and duties of the Youth Correction Authority on which the Legislature can take appropriate action only after investigation, study, and the most careful consideration of the problems involved, the effectiveness of the existing laws, the achievements of the Authority under those laws, and the probable effect of the continued functioning of the Authority under the existing laws and under the laws proposed to be enacted; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That there is hereby created a committee to be known as "The Assembly Fact-Finding Committee on Correctional Problems," to consist of five Members of the Assembly appointed by the Speaker, which committee is authorized and directed.

(1) To investigate, study, and make recommendations to the Assembly concerning the penal and correctional problems of the State;

(2) To consider, evaluate, and appraise the Youth Correction Authority Act for the purpose of determining whether it should be continued in effect without change, amended, or repealed;

(3) If it is determined that the Youth Correction Authority Act should be continued in effect, to determine the proper jurisdiction, operation, and functions of the Youth Correction Authority, and the nature and extent of activities to be undertaken or continued by the Authority; to consider the advisability of modifying the present statutory provisions governing the selection and salaries of members of the Authority and all other salary and administrative expenditures; to consider the powers of the Authority in respect to the establishment and operation of institutions, agencies, and facilities, and the use by the Authority of existing institutions and facilities not under the exclusive control of the Authority; and to consider the advisability of modification of the provisions governing the termination of the jurisdiction of the Authority over the persons committed to it.

(4) If it is determined that the Youth Correction Authority Act should be continued in effect, to determine the amount of funds necessary for the support of the Authority and the carrying on of those activities and functions which are determined to be proper; to determine whether those funds should be provided in the Budget Bill or in a special appropriation bill; and if a special appropriation bill is recommended, to consider and make recommendations concerning the inclusion of restrictions in such bill in respect to expenditures and the types of projects for which the sums appropriated may be expended.

(5) To investigate and consider the integration of the Youth Correction Authority in the penal and correctional system of the State, and the relationship of the Authority to other State penal and correctional agencies and authorities.

(6) To investigate, consider, and make recommendations concerning the establishment of a State Department of Corrections to have authority over all criminal offenders and over all penal, correctional, and reformatory institutions.

The committee shall have and exercise the duty and power:

(1) To select a chairman from its membership and to employ and fix the compensation of a secretary and such clerical, expert and technical assistants as it may deem necessary;

(2) To create subcommittees from its membership, assigning to the subcommittee any study, inquiry, investigation or hearing which the committee itself has authority to undertake or hold, and the subcommittee for the purpose of this assignment shall have and exercise all of the powers conferred upon the committee limited by the express terms of the resolution or resolutions of the latter defining the powers and duties of the subcommittee, which powers may be withdrawn or terminated at any time by the committee;

(6) To meet both during this session of the Legislature and after final adjournment;

(7) To summon and subpoena witnesses, require the production of papers, books, accounts, reports, documents, and records of every kind and description, to issue subpoenas, and to take all necessary means to compel the attendance of witnesses and procure testimony.

(8) To report its findings and recommendations to the Assembly and to the people from time to time and at any time, and

(9) To cooperate so far as the judgment of the committee dictates with any Federal agency; and

(10) To do any and all other things necessary or convenient to enable it fully and adequately to exercise its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objects and purposes of this resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee, each of its members, and any representative of the committee thereunto authorized by the committee or by its chairman, is authorized and empowered to administer oaths; and all of the provisions of Article 8, Chapter 2, Title 1, Part 3 of the Political Code, relating to the attendance and examination of witnesses before the Legislature and committees thereof, and the Rules of the Assembly and the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly as they now are or may be hereafter amended, shall apply to the committee hereby created; and be it further

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE

SACRAMENTO, March 10, 1943

To the Assembly of the State of California

GREETINGS: As mentioned in an earlier message to your honorable body, there has been in progress, under the direction of The Adjutant General, a detailed study of the State Guard problem in California.

This study is now complete and I am today transmitting the conclusions which I have drawn from the facts thus developed.

Based upon the report of Adjutant General Ray W. Hays concerning both the present organization and the effectiveness of the State Guard, I have arrived at the conclusion that I must recommend that the active force of the State Guard be abolished unless the Federal Government grants deferment to its personnel and enables it to acquire adequate weapons, transportation, and means of communication.

Such action would, in my opinion, have to be followed by the restoration of the Guard to the status of the National Guard prior to its induction into Federal service—that is to say, that the State Guard should be recruited on the basis of community organization with State supervised training and be available when called into service by the Governor for the protection of their own communities in times of greatest emergency.

The State Guard at the present time is not and can not be made effective for the protection of our State against organized sabotage or other disorders likely to arise in modern warfare.

The reasons for this conclusion are several:

1. The Federal Government can not equip the Guard with proper weapons and equipment for such service and the State is not permitted to do so itself.
2. Heretofore it has been said that men over 38 years of age would be available for Guard service. The Selective Service has just ruled that all men between 38 and 45 years of age in nonessential occupations must be reclassified and made available for induction into regular military service or for essential war industry.
3. The Act of Congress permitting organization of State Guards specifically provides that: No person shall, by reason of his membership in any such unit, be exempted from military service under Federal law.
4. There is and for some time past has been a turnover of 20 per cent per month in State Guard personnel which in itself has made it impossible to maintain an adequately trained body of men.

The Legislature, in January, 1942, authorized an active State Guard of 7,000 men and officers. At that time the membership was 3,015. It has never reached the number authorized by the Legislature. As of February 27, 1943, the active membership of the Guard was 5,280 enlisted men and 412 officers. Of this number, the appalling total of 696 were absent without leave, 98 were in confinement for military offenses, and an undetermined number were sick in hospitals or quarters. Of the remaining number, 308 were enlisted women.

In the opinion of The Adjutant General, not more than 3,500 Guardsmen are available for duty and of this number a considerable percentage are physically or mentally incapable of performing any type of effective military service. The number of men fit for duty has dropped month by month since August, and it is only a question of a comparatively short time until there will be few if any able-bodied alert men who will be available for active service in the Guard.

It had been my hope that we could have a small, highly trained, mobile active Guard unit which could be moved into any affected area in time of calamity. No one could deny that such a force, in times like these, would be consistent with need but I do not believe under existing conditions that it is possible either to build or to maintain such an organization.

It is obvious that the Federal Government is not in a position to permit deferment to enable the State to build an active State Guard which could perform such a service. All of the other States of the Union have long since recognized this fact because the total number of Guardsmen in all the States combined is only a small percentage of the number now on active duty in California.

I have arrived at my conclusions reluctantly because I know California wishes to do her full part in the protection of life and property in this combat area. However, I can not be satisfied with a mere gesture of security which is all the continuance of an active State Guard under present conditions would constitute. Neither General Hays nor I are willing to be responsible for the effectiveness of an organization which can not in the very nature of affairs be efficient.

If and when demobilization of the active State Guard is launched, I would suggest that it be accomplished in an orderly way over a period of months, during which period adequate means of protection could otherwise be developed. While this is going on, should the Federal Government alter its position on deferments and priorities for the Guard, I would suggest that the State remain in a position to recruit, organize, and equip a force of such size and number as you may determine to be required. If demobilization is completed, State property can be protected by The Adjutant General through the use of civilian Guardsmen.

The enthusiasm shown and the service rendered by the State Guard prior to December 7, 1941, as well as that of the military companies in the Militia since that date, convinces me that there is a great reservoir of the finest manpower in the State which we can draw into a new Guard program. By permitting Guardsmen to engage in their normal occupations and by limiting their active service to times of great emergency and to the communities in which they reside and are organized, I believe we can develop an outstanding military organization. Such an organization could, in my opinion, be geared into and become an integral part of our civilian defense program which will be inaugurated under the War Powers Act which you approved in your January session.

Respectfully,

EARL WARREN, Governor

House Resolution No. 117

WHEREAS, The problems of juvenile delinquency, crime prevention and control, and supervision, custody, and treatment of offenders are of major importance to the people of the State; and

WHEREAS, The Youth Correction Authority was established by the Legislature in 1941 as a partial and empirical means toward the solution of these problems; and

WHEREAS, Sufficient time has elapsed since the organization of the Authority for the definition of its objectives, the determination of appropriate means to the achievement of those objectives, and the exercise of its functions, so that an evaluation can now be made of the adequacy of the laws under which it is organized, the validity of the program adopted, and the integration of the Authority in the penal and correctional systems of the State; and

WHEREAS, Many bills have been introduced and are now pending before the Legislature relating to the jurisdiction, powers, and duties of the Youth Correction Authority on which the Legislature can take appropriate action only after investigation, study, and the most careful consideration of the problems involved, the effectiveness of the existing laws, the achievements of the Authority under those laws, and the probable effect of the continued functioning of the Authority under the existing laws and under the laws proposed to be enacted; now, therefore, be it

(8) To report its findings and recommendations to the Assembly and to the people from time to time and at any time; and

(9) To cooperate so far as the judgment of the committee dictates with any Federal agency; and

(10) To do any and all other things necessary or convenient to enable it fully and adequately to exercise its powers, perform its duties, and accomplish the objects and purposes of this resolution; and be it further

Resolved, That the committee, each of its members, and any representative of the committee thereunto authorized by the committee or by its chairman, is authorized and empowered to administer oaths; and all of the provisions of Article 8, Chapter 2, Title 1, Part 3 of the Political Code, relating to the attendance and examination of witnesses before the Legislature and committees thereof, and the Rules of the Assembly and the Joint Rules of the Senate and Assembly as they now are or may be hereafter amended, shall apply to the committee hereby created; and be it further

Resolved, That the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Assembly and other officers designated by him are hereby directed to serve any and all subpoenas, orders and other process issued by the committee, when directed so to do by the chairman or by a majority of the membership of the committee; and be it further

May this Flag ever be a symbol of National unity and devotion. Protect and bless its defenders at home and abroad, and help us to be grateful for our citizenship in this great Christian Nation and may there soon come to this weary world the morning of universal peace.

“Lord, while for all mankind we pray,
Of every clime and coast,
O hear us for our native land,
The land we love the most.

Unite us in the sacred love,
Of knowledge, truth and Thee,
And let our hills and valleys shout
The songs of liberty

Lord of All Nations, thus to Thee,
Our Country we commend;
Be Thou her refuge and her trust,
Her everlasting Friend.”

The petition is self-explanatory and we urge your honorable body to consider this petition.

Sincerely yours,

FRESNO COUNTY FARM BUREAU
A. J. QUIST, President

WHEREAS, During the month of January, 1943, flood waters in Kings River broke one or more levees located along the stream and in conjunction to the State Highway leading eastward from Centerville; and

WHEREAS, Such flood waters swept over numerous farms destroying live stock and growing crops; and

WHEREAS, The flood waters in many places swept the fertile top soil away thereby greatly depleting the production of crops needed for war activities; and

WHEREAS, Such flood destruction is of vital concern to the farmers affected and to all the people in these times of threatened food shortage; and

WHEREAS, The farmers who have already suffered great losses from the flood are not financially able to bring about remedies; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, the undersigned, earnestly petition the Governor and the Legislature of the State of California, to take such measures, and make such appropriations of money and materials and do such work immediately as will remedy the situation so that the farms may be saved from destruction and that crops may be saved from destruction and that crops may be produced as food for human and animal consumption; and be it further

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

THE STATE OF IDAHO
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE, BOISE, March 10, 1943

*To the Speaker of the House
California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: In conformity with the instructions of the Senate and the House of Representatives I am transmitting herewith a copy of Senate Joint Memorial No. 7, which memorial has been adopted by both houses of the Idaho Legislature.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE H. CURTIS, Secretary of State.

IN THE SENATE
Senate Joint Memorial No. 7
BY STATE AFFAIRS COMMITTEE

A Joint Memorial

Declaring the policy of the State of Idaho to maintain jurisdiction and control over the use of the waters within the State; to protect and preserve rights to the use of water established under the laws of this State or the United States; to promote harmonious relations between the State of Idaho, the United States and other States; and authorizing the Governor to direct the State Reclamation Engineer to take such action as may be necessary in carrying out these policies.

WHEREAS, The State of Idaho has approximately 53,000,000 acres of land, of which approximately 21,000,000 acres are classified as agricultural land, a large portion of which is situate in the southern portion of the State; and

WHEREAS, The value of the lands in the southern portion of Idaho is wholly dependent upon irrigation for the production of valuable agricultural crops; and,

WHEREAS, Approximately 2,300,000 acres of these lands are now under irrigation and ultimately by developing storage reservoirs and conserving the available water supply, approximately 2,000,000 acres additional may be irrigated in Southern Idaho; and,

WHEREAS, The topography of this State is such that many of our streams are interstate in nature, which fact has heretofore given rise to problems of administration regarding such streams, involving other States and the Federal Government, and other problems of administration will doubtless arise with the further agricultural development of this State; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of Idaho now in session. That it is the declared policy of this State to maintain its jurisdiction over, and control of, the use of waters in this State for all beneficial purposes, as provided in the Constitution of Idaho and the Admission Bill by Congress admitting Idaho into the Union of States; also to protect and preserve rights to the use of water established under the laws of this State or of the United States; to protect and preserve such rights against threatened uses outside of the State to the detriment of our citizens within the State; to promote harmonious relations between the State of Idaho, the United States and other States with respect to the beneficial use of such waters and to encourage compacts between Idaho and other States in regard to interstate streams; be it further

Resolved, That in furtherance of these policies the Governor is authorized to direct the State Reclamation Engineer to take such action and perform such duties as may be necessary in carrying these policies into effect; be it further

Resolved, That the Secretary of State of the State of Idaho be directed to send a copy of this resolution to the President of the United States, to the presiding officers of the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Congress of the United States, to each presiding officer of all State Legislative bodies now in session and to each member of the Idaho Delegation in Congress.

DEAR ASSEMBLYMAN LYON: The Board of Water Commissioners of the City of Long Beach, California, at the regular meeting held March 4, 1943, passed the following motion:

"Following a discussion of the provisions of Senate Bill No. 58, Commissioner Johnson moved, seconded by Commissioner O'Neil, that the board of water commissioners is utterly opposed to the passage of Senate Bill No. 58 permitting the use of the facilities of The Metropolitan Water District by any city or district which is not a member, and that our Representative in the Assembly, the State Senator from Los Angeles County, and our representative on the board of directors of The Metropolitan Water District be notified of this action and requested to use every endeavor to secure the defeat of the bill

Carried by the following vote:

AYES—Commissioners E. L. Brown, Thos. M. Brown, Johnson, O'Neil and Winstead.

NOES—None.

ABSENT—None.

You are probably aware of the fact that the passage of this bill would be most unfair to those member cities of The Metropolitan Water District who have devoted so much of their time and funds toward the development of this project.

We will appreciate all the assistance you are able to lend toward the defeat of Senate Bill No. 58.

Respectfully yours,

V. E. O'NEIL, Secretary

Report of Fact-Finding Committee on State Highways, County Highways, and City Streets

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly

Pursuant to the paragraph in House Resolution No. 264 of the Session of 1941 which provides; That the Committee on State and County Highways and City Streets is hereby created to study and survey accurately and in detail, all matters hereinbefore referred to and to report its recommendations to the Legislature not later than March 15, 1943.

The committee submits its final report which complements and supplements its preliminary report printed in the Assembly Journal of January 12, 1943. The committee has been handicapped in its recent hearings because our funds reverted to the State treasury at the convening of this session, but the matters were of such importance to the State, to the cities, and to the counties that we expended our own time and money by traveling many hundreds of miles in our own autos to personally observe the highways and also the streets of the cities so that this report could be rendered as fully and as accurately as possible.

San Diego Highways

There is no place in California where the highways have suffered more than in San Diego County. Under war conditions its State, county, and city highway funds have sharply decreased while at the same time traffic has greatly increased. Riverside and other southern counties have highway problems which demand immediate consideration.

Los Angeles Highways

Los Angeles County has outgrown its highway transportation system until the traffic conditions are as acute as any in the Nation. Los Angeles City alone has 22 per cent of the State population, 24 per cent of the daily vehicle mileage travel and 30 per cent of all auto accidents.

The City and the County of Los Angeles have been doing as best they could with present highway funds which are wholly inadequate for present and future needs.

In their plans to provide for future traffic they propose a freeway 40 or 50 miles in length extending from the harbor near the City of Long Beach to connect with the Ridge Route and Coast Highways north of Van Nuys.

This freeway would parallel the Los Angeles River, would provide not less than two or three lanes each way, would have numerous ramps to serve the population in every direction, and would take much of the heavy freight traffic off the business streets of the cities.

Preliminary surveys have been made by local engineers, and the plan appears altogether feasible and absolutely necessary for present conditions, and will be of immense value to future growth and traffic conditions.

The density of population and the congested auto travel in Los Angeles County loudly call for this super highway.

This freeway when completed will, in its service to that community, be comparable to the Bay Bridge in the San Francisco Bay area.

It is the opinion of this committee that this freeway should be a part of the State Highway System when it is finally constructed. However, its cost which might reach $75,000,000 is of such magnitude that present State highway funds would not justify at this time even the surveying by the State Highway Engineer.

Valley and Coast Highways

Traveling over the valley highways and over Pacheco Pass makes it apparent that such highways should be completed to give proper travel facilities to the heavy freight trucks and to the thousands of tourists who desire to spend some of the summer in the coast counties adjacent to Monterey Bay.

San Francisco Bay Area

The hearing in San Francisco brought to our attention three very urgent propositions.

Their engineers propose an addition to State Highway No. 55 to extend to Van Ness Avenue to connect with the Golden Gate Bridge.

This highway would traverse the heart of the residential section and would help to relieve the traffic congestion in that part of San Francisco.

A proposed freeway and by-pass to extend Highway No. 68 which would enter the city from the south and skirt the bay paralleling the docking region, this freeway would especially assist the commerce and wholesale district and would facilitate heavy truck traffic in and out of the city from the south and northerly over the Golden Gate Bridge. Also the proposed Divisional Highway between the Golden Gate Bridge approach in the Marina District through Divisadero southward connecting with Highway No. 101 to Los Angeles.

Golden Gate Bridge

The other major highway problem presented at the San Francisco hearing is the Golden Gate Bridge and its highway approaches to the north.

Since the purchase by the State of the Carquinez Bridge and the reduction of tolls on it and on the Bay Bridge, there has been a shifting of traffic away from the Golden Gate Bridge to its financial detriment.

Since the Golden Gate Bridge is financed by the Golden Gate Bridge District and as its income is not sufficient to meet its obligations, the people in that district face assessments from time to time unless a remedy is found and put into effect. Such assessments would adversely affect several counties in Northern California as well as San Francisco.

If the State highways leading into the Golden Gate Bridge from the north and near Sausalito were modernized it might avert such assessments.

This committee strongly recommends to the State Highway Director to consider the engineering problems which appear not to be great or very costly and it sincerely trusts that the problem will be solved so that the district should not be assessed to assist this improved State transportation system.

Bay Bridge Approaches

An acute problem concerns the approaches from the south through Oakland and Berkeley to the Bay Bridge.

Some crooked, up-and-down congested street approaches are out of harmony with modern transportation facilities; therefore, approaches comparable and in harmony with this greatest of all bridges should be provided by the State as soon as funds are available.

Northern Counties

All the counties in Northern California with larger populations, especially Sacramento County and those bordering the San Francisco Bay and the Sacramento River, are experiencing similar highway conditions and problems as are revealed in this report.

State Highway Director

Mr Charles H. Purcell, the State Highway Engineer and now our Director of Public Works, had the knowledge, wisdom, and foresight long ago to call to our attention the seriousness of the financial condition of our highway system. This he has done honestly, conscientiously, and fearlessly, but the Legislature turned to him a deaf ear. He has told us of defective bridges, of dangerous grade crossings of needed multiple lanes where lives and property are lost.

It was known to all who were informed that the highway finances under past normal conditions were falling behind construction needs, then, of course, there would actually be disaster should adverse conditions overtake us.

Such adverse conditions are now upon the State, the counties and the cities.

Our finances have declined by the millions and our highways are being pounded by war traffic to such an extent that this committee has observed cracks and breaks in the highways by hundreds and thousands, holes are being made in the pavements with no hope for repairs for lack of funds, and our highway systems which cost us many hundreds of millions are going to wreck for a lack of adequate financing.

The county supervisors have sounded similar warnings but were also unheeded. What shall we do? This committee recommends that the normal financing of our highway system be brought up to provide adequate reconstruction so as to preserve our highway normal conditions.

How can this be done? Certain motor vehicle funds now find their way into the State General Treasury. After redemption of highway bonds all these moneys should be allocated to the State, the counties and the city highway funds.

This would assist in present maintenance, would help provide surveys and rights of way for future construction and reconstruction so as to keep the highway systems up to par, including the super highways as proposed by the several political subdivisions.

Gas Tax

This State should do as the other States have done; namely, have an adequate gas tax to carry the main load of highway upkeep.

Everybody concedes the gas tax is the fairest tax and based upon the use of the roads.

The average gas tax in the Nation is $4\frac{1}{2}$ cents per gallon and in the 10 western States outside of California it is $4\frac{1}{2}$ cents per gallon, and should California increase to 4 cents, it might be sufficient to carry the load.

Oil Company Opposition

However, the big oil companies would oppose such a change as they claim they, through oil and gas, are overtaxed.

It should be pointed out that they do not pay the gas tax, nor is the tax actually on the gas, but rather is placed upon the use of the highways and is measured by the amount of gas consumed by such use.

Postwar Construction

A matter of paramount importance to the highway system and to all the people is to bring construction and reconstruction up to normal requirements beginning immediately following the war.

This must include surveys and acquisition of rights of way at this time and as soon as possible and this should be financed at once.

This committee believes the several highways specified in this report together with some others should be a part of the State Highway System.

The construction and reconstruction of the present State highways together with these proposed additions would cost multiplied millions of dollars.

The State General Treasury is now in a financial condition to safely undertake such a program upon a specific long term plan such as adopted by the Highway Department.

The Legislature, by appropriating the money from the General Fund, which comes from all the people, to buy Federal securities, would thereby assist in hastening the successful conclusion of the war; would, as provided in Assembly Bill No. 174, put the money to work buying materials, thereby creating business after major war activities; would place more manpower in employment per dollar than any other industry; would assist every county and city in their transportation problems; would reduce the local tax burden; and would go far to put the State Highway System in a modern condition while at the same time may help to avert another SRA.

There will be those who would oppose such a program believing that to cut taxes would be more desirable, but taxes measured by ability to pay are not now as high as they were in SRA times. The taxes are also not high as measured by purchases for Governmental functions.

Pharaoh's Dream

It seems that about 4,000 years ago there was a nation in a similar situation as is California today. The king was worried over the conditions until his sleep was disturbed by distressing dreams. He consulted with his leading statesmen, and they, as well as he, could suggest no answer to his dream of the seven lean kine devouring the seven fat kine, yet were still as lean as ever.

Finally young Joseph was brought before him and warned him of the disastrous years which were to follow the prosperous times, and advised him to save and conserve all the nation's resources against the awful years to come. Joseph was placed next to the king in power, and saved the people from starvation.

This incident is a part of the history of the world, and California has had some of those experiences and should we not profit thereby?

It is fortunate that California at this time has brought before her as her leader a man learned and wise, our Governor Earl Warren, who warns us that our present State surplus has been created by war activities, is of a very transitory nature, and may depart as quickly as it came, and should not be dissipated but be used wisely on a Public Works program.

A graph of the financial history of our Nation verifies this conclusion. Therefore, why should the Legislature gamble with our State surplus and remit it to a few selected groups who are most able to pay their taxes? Should not we as good business managers build up this State reserve and spend it wisely to sustain and maintain our State functions and thereby avert disaster when the evil days are upon us? Our State and local highways are our first line of defense in peace as well as in war, and this line of defense should be kept to its highest efficiency.

A billion dollars of products annually reach our markets over these arteries of transportation. These highways are California's richest asset, and with them in decay or ruin the State will lose its greatness. Rather should not the Legislature preserve them, improve them, and perfect them to a point as becomes the great State of California?

Taxes

The people are not now overtaxed in our State as they were in SRA days. Therefore let us secure ourselves against another SRA by providing millions of highway work for the employment of our people after the war.

Need for Better Highways

The numerous bills introduced in each session of the Legislature which would transfer from counties or cities certain highways, indicate that local political subdivisions are not financially able to keep those roads in the condition as demanded by the public. Such bills are introduced with little if any correlation to other roads and the service they may render the people.

It is generally well known that our State, county, and city highways should make a complete highway system. However, the hearings just completed by this committee reveal that there should be more correlation between the governing highway boards for proper highway construction to insure the greatest building economy and the most efficient service to the traveling public.

Planning Committee

We recommend that the Governor appoint not less than two Assemblymen and not less than one Senator to serve at his pleasure as a committee to make a study of the State, county and city highway system for the purpose of correlating into the most efficient system all the highways within the State.

Such committee should confer and cooperate with the State and local highway authorities and consider engineering surveys so as to be able to report to the Governor and to the Legislature its findings and its recommendations, what highways if any should be included in the State Highway System.

The committee should serve without compensation except actual expenses.

This report now being made is definitely opposed to the addition of a single mile to the State Highway System unless and until funds are provided by the Legislature in sufficient amounts to amply do the work proposed.

Respectfully submitted.

SEC. 2. This amendment is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Great numbers of the citizens of this State, who have or will enter the military service, have granted or will grant powers of attorney to trusted persons in order that their business and personal affairs may be carried on during their absence for the benefit of themselves and their families. Widespread doubt exists upon the question of whether or not the agents so appointed have any power to act if at the time the person giving the power of attorney should be dead. In a great many cases, it is impossible to determine whether the man in the service is alive or not and as a result the agents appointed by him find it impossible to consummate transactions on behalf of such absent person. The families of many men now in the service are dependent upon the power of the agents appointed by such men to sell property, withdraw funds, cash checks and the like. Widespread difficulty has arisen by the reason of this fact. For these reasons, this act is declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and shall go into immediate effect."

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

March 15, 1943

The Honorable EARL WARREN
Governor of California
Sacramento, California

DEAR GOVERNOR: The committee of citizens of the State of California drafted by you to make recommendations relating to the disposition of the State surplus and to possible tax reductions respectfully submits its report.

At your direction, a stenographic reporter and hearing rooms were provided in State buildings at Sacramento, San Francisco, and Los Angeles. The committee report is printed at State expense. The secretary was drafted and her services donated. Members of the committee and the secretary arranged for their own traveling and other expenses without cost to the State.

Realizing the need for an early report, members of the committee laid aside their usual activities and devoted their time to obtaining and studying the necessary information with the expectation of meeting the time limit set by the chairman.

Hearings were held at Sacramento and San Francisco in the first week of February, in Los Angeles the following week, and in Sacramento the last week in February.

The data presented to the committee were complete and informative. In addition to the facts presented by State officials and representatives of organizations, many suggestions were received by mail or were made at the several hearings. The citizens of California evidenced much interest in the questions before the committee as shown by their letters and suggestions.

The services rendered by the various State departments at your direction were of great assistance. We are particularly indebted to the Department of Finance, the Franchise Tax Commissioner, and the State Controller, and to those staff members who worked with the utmost diligence to secure informative data. Also, we gratefully acknowledge the efficient services of the secretary and the aid given the committee, in checking and verifying data, by the research staff of the California Taxpayers' Association.

This committee is a real cross-section of the people of the State of California. It realizes that its recommendations must stand or fall upon their merits. In its deliberations, it has endeavored to hold the public interest paramount, and to give adequate consideration to the needs of the State and to the burdens of all taxpayers.

This report is agreed to by all members of the committee except

Mr. Oscar Fuss, whose statement dissenting in part, and agreeing in part, follows the committee report.

We are hopeful that the report of the committee may be of some assistance to you and the Legislature in the difficult task of adjusting the finances of the State.

Faithfully yours,

I. SUMMARY OF RECOMMENDATIONS

EARMARKING THE SURPLUS

(1) That sufficient moneys be appropriated to pay and retire in 1943 $2,277,500 of bonds of "The Funded Debt of 1873" which matured in 1892, and which bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

(2) That moneys be appropriated for the ultimate payment of $12,040,000 principal and $2,548,249 interest of State bonds coming due in the fiscal years 1945 to 1949, inclusive, and described as follows:

Name of Issue	Interest and Redemption 1945-47 and 1947-49
	Principal	Interest
Sacramento State Buildings of 1913-----	$200,000	$480,000
San Francisco State Buildings of 1913-----	80,000	59,200
State University Buildings of 1915-----	160,000	129,600
State Buildings and University Buildings of 1925 -----	1,000,000	794,688
California State Parks of 1927-----	1,000,000	412,761
Unemployment Relief of 1934-----	9,600,000	672,000
Total -----	$12,040,000	$2,548,249

That the appropriation provide:

(a) For the purchase of bonds of the United States in such amounts and maturities as will, when collected, with interest, pay the above-described bonds and interest coupons as they become due;

(b) That the principal and interest of the United States bonds, when collected, be placed in the appropriate interest and sinking funds and used for the payment of the principal and interest of the State bonds hereinabove described.

(3) That $25,000,000 be appropriated as a war catastrophe reserve or fund to be used at the direction of the Governor and the War Council only in case of an actual invasion of, or attack upon, California, for the immediate and temporary relief, protection, and safeguarding of the health of persons in the area attacked or invaded.

(4) That the amount of $33,000,000 be appropriated for the construction and reconstruction of State buildings and institutions; that the Director of Finance be requested by the Governor to make a careful survey of building needs of the State, and to submit to the Legislature at the earliest possible date a program of approximately $33,000,000 of building construction and reconstruction for the reasonably immediate needs of the State; that the new buildings should not be monumental or palatial, but simple and practical; and that the appropriation be made a continuing one so that the funds will not be expended for current purposes but will be available after the war when the rehabilitation and building program can be commenced.

RECOMMENDED TAX REDUCTIONS

(5) That the Retail Sales Tax and Use Tax Acts be amended to provide that, effective July 1, 1943, and for a period of two years thereafter, the rate of tax be reduced from 3 per cent to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent; and that gross receipts from the sale of drugs, medicines, and prescriptions be specifically exempted from the provisions of said acts and from the computation of the amount of taxes levied, assessed or payable under such laws, and that this reduction and these exemptions terminate on June 30, 1945.

(Revenue Reduction, 1943-45 biennium, $37,017,500.)

(6) That the Personal Income Tax Act be amended to provide:

(a) That for a two-year period, namely the taxable years 1943 and 1944 (in general, the tax to be collected in 1944 and 1945), unless further extended by the Legislature, the personal exemptions be increased for single persons from $1,000 to $1,500 and for married persons and heads of families from $2,500 to $3,500;

(b) For reducing the maximum tax rate from 15 per cent to 7 per cent;

(c) That for a two-year period, namely for the taxable years 1943 and 1944 (in general, the tax collected in 1944 and 1945), unless extended further by the Legislature, a 25 per cent war credit against the tax (computed at rates as modified by (a) and (b) above) be allowed on all personal income tax returns.

(Revenue Reduction, 1943-45 biennium, $25,600,000.)

(7) That the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act and the Corporation Income Tax Act be amended to provide that for a two-year period, namely for the taxable years 1944 and 1945 under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax and the taxable years 1943 and 1944 under the Corporation Income Tax (in general, the tax collected in 1944 and 1945), unless further extended by the Legislature, a 25 per cent war credit against the tax (computed at present rates) be allowed to all corporations, banks, and financial institutions subject to taxes under these acts.

(Revenue Reduction, 1943-45 biennium, $17,550,000.)

(8) That the appropriate legislative committee or committees study the method of taxing banks in the State of California for the purpose of eliminating the uncertainties and inequities of the existing law.

(9) That the State of California, for the 1943-45 biennium, assume one-half of the cost now being borne by the counties for aid to the needy aged. The counties and the State now participate equally in this cost. Under this recommendation, the ratio would be changed to counties one-fourth, and State, three-fourths.

(Additional Cost to State, 1943-45 biennium, approximately $16,182,000.)

(10) That the whole problem of categorical aids be studied by a special legislative committee with the following objectives, among others:

(a) A readjustment and equalization of the counties' share of the load, but without eliminating the responsibility of the counties to provide some of the funds;

(b) A further coordination and integration of the administration of categorical aids between the county and the State to the end that there may be more efficient and economical operation.

(11) That estimates of revenue be carefully checked from time to time against the actual yields of State taxes and if, by March, 1944, it be apparent that the total yields are substantially above or below the revenues estimated in the budget, that a special session of the Legislature be called to take any steps that may be necessary to readjust the revenue structure to meet the needs of the State of California

II. INTRODUCTION

CREATION OF COMMITTEE AND SCOPE OF WORK

The Governor outlined the work of the committee in the following statement issued at the time public announcement was made of the creation of the committee:

It is tremendously important to all the people of California that the Legislature immediately proceed to gear the fiscal system of the State to the exigencies of war.

In furtherance of this task, it must preserve a balance of approach which can come only through consideration of a wide range of actual information. It must withstand the temptations presented by the existence of a surplus, guard against the folly of lopsided proposals to escape from existing responsibility and evaluate present abnormal conditions in the light of trends and experience.

To assist the Legislature and myself in analyzing the complex problem, I am appointing a committee of 15 public-spirited men and women to launch a study of the entire tax and surplus problem. This Citizens' Committee, representative of 15 state-wide organizations vitally interested in financial and tax matters, will be expected to submit a report and recommendation for legislative consideration at the earliest possible moment.

It is my belief that some tax reduction can be safely effected at this session of the Legislature. The Federal burden of taxation will grow greater and greater and we must lessen the State tax burden wherever we can.

However, we must give equal consideration to the fact that our present financial position is the product of abnormal times and that there is no guarantee of a continuance of the present yield of income. Yields from property, income, sales, corporation and other State taxes may decrease notably as the war progresses. On the other hand, our postwar needs may climb to unprecedented levels, a likelihood which we can not afford to carelessly ignore in times of surplus.

California's fiscal system must be analyzed carefully. Full consideration must be given to the equity of the State tax structure and the fairness of the distribution of the burden of both winning and paying for the war. Fortunately, we are now at a peak in State income which permits us to meet the initial strains of war cost. Recognizing the transient nature of the conditions which created this favorable revenue balance and the increasing burden of Federal taxes, we must proceed with caution as we formulate our plans for the future.

I am calling upon all agencies of our State Government to extend their full cooperation to the Citizens' Committee and hope California citizenry in general will appreciate the magnitude of the task which its members have undertaken.

Later, the Governor commented further upon the scope of the committee's work in the following letter of January 27th:

The State of California has a substantial surplus. Yields of State taxes for the past year have exceeded expenditures by a considerable margin. Seeing this condition, some groups are demanding reduction of State taxes. Other groups are requesting subventions of State funds for local units of government to reduce local taxes or to provide for additional local expenditures.

Conditions require an examination of the facts, a study of California's fiscal system, and a careful appraisal of the entire situation so that any fiscal policies formulated may be sound.

You have been appointed for that purpose. I expect you to make the necessary study and to present recommendations, backed by significant factual data.

I do not want to limit or to expand the committee's inquiry. The committee should examine the tax structure of the entire California system and such governmental operations, functions, and expenditures as will aid in developing useful facts and the reaching of intelligent judgments.

The time you will have for investigation and deliberation is short. Your task is a difficult one. I appreciate your undertaking it, and I have directed the various agencies of the State of California to furnish you any information or cooperation requested.

Very truly yours,

(Signed)

EARL WARREN, Governor.

INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT

The financial structure of the State of California differs considerably from that of local governments, such as cities, counties, and school districts.

These local governments operate on a fiscal year basis, the year beginning on July 1st and ending on June 30th, except for a few charter cities. The budgets are made annually and such revenues as are not received from shared taxes or subventions from the State and Federal Governments are raised by local taxes of which the principal revenue source is the ad valorem tax upon property.

The State operates on a biennial basis, the biennium beginning on July 1st and ending on June 30th in the second year.

Regular sessions of the Legislature are held biennially, beginning in January of the odd-numbered years. At the January session the State budget for the biennium beginning on the next July 1st is presented to the Legislature by the Governor. The appropriations cover a two-year period. The next biennium begins on July 1, 1943, and ends June 30, 1945.

About two-thirds of the State expenditure budget for the 1943-45 biennium will consist of fixed charges and continuing appropriations, about one-half of which are required by the Constitution and the others established by acts of the Legislature. These charges and appropriations continue from biennium to biennium without any additional action by the Legislature.

More than one-half of the State Budget expenditure program consists of funds which are used for the support of local governments, by way of subvention of shared taxes or of general funds. These are virtually all fixed charges. For the current biennium, 1941-43, the actual and estimated amount of General Fund moneys remitted by the State to local governments is $206,654,022.95, and the balance of $134,288,527 55 represents expenditures for support of State Government.¹ Subventions from the Federal Government are received by the State in addition to all revenues raised by the State through taxation.

State moneys are carried in a large number of funds which are divided into two general classes:

(1) General Fund, into which general taxes are deposited and out of which the State's general expenses are paid and some subventions are made to local government, and

(2) Special Funds (approximately 55) which consist chiefly of revenues paid in for special services by the persons or groups receiving or benefiting from such services. Examples of these special fund revenues are the fish and game license fees which are used for the propagation of fish and game, and the Motor Vehicle Fuel Tax (gasoline tax) used for highway maintenance and construction. These special funds operate virtually on a cash flow basis. When income shrinks the expenditures financed with these revenues decrease accordingly. When revenues expand, expenditures usually increase and the funds generally do not accumulate large surpluses.

¹ General Budget Summary, Schedule I, p. A3, State of California Budget for the Biennium July 1, 1943, to June 30, 1945

The surplus referred to by the Governor is a General Fund surplus. It is anticipated that by June 30, 1943, the General Fund surplus will amount to approximately $90,810,000, and that if present taxes are continued at present rates, the surplus by June 30, 1945, the end of the next biennium, will have increased to approximately $228,312,000.² Throughout this report, the word "surplus" refers only to the General Fund surplus.

The State budget never contains all of the State expenditures for a biennium. In addition to the budget, each biennium special appropriation bills are introduced for purposes not in the budget or for enlarging departmental expenditures as set out in the budget. Legislative action on the budget is by means of a budget bill, and in the course of passage of that bill, the amounts in the Governor's budget may be increased or decreased by the Legislature. The Governor may veto, in whole or in part, any appropriation in the Budget Bill, or in any special appropriation bill.

HISTORICAL BACKGROUND OF TAX SYSTEM

For the first 60 years of Statehood the property tax was the financial mainstay of all California Government—State and local.

A commission was appointed by Governor Pardee in 1905 to examine the State and local tax structure and make recommendations thereon. It filed a report in 1906 which resulted in a constitutional amendment adopted in 1910 recasting the tax system of the State. The basic idea of the amendment was that the State Government, on the one hand, and local governments, on the other, should have mutually exclusive sources of revenue. "The State relinquished the right to levy ad valorem property taxes except in the event of a deficit. Local governments gave up the right to tax utility property. Gross receipts taxes upon the utilities were the special and separate field from which the State was to draw its main support. The gross receipts rates were to be such that utilities paid the same amount in taxes as they would have paid if subject to property taxation."³

"A gasoline tax (special fund only) and a gross receipts tax on motor vehicle carriers were added to the State system in 1923. Certain minor taxes were inaugurated: a fish packer's tax (1917), an agricultural mineral products tax (1923) and a tax on receipts from boxing matches (1924). Upon recommendation of the 1929 Tax Commission, a constitutional amendment was adopted providing for taxation of intangibles at a special low rate and for the imposition of a new franchise tax upon banks and ordinary business corporations to be 'measured by and according to net income' at the rate of 4 per cent."⁴

After the adoption of the "division of sources" plan in 1910 no major readjustment of State and local taxes took place until 1933. In that year a series of constitutional amendments was adopted in what is popularly known as the Riley-Stewart plan. The two principal changes made by this plan were:

(1) The assumption in 1933 by the State of local school district subventions previously paid by counties from a county-wide ad valorem property tax. This transferred from the counties and their ad valorem taxpayers to the State an amount then estimated at about $80,000,000 a biennium.

(2) The return of operative property (principally public utility property) to the local tax rolls and the abandonment by the State of the gross receipts tax formerly levied on these companies. This return was made on January 1, 1935. It increased the local property tax base in 1935 approximately $899,000,000 and was expected to reduce local property tax rates in proportion to the increased valuation. The gross receipts taxes given up by the State in this change amounted to about $60,000,000 a biennium, but utility companies were also made subject to the bank and corporation franchise tax. To meet the additional cost placed upon the State by the assumption of the additional subvention to school districts, and to replace the revenues lost through the return of operative property to the local tax rolls, the State, in 1933, first levied a sales tax, and in 1935 enacted the personal income tax law, the automobile "in lieu" tax, and the liquor tax. Also, in 1935, it increased the rates of the bank and corporation franchise tax, the inheritance tax, and the sales tax (after exempting groceries from the sales tax).

III. REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

 Committee Exhibit No. 4-b

The foregoing tabulation shows two significant facts:

(1) That the General Fund revenues of 1941-43 are much greater than the revenues of any previous biennium—over $119,000,000 more than for the preceding biennium.

(2) That estimated revenues for the next biennium are some $29,000,000 less than for the current biennium

The big revenues of the current biennium are due solely to the enormous increase in activity in California arising out of war and inflation. The estimated decrease in revenues for the next biennium is predicated largely upon the elimination of construction and sales of durable goods and to decreased supplies of material and merchandise. Notwithstanding the fact that purchasing power is expected to increase greatly in 1943, and to continue at an abnormally high level throughout 1944, the revenues of the State are expected to be lower for 1943-45. It is important to bear in mind that experts in State revenues are of the opinion that for the immediate future the peak of State revenue has been reached, and that the next biennium will see smaller collections than in the present biennium. This is true notwithstanding the fact that certain taxes are expected to yield greater revenues in the next biennium, notably, the personal income and bank and corporation franchise taxes.

One of the benchmarks to be used in determining what to do in the disposition of the General Fund surplus and in reduction of State taxes is the condition of State finances from 1931 to the present time.

On June 30, 1931, there was a surplus of $30,490,000. The status of the Treasury as of June 30, 1931, and at the end of each subsequent biennium is shown in the following tabulation:

Source: Information furnished by State Controller (Committee Exhibit #27)
Estimates for 1943 and 1945 from Governor's Budget, page A-3

The deficit on June 30, 1933, was $13,295,252. That deficit increased each biennium to June 30, 1941, when it amounted to $68,140,946. The greatest cash deficiency was in June, 1940, when a total of $82,110,559 was recorded. From June 30, 1941, the cash deficiency steadily decreased and by March 1942 had been eliminated and a cash balance of $5,728,130 had accrued.⁵

Borrowing by registration of warrants began November 1, 1933.⁶ Outstanding warrants reached a peak on July 31, 1940, when the amount was $98,493,585.⁷ The last of the outstanding warrants was retired in February, 1942.

⁵ Statement of Controller, "General Fund Cash Deficiency," (Committee Exhibit No. 27).

⁶ Controller's Biennial Report for 1935-1936, page 114

Thus, from a General Fund surplus of $30,490,000 in 1931, the State, by June 30, 1933, was in the red ink column and had a deficit of $13,295,000. From 1933 to 1941, in addition to all revenues, the State was forced to borrow money upon warrants to meet current expenditures. Only the activity and frenzied spending due to war and inflation caused a reversal of this trend. The change started in 1941, and the revenues mounted with the increased tempo of war activity until on January 1, 1943, the State General Fund had an estimated cash excess of $56,253,000⁸ and, it is expected, there will be a surplus of $90,810,000 by June 30th next. If present taxes are continued for the next biennium without reduction in rates, it is estimated that the excess of State General Fund revenues over expenditures will be $137,502,000 and that the accumulated surplus on June 30, 1945, will be $228,312,000.⁹ This unprecedented bulge in revenues is due only to extraordinary conditions.

The striking fact shown by this record is:

that for almost eight years the expenditure program of the State for State activities and subventions to local governments was greater than could be paid from the revenues provided from all of the varied taxes levied by the State.

From the foregoing, it is apparent that the State of California can not take on additional permanent overhead expenses or make new or additional continuing subventions to local governments unless new or heavier taxes are levied to meet any new expenses. The present surplus arises from an abnormal situation created by war, and can not be looked upon as a real reversal of trends.

STATE EXPENDITURES FOR 1943-45

The General Fund expenditures for the next biennium will consist of three items:

- (a) Budgeted expenditures as finally fixed in the Budget Bill.
- (b) Continuing appropriations.
- (c) Additional expenditures created by special appropriation bills.

The committee has endeavored to appraise the probable expenditure program of the State for the next biennium. The budgeted expenditures have been examined and compared with those of the present period. Heads of some of the principal State departments have presented information on the proposed expenditures of their departments.

General Fund expenditures for the next biennium are approximately $10,400,000 less than for the current biennium. Actual decreases in major expenses are listed below:

These decreases total much more than $10,000,000 but are offset by increases in current, or operating, expenses in many State departments. This is due, in large part, to the allowance for emergency salary increases for State employees, with approximately $10,000,000 included in the budget for this purpose, as compared with only about one-half that amount in 1941-43.

A table showing the various increases and decreases is contained in the Appendix, Exhibit A. It appears that ample allowances have been made in the budget for increased costs of commodities. A salary increase of $15 per month per employee is in the budget. Subsequent to the presentation of the budget, a salary increase for the balance of the current biennium of $25 to all employees receiving less than $300 per month, and $20 for those with higher salaries was passed by the Legislature and approved by the Governor. If this increase is continued for the next biennium, $4,000,000 would be added to the budgeted amount of expenditures unless offset by the continuing decrease in personnel.

The demands of the armed forces and of war industry should decrease the number of State employees. Already a considerable number have left the State service, and if the demands of the Army and war industry are met, additional employees will leave.

The State Personnel Board furnished the committee the following figures for the number of regular full-time employees during the last several years:

1939	24,612
1940	24,800
1941	27,132

Source: Committee Exhibit No. 20

A sharp rise occurred in 1941. The number on the pay roll in 1942 is only 4.2 per cent lower than in 1940. The trend to the armed forces and war industry will continue to reduce the number on the State pay roll.

It appears to the committee that, on the whole, the estimates of expenditure in the budget for the next biennium are liberal, and allow an ample cushion for increased costs.

Special appropriations for the current biennium made prior to the legislative recess which have been adopted and signed by the Governor (to February 13th) amounted to $1,317,619.¹⁰ Some additional special appropriation bills will be adopted. The committee has no basis upon which to estimate with any accuracy what the total amount of these bills will be. (Special appropriations adopted in 1941, for the 1941-43 biennium, amounted to $8,308,114.) However, from the facts presented to the committee by department heads and from such information as the committee has been able to obtain from persons familiar with legislation, it appears probable that any special appropriation bills adopted will not greatly swell the total of estimated expenditures set out in the budget.

The Senate Finance Committee, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, and the Joint Legislative Budget Committee will examine proposed expenditures thoroughly. We have great confidence in these committees. We believe that they will scrutinize the budget and the special appropriation bills carefully.

The committee is concerned about possible passage of special appropriation bills. Undoubtedly some such bills are necessary. Sometimes an expenditure is omitted from the budget or the amount finally budgeted is admittedly too small. Special appropriation bills should be adopted to correct such a situation. But, in many instances, such bills are unwarranted.

In making up the budget, department heads present their budget requests to the Governor. After a hearing and investigation by the Governor and the Director of Finance, an expenditure amount is fixed for the department and put into the budget. This is done after careful consideration of the needs. But, sometimes, if the department head wants a larger amount than the Governor has fixed for his department, or wants to make an expenditure which the Governor has rejected, he has a special appropriation bill drafted and presented to the Legislature. Representatives of the department then endeavor to obtain approval of the bill by the Legislature. Also such bills are frequently presented by interested organizations, groups, or individuals. In their zeal to get the special appropriations, it is only natural that they sometimes lose sight of the financial condition of the State. This procedure tends to unbalance the State's finances, and should be discouraged. Introduced at this session of the Legislature are a large number of special appropriation bills reported to total more than $600,000,000. In our judgment all special appropriation bills should be regarded critically, carefully examined, and passed only if the need is proved, the expenditure justifiable, and the revenue for payment of the cost adequate. In times of a full treasury, closer scrutiny than usual is advisable, lest a continuing obligation be fastened upon the State, with insufficient revenues to meet it under ordinary conditions.

STATE REVENUES

The revenue estimates furnished to the committee cover two periods:

(a) Estimates to June 30, 1943.

Much evidence on revenues was presented to the committee. Everyone appearing agreed that the estimated revenues for 1941-43 would be realized. Hence, unless there is an unexpected amount of special appropriations, the surplus on June 30, 1943, should be approximately $89,500,000.

These estimates were made by Mr. W. Ralph Currie of the Department of Finance. He was questioned upon them at length by members of the committee. He stated in detail the basis for the various estimates and the several factors considered in making them.¹¹ The evidence presented to the committee clearly shows that the investigation made by Mr. Currie was thorough; that he carefully weighed the revenue-decreasing as well as the revenue-producing factors; and that the revenue estimates are reliable.

Experts on State revenues, including Mr. Alden C. Fensel of California Taxpayers' Association and Mr. John M. Peirce of the California State Chamber of Commerce, as well as various State officials who compute revenues for their departments, were unanimous in their approval of the budget estimates.¹² Some of them stated that they had slight differences upon individual items of revenue, but all agreed that the estimates as a whole are reliable and conservative.

¹¹ See "Statement on Revenue Estimates," Appendix, Exhibit D

The evidence taken relating to employment, farm income, wages, and salaries, and other economic factors supports the assumption upon which the revenue estimates are based ¹³

Mr. Currie stated that it is desirable to allow a 10 per cent margin of safety on these estimates as extraordinary changes might result in more or less revenue. Since the evidence was taken by the committee, news stories indicate rising inflation. Inflated prices could quickly swell sales tax revenues, as it is apparent, from all of the evidence presented to the committee, that salaries and wages are such that purchases will be limited not by prices but by manufacturing restrictions, rationing, and available supplies of goods. The budget estimate of the yield of certain taxes for 1943-45 is below the yield of the current biennium because of changes in State and National economy.

The committee realizes that a great catastrophe or an unexpected severe shortage of merchandise or some other unforeseen contingency could reduce tax yields substantially. But in view of present economic conditions, and the trends in the State and Nation, the estimates of State General Fund revenues appear to be dependable.

Throughout its deliberations, the committee has kept in mind that State finances must be maintained in sound condition. Whatever tax reduction is made should not absorb all of the anticipated surplus. These are uncertain times. And the uncertainty of the period requires that the State have an adequate reserve for protection against any contingency.

RECOMMENDATIONS OF THE COMMITTEE

A. Earmarking the Surplus:

The estimated General Fund surplus as of June 30 next is approximately $89,500,000 (See Appendix, Exhibit C)

There has been much talk of "freezing" all or a part of this surplus. The Attorney General has advised the committee that "freezing" so-called can be accomplished only by appropriations for specific purposes. The committee believes that this surplus should not be dissipated, but should be used or earmarked for future use in three ways:

- (a) Reducing State bonded indebtedness;
- (b) Providing for a postwar State building and institutional rehabilitation and construction program; and
- (c) Providing a War Catastrophe Fund or reserve to be used only in the event of invasion or attack, and which would provide a cushion against a decrease in revenues.

Accordingly, the committee recommends:

(1) That sufficient moneys be appropriated to pay and retire in 1943, $2,277,500 of bonds of "The Funded Debt of 1873" which matured in 1892, and which bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent.

The bonds ¹⁴ are investments of the School Fund and the University Fund. They matured in 1892. Under Chapter 65, Statutes of 1893, interest on the bonds at the rate of 6 per cent is regularly paid. The interest amounts to $282,870 a biennium. These long over-due bonds, with a 6 per cent interest rate, show up badly in the bond record of California. They should be retired now while money is available for that purpose.

¹³ Ibid., Exhibits D-6 to D-9, inclusive.

¹⁴ See Statement of General Obligation Bonded Indebtedness, Appendix, Exhibit F.

The committee further recommends:

(2) That moneys be appropriated for the ultimate payment of $12,040,000 principal and $2,548,249 interest of State bonds coming due in the fiscal years 1945-1949, inclusive,¹⁵ and described as follows:

	Interest and Redemption 1945-47 and 1947-49
	Principal	Interest
Sacramento State Buildings of 1913.....	$200,000	$480,000
San Francisco State Buildings of 1913.....	80,000	59,200
State University Buildings of 1915.....	160,000	129,600
State Buildings and University Buildings, 1925	1,000,000	794,688
California State Parks of 1927.....	1,000,000	412,761
Unemployment Relief of 1934.....	9,600,000	672,000
Total	$12,040,000	$2,548,249

That the appropriation provide:

(a) For the purchase of bonds of the United States in such amounts and maturities as will, when collected, with interest, pay the above described bonds and interest coupons as they become due;

(b) That the principal and interest of the United States bonds, when collected, be placed in the appropriate interest and sinking funds and used for the payment of the principal and interest of the State bonds hereinabove described.

On December 31, 1942, there were outstanding Highway Bonds amounting to $38,100,000; Veterans' Farm and Home Building Bonds in the amount of $46,265,000; San Francisco Harbor Improvement Fund Bonds in the amount of $19,034,000, and Unemployment Relief Bonds of 1933 in the amount of $10,000,000. The Highway Bonds are payable from the "in lieu" tax. The Veterans' Bonds are payable from principal and interest of loans made to veterans. The San Francisco Harbor Improvement Bonds are payable from the income of San Francisco Harbor. The proceeds of the Unemployment Relief Bonds of 1933 were loaned by the State to 26 counties for unemployment relief purposes. The interest and redemption charges on these bonds are repaid to the State, under the terms of the statute, ratified by constitutional amendment, pursuant to which the bonds were issued, by withholding the required amounts from the apportionments of motor vehicle fuel tax (gasoline tax) revenue to these counties. The interest and redemption of these bonds, therefore, is not a charge upon the State General Fund. Since these bonds are payable from special sources, the committee is not recommending the use of any General Fund moneys therefor.

United States bonds can be purchased maturing shortly prior to the due date of the State bonds. The principal and interest paid on the United States bonds can be placed in the interest and sinking fund provided by law for the State bonds.

If a family which had borrowed money suddenly found itself with funds beyond its ordinary income, good business judgment would suggest that the indebtedness be paid. The State is in a similar position due to circumstances not expected to occur again. It has at this moment an unusual surplus. It seems advisable to devote a part of it to the retirement of existing General Fund indebtedness and, thus, improve the State's financial position.

The committee further recommends:

(3) That $25,000,000 be appropriated as a war catastrophe reserve or fund to be used at the direction of the Governor and the war council only in case of an actual invasion of, or attack upon, California, for the immediate and temporary relief, protection, and safeguarding of the health of persons in the area attacked or invaded.

It is possible—indeed probable—that some part of the State of California will be the objective of an enemy bombing attack. While it is expected that such an attack would be a suicide venture, it is prudent for the people of California to be fully prepared for it. In the event the raid were of substantial proportions, persons injured or homeless, or both, would need aid at once. Temporary evacuation might be required. Health and sanitation measures would be needed immediately. National funds or private funds might be available for such purposes, but the State of California can not depend solely upon outside sources. With an available fund, the Governor could take whatever steps are necessary for the relief of our people.

In the event the fund is not used, or in the event it is not entirely used, the moneys in it can not be expended for any other purposes and will constitute a reserve or cushion against an unexpected decline in revenues.

The committee further recommends:

(4) That the amount of $33,000,000 be appropriated for the construction and reconstruction of State buildings and institutions; that the Director of Finance be requested by the Governor to make a careful survey of building needs of the State, and to submit to the Legislature, at the earliest possible date, a program of approximately $33,000,000 of building construction and reconstruction for the reasonably immediate needs of the State; that the new buildings should not be monumental or palatial, but simple and practical; and that the appropriation be made a continuing one so that the funds will not be expended for current purposes but will be available after the war when the rehabilitation and building program can be commenced.

The State of California owns and operates a number of buildings and institutions. These include State office buildings, hospitals for the insane and feeble-minded, penal and correctional establishments, and various schools.

During the past biennium, there has been little State building construction. Since Pearl Harbor, materials for the rehabilitation of existing structures and the construction of new ones have not been obtainable During the next biennium, rehabilitation and construction of State buildings will be virtually impossible.

At the end of the war, when materials and skilled labor are once more available, the present State office buildings and institutions will require considerable rehabilitation. New buildings to meet the then needs of the State must be provided. Not only will the rehabilitation and construction be necessary, it will also furnish employment during the transition period following the war.

Such a building program should not be lavish. The buildings should not be monumental. The interiors should not be palatial. The rooms should be of reasonable size, and should not be unduly large as in many existing public buildings. Also, the building program should be limited to necessary repairs and new construction.

The committee has obtained estimates of a State building program, but these estimates are not substantiated, and seem beyond the actual needs of the State. Considering the amount of State building construction over the past 10 years, $33,000,000 should be sufficient.

The report of the Director of Finance requested by this committee will be referred to the appropriate committees of the Senate and Assembly. These committees will develop the actual building construction program. The Senate Special Committee on State Buildings and Construction, we understand, is now assembling data on the State's needs. The information developed by the Director of Finance should be of aid to that committee. We are hopeful that the suggestions made by this representative group of citizens will likewise be of assistance to that committee and to the Legislature in the formulation of the postwar State building program.

It is the understanding of the committee that the law requires the appropriation to be made now and does not permit a blanket appropriation for after the war. Accordingly, a careful study of the State's needs should be made at once, and the necessary appropriation bills passed. Since it is anticipated that the money can not be expended during the next biennium, the appropriation should be made a continuing one so that the funds will not be diverted to current uses but will be available for the building program after the war.

The above suggested appropriations (Recommendations No. 1 to No. 4, inclusive) for the use of the surplus would leave approximately $14,600,000 unallocated on June 30, 1943. That seems a reasonable margin for contingencies. Also, it should be remembered, the earmarking appropriations recommended for the postwar building program and the War Catastrophe Fund or Reserve, totaling $58,000,000, would serve as a substantial cushion against declining revenues.

B. Recommended Tax Reductions

If the present State taxes are continued throughout the next biennium, yields are estimated to produce an excess of revenues over expenditures in 1943-45 of $137,500,000. Adding to this figure the June 30, 1943, adjusted surplus of $14,600,000, after recommended earmarking appropriations, the revised June 30, 1945, surplus would be approximately $152,100,000. (See surplus adjusted on basis of committee recommendations, page 33.)

The Federal tax burden is exceedingly heavy.¹⁶ The payment of income taxes on March 15th will bring home to many people the realization that they have not adequately provided for tax payments. Under such conditions, with a substantial surplus in the Treasury and with the State taxes yielding more revenue than the State can wisely expend at this time, a temporary reduction of some of California's taxes seems reasonable. Although the relief to individual taxpayers will not be great, it will be helpful and is a step in the right direction. The committee has examined the State and local tax structure and is of the opinion that, so far as possible, what tax relief is permissible should be extended to all groups of taxpayers.

Consequently, the committee recommends:

(5) That the Retail Sales Tax and Use Tax Acts be amended to provide that, effective July 1, 1943, and for a period of two years thereafter, the rate of tax be reduced from 3 per cent to $2\frac{1}{2}$ per cent and that gross receipts from the sale of drugs, medicines, and prescriptions be specifically exempted from the provisions of said acts and from the computation of the amount of taxes levied, assessed, or payable under such laws; and that this reduction and these exemptions terminate on June 30, 1945.

A majority of the committee is opposed to increasing exemptions from the retail sales and use taxes. Exemptions, once established, are difficult to remove. They tend to become vested rights. But for the period of the war a shortage of doctors appears probable, and drugs, medicines, and prescriptions among the necessities. Accordingly, the committee has recommended that sales of these items be exempt for a two-year period only, the tax then to be automatically restored. A considerable amount of opposition to any reduction in the sales and use taxes has been registered with the committee, but the committee is of the opinion that in a tax reduction program it is desirable to spread what reduction is available among as many different groups of taxpayers as possible. Hence, it has recommended the temporary reduction in the sales and use tax rates. This change, it is estimated, would reduce the revenue from these sources $37,017,500 for the 1943-45 biennium.¹⁷

The committee further recommends:

(6) That The Personal Income Tax Act be amended to provide:

(a) That for a two-year period, namely, the taxable years 1943 and 1944 (in general, the tax to be collected in 1944 and 1945) unless further extended by the Legislature, the personal exemptions be increased for single persons from $1,000 to $1,500 and for married persons and heads of families from $2,500 to $3,500;

(b) For reducing the maximum tax rate from 15 per cent to 7 per cent;

(c) That for a two-year period, unless extended further by the Legislature, a 25 per cent war credit against the tax (computed at rates as modified by (a) and (b) above) be allowed on all personal income tax returns.

The California personal income tax has been a subject of considerable discussion in recent years. It was adopted in 1935 when the Federal income tax burden was light. Thirty other states and the District of Columbia have personal income tax laws.¹⁸ It appears to be generally conceded that the personal income tax rates in California in the higher brackets are out of line with those of other states. The personal income tax rates in California are:

The committee is recommending a maximum rate of 7 per cent. This is higher than the average, but is the rate established in five States, including New York. In the opinion of the committee, the maximum rate reduction merely puts California in line with other States and should be permanent.

In years gone by, California has been the beneficiary of a migration of wealth. This has been due to her natural advantages and to the resourcefulness of Californians in presenting the desirability of their State as a place of residence to persons residing all over the world. It is widely believed that any income tax in California discourages the in-migration of wealth. Without attempting to pass upon that point, the committee feels that a State which seeks to attract wealth should not have income tax rates substantially higher than those of competing States, or States in which the prospective future residents of California now reside.

Estimated on the personal income tax yield predicted for the 1943-45 biennium, the reduction in revenue from lowering the maximum rate from 15 per cent to 7 per cent would be $1,625,000 a year, with the salary ceiling, and approximately $2,940,000 a year without the salary ceiling. Since Federal income tax laws authorize the deduction of State taxes in computing Federal taxable income, most of the reduction would be paid out by the individual taxpayer in Federal taxes. The percentage absorbed in Federal taxes ranges from 69 per cent to 88 per cent, leaving to the taxpayers affected by this reduction a relatively small net amount.¹⁹

The recommended increase in personal exemptions for single persons from $1,000 to $1,500 and for married persons and heads of families from $2,500 to $3,500 will take the income tax entirely off a large number of wage earners and salaried employees.

Twenty-four States of the 31 allow a deduction of Federal income tax in computing net income. California does not. Many people have been advocating such a change in the California law. The claim is made that it is unfair to charge a tax upon a tax. The loss of revenue by deduction of the Federal income tax would be large. Such a change would also make the State tax base uncertain and, as is the experience with tax exemptions, deduction of Federal taxes, once allowed, would be difficult to remove when additional revenues may be needed by the State.

It has seemed to the committee better to give all income taxpayers a uniform cut by recommending that for a two-year period, unless further extended by the Legislature, a 25 per cent war credit be allowed on all personal income tax returns.

The three changes recommended by the committee, if made, would reduce the revenue from the income tax for the 1943-45 biennium by $25,600,000.²⁰ This estimate has been made on the basis of a $25,000 salary ceiling after Federal taxes, because the State budget estimates have been made upon that assumption. If the $25,000 ceiling is removed, the estimated revenue from the income tax would be increased from $71,400,000 to $78,500,000 for the biennium and the recommended reduction would be increased to $28,850,000.

The committee further recommends:

(7) That the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act and the Corporation Income Tax Act be amended to provide that for a two-year period, namely, for the taxable years 1944 and 1945, under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act and 1943 and 1944 under the Corporation Income Tax Act (in general, the tax to be collected in 1944 and 1945), unless extended further by the Legislature, a 25 per cent war credit against the tax (computed at present rates) be allowed to all corporations, banks, and financial institutions subject to taxes under these acts.

The Federal Government is levying heavy taxes upon corporate income. If an additional $16,000,000,000 is to be raised by taxation, as recommended by the President, steeper rates than ever must be imposed. The Federal rate now paid by the ordinary corporation consists of the normal and surtax, the two combined reaching 40 per cent of the corporate net income in excess of $50,000. A considerable number of States allow deduction of Federal income taxes in computing corporate income for State tax purposes. California does not. A temporary credit of 25 per cent on the California tax is not great, but it will afford some relief to small and struggling corporations. The decrease in revenue over the next biennium, if this credit is allowed, is estimated at $17,550,000.²¹

The committee further recommends:

(8) That the appropriate legislative committee or committees study the method of taxing banks in the State of California for the purpose of eliminating the uncertainties and inequities of the existing law.

The method of taxing banks in California was discussed before the committee by a representative of California Bankers' Association and a representative of the State Franchise Tax Commissioner's Office.²² Both agreed that the present method is unsatisfactory. The problem is an intricate and technical one. Bank taxation is restricted by Federal statute, so that the State is not free to provide any type of bank tax it may choose. It is the opinion of the committee that a careful study should be made of bank taxation, and a solution provided which is equitable to the banks and will obtain a fair amount of revenue for the State of California.

²⁰ See Appendix, Exhibit H.

²¹ See Appendix, Exhibit I.

²² Ibid., Exhibit I-1.

There are several other State taxes upon which the committee has not acted. The ones relating to special funds are not within the scope of this committee's activities. Other taxes which support the State General Fund produce a comparatively small amount of revenue, and some of them apply only to luxuries, such as the tax on distilled spirits and the excise tax on beer and wine, while others apply to relatively small selected groups of taxpayers, such as the tax on insurance companies, the private car tax, the motor vehicle transportation license tax, and the inheritance and gift taxes. The committee has not suggested changes in these taxes. Instead, it has endeavored to confine its recommendations to those principal General Fund taxes which affect the largest numbers of taxpayers.

The committee further recommends:

(9) That the State of California, for a two-year period, assume one-half of the cost now being borne by the counties for aid to the needy aged. The counties and the State now participate equally in this cost. Under this recommendation the ratio would be changed to counties one-fourth and State three-fourths.

The change in the State tax revenue system in 1910 was adopted to relieve property taxpayers. The Riley-Stewart plan was adopted in 1933 to relieve property taxpayers. For a short time the rates upon, and the amounts collected from, property taxes were reduced. But local taxes have gradually increased and the total amount collected from property taxes is substantially greater than it was before the enactment of the Riley-Stewart plan. Tabulations showing the ad valorem property tax collections over a period of years may be found in the Appendix, Exhibits E, K, L, and M.

County taxpayers urge that the Legislature has imposed burdens upon counties by increasing the categorical aids, and that these are properly State burdens. In considering what might be done in order that property taxpayers might have some share in the temporary tax reduction made possible by the rapid increase in State revenues, it appears to the committee that the State of California, for a two-year period, might assume one-half the cost for aid to the aged now borne by the counties.

The committee realizes that the temporary assumption of this added burden by the State will not necessarily result in the reduction of county taxes. There is no assurance that the relief will be passed on to the taxpayer. But the supervisors generally are desirous of lowering their tax rates, and it is probable that most, if not all, of the relief will be used to reduce property taxes in the counties and thus benefit property taxpayers. This temporary change in ratio between the counties and the State would involve about $16,182,000²³ for the 1943-45 biennium.

²³ See appendix, Exhibit J

The committee further recommends:

(10) That the whole problem of categorical aids be studied by a special legislative committee with the following objectives among others:

(a) A readjustment and equalization of the counties' share of the load, but without eliminating the responsibility of the counties to provide some of the funds;

(b) A further coordination and integration of the administration of categorical aids between the county and the State to the end that there may be more efficient and economical operation.

The categorical aids so-called, i.e. public assistance to the aged, the blind, and to needy children are administered by the counties under a formula of payment set up by law. From time to time, the Legislature has increased the amounts of one or more of these aids and placed a heavier tax burden upon the counties. County taxes have been increased greatly in recent years by such measures, and the rate required in some counties is much higher than in others.²⁴

The committee is not attempting to determine how the revenues for these categorical aids should be raised, or what part should come from the State and what portion from the counties, but it is of the opinion that the problem of the categorical aids should be studied by a special Legislative committee with particular attention to a reallocation of the tax load. The committee is of the opinion that so long as counties administer these aids, the counties must be responsible for providing some of the funds.

The committee recommends finally:

(11) That estimates of revenue be carefully checked from time to time against the actual yields of State taxes and if, by March, 1944, it be apparent that the total yields are substantially above or below the revenues estimated in the budget, a special session of the Legislature be called to take any steps that may be necessary to readjust the revenue structure to meet the needs of the State of California.

The committee realizes that, during this period of war, it is possible for substantial changes to take place in revenue yields. The estimates have been carefully made and, we believe, are reliable. There are, however, conditions which might arise which would cause a quick drop in revenue. There are, likewise, other conditions which might cause a substantial increase in the estimated revenues. The recommendations of the committee for the freezing of surplus and the reductions of taxes leave a cushion of more than $55,000,000.²⁵ The $25,000,000 in the suggested War Catastrophe Reserve is another cushion. This margin of more than $80,000,000 seems sufficient to permit the tax reductions suggested. It is possible—indeed, some members of the committee believe probable—that additional tax reductions can be made at some later date. But, in any event, the actual yields should be carefully followed and if, at any time during the biennium 1943-45, it becomes apparent that conditions permit further tax reduction or require the elimination of all or any part of the temporary reductions suggested, a special session of the Legislature should be called to do whatever is necessary to meet the situation at that time.

The committee realizes that any reduction in State taxes will not be entirely retained by the taxpayer. In the payment of Federal income taxes, the amount of State and local taxes paid is deductible in computing net income for Federal tax purposes. To the extent that State or local taxes may be reduced, the deduction for Federal tax purposes will be reduced. Therefore, in any State or local tax reduction a part of the reduction will be paid to the Federal Government. Because of the difference in the income tax brackets, the low income taxpayer will be able to retain a much larger percentage of the saving than will the income taxpayer in the high brackets. The Federal Government needs all of the tax money it can raise for the war. Taxpayers should pay as much as possible of the war cost now. The reduction in State taxes will benefit both the Federal Government and the taxpayer. The State does not need the revenues at this time.

In the opinion of the committee, the fact that a portion of the tax saving will be absorbed in Federal taxes is no argument against State tax reduction. Rather it is an argument for it, as part of the moneys saved will go into the Federal treasury where it is desperately needed, and part into the pockets of the taxpayers who are entitled to have taxes reduced whenever possible.

Respectfully submitted.

DISSENTING REPORT OF OSCAR R. FUSS

March 15, 1943

*The Honorable EARL WARREN
Governor of California
Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: Because I, as a member of the Citizens' Tax Committee, am unable to agree with several of the important recommendations being made to you by the Citizens' Tax Committee, I am asking Mr. James L. Beebe to submit this report to you in my behalf.

I feel compelled to take this serious step of submitting a dissenting opinion because I sincerely believe that the best interests of the people and the State of California will not be served if all the recommendations of the majority are accepted by you and the Legislature without modifications.

When you first appointed the Citizens' Tax Committee, you urged its members to consider the following points:

- (1) That the fiscal system of the State must be geared to the exigencies of the war.
- (2) That we must guard against the folly of lopsided proposals to escape from existing responsibility.
- (3) That there is no guarantee of the continuance of the present yield of income.
- (4) That our postwar needs may climb to unprecedented levels.
- (5) That consideration must be given to the fairness of the distribution of the burden of both winning and paying for the war.

Gearing the fiscal system of the State to the exigencies of the war can best be done in the manner described by President Franklin D. Roosevelt in his Budget Message of January 11, 1943, wherein he stated:

- (1) That fiscal measures must be designed not only to provide revenues but also to support the stabilization program by deterring luxury or nonessential spending.
- (2) That the cost of the war must be distributed fairly and equitably.
- (3) That fiscal measures do not impair but actually promote maximum war production.
- (4) That the receipt of any large income from any source, at a time when wages and salaries are stabilized constitutes a gross inequity undermining National unity.

Keeping these considerations in mind, I can not concur with a number of the recommendations made by a majority of the committee on the grounds that these recommendations do not best serve the war effort in the State, because the effect of these recommendations is to reduce taxes for the wealthy and to shift the tax burden to the low-income groups.

Taxation for the duration must sharply cut into those income brackets into which cuts can be made without endangering the health and productivity of the civilian population. The problem is not one of distribution of sacrifices or of punishment or of "soaking" any portion of the population. In the grim reality of this war men and women in battle areas are losing their lives. This State and its people must agree to "a fiscal system which is geared to the exigencies of the war." In essence this means that once citizens are assured an equitable amount of civilian goods the money income, above that necessary to pay for the civilian goods, is open to the sharpest taxation.

With these principles in mind, I am submitting the following recommendations:

I concur with recommendation No. 1 that $2,277,500 be appropriated for the purpose of retiring bonds of the funded debt of 1870 and 1873.

I do not concur with recommendation No. 2. It seems to me highly inappropriate to use part of the so-called surplus for the purpose of paying off bonds which are due in the years between 1945 and 1949. In the ordinary course of debt retirement, allowance for both principal and interest payments are always made in the budget from current taxation.

It seems to me that this custom should still be followed.

It seems more appropriate to use the surplus which has arisen out of abnormal war conditions for some of the needs arising out of the war which we may assuredly count upon.

I would therefore rather see this sum of $15,000,000 recommended in Proposal No. 2 frozen in government bonds; the principal and interest of which would be used after the war to aid returning veterans in the buying of homes and farms.

I concur with recommendation No. 3 that $25,000,000 be appropriated for a War Catastrophe Reserve Fund.

(4)

I concur with recommendation No. 4 that $33,000,000 be appropriated for a postwar Building Fund.

In its fifth recommendation, the majority of the committee has proposed a one-half of 1 per cent cut in the sales tax together with the elimination of drugs, medicines, and prescriptions from the tax.

I agree with the second proposal, but believe that a one-sixth cut in the sales tax, though amounting to $33,500,000 is too small in relation to the individual saving, assuming the Heller Committee data on the incidence of sales taxes upon individuals at different income levels.

I believe that the sales tax should be cut to 2 per cent and not only drugs, medicines, and prescriptions eliminated from the tax but also meals served in restaurants.

The great growth in the sales tax income from meals served in restaurants serves to confirm what is widely known; namely, that large numbers of war workers throughout the State are compelled to depend upon restaurant meals for eating.

It seems to me that if the sales tax is cut in this manner that the State is removing a burden from those least able to pay, with the result that the health and productivity of those most likely to suffer because of lack of income will not be endangered.

The money saved can not be used for luxury spending, because actually it is a small amount saved over a period of time.

The fact that a 2 per cent tax will be retained shows that this is no "lopsided proposal to escape existing responsibility."

I concur with recommendation No. 6A which increases the exemption for income taxpayers from $2,500 to $3,500 for married persons and from $1,000 to $1,500 for single people.

It should be pointed out what the results of this recommendation are:

- (1) It involves a tax reduction of $13,950,000.
- (2) This reduction is spread in varying amounts amongst 1,285,031 income taxpayers.
- (3) The majority of nearly one-half million California income taxpayers in the lower brackets will pay no tax, and the few remaining in these brackets will pay an estimated total of $100,000.

I do not concur with recommendation 6B which reduces the income tax ceiling from 15 per cent to 7 per cent on incomes above $40,000 a year.

That recommendation means:

- (1) A tax reduction of $2,625,000.
- (2) This reduction is limited to 2.524 taxpayers having incomes above $40,000 a year.
- (3) This means that two-tenths of 1 per cent of the income taxpayers get approximately 16 per cent of the total reduction obtained by combining the recommendations of increasing exemptions to $3,500 and cutting the tax to 7 per cent from 15 per cent in the brackets above $40,000. The other 99.8 per cent get 84 per cent of the total.

It seems to me that this recommendation violates several principles. It constitutes a gross inequity in giving to such a small group such a relatively high reduction. It puts more money into the hands of those who already have money and therefore sets the basis for inflationary and luxury spending.

It denies the validity of the graduated tax as the best method of affecting the principle of the ability to pay. To set the rate arbitrarily at 7 per cent of $40,000 and above means the complete elimination of the upward graduated tax such as exists now.

And the principle that the more you have the better you are able to pay does not hold after your income reaches $40,000 a year.

While it is true that much of the money saved from the State will not remain in the hands of the individual but will go to the Federal Government, nevertheless, sufficient does remain in the hands of individuals so as not to invalidate the principle stated here.

I do not concur with recommendation No. 6C which would give a further 25 per cent flat reduction to all income taxpayers after their tax had been calculated on the basis of increased exemption and lower rates on the higher brackets.

This recommendation would further reduce the yield of the income tax by $9,000,000; and based upon a flat cut, it would obviously give a greater amount to those with higher incomes. For instance, a man with a $10 income tax would get a reduction of $2.50, whereas a man with a $10,000 income tax would get a $2,500 cut.

This manner of cutting taxes, it seems to me, runs contrary to the principle of basing an income tax upon the ability to pay.

I can not agree with recommendation No. 7 to cut the bank and corporation franchise tax by 25 per cent which means a reduction in revenue of some $17,550,000.

It is no argument to contend that this tax ought to be cut because it has increased so greatly during the past few years.

It has increased because corporate earnings have increased and this has been the result of war contracts.

Corporations and banks should pay for the increased benefits received from California.

Cutting the taxes of the banks and the corporations means that money is returned to those best able to pay taxes. If that money is used to increase dividends, the chances, again, are that the basis for luxury spending is increased.

It further should not be forgotten that out of State stockholders in California corporations who do not have to pay a State income tax here receive a further benefit through the possible increased dividends.

I concur in recommendation No. 8, assuming that the study will also consider the taxation of personal property owned by banks but not used in banking operations (for example, farm property taken over in foreclosures).

(9)

Recommendation No. 9 would require the State to take over about $16,182,000 in expenditures now being made by the counties.

The purpose is to obtain a cut in the real property tax in the county.

I do not believe that this will happen even if the counties are given a tax rebate and am opposed to this proposal not only for this reason, but also because the various schemes presented to the committee indicated that if any conditions were laid down, they would be of such nature that the cut in property taxes would help the utilities and the large property owners, rather than the small property owners.

Furthermore, requiring the State to take over now one-half of the county's burden in reference to old age assistance would simply make it more difficult to consider any increase in old age assistance on the basis of present State funds.

Yet, it seems to me on the basis of the nearly 100 bills introduced in the Legislature on this subject, as well as your own comments to the committee appointed to consider this subject, that some improvement in old age assistance is on the way.

SUMMARY

I would summarize my proposals finally in this form :

1. $ 2,277,500—To pay off the 1873 bonds.
2. $15,000,000—To facilitate the buying of homes and farms by returning veterans.
3. $25,000,000—War Catastrophe Reserve Fund.
4. $33,000,000—Postwar Building Fund.
5. $ 3,517,500—Reduction in sales tax due to exemption of medicines, drugs, and prescriptions.
- 5a. $84,000,000—Reduction in sales tax yield due to cut in sales tax to 2 per cent and exemption of meals from payment of sales tax.
6. $13,950,000—Reduction in Income Tax Yield due to increasing exemptions to $1,500 for single people and to $3,500 for married people or heads of families.

This adds up to a total of $176,745,000 which must be subtracted from the approximately $223,000,000 which, it is estimated, will be on hand at the end of 1943-45 biennium.

The difference of approximately $46,255,000 can be earmarked for any changes in old age assistance, or partially considered as margin of error.

I have made my findings upon the basis of factual information furnished to the entire committee in the various exhibits which no doubt will be presented to you.

I believe that these recommendations are to the best interest of California in this war period.

I wish to express my appreciation of the courtesy of the chairman and other members of the committee, of the assistance given to us by the various departments, and to you for having given me the opportunity to serve on this committee at the request of the California C. I. O.

Sincerely yours,

OSCAR R. FUSS

Exhibit DSTATEMENT ON REVENUE ESTIMATES 1943-1945 BIENNIUM*REVENUE FORECASTS

Rapid and far reaching developments in the process of converting the Nation's economic structure from peace to war, together with the numberless possible developments which may affect the State's tax income before the 1943-1945 biennium has run its course, make necessary an explanatory statement with respect to the revenue estimates contained in this budget.

Before six months of the current biennium had passed, the United States was plunged into a world war. Largely for that reason tax collections have exceeded the official estimates made two years ago. Compared with the war program, expenditures for defense were made at a leisurely rate which did not disrupt civilian economy. Active participation in the war brought a swift upsurge in Federal expenditures which was not anticipated at the time the last estimates were prepared. In the intervening years civilian consumption has not only been maintained, but has, in fact, expanded tremendously in comparison with prewar years. Neither of these developments could have been covered in the assumptions which underlay the 1941-1943 revenue forecasts.

The uncertainties surrounding a forecast extending 30 months into the future in normal times are at present compounded by the impact of our immense war program upon civilian life. The revenue estimates contained in this budget allow for changes which have already taken place, even though some are not yet fully reflected in current revenue receipts. In addition, allowances have been made for the influences which may now be foreseen with reasonable assurance. These forecasts, however, do not allow for favorable and unfavorable developments undiscernible at present. For this reason, the revenue estimates presented herewith are subject to revision, and will be revised when conditions warrant a change.

The forecasts of revenue to be collected during the 1943-1945 biennium represent a moderately optimistic view of conditions to be experienced during the next two years. While it now seems probable that actual receipts will neither exceed nor fall short of these estimates by any substantial amount, they must be interpreted with caution. Although specific amounts are given for each source of revenue, it should be remembered that under existing conditions a variation of at least 10 per cent either above or below these amounts would represent highly satisfactory performance. In terms of income for the State General Fund, this means that although a total of $467,800,000 is forecast for the coming biennium, actual receipts may vary from $420,000,000 to $515,000,000.

ASSUMPTIONS

In preparing these estimates it has been necessary to make certain fundamental assumptions regarding the future. Since it would be possible by adopting a different set of assumptions to arrive at different conclusions, these underlying factors must be delineated clearly.

First, in keeping with the assumption regarding State expenditures, it has been assumed that the present war will continue for at least two more years and that the entire 1943-1945 biennium will be influenced by wartime conditions. If the war were to end early or midway in the coming biennium, undoubtedly the State's entire financial program would be adjusted by the Legislature in special session.

Second, the enormous military expenditures of the Federal Government will assure a high level of industrial activity in California during the coming biennium, although certain individual lines of business, such as wholesaling, retailing and some services will be curtailed by limitations and restrictions upon nonessential commodities and activities.

Third, as a result of intense war activity, the salary and wage income of California citizens will reach unprecedented heights in the coming two years. Income derived from farming activities will also be high, while that derived from invested capital will recede to the levels prevailing in the latter part of the last decade.

Fourth, numerous shortages will appear in the supply of civilian goods, with many lines of durable items virtually vanishing from the business scene, but with only minor decreases in the volume of non-durable articles. This assumption stems directly from action already taken by the War Production Board, which prohibited the production of passenger cars, radios, refrigerators and numerous similar products early in 1942, and has recently placed limitations upon the domestic consumption of certain nondurable lines.

Fifth, offsetting the decrease in supply, it has been assumed that a moderate increase in prices will occur during the coming two years and that this upward movement in prices would tend to counterbalance a moderate decrease in the supply of such lines as wearing apparel, household supplies, drugs and confections.

Sixth, the population of California has grown at the rate of 3 to 5 per cent annually during recent years. It has been assumed that because of travel restrictions and more complete employment elsewhere, population increases during the coming two years would approximate only 1 per cent annually.

CONTINGENCIES

While allowances may be made for such factors as those mentioned, there are at least three contingencies which can not be appraised adequately at present.

The extent to which rationing may ultimately become necessary is unknown. A drastic reduction in supply which curtailed the consumption of all individuals would no doubt adversely affect these estimates, while a moderate rationing program which merely eliminated excesses and assured adequate amounts to all would be unlikely to affect the present State revenue picture materially.

Solution to the problem of manpower shortage will affect the State's income. If by extending the hours of labor adequate supplies of both civilian and military goods are produced, the effect may be negligible. If, however, the short work week is maintained and it becomes necessary to make drastic reductions in civilian output to meet military demands, the State's income, particularly that derived under the retail sales tax, will undoubtedly decrease more than is now estimated.

The degree of price control is an important determinant in the revenue question. Should drastic price influence be experienced, the effect upon the State's revenue would depend upon factors which can not now be known.

The effect of sudden developments upon the State's revenue is well illustrated by the recently established salary ceiling, designed to leave no more than $25,000 income from this source to any individual or family unit after paying Federal taxes. This action alone had the effect of reducing anticipated receipts from the State personal income tax by $7,100,000 during the 1943-1945 biennium. In the event the restriction were removed, it is estimated that the State's revenue would be increased by that amount.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

In the preparation of these forecasts ample recourse has been had to the advice of authorities in many fields. Letters were sent to approximately 350 large key industrial leaders and "little" businessmen throughout the State, soliciting their opinions regarding the outlook in their particular fields. Response to this call for assistance was most generous and the advice of these men has been fully utilized in these revenue studies. Forecasts here presented in so far as they relate to the year 1943, have been checked against and are in practical agreement with forecasts made by such agencies as the United States Department of Commerce and the United States Bureau of Agricultural Economics, while there is general harmony with available forecasts made by other authoritative sources. The amounts shown have, whenever possible, been checked against similar forecasts made by representatives of the various State agencies charged with the responsibility of administering the State's tax laws. Although differences of opinion exist, in no case do the two sets of independent estimates vary by significant amounts. Finally, these forecasts have been discussed with persons in California intimately familiar with the State's tax system and its potentialities. These authorities were in agreement as to the present outlook but they also reserved the right to alter their opinions in the light of changing conditions.

SALES AND USE TAXES

The volume of revenue collected under the retail sales and use taxes depends largely upon economic conditions prevailing in the State and Nation. During periods of prosperity the yield from these tax sources is large, but a reversal in business trends is reflected almost immediately in decreased sales tax receipts by the State Treasury. The tax base is broad, comprising not only most transfers of tangible personal property to individual consumers through retail stores, but also a substantial amount of sales to business and industry through wholesale outlets, manufacturers' agents and other sales organizations. In estimating sales tax yield during any given future period it is, therefore, necessary to forecast the course of general business activity in the State and to anticipate trends in a wide variety of business endeavors.

Comparative data on retail sales tax collections by fiscal years and bienniums are given in the following table; all amounts include permit fees, and figures for the period 1933-34 to 1940-41, inclusive, are taken from reports of the State Controller. Other amounts are from the budget.

* Not strictly comparable because collections in 1933-34 represent receipts for eight months only.

The almost continuous increase in sales tax collections since the inception of this levy in 1933 normally would constitute a basis for projecting further gains during the ensuing biennium. The virtual certainty that the aggregate income of California citizens during the coming two years will exceed all previous totals likewise would indicate an increase in taxable purchases during the next 30 months. In this respect, the prospects for large sales tax receipts would be bright indeed, were it not for other factors which also must be taken into consideration.

Concentration of the Nation's industrial capacity upon the production of war materials has made it necessary to limit the output of civilian goods. Motor vehicle production has been sacrificed to tanks, planes and armored cars; and typewriters have given place to machine guns. In total it is estimated that more than two-thirds of the Nation's industrial capacity during the current calendar year will be devoted to the production of war goods. Hence, in estimating revenue to be received under the retail sales tax it is necessary to approach the problem from the viewpoint of available supply rather than effective demand. The volume of goods for sale under controlled prices and not the number of dollars in the hands of prospective purchasers will become the determining factor in sales tax yield.

The effect of wartime restrictions upon the State's revenue has been amply demonstrated by the decrease in tax collected upon the sales of motor vehicles and related items. During the calendar year 1941, a total of $25,500,000 was received from this source, but with the virtual elimination of new car sales in 1942, the rationing of tires and the voluntary curtailment of motor vehicle operation by millions of owners, sales tax payments by the motor vehicle group in 1942 dropped to $13,000,000, or approximately half that of the pre-war year. Because many lines of merchandise were not under restricted production while others were drawing upon large inventories, this severe loss in revenue from the motor vehicle group was offset by gains in taxable sales of other commodities. As limited supplies in other fields of distribution are exhausted, however, a reduction will undoubtedly be evidenced in sales tax receipts.

Decreases are likely to be greatest in the field of building construction for civilian needs, when severe limitations have already been imposed. The losses in this line will extend to such related items as heating and plumbing supplies, hardware, store and factory machines and equipment. Reductions in the volume of taxable sales of commercial and office machines are now appearing and will extend further as the supply of these items dwindles or is channelled into nontaxable military use. Production of household appliances has been discontinued and tax receipts from sales of these articles will disappear as inventories are depleted. The same is true of radios, musical instruments and certain lines of furniture. Rationing of farm implements, pooling of most new construction machinery in the hands of the Federal Government, and purchase of new machines used in aircraft production in the name of the Federal Government rather than the manufacturer, will all tend toward a sharp decline in sales tax collections.

These changes in the sales tax base are relatively well known and measurable. Their effect has been calculated to the best degree possible in estimating future revenue from this source.

Diminished supply, wartime restrictions upon civilian consumption, transferring distribution of numerous items from taxable to nontaxable channels, limited manpower, and increased Federal taxes are all basic factors tending to decrease sales tax yield. Decreases anticipated in the distribution of durable goods and to a limited extent in nondurable goods will not be characteristic of the entire sales tax base, however. One of the largest increases in taxable sales during recent years has been reported by restaurants, liquor stores and drinking places. It is assumed in these estimates that consumption of taxable meals will continue to increase, although at a more moderate rate than in the past, while dollar sales of alcoholic beverages will be maintained at present levels despite a limitation of supply and voluntary rationing of liquor. Because of price increases, the dollar volume of business is likely to be relatively constant, even though there may be a reduction in the physical volume.

On the basis of data revealed by a study of the retail sales tax, and with the advice of those familiar with probable trends in the most important retail fields, sales tax and permit fees during the 1943-1945 biennium have been estimated at $201,072,000, a decrease of $60,391,952, or 23.1 per cent from the actual and estimated total for the current biennium.

BANK AND CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX

Wartime activity together with an unusually high volume of civilian business during the calendar year 1942 carried corporate earnings, before deduction for Federal taxes, to the highest total on record. As a result, corporations operating in California will pay substantially more to the State Treasury in the form of franchise taxes during the current calendar year than in any previous comparable period. With intense activity on war contracts assured for an important segment of California industry and indirect benefits radiating to an even larger group of suppliers, carriers, and utilities, the prospect for substantial franchise tax receipts during most of the 1943-45 biennium is bright.

Judging from data compiled from a weighted sample of 233 firms which pay almost 40 per cent of the State levy, the aggregate taxable income of corporations operating in California last year was approximately 31 per cent above the total reported in 1941.

Previous forecasts made on the basis of this sample have proven remarkably accurate and judging from this past record, an equivalent increase in franchise tax payments in 1943 can be expected with confidence.

The earnings of corporations in 1943, which become the basis of tax collected the following year, are somewhat more a matter of conjecture. Over a period of the last 10 years, corporate earnings in California have borne a direct and measurable relationship to industrial activity in the Nation as a whole. It is generally conceded that national production this year will increase approximately 15 per cent as a result of expanded capacity and improved efficiency. Normally a related gain could be anticipated in taxable earnings of corporations in this State. However, earning prospects of several important groups of corporations are not as promising as in recent years, particularly wholesale firms which apparently experienced a decrease in 1942, retailers, oil companies and mine operators. In the case of gold mines, operations have been discontinued upon order of the Federal Government. In other instances, wartime restrictions are likely to curtail activity, inventory problems are likely to arise, while labor shortages in nonessential lines may hamper operations. In view of this situation, it was assumed that these groups would not earn more in 1943 and 1944 than was earned annually in the period between 1936 and 1940, before the defense and war programs were started. Many of the war contracts are subject to renegotiation when profits are excessive, and this feature will tend to limit taxable earnings. Moreover, Federal taxes running to a maximum of 80 per cent may have a tendency to produce less efficient corporate operations.

Because of these uncertainties, it has been assumed that revenue receipts from the bank and corporation franchise tax, which will increase substantially in the first half of the new biennium, will drop somewhat in the last half. It is estimated that 1943-1945 receipts will total $102,350,000, or $21,166,189 more than the actual and estimated amount for the current biennial period.

Comparative figures on collections since 1935-36, when the present rates became effective, are shown below by fiscal years and bienniums:

Amounts given for the period 1935-36 to 1940-41 are taken from reports of the State Controller, other figures from the State budget

The foregoing data do not include collections under the CORPORATION INCOME TAX, a companion measure with the franchise tax. Amounts received from this source are considerably smaller and are likely to prove much more variable than from the franchise tax. A total of $650,000 has been estimated for 1943-45, as compared with $652,935 in the 1941-43 biennium, and $335,328 in 1939-41.

PERSONAL INCOME TAX

Fundamentally, of course, the income received by the people of California in 1942, 1943 and 1944 will determine the amount of tax collected by the State on personal incomes during the 1943-1945 biennium. Income payments in the form of salaries, wages, interest, dividends, business profits, etc., have been at peak levels throughout the defense and war periods. An even greater outpouring of money for armament in the coming two years will bring further increases in the aggregate of individual incomes, which in turn will bring larger income tax collections. This prospect is assured, except for the possibility of new Federal rulings on salaries and wages; action to place a ceiling upon other types of income; or changes in the State tax law.

Income payments for the Nation as a whole are estimated at approximately 112 billion dollars for 1942 and at least 130 billion dollars in 1943. The corresponding totals for the State of California are tentatively set at 8,500 million dollars in 1942 and at least 9,750 million in 1943. There is, at present, no reason to anticipate a reduction in this total the following year, 1944.

On the basis of past experience it can be demonstrated that a given increase in aggregate income results in a greater increase in income tax. More people are brought within the provisions of the income tax law; deductions tend to be somewhat more constant than total income; and individual receipts advance to such an extent that higher tax rates apply. On the average, an increase of 50 per cent in gross income payments in California results in an increase of 85 per cent in the volume of State income tax assessed. This relationship is subject to variation and has not been tested over a sufficiently long period of years to be stated as a definite rule, but it serves as an approximate measure of the tax-effect of an increase in total income.

Current conditions require modification of this average ratio because of three factors: First, while income of California residents is increasing, a very large proportion of this increase is going to persons in the lower income brackets who either pay no State tax or are taxable at the lowest rate. This will reduce the State's receipts below what would be received if the increase were shared proportionately by all taxpayers. Second, income from investments, particularly from dividends, is likely to be reduced as a result of higher Federal tax on corporations. Dividends constitute an important part of the income of those who pay taxes at high rates; hence, the tax-effect of this change will be significant. Third, the Federal Government has imposed a "ceiling" on salaries. Broadly, no person may receive more salary than will yield him $25,000 a year, after paying Federal income taxes. This development alone required a reduction of $7,100,000 in the estimate of State income tax revenue for the 1943-1945 biennium. In the event the restriction is removed, estimated State income tax receipts could be increased by that amount.

After detailed study of the income tax base, probable composition and character of income payments during the coming two years, and limiting factors inherent in the current situation, revenue from the personal income tax has been estimated at $71,400,000 for the 1943-1945 biennium. This represents an increase of $9,766,818, or 15.8 per cent over the current biennium and allows for the maximum salary limit which has been imposed.

Comparative total revenue for previous years, as shown by the State Controller's records and the State budget, follow:

REVENUE 1943-1945*Exhibit D-1

T. H. Mugford, Sales Tax Division
California State Board of Equalization

Mr. Mugford: Mr. Chairman, ladies and gentlemen of the committee! We made an estimate independently from that made by Mr. Currie, of the Department of Finance, I must say with not nearly as thorough working papers as used by Mr. Currie. We arrived at a figure of $210,000,000 for the biennium, and I think that the $201,000,000 figure which is in the Governor's budget may be the more accurate of the two. I am sure the members of the committee appreciate what a difficult task it is to estimate revenues in these uncertain times. * * *

* * * so, all in all, the final result is quite close. The estimate we made is within 5 per cent of that shown in the Governor's budget prepared by Mr. Currie.

Mr. Beebe: You feel, do you, Mr. Mugford, that this estimate in the budget of $201,000,000 is a pretty sound, conservative estimate?

Mr. Mugford: Yes, I very definitely do, and I know enough of the work that has been done to prepare it to have a great deal of confidence in it. I think it is the best estimate that could be made in such difficult times as we are facing right now.

Mr. Beebe: You have carefully considered the various factors relating to the revenues anticipated for the next biennium?

Mr. Whitaker: We have endeavored to, Mr. Chairman. We find the problem presents a great many difficulties.

Mr. Beebe: You are in accord with Mr. Currie's recommendations for that biennium?

Mr. Whitaker: So far as we can see, we find no error.

Mr. Peirce: * * * In the light of what Mr. Currie told you this morning, in the light of what he had to work with—and he exhausted every possible source of information—I think he has done an excellent job, and I will say I concur in his revenue estimates, and yet I will point out in a moment that his revenue estimates may be wrong, and you are fifteen adult persons capable of judging. * * *

* * * Before you spend the $228,000,000 surplus or return it all to the taxpayers, bear in mind that something might happen to it before you get it, because, after all, that is a book figure; I might say a hope and not a reality. It is not yet realized, although I think there is a good chance.

Alden C. Fensel, Consultant
California Taxpayers' Association

Mr. Beebe: Mr. Fensel, may I interrupt you at that point? Have you made a calculation of your own on these various figures (revenue estimates), or only on the principal ones?

Mr. Fensel: Yes, I have schedules which are independent from these made by the Department of Finance.

Mr. Beebe: Mr. Fensel, do your schedules agree with the estimates of the Department of Finance?

Mr. Fensel: I believe we agree very closely. The individual items may vary some, but the variation is quite minor, and in spite of the fact that there are many uncertainties for the future, there is enough trend to indicate that in the next year, and I think also in the following year, that the figures are reasonably predictable.

Mr. Beebe: Do you feel that this committee would be safe in relying on these estimates for the next biennium?

Mr. Fensel: At the present time they are the best estimates available. In the Department of Finance message, as you will recall, it stated that as the next large collection of sales tax and other taxes come in, there may be some slight modification because of more material being available. At the present time, they appear to me to be quite adequate.

Office of Price Administration

Dr. Kidner: * * * There are a number of reasons why I believe that the tendency of the Office of Price Administration's program will be to decrease revenue from the general retail sales tax, even in the face of increasing money incomes. One is the general disappearance, which we are assured will become somewhat general by the end of this year, of all kinds of durable consumer goods. For instance, washing machines, automobiles and other items which previously formed a considerable proportion of our total volume of retail sales, and hence in our total volume of retail sales tax revenue. In addition to that, we will have also a widespread rationing of a large number of consumer goods other than food, upon which the tax is not levied, probably before the end of the year, and I should think fairly certainly before the end of the biennium beginning July 1 of this year. This, of course, will not necessarily mean that the total volume of sales—and I think this is a misunderstood point in many quarters—not that the total volume will decline, but that individuals will buy less; but there are more individuals than we have had before, and this tends to compensate in part. It is my personal opinion that the compensation will not be complete, and I imagine there will be a decline in retail sales tax revenues; or, if you will permit me to be a little safer, since there are long memories involved among the people deliberating here, I should like to say that I would be very surprised to see any further great increase in retail sales tax revenue. * * *

TESTIMONY ON ECONOMIC FACTORS WHICH AFFECT THE YIELD OF STATE TAX REVENUES

Exhibit D-6

H. F. Ormsby
Director, Research Department
California State Chamber of Commerce

Mr. Ormsby: * * * Employment in the manufacturing industries has increased to more than 1,000,000 persons, compared to an average of about 380,000 in the pre-war year of 1939. The relative increase in California in manufacturing employment since 1939 has been 170 per cent, as compared to 76 per cent increase for the Nation as a whole. Due to the rapidly rising flood of Federal expenditures for war purposes, individual incomes in California have increased tremendously, reaching totals in the year 1942 of approximately $8,500,000,000. This represents a 25 per cent increase over 1941, which, in turn, was some 22 per cent higher than in 1940. In 1939, incomes of California residents were a little over $5,000,000,000. In other words, personal incomes have risen from a little over $5,000,000,000 in 1939 to $8,500,000,000 this year just finished, and on the basis of the Department of Commerce estimates of National income for 1943, I forecast they will rise another 15 per cent, to about $9,750,000,000, or 7½ per cent of the National total. That is slightly lower than the figure Dr. Kidner gave you, but the two are close enough together to be within reasonable proximity. According to the estimates by the United States Department of Commerce, income from wages and salaries in California was a little over $3,000,000,000 in 1939. Wages and salaries rose to $3,402,000,000 in 1940, and to $4,226,000,000 in 1941. These 1941 totals were 24 per cent above 1940. Our preliminary estimates for 1942 indicate a gain of 33 per cent, to a total of $5,625,000,000. Those are wage and salary payments to individuals in California. Over the Nation as a whole salary and wage income rose about 28 per cent in 1942 compared to 1941. That percentage compares to the 33 per cent in California. In the California manufacturing industries, average employment of wage earners during the year 1942 was 50 per cent larger than in 1941, and pay rolls were about 96 per cent larger. Compared to the average monthly factory pay roll in 1939, the 1942 average pay roll showed a 280 per cent increase, and the average for December, that is, the last month of the year 1942, was $153,000,000, or more than five times the $30,000,000 average for 1939. That will give you a pretty good idea of the trend of payments in manufacturing industries as a whole. Of course, the great increases have been in shipbuilding and aircraft and related metal-working industries, due to the war expansion. The significance of these facts is that wages and salaries have been rising considerably faster than other component parts of income received by individuals. Where they comprised 59 per cent of the income receipts of California residents in 1939, they now comprise more than 66 per cent of the total. * * *

Entrepreneurial income, or the combination of income from their labor and capital investment by the self-employed and the proprietors of non-corporate enterprises, such as farmers and small business men, has remained at about 19 per cent of the total National income throughout the period. Incomes from dividends and interest, which in 1929 were 14.2 per cent of the total, had by 1939 declined to 11.6 per cent of the total, and by 1942 they were 7.8 per cent of the total. * * *

Extractive industries: California farms produced larger than average crops in 1942, which, according to preliminary estimates, will have a farm value of about $1,200,000,000, or a gross income about 40 per cent higher than in 1941. Farm labor shortages during the peak of the harvest season caused considerable anxiety and some losses in crop harvests. Farm labor costs ranged from 25 per cent to 100 per cent higher than in 1941. Gross farm income of $841,400,000 in 1941 was in turn some 31 per cent above 1940. The outlook for the future, so far as it can be summarized in general terms, is for smaller total production, higher costs of operation, and smaller net returns. The value of California mineral production in 1942 was $379,000,000, or slightly more in the aggregate than last year. Petroleum production was about 7½ per cent higher than last year, although employment in the oil fields declined to about 86 per cent of 1940 averages at the end of 1942. Due to the shut-down of gold mining, the value of gold production in 1942 dropped to $29,785,000 compared to $50,948,000 in 1940. By the end of the year employment in metal mining had dropped to 31 per cent of the 1940 averages. Production and value of minerals such as quicksilver, tungsten, chromite, manganese and iron ore, increased sharply. Due principally to labor shortages, lumber output by California sawmills declined during the Fall months of 1942. Farm income, mineral production and manufacturing industries I have covered in a general way, so far as one can generalize about them, in the statement as to employment and pay rolls.

* * * Consumer purchases of commodities have risen to unprecedented levels since 1940, due to the increased income payments. Retail sales in 1942 were approximately $4,400,000,000, as compared to $3,188,000,000 in 1939. The net increase over 1941, however, was small, and due to the rise in prices. The actual volume of goods distributed at retail, taking into account that there was a 10 per cent increase in the cost of living, was smaller than in 1941, and the trend over the next two years can be expected to be downward, due to the increasing scarcity of available goods. Food and apparel stores show the largest volume of gain in dollar volume of sales. * * *

Mr. James Bryant
Assistant to Regional Director
War Manpower Commission

Exhibit D-7

Mr. Bryant: * * * As of 1941 there were some 513,000 workers in the industries of California. In November of 1942 that number was increased to 928,000. In February of 1943, that is, the current figure, 1,050,000. * * * This is only industry, exclusive of agriculture * * * only industrial workers, taken from industrial plants operating as essential war industries. * * * In the war industries, the projected figure for May 1943 is 1,105,000. That is from estimates given to us by industrial concerns engaged in war industries. In November of 1943 the projected figure is 1,300,000 in war industries. At that time there probably will be a leveling off.

Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement
State Department of Industrial Relations

Exhibit D-8

Mr. Gershenson: * * * One of the most drastic changes is the increase in the number of persons employed in manufacturing. The number increased from 404,000 in the Spring of 1940 to more than 1,000,000 at the present time. The December figure showed it as crossing the million figure for the first time. * * *

In normal times * * * we have more earners engaged in producing nondurable goods than in durable goods. * * * In December, 80 per cent of our workers are in durable goods and only 20 per cent in nondurable goods. Now I think it is an obvious conclusion that that relationship won't continue after the war. We will have to go back to somewhere near the balanced picture we had before the war. * * *

* * * We estimate by the end of the year there will be 1,230,000 persons employed in manufacturing industries. * * * There will be a further increase in Government employment and we estimate that Government employment will reach approximately 480,000. In 1940 they were less than 300,000. There will be a further decline in nonagricultural employment which includes trades, construction, service, financial and utilities. They will continue to contract, and we estimate at the end of the year there will be about 325,000 persons in agriculture. Proprietors will continue to decline and will reach a figure of 215,000, and we don't see much of a change for the unemployed group, because of seasonal factors, turnover, illness, which leaves with us a residue of unemployed that always appear to be with us

*Excerpts FromTESTIMONY ON CALIFORNIA'S CONTRIBUTION TO FEDERAL TAXES*Exhibit E-1

Mr. Harry Harding
Tax Commissioner
Southern Pacific Company

Mr. Harding: * * * Now, in your consideration of the tax problem, I think it is important to consider California's contribution to Federal taxes. That is perhaps more important to you than the over-all picture. For the fiscal year 1939, ending June 30, 1940, California's contribution was $315,329,000, and for the year ended June 30, 1941, it was $405,677,000, and for 1941-42 it was $755,744,000. In the year ended June 30, 1942, that $755,744,000 represented 5½ per cent of the reported $24,552,000,000 income of the Government. On that same ratio of 5½ per cent, California's portion of this year's income tax would be $1,352,600,000, and if the rate should have stayed at 5½ per cent and the Federal take is moved up to $35,406,000,000, it would be $1,947,000,000. * * * Applying a figure of 7 per cent to that $35,406,000,000 income, California's proportion would be $2,478,000,000 for next year; and if the President's suggestion that tax revenue be increased up to $50,000,000,000—the suggestion contained in his budget message—should be carried out by Congress, California's contribution to the Federal government—if and when that becomes a fact—will be $3,500,000,000.

* * * There is every indication that the per capita tax burden in California, both State and Federal and, of course, including local communities, is headed for $500 per capita or more.

^a These bonds are held for the School Fund and the University Fund. They matured in 1892, but the people voted not to redeem them. By Chapter 65, Statutes of 1893, interest was continued on these bonds, and Chapter 533, Statutes of 1931, provides that they be redeemed out of any moneys received from payment of War Claims of the State of California against the United States.
^b These bonds have never been presented for payment and are barred by the Statute of Limitations; however, the Legislature has appropriated money to pay all such bonds presented to date.
^c Net after deducting sinking fund balances.
^d Financed by repayment from counties for Unemployment Relief Loans of 1933

* The net income is before deduction of personal exemption. In each example we have assumed the individual to be a married person without dependents and a personal exemption of $2,500 has been deducted in computing the State Tax ($3,500 in Example B) and $1,200 in computing the Federal Tax.

 Exemptions increased to $1,500 and $3,500.

BANK AND CORPORATION FRANCHISE TAX ACT

Exhibit I-1

Mr. Edward D. Landels
California Bankers Association and
Mr. James J. Arditto
Franchise Tax Counsel

Mr. Landels: * * * Under that enactment (the bank and corporation franchise tax act), the Franchise Tax Commissioner is empowered to compute, as best he can each year, the amount of taxes paid by other corporations—all kinds of corporations—in the form of personal property taxes, and determine the ratio which such personal property taxes bear to the net income of other corporations. That ratio, translated into terms of percentage of net income, is the additional rate which is imposed on banks.

* * * At the time that scheme was adopted, the banks protested both on the ground it was illegal and on the ground it violated every canon of taxation to tax any person on the basis of the amount of personal property owned by somebody else and, under that scheme, the factors upon which the bank rate is fixed, are factors over which the banks have no control, and factors which bear no relation whatever to the banks' ability to pay, and they bear no relation either to the amount or the value of the property owned by the banks. They bear relation only to the amount of property owned by other corporations and the net income of other corporations.

* * * Now, understand, not only do we take the position, but we have taken the position consistently, that it is an unfair method of taxing banks and an inequitable one, which we can evidence with abundant proof; it is a scheme which, in effect, is unreliable in practice.

I suggested to Mr. Beebe that the Franchise Tax Commissioner's office be represented today by Mr. Arditto, its counsel, and he has certain things he would like to explain. Now, as to the amount of tax collected, there is no way by which the Franchise Tax Commissioner can determine with any degree of accuracy the amount of personal property taxes paid by other corporations. The commissioner is compelled, in an attempt to carry out his duties under the formula, to ascertain from other corporations in the form of a questionnaire attached to the income tax return, the amount of personal property tax paid. In a great many cases it doesn't make a particle of difference whether personal property is assessed as personal property or real property, and the assessors in many cases are not particularly careful to distinguish between what is real property and what is personal property, and in the counties in which it does make a difference it is to the interest of the taxpayer to have as much of his property listed as personal property and assessed as personal property, as possible. Now, the more property that is assessed as personal property, the more advantageous it is to him. While the banks are not permitted under the law, to see the returns upon which their rate is based, or to see the answers to the questionnaires on which their rate is based, the evidence disclosed in the hearings before the Franchise Tax Commissioner in 1941 and 1942 which any of you can read if you want—it comprises several volumes—shows, I think, beyond any question, that a great many of the corporations, and particularly those whose returns most vitally affect the banks' rate, make no attempt whatever to distinguish the personal property taxes from mineral rights, improvements and fixtures, particularly in the case of mineral rights. In 1941, we found only a few companies which distinguished between personal property tax and the tax on mineral rights, and the rate fixed by Congress for oil companies was very high. I know of one case where the Franchise Tax Commissioner was compelled from the very nature of the questionnaire, to rely on what information he could receive therefrom. I think many who read the hearings before the Franchise Tax Commissioner were convinced that the formula is impossible of application with any reasonable degree of accuracy.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, the banks are being taxed for the remainder of the duration, not on what rate was fixed by the Legislature, not even a rate fixed by the Franchise Tax Commissioner, but in effect a rate fixed by answers to questionnaires of third parties which we have no opportunity to examine; and the rate must, of necessity, be fixed by the Franchise Tax Commissioner each year before the returns of most corporations are even audited.

The position of the banks and building and loan associations is that any such method of taxation is in its very nature inequitable and unfair. The only reason advanced, or that can be advanced why banks should pay a higher rate of franchise tax than other corporations, is the fact that under Acts of Congress they can not be taxed upon their personal property.

Now, we assume, without conceding at all that an additional rate is at variance with Section 5219 of the Revised Statutes, and it is a question which can only be settled by the court—it is the position of the banks that any such high rate should bear some relation as close or equal as possible to the amount of the personal property tax which the banks would pay if they could be taxed on their personal property—not upon the amount of personal property owned by a department store or an oil company. Data prepared by the banks, assisted by a firm of certified public accountants, discloses that if the banks were taxed upon their tangible personal property, they would pay, in relation to their net income, a return of somewhere between one-half of 1 per cent and 1 per cent. For the year 1941 it would have been slightly under one-half of 1 per cent. Naturally, as income goes down the rate would rise correspondingly, but I think I am safe in saying the rate would normally exceed 1 per cent. Therefore, if an additional rate is to be imposed on banks to offset the fact that they are relieved of taxes on their personal property, it is our position—and I think one which you must consider, and anybody that wants to be fair, even to a bank—that the rate shouldn't exceed what we would pay if the State was in a position to tax our personal property. Now, I stress tangible personal property because I don't think anyone believes that cash in the bank vault should be taxed. * * *

Mr. Arditto: * * * if we didn't have Section 5219 to contend with, we could settle this question without much controversy. We would levy the same tax against a bank as we would any other corporation in the State. Of course, it is not the purpose or function of our office to delve into broad State tax policy. We want to make that clear. We realize, too, there are certain difficulties in amending Section 4a (of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act). We do know, at least we feel, that in the Tradesman case which was decided by the United States Supreme Court about two years ago, that Section 4a would be held to be constitutional, that is to say, insofar as Section 5219 (of the Revised Statutes) is involved. We would like to see this problem solved in some manner, but there are objections of having a flat rate on both. I think it clearly discriminates in favor of ordinary corporations. Such a plan would give banks a break against ordinary corporations. That is the objection to it. In other words, I think a committee like this is not particularly interested in tax equalization proposals—but you are entitled to make requests for tax equalization and tax reduction on the framework of the statutes and our Constitution. * * *

Mr. Patterson: Mr. Landels stated this morning that to ascertain the amount of personal property that was owned by these various corporations, was quite a difficult thing to do. What is your proposal for practical administration?

Mr. Arditto: There are two factors in the formula. We have the personal property tax on property and net income earned by corporations in the State. Ordinarily corporations file their returns—take this year—by March 15, 1943, and by December 31st we have to fix the rate.

Now, we have 28,000 corporations. We are behind in our auditing. I think we are up to 1939 or 1940. We fix the rates without taking into consideration adjustments we know are going to be made in future years. For instance, in 1944 we may levy an assessment against X corporation for $100. Mr. Landels and his people say that should be taken into consideration. Of course, one of the answers we have to that is it should be, and if you claim refund when you get that information, they will grant the refund.

Take the other side of the question. In instances you have various types of personal property throughout the State. Take fixtures, go from county to county—I am not speaking of any particular county, just using it as an example—one county might assess as personal property that table, and another assess it as an improvement. It appears on the rolls in one county as one thing, and something else in another. That is what we get into.

Take the bank's large wooden doors, that is personal property and could be taxed as personal property. Then also you have the bank vault doors. Some assessors might assess them as real property and some as personal property. Then, take for example, a power line—some county might assess that as real property and the Board of Equalization might assess it as personal property. What is our office going to do? There are 58 counties and one county might assess a particular item as real property and another as personal property. We would run up against the same proposition in fixing a flat rate, with an offset to which ordinary corporations would be entitled.

I think the committee could make a great deal more study on this problem than just sitting down and letting the counties take whatever position they might take on this question. I do believe the problem should be given consideration. I think this committee could well consider a recommendation that this be given consideration.

Mr. Beach Vasey

Deputy County Counsel of Los Angeles County

Mr. Vasey: I am Deputy County Counsel of Los Angeles County, but today I am here at the instigation of the County Supervisors' Association of the State of California merely to acquaint the members of this committee with the action that was taken yesterday by that group on one matter that vitally affects the general property tax in the various counties. The supervisors, of course, are directly in touch and directly and very vitally interested in the general property tax rate, and they have been seeking some means of keeping this general property tax in their counties from growing beyond the power of the general property taxpayers to bear, and in line with that policy they have decided at that convention, which just closed today, upon asking the Legislature to assist the general property taxpayer in this manner. One of the fastest growing elements in the general property tax rate has been the aged aid portion of their tax rate, and you know the proportion which is being paid now by the counties and the State; and they are asking the State to assume a larger portion of the aged aid cost, and they adopted this policy in that connection. They are going to ask the State Legislature to change the State's portion of the aged aid cost so that counties, instead of paying 50 per cent of the portion now left for the State and county together to pay, they are going to ask that the State assume a larger portion, so that the counties' portion will be 25 per cent rather than 50 per cent, as contrasted, of course, with the Federal Government's 50 per cent, with a top of $5 per case, and they have asked me to acquaint this committee with that action and program on their part. They have also handed to me a set of figures prepared by the officials of San Joaquin County, which gives for each county in the State the total amount that is now being paid both for direct aged aid and the administrative costs and the tax rate which that means for each county in the State, in order that you may have this information for any use you may desire to make of it.

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered:

By Messrs Potter and Call:

House Resolution No. 123

Relative to Lieutenant James Whittaker

WHEREAS, The American people have been deeply moved by the heroism and fortitude displayed by Captain Eddie Rickenbacker and others with him while adrift for 21 days in rubber life rafts after their plane was forced down in the Pacific; and WHEREAS, Lieutenant James Whittaker of Burlingame, California, was copilot of the lost plane, and one of the survivors whose conduct during the crash and the terrible days following won high praise from Captain Rickenbacker and is a source of pride to his fellow Californians; and

WHEREAS, Lieutenant Whittaker is well qualified to speak not only of the tragic adventures of those in the lost plane but to report upon the inspiring conduct of our soldiers who have died or are valiantly fighting both the enemy and the ravages of the Tropics throughout our island battle line; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That this Assembly extends to Lieutenant James Whittaker a cordial and urgent invitation to address this Assembly at a time convenient to him during the present session of the California Legislature; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to transmit a copy of this resolution to Lieutenant Whittaker inviting him to address this Assembly, and to Lieutenant Whittaker's commanding officer requesting him to grant Lieutenant Whittaker leave to address this Assembly; and be it further

Resolved, That when a date for such address is determined, the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is directed to invite the members of the Senate of the State of California to be the guests of this Assembly in the Assembly Chamber at the time of such address.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Mr. Potter asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 123, at this time, without reference to committee.

Resolution read and adopted.

By Mr. Doyle:

House Resolution No. 124

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That a committee consisting of Honorable Charles W. Lyon, Speaker of the Assembly, Honorable Thomas A. Maloney, Speaker pro tempore, and Honorable Mrs. Kathryn T. Niehouse, Assemblywoman, be appointed as a delegation to attend any public reception or gathering to be held in San Francisco in the near future in honor of Madame Chiang Kai-shek.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Mr. Doyle asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 124, at this time, without reference to committee.

Resolution read and adopted.

By Mr. Hastain:

House Resolution No. 125

WHEREAS, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard at a meat conference between the California Congressional Delegation, Secretary Wickard and Prentiss M. Brown, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, held in Washington, February 10, 1943, stated that "there are more animals being produced in this Country than ever before and the same is true of poultry. Production is going up steadily in pork"; and

WHEREAS, The Honorable Secretary of Agriculture stated that lease-lend and military requirements for 1943 would amount to approximately 8½ billion pounds of meat and that the estimated meat production for 1943 would be approximately 25 billion pounds; and

WHEREAS, The United States Department of Agriculture through its Bureau of Agricultural Economics in a document entitled "The National Food Situation" published in January of 1943 stated as follows:

"Assuming that the 1943 goals for meat production will be reached, the quantity of meat available for civilian consumption during the entire year may be about 138 pounds per capita (dressed weight). This quantity is greater than the average of other recent years and is equivalent to an average of about 2½ pounds (retail weight) per person per week. But in view of the large civilian demands for meat at the prevailing ceilings, meat rationing will be necessary to insure equitable distribution of this supply. Plans are now under way for such a program."

WHEREAS, It appears by the latest releases from Washington that the meat supply will exceed the estimate of the Secretary of Agriculture by approximately 1½ billion pounds, and that the requirement for military forces and lease-lend will increase in approximate ratio to the increase in total estimated meat production; and

WHEREAS, Other news releases indicate that the civilian allotment of meat under the rationing system to be instituted on April 1, 1943, will average about 1½ pounds of meat per person per week which is about 30 per cent less than January estimates; and

WHEREAS, Testimony before investigating committees of this Legislature demonstrates that the war effort is impeded by a lack of meat for the civilian population and by the uncertainty caused by the multifarious and conflicting statements of Federal agencies having jurisdiction of the problems relating to the food supply of this Nation; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, be and he is hereby respectfully requested to announce authoritatively to the people of this Nation the amount of meat that they may reasonably expect to receive under rationing and if it is less than the 2½ pounds per person per week that his department predicted in January would be available, to explain to the people of this State the necessity for the required reduction.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Mr. Hastain asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 125, at this time, without reference to committee.

Resolution read and adopted.

By Mr. Thomas:

House Resolution No. 126

WHEREAS, Sequoia was an outstanding man and an intelligent leader of the Cherokee Indian Nation, whose efforts were directed to the enlightenment and education of his people to the betterment of their living conditions, and who sponsored and fostered their cooperation with their white brethren; and

WHEREAS, His claim to fame rests on his development of a Cherokee alphabet, so simple that the Cherokee Indians were able to learn to read and write their language in a matter of days, and so powerful that within a span of a few brief years made it possible for an entire Indian nation to communicate the first time by written words. It was this alphabet that opened the doors to the white man's knowledge and made of the Cherokee Indians a civilized people, abandoning the chase and the warpath to literally "beat their tomahawks into plowshares, and their scalping knives into pruning hooks"; and

WHEREAS, No other native son of this United States is more deserving to be honored and cherished in memory by the people of the United States; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That a liberty ship be christened the "Sequoia" or "Sequoyah," as the United States Maritime Commission may decide proper, as a token of our esteem and appreciation to the memory of this great Indian; and be it further

Resolved, That the Clerk of the Assembly be directed to transmit copies of this resolution to the United States Maritime Commission, to Honorable Cecil R. King, Member of the House of Representatives at Washington, D. C. and to Sequoia Tribe No. 140 of the Improved Order of Redmen.

Request for Unanimous Consent

Mr. Thomas asked for, and was granted, unanimous consent to take up House Resolution No. 126, at this time, without reference to committee.

Resolution read and adopted.

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

Norman S. Buchanan, OPA Office

Furniture Mart Building, San Francisco, California

Four distributors out of twenty-five left in Imperial Valley. These have decided to quit, unless OPA raises ceiling price. Losing money and unable to continue under present ceilings. This will leave Imperial Valley cities in a hell of a fix for milk—when this happens, suggest you come down here to live. Looks as if OPA is trying to drive all dairy cattle to slaughterhouse. Many cows already slaughtered as result of blundering. Dairymen demanding relief.

DEAR MR LYON: Would like to have you announce the Sacramento meeting of our council, an affiliation of all Northern California mining associations, to be held this Tuesday evening, March 16th, 8 o'clock

We will need the assistance of Legislators to go into the matter of a number of mining bills that have been introduced

We would also like you to announce that Senator Scrugham of Nevada has been made chairman of a subcommittee on the United States Senate Committee to Investigate Small Business. His subcommittee will handle mining and he will be in California some time in April. His main objective will be to find out why the small mine operator is not participating in the mining of strategic minerals for the war effort, or why he is not being given an opportunity to do so. Our council has been asked to arrange his itinerary in Northern California and we would like the cooperation of Assembly Members in seeing that Senator Scrugham gets the information he wants. This matter will be on our program at the Sacramento meeting.

We understand that on the same evening (Tuesday) there is a reception to the new Sacramento City Manager, which we presume will be attended by a number of Legislators. We will be getting well into our program by the time that adjourns, say 9 p.m., when we will be glad to have the members come to the Chamber of Commerce Auditorium and sit in with us.

Thanking you for this announcement I remain,

Sincerely,

J. P. HALL, President
Western Mining Council

By the Chief Clerk:

MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Dunn moved that the following article from the Oakland Tribune of March 15th be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

A little boy was murdered in England the other day.

And his sob of terror was heard in a peaceful home on Seaborn Court in Alameda, its tiny echo relayed in a letter from his father to a life-long friend of the family.

The friend, Mrs. Cedric Leriche, has sent me a copy of the note and, while it is irrelevant to a column supposed to be dedicated to sport, I cannot refrain from printing it for, while I am a sports writer by profession, I am first a father.

"Dear Gracie," the letter begins, "We have lost Tony in an air raid. I know this is a terrible shock to you as it is to everybody who knew him.

"I feel I must put my thoughts on paper to you as being representative to us of the American people as a whole.

"This attack was a cold-blooded, deliberate slaughter of children. The aircraft flew at roof-top height straight for the school and dropped a bomb right in the middle. I expect you have heard about the school being bombed, but little did you think that two children you knew would be in it.

"Pat, fortunately, was hardly touched. She is in a hospital with a slight wound on her leg but otherwise is all right.

"These are the beastly people your country and mine are up against. Inhuman, barbarous, fiendish brutes who think that by murdering little children they will break our morale so that we will want peace at any price.

"But they have made yet another mistake as our morale is stronger than ever and I, in company with the other parents of children killed (the casualty list is about 50 dead and 70 injured) are at least one section of the community that is going to see this terrible war through until the Germans and their satellites are smashed once and for all time with no possible chance or resurrection, as they had in the last war, to do the same thing again.

"I am sorry to be running on like this but I am trying to let you see the sort of war we are fighting on this side of the Atlantic so that perhaps you can convince your friends what we are all up against.

'Like a Man'

"Of one thing I am proud: My son was only nine years old but he wasn't afraid of air raids, or anything, for that matter. In fact, we had a raid on Sunday, January 17, and when it was at its height, he said to his mother, 'Mummy, you won't send me back to the country, will you?'

"May assured him she wouldn't and he answered, 'Good, then we can still have fun.'

"By all these things that we know of him, we also know that the bomb that killed him did not frighten him and that he died like a good soldier should—on the battlefield and like a man. This happened at 12.30 midday, January 20, 1943.

"You must excuse May if she does not write to you very promptly but she is rather overcome with grief for her bright, happy and helpful little son, who had become such a willing little helpmate to her.

"He used to get coals for her, put the black-out into position, wash dishes, lay the table for tea, and he was just beginning to play the piano so nicely. We had even got to the state where we were looking ahead to his being educated at St. Dunstan's or some equally good school. Instead, he has been taken from us by a murderous ruffian named Hitler.

"We like to think now that our little boy is in heaven, that he is watching us to see that we look after his little sister, darling little Pat, who has been left with us as if by a miracle to comfort us and keep us sane during the next few months.

"We both know we shall recover from this terrible blow but we also know that however long we live we shall remember our little boy and also the swine who were responsible for his death so that when this war is over and people say, 'Well that's that, now let's be friends with Germany,' we know what our answer will be."

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Maloney:

The following communication was received, read, and upon request of Messrs. Maloney, Johnson, Carlson, and Wollenberg, ordered printed in the Journal:

PACIFIC COAST COMMITTEE ON AMERICAN PRINCIPLES AND FAIR PLAY

*Mr. Thomas A. Maloney, Assemblyman
Capitol Building, Sacramento, California*

MY DEAR MR. MALONEY: Your initial acts as a Legislator have indicated to the people of this State that you regard this session as extraordinary. The standards which guide your decisions, and by which your decisions will be measured, are set above those of ordinary times. We note with satisfaction the evidences that you appreciate this state of affairs.

Recognizing that, in times of acute stress, people are led easily into the advocacy of extreme and even dangerous measures which in calmer days would find little support, and that safeguards must be taken, we have formed this Committee on American Principles and Fair Play. Our purpose is to support the principles enunciated in the Constitution, and to that end to maintain unimpaired the liberties guaranteed in the Bill of Rights. As a West Coast body, the committee recognizes its distinctive obligation, for the protection of all of us, to defend the liberties of law-abiding persons of Oriental ancestry. Against the background of our Nation at war we believe that public impulses resulting from inflamed passions hastily crystallized into ill-considered legislation prior to the peace to be established with the peoples of the Orient, are to be distrusted, and that any proposals for such legislation should be carefully examined.

We are prepared to assist you in your manifest intention, as a Legislator, to act, not in terms of partisanship, but on the level of statesmanship which this crisis of our Nation and of the entire world requires.

Sincerely yours,

MAURICE E. HARRISON, Chairman
ARTHUR CUSHMAN McGIFFERT, Executive Chairman
RUTH W. KINGMAN

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Messrs. Bashore, Hastain, and Lowrey:

House Resolution No. 127

Relating to the imposition of ceiling prices on live stock on the hoof

WHEREAS, There has been scheduled a hearing in Washington for the purpose of determining whether or not the Secretary of Agriculture will impose and the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration will enforce ceiling prices on live stock on the hoof; and

WHEREAS, It is the opinion of the Senate of the State of California that the imposition of said ceiling prices on live stock on the hoof will not only result in chaos and require a complete revolution in existing methods of marketing live stock but will discourage production, encourage black markets and further reduce the limited supply of live stock for consumption in California; and

WHEREAS, The imposition of such ceiling prices on live stock on the hoof to be even partially effective will require an army of law enforcement officials and result in multiplying the ever increasing regulations under which producers, slaughterers, wholesalers and retailers are now required to operate, with a consequent loss of man power which should be devoted either to production of live stock or of other material necessary to the war effort; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California. Telegram from Germain Bulcke

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, March 12, 1943

California State Assembly, Sacramento, California

This organization requests you oppose the invitation to Eddie Rickenbacker to address California Legislature. His speeches constitute an attack against labor, promote disunity, and are therefore harmful to the war effort. The Office of War Information has repudiated his recent speeches, and the Army has made it clear that he is speaking only as a private citizen.

GERMAIN BULCKE, President
Warehousemen's Union, Local 1-10

Remarks by Mr. Call

Mr. Speaker: I wish to ask that a telegram I hold in my hand be printed in the Journal, and before making the motion I wish to read the telegram so the members may be apprised of its contents.

SAN FRANCISCO, CALIFORNIA, March 12, 1943

California State Assembly, Sacramento, California

This organization requests you oppose the invitation to Eddie Rickenbacker to address California Legislature. His speeches constitute an attack against labor, promote disunity, and are therefore harmful to the war effort. The Office of War Information has repudiated his recent speeches, and the Army has made it clear that he is speaking only as a private citizen.

GERMAIN BULCKE, President
Warehousemen's Union, Local 1-10

This telegram is signed by Mr. Germain Bulcke, as President of the Longshoremen and Warehousemen's International, affiliated with the C. I. O. Mr. Bulcke is also a member of the Fish and Game Commission of this State.

It was sent in the hope it would assist in denying to Captain Eddie Rickenbacker, an outstanding hero of not only this but the previous World War, the privilege of speaking before his own Legislature; and to prevent this House the privilege of hearing this great American, who has done, and is doing so much to aid his Country. This great hero, who on so many occasions, has risked his life in its defense, and who only recently, while on a particularly hazardous mission, was forced down at sea, and was saved only by the grace of Providence.

This telegram was sent by this pseudo labor leader who no doubt has always demanded the right of free speech for his own ilk but denies it to any who do not agree with his doctrines, and was no doubt engendered or motivated by the same impulse that caused one Leavit in Los Angeles recently to refer to Captain Rickenbacker as the All-American rat, and who said it was too bad he was saved to return to this Country.

It is to be noted that the speeches made by Captain Rickenbacker, to which objection is made, were made in behalf of the war effort, particularly in an attempt to reduce absenteeism, an evil plaguing all who have charge of this great activity.

The rank and file of labor do not follow such false leaders, and such acts as these should make everyone rise in righteous and patriotic indignation and protest. Anyone making such statement or sending such telegrams is more interested in the C. I. O. than the U S A.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS IN JOURNAL

Mr. Doyle moved that the following remarks by Mr. Maloney, relative to the telegram from Germain Bulcke, be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Remarks by Mr. Maloney

As one of the members of this body who received telegrams from Mr. Germain Bulcke, President of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, Local 1-10, and from Mr. C. G. Quirey, Secretary Treasurer of Warehousemen's Union, Local 6, San Francisco, protesting against the appearance of Mr. Rickenbacker before the Legislature, may I say that I am in favor of the motion to print the telegram in the Journal?

I have been asked the question as to whether or not these telegrams were sent from an action of the members in meeting assembled, or whether they were sent by the officials whose names were attached. That I can not answer, as I have no knowledge of what action was taken outside of the language contained in the telegrams.

Had the telegrams reached me before the resolution was adopted my vote would have been the same—that is, to invite him, not to talk upon the labor movement, but as one of America's outstanding heroes of this war, and of the last war, where all of his fighting was done to preserve American principles and democracy.

I am at liberty to state that Mr. Cornelius Haggerty, President of the California State Federation of Labor, has informed me that these telegrams did not originate from the official labor movement of California, but are the act or acts of individuals and organizations within themselves.

Organized labor believes in the fundamental rights of every citizen and in the fundamentals contained in our Constitution, which provides for the right of free speech; and I am sure that, if Captain Rickenbacker has made remarks disliked by members of the organized labor movement, the movement under the laws of this Country has the right, if it so desires, to disagree with his remarks; and regardless of disagreements, the Legislature could, and so did, invite this splendid man to address the members on his experience in this dreadful war which is now raging.

I have some of my own now in the military service of this Country and, joining with the President and others in this Country, I believe that some of the issues which brought about the presentation of these telegrams could be taken care of in a way that would not stop the actual prosecution of the war.

MOTION TO PRINT REMARKS IN JOURNAL

Mr. Dunn moved that the following remarks by Mr. McMillan, relative to the telegram from German Bulcke, be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Remarks by Mr. McMillan

Mr. Speaker and Members of the Assembly

Why all this commotion over a simple little telegram from a citizen of this State requesting a Member of the Assembly to vote a particular way on a proposed resolution? While I am a new member, such requests are already very common to me. I have already received at least 50 letters and telegrams requesting my vote for or against proposed legislation. Some bordering on the verge of a threat. Other members have received similar requests, and they are all accepted graciously. So why should an issue be made of this particular wire from a leader of organized labor? Could it be part of a conspiracy against labor?

While I did not receive a wire from Mr. Bulcke myself, I understand it requests a certain Member of the Assembly to vote against a resolution to invite Colonel Rickenbacker to appear before this Assembly. I did not vote on the resolution myself because I was not sure in my own mind that his appearance here would contribute to the war effort, and bringing this war to an early and victorious conclusion is my primary concern in being here. Not attempting to argue the merits of the communication in question, I do contend that it is still the right and privilege of any citizen or organization in this great State to petition the Legislature or any member thereof, on any matter under consideration, and I shall continue to fight for the preservation of this right. And in conclusion, I might add that if there is no ulterior motive involved in making an issue of this particular request, it is at least a glaring display of poor sportsmanship, and I urge a "no" vote on this motion.

Bless all the humanitarian efforts in which our people now engage, especially the work of the Red Cross—its sign and symbol, the mercy of our Saviour.

Help us ever to remain true to the historic ideals of our Country—integrity, justice and unselfish service to the people of the world.

“Faith of our fathers, living still
In spite of dungeon, fire and sword
O how our hearts beat high with joy,
Whene'er we hear that glorious word!
Faith of our fathers! we will love,
Both friend and foe in all our strife;
And preach Thee, too, as love knows how,
By kindly words and virtuous life.”

MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Bashore moved that the following release from the International News Service Bureau dated March 17th, be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

WASHINGTON, March 17—(INS)—Even if lend-lease and the armed forces took no American beef, there would still be a beef shortage, Food Distribution Administrator Roy F. Hendrickson said today.

At the same time, Hendrickson admitted in an exclusive interview that milk rationing "may be ultimately necessary."

If milk rationing is instituted, he said, the individual milk quota could not be automatically set for the whole country. Instead, milk rationing would have to be established in each milk-shed with the milk allotment for each consumer determined by conditions in the shed. Thus, New York might have a different ration than Boston or Chicago.

This is true, Hendrickson said, because fluid milk, a perishable commodity, can not be divided up equally among the Nation's consumers, as are canned goods, coffee, and other rationed products.

The beef shortage, Hendrickson asserted, is not due to a drop in cattle production or slaughtering or to Government purchases, but to the abnormal food demand. Therefore, if Government meat buying were to be stopped, there still would be a "beef situation."

As national income goes up, he said, the demand for food goes up—and the national income will continue to rise.

Price ceilings hold down the cost of foodstuffs, said the man charged by Food Administrator Wickard with the task of properly distributing America's food. Further, dwindling civilian supplies of other commodities cause the people to buy more food.

"You can not blame the American people for wanting more food," he said.

"The present situation is the greatest proof we have ever had that the trouble with our farm economy has never been overproduction, but underconsumption."

MOTION TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr. Hawkins moved that the following article from the Sacramento Bee of March 16th be printed in the Journal:

Motion carried.

Black Market Aid

Representatives of the wholesale meat packing industry in Sacramento report there is ample live stock in California to meet normal consumer demands for fresh meat.

Why then the meat shortage?

The difficulty is that while the Office of Price Administration has fixed a ceiling price on what the wholesale butcher can charge for meat, it has failed to put any ceiling on the price of beef, hogs, mutton, etc., on the hoof.

This is an impossible situation.

In some cases, the price of live stock on the hoof already exceeds the ceiling imposed on the finished product.

Consequently, the meat packing plants not only must operate without a profit, but also at an actual loss. As Robert Swanston, Jr., of Sacramento, an official of one of the largest wholesale meat plants in Superior California, puts it:

You can't stay in business selling below cost. If the Federal Government insists upon price regulations the only way to solve the problem is to start with cattle, set a ceiling price there, and go on right through the industry, regulating retail sales in proportion to wholesale ceilings.

The black market conditions are directly due to the present handling of the price setup. A legitimate wholesaler can not break even.

Swanston produced office records to show that cattle purchased of late by his firm cost from 26 to 27 cents per pound while the highest price the wholesaler can charge in selling the same is 24 cents per pound. The ceiling on wholesale beef ranges from 19 cents a pound for utility beef to 24 cents for choice meat.

If ceilings are necessary to keep meat costs from climbing to dizzy heights, they must apply to the animals on the hoof as well as to the carcass in the refrigerator. That is fundamental and it also is common sense.

By HARRY A. HAMMOND, Assistant Secretary

FIRST READING AND REFERENCE OF SENATE BILLS (RESUMED)

The following resolution was read:

Senate Joint Resolution No. 18—Relative to the construction of a dam on the Stanislaus River.

Referred to Committee on Conservation, Natural Resources, and Planning.

RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. McCollister:

House Resolution No. 131

WHEREAS, Wartime rationing and the reduction of the available supply of consumers' goods have seriously reduced the volume of business of many retail merchants; and

WHEREAS, The item of real property taxation is of great importance to the small, independent businessman who conducts his business on his premises and with little or no capital reserve; and

WHEREAS, While the Constitution and the laws of the State require that property be assessed at its true value, it is the practice of some assessors simply to adopt the valuation placed upon property in previous years, with little or no consideration of the changing condition affecting the business carried on in such property; and

WHEREAS, It is highly important to the State of California that the small businessmen of the State be given every opportunity to survive and to continue to serve the needs of their communities; and

WHEREAS, The imposition of inequitable real property taxes would, in many instances, operate to put out of business many individuals who otherwise would be able to continue to operate; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That "small" business is an integral part of the life of the people of this State and that due care should be taken that no unfair and unnecessary burden be placed upon the "small" businessman particularly at a time when war conditions are imposing handicaps which are almost unsurmountable; and be it further

Resolved, That every public official charged with the duty of assessing property for taxation purposes is hereby requested and urged to give his consideration to the matters hereinabove set forth and to be particularly careful in assessing business property to consider and give proper weight to the impact of war conditions upon the business conducted on such property, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly is hereby directed to cause to be transmitted a copy of this resolution to the assessors of each county, city and county, and incorporated city within the State of California

Resolution read, and referred to Committee on Rules and House Functions

Program Covering All, Birth-to-Grave, Urged on Congress
U. S. Share, Labor Voice in Business Proposed

By WILLIAM T. PEACOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, MARCH 10—President Roosevelt today laid before Congress a vast new cradle to grave program of social security and a blueprint of a postwar America in which the Government would be in partnership with many businesses and labor would share in industrial management.

President Roosevelt asked "full consideration" at this Congressional session of the steps proposed. In a letter of transmittal, he told Congress:

"We fight today for security for our Nation and at the same time we can endeavor to give our citizens and their families security against attacks from without, and against fear of economic distress in old age, in poverty, sickness, involuntary unemployment and accidental injuries. We need to look forward to the accomplishment of these objectives—world peace, democratic society and dynamic economy."

The proposals are contained in two reports. The one dealing with Social Security is entitled "Security, Work and Relief Policies." Somewhat larger in format than the average metropolitan telephone directory, it is 640 pages long, printed in double columns on slick paper.

Expanded Program

The second document was entitled "National Resources Development—Report For 1943" and in some respects took on the nature of a supplement to the first. Thus it suggested that "equal access to education" should be a postwar aim, adding that on the college level this might be attained by grants to students or through giving work opportunities to students.

"Security, Work and Relief Policies" reviews the general history of relief and Social Security for the past ten years and makes these specific recommendations as to social insurance.

1—A new insurance to provide "at least partial compensation for loss of income attributable to permanent or temporary disability."

2—Expansion of unemployment compensation to seamen, employes of non-profit corporations and of firms employing one worker or more. (It was suggested that the feasibility of a separate system for "domestic, agricultural and other low paid employment" should be considered.)

3—Uniform unemployment benefits for a period of twenty-six weeks for all eligible workers. (The size and length of benefits vary at present from State to State.)

4—A wholly Federal administrative organization for unemployment insurance, instead of the present Federal-State setup, and a single national unemployment compensation fund.

5—Extension of old age and survivors insurance to employes of non-profit corporations, with other noncovered groups brought in "as rapidly as it can be demonstrated that they will receive adequate or significant benefits."

6—"Immediate action by Government in cooperation with the medical profession to formulate plans which enable the patient to budget expenses over a reasonable period and to contribute toward the costs of care according to his ability, and which at the same time assure to medical personnel a decent livelihood commensurate with the high costs of their professional training."

System of Hospitals

The board also made these suggestions in the field of health.

"Federal appropriations to aid States and localities in developing a system of regional and local hospitals and health centers covering all parts of the country.

"Expansion and improvement of public medical care for needy persons through larger appropriations and through increased cooperation by and with the medical and dental professions."

In general, the report proposed that the Federal security administration be given departmental status in the Government with its head having the status of a Cabinet officer. It set forth as objectives of public aid policy:

"1—Increasing emphasis upon policies aiming at the prevention of economic insecurity through a fuller utilization of our productive resources, including labor, and by more comprehensive measures to improve the health of our people.

"2—Government provision of work for all adults who are willing and able to work, if private industry is unable to provide employment.

"3—Appropriate measures to equip young persons beyond the compulsory school attendance age for assuming the full responsibility of citizenship.

"4—Assurance of basic minimum security through social insurance, so far as possible.

"5—Establishment of a comprehensive underpinning general public assistance system providing aid on the basis of need, to complete the framework of protection against economic insecurity.

"6—Expansion of social services which are essential for the health, welfare, and efficiency of the whole population; this expansion should be as wide and as rapid as possible."

To carry out these objectives, aside from the increased insurance program, it proposed:

A Federal works agency "established on a permanent basis" charged with responsibility for developing and operating public works programs. Work projects, it said, should be suited to the community and the performance required of workers and the pay should be equal to those in private industry.

Many-Sided System

Combination of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the National Youth Administration into a "unified administration" to direct a many-sided youth program providing Federal grants to those needing it for education, counselors for young people, and programs stressing "the inculcation of work habits and disciplines and familiarity with the use of a variety of tools."

Further study, it was recommended, should be given to development of therapeutic work programs for those with special physical and mental handicaps.

As for general public assistance, it was proposed that these plans be placed on "a basis reflecting differences in need and economic and fiscal capacity as between the States." Thus the Federal Government would pay a larger share, for instance, of old age assistance in a poor State than in a wealthy one instead of basing Federal aid on the amount provided by the State.

Haste Recommended

In the field of public social services, the provision of essential medical care, including "promoting the health of mothers and children," was stressed. Also recommended were free lunches for school children, and distribution of surplus commodities by the stamp plan to the "entire low-income population."

"Some may urge that such a program must be set aside until the war emergency is ended. But to postpone until the war is over will be too late. We should move now on the major changes needed to set our house in order."

Authors of Report

The report was prepared for the board by a special committee consisting of William Haber, chairman, professor of economics, University of Michigan; Will W. Alexander, former administrator, Farm Security Administration; C. M. Bookman, executive vice chairman, Community Chest of Cincinnati; Corrington Gill, former assistant commissioner, Federal Work Projects Administration; the Rt. Rev. Francis J. Haas, dean, School of Science, the Catholic University of America; Fred K. Hoehler, executive director, American Public Welfare Association; Katharine F. Lenroot, chief, Children's Bureau, Department of Labor; Mary E. Switzer, assistant to the administrator, Federal Security Agency, and T. J. Woolfer, Jr., director of research, Federal Security Agency.

Director of research for the study was Dr. Eveline M. Burns, a former member of the graduate faculty of Columbia University.

MOTION TO PRINT COMMITTEE REPORT IN JOURNAL

Mr. O'Day moved that the following Report of the Committee Investigating Camps for Juvenile Delinquents be printed in the Journal.

Mr. McColhster seconded the motion.

Motion carried.

Report of Committee Investigating Camps for Juvenile Delinquents

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 89, the Assembly Interim Committee on Camps for Juvenile Delinquents makes the following report to the California Assembly.

Purposes of the Committee and Historical Background

During March, 1941, Assemblyman Edward F. O'Day introduced Assembly Bill No. 2569 which was an act to provide employment, correctional and vocational training of juvenile delinquents and first offenders.

The bill provided that the State Forester should establish camps, using the facilities of the unoccupied Civilian Conservation Corps camps, many of which were in the State, for the purpose of carrying out the intent of the act.

Dayton E. Jones, now Captain Dayton E. Jones of the United States Army Air Corps, was the CCC Director for the State of California at the time, and he inspired this movement and gathered statistical information concerning the proposed use of the aforementioned camps. The committee is indebted to him for the valuable assistance and advice he gave to the members during their investigation of this problem.

The Assembly refused passage of Assembly Bill No. 2569 because there was insufficient information available concerning the entire program. The Assembly thereafter created this committee and directed it to obtain information concerning the subject matter. This report contains the information acquired by the committee, and also its recommendations.

Committee Activities

Originally, this committee was composed of five members, appointed by the Honorable Gordon H. Garland, Speaker of the Assembly, 1941. The members were, Assemblymen Edward F. O'Day, Chairman; Lorne D. Middough, Vice Chairman; Augustus F. Hawkins, John B. Knight, and M. G. Del Murolo. Upon the convening of the 1943 Session of the Legislature, the Honorable Charles W. Lyon, Speaker of the Assembly, appointed a new committee, consisting of Assemblymen Augustus F. Hawkins, Charles M. Weber, Lorne D. Middough, Edward M. Gaffney, and Edward F. O'Day.

The committee met in San Diego, February, 1942, and there held public hearings. The representative citizenry of San Diego, including judges, welfare workers, probation officers, school department personnel, and others, appeared before the committee, and the experiences of San Diego County in connection with its forestry camp located at Mount Woodson were related to the committee. The committee then adjourned to Mount Woodson and made a personal investigation of the conditions of the Juvenile Delinquents' Forestry Camp maintained by the county.

Other public hearings were held in Long Beach, Los Angeles, and San Francisco, where interested officials and citizens appeared before the committee and advised with the committee concerning the problem.

The committee members held conferences with the members of the California Youth Correction Authority and discussed fully with them the entire program.

Facts Gathered by the Committee

(a) Toward the latter part of 1941, there were available some 27 CCC camp sites. These camps became unoccupied by the Civilian Conservation Corps because of a general diminishing of its activities. They are situated in the mountains of the State.

(b) Since December 7, 1941, the Army has taken over, for their use, most of these camps and they are not now available. When the CCC had these camps they performed considerable beneficial service to the State, such as,

- (1) Making firebreaks
- (2) Road and trail improvements.
- (3) Blister rust control, etc.

(c) At present, the State Division of Forestry has a number of camps that are suitable for the purpose of rehabilitating delinquent youths, and they are situated similarly to the aforementioned CCC camps.

(d) The Youth Correction Authority has power, under its act, to construct and maintain camps, and carry out the purposes of the aforementioned Assembly Bill No. 2569.

(e) The State, under the control of the Department of Finance, and the State Guard, has much equipment on hand suitable for the purposes of equipping camps similar to the CCC camps.

(f) The Youth Correction Authority will have jurisdiction over all persons under 23 years of age who are convicted of crimes in California. There are now in our jails, reformatories, and prisons, approximately 3500 youths between the ages of 17 and 23, a great number of whom are suitable to do the work formerly done by the CCC, and who would be benefited if such a project were created.

(g) The approximate cost of operation of this type of camp is $2.50 per capita, per day, which includes a payment to the inmates of 50 cents per day.

Benefits to the State Under Such a Program

(a) Under a camp rehabilitation program, it is the consensus of opinion, of those who appeared before the committee, that the benefit to the State will be great, particularly during the present emergency because of the manpower shortage. This type of program will result in

- (1) Conservation of watersheds
- (2) Conservation of natural resources.
- (3) Flood prevention.
- (4) Reforestation.
- (5) Tree rehabilitation
- (6) Many other related projects being maintained.

(b) There is a possibility of fires being started through enemy action. Fire watchers are vitally necessary, and they can be supplied through this type of program.

(c) The saving to the taxpayer becomes obvious when we consider the benefits received by the State.

Benefits to Youths

(a) It is the considered opinion of the committee that the establishment of camps, patterned after CCC camps, in the healthful atmosphere of the mountains, would be a progressive step in the right direction, for dealing with juvenile delinquents and first offenders, for the following reasons:

- (1) They would be separated from boys of a more vicious type, and from boys of continuous records of offenses who are at present in State institutions.
- (2) The San Francisco juvenile authorities report a very high percentage of rehabilitation from those boys sent to the farm endowed by private funds, and San Diego County Forestry Camps for youthful offenders have proven very successful.
- (3) The general atmosphere, the outdoor life, the compensation received by the boys, and the realization that they are doing a constructive job for society, will rebuild the moral fiber of the youths sent to these camps.
- (4) Schools may be established and education provided for through contracts made with the county wherein the camps are situated.
- (5) Youths may be instructed in many useful occupations while inmates of such camps.

Recommendations of the Committee

(a) It is recommended by this committee that the California Youth Correction Authority be provided with funds, earmarked for the purpose of establishing camps in suitable places in the mountainous areas of California, and that the Division of Forestry be placed in charge of the work to be performed by the inmates of the said camps.

(b) The committee recommends that no further legislation be enacted, as the present law is sufficiently broad, to permit the establishment of camps under the direction of the California Youth Correction Authority.

(c) The committee recommends that the California Youth Correction Authority be the selecting agency for the purpose of classifying what individuals may be sent to these camps, in lieu of remaining in jails, reformatories, etc.

(d) The committee recommends that serious felony cases, chronic escape cases, sex cases, psychopathic cases, and feeble-minded cases be not permitted to become inmates of these camps.

(e) The committee recommends that further study be made, for the purpose of considering the advisability of establishing camps in sites, not too far removed from the agricultural areas, so that, during the present emergency, the inmates may be able to assist in the harvesting of the crops of the State.

(f) The committee recommends that further study of the juvenile delinquency problem be made by the Legislature. Juvenile delinquency, it is reported to the committee, has increased beyond all expected proportions during the present emergency.

Conclusion

The committee has directed a letter to the officials of the various counties and cities of the State of California, a copy of which is attached to this report. The letter requests further information concerning the increase of juvenile delinquency. The response from this letter, to the date of the report, is attached hereto.

Respectfully submitted.

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING CAMPS FOR JUVENILE DELINQUENTS

STATE CAPITOL, February 11, 1943

DEAR SIR:

This is to advise you that the Assembly Committee Investigating Juvenile Delinquency is preparing a report to the Legislature recommending the unoccupied forestry camps situated throughout the State of California, be used for the purpose of rehabilitating youths convicted of minor crimes, and who are now incarcerated in the various prisons and reformatories throughout the State.

During the course of our investigation, in connection with the above mentioned problem, we have been informed that there has, since December 7, 1941, been a sharp increase in juvenile delinquency throughout the State of California. The committee is definitely interested in this problem, and would appreciate an expression from you as to the condition of juvenile delinquency in your county during the past year.

We are also desirous of ascertaining from you whether or not you have suggestions that may reduce the mounting delinquency in your county, if any exists, and whether you feel that the Legislature could, by enacting laws, assist in reducing juvenile delinquency.

Your expression and cooperation will be appreciated by the committee.

CITY OF EL MONTI, CALIFORNIA, March 1, 1943

Mr. Edward F. O'Day

Chairman Interim Committee
Investigating Camps for Juvenile Delinquents
State Capitol Building, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. O'DAY: Replying to your letter of February 11th, I beg leave to advise that we can not place too much emphasis on our approval of the proposed recommendation of your committee to use unoccupied forestry camps for the purpose of rehabilitating our youthful offenders.

This department, along with all enforcement agencies, has often been discouraged by having our juvenile delinquents returned to our community without the proper disciplinary action being assessed, because of inadequate facilities to care for them properly elsewhere. Leastwise, this has been the conclusion of our juvenile people. This condition, naturally, has created an utter lack of appreciation for the effectiveness of the law and the delinquent often is emboldened to pursue and to influence others in continued violations and infractions. Thus, your proposal to a great extent alleviates the sad conditions now existing and the courts, realizing the corrective values of such establishments, will no longer be reluctant to deal properly and effectively with the offender.

I am confident that I speak for many of the enforcement agencies when I wish for your committee and yourself the success your proposal so richly deserves.

Very truly yours,

CARL VONN, Chief of Police of El Monte

COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES, OFFICE OF PUBLIC DEFENDER
LOS ANGELES, CALIFORNIA, March 3, 1943

The Honorable Edward F. O'Day
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

MY DEAR MR. O'DAY: Your letter of February 11th addressed to Judge Robert H. Scott of this county has been given by Judge Scott to me with the request that I also take the liberty of addressing your committee with relation to the subject matter of the letter.

I understand that the Legislature, or at least your committee, has under consideration the use of the unoccupied forestry camps throughout the State, for the purpose of rehabilitating youths who have been convicted of minor criminal offenses. Anyone who had the opportunity to observe juvenile delinquency and our youth problem would be highly in favor of this procedure. The forestry camp is probably the best method yet devised for controlling and correcting juvenile delinquency.

My particular suggestion to you in this connection would be that said forestry camps be turned over to the Youth Correction Authority as a part of their facilities. The Youth Correction Authority has the right under the law to engage in contracts with practically any and all of the county or State institutions for the purpose of placing their wards in the desired environment; but, having some such facilities of their own might be a more efficient and more economical method of operation. I pass this on to you as a suggestion.

Very sincerely yours,

FRANKLIN PADAN, Chief Deputy Public Defender

DEAR SIR: Our board of city councilmen approve the recommendation of the Committee Investigating Juvenile Delinquency that the unoccupied forestry camps be used for rehabilitating youths convicted of minor crimes.

They suggest light farm work for at least part time, might also be a good thing for these same boys.

Yours truly,

LOLA O. McCOLM, City Clerk

ALAMEDA COUNTY, JUVENILE COURT AND PROBATION OFFICE
OAKLAND, CALIFORNIA, March 10, 1943

Hon. Edward F. O'Day, Chairman, Assembly Interim Committee
Investigating Camps for Juvenile Delinquents
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: I am inclosing herewith statistics which show the comparative number of juvenile delinquency cases for 1941 and 1942 as recorded by the Probation Department of Alameda County. These statistics are broken down into: (1) Probation office intake, which is the over-all picture; (2) Detention home admissions; (3) New cases in which petitions were filed in the juvenile court; and (4) Juvenile court dispositions of delinquent wards as such dispositions existed on January 31, 1942 and 1943, respectively.

The figures submitted indicate a very definite rise in the juvenile delinquency rate in this county during the past year as compared to the preceding year. This increase did not become definitely apparent until about the month of May, 1942. It has continued during all the succeeding months.

The need for custodial facilities for those wards of the court who do not respond to noncustodial methods of treatment is becoming more and more acute. There has been noted a definite increase in this group of wards, which is reflected to some extent in the increase indicated on the inclosed chart showing commitments to State schools and private institutions. The State schools have been running to full capacity for some time. Private institutions are being filled by children placed by parents who are securing employment and who desire a substitute supervision for their children while they are away from home. Our foster home program for delinquent wards is losing many of its homes because foster parents are turning to more remunerative activities. The result is that the 24-hour custodial service which certain wards of the juvenile court require for their own welfare and that of the community is now very greatly limited.

It is gratifying to note that your committee is recommending that the presently unoccupied forestry camps in the State be used to provide the custodial service required by the juvenile courts, and by other courts as well, in the effort to rehabilitate the young people brought to their attention because of delinquent or criminal conduct. There is no doubt but that these camps will provide an opportunity for the administration of a program of training, work, and other activities which should pay big dividends in the development of good citizenship.

Trusting that the information herein submitted may be of some value, I am

Respectfully yours,

O. F. SNEDIGAR, Probation Officer

State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. O'DAY: I am in receipt of your letter of February 11, 1943, referring to the investigation of juvenile delinquency throughout the State of California.

I am heartily in favor of your committee making this thorough investigation. Our peace officers report an increase in juvenile delinquency during the past several months. I am sure the entire citizenry of the State of California will appreciate anything you can do to reduce juvenile delinquency.

DEAR MR. O'DAY: This in reply to your letter of February 11th.

There has been a material increase in this location in juvenile delinquency, particularly petit theft.

Believe the proposed recommendation to the Legislature to use unoccupied forestry camps for purpose of rehabilitating youths convicted of minor crimes, an excellent move.

You may count on my full cooperation.

ATTENTION: Mr. Edward F. O'Day, Chairman

GENTLEMEN: In response to your recent communication in re use of unoccupied forestry camps for the purpose of youth rehabilitation, you will please be advised that in my opinion the use of the camps in question would be a definite aid in cutting and correcting juvenile delinquency; provided that proper and understanding supervision could be obtained.

The locations of the camps referred to are such as to bring the boys in contact, many of them for the first time, with the grandeur and serenity of Nature in her quiet moments, and with her unbridled fury in times of storm. Undoubtedly some of the boys would be impressed with life under such circumstances and would adapt themselves to a better relation with society. Proper supervision, however, I can not stress too strongly, as even in the finest environments, which ordinarily would be conducive of the highest ideals and give rise to the finer emotions, improper supervision or careless administration could spoil the lot.

As city attorney for four cities, I naturally received four of your letters, one addressed to each city, but I am making this one reply on behalf of all.

Yours very truly,

CLYDE WOODWORTH
City Attorney for the Cities of

DEPARTMENT OF POLICE

*Mr. Edward F. O'Day, Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: In regards to your letter of March 6th in regards to juvenile delinquency, I wish to state that we have found that juvenile delinquency has increased very fast during the last year, in fact we have had six cases of this kind during the last three weeks.

I think it would be a good thing to use forestry camps for the rehabilitating of youths convicted of minor crimes.

I believe the Legislature should enact laws that will assist in reducing delinquency as I think you will agree it is a State problem.

At the present time, most cities have ordinances requiring children to be off the public streets by 10 p.m. These ordinances are hard to enforce due to the fact that the local police court can not hear these cases.

In this city and many others, we have to take the child who violates this ordinance to the juvenile court at Modesto, the county seat.

I believe the law should be changed to allow all misdemeanor juvenile cases to be taken into either the city or justice court.

Yours truly,

E. W. GADDY, Chief of Police

GENTLEMEN: I have your letter dated February 11, 1943, relative to your investigation of juvenile delinquency, and I note what you have to say.

In reply, I beg to state that I have very definite views on the so-called juvenile delinquency. It would be impossible for me to state them fully in a letter. Should your committee have a meeting in this county, or any other place where I might attend, I would be glad to give my views to you verbally and fully.

I have had about 15 years in handling boys in this community. I will be glad to cooperate with you in any way I can and render whatever assistance possible.

POLICE DEPARTMENT, THE CITY OF SAN DIEGO
SAN DIEGO, CALIFORNIA, March 9, 1943

*Mr. Edward F. O'Day, Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee, Sacramento, California*

DEAR SIR: With reference to your communication regarding the investigations being conducted pertaining to camps for juvenile delinquents, I have the following:

Juvenile delinquency in the City of San Diego has increased materially during the past year. Our statistics reveal, however, that the increase in total case load is caused by newcomers or by juveniles who are not residents of this city. The case load for residents of this city has decreased slightly in total cases, but has increased in certain parts of town. Our investigations indicate that this is due, no doubt, to the dim-out restrictions imposed, and which caused to darken night playground areas. These areas have been reopened recently when material has been available to light the areas to conform to dim-out restrictions. An improvement in the delinquency problem has been noted since the night playground areas have been reopened.

We find that a large percentage of the delinquency increase is being caused by the lack of parental supervision, due no doubt to the fact that both parents are frequently employed and no provision made for the care of the children while they are gone.

I feel that a great deal of good can be done by opening forestry camps to juvenile delinquents, thereby reducing the load in present State institutions, which have been overcrowded for some time. It is extremely difficult to have delinquents from this county accepted into State institutions, apparently because of their crowded condition.

Facilities for caring for juvenile delinquents are extremely poor in this county; the only places available where delinquents can be held with any degree of security are the city and county jails.

A forestry camp for delinquent boys is in successful operation in this county, but facilities for holding juveniles pending trial, transfer, or hearing are entirely inadequate.

I feel that any program which will assist in rehabilitating the juvenile delinquents, particularly the provision of the fresh air camps, properly supervised and away from possible bad influences, will go a long way toward solving the problem.

Yours very truly,

CLIFFORD E. PETERSON, Chief of Police

SALINAS, March 8, 1943

*Edward F. O'Day, Chairman, Assembly Interim Committee
Investigating Camps for Juvenile Delinquents
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. O'DAY: Your letter of February 11, 1943, received March 8th.

I think your committee's recommendation that the unoccupied forestry camps situated throughout this State be used for the incarceration of juvenile delinquents is an excellent one. However, with these qualifications, which of course, you and your committee have no doubt considered: That no expense be spared in prompt action and in adequately equipping these camps for the purpose they are to serve; that only thoroughly competent persons of high moral character be employed to operate these institutions.

A check of juvenile delinquency, or should it be termed parental delinquency, in Monterey County about six weeks ago showed a rise of about 7 per cent in 1942 over 1941, and there are no war production centers of any import in the county.

Although I am greatly interested in the reduction and control of juvenile-parental delinquency, I am not really prepared with any studied plan for suggestion. I would like to make these observations however: That there is quite generally a pitiful lack of neighborhood and community recreational facilities for the youth; that cities and communities are intentionally reducing these facilities; that this condition will probably continue to exist for the "duration" just when such facilities are needed most, unless provision is made for retaining and augmenting such facilities from a State level and that a parent educational program and very possibly State legislation to force parents to maintain better supervision and control of their children is necessary.

Thank you for allowing me this opportunity to express myself on a matter that is fast developing to be the Nation's number one problem.

Respectfully yours,

C. LLOYD COLBY, Police Judge

MOTION TO PRINT SPEECH IN JOURNAL

Mr. Field moved that the following speech by Mr. Burns be printed in the Journal:

Mr. Doyle seconded the motion.

Motion carried.

Speech by Hon. Michael J. Burns

Mr. Speaker, Members of the Assembly, Guests and Friends

Today, in a world aflame with hate and passion, we are gathered here in Sacramento to pay reverence to Ireland's patron saint, just as everywhere that friends of the Irish race may meet, they, too, assemble in this annual tribute to Saint Patrick.

We meet at a time when the skies of the world are darkened by war, dictatorship, tyranny, and oppression. Almost alone on this fear-ridden globe nations—and peoples—still hold aloft with courage and determination, the glowing torch of national freedom and individual liberty, still lighting with the gleam of hope the gathering gloom of lost liberties and vanished freedom which now enshrouds so many peoples of the world.

This is a grave hour in the history of men and in the history of nations.

Freely from rivalries, the hatreds, and the jealousies that warp the minds of dictators; freed from the dreams of grandeur and world power that grips the dictator, the struggle still goes on—but not without apprehension.

In this critical situation that confronts us, we may well pause to recall the teachings and the philosophy of Patrick, who found his strength in reason, his success in human understanding, and his faith in God.

Saint Patrick lived through the Fifth Century of the Christian Era, and died within a few years of its close. It was a time of wonders and of wonder workers, yet his marvelous life-span of 120 years was even then without a rival.

Saint Patrick was a Gallo-Roman, by his mother, Concessa. He was closely related to Saint Martin, the Bishop of Tours, whose disciple he afterwards became. His father, Calpurnius, was a Roman officer of good family. It seems fairly established that Concessa had been, in her youth, as her son was afterwards, carried into slavery; and that it was from this state that Calpurnius, won by her beauty and virtue, rescued her to make her his wife. So it was by one who had been a slave, and the son of a slave, that the Gospel was preached to a people who were, for many a century, to know the sorrows of servitude, and amid those sorrows to prepare for better days.

It is chronicled that he was born A. D. 372, and just lived the ordinary life of any youth to the age of 16 years when he was carried into captivity—taken suddenly from the bosom of his family, thrown in the hold of one of those warships of the Irish King, borne roughly across the boisterous ocean, and then flung on the northern coast of Ireland and sold as a slave. There he remained month after month, year after year, and in that bitter exile, not knowing the language of those who were his masters, severely tasked, scourged and beaten, neglected and despised, first turned his heart to God, for there was no hope or comfort left to him upon this earth. He, however, acquired some knowledge of the language and customs of his captors, which later on in life was to be used by him to the greatest effect.

After six years of his captivity, he escaped and returned to France, in a vessel which he found, fortunately, on the Coast of Ireland. When he obtained his freedom, he turned his attention to his education, which had been so long neglected. He went to the Seminary of Tours, conducted at the time by his relative, the Bishop of Tours, and spent four years there. He then retired to a monastery for nine years to still further his education and prepare himself for the task that he knew was ahead of him, because, by this time, he had dedicated himself to return to Ireland and take up the unsuccessful mission of Palladius. He was consecrated at Rome and assigned to the Irish Nation. After a long and weary voyage, such a one as we can have no conception of in these days, Saint Patrick landed on the coast of Wicklow some time before Easter, A. D. 432. After spending some time here, he embarked for the north of Ireland, landed in the County of Down, and erected the first temple to the Living God.

Easter-time was now at hand. It occurred at the same period of the year at which the Council of Delegates from the different provinces was to be held at Tara. This was similar to our present-day Congress or a Legislature. Patrick conceived the happy, though adventurous design, of storming Paganism at its very center, and therefore repaired to Tara, determined to celebrate Easter within a short distance of it. During the national festival, in accordance with some Druidical superstition, no fire could be lighted throughout the land under pain of death, until one had been first kindled at the royal palace.

Patrick, however, was not cowardly, and carrying out a pious custom prevailing at the time in some Christian communities, lighted a fire to commemorate Easter Day.

When the Druid priests saw the light, they immediately threatened destruction to the nation unless the criminal would be punished, and Patrick was accordingly summoned to the King's presence. But, when the King heard what Patrick had to say, that he had come a long distance, with much hardship, to serve the people of Ireland; that his only reward for giving his life to their welfare would be the joy he would have in promoting new faith—when the King heard this, he was struck with his fearless courage, his evident sincerity, and the beauty of the Christian doctrine, and invited him to appear next day before the National Council.

Patrick, exulting with joy, and burning with Christian zeal, appeared, and preached to the assembled chiefs the new doctrine. Many of them forthwith joined his fold. Thus was begun the conversion of the Irish nation. Patrick received the King's sanction to preach throughout the nation. I shall not weary you by detailing his labors.

The first feature which attracts our notice is the fact that it is the only country in the world ever converted to Christianity without having to pass through the ordeal of shedding blood. The second characteristic of this new Christian country is that it became entirely Christian from Antrim to Cape Clear, and from the Arran Isles to Dublin Bay, in the short space of 33 years.

No more striking and beautiful tradition exists in all history than that of the triumph of Saint Patrick's great courage, his deep faith in Christian teachings, and the power of Truth, as related in his life.

With a cheerful willingness, the Truth-hungry people of Ireland embraced the beautiful philosophy of Christianity—and no people, through persecution, through hardship, and even up to the portals of death itself, have been more devout, more faithful, and more courageous in their faith than have the Irish people.

So long as history shall record the story of Saint Patrick's mission, so long as the waters of the River Shannon flow, so long will the men and women of the Irish race love their Emerald Isle, honor the memory of Saint Patrick, cherish their shamrock and uphold the principles of national freedom and individual liberty.

And so the Irish people, true to their faith in their patron saint and faithful to their heritage, have fought and bled and died in the cause of liberty, not only in their own little island, but in every country of this globe where the struggle for liberty has taken place.

The history of the United States is emblazoned and glorified with the names of brave and brilliant men and women of Irish blood, who have helped in the struggles for the freedom of our Democracy and the personal liberties guaranteed to us under our constitutional Bill of Rights.

When the War of the Revolution was over, and Benjamin Franklin was appointed the first American Minister to England, the British Minister asked him this question: "Please, Sir Franklin, state the different nationalities in the American Army in the War of the Revolution."

Think of his reply, which is a matter of record today. His answer was "Sixty-seven per cent Irish, 22 per cent other nationalities, and 11 per cent native born." Think of it, my friends, it was 67 per cent Irishmen who raised the American Flag in victory at the Battle at Lexington and who went down with it in defeat at Bunker Hill. It was 67 per cent Irishmen who, without firing a gun, but with drawn swords, fought with that Flag in glorious victory at Stony Point. It was 67 per cent Irishmen in the Army that sent those bullets to victory at Camden and Eutaw Springs. It was 67 per cent Irishmen in that small Army on that bleak cold night of December 25, 1776, that filled the boats and, with George Washington, crossed the ice-blocked Delaware River and captured those hired Hessians in the Battle of Trenton. It was 67 per cent of Irish blood that crimsoned the snows that covered the grounds under the starless nights at Valley Forge. It was 67 per cent of Irish voices that sent patriotic songs and solemn prayers heavenward at Yorktown; and, sirs, it was 67 per cent of Irishmen that marched home with the Father of this Country after eight long years of weary battle to a glorious victory—a victory that established on this land the lasting Union of these United States.

Today, we in this Country, are mobilizing our forces to preserve the liberties and freedom for which our forefathers fought—to preserve the American way of life. We have a tradition of liberty and progress, which is very precious to us.

We are trying—as are the people of Ireland—to live in peace and freedom and in adherence to Christian principles—in a world where the lights of civilization are flickering.

This war which rages in the world today is not just a struggle between armies, navies and air forces. It is not one of the never-ending wars that have plagued Europe through history. It is a struggle between philosophies of government and ways of living. The dictators do not want Christian brotherhood and obedience to moral law. Instead, they demand racism and obedience to power. They have developed the philosophy that the governing officials of a nation are masters, and not the servants of the people; that the government should be all-powerful, and the people without voice.

We are in the midst of a world revolution, fomented by the leaders of the dictator nations in Europe. To realize the seriousness of the situation, we need but review briefly the tragic events of the last year. Behind an assaulted Belgium and Holland, there stood a France; behind an assaulted France, there stood an England; behind an assaulted England and Greece, there stands a United States of America. We are, as someone has said, the ultimate core of the last resistance to a new world order. We can not look to any larger, stronger nation for protection and help. We can not lean; we must stand.

In this crisis, in our National life, we are arming for defense as we never armed before. We are calling our young men to military service as we have never called them before. We have done this, because, in less than a year, we have seen the fall and ruin of free nations, and a new creed of barbarism on the march.

We can no longer take our own way of life for granted; we know that it is challenged. And we know this, too—and know it ever more deeply. We know that freedom and Democracy are not just big words, spoken by orators, but they are the rain and the wind and the sun, the air and the light by which we breathe and live.

We will defend them!

We Americans can not be a house divided—divided in will, divided in interest, divided in soul. We can not be a house divided—and live. The issue goes beyond battleships and airplanes; it goes beyond tax bills and laws. It goes into the hearts and minds of every one of us. Each one of us is responsible; not one of us can shrug his own responsibility.

In the troubled years ahead, we must have unity and a united Nation.

A striking contribution to our National unity will be furnished in San Francisco today.

There Islam Temple of the Shrine will hold its annual Saint Patrick's Day luncheon with an audience of more than 10,000 men and women of every faith and nationality joining in a common brotherhood. It will be a marvelous demonstration of unity with the world listening in by radio. We need more of those demonstrations throughout the Country. For a National unity is a first essential in dealing with an international crisis.

We can do no other—all of us—in this grave hour—than to help create, and participate in a spirit of National unity, which will sweep aside all vestige of personal feelings, of partisan differences, of sectional hatreds, and of class distinctions. If we go into the difficult days ahead as a united Nation; if we embrace and champion the high aims and purposes of this hour, we shall succeed together. But we must not fail!

Our Country must be made impregnable against any attack; whether that attack be launched by one nation, or whether it be launched by a combination of all nations of the earth. America must be made safe!

And now, as my story comes to a close, as we, who have been viewing Patrick and his Ireland through the eyes of one who understands the feelings of another; as we, who have been the singularity of its history and of its people; as we, who have seen the trials through which that nation has gone to preserve the liberty which we are today fighting to protect; may I, in the light of what has been said, may I, in your name, on this, his day and theirs, salute the name of Saint Patrick, salute Ireland and the Irish people, and, in my own name, may I salute you for your kindness?

I thank you.

Governor Warren's Remarks to the Assembly at the Celebration of St. Patrick's Day, March 17, 1943

Mr. Speaker pro tempore, Mr. Chief Justice Gibson, and Members of the Assembly

I have not come before you today to make a speech or to deliver any message. I have come merely to join with you in this celebration of the memory of St. Patrick, the great Patron Saint of Ireland.

I have been refreshed and given new encouragement by the masterly address just delivered by your fine elder statesman, Assemblyman Michael Burns, and I was very glad that it should be given by one who is himself a descendant of St. Patrick. I do not recall when I have heard a better speech.

In times like these, when the skies are cloudy and the horizon is low, and when we can not see far ahead, it seems to me to be a good thing to consider and honor the lives of great men—men of courage, of determination, of character and of religious fervor like the great St. Patrick.

It has been a great pleasure to join with all of you in this traditional ceremony and to pay my tribute to the memory of St. Patrick, Ireland's Patron Saint.

Emergency wartime conditions have brought about regulations promulgated under the war power of the Federal Government affecting many of the commodities regulated by this chapter, and in many instances conflicting with the standards prescribed herein, and have created serious shortages of both materials and labor, thereby making it impossible in many instances to comply fully with such standards; furthermore, the temporary modification of certain provisions of these standards would result in fuller utilization of the food resources of this State, and directly aid the war effort by preventing serious waste of useful produce otherwise available for human consumption. It is therefore necessary that provisions be made at once for the adoption of emergency standards in the place of many of the standards now in force, and that this act take immediate effect."

Sec. 16.01. Definitions. The terms "plan" and "plan of reorganization," as used in this article, are hereby defined to mean a plan for the rehabilitation, readjustment, reorganization or liquidation of an association, or of all or of any part of the business, properties and assets of an association, or for the readjustment, modification or reorganization of the rights or interests of any or all of the investors and creditors of an association, or for any or more of the foregoing purposes. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a plan may provide with respect to all or any part of the business, properties and assets of an association for any one or more of the following: (1) For the retention thereof by or (if then in the possession of the commissioner) the return thereof to, such association; (2) the retention thereof by, or (if not then in the possession of the commissioner) the delivery thereof to, the commissioner; (3) the transfer thereof to another corporation or to two or more other corporations (which corporation or corporations or any of them may but need not be an association or associations or a Federal saving and loan association or associations); (4) the transfer thereof to a trustee or trustees named in or appointed pursuant to the provisions of such plan; (5) the issuance of new securities in lieu of outstanding investment certificates, shares, stock or other obligations of such association. In addition or as an alternative to the foregoing, the plan may provide that such association shall cease to be an association but shall continue to exist as the same corporate entity, and in the event such plan becomes operative, such association shall become a corporation subject to the General Corporation Law of this State, and thereafter its rights, duties and privileges and all questions relating to such corporation shall be governed and determined by such General Corporation Law and not by this act, except that this article shall continue to apply to such corporation in all matters relating to such plan or the consummation of such plan, and except that such corporation's name shall be changed so that it shall no longer include any of the following: "Building and loan," "Building-loan," association formed, pursuant to a plan, to continue the building and loan business of an existing association, may adopt and continue to use the name of such existing association or any part of such name.

"G. Appeals. No appeal from such order of court shall stay or postpone the consummation of the plan, unless such court shall deem it necessary to delay such consummation for the proper protection of the appellant or appellants, but in lieu of requiring the consummation of the plan to be delayed such court may restrain the sale, transfer or other disposition by the commissioner, the association or a corporation or trustee to whom assets are to be transferred, of any assets specified by the court, if the retention of such assets is found by the court necessary or advisable to protect the rights of the appellant or appellants

Sec. 16.03 Reorganization by Court. A plan of reorganization may be proposed in court pursuant to this Section 16.03 for (1) an association of which the property, business and assets are in the possession of the commissioner; (2) an association which is in such condition that, unless such association is liquidated or a plan is consummated, a preference is likely to be obtained by some certificate holders over other certificate holders or by some shareholders over other shareholders or by some creditors over other creditors of the same class; (3) an association which is in such condition that it will probably be necessary unless a different plan is consummated, to liquidate such association. The determination by the commissioner that an association is included in one or more of the foregoing classes shall be prima facie evidence of such fact. A plan of reorganization of such association may be proposed pursuant to this Section 16.03 (1) by such association through action of the board of directors of such association or (2) by the holders of 20 per cent in value of the aggregate outstanding free shares and investment certificates of such association or (3) by the commissioner.

A. Procedure. Such plan shall be presented by the proposer or proposers to the superior court of the county in which such association maintained or maintains its principal office, with a petition that the court determine the fairness of such plan and what consents are requisite to such plan becoming operative, which petition shall set forth such plan and the fact that it is proposed by a person or persons authorized under this Section 16.03 to propose it and any other facts which such proposer or proposers shall deem material to a consideration of the fairness of such plan. If the commissioner is not the proposer of the plan, the court shall refer the plan to the commissioner and direct him to analyze the plan and the condition of the association. Within 30 days or such additional time as the court may grant, the commissioner shall return the plan to the court with his findings and recommendations, and may propose to the court his own plan. Thereupon the court shall fix the time and place for hearing on the plan presented by petition and on the plan presented by the commissioner, if any, and shall direct that notice of such hearing be given as hereafter provided and shall direct the commissioner to deliver to such proposer or proposers, and to the clerk of the court, a list of the names and addresses of the investors and creditors of such association as shown by the records of such association, and such other information as the court may deem necessary or proper, whereupon the commissioner shall comply with such direction. Thereafter the clerk of the court shall give at least 30 days' notice of such hearing to the investors and creditors of such association (and to such association, if not the proposer or proposers of such plan), which notice shall include either a copy of such plan or plans or a summary thereof, and a statement that any interested stockholder, shareholder, certificate holder or creditor shall have the right, without the necessity of formal intervention, to appear either in support of a plan or in opposition thereto or may propose a modification or modifications. Such notice shall be approved by the court.

B. Hearing. At the time and place fixed for such hearing, or at the time and place to which such hearing may be continued by the court, the court shall hear the parties interested therein and, if it deems it necessary, may take testimony relative thereto and/or may receive depositions relative thereto. At such hearing any interested stockholder, shareholder, certificate holder or creditor may propose a modification or modifications of any plan then before the court or a different plan.

No plan shall be approved by the court unless the court is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable and does not discriminate in favor of any class of investors or creditors, and is feasible. After the completion of such hearing the court shall approve, modify and approve, or disapprove such plan or plans. No such plan shall become operative unless and until it shall have been approved, in its original form or if modified, in its modified form, by such court, nor unless and until such plan shall have been consented to, either in person or by a duly appointed agent attorney or committee, and either before or after the approval of such plan by the court, by the following persons: (a) If such association shall have stock outstanding, then by the holders of a majority in amount of the stock of such association; (b) if such association shall have shares outstanding, then by the holders of a majority in value of the shares of such association; (c) if such association shall have investment certificates outstanding, then by the holders of two-thirds in value of the investment certificates of such association; and (d) if such association shall have creditors, then by two-thirds in amount of each class of creditors of such association; provided, however, that such consents shall not be required in the case of any certificate holder, shareholder or creditor, or of any class of certificate holders, shareholders or creditors, if (1) the rights of such person or persons shall not be materially and adversely affected by such plan or (2) if such plan shall provide for the payment in cash of the value of the investment certificates, shares or claims held by such person or persons; provided further, that such consents shall not be required from the stockholders of any association if the commissioner shall have taken possession of the property, business, and assets of such association pursuant to Section 13.11 of this act and the application provided for by Section 13.12 of this act shall not have been made within 30 days after such taking possession or judgment dismissing such application shall have been rendered and such judgment shall have become final, and provided further, that if any plan is modified with the approval of the court and (1) if the court shall find that such modification does not materially and adversely affect the interests of any particular class or classes of persons whose consent to the plan is required, then the consent of such particular class or classes of persons shall not be required to such modification and all persons of such class or classes who shall have consented to the plan prior to the court's approval of its modification shall be deemed to have consented to the modification and to the plan as modified and (2) if the court shall find that such modification materially and adversely affects the interests of any particular class or classes of persons whose consent to the plan is required, notice of such modification may be given to such class or classes of persons in such manner as the court shall prescribe and any person who shall have consented to the plan prior to the court's approval of its modification and who shall not file a written dissent to such modification within the time fixed by the court shall be deemed to have consented to the modification and to the plan as modified unless such persons' previous consent to the plan shall have provided otherwise. For the purpose of this Section 16.03, real property, contracts for the sale of real property, loans, and all other assets (whether like or unlike the foregoing) shall be valued at what may reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the orderly and proper conduct of a going business and under normal conditions. The approval by the court of the plan shall be in writing. If the court shall determine that at the time of such approval the requisite number of consents shall have been given the court shall enter an order providing that such plan shall become operative, which order shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association and all its investors and creditors. If the court shall determine that at the time of such approval the requisite number of consents shall not have been given the court shall make an order fixing a time and place for a further hearing to determine what consents have been given, and directing the clerk of the court to mail, or cause to be mailed, to each of the stockholders, shareholders, investment certificate holders and creditors of such association, and other than those (if any) who have consented to the plan approved by the court, a notice of the time and place fixed for said hearing, a copy or summary of such plan, a statement setting forth the consents necessary to such plan becoming operative and a notice that all parties desiring to consent or dissent may file written consents or dissents with the clerk of the court before the time fixed for said hearing or to which said hearing may be continued. At the time and place so fixed, or any continuance thereof ordered by the court, the court shall take evidence on that subject and upon satisfactory proof at such time of the fact that the requisite number of consents have been given, a further order may be entered providing that such plan shall become operative, which further order shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association, and all its investors and creditors.

During the pendency of a proceeding under this Section 16.03 hearing upon any application under Section 13.12 may be stayed, in the discretion of the court; and the court in which the petition under this Section 16.03 is pending is hereby given jurisdiction to enjoin during the pendency of the proceeding and, if a plan is approved and by the court declared operative, to enjoin thereafter, the commencement or continuance of any action or proceeding against such association or any act, action or proceeding to enforce a lien or charge upon, or to obtain possession of, or to sell or otherwise dispose of (except in conformity with such plan), any property of such association, and to determine all questions required to be determined pursuant to this Section 16.03 including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: Whether the association subject to such plan is included in one or more of the classes specified in this section as subject to reorganization; whether any plan, either in its original or modified form is fair and equitable; whether it discriminates in favor of any class of investors or creditors; whether it is feasible; whether the plan is more advantageous than liquidation from the standpoint of each class of investors and creditors affected thereby; the liabilities of such association and the value of the assets thereof; the consents requisite under this Section 16.03 to such plan becoming operative, including jurisdiction to determine, for the purposes of the plan and the consents or dissents thereto, the division of the investors and creditors into classes according to the nature of their respective rights and interests. If, pursuant to Section 16.05, provision has been made in any plan for the payment in cash in full of all certificate holders, shareholders and creditors each of whose investment certificates, shares or claims is of such value, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), as shall be specified in such plan, all investment certificates, shares and claims to be paid in cash pursuant to such provision shall be excluded in computing the consents required or given under this Subsection B.

If the court shall approve a plan of reorganization, either in its original form or in modified form, the court may allow reasonable compensation for services rendered, and reimbursements for proper costs and expenses incurred by the persons who were the proposer or proposers of such plan and their attorneys. In fixing such allowance the court shall give consideration only to the services which contributed to the plan approved by the court, or to the refusal of the court's approval of a different plan or plans, or which were beneficial in the proceedings under this Section 16.03, and to the proper costs and expenses incidental thereto.

All expenses of and charges against the clerk of the court in connection with the mailing, posting and publication referred to in this Section 16.03 shall be paid from the assets of the association in question by the commissioner if he is in possession of such assets and, if not, by the association.

C. Building and Loan Commissioner. The proposer or proposers of a plan shall deliver a copy thereof to the commissioner or to one of his deputies either before the petition referred to in Subsection A of this Section 16.03 shall have been filed in court or within two days thereafter. A copy of said plan shall be kept by the commissioner available for public inspection at each of his offices in this State. In the case of any plan pursuant to this Section 16.03 under which all or any part of the business, properties or assets of such association is to be retained by, returned to or transferred to any association (other than a Federal savings and loan association or an association which, pursuant to the plan, is to cease being an association) such plan shall not be approved by the court unless it shall have been first consented to by the commissioner.

In any proceeding under this Section 16.03 the commissioner shall if requested by the court, and may upon his own motion, file a notice of his appearance in such proceeding. Upon the filing of such a notice the commissioner shall be deemed to be a party in interest, with the right to be heard on all matters arising in such proceeding, and shall be deemed to have intervened in respect of all matters in such proceeding with the same force and effect as if a petition for that purpose had been allowed by the court; but the commissioner may not appeal or file any petition for appeal or review.

During the pendency of a proceeding under this Section 16.03 the commissioner shall not employ or engage, with respect to any association directly affected by such proceeding, or with respect to the business, property or assets of any association so affected, counsel other than the Attorney General or one or more of his deputies, or any appraisers or accountants other than appraisers or accountants who are subject to the civil service laws of this State nor employ, with respect to any such association, its business, property or assets, as additional employees in this State or to replace previous employees in this State, any person who is not subject to the civil service laws of this State for any position or work for which a person subject to the civil service laws of this State is available, except that if the association (or the commissioner, while in possession) has entered into an agreement with a labor organization for the employing of any class of employees through the labor organization, then the commissioner shall employ additional employees, or employees replacing previous employees, who fall within a classification covered by such an agreement through the labor organization.

D. Effect of Approval and Consents. When any plan under this Section 16.03 shall have been so approved by the court and shall have been consented to by or on behalf of the respective required proportions of the investors and creditors, such plan shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association, and all of the investors and creditors of such association. Thereupon such steps shall be taken by the commissioner, such association and all other persons affected by such plan, and all acts shall be done, all instruments executed and all securities issued, as may be required by such plan so approved and as may be necessary or desirable for the consummation of such plan. The association, the commissioner, or such person as the court shall appoint, shall supervise and direct the consummation of the plan subject to the orders of the court.

Sec. 16.04. Withdrawal of A-sets. When the property, business and assets of an association are in the possession of the commissioner, whether or not such association is in liquidation under the provisions of this act, investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors of such association may withdraw to themselves or to a corporation nominated by them assets of such association upon the approval of the superior court after notice given and hearing held in the manner hereafter provided in this section.

A. Procedure. The holders of at least 15 per cent in value of the aggregate outstanding investment certificates of an association, the business, property and assets of which are in the possession of the commissioner, together with any unsecured creditors of such association then desiring to join with them, may themselves, or through a corporation nominated by and representing them, petition the superior court of the county in which the principal office of such association is situated to exchange investment certificates and unsecured creditor's claims for their proportionate share of the assets of such association. If such association shall have commenced the proceeding provided for by Section 13.12 of this act and no judgment which shall have become final shall have been rendered therein against such association, or if the time within which such association may commence said proceeding has not expired, the consent of such association by its board of directors to the filing of such petition shall be required. Such petition, among other things, shall set forth, in general terms, the method by which the withdrawal of assets is to be accomplished, the interests to be acquired by investors and unsecured creditors should said petition be granted, and whether a corporation is to acquire such assets, and if so, such petition shall also set forth the kind or kinds of securities to be issued by such corporation and the classes of persons to whom such securities are proposed to be issued. A copy of said petition shall be served upon the commissioner or one of his deputies prior to the filing thereof or within three days after the filing thereof. Upon the filing of said petition the court shall fix the time and place for the hearing of such petition and shall direct that the commissioner shall give at least 30 days' notice to investors and creditors of such hearing. The form of such notice shall be approved by order of the court, which order may be made without notice; and the commissioner, as promptly as reasonably possible after the service of a copy of the petition upon the commissioner or one of his deputies, with a list setting forth the name and last known address of each investor and unsecured creditor of such association as shown upon the books of such association in the possession of the commissioner, and the petitioner or petitioners or their nominee may request other investors and unsecured creditors of such association to join in said petition.

B. Investors and Creditors Joining in Petition. Investors and unsecured creditors of such association not represented by the petitioner or petitioners at the time of the filing of such petition may join with and be represented by the petitioner or petitioners by filing with the court, either directly or through the petitioner or petitioners, a written consent to join in said petition, and thereupon such investors and unsecured creditors shall be deemed to have joined in said petition.

C. Hearing. At such hearing the commissioner may appear and be represented by the Attorney General of the State of California, or by one or more of his deputies, and not otherwise. Upon such hearing the court shall determine the proportion of the total value of all assets of such association which is borne by each asset of such association, or by each group of assets of such association which shall have been designated to the court by the petitioner or petitioners at or before the time of such hearing or at such time or times thereafter as the court shall permit. For the purposes of this Section 16.04 any property of such association which is subject to encumbrance shall be valued at its net equity value and all of the assets of such association shall be valued on the basis of what may reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the orderly and proper conduct of a going business and under normal conditions. Thereupon the petitioner or petitioners shall file with the court a designation of the particular assets or groups of assets of such association which the petitioner or petitioners desire to withdraw in exchange for the investment certificates and unsecured creditor's claims represented by the petitioner or petitioners or their nominee; and thereupon the court shall determine whether such proposed withdrawal is fair both to the withdrawing and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors, and if the court shall determine that such withdrawal is fair as aforesaid, shall grant such petition. No petition for withdrawal of assets shall be granted by the court unless the court is satisfied that the proposed withdrawal of assets in exchange for investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims is fair both to the withdrawing and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors. In such determination the court shall give due consideration to liabilities and encumbrances affecting particular assets or groups of assets. If such association shall have commenced the proceeding provided for by Section 13.12 of this act and no judgment which shall have become final shall have been rendered therein against such association, or if the time within which such association may commence said proceeding has not expired, no petition for withdrawal of assets shall be granted by the court unless such withdrawal is consented to by the holders of a majority in amount of the stock of such association if it has stock outstanding.

D. Stockholders Any corporation which is to acquire any assets of such association may, subject to the provisions of this Subsection D, issue securities to the shareholders and/or stockholders of such association in exchange for their outstanding shares, stock, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash; provided, the issuance of such securities is approved by the court and by the petitioner or petitioners; and provided, further, that such securities shall contain express provision that no interest, dividends or other distribution shall be paid or made thereon unless and until such corporation shall have retired all securities issued in exchange for claims of investment certificate holders and claims of unsecured creditors. If an assessment shall have been levied against the stockholders of such association pursuant to Article 7 of this act, such assessment shall be set aside or discharged (1) if the court shall determine that such association is solvent; or (2) if the stockholders of such association shall pay the amount of such assessment (in which case a part of such assessment which shall bear the same proportion to the whole of such assessment as the net value of the assets withdrawn bears to the total net value of all the assets of the association shall be paid to the withdrawing certificate holders and creditors or their nominee and the remainder of such assessment shall be paid to the commissioner); or (3) the stockholder or stockholders shall transfer and assign to the withdrawing certificate holders and unsecured creditors or their nominee and to the commissioner, respectively, in the respective proportions aforesaid, all of the assets of such stockholder or stockholders in excess of amounts required to discharge the liabilities, and encumbrances against the assets, of such stockholder or stockholders, other than securities or the right to receive securities of a corporation which is to acquire the assets of such association. In no case shall securities be issued to any stockholder against whom an assessment has been levied pursuant to Article 7 of this act unless and until such assessment has been set aside or discharged as above provided.

E. Effect of Order. After the completion of such hearing the court shall have jurisdiction to approve such petition or to disapprove such petition, or may approve such petition as amended, and shall have authority to approve or disapprove the terms and conditions of the issuance of securities in exchange for outstanding securities, claims, or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash. If such petition or amended petition is approved, the court shall order the commissioner to transfer and deliver to the petitioner or petitioners or to a corporation nominated by them the assets selected by the petitioner or petitioners and approved by the court; and upon the transfer and delivery of said assets to the petitioner or petitioners or to such corporation in exchange for investment certificates and/or unsecured creditors' claims in compliance with the order of court, the powers of the commissioner with respect to said assets shall terminate and such association and the State of California shall be forthwith released from all further liability with respect to the assets thus withdrawn. The order of court approving such petition, amended petition or supplemental petition, shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association and all investors and creditors of such association. The powers and duties of the commissioner and the rights of all investors and unsecured creditors as to the assets of such association not withdrawn hereunder shall not be affected by this section.

F. Supplemental Petitions. After the approval of such petition and the withdrawal of assets thereunder, the petitioner or petitioners or the corporation to which the assets are withdrawn from time to time may file a supplemental petition in said court for the withdrawal of additional assets in exchange for additional investment certificates and/or unsecured creditors' claims. Thereupon such supplemental petition shall be set for hearing and notice of such hearing shall be given as provided in Subsection A of this Section 16.04 and in Section 16.07. At the hearing on such supplemental petition the court shall order additional assets withdrawn if it determines that such withdrawal is fair both to the petitioner or petitioners or said corporation on the one hand and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors on the other hand.

G. Commissioner of Corporations. In case the petition sets forth that a corporation is to acquire the assets sought to be withdrawn, the court shall require that notice forthwith be served upon the Commissioner of Corporations.

Sec. 16.05. Priorities. In any plan proposed pursuant to Section 16.02 or Section 16.03 due consideration shall be given to the rights and interests of all persons affected thereby (with due regard to the feasibility of such plan and the condition of such association), in the following order of priorities: First, secured creditors and other persons, if any, entitled to preference over investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors in the event of liquidation; second, investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors, without preference to one over the other; third, shareholders; and fourth, stockholders; provided, however, that provision may be made in any such plan for the payment in full of all taxes, assessments, insurance, alterations, repairs and other operating expenses, for the payment of expenses of the commissioner in connection with such association or its property, business or assets or in connection with any application of such association under Section 13 12 of this act, and for the payment of expenses in connection with such plan as authorized by this article; and provided further, that provision may be made in any such plan for the payment in cash in full of all certificate holders, shareholders and creditors each of whose investment certificates, shares or claims is of such value, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), as shall be specified in such plan.

No plan which provides for the issuance of securities to holders of stock shall be approved unless such securities contain express provision that no interest, dividends or other distribution shall be paid or made thereon unless and until all securities issued in exchange for claims of investment certificate holders, claims of unsecured creditors, and claims of shareholders, if any, have been retired; it being the intent that under such plan each investment certificate holder and unsecured creditor (except those who shall sell or otherwise dispose of their new securities) shall receive the full amount of their original investment, with interest, dividends, or other return thereon before any interest, dividends or other distribution is paid or made on securities issued to shareholders or stockholders, or both, as aforesaid. A plan may provide, however, for the issuance of such securities to the stockholders that after all creditors, certificate holders and shareholders (except those who shall sell or otherwise dispose of their new securities) shall receive the full amount of their original investments or claims, with interest, dividends or other return thereon, the stockholders or their assigns shall own in effect, through their ownership of such securities issued to the stockholders, the remaining assets.

Sec. 16.06. Hearing. At any hearing before the commissioner pursuant to Section 16 02 or before the court pursuant to Section 16.03 or Section 16 04 any interested certificate holder, shareholder, stockholder or creditor shall have the right to appear either in support of the plan or plans or petition or in opposition thereto; and any such hearing shall be, among other things, upon the fairness of the terms and conditions of the issuance of all securities to be issued pursuant to such plan or plans or petition and of the exchange thereof for outstanding securities, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash, and all persons to whom it is proposed to issue securities in such exchange shall have the right to appear at such hearing; and the commissioner or court (as the case may be) is hereby authorized to determine whether the terms and conditions of such proposed issuance and exchange of securities are fair and, if so, to grant approval of such terms and conditions.

Sec. 16 07. Notices. Wherever provision is made in this article for at least a specified number of days' notice to investors and creditors of a hearing, such notice shall state the time and place of such hearing and shall be (a) mailed by first-class mail in sealed envelopes, postage prepaid, to each investor and creditor at his address as shown by the books of such association, or, if no address be there shown, at the city or town in which such association has or last had its principal place of business; (b) posted in three public places in the county in which such city or town is located; and (c) published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Such mailing, posting and publication shall be made at least the specified number of days before the date fixed for such hearing. Section 8 08 of this act shall not apply to such notices.

Sec. 16 08. Building and Loan Commissioner. The commissioner shall have and may exercise the same jurisdiction, authority and powers with respect to any business, properties or assets retained by or delivered to the commissioner pursuant to any plan as the commissioner shall have with respect to the business, properties and assets of any association of which the commissioner has taken possession; and the commissioner shall have and may exercise the same jurisdiction, authority and powers with respect to any association (excepting a Federal savings and loan association) formed pursuant to any plan or by or to which any business, properties or assets may be retained or returned or transferred pursuant to any plan (excepting a Federal savings and loan association or an association which, pursuant to the plan, is to cease being an association) as the commissioner would have of such association if it had been formed or had acquired its business, properties and assets by means other than a plan.

If any part of the business, properties and assets are to be retained by or transferred to a corporation which is not to be an association or a Federal savings and loan association, the plan shall provide for the continuing examination or supervision of such corporation by the commissioner and may provide for the right of the commissioner to appoint some or all of the directors of such corporation (including appointments to fill vacancies), and the commissioner shall have and may exercise any and all powers of such continuing examination, supervision or appointment conferred upon him by a plan which has been approved and become operative.

There shall be paid from the assets of the association directly affected by a proposed plan or by a petition under this article, all expenses incurred by the commissioner in connection therewith; provided, such expenses shall be reasonable and proper and in the case of proceedings under Section 16.03 or Section 16.04 shall be approved by the court.

In any proceeding under this article the commissioner shall be represented by the Attorney General of the State of California or by one or more deputies of such Attorney General, and not otherwise.

Sec. 16.09. Commissioner of Corporations. The provisions of the Corporate Securities Act requiring a permit from the Commissioner of Corporations authorizing the sale or issue of securities shall not apply to any company, as defined in the Corporate Securities Act, issuing securities under a plan or petition approved by the court or commissioner (as the case may be) under this article as to any securities the sale or issuance of which said court or commissioner (as the case may be) approve. In case the plan of reorganization under Section 16.03 or the petition for withdrawal of assets under Section 16.04 provides for the issuance of securities of a general corporation, the issuance of which securities otherwise would require a permit from the Commissioner of Corporations, the court considering said plan or petition shall require that notice forthwith be served upon the Commissioner of Corporations. Upon receipt of said notice by the Commissioner of Corporations, he shall prepare forthwith a verified report setting forth his findings and recommendations to said court as to the issuance of the securities of said general corporation based upon the same statutory grounds as provided in the Corporate Securities Act for the issuance or denial of a permit. Said verified report, findings and recommendations shall be filed with said court prior to said court's approving said plan or granting said petition for withdrawal. None of the provisions of an act entitled "An act requiring individuals, as in said act defined, to obtain a certificate from the Commissioner of Corporations prior to soliciting, receiving or collecting contributions, fees or funds from security owners or holders for the purpose of protecting, enforcing or representing the rights of such security owners or holders; authorizing the Commissioner of Corporations to regulate and supervise the solicitation, collection and application of such funds; and providing for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof," approved July 1, 1937, shall apply to the proposer or proposers of a plan which has been duly presented to the court pursuant to Section 16.03 or to the petitioner or petitioners of a petition which has been duly filed with the court pursuant to Section 16.04, but before such presentation or filing said act shall be applicable to such proposer, proposers, petitioner or petitioners, and after such presentation or filing no funds shall be solicited or collected by such proposer, proposers, petitioner or petitioners from investors except with the approval of the court.

Sec. 16.10. Authority of Fiduciaries. Any executor, administrator, guardian or receiver and any trustee of any kind or nature, and any insurance company, cemetery association or other corporation, public or private, may, without the necessity of obtaining any specific court approval: (a) dissent from any plan proposed pursuant to Section 16.02; (b) consent to any plan which has been approved by the court pursuant to Section 16.03 or consent to any such plan subject to such plan being approved by the court; (c) file or join in a petition or supplemental petition under Section 16.04; (d) exchange any shares, stock, investment certificates or other rights or claims for securities issued pursuant to any plan or petition which has been approved pursuant to this article; and (e) continue to hold as a legal investment any securities received in any such exchange.

Sec. 16.11. Appeals. No appeal from any order of court referred to in this article shall be effectual for any purpose unless the appellant or appellants, within 30 days after the entry of the order appealed from, shall file with the clerk of such court a bond executed on the part of the appellant or appellants by at least two sureties to the effect that the appellant or appellants, in the event such order is affirmed on appeal, will pay all of respondents' costs, expenses and reasonable attorneys' fees arising from such appeal. The form and amount of such bond and the sureties thereon shall be approved by the superior court. Appeals from such orders shall be given preference in hearing on appeal over all other appeals, except contested election cases and cases in which the people of the State are parties. Except as otherwise provided by this Section 16.11, the provisions of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure are applicable to and constitute the rules of practice in the proceedings mentioned in this article with regard to appeals."

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Clarence Albert Kircher:

Eternal God, our Father, teach us to so pray that nothing shall separate us from Thy love.

May our lives be so filled with Thy presence that we may build them according to the apostle's instruction: Whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are pure, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report, we shall think on these things.

"O God of love, whose spirit wakes
 In every human breast,
 Whom love, and love alone, can know,
 In whom all hearts find rest;
 Help us to spread Thy gracious reign
 Till greed and hate shall cease,
 And kindness dwell in human hearts
 And all the earth find peace"

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Lyon:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

CONGRESS OF THE UNITED STATES
 HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8, 1943

DEAR FRIEND: I had originally promised to write you and give you my impressions of Washington, but the world has been moving so fast, and things in Washington happen so rapidly and unexpectedly, that to spend much time telling about my personal reactions and experiences would be out of place during such a serious time.

Needless to say, Washington is a city of confusion. It is overcrowded. Transportation is inadequate. We are rationed just as you are. We have one thing, however, which I am quite certain you in California and other places do not have, and that is our grapevine system of information. I read your newspapers, and I know you are not hearing everything as it is, because of censorship. We can not reveal this information, because we would be called a Nazi or an obstructionist.

Speaking of obstructionists, you will probably recall that Mr. Wallace insinuated in his speech the other day, that our obstructionism in Congress might be termed treason. He was referring to the fact that we had refused to pass legislation he desired. The interesting part about this is that some of the staunch Democrats have been the leaders in this movement. If you could only hear, or read, what is said about the bureaucrats by the Democrats on the floor, you could readily understand what Congress is thinking.

Congress has definitely determined to reassert itself and regain some of its powers, which it has given away. The November election was not the only reason for this change in attitude, but the utter failure of the bureaucrats, with their regimentation ideas of government to handle the present war effort, has added to this change of heart. I sincerely believe there are many people in high office in Washington, who are more interested in inaugurating their highly technical system of theory and regimentation than they are in definitely accomplishing a good job, or efficiently aiding the war effort. I do not accuse the President of this, but there are many subordinates, who can be accused. I want to point out a few of the things that are happening here which tend to prove that young inexperienced theorists are doing that which I claim above.

A man with a very socialistic background has charge of the newsprint division in the OPA office. He made the statement, which is recorded, that there might be a possible reduction of 50 per cent of the newsprint to the newspapers. Now remember, the newspaper, whether we like a particular newspaper or not, is the only medium whereby many things can be released to the people. The radios are absolutely controlled. At the same time, this group has started a Victory Magazine, consisting strictly of propaganda, very strongly advocating the policies of the New Deal. Eighteen million copies are being sent out, and the newsprint used is taken from the supply available to the newspapers. They are sent free of postage. A committee has been formed to investigate this.

The House of Representatives definitely took a step in the right direction on two occasions during the present session. One was the Smith (Democrat) Bill, which sets up a committee to determine when the Executive Departments are overstepping the prerogatives and powers of the Legislative Branch. The other was the move to curtail the enormous amount of propaganda mail sent out by the various departments of Government. Putting the latter into visible terms, it means that this mail amounted to 236,000,000 pounds, equal to 100 trainloads of 60 cars each, with 40,000 pounds to a car, used annually for this purpose. Seventy-five per cent of this could be done away with and the war effort would be benefited.

One of the highlights of this present session was the appearance of beautiful Madame Chiang Kai-shek. She was dramatic in the delivery of her speech, and she had a lot to say. Congress is definitely pro-Chinese.

I am finding interesting work on the Committee on Expenditures in the Executive Departments, of which I am a member. It has always been my interest in government to attempt to reduce red tape and set up a uniform system for all departments. At the present time, we are working on a bill to set up a procedure for the handling and disposing of the $50,000,000,000 worth of supplies, equipment, and material, which will have to be sold after the war. The experts estimate that such an amount will be surplus, or materials not necessary for the regular conduct of business. We all know that this is where there is an opportunity for scandal and legalized graft, so it is important now that we prepare for that. Just another terrible price we must pay for war.

I recently discussed on the floor the subject of the inevitable food shortage. In getting my data, I obtained some very valuable information from one of the large farmers in California on his 1942 crop, and his estimated 1943 crop. He is one of the large farmers, it is true, but the subject, in which we are interested, is the amount of food we can expect. I am inclosing a copy of this speech.

I am sending an article to each of the community newspapers, giving a little story of some happenings of Congress for that week. I thought you may be interested and want to read them.

With all good wishes, I am

The time when such vacations shall be taken shall be determined by the appointing power of such employee. The board shall provide by rule for the regulation and accumulation of vacations and may provide for vacations for employees who have been employed for a period of at least six months and less than one year. For the purpose of computing vacation time each employee shall be considered to work five and one-half days each week.

Sec. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of facts constituting such necessity is as follows: It is important particularly during the present war emergency with increasing manpower shortage that working conditions for State employees be made as uniform and equitable throughout the service as possible, which is not true insofar as computing sick leave and vacation time is concerned, and which would be made so as provided in this act by computing such time in all cases on a five and one-half day week. Similarly, conditions should be maintained as uniformly as possible for those who leave the State service and enter the military forces which is not true in the case of the possibilities of promotion and can only be made so by permitting as provided in this act the "token" certification of persons on promotional lists who have entered the armed forces. This uniformity should be established as soon as possible and therefore this act should go into effect immediately."

Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

There is a severe shortage of regularly licensed pharmacists. In order to alleviate this severe shortage this act provides for the immediate issuance of temporary certificates to qualified pharmacists for the duration of the war emergency. If this act does not take effect immediately, the existing shortage will grow more acute and the public peace, health and safety will thereby be endangered."

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Pelletier:

House Resolution No. 137

Relating to silk production in California

WHEREAS, The silk industry occupies an important position in world trade; and

WHEREAS, The source of silk production has been and is beyond the boundaries of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Approximately three hundred million dollars worth of raw silk was imported annually from Japan before the war; and

WHEREAS, Upon the termination of hostilities there will follow a period of readjustment in which unemployment will constitute a serious problem; and

WHEREAS, The State of California is endowed with a vast and fertile expanse of land; and

WHEREAS, These lands are favored with temperate climate so much so that there can be grown in this State various species of mulberry plants which will remain green throughout the year and thus permit a triannual crop rather than one yearly crop as is obtained in Europe and the Orient; and

WHEREAS, An adequate supply of mulberry plant is a most necessary requirement to the silk industry; and

WHEREAS, The establishment of a silk industry in California would alleviate the anticipated unemployment problem; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California. That an investigation and appraisal be made of the latent possibilities that lie in the establishment and encouragement of the silk industry in California and that recognition be given to the fact that potentially California, through a sound plan of stimulating such an industry, can supply the greater part of the silk market in the United States; and be it further

Resolved, That the Governor, the State Planning Commission, the Assembly Interim Committee and all those State officials and State agencies that would have jurisdiction over such an industry be urged to initiate such investigation as soon as possible; and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Governor, the State Planning Commission and to all those State officials and State agencies that would have jurisdiction over such an industry

MOTION TO PRINT EDITORIAL IN JOURNAL

Mr. Lyons moved that the following editorial from the San Francisco Chronicle of March 20th be printed in the Journal:

Absenteeism

Henry J. Kaiser, shipbuilder, says bad transportation and housing are among "many" causes of absenteeism in war industries.

Robert P. Patterson, Undersecretary of War, says transportation and housing are not valid excuses for absenteeism. In the Army, he added, if the troops do not have transportation to the front line they march.

Who knows the most about absenteeism, Patterson, who may hire a cook and a parlor maid, or Kaiser, who employs a quarter of a million men?

Kaiser, with shipyards on both coasts and other war plants, says he has been studying absenteeism for some time, but he does not know all the causes and does not believe anyone does. He does not believe in any legislation for compulsory working when we do not know all the facts. Patterson, however, is ready to say dogmatically whether this or that is a valid excuse for absenteeism. He would have the workers compelled to work.

We think Henry J. Kaiser, in spite of his disclaimer, knows far and away more about the subject than does Patterson. Because he is sane enough to know he does not know it all, he is on firmer ground. We think he is right. We have no doubt bad housing and bad transportation are among the essential causes of absenteeism, particularly when the worker, in addition to these troubles, has to stand in line to buy food.

Mr. Patterson's implied suggestion that the workers, if transportation is bad, "march" to the job is nonsense. Workers in Mr. Kaiser's shipyards may live, perforce, six, eight, ten, twenty miles from the job. March, indeed!

We agree also with other things Henry J. Kaiser says about absenteeism. We believe there is a great deal more to it than week-end hangovers. We believe also that it is unfair to try to throw all the blame for it on labor. We do not doubt, as Kaiser says, that management is often at fault. There are causes, we are convinced, for which labor has no responsibility whatever. We believe also that some of the causes of absenteeism trace to Washington fumbling.

We do not believe legal compulsion is the answer. Certainly it is not the answer when the causes of absenteeism have not yet been accurately determined.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Lyon:

The following communication was received, and ordered printed in the Journal:

CHURCH COUNCIL OF SACRAMENTO

The Honorable Charles W. Lyon
Speaker of the California Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR SIR: In view of the fact that the war situation as affecting our Country has brought into sharper focus many problems involved in the relation between our various racial groups; and

In view of the further fact that since Pearl Harbor much public antagonism, suspicion, and hatred, previously suppressed, has been released from a background of racial prejudice; and

In view of the still further fact that organizations and groups in our State, and more especially the Members of the California Legislature, are called upon to consider proposals which, if enacted, would clearly discriminate against racial minority groups of American citizens; now, therefore,

The Executive Board of the Sacramento Council of Churches, in regular executive session of March 16, 1943, hereby officially declares its position, Seriously petitioning the Legislature of the State of California, now in session, and other duly and properly constituted organizations and groups within this State, to oppose any and all discriminatory actions against racial minority groups for the duration, lest a too hasty action on the spur of a "war psychology" impair the name of this great State and become a deterrent to post-war construction.

It is the position of the Executive Board that both democracy and religion have become subjected to a most crucial test; and that in the extraordinary efforts of these historic days to safeguard the human rights, the freedom of the spirit, and all the hard-won principles cherished and nurtured on our American soil, these priceless values must not be canceled out and lost to ourselves by actions shaped and commanded by the abnormalities of our war situation.

Religion would pledge itself to conserve and preserve these ideals and values of democracy despite a global war; and the Executive Board would invite the consideration and action of private organizations and official agencies of our State and democracy to resist all efforts of a racially discriminatory nature, which will jeopardize and seriously impair the very principles which are now at stake across the world.

By order of the Executive Board of the Sacramento Council of Churches

ALFRED TONNESS, Executive Secretary

RECESS

At 11 45 a m., on motion of Mr Sam L. Collins, the Assembly recessed until 2.15 p.m.

REASSEMBLED

At 2.15 p m , the Assembly reconvened

Hon Charles W Lyon, Speaker of the Assembly, presiding
Chief Clerk Arthur A Ohnimus at the desk.

Article 2. Furnishing of Textbooks to Pupils

6380. The governing board of a school district may fix a charge not to exceed the cost of such books to the district for books furnished pupils in classes for adults maintained in connection with a high school of the district.

6381. The governing board of each school district shall purchase textbooks for the use of pupils enrolled in the high schools of such district, which textbooks shall at all times be and remain the property of such district, to be supplied to the pupils thereof for use without charge.

6382. It shall be the duty of each governing board to make all necessary provisions and arrangements to place the books purchased within easy reach and accessible for the use of all the pupils in the high schools under its control.

Article 3. Requirements to Be Met by Publishers

6400. Any publisher who desires to offer textbooks for adoption and purchase under this chapter by governing boards of school districts shall file annually with the State Department of Education a catalog or list of all such textbooks showing for each such book the list price, all discounts allowed when new copies of the book are purchased, and the lowest exchange price that will be given when books in the same subject and of like kind and grade but of a different series are received in exchange and shall send immediately to the State Department of Education notice of such information about any new textbook offered by him and notice of any change in price of any textbooks offered by him.

6401. Every publisher desiring to offer one or more textbooks for adoption and purchase hereunder by the governing board of a school district must file with the State Department of Education a bond in a form approved by the Attorney General payable to the State of California.

6402. The sum of such bond for any such publisher shall be two thousand dollars ($2,000), the bond to be conditioned as follows:

6403. First—That the publisher will furnish all textbooks offered by him to the governing board of any school district at a price which shall not exceed the lowest price the publisher has made for such textbooks offered anywhere in the United States under similar conditions of transportation and marketing.

6404. Second—That the publisher will reduce such price automatically to purchasers within the State of California, whenever reductions are made elsewhere in the United States, so that at no time shall any such textbook be sold to a school district in California at a higher net price than is received for such book elsewhere in the United States under similar conditions of transportation and marketing; and that upon failure or refusal of the publisher to make such reduction all contracts for such book or books shall become null and void.

6405. Third—That copies of any edition of any textbooks sold by the publisher to any school district in the State of California shall be equal in quality as regards paper, binding, print, illustration, subject matter, and all other particulars that may affect its value to the highest quality of such edition of the textbook sold elsewhere.

6406. Fourth—That the publisher will not in any way, directly or indirectly, become associated or connected with any combination in restraint of trade in textbooks, and that he will not enter into any understanding, agreement, or combination to control prices or restrict competition in the sale of school books for use in the State of California.

6407. Fifth—That the publisher will maintain an office and warehouse in California or arrange with a depository in California to receive and handle orders for such textbooks.

6408. Sixth—That the publisher will pay the costs in a sum not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500) of any investigation conducted in accordance with the provisions of this chapter should the State Board of Education as a result of such investigation direct that a textbook of the publisher must not be adopted or purchased by the governing board of any school district.

6409. It shall be a misdemeanor for any publisher or his representative to offer for sale any textbook to a school district of California hereunder unless the publisher has placed on file in the office of the State Department of Education a valid bond, conditioned as provided in this chapter, in full force and effect.

6410. When, in the judgment of the State Board of Education there exists sufficient evidence that a textbook offered by any publisher and adopted by the governing board of a school district contains sectarian or denominational doctrine contrary to law or contains propaganda injurious to the welfare of the public schools, said Board of Education shall cause the book to be investigated by a committee of impartial experts. Such committee shall be constituted and shall conduct its investigation under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the State Board of Education. If, in the opinion of the committee such textbook does contain sectarian or denominational doctrine contrary to law or does contain propaganda injurious to the welfare of the public schools, said Board of Education may direct that such book must not be adopted or purchased by the governing board of any school district.

Article 4. Purchase of Textbooks

6.420. At least once each year the State Department of Education shall publish a complete list of all publishers who shall have filed a bond as provided in this chapter, one copy of which shall be sent to each county superintendent of schools, each city superintendent of schools, each high school principal and each clerk or secretary of the governing board of every school district maintaining a high school and to each such publisher.

6.421. Whenever the State Board of Education shall direct that any textbook must not be adopted or purchased by any school district, it shall be illegal for the governing board of any school district to purchase copies of such textbook or to continue the use of such textbook in the schools of the district, beyond the close of the current school year.

6.422. The governing boards of school districts shall order and purchase textbooks direct from the publisher or from the depository designated by the publisher in accordance with Section 6.407 of this code and shall examine the books when received, and if they are found to be correct and in accordance with the order the board shall draw a warrant for the proper amount, including the cost of transporting the textbooks, against any fund of the school district available for such purpose and shall remit such warrant to the publisher or depository within 30 days after receipt of the books.

Article 5. Penalties for Failure to Furnish Books

6.440. If any publisher who shall have filed a bond as provided in this chapter and who after accepting an order for textbooks from any school district shall fail or refuse to furnish such textbooks to such district upon the terms herein provided within a reasonable time after such order is accepted, the governing board of the district shall at once notify the State Department of Education of such failure or refusal, and the department shall make or cause to be made an investigation of such charge.

6.441. If the State Department of Education finds such charge to be true, it shall notify such publisher and notify the principal of each high school and the clerk or secretary of the governing board of each school district in the State of California maintaining a high school that such book or books shall not thereafter be adopted or purchased by any such district in the State.

6.442. Said publisher shall forfeit and pay to the State of California the sum of one hundred dollars ($100) for each failure or refusal to furnish said book or books, to be recovered in the name of the State of California in an action to be brought by the Attorney General in any proper court, the amount when collected to be paid into the Treasury to the credit of the State High School Fund.

Article 6. Bribery

6.450. No publisher of school textbooks nor agent of such publisher shall offer or give any emolument, money, or other valuable thing, or any inducement, to any member of the governing board of any school district or to any school official or teacher connected with any of the high schools of California, for his vote, or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any textbook to be used in any of the high schools of this State.

6.451. No member of the governing board of any school district or any school official or employee or any person connected with any of the public schools of California, shall accept any emolument, money, or valuable thing or any other inducement from any publisher, or agent of any publisher, for his vote, or promise to vote, or for the use of his influence for the adoption of any textbooks.

6.452. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent any person, publisher, or publisher's agent from supplying for purposes of examination necessary sample copies of textbooks to any member of a high school board, school district official, to any teacher or other district employee.

6.453. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent a member of the governing board of a school district, or school district official or any teacher or other district employee from receiving such sample copies; provided, that all copies of textbooks so received shall be returned within 30 days after the adoption of textbooks in the subject or subjects by the board.

Article 7. Penalties for Violation of This Chapter

6.460. Any publisher of school textbooks, or agent of such publisher, or any other person who violates any of the provisions of this chapter, on conviction thereof, shall be punished as for a misdemeanor; and if any such person occupies a public office or position he shall, in addition be removed from such office or position.

Article 8. Application of This Chapter

By Messrs. McCollister, Leonard, and Lowrey :

House Resolution No. 139

WHEREAS, In normal times the poultry industry in this State is of paramount importance to the people of California; and

WHEREAS, This importance has been tremendously magnified by reason of the existing shortages of meat and other forms of protein; and

WHEREAS, There annually exists at this time of year a normal surplus of cockerels which in the past have been destroyed because of a lack of available market; and

WHEREAS, This surplus of cockerels could be raised and marketed as broilers within a relatively short time if the ceiling price for broilers would permit the raising and marketing of broilers by poultrymen without incurring a substantial loss; and

WHEREAS, It would appear that the Office of Price Administration and other Federal agencies should do all in their power to encourage and stimulate the raising of broilers for use in California in order to relieve the present meat and protein shortage; and

WHEREAS, Despite the efforts of the poultrymen of the State of California to persuade the Office of Price Administration to realize the uniqueness of the California situation, the Office of Price Administration insists on fixing ceiling prices for California on production costs of other States where labor and feeding costs are much lower; and

WHEREAS, The persistence of the Office of Price Administration in its present conduct will result in the loss of many million pounds of poultry meat for use in California; and

WHEREAS, Local Office of Price Administration officials have refused to take appropriate steps to alleviate present conditions even when they have had power so to do; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Honorable Prentiss Brown, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, be and they are hereby memorialized to direct their regional representatives for California to establish ceiling prices for poultry in California that will permit making available to the citizens of this State this essential supplement to the meat and protein supply; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall transmit by telegram copies of this resolution to the President, the Vice President, to the Senators and Congressmen from California, and to the Honorable Prentiss Brown, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr. Maloney :

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal :

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19, 1943

Hon Thomas A. Maloney
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR MALONEY :

IN RE. Interest free credit for public use

Men in public office can not be true to their trust without carefully considering improved methods of financing and taxation, which promise a better life for all mankind

Remember, man designs and controls everything on this earth except the weather, earthquakes, and death. Therefore, just as we change and improve a machine which fails to work properly, so can our economic system be altered and improved to adequately serve all the people.

Men in public office are the people's chosen engineers to work out and determine these necessary changes.

Present unprecedented war financing should convince you that peace financing can also be simplified and extended to meet every need of the people.

In 1913, Robert L. Owen, working with Senator Carter Glass, prepared the Federal Reserve Act, which seemed to perfectly provide for economic need. Actual operation of the system convinced Mr. Owen of certain imperfections. He has proven himself big enough to admit the error, and has prepared the Patman Bill, which will create interest free credit for public use.

On page "3" of the enclosed resolution, you will find a copy of the Patman Bill, which I hope you will carefully study. The proposed resolution, asking Congress to provide interest free credit for public use, should be passed, even if it is necessary to eliminate the appropriation.

Why pay interest for "Book Entry Credit" when the Government has the power to do otherwise?

President Roosevelt's "Cradle to the Grave" Security Plan, and Governor Warren's hopes for works projects and pensions can not be permanently realized until our money system is first modernized.

If you disagree with ex-Senator Owen, father of the Federal Reserve Act, may we have the benefit of your opinion?

Very sincerely yours,

PAUL F. FRATESSA

TOM: If you find it is not good business to spend a few dollars to save millions then eliminate the appropriation.

PAUL

FOR ECONOMIC SECURITY

WHEREAS, Earl Warren, the Governor of the State of California, did on October 4, 1942, make a statement on old-age pensions which deserves and commands the attention and consideration of all Americans, which reads as follows:

The senior citizens of California have been deceived and misled long enough. They are entitled to pensions, not as a charity or a dole, but as a matter of right—as something they have earned in their productive years by their contributions to the upbuilding of the community. I do not believe a senior citizen should have to be in need in order to secure a pension. I do not believe he should be forced to relinquish any outside income he may have or any property he may have acquired. I don't believe he should be forced first to look to his children for support. I do not believe that a pension should be longer considered or called "Old Age Charitable Relief."

It is not just the number of years people have lived that should determine their right to a pension, because many people are efficient and able to work to very advanced ages, but rather the limit beyond which they are not permitted to obtain productive employment because of the stern dictates of a machine age. In order to be both realistic and humane, therefore, we must proceed upon the theory that a system which arbitrarily freezes people out of industry and declares them to be obsolete, merely because they have lived a fixed number of years, must make honorable provision for their support during the years of their enforced idleness.

The State of California must proceed upon this principle, and in doing so adopt a new policy of promptness, courtesy and cooperation in dealing with its citizens who are entitled to pensions. There has been too much politics and not enough action in the matter of pensions.

This is an honest program for honest people. Our senior citizens are honest people. They are entitled not only to our consideration but also to our gratitude, because whatever this Country is today has been made possible by their efforts and their sacrifices.

The pension problem must be solved on a social and not on a political basis. We must solve it in accordance with the above principles and the practicality of the situation in the State of California and the Nation.

It all of us who are sincerely interested in the ultimate solution of the pension problem will approach it in this manner, the day will not be far distant when a solution is found, both in California and throughout the Nation.

WHEREAS, Governor Earl Warren on December 11, 1942, in addressing the War Conference of the Northern California Chapter of The Associated General Contractors of America made a further statement, as follows:

We are ready for the leadership which has, from the beginning, been America's destiny. And to the fullest measure of my ability, as Governor of California, I will cooperate with all others, contributing my share of that leadership.

We must provide a job with good living wages for every person wanting work, and from the abundance these enthusiastic workers produce provide adequate pensions for those unable to work.

To meet and solve these problems, when I assume the office of Governor next January, I will ask for legislation to permit overall planning and to cooperate with citizen and municipal planning committees; to survey and plan huge wealth-creating public works projects sufficient to fully develop the natural resources of our State, and to take up the slack of unemployed workers not needed in private industry. This may take the form of either new legislation or an enlargement of the present statutes.

Moreover, I will ask for legislation to carry on economic research and make surveys to assist in the development and maintenance of private industry on a scale in keeping with our fast growing population and our expanding commercial possibilities.

WHEREAS, Neither pensions nor work can be adequately provided without first adopting an economic system which will enable the creation of work for all able-bodied citizens and payment of living-pensions to those unable to work through no fault of their own; and

WHEREAS, Industry is faced with depression and chaos unless purchasing power is stabilized at a level which is neither inflation nor deflation, thereby avoiding the danger of another economic debacle such as that of 1929;

Resolved, That the 78th Congress be, and it is hereby, memorialized to either purchase the Federal Reserve Bank, in order to make possible the creation of unlimited interest-free credit, or to pass the Wright-Patman Act, which was known as H. R. Bill 7230 of the 77th Congress, which bill reads as follows:

H. R. 7230—A bill authorizing the issuance of certificates of indebtedness to the Federal Reserve banks for financing the National defense, and for other purposes.

BE IT ENACTED, ETC. That the Secretary of the Treasury, with the approval of the President, is hereby authorized to issue certificates of indebtedness, PAYABLE WITHOUT INTEREST at such times and in such amounts as may be convenient out of the general fund by the Secretary of the Treasury. Such certificates shall be allocated and deposited by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System with the 12 Reserve banks, in substantial proportion as the assets of each bank bears to the assets of the 12 Reserve banks. Such certificates of debt shall be in amounts required to meet the appropriations of the Congress, in so far as such appropriations may exceed the current income of the Treasury available for such appropriations. The Reserve banks are hereby directed to receive such certificates of indebtedness and give credit therefor to the Treasurer of the United States at the face value thereof.

SEC. 2. From and after the passage of this act the United States shall be RESPONSIBLE FOR ALL LIABILITIES of the 12 Federal Reserve banks and exercise complete supervisory control of such banks and their branches, through the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System.

SEC. 3. The Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System shall require the Federal Reserve banks to purchase on account of the United States any bonds or notes or obligations of the United States which are offered to any of them at or below par, where such bonds or notes or obligations are negotiable under the terms of their issuance.

Be it further

Resolved, That there is hereby created a committee known as the Economic Security Committee and consisting of the Governor, who shall be chairman of the committee, two Members of the Senate and two Members of the Assembly, selected by each house, whose duty it shall be to invite the Governors of every State, and to invite such other persons as to them may be deemed expedient, to join with them on the committee in requesting Congress to pass such legislation; and a National Pension Bill; that there is hereby appropriated from the General Fund the sum of five million dollars ($5,000,000), to be used by the committee for its general use, and expense of giving proper widespread publicity to the intent and purpose of this resolution and the undertaking of this committee and to the measure which Congress is being requested to enact in order to purchase the Federal Reserve Bank, or to create interest-free credit by means of the Patman Bill, either of which will save untold millions to this State. Be it further

Resolved, That a representative be sent to Washington to secure the enactment of the desired measure together with a National Pension Bill, and that at least ten million (10,000,000) copies of this resolution be printed by the State Printer and distributed throughout the United States, and among Members of Congress.

MESSAGES FROM THE SENATE

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, March 20, 1943

MR. SPEAKER: I am directed by the Senate to transmit to your honorable body copies of certain telegrams between officers of the Senate and officials at Washington, D. C.

J. A. BEEK, Secretary of the Senate

*Hon. Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture

Lack of Federal cooperation in providing agriculture labor replacement and farm implement priorities is jeopardizing food production in California, discouraging crop planting and creating a state of general confusion among farming interests.

The uncertainty resulting from constant changing in Federal labor personnel and Federal farm policies in this State is such that the farmer fears to venture forward without some assurance of relief.

The Senate of the State of California respectfully requests information as to what is being done to meet the requirements of agriculture in California and what the farmer may expect in the way of labor and priorities.

It is imperative that we be forthwith advised how and when relief may be expected and how and what encouragement you can give the farmer that will enable him to solve his labor and priority problems and encourage him to proceed with food production with assurance that his efforts will not be futile and that farm labor and implements will be available when and as needed.

The situation is acute. Relief must be certain and immediate.

SENATE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

By FREDERICK F. HOUSLER, Lieutenant Governor, President of the Senate

March 17, 1943

The Senate of the State of California most respectfully asks that you give consideration to the wire of March 15th concerning farm labor and priorities and promptly furnish to the Senate the information requested.

J. A. BEEK, Secretary of the Senate
State of California

*Congressman Harry L. Englebright
House Office Building, Washington, D. C.*

Secretary Wickard persistently ignores request for information as to how and when California's requirements for farm labor and priorities will be met. Courtesy to a sovereign State should prompt early compliance with our request. Neglect of Federal bureaus to solve problem has forced special session of Legislature for next Saturday in attempt to meet agricultural demands. Bureaucratic Federal regulations may handicap problem but we should be furnished information requested of Secretary Wickard so Legislature may act advisedly at special session. May we not have cooperation of California Delegation in this regard?

JERROLD L. SEAWELL, President pro tempore of the Senate of the State of California

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19, 1943

*Hon. Jerrold Seawell, President pro tempore
California State Senate, Sacramento, California*

Received your wire of March 18th advising me Secretary of Agriculture had not replied to communications sent to him by California Legislature. Secretary now out of town, but his office advises me that no replies have as yet been made to resolution of Legislature. I requested and demanded that immediate reply be sent, and am advised that full information, by telegram, with reference to labor situation will be sent tonight, the same being addressed to Joseph A. Beek, Secretary of Senate. Information with reference to machinery priorities will be given in as full form as can be provided with information on hand. I deeply resent action of Agriculture Department. Kindly advise me if date forwarded by wire meets your requirements. Assure you my full cooperation and am taking matter up with delegation.

HARRY L. ENGLEBRIGHT, M.C.

California Legislature, Sacramento, California*

Due to inadvertent delay in replying to your letter of January 28th, inclosing Senate Joint Resolution No. 6, adopted by the California Legislature, I am quoting following paragraphs from my reply which has been mailed to you. "In promulgating conservation orders for the dual purpose of making sure that supplies will be available for war purposes and, at the same time, that food available for civilians will be stretched over a long enough period to permit new supplies to be produced, it has been necessary to place limits on sales by distributors. While this has not been done, as far as the major food commodities are concerned, on a basis of quotas arrived at through population statistics, the limitations have undoubtedly been felt more sharply in areas of increased population. We have established machinery for dealing with the more acute shortages through the organization of State and area food industry committees. The functions of these committees are to receive and investigate complaints of such shortages, and, where the complaints are verified, to arrange for the movement of necessary food to alleviate the condition. The committees also determine the causes of the shortages and recommend steps to prevent their recurrence. The meat and other industries are cooperating with us in this work.

We believe that the recently announced rationing programs, when they are put into effect, will go far toward bringing about the necessary adjustments so that no one area will have to put up with more inconveniences than another. Rationing, of course, is actually an allocation to consumers, and probably the only practicable type of allocation under which equitable distribution can be assured."

Regarding labor situation, Secretary Wickard on March 17th sent following telegram to Governor Warren: "Knowing your deep concern for California farmers in farm labor shortage, of which we in the Department of Agriculture are acutely aware, wish to inform you we have ready a unified, coordinated Farm Labor Program subject to Congressional action. Much of this program already under way, including importation Mexican and other foreign workers. Mexican Government yesterday authorized recruitment to be resumed immediately. Department representatives, aided by one or more California growers already in Mexico City, are proceeding immediately with recruitment to fill 6,000 California, Arizona, and other southwestern grower orders already certified for immediate need, and for several thousand more Mexican workers California and Arizona growers need and are ready to order. Possibility of using buses and boats in addition to rail transportation being investigated, in case it should be necessary. New agreement expected concluded soon with Bahaman Government for importation up to 6,000 workers when domestic workers unavailable. Other phases of Federal program include local recruitment and placement of agricultural workers for seasonal and steady work through county agents, United States Employment Service, Office of Civilian Defense, schools, organized women, civic, and voluntary groups. Also recruitment of experienced farmers in less productive areas, with one to three weeks training periods already in operation in approximately 30 States by arrangement with United States Office of Education. This program plans to place 25,000 experienced farmers on Nation's dairy, live stock, and poultry farms by July 1 and 50,000 by end of year. As previously announced, we have arranged with Selective Service for changes in classification of experienced farm workers to halt further drain from agriculture. Up to March 1st 500,000 farm workers had been deferred to Class 2-C and 3-C. It is estimated, under additional regulations announced March 7th, that deferments will reach total of 3,000,000 by the end of 1943 for those above and below age 38. Department plans to recruit, transport, and place large numbers of mobile domestic workers needed in intensive farming areas. These are highlights of the Federal program in close cooperation between U.S.D.A., War Manpower Commission, and other concerned agencies. Much of it already is under way, and remainder ready to go as quickly as Congress approves. We are striving for unified, coordinated program making fullest use of State and local organizations. We pledge California every assistance and cooperation to the end that we may have the complete utilization of Federal, State, and local facilities to place workers on the farms where needed to secure the maximum production of most vital implement of war—food."

Since above telegram sent, word received that first trainload Mexicans leaving for California Monday morning. Others to follow.

This telegram acknowledges also telegram March 15th from Frederick F Houser, Lieutenant Governor, and of March 17th from you. Additional information on farm implements will be sent as available.

SEAL BEACH, CALIFORNIA, March 22, 1943

DEAR SAM AND CLYDE: I am just recovering from the high compliment paid me by the Assembly on my seventy-fifth birthday. If I could have it in concrete form, would have it framed and hung in my den, alongside of Presidents of the United States and other celebrities, from constables up. It is memories such as these that keep me up and going strong.

The Long Beach Press Telegram carried the story, which I am enclosing. This was the handiwork of Mrs. Arrington, publisher of the Seal Beach Post, whom you probably know. She is a very bright woman and a good friend.

I could say much more, but my typist is in a war plant, the cook has struck, and I am mad.

I only wish I were able to go to Sacramento. Would like to see the new crowd in the old places. I can assure you they meet with my approval. I try to keep posted by the newspapers and radio.

People here call me a miracle man, recovering from illness after illness.

If and when I can be of service, I am at your command.
Please thank Mr. Speaker and the members for their courtesy.
Mrs. Stanton joins me in thanking you all.
Sincerely,

P. A. STANTON

736.3. Any stabilization and marketing plan shall contain the following provisions:

(a) Provisions for prohibiting distributors and retail stores from engaging in the unfair practices hereinafter set forth:

(1) The payment, allowance or acceptance of secret rebates, secret refunds, or unearned discounts by any person, whether in the form of money or otherwise.

(2) The giving of any milk, cream, dairy products, services or articles of any kind, except to bona fide charities, for the purpose of securing or retaining the fluid milk or fluid cream business of any customer.

(3) The extension to certain customers of special prices or services not made available to all customers who purchase fluid milk or fluid cream of like quantity under like terms and conditions

(4) The false or misleading advertising of fluid milk or fluid cream as defined in Section 654a of the Penal Code

(5) The purchase of any fluid milk in excess of 200 gallons monthly from any producer or association of producers unless a written contract has been entered into with such producer or association of producers stating the amount of fluid milk to be purchased for any period; the quantity of such milk to be paid for as Class 1, and the price to be paid for [each of the several classes] all milk received, but in any marketing area where an equalization pool is a part of a stabilization and marketing plan, such contract need not specify the quantity of milk in any one class. The contract shall also state the date and method of payment for such fluid milk, which shall not be later than the last day of the month following the month during which the fluid milk was purchased, the charges for transportation if hauled by the distributor, and may contain such other provisions as are not in conflict with this chapter, and shall contain a proviso to the effect that the producer shall not be obligated to deliver in any calendar month fluid milk to be paid for at the minimum price for fluid milk that is used for Class 4, as said class is defined in Section 735.3 of this code. A signed copy of such contract shall be filed by the distributor with the director within five days from the date of its execution.

(6) The purchasing, processing, bottling, transporting, delivering or otherwise handling in any marketing area of any fluid milk or fluid cream which is to be or is sold or otherwise disposed of by such distributor at any place in the geographical area within the outer, outside and external boundaries or limits of such marketing area, whether such place is a part of the marketing area or not, at less than the minimum wholesale and minimum retail prices effective in such marketing area

(7) The payment of a lesser price by a distributor to any producer for fluid milk or fluid cream which is distributed to any person, including agencies of the Federal, State or local government, located upon property within the geographical limits of any marketing area for less than the minimum prices established by the director to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid milk or fluid cream for said marketing area.

(8) The purchasing or receiving of any fluid milk or fluid cream by distributors from producers within a marketing area wherein a stabilization and marketing plan is in effect for less than the minimum prices established in such plan, regardless of whether such milk or cream is subsequently sold or distributed within or without such marketing area, or within or without the jurisdiction of the State of California; provided, however, that if such fluid milk or fluid cream is subsequently sold or distributed in another marketing area within the State of California where a stabilization and marketing plan is in effect, then the distributor shall pay the producer thereof not less than the minimum prices established in such plan in the marketing area wherein such milk or cream is sold or distributed; and provided further, that in the event such fluid milk or fluid cream is subsequently sold or distributed in any place within the jurisdiction of the State of California where no stabilization and marketing plan is in effect, then such milk or cream may be paid for by the distributor to the producer thereof at not less than the average price paid by distributors to producers for milk or cream of similar grade and quality at the plants in the vicinity where such milk or cream is so sold or distributed, as such prices are determined by the director from contracts required to be filed with him pursuant to this section.

(b) Provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers, for fluid milk in one or more of the various classes; provided, however, that the prices so designated or prescribed shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid milk for the marketing area involved to the price of manufacturing milk, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing fluid milk over and above costs incurred in producing and marketing manufacturing milk; and provided further, the director finds that such prices will tend to effectuate the purposes and policy of this chapter and will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk.

Any stabilization and marketing plan may contain the following provisions:

(c) Provisions whereby distributors shall report to each producer from whom fluid milk is secured, the volume of fluid milk received from such producer in pounds of milk, the milk fat test of such milk and the amount of fluid milk in milk fat pounds paid for in the several classes and the prices paid for the various classes for each month.

(d) Provisions whereby the director designates and prescribes or provides methods for designating or prescribing minimum prices to be paid by distributors to producers for fluid cream; provided, that the prices so designated or prescribed shall be based upon the economic relationship of the price of fluid cream for the marketing area involved to the price of manufacturing cream, taking into consideration the additional costs incurred in producing and marketing fluid cream over and above costs incurred in producing and marketing manufacturing milk; and provided further, that the director finds that such prices will tend to effectuate the purposes and policy of this chapter and will insure consumers a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome cream.

(e) Provisions whereby the director designates or prescribes methods to provide uniform prices to be paid to all producers supplying fluid milk to distributors for pasteurization purposes in the marketing area involved by pooling the returns of all such fluid milk; provided, that no equalization pool shall be established unless the director, after hearing, determines that producers who supply distributors with not less than sixty-five (65) per cent of the total volume of fluid milk used for pasteurization purposes and who represent not less than sixty-five (65) per cent of the total number of such producers desire the establishment of such pool, but no hearing shall be necessary if said sixty-five (65) per cent, by volume and production, of such producers petition the director in writing to establish such equalization pool as a part of the plan. If the director finds that an equalization pool is necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter he shall make provision therefor. The director may designate the local control board for the marketing area as his agency to operate the equalization pool and may permit such local board to employ a pool manager and such other necessary personnel and to incur such expenses incidental to the operation of the pool as the director finds are necessary. The director is hereby empowered to require distributors to make reports to the pool manager at such intervals and in such detail as he finds is necessary for the operation of the pool which reports shall be kept confidential as to any individual distributor but shall be available to the director or his agents and the pool manager, and such employees of the pool as are necessary to the operation of the equalization pool.

No provision of any pooling program shall prevent any distributor from paying premiums for quality; provided, all producers supplying fluid milk of like quality to such distributor are paid similar premiums, nor shall any provision prohibit the paying of different prices to producers based on differentials in transportation, adjustments or deductions made by a cooperative association of producers to its members, including the blending of proceeds received from the sale of fluid milk by such cooperative in other markets. Distributors who purchase fluid milk from producers for pasteurization purposes shall deduct from payments due such producers at such time and in such manner such sums as the director determines are sufficient to insure uniform prices to all producers subject to the provisions of the equalization pool, irrespective of the usage of such fluid milk by the distributors. Distributors shall make, in addition to the deductions herein prescribed, such additional deductions per pound milk fat as the director finds necessary to pay all expenses incidental to the operation of the equalization pool, including the establishment of a reserve account to insure prompt payments to producers. The deductions herein prescribed are in addition to any other deductions prescribed by this chapter.

(f) Provision whereby sales stimulation or consumer educational programs may be formulated and administered to increase the consumption of fluid milk and fluid cream, or other dairy products, provided, that such programs shall be carried on without reference to a particular brand or trade name; and provided further, that no such sales stimulation or consumer educational program shall be carried on which shall make use of false or unwarranted claims on behalf of such products or which disparages the quality, value, sale or use of any fluid milk or fluid cream or any other agricultural commodity authorized by law to be marketed within such marketing area.

Before any stabilization and marketing plan may provide for sales stimulation and consumer educational programs, not less than 65 per cent of the producers and who produce not less than 65 per cent of the total volume of fluid milk consumed in any marketing area shall petition the director in writing for the inclusion of such a program as part of the stabilization and marketing plan. If such a program is requested by distributors it shall be necessary that not less than 65 per cent of the total number of distributors and who distribute not less than 65 per cent of the total volume of fluid milk for consumption in the marketing area shall petition the director in writing for the inclusion of such a program as part of the stabilization and marketing plan.

The petition shall bear the signatures of petitioners, their addresses and the approximate daily volume of fluid milk handled in gallons and milk-fat pounds and the type of product distributed, together with the estimated cost of the program each month and the number of months the program is to continue in operation.

A sales stimulation and consumer educational program instituted by producers shall be financed by all producers supplying fluid milk to the marketing area. Such program, if instituted by distributors, shall be financed by all distributors supplying fluid milk to the marketing area. If such program is instituted by both producers and distributors, both producers and distributors shall finance the program equally.

If the program is instituted by producers the director is hereby empowered to require producers to pay assessments of not more than two mills per pound milk fat, or if the program is instituted upon a gallonage basis not more than seven mills for each 10 gallons of fluid milk received by distributor, including the production of distributors who are also producers.

If the program is instituted by distributors the director is hereby empowered to require distributors to pay assessments of not more than two mills per pound milk fat, or if the program is instituted upon a gallonage basis not more than seven mills for each 10 gallons of fluid milk received by distributors, including the production of distributors who are also producers.

If the program is instituted by both producers and distributors, the director is hereby empowered to require both producers and distributors to pay assessments for the purpose of providing funds for formulating, administering, and carrying on such program. The assessments to be paid by distributors shall not exceed two mills per pound milk fat, or if the program is instituted upon a gallonage basis not more than seven mills for each 10 gallons of fluid milk received by distributors including the production of distributors who are likewise producers. Assessments of not more than two mills per pound milk fat, or if the program is instituted upon a gallonage basis, not more than seven mills for each 10 gallons of fluid milk produced by producers and received by distributors, shall likewise be paid by producers. In no instance shall the combined assessments exceed four mills per pound milk fat, or if the program is instituted upon a gallonage basis not more than 14 mills for each 10 gallons of fluid milk received from producers and processed by distributors for distribution in the marketing area in the form of whole milk, fluid cream, or manufactured dairy products derived from fluid milk.

Before a program may be instituted a public hearing shall be called by the director, the procedure for which public hearing is to be the same as that required for the institution of a stabilization and marketing plan for fluid milk. At such public hearing testimony and evidence shall be taken to determine the necessity of such a program, the estimated costs of the program, the time during which the program is to be continued, and such other matters as are necessary in the institution of the program.

If, after public hearing and consideration of the testimony and evidence presented at said hearing, the director finds that a sales stimulation and consumer educational program will tend to effectuate the purposes of this chapter, he shall issue an order making effective such program. Such order shall state the number of months the program shall continue in operation, the rate of assessment per pound milk fat or per gallon to be paid by those petitioning for the program, the names, addresses and business locations of the persons appointed to administer the program and such order may contain other provisions which are necessary and incidental to the operation of the program.

The person named in the order to administer the program shall be selected by the director in the following manner and in the following number:

(a) If the program was instituted by producers the director shall name five representative producers from nominations made at the public hearing by the petitioners.

(b) If the program was instituted by distributors the director shall name five representative distributors from nominations made at the public hearing by the petitioners.

(c) If the program was instituted by both producers and distributors the director shall name three representative producers from nominations made at the public hearing by the petitioning producers and three representative distributors from nominations made at the public hearing by petitioning distributors.

(d) Distributors who are also producers shall be eligible to nomination for service on, and may be named by the director to serve on the committee to administer any program for which they will be required to pay assessments, and at least one of the persons named by the director to serve on any committee to administer any program for which distributors who are also producers will be required to pay assessments shall be a distributor who is also a producer.

All programs shall be administered by the persons named in the order of the director making the program effective, and shall be administered subject to the approval of the director. All amounts required to be paid to the director under this section by producers or distributors shall be paid to such director on or before the fifteenth day of the month following the month during which such fluid milk was received by distributors and all distributors receiving milk from producers in any area where the provisions of this section are in effect whereby the director is empowered to require payments from producers shall deduct and pay to the director such payments provided for under this section from the payments due for such distributors to such producers for fluid milk.

Upon the termination of any program, if there are any obligations arising thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any producer or distributor or by the persons appointed to administer the program or by the director, the power or duty to perform such further acts shall continue, notwithstanding such termination.

All moneys received by the director pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the Department of Agriculture Fund in the State treasury allocated to each separate marketing area from which they are collected and disbursed only for the purposes specified subject to the approval of the director.

Any money received by the director in excess of the amount required for any program shall be returned at such time as the director may determine on a pro rata basis to the persons from whom such funds were collected.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Mr O'Day:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, WASHINGTON, D. C., February 18, 1943
Honorable Edward F. O'Day and Honorable John W. Evans
1353 Church Street, San Francisco, California

DEAR EDDIE AND JOHNIE I have your letter with the very kind sentiments which you were permitted to express under House Resolution No. 45. It sort of warms me up a little, Ed and John I felt sort of lonesome back here anyway.

I have thought ever so many times of the session and of the probably discouraging job our boys have on their hands this time. I feel, at least from a legislative standpoint, there are very important things to do in Sacramento. One sees them more clearly after leaving. Here one is destined to be an orphan for an altogether too lengthy a period for comfort; however, the work and interest are increasing now day by day.

The weather is bad—and certainly so, for those of us from Southern California. Transportation is terrible, restaurants and places of recreation are all but impossible. One certainly must have a keen interest or determination here to be anything but miserable; however, I understand since I left California in October, things have not been so pleasant there either.

I was glad that you were the ones requested to convey this pleasant thought to me, and wish to thank you again. Wishing you the very best of everything, I am

Very cordially yours,

CECIL R. KING, M. C.

12. The doing of all acts and things necessary or convenient for the accomplishment of any of the purposes of this act. The enumeration of specific authority in this act shall not be deemed to limit in any way the general authority granted by this paragraph.

SEC. 2. The formation of a vehicle parking district hereunder may be proposed by petition signed by owners of land in the proposed district, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county in which the proposed district lies, owning lands of an assessed value not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the total assessed value of all lands in said district as shown by said assessment roll, or signed by twenty (20) owners of land in said district as shown by said assessment roll.

SEC. 3. The petition shall contain (1) a general description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, (2) a general description of the lands to be acquired for parking places, which lands may lie wholly or partially outside or inside the boundaries of the proposed district, (3) a general description of any lands or rights of way to be acquired as streets or alleys for ingress to or egress from the parking places, or any thereof, (4) a general description of the improvements proposed to be made or constructed, (5) a request that bonds be issued under Part 4 or Part 5 of this act and the term of and interest rate or maximum interest rate to be paid on such bonds, and (6) a statement that it is filed under this act. No defect or informality in the petition shall invalidate any proceedings hereunder.

SEC. 4. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments. It shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of the city in which the proposed district lies. When said petition has been filed, said clerk shall check the petition, or cause it to be checked. If the petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers, the clerk shall make his certificate to that effect and present the petition and said certificate to the legislative body. No defect in the certificate shall invalidate any proceeding hereunder.

SEC. 5. After the certificate and petition have been presented to the legislative body, said legislative body, if it finds and declares in the ordinance of intention that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition and improvement described in the petition and that the property to be acquired as described in the petition is necessary therefor, may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to form the vehicle parking district and to acquire the lands and rights of way, if any, and construct the improvements proposed in the petition.

Said ordinance shall also contain (1) the number of the proposed vehicle parking district and a general description of the exterior boundaries thereof, (2) a general description of the lands to be acquired for parking places, which lands may lie wholly or partially outside or inside the boundaries of the proposed district, (3) a general description of any lands or rights of way to be acquired as streets or alleys for ingress to or egress from the parking places, or any thereof, (4) a general description of the improvements proposed to be made or constructed, (5) an estimate of the cost and expense of the proposed acquisition and improvement, (6) a statement that an assessment will be levied as provided in this act to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisition and improvement, (7) if bonds are to be issued, a statement that bonds to represent unpaid assessments will be issued under Part 4 or Part 5 of this act, as the case may be, and the interest rate or maximum interest rate, and term of any such bonds, and (8) a date, hour and place for the hearing of protests and objections.

SEC. 6. Said ordinance shall be published once a week, for two successive weeks, in some newspaper published in such municipality. The first publication of said ordinance shall be not less than fifteen (15) days prior to the date fixed for the hearing of protests. Such ordinance, unless otherwise provided by charter of the municipality, shall take effect upon the completion of said publication. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published, copies of said ordinance shall be posted in three public places in the proposed district at least two (2) weeks before the date of hearing and said ordinance shall take effect two (2) weeks after the date the copies are posted. No defect in said publication shall invalidate any proceeding hereunder, provided the notice actually given thereby is not invalid under the Constitutions of the United States of America or the State of California. Copies of said ordinance headed "Notice of Formation of Vehicle Parking District," in letters at least one (1) inch in height, shall be posted upon all open streets within the proposed district. Said notices shall be not more than three hundred (300) feet apart and shall be posted at least fifteen (15) days prior to the hearing. No defect, error or mistake in the posting of said notices shall affect the validity of any proceedings hereunder.

SEC. 7. At any time not later than the hour set for hearing protests or objections, any owner of or person interested in any land within the boundaries of the proposed district as described in said ordinance may severally, or with other such owners, file with the clerk of the legislative body conducting the proceedings written objection to the thing or things proposed to be done or to the extent of the proposed district or to any or all of the foregoing. At such hearing all objections and protests shall be heard and considered. If upon said hearing it appears that the owners of more than one-half of the area of the taxable land included within the proposed district have made objection in writing to the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done in their entirety, the legislative body, by a resolution to be entered upon its minutes, shall so find and thereupon such legislative body shall have no power to proceed further under said ordinance of intention, and the said proceeding shall be thereby terminated.

In order that any such protests or objections shall operate as a bar and terminate the proceedings, such protests or objections must specifically state that they are to the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done in their entirety and not merely to some item, class, kind or part of the thing or things proposed to be done or to the boundaries of the proposed district. If the owners of more than one-half of the area of the property included within the district have not made written objections or protests to the thing or things proposed to be done as an entirety, the legislative body may so find orally, or otherwise, and proceed with the hearing. At such hearing the legislative body may modify the boundaries of the district and may exclude from the district described in the ordinance of intention any land which it may find will not be benefited by the doing of the thing or things proposed to be done. Said hearing may be continued from time to time by order entered on the minutes.

SEC. 8. Any objections or protests not made at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided shall be deemed to be waived voluntarily by any person who might have made such objection or protest and, except in the case of a majority protest, the legislative body may sustain or deny any or all objections and protests, and its determination thereon shall be final and conclusive. Said determination shall be entered upon the minutes. No proceeding hereunder may be attacked after the hearing hereinabove provided upon any ground not stated in an objection or protest filed as hereinbefore provided, and any landowner or person interested in any lands within said district shall be estopped to attack the proceedings upon any ground not stated in a protest filed by him in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this act.

SEC. 9. Unless the power to proceed has been terminated as hereinbefore provided, the legislative body at the conclusion of the hearing may find and determine that the public interest and necessity require and may order the acquisition and improvement described in the ordinance of intention. If said acquisition and improvement are ordered, the legislative body shall fix and establish the boundaries of the district and shall declare that the same has been duly formed under the provisions of this act. Such determination and order shall be by ordinance. Each vehicle parking district formed hereunder shall be numbered and the designation of such district shall be substantially (using appropriate number) "Vehicle Parking District No.----- of the City of -----"

PART 2

SEC. 10. The legislative body in its ordinance ordering the things proposed to be done and forming said district shall direct an action to be brought by the city attorney, or other attorney directed by it, in the proper superior court in the name of the municipality for the condemnation of the property necessary and proposed to be acquired as described in said ordinance of intention. The fee simple title of any lands to be acquired for parking places may be condemned.

The legislative body may contract for the purchase of any of said lands. Any part of said lands acquired by purchase or by gift need not be included in the condemnation action or, if included therein, need not be condemned.

SEC. 11. Except as herein otherwise provided, the condemnation action shall be filed and the condemnation proceedings taken substantially as provided in the Street Opening Act of 1903 and particularly in Chapters 7, 8, 9, and 10 thereof, and the provisions of Chapters 7, 8, 9, and 10 of said Street Opening Act of 1903 relating to the condemnation of property and the fixing of compensation and damages therefor are hereby adopted as the procedure to be followed under this act; provided, however, that failure to fully comply with the provisions of said chapters shall not invalidate any proceeding under this act.

SEC. 12. Upon the entry of the interlocutory judgment or upon the purchase price of the property to be acquired being fixed by contract, the legislative body shall order the engineer to make and deliver to the street superintendent a diagram of the acquisition and improvement and of the property within the vehicle parking district as finally established. The diagram shall show the land and any rights of way to be acquired, the proposed improvement, and also each separate lot or parcel of land within the vehicle parking district, the dimensions of each such lot or parcel of land and its relative location to the proposed acquisition and improvement. Said diagram shall be delivered to the street superintendent who shall endorse thereon the date of such delivery.

SEC. 13. The street superintendent upon receiving the diagram shall proceed to assess the total cost and expense of the proposed acquisition and improvement against the lands within the vehicle parking district, subject to assessment as provided in Section 14 hereof. The total cost and expense shall include the following:

(1) The amounts awarded the defendants in the condemnation action, together with their costs.

(2) Any amounts fixed by contract for the purchase of any lands or rights of way to be acquired.

(3) All costs and expenses of plaintiff in the condemnation action, attorneys' fees, fees of expert witnesses, service of process, and any other costs or expenses.

(4) The expenses of making the diagram and assessment.

(6) The estimated costs and expenses of the proposed improvement.

(7) All expenses of the proceedings under this act, including engineers' and attorneys' fees, title searches, certificates of title, publication and posting of ordinances or notices, maps, plans, and the estimated expenses of the proceedings thereafter to be taken.

SEC. 14. Except as provided in this section, all lands within the vehicle parking district shall be assessed to pay the costs and expenses of the acquisition and improvement. No lands owned by the United States and no streets, alleys or high-ways or property to be acquired for parking places under this act shall be assessed.

Any lot or parcel of land in any other public use belonging to the State or to any county, city, district or other public corporation, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded or insane, in use in the performance of a public function and included within the boundaries of a parking district as described in the petition, in the discretion of the legislative body may be omitted from the assessment and from the parking district. Such omission shall be stated in the ordinance of intention and, if not so stated, such lands shall be included within the district and shall be subject to assessment in the same manner as other lands therein.

Any assessment upon public property shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of such owner and said assessment shall be an enforceable obligation against the owner of or the governing body controlling said property.

If for any reason there are no moneys available for the payment of said assessment, then the board or officer whose duty it is to levy taxes for the owner of said public property shall include in the next tax levy an amount, in addition to moneys for all other purposes, sufficient to pay said assessment and the interest thereon from the date the assessment is recorded at the rate established for the bonds, and when the moneys received from said tax levy are available said assessment and interest thereon shall be paid by the officer or board having charge of the disbursement of the funds of the owner of such land.

Any duty imposed by this section may be enforced by action, mandamus or other proceeding.

SEC. 15. The assessment shall be made, notice given, hearing held, and the assessment confirmed and recorded substantially in the manner provided in Chapter 11 of the Street Opening Act of 1903, and the provisions of Chapter 11 of the Street Opening Act of 1903, relating to the method of making or spreading the assessment, the giving of notice, the holding of the hearing, and the confirmation and recordation thereof, are hereby adopted as the procedure to be followed under this act, and all of the powers and authority granted in Chapter 11 of said Street Opening Act of 1903 shall be applicable to any assessment to be levied hereunder, except that the property to be assessed shall be as defined in Section 14 hereof and assessments upon public property shall be enforced as provided in said Section 14.

SEC. 16. From the date of such recording, all persons shall be deemed to have notice of the contents of such assessment roll. Immediately upon such recording, the several assessments contained in such assessment roll shall become due and payable, and each of such assessments shall be a lien upon the property against which it is made. Said lien shall continue until the assessment and all interest and penalties thereon are paid or until it is discharged of record.

SEC. 17. Said lien shall be superior to and have priority over all special assessment liens created against the same property subsequent to the date of such recordation. Any deed issued in the foreclosure of said assessment lien or sale of property for said lien shall convey the said property to the purchaser free and clear of all encumbrances, except taxes, and such special assessment liens as are, at the date of creation of said lien, equal or superior to said assessment lien.

SEC. 18. No action or proceeding to set aside, cancel, avoid, annul or correct any assessment or reassessment, or to review any of the proceedings, acts, or determinations therein, or to question the validity of, or to enjoin the collection of any assessment or reassessment, or to enjoin the issuance of bonds to represent any assessment or reassessment, shall be maintained by any person unless such action or proceeding is commenced within thirty (30) days after the recording of the diagram and assessment or reassessment, and thereafter all persons shall be barred from any such action or proceeding or any defense of invalidity of the assessment or of bonds issued thereon or of any reassessment and of bonds issued thereon.

SEC. 19. The officer with whom said assessment is recorded shall give notice by publication twice in a daily or weekly newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the lands assessed lie that said assessment has been recorded in his office and that all sums assessed therein became due and payable upon the recordation of said assessment, stating the date of such recordation and that the payment of the said sums is to be made to him within thirty (30) days after the date of such recordation. Said notice shall also contain a statement that bonds to represent assessments remaining unpaid after said thirty (30) days will issue in the manner and form provided in Part ----- (designating the part as fixed by the ordinance of intention) of this act and shall state the period over which said bonds shall extend and the rate or rates of interest which shall be payable thereon.

SEC. 20. Notice shall also be given by mailing a post card to the owner of each lot, piece or parcel of land assessed according to the name and address appearing on the last equalized assessment roll for county taxes prior thereto or as known to the officer giving such notice; provided, that a failure of the officer with whom the assessment is recorded to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive the same shall not affect the validity of the proceedings or the validity of the lien of any assessment or of any bond issued thereon.

SEC. 21. When any assessment is paid the street superintendent shall mark opposite such assessment the word "Paid," the date of payment, and the name of the person by or for whom the assessment is paid, and shall, if so requested, give receipt therefor.

SEC. 22. After the full expiration of thirty (30) days from the date of recording said assessment, the superintendent of streets shall make a complete list of all assessments unpaid and the amounts thereof unpaid, excepting therefrom unpaid assessments upon public property. All unpaid assessments upon public property shall be collected as provided in Section 14 hereof but if the property is not in use in the performance of a public function the lien of the assessment may be foreclosed.

SEC. 23. In the event bonds are to be issued as provided in this part, the list of unpaid assessments shall be certified and filed with the city treasurer. The city treasurer, upon the filing of the list, shall make out and sign a separate bond representing upon each lot or parcel of land on the list the total amount of the unpaid assessment against the same, as shown on said list.

SEC. 24 The legislative body shall sell said bonds for cash for not less than the amount of the assessments represented by said bonds. At any time after the assessment is recorded, said legislative body may call for sealed bids on the bonds proposed to be issued. Notice inviting bids shall be given by two publications in a newspaper published in the city, the first publication to be at least ten (10) days before the bids are to be opened. The bonds shall be sold for cash to the best responsible bidder. The bonds may be sold at any rate of interest not exceeding that stated in the ordinance of intention.

The legislative body may sell said bonds at private sale.

SEC. 25. Upon the award of the bonds to a purchaser or purchasers, the treasurer shall issue bonds representing the liens of the unpaid assessments as shown on the list filed under Section 23 hereof and bearing interest at the rate fixed by the legislative body. The treasurer shall deliver the bonds to the purchaser or purchasers thereof upon receiving the purchase price bid therefor. The purchase price shall be deposited in the improvement fund of the district.

SEC. 26 Except as otherwise provided in this part, the bonds to be issued under this part shall be issued under the provisions of Part 5 of the Improvement Act of 1911 and, except as herein modified, the provisions of said Part 5 are hereby adopted for the issuance, collection and enforcement of bonds issued under this part, and, except as herein otherwise provided, all of the provisions of said Part 5 shall apply to bonds issued under this part.

SEC. 27. Said bonds shall be dated and bear interest from the date of recordation of the assessment, and shall be substantially in the following form:

VEHICLE PARKING DISTRICT No.-----

This bond is payable exclusively from said fund, and neither the city nor any officer thereof is to be helden for payment otherwise of its principal or interest. Treasurer of the City of _____

PART 5

SEC. 28. In the event bonds are to be issued as provided in this part, the list of unpaid assessments shall be certified and filed with the city clerk.

The legislative body shall issue bonds in the total principal sum of the assessments unpaid as shown on said list, less any assessments paid prior to the adoption of the resolution determining the amount of the unpaid assessments.

At any time prior to the adoption of said resolution, any assessment on said list may be paid to the street superintendent, together with a five per cent (5%) penalty for delinquency.

The legislative body shall pass a resolution determining the amount of the unpaid assessments and order refunding bonds in said amount issued. The legislative body shall prescribe the denomination of such bonds, which shall be in convenient amounts, not necessarily equal, and provide for the issuance of the same.

SEC. 29 All bonds issued under this part shall mature on July 2d. Said bonds shall be issued to mature in series and an even annual proportion of the aggregate principal sum thereof shall be payable on the second day of July of every year until the whole is paid, the first series or installment being payable on the second day of July next succeeding the first ten (10) months after their date. The final series or installment of said bonds shall mature and be payable on a date which shall not exceed nineteen (19) years from the second day of July next succeeding ten (10) months from their date. Said bonds shall be dated as of the date of the recordation of the assessment. Said bonds shall bear interest at such rate or rates as may be determined by the legislative body but not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum from the date of recordation of the assessment until the whole of said principal sum and interest is paid. The interest shall be payable semiannually by coupon on the second days of January and July, respectively, of each year, and the first coupon shall be payable on the second day of January next succeeding the first four months after the date of the bonds and shall be for the interest accrued to that time.

SEC. 30. Said bonds and interest shall be paid at the office of the treasurer of the city in which the district lies. Said treasurer shall keep a redemption fund designated by the name of said bonds into which he shall place all sums received by him from the collections of the assessments upon the security of which said bonds are issued, and all interest and penalties thereon. From such fund he shall disburse and pay said bonds and the interest thereon upon presentation of the proper bonds and interest coupons, and neither said bonds nor the interest thereon shall be paid out of any other fund. Said treasurer shall keep a register in his office which shall show the series, numbers, date, amount, rate of interest, last known holder of each bond, and the number and amount of each interest coupon paid by him, and shall cancel and file each bond and coupon so paid.

SEC. 31. Said bonds shall be issued in substantially the following form:

Under and by virtue of an act of the Legislature of the State of California entitled "Vehicle Parking District Act of 1943," the City of _____ will, on the second day of July, 19____, out of the redemption fund for the payment of bonds issued upon the assessments levied to acquire and improve public parking places for Vehicle Parking District No _____ of the City of _____ pay to the bearer the sum of _____ dollars ($_____), with interest thereon from the _____ day of _____, 19____, at the rate of _____ per cent per annum until this bond is paid, at the office of the treasurer of the City of _____, State of California.

This bond is one of an issue of bonds of like date, tenor and effect issued by the City of _____ under said act for the purpose of providing public parking places for Vehicle Parking District No. _____ of the City of _____, and is secured by the moneys in said redemption fund and by the unpaid assessments made for the purpose of providing said parking places and, including principal and interest, is payable exclusively out of said fund.

The interest is payable semiannually, to wit, on the second days of January and July in each year hereafter upon presentation of the proper coupons therefor; provided, that the first of said coupons is for the interest to the second day of January, 19____, and thereafter the interest coupons are for the semiannual interest. This bond will continue to bear interest after maturity at the rate above stated, provided it is presented at maturity, or within 10 days thereafter, and payment thereof is refused on the ground that there is not sufficient money in said redemption fund with which to pay same. If it is not so presented, interest thereon will run until maturity.

This bond may be redeemed and paid in advance of maturity upon the second day of January or July in any year by giving the notice provided in said act and by paying principal and accrued interest to such date of redemption.

It is hereby certified, recited, and declared that all proceedings, acts, and things required by law precedent to or in the issuance of this bond have been regularly had, done and performed, and this bond is by law made conclusive evidence thereof.

SEC. 32. Said bonds shall be signed by the mayor or other chief executive of the city and by the treasurer of said city and attested by the clerk of said city, and the seal of the city shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons affixed to said bonds shall be signed by the city treasurer and may be signed by the printed, lithographed or engraved facsimile signature of said treasurer. Said bonds shall have interest coupons attached thereto payable semiannually on January 2d and July 2d, and the first coupon shall be payable on the second day of January next succeeding the first four (4) months after the date of the bonds and shall be for the interest accrued to that time. The bonds so issued shall be payable to bearer and shall bear interest at the rate specified in the resolution ordering the bonds issued. The bonds maturing in any year shall constitute the annual series of that year and the aggregate principal of the bonds in such series shall equal the even annual proportion of the aggregate principal sum of the entire bond issue hereinbefore referred to. Said bonds by their issuance shall be conclusive evidence of the regularity of all proceedings had prior thereto and of the validity of such bonds, and shall be negotiable. Any of said bonds may be surrendered by the holder to the city treasurer for registration in accordance with the provisions of any law applicable to the registration of bonds issued by the city. Thereafter the principal and interest thereon shall be paid to the proper registered owner thereof.

In case any officer whose signature or countersignature or attestation appears on any bonds or interest coupons thereof, issued under the provisions of this act, shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of the bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature or attestation, either on the bonds or interest coupons, or both, shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds, and the signature upon the coupons of the person who is treasurer at the date of such bonds shall be valid although the bonds themselves may be signed by a different person who is treasurer at the time of delivery of such bonds.

SEC. 33. The bonds to be issued may be sold at any time after the assessment is recorded and in such manner as the legislative body may provide. Said bonds may be sold for cash to the best responsible bidder after public bidding, and bids may be received upon an interest rate basis or upon the interest rate stated in the ordinance of intention. Notice inviting bids shall be given by publication by two insertions in a newspaper of general circulation in the city, the first publication of such notice to be at least ten (10) days before the date the bids are to be opened. If bids are received on an interest rate basis, bidders shall be invited in the notice to state the rate or rates of interest at which they will purchase the bonds, not exceeding the rate stated in the ordinance of intention. Notwithstanding the statement of the rate in the ordinance of intention and in any notices subsequent thereto, said bonds may be issued and sold at a lower rate of interest than stated therein. If the legislative body has adopted its resolution ordering the bonds issued and fixing the interest rate of said bonds therein, it may nevertheless sell said bonds at a lower rate of interest and by resolution fix and establish said lower rate of interest thereon. The ordinance of intention and all notices may provide that the rate or rates of interest stated therein shall be maximum rates of interest. All moneys derived from the sale of said bonds shall be paid into the improvement fund of said district.

SEC. 34. In the event bonds are issued under this part, the assessments unpaid as shown by the resolution determining the same, and any reassessments which may be issued thereon, or in lieu thereof, together with interest and penalties thereon, shall remain and constitute a trust fund for the redemption and payment of said bonds and for the interest which may be due thereon. Such assessments and reassessments and each installment thereof and the interest and penalties thereon shall be and shall continue to constitute a lien against the lots or parcels of land on which made, until the same be paid or discharged of record; provided, however, that the unmaturing installments, interest and penalties shall not be deemed to be within the terms of any general warranty of title.

SEC. 35. A copy of the resolution of the legislative body determining the assessments unpaid shall be filed in the office of the city auditor, if the city taxes are collected by city officials, but if the city taxes are collected by county officials the copy shall be filed in the office of the county auditor. The auditor shall keep a record in his office showing the several installments of principal and interest on said assessments which are to be collected in each year during the term of said bonds. The auditor shall annually enter in his assessment roll on which taxes will next become due, opposite each lot or parcel of land affected, in a space marked "Vehicle Parking District No. --- Assessment," or by other suitable designation, the several installments of such assessment coming due during the fiscal year covered by such assessment roll, including in each case the interest due on such total unpaid assessments as herein provided. In the event that such collections are made by the county officials the county auditor shall at the close of the tax collecting season promptly render to the city auditor a detailed report showing the amounts of such installments, interest and penalties so collected for each district and from what property collected. Taxpayers shall have the like right to pay such assessment as so entered with interest, and any penalties thereon, under protest as they have to pay general municipal taxes under protest, but in making such payment under protest must accompany the payment with their written protest. In the event of the lot or parcel of land affected by any assessment not being separately assessed on said roll so that the installment to be collected can be conveniently entered thereon, then said auditor shall enter on said roll a description of the lot or parcel affected, with the name of the owners if known, but otherwise described as "unknown owners," and extend the proper installment opposite same.

SEC. 36. Any owner may release and pay any such unpaid assessment by depositing with the city treasurer the total unpaid balance of any such assessment, together with the total interest which would become due on such assessment were it paid in the regular way. If and when such funds are used in whole or in part to call a like principal amount of bonds, the person paying the assessment shall be entitled to credit and reimbursement of his proportion of the interest saved by such call, less his proportion of any costs incurred for publishing or serving any notice of call for redemption.

SEC. 37. The unpaid assessments shall be payable in annual series corresponding in number to the number of series of bonds issued, and an even annual proportion of each assessment shall be payable in each year preceding the date of maturity of each of the several series of bonds so issued. Such annual proportion of each assessment coming due in any year, together with the annual interest on such assessment, shall in turn be payable in annual or semiannual installments according as the general taxes of such city on real property are payable in annual or semiannual installments. Such installments and said interest shall be payable and become delinquent at the same times and in the same proportionate amounts and bear the same proportionate penalties and interest after delinquency as do the general taxes on real property in said city.

SEC. 38. Upon default the lands securing said installments and assessments shall be sold in the same manner in which real property in such city is sold for the nonpayment of general taxes and be subject to redemption within one year from date of sale in the same manner as such real property is redeemed from such delinquent sale, and upon failure of such redemption shall pass, in like manner, to the purchaser or be sold to a purchaser. The city must be the purchaser at any delinquent sale in like manner in which it becomes or may become the purchaser of property sold for nonpayment of the general property tax, and shall pay and transfer into said redemption fund in lawful money the amount of the delinquent assessment and the delinquent interest thereon for which said sale is made. Where the municipal property tax is collected by county officials and sales for nonpayment of such taxes are made to the State, the State shall be the purchaser at any such sale hereunder, but shall hold the title acquired at such sale upon behalf of the city, and shall account to the city for any moneys received upon redemption or from the sale of such property, the city for the purposes of this act being deemed the real purchaser. In the event of there being no available funds in the treasury with which to make such payment, the tax collector shall delay entry of the certificate of sale until such funds are available, making demand in the meantime upon the legislative body that a suitable amount be included in the next tax levy for the purpose of providing funds with which to make such payment; provided, however, that the period of redemption from such tax sale shall not be extended thereby nor the rights or privileges of the property owner be thereby in any wise affected. In the event of such purchase being made and of any succeeding installment of such assessment or of such interest not being paid in any future year, the property shall not be sold unless there has previously been a redemption from such sale or unless under the law it is then being sold for delinquent taxes. The city shall nevertheless, unless a resale has been made by it, from time to time when due, pay and transfer into said redemption fund the amount of any such future delinquent assessment and interest pending redemption, and no redemption shall be made until any such subsequent payment, with interest and penalties, shall also be paid. The purchaser, whether at tax collector's sale or at resale by the city, in the event of the city having become the purchaser, or at foreclosure sale by order of court, shall take the property subject to all unpaid installments, interest and penalties under the same proceeding.

SEC. 39 The legislative body may, and in the event that property has been sold to the city, or to the State for delinquent assessments or installments thereof or interest thereon (the city being deemed the real purchaser), and funds are not available to make payment therefor, must, at the time of fixing the annual rate and levying the taxes for general municipal purposes, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in the city for the purpose of paying for the lands purchased or to be purchased at said tax sales. Also, unless funds will be otherwise available therefor, the city must annually, at the time of fixing the annual rate and levying the taxes for general municipal purposes, levy a special tax upon the taxable property in said city for the purpose of paying installments of the assessment and of interest which the city is required to pay under the provisions of Section 38 hereof. Such special tax for each district shall not exceed annually ten cents ($0.10) on each hundred dollars ($100) of assessable property in the city. Such special tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for city purposes, and shall be computed, entered and collected in the same manner and by the same persons and at the same time and with the same penalties and interest as are other taxes of the city.

SEC. 40 The city shall have the right to advance and pay any other taxes wherever necessary to protect its interest in property against which there is a delinquent assessment. It may also at its discretion temporarily transfer moneys into the redemption fund from other funds in which such moneys are not immediately needed, the moneys so transferred to be used to pay sums due from such redemption fund and to be retransferred therefrom out of the first available receipts.

SEC. 41. If any lot or parcel of land is sold for nonpayment of taxes and of any installment of the assessment thereon, or of the penalties, interest or costs on the same, or for the nonpayment of any installment, or penalties, interest or costs, any certificate of such sale and any deed issued shall be primary evidence of the regularity of all proceedings had prior thereto, and shall be conclusive evidence of all things of which bonds issued upon the security of the assessments are conclusive evidence, and prima facie evidence of the regularity of all proceedings subsequent to the issuance of the bonds, and such deed conveys to the grantee the absolute title to the lands described therein, free of all incumbrances, except the lien for other State, county and city taxes and unpaid installments, interest and penalties under the same proceeding and except all public improvement assessments which may have priority thereover.

SEC. 42 As a cumulative remedy, if any assessment or reassessment or installment thereof, or of any interest thereon, together with any penalties and other charges accruing under the taxation ordinance of the city, are not paid when due, the legislative body may, not later than four years after the delinquent date of the last installment of principal of the assessment, order that the same be collected by an action brought in the superior court to foreclose the lien thereof.

SEC. 43 Costs in the action shall be fixed and allowed by the court and shall include a reasonable attorney's fee, interest, penalties and other charges or advances authorized under this act, and when so fixed and allowed by the court the costs shall be included in the judgment.

SEC. 44. The court shall have the power to adjudge and decree a lien against the lot or parcel of land covered by the assessment or reassessment for the amount of the judgment and to order the premises to be sold on execution as in other cases of the sale of real property by the process of the court, with the same rights of redemption.

The foreclosure action shall be governed and regulated by the provisions of this act and also, where not in conflict with this act, by the codes of this State.

The amount of penalties, costs and interest due shall be calculated up to the date of the judgment.

SEC. 45. When any foreclosure actions are ordered, the tax collector shall be credited upon the assessment roll then in his hands with the amount charged against him on account of the assessments or reassessments, or installments thereof, to be sued on and he shall be relieved of further duty to collect the same.

SEC. 46 The foreclosure action shall be brought in the name of the city, and may be brought at any time prior to the expiration of four years subsequent to the date of delinquency of the last installment due or to become due upon the assessment or reassessment sued on. The complaint may be brief and include substantially only the following allegations with reference to the assessment or reassessment sought to be collected:

(a) That on a date stated, the legislative body passed its ordinance ordering certain acquisition and improvement, without describing the same

(b) That the acquisition and improvement was made pursuant to the ordinance.

(c) That an assessment to pay the cost and expense of the acquisition and improvement was duly given and made.

(d) That certain property (describing it) was therein assessed a stated amount and that bonds upon the security of such assessment were duly issued under this part, giving the date of said bonds, their interest rate, and the number of years the last installment of same was to run, but it shall not be necessary to state the amount, number, denomination or other terms of the bonds.

(e) That on a date stated a certain sum came due against the described property on the assessment and had not been paid and that the legislative body had ordered the action to foreclose.

SEC. 47. No bond, coupon, assessment or installment thereof or of the interest or penalties thereon, or certificate of sale or deed shall be held invalid for any error in the computation of the proper amount due on the same, if the error is found to be comparatively negligible, or is found to be in favor of the owner of the real property affected thereby.

SEC. 48. If any lot or parcel of land, upon which there is an unpaid assessment against which a bond has been issued under this part, is subdivided, or the ownership of a portion of such lot or parcel of land is transferred to another person, the legislative body may order the street superintendent to file with the clerk an amended assessment of the original parcel of land affected by such subdivision or transfer of ownership segregating and apportioning the unpaid installments of the original assessment in accordance with the benefits to the several parts of the original lot or parcel.

The street superintendent shall file with the clerk a report and an amended assessment of the lots or parcels of land described in the order of the legislative body, together with a map or plat showing how such lots or parcels have been divided. The total amount of the assessments of the several portions of any one original lot or parcel shall be equal to the unpaid assessments upon that original lot or parcel of land.

SEC. 49. Upon the filing of the street superintendent's report and amended assessment, the clerk shall fix a time and place for a hearing upon the amended assessment and shall give notice of the hearing by publication. The notice shall contain a statement of the time fixed for the hearing upon the amended assessment and any objections thereto, which time shall not be less than fifteen (15) days from the first publication of the notice. The notice shall contain a reference to the original assessment and to the improvement proceedings and shall refer to the report and map or plat of the amended assessment for particulars, and no other description of the lots or parcels of land affected thereby shall be necessary.

SEC. 50. All persons interested in the original assessment, or in the lands affected thereby or in the bonds secured thereby, may, at the time of the hearing or at any time to which the hearing may be continued, appear and protest against the amended assessment. At the hearing the legislative body shall hear and determine all objections to the division of the assessments and shall confirm or modify the same. All determinations and decisions of the legislative body shall be conclusive upon all persons entitled to object under the provisions of this section. Final action of the legislative body upon the report and amended assessment shall be taken on or before the fifteenth day of July of any year.

SEC. 51. The clerk shall file the amended assessment, as confirmed or modified by the legislative body, with the auditor who shall annually thereafter enter upon the assessment roll the installments becoming due on each component part of the original parcel opposite a description of the respective parcels so assessed.

When a city is conducting the proceedings and collections upon the assessments are made by county officials, the city clerk shall transmit a copy of the amended assessment to the county auditor.

SEC. 52. By proceeding in accordance with the provisions of this part, the treasurer may advance the maturity of any bond to the second day of January or July in any year and pay and cancel the same whenever there are sufficient surplus moneys in the redemption fund for its retirement.

In selecting bonds for retirement, the treasurer shall choose the bond of earliest maturity that is feasible for retirement but shall make provision for returning to owners releasing and paying unpaid assessments under Section 36 hereof all interest not accrued less the interest paid on the bonds retired and the cost of giving notice of advanced maturity.

SEC. 53. Notice of advanced maturity may be given in writing to the holder or owner of the bond by registered mail or personal service, or it may be addressed "To Whom It May Concern" and be given by publication. If the notice is given by publication, a copy of the notice shall be mailed to the last known holder or owner of the bond at his last known address at least sixty (60) days prior to the date of advanced maturity. If the notice is given:

(a) By personal service, service thereof shall be made at least sixty (60) days before the date fixed for advanced maturity.

(b) By registered mail, the mailing shall be made at least sixty (60) days before the date fixed for advanced maturity.

(c) By publication, the first publication shall be made at least sixty (60) days before the date fixed for advanced maturity.

More than one bond may be covered in a single notice of advanced maturity.

The cost of serving or publishing the notice of advanced maturity shall be paid from the redemption fund.

SEC. 54. If notice of advanced maturity is given, the bond or bonds shall mature and become payable on the date fixed for maturity in the notice. The holder or owner of any bond called may, prior to the date of advanced maturity, surrender it and receive the principal and interest thereon to the date of payment. If the bond has not been sooner surrendered, then on the date fixed for advanced maturity, the treasurer shall set aside to the credit of the owner of the bond the amount of principal and accrued interest then due on the bond, and the bond shall then be deemed to have matured and interest shall cease to accrue on the bond. The amount so set aside shall, upon demand and upon the surrender and cancellation of the bond, be paid to the holder or owner of the bond.

SEC. 55. Prior to the surrender of any bond or the setting aside of any funds, the treasurer may waive and vacate any notice of advanced maturity upon being tendered for cancellation some other bond or bonds of an equivalent amount and of a maturity not earlier than that noticed, if ten (10) days' notice of his intention so to do is first given by mail or otherwise to the holder or owner of the bond noticed for advanced maturity, and such holder or owner has not objected to such action.

PART 6. ACQUISITION AND IMPROVEMENT

SEC. 56. The street superintendent, from time to time, shall pay over to the treasurer all moneys collected by him on account of any assessment levied under this act. The treasurer, on receipt thereof, shall place said moneys in a special fund, designated the improvement fund of the vehicle parking district for which the assessments were levied. All proceeds of any bonds issued hereunder likewise shall be placed in said special fund.

SEC. 57. As soon as there is sufficient money in the special fund devoted to the proposed acquisition and improvement to pay the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the condemnation action, said amounts shall be paid to the parties entitled thereto or into court for their benefit.

If any property is being acquired by private purchase, the amounts fixed by the contract of purchase shall be paid to the parties entitled thereto upon the delivery to the city of a good and sufficient deed conveying to the city the property or the interest in property to be so acquired.

SEC. 58. When satisfactory proof is made to the court of payment of the amounts awarded by the interlocutory judgment to the respective parties entitled thereto, or into court for their benefit, the court shall direct the interlocutory judgment to be satisfied and shall make and enter a final judgment condemning the lands described in the complaint to the use of the plaintiff for the purposes specified in the complaint.

SEC. 59. If the proceedings provided for any improvements to be constructed, contracts for the construction of said improvements shall be let by the legislative body of the city in the same manner and with the same faithful performance or labor and material bonds as provided by law for contracts payable from the general funds of said city. The contractor shall be paid from the special improvement fund.

SEC. 60. In case of a deficiency in the special fund for such improvement, the legislative body in its discretion may provide for such deficiency by an appropriation out of the general fund of the treasury, or by ordering a supplementary assessment to be made by the street superintendent upon the property in the vehicle parking district in the same manner and form, and subject to the same procedure as provided in Part 3 hereof for the original assessment. In order to avoid delay in event of a supplementary assessment, the legislative body may advance such deficiency out of the treasury and reimburse the treasury from the collections under the supplementary assessment. In case of a surplus in the special fund for the improvement, such surplus shall be used for the repair of the improvements constructed.

PART 7. REASSESSMENT

SEC. 61. A reassessment shall be issued in any of the following events:

Whenever any assessment heretofore or hereafter made, issued or filed in the office of the clerk, or whenever any bonds issued to represent the amounts of any such assessments in accordance with this act have been set aside by any court of competent jurisdiction or such court has refused to enforce any assessment or has decreed any such bonds issued under this act not to constitute or represent valid and subsisting liens against the lots or parcels of land upon which the assessments represented by them have been levied; or if for any reason such assessments or bonds, or both, are not effective through the curative and waiver provisions of this act or any curative act now or hereafter passed by the Legislature in relation thereto to make them valid and enforceable.

SEC. 62. The true intent and meaning of this part is to make the cost and expense of the acquisition and improvement made or attempted to be made through an attempted compliance with this act payable by the real property benefited by such acquisition and improvement by making a reassessment therefor. Such power of reassessment embraces both a full and partial reassessment and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

SEC. 63. A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of the following circumstances:

(a) Whenever the owner or holder of any bonds issued to represent or be secured by assessments requests the legislative body to order a reassessment and the legislative body is of the opinion that the bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments represented by or securing the bonds owned or held by the petitioner.

(b) Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit involving the validity of the obligation of any bond or assessment has for any reason held the lien of the assessment or bond to be unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

(c) Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction, in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment or bond or in any suit to enjoin the making, filing, confirmation or issuance of any assessment or bond to pay for the cost and expenses of any acquisition and improvement under this act, shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void or unenforceable or shall enjoin the making, filing or issuance or confirmation of any such assessment or bond, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

(d) Whenever the lien of any assessment or bond is foreclosed or attempted to be foreclosed by sale as provided in this act, and thereafter any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit contesting the validity and legal force and effect of such sale decrees such sale to be void or unenforceable for any reason, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

SEC. 64. Upon the entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body directing a reassessment, the street superintendent shall proceed to make a reassessment in the following manner:

If the reassessment is a partial one only, then it shall not be necessary for the diagram to show any lots other than the ones covered by such partial reassessment. If it is a full reassessment, then the street superintendent shall prepare and file with the reassessment a diagram showing the lots or parcels of land deemed by him to have been benefited by the improvement.

SEC. 65. The reassessment shall assess upon and against each of the lots or parcels of land contained therein an amount arrived at as follows: The benefits derived, or to be derived, by each of the lots or parcels of land from the acquisition and improvement estimated as of the date of the filing in the clerk's office of the original assessment shall first be listed. Then there shall be added thereto interest thereon from the date of recording of the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, and the total sum shall constitute and be the amount of the proposed several assessments in such reassessment. The total of such reassessment, however, exclusive of interest, shall not exceed the cost and expenses of the acquisition and improvement.

SEC. 66. Such reassessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment filed, giving the date of filing of the original assessment, and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body or decree of the court, as the case may be, and shall be accompanied by a diagram showing the lots or parcels of land to be reassessed and their relation to the improvement.

SEC. 67. The reassessment shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it, which shall be at least twenty (20) days after the reassessment is so presented. The clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the ordinance of intention for the acquisition and improvement was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other newspaper. If the reassessment is to be against the property in a district, then this fact shall be set forth and the reassessment diagram referred to for particulars. Such notice shall be published for five (5) insertions, if the newspaper is a daily, or by two (2) insertions if the newspaper is published less frequently.

SEC. 68. At the time fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which the hearing is adjourned, the legislative body shall consider the objections to the reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction and modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable to apportion to each lot or parcel of land thereby benefited the amount of the actual benefits derived from the acquisition and improvement. When the reassessment is revised or corrected or modified to comply with the judgment of the legislative body, it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment.

SEC. 69. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment with a certificate at the end thereof by the clerk that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date, and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments theretofore made upon the original assessment, or upon the bonds issued to represent the original assessment, together with interest on such payments at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum from and after the date of such payments.

SEC. 70. The reassessment shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable in the same manner provided for enforcing an original assessment, and shall have the same weight in evidence. If bonds were issued under or upon the security of the original assessment, they shall also issue upon the reassessment for such sum as may be reassessed against the lots or parcels of land covered thereby.

SEC. 71. When the reassessment is recorded, the original assessment shall be canceled by the street superintendent so far as it affects the particular assessments involved. New bonds shall not be issued until the original bonds are delivered up to the treasurer who shall cancel them. The lien of the reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of filing of the original assessment.

SEC. 72. Whenever in any city a vehicle parking district is created under this act, the legislative body of the city, immediately upon the acquisition of the parking places to be acquired pursuant to the petition for the formation of the district, shall appoint a commission which shall have charge of all of the parking places theretofore or thereafter acquired and constructed and to be paid for by taxes or assessments upon lands in that vehicle parking district. The commission shall consist of three members. Each commissioner shall be a resident and qualified elector of the city.

The commissioners shall hold office for the term of three years from the date of their appointment and qualification and until their successors are appointed and qualified, except that members of the first board appointed shall classify themselves by lot so that one member holds office for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and, in each instance, until a successor has been appointed and qualified.

SEC. 73. The board of parking place commissioners appointed to manage the parking places acquired or constructed under proceedings for a vehicle parking district shall have possession and control of all parking places acquired and constructed and paid for or to be paid for by taxes or assessments upon lands in the district, and the said board shall operate, manage and control all of said parking places and shall make and enforce all necessary rules and regulations for the use thereof. It shall fix, regulate and collect rentals, rents or charges for the parking of vehicles therein and may provide different rates for different classes of customers or users. It shall appoint such employees as it deems necessary and shall have complete charge, supervision and control of all parking places acquired and constructed through taxation or assessment upon lands in such district.

SEC. 74. On or before June 30th of each year the board shall prepare an annual estimate of the expenditures required for the maintenance, operation, repair and improvement of the parking places under its charge for the ensuing fiscal year and shall estimate the amount of revenues to be derived from rentals, fees or charges for the use of said parking places and the amount, if any, to be raised by taxation. This estimate shall be filed with the legislative body of the city, and said legislative body at the time and in the manner for levying general municipal taxes shall levy and collect upon and against all of the taxable land within the vehicle parking district a special ad valorem tax sufficient to raise the sum of money estimated as required to be raised by taxation. Said special tax shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner and by the same officers and with the same interest and penalties as general city taxes levied by the legislative body. The proceeds of said tax shall be placed in the district maintenance and operation fund and expended only for the maintenance, operation, repair and improvement of parking places acquired and constructed from taxes or assessments upon land in said district.

All revenues from fees, charges or rentals for the use of any parking place acquired and constructed by taxes or assessments upon lands in any vehicle parking district shall be turned over to the city treasurer and by him placed in the proper district maintenance and operation fund from which payment shall be made, upon order of the board of parking place commissioners, for the maintenance, operation, repair and improvement of said parking places.

SEC. 75. Whenever any property acquired for parking places is not needed for that public use, the legislative body of the city is authorized to sell the same.

Any moneys received from the sale of such property shall be placed in the maintenance and operation fund of the district taxed or assessed for the acquisition of the land sold and may be used for the improvement or repair of any parking places acquired by assessments or taxes upon the property in said district.

SEC. 76. Upon request of the legislative body of a city or of any bondholder, the Superintendent of Banks shall make an examination into the regularity of the issuance of any bonds issued under Part 5 hereof and the sufficiency of the security provided for the payment thereof and, if satisfied therewith, may certify the same as legal for investments of savings banks and trustees, and when so certified such bonds shall be legal investments for savings deposits and trust funds.

SEC. 77. All real property shall be acquired or condemned in the name of the city and title to such property shall be in the city. All contracts for the purchase of real property hereunder shall be made by the legislative body of the city.

SEC. 78. Whenever the commission in charge of the parking places acquired or constructed by taxes or assessments upon land in a vehicle parking district determines by resolution that additional parking places should be acquired by taxation or by assessment upon lands in said district, a certified copy of the resolution shall be filed with the legislative body of the city, and said legislative body may thereafter proceed to acquire such additional parking places and to provide for the payment therefor by an ad valorem tax levied upon all lands in the vehicle parking district or by a special assessment upon the lands therein levied in accordance with benefits. The legislative body may use any procedure in this act or in the Street Opening Act of 1903 for the levy of said special assessments.

SEC. 79. After the improvements to be made under the initial proceeding inaugurated by petition have been completed, any further improvement of any parking place shall be made by the board of parking place commissioners in charge thereof.

SEC. 80. As an alternative method of administration, upon request made to the legislative body of the city by the owners of fifty per cent (50%) of the assessed value of taxable land in any vehicle parking district, as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county, the parking places acquired and constructed by taxes or assessments upon land in such district shall be managed, operated and controlled by a commission appointed by the legislative body of the city to have charge of all parking places in such city acquired under this act.

SEC. 81. Except as otherwise provided herein, all legislative authority and jurisdiction hereunder shall be exercised by the legislative body of the city in which the district or proposed district lies. Whenever any notice is to be given or posted under this act and the officer to give or post said notice is not designated, such notice shall be given or posted by the clerk of the legislative body. No notice or posting shall be invalidated because given or done by an officer other than the one whose duty it is to give such notice or perform such posting.

SEC. 82. No proceedings taken, assessment levied, or bond issued under this act shall be held invalid for failure to comply with the provisions hereof; provided the acts done and proceedings taken are not invalid under the provisions of the State and Federal Constitutions. Any procedure not herein expressly set forth but deemed necessary or convenient to carry out any of the purposes of this act is hereby authorized. The remedies herein provided for the enforcement of any assessment levied or bond issued under the provisions of this act are not exclusive and additional remedies may be provided at any time. The curative clauses of this act are cumulative and each of them is to be given full force and effect.

SEC. 83. Any proceeding for the creation of a vehicle parking district and the acquisition and improvement of parking places under this act may be abandoned by the legislative body of the city prior to the issuance of bonds for the acquisition and construction of such parking places.

SEC. 84. This act shall be known as and, whenever cited, referred to or amended, may be designated as the "Vehicle Parking District Act of 1943."

This act and all proceedings hereunder shall be exempt from any and all provisions of the "Special Assessment Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931," but the protest of the owners of a majority in area of the land in the district, filed at any time prior to the adoption of the ordinance ordering the acquisition and improvement, shall terminate the proceeding.

SEC. 85. This act shall be liberally construed. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature declares that it would pass this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 86. This act shall in nowise affect any other act or acts now existing or which may hereafter be passed relating to the same or any similar subject, but is intended to provide an alternative authority and procedure for the subject to which it relates. When proceeding under the authority of this act, its provisions and none other need be followed.

SEC. 87. Whenever any official or board designated in this act is not and can not be provided for by a charter city using this act, then all acts hereunder to be done by such official or board shall be done and performed by, and all jurisdiction and authority given herein to such official or board shall be vested in, the official, board or other body of such charter city empowered by the charter to perform said acts and exercise said jurisdiction and authority."

Amendment No. 2

"SECTION 1. Section 3 of the County Water District Act is amended to read:

Sec. 3. A petition, which may consist of any number of separate instruments, shall be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors of the county in which the proposed water district is located, signed by the registered voters within the boundaries of the proposed water district, equal in number to at least 10 per centum of the number of votes cast in said proposed county water district for the office of Governor of this State at the last general election prior to the presenting of the petition; provided, that where one or more municipal corporations or part thereof is included in such proposed water district, such petition must be signed by at least 10 per centum of the qualified electors of each such municipal corporation or part thereof and of the unincorporated territory included in such proposed water district so voting at such election. Such petition shall set forth and describe the proposed boundaries of such water district, and shall pray that the same be incorporated under the provisions of this act, and the county clerk shall cause the text of such petition [shall] to be published once a week for at least two weeks before the time at which the same is to be presented, in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in such county [,]. [together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which same will be presented.] When contained upon more than one instrument, one copy only of such petition need be published. No more than five of the names attached to said petition need appear in such publication of said petition and notice, but the number of signers shall be stated.

With such publication [there] the county clerk shall also cause to be published a notice of the time of the meeting of the board when such petition will be considered and that all persons interested therein may then appear and be heard. At such time the board of supervisors shall hear the petition and those appearing thereon together with such written protests as shall have been filed with the clerk of the board prior to such hearing by or on behalf of owners of taxable property situated within the boundaries of the proposed district and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding four weeks in all. No defect in the contents of the petition or in the title to or form of the notice or signatures, or lack of signatures, thereto shall vitiate any proceedings thereon; provided, such petition or petitions have a sufficient number of qualified signatures attached thereto. On the final hearing said board shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as may be deemed advisable and shall define and establish such boundaries. But said board shall not modify said boundaries so as to exclude from such proposed district any territory which would be benefited by the formation of such district; nor shall any lands which will not, in the judgment of said board, be benefited by such district be included within such proposed district. Any person whose lands are benefited by such district may upon his application, in the discretion of said board, have such lands included within said proposed district.

Upon such hearing of said petition, the board of supervisors shall determine whether or not said petition complies with the requirements of the provisions of this act, and for that purpose must hear all competent and relevant testimony offered in support of or in opposition thereto. Such determination shall be entered upon the minutes of said board of supervisors. A finding of the board of supervisors in favor of the genuineness and sufficiency of the petition and notices shall be final and conclusive against all persons except the State of California upon suit commenced by the Attorney General. Any such suit must be commenced within one year after the order of the board of supervisors declaring such district organized as herein provided, and not otherwise. Upon the final determination of the boundaries of the district the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said proposed water district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be incorporated, the date of which election shall be not more than 60 days from the date of the final hearing of such petition. Such notice shall describe the boundaries so established and shall state the proposed name of the proposed incorporation (which name shall contain the words "----- County Water District"), and [this] the county clerk shall cause such notice [shall] to be published once a week for at least two weeks prior to such election in at least one, but not to exceed three, newspapers printed and published in said county. At such election the proposition to be submitted shall be: "Shall the proposition to organize ----- County Water District under (naming the chapter containing this act) of the acts of the Fortieth Session of the California Legislature and amendments thereto be adopted?" And the election thereupon shall be conducted, the vote canvassed and the result declared in the same manner as provided by law in respect to general elections, so far as they may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. No person shall be entitled to vote at any election under the provisions of this act unless such person possesses all the qualifications required of electors under the general election laws of the State. Within four days after such election the vote shall be canvassed by the board of supervisors. If a majority of the votes cast at such election in each municipal corporation or part thereof and in the unincorporated territory included in such proposed water district shall be in favor of organizing such county water district, said board shall by an order entered on its minutes declare the territory enclosed within the proposed boundaries duly organized as a county water district under the name theretofore designated, and the county clerk shall immediately cause to be filed with the Secretary of State and shall cause to be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such district is situated, each, a certificate stating that such a proposition was adopted. Upon the receipt of such last mentioned certificate the Secretary of State shall, within 10 days, issue his certificate reciting that the county water district (naming it) has been duly incorporated according to the laws of the State of California. A copy of such certificate shall be transmitted to and filed with the county clerk of the county in which such county water district is situated. From and after the date of such certificate, the district named therein shall be deemed incorporated as a county water district, with all the rights, privileges and powers set forth in this act and necessarily incident thereto. In case less than a majority of the votes cast are in favor of said proposition the organization fails but without prejudice to renewing proceedings at any time in the future.

Sec. 2. Section 4 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 4. Within 90 days after the date of filing with the county clerk of the copy of the certificate of the Secretary of State, provided for in Section 3 of this act, the board of supervisors of the county in which the county water district is located shall make and cause to be entered upon its minutes at a regular meeting thereof an order calling an election in such county water district for the election of a board of directors for the county water district consisting of five members, each of whom shall be a resident of and qualified to vote at elections of the district.

The order of the board of supervisors shall fix the date of the election which shall not be more than 60 days after the date of the order calling the election. The order shall also create one or more voting precincts within the district and establish a polling place in each precinct and appoint a board of election, consisting of one inspector, one judge and two clerks, to hold, conduct and make returns of the election.

The county clerk shall give notice of the election by publishing notice thereof once a week for at least two weeks in one but not to exceed three newspapers published in the county. The notice of election so published shall state the purpose for which the election is to be held, describe the voting precincts, state the location of the polling place for each precinct, the name and position of the persons appointed election officers and the date on which the election will be held.

The election shall be conducted in accordance with the General Election Laws of the State so far as the same may be applicable and the returns canvassed by the board of supervisors of the county at its regular meeting next succeeding the date of the election.

All directors elected or appointed shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors. The term of office of directors elected under the provisions of this act shall be four years from and after the date of their respective election; provided, that the directors first elected after the incorporation of the county water district shall classify themselves by lot so that two of them shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors at the first succeeding general water district election, and three of them shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors at the second succeeding general water district election.

All vacancies occurring in the office of directors shall be filled by appointment by the remaining directors elected and the person so appointed shall have all of the qualifications necessary to be elected a director, and shall hold office during the unexpired term.

The election of directors of the district shall be held in every second year after its organization, on the fourth Tuesday in March, and shall be known as the general water district election. [A second election shall be held, when necessary, as herein-after provided, on the third Tuesday after such general election and shall be known as the second water district election.] All other elections which may be held by authority of this act, or of the general laws, shall be known as special water district elections. All the expenses of holding the elections provided for by this section or by succeeding sections of this act, except Sections 25 and 25a, shall be borne by the district.

[The directors elected in any district, now existing, at the first election held in said district after the year 1933, shall, at the first meeting of the board, classify themselves by lot so that two of them shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors at the first succeeding general water district election and three of them shall hold office until the election and qualification of their successors at the second succeeding general water district election.]

(6) The certificate of nomination consisting of one or more parts may be presented to the county clerk not earlier than 45 days nor later than 30 days before the election. The county clerk shall endorse thereon the date upon which the certificate was presented to him and shall forthwith examine the same and ascertain whether or not it conforms to the provisions of this section. If found not to conform thereto, he shall immediately, in writing, designate on said petition the defect or omission or reason why such certificate can not be filed and shall return the certificate to the person therein designated. The certificate may then be amended and again presented to the clerk as in the first instance and he shall forthwith examine the same. If necessary the board of supervisors shall provide extra help to enable the clerk to perform satisfactorily and promptly the duties imposed by this section.

(7) Any signer of a certificate of nomination may withdraw his name from the same by filing with the county clerk a written revocation of his signature before the certificate is filed by the clerk and not otherwise. He shall then be at liberty to sign a certificate for another candidate for the same office.

(8) Any person who has been nominated under this section as a candidate may not later than 25 days before the day of election, cause his name to be withdrawn from nomination by filing with the county clerk a written request therefor. No name so withdrawn shall be printed upon the ballot. If, upon such withdrawal, the number of candidates remaining does not equal the number to be elected, then other nominations may be made by filing certificates therefor not later than 25 days prior to such election.

(9) If either the original or amended certificate of nomination be found sufficiently signed, the clerk shall file the same 25 days before the date of the election. When a certificate of nomination shall be filed with the clerk it shall not be withdrawn nor added to.

(10) The county clerk shall preserve in his office, for a period of two years, all certificates of nomination filed under this section.

(11) Immediately after such certificates are filed, the county clerk shall enter the names of the candidates in a list, with the offices to be filled, and shall, not later than 20 days before the election, certify such list as being the list of candidates nominated, and the board of supervisors shall cause said certified list of names and the offices to be filled to be published in a proclamation calling an election at least once a week for two successive weeks [next] before the date of the election in some newspaper of general circulation published in the district and designated by the board of directors of the district. In case there is no newspaper of general circulation published in the district, such board of directors may designate any newspaper of general circulation published in the county. Such proclamation shall conform in all respects to the [general State law] provisions of the Elections Code governing the conduct of general elections now or hereafter in force, applicable thereto, except as otherwise herein provided.

(12) The county clerk shall cause the ballots to be printed and bound and numbered as provided by said [general State law,] Elections Code, except as otherwise required in this act. The ballots shall contain the list of names and the respective offices as published in the proclamation and shall be in substantially the following form.

GENERAL (OR SPECIAL) DISTRICT ELECTION,
----- COUNTY WATER DISTRICT
(Insert date thereof)

Instructions to Voters: To vote, stamp or write a cross (X) opposite the name of the candidate for whom you desire to vote. All marks otherwise made are forbidden. All distinguishing marks are forbidden and make the ballot void. If you wrongly mark, tear or deface this ballot, return it to the inspector of election, and obtain another.

(13) All ballots printed shall be precisely on the same size, quality, tint of paper, kind of type, and color of ink, so that without the number it would be impossible to distinguish one ballot from another; and the names of all candidates printed upon the ballot shall be in type of the same size and style. A column may be provided on the right hand side for questions to be voted upon at water district elections, as provided for under this act. The names of the candidates for each office shall be arranged in alphabetical order, and nothing on the ballot shall be indicative of the source of the candidacy or of the support of any candidate.

(14) The ballot shall contain the following instructions: "For director vote for (giving number)."

(15) A half-inch square shall be provided at the right of the name of each candidate wherein to mark the cross.

(16) Half-inch spaces shall be left below the printed names of candidates for each office equal in number to the number to be voted for, wherein the voter may write the name of any person or persons for whom he may wish to vote.

(17) The county clerk shall cause to be printed sample ballots, identical with the ballot to be used at the election, and shall furnish copies of the same on application to registered voters at his office at least five days before the date fixed for such election, and shall mail one such ballot to each voter entitled to vote at such election, so that all of said sample ballots shall have been mailed at least three whole days before said election.

(18) In case there is but one person to be elected to an office, the candidate receiving [a majority] the highest number of the votes cast for the candidates for that office shall be declared elected; in case there are two or more persons to be elected to an office, then those candidates equal in number to the number to be elected, who receive the highest number of votes for such office shall be declared elected [; provided, however, that no person shall be declared elected to any office at such first election unless the number of votes received by him shall be greater than one-half the number of ballots cast at such election]. The secretary shall immediately make out and deliver to each person elected a certificate of election signed by him and authenticated with the seal of the district.

(19) If at any election held as above provided there be any office to which the required number of persons was not elected, then as to such office the said first election shall be considered to have been a primary election for the nomination of candidates, and a second election shall be held to fill said office. The candidates not elected at such first election, equal in number to twice the number to be elected to any given office, or less if so there be, who receive the highest number of votes for the respective offices at such first election, shall be the only candidates at such second election; provided, that if there be any person who, under the provisions of this subdivision, would have been entitled to become a candidate for any office, except for the fact that some other candidate received an equal number of votes therefor, then all such persons receiving such equal number of votes shall likewise become candidates for such office. The candidates equal in number of the persons to be elected who shall receive the highest number of votes at such second election shall be declared elected to such office.

(20) The said second election, if necessary to be held, shall be held three weeks after the first election.

(21) All the provisions and conditions above set forth as to the conduct of an election, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern the second election, except that notice of election need be published twice only; and provided, also, that the same precincts and polling places shall, if possible, be used.

(22) [19] Every officer of the district before entering upon the duties of his office shall take and subscribe the official oath and file the same with the secretary. Such oath of office may be taken before the secretary or any member of the board of directors or any officer authorized by law to administer oaths. If a person elected fails to qualify, the office shall be filled as if there were a vacancy in such office, as provided in Section 4 of this act.

(21) A candidate at district elections is not required to file a statement of expenditures used in aid of his campaign.

Sec. 4. Section 6 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 6. The provisions of the [law] Elections Code relating to the qualifications of electors, the manner of voting, the duties of election officers, the canvassing of returns, and all other particulars in respect to the management of general elections, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern all water district elections, except as in this act otherwise provided; provided, that the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of the first election and that thereafter, except as herein provided, the board of directors shall meet as a canvassing board and duly canvass the returns within [four] seven days after any water district election, including any water district bond election.

Sec. 5. Section 8 of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 8. The board of directors shall be the governing body of such county water district. It shall hold its first meeting [on the sixth Monday] within 30 days after the general election for the election of directors as herein provided; it shall choose one of its members president, and shall thereupon provide for the time and place of holding its meetings and the manner in which its special meetings may be called. All legislative sessions of the board of directors whether regular or special shall be open to the public. A majority of the board of directors shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. The board of directors shall establish rules for its proceedings.

Sec. 6. A new section is added to said act, to read:

Sec. 12.16. To cause taxes to be levied for the purpose of paying, and to pay, the expenses of organization of the district, including fees of attorneys and others employed to conduct the organization proceedings. The board may issue warrants of the district to pay such expenses, bearing interest at 6 per cent per annum from date of issue until funds shall be available to pay such warrants.

Sec. 7. Section 12a of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 12a. Any district organized under the provisions of this act may be annexed to or included within the territory of any municipal utility district organized under the provisions of that certain act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal utility districts, authorizing such districts to incur bonded indebtedness for the acquisition and construction of works and property, and to levy and collect taxes to pay the principal and interest thereon," approved May 23, 1921, as amended, and such annexation or inclusion shall not destroy the identity or legal existence of any district organized under this act, notwithstanding the identity of purpose or substantial identity of purpose of the municipal utility district to which or into which any district organized under this act is included or annexed.

Any such annexation may be effected pursuant to the provisions of any law now or hereafter enacted providing for the annexation of county water districts to municipal utility districts, and all such laws are hereby incorporated herein and made a part hereof. The legislative body of any county water district may agree in writing with the board of directors of said municipal utility district upon the terms and conditions of such annexation, which agreement (among other things) may provide for the payment of special taxes within the county water district to be annexed in addition to the taxes elsewhere in said municipal utility district act provided for, the fixing of rates, rentals and charges differing from those fixed or existing elsewhere within said municipal utility district, the incurring or assumption of indebtedness or the making of a payment or payments or the transfer of property, real and personal, and other assets to said municipal utility district in consideration of the annexation of such county water district to said municipal utility district.

If a proposition for the annexation of such county water district to said municipal utility district, in accordance with and subject to all of the terms and conditions of such agreement of annexation, is approved by a majority of the voters of such county water district at an election called and held as required by the terms of the act under which said municipal utility district is organized, said proposition and all of the terms and conditions of said agreement of annexation shall be deemed to have been carried and approved by the electors, and the legislative body of such county water district shall be empowered to comply with the terms and conditions of said agreement of annexation and to execute and deliver any and all contracts, agreements, deeds and other instruments as may be required to carry out the terms and conditions of said annexation agreement. If such agreement of annexation provides for the transfer of any property or assets of the county water district the same shall be automatically transferred to and vest in said municipal utility district by operation of law upon the annexation of said county water district.

If such annexation or inclusion shall be made pursuant to any agreement or contract entered into in accordance with the provisions of this act whereby the properties or assets of any district organized under this act are transferred such district shall, nevertheless, in the case of such annexation or inclusion, continue its legal existence, with all powers of a county water district under the terms of this act, until otherwise dissolved pursuant to any law now or hereafter enacted for that purpose.

If a county water district has issued bonds to pay the cost of water mains or other works and has, in connection with its annexation to a municipal utility district, transferred such works to the latter district, which has contracted to pay to the former district an amount of money to be paid on such bonds for each active water connection added to its system during a certain period of years and if such period has expired, but such bonds have not been fully paid, it shall be lawful for such districts to agree for the extension of the period of such payments until such payments have fully retired such bonds, or for any shorter period

By Mr. Ralph C. Dills:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL
STATE CAPITOL, SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, March 23, 1943

*Honorable Ralph C. Dills, Assembly Chamber

EFFECT OF ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1422 ON LIMITATION OF ACTION—#8298

DEAR MR. DILLS: You have asked our opinion whether or not Assembly Bill No. 1422 actually extends the statute of limitations or enacts a new statute of limitation to cover the specific situation which is to fix the limitation in county actions to recover money due on account of support of patients.

The only effect the proposed amendment has is to clarify the statute (Code of Civil Procedure, Section 345) so that counties are expressly named in the code section instead of being included by means of interpretation.

You will observe that the section in its present form mentions the "State" only. Some might misconstrue the effect of that wording. In law, the county being a State agency comes within the expression "State" as used in the present law. The proposed amendment merely eliminates the argument such as was made in the case of State Board of Health vs. Alameda County (1919), 42 Cal. A. 166; 183 Pac. 455, where it was claimed that the word "State" in such cases should be construed strictly. The court rejected that contention and held that the proper interpretation is that the word "State" included its agencies. It is well settled that a county is a State agency.

Briefly, in conclusion, the proposed measure does not either extend the statute of limitations nor does it enact a new statute. Its effect is merely to clarify the present law and thus avoid future argument.

Very truly yours,

FRED B. WOOD, Legislative Counsel
By FRANK V. KINGTON, Assistant Counsel

WHEREAS, A substantial quantity of farm equipment belonging to persons removed from military areas in California has been stored on their behalf by the War Relocation Authority and that agency has no power to compel them to sell said farm equipment; and

WHEREAS, The Regional Office of the War Production Board desires to requisition said stored farm equipment in order that it may be placed in active use and relieve the existing shortage but can not do so until the Secretary of Agriculture, pursuant to the authority vested in him by Executive Order No. 8942, does request the War Production Board to requisition said stored farm equipment; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, be and is hereby respectfully requested to exercise the power granted to him by Executive Order No. 8942, by requesting the War Production Board, through its Regional Office in San Francisco, California, to requisition any and all farm equipment now stored in the State of California and belonging to evacuees, to provide for payment of a fair price therefor, and to make it available to the farmers of California in order that they may be assisted in meeting the agricultural goals set by the Honorable Secretary for 1943; and be it further

House Resolution No. 139

WHEREAS, In normal times the poultry industry in this State is of paramount importance to the people of California; and

WHEREAS, This importance has been tremendously magnified by reason of the existing shortages of meat and other forms of protein; and

WHEREAS, There annually exists at this time of year a normal surplus of cockerels which in the past have been destroyed because of a lack of available market; and

WHEREAS, This surplus of cockerels could be raised and marketed as broilers within a relatively short time if the ceiling price for broilers would permit the raising and marketing of broilers by poultrymen without incurring a substantial loss; and

WHEREAS, It would appear that the Office of Price Administration and other Federal agencies should do all in their power to encourage and stimulate the raising of broilers for use in California in order to relieve the present meat and protein shortage; and

WHEREAS, Despite the efforts of the poultrymen of the State of California to persuade the Office of Price Administration to realize the uniqueness of the California situation, the Office of Price Administration insists on fixing ceiling prices for California on production costs of other States where labor and feeding costs are much lower; and

WHEREAS, The persistence of the Office of Price Administration in its present conduct will result in the loss of many million pounds of poultry meat for use in California; and

WHEREAS, Local Office of Price Administration officials have refused to take appropriate steps to alleviate present conditions even when they have had power so to do; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Honorable Prentiss Brown, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture, be and they are hereby memorialized to direct their regional representatives for California to establish ceiling prices for poultry in California that will permit making available to the citizens of this State this essential supplement to the meat and protein supply; and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk of the Assembly shall transmit by telegram copies of this resolution to the President, the Vice President, to the Senators and Congressmen from California, and to the Honorable Prentiss Brown, Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and the Honorable Claude Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture.

COMMUNICATIONS

By Speaker Lyon:

The following communication was received, read, and ordered printed in the Journal:

SENATE CHAMBER, SACRAMENTO, March 26, 1943

*Mr. Charles Lyon, Speaker of Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. LYON: I have a suggestion to offer to your Rules Committee that I believe would be of assistance to us as the session progresses in bringing about a better understanding in the handling of Assembly bills in the Senate and Senate bills in the Assembly.

If each house would dedicate at least 30 minutes during the daily session to bills pending on the daily file that originated in the other house, it would make the members feel that their bills were receiving some attention by the opposite house, as you know every session as we come to the end of our work, a misunderstanding always arises; that Senate bills are not being passed by the Assembly and Assembly bills are not being passed by the Senate. You and I know that this is not done intentionally, but it is hard to make members understand, and if we adopt this procedure, I feel sure that a better feeling will exist between the two houses.

I would also like to have you announce to the Assembly that bills pending on the Senate file, originating in the Assembly, can only remain on file three days without action. They are then automatically transferred to the inactive file, and can only be restored to second reading on motion of a Senator. If the members of the Assembly will designate a Senator to handle these bills before the time limit expires, it will expedite our business and prevent confusion in the minds of the authors of Assembly bills.

If you believe the suggestions I have offered herein are of any value, I would appreciate your opinion of the same.

Sincerely,

(1) The county tax collector shall on request of the agency give notice of the intended sale, which notice shall describe the property, state the name of the assessee for each year there are delinquent county taxes against the property, and state that unless sooner redeemed, all right of redemption of said property shall cease 21 days after the first publication of said notice.

(2) The tax collector shall cause said notice to be published once a week for at least three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or, if none, then by posting copies of the notice in four conspicuous places in the county, one of which shall be in the United States post office nearest the property, and another of which shall be on the property itself.

(8) If the lands as to which the right of redemption has been thus terminated are not sold into private ownership within the period the taxing agency is exclusive sales and rental agency, the taxing agency shall execute a deed to the State reconveying to the State all the right, title and interest of the State in the property which such taxing agency attained by the deed of the tax collector pursuant to this chapter. 3909. On execution of the deed by the tax collector to the taxing agency, and by the taxing agency to the State or private purchaser, notice thereof shall be given to the State Controller.

3910. No lease of tax-deeded property shall be made for a period exceeding three years without the consent of all interested taxing agencies.

3911. The taxing agency acting as the rental or sales agency under this chapter shall on or before January 2d of each year render to all affected taxing agencies an account of all rentals and sales, specifying the same as to each property involved, and pay to the affected taxing agencies the amounts due. A copy of the account shall be furnished to the State Controller.
