Where a consolidated return has been made under section 14 hereof the offset allowable against the tax liability of the consolidated group may include said property taxes paid during said period by all corporations which are included in the consolidated group, subject to the limitations of section 4 hereof. Same: Consolidated returns.

If a bank or corporation in paying the tax provided for in this act desires to claim an offset in the computation of its tax, the four per centum rate shall be applied to such offset and the amount so computed shall be added to and included in the tax of the bank or corporation.

If any real or personal property taxes are at any time refunded to any bank or corporation taxable under this act and said bank or corporation has been allowed an offset for such taxes against any tax imposed under this act, said bank or corporation shall report that fact to the commissioner and shall pay a tax not subject to offset in an amount equivalent to any offset which has been allowed against any tax at any time imposed under this act on account of such refunded real or personal property taxes. Refunds of local taxes.

SEC. 10. Section 27 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 64.

Sec. 27. If in the opinion of the commissioner, or said board, as the case may be, a tax has been computed in a manner contrary to law or has been erroneously computed by reason of a clerical mistake on the part of the commissioner or said board, such fact shall be set forth in the records of the commissioner, and the amount of the illegal levy shall be credited on any taxes then due from the taxpayer under this act, and the balance shall be refunded to the taxpayer or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or to stockholders upon dissolution. Refunds

If any tax, penalty or interest has been paid more than once, or has been erroneously or illegally collected, or has been erroneously or illegally computed, the commissioner shall certify to the State Board of Control the amount collected in excess of what was legally due, from whom it was collected, or by whom paid, and if approved by that board, the same shall be credited on any taxes then due from the taxpayer under this act and the balance shall be refunded to the taxpayer, but no such credit or refund shall be made in the case of overpayments made before June 1, 1932, unless duplicate copies of a claim for refund are filed by the taxpayer with the commissioner within one year from the date of overpayment, and in the case of overpayments made on or after June 1, 1932, unless duplicate copies of a claim for refund are filed within three years from the date of overpayment. Every claim for refund must be in writing under oath and must state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded.

Disallowance of claims.

If the commissioner disallows any claim for refund he shall notify the taxpayer accordingly. Within thirty days after the mailing of such notice, or if the commissioner does not act upon any claim for a refund within six months from the time the claim was filed, then within thirty days after the expiration of said six months, the commissioner's action upon the claim shall be final, unless within such thirty-day period the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the State Board of Equalization. The appeal must be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the commissioner at Sacramento. Said board shall hear and determine the same and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination. If the board sustains the commissioner the commissioner's action in disallowing the claim shall thereupon be final.

Appeal.

Interest

Interest shall be allowed and paid upon any overpayment of any tax, if the overpayment was not made because of an error or mistake on the part of the taxpayer, at the rate of six per centum per annum as follows:

(1) In the case of a credit, from the date of the overpayment to the date of the allowance of the credit. Any interest allowed on any credit shall first be credited on any taxes due from the taxpayer under this act.

(2) In the case of a refund, from the date of the overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than thirty days, such date to be determined by the commissioner.

Recovery of erroneous refunds.

Any refund or any portion thereof which is erroneously made, and any credit or any portion thereof which is erroneously allowed, may be recovered, together with interest at the rate of six per centum per annum from the date the refund was made or the credit allowed, in an action brought by the Controller of the State in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California, and such actions shall be tried in the county of Sacramento unless the court with the consent of the Attorney General, order a change of place of trial. The Attorney General must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

In the event that a tax has been illegally levied against a taxpayer the commissioner shall certify such fact to the State Board of Control and said board shall authorize the cancellation of the tax upon the records of the commissioner. Cancellations

SEC. 11. Section 29 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p 19.

Sec. 29. The taxes levied under this act shall constitute a lien upon all property of the taxpayer, which lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of the year in which the taxes accrue; provided, however, that in the case of a bank or corporation commencing to do business in this State for the first time after the effective date of this act the lien of the taxes for the first and second taxable years of such bank or corporation shall attach on the first Monday in March subsequent to the time the bank or corporation commenced to do business. Every tax herein provided for has the effect of a judgment against the taxpayer, and every lien has the effect of an execution duly levied against all property of the delinquent, and the judgment is not satisfied nor the lien removed until the tax and the penalty are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof. No decree of dissolution shall be made and entered by any court, nor shall the county clerk of any county or the Secretary of State file any such decree, or file any other document by which the term of existence of any taxpayer shall be reduced or terminated, nor shall the Secretary of State file any certificate of the surrender by a foreign corporation of its right to do intrastate business in this State until the tax and penalty shall have been paid. Tax liens.

SEC. 12. Section 30 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 19.

Sec. 30. Any taxpayer claiming that the tax computed and levied against it is void in whole or in part may pay its tax under protest and bring an action against the State Treasurer for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount paid. The protest must be in writing and must state the grounds upon which the claim is founded. Such action must be filed within ninety days from the date of mailing the notice of final determination of the tax under section 25 hereof or the tax rate under section 4a hereof; provided, that no action shall be filed for the recovery of a deficiency assessment unless the taxpayer has made protest to the commissioner of the computation and levy complained of under the provisions of section 25 hereof; and provided further, that no such action shall be filed to recover any deficiency assessment, or any part thereof, if the taxpayer has at any time appealed to the State Board of Equalization from the action of the commissioner in overruling the taxpayer's protest to the commissioner's proposal of the said deficiency assessment. Actions to recover taxes paid under protest.

from the filing thereof, the taxpayer may bring an action against the State Treasurer on the grounds set forth in such claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment, but such action must be brought within ninety days from the date of the commissioner's final action upon such claim; provided, that no action shall be filed if the taxpayer has appealed to the State Board of Equalization from the action of the commissioner with respect to any refund claim.

Procedure. Whenever under the provisions of this section an action is commenced against the State Treasurer, a copy of the complaint and the summons must be served upon the Treasurer, or his deputy. At the time the Treasurer demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the superior court of the county of Sacramento, which demand must be granted The Attorney General must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes. In any such action the court shall have power to render judgment for plaintiff for any part or portion of the tax, interest, penalties or costs found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment. The amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any taxes due from the plaintiff under this act, and the balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or to its stockholders upon dissolution.

Review of decisions of State Board of Equalization. Within sixty days after the determination of the State Board of Equalization of any appeal from the action of the commissioner either the commissioner or the appellant may apply to the Supreme Court of the State for a writ of certiorari or review for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the decision or order of the board inquired into and determined. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the board to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day, the cause shall be heard by the Supreme Court, unless for a good reason the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in the Supreme Court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the board as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether the board has regularly pursued its authority, including a determination of whether the decision or order under review violates any provision of the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California. The findings and conclusions of the board on questions of fact shall be final and shall not be subject to review. The board and each party to the proceeding before the board shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing, the Supreme Court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order or decision of the board. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State relating to the writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with the provisions of this act apply to proceedings instituted in the Supreme Court under the provisions of this section.

Interest. In any judgment of any court rendered for any overpayment in respect of any tax imposed by this act, interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per centum per annum upon the amount of the overpayment, from the date of the payment or collection thereof to the date of allowance of credit on account of such judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than thirty days, such date to be determined by the commissioner.

Stats. 1929, p. 19. SEC. 13. Section 31 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Actions to recover delinquent taxes. Sec. 31. At any time within three years after the delinquency of any tax, or any installment thereof, the Controller of the State may bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California to collect the amount delinquent, together with penalties, and such action shall be tried in the county of Sacramento unless the court, with the consent of the Attorney General, order a change of place of trial. The Attorney General must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings, herein provided for. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of said attachment is required. In such action a certificate by the commissioner or by the Controller showing the delinquency shall be prima facie evidence of the levy of the tax, of the delinquency and of compliance by the commissioner and the State Board of Equalization with all the provisions of this act in relation to the computation and levy of the tax.

Seizure and sale of property for delinquent taxes. At any time within which an action can be brought to collect any delinquent tax as provided in the preceding paragraph, the Controller may collect the tax, together with penalties and interest, in the following manner: The Controller shall seize any property, real or personal, owned by the bank or corporation against whom the tax is assessed, and thereafter sell at public auction such property so seized, or a sufficient portion thereof, to pay the tax due hereunder, together with any interest, and any penalty or penalties imposed hereby for such delinquency, and any and all costs that may have been incurred on account of such seizure and sale. Notice of such intended sale and the time and place thereof, shall be given to such delinquent bank or corporation and to all persons appearing of record to have an interest in such property, in writing at least ten days before the date set for such sale by enclosing such notice in an envelope addressed to said bank or corporation at its last known place of business in this State if any, and, in the case of any person appearing of record to have an interest in such property, addressed to such person at the last known place of residence, if any, and depositing the same in the United States mail, postage prepaid, and by publication for at least ten days before the date set for such sale in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or city and county in which the property seized is to be sold; provided, however, that if there be no newspaper of general circulation in such county or city and county, then by the posting of such notice in three public places in such county or city and county for said ten-day period. The said notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, together with a statement of the amount of the taxes, interest, penalties and costs, the name of the bank or corporation, and the further statement that, unless such taxes, interest, penalties and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in said notice for such sale, said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with law and said notice.

Notice

Contents of notice

Sale

At any such sale, the property shall be sold by said Controller or his duly authorized agent in accordance with law and said notice, and the Controller shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale for the personal property, and a deed for any real property so sold, and such bill of sale or deed shall vest title in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property so seized may be left at the place of sale at the risk of said bank or corporation. If, upon any such sale, the moneys so received shall exceed the amount of all taxes, interest, penalties and costs due the State from such bank or corporation, any such excess shall be returned to the bank or corporation and a receipt therefor obtained; provided, however, that if any person having an interest in or lien upon the property has filed with the Controller prior to any such sale notice of such interest or lien the Controller shall withhold any such excess pending a determination of the rights of the respective parties thereto by a court of competent jurisdiction. If, for any reason, the receipt of such bank or corporation shall not be available, the Controller shall deposit such excess moneys with the State Treasurer, as trustee for such owner, subject to the order of such bank or corporation or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or its stockholders upon dissolution.

State's remedies are cumulative.

It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the State shall be cumulative and that no action taken by the Controller shall be or be construed to be an election on the part of the State or any of its officers to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this act.

Stats. 1931, p. 2225.

SEC. 14. Section 33 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 33. Any corporation which has suffered the suspension or forfeiture provided for in the preceding section may be relieved therefrom upon making application therefor in writing to the Controller and upon payment of the tax and the interest and penalties for nonpayment of which the suspension or forfeiture occurred, together with all other taxes, deficiencies, interest and penalties due under the act if the payment is made during the taxable year in which the suspension or forfeiture occurred, or upon payment of such amounts together with an amount equal to the amount of the tax and penalties for the nonpayment of which the suspension or forfeiture occurred, if payment is made in any year other than such year, and upon the issuance by the Controller of a certificate of revivor. Application for such certificate on behalf of any domestic corporation which has suffered such suspension may be made by any stockholder or creditor or by a majority of the surviving trustees or directors thereof; application for such certificate may be made by any foreign corporation which has suffered such forfeiture or by any stockholder or creditor thereof.

Revivor of corporate powers upon payment.

Before such certificate of revivor is issued by the Controller he shall obtain from the Secretary of State an endorsement upon such application of the fact that the name of such corporation is not one which is likely to mislead the public or which is the same as, or resembles so closely as to tend to deceive, the name of a foreign or domestic corporation which is authorized to transact business in this State or a name which is under reservation. If the name of such corporation is one which is likely to mislead the public or is the same as, or resembles so closely as to tend to deceive, the name of a foreign or domestic corporation which is authorized to transact business in this State, or a name which is under reservation, the Secretary of State shall not endorse such statement upon such application until the corporation therein named, if it be a domestic corporation, files in his office amended articles of incorporation changing its name, or, if it be a foreign corporation, files in his office a copy of such document changing its name as may be required by the law of the State or other jurisdiction under which it was incorporated, which copy shall be certified in the manner prescribed by section 405 of the Civil Code. Upon the issuance of such certificate by the Controller the corporation therein named shall become reinstated but such reinstatement shall be without prejudice to any action, defense or right which has accrued by reason of the original suspension or forfeiture. The certificate of revivor shall be prima facie evidence of such reinstatement and such certificate may be recorded in the office of the county recorder of any county of this State.

A general extension of time of two months in the case of returns for the taxable year ended December 31, 1932, required by said act to be filed by March 15, 1933, and of one month, in the case of returns for the taxable year ended January 31, 1933, required to be filed by April 15, 1933, is hereby granted. No interest shall be assessed or collected by reason of such extension.

Extension of time to file tax returns.

Constitutionality

SEC. 16. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining portions of this act irrespective of the fact that any such section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act be declared unconstitutional.

Tax levy

SEC. 17. This act, inasmuch as it provides for tax levies for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of article four of the Constitution, take effect immediately, and shall be applied in the computation of taxes accruing subsequent to December 31, 1932.

CHAPTER 211.

An act to provide for the taxation of Massachusetts or business trusts, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 1, 1933 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Franchise tax on Massachusetts and business trusts.

SECTION 1. Every Massachusetts or business trust doing business within the limits of this State shall annually pay to the State for the privilege of doing business within this State a tax according to or measured by its net income to be computed in the manner hereinafter provided at the rate of 4 per centum upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding fiscal or calendar year.

See Ch 1049, Stats. 1933.

In any event each such Massachusetts or business trust shall annually pay to the State for the said privilege a minimum tax of twenty-five dollars.

Accrual date.

Taxes under this section shall accrue on the first day after the close of the taxable year as hereinafter defined.

Stats 1929, p 19 as amended, made applicable

SEC. 2. Sections 5 to 38 inclusive of chapter 13, Statutes of 1929, entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section 16 of article thirteen of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to bank and corporation taxes," as amended, and any amendments thereto hereafter made shall apply, and shall be construed to apply to all such Massachusetts or business trusts to the same extent and with the same force and effect as they are applicable to manufacturing, mercantile and business corporations of the classes referred to in subdivision 2 (a) of section 16 of article thirteen of the Constitution of this State.

Massachusetts or business trust defined

SEC. 3. The term Massachusetts or business trust as herein used shall include every business organization consisting essentially of an arrangement whereby property is conveyed to trustees where the trustees are not restricted to the mere collection of funds and their payment to the beneficiaries but are associated together with similar or greater powers than the directors in a corporation for the purpose of carrying on some business enterprise.

Trust instrument to be filed

SEC. 4. A copy of the trust instrument of any Massachusetts or business trust doing business within the limits of this State shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State and the county clerk of any county in which the said Massachusetts or business trust does business.

Liability for failure to file

If said instrument is not filed as herein provided by any Massachusetts or business trust now doing business within the limits of this State within sixty days after the effective date of this act, or in the case of any such Massachusetts or business trust commencing to do business within the limits of this State after the effective date of this act, if said instrument is not filed as herein provided prior to commencing to do business the beneficiaries of such trust shall be personally liable jointly and severally for the acts done thereafter by the trustees of such Massachusetts or business trusts.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 5. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining portions of this act irrespective of the fact that any such section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act be declared unconstitutional.

Tax levy

SEC. 6. This act, inasmuch as it provides for tax levies for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of article four of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 212.

An act to amend sections 5 and 7 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management and dissolution of county fire protection districts, and annexations thereto, setting forth the powers of such districts and providing for levying and collecting taxes on property in such districts to defray the expense thereof," approved May 23, 1923, relating to organization and management of fire protection districts.

Stats 1923, p 431, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1599.

SECTION 1. Section 5 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Powers and duties of supervisors.

Sec. 5. The board of supervisors of any county wherein any county fire protection district is established shall be the governing body thereof and shall have power to make and enforce all rules and regulations necessary for the administration and government of such district and for the furnishing of fire protection thereto and for the elimination of fire hazards therein; to appoint agents and employees for such district sufficient to maintain and operate the property acquired for the purposes of the district and to police the district; to clear any or all town lots, homesites, villa lots or lands immediately adjacent thereto within the district of dry grass, weeds, stubble, brush, rubbish, litter or other inflammable material; to acquire real or personal property needful for the purposes of said district and to dispose of the same when no longer needed; to construct any needed structures; to accept donations or contributions of any kind or nature which are made to the fire protection district and to expend donated or contributed funds in furtherance of the purposes of this act; and to perform all other acts necessary or proper to accomplish the purposes of this act, and not inconsistent with the provisions thereof.

Stats. 1923, p. 670.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annual tax levy.

Sec. 7. The board of supervisors shall levy a tax each year equally upon all taxable property real, personal or mixed in each county fire protection district sufficient to defray the cost of maintenance thereof and to meet such other expenditures as are authorized by this act in connection therewith. Such tax shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner as general county taxes levied for county purposes and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury and shall be used in furtherance of the purposes of this act with respect to the district within which collected and for no other purpose. In case the board of supervisors should appoint five commissioners to manage the affairs of the district as provided in section 5 hereof, said commissioners shall recommend the amount of tax to be levied, and certify the same by resolution to the board of supervisors not later than the first day of August of each year. The board of supervisors may also provide that demands on the funds of the district shall be made upon warrants issued by the county auditor upon requisition of said commissioners, signed by the president and attested by the secretary thereof; in which case, the treasurer of the county shall pay such warrants without further authority.

CHAPTER 213.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 473a, relating to the centralization in the Attorney General's office of all attorneys and legal advisers for State departments, divisions, commissions, bureaus, boards, offices, and institutions, and the reimbursement of the Attorney General's office for such services.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 473a and to read as follows: New section.

473a. No department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution of the State, except the Division of Contracts and Rights of Way, Division of Labor Statistics and Law Enforcement, Industrial Accident Commission, Railroad Commission, State Compensation Insurance Fund, Legislative Counsel Bureau, Inheritance Tax Department, Division of Water Resources, Secretary of State, Division of State Lands, and Department of Education shall employ any legal advisor or attorney other than the Attorney General, or one of his assistants or deputies, in any matter in which such department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution is interested. Centralization of attorneys for State agencies.

Whenever the provisions of any existing statute authorize any department, division, commission, bureau, board, officer or institution of the State to employ an attorney or attorneys or any person in a legal advisory capacity other than as in this section provided, the terms of such statute shall, subject to the provisions hereof, be deemed and construed to refer to an assistant or assistants, deputy or deputies, of the Attorney General. The Attorney General shall have power to assign to any such department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution such assistant or assistants, deputy or deputies from his staff, under such terms and conditions as he shall deem necessary to conduct the legal business of, or render legal advisory service to, said department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution. Attorney General to assign deputies.

The cost of all such legal services performed or rendered by the Attorney General or by any of his deputies or assistants for a State department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution which is supported otherwise than by appropriations from the general fund in the State treasury, shall be a charge against, and shall be paid from the moneys and funds appropriated, or made available by law, for the support of such department, division, commission, bureau, board, office or institution, and shall be fixed and determined by the Attorney General. All moneys paid for such services, under and pursuant to this section, shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit and in augmentation of the current appropriation for the support of the Attorney General's office, to be expended in accordance with law, for the support of said office. Cost of legal services.

CHAPTER 214.

Stats 1913, p 1035, amended

An act to add a new section to be numbered 14a to the "State Civil Service Act," relating to the abolition or discontinuance of positions.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered 14a is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof, to read as follows:

Lay off of State employees

Sec. 14a. Whenever it is necessary because of lack of work or lack of funds, or whenever it is advisable in the interests of economy, to reduce the staff of any department or agency in the State service, the appointing power may with the approval of the commission lay off employees according to the procedure set forth in this act and the rules and regulations thereunder. The duties performed by the employee or employees so laid off may be assigned to any other permanent civil service employee or employees in the department or agency, who in the opinion of the commission are qualified to perform such duties regardless of the specific classification or grade to which such employees are allocated. Any action brought against the appointing power or the Civil Service Commission by an employee laid off must be brought and served within one year, but in the event of such action said employee can not be compensated for the time subsequent to the date of lay off unless such action is filed and served within ninety days from the date of lay off.

Limitation of actions for lay off.

Abolition or discontinuance of positions

In the event that any department, board, commission, elective office or other State agency decides to abolish one or more positions of any grade, or to temporarily discontinue the same because of lack of work or lack of funds, or in the interest of economy, then a number of employees of that department, board, commission, elective office or agency equal to the number of positions to be so abolished or discontinued, shall be laid off. Lay offs shall be made in accordance with the seniority and the efficiency of the employee or employees of the grade in which the lay off is to be made by applying the following rule: In determining the rating to be given for seniority, two points shall be allowed for each complete year of State service, and in determining the rating to be given for efficiency that number of points shall be allowed which expresses the efficiency of the employee in terms of percentage of perfection, with one hundred per cent considered as perfect; provided, however, that if a rating of less than seventy per cent for efficiency is given to an employee the employee or the commission may compel the appointing authority to prefer charges against said employee for inefficiency in accordance with section 14 of this act. In making lay offs the combined score of the employee for seniority and efficiency shall be considered, and the employee or employees of the grade under consideration having the lowest combined score or scores, up to the number of positions to be abolished or discontinued, shall be laid off; provided, however, that in any case where an employee has previously served the State with civil service status in the next lower grade of the class under consideration, or its equivalent in any previous classification, said employee shall be afforded the option of being demoted to said lower grade in lieu of being laid off, to replace the employee in said lower grade having the lowest combined score for seniority and efficiency, provided such combined score is lower than that of the employee being demoted. The names of employees thus laid off or demoted shall be placed upon the departmental lay-off list for the grade from which they were laid off or demoted, and also upon the general lay-off list for such positions as, in the opinion of the commission, the employees are qualified and entitled to hold. The order of names on all lay-off lists shall be the relative order of combined scores for seniority and efficiency. Any employee replaced by an employee from the next higher grade in the manner provided in this section, who has previously served the State, with civil service status in the grade of the same class, or its equivalent in any previous classification, next below that in which he was serving at the time of replacement, shall have the same option of demotion as though his position were abolished or discontinued, and under the conditions provided in this section may replace an employee in said next lower grade. All employees compensated on a monthly basis who are to be laid off or demoted under the provisions of this act shall be given fifteen days' notice of such lay off or demotion prior to the effective date thereof.

Lay-off lists.

Notice.

CHAPTER 215.

An act to amend section 28 of The General Cemetery Act, relating to the extension of time for the disinterment and removal of bodies from cemeteries.

Stats 1931, p 2434, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 28 of the General Cemetery Act, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 2434.

Sec. 28. The provisions of that certain act of the Legislature approved June 5, 1923, relating to the abandonment of cemeteries and parts thereof, entitled "An act authorizing the board of supervisors or other governing body of any incorporated city, or city and county having a population of more than one hundred thousand persons, to order the disinterment and removal of all human bodies interred in any cemeor city and county in which such cemetery is situated; provided further, that at any time either before or after the expiration of the time prescribed by any law or ordinance heretofore enacted pursuant to the provisions of the above-mentioned act for the disinterment and removal of the bodies from any such cemetery the board of supervisors or other governing body of any incorporated city or city and county may extend such time so prescribed for a period of not to exceed four years from and after the effective date of this amendatory act. Such time may be further extended by the superior court of the county, in which such cemetery is located, upon good cause shown upon application for such extension by the person, corporation, association, or corporation sole owning or controlling such cemetery. When by any law or ordinance the bodies buried in any cemetery must be removed therefrom and reinterred elsewhere, no county, town or political subdivision wherein the reinterment of disinterred remains takes place, shall charge for any permit or levy a tax of any nature for the reinterment, cremation or replacing in a mausoleum of such disinterred remains.

ment of surplus moneys in the treasury of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal utility district or flood control district.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1927, p. 28.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investment of surplus funds

Section 1. Any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal utility district or flood control district, which now has, or hereafter shall have, any surplus money in the treasury thereof, not required for the immediate necessities of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal utility district or flood control district, is hereby authorized to invest such portion of any such surplus as to the governing body of the said county, city and county, incorporated city or town, flood control district or municipal utility district, may be deemed wise or expedient in any bonds already issued or hereafter issued by such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, flood control district or municipal utility district respectively, or in bonds already issued or hereafter issued by any metropolitan water district, county water district or by any school district situated in whole or in part within the limits of such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or within the county in which any part of such flood control district or municipal utility district is situated, or in bonds already issued or hereafter issued by the State of California, or the United States, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of bonds, or part thereof, at the original sale of such bonds, or by the purchase of such bonds after they have been thus issued.

Sale of bonds.

Any bonds thus purchased and held may, from time to time, be sold and the proceeds reinvested in bonds as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held shall, from time to time, be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the money, with which the bonds were originally purchased, was placed in the treasury of the county, city and county, incorporated city or town, municipal utility district, or flood control district.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to require the Director of the Department of Natural Resources to register and mark buildings of historical interest or landmarks," approved April 24, 1931, by amending the title thereof, and by amending section 2 and by adding a new section to be numbered section 3, relating to historical buildings and landmarks.

Stats 1931, p 320, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of the above act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 320

An act relating to historical buildings and landmarks and to the acceptance thereof and the powers, duties and jurisdiction of the Department of Natural Resources in connection therewith.

Title amended.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 320

Sec. 2. The director may accept for registration any historical building or landmark only in the event that the following conditions are complied with:

Requirements for registration

(a) Whenever in the judgment of the director the building or landmark is of sufficient historical interest.

(b) Whenever the applicant or applicants for registration of any historical building or landmark shall first arrange for the public to have free ingress and egress to such building or landmark.

(c) Whenever a proper monument is erected upon a landmark with a durable plaque affixed to the monument carrying an adequate description of the nature and history of such landmark.

(d) Whenever a durable plaque bearing an adequate description of the nature and history of a historical building is affixed to such building.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section 3, to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 3. In the event that the director accepts for registration any building or landmark he shall list such building or landmark in a register kept for that purpose and shall either affix in a prominent place on such building and on the monument erected on a landmark, a suitable numbered placard declaring that such building or landmark is a registered State landmark or shall include this information upon the durable plaque mentioned in section 2 hereof.

CHAPTER 220.

Stats. 1919, p. 1092, amended

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District based upon assessments levied by the reclamation board upon lands in said district," approved May 27, 1919, as amended by amending section 29 thereof relating to the maturity, calling and redemption of bonds of said district, section 42 thereof relating to the calling of installments to pay interest and principal on such bonds and to provide a sinking fund, section 45 thereof relating to sales for delinquent assessments, section 50 thereof relating to the redemption of delinquent assessments and to deeds by the reclamation board where lands have not been redeemed and section 52 thereof relating to the investment of surplus moneys in the bond fund and to the cancellation of bonds purchased with such moneys.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1919, p. 1092

SECTION 1. Section 29 of an act entitled "An act to authorize the issuance and sale of bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District based upon assessments levied by the reclamation board upon lands in said district," approved May 27, 1919, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Payment of principal.

Sec. 29. The principal of said bonds shall by an order of said board entered in its minutes, be made payable on the first day of July or the first day of January and in such years as the board may prescribe, but such bonds shall be payable serially within twenty years from their date in the manner following, to wit: Not less than ten per cent of their aggregate face value of such bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date, and not less than nine per cent of the aggregate face value of such bonds issued shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date until the whole amount of said bonds have been paid; provided, however, that the reclamation board may call and redeem in their numerical order such an amount of said bonds as in its judgment it may see fit on any interest date subsequent to the first day of July, 1921, at their face value, with accrued interest to date of redemption. To effect any such redemption, the reclamation board shall cause to be published two times, to wit: once each week for two successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the city of Sacramento, a notice stating that at such next semiannual interest date, the bonds specified in such notice will be redeemed and that there will be due and payable on such bonds at the places specified therein for payment, the amount of the principal thereof with accrued interest.

Redemption of bonds.

SEC. 2. Section 42 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p. 580.

Sec. 42. Upon the sale of any of the bonds of the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District based upon any assessment levied by the reclamation board, as herein provided, the reclamation board shall immediately, and annually thereafter, by an order entered in its minutes ascertain and determine the total amount necessary to be collected upon such assessment for the payment of principal and interest of all such bonds which will or may become due on the two semiannual due dates next succeeding the date of said order. Said reclamation board may also in its discretion in said order fix and determine upon such additional sum as the said board may deem proper to be collected to provide a sinking fund for the retirement of such bonds on or before maturity. Immediately upon making said order the said board shall prepare in duplicate, retaining one original thereof, and causing the other original thereof to be certified by its secretary or assistant secretary and delivered to the county treasurer of each county wherein are situated any of the lands covered by such assessment, a statement of the amount of such assessment necessary to be collected for such year to pay the said principal and interest of said bonds falling due as aforesaid, to which there shall be added and collected an additional amount of fifteen per cent of said amount to cover possible delinquencies. Said statement shall also include, and there shall be added and collected, such additional sum as the board in its said order may have fixed and determined upon to provide a sinking fund for the redemption of bonds on or before maturity. The amount necessary to pay the interest and/or principal falling due as aforesaid, together with the said additional fifteen per cent (15%) of said amount and together with the said amount for sinking fund purposes, shall constitute the amount to be collected and paid into the bond fund and shall be known as the installment for bonds. Such installment for bonds shall, unless otherwise determined by the reclamation board by an order entered in its minutes, a copy of which duly certified shall be transmitted to the county treasurer of each of said counties, be payable in two equal portions, the first of which shall be due and payable to such county treasurer, respectively, on the third Monday in October and shall be delinquent on the first Monday in December next thereafter at six o'clock p.m. and the remaining portion may be paid at any time before the last Monday in April next thereafter at six o'clock p.m. at which time the same shall become delinquent.

Annual installments for bonds.

Due date.

SEC. 3. Section 50 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1919, p. 1092.

Sec. 50. Any person interested in any tract of land sold at such delinquent sale may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of sale by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate of sale with interest thereon at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption. If no redemption shall be made within one year the reclamation board upon demand and the surrender of such certificate of purchase and the delivery of a certificate of the county treasurer that no redemption has been made within such year from date of sale, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances except State, county and municipal taxes, assessments levied or assessed by statutory authority, and the unpaid balance of the said or any assessment made by said drainage district, each installment whereof may be called and collected as by law provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District shall thereafter, until redeemed or until sold and disposed of by the reclamation board, be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments of any assessment as in this act provided. Every deed by the reclamation board purporting to be executed under this act shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described. All deeds herein required to be executed by the reclamation board may be executed by the president and secretary thereof on behalf of said board.

Deed of conveyance if no redemption.

Stats 1919, p. 1092.

SEC. 4. Section 52 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investment of surplus funds.

Sec. 52. Whenever said district shall have any moneys in the bond fund of any assessment which money is not immediately required for the purpose of paying principal or interest on bonds of said assessment, the same or any part thereof may be invested in bonds of said district based upon and secured by said assessment and such investment may be made by the reclamation board by direct purchase of such bonds from time to time and in such manner as it in its discretion shall determine and at such price or prices as it may deem advisable but not to exceed par, plus the accrued interest thereon. Any bonds thus purchased and held in said bond fund may from time to time be sold and the proceeds temporarily reinvested in bonds as above provided. Sales of any bonds thus purchased and held in the bond fund shall from time to time be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purpose for which the bonds fund was created; provided, however, that any bonds so purchased, as aforesaid, may in the discretion of the reclamation board be delivered to the State Treasurer for cancellation and such bonds shall thereupon be by him canceled and after such cancellation shall cease to be an indebtedness or obligation of said district and/or said assessment for any purpose whatsoever.

Stats. 1919, p. 1092

SEC. 5. Section 45 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 45. If both portions of said installment are not paid before the last Monday in April at six o'clock p.m., the reclamation board shall publish in each county where such delinquencies exist, in one notice, a list of all said delinquencies in such county at least two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation published in the said county, which notice shall contain a description of each parcel of land assessed within the said county whereon such installment or installments are delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list, the name of the owner to whom it is assessed or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners if such be the fact, the amount of the installment or installments delinquent on such parcel, the amount of the penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said county at a specified day and hour, which shall not be less than thirty nor more than ninety days from the date of delinquency, to pay such delinquent installment or installments and penalty. At the time and place stated in said notice the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment or installments together with such penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due for said installment or installments thereon, together with such penalty, except that the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value, in lieu of cash, bonds of said drainage district issued upon such assessment, or their interest coupons, which bonds or coupons shall be then matured or will mature within one year after such sale. Any said bonds or coupons so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and transmitted to the State Treasurer. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the county treasurer shall endorse thereon as paid the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. There shall be credited to the bond fund of such assessment the amount of purchase money so paid in bonds or coupons on such delinquent sales, and of all sums endorsed as paid upon account of purchase money on any such bonds or coupons, specifying the same, a statement of which shall be furnished by the county treasurer to the State Treasurer.

Sale of land for delinquent installments.

CHAPTER 221.

An act to add section 675.2 to the Political Code, relating to the transfer of land between State agencies.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. Section 675.2 is hereby added to the Political Code to read as follows:

Transfer of land between State agencies.

675.2. In the case of State agencies other than municipal corporations or political subdivisions, having control or possession of land owned by the State, such control or possession may be transferred to another such agency with the approval in writing of the Director of Finance. The payment, to the transferring agency out of any funds available for the use of the transferee agency, of such consideration as the Director of Finance may deem proper for the transfer, may also be authorized by the Director of Finance in connection with such transfer. The recorder of every county in the State in which is located the land, or any portion thereof, so transferred, must on request and without fee record any instruments executed in connection with such transfer by the agencies involved or by the Director of Finance. For the purposes of this section the Department of Finance may act as the transferring agency in cases where the State owns an interest in land but which interest is not under the control or in possession of any other specific State agency.

CHAPTER 222.

An act to amend section 1030 of the Political Code, relating to office hours.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Pol. C. 1872.

SECTION 1. Section 1030 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

State office hours

1030. Unless otherwise provided by law, every department, bureau, board, commission and officer, except the State Compensation Insurance Fund, shall keep all of their offices open for the transaction of business from nine o'clock a.m. until five o'clock p.m. of each day, other than legal holidays, except during the months of July and August when such office shall, in lieu of the aforesaid hours, be kept open from eight o'clock a.m. until four o'clock p.m. of each said day, provided, that the office of the State Treasurer shall close one hour earlier than the time set herein for other departments, bureaus, boards, commissioners and officers.

CHAPTER 223.

An act providing for the supervision and regulation of for-hire vessels other than common carrier vessels, operating between points exclusively on the inland waters of the State of California; defining for-hire vessels and providing for the supervision and regulation thereof by the Railroad Commission; and providing for the enforcement of the provisions of this act and for the punishment of the violations thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Definitions.

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) The term "commission," when used in this act, means the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

(b) The term "commissioner," when used in this act, means one of the members of the commission.

(c) The term "corporation," when used in this act, includes a corporation, a company, an association, and a joint stock association.

(d) The term "person," when used in this act, includes an individual, a firm, or a copartnership.

(e) The term "for-hire vessel," when used in this act, includes every species of water craft, by whatsoever power operated, which is owned, controlled, operated or managed for use in the transportation of persons or property for compensation, except rowboats, sailing boats and barges under twenty tons dead weight carrying capacity, and vessels propelled by steam, gas, fluid naphtha, electricity, or other motive power under the burden of five tons net register, and shall not include a vessel or vessels as defined in sections 2 (l) and 2 (y) of the Public Utilities Act of the State of California (Stats. 1915, chapter 91, as amended, page 115).

Applicability of act.

SEC. 2. No person or corporation shall operate any "for-hire vessel" for the purpose of transporting persons or property for compensation or hire, between points exclusively on the inland waters of this State, except in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Permits to operate for-hire vessels

SEC. 3. From and after sixty (60) days after this act becomes effective, it shall be unlawful for any person or corporation to operate or permit to be operated, any for-hire vessel for the purpose of transporting persons or property for compensation or hire, between points exclusively on the inland waters of this State, without first having secured a permit from the commission as herein provided, and unless such permit is in full force and effect. Said permit or a copy thereof certified by an officer of said commission shall be carried on each vessel covered thereby, and shall be subject to inspection by any peace officer or other public officer or person charged with the enforcement of this act.

Applications for permits

SEC. 4. Every application for such permit shall be in writing, shall specify the points between which applicant proposes to operate, shall show the rates, fares, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to the services proposed to be rendered, shall show the commodities proposed to be transported, shall set forth the rules and regulations governing the proposed service. and shall conform to such rules and regulations as may be adopted from time to time by said commission.

Same—Hearing.

SEC. 5. Applications for permits may be granted by the commission without a public hearing, but for good cause shown, the commission may require a public hearing.

SEC. 6. Investigations and public hearings provided for in this act shall be made and conducted by the commission, any commissioner, or by any officer or employee of said commission designated by it as an examiner.

For the purpose of this act, each member of the commission and each examiner shall severally have power to administer oaths, certify to all official acts, issue writs of summons, subpoena, and all necessary process in like manner and to the same extent as courts of record. The process issued by the commission or any commissioner or any such examiner shall extend to all parts of the State and may be served by any person authorized to serve process in like manner and to the same extent as in courts of record, or by any person designated for that purpose by the commission, any commissioner or an examiner. The person serving any such process shall receive such compensation as may be allowed by the commission, not to exceed the fees now prescribed by law for similar service and such fee shall be paid in the same manner as provided herein for the payment of witnesses.

Witness fees.

Each witness who shall appear by order of the commission, any commissioner or an examiner shall receive for his attendance the same fees and mileage allowed by law to a witness in civil cases, which amount shall be paid directly by the party at whose request such witness is subpoenaed. When a witness who has not been required to attend at the request of any party, shall be subpoenaed by the commission, any commissioner or an examiner, his fees and mileage shall be paid from the funds available to the commission.

Depositions

The commission, any commissioner or any examiner or any party may, in any investigation or hearing before the commission, cause the deposition of any witness residing within or without the State to be taken in the manner prescribed by law for like deposition in civil actions in the superior courts of this State, and to that end may compel the attendance of witnesses and the production of books, papers, documents, and accounts.

Witnesses exempt from prosecution.

No person shall be excused from testifying or from producing any book, document, paper or account in any investigation or inquiry by or hearing before the commission or any commissioner or examiner when ordered to do so, upon the ground that the testimony or evidence, book, document, paper or account required of him may tend to incriminate him or subject him to penalty or forfeiture, but no person shall be prosecuted, punished or subjected to any penalty or forfeiture for or on account of any act, transaction, matter or thing concerning which he shall, under oath have testified or produced documentary evidence; provided, that no person so testifying shall be exempt from prosecution or punishment for any perjury committed by him in his testimony.

Rules for issuance of permits

The commission shall have authority from time to time to promulgate rules and regulations respecting the issuance of permits under the provisions of this act and for the conduct of investigations and hearings as provided herein.

Schedule of tariffs

SEC. 7. Before any permit shall become effective the grantee thereof shall file with the commission a schedule showing the rates, fares, tolls, rentals and charges applicable to the service proposed to be rendered, which shall conform to the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, and charges which were filed with the application, unless otherwise changed by the commission.

No for-hire vessel shall charge, demand, collect or receive, a greater or less or different compensation for the services rendered or to be rendered than the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, and charges applicable to such services as specified in its schedule of tariffs on file and in effect at the time.

Changes in schedule

Unless the commission otherwise orders, no change shall be made by any for-hire vessel in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, or in any rule, regulation or contract relating to or affecting any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification or service or in any privilege or facility, except after thirty days' notice to the commission and to the public as herein provided. Such notice shall be given by filing with the commission and keeping open for public inspection new schedules stating plainly the change or changes to be made in the schedule or schedules then in force, and the time when the change or changes will go into effect. The commission, for good cause, may allow changes without requiring the thirty days' notice herein provided for, by an order specifying the changes so to be made and the time when they shall take effect, and the manner in which they shall be filed and published. When any change is proposed in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, or in any form of contract or agreement, or in any rule, regulation or contract relating to or affecting any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification or service, or in any privilege or facility, attention shall be directed to such change on the schedule filed with the commission, by some character to be designated by the commission, immediately preceding or following the item.

Raise in tariffs.

SEC. 8. (a) No for-hire vessel shall raise any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge or so alter any classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, as to result in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental or charge, under any circumstances whatsoever, except upon receiving authority from the commission.

Procedure for change in tariffs.

(b) Whenever there shall be filed with the commission by a for-hire vessel or for-hire vessels, any schedule stating an individual or joint rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, not increasing or resulting in an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental, or charge, the commission shall have power, and it is hereby given authority either upon complaint or upon its own initiative without complaint, at once and if it so orders, without answer or other formal pleadings by the interested for-hire vessel or for-hire vessels, but upon reasonable notice, to enter upon a hearing concerning the propriety of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, and pending the hearing and the decision thereon, such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation shall not go into effect; provided, that the period of suspension of such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation shall not extend beyond one hundred twenty days beyond the time when such rate, fare, toll, rental, charge, classification, contract, practice, rule or regulation, would otherwise go into effect, unless the commission, in its discretion, extends the period of suspension for a further period not exceeding six months. On such hearing the commission shall establish the rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules or regulations proposed, in whole or in part, or others in lieu thereof, which it shall find to be just and reasonable. All such rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules or regulations not so suspended shall, on the expiration of thirty days from the time of filing the same with the commission, or on such lesser time as the commission may grant, go into effect and be the established and effective rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges, classifications, contracts, practices, rules or regulations, subject to the power of the commission, after a hearing had on its own motion or upon complaint, as herein provided, to alter or modify the same.

Contents of permits.

SEC. 9. Every permit issued under this act shall specify the points and routes to which it shall apply, the articles which may be transported thereover, and description of each vessel covered thereby, and such other conditions as the commission may impose.

Rules governing operation.

SEC. 10. The commission is hereby vested with power and authority, and it is hereby made its duty, to prescribe rules and regulations covering the operations of for-hire vessels between points exclusively on the inland waters of this State.

Amendment and revocation of permits.

SEC. 11. Any such permit may be amended from time to time by the commission, and said commission may revoke any such permit for violation of any of the terms and conditions thereof, or because of any unlawful operation thereunder. No such permit shall be amended or revoked, however, without the consent of the holder thereof unless the commission shall first have given the holder thereof not less than ten days' notice in writing of its intention to so revoke or amend such permit, and shall have stated in such written notice the ground or grounds for revocation or amendment of such permit, and the effective date of any such revocation or amendment.

Hearing. If the holder of such permit shall, five days or more prior to such effective date, file a written demand with the commission for a public hearing in the matter of any such amendment or revocation, then any such amendment or revocation shall not be effective until said commission shall first have held a public hearing in respect thereto.

Accounts. SEC. 12. The commission is hereby vested with power and authority to require all persons or corporations operating for-hire vessels to keep accounts in accordance with such classification of accounts and rules in respect thereto as may be established by the commission from time to time, and to file such reports and to furnish the commission with such data concerning their business and practices as the commission may from time to time prescribe. Such accounts shall be open to the inspection of the commission or its representatives at all times.

No permit to common carrier. SEC. 13. No permit shall be issued to any person or corporation for the operation of for-hire vessels over the whole or any part of any route operated by the applicant as a common carrier.

Act applicable to interstate and foreign commerce. SEC. 14. The terms of this act and every part thereof shall apply and be construed to apply to interstate and foreign commerce, except in so far as the same may be in conflict with the provisions of the Constitution and laws of the United States.

Penalties. SEC. 15. Every person or corporation operating for-hire vessels to which this act applies, who violates, procures, aids or abets in the violation of, any provision of this act, or fails to comply with any order, decision, regulation or permit issued by the commission, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punishable by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail not to exceed one (1) year, or both. Each day's violation of this act or of any of such terms or conditions of any such permit shall constitute a separate offense punishable as aforesaid.

Orders to cease and desist. SEC. 16. When a complaint has been filed with the commission alleging that any vessel is being operated without a permit as required by this act, or when the commission has reason to believe that this act is being violated, it shall be the duty of the commission to investigate such operations; and the commission shall have power to make its order requiring the owner or operator of such vessel to cease and desist from any operation in violation of this act; and it shall be the duty of the commission to enforce compliance with such order under the powers vested in it under this act or by law.

Enforcement. SEC. 17. The commission is hereby authorized to employ such forces as it may require to aid in the enforcement of this act; and any representative of the commission shall have all lawful powers of peace officers to make arrests for any violation of this act.

Rehearing.

SEC. 18. After any order or decision has been made by the commission, any party to the action or proceeding, or any stockholder or bondholder or other party pecuniarily interested in the vessel affected, may apply for a rehearing in respect to any matter determined in said action or proceeding and specified in the application for rehearing, and the commission may grant and hold such rehearing on said matters if in its judgment sufficient reason therefor be made to appear. No cause of action arising out of any order or decision of the commission shall accrue in any court to any corporation or person unless such corporation or person shall have made, before the effective date of said order or decision, application to the commission for a rehearing. Such application shall set forth specifically the ground or grounds on which the applicant considers said decision or order to be unlawful. No corporation or person shall in any court urge or rely on any ground not so set forth in said application. Any application for a rehearing made ten days or more before the effective date of the order as to which a rehearing is sought, shall be either granted or denied before such effective date, or the order shall stand suspended until such application is granted or denied. Any application for a rehearing made within less than ten days before the effective date of the order as to which a rehearing is sought, and not granted within twenty days, may be taken by the party making the application to be denied, unless the effective date of the order is extended for the period of the pendency of the application. If any application for a rehearing be granted without a suspension of the order involved, the commission shall forthwith proceed to hear the matter with all dispatch and shall determine the same within twenty days after final submission, and if such determination is not made within said time, it may be taken by any party to the rehearing that the order involved is affirmed. An application for rehearing shall not excuse any corporation or person from complying with and obeying any order or decision, or any requirement of any order or decision of the commission theretofore made, or operate in any manner to stay or postpone the enforcement thereof, except in such cases and upon such terms as the commission may by order direct. If, after such rehearing and a consideration of all the facts, including those arising since the making of the order or decision, the commission shall be of the opinion that the original order or decision or any part thereof is in any respect unjust or unwarranted, or should be changed, the commission may abrogate, change or modify the same. An order or decision made after such rehearing abrogating, changing or modifying the original order or decision shall have the same force and effect as an original order or decision, but shall not affect the right or the enforcement of any right arising from or by virtue of the original order or decision unless so ordered by the commission.

Writ of review.

SEC. 19. Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, then within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on rehearing, the applicant may apply to the Supreme Court of this State, for a writ of certiorari or review (hereinafter referred to as a writ of review) for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order or decision or the order or decision on rehearing inquired into and determined. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day, the cause shall be heard by the Supreme Court, unless for a good reason shown the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in the Supreme Court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether the commission has regularly pursued its authority, including a determination of whether the order or decision under review violates any right of the petitioner under the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be final and shall not be subject to review, such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission on reasonableness and discrimination. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the Supreme Court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order or decision of the commission. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with the provisions of this act, apply to proceedings instituted in the Supreme Court under the provisions of this section. No court of this State (except the Supreme Court to the extent herein specified) shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order or decision of the commission or to suspend or delay the execution or operation thereof, or to enjoin, restrain or interfere with the commission in the performance of its official duties; provided, that the writ of mandamus shall lie from the Supreme Court to the commission in all proper cases.

Stay or suspension of decision of commission

SEC. 20. (a) The pendency of a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order or decision of the commission, but during the pendency of such writ, the Supreme Court in its discretion may stay or suspend, in whole or in part, the operation of the commission's order or decision.

(b) No order so staying or suspending an order or decision of the commission shall be made by the Supreme Court otherwise than upon three days' notice and after hearing, and if the order or decision of the commission is suspended, the order suspending the same shall contain a specific finding based upon evidence submitted to the court and identified by reference thereto, that great or irreparable damage would otherwise result to the petitioner and specifying the nature of the damage.

Bond.

(c) In case the order or decision of the commission is stayed or suspended, the order of the court shall not become effective until a suspending bond shall first have been executed and filed with, and approved by the commission (or approved, on review, by the Supreme Court), payable to the people of the State of California, and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment, by the party petitioning for the review, of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order or decision of the commission.

Proceedings under act preferred over other civil causes.

SEC. 21. All actions and proceedings under this act, and all actions or proceedings to which the commission or the people of the State of California may be parties, and in which any question arises under this act, or under or concerning any order or decision of the commission, shall be preferred over all other civil causes except election causes and shall be heard and determined in preference to all other civil business except election causes, irrespective of position on the calendar. The same preference shall be granted upon application of the attorney of the commission in any action or proceeding in which he may be allowed to intervene.

Exemptions.

SEC. 22. The provisions of this act shall not be deemed applicable to persons or corporations, their lessees, trustees or receivers who furnish water transportation service between points in this State for their affiliated companies or for the products of other persons or corporations, their lessees, trustees or receivers engaged in the same industry, if and so long as such water transportation service is furnished in tank vessels or barges specially constructed to hold liquids or fluids in bulk, and provided further, that such service is not furnished to others not engaged in the same industry.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 23. If any section, subsection, clause, or phrase of this act shall for any reason be held to be void or unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining provisions of this act, it being the intention of the Legislature to adopt and pass this act and each section, subsection, clause or phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that one or more of the sections, subsections, clauses, sentences or phrases thereof may be declared void or unconstitutional.

Short title.

SEC. 24. This act shall be known and cited as the "For-Hire Vessel Act."

CHAPTER 224.

Stats 1931, p. 483, amended.

An act to add section 13.16a to the Building and Loan Association Act, relating to the powers of building and loan associations.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Building and Loan Association Act, to be numbered 13.16a, and to read as follows:

Sec. 13.16a. Other Powers Upon Liquidation. The commissioner in his discretion may accept approved claims against any association in his possession for liquidation, based on investment certificates, or on shares in the case of any association in which shareholders shall have heretofore been granted the right and option by the association to exchange their shares for investment certificates of equal value, issued by such association and approved claims of general creditors against it in partial or full payment for real property of such association, with the approval of the court, after a hearing on such notice as the court shall prescribe. Claims received in payment pursuant to this section shall be accepted at their respective surrender values as estimated by the commissioner and fixed and determined by the court and all such claims shall thereafter be canceled.

Acceptance of claims upon liquidation

The commissioner in his discretion may reduce the rate of interest to be paid on any loan held by any association in liquidation, to a rate not less than 7.2 per cent a year; and may renew, extend the time of payment of, reduce the amount of the monthly payments of, or rewrite any such loan; and may make additional advances for the purpose of preserving the security of any such loan.

Reduction of interest rate, etc.

CHAPTER 225.

An act to amend section 2466 of the Political Code, relating to pilots and rates of pilotage through the Golden Gate into and out of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2466 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1915, p. 296.

2466. The following shall be the rates of bar pilotage through the Golden Gate and into or out of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun; all vessels under five hundred tons, two dollars per draft foot; all over five hundred tons, two dollars per draft foot and one and one-eighth cents per net ton for each and every ton registered measurement and every vessel spoken inward or outward bound except as hereinafter provided shall pay the said rates. A vessel is spoken by day by a pilot boat displaying a union jack or by night displaying a torch or flare-up within a distance of three miles of the vessel. In all cases where inward-bound vessels are not spoken until inside of the bar, the rates of pilotage herein provided shall be reduced fifty per cent. Vessels engaged in the whaling or fishing trades shall be exempt from all pilotage except where a pilot is actually employed.

Rates of pilotage, San Francisco.

CHAPTER 226.

An act to require the use of materials and supplies substantially produced in the United States, in public works and for public purposes.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Definition "United States."

SECTION 1. When used in this act "United States" means the United States of America, and includes any Territory or insular possession of the United States.

Use of domestic products on public works.

SEC. 2. The governing body of any political subdivision, municipal corporation, or district, and any public officer or person charged with the letting of contracts for (1) the construction, alteration, or repair of public works or (2) for the purchasing of materials or supplies for public use, shall let such contracts only to persons, firms or corporations who agree to use or supply only such unmanufactured articles, materials, and supplies as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured articles, materials and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States, substantially all from articles, materials, or supplies mined, produced, or so manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States.

Same—Clause in contract.

SEC. 3. Every contract for the construction, alteration or repair of public works or for the purchase of materials or supplies for public use shall contain a provision that only such unmanufactured articles, materials and supplies as have been mined or produced in the United States, and only such manufactured articles, materials and supplies as have been manufactured in the United States, substantially all from articles, materials and supplies mined, produced or so manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States shall be used in the performance of the contract.

Penalty.

SEC. 4. Any person, firm, or corporation who fails to comply with the provisions of any contract required by section 3 of this act shall not be awarded any contract to which this act applies for a period of three years from the date of the violation.

Notice of violation.

SEC. 5. The name of such person, firm or corporation, together with a report of the facts constituting the violation, shall be posted by the governing board or person who let the contract in at least three public places in the county in which the contract was made.

Exemptions.

SEC. 6. This act shall not apply if articles, materials, or supplies of the class or kind to be used or the articles, materials, or supplies from which they are manufactured are not mined, produced, or manufactured, as the case may be, in the United States.

CHAPTER 227.

An act to amend sections 2 and 7 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the alteration of the boundaries of and for the annexation of territory to municipal corporations, for the incorporation of such annexed territory in and as a part thereof, and for the districting government and municipal control of such annexed territory," approved June 11, 1913, relating to the annexation of territory to municipal corporations.

Stats 1913, p 587, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 3, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1913, p. 587.

Sec. 2. The legislative body of any municipal corporation, upon receiving a written petition therefor signed as hereinafter provided, containing a description of the new territory proposed to be annexed to such municipal corporation, and asking that such territory be annexed thereto, must, without delay, pass a resolution of intention to call a special election giving at least fifty days notice thereof, and submit to the electors residing in the territory proposed by such petition to be annexed to such municipal corporation the question, whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in and made a part of such municipal corporation. The resolution shall specifically describe the boundaries of the territory so proposed to be annexed to such municipal corporation, and shall designate such territory by some appropriate name or other words of identification by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at an election at which the question of such annexation is submitted. The resolution shall contain a notice of the day, hour, and place when and where any person owning real property within such territory so proposed to be annexed and having any objections to the proposed annexation, may appear before the legislative body and show cause why such territory should not be so annexed. Such hearing shall not be less than fifteen nor more than forty days from the date of the passage of said resolution.

Municipal election re annexation of territory

Resolution.

The city clerk of the municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex such territory shall cause a copy of the resolution to be published at least once a week for two successive weeks prior to the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the territory proposed to be annexed; if there be no such newspaper published in such territory then in a newspaper of general circulation published in the municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex such territory; and if there be no such newspaper published in the municipal corporation a copy of the resolution shall be posted not less than ten days before the hearing in at least three public places within the territory proposed to be annexed.

Notice.

Protest and hearing

At any time not later than the hour set for hearing objections to the proposed election, any owner of property within the territory proposed to be annexed may make written protest against the proposed election. Such protest must be in writing and shall state the name or names of the owner or owners of the property affected thereby and the location and area of such property in general terms. At the time set for hearing protests the legislative body of such municipal corporation shall proceed to hear and pass upon all protests so made and if it be found that protest is made by the owner of a majority of separate parcels of property within the territory proposed to be annexed no further proceedings shall be taken in connection with the petition. If it be found that protest is not made by owners of a majority of the separate parcels of property within the territory proposed to be annexed, the legislative body of such municipal corporation must without delay call a special election and submit to the electors, residing in the territory proposed to be annexed, the question whether such territory shall be annexed to, incorporated in, and made a part of such municipal corporation.

City council to call election.

Petition.

The petition hereinabove mentioned shall be signed by not less than one-fourth in number of the qualified electors residing within the territory described therein, as shown by the registration of voters of the county in which such territory is situated.

Notice of election

The legislative body of the municipal corporation is hereby empowered to, and it shall be its duty to cause notice to be given of such election by the publication of a notice thereof in a newspaper of general circulation, if any such there be, printed and published outside of such municipal corporation, but in the county in which the territory so proposed to be annexed is situated, at least once a week for a period of four successive weeks next preceding the date of such election. If there be no such newspaper, then such legislative body shall cause notice of such election to be given by the posting thereof in three public places within the territory so proposed to be annexed at least four weeks next preceding the date of such election.

Date and proposition.

Such notice shall distinctly state the date of such election, and the proposition to be submitted, to wit, that it is proposed to annex to, incorporate in, and make a part of such municipal corporation the territory sought to be annexed, specifically describing the boundaries thereof. In addition to said description, such territory shall also be designated in such notice by some appropriate name or other words of identification, by which such territory may be referred to and indicated upon the ballots to be used at any election at which the question of such annexation is submitted as in this act provided. The electors in such territory shall be directed by such notice to vote upon such question in the manner hereinafter set forth in this section.

Voting precincts.

Such legislative body is hereby empowered, and it shall be its duty to establish, and in such notice of election to designate, the voting precinct or precincts and the place or places at which the polls will be open for such election in such territory so proposed to be annexed, which said place or places shall be that or those commonly used as voting places within such territory, if any such there be. The legislative body of such municipal corporation is empowered to, and it shall, appoint the officers of such election, who shall be, for each voting place in such territory, two judges and one inspector, each of whom shall be a qualified elector of the voting precinct in which he is appointed to act as an officer of such election. Upon the ballots to be used at such election, there shall be printed the words "shall (giving the name or other designation of the territory proposed to be annexed, as stated in the notice of election) be annexed to the city of (stating name of city). Opposite these words there shall be printed the words "Yes" and "No," and to the right of each of these last two words there shall be a voting square. If an elector shall stamp a cross (+) in the voting square after the printed word "Yes," the vote of such elector shall be counted in favor of the annexation of the territory referred to in such proposition to the municipal corporation named therein; and if an elector shall stamp a cross (+) in the voting square after the printed word "No," the vote of such elector shall be counted against such annexation. The ballots used at such election, the opening and closing of the polls, and the holding and conducting of such election, shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the laws of this State concerning general elections, except as herein otherwise provided. The judges and inspector of such election for each polling place shall immediately on the closing of the polls, count the ballots, make up, certify and seal the ballots and tally sheets of the ballots cast at their respective polling places, doing so, as nearly as practicable, in the manner provided in the laws of this State relating to general elections, and they shall thereupon deliver the ballots, tally sheets, and returns to and deposit the same with the clerk of the legislative body of such municipal corporation. Such legislative body shall, at the time provided for its regular meeting next after the expiration of three days from and after the date of said election, meet and proceed to canvass said returns; and such canvass shall be completed at such meeting, if practicable, and in any event, as soon as practicable, avoiding adjournment or adjournments, until said canvass is completed. Immediately upon the completion of such canvass, said legislative body shall cause a record thereof to be made and entered upon its minutes, stating the proposition submitted and showing the whole number of votes cast thereon in the territory proposed to be annexed, the number of votes cast therein in favor of annexation, and the number of votes cast therein against annexation.

Election officers.

Ballots.

Count of ballots

Canvass of returns.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1915, p 305.

Sec. 7. Whenever a petition for the annexation of any new territory to any municipal corporation has been received by Petition for annexation to be made to only one municipality.

the legislative body thereof, as in this act provided, no petition, filed under this or any other act, asking for the annexation, in whole or in part, of the territory described in such petition, to any other municipal corporation, shall be presented to the legislative body of such other municipal corporation, and the last mentioned legislative body shall not submit the question of the annexation of such territory or any part thereof to the electors of such other municipal corporation, until the question of the annexation thereof to the municipal corporation whose legislative body received the petition first in this section mentioned shall have been submitted to the electors residing in such territory, and a majority of electors voting upon such question in such territory, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, or, in the event that a majority of the electors in such territory voting therein shall have voted in favor of the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation, until the question of such annexation shall have been submitted to the electors of such municipal corporation, and a majority of the electors thereof voting upon such question, shall have voted against the annexation thereof to such municipal corporation. In the event any election authorized by this act is not called or held in the manner or within the time specified in this act, all proceedings relating to such consolidation shall be and become null and void.

Notice of intention to circulate petition for annexation.

Any five electors of a district in which it is proposed to circulate a petition asking for annexation of the territory included in such district as herein provided, may file with the legislative body of the municipal corporation to which such territory is sought to be annexed, a notice declaring their intention to circulate and file a petition asking for the annexation of the territory included in such district and described in said notice. Upon the receipt of any such notice of intention, such legislative body shall cause a copy of such notice to be published once a week for at least two successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published within the territory proposed to be annexed. If there be no such newspaper published within such territory then in a newspaper published in the municipal corporation to which it is proposed to annex such territory; and if there be no such newspaper, such notice shall be given by posting a copy thereof for a period of two weeks in at least three public places within the territory proposed to be annexed. Such notice shall contain the names of the persons filing the notice of intention to circulate such petition and the specific boundaries of the territory affected thereby. The legislative body may, within five days after the completion of publication or posting of notice, as the case may be, adopt a resolution acknowledging the receipt thereof and approving the intention of the petitioners to circulate such petition.

Publication of notice by city council.

Resolution of acknowledgment

Limitations

Within fifty days after the adoption of such resolution no petition filed under this or any other act, asking for the annexation of all or any portion of the territory described in said notice of intention shall be filed with any other municipal corporation. If, upon the holding of the election in the territory sought to be annexed to said municipal corporation in the manner herein provided, the result of such election is adverse to such annexation, no new petition embracing the same territory, or any portion thereof, shall be filed with said municipal corporation within twelve months after the result of such election has been canvassed and declared.

SECTION 1. Section 4253 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Solano County: Salaries.

4253. In counties of the twenty-fourth class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for their services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices the following salaries, fees and expenses, to wit:

Clerk.

1. The county clerk, three thousand two hundred forty dollars per annum, and such fees as are allowed by law for issuing hunting and fishing licenses, and for the naturalization of persons desiring to become citizens; also five hundred dollars additional per year for the registration of voters. He shall also be allowed to appoint one chief deputy, which office of chief deputy is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand dollars per annum payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. He shall also be allowed to appoint one copyist, which office of copyist is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid; and provided, further, that in any year when a registration of voters is required by law, that said county clerk may appoint such number of deputies, who are hereby designated and shall be known as registration deputies, with full power to register electors as may be necessary for the convenient registration of voters in their respective precincts or townships, each of said registration deputies to receive the sum of ten cents per name for each elector registered by him. The compensation of such registration deputies for such registration of electors shall be paid out of the general fund of the county on a duly verified claim therefor approved by said county clerk and allowed by the board of supervisors of said county.

Sheriff.

2. The sheriff, four thousand fifty dollars per annum, and the fees or commissions for the service of all papers whatsoever issued by any court outside of the superior court in and for his county. He shall appoint a jailer to take charge of the branch county jail at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum, an undersheriff at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, a deputy jailer at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, who shall act as a jailer for the county jail, and a deputy jailer at a salary of two thousand dollars per annum, and the salaries of which deputies shall be paid by the county in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Recorder.

3. The recorder, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. He shall also be allowed one deputy, which office of deputy recorder is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officials are paid. He may also appoint such copyists as may be required for the recording of all papers, notices and documents in his office, who shall receive as compensation for their services the sum of five cents per folio for actual work done in copying and comparing any instrument to be recorded (except maps and plats) and for making copies of any records or papers. The compensation of the copyists herein provided for shall be paid by the county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the county recorder is paid; provided, that the recorder shall file monthly with the auditor a verified statement showing in detail the persons employed as such copyists and the amount due to each for such copying and comparing. All fees collected by said recorder for filing and recording of instruments and other documents, maps and plats, or for copies made from records shall be paid into the county treasury.

Auditor. 4. The auditor, two thousand seven hundred dollars and such fees as are allowed by law. The auditor shall also be allowed one deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand dollars per annum and one deputy, which office of deputy auditor is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. In addition to said deputies the county auditor shall have the right to employ from time to time in his office such additional assistants as may be required to promptly perform the work required to be done therein. Such assistants shall receive a salary not to exceed five dollars each for each day they are actually and necessarily employed and not to exceed the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year. The deputies and assistants herein provided for shall be paid by said county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the auditor is paid.

Treasurer. 5. The treasurer, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. He shall also be allowed one deputy which office of deputy treasurer is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Tax collector. 6. The tax collector, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum and his actual and necessary expenses when engaged in the collection of taxes in the various townships of the county; provided, however, such expenses shall not in any one year exceed the sum of one hundred dollars. He shall also be allowed one deputy, which office of deputy tax collector is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of two thousand dollars per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of the other county officers are paid. In addition to said deputy, the county tax collector, shall have the authority to employ from time to time in his office such additional assistants as may be required to promptly perform the work necessary therein. Said assistants shall receive a salary not to exceed five dollars per day and not to exceed the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year. The deputy and assistants herein provided for shall be paid by said county at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salary of the tax collector is paid.

Assessor 7. The assessor, three thousand six hundred dollars per annum, and his actual and necessary traveling expenses, when engaged in assessing the properties of his county; provided, such traveling expenses shall not in any one year exceed the sum of two hundred dollars. He shall also be allowed one deputy which office of deputy is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation two thousand dollars per annum, and one deputy, which office of deputy is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The salaries of which deputies shall be paid out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid. The assessor shall also receive six per cent of all personal property taxes collected by him and all fees and commissions allowed him by law for collection of poll taxes and preparation of roll of persons subject to military duty.

District attorney.

8. The district attorney, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum. In counties of this class the district attorney may appoint a deputy district attorney, which office of deputy district attorney is hereby created, and said deputy district attorney shall receive as compensation for all services performed, the sum of two thousand dollars per annum, to be paid out of the county treasury, in equal monthly installments, at the same time, in the same manner and out of the same fund that salaries of other county officials are paid. He shall be allowed two stenographers, which offices of stenographers are hereby created and who shall receive as compensation one thousand two hundred dollars each per annum, payable out of the same fund and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Coroner.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

Public administrator.

10. The public administrator, eight hundred dollars per annum.

Superintendent of schools.

11. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum and traveling expenses while visiting and examining schools and school properties of the county and in performing such other duties as are incident to the full discharge of the requirements of the office of the superintendent of schools; provided, the superintendent of schools may appoint one deputy which office of deputy is hereby created, who shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Surveyor.

12. The surveyor, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum and in addition thereto all necessary expenses, such as transportation and pay for help which may be necessary for the performance of county duties. He shall also be allowed to appoint one clerk, which office of clerk is hereby created and who shall receive as compensation the sum of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum. The surveyor may employ such additional assistants as he may deem necessary, whose aggregate compensation shall not exceed four hundred dollars per annum. From and after January 1, 1935, the surveyor shall receive a salary of ten dollars per month and a per diem of $10 per day and expenses when actually employed by the county.

Librarian. 13. The county librarian, two thousand one hundred sixty dollars per annum, payable at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers; provided, that the board of supervisors may appoint all necessary employees for the county library as provided by law. The county librarian shall also be allowed actual and necessary traveling expenses.

Justices of the peace. 14. Justices of the peace, the following monthly salaries, to be paid each month as the salaries of county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: In townships having a population of six thousand or more, one hundred fifty dollars per month; in townships having a population of one thousand five hundred and less than six thousand, one hundred dollars; in townships having a population of one thousand and less than one thousand five hundred, thirty dollars; in townships having a population of six hundred fifty and less than one thousand, twenty dollars; in townships having a population of less than six hundred fifty, ten dollars. Each justice must pay into the county treasury, once a month, all fines and fees collected by him in criminal and civil cases as provided for by law.

Constables. 15. Constables, the following salaries which shall be paid monthly as salaries of the county officers are paid, and which shall be in full for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit: In townships having a population of one thousand eight hundred and more, one hundred twenty-five dollars; in townships having a population of one thousand five hundred and less than one thousand eight hundred, eighty dollars; in townships having a population of one thousand and less than one thousand five hundred, fifty dollars; in townships having a population of eight hundred and less than one thousand, thirty dollars; in townships having a population of six hundred fifty and less than eight hundred, fifteen dollars; in townships having a population of less than six hundred fifty, ten dollars. In addition to the monthly salary allowed herein, each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law for all services performed by him in civil actions. For the purpose of this section, the basis of calculation for fixing the compensation of justices and constables above mentioned, the population of the different townships of the county shall always be based upon the figures as shown by the last United States census; provided, however, that whenever the census of any township or townships shall have been taken under the provisions of this title, said census may become the basis of calculation.

Supervisors. 16. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum for all services rendered including mileage and including services as road commissioners; provided, that when required to go on business to any point outside of the county, they shall be allowed actual expenses.

17. Each member of the county board of education shall receive ten cents per mile for traveling from his or her residence to the county seat; provided, that mileage be not allowed for more than two meetings in any one month. Board of education.

18. The salaries herein allowed are in full compensation for all duties performed by either principals or their deputies and all fees of every kind collected by each officer or his deputy except the assessor and his deputies as provided in section 7 of this act shall be paid into the county treasury as provided by law except that the county clerk, sheriff, auditor, assessor, coroner, and constables, shall each be allowed the fees and commissions as provided for in subdivisions 1, 2, 4, 7, 9, and 15, respectively, of this act. CHAPTER 239.

An act to add a new article to be numbered III-A, to Chapter IV of Part I of Division VI of the School Code, embracing sections 6.190a to 6.194a, inclusive, and to repeal an act entitled "An act providing for the dedication of real property for street or highway purposes by governing boards of school districts," approved May 31, 1929, relating to the powers of school, high school and junior college districts.

[Approved by the Governor May 5, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new article, to be numbered III-A, is hereby added to Chapter IV of Part I of Division VI of the School Code, to read as follows: New article Article III-A—Dedication of Real Property.

6.190a. The governing board of any school district of any kind or class, or of any high school district of any kind or class, or of any junior college district of any kind or class, is hereby authorized to dedicate to the State or any political subdivision thereof, for public street or highway purposes, either with or without consideration and without a vote of the electors of such district first being taken, any real property belonging to their respective districts, and to dedicate to any municipal corporation without a vote of the electors of said district first being taken and with or without consideration, an easement to lay, construct, maintain and operate water or sewer pipes over and upon any land belonging to such school district. Board of school district authorized to dedicate land for street purposes.

6.191a. Every such dedication shall be made in the following manner: Before ordering the dedication of any such property such governing body shall in regular open meeting by a two-thirds vote of all its members adopt a resolution declaring its intention to dedicate the same, which said resolution shall describe the property proposed to be dedicated in such manner as to identify it, and shall specify the purposes for which and the terms upon which it will be dedicated, and shall fix a time not less than ten days thereafter for a public meeting of said governing body to be held at its regular place of meeting for a public hearing upon the question of making such dedication. Procedure for dedication.

6.192a. Notice of adoption of said resolution and of the time and place of holding said meeting shall be given by posting copies of said resolution signed by the members of such board, or by a majority thereof, in three public places in the district not less than ten days before the date of said meeting, and by publishing such notice once not less than five days before the date, of said meeting in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the district, if any such newspaper is published therein, or, if there be no newspaper published in the district, then in a newspaper published in the county in which such district or any part thereof is situated and having a general circulation in the district. Notice.

Hearing.

6.193a. At the time and place fixed in said resolution for the meeting of said governing body such public hearing shall be held and the said governing body may, except as may be otherwise provided, at the said meeting, or at any other meeting of the said governing body held within sixty days thereafter, unless a protest be entered as hereinafter provided in this article, adopt a resolution by a two-thirds vote of all its members authorizing and directing the president of said governing body, or any other presiding officer, or the secretary, or the members thereof, to execute a deed of dedication of the said property and to deliver the same, and upon the delivery and acceptance of such deed said dedication shall be fully effective.

Deed of dedication

Procedure on petition of protest

6.194a. If a petition protesting against the proposed dedication signed by at least ten per cent of the qualified electors of the district, as shown by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, be filed with said governing board at the meeting held at the time and place fixed in said resolution, the said governing board must, before taking any further action on the proposed dedication, submit the question of whether the proposed dedication should be made, to the superintendent of schools of the county having jurisdiction over the district, whose decision shall be final. Should the superintendent approve the proposed dedication, the board may proceed as hereinbefore in this article provided. Should the superintendent of schools not approve the proposed dedication, no further proceedings shall be had thereon.

CHAPTER 240.

An act to add a new section to the Fish and Game Code, to be numbered 791.5, relating to crabs.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 73.

CHAPTER 241.

An act to add section 698.5 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to the protection of fish.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 73.

CHAPTER 242.

An act to amend sections 822, 824, 829, and 1269a of the Penal Code and to add a new section thereto to be numbered section 815a, relating to bail in criminal cases.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered 815a and to read as follows: New section.

Bail to be fixed on issuance of warrant of arrest.

815a. At the time of issuing a warrant of arrest, the magistrate shall fix the amount of bail which in his judgment in accordance with the provisions of section 1275 will be reasonable and sufficient for the appearance of the defendant following his arrest, if the offense is bailable, and said magistrate shall endorse upon said warrant a statement signed by him, with the name of his office, dated at the county, city or town where it is made to the following effect "The defendant is to be admitted to bail in the sum of ------ dollars" (stating the amount).

SEC. 2. Section 822 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pen. C. 1872.

Defendant arrested in another county to be admitted to bail.

822. If the offense charged is a misdemeanor, and the defendant is arrested in another county, the officer must, upon being required by the defendant, take him before a magistrate in that county, who must admit him to bail in the amount specified in the indorsement referred to in section 815a, and take bail from him accordingly.

SEC. 3. Section 824 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pen. C. 1872.

When bail is not given.

824. If, on admission of the defendant to bail in the amount specified in the indorsement referred to in section 815a, the bail is not forthwith given, the officer must take the defendant before the magistrate who issued the warrant, or, in case of his absence or inability to act, before the nearest or most accessible magistrate in the same county, and must at the same time deliver to the magistrate the warrant, with his return thereon indorsed and subscribed by him.

SEC. 4. Section 829 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pen. C. 1872.

Admission to bail.

829. If the offense charged in the warrant issued pursuant to section 827 is a misdemeanor, the officer must, upon being required by the defendant, take him before a magistrate of the county in which the warrant was issued, who must admit the defendant to bail in the amount specified in the indorsement referred to in section 815a, and immediately transmit the warrant, deposition, and undertaking, to the clerk of the court in which the defendant is required to appear.

Stats 1929, p 605

SEC. 5. Section 1269a of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Release upon bail

1269a. No defendant charged in a warrant of arrest with any public offense shall be discharged from custody upon bail except upon a written order of a competent court or magistrate admitting the defendant to bail in the amount specified in the indorsement referred to in section 815a, and where an undertaking is furnished, upon a written order of such court or magistrate approving the undertaking. All such orders must be signed by such court or magistrate and delivered to the officer having custody of the defendant before the defendant is released. Any officer releasing any defendant upon bail otherwise than as herein provided shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 243.

Stats. 1907, p 124, amended

An act to amend sections 1, 6, 7, 8a, 8c, 8d, 8e, 8f, 8g, 8½ and 9, to repeal sections 8 and 8b, and to add new sections to be numbered 7a, 8 and 8b, to an act entitled "An act to regulate the sale and use of poisons in the State of California and providing a penalty for the violation thereof," approved March 6, 1907.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1913, p 692.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful to sell certain poisons unless labeled

Section 1. It shall be unlawful for any person to vend, sell, give away or furnish, either directly or indirectly any poisons enumerated in schedules "A" and "B" in section 5a of this act as hereinafter set forth, without labeling the package, box, bottle or paper in which said poison is contained, with the name of the article, the word "poison," and the name and place of business of the person furnishing the same. Said label shall be substantially in the form hereinafter provided. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any of the poisons named in schedule "A" or any other dangerously poisonous drug, chemical, or medicinal substance, which may from time to time be designated by the State Board of Pharmacy of California, unless on inquiry it is found that the person desiring the same is aware of its poisonous character, and it satisfactorily appears that it is to be used for a legitimate purpose. It shall be unlawful for any person to give a fictitious name or make any false representations to the seller or dealer when buying any of the poisons thus enumerated; provided, that this prohibition shall not apply to an officer or inspector of the State Board of Pharmacy in the performance of the duties enjoined by law upon said board, or to any person acting under authority of said board in the performance of said duties. Printed notice of all such additions to the schedule of poisons named and provided for in this section, and the antidote adopted by the Board of Pharmacy for such poisons shall be given to all registered pharmacists with the next following renewal of their certificates. It shall be unlawful to sell or deliver any poison included in schedule "A" or the additions thereto, without making or causing to be made, at the time of said sale, an entry in a book kept solely for that purpose, stating the date and hour of sale, and the name, address and signature of the purchaser, the name and quantity of the poison sold, the statement by the purchaser of the purpose for which it is required, and the name of the dispenser, who must be a duly registered pharmacist; provided, however, that said entry shall be made out in full, in ink before said signature of the purchaser is made thereto, and that said entry shall be made by said dispenser himself, and not by any person who is not a duly registered pharmacist or duly registered assistant pharmacist.

Unlawful to use for illegitimate purpose.

Giving fictitious name unlawful

Entries of sales in poison register.

Said book shall be in form substantially as follows:

Form of poison register.

Date and hour.	Name of purchaser.	Residence.	Kind and quantity.	Purpose of use.	Signature of druggist.	Signature of purchaser.

This book shall always be open for inspection by the proper authorities, and shall be preserved for at least five years after the date of the last entry therein.

Stats 1923, p. 1167.

SEC. 1a. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Prosecution of violators

Sec. 6. It is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county wherein any violation of this act is committed, to conduct all actions and prosecutions for the same; provided, that actions and prosecutions under the provisions of this act relating to the labeling, sale or use of poisons shall be made at the request of the Board of Pharmacy. The board may employ special counsel to assist the district attorney in such actions and prosecutions, but the compensation for such special counsel shall be paid only from funds derived from fines collected in prosecutions under the provisions of this act relating to poisons.

Special counsel for State Board of Pharmacy.

Special counsel for Division of Narcotic Enforcement

Subject to the approval of the Attorney General, the Chief of the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement shall have the power to employ special counsel who shall have authority to take complete charge of the conduct of actions or prosecutions for any violation of the provisions of this act relating to narcotics. The Chief of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement shall have power to fix the compensation to be paid for such service and may incur such other expense in connection with the conduct of such actions or prosecutions as he may deem necessary.

Compensation.

No attorney employed as special counsel under the provisions of this section shall receive as compensation therefor any sum in excess of three thousand five hundred dollars in any one year.

Stats. 1927, p. 1510.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Penalties for unlawful sale of narcotics.

Sec. 7. Any person convicted under section 8 of this act for selling, peddling, furnishing, or giving away, or offering to sell, furnish, or give away, any of the narcotic drugs or substances or their derivatives mentioned in section 8, shall upon conviction for the first offense be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or in the State prison for not less than six months nor more than six years and for the second and each subsequent offense, shall be imprisoned in the State prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years.

Penalties for unlawful possession of narcotics.

Any person convicted under section 8 of this act for having in possession any of the narcotic drugs or substances mentioned therein, or their salts, derivatives, or any preparation thereof, or for violating the provisions of section 8a, or the first paragraph of section 8d, hereof, shall upon conviction for the first offense be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or in the State prison for not more than six years; for the second and each subsequent offense of which said person so convicted shall be found guilty, said person shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or in the State prison for not less than six months nor more than ten years.

Penalties for use of minor.

Any person who shall hire, employ, or use, any minor in unlawfully transporting, carrying, selling, preparing for sale, peddling, or using any of the drugs mentioned in section 8 hereof, shall upon conviction thereof be deemed guilty of a felony and shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison for not less than one year nor more than six years, and for each subsequent offense upon conviction, be imprisoned in the State prison for not less than six years.

Penalties for forging or altering prescriptions.

Any person who shall forge or alter any prescription, or who shall utter any prescription bearing a forged or fictitious signature for any narcotic drugs specified in section 8 of this act or who obtains any such drugs by any forged, fictitious or altered prescription or who has in possession any such drugs secured by such forged, fictitious or altered prescription shall upon conviction for the first offense be punished by imprisonment in the county jail or in the State prison for not less than six months nor more than six years, and for a second or subsequent offense in the State prison for not less than one year nor more than ten years.

Penalties for other violations of act.

Any person violating any of the provisions of this act, except those for which a penalty is otherwise in this act specifically provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than thirty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days, and not more than one hundred eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All moneys, forfeited bail or fines received under the operation of this act shall be sent without delay by the magistrate receiving same, seventy-five per cent to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the State treasury and twenty-five per cent to the city treasurer of the city, if incorporated, otherwise to the county treasurer of the county in which the prosecution is conducted. Disposition of fines and forfeitures.

SEC. 2a. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 7a, and to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 7a. It shall be the duty of all judges and magistrates collecting fines or forfeitures under this act to keep a record of said fines or forfeitures, and, upon the imposition of any such fine or forfeiture, to immediately transmit a copy of the record thereof to the county clerk of the particular county. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to keep a record of the fines and forfeitures imposed under this act in his county. Fines and forfeitures—judges to keep record.

Whenever an imprisonment has been imposed for a violation of this act, and before the termination of the sentence thereof, the defendant is released by the vacation of the sentence of imprisonment and the imposition of a fine or forfeiture in lieu thereof, said lieu fine or forfeiture shall be recorded and accounted for in the same manner as though it had been imposed in the first instance. Lien fines.

It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county to transmit to the State Treasurer an annual report of the fines and forfeitures collected during the calendar year within his county. Said report must be rendered before the fifteenth day of January of the following year. Annual report by county clerk

It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to check the report of each county clerk with the transmittals of fines and forfeitures from the judges and magistrates, and whenever it is apparent that fines or forfeitures have not been transmitted, it shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to bring suit to enforce the collection or transmittal thereof, or both. Duty of State Treasurer.

The official bond of any judge or magistrate shall be liable for his failure to transmit the fines or forfeitures imposed by him under the provisions of this act.

The records kept by any judge, magistrate or county clerk, under the provisions of this section, shall be open to the public for inspection, and may be checked by the State Treasurer, the Attorney General, the district attorney of the particular county, or the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement. Records open to inspection.

SEC. 3. Section 8 of said act is hereby repealed. Repeal.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section 8, and to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 8. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to sell, furnish, administer, or give away or offer to sell, furnish, administer, or give away or to have in possession any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, alpha eucaine, beta eucaine, flowering tops and leaves of hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa), Indian hemp, extracts, tinctures, or other preparations of hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa) or Indian Unlawful sale of narcotics.

hemp, or chloralhydrate, or any of the salts, derivatives or compounds of the foregoing substances or any preparation or compound containing any of the foregoing substances or their salts, derivatives or compounds except upon the written prescription or order of a physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinary surgeon, licensed to practice in this State, which shall be wholly written, signed and dated by the person writing said prescription or order as of the date on which it is written, and shall contain the name and address of the person for whom prescribed. If prescribed by a veterinary surgeon it shall state the kind of animal for which ordered and the name of the owner, or person having custody of said animal.

Prescription

Same—Unlawful to antedate or postdate.

No physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinary surgeon shall antedate or postdate any prescription for any of the drugs enumerated in this act, nor issue any prescription which is false or fictitious in any manner. No person shall obtain or have in his possession any such antedated or postdated prescription nor any prescription not bearing the correct name and address of the person for whom such prescription was written nor any prescription which is false or fictitious in any manner or which has been altered by any person other than the person writing such prescription nor any of the drugs mentioned herein obtained by any such antedated, postdated, false, fictitious or altered prescription, or obtained by any prescription not bearing the correct name and address of the person for whom said prescription was written. No person, other than a physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinary surgeon, licensed to practice in this State, shall write any prescription for any of the drugs mentioned in this section and no such physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinary surgeon shall write or issue any such prescription which does not conform to all of the regulations in this act contained. Such order or prescription shall be retained on file by the person, firm or corporation who compounds or dispenses the articles ordered or prescribed and shall be preserved for at least three years from the date of filing thereof; and such prescription shall not be again compounded or dispensed. No copy or duplicate of such written order or prescription shall be made or delivered to any person other than an inspector of the Board of Pharmacy or the chief or inspector of the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement but the original shall be at all times open to inspection by the prescriber, and properly authorized officers of the law, including all inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement and of the State Board of Pharmacy.

of California, from administering, furnishing or prescribing in good faith to any habitual user of narcotics who is under the professional care of such physician and surgeon for a disease, ailment, or injury, other than narcotic addiction, or for the infirmities attendant upon old age, such substances as such physician may reasonably deem necessary for the treatment of such disease, ailment, injury or infirmities, when such substances are furnished or prescribed in good faith in the course of treatment for such disease, ailment, injury, or infirmities, and are not so furnished or prescribed in order to satisfy the narcotic addiction of an habitual user of narcotics. Every such licensed physician and surgeon shall report in writing, over his signature, by registered mail, to the office of the division of narcotic enforcement within five days after the first treatment every habitual user of narcotics under the professional care of such physician and surgeon stating the date, name and address of the patient, and the name and quantity of the narcotics prescribed in such treatment, and the physician and surgeon shall upon request in writing from the Division of Narcotic Enforcement furnish any additional reports upon the treatment of such habitual user as said narcotic division may in writing request. The above provisions shall not apply to preparations of the United States Pharmacopoeia and National Formulary or other recognized or established formula or to remedies or prescriptions sold or prescribed in good faith for medicinal purposes only and not for the purpose of satisfying the addiction of an habitual user of narcotics, containing not more than two grains of opium, or one-fourth grain of morphine, or one grain of codeine, or one-sixteenth grain of heroin, or ten grains of chloralhydrate, or two grains of Indian hemp or loco weed in one fluid ounce, or, if a solid preparation, in one ounce avoirdupois, except tincture opii camphorata (commonly known as paregoric) which may be sold only upon the prescription of a physician and surgeon, licensed to practice in this State and said prescription shall not be again refilled or dispensed. No physician and surgeon, osteopath, dentist or veterinary surgeon, or other person shall prescribe, administer, or furnish any of the substances or drugs mentioned in this section except under the conditions and in the manner in this act prescribed.

Report of habitual users.

Exempt formulae.

Every person authorized by law to issue a prescription or administer or dispense narcotic drugs as mentioned in this act shall preserve for a period of not less than two years a record of the name and address of the person to whom, the date when, the character and quantity of the drug prescribed, or administered or dispensed, and the purpose for which each prescription was issued, or narcotic drug administered or prescribed or dispensed. Such record shall be open at all times to inspection by the inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement. In any prosecution under this act proof that the defendant had in his possession at any time a greater amount of drugs than accounted for by the record required in this act shall constitute prima facie evidence of guilt.

SEC. 5. Section 8a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915, p 1066.

Sec. 8a. The possession of a pipe or pipes used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachment or attachments thereto, or other contrivances used for smoking opium, or extracts, tinctures or other narcotic preparations of hemp, or loco weed, their preparations or compounds containing more than two grains to each fluid or avoirdupois ounce (except corn remedies containing not more than fifteen grains of the extract or fluid extract of hemp to the ounce, mixed with not less than five times its weight of salicylic acid combined with collodion), is hereby made a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punishable by the penalties prescribed in section 7 of this act. Unlawful possession of opium pipe.

SEC. 6. Section 8b of said act is hereby repealed. Repeal.

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered section 8b, and to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 8b. All drugs and substances specified in section 8 and also all pipes used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachments thereto, flowering tops and leaves, or extracts, tinctures, or other preparations, of hemp, or loco weed, their preparations or compounds containing more than two grains of Indian hemp or loco weed to each fluid or avoirdupois ounce (except corn remedies containing not more than fifteen grains of the extract or fluid extract of hemp to the ounce, mixed with not less than five times its weight of salicylic acid combined with collodion), may be seized by any peace officer, and in aid of such seizure a search warrant or search warrants may be issued in the manner and form prescribed in chapter three of title twelve of part two of the Penal Code. All such drugs, pipes, used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachments thereto, and all such hemp or preparation of hemp or loco weed seized under the provisions of this act shall be ordered destroyed by the judge of the court in which final conviction was had; said order of destruction shall contain the name of the party charged with the duty of destruction as herein required; provided, however, that the judge shall turn all such evidence over to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement of the State of California for such destruction; and provided, further, that any drugs specified in section 8 hereof, opium pipes and the usual attachments thereto, or smoking opium, seized under the provisions of this act, now in the possession of any city or county official or officials, or the State Board of Pharmacy, or said Narcotic Division, or which may hereafter come into their or its possession, in which no trial was had, shall be delivered to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement for destruction; provided, however, that none of the drugs specified in section 8, opium pipes and the usual attachments thereto, or smoking opium coming into the posses- Seizure and destruction of drugs and appliances.

sion of said division as above described, shall be destroyed within a period of six months from the date of such seizure. The Division of Narcotic Enforcement may dispose of all narcotics now on hand or hereafter coming into its possession (other than heroin or smoking opium), by gift to the medical superintendents of California State prisons or State hospitals for medical purposes.

SEC. 8. Section 8c of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Revocation of license of pharmacist.

Sec. 8c. The State Board of Pharmacy may revoke the registration of any registered pharmacist or assistant pharmacist upon conviction of violating any of the narcotic provisions of this act, and in such case said registration shall not be restored before the period of one year from the date of said revocation.

Stats. 1915, p. 1066.

SEC. 9. Section 8d of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful to maintain or visit opium resort

Sec. 8d. It shall be unlawful for any person to open or maintain, to be resorted to by other persons, any place where opium, or any of its preparations, or hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa), Indian hemp, or extracts, or preparations thereof, is sold or given away to be smoked on the premises.

Every person who visits or resorts to any such place for the purpose of smoking opium or its preparations, or hemp or loco weed (cannabis sativa) or its preparations, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

SEC. 10. Section 8e of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful to sell hypodermic syringe or needle.

Sec. 8e. It is hereby made unlawful for any person to sell, vend, give away, or furnish, either directly or indirectly, to any person other than a duly licensed physician and surgeon licensed to practice and prescribe medicines in this State, or to a dentist or a veterinarian, or a pharmacist licensed to practice in this State, or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe, or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, without a written, signed order from a duly licensed physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this State, said order to contain the name and address of the party for whom ordered; or for any person other than a physician and surgeon, dentist, registered nurse, veterinarian or pharmacist licensed to practice in this State, to have in his possession such an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, or any instrument or contrivance used for the same purpose as a hypodermic syringe or hypodermic needle, unless said instrument or contrivance was purchased by said person through and with a written order signed by a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this State or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, as above provided. No order, certificate or prescription shall be for more than one hypodermic syringe or for more than three hypodermic needles and no copy or duplicate of such order shall be made for or delivered to any person and said order or prescription shall be accepted and filled only once; provided, however, that the above restrictions shall not prevent any duly registered nurse of this State or student nurse in any hospital or training school for nurses from obtaining or possessing any hypodermic syringe and hypodermic needles when working under the immediate direction and supervision of a licensed physician and surgeon or licensed dentist; provided further, that the Board of Pharmacy may upon application and at its discretion issue a permit, revocable at the discretion of the said board, to any duly registered pharmacist, for a limited period, permitting and authorizing such pharmacist to sell and dispense hypodermic syringes and needles for specified purposes, to persons not addicted to the use of the narcotic drugs enumerated in this act, and sales made under the authority of and in conformity with the terms of such permit shall not be construed to be in violation of the provisions of this section.

SEC. 11. Section 8f of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1919, p 1275.

Sec. 8f. For the purpose of this act the terms veterinarian, dentist, pharmacist shall be deemed to mean and shall refer only to persons who hold valid, unrevoked certificates to practice their respective professions in this State, issued by their respective examining boards in California. The term "physician," or "duly licensed physician," or "physician duly licensed to practice in this State," or "duly licensed physician licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this State," or "practitioner of medicine," or "licensed physician," shall be deemed to mean and refer only to persons holding a valid and unrevoked physician's and surgeon's certificate, or certificate to practice medicine and surgery, issued by the Board of Medical Examiners or the Board of Osteopathic Examiners of the State of California or under the terms or provisions of any preceding medical practice act of the State of California.

Definitions.

The words "cannabis sativa" shall be construed to mean and refer to the male and female of that species.

SEC. 12. Section 8g of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1925, p 137.

Sec. 8g. Any automobile or other vehicle used to convey, carry or transport any of the drugs mentioned in section 8 of this act, which drugs are not lawfully possessed and transported, shall be forfeited to the State of California as provided in this section.

Seizure of automobile or other vehicle

(a) Any peace officer of this State, upon making, or attempting to make, an arrest for the unlawful transportation of any of the drugs mentioned in section 8 of this act shall seize the automobile or other vehicle used in their transportation, and hold the same as evidence until a forfeiture has been declared or a release ordered as provided in this section.

Notice.

(b) Notice of the seizure and of the intended forfeiture proceeding shall be filed with the county clerk and shall be served on all persons, firms or corporations having any right, title or interest in the automobile or other vehicle seized, hereinafter referred to as the "owners," in the following manner: upon each owner whose right, title or interest is of record in the Department of Motor Vehicles and upon each owner whose name and address is known, by mailing a copy of such notice by registered mail to the last known address of such owner, and upon all other owners by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where such seizure was made.

"Owner" defined

Answer.

Within twenty days after the date of mailing the notice by registered mail, or within twenty days after the date of publication, the owner or owners of the automobile or other vehicle so seized may make a verified answer to the fact of the use of the automobile or other vehicle in the unlawful transportation of the drugs mentioned in section 8 of this act; provided, however, that the claimant of any right, title or interest in said vehicle so seized may make a verified answer to establish his claim as provided in subdivision (e) of this section. No extensions of time shall be granted for the purpose of making the verified answer above required.

Hearing.

(c) If at the end of twenty days after the notice has been mailed or published there is no verified answer on file, the court shall hear evidence upon the fact of unlawful use and shall, upon motion, order the automobile or other vehicle forfeited to the State of California.

(d) If a verified answer has been filed, then the forfeiture proceeding may be set for hearing on a day not less than twenty days therefrom, and notice of this proceeding shall be given in the same manner as notice of the seizure was given as provided above.

(e) At the time set for the hearing any of the owners who have verified answers on file may show by competent evidence that the automobile or other vehicle was not in fact used in the unlawful transportation of drugs in violation of this act; provided, however, that the claimant of any right, title or interest in said vehicle may prove his lien, mortgage, or conditional sales contract to be bona fide and that such right, title or interest was created after a reasonable investigation of the responsibility, character and reputation of the offender and without any knowledge that the vehicle was being, or was to be, used for the illegal transportation of such drugs.

Release of vehicle.

(f) In the event of such proof, the court shall order said vehicle released to such bona fide or innocent owner, lienholder, mortgagee or vendor if the amount due to such person shall be equal to, or in excess of, the value of the automobile, it being the intention of this section to forfeit only the right, title or interest of the offender; provided, that if the amount due to such person shall be less than the value of said vehicle, then said vehicle shall be sold in the manner provided for sales of property under execution and the remainder of the proceeds of such sale, after payment of the balance due on the purchase price, mortgage, or lien, shall be deposited in the State treasury.

Should the fact be determined that the automobile or other vehicle was not used in the unlawful transportation of the drugs mentioned in section 8 of this act, the court shall order the automobile or other vehicle released to the owner or owners thereof.

Forfeited vehicles.

(g) Where an automobile or other vehicle has been ordered forfeited it shall be turned over to the Department of Finance of the State of California. The Department of Finance shall deliver to the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement such automobiles or other vehicles as may be needed by the said narcotic division to enforce the provisions of this act.

Exemptions.

(h) Nothing contained herein shall apply to common carriers or to an employee acting within the scope of his employment under this act.

Stats. 1927, p 105.

SEC. 13. Section 8½ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Administration of narcotics.

Sec. 8½. Any of the drugs mentioned in section 8 of this act employed in treating a habitue or addict for narcotic addiction must be applied or administered by a licensed physician and surgeon of this State, or a registered nurse acting under his instructions, and except during emergency treatment or where the patient's addiction is complicated by the presence of incurable disease, serious accident or injury, shall be permitted only in institutions approved by the State Board of Medical Examiners, where the patient is kept under restraint and control, or in city or county jails or State prisons or State narcotic hospitals; provided further, that any licensed physician and surgeon treating any habitue for narcotic addiction shall not prescribe for or furnish such habitue more than eight grains of opium, or four grains of morphine, or two grains of cocaine, or any derivative of cocaine, or two grains of heroin for each daily treatment and at the end of fifteen days of such treatment the said physician and surgeon shall not prescribe for or furnish to such habitue, for each daily treatment, more than four grains of opium, or two grains of morphine, or one grain of cocaine, or any derivative of cocaine, or one grain of heroin, and at the end of thirty days from the first treatment, the prescribing or furnishing of any of the narcotic drugs above enumerated shall be entirely discontinued; and the physician shall report by registered mail to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement as required in section 8 of this act, and shall in the same manner further report in fifteen days, and in thirty days, and as often thereafter as requested in writing by said Division of Narcotic Enforcement, the progress of the patient under the treatment so administered by him; provided, however, that any licensed physician and surgeon regularly employed may prescribe for or furnish or administer to his patient who is suffering with some incurable disease, ailment, or injury, other than narcotic addiction, and which disease, ailment or injury such physician in good faith believes requires such treatment, any of the narcotic drugs mentioned in section 8, in such quantity and for such length of time as may be reasonably necessary. The physician and surgeon prescribing or furnishing any of the narcotic drugs to an habitual user must personally furnish, by registered mail, a signed, detailed report in writing, to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement, within five days after writing the first prescription or furnishing the narcotic drug to such patient. The report shall contain the name of the patient, the character of the injury or ailment, the quantity and kind of drug used and a statement as to whether or not the patient is an addict. The physician and surgeon so administering said drugs shall keep a record of the person to whom such drugs were administered, the date of such administration, and the pathology for which said drugs were administered, which record shall be preserved for two years and shall at all times be open to inspection by the inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement and the inspectors of the State Board of Pharmacy. The Division of Narcotic Enforcement may employ a licensed physician to interview, examine and report the result of such interview or examination of any patient coming under the provisions of this section. Such patient shall submit to such interview and examination and shall not in any manner hinder or impede such interview or examination. The physician so employed by the Division of Narcotic Enforcement to conduct such interview and examination shall report the results of said examination and interview to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement, and said physician so employed may testify in any action brought under the narcotic provisions of this act or in any hearing before the State Board of Medical Examiners and such testimony shall not be privileged.

SEC. 14. Section 9 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale of carbolic acid.

Sec. 9. The sale or furnishing of carbolic acid (phenol) in quantities of less than one pound, is prohibited unless upon the prescription of a physician and surgeon, dentist or veterinary surgeon duly licensed to practice in this State, but this prohibition shall not apply to solution of carbolic acid (phenol) containing not over ten per cent of the carbolic acid (phenol) and not less than ten per cent of ethyl alcohol. All sales of carbolic acid (phenol) thus diluted so as to contain no more than ten per cent of carbolic acid (phenol) may be made under the same conditions as the drugs enumerated in schedule "B" as found in section 5a, but sales of carbolic acid (phenol) containing more than ten per cent of said acid shall be registered subject to the same regulation as the poisons enumerated in schedule "A" as found in section 5a.

CHAPTER 244.

An act to amend the title and sections 1, 2, 3, 3a, 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 13, 14, 15, 21, 22, 23, 24, 27 and 28 of an act entitled "An act regulating the business of embalmers and funeral directors and the transportation of and traffic in dead human bodies, creating a State board therefor, providing penalties for violations thereof, and repealing the act entitled 'An act to establish a State Board of Embalmers, defining the duties thereof, providing for the better protection of life and health, preventing the spread of contagious disease, regulating the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead and providing penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1915, as amended," approved April 20, 1929, relating to and regulating funeral directors, embalmers and embalmers' apprentices.

Stats. 1929, p. 258, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title amended.

"An act regulating funeral directors and embalmers and the transportation of and traffic in dead human bodies, creating a State board therefor, providing penalties for violations thereof, and repealing the act entitled 'An act to establish a State Board of Embalmers, defining the duties thereof, providing for the better protection of life and health, preventing the spread of contagious disease, regulating the practice of embalming in connection with the care and disposition of the dead and providing penalties for the violation thereof,' approved April 16, 1915, as amended."

SEC. 2. Section 1 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 1747.

Section 1. This act shall be known as the Funeral Directors and Embalmers Law. There is hereby created a board to be known as the State Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers, consisting of five members, with a minimum of five consecutive years' experience, immediately preceding their appointment, in the preparation and disposition of dead human bodies and in the practice of embalming, appointed by the Governor and removable by him for incompetency or improper conduct. Such board is a continuation of the Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors for all purposes. Except as herein provided, the term of office of the members of the board shall be four years and they shall hold office until the appointment and qualification of their successors. The terms of the members of the board in office when this amendment takes effect shall expire as follows: one member January 15, 1934; one member January 15, 1935; one member January 15, 1936; two members January 15, 1937. Such terms shall expire in the same relative order as to such members as the terms for which they hold office before this amendment takes effect, except that members whose terms would have expired on the same day shall determine their relative order by lot. Vacancies occurring under the provisions of this section shall be filled by appointment for the unexpired term.

Stats 1931, p. 1731.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Meetings.

Sec. 2. The said board shall meet annually, and at such other times as it may determine, and shall elect from its members, each for a term of one year, a president, a vice president and a secretary. The salary of the secretary shall be fixed by said board with the approval of the Department of Finance. Each member other than the secretary shall receive as compensation for his services the sum of ten dollars for each day's actual attendance upon a board or committee meeting, and each member shall be reimbursed for his traveling expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of his duties hereunder.

Compensation.

Stats. 1931, p. 1736

SEC. 4. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Definitions: Funeral director.

Sec. 3. The term "funeral director," as herein used, is a person, partnership, corporation, association, or other organization engaged in or conducting, or holding himself or itself out as engaged in: (a) preparing, for the burial or disposal and directing and supervising for burial or disposal of dead human bodies, (b) maintaining a funeral establishment for the preparation for the disposition or for the care of dead human bodies, and (c) who shall, in connection with his or its name or funeral establishment, use the words "funeral director," or "undertaker," or "mortician," or any other title implying that he or it is engaged as a "funeral director," as herein defined. A "funeral establishment" as the term is used herein, shall be understood to mean a place of business conducted at a specific street address or location devoted exclusively to the care and preparation for burial or transportation of human dead bodies and consisting of (a) a chapel wherein funeral services may be conducted, (b) a preparation room equipped with tile or cement floor, necessary drainage and ventilation, and containing necessary instruments and supplies for the preparation and embalming of human dead bodies for burial or transportation, and (c) a display room containing a stock of funeral caskets and shipping cases. The said board may adopt such rules as may be reasonable and proper to define what shall be deemed to be necessary drainage and ventilation, and what instruments, supplies and merchandise shall be deemed to be necessary and suitable in such funeral establishment.

Embalmer. The term "embalmer," as herein used, is a person engaged, or holding himself out as engaged, in the practice of disinfecting or preserving dead human bodies, or preparing for the transportation by railroad, express company, or common carrier of human bodies dead of contagious or infectious disease.

Apprentice. The term "apprentice" as herein used is a person engaged in the study of the art of embalming under the instruction and supervision of a regularly licensed embalmer of and practicing in the State of California.

The regular course of apprenticeship shall be two years, provided that the apprentice shall be entitled to two weeks' vacation each year, without leave of absence from the board.

Apprentice requirements. The person desiring to engage as an apprentice shall make application for registration as an embalmer's apprentice, to said board upon a form provided by the board, which application shall state that the applicant is over eighteen years of age, holds a high school certificate, or possesses the equivalent of a high school education, and is of good moral character. On and after the first day of January, 1935, an applicant for registration as apprentice must hold a junior college diploma or must have completed a full two years' college course. Said application must be verified by the oath of applicant and be accompanied by a fee of one dollar. The secretary of the board shall whenever it appears to him that no reason exists for the denial of such application and that such application is regular upon its face, have the power to issue to the applicant, a certificate of apprenticeship, without submitting said application to the board. If, however, any doubt exists as to the qualifications of the applicant, said application shall be submitted to the board and may be accepted or rejected by a majority vote of the board.

Fee, certificate

Renewal and delinquency fees. A certificate of apprenticeship issued as herein provided shall be signed by the apprentice and shall be renewable annually upon the payment by the holder on the first day of January of each year of an annual renewal fee of one dollar. Failure to pay said renewal fee during the month of January of any year shall cause said certificate to become delinquent, in which case it shall be renewed only upon the payment of a penalty of five dollars, in addition to said renewal fee. The board shall mail on or before the first day of January of each year to each registered apprentice at his last known address a notice that his renewal fee is due and payable and that, if not paid by the first of February, the penalty for renewal will be five dollars, in addition to said renewal fee.

Report on work. All apprentices registered as provided herein shall be under the supervision and control of said board and shall be required to report to said board semiannually on January 15 and July 15 upon forms provided by the board, showing the work which such apprentices have performed during the semiannual period preceding the first of the month on which such report is made, including the number of hours served and the number of bodies the apprentice has assisted in embalming or otherwise preparing for disposition during said period. The information contained in said report shall be certified to as correct by the funeral director in whose establishment said apprentice has been employed during said period and by the embalmer under whom he has served during said period.

Leave of absence for apprentice

Said board shall have power to grant leaves of absence and to grant extensions thereof to apprentices registered under the provisions of this act, provided that no credit shall be given to an apprentice upon his apprenticeship for the period during which he is absent from duty on leave, and provided further that no more than an aggregate of twelve months' leave of absence shall be granted to any apprentice during the term of his apprenticeship. Application for leave of absence and for extension thereof shall be made by the apprentice upon a form provided by and addressed to said board. Upon the termination of a leave of absence or any extension thereof, the apprentice shall report to the board the fact that he has resumed his duties as an apprentice and shall submit to the board affidavits subscribed by the funeral director in whose establishment he has resumed his duties and by the embalmer under whom he is apprenticed, confirming this fact. Failure to so report within ten days after the expiration date of any leave of absence or extension thereof shall automatically cancel the registration of such apprentice.

Power to suspend or revoke certificate of apprenticeship.

The board shall have power to suspend or revoke a certificate of apprenticeship, after notice and upon complaint and hearing, where the said apprentice is guilty of any of the following acts or omissions:

1. Failure to devote not less than an average of eight hours per day, six days per week, to the duties of his apprenticeship;

2. Failure to make any semiannual report to the board as required hereunder;

3. Absence from duty except on vacation for an aggregate of more than ten days in any six months or twenty days in any year, without leave of absence granted by the board.

4. Gross immorality;

5. Being on duty as an apprentice while under the influence of liquor;

6. Disobedience of proper orders or instructions of his superior;

7. Violation of any provision of this act or any rule or regulation of the board is made hereunder;

8. Soliciting business for a funeral director or for an embalmer;

9. Failure to complete his two year course of apprenticeship within three years after registration;

10. Fraud or misrepresentation in obtaining a certificate of registration as an apprentice;

Reregistration of apprentice.

An apprentice who has allowed his certificate of apprenticeship to lapse or who has had his certificate of apprenticeship suspended or revoked may within one year after such suspension or revocation make application for reregistration, but not more than two such reregistrations shall be allowed by the board. The board may, when the circumstances warrant, allow an apprentice credit under a reregistration for time actually served under a previous registration, provided that if the previous registration has been suspended or revoked upon any of the grounds set forth in this section not more than seventy-five per cent of the time previously served shall be credited on the reregistration.

SEC. 6. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Embalmer's applications qualifications.

Sec. 5. In order to qualify for a license as an embalmer, the applicant must be over twenty-one years of age, of good character, must hold a certificate from a high school, or its equivalent, must have first completed a two-year course of apprenticeship under an embalmer licensed and engaged in practice as an embalmer in this State, must have assisted at the embalming of not less than fifty dead human bodies while so apprenticed, and must have completed a full course of instruction in an embalming school of the class A type, as rated by the "Conference of Embalmers Examining Boards of the United States, Inc."; provided that a funeral director who secured a license prior to January 1, 1930, and who ever since said date has been continuously engaged as a funeral director, may be given a special examination by the board to determine his qualifications as an embalmer, and upon passing such examination may receive an embalmer's license without further compliance with the provisions of this section. On and after the first day of January, 1937, an applicant for examination for an embalmer's license must hold a junior college diploma or must have completed a full two years' college course.

Examination

The board shall require the applicant to pass an examination, which shall include the subjects of: theory and practice of embalming; anatomy, including histology, embryology and dissection; pathology, bacteriology; hygiene, including sanitation and public health; chemistry, including toxicology; and restorative art, including plastic surgery and demisurgery.

Application, fee.

The application must be in writing, and verified, on a form provided by and addressed to said board, and must be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars and by affidavits of at least two reputable residents of the county in which the applicant resides or proposes to engage in the practice of an embalmer to the effect that the applicant is of good character.

Examination requirements of other States.

Said board shall have authority, from time to time, to examine the requirements for the issuance of licenses to embalmers in other states of the United States, and to cause a record to be kept of those states in which standards for embalmers, not lower than those provided in this act, are maintained.

Stats. 1929, p. 258.

SEC. 7. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Examinations.

Sec. 6. Said board shall hold at least two meetings annually for the purpose of examining applicants for embalmers' licenses, one in Los Angeles, and one in San Francisco, and at such other times and places as the board may determine.

Notice of the time and place of each such meetings shall be given twice a week during each of two seven-day periods next preceding each meeting in one daily newspaper of general circulation published in each of said cities.

Stats 1931, p. 1736

SEC. 8. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Location of business of funeral director.

Sec. 7. The business of a funeral director must be conducted and engaged in at a fixed place or establishment; and no person, partnership, corporation, association or other organization, shall open or maintain a place or establishment at which to engage in or conduct, or hold himself or itself out as engaging in or conducting, the business of a funeral director, unless first licensed so to do by said board.

License, application.

An application for such license shall be in writing, and verified, on a form provided by and addressed to said board and filed at its Sacramento, San Francisco or Los Angeles office. The applicant, or in case the applicant is an association, corporation or partnership, the president or other officer appearing therefor, must be at least twenty-one years of age, a regularly licensed embalmer of the State of California, and of good character. The applicant, when an individual, and the president or such other officer of an association, corporation, partnership or other organization, or the individual who is to manage, direct or control the proposed business or profession shall, before the application is granted, successfully pass an examination upon the following subjects: the signs of death; the manner by which death may be determined; the laws governing the preparation, burial and disposal of dead human bodies, and the shipment of bodies dying from infectious or contagious diseases; local health and sanitary ordinances and regulations relating to funeral directing and embalming.

Contents of application.

The application must specify the address at which the applicant proposes to engage in or conduct a place of business as a funeral director, and must be accompanied by the affidavits of at least two reputable residents of the county in which the applicant resides, or proposes to engage in or conduct a funeral establishment, to the effect that the applicant, or the president or other officer, if the applicant is an association, corporation or partnership, or the individual who is to manage, direct or control such association, corporation or partnership, is of good character. The applicant shall also furnish the board satisfactory proof that the establishment in which he intends to conduct business as a funeral director is or will be constructed, equipped and maintained in all respects as a funeral establishment as defined in section 3 hereof.

Fee.

The application must also be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars.

License for each establishment.

If the applicant for such license proposes to engage in or conduct more than one funeral establishment the applicant must make a separate application and procure a separate license for each separate location.

Application and fee for change of business location.

Any funeral director desiring to change his place of business must make application therefor on forms furnished by the board at least thirty days prior to time that said change in location is to take effect. The application for such change of location must be accompanied by a fee of five dollars. Such application shall be granted by the secretary of the board upon the filing with the board by a board member or an inspector of the board of a favorable report as to the physical status of the proposed new location and that it conforms to the provisions of section 3 of this act.

In case of the death of a licensed funeral director who leaves an established business, as in this act defined, as part or all of the assets of his estate, the board may issue to the legal representative of such deceased funeral director, provided such legal representative is of good character and is either himself a licensed embalmer or has and will during the administration of said estate continue to have in his employment a regularly licensed embalmer of this State, a special temporary license as a funeral director for the duration of the administration of such estate, but in no case to exceed two years; provided, that the fees for issuance and renewal of such special temporary license and the time for payment thereof shall be the same as those required for regular licenses issued by said board.

Stats. 1931, p 1736.

SEC. 9. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investigation of applicants.

Sec. 8. Upon receipt of an application for a license hereunder said board shall cause an investigation to be made as to the character of the applicant, including its officers or members, if the application is by or in behalf of an association, corporation or partnership, and may require such showing as will reasonably prove the good character of the applicant; may subpena witnesses, administer oaths and take testimony with respect to the character of the applicant and, upon proper notice and after proper hearing, shall grant a license if it finds that the applicant is of good character, and that the proposed funeral establishment is or will be constructed and equipped as required by section 3 of this act. The board shall have power to examine into and pass upon the qualifications of the applicant as to character, ability and experience before passing upon the physical status of the proposed funeral establishment, and, in case the applicant's character, ability and experience have been favorably passed upon, shall instruct the secretary of the board to issue the funeral director's license upon the filing with the board of a favorable report by a board member or an inspector of the board as to the physical status of said proposed funeral establishment.

Every application must be granted or refused within ninety days from the date of the filing of such application or within thirty days after the close of the hearing upon the application, in case a hearing is held.

Stats 1929, p 258

SEC. 10. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Form and registration of licenses

Sec. 13. Every license issued hereunder shall specify the name of the licensee, shall be signed by the licensee, shall be displayed conspicuously in the place of business or employment of the licensee, and the licensee shall, upon being licensed, register by name and number of State license with the board of health of the city or county in which the licensee proposes to conduct a funeral establishment, or to practice as an embalmer, the fact that a license has been issued. Whenever a licensee changes his residence or place of business, from the jurisdiction of any particular board of health to another, such licensee shall, within ten days after such change register as herein provided with the board of health to whose jurisdiction he has moved. No city or county authority shall issue any permit or license for removal or interment of a dead human body to any funeral director or embalmer unless such funeral director or embalmer has registered as in this section provided. Whenever a licensee has allowed his license to lapse or has had his license suspended or revoked the secretary of the board shall promptly notify such board of health of such lapse or suspension or revocation, and no city or county authority shall issue any permit or license to any funeral director or embalmer notice of the lapse or suspension or revocation of whose license has been so given to such board of health, until such board shall be notified of the reinstatement of such funeral director or embalmer.

No funeral establishment shall be conducted or held forth as being conducted or advertised as being conducted under any name except the name appearing as licensee in the license issued by the board to such establishment.

Upon proper presentation of claims by said department to the State Controller, the latter shall draw his warrant or warrants against said fund to cover such estimated administration expenses.

CHAPTER 245.

An act granting to the city of San Mateo the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands of the State of California, including the right to wharf out therefrom, and grant franchises and leases thereon, and regulating the management, use and control thereof, and authorizing suits against said city and the State to quiet title to any such lands, and regulating the procedure therein and conditions under which said suits may be brought.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Grant of tidelands to city of San Mateo

SECTION 1. There is hereby granted to the city of San Mateo, a municipal corporation of the State of California, and to its successors, all the right, title and interest of the State of California, held by said State by virtue of its sovereignty, in and to all the salt marsh, tide and submerged lands whether filled or unfilled, within the present boundaries of said city, and situated below the line of mean high tide of the Pacific ocean, or of any harbor, estuary, bay or inlet within said boundaries, to be forever held by said city, and by its successors, in trust for the uses and purposes, and upon the express conditions following, to wit: That said lands shall be used by said city and its successors, solely for the establishment, improvement and conduct of a harbor, and for the construction, maintenance and operation thereon of wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays, and other utilities, structures and appliances necessary or convenient for the promotion and accommodation of commerce and navigation, and said city, or its successors, shall not, at any time, grant, convey, give or alien said lands, or any part thereof, to any individual, firm or corporation for any purpose whatever; provided, that said city, or its successors, may grant franchises thereon for limited periods, for wharves and other public uses and purposes, and may lease said lands, or any part thereof, for limited periods for purposes consistent with the trusts upon which said lands are held by the State of California and with the requirements of commerce or navigation at said harbor, for a term not exceeding twenty-five years, and on such other terms and conditions as said city may determine, including a right to renew such lease or leases for a further term not exceeding twenty-five years or to terminate the same on such terms, reservations and conditions as may be stipulated in such lease or leases, and said lease or leases may be for any and all purposes which shall not interfere with navigation or commerce, with reversion to the said city, on the termination of such lease or leases of any and all improvements thereon, and on such other terms and conditions as the said city may determine, but for no purpose which will interfere with navigation or commerce; subject also to a reservation in all such leases or such wharfing out privileges of a street, or of such other reservation as the said city may determine for sewer outlets, and for gas and oil mains, and for hydrants, and for electric cables and wires, and for such other conduits for municipal purposes, and for such public and municipal purposes and uses as may be deemed necessary by the said city; provided, however, that each person, firm or corporation or their heirs, successors or assigns now in possession of land or lands abutting on said lands, within the boundaries of the city of San Mateo, shall have the right to obtain a lease for a term of twenty-five years from said city of said land and wharfing out privileges therefrom with a right of renewal for a further term of twenty-five years pursuant to the provisions of this act and on such terms and conditions as said city may determine and specify, subject to the right of said city to terminate said lease at the end of the first twenty-five years or refuse to renew the same, or to terminate the lease so renewed during the term of such Conditions.

Lease to adjacent owners for wharfing purposes renewed lease on such just and reasonable terms for compensation for improvements at the then value of said improvements as said city may determine and specify. Upon obtaining such lease and wharfing out privileges such person, firm or corporation, their heirs or assigns, shall quitclaim to said city any right they or any of them may claim or have to the said lands hereby granted. This grant shall carry the right to such city of the rents, issues and profits in any manner hereafter arising from the lands or wharfing out privileges hereby granted. The State of California shall have at all times the right to use, without charge, all wharves, docks, piers, slips, quays and other improvements constructed on said lands or any part thereof, for any vessel or other water craft or railroad owned or operated by the State of California. No discrimination in rates, tolls or charges or in facilities for any use or service in connection therewith shall ever be made, authorized or permitted by said city or its successors in the management, conduct or operation of any of the utilities, structures or appliances mentioned in this section. There is hereby reserved in the people of the State of California the right to fish in the waters on which said lands may front with the right of convenient access to said waters over said lands for said purpose. This grant is without prejudice to the rights of any person, firm or corporation who may claim title to any such land or lands by virtue of any sale thereof under the provisions of the following act, to wit: An act entitled "An act to provide for the management and sale of lands belonging to the State," approved March 28, 1868, or under the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the sale of certain lands belonging to the State," approved April 27, 1863, where full payment has been made therefor and no patent has been made or delivered by or on behalf of the State of California, or where the patent from the State of California therefor has been lost or destroyed, and was never recorded in the office of the county recorder of San Mateo County, or where relief has been granted to a purchaser or purchasers under the provisions of an act entitled "An act for the relief of purchasers of State lands," approved March 27, 1872; and any such person, firm or corporation is hereby authorized to bring suit against the said city of San Mateo and the State of California in any court of competent jurisdiction in said State, to quiet title to said land, or any portion thereof, and to prosecute the same to final judgment. In any case where such full payment has been made, or in any case where relief has been granted under the provisions of said act approved March 27, 1872, the title of the plaintiff may be quieted against the said city of San Mateo and the State of California in and by such judgment, whether or not any such patent has been made or delivered; provided, however, that it shall first appear that all taxes levied against such property during the thirty years next preceding the commencement of the action, have been fully paid.

Discrimination in rates prohibited.

An act adding section 470a to the Political Code, authorizing and empowering the Attorney General to prosecute or defend, when in his opinion the public interest so requires, any action involving title, possession or boundaries of any lands belonging to the State of California or in which it has any interest.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 470a, and to read as follows: New section.

470a. Whenever any action is brought against the State or any officer or department thereof involving the title, or right to possession or any question of boundary, of any lands belonging to the State or in which it has any interest, the Attorney General may, when in his judgment the public interest so requires, either upon his own motion or upon the request of any officer or State department, appear as attorney in said action in defense of the State or of said officer or State department; and likewise the Attorney General may, upon his own motion or upon the request of any State department or officer, institute any such action in the name of the people of the State of California, or on behalf of any department of said State, whenever in his judgment the public interest so requires. Attorney General may appear in suits involving State land.

CHAPTER 247.

Stats 1917, p 46, amended

An act to amend section 17 of an act entitled the "Joint Highway District Act," relating to construction work.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 2072

SECTION 1. Section 17 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Construction work by contract

Sec. 17. All construction work under the provisions of this act shall be done by contract let and awarded to the lowest regular responsible bidder upon the same after advertisement for bids therefor shall have first been made by publication twice in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated within the district to be designated by the board of directors or the secretary thereof. The first publication of the notice inviting bids shall be not less than ten (10) days prior to the time fixed for receiving such bids. The notice inviting bids shall be upon such terms and conditions as the board of directors of the district may determine and shall require that each bid be accompanied by a check payable to the joint highway district in an amount not less than ten per cent (10%) of the aggregate amount of the bid accompanying the same and certified to by some responsible bank within the State of California, or by a cashier's check in said amount so payable issued by a responsible bank in the State of California. All bids shall be delivered to the secretary of the board of directors of the district not later than the hour fixed for receiving the same and shall thereafter be publicly opened by the said secretary in the presence of the board of directors assembled in public session. No bid shall be considered unless accompanied by a certified check satisfactory to the board of directors. The board of directors may reject any and all bids should it deem this necessary for the good of the district and may also reject the bid of any bidder who has been delinquent or unfaithful in any former contract with the district, any county composing said district, or the State of California, or any bidder who is unable to satisfy the board of directors of the ability, financially or otherwise, of said bidder, to perform the contract for the proposed construction work. All bids other than the lowest regular acceptable bid of a responsible bidder shall be rejected by the board of directors. When all bids have been rejected because it appears that the bids are too high and that the work can be done more cheaply by day labor, the board of directors may, in lieu of readvertising for bids, order the work done under the supervision of the district engineer.

SEC. 1½. Sections 1a, 1b, 1c and 1d are hereby added to said act to read as follows: New sections

Sec. 1a. The taking of any order, or making of any contract or agreement, by any traveling representative, or any employee, of any person, firm or corporation, for future delivery in this State, of any of the articles or drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act shall be deemed a sale of said articles or drugs by said traveling representative, or employee, within the meaning of the provisions of this act. A true and correct copy of all orders, contracts or agreements, taken for narcotic drugs specified in section 1 of this act shall be forwarded by registered mail to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement within twenty-four hours after the taking of such order, contract or agreement, unless such order, contract or agreement is recorded as required under the provisions of section 2 of an act of Congress, approved December 17, 1914, relating to the production, importation, manufacture, compounding, sale, dispensing or giving away of opium or coca leaves, their salts, derivatives or preparations of some wholesale jobber, wholesaler, or manufacturer permanently located in this State, as provided for in said section. Order to traveling agent. Copy of order to board.

Sec. 1b. It shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, dentistry or veterinary medicine or any other person to administer to himself as an habitual user or administer to or furnish to or prescribe for the use of any other habitual user of the same, or of anyone representing himself as such, any cocaine, opium, morphine, codeine, heroin, or chloralhydrate, or any salt, derivative or compound of the foregoing substances or their salts, derivatives or compounds; and it shall be unlawful for any practitioner of medicine, osteopathy or dentistry to prescribe, administer to or furnish any of the foregoing substances for himself or any person not in the regular practice of his profession under his treatment for a pathology or condition other than narcotic addiction, except as hereinafter provided, or for any veterinary surgeon to prescribe, administer to or furnish any of the foregoing substances for the use of himself or any other human beings. Unlawful to furnish narcotics to habitual user

Sec. 1c. The provisions of this act shall not be construed to prevent any physician and surgeon licensed as such in the State of California, from administering, furnishing or prescribing in good faith to any habitual user of narcotics who is under the professional care of such physician and surgeon for a disease, ailment, or injury, other than narcotic addiction, Prescription of narcotics in good faith or for the infirmities attendant upon old age, such substances as such physician may reasonably deem necessary for the treatment of such disease, ailment, injury, or infirmities, when such substances are furnished or prescribed in good faith in the course of treatment for such disease, ailment, injury, or infirmities, and are not so furnished or prescribed in order to satisfy the narcotic addiction of an habitual user of narcotics.

Report of habitual users.

Every such licensed physician and surgeon shall report in writing, over his signature, by registered mail, to the office of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement within five days after the first treatment every habitual user of narcotics under the professional care of such physician and surgeon stating the date, name and address of the patient, and the name and quantity of the narcotics prescribed in such treatment, and the physician and surgeon shall upon request in writing from the Division of Narcotic Enforcement furnish any additional reports upon the treatment of such habitual user as said narcotic division may in writing request.

Exempt formulae.

The above provisions shall not apply to preparations of the United States Pharmacopoeia and national formulary or other recognized or established formula or to remedies or prescriptions sold or prescribed in good faith for medicinal purposes only and not for the purpose of satisfying the addiction of an habitual user of narcotics, containing not more than two grains of opium, or one-fourth grain of morphine, or one grain of codeine, or one-sixteenth grain of heroin, or ten grains of chloralhydrate, or two grains of Indian hemp or loco weed in one fluid ounce, or, if a solid preparation, in one ounce avoirdupois, except tincture opii camphorata (commonly known as paregoric) which may be sold only upon the prescription of a physician and surgeon licensed to practice in this State and said prescription shall not be again refilled or dispensed. No physician and surgeon, osteopath, dentist or veterinary surgeon, or other person shall prescribe, administer or furnish any of the substances or drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act except under the conditions and in the manner in this act prescribed.

Record of prescriptions.

Sec. 1d. Every person authorized by law to issue a prescription or administer or dispense narcotic drugs as mentioned in this act shall preserve for a period of not less than two years a record of the name and address of the person to whom, the date when, the character and quantity of the drug prescribed, or administered or dispensed, and the purpose for which each prescription was issued, or narcotic drug administered or prescribed or dispensed. Such record shall be open at all times to inspection by the inspectors of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement. In any prosecution under this act proof that the defendant had in his possession at any time a greater amount of drugs than accounted for by the record required in this act shall constitute prima facie evidence of guilt.

SEC. 2. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1496.

Sec. 5. It is hereby made the duty of the district attorney of the county wherein any violation of this act is committed to conduct all actions and prosecutions for the same; provided, however, that subject to the approval of the Attorney General, the Chief of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement of the State of California shall have the power to employ special counsel for such purpose, who shall have authority to take complete charge of the conduct of such actions or prosecutions; provided further, that the Chief of the Division of Narcotic Enforcement shall have the power to fix the compensation to be paid for such service and may incur such other expense in connection with the conduct of such actions or prosecutions as he may deem necessary; provided, however, that no attorney employed as special counsel shall receive as compensation therefor any sum in excess of three thousand five hundred dollars in any one year. Prosecution of violators. Special counsel. Compensation

SEC. 3. Section 10 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p 380.

Sec. 10. Any person violating any of the provisions of this act, except those for which a penalty is otherwise in this act specifically provided, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined in a sum not less than thirty dollars, nor more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment for not less than thirty days, and not more than one hundred eighty days, or by both such fine and imprisonment. Penalties.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10a and to read as follows: New section

All moneys, forfeited bail or fines received under the operation of this act shall be sent without delay by the judge or magistrate receiving the same, seventy-five per cent to the State Treasurer to be deposited in the State treasury, and twenty-five per cent to the city treasurer of the city, if incorporated, otherwise to the county treasurer of the county in which the prosecution is conducted. Disposition of fines and forfeitures

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10b and to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 10b. It shall be the duty of all judges and magistrates collecting fines or forfeitures under this act to keep a record of said fines or forfeitures, and, upon the imposition of any such fine or forfeiture, to immediately transmit a copy of the record thereof to the county clerk of the particular county. It shall be the duty of the county clerk to keep a record of the fines and forfeitures imposed under this act in his county. Judges to keep record.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10c and to read as follows: New section

Sec. 10c. Whenever an imprisonment has been imposed for a violation of this act, and before the termination of the sentence thereof, the defendant is released by the vacation of the Lieu fines and forfeitures sentence of imprisonment and the imposition of a fine or forfeiture in lieu thereof, said lieu fine or forfeiture shall be recorded and accounted for in the same manner as though it had been imposed in the first instance.

New section

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10d and to read as follows:

Annual report by county clerk

Sec. 10d. It shall be the duty of the county clerk of each county to transmit to the State Treasurer an annual report of the fines and forfeitures collected during the calendar year within his county. This report must be rendered before the fifteenth day of January of the following year.

New section.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10e and to read as follows:

Duty of State Treasurer

Sec. 10e. It shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to check the report of each county clerk with the transmittals of fines and forfeitures from the judges and magistrates, and whenever it is apparent that fines or forfeitures have not been transmitted, it shall be the duty of the State Treasurer to bring suit to enforce the collection or transmittal thereof, or both.

New section

SEC. 9. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 10f and to read as follows:

Sec. 10g. The records kept by any judge, magistrate or county clerk under the provisions of sections 10b, 10c and 10d of this act, shall be open to public inspection, and may be checked by the State Treasurer, the Attorney General, the district attorney of the particular county, or the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement.

Stats 1929, p 380

SEC. 11. Section 11 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Seizure and destruction of drugs and appliances

Sec. 11. All drugs and substances specified in section 1 and also all pipes used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachments thereto, flowering tops and leaves, or extracts, tinctures, or other preparations, of hemp, or loco weed, their preparations or compounds containing more than two grains of Indian hemp or loco weed to each fluid or avoirdupois ounce (except corn remedies containing not more than fifteen grains of the extract or fluid extract of hemp to the ounce, mixed with not less than five times its weight of salicylic acid combined with collodion), may be seized by any peace officer, and in aid of such seizure a search warrant or search warrants may be issued in the manner and form prescribed in chapter three of title twelve of part two of the Penal Code. All such drugs, pipes, used for smoking opium (commonly known as opium pipes) or the usual attachments thereto, and all such hemp or preparation of hemp or loco weed seized under the provisions of this act shall be ordered destroyed by the judge of the court in which final conviction was had; said order of destruction shall contain the name of the party charged with the duty of destruction as herein required; provided, however, that the judge shall turn all such evidence over to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement of the State of California for such destruction; and provided further, that any drugs specified in section 1 hereof, opium pipes and the usual attachments thereto, or smoking opium, seized under the provisions of this act, now in the possession of any city or county official or officials, or the State Board of Pharmacy, or said narcotic division, or which may hereafter come into their or its possession, in which no trial was had, shall be delivered to the Division of Narcotic Enforcement for destruction; provided, however, that none of the drugs specified in section 1, opium pipes and the usual attachments thereto, or smoking opium coming into the possession of said division as above described, shall be destroyed within a period of six months from the date of such seizure. The Division of Narcotic Enforcement may dispose of all narcotics now on hand or hereafter coming into its possession (other than heroin or smoking opium), by gift to the medical superintendents of California State prisons or State hospitals for medical purposes.

Disposition of seized narcotics.

SEC. 12. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p 380

Sec. 13. It is hereby made unlawful for any person to sell, vend, give away, or furnish, either directly or indirectly, to any person other than a duly licensed physician, licensed to practice and prescribe medicines in this State, or to a dentist or a veterinarian, or a pharmacist licensed to practice in this State, or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe, or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, without a written, signed order from a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this State, said order to contain the name and address of the party for whom ordered; or for any person other than a physician, dentist, registered nurse, veterinarian or pharmacist, licensed to practice in this State, to have in his possession such an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic syringe or an instrument commonly known as a hypodermic needle, or an instrument or contrivance used for the same purpose as a hypodermic syringe or hypodermic needle, unless said instrument or contrivance was purchased by said person through and with a written order signed by a duly licensed physician, dentist or veterinarian licensed to practice and prescribe medicine in this State or person holding an unrevoked license to practice osteopathy, as above provided.

Unlawful to sell hypodermic syringe or needle

Unlawful to possess

No order, certificate or prescription shall be for more than one hypodermic syringe or for more than three hypodermic needles and no copy or duplicate of such order shall be made for or delivered to any person and said order or prescription shall be accepted and filled only once; provided, however, that the above restrictions shall not prevent any duly registered nurse of this State or student nurse in any hospital or training school for nurses from obtaining or possessing any hypodermic syringe and hypodermic needles when working under the immediate direction and supervision of a licensed physician or licensed dentist;

Prescriptions

Permit to sell.

Provided, further, that the Board of Pharmacy may upon application and at its discretion issue a permit, revocable at the discretion of the said board, to any duly registered pharmacist, for a limited period, permitting and authorizing such pharmacist to sell and dispense hypodermic syringes and needles for specific purposes, to persons not addicted to the use of the drugs enumerated in section 1 of this act, and sales made under the authority of and in conformity with the terms of such permit shall not be construed to be in violation of the provisions of this section.

Stats 1929, p 380

SEC. 13. Section 15 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Seizure of vehicles

Sec. 15. Any automobile or other vehicle used to convey, carry or transport any of the drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act, which drugs are not lawfully possessed and transported, shall be forfeited to the State of California as in this section provided:

(a) Any peace officer of this State, upon making, or attempting to make, an arrest for the unlawful transportation of any of the drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act shall seize the automobile or other vehicle used in their transportation, and hold the same as evidence until a forfeiture has been declared or a release ordered as in this section provided;

Notice.

(b) Notice of the seizure and of the intended forfeiture proceeding shall be filed with the county clerk and shall be served on all persons, firms or corporations having any right, title or interest in the automobile or other vehicle seized, hereinafter referred to as the "owners," in the following manner: Upon each owner whose right, title or interest is of record in the Department of Motor Vehicles and upon each owner whose name and address is known, by mailing a copy of such notice by registered mail to the last known address of such owner, and upon all other owners by one publication in a newspaper of general circulation in the county where such seizure was made.

"Owner" defined

Answer.

Within twenty days after the date of mailing the notice by registered mail, or within twenty days after the date of publication, the owner or owners of the automobile or other vehicle so seized may make a verified answer to the fact of the use of the automobile or other vehicle in the unlawful transportation of the drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act; provided, however, that the claimant of any right, title or interest in said vehicle so seized may make a verified answer to establish his claim as provided in subdivision (e) of this section. No extensions of time shall be granted for the purpose of making the verified answer above required.

(c) If at the end of twenty days after the notice has been mailed or published there is no verified answer on file, the court shall hear evidence upon the fact of unlawful use and shall, upon motion, order the automobile or other vehicle forfeited to the State of California. Hearing.

(d) If a verified answer has been filed, then the forfeiture proceeding may be set for hearing on a day not less than twenty days therefrom, and notice of this proceeding shall be given in the same manner as notice of the seizure was given as hereinbefore provided.

(e) At the time set for the hearing, any of the owners who have verified answers on file may show by competent evidence that the automobile or other vehicle was not in fact used in the unlawful transportation of drugs in violation of this act; provided, however, that the claimant of any right, title or interest in said vehicle may prove his lien, mortgage, or conditional sales contract to be bona fide and that such right, title or interest was created after a reasonable investigation of the responsibility, character and reputation of the offender and without any knowledge that the vehicle was being, or was to be, used for the illegal transportation of such drugs.

(f) In the event of such proof, the court shall order said vehicle released to such bona fide or innocent owner, lienholder, mortgagee or vendor if the amount due to such person shall be equal to, or in excess of, the value of the automobile, it being the intention of this section to forfeit only the right, title or interest of the offender; provided, that if the amount due to such person shall be less than the value of said vehicle, then said vehicle shall be sold in the manner provided for sales of property under execution and the remainder of the proceeds of such sale, after payment of the balance due on the purchase price, mortgage, or lien, shall be deposited in the State treasury. Release of vehicle.

Should the fact be determined that the automobile or other vehicle was not used in the unlawful transportation of the drugs mentioned in section 1 of this act, the court shall order the automobile or other vehicle released to the owner or owners thereof.

(g) Where an automobile or other vehicle has been ordered forfeited it shall be turned over to the Department of Finance of the State of California. The Department of Finance shall deliver to the State Division of Narcotic Enforcement such automobiles or other vehicles as may be needed by the said narcotic division to enforce the provisions of this act. Forfeited vehicles.

(h) Nothing contained herein shall apply to common carriers or to an employee acting within the scope of his employment under this act. Exemptions

An act to amend section 1255a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the abandonment of condemnation proceedings.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911, p 377.

SECTION 1. Section 1255a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Abandonment of condemnation proceedings

1255a. Plaintiff may abandon the proceedings at any time after filing the complaint and before the expiration of thirty days after final judgment, by serving on defendants and filing in court a written notice of such abandonment; and failure to comply with section 1251 of this code shall constitute an implied abandonment of the proceeding. Upon such abandonment, express or implied, on motion of any party, a judgment shall be entered dismissing the proceeding and awarding the defendants their costs and disbursements, which shall include all necessary expenses incurred in preparing for trial and reasonable attorney fees. These costs and disbursements, including expenses and attorney fees, may be claimed in and by a cost bill, to be prepared, served, filed and taxed as in civil actions; provided, however, that upon judgment of dismissal on motion of plaintiff, defendants, and each of them, may file a cost bill within thirty (30) days after notice of entry of such judgment; that said costs and disbursements shall not include expenses incurred in preparing for trial where the said action is dismissed forty days prior to the time set for the trial of the said action.

An act to add section 63a to an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, and other public property and rights of way, in whole or in part, including property over which possession and right of use has been obtained under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the Constitution within municipalities or within unincorporated territory and one or more municipalities, or lying within two or more municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, properties or rights of way; and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds," approved April 7, 1911, as amended, relating to the issuance of bonds.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 63a is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof to read as follows:

Signature of former officer on bonds valid

Sec. 63a. In case any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on any bond or coupon shall cease to be such officer before delivery of such bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signature or countersignature appearing either on the bonds or on the coupons, or both, shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of such bonds.

CHAPTER 260.

An act to add a new section to the "Fair Trade Act" to be numbered 1½, relating to unfair competition. Stats. 1931, p. 583, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the "Fair Trade Act" to be numbered 1½ and to read as follows: New section Sec. 1½. Wilfully and knowingly advertising, offering for sale or selling any commodity at less than the price stipulated in any contract entered into pursuant to the provision of section 1 of this act, whether the person so advertising, offering for sale or selling is or is not a party to such contract, is unfair competition and is actionable at the suit of any person damaged thereby. Sales below contract price.

CHAPTER 261.

An act to add section 1c to an act entitled "An act relating to unfair competition and discrimination, making certain unfair and discriminatory practices unlawful, defining the duties of the Attorney General in regard thereto, declaring certain contracts illegal and forbidding recovery thereon, providing for actions to enjoin unfair competition and discrimination and to recover damages therefor, making the violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor and providing penalties," approved June 10, 1913, as amended, relating to unfair trade practice. Stats. 1913, p. 508, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1c is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof, to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 1c. The secret payment or allowance of rebates, refunds, commissions, or unearned discounts, whether in the form of money or otherwise, or secretly extending to certain purchasers special services or privileges not extended to all purchasers purchasing upon like terms and conditions, to the injury of a competitor and where such payment or allowance tends to destroy competition, is an unfair trade practice and any person, persons, firm, partnership, corporation, or association resorting to such trade practice shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both said punishments, in the discretion of the court. Unlawful to allow secret rebates, etc. Penalties.

CHAPTER 262.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 363dd, authorizing the Director of Public Works to enter into agreements for the construction, maintenance, and use of State highway bridges jointly by the public and private owners.

[Approved by the Governor May 8, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363dd, to read as follows:

Agreements for joint construction, maintenance and use of State highway bridges 363dd. Whenever it is necessary for State highway purposes that a bridge be constructed across any river, stream, or inlet of the sea, or that an existing bridge thereover, privately owned, but used for highway purposes by the public and such owner, be reconstructed or replaced, or whenever such an existing bridge is so located that its purchase or acquisition, or the purchase or acquisition of a right of way for a State highway over and across the location of any such bridge would require an excessive expenditure of State highway funds, the Director of Public Works may, after determining the facts relative thereto and if in his opinion public convenience and necessity so require, enter into an agreement with any private individual, firm or corporation for the construction of a new bridge, and the use of any such bridge thereafter jointly by such private individual, firm or corporation and the public, or may enter into an agreement with the owner of any existing bridge for the reconstruction thereof, or for the construction of a new bridge, and the use of any such bridge thereafter jointly by such owner and the public. Such agreement may provide:

Provisions

(a) for apportioning the expense of any such construction, reconstruction, or maintenance between such owner and the State of California; or

(b) for the surrender to the State of the rights and property of the owner and the construction, reconstruction and/or maintenance of any such bridge partly or wholly at the expense of the State; and

(c) for the terms and conditions upon which the owner may use such bridge jointly with the public after the construction or reconstruction thereof; and

(d) for such other pertinent matters as shall give effect to this section.

Bridge a part of State highway system

Any such bridge constructed as herein provided shall be a part of the State highway system and title thereto shall vest in the State of California. Any funds available for the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of bridges on the State highway system shall be available for the construction, reconstruction and maintenance of any bridge constructed or acquired as herein provided.

Nothing in this section contained shall be construed as prohibiting any county, city, or city and county, from contributing to the State of California in the manner provided by law funds or rights of way for the construction or reconstruction of any such bridge as is herein provided for, or as prohibiting the relinquishment by the Department of Public Works to any county, city, or city and county, of any such bridge constructed as herein provided for, such bridge thereafter to be under the jurisdiction of any such county, city, or city and county. Effect.

CHAPTER 263.

An act to prohibit until January 1, 1934, sales under certain mortgages and deeds of trust for default in the payment of the principal sum of obligations secured thereby, to extend the statute of limitations upon such obligations, to make voidable at the instance of the owner any sale made in violation of the act, to prescribe the time within which an action to avoid such a sale may be brought, and to declare the urgency hereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 9, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Until January 1, 1934, no sale shall be made under any power of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust heretofore executed upon real property improved with a single family dwelling, nor shall any sale be made under any final decree of foreclosure rendered in any action to foreclose a mortgage heretofore executed upon real property improved with a single family dwelling, in any case in which the only default in the performance of the obligation for which said mortgage or deed of trust was given as security consists solely of the failure to pay when due the principal sum of such obligation. Moratorium on forced sales of dwelling houses

Nothing contained in this act shall prevent the acceleration, by reason of the nonpayment of taxes, interest or insurance, of the entire obligation secured by any such mortgage or deed of trust, nor prevent the sale thereunder by reason of such default. Acceleration of principal

SEC. 2. In all cases in which the time within which an action upon any obligation founded upon a written instrument secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property may be commenced would expire by virtue of section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure during the period extending between the date upon which this act takes effect and the first day of January, 1934, such time is hereby extended so as not to expire until March 1, 1934. Limitation of actions extended

Sale in violation is voidable.

SEC. 3. Any sale of real property under a deed of trust or mortgage with power of sale made in violation of this act shall be voidable, except as against a bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer for value, at the instance of the record owner of such real property at the time of such sale; provided that any action to avoid such sale or any deed executed pursuant thereto must be brought within one year of the date of such sale.

Urgency.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: A severe economic depression exists throughout the State, rendering many of its citizens unable to pay the principal sum of their debts or to otherwise refinance their loans. As a result thereof, through foreclosure actions, they are being deprived of their property.

CHAPTER 264.

An act making an appropriation for the Department of Finance to purchase certain real property situated in the City and County of San Francisco to accommodate offices of certain State agencies, authorizing the renting, leasing, and selling of said property, providing for the disposition of moneys received from the rent or lease or sale of said property, providing for insuring of said property, declaring the urgency of this act, and providing that the same shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 9, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation Purchase of H. S Burke Building, San Francisco

SECTION 1. The sum of three hundred twenty thousand dollars ($320,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated for the Department of Finance, to be paid as hereinafter prescribed, to purchase certain real property in the City and County of San Francisco to provide accommodations for offices of the Board of Barber Examiners, Board of Registration of Civil Engineers, Registrar of Contractors, Board of Cosmetology, Board of Dental Examiners, Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors, Board of Medical Examiners, Board of Pharmacy, and such other offices as the Department of Finance may determine, which real property is described as follows, to wit:

Description

Beginning at a point on the northerly line of McAllister Street, distant thereon 137 feet and 6 inches westerly from the westerly line of Polk Street; running thence westerly along said line of McAllister Street 68 feet and 9 inches; thence at a right angle northerly 120 feet to the southerly line of Redwood Street; thence at a right angle easterly along said line of Redwood Street 68 feet and 9 inches; thence at a right angle southerly 120 feet to the point of beginning, being a portion of Western Addition Block No. 65.

Sources of appropriation

SEC. 2. Said sum of three hundred twenty thousand dollars ($320,000) shall be paid as follows: thirty-five thousand dollars ($35,000) out of any money in the barber examiners fund, twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) out of any money in the civil engineers fund, ninety-five thousand dollars ($95,000) out of any money in the contractors license fund, eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) out of any money in the cosmetology contingent fund, sixteen thousand dollars ($16,000) out of any money in the dentistry fund, eighteen thousand dollars ($18,000) out of any money in the embalmers and funeral directors' fund, twenty-eight thousand dollars ($28,000) out of any money in the medical examiners contingent fund, and twenty-eight thousand dollars ($28,000) out of any money in the pharmacy board contingent fund.

Disposition of rents.

SEC. 3. Any moneys derived from the rent or lease of space in said property shall be credited to the funds from which the appropriation in this act has been made in the same pro rata as the appropriations from the various funds bear to the total appropriation.

Same

SEC. 4. When the entire amount of the appropriation made herein, plus five per cent (5%) interest per annum, has been returned to the several funds from which said appropriation was paid, any moneys received for rent or lease of said property thereafter by the Department of Finance shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of the general fund.

Insurance.

SEC. 5. The Department of Finance is hereby authorized with the approval of the Board of Control to insure said property against loss by fire or destruction and the several State agencies having office accommodations in said building are hereby authorized to pay the premium for such insurance on a pro rata basis out of any moneys appropriated for the support of said agencies.

Title insurance.

SEC. 6. Out of the appropriation made herein the Department of Finance is authorized to pay for title insurance on said property.

Lease to State Compensation Insurance Fund authorized

SEC. 7. The Director of Finance is hereby authorized and empowered to lease to the State Compensation Insurance Fund or to other State agencies, for not to exceed the term of twenty-five years from the effective date of this act, space within said property upon such terms and upon such conditions as the said director may deem to be for the best interests of the State, and the State Compensation Insurance Fund, or other State agency, is hereby authorized to enter into a lease for space within said property. Any lease entered into between the Department of Finance and the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall contain an option to provide that said State Compensation Insurance Fund may purchase said property at any time during the term of such lease at the cost price of said property to the State, less net rental paid to the State Department of Finance by all State agencies occupying space within said property from the date of the purchase of the property by the State to the date of the sale of the property to the State Compensation Insurance Fund. Net rental, as referred to herein, is hereby defined as the total rental paid, less the total cost to the Department of Finance for all services furnished to the lessees within said property, plus five per cent (5%) interest per annum on the total appropriation made available by this act from the date of the purchase of said property by the Department of Finance to the date of the sale of said property to the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

"Net rental" defined

Option

SEC. 8. Upon the exercise of any such option contained in any such lease to the State Compensation Insurance Fund, the Director of Finance is hereby authorized and empowered to execute a deed to said real property in the name and on behalf of the State of California.

Powers of Director of Finance

SEC. 9. The Director of Finance is hereby granted full and complete authority to make effective any and all powers herein delegated to the Director of Finance to carry out the intent of this act.

Urgency.

SEC. 10. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: Owing to the present financial depression, the diminution of taxes and the consequent lack of money and funds wherewith to defray the expense of State governmental functions and duties it is imperative for the immediate preservation of the peace, health and safety that the State conserve its moneys and funds, and in particular that its costs and expenses for maintaining, housing and furnishing office space for its boards, commissions, officers, funds, agents and employees be reduced to the most economical figure to the end that it may be able to maintain and discharge its governmental functions and duties. That by purchasing said building at the present time at the price and by means of the appropriation hereinbefore mentioned and using said building for offices for State agencies the State will be enabled to obtain office space and accommodations at a figure compatible and commensurable with the exigencies of the present financial crisis and the financial ability of the State to pay therefor. Unless said real estate and building is now purchased and used for offices as aforesaid, the State will be unable to discharge its duties properly, or at all, to house, care for and protect the property of the State and as a result its said governmental functions and duties will be impaired.

Current expenses.

SEC. 11. Inasmuch as the appropriation provided for in this act is also an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, to wit, provision for offices for State agencies, it is hereby also declared an urgency measure on that ground and shall likewise on that ground and under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 265.

An act to amend sections 4.960 and 4.975 of the School Code, relating to school district bonds and the application of proceeds therefrom.

[Approved by the Governor May 9, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4.960 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 718.

4.960. Except as otherwise provided by law, the governing board of any school district may, when in its judgment it is advisable, and must, upon a petition of the majority of the qualified electors residing in the school district, call an election and submit to the electors of the district the question whether the bonds of the district shall be issued and sold for the purpose of raising money for the following purposes: School district bonds. Purposes.

1. The purchasing of school lots;

2. The building or purchasing of school buildings;

3. The making of alterations or additions to the school building or buildings other than such as may be necessary for current maintenance, operation or repairs;

4. The repairing, restoring or rebuilding of any school building damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity;

5. The supplying of school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature;

6. The permanent improvement of the school grounds;

7. The refunding of any outstanding valid indebtedness of the district, evidenced by bonds.

Any one or more of the purposes enumerated herein, except that of refunding any outstanding valid indebtedness of the district evidenced by bonds, may, by order of the governing board entered in its minutes, be united and voted upon as one single proposition. Single proposition.

SEC. 2. Section 4.975 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 718

4.975. The bonds must be sold at the times and in the amounts prescribed by the board of supervisors, but for not less than par. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds, exclusive of any premium received therefrom, must be deposited in the county treasury to the credit of the building fund of the school district. The proceeds so deposited shall be drawn out as other Sale Time of. Proceeds.

school moneys are drawn out. The bond proceeds so withdrawn shall not be applied to any other purposes than those for which the bonds were issued. Any premium or accrued interest received from the sale of the bonds shall be deposited in the interest and sinking fund of the district.

CHAPTER 266.

Stats 1897, p 254, amended

An act to add section 113 to the California Irrigation District Act, relating to actions and proceedings against an irrigation district or the board of directors thereof, brought by the holders of bonds of the district.

[Approved by the Governor May 9, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section numbered 113 is hereby added to the California Irrigation District Act, to read as follows:

Actions by bondholders against district.

Sec. 113. Before an action or proceeding by the holders of bonds of an irrigation district to compel, enforce, prohibit or restrain the doing of an act by the district or the board of directors thereof may be instituted or maintained, the holders of ten per cent or more of the duly issued outstanding and unpaid bonds of the district must join in the action or proceeding as plaintiffs, petitioners or applicants for the relief sought.

CHAPTER 267.

An act to amend section 623 of the Political Code, relating to bonds required of insurance companies to insure payment of taxes.

[Approved by the Governor May 9, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1925, p. 681.

SECTION 1. Section 623 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bond to guarantee payment of taxes, etc., and compliance with laws

623. The commissioner must require every company proposing to transact insurance business in this State, before commencing such business, and every company which has been transacting insurance business in this State for less than two years, to file in his office a bond in favor of the people of the State of California, to be approved by the commissioner, in the penal sum of twenty thousand dollars, and must require every company which has transacted insurance business in this State for at least two years to file in his office a bond in the penal sum of twenty thousand dollars, unless the total amount of State taxes assessed and levied during the preceding calendar year was less than ten thousand dollars, then in a penal sum (not less than two thousand dollars) equal to at least twice the amount of such taxes. Such bond must be conditioned as follows: (1) That the company and its agents will pay all State taxes, in the manner and at the time prescribed by law; (2) that the company will conform to all the provisions of the revenue and other laws made to govern them; (3) and that the company will promptly pay all fees, assessments, taxes, penalties, and fines that may be laid upon or against such company. Such bond may be sued on in the manner and shall be subject to the same rules governing official bonds, except that such bonds, if in a penal sum of at least twenty thousand dollars, may be made applicable alike the first and all subsequent license periods for which renewals of certificates of authority are issued. Any insurance company may deposit with the Insurance Commissioner, in lieu of such bond, securities of the kind and character set forth in section 421 of the Civil Code in a sum not less than the required amount of the penal sum of said bond, which shall be held in trust by the Insurance Commissioner for the fulfillment of the terms and conditions above set forth. Such securities may be withdrawn at any time and new securities of equal value deposited in lieu thereof, and may be withdrawn whenever a bond is filed as provided in this section. Nothing in this act shall be construed to apply to, refer to or affect county mutual fire insurance companies or reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges.

Suit on bond

Deposit in lieu of bond.

Exceptions.

CHAPTER 268.

An act authorizing the purchase of outstanding bonds issued pursuant to the provisions of the act, entitled "An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works, and public utilities; for the issuance, sale, and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements" approved April 20, 1915, as amended, from sinking funds, the cancellation thereof, and providing the procedure therefor.

Stats. 1915, p. 99.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever the legislative body of any municipality in which a municipal improvement district has been formed pursuant to the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition or construction of public improvements, works, and public utilities; for the issuance, sale, and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such improvements; and for the acquisition or construction of such improvements," approved April 20, 1915, as amended, shall by resolution declare that it is no longer necessary to expend the money raised by the sale of bonds of such municipal improvement district for the purpose for which said bonds were voted, by reason of the fact that such purpose has been accomplished by other means, or by reason of the fact that the acquisition or construction of the public improvements, works, or public utilities for which said bonds were voted is no longer required by the public interest, convenience, and necessity, or if a surplus remains in said bond fund after the completion of such municipal improvement for which said bonds were voted, the legislative body of said municipality shall by resolution order that said money be placed into a sinking fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of said bonds.

Creation of sinking fund from proceeds of bonds.

Procedure for purchase of outstanding bonds.

In the event that after the legislative body shall have found that it is no longer necessary to expend the money raised by the sale of bonds for any municipal improvement district for the purpose for which said bonds were voted as therein provided; or if upon the completion of such municipal improvement a surplus exists in the sinking fund created for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on said bonds, then and in that event the legislative body may authorize and direct the city treasurer to advertise for the purchase of any outstanding bonds at par. Said treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality a notice that upon a day and hour certain the said treasurer will purchase at par and to the extent of the surplus remaining any outstanding bonds of the district. In purchasing said bonds the treasurer shall purchase any bonds offered in the inverse order of their maturity. Any bonds so purchased shall be canceled and the interest and sinking fund credited therewith.

CHAPTER 269.

Stats 1923, p 431, amended

An act to add section 4a to an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management, consolidation and dissolution of county fire protection districts, annexations thereto, and withdrawals therefrom, setting forth the powers of such districts and providing for levying and collecting taxes on property in such districts to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 23, 1923, Statutes of 1923, page 431, providing for the disposition of funds collected from districts illegally formed.

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. There is hereby added a new section to be known as section 4a, to an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management, consolidation and dissolution of county fire protection districts, annexations thereto, and withdrawals therefrom, setting forth the powers of such districts and providing for levying and collecting taxes on property in such districts to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 23, 1923, Statutes of 1923, page 431, to read as follows:

Refund of taxes paid for district not legally created

Sec. 4a. If any taxes are collected pursuant to the provisions of this act, and subsequent to said collection it shall be determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that such fire protection district was not legally formed and/or created by reason of a failure to comply with any of the provisions of this act, then and in that event any person who has paid taxes theretofore levied pursuant to the provisions of this act shall be entitled to a return of any moneys so paid upon the filing of a verified claim or demand therefor with the board of supervisors of the county in which such fire protection district lies, within six months after such time as it be finally determined that the formation of such fire protection district was ineffectual or invalid, or within six months from the date when this action goes into effect, if any such moneys are on hand in the county treasury of any county of this State at the time of the adoption of this section. At the expiration of the time within which claims for refunds as herein provided may be made, any and all moneys then on hand shall be divided between the county in which such fire protection district is located, and any incorporated cities which may have been within their corporate limits any of the territory embraced within the boundaries of the fire protection district declared invalid, in such proportion as the area of said assessment district lying within said incorporated city and county bears to the entire area of such fire protection district. Any such funds so divided shall be used by the city or county, as the case may be, to which apportioned, for fire protection purposes only.

Disposition of balance.

CHAPTER 270.

An act to amend section 921 of the Political Code, relating to purchases and sales by county, State, township and city officers.

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 921 of the Political Code is amended to read as follows:

Pol. C. 1872.

Purchases and sales by public officers

921. State, county, township and city officers must not be purchasers at any sale nor vendors at any purchase made by them in their official capacity; provided, that any money paid by an officer for United States postage for use in conducting the official business of his office may be refunded to him by claim allowed in accordance with law.

CHAPTER 271.

Stats. 1913, p. 656, amended

An act to amend section 3 of an act entitled "An act to require owners of forest lands to provide a fire patrol therefor," approved June 6, 1923, relating to forest land fire patrols.

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1923, p. 656.

SECTION 1. Section 3 of the act cited in the title hereof, is hereby amended to read as follows:

When State Forester to provide patrol at expense of landowners

Sec. 3. In the event that any owner or owners shall fail or neglect to provide such fire patrol except in cases where in the judgment of the State Board of Forestry such patrol is unnecessary then the State Forester shall under the direction of the State Board of Forestry provide the same at a cost not to exceed two cents per acre per annum; provided that when in times and localities of unusual hazard, adequate protection of forest areas demands expenditures in excess of two cents per acre, the State Forester with the approval of the State Board of Forestry, may, after thorough investigation of the need thereof, authorize and approve expense sufficient properly to safeguard the timber resources, but amounts so approved shall not exceed the actual cost of the work performed. Any amounts so paid or contracted to be paid by the State Forester in providing adequate patrol for the said land shall be due and payable immediately to the State Forester who shall deposit such amounts in the State treasury to the credit of the "State Board of Forestry fire prevention fund" hereinafter created. Any amount remaining unpaid for a period of thirty days shall become a lien upon the property protected in pursuance of this act. Notice of such lien shall be filed and recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the said property is situated within thirty days after said lien has accrued and a copy of said notice of lien shall be mailed to the person or persons who appear of record to be the owners of any mortgage, trust deed, lien, contract, option, bond or other encumbrances to said property at the last known place of residence of said encumbrancer and if the place of residence of said encumbrancer be unknown to the State Forester, then such fact shall be stated in said copy so mailed and it shall be addressed to the county seat of the county wherein said property is situated. Such lien shall take precedence over and shall be paramount to all mortgages, trust deeds, liens, contracts, options, bonds or other encumbrances upon the land, excepting only the lien of taxes. If such sum secured by such lien be not paid within eighty days from the filing of such notice of lien then there shall be added to the same and secured by such lien a penalty of fifteen per cent on the amount of such lien. An action to foreclose such lien shall be commenced within eighty days after the filing and recording of said notice of lien, which action shall be brought in the proper court by the district attorney of the county in the name, and for the benefit of the State Board of Forestry, and when the property is sold, enough of the proceeds shall be paid into the treasury of the State of California and therein deposited in a fund to be known as the "State Board of Forestry fire prevention fund" which fund is hereby created, to satisfy the lien and costs. The overplus, if there be any, shall be paid to the owner of the property if he be known, and if not, into the court for his use when ascertained.

Unpaid expense a lien.

Penalty.

Foreclosure of lien

Annual statements and hearings.

By the second Monday of October in each year the State Forester shall have prepared a list of all sums due to the State, and upon request of any forest landowner shall then render a statement of any sums from him so due, and upon further request such owner shall be granted a hearing before the State Board of Forestry concerning any activity of the said board or the State Forester affecting his property or costs charged thereto for protection. On the hearing, any interested person may appear and be heard. The board may take testimony or authorize it to be taken by any judicial officer of the county; and it may adjourn the hearing from time to time. The decision of the board upon any such matters shall be final and conclusive.

Use of forestry fire prevention fund.

All moneys in the said "State Board of Forestry fire prevention fund" are hereby appropriated to the use of the State Forester for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this act and shall be paid out of said fund upon warrant of the State Controller based upon claims to be filed by the State Forester approved by the State Board of Control.

CHAPTER 272.

An act relating to retirement systems covering county or township officers or employees or a portion of such employees.

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Contributions repaid on separation from service.

SECTION 1. In any case where a member of a retirement system, established by the county for county or township officers or employees or for any portion of them, separates from the service of the county before retirement, and such separation is for any cause other than for permanent disability, there shall be paid to him, or in case of death to his legal representative, all the money paid in by him as his contribution toward retirement under the system, together with accumulated interest thereon.

Transfer to another retirement system.

SEC. 2. Whenever a member of such a retirement system becomes a member of another such retirement system, the contributions of the member to the first system, together with regular interest thereon, shall be transferred by the county to the second system as a part of the member's contribution to such second system. The county shall thereupon also transfer, from the funds of the first system to the funds of the second system, that portion of the county's contribution to the first system which was made by the county for the member. Such county's portion so transferred shall constitute part of the county's contribution to the second system.

Cessation of membership.

SEC. 3. Whenever a member of such a system becomes a member of another such system, his membership in the first system shall cease.

CHAPTER 273.

Stats 1897, p 254, amended.

An act to add section 73a to the California Irrigation District Act, relating to the procedure by which property owners may be relieved from obligations of the district.

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the California Irrigation District Act, to be numbered 73a and to read as follows:

Action to release land from district indebtedness

73a. The owners or holders in fee of lands which constitute a portion of any irrigation district may jointly or severally file a verified complaint in the superior court in the county in which said land or any portion thereof is situated, for the purpose of releasing said lands from their proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness of said district. Said complaint shall include as defendants in said action the following parties:

Necessary defendants.

(1) The irrigation district in which said lands are situated;

(2) The names of the members of the board of directors of said district;

(3) All owners and holders of bonds of said irrigation district who shall have registered their names and post-office addresses with the secretary of the irrigation district in which said land is situated, as in this act hereinafter provided;

(4) All persons known or unknown who own or claim to own or claim to have any interest in or to the outstanding bonds of said irrigation district.

Allegations of complaint.

Said complaint shall also contain the following statements and allegations:

(1) A description of the real property owned by the plaintiffs situated within the irrigation district;

(2) That the lands described and owned by the plaintiffs are within the exterior boundaries of the irrigation district;

(3) The total amount of the unpaid bonded indebtedness of the irrigation district, including interest on such bonds;

(4) The total assessed valuation of the lands within such district, together with a description of the method of assessment employed by the district;

(5) When the outstanding bonds mature;

(6) The value of the lands described in the petition compared with the value of all other lands within such district;

(7) That the plaintiff or plaintiffs desire to pay their proportion of the total bonded indebtedness of such irrigation district, together with their proportion of the interest thereon and thereafter be relieved from any future assessment or any other charge for or on account of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of said district existing at the time of the filing of the complaint in said action;

(8) Said complaint shall contain a request for the appointment by the court of a referee to make an investigation of the ratio of values of the lands owned by the plaintiff or plaintiffs to the total value of all other lands in such irrigation district, and the just proportion of the bonded indebtedness of such district which the lands described in the complaint shall bear.

Summons.

After the filing of the complaint in such action, the clerk of the court shall upon request of the plaintiffs or any of them at any time within one year thereafter issue a summons. Such summons shall be served personally upon each of the board of directors and the secretary of such irrigation district and a copy thereof, to which shall be attached a copy of the complaint, shall be mailed by registered mail to any person or persons who have filed their names and addresses with the secretary of such irrigation district as the owner or owners of bonds thereof, and also to any person who is the known owner or holder of any bonds of said district.

Registration of bondholders.

All owners or holders of bonds issued by any irrigation district in the State of California shall file with the secretary of the district issuing such bonds his name and address within thirty days after he has become the owner or holder of such bonds and shall specify the number and amount of the bonds owned or held. In the event of the owner or holder's failure to so register his name, address and the security held he thereby waives personal service of summons as in this act provided.

Publication.

Service of summons upon all unknown owners or holders of bonds and interest coupons shall be made by publication in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county in which the property is located, and in a newspaper of general circulation in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, and also in the city and county of Los Angeles, State of California, to be designated by the judge of the superior court having jurisdiction of the case, for the period of two (2) consecutive months, as in other cases of service by publication.

Appearance

After such service of summons has been made as hereinbefore provided, all such unknown persons so served shall have the right to appear and defend such action at any time within thirty (30) days after the completion of the publication of summons. All other defendants shall have the right to appear and defend such action within the respective times provided by law for defendants to appear after service in other actions at law.

Procedure.

After such service has been completed, the prosecution of such action shall be maintained in the same manner and form as provided for the prosecution of other actions of a similar nature.

Effect of judgment.

The claims of any unknown defendants shall be concluded by the judgment in such action as effectually as if the action were brought against such person by his or her name and to the same extent as in case of personal service.

Hearing, referees.

When all of such defendants so served have appeared and answered or defaulted, the said action shall be at issue and tried and determined as in other cases, provided, however, that the court may appoint a referee to ascertain and determine and report to the court the amount of outstanding bonds or bonded indebtedness of such irrigation district existing at the time of the filing of the complaint in said action, and also to ascertain the proportionate share of the entire bonded indebtedness of such irrigation district that should equitably be borne by the property described in the complaint.

Trial and judgment.

After the referees herein provided for have made their reports, the court may at the instance of any party who has appeared in said action set the cause for trial and proceed as in other civil cases. Upon the conclusion of the trial, the court shall make its findings and enter its judgment decreeing that the plaintiff shall pay the costs of the referee and all other court costs and the amount found due from plaintiffs on account of their proportionate share of the bonded indebtedness of such irrigation district to the treasurer of such irrigation district proportionately as may be decreed by the court, within thirty (30) days after entry of judgment. The amount so paid shall be placed in the bond fund and used only for the purpose of paying or redeeming mature bonds and interest coupons.

Bonds and coupons in lieu of cash.

Said decree shall also provide that the plaintiffs may, in lieu of cash, deposit bonds of the irrigation district which may have been issued prior to the filing of the complaint and/or matured interest coupons thereon, which bonds and coupons shall be accepted by the treasurer of said district at their face value and canceled.

No further levy.

After such judgment has been entered and payments made by the plaintiffs as provided in said decree, no further levy shall be made by the irrigation district upon assessments of the lands of the plaintiffs as described in the judgment in said action for or on account of the payment or redemption of any bonds and/or coupons issued prior to the filing of the complaint in said action.

CHAPTER 274.

An act to amend section 8 of the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of 1917, relating to workmen's compensation. Stats. 1917, p 831, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 10, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 2068. See Stats 1933, Ch 1022

Sec. 8. (a) The term "employee" as used in sections 6 to 31, inclusive, of this act shall be construed to mean: Every person in the service of an employer as defined by section 7 hereof under any appointment or contract of hire or apprenticeship, express or implied, oral or written, including aliens, and also including minors, whether lawfully or unlawfully employed, and all elected and appointed paid public officers, and all officers and members of boards of directors of quasi public or private corporations while rendering actual service for such corporations for pay, but excluding any person whose employment is both casual and not in the course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer, and also excluding any employee engaged in household domestic service, farm, dairy, agricultural, viticultural or horticultural labor, in stock or poultry raising and also excluding any person engaged in vending, selling, offering for sale, or delivering directly to the public, any newspaper, magazine or periodical where the title to such newspaper, magazine or periodical has passed to the person so engaged, and any person holding an appointment as deputy clerk, deputy sheriff or deputy constable appointed for the convenience of such appointee, who receives no compensation from the county or municipal corporation or from the citizens thereof for services as such deputy; provided, that such last exclusion shall not deprive any person so deputized from recourse against any private person employing him for injury occurring in the course of and arising out of such employment. Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to alter, amend or repeal the provisions of chapter 834, Statutes of 1927. Definition of terms. "Employee." Stats 1927, p 1681

(b) Any person rendering service for another, other than as an independent contractor, or as expressly excluded herein, is presumed to be an employee within the meaning of this act. The term "independent contractor" shall be taken to mean, for the purposes of this act: Any person who renders service, other than manual labor, for a specified recompense "Independent contractor" for a specified result, under the control of his principal as to the result of his work only and not as to the means by which such result is accomplished. A working member of a partnership receiving wages irrespective of profits from such partnership shall be deemed an employee within the meaning of this section.

"Casual" (c) The term "casual" as used in this section shall be taken to refer only to employments where the work contemplated is to be completed in not exceeding ten working days, without regard to the number of men employed, and where the total labor cost of such work is less than one hundred dollars. The phrase "course of the trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include all services tending toward the preservation, maintenance or operation of the business, business premises or business property of the employer. The words "trade, business, profession or occupation of his employer" shall be taken to include any undertaking actually engaged in by him with some degree of regularity, the trade name, articles of incorporation or principal business of the employer to the contrary notwithstanding.

"Course of trade, etc"

Watchmen. (d) Watchmen for nonindustrial establishments, paid by subscription by several persons, shall not be held to be employees within the meaning of this act. In other cases where watchmen, paid by subscription by several persons, have at the time of the injury sustained by them taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance upon themselves as self-employing persons conferring benefits equal to those conferred by this act, the employer shall not be liable under this act.

Employees of State. (e) It shall not be a defense to the State, or any political subdivision or institution thereof, or public or quasi public corporation, that a person injured while rendering service for it was not lawfully employed by reason of the violation of any civil service or other law, rule, or regulation respecting the hiring of employees.

Workmen under partnership agreement (f) Workmen associating themselves under a partnership agreement, the principal purpose of which is the performance of the labor on a particular piece of work, shall be deemed employees of the person having such work executed, and, in the event the average weekly earnings are not otherwise ascertainable, shall be deemed to be employed at an average weekly wage of twelve dollars; provided, however, that if such workmen shall have taken out and maintained in full force and effect insurance, in an insurance carrier as defined in this act, insuring to themselves and all persons employed by them benefits identical with those conferred by this act, the person for whom such work is to be done shall not be liable as an employer under this act.

Volunteer firemen. (g) Each male member registered as an active fire fighting member of any regularly organized volunteer fire department, having official recognition, and full or partial support of the government of the city, town, or district, in which such volunteer fire department is located, shall be held and deemed to be an employee of such city, city and county, town or district for the purposes of this act, and shall be entitled to receive compensation from such city, town or district in accordance with the provisions thereof.

If he suffer injury or death while in the performance of his duty as fireman, then, irrespective of his remuneration from this and/or other employment, his average weekly earnings shall be taken for the purpose of computing such compensation as the sum of $38.46, and three times his average annual earnings referred to in section 9 (c) hereof shall be taken as the sum of $5,999.76; provided, however, that the death benefit referred to in said section 9 (c), when added to the disability indemnity which at the time of his death has accrued and become payable, shall not exceed the sum of $5,000, except as in said section otherwise provided. Same—Injury or death.

Department of Public Works.

SEC. 1a. It is further provided that the Division of Highways and the Division of Contracts and Rights of Way, Department of Public Works, may expend for administration during the eighty-fifth and eighty-sixth fiscal years a total sum not to exceed one million eight hundred twenty-four thousand one hundred one and 84/100 dollars ($1,824,101.84), the same to be expended from the State highway maintenance fund as appropriated therefor by other provisions of law.

Publications.

SEC. 2. When any State publication is printed and paid for out of any appropriation in this act, the disposition of the same shall be subject to the provisions of section 2295a of the Legislative expenses

Political Code of the State of California. The sums that are herein appropriated for expenses of the Senate and Assembly shall be disbursed under the direction of the bodies to which they respectively belong, and shall not be subject to any of the provisions of sections 669 or 667a of the Political Code; provided, that the State Controller shall not be required to draw such warrants until the original claims and vouchers, itemized and properly sworn to, are filed with him. The sums herein appropriated for the expenses of the National Guard shall be audited by the Adjutant General, as required by sections 2083 and 2085 of the Political Code.

National Guard

SEC. 3. The State Controller is hereby expressly prohibited from allowing any demands payable out of any appropriation herein contained, unless the same are presented in accordance with the provisions of section 669 of the Political Code; provided, that in instances where the duties of any State officers or board make necessary the use of moneys for purposes of a confidential nature, the State Controller may audit claims for such expense without requiring itemization or vouchers; but such claims must be accompanied by a statement of the fact surrounding the expenditure, which statement must be filed in the office of the State Controller; provided further, that the total amount so allowed for such confidential purposes from the moneys herein appropriated shall not exceed in any one fiscal year the sum of two thousand dollars. All bills and vouchers, which shall be presented for supplies furnished or services rendered, shall be original bills and vouchers of the parties furnishing supplies and rendering services provided, that no officer shall use or appropriate any money, appropriated by this act, for any purpose whatever, unless authorized thereto by law; and provided, that any officer, board, commission, or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, draw from such appropriations a sum not to exceed one per cent of the total amount appropriated for any such officer, board, commission or department; and provided further, that any officer, board, commission or department for whom any appropriation is made herein, may with the permission and the approval of the Department of Finance, and without at the time furnishing vouchers or itemized statements, draw from such appropriation a sum in excess of one per cent, but not to exceed five per cent of the total amount appropriated for any such officer, board, commission or department.

Payments from appropriations.

Vouchers.

Any sums drawn under the provisions of this section without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, shall be considered to have been withdrawn from the amount appropriated for the eighty-sixth fiscal year and need not be returned at the close of the eighty-fifth fiscal year, and shall be used as a revolving fund where payment of compensation earned or cash advances are necessary, and at the close of each biennium, or at any other time, upon the demand of the Department of Finance, must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the Controller.

SEC. 4. The appropriations under this act shall, unless otherwise provided, be subject to the provisions of section 677a, of the Political Code, and not more than one-half of the amount appropriated under this act for each office, board, commission, department, or institution for support shall be expended during the eighty-fifth fiscal year, unless the same has been expressly authorized by this act.

Eighty-fifth fiscal year.

Payments in excess of appropriations

SEC. 5. The officers of the various departments, boards, commissions and institutions, for whose benefit and support appropriations are made in this act, are expressly forbidden to make any expenditure in excess of such appropriations, except the consent of the State Department of Finance be first obtained, and a certificate, in writing, duly signed by the director of said department, of the unavoidable necessity of such expenditure; and any indebtedness attempted to be created against the State in violation of the provisions of this section shall be absolutely null and void; and shall not be allowed by the State Controller nor paid out of any State appropriation; provided, that any member of any such department, board, commission or institution, who shall vote for any expenditure, or create any indebtedness against the State in excess of the respective appropriations made by this act, except by the consent of the State Department of Finance and the certificate in this section provided to be first obtained, shall be liable on his official bond for the amount of such indebtedness, to be recovered in any court of competent jurisdiction by the person or persons, firm or corporation to whom such indebtedness is owing.

Fire insurance

SEC. 6. No money appropriated by this act shall be used to renew, or pay for the renewal of any fire insurance on any public building or property, nor to effect or pay for any new insurance on any public building or property, except the property of San Francisco harbor and the University of California.

Transfer of appropriations.

SEC. 7. Whenever the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, and jurisdictions of any office, board, commission or other State agency are transferred by law to a department of the State, the appropriations herein made from the general fund for the support of such office, board, commission or other State agency shall, by the State Controller, be transferred to, and the same shall become a part of, the appropriations herein made from the general fund for the support of the department to which the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, and jurisdictions of such office, board, commission or other State agency have been transferred.

Reversion of appropriations.

SEC. 8. Whenever the duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities and jurisdiction of any office, board, commission or other State agency are abolished by law the appropriation herein made for the support of such office, board, commission, or other State agency shall upon the effective date of the act abolishing such office, board, commission or other State agency revert to and become a part of the unexpended balance of the fund from which such appropriation was made.

Current expenses.

SEC. 9. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provision of section 1, of article four of the Constitution of the State of California, take effect immediately.

Constitutionality

SEC. 10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses, or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 279.

An act to call a special election to be held on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of June, 1933, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of this State certain amendments to the Constitution of this State proposed by the Legislature at its fiftieth regular session and for the purpose of electing delegates to a convention to consider and pass upon a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 11, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Special election.

SECTION 1. A special election is hereby called to be held throughout the State of California on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of June, 1933. At said special election there shall be submitted to the qualified electors of the State the following:

Constitutional amendments submitted to electors.

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 30—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to the Constitution of the State by adding a new section to be numbered 34a to Article IV, by amending section 12 of Article XI, by adding a new section to be numbered 20 to Article XI, by amending sections 14, 15 and 16 by adding three new sections to be numbered 14½, 15½ and 16½, and by repealing sections 12½ and 18 of Article XIII, relating to taxation;

Senate Constitutional Amendment No 16—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State repealing sections 4 and 9 of Article XI thereof, and amending section 5 of said article, relating to county government;

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 101—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State by adding to Article XIII thereof a new section, to be numbered 8a, relating to taxation;

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 16—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State, by adding to Article XVI thereof a new section to be numbered 9, authorizing the Legislature to provide for assistance by the State in the refinancing of irrigation and reclamation districts, and approving and ratifying the District Finance Act of 1933;

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 108—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to Article IV of the Constitution of said State by adding to said article a new section, to be numbered section 1a, relating to the time of taking effect of acts passed at the fiftieth regular session of the Legislature;

Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 41—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State by adding to Article XVI thereof a new section to be numbered 9, relating to loans to counties and municipalities for unemployment relief;

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 119—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to the Constitution of said State by adding to Article IV thereof a new section to be numbered 25a, relating to the regulation and licensing of horse racing, horse race meetings, and the wagering on the results thereof;

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No. 47—A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California an amendment to the Constitution of said State by amending section 1a of Article XIII thereof, relating to exemption of private nonprofit educational institutions from taxation; also, any other constitutional amendment or proposition that the Legislature shall lawfully sumbit at such election.

Each of the foregoing are amendments to the Constitution of the State of California proposed to the electors of the State of California by the Legislature thereof at its fiftieth regular session in accordance with the provisions of section 1 of Article XVIII of said Constitution.

Consolidation of elections.

Stats 1933, Ch. 149

SEC. 2. Said special election and the special election called by an act adopted by the Legislature of the State of California at its fiftieth regular session and entitled "An act to provide for a convention in the State of California to pass on the amendment to the Constitution of the United States for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment thereof and for the prohibition of the transportation and importation of intoxicating liquor into the States and Territories in violation of the laws thereof, proposed by the Congress for ratification by conventions in the several States, and to call a special election for the purpose of filling the offices of delegates to such convention in this State, and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately," approved April 21, 1933, are hereby consolidated; and such special elections so hereby consolidated shall be conducted as one election and as provided in section 3 of this act.

Conduct of election

SEC. 3. The special election provided for in this act shall be proclaimed, held, conducted, and the ballots shall be prepared, marked, voted, counted, canvassed, and the results shall be ascertained and the returns thereof made in all respects in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution applicable thereto and the law governing general elections in so far as provisions thereof are applicable to the election provided for by this act; provided, however, that the governing boards or bodies charged with the conduct of elections in the counties or cities and counties may consolidate the precincts of the counties and cities and counties for the purposes of this election and shall also appoint as officers of this election one inspector, one judge, and one clerk, who shall receive as compensation for their services a sum not to exceed three dollars each, which sum shall be paid out of the treasuries of the counties or cities and counties by which such persons are employed.

Arguments.

SEC. 4. The presiding officer of the house in which each proposed constitutional amendment originates shall immediately appoint the author or one of the authors of such proposed amendment to the Constitution of this State and one member of the same house who voted in favor thereof to draft an argument giving the reasons for the adoption thereof, and he shall also appoint a member of the same house who voted against such proposed constitutional amendment to draft an argument against the adoption thereof. If no member of the same house voted against such proposed amendment, he shall appoint a qualified person to draft such argument. Each argument shall consist of not more than five hundred words in length and shall be submitted by the author or authors to the Secretary of State within five days after this act takes effect.

Ballot titles

SEC. 5. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to prepare and deliver to the Secretary of State ballot titles prescribed by section 1197 of the Political Code within five days after this act takes effect. Written objections to the titles prepared by the Attorney General shall be filed with the Secretary of State within five days from such delivery and the Secretary of State shall forthwith file a copy of the constitutional amendment, together with the title thereof so prepared by the Attorney General and the said objections thereto, with the Board of Title Commissioners as provided by section 1197 of the Political Code. Said Title Commissioners shall determine the validity of such objections within three days after the objections are filed. The determination by said board shall be final and conclusive.

Calling election

SEC. 6. Inasmuch as this act provides for the calling of an election, it shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 280.

Stats 1913, p 1097, amended

An act to amend sections 4, 5, 6, 7, 9, 11, and to add a new section numbered 17 to chapter 598, Statutes 1913, entitled "An act to regulate the practice of optometry; to provide for the appointment of a Board of Optometry, define its duties and powers and prescribing a penalty for the violation of this act," approved June 16, 1913, relating to the Board of Optometry and to the regulation of the practice of optometry and relating to the constitutionality of said act.

[Approved by the Governor May 11, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1923, p. 380

SECTION 1. Section 4 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, entitled "An act to regulate the practice of optometry; to provide for the appointment of a Board of Optometry, define its duties and powers and prescribing a penalty for the violation of this act," approved June 16, 1913, is amended to read as follows:

Powers and duties.

Sec. 4. The powers and duties of the said State Board of Examiners in Optometry shall be as follows:

Organize board

1. To organize and elect from their members a president and secretary of said board who shall hold office for one year or until the election and qualification of a successor; to adopt and use a common seal, and establish a permanent office or offices. The secretary of the said board before entering into the discharge of his duties shall execute a good and sufficient bond to the State of California in the sum of one thousand dollars conditioned for the faithful performance of his duties as such secretary. He shall receive all fees and moneys paid to the board; keep all the records of the board and discharge such other duties as the board shall from time to time prescribe.

Make disbursements.

2. To make all necessary disbursements to carry out the provisions of this act, but only upon the signature of the president and secretary of the said board, including payment for the bond of the secretary of said board; payment for stationery supplies; necessary optical instruments to be used in the conduct of examinations which shall be the property of the State; and printing and circulating to all optometrists in the State, once a year, a yearbook containing the names and addresses of all optometrists in this State; a per diem of ten dollars for each member of the said board for each day actually spent in the performance of his duties as such, and necessary expenses; per diems shall not exceed one for any calendar day, and shall not exceed two in any one calendar month, except that in months when examinations are being held per diems may be allowed for not to exceed six days in any such month. Additional compensation may be allowed the secretary not to exceed one hundred dollars per month.

Yearbook.

Compensation.

Prosecute violators

3. To employ agents, attorneys, and inspectors to secure evidence of, report on, and prosecute to conviction all violations of this act and to employ other necessary assistance in the carrying out of the provisions of this act.

Meetings

4. To hold regular meetings at least twice a year at which an examination of applicants for certificates of registration shall be held at such places as the board shall from time to time designate and special meetings upon request of a majority of the members of said board or upon the call of the president.

Record of proceedings.

5. To keep an accurate record of all the proceedings of the board and of all its meetings, of all receipts and disbursements with vouchers for all disbursements, and of all prosecutions for violations of this act, and of all examinations held for applicants for certificates of registration with the names and addresses of all persons taking examinations and their success or failure to pass such examinations. To keep an accurate inventory of all property of the board and of the State in the possession of the board and to obtain a receipt therefor from its successor. All the records of the board shall be public and shall be kept in the office of the board.

Visit and accredit schools.

6. To visit and examine universities and schools in the State of California wherein the science of optometry is taught, and to accredit such universities and schools, wherein the science of optometry is taught, whether within or without the State of California, as shall have been found to give a sufficient course of study for the preparation of optometrists; provided, however, that said board may accredit only the following universities or schools in which the science of optometry is taught:

Requirements

(a) Such universities as give a standard course of optometry leading to the bachelor degree, and which are members of the American Association of Universities or the American Association of State Universities.

(b) Such schools as give a course of instruction covering and including the following minimum requirements, to wit: General anatomy, 150 hours; general physiology, 100 hours; general mathematics, 150 hours; general physics, 150 hours; general optics, 100 hours; ocular anatomy, 100 hours; ocular pathology, 100 hours; theoretical optometry, 250 hours; theoretical optics, 300 hours; practical optics, 100 hours; practical optometry, 200 hours; hygiene, 50 hours; psychology, 50 hours; optical laboratory work, 100 hours; clinical work, 100 hours; total: 2000 hours.

In the course of study herein outlined the hours required shall be actual work in the classroom, laboratory or clinic, and at least eighty per cent of actual attendance shall be required and said course of study herein outlined, shall be so arranged as to require two years of actual attendance at said school for its completion.

Register of optometrists.

7. To keep a register of optometrists which shall contain the names and addresses of all persons to whom certificates of registration have been issued in the State of California, together with the date of the issuance of such certificates and the place or places of business in which each optometrist is engaged, and all renewals, revocations and suspensions thereof.

Grant, etc., certificates

8. To grant or refuse to grant certificates of registration as herein provided and to revoke the certificate of registration of any optometrist for any of the causes specified in section 11 hereof.

Administer oaths.

9. To administer oaths and take testimony upon granting and revoking or suspending any certificate of registration.

Make rules

10. To make and promulgate rules and regulations governing the procedure of the board, the admission of applicants for examination for certificates of registration as optometrists, and the practice of optometry; all such rules and regulations to be in accordance with and not inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

Report to Governor.

11. To report to the Governor annually on the first Monday in January in each year giving an accurate account of the work of the board during the preceding year with a statement of all moneys received and paid out pursuant to this act.

Publish requirements

12. To publish and distribute a syllabus of the educational requirements and the examination requirements for the obtainment of a certificate to practice optometry within the State of California.

Stats 1923, p 380

SEC. 2. Section 5 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Application for registration

Sec. 5. Any person over the age of twenty-one years, desiring to engage in the practice of optometry in the State of California, may file an application, duly verified by his oath, for an examination before said board. Such application must be filed with the secretary of said board, at least two weeks prior to the day of any meeting at which an examination is to be held and shall set forth the following:

(a) The name, age and address of the applicant.

(b) The name of the optometry school attended, if any, and for what period of time such school was attended by the applicant.

(c) A statement of the previous examinations, if any, taken before the board and dates of such examinations. Provided,

Eligibility

however, that on and after the thirty-first day of December, 1923, no person shall be eligible to take such examination, unless he shall be a graduate from a school where the science of optometry is taught, duly accredited by the State Board of Optometry of California, and after said date, said application to be filed, as hereinabove required shall state, in lieu of the requirements of subdivision (b) above, the name of the optometry school from which the applicant has been graduated, and each applicant must furnish satisfactory evidence of having thus been graduated from such school; provided further, that on and after December 31, 1923, such applicant for examination shall also furnish his diploma or certificate of graduation with recommendations from a high school accredited to the University of California, or any other university of equal standing or, in lieu thereof, a certificate signed by a State Superintendent of Public Instruction or similar officer, to the effect that such applicant has had scholastic preparation equivalent in all respects to that demanded for graduation with recommendations from a high school giving a four-year course of instruction in the State from which such from an accredited high school or such certificate of such public officer, such applicant, after said last-mentioned date, may and with like effect furnish to said Board of Optometry a certificate from the Board of Optometry or similar official body of some other State in the United States, showing that such applicant has been a duly licensed practitioner of optometry in such other State, for a period of at least five years; during the last seven years immediately preceding the date of such application; and on and after December 31, 1923, no person shall be eligible to take such examination, unless he shall furnish either said diploma or certificate of graduation or said certificate signed by said public officer or said certificate from said Board of Optometry or other official body from some other State in the United States.

All applications shall be accompanied with a fee of twenty dollars. Fee

SEC. 3. Section 6 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1923, p 380

Sec. 6. Examinations shall be held and given by the board at least twice a year, at such times and places as the board may, from time to time, fix and designate, at least one month prior to the date of such examination; provided, however, that one of such examinations shall be held in the city of Berkeley, commencing with the third Monday in February of each year, and the other in the city of Los Angeles, commencing with the third Monday in June of each year. All examinations shall be practical in character and designed to ascertain the applicant's fitness to practice the profession of optometry and shall be conducted in the English language. At every such examination the board shall examine the applicants in the subjects covered and set forth in section 4, subdivision six hereof, the same being the subjects required to be taught by schools of optometry which seek to be accredited by said board. Said board shall not examine upon any other subject matter. Examinations

No applicant shall be passed by said board who fails to obtain an average of seventy-five per cent in every subject upon which he is examined. In case any applicant shall fail to pass said examination, then such applicant shall be examined at the next or any succeeding examination only in the subjects in which he failed to obtain an average of eighty-five per cent. Reexaminations.

All applicants, without discrimination, who shall satisfactorily pass the examination, shall thereupon be registered in the board's register of optometrists and a certificate of registration shall be issued to him, under the seal and signature of the members of said board, upon the payment of a fee of five dollars. Such certificate shall continue in force until the first day of August in the year next succeeding. Registration of successful applicants

SEC. 4. Section 7 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1743

Sec. 7. Before engaging in the practice of optometry, it shall be the duty of each registered optometrist to notify the Notice of place of business.

board in writing of the place or places where he is to engage, or intends to engage, in the practice of optometry and of any changes in his place of business, and any notice required to be given by the board to any registered optometrist may be given by mailing to such address, through the United States mail, postage thereon prepaid.

Annual registration fee

Each registered optometrist shall annually, between the first day of January and the first day of February of each year, pay to the Director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, Sacramento, California, a fee of ten dollars, for a renewal of his registration certificate, and shall keep such certificate conspicuously posted in his office or place of business at all times. Failure, neglect or refusal of any person who is a regularly licensed optometrist to pay in advance on or before February first of each year, said license fee of ten dollars, during the time his license remains in force, shall ipso facto work a forfeiture of his license and it shall not be restored except upon a written application therefor and the payment to said board of the sum of twenty-five dollars, in addition to all delinquent annual license fees, except that such persons shall not be required to submit to any examination if he makes application for restoration of his license and pays all delinquent license fees and penalties within three years after such forfeiture; and provided that unless he makes such application and pays all delinquent fees and penalties within said period of three years he shall not have his license restored unless he passes the regular examination, provided by section 6 of this act.

Payment to University of California.

From each annual renewal license fee of ten dollars there shall be paid to the University of California by the Director of the Department of Professional and Vocational Standards, Sacramento, California, on or before the tenth day of March of each year, the sum of eight dollars, said sum to be used at and by said University of California solely for the advancement of optometrical research, and the maintenance and support of the department at said University of California, in which the science of optometry shall be taught. The balance of each said annual renewal fee amounting to two dollars as required hereby, shall be paid into the State treasury. Any registered optometrist who shall temporarily practice optometry outside or away from his regular registered place of business shall deliver to each client or person there fitted or supplied with glasses a receipt which shall contain his signature and show his permanent registered place of business and the number of his certificate, together with a specification of the lenses furnished and the amount charged therefor.

SEC. 5. Section 9 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Penalty.

Sec. 9. Any person who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction thereof, shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail not less than ten days, nor more than one year, or by a fine of not less than one hundred dollars, nor more than one thousand five hundred dollars, or by both such fine and imprisonment. All fines and forfeitures collected or received for violations of or in prosecutions under this act shall be paid, one-half thereof to the State Treasurer without demand, to be deposited to the credit of the State Board of Optometry, and one-half thereof to the school fund of the city or city and county where the prosecution is had. In any prosecution for a violation of section 1 hereof, the use of test cards, test lenses, or of trial frames, shall be prima facie evidence of the practice of optometry. Trial frames and test lenses within the meaning of this act shall be any frame or lens used in testing the eye, which is not sold and is not for sale to clients.

Disposition of fines.

SEC. 6. Section 11 of chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1923, p 380.

Sec. 11. The certificate of registration of any person registered as provided for in this act, may be revoked or suspended for a fixed period by the said Board of Optometry for any of the following causes:

Grounds for revocation or suspension of certificates.

1. His conviction of a felony or misdemeanor involving moral turpitude, in which case the record of conviction, or a certified copy thereof certified by the clerk of the court or by the judge in whose court the conviction is had, shall be conclusive evidence of such conviction.

2. When his certificate of registration has been secured by fraud or deceit practiced upon the board.

3. For unprofessional conduct, or for gross ignorance or inefficiency in his profession. Unprofessional conduct shall mean employing what are known as "cappers" or "steerers" to obtain business; the obtaining of any fee by fraud or misrepresentation; employing directly or indirectly any suspended or unlicensed optician or optometrist to perform any work covered by the provisions of this act; directly or indirectly accepting employment to practice optometry from any person not having a valid, unrevoked certificate of registration as an optometrist, or from any company or association, the managing officer or officers of which do not have a valid, unrevoked certificate of registration as optometrists; provided, however, that the term "accepting employment to practice optometry" as used in this clause of this act shall not be construed so as to prevent a licensed optometrist from practicing optometry upon an individual client; the advertising of optical business or treatment or advice in which untruthful, improbable or impossible statements are made; habitual intemperance or gross immorality; or permitting another to use his certificate of registration for any purpose.

Unprofessional conduct.

4. Who shall send a solicitor from house to house or who shall solicit from house to house.

5. When the holder is suffering from a contagious or infectious disease.

6. For any violation of the provisions of this act.

7. When the holder uses the title of "Doctor" or "Dr." as a prefix to his name; or, without holding a diploma from an accredited school of optometry, the letters "Opt. D." or "O. D." as a suffix to his name; or holds himself out as having a special knowledge of optometry, as defined in this act.

New section

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to chapter 598, Statutes of 1913, to be numbered section 17, to read as follows:

Constitutionality

Sec. 17. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

CHAPTER 281.

An act relating to the care and treatment of feeble-minded children in the Pacific Colony and making available for use therefor the buildings and grounds at the State Narcotic Hospital.

[Approved by the Governor May 11, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Transfer of facilities of State Narcotic Hospital

SECTION 1. In case the use of the State Narcotic Hospital for the purposes for which said hospital was originally established is discontinued, the buildings and grounds thereof shall be and are hereby placed under the jurisdiction and control of the State Department of Institutions to be added to the equipment of the Pacific Colony and to be used for the care and treatment of feeble-minded children, wards of the State, of the age of ten years or under.

Limitation on commitments

SEC. 2. No person shall be committed to the Pacific Colony unless with the addition of the person committed at least fifteen per cent of the inmates of said Pacific Colony are composed of children of the age of twelve years or under.

CHAPTER 282.

An act to amend sections 595 and 1054 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to postponement of trials and extensions of time in superior and inferior courts, declaring the urgency thereof and providing the same shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 11, 1933. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 2282

SECTION 1. Section 595 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

595. A motion to postpone a trial on the ground of the absence of evidence can only be made upon affidavit showing the materiality of the evidence expected to be obtained; and that due diligence has been used to procure it. See Stats 1933, Ch 744. Motion to postpone a trial.

The trial of any action, whether in a superior or inferior court, and irrespective of the date of the filing thereof or when it became at issue, shall be postponed when it appears to the court in which such action is pending that either a party thereto, or any attorney of record therein, or a principal witness is a member of the Legislature of this State and that the Legislature is in session, or is recessed; and such action shall not, without the consent of the attorney of record in such action, be brought on for trial before the expiration of thirty (30) days next following final adjournment of the Legislature. Members of Legislature

The court may require the moving party, where application is made on account of the absence of a material witness, to state upon affidavit the evidence which he expects to obtain; and if the adverse party thereupon admits that such evidence would be given, and that it be considered as actually given on the trial, or offered and overruled as improper, the trial must not be postponed. Affidavit.

In actions involving the title to mining claims, or involving trespass for damage upon mining claims, if it be made to appear to the satisfaction of the court that, in order that justice may be done and the action fairly tried on its merits, it is necessary that further developments should be made, under ground or upon the surface of the mining claims involved in said action, the court shall grant the postponement of the trial of the action, giving the party a reasonable time in which to prepare for trial and to do said development work. Mining claims.

In all cases, the court must postpone a trial for a period not to exceed twenty days when the attorneys of record of the parties who have appeared in the action stipulate in writing to such postponement.

SEC. 2. Section 1054 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 2282

1054. When an act to be done, as provided in this code, relates to the pleadings in the action, or the undertakings to be filed, or the justifications of sureties, or the preparation of bills of exceptions, or of amendments thereto, or to the service of notices other than of appeal, the time allowed by this code, unless otherwise expressly provided, may be extended, upon good cause shown, by the judge of the superior court in and for the county in which the action is pending, or by the judge who presided at the trial of said action; but such extension shall not exceed thirty days, without the consent of the adverse party; except that when it appears to the judge of any superior or inferior court to whom said application is made, that the attorney of record for the party applying for said extension is a member of the Legislature of this State and See Stats 1933, Ch 744. Extension of time for acts to be done. When attorney is member of Legislature that the Legislature is in session, or is recessed, in which case it shall be the duty of such judge to extend said time until said Legislature finally adjourns, and thirty days thereafter.

Urgency.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting the necessity is as follows:

The Legislature has declared a recess to permit certain proposed amendments to the Constitution of this State to be submitted to the people, and to allow the members of the Legislature the necessary time to draft and perfect legislation to effectuate the purposes of those constitutional amendments which are adopted by vote of the people. The members of the Legislature must make an extensive and careful study of these matters, for hastily drawn measures will retard the economic recovery of the State. If each member of the Legislature is permitted to devote his time and attention to a consideration of these matters, the time necessary to enact appropriate legislation, after the recess, will be materially lessened.

CHAPTER 283.

An act to amend section 609 of the Probate Code, relating to the compensation of appraisers.

[Approved by the Governor May 11, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 587.

SECTION 1. Section 609 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Compensation of appraisers.

609. Each appraiser shall receive from each estate appraised by him as compensation for his services commissions upon the total amount of the inventory and appraisement and supplemental inventory and appraisement as follows: For the first $5,000 or fraction thereof, a fee of five dollars; for the next $495,000 a fee one-tenth of one per cent thereof; for all over $500,000 a fee of one-twentieth of one per cent thereof. In addition to the fee herein provided each appraiser is entitled to receive his actual and necessary expenses, to be allowed by the court; and he must file, with the inventory, a verified account of his disbursements.

CHAPTER 286.

An act to amend section 583 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the dismissal of actions.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 583 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 373.

583. The court may in its discretion dismiss any action for want of prosecution on motion of the defendant and after due notice to the plaintiff, whenever plaintiff has failed for two years after action is filed to bring such action to trial. Any action heretofore or hereafter commenced shall be dismissed by the court in which the same shall have been commenced or to which it may be transferred on motion of the defendant, after due notice to plaintiff or by the court upon its own motion, unless such action is brought to trial within five years after the plaintiff has filed his action, except where the parties have stipulated in writing that the time may be extended. When, in any action after judgment, a motion for a new trial has been made and a new trial granted, such action shall be dismissed on motion of defendant after due notice to plaintiff, or by the court of its own motion, if no appeal has been taken, unless such action is brought to trial within three years after the entry of the order granting a new trial, except when the parties have stipulated in writing that the time may be extended. When in an action after judgment, an appeal has been taken and judgment reversed with cause remanded for a new trial, (or when an appeal has been taken from an order granting a new trial and such order is affirmed on appeal), the action must be dismissed by the trial court, on motion of defendant after due notice to plaintiff, or of its own motion, unless brought to trial within three years from the date upon which remittitur is filed by the clerk of the trial court. Dismissal of actions.

The surveyor shall devote his entire time and service to the work of the county, and is prohibited from engaging in private surveying and engineering work. It is hereby found as a fact that the salaries herein provided for do not work an increase in the compensation of said surveyor and same shall apply and become effective immediately.

Township classification

13. For the purpose of fixing the compensation of justices of the peace and constables according to their duties, townships in counties of this class are hereby classified according to their population as follows: Townships having a population of more than twenty thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a population of not less than ten thousand nor more than twenty thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a population of less than ten thousand and more than one thousand eight hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a population of one thousand eight hundred or less and more than one thousand one hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand one hundred or less shall belong to and be known as townships of the fifth class. Justices of the peace shall receive the following salaries:

Justices of the peace.

In townships of the first and second class the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month, each; provided, that each justice of the peace in townships of these classes shall be an attorney at law admitted to practice before the Supreme Court of this State;

In townships of the third class, the sum of one hundred twenty-five dollars per month;

In townships of the fourth class the sum of twenty-five dollars per month;

In townships of the fifth class the sum of twelve dollars and fifty cents per month;

Said salaries shall be paid in the same manner, and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid, and shall be compensation in full for all services rendered. All fees received by justices of the peace shall be paid into the county treasury every month. Justices of the peace of the first, second and third classes shall be allowed their necessary office expenses not to exceed the sum of fifteen dollars per month; provided, further, that all justices of the peace shall be allowed their civil and criminal dockets and legal blanks at the expense of the county; provided, further, that the justices of the peace of the townships of the third class when in the trial of criminal cases it becomes necessary to rent a hall to conduct said trial, the said justices of the peace of said townships of the third class shall be allowed the rental paid therefor, but not to exceed the sum of three dollars for any one day; and provided, further, that said rental shall not exceed in any one month the sum of fifteen dollars; and provided that such justice of the peace shall be allowed the sum of five dollars ($5.00) per month for the light and heat of said hall so rented.

Constables.

14. Constables shall receive the following salaries:

In townships of the first class the sum of forty dollars per month.

In townships of the second class the sum of forty dollars per month.

In townships of the third class the sum of ninety dollars per month.

In townships of the fourth and fifth classes the sum of twelve dollars and fifty cents per month.

Salaries in case of consolidation.

15. In the event that the townships in counties of this class are consolidated into three classes, justices of the peace and constables shall receive the following salaries:

Justices of the peace in townships of the first, second and third classes, the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum.

Constables in townships of the first and second classes, the sum of four hundred eighty dollars per annum.

Constables in townships of the third class, the sum of one thousand eighty dollars per annum.

Township population.

16. For the purposes of subdivisions thirteen and fourteen of this section, the population of the several judicial townships shall be ascertained by the board of supervisors of said county at their regular meeting in the month of December following the election of justices of the peace and constables in said county, by multiplying by three the number of registered voters in said township as shown by the register prepared by the county clerk of said county for the general election next preceding the date of such election. It is hereby found as a fact, that the salaries provided for in subdivisions thirteen and fourteen do not work an increase in the compensation and the same shall apply immediately to incumbents.

Supervisors. 17. Each member of the board of supervisors one hundred dollars per month, and eight cents per mile while traveling on official business from his residence to the county seat, or returning therefrom, and also mileage for his services as road commissioner at the rate of eight cents per mile, for the distance actually traveled in the discharge of his duties as road commissioner; provided, that such mileage as road commissioner shall not in any one year exceed the sum of three hundred dollars.

Board of education. 18. Each member of the board of education including the secretary, five dollars per day when the board is in session and eight cents per mile for traveling to and from his or her residence to the county seat at each session, unless otherwise provided by law.

Reporter. 19. In counties of this class, the official phonographic reporter of the superior court shall receive the sum of fifty dollars per month as compensation for the reporting of criminal cases both in the superior court and justice's court in the county, and for the transcription of the shorthand notes of such cases, he shall receive fifteen cents per folio of one hundred words for the original and seven and one-half cents per folio for each copy thereof as compensation for reporting and for the transcription of his shorthand notes. In civil cases he shall receive the fees now or hereafter authorized by law; provided, that he shall receive from the county no fees for the county's share of the cost of reporting in any civil cases in which the county is a party.

The salary of the reporter shall be paid out of the county treasury in the same manner as other county officers are paid.

Sealer. 20. In counties of this class the sealer of weights and measures shall receive as compensation the sum of one hundred seventy-five dollars per month, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of his duties as such sealer of weights and measures.

Librarian 21. The county librarian, two thousand one hundred dollars per annum.

Agricultural commissioner. 22. In counties of the twenty-third class the agricultural commissioner shall receive a compensation of six dollars per diem during the time actually employed, but the aggregate amount which may be expended in any year for the commissioner shall not exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed to the commissioner an assistant to be appointed by said commissioner, which position is hereby created, at a salary of four dollars per day while actually engaged in such work, not to exceed, however, in the aggregate the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year.

Mileage. 23. In all cases where the mileage of any county officer is not provided by general law, or provided for herein, such mileage shall be the sum of eight cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in the performance of his duties.

Traveling expenses. 24. The county officers shall be allowed their actual and necessary expenses incurred while traveling to and from the annual convention of their respective associations, but in no event shall such expenses exceed the sum of twenty-five dollars for each of said officers in any one year.

Effect. SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

Every conditional sales contract upon live stock and other animate chattels or on equipment and machinery used or to be used for mining purposes, must be acknowledged or proved and certified, and must be recorded within twenty days after its execution in the office of the recorder of the county where the property is situated; otherwise, it shall be void as to the lien of the seller against bona fide purchasers, encumbrancers and those having no actual knowledge of the contract who become creditors of the buyer while said property is in the possession of the buyer. Conditional sales of chattels

Sections 2959 and 2965 of the Civil Code, and sections 408, 4130, 4140 and 4300c of the Political Code, are hereby made applicable to conditional sales contracts involving live stock and other animate chattels and equipment and machinery used or to be used for mining purposes, in the same manner as to mortgages on live stock.

CHAPTER 296.

An act to amend section 4088 of the Political Code of the State of California, relating to the issuance of bonds for certain purposes.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1907, p. 354.

SECTION 1. Section 4088 of the Political Code of the State of California is hereby amended to read as follows:

Bonded indebtedness of counties.

4088. Any county having an outstanding indebtedness, evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof, may refund such indebtedness and issue bonds of the county therefor, and any county may incur or refund a bonded indebtedness for any purposes for which the board of supervisors are herein authorized to expend the funds of said county, or for the purpose of building or constructing roads, bridges or highways.

Proceedings

Such indebtedness shall be refunded or incurred in the following manner, to wit: The board of supervisors thereof shall by order specify the purpose for which the indebtedness is to be incurred, the amount of bonds which they propose to issue, the rate of interest, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of said bonds are to run, and shall further provide for submitting the question of the issuance of said bonds to the qualified electors of the county at the next general election, or at a special election to be called by the board for that purpose, and the words to appear upon the ballot shall be "Bonds—Yes," and "Bonds—No," or words of similar import, together with a general statement of the amount and purpose of each of the works, improvements and/or purposes included in any proposition for which the bonds are to be issued. Several separate propositions may be submitted at the same election, and any proposition may include two or more works, improvements and/or purposes. If a special election is called, none but qualified voters of the county shall be permitted to vote thereat, and it shall be held as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election law of the State; provided, however, that for the holding of such special election the board may form bond election precincts by adopting the precincts established for general election purposes, or by consolidating such precincts inside of incorporated cities and towns, to a number not exceeding six in each bond election precinct, and shall appoint only one inspector, two judges and one clerk for each bond election precinct. Notice shall be given of such election by publication in one or more newspapers published in the county, once a week for at least four weeks, or daily for not less than thirty days, prior to said election. If there be no such newspaper, then by posting the same conspicuously in five public places in said county at least thirty days before said election. Such notice must contain the time and place or places of holding such election, the names of election officers to conduct same, the amount and denomination of the bonds, the rate of interest to be paid, and the number of years, not exceeding forty, the whole or any part of such bonds are to run. If any election officers so named in such notice are not present at the opening of the polls, the electors present may appoint election officers to take the place of such election officers so absent. If two-thirds of the electors of the county voting at such an election shall vote in favor of issuing such bonds on any of the propositions submitted, the board must proceed to issue the amount of bonds specified; provided, that the total amount of bonded indebtedness shall at no time exceed five per cent of the taxable property of the county, as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof; provided further, that when water conservation, flood control, irrigation, reclamation and/or drainage works, improvements and/or purposes are included in any proposition submitted, then the total amount of bonded indebtedness may exceed said five per cent but shall not exceed fifteen per cent of the taxable property of the county as shown by the last equalized assessment book thereof. This limitation shall not apply to bonds which may be issued to refund an indebtedness existing January 1, 1880. The board of supervisors, by an order entered upon its minutes, shall prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto, and fix the time when the whole or any part of the principal of said bonds shall be payable, which shall not be more than forty years from the date thereof; and said board may also, at their option, by a provision in such bonds, make such principal payable on or before a specified date, at the pleasure of the county. Said bonds may be issued in denominations not to exceed one thousand dollars and not less than one hundred dollars; principal and interest payable in gold coin of the United States, either at the treasury of said county, or at such place within the United States as such board may designate, or both at such treasury or such designated place, at the option of the bondholder. Interest on said bonds shall not exceed six per cent per annum, payable annually or semiannually, as said board may designate. Said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors, and attested by the auditor of said county, and have the seal of the board of supervisors attached, and said coupons shall be signed by said auditor by original or lithographed facsimile signature; and said bonds shall be sold at the times, in the amounts and in the manner prescribed by said board of supervisors, but for not less than par. The board of supervisors, at the time of making the next general tax levy after incurring the indebtedness of any bonds issued under the provisions of this title, and annually thereafter until all of said bonds are paid, or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the county set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, must levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property of said county for the interest and redemption of said bonds, which shall be in addition to all other taxes, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on said bonds, and such portion of the principal, if any, as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy, and in any event must be sufficient to raise annually for the first half of the term said bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and during the balance of the term sufficient to pay such annual interest, and to provide annually a proportion of the principal of said bonds equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of said bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years said bonds then have to run. And the board of supervisors, before or at the time of issuing said bonds by ordinance shall provide for the levy of an annual tax sufficient to effect the objects of this provision. Such tax, when collected, shall be paid into the treasury of the county, and used solely to pay the interest and principal of said bonds as they respectively become due.

How revenue from bonds to be applied.

The revenue derived from the sale of said bonds shall be applied to the purpose specified in the order of the board, and no other. Should there be any surplus it shall be applied toward the payment of said bonds. The board of supervisors of any county can contract a bonded indebtedness for county purposes only as in this title provided.

Form of bond

In issuing bonds under this title, the board of supervisors may, at its option, use the following form of bond and coupon:

No._____ United States of America $_____

County of _____

State of California

The county of _____, State of California, hereby acknowledges itself indebted and promises to pay the bearer hereof, on the _____ day of _____, one thousand _____ (here insert if the board of supervisors elect to make the bonds payable on a certain date, or before that date, at the pleasure of the county, the words "Or at any time before that date, at the pleasure of the county"), the sum of _____ dollars in gold coin of the United States, with interest thereon, in like gold coin, at the rate of _____ per centum per annum, payable at _____ semiannually (or annually) on the first day of _____, and _____ (or on the first day of _____ if interest payable annually), on presentation and surrender of the interest coupon hereto attached.

This bond is issued by the board of supervisors of the county of _____, State of California, in strict compliance with the provisions of Title II, Part IV of the Political Code of the State of California, and in pursuance of an order of said board duly made on the _____ day of _____, 19___, and with the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of said county voting at an election legally called and duly held for that purpose on the _____ day of _____, 19___.

And it is hereby certified and recited that the bonded indebtedness of said county, including this bond, does not exceed _____ per cent of the taxable property thereof, as shown by the last equalized assessment of said county, and that provision has been made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on this indebtedness as it falls due, and also sufficient to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of said indebtedness at or before maturity.

In witness whereof, the said county, by its board of supervisors, has caused this bond to be signed by the chairman of said board, and attested by the auditor thereof, and the seal of the board of supervisors to be hereto attached, this _____ day of _____, 19___.

Chairman of board of supervisors.

Attest: _____, County Auditor.

And the interest coupon may be in the following form:

Form of coupon.

"The county of _____, State of California, hereby promises to pay to the holder hereof, on the _____ day of _____, 19__, at _____ in _____, $_____, United States gold coin, for interest on its county bond, No. _____.

_____, County Auditor."

Proceedings in case supervisors fail to levy tax.

If the board of supervisors of any county which has issued bonds under the provisions of this title shall fail to make the levy necessary to pay such bond or interest coupons at maturity, and the same shall have been presented to the county treasurer and the payment thereof refused, the owner may file the bond, together with all unpaid coupons, with the State Controller, taking his receipt therefor, and the same shall be registered in the State Controller's office; and the State Board of Equalization shall, at their next session, and at each annual equalization thereafter, add to the State tax to be levied in said county, a sufficient rate to realize the amount of principal or interest past due and to become due prior to the next levy, and the same shall be levied and collected as a part of the State tax and paid into the State treasury and passed to the special credit of such county as bond tax, and shall be paid by warrants, as the payments mature, to the holder of such registered obligations, as shown by the register in the office of the State Controller, until the same shall be fully satisfied and discharged, any balance then remaining being passed to the general account and credit of said county.

Stats 1929, p 19, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of an act entitled "An act to carry into effect the provisions of section 16 of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to bank and corporation taxes," approved March 1, 1929, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p 19.

Section 1. Every national banking association located within the limits of this State, shall annually pay to the State a tax according to or measured by its net income, to be computed, in the manner hereinafter provided, upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding fiscal or calendar year at the rate provided for in section 4a hereof. The State is hereby adopting the method numbered (4) authorized by the act of March 25, 1926, amending section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

National banks to pay tax

Stats. 1929, p. 19.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Other banks to pay tax.

Sec. 2. Every bank, other than a national banking association doing business within the limits of this State, shall annually pay to the State for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises within this State, a tax according to or measured by its net income, to be computed, in the manner hereinafter provided, upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding fiscal or calendar year at the rate provided for in section 4a hereof.

Stats. 1929, p. 19.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

In lieu of all other taxes.

Sec. 3. The tax referred to in sections 1 and 2 hereof shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon the banks and banking associations therein mentioned, except taxes upon their real property.

Stats 1933, Ch. 210.

SEC. 4. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Financial corporation to pay tax.

Sec. 4. Every financial corporation doing business within the limits of this State of the classes referred to in subdivision 2 (a) of section 16 of Article XIII of the Constitution of this State, shall annually pay to the State for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises within this State, a tax according to or measured by its net income, to be computed, in the manner hereinafter provided, upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding fiscal or calendar year at the rate provided for in section 4a hereof.

Offsets.

Each such financial corporation shall be entitled to an offset against said franchise tax, in the manner hereinafter provided, in the amount of taxes paid upon its personal property to any county, city and county, city, town or other political subdivision of the State; provided, however, that the tax on such financial corporation after the allowance of offset shall not be less than two per centum of its net income for the preceding fiscal or calendar year or less than twenty-five dollars.

Mercantile corporations to pay tax.

Every mercantile, manufacturing and business corporation doing business within the limits of this State, of the classes referred to in subdivision 2 (a) of section 16 of Article XIII of the Constitution of this State, shall annually pay to the State, for the privilege of exercising its corporate franchises within this State, a tax according to or measured by its net income, to be computed, in the manner hereinafter provided, at the rate of two per centum upon the basis of its net income for the next preceding fiscal or calendar year.

Minimum tax.

In any event, each such corporation shall pay annually to the State, for the said privilege, a minimum tax of twenty-five dollars.

Other corporation to pay tax.

Every corporation subject to be taxed pursuant to subdivision (d) of section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution of this State, and not otherwise taxed in pursuance of this section, shall pay annually to the State a tax of twenty-five dollars in lieu of the tax on its general corporate franchise under the provisions of said subdivision (d).

Not to apply to certain corporations.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any corporation organized for religious, charitable, social, fraternal or civic purposes if its organization or activities result in no financial or pecuniary gain or profit to the stockholders or members thereof.

Any corporation organized to hold the stock or bonds of any other corporation or corporations, and not trading in such stock or bonds or other securities held, and engaging in no other activities than the receipt and disbursement of dividends from such stock or interest from such bonds, shall not be considered a financial, mercantile, manufacturing or business corporation or a corporation doing business in this State for the purposes of this act.

Taxes due.

Taxes under this section and under sections 1 and 2 of this act shall accrue on the first day after the close of the "taxable year," as defined in section 11 hereof.

Computation of tax after change in law.

The tax on any bank or corporation for a period beginning in one calendar year (hereinafter in this section called "first calendar year") and ending in the following calendar year (hereinafter in this section called "second calendar year") where the law applicable to the computation of taxes for calendar year banks or corporations for the second calendar year is different from the law applicable to computation of taxes for calendar year banks or corporations for the first calendar year, shall be the sum of: (1) the same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law applicable to the first calendar year and at the rates for such year, which the portion of such period falling within the first year is of the entire period; and (2) the same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law applicable to the second calendar year and at the rates for such year, which the portion of such period falling within the second calendar year is of the entire period.

Any tax that has been paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year if in excess of the tax imposed by this section shall be refunded or credited to the bank or corporation as provided in section 27. Any tax in addition to that paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year made necessary by this section shall be immediately due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

New section.

SEC. 5. A new section, numbered 4a, is hereby added to said act.

Rate of tax.

Sec. 4a. The rate of tax on national banking associations and other banks and financial corporations mentioned in sections 1, 2 and 4 of this act shall be a percentage equal to the percentage of the total amount of net income, allocable to this State, of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations, taxable hereunder, for the next preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended during such calendar year, required to be paid to this State as franchise taxes according to or measured by such net income, and required to be paid to this State or its political subdivisions as personal property taxes during the preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended in such calendar year; provided, however, that said rate of tax shall not exceed six per centum. The percentage of the net income of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations required to be paid to this State or its political subdivisions in personal property taxes shall be determined by ascertaining the ratio which the total amount of such personal property taxes, less two per cent thereof, bears to the total amount of net income of such corporations, allocable to California, increased by the amount of such personal property taxes; provided, however, that if any such corporation sustains a net loss allocable to California the personal property taxes required to be paid by such corporation to this State or its political subdivisions during the preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended during such calendar year shall be considered for the purpose of determining such ratio only to the extent which such personal property taxes exceed such net loss allocable to California.

Determination and notice of tax.

The commissioner, after public hearing and opportunity given to examine the data on which his determination is based, shall determine not later than the thirty-first day of December of each year the average percentage of net income above specified, and shall forthwith mail notice of his determination and the amount of tax payable on the basis of such determination to all banks and financial corporations affected thereby, but such determination shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of section 25 hereof.

If it be judicially determined that the rate of tax on any bank or corporation is higher than is authorized by law such bank or corporation shall be relieved of liability for any tax imposed by this act only to the extent of the excess beyond that legally authorized.

Stats. 1933, Ch. 210.

SEC. 6. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Returns.

Sec. 13. Every bank and corporation shall, within two months and fifteen days after the close of its taxable year, transmit to the commissioner a return in a form prescribed by him, specifying, for the taxable year, all such facts as he may by rule, or otherwise, require in order to carry out the provisions of this act.

A bank which locates or commences to do business within the limits of this State, and a corporation which commences to do business in this State, after the effective date of this act, shall thereupon prepay the minimum tax hereunder, which prepayment must be made before the bank or corporation files with the Secretary of State its articles of incorporation or duly certified copy thereof as the case may be. Upon the filing of its return within two months and fifteen days after the close of its first taxable year its tax for that year shall be adjusted upon the basis of the net income received during that taxable year, a credit being allowed for the prepayment of the minimum tax. Said return shall also, in accordance with sections 23 to 26 inclusive, be the basis for the tax of said bank or corporation for its second taxable year, if its first taxable year is a period of twelve months. In every case in which the first taxable year of a bank or corporation constitutes a period of less than twelve months, said bank or corporation shall pay as a prepayment of the tax for its second taxable year an amount equal to the tax (after the offset allowance has been computed) for its first taxable year, the same to be due and payable at the same times and in the same manner as if that amount were the entire amount of its tax (after the offset allowance has been computed) for that year; and upon the filing of its tax return within two months and fifteen days after the close of its second taxable year it shall pay a tax for said year based upon its net income received during that year, allowing a credit for the prepayment; but in no event shall the tax for the second taxable year be less than the amount of the prepayment for that year, and said return for its second taxable year shall also, in accordance with sections 23 to 26 inclusive be the basis for the tax of said bank or corporation for its third taxable year. This paragraph shall not apply to a bank or corporation which commences to do business in this State, pursuant to a reorganization or pursuant to a consolidation of two or more banks or corporations.

Reorganized banks and corporations.

Where a bank or corporation commences to do business in this State pursuant to a reorganization of a bank or corporation, it shall pay no tax for its first taxable year, but its tax for its second taxable year shall be computed upon the basis of its net income for its first taxable year and the net income of the reorganized bank or corporation for the months of the taxable year prior to the reorganization. Every such bank or corporation in its return filed for its first taxable year shall specify all such facts with respect to the reorganized bank or corporation for the months of the taxable year prior to the reorganization as the commissioner may require in order to carry out the provisions of this paragraph. The term "reorganization" as herein used shall include (1) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its stockholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred; or (2) a recapitalization; or (3) a mere change in identity, form or place of organization however effected.

Consolidated banks and corporations.

Where a bank or corporation commences to do business in this State pursuant to a consolidation of two or more banks or corporations, it shall pay no tax for its first taxable year but its tax for its second taxable year shall be computed upon the basis of its net income for its first taxable year and the net income of the consolidated banks or corporations for the months of their taxable years prior to the consolidation. Every such bank or corporation in its return filed for its first taxable year shall specify all such facts with respect to the consolidated banks or corporations for the months of their taxable years prior to the consolidation as the commissioner may require in order to carry out the provisions of this paragraph.

Merged banks and corporations.

Where a bank or corporation or two or more banks or corporations merge with another bank or corporation, the tax of the surviving bank or corporation for its taxable year succeeding its taxable year in which the merger occurs shall be computed upon the basis of its net income for its preceding taxable year and the net income of the merged banks or corporations for the months of their taxable years prior to the merger. Every such surviving bank or corporation in its return for its taxable year in which the merger occurs, shall specify all such facts with respect to the merged banks or corporations for the months of their taxable years prior to the merger as the commissioner may require in order to carry out the provisions of this paragraph.

Whenever it is provided in this section that the tax on any bank or corporation shall be measured in part by any of the net income of a reorganized, consolidated, or merged bank or corporation, the same rate of tax shall apply to such income as would have applied to such income had the reorganization, consolidation, or merger not occurred, and had the reorganized, consolidated, or merged bank or corporation continued doing business in this State.

Amount of tax.

The tax for the second taxable year of a bank or corporation doing business in this State pursuant to a reorganization or consolidation, and the tax of a surviving bank or corporation, in the case of a merger, for its first taxable year succeeding the merger, shall, in addition to any other offset allowed by this act, be subject to offset in the amount of personal property taxes paid by such of the reorganized, consolidated, or merged corporations as are financial corporations, upon their property to any county, city and county, city, town or other political subdivision of the State during the taxable year in which the reorganization, consolidation or merger occurred; provided, however, that the offset herein provided for shall be allowed subject to the conditions and limitations set forth in sections 4 and 26 of this act.

Dissolved banks and corporations.

Any bank or corporation which is dissolved and any foreign corporation which withdraws from the State during any year shall pay a tax hereunder only for the months of its fiscal year which precede such dissolution or withdrawal, according to or measured by such proportionate part of the net income of the preceding taxable year as the number of months of the year prior to such dissolution or withdrawal bears to the entire preceding taxable year; provided, however, that in the case of any bank or corporation which is dissolved, or which withdraws from the State during any year, the offset from the tax for the months prior to such dissolution or withdrawal shall not exceed that proportion of the offset computed under section 26 which the number of said months prior to such dissolution or withdrawal bears to the number of months of the preceding taxable year; and provided, further, that the taxes levied under this act shall not be subject to abatement or refund because of the cessation of business or corporate existence of any bank or corporation pursuant to a reorganization, consolidation, or merger. In any event, each such corporation shall pay a minimum tax not subject to offset of twenty-five dollars for such period.

Bank or corporation discontinuing business.

When a bank or corporation discontinues doing business within the State during any fiscal or calendar year as the case may be, and does not dissolve or withdraw from the State, during that year and does not resume doing business during the succeeding fiscal or calendar year, its tax for the year in which it resumes doing business shall be computed upon the basis of the net income for the year in which it discontinued doing business. One-half the amount of the additional tax shall be due and payable at the time the bank or corporation resumes doing business, and the balance shall be due and payable within six months of the time the bank or corporation resumes doing business. All the provisions of this act relating to delinquent taxes shall be applicable to such additional tax if it is not paid on or before its due date.

The tax liability imposed under this act shall attach whether a bank or corporation has a taxable year of twelve months or of less duration.

Stats 1929, p. 19.

SEC. 7. Section 23 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Time for payment of taxes.

Sec. 23. On or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, as defined in section 11 hereof, there shall be due and payable, from every national banking association and every other bank and financial corporation, of the classes mentioned in sections 1, 2, and 4 of this act, as a first installment of the tax on such banks and financial corporations, a percentage of their net income as disclosed by the return, which is equal to that percentage of the net income of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations which is required to be paid to the State as a franchise tax according to or measured by net income.

On or before the fifteenth day following the mailing of notice of the commissioner's determination of the average percentage of net income of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations required to be paid to the State or its political subdivisions in franchise and personal property taxes as provided in section 4 (a) of this act, or on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the taxable year as defined in section 11 hereof, whichever is later, there shall be due and payable from every such banking association, bank and financial corporation, as a second installment of the tax on such banks and financial corporations, a percentage of their net income as disclosed by the return which is equal to the percentage of the net income of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations required to be paid to the State or its political subdivisions as personal property taxes as determined by the commissioner; provided, however, that the sum of the first and second installments shall not exceed six per centum of the net income of each such banking association, bank and financial corporation. The offset herein provided for shall be applied to such second installment.

In the case of mercantile, manufacturing and business corporations one-half the amount of tax disclosed by the return, shall be due and payable as a first installment of the tax on such corporations, on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of the taxable year, as defined in section 11 hereof. The balance of the tax shall be due and payable as a second installment, on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the taxable year. A tax imposed by this act or any installment thereof may be paid at the election of the taxpayer, prior to the date prescribed for its payment.

Where an extension of time for filing returns has been granted by the commissioner under the provisions of section 15 of this act, the first installment shall be paid prior to the expiration of such extension.

Penalty for delinquency.

If the first installment of the tax is not paid on or before its due date, or the due date as extended by the commissioner, it shall be delinquent and a penalty of fifteen per centum added thereto. If the second installment is not paid at the time it is due and payable, it shall be delinquent and a penalty of five per centum added thereto. At the time of the delinquency of the second installment an additional penalty of five per centum shall be added to the first installment unless that installment has theretofore been paid.

Disposition of tax moneys

All taxes and interest imposed under this act must be paid to the commissioner at Sacramento in the form of remittances payable to the Treasurer of the State of California, and he shall transmit said payments daily to the State Treasurer.

All moneys received by the State Treasurer shall be deposited by him in a special fund in the State treasury, to be designated the bank and corporation franchise tax fund, and moneys in said fund shall, upon the order of the State Controller, be transferred into the general fund of the State, or drawn therefrom for the purpose of refunding to taxpayers hereunder.

Stats. 1933, Ch. 210.

SEC. 8. Section 26 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Offsets for local taxes.

Sec. 26. A financial corporation subject to the tax herein provided for shall receive an offset against said tax, subject to the limitations provided in section 4 hereof, for personal property taxes paid upon its property to any county, city and county, city, town or other political subdivision of the State during the taxable year. At the time of payment of the first installment of tax under the provisions of section 23 of this act, each taxpayer claiming an offset against the tax shall submit to the commissioner evidence in such form as he shall prescribe in support of such claims.

If a financial corporation in paying the tax provided for in this act desires to claim an offset in the computation of its tax, the rate provided in section 4a hereof for financial corporations shall be applied to such offset and the amount so computed shall be added to and included in the tax of such corporation.

If any real or personal property taxes are at any time refunded to any bank or corporation taxable under this act and said bank or corporation has been allowed an offset for such taxes against any tax imposed under this act, said bank or corporation shall report that fact to the commissioner and shall pay a tax not subject to offset in an amount equivalent to any offset which has been allowed against any tax at any time imposed under this act on account of such refunded real or personal property taxes.

Extension of time for filing returns.

SEC. 9. A general extension of time of two months, in the case of returns for the taxable year ended December 31, 1932, required by said act to be filed by March 15, 1933, and of one month, in the case of returns for the taxable year ended January 31, 1933, required to be filed by April 15, 1933, is hereby granted. No interest shall be assessed or collected by reason of such extension.

Constitutionality

SEC. 10. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining portions of this act irrespective of the fact that any such section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act be declared unconstitutional.

Tax levy.

SEC. 11. This act, inasmuch as it provides for tax levies for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately, and shall be applied in the computation of taxes accruing subsequent to December 31, 1932.

CHAPTER 315.

An act to amend sections 452a, 452c, 452d, 452f, and 453 of the Civil Code, all relating to mutual benefit and life associations.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1929, p. 1261.

SECTION 1. Section 452a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Formation of mutual benefit associations.

452a. Twenty-five or more persons may incorporate an association for the purpose of paying the nominee of any member thereof a sum, upon the death of the member, not exceeding three dollars for each one thousand dollars or fraction thereof, of insurance carried by each member of the association, but not exceeding in any case the sum of three thousand dollars. The articles of incorporation must contain the statements required by section 595, except that they must provide that the voting power of the respective members shall be equal.

The articles must also provide that the property rights and interests of each member of any association shall be that proportion of the total of the property and interests of the association which the amount stated by the policy of the member to be payable on the member's death bears to the total of such amounts in all the policies issued by the association and in force at the time when the determination of rights and interests is made. The articles shall also provide that if the association ceases to do business, the property rights and interests of the members as to one another are those which exist at the time when the business of the association so ceases.

Stats 1931, p 1692.

SEC. 2. Section 452c of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Minimum membership.

452c. Every such corporation heretofore or hereafter organized under the provisions of this chapter must maintain a minimum membership of one thousand members in good standing, and should said membership at any time fall below said minimum, said association shall immediately notify said Insurance Commissioner of said fact, and within ninety days thereafter, or such further extension of time as may be granted by said commissioner, increase its membership to the minimum provided in this section, or submit to the revocation of its certificate of authority by the Insurance Commissioner whereupon it shall be the duty of said association to liquidate and dissolve the same under the supervision of said commissioner, or to merge or reinsure its business as herein provided.

Stats. 1929, p. 982.

SEC. 3. Section 452d of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Consolidation of associations

452d. Any association organized under the provisions of this chapter, or under the act of the Legislature of the State of California approved March 28, 1874, as amended, relating to mutual benefit associations, shall have the power to merge, consolidate, or reinsure its membership and business, or any part thereof, and/or any amount of any liability under any policy issued with any solvent association or corporation transacting a life insurance business in the State of California, under any plan which may be approved by the Insurance Commissioner.

SEC. 4. Section 452f of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p. 982.

452f. Any association of employees or other persons organized under the provisions of this chapter which does not pay, or agree to pay, directly or indirectly, any money or other compensation for the solicitation of applications for membership or insurance therein, shall not be subject to the laws of this State applying to or regulating the transaction of insurance business except sections 452a and 453 of the Civil Code and section 597 of the Political Code. Associations exempt from insurance law

SEC. 5. Section 453 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 982

453. Each association provided for in this chapter may, on the death of a member, levy an assessment on the surviving members of not to exceed three dollars for each one thousand dollars of insurance or fraction thereof carried by such member, and collect the same and pay the benefits provided for in the contract of insurance issued to such deceased member, to the nominee of such decedent and the residue, if any, from the proceeds of such assessments shall be deposited in the emergency mortality fund of the association as provided herein. Such association may also provide for the payment of annual dues by members, which annual dues, exclusive of initial membership fee payable in the first policy year, shall not exceed in the aggregate a sum equal to twelve dollars per one thousand dollars or fraction thereof of insurance written, but no member shall be subject to the payment of any annual dues in excess of that established upon the issuance of the policy held by the member The association may make such by-laws not inconsistent with the laws of the State as may be necessary for its government and the transaction of its business; may by its name sue and be sued; loan such funds as it may have on hand; and own sufficient real estate for its business purposes and such as it may be necessary to purchase on the foreclosure of its mortgages. Assessments and annual dues limited. General powers.

Each association governed by the provisions of this chapter may, in addition to other assessments authorized by the provisions of the chapter, levy assessments and collect same, for the purpose of creating and maintaining an emergency mortality fund; provided, however, that no such assessment shall exceed three dollars for each one thousand dollars of insurance or fraction thereof carried by such member. Such emergency mortality fund may be used for its collection, payment of policy claims, inspections, taxes, professional services, rein- Emergency mortality fund surance and expenses incidental thereto, but no such payment shall be made out of such fund for the payment of any death claim to an amount in excess of the net proceeds of the last preceding assessment. Notwithstanding the payment of any death claims, the association may, in addition to the special assessment above authorized, levy an assessment in the same manner as though for the payment of such claims, but the proceeds thereof shall be paid into said fund to replenish it for the loss arising out of the payment of such claims. Each association governed by the provisions of this chapter may provide for the payment of premiums in advance of stipulated amounts at periodic intervals. That portion of such advance premiums which constitute payment or part payment for mortality purposes, must as to each member, be carried as a trust fund in the name of such member on the books of the association. Amounts chargeable to the member as they become due shall be deducted from such trust funds for policy claims and/or the replenishment or creation of the emergency mortality fund. Any unused portion of such trust fund, paid by such member, shall be the credit balance as to such member subject to the terms of the policy held by such member.

The limitation of annual dues hereinbefore provided shall not apply to associations heretofore organized and incorporated and now existing under the provisions of an act of the Legislature of the State of California, approved March 28, 1874, as amended, entitled "An act relating to mutual benefit and relief associations."

CHAPTER 316.

An act to amend section 588c of the Penal Code, relating to the injury, defacement or removal of monuments or stakes placed, erected or used by the Department of Public Works, its officers or employees, on or along any State road or highway, or in connection with State road or highway work, and prescribing a penalty for the violation of such section.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1915, p. 180.

SECTION 1. Section 588c of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Injuring marker on State highway.

588c. Any person who wilfully injures, defaces, breaks down or removes any monument or stake placed, erected or used by the Department of Public Works, its officers, engineers, or employees, for the purpose of designating any point in the boundary or survey of any State road or highway on or along any such road or highway, or as a part of such road or highway work, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 317.

CHAPTER 319.

Stats 1917, p 46, amend ed.

An act to amend sections 32 and 34 of the Joint Highway District Act, approved June 17, 1931.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p 2072.

SECTION 1. Section 32 of the Joint Highway District Act, approved June 17, 1931, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Highways to revert to counties.

Sec. 32. Highways on completion to revert to counties. Upon the completion of construction or improvement of any highway or portion thereof by any district organized hereunder, the board of directors of the district shall adopt a resolution declaring such completion and transmit a copy of the same to the board of supervisors of the county in which such highway or portion of highway is situated. Upon receipt of such resolution by such board of supervisors, the control of such highway or portion thereof shall revert to the county in which the same is situated and become a part of the county system of highways therein and such county shall be liable for the future maintenance and care thereof.

Resolution of completion.

The board of directors shall not adopt any resolution declaring completion under this section unless and until it shall first obtain from the Director of Public Works of the State of California, a certificate, in writing, showing that the highway, or portion thereof, proposed to be surrendered to the county within which the same is situated, has been duly constructed, improved or completed in accordance with the plans and specifications previously adopted therefor; provided, that the Director of Public Works shall not be required to furnish such certificate, (except when the highway, or portion thereof, has been constructed, improved or completed under his supervision or control) unless and until the district engineer of such joint highway district shall first have made and delivered his certificate to said director showing that the highway, or portion thereof, has been duly constructed, improved or completed in accordance with the plans and specifications previously adopted therefor.

Stats 1931, p 2072.

SEC. 2. Section 34 of the said act hereinabove referred to is hereby amended to read as follows:

Control of State moneys.

Sec. 34. In case it shall be determined that any sum of money authorized to be expended from the State treasury of the State of California shall be expended as required by section 22 of article four of the Constitution of the State of California, then the Director of Public Works shall have the exclusive management and control of such expenditure, if the boards of supervisors of the several counties concerned assent to the relinquishment and transfer of such management and control, but such director may in his discretion delegate his powers to the board of directors of the Joint Highway District and said Joint Highway District is hereby declared to be a State institution within the meaning of said Constitution. The board of directors of the district may vest in the Director of Public Works, authority to supervise the work of construction, or so much thereof as it may, in its discretion, determine.

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 325.

Stats 1913, p. 1128, repealed

An act to repeal an act entitled "An act to create a Board of Harbor Commissioners for the port of San Jose on the southerly arm of San Francisco Bay, and to prescribe their powers and duties and to fix their compensation and the compensation of their employees and to appropriate money to carry this act into effect," approved June 14, 1913.

[Approved by the Governor May 12, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. The act cited in the title hereof is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 326.

An act to add sections 363r, 363s, 363t, 363u, 363v, 363w, 363x, 363y, 363z, 363aa and 363bb to the Political Code, to amend section 363h of the Political Code, and to repeal sections 365, 365a, 365b, 365c, 365d, 365e, 365f, and 365m, all relating to State roads and highways, and the powers and duties of the Director of Public Works, Department of Public Works, and California Highway Commission in respect thereto.

[Approved by the Governor May 13, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363r, and to read as follows:

Department of Public Works to control State highways

363r The Department of Public Works shall take and have full possession and control of all roads and highways which have been declared and adopted State roads and State highways and all State roads and State highways which may hereafter be acquired or constructed Said department is hereby directed to maintain all traversable roads which now are or that may be hereafter included in the State highway system, and said department is expressly authorized to do any and all things necessary or proper for the erection, construction, maintenance, management and control of all roads, highways and other properties which are now or hereafter may be placed under its control, including the construction and maintenance of detour roads.

New section.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363s, and to read as follows:

Maintenance of highway markers.

363s. It shall be the duty of the Department of Public Works with respect to State highways and local authorities with respect to streets and highways under their jurisdiction, to keep in repair or cause to be kept in repair, all objects or markers adjacent to a public highway which have been erected to mark registered historical places and to keep such markers free from all vegetation which may obscure them from view.

New section

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363t, and to read as follows:

Leasing tools and equipment.

363t The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized to enter into contracts for the leasing or renting of tools or equipment necessary or proper for the performance of its duties Whenever the total consideration which may be payable by said department under any such contract exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars ($500), said contract shall be subject to the provisions of that certain act entitled "An act to secure the payment of the claims of persons employed by contractors upon public works, and the claims of persons who furnish materials, supplies, teams, implements or machinery used or consumed by such contractors in the performance of such works, and prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto," approved May 10, 1919, Statutes of 1919, page 487, as amended, or as the same may hereafter be amended; provided, however, that said department shall not be required to retain at any time any percentage of the moneys payable under any such contract except on a verified claim duly filed as provided in said act.

Stats 1919, p. 487.

New section.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363u, and to read as follows:

Acquisition of property and easements.

363u. The Department of Public Works may condemn in the name of the people of the State of California, purchase, lease, or receive by donation or dedication, either as easements or in fee, any right of way, rock quarry, gravel pit, sand or earth borrow pit, land necessary or proper for offices, shops, storage yards, lands adjoining or near such highways for parks, and also lands and trees on each side of the center line of any State road or State highway for culture and support of trees, when in the judgment of the Director of Public Works the acquisition of said lands and trees, or either, shall be for the benefit of a State highway in aiding in the maintenance and preservation of the roadbed thereof, or aid in the maintenance of the attractiveness of the scenic beauties thereof, and also may likewise acquire lands for the construction and maintenance of drainage ditches in connection with the highways, and said department may likewise acquire all other lands which the Director of Public Works shall deem necessary for the construction, use or maintenance of State highways. Said department may likewise acquire land adjoining any State highway or road for the purpose of maintaining an unobstructed view of any portion of said highway that would interfere with the safety of persons traveling thereon.

New section.

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363v, and to read as follows:

Permits to plant trees, erect buildings, etc on highway.

363v. Whenever hereafter any right of way over any real property for State highway purposes is acquired by the Department of Public Works, whether by dedication, purchase or by eminent domain proceedings, the interest so acquired shall include the right of said department to issue permits under that certain act entitled "An act regulating the making of openings or the placing of structures or the change or renewal of any structure and the planting or removal of trees or shrubs or the placing of obstructions in or on State roads and highways; providing for the issuance of permits by the State Department of Engineering relative thereto, and for the laying or placing pipes, conduits, sewers, poles, wires, railways, obstruction and other objects, and for the planting, trimming or removal of trees or shrubs in or on State roads and highways; providing for the requirement of bonds from applicants before the issuance of such permits; and prescribing the penalty for violations of the provisions of this act," approved April 23, 1915, Statutes of 1915, page 179, for the location under such permits in said right of way of poles, posts, piers, abutments, or other necessary fixtures of telegraph or telephone or electric power lines, ditches, pipes, drains, sewers, or any underground structure.

Stats 1915, p. 179.

New section.

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363w, and to read as follows:

Contracts for removal of structures located on highway route

363w. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized to enter into contracts for the removal or relocation of structures or improvements situated upon property over which a right of way for State highway has been or is to be acquired, in lieu of the payment to the owner of such property of the cost of such removal or relocation, and the damages, if any, which will accrue by reason thereof.

Stats 1909, p 656

No such contract shall be subject to the provisions of that certain act entitled, "An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the State in relation to the erection, construction, alteration, repair or improvement of any State structure, building, road, or other State improvement of any kind and to repeal an act entitled, 'An act to regulate contracts on behalf of the State in relation to erections and buildings,' approved March 28, 1876," approved March 22, 1909, as amended. Each such contract the total consideration of which exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars shall be subject to the provisions of that certain act entitled, "An act to secure the payment of the claims of persons employed by contractors upon public works, and the claims of persons who furnish materials, supplies, teams, implements or machinery used or consumed by such contractors in the performance of such works, and prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto," approved May 10, 1919, Statutes of 1919, page 487, as the same is now, or hereafter may be, amended. The Department of Public Works shall not be required to retain at any time any percentage of the sums payable on account of any contract authorized hereunder except on a claim duly verified and filed as provided in said act.

The Department of Public Works may also require of the contractor a bond in a sum equal to at least one-half of the contract price, which bond shall guarantee the faithful performance by said contractor of his contract. Said bond shall be executed by some corporate surety authorized to issue surety bonds in the State of California.

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363x, to read as follows: New section 363x. The Department of Public Works may condemn in the name of the people of the State of California, purchase, lease, or receive by donation or dedication, any rights of way and may construct and maintain thereon stock trails approximately paralleling and adjoining any State highway in such portions of the State as the Director of Public Works may determine to be necessary or proper. The right of way of any existing highway superseded by relocation may likewise be retained for stock trail purposes. Said department shall post notices upon said trails and upon said highway at the entrances of said trails directing all persons to drive all untethered stock upon said trails, and any person who shall drive any untethered stock upon any State highway which is so paralleled by said stock trails shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and, in addition thereto said person shall be liable for all damage done thereby to said highway. Stock trails along highway.

SEC. 8. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363y, and to read as follows: New section.

363y. Whenever the natural course of a State highway or the State highway system runs or passes into or through any municipality or contiguous municipalities the Department of Public Works shall have authority to complete such State highway or State highway system as a continuous highway or system and connect the portions of such highway or system on either side of such municipality and shall have authority to determine the location of such connecting portion either through or around such municipality or contiguous municipalities as the said department may determine will be of the greatest benefit to traffic upon such State highway. Any street, road, boulevard, or other public highway within the limits of any such municipality, or any portion of any such public highway, may be adopted as a part of the State highway system in the manner provided by law without compensation to such municipality. Construction of State highway through a municipality

For the purpose of so completing any such State highway or State highway system, the Department of Public Works shall have authority to acquire the necessary rights of way within the corporate limits of a municipality by purchase, condemnation, dedication, or donation and to construct or improve such connecting portion to the same width and to the same standard as the State highway on either side of such municipality; provided, that the provisions of section 2620 of the Political Code in respect to State highways shall not apply to such highways within municipalities; and provided further, that after the completion thereof any such State highway or portion thereof may be retained and maintained as a part of the State highway system or may be relinquished to such municipality. The expense of any said acquisition, construction, improvement or maintenance may be paid out of any funds appropriated or available for the acquisition of rights of way, construction, improvement or maintenance of said State highway or portion of the State highway system.

Stats. 1913, Ch. 8.

The legislative body of any municipality upon request of the Director of Public Works shall have authority to acquire any land or right of way by purchase, condemnation, dedication or donation needed for State highway purposes and lying within such municipality and the title to any said land or right of way may be taken in the name of the State or municipality and said municipality may also aid in the construction or improvement of any State highway therein by contributing any part of the expense thereof to the Department of Public Works out of any municipal funds available or to become available for the construction or improvement of streets within said municipality.

New section.

SEC. 9. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363z, and to read as follows:

Contracts with city, county, etc., for highway expense.

363z. The Department of Public Works may enter into contracts with any county, city and county, city, or joint highway district, or two or more of any of them in respect to the proportion of the expense of the acquisition, construction or improvement of any State highway to be borne by the respective bodies to such contract. Any such contract may also provide for the acquisition of rights of way by any party thereto in any manner provided by law, and may provide for the doing of the actual work of construction, or any part thereof, by any party thereto, in any manner provided by law. No such contract shall be binding on the State until the same shall have been approved in writing by the Attorney General, or by the attorney duly appointed according to law to represent said department or the Division of Highways thereof. Such contracts shall be binding on any county, city and county, city, or joint highway district executing the same when the same has been properly executed and approved by all of the parties thereto.

New section.

SEC. 10. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363aa, and to read as follows:

Powers of Director of Public Works.

363aa. The Director of Public Works is hereby granted the power and authority to cause to be prepared and to approve all plans and specifications for all work done under the direction of the Department of Public Works and shall determine the kind, quality and extent of such work. All public work done under the control of said department may, in the discretion of said director, be done under contract or by day labor and said director is granted the power to direct whether any such work shall be done by contract in whole or in part or by day labor in whole or in part, and, after the approval of the plans, specifications and estimates by said director, if, in his opinion, the acceptance of any bid or bids shall not be for the best interests of the State, or if, in his opinion, the acceptance of any further bids, after the rejection of all bids submitted, shall not be for the best interests of the State, he may direct that the work or improvement be done upon a day labor basis. Whenever any work done under the direction of such department is placed upon a day labor basis, it is especially exempted from any law on or relating to contracts of the State. The full control of such day labor work is placed under said Department of Public Works and said department shall do all things necessary to properly carry out the work. The Director of Public Works is hereby given power to let any subdivision or unit of said day labor work by contract upon informal bids.

New section.

SEC. 11. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363bb, and to read as follows:

Bonds of certain officers.

363bb. The Director of Public Works, each member of the California Highway Commission, and each Chief of a Division of the Department of Public Works shall take the oath of office as prescribed for other State officers. Said State highway engineer shall give a bond in the sum of twenty thousand dollars for the faithful performance of the duties of his office. The Director of Public Works may require of any officer, assistant, or employee who is employed in the Department of Public Works, and who is entrusted with moneys belonging to the State, to funish a bond for the faithful performance of his trust, executed by some corporation authorized to issue surety bonds in the State of California, and in such amount as the said director shall prescribe. Any such bond shall cover duties prescribed by administrative regulations or orders of the said director as well as those imposed by statute.

Any such bond of any officer, assistant, or employee, may be canceled at any time, provided such cancellation is approved by the Director of Public Works. Schedule bonds may be taken covering two or more such officers, assistants, or employees. All bonds provided for in this section shall be filed with the Director of Public Works, and not elsewhere.

Stats 1927, p. 459.

SEC. 12. Section 363h of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Authority to condemn real property for highways.

363h. The Department of Public Works is hereby authorized, in the name of the people of the State of California, to condemn, under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, relating to eminent domain, any real property which it is by law authorized to purchase or acquire but said department shall not have power to commence any such proceeding in eminent domain unless the California Highway Commission shall first have adopted a resolution declaring that public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion by the State acting through the Department of Public Works of the improvement for which said real property is required and that the real property described in such resolution is necessary therefor. Said resolution shall be conclusive evidence:

(a) Of the public necessity of such proposed public improvement;

(b) that such property is necessary therefor; and

(c) that such proposed public improvement is planned or located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

Sections repealed.

SEC. 13. Sections 365, 365a, 365b, 365c, 365d, 365e, 365f and 365m of the Political Code are hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 327.

An act to add two new sections to the Political Code, to be numbered 363ee and 363ff, relating to the powers and duties of the Director of Public Works.

[Approved by the Governor May 13, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 363ee to read as follows:

Director may close or restrict use of highways.

363ee. The Director of Public Works shall have authority to close or restrict the use of any road or highway under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Works, whenever, in the judgment of said director, such closing or restriction of use is necessary for the protection of the public, either by reason of weather conditions, or the condition of said highway, or otherwise, or whenever such closing or restriction of use is necessary by reason of construction or maintenance operations thereon, or necessary for the protection of such road or highway from damage during storms or during construction or maintenance operations thereon, and said director or any contractor working under authority of the Department of Public Works may erect, or cause to be erected, suitable barriers or obstructions upon any such road or highway to prevent or restrict the use thereof, and may post, or cause to be posted, warnings and notices to the public of the condition of any such highway, and signs for the direction of traffic thereon, or to or upon any other highway or detour road provided for or open to public travel, and may likewise and for like purposes place thereon lanterns or other warning lights.

Erection of barriers.

The authority hereby conferred upon the Director of Public Works may be exercised by any appropriate officer, engineer, superintendent or employee of the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, in charge of maintenance or construction of any State road or highway.

It shall be the duty of the California Highway Patrol to cooperate with the Department of Public Works, or with any authorized contractor thereof, in the enforcement of the closing or restriction of use of any State road or highway, as in this section provided.

Penalty for violation of order.

Any person, firm or corporation who wilfully fails to observe any warning or other notice placed or posted in accordance with the provisions of this section, or who otherwise wilfully violates any direction or order of the Director of Public Works or of any officer, engineer, superintendent or employee of the Department of Public Works made or issued to make effective the provisions of this section, or who otherwise wilfully violates the provisions hereof, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as in the Penal Code provided.

New section.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363ff, to read as follows:

Disposal of lands not necessary for highway purposes.

363ff. (a) Whenever the Director of Public Works shall determine that any lands, or rights in land, heretofore or hereafter acquired by the State of California for highway uses and purposes are no longer necessary for such uses or purposes he is hereby authorized to negotiate the sale and to sell or to exchange such lands and rights in land, in such manner and upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the California Highway Commission. The conveyance of any such lands and rights in land shall be executed on behalf of the State of California by the Director of Public Works. Whenever such lands, or rights in land, are conveyed for a consideration, the purchase price thereof shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of such fund or funds available to the Department of Public Works for highway purposes, as the California Highway Commission may determine.

(b) Such lands, or rights in land, may likewise be exchanged for other lands, rights in land, easements, or rights of way, needed or necessary for State highway uses and purposes, either as whole or part consideration therefor.

(c) Lands, or rights in land, title to which has passed to and has been accepted on behalf of the State by the Department of Public Works for highway purposes, inadvertently or by mistake, may be reconveyed to the person or persons entitled thereto. The reconveyance of any such lands, or rights in land, shall be executed on behalf of the State of California by the Director of Public Works; provided, that any consideration received therefor by the grantor from the State of California or otherwise shall first be refunded or reconveyed to the State, or to the political subdivision, or whoever may be entitled thereto.

CHAPTER 328.

Stats. 1927, p. 1723, amended

An act to amend sections 1 and 2 of an act entitled "An act to provide a stenographer and typist for judges of the superior courts and providing for their salaries and the payment thereof," approved May 31, 1927, relating to superior court stenographers and secretaries.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 2512.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stenographers for superior court judges.

Section 1. In each county, and city and county, having a population of eighty-one thousand twenty-four or over, and where there is no jury commissioner provided, and having only two departments of the superior court in and for said county or city and county, the judges of the superior court in and for such county, or city and county, to assist the court in the transaction of the judicial business of said court may appoint one competent stenographer or secretary skilled in such work for each judge of the superior court in and for said county or city and county, whose duty it shall be to render such service as such judge may require each day; the salary of each such stenographer or secretary shall be one hundred seventeen dollars and fifty cents per month.

Stats 1927, p. 1723.

SEC. 2. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Payment of salary

Sec. 2. The salaries and expenses hereinbefore provided for shall be paid in monthly installments out of the salary fund of the county, or city and county, or if there be no salary fund, then out of such fund as other salary demands against the county, or city and county are paid, and shall be allowed and audited in the same manner as other salary demands against the county, or city and county are required by law to be allowed and audited.

CHAPTER 329.

An act to amend section 710, as added by Chapter 263, Statutes of 1903 and as amended by Chapter 634, Statutes of 1929, of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the collection of moneys due from a judgment debtor.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1047.

SECTION 1. Section 710, as added by Chapter 263, Statutes of 1903, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Execution on salary of public officers or employees.

710. (a) Whenever a judgment for the payment of money is rendered by any court of this State against a defendant to whom money is owing and unpaid by this State or by any county, city and county, city or municipality, quasi municipality or public corporation, the judgment creditor may file a duly authenticated abstract or transcript of such judgment together with an affidavit stating the exact amount then due, owing and unpaid thereon and that he desires to avail himself of the provisions of this section in the manner as follows:

1. If such money, wages or salary is owing and unpaid by this State to such judgment debtor, said judgment creditor shall file said abstract or transcript and affidavit with the State department, board, office or commission owing such money, wages or salary to said judgment debtor prior to the time such State department, board, office or commission presents the claim of such judgment debtor therefor to the State Controller. Said State department, board, office or commission in presenting such claim of such judgment debtor to said State Controller shall note thereunder the fact of the filing of such abstract or transcript and affidavit and state the amount unpaid on said judgment as shown by said affiidavit. Thereupon the State Controller, to discharge such claim of such judgment debtor, shall pay into the court which issued such abstract or transcript by his warrant or check payable to said court the whole or such portion of the amount due such judgment debtor on such claim as will satisfy in full or to the greatest extent the amount unpaid on said judgment and the balance thereof, if any, to the judgment debtor.

2 If such money, wages or salary is owing and unpaid to such judgment debtor by any county, city and county, city or municipality, quasi municipality or public corporation, said judgment creditor shall file said abstract or transcript and affidavit with the auditor of such county, city and county, city or municipality, quasi municipality or public corporation (and in case there be no auditor then with the official whose duty corresponds to that of auditor). Thereupon said auditor (or other official) to discharge such claim of such judgment debtor shall pay into the court which issued such abstract or transcript by his warrant or check payable to said court the whole or such portion of the amount due on such claim of such judgment debtor as will satisfy in full or to the greatest extent the amount unpaid on said judgment and the balance thereof, if any, to the judgment debtor.

(b) The judgment creditor upon filing such abstract or transcript and affidavit shall pay a fee of one dollar to the person or agency with whom the same is filed.

(c) Whenever a court receives any money hereunder, it shall pay as much thereof as is not exempt from execution under this code to the judgment creditor and the balance thereof, if any, to the judgment debtor.

(d) Nothing in this section shall authorize the filing of any abstract or transcript and affidavit against any wages, or salary owing to any elective officer of this State whose salary is fixed by section 19 of Article V of the State Constitution.

CHAPTER 330.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be known as section 3664a-1, relating to the taxation of certain public service companies for the benefit of the State, and providing this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 3664a-1, to read as follows:

Added tax for certain public utilities.

3664a-1. All companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas or electricity and all telephone companies shall annually pay to the State, in addition to the tax levied and assessed upon such companies and their properties as provided in section 3664a of this code, a tax equal to the percentages hereinafter fixed upon the gross receipts from the operation of such companies for the calendar years 1932 and 1933 and each thereof within this State, namely, on all companies engaged in the transmission or sale of gas and electricity, one and one-half per cent; on all telephone companies, one-quarter of one per cent.

The rate of tax fixed hereunder when added to the rate of tax fixed upon said companies under the provisions of section 3664a of the code shall constitute the rate of tax levied upon said companies in accordance with section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution and shall be in lieu of all other taxes and licenses, State, county, and municipal, upon the property of said companies except as otherwise provided in section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution of this State.

All taxes herein provided for shall be levied, assessed, and shall become due and payable at the time, in the manner provided by law for the levy, assessment and collection of taxes referred to in section 3664a of this code, and shall be subject to all penalties and interest charges accruing for nonpayment thereof as is provided by law for the nonpayment of delinquency of all taxes referred to in said section 3664a.

Constitutionality

SEC. 2. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of the act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, sentence, clause or phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 3. This act, inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the current expenses of the State for the eighty-fifth and eighty-sixth fiscal years, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV, of the Constitution, take effect immediately. Tax levy

CHAPTER 331.

An act to provide for the acquisition, construction, extension and operation of systems and works for the collection, treatment, purification and disposal of sewage by cities, counties, sanitary and sanitation districts; also providing for the issuance and sale of revenue bonds to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States to pay for the acquisition and construction of such works, which bonds shall be payable exclusively from the revenues derived from the operation of such works; also providing for the establishment and collection of service rates or charges to pay for the expense of constructing, operating and maintaining such works; also providing for the use of such works by other cities, counties or districts, and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. All cities, counties, sanitary districts and sanitation districts are hereby authorized and empowered to acquire, construct, and operate within or without their limits, sewage treatment plants, intercepting and collecting sewers, outfall sewers, force mains, pumping stations, ejector stations and all other appurtenances necessary, useful, or convenient for the collection, treatment, purification or disposal of the sewage of such city, county or district, and shall have authority to acquire by gift, purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, all lands, rights of way or other property necessary therefor, and to issue and sell revenue bonds to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States for the acquisition and construction of such property and structures. The term "works," where hereinafter used in this act, shall be construed to mean and include such structures and property. Acquisition and operation of sewage plants, etc. Financing

SEC. 2. The construction, acquisition, and operation of any such works, and the collection of charges for the use thereof, shall be under the supervision and control of the governing body of such city, county or district, as the case may be. Control

SEC. 3. The governing body of such city, county or district shall have power to take all steps and proceedings and to make and enter into all contracts or agreements necessary, convenient or incidental to the performance of its duties or the execution of its powers under this act. It may employ Authority of governing body.

engineers, architects, inspectors, superintendents, manager, collectors, attorneys and such other employees as in its judgment may be necessary or convenient in the execution of its powers and duties, and may fix their compensation. All such compensation, and all expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be paid solely from funds provided under the authority of this act. After the acquisition or construction of such works the governing body shall supervise the operation, management and control thereof, unless such authority be delegated to an administrative board, commission or other subordinate body as hereinbefore provided, and shall establish rules and regulations for the use thereof, and of such other sewers and works connected therewith as may be necessary or expedient to insure their successful operation. The governing body shall provide that all public ways or public works damaged or destroyed in carrying out the provisions of this act shall be restored or repaired, and placed in their original condition, as nearly as practicable, out of funds provided in this act.

Preliminary expenses

SEC. 4. All the necessary preliminary expenses incurred by the governing body of any city, county or district, in carrying out the provision of this act, including the making of surveys, plans and estimates of costs and revenues, compensation of employees, the giving of notices, taking of options, and all other expenses of whatsoever nature, necessary to be paid prior to the issuance and sale of the revenue bonds authorized hereunder, may be advanced out of the general fund of such city, county or district; provided, however, said general fund shall be fully reimbursed out of the first money received from the sale of said revenue bonds, and before any other disbursements are made therefrom.

Preliminary requirements.

SEC. 5. Before any such city, county or district shall acquire or construct any works under this act, the governing body thereof shall adopt a resolution declaring its intention so to do and setting forth the following matters:

Resolution: What to contain.

(a) A brief and general description of the works. If the same are to be constructed, a reference to the plans and specifications which shall have theretofore been prepared and filed by the engineer chosen by the governing body as provided herein:

(b) The estimated cost of the works to be acquired or constructed, and the amount of revenue bonds to be issued and sold therefor.

(c) A general description of the district which would be served by the proposed works, and referring to a plat of such district, which shall govern for all details.

(d) An estimate of the number and character of the places and properties which would be served by such works, including those ready for immediate service and those in expectancy.

(e) An estimate of the immediate revenue which would be received from the operation of such works, also of future revenues in expectancy.

(f) A statement that revenue bonds of the city, county or district, as the case may be, will be issued to cover the cost of such works, and sold to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States.

(g) A notice of the day, hour, and place when and where electors, property owners, or other interested persons may appear before the governing body and be heard as to any protests or objections they may have against the acquisition or construction of the proposed works and the issuance and sale of revenue bonds therefor. The time set for said hearing shall be not less than twenty days nor more than forty days after the adoption of said resolution.

Publication of resolution

SEC. 6. The governing body shall cause said resolution to be published twice in one or more newspapers published and circulated in such city, county or district, as the case may be. If no newspaper is published in such city or district, then the publication shall be made in some newspaper published in the county in which said city or district is located.

A copy of said resolution headed "Notice of Sewer Work" in letters not less than one inch in height, shall be posted in said district along the entire length of that street therein which, in the opinion of the governing body, is traversed by the largest number of people. Said notices shall be posted not less than 300 feet in distance apart, and not less than three notices shall be posted in any case. Both the posting and the publication shall be completed at least ten days before the time set for the hearing. Affidavits of publication and of posting shall be filed with the clerk or secretary of the governing body.

Hearing.

At the time set for the hearing, the governing body shall hear all persons or their representatives having any objections to the acquisition or construction of the works as proposed, also any suggestions that may be offered in the way of an amendment or modification of the proposition. The governing body may continue the hearing from time to time, and modify the boundaries of the district which would be served, by eliminating territory therefrom, but no new territory shall be added thereto.

Protests.

In case any written protests or objections are filed with the governing body, signed by more than one-half of the owners of improved real property in the district which would be served, as such owners are shown on the records of the assessor and the tax collector of or for the city or district, no further proceedings shall be taken in the matter for six months, and not then without the passage of a new resolution of intention.

Election.

If, before the conclusion of the hearing, a petition signed by not less than fifteen per cent of such owners, is filed with the governing body requesting said body to submit the proposition of acquiring or constructing the proposed works to an election of property owners in the district which would be served, then and in that event, said governing body shall forthwith call an election in said district for that purpose, which election shall be restricted exclusively to the owners of improved real property therein as hereinafter defined.

Such election, if called, shall be held and conducted, and the votes cast thereat received and canvassed, and the returns thereof made, determined and declared, so far as practicable, in accordance with the act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for direct legislation by cities and towns, including initiative and referendum," approved January 2, 1912, as amended; provided no persons shall be entitled to vote at such election except those owning improved real property in the district which would be served by the project.

Stats Ex Sess 1911, p 131

For the purposes of this act, the term "owners of improved real property," shall mean those persons, firms or corporations who are recorded on the books of the assessor and tax collector as being the owners of lots or parcels of land in the district to be served, and which have been improved by buildings that would be subject to service of the sewer system under the provisions of this act, on completion of the project. In case the question should go to an election, individuals, companies or corporations shall have but one vote thereat regardless of the number of lots or parcels of land owned by them. Where property stands in the name of two or more persons each of them shall have a vote. The vote of corporations shall be cast by the president or secretary thereof, properly authorized in writing.

Who entitled to vote

The provisions hereof regarding a referendum election shall be liberally construed to effect the objects hereof, and no irregularity or informality shall ever be held to invalidate such election when it appears that the provisions of law have been substantially complied with. In case no protest is filed by a majority of the owners of improved real property in the district to be served, or no referendum election is carried by the proponents thereof, then the governing body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed in the matter, and shall immediately make application to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States, and petition said agency to purchase the sewer revenue bonds of the city, county or district, as the case may be.

Cost of works

SEC. 7. The cost of the acquisition or construction of the works for which revenue bonds may be issued hereunder, shall include the cost of all property, rights, easements and franchises deemed necessary or convenient therefor; engineering, clerical and legal expense; and all other expenses connected with or incident to the works in the operation and performance of the things herein required to be done.

Powers of cities, counties and districts

In the operation of the works herein mentioned, every city, county or district shall have, besides the powers elsewhere in this act given, the following additional powers:

(a) To sell, or otherwise dispose of any water, sewage effluent, fertilizer or other by-products resulting from the operation of a sewerage system or sewage treatment or disposal plant, and to construct, maintain and operate such pipelines and other works as may be necessary for such purposes.

(b) To construct, maintain and operate pipelines or such other works as may be necessary to conserve and put to beneficial use any water or sewage effluent recovered from the operation of such sewerage system, plant or works by sale or disposition thereof for agricultural or industrial purposes, including irrigation; or by discharging or spreading such water or sewage effluent in such manner as to percolate into the underground gravels and replenish natural water resources.

(c) To exercise the power of eminent domain under the Constitution and laws of the State in so far as it may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act.

(d) To make such contracts with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States as may be necessary to meet the requirements of the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932.

Charges and rates

SEC. 8. The governing body of the city, county or district, as the case may be, shall have power, and it shall be its duty, to establish just and equitable rates or charges for the use and maintenance of such works, to be paid by the person, firm or corporation leasing or occupying the building or premises served thereby or that in any way uses or is served by such works, and may change and readjust such rates or charges from time to time. Such rates or charges shall be sufficient in each year for the payment of the proper and reasonable expenses of operation, repair, replacements and maintenance of the works, and for payment of the sums required to be paid into the sinking fund as hereinafter mentioned. No such rates or charges shall be established until after a public hearing, at which all the users of the works and owners of property served or to be served thereby and others interested shall have opportunity to be heard concerning the proposed rates or charges. After introduction of the ordinance, resolution or order fixing such rate or charges, and before the same is finally enacted, notice of such hearing, setting forth the proposed schedule of such rates or charges shall be given by one publication in a newspaper published in such city, county or district, if there be such a newspaper, but otherwise in a newspaper having general circulation therein, at least ten days before the date fixed in such notice for the hearing, which may be adjourned from time to time. After such hearing the ordinance, resolution or order establishing rates or charges, either as originally introduced or as modified and amended, shall be passed and put into effect. A copy of the schedule of such rates and charges so established shall be kept on file in the office of the clerk or secretary of such city, county or district, and shall be open to inspection by all persons interested. The rates or charges so established for any class of users or property served may be extended to cover any additional premises thereafter served which fall within the same class, without the necessity of any hearing or notice. Any change or readjustment of such rates or charges may be made in the same manner as such rates or charges were originally established as hereinabove provided. All such rates or charges if not paid when due shall constitute a lien upon the premises served by such works. If any service rate or charge so established shall not be paid within thirty days after the same is due, the amount thereof, together with a penalty of ten per cent may be recovered by a civil action brought in the name of the city, county or district, as the case may be.

Publication of rates

Variable rates may be established.

The governing body may establish variable rates and charges for different classes of users, or for different parts of the city, county, or district, where sewage works or portions thereof have been previously installed and financed under other laws or methods, so that such variable rates or charges may be most equitable and just to all concerned; provided such rates or charges may only be imposed and collected from the users of such works or portion thereof as are actually constructed with money derived from the sale of such revenue bonds; provided further, however, that if the users of any works or portion thereof previously acquired and financed by other methods, receive any additional benefits from the construction or operation of the works or portion thereof subsequently constructed or acquired from the proceeds of revenue bonds, then and in that case, the governing body shall be empowered to impose reasonable rates or charges on the works previously acquired, but only sufficient to cover the value of such additional benefits.

Income must be sufficient to meet expenditures

SEC. 9. It shall be the duty of the governing body of such city, county or district to establish rates or charges which, beyond all reasonable doubt, will bring in sufficient money to meet the interest and principal on all outstanding revenue bonds as they fall due, in addition to the expense of operation.

Whenever it appears that the rates or charges imposed are insufficient to provide enough money to pay such principal and interest, in addition to the operating expenses, and the governing body neglects or refuses to fix adequate rates therefor, any bondholder may petition the superior court for a writ of mandate to compel the governing body to increase the rates or charges to such an extent as will make them sufficient to provide enough money for those purposes.

Deposit of income in banks.

The money received from the collection of such rates or charges, together with any other revenues derived from the operation of such works, shall be deposited in a bank or banks by the treasurer of the city, county or district, as the case may be, in the same manner that public money is deposited in banks by cities. The money so deposited shall be kept as a separate and distinct fund. This fund shall be used for the payment of the cost of management, maintenance, operation and repair of the sewerage system and sewage pumping, treatment and disposal works. Any surplus moneys in such fund, after paying for the management, maintenance, operation and repair of such works, and after paying into the sinking fund for the payment of the bonds and the interest thereon as elsewhere in this act provided, the governing body of such city, county or district, as the case may be, may use such surplus moneys for extensions, or for the enlargement, replacement or betterment of such works.

May purchase own bonds

Out of any surplus funds remaining, after providing for the requirements set forth in the preceding paragraph, the governing body of the city, county or district, as the case may be, may purchase in the open market its outstanding unmatured revenue bonds; provided that no bonds shall be so purchased at a price above par and accrued interest, plus an allowance of six months' interest from date of such purchase.

Use of cesspools discontinued.

SEC. 10. Whenever any community within such city, county or district, is provided with a sewerage system hereunder the governing body of such city, county or district shall declare the further maintenance or use of cesspools or other local means of sewage disposal to be a public nuisance and shall require all buildings inhabited or used by human beings to be connected with such sewerage system, within ninety days from the completion thereof, provided the buildings to be served thereby are within one hundred feet of such system.

Bonds.

SEC. 11. The revenue bonds which are hereby authorized to be issued and sold under the provision of this act shall be of the character and form known as "Serials." They shall be sold to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States as may be established to loan money to States, municipalities or other public corporations for financing self-liquidating projects. They shall be entitled "Sewer revenue bond," and shall be paid and discharged within a period not exceeding forty years from their date.

All such bonds, except those of the last installment or one of each annual installment, shall be in multiples of one hundred dollars, in such amounts as the governing body may determine, provided no bonds shall be of greater denomination than one thousand dollars.

They shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent (6%) per annum, payable semiannually by coupon.

The governing body shall prescribe the form of the bonds, and provide that of the indebtedness represented thereby a part of the whole thereof shall be payable each and every year after their date, at a time and place to be designated in such bonds, together with the interest thereon, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid; provided the maturity date of the first bond or series of bonds so payable may be deferred for a period not exceeding five years from the date of such bonds.

The number of bonds to be paid each year need not be the same, and the governing body may fix the maturities thereof, so that the number of bonds retired each year will, in the discretion of the governing body, be most equitable and just, provided that in every case all of such bonds shall be completely retired and fully paid within forty years from the date of their issuance.

Signatures.

In the case of a city, the bonds shall be signed by the mayor if there be one; otherwise by the president or chairman of the governing body of such city, county or district, as the case may be, countersigned by the clerk or secretary thereof, and the seal of such city, county or district shall be affixed thereto. The interest coupons shall be signed by the treasurer of such city, county or district, by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any officer whose signature or countersignature appears on the bonds shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds; provided, should any of the requirements hereof as to the title, character or other details relating to the bonds be objectionable for any reason to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States purchasing the bonds, the governing body of the city, county or district may modify or change the same providing such change or modification does not constitute a violation of the Constitution or laws of California.

Apportionment of money.

SEC. 12. All moneys, other than premium and accrued interest, received from the sale of any bonds issued pursuant to this act, after reimbursement and repayment to the city, county or district, as the case may be, of all amounts advanced for preliminary expenses as hereinbefore provided, shall be applied solely to the payment of the cost of the works aforementioned. All moneys received for premium and accrued interest shall be paid into the sinking fund provided for in section 13 of this act and used for the purposes for which said sinking fund is created.

Sinking fund.

SEC. 13. Upon the issuance of any such bonds, the governing body of the city, county or district, as the case may be, shall by ordinance create a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds and the interest thereon, and shall set aside a sufficient amount of the net revenue of the works, after paying the expense of operation, repair and maintenance, to provide for (a) the interest upon such bonds, (b) the payment of the bonds as they fall due, and (c) a margin for safety and for the payment of premiums upon bonds retired by call or purchase as herein provided, which margin, together with any unused surplus of such margin, carried forward from the preceding year, shall equal ten per cent of all other amounts so required to be paid into the sinking fund.

System of accounts Audit.

SEC. 14. Any city, county or district issuing revenue bonds under the provisions of this act shall install and maintain a proper system of accounts, showing the amount of revenue received and the application of the same, and such city, county or district shall at least once a year cause such accounts to be properly audited by a competent auditor, and the report of such audit shall be open for inspection at all times to any taxpayer, user of the works or holder of the bonds issued under the provisions of this act, or any one acting for and on behalf of such taxpayer, user or bondholder. The treasurer of such city, county or district shall be custodian of the funds derived from income received from such works constructed or acquired under the provisions of this act, and shall give a proper surety bond for the faithful discharge of his duties as such custodian, which bond shall be fixed and approved by the governing body of such city, county or district. The premium on such bonds shall be paid by such city, county or district as the case may be.

Contracts between cities, etc., for use of sewer systems

SEC. 15. Any city, county or district owning or operating such a sewage disposal works as defined in this act (in this section called the owner), is hereby authorized to contract with one or more other municipalities, counties, sanitation districts or sanitary districts (in this section called the lessee), for the use of such works but only to the extent of their capacity and without impairing the usefulness thereof upon such terms and conditions as may be fixed and approved by ordinances of the respective contracting parties; provided, however, that no such contract shall be made for a period of more than fifteen years or in violation of the provisions of said ordinance authorizing bonds hereunder. The governing body of the city, county or district which is the lessee shall by ordinance have power to establish, change and adjust rates and charges for the service rendered therein by the works against the owners of the premises served, in the manner heretofore provided for establishing, changing and adjusting rates and charges for the service rendered in the city, county or district where the works are owned and operated, and such rates or charges shall constitute a lien on the property served, and shall be collected as herein provided for rates and charges made by the owner. The necessary intercepting sewers and appurtenant works for connecting the works of the owner with the sewerage system of the lessee shall be constructed by the owner and/or lessee upon such terms and conditions as may be set forth in said contract, and the cost or that part of the cost thereof which is to be borne by the owner may be paid as part of the cost of the works from the proceeds of the bonds issued under this act unless otherwise provided by said ordinance. The income received by the owner under any such contract shall, if so provided in said ordinance be deemed to be a part of the revenue of the works as in this act defined, and may be applied as herein provided for the application of such revenues. The owner shall deduct from the whole cost and expenses such part thereof as shall be paid by the lessee pursuant to the provision of said contract; provided no rates or charges shall be imposed or collected from the users of such works or portions thereof except in cases where such works or portions thereof have been acquired by means of revenue bonds, and unless additional benefits will be derived by the users as a result of such contract. In such case the rates or charges shall be only sufficient to cover the value of the additional benefits.

Contracts for construction of works.

SEC. 16. All works acquired or constructed under the provisions of this act where the expense involved exceeds five hundred dollars, shall be done by contract which shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder as in this act provided; provided further, in case the bonds herein authorized should be purchased by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on condition or request that the governing body of the city, county or district, as the case may be, has the work performed by day labor instead of by contract, then and in that event, such governing body is hereby empowered to comply with such condition or request of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation respecting the employment of labor on such works, otherwise the provisions of this section shall be followed.

The governing body of the city, county or district, as the case may be, shall comply with all the conditions and requirements of the Emergency Relief and Construction Act of 1932, respecting the employment of labor, and other matters in connection therewith providing the same are not in conflict with the Constitution and laws of this State

Notice for bids

Before awarding any contract for the construction of such work, the governing body of such city, county or district shall cause a notice inviting sealed proposals for doing the same, and referring to the plans and specifications on file, to be published twice in a daily, semiweekly, or weekly newspaper, published and circulated in such city, county or district, and designated by the governing body for that purpose. In case there is no newspaper published in such city or district, then such notice shall be published in a newspaper in the county within which such city or district is located. The time fixed for receiving bids shall be not less than ten days from the first publication of said notice.

Bids to be accompanied by a deposit.

All proposals or bids offered shall be accompanied by a check payable to the city, county or district, as the case may be, certified by a responsible bank, for an amount which shall be not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said proposals or bids shall be delivered to the clerk or secretary of said governing body, as the case may be, and said governing body shall, in open session, publicly open, examine and declare the same; provided, however, that no proposal or bid shall be considered unless accompanied by said check. The governing body may reject any and all proposals or bids should it deem this for the public good, and shall reject all proposals other than the lowest regular responsible bidder, and may award the contract for said works to the lowest regular responsible bidder at the prices named in his bid. If the bids are rejected or no bids are received, the governing body may thereafter readvertise for proposals or bids as in the first instance without further proceedings.

If the successful bidder fails, neglects or refuses to enter into the contract to perform said work within twenty days after written notice of such award has been mailed him, then the certified check accompanying his bid and the amount therein mentioned, shall be declared forfeited to said city, county or district, as the case may be, and shall be collected by it and paid into the general fund thereof. Forfeit of deposit

All contractors shall, at the time of entering into the contract, execute a surety bond to the satisfaction and approval of the governing body of such city, county or district, in a sum not less than twenty-five per cent of the amount of the contract, conditioned for the faithful performance thereof. Surety bond Faithful performance

The contract shall provide that the work must be commenced within twenty days after the contractor has received written notice from the clerk or secretary of the governing body that there is sufficient money or revenue bonds in the special fund provided to pay the contract price.

At the time of entering into the contract the contractor shall execute and deliver and file with the governing body a good and sufficient surety bond, in a sum not less than one-half the total amount payable by the terms of said contract, conditional upon the payment by the contractor or his or its subcontractors, for any and all materials, provisions, provender or other supplies or teams, or the use of implements or machinery used in, upon or about the performance of the work. Surety bond Labor claims, etc

In all respects not otherwise provided for herein, said bond shall be in conformity with the requirements of the general law of the State regarding contractor's bonds for the benefit of laborers and materialmen, who shall have a first lien against any moneys or bonds due or about to become due the contractor

All provisions of the codes and general laws relating to notice and the foreclosure of such liens shall be applicable hereto, provided that suit may be brought on such bond at any time within six months after the expiration of the period for the filing of verified claims.

Should the proceeds of the bonds for any reason be less than the cost of the works, additional bonds may in like manner be issued and sold to provide for the amount of the deficit, but not to exceed the amount necessary for completing the works according to the original plans and specifications. In such case said deficiency bonds shall be deemed to be the same in all respects as the original issue, and shall be entitled to payment, without preference of priority of the bonds first issued, and shall be disposed of in like manner. Issue of additional bonds for construction.

SEC. 18. This act shall be known as the Sewer Revenue Bond Act, and may be referred to by such short title in all proceedings relating thereto. It shall be deemed an additional and alternative method to those already provided for the acquisition, construction, extension and operation of the works Short title.

referred to herein. It shall be liberally construed to promote the objects thereof.

Defects in proceedings

No error, defect, irregularity, informality and no neglect or omission of any officer of any city, county or district in any proceedings taken hereunder, which does not affect the jurisdiction of the governing body to order the doing of the things proposed to be done, shall avoid or invalidate such proceedings or any bond issued hereunder. The exclusive remedy of any person affected or aggrieved thereby shall be to the governing body as hereinbefore provided.

Construction.

Nothing herein contained shall be deemed to prohibit the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other fiscal agency of the United States from reselling or otherwise disposing of any of the bonds it may purchase under this act.

Constitutionality.

If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Urgency

SEC. 19. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall go into effect immediately.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity. Unemployment has produced an alarming economic condition in the State of California. The adoption of this act will enable many cities, counties and districts of the State to finance the construction of sewer systems and works which otherwise can not be financed at this time. This development and construction will furnish employment to many persons now idle, and make them self-supporting, while at the same time nothing will be added to the tax burdens of the people. The furnishing of immediate employment is the most urgent question now before the Legislature.

CHAPTER 332.

An act to amend sections 790, 828 and 829 and to add a new section to the Agricultural Code, to be numbered 810.5, relating to the standardization of lettuce and asparagus.

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 333.

An act authorizing a suit against the State of California to quiet title against it to certain real property in the city of Newport Beach.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Suit vs State to quiet title authorized

SECTION 1. Any person or persons owning or claiming any interest in or to all that certain real property situated in the city of Newport Beach, county of Orange, State of California, described as follows: Lot twenty (20) in block one hundred twenty-seven (127) of "Lake Tract, Newport Beach," as shown on a map recorded in book 4, page 13 of miscellaneous maps, records of Orange County, California, are hereby authorized to bring suit against the State of California in any court of competent jurisdiction of the State of California to quiet title to the said property and to prosecute said action to final judgment. All rules of practice in civil cases relative to suits to quiet title shall apply to any suit brought under this authorization. If the judgment be given against the State in any such suit, no cost shall be recovered from the State.

SEC. 2. Any suit brought under this authorization shall be commenced one year after this act takes effect. Service of summons in any such suit shall be upon the Governor and Attorney General and it shall be the duty of the Attorney General to represent the State in any such suit.

CHAPTER 334.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 1191b, relating to subrogation of liens arising under section 1191a of said code.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure to be numbered 1191b and to read as follows:

Subrogation of liens

1191b. Any county, sanitary district, or municipal corporation now, or hereafter to be, organized under the laws of the State of California may, acting through the governing board of such county, sanitary district, or municipal corporation, order any work mentioned, and/or specified in section 1191a of the Code of Civil Procedure of the State of California, and upon the performance of said work, may pay all sums which may be due on account of the said work, and/or materials furnished In case payment shall be made to any contractor, or to any person doing such work, and/or furnishing any materials used thereon, on the order of the governing board of any body mentioned in this act by, and/or such governing body, then such county, district or municipal corporation shall succeed to and have each, every and all right which may, or might, accrue against the owner, or reputed owner of any such property, and on such payment such county, district or municipal corporation shall succeed to, have and possess the lien provided for in said section 1191a of the Code of Civil Procedure on such real estate, and shall have each, any and all right which may, or might, accrue in favor of the person doing such work, and/or furnishing such materials, against the owner, owners, reputed owner and reputed owners of the property on which such work was done, and/or for which such materials were furnished.

CHAPTER 335.

An act to amend section 602b of the Political Code, relating to workmen's compensation insurance.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915, p 1269.

SECTION 1. Section 602b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Classification of risks and premium rates to be filed 602b. On or before September 1, 1915, the State Compensation Insurance Fund and every corporation, mutual company, association, interinsurance exchange or other insurance carrier licensed to transact business in this State, which insures employers or employees under the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act, Chapter 176, Laws of 1913, shall file with the State Insurance Commissioner its classification of risks and premium rates relating thereto with its system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called) if any. The State Insurance Commissioner shall then hold a hearing to determine upon a uniform classification of risks, and premium rates relating thereto and, in his discretion, a uniform system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called).

Stats 1913, p 279

Insurance Commissioner to issue uniform classification

On or before October 1, 1915, the State Insurance Commissioner shall approve or issue, as adequate for all insurance carriers authorized by law or licensed to transact compensation insurance business in this State, a uniform classification of risks and premium rates relating thereto, and may, in his discretion, approve or issue a system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called), which shall be a uniform system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called) for all insurance carriers. Such premium rates or system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called) shall take no account of any physical impairment of employees or the extent to which employees may have persons dependent upon them for support.

Uniform system of schedule rating

The State Insurance Commissioner may subsequently approve or issue a uniform system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called) for all insurance carriers, or may modify or change any such system previously approved or issued after holding a hearing to determine its effect upon the adequacy or inadequacy of rates, and may approve or issue additional uniform rates and classifications or uniform changes in rates and classifications after holding hearings to determine upon the adequacy or inadequacy of such additions or changes.

Insurance not to be carried at less than State rate

On or after October 1, 1915, no insurance carrier may issue, renew or carry beyond anniversary date insurance for employers or employees under the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act at premium rates which are less than the rates previously approved or issued by the State Insurance Commissioner for all insurance carriers as adequate for the risks to which they respectively apply; provided, however, if the State Insurance Commisioner shall have previously approved or issued a uniform system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called), insurance carriers may apply the same to any risks subject thereto, but basis rates no less than the rates previously approved or issued by the State Insurance Commissioner and any reduction therefrom on account of the application of such system of schedule rating (or merit rating, so called) shall be clearly set forth in the insurance contracts or indorsements attached thereto.

Compensation participating policies.

Nothing in this section shall affect the right of any insurance carrier to issue compensation participating policies; provided, however, that no refund by reason of such participating provision may be made to policyholders by any insurance carrier except from surplus accumulated from premiums on compensation insurance policies insuring employers or employees under the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of this State.

Insurance in mining industries.

On or after January 1, 1934, the Insurance Commissioner shall not issue or approve any rating system or classification of risks and premium rates relating to workmen's compensation insurance and dealing with such insurance covering mining property or mines, unless such system provides for classification of types of mining employments having different hazards or loss experience in accordance with such relative hazard or loss experience involved and shall at least provide for separation of rates for office, surface and subsurface employment.

Actuarial data.

The statistical and actuarial data compiled by the Industrial Accident Commission and the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall at all times be available to the State Insurance Commissioner for his use in judging the adequacy or inadequacy of rates and schedules filed, and it shall be the duty of the manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, or other officer of the State Compensation Insurance Fund who may be designated for such duty by the Industrial Accident Commission, to render all possible assistance to the State Insurance Commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this section.

Report of losses.

The State Insurance Commissioner may require every insurance carrier, which insures employers or employees under the Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act, to file with its annual statement a sworn report of its loss experience in such detail and form as may be prescribed by the State Insurance Commissioner.

Power to revoke certificate

The State Insurance Commissioner shall have power, after hearing, to suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any insurance carrier to write liability insurance for violating any of the provisions hereof, and any insurance broker, or agent, or employee of any insurance carrier, who violates any provision of this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 336.

An act to amend section 102 of the Agricultural Code, relating to charges of fees for certificates or inspections.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 337.

Stats 1931, p. 1031, amended

An act to amend the title and sections 1, 2, 3, 4, 6 and 7 of "An act to regulate the possession or transportation of any form of shell, cartridge or bomb containing or capable of emitting tear gas and providing penalties for violation thereof," approved May 28, 1931, and to add sections 2a and 2b of said act, relating to the possession, transportation and sale of tear gas shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1031

SECTION 1. The title of an act entitled "An act to regulate the possession or transportation of any form of shell, cartridge or bomb containing or capable of emitting tear gas and providing penalties for violation thereof," approved May 28, 1931, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Title amended

An act to regulate the possession, transportation, sale or offering for sale of any form of shell, cartridge, or bomb containing or capable of emitting tear gas, or any weapon designed for the use of such shell, cartridge or bomb, and providing penalties for violation thereof.

SEC. 2. Section 1 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1031

Section 1. On and after the date upon which this act takes effect every person, firm or corporation who within the State of California knowingly possesses or transports any form of shell, cartridge, or bomb containing or capable of emitting tear gas, or any weapon designed for the use of such shell, cartridge or bomb, except as permitted under the provisions of this act, shall be guilty of a public offense and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison not to exceed two years or by a fine not to exceed $2,000 or by both such fine and imprisonment. Tear bombs. Penalty.

Provided, however, that nothing in this act shall prohibit police departments and members thereof, sheriffs, and city marshals or the military or naval forces of this State or of the United States from possessing or transporting such shells, cartridges or bombs for official use in the discharge of their duties. Exceptions.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1031.

Sec. 2. The term shell, cartridge or bomb as used in this act shall be construed to apply to and include all shells, cartridges or bombs capable of being discharged or exploded, when such discharge or explosion will cause or permit the release or emission of tear gases. Definitions.

The term tear gas as used in this act shall be construed to apply to and include all liquid, gaseous or solid substances intended to produce temporary physical discomfort or permanent injury through being vaporized or otherwise dispersed in the air.

The term weapon designed for the use of such shell, cartridge or bomb as used in this act shall be construed to apply to and include all revolvers, pistols, fountain pen guns, billies, riot guns or other form of device, portable or fixed, intended for the projection or release of tear gas except those regularly manufactured and sold for use with firearm ammunition.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section 2a, and to read as follows: New section

Each tear gas weapon sold, transported or possessed under the authority of this act shall bear the name of the manufacturer and a serial number applied by him. Each weapon to bear name of manufacturer

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section 2b, and to read as follows: New section

No person shall change, alter, remove or obliterate the name of the manufacturer, the serial number or any other mark of identification on any tear gas weapon. Possession of any such weapon upon which the same shall have been changed, altered, removed, or obliterated, shall be presumptive evidence that such possessor has changed, altered, removed or obliterated the Unlawful to alter or destroy name same. Violations of this section shall be punished by imprisonment in the State Prison for not more than two years or by a fine of not more than two thousand dollars or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Stats. 1931, p. 1031

SEC. 6. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Permit.

Sec. 3. It shall be lawful for the Superintendent of the Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation of the Department of Penology to issue a permit for the possession and transportation of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons upon proof to said superintendent that good cause exists for the issuance thereof to the applicant for such permit. The permit may also allow the applicant to install, maintain and operate a protective system involving the use of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons in any place which is accurately and completely described in the application for the permit.

Stats 1931, p. 1031.

SEC. 7. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Application for permit.

Sec. 4. All applications for such permits shall be filed in writing, signed by the applicant if an individual, or by a member or officer qualified to sign if the applicant is a firm or corporation, and shall state the name, business in which engaged, business address, a full description of the place or vehicle in which such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons are to be transported, kept, installed or maintained.

If such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons are to be used in connection with or to constitute a protective system, the application shall also contain the name of the person who is to install such protective system.

Stats 1931, p. 1031.

SEC. 8. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Revocation of permit

Sec. 6. Permits issued in accordance with this act may be revoked by the issuing authority at any time when it shall appear that the need for the possession or transportation of such shells, cartridges, bombs, weapons or protective system involving the use of the same, has ceased, or that the holder of the permit has engaged in an unlawful business or occupation or has wrongfully made use of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons or the permit issued.

Stats 1931, p 1031.

SEC. 9. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Issuance of license

Sec. 7. The Superintendent of the Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation of the Department of Penology may also grant licenses in a form to be prescribed by him effective for not more than one year from the date of issuance, to permit the sale at retail at the place specified in the license of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons, and to permit the installation and maintenance of protective systems involving the use of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons subject to the following conditions upon breach of any of which the license shall be subject to forfeiture:

1. Such business shall be carried on only in the building designated in the license. Conditions.

2. Such license or certified copy thereof must be displayed on the premises in a place where it may easily be read.

3. No such shell, cartridge, bomb or weapon shall be delivered to any person not authorized to possess or transport the same under the provisions of this act. No protective system involving the use of such shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons shall be installed, nor shall supplies be sold for the maintenance of such system unless the licensee has personal knowledge of the existence of a valid permit for the operation and maintenance of such system.

4. A complete record must be kept of sales made under the authority of the license, showing the name and address of the purchaser, the quantity and description of the articles purchased, together with the serial number, if any, the number and date of issue of the purchaser's permit, and the signature of the purchaser or purchasing agent. No sale must be made unless the permit authorizing possession and transportation of shells, cartridges, bombs or weapons, is displayed to the seller and the information herein required is copied therefrom. This record shall be open to the inspection of any peace officer or other person designated by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

An act relating to and providing for a moratorium with respect to forfeitures of State school lands as provided for in section 3513 of the Political Code, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A moratorium is hereby declared with respect to the forfeiture of State school lands effective on the date of the approval of this act and terminating upon the thirty-first day of December, 1934; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed as otherwise modifying the provisions of section 3513 of the Political Code, and during the period of the moratorium herein declared, the obligations contained in outstanding certificates of purchase to pay interest shall not be affected by this act, and any and all penalties which have accrued, or which may accrue during the period of this moratorium herein declared, on account of failure to pay interest as provided for in section 3513 of the Political Code, shall not be affected by this act. lic peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such it shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

Due to the existing economic crises and the proclamation of the President of the United States restricting the withdrawal of funds from the banks of the Nation, it is, at the present, impossible for purchasers of State school lands to obtain money with which to pay the obligations mentioned in this act. As a result, unless this act takes effect before June 30, 1933, purchasers will lose title to such State school lands and many people will be homeless.

It is, therefore, necessary that this act go into effect immediately to curb the effects of the existing national crises.

CHAPTER 339.

An act imposing a license fee or tax for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation upon the public streets, roads and highways in the State of California by motor vehicle and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Definitions

SECTION 1. The words and phrases used in this act shall be construed for the purposes of said act, unless such construction be contrary to or inconsistent with the context thereof, as follows:

(a) The word "operator" shall include all persons, firms, associations and corporations who operate motor vehicles upon any public highway in this State and thereby engage in the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation, either directly or indirectly.

(b) The term "registration certificate" shall include any and all certificates of registration of a motor vehicle issued by the Department of Motor Vehicles of the State of California.

(c) The term "motor vehicle" shall include all vehicles, automobiles, trucks, or trailers, not exempt from registration fees under the laws of this State, operated upon or over public highways of this State, whether the same be propelled or operated by steam or electricity, or propelled or operated by combustion of gasoline, distillate or other volatile and inflammable liquid fuels.

(d) The term "gross receipts from operation" shall include all receipts from the operation of such motor vehicle or motor vehicles beginning and ending entirely within this State and a proportion based upon the proportion of the mileage within this State to the entire mileage over which such business is done of gross receipts of such operator on all business passing through, into or out of this State, or partly within and partly without this State.

Carriers must secure license.

SEC. 2. Each operator of a motor vehicle within this State who transports or desires to transport for compensation or hire persons or property upon or over any public highway within this State shall make application to the State Board of Equalization, on such forms as said board may prescribe, for a license to operate motor vehicles for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation over public highways in this State.

Application.

All applications for licenses must be accompanied by a fee of twenty-five dollars. Upon the receipt of the application of any such operator, accompanied by such fee, the State Board of Equalization shall issue to such applicant a license to transport for compensation or hire persons or property upon or over any public highway within this State; provided that no license issued in pursuance of this act shall be construed to authorize the operation of any vehicle over or upon the public highways of this State contrary to the laws now or hereafter in effect regulating the operation of motor vehicles. No license issued hereunder shall be assignable by operation of law or otherwise.

Renewal.

All licenses issued under the provisions of this act shall expire on the thirty-first day of December next succeeding the date upon which they are issued. Licenses issued hereunder must be renewed annually upon application made to the State Board of Equalization on such forms as it may prescribe. All applications for renewal of licenses must be accompanied by a fee of fifteen dollars, and must be filed not later than the fifteenth day of December next preceding the year for which the renewal is sought; otherwise, any application must be considered as an application for a new license and the twenty-five dollar fee paid accordingly.

Emblem to indicate payment.

SEC. 3. After obtaining the license provided for in the preceding section, the operator of any motor vehicle or motor vehicles shall obtain from the Department of Motor Vehicles number plates or emblems for each motor vehicle operated by said operator indicating, in such manner as said department may determine that the license herein provided for has been obtained. Such number plates or emblems shall be attached to and conspicuously displayed upon each of the motor vehicles authorized to be operated by said license in such manner as may be required and prescribed by the Department of Motor Vehicles.

Said department may charge and collect from operators required to display number plates or emblems under the provisions of this act, the pro rata cost to the State of the designing, manufacturing and distribution of said number plates or emblems.

It shall be unlawful from and after the effective date of this act for any person, firm, association or corporation to operate any motor vehicle for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation upon the public highways of this State without obtaining the license for which provision is made in the preceding section or without having displayed upon such motor vehicle the number plates or emblems required to be displayed thereon by this section.

Monthly report.

SEC. 4. On or before the tenth day of the second month after the effective date of this act, and on or before the tenth day of each calendar month thereafter each operator shall file with the State Board of Equalization a verified report upon a form to be prescribed by said board, showing the gross receipts from operation of said operator for the preceding calendar month, and such other information relating to his or its operations as said board may require to enable the board to make the assessment for which provision is herein made. A license tax equal to three per cent of gross receipts from operation derived on and after the first day of the month after the effective date of this act, shall be levied and assessed by said board.

Tax on gross receipts.

If any operator shall fail, neglect or refuse to file said report within the time prescribed herein, the State Board of Equalization must note such failure, neglect or refusal upon the tax roll hereinafter described, and must estimate the gross receipts from operation of said operator, assessing the license tax thereon, adding to said license tax a penalty of twenty-five per cent thereof for failure, neglect or refusal to report, and said operator shall be estopped from complaining of the amount of said estimate. Said penalty for failure to report shall not be in lieu of the penalty for delinquency prescribed by section 5 of this act.

Board of Equalization to assess tax.

The State Board of Equalization shall, on or before the first day of the third month after the effective date of this act, and on or before the first day of each calendar month thereafter, assess the license tax due hereunder, and prepare and complete an assessment roll showing the amount of the license tax assessed against each operator and immediately deliver said assessment roll to the State Controller.

License taxes payable monthly.

SEC. 5. License taxes herein required to be paid shall be payable in monthly installments to the State Controller for the first month after the effective date of this act, and for each and every calendar month thereafter. The amount of such license tax for each month shall be paid on or before the tenth day of the second calendar month thereafter, and if not paid prior thereto, shall become delinquent at five o'clock in the afternoon of said day, and ten per cent penalty shall be added thereto for delinquency. Said penalty for delinquency shall apply only to the principal amount of such license tax and shall not be computed upon any penalty for failure to report prescribed by section 4 of this act.

Taxes a lien.

All license taxes accruing hereunder shall be a lien upon all property of the operator used in producing gross receipts from operations as herein defined; said lien shall attach at the time of the earning of said gross receipts and shall have the effect of an execution duly levied against all such property of the operator and shall so remain until said taxes and all penalties accruing thereon are paid, or the property sold for the payment thereof.

The lien created by the provisions of this act shall be paramount to all private liens or encumbrances of whatever character, and to the rights of any holder of the legal title, in or to any vehicle the privilege of operating which is subject to the license tax imposed hereunder.

Delinquency

In the event that any operator is delinquent in the payment of the license tax herein provided for, the Controller shall notify the State Board of Equalization forthwith and may give notice of the amount of such delinquency by registered mail to all persons having in their possession, or under their control, any credits or other personal property belonging to such operator, or owing any debts to such operator, at the time of receipt by them of such notice, and thereafter any person so notified shall neither transfer nor make other disposition of such credits, other personal property or debts until the Controller shall have consented to a transfer or disposition, or until twenty days shall have elapsed from and after the receipt of such notice. All persons so notified must, within five days after receipt of such notice, advise the Controller of any and all such credits, other personal property or debts, in their possession, under their control or owing by them, as the case may be.

Notice

Collection

Whenever any operator shall be delinquent in the payment of the license tax herein provided for, the Controller or his duly authorized representative shall proceed forthwith to collect the license tax due from such operator in the following manner: The Controller shall seize any property, real or personal, subject to the lien of said license tax, and thereafter sell at public auction such property so seized, or a sufficient portion thereof, to pay the license tax due hereunder, together with any penalty or penalties imposed hereby for such delinquency, and any and all costs that may have been incurred on account of such seizure and sale. Notice of such intended sale and the time and place thereof, shall be given to such delinquent operator and to all persons appearing of record to have an interest in such property in writing at least ten days before the date set for such sale by enclosing such notice in an envelope addressed to said operator at his last known residence or place of business in this State if any, and, in the case of any person appearing of record to have an interest in such property, addressed to such person at the last known place of residence, if any, and depositing the same in the United States mail, postage prepaid, and by publication for at least ten days before the date set for such sale in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or city and county in which the property seized is to be sold; provided, however, that if there be no newspaper of general circulation in such county or city and county, then by the posting of such notice in three public places in such county or city and county for said ten-day period. The said notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, together with a statement of the amount of the license taxes, penalties and costs, the name of the operator, and the further statement that, unless such license taxes, penalties and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in said notice for such sale, said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with law and said notice.

Seizure and sale of property

At any such sale, the property shall be sold by the Controller or by the duly authorized agent thereof in accordance with law and said notice, and the Controller shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale for the personal property, and a deed for any real property so sold, and such bill of sale or deed shall vest title in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property so seized may be left at the place of sale at the risk of the operator. If, upon any such sale, the moneys so received shall exceed the amount of all license taxes, penalties and costs due the State from such operator, any such excess shall be returned to the operator, and his receipt therefor obtained. If, for any reason, the receipt of such operator shall not be available, the Controller shall deposit such excess moneys with the State Treasurer, as trustee for such owner, subject to the order of such operator, his heirs, successors, or assigns.

Remedies cumulative.

It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the State shall be cumulative and that no action taken by the Controller shall be construed to be an election on the part of the State or any of its officers to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this act.

Records to be kept by operator

SEC. 6. Every operator must keep a true and accurate record in such form as the State Board of Equalization may prescribe, of all gross receipts from operation of said operator. All such records required by this section must be available at all times for the inspection of said board or its representatives, who may require a statement under oath reflecting the contents thereof.

Forms for report.

SEC. 7. The State Board of Equalization shall have the power, and it is hereby authorized, to prescribe the forms of all reports of gross receipts from operation, to prescribe the forms for keeping records of gross receipts from operation, and to make any and all such examinations of the records of operators and such other investigations as it may deem necessary in carrying out the provisions of this act. If such examinations or investigations made by said board shall disclose that any reports of operators theretofore filed with said board by said operators pursuant to the requirements of this act, have shown incorrectly the gross receipts from operation of such operators, said board shall have the power, and is hereby authorized, to make such changes in subsequent assessments of said operators under this act as it may deem necessary to correct the errors disclosed by its examination of the records of said operators or its investigations as hereinbefore authorized.

The State Board of Equalization may appoint accountants, auditors, investigators and such other expert and clerical assistants as it may from time to time deem necessary to enforce its powers and perform its duties under this act. All investigators so appointed shall be exempt from the provisions of the Civil Service Act. Employees.

SEC. 8. The State Controller shall have the power to request the Attorney General to bring suit for the recovery of any unpaid license tax and costs. It shall be the duty of the Attorney General to bring such suit on the written request of said State Controller and in the name of said people of the State of California in a court of competent jurisdiction in the county of Sacramento; payment of an amount to said State Controller for and on account of such license tax and the acceptance thereof shall not bar an action by the State to recover an additional amount for the same month which may actually be due. Suit by Attorney General to collect tax

In any suit brought to enforce the rights of the State hereunder the assessment roll prepared by the State Board of Equalization pursuant to section 4 of this act, or a copy of so much thereof as is applicable in such suit, duly certified by the Controller showing unpaid license taxes assessed against any operator, shall be prima facie evidence of the assessment of the license tax, the delinquency thereof, the amount of the license tax, penalties and costs due and unpaid to the State, that the operator is indebted to the people of the State of California in the amount of such license tax and penalties therein appearing unpaid and that all the forms of law in relation to the assessment and levy of such license tax have been fully complied with by all persons required to perform administrative duties under this act.

SEC. 9 No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall ever issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against this State or against any officer thereof to prevent or enjoin the collection under this act of any license tax sought to be collected by the Controller; but after payment of any such license tax under protest duly verified and setting forth the grounds of objection to the legality of such license tax, the operator paying such license tax may bring an action against the State Treasurer in the superior court of the county of Sacramento for the recovery of license tax so paid under protest. No such action may be instituted more than sixty days after the last day prescribed for the payment of such license tax without penalty, and failure to bring suit within said sixty days shall constitute waiver of any and all demands against this State on account of alleged overpayment of license taxes hereunder. No grounds of illegality of the license tax shall be considered by the court Taxes paid under protest.

other than those set forth in the protest filed at the time of the payment of the license tax.

Refund of taxes

If in any such action judgment is rendered for the plaintiff, the amount of the judgment shall first be credited on any license taxes due from the plaintiff under this act, and the balance of the judgment shall be refunded to the plaintiff. In any such judgment, interest shall be allowed at the rate of six per cent per annum upon the amount of license tax found to have been illegally collected from the date of payment of such license tax to the date of allowance of credit on account of such judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than thirty days, such date to be determined by the Controller.

In no case shall any judgment be rendered in favor of the plaintiff in any action brought against the State Treasurer to recover any license tax paid hereunder, when such action is brought by or in the name of an assignee of the operator paying said license tax, or by any person, company or corporation other than the person, company or corporation that has paid such license tax.

Total tax not to be more than 5 per cent of gross receipts.

If during any calendar year, any operator pays hereunder license taxes which together with all other taxes and licenses, State, county and municipal, upon the property of such operator used exclusively by him in his business of transporting persons or property for hire or compensation over the public highways of this State, exceed five per cent of the gross receipts from operations of such operator in this State for such calendar year, the difference between five per cent of such gross receipts and the total amount of such taxes and licenses paid during the calendar year shall be credited on any license taxes thereafter due from such operator under this act, and the balance shall be refunded to such operator; but no credit or refund shall be allowed unless a refund claim is filed in duplicate within six months after the close of such calendar year with the State Board of Equalization on such form as may be prescribed by said board; provided that no credit or refund shall be allowed on account of the payment by any operator of taxes which became a lien on the first Monday in March of 1932 or prior thereto; and further provided that no such credit or refund shall be allowed to any operator unless he shall have first complied with all of the provisions of this act during such calendar year.

In the event that any operator is subject to the provisions of this act during only a portion of any calendar year, the credit or refund for which provision is herein made shall be allowed only in the proportion that the time within which such operator was subject to the provisions of this act bears to the entire calendar year.

Penalty: Failure to obtain license.

SEC. 10. If any operator shall fail, neglect or refuse to obtain the license for which provision is made in section 2 of this act or to display emblems on his motor vehicles pursuant to the requirements of section 3 of this act, the Department of Motor Vehicles of the State of California, upon written complaint of the State Board of Equalization and upon ten days notice of such operator, shall suspend any and all registration certificates held by such operator for any motor vehicles operated by him or it which are named in said complaint as being operated contrary to the provisions of this act, until such time as the provisions of this act relating to such operation have been fully complied with by said operator.

Same—Failure to file report.

SEC. 11. If any operator of any motor vehicle shall fail, neglect or refuse to file any report required to be filed by this act within ten days after the report is required to be filed, or if any operator shall fail, neglect or refuse to pay any license tax imposed hereunder within ten days after the license tax is delinquent, the State Board of Equalization shall immediately suspend the license issued to such operator and notify the Department of Motor Vehicles of such suspension. It shall thereupon be the duty of said department to forthwith suspend the registration of the motor vehicles of any such operator and to cause to be removed therefrom any or all number plates or emblems issued by said department for display upon such vehicles. Thereafter it shall be unlawful to operate such vehicles upon the public highways of this State until the license of the operator has been reinstated by said board and the registration thereof restored by said department.

Such reinstatement shall not be made until such board is satisfied that the amount of license tax actually due from the operator has been paid and has collected a fee of five dollars for reinstatement. Restoration of registration of such vehicles shall be conditional upon such reinstatement of the license hereunder and the payment to said department of a fee of five dollars for such restoration.

If the registration of any vehicle has been suspended as provided in this section, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall not thereafter reregister such vehicle or transfer the registration or ownership thereof upon the records of the department until such time as the license for the operation thereof required under this act has been reinstated.

Transfer of vehicle.

Transfer by the Department of Motor Vehicles of the registered ownership of any vehicle licensed hereunder may be effected only after a certificate of license tax clearance has been issued therefor by the State Board of Equalization and a new license is issued in the name of the proposed transferee.

Upon the issuance of any number plates for display on any vehicle licensed hereunder, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall immediately notify the State Board of Equalization thereof.

Penalty Failure to display emblem

SEC. 12. Any person, firm, association or corporation who shall use any public highway in this State for the transportation of persons or property for hire or compensation without first obtaining the license for which provision is herein made, or without carrying upon each motor vehicle so used the number plates or emblems for which provision is herein made, or who fails, neglects or refuses to make any return required hereunder or any report required by the State Board of Equalization, or who makes any false return, or who refuses to permit said board or any of its representatives to make the examination which said board is authorized to make, or who fails to keep records of gross receipts from operation as may be prescribed by said board, or who violates any other provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, unless such act is by any other law of this State declared to be a felony, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

The State Board of Equalization shall have the power to revoke the license of any operator refusing or neglecting to comply with the provisions of this act.

Disposition of moneys

SEC. 13. All sums paid to the State Controller or to the State Board of Equalization under and by virtue of this act shall be deposited in the State treasury to the credit of the motor transportation license fund, which fund is hereby created. All sums so paid to said board and so deposited, and ten per cent or so much thereof as may be necessary of all sums paid to the State Controller and so deposited, are hereby appropriated to be used by said board to pay expenses incurred by said board in carrying out the provisions of this act and there is hereby further appropriated five per cent or so much thereof as may be necessary of the amounts so deposited by said Controller to be used by him to pay expenses incurred by him in carrying out the provisions of this act. After allowing refunds for which provision is made in section 9 hereof, the balance of the amounts so deposited shall be transferred by the State Controller to the general fund of this State and is hereby appropriated to pay interest and redemption charges on bonds heretofore issued by the State of California for State highway construction.

Exceptions.

SEC. 14. This act shall not apply to motor vehicles operated exclusively within incorporated cities or towns, nor shall it apply to such vehicles operating between incorporated cities or towns where no portion of public highway outside of the corporate limits of said cities or towns is traversed in said operation.

Refunds

SEC. 15. All matters of procedure relating to refunds of taxes or the cancellation of any assessment levied under the provisions of this act shall be governed by the provisions of section 3669 of the Political Code.

Stats 1917, p 336.

Constitutionality

SEC. 16. If any section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act which is reasonably separable from the remaining portions of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed the remaining portions of this act irrespective of the fact that any such section, subsection, clause, sentence or phrase of this act be declared unconstitutional.

SEC. 17. This act, inasmuch as it provides for tax levies for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately. Tax levy

CHAPTER 340.

An act to require tax clearance by assessors and the State Controller as a prerequisite for the registration of vehicles by the Motor Vehicle Department.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect March 5, 1934.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. No vehicle required to be registered by the Department of Motor Vehicles of this State shall be registered in accordance with the laws in such cases made and provided, nor shall any certificate of registration be issued therefor by said department unless the application for registration, reregistration or transfer of registration for such vehicle shows, by appropriate notation of said department or by endorsement of a certificate or certificates on the reverse side of the registration card theretofore issued for such vehicle by said department, that all taxes for the current fiscal year, authorized by law to be levied against such vehicle in the county, city and county, or municipality in which such vehicle was subject to assessment for said fiscal year have been paid in full, or that the amount thereof has been duly entered on the appropriate assessment roll or rolls as a lien against real estate. Tax on vehicle to be paid prior to registration

SEC. 2. It is hereby declared to be the duty of county, city and county and city assessors, upon proper showing, to execute any and all such tax clearance certificates required by this act; provided however, that in case any such vehicle is subject to taxation exclusively for State purposes the application for registration, reregistration or transfer of registration must show by proper endorsement of the State Controller on the reverse side of the registration card that no State taxes levied and assessed on such vehicle are delinquent. Duty of assessor

SEC. 3. The State Board of Equalization is hereby authorized, and it shall be the duty of said board, to prescribe the form of the certificate or certificates required on the reverse side of the registration card in pursuance of the terms of section 1 of this act. Duty of Board of Equalization.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this act shall not apply to the registration of any vehicle for which there has been no prior registration by the Department of Motor Vehicles in this State Exceptions of such acquisition, is registered with said department for the current calendar year and on the certificate of registration for which there is no appropriate notation of tax clearance by said department nor endorsement of such clearance as provided by section 2 of this act, said dealer may file with the assessor of the county within which the transferor of such vehicle resides, a notice in duplicate in such form as the State Board of Equalization shall prescribe, advising of the date of such acquisition, the name and address of the registered owner on such date, the description of the vehicle and such other information as said board may require. It shall be the duty of the assessor immediately upon receipt of such notice to endorse his acknowledgment of such receipt on one copy thereof and return such copy to the dealer who may present the copy of the notice so endorsed to the Department of Motor Vehicles in place and instead of the tax clearance certificate or certificates required on the reverse side of the registration card under the terms of section 1 of this act, and the same shall be accepted by said department in lieu thereof.

SEC. 5. Whenever a dealer duly registered as such with said department shall acquire any vehicle which, at the time Dealers.

In the event that any such dealer shall fail to give such notice to the assessor within ten days from and after acquisition of any such vehicle, the said dealer must secure the certificate or certificates of tax clearance otherwise required under the terms of this act.

SEC. 6. This act shall take effect from and after noon of the first Monday in March of the year 1934.

CHAPTER 341.

An act to regulate and license persons engaged in the business of outdoor advertising and all persons erecting or maintaining or authorizing the erection or maintenance of outdoor advertising signs or structures outside of the limits of incorporated cities or towns; to provide for the securing and issuance of permits and fees therefor; to provide for the administration of this act by the Director of Public Works; to create a special fund to assist in the administration of this act; to provide for the disposition of fees and penalties collected hereunder; to provide for the enforcement of this act; to require the permission of the owner or lessee of property upon which such advertising structure or sign is located; to provide for penalties; and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Definitions

SECTION 1. Definitions.

For the purpose of this act certain terms used herein are defined as follows:

Advertising structure: The term "advertising structure" as used in this act is hereby defined to be a structure of any kind or character erected or maintained for outdoor advertising purposes, upon which any poster, bill, printing, painting, or other advertisement of any kind whatsoever may be placed, including statuary for advertising purposes.

Sign: The term "sign" is hereby defined to be any card, cloth, paper, metal, painted or wooden sign of any character placed for outdoor advertising purposes, on or to the ground or any tree, wall, bush, rock, fence, building, structure or thing, either privately or publicly owned, other than an advertising structure as hereinabove defined.

Outdoor advertising business: The term "outdoor advertising business" shall mean the business or occupation of placing, erecting, constructing or maintaining advertising structures or signs.

To place: The term "to place" and the various forms thereof as applied to advertising structures or signs shall include the erecting, constructing, posting, painting, printing, tacking, nailing, gluing, sticking, carving or otherwise fastening, affixing or making visible any advertising structure or sign on or to the ground or any tree, bush, rock, fence, post, wall, building, structure or thing.

Highway: The term "highway" shall mean and include roads, streets, boulevards, lanes, courts, places, commons, trails, ways or other rights of way or easements used for or laid out and intended for the public passage of vehicles, or of vehicles and persons.

Director: The term "Director" shall mean and refer to the Director of the Department of Public Works of the State of California.

Person: The term "person" shall mean every natural person, firm, copartnership, association or corporation.

Words in the plural number shall include the singular, and words in the singular number shall include the plural; words in the present tense shall include the future tense and words in the future tense shall include the present tense; unless in any such case the natural construction of the context indicates otherwise.

SEC. 2. Exemptions.

Exemptions.

The provisions of this act shall apply only to the placing or maintenance of advertising structures and/or signs located in any of the territory of the State of California, other than the territory within incorporated cities and towns and incorporated cities and counties.

With the exception of the provisions contained in sections 14 and 15 hereof, nothing contained in this act shall be deemed or construed as applying to any of the following advertising structures or signs:

(a) Official notices issued by any court or public body or officer.

(b) Notices posted by any public officer in performance of a public duty or by any person in giving any legal notice.

(c) Directional, warning or information signs required by or authorized by law or by Federal, State, or county authority.

(d) Any advertising structure or sign used exclusively:

(1) To advertise the sale or lease of the property upon which such advertising structure or sign is placed; or

(2) To designate the name of the owner or occupant of the premises or to identify such premises; or

(3) To advertise the goods produced and sold upon the property upon which such advertising structure or sign is placed; provided that nothing in this subdivision (d) contained shall be deemed to limit the size of signs of the character defined in subsections (1), (2) and (3) of this subdivision when such signs are painted on or affixed to a building or other permanent improvement; and provided further that nothing in this subdivision (d) contained shall be construed to permit the erection of any advertising structure or sign upon the right of way of any highway.

SEC. 3. License Fee.

License fee. No person shall engage in or carry on the business or occupation of outdoor advertising without first having paid a license fee of fifty dollars ($50.00) per year, payable annually in advance on the first day of July of each year to the director or his authorized agent as hereinafter provided. Each such license shall remain in force for the term of one year from and after said first day of July, and may be renewed annually. All licenses issued on or after said first day of July shall expire on the thirtieth day of June following the date of issue. Fees for licenses issued after the first day of July of each year shall be apportioned and collected on the basis of one-twelfth of the fee for each month or part thereof remaining in the fiscal year.

SEC. 4. Application for License.

Application for license. Every application for a license required by section 3 of this act shall be made on a form to be furnished by the director and shall state the full name of the applicant and the post-office address of the fixed place of business thereof. The issuance of such license shall entitle the holder thereof to engage in or carry on the business or occupation of outdoor advertising and to make application for permits as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 5. Permits Required.

Permits required No person shall place or maintain within the State of California, within the areas affected by the provisions of this act, any advertising structure or sign without first having secured a written permit so to do from the director or from his authorized agent in the county within which the advertising structure or sign is to be placed; provided, however, that no permit shall be required for any display or copy placed on any advertising structure for which a permit shall have already been secured and which is in force and effect.

SEC. 6. Application for Permit.

Application for permit

Every person desiring a permit to place and/or maintain any advertising structure or sign shall file with the director or with his authorized agent in the county within which the advertising structure or sign is to be placed an application therefor on a blank to be furnished by said director or by said agent. Such application shall set forth the name and address of the applicant and shall contain a general description of the property upon which it is proposed to erect and/or maintain the advertising structure or sign for which a permit is sought and a diagram indicating the location of such proposed advertising structure or sign on such property, in such a manner that said property and the location of said proposed advertising structure or sign may be readily ascertained and identified.

If the application is for a permit to place and/or maintain a sign such application shall contain a description of such sign including the material, the size and the subject thereof and the proposed manner of placing the same.

If the application is for a permit to place and/or maintain an advertising structure such application shall be accompanied by construction plans thereof; provided, however, that in case the applicant has theretofore filed with the director certified copies of standard specifications used by the applicant in the constructing and erecting of advertising structures then such application may refer to such standard specifications in lieu of being accompanied by such construction plans.

The applicant for any permit shall offer evidence that the owner or other person in control or possession of the property upon which such location is situated has consented to the placing and/or maintenance of such advertising structure or sign.

If the applicant for such permit is engaged in the business or occupation of outdoor advertising, the application for permit shall contain the number of the license issued by the director.

If such application is in full compliance with the provisions of this act and if such advertising structure or sign will not be in violation of any law or ordinance, the director or his authorized agent shall, within ten (10) days after the filing of such application and upon payment by applicant of the fee hereinafter specified, issue a permit to place and/or maintain such advertising structure or sign for the remainder of the calendar year in which such permit is issued. Issuance of a permit for the placing and/or maintenance of an advertising structure shall include the right to change the advertising display or copy thereon without obtaining any additional permit for the remainder of the calendar year in which such permit is issued and without the payment of any additional permit fee. Permits shall be renewed on the first day of January of each year upon application and the payment of fees as herein provided and shall expire on the thirty-first day of December of said year.

Fees

The annual permit fees provided herein shall be as follows:

(a) For each sign—twenty-five cents ($.25);

(b) For each advertising structure—one dollar ($1.00).

SEC. 7. Delegation of Authority by Director.

Delegation of authority by director.

The director shall furnish requisite forms for applications, licenses and permits provided for herein and shall appoint and designate a representative or agent in each of the counties throughout the State for the purpose of issuing the licenses and permits and collecting fees therefor as provided in this act. Such agent or representative, in the discretion of the director, may be the county clerk in each county. In the event of such appointment and designation of the county clerk in any county by the director, said county clerk shall so act. Upon the issuance of any such license or permit by said county clerk or other authorized agent of the director, said agent shall immediately forward a copy thereof to the director.

SEC. 8. Display of Permit Number Plates.

Display of permit number plates.

Each permit provided for in this act shall carry an identification number and shall entitle the holder to place and/or maintain the advertising structure or sign described in said permit.

No person shall place or maintain any advertising structure or sign unless there shall be securely fastened upon the front thereof a permit number plate of the character hereinafter specified. The erection or maintenance of any advertising structure or sign without having affixed thereto a permit number plate as hereinabove required shall be prima facie evidence that such advertising structure or sign has been placed and is being maintained in violation of the provisions of this act.

Permit number plates shall be furnished by the director. They shall be of metal construction, at least three (3) inches in length and two (2) inches in width and shall bear the permit number of the advertising structure or sign to which they are assigned and the year for which the permit is issued. The color of permit number plates shall be changed from year to year.

SEC. 9. Name of Owner.

Name of owner

No advertising structure shall be maintained unless the name of the person owning or maintaining the same shall be plainly displayed thereon.

SEC. 10. Disposition of Fees.

Disposition of fees.

All license and permit fees collected by the director and his authorized agents in accordance with the provisions of this act shall be forwarded to and deposited with the Treasurer of the State monthly, to the credit of the "Supervision of outdoor advertising fund" and shall be accounted for by the director in the manner provided by law; provided, however, that of all fees collected by county clerks appointed by the director, 20 per cent thereof shall be retained by the county in which said fees are collected. There is hereby created the "Supervision of outdoor advertising fund." The expense of administering this act is and shall be under the control of the director. Upon the order of the director the Controller must, without the approval of any board, draw his warrant upon the Treasurer for the amount specified and in favor of the person designated in such order. Payments for the expense of administering this act shall be made out of the fees of applicants as provided in this act. Unbudgeted balances, over ten thousand dollars, if any, in such fund shall be transferred to the general fund by the director on the thirtieth day of June of each odd-numbered year.

SEC. 11. Prohibited Signs and Locations.

Prohibited signs and locations.

No advertising structure or sign shall be placed or maintained in any of the following locations or positions or under any of the following conditions or if such advertising structure or sign is of the following nature:

(a) If within the right of way of any highway.

(b) If visible from any highway and simulating or imitating any directional, warning, danger or information sign permitted under the provisions of this act, or if likely to be mistaken for any such permitted sign, or if intended or likely to be construed as giving warning to traffic, such as by the use of the words "stop" or "slow down."

(c) If within any stream or drainage channel or below the flood water level of any stream or drainage channel where such sign might be deluged by flood waters and swept under any highway structure crossing said stream or drainage channel or against the supports of any such highway structure.

(d) If not maintained in safe condition.

(e) If visible from any highway and displaying any red light likely to be mistaken for a warning or danger signal.

SEC. 12. Prohibited Advertising Structures and Signs and Locations (outside certain areas).

Prohibited advertising structures and signs

No advertising structure or sign shall be placed or maintained outside of any business district as now defined under the California Vehicle Act, or outside of any unincorporated city, town or village, or outside of any area that is subdivided into blocks or lots in any of the following locations or positions, or under any of the following conditions, or if the advertising structure or sign is of the following nature:

(a) If within a distance of three hundred (300) feet from the point of intersection of intersecting or intercepting highways or of an interesecting highway and railroad right of way; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the erection and/or maintenance of advertising structures or signs on that side of an intercepted highway that is opposite the point of interception; provided further, however, that in case any permanent building, structure or other object prevents any traveler on any such highway from obtaining a clear view of approaching vehicles for a distance of three hundred (300) feet, then no advertising structure or sign shall be placed nearer to the intercepting right of way boundary line than is such permanent building, structure or other object, unless the same is placed on such building, structure or object and does not project more than one (1) foot therefrom.

(b) If placed in such a manner as to prevent any traveler on any highway from obtaining a clear view of approaching vehicles for a distance of five hundred (500) feet along said highway.

(c) If visible from any highway and with blinking or intermittent lights and likely to be mistaken for a warning or danger signal.

SEC. 13. Methods of Measurement.

Methods of measurement.

(a) The advertising surface of any advertising structure or sign as defined in this act, except advertising statuary and mechanical devices, shall be deemed to be the total area of a rectangle within which will lie all parts of such advertising structure or sign upon which advertising may be placed, exclusive of ornamental molding, cornices, framework and lattice.

(b) The advertising surface of any advertising statuary or mechanical device shall be deemed to be the total area of the vertical surfaces and the top of a rectangular prism which entirely encloses such advertising statuary or mechanical device, including any pedestal or base supporting the same.

(c) The distance between any advertising structure or sign and any other point of measurement shall be measured from the point of such advertising structure or sign which is nearest to such other point of measurement.

SEC. 14. Construction.

Construction.

No advertising structure shall be placed and/or maintained unless the same shall be built to withstand a wind pressure of twenty (20) pounds per square foot of exposed surface. Any advertising structure not conforming to the foregoing provision of this section shall be removed as provided for in section 17 of this act.

SEC. 15. Indecent, etc., Signs.

Indecent, etc., signs

No person shall display or cause or permit to be displayed upon any advertising structure or sign any statements or words of an obscene, indecent or immoral character, or any picture or illustration of any human figure in such detail as to offend public morals or decency, or any other matter or thing of an obscene, indecent, or immoral character.

SEC. 16. Nonconforming Signs.

Nonconforming signs

All advertising structures or signs which are placed and/or maintained or which exist in violation of the provisions of this act at a time more than six months from and after the date this act becomes effective, shall be deemed and considered to be public nuisances and may be removed by any public employee as further provided in this act without doing unnecessary injury and the same shall not constitute a breach of the peace.

SEC. 17. Enforcement. Enforcement

The director is hereby authorized, directed and empowered to make orders and regulations for the enforcement of this act; to designate and authorize the Department of Maintenance of the Division of Highways of the Department of Public Works to enforce the provisions hereof; to prescribe the form of all applications, licenses, permits and other written matter appurtenant thereto; to enforce penalties for failure to comply herewith; to revoke any license or permit for such failure and after ten days written notice, to the owner or agent of the premises upon which said advertising structure or sign is located, without further legal proceedings remove and destroy any advertising structure or sign placed or maintained contrary to any provisions of this act. For the purpose of removing or destroying any advertising structure or sign placed or maintained in violation of the provisions of this act, the director or his authorized agent may enter upon private property without incurring any liability therefor.

SEC. 18. The regulation of the placing and/or maintenance of advertising structures or signs as provided herein, in so far as such regulation may affect the placing and/or maintenance of such advertising structures or signs within view of the public highways of this State in areas outside of the limits of incorporated cities or towns thereof, shall be exclusive of all other regulations of such placing and/or maintenance of advertising structures or signs within view of the public highways of this State and outside of the limits of incorporated cities or towns, whether fixed by a law of this State or by a political subdivision thereof. It is the intention of the Legislature to occupy the whole field of such regulation by the provisions of this act; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be deemed to prohibit enforcement of any or all of the provisions hereof by persons designated so to act by appropriate ordinances duly adopted by any county of this State; provided further, that nothing herein shall be deemed to prohibit the passage by any county of reasonable land use or zoning regulations affecting the placing and/or maintenance of advertising structures or signs in accordance with the provisions of Statutes of 1929, page 1805, or any amendment thereto. Regulations exclusive.

SEC. 19. Fees in Lieu.

The fees for licenses and permits prescribed by this act shall be in lieu of all other license and permit fees required by the laws of the State or of any political subdivision thereof for the privilege of engaging in the occupation or business of out door advertising or placing and/or maintaining advertising structures or signs outside incorporated cities and towns. An act to amend sections 780 and 782 of the Probate Code, relating to sales of real property by executors and administrators.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 587.

SECTION 1. Section 780 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Publication of notice of sale.

780. Notice of the time and place of sale of real property must be published in a newspaper published in the county in which the land or some portion thereof lies, if there is one so published; if none, then in such paper as the court or judge may direct, for two weeks before the day of sale, or, in the case of a private sale, before the day on or after which the sale is to be made. When, however, it appears from the inventory and appraisement that the value of the property to be sold does not exceed five hundred dollars, the executor or administrator may in his discretion dispense with the publication, and in lieu thereof post a notice of the time and place of sale in three of the most public places in the county in which the land or some portion thereof lies for two weeks before the day of the sale, or, in the case of a private sale, before the day on or after which the sale is to be made. The property proposed to be sold must be described with common certainty in the notice.

Stats. 1931, p. 587

SEC. 2. Section 782 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Private sale.

782. In the case of a private sale, the notice must state a place where bids or offers will be received, and a day on or after which the sale will be made, which day must be at least fifteen days from the first publication or posting of the notice, and the sale must not be made before that day, but must be made within one year thereafter; but if it is shown that it will be for the best interests of the estate, the court or judge may, by an order, shorten the time of notice, which shall not, however, be less than one week, and may provide that the sale may be made on or after a day less than fifteen but not less than eight days from the first publication or posting of the notice, in which case the notice of sale and the sale may be made to correspond with such order. The bids or offers must be in writing, and may be left at the place designated in the notice or delivered to the executor or administrator personally, or may be filed in the office of the clerk of the court where the proceedings are pending, at any time after the first publication or posting of the notice and before the making of the sale.

An act to amend section 23 of an act entitled "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, as amended, relating to the filing of annual statements and prescribing the fee therefor, and to repeal section 30 of said act relating to taxation.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 911, p. 1320.

SECTION 1. Section 23 of "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies" is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annual reports.

Sec. 23. Every society transacting business in this State shall annually, on or before the first day of March, file with the Insurance Commissioner in such form as he may require, a statement under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers, of its condition and standing on the thirty-first day of December next preceding, and of its transactions for the year ending on that date and also shall furnish such other information as the Insurance Commissioner may deem necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working. Each such society shall pay to the Insurance Commissioner a fee of twenty dollars for filing such annual statement, which fee must accompany the statement when submitted to the commissioner. The Insurance Commissioner may at other times require any further statement he may deem necessary to be made relating to such society. In addition to the annual report herein required, each society shall annually report to the Insurance Commissioner a valuation of its certificates in force on December 31 last preceding, excluding those issued within the year for which the report is filed, in cases where the contributions for the first year in whole or in part are used for current mortality and expenses; provided, the first report of valuation shall be made as of December 31, 1912. Such report of valuation shall show, as contingent liabilities, the present mid-year value of the promised benefits provided in the constitution and laws of such society under certificates then subject to valuation; and as contingent assets, the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided in the constitution and laws as the same are in practice actually collected At the option of any society, in lieu of the above, the valuation may show the net value of the certificates subject to valuation hereinbefore provided and said net value, when computed in case of monthly contributions may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years. Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary, or at the request and expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the Department of Insurance of the home State of the society, and shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner within ninety days after the submission of the last preceding annual report. The legal minimum standard of valuation for all certificates, except for disability benefits, shall be the National Fraternal Congress Table of Mortality as adopted by the National Fraternal Congress August 23, 1899, or at the option of the society, any higher table, or, at its option, it may use a table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives with interest assumption not more than four per centum per annum. Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation. Any society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contribution for such benefits in a fund separate and apart from all other benefit and expense funds and the valuation of all other business of the society; provided, that where a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits, the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience and in such case a separation of the funds shall not be required. The valuation herein provided for shall not be considered or regarded as a test of the financial solvency of the society, but each society shall be held to be legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities. Beginning with the year 1914 a report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June 1 of each year, or, in lieu thereof, such report of valuation and showing of the society's condition as thereby disclosed may be published in the society's official paper and the issue containing the same mailed to each beneficiary member of the society. The laws of such society shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws, additional increased or extra rates of contributions shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency; and such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his certificate may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest not exceeding five per centum per annum.

When society considered solvent.

CHAPTER 360.

An act to add four new sections to the Civil Code, to be numbered 453ee½, 453.11, 453.12 and 453.13, all relating to mortgage insurance companies; declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered 453ee½ and to read as follows:

Investments of mortgage insurance companies

453ee½. In addition to the investments otherwise authorized by the provisions of this code, a mortgage insurance company may invest its capital, surplus, and accumulations in the purchase of, or loans upon, the stock issued by any Federal home loan bank or other similar Federal agency of which such mortgage insurance company may be eligible to become a member, and the bonds, debentures and notes issued by any Federal home loan bank or other similar Federal agency.

New section

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453.11 and to read as follows:

See Stats 1933, Ch 97

Moratorium on mortgage insurance payments.

453.11. In the event actions for the foreclosure of real estate mortgages, or sales on execution or under power of sale contained in any mortgage or deed of trust or by direction of court in an action for the recovery of a debt or for the enforcement of a right secured by a mortgage or other lien, shall be extended or postponed pursuant to or by any law of this State or of the United States, or by any order or ruling of any officer of this State or of the United States, or in the event the date when payment of either principal or interest shall become due under any note secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on real estate shall be extended or postponed pursuant to or by any law of this State or of the United States, or by any order or ruling of any officer of this State or of the United States, then and in each of such cases there shall be an extension for a like period of time of the date or dates upon which mortgage insurance companies are required to make any and all payments under and by reason of any and all policies of mortgage insurance or mortgage participation certificates then issued and outstanding.

New section

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453.12 and to read as follows:

Mortgage participation certificates may be amended, etc.

453.12. Any mortgage insurance company which shall have heretofore issued mortgage participation certificates in accordance with the provisions of the law of this State in force at the time of such issuance may, with the consent of the Insurance Commissioner, amend such certificates and any policy of mortgage insurance issued in connection therewith and may cancel and retire all or any part of such certificates presently outstanding and issue in exchange therefor other certificates representing a similar proportionate interest in the group of assets held in trust for the benefit of the holders of such presently outstanding mortgage participation certificates. The plan under which such amended certificates or such other certificates are to be issued, and the form of such amended certificates and such other certificates, shall be submitted to the Insurance Commissioner for his approval, and all such amended or new certificates and any agreement under which the same may be issued and any policy of mortgage insurance issued in connection therewith shall contain, notwithstanding anything in this code to the contrary, such terms and provisions as shall be approved or required by such commissioner. Any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, insurance company, bank, banking institution or trust company, and any officer of the State of California, now holding one or more mortgage participation certificates as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made with the State of California, may consent to the amendment of such certificates or may exchange such certificates for other certificates issued as herein provided, and may hold such amended certificates or such other certificates as legal investments or as securities eligible for deposit with the State of California or with its officers or officials in the same manner and to the same extent as the particular mortgage participation certificates so amended, or the particular certificates in exchange for which such other certificates may be issued, are now held.

Consent necessary.

At any time during the emergency period as hereinafter defined any amendments or modifications of any trust agreement under which mortgage participation certificates are issued or of such certificates or of any policy of mortgage insurance issued in connection therewith, or of any term covenant, condition or provision of such agreement, certificates or policy, shall, if made as hereinabove provided, become fully effective and binding upon all of the holders of such certificates outstanding under such trust agreement, when consented to in writing by the holders of seventy-five per cent in interest of all certificates outstanding under such trust agreement.

"Emergency period."

The term "emergency period" as used in this section shall mean the period commencing with the effective date of this section and ending September 1, 1935; provided that said emergency period may be terminated at any time prior to September 1, 1935, by order of the Insurance Commissioner.

New section

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453.13 and to read as follows:

Petition to appoint conservator

453.13. In all cases where a mortgage insurance company has issued mortgage participation certificates evidencing a share or interest or right to participate in a security or group of securities deposited with a depositary or trustee, the Insurance Commissioner may, by verified petition, apply to the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the mortgage insurance company affected by such petition is located, for an order requiring the depositary or trustee to show cause why a conservator should not be appointed to take possession of all the property and assets held in such trust and to conserve, operate, manage, control or liquidate the same and distribute the avails thereof to the holders of the mortgage participation certificates which evidence an interest in such assets. A similar petition may be made by any mortgage insurance company provided the holders of a majority in interest of the mortgage participation certificates issued under any trust affected by such petition shall have consented in writing to the filing of such petition and such consent is filed with such mortgage insurance company. A copy of the petition and of the order to show cause shall be served on the depositary or the trustee in the same manner as a summons is served in civil actions. Such other notice of the pendency of the proceedings shall be given as the court may prescribe.

Superior court has jurisdiction.

Said superior court shall have jurisdiction of said petition and of the proceedings thereon and may make all such orders as justice and equity shall require, including orders requiring the depositary or trustee to account, and orders for the discharge of the depositary or trustee, for the appointment of a conservator, for the winding up of the trust and the distribution of the trust property, and also orders providing for the presentation of claims and demands against the trust estate and the barring from participation of creditors and claimants failing to make claims and present proofs as required. Any notice required, other than notice to the depositary or trustee, may be given in such manner as the court may direct.

Appointment by court.

On the return day of such order to show cause, or on any day to which the hearing shall be continued, the court shall either deny the petition or appoint a competent person to act as conservator. In the petition for the appointment of such conservator the petitioner may nominate or recommend any person believed by such petitioner to be competent to act as conservator but such nomination or recommendation shall not be controlling on the court. If the court shall appoint a conservator it shall direct the conservator forthwith to take possession of all the property, real, personal and mixed, in such trust and thereupon the conservator shall be vested by operation of law with the title to all such property, including all the securities, contracts and rights of action of the depositary or trustee and of said mortgage insurance company pertaining to the trust property, as of the date of the order so appointing the conservator. The court shall further order that the depositary or trustee file its account and shall fix the date for the hearing of said account.

Injunction.

On the filing of such petition, or at any time thereafter, the court may in its discretion issue an injunction restraining the depositary or trustee, the mortgage insurance company, and the holders of participation certificates, and all other persons having or asserting claims or demands against the depositary or trustee or the trust property from taking any action or proceeding with respect to the securities or other properties in the trust without leave of court first had and obtained.

Powers and duties of conservator.

In all cases arising under the provisions of this section the conservator shall have and possess full power and right to deal with the property and assets held in such trust in his own name, as conservator, or in the name of the corporation or of the depositary or trustee, as the court may direct, and in addition to all powers and duties herein mentioned shall have and possess all the powers and duties of a receiver appointed upon the dissolution of a corporation.

In the management, operation or liquidation of the affairs of any trust hereunder the conservator, subject to the approval of the court and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the trust indenture under which said trust is established, may sell mortgage or otherwise encumber or exchange any of the property or assets held in such trust upon such terms as he may deem advisable and in the best interests of the certificate holders thereunder. Sales of real property may be made for cash or for cash and/or notes secured by mortgage or deed of trust on the property sold and such sales may be made to the mortgage insurance company or to any other purchaser. Such conservator may, subject to the approval of the court, determine and prescribe the amount of interest and principal which may be paid out of the assets of such trust and the times of payment thereof, and may make, rescind or amend all such further rules, regulations and conditions relative to the operation, management or liquidation of such trust as he may deem advisable and in the best interests of the certificate holders.

If the conservator becomes satisfied that it may safely be done and that it would be in the interests of the certificate holders and the company, he may apply to the court for an order terminating the conservatorship and, upon the making of his account and its approval by the court, such conservatorship shall be terminated and the property and assets of the trust shall be returned to the depositary or trustee.

If the conservator at any time shall determine that such trust be wound up and the avails thereof distributed, he shall petition the court for an order for final winding up of the trust and distribution of the trust assets and, after notice served upon the depositary or trustee and the company, and upon such other parties as the court shall direct, the court may order such final winding up of the trust and distribution of the trust assets. In winding up the affairs of any trust the conservator, subject to the approval of the court, may sell, exchange or dispose of all or any part of the assets in the trust to a corporation organized under the laws of this State for a consideration which may include shares of stock or other securities in such corporation, or participation certificates issued by a mortgage insurance company organized under the laws of this State, if such sale, exchange or other disposition has been approved by the consent in writing of the holders of participation certificates representing more than fifty per cent in interest of all mortgage participation certificates issued and outstanding under such trust. The conservator may distribute such shares of stock, participation certificates or other consideration, or the proceeds thereof among the holders of participation certificates in the trust under liquidation in proportion to their several interests therein, as directed or confirmed by the court.

Urgency.

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and as such it shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: There exist throughout the United States economic conditions which have engendered financial disturbances requiring the immediate enactment of legislation which shall be immediately effective, protecting home owners and other property owners in this State whose property is subject to encumbrances in the form of mortgages or deeds of trust, and protecting investors in mortgage participation certificates. Many thousands of mortgages and deeds of trust have been assigned by mortgage insurance companies to trustees or depositaries and mortgage participation certificates evidencing shares or interests therein have been issued by mortgage insurance companies in accordance with the provisions of Chapter VIII of Division I, Part IV, Title II of this code. Because of dire financial distress many property owners are unable to meet the payments of principal and interest on such mortgages and deeds of trust and general liquidation of large numbers of trusts under which mortgage participation certificates have been issued is imminent. Such liquidation will result in the immediate loss of the homes of a large number of home owners in this State and will also result in the forced sale of a large amount of real property and will also result in serious loss to a large number of investors in mortgage participation certificates, all of which will cause further financial disturbances and will endanger the public peace, health and safety. It is therefore necessary to the preservation of the public peace, health and safety that provision be made immediately to prevent general liquidation of mortgage participation trusts with the attendant foreclosures and economic loss and distress by providing for the appointment of conservators to manage, operate or liquidate trusts under which mortgage participation certificates are issued and outstanding and by providing for the amendment of such trusts and such mortgage participation certificates, and by authorizing mortgage insurance companies to invest in the stock and securities issued by any Federal home loan bank or other similar Federal agency, all of which measures are authorized by this act.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 6. If any section, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act.

meridian, in Humboldt County, more particularly described as:

Beginning at a point in the northeasterly right of way line of the State highway, designated road I-Humboldt-1-C, opposite Station 515 + 95, said point of beginning being distant S. 26° 02′ E., 1534.13 feet from the northwest corner of said section 12, thence S. 46° 42′ E. along the above mentioned right of way line a distance of 487.70 feet, thence N. 43° 18′ E. along wire fence a distance of 118 feet more or less, thence northwesterly along wire fence a distance of 432 feet more or less, thence southwesterly along wire fence a distance of 256.40 feet more or less to the point of beginning, containing two acres, and designated in the records of the Division of Highways as the Burlington Maintenance Yard, is hereby transferred from the Department of Natural Resources, Division of Parks, to the Department of Public Works to be used for State highway purposes.

Land may revert to Department of Natural Resources.

SEC. 2. If at any time the need for said parcel of land for State highway purposes no longer exists, notice of such fact shall be given by the Director of Public Works to the Director of Natural Resources and the State Park Commission and thereupon said parcel of land shall immediately revert to the jurisdiction and control of the Department of Natural Resources for State park uses and purposes.

CHAPTER 364.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered 363cc, authorizing the filing for record of State highway maps and prescribing the duties of county recorders with relation thereto.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 363cc, to read as follows:

Recording highway maps

363cc. The Director of Public Works may file for record or cause to be filed for record in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such highway or parcel of right of way may be located general route maps and detailed layout sheets and right of way maps showing the route of any State road or highway and the area or parcels of land within the right of way of any State road or highway and the county recorders of the several counties are hereby authorized and directed to accept and file for record any such maps or blueprints thereof. No fee shall be charged for the filing for record of such maps or blueprints and no certificate need be attached thereto other than the usual title of the Department of Public Works showing such map to have been approved by the proper officer or engineer of said department.

The recorder shall keep all such State highway maps so filed for record in separate map books to be provided by the Department of Public Works for that purpose and to be designated "State Highway Map Book No. ---, ------ County." Each such map shall be numbered in the order of filing and indexed in a separate index as to number and date of filing. Recorder to keep special book.

CHAPTER 365.

An act to amend sections 587 and 1515 of the Probate Code, relating to the dedication of real property by executors, administrators and guardians.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 587 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 2200.

587. When it is for the advantage, benefit and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, that an easement for public street, storm drain, sewer, or highway purposes over the real estate, or some part thereof, be dedicated either with or without consideration to the State or any county or municipal corporation, the executor or administrator may so dedicate any real property of the estate upon the order of court based upon the petition of the executor or administrator or of any person interested in the estate, and after notice of the hearing given for the period and in the manner required by section 1200 of this code. Executor may dedicate property for streets, etc.

SEC. 2. Section 1515 of the Probate Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 2200.

1515. When it is for the advantage, benefit and best interests of the estate, and those interested therein, that an easement for public street, storm drain, sewer, or highway purposes over the real estate, or some part thereof, be dedicated either with or without consideration to the State, or any county or municipal corporation, the guardian may so dedicate any real property of the estate of his ward upon the order of the court based upon the petition of the guardian or of any person interested in the estate, and after notice of the hearing given for the period and in the manner required by section 1200 of this code. CHAPTER 366.

An act to permit the State Treasurer to accept a donation for the retirement or purchase of the California Olympiad bonds.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1927, p. 518.

Treasurer may accept donations to pay Olympiad bonds.

SECTION 1. The State Treasurer is hereby authorized to accept a donation for the purpose of meeting the interest and redemption of the Olympiad bonds issued under an act of the Legislature passed in 1927. Any donation made under the provisions of this act shall be set aside in the treasury as a special fund and invested by the State Board of Control, and the interest therefrom shall be used to pay the interest on the outstanding bonds until the fund donated for that purpose shall be sufficient to retire the outstanding bonds and pay the interest thereon, at which time said fund shall be liquidated and used for such purpose.

Bonds may be purchased and canceled.

SEC. 2. In the event the State Board of Control decides it is for the best interests of the State, the Department of Finance shall, on the order of the State Board of Control, specifying the amount of money to be expended, use the moneys mentioned in section 1 to the amount specified by the Board of Control to purchase Olympiad bonds issued under an act of the Legislature passed in 1927. The Department of Finance shall purchase said bonds at not more that the par value thereof. Until the State Board of Control decides it is for the best interests of the State to proceed as provided in this section, the provisions of section 1 hereof shall maintain and be fully operative.

Cancellation of bonds.

SEC. 3. After the purchase of Olympiad bonds as provided in section 2 hereof, said bonds shall be delivered by the Department of Finance to the State Treasurer who shall cancel and destroy the same. The State Treasurer shall thereupon deliver the numbers of said canceled and destroyed bonds to the Department of Finance and the State Board of Control.

CHAPTER 368.

An act to amend section 79b of an act entitled "An act to provide for work in and upon public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, and other public property and rights of way, in whole or in part, including property over which possession and right of use has been obtained under the provisions of section 14 of article one of the Constitution within municipalities, or within unincorporated territory and one or more municipalities, or lying within two or more municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, properties or rights of way; and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds, approved April 7, 1911, relating to improvements of municipalities. Stats 1911, p. 730, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 79b of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1652.

Sec. 79b. The term "incidental expenses," as used in this act, shall include the compensation of the city engineer for work done by him; also, the cost of printing and advertising as provided in this act, including the estimated cost of printing any bonds to be issued to represent or be secured by unpaid assessments; also the compensation of the person appointed by the superintendent of streets to take charge of and superintend any of the work mentioned in this act; also the expenses of making the assessment and of typing and preparing the resolutions, notices and other papers and proceedings for any work authorized by this act; also the expenses of making any analysis and tests to determine that the work and any materials or appliances incorporated therein comply with the specifications; and any other expenses incidental "Incidental expenses" defined.

to the construction, completion, and inspection of the work in the manner herein provided for, and may also include all cost and expense incurred in carrying out the investigations and reports required by the provisions of the "Special Assessment Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931." All demands for incidental expenses mentioned in this subdivision shall be presented to the street superintendent, by an itemized bill, duly verified by oath of the demandant.

Stats 1931, p. 1372.

CHAPTER 369.

Stats. 1903, p. 376, amended.

An act to amend section 16 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the laying out, opening, extending, widening, straightening, establishment or change of grade, in whole or in part, of public highways, roads, streets, squares, lanes, alleys, courts, and places, within municipalities, or within unincorporated territory and one or more municipalities, or lying within two or more municipalities; for the condemnation of property necessary or convenient for such purposes, or of any interest therein, and for the establishment of assessment districts and the assessment of property therein to pay the expense of such improvement, and providing for aid from the county or municipalities toward the expense of such improvement," approved March 24, 1903.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1925, p. 238.

SECTION 1. Section 16 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Delivery of diagram.

Sec. 16. The city engineer shall deliver said diagram to the street superintendent and shall indorse thereon the date of such delivery. The street superintendent upon receiving the said diagram shall proceed to assess the total expense of the proposed improvement (first deducting from such total expenses such percentage thereof or sum toward the expense of said improvement, if any, as the city council may have declared by the ordinance of intention that the city shall pay) upon and against the lands, including the property of any railroad or street railroad, within said assessment district, except the land to be taken for such improvement, in proportion to the benefits to be derived from said improvement. The street superintendent shall complete said assessment within sixty days after the receipt by him of said diagram; provided, however, that the city council may by order extend the time for completing said assessment for a period not exceeding ninety days additional. The total expense of the improvements so to be assessed shall include the amounts awarded to the defendants by the interlocutory judgment in the action for condemnation, together with their costs, the compensation and expenses of the referees, as allowed by the court, and all other costs of the plaintiff in such action, the expenses of making the assessment, and may also include all cost and expense incurred in carrying out the investigations and reports required by the provisions of the "Special Assessment Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931," and all expenses necessarily incurred by said city, in connection with the proposed improvement for the publication of ordinances, posting and publication of notices, for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys, searches and certificates of title to the property to be taken, and all other matters incident thereto.

Completion of assessment.

Stats. 1931, p. 1372.

Public lands

Whenever any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to the United States, or to the State of California, or any lot, piece or parcel of land belonging to any county, city, public agent, mandatory of the government, school board, educational, penal or reform institution, or institution for the feeble-minded, or the insane, and being in use in the performance of any public function, is included within the district declared by the city council in the ordinance of intention to be the district to be benefited by said improvement, and to be assessed to pay the expense thereof, the city council may, in its discretion, in the ordinance of intention, declare that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be omitted from the assessment to be made to cover the expense of said improvement. In the event that said lots, pieces or parcels of land, or any of them, shall by said ordinance be omitted from the assessment, then the total expenses of said improvement shall be assessed on the remaining lots lying within the boundaries of said assessment district, without regard to such omitted lots, pieces or parcels of land. In the event the city council shall, in its ordinance of intention, declare that the said lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and in use, or any of them, shall be included within the assessment, or in the event that no declaration is made respecting such lots, pieces or parcels of land, then such sum or sums as thereafter may be assessed against such lots, pieces or parcels of land so owned and used, shall be payable by the city out of the general fund, unless the city council shall in its ordinance of intention designate another fund; provided, however, that any such sum or sums which may be assessed against any such lots, pieces or parcels of land, so owned and used, shall not be payable by the city when such sum or sums are paid by the owner of or the governing body controlling such lots, pieces or parcels of land.

CHAPTER 370.

Stats 1913, p. 954, amended.

An act to amend section 10 of the "Street Improvement Act of 1913," relating to street improvements.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1929, p. 1625.

SECTION 1. Section 10 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessment for incidental expenses.

Sec. 10. The commission shall, as soon as practicable, after determining what damage will be caused by said improvement, and, after the signing of the contract for the work, assess the total amount of all the incidental expenses of such improvement, which shall include the necessary expenses and disbursements of the commission, the cost of making the assessment, and all expenses necessarily incurred by the city in connection with the proposed improvement for maps, diagrams, plans, surveys and other matters incident thereto, and may also include all cost and expense incurred in carrying out the investigations and reports required by the provisions of the

Stats. 1931, p. 1372.

"Special Assessment Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931" upon the respective lots or parcels of land in the assessment district described in the ordinance or resolution of intention, in proportion to the benefits to be received by such lots or parcels of land, respectively, from said improvement, and shall make and file with the clerk of the legislative body a report in writing containing the following:

Report What to contain.

1. A schedule describing the lots or parcels of property belonging to each petitioner for damages and which will be damaged by said proposed improvement, stating the amount of damage to each lot or parcel and to each separate estate or interest therein as determined by the commission, and the name of the owner of each such lot or parcel of property or of any interest or estate therein so damaged.

2. A diagram showing the assessment district, and also the boundaries and dimensions of the respective lots or parcels of land within said district, and each of such lots or parcels of land shall be given a separate number in red ink upon said diagram.

3. A proposed assessment of the total amount of damages that will be caused by said improvement, as determined by the commission, the total amount of the contract price for the work and the total amount of the incidental expenses thereof as above specified, upon the respective lots or parcels of land in said district in proportion to the benefits to be received by such lots or parcels of land, respectively, from said improvement. Said assessment shall refer to such lots or parcels of land upon said diagram by the red ink numbers thereof, and need contain no other description thereof, and shall show the names of the owners, if known, otherwise designating them as unknown; but no mistake in the name of the owner of any lot or parcel of land shall affect the validity of the assessment thereon.

In case the commissioners do not all agree, a majority of the whole number may make such report.

CHAPTER 371.

An act to amend section 13 of "The Grade Separation Act of 1927," relating to the separation of grades. Stats. 1927, p. 1174, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1927, p. 1174.

Sec. 13. The terms "streets, highways or public ways" shall include all public roads, highways, streets, avenues, boulevards, or other thoroughfares. The term "right of way" shall include the land over and upon which a street railroad, interurban railroad or railroad may be maintaining its tracks, and the spaces between tracks when there shall be more than one, and a sufficient space outside the track or tracks for the suitable and proper operation of the same, whether owned in fee or as an easement, or whether the same lie within the lines of any street, highway or public way. Definitions.

The term "incidental expenses" as used in this act shall include the compensation of the superintendent of work; the compensation of the city engineer or county surveyor for work done by him; the cost of printing and advertising as provided for in this act and the expenses of making the assessment, and may also include all cost and expense incurred in carrying out the investigations and reports required by the provisions of the "Special Assessment Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931." All demands for incidental expenses shall be presented to the street superintendent or county surveyor, by itemized bill duly verified by oath of the demandant. Stats. 1931, p. 1372.

The expression "grade separation" or "separation of grades" shall include all work necessary to properly and satisfactorily accomplish the physical separation of grades described in this act, and shall include all items of work appropriate thereto, such as excavating, grading, filling, paving, repaving, constructing or reconstructing sidewalks, steps, parks, parkways, culverts, bridges, gutters, subways, viaducts, the installation of drains, instrumentalities for lighting, retaining walls, embankments, and all other structures necessary and suitable to accomplish said purpose, including the replacing or substitution of any improvements in existence in the area affected prior to the performance of the actual work of grade separation both upon or in the area of the street, highway, or public way in question and the area of the right of way of the street railroad, interurban railroad or railroad upon which work may be required by or in connection with such grade separation.

Publication

The notices, declarations, resolutions, orders or other matters required to be published by the provisions of this act, shall be published in a newspaper published within the city or the county, or of general circulation therein and no other statute shall govern or be applicable to the publications herein provided for. No proceeding or step herein shall be invalidated or avoided by any departure herefrom with respect to the person or instrumentality connected with the publication; provided, the same is actually published in a newspaper which will reasonably serve to give publicity to the fact of the adoption of the declaration, resolution, order, notice or determination in question.

An act to add a new section to the Political Code, to be numbered 4041.26, relating to the disposition of county personal property which is not further required for public use.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code, to be numbered 4041.26, and to read as follows: New section.

4041.26. Whenever the county advertises for bids for the furnishing of personal property, it may permit any person, or permit or require the bidder, to submit at the time bids are received, an offer of trade-in allowance for, or an offer of purchase of, any county personal property designated in the notice, not further required for public use. The offer of a bidder shall be considered in determining the lowest bid and shall not be binding upon the bidder unless his bid is accepted; provided, however, that the county may reject all offers if it is to the advantage of the county to do so and bidders will be bound by their bids. County purchasing agents may, when purchasing personal property for which it is not necessary to advertise for bids, without the necessity of complying with the provisions of subdivision two (2) of section 4041.21 of this code, solicit and accept advantageous trade-in allowances for county personal property which has been previously determined by the board of supervisors to be not further required for public use. Bids for personal property.

CHAPTER 377.

An act to amend section 1446 of the Penal Code, relating to satisfaction of fine by imprisonment.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1446 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 395.

Satisfaction of fine by imprisonment.

1446. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he be imprisoned until the fine be satisfied, or that the defendant pay the fine within a limited time or in installments payable on specified dates and that in default of payment as therein stipulated he be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied in full. In the event of default of payment of said fine the court shall immediately order the arrest of the defendant and order him to show cause why he should not be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied in full. No imprisonment under this section shall exceed one day for every two dollars of the fine.

CHAPTER 378.

An act to amend section 1205 of the Penal Code, relating to the payment of fines.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 395.

SECTION 1. Section 1205 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Payment of fines.

1205. A judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied. In misdemeanor cases a judgment that the defendant pay a fine may also direct that he pay the fine within a limited time or in installments payable on specified dates and that in default of payment as therein stipulated he be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied in full. The defendant must pay the fine to the clerk of the court. The clerk shall report to the court any default in payment thereof and the court shall thereupon order the arrest of the defendant and order him to show cause why he should not be imprisoned until the fine is satisfied in full. But all judgments under this section must specify the extent of imprisonment, which must not exceed one day for every two dollars of the fine, nor extend in any case beyond the term for which the defendant might be sentenced to imprisonment for the offense of which he has been convicted.

CHAPTER 379.

Stats. 1917, p. 831, amended.

An act to amend section 29 of the California Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of 1917, relating to compensation insurance.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 1951.

SECTION 1. Section 29 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 29. (a) Every employer as defined in section 7 hereof, except the State and all political subdivisions or institutions thereof, shall secure the payment of compensation in one or more of the following ways: Securing payment of compensation Methods.

1. By insuring and keeping insured against liability to pay compensation in one or more insurance carriers duly authorized to write compensation insurance in this State.

2. By securing from the commission a certificate of consent to self-insure, which may be given upon his furnishing proof satisfactory to the commission of ability to carry his own insurance and pay any compensation that may become due to his employees, the commission may, in its discretion, require such employer to deposit with the State Treasurer a bond or securities, but not both a bond and securities, approved by the commission, in an amount to be determined by the commission. Such certificate may be revoked at any time for good cause shown after hearing had, such good cause including among other things, the impairment of the solvency of said employer, the practice by such employer or his agent in charge of the administration of its obligations under the Workmen's Compensation Act of any of the acts denounced by sections 596 (b) or 633 of the Political Code, with respect to the conduct of insurance companies, their officers or agents. So long as the certificate of consent to self-insure has not been revoked, and the self-insurer has deposited with the State Treasurer such bond or securities, the self-insurer shall not be required or obliged to pay into the State Compensation Insurance fund any sums covering liability for compensation, excepting life pensions; but shall be permitted, and such permission is hereby given the self-insurer, to fully administer any and all such compensation benefits assessed against the said insurer. The Industrial Accident Commission shall have complete authority, in the event that the surety on such bond becomes liable for payment thereunder, or resort must be had to the deposited securities, to direct the order, manner and amounts of payment due the beneficiaries; and payment by the surety pursuant to the order of the commission or when ratified by the commission shall constitute a full release of his liability under the bond to the extent of such payment, and shall entitle the surety to full reimbursement by the principal or his estate, including necessary attorney fees and other costs and expenses, without prior claim or proceedings on the part of the injured employee or other beneficiaries. The surety making payment of compensation hereunder shall have the same preference over the other debts of the principal or his estate as is given by law to the person directly entitled to such compensation.

(b) If any employer shall fail so to secure the payment of compensation, any injured employee or his dependents may proceed against such employer by filing an application for compensation with the commission, and, in addition thereto, such injured employee or his dependents may bring an action at law against such employer for damages, the same as if this Proceedings where payment is unsecured.

act did not apply, and shall be entitled in such action to the right to attach the property of the employer, at any time upon or after the institution of such action, in an amount to be fixed by the court, to secure the payment of any judgment which may ultimately be obtained. Such judgment shall include a reasonable attorney's fee to be fixed by the court. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, except in so far as they may be inconsistent with this act, shall govern the issuance of and proceedings upon such attachment; provided, that if as a result of such action for damages a judgment is obtained against such employer in excess of the compensation awarded under this act, the compensation awarded by the commission, if paid, or if security approved by the court be given for its payment, shall be credited upon such judgment; provided further, that in such action it shall be presumed that the injury to the employee was a direct result and grew out of the negligence of the employer, and the burden of proof shall rest upon the employer, to rebut the presumption of negligence. In such proceeding it shall not be a defense to the employer that the employee may have been guilty of contributory negligence, or assumed the risk of the hazard complained of, or that the injury was caused by the negligence of a fellow servant. No contract, rule or regulation shall be allowed to restore to the employer any of the foregoing defenses.

Penalties.

(c) Failure to secure the payment of compensation as hereinbefore provided shall constitute a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months or both. In case of the wilful failure by an employer to secure the payment of compensation as herein provided, the amount of compensation otherwise recoverable for injury or death as provided in this act shall be increased ten per cent, any of the provisions of this act as to maximum payments or otherwise to the contrary notwithstanding; provided, however, that said increase of award shall in no event exceed one thousand dollars. Failure of the employer to secure the payment of compensation as herein provided shall be prima facie evidence of wilfulness on his part.

Employer to furnish statements

(d) The commission may require any employer to furnish a written statement at any time showing the name of his insurance carrier or the manner in which the employer has complied with the provisions of this section. Failure of the employer for a period of ten days to furnish such written statement shall constitute presumptive evidence that such employer has failed or neglected in respect to the matters so required. In any prosecution under this section, the burden of proof shall be upon the defendant to show that he has secured the payment of compensation in one of the two ways set forth in paragraph (a) hereof.

CHAPTER 380.

An act to repeal sections 1121 to 1124, inclusive, and sections 1131 to 1133, inclusive, of the Agricultural Code, relating to the storage of eggs.

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 385.

An act authorizing the Governor to make conveyances of certain parcels of real property to the original grantors thereof or their successors or assigns, if and when the interest of the United States in said parcels is conveyed or released to the State of California, which said parcels were acquired pursuant to the provisions of the Statutes of California for 1927, chapter 142, particularly the paragraph commencing on the bottom of page 271 and which were conveyed, pursuant to the provisions of the Statutes of California, chapter 517, to the United States of America, for temporary use as spoil disposal areas, in connection with the construction of that certain project approved by an act of Congress which was approved by the President of the United States, on January 21, 1927, which said act provided for the deepening and rectification of the San Joaquin River and Stockton channel in accordance with the plan laid down in House Document No. 554, Sixty-eighth Congress, second session.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Governor authorized to reconvey certain property.

SECTION 1. The State of California having appropriated the sum of $419,000 under the provisions of chapter 142 of the Statutes of 1927, for expenditures by the State Department of Finance for the purpose of rectifying the channel of the San Joaquin River in cooperation with the Government of the United States in accordance with that certain act of Congress entitled "An act authorizing the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors and for other purposes," approved by the President of the United States on the twenty-first day of January, 1927, and said money having been expended for the purpose of acquiring certain parcels of land for use in connection with said project of the Government of the United States, and the Governor of the State of California, in accordance with the provisions of chapter 517 of the Statutes of California for 1927, having conveyed said parcels to the United States of America for the use of the latter in connection with the construction of said project, and certain of said parcels having been conveyed for temporary spoil disposal purposes, which purposes have been fulfilled, and the Government of the United States of America having indicated its willingness to reconvey to the State of California the parcels last mentioned herein, or to issue notices of completion concerning said project stating that said parcels of land are no longer required for the purpose for which they were conveyed to the United States of America to the end that the same may be conveyed or reconveyed to the original owners thereof, or to their successors or assigns, in order that the easements thereon may be removed and any continuing financial liability by the State of California or the city of Stockton in connection therewith may be terminated, the Governor of California is hereby authorized and directed to convey the interest of the State of California in those certain parcels of real property hereinafter described to the persons who granted the same to the State, or to their successors or assigns, in the event, upon the occurrence of the conditions and under the circumstances as follows:

Stats. 1927, p. 860.

Conditions.

(a) Whenever the State of California shall receive from the United States of America, or its duly authorized agents, a conveyance of the interest of the United States in any such parcel of land or whenever a certificate of completion of said project shall be issued by an authorized agent of the United States of America stating that said parcels of land used in connection with the construction of that certain project authorized by an act of Congress entitled "An act authorizing the construction, repair and preservation of certain public works on rivers and harbors and for other purposes," approved by the President of the United States on January 21, 1927, are no longer required for the purpose for which they were conveyed to the United States of America; and

(b) It appears, and the Governor so finds, that the conveyance from such person to the State was made to the State of California after January 21, 1927.

The Governor is authorized to deliver said deeds of conveyance to such persons, or their successors or assigns, or to their duly authorized agents. All costs in connection with the reconveyance of said parcels, or each thereof, shall be borne by the grantees thereunder.

Description.

SEC. 2. The particular parcels of real property herein above mentioned in section 1 and referred to as those certain parcels hereinafter described are all and each of them is located in the county of San Joaquin, State of California, and are those certain parcels of real property described as follows:

CHAPTER 386.

Stats. 1915, p. 605, amended.

An act to amend section 1 of Chapter 389, Statutes of 1915, entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain State lands," as approved May 15, 1915, as amended, relating to State lands.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1409.

SECTION 1. Section 1 of Chapter 389, Statutes of 1915, entitled "An act providing for the sale of certain State lands," as revised by Chapter 595, Statutes of 1929, as amended by Chapter 672, Statutes of 1931, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certain State lands may be sold.

Section 1. The unsold and unreserved portions of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections of school lands, the unsold portions of the five hundred thousand acres granted to the State for school purposes, and the unsold portions of the listed lands selected of the United States in lieu of the sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections and losses to the school grant which are not suitable for cultivation shall be sold to citizens of the United States, or to a municipal corporation, public corporation, quasi public corporation, or to the State Highway Commission, State Park Commission, or other State bodies authorized to purchase and hold land, by the Surveyor General under rules and regulations prescribed by him, at a price fixed by the Department of Finance, payment to be made in cash to the Department of Finance, State Capitol, Sacramento. Every occupant of a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section is protected in his occupancy for three months after the township has been sectionized.

CHAPTER 387.

An act to amend section 948 of the Political Code, relating to bonds of State officials and employees.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 948 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pol C. 1872.

948. The official bonds of State officers prescribed by law must be approved by the Governor and filed and recorded in the office of the Secretary of State. All other official bonds of State officers and employees must be forwarded to the Department of Finance for recordation. Upon such recordation the State Department of Finance shall forward said bonds to the Secretary of State where the same shall be filed. Filing bonds of State officers.

CHAPTER 388.

An act to provide for the organization and management of horticultural improvement districts and to provide for the development of lands included therein for the planting, caring for, and maturing of orchards thereon and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor; to provide for the management of such districts and also to provide for the issuance and payments of bonds for such districts, for the levying of taxes and the collection of charges by said districts and for the annexation of additional territory thereto.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A horticultural development district may be organized and managed as herein expressly provided and may exercise the powers herein granted, or necessarily implied.

Format on of horticultural development districts.

SEC. 2. Whenever the holders of title, or evidences of title, of lands similarly situated and similar in soil and located under similar climatic conditions so as to be adapted to the raising of any particular horticultural product or products, and which have at some time been planted thereto, desire to develop and improve the same into bearing orchards they may present to the board of supervisors of the county in which the lands, or the greater part thereof, are situated, at a regular meeting of the board, a petition setting forth that they propose to form a district consisting of the lands described in said petition for the purpose of replanting, rehabilitating and restoring said lands to a particularly therein described horticultural product or products. Said lands need not be contiguous. Said petition must also set forth the following:

Petition.

(a) A description of each tract of land that will become a part of the proposed district.

(b) The total number of acres of said district.

(c) The names of each and every owner of record of the real property described in said petition.

(d) The county or counties in which proposed district lies, or if in more than one county, the number of acres of said district in each county.

(e) The particular horticultural product or products proposed to be developed in said district.

Publication.

SEC. 3. The petition must be verified by the affidavit of one of the petitioners, it must be published for two weeks preceding the hearing thereof in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the greater part of the lands are situated, together with a notice of the time when said petition will be presented to the board of supervisors; an affidavit of publication must be filed with such publication.

Hearing held by board of supervisors

SEC. 4. If the board of supervisors find on the hearing of the petition that its statements are correct, they must make an order approving the same.

The owner of any land situated similarly to the other lands in said proposed district and of similar soil and under like climatic conditions and which has heretofore been planted to said horticultural development, who is not one of the signers to said petition may appear at said hearing before said board of supervisors and file his verified written petition, describing his land, stating that the same are similar to the lands proposed to be organized into said district and praying that said lands so described be included within the boundaries of said district. If it shall appear that the statements of said petition are correct, the land so described shall be included in the district.

The board of supervisors may grant further continuances by order entered upon its minutes to the end that a full hearing may be had. Upon the final hearing of said matter the board may make an order approving the said petition as originally presented or in modified form by either excluding lands originally described in said proposed district or adding lands thereto that have filed a petition as in this section set forth. Said order shall in addition to approving said petition either as presented originally, or as modified, state that said horticultural development district is thereby organized and said order shall be endorsed upon or attached to the petition and be signed by the chairman for attestation by the clerk of the board.

Election of first trustees.

SEC. 5. After the formation of the district the board of supervisors of the county where the greater part of the district is situated, upon application of one or more landowners of the district, must call an election in compliance with section 7 of this act, at which election there must be elected, and in pursuance with the provisions of said section, five (5) persons who shall be both landowners and residents within said district who shall constitute, when elected and qualified, the board of trustees of the district for the management of the affairs therein, and who shall hold office for two (2) years next succeeding their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

Office of district.

SEC. 6. The board of trustees must keep an office in the county in which said district is created and which county shall have jurisdiction over said district and its officers.

Election of trustees.

SEC. 7. Election of trustees. In each horticultural development district in this State, there shall be an election every two years, held at such time and place, in or near the district, and after such notice as the board of supervisors shall direct; provided, that the notice shall not be less than one month, and at such election each bona fide owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy, and shall have right to cast one vote for each one dollar's worth of real estate owned by him or her in the district, the value thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment roll of the county, and a majority of the votes cast at such election shall elect. In all elections for trustees every owner of real estate shall have the right to cumulate his or her votes, and give one candidate as many votes as the number of trustees to be elected multiplied by the number of dollars' worth of real estate owned by him or her shall equal, or to distribute them on the same principal among as many candidates as he shall think fit.

Time and place of election.

Supervisors to appoint time and place of election. The board of supervisors to which the petition for the formation of the district was presented shall, upon the application of any landholder in the district, appoint a time and place for holding such election, which election shall be held within sixty days from the time of such application; the place shall in all cases be in or near the district. Notice of such election shall be given by publication for not less than one month in a newspaper in each county in which any portion of the lands of the district are situate, if any newspaper is published therein, and if not, then in a newspaper having general circulation in such county.

Terms of office of trustees. The trustees shall hold office until their successors are elected under the provisions of this section.

Officers of election.

Officers of election. For the purpose of such election the board of supervisors of the county in which the whole or the larger part of the lands of any district are situate, must appoint from the landholders of the district one inspector and two judges of election, who shall constitute a board of election for such district; but in case the board of supervisors fail to appoint, or the persons appointed fail to attend at the time and place appointed for the election, the voters present at the time and place of opening the polls may appoint the board, or supply the place of an absent member thereof. Each member of the board must, upon entering upon his duties, be sworn to a faithful performance thereof by some officer authorized to administer oaths. The board of election must canvass the votes cast and issue certificates of election to the persons elected, and must place the ballots, when canvassed, in an envelope and forward the same, sealed, to the clerk of the board of supervisors.

Challenge of votes

Challenge of votes. Any legally qualified voter may challenge any vote, and the board of election shall determine, by the oath of the parties or otherwise, as they may think proper, whether or not the person challenged is entitled to vote, and in case of challenge, any one of the board of election is hereby authorized to administer oaths.

The polls shall be open from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m.

In case of vacancy in the board of trustees, the board of supervisors shall, by appointment, fill such vacancy.

Suit to test validity of district.

SEC. 8. From and after the election of said trustees said district shall be deemed organized and shall have power to sue and be sued.

The trustees of any horticultural development district may commence a proceeding in the superior court of the county where the greater portion of the district is situated to determine the legality of the existence of such district. The complaint in such proceeding shall describe the district by number and the land constituting the same, and shall contain a prayer that such district be adjudged a legal horticultural development district. Summons in such proceeding shall be served by publishing a copy thereof for four (4) weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in every county where any part of said district is situated. Within thirty (30) days after the last publication of such summons any person who may be interested may appear and answer said complaint, in which answer the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of the district shall be set forth. If no answer be filed the court must render judgment as prayed for in the complaint. If any answer shall be filed, the court shall thereafter proceed as in any civil case but no district shall be adjudged invalid when it appears that such district has for five years prior to the commencement of such proceeding been prosecuting or maintaining the object for which it was organized in good faith.

That the proceeding under this section is described to be a proceeding in rem and the judgment rendered therein shall be conclusive against all persons whomsoever and against the State of California.

No proceeding in quo warranto, or any similar action or proceeding shall be maintained in the name of the people of the State of California against any horticultural development district that shall have continuously for five years next preceding the commencement of such proceeding been acting as such and prosecuting or maintaining its works of development in good faith.

Powers and duties of trustees.

SEC. 9. Said board of trustees shall have power and duties as follows, to wit:

(a) Office and records. To keep an office in the county having jurisdiction over said district, and the books, maps, papers, records, contracts and all documents pertaining to the affairs of the district must be open for inspection at all reasonable times to any person interested.

(b) To elect one of its members president of said board of trustees.

(c) To elect one of its members or any other person secretary of said board of trustees. It shall be the duty of the secretary to have charge of the office of the board of trustees and to keep the minutes of all meetings and to attest all documents requiring the signature of the president and to keep true and accurate accounts of all expenditures made in behalf of said district. All accounts and all contracts that may be made by said board of trustees shall be open to the inspection of the board of supervisors of any county within which any portion of said land of said district lies and to every person interested.

(d) To employ engineers, attorneys and others for the purpose of assisting the trustees in the carrying on of the works and development of the district.

(e) To commence proceedings in the superior court of the county where the greater portion of the district is situated to determine the legality of the district in the manner that section 8 of this act provides.

(f) To draft a plan for the development to orchards of lands within the district and to file said plan of development with the board of supervisors of the county within the greater portion of the land of said district is situated.

(g) To perform such duties with respect to the raising of moneys by taxes upon the lands in said district and by the selling of the fruit crop for which said district was created and retaining a portion thereof for the expenses of said district and retirement of the bonds as set forth in section 23 of this act.

(h) To perform such duties with respect to the calling of bond election and the issuance of bonds as is provided in section 21 of this act.

(i) To exercise a general supervision and complete control over the planting, maintenance and development of the orchards on the lands within the district, and, generally, over the affairs of the district.

(j) To provide a seal which will contain the number of the district and the county in which the lands or the greater portion thereof is situated, and all documents requiring the approval by the board of trustees shall hereafter bear the seal of the district.

(k) To adopt by-laws not inconsistent with the laws of California for the management and control of the district.

(l) To do and perform all acts and things which said trustees may deem advisable, necessary or convenient for planting, developing, maintaining or operating the horticultural development of lands therein or accomplishing the purpose for which said district was formed.

(m) The several members of the board of trustees shall be entitled to receive such compensation for services actually and necessarily performed as may be fixed in said by-laws and shall be reimbursed for such expenditures as they may necessarily incur in their performance as such trustees.

What board of supervisors to control.

SEC. 9. The board of supervisors of the county wherein the greater portion of the land of said district lies shall have jurisdiction over all affairs of such district and all references herein to the board of supervisors shall mean the board of supervisors of the county within the greater portion of the lands of said district are situated.

Plans to be filed.

SEC. 10. The board of trustees of such horticultural development district must report to the board of supervisors by filing with the county clerk of the said county plans for the works of development of the lands within said district, together with the estimates of the costs of the contemplated works of the district, including incidental expenses, maintenance and caring for trees to be planted in pursuance of any such plan or plans of horticultural development.

The term "horticultural development" as used in this act shall include the removal of dead orchards, preparing and planting any lands to the same crop, caring for the same and bringing them to maturity and productivity.

Hearing on plan.

Upon receipt of such plan of development the clerk of the board of supervisors shall immediately set a date when the said board of supervisors shall hold a meeting for considering objections, if any, to said plans. All such hearings of the said board of supervisors shall be held not less than twenty nor more than sixty days after the said plan is filed with the clerk of said board. Notice of said hearing before the said board of supervisors shall be given by said clerk by publishing a notice of said hearing for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published within said district, or if there be no such newspaper so published, then in the county seat of the county having jurisdiction over said district. Said notice shall be substantially in the following form,

"Notice to the landowners of Horticultural District No. ____ Notice.
Notice is hereby given to the landowners of Horticultural District No. _____ that there has been filed with the county clerk of the county of _____ original (or amendatory, supplementary or additional) plans for the development of said district; that the said board of supervisors will hold a meeting at its office in the city of _____, county of _____, State of California, on the _____ day of _____, 19__, at _____ o'clock __m., at which time any interested party may appear and object to said plans."

At said hearing the said board shall hear such evidence as may be offered with respect to said plans, and thereafter shall approve, modify, amend or reject the said plans. The said board shall have power to continue or adjourn the said hearing from time to time and shall have authority to cause such investigation and a report of said plans to be made by any other competent authority if said board shall deem it necessary.

When the said board of supervisors shall have taken action approving, modifying or rejecting any such plan at a hearing as herein provided, such action shall be final and thereafter the sufficiency of such plans shall not be subject to attack either before the said board of supervisors or in any court; providing, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the board of trustees of any district from at any time filing with the county clerk of the county having jurisdiction over said district any amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of horticultural development. In the event any such amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of development is filed with the said clerk of said board the same proceeding shall be held and with like effect with respect to said amendatory, additional or supplemental plan as is herein provided for the original plan. Plan approved by supervisors is final.

Thereupon, either after approving said original plan, or after approving any amendatory, additional or supplemental plan of development the said supervisors must appoint three (3) commissioners who shall have no interest in any real estate within said district, each of whom, before entering upon his duties shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of a commissioner to the best of his ability. Said commissioners must view and assess upon the lands within the said district the said sum estimated and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in the district, respectively, by reason of expenditures of said sums of money and shall estimate the same in lawful money of the United States of America. The same must be Appointment of commissioners to assess land.

collected and paid into the county treasury as hereinafter provided and paid to the credit of the district and paid out for the works of the developments by warrants of the trustees approved by the board of supervisors or, if bonds of such district have been issued upon said assessment the said treasurer shall set the same apart as a separate fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of such bonds and shall not pay any part of the sums received from said assessment for any other purpose than the paying of the principal and interest of such bonds.

Warrants: Form.

SEC. 11. Except as herein otherwise provided all warrants drawn by the trustees must be substantially the following form:

"No.------ $------

Office of the board of trustees of Horticultural District No. ------.

The treasurer of ------ county will pay to the order of ------ out of Horticultural Development District No. ------ fund the sum of ------ dollars for ------ allowed by the board of trustees of said Horticultural Development District No. ------.

Dated ------, 19--.

Trustees

Attest: ---

Secretary"

Registration of warrants.

Warrants drawn by the trustees must be presented to the treasurer of the county and if they are not paid on presentation such endorsement must be made thereon and they must be registered and bear interest from their date at the rate of seven per cent per annum and such warrants are, and shall be, considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period subscribed for the commencement of an action based upon said warrants, or connected therewith is and shall be the term of four years from the date of said warrants, unless said warrants are payable by their terms at a future date, in which event the said term of four years can not commence until the maturity of said warrants; provided, however, that all warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors before the same shall be paid, or registered, by the county treasurer.

All warrants shall be paid by the county treasurer strictly in the order in which they have been registered, except warrants that are by their term payable at a future date and such warrants shall be considered as being registered as of the date of their maturity, if actually registered at or prior to maturity, otherwise as of the date of actual registration. The board of trustees may extend any warrant by endorsement thereon for an additional period of four years from the date of such extension.

Supplemental plan

If the original assessment is insufficient to provide for the complete development of the lands of the district, or if further assessment will from time to time be required to provide future maintenance, caring for, and further development of the orchards of said district, the trustees may file with the clerk of the board of supervisors an additional and supplemental plan of horticultural development and a statement of the work done, or to be done, and its estimated costs, and the same proceeding shall be had thereon as provided in section 11 of this act for the original plan of horticultural development.

Assessment list.

SEC. 13. The commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors must make a list of charges assessed against each tract of land and if there be any error or mistake in the description of the lands, or in the name of the owner, or if any land that should have been assessed shall or should be omitted from the list or if there is an error or a mistake in any other respect, the commissioners may amend or correct the same at any time before the list shall have been approved by the board of supervisors as hereinafter provided.

What to contain

The list must contain:

1. A description of each tract assessed by legal subdivisions or other boundaries, sufficient to identify the same.

2. The number of acres in each tract.

3. The names of the owners of each tract if known, if unknown, that fact; but no mistake or any error in the name of the owner, or supposed owner, of the property assessed and no mistake in any other particular shall render the assessment thereof invalid.

4. The amount of the charge assessed against each tract.

Hearing on objection to assessment

Said list when completed shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors. The board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it shall meet for the purpose of hearing objections to such assessment and notice of such hearing shall be given by publication for two times, to wit: once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county.

At any time before the date of such hearing any person interested in any land upon which any charge has been assessed may file a written objection to such assessment, stating the grounds of such objection, which said statement shall be verified by the affidavit of such person, or some other person who is familiar with the facts. At said hearing the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objection and may approve, modify or amend said assessment in any particular, or may make a reapportionment of the entire assessment.

If the amount of any assessment sum on said list shall be changed the board of supervisors shall set a day for hearing the objection to said assessment as changed and shall give notice of such hearing in the same manner as the original hearing to the assessment. At such hearing, objections in writing may be made by any person interested, and the board of supervisors shall proceed to hear the same in the same manner as the original hearing. If the amount of any assessment shall again be changed, the board of supervisors shall proceed as before to give notice and to hear objections thereto and shall proceed in similar manner until the amount of each assessment shall be finally fixed and approved.

Order approving assessment.

The board of supervisors shall then make an order approving said assessment and shall endorse such order upon said assessment list, which said endorsement shall be filed by the chairman of the said board of supervisors and attested by the clerk thereof and such decision of said board of supervisors shall be final and thereafter said assessment list shall be conclusive evidence that the said assessment has been made and levied according to law, except in an action commenced as hereinafter provided. The list shall be prepared in duplicate, one original thereof being retained in the office of the district and the second original thereof shall then be filed with the county treasurer or if the district is situated in more than one county, then the second original list must be filed in the county where the greater portion of the land of said district is situated, and copies thereof, certified by the treasurer, must be filed with the treasurer of each of the other counties.

No objection to such assessment shall be considered by the board of supervisors or allowed in any other action or proceeding unless such objection shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors as above specified.

Appeal.

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater portion of said district is situated to have said assessment corrected, modified or annulled. Said action must be commenced within thirty (30) days after said assessment list has been filed with the county treasurer. If said action shall not be commenced within thirty days no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained in attacking the legality of said assessment in any respect.

Assessments a lien.

SEC. 14. When the board of supervisors shall have finally taken action modifying or approving any assessment liens as provided in section 13 of this act, the charges assessed thereby upon tracts of land in the county shall constitute a lien thereon and shall impart notice thereof to all persons and shall be superior to all other liens and encumbrances except State and county and municipal taxes or any taxes or assessments of irrigation, conservation or water storage districts.

Said assessment shall be collected as provided in section 18 of this act.

Payment of assessment.

SEC. 15. The said second original assessment list must remain in the office of the county treasurer and for a period of thirty days said assessment shall not bear interest; and as long as bonds have not been authorized and sold on the basis of said assessment, any landowner may pay in lawful money of the United States or approved warrants of the district, the whole or any part, both principal and interest, of said assessment on any tract of land. If any bonds shall have been authorized before payment on said assessment, but shall not have been sold, the amount to be sold shall be reduced by the amount paid on the principal of said assessment. The reduction shall be only in the latest maturities; and such changes and cancellations shall be made by the county treasurer in the unsold bonds as shall be necessary to accomplish said reduction. Whenever the district is situated in more than one county the county treasurer in each county wherein any of the lands assessed are situated, shall report to the county treasurer of the main county all payments made of assessments on all tracts of lands, whether in cash or warrants, immediately upon such payments be made.

Delinquent assesments.

SEC. 16. At the end of said period of thirty days all unpaid assessments shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum. Thereafter all unpaid assessments and accrued interest shall be collected as hereinafter set forth.

Reassessment of lands.

SEC. 17. In all cases in which an assessment shall have been levied or shall hereafter be levied for horticultural purposes upon the lands embraced within any horticultural district now or hereafter formed or created, is thereafter adjudged invalid by any court of competent jurisdiction, or shall be adjudged invalid as to any tract or tracts of land, within said district, or if, for any reason, any tract or tracts of land within such district shall not have been charged with said assessment a new assessment on the lands of the district may be levied for the purpose of raising the amount for which said invalid assessment was levied and any further sum then required or found necessary, and such tract or tracts of land shall be charged in any such subsequent assessment with such proportion of the former assessment as the benefits derived by said land from the horticultural product for which said former assessment was levied bears to the whole amount of said former assessment; or a subsequent reassessment of such tract or tracts of land may be made separately for the purpose of charging said land with its proper proportion of the costs of horticultural development; provided, that in case any assessment that has been heretofore or shall hereafter be levied for horticultural development upon the lands embraced within any horticultural district is so adjudged to be invalid either as a whole or as to any tract upon which it may have been levied, and any landowner of the district shall have paid the amount or any portion of the amount assessed in said assessment or any tract of land before said assessment shall have been or shall be so adjudged invalid, the amount paid by said landowner together with the legal interest thereon from the date of such payment shall be a credit, and shall be credited by the treasurer of the county where the assessment list is filed on any subsequent assessment on the tract of land on which said invalid assessment was paid, and be applied in satisfaction pro tanto of any such subsequent assessment hereafter levied on the said tract. Such subsequent assessment or reassessment shall be made by commissioners appointed by the board of supervisors of the county as provided in section 13 of this act, and shall be made and approved in the same manner as other assessments.

Collection of assessments.

SEC. 18. Assessments shall be collected as follows: The board of trustees shall collect said assessment in separate installments, of such amount and at such time, respectively, as the board from time to time in its discretion by order entered in its minutes as may direct. Upon making such order the secretary shall also enter in the minutes of the board a notice in substantially the following form:

Notice.

"Installment Notice of Horticultural Development District No. _____.

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of trustees of Horticultural Development District No. _____ held on the _____ day of _____, 19__, an installment of _____ per cent was ordered paid within sixty days from date thereof to the county treasurer of the county of _____. Any installment which shall remain unpaid on the _____ day of _____ will be delinquent, together with the accrued interest thereon."

How served

The notice must be personally served on each landowner in the district, or in lieu of such personal service, must be sent through the mail addressed to such owner at his place of residence, if known, or entered upon the assessment roll of the county, and if not known, at the place where the principal office of the district is situated, or by publication two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county seat of the county where the greater portion of said district is situated. Whenever the district is situated in more than one county the county treasurer of each county wherein any of the lands assessed are situated shall immediately follow the expiration of said period of sixty days report to the county treasurer of the main county all payment made of assessments on each tract of land respectively, and shall also report all tracts which are delinquent as hereinafter provided, together with the delinquencies thereon.

When delinquent.

If any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of the sixty days from the date of the order, then the said installment shall become delinquent together with the accrued interest thereon and a penalty of ten per cent on the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected for the use of the district.

Delinquency notice and sale of property.

SEC. 19. Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the county treasurer of the main county must publish in each county where such delinquencies exist, a list in one notice of all said delinquencies in such county at least two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Said notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, as described in the assessment list or by reference to number as set forth in said assessment list on file in the office of the county treasurer (stating the date and time said list was so filed) or by other appropriate reference thereto sufficient to identify the same, and shall refer to said list for further particulars. Said notice shall also contain the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such is the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, interest and penalty thereon calculated to the date of call and a notice that the property assessed will be sold by the county treasurer of the main county on the date therein stated, in front of the courthouse of said county to pay the amount of said installment with accrued interest and penalty. The date of said sale shall be not less than ten days after the date of the last publication of said notice. And at said time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the said county treasurer must sell said property to the highest bidder for lawful money of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the county treasurer shall place the amount due on said property as shown in said notice in the proper funds of said district and shall pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining. The county treasurer may postpone said sale from time to time for not less than ten or more than thirty days at any one time by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

When sold to county treasurer.

If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount due thereon, then county treasurer of the main county shall bid in and sell said property to himself and his successors in office as trustee for the district, and said property shall be struck off to him for said amount. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the county treasurer to the purchaser, or to the county treasurer, if the property shall have been struck off to him, and said certificate of sale shall be filed in the office of the county recorder of said county. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within three years after the date of said sale, by paying to the county treasurer the amount for which said property was sold, and interest on the said sums at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of said sale. Upon such redemption a certificate of redemption shall be issued by the county treasurer to the party so redeeming which said certificate shall be filed in the office of the county recorder. If no redemption shall be made within said three years the purchaser, upon demand and surrender by him, of certificate of purchase, or the county treasurer if said property shall have been sold to him shall be entitled to a deed executed by said county treasurer and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances excepting State, county and municipal taxes and any prior or subsequent district assessment and any taxes or assessment of irrigation, conservation or water storage districts.

Redemption

Sale after redemption period

Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a county treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successors in office, at any time after the expiration of said redemption period at public or private sale, and with or without notice, to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said county treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate or seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly from the date of said delinquent sale together with any call that has been made upon any prior or subsequent assessment; and the deed executed by the county treasurer in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances except State, county and municipal taxes and any prior or subsequent district assessment and any taxes or assessments of irrigation, conservation or water storage districts. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period for redemption such parcel may be sold as in section 20 of this act provided.

Sale of unredeemed and unsold land.

SEC. 20. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period of redemption of any land sold to the district, or county treasurer as trustee for the district, either pursuant to the provisions of sections 19 or 21 of this act the county treasurer of the main county, when and as directed by the board of trustees of the district, may in their discretion then sell any land remaining unsold, to the highest bidder for cash at the front door of the courthouse of the main county of the district after giving previous notice of such sale, and the time and place of holding the same, by publication thereof in some newspaper published in the county in which the land to be sold or some portion thereof is situated for two times, to wit: once a week for two successive weeks. It shall be sufficient to describe said land in said notice by reference number as set forth in the assessment lists to which reference shall be made in said notice, and to the date and time of filing same, for further particulars. The trustees of the district shall have the right to reject any and all bids and no bid shall be accepted for an amount less than such price as shall be approved by them. No parcel shall be sold for an amount less than the fair market value thereof as such value shall be ascertained by the board of trustees. One or more parcels of such land may be included in the same notice and sold severally at the time and place set forth in said notice. Upon such last mentioned sale being made as herein provided, the said county treasurer shall execute a deed to the purchaser conveying the land sold, upon payment of the price bid, which deed shall have the effect of conveying title to the land sold to the purchaser free of encumbrance, except district assessment (including the unpaid balance of said assessment for the delinquency of which said property was sold) which upon the date of the sale herein provided had not been called, any exception as may be otherwise provided by law, and such deed duly executed and acknowledged shall be prima facie evidence that all the proceedings for the levy and collection of the delinquent assessment for which said land was sold, and all of the proceeds for the sale of said land have been duly and regularly taken, and all notices required to be given or published have been so duly given and published for the time and manner required by law.

District to have possession of delinquent land.

Where any land has been sold for a delinquent assessment, pursuant to the provisions of sections 19 or 21 of this act for a delinquent assessment or installment of the same and no redemption has been made and the time for redemption has expired, the district shall have the right to the possession of the land so sold and unredeemed and the board of trustees shall have the right to bring and maintain any and all actions in equity or law in connection with said land and the protection of the district's rights therein to the same extent as any other owner; and the costs and expenses for such action or actions shall be a charge against the district. The board of trustees shall also have the right to expend funds of the district in such amounts that may from time to time be necessary for the purpose of retiring any and all liens against such land superior to the title of the county treasurer therein.

The trustees of the district shall have the management and control of, and right to lease out to a tenant on tenants for such reasonable rental and upon such terms as such trustees may deem advisable, any and all lands in the district which have been sold to the county treasurer, as trustee, for delinquent assessments, where the time for redemption has expired and said lands remain unsold and to receive and collect the rental for the same. All rentals collected or moneys received by the trustees of the district from such lease of lands or for the use or occupation of such land may be applied by them to the payment of the incidental expenses of holding and leasing said lands and to the payment of any other incidental expenses of, or legal charge against the district; provided, however, that all rentals collected or moneys received from lease of land sold to the county treasurer as trustee of the district pursuant to the provisions of sections 19 or 20 of this act or for the use or occupation of such land, less the incidental expenses of leasing or holding the same, shall in the event said district shall be in default for interest or principal payments or any of said bonds issued by said district, be deposited in said county treasury of the main county, to the credit of the bond fund of the district. An amount equal to the revenues derived from each tract by reason of the leasing, use or occupation thereof, less the incidental expenses of leasing and holding same, shall be credited by the county treasurer on the assessment lists against the delinquent charges on said tract.

The provisions hereof shall apply to all lands heretofore sold for delinquency to a district or to the county treasurer, as trustee as well as to future sales under assessments whether heretofore or hereafter to be, levied.

When bonds to be issued.

SEC. 21. Whenever in any horticultural development district an assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district and remains unpaid in whole or in part, where, in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district, it would be for the best interest of said district to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of horticultural development therein, the indebtedness of the district or any other legal charge, the board of trustees of such district shall by order enter upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by said board of trustees, at which said special election shall be submitted to the owners of said district the question of whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of trustees in its record and stated by them in the order for such special election.

Petition Who may sign.

For all purposes of this article relating to signing petitions and by-laws and voting at any election of horticultural development districts the equalized assessment roll for the year last preceding, in each county wherein any land of the district is situated shall be sufficient evidence of ownership and of value of lands in the district as hereinafter provided. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign such petitions or by-laws or may vote without obtaining special authority therefor.

Notice of election.

Notice of such special election must be given by the board of trustees by posting notice thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of the district to act as a board of election. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which said district or the greater part thereof is situated (herein designated as the main county), together with a copy of said order calling the election, certified by the president of the board of trustees.

Who may vote

Who may vote. At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district, such value and ownership thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment roll of the county or counties in which lands of said district are situate, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election cause to be prepared and certified by the proper officer and furnished to the board of election a true and correct copy of the said next preceding assessment roll of the said county or counties, which said certified roll shall be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them.

Proxies. Ballots. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words; "Bonds—Yes" or the words "Bonds—No," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds. Proxies Ballots

Election officers Canvass of votes. Contest. If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any landholder of the district. Each member of such board of election, must, before entering upon his duties take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock a.m. of the day of election until four o'clock p.m. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of bonds, to the county clerk of the main county and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the said county clerk of the main county all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election. Any person interested may contest such election within twenty days after such filing of said certificate with the said county clerk by bringing suit in the superior court of the main county; otherwise the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive. Conduct of election

Issue of bonds. If two-thirds of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of trustees of the district shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be executed and delivered, together with the assessment list, to the treasurer of said main county. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees of the district and attested by the county auditor of said main county and shall be numbered consecutively in the Bonds order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the county auditor. The principal of said bonds shall be made payable on the first day of July, or the first day of January, and in such years as the trustees may prescribe, but said bonds shall be payable serially within not more than thirty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

(1) Not less than five per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date.

(2) Not less than five per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds remaining unpaid at the end of ten years shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date, until the whole amount of said bonds has been paid. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

County Auditor.

Sale of bonds. The treasurer of said main county shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district. Thereafter when directed by resolution of the trustees of the district, the treasurer of said county may sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making a sale of said bonds, notice shall be given by the said county treasurer by publication at least once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in said main county, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the county treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may, and upon written request of a majority of the trustees must, reject any and all bids. Any sale by the county treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchase and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon the books of said county treasurer.

Action to test legality

Action to test legality. At any time within thirty days after said bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of the county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said main county by the trustees of said horticultural development district in its name against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of such horticultural development district, and in the event no such action is brought then the same may be commenced by any landowner in the district within thirty days thereafter. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it) without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owner of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court, and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid of invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appear to the Supreme Court within thirty days after the entry of judgment. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and other interested persons.

Warrants

Warrants. The board of trustees of said district may draw warrants upon said county treasurer against the funds provided by sale of bonds, which said warrants shall be approved by the board of supervisors of said main county.

Bond fund.

Bond fund. All moneys collected by any county treasurer upon any assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued, including all moneys derived from sale of land for delinquent installments, or from redemption thereof, or from sale of lands bought by the treasurer at any such sale, shall be by such treasurer forthwith paid into the main county treasury and shall be credited to the bond fund of such horticultural development district, and used exclusively for the payment of principal and interest of said bonds issued on such assessment, and of the principal and interest of any refunding bonds issued thereon.

Bonds as legal investment

Bonds as legal investment. The bonds of horticultural development districts issued pursuant to this act which have been investigated and certified by any officer of this State now or hereafter authorized to make such investigation and certification and by the authority of which certification are declared to be legal for investments by savings banks of this State may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge for loans by savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this State or of any county, city or city and county or other municipal or corporate body within this State having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

Election prior to assessment. If the trustees deem it advisable they may order a special election to be held prior to making any assessment, to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued for an amount to be stated in the order for such election, but no bonds shall, in such instance, be issued until an assessment for the amount of the bonds authorized at such election shall have been made and filed with the county treasurer. Election prior to assessment.

Additional assessment. The lien of any unpaid assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued shall continue until all said bonds, and any refunding bonds which may be issued, shall have been paid in full, and if for any reason any part of such principal or interest of said bonds, or of refunding bonds shall remain unpaid after enforcement of said assessment in this article provided, the board of supervisors of the main county shall order an additional or supplemental assessment to be made as provided in section 25 sufficient to pay such unpaid principal and interest; which additional or supplemental assessment shall be enforced and collected in the same manner as the original assessment. Additional assessment.

Additional bonds. If any district having authorized the issuance of a series of bonds shall issue an additional series of bonds based on another assessment, the dates of maturity of such additional series of bonds shall be such that the latest maturities thereof shall not exceed thirty years and the earliest maturity of bonds of such additional series shall be later than the latest maturity of bonds of any earlier series, excepting refunding bonds. All provisions of this section relative to the original issue of bonds shall apply to such additional series of bonds so far as applicable. Additional bonds.

Bonds of different denominations. Any district which has issued bonds of different denominations, may, by an order entered in its minutes, upon request of holders thereof, and upon the deposit of the bonds issued and outstanding with the board of trustees, issue to the holders of such deposited bonds, bonds of the district in the same form but in different denominations, but having the same aggregate face value and maturity. Such bonds shall be executed by all persons who are required by law to execute the original bonds for which such exchange is made, and the said bonds so deposited shall be thereupon canceled by the treasurer of the main county and the board of trustees of the district. Bonds of different denominations.

Warrants as payment of bonds.

Warrants as payment of bonds. Upon a sale of any of the bonds provided herein (excepting refunding bonds) the county treasurer of the main county is hereby authorized to accept in payment for said bonds, either in whole or in part, outstanding warrants of such district at their face value, together with the accrued interest thereon.

Interest on unpaid installments.

Interest on unpaid installments. Where bonds of the district have been authorized to be issued on such assessments all unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of the bonds originally issued thereon until such bonds and any refunding bonds issued thereon shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the interest due at any time on said unpaid assessment shall be called without calling any installment of the said assessment. The word installment as used in this section shall be construed as applying to interest as well as the principal as the case may be.

Estimate of amount to pay interest and principal.

Estimate of amount to pay interest and principal. At least ninety days before any interest date of the bonds, including refunding bonds, the county treasurer of the main county shall estimate the amount of money necessary to pay interest and principal maturing on such interest date after crediting thereon the funds in the treasury applicable to the payment thereof, and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies, and said county treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the district may be situate a notice substantially in the following form:

Notice: Form.

Form of notice. (Name of horticultural development district). Notice is hereby given that an installment of assessment (describing it) of $_____, being _____ per cent is payable within thirty days from _____ (date) by all assessed landowners of said district in the county of (name of county) to the treasurer of said county. All or any part of said installment which shall remain unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, together with ten per cent of such installment added as penalty.

Dated (date).

(Signed)_____

Treasurer of _____ County.

Delinquent installments

Delinquent installments. If no newspaper is published in said county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county. If any part of such installment or any interest thereon shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of said notice, it shall become delinquent and ten per cent of the unpaid amount of said installment shall be added thereto and collected by said treasurer.

Delinquency list.

Delinquency list. When any installment shall have become delinquent, said treasurer shall publish two times, to wit:

once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which any portion of the said delinquent land may lie (or if an adjoining county) a notice of all said delinquencies. Said notice shall contain a description of each parcel of land assessed in the district whereon such installment is delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list or by reference number as set forth in said assessment list on file in the office of the county treasurer (stating the date and time said list was so filed) or by other appropriate reference thereto sufficient to identify the same, and shall refer to said list for further particulars. Said list shall also contain the name of the person to whom it is assessed, to unknown owners if such is the fact; the amount of the installment delinquent on such parcel; the amount of said penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said main county, at a special day and hour which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the date of delinquency, to pay said delinquent installment, with penalty.

Sale for delinquent installments. At the time stated in said notice, the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder, unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment together with such penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due on said installment thereon, with penalty and such sale shall be made for cash (except the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value in lieu of cash, bonds, of said district or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment and then matured or to mature within sixty days after such sale). Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in his office. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required to complete payment of the purchase money, the treasurer shall indorse thereon as paid, the amount of such purchase money credited thereon. Sale for delinquent installments.

Sale to treasurer. If no bid is made for any parcel at such sale equal to the amount of the installment and delinquent thereon, with penalty, the treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to himself and his successors in office, as trustee of the district, as purchaser, for the amount of said installment, interest and penalty. Sale to treasurer.

Certificate of sale. The treasurer shall execute to each purchaser, including himself as trustee, a certificate of sale and a duplicate thereof shall be filed in the county recorder's office. Certificate of sale.

Redemption. Any person interested in the said property may redeem the same at any time within three years after the date of sale, by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certifi- Redemption.

cate, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption.

Deed to purchaser

Deed to purchaser. If no redemption shall be made within three years, the treasurer upon demand and surrender of such certificate of purchase, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, or to himself as trustee of the district if the property shall have been sold to him, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances, except State, county and municipal taxes, and any taxes or assessments of irrigation, conservation or water storage districts, and except any portion of any horticultural development assessment remaining unpaid at the date of said sale; each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the county treasurer as trustee of the district shall thereafter be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments. Every deed by a county treasurer purporting to be executed under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited, and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described.

Credit to bond fund

Credit to bond fund. The treasurer shall credit to the bond fund of the district all money collected by him by sale or otherwise, upon assessment against which bonds shall have been issued, including interest and penalties and he shall likewise credit to said fund the amounts of purchase money paid in bonds or coupons on sales made for said assessment. The treasurer shall charge to the general fund of the district, or to its bond fund if he has no money to the credit of its general fund the expense of publication of notices and of recording certificates of sale.

Sale of lands purchased by treasurer

Sale of lands purchased by treasurer. Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successor in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of three years, at public or private sale and with or without notice to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly, from the date of said delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Such payment may be made either in cash or in matured bonds and coupons issued on said assessment, taken at their face value, and the treasurer shall execute a deed to such purchaser upon such sale, conveying said property free of encumbrance except State, county and municipal taxes, and the unpaid balance of said assessment. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period of redemption, such parcel may be sold as in section 20 of this act provided. Any balance remaining in such bond fund, after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds of the district, shall be by the treasurer transferred to the general fund of the district.

Application of section. The provision of this section, shall apply to all sales for delinquencies, and the proceedings had in connection therewith, on all assessments. Application of section

Voting after change of ownership. In the event that ownership of any property in the district is changed after the making of the last assessment roll for the district, the owner thereof shall be entitled to vote thereon upon production of the original or of certified copy of the record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situate. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to this right to vote shall incur all of the penalties provided in the Penal Code of the State of California for persons illegally voting at elections. Voting after change of ownership.

Bonds as payment on assessment. Any landowner of the district who shall desire at any time to lessen or remove the lien upon his land of any assessment on which bonds have been issued may deliver to the county treasurer for cancellation any bonds payable out of said assessment, and the treasurer shall credit against the assessment on his land the principal and accrued interest on said bonds. Bonds as payment on assessment.

Calling and retiring bonds. The board of trustees in their discretion, may provide at any time before sale of bonds that said bonds shall be callable at face value in the manner provided by law at any interest payment date together with accrued interest thereon, and either with or without a premium to be specified by said board and inserted in said bonds; and the method of calling and retiring said bonds shall be as follows: Calling and retiring bonds.

Order calling bonds. Not less than ninety days before any interest payment date the trustees, by a two-thirds vote, may adopt an order calling bonds of the district, in any amount, for payment on such date. The order shall specify the maturities of the bonds called, commencing with the earliest maturities. If less than all bonds of any maturity are called then the trustees, by a drawing shall ascertain the bonds to be called in such maturity and the order shall designate the number of the bonds so drawn. A certified copy of the order shall be delivered to the county treasurer and he shall add the principal of said bonds, with any premium provided by the terms thereof, to the amount which he is required to collect for payment of the next maturing interest coupons. In his notice of call of assessment the county treasurer shall specify the amount which is included for payment of principal of bonds and premium. Bonds shall be paid in order of presentation. Order calling bonds.

Notice of call. Not less than once a week for four weeks prior to the date on which bonds are called for payment the county treasurer, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the main county, shall publish a notice wherein he shall set forth said order of the trustees and shall Notice of call.

notify all holders of said bonds to present the same for payment on the date specified and that whenever, on or after such date, funds are received by him for payment of said bonds with any said premium all interest thereon shall cease.

Cancellation of proceedings.

Cancellation of proceedings. If within one year after any issue of bonds is deposited with the county treasurer, none of such bonds shall have been sold, or if within one year from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of bonds, none of the bonds have been deposited with the county treasurer, the board of trustees, in their discretion, may by an order enter in their minutes cancel all proceedings taken in connection with such bond issue. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the county treasurer of such county wherein lands affected by the assessment on which said bonds were based are situated. The county treasurer with whom said bonds have been deposited shall thereupon cancel said bonds together with all coupons attached thereto. Such cancellation shall not affect the validity of the assessment upon which said bonds were issued, and the board of trustees may call for the payment of such assessment, or any part thereof, in such installments from time to time as they shall determine and as provided in section 18 of this act, or, in their discretion, and either before or after any installment of said assessment shall have been paid, they may cause bonds to be authorized and issued upon the unpaid portion of such assessment after proceedings therefor shall have been taken in the manner hereinabove in this section provided.

Cancellation of unsold bonds

Cancellation of unsold bonds. In case a portion of any issue of bonds remains unsold after the lapse of one year after the same shall have been deposited with the county treasurer or have not been deposited with the county treasurer within one year after the date of the election authorizing their issuance the board of trustees may in their discretion likewise, by an order enter on their minutes cancel said portion of said bonds so remaining unsold or not so deposited with the county treasurer and all proceedings in relation thereto; and a certified copy of such order shall likewise be filed with the county treasurer in each county wherein the lands affected by the assessment on which said bonds are based are situated.

Assessments covered by unsold bonds

Assessments covered by unsold bonds. The county treasurer with whom said bonds have been deposited shall thereupon cancel the same together with all coupons attached thereto. In case a portion only of any bond issue shall have been canceled as above provided the board of trustees shall call in and order paid the portion of the assessment represented by the bonds canceled, in such installment or installments as the said board shall determined, and as provided in section 18 of this act, and the amount collected shall be deposited in the county treasury and paid out on warrants of the district in the order of their registration drawn in payment of the cost of the works, repairs, maintenance, charges or incidental expenses of the district, for the payment of which the said assessment upon which said bonds were issued was levied.

Limit on call of such assessment. Provided, that where a portion of the bonds based on such assessment have been sold are outstanding and remain unpaid in whole or in part only such portion of said assessment shall be so called in or order paid as above provided for the payment of warrants issued in payment of the costs of the works of the district, maintenance or repairs as will leave sufficient of said assessment on said land uncalled as will meet and pay the principal and interest of said bonds as and when due and payable.

Limit on call of such assessment.

SEC. 22. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this act contained, if, in the judgment of the board of trustees, it is desirable that the principal and/or interest of any bonds issued pursuant to the act, or any part of principal or interest shall be payable from the proceeds or any part thereof or any sales of horticultural produce raised on the lands in said district, or from any other source, or sources, of payments to the then existing assessment the board of trustees may so provide by resolution adopted at any time prior to the final retirement of such bonds. Notwithstanding such order of the board of trustees, however, the county treasurer shall make the estimate provided for in the preceding section and shall retain the sum so collected in a special fund to be designated as bond redemption fund of horticultural development district No. ------ and there shall always remain in said fund a sufficient fund to make the next ensuing payment of any principal or interest in the event such payment of principal or interest are paid by income or other sources available to the trustees of the district other than said assessment.

Payment of bonds by sale of produce

The board of trustees in the event such resolution is adopted, for the payment of either principal or interest of said bonds, shall retain from the sums of money that they shall receive from the sale of horticultural produce of said district as in section 23 provided a sufficient sum to pay the installment of either principal or interest, or both, next ensuing of said bonds and shall deliver to the county treasurer such sum at least sixty days prior to the date upon which the sum of principal or interest are payable, in which event the county treasurer shall retain such sums as have been collected on said assessment as provided in this section of this act in the bond redemption fund herein provided for. The following year the said treasurer shall make no estimate of the amount required for the ensuing payment of principal or interest unless the requirement of interest or principal payment shall be greater than the sum in such bond redemption fund, in which event said treasurer shall estimate the amount of such difference in order to collect a sufficient sum between the amount on hand and the required sum plus fifteen per cent of the amount required, and shall collect such sum as in section 21 of this act provided. In the event the revenues from other sources are sufficient to pay such payment of principal

Retention of amount to pay next installment or interest such amount collected by the treasurer shall be added to the redemption fund and retained therein for future payments of principal and interest of said bonds and in each year thereafter until the final maturity of all bonds, the said treasurer shall make such call as may be necessary to make up the difference between the sum in his possession and the amount required to pay the next ensuing installment of principal and interest of said bonds, plus the sum of fifteen per cent on such amount.

Sale of produce

SEC. 23. All horticultural produce raised in said district shall be sold through and in the name of the trustees of said district and all sums of money received in payment therefor shall be paid to the trustees of said district, who shall use said money for the following purposes:

Disposition of proceeds

(1) If they have adopted a resolution to pay the principal and interest of such bonds from sources other than said assessment they must retain from the sale price of such horticultural produce a percentage thereof sufficient to equal the next ensuing payment or principal and interest of said bonds and may then deduct such sum as may be necessary to carry on ordinary operating expenses of said district as provided in section 24 of this act, which said latter designated sum shall be deposited in the revolving fund of said district and payable by order of the board of trustees of such district, or by such person as may be designated by them as hereinafter provided.

(2) The balance of said money so received from the sale of horticultural produce shall be delivered to the owner of the respective lands upon which the same was grown and to whom the same is due. For this last purpose the board of trustees shall keep careful record of all horticultural produce delivered to them, which records shall contain a statement of the name of the landowner delivering the same or the tenant or lessee of the landowner, the lands upon which grown, the amount and kind of produce and the sale price thereof.

Revolving fund.

SEC. 24. The board of trustees of such district shall create a revolving fund out of the price received from the sale of horticultural produce of said district for each cropping year. Said revolving fund shall be created by order of the board of trustees, stating the estimate of the amount to be required for the conducting of the affairs of the district during the next ensuing year and such percentage of the sum of money received from the sale of such horticultural product shall be by them retained to equal the amount so estimated. Said revolving fund shall be used in the payment of all expenses of the district, if the said revolving fund is created, and may be deposited in any bank. Said fund may be drawn either by check signed by a majority of said board or by check drawn by any person designated by the board of trustees of said district by resolution duly adopted by them. If said resolution is adopted by said board of trustees, a certified copy thereof shall be filed with the bank or banks in which said revolving fund is deposited.

Supplemental assessment

SEC. 25. Supplemental assessment. In the event that any bonds shall sell for less than par, or the amount of the bonds issued shall for any reason fail to equal the amount of the assessment upon which the same is based, or the sale price of said bonds shall fail to pay off the said assessment in full then and in that event an additional and supplemental assessment may be spread and levied in the same manner as provided in this act for the spreading of the original assessment and shall be collected likewise.

Vacancy in board of trustees

SEC. 26. Any vacancy in the board of trustees caused by the resignation, death or removal from the State may be filled by the board of supervisors of the main county upon the application of any person or persons owning land in the district.

Dissolution.

SEC. 27. A horticultural development district may be dissolved by either of the following methods:

When the said district has completed its work of horticultural development and has paid off and retired all outstanding bonds, warrants, liens, assessments and claims, the owners of a majority of the lands in said district may file with the board of supervisors of the main county a petition praying for the dissolution of said district. Said petition must contain the following:

Petition

(1) A description of all of the lands in the district.

(2) A statement that all bonds, claims, warrants, liens and every charge of every kind and character have been paid and that there is no outstanding indebtedness in said district.

(3) That the works of the horticultural development have been completed.

Said petition must be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors of the main county, who shall thereupon set a date for the hearing thereof and shall give notice for four weeks preceding the hearing thereof in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the greater part of the lands are situated, which notice shall be substantially in the following form:

Notice.

"Notice of hearing of petition for the dissolution of the Horticultural Development District No. ------.

Notice is hereby given that a petition has been filed with the board of supervisors of the county of ------, State of California, praying for the dissolution of the Horticultural Development District No. ----. Said petition will be heard by the board of supervisors of said county on the ------ day of ------, 19--, at its office in the city of ------, county of ------, State of California, at which time any person interested may appear and show cause why such district should not be dissolved.

Clerk of Board of Supervisors."

Duty of supervisors

If the board of supervisors find on the hearing of the petition that its statements are correct they must make an order dissolving the district. If they find that there are unpaid bonds, warrants, liens, assessments or any other unpaid claims of any kind or character against said district they shall continue the hearing from time to time in order to give the trustees of the district time within which to raise the sum of money to pay off such existing indebtedness of the district, but the said supervisors shall not lose jurisdiction over the hearing of said petition so long as they continue said hearing from time to time to definite stated dates. If it appears at any date so set by continuation that the indebtedness of the district has been paid off since the last adjournment or postponement, then the said supervisors shall make such order dissolving said district.

Said order shall be certified to by the clerk of the board of supervisors and a certified copy thereof shall be recorded in each county where any lands of said district shall be located and upon such recording said district shall be dissolved.

Suit by Attorney General to dissolve

An action may be brought by the Attorney General in the name of the people of this State upon his own information or upon the complaint of a private party, for the dissolution of the horticultural development district for nonusers of its corporate powers. In such action, the complaint and summons must be served personally upon a majority of the trustees of such district.

In any such action when service of the summons has been made upon the defendant and the defendant has appeared or default has been entered the court, upon application of any party shall thereupon enter an order fixing a date for the hearing, which shall not be less than sixty days from the date of the order. Said order shall also direct the clerk to give all persons interested in said district, either as owners of land in said district or creditors of said district, or otherwise, notice requiring them to be and appear on the day fixed for the hearing of said cause, if any they have, why the district named in the complaint as defendant should not be dissolved. The court shall order the notice to be served by publication in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the greater portion of said lands of said district lies for a period of not less than twenty days.

On the date fixed for the hearing or some later date to which the same may be continued, the court may proceed with the hearing, due proof having been first made of the service of the notice by publication for the length of time required by the order. Any person interested in the district that is defendant, shall, upon showing his interest, be allowed to file his answer or objection to the dissolution, and shall from the filing of said answer or objections become a party defendant and be entitled to all the rights of a defendant in any civil action. If upon the trial of any such action it be determined by the court:

Court order dissolving district.

(1) That the trustees have not within five years prior thereto exercised any of the powers of the district or performed any of the duties of a trustee.

(2) That the said district is not in debt, or if in debt, that all claims be barred by the statutes of limitations, the court shall then enter a decree dissolving the district, or make such further order as may be deemed necessary to protect the rights of all parties interested.

SEC. 28. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency act within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting said urgency are as follows: Urgency.

That throughout the entire north half of the State in December, 1932, the citrus orchards were destroyed by an unprecedented frost and that a vast number of people of the State of California are entirely dependent upon the restoration of said citrus groves and that unless the same is done immediately, through the provisions of this act, a large portion of the population will be reduced to almost destitute circumstances and it is essential to the public health, peace and safety that this act be adopted in order that financial assistance may be had for the restoration of the said destroyed citrus groves and that this act will aid materially in accomplishing this necessary result.

CHAPTER 389.

An act to amend sections 658 and 660 and to add section 660.5 to the Fish and Game Code, relating to the protection of fish.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 73.

CHAPTER 390.

An act to define motor carrier transportation agent; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof, and to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof; and repealing an act entitled "An act to define motor carrier transportation agent; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof, and to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 5, 1931, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Legislative policy.

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby declares that the public welfare requires the regulation and control of those persons, whether acting individually or as officers, commission agents or employees of any person, firm or corporation, who hold themselves out to act as intermediaries between the public and those motor carriers of passengers operating, as common carriers or otherwise, over the public highways of the State, for compensation, that are not required by law to obtain, or that have not obtained, a certificate from the Railroad Commission of the State of California declaring that public convenience and necessity require the operations of such motor carriers; further, that until such time as Congress of the United States shall act, the public welfare requires such regulation and control of such intermediaries between the public and interstate motor carriers as well as between the public and intrastate motor carriers.

Definitions

SEC. 2. A motor carrier transportation agent within the meaning of this act is a person who, acting either individually or as an officer, commission agent or employee of a corporation, or as a member of a copartnership, or as a commission agent or employee of another person or persons, sells or offers for sale, or negotiates for or holds himself out as one who sells, furnishes or provides, transportation over the public highways of this State when such transportation is furnished, or offered or proposed to be furnished, by a motor carrier as defined in this act.

A motor carrier within the meaning of this act is any person, firm, or corporation, their lessees, trustees, receivers or trustees appointed by any court whatsoever, transporting, or offering or proposing to transport, as a common carrier or otherwise, persons for compensation over the public highways of the State of California, or any portion thereof, without holding a valid certificate of public convenience and necessity issued by the Railroad Commission of the State of California permitting such carrier to so transport persons over such highways, or any of them.

To what act applies

This act shall not apply to the carriage, or proposed carriage, of any person, or persons, when no compensation for such carriage is paid, or offered or proposed to be paid, or requested or required to be paid, by, or on behalf of, a person, or persons, transported, or to be transported; nor to those engaged solely in the carriage or transportation to and from work, of employees engaged in farm work on any farm of the State of California, nor to those engaged solely in the carriage or transportation to and from work of employees of any nonprofit cooperative association organized pursuant to any of the laws of the State of California; nor to movements of persons wholly within the corporate limits of a single municipality; nor to transportation over a route wholly or partly within a national park where such transportation is sold in conjunction with or as part of a rail trip; provided, however, that the transportation of persons whereby there is paid, or requested or required to be paid, by, or on behalf of, the person, or persons, transported, a portion of the expense incurred in course of such transportation, shall be deemed transportation provided by a motor carrier within the meaning of this act.

The provision of this act shall apply regardless of whether such transportation so sold, or offered to be sold, is interstate or intrastate.

License required.

SEC. 3. From and after sixty (60) days after this act becomes effective, it shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage in the business, or act in the capacity, of a motor carrier transportation agent within the meaning of this act without first obtaining a license therefore. No license shall be issued to any copartnership or corporation, it being the intent hereof to require each person acting as a motor carrier transportation agent, in this State, to be individually licensed therefor; provided, however, that if an applicant is an officer or commission agent or employee of a corporation, or a member of any copartnership, or a commission agent or employee of any person or copartnership, he shall so state in his application, and the corporation, copartnership, or person of which applicant is an officer, member, or employee, as the case may be, shall join in applicant's application and shall set forth therein the relationship between applicant and said person, copartnership and/or corporation so joining.

Enforcement.

SEC. 4. The Railroad Commission of the State of California is hereby vested with authority to administer this act, with full power to regulate and control the issuance and revocation of licenses to be issued under the provisions of this act, and to perform all other acts and duties provided in this act and necessary for its enforcement.

Disposition of fees.

SEC. 5. All fees charged and collected under this act shall be deposited at least once a month in the State treasury to the credit of the Railroad Commission and in augmentation of the current appropriation for the support of the Railroad Commission and may be expended by the Railroad Commission for the administration of this act.

Application for license.

SEC. 6. An application for a license as a motor carrier transportation agent shall be made in writing to the Railroad Commission, which application shall be duly verified and shall be in such form and contain such information as the Commission may from time to time require.

The Railroad Commission shall have power, with or without hearing, to issue said license as prayed for, or to refuse to issue the same, or to issue it for the partial exercise of the privilege sought. No license shall be issued to an applicant when, with or without hearing, the Railroad Commission shall determine that (1) the applicant is not a fit and proper person to receive the same, or (2) the motor carriers for whom applicant proposes to sell transportation have not complied, and are not then and there complying and do not propose to comply, with State and/or Federal laws, and/or all general orders of the Railroad Commission of the State of California, applicable to the operations of said motor carrier.

The order of the Railroad Commission granting to any applicant a motor carrier transportation agent's license shall set out the name of the motor carriers for whom said agent is licensed to sell.

Display of license.

In the location at which applicant is licensed to sell transportation, there shall be displayed in a prominent place a certificate setting forth the name of the license and such other matter and things as the commission may require.

Fees.

SEC. 7. The fees for licenses, and each renewal thereof, shall be five dollars ($5) per year, or fraction thereof. All applications for licenses shall be accompanied by the fee as herein provided and all licenses, subject to the provisions for renewal, which the Railroad Commission shall prescribe, shall expire on December 31 of each year.

Bond

SEC. 8. No license shall be issued unless the applicant therefor shall provide a good and sufficient bond in the sum of one thousand dollars ($1000), which bond shall be filed by such applicant as principal and by some solvent surety company, authorized to do business in the State of California, as surety, payable to the State of California, and/or any person, or persons, for, or to whom, applicant may, or shall, furnish or provide transportation, and shall be conditioned: (1) upon the faithful performance, by the motor carrier or motor carriers for whom applicant is licensed to act, of the contract or agreement of transportation negotiated by the licensee, and (2) the honest and faithful performance by applicant of any undertaking as a licensed motor carrier transportation agent under this act; provided, however, that if any corporation, copartnership, or person of which applicant is an officer, member, commission agent or employee, as the case may be, shall join in applicant's application as provided in section 3 hereof, applicant shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this section if applicant shall provide, or there shall, theretofore, have been filed with the Railroad Commission, a good and sufficient bond in a sum to be fixed by the Railroad Commission, not exceeding twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), executed by the corporation, copartnership, or person, joining in such application, as principal, and by some solvent surety company, authorized to do business in the State of California, as surety, payable to the State of California, and/or any person, or persons, for, or to whom, any officer, member, commission agent or employee of said principal, licensed under the provisions of this act may, or shall, furnish or provide transportation, conditioned: (1) upon the faithful performance, by the motor carrier or motor carriers for whom any officer, member, commission agent or employee of said principal is licensed to act, of the contract or agreement of transportation negotiated by the licensee, and (2) the honest and faithful performance, by any such officer, member, commission agent or employee so licensed, of any undertaking as a licensed motor carrier transportation agent under this act.

License not transferable.

SEC. 9. No license issued under the provisions of this act shall give authority, to do any act for which the license is issued, to any person, other than the licensee, and such license shall not be transferable or assignable. No license issued thereunder shall authorize the licensee to do business except in the location stipulated in the license.

Suspension or revocation of license.

SEC. 10. The commission may suspend or revoke any license theretofore issued if it shall determine that the licensee is not a fit and proper person to hold the same, or if the commission shall determine that the licensee, in acting as such motor carrier transportation agent, has engaged in false advertising and false representation in violation of the laws of this State, or any political subdivision thereof, or has sold, offered for sale, or negotiated for sale, transportation by any carrier that under the laws of this State is conducted in a manner contrary to the public interest, or without proper authority, or in violation of the provisions of this act or the general orders, rules and regulations of the Railroad Commission pertaining thereto.

Records to be kept by agents

SEC. 11. It shall be the duty of all motor carrier transportation agents to maintain and keep, for a period of two (2) years, an exact and permanent record of all transactions had by them as such agents, including the amount paid to such agent by each person transported, point of destination, and the name of the person, firm or corporation acting as motor carrier. The records hereby required to be kept shall at all times be open to inspection by any officer or agent of the State, county, or city and county within the State.

Power of commission re hearing, etc

SEC. 12. All powers heretofore, or hereafter to be vested in the Railroad Commission of the State of California, as relates to hearing and determining matters presented to it, are made applicable to the proceedings under the provisions of this act.

Construction

SEC. 13. This act shall not have the effect to release or waive any right of action by the State, Railroad Commission, or any person or corporation, for any fine, penalty or forfeits which may have arisen or accrued, or may hereafter arise or accrue, under any laws of this State. All penalties accruing under this act shall be cumulative of each other, and a suit for the recovery of one penalty shall not be a bar to, or affect the recovery of, any other penalty or forfeit, or be a bar to any criminal prosecution, or be a bar to the exercise of the commission of its powers to punish for contempt.

Penalties cumulative

SEC. 14. Any person, firm or corporation, shall be understood to be acting as a motor carrier transportation agent within the meaning of this act who shall (1) orally or by card,

Who considered motor carrier transportation agent

circular, pamphlet, newspaper, radio, sign, billboard, or any other way, advertise himself, or itself, as one who sells, furnishes, negotiates for, or provides transportation over the public highways of this State when such transportation is furnished or offered, or proposed to be furnished, by motor carriers as defined in this act; (2) manage or conduct as manager, conductor, agent, proprietor, lessor, lessee, ticket collector, or otherwise, a place where transportation is, or is offered, or proposed to be, sold, furnished, negotiated for, or provided by a motor carrier as defined in this act; (3) aid and abet, or without being present shall have advised and encouraged any person, firm or corporation in acting as, or to act as, a motor carrier transportation agent. One act of the nature herein set forth shall constitute a person, firm or corporation doing or committing such act, a motor carrier transportation agent within the meaning of this act. It is hereby made the duty of any officer arresting any person for violation of this act, to take, and keep in his custody for use as evidence, any materials or indicia used by said person so arrested, for the purpose of advertising said persons acting as, or desiring to act as, a motor carrier transportation agent. Any person who may, or shall, be charged with, or complained of as, acting as a motor carrier transportation agent without a license as herein provided, shall bear the burden of proof of proving as as a matter peculiarly within the knowledge of the person so charged or complained of: (1) that such person, firm or corporation so charged or complained of is a licensed motor carrier transportation agent; and (2) that the motor carrier or motor carriers for whom such person, firm or corporation is, or has been, acting, or proposed to act, as an agent, as charged or complained of, is not a motor carrier within the meaning of this act.

Burden of proof on agent

Prosecution of violations.

SEC. 15. The Railroad Commission may prefer a complaint for violation of this act before any court of competent jurisdiction and said commission and its counsel, or other official representatives, may assist in presenting facts at the trial. It shall be the duty of the district attorney of each county in this State to prosecute all violations of the provisions of this act in their respective counties in which such violations occur, either with or without request of said commission.

Penalties

SEC. 16. Any person, firm or corporation, acting as a motor carrier transportation agent within the meaning of this act without a license as herein provided shall, upon conviction of a first offense thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail for a term not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court; or, if a corporation, may be punished by a fine of not to exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500); and for a second and subsequent offense shall, upon the conviction thereof, if a person, be punished by a fine of not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), or by imprisonment in the county jail or State prison for a term not to exceed one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court; or, if a corporation, may be punished by a fine of not to exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000).

Penalties

SEC. 17. Any person, duly licensed as a motor carrier transportation agent, who shall violate any of the provisions of this act shall, upon conviction thereof, be punished by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in a county jail not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the court; and in addition thereto, the license as motor carrier transportation agent theretofore issued shall be revoked by the Railroad Commission in the manner herein provided.

Definition

SEC. 18. The term "commission," or "Railroad Commission," when used in this act, means the Railroad Commission of the State of California.

Constitutionality

SEC. 19. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is, for any reason, held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause, and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Stats 1931, p. 1362, repealed

SEC. 20. Chapter 638, Statutes of 1931, entitled "An act to define motor carrier transportation agent; to provide for the regulation, supervision and licensing thereof, and to provide for the enforcement of said act and penalties for the violation thereof," approved June 5, 1931, is hereby repealed.

Definition

SEC. 21. The term "commission" or "Railroad Commission" when used in this act means Railroad Commission of the State of California.

CHAPTER 391.

An act to amend sections 5.650, 5.653 and 5.661 of the School Code, relating to permanent employees.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1394

SECTION 1. Section 5.650 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Grounds for dismissal

5.650. No permanent employee shall be dismissed except for one or more of the following causes: immoral or unprofessional conduct, commission or aiding or advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, seditious utterances, or holding membership in any organization or society advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, dishonesty, incompetency, evident unfitness for service, persistent violation of or refusal to obey the school laws of California, or reasonable regulations prescribed for the government of public schools.

Stats. 1931, p 1394.

SEC. 2. Section 5.653 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Suspension and notice of dismissal.

5.653. Upon the filing of written charges, duly signed and verified by the person filing the same, with the governing board of a school district charging a permanent employee of said district with immoral conduct, commission or aiding or advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, seditious utterances, or holding membership in any organization or society advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, the said governing board may, if it deems such action necessary, and shall, if the charges under this section are for other than immoral conduct, immediately suspend said employee from his duties and give notice to said employee of his suspension and that thirty days after the mailing of such notice he will be dismissed unless said employee demands a hearing as hereinafter provided. Said notice must be in writing and sent by United States registered mail to the said employee at his last known address. A copy of the charges filed, together with a copy of this article, shall be enclosed with the notice of suspension and dismissal. If the said employee does not demand the hearing hereinafter provided for he shall be dismissed thirty days after the mailing of the notice hereinabove provided.

Stats. 1919, p 281.

Stats 1931, p. 1394.

SEC. 3. Section 5.661 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Dismissal: immorality, etc.

5.661. Should an employee be dismissed under this article for immorality, commission or aiding or advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, seditious utterances, or holding membership in any organization or society advocating the commission of acts of criminal syndicalism as defined in chapter 188, Statutes of 1919, or which may hereafter be amended, the governing board shall transmit to the county board of education which issued the certificate or certificates under which the employee was serving at the time of his dismissal, a copy of the reporter's transcript of the hearing, accompanied by a request that any certificate or certificates issued by said county board of education to the employee dismissed be revoked in the event the employee is not reinstated upon review or appeal.

CHAPTER 392.

An act to add a new section to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered 73b, relating to sessions of the superior courts.

[Approved by the Governor May 15, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Code of Civil Procedure, to be numbered 73b, and to read as follows: New section.

73b. In addition to the sessions of superior courts provided for in sections 73 and 142 of this code, or any amendment of either of said sections, at least one session of the superior court shall be held in each city containing a population of not less than twenty thousand as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States, or the Legislature of the State of California, wherein the city hall is not less than thirty miles distant from the site of the county courthouse. Sessions of superior court.

CHAPTER 393.

An act to provide for the acquisition of the Sears Point toll road by the State, and the inclusion thereof in the State highway system, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The California Highway Commission is hereby authorized and empowered to negotiate, on behalf of the State of California, for the acquisition of that certain toll road known as the "Sears Point toll road" and extending from the city of Vallejo to Sears Point, a distance of approximately 10 2 miles. Purchase of "Sears Point toll road" by State.

SEC. 2. Said commission should it deem it desirable is also authorized and empowered to contract on behalf of the State for the purchase of said toll road, on such terms and conditions as the commission may deem to be to the best interest of the State, and to include said toll road in the State highway system.

SEC. 3. The cost of acquiring said toll road shall be paid out of the State highway construction fund, or in the event that said fund is abolished out of any fund into which the moneys deposited in said fund are transferred.

CHAPTER 394.

Stats 1883, p. 93, amended.

An act to amend section 2 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1927, p. 544

SECTION 1. Section 2 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Petition for incorporation

Sec. 2. A petition signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the holders of title or evidence of title to the lands situate within the limits of a proposed corporation which includes both subdivided and/or densely populated areas and farming and/or industrial areas representing twenty-five per cent of the value of the land included in said limits, as the value thereof is shown on the last equalized assessment roll of such county, shall first be presented to the board of supervisors of such county. For the purposes of this act only owners of land in fee and purchasers of land under written agreement shall be qualified to sign such petition. The petition shall set forth and particularly and accurately describe the proposed boundaries of such corporation, state the number of inhabitants within such boundaries as nearly as may be, and shall pray that the same may be incorporated under the provisions of this act. There shall be attached to such petition as a part thereof the affidavit of at least three holders of title or evidence of title to lands within the limits described in such petition stating that the signatures to such petition are genuine. Such petition shall be presented at a regular meeting of the board of supervisors. Thereupon such board shall require the clerk of such board to ascertain whether such petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers and whether it correctly describes the boundaries of the proposed incorporation, and to make report thereon to such board within thirty days. If such report shall show either that the petition is not signed by the requisite number of qualified signers or that said boundaries are inaccurately described, or both, then such board shall be without jurisdiction further to proceed in the matter. If such report shall show that such petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified signers and accurately describes the boundaries of the proposed incorporation, then such board shall direct its clerk to accept such petition for filing and to file the same when the petitioners shall have deposited with such clerk the amount of money fixed by such board to defray the costs of the publication of such petition and the notice of election hereinafter required. When said amount of money is deposited with the clerk of such board, provided such deposit is made within fifteen days from the date when such clerk is directed to accept such petition for filing, such clerk shall file such petition, and at its next regular meeting such board shall fix a time for a hearing thereon and shall direct its clerk to cause such petition to be published for at least two weeks before the time fixed for such hearing, together with a notice stating the time of such hearing, in some newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such county. When such petition comes on for hearing such board shall hear the same and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, not exceeding two months in all, and on the final hearing shall make such changes in the proposed boundaries as such board may find to be proper, shall establish and define such boundaries, and shall ascertain and determine how many inhabitants reside within such boundaries; provided, that any changes in such boundaries made by such board shall not include any territory outside of the boundaries described in such petition. The boundaries so established by the board of supervisors shall be the boundaries of such municipal corporation until by action, authorized by law for the annexation of additional territory to, or the taking of territory from said municipal corporation, such boundaries shall be changed. Thereupon such board shall give notice of an election to be held in such proposed corporation for the purpose of determining whether same shall become incorporated, and shall provide for the election of such officers as shall be required in such city of the class to which the same may belong, as hereinafter provided. Such notice shall particularly describe the boundaries so established, shall state the name of such proposed corporation, the number of inhabitants so ascertained to reside therein and the date of such election, and shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published within such boundaries, or posted for the same period in at least four public places therein, for at least two weeks prior to such election. Such notice shall also require the voters to cast ballots which shall contain the words "For incorporation" and "Against incorporation," and also the names of persons voted for to fill the various municipal elective offices prescribed by law for municipal corporations of the class to which such proposed corporation will belong.

CHAPTER 395.

An act to amend sections 73 and 142 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to sessions of the superior court.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 73 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 1493.

See Stats. 933, Ch. 743.
Sessions of superior court.

73. The superior courts shall be always open (legal holidays and nonjudicial days excepted), and they shall hold their sessions at the county seats of the several counties, or cities and counties, except as otherwise provided by section 142 of this code. They shall hold regular sessions, commencing on the first Mondays of January, April, July, and October, and special sessions at such other times as may be prescribed by the judge or judges thereof; provided, that in the City and County of San Francisco the presiding judge shall prescribe the times of holding such special sessions; provided, also, that a session of the superior court shall be held at each city containing a population of not less than forty-five thousand as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States, or the Legislature of the State of California, wherein the city hall of said city is not less than eight miles distant from the site of the county courthouse; provided further, that in such of said cities as have a population of more than one hundred twenty-five thousand, as ascertained by such census, at least three regular sessions of the superior court shall be held concurrently; and a majority of the judges of the superior court of said county, may, by an order filed with the county clerk, and published as they may prescribe, provide for, and direct the holding of, additional sessions in each of said cities, when they deem such additional sessions necessary or convenient.

A session of the superior court may be held for a period not exceeding two weeks in any one month, at each city or town containing a population of not less than seven thousand, as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States, or the Legislature of the State of California, wherein the city hall of said city or town is not less than fifty-five miles distant from the site of the county courthouse.

Stats. 1931, p. 1494.
See Stats. 1933, Ch. 743.
Changes in places of holding court.

SEC. 2. Section 142 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

142. The judge or judges authorized to hold or preside at a court appointed to be held in a particular place in a city and county, county, city or town, may, by an order filed with the city and county, or county clerk, and published as he or they may prescribe, direct that the court be held or continued at any other place in the city and county, county, city or town than that appointed, when war, insurrection, pestilence, or other public calamity, or the danger thereof, or the destruction or danger of the building appointed for holding the court may render it necessary; and may in the same manner revoke the order, and in his or their discretion, appoint another place in the same city and county, county, city or town, for holding the court; and may also, in the same manner in his or their discretion, whenever such judge or judges deem it necessary or advisable, direct that the court be held or continued at any other place in the city and county, county, city or town not less than one hundred twenty miles distant from the county seat; and may also, in the same manner in his or their discretion, whenever such judge or judges deem it necessary or advisable, direct that the court be held or continued at any other city or town containing a population of not less than seven thousand as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States or the Legislature of the State of California wherein the city hall of said city or town is not less than fifty-five miles distant from the site of the county courthouse; provided further, that at least one session of the superior court shall be held in each city containing a population of not less than forty-five thousand as ascertained by the last preceding census taken under the authority of the Congress of the United States, or the Legislature of the State of California, wherein the city hall of said city is not less than eight miles distant from the site of the county courthouse; and provided further, that in any of said cities, the city hall of which is not less than eight miles distant from the site of the county courthouse, which has a population of more than one hundred twenty-five thousand, as ascertained by such census, at least three regular sessions of the superior court shall be held concurrently.

CHAPTER 396.

An act making an appropriation to pay the claim of the State Adjutant General against the State of California.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The sum of fifty thousand eight hundred five and 56/100 dollars ($50,805.56) is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated to pay the claim of the State Adjutant General against the State of California. Appropriation: State Adjutant General

CHAPTER 397.

An act adding a new section to be designated section 1149½ to the Political Code, and amending section 1150 of the Political Code, relating to the index to the book of affidavits of registration, and the designation thereon of persons who have voted.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. There is hereby added to the Political Code a new section to be designated section 1149½ to read as follows: New section.

Indicating persons who vote.

1149½. It shall be the duty of the precinct election board to cause to be marked on one of the copies of the index posted at or near the polling place, the name of each person who has voted, by drawing a line through said name with a crayon or pencil, and it shall be the duty of said board to mark off said names from time to time during the day of election, at least once each hour until four o'clock in the afternoon.

Pol C of 1872.

SEC. 2. Section 1150 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Index not to be marked, etc

1150. The copies so posted must be maintained during the whole time of voting, and must not in any manner be torn or marked or defaced except as authorized by section 1149½ of this code.

CHAPTER 398.

Stats 1913, p 1379, amended.

An act to amend section 13 of an act entitled "An act to provide for and regulate primary elections, and providing a method for choosing the delegates for political parties to State conventions and for nominating electors of President and Vice President of the United States, and providing for the election of party county central committees, and to repeal the act approved April 7, 1911, known as the Direct Primary Law, and also to repeal the act approved December 24, 1911, amending sections 1, 3, 5, 7, 10, 12, 13, 22, 23, and 24 of the said Direct Primary Law and also to repeal all other acts or parts of acts inconsistent with or in conflict with the provisions of this act," approved June 16, 1913, relating to the time for preparing and mailing sample ballots.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1913, p 1379.

SECTION 1. Section 13 of the act cited in the title herein is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sample ballots.

Sec. 13. Sample Ballots. Mailed to Voters. Printing of Official Ballot. In Cities. At least twenty-five days before the August primary election or before the May presidential primary election each county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall prepare separate sample ballots for each political party, and a separate sample nonpartisan ballot, placing thereon in each case in the order provided in subdivision 7 of section 12 of this act, and under the appropriate title of each office, the names of all candidates for whom nomination papers have been duly filed with him, or have been certified to by him by the Secretary of State, to be voted for at the primary election in his county or city and county. Such sample ballots shall be printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot, and one sample ballot of the party to which the voter belongs as evidenced by his registration shall be mailed to each such voter entitled to vote at such August primary election or May presidential primary election, as the case may be, not more than twenty-five nor less than five days before the election. Not more than twenty-five nor less than five days before the August primary election a nonpartisan sample ballot printed on paper of a different texture from the paper to be used on the official ballot shall be mailed to each registered qualified elector who is not registered as intending to affiliate with any of the parties participating in said primary election. Such clerk or registrar of voters shall forthwith submit the ticket of each political party to the chairman of the county committee of such party and shall mail a copy to each candidate for whom nomination papers have been filed with him or whose name has been certified to him by the Secretary of State, to the post-office address as given in such nomination paper or certification, and he shall post a copy of each sample ballot in a conspicuous place in his office. Before such primary election the county clerk or registrar of voters in any city and county shall cause the official ballot to be printed as provided by section 12 of this act, and distributed in the same manner and in the same quantities as provided in sections 1198, 1199 and 1201 of the Political Code for the distribution of ballots for elections; provided, that the number of party ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct as intending to affiliate with such party, and the number of nonpartisan ballots to be furnished to any precinct shall be computed from the number of voters registered in such precinct without statement of intention to affiliate with any of the parties participating in the primary election. In the case of primary elections for the nomination of candidates for city offices it shall be the duty of the city clerk, secretary of the legislative body of such city or municipality, or such other officer charged by law with the duty of preparing and distributing the official ballots used at elections in such city or municipality, to prepare and mail the sample ballot and to prepare and distribute the official primary election ballots, and so far as applicable and not otherwise provided herein the provisions of this act shall apply to the nomination of all candidates for city offices.

An act to amend section 4250 of the Political Code, relating to compensation of officers and employees in counties of the twenty-first class.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1200.

SECTION 1. Section 4250 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Monterey County. Salaries

4250. In counties of the twenty-first class, the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law, or by virtue of their offices, the following salaries, fees and expenses, to wit:

Clerk.

1. The county clerk, two thousand five hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that the county clerk shall have the power to appoint two deputies at a salary of two thousand forty dollars each per annum, one deputy at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum, one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum, and also one deputy to serve only during such years as general elections may be held, at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum, such deputies to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid; provided, further, that the county clerk shall receive for compiling the great register, and for services in connection with elections, the additional sum of one thousand eighty dollars per annum; and provided, further, that he shall also receive and retain, for his own use and benefit, all such fees and commissions as now are, or which hereafter may be, allowed by law.

Sheriff. 2. The sheriff shall receive, as full compensation for all services required of him by law, the sum of three thousand five hundred seventy dollars per annum; provided, that the sheriff shall be allowed the amount of the actual and necessary expenses incurred by him in the performance of his official duties; and provided, that there shall be, and there hereby is, allowed to the sheriff one deputy, who shall be known as undersheriff, at a salary of two thousand three hundred fifty-two dollars per annum, one deputy at a salary of one thousand nine hundred eighty dollars per annum, and three deputies at a salary of one thousand eight hundred dollars each per annum; one deputy, to be a stenographer, who may be employed for not exceeding two hundred fifty days in each year, at a salary of three dollars per diem. The deputies herein provided for shall be appointed by the sheriff, and shall be paid out of the county treasury in equal monthly installments, and in the same manner and at the same time as other county officials are paid. The sheriff shall pay into the county treasury at the close of each month all fees, and per diems received by him as sheriff during the month, accompanied by a statement of the sources from which the same were received.

Recorder. The recorder, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum; provided, that there shall be and there hereby is, allowed to the recorder one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, further, that the recorder may appoint as many copyists as is necessary, who shall receive, as compensation for such services, the sum of seven cents per folio for copying and comparing all instruments or notices of all kinds; and for making copies of any records, except maps and plats. The deputy and copyists herein provided for shall be appointed by the recorder, and shall be paid at the time and in the same manner as other county officials are paid. The said copyists may be appointed deputies without extra compensation

Photostat system. Provided, however, that if the photostat system of recordation be installed and put into effect in the said recorder's office, there shall be allowed to the recorder, to be appointed by him, the following deputies only, to be paid at the time and in the manner as other county officials are paid, to wit: One chief deputy, at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum; one indexing deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; and three additional deputies, to serve as copyists and operators, at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars each per annum.

Auditor. 4. The county auditor, two thousand five hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that there shall be allowed to the auditor, to be appointed by him, one chief deputy, at a salary of one thousand seven hundred eighty-five dollars per annum;

one deputy at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum; two deputies at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars each per annum, and one deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred forty-two dollars per annum; provided further, that the auditor may appoint or employ such additional assistants as he may require, the aggregate compensation therefor not to exceed the sum of seven hundred dollars per year; the said deputies and assistants to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officials are paid.

County purchasing agent

Provided, further, that in the event the county auditor shall serve as, and perform the duties of, the county purchasing agent, he shall receive, as full compensation for such services, the sum of eight hundred fifty-five dollars per annum.

Treasurer

5. The treasurer, two thousand five hundred fifty dollars per annum. One chief deputy at a salary of one thousand two hundred dollars per annum.

Consolidation

Provided, further, that from the time and in the event that said office is consolidated with that of tax collector, the holder of the said consolidated office of treasurer and tax collector shall receive a salary of three thousand sixty dollars per annum; that there shall be and is hereby allowed: One chief deputy at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum; and one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, further, that the holder of said consolidated office of treasurer and tax collector may appoint such additional assistants as he may require, at a salary not to exceed one hundred twelve dollars and fifty cents per month each, the aggregate amount therefor not to exceed the sum of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum.

Tax collector.

6. The tax collector, two thousand four hundred dollars per annum, one chief deputy at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, and such assistants as shall be required, and who shall receive for his or their services, three dollars per diem each; provided, however, that the aggregate pay of such assistants shall not exceed one thousand dollars per annum. The assistants and deputy herein provided for shall be appointed by the tax collector and shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as other county officers are paid. From the time and in the event that the office of tax collector is consolidated with that of the treasurer, the tax collector shall receive no compensation.

Assessor

7. The assessor, three thousand five hundred seventy dollars per annum; provided, that there shall be allowed to the assessor one deputy at a salary of two thousand forty dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand seven hundred eighty-five dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; one assistant for a period of three months of each year at a salary of ninety dollars per month; four field deputy assessors, for not to exceed three months of each year, at a salary of one hundred seventy dollars each per month, and seven additional field deputy assessors for not to exceed two months of each year at a salary of one hundred seventy dollars each per month, but the aggregate amount which may be expended in any one year for all such field deputies shall not exceed four thousand four hundred twenty dollars. The deputies and assistants provided for herein shall be appointed by the assessor, and shall be paid at the same time, and in the same manner, as other officers are paid.

Provided, that in the event the assessor or any of his full time deputies shall engage in actual field work in assessing property, he or said deputies shall be allowed actual and necessary traveling expenses incurred in the discharge of official duties, but not to exceed the aggregate sum of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars in any one year; and provided, that the assessor shall deposit in the county treasury all fees by him received, from whatsoever source the same may be derived.

District attorney.

8. The district attorney, three thousand sixty dollars per annum; provided, that the district attorney shall be allowed the amount of his actual and necessary traveling and other expenses, when incurred in connection with the prosecution of criminals, within the county; provided, further, that the district attorney shall have the power to appoint two deputies, at a salary of two thousand forty dollars per annum each, the salary of each of such deputies to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as that of other county officers. That in counties of this class there shall be and is hereby allowed to the district attorney, to be appointed by him, two stenographers each at a salary of one thousand five hundred dollars per annum with the understanding that such stenographers, without extra compensation, shall take all depositions and statements and confessions of prisoners and take and transcribe all testimony at preliminary examinations and at coroner's inquests. Said deputies and stenographers are to be paid at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of other county officers are paid.

Coroner.

9. The coroner, one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per annum; provided, that the coroner shall be allowed the amount of his actual and necessary expenses when in the discharge of his official duties outside of the county seat, including mileage at the rate of nine cents for each mile necessarily traveled in going to and returning from each of such places where he may hold an inquest, or investigation together with an allowance of the sum of two dollars for summoning a jury. The coroner shall also be allowed deputies, who shall act without compensation, except that they shall be allowed the amount of their traveling expenses for necessary travel outside of the county seat in the performance of their duties. The salaries and allowances herein provided for shall be compensation in full for all services rendered by the coroner; provided, however, that when the coroner shall act as or in the place of the sheriff he shall be allowed the same fees that are allowed to the sheriff for like services.

Public administrator.

10. The public administrator, all such fees as now are, or hereafter may be, allowed by law.

Superintendent of schools.

11. The superintendent of schools, two thousand eight hundred five dollars per annum, together with the amount of his actual traveling expenses when visiting schools of the county; provided, that the superintendent of schools shall have the power to appoint two deputies, one of whom shall receive a salary of one thousand seven hundred eighty-five dollars per annum, and the other a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum, the salary of each of such deputies to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as that of other county officers.

Surveyor.

12. The surveyor, one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum for all work performed for the county, and in addition thereto he shall be allowed his actual and necessary traveling and other expenses in connection with field work, and the cost of preparing maps, plats, block books and tracings for the assessor when directed by him to do so; provided, however, that if the county surveyor shall be appointed superintendent of permanent highways in the county, constructed under bond issue, pursuant to any statute in this State providing for the appointment of such superintendent, the surveyor shall receive the additional sum of two thousand five hundred fifty dollars per annum as compensation for his services as such superintendent of permanent highways.

Justices of the peace.

13. The justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries, respectively, to be paid each month as the salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be in full for all services rendered by them: (1) In each township having a population of more than ten thousand the justice of the peace shall receive a salary of one hundred seventy dollars per month; (2) In each township having a population of more than five thousand and less than ten thousand, the justice of the peace shall receive a salary of one hundred seventy dollars per month; provided, however, that in each case where there are two or more justices of the peace in any such township, or where two or more offices of justice of the peace may be hereafter created in any such township, the salary of each of such justices of the peace shall be ninety dollars each per month; (3) In each township having a population of two thousand five hundred, but less than five thousand, sixty-one dollars and seventy-five cents per month; (4) In each township having a population of one thousand five hundred, but less than two thousand five hundred, fifty-seven dollars per month; (5) In each township having a population of one thousand, but less than one thousand five hundred, forty-two dollars and seventy-five cents per month; (6) In each township having a population of five hundred, but less than one thousand, thirty-three dollars and twenty-five cents per month;

and (7) in each township having a population of less than five hundred, twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents per month. Each justice of the peace shall pay into the county treasury each month all fees and fines collected by him; and provided further, that the county board of supervisors may, in its discretion, furnish and provide suitable offices for the transaction of the business of any one or more of the justices of the peace.

Constables.

14. The constables shall receive the following monthly salaries, respectively, to be paid as the salaries of the county officers are paid, which shall be payment in full for all services rendered by them in all criminal cases or criminal matters: (1) In each township having a population of five thousand or more, ninety dollars per month; (2) In each township having a population of two thousand five hundred, but less than five thousand, forty-seven dollars and fifty cents per month; (3) In each township having a population of one thousand five hundred, but less than two thousand five hundred, forty-two dollars and seventy-five cents per month; (4) In each township having a population of one thousand, but less than one thousand five hundred, thirty-three dollars and twenty-five cents per month; (5) In each township having a population of five hundred, but less than one thousand, twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents per month; and (6) in each township having a population of less than five hundred, nineteen dollars per month; provided, that, in addition to the salary herein allowed, each constable shall be paid out of the treasury of the county for necessary traveling expenses in his own district, for the service of a warrant of arrest, or any other process in a criminal case, or other criminal matters, when such service is in fact made, both going and returning, seven cents per mile; for each mile traveled out of his county, both going and returning from the place of arrest in the service of process, seven cents per mile; and for transporting any person to the county jail, seven cents per mile each way. In addition to the monthly salary allowed him herein, each constable shall receive for his own use such fees in civil cases as now are or hereafter may be specified by law.

Supervisors.

15. The supervisors, the sum of one thousand eighty-two dollars each per annum, and seven cents per mile for all distances actually traveled in the performance of his duty as road commissioner, not to exceed four hundred fifty dollars per annum, together with mileage, at the rate of seven cents per mile in going from his place of residence to the county seat and returning at each session of the board.

Reporter.

16. In each county of this class, the official phonographic reporter of the superior court shall receive, for his services in reporting testimony and proceedings in court, and for the transcription thereof, such compensation and fees as now are, or hereafter may be, prescribed by law; provided, however, that when the court reporter is on duty in chambers in assisting the judge in his work, or is otherwise engaged therein, although not engaged in reporting testimony or proceedings in the court, he shall be allowed, and shall receive, the sum of eight dollars per day.

Librarian. 17. The county librarian shall receive a salary of one thousand seven hundred eighty-five dollars per annum.

Probation officer. 18. In counties of the twenty-first class there shall be one probation officer, whose salary shall be two thousand one hundred dollars per annum; the probation officer shall be allowed one deputy at one thousand dollars per annum; provided that such probation officer or deputy probation officer may assume and perform other duties than those prescribed under the Juvenile Court Law, for and at the request and under the direction of the board of supervisors and shall be entitled to receive and retain such compensation for such duties as may be provided by the said board of supervisors.

Sealer. 19. The sealer of weights and measures in counties of the twenty-first class shall receive a salary of one hundred seventy dollars per month and deputies shall receive four dollars per day for every day actually employed.

Township population. 20. The population herein referred to in classifying townships for the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables shall be the population found and determined by the next preceding Federal census.

Jurors. 21. In counties of the twenty-first class, grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall receive for each day's attendance three dollars, and for every mile actually traveled in attending court as such juror, in going only, fourteen cents.

Mileage. 22. Allowance for mileage to the sheriff in counties of this class is ten cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in the performance of his duties and allowance for mileage to any other officer or employee in counties of this class is seven cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled in the performance of his duties, except where a different mileage is specified herein or where the board of supervisors allow a fixed sum per month for mileage.

Effect SEC. 2. This act shall apply to present incumbents.

CHAPTER 407.

An act to amend section 10 of the Political Code, relating to holidays, to validate the acts of public officers made, done or performed on certain holidays and to declare that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1933, Ch. 28 SECTION 1. Section 10 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Holidays

10. Holidays within the meaning of this code, are every Sunday, the first of January, twelfth day of February, to be known as Lincoln Day, twenty-second day of February, thirtieth day of May, fourth day of July, ninth day of September, first Monday in September, twelfth day of October, eleventh day of November, known as "Armistice Day," twenty-fifth day of December, every day on which an election is held throughout the State, and every day appointed by the President of the United States or by the Governor of this State for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday; provided that on any day appointed by the President or by the Governor as a special or limited holiday all courts, public schools and public offices of this State and of any city, county, city and county, township, district, or political subdivision thereof shall be open and shall function in their normal and usual manner and all other public functions shall be performed as on days which are not holidays and all contracts shall be performed and business transacted as usual except only as to or by the particular class of business or persons expressly limited or restricted by the provisions of the proclamation appointing or declaring such special or limited holiday. A special or limited holiday is hereby defined as a holiday applying only to a special class or classes of business, or a special class or classes of persons, and not appointed to be generally observed throughout the State by all classes of business and all classes of persons.

Special holidays.

If the first day of January, twelfth day of February, twenty-second day of February, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the ninth day of September, the twelfth day of October, the eleventh day of November or the twenty-fifth day of December falls upon a Sunday, the Monday following is a holiday.

Saturday half-holiday.

Every Saturday from twelve o'clock noon until twelve o'clock midnight is a holiday as regards the transaction of business in the public offices of this State, and also in political divisions thereof where laws, ordinances or charters provide that public offices shall be closed on holidays; provided, this shall not be construed to prevent or invalidate the issuance, filing, service, execution or recording of any legal process or written instrument whatever on such Saturday afternoon; and provided further, that the public schools of this State shall close on Saturday, Sunday, the first day of January, the thirtieth day of May, the fourth day of July, the ninth day of September, eleventh day of November, the twenty-fifth day of December, and on every day appointed by the President of the United States or the Governor of this State for a public fast, thanksgiving or holiday; provided still further, that the governing board of any junior college may provide for the maintenance of classes on Saturday. Said public schools shall continue in session on all other legal holidays and shall hold proper exercises commemorating the day. Boards of school trustees and city boards of education shall have power to declare a holiday in the public schools under their jurisdiction when good reason exists therefor.

School holidays

"Admission Day" and "Armistice Day"

All public offices of the State and all State institutions, including the State University and all public schools in the State shall be closed on the ninth day of September of each year, known as "Admission Day." All public offices of the State and all State institutions, except the State University, shall be closed on the eleventh day of November of each year, known as "Armistice Day."

Intent.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby declares that the legislative intent in enacting the amendment to section 10 of the Political Code by the act which was approved March 6, 1933, by the Governor and which now constitutes chapter 28 of the Statutes of 1933 was as is expressed in the amendment to said section 10 hereby enacted.

Official acts validated.

SEC. 3. The official acts of all city, county, city and county, district, and State officers and employees, and the official acts of all courts and judicial officers and employees, made, done, or performed during the period of time beginning March 2, 1933, and ending on the effective date of this act, both dates inclusive, are hereby ratified, confirmed, and validated in so far only as said acts, or any of them, may be or are defective or invalid by reason of having been made, done or performed on any day within that period appointed by the Governor of this State to be a general or special holiday or proclaimed by the President of the United States to be a general or special holiday, or bank holiday.

All such official acts shall have and be given the same force and effect and shall be as valid for all purposes as if they had been made, done or performed on a day other than a holiday.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of this State and shall therefore go into effect immediately.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: Present economic conditions and the validity of official acts demand that the scope and operation of a special or limited holiday as proclaimed by the Governor of this State or the President of the United States be defined and also that the official acts of public officers done or performed during the holidays recently declared by the Governor and President be defined, confirmed, and validated. Great loss will result to the people of this State unless the Legislature declares its intent in creating special or limited holidays, validates official acts performed during holidays, and defines and differentiates the same. To these ends it is necessary that this act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 408.

An act to add a new section to the School Code, to be numbered 3.10–1, and to amend sections 3.11 and 3.13 thereof, all relating to the education of Indian children.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School Code, to be numbered 3.10–1 and to read as follows: New section.

3.10–1. The county superintendent of schools is hereby empowered to enter into contracts with the national government to receive money from said national government for the Indian children in attendance in the schools under his supervision in addition to any money that may be appropriated for such schools by the State and county. Federal aid for Indian children.

SEC. 2. Section 3.11 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Sch C, p. 107.

3.11. Any money received on a contract between the governing board of a school district and the national government shall be transferred to the county superintendent of schools to be by him paid to the treasury to the credit of the proper fund of such school district. Any money received on a contract between a county superintendent of schools and the national government shall be apportioned by him in such manner as he shall determine to the school districts in his county in which Indian children are in attendance in addition to any money that may be apportioned to such districts by the State and county. Disposition of such funds

SEC. 3. Section 3.13 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Sch C, p. 107.

3.13. Upon crediting any moneys to the funds of a school district or upon apportioning any moneys to a school district under the provisions of this article, the county superintendent of schools shall notify the clerk of the governing board of the district concerned of the amount so credited or apportioned. Notice of credit

CHAPTER 409.

An act to provide for the registration and protection of the names and insignia of fraternal associations, and to prohibit the wearing, exhibition, display, or use of the same by any person not entitled to wear, exhibit, display or use the same; and fixing a penalty for the violation thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Certain terms when used in this act, unless such construction be inconsistent with the context, must be construed as follows: Definitions.

(1) "Fraternal societies" includes any association, lodge, order, beneficial association, or fraternal or beneficial society or association, historical, military or veterans organization, labor union, foundation, federation or any other society, organization or association, degree, branch, subordinate lodge or auxiliary thereof.

(2) "Insignia" includes badge, motto, button, decoration, charm, emblem or rosette.

Registration of fraternal insignia

SEC. 2. Any fraternal society, the principles and activities of which are not repugnant to the Constitution or laws of the United States or of this State, may register in the office of the Secretary of State a facsimile or description of its name or insignia, and may by reregistration alter or cancel the same.

Application

SEC. 3. Application for such registration, alteration or cancellation shall be made by the chief officer or officers of the fraternal society, upon blanks to be provided by the Secretary of State and such registration shall be for the use, benefit and on behalf of the fraternal society, the individual members and those hereafter to become members thereof.

Record

SEC. 4. The Secretary of State shall keep a properly indexed record of the registration provided for by this act, which record shall also show any altered or canceled registration.

Deceptive insignia

SEC. 5. No fraternal society shall be permitted to register any name or insignia similar to or so nearly resembling another name or insignia already registered as may be apt to deceive.

Certificate of registration.

SEC. 6. Upon the registration, as aforesaid, the Secretary of State shall issue his certificate setting forth the fact of such registration.

Unlawful use of insignia

SEC. 7. Any person who wilfully wears, exhibits or uses for any purpose a name or insignia registered hereunder, unless he or she shall be entitled to use, wear or exhibit the same under the constitution, by-laws, or rules of the fraternal society registering the same, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not to exceed one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed sixty days.

Fee

SEC. 8. The Secretary of State shall charge and collect a fee of two dollars for each registration made under this act, and all such fees shall be deposited in the State treasury to the credit of the general fund.

CHAPTER 410.

An act to amend section 2322x23 of the Political Code relating to the office of the agricultural commissioner in counties of the twenty-third class.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 901

SECTION 1. Section 2322x23 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

2322x23. In counties of the twenty-third class, the commissioner shall receive a compensation of six dollars per diem during the time actually employed, but the aggregate amount which may be expended in any year for the commissioner shall not exceed one thousand eight hundred dollars; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is allowed to the commissioner, a deputy to be appointed by said commissioner, which position is hereby created, at a salary of four dollars per day while actually engaged in such work, not to exceed, however, in the aggregate the sum of five hundred dollars in any one year. Marin County: Agricultural commissioner.

CHAPTER 411.

An act to amend section 1262 of the Agricultural Code, relating to produce dealers.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 412.

An act to amend section 139 of the Civil Code, relating to alimony.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 139 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Civ. C., 1872.

139. Where a divorce is granted for an offense of the husband, the court may compel him to provide for the maintenance of the children of the marriage, and to make such suitable allowance to the wife for her support, during her life or for a shorter period as the court may deem just, having regard to the circumstances of the parties respectively; and the court may from time to time modify its orders in these respects. Support of wife and children.

Upon the remarriage of the wife, the husband shall no longer be obligated to provide for her support but such remarriage shall not affect his duty to provide for the maintenance of the children of his marriage. Remarriage.

CHAPTER 413.

An act to amend sections 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 16, 18½ and 19 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and management of county fire insurance companies," Stats. 1897, p. 439, amended approved April 1, 1897, relating to county fire insurance companies.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1917, p 943

SECTION 1. Section 7 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization and management of county fire insurance companies," approved April 1, 1897, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Qualifications for members.

Sec. 7. Any person owning insurable property in the county in which any such company is formed or any person owning insurable property in any county adjoining the county wherein such company is formed as hereinafter provided, may become a member by insuring therein, and shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining thereto; but no person not residing in the county in which a company is formed shall become a director of such company.

Stats 1929, p 1535.

SEC. 2. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

What may be insured.

Sec. 8. Such company may issue policies on dwellings, schoolhouses, churches, community, creamery or farm buildings and such property as may be contained therein; also on property owned by the assured on the premises or stored in public or private warehouses; provided, that insurance upon personal property owned by the insured including automobiles and live stock permitted under this act, shall continue in full force and effect during the use or transportation thereof in the ordinary course of business of the insured wherever the same may be located at the time of loss if within the State of California; all for any time not exceeding five years and not to extend beyond the time limited for the existence of the charter; provided, also, that no company that has been organized less than three months shall write insurance in excess of two thousand dollars subject to one risk without immediately reinsuring all in excess of that amount and no company organized more than three months shall write insurance subject to one risk in excess of one per cent of the amount of insurance in force on the books of that company at that time without immediately reinsuring all in excess of that amount. All persons, whose property is so insured, shall give their obligations to the company binding themselves, their heirs and assigns to pay their pro rata share to the company of the necessary expense and loss by fire which may be sustained by any member thereof during the time for which their respective policies are in force and they shall also at the time of effecting the insurance pay such percentage of the estimated cost and such other charges as may be required by law or by the rules and by-laws of the company.

Reinsurance.

Sharing expense and loss

Stats 1929, p 1535

SEC. 3. Section 10 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Insuring outside county.

Sec. 10. No such company shall insure such property beyond the limits of the county wherein the said company is organized, excepting that the company may insure in any county next adjoining the county wherein such company is organized. No such company shall issue policies covering on property in excess of six thousand dollars on any one risk or hazard under one or more policies, without immediately reinsuring the excess amount in some other company, except that any such company having more than ten million of property at risk upon their books may for each one million in excess of ten million, write five hundred dollars additional insurance in excess of six thousand dollars. Nor shall any such company assume a risk or risks on property situated in the limits of any city or town, or within any closely built-up district, within any one block, without immediately reinsuring all in excess of the provisions of this act.

Limit on risks.

Reinsurance

Any such company may reinsure or accept reinsurance in any company operating under the provisions of this act or under any agreement for mutual reinsurance between two or more county mutual fire insurance companies, but in no case shall the reinsurance taken by any one company exceed the amount of the risk retained by the company originating the business, or it may reinsure in any authorized company organized for the purpose of providing reinsurance for county mutuals, in which case the amount retained by the originating company must not be less than ten per cent and in no case be less than five hundred dollars. The character of, and number of risks reinsured shall not vary from that permitted in the case of original insurance. Where the amount of insurance covered by policies already written equals the amount named in the foregoing provisions no additional insurance shall be written by such company on country property, within a radius of one hundred feet and such radius shall continue at not less than seventy-five feet during the life of the policy, unless covered by reinsurance nor shall any insurance be written by any such company on farm or country property, in excess of seventy-five per cent of its actual cash value and no additional insurance shall be allowed; provided, that in case of class A or class B buildings, having no exposures, that would constitute a special hazard or on country property under fire protection and within a fire district the seventy-five per cent limit does not apply.

Terms defined.

For the purpose of this act "a city or town block" shall be construed to be an area having at least one frontage in a closely built-up district fronting on a used public street or highway, surrounded on all sides by a clear space at least equal in width to the clear space of such public street or highway and containing an area of not more than one hundred sixty thousand square feet.

"Closely built-up district" shall mean territory on the line of a public highway or street or block or blocks where for not less than a quarter of a mile the dwelling houses and business structures average less than one hundred feet apart.

"One risk" means one hazard under one or more policies, subject to one fire and relates to the amount named in the policy or policies.

"Clear space" means space free from combustible material likely to communicate fire.

Stats 1921, p. 1579

SEC. 4. Section 11 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of loss

Sec. 11. Every member of such company who may sustain loss or damage by fire or other hazard covered by his policy contract shall immediately notify the company thereof in accordance with the terms of his policy contract as hereinafter provided.

Stats 1917, p. 163.

SEC. 5. Section 12 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessments for deficiency.

Sec. 12. When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of said company, who shall make an assessment upon all of the property to the amount for which each several piece of property is insured, taken in connection with the rate of premium under which it may be classified; except, when the amount of such loss or losses does not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in any county fire insurance company, then and in such event the directors of said company may, by resolution in writing, signed by two-thirds of said directors in meeting assembled, borrow in the name of said company and give said company's note or other evidence of indebtedness therefor, in an amount or amounts whose total shall not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in said company. The term of said loan or loans shall not be for a greater period than twelve months nor shall the date of maturity be in excess of thirty days beyond the date of the annual meeting of said company; provided further, that the board of directors may at their annual meeting levy an assessment not to exceed twenty-five cents on the one hundred dollars on first-class insurance and a pro rata amount on other classes, and said sum so raised shall constitute a reserve fund to be used in emergency cases only and another assessment for this fund shall not be made while this reserve fund remains intact.

Loans to meet losses not over certain amount.

Reserve fund

No assessment or assessments can be levied upon any policy in excess of five times the amount of the premium named therein.

Stats 1925, p. 339

SEC. 6. Section 16 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

With-drawals

Sec. 16. Any member of such company may withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time during the life of the policy and while the company continues the business for which it was organized by giving notice in writing to the secretary thereof and by paying his share, if any, under the terms of his policy, of all claims that may exist against the company on the day of cancellation; provided, that the company shall have power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days' written notice to that effect either in person or by registered mail to his last post-office address, or if this is not known, then to the address given upon the application blank which is a part of the policy and by returning to him in the same manner by check or otherwise any excess premium he may have paid during the term of the policy, over the cost of his insurance in accordance with the customary cancellation tables in use in this State. Also, in case of cancellation by this company it must also notify in the same manner any holder of a mortgage or deed of trust whose name appears either on the signed application which is a part of the policy or upon a paster or otherwise upon the policy or the party named to whom loss if any is payable to _____. Cancellation.

SEC. 7. Section 18½ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1535.

Sec. 18½. The following is adopted as a standard form of county fire insurance company's policy for the State of California: Form of county fire insurance policy.

California Standard Form of County Fire Insurance Policy.

No. _____ Amount _____ Rate _____. No other insurance permitted except by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto. (Here insert the name of company, and place of its main office in California, and name of county in which incorporated or organized.) By this policy of insurance the _____ of _____ County, in consideration of _____ dollars, and the obligation as described herein and in application, does accept as a member and insures _____ against loss or damage by fire during a term of _____ years, commencing at noon on the _____ day of _____, 19___, and terminating at noon of the _____ day of _____, 19___, to an amount not exceeding _____ dollars on the following described property located and contained as described herein and not while located or contained elsewhere to wit: (Blank space for the attachment of forms.) For a more particular description, and as forming a part of this policy, reference is had to application No. _____ on file in the office of this company.

This company will not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the interest of the insured in the property at the time of the loss or damage nor exceeding what it would then cost to repair or replace the same with material of like kind or quality; provided, said value be estimated without allowance for any increased cost of repair or reconstruction by reason of any ordinance or law regulating repairs or reconstruction of buildings, and without compensation for loss resulting from interruption of business or manufacture. No liability beyond actual cash value.

Waiver. This policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and those hereinafter stated, which are hereby specifically referred to and made a part of this policy, together with such other provisions, agreements or conditions as may be indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no officer, agent, or other representative of this company shall have power to waive any provision or condition of this policy except by writing indorsed hereon or added hereto, and no person unless duly authorized in writing shall be deemed the agent of this company.

Charter and by-laws. The charter and by-laws of this company are to be resorted to and used to explain the rights and obligations of the parties hereto in all cases not herein otherwise especially provided for, and are hereby made a part of this policy. This policy is made and accepted upon the above expressed condition.

Countersignature. This policy shall not be valid until countersigned by the duly authorized secretary of the company at ------, California.

In witness whereof, this company has executed and attested these presents (here insert the name of the company) by ------, president. Countersigned at ------, California, this ------ day of ------, 19---. ------ secretary.

Stipulations and Conditions Specially Referred To.

Stipulations and conditions. Stipulations and conditions—Property not covered. (a) This company shall not be liable for loss to accounts, bills, currency, evidence of debt, or ownership or other documents, money, notes, or securities; nor (b) unless liability is specifically assumed hereon, for the loss to bullion, casts, curiosities, drawings, dies, jewels, manuscripts, medals, models, patterns, pictures, scientific apparatus, business or store or office furniture or fixtures, sculptures, frescoes and decorations, or property held on storage or for repair.

Hazards not covered. Hazards not covered—This company shall not be liable for loss by (a) theft, or (b) by neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire, or when the property is endangered by fire; or (c) (unless fire ensues, and in that event for the damage by fire only) by explosion of any kind, or lightning; or (d) by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or (except as hereinafter provided) by military or usurped power, or order of any civil authority, but the company will be liable, unless otherwise provided by indorsement hereon or added hereto, if the property is lost or damaged, by fire or otherwise, by civil authority or military or usurped power exercised to prevent the spread of fire not originating from a cause excepted hereunder and which fire otherwise probably would have caused the loss of or damage to the insured property.

Matters avoiding policy. Matters avoiding policy—This entire policy shall be void (a) if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstance concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or (b) in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this entire policy shall be void (a) if the insured now has or shall procure any other insurance whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy, or (b) if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership, or (c) if the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple, or (d) if with the knowledge of the insured foreclosure proceedings be commenced or notice given of sale of any property covered by this policy by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed, or (e) if this policy be assigned before a loss.

Matters suspending insurance—Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard shall be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured, or (b) if the subject of insurance be a manufacturing establishment, while it is operated in whole or in part at night later than ten o'clock or while it ceases to be operated beyond a period of ten consecutive days; or (c) while mechanics or artisans are employed in building or altering or repairing the described premises for more than fifteen days at any one time; or (d) while illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein; or (e) while there be kept, used or allowed on the described premises (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding), calcium carbide, phosphorus, dynamite, nitroglycerine, fireworks or other explosive; or exceeding one quart each of benzine, gasoline, naphtha or ether; or more than twenty-five pounds of gunpowder; or (f) while a building herein described whether intended for occupation by owner or tenant is vacant or unoccupied beyond the period of ten (10) consecutive days; (g) while the interest in, title to or possession of the subject of insurance is changed excepting: (1) by death of the insured; (2) a change of occupancy of building without material increase of hazard; and (3) transfer by one or more several copartners or coowners to the others. Matters suspending insurance.

Such suspension shall not extend the term of this policy nor create any right for refund of the whole or any portion of premium, nor affect the respective rights of cancellation.

Chattel mortgage—Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, but the liability of the company upon other property hereby insured shall not be affected by such chattel mortgage. Chattel mortgage.

Fallen building clause—Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto, if the building or any material part thereof fall, except as a result of fire, all insur- Fallen building clause.

ance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease.

Removal when endangered by fire.

Removal when endangered by fire—Should any of said property be necessarily removed because of danger from fire, and there is no other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, or, if there is other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of its proportion of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, shall, for the ensuing five days only, cover the said removed property in its new location or locations.

Cancellation.

Cancellation—This policy may be canceled and the insured as a member of this company may withdraw therefrom by the insured surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time during the life of the policy and while the company continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the company and by paying such obligations as may have accrued against him on the day of cancellation; provided, that this company shall have the power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days written notice to that effect either in person or by registered mail to his last post-office address or if this is not known then to the address given upon the application blank which is a part of this policy and by returning to him in the same manner by check or otherwise any excess premium he may have paid during the term of this policy, over the cost of his insurance as measured, on the pro rata basis, by the customary rate of fire insurance companies doing business in this State.

Notice to holder of mortgage or deed of trust

Also, in case of cancellation by this company it must also notify in the same manner any holder of a mortgage or deed of trust whose name appears either on the signed application which is part of this policy or upon a paster or otherwise upon this policy or the party names "to whom loss if any is payable to ------;" provided, however, that if the insured shall fail to pay the premium on this policy within thirty days from date thereof, then this policy shall be suspended and of no further force and effect until reinstated by the payment of all delinquent charges or fees; and provided further, that this policy shall not be suspended as far as the interest of said mortgagee or other party to whom, with the written consent of the company this policy is made payable until and after ten days written notice of such failure.

Assignment

Assignment—This company may give its consent in writing allowing the assignment of this policy upon the bona fide sale of the property insured herein; provided, within thirty days from the transfer of the title to the within property and upon the assignment thereof said purchaser or his agent signs an agreement becoming a member and accepting the conditions of the within policy; otherwise this policy to be null and void, except as to holders of a mortgage or deed of trust.

Duty of Insured in Case of Loss. When a loss occurs the insured must give to this company written notice thereof without unnecessary delay; and shall protect the property from further damage; forthwith separate the damaged and undamaged personal property and put it in the best possible order; and without unnecessary delay make a complete inventory stating as far as possible the quantity and cost of each article, and the amount claimed thereon. Duty of insured in case of loss.

Within sixty days after the commencement of the fire the insured shall render to the company at its main office in California named herein preliminary proof of loss consisting of a written statement signed and sworn to by him setting forth: (a) his knowledge and belief as to the origin of the fire; (b) the interest of the insured and of all others in the property; (c) the cash value of the different articles or properties and the amount of loss thereon; (d) all incumbrances thereon; (e) all other insurance, whether valid or not, covering any of said articles or properties; (f) a copy of the descriptions and schedules in all other policies unless similar to this policy, and in that event, a statement as to the amounts for which the different articles or properties are insured in each of the other policies; (g) any change of title, use, occupation, location or possession of said property since the issuance of this policy; (h) by whom and for what purpose any building herein described, and the several parts thereof, were occupied at the time of the fire. Preliminary proof of loss.

If the company claims that the preliminary proof of loss is defective and within five days after the receipt thereof (without admitting the amount of loss or any part thereof) notifies in writing the insured, or the party making such proof of loss, of the alleged defects (specifically stating them) and requests that they be remedied by verified amendments the insured or such party within ten days after the receipt of such notification and request must comply therewith or, if unable so to do, present to the company an affidavit to that effect.

The insured shall also furnish, if required, as far as it is practicable to obtain the same, verified plans and specifications of any building, fixtures or machinery destroyed or damaged; and the insured shall exhibit to any person designated in writing by this company all that remains of any property herein described and shall submit to examination under oath, as often as required, by any such person, and subscribe to the testimony so given and shall produce to such person for examination all books of account, bills, invoices and other vouchers, and permit extracts and copies thereof to be made, and in case the originals are lost certified copies, if obtainable, shall be produced. Plans and specifications.

Ascertainment of Amount of Loss. This company shall be deemed to have assented to the amount of the loss claimed by the insured in his preliminary proof of loss, unless within twenty days after the receipt thereof, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments, the company shall notify the insured in writing of its partial or Ascertainment of amount of loss.

total disagreement with the amount of loss claimed by him and shall also notify him in writing of the amount of loss, if any, the company admits on each of the different articles or properties set forth in the preliminary proof or amendments thereto.

Appraisement of loss.

If the insured and this company fail to agree, in whole or in part, as to the amount of loss within ten days after such notification, this company shall forthwith demand in writing, an appraisement of the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement and shall name a competent and disinterested appraiser, and the insured within five days after receipt of such demand and name, shall appoint a competent and disinterested appraiser and notify the company thereof in writing, and the two so chosen shall before commencing the appraisement, select a competent and disinterested umpire.

The appraisers together shall estimate and appraise the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement, stating separately the sound value and damage, and if they fail to agree they shall submit their differences to the umpire, and the award in writing duly verified of any two shall determine the amount or amounts of such loss.

The parties to the appraisement shall pay the appraisers respectively appointed by them and shall bear equally the expense of the appraisement and the charges of the umpire.

If for any reason not attributable to the insured, or to the appraiser appointed by him, an appraisement is not had and completed within ninety days after said preliminary proof of loss is received by this company, the insured is not to be prejudiced by the failure to make an appraisement, and may prove the amount of his loss in an action brought without such appraisement.

Option of company in case of loss

Option of company in case of loss—This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liability hereunder, repair, rebuild, or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments. There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

Apportionment of loss.

Apportionment of loss—This company shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of any loss on the described property, or for loss by, and expense of, removal from the premises endangered by fire, than the amount hereby insured bears to the entire insurance covering such property whether valid or not, or by solvent or insolvent insurers.

Assessment for deficiency

Assessment for deficiency—When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of this company, who shall proceed in the manner as provided in section 12 of this act.

Notice of assessment—It shall be the duty of the secretary, whenever assessment shall have been made, to immediately notify every person holding a risk in this company, personally, by an agent, or by letter directed to his usual post-office address, of the amount of such loss, and the sum due from him, as his share thereof, and of the time and to whom such payment is made; but such time shall not be less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days from date of such notice. No assessment or assessments can be levied under this policy in excess of five times the premium named herein. Notice of assessment.

Action for neglect or refusal to pay assessments—An action may be brought against the member whose property is insured herein and this policy is automatically suspended if the insured shall not have paid, before it is delinquent, his portion of any assessment levied or other liability due this company for a period in excess of ninety days. The directors of this company who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by law or the by-laws of the company, shall be liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining such loss. An action may also be brought and maintained against this company by members thereof for losses sustained if payment is withheld after the amount of such losses have been determined and is due by the terms of the policy. Action for neglect or refusal to pay assessments.

Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination—This company shall not be held to have waived any provision or condition of this policy or any forfeiture thereof, by assenting to the amount of the loss or damage or by any requirement, act or proceeding on its part relating to the appraisal or to any examination herein provided for. Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination.

Subrogation—If this company shall claim that the fire was caused by the act or neglect of any person or corporation, this company shall, upon payment of the loss be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all right of recovery by the insured for the loss resulting therefrom, and such right shall be assigned to this company by the insured on receiving such payment. Subrogation.

Time for commencement of action—No suit or action on this policy for the recovery of any claim shall be sustained, until after full compliance by the insured with all of the foregoing requirements, nor unless begun within fifteen months next after the commencement of the fire. Time for commencement of action.

Definitions—Wherever in this policy the word "insured" occurs, it shall be held to include the legal representatives of the insured in case of death, and wherever the word "loss" occurs, it shall be deemed the equivalent of "loss or damage," and wherever the words "the time of loss or damage" are used they shall be deemed the equivalent of "the time of the commencement of the fire." Definitions.

There shall be printed on the outside fold of said policy in type not smaller than eleven point the following words in this form:

Read This Policy.

Liability

Insurance company is liable only for the actual cash value.

Policy is void in case of any fraud, false swearing, misrepresentation or concealment about material facts.

Policy void.

Policy is void, unless otherwise agreed in writing, if

1. It is assigned before loss;

2. Insured has or shall procure other insurance;

3. Any change occurs in location of property;

4. Insured building is on ground not owned in fee simple by the insured;

5. Insured is not sole and unconditional owner;

Policy suspended

Policy is suspended unless otherwise agreed in writing, if

6. Described building becomes vacant or unoccupied for ten days;

7. Mechanics are employed more than fifteen days in repairing same;

8. Property is or becomes encumbered by chattel mortgage;

9. Illuminating gas or vapor is generated in or adjacent to described building;

10. Explosives or prohibited quantities of gasoline, etc., (except the gasoline contained in automobiles and gas engine tanks), as are kept on the premises; and provided, also, that the insurance on live stock and automobiles shall cover wherever located at the time of the fire.

Insurance ceases if described building or any material part falls except as result of fire.

Policy does not cover certain enumerated personal property.

Note particularly duty of insured in case of loss; also provisions avoiding or suspending policy, including changes of ownership or possession.

Stats. 1929, p. 1535.

SEC. 8. Section 19 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Agreed valuation.

Sec. 19. (a) By special agreement indorsed on the policy or added thereto, the provisions regarding appraisement or apportionment of loss may be waived and the valuations of all or any of the insured property in case of the total loss may be agreed upon in advance of loss.

Use of standard form.

(b) Said standard form of policy shall be plainly printed and no portion thereof shall be in type smaller than eleven point and subheads shall be in type larger than twelve point, and the lines of the policy shall be numbered consecutively.

(c) All county mutual fire insurance policies on property in California shall be on county mutual standard form, and except as herein provided, shall not contain additions thereto. No part of the standard form shall be omitted therefrom.

(d) The blanks in said standard form shall be appropriately filled. The company may add to the standard form any matter relating to its financial condition, directors, officers, stockholders and history, and the address of its home office, and principal office in the State; also in red ink any provisions respecting any limitations of liability of the company, its stockholders or members which it is required or permitted by law of the State or county of its organization to insert in its policies.

Optional clauses

(e) Clauses may be added to the standard form providing for and defining the rights, duties and obligations of mortgagees, assignees and other parties who have acquired or may acquire an interest in, right to or lien upon the insured property. Companies authorized to limit their assessment liability in accordance with the terms of this act may make such changes in the standard form as will properly accomplish that purpose.

Earthquakes.

(f) No clause shall be inserted or rider attached affecting the standard form liability of the insurer for loss or damage by fire occasioned either directly or indirectly by earthquake, hurricane, volcanic action or other disturbance of nature, unless the same shall be printed in red ink in twelve-point type and at the head of the policy there shall be printed in red ink in large bold-faced type the words, "This policy contains limitations of liability not permitted in the California standard form."

Optional clauses

The salaries of said deputies and assistants herein provided for shall be paid by said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of the county officers are paid.

Surveyor.

12. The surveyor, two thousand four hundred sixty-four dollars per annum and in addition thereto all necessary field assistants; provided, that in counties of this class there shall be and there is hereby allowed the surveyor three deputies who shall be appointed by the surveyor of the said county, and who shall be paid salaries as follows: One deputy at a salary of two thousand three hundred seventy-six dollars per annum; one deputy at a salary of two thousand one hundred twelve dollars per annum and one deputy at a salary of one thousand four hundred ten dollars per annum. The compensation of the surveyor is fixed upon the basis of part-time service and no provision of this section or of any other law shall prohibit or prevent him from also engaging in the general practice of his profession so long as he discharges the duties of his office. The salaries of the said deputies herein provided for shall be paid by the said county in monthly installments at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as the salaries of county officers are paid. All necessary expenses for field assistants shall be paid by the county, and the actual cost of preparing assessor's maps, whenever a complete set of such maps is ordered prepared by the board of supervisors.

Township classification

13. For the purpose of regulating the compensation of justices of the peace and constables in counties of the twelfth class, the townships of said counties are hereby classified as follows: Townships having a population of twenty-five thousand or more and less than forty thousand shall be townships of the first class; townships having a population of ten thousand or more and less than twenty-five thousand shall be townships of the second class; townships having a population of five thousand or more and less than ten thousand shall be townships of the third class; townships having a population of three thousand or more and less than five thousand shall be townships of the fourth class; townships having a population of one thousand or more and less than three thousand shall be townships of the fifth class; townships having a population of less than one thousand shall be townships of the sixth class; townships having an area of one thousand square miles or more and a population of less than ten thousand shall be townships of the seventh class.

Justices of the peace

14 The justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month at the same time and in the same manner and from the same fund as the county officers are paid, in the respective townships, as follows: In townships of the first class, one hundred ninety-eight dollars per month; in townships of the second class, one hundred seventeen dollars and fifty cents per month; in townships of the third class, seventy-five dollars per month; in townships of the fourth class, thirty-five dollars per month; in townships of the fifth class, twenty-five dollars per month; in townships of the sixth class, ten dollars per month; and in townships of the seventh class, fifty dollars per month.

The board of supervisors may provide a suitable court room and necessary stationery supplies and equipment for the various justices of the peace and in the event that the justice of the peace uses a room in a building owned or occupied by him for court room purposes the board of supervisors may pay to the justice of the peace a reasonable rental for the use of such room.

Justice's clerks.

For each justice's court in townships of the first class there shall be two justice's clerks who shall be appointed by the said justice of the peace; one of said clerks shall receive a salary of one thousand four hundred ten dollars per annum and the other said clerk shall receive a salary of one thousand one hundred twenty-eight dollars per annum. For each justice's court in townships of the second class there shall be one justice's clerk who shall be appointed by the said justice of the peace and who shall receive a salary of one thousand four hundred ten dollars per annum, which salaries of said justice's court clerks shall be payable in like manner and out of the same fund and at such times as county officers are paid. Said clerks shall take the oath of office prescribed for county officers and give a bond in the sum of one thousand dollars conditioned on the faithful performance of the duties of his office, which bond shall be approved and filed in the same manner as bonds of the county officers.

Said justice's clerks shall be authorized to administer all oaths, take and serve affidavits, and shall be authorized to issue and sign writs, summons and all other processes in any action or proceeding in the justice's court of the township for which he is appointed, or pending before any justice of the peace in said township in the name of the justice before whom the same is pending, or out of whose court the same is issued, which shall be in substantially the following form:

"----------,
Justice of the Peace

Attest ----------,
Clerk"

All legal papers of every kind in actions or proceedings in such justice's courts shall be issued by the said justice's clerks in the manner and form hereinbefore set out. The said justice's clerks shall issue, sign, and certify to any and all papers, transcripts, or records which are required to be issued, signed or certified by said justices of the peace. All complaints, answers and other pleadings and papers required to be filed in the said justice's court, shall be filed with such justice's clerk, who shall keep a permanent record of such actions and proceedings in the justice's docket, now provided by law to be kept by such justice. Said clerks shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and shall have the custody of all records and papers of the same.

All fees for the issuance of process, or other fees, which are by law allowed for any official service of the justice of the peace, shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of the justice's clerk which, together with all fees, fines, forfeitures or penalties received in said justice's court, shall be paid into the county treasury.

Said justice's clerks shall render each month to the county auditor and the county treasurer an exact account, under oath, of all fines, forfeitures and penalties and fees received by him or collected by said court. Each justice of the peace shall pay into the county treasury once each month all fines, fees and forfeitures collected by him with a statement showing the source from which received.

Constables.

15. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month at the same time and in the same manner and from the same fund as the county officers are paid; for their respective townships as follows: In townships of the first class one hundred seventeen dollars and fifty cents; in townships of the second class one hundred seventeen dollars and fifty cents; in townships of the third class fifty dollars; in townships of the fourth class twenty-five dollars; in townships of the fifth class twenty dollars; in townships of the sixth class ten dollars; in townships of the seventh class fifty dollars.

In townships of the first class the constable shall receive and keep in addition to the compensation herein provided, all fees and commissions for service of papers and process coming from courts outside of Riverside County. The constable shall charge and collect such fees as are allowed by law and shall pay into the county treasury each month all fees, forfeitures, fines and commissions collected by him in the discharge of his duties as such constable excepting and excluding therefrom such fees and commissions as hereinabove allowed the constable.

In townships of the second class the salary herein provided shall be compensation in full for all services rendered by the constable in both civil and criminal cases.

The constable shall charge and collect such fees as are allowed by law and shall pay into the county treasury each month all fees, forfeitures, fines and commissions collected by him in the discharge of his duties as such constable; provided, however, that in townships of the first and second classes the constable shall be paid from the county treasury his actual traveling expenses while engaged in official business outside of his respective township.

In townships of the third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh classes, the constable shall receive and retain for his own use the fees allowed by law in civil cases and shall be paid out of the county treasury his actual traveling expenses outside of his own township, but within his own county, for the service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, both going and returning, ten cents per mile; for each mile actually traveled outside his county, both going and returning in the service of any warrant of arrest in any criminal case, five cents per mile; for transportation of prisoners to the county jail, the actual cost of transportation.

Townsh p population

16. The population of the several judicial townships for the purpose of fixing compensation of township officers shall be ascertained and declared by the board of supervisors on the first Monday after the first day of January, every odd-numbered year.

Supervisors.

17. Each supervisor, one thousand five hundred dollars per annum; payable in monthly installments, and actual traveling expenses from his residence to the place of meeting of the board at the county seat; and the necessary actual expenses incurred by him while engaged in county business outside of his district, not exceeding in the aggregate the sum of three hundred dollars per annum.

Each member of the board of supervisors of counties of the twelfth class shall be required to obtain and keep in force a public liability bond in the amount of fifty thousand dollars inuring to the benefit of any and all persons who may be injured or aggrieved by any act or omission of said supervisor in his official capacity; provided that the premium or charge of such bond shall not exceed one-half of one per cent per annum on the amount of such bond; and provided further, that premium or charge for such bonds shall be paid by the said county in the manner that the premiums or charges for the bonds of public officials are paid.

Constitutionality

18. If any paragraph, sentence, clause or phrase of this act for any reason is held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this section. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed each section and each paragraph, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more paragraphs, sentences, clauses, or phrases, be declared unconstitutional.

Effect

Effect. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

ing on their operations, and providing for the powers, management and government of such districts, and imposing certain duties and functions in connection with such districts upon certain county officers," approved May 31, 1921, relating to public utility districts in unincorporated territory.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof to be numbered 51a and to read as follows:

Procedure for disincorporation of district.

Sec. 51a. A public utility district organized under the terms of this act may be disincorporated in the following manner:

Petition to board of supervisors

(a) A petition shall be presented to the board of supervisors of the county in which the largest portion of the area of such district is located, signed by at least twenty-five per cent of the qualified registered electors of the district and praying for the disincorporation of such district and briefly stating the reasons therefor. Upon the presentation of such petition the county clerk shall examine the same within ten days after such presentation and ascertain whether or not said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified electors. For the purpose of such examination, such clerk shall make such inquiry or investigation as to the number of electors residing in other counties as may be necessary to ascertain the total number of electors in the district and whether or not a sufficient number thereof have signed the petition.

Certificate of county clerk.

(b) When the county clerk has completed his examination of the petition he shall attach to the same his certificate properly dated, showing the result of such examination, and if from such examination he finds that said petition is signed by the requisite number of qualified registered electors residing within the boundaries of such district, or is not so signed, he shall certify that the same is sufficient or insufficient, as the case may be.

Supplemental petition.

(c) If the same is found insufficient by him, supplemental petitions may be filed within ten days from and after the date of his certificate of such insufficiency in the same manner as in the case of the original petition for the disincorporation of the district. The clerk shall examine said supplemental petition or petitions in the same manner as in the case of the original petition and if the signatures on such supplemental petitions, together with the signatures on the original petition, constitute the requisite number of qualified registered electors residing within the boundaries of such district, he shall certify that the petition is sufficient and such supplemental petitions shall be attached to the original petition and for the purpose of all proceedings thereafter shall become a part of such original petition. If the supplemental petitions together with the original petition are found insufficient, the county clerk shall so certify and thereafter no petition may be filed for disincorporation of the district within the period of six calendar months from and after the date of the certificate. The county clerk shall have ten days from and after the filing of any supplemental petition during which he may make such examination of said supplemental petition, but must complete such examination within said period. The sufficiency or insufficiency of such petition or supplemental petitions shall not be subject to review by the board of supervisors.

(d) If by the certificate of the county clerk such petition, or such petition as amended or supplemented, is shown to be sufficient, the county clerk shall present the same to the board of supervisors without delay. When such petition is presented by the county clerk, as aforesaid, the board of supervisors shall give notice of an election to be held in said public utility district for the purpose of determining whether or not the same shall be disincorporated and dissolved. Notice of election.

(e) Such notice of election shall be published in a newspaper published in said district and determined by such board most likely to give notice to those interested in said matter, or, if there is no newspaper published in the district, such notice shall be published in a newspaper published in the territory adjacent thereto determined by said board to be most likely to give notice to those interested in said matter. Such publication shall be made in the same manner and for the same period as in the case of petitions to incorporate such district. Said notice shall state that the question of disincorporating said district shall be submitted to the legal voters thereof at the time appointed for such election, and electors shall be invited thereby to vote upon such proposition by placing upon their ballots the cross as provided by law after the words "for disincorporation" or "against disincorporation."

(f) The board of supervisors shall cause a copy of said notice to be mailed by the clerk of said board to each of the directors of the public utility district within five days after the date of the first publication thereof, and no election shall be held until proof of such mailing is furnished by affidavit of the clerk of the board of supervisors. Notice to directors of district

(g) Such election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as would be the case if it were an election on the organization of said district, as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws of the State of California, in so far as said general laws may be applicable, except as in this act otherwise provided. Conduct of election.

(h) At the first regular meeting next after the date of said election, the board of supervisors shall proceed to canvass the vote cast thereat; if it be found by the canvass of said votes that less than a majority of the votes cast were in favor Canvass of votes of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall declare the petition for disincorporation denied.

Declaration of disincorporation.

(i) In case it shall appear from said canvass that a majority of all the votes cast were in favor of disincorporation, said board of supervisors shall under their hands make and file in their office, and cause to be entered upon the records of their proceedings an order that the petition for such disincorporation be granted, and declaring that such district be disincorporated; said order to take effect at the time hereinafter provided. Said board of supervisors shall in case said district is so disincorporated, forthwith cause its clerk, or other officer performing the duties of clerk, by an order entered in its minutes, to make and transmit to the Secretary of State a certified copy of the notice of election hereinbefore provided for, the whole number of electors voting for said disincorporation and the whole number of electors voting against said disincorporation.

(j) Twenty days from and after the holding of the election, in case a majority of said votes were cast in favor of said disincorporation, said district shall be forever disincorporated.

New section.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 51b and to read as follows:

Financial status of district.

Sec. 51b. Upon the disincorporation of any public utility district in the manner hereinbefore provided for, the board of supervisors of the county in which the largest portion of the area of the district is located shall forthwith, after ascertaining by said canvass that the disincorporation has been carried, determine the amount of the indebtedness of said district, the amount of money in the treasury thereof and all indebtedness due or coming due the said district, and the directors of said district shall furnish the said board of supervisors with a statement showing said amount of indebtedness, the said amount of money in the treasury and all indebtedness due or coming due said district, and said district shall before the expiration of thirty days turn over to the treasurer of said county all moneys of said district in his possession, and said county treasurer shall place said money in a special fund to be drawn upon as hereinafter provided for.

Public property, records, etc.

Upon the disincorporation of said district every public officer of said district shall immediately turn over to the board of supervisors of the county in which said district is situated, all public property of every nature and description in their possession, and including all public records and data of every nature and description. Nothing contained in this act shall be held to relieve said district, or the territory included within it, from any liability or any debt contracted by said district prior to its disincorporation.

Warrants.

All warrants for said indebtedness shall be drawn on order of the board of supervisors of the county in which said public utility district is situated, on the fund hereinabove provided for in the county treasury.

All moneys paid into the county treasury under the provisions of this act shall be placed in the special fund hereinbefore provided for.

Levy of tax

If at any time after the disincorporation of said district it shall be found that there is not sufficient money in the treasury to the credit of the fund hereinbefore provided, with which to pay any indebtedness of said district, said board of supervisors shall succeed to and have all the powers of the directors of the district providing for the payment thereof, and shall have the power, and it shall be their duty, to cause to be levied and there shall be collected from the territory formerly included within said district, a tax or taxes sufficient in amount to pay the said indebtedness as the same shall become due; such tax or taxes, assessments and collections shall be made in the same manner and at the same time that other taxes of the county are levied and collected, and they shall be an additional tax within said territory for the payment of said debts. As to taxes to be levied on land not in the county of which such supervisors constitute the board, the supervisors shall cause the levy thereof in the same manner and by the same means as is provided in this act for the levying of such tax by the board of directors of the district, who may levy such tax in their own county in the same manner as other county taxes.

Same—Land not in county.

Surplus.

If after payment of all debts of said district there shall remain any surplus in the hands of said county treasurer to the credit of the fund hereinbefore mentioned, the board of supervisors shall appropriate said surplus and declare a dividend pro rata to the taxpayers of said district duly paid, and said taxpayers shall have the right to have the amount of such pro rata dividends refunded to them on demand, and the said board of supervisors shall refund such pro rata to said taxpayers and each thereof.

Duty of supervisors if directors fail to act.

The board of supervisors of the county in which any such district has been disincorporated, shall have the power and it shall be the duty of said board, if the board of directors of such district fail or refuse to return to said board the statement of said amounts as hereinbefore in this act provided, to ascertain the indebtedness of said district at the time of its disincorporation, the amount of money in its treasury and the amount due it at the said time; said board of supervisors shall make provision for the collection of the amounts due to said district, for the closing up of its affairs, and any act or acts necessary for said purposes not otherwise herein provided for, shall upon the order of said board of supervisors directing the same, be as fully done and performed and with as full effect as if the same had been performed by the proper officers of said district before disincorporation, and said county shall succeed to and possess all the right of said district in and to said indebtedness, and shall have the power to sue for or otherwise collect any such debts in the name of said county, and all costs and expenses of ascertaining the facts hereinbefore mentioned, and all other costs and expenses incurred by the board of supervisors in the execution of the orders and duties of said board of supervisors provided for in this act, shall be paid out of the special fund in this act provided for.

Outstanding bonds.

In case there are any bonds issued by the district outstanding and unpaid at the time of such disincorporation, the board of supervisors ordering the disincorporation of the district shall succeed to the powers of the board of directors of the district in providing for the payment of the bonds and shall levy such tax on property not embraced in the district prior to the disincorporation and shall continue such provisions for payment of the bonds as is specified in the bonds or was made or carried into effect by the directors of the district prior to the filing with the county clerk of the petition for disincorporation, and funds of the district devoted to such payment, or to matters incident thereto, shall become and be continued as such funds in the county treasury. No moneys in any fund of said disincorporated district devoted to the payment of the bonds thereof shall be used for the payment of any other indebtedness of the district until such bonds are paid in full.

New section

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 51c and to read as follows:

Transfer of powers

Sec. 51c. Whenever all the territory comprising a public utility district organized under this act becomes a part of any incorporated city or town, the legislative body of the city or town shall succeed to the powers of the board of directors of the district and shall thereafter, for all purposes, become such board of directors. All the property, records and documents of such district must be transferred and conveyed by the board of directors thereof to such legislative body upon the incorporation of such city or town.

CHAPTER 428.

An act declaring the bridge across the Sacramento River near the town of Meridian, between the counties of Sutter and Colusa, to be a part of the State highway system for maintenance purposes and providing for the relinquishment of jurisdiction over said bridge by the State to said counties.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Bridge part of State Highway System.

SECTION 1. That certain bridge across the Sacramento River in the vicinity of the town of Meridian, Sutter County, and connecting the counties of Sutter and Colusa, or such portion thereof as may be used for highway purposes to the extent herein provided, is hereby added to and made a part of the State highway system and classified as a part of Route 15 of said system. Said bridge is hereby placed under the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Works for maintenance purposes; provided, that the State of California hereby assumes only such obligation of maintenance of said bridge, or highway portion thereof, as is now imposed upon or assumed by the counties of Sutter and Colusa under any existing contract or agreement with any railroad company for the joint use or maintenance thereof. The Department of Public Works shall have authority to relinquish any interest of the State of California created hereby in said bridge, at any time in its discretion, to the counties of Sutter and Colusa, and thereupon the jurisdiction and control of said bridge shall revert to and thereafter be vested in said counties.

And for the purpose of regulating the compensation of the constables and justices of the peace, townships of this class of counties are hereby classified as follows: Townships having a registered voting population of ten thousand and more shall belong to and be known as townships of the first class; townships having a like population of one thousand four hundred fifty and less than ten thousand shall belong to and be known as townships of the second class; townships having a like population of six hundred and less than one thousand four hundred fifty shall belong to and be known as townships of the third class; townships having a like population of less than six hundred shall belong to and be known as townships of the fourth class.

Justices of the peace.

15. Justices of the peace in townships of the first class shall receive a salary of two hundred fifty dollars per month to be paid each month as the county officers are paid.

For each justice's court in townships of the first class there shall be one justice's clerk for each department or court thereof, who shall be appointed by the justices of the peace. Said clerk, or clerks, shall be appointed immediately on this act taking effect and shall take the oath of office prescribed for county officers, and give a bond in the sum of three thousand dollars, conditioned upon and for the faithful discharge of the duties of the office, which bonds shall be approved and filed in the same manner as are bonds of county officers.

Said justice's clerk, or clerks, shall be authorized to administer all oaths, take and serve affidavits, and shall be authorized to issue and sign writs, summons and all other processes in any action or proceeding in the justice's court of the township for which he is appointed, or pending before any justice of the peace in said township, in the name of the justice before whom the same is pending, or out of whose court the same is issued, which shall be in substantially the following form:

"_____
Justice of the Peace.

Attest: _____
Clerk."

All legal papers of every kind in actions or proceedings in such justice's court shall be issued by the said justice's clerk, or clerks, in the manner and form hereinbefore set out. The said justice's clerk, or clerks, shall issue, sign and certify to any and all papers, transcripts or records which are required to be issued, signed or certified by said justice of the peace. All complaints, answers and other pleadings and papers required to be filed in the said justice's court, shall be filed with such justice's clerk, or clerks, who shall keep a permanent record of such actions and proceedings in the justice's docket, now provided by law to be kept by such justice. Said clerk shall keep a record of the proceedings of said court and shall have the custody of all records and papers of the same.

All fees for the issuance of process, or other fees, which are by law allowed for any official service of the justice of the peace, shall be exacted and paid in advance into the hands of the justice's clerk, or clerks, which, together with all fees, fines, forfeitures or penalties received in said justice's court, shall be paid into the county treasury.

Said justice's clerk, or clerks, shall render each month to the county auditor and county treasurer an exact account, under oath, of all fines, forfeitures and penalties and fees received by him or collected by said court. Said justice's clerk, or clerks, shall receive a salary of one thousand three hundred fifty dollars per year, which shall be payable in like manner and out of the same funds and at such times as county officers are paid.

In the event that two justices' courts be established in any township of the first class, then and in such an event the justice of said additional court shall be entitled to and shall appoint a clerk for said additional court, which said clerk shall be vested with the same authority and charged with the same duties and entitled to the same compensation as the clerk of the justice's court hereinbefore provided for.

The board of supervisors shall provide, in a convenient locality, a suitable office and court room, including all necessary office furniture, telephone, light, heat and water and all necessary stationery and office supplies for the justices and clerks thereof for all justices' courts in and for townships of the first and second class.

Justices of the peace and persons now performing the duties of justices of the peace shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as the county officers are paid and the same shall include their office rent except as heretofore provided for justices of the first and second class, to wit:

In townships of the second class	$95.00
In townships of the third class	85.50
In townships of the fourth class	71.25

For each justice's court in townships other than the first class, there shall be one justice's clerk, who shall be appointed by the justice of the peace; provided, that the total number of cases, civil and criminal, filed in said court during the calendar year preceding such an appointment be six hundred fifty.

Said clerk shall be appointed immediately on this act taking effect and shall have same qualifications, authority and duties as prescribed for clerks of justices' courts of the first class. Said justice's clerk shall receive a salary of nine hundred dollars per year, which shall be payable in like manner and out of the same funds and at such times as county officers are paid. On the first day of each calendar year, the justice of each court, entitled to a clerk under this provision shall file with the county clerk a certified list of all cases filed in his court for the preceding calendar year, giving titles of same.

Justices of the peace shall pay to the county treasurer once a month all fees and fines collected by them and shall be responsible for the collection and payment to the county treasurer of all such fees and fines as herein provided.

Constables.

16. Constables shall receive the following monthly salaries to be paid each month as the county officers are paid and to be in full compensation for all services rendered by them in criminal cases, to wit:

In townships of the first class	$112.50
In townships of the second class	95.00
In townships of the third class	85.50
In townships of the fourth class	71.25

In addition to the monthly salaries above provided each constable may receive and retain for his own use such fees as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law for all services rendered by him in civil cases, and shall also be allowed all necessary expenses actually incurred in arresting and conveying prisoners to court or prison, which expenses shall be audited by the board of supervisors and paid out of the county treasury; provided further, that when a constable is required to go out of the county to serve a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case, he shall be allowed mileage in going and returning outside of the county at the rate of five cents per mile.

Supervisors

17. The supervisors shall receive each the sum of three thousand dollars per annum, payable monthly in installments of two hundred fifty dollars per month, in full compensation for all services rendered, either as supervisors or road overseers.

Sealer

18. The sealer of weights and measures shall receive a salary of one hundred eighty dollars per month and he shall have three deputies at a salary of one hundred thirty-five dollars per month each; provided, however, that from and after the first Monday after the first day in January, 1935, the sealer of weights and measures shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per annum, and he shall have three deputies at a salary of one thousand six hundred twenty dollars per annum each.

Payment of salaries.

19. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in installments monthly on the first day of each month.

Expenses.

20. In counties of this class the county officers shall receive as compensation for the services required of them by law or by virtue of their offices, the salaries and expenses herein set forth; provided, that the members of the board of supervisors, clerk, sheriff, recorder, auditor, treasurer, tax collector, assessor, district attorney, superintendent of schools, surveyor, sealer of weights and measures, and their respective deputies, shall be allowed all actual expenses which are necessary to the performance of their duties under the law; and said expenses and the salaries designated in this section for such officers and their deputies, except as in this section otherwise specifically provided, shall be as full and complete compensation for giving their entire time and attention to the duties required of them by law, or which are, for any reason imposed upon or performed by them under the laws of or on behalf of the United States or this State or any political subdivision thereof, or any public corporation. All other fees, statutory mileage or other remuneration or compensation of any kind or character received by such officers or their deputies from the United States or this State or any political subdivision thereof or any public corporation, shall be by such officers named in this section paid into the county treasury; provided, that the requirements of this paragraph shall not apply to that portion of any such fees collected which is authorized by statute to be paid to other persons or is necessarily diverted to other persons for the purpose of carrying out the objects of the statute.

Fees, etc

CHAPTER 430.

An act to amend sections 9, 14 and 15 of "The State Bar Act," relating to the Board of Governors. Stats. 1927, p 38, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 852

Sec. 9. There is hereby constituted a Board of Governors of the State Bar, which shall consist of fifteen (15) members. For the purpose of conducting elections of the members of the board, the State is divided into State Bar districts constituted by combining counties and designated by numbers, as follows: State Bar District No. 1, comprising the following counties: Del Norte, Humboldt, Mendocino, Siskiyou, Modoc, Trinity, Shasta, Lassen, Plumas, Sierra, Tehama, Glenn, Colusa, Butte, Yuba, Sutter, Lake, Nevada and Placer; State Bar District No. 2, comprising the following counties: El Dorado, Amador, Calaveras, Alpine, Tuolumne, Mariposa, Mono, Sacramento, San Joaquin, Yolo, Napa, Solano, Sonoma and Marin; State Bar District No 3, comprising the following counties: Contra Costa, Alameda and Santa Clara; State Bar District No. 4, comprising the City and County of San Francisco; State Bar District No. 5, comprising the following counties: Stanislaus, Merced, Madera, Fresno, Kings, Tulare and Kern; State Bar District No. 6, comprising the following counties: San Mateo, Santa Cruz, San Benito, Monterey, San Luis Obispo, Santa Barbara and Ventura; State Bar District No. 7, comprising the county of Los Angeles; State Bar District No. 8, comprising the following counties: Inyo, San Bernardino, Orange and Riverside; State Bar District No. 9, comprising the following counties: Imperial and San Diego. One (1) member of the board shall be elected from each of State Bar Districts 1, 2, 5, 6, 8 and 9; two (2) members shall be elected from each of State Bar Districts 3 and 4; and five (5) members shall be elected from State Bar District 7. The members of the board shall be elected for terms of three (3) years, five (5) members being elected each year. No person shall be nominated for, or eligible to, membership on the board who has served as a member for three (3) years next preceding the expiration of his current term, or would have so served if his current term were completed. Within the meaning of this section, the time intervening between any two successive annual meetings shall be deemed to be one (1) year. No person shall be eligible for membership on the board unless he is an active member of the State Bar and unless he maintains his principal office for the practice of law within the State Bar district from which he is elected. One member of the board from State Bar District 7 to be elected in 1933 for a three- (3) year term, and any successor to said member, at the time of his election shall, and any member from said district may, maintain his principal office for the practice of law outside of the city of Los Angeles. One member of the board from State Bar District 3 to be elected in 1933 for a two- (2) year term, and any successor to said member, at the time of his election shall, and any member from said district may, maintain his principal office for the practice of law outside of the city of Oakland. The term of office of each member of the board shall commence at the conclusion of the annual meeting next succeeding his election, and he shall hold office until his successor is elected and qualified.

Stats 1927, p 38.

SEC. 2. Section 14 of "The State Bar Act" is amended to read as follows:

Terms of governors.

Sec. 14. The provisions of section 9 hereof are subject to the provisions of this section. The eight (8) members of the board whose terms of office do not expire until the annual meeting to be held in 1934 shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms, and shall be deemed to have been elected from the respective State Bar districts in which their respective principal offices were located at the date of their election. In 1933 five (5) members of the board shall be elected for three- (3) year terms as follows: one (1) member from each of State Bar Districts Nos. 4, 6 and 8, and two (2) members from State Bar District No. 7; and, in 1933, two (2) members of the board shall be elected for two- (2) year terms as follows: one (1) member from each of State Bar Districts 3 and 7. In 1934, five (5) members of the board shall be elected for three- (3) year terms as follows: one (1) member from each of State Bar Districts Nos. 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9; and, in 1934, three (3) members of the board shall be elected for one- (1) year terms as follows: one (1) member from each of State Bar Districts Nos. 2, 4 and 7. In 1935, five (5) members of the board shall be elected for three- (3) year terms as follows: one (1) member from each of State Bar Districts Nos. 2, 3 and 4, and two (2) members from State Bar District No. 7. Thereafter, five (5) members of the board shall be elected each year, each for three- (3) year terms, and from the State Bar districts in which vacancies will occur in that year by reason of the expiration of the term of office of a member theretofore elected thereto.

Stats. 1929, p. 1256.

SEC. 3. Section 15 of "The State Bar Act" is amended to read as follows:

Election of governors

Sec. 15. Nominations of members of the board shall be by petition signed by at least twenty (20) persons entitled to vote for such nominees. Only active members of the State Bar maintaining their principal offices for the practice of the law in the respective State Bar districts shall be entitled to vote for the member or members of the board therefrom. Each place upon the board for which a member is to be elected shall for the purposes of the election be deemed a separate office. The election shall be by ballot. The ballots shall be mailed to those entitled to vote at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of canvassing the ballots and shall be returned by mail to the principal office of the State Bar, where the same shall be canvassed at least five (5) days prior to the ensuing annual meeting, at which meeting the count shall be certified and the result officially declared. The board may by rule shorten either said twenty- (20) day period or said five- (5) day period, or both of said periods, as applied to the election to be held in the year 1933, if in its judgment the time elapsing after the effective date of this enactment renders such action reasonable and proper. In all other respects the elections shall be as the board may by rule direct.

CHAPTER 431.

Stats. 1931, p. 483, amended.

An act to amend the act entitled "An act to define building and loan associations and to regulate them and their organization, business, operation, merger, consolidation and liquidation, and (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) also to do the following: to define and regulate the agents, salesmen and collectors of such associations, and to regulate their officers, directors and employees; to define, authorize, and regulate the issuance of, shares, stock and investment certificates of such associations, and to prescribe the rights, remedies and liabilities of holders thereof, and to make such investment certificates legal investments for certain purposes; to prescribe the rights, powers, remedies, duties and liabilities of such associations and the rights and remedies of their creditors; to regulate the investments, loans and borrowings of such associations, and their accounts, reports, audits, statements and advertising; to create and continue the office of Building and Loan Commissioner, provide for and define the rights, powers, remedies and duties of the commissioner and his assistants and employees; to provide penalties for offenses by such associations, their directors, officers, agents, salesmen, collectors and employees and by other persons and corporations; and to repeal title sixteen of part four of division one of the Civil Code, chapter 354 of the Statutes of 1911 and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto; chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1927, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 5, 1931, by amending sections numbered 1.01, 3.02, 5.01, 6.01, 6.02, 6.03, 6.08, 7.06, 9.02, 9.04 to 9.12, both inclusive, 10.03, 10.05, 12.01, 13.01, and 15.16, by repealing section numbered 12.08 thereof, and by adding new sections to be numbered 9.13, 9.14, 9.15, 9.16, 9.17, 13.16a and 13.20 to said act, all relating to building and loan associations.

[Approved by the Governor May 16, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1.01 of an act entitled "An act to define building and loan associations and to regulate them and their organization, business, operation, merger, consolidation and liquidation, and (without limiting the generality of the foregoing) also to do the following: to define and regulate the agents, salesmen and collectors of such associations, and to regulate their officers, directors and employees; to define, authorize, and regulate the issuance of, shares, stock and investment certificates of such associations and to prescribe the rights, remedies and liabilities of holders thereof, and to make such investment certificates legal investments for certain purposes; to prescribe the rights, powers, remedies, duties and liabilities of such associations and the rights and remedies of their creditors; to regulate the investments, loans and borrowings of such associations, and their accounts, reports, audits, statements and advertising; to create and continue the office of Building and Loan Commissioner, provide for and define the rights, powers, remedies and duties of the commissioner and his assistants and employees; to provide penalties for offenses by such associations, their directors, officers, agents, salesmen, collectors and employees and by other persons and corporations; and to repeal title sixteen of part four of division one of the Civil Code, chapter 354 of the Statutes of 1911 and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto; chapter 133 of the Statutes of 1927, and all other acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 5, 1931, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Definitions. Section 1.01. In General. The following terms, wherever used in this act, shall have the following meanings, except in cases where the context otherwise requires:

"Association" means a building and loan association, as defined in section 1.02 of this act, and except where otherwise indicated includes both domestic and foreign associations. "Domestic association" means an association incorporated under the laws of this State, and "Foreign association" means any other association. "Association on notice" and "Association on a pro rata basis" are defined in section 6.01 of this act.

"Commissioner" means the Building and Loan Commissioner. "Shares" means withdrawable shares of an association; which shares shall constitute and may be designated membership shares. "Pledged shares" means shares pledged as security for the payment of a loan from the association issuing such shares. "Free shares" means all other shares. "Full paid shares," "Installment shares" (including "serial" and "nonserial" installment shares), "Accumulative shares" and "Prepaid shares" are defined in section 3.02 of this act.

"Stock" means guarantee stock of an association.

"Investment certificates" means instruments issued by an association, pursuant to section 5.01 of this act, which expressly state that the right of the holder thereof to withdraw funds evidenced thereby is subject to the provisions of Article VI of this act, and which otherwise conform to the provisions of this act applicable thereto. "Full paid investment certificate," "Installment investment certificate," "Accumulative investment certificate," "Definite term investment certificate," "Prepaid investment certificate" and "Minimum term investment certificate" are defined in section 5.01 of this act.

"Shareholder" and "member" are synonymous and mean the holder of one or more shares or of a fraction thereof. "Stockholder" means the holder of stock. "Certificate holder" means the holder of one or more investment certificates. "Investor" includes shareholder, stockholder and certificate holder.

The "value" of shares or investment certificates means the amount paid in upon such shares or investment certificates, plus the accumulated earnings or interest accrued thereon, less any withdrawals therefrom and charges thereagainst. The "matured value" of a share shall be equal to the par value thereof.

"Redemption price" is defined in section 5.06 of this act, and "withdrawal value" in section 6.01 thereof.

The term "issuing" wherever used in this act with reference to an association issuing or not issuing shares, stock and investment certificates or any thereof, shall not be limited to issuance thereof at the particular time, but shall include prior issuance if such stock, shares and investment certificates or any thereof (as the case may be) are still outstanding.

"Advertisement" includes advertisement, circular, pamphlet, prospectus, circular letter, newspaper, and also oral statements broadcast by radio.

Words used in this act in the present tense include the future as well as the present; words used in the masculine gender include the feminine and neuter, and in the neuter gender include the masculine and feminine; the singular number includes the plural, and the plural includes the singular; "writing" includes also printing and typewriting; "oath" includes also affirmation; and "county" includes also city and county.

SEC. 2. Section 3.02 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 483.

Sec. 3.02. Description of Withdrawable Shares. Withdrawable shares shall be of the par value of one hundred or two hundred dollars each, as provided in the articles of incorporation or by-laws, and shall be paid for by the subscribers or shareholders as provided in the by-laws. Such payments may be, and are hereafter sometimes in this act, called dues. Certificates evidencing shares, with or without passbooks, shall be issued to each shareholder on the first payment of dues by him. When the dues paid on any share, together with the dividends or profits apportioned thereto, shall equal the par value thereof, such share shall have reached its matured value. Except in connection with mergers, consolidations or transfers pursuant to section 2.06 of this act, no shares shall be issued for any consideration other than cash or cancellation of outstanding shares of the same association Withdrawable shares.

Reissued.

of equal value or, with the approval of the commissioner, of different values. All shares matured in respect of which payment shall have been made by the association to the shareholder, and all shares surrendered or canceled, may be reissued. Accumulative shares may be issued with the provision that at all times the holder or holders thereof shall be the owners of as many shares and fractions thereof of such association as there are units of the par value of such shares invested with the association by such holders. In the case of all shares hereafter issued by associations issuing both shares and stock, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary hereafter contained in this section, the rate or rates of dividends upon the shares, unless agreed and unless specified in the certificates evidencing such shares, shall be prescribed by the by-laws. Shares may be issued as full paid shares, installment shares, accumulative shares or prepaid shares.

Full paid shares Definition

(a) Full Paid Shares. Full paid shares shall be shares upon which a single payment of dues amounting to the par value of said shares shall be paid at the time of subscription and upon which the holder shall be entitled either (a) to dividends at such agreed rate, not exceeding six per cent per annum, as shall be specified in the body of the certificate issued; or (b) to such participation in the net profits, not exceeding the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the board of directors shall determine or, in the case of an association issuing both shares and stock, as the by-laws shall prescribe. All such shares may be issued in one or more classes as to participation, under regulations prescribed in the by-laws and which must be fully set forth in or upon each certificate issued.

Dividends

Participation in profits.

Installment shares "Serial" and "nonserial"

(b) Installment Shares. Installment shares shall be either "serial" or "nonserial" in form. When issued in "serial" form the periodical dues on shares in each series shall commence with the date of the issue of such series and the holder must pay such dues per share and at such times as the by-laws provide, and such payments shall continue on each share until, with the dividends or profits apportioned thereto, it reaches its matured value or is withdrawn or canceled. On all serial issues the dividends or profits shall be apportioned and credited equally to each share in the same series. No share of a prior series shall be issued after the issue of shares in a new series, except by way of transfer. Installment shares issued in "nonserial" form may be issued at any time and the dividends thereon shall be credited to such shares. Shares of either form may be issued in "classes" with a different periodical payment for each class, to be specified in the by-laws, and shall be issued with full participation in the profits subject to apportionment as dividends; provided, however, that associations issuing stock may, if their by-laws so provide, issue installment shares limited to a maximum rate of dividend.

(c) Accumulative Shares. Accumulative shares are shares which shall participate in the apportionment of net profits and be credited therewith at a rate not exceeding the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the board of directors shall determine or, in the case of an association issuing both shares and stock, as the by-laws shall prescribe, and upon which the dues may be paid in at such times and in such amounts as the holder thereof may elect and as the association may permit until said shares reach their matured value or are canceled or withdrawn. Accumulative shares Participation in profits.

(d) Prepaid Shares. Prepaid shares shall be shares not full paid, upon which a single payment shall have been made, and which are to reach their matured value through crediting on such shares, dividends or earnings thereon. The holders of prepaid shares shall be entitled either (a) to dividends at such agreed rate, not exceeding six per cent per annum, as shall be specified in the body of the certificate issued; or (b) to such participation in the net profits, not exceeding the rate apportioned to installment shares, as the board of directors shall determine or, in the case of an association issuing both shares and stock, as the by-laws shall prescribe. Prepaid shares: Dividends. Participation in profits.

SEC. 3. Section 5.01 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 483.

Sec. 5.01. Description of Investment Certificates. An association may issue investment certificates, with or without pass books. The holders of investment certificates shall have no liability for debts or assessments, and shall be entitled upon liquidation of an association to receive payment in full before any payment or distribution shall be made to shareholders or stockholders. The holders of investment certificates shall have no right to participate in the profits or dividends. Except in connection with mergers, consolidations or transfers pursuant to section 2.06 of this act, no investment certificate shall hereafter be issued for a consideration other than cash or cancellation of outstanding investment certificates of the same association of equal value or, with the approval of the commissioner, of different values. Subject to the provisions of this act and of the respective investment certificates, certificate holders shall be entitled to have interest paid or credited at the rate specified in their respective certificates and to the return of their principal with accrued interest upon withdrawal, redemption or maturity. Investment certificates may be issued as full paid investment certificates, installment investment certificates, accumulative investment certificates, definite term investment certificates, minimum term investment certificates or prepaid investment certificates. If so provided in any investment certificate, interest thereon after a specified date or period shall be at a different rate of interest than the rate specified for the initial period. Subject to the provisions of sections 5.06 and 5.07 of this act, interest on installment investment certificates hereafter issued and on prepaid investment certificates hereafter issued shall continue to accrue after the maturity thereof at the same rate as before such maturity, until such certificates shall be withdrawn. Investment certificates. Mode of disposal. Interest. Types.

Full paid. (a) Full Paid Certificates. A full paid investment certificate shall be an investment certificate, without an expressed date of maturity, for which the association shall have received the principal amount thereof at or prior to the time of the issuance thereof.

Installment. (b) Installment Certificates. An installment investment certificate shall be an investment certificate not full paid, upon which the holder shall be obligated to make payments at the times and in the amounts specified therein.

Accumulative (c) Accumulative Certificates. An accumulative investment certificate shall be an investment certificate, not full paid and without an expressed date of maturity, upon which the holder shall have the option of making payments at such times and in such amounts as such holder may elect and as the association may permit.

Definite term (d) Definite Term Certificates. A definite term investment certificate shall be an investment certificate, for which the association shall have received a single payment equal to the principal amount thereof, and which shall have a date of maturity expressed therein, which date shall be at least one year from the issuance of such certificate. On or after such maturity date, without any prior notice of intention to withdraw, the holder of a definite term investment certificate shall be entitled, subject to section 6.02 of this act, to receive the full principal amount thereof together with accrued interest thereon, if any such interest be unpaid on such date. Unless otherwise specified in a definite term investment certificate, no interest shall accrue thereon after the date of its maturity except that if the association on or after the maturity date of any such certificate shall fail to make payment thereon upon such certificate being tendered for surrender, then interest shall continue to accrue on such certificate at the rate specified therein from such maturity date until such certificate is paid, or until such association shall have funds available for the payment thereof and shall have notified the holder of such certificate that such funds are so available. At the option of an association, any definite term investment certificate issued by it may provide that if the holder does not tender such certificate for surrender within a period specified therein (which period shall not be less than thirty days) after the date of maturity specified therein, then such maturity date shall be postponed until a future date specified in such certificate; and if any certificate containing such provision shall not be tendered for surrender within the period so specified, such future date shall thereafter become and be the date of maturity of such certificate for all purposes. Any certificate containing such provision may also provide for one or more additional postponements of the date of maturity, in the manner and with the effect aforesaid. No single postponement pursuant to either of the foregoing provisions shall be for a longer period than the initial term of the certificate. An association at its option may provide in any definite term investment certificate issued by it that if the holder does not tender such certificate for surrender within a period specified therein (which period shall not be less than thirty days) after the date of maturity specified therein, then such holder shall have no right to withdraw as the holder of a definite term investment certificate; and if any certificate containing such provision shall not be tendered for surrender within the period so specified, such certificate shall cease to be a definite term investment certificate and shall become and be a full paid investment certificate, subject to the same withdrawal rights and restrictions as a full paid investment certificate.

Minimum term investment.

(e) Minimum Term Investment Certificates. A minimum term investment certificate shall be an investment certificate, for which the association shall have received a single payment equal to the principal amount thereof and which shall have a date expressed therein before which notice of intention to withdraw can not be given unless the association is on a pro rata basis, or which shall require written notice from the holder to the association for a period specified therein before the expiration of which period notice of intention to withdraw can not be given unless the association is on a pro rata basis. On and after such date, or upon and after the expiration of the specified period following such written notice, as the case may be, each such certificate shall cease to be a minimum term investment certificate and shall become and be a full paid investment certificate, subject to the same withdrawal rights and restrictions as a full paid investment certificate.

Prepaid.

(f) Prepaid Certificates. A prepaid investment certificate shall be an investment certificate not full paid, upon which the holder shall have made a single payment and which is to reach its principal amount through crediting on such certificate interest thereon not withdrawn.

Stats 1931, p 483.

SEC. 4. Section 6.01 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Withdrawals.

Sec. 6.01. Notice of Intention to Withdraw. Each association must prescribe by its by-laws, or by contract with its shareholders or certificate holders, or by both, the period of notice of intention to withdraw which such association at its option may require, which period shall not be less than thirty days nor more than six months. All certificates hereafter issued evidencing shares or investment certificates shall state the period of such notice and shall also state that the right of the holder thereof to withdraw funds evidenced thereby is subject to the provisions of Article VI of this act. Each association may prescribe by its by-laws, or by contract with its shareholders or certificate holders, or both, the terms and conditions of withdrawal, provided such terms and conditions shall not be contrary to the provisions of this act.

Requisites of notice

Any notice of intention to withdraw shall be invalid unless it is given in writing to the office of the association at which the shares or investment certificates in question were issued, or at which the account of such association as to such shares or investment certificates is kept, or to the principal office of such association, signed by a holder entitled to make a withdrawal, or by his attorney or agent. A shareholder or certificate holder may at any time revoke or waive, either in whole or in part, a notice of intention to withdraw and thereupon such notice shall become invalid either in whole or as to such part, as the case may be.

Filing of notice.

All notices of intention to withdraw shall be filed when and as received by each association or by the several offices thereof in the order in which they are received, and each shall be kept on file with the exact time of the receipt thereof noted thereon or recorded, until it is paid or becomes invalid. When any notice shall have been on file for the period prescribed therefor, or for the period stated in such notice as the period to elapse previous to making the withdrawal (whichever shall be longer) such notice shall be a "matured notice" for all the purposes of this act.

Pledged shares or certificates.

No shareholder or certificate holder whose shares or investment certificates are pledged as security for a loan from the association issuing such shares or investment certificates shall be permitted to make a withdrawal or be entitled to give any valid notice of intention to withdraw in respect of such shares or investment certificates until the indebtedness for which such shares or investment certificates are security has been fully paid, except that withdrawals therefrom may be made without notice provided the full amount of such withdrawals shall be used to pay such indebtedness or any part thereof; provided that in the case of loans upon the mutual plan, such withdrawals without notice shall be permitted only at the option of the association unless the entire indebtedness shall be simultaneously paid.

Term certificates

No valid notice of intention to withdraw may be given in respect of minimum term investment certificates during the minimum term thereof or in respect of definite term investment certificates, nor shall the holders thereof be entitled to withdraw during the minimum term thereof or prior to the maturity thereof, respectively, except at the option of the association issuing such certificates; provided, however, that if an association is on a pro rata basis, as hereinafter defined, the holder of any minimum term investment certificate which has not reached the end of its minimum term or the holder of any definite term investment certificate which has not reached the date of its maturity may, notwithstanding the minimum term thereof or the expressed date of maturity thereof, give thirty days' notice of intention to withdraw, and at the expiration of such period such notice shall be a "matured notice" and such holder shall be entitled to withdraw, subject to section 6.02 of this act. Every minimum term investment certificate shall expressly state that such notice for said period of thirty days may be given at any time during the minimum term thereof in the event that such association shall thereafter be on a pro rata basis, and every definite term investment certificate shall expressly state that such notice for said period of thirty days may be given at any time prior to the date of the maturity thereof in the event that such association shall thereafter be on a pro rata basis.

Withdrawal value.

If the shareholder or certificate holder shall tender his certificate for surrender, duly endorsed, within ten days after any valid notice of intention to withdraw shall have matured, he shall be entitled, subject to section 6.02 of this act, to receive the withdrawal value of his shares or investment certificates or of that part thereof referred to in such notice, which withdrawal value is hereby defined as the full amount paid in upon the shares or investment certificates surrendered exclusive of the entrance fee, if any, together with dividends, profits or interest, if any, applicable thereto, subject to such adjustment of earnings or interest as may be provided by by-law or contract.

Lapse of withdrawal notice.

Shareholders or certificate holders who shall have given notice of intention to withdraw and who shall fail to tender their certificates for surrender within ten days after notice from the association that funds are available for the payment thereof shall have no right to withdraw except after giving new notice of intention to do so and such prior notice of intention to withdraw shall become invalid for all of the purposes of this act; provided such notice from the association shall have stated that unless such certificates shall be tendered for surrender within such ten-day period the holder shall have no right to withdraw except after giving new notice of intention to do so.

Putting association on notice or pro rata basis

If in the case of any association the sum of the matured withdrawal claims, as defined in section 6.02 of this act, shall exceed five per cent of the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates of such association, then such association, unless it is on a pro rata basis, shall be an "association on notice" for all the purposes of this act. An association which is on notice shall continue to be on notice notwithstanding the fact that the sum of the matured withdrawal claims may become less than said percentage, unless and until all of the matured withdrawal claims shall be paid or funds shall be set aside for the payment thereof; provided, however, that if, in the case of any association which is on notice, the sum of the matured withdrawal claims shall become less than four per cent of the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates of such association, then, with the prior approval of the commissioner, its board of directors may at their option, by resolution, declare such association to be no longer on notice, and thereupon such association shall cease to be an association on notice for all the purposes of this act, subject to becoming an association on notice as before. If in the case of any association the sum of (a) the matured withdrawal claims, as defined in section 6.02 of this act, and (b) the value of all shares and investment certificates or parts thereof in respect of which valid unmatured notices of intention to withdraw shall be on file and unpaid, shall exceed twenty per cent of the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates of such association, then such association shall be an "association on a pro rata basis" for all the purposes of this act; provided, however, that if said sum shall exceed five per cent of the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates of such association, then its board of directors may at their option by resolution declare such association to be on a pro rata basis, and thereupon such association shall be an "association on a pro rata basis" for all the purposes of this act. An association which is on a pro rata basis shall continue to be on a pro rata basis notwithstanding the fact that the sum of the foregoing items may become less than the respective percentages aforesaid, unless and until all of the foregoing items shall be paid or funds shall be set aside for the payment thereof; provided, however, that if, in the case of any association which is on a pro rata basis, the sum of the foregoing items shall be less than fifteen per cent of the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates of such association, then, with the prior approval of the commissioner, its board of directors may at their option, by resolution, declare such association to be on notice rather than on a pro rata basis, and thereupon such association shall be an association on notice rather than on a pro rata basis for all the purposes of this act, subject to becoming again an association on a pro rata basis as before. In making computations for the purpose of this paragraph, shares and investment certificates shall not be deemed to be unpaid if the association has funds set aside for the payment thereof and has given notice of that fact to the respective holders thereof.

SEC. 5. Section 6.02 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows for the emergency period as hereafter in said section 6.02 defined:

Limitations on withdrawals.

Sec. 6.02. Limitation on Withdrawals The term "matured withdrawal claims," as used in this article, shall include each and all of the following, to wit: (1) the value of all shares or investment certificates or parts thereof, in respect of which valid notices of intention to withdraw shall be on file, matured and unpaid, including notices of intention to withdraw by defaulting shareholders pursuant to section 3.05 of this act, as well as notices of withdrawal generally pursuant to section 6.01 of this act; (2) the value of all shares which shall have matured pursuant to section 3.03 of this act and which shall be unpaid; (3) the value of all investment certificates in respect of which the holders, pursuant to section 5.07 of this act but subject to section 6.02 of this act, shall be entitled to receive the redemption price, but which shall be unpaid; and (4) the value of all definite term investment certificates which shall have reached the expressed date of their maturity but which shall be unpaid.

Preferred claims.

Regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligation to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be secondary and subsequent to the right of such association to pay, and to provide reasonable reserves for the payment of, the following: taxes, assessments, insurance, repairs, alterations and other sums necessary to protect and preserve or to furnish or equip its properties and its interest in properties (including those on the security of which it holds loans); principal and interest on borrowings by such association, otherwise than through the issuance of investment certificates; interest on investment certificates and dividends on shares; rent, compensation of officers, agents, salesmen and other employees, and other usual and ordinary operating expenses of such association; and commitments on its incomplete loans or investments; provided, however, that an association on notice or on a pro rata basis shall not pay any dividends on its stock or distribute any profits to its stockholders or make any loans or investments, except loans or investments pursuant to its obligations incurred before it became an association on notice, and except loans expressly permitted by section 9.01 of this act; provided further, that an association on notice and not on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association not on notice and not on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, make or purchase loans or investments not exceeding the principal amount of moneys borrowed by such association from a Federal home loan bank, or other similar Federal agency, and not theretofore repaid; and provided further, that an association which is either on notice or on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association which is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, invest in stock issued by any Federal home loan bank or other Federal agency of which such association may be eligible to be a member. Moreover, regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligation to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be limited to payments from its cash on hand or in bank, proceeds from sale of investments and loans and other cash receipts of such association; and shall be further limited to payments pursuant to the subsequent provisions of this section. The cash, proceeds and other receipts aforesaid which shall remain after deducting therefrom all payments, reserves, loans and investments abovementioned in this paragraph, are hereafter in this section 6.02 called the "available funds."

Exceptions.

Obligation to pay limited to cash on hand, etc.

The term "free money," as hereafter used in this section 6.02, is hereby defined as that part of the available funds which may be used at the option of the association to pay any or all withdrawals without requiring notice of intention to withdraw or before the maturity of a notice of intention to withdraw and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims, or to pay any or all definite term investment certificates before the expressed date of maturity subject to such adjustment of interest, if any, as may be provided in such certificates, or for the purpose of making loans or investments, or for any other purpose not prohibited by law.

"Free money" defined.

When available funds are free money.

If the association is neither or notice nor on a pro rata basis, and if there are no matured withdrawal claims (excepting claims for the payment of which funds have been set aside by the association) then all of the available funds shall be free money.

Proportion of free money: Remainder for withdrawals

If there are matured withdrawal claims (for the payment of any of which funds have not been set aside by the association), then not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the available funds shall be free money (but in such case no part of such free money shall be used to pay dividends on stock or be distributed as profits to stockholders), and all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals. The commissioner is hereby authorized, in the case of any or all associations, to reduce the amount of such free money from twenty-five per cent of the available funds to such smaller per cent of the available funds as he may from time to time prescribe, and in such case all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals Whether or not the commissioner shall have reduced such amount of free money such remainder of the available funds shall be applied (regardless of whether or not the association is on notice or on a pro rata basis) at such times as the commissioner shall prescribe to the payment of matured withdrawal claims as follows:

Commissioner may reduce proportion

Payment of withdrawal claims.

Order of payments.

First: To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of investment certificates until all sums payable thereon are paid and, as between several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid principal thereof at the time of each such payment.

Second: To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of shares until all sums payable thereon are paid and, as between the several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid value thereof at the time of each such payment.

Exceptions Certain payments authorized.

Every association (whether or not it is on notice or on a pro rata basis) shall, from available funds exclusive of free money, and subject to such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, pay in each month, with or without requiring notice of intention to withdraw, and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims, to any one or more of its shareholders or certificate holders who shall request such payment, not to exceed whichever of the two following amounts shall be the greater (1) twenty-five dollars per person, or (2) one per cent of the value of such person's shares or investment certificates (in addition to any free money which may be applied to the payment of withdrawals); and withdrawals may be made at any time from pledged shares and investment certificates, whether or not the association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, and without notice; provided, the full amounts of such withdrawals shall be used to pay the indebtedness for which such shares or investment certificates are pledged, or any part thereof; and provided further, that in the case of loans upon the mutual plan, such withdrawals without notice shall be permitted only at the option of the association unless the entire indebtedness shall be simultaneously paid.

Use of free money.

If in any accounting period an association has not used as free money the full amounts which such association is permitted by this section 6.02 to use for such purposes, then (unless the commissioner shall otherwise order in the case of such association) the amounts not so used shall be available to the association in any subsequent period for such purpose until such amounts shall have been so used, in addition to the amounts which would otherwise be available for such purpose in such subsequent period.

Waiver is void.

No association shall make any contract waiving in any manner any of the provisions of this section and, if any such contract shall be so made, such contract shall be void.

Effect.

The provisions of this act shall govern, during the existence of the emergency period as hereinafter defined and only during such period, the withdrawal and other rights of the holders of all shares and investment certificates whether heretofore or hereafter issued, and whether or not withdrawal claims shall have heretofore been filed or shall have heretofore matured.

"Emergency period" defined.

The term "emergency period" as used in this section 6.02 shall mean the period commencing with the effective date of this section 6.02 as amended and ending September 1, 1935; provided, however, that said emergency period may be terminated at any time prior to September 1, 1935, by order of the commissioner.

Stats 1933, Ch. 31; see preceding section.

SEC. 5a. Section 6.02 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows; provided, however, that such amendment to said section 6.02 shall not take effect until the expiration or termination of the emergency period defined in section 6.02 of said act as amended by chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1933:

Limitations on withdrawals.

Sec. 6.02. Limitation on Withdrawals. The term "Matured withdrawal claims," as used in this article, shall include each and all of the following, to wit, (1) the value of all shares or investment certificates or parts thereof, in respect of which valid notices of intention to withdraw shall be on file, matured and unpaid, including notices of intention to withdraw by defaulting shareholders pursuant to section 3.05 of this act, as well as notices of withdrawal generally pursuant to section 6.01 of this act; (2) the value of all shares which shall have matured pursuant to section 3.03 of this act and which shall be unpaid; (3) the value of all investment certificates in respect of which the holders, pursuant to section 5.07 of this act but subject to section 6.02 of this act, shall be entitled to receive the redemption price, but which shall be unpaid; and (4) the value of all definite term investment certificates which shall have reached the expressed date of their maturity but which shall be unpaid.

Preferred claims.

Regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligations to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be secondary and subsequent to the right of such association to pay, and to provide a reasonable fund for the payment of, the following: taxes, assessments, insurance, repairs, alterations and other sums necessary to protect and preserve or to furnish or equip its properties and its interest in properties (including those on the security of which it holds loans); principal and interest on borrowings by such association; interest on investment certificates and dividends on shares; rent, compensation of officers, agents, salesmen and other employees, and other usual and ordinary operating expenses of such association; and commitments on its incomplete loans or investments; provided, however, that an association on notice or a pro rata basis shall not pay any dividends on its stock or distribute any profits to its stockholders or make any loans or investments, except loans or investments pursuant to its obligations incurred before it became an association on notice and except loans expressly permitted by section 9.01 of this act; provided further, that an association on notice and not on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association not on notice and not on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, make or purchase loans or investments not exceeding the principal amount of moneys borrowed by such association from a Federal home loan bank, or other similar Federal agency, and not theretofore repaid; and provided further, that an association which is either on notice or on a pro rata basis may with the prior consent of the commissioner, and an association which is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis may without the necessity of obtaining the consent of the commissioner, in lieu of paying matured withdrawal claims, invest in stock issued by any Federal home loan bank or other similar Federal agency of which such association may be eligible to be a member. Moreover, regardless of whether or not an association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, its obligation to pay matured withdrawal claims, and the right of shareholders and certificate holders to receive payment of matured withdrawal claims, shall be limited to payments from its cash on hand or in bank, proceeds from sale of investments and loans and other cash receipts of such association; and shall be further limited to payments pursuant to the subsequent provisions of this section. The cash, proceeds and other receipts aforesaid which shall remain after deducting therefrom all payments, reserves, loans and invest-

Exceptions.

Obligation to pay limited to cash on hand, etc

ments above mentioned in this paragraph, are hereafter in this section 6.02 called the "Available funds."

"Free money," defined.

The term "free money," as hereafter used in this section 6.02, is hereby defined as that part of the available funds which may be used at the option of the association to pay any or all withdrawals without requiring notice of intention to withdraw or before the maturity of a notice of intention to withdraw and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims, or any or all minimum term investment certificates before the end of their minimum term or any or all definite term investment certificates before the expressed date of maturity subject to such adjustment of interest, if any, as may be provided in such certificates, or for the purpose of making loans or investments, or for any other purpose not prohibited by law.

When available funds are free money.

If the association is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis, and if there are no matured withdrawal claims (excepting claims for the payment of which funds have been set aside by the association) then all of the available funds shall be free money.

Proportion of free money; remainder for withdrawals.

If the association is neither on notice nor on a pro rata basis, and if there are matured withdrawal claims (for the payment of any of which funds have not been set aside by the association), then not to exceed fifty per cent of the available funds shall be free money, and all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals. In applying such remainder to the payment of withdrawals, not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the available funds may be applied at the option of the association to pay not to exceed fifty dollars per person in each month to any one or more of its shareholders or certificate holders, with or without requiring notice of intention to withdraw and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims (in addition to any free money so applied); and the balance (which in no case shall be less than twenty-five per cent of the available funds) shall be applied to the payment of matured withdrawal claims as follows:

Order of payments.

First—To the payment of withdrawals in respect of investment certificates pursuant to section 6.01 of this act, to the payment of definite term investment certificates which have reached the date of their maturity and to withdrawals through payments following notice of modifications pursuant to section 5.07 of this act, without preference of one type of such withdrawal over the other, according to the priority in time of the maturity of the claims for such withdrawals, which in the case of withdrawals pursuant to said section 6.01 shall be deemed to be the time notice of intention of such withdrawal shall have matured, in the case of withdrawals through payment of definite term investment certificates shall be deemed to be the date of maturity of such certificates, and in the case of withdrawals through payments following notice of modifications pursuant to section 5.07 of this act shall be deemed to be the date of the expiration of the period of such notice of modifications; provided that as between the holders of certificates upon which the claim for withdrawal shall have matured at the same time, payment shall be made in the order of demand for or notice of such withdrawal, which in the case of definite term investment certificates shall be deemed to be the date of issuance thereof.

Second—To the payment of withdrawals in respect of shares pursuant to sections 3.05 and 6.01 of this act and withdrawals through payment of matured shares pursuant to section 3.03 of this act, without preference of one type of such withdrawal over the other, according to the priority in time of the maturity of the claims for such withdrawals, which in the case of withdrawals pursuant to said sections 3.05 and 6.01 shall be deemed to be the time notice of intention of such withdrawal shall have matured and in the case of withdrawals through payment of matured shares pursuant to said section 3.03 shall be deemed to be the time such shares shall be declared by the board to be matured. In respect of shares so declared to be matured at the same time, then such payment shall be made in the order provided in the by-laws, or in the absence of such provision in the numerical order of issuance.

Amount available for payments. When association on notice.

If the association is on notice but is not on a pro rata basis, then not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the available funds shall be free money, and all the remainder shall be applied to the payment of withdrawals. In applying such remainder to the payment of withdrawals, not to exceed twenty-five per cent of the available funds may be applied at the option of the association to pay not to exceed fifty dollars per person in each month to any one or more of its shareholders or certificate holders, with or without requiring notice of intention to withdraw and regardless of the nonpayment of any or all matured withdrawal claims (in addition to any free money so applied); and the balance (which in no case shall be less than fifty per cent of the available funds) shall be applied to the payment of matured withdrawal claims in the order provided in subdivisions First and Second of the preceding paragraph.

Same—When association on pro rata basis.

If the association is on a pro rata basis, then not to exceed ten per cent of the available funds shall be free money, and all the remainder shall be applied once in each period of three months to the payment of matured withdrawal claims as follows:

First—To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of investment certificates until all sums payable thereon are paid and, as between several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid principal thereof at the time of each such payment.

Second—To all matured withdrawal claims in respect of shares until all sums payable thereon are paid and, as between the several holders thereof, pro rata according to the unpaid value thereof at the time of each such payment.

Withdrawals from pledged shares and certificates.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this act, however, withdrawals may be made at any time from pledged shares and investment certificates, whether or not the association is on notice or on a pro rata basis, and without notice, provided the full amounts of such withdrawals shall be used to pay the indebtedness for which such shares or investment certificates are pledged, or any part thereof; and provided further, that in the case of loans upon the mutual plan, such withdrawals without notice shall be permitted only at the option of the association unless the entire indebtedness shall be simultaneously paid.

Use of free money.

If in any accounting period an association has not used as free money or for payments of not more than fifty dollars per month per person the full amounts which such association is permitted by this section 6.02 to use for such respective purposes, then the amounts not so used shall be available to the association in any subsequent period for such respective purposes until such amounts shall be so used, in addition to the amounts, if any, which would otherwise be available for such respective purposes in such subsequent period.

Waiver is void.

No association shall make any contract waiving in any manner any of the provisions of this section and, if any such contract shall be so made, such contract shall be void.

Effect.

The provisions of this act shall govern the withdrawal and other rights of the holders of all shares and investment certificates whether heretofore or hereafter issued, and whether or not withdrawal claims shall have heretofore been filed or shall have heretofore matured.

SEC. 6. Section 6.03 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Withdrawals without notice or before maturity.

Sec. 6.03. Withdrawals Without Notice or Before Maturity. No association shall agree in advance to pay withdrawals without requiring notice of intention to withdraw or before the maturity of a notice of intention to withdraw, nor to pay minimum term investment certificates before the expiration of the minimum term or definite term investment certificates before the expressed date of maturity. Except as otherwise provided in this act in respect of shares and investment certificates pledged to the association issuing the same and except as otherwise so provided in respect of free money or payments in each month not to exceed the amount per person permitted by section 6.02 of this act to any one or more shareholders or certificate holders, no association on notice or on a pro rata basis (and, until the expiration or termination of the emergency period defined in section 6.02 of said act as amended by chapter 31 of the Statutes of 1933, no association having matured withdrawal claims for the payment of any of which funds have not been set aside by the association) shall pay any withdrawals except upon matured notice of intention to withdraw, nor allow the withdrawal of any minimum term investment certificates before the expiration of its minimum term or of any definite term investment certificate before the expressed date of its maturity; provided, however, that after the expiration or termination of said emergency period an association on notice but not on a pro rata basis may pay withdrawals before the maturity of such notices if such withdrawals are paid in the order provided in section 6.02 of this act in respect of associations on notice and not on a pro rata basis; and provided further that an association on a pro rata basis shall pay withdrawals of minimum term investment certificates and definite term investment certificates after the maturity of notices of intention to withdraw subject to the same conditions as investment certificates of other classes. Any agreement contrary to the provisions of this section shall be void.

Stats. 1931, p. 483.

SEC. 7. Section 6.08 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Withdrawals from mutual associations

Sec. 6.08. Withdrawals from Associations Not Issuing Stock or Investment Certificates. The provisions of this section shall not be applicable to any association issuing stock or investment certificates, but shall be applicable to any association not issuing either stock or investment certificates in the event, but only in the event, its by-laws expressly provide that this section shall be applicable to such association. In such case, the provisions of the preceding sections of this article shall also be applicable to such associations, but only if and to the extent that they are not inconsistent with the provisions of this section. In all such associations, holders of free shares therein desiring to withdraw in whole or in part may do so by giving notice thereof in writing of the amount desired to be withdrawn. At all times the right of shareholders to receive payment of withdrawals shall be secondary and subsequent to the right of such association to pay and to provide a reasonable fund for the payment of the following: dividends on shares, taxes, assessments, insurance, amounts necessary to fulfill previous loan commitments, repairs, alterations, and other sums necessary to protect and preserve or to furnish or equip its properties and its interests in properties (including those on the security of which it holds loans); principal and interest on borrowings by such association; rent, compensation of officers, agents, salesmen and other employees, and other usual and ordinary operating expenses of such association.

Rights prior to withdrawals

Withdrawals when association on notice

While such association is on notice and subject to the foregoing provisions, not more than one-half of the net monthly receipts from assets then owned, in any one month, shall be applied to withdrawals for that month without the consent of the board of directors, and such payment shall continue until the value of all shares with respect to which notices of withdrawal are on file has been reduced to an amount less than three per cent of the value of all outstanding shares. No shareholders shall be permitted to withdraw whose shares are pledged to the association as security for a loan until such loan is fully paid. Whenever the demands of withdrawing shareholders exceed the money applicable to their payment, the notices of intention to withdraw must be registered in the order of filing and while such association is on notice payments thereon must be made in succession in the order that such notices were filed and registered. The remaining one-half of net receipts of such association may be used, in the discretion of the board of directors, for payment of withdrawals with respect to which notice has not been filed, subject to such limitations as the board of directors may fix, and for the operating expenses of the business and for making loans to members, or applied, in the discretion of the board of directors, to payment of withdrawals on notice. Such association shall at no time be on a pro rata basis, except as hereinafter provided.

Registration of withdrawal notices

Prior right of withdrawal

All new investments by shareholders after such association is on notice, whether made upon shares already issued or upon new shares issued, shall have priority and shall have a prior right of withdrawal as against all other shareholders.

Withdrawal claims

Whenever an application for withdrawal of free shares shall have been on file, or the payment of matured shares demanded, and either shall have remained unpaid for a period of one year, all the receipts of such association from dues, interest, premium, loans repaid, and the proceeds of all other investments, shall, after the payment of expenses and general indebtedness, be applied toward the payment of withdrawals and maturities; and the board of directors or the commissioner may direct that such payments shall be made upon a ratable and proportionate basis. Whenever such application or demands, whether heretofore or hereafter made, have been on file and remain unpaid in whole or in part for more than two years the commissioner may in his discretion forthwith take possession of the property and business of such association, and retain such possession until its affairs be finally liquidated in the manner provided by law for the liquidation of associations by him, or until such association may be allowed to resume business upon such conditions as may be approved by the commissioner.

Liquidation by commissioner

SEC. 8. Section 7.06 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 483.

Deficiency of capital.

Sec. 7.06. Assessments to Restore Impaired Capital. Whenever it shall appear from the report of any association, or the commissioner shall have reason to believe, that the value of the assets of any association after first deducting therefrom the amount of liabilities of such association, including its outstanding investment certificates and shares at the value thereof, is less than the aggregate par value of its outstanding stock, or, in the case of an association issuing both stock and investment certificates, is less than the investment certificate reserve required for such association pursuant to section 5.03 of this act, it shall be the duty of the commissioner and he shall have the power to examine such association and ascertain the facts, and in case he finds that such deficiency exists he shall require such association to make good such deficiency within sixty days after the date of such requisition. The directors of every such association upon which such request shall have been made, shall levy an assessment upon the stock thereof to repair such deficiency, and shall cause notice of such request to be given to each stockholder of such association and of the amount of the assessment which he must pay for the purpose of making good such deficiency. If any stockholder shall refuse or neglect to pay the assessment specified in such notice within thirty days from the date of mailing or serving such notice, the directors of such association shall have the right to sell to the highest bidder at public auction the stock of such stockholder, after giving a previous notice of such sale for ten days in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the principal office in this State of such association is located, and a copy of such notice of sale shall also be served on such stockholder by being served personally on him or by mailing to his last known address ten days before the day fixed for such sale, or such stock may be sold at a private sale and without such public notice; provided, however, that before making such private sale thereof an offer in writing shall first be obtained and a copy thereof served upon the owner of record of the stock to be sold, either personally or by mailing a copy of such offer to his last known address, and if, after service of such offer, such owner shall still refuse or neglect to pay such assessment within two weeks from the time of the service of such offer, the said directors may accept such offer and sell such stock to the person making such offer, or to any other person or persons making a larger offer than the amount named in the offer submitted to the stockholders; but such stock shall in no event be sold for less than the amount of such assessment so called for and the expense of sale. Out of the avails of the stock so sold, the directors shall pay the amount of assessment levied thereon, and the necessary cost of sale, and the balance, if any, shall be paid to the person or persons whose stock has thus been sold. A sale of stock as herein provided shall effect an absolute cancellation of the outstanding certificate or certificates evidencing the stock so sold, and shall make the same null and void and a new certificate shall be issued by the association to the purchaser thereof In the event no bid or offer shall be received equal to or more than the amount of such assessment and the expense of sale, then at the option of such association, such stock shall be declared forfeited to the association in satisfaction of such assessment and such expense, and shall have the status of authorized but unissued stock. Such stock shall not be reissued except in accordance with permit thereafter obtained from the commissioner pursuant to section 4.02 of this act. In case any stock shall be declared forfeited to the association as aforesaid the holders of such stock shall be subject to the stockholders' liability provided in sections 7.01, 7.02, 7.03 and 7.04 of this act if within sixty days thereafter the commissioner, or a receiver or trustee of the association appointed by any court, shall take possession of the property, business

SEC. 9. Section 9.02 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1933, Ch 4

Sec. 9.02. Investments Generally. An association may invest in, hold, buy and sell the following: Authorized investments

(1) Real property used or to be used primarily as the principal office or branch of such association; provided that no association issuing either stock or investment certificates or both shall invest in such real property more than one-half of the sum of its aggregate paid-up nonwithdrawable capital and any surplus and reserve which is not subject to distribution to the shareholders or stockholders except upon dissolution or liquidation; Real property.

(2) Furniture, fixtures, furnishings and equipment necessary or proper for the business of such association, or for use in connection with properties owned by or securing loans of such association; provided that no association issuing either stock or investment certificates or both shall invest in furniture, furnishings and equipment for its offices, more than ten per cent of the sum of its aggregate paid-up nonwithdrawable capital and any surplus and reserve which is not subject to distribution to the shareholders or stockholders except upon dissolution or liquidation; Furniture, fixtures, etc.

(3) United States Government bonds and treasury certificates; or any bonds, debentures, notes or other obligations guaranteed by the United States of America; United States bonds.

(4) Bonds, debentures and notes issued by any Federal home loan bank, or other similar Federal agency; Bonds and notes of Federal agencies

(5) Bonds of this State or of any county, municipality or school district in this State; Bonds of State and certain subdivisions

(6) Bonds, other securities and bankers' acceptances which are legal as investments for or purchases by savings banks in this State; Investments legal for savings banks

(7) Bonds issued by any railroad corporation or any public utility corporation excluding street railway corporations, substantially all of the properties of which are located in the United States of America; provided the purchase of all bonds pursuant to the sole authority of this subdivision (7) shall be first approved by the commissioner; Approved public utility bonds.

(8) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or first deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, or mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company in accordance with the provisions of title two of part four of division one of the Civil Code of this State; Certain first lien securities.

(9) California street improvement bonds; provided the purchase of all bonds pursuant to the sole authority of this subdivision (9) shall be first approved by the commissioner and that no association at any one time shall have invested pursuant to the sole authority of this subdivision (9) an aggregate Approved street improvement bonds. (10) Stock issued by any Federal home loan bank or other similar Federal agency of which such association may be eligible to be a member.

Investment limit.

Provided that, except with the prior consent of the commissioner, no association at any one time shall have invested pursuant to subdivisions (6), (7), (8) and (9) of this section an aggregate amount in excess of ten per cent of the then total assets of such association.

Exemption: Bank deposits.

Associations may make deposits with any bank and such deposits shall not be construed as loans within the meaning of this act.

Stats 1931, p 483

SEC. 10. All of Article IX of said act, except sections 9.01, 9.02 and 9.03, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Loans Purchases.

Sec. 9.04. Purchases, Sales and Pledges of Loans. An association may purchase any notes or other obligations, together with the mortgages, trust deeds or other security therefor, if such notes or obligations evidence loans which, at the time of such purchase, such association would be authorized to make pursuant to this act in an amount at least equal to the amount so purchased. No association shall sell, exchange, transfer, pledge, hypothecate or otherwise dispose of or encumber any notes or other obligations held by it, evidencing any loan made or purchased by it, or the mortgages, trust deeds or other security therefor, except with the approval of the commissioner; provided, that any association may, without the necessity of obtaining such approval, sell and transfer without recourse any of the notes or other obligations held by it, together with the mortgages, trust deeds and other security therefor, to any bank, trust company or insurance company, or to any other association which is in nowise affiliated with such association, or to the holder of a junior encumbrance upon the same property; and provided, that any association may, without the necessity of obtaining such approval, pledge or otherwise hypothecate any of the notes or other obligations held by it, together with the mortgages, trust deeds and other security therefor, to the extent permitted by section 9.05 of this act.

Sale, pledge, etc

Limitations on power to borrow.

Sec. 9.05. Borrowings. No association shall be deemed to borrow money through the issuance of investment certificates. No association shall borrow money except as authorized by this article. Except with the approval of the commissioner, no association may borrow money for a period of more than one year, nor shall the aggregate amount of all borrowings of any association in force at any one time, excluding borrowings from Federal home loan banks, or other similar Federal agencies, exceed five per cent of the then total assets of such association. No excess loan made to any association, however, shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender. An association, as security for such borrowings, may pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber any of the notes, bonds or other securities held by such association, together with the mortgages, trust deeds and other security therefor; provided, that except with the approval of the commissioner, the unpaid principal amount of such notes, bonds or other securities when so pledged, hypothecated or otherwise encumbered shall not exceed two hundred per cent of the amount borrowed by such association.

Giving of security.

Borrowings from Federal agencies

Sec. 9.06. Borrowings from Federal Agencies. An association may borrow from a Federal home loan bank, or other similar Federal agency, or from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. None of the restrictions and limitations of this act shall apply to such borrowings or to the securing thereof.

Security for loans made by association.

Sec. 9.07. Security for Loans. For each loan made by a building and loan association a note or other obligation expressing a rate of interest must be executed by the borrower and must be secured either (a) by a first mortgage or first trust deed upon fee title to real property, or (b) by the pledge of shares or investment certificates of such association, or (c) by the pledge of bonds or other collateral. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this act, any security, whether or not the same be a first encumbrance or charge, on property, either improved or unimproved and either real or personal, may be taken at any time and without limit as additional security for any loan held by such association.

Loans: "Mutual plan."

"Definite contract plan."

Sec. 9.08. Loan Plans. Loans may be made upon the "mutual plan" or upon the "definite contract plan." Loans made upon the mutual plan shall be loans accompanied by a pledge of shares having a matured or par value equal to the expressed principal of the loan. Subject to the provisions of this act loans upon the definite contract plan shall be repayable at a designated time or in installments to be specified in the notes or other obligations evidencing such loans.

Amortized loans.

Sec. 9.09. Loan Terms. For the purposes of this act, an amortized loan shall be one which provides for payments to be made on the principal in installments to be paid at regular intervals at least semiannually and to commence not later than one year after the date of the loan. Such installments may include interest and either as to principal alone or as to combined principal and interest, shall be approximately equal (except that the last installment may be unequal), and whether or not such loan be written for a shorter period such stipulated installments, if of principal alone shall be at least of a sufficient amount so that if continued at such regular intervals they would result in paying the entire principal in not more than fifteen years from their commencement, and if of combined principal and interest, shall be at least of a sufficient amount so that if continued at such regular intervals they would result in paying the entire loan both principal and interest in not more than fifteen years from their commencement. Such loans may provide for payment of interest or principal or both, in addition to such regular installments and in the event such regular installments are not sufficient to pay the entire principal within the term thereof, such loans must provide that the entire amount unpaid come due and payable within not more than six months after the due date of the last regular installment. Provided, however, that the commissioner may by rules permit and prescribe a longer maximum term than as herein provided in the case of amortized loans upon particular classes of security, which classes he shall have power to prescribe and define.

Loans may be made by an association which may or may not provide for payments on account of the principal thereof during an initial period not to exceed three years. If any loan does not provide for the payment, commencing not later than one year after the date thereof, of installments either of principal alone or of combined principal and interest at a rate at least equal to the rate hereinabove provided for an amortized loan, the same shall not be an amortized loan for the purpose of section 9.10 of this act; but for the purpose of section 9.14 of this act, any loan held by an association may be classified as an amortized loan during any period within which payments are being made, or within which the note or obligation representing such loan provides for payments to be made, of installments either of principal alone or combined principal and interest thereof at a rate not less than that hereinabove provided for an amortized loan.

Loans on mutual plan: Installments.

Solely for the purposes of this section and section 9.14 of this act, but not for any other purpose, on loans made on the mutual plan where the installments are to be applied in payment of its own membership shares pledged therewith, such installments together with accumulated earnings thereon shall be construed as having been applied to the principal of such loans.

Express provisions.

In the case of all loans hereafter made on the mutual plan, the note or other obligation of the borrower shall expressly provide that in the event such association shall thereafter sell, exchange, transfer, or otherwise dispose of such note or obligation, or in the event such association shall thereafter be liquidated, either voluntarily or involuntarily, then the value of the shares pledged therefor, plus the accrued earnings thereon to the date of such sale or disposition or to the date of the commencement of such liquidation, shall be applied first to advances on account of such loans, second to the interest accrued and unpaid thereon, and third to the principal thereof; and said note or other obligation shall also expressly provide that in the event such association shall thereafter pledge, hypothecate or otherwise encumber such note or obligation, then the value of the shares pledged therefor, plus the accrued earnings thereon to the date of such pledge, hypothecation or encumbrance may, at the option of such association, be applied as aforesaid, and that if the association shall not exercise said option at the time of such pledge, hypothecation or other encumbrance then in the event such note or obligation shall be sold pursuant to such pledge, hypothecation or other encumbrance, the value of such shares, plus the accrued earnings thereon to the date of such sale, shall be applied as aforesaid. In any such case such shares from the time of such application shall be deemed surrendered to the association and canceled. In computing accrued earnings in any such case, the rate used in the last apportionment shall be applied.

Real property loans. Extent.

Sec. 9.10. Loans Upon Real Property. Loans may be made upon the security of improved real property in an amount not in excess of sixty per cent of the appraised value of such real property; provided, however, that amortized loans may be made in an amount not in excess of seventy per cent of the appraised value of such real property; provided further, that amortized loans upon the security of improved real property may be made in an amount not in excess of eighty per cent of the appraised value of such real property, subject to each and all of the following conditions in the case of each such loan exceeding seventy per cent: (1) the principal improvement on such real property shall consist of a single family dwelling; (2) such loan shall not exceed six thousand dollars in principal amount; and (3) the note or other obligation evidencing such loan shall provide for reduction of principal by monthly installments commencing in the case of construction loans not later than six months after the date of such loan, and in case of any other loan not later than one month after the date of such loan.

Conditions.

Unimproved real property.

Loans may be made upon the security of unimproved real property in an amount not in excess of thirty-three and one-third per cent of the appraised value of such real property.

Construction loans.

In respect of any loan made upon the security of real property where it is agreed and/or contemplated that improvements will be made thereon to become a part of such security, said real property shall be deemed to be improved real property and the cost of such proposed improvements shall be included in the appraised value of such real property; provided, however, that at no time shall the amount advanced by the association on such loan exceed the ratio of loan to value authorized by this section in respect to such loan, excluding from such value the value of such proposed building or buildings but including in such value the actual cost of such building or buildings to such time.

Stats 1933, Ch 4. Loans on shares and investment certificates.

Sec. 9.11. Loans Upon Shares and Investment Certificates. Loans secured wholly by the pledge of shares or investment certificates of the lending association may be made to the extent of not more than ninety per cent of the then value of such shares or investment certificates. Such loans, together with the interest and arrearages due or accrued thereon, may be repaid at any time without the payment of any premium or bonus interest, and upon such payment being made the security pledged therefor shall be surrendered.

Loans on collateral security.

Sec. 9.12. Loans Upon Collateral Security. Loans secured by the pledge of notes or other obligations may be made by any association to the extent of not more than ninety per cent of the unpaid principal of such notes or other obligations, if such notes or other obligations evidence loans which at the time of such collateral loans thereon, such association would be authorized to make pursuant to this act in an amount at least equal to the unpaid principal of such notes or other obligations. Loans secured by the pledge of bonds, treasury certificates, notes, mortgage participation certificates or other securities referred to in subdivisions (3), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8) and (9) of section 9.02 may be made by any association to the extent of not more than ninety per cent of the unpaid principal amount or market value thereof, whichever is less, if at the time of such collateral loans thereon such association would be authorized pursuant to this act to invest in such bonds, treasury certificates, notes, mortgage participation certificates or other securities in an amount at least equal to such unpaid principal amount or market value, whichever is less.

Arrears in payments.

Sec. 9.13. Arrears in Payments. Whenever a borrower shall be in arrears in the payment of his dues on his pledged shares, if any, or in the payment of his interest or loan installments, or shall be in default under the terms of any pledge, deed of trust or mortgage securing his loan, the whole loan shall become due at the option of the association, and the association may proceed to enforce collection upon such loan or the securities held by the association. Upon or after exercising such option, the withdrawal value of all shares pledged as collateral security shall be applied to the payment of the loan, and said shares from the time of such application shall be deemed surrendered to the association and canceled.

Limitations Classes of loans.

Sec. 9.14. Limitation as to Classes of Loans. No association shall make any loan other than an amortized loan unless at least ninety per cent of the unpaid principal of all its loans then in force be amortized loans as defined in section 9.09 of this act, and no association shall make any loan other than an amortized loan payable in monthly installments unless at least eighty per cent of the unpaid principal of all its loans then in force shall be amortized loans, the note or obligation for which provides for installments of principal to be paid monthly thereon. No association shall make any loan upon the security of unimproved real property if the unpaid principal of all its loans then in force on unimproved real property exceeds three per cent of the unpaid principal of all its loans of all classes then in force.

The limitations of this section 9.14 shall not apply to loans made pursuant to section 9.01 of this act.

Single loans.

Sec. 9.15. Limitation on Single Loans. Except with the consent of the commissioner no association issuing investment certificates shall hereafter make any one loan in an amount exceeding twenty-five per cent of the sum of its aggregate paid up nonwithdrawable capital and any surplus or reserve which is not subject to distribution to the shareholders or stockholders except upon dissolution or liquidation; but the provisions of this section shall not apply to any loans which do not exceed ten thousand dollars principal each.

Appraisers to be approved.

Sec. 9.16. Appraisers to Be Approved. No loan shall be made upon the appraisement of, nor shall compensation for any appraisement be paid to, any appraiser, officer or member of any committee who shall not have been first approved in writing by the commissioner for such association. Such approval may be subject to such limitations as may be provided by the commissioner, and may be revoked, for cause, after a hearing and due notice thereof first given to the appraiser and the association.

Loans specifically forbidden. Loans to director or officer or to other corporations controlled thereby.

Sec. 9.17. Loans Specifically Forbidden and Penalties. No loans shall be made, for himself or as agent or as partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any association by such association, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such association may be a minority stockholder, on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan by a majority of all the directors of such association and the affirmative vote of all the disinterested directors of such association present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with the other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board upon such loan. Such authorization or confirmation shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such association. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing or confirming such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such association who is a stockholder, officer or director of the corporation to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when such loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the association to the commissioner; provided that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such association owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation and any loan made to any corporation of which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such association own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation, need not be reported to the commissioner. No loan may be made to any corporation a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers, or officers and directors, of such association collectively, except with the previous consent of the commissioner. Any officer or director of any association who knowingly violates any of the previous provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony. Any officer, director or employee of any

SEC. 11. Section 10.03 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Apportionment of profits. Dividends on shares.

Sec. 10.03. Apportionment of Profits. Profits and losses shall be apportioned at least annually. In computing earnings or dividends on shares, the rate shall be applied to the value thereof, subject to regulations prescribed by the by-laws or directors in respect of payments on such shares since the last prior apportionment. Interest unpaid, although due or accrued, on debts owing to any association, shall not be included in calculation of its profits available for dividends; nor shall any association, except with the previous written consent of the commissioner, enter or at any time carry on its books any of its assets at a valuation exceeding its actual cost to such association. If the loan reserve mentioned in this section shall not equal five per cent of the aggregate unpaid principal amount of the outstanding loans at the time of each apportionment of profits, the directors, before declaring any dividends, shall set aside as a loan reserve not less than five per cent of the net profits accruing since the last prior apportionment and shall continue so to do until said loan reserve shall amount to at least five per cent of the aggregate unpaid principal amount of the loans in force secured by real property. Such loan reserve shall be available at all times to meet any losses, whether arising from loans or otherwise, but the directors of any association at their option may charge losses against earnings, undivided profits or surplus. If at any time said loan reserve shall be in anywise impaired, it shall thereafter be restored in like manner. In the case of each association said loan reserve shall include such sum as may, on August 14, 1931, have been in such association's reserve fund mentioned in section 641 of the Civil Code of this State; and also such other sum, if any, as the directors of such association may transfer from its surplus or undivided profits to said loan reserve. Every association issuing stock may, in addition to a dividend on such stock at a rate equal to that declared and paid or credited on installment shares, if any, set aside from and out of the net profits, if any, at each annual distribution thereof an amount not exceeding one per cent per annum on the average loans in force during such period, or a proportionate amount at each semiannual, quarterly or other distribution, from which to declare additional dividends on its stock; provided, however, that at least one-tenth of the amount so set aside shall be carried to stock surplus until such surplus shall amount to at least twenty-five per cent of the par value of the outstanding stock, and if at any time thereafter such stock surplus shall be in anywise impaired, it shall thereafter be restored in like manner. Subject to the requirements of this section as to the loan reserve and stock surplus, and subject to the provisions of other sections of this act expressly restricting the declaration or payment of dividends, the directors of any association issuing stock and not issuing shares may make, declare and pay dividends on the stock of so much of the surplus profits arising from the business thereof as to them appears advisable.

11. The superintendent of schools, one thousand nine hundred eighty dollars per annum; provided, that he shall have an assistant for a period of one hundred days in each year to serve at times to be designated by such officer at a salary of three dollars per diem, which office is hereby created, and the salary of which assistant shall be paid by the county at the same time and in the same manner, and out of the same funds as that of the superintendent of schools; provided, that the board of supervisors shall allow the superintendent of schools ten cents per mile for each mile traveled and other expenses necessarily incurred in the performance of his official duties; said mileage and traveling expenses not to exceed the sum of one hundred eighty dollars per year.

Surveyor.

12. The county surveyor, the sum of eight dollars per day not to exceed one hundred seventy days in any one year, for all work performed for the county; provided, that in counties of this class the board of supervisors shall provide the county surveyor with a suitable office, office furniture, heat, light and care for the same, office and record books and other necessary material, and also all traveling expenses at the rate of ten cents per mile in going to and from the county seat to where said work is performed for the county.

Justices of the peace

13. In counties of this class justices of the peace in all townships shall be paid the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, payable monthly, at the same time and in the same manner and out of the same fund as county officers are paid.

Constables

14. Constables, each the sum of three hundred dollars per annum, which shall be paid in the manner and the same time and out of the same funds as county officers are now paid. The above compensation shall be in lieu of all other fees received for services, and said fees shall be accounted for to the auditor and paid into the county treasury.

Supervisors. 15. Each member of the board of supervisors shall receive a salary of eight hundred dollars per annum for his services as supervisor, and a further sum of ten cents per mile, mileage, in traveling to and from his residence to the county seat; and for his services as road commissioner he shall receive a salary of four hundred dollars per annum; and ten cents per mile, mileage, for every mile actually traveled in the performance of his duties as road commissioner; provided, that he shall not receive more than five hundred dollars in any one year for such mileage as road commissioner, nor more than three hundred dollars in any one year for such mileage as supervisor.

Board of education. 16. Each member of the board of education excepting the superintendent of schools shall receive five dollars per day as compensation for his services when in actual attendance upon said board and mileage at the rate of ten cents per mile, one way only, from his residence to the place of meeting of said board. Said compensation of the members of said board shall be paid out of the same fund as the salary of the superintendent of schools. Claims for such service and mileage shall be presented to the board of supervisors and shall be allowed at the rate above named, and in the same manner as the claims against the county are allowed. The compensation of the members of the board of education herein provided for, is not in addition to that provided in section 1770 of this code.

Jurors 17. In counties of this class, for attending as a grand juror or as a trial juror, such fees and mileage as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

Witnesses. 18. In counties of this class witnesses shall be allowed such fees and mileage as are now or may hereafter be allowed by law.

Payment of salaries. 19. The salaries of all county and township officers and their deputies shall be payable in equal monthly installments from the salary fund of the county on the first day of each month.

Constitutionality. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of the act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph or part thereof directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

Repeal. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed.

Incumbents SEC. 2. This act shall apply to present incumbents.

CHAPTER 434.

An act to add a new section to the California Irrigation District Act, to be numbered 15a, relating to the use and distribution of water, declaring the urgency thereof.

Stats 1897, p. 254, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered 15a is hereby added to the California Irrigation District Act, to read as follows:

New section.

Sec. 15a. The board of directors, when they deem it advisable for the best interests of the district, may regulate the amount of water in use or to be used for the purpose of irrigating crops on lands within the district when the seepage from such irrigation would damage adjacent lands or it may require, as a condition precedent to the delivery of water, the construction of adequate drainage facilities to prevent damage to adjacent lands. The board shall have power to make the necessary rules and regulations to carry out the provisions of this act.

Directors may regulate water usage to prevent seepage

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall go into effect immediately.

Urgency.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: In certain irrigation districts at the present time large quantities of water are being held on land for a long period of time for the purpose of raising and maturing crops. Such water seeps and percolates to the adjacent land, forming stagnant pools thereon, which are a menace to health, injuring growing crops and causing the lands to become unfit for cultivation and habitation This act enables the board of directors of an irrigation district to remedy such conditions and should go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 435.

An act calling a special election to be held on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of June, 1933, and providing for the submission thereat to the qualified electors of the State of certain questions herein provided, for the purpose of ascertaining the wish of the people of the State relating to the diversion of moneys from the gasoline tax funds to the general fund of the State for certain purposes therein stated, the act to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Special election.

SECTION 1. A special election is hereby called to be held throughout the State of California on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of June, 1933, for the purpose of submitting to the electors of this State the questions hereinafter set forth. The special election hereby called is hereby consolidated with that certain special election called by an act entitled "An act to call a special election to be held on Tuesday, the twenty-seventh day of June, 1933, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of this State certain amendments to the Constitution of this State proposed by the Legislature at its fiftieth regular session and for the purpose of electing delegates to a convention to consider and pass upon a proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately," enacted at the fiftieth regular session of the Legislature, and such special elections so hereby consolidated shall be conducted as one election and as provided in section 3 of said act.

Stats 1933, Ch 279.

Conduct of election

SEC. 2. Except as otherwise expressly provided by this act, said election shall be proclaimed, held and conducted and the ballots shall be prepared, marked, voted, counted, canvassed, and the results shall be ascertained and the returns thereof made in all respects in accordance with the provisions of the Constitution applicable thereto and the laws governing elections in so far as the provisions thereof are applicable to the election called by this act.

Proposition submitted to electors

SEC. 3. At such special election there shall be submitted to the electors of the State two questions, each of which shall be printed on the ballot in the manner of a question submitted under section 1197, subdivision nine, of the Political Code, but which shall read, respectively, on the ballot as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1929

1. Shall the Legislature divert $8,779,750 from the gasoline tax funds to the general fund for payment of bond interest and redemption on outstanding highway bonds for the biennium ending June 30, 1933?

2. Shall the Legislature divert $8,449,326 from the gasoline tax funds to the general fund for payment of bond interest and redemption on outstanding highway bonds for the biennium ending June 30, 1935?

Calling election

SEC. 4. Inasmuch as this act provides for the calling of an election, it shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 436.

An act to provide for the regulation and licensing of horse racing, horse race meetings, and the wagering on the results thereof; to create the California Horse Racing Board for the regulation, licensing and supervision of said horse racing and wagering thereon; to provide penalties for the violation of the provisions of this act, and to provide that this act shall take effect upon the adoption of a constitutional amendment ratifying its provisions.

See Stats. 1933, Ch 769.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect June 27, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

License required

SECTION 1. No person, association or corporation shall hold or conduct or assist, aid or abet in holding or conducting, any meeting within the State of California, whereat horse racing with wagering on the results thereof shall be permitted, except and unless such persons, association or corporation shall comply with the provisions of this act and be licensed to conduct a horse race meeting, as provided in this act.

California Horse Racing Board.

SEC. 2. There is hereby created and established the California Horse Racing Board, hereinafter called the board, which shall be vested with the powers and charged with the duties in this act specified, and also with the powers necessary and proper to enable it to carry out fully and effectually the purpose of this act. The jurisdiction and supervision of said board shall extend to any and every person or persons, association or corporation that shall hereafter hold or conduct any meeting within the State of California whereat horse races shall be held or conducted upon the results of which there shall be wagering and to every such race and every such race meeting and each and every thing having to do with the operation thereof; and this board shall not have jurisdiction, supervision or control over any contests of speed and endurance of man or beast except horse races upon the results of which there shall be wagering.

Scope of authority.

Powers and duties Racing and wagering.

SEC. 3. Said racing board shall have full power to prescribe rules, regulations and conditions under which all horse races, upon the results of which there shall be wagering, shall be conducted within the State of California. Said board shall make rules governing, permitting and regulating mutual wagering on horse races under the system known as pari mutuel method of wagering, which shall be conducted only by such licensee and only within the enclosure and only on the dates for which such horse racing has been licensed by the board. All other forms of wagering or betting on the result of a horse race shall be and remain illegal and any and all wagering or betting on horse races outside the enclosure where such horse races shall have been licensed by the board shall be and remain illegal.

Other forms of wagering illegal.

To license participants and officials.

All horse owners, riders, agents, trainers, stewards, starters, timers, judges and others acting as officials at any such racing meeting shall be licensed by the board, pursuant to such rules and regulations as the board may adopt, and by the payment of a license fee as fixed and determined by said board. All licenses shall be granted for a period of one year and shall be valid at all race meetings in said State during said period. Said licenses shall be subject to revocation and no person shall be eligible to, or permitted to participate in such racing unless so licensed, and only during the time such license remains unrevoked. No qualified person shall be refused such license, nor shall such license be revoked without just cause.

To compel production of papers.

Said board shall have power to compel the production of any and all books, memorandum or documents showing the receipts and disbursements of any person, corporation or association licensed under the provisions of this act to conduct race meetings.

To remove employees or officials.

The board may at any time require the removal of any employee or official employed by any licensee hereunder in any case where it shall have reason to believe that such employee or official has been guilty of any dishonest practice in connection with horse racing and has failed to comply with any condition of such licensee's license, or has violated any law or any rule or regulation of said board.

To regulate accounting systems.

The board shall also have the power to require that the books and financial or other statements of any person, corporation or association licensed under the provisions of this act shall be kept in any manner which to the board may seem best, and the board shall also be authorized to visit, investigate, and place expert accountants and such other persons as it may deem necessary in the offices, tracks or places of business of any such person, corporation or association, for the purpose of satisfying itself that the board's rules and regulations are strictly complied with.

To summon witnesses.

The said board shall have power to summon witnesses before it and to administer oaths or affirmations to such witnesses whenever, in the judgment of the board, it may be necessary for the effectual discharge of its duties; and any person failing to appear before said board at the time and place specified in answer to said summons or refusing to testify, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction in a court of competent jurisdiction, shall be punishable by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment for not more than six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, in the discretion of the court.

Penalty.

Breeder's share of purse.

SEC. 4. It is hereby declared that since the purpose of this act is the encouragement of agriculture and the breeding of horses in the State of California, that three per cent of the first money of every purse won by an animal bred in the State of California shall be paid to the breeder of such animal. Every licensee shall run at least one race each racing day which shall be limited to horses foaled in California. If sufficient competition can not be had among such class of horses, said race may be eliminated for said day and a substitute race provided instead.

Racing board Number, appointment and qualifications.

SEC. 5. Said board shall consist of five members, each of whom shall be an actual and bona fide resident of the State of California and must have been such resident for two years next preceding his appointment as a member of said board, all of whom shall be appointed by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate after this act shall have been in force and effect fifteen days.

Term and oath.

The Governor, at the time of making the appointment of said five members, shall designate one of said five members to serve for the term of two years, two to serve for the term of three years, and two to serve for the term of four years. Before entering upon the discharge of the duties of his office, each member of the board shall take oath of office as provided by law.

The term of office of each member thereafter appointed shall be four years from the expiration of the preceding term. Vacancies in said board shall be filled by the Governor for the unexpired term. Each member of said board shall be eligible for reappointment in the discretion of the Governor.

Vacancies

Removal

The Governor may remove any board member for cause, giving him a copy of the charges against him and an opportunity to be heard. No person shall be eligible for appointment or shall hold the office of board member or be appointed by the board or hold any office or position under the board, who holds any financial interest in a race track or in the operation thereof within the State of California or in the operation of licensed wagering on the results of races, or who accepts any pecuniary reward from any race track in this State or from its operation or from the operation of licensed wagering on the result of races; provided that any such board member shall not be disqualified and is hereby expressly permitted to receive, if otherwise qualified to receive, such share of any purse awarded him as the result of any race or as a breeder of California bred horses, as provided in section 4 herein.

Financially interested person not eligible.

Secretary of board Powers and duties

SEC. 6. The board shall appoint a secretary who shall be placed under bond, the cost of said bond to be charged as a part of the necessary expenses of said board, and whose duty it shall be to keep a full and true record of all its proceedings, preserve at its general office all its books, documents and papers, prepare for service such notices and other papers, as may be required of him by the board, and to perform such other duties as the board may prescribe; and who may, under the direction of the board, issue subpenas for the attendance of witnesses before the board with the same effect as if they were issued in an action in the superior court, and may, under direction of the board, administer oaths, in all matters pertaining to the duties of his office or connected with the administration of the affairs of the board. Disobedience of such subpena and false swearing before such secretary shall be attended by the same consequence and be subject to the same penalties as if such disobedience or false swearing occurred in an action in the superior court.

Compensation Members.

The members of the board shall serve without compensation other than their necessary traveling expenses.

Secretary.

The secretary of said board shall receive a salary to be fixed by the commission but not to exceed the sum of four thousand dollars ($4,000) per year; out of the fund aforesaid.

The salary of the secretary and the necessary traveling expenses and other expenses of the secretary and members of the board shall be paid monthly by the State Treasurer on the warrant of the State Controller and the certification of the chairman of the board out of the money appropriated to be used therefor.

Employees.

The board shall appoint such employees as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and may with the approval of the Department of Finance fix their salaries which shall be paid out of any funds appropriated for the support of the board. All employees of the board shall be exempt from the State Civil Service Act.

General office in Sacramento.

SEC. 7. The board shall maintain a general office for the transaction of its business in the city of Sacramento. The board may hold meetings at any place, other than the place in which the general office is located, when the convenience of the members of the board so requires.

Quorum

A majority of the board shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business or for the exercise of any power of the board.

Biennial reports

Said board shall biennially make a full report to the Legislature of its proceedings for the two years ending with the first day of December, preceding the meeting of the Legislature, and shall embody therein such recommendations as it shall deem desirable.

Pari mutuel wagering.

SEC. 8. There shall be no wagering on the results of any such horse race or horse races except under the pari mutuel or mutual method of wagering, as hereinafter provided for, and then only by the installation and use of the totalisator or such mechanical equipment as may be adopted by the board; but such board shall not require any particular make of mechanical equipment; and no such horse races shall be held except during daylight hours.

License to hold race meetings.

SEC. 9. Upon the award to any applicant and upon payment of the license fees as hereinafter prescribed, the board shall issue a license which shall permit the licensee, during the dates awarded to such applicant and for which license fees shall have been paid, to conduct at its track a race meeting, or meetings, and wagering on the results thereof, as herein provided.

All licenses provided to be granted under the provisions of this act, including those granted pursuant to the provisions of section 3 hereof, shall be subject to all rules, regulations and conditions from time to time prescribed by the board and shall contain such conditions as shall be deemed by said board necessary or desirable for the purposes of this act. Such license shall be subject to suspension or revocation by the board in any case where the board shall have reason to believe that any condition of its license has not been complied with or any law or any rule or regulation of such board shall have been broken or violated. If any license is suspended or revoked, said board shall state publicly its reason for so doing and cause an entry of such reasons to be made on the minute book of the board, and the action shall be final; provided, however, that the propriety of such action shall be subject to review, upon questions of law only, by the superior court of the county or city and county within which such license was to be exercised, the action of the board to stand unless and until reversed by the court. Suspension or revocation

SEC. 10. For the purpose of this act there shall be three classes of counties in the State of California, as follows: Racing days specified.

1. Counties of the first class shall be those having a population of one million or over;

2. Counties of the second class shall be those having a population of six hundred thousand or over and less than a million;

3. Counties of the third class shall be all those counties under six hundred thousand population.

In counties of the first class there may be allowed by said board not to exceed sixty-six (66) racing days per year;

In the area embraced within counties of the second class and such territory as may lie within twenty miles from the exterior boundaries thereof, there may be allowed, in the discretion of said board, not to exceed sixty-six (66) racing days per year for said entire area and county;

In counties of the third class, but outside the area specified in the next preceding paragraph hereof, there may be allowed by said board not to exceed fourteen (14) racing days per year, and in addition in counties of the third class having a population of over two hundred thousand, but outside of the area specified in the next preceding paragraph hereof, there may be allowed by said board not to exceed twenty-five (25) racing days additional per year.

In counties of either or any of said classes there may be allowed by said board not to exceed fourteen (14) racing days per year to county fairs and to rodeos having horse races on tracks less than a mile in circumference or length. That said fourteen days, when and if allowed by the board in any county or area of the first or second class, shall not diminish the sixty-six (66) days racing per year permitted to be allowed to tracks of a mile or more in circumference or length as set out in the preceding two paragraphs of this section.

The board may apportion racing days, not to exceed the maximum number of racing days permitted in the respective counties and/or areas above-mentioned, to one or more licensees as it in its judgment shall appear to be for the best interests of legitimate racing and of the public. Apportionment of racing days.

Restrictions on issuance of licenses

SEC. 11. Upon the filing of an application, in writing, for a license, as herein provided, if the same should be in accordance with this act, and upon the payment of the license fee hereinafter provided for, it shall be within the power of the board to issue a license to the applicant to conduct a horse race meeting in accordance with the provisions of the act at the place, enclosure or track specified in the application; and in counties of the first and second classes, as hereinabove defined, no license shall be granted to conduct a horse race meeting upon a track less than one mile in circumference and/or length, except that the board may in its discretion grant licenses to county fairs and to rodeos to conduct horse race meetings upon tracks less than one mile in circumference and/or length, in counties of the third class licenses may be granted in the discretion of the board to conduct race meetings on tracks of less than a mile in circumference and/or length.

Contents of license

Every license issued pursuant to this act shall specify the person, association or corporation to whom the same is issued, the place, enclosure or track where such race meeting is to be held or conducted, and the days and hours of the day upon which the same will be permitted, and shall recite the payment to and receipt by the board of the license fee herein provided for.

Nontransferable

No such license shall be transferable nor shall it apply to any place, track or enclosure except the one specified in the license.

License fees, certified check

SEC. 12. The license fee to be paid by licensees shall be four per cent of all money handled in the pari mutuel pools; payment of same shall be made by said licensee, daily, during each racing meeting; each application for a license to conduct such racing meeting shall be accompanied by a certified check payable to the Treasurer of the State of California, as ex officio treasurer of the racing board in either of the following sums, dependent upon the classification of the county where the said meeting is to be held.

Counties of the first class.....$10,000.
Counties of the second class..... 10,000.

Counties of the third class, at the rate of fifty dollars ($50) per day for such race meeting.

When the meeting for which said license is granted has terminated, and the licensee has fully paid said four per cent of said money handled in said pools, the said sum so deposited with such application for a license shall be returned to said licensee; in the event said licensee fails, refuses or neglects to pay said four per cent of said money handled in said pools, the amount thereof shall be deducted from said sum so deposited with such application for a license and the balance if any shall be returned to said licensee.

If by reason of any cause beyond control, and through no fault or neglect of any licensee, and when such licensee is not in default, it should become impossible for such licensee to hold or conduct racing upon any date or dates licensed by the board, the board in its discretion and at the request of such licensee shall have power to return the fees paid by such licensee for racing upon the days upon which it is impossible for such licensee to hold or conduct racing or to specify any other day or days which may replace the days omitted and to take their place.

"Fair and exposition fund" created

SEC. 13. All fees, commissions and other moneys received by the board shall be paid into the State treasury immediately upon receipt of the same and credited to a special fund hereby created to be known as the "Fair and Exposition fund." All such moneys, to the amount of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) annually, are hereby appropriated to be used to defray the expenses of the board and to pay the salaries and expenses of the officers and employees provided for herein. The balance of all moneys in said fund are hereby annually appropriated as follows: one hundred thousand dollars thereof for the support of the California State Fair; five per cent of the balance thereof for payment to and use of those certain citrus fruit fairs and expositions described and defined in section 94 of the Agricultural Code, said five per cent to be apportioned between such citrus fruit fairs and expositions upon the basis of the population of the several counties in which such fairs and expositions, respectively, are held, and if only one such fair and exposition is held, then it shall receive all of said five per cent; forty per cent of such balance after the deductions for the support of the board and the support of the California State Fair, for the encouragement of county, district or combined county and district agricultural fairs (exclusive of such citrus fruit fairs and expositions), to be apportioned by and expended under the supervision of the State Department of Finance in the manner and for the purpose prescribed by section 92 of the Agricultural Code and other applicable provisions of law. The balance of said moneys after all of the above deductions have been made shall be appropriated for the benefit of State institutions of learning, providing vocational training in agriculture, animal husbandry and kindred subjects, or for the relief of unemployment within the State of California, and the Legislature shall biennially allocate and apportion such balance to the institutions or organizations aforesaid as, in its judgment, may be proper.

Appropriation

Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

Pari mutuel wagering.

SEC. 14. Any licensee conducting a horse race meeting shall provide a place or places in the race meeting grounds or enclosure at which such licensee may conduct, operate and supervise the pari mutuel or mutual method of wagering upon the results of said races so conducted and within its enclosure; and said system of wagering shall be operated only by the installation and use of the totalisator or such mechanical equipment as may be approved by the board, but such board shall not require any particular make of mechanical equipment; provided, that such wagering shall not be held or construed to be unlawful, any other statute of the State of California to the contrary notwithstanding. No other method of betting, pool making or wagering shall be permitted or used by such licensee, and said mutual method of wagering shall be carried on and conducted in the manner aforesaid and not outside of the track or enclosure of a licensee.

Commission. The commission deducted by any licensee from pari mutuel pools shall not exceed eight per cent of the gross amount of money handled, and the odd cents of all redistributions to be made on all mutual contributions exceeding a sum equal to the next lowest multiple of ten. The said amount so deducted shall be in addition to the license fee of four per cent of the gross amount of said money handled, as provided in section 12 herein.

Penalties. SEC. 15. Any corporation, organization, association or person who directly or indirectly holds any horse race meeting with mutual pools on the results thereof, without having first procured a license as hereinbefore prescribed, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor; and any corporation, organization, association or person who violates any of the provisions of this act, for which a penalty is not herein expressly provided, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

Any person wagering upon the results of a horse race, except in the pari mutuel or mutual method of wagering, when the same is conducted by a licensee and upon the grounds or enclosure of said licensee, shall be punishable as provided in the Penal Code.

Maximum license fee SEC. 16. No license or excise tax or fee in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) for each racing day, except as provided in this act, shall be assessed or collected from any licensee by the State or by any town, district, city, township, village or any other body having the power to assess or collect a tax, license or fee.

Repeal. SEC. 17. All acts or parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

Constitutionality SEC. 18. If any section or subsection of this act, or any part thereof, is, for any reason, held unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of such act. It is hereby declared that this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof would have been enacted irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses and phrases be declared unconstitutional.

It shall be the duty of the Attorney General of this State and of the district attorneys of the respective counties thereof to enforce the provisions of this act.

Effective date. SEC. 19. This act shall take effect upon the adoption of a constitutional amendment ratifying its provisions.

CHAPTER 440.

Stats. 1909, p. 87, amended.

An act to amend sections 19, 20, 21a, 46, 57, 62, 65, 67, 83 and 96 of an act entitled "An act to define and regulate the business of banking," approved March 1, 1909, as amended, relating to the business of banking.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19 of the act cited in the title hereof, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1923, p. 54.

Sec. 19. The aggregate of paid-up capital together with the surplus, of every commercial bank, must equal the following percentages of its deposit liabilities: Capital and deposit liabilities.

(a) Ten per centum of any amount up to and including one million dollars.

(b) Five per centum of any amount in excess of one million dollars.

The aggregate of paid-up capital together with the surplus of every savings bank having a capital stock, and the reserve fund of every savings bank without a capital stock, must equal the following percentages of its deposit liabilities:

(c) Ten per centum of any amount up to and including one million dollars.

(d) Five per centum of any amount in excess of one million dollars up to and including three million dollars.

(e) Three per centum of any amount in excess of three million dollars up to and including twenty-five million dollars

(f) One per centum of any amount in excess of twenty-five million dollars.

Any bank which maintains branch offices must, for each respective department, maintain an aggregate of paid-up capital and surplus equal to the foregoing percentages of its deposit liabilities, calculated on the basis of a separate total of such deposit liabilities for each city or town in which any such branch office may be maintained. The deposits shall not be increased if such proportion of paid-up capital and surplus or reserve fund to deposit liabilities is not maintained, and in no event shall said paid-up capital be less than the minimum paid-up capital provided by this act; provided, that such deposit liabilities shall be exclusive of the United States and postal savings deposits and deposits of the State of California, the counties, cities and counties, cities, towns, municipalities, irrigation districts and other public or municipal corporations of said State of California, and of any other governmental or political subdivision of the State of California which are secured as required by law. Branch offices.

SEC. 2. Section 20 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927, p. 1789

Sec. 20. Every commercial bank shall maintain total reserves against its aggregate deposits, exclusive of United States and postal savings deposits and deposits of the State of California and of any county, city and county, city, town, municipality, irrigation district and other public or municipal Commercial bank total reserves.

corporation in the State of California, which are secured as required by law, as follows:

1. Eighteen per centum of such deposits if such bank has its principal place of business in a city having a population of one hundred thousand or over.

2. Fifteen per centum of such deposits, if such bank is located in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand.

3. Twelve per centum of such deposits if such bank is located elsewhere in the State.

Of such total reserves an amount not less than six per centum of such deposits shall be maintained as reserves on hand and shall consist of gold bullion or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States; provided, however, that any bank acting as a reserve depositary shall maintain as such reserves on hand an amount not less than one-half of the total reserves required by the provisions of this section. The remainder of the total reserve so required shall be maintained as reserves on deposit or as reserves on hand, such reserves on hand to consist of gold bullion or any form of money or currency authorized by the laws of the United States; provided, further, however, that all or any part of the reserves may be deposited subject to call with a Federal reserve bank in the district in which said bank is located. If any bank shall have become a member of a Federal reserve bank, it shall comply with the reserve requirements of the Federal Reserve Act and its amendments, and its compliance therewith shall be in lieu of, and shall relieve such bank from compliance with, the provisions of this section. If any bank shall not maintain the total reserves required the Superintendent of Banks may impose a penalty upon it, based upon the length of time such encroachment upon its total reserves amounting to one per centum or more of its aggregate deposits shall continue, at the following rates:

If member of Federal reserve bank.

Penalty for not maintaining reserves

1. At the rate of six per centum per annum upon any such encroachment not exceeding two per centum of such deposits.

2. At the rate of eight per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of two and not exceeding three per centum of such deposits.

3. At the rate of ten per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of three and not exceeding four per centum of such deposits.

4. At the rate of twelve per centum per annum upon any additional encroachment in excess of four per centum of such deposits.

Reserve depositaries

The Superintendent of Banks shall, in his discretion, upon the nomination of any bank, designate a depositary or depositaries for the reserves on deposit of such bank provided for by this act. Except as otherwise provided in this section, such depositary shall be a bank or national banking association located in this State. Every reserve depositary, which has its principal place of business in a judicial township or in a city located in this State in which the population is less than fifty thousand, shall have at all times as its total reserves an amount equal to the total reserves required by the provisions of this section for every bank which has its principal place of business in a city having a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand. But no bank or national banking association shall hereafter be designated as a depositary of any such reserves unless it shall have a combined capital and surplus of not less than the following amounts:

Capital and surplus of reserve depositaries.

1. Two hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of three hundred thousand or over;

2. Two hundred thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of one hundred thousand or over and less than three hundred thousand;

3. One hundred fifty thousand dollars, if located in a city which has a population of fifty thousand or over and less than one hundred thousand;

4. One hundred thousand dollars, if located elsewhere in the State.

Such depositary may also be a banking corporation with a capital and surplus of one million dollars or more, located in any city in the United States. If the total reserves of any bank shall be less than the amount required by this section, such bank shall not increase its liabilities by making any new loans or discounts, otherwise than by discounting bills of exchange on sight, or by paying any dividends from profits until the full amount of its total reserves has been restored. The Superintendent of Banks may notify any bank whose total reserves shall be below the amount herein required, to restore such total reserves; and, if it shall fail for thirty days thereafter to restore such total reserves, such bank shall be deemed insolvent and may be proceeded against under the provisions of this act; provided, that all deposits of money herein permitted or required shall comply with the provisions of section 43 of this act. The term "reserves on hand," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits kept, pursuant to the provisions of this act, in the vault of any bank or in any safety deposit box in any other bank in this State, said box to be under the exclusive control of the depositing bank. The term "reserves on deposit," when used in this act, means the reserves against deposits maintained by any bank pursuant to this act in reserve depositaries, or in a Federal Reserve Bank in the district in which such bank is located and not in excess of the amount authorized by this act The term "total reserves," when used in this act, means the aggregate of reserves on hand and reserves on deposit maintained pursuant to the provisions of this act. The term "reserve depositary," when used in this act, means a bank, trust company or banking corporation designated by the Superintendent of Banks on the nomination of the depositing bank as a depositary for reserves on deposit.

SEC. 3. Section 21a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Terms and conditions upon which bank may borrow or rediscount.

Sec. 21a. No bank, banker, or bank officer, shall give preference to any depositor or creditor except as otherwise authorized by law; provided, that any commercial bank or commercial department of a departmental bank, is authorized and empowered for temporary purposes, to rediscount or to borrow money, or to borrow money and to pledge or hypothecate as collateral security therefor, its assets not exceeding fifty per centum in excess of the amount borrowed, but only to the extent and upon terms and conditions as follows:

(1) Any amount up to, but not exceeding the amount of its capital and surplus, without consent of the Superintendent of Banks; provided, however, that any amount borrowed, except as otherwise provided in this section, in excess of the amount of its capital and surplus, at such time actually paid in and remaining undiminished by losses or otherwise, must first be approved in writing by the Superintendent of Banks; provided, also, that no excess loan made to any such bank shall be invalid or illegal as to the lender, even though made without the consent of the Superintendent of Banks; provided, also, that the rediscounting with or without guarantee or indorsement with a Federal Reserve Bank, of notes, drafts, bills of exchange and loans secured by obligations of the United States, is hereby authorized and shall not be limited by the terms of this act, and shall not be considered as borrowed money within the meaning of this section.

(2) In the manner authorized by law and without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks any amount of the moneys of the United States, State of California, the counties, cities and counties, cities, towns, municipalities, irrigation districts and other public or municipal corporations of said State of California and of any other governmental or political subdivision of the State of California, and may receive such moneys or funds on deposit; provided, however, that the total amount of moneys of the State of California, the counties, cities and counties, cities, towns, municipalities, and other public or municipal corporations of said State of California, and of any other governmental or political subdivision of the State of California that any bank shall borrow, receive or have on deposit at one time shall not exceed three hundred per cent of its entire capital, including all of its departments; and provided, further, that the total amount of moneys of the State of California, the counties, cities and counties, cities, towns, municipalities, irrigation districts and other public or municipal corporations of said State of California, and of any other governmental or political subdivision of the State of California that any bank shall borrow, receive or have on deposit at any one time, secured by surety bonds, shall not exceed one hundred per cent of its capital, nor shall the total amount of such moneys that any bank shall borrow, receive or have on deposit, secured by surety bonds, together with all borrowed moneys of the class referred to in subdivision (1) of this section, at any one time exceed one hundred per cent of its capital, without the previous written consent of the Superintendent of Banks.

(3) Any amount of the United States moneys and postal savings moneys of the United States and moneys of bankrupt estates, and may receive such moneys on deposit, and pledge or hypothecate such of its securities and upon such terms as may be required by the laws of the United States or the rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States, without the approval of the Superintendent of Banks.

(4) Any amount, in addition to the amounts authorized to be borrowed in this section, for the purpose of buying from the United States, United States bonds, United States treasury certificates, or notes or obligations of the United States.

(5) To rediscount with and sell to a Federal Reserve Bank any and all such notes, drafts, bills of exchange, acceptances and other securities, with no other restrictions, and as fully, and to the same extent as this privilege is given to national bank members under the terms of the Federal Reserve Act, or by regulations of the Federal Reserve Board made pursuant thereto.

SEC. 4. Section 46 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1923, p 54.

Sec. 46. No commercial bank shall purchase or agree to purchase or invest or loan more than five per centum of its assets in any one bond issue, except bonds of the United States, or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States or bonds of the State of California, or bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or the State of California are pledged, or bonds issued under authority of the United States, or the bonds of any county, city and county, city, metropolitan water district or school district in the State or bonds of any irrigation district in this State that are legal for investments by savings banks. Investment in one bond issue.

SEC. 5. Section 57 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1923, p 716.

Sec. 57. Whenever in this act it is required that loans or investments shall be secured by a first lien on real estate, the lien of any tax, assessment or bond levied or issued by this State or by any county, city and county, city, town, municipality, school district, reclamation district, irrigation district, or other public or municipal corporation, or any other political or governmental subdivision of this State, not including bonds given pursuant to any law authorizing the same by any person or corporation in lieu of payment of any tax or assessment levied against any particular real property, and the lien of any assessment levied to pay such bonds, and the lien created by any contract to secure the payment for water furnished thereunder for the irrigation of such real estate or any part thereof, shall not be deemed to be a prior encumbrance or lien on such real property unless an installment call or pay- Loans secured by first lien on real estate

Stats. 1925, p. 510.

SEC. 6. Section 62 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Limitations upon deals and liabilities of savings banks.

Sec. 62. No savings bank shall, directly or indirectly, deal or trade in real or personal property in any other case or for any other purpose than is authorized by this act, and shall not contract any debt or liability for any purpose whatever other than for deposits, except as in this section provided.

Drafts.

Savings banks may pay regular depositors, when requested by them, by draft upon deposits to their credit with other banks, and charge current rate of exchange for such drafts.

Procedure for borrowing money.

No savings bank shall borrow money or pledge or hypothecate any of its securities, except to meet the immediate demands of its own depositors, and then only in pursuance of a resolution adopted by a vote of a majority of its board of directors, duly entered upon their minutes, wherein shall be recorded the ayes and nays upon each vote; also with the written approval of the Superintendent of Banks, and he shall have the authority to fix the amount to be borrowed, the amount and character of the securities to be pledged or hypothecated, and the term and rate of interest thereon; provided, that any savings bank may, for the purpose of performing its functions and transacting its business as authorized by this act, rediscount, with or without guarantee or indorsement, with the Federal Reserve Bank, or with any other bank, its acceptances, notes or any other securities, available for rediscount with Federal Reserve Bank, in any amount up to but not exceeding its capital and surplus or reserve without consent of the Superintendent of Banks, and shall not be considered as borrowed money within the meaning of this section; provided, also, that savings banks may, in the manner authorized by law, and without the previous approval of the Superintendent of Banks, borrow the moneys of the United States, the State of California, the counties, cities and counties, and cities, towns, municipalities, and other public or municipal corporations of said State of California, and of any other governmental or political subdivision of the State of California, the funds of which are required by law to be

SEC. 7. Section 65 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 341.

Sec. 65. No loan shall be made, for himself or as agent or partner of another, directly or indirectly, to any director or officer of any savings bank by such bank, or on the indorsement, surety or guaranty of any such officer or director, except that loans may be made to any corporation in which any director or officer of such savings bank may own or hold a minority number of shares of stock, upon authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all other respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act. Such interested director or officer shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, that, by and with the consent of the Superintendent of Banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote on such a loan made to any corporation or bank where all of the outstanding shares of stock of one are owned by, or held in trust for, the owners of not less than ninety per centum of the outstanding shares of stock of the other, and where all or a majority of the directors of the borrowing corporation or bank are directors of the loaning bank. Such authorization or confirmation shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing or confirming such loan, the corporate name of the borrower, the name of each director or officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, officer or director of the corporation, to which such loan is made, the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the Superintendent of Banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such savings bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation of which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation, shall not be reported to the Superintendent of Banks. No loan may be made to any corporation a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers, or officers and directors, of such savings bank collectively, except with the previous consent of the Superintendent of Banks. A loan may be made to any agent, employee or a member of the advisory board other than an officer or director, of any savings bank by such bank upon authorization or confirmation of a majority of all the directors of such savings bank and an affirmative vote of all directors of such savings bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan; provided, however, that such loan shall in all respects conform to and comply with all other provisions of this act; except that a written report to the Superintendent of Banks of such loan to an employee or to an advisory board member other than an officer or director shall not be required. Such authorization or confirmation shall be entered upon the records or minutes of such savings bank. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the borrower, the nature of his employment, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of the security given therefor, and the fact of final payment, when made, shall be forthwith reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such savings bank to the Superintendent of Banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such savings bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation of which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation, shall not be reported to the Superintendent of Banks. Any officer or director of any savings bank who knowingly procures a loan from such savings bank contrary to the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the Superintendent of Banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the Superintendent of Banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues. This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club, or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such savings bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest. Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a savings bank on the security of bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued under the authority of the United States, or bonds of the State of California, or those for which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or bonds of any county, city, city and county, metropolitan water district, or school district of this State, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and such loans may be made in the usual manner of making loans in which no director of such bank is interested.

ness in the United States that makes statements of its condition duly ascertained and certified to by a public accountant. Copy of such a certified statement shall be on file in the office of the savings bank discounting or purchasing such bill in a file maintained for such purpose. Said statement shall have been issued within the preceding fourteen months and shall be the latest issued by said individual or firm or corporation. Said statement shall consist of a balance sheet showing quick assets, slow assets, permanent or fixed assets, current liabilities and accounts, short term loans, long term loans, capital and surplus. Accompanying said balance sheet shall be a copy of a statement from the borrower or public accountant concerning the following:

(1) The nature of the business.

(2) All contingent liabilities such as indorsements or guarantees.

(3) Particulars respecting any mortgage debts and whether there is any lien on current assets.

(4) The maximum and minimum liabilities of the individual, firm or corporation during the twelve months previous to the date of audit.

(b) It must be issued by an individual, firm or corporation whose net worth is not less than two times the amount of its outstanding liabilities, including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation indorsements, nor less than three hundred thousand dollars. The quick assets of said individual, firm or corporation, consisting of merchandise, finished, raw, and in the process of manufacture, accounts receivable, bills receivable, bonds or obligations of the government of the United States at the then market value of said bonds or obligations and cash, shall not be less than two times its outstanding quick liabilities including any contingent liabilities arising from the rediscount of bills receivable or other accommodation indorsements, as shown by said statement.

(c) It must have a maturity of not more than six months.

(d) It must have arisen out of actual commercial transactions; that is, be a bill which has been issued or drawn for industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been or are to be used for such purposes. No bill shall be eligible for discount or purchase by a savings bank, the proceeds of which have been used or are to be used for any of the following purposes:

Bills ineligible for discount or purchase

(1) For investments of a merely speculative character whether made in goods or otherwise.

(2) Must not have been issued for carrying or trading in stocks, bonds or other investment securities, except bonds of the government of the United States, and must not cover merely investments.

(3) Must not be a bill of any individual, firm or corporation which has under pledge or hypothecation any of its personal assets.

The word "bill," when used in this section, shall be construed to include notes, drafts, or bills of exchange, and the word "goods" shall be construed to include goods, wares or merchandise. Definitions

Any savings bank purchasing or discounting such paper shall have in a file maintained for the purpose, letters from banks and merchants or mercantile reports bearing upon the credit and standing of the person, firm, copartnership or corporation whose paper is under discount. Credit reports

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bills of any one person, firm, copartnership or corporation in any amount which shall exceed five per centum of the capital and surplus or reserve of such savings bank, nor shall any savings bank at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, an amount of bills, of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twelve and one-half per centum of the deposits of such bank. Limitation on amount

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, any such bankers' acceptances from any one acceptor in any amount equal at any time in the aggregate to more than ten per centum of its paid-up capital and surplus or reserve, unless the said acceptance is secured either by attached documents or by some other actual security growing out of the same transaction as the acceptance; provided, however, that any savings bank may, irrespective of any such security, acquire and hold acceptances equal to twenty-five per centum of its capital and surplus or reserve, of any one acceptor having a paid-in capital of not less than three million dollars.

No savings bank shall at any time acquire or hold, directly or indirectly, by discount or purchase, a combined total amount of bankers' acceptances and bills of the character defined and limited by this section, greater than twenty per centum of the deposits of such bank; provided, however, that any savings bank may acquire and hold bankers' acceptances in the amount of two thousand five hundred dollars.

2. No savings bank shall invest or loan an amount greater than fifty per centum of its actual paid-up capital and surplus in or on any one note or bond issue of the class specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision six of section 61 of this act, or in or on mortgage participation certificates issued by a mortgage insurance company pursuant to the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code, nor more than five per centum of its assets in or on any one issue of bonds or notes or obligations of any other class, except bonds of the United States, or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or bonds of the State of California, bonds for which the faith and credit of the United States or of the State of California are pledged, or bonds of any county, city and county, city, metropolitan water district or school district in this State, or bonds of any irriga- Loans on notes and bonds.

tion district in this State such as are legal for investment by savings banks.

3. No savings bank shall loan money:

(a) On bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (a), (b), (c) and (d) of subdivision five of section 61 of this act, or on bonds of the character specified in paragraph (c) of subdivision six of section 61 of this act, unless such bonds shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(b) On bonds or notes or obligations of the character specified in paragraphs (d), (e), (g), (h) and (i) of subdivision six of section 61 of this act, when eligible as investments for savings banks pursuant to said sections, unless such bonds or notes shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(c) On bonds or equipment trust certificates legal for investment by savings banks in the States of New York or Massachusetts, unless such bonds or equipment trust certificates shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(d) On notes or bonds of the character specified in paragraph (f) of subdivision six of section 61 of this act when certified as legal investments for savings banks under the provisions of section 61a of this act, or on securities issued by a mortgage insurance company pursuant to the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of subdivision first of the Civil Code eligible for investment by savings banks, unless such bonds, notes or securities shall have a market value at least ten per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(e) On notes or bonds of the character specified in paragraphs (a) and (b) of subdivision six of section 61 of this act when certified as legal investments for savings banks in this State, unless such notes or bonds shall have a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(f) On personal property unless such personal property shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; or,

(g) On other bonds, or on capital stock of any corporation, unless such bonds or stock shall have a market value at least fifty per centum in excess of the amount loaned thereon; provided, however, that no loan shall be made upon the capital stock of any bank unless such bank has been in existence at least two years and has earned and paid a dividend on its capital stock.

Loans on real estate.

4. No savings bank shall make any loan on security of real estate, unless it be a first lien, and in no event to exceed sixty per centum of the market value of any real estate taken as security except for the purpose of facilitating the sale of property owned by such savings bank or except under the conditions specified in section 57a of this act; provided, that a second lien may be accepted to secure the repayment of a debt previously contracted in good faith; and provided, also, that any savings bank holding a first mortgage or deed of trust on real estate may take or purchase and hold or loan upon another and immediately subsequent mortgage or deed of trust thereon, but all such loans shall not exceed in the aggregate sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate securing the same; provided, further, that a savings bank may loan not to exceed ninety per centum of the face value of a mortgage which constitutes a first lien upon real estate, but in no event shall any such loan exceed ninety per centum of sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate covered by said mortgage or deed of trust.

Loans on capital stock of corporation

5. No savings bank shall loan to any one borrower on the security of the capital stock of any corporation an amount exceeding ten per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank; provided, that all loans on the capital stock of any one corporation shall not exceed in the aggregate twenty-five per centum of the capital stock and surplus of such savings bank.

Mining stock.

6. No savings bank shall purchase, invest or loan its capital, surplus or the money of its depositors, or any part of either, in mining shares or stock and any president or managing officer who knowingly consents to a violation of any provision of this paragraph shall be guilty of a felony.

report to the Superintendent of Banks of such loan or line of credit shall not be required. Loans herein authorized can be made only on authorization of or confirmation within thirty days after making such loan, by a majority of all the directors of such bank and the affirmative vote of all directors of such bank present at the meeting authorizing or confirming such loan. Such interested director shall not vote or participate in any manner in the action of the board on such loan; provided, that by and with the consent of the Superintendent of Banks previously obtained in writing, all directors may vote on such a loan made to any corporation or bank where all of the outstanding shares of stock of one are owned by, or held in trust for, the owners of not less than ninety per centum of the outstanding shares of stock of the other, and where all or a majority of the directors of the borrowing corporation or bank are directors of the loaning bank. The board of directors of any such bank may fix the total amount of credit that may at any one time during the twelve months next succeeding be given to any creditor, agent, or other employee other than an officer, or to any firm, copartnership, or corporation in which any director, agent, or other employee other than an officer is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent, or other employee or to any corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank, proposing to fix such total amount of credit, is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee, and any or all loans made within or up to the total amount of such authorized credit may at any time during said twelve months be renewed from time to time, in whole or in part, by the officers of the bank without any further vote or action on the part of the board of directors. Each such authorization shall be entered upon the records or minutes of said bank. No director shall vote or participate in any manner in such action of the board fixing the total amount of credit that may at any one time be given to himself or to any firm, copartnership or corporation in which he is a member, stockholder, director, officer, agent or other employee. The fact of making such loan, the names of the directors authorizing such loan, the name of the director, obtaining such loan, or the name of the firm, copartnership or corporation in which such director is interested, or the name of the corporation of which any officer of a commercial bank is a minority stockholder, director, officer, agent or employee obtaining such loan, the amount of such loan, the rate of interest thereon, the time when the loan will become due, the amount, character and value of security given therefor, if any, and the fact of final payment when made shall forthwith be reported in writing by the cashier or secretary of such bank to the Superintendent of Banks; provided, that any loan made to any corporation of which any director, officer, agent or employee of such commercial bank owns not more than five per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation nor any loan made to any corporation which any two or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank own not more than twenty per cent of the paid-in capital of such borrowing corporation shall not be reported to the Superintendent of Banks. In case a loan is made to a corporation there shall be reported in the same manner the name of each director and officer of such bank who is a member, stockholder, director, officer or employee of such borrowing corporation and the amount of stock held by him in such borrowing corporation. All the provisions of this section relating to reports shall apply to the granting of credit and all loans made under any credit given and payments made thereon shall also be reported immediately after the same is made. In case of a loan made without the previous authorization of the directors, the fact of making such loan shall forthwith be reported and the action of the board of directors, in confirming or refusing to confirm such loan within thirty days thereafter, and the fact of final payment when made shall be reported in the same manner as herein required for loans made under previous authorization. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of a commercial bank, who knowingly procures a loan from such commercial bank contrary to the provisions of this section, shall be guilty of a felony. In case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the Superintendent of Banks, as herein provided, any of the facts so required to be reported, or in case of the neglect or failure of the secretary or cashier of any such bank to report to the Superintendent of Banks any loan made contrary to the provisions of this section, the bank shall be liable therefor and shall forfeit to the people of the State of California twenty-five dollars per day for each day, or part thereof, during which such neglect or failure continues. This section shall not apply to any loan made to a religious corporation, club or other membership corporation of which one or more directors, officers, agents or employees of such commercial bank may be members or officers, but in which they have no financial interest. No loan may be made to any corporation a majority of the stock of which is owned or controlled by any one or more of the directors or officers, or directors and officers of such commercial bank collectively, except with the previous consent of the Superintendent of Banks. Loans may be made to any director, other than an officer, directly or indirectly, or to any agent or employee of a commercial bank on the security of bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued under the authority of the United States, or bonds of the State of California, or those for which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or bonds of any county, city, city and county, metropolitan water district or school district of this State, notwithstanding anything in this section contained, and

CHAPTER 441.

"Act for the protection of State highways" Stats. 1915, p. 642, repealed.

An act to provide for the care, management and protection of State roads and highways and the right of way thereof and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions thereof, and to repeal an act entitled "An act to provide for the care, management and protection of State highways and providing penalties for violations of the provisions of the act," approved May 20, 1915, Statutes of 1915, Chapter 400, as amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Encroachments on State highways.

SECTION 1. It shall be unlawful for any State road or highway to be encroached upon by any tower, pole, pole line, pipe, pipe line, fence, billboard, stand, building, or other structure of any kind or character whatever, placed in, under, upon, across or over the right of way thereof, unless the same shall be authorized by permit issued by the Director of Public Works or his duly authorized representative in the manner provided by law or unless such encroachment is expressly provided for by law. If any such encroachment exists within the right of way of any State road or highway the Department of Public Works, or its appropriate officers, engineers, or employees, shall have authority to require the removal thereof in the manner herein provided. Notice shall be given to the owner, occupant, or to the person in possession thereof, or to any other person causing or suffering the encroachment to exist, or, in the case of a nonresident, his agent, by delivering to and serving upon any such person a demand, in writing, for the removal forthwith of such encroachment from within said right of way. Any such notice shall describe the encroachment complained of with reasonable certainty as to its character and location. Service of such notice by registered mail and the posting of a copy on the encroachment described therein for a period of five days shall be sufficient compliance with the requirements of this section.

Same—Removal by owner.

Same—Removal by Department of Public Works.

SEC. 2. If such encroachment be not removed or removal thereof commenced and thereafter diligently prosecuted prior to the expiration of five days from and after the service, or mailing and posting of the demand therefor, as herein provided, or when such encroachment obstructs or prevents the use of said road or highway by the public, or consists of refuse, or is an advertising sign of any description (unless excepted by the proviso of section 8 of this act), the Department of Public Works, or its appropriate officers, engineers or employees, is hereby authorized forthwith to remove or cause to be removed such encroachment from within the right of way of any such road or highway, and said department, in the name of the people of the State of California, may commence and prosecute in any court having jurisdiction, an action to recover the costs and expenses of such removal and costs and expenses of suit and, in addition thereto, the sum of ten dollars for each day such encroachment is or was permitted to remain within the right of way of any such road or highway after service of the notice and demand as herein provided.

Abatement as a public nuisance.

SEC. 3. If the owner, occupant, or person in possession, or person causing or suffering the encroachment to exist, or the agent of any of them, disputes or denies the existence thereof, or refuses to remove or permit the removal thereof, the Department of Public Works, in the name of the people of the State of California, is hereby authorized and empowered to commence an action in any court having jurisdiction to abate the same as a public nuisance. If judgment is recovered by said Department of Public Works it may, in addition to having such encroachment adjudged a nuisance and abated, recover ten dollars for each day such encroachment remained, or was permitted to remain, after the service of the notice and demand, as herein provided, and also its costs and expenses incurred in such action.

Penalty for violation.

SEC. 4. Any person, firm or corporation owning, controlling, placing, or causing or suffering any encroachment to exist upon or within the right of way of any State road or highway after the service upon such person, firm or corporation of the notice and demand as herein provided, unless the same be authorized by law as provided in section 1 hereof, in addition to any civil liability therefor, is guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punishable therefor as in the Penal Code provided.

Drainage and seepage water.

SEC. 5. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to drain or to permit water to be drained from his or its lands onto any State road or highway by means of ditches or dams, or otherwise, to the damage thereof, or to divert, dam up, fill in, or otherwise obstruct any natural water course so as to prevent, impede or restrict the natural flow of waters from such State road or highway into and through such water course (unless other adequate and proper drainage has been provided) or so as to cause waters to be impounded upon or within the right of way of any State road or highway, to the damage thereof, or so as to cause interference with, damage or hazard to public travel, or to store or distribute water for any purpose so as to permit the same to overflow onto or to saturate by seepage any State road or highway, or to otherwise obstruct the same, to the damage thereof. Upon notification thereof by the Department of Public Works, or its appropriate officers, engineers or employees, in the manner provided by section 1 hereof, any person, firm or corporation permitting or suffering such damage to be done to any State road or highway, or permitting or suffering any such condition to exist, shall immediately cease and discontinue such diversion of waters or cause to be discontinued and prevented such drainage, seepage, or overflow and shall repair, at his or its expense, the damage thereby occasioned to any State road or highway. Upon the neglect, failure, or refusal of any person, firm or corporation, so notified, to cease and discontinue such diversion, or to discontinue and prevent the drainage, seepage or overflow of such waters, or to make the repairs herein required, the Department of Public Works, or its appropriate officers, engineers or employees, may make such repairs and may also perform such work as may be necessary to prevent the further drainage, diversion, overflow, or seepage of such waters, and said department, in the name of the people of the State of California, may recover in an action at law in any court of competent jurisdiction, the amount expended for such repairs and works, and, in addition thereto, the sum of ten dollars for each day such drainage, diversion, overflow, or seepage of such waters is or was permitted to continue after the service of the notice as herein required, together with the costs and expenses incurred in such action.

Department may make repairs.

Ditches or excavations across highways.

SEC. 6. Any person, firm or corporation proposing or desiring to excavate or construct ditches across any State road or highway for the purposes of irrigation, drainage, or mining or other purposes shall erect, without expense to the State of California, such bridges, culverts, pipes, siphons, or other crossings as may be necessary adequately and properly to carry such waters across, over or under such State road or highway. Any such construction shall be done only in accordance with the plans and the terms of any permit that may be issued therefor by the Department of Public Works, and subject to the approval of the Director of Public Works, or the proper officer engineer or employee of said department. The issuance of any such permit may be withheld until the Director of Public Works is assured that proper and adequate provision has been made for the protection of such State road or highway and safety of travel thereon. Upon the neglect or refusal of any person, firm or corporation so to do, the Department of Public Works, in its discretion, may construct any such crossing and may recover, in the name of the people of the State of California, in an action at law in any court having jurisdiction, the cost thereof, together with the costs and expenses incurred in any such action.

CHAPTER 442.

An act to amend sections 67 and 68 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization of the Railroad Commission, to define the powers and duties and the rights, remedies, powers and duties of public utilities and their officers, and the rights and remedies of patrons of public utilities, and to provide penalties for offenses by public utilities, their officers, agents and employees and by other persons and corporations, creating the 'Railroad Commission fund' and appropriating the moneys therein to carry out the provisions of this act, and repealing title fifteen of part four of division first of the Civil Code and all acts and parts of acts inconsistent with the provisions of this act," approved April 23, 1915, as amended. Stats 1915, p. 115, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 67 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915, p. 115

Sec. 67. Within thirty days after the application for a rehearing is denied, or, if the application is granted, then within thirty days after the rendition of the decision on rehearing, the applicant may apply to the Supreme Court of this State for a writ of certiorari or review (hereinafter referred to as a writ of review) for the purpose of having the lawfulness of the original order or decision or the order or decision on rehearing inquired into and determined. Such writ shall be made returnable not later than thirty days after the date of the issuance thereof, and shall direct the commission to certify its record in the case to the court. On the return day, the cause shall be heard by the Supreme Court, unless for a good reason shown the same be continued. No new or additional evidence may be introduced in the Supreme Court, but the cause shall be heard on the record of the commission as certified to by it. The review shall not be extended further than to determine whether the commission has regularly pursued its authority, including a determination of whether the order or decision under review violates any right of the petitioner under the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California. The findings and conclusions of the commission on questions of fact shall be final and shall not be subject to review except as hereinafter provided; such questions of fact shall include ultimate facts and the findings and conclusions of the commission on reasonableness and discrimination. The commission and each party to the action or proceeding before the commission shall have the right to appear in the review proceeding. Upon the hearing the Supreme Court shall enter judgment either affirming or setting aside the order or decision of the commission. The pro- Application to supreme court for review. Findings on questions of fact visions of the Code of Civil Procedure of this State relating to writs of review shall, so far as applicable and not in conflict with the provisions of this act, apply to proceedings instituted in the Supreme Court under the provisions of this section. No court of this State (except the Supreme Court to the extent herein specified) shall have jurisdiction to review, reverse, correct or annul any order or decision of the commission or to suspend or delay the execution or operation thereof, or to enjoin, restrain or interfere with the commission in the performance of its official duties; provided, that the writ of mandamus shall lie from the Supreme Court to the commission in all proper cases.

Independent judgment.

In any proceeding wherein the validity of any order or decision is challenged on the ground that it violates any right of petitioner under the Constitution of the United States, the Supreme Court shall exercise an independent judgment on the law and the facts, and the findings or conclusions of the commission material to the determination of the said constitutional question shall not be final.

Stats 1915, p. 115

SEC. 2. Section 68 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Order not stayed.

Sec. 68. (a) The pendency of a writ of review shall not of itself stay or suspend the operation of the order or decision of the commission, but during the pendency of such writ the Supreme Court in the manner hereinafter provided may, in its discretion, stay or suspend in whole or in part the operation of the commission's order or decision.

Stay order

(b) No order so staying or suspending an order or decision of the commission shall be made by the Supreme Court otherwise than upon five days' notice and after hearing, and if the order or decision of the commission is stayed or suspended the order suspending the same shall contain a specific finding based upon evidence submitted to the court and identified by reference thereto, that great or irreparable damage would otherwise result to petitioner and specifying the nature of the damage; provided, however, that the Supreme Court may grant a temporary stay restraining the operation of the commission order or decision at any time before such hearing and determination of the application for a stay in the event it be of the opinion that irreparable loss or damage would result to petitioner unless such temporary stay be granted, but such temporary stay shall remain in force only until the hearing and determination of the application for a stay upon notice as aforesaid. The hearing of such application for a stay shall be given precedence and shall be expedited and assigned for hearing at the earliest practicable day after the expiration of notice hereinabove provided for.

Temporary stay order.

(c) No temporary stay shall be granted by the Supreme Court unless it shall clearly appear from specific facts shown by the verified petition that immediate and irreparable injury, loss or damage will result to the applicant before notice can be served and hearing had on a motion for a stay as herein-above provided. Every such temporary stay shall be indorsed with the date and hour of issuance, shall be forthwith filed in the clerk's office and entered of record, shall define the injury and state why it appears to be irreparable and why the order was granted without notice, and shall by its terms expire within such time after entry not to exceed ten days as the court may fix unless within the time so fixed the order is extended for a like period for good cause shown, and the reasons for such extension shall be entered of record. In case a temporary stay shall be granted without notice in the contingency specified the matter of the issuance of a stay shall be set down for hearing at the earliest possible time; and when the same comes up for hearing the party obtaining the temporary stay shall proceed with the application for a stay and if he does not do so the court shall dissolve the temporary stay.

Suspending bond.

(d) In case the order or decision of the commission is stayed or a temporary stay granted the order of the court shall not become effective until a suspending bond shall have first been executed and filed with and approved by the court, payable to the people of the State of California and sufficient in amount and security to insure the prompt payment by the party petitioning for the review, of all damages caused by the delay in the enforcement of the order or decision of the commission and of all moneys which any person or corporation may be compelled to pay pending the review of the proceedings, for transportation, transmission, product, commodity or service in excess of the charges fixed by the order or decision of the commission, in case said order or decision is sustained. The court, in case it stays or suspends the order or decision of the commission in any matter affecting rates, fares, tolls, rentals, charges or classifications, may also in its discretion direct the public utility affected to pay into court from time to time, there to be impounded until the final decision of the case, or into some bank or trust company paying interest on deposits, under such conditions as the court may prescribe, all sums of money which it may collect from any corporation or person in excess of the sum such corporation or person would have been compelled to pay if the order or decision of the commission had not been stayed or suspended.

Stay of order denying increase in rate, etc.

(e) In case the Supreme Court stays any order or decision denying to the utility an increase in any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification, the court may condition such stay or temporary stay so as to permit petitioner to charge a higher rate pending the determination of the review and may attach such further conditions to such stay or temporary stay as may appear to be reasonable.

Stay of order lowering rates, etc.

In case the Supreme Court stays or suspends any order or decision lowering any rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification or stays any order or decision denying petitioner the right to charge an increased rate, fare, toll, rental, charge or classification and as a condition thereof permits the charging of higher rates, the court shall require the public utility affected to keep such accounts, verified by oath as may, in the judgment of the court, suffice to show the amounts being charged or received by such public utility, pending the review, in excess of the charges allowed by the order or decision of the commission, together with the names and addresses of the corporations or persons to whom overcharges will be refundable in case the order or decision of the commission is upheld. The court may from time to time require said party petitioning for a review to give additional security, or to increase the said suspending bond, whenever in the opinion of the court the same may be necessary to insure the prompt payment of said damages and said overcharges. Upon the final decision by the Supreme Court, all moneys which the public utility may have collected, pending the appeal in excess of those authorized by the order or decision of the commission, together with such interest as may be reasonable, shall be promptly paid to the corporations or persons entitled thereto in such manner and through such methods of distribution as may be prescribed by the court, should the commission order or decision be upheld.

CHAPTER 446.

An act to amend sections 2436, 2439, 2440, 2457, 2458, 2459, 2460, 2465, 2466a, and 2468 of the Political Code, to amend section 2467 of said code and to add section 2457a to said code, relating to the pilotage of vessels to, from and within ports and bays of the State of California.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2436 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pol. C. 1872.

2436. Pilots for all the ports in this State, other than for Humboldt Bay and the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun, and the ports of Los Angeles, San Diego and Long Beach, are governed by the following regulations: Regulations for certain pilots.

1. They must keep, for the purpose of piloting, at least one boat for every six pilots, in good condition, and seaworthy, sufficiently large to cruise in heavy weather, to be exclusively used as a pilot boat;

2. They must cruise at least ten marine miles seaward from the headlines at the entrance of the port;

3. They shall receive for piloting every vessel into or out of port the rates, now or hereafter established by section 2466 of this code;

4. When the person commanding any vessel refuses to take a pilot, the pilot first offering his services is entitled to half pilotage;

5. For incompetency, neglect of duty, or other good cause, the Governor may suspend or remove any pilot appointed by him;

6. They must strictly observe and obey all legally established quarantine regulations.

Pol C 1872.

SEC. 2. Section 2439 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Piloting vessels without license

2439. Any person not the master or owner, and not holding a commission or license as a pilot, who pilots any vessel into or out of any harbor or port of this State for which there are commissioned or licensed pilots, except to another port of the same bay or its tributaries, must be punished therefor as provided in the Penal Code, section 379, and must pay to the pilot entitled to pilot such vessel the amount of pilotage or towage collected by him.

Stats. 1927, p 1109.

SEC. 3. Section 2440 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Pilot Commissioners for San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays.

2440. There must be appointed by the Governor, by and with the advice of the Senate, three experienced and competent ship masters or nautical men, citizens of the United States, and residents of the City and County of San Francisco, the counties of Alameda, Contra Costa, Marin, San Mateo, Santa Clara, or Solano, as the Board of Pilot Commissioners for the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun which shall be successor to the Board of Pilot Commissioners for the ports of San Francisco, Mare Island and Benicia and the present members of said last-named board shall continue in office for their unexpired terms as members of said first-named board. Each of the members of said board shall receive as compensation for their services such amount as may be determined from time to time by the board. The board shall have the power to appoint and fix the compensation of a secretary, a treasurer and such other employees as may be necessary. The members of the board and its officers and employees shall be allowed their actual necessary expenses in the performance of their duties.

C. A 1877-8, p. 46

SEC. 4. Section 2457 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Commissioners to examine and license pilots.

2457. The Board of Pilot Commissioners for the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun must examine and license, in the manner prescribed, not less than fifteen nor more than twenty bar pilots who shall have exclusive authority to pilot ships to and from the high seas to the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun, and the ports thereof, and from said bays and ports to the high seas, and subject, in respect to interior bay pilotage, to the provisions of section 2467 of this code, and, in addition thereto, shall have the same authority as bay pilots, as set forth in section 2457a of this code. For the purpose of this section high seas shall be construed as including the Pacific Ocean and all navigable waters of the Golden Gate, westerly of a straight line drawn between Anita Rock and Yellow Bluff. The twenty pilots now licensed for the port of San Francisco pursuant to the terms of this section before the passage of this amendment shall be continued in their respective positions and shall be bar pilots pursuant to the terms of this section as amended. The pilots for the ports of Mare Island, Vallejo and Benicia licensed pursuant to the terms of this section, prior to the passage of this amendment, shall be continued as bay pilots pursuant to section 2457a of this code.

SEC. 5. Section 2457a is hereby added to the Political Code to read as follows: New section 2457a. Said Board of Commissioners must also examine and license, in the manner prescribed, not more than five bay pilots. The bay pilots so appointed shall be authorized to pilot ships between and within the ports of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun. Nothing herein shall be construed as making such interior pilotage, or the employing of such pilots, compulsory, or as prohibiting such interior pilotage by persons not licensed by such board. For the purposes of this article, the easterly boundary of Suisun Bay shall be longitude meridian 121° 47′ 30″ west of Greenwich. Pilots to act within San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun bays.

SEC. 6. Section 2458 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: C. A. 1877-8, p 46

2458. Bar pilots must at all times keep, for their exclusive use, boats of such description and good condition as directed by the board. Pilots to keep boats

SEC. 7. Section 2459 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Pol. C. 1872.

2459. Every bar pilot in charge of a vessel arriving in the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo or Suisun, or ports thereof, must safely moor the vessel in such place and in such position consistent with safe navigation and not contrary to law as the master of the vessel may direct, whether such place or position shall be at the port of San Francisco, port of Oakland, port of Alameda, port of Richmond or elsewhere in said bays or ports thereof. Every bar pilot in charge of a vessel leaving any of said bays or ports must pilot the same from any such bays or ports, or points or places within the same, beyond the San Francisco Bar. He must prevent all persons (except officers of the State or Federal governments, owners or consignees of the vessel or cargo, and persons admitted on the express order of the master) from boarding such vessel until she has been safely moored. To enforce the provisions of this section and other police regulations for the harbor, every pilot in charge of a vessel entering the bay of San Francisco from the high seas is authorized and empowered to arrest everyone who, in opposition to the master's orders, persists in boarding such vessel, or who having boarded her refuses to leave on the command of such master or pilot; when so arrested he must be immediately brought before the police judge's court, or admitted to bail, as provided in the Penal Code. Duties of pilots· Moor vessel. Prevent premature boarding. Arrest offenders.

SEC. 8. Section 2460 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927, p 1109.

2460. Every pilot licensed pursuant to the terms of this article must take an oath of office in the manner prescribed by law and must, once in each month, upon blanks to be furnished to them by the Board of Pilot Commissioners, render Monthly accounts of pilotage.

a verified account to the board of all moneys received by him, or by any other person for him, or on his account, and pay five per cent of all bar pilotage fees to the board, in full compensation for its official services, for the services of its secretary and treasurer, and all incidental expenses. Such account shall give the name of each vessel piloted, and the master thereof, and of each vessel for which pilotage has been charged, or collected, and the amount charged to or collected from each, and any rebates made and allowed and the amounts thereof, where the same is registered, the depth of its draft, its tonnage, whether inward or outward bound, and whether the amount so received, collected, or charged is for full pilotage or half pilotage, and the secretary shall record such account in full detail in a book prepared for that purpose, which book shall at all times be open to public inspection.

Pilot commissioners' special fund.

Any and all moneys received by the board under the provisions of this section and any and all other moneys received by the board under or pursuant to the provisions of any other act or law, shall be accounted for at the close of each month to the State Controller in such form as the Controller may prescribe and at the same time, on the order of the Controller, shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of the Board of Pilot Commissioners' special fund, which fund is hereby created.

Appropriation

The moneys deposited in the State treasury to the credit of the Pilot Commissioners' special fund are hereby appropriated without regard to fiscal years for the payment of the compensation and expenses of the board and of the officers and employees thereof.

Pol. C. 1872.

SEC. 9. Section 2465 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certain pilotage to be agreed on.

2465. Pilotage between and within ports of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun, must be at such rates as agreed on between the parties.

Stats 1915, p. 296.

SEC. 10. Section 2466a of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Pilotage rates in certain cases.

2466a. In the event a vessel not carrying cargo to any port of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun, nor seeking any thereat, shall enter any such bay or port: (1) for the purpose of anchoring, reporting or receiving orders, or taking on water, fuel for bunkers, stores or other supplies for use only on such vessel and not intended for transfer to and use on or transferred and used on any other vessel, provided such vessel does not discharge or take on any cargo or passengers; or (2) solely by reason of being in distress or requiring care; said vessel, if subject to the payment of bar pilotage charges, shall pay one-half the full pilotage rates provided in section 2466 of this code.

C. A. 1877-8, p. 46

SEC. 11. Section 2467 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Exemption from Pilotage of Certain Vessels. Any vessel in tow of a tug or being assisted by a tug within the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo or Suisun, or between or within the ports thereof, shall be exempt from all charge for bay pilotage unless a pilot be actually employed. Exemption of certain vessels from pilotage

SEC. 12. Section 2468 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1905, p. 815.

2468. All vessels sailing under an enrollment, and licensed and engaged in the coasting trade between any port of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun and any other port of the United States shall be exempt from all pilotage unless a pilot be actually employed. All foreign vessels and all vessels from a foreign port or bound thereto, and all vessels sailing under a register between any port of the bays of San Francisco, San Pablo and Suisun and any other port of the United States, except ports of said bays or the rivers tributary thereto, shall be liable for pilotage as provided in section 2466 of this code. CHAPTER 448.

An act providing an in rem court proceeding for the purpose of determining the inability of an irrigation district to meet its bonded or other indebtedness, and to approve a plan for the compromise payment or satisfaction, funding or refunding thereof and of requiring the holders of outstanding bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness to accept such compromise payment or satisfaction, funding or refunding bonds in lieu thereof; making the decree therein binding upon all persons whether appearing in said proceeding or not; providing a method of procedure and declaring this act to be an urgency measure.

[Approved by the Governor May 18, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. If any irrigation district of the State of California shall be in default in payment of any money due by reason of its bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness, and if a plan of compromise payment or satisfaction or funding or refunding any bonds, warrants or other evidences Petition re funding or refunding of irrigation district obligations.

of indebtedness of such district shall have been approved or agreed upon by the California Districts Securities Commission and the holders of two-thirds (2/3) in amount of such bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness, thus to be so paid, satisfied, funded or refunded, and if the board of directors of such district shall have likewise approved or agreed to said plan and if such payment or satisfaction or the issuance of funding or refunding bonds under such plan has been authorized by the voters of such district in the manner provided by law, then any one or more of the holders of the bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness thus to be paid, satisfied or refunded may file a petition in the superior court in the county in which the principal office of said district is located, setting forth: (1) the fact that said default has taken place; (2) that the district is unable to pay its indebtedness or some part thereof in the manner required by law; (3) that unless a plan of compromise payment or satisfaction, reorganization, funding or refunding of its outstanding indebtedness or a portion thereof is accomplished, a substantial loss will be sustained by the holders of the bonds, warrants or other evidences of such indebtedness; (4) that it is necessary in order to prevent a substantial loss to such holders that a plan of compromise payment or satisfaction, reorganization, funding or refunding of the indebtedness of the district or a portion thereof be effected; and (5) that a plan of compromise payment or satisfaction or funding or refunding of said indebtedness has been approved or agreed to by the California Districts Securities Commission and the holders of two-thirds (2/3) in amount of the bonds, warrants or other evidences of said indebtedness thus to be paid, satisfied, or funded or refunded and has been agreed to by said district, and that such payment, satisfaction or refunding bonds have been authorized by the voters of said district pursuant to said plan in the manner required by law, and that said plan is fair and equitable and no other plan, procedure or action on behalf of such bondholders would be as advantageous to them or would enable them to receive as much money or other things of value as would be received by them under said plan.

Notice

SEC. 2. Upon the filing of said petition the court shall first set a date for the hearing thereof, which date shall not be less than ninety (90) days from the filing of said petition and the court shall direct the manner of giving notice of the filing of said petition and of the date set for hearing of the same. In making such order the court shall direct that written notice thereof shall be mailed to all known bondholders and creditors of said district to such addresses as they may file with the secretary of the district, otherwise to their last known place of residence, and shall provide for the posting of said notice in three public places in the county and for the publication of such notice not less than once a week for four weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed in the county, if there be one, and in similar newspapers in the cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland and Sacramento. Such order shall provide for such further notice as the court may deem proper under the circumstances of the particular proceeding.

Hearing. SEC. 3. Any bondholder or creditor of said district may appear and file an answer therein and the court may permit intervention by any party whose interest may be affected by such proceeding. Upon the date set for the hearing thereof or upon any date to which such hearing may be continued the court shall hear, try and determine the issues of fact involved therein, and shall take evidence for or against the ability of said district to meet its obligations or to continue to function as such, and the necessity and the fairness of said plan of compromise payment or satisfaction or funding or refunding of the bonded or other indebtedness of the district. If the court shall find that the essential allegations of said petition are true the court shall thereupon make and file its findings of fact and conclusions of law. If the essential allegations of the petition are not sustained, the proceeding shall be dismissed. If they are sustained the court shall enter its decree requiring all holders of the bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness being so paid, satisfied or refunded to deposit their bonds pursuant to said plan, and the district shall thereupon and pursuant to said plan pay the money agreed in compromise payment or satisfaction thereof or issue its funding or refunding bonds in exchange therefor. The decree shall further provide that if any holder of bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness shall not deposit his bond, warrant or other evidence of indebtedness as aforesaid, the district treasurer shall deposit the money agreed in compromise payment or satisfaction thereof or the refunding bond or bonds to be issued in exchange for the outstanding bond, warrant or other evidence of indebtedness of such nondepositing holder with the California Districts Securities Commission and upon such deposit and the issuance of the receipt of said California Districts Securities Commission therefor the obligation of such outstanding bond, warrant or other evidence of indebtedness shall terminate and the rights of the holder thereof shall be limited to his right to obtain such deposited money or refunding bond or bonds upon surrender by holder of his bond, bonds or warrants, as the case may be, and upon executing to the California Districts Securities Commission a receipt therefor. The California Districts Securities Commission is hereby authorized to, and it shall, act as the depositary of such evidences of indebtedness and shall perform all duties incident thereto as indicated by this act.

Proceeding is in rem SEC. 4. The proceeding hereinabove provided for shall be conclusively deemed to be in rem and the decree therein binding upon all persons whether appearing therein or not.

Appeal. SEC. 5. Any holder of any bonds, warrants or other evidences of indebtedness affected by any such court procedure provided for by this act or any other interested party shall have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court at any time within the time allowed by law. The Supreme Court, in inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of any of said proceedings must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties and may approve the proceedings in part and disapprove the remainder thereof. The costs of the special proceedings may be allowed and apportioned between the parties in the discretion of the court. Any judge of the superior court of the county in which any such proceeding is brought shall be disqualified to act as judge of said court in passing upon any such proceeding.

Disqualification of judge.

Urgency

SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: Many irrigation districts organized under the laws of the State of California, are now in a bankrupt condition and unable to meet their obligations in full and are in the process of devising ways and means for the compromise payment or satisfaction thereof or funding or refunding their bonded indebtedness, and it is impossible to locate all of the owners of their securities to secure their assent thereto; that if this legislation is not made immediately effective and on the contrary shall become effective ninety (90) days after the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature, it will be too late to make such plans applicable to the tax rate levied by such districts for the calendar year 1934; that the inability to levy a rate in accordance with such plan for the calendar and fiscal year 1934 will in most instances result in serious and substantial prejudice of, and financial loss to, the bondholders, creditors and districts.

SEC. 4. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Revocation of permits

Sec. 6. Permits issued in accordance with this act may be revoked by the issuing authority at any time when it shall appear that the need for such firearms has ceased or that the holder of the permit has used such firearms for purposes other than those allowed by the permit or that the holder of the permit has not exercised great care in retaining custody of any weapons possessed under the permit.

Stats 1931, p 2203

SEC. 5. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Licenses to sell

Sec. 7. The Superintendent of the Division of Criminal Identification and Investigation of the Department of Penology may also grant licenses in a form to be prescribed by him effective for not more than one year from the date of issuance, to permit the sale at the place specified in the license of such firearm subject to all of the following conditions, upon breach of any of which the license shall be revoked:

Conditions

1. Such business shall be carried on only in the place designated in the license.

2. Such license or a certified copy thereof must be displayed on the premises in a place where it may easily be read.

3. No such firearm shall be delivered to any person not authorized to receive the same under the provisions of this act.

4. A complete record must be kept of sales made under the authority of the license, showing the name and address of the purchaser, the descriptions and serial numbers of the weapons purchased, the number and date of issue of the purchaser's permit, if any, and the signature of the purchaser or purchasing agent. This record shall be open to the inspection of any peace officer or other person designated by the Superintendent of the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation.

An act to amend section 110a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to salaries of justices of the peace in townships of thirty thousand population or more in counties of the first class, and the determination of such population.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 2338

SECTION 1. Section 110a of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Salaries, justices of the peace. Los Angeles County

110a. In counties of the first class, each justice of the peace in townships containing a population of thirty thousand or more shall receive a salary of four thousand eight hundred dollars per annum, payable by warrants drawn each month upon the salary fund, or if there be no salary fund, then out of the general fund of the county. For the purposes of this section, the population of the townships in counties of this class shall be determined by multiplying the number of registered voters at the last general election by three and one-half, or by taking the population of such township as fixed by the last United States census, and the method of determination selected must be the method which will give the larger population to a given township. Said determination of population shall be made by the board of supervisors of the county and until such determination is first made hereunder the population of such township shall be deemed to be above or below thirty thousand as may have been found by the Supreme Court of this State to be the fact in any proceeding in mandamus, prior to January 1, 1931, to compel the justices of such townships to exercise original jurisdiction in certain causes, otherwise as shown by the census taken under the direction of the Congress of the United States in the year 1930.

An act to amend section 9 of "An act to provide for the formation, management, alteration of boundaries, and dissolution of sewer maintenance districts in unincorporated territory of counties, defining the powers of such districts and providing for the levy and collection of taxes to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 19, 1927, Statutes of 1927, page 1088.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1564.

SECTION 1. Section 9 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the formation, management, alteration of boundaries, and dissolution of sewer maintenance districts in unincorporated territory of counties, defining the powers of such districts and providing for the levy and collection of taxes to defray the expenses thereof," approved May 19, 1927, Statutes of 1927, page 1088, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annexation of territory.

Sec. 9. The boundaries of any such sewer maintenance district may be altered and outlying territory be annexed thereto in the following manner:

Hearing, etc.

The board of supervisors may by resolution fix a time and place for a hearing upon the question of the annexation of such territory to an existing sewer maintenance district, said resolution describing the boundaries of such territory proposed to be annexed.

The date set for the hearing on such proposed annexation shall be at least three weeks from and after the date of the adoption of the resolution setting the hearing. The board of supervisors shall cause notices of such hearing to be posted in at least three conspicuous places within the territory proposed to be annexed and in at least three conspicuous places within the sewer maintenance district to which such territory is proposed to be annexed. Provided, however, that if the territory proposed to be annexed shall be in more than one existing sewer maintenance district, then, and in that event, the notices herein mentioned shall be posted in at least three conspicuous places within each sewer maintenance district wherein is situated any of the territory proposed to be annexed. Such notices shall be headed "notice of hearing" in letters not less than one inch in length and shall contain a description of the territory sought to be annexed to such sewer maintenance district and a statement of the time and place of the hearing. In lieu of such description the boundaries of said annexing territory may be shown by means of a diagram printed upon the notice. Such notices shall be posted not less than ten days prior to the date set for said hearing. In addition to such notices the board of supervisors shall direct the clerk of said board to publish a notice once a week for two successive weeks in the newspaper of general circulation circulated within the maintenance district and within the territory proposed to be annexed which said board deems most likely to give notice to the inhabitants thereof, of said hearing.

At the time fixed for said hearing or to which it may be continued said board of supervisors shall hear and pass upon said proposal and any objections which may be filed to the inclusion of any property within the proposed annexation.

Determination of benefits.

Said board of supervisors shall have the power, by order entered upon its minutes, to determine that such territory or any part thereof will be benefited by annexation to said district and may order that the boundaries of said district be altered to include such benefited territory.

Annexation of portion of another district.

If the territory annexed to such sewer maintenance district shall comprise a portion of a sewer maintenance district theretofore formed under the provisions of this act, upon such annexation becoming complete by the adoption of the order of the board of supervisors as in this section provided, such territory shall thereupon be withdrawn from the sewer maintenance district of which it theretofore formed a part; provided, however, that no withdrawal of territory under the provisions of this section shall become effective unless and until any outstanding contract of the sewer maintenance district from which a portion is sought to be withdrawn has expired or such contract, with the consent of the parties thereto, has been modified or canceled so as to relieve such sewer maintenance district of further obligation to pay for future maintenance within the territory so withdrawn, and the funds remaining on hand upon the completion of such annexation shall have been apportioned between the sewer maintenance district to which the territory was annexed and the sewer maintenance district from which it was withdrawn. The division of such funds shall be prorated in the proportion that the assessed value of the real property of the territory so withdrawn bore to the total assessed value of the real property within the sewer maintenance district immediately prior to such withdrawal.

Annexation of all of another district

If the territory annexed to such sewer maintenance district shall comprise all of one or more maintenance districts formed under this act, upon such annexation becoming complete by the adoption of the order of the board of supervisors as in this section provided, the theretofore existing maintenance district or districts so annexed shall thereupon be dissolved; provided, however, that any funds of said sewer maintenance district or districts remaining on hand at the time of the annexation shall be transferred to the sewer maintenance district to which such territory shall have been annexed and any contracts or obligations of said previously existing sewer maintenance district or districts shall become the obligations of the sewer maintenance district to which such territory has been annexed.

An act to add a new section to be numbered 5.408 to the School Code, relating to the exchange of teachers with foreign countries.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the School Code, to be numbered 5.408, and to read as follows:

Exchange teachers.

5.408. The governing board of any school district may, subject to such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by the State Board of Education, and notwithstanding anything to the contrary in an act entitled "An act to secure to native-born and naturalized citizens of the United States the exclusive right to be employed in any department of the State, county, city and county and city government in this State, except in certain schools, to validate certain acts, and to repeal all acts in conflict therewith," approved May 19, 1915, enter into an agreement, through the State Department of Education, with the proper authorities of any foreign country for the exchange and employment of teachers employed by said school district and teachers employed in the public schools of such foreign country of a grade corresponding to that in which the teachers of said district are employed. Any teacher employed as herein provided shall be known as an "exchange teacher."

No exchange teacher may be employed by a school district in this State unless such teacher holds a valid credential issued by the State Board of Education authorizing such exchange teacher to teach in the school district proposing to employ such exchange teacher for a period not to exceed one year. The State Board of Education is hereby authorized to establish minimum standards for such credential. Credentials.

An act to add a new article to Chapter 3, Part 3, Division IV, to be numbered Article 6, embracing sections 1350, 1351, 1352 and 1353 of the Fish and Game Code, and to amend section 1410 thereof, relating to amphibia, and to renumber present Articles 6 and 7 of Chapter 3, Part 3, Division IV.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch 73

CHAPTER 460.

An act to amend sections 16f, 21, 37, 54, 55, 61, 96, 104 and 105 and to add sections 25a and 59 to the "Bank Act," defining and regulating the business of banking. Stats 1909, p 87, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 16f of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 341

Sec. 16f. Notice to any bank or trust company organized under the laws of, or doing business in, this State, of an adverse claim to a deposit standing on its books to the credit of any person, firm or corporation, shall not be effectual to cause Adverse claims to deposit said bank or trust company to withhold such deposit unless said adverse claimant shall also either procure a restraining order, injunction or other appropriate order against said bank or trust company from a court of competent jurisdiction in a cause therein instituted by said adverse claimant wherein the person, firm or corporation to whose credit such deposit stands is made a party and served with summons, or shall execute to said bank, or trust company in form, and in amount, and with sureties, acceptable to it, a bond, indemnifying said bank or trust company from any and all liability, loss, damage, costs and expenses, for and on account of the payment of such adverse claim or the dishonor of the check or other order of the person, firm or corporation to whose credit the deposit stands on the books of said bank or trust company; provided, that this section shall not apply in any instance where the person, firm or corporation to whose credit the deposit stands, is a fiduciary for such adverse claimant, and the facts constituting such relationship, as also the facts showing reasonable cause of belief on the part of the said claimant that the said fiduciary is about to misappropriate said deposit, are made to appear by the affidavit of such claimant served upon the bank or trust company and in such case the bank or trust company may refuse payment to anyone, without any liability whatsoever on its part.

Exception.

Stats. 1913, p. 136.

SEC. 2. Section 21 of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Dividends

Sec. 21. The directors of any bank having a capital stock may, at certain times, and in such manner as its by-laws prescribe, declare and pay dividends to depositors and stockholders of so much of the profits of the bank, and of the interest arising from the capital, surplus and deposits, as may be appropriated for that purpose under its by-laws or under its agreements with depositors, but every such bank shall, before the declaration of any such dividend, carry at least one-tenth part of the net profits of the stockholders for the preceding half year, or for such period as is covered by the dividend, to its surplus, until such surplus shall amount to twenty-five per centum of its paid-up capital stock. The whole or any part of such surplus, if held as the exclusive property of the stockholders, may at any time be converted into paid-in capital, in which event such surplus shall be restored in the manner above provided until it amounts to twenty-five per centum of the aggregate paid-up capital stock. Subject to the provisions of section 19 of this act, any losses sustained by any such bank in excess of its undivided profits may be charged to and paid from its surplus, in which event such surplus shall be restored in the manner above provided, to the amount required by law; provided, however, that any bank which has invested any portion of its surplus in its bank premises, furniture and fixtures, vaults, or safe deposit vaults and boxes necessary or proper to carry on its banking business shall not be permitted to charge any loss to that portion of its surplus so invested.

Surplus

Charging loss to surplus.

A larger surplus may be created and nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibitory thereof. The capital and assets of any such bank are a security to depositors and stockholders, depositors having the priority of security over stockholders; provided, however, that any stockholder who is also a depositor and who has paid all assessments, debts or other obligations due from him to the bank, shall enjoy the same priority as other depositors. Priority of depositors.

SEC. 3. A new section to be numbered section 25a is hereby added to said act, to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 25a. Any bank holding or owning the whole or any part of the capital stock of a trust company in this State may receive deposits of such trust company and set aside, as required by section 105 of this act, bonds or securities of any kind in which savings banks are permitted by law to invest. Deposits of trust company.

SEC. 4. Section 37 of the Bank Act is hereby amended as follows: Stats 1923, p 54.

Sec. 37. No bank shall, except as otherwise provided in this act, purchase or invest its capital or surplus or money of its depositors, or any part of either, in the capital stock of any corporation unless the purchase or acquisition of such capital stock shall be necessary to prevent loss to the bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith. Any capital stock so purchased or acquired shall be sold by such bank within six months thereafter if it can be sold for the amount of the claim of such bank against it; and all capital stock thus purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by said bank within three years after such purchase or acquisition, unless the Superintendent of Banks shall extend the time of its sale for a period not to exceed two years. Investment in capital stock of corporation.

Any bank, with the previous written consent of the Superintendent of Banks, may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold the whole or any part of the capital stock of not more than one trust company organized and existing under the laws of this State, and doing business in the same county in which the principal place of business of such bank is located; provided, however, that not more than an amount equal to twenty-five per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of such trust company or such other corporation; and provided, further, that no such trust company shall engage in or combine the business of a commercial bank or a savings bank or a title insurance company. Stock of trust company.

Any bank, with the previous written consent of the Superintendent of Banks, may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold the whole or any part of the capital stock of not more than one corporation authorized and empowered to conduct a safe deposit business, which such corporation is organized and existing under the laws of this State and doing business in the same city in which the principal place of business of such bank is located; provided, however, that not more than Stock of safe deposit corporation.

an amount equal to ten per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of such safe deposit corporation.

Stock of Federal home loan bank.

Any bank, may, with the previous written consent of the Superintendent of Banks, become a member of a Federal home loan bank, in the manner provided in the Federal Home Loan Bank Act, and may, for the purpose of becoming a member, invest any part of its capital or surplus or reserve fund, in the capital stock of such Federal home loan bank, in accordance with the terms and provisions of the Federal Home Loan Bank Act.

Stock of joint stock land bank.

Any bank may purchase or otherwise acquire, own and hold any part of the capital stock of joint stock land banks organized and operating under "the Federal Farm Loan Act"; provided, however, that not more than an amount equal to ten per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may at any one time be invested in the capital stock of such joint stock land banks; and provided, further, that not more than an amount equal to five per centum of the capital and surplus of any such bank may be at any one time invested in the capital stock of any one such joint stock land banks.

SEC. 5. Section 54 of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Real estate to be sold within five years.

Sec. 54. Unless the time be extended by the Superintendent of Banks in writing all real estate purchased by any bank at sales under pledges, mortgages or deeds of trust for its benefit for money loaned and such as may be conveyed to it by borrowers in satisfaction and discharge of loans made thereon and all other real estate owned or held by it, which is not necessary for carrying on its business, must be sold or exchanged for other real estate by such bank within five years after title thereto shall have vested in it by purchase or otherwise; provided, however, that no exchange of such real estate for other real estate shall be made unless and until written consent thereto shall first be given by the Superintendent of Banks; and provided, further, that any real estate so taken in exchange may be held for such period of time as the Superintendent of Banks may fix but not to exceed five years. Parcels of such real estate not sold or exchanged within said time may be purchased by any person wanting the same upon the conditions and proceedings following: The intending purchaser may file a petition in the superior court in and for the county wherein said real estate or any portion thereof is situated; upon the filing of such petition a citation shall be issued out of said court directed to the bank owning such real estate requiring such bank to show cause on a day certain which shall be not earlier than ten days after the service of such citation, why commissioners should not be appointed by said court for the purpose of appraising the value of the real estate described in the petition and of selling the same at public auction under the provisions of this section. If there shall be any liens or encumbrances of record against such real estate the person or persons holding such liens or encumbrances shall likewise be cited and the court shall in its final decree distribute the proceeds of such sale, if a sale thereof shall be made, according to the equities of the parties. If it shall appear at the hearing of such petition that the real estate therein sought to be purchased is held by such bank in violation of the provisions of this section or of the Constitution of this State, the court shall appoint three commissioners to appraise the value thereof and sell the same at public auction at the county seat of the county wherein said real estate or any part thereof is located. Notice of which said sale shall be given to the bank owning said real estate and to any other persons interested therein as shown by the records of such county at least ten days before the date of such sale and shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where such real estate or any part thereof may be located, or if no newspaper shall be published in such county then in a newspaper published in some neighboring county. Such notice shall state the time and place of such sale and shall describe the real estate to be sold with common certainty and state the value thereof as fixed by the appraisement of such commissioners and state that no bid less than such appraised value will be received therefor. No sale shall be made for an amount less than the appraised value of such real estate fixed by said commissioners, and in the event that no bid is received at such sale at least equal to said appraised value of said real estate no intending purchaser can institute the proceedings provided for in this section within one year thereafter. In case of any sale made under the provisions of this section and of the refusal of any bank owning such real estate or of any lienholder or encumbrancer to execute the conveyances or releases necessary or proper to vest the title of such bank, lienholder or encumbrancer in the purchaser thereof the court shall have power in such proceedings to direct said commissioners to execute such deeds, conveyances or releases upon the payment to them of the purchase price therefor. The fees of such commissioners and cost of sale shall be fixed by the court, upon making such appointment, but the entire expense thereof shall not exceed one hundred dollars. The cost of any such proceedings shall be borne by the intending purchaser if no sale shall be made, but if a sale shall be made the costs of such proceedings shall be borne by the purchaser of the property and the person who filed the petition and advanced the costs of such proceedings shall be reimbursed in case he shall not become such purchaser. All sales hereunder shall be returned to the court having jurisdiction of the matter in the same manner as in the case of sales, by commissioners, of real estate on foreclosure of mortgages. Nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to affect the power of the Superintendent of Banks to require the writing down of the value of the real estate held by any bank, at any time, when such writing down shall be proper.

(g) Bonds, debentures and notes issued by any Federal home loan bank.

6. Bonds and other securities of the following classes; provided, that such bonds or securities shall first have been certified by the Superintendent of Banks after an investigation as provided for under section 61a of this act:

Foreign government bonds.

(a) Bonds or interest-bearing notes or obligations of any foreign country or government, or those for which the faith and credit of any foreign country are pledged for the payment of principal and interest;

Bonds of irrigation districts.

(b) Bonds of any district organized under the laws of any State in the United States other than the State of California for the purpose of irrigating lands within such district, which are required to be and are investigated and approved by a commission now or hereafter authorized by a law of said State to conduct such investigation and give such approval; provided, that the entire indebtedness of such district, including the bonds under consideration, and all prior liens, within the meaning of section 57a of this act, do not exceed fifty per centum of the aggregate market value of the lands within said district, and of the irrigation system owned or to be acquired by said district with the proceeds of said bonds;

California district bonds.

(c) Bonds of any reclamation, drainage, street improvement, county waterworks, or any other district organized under the laws of the State of California not otherwise provided for in this section;

Railroad bonds.

Stats 1915, p 115

(d) (1) Bonds of any railroad corporation, as the same is defined in the "Public Utilities Act," incorporated under the laws of any State in the United States and operating exclusively in the United States; provided that said corporation shall have had net earnings for either its fiscal year or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding application for certification of said bonds under the provisions of section 61a of this act, amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all bonded indebtedness outstanding at the time of said certification, and on all additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

(2) Bonds of any railroad corporation, the payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a railroad corporation whose bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in this State.

Other public utility bonds

(e) (1) Bonds of any other public utility corporation, as the same is defined in the "Public Utilities Act," incorporated under the laws of any State in the United States and operating exclusively in the United States; provided, that said corporation shall have had net earnings for either its fiscal year or twelve consecutive months in the fourteen months next preceding application for certification of said bonds under the provisions of section 61a of this act, amounting to at least one and one-half times the interest on all bonded indebtedness outstanding at the time of said certification, and on all additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

(2) Bonds of any similar public utility corporation, the payment of which is guaranteed, both as to principal and interest, by a public utility corporation other than a railroad corporation, whose bonds are a legal investment for savings banks in this State.

Determination of income

In determining the income of any railroad or other public utility corporation mentioned herein, there shall be included the income of any corporation or corporations out of which it shall have been formed through consolidation or merger, and of any corporation the entire business and income-producing property of which the corporation issuing such bonds has wholly acquired.

Security for utility bonds

All bonds issued by a railroad or other public utility corporation must be secured by a mortgage or deed of trust which at the time of said certification is: either

I. A closed first mortgage or deed of trust; or,

II. A first mortgage or deed of trust containing provisions restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements heretofore specified in either paragraph (d) or (e) of subdivision 6 of this section applicable to such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

III. A refunding mortgage or deed of trust providing for the retirement of all prior lien mortgage debts of said corporation and restricting the issuance of further bonds until such time as the income of said corporation shall have been at least sufficient, during the twelve months next preceding the issuance of any additional bonds, to meet the earning requirements of such corporation after including the additional bonds then proposed to be issued; or,

IV. An underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust of property which forms a part of the operating system of the corporation then owning said property. In the case of bonds secured by an underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, the net income required by this section shall be based exclusively upon the income, maintenance charges, operating expenses, taxes and mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust, or, if such income, maintenance charges or operating expenses can not be definitely ascertained on the proper proportionate share of such property in the general income, maintenance charges, operating expenses and taxes of the corporation then owning such property and on the mortgage indebtedness of or against the property covered by such underlying or divisional closed mortgage or deed of trust.

Bonds secured by first lien on real estate.

(f) Notes or bonds secured by first mortgage or deed of trust or other first lien upon real estate, improved or unimproved; provided, that the entire note or bond issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the market value of such real estate, or such real estate with improvements, taken as security; and provided further, in case the said note or bond issue is created for a building loan on real estate, that at no time shall the entire outstanding note or bond issue exceed sixty per centum of the market value of the real estate and the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security; and provided, also, in case said real estate is located outside of this State, that the provisions of this paragraph shall be subject to the limitations and modifications contained in section 57a of this act; and provided, also, that no such notes or bonds shall be disqualified as investments for savings banks for the reason that the payment thereof is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance.

Determination of market value

In determining the market value of any real estate under the provisions of the preceding paragraph where such real estate, improved or unimproved, consists of oil or other mineral or timber land, the value represented by such oil or other mineral or timber shall not be included in fixing such market value. Nothing herein contained shall prevent savings banks from making loans secured by mortgage or deed of trust upon lands wherein redwood timber is included in fixing the market value thereof.

Purchase of entire issue.

Any bank, however, may, without such certification by the Superintendent of Banks, purchase any note or bond or issue of notes or bonds provided for in said paragraph (f) of subdivision 6 of this section, whenever such purchase constitutes the entire amount of notes or bonds executed by the makers thereof and secured by the same real estate; provided, that no savings bank shall hold any such notes or bonds unless such holding constitutes the entire issue thereof at any time outstanding; and provided, also, that nothing in this paragraph shall be construed to permit savings banks to invest in notes or certificates evidencing participation in any mortgage on real estate unless by law specifically authorized, or in or on any form of obligation secured by any undivided interest in real estate designed to distribute the obligation so secured.

Collateral trust bonds or notes

(g) Collateral trust bonds or notes:

(1) When secured by deposit of notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section of a market value at least fifteen per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; or,

(2) When secured by deposit of notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section and other securities of a combined market value at least twenty per centum in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued; provided, that the par value of said collateral trust bonds or notes shall in no case exceed the market value of that portion of the security represented by notes or bonds authorized for investment by this section;

(3) When issued by a corporation organized and doing business under the laws of the State of California and having a paid-up and unimpaired capital of not less than one million dollars, and when secured by deposit, as hereinafter provided, of money, or of notes accompanied by mortgage or deed of trust constituting a first lien on real estate, improved or unimproved, in the State of California having a market value of not less than one and two-thirds times the amount of each note deposited, and when such security so deposited shall have an aggregate market value of not less than par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued and outstanding, and when such collateral trust bonds or notes have a maturity of not more than twenty (20) years from their date of issue; provided, that such security shall be deposited as a court trust with a trust company, authorized to transact business in this State, and under such conditions and regulations as may, from time to time, be prescribed by the Superintendent of Banks; provided, however, that in prescribing such conditions and regulations the Superintendent of Banks shall permit the exchange, withdrawal and redeposit of any security in this paragraph authorized, so long as the aggregate market value of the security remaining on deposit shall be not less than the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued and outstanding, all securities deposited as herein provided being subject to approval by the Superintendent of Banks. No such bonds or notes shall be eligible for investment by savings banks, if issued by a corporation having outstanding bonds or notes in an amount greater than fifteen times its paid-up capital and surplus.

Railroad equipment trust certificates

(h) Railroad equipment trust certificates or obligations issued or guaranteed by a corporation to which a loan or loans for the construction, acquisition, purchase or lease of railroad equipment has or have been made with the approval of the Interstate Commerce Commission; provided, that the entire issue shall not exceed sixty per centum of the cost of such equipment and shall mature serially not later than fifteen years from date of issue; provided further, that said certificates or obligations must be secured by or be evidence of a prior lien upon or reservation of title to such equipment, or by an assignment of or prior interest in the rent or purchase notes given for the hiring or purchasing of said equipment.

Acceptances.

(i) Acceptances issued by a discount, acceptance or investment corporation, formed under the Federal Statute commonly known as the "Edge Act" or under the "Investment Companies Act" of New York, or by a corporation of identical character and capacity, organized under the laws of any State of the United States.

The legality of investments heretofore lawfully made pursuant to the provisions of this section, or of any law of this State as it existed on and subsequent to July 1, 1909, shall not be affected by any amendments to this section or this act; nor shall any such amendments require the changing of investments once lawfully made under this act.

Book value of bonds

Any bonds authorized by this section as a legal investment for savings banks may be carried on the books of said bank at their investment value, based on their market value at the time they were originally bought, unless the Superintendent of Banks shall require any or all of the bonds which may thereafter have a market value less than the original investment value to be written down to such new market value which shall be done gradually if practicable and in such manner as he may determine or he may, by a plan of amortization to be determined by him, require such gradual extinction of premium as would bring such bonds to par at maturity.

Bonds of railroad operating exclusively in California

When it shall be necessary to prevent loss to any savings bank on an obligation owned or on a debt previously contracted in good faith, it may, with the previous written consent of the Superintendent of Banks, purchase or acquire bonds of any railroad corporation incorporated under the laws of the State of California and operated exclusively therein notwithstanding such bonds do not conform to the requirements in this section contained; provided, any bond so purchased or acquired must be sold for the best price obtainable by any bank within five years after such purchase or acquisition.

Conditions of loans on utility bonds.

No savings bank shall hereafter purchase or loan money upon any bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness, issued by any "public utility," subject to the jurisdiction, regulation or control of the Railroad Commission of this State, under the provisions of the "Public Utilities Act," approved December 23, 1911, and acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto, unless each such bond, note or other evidence of indebtedness was either:

Stats. Ex Sess 1911, p 18

(1) Issued prior to the taking effect of the "Public Utilities Act"; or,

(2) Issued under authority of the Railroad Commission in accordance with the provision of said act; or,

(3) A note issued for a period not exceeding twelve months, in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (b) of section 52 of said act.

SEC. 9. Section 96 of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1925, p 510

Sec. 96. Any such trust company, if its principal place of business is situated in a city the population of which does not exceed one hundred thousand persons, before accepting any such appointment or deposit, shall deposit with the State Treasurer, as herein provided, at least fifty thousand dollars, as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it; and shall also deposit with the State Treasurer at least fifty thousand dollars as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it; and whenever any such trust company shall under the provisions of section 98 of this act be required to make the first additional deposit of securities with the State Treasurer such trust company must also deposit with the State Treasurer an additional fifty thousand dollars as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it; and any trust company if its principal place of business is situated in a city the population of which exceeds one hundred thousand persons, before accepting any such appointment or deposit, shall deposit with the State Treasurer as herein provided, at least one hundred thousand dollars, as security for the faithful performance and execution of all court trusts accepted by it, and shall also deposit with the State Treasurer at least one hundred thousand dollars as security for the faithful performance and execution of all private trusts accepted by it. Any such deposit may be made either in lawful money of the United States, or in securities of either or any of the following classes: Security deposits with State Treasurer. Securities acceptable.

(a) Bonds, or interest-bearing notes, or obligations of the United States, or those for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued under the authority of the United States;

(b) Bonds of the State of California, or those for which the faith and credit of the State of California are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, or those issued by any county, city and county, city or school district of this State, metropolitan water district or bonds of any irrigation district such as are legal for investment by savings banks;

(c) Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust constituting a first lien on improved and productive real estate in the State of California; such improved real estate being worth at least double the amount of such lien;

(d) Notes or bonds secured by mortgage or deed of trust, payment of which is guaranteed by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates, issued by a mortgage insurance company, in accordance with the provisions of chapter eight of title two of part four of division first of the Civil Code; provided, that such notes or bonds shall constitute, and such mortgage participation certificates shall evidence the ownership of, or participation in, notes or bonds which constitute a first lien on improved and productive real estate in the State of California, such improved real estate being worth at least double the amount of such lien.

Approval by Superintendent of Banks.

Such money or securities shall be first approved by the Superintendent of Banks and, upon his written order, deposited with the State Treasurer for the respective purposes herein specified, and said treasurer shall give his receipt therefor, and thereafter, subject to the provisions of this act, shall hold such deposits of money or securities separately, each for the sole benefit of the beneficiaries of the class of trust business, for the security and protection of which the same was deposited, and said treasurer shall give his receipt therefor and the State shall be responsible for the custody and safe return of any money or securities so deposited. Said securities or money so deposited may with the approval of the Superintendent of Banks, be withdrawn or exchanged from time to time for other like securities, or lawful money, receivable as aforesaid, and so long as the trust company so depositing said money or securities shall continue solvent, it shall have the right and shall be permitted by the State Treasurer to receive the interest and dividends on any securities so deposited. Said securities and money shall be subject to sale and transfer, and to the disposal of the proceeds by said State Treasurer, only on the order of a court of competent jurisdiction and for the benefit respectively of the beneficiaries of that class of trust business for the security and protection of which the same were deposited.

SEC. 10. Section 104 of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Participation certificates.

Sec. 104. (a) Any trust company may issue participation certificates approved as to form by the Superintendent of Banks on a trust deed or mortgage and the debt secured thereby which is a legal investment for savings banks, and which is owned by such trust company or by any department of a departmental bank of which such trust company is a department; and said trust company shall issue said certificates to the department owning such trust deed or mortgage and debt, and the department owning and holding any such participation certificates may sell and transfer the same to any department of the bank or to any trust or trusts administered by it and be held therein, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding. Any trust company, the whole or any part of the capital stock of which is owned by a bank, shall, for the purposes of this section, be deemed a department of such bank, and shall have the right to sell to such bank any such participation certificate and to buy from said bank any such certificate for itself or for any trust or trusts administered by it. The amount of participation certificates issued and outstanding at any time shall not exceed the face value of the trust deed or mortgage and debt upon which the same are predicated.

Trust company a department of bank.

Holding security in trust

(b) The full legal title in such trust deed or mortgage and debt (hereinafter referred to as security) shall be held by the trust company issuing such certificates as trustee of an express trust, with all powers necessary to extend, renew, enforce, collect and liquidate the same, acquire title to the property covered thereby either through foreclosure or by voluntary conveyance; manage, lease, sell (either for cash or upon deferred payments), exchange, or otherwise realize upon such security or property and distribute the net proceeds thereof. All sums so realized shall, as and when received by said trustee, after payment of its compensation and all costs, charges and expenses, including brokers' commissions and advances for taxes and assessments, incurred or made in connection with the protection, administration and liquidation of said security or property, be distributed to the trusts or persons who are beneficiaries of said trust, as their interests may appear therein. The rights and interests therein of any such beneficiary failing to contribute on demand its or his pro rata of sums advanced, expended or required by said trust company in the protection, administration or liquidation of such trust shall be subject to a lien for all sums, with legal interest thereon, advanced, expended or required for any of such purposes by such trustee or by any other beneficiary of such trust.

Life of trust

(c) Such trust in said security or property shall continue in such trust company so long as any of said certificates are outstanding, irrespective of any distribution of said certificates from the trust in which the same are held. No such security nor certificate therein shall be rendered ineligible for investment of trust funds by reason of the fact that any participation certificate has been so distributed.

Declaration of purpose

(d) The purpose of this section is to define and clarify the rights and obligations of trust companies and of all persons and trusts interested in participation certificates issued under subsection (a) of this section, whether heretofore or hereafter issued. If any provision herein shall be determined to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this section. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have enacted this section and each subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the other subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

accordance with the laws relative to the investment or loan of funds deposited with savings banks, unless the terms or provisions of the trust of which such funds constitute a part contain a specific agreement or provision to the contrary or unless it is otherwise ordered by the court in connection with any court trust.

Deposits in banks.

Any trust company holding funds awaiting investment or distribution may deposit such funds with any State or national bank which has been designated as a depositary by the Superintendent of Banks, and any trust department of any bank doing a departmental business may deposit such funds so held by it with the savings department or the commercial department of the same corporation or association; provided, however, that no such funds so held awaiting investment shall be deposited by any trust department of a departmental bank with the savings department or the commercial department of the same corporation or association or of any corporation or association holding or owning the whole or any part of the capital stock of the trust company making such deposit unless such corporation or association shall first set aside, as security for such deposit, bonds or securities of the kind in which savings banks are permitted to invest and which bonds or securities so set aside shall have a value not less than the funds so deposited.

Holding trust property

Every trust company may hold, during the life of the trust, all property, real and personal, received by it into the trust from any source, though such property be not legal for the investment of trust funds, in the same manner and upon the same conditions as if such property were legal for the investment of trust funds, unless the terms of the instrument creating or declaring the trust specifically provide to the contrary.

pany legally authorized to do business in this State as surety on said bond. Said bond shall be in favor of and for the protection, use and benefit of all persons whose applications for membership in a company have been accepted by such company or its representative, and conditioned that said company will faithfully furnish and render to said persons any and all of the motor club services in this act specified as may have been sold or offered for sale by such company, and also conditioned for the payment of any fines, fees or penalties imposed upon such company under or pursuant to this act; and any person defrauded or injured by any wrongful act, misrepresentation or failure on the part of a company with respect to the selling or rendering of any of its services may bring suit on such bond in his own name. A deposit of cash or securities, in lieu of such bond, shall be subject to the same conditions applying to the bond. Upon the depositing of such cash, securities or bond with the Insurance Commissioner, it shall be the duty of said commissioner to issue a certificate of authority to said company.

Stats 1929, p. 1728.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Agents to be licensed.

Sec. 3. No agent, as herein defined, doing business in this State shall execute, issue or deliver any service contract as herein defined to any person or persons owning or operating motor vehicles without first having obtained a license from the commissioner; nor shall any agent collect or receive from any person or persons in advance of the execution, issuance or delivery of any such service contract any money or other thing of value upon any promise or agreement to execute, issue or deliver any such service contract, without first having obtained a license from said commissioner. Such license may, upon a hearing duly noticed and had before the Insurance Commissioner, be suspended or revoked by said commissioner for misrepresentation, fraud or any other violation of this act.

Suspension or revocation

New section.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section 3a and to read as follows:

Restrictions on company name.

Sec. 3a. The name under which any company hereafter is proposed to be formed or organized under the laws of this State shall be submitted to the commissioner before the commencement of business under the provisions of this act. The commissioner may reject any name so submitted when the same is an interference with or too similar to one already appropriated, or likely to mislead the public in any respect; and in such case a name not liable to such objections must be chosen. The commissioner shall not grant a certificate of authority to do business to any company until a name is chosen and approved by him under the provisions of this section.

Stats 1929, p. 1728.

SEC. 5. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. If the commissioner shall, at any time for cause shown and after a hearing, determine that a company has violated any provision or provisions of this act, or that it is insolvent, or that its assets are less than its liabilities, or that it or its officers refuse to submit to an examination, or that it is transacting business fraudulently, he shall thereupon revoke or suspend its certificate of authority and shall give notice thereof to the public in such manner as he may deem proper. The commissioner may on receipt of verified complaint reciting facts indicating that a company is insolvent or is transacting its business in a fraudulent manner, demand from the company a statement under oath setting forth its assets and liabilities and may, for the purpose of verifying the correctness of such statement, examine the books of the company, from which such statement purports to have been prepared. In the event such statement be not furnished within twenty days from the time of demand thereof or if upon the examination of such records the statement furnished or records examined contain any wilful misstatement of fact the expense of said examination shall be paid by the company.

Revocation or suspension of certificate of authority.

SEC. 6. Section 14 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p. 1738.

Sec. 14. (a) Any person or any officer, agent or representative of any company convicted of violating the provisions of section 2 of this act shall be punishable by a fine of not less than two hundred fifty dollars or more than one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than thirty days or more than twelve months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

Penalties.

(b) Any person or any officer, agent or representative of any company convicted for violating any other provisions of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 7. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered section 17 and to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 17. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Motor Service Club Act."

CHAPTER 464.

An act to amend section 5.162 of the School Code, relating to teachers' certificates.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5.162 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sch Code, p. 225.

5.162. Junior high school certificates, authorizing the holders thereof to teach in the seventh, eighth, and ninth grades of any elementary or secondary school in the county;

Junior high school certificates.

CHAPTER 465.

An act to amend sections 1240 and 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the taking of property by the State under proceedings in eminent domain.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915, p. 710.

SECTION 1. Section 1240 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Private property which may be taken 1240. The private property which may be taken under this title includes:

1. All real property belonging to any person;

State lands.

2. Lands belonging to this State, including tide and submerged lands, not within the corporate limits of any city, or city and county, or to any county, incorporated city, or city and county, village or town, not appropriated to some public use; provided, that all sixteenth and thirty-sixth sections, both surveyed and unsurveyed, owned by the State or the United States, which may now or may hereafter be included within the exterior boundaries of a national reservation, or of a reserve, or within the exterior boundaries of lands withdrawn from public entry, shall be and hereby are withheld from the operation of this title and shall not be condemned as against the State or the United States;

Property appropriated to public use

3. Property appropriated to public use; but such property shall not be taken unless for a more necessary public use than that to which it has already been appropriated; provided, that where any such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation, the use thereof for a State highway or a public street or highway of the State, or a county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, joint highway district, or the use thereof by the State or a county, city and county, incorporated city or town, joint highway district, or irrigation or municipal water district, for the same public purpose to which it has been so appropriated, or for any other public purpose, shall be deemed more necessary uses than the public use to which such property has already been appropriated; and provided further, that where property already appropriated to a public use or purpose, by any person, firm or private corporation, is sought to be taken by the State, a county, city and county, incorporated city or town, joint highway district, irrigation or municipal water district, for another public use or purpose, which is consistent with the continuance of the use of such property or some portion thereof for such existing purpose, to the same extent as such property is then used, or to a less or modified extent, then the right to use such property for such proposed public purpose, in common with such other use or purpose, either as then existing, or to a less or modified extent, may be taken by the State, such county, city and county, incorporated city or town, joint highway district, or irrigation or municipal water district, and the court may fix the terms and conditions upon which such property may be so taken, and the manner and extent of the use thereof for each of such public purposes, and may order the removal or relocation of any structures, or improvements therein or thereon, so far as may be required by such common use. But property appropriated to the use of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, may not be taken by any other county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, while such property is so appropriated and used for the public purposes for which it has been so appropriated.

Irrigation district property.

4. Property appropriated to any public use by any irrigation district, may be taken by another irrigation district for another public use and purpose, which is consistent with the use of such property for such existing purposes to the same extent as such property is then used; provided, that the right to such limited use in common shall include the right to enlarge, change or improve the property so taken; provided further, that such enlargement, change or improvement shall not interfere with the original use or any necessary extension or enlargement of such use.

Public utility franchises

5. Franchises for any public utility, and all kinds of property of any nature whatsoever used, either during the existence of or at the termination of said franchise, to supply and furnish the service of such public utility, but such franchise or property shall not be taken except for a more necessary public use.

Rights of way.

6. All rights of way for any and all the purposes mentioned in section 1238, and any and all structures and improvements on, over, across or along such rights of way, and the lands held or used in connection therewith shall be subject to be connected with, crossed, or intersected by or embraced within any other right of way or improvements, or structures thereon. They shall also be subject to a limited use, in common with the owner thereof, when necessary; but such uses, crossings, intersections, and connections shall be made in manner most compatible with the greatest public benefit and least private injury.

Other property

7. All classes of private property not enumerated may be taken for public use, when such taking is authorized by law;

Condemnation of State property.

8. Proceedings to condemn lands belonging to this State are hereby authorized, and must be maintained and conducted in the same manner as are other condemnation proceedings provided for in this title; except, that in such proceedings the summons and a copy of the complaint must be served on the Governor, Attorney General, and Surveyor General of this State.

Stats 1913, p 549

SEC. 2. Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Facts necessary for condemnation

1241. Before property can be taken, it must appear:

1. Authorized use. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law;

2. That the taking is necessary to such use; provided, when the legislative body of a county, city and county, or an incorporated city or town, shall, by resolution or ordinance, adopted by vote of two-thirds of all its members, have found and determined that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion, by such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, of any proposed public utility, or any public improvement, and that the property described in such resolution or ordinance is necessary therefor, such resolution or ordinance shall be conclusive evidence; (a) of the public necessity of such proposed public utility or public improvement; (b) that such property is necessary therefor, and (c) that such proposed public utility or public improvement is planned or located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good, and the least private injury; provided, that said resolution or ordinance shall not be such conclusive evidence in the case of the taking by any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, of property located outside of the territorial limits thereof.

Property already appropriated to public use

3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use to which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use; provided, that where such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation the use thereof for a public street or highway of the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or the use thereof by the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or a municipal water district for the same purposes to which it has been appropriated, or for any public purpose, shall be deemed a more necessary use than the public use to which such property has been already appropriated; and provided, further, that property of any character, whether already appropriated to public use or not, including all rights of any nature in water, owned by any person, firm or private corporation may be taken by a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town or by a municipal water district, for the purpose of supplying water, or electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes to such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or the inhabitants thereof, or for the purpose of supplying any other public utility, or for any other public use. And such taking may be made, either to furnish a separate and distinct supply of such water, and such electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes, or to provide for any such separate and distinct other public utility or other public use; or to furnish such a supply or provide for any such other public utility or other public use in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore provided for or that may thereafter be provided for in so supplying or providing for such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district or the inhabitants thereof; or in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore determined upon or that may thereafter be determined upon in accordance with law by the people of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any way limiting such rights as may be given by any other law of this State to counties, cities and counties, incorporated cities or towns or municipal water districts.

Private property appropriated to public use

But private property appropriated to the use of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, may not be taken by any other county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal district, while such property is so appropriated and used for the public purposes for which it has been so appropriated.

CHAPTER 466.

An act to authorize and empower the State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, to sell and convey the lands and buildings now being used by the State Teachers College of Santa Barbara, and from the proceeds of such sale to improve the site for said school, acquired by the State in 1932, to erect and construct upon such site buildings and other structures and improvements necessary and proper for said school, to purchase furniture, fixtures, apparatus, and other things necessary for said school, and to rent such temporary buildings and grounds as may be necessary for the use of said school until the completion of the new school buildings.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Authorization to sell former site of Santa Barbara State Teachers College.

SECTION 1. The State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, is hereby authorized and empowered to sell, at public auction, on such terms as may be determined by the said State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, the lands and buildings of the State Teachers College of Santa Barbara other than the site of the said teachers college acquired by the State in 1932 and improvements thereon.

Notice, bids, and sale

Notice of the time and place of such sale at public auction and the terms and conditions thereof, which the said State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, is hereby authorized to make, shall be published in a daily newspaper printed and published in the city of Santa Barbara for at least two weeks prior to the appointed day of sale. The said State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, is hereby authorized to reject any and all bids and offers therefor, to continue the day of sale from time to time, as many times as in his judgment may be necessary, and also to appoint another day or other days of sale and publish notice thereof, until the said lands and buildings shall have been sold. In case the sale shall be continued, said notice of sale, with a statement added thereto stating that the same has been continued, and the day to which it has been postponed, shall be published daily in said newspaper until the day to which the sale is postponed.

Conveyances, etc

The State Director of Finance is hereby authorized to order and to have made all necessary deeds of conveyance and papers and searches, abstracts, and certificates of title and surveys of said lands, and to take all necessary and proper proceedings and bring the necessary suits to cure any defects in said title, the cost and expenses of all of which shall be paid out of the proceeds of said sale upon the warrant of the State Controller, and the State Treasurer is directed to pay the same out of the fund hereinafter created.

Execution of deed

SEC. 2. The State Director of Education is hereby authorized and directed to execute to the purchaser for and on behalf of and in the name of the State of California, a deed of conveyance of said lands and buildings in the usual form of grant, bargain, and sale, and deliver the same upon the payment of the full amount of the purchase price; and said deed shall be effectual to pass and convey to the said purchaser all of the right, title, interest and estate of the State of California in and to said lands and buildings.

Disposition of proceeds of sale

SEC. 3. The moneys received from the sale of said lands and buildings shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of the "State Teachers College of Santa Barbara building and improvement fund," which fund is hereby created, and said moneys shall not be withdrawn therefrom except to pay the costs and expenses of carrying out the provisions of this act, and the expenses incidental thereto, for the rent of grounds and buildings as in this act provided, for the improvement of the new site for the State Teachers College of Santa Barbara acquired in 1932, and for the construction of new buildings and other improvements thereon as hereinafter provided.

Authority to rent necessary buildings

SEC. 4. Upon said sale of said lands and buildings being made, the State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, is hereby authorized to rent, for the purpose of said school, such of the grounds and buildings proposed to be sold hereunder as he may deem necessary, to be occupied temporarily until the completion of the necessary buildings upon the new site of the State Teachers College of Santa Barbara acquired by the State in 1932.

Expenditures authorized

SEC. 5. The State Director of Finance shall from time to time as presented, examine, audit, and allow all demands arising under this act, and the State Controller shall thereupon draw his warrant on the aforesaid State Teachers College of Santa Barbara building and improvement fund for all demands for and on account of the improvement of the new site of the State Teachers College of Santa Barbara acquired by the State in 1932, and the construction of new buildings and other improvements thereon, and the rent of buildings and grounds for the temporary use of said school; and the State Treasurer is hereby directed to pay said demands out of the aforesaid State Teachers College of Santa Barbara building and improvement fund.

Fund available

SEC. 6. The money constituting the aforesaid State Teachers College of Santa Barbara building and improvement fund shall be available without regard to fiscal years for the purpose of this act from the time of the deposit of the same with the State Treasurer as aforesaid.

Authority to receive gifts.

SEC. 7. The State Director of Education, with the approval of the State Director of Finance, is hereby authorized to receive, in behalf of the State, any gifts or donations by any individuals or by the city of Santa Barbara, or by the city board of education of the city of Santa Barbara.

The said assessor may appoint one office deputy assessor, which said office of office deputy assessor is hereby created, who shall serve as such only during five months of each calendar year. Said office deputy assessor shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable during the period of said services, at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. The said assessor may also appoint one additional deputy assessor, who shall be designated as a "field deputy assessor," which said office of "field deputy assessor" is hereby created, who shall serve as such only during five months of each calendar year. Said "field deputy assessor" shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month payable during the period of such service, at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. Assessor.

8. The district attorney, four thousand dollars per annum. Said district attorney may appoint one clerk to the district attorney, which said office of clerk is hereby created. Said clerk to the district attorney shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month, payable at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers is paid. The district attorney shall not engage in the private practice of law, and shall devote his entire time to the service of the county. In the event that the office of district attorney is consolidated with that of public administrator, the holder of said consolidated office shall receive a salary of four thousand dollars per annum, and all fees received by the holder of said consolidated office while said holder is performing the duties of public administrator shall be paid into the county treasury. District attorney.

9. The coroner, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. Coroner

10. The public administrator, such fees as are now or may be hereafter allowed by law. Public administrator.

11. The superintendent of schools, two thousand seven hundred dollars per annum, and actual traveling expenses when visiting the schools of his county. The foregoing salary of the Superintendent of schools.

superintendent of schools shall be in full for all services rendered, including the services rendered by such superintendent of schools as a member of the county board of education. Said superintendent of schools may appoint one deputy superintendent of schools, which said office of deputy superintendent of schools is hereby created, who shall serve as such only during ten months of each calendar year. The salary of such deputy superintendent of schools is hereby fixed at seven hundred fifty dollars per annum, such salary to be paid at the same time and in the same manner as the salary of county officers are paid.

Surveyor

12. The surveyor, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum; and in addition thereto he shall receive his actual traveling and other necessary expenses incurred by him while engaged in work for the county.

Justices of the peace and constables.

13. In townships having a population of five thousand or more, the justice of the peace shall receive a salary of one hundred fifty dollars per month, and the constable of said township shall receive a salary of one hundred dollars per month.

In townships having a population of over five hundred and less than five thousand, the justice of the peace shall receive a salary of thirty dollars per month, and the constable shall receive a salary of thirty dollars per month.

In townships having a population of less than five hundred, the justice of the peace shall receive a salary of twenty dollars per month, and the constable shall receive a salary of twenty dollars per month.

The above salaries shall be in full compensation of said justices of the peace and said constables in criminal cases; provided, that in addition to the salaries herein allowed, said constables shall be paid out of the treasury of the county, their actual traveling expenses when engaged in the service of a warrant of arrest or any other paper in a criminal case.

Supervisors

14. Each member of the board of supervisors, one thousand two hundred dollars per annum, and mileage when acting as road commissioner, twenty-five cents per mile one way; provided, the amount of mileage shall not exceed the sum of three hundred dollars in any one year.

Jurors

15. In counties of this class grand jurors and trial jurors in the superior court shall each receive for each day's attendance the sum of three dollars, and mileage to be computed at the rate of fifteen cents per mile for each mile actually and necessarily traveled from their residences to the county seat, in going only. Such fees and mileage shall be paid by the treasurer of the county out of the general fund of said county upon warrants drawn by the county auditor upon the written order of the judge of the superior court in said county.

Construction of act.

SEC. 2. The provisions of this act, so far as they are substantially the same as existing statutes governing counties of this class, must be construed as continuations thereof, and not as new enactments; and nothing in this act contained shall be deemed to shorten or extend the term of office or employment of any person holding office or employment under the provisions of such statutes.

CHAPTER 470.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act to provide for the creation, organization, and government of port districts; to enumerate the powers thereof; to authorize the incurring of indebtedness, the issuance of bonds and the levy and collection of taxes by such district; to authorize municipal corporations in such districts to surrender and transfer certain municipal powers and to grant certain municipal property to such districts for the purpose of carrying out the objects and purposes of this act," approved June 18, 1931 (Statutes of 1931, Chapter 1028), by amending the title thereof and by adding a new section thereto to be numbered section 13 (a), relating to the incurring of certain bonded indebtedness, prescribing the method of procedure for the incurring of such indebtedness, providing for the allocation, pledge and hypothecation of revenues for self-liquidating projects, and authorizing the borrowing of money from and the incurring of indebtedness to the United States of America or any of its departments, agencies or instrumentalities, including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Stats 1931, p 2138, amended.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The title of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p 2138.

An act to provide for the creation, organization and government of port districts; to enumerate the powers thereof; to authorize the incurring of indebtedness, the borrowing of money and the issuance of bonds, and other evidences of indebtedness of such districts and to provide for the mortgaging, pledging, or hypothecating of property of such districts and the issuance of revenue notes, certificates or warrants payable solely and exclusively from the revenues to be realized from a particular utility or property acquired or to be acquired with the proceeds of such obligations; to provide for the levy and collection of taxes by such districts and the allocation, mortgage, pledge or hypothecation of the revenues of such districts or any property of such districts; to authorize municipal corporations in such districts to surrender and transfer certain municipal powers to such districts and to grant certain municipal property to such districts for the purpose of carrying out the objects and purposes of this act; to authorize port districts to enter into agreements with the State of California or any political subdivision therein or with the United States of America; and to authorize port districts to do and perform all acts and things necessary or appropriate to carry out the purposes of this act.

New section

SEC. 2. A new section to be numbered section 13 (a) is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Creation of bonded debt

Sec. 13 (a) In addition to all other powers granted to port districts pursuant to this act, such districts shall have and are hereby granted the power to create a bonded debt up to but not in excess of one (1) per cent, of the assessed value of all taxable real and personal property within the port district for the purposes and in the manner following, to wit:

Purpose

Such bonded indebtedness shall be created solely for the purpose of issuing and selling bonds to the United States of America, or any of its departments, agencies or instrumentalities including the Reconstruction Finance Corporation. Such bonded indebtedness shall be issued solely for the purpose of providing funds for the acquisition or construction of revenue producing harbor improvements of a self-liquidating character. All such bonds issued pursuant to this section 13 (a) shall be authorized by ordinance passed by two-thirds of all of the members of the Port Commission, but no election need be held within the district and it shall be unnecessary to secure the approval of the electors within the port district to the issuance of said bonds for the purposes and within the limitations in this section 13 (a) set forth. Such bonds shall be payable within thirty years from their date and shall mature serially at such times as may be fixed by the Port Commission; provided that the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds shall be fixed at a date not more than ten years from the date of issue of such bonds. Said bonds may be issued in such denominations as the Port Commission shall determine, except that no bond shall be of a denomination less than $100 nor of a greater denomination than $1000, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds, with interest at the rate specified in said bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per cent per annum of the face amount thereof, payable annually or semiannually. Said bonds shall be in such form as may be prescribed by the Port Commission and shall be signed by such officer or officers as the Port Commission shall designate for that purpose. The coupons appertaining to said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the facsimile signature of such officer or officers as the Port Commission shall determine. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officers before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser thereof, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of said bonds. Said bonds may be issued and sold by the Port Commission for not less than their par value and accrued interest to date of delivery, at such time and under such conditions as may be designated by the Port Commission, and the proceeds shall be placed in the treasury of the Port Commission to the credit of the proper improvement fund and shall be applied exclusively to the objects and purposes mentioned in said ordinance.

Disposition of income and revenue

The income and revenue derived or to be realized from the harbor improvement acquired or to be acquired from the proceeds of said bonds shall be deposited in a special fund and the moneys in such fund shall be kept separate and apart from all other revenues of the port district and shall be applied, first, to the creation of an interest fund for the payment of the annual interest due or to become due upon said bonds during the next ensuing year and before the time for the fixing of the next general tax levy in the county in which such port district is located; second, to the creation of a sinking fund to provide for the payment of the principal of said bonds at or before their maturity date or dates; third, any additional revenues over and above the amount required to be deposited in said interest and sinking funds respectively referred to in subparagraphs first and second hereof, may be deposited in an operation fund to be applied to the costs of operation and maintenance, including reasonable repairs and depreciation of the particular revenue-producing harbor improvement so acquired by the issuance and sale of said bonds, and any surplus revenues in such maintenance or operation fund specified in this subparagraph third may be deposited either in the interest or sinking fund referred to in said subparagraphs first and second hereof, but no moneys allocated to said interest fund or sinking fund, respectively referred to in said subparagraphs first or second hereof shall be transferred to any other fund or used for any other purpose than the payment of said bonds and the interest thereon so long as said bonds shall be outstanding. The Port Commission in and by said ordinance authorizing the issuance of said bonds shall hypothecate and allocate all of the revenues to be realized from the revenue-producing harbor improvement to be acquired or constructed from the proceeds of said bonds to the payment thereof, both principal and interest as herein provided, and such allocation and hypothecation shall be irrevocable until all of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon shall have been paid. Such allocation and hypothecation shall be made in each case for the exclusive benefit of the bonds to be issued for the purpose of acquiring or constructing the particular revenue-producing harbor improvement in question. Such allocation shall be made as additional security for the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds and shall not constitute the exclusive source of payment thereof but, on the contrary, said bonds shall constitute general obligations of the port district and both principal and interest thereof may be paid from any moneys or sources of revenue of any kind, including taxes, on hand and available for that purpose.

Sinking fund.

Operation fund

Tax levy in case of deficiency

Whenever the revenues of the port district are, or in the opinion of the Port Commission will be insufficient to provide for the payment in full of the principal or interest on said bonds as the same becomes due, the Port Commission shall, and in the event the revenues in the interest fund referred to in subparagraph first hereof are insufficient to meet the next ensuing year's interest on the bonds issued hereunder and then outstanding or the moneys in the sinking fund referred to in subparagraph second hereof are insufficient to pay or provide for the payment of any bonds maturing during the next ensuing year, the Port Commission must cause a tax to be levied and collected upon all of the taxable property in the port district sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on said bonds during the next ensuing year and before the time for fixing the next general tax levy in the county in which the port district is located. Such tax shall be levied and collected annually in the manner provided by section 15 of this act and shall be in addition to all other taxes in this act authorized or provided to be levied and collected, and when collected shall be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

CHAPTER 471.

An act confirming and validating the formation or organization and existence of port districts, and declaring that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Organization of port districts validated

SECTION 1. In all cases where the board of supervisors of any county in this State has purported to form or organize a port district under any law or laws of this State and such purported formation or organization has been completed for a period of six months previous to the taking effect of this act and such port district has acted or functioned as a district for a period of six months previous to the taking effect of this act, all acts and proceedings taken for the purpose of forming or organizing such district are hereby legalized, validated and declared to be sufficient, and such port district is hereby declared to be duly formed and organized under its appropriate name as of the time of its purported formation with boundaries as shown or indicated in the order of said board of supervisors, and shall have the rights and privileges and be subject to all the duties and obligations of a duly formed or organized port district.

CHAPTER 472.

An act to amend the Political Code by amending sections 3456, 3457, 3466, 3480 and 3480b, and by repealing section 3480c, all relating to reclamation districts, and containing a provision declaring this act to be an emergency measure stating the facts constituting such emergency and providing this act shall take effect immediately upon its passage.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3456 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 754.

Sec. 3456. (a) If such reclamation district is located, in whole or in part, within the Sacramento and San Joaquin Drainage District, then if and when the said reclamation board shall have approved the plan or plans of the works of reclamation, after a hearing as provided in section 3455 of this code, then the board of trustees of the reclamation district shall so report to the board of supervisors of the county within which the district or the greater part thereof is situate, and shall set forth in their said report the estimated cost of the said works of reclamation, and petition the said board of supervisors to appoint three commissioners who shall have no interest in any real estate within said district, each of whom, before entering upon his duties, shall make and subscribe an oath that he is not in any manner interested in any real estate within said district, directly or indirectly, and that he will perform the duties of a commissioner to the best of his ability. Upon receipt of said petition from the board of trustees the board of supervisors to whom the same was presented must within not more than sixty days appoint said assessment commissioners above referred to. Said commissioners must view and assess upon the land within said district the said sum so estimated and shall apportion the same according to the benefits that will accrue to each tract of land in said district, respectively, by reason of the expenditures of said sums of money, and shall estimate the same in gold coin of the United States. Commissioners to assess land

The sums must be collected and paid into the county treasury as hereinafter provided, and be placed by the treasurer to the credit of the district, and paid out for the works of reclamation upon the warrants of the trustees, or, if bonds of such district have been issued upon said assessment, then said treasurer shall set the same apart as a separate fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of such bonds, and shall not pay any part of the moneys received from such assessment for any purpose other than the payment of the principal and interest of such bonds and the expenses of the county treasurer as hereinafter provided. Sums paid into county treasury

Report on maintenance, etc

In all cases when the work contemplated by the original or any supplemental plan of reclamation of any reclamation district shall have been completed, the trustees may so report to the board of supervisors of the county in which the district, or the greater part thereof is situate, together with a petition to the said board of supervisors to appoint assessment commissioners. Said report and petition shall set forth that the work contemplated by the original or supplemental plan of reclamation has been completed, and that hereafter the said reclamation district will only require funds for the maintenance and repair of the said works of reclamation. Upon filing said report and petition the said board of supervisors shall appoint three commissioners, each of whom shall be similarly qualified, and shall make and subscribe the same oath as is provided hereinabove for commissioners.

Assessment list.

When so appointed and so qualified such commissioners shall prepare an assessment list, which list shall contain the following information in separate columns:

1. A description of each tract assessed by legal subdivisions, swamp land surveys, or other boundaries sufficient to identify the same.

2. The number of acres in each tract.

3. The names of the owners of each tract, if known; and if unknown, that fact; but no mistake or error in the name of the owner or supposed owner of the property assessed, and no mistake in any other particular, shall render the assessment thereof invalid.

4. The assessment valuation per acre of each tract assessed.

5. The total assessment valuations of each said tract.

6. A blank column for rate to be fixed as shown hereinafter.

7. A blank column for amount of assessment to be computed as shown hereinafter.

Thereafter said assessment valuations shall be used as a basis for assessments in raising funds for the maintenance and repair of the works of reclamation and incidental expenses of said district. Said assessment list, when completed, shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors in the same manner as a report made under an original or modified plan of reclamation.

Hearing on list

Thereupon the said board of supervisors shall appoint a time when it will meet for the purpose of hearing objections; said objections, if any, must be in writing, verified, and filed with the clerk of said board of supervisors. Notice of the said hearing shall be given in the same manner and for the same time as notice of hearing objections to an original assessment. At said hearing, the board of supervisors shall hear such evidence as may be offered in support of said written objections, and may modify or amend the said assessment valuations in any particular. No objections to said assessment valuations shall be considered by the board of supervisors, or allowed in any other action or proceeding, unless said objections shall have been made in writing to the board of supervisors before the date of such hearing.

Action in superior court

Any person aggrieved by the decision of the board of supervisors may commence an action in the superior court of the county in which the greater part of the said district is situate, to have said assessment valuations corrected, modified or annulled. Such action must be commenced within thirty days after said assessment valuations have been approved by the board of supervisors. If said action shall not be commenced within thirty days, no action or defense shall thereafter be maintained attacking the legality of said assessment valuations in any respect.

Fixing assessment rates

Thereafter, whenever, in the opinion of the trustees of the district, it shall be necessary to raise any sum for the construction, maintenance or repair of the works of reclamation, or for the incidental expenses of the district, the said board of trustees shall make an order, which order shall be entered in the minutes of the board and shall recite the total amount necessary to be raised and shall fix a rate designating the number of cents to be levied on each one hundred dollars of assessment valuation shown on the list prepared and approved in the manner hereinabove provided. Incidental expenses, as used in this section and in section 3480a of the Political Code are hereby declared to include, among other things, the difference in amount between the par value of refunding bonds sold pursuant to section 3480a of this act and the amount less than par for which said bonds may be sold, and also the amount necessary to be made available for the payment of interest upon said refunding bonds directed to be sold from the date of sale thereof to the date of maturity of the bonds to be refunded out of the proceeds of such sale.

"Incidental expenses."

Thereafter the board of trustees must complete said assessment list by inserting the rate and the total assessment in columns six and seven as provided therefor.

Collection.

The assessment made in pursuance hereof shall be filed with the county treasurer and thereafter collected in the same manner provided for the collection of any original assessment; provided, however, that the board of trustees may, in their discretion, direct the payment of any such assessment in one installment. Said installment when called by the board of trustees shall constitute a lien on the lands and shall bear interest from the date of delinquency at the rate of seven per cent per annum.

Lien

Duration of list.

The report of assessment commissioners as herein provided, fixing the assessment valuations for reclamation purposes, after having first been approved by the board of supervisors as hereinabove provided, shall continue in force as the basis for raising necessary funds for construction, maintenance and repair of the works of reclamation, and for incidental expenses of the district until the trustees of said district, or the holders of title or evidence of title representing fifteen per cent or more of the lands within the district, shall petition said board of supervisors to make an order directing the commissioners who made the original assessment list or other commissioners, to be named in such order to prepare a new assessment list. Such commissioners must have the same qualifications and take the same oath as the original assessment commissioners.

New list

Filing new list

The assessment list when so prepared by said commissioners shall be filed with the clerk of the board of supervisors, and shall thereafter in all respects be subject to the same provisions as an original assessment list. All provisions of this code relating to collection of unbonded assessments and sale of land for delinquent assessments, and for sale, leasing and other disposition of land as in section 3466a of this code provided, shall be applicable to assessments levied in accordance with the provisions of this section.

Reverse.

When registered this warrant bears interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum, computed from the date thereof.

This warrant will outlaw and can not legally be paid four years after date, unless it is payable by its terms at a future date, in which event it will outlaw and can not be legally paid four years after maturity, or unless extended one or more times.

Pay to _____ or order _____.
Presented for payment but not paid for want of funds, this _____day of _____ 19__.

_____
Treasurer of _____ county.

Interest on warrants.

The warrants drawn by the trustees must be presented to the treasurer of the county, and if they are not paid on presentation, such indorsement must be made thereon, and they must be registered and bear interest from their date at the rate of seven per cent per annum, and such warrants are and shall be considered as contracts in writing for the payment of money, and the period prescribed for the commencement of an action based upon said warrants, or connected therewith, is and shall be the term of four years from the date of said warrants, unless said warrants are payable by their terms at a future date, in which event the said term of four years shall not commence until the maturity of said warrants.

Order of payment

All warrants shall be paid by the county treasurer strictly in the order in which they have been registered, except warrants which are by their terms payable at a future date and such warrants shall be considered as being registered as of the date of their maturity, if actually registered at or prior to maturity, otherwise as of the date of actual registration.

Warrants outstanding one year or more

Whenever a warrant shall have been outstanding one year or more, or where a warrant is by its terms not payable upon demand but is payable at a future date and payment thereof is overdue one year or more, the board of trustees shall on demand of the holder of said warrant cancel the same and issue a new warrant for the face value of the old warrant and a separate warrant for the amount of interest then due thereon in the event of any interest being due and unpaid; or, the board of trustees may allow a claim for the amount of any interest due and unpaid on any warrant so outstanding one year or more and may draw a warrant therefor; upon drawing this warrant they shall indorse on the reverse of the old warrant the fact that interest has been paid to the date of drawing the warrant for interest and the warrant drawn for interest must state that it is for interest on warrant No. _____ to _____(date); the board of trustees shall notify the county treasurer upon drawing those warrants for interest and he shall note on his register of warrants the fact that interest has been paid on such warrants; provided, that any warrant not paid or presented for reissuance may within four years after its date or within four years after its maturity if payable by its terms at a future date upon the demand of the holder, be extended one or more times until repayment or reissuance, for a like period of four years from the date of each extension, upon presentation to the board of trustees of the district, such extension being indorsed thereon by said board. The board of trustees and the county treasurer may cancel all warrants which have not been paid or reissued or which have not been extended one or more times, within four years after their date, or within four years after their date of maturity, if payable by their terms at a future date. Warrants issued for interest shall not bear interest. All warrants which have been issued since January 1, 1915, by any reclamation district, and which have been extended one or more times, and which have not, before the passage of this act, been paid, reissued or canceled, are declared to be as valid and binding against said district as when originally issued.

Payment of judgment

In case an action or proceeding based upon any warrant or connected therewith, be commenced within four years after the date of such warrant, or within four years after the maturity thereof, if payable by its terms at a future date, and final judgment be obtained in favor of the holder or owner thereof, such warrant shall be paid the same as if it had been paid before the expiration of said four years from the date of said warrant.

Determination of amount due

In any proceeding or a writ of mandate to compel the trustees to issue a warrant, if a controversy arises as to the amount that may be due to the plaintiff, the court must determine the same in the manner provided for determining controversies in other civil actions, and shall cause a writ to issue for such sums as may be found to be due. The date of a warrant shall be the day on which the same is signed by the board of trustees.

Warrants payable at future date

The trustees may issue warrants payable at a future date, and more than three years from the date thereof, and for this purpose may use the form of warrant herein provided for, adding thereto upon the face thereof that it is not due or payable until a certain date, which shall be specified.

Warrants when assessment is unpaid

Where there is an existing assessment on the lands in any district which is wholly or in part unpaid the trustees may issue warrants, including warrants payable at a future date, on which the interest shall be paid semiannually on January first and July first of each year, until such warrant is paid, and for this purpose may use the form of warrant herein provided for, adding thereto upon the face thereof that interest thereon is payable semiannually on January first and July first of each year upon presentation of the warrant to the county treasurer. Said interest shall be paid upon presentation to the county treasurer who shall indorse upon the reverse side of such warrant the fact of such interest payment, specifying the amount thereof and date of payment.

Interest due on assessments

The interest due at any time on any unpaid assessment, or any part or installment thereof, may be called at any time by the trustees of the district without calling any installment of the said assessment. All interest hereafter paid on any assessment or any part or installment thereof shall be deposited with the county treasurer in a fund to be known as the "warrant interest fund" and shall not be used for any purpose except the payment of interest on warrants unless the trustees of the district request the county treasurer to transfer the same, or a part thereof, to the general fund of the district.

"Warrant interest fund"

At least ninety days before any installment of interest is due on any warrants interest on which is payable semiannually the trustees of the district shall estimate the amount of money necessary to pay such interest after crediting thereon the funds in the "warrant interest fund" applicable to the payment thereof and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies and make a call on interest due on any unpaid assessment equivalent to said amount. All laws relative to the making of calls on any assessment, or installment thereof, and the sale of property for nonpayment thereof, and redemption thereof, shall be applicable to the making of calls for interest only as herein provided and for the sale of property for nonpayment thereof, and redemption thereof.

Payment before maturity.

Notwithstanding anything herein contained to the contrary it shall be the duty of the county treasurer to pay all or any warrants payable at a future date, before the maturity thereof, upon the request of the trustees of the district providing there is in the hands of such treasurer sufficient funds so to do, after payment of all outstanding warrants of the district payable upon demand.

Stats 1931, p. 754.

SEC. 3. Section 3466 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Collection of unpaid assessments.

SEC. 3466. At the end of said period of thirty days all unpaid assessments shall thereafter bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum. Thereafter all unpaid assessments and accrued interest shall be collected by and paid to the county treasurer, or the board of trustees may designate an agent to effect such collection who shall file with the county treasurer a detailed report of any and all collections thereon and who shall deposit said moneys with the county treasurer to the credit of the district. Whenever the board of trustees shall appoint an agent to collect assessments, they shall require that such agent give a bond in such amount as they may consider sufficient for the faithful performance of his duties. All such payments shall be made in separate installments, of such amounts, and at such times, respectively, as the said board, from time to time, in its discretion by order entered in its minutes may direct. Upon making such order the secretary shall also enter in the minutes of the board a notice in substantially the following form:

Installment notice.

(Name of reclamation district, location or principal place of business.) Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of trustees held on the (date), an installment of (amount) was ordered paid within sixty days from date thereof to _____ at _____. Any installment which shall remain unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent together with the accrued interest thereon.

Service of notice.

The notice must be personally served upon each owner of land in said district, or in lieu of personal service, must be sent through the mail addressed to such owner at his place of residence, if known, or entered upon the assessment-roll of the county, and if not known, at the place where the principal office of the district is situated, or be published two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks successively in some newspaper of general circulation and devoted to the publication of general news, within the district, and if no such newspaper be published within the district then publication may be made in some newspaper published in the county seat of the county where the greater portion of said district is situated.

Districts in more than one county.

Whenever the district is situated in more than one county, the county treasurers of each county wherein any of the lands assessed are situated, shall, immediately following the expiration of said period of sixty days, report to the county treasurer of the main county all payments made of assessments on each tract of land respectively and shall also report all tracts which are delinquent, as hereinafter provided, together with the delinquencies thereon.

Delinquent installment.

If any such installment shall remain unpaid at the expiration of said sixty days from the date of the order, then the said installment shall become delinquent together with the accrued interest thereon and a penalty of ten per cent of the amount of said installment and interest shall be added thereto and collected for the use of the district.

Delinquency list

Immediately after the said installment has become delinquent, the county treasurer of the main county must publish in each county where such delinquencies exist, a list in one notice of all said delinquencies in such county at least two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Said notice shall contain a description of the property assessed, as described in the assessment list or by reference number as set forth in said assessment list on file in the office of the county treasurer (stating the date and time said list was so filed) or by other appropriate reference thereto sufficient to identify the same, and shall refer to said list for further particulars. Said notice shall also contain the name of the person to whom it is assessed, or a statement that it is assessed to unknown owners, if such is the fact; the amount of the delinquent installment, interest and penalty thereon calculated to the date of call and a notice that the property assessed will be sold by the county treasurer of the main county on the date therein stated, in front of the courthouse of said county to pay the amount of said installment with accrued interest and penalty. The date of said sale shall be not less than ten days after the date of the last publication of said notice. And at said time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the said county treasurer must sell said property to the highest bidder for gold coin of the United States. Out of the proceeds of said sale the county treasurer shall place the amount due on said property as shown in said notice in the proper funds of said district and shall pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining. The county treasurer may postpone said sale from time to time for not less than ten nor more than thirty days at any one time by a written notice posted at the place of sale.

Sale of property.

Purchase by treasurer.

If no bid is made for said property equal to the amount due thereon, the county treasurer of the main county shall bid in and sell said property to himself and his successors in office as trustee for the district, and said property shall be struck off to him for said amount. A certificate of such sale shall be executed by the county treasurer to the purchaser, or to the county treasurer, if the property shall have been struck off to him, and said certificate of sale shall be filed in the office of the county recorder in the county in which the lands described in said certificate are situated. Any person interested in said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of said sale, by paying to the county treasurer the amount for which said property was sold, and interest on the said sums at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of said sale. Upon such redemption a certificate of redemption shall be issued by the county treasurer to the party so redeeming, which said certificate shall be filed in the office of the county recorder. If no redemption shall be made within said one year the purchaser, upon demand and surrender by him of certificate of purchase, or the county treasurer if said property shall have been sold to him, shall be entitled to a deed executed by said county treasurer and the effect of such deed shall be to convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances excepting any prior or subsequent district assessment.

Redemption.

Deed to purchaser

Sale of property purchased by treasurer.

Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a county treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successors in office, at any time after the expiration of said redemption period at public or private sale, and with or without notice, to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said county treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly from the date of said delinquent sale together with any call that has been made upon any prior or subsequent assessment; and the deed executed by the county treasurer in pursuance of such sale shall convey said property free of all liens and encumbrances except any prior or subsequent district assessment. After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period for redemption such parcel may be sold as in section 3466a of this code provided.

SEC. 4. Section 3480 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special bond election

Sec. 3480. Whenever in any reclamation district in this State, now formed or which may hereafter be formed, any assessment has been levied and assessed upon the lands of said district, and remains unpaid in whole or in part where in the judgment and opinion of the board of trustees of said district it would be for the best interest of said district or the landowners therein to issue bonds for the purpose of obtaining money to pay the costs of reclamation, the indebtedness of the district, or any other legal charge, or when a petition signed by the owners of more than one-half of the land in the district is filed with the secretary of the board, the board of trustees of such district shall by order entered upon the records of said board, order a special election to be held at some place in said district to be designated by said board of trustees, at which said special election shall be submitted to the owners of land in said district the question of whether or not bonds of said district shall be issued in an amount equal to the amount of such assessment, or the part of such assessment remaining unpaid, which said amount shall be entered by said board of trustees in its records and stated by them in the order for such special election.

Evidence of ownership and value.

For all purposes of this article relating to signing petitions and by-laws and voting at any election of reclamation districts the equalized assessment roll for the year last preceding, in each county wherein any land of the district is situated shall be sufficient evidence of ownership and of value of lands in the district as hereinafter provided. Guardians, executors, administrators and other persons holding land in a trust capacity under appointment of court may sign such petitions or by-laws or may vote without obtaining special authority therefor.

Notice of election.

Notice of such special election must be given by the board of trustees by posting notices thereof in at least three public places in the district at least twenty-one days prior thereto, and also by publication for the same length of time in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any portion of said district may be situated; and such notice must specify the time and place of holding such election, the aggregate face value of bonds proposed to be issued and the names of three landholders of the district to act as a board of election. Affidavits of the publication and posting of such notice must be filed with the county clerk of the county in which said district or the greater part thereof is situated (herein designated as the main county), together with a copy of said order calling the election, certified by the president of the board of trustees.

Who may vote.

At such election each owner of lands in the district shall be entitled to vote in person or by proxy and shall have the right to cast one vote for each dollar's worth of real estate owned by him in the district, such value and ownership thereof to be determined from the next preceding assessment-roll of the county or counties in which the lands of said district are situate, and the board of trustees of the district shall, prior to the election, cause to be prepared and certified by the proper officer and furnished to the board of election, a true and correct copy of the said next preceding assessment-roll of the said county or counties, which said certified roll shall be used by the said board of election in determining the number of votes each voter is entitled to cast. Executors, administrators, special administrators and guardians may cast the votes of the estates represented by them.

Proxies. No person shall vote by proxy at such election unless authority to cast such vote shall be evidenced by an instrument in writing, duly acknowledged and certified in the same manner as grants of real property and filed with the board of election. The ballots cast at such election shall contain the words: "Bonds—Yes" or the words "Bonds—No," and also the name of the person casting the ballot with the number of votes cast by him. A list of the ballots cast shall be made by the board of election, containing the name of each voter, and, if the ballot be cast by proxy, the name of the person casting it, and the number of votes cast by each and whether the same be cast for or against the issuing of the bonds.

Ballots.

Election officers. If any person appointed as a member of the board of election shall fail to attend at the opening of the polls, the voters then present may appoint in his place any landholder of the district. Each member of such board of election, must, before entering upon his duties take and subscribe an official oath, which oath may be administered by an officer authorized to administer oaths or by any landholder in the district. The polls shall be kept open from ten o'clock a.m., of the day of election until four o'clock p.m. At the close of the polls the board of election shall at once proceed to canvass the votes and declare the result and shall forward a certificate showing such result and the number of votes cast for and against the issuing of bonds, to the county clerk of the main county, and shall deliver a duplicate thereof to the board of trustees of the district, and shall also deliver to the said county clerk of the main county all ballots cast at such election and all documents and papers used at such election. Any person interested may contest such election within twenty days after such filing of said certificate with the said county clerk by bringing suit in the superior court of the main county; otherwise the declaration of the result by the board of election shall be final and conclusive.

Canvass of votes.

Contest.

Issue of bonds. If a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of the issuance of bonds, the board of trustees of the district shall cause bonds in the amount stated in the order for the election to be executed and delivered, together with the assessment list, to the treasurer of said main county. Said bonds shall be of the denomination of not less than one hundred dollars nor more than one thousand dollars each; they shall be signed by the president of the board of trustees of the district and attested by the county auditor of said main county, and shall be numbered consecutively in the order of their maturity, and shall bear interest at a rate not to exceed six per cent per annum, payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July in each year at the office of said county treasurer upon the presentation of the proper coupons therefor. Coupons for each installment of interest shall be attached to said bonds and shall bear the facsimile signature of the county auditor. The principal of said bonds shall be made payable on the first day of July, or the first day of January, and in such years as the trustees may prescribe, but said bonds shall be payable serially within twenty years from their date in the manner following, to wit:

(1) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds issued shall be payable within ten years from their date.

(2) Not less than ten per centum of the aggregate face value of bonds remaining unpaid at the end of ten years shall be payable each year beginning with the eleventh year from their date, until the whole amount of said bonds has been paid. Said bonds shall be substantially in the following form:

No. ------ $------

Reclamation District ------

Reclamation District No. ------, for value received hereby acknowledges itself indebted to and promises to pay to the holder hereof at the office of the treasurer of said county, in the State of California, on the first day of ------, 19--, the sum of $------, in gold coin of the United States of America, with interest thereon in like gold coin from date hereof until paid, at the rate of ------ per cent, per annum, payable at the office of said treasurer semiannually on the first day of January, and the first day of July in each year on presentation and surrender of the interest coupons hereto attached.

This bond is one of a series of ------ bonds of like tenor and effect, except as to denomination and maturity, numbered from ------ to ------ inclusive, amounting in the aggregate to ------ dollars, issued in accordance with section 3480 of the Political Code of the State of California pursuant to an election held in said reclamation district on the ------ day of ------, 19 --, authorizing its issuance, and is based upon and secured by an assessment levied on the lands in said district, and filed in the office of the county treasurer of said county of ------ on the ------ day of ------, 19 --, and the said reclamation district does hereby certify and declare that said election was duly called and held upon due notice, and the result thereof was duly canvassed and ascertained, in pursuance of and in strict conformity with the laws of the State of California applicable thereto, and that all of the acts and conditions and things required by law to be done, precedent to and in the issue of said bonds have been done and have been performed in regular and in due form and in strict accordance with the provisions of the law authorizing the issuance of reclamation bonds.

In testimony whereof, the said district, by its board of trustees, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said board and attested by the auditor of said county of _____ with his seal of office affixed this _____ day of _____, 19 __.

_____,
President of said board.

Attest _____

Auditor of the county of _____, State of California.

(Interest coupons, form of.) And the interest coupons may be substantially in the following form: Form of interest coupons.

No. _____ $_____

The county treasurer of _____ County, California, will pay to the holder hereof on the _____ day of _____, 19 __, at his office in said county of _____, the sum of $_____ in gold coin of the United States out of the funds of reclamation district No. _____ for interest on bonds of said district numbered _____.

County Auditor.

The treasurer of said main county shall place the bonds prepared pursuant to this act to the credit of the district. Thereafter when directed by resolution of the trustees of the district, the treasurer of said county may sell the whole or any designated number of said bonds for the best price obtainable therefor, but in no event for less than ninety per cent of the face value of said bonds and the accrued interest thereon. Before making the sale of said bonds notice shall be given by the said county treasurer by publication at least once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in said main county, that he will sell a specified amount of said bonds, and stating the day, hour and place of such sale, and asking sealed proposals for the purchase of said bonds, or any part thereof. At the time appointed the county treasurer shall open the bids and award the bonds to the highest responsible bidder. He may, and upon written request of a majority of the trustees must, reject any and all bids. Any sale by the county treasurer and delivery of the bonds thereunder shall be conclusive evidence in favor of the purchaser and all subsequent holders of the bonds that such sale was made upon due authority and notice. The proceeds of sale of said bonds shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of said district, and a proper record of such transaction shall be made upon the books of said county treasurer. Sale of bonds. Notice. Bids.

At any time within thirty days after said bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of the county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said main county by Action to test legality.

the trustees of said reclamation district in its name against the lands in said district and all persons owning the same or interested therein, to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of such reclamation district, and in the event no such action is brought then the same may be commenced by any landowner in the district within thirty days thereafter. It shall be sufficient to describe said lands as all lands in the district (naming it), without a more specific description. The summons shall be published once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending. Within thirty days after the first publication of summons any owners of land in such district, or any person interested, may appear and answer the complaint, which answer shall set forth the facts relied upon to show the invalidity of said bonds. The default of all defendants not so appearing may be entered. Such action shall be given precedence in hearing and trial over all other civil actions in such court, and judgment rendered declaring such matter so contested either valid or invalid. Any party not in default may have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court within thirty days after the entry of judgment. Judgment for the plaintiff in such proceedings shall be considered as a judgment in rem and shall be conclusive against said district and against all lands therein and all owners thereof and other interested persons.

Warrants. The board of trustees of said district may draw warrants upon the said county treasurer against the funds provided by sale of bonds.

Bond fund. All moneys collected by any county treasurer upon any assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued, including all moneys derived from sale of land for delinquent installments, or from redemption thereof, or from sale of lands bought by the treasurer at any such sale, shall be by such treasurer forthwith paid into the main county treasury and except as otherwise provided in section 3466a of this code, shall be credited to the bond fund of such reclamation district and used exclusively for the payment of principal and interest of said bonds issued on such assessment, and of the principal and interest of any refunding bonds issued thereon, and the expenses of the county treasurer as hereinafter provided.

Bonds as legal investment. The bonds of reclamation districts issued pursuant to this code which have been investigated and certified by any officer of this State now or hereafter authorized to make such investigation and certification and by the authority of which certification are declared to be legal for investments by savings banks of this State may be lawfully purchased, or received in pledge for loans by savings banks, trust companies, insurance companies, guardians, executors, administrators and special administrators, or by any public officer or officers of this State or of any county, city or city and county or other municipal or corporate body within this State having or holding funds which they are allowed by law to invest or loan.

If the trustees deem it advisable they may order a special election to be held prior to making any assessment, to determine whether or not bonds shall be issued for an amount to be stated in the order for such election, but no bonds shall, in such instance, be issued until an assessment for the amount of the bonds authorized at such election shall have been made and filed with the county treasurer. Election prior to assessment

The lien of any unpaid assessment upon which bonds shall have been issued shall continue until all said bonds, and any refunding bonds which may be issued, shall have been paid in full except as hereinafter provided in reference to the use of bonds as payment of assessments, and if for any reason any part of such principal or interest of said bonds, or of refunding bonds shall remain unpaid after enforcement of said assessment as in this article provided, the board of supervisors of the main county shall order an additional or supplemental assessment to be made as provided in section 3459, sufficient to pay such unpaid principal and interest; which additional or supplemental assessment shall be enforced and collected in the same manner as the original assessment. Additional assessment

If any district having authorized the issuance of a series of bonds shall issue an additional series of bonds based on another assessment, the dates of maturity of such additional series of bonds shall be such that the latest maturities thereof shall not exceed thirty years and the earliest maturity of bonds of such additional series shall be later than the latest maturity of bonds of any earlier series, excepting refunding bonds. All provisions of this section relative to the original issue of bonds shall apply to such additional series of bonds so far as applicable and also so far as applicable shall affect existing reclamation districts as well as those hereafter formed. Additional bonds

Any district which has issued bonds of different denominations, may, by an order entered in its minutes, upon request of holders thereof, and upon the deposit of the bonds issued and outstanding with the board of trustees, issue to the holders of such deposited bonds, bonds of the district in the same form but in different denominations, but having the same aggregate face value and maturity. Such bonds shall be executed by all of the persons who are required by law to execute the original bonds for which such exchange is made, and the said bonds so deposited shall be thereupon canceled by the treasurer of the main county and the board of trustees of the district. Bonds of different denominations.

Whenever in any reclamation district in the State a bond issue of said district has been authorized prior to this amendment then the provisions of this section hereby amended in respect to the manner of procedure by which the assessments are called in to meet payments on account of principal or interest of such bonds, and also the provision herein contained by which the assessment shall continue in full force and effect as constituting a lien upon the several tracts of land within said district under the provisions of section 3463 of this code until the principal and interest of all bonds issued on the Bonds heretofore issued.

basis of said assessment shall have been paid in full, and also the provisions in reference to refunding bonds, shall apply to and inure to the benefit of the bonds which may have been issued by any reclamation district in this State prior to the date of the enactment of this amendment.

Warrants in payment of bonds.

Upon a sale of any of the bonds provided herein (except refunding bonds) the county treasurer of the main county is hereby authorized to accept in payment for said bonds, either in whole or in part, outstanding warrants of such district at their face value, together with the accrued interest thereon.

Interest on unpaid installments.

Where bonds of the district have been authorized to be issued on such assessments all unpaid assessments shall bear interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of the bonds originally issued thereon until such bonds and any refunding bonds issued thereon shall have been fully paid and discharged, and the interest due at any time on said unpaid assessments may be called without calling any installment of the said assessment. The word installment as used in this section shall be construed as applying to interest as well as the principal as the case may be.

Estimate of assessment installment to pay interest and principal.

At least ninety days before any interest date of the bonds, including refunding bonds, the county treasurer of the main county shall estimate the amount of money necessary to pay interest and principal maturing on such interest date after crediting thereon the funds in the treasury applicable to the payment thereof, and the expenses of the county treasurer hereinafter provided and shall add thereto fifteen per cent of such aggregate sum to cover possible delinquencies, and said county treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks in some newspaper of general circulation published in each county in which any of the district may be situate a notice substantially in the following form: (Name of reclamation district).

Form of notice.

Notice is hereby given that an installment of assessment (describing it) of $------, being ------ per cent is payable within thirty days from (date) by all assessed landowners of said district in the county of (name of county) to the treasurer of said county. All or any part of said installment which shall remain unpaid on the day (day fixed) will be delinquent, together with ten per cent of such installment added as penalty.

Dated (date)

(Signed)----------
Treasurer of ------ County

If no newspaper is published in said county, such publication shall be made in a newspaper published in an adjoining county.

Payment of installments.

Said installment may be paid either in cash or in bonds of said district, or their interest coupons, issued upon said assessment, then matured or to mature within ninety days from the date of the calling of such installment, taken at their face value, or part in cash and part in such bonds and/or coupons. Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in his office. If any part of such installment or any interest thereon shall remain unpaid at the expiration of thirty days from the date of said notice, it shall become delinquent and ten per cent of the unpaid amount of said installment shall be added thereto and collected by said treasurer. Delinquencies

When any installment shall have become delinquent, said treasurer shall publish two times, to wit: once a week for two weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in each county in which any portion of the said delinquent land may lie (or if no newspaper is published therein, then in a newspaper published in an adjoining county), a notice of all said delinquencies. Said notice shall contain a description of each parcel of land assessed in the district whereon such installment is delinquent, as such description appears on the assessment list or by reference number as set forth in said assessment list on file in the office of the county treasurer (stating the date and time said list was so filed) or by other appropriate reference thereto sufficient to identify the same, and shall refer to said list for further particulars. Said list shall also contain the name of the person to whom it is assessed, to unknown owners if such is the fact; the amount of the installment delinquent on such parcel, the amount of said penalty thereon, and a notice that each of said parcels will be sold at public auction by said county treasurer in front of the courthouse of said main county, at a specified day and hour which shall not be less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the date of delinquency to pay said delinquent installment with penalty. Delinquency list.

If said notice is published in more than one county, then each respective notice may include only the description of and the matters and things hereinabove provided in reference to the delinquent parcel of land situate in the county in which the notice is published.

At the time stated in said notice, or such other time to which said sale may have been postponed, the county treasurer shall sell each parcel of land described in said notice to the highest bidder, unless prior thereto he shall have received payment in full of said delinquent installment together with such penalty. No bid for any parcel shall be accepted less than the aggregate sum then due on said installment thereon, with penalty, and such sale shall be made for cash (except the treasurer may receive from any purchaser at their face value in lieu of cash, bonds of said district or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment and then matured or to mature within sixty days after such sale). Any bond or coupon so received in payment shall be by the treasurer forthwith canceled and filed in his office. If the entire amount of any such bond or coupon tendered in payment shall not be required Sale for delinquent installments.

to complete payment of the purchase money, the treasurer shall indorse thereon as paid, the amount of such purchase money credited thereon.

Sale may be continued.

The county treasurer may continue said sale from day to day by written notice posted at the place of sale but not to a day beyond the due date of bond principal or interest next following the date of said call.

Purchase by treasurer.

If no bid is made for any parcel at such sale equal to the amount of the installment delinquent thereon, with penalty, the treasurer shall bid in and sell said parcel to himself and his successors in office, as trustee of the district, as purchaser, for the amount of said installment, interest and penalty.

Certificate of sale.

The treasurer shall execute to each purchaser, including himself as trustee, a certificate of sale, and a duplicate thereof shall be filed in the county recorder's office of the county in which the land is situated.

Disposition of proceeds

Out of the proceeds of all sales hereafter held, and all sales heretofore held on which the period of redemption has not expired, the county treasurer shall place the amount due on said property as shown in said notice in the bond fund of the district and shall pay to the owner of said property any surplus remaining.

Redemption

Any person interested in the said property may redeem the same at any time within one year after the date of sale, by paying to the county treasurer for such purchaser a sum equal to the purchase price stated in the certificate, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of sale to such redemption.

Deed to purchaser

If no redemption shall be made within one year, the treasurer upon demand and surrender of such certificate of purchase, shall execute to the purchaser, his heirs or assigns, or to himself as trustee of the district if the property shall have been sold to him, a deed of conveyance of the parcel of land described in such certificate, which deed shall convey to the grantee therein named the said land free and clear of all encumbrances, except any portion of any reclamation assessment remaining unpaid at the date of said sale; each installment whereof may be called and collected as herein provided, except that no parcel sold and conveyed to the county treasurer as trustee of the district shall thereafter be subject to sale by the treasurer for delinquent installments but in case a call of any assessment on any such tract so sold, shall, during the period for redemption from such previous sale become delinquent said tract shall be again sold in the same manner as above provided, but only to the county treasurer as trustee of the district for the amount of such subsequent delinquent installment and penalty, and a certificate of sale issued therefor to him as in other cases. Every deed by a county treasurer purporting to be executed under this section shall be prima facie evidence of the truth of the matters therein recited, and of ownership by the grantee of the lands therein described.

The treasurer shall credit to the bond fund of the district all money collected by him by sale or otherwise, upon assessment against which bonds shall have been issued, including interest and penalties, and he shall likewise credit to said fund the amounts of purchase money paid in bonds or coupons on sales made for said assessment. The treasurer shall charge to the bond fund of the district the expenses of publication and such other necessary incidental expenses of the treasurer as are necessarily incurred by him in collecting and disbursing the moneys received and disbursed by him, as well as the cost of keeping such additional records as are made necessary for him to keep in order to carry out the provisions of this section. All claims by the county treasurer and such expenditures must be first approved by the board of trustees of the district and a warrant drawn by the trustees of the district on such bond fund of the district in favor of such county treasurer in payment for the same. Credit to bond fund.

Any parcel of land bid in and purchased by a treasurer as aforesaid, as trustee of the district, may be sold and conveyed by him or his successor in office at any time after the expiration of said redemption period of one year, at public or private sale and with or without notice to any person paying him the amount for which said parcel was bid in by said treasurer at delinquent sale, with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum, compounded yearly, from the date of said delinquent sale, and also the amount of all subsequent installments then delinquent, with accrued interest and penalties thereon. Such payment may be made either in cash or in matured bonds and coupons issued on said assessment, taken at their face value, and the treasurer shall execute a deed to such purchaser upon such sale, conveying said property free of encumbrance except the unpaid balance of said assessment and any other assessments of said district thereon After the lapse of one year from and after the expiration of the period of redemption, such parcel may be sold as in section 3466a of this code provided. Any balance remaining in such bond fund, after payment in full of the principal and interest of all outstanding bonds of the district, shall be by the treasurer transferred to the general fund of the district. Sale of land purchased by treasurer

The provisions of this section, as hereby amended, shall apply to all sales for delinquencies, and the proceedings had in connection therewith, on all assessments heretofore or hereafter to be levied. Application of section provided in the Penal Code of the State of California for persons illegally voting at elections.

In the event that ownership of any property in the district is changed after the making of the last assessment roll for the district, the owner thereof shall be entitled to vote thereon upon production of the original or of certified copy of the record thereof in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the property is situate. Any person not legally qualified to vote who shall make any false statement in respect to his right to vote shall incur all of the penalties Voting after change of ownership.

Bonds in payment on assessment.

Any landowner of the district who shall desire at any time to lessen or remove the lien upon his land of any assessment on which bonds have been or hereafter may be issued may deliver to the county treasurer for cancellation any bonds payable out of said assessment, and the treasurer shall credit against the assessment on his land the principal and accrued interest of said bonds.

Endorsement.

In all cases where it is herein provided that bonds and/or interest coupons may be used in lieu of cash and the entire amount of any of such bonds or coupons tendered shall not be required to complete the particular transaction, the county treasurer shall endorse thereon, as paid, the amount thereof which has been tendered for payment or cancellation, and shall endorse on the unmatured coupons attached to any such bond the amount said unmatured coupons shall be redeemable for, said amount to be computed on the unpaid portion of such bond at the rate of interest provided in such bond.

Calling and retiring bonds.

The board of trustees, in their discretion, may provide at any time before sale of said bonds or before sale of any refunding bonds under section 3480a of this code that said bonds shall be callable at face value in the manner provided by law at any interest payment date together with accrued interest thereon, and either with or without a premium to be specified by said board and inserted in said bonds; and the method of calling and retiring said bonds shall be as follows:

Order calling bonds

Not less than one hundred twenty days before any interest payment date the trustees, by a two-thirds vote, may adopt an order calling bonds of the district, in any amount, for payment on such date. The order shall specify the maturities of the bonds called, commencing with the earliest maturities. If less than all bonds of any maturity are called then the trustees, by a drawing shall ascertain the bonds to be called in such maturity and the order shall designate the number of the bonds so drawn. A certified copy of the order shall be delivered to the county treasurer and he shall add the principal of said bonds, with any premium provided by the terms thereof, to the amount which he is required to collect for payment of the next maturing interest coupons. In his notice of call of assessment the county treasurer shall specify the amount which is included for payment of principal of bonds and premium. Bonds shall be paid in order of presentation.

Notice of call.

Not less than once a week for four weeks prior to the date on which bonds are called for payment the county treasurer, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the main county, shall publish a notice wherein he shall set forth said order of the trustees and shall notify all holders of said bonds to present the same for payment on the date specified and that whenever, on or after such date, funds are received by him for payment of said bonds with any said premium all interest thereon shall cease.

Redemption of property sold to treasurer.

In the event said land is sold to the county treasurer as trustee for the district, any person interested in said property may redeem the same within a like period of one year from the date of sale by paying to the county treasurer the said price stated in the certificate with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of sale to the date of said redemption, either in cash or in bonds of said district, or their interest coupons, issued on said assessment then matured or to mature within sixty days from the date of such payment, taken at their face value, or part in cash and part in said bonds and coupons.

Cancellation of proceedings.

If within one year after any issue of bonds is deposited with the county treasurer, none of such bonds shall have been sold, or if within one year from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of bonds, none of the bonds have been deposited with the county treasurer, the board of trustees, in their discretion may by an order entered in their minutes cancel all proceedings taken in connection with such bond issue. A certified copy of such order shall be filed with the county treasurer of each county wherein lands affected by the assessment on which said bonds were based are situated. The county treasurer with whom said bonds have been deposited, shall thereupon cancel said bonds together with all coupons attached thereto. Such cancellation shall not affect the validity of the assessment upon which said bonds were issued, and the board of trustees may call for the payment of such assessment, or any part thereof, in such installments from time to time as they shall determine and as provided in section 3466 of this code, or, in their discretion, and either before or after any installment of said assessment shall have been paid, they may cause bonds to be authorized and issued upon the unpaid portion of such assessment after proceedings therefor shall have been taken in the manner hereinabove in this section provided.

Cancellation of unsold bonds.

In case a portion of any issue of bonds remains unsold after the lapse of one year after the same shall have been deposited with the county treasurer or have not been deposited with the county treasurer within one year after the date of the election authorizing their issuance the board of trustees may in their discretion likewise, by an order entered on their minutes cancel said portion of said bonds so remaining unsold or not so deposited with the county treasurer and all proceedings in relation thereto; and a certified copy of such order shall likewise be filed with the county treasurer in each county wherein the lands affected by the assessment on which said bonds are based are situated.

Assessments represented by unsold bonds.

The county treasurer with whom said bonds have been deposited shall thereupon cancel the same together with all coupons attached thereto. In case a portion only of any bond issue shall have been canceled as above provided the board of trustees shall call in and order paid the portion of the assessment represented by the bonds canceled, in such installment or installments as the said board shall determine, and as provided in section 3466 of this code, and the amount collected shall be deposited in the county treasury and paid out on warrants of the district in the order of their registration drawn in payment of the cost of the works, repairs, maintenance, charges or incidental expenses of the district, for the payment of which the said assessment upon which said bonds were issued was levied.

Limit on call of such assessments

Provided, that where a portion of the bonds based on such assessment have been sold are outstanding and remain unpaid in whole or in part only such portion of said assessment shall be so called in or ordered paid as above provided for the payment of warrants issued in payment of the costs of the works of the district, maintenance or repairs as will leave sufficient of said assessment on said land uncalled as will meet and pay the principal and interest of said bonds as and when due and payable.

SEC. 5. Section 3480b of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Refunding bonds.

Sec. 3480b. (1) The board of trustees of any reclamation district organized under or pursuant to the laws of the State of California may, as hereinafter provided, cause refunding bonds to be issued for the purpose of refunding any or all outstanding bonds of the district, including original issues and refunding issues. Such refunding bonds may be in substantially the following form, to wit:

(Form of Bond)

Form of refunding bonds.

United States of America
State of California
County of ------

Refunding Bond of Reclamation District No. ------

Reclamation District No. ------, in the county of ------, in the State of California, a reclamation district duly organized and existing under and pursuant to the laws of said State, is indebted to and promises to pay to the bearer hereof, for value received, the sum of ------ dollars ($------), on the ------ day of ------, 19--, (unless before that date this bond is called for redemption, and payment hereof provided for, in the manner set forth in the Refunding Plan hereinafter mentioned) with interest thereon at the rate of ------ per cent (--%) per annum from ------, 19--, to and including the date of maturity of this bond. Said interest shall be payable semiannually on the first day of January and the first day of July of each year. Said principal and interest are payable in gold coin of the United States of America of the standard of weight and fineness existing on the date of this bond, at the office of the treasurer of the county of ------, State of California, and is payable only on presentation and surrender of the proper interest coupon hereto attached as the same mature.

This refunding bond is one of an authorized issue of refunding bonds of said district in the aggregate principal amount of ------ dollars ($------), known as the ------ Refunding Issue, all of like date and tenor, and all issued under and subject to the provisions of a Refunding Plan dated ------, to which Refunding Plan reference is hereby made for the statement of the nature and extent of the security, the rights of the holders of the refunding bonds and of the interest coupons in respect thereto, and the terms and conditions upon which the refunding bonds are issued and secured, to all of the provisions of which Refunding Plan, the bearer or registered owner of this refunding bond, by his acceptance hereof, assents. This refunding bond is issued by authority of section 3480b of the Political Code of the State of California, and pursuant to a vote of the landowners of said district at an election duly called, held and canvassed in conformity with the requirements of said section and the bonds of this issue are issued for the purpose of refunding ------ dollars ($------) of the principal amount of the bonds of this district, and outstanding on the ------ day of ------, 19--, and this bond is secured by an assessment or assessments levied on the lands of said district and filed in the office of the county treasurer of said county of ------ on the ------ day of ------, 19--.

It is hereby recited, certified and declared that this refunding bond is issued in strict conformity with the Constitution and laws of the State of California, and with proceedings of said reclamation district authorizing the same, and that all acts, conditions and things required to exist, happen and to be performed precedent to and in the issuance of this refunding bond, have existed, happened and been performed in regular and due time, form and manner as required by law, and that this refunding bond together with all other indebtedness and obligations of said reclamation district does not exceed any limit prescribed by the Constitution or Statutes of the State of California.

It is further certified, recited and declared that the indebtedness which this bond is issued to refund, is a valid, subsisting, outstanding and legally binding indebtedness, evidenced by bonds and coupons of said district, and that this refunding bond shall be applied only to the refunding of the indebtedness for which it is issued, and for no other purpose.

This bond is subject to call and redemption on any interest payment date at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest as provided in said refunding plan.

In testimony whereof, the said district, by its board of trustees, has caused this bond to be signed by the president of said board and attested by the auditor of said county of _____ with his seal of office affixed this _____ day of _____, 19___.

_____
President of said board.

Attest: _____

Auditor of the county of _____,
State of California.

Form of interest coupons

The interest coupons to be attached to said bonds may be in substantially the following form:

No. _____ $_____

The county treasurer of _____ County, California, will pay to the holder hereof on the _____ day of _____, 19___, (unless before that date the within bond is called for redemption, and payment hereof provided for, in the manner set forth in the Refunding Plan referred to in said bond), at his office in the county of _____, the sum of $_____ in gold coin of the United States out of funds of Reclamation District No. _____, for interest due on said date on refunding bond of said district, No. _____.

_____
County Auditor.

Issuance.

(2) Such refunding bonds shall, except as otherwise provided herein, be issued in substantially the manner prescribed by section 3480a of the Political Code for the issuance of refunding bonds, and the provisions of said section concerning the authorization, issuance, exchange and/or sale of bonds issued pursuant to said section shall be applicable to refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section.

Filing of refunding plan

Prior to the issuance of any funding or refunding bonds pursuant to this section 3480b the board of trustees of the district shall cause a copy of the Refunding Plan together with a certified copy of the order of the board of trustees providing for the issuance of said funding or refunding bonds and a certified copy of the order of the California Districts Securities Commission approving said Refunding Plan and the issuance of said bonds to be filed with the county treasurer of the main county.

Special election to authorize refunding bonds

(3) The board of trustees of a reclamation district proposing to issue refunding bonds pursuant to this section, shall cause to be prepared a plan for the refunding of any or all of its outstanding bonds and shall submit said plan for the approval of the California Districts Securities Commission. If and when any such plan is approved by said commission, the board of trustees of such district shall call an election of the landowners within said district for the purpose of authorizing the issuance of such refunding bonds. Such election shall be called and held and the result thereof determined and declared substantially in the same manner as provided by section 3480 of the Political Code. The maturity of said refunding bonds and the rate of interest thereon shall be fixed by the board of trustees of said district but in no case shall the maturity of any of said bonds exceed fifty years nor the rate of interest exceed six per centum per annum, payable semiannually. The board of trustees of any reclamation district may, with the approval of the California Districts Securities Commission, make expenditures, or incur indebtedness, and issue warrants therefor, for the purpose of paying the cost and expenses incident to any such Refunding Plan or in connection with such funding or refunding of its bonds. Maturity and interest.

(4) Any issue of refunding bonds issued pursuant to this section shall be based upon and payable out of the assessment or assessments from which the bonds so refunded were payable in accordance with the provisions of section 3480 of this code, and shall mature at one time. Prior to or at the time of the issuance of such refunding bonds, said board of trustees shall provide for the creation of an annual sinking fund for the payment of said bonds in such amounts as may be determined by the board of trustees with the approval of the District Securities Commission; and the county treasurer of the main county shall at least ninety days before the first day of January in each and every year so long as said bonds are outstanding, levy and collect a call against the assessment securing the payment of the principal and interest of said bonds, in addition to all other calls required by law to be made, sufficient to provide the amounts of such sinking fund payments for the then current year; provided, that at or prior to ninety days before the first day of January in any year the board of trustees may with the approval of the California Districts Securities Commission first obtained, modify the amount of such sinking fund payment and in the event of the California Districts Securities Commission approving such modification of the sinking fund payments said commission shall forthwith mail the county treasurer of the main county a copy of its order approving such modification. Any such order of approval made by the California Districts Securities Commission shall set forth specifically the amount to be called by the county treasurer if said amount be less than the amount set forth in the sinking fund schedule. Sinking fund.

(5) Whenever such sinking fund shall contain at least ten thousand dollars, the county treasurer shall, upon request of the board of trustees of the district, by notice published two times, to wit, once a week for two successive weeks in some newspaper published in the county where the office of the district is located, and, in its discretion, in any other newspaper or newspapers, invite sealed proposals for the sale to the district of any of its outstanding bonds or refunding bonds, payment of which is secured by the assessment out of which said sinking fund has been created through calls made as hereinabove provided. Said notice shall state the amount available Redemption of bonds for the redemption of such bonds and shall specify the time and place when and where such proposals will be opened. All such proposals shall be opened at the office of said county treasurer at an open meeting of the board of trustees of the district to be convened in said office at the time specified in said notice or at some subsequent time to which said meeting shall be adjourned. Any or all of such proposals may be rejected in the discretion of the county treasurer and must be rejected by said treasurer if requested so to do in writing by a majority of the trustees of said district.

Purchase of bonds with balance

(6) If no bids are received, or if the bids received and accepted are not sufficient to exhaust the moneys so on hand and available for the purpose, the county treasurer may, by and with the written assent of at least two members of the board of trustees of the district, purchase at private sale with any available money in the sinking fund, any of said bonds for the payment of which said sinking fund was created. No proposal to sell bonds to the district at a price in excess of the par value thereof shall be accepted. All bonds so purchased from sinking fund moneys shall forthwith be canceled.

Investment of sinking fund moneys.

(7) The board of trustees may invest any money in the sinking fund in bonds of the United States or of the State of California and shall hold the bonds so purchased, together with the income therefrom, as part of the sinking fund until such time as the board of directors may determine that it is for the best interests of the district that such bonds or any of them be sold. The proceeds of sale of any bonds in which any part of said sinking fund shall be invested shall be deposited in the sinking fund.

Call and redemption of bonds.

(8) The board of trustees shall by resolution adopted at or prior to the time of issuing any funding or refunding bonds provide for the call and redemption of its funding or refunding bonds, in numerical order, or by lot, as may be prescribed in said resolution, on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity, at not exceeding the par value thereof and accrued interest, in which event a statement to that effect shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of such redemption shall be published once a week for three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the main county. The first publication of such notice shall be not less than thirty days nor more than ninety days prior to the date fixed for such redemption. After the date fixed for such redemption if the district shall have provided funds available for the payment of the principal and interest of the bonds so called, interest on said bonds thereafter shall cease.

Assessment for sinking fund

(9) Notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, the board of trustees shall not be required to levy any such assessment for said sinking fund for said current year if the district shall have on hand surplus funds from other sources available for said sinking fund payment and shall have deposited the same in said sinking fund; and if the district shall have on hand funds available for the payment of a portion only of said sinking fund payment and shall have deposited the same in said fund, said call of assessment for sinking fund purposes for such year shall be so made as to provide only for raising the amount by which the amount of such sinking fund payment shall exceed the amount deposited in said sinking fund as aforesaid.

Sale of bonds.

(10) Any funding or refunding bonds herein provided for may be sold from time to time in the same manner as other bonds of the district, or, may be exchanged for other bonds of the district upon such terms and conditions as may be approved by the California Districts Securities Commission. Any such outstanding bonds so funded or refunded or exchanged shall be immediately canceled by the treasurer.

Issuance of bonds.

(11) Whenever bonds shall have been authorized pursuant to this section the board of trustees of said district shall cause said bonds to be prepared and executed in behalf of said district and immediately after the execution thereof all of said bonds shall be deposited with the treasurer of the main county. At any time within thirty days after said bonds shall have been delivered to the treasurer of said county, an action may be commenced in the superior court of said county to have it determined that said bonds are a legal obligation of said district and said action shall be commenced and prosecuted in the same manner as is provided in subdivision 10 of section 3480a of the Political Code for the validation of bonds issued pursuant to said section.

Action to test legality.

Construction of section.

(12) The authority herein given to issue refunding bonds pursuant to the provisions of this section 3480b is in addition to the authority granted by section 3480a of the Political Code and nothing in this section contained shall be deemed to amend or modify said section 3480a or be applicable to bonds that may be issued under the provisions of section 3480a; provided, however, that the procedure specified in section 3480a, in so far as it is adopted by section 3480b, shall be a part thereof, it being the intent of the Legislature to provide an alternative method of issuing refunding bonds, either under the provisions of section 3480a or under the provisions of this section 3480b.

Constitutionality.

SEC. 6. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional or unforceable such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase hereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional or unforceable.

SEC. 7. This act shall take effect immediately.

Urgency.

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1, Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and it is deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that this law shall go into effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency.

Many reclamation districts organized under the laws of this State have issued bonds for the purpose of acquiring works for the reclamation of the lands within such districts, which bonds mature in whole or in part on July 1, 1933. If this amendment does not go into effect until ninety days after the final adjournment of this session of the Legislature, such districts will be unable to take advantage of the provisions hereof prior to July 1, 1933. Unless such bonds and interest coupons are refunded pursuant to the provisions of this act such districts must advance large cash payment for maturing bonds and interest coupons on that date, thereby leaving them without sufficient funds to enable them to maintain and operate efficiently their works of reclamation. The proper and efficient operation of such works is necessary in order to prevent the failure of the projects and the failure of such reclamation projects would be a menace to the public health of the inhabitants of such districts and the adjacent communities If, however, the provisions of this amendment become a law immediately, such districts will be able to refund their bonds and coupons on or before July 1, 1933, thereby enabling such districts to maintain their said works of reclamation.

Repeal. SEC. 9. Section 3480c of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 473.

Stats 1931, p. 1442, amended. An act to amend the title of and sections 4, 9, 15, 27, 28, 35, 38, 38a, 40, 44, 49, 58, 68, 79, 83, 88, 91, 100, 104, 108, and 109 of, to add sections 38b, 84a, and 109a to, and to repeal sections 69 to 74, inclusive, of an act entitled "An act to establish a retirement system to provide for the retirement of employees of the State of California, and make an appropriation therefor, approved June 9, 1931, relating to retirement systems covering governmental employees in this State.

[Approved by the Governor May 22, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1442 Title. SECTION 1. The title of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: An act to provide for the creation, establishment, and adjustment with other such systems, of a retirement system for employees of the State of California, and make an appropriation therefor.

Stats. 1931, p. 1442. SEC. 2. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Employee" Sec. 4. "Employee" shall mean any person in the employ of the State of California whose compensation, or at least that portion of such compensation which is provided by the State, is paid out of funds directly controlled by the State, excluding all political subdivisions, municipal, public and quasi public corporations;

SEC. 3. Section 9 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1442.

Sec. 9. "Prior service" shall mean the State service, as defined herein, rendered before the first day of January, 1932, and allowable as provided in section 49 of this act; "Prior service."

SEC. 4. Section 15 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1442.

Sec. 15. "Regular interest" shall mean interest at four per centum per annum, compounded at each June thirtieth, plus such additional interest as the board may credit from year to year in accordance with the provisions of this act; "Regular interest."

SEC. 5. Section 27 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 1442

Sec. 27. From and after the date this system becomes effective, every employee who has rendered one-half year of continuous service is a member of the retirement system, and every other employee shall become a member after the completion of six months of State service, uninterrupted by a break of more than one month, provided that an employee who has entered or enters State service after January 1, 1932, as the result of the assumption by the State of a governmental function previously exercised by a political subdivision thereof and under which function he was employed for at least such six months' period immediately preceding such assumption, shall be considered a member on and after the date of said entry into State service. Who are members.

SEC. 6. Section 28 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1442

Sec. 28. Every employee who reenters State service after the date this system becomes effective, and who, prior to such reentry has completed six months of State service, uninterrupted by a break of more than one month, shall become a member of the retirement system upon such reentry.

SEC. 7. Section 35 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1442

Sec. 35. Persons in State service on June 30, 1933, or prior thereto, whose compensation equals or exceeds four hundred sixteen dollars and sixty-six cents per month, and who file, or have filed, with the Board of Administration an election not to become members. Persons exempt.

SEC. 8. Section 38 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 1442.

Sec. 38. Persons who, if the retirement system did not exist, would be subject to the provisions of Part IV of Division V of the School Code and who file requests for exemption with the board within ninety days after becoming employed in a status in which they will become eligible for membership in the retirement system. School teachers

Any person who was employed in a position which, if the retirement system had not existed, would have been subject to the provisions of Part IV of Division V of the School Code, but who was by the provisions of this act made a member of the retirement system, may withdraw from the retirement system and again become subject to the provisions of Part IV of Division V of the School Code by filing an election so to do with the Board of Administration on or before December 31, 1933. Upon the receipt of such election by the Board of Administration, said person shall cease to be a member of the retirement system and shall become subject to the provisions of Part IV of Division V of the School Code. Said person, solely for the purposes of section 75 of this act, shall be considered as permanently separated from State service. The Public School Teachers Retirement Salary Fund Board shall count as part of the service required for retirement under Part IV of Division V of the School Code, service rendered by such person as a member of the retirement system, and also service rendered by such person as a member of the retirement system whose termination of membership therein results from separation from State service because of the abolition of the position he holds in State service, if such service would have been so counted had not the act creating the retirement system become effective, and if, also, such person pays to the said retirement salary fund the amounts he would have paid had he never been a member of the retirement system.

Stats. 1931, p. 1442

SEC. 9. Section 38a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

U. of Cal employees.

Sec. 38a. All State employees coming within the meaning of this act, who are beneficiaries under the pension and retirement annuities system of the University of California.

New section

SEC. 10. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 38b and to read as follows:

Members of other systems

Sec. 38b. Persons who are members of any other retirement or pension system supported wholly or in part by funds of the United States government, any State government or political subdivision thereof and who are receiving credit in such other retirement system for service, it being the purpose of this section to prevent a person from receiving credit for the same service in two retirement systems supported wholly or in part by public funds, and no person shall receive such credit under any circumstance.

For the purpose of this section, persons who merely are receiving pensions or retirement allowances, or other payments, from any source whatever, on account of service rendered to other than the State and when such persons were not in State service, shall not be considered, because of such receipt, members of any other retirement or pension system.

Stats. 1931, p. 1442

SEC. 11. Section 40 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Cessation of membership.

Sec. 40. Each member and each person retired shall be subject to all the provisions of this act and to the rules and regulations adopted by the Board of Administration. Any person who renders less than five years of service in any period of ten consecutive years, who withdraws more than one-fourth of his normal contributions, or who is retired, ceases to be a member.

SEC. 12. Section 44 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1442.

Sec. 44. The board shall determine who are employees within the meaning of this act and shall be the sole authority and judge under this act as to the conditions under which persons may be admitted to and continue to receive benefits under the retirement system and shall have exclusive control of the administration and investment of the retirement fund. As soon as practical after the close of each fiscal year it shall file with the Governor a report of its work for such fiscal year. Control of fund.

SEC. 13. Section 49 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1442.

Sec. 49. Credit for prior service shall be granted to each person who has rendered such service as defined in this act, and who has become a member of the retirement system on January 1, 1932, or within three years after last rendering prior service, the prior service credited, however, to be one-half year less than the total prior service rendered by him. Prior service so credited shall be the basis for a retirement allowance or benefit as provided in this act only if the membership in the retirement system continues unbroken until retirement on a retirement allowance or until the granting of such other benefit, provided that termination of membership by withdrawal of accumulated contributions followed by the redeposit of such contributions upon reentrance into State service as herein provided shall not constitute a break in membership, but this section shall not be construed to entitle any person to credit as prior service for time during which he was not in State service as defined in this act. Credit for prior service

SEC. 14. Section 58 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 1442

Sec. 58. In addition to rendering the annual report to the Governor required by section 44 of this act, it shall cause to be published annually a financial statement showing an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the retirement system created by this act and a statement as to the accumulated cash and securities in the retirement fund as certified by the State Controller, but until all prior service is verified, the Board of Administration may omit from the financial statement published annually, assets and liabilities resulting from such prior service, and may include assets and liabilities on account of service rendered as members in amounts equal only to accumulated contributions held on account of such service. Financial statement

SEC. 15. Section 68 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1442.

Additional benefits contributions

Sec. 68. Subject to the rules and regulations to be established and promulgated by the Board of Administration, any member may elect to contribute at rates in excess of those provided for in section 65 of this act, for the purpose of providing additional benefits, but the exercise of this privilege by a member shall not place on the State any additional financial obligation. The provisions of section 67, next preceding, shall apply also to additional contributions. The board, upon application, shall furnish to such member information concerning the nature and amount of additional benefits to be provided by such additional contributions.

Stats. 1931, p. 1442.

SEC. 16. Section 79 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Twenty years service.

Sec. 79. Upon attaining the age of sixty or more years and completing twenty years of continuous State service credited under this act, among which must be included one year of service after becoming a member of the retirement system, any member may be retired upon written application to the board; and if such member selects one of the options set forth in sections 95 to 99, inclusive, of this act, the application must name a date not less than thirty days after the filing thereof, on which he desires to be retired.

Stats 1931, p. 1442.

SEC. 17. Section 83 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Additional pension.

Sec. 83. An additional pension, purchased by the contributions of the State, which shall be equal to one-seventieth of the average annual compensation earnable by him during the three years ending December 31, 1931, multiplied by the number of years of prior service credited to him, except that if a member retires before attaining the age of sixty-five years, the additional pension shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pension computed as provided in this paragraph as deferred to age sixty-five, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

New section.

SEC. 17a. A new section is hereby added to said act, to be numbered 84a and to read as follows:

Service for political subdivision

Sec. 84a. The service rendered by a member while employed by a political subdivision and under a governmental function subsequently assumed by the State shall be added to the State service of such member in determining whether he qualifies for retirement. In addition to the retirement allowance on account of the State service provided for in this act, such member shall receive a retirement allowance, on account of service rendered for the subdivision and under the governmental function, in such an amount as may be provided by contributions, when applied according to the mortality, service and other tables adopted by the Board of Administration, paid to the retirement system by the said subdivision and/or said member for that purpose, and no contribution shall be required of the State for any retirement allowance based on such service.

SEC. 18. Section 88 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931. p 1442.

Sec. 88. If, in the opinion of the Board of Administration, such disability is not due to intemperance, wilful misconduct or violation of law on the part of the member, a pension purchased by the contributions of the State, which, together with his annuity provided by his accumulated normal contributions, shall make the retirement allowance, exclusive of the annuity provided by his accumulated additional contributions, equal to (a) ninety per cent of one-seventieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service credited to him, if such disability retirement allowance exceed one-fourth of his final compensation; otherwise, (b) ninety per cent of one-seventieth of his final compensation multiplied by the number of years of service which would be creditable to him were his service to continue until attainment by him of age sixty-five, but in such case the retirement allowance shall not exceed one-fourth of such final compensation. In no event, however, shall the pension purchased by the contributions of the State be more than sufficient to make the disability retirement allowance, exclusive of the annuity provided by accumulated additional contributions, exceed the service retirement allowance, exclusive of any annuity purchased by accumulated additional contributions, receivable by the member should he retire at the lowest age at which he would be eligible for service retirement. Pension for disability.

SEC. 19. Section 91 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1442.

Sec. 91. Should a disability beneficiary reenter the State service and be eligible for membership in the retirement system in accordance with section 26 of this act, his retirement allowance shall be canceled and he shall immediately become a member of the retirement system, his rate of contribution for future years being that established for his age at the time of such reentry. His individual account shall be credited with an amount which is the actuarial equivalent of his annuity at that time, as based on a disabled life, but such amount shall not exceed the amount of his accumulated contributions as such amount stood at the time of his retirement for disability. Such member shall receive credit for prior service in the same manner as though he had never been retired for disability. Reentry into State service

SEC. 20. Section 100 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1442.

Sec 100. Upon the death of a member either while in the State service, or within four months after such member's discontinuance of State service, or while such member continuously, from the date of discontinuance of State service to death, is physically or mentally incapacitated to perform his duties, there shall be paid to his estate, or to such person having an insurable interest in his life as he nominates by written designation duly executed and filed with the Board of Death in service, etc

Administration, his accumulated contributions; and in addition, if the deceased has been a member of the retirement system for at least one year there shall be so paid an amount, provided from contributions made by the State, which shall be equal to one-twelfth of the annual compensation earnable by the deceased during the twelve months immediately preceding his death, multiplied by the number of completed years of service under the system, but not to exceed fifty per centum of such compensation. A person, while a member or after retirement, shall have the right to revoke the nomination of a beneficiary made by him under the retirement system, and to nominate a beneficiary in lieu thereof, all by written designation duly executed and filed with the retirement board, provided that this right shall not extend to beneficiaries nominated under options 2, 3, and 4 in sections 97, 98, and 99 of this act.

Funeral expenses.

The board of administration, however, in the event that the whereabouts of the nominated beneficiary can not be determined, or in the event that the nominated beneficiary be the estate of the deceased person, may pay in its discretion all or a portion of the amount payable under this section, but not to exceed the funeral expenses of such deceased person as evidenced by the sworn itemized statement of the undertaker who conducted the funeral and such other documents as the board may require, to said undertaker, and said payment shall be full and complete discharge and acquittance of the amount payable under this section up to the amount so paid, anything in this act to the contrary notwithstanding.

Stats 1931, p. 1442

SEC. 21. Section 104 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Power of board.

Sec. 104. If it shall be impracticable for the Board of Administration to determine from the records the length of service, the compensation or the age of any member, or if any member refuses or fails to give the board a statement of his State service, his compensation or his age, the said board may estimate, for the purposes of this act, such length of service, compensation or age.

Stats 1931, p. 1442.

SEC. 22. Section 108 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Appropriation. From general fund

Sec. 108. From and after the date the system created by this act takes effect, out of any moneys in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, there shall be paid monthly into the "State employees' retirement fund" a sum equal to three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of the total compensation paid members of the retirement system whose compensation is paid from the general fund of the State. The Board of Administration shall certify to the State Controller at the end of each month the total amount of compensation paid such members of the retirement system, and the State Controller shall thereupon transfer three and twenty-five one-hundredths per centum of this amount from the general fund of the State to the "State employees' retirement fund." fuel from interstate transit, or the improper return of motor vehicle fuel previously exported, prescribing penalties for violation of the provisions of this act, and repealing all acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith," approved May 30, 1923, Statutes of 1923, page 571, as amended, which section shall be numbered 13½ and shall read as follows:

Additional uses for county funds

Sec. 13½. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 13 and in addition to the authority therein conferred for the expenditure of the funds therein mentioned the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, may also in its discretion expend any portion of said sums so received by such county, or city and county, for the payment of any portion of the principal or interest of, or for the redemption or purchase at a discount of, or for transfer to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of, bonds of a special assessment district or districts within said county, city and county, or any incorporated city therein, for the payment of which special assessments (levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands) have been or are to be levied, which bonds have been issued in payment of, or the proceeds of which have been used for the acquisition of rights of way for the opening, widening, straightening, extending of, establishing of, or for the construction, improvement or repair of streets, roads, highways, bridges or culverts within such county, or city and county, or any incorporated city therein.

Resolution of county use

Before any such sums may be expended for the purpose provided in the next preceding paragraph the board of supervisors of any such county, or city and county, shall, by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of the members thereof, determine that the streets, roads, highways bridges or culverts for the acquisition of rights of way for which, or the construction, improvement or repair of which, as the case may be, said bonds were issued are of general county use. It is the intention of this provision that no such funds shall be expended for any of the purposes herein enumerated if the streets, roads, highways, bridges or culverts are of only local use.

Restrictions

The authority conferred upon the board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, in this section, shall apply only to, and be restricted to, an amount or amounts equal to twenty per centum of the said sums so received by any such county, or city and county.

Said authority is further limited to bonds which shall have been issued prior to the taking effect of this section, or shall be issued under any proceeding initiated prior to January 1, 1933.

CHAPTER 482.

Stats. 1923, p. 517, amended

An act to amend section 159 of the California Vehicle Act, relating to the motor vehicle fund and the disposition of moneys placed therein, and to repeal the section 159½ of said California Vehicle Act added by chapter 1026, Statutes of 1931.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 159 of the California Vehicle Act, as amended, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats. 1931, p. 2285. See Ch. 1031, Stats. 1933.

Sec. 159. (a) There is hereby created in the State treasury a fund which shall be known as the "Motor vehicle fund." The State Treasurer shall deposit all money received by him from the division or otherwise under the provisions of this act into the motor vehicle fund.

Motor vehicle fund.

(b) There is hereby appropriated out of such fund all moneys received as transfer fees, operators' and chauffeurs' license fees, and duplicate operators' and chauffeurs' license fees and in addition thereto such portion of the remainder of such motor vehicle fund not exceeding in any registration year thirty-five per cent thereof as may be necessary for the maintenance of the Division of Motor Vehicles to be expended by the division in carrying out the provisions of this act; and the Division of Motor Vehicles is hereby authorized out of said funds to purchase real estate and erect such buildings as it may require, subject to the approval of the Department of Finance. There shall be deducted from the sums which the division is allowed to expend hereunder such amount as may be allowed to said division in each calendar year under budget appropriation by the State Legislature. The division may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate one hundred thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the Department of Finance and by the Controller. The balance of said fund, after the expenditure of so much as may be permitted by this act for the support of the Division of Motor Vehicles, shall be known as the "net receipts" and shall be devoted to the purposes and in the manner herein specified.

Appropriation to Department of Motor Vehicles

Revolving fund

"Net receipts"

(c) One-half of such "net receipts" is hereby appropriated and shall be paid from the motor vehicle fund to the counties of this State in proportion to the number of vehicles registered in such counties as determined by the places of residence of the owners to whom the registration certificates are issued. All amounts paid under this section to the counties shall be deposited in the road funds of the several counties receiving the same and shall be expended by such counties exclusively in the construction and maintenance of public roads, bridges and culverts; provided, that the board of supervisors of any county may in its discretion expend any portion of such sums so received by such county in the construction, maintenance and repair of streets, bridges and culverts within those incorporated cities therein the legislative bodies of which by ordinance or resolution authorize such work of construction, maintenance and repair. The board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, may also in its discretion expend any portion of such sums so received by such county, or city and county, for payment of interest upon, or redemption of bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for the construction, maintenance and repair of streets, bridges and culverts within such county, or city and county The board of supervisors of any county, or city and county, is hereby empowered to expend any portion of the amounts paid to the said county, or city and county and deposited in the special road improvement fund or other road fund thereof, as herein in this section directed, in and for the construction of public highways outside of its corporate limits; provided, however, that the construction thereof is authorized by ordinance or resolution of the board of supervisors of the county or city and county, in which said highway is to be constructed. Where such authorization is given by ordinance or resolution as herein provided, the board of supervisors of the county, or city and county desiring the said construction, may, through its own boards, officers or commissions expend the amounts herein authorized to be expended, or may, by resolution of its board of supervisors, transfer said amounts to the account of the Highway Commission of the State of California or to the account of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States and may by said resolution specify and determine the route and type of construction of said highway, and the said amount thus transferred shall, if accepted by the said highway commission or said Secretary of Agriculture be expended for the purpose specified and determined in said resolution and not otherwise.

Roads outside of county.

(d) The board of supervisors of each county in the State shall establish a road fund in the county treasury for the receipt of such funds received, as hereinbefore provided, and shall also make an annual report to the State Department of Public Works not later than three months after the close of the counties' fiscal year, upon forms to be provided by the State Department of Public Works, showing the amount of moneys received from the motor vehicle fund during the preceding fiscal year and the disposition of said moneys, specifying in such detail as may be required by said department the roads, bridges and culverts constructed or maintained out of said moneys and the sums applied to the several items of such construction or maintenance.

section 1 thereof to authorize aid in the payment of bonds and/or interest thereon.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1925, p 236

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Resolution extending county aid

Section 1. The board of supervisors of any county may by resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of the members thereof determine that the proposed establishing, laying out, opening, widening, extending, straightening, construction, improvement or altering of any street or other public way or any portion thereof within an incorporated city or extending along or across the boundary thereof or the establishing, modifying or changing the grade thereof or the separation of the grades of any two or more streets or other public ways which intersect each other or the separation of the grades of any such street or other public way and any steam, electric or street railroad crossing such street or other public way or the construction of the necessary pavements, curbs, culverts, bridges, tunnels, subways, viaducts, drainage facilities or other structures incident to or a part of such street or other public way or the acquisition by purchase, condemnation or otherwise of any lands, rights of way or other property necessary for any of the purposes hereinbefore mentioned is of general county interest and that county aid shall be extended therefor. Such resolution must refer to the proposed new or existing street or portion of street or other public way, the general nature of the improvement proposed and the nature of the aid to be furnished by the county and the fund or funds from which it is to be paid.

Kind of aid

Thereafter and in accordance with such resolution the county may give aid in one or more of the following ways, viz: it may contribute money, acquire material and deliver the same, furnish engineering services or labor, or loan its road building machinery, or may pay, or contribute money to be used for payment of, interest upon, or redemption of, bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for, or which have been issued in payment for, work hereinbefore mentioned. The expense of such aid may be paid from one or more of the following funds, viz: the general fund, the general road fund, the fund composed of moneys received from the State pursuant to the California Vehicle Act or pursuant to chapter two hundred sixty-seven of Statutes of 1923 or from the proceeds of any county bond issue voted for the purpose of laying out, constructing, maintaining or repairing public roads, bridges or highways or for the acquisition of lands, rights of way or other property necessary therefor or from any other fund available for such purposes.

All moneys, materials and other aid so received by the city must be used by it in the improvements described in the resolution and any portion thereof not used shall be returned to the county. Unused money.

CHAPTER 484.

An act to amend section 4041.7 of the Political Code defining the powers of the board of supervisors.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4041.7 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1929, p. 1450

4041.7. (1) Under such limitations and restrictions, as are prescribed by law, and in addition to jurisdiction and powers otherwise conferred, the board of supervisors, in their respective counties, shall have the jurisdiction and powers to acquire and take by purchase, condemnation or otherwise land for the uses and purposes of public roads, highways, boulevards, turnpikes and other public ways, and to lay out, maintain, control, construct, repair, and manage public roads, boulevards, highways, turnpikes and other public ways, and to incur a bonded indebtedness for any such purposes; provided, that no such indebtedness shall be incurred for any of such purposes until after the question of the issue of bonds therefor shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of the county, at the next general election or at a special election called for that purpose, and two-thirds of the electors of the county voting at such election shall have voted in favor of issuing such bonds; said election to be called and held and said bonds, if authorized, to be issued, sold and made payable in the manner and form prescribed by section 4088 of this code. Said board shall also have power to make and enforce rules and regulations for the protection, management, control and use of such public boulevards, roads, highways, turnpikes and other public ways. Such board shall also have power to expend from the general fund of the county such moneys as may be necessary to pay the whole or any part of the cost of the improvement of any street, highway, lane, alley, court, or other public place within any incorporated city of the county, wherever any real property of the county used for public purposes is included within the assessment district formed to pay for any such improvement not exceeding the amount, however, which, but for such public ownership and use, would be properly chargeable to and assessed against such real property under the provisions of the law governing such work or improvement; provided, no liability shall be created against the county in connection with any such work General powers of supervisors Public roads.

or improvement unless the board shall, by resolution, determine and declare the amount to be so expended and direct that such sum be set apart and reserved out of any moneys in the general fund available for such purpose, to be used exclusively for paying the cost of such work or improvement.

Bridges and ferries.

(2) To construct, operate, manage or maintain summer bridges or ferries under such rules and regulations and at such times and places as they may deem necessary; such bridges or ferries to be paid for out of the county general fund.

Road fund tax.

(3) To levy a special road fund tax, not to exceed two (2) mills on the one dollar of assessed valuation, on all the property in such counties outside of any incorporated city or town. Such tax shall be in addition to all taxes otherwise provided for, and the fund so created shall be expended for the construction and maintenance of the main public roads or county highways in the several road districts, in proportion to the amount collected from such districts; provided, that in addition to the tax mentioned in this subdivision the board of supervisors shall have the power and it shall be their duty, upon the petition of a majority of the property owners of any road district, to levy a special road fund tax not to exceed two mills on the one dollar of assessed valuation on all the property in such road district, to be expended in the maintenance of the public roads of such district.

Road repair.

(4) To enact ordinances and regulations for the construction, alteration, repair and control of all public roads and highways in the county, unless otherwise provided by law.

Wagons and vehicles

(5) To enforce, by ordinance, within the limits of their counties all such regulations concerning the size of wagons and vehicles of all kinds to be used on the roads or highways, and the width of tires on the same, as are not in conflict with general laws.

Purchase and redeem assessment district bonds

(6) To purchase or redeem at a discount bonds of any special assessment district for the payment of which special assessments (levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands) have been or are to be levied, the proceeds of which bonds are or have been used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way, or easements, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement, or repair of roads, streets, highways, bridges or culverts within said county, city and county, or any incorporated city thereof and also to pay any portion of the principal or interest of, or to transfer such amount as the board deems proper to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of, any of said bonds. Said bonds may be redeemed or purchased at not to exceed eighty per cent of the face value of the unpaid principal and interest of said bonds. The expenditures herein authorized may be made from the general fund of said county, or from any moneys received by said county under the provisions of that certain act of the Legislature known as the Motor Vehicle Fuel License Tax Act, or the California Vehicle Act, as said

In counties of the thirty-ninth class there shall be one probation officer whose salary shall be twenty-five dollars per month; provided, that from and after twelve o'clock meridian on the first Monday after the first day in January, 1935, the salary of the probation officer shall be one hundred dollars per month.

CHAPTER 488.

An act to amend section 479 of the Agricultural Code, relating to dairies and dairy products.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 25.

CHAPTER 489.

An act to amend sections 4, 7, 8, 9, 14 of and to add new sections to be numbered 8a, 15a and 15b to an act entitled "An act to provide a central bureau for the preservation of records of marriages, births and deaths, and to provide for the registration of all births and deaths, the establishment of registration districts under the superintendence of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics; the issuance and registration of burial and disinterment permits and certificates of births and deaths; the appointment of State and local registrars of vital statistics; to prescribe the powers and duties of registrars, coroners, physicians, undertakers, sextons and other persons in relation to such registration and to fix penalties for violation of this act; to create the offices of State and local registrars of vital statistics, to provide for the salary and fees of same; to repeal all acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith," approved May 19, 1915, relating to vital statistics. Stats 1915, p 575, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1941

Sec. 4. The clerk of each city and county, city and incorporated town having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last Federal census shall be the local registrar in and for such primary registration district and shall perform all such duties of local registrar as hereinafter provided; provided, however, that in cities and counties and cities having at least five thousand inhabitants at the last Federal census wherein a health officer is provided for by a freeholders' charter or other applicable law or wherein the county health officer acts as city health officer under contract as authorized by law, the health officer shall act as local registrar and perform all the duties thereof. The State Registrar, subject to the approval of the State Board of Health or its secretary, shall appoint a local registrar for each primary rural district whose term of office shall be four years, and whom the State Registrar may remove forthwith for failure or neglect to perform his duty as prescribed by this act; provided, however, that in those counties wherein there is a county wide health department organization the county health officer shall be the local registrar for all territory in the county not included in a primary registration district as defined in section 3. Each local registrar, besides transmitting to the State Registrar each original birth and death certificate registered by him and besides retaining a complete and accurate copy of each such birth and death certificate for the local record of the registration district as required by section 19 of this act, shall also transmit to the recorder of Local registrars the county for a special county record a complete and accurate copy of each original birth and death certificate transmitted by said local registrar to the State Registrar; provided, that the health officer of a city and county when acting as local registrar shall not be required to transmit copies of birth or death certificates to the county recorder thereof; and provided further, that in accordance with sections 3076, 3078, and 3079 of the Political Code, the county recorder shall be the sole local registrar for marriages performed anywhere in the county. Each local registrar shall immediately appoint a deputy in writing, whose duty it shall be to act in his stead in case of his absence or disability; and such deputy shall in writing accept such appointment, and be subject to all rules and regulations governing local registrars. And when it appears necessary for the convenience of the people in any registration district, the local registrar is hereby authorized, with the approval of the State Registrar, to appoint one or more suitable persons to act as subregistrars, who shall be authorized to receive certificates and to issue burial or removal permits in and for such portions of the district as may be designated; and each subregistrar shall note, on each certificate, over his signature, the date of filing, and shall forthwith forward all certificates to the local registrar of the district, and in all cases before the third day of the following month; provided, that each subregistrar shall be subject to the supervision and control of the State Registrar, and may be by him removed for neglect or failure to perform his duty in accordance with the provisions of this act or the rules and regulations of the State Registrar, and shall be subject to the same penalties for neglect of duty as the local registrar.

Duties

Deputies.

Subregistrars.

All assistants and deputies of any health officer or clerk acting as local registrar shall be assistants and deputies registrar, and shall have all the powers and may perform all the duties of a local registrar in the name and stead of their principal.

Stats 1917, p 717.

SEC. 2. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certificate of death contents

Sec. 7. The certificate of death shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared to be necessary for the legal, social, statistical, and sanitary purposes subserved by registration records, and such other items as may be designated by the State Board of Public Health:

(1) Place of death, including State, county, and township, village or city. If in a city, the street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given instead of the street and house number. If in an industrial camp, the name of the camp to be given.

(2) Full name of decedent. If an unnamed child, the surname preceded by "Unnamed." Residence; if nonresident, name of city or town and State.

(3) Sex.

(4) Color or race—as white, black, mulatto (or other Negro descent), Indian, Chinese, Japanese, Mexican, or other.

(5) Conjugal condition—as single, married, widowed or divorced.

(5a) Husband or wife of _____.

(6) Date of birth, including the year, month, and day.

(7) Age, in years, months and days. If less than one day, the hours or minutes.

(8) Occupation. The occupation to be reported of any person, male or female, who had any remunerative employment with the statement of trade, profession or particular kind of work.

(9) Industry in which work was done.

(10) Date deceased last worked at this occupation.

(11) Total years spent in this occupation.

(12) Birthplace; at least State or foreign country, if known.

(13) Name of father.

(14) Birthplace of father; at least State or foreign country, if known.

(15) Maiden name of mother.

(16) Birthplace of mother; at least State and foreign country, if known.

(17) Length of residence; (a) in place of death; (b) in California; (c) in the United States if of foreign birth.

(18) Signature and address of informant.

(19) Whether burial, cremation or removal; the place of such, together with the date.

(20) Signature and license number of embalmer; signature and address of undertaker, or person acting as such.

(21) Official signature of registrar, with date when certificate was filed; registered number.

(22) Date of death; year, month and day.

(23) Certification as to medical attendance on decedent, fact and time of death, time last seen alive, and the cause of death, with contributory (secondary) cause of complication, if any, and date of onset or duration of each.

(24) Certification as to action of the coroner when compelled to act by law, stating kind of action taken, whether inquest, autopsy or inquiry, and the fact and cause of death.

(25) If death due to accidental or violent means, it shall be stated as to whether accident, suicide or homicide; date of injury; place of injury, whether in home, industry or public place; manner and nature of injury.

(26) Whether disease or injury is related to occupation.

(27) Signature and address of attending physician, or of the autopsy surgeon if done at the request of the coroner.

(28) Signature of the coroner, with the statement of the county of which he is an officer.

Authentication.

The personal and statistical particulars (items one to sixteen) shall be authenticated by the signature of the informant who may be any competent person acquainted with the facts.

The statement of facts relating to the disposition of the body shall be signed by the undertaker or person acting as such.

Medical certificate

The medical certificate shall be made and signed by the physician, if any, last in attendance on the deceased except in those cases where the attending physician is unable to state the cause of death or where a person has been killed or has committed suicide or his death is the result of an accident or where an injury is a contributing cause of death or where he has died under such circumstances as to afford a reasonable ground to suspect that his death has been caused by the criminal act of another, and said physician shall within fifteen hours after the death deposit the certificate at the place of death, or deliver it to the attending undertaker at his place of business or at the office of said physician. Said physician shall specify in the certificate the time in attendance, the time he last saw the deceased alive and the hour of the day at which death occurred. And he shall further state the cause of death, so as to show the course of disease or sequence of causes resulting in the death, giving first the name of the disease causing death (primary cause) and the contributory (secondary) cause, if any, and the duration of each. Indefinite and unsatisfactory terms, denoting only symptoms of disease or conditions resulting from disease, will not be held sufficient for the issuance of a burial or removal permit; and any certificate containing only such terms, as defined by the State Registrar, shall be returned to the physician or person making the medical certificate for correction and more definite statement. Causes of death which may be the result of either disease or violence shall be carefully defined; and if from violence, the means of injury shall be stated, and whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal.

New section

SEC. 3. A new section to be numbered 8a is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Identification of unknown body.

Sec. 8a. In case an unknown body is identified after filing the death certificate, it shall be the duty of the coroner having jurisdiction to file with the State Registrar of Vital Statistics a death certificate giving the name of the unknown person and all statistical particulars which have been discovered concerning him. This shall be filed with the original record and shall become a part of it.

Stats. 1915, p. 575

SEC. 4. Section 9 of the said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Duties of undertaker.

Sec. 9. The undertaker, or person acting as undertaker, shall file the certificate of death with the local registrar of the district in which the death occurred and obtain a burial or removal permit prior to any disposition of the body. He shall obtain the required personal and statistical particulars from the person best qualified to supply them, over the signature and address of his informant. This certificate shall be signed by the attending physician, if any, or by the coroner or other proper official either directly or as directed by the local registrar, giving the medical certificate of the cause of death and other particulars necessary to complete the record, as specified in sections 7 and 8. And he shall then state the facts required relative to the date and place of burial or removal, over his signature and with his address, and present the completed certificate to the local registrar in order to obtain a permit for burial, removal or other disposition of the body. The undertaker shall deliver the burial permit to the person in charge of the place of burial, before interring or otherwise disposing of the body; or shall attach the removal permit to the box containing the corpse, when shipped by any transportation company; said permit to accompany the corpse to its destination, where, if within the State of California, it shall be delivered to the person in charge of the place of burial.

Casket sellers' records

Every person, firm, or corporation selling a casket shall keep a record showing the name of the purchaser, purchaser's post-office address, name of deceased, date of death, and place of death of deceased, which record shall be open to inspection of the State Registrar at all times. On the first day of each month the person, firm or corporation selling caskets shall report to the State Registrar each sale for the preceding month, on a blank provided for that purpose; provided, however, that no person, firm or corporation selling caskets to dealers or undertakers only shall be required to keep such record, nor shall such report be required from undertakers when they have direct charge of the disposition of a dead body.

Every person, firm or corporation selling a casket at retail, and not having charge of the disposition of the body shall inclose within the casket a notice furnished by the State Registrar calling attention to the requirements of the law, a blank certificate of death, and the rules and regulations of the State Board of Health concerning the burial or other disposition of a dead body.

Stats. 1917, p. 717.

SEC. 5. Section 14 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certificate of birth, contents

Sec. 14. The certificate of birth shall contain the following items, which are hereby declared necessary for the legal, social, sanitary and statistical purposes subserved by registration records; and such other items as shall be designated by the State Board of Public Health:

(1) Place of birth, including State, county, township or town, village or city. If in a city, the street and house number; if in a hospital or other institution, the name of the same to be given, instead of the street and house number.

(2) Full name of child. If the child dies without a name, before the certificate is filed, enter the words "died unnamed." If the living child has not yet been named at the date of filing certificate of birth, the space for "full name of child" is to be left blank, to be filled out subsequently by a supplemental report, as hereinafter provided.

(3) Sex of child.

(4) Whether twin, triplet, or other plural birth. A separate certificate shall be required for each child in case of plural births.

(5) For plural births, number of each child in order of birth.

(6) Whether premature or full term.

(7) Date of birth, including year, month and day.

(8) Full name of father.

(9) Residence of father, giving city and State of residence.

(10) Color or race of father.

(11) Age of father at last birthday, in years.

(12) Birthplace of father; at least State or foreign country, if known.

(13) Occupation of father. The occupation of father to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of the trade, profession or particular kind of work done.

(14) General industry or business in which work was done.

(15) Date last engaged in this work.

(16) Total time spent in this work.

(17) Full maiden name of mother.

(19) Color or race of mother.

(20) Age of mother at last birthday, in years.

(21) Birthplace of mother; at least State or foreign country, if known.

(22) Occupation of mother The occupation to be reported if engaged in any remunerative employment, with the statement of trade, profession or particular kind of work.

(23) General nature of industry or business in which work is done.

(24) Date last engaged in this work, giving month and year.

(25) Number of years spent in this work.

(26) If stillborn, period of gestation in months or weeks.

(27) Cause of stillbirth; whether before or during labor.

(28) Prophylactic for aphthalmia neonatorium.

(29) Crippling congenital deformities.

(30) Number of children of this mother (a) born alive and now living; (b) born alive but now dead; (c) stillborn.

Certification.

(31) The certification of attending physician or midwife as to attendance at birth, including statement of hour of birth, and whether the child was born alive or stillborn. This certification shall be signed by the attending physician or midwife, with address; if there is no physician or midwife in attendance, then by the father or mother of the child, householder, owner of the premises, or manager or superintendent of public or private institution where the birth occurred, or other competent person, whose duty it shall be to notify the local registrar of such birth, as required by section 13 of this act.

(32) Exact date of filing in office of local registrar, attested by his official signature, and registered number of birth, as hereinafter provided.

SEC. 6. A new section to be numbered 15a is hereby added to said act to read as follows: New section

Sec. 15a. Whenever a decree of adoption has been entered declaring a child legally adopted in any superior court in the State of California a certificate of the decree shall be recorded by the clerk of the court with the State Registrar of Vital Statistics upon a form provided for that purpose. This shall be filed with the original record of birth, which shall remain as a part of the records of the State Bureau of Vital Statistics, but which shall not be accessible to any one except upon request of the child or his foster or natural parents or upon order of a court of record. Upon request a certificate of birth shall be issued bearing the name of the child as shown in the decree of adoption, the names of the foster parents of said child, the age of the foster parents, the sex, date of birth and place of birth, but no reference in any birth certificate shall have reference to the adoption of said child. Decree of adoption.

SEC. 7. A new section to be numbered 15b is hereby added to said act to read as follows: New section.

Sec. 15b. The finding of an unknown child less than one year of age shall be immediately reported to the local registrar of vital statistics. Such report shall show the sex and color of the child, the date and place of finding the child, and the name of the person or institution with whom it is placed. The city, town or rural district in which the child is found shall be known as the legal place of birth, and the date of birth shall be determined as nearly as possible and shall be given on the certificate and shall be known as the legal date of birth. The person or institution with whom the child is placed shall give said child a name and shall report the same to the local registrar. The certificate of finding shall be forwarded to the State Registrar with the regular monthly report of births, and shall be filed and indexed by him with the regular birth certificates. If the child shall later be identified and a certificate of birth found or obtained, such fact shall be reported to the State Registrar and he shall indorse it upon the certificate of finding, with citation to the certificate of birth. Report on finding unknown child.

SEC. 8. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1915, p. 575.

Sec. 8. In case of any death occurring without medical attendance, or continued absence of the attending physician or where the attending physician is unable to state the cause of death or where the deceased was killed or committed suicide or died as the result of an accident or under such circumstances as to afford a reasonable ground to suspect that his death was caused by the criminal act of another, the certificate of death shall be made by the coroner. It shall be the duty of the physician, undertaker, or other person in charge of the Duties of coroner.

body to notify the coroner or other proper official of such death for investigation and certification. And the coroner or other proper officer whose duty it is to hold an inquest on the body of any deceased person, and to make the certificate of death required for a burial permit, shall state in his certificate the name of the disease causing death, or if from external causes (1) the means of death; and (2) whether (probably) accidental, suicidal, or homicidal; and shall, in any case, furnish such information as may be required by the State Registrar in order properly to classify the death. In every case the certificate must contain as many facts required by this act as can be ascertained.

Certificate of death

The coroner shall within three days after examining the body deliver the death certificate to the attending undertaker.

CHAPTER 490.

An act to amend sections 4.371, 4.373, 4.376 and 4.377 of the School Code, and to add two new sections to the School Code, to be numbered 4.378 and 4.379, all relating to district taxes.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Sch Code, p 169

SECTION 1. Section 4.371 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

School district tax Amount

4.371. He shall determine this amount by deducting from the total estimated needs of the school district as shown by its budget the total estimated income of the school district from all sources other than a school district tax for the current school year as estimated in the budget. The remainder, if any remainder there be, thus obtained, shall be the minimum amount of the school district tax to be levied by the board of supervisors for the particular school district.

Sch Code, p 169

SEC. 2. Section 4.373 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Same—Rate

4.373. The board of supervisors must fix such a rate for such district tax as will produce the amount of district tax money requested by the particular district.

Stats 1931, p 2492

SEC. 3. Section 4.376 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election to increase rate

4.376. Any maximum rate of tax for any district as hereinbefore in this article established may be increased by a majority vote of the qualified electors of the school district at an election which may be called by the governing board of the school district of its own motion and must be called whenever a petition requesting that such an election be called and signed by ten per cent of the qualified electors of the district shall be presented to the said governing board. The election shall be called, held and conducted in as nearly the same manner as is practicable as are elections for governing boards. The ballot used in the election shall contain the words "For the proposed increase in the maximum tax rates from _____ to _____, to provide money for the purpose of _____, said rate to be in effect in the _____ school district for the year (or years) 19__ to 19__,—Yes" and "For the proposed increase in the maximum tax rates from _____ to _____, to provide money for the purpose of _____, said rate to be in effect in the _____ school district for the year (or years) 19__ to 19__,—No." Each voter shall stamp or print a cross after the answer he desires to give. Ballot

SEC. 4. Section 4.377 of the School Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 2492

4.377. Increase of tax rate as provided in this article shall remain in effect only for the period specified on the ballot. Increase

SEC. 5. A new section is hereby added to the School Code, to be numbered 4.378 and to read as follows: New section

4.378. The county auditor shall apportion school district tax collections to each school district as follows: He shall apportion to each school district all moneys collected from sources other than school district taxes as shown in its budget. From each school district's tax collections he shall apportion an amount which, when added to the moneys apportioned from all other sources, will equal the total amount of the school district budget. He shall not apportion to any school district any moneys that will cause said school district to receive more than the total amount of its budget. Apportionment by auditor

SEC. 6. A new section is hereby added to the School Code, to be numbered 4.379 and to read as follows: New section

4.379. All moneys accruing to the school district in excess of the apportionments above described shall be kept by the county auditor in reserve for the school district, and shall not be available for withdrawal by the school district except by the following procedure. The governing board of the school district shall, by formal action of the board, pass a resolution setting forth the need for any portion of said reserve. The resolution shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools. If the resolution is approved by the county superintendent of schools it shall, if it involves a sum in excess of one thousand dollars, be published in the same manner as the budget of the school district concerned is published. Upon the approval of said resolution and, where its publication is required, following its publication, the auditor shall apportion from the reserve to the credit of the school district the sum of money set forth in such resolution. Withdrawal of reserves

On the first day of July of each year, the county auditor shall place to the credit of the school district all moneys that have been accumulated in such reserve during the preceding year, together with any remaining balance of current tax collections, and the school district shall include all moneys so credited in the balance shown in the budget for the ensuing fiscal year.

CHAPTER 491.

An act to amend section 7371l of the Political Code, relating to salaries of the judges of the superior court of the City and County of San Francisco.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1028.

SECTION 1. Section 7371l of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

San Francisco Superior judges.

7371l. The annual salary of each of the judges of the superior court in and for the City and County of San Francisco is nine thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 492.

An act to amend section 611 of, and to add section 611.5 to, the Fish and Game Code, relating to trout.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

NOTE.—See Stats. 1933, Ch. 73.

CHAPTER 493

Stats 1911, p 1290, amended.

An act to amend sections 4, 5, and 6 of, and to add sections 4a and 4b to the act entitled "An act to provide for the incorporation and organization and management of municipal water districts and to provide for the acquisition and construction by said districts of water works, and for the acquisition of all property necessary therefor, and also to provide for the distribution and sale of water by said districts," approved May 1, 1911, relating to municipal water districts and the officers thereof and further defining the powers and duties of each thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p. 113.

SECTION 1. Section 4 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election of board of directors.

Sec. 4. At an election to be held within such water district under the provisions of this act and the laws governing general elections not inconsistent herewith, the municipal water district thus organized shall proceed within ninety days after its formation to the election of a board of directors consisting of five members. The board of supervisors shall make an order dividing said district into five divisions according to and based upon the population as determined by the United States census for 1930 but no municipal corporation shall be divided in the formation of a division. Such divisions shall be numbered first, second, third, fourth and fifth, and one director shall be elected for each division by the electors thereof. Each director shall hold office for the term of four years from and after the date of his election and until the election and qualification of his successor except that at the election first held in any district after the effective date of this amendment, five members of the board of directors shall be chosen of whom two shall serve for the term of two years and three for four years as determined between them respectively by lot.

Term of office.

In each district heretofore organized hereunder, the first election for directors held hereafter shall be held in the year 1934. Thereafter the general district elections shall be held every two years and on the same day that the August primary election is held. Each candidate for director who at any election receives votes on a majority of all the ballots cast for candidates for the office for which he seeks nomination shall be elected to such office. If at such election, as to any such office, none of the candidates receive such majority, the two candidates who receive the highest number of votes cast on all of the ballots cast for candidates for such office, shall be the candidates for such office at the ensuing district election, which latter election, if other than the election for the first board of directors as mentioned in section 6, shall be held at the same time as the next succeeding November election. Candidates shall be nominated, election returns shall be canvassed and the election shall be held and conducted in the same manner as the nomination, election and canvassing of returns for county officers are made, held and conducted, so far as consistent with the provisions of this act and except as otherwise herein expressly provided. Said election held in August of each even-numbered year shall be known as the general water district election and each other election which may be held in any such district by authority of this act or the general laws shall be known as a special water district election.

General water district election.

Conduct of election.

SEC. 2. Section 4a is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 4a. Within ninety days after this amendment takes effect the board of directors of each municipal water district heretofore organized hereunder shall divide its district into five divisions according to and based upon the population as determined by the United States census for 1930, but no municipal corporation shall be divided in the formation of a division. Such divisions shall be numbered first, second, third, fourth and fifth, and one director shall be elected for each division by the electors thereof. If any such district board of directors neglects or fails to effect such division in its district within ninety days after this amendment takes effect then and thereupon it is the duty of the board of supervisors in which the district, or the greater portion thereof, is situate, to make and declare such division and the board of supervisors in such case shall consummate the same on or before one hundred eighty days after this act takes effect.

Five subdivisions.

New section

SEC. 3. Section 4b is hereby added to said act to read as follows:

Records are public.

Sec. 4b All books, papers and records, including pay rolls and records of claims presented to or allowed by the district, belonging to or in the custody of any municipal water district organized under this act, are and shall be public records and subject to the inspection of any tax or assessment payer of the district, at the office of the district during ordinary business hours.

Stats 1929, p 113

SEC. 5. Section 5 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Registration of voters.

Sec. 5. The registration which shall entitle an elector to vote at such water district election shall be the same registration as that employed at the primary election held in said county at said time, and for the purpose of registering voters who shall be entitled to vote at such election, the county clerk or registrar of voters shall be authorized, and he hereby is authorized, to cause to be printed or stamped with a rubber stamp upon the affidavits of registration used in any county in which there is a municipal water district an additional line to that required under the general laws of this State, which shall read substantially as follows: "Elector of the _____ Division of the _____ Municipal Water District, Yes—No," and in the registration of such electors he shall cross off the word "Yes" or "No" so as to indicate whether or not the elector is or is not an elector of said municipal water district.

Two forms of ballot within one precinct

In case the boundary line of a municipal water district crosses the boundary line of a county election precinct only those electors within such municipal water district and within such precinct who are registered as being electors of the municipal water district shall be permitted to vote, and for that purpose the county clerk or registrar of voters is hereby empowered to provide two sets of ballots within such precincts, one containing the names of candidates for office in said municipal water district, and the other not containing such names, and it shall be the duty of the election officers in such precincts to furnish only those persons registered as electors of such municipal water district with the ballots upon which are printed the names of the candidates for office in said municipal water district.

Stats 1929, p 113

SEC. 6. Section 6 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 6. The provisions of the law relating to the qualification of electors, the manner of voting, the duties of election officers, the canvassing of returns, and all other particulars in respect to the management of general elections, so far as they may be applicable, shall govern all water district elections, except as in this act otherwise provided; provided, that the board of supervisors shall canvass the returns of the election or elections held to select the first board of directors, as herein provided, within ten days thereafter, and that in the case of the elections held to select the first board of directors the second election shall take place four weeks after the first election held for that purpose, and the board of supervisors shall canvass the vote cast at such elections within the time prescribed by law for the canvass of votes cast at a general election; and provided further, that the board of directors of a municipal water district shall meet as a canvassing board and duly proceed to canvass the returns within seven days after any water district bond election.

Conduct of elections

Canvass of returns

In counties in which municipal water districts are located the county clerk or registrar of voters is hereby given authority, and he hereby is authorized to have printed upon the official ballots provided for voters at the primary elections and the general elections in this act above specified a separate column in the same form as that provided by the general laws for nonpartisan officers, which column shall be marked "Municipal Water District," with a subheading "For a Member of the Board of Directors—Vote for One," and beneath which shall appear the names of the candidates for the office of member of the board of directors for such division of the municipal water district, with the appropriate blank space for the writing in of the name of a candidate if desired by the voters, and with a voting square placed opposite the space. The ballots thus provided shall be furnished by the election officers only to those electors within their respective precincts who shall appear on the register as duly registered electors of that division of the municipal water district, and in precincts which lie partly within such municipal water district and partly without the board of election shall be supplied with two kinds of ballots by said county clerk or registrar of voters, one of which shall contain the matters hereinabove set forth for the use of electors of such municipal water district, and the other of which shall be without such column containing the names of candidates for the office of member of the board of directors, and which shall be furnished to those electors who are registered as not being electors of the municipal water district and who are electors of the precinct.

CHAPTER 494.

An act to amend section 689 of the Political Code, relating to the costs of janitor and maintenance service furnished by the Department of Finance.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 843

SECTION 1. Section 689 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Collections from "self-supporting" departments

689. From any State department, officer, board or commission having any special fund in the State treasury made available by law for the use, support or maintenance of any part or all of the work and affairs of such department, office, board or commission, the Department of Finance may fix and collect:

(a) Motor vehicle insurance cost.

(a) The pro rata share of the cost of insuring motor vehicles belonging to such department, officer, board or commission against liability for damages resulting from the negligent operation of motor vehicles and arising under the provisions of section 1714½ of the Civil Code;

(b) Rentals of office space.

(b) Rent for the use or occupancy of space in any building owned, managed or controlled by the State and used or occupied by such State department, officer, board or commission where such space is utilized in carrying out the work and affairs, or that portion of the work and affairs, of such department, officer, board or commission, for the carrying out of which said special fund was created;

(c) Cost of janitor service

(c) The actual cost of janitor and maintenance service rendered to such department, officer, board or commission to enable it to carry out the work and affairs, or that portion of its work and affairs, for the carrying out of which the special fund was created; and

(d) Workmen's compensation insurance cost.

(d) The pro rata cost of workmen's compensation insurance covering the officers and employees of such department, officer, board, or commission.

Claim by department

The State Department of Finance may file a claim against any appropriations made from special funds for the support or maintenance of any part or all of the work and affairs of any State department, officer, board or commission for a pro rata share of the costs or services included within this section, when such State department, officer, board, or commission refuses to pay such pro rata share of such costs or services, and the State Controller shall draw his warrant in accordance with law upon such claim in favor of the State Department of Finance.

Report to State Controller

All moneys received by the Department of Finance under the provisions hereof shall be accounted for and reported at the end of each month by said department to the State Controller to be by said Controller credited as an abatement of the expenses of said department, and at the same time such moneys shall be remitted to the State treasury to become a part of any appropriation made available by law for the use or support of said department from out of which said appropriation or the then corresponding current appropriation the expenses incurred were paid.

CHAPTER 495.

An act to repeal sections 716 to 719, inclusive, and to add section 716 to the Political Code, relating to the Capitol building and grounds.

[Approved by the Governor May 23, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Sections 716 to 719, inclusive, of the Political Code are hereby repealed. Repeals.

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 716 and to read as follows: New section.

716. The Department of Finance shall appoint, and fix the salaries of, a Superintendent of Capitol Buildings and Grounds, who shall be a civil executive officer, and a Chief of State Police, and such other police officers, assistants, clerks, and employees as may be necessary to properly guard and maintain the Capitol buildings and grounds. The department may establish rules and regulations for the government and maintenance of the Capitol buildings and grounds, and any person who violates or attempts to violate such rules and regulations shall be guilty of a misdemeanor. Superintendent of Capitol and Chief of State Police.

The Superintendent of Capitol Buildings and Grounds, the Chief of State Police, the police officers and such employees as may be designated by the department shall have the power of peace officers in all parts of this State.

CHAPTER 496.

(a) Two inspectors at a compensation of four dollars per diem each, during the time actually employed, and four inspectors at a compensation of three dollars and fifty cents per diem each, during the time actually employed, but the aggregate amount which may be expended in any year for all such inspectors shall not exceed one thousand dollars per annum. Said commissioner and inspectors shall receive ten cents per mile for each mile traveled, and other necessary expenses, in the discharge of their official duties.

CHAPTER 497.

An act to amend section 737bb of the Political Code, relating to the compensation of the judge of the superior court in and for the county of Napa.

[This bill having remained with the Governor ten days (Sundays excepted), and the Legislature being in session, it has become a law this twenty-fourth day of May, A.D. 1933. FRANK C. JORDAN, Secretary of State.]

[In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1007

SECTION 1. Section 737bb of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Napa· Superior judge

737bb. The annual salary of the judge of the superior court in and for the county of Napa is five thousand dollars.

CHAPTER 498.

Stats. 1901, p. 34, repealed

An act to repeal an act entitled "The Local Improvement Act of 1901," approved February 26, 1901, Statutes of 1901, page 34, as amended, with the provision that said repeal shall not apply to existing proceedings under said act.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Repeal

SECTION 1. An act entitled "The Local Improvement Act of 1901," approved February 26, 1901, Statutes of 1901, page 34, as amended, is hereby repealed; provided, however, that the repeal of said act above entitled as amended shall not operate to divest, limit or prevent the legislative body of any city authorized to conduct a proceeding under the provisions of said act, or any amendment thereof, from performing any or all of the functions, acts or duties imposed, prescribed or authorized by said act as amended, in any proceeding wherein the resolution proposing said improvement shall have been adopted before January 1, 1933. Effect of act.

CHAPTER 499.

An act to amend sections 8 and 17 of the State Medical Practice Act, relating to certificates licensing the practice of medicine, drugless healing, and chiropody, and to penalties for violation of the provisions of the act. Stats. 1913, p. 722, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8 of the State Medical Practice Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1921, p. 995.

Sec. 8. Four forms of certificates shall be issued by said board under the seal thereof and signed by the president and secretary; first a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to use drugs or what are known as medical preparations in or upon human beings and to sever or penetrate the tissues of human beings and to use any and all other methods in the treatment of diseases, injuries, deformities, or other physical or mental conditions, which certificate shall be designated "physician and surgeon certificate"; second, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to treat diseases, injuries, deformities or other physical or mental conditions without the use of drugs or what are known as medical preparations and without in any manner severing or penetrating any of the tissues of human beings except the severing of the umbilical cord, which certificate shall be designated "drugless practitioner's certificate"; third, a certificate authorizing the holder thereof to practice chiropody; for the purpose of this act chiropody shall be held to be the medical, mechanical or surgical treatment of the human feet. Forms of certificates. Physician and surgeon certificate. Drugless practitioner's certificate. Chiropody certificate.

(a) Medical treatment shall be held to be the local application or recommendation of any therapeutic agent or remedy for the relief of foot ailments. Medical treatment defined.

(b) Mechanical treatment shall be held to be the employment of any forcible means for the correction of any deformity of the foot or feet and shall not permit the treatment of fractures of the bones of the foot or feet or the application of splints or casts; provided, however, that mechanical treatment shall not prohibit the manufacture, the recommendation or sale of either corrective shoes or appliances for human feet. Mechanical treatment defined.

Surgical treatment defined

(c) Surgical treatment shall be held to mean the surgical treatment of abnormal nails, corns, callosities, bunions, and other minor foot ailments, not involving the bony structure, and does not confer the right of amputation of toes or joints thereof except as hereinbefore specified, or any portion of the foot or the severing of any tendon, or the use of anaesthetic other than local; fourth, a certificate to practice midwifery, which shall be in the form designated by the board and in conformity with this act. Such certificate shall entitle the holder thereof to attend cases of childbirth. As used in this act, the practice of midwifery means the furthering or undertaking by any person to assist a woman in normal childbirth, but does not include at any childbirth the use of any instrument, except such instrument as is necessary in severing the umbilical cord, nor the assisting of childbirth by any artificial, forcible or mechanical means, nor the performance of any version, nor the removal of adherent placenta, nor the administering, prescribing, advising or employing in childbirth of any drug, other than a disinfectant or cathartic. The provisions hereof shall not authorize any midwife to practice medicine and surgery. A "reciprocity certificate" shall also be issued under the provisions hereinafter specified. Any of these certificates on being recorded in the office of the county clerk, as hereinafter provided, shall constitute the holder thereof a duly licensed practitioner in accordance with the provisions of his certificate.

Midwife's certificate.

Reciprocity certificate

An act to add a new section to the Political Code to be numbered 2610, relating to the power of the Director of Public Works to rescind or terminate leases of lands of Mission Bay.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Political Code to be numbered 2610, to read as follows: New section.

2610. The Director of Public Works may negotiate for the rescission or termination or may rescind or terminate any existing lease, or leases, previously executed by the Board of Harbor Commissioners for the bay of San Diego, of the lands or any part thereof of Mission Bay (also known as False Bay) in the county of San Diego. Rescission or termination of leases on Mission Bay.

For the purpose of rescinding or terminating such leases, the Director of Public Works, in addition to any other method, may enter into agreements with the lessee, lessees, or his or their assignee or assignees, and may accept, in the name of the State of California, quitclaim deeds to the leased property executed by the lessee, lessees, or his or their assignee or assignees of such property.

The Director of Public Works, in consideration of the termination by mutual agreement of any such lease, may release any lessee, lessees, or his or their assignee or assignees, from his or their obligations under such lease or leases.

Any act of the Director of Public Works in respect to any such lease done prior to the effective date of this act, and which would have been authorized hereunder, is hereby confirmed, approved, ratified and validated. Validation.

CHAPTER 501.

An act to amend sections 3649 and 3672 of the Political Code, relating to the assessment, equalization and taxation of property escaping assessment between the first Monday of March and the first Monday of July.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3649 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 124.

Assessment of property that has escaped taxation

3649. In the event of the failure or neglect of any person to return to the assessor for taxation any property between the first Monday in March and the first Monday in July of any year, such property when discovered by the assessor to have escaped taxation for such year, if such property is in the ownership or under the control of the same person who owned or controlled it on the first Monday of March, shall be assessed and entry thereof immediately made upon the assessment roll. If personal property is discovered and assessed after the first day of December such entry shall be followed by the words "penalty for failure to return within the time required by law," and thereupon a penalty equal to ten per cent of the tax shall attach to the tax so levied.

Time for assessment and collection

The authority granted to assessors to assess property which has escaped taxation and to enter the same upon the assessment or tax roll of the year for which said property should have been assessed or taxed shall be limited to a period of not more than two years from the date upon which the lien for taxes of such year attached, and the authority to seize and sell said property for the nonpayment of such tax shall be extended for a like period of time. Property taxable under the provisions of subsection 4 of section 16 of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California and section 3627a of the Political Code of the State of California is not subject to the provisions of this section.

Exception.

Stats 1891, p. 438

SEC. 2. Section 3672 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Supervisors to act as board of equalization

3672. The board of supervisors of each county must meet on the first Monday of July in each year, to examine the assessment book and equalize the assessment of property in the county. It must continue in session for that purpose, from time to time, until the business of equalization is disposed of, but not later than the third Monday in July; provided, however, that the board of supervisors shall sit as a board of equalization at the time of the first regular meeting of each month of the calendar year for the purpose of equalizing assessments made by the assessor subsequent to the first Monday of July.

CHAPTER 502.

An act to amend section 537 of the Penal Code, relating to defrauding proprietors of hotels, inns, restaurants, boarding houses, apartment houses, bungalow courts or furnished auto camps.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p 1964

SECTION 1. Section 537 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

537. Any person who obtains any food or accommodations at an hotel, inn, restaurant, boarding house, lodging house, furnished apartment house, furnished bungalow court, or furnished auto camp, without paying therefor, with intent to defraud the proprietor or manager thereof, or who obtains credit at an hotel, inn, restaurant, boarding house, lodging house, furnished apartment house, furnished bungalow court, or furnished auto camp by the use of any false pretense, or who, after obtaining credit, food, accommodations, at an hotel, inn, restaurant, boarding house, lodging house, furnished apartment house, furnished bungalow court, or furnished auto camp, absconds, or surreptitiously, or by force, menace, or threats, removes any part of his baggage therefrom, without paying for his food or accommodations is guilty of a misdemeanor. CHAPTER 503.

An act to amend section 4082 of the Political Code, to provide for exempting certain claimants for duplicate warrants from the requirement to file a bond.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4082 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1933, Ch 54.

4082. Whenever any warrant legally drawn by the county auditor shall have been lost or destroyed before the same shall have been paid by the county treasurer, the amount due thereon may be recovered by the legal owner or custodian thereof, by filing with the county auditor: Recovery on lost or destroyed warrants

First—An affidavit setting forth the fact of the loss or destruction of such county warrant, giving the number, date, amount and name of the payee, together with all material facts relative to the loss or destruction of the same.

Second—A bond of indemnity, with two good and sufficient sureties, in double the amount of the face of the particular warrant, which bond shall be referred to the county auditor and to the district attorney, county counsel, or other officer who is the legal adviser of the board of supervisors, for approval or rejection.

It shall be the duty of the county auditor and of the district attorney, county counsel or other officer who is the legal adviser of the board of supervisors to examine and to pass upon the sufficiency of said bond and to approve or reject the same within thirty days after it shall have been filed with the county auditor.

Upon the filing of the approved bond, the county auditor is hereby authorized and directed to issue and to deliver to the legal owner or claimant, on demand, a duplicate warrant for the full amount of the original warrant, and the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the duplicate, in lieu of the original warrant; provided that, when such legal owner or claimant is a city, county, city and county, school district or other political subdivision of the State, no bond shall be required.

The auditor and the treasurer shall each make the proper entries on their books, showing such warrants to have been lost or destroyed and the issuance of duplicate warrants in lieu thereof.

Exception. Whenever any warrant legally drawn in favor of the State of California shall have been lost or destroyed, the State shall not be required to file such bond of indemnity as hereinbefore provided. Upon the filing of an affidavit as hereinbefore provided, the county auditor is hereby authorized to issue and deliver to the State of California, on demand, a duplicate warrant for the full amount of the original warrant and the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay the duplicate in lieu of the original warrant.

CHAPTER 504.

Stats 1913, p. 508, amended. An act to add section 1a to an act entitled "An act relating to unfair competition and discrimination, making certain unfair and discriminatory practices unlawful, defining the duties of the Attorney General in regard thereto, declaring certain contracts illegal and forbidding recovery thereon, providing for actions to enjoin unfair competition and discrimination and to recover damages therefor, making the violation of the provisions of this act a misdemeanor and providing penalties," approved June 10, 1913, as amended, relating to unfair competition.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section SECTION 1. Section 1a is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof, to read as follows:

Sale of goods at less than cost prohibited Sec. 1a. Every person, partnership, firm, corporation, joint stock company, or other association engaged in business within this State, who shall sell any article or product at less than the cost thereof to such vendor, or give away any article or product, for the purpose of injuring competitors and destroying competition, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and on conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment not exceeding six months, or by both said fine and imprisonment. The term "cost" as applied to production is hereby defined as including the cost of raw materials, labor and all necessary overhead expenses of the producer; and as applied to distribution "cost" shall mean the cost of the article or product to the distributor and vendor plus the cost of doing business by said distributor and vendor.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to any sale made: Exceptions.

(1) In closing out in good faith the owner's stock or any part thereof for the purpose of discontinuing his trade in any such stock or commodity, that is, as in the case of the sale of seasonal goods, or to the bona fide sale of perishable goods to prevent loss to the vendor by spoilage or depreciation;

(2) When the goods are damaged or deteriorated in quality, and notice is given to the public thereof;

(3) By any officer acting under the orders of any court.

CHAPTER 505.

An act providing for the deposit of county and city publications in the State Library and the University of California.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Of each printed book, pamphlet, report, bulletin, or other publication issued at the expense of a municipal corporation or of a county, or of a city and county, the city or county clerk, as the case may be, shall send one copy to the State Library at Sacramento, one copy to the bureau of public administration of the University of California, at Berkeley, and one copy to the library of the University of California at Los Angeles, for preservation and reference use in said institutions. For this purpose, it is hereby made the duty of the legislative body or of any office, officer, or employee of a municipal corporation or of a county, or of a city and county, to furnish the clerk three copies of each such publication issued by said body, office, or person. City and county publications.

CHAPTER 506.

An act to regulate land surveying and to define the duties of and to license land surveyors, to provide for the revocation of such licenses and the restoration thereof, to make certain acts misdemeanors and to provide penalties therefor, Stats 1907, p 310 repealed.

and to repeal an act entitled "An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors" approved March 16, 1907.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Land surveyors to be licensed.

SECTION 1. Any person practicing, or offering to practice, land surveying in this State shall hereafter be required to submit evidence that he is qualified so to practice, and shall be licensed as hereinafter provided, or registered under the provisions of chapter 801, Statutes of 1929, and any amendments thereto, and from and after the date on which this act becomes effective, it shall be unlawful for any person to practice, offer to practice, or represent himself, as a land surveyor in this State, or to set, reset, replace or remove any survey monument on land in which he has no legal interest, unless such person has been so duly licensed or registered or specifically exempted in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Stats 1929, p. 1645.

Definition.

SEC. 1a. Land surveying within the meaning and intent of this act shall comprise the surveying of areas for their correct determination and description and for conveyancing, or for the establishment or reestablishment of land boundaries or for the platting of lands and subdivisions thereof.

Board of Registration for Civil Engineers to administer act.

SEC. 2. The Board of Registration for Civil Engineers as created by chapter 801, Statutes of 1929, and any amendments thereto, hereinafter called the board, is hereby designated as the proper body to administer the provisions and requirements of this act and said board is hereby authorized to make and enforce such rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. All records and papers heretofore submitted to or prepared by, the State Surveyor General or the Chief of the Division of State Lands in the Department of Finance, pertaining to the licensing of land surveyors as provided by statutes heretofore in force, are hereby transferred to the custody of the board.

Licensed surveyors fund created.

SEC. 3. The Department of Professional and Vocational Standards shall receive and account for all moneys derived from the operation of this act, and shall at the end of each month, report to the State Controller such moneys and shall pay them to the State Treasurer, who shall keep such moneys in a separate fund to be known as the "Licensed surveyors fund" which said fund is hereby created. Said fund shall be expended in accordance with law for the payment of all actual and necessary expenses incurred in carrying out the provisions hereof.

Records.

SEC. 4. The secretary of the board shall keep a complete record of all applications for license and the board's action thereon and shall transmit monthly to the county recorder of each county in the State lists of all licenses issued or revoked by the board, as hereinafter provided, since the date of preparation of the last preceding similar list, showing the names and addresses of such licensees, and it is hereby made the duty of such county recorders to keep full and complete records of all such licenses and revocations. The secretary shall prepare annually a roster showing the names and addresses of all licensed land surveyors and containing all the rules and regulations adopted by the board for the administration of this act. Such roster shall be a part of the roster of registered civil engineers issued by the board and one copy thereof shall be filed with the Secretary of State, one copy shall be filed with the county recorder of each county in the State and one copy shall be furnished to each land surveyor licensed under the provisions of this act. Copies of such roster shall be available to the general public on application to the secretary at such price per copy as may be fixed by the board. The board, within thirty (30) days prior to the meeting of the regular session of the Legislature, shall submit to the Governor a full and true report of its transactions during the preceding biennium including a complete statement of the receipts and expenditures of the board during the period, attested to by the president and the secretary of the board. A copy of said report shall be filed with the Secretary of State. All records shall be public records. The Department of Professional and Vocational Standards is hereby empowered and authorized to employ such clerical assistance under civil service regulations as may be necessary to properly carry out and enforee the provisions of this act.

Application for license.

SEC. 5. Any application for a license as a land surveyor shall be made to the board on its prescribed form, accompanied by an examination fee of fifteen dollars ($15) to be retained by the board. Such application shall contain the following information:

(a) The age of the applicant, which shall be not less than 25 years.

(b) A statement by the applicant that he is thoroughly familiar with the procedure and rules governing the survey of public lands as set forth in "Manual of Instructions for the Survey of the Public Lands of the United States," published by the Commissioner of the General Land Office, Department of the Interior, Washington, D. C.

(c) A statement by the applicant setting forth his educational qualifications and experience in land surveying, which shall be not less than the following prescribed minimum:

Actual practice in land surveying for at least five years, including at least one year in responsible charge of land surveying work as a subordinate to a land surveyor or civil engineer duly qualified to practice in the State, territory or country in which such surveyor or engineer has conducted such practice;

Provided, however, that graduation from a four year course in civil or mining engineering in any school or college approved by said board shall be accepted as the equivalent of four years of such practice, but not including the one year of responsible charge as a subordinate, as herein in this paragraph provided for; and credits earned toward such graduation from any such school or college shall likewise be accepted as the equivalent of their proportionate part of such four years of practice.

(d) Names and addresses of at least five land surveyors or civil engineers, duly qualified to practice in the State, territory or country in which such practice has been conducted, each of whom has sufficient knowledge of the applicant to enable him to certify to said applicant's professional integrity, ability and fitness to receive such license.

The applicant shall further state under oath that should he be licensed, he will support the Constitution of this State and of the United States, and that he will faithfully discharge the duties of a licensed land surveyor.

Examination

SEC. 6. Examinations for license shall be held at such times and at such places within the State as the board shall determine. The examinations shall be conducted by one or more members of the board or one or more of their duly authorized representatives. The scope of examinations and the method of procedure shall be prescribed by the board. In determining the qualifications of any applicant for license a majority vote of the board shall be required. A candidate failing on examination, after an interval of not less than one (1) year, and upon the payment of an additional examination fee hereinabove provided for, may be examined again.

License To whom issued

SEC. 7. (a) Any applicant who has passed the examination prescribed by the board, upon payment of a license fee of ten dollars ($10), to be retained by the board, shall have issued to him a suitable license, signed by the president and the secretary of the board, authorizing him to practice as a land surveyor.

(b) The board may, upon application therefor, and the payment of a fee of ten dollars ($10), issue a license as provided for herein, to any person who holds a certificate of qualification as a land surveyor issued to him by proper authority of the National Council of State Boards of Engineering Examiners, or of the National Bureau of Engineering Registration, or of any State or Territory or possession of the United States, or of any other country, provided that the requirements for license under which said certificate of qualification or registration was issued do not conflict with the provisions of this act and are of a standard not lower than that specified in section 5 of this act.

(c) A new license to replace any license lost, destroyed or mutilated, may be issued subject to the rules and regulations of the board. A charge of one dollar ($1.00) shall be made for such reissue.

Surveyors previously licensed

SEC. 8. At any time on or before June 30, 1934, any person who holds an unrevoked license as a land surveyor, issued to him under any previous law of this State, upon the payment of five dollars ($5.00), shall have issued to him a license provided for in section 7 hereof for the period ending June 30, 1935. All licenses issued under such previous law and not renewed as herein provided for shall be canceled as of July 1, 1934.

Renewals.

SEC. 9. (a) Except as provided for in section 8 hereof, any license issued under the provisions of this act shall remain in effect until the thirtieth (30th) day of June following the date of its issuance.

(b) Except as provided for in section 8 hereof, any land surveyor licensed under this act who desires to continue the practice of his profession beyond the thirtieth (30th) day of June following the date of issuance of his original license, shall on or before the thirtieth (30th) day of June of each year pay to the secretary of the board a fee of five dollars ($5.00) to be retained by the board, for which fee a renewal certificate of license for the current year shall be issued. Any license which shall have expired for nonpayment of the renewal fee may be restored within one year from the expiration thereof, under rules and regulations prescribed by the board, which rules and regulations may provide a penalty of not more than five dollars ($5.00) for such delinquency;

Provided, however, that the annual renewal or reinstatement of any certificate of registration as provided for in chapter 801, Statutes of 1929, and any amendment thereto, shall include the renewal or restoration of license as provided herein, without the payment of the above mentioned fee or penalty.

An unrevoked or unexpired license, or renewal certificate, issued by the board, as provided for in this act, shall be presumptive evidence in all courts and places that the person named therein is legally licensed hereunder.

Revocation of licenses

SEC. 10. (a) It shall be the duty of the board to enforce all of the provisions of this act and to cause to be prosecuted all violations thereof coming to its notice. The board shall have the power by a two-thirds (⅔) vote to revoke the license or certificate of any land surveyor or civil engineer, respectively, licensed hereunder or registered under the provisions of chapter 801, Statutes of 1929, and any amendments thereto, found by said board to be guilty of any fraud or gross incompetency in his practice of land surveying, or to be guilty of any fraud or deceit in obtaining his license, or to be guilty of any violation of any provision of this act, or of any act repealed hereby, or of any act relating to or involving the practice of land surveying.

(b) Proceedings for the revocation of any license shall be begun by filing with the secretary of the board written charges against the accused. Such charges shall be in detail and shall be sworn to by the complainant. The board shall designate for the hearing a time, not less than thirty (30) days nor more than ninety (90) days from the date of receipt of the complaint, and a place within the county in which occurred at least one alleged cause of complaint;

Hearing

Provided, however, that with the written consent of the accused, the board may fix another time and place for such hearing. The board shall notify the accused in writing, by personal service, or, if he can not be found, by registered mail addressed to his last known address, of its action and shall furnish him a copy of all charges at least twenty (20) days prior to the date of such hearing. The accused shall have the right to appear personally or by counsel, to cross-examine witnesses and to produce and examine witnesses in his defense. The board shall have the power to compel the attendance of and to administer the oath to witnesses and to compel the production of papers and documents necessary to the proper conduct of the hearing.

The board may restore the license of any person whose license has been revoked; provided that two-thirds (⅔) or more of the members of the board vote in favor of such restoration for reasons the board may deem sufficient.

Seal of surveyor

SEC. 11. (a) Each licensee hereunder shall, upon being licensed, obtain a seal of the design authorized by the board, bearing the licensee's name, number of the license certificate, and the legend "Licensed Land Surveyor." Any map, plat, report or other document issued by a licensee may be stamped with the said seal during the life of the licensee's certificate and shall be so stamped when filed as a public record or when it is delivered by the licensee as a formal or final document. It shall be unlawful for any person to stamp or seal any map, plat, report or other document with said seal after the certificate of the licensee named thereon has expired or has been revoked, unless said license shall have been renewed or restored.

May administer oaths, etc.

(b) Every licensed land surveyor or registered civil engineer is authorized to administer and certify oaths, when it becomes necessary to take testimony to identify or establish old, lost or obliterated corners; or if a corner or monument be found in a perishable condition, and it appears desirable that evidence concerning such corner or monument be perpetuated; or whenever the importance of the survey makes it desirable, to administer an oath for the faithful performance of duty, to his assistants. A record of such oaths shall be preserved as part of the field notes of the survey.

May make surveys, etc.

(c) Any licensed land surveyor or registered civil engineer is hereby authorized to make surveys and write descriptions relating to the sale or subdivision of lands, the retracing or establishing of property or boundary lines, public roads, streets, alleys, or trails; and it shall be the duty of each licensed land surveyor or registered civil engineer, whenever making any such survey, whether the survey be made for any private person, corporation, city, county or city and county, to set permanent and adequate monuments. Each such monument shall be permanently marked with the certificate number of the licensed land surveyor or registered civil engineer setting it; and each such number shall be preceded by the letters "L. S." or "R. E.", respectively, as the case may be.

(d) Except as hereinafter provided, within sixty days after the completion of any survey relating to the subdivision of land, the retracing or establishing of property or boundary lines, public roads or trails, the locating or relocating of lost or obliterated corners or any survey on which any permanent monument shall have been set, reset, replaced or removed, the registered civil engineer or licensed surveyor making such survey shall file or cause to be filed with the recorder of each county in which such survey or any portion thereof was made, a record of survey. Records of surveys.

Such record of survey shall be a map made in a good draftsmanlike manner on one or more sheets of tracing cloth of good quality, of the uniform size of eighteen by twenty-six inches, and shall show all the data necessary to enable any competent surveyor readily to retrace the survey.

The record of survey shall show: All authentic monuments found and all permanent monuments set, reset, replaced or removed, describing their size, kind and location, and giving a reference, if available, to the survey on which those found were set; all bearing or witness trees or monuments; the basis of bearings; the bearing and length of each line as measured in the field; the scale of the map, the date of survey, the name and legal designation of the tract or grant in which the survey is located, the signature and seal of the surveyor and the name of the owner of the land, but no parcel number, letter, name or designation shall be shown thereon except any number, letter, name or designation appearing on a recorded map of the particular property; What to show.

Provided, however, that nothing in this section shall require a record of survey to be made of any survey made by any public officer, a record of which has been filed by him as a permanent public record of his office; or of any survey of a preliminary nature; or when the survey reproduces without material change, and without the setting of any permanent monument, survey lines or boundaries of parcels as they appear on any map which shall have been recorded or filed in the office of the county recorder or county clerk; or when a map of the survey shall have been recorded under the provisions of that act commonly known as the "Subdivision Map Act" and being chapter 837, Statutes of 1929, and any amendments thereto. Provided further, that during the time that a subdivision map is actually under preparation under the provisions of said "Subdivision Map Act," the sixty-day period above provided shall be extended, not to exceed one year from the completion of the survey, and if such map shall not have been then so recorded under the provisions of said "Subdivision Map Act." a record of the survey shall be filed at once under the provisions of this act. Exceptions. Stats 1929, p 1790.

(e) Prior to the filing thereof, each such map shall be presented to the county surveyor of each county or city and county in which any permanent monument shall have been set, reset, replaced or removed in making such survey. Such county Map to be submitted to county surveyor.

Duty of county surveyor surveyor, within twenty days after his receipt thereof, or within such additional time as may be reasonably necessary therefor, shall examine such map with respect to its accuracy of survey and mathematical data, its conformity to other records or satisfactory evidence of the error of such other records, and its compliance with the provisions of this act. If the county surveyor finds such matter sufficient, he shall indorse on the map a statement of his examination thereof and transmit it to the county recorder; otherwise he shall return it to the person who presented it, together with a written statement of the changes necessary to make the map conform to the requirements thereof. If the matters appearing on the map can not be agreed upon by the surveyor and the county surveyor, an explanation of the matters involved in such disagreement shall be indorsed on the map and it shall be so transmitted to the county recorder for filing. The map thus filed with the county recorder of any county must be by him securely fastened into a suitable book provided for that purpose, and he shall keep proper indexes of such map by the name of the owner of the particular land surveyed, by the name of the surveyor making the survey, and by name of grant, tract, subdivision, and United States subdivision. No charge shall be made for the filing and indexing of any such map.

To whom act applies.

SEC. 12. Nothing in this act shall be construed as prohibiting any land surveyor from practicing his profession through the medium of or as an employee of a partnership or a corporation, provided that any signature or seal affixed under the provisions of this act shall be the signature or seal of the licensed land surveyor or registered civil engineer in specific and responsible charge of the work performed. No person shall represent himself as, or use the title of, licensed land surveyor unless such person is the holder of a valid, unrevoked license provided for herein.

Exemptions

SEC. 13. The following shall be exempt from the provisions of this act:

(a) Officers and employees of the United States of America, practicing solely as such officers or employees.

(b) Any subordinate to any State, county, city, or city and county officer or to any other civil engineer or land surveyor registered or licensed as required by the laws of the State of California or to a land surveyor or civil engineer exempted under this act or under chapter 801, Statutes of 1929, and any amendments thereto in so far as he is acting in such subordinate capacity.

Penalty.

SEC. 14. Any person, who is not legally authorized to practice land surveying in this State is herein provided for and shall so practice, except he be exempt under this act; or any person presenting as his own, the license of another, or attempting to file as his own any record of survey under the license of another; or any person who shall give false evidence of any kind to the board, or to any member thereof, in obtaining a license; or any person who shall falsely impersonate or use the seal of another practitioner, of like or different name, or who shall use an expired or revoked license, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and for each such offense of which he is convicted, shall be punished by a fine of not more than five hundred dollars ($500) or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not to exceed six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

It shall be the duty of the respective officers charged with the enforcement of laws to prosecute all persons charged with the violation of any of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 15. An act entitled "An act to define the duties of and to license land surveyors," approved March 16, 1907, and all acts amendatory thereof, and all other acts and parts of acts, in conflict with this act, are hereby repealed. Stats 1907, p 310, repealed Provided, however, that such repeal shall not be deemed or construed to ratify or legalize any violation of any provision of said act nor to affect nor prevent the prosecution or punishment of any person for any act done or committed in violation of any provision of said act prior to the effective date of this act, and shall not affect any prosecution or action which may be pending in any court for the violation of any provision of said act; and further provided that as to any such violation of said act and as to any such prosecution and punishment and as to any such pending prosecution or action said act shall be deemed to continue and to be in full force and effect. Effect of repeal

CHAPTER 507.

An act to amend an act entitled "An act providing for the incorporation, government and management of metropolitan water districts, authorizing such districts to incur bonded debt and to acquire, construct, operate and manage works and property, providing for the taxation of property therein and the performance of certain functions relating thereto by officers of counties, providing for the addition of area thereto and the exclusion of area therefrom and authorizing municipal corporations to aid and participate in the incorporation of such districts," approved May 10, 1927, as amended, designated the "Metropolitan Water District Act," by amending sections 5, 6, 7, 8, 10, 11 and 13¾, all relating to the powers, government and management of metropolitan water districts, and the exclusion of area therefrom, and declaring same an urgency measure. Stats 1927, p 694, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5 of the act cited in the title hereof, is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 814

Powers of district.

Sec. 5 Any district incorporated as herein provided shall have power:

(1) To have perpetual succession.

(2) To sue and be sued in all actions and proceedings and in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

(3) To adopt a corporate seal and alter it at pleasure.

Property

(4) To take by grant, purchase, bequest, devise or lease, and to hold, enjoy, lease, sell or otherwise dispose of, any and all real and personal property of any kind within or without the district and within and without the State necessary or convenient to the full exercise of its powers; also to acquire, construct or operate, control and use any and all works, facilities and means necessary or convenient to the exercise of its powers, both within and without and within or without the district and within and without the State, and to do and perform any and all things necessary or convenient to the full exercise of the powers herein granted.

Eminent domain.

(5) To have and exercise the power of eminent domain and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use to take any property necessary to the exercise of the powers herein granted except water and water rights already devoted to beneficial use and power plants devoted to public use; and provided, further, that any district organized under the provisions of this act shall not have or exercise the power of eminent domain for the purpose of condemning or taking any water or right to water conserved or stored behind any flood control dam that has been or may hereafter be built or constructed by any flood control district created by act of Legislature of this State. Subject to the express limitations herein before set out, in any proceeding relative to the exercise of such power of eminent domain, the district shall have the same rights, powers and privileges as a municipal corporation.

Public works.

(6) To construct and maintain works and establish and maintain facilities across or along any public street or highway and in, upon or over any vacant public lands which are now, or may become, the property of the State of California, and to construct works and establish and maintain facilities across any stream of water or water course; provided, however, that the district shall promptly restore any such street or highway to its former state of usefulness as nearly as may be, and shall not use the same in such manner as to completely or unnecessarily impair the usefulness thereof. The grant of the right to use such vacant State lands shall be effective upon the filing by such district with the Division of State Lands of the Department of Finance, of an application showing the boundaries, extent and locations of the lands, rights of way, or easements desired for such purposes. If the land, rights of way or easement for which application shall be made is for the construction of any aqueduct, ditch, pipe line, conduit, tunnel or other works for the conveyance of water, or for roads, or for poles, or towers and wires for the conveyance of electrical energy or for telephonic or telegraphic communication, no compensation shall be charged the district therefor, unless, in the opinion of the chief of such Division of State Lands the construction of such works will render the remainder of the legal subdivision through which such works are to be constructed valueless or unsalable, in which event the district shall pay for the lands to be taken and for such portion of any legal subdivision which, in the opinion of said Chief of the Division of State Lands, are rendered valueless or unsalable, at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. If the lands for which application is made are for purposes other than the construction of roads or for works for the conveyance of water, or electricity or telephonic or telegraphic communication, such district shall pay to the State for such lands at the rate of one dollar and twenty-five cents per acre. Upon filing such application, accompanied by map or plat showing the location or proposed location of such works and/or facilities, the fee title to so much of such State lands as shall be found by the Chief of the Division of State Lands of the Department of Finance to be necessary or convenient to enable such district to construct or maintain its works and/or to establish or maintain its facilities, shall be conveyed to such district by patent executed by the Governor of the State of California, attested by the Secretary of State with the great seal of said State affixed, and countersigned by the register of State lands; if an easement or right of way only over such lands be sought by such district, such easement or right of way shall be evidenced by permit or grant executed by such Chief of the Division of State Lands. The Chief of the Division of State Lands may reserve in such patents, grants or permits, easements and rights of way across any lands therein described for the construction of streets, roads and highways. Before any such patent, grant or permit shall be executed any compensation due to the State under the provisions hereof, must be paid. In the event that the duties or titles of any of the officers herein mentioned shall be changed by lawful authority, the functions herein required to be performed shall be performed by the appropriate officer or officers of the State of California. No fee shall be exacted from such district for any patent, permit or grant so issued or for any service rendered hereunder. In the use of streets the district shall be subject to the reasonable rules and regulations of the county or city wherein such streets lie, concerning excavations and the refilling of excavations, the relaying of pavements and the protection of the public during periods of construction; provided, that the district shall not be required to pay any license or permit fees, or file any bonds. The district may be required to pay reasonable inspection fees.

(7) To borrow money and incur indebtedness and to issue bonds or other evidence of such indebtedness; provided, however, that no district incorporated hereunder shall incur indebtedness which, in the aggregate, shall exceed fifteen (15) Borrow money.

per cent of the assessed valuation of all the taxable property included within the district, as shown by the assessment records of the county or counties, excepting property subject to taxation for State purposes under the provision of section 14 of Article XIII of the Constitution of the State of California.

Taxes

(8) To levy and collect taxes for the purposes of carrying on the operations and paying the obligations of the district; provided, however, that such tax levied under this section exclusive of any tax levied to meet the bonded indebtedness of such district and the interest thereon shall not exceed five cents on each such one hundred dollars of assessed valuation; to enter into contracts, employ and retain personal services and employ laborers; to create, establish and maintain such offices and positions as shall be necessary and convenient for the transaction of the business of the district, and to elect, appoint and employ such officers, attorneys, agents and employees therefor as shall be found by the board of directors to be necessary and convenient.

Contract with public corporations

(9) To join with one or more other public corporations for the purpose of carrying out any of its powers, and for that purpose to contract with such other public corporation or corporations for the purpose of financing such acquisitions, constructions and operations. Such contracts may provide for contributions to be made by each party thereto and for the division and apportionment of the expenses of such acquisitions and operations, and the division and apportionment of the benefits, the services and products therefrom, and may provide for an agency to effect such acquisitions and carry on such operations, and shall provide in the powers and methods of procedure for such agency the method by which such agency may contract. Such contract may contain such other and further covenants and agreements as may be necessary and convenient to accomplish the purposes hereof. The term "public corporation" as used in this subdivision shall be deemed to mean and include the United States or any other public agency thereof or this or any other State or any political district or subdivision thereof.

Water and water rights

(10) To acquire water and water rights within or without the State; to develop, store and transport water; to provide, sell and deliver water at wholesale for municipal and domestic uses and purposes; to provide, sell and deliver surplus water of the district not needed or required by member cities for domestic or municipal uses therein, for beneficial purposes, but giving preference to uses within the district; provided, that the supplying of such surplus water shall, in every case, be subject to the paramount right of the district to discontinue the same, in whole or in part, and to take and hold, or to provide, sell and deliver, such water for domestic or municipal uses within the district, upon one year's written notice to the purchaser or user of such surplus water, such notice to be given by the board of directors of the district whenever it shall be determined and declared by resolution adopted by said board of directors by a two-thirds vote thereof that such water is needed or required by member cities of the district for domestic or municipal uses therein; to fix the rates therefor, and to acquire, construct, operate and maintain any and all works, facilities, improvements and property necessary or convenient therefor.

Investments, etc.

(11) To invest any surplus money in the district treasury, including such money in any sinking fund established for the purpose of providing for the payment of the principal or interest of any bonded or other indebtedness or for any other purpose, not required for the immediate necessities of the district, in its own bonds, or in treasury notes, or bonds, of the United States, or of this State, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of such bonds or treasury notes, or part thereof, at the original sale of the same, or by the subsequent purchase of such bonds or treasury notes. Any bonds or treasury notes thus purchased and held may, from time to time, be sold and the proceeds reinvested in bonds or treasury notes, as above provided. Sales of any bonds or treasury notes thus purchased and held shall, from time to time, be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the money, with which the bonds or treasury notes were originally purchased, was placed in the treasury of the district. The functions and duties authorized by this paragraph shall be performed by joint action of the Controller and Treasurer, with the approval of the attorney, under such rules and regulations as shall be prescribed by the board of directors of the district.

Refund indebtedness

(12) To refund bonded indebtedness incurred by the district under and pursuant to the provisions of section 7 of this act, such refunding to be made in the following manner:

(a) The board of directors by a two-thirds vote may refund such bonded indebtedness, or any portion thereof, and issue refunding bonds of the district therefor maturing not later than fifty (50) years from the date of the first issue of the refunded bonds, if said refunded bonds shall have been issued in one block, or from the date of the respective installment of such refunded bonds, if the same shall have been issued in installments, and bearing interest at a rate not exceeding the interest rate on the refunded bonds. The provisions of subsections (e), (f), (j), (k) and (l) of section 7 of this act, subject to the limitations and modifications imposed by this paragraph, shall apply to such refunding bonds. The provision in said subsection (e) for deferring the date of the earliest maturity of the principal of the bonds shall be construed to authorize the board of directors, in its discretion, to determine and fix the date for the earliest maturity of the principal of said refunding bonds, which date shall be not later than fifteen (15) years from the date of the first issue of the refunded bonds, or from the date of the respective installment of the refunded bonds, as the case may be.

(b) Said refunding bonds may be sold by the board of directors as it shall determine, in the manner provided in subsection (g) of section 7 of this act for the sale of the bonds to be refunded, and the proceeds of the sale of such refunding bonds, excepting premium and accrued interest, shall be placed in the treasury of the district to the credit of the "Refunding fund" and shall be applied only to the purchase, at not more than par and accrued interest, of the bonded indebtedness for which said refunding bonds shall have been issued. Premium and accrued interest shall be placed in the fund to be applied to the payment of interest on, and the retirement of, the refunding bonds so sold. In lieu of selling such refunding bonds and purchasing with the proceeds thereof the bonds to be refunded, the board of directors of the district may exchange refunding bonds at not less than par and accrued interest for the bonds so refunded.

(c) Whenever such outstanding bonds shall be refunded, they shall be surrendered to the treasurer of the district, who shall proceed to cancel the same by indorsing on the face thereof the manner in which the refunding shall have been effected (whether by exchange or purchase, and the amount for which so purchased, if any) and by perforating through each bond and each coupon attached thereto, the word "canceled" together with the date of cancellation. He shall keep a record of such bonds so refunded, and shall make a report to the board of directors at least once a month.

(d) All moneys which shall remain in said "Refunding fund" after all outstanding bonds which were proposed to be refunded therefrom have been taken up and canceled, shall be paid into the sinking fund of such district and become a part thereof.

Stats 1931, p 814.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Board of directors

Sec. 6. All powers, privileges and duties vested in or imposed upon any district incorporated hereunder shall be exercised and performed by and through a board of directors; provided, however, that the exercise of any and all executive, administrative and ministerial powers may be by said board of directors delegated and redelegated to any of the offices created hereby or by the board of directors acting hereunder.

Members

The board of directors herein referred to shall consist of at least one representative from each municipality, the area of which shall lie within the metropolitan water district. Such representatives shall serve without compensation from the district and shall be designated and appointed by the chief executive officers of municipalities, respectively, with the consent and approval of the governing bodies of the municipalities, respectively. As a member of the board of directors, each representative shall be entitled to vote on all questions, orders, resolutions and ordinances coming before the board, and shall be entitled to cast one vote for each ten million dollars, or major fractional part thereof, of assessed valuation of property taxable for district purposes in the city represented by him as shown by the assessment records of the county and evidenced by the certificate of the county auditor; provided, that each representative shall have at least one vote and no municipality shall have votes exceeding in number the total number of votes of all the other municipalities that are members of such district. In lieu of one representative any city may at its option designate and appoint several representatives not exceeding one additional representative for each two hundred million dollars of assessed valuation, but such representatives shall cast the vote to which such city would otherwise be entitled as a unit and as a majority of such representatives present shall determine. The affirmative votes of members representing more than fifty (50) per cent of the total number of votes of all the members shall be necessary and, except as otherwise herein provided, shall be sufficient to carry any order, resolution or ordinance coming before the board of directors. For the purposes of this section, the term "major fractional part" shall be deemed to mean a fractional part larger than one-half. Members of the board of directors so constituted shall convene at the time and place fixed by the chief executive officer of the municipality initiating the proceedings hereunder, and immediately upon convening, such board of directors shall elect from its membership a chairman, a vice chairman, and a secretary, who shall serve for a period of two years, or until their successor shall be elected and qualified.

Powers of board.

The board of directors shall have power:

(1) To fix the time and place or places at which its regular meetings shall be held, and shall provide for the calling and holding of special meetings.

(2) To make and pass ordinances, resolutions and orders not repugnant to the Constitution of the United States or of the State of California, or to the provisions of this act, necessary for the government and management of the affairs of the district, for the execution of the powers vested in the district and for carrying into effect the provisions of this act. On all ordinances the roll shall be called and the ayes and noes recorded. Resolutions and orders may be adopted by viva voce, but on demand of any member the roll shall be called. No ordinance shall be adopted unless it shall have been introduced on a day previous to the time of such adoption except by unanimous vote of all the members of the board of directors present, provided there shall be present directors from not less than three-fourths of all cities composing said metropolitan water district and representing not less than three-fourths of the total votes of said district; provided, that in lieu of such previous introduction or unanimous vote any ordinance may be mailed by registered mail, postage prepaid to each member of the board of directors at least five (5) days prior to the day upon which such ordinance shall be presented for adoption. No ordinance adopted by the board of directors shall take effect until the expiration of thirty (30) days following the adoption thereof, except an ordinance ordering or otherwise relating to an election or to the issuance or sale of bonds or to the levying or collection of taxes or the fixing of water rates; and an ordinance necessary for the immediate preservation or protection of the property, interests or welfare of the district, which shall contain a specific statement showing its urgency, and is passed by three-fourths of the total vote of the board of directors but all ordinances of any of the classes heretofore excepted by this section shall take effect upon their adoption. All ordinances except those which shall take effect upon their adoption as provided in this section shall be subject to referendum in the manner provided by law for the legislative acts of boards of supervisors of counties.

Powers of board

(3) To fix the location of the principal place of business of the district and the location of all offices and departments maintained hereunder.

(4) To prescribe by ordinance a system of business administration and to create any and all necessary offices which shall include the offices of controller and of treasurer and to establish and reestablish the powers and duties and compensation of all officers and employees and to require and fix the amount of all official bonds necessary for the protection of the funds and property of the district.

(5) To prescribe by ordinance a system of civil service.

(6) To delegate and redelegate by ordinance to officers of the district power to employ clerical, legal and engineering assistants and labor, and under such conditions and restrictions as shall be fixed by the directors' power to bind the district by contract.

(7) To prescribe a method of auditing and allowing or rejecting claims and demands; also to prescribe methods for the construction of works and for the letting of contracts for the construction of works, structures or equipment, or the performance or furnishing of labor, materials or supplies, required for the carrying out of any of the purposes of this act; provided that, in cases where work is not to be done by the district itself by force account, and the amount involved shall be ten thousand dollars, or more, the board of directors shall provide for the letting of contracts to the lowest responsible bidder, after publication of notices inviting bids, subject to the right of said board to reject any and all proposals. Provided, likewise, that the board of directors in advertising for bids and in letting contracts as above provided, may require all articles to be furnished to the district thereunder to be manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its Territories, and may prohibit the use in, or employment in connection with, the carrying out of such contracts by the contractor or any subcontractor, of all machinery or materials except such as shall have been manufactured, produced or fabricated in the United States or its Territories, if such are available, the question of such availability to be determined by the board of directors.

Provided, further, that contracts, in writing or otherwise, may be let without advertising for or inviting bids, when any repairs, alterations, or other work, or the purchase of materials, supplies, equipment or other property, shall be deemed by the board of directors to be of urgent necessity, and shall be authorized by a two-thirds vote thereof.

(8) To fix the rates at which water shall be sold; provided, however, that rates shall be uniform for like classes of service throughout the district.

SEC. 3. Section 7 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 814

Sec. 7. (a) Whenever the board of directors of any metropolitan water district incorporated under this act shall, by ordinance adopted by a vote of a majority of the aggregate number of votes of all the members of the board of directors, determine that the interests of said district and the public interest or necessity demand the acquisition, construction or completion of any public improvement or works, or the incurring of any preliminary expenses, necessary or convenient to carry out the objects or purposes of said district the cost of which will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district, said board of directors may order the submission of the proposition of incurring bonded indebtedness, for the purposes set forth in the said ordinance, to the qualified voters of such district, at an election held for that purpose. Any election held for the purpose of submitting any proposition or propositions of incurring such bonded indebtedness may be held separately, or may be consolidated or held concurrently with any other election authorized by law at which the qualified electors of the district are entitled to vote. The declaration of public interest or necessity herein required and the provision for the holding of such election may be included within one and the same ordinance, which ordinance, in addition to such declaration of public interest or necessity, shall recite the objects and purposes for which the indebtedness is proposed to be incurred, the estimated cost of the public works or improvements, or the estimated amount of preliminary expenses, as the case may be, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor and the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, which rate shall not exceed six (6) per cent per annum payable semiannually. Such ordinance shall also fix the date upon which such election shall be held and the manner of holding the same and the method of voting for or against incurring the proposed indebtedness. Such ordinance shall also fix the compensation to be paid the officers of the election and shall designate the precincts and polling places and shall appoint the officers of such election, which officers shall consist of one inspector, one judge and two clerks in each precinct. The description of precincts may be made by reference to any order or orders of the board of supervisors of the county or counties in which the district or any part thereof is situated, or by reference to any previous order or ordinance of the legislative body of the municipality, or by detailed description of such precincts. Precincts established by the boards of supervisors of the various counties, to a number not exceeding six (6), may be consolidated for special elections held hereunder. In the event any bond election shall be called to be held concurrently with any other election or shall be consolidated therewith, the ordinance calling the election hereunder need not designate precincts or polling places or the names of officers of election, but shall contain reference to the act or order calling such other election and fixing the precincts and polling places and appointing election officers therefor.

Publication.

(b) The ordinance provided for in subdivision (a) of this section shall be published once, at least ten (10) days before the date of the election therein called, in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published within the district, and no other or further notice of such election or publication of the names of election officers or of the precincts or polling places need be given or made.

Conduct of election.

(c) The respective election boards shall conduct the election in their respective precincts in the manner prescribed by law for the holding of general elections, and shall make their returns to the secretary of the district. At any regular or special meeting of the board of directors held not earlier than five (5) days following the date of such election, the returns thereof shall be canvassed and the results thereof declared. In the event that any election held hereunder shall be consolidated with any primary or general election and the proposition to incur indebtedness shall be printed upon a ballot containing other propositions, the returns of the election held hereunder shall be made with the returns of the primary or general election to the board of supervisors or other bodies whose duty it shall be to canvass the returns thereof, and the results of the election held hereunder shall be canvassed at the time and in the manner provided by law for the canvass of the returns of such primary or general election. It shall be the duty of such canvassing body or bodies to promptly certify and transmit to the board of directors of the district a statement of the result of the vote upon the proposition submitted hereunder. Upon receipt of such certificates, it shall be the duty of the board of directors to tabulate and declare the results of the election held hereunder.

Results of election

(d) In the event that it shall appear from said returns that a majority of the electors voting on any proposition submitted hereunder at such election voted in favor of such proposition, the district shall thereupon be authorized to issue and sell bonds of the district in the amount and for the purpose or purposes and object or objects provided for such proposition in such ordinance, and at a rate of interest, not exceeding the rate recited in said ordinance.

(e) All bonds of such district, issued under the provisions of this act, shall be payable substantially in the following manner: A part to be determined by the board of directors which shall not be less than one-fiftieth (1/50) part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place or places to be fixed by said board of directors, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date; provided, that, in case such bonds are issued in installments at different times, each installment shall be payable substantially in the following manner: A part to be determined by the board of directors which shall not be less than one-fiftieth (1/50) part of the whole amount of such installment, shall be payable each and every year on a day and date, and at a place or places to be fixed by said board of directors, together with the interest on all sums unpaid at such date; provided, however, that said board may, in its discretion, determine and fix the date for the earliest maturity of the principal of the whole amount of such bonded indebtedness, or of each installment of such bonds, as the case may be, not more than fifteen years from the date of the first issue of such bonds, or of the respective installment of such bonds, as the case may be; in this event, the whole amount of such bonded indebtedness, or of the respective installment of such bonds, as the case may be, must be made payable in substantially equal annual parts in not to exceed fifty (50) years from the date of the first issue of such bonds, when the bonds are issued in one block, or from the date of the respective installment of such bonds, when the bonds are issued in installments. The bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors may determine, except that no bonds shall be of less denomination than one hundred (100) dollars, nor of a greater denomination than fifty thousand (50,000) dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in such bonds and with interest at the rate specified therein, which rate shall not be in excess of six per cent (6%) per annum, and shall be payable semiannually. Such bonds shall be signed by the chairman of said board of directors, or by such other officer as said board of directors shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote of its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and such bonds shall also be signed by the controller, or assistant controller, and countersigned by the secretary of said board of directors. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively, and signed by said controller, or assistant controller. All such signatures and countersignatures excepting that of the controller, or assistant controller, on said bonds, may be printed, lithographed or engraved.

Sale of bonds

(g) Such bonds shall not be sold at a price less than the par value thereof, together with accrued interest to the date of delivery, nor until notice calling for bids therefor shall have been published in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in the county wherein the principal place of business of said district shall be located. Said notice, calling for bids, shall state the time for the receipt of such bids, which shall not be less than ten (10) days after the first publication thereof. Such notice may offer the bonds at a fixed interest rate or with the interest rate undetermined, in which event the bids shall contain a statement of the lowest rate of interest at which the bidder will take the bonds and pay par value or more therefor, together with accrued interest. Bids for such bonds shall be opened publicly and the results thereof publicly announced. Such bonds shall be sold to the highest bidder. Temporary, or interim, bonds or certificates, of any denomination whatsoever, to be signed by the Controller, may be issued until the definitive bonds are executed and available for delivery.

Proceeds

(h) Such bonds may be issued and sold by said board of directors as they shall determine, and the proceeds thereof, excepting premium and accrued interest, shall be placed in the treasury of said district to the credit of the proper improvement fund, and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance; provided, that the interest on said bonds accruing during the construction period and for one year thereafter shall be deemed to be a construction cost within the meaning of the purposes and objects mentioned in said ordinance, and such interest may be paid from said proceeds of the sales of such bonds. Premium and accrued interest shall be placed in the fund to be applied to the payment of interest on, and the retirement of, the bonds so sold. For the purposes of this section, the construction period shall be deemed to end when the works, the construction of which shall have been authorized from the proceeds of any such bond issue, shall have been placed in operation to such extent as to result in the sale and delivery in the district, of water transported and provided by means of such works.

Action to test bonds

(i) The board of directors shall, within ninety (90) days from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of bonds, cause to be brought in the name of the district an action in the superior court of the county in which said district, or the greater portion of the property subject to taxation by said district, according to the most recent assessment, is located, to determine the validity of any such bonds and the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in rem, and jurisdiction of all parties interested may be had by publication of summons for at least once a week for three (3) weeks in some paper of general circulation published in the county where the action is pending, such paper to be designated by the court having jurisdiction of the proceedings. Jurisdiction shall be complete within ten (10) days after the full publication of such summons in the manner herein provided. Anyone interested may at any time before the expiration of said ten (10) days appear and by proper proceedings contest the validity of such bonds and the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. Such action shall be speedily tried and judgment rendered declaring such bonds to be valid or invalid, and declaring the provision for the collection of an annual tax for said purposes, to be sufficient or insufficient. Either party may have the right to appeal to the Supreme Court at any time within thirty (30) days after the rendition of such judgment, which appeal must be heard and determined within three months from the time of taking such appeal. After the expiration of ninety (90) days from the date of the election authorizing the issuance of bonds, no action may be brought to contest or question the validity of said bonds and proceedings in relation thereto or the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. If there be more than one action or proceeding involving the validity of any of such bonds, or the sufficiency of the provision for the collection of an annual tax sufficient for the said purposes, they shall be consolidated and tried together. The court hearing any proceeding or action inquiring into the regularity, legality or correctness of the proceedings leading up to the issuance of bonds or the validity of such bonds or the sufficiency of such provision for the collection of an annual tax, must disregard any error, irregularity or omission which does not affect the substantial rights of the parties to said action or proceeding. The rules of pleading and practice provided by the Code of Civil Procedure, which are not inconsistent with the provisions of this act, are applicable to all actions or proceedings herein provided for. The motion for a new trial of any such action or proceeding must be heard and determined within ten (10) days from the filing of the notice of intention. The costs on any proceeding or action herein provided for may be allowed and apportioned between the parties or taxed to the losing party, in the discretion of the court.

Revenue from water

(j) The board of directors shall fix such rate or rates for water furnished as will pay the operating expenses of the district, provide for repairs and depreciation of works owned or operated by such district, pay the interest on any bonded debt, and, so far as practicable, provide a sinking or other fund for the payment of the principal of such debt as the same may become due; it being the intention of this section to require the district to pay the interest and principal of the bonded debt from the revenues of such district, so far as practicable. If however, from any cause, the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the interest or principal of any bonded debt as the same becomes due, the board of directors shall, at the time of fixing the tax levy and in the manner for such tax levy provided, levy and collect annually until said bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the district set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds, or such part thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district, and also sufficient to pay such part of the principal of such bonds as shall become due before the time when money will be available from the next general tax levy, or such portion thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually sufficient when added to revenues of the district available for that purpose to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due and also to constitute, together with the revenues of the district available for such purpose, a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of such bonds on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected and shall be used for no purpose other than the payment of such bonds and accruing interest.

Taxes.

Coupons and bonds registered

(k) Coupon bonds issued hereunder, at the request of the holder, may be registered as to principal and interest in the holder's name on the books of the treasurer of the district, and the coupons surrendered and the principal and interest made payable only to the registered holder of the bond. For that purpose the treasurer of the district shall detach and cancel the coupons, and shall endorse a statement on the bonds that the coupon sheet issued therewith has been surrendered by the holder, and the coupons canceled by such treasurer, and that the principal and the semiannual interest are thereafter to be paid to the registered holder, or order, by draft, check or warrant drawn payable at a place of payment specified in the bond, after which no transfer shall be valid unless made on such treasurer's books by the registered holder, or by his attorney duly authorized, and similarly noted on the bond. After such registration, the principal and interest of such bond shall be payable only to the registered owner. Bonds registered under this paragraph may, with the consent of the district and the holders of the bonds, be reconverted into coupon bonds at the expense of the holder thereof, and again reconverted into registered bonds from time to time, as the board of directors of the district and the holders of the bonds may determine. In converting coupon bonds into registered bonds, coupon bonds may be exchanged for registered bonds of one hundred dollars ($100) each, or multiples thereof, but not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) each, in which event new registered bonds shall be issued at the expense of the holder. Coupon bonds may be exchanged for other coupon bonds of one hundred dollars ($100) each, or multiples thereof, but not exceeding fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) each, in which event new coupon bonds shall be issued at the expense of the holder.

For each conversion or reconversion of a coupon or registered bond, the treasurer of the district shall be entitled to charge and collect such fee as the board of directors of the district may prescribe from time to time.

Bonds legal investments.

(l) All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by any metropolitan water district shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings and trust companies, and for the State school funds, and for all sinking funds under the control of the State Treasurer, and whenever any moneys or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in, or loaned upon the security of, bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts in the State of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in, or loaned upon the security of, the bonds of such metropolitan water district; and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts, by any law now or hereafter enacted, may be used as security for the faithful performance or execution of any court or private trust or of any other act, bonds of such metropolitan water district may be so used.

Stats. 1931, p. 814.

SEC. 4. Section 8 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessed valuation.

Sec. 8. (a) Immediately after equalization and not later than the fifteenth day of August of each year, it shall be the duty of the auditor of each county wherein such district or any part thereof shall lie, to prepare and deliver to the controller of the district a certificate showing the assessed valuation of all property within the district lying in the county, and also such assessed valuation segregated according to cities, the area of which lie within the district.

Rate of taxation.

(b) On or before the twentieth day of August the board of directors of the district shall by resolution determine the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation during the fiscal year beginning the first day of July next preceding and shall fix the rate of taxation of the district, designating the number of cents upon each one hundred dollars assessed valuation of taxable property in each county and shall levy a tax accordingly:

(1) Sufficient to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on all outstanding bonded indebtedness of said district; and sufficient to meet the payment of the principal and interest on any refunding bonds, or on any bonds the issuance of which may have been authorized by the electors, and which bonds have not been sold but which, in the judgment of the board of directors, will be sold prior to the time when money will be available from the next subsequent tax levy, and in case such bonds are not so issued and sold or such tax for any other reason is not required for said purpose, the tax so levied shall be applied to the payment of interest and/or principal on any refunding bonds, or on any bonds authorized by the electors, then outstanding or subsequently issued and/or sold; and

(2) For all other district purposes.

Segregation as to cities

(c) The board of directors shall also cause to be computed and shall declare in said resolution the amount of money to be derived from the area of the district lying within each separate municipality by virtue of the tax levy. In such resolution the board shall also fix and determine the times and proportional amounts of installments in which any city may elect to make payment in lieu of taxes as hereinafter provided. The board shall immediately cause certified copies of such resolution to be transmitted to the presiding officer of the governing body of each such city.

Payment by cities

(d) On or before the twenty-fifth day of August of each year the governing body of each such city may elect to pay out of the municipal funds all or any portion of the amount of tax which would otherwise be levied upon property within such city. Such election shall be made by order upon motion, which order shall recite that such payment shall be made in cash concurrently with the certification of such order to the controller of the district, or that such payment shall be made in installments and the times wherein such installments shall be payable and the amounts thereof, which amounts shall be in accordance with the requirements of the board of directors of the district as approved by resolution. In the event that any city shall elect to pay in cash, or by deferred installments, money or any part thereof which would otherwise be levied upon property within the city, it shall immediately certify to the controller of the district a copy of such order and a statement showing its financial condition, the funds from which such payments shall be made and the sources of revenue to be used therefor. Provided, however, that in the event any city shall elect to pay in cash all or any portion of the amount of tax which would otherwise be levied upon property within such city to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on the outstanding bonded indebtedness of said district, such amount so elected to be paid shall be deposited with the treasurer of said district on or before the twenty-seventh day of August next following such election; and provided, also, that unless such payment is so made in the case of interest and sinking fund requirements, and unless such election, as to all other taxes, shall provide for payments in accordance with the resolution of the board of directors as hereinbefore provided for, then such election shall be ineffective for any purpose.

Tax rate for cities

(e) Before the first day of September the controller of the district shall cause to be prepared and transmitted to the auditor of each county in which the district shall lie, a statement showing the tax rate to be applied to assessed property in each city, which rate shall be the rate fixed by resolution of the board of directors modified to the extent necessary to produce from each city only the amount of money apportioned thereto in said resolution, less any amount paid or undertaken to be paid by such city, or credited thereto as herein provided, but if any fraction of a cent occur, it must be taken as a full cent on each one hundred dollars.

Collection of taxes.

(f) Upon receipt by the auditor of each county wherein such district, or any part thereof, shall lie, of a certified copy of the controller's statement showing the tax rate to be applied to assessed property in each city, and showing the cities, the assessed property in which is exempt therefrom, if any, it shall be the duty of the county officers to collect taxes for the benefit of the district at the rate specified as herein provided. The taxes so levied shall be computed and collected at the time and in the manner required by law for the computation and collection of taxes for county purposes, and the property subject to such tax shall be subject to the same penalties for delinquency, and the same provisions of law relating to the sale of property for nonpayment of county taxes and redemption thereof shall apply to the tax herein authorized. When so collected, such taxes shall be paid over to the treasurer of the district, subject to the deduction herein authorized.

Payment for services by county.

In consideration of services rendered hereunder, any county shall annually be entitled to deduct and withhold an amount not exceeding one per cent on the first twenty-five thousand dollars collected hereunder, and one-fourth of one per cent of any amount in excess of twenty-five thousand dollars collected hereunder. The board of supervisors of each such county may provide such extra help as in their judgment may be necessary for the proper performance of duties hereunder.

Enforcement of tax liens.

(g) Whenever any real property situated in any district organized hereunder and upon which a tax shall have been levied, as herein provided, shall be sold for taxes and shall be redeemed, the money paid for such redemption, except advertising costs, shall be apportioned and paid in part to such district in the proportion which the tax due to such district shall bear to the total tax for which such property shall have been sold. All taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall be a lien upon the property upon which levied, and the enforcement of the collection of such tax shall be had in the same manner and by the same means as is or shall be provided by law for the enforcement of liens for State and county taxes, and all of the provisions of law relating to the enforcement of such taxes are hereby made a part of this act so far as applicable.

Payment by cities to districts

(h) Cities, the areas of which are included within metropolitan water districts incorporated hereunder, are hereby authorized to pay to such districts, out of funds derived from the sale of water or other funds not appropriated to some other use, such amounts as may be determined upon by the governing bodies, or other bodies, boards, commissioners or officers having control of such funds, thereof, respectively. Such payments may be made in avoidance of taxes as herein provided, or otherwise, and shall not be deemed gratuitous or in the nature of gifts, but shall be deemed payments for water or services in connection with the distribution of water. Any city making any such payment to any district incorporated hereunder, whether in avoidance of taxes or otherwise, shall receive credit therefor and the amount of the payment so made by any city shall be deducted from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying therein as herein provided. In the event that payment so made by any city shall exceed the amount of taxes which would otherwise have been levied against property within such city, the amount of such excess without interest shall be carried over and applied in reduction of taxes levied, or which would otherwise have been levied during the ensuing year or years. Any city, or body, board, commission or officer thereof having control of funds, which shall have incurred expenses (for which such funds have been, or will be, expended) in the investigation of or preliminary work upon any works or projects taken over by the district, may receive, and the district so taking over any such works or projects may make to such city, body, board, commission or officer thereof, reimbursement for all such sums so expended, or to be expended, for expenses incurred in such investigation of or preliminary work upon the works or projects so taken over by the district, to the extent that the board of directors of the district shall find that such expenditures have benefited such district, it being the intention of this provision to permit the district to purchase, and the city or body, board, commission or officer thereof, to sell, such works or projects taken over by such district, and for which such city, body, board, commission or officer thereof, has no further use or need. The sum so to be paid by such district to such city or body, board, commission or officer thereof, shall be mutually agreed upon, and if the expenses, for which such reimbursement is to be made by the district, shall have been incurred by a body, board, commission or officer, of the city, having control of the funds so expended, or to be expended, for such expenses, then the district shall pay such sum to said body, board, commission or officer, or if ordered so to do by such body, board, commission or officer, the district shall pay such sum to the city.

As an alternative to the purchase and sale of any works or projects taken over by the district, as hereinabove provided, any city, or body, board, commission or officer thereof having control of funds, which shall have incurred expenses for which such funds have been, or will be, expended in the investigation of or preliminary work upon any such works or projects taken over by the district, may certify the amount thereof, without interest, to the board of directors of said district at any time within four (4) years from the date of the incorporation of such district, or the incurring of such expenses, if such district be already incorporated, and if allowed by the board of directors, such amount shall be credited to the city, which itself, or whose body, board, commission or officer, incurred the same, and such expenditures shall be considered as a payment of money made as herein provided for which deduction shall be made from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying within such city.

Any city which shall incur expenses in preliminary work in preparing for the incorporation of or in the incorporation of any district hereunder likewise may certify the amount thereof, without interest, to the board of directors of said district at any time within four (4) years from the date of the incorporation of such district, and if allowed by the board of directors, such amount shall be credited to the city incurring the same, and shall be considered as a payment of money made as herein provided, for which deduction shall be made from the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against property lying within such city.

No such payments of money made in avoidance of taxes or otherwise, or such credit allowed by such board of directors, as hereinabove provided, shall apply to reduce the amount of taxes which would otherwise be levied against the property within such cities respectively, to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on outstanding bonded indebtedness of such district.

Such certification and allowance shall be made on or before the first Monday in July, and the amount of money to be raised by taxation shall be computed with reference to the credit to be allowed as herein provided, but such credit may, in the discretion of the board of directors, be considered in connection with the amount of money to be raised by the next tax levy, or may be spread over subsequent years, not to exceed five.

Failure of city to pay.

(i) If any city shall fail to comply with the terms of the order relating to payments to be made to the district in lieu of taxation, or if any city annexed to the district shall fail to comply with the terms and conditions fixed by the board of directors and upon which such annexation occurred, the amount of the delinquency, plus a penalty of eight per cent shall be added to the taxes to be collected during the ensuing fiscal year, from the property within such delinquent city, and thereafter for a period of two (2) years no order or ordinance shall be sufficient to exempt the property in said city from taxation hereunder unless it be accompanied by payment in cash of the amount which would otherwise be collected from owners of property within the city, together with all moneys due but unpaid under any previous order, or annexation provision.

Stats 1927, p 694

SEC. 5. Section 10 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

City may withdraw from district.

Sec. 10. Any municipality whose corporate area has become or is a part of any water district may withdraw therefrom in the following manner:

The governing body of any such municipality may submit to the electors thereof at any general or special election the proposition of withdrawing from any water district incorporated thereunder. Notice of such election shall be given in the manner provided in subdivision (b) of section 9 hereof. Such election shall be conducted and the returns thereof canvassed in the manner provided by law for the conduct of municipal elections in said city. In the event that the majority of the electors voting thereon vote in favor of such withdrawal, the result thereof shall be certified by the governing body of such municipality to the board of directors of the district. A certificate of the proceedings hereunder shall be made by the secretary of the district and filed with the Secretary of State, and upon the filing of such certificate the area of the municipality so withdrawing shall be excluded from the said water district, and shall no longer be a part thereof; provided, however, that the property within the said municipality as it shall exist at the time of such exclusion shall continue taxable for the purpose of paying said bonded and other indebtedness outstanding or contracted for, at the time of such exclusion and until such bonded or other indebtedness shall have been satisfied.

Stats 1927, p 694

SEC. 6. Section 11 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Directors and employees not to be interested in contract

Sec. 11. Except as herein provided, no director or any other officer or employee of the district shall in any manner be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract awarded or to be awarded by the board of directors, or made or to be made by such officer or employee pursuant to discretionary authority vested in him, or in the profits to be derived therefrom. Notwithstanding the fact that such director or other officer or employee of the district may be a stockholder or bondholder or director or other officer or employee of a corporation contracting with the district, contracts may be made with such corporation for its general benefit unless such director or officer or employee of the district shall own or control, directly or indirectly, stock or bonds to an amount exceeding five per centum (5%) of the total amount of the stock or bonds, respectively, of such contracting corporation issued and outstanding. For any violation of this section such director or other officer or employee of the district shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and such conviction shall work a forfeiture of his office, or employment, and he shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars ($500), or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six (6) months, or by both such fine and imprisonment.

SEC. 7. Section 13¾ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1929, p 1613.

Sec. 13¾. The treasurer of any district organized under the provisions of this act is hereby expressly authorized to deposit funds of such district in banks in the manner provided by law for the deposit of moneys of a municipality or other public or municipal corporation. Deposit of funds.

SEC. 8. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act, or of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more other sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of this act, or that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality

SEC. 9. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: Urgency

The peace, health and safety of the citizens of various cities in the southern part of this State are dependent upon the obtaining of an adequate supply of water for municipal and domestic use therein, from the Colorado River, by means of an aqueduct, diversion works and other facilities of such magnitude as to be possible only through the medium of a metropolitan water district, organized and functioning for the purpose of bringing such water to its component cities; that there is now a metropolitan water district, comprised of thirteen cities in the southern part of this State, organized and functioning for this purpose; that at an election held therein on the 29th day of September, 1931, the issuance of bonds sufficient to enable such district to commence the construction of the necessary diversion works, aqueduct and other facilities, and the acquisition of the rights of way required therefor, was authorized; that if the provisions of this act become a law immediately, the sale by such metropolitan water district of its bonds so authorized, will be furthered, and such district thereby will be enabled to obtain without delay the necessary funds for the construction of such diversion works, aqueduct and other facilities and the acquisition of the rights of way therefor and the doing of the other things immediately required of such district in order to function properly for the immediate preservation of the peace, health and safety of the citizens of the component cities of such district.

CHAPTER 508.

An act to add four new sections to the Civil Code, to be numbered 453h1 to 453h4, inclusive, all relating to life, health, accident, and annuity or endowment insurance on the assessment plan.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453h1 and to read as follows:

Money advanced to corporation may be repaid.

453h1. Any officer or director of a domestic corporation doing the business of insurance on the assessment plan under the provisions of this chapter, or any other person, may advance to such corporation any sum of money for the purpose of promoting or conserving its business or to enable it to comply with the requirements of the laws of this or any other State; and the return of such money, together with such interest thereon as may have been agreed upon, not exceeding eight per cent per annum, shall be payable only out of the surplus remaining after providing for all required reserves and other liabilities, whether required by the laws of this State or any other State in which the corporation does business and shall not otherwise be a liability or claim against the corporation or any of its assets. No commission or promotion expenses shall be paid in connection with the advance of any such money to the corporation, and the amount of such advance shall be reported in each annual statement. When any such corporation discontinues business, after the payment of or provision for all liabilities, the balance in this fund must be returned to such person, or, if the advance is repaid, to the corporation or disposed of as may be determined by the superior court of the county in which is its principal place of business.

New section

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453h2 and to read as follows:

Corporation may act as mutual company

453h2. Any domestic corporation subject to the provisions of this chapter and possessed of admitted assets equal to at least two hundred thousand dollars in excess of all liabilities may, at its option, without reincorporation, elect to operate as a mutual legal reserve company. Corporations doing business of the sixth, eighth, ninth and tenth classes defined in section 594 of the Political Code, in addition to life insurance, must have fifty thousand dollars of admitted assets in excess of all liabilities, in order to enable such corporation to do the eighth, ninth and tenth classes of insurance, and must also have apart from assets required to do other classes of insurance, fifty thousand dollars of admitted assets in excess of all liabilities to do the sixth class of insurance.

SEC. 3. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453h3 and to read as follows: New section.

453h3. Upon a two-thirds majority vote of its directors, or of the officers, by whatever name known, who serve in the same capacity, with relation to it, as directors of a stock corporation, such corporation may amend its articles and by-laws in such manner as to transform itself into a mutual legal reserve insurer, with the name by which it is then known, or such other name as the directors, or the officers in such capacity, determine. Such amendment must thereupon be confirmed or asserted to by a majority of the total number of members together with the policyholders. Amendment of articles.

Upon so doing, and upon procuring from the Insurance Commissioner a certificate of authority to transact business in this State as a mutual legal reserve insurer it may do the classes of business in this State permitted by such certificate and which it is entitled to do by virtue of assets held as required by section 453h2.

The corporation need not include in its policies thereafter executed the provisions required by this chapter, but shall be subject as to all its subsequent business to the tests of solvency provided for life insurance companies, accident and health insurance companies, or both such companies, as the nature of its business may require, and shall also be subject to all other provisions of law relating to such companies. But such election shall not affect the rights or obligations of the company or its members on any policy or certificate theretofore executed. What law governs.

SEC. 4. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code to be numbered section 453h4 and to read as follows: New section.

453h4. Every company subject to the provisions of this act shall maintain on its books separate accounts for the money received and the disbursements of its funds for its life, disability, and general business. The accounts shall show the amounts received from initiation fees, dues, premiums, interest, assessments and general income according to class of business. Records and accounts

CHAPTER 509.

An act to add a new article to Chapter I of Part III of Division IV of the School Code, to be numbered Article Ib, comprising sections 4.280b to 4.284b, inclusive, relating to revolving funds for warehouse stock.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect August 21, 1933]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New article

SECTION 1. A new article is hereby added to Chapter I of Part III of Division IV of the School Code, to be numbered Article Ib, and to read as follows:

Article Ib. Revolving Fund for Warehouse Stock.

Revolving fund for warehouse stock

Sec. 4.280b. The governing board of any high school district or junior college district, or the board of education of any city school district, may, if such school district maintains a stock of merchandise for school use, establish a revolving fund for budget control and stock accounting purposes, by adopting a resolution setting forth the necessity for such revolving fund, the purpose for which the fund shall be used, and the amount thereof. Three certified copies of such resolution shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools, who, if he approves the establishment of such fund, shall indorse his consent upon such resolution, return one copy thereof to the governing board of the school district, and transmit one copy to the county auditor.

Amount

Sec. 4.281b. The amount of the revolving fund shall be determined as follows: The inventory of stores on hand at the time of the establishment of the fund, such stores having been paid for from school district funds and reported to the county superintendent of schools as such, shall be the amount to constitute the revolving fund. The fund is established through the sale of stores to the school district, paid by warrant in the same manner as is provided by law for such payments, such warrants to be made payable to the "revolving fund of _____ school district."

How used

Sec. 4.282b. The revolving fund, when established, shall be used for the purchase of stores to be placed in stock, such purchases to be made in the manner prescribed by law. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as repealing any other provisions of law relating to school district funds.

Where kept

Sec. 4.283b. The revolving fund shall be kept by the county treasurer as a separate fund and shall be subject to such uses only as are provided by law.

Warehouse a school plant

Sec. 4.284b. The warehouse shall be deemed a school plant and the costs of maintaining and operating such warehouse shall be deemed a legal charge of the school district, and must be audited and paid as other claims against the funds of the district are audited and paid.

CHAPTER 510.

An act to amend section 1 of an act entitled, "An act providing for the organization and regulation of reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, to be known as 'the reciprocal or interinsurance act of the State of California,' and repealing the act entitled 'An act providing for reciprocal and interexchange of indemnities, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee, and repealing an act entitled "An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor, and fixing a license fee," approved December 24, 1911,' " approved May 26, 1917, as amended," approved June 3, 1921, relating to reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges. Stats 1921, p 1599, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1921, p. 1599.

Section 1. Individuals, partnerships and corporations of this State, hereby designated subscribers, are hereby authorized to exchange reciprocal or interinsurance contracts with each other, or with individuals, partnerships and corporations of other states, territories, districts and countries, providing insurance among themselves, from any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of law, except life and fidelity and surety insurance. The organization under which such subscribers so exchange contracts shall be termed a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, hereinafter referred to as the exchange. Reciprocal or interinsurance exchange.

CHAPTER 511.

An act to amend section 1056 of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to sureties on undertakings or bonds, prescribing the amount of capital stock required and regulating the formation or admission of corporations to transact such business in this State, placing such corporations under the jurisdiction of the Insurance Commissioner, providing for examination and prescribing the duties of the said Insurance Commissioner in connection therewith.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1056 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1889, p 215.

1056. In all cases where an undertaking or bond, with any number of sureties is authorized or required by any provision of this code, or of any law of this State, any corporation with a paid-up capital of not less than two hundred fifty thousand dollars, incorporated under the laws of this or any other State of the United States for the purpose of making, guaranteeing, or becoming a surety upon bonds or undertakings required or authorized by law, or which, by the laws of the State where it was originally incorporated has such power, and which shall have complied with all the requirements of the law of this State regulating the formation or admission of these corporations to transact such business in this State, may become and shall be accepted as security or as sole and sufficient surety upon such undertaking or bond, and such corporate surety shall be subject to all the liabilities and entitled to all the rights of natural persons' sureties; provided, that the Insurance Commissioner shall have the same jurisdiction and powers to examine the affairs of such corporations as he has in other cases; shall require them to file similar statements and issue to them a similar certificate. And whenever the liabilities of any such corporation shall exceed its assets the Insurance Commissioner shall require the deficiency to be paid up in sixty days, and if it is not so paid up, then he shall issue a certificate showing the extent of such deficiency, and he shall publish the same once a week for three weeks, in a daily San Francisco paper. And, until such deficiency is paid up, such company shall not do business in this State. In estimating the condition of any such company, the commissioner shall allow as assets only such as are allowed under existing laws at the time, and shall charge as liabilities, in addition to eighty per cent of the capital stock, all outstanding indebtedness of the company, and a premium reserve equal to fifty per centum of the premiums charged by said company on all risks then in force.

Corporations may become surety on bonds etc

Jurisdiction of Insurance Commissioner.

CHAPTER 512.

An act to amend section 606 of the Political Code, relating to reports and accountings of moneys received by the Insurance Commissioner.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p 283

SECTION 1. Section 606 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Disposition of funds

606. All moneys received by the commissioner for fees, fines, penalties, taxes, or from similar sources, and belonging to the State shall be accounted for and reported monthly by the commissioner to the State Controller and at the same time shall be remitted to the State Treasurer to the credit of the insurance fund, which fund is hereby created; provided, that unless otherwise provided by law, none of the moneys received by the commissioner or coming into his possession under or pursuant to the provisions of section 597 of the Political Code or of the act entitled "An act to provide for proceedings against and liquidation of delinquent insurance corporations and associations," approved April 30, 1919, or from other similar sources, shall be deposited in the State treasury. The unencumbered balance in the insurance fund on June thirtieth of each year shall revert to and become a part of the general fund of the State.

CHAPTER 513.

An act to amend section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to unlawful detainer.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1931, p. 1532.

1161. A tenant of real property, for a term less than life is guilty of unlawful detainer:

Unlawful detainer.

1. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, of the property, or any part thereof, after the expiration of the term for which it is let to him, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be; including the case where the person to be removed became the occupant of the premises as a servant, employee, agent, or licensee and the relation of master and servant or employer and employee or principal and agent or licensor and licensee has been lawfully terminated or the time fixed for such occupancy by the agreement between the parties has expired; but nothing in this subdivision contained shall be construed as preventing the removal of such occupant in any other lawful manner; but in case of a tenancy at will, it must first be terminated by notice, as prescribed in the Civil Code.

1. Possession after expiration of term

2. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, after default in the payment of rent, pursuant to the lease or agreement under which the property is held, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring its payment, stating the amount which is due, or possession of the property, shall have been served upon him and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also upon such subtenant.

2. Possession after default in rent.

Such notice may be served at any time within one year after the rent becomes due. In all cases of tenancy upon agricultural lands, where the tenant has held over and retained possession for more than sixty days after the expiration of the term without any demand of possession or notice to quit by the landlord or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, he shall be deemed to be holding by permission of the landlord or successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, and shall be entitled to hold under the terms of the lease for another full year, and shall not be guilty of an unlawful detainer during said year, and such holding over for the period aforesaid shall be taken and construed as a consent on the part of a tenant to hold for another year.

Notice

3 Possession after failure to perform conditions of lease.

3. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, after a neglect or failure to perform other conditions or covenants of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, including any covenant not to assign or sublet, than the one for the payment of rent, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring the performance of such conditions or covenants, or the possession of the property, shall have been served upon him, and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also, upon such subtenant. Within three days after the service of the notice, the tenant, or any subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, or any mortgagee of the term, or other person interested in its continuance, may perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or pay the stipulated rent, as the case may be, and thereby save the lease from forfeiture; provided if the conditions and covenants of the lease, violated by the lessee, can not afterward be performed, then no notice, as last prescribed herein, need be given to said lessee or his subtenant, demanding the performance of the violated conditions or covenants of the lease.

Proceedings against subtenant.

A tenant may take proceedings, similar to those prescribed in this chapter, to obtain possession of the premises let to a subtenant or held by servant, employee, agent, or licensee, in case of his unlawful detention of the premises underlet to him or held by him.

4 Subletting, etc., in breach of lease.

4. Any tenant or subtenant assigning or subletting or committing waste upon the demised premises, contrary to the conditions or covenants of his lease, thereby terminates the lease, and the landlord, or his successor in estate, shall upon service of three days' notice to quit upon the person or persons in possession, be entitled to restitution of possession of such demised premises under the provision of this chapter

CHAPTER 514.

Stats. 1897, p 254, amended.

An act to amend section 61a of the California Irrigation District Act, relating to warrants of irrigation districts; providing for certain extensions of time for the payment of warrants; authorizing agreements for the payment of warrants or any portion thereof from time to time or at a fixed time; authorizing the allocation of specified funds or any amount thereof for the payment of warrants.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 61a of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1915, p 1367

Sec. 61a. Whenever any warrant of the district payable on demand is presented to the treasurer for payment when funds are not available for the payment thereof, it shall thereafter draw interest at a rate to be determined by resolution of the board of directors, not, however, to exceed seven per centum per annum, until public notice is given that such funds are available. Upon the presentation of any such warrants for payment, other than warrants issued under the provisions of section 61 hereof, when funds of the district are not available to pay the same, the treasurer of the district shall endorse thereon the words "funds not available for payment," with the date of presentation and shall specify the interest that such warrants shall thereafter bear and shall sign his name thereto. He shall keep a record showing the number and amount of each such warrant, the date of its issuance, the person in whose favor it was issued, and the date of its presentation for payment. Whenever there is sufficient money in the treasury to pay all such outstanding warrants or whenever the board of directors shall order that all such warrants presented for payment prior to a certain date, be made and there is sufficient money available for such payments, the treasurer shall give notice in some newspaper published in the district, or, if none is published therein, then in some newspaper published in the county in which the district or any portion thereof is situated, or, if none is published in such county, then the treasurer shall post such notice conspicuously in the place in which the board of directors of the district holds its regular meetings, stating that he is prepared to pay all warrants of the district for the payment of which funds were not available upon their original presentation, or all such warrants which were presented for payment prior to the date fixed by the board of directors, as the case may be, and no further description of the warrants entitled to payment shall be made in such notice. Upon the presentation of any warrant entitled to payment under the terms of such notice, the treasurer shall pay it, together with interest thereon at the rate specified by the board of directors, from the date of its original presentation for payment to the date of the first publication or posting of said notice, and all warrants for the payment of which funds are declared in said notice to be available shall cease to draw interest at the time of the first publication or posting of said notice. The treasurer shall enter in the record hereinbefore required to be kept, the dates

Warrants not paid to draw interest of the payment of all such warrants, the names of the persons to whom payments are made and the amount paid to each person.

Order of payment.

Time for action on warrants.

No action or proceeding shall be maintained to enforce the payment of any such warrant or to require the levy of assessment therefor unless such action or proceeding be commenced within four years from the date of the original presentation of such warrant to the treasurer for payment; provided, however, that the board of directors is hereby authorized, subject to the consent of the California Districts Securities Commission to enter into agreement, either individually or collectively, with the holder or holders of any such warrant or warrants, fixing the time and method of, provision for and allocation of funds for the payment thereof and may by such agreement, waive, as therein set out, or otherwise waive, the time of commencing any action or proceeding thereon.

CHAPTER 515.

Stats 1929, p. 1874, amended

An act to add a new section to be numbered 5a to "The California Air Navigation Act," approved June 18, 1929, relating to the requiring of authority of passenger air transport services.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section.

SECTION 1. A new section to be numbered 5a is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof, to read as follows:

Federal certificate of authority required

Sec. 5a. It shall be unlawful for any person after the effective date of this act to operate or cause to be operated, for the transportation of passengers for hire, any aircraft between fixed termini over a route entirely within this State unless such person holds a Federal certificate of authority.

The term "Federal certificate of authority" shall mean a valid, unrevoked and unsuspended passenger air transport certificate issued by the Secretary of Commerce of the United States, or such other Federal officer as may be thereunto duly authorized, under the laws of the United States pertaining to aviation and air commerce and the rules and regulations thereunder and regulating the scheduled operation of passenger air transport services.

CHAPTER 516.

Stats. 1883, p. 93, amended.

An act to amend sections 850, 851, 852, 852a, 852b, 853, 854, 855, 856, 857, 858, 859, 860, 861, 862, 862a, 863, 864, 865, 867, 868, 870, 870a, 871, 872, 873, 874, 875, 876, 877, 878, 879, 880, 882, 883, 884, 885 and 886, to add section 869, and to repeal section 881 of an act entitled "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation, and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883, relating to organization, incorporation and government of cities of the sixth class.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 850 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1883, p. 93.

Sec. 850. Every municipal corporation of the sixth class shall be entitled the city of ------ (naming it), and by such name shall have perpetual succession, may sue and be sued in all courts and places, and in all proceedings whatever; shall have and use a common seal, alterable at the pleasure of the city council and may purchase, lease, receive, hold, and enjoy real and personal property, and control and dispose of the same for the common benefit. Whenever the term "city" is used in this act it shall be deemed to include in meaning and effect the words "or town." Sixth class

SEC. 2. Section 851 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 187.

Sec. 851. The government of such city shall be vested in: Officers

1. A city council composed of five members.
2. A city clerk.
3. A city treasurer.
4. A chief of police.
5. A city judge.
6. Such subordinate officers or employees as are hereinafter provided for.

SEC. 3. Section 852 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 187.

Sec. 852. The members of the city council, the city clerk, and the city treasurer shall be elected by the qualified electors of said city at a general municipal election. Such a general municipal election shall be held therein on the second Monday in April in each even-numbered year. Members of the city council and the city clerk and the city treasurer shall hold office for the period of four years from and after the Monday next succeeding the day of such election, and until their successors are elected and qualified The respective terms of the members of the first city council elected under the provisions of this section shall be determined as follows: The two members elected by the highest number of votes shall hold office for four years, and the three members elected by the lowest number of votes shall hold office for two years. In the event that two or more persons should be elected by the same number of votes, the respective terms of each shall be decided by lot. Officers Election and appointment.

The city council shall appoint the chief of police and the city judge; it may also, in its discretion, appoint a city attorney, a superintendent of streets, a civil engineer, a court clerk, and such other subordinate officers or employees as in its judgment may be deemed necessary. The compensation of all appointive officers and employees may be fixed from time to time by the city council by resolution or ordinance, and said officers and employees shall hold office during the pleasure of said city council.

Stats 1931, p. 187.

SEC. 4. Section 852a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Government.

Sec. 852a. The city council may at any time submit to the electors of any municipal or at any special election to be held for that purpose, an ordinance to divide the administration of the municipality into five departments and provide for the assignment of its several members to be the heads of such respective departments and to be appointed as the commissioners of such respective departments; provided, that if a department of public health be created the commissioner in charge may be given the powers and duties of the municipal board of health, and such health board be thereby abolished. Such ordinances shall define the duties, powers and responsibilities of each commissioner and may require such commissioner to devote a specified number of hours of each business day to the performance of such duties, in which event such commissioner may receive a compensation, the amount of same to be fixed by said ordinance. The city council may, by majority vote, subject to the provisions of this section, assign its several members to be and appoint them as the respective commissioners of such several departments and may by like vote from time to time change such assignment and appointment. It may assign employees to one or more departments, and may make such other rules and regulations as may be necessary or proper to the efficient and economical conduct of the business of the municipality. The substance of the ordinance so proposed shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: "Shall the administration of the municipality be divided into five departments as follows:" (Insert the five departments of government proposed and briefly designate the powers and duties conferred upon each and the compensation each commissioner or head of department shall receive.) "Yes" and "No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the ordinance, such ordinance shall take effect and be in force on the tenth day thereafter.

Commissioners.

City manager.

The city council may at any time submit to the electors at any municipal or special election, an ordinance providing for the establishment of the city manager form of government. Such ordinance shall define the powers and duties of the city manager and may fix his compensation or amount of the minimum thereof. The substance of the ordinance so proposed shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: "Shall the city adopt the city manager form of government?" with the words "Yes" and "No" printed in connection therewith so that the voters may vote for or against such question. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast at such election were in favor of the ordinance, the same shall go into full force and effect on the tenth day thereafter. Thereupon the city council shall, within sixty days thereafter, appoint a city manager, who need not be a resident of the city at the time of his appointment. Upon his appointment the terms of the other subordinate officers theretofore appointed by the city council shall cease unless they be reappointed by the city manager, who shall have the power to appoint and dismiss the chief of police, city judge and other subordinate officers except the city clerk, the city attorney, and the city treasurer.

Initiative.

The ordinances provided for in this section may be submitted directly by the people under the general laws providing for exercise of the initiative. Any city adopting the commission plan or city manager plan of government as herein authorized may, by subsequent vote of the electors, abolish the same in the like manner as herein provided for their adoption.

Stats. 1911, p. 842.

SEC. 5. Section 852b of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Election on question of appointment of city officers.

Sec. 852b. The city council may submit to the electors at any municipal election, or at a special election to be held for that purpose, the question as to whether the elective officers, or any of them, other than councilmen, shall be appointed by said city council, instead of being elected as provided in the preceding section. The question so submitted shall be printed on the ballots used at such election substantially as follows: "Shall the city council hereafter appoint the _____ (naming the offices) of the city of _____," with the words "Yes" and "No" so printed in connection therewith that the voters may express their choice. The returns of the election shall be canvassed and declared as at other municipal elections, and if it appears that a majority of the votes cast on any such proposition were in favor of the appointment of such officers or any of them, then at the expiration of the terms of office of any such officials then in office, and on the occurrence of a vacancy in any such offices, such elective officers or any of them, for the appointment of whom such majority vote was so cast, shall thereafter be appointed by the city council and hold office during the pleasure of such city council.

Stats. 1931, p. 187.

SEC. 6. Section 853 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Official bonds.

Sec. 853. The city clerk and the city treasurer shall respectively before entering upon the duties of their respective offices, each execute a bond in accordance with requirements of the provisions of the Political Code relating to bonds of public officers. The penal sum of such bond shall be such amount as may be fixed by the city council by ordinance adopted not less than thirty days prior to the election of such officials but the amount of such bond shall not, in the case of the city treasurer, in any event be less than one-fourth of the amount of the general taxes levied for such city in the year last expiring previous to the election of such city treasurer. The bond of the city treasurer shall cover the faithful performance by the city treasurer of the duties of his office and of his duties with respect to all moneys coming into his hands as such city treasurer under this act, or under the ordinances of said city, or under any law of the State of California. The city council shall have power to require bonds of any other officer or employee of the city in addition to those herein specified. All bonds when approved, shall be filed with the city clerk except the bond of the clerk, which shall be filed with the mayor. Premiums upon said bonds, if executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California, shall be paid by the city out of its general fund. All bonds shall be approved by the city council. All the provisions of any law of this State relating to the official bonds of officers shall apply to any bonds herein required or authorized, except as herein otherwise provided. Every officer of such city, before entering upon the duties of his office, shall take and file with the city clerk the oath of office required by the Constitution and the laws of the State.

Stats 1931, p 187

SEC. 7. Section 854 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Officers' Vacancy.

Sec. 854. Any vacancy occurring in any of the offices provided for in this act shall be filled by appointment by the city council; but in the event of said city council failing to fill such vacancy by appointment within thirty days after such vacancy occurs, they must, if said office be an elective one, immediately after the expiration of said thirty days cause an election to be held to fill such vacancy; provided, however, that any person appointed or elected to fill such vacancy shall hold office only until the next regular election, at which time a person shall be elected to serve for the remainder of such unexpired term. In case a member of the city council absents himself from all regular meetings of the city council for a period of sixty days consecutively from and after the last regular city council meeting attended by said member, unless by permission of the city council, his office shall become vacant and the same shall be filled as in the case of other vacancies.

Stats 1931, p 187.

SEC 8. Section 855 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Council Compensation

Sec. 855. The members of the city council shall receive no compensation whatever; provided, that in all such cities the question of whether the members of such city council or any of them shall receive any compensation for his services as such members and the amounts thereof, may be submitted to the qualified electors of such cities at any general election, and if a majority of such electors voting at such election shall vote in favor thereof, then such councilman or councilmen shall receive the compensation specified in the call submitting such question at such election; such compensation to begin at the beginning of the term of office of all members of the city council who take office subsequent to the canvass of the return of such election and the amount so fixed shall from such time be regularly charged against such city, payable as other salaries are paid. The compensation of any member of the city council appointed or elected to fill a vacancy shall be the same as that payable to such member whose office was vacated. No change in compensation shall apply to any member of the city council during his term of office. Such compensation may be increased or diminished at any general election thereafter, by submission of such question in the same manner and by the same vote as herein provided for the original creation of such compensation.

Officers Compensation.

The city clerk and the city treasurer shall severally receive, at stated times, a compensation to be fixed by ordinance adopted by the city council, which compensation shall not be increased or diminished after their election or during their several terms of office. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the city council from fixing such several amounts of compensation in the first instance upon the incorporation of the city, during the term of office of any such officer after his election.

Stats 1923, p 101.

SEC. 9. Section 856 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Elections.

Sec. 856. All elections in such city shall be held in accordance with the general election laws of the State, applicable to cities of the sixth class, and no person shall be entitled to vote at such election unless he shall be a qualified elector of the county, enrolled upon the great register thereof, and shall have resided in such city for at least forty days next preceding such election.

Stats. 1931, p 187.

SEC. 10. Section 857 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Councilmen. Eligibility

Sec. 857. No person shall be eligible to hold the office of councilman, city clerk, or city treasurer in such city unless he be a resident and elector therein, and shall have resided in such city for one year next preceding the date of his election.

Stats 1931, p 187

SEC. 11. Section 858 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Council Meetings

Sec. 858. The city council shall meet on the Monday next succeeding the date of said general municipal election. Each newly elected member of the city council before entering upon his duties shall take the oath of office. At said meeting the city council shall choose one of its number to act as mayor. The city council shall hold regular meetings at least once in each month at such times as it shall fix by ordinance or resolution, and may adjourn any regular meeting to a date certain, which shall be specified in the order of adjournment, and when so adjourned, such adjourned meeting shall be a regular meeting for all purposes. Such adjourned meeting may likewise be adjourned and when so adjourned shall be a regular meeting for all purposes.

Special meetings.

Special meetings may be called at any time by the mayor, or by three members of the city council, by written notice delivered personally to each member at least three hours before the time specified for the proposed meeting; provided, however, that any special meeting of the city council shall be a validly called special meeting, without the giving of such written notice, as above provided, if all members of the city council shall give their consent in writing to the holding of such meeting, and such consent is on file in the office of the city clerk at the time of holding such meeting. A telegraphic communication from a councilman consenting to the holding of the meeting shall be deemed to be a consent in writing, within the meaning of the terms as expressed in the foregoing sentence. At any special meeting the power of the city council to transact business shall be limited to matters referred to in such written notice or written consent; all meetings of the city council shall be held within the corporate limits of the city at such place as may be designated by ordinance and shall be public.

Adjournment.

In the event that any order of adjournment of a regular meeting fails to state the hour at which any adjourned meeting is to be held, such adjourned meeting may be validly held on the day specified in the order of adjournment if held at the hour set forth in the ordinance or resolution prescribing the time for regular meetings.

Stats 1931, p. 187.

SEC. 12. Section 859 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Council. Quorum

Sec. 859. At any meeting of the city council a majority of said council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of business, but a less number may adjourn from time to time, and may compel the attendance of absent members in such manner and under such penalties as may be prescribed by ordinance; and in the absence of all of the city council from any regular meeting or adjourned regular meeting the city clerk may declare the same postponed and adjourned to a stated day and hour, and must thereupon deliver or cause to be delivered personally to each member of the city council a written notice of such adjournment at least three hours before the time to which said regular or any adjourned regular meeting has been adjourned.

Stats. 1931, p 187

SEC. 13. Section 860 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Council Proceedings

Sec. 860. The city council shall judge of the qualifications of its members and of all election returns, and determine contested elections of all city officers. It may establish rules for the conduct of its proceedings and punish any member or other person for disorderly behavior at any meeting. It shall cause the city clerk to keep a correct record of all its proceedings, and at the desire of any member, the city clerk shall call the roll and shall cause the ayes and noes taken on any question to be entered in the record journal.

SEC. 14. Section 861 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 2180.

Sec. 861. No ordinance of any kind, where an ordinance is required by law, and no resolution granting a franchise for any purpose, shall be passed by the city council on the day of its introduction nor within five days thereafter nor at any time other than a regular or adjourned regular meeting. Every such ordinance or resolution shall be read in full unless after the reading of the title thereof, the further reading thereof is waived by motion of the city council regularly made and adopted by unanimous vote. In the event that such ordinance or resolution is altered after its introduction, the same shall not be finally adopted except at a regular or adjourned regular meeting held not less than five days after the date upon which such ordinance or resolution was so altered. The correction of typographical or clerical errors shall not constitute the making of an alteration within the meaning of the foregoing sentence. No resolution or order for the payment of money shall be adopted or made at any other than a regular or adjourned regular meeting. No such ordinance or resolution, or any order for the payment of money, shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the votes of at least three members of the city council. No ordinance shall become effective until thirty days from and after the date of its final passage, except an ordinance calling or otherwise relating to an election and except an ordinance for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety, which contains a declaration of, and the facts constituting its urgency and is passed by a four-fifths vote of the city council, and except ordinances relating to street improvement proceedings and other ordinances governed by particular provisions of State law prescribing the manner of their passage and adoption. Ordinance granting franchise, etc.

SEC. 15. Section 862 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 187.

Sec. 862. The city council of said city shall have power: Council, powers.

1. To pass ordinances not in conflict with the constitution and laws of this State or of the United States. Ordinances Signs, advertising, etc.

16b. To regulate the exhibition, posting or carrying of banners, placards, posters, cards, pictures, signs or advertisements in or on the street, or on or upon buildings, fences, billboards or other structures; or on or upon any pole in any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park or other public place; to regulate the suspension of banners, flags, signs, advertisements, posters, pictures, or cards across or over any sidewalk, alley, street, lane, court, park, or other public place, or such suspension from fences, poles, houses, or other structures; to prohibit and prevent encroachments upon or obstruction in or to any sidewalks, street, alley, lane, court, park or other public place, and to provide for the removal of such encroachment or obstruction.

Debris, weeds, etc.

16c. To compel the owner, lessee, or occupant of buildings, grounds, or lots to remove dirt, rubbish, weeds and rank growths from the sidewalk opposite thereto, and from the buildings or grounds, and on his default, after such notice as the city council may prescribe, to authorize the removal or destruction thereof by some officer of the city at the expense of such owner, lessee or occupant, and by such procedure as the city council may prescribe, to make such expense a lien upon such buildings or grounds.

Witnesses

17. To issue subpenas for the attendance of witnesses, or the production of books or other documents, for the purpose of producing evidence or testimony in any action or proceeding pending before the city council, which subpenas must be signed by the mayor, and attested by the city clerk and may be served in the same manner as subpenas are served in civil actions. Whenever any person duly subpenaed to appear and give evidence, or to produce any books or any documents as herein provided, shall neglect or refuse to appear, or to produce such books or documents, as required by such subpena, or shall refuse to testify before such city council, or to answer any questions which a majority thereof shall decide to be proper and pertinent, it shall be the duty of the mayor to report the fact to the judge of the superior court of the county, who shall thereupon issue an attachment in the form usual in the court of which he shall be judge, directed to the sheriff of the county where such witness was required to appear and testify, commanding the said sheriff to attach such person, and forthwith bring him before the judge by whose order such attachment was issued. On the return of the attachment and the production of the body of the defendant, the said judge shall have jurisdiction of the matter, and the person charged may purge himself of the contempt in the same way, and the same proceedings shall be had, and the same penalties may be imposed, and the same punishment inflicted as in the case of a witness subpenaed to appear and give evidence on the trial of a civil cause before a superior court.

18. To expend such sum as the city council shall deem proper, not to exceed five per cent of the property tax levy in any one fiscal year, for music and promotion. Music.

19. To accept such contributions of money, each contribution to be at least fifty dollars ($50), as may be tendered it, to be held in trust, the income from which to be used for the perpetual care and upkeep of a designated plot or plots in the local city and/or community cemetery; said contributions to be placed in the city treasury in a fund designated as the "cemetery fund." The city council shall appoint the city clerk or any competent resident of the city to administer said fund, the person so appointed to execute an official bond in the amount of a sum prescribed by said city council, and to receive annually one dollar for each plot cared for, said expenditure to be made only from the income of said fund. Any moneys remaining in said fund after the expenditures for care and upkeep of the designated plot or plots and the payment to the person administering said fund shall be used in the care and upkeep of the roads, walks or other portions of the cemetery. Cemeteries.

If the city should at any time disincorporate, the trust fund shall be turned over to the board of supervisors of the county within which the cemetery is located, in which event said board of supervisors shall act as trustees until such time as they may appoint some suitable organization to take charge of the fund.

20. To do and perform any and all other acts and things necessary or proper to carry out the provisions of this act. Other powers.

SEC. 16. Section 862a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921, p. 688

Sec. 862a. In any city of the sixth class the city council shall have power: Council, powers

(a) Upon a petition signed by fifteen per cent of the registered, qualified electors of the city, to submit to the electors of the city, the question whether a municipal hospital shall be established in said city; provided, that no municipal hospital has been already established therein. Said proposition may be submitted either at a general or special election and said election shall be conducted and the results thereof declared in conformity with the general election laws governing elections in cities of the sixth class. If a majority of the votes cast at said election are in favor of said proposition, the municipal hospital for said city shall be deemed established and shall be managed and conducted in accordance with the provisions of this section. Hospital Election to establish.

Erection

(b) To erect and maintain a municipal hospital whenever the same has been established as provided in subdivision (a) of this section.

Government.

(c) To prescribe rules for the government and management of any such hospital and the terms upon which patients may be admitted thereto.

Physicians and employees

(d) To appoint and fix the compensation of physicians, surgeons and other necessary officers and employees of such municipal hospital who shall hold their positions during the pleasure of the city council.

Buildings

(e) To acquire any and all property, real or personal by purchase or donation, and construct and equip such buildings as the city council may deem necessary and suitable for the proper conduct of any such municipal hospital. In receiving any donation of money, the city may agree to pay the donor or donors interest upon the principal at a rate not exceeding seven per cent per annum, during the lifetime of the donors, or of any of them, or of the survivor, but not exceeding a period of forty years, and without repayment of the principal or any part thereof. In the case of the incurring of such indebtedness in favor of donors, the indebtedness shall be incurred and means for the payment thereof shall be provided in the manner prescribed by the provisions of the act entitled "An act authorizing the incurring of indebtedness by cities, towns and municipal corporations for municipal improvements and regulating the acquisition, construction and completion thereof," in effect February 25, 1901, as amended, so far as the same may be applicable; provided, however, that the ordinance calling the election shall not contain any statement as to bonds that are to be issued, but shall in general terms describe the proposed donation, the purpose for which it is to be used, and the terms upon which the same is to be made and accepted.

Tax for maintenance

(f) To levy and collect annually a property tax for the maintenance of such municipal hospital and the interest charged on any donation accepted in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (e) of this section, and also for interest upon any bonded indebtedness created for the purchase or acquisition of any real or personal property for any such hospital, and the construction and equipment thereof, including a sinking fund for the payment of such bonds in the amount provided for in any such bond issue.

SEC. 17. Section 863 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Ordinances

Sec. 863. The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows: "The city council of the city of ------ does ordain as follows": Every ordinance must be signed by the mayor and attested by the city clerk. The city clerk shall cause such ordinance to be published within fifteen days after its passage at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published and circulated in such city; provided, that if there be no such newspaper published and circulated in such city, then all ordinances must be posted in at least three public places therein; provided, further, that in all cities which have been incorporated less than one year, all ordinances may be either published or posted as aforesaid, as the city council may determine; and provided, further, that in no case shall the price charged for such publication of any ordinance exceed the customary rate charged by such newspaper for the publication of legal notices of a private character.

SEC. 18. Section 864 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1883, p 93.

Sec. 864. All demands against such city shall be presented, in accordance with such regulations as the city council may by ordinance prescribe; provided, that the same are hereby required to be audited by the city council and upon the allowance of any such demand, the mayor shall draw a warrant upon the city treasurer for the same, which warrant shall be countersigned by the city clerk, and shall specify for what purpose the same is drawn, and out of what fund it is to be paid. Demands.

SEC. 19. Section 865 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1927, p 575

Sec. 865. The city council shall not incur any indebtedness or liability in any manner or for any purpose exceeding in any year the income and revenue provided for such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of said city voting at an election to be held for that purpose, nor unless before or at the time of incurring such indebtedness provision shall be made for the collection of an annual tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also provision to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity, which shall not exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same; provided, however, anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, when two or more propositions for incurring any indebtedness or liability are submitted at the same election, the votes cast for and against each proposition shall be counted separately, and when two-thirds of the qualified electors, voting on any one of such propositions, vote in favor thereof, such proposition shall be deemed adopted. When any order or demand is presented for approval and is not approved for want of funds and the amount of said order or demand does not exceed the income and revenue provided for the year in which the indebtedness was incurred, for which said order or demand was drawn, such city clerk must indorse thereon the words "not approved for want of funds," with the date of presentation and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature thereto; and shall number such indorsement and shall register said order or demand in the records of his office and shall thereupon deliver said order or demand to the claimant, or his order. From that time, such order or demand shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum. Such Indebtedness not to exceed income.

orders or demands so registered, as herein provided, shall be paid in the order in which the same are registered.

SEC. 20. Section 867 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Violation of ordinances.

Sec. 867. The violation of any ordinance of such city shall be deemed a misdemeanor, and may be prosecuted by the authorities of such city in the name of the people of the State of California; or may be redressed by civil action, at the option of said authorities. Any person sentenced to imprisonment for the violation of an ordinance may be imprisoned in the jail for such city; or if the city council by ordinance shall so prescribe, in the county jail of the county in which such city may be situated, in which case the expense of such imprisonment shall be a charge in favor of such county and against such city.

Stats 1931, p 181.

SEC. 21. Section 868 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Nuisances.

Sec. 868. The city council shall have the power to declare what constitutes a nuisance, and to provide for the summary abatement of any nuisance at the expense of the persons creating, causing, committing or maintaining such nuisance, and shall have the power by ordinance to make the expense of abatement of nuisances a lien against the property on which a nuisance is maintained, as well as to make such expense a personal obligation against the owner of such property. Said city council shall also have power by ordinance to require and provide for the removal of grass, weeds or other obstructions from the sidewalks, parkings or streets and to make the cost thereof a lien or charge upon the abutting property and to make provision for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of property or otherwise; and said city council likewise shall have power by ordinance to require or provide for the removal from property, lands, or lots of all weeds, rubbish or other material which may endanger or injure neighboring property or the health or welfare of residents of the vicinity, and to make the cost thereof a lien and charge upon such property, lands or lots and to make provision for the enforcement of such lien by the sale of such property, lands or lots or otherwise.

New section. See Stats. 1933, Ch. 150.

SEC. 21a. A new section is hereby added to said act to be numbered 869 and to read as follows:

Use of park land for buildings.

Sec. 869. Whenever the city council or board of trustees shall deem it necessary and for the best interests of a city that land heretofore purchased by said city for park or other purposes should be used for the construction of a city hall or other public buildings or the creation of a civic center, said council or board of trustees may, by a four-fifths vote, adopt an ordinance declaring such necessity and providing for the erection of a city hall or other public building or buildings or the creation of a civic center thereon.

Stats 1931, p. 181

SEC. 22. Section 870 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Streets, rights of way, etc

Sec. 870. Whenever it shall become necessary for the city to take or damage private property for the purpose of establishing, laying out, extending and widening streets and other public highways and places within the city, or for the purpose of rights of way for drains, sewers and aqueducts, and for the purpose of widening, straightening or diverting the channels of streams, or the improvement of water fronts, or the acquisition or maintenance of public harbors, or for any other purposes authorized by law the city council may direct proceedings to be taken therefor in accordance with any law applicable thereto.

SEC. 23. Section 870a of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1913, p. 10.

Sec. 870a. Whenever the city council shall deem it necessary for the city to construct a bridge connecting the municipal corporation with an adjoining road district and it shall become necessary in constructing such bridge to take or damage private property within or without or within and without the corporate limits of said city or town, the city council of said city may, by resolution, declare the necessity thereof and direct and maintain proceedings for that purpose in accordance with any law applicable thereto. Bridges.

SEC. 24. Section 871 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 181.

Sec. 871. The city council shall have the power, and it shall be its duty, to provide by ordinance a system for the assessment, levy, and collection of all city taxes not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter. Nothing herein shall prevent the city council from exercising the power granted by general laws of the State relative to the assessment and collection of taxes by county officers. All taxes assessed, together with any percentage imposed for delinquency and the costs of collection, shall constitute liens on the property assessed; every tax upon personal property shall be a lien upon the real property of the owner thereof. The liens provided for in this section shall attach as of the first Monday in March of each year, and may be enforced by a sale of the real property affected, and the execution and delivery of all necessary certificates and deeds therefor, under such regulations as may be prescribed by ordinance, or by action in any court of competent jurisdiction to foreclose such liens; provided, that any property sold for such taxes shall be subject to redemption within five years and upon the terms provided or that may hereafter be provided for the redemption of property sold for State taxes. All deeds made upon any sale of property for taxes or special assessments under the provisions of this chapter shall have the same force and effect in evidence as in or may hereafter be provided by law for deeds for property sold for nonpayment of State taxes. Taxes. Liens.

officers, the city council shall meet at its usual place of holding meetings on the second Monday of August of each year, and sit as a board of equalization, and shall continue in session from day to day until all the returns of the assessor have been rectified. It shall have power to hear complaints, and to correct, modify, or strike out any assessment made by the assessor, and may, of its own motion, raise any assessment, upon notice to the party whose assessment is to be raised. The corrected list for each tax shall be the assessment roll for said tax for said year. It shall be certified by the city clerk, who shall act as clerk of the board of equalization, as being the assessment roll for said tax, and shall be the assessment roll upon which said tax is to be levied in said year.

Notice shall be given of the time and place of sitting in such manner as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Stats 1883, p. 93.

SEC. 26. Section 873 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Construction of act.

Sec. 873. Nothing in this chapter contained shall be construed to prevent any city having a bonded indebtedness, contracted under the laws heretofore or hereafter passed, from levying and collecting such taxes for the payment of such indebtedness, and the interest thereon, as are provided for in such laws, in addition to the taxes herein authorized to be levied and collected. All moneys received from licenses, street poll tax, and from fines, penalties, and forfeitures, shall be paid into the general fund, except as may be otherwise expressly provided by law.

Sec. 875. The mayor shall preside at the meetings of the city council, and in case of his absence or inability to act, the city council shall appoint a mayor pro tempore, who shall serve only until such time as the mayor returns and is able to act, and who for such period shall have all of the powers and duties of the mayor. The mayor shall have the power to make or second any motion and to present and discuss any matters, notwithstanding the fact that the mayor is the presiding officer of the council. In case of the absence of the city clerk, the deputy city clerk shall act. If there be no deputy city clerk then the mayor shall appoint one of the members of the city council city clerk pro tempore. The mayor shall sign all warrants drawn on the city treasurer, and shall sign all written contracts and conveyances made or entered into by said city. The mayor shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations, to take affidavits and to testify the same under his hand. The mayor is authorized to acknowledge the execution of all instruments executed by said city that are required to be acknowledged. Mayor president of council.

SEC. 29. Section 876 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 181.

Sec. 876. It shall be the duty of the city treasurer to receive and safely keep all moneys which shall come into his Treasurer.

hands as city treasurer. He shall comply with all provisions of law governing the deposit and securing of public funds. He shall also comply with all of the provisions of the general laws of the State governing the handling of such trust funds as may come into his possession. He shall pay out moneys only on warrants signed by persons designated by law as the proper persons to sign warrants and not otherwise. He shall at regular intervals, at least once each month, submit to the city clerk a written report and accounting of all receipts, disbursements and fund balances, a copy of which report he shall file with the city council. He shall perform such duties relative to the collection of city taxes and license fees as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Deputies

The city treasurer may appoint a deputy, or deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible; such deputy, or deputies, shall hold office subject to the pleasure of the city treasurer and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by the city council.

SEC. 30. Section 877 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assessor

Sec. 877. Unless the city council has availed itself, or does hereafter avail itself, of the provision of the general laws of the State relative to the assessment and collection of city taxes by county officers, it shall be the duty of the assessor between the first Monday in March and the first day of August in each year, to make out a true list of all taxable property within the city. The mode of making out said list, and proceedings relating thereto, shall be in conformity with the laws now in force regulating county assessors, except as the same may be otherwise provided in this act, or by ordinance. Said list shall describe the property assessed, and the value thereof, and shall contain all other matters required to be stated in such lists by county assessors. Said assessor shall verify said list by his oath, and shall deposit the same with the city clerk on or before the first Monday of August of each year. Said assessor and his deputy shall have power to administer all oaths and affirmations necessary in the performance of his duty.

Stats. 1931, p. 2029.

SEC. 31. Section 878 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

City clerk.

Sec. 878. It shall be the duty of the city clerk to keep a full, and true record of all the proceedings of the city council and of the board of equalization, in books that shall bear appropriate titles and be devoted exclusively to such purposes, respectively. Such books shall have a general index sufficiently comprehensive to enable a person readily to ascertain matters contained therein.

The city clerk shall be the accounting officer of the city and shall maintain such financial records as shall readily reflect the financial condition of the city, and he shall prepare a summary statement of receipts and disbursements by departments and funds, at the end of each fiscal year, including opening and closing fund balances in the treasury, which statement he shall present to the city council. The city clerk shall cause said statement to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation, printed and published within the city, and if there be no newspaper of general circulation printed and published therein, then he shall cause copies of such statement to be posted in three public places in said city. Said public places shall be those designated by ordinance as the places for posting of public notices. Said statement shall be printed, or posted, not later than one hundred twenty days after the close of the fiscal year for which said report is compiled.

The city clerk shall keep a book marked "Ordinances" into which he shall record all city ordinances with his certificate annexed to each of said ordinances stating the same to be a true and correct copy of an ordinance of said city, and giving the number of said ordinance, and stating that the same has been published or posted according to law. Said record with said certificate shall be prima facie evidence of the contents of each ordinance and of the passage and publication of the same and shall be admissible as such evidence in any court or proceedings.

The official records of the city in the custody of the city clerk shall not be filed in any court proceeding or other action but shall be returned to the custody of the city clerk. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the proof of the passage and publication of ordinances in the usual way.

Unless the city council has availed itself, or does hereafter avail itself, of the provision of the general laws of the State relative to the assessment and collection of city taxes by county officers, the city clerk shall be ex officio assessor.

The city clerk shall be the custodian of the seal of the city. He shall perform such additional duties in relation to the issuance of licenses as may be prescribed by ordinance.

Deputies

The city clerk may appoint a deputy, or deputies, for whose acts he and his bondsmen shall be responsible; such deputy, or deputies, shall hold office subject to the pleasure of the city clerk and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by the city council.

The city clerk and his deputy, or deputies, shall have power to administer oaths or affirmations, to take affidavits and depositions pertaining to the affairs and business of the city, which may be used in any court or proceedings in the State, and to certify the same.

SEC. 33. Section 880 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Police department.

Sec. 880. The department of police of said city shall be under the direction and control of the chief of police and for the suppression of any riot, public tumult, disturbance of the peace, or resistance against the laws or public authorities in the lawful exercise of their functions, he shall have the powers that are now or may hereafter be conferred upon sheriffs by laws of the State, and shall in all respects be entitled to the same protection; and his lawful orders shall be promptly executed by deputies, police officers, and watchmen in said city, and every citizen shall also lend his aid, when required for the arrest of offenders and maintenance of public order. He shall, and is hereby authorized to, execute and return all process issued and directed to him by an legal authority. It shall be his duty to prosecute before the city court, all breaches or violations of or noncompliance with any ordinance which shall come to his knowledge. He shall have charge of the prison and prisoners, and of any chain-gang which may be established by the city council. He shall for service of any process receive the same fees as constables, but his fees for services in any criminal action or proceedings upon process issued from the city court shall not be a charge against the county. He shall perform such services relative to the collection of taxes and license fees as may be prescribed by ordinance. He shall keep a record in which must be entered, forthwith and in detail, all fees for service of process, or other moneys collected by his department or paid to him in his official capacity, which record shall be open for public inspection during office hours. He shall deposit all moneys collected by his department, immediately, with the city treasurer, in such manner as may be required by ordinance. He shall file with the city clerk a detailed statement, at least once each month, of all moneys handled by him in his official capacity during such preceding month. He may appoint, subject to the approval of the city council, one or more police officers. He may also, with the concurrence of the mayor, when the same may be by them deemed necessary for the preservation of the public order, appoint additional police officers. He shall perform such other services as this act and the ordinances of the city council shall require.

Any wilful violation of the provisions of this section shall be a ground for removal from office, and shall be deemed a misdemeanor and punished as such. Officers not to be interested in public contracts.

CHAPTER 517.

Stats. 1917, p. 831, amended

An act to add a new section to the Workmen's Compensation Insurance and Safety Act of 1917 to be known as section 26a, relating to subrogation for payments on account of injuries or death.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the act cited in the title hereof to read as follows:

Subrogation of employer.

Sec. 26a. If an injury to and/or the death of an employee is the proximate consequence of the act of a person other than the employer, the employer shall be entitled to recover from such person all moneys paid to the injured employee during the period of his disability and/or to his dependents either as salary, wage, pension or other emolument and in the recovery thereof, the employer shall be entitled to invoke all of the provisions of section 26 of this act.

CHAPTER 518.

An act to add a new section to the Penal Code, to be numbered 1203a, relating to probation in courts having jurisdiction of misdemeanor cases.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. A new section, to be numbered 1203a, is hereby added to the Penal Code to read as follows:

Probation.

1203a. In all counties and cities and counties the courts therein, having jurisdiction to impose punishment in misdemeanor cases, shall have the power to refer cases, demand reports and to do and require all things necessary to carry out the purposes of section 1203 of this code in so far as they are in their nature applicable to misdemeanors. Any such court shall have power to suspend the imposing or the execution of the sentence, and to make and enforce the terms of probation for a period not to exceed two years; provided, that when the maximum sentence provided by law exceeds two years imprisonment, the period during which sentence may be suspended and terms of probation enforced may be for a longer period than two years, but in such instance, not to exceed the maximum time for which sentence of imprisonment might be pronounced.

CHAPTER 520.

An act to amend section 1181 of the Penal Code, relating to new trials.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1181 of the Penal Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows: Stats. 1927 p. 1037

1181. When a verdict has been rendered against the defendant, the court may, upon his application, grant a new trial, in the following cases only: When a new trial may be granted

1. When the trial has been had in his absence, if the indictment is for a felony;

2. When the jury has received any evidence out of court, other than that resulting from a view of the premises;

3. When the jury has separated without leave of the court after retiring to deliberate upon their verdict, or been guilty of any misconduct by which a fair and due consideration of the case has been prevented;

4. When the verdict has been decided by lot, or by any means other than a fair expression of opinion on the part of all the jurors;

5. When the court has misdirected the jury in a matter of law, or has erred in the decision of any question of law arising during the course of the trial, and when the district attorney or other counsel prosecuting the case has been guilty of prejudicial misconduct during the trial thereof before a jury;

6. When the verdict is contrary to law or evidence, but if the evidence shows the defendant to be not guilty of the degree of the crime of which he was convicted, but guilty of a lesser degree thereof, or of a lesser crime included therein, the court may modify the judgment accordingly without granting or ordering a new trial, and this power shall extend to any court to which the cause may be appealed;

7. When new evidence is discovered material to the defendant, and which he could not, with reasonable diligence, have discovered and produced at the trial. When a motion for a new trial is made upon the ground of newly discovered evidence, the defendant must produce at the hearing, in support thereof, the affidavits of the witnesses by whom such evidence is expected to be given, and if time is required by the defendant to procure such affidavits, the court may postpone the hearing of the motion for such length of time as, under all the circumstances of the case, may seem reasonable.

CHAPTER 521.

An act to amend section 1089 of the Penal Code, relating to the selection of alternate jurors and the rights and duties of alternate jurors.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1927, p 1062

SECTION 1. Section 1089 of the Penal Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Alternate jurors.

1089. Whenever, in the opinion of a judge of a superior court about to try a defendant against whom has been filed any indictment or information for a felony, the trial is likely to be a protracted one, the court may cause an entry to that effect to be made in the minutes of the court, and thereupon, immediately after the jury is impaneled and sworn, the court may direct the calling of one or more additional jurors, in its discretion, to be known as "alternate jurors."

Such jurors must be drawn from the same source, and in the same manner, and have the same qualifications as the jurors already sworn, and be subject to the same examination and challenges; provided, that the prosecution and the defendant shall each be entitled to one peremptory challenge to such alternate jurors.

Such alternate jurors shall be seated near, with equal power and facilities for seeing and hearing the proceedings in the case, and shall take the same oath as the jurors already selected, and must attend at all times upon the trial of the cause in company with the other jurors; and for a failure so to do are liable to be punished for contempt.

They shall obey the orders of and be bound by the admonition of the court, upon each adjournment of the court; but if the regular jurors are ordered to be kept in the custody of the sheriff during the trial of the cause, such alternate jurors shall also be kept in confinement with the other jurors; and upon final submission of the case to the jury such alternate jurors shall be kept in the custody of the sheriff and shall not be discharged until the original jurors are discharged, except as hereinafter provided.

Drawing of alternate

If at any time, whether before or after the final submission of the case to the jury, a juror die or become ill, so as to be unable to perform his duty, or if a juror requests a discharge and good cause appears therefor, the court may order him to be discharged and draw the name of an alternate, who shall then take his place in the jury box, and be subject to the same rules and regulations as though he had been selected as one of the original jurors.

CHAPTER 522.

An act to amend section 12 of the "Workmen's Compensation, Insurance and Safety Act of 1917," approved May 23, 1917, relating to compensation and insurance of workmen.

Stats 1917, p 831, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1929, p 553

Sec. 12. (a) The average annual earnings referred to in section 9 hereof shall be fifty-two times the average weekly earnings referred to in said section; in computing such earnings the average weekly earnings shall be taken at not less than six dollars and forty-one cents nor more than thirty-eight dollars and forty-six cents, and three times the average annual earnings shall be taken at not less than one thousand dollars, nor more than five thousand nine hundred ninety-nine dollars and seventy-six cents; provided, however, that the maximum limit of three times the average annual earnings referred to in subdivision (c) of section 9 of this act shall be taken at not more than five thousand dollars and between said limits said average weekly earnings shall be arrived at as follows:

Average annual earnings.

Average weekly earnings.

(1) Where the employment is for thirty hours a week or more, the average weekly earnings shall consist of ninety-five per cent of five times the daily earnings at the time of such injury, where the employment is for five working days a week. Where the employment is for five and one-half, six, six and one-half or seven working days a week, the average weekly earnings shall be ninety-five per cent of five and one-half, six, six and one-half or seven times the daily earnings at the time of the injury, as the case may be.

(2) Where the employee is working for two or more employers at or about the time of the injury, the average weekly earning shall be taken to be ninety-five per cent of the aggregate of such earnings from all employments computed into terms of one week; provided, that the earnings from employments other than the employment in which the injury occurred shall not be taken at a higher rate than the hourly rate paid at the time of the injury.

(3) If the earnings are at an irregular rate, such as piecework or on a commission basis, or are specified to be by the week, month, or other period, then the average weekly earnings mentioned in subdivision (1) above shall be ninety-five per cent of the average weekly earnings during such period of time, not exceeding one year, as may conveniently be taken to determine an average weekly rate of pay.

Employment for less than thirty hours per week.

(4) Where the employment is for less than thirty hours per week, or where for any reason the foregoing methods of arriving at the average weekly earnings of the injured employee can not reasonably and fairly be applied, such average weekly earnings shall be taken at ninety-five per cent of such sum as shall reasonably represent the average weekly earning capacity of the injured employee at the time of his injury, due consideration being given to his actual earnings from all sources and employments.

Overtime, board, etc

(b) In determining such average weekly earnings, there shall be included overtime and the market value of board, lodging, fuel, and other advantages received by the injured employee, as part of his remuneration, which can be estimated in money, but such average weekly earnings shall not include any sum which the employer may pay to the injured employee to cover any special expenses entailed on him by the nature of his employment.

Injuries to minors.

(c) If the injured employee is under twenty-one years of age, and his incapacity is permanent, his average weekly earnings shall be deemed, within the limits fixed, to be the weekly sum that under ordinary circumstances he would probably be able to earn after attaining the age of twenty-one years, in the occupation in which he was employed at the time of the injury or in any occupation to which he would reasonably have been promoted if he had not been injured, and if such probable earnings after attaining the age of twenty-one years can not reasonably be determined, such average weekly earnings shall be based upon three dollars a day for a six-day week.

CHAPTER 523.

An act to add a new section to the Bank Act, to be numbered 136½, relating to powers of trustees or receivers of closed banks.

Stats 1909, p 87, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. A new section is hereby added to the Bank Act, to be numbered 136½, and to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 136½. Whenever in the opinion of the Superintendent of Banks the liquidation or reorganization of any bank taken in charge by him, pursuant to the provisions of this act, would be facilitated thereby, or whenever in the opinion of the Superintendent of Banks the public interests and the interests of depositors or stockholders in any bank of which he has taken charge will be subserved thereby, the Superintendent of Banks shall have power to borrow money in behalf of such bank from Reconstruction Finance Corporation, or from any other Federal agency which may be hereafter authorized to lend money to the receivers, trustees, liquidating agents or other agents or supervisory authorities in charge of banks which are closed or in process of liquidation, and with consent of the superior court, the Superintendent of Banks may secure such borrowings by the pledge of the assets of any such bank in such manner and amount as may to the Superintendent of Banks seem necessary, proper or expedient.

Bank receivers may borrow Federal funds

An act to amend sections 1333 and 1567 of the Penal Code, relating to production of prisoners in court.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1915, p 731.

SECTION 1. Section 1333 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Manner of producing prisoner as witness

Sec. 1333. When the testimony of a material witness is required in a criminal action, before a court of record of this State, or in an examination before a grand jury or magistrate for an offense triable in the superior court and such witness is a prisoner in a State prison or in a county jail, an order for his temporary removal from such prison or jail, and for his production before such court, grand jury or magistrate, may be made by the superior court of the county in which such action or examination is pending or by a judge thereof; but in case the prison or jail is out of the county in which the application is made, such order shall be made only upon the affidavit of the district attorney or prosecutor, or of the defendant or his counsel, stating that the testimony is material and necessary; and even then the granting of the order shall be in the discretion of said superior court or a judge thereof. The order shall be executed by the sheriff of the county in which it shall be made, whose duty it shall be to bring the prisoner before the proper court, grand jury or magistrate, to safely keep him, and when he is no longer required as a witness, to return him to the prison or jail whence he was taken; the expense of executing such order shall be a proper charge against, and shall be paid by, the county in which the order shall be made.

Such orders shall be signed by the magistrate or judge making the order, and sealed with the seal of the court, if any.

Such order must be to the following effect: Form of order.

County of _____ (as the case may be).
The people of the State of California to the warden of _____ (or sheriff of _____, as the case may be):

See Stats 1933, Ch. 73

An act to amend sections 54 and 55½ of an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled 'An act to divide the State of California into fish and game districts and to repeal an act entitled "An act to divide the State of California into six fish and game districts," approved March 21, 1911, and all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith,' approved May 19, 1915," approved May 28, 1917, relating to fish and game districts 12A and 12C and the protection of fish in said districts, and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1929, p. 1181

SECTION 1. Section 54 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fish and game district 12A

Sec. 54. Fish and game district 12A shall consist of and include all the waters of the Sacramento River flowing between a point three miles below the mouth of the Feather River, and the Vina Ferry, near the town of Vina, in Tehama County.

Stats 1931, p. 1728

SEC. 2. Section 55½ of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Fish and game district 12C

Sec. 55½. Fish and game district 12C shall consist of and include all the waters of the Sacramento River flowing within the main channel between the drawbridge across said river at Rio Vista and a point three miles below the mouth of the Feather River, excluding that portion of the Sacramento River between the M Street bridge and a point three miles above the mouth of the American River; and the main channel of Steamboat Slough and Sutter Slough; also all waters of the San Joaquin River flowing in the main channel thereof, between a line drawn from Criminal Point on Venice Island directly across said river to the beacon light on the opposite shore and the Santa Fe railroad bridge across said river near Stockton; all waters of Old River flowing within the main channel thereof between its mouth and the Santa Fe railroad bridge across said river at Orwood; all waters of Middle River flowing within the main channel thereof between its mouth and the Santa Fe railroad bridge across said river; all waters of Connection Slough between the main channel of Old River and the main channel of Middle River; all waters of Columbia Cut flowing therein between the main channel of Middle River and the main channel of the San Joaquin River; all waters of Latham Slough flowing therein between the main channel of Middle River and Empire Cut; all waters of Burns cut-off around Rough and Ready Island. The provisions of this code relating to district 12A apply to that portion of the Sacramento River excluded from district 12C.

Gill nets.

SEC. 3. In that portion of the Sacramento River in district 12C above the M Street bridge at Sacramento, in which gill nets may be used, the mesh of said gill nets shall not be less than seven and one-half inches in length.

SEC. 4. The provisions of this act shall terminate on July 1, 1935. Termination of act

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall take effect immediately. Urgency

The facts constituting such necessity are as follows: In the area affected by this act there are many unemployed fishermen who are destitute. An ample supply of fish is found in said area and it is necessary for the relief of such destitute persons to immediately make such supply legally available.

CHAPTER 532.

An act to amend sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 13 of and to add a new section 15 to an act entitled "An act providing for the organization and regulation of reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, to be known as 'The Reciprocal or Interinsurance Act of the State of California,' and repealing the act entitled 'An act providing for reciprocal and interexchange of indemnities, prescribing regulations therefor and fixing a license fee, and repealing an act entitled "An act defining certain classes of contracts for the exchange of indemnity, prescribing regulations therefor, and fixing a license fee," approved December 24, 1911,' approved May 26, 1917, as amended," approved June 3, 1921, declaring the urgency hereof and to take effect immediately. Stats. 1921, p. 1599, amended

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921, p 1599.

Sec. 2. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney, agent, or other representative herein designated as attorney, duly authorized and acting for such subscribers under power of attorney and such attorney may be a corporation. The principal office of such attorney shall be maintained at such place as is designated by the subscribers in the power of attorney. The power of attorney and contracts made thereunder may provide for the right of substitution and revocation and impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power granted as may be agreed upon by the subscribers, and may provide for and limit liability of subscriber for the payment of losses or expenses of the exchange except as herein Contracts provided, and may further provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers directly or through a board or other body which must be selected under such rules and regulations as the subscribers may adopt. This board or other body shall have supervision over the finances of the exchange and over its operations to the extent that said operations shall be in conformity with the subscriber's agreement and power of attorney. Said board or other body shall have authority to procure the audit of the accounts and records of the exchange and of the attorney in fact, at the expense of the exchange. Such board or other body shall be composed of subscribers or agents of subscribers, provided not more than one-third of the members serving on such board or body shall be an agent or employee of, or stockholder in, the attorney.

Powers of board

Filing of copies

A true copy of the form of the power of attorney and of the form of each application for insurance or form of policy, verified by the attorney, shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner, and any amendment to said forms shall likewise be filed. If the name or designation of the exchange does not contain either of the words "interinsurance" or "reciprocal" or "exchange," then such forms shall have printed under such name or designation the words "an interinsurance exchange" in one prominent place on each of such forms.

Stats 1921, p 1599

SEC. 2. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Declaration filed with commissioner

Sec. 3. Such subscribers so contracting among themselves shall through their attorney file with the Insurance Commissioner a declaration verified by the oath of such attorney, or where such attorney is a corporation, by the oath of the duly authorized officers thereof, setting forth:

(a) The name of the attorney and the name or designation under which such contracts are to be issued, which name and/or designation shall not be so similar, to any name and/or designation adopted by any attorney or by any insurance organization transacting business in this State prior to the adoption of such name and/or designation by the attorney as to confuse or to deceive.

(b) The location of the principal office of the exchange.

(c) The kind or kinds of indemnity to be exchanged.

(d) A copy of each form of policy contract or agreement under or by which indemnity is to be exchanged.

(e) A copy of the form of the power of attorney or agreement under and by which such indemnity is to be exchanged.

(f) That executed contracts or bona fide applications, to be concurrently effective, have been made for the exchange of indemnities by at least one hundred separate subscribers; provided, however, that in case of employer's liability or workmen's compensation insurance, there shall have been made executed contracts or bona fide applications, to be concurrently effective, representing a total pay roll of not less than one million dollars.

(g) That there are in the possession of such attorney in fact, subject to the supervision of the advisory board, assets conforming to the requirements of section 5 hereof.

(h) A financial statement under oath in such form as is prescribed by the Insurance Commissioner for the annual statement.

(i) The instrument authorizing service of process as provided for in this act.

(j) Certificate showing deposits of funds or securities.

SEC. 3. Section 4 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1921, p 1599

Sec. 4. Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by the terms of section 3 of this act the attorney shall file with the Insurance Commissioner: Attorney to file instrument and bond

(a) An instrument in writing executed by him for said subscribers conditioned that upon the issuance of the certificate of authority action may be brought either in the county in which the person or property insured is located, or in which the exchange has its principal office or place of business in the State; and that service of process may be had upon the attorney in fact or upon the Insurance Commissioner in all suits against the exchange. In the event of process being served upon the Insurance Commissioner three copies of such process shall be served and the Insurance Commissioner shall file one copy, forward one copy to said attorney by registered mail addressed to the attorney at the principal office as fixed in the certificate filed, and shall return one copy with his admission of service. A judgment rendered in any such case where service of process has been so made shall be valid and binding against the subscribers as their interest appear.

The exchange may sue or be sued in its own name as in the case of an individual. No action shall lie against any subscriber, upon any policy, contract or agreement made or liability incurred in the name of the exchange, until a final judgment has been obtained against the exchange and has remained unsatisfied for thirty (30) days; provided, however, that any judgment rendered against the exchange shall be binding upon each subscriber only in such proportion as his interests may appear.

(b) A bond in favor of the people of the State of California executed by the said attorney with two sureties or with a surety company authorized to do business in the State of California as surety, to be approved by and filed with the Insurance Commissioner in the penal sum of fifty thousand dollars, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully account for all moneys and other property which may come into his hands or be handled by him under the terms of the said power of attorney and the said rules and regulations, and shall not withdraw or cause to be withdrawn, or convert or appropriate for his own use, from the funds of the exchange, any money or moneys or any other thing of value to which he is not Bond entitled under the terms of the said power of attorney and the said rules and regulations.

Such bond may be sued upon in one and the same action by any subscriber or any number of subscribers suffering loss through a violation of the conditions thereof or by the receiver or trustee in liquidation of the exchange. Liability thereunder may be enforced by any individual subscriber, or any number of subscribers, or in case of liquidation or receivership, by the receiver or trustee in liquidation.

Any amount recovered under such bond shall be deposited in and become a part of the funds of the exchange as a whole; provided, however, that where the power of attorney executed by the subscribers or the rules and regulations adopted by the exchange for the conduct of its business thereunder, provide for the bonding of the attorney in fact against fraud and dishonesty and conditioned as the above-mentioned bond, in an amount at least equal to the amount above set forth, the bond executed in accordance with such powers of attorney or rules and regulations, may be filed with the Insurance Commissioner in lieu of any other bond required under this act, and such bond shall be actionable in similar manner and for similar purposes as said first above-mentioned bond; provided, further, that where the home office of an exchange is located outside of the State of California, such bond or a certified copy or duplicate thereof shall be filed with the Insurance Commissioner of this State, or, in lieu thereof, there shall be filed an affidavit from the Insurance Commissioner of the home State to the effect that such a bond has been filed with him. The Insurance Commissioner shall not accept for filing any bond executed by a corporate attorney, as principal, and executed by sureties who are officers of such corporate principal.

Stats. 1921, p. 1599.

SEC. 4. Section 5 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Assets to be maintained.

Sec. 5. Every exchange shall maintain such assets as are hereinafter required to be maintained, in cash or invested in securities of the kind designated by the laws of the State where the principal office is located for the investment of funds of insurance companies.

Every exchange shall maintain at all times assets in a sum sufficient to discharge all liabilities and to provide a surplus over all liabilities of fifty thousand dollars, or, if an exchange does both liability and workmen's compensation insurance a surplus of one hundred thousand dollars; provided, any exchange licensed at the effective date of this act shall have until December 31, 1935, to make good any deficiency in such surplus requirement; provided, however, that prior to said date, every such exchange must maintain assets in an amount not less than fifty thousand dollars in excess of a sum sufficient to discharge all liabilities other than the unearned premium reserve.

Financial condition.

In estimating the financial condition of any exchange the Insurance Commissioner shall charge as liabilities the same unearned premium reserve, loss reserve and other reserves required of stock and mutual insurance companies; there shall be allowed as admitted assets the surplus deposits of subscribers, provided that in the case of any individual subscriber whose premium deposit may be due and unpaid for ninety days, such premium deposit shall be first charged against such surplus deposit; the surplus deposits of subscribers shall not be charged as a liability; all premium deposits due and unpaid for a period not exceeding ninety days shall be allowed as admitted assets, as in the case of stock companies; any assessment levied, as hereinafter provided, and not collected shall in no event be allowed as an asset; the computation of reserves shall be based upon such premium deposits without any deduction for the compensation of the attorney.

Deficiencies

If, at any time, an exchange writing liability or workmen's compensation insurance is not possessed of admitted assets sufficient to discharge all liabilities and to maintain the surplus hereinbefore required, the attorney or the Insurance Commissioner, if the attorney fails to do so within thirty days after notice from the Insurance Commissioner so to do, shall make an assessment for the amount needed to make up the deficiency, or, if liquidation of such an exchange is ordered, the assessment shall be for such an amount as the Insurance Commissioner may determine to be necessary to discharge all liabilities of the exchange, including the reasonable cost of liquidation. Such assessments shall be made upon the members liable to assessment therefor, in proportion to their several liabilities.

Subscriber's share of deficiency

Except as herein provided, every subscriber of an exchange writing liability or workmen's compensation insurance shall be liable to pay, and shall pay, his proportionate part of any such assessment, in accordance with law and his contract covering any such deficiency, if he is notified of intention to levy such assessment within one year after the expiration or cancellation of his policy. Each such subscriber's share of the deficiency, for which an assessment is made, shall be determined by applying to the premium earned on the member's policy or policies during the period to be covered by the assessment, the ratio of the total deficiency to the total premiums earned during such period, upon all policies subject to assessment. Such subscribers liable to assessment shall pay the same without offsetting any claim for unearned premiums or losses payable to or for the account of the subscriber. All such proposed assessments shall be filed with the Insurance Department and shall not take effect until approved by the Insurance Commissioner after such investigation as he may deem necessary. All funds of such an exchange and the contingent liability of the subscribers thereof shall be available for the payment of any liability of the exchange. All such assessments, whether levied by the attorney, the Insurance Commissioner in the liquidation of such an exchange, or otherwise, shall be of no greater amount than specified in the power of attorney.

Limitation of subscriber's liability.

The power of attorney of such an exchange may limit the contingent liability of the subscriber for assessment, but such contingent liability shall not be less than an amount equal to the amount of, and in addition to, the premium deposit provided in the policy; each such subscriber may maintain with the exchange, in addition to the premium deposit provided in the policy, a further deposit to be held as the surplus deposit of such subscriber; each subscriber maintaining a surplus deposit equal to the amount of, and in addition to, the total current annual premium deposit or deposits provided in his policy or policies, shall have no liability for assessment during the period such surplus deposit is so maintained. If such an exchange be certified by the Insurance Commissioner as having a surplus of admitted assets over all liabilities in a sum equal to one and one-half times the minimum capital required of stock companies doing the same kinds of insurance, then during the continued maintenance of such surplus of assets, subscribers at such exchanges shall not be liable to assessment.

Distribution of credits.

Savings or credits may be returned to the subscribers irrespective as to the source from which the same accrue whenever such returns do not constitute an impairment of the assets or reserves to be maintained as herein required; provided, however, that there shall be no discrimination in the making of such returns as between persons or places. Where the subscribers are grouped by industries or otherwise under any ruling or agreement which exempts the funds of one group from liability in whole or in part for the payment of losses or expenses chargeable against another group, each independent group must maintain the reserves and surplus herein specified and comply with the requirements of subdivision (f) of section 3 hereof relative to the number and amount of risks to be assumed.

Stats 1921, p 1599.

SEC. 5. Section 6 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Annual report by attorney.

Sec. 6. Such attorney shall, within the time limited for the filing of annual statements by insurance companies transacting the same kind of business, make a report, under oath, to the Insurance Commissioner for each calendar year, showing the financial condition of affairs at the office where such contracts are issued, and shall at any time furnish such additional information and reports as may be required; provided, however, that the attorney shall not be required to furnish the names and addresses of any subscribers except in case of an unpaid final judgment. The assets, business affairs and records of such organization and of the attorney shall be subject to examination by the insurance commissioner at any reasonable time, and such examination shall be at the expense of the organization; provided, such examination of the attorney shall be restricted to only such records and accounts as are concerned with the business of the exchange. The right of examination herein granted shall include the right to examine the records containing the names and addresses of the subscribers, but any information obtained therefrom shall be regarded as confidential and the disclosure thereof, except under order of court, shall constitute a breach of official duty. Where the principal office of the attorney is located in another State, the Insurance Commissioner may, in lieu of the examination provided for in this section, accept a certified copy of the report of examination made by the Insurance Department of the State where the principal office is located, or by the Insurance Department of any other State.

Examination by commissioner.

SEC 6. Section 13 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1921, p. 1599

Sec. 13. (a) Except as herein provided, the making of contracts as herein provided for and such other matters as are incident thereto shall not be subject to the laws of this State relating to insurance unless they are therein specifically mentioned This section shall not be construed, however, as depriving the Insurance Department of the State of the right of examination and of supervision over reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, their attorneys, agents and brokers, or of the right to hold and conduct hearings in the manner and under the same procedure as provided by law in the case of mutual or other insurance companies, but such right is hereby expressly recognized and confirmed. Not subject to insurance laws

(b) It shall be unlawful for any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, its attorney in fact, agent or broker to give or offer a rebate to a subscriber, directly or indirectly. A rebate is hereby defined as an allowance, gift, setoff or payment directly or indirectly made or offered as an inducement to secure the exchange of indemnities, other than a savings or credit to be returned to the subscriber in accordance with the provisions contained in the power of attorney or in the reciprocal or interinsurance contract executed by him. Rebates unlawful

(c) The insurance laws of this State regarding the appointment or licensing, qualification and regulation of insurance agents, brokers and solicitors, shall not apply to the attorney in fact of a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, nor to the salaried representatives of such exchange or attorney, receiving no commissions, but shall apply to any agent, broker or solicitor of any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange receiving any commission; provided, however, that the fee for issuing the annual license of such agents or solicitors shall be one dollar. Laws regarding insurance agents, etc not applicable

(d) The provisions of section 595a of the Political Code and of Chapter 367, Statutes of 1919 shall be applicable to reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges. Statutes applicable

SEC. 7. A new section to be numbered 15 is hereby added to said act to read as follows: New section

Sec. 15. This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Reciprocal or Interinsurance Act of the State of California." Short title

Nothing contained in this act shall in any way affect the rights, duties, or obligations of members of or subscribers at any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange which has been Effect of act.

adjudged insolvent and ordered to be liquidated prior to the date this act takes effect.

Urgency

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

The moneys in the insurance fund in the State treasury are almost exhausted. The entire expense of supervision and regulation of insurance companies is paid out of said fund. Unless additional revenues are immediately made available for the replenishment of this fund, such supervision and regulation can not efficiently be continued, and a breakdown of this vital function of State administration is thereby threatened. This act, by increasing the revenues payable into such fund, will tend to avert such a threatened breakdown and will thereby enable the State to continue to efficiently supervise and regulate the insurance business therein. As a failure of such supervision and regulation to efficiently function might result in tremendous losses to the people of this State, it is therefore necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 533.

Stats 1931, p 1762, amended

An act to amend sections 278, 290, 292, 293, 294, 295, 296, 300a, 300b, 301, 303, 305, 306, 307, 307a, 308, 309, 311, 312, 313, 314, 315, 319, 320a, 320b, 326, 328, 328a, 328b, 328d, 328e, 330.6, 330.13, 330.24, 331, 332, 333, 334, 334a, 336, 337, 341, 342, 342a, 342b, 343, 346, 346a, 348, 348a, 348b, 355, 357, 358, 359, 361, 362, 362a, 362b, 362c, 363, 364, 365, 366, 368, 369, 370a, 373, 399, 399a, 400, 400a, 401, 401a, 401c, 402, 402a, 403, 403a, 403b, 403c, 403d, 404, 404a, 404b, 405, 406, 406a, 408, 409, 411 and 412 of the Civil Code, and to add new sections 281, 304, 326b and 356 to the Civil Code, and to repeal sections 343a, 347, 375, 401b and 587 of the Civil Code, all relating to corporations.

[Approved by the Governor May 24, 1933. In effect August 21, 1933.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1931, p 1762

SECTION 1. Section 278 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Definitions

278. Construction. The following are definitions of certain terms as used in this title:

"Articles" includes the articles of incorporation, amendments thereto, amended articles, certificates of incorporation, certificates of determination of preferences, and agreements of consolidation or merger. Definitions

Unless the context requires otherwise, "shareholder" or "stockholder" or "holder of shares" means "holder of record of shares" or "shareholder of record" and includes a subscriber to shares in cases in which no certificates are outstanding, and a member of a nonstock corporation.

"Member" includes each person signing the articles of a nonstock corporation and each person admitted to membership therein.

"Incorporator" includes each person signing the articles of incorporation.

"Corporation," unless otherwise expressly provided, refers only to a domestic corporation.

"Domestic corporation" means a corporation formed under the laws of this State, and "foreign corporation" means any other corporation.

"Stock corporation" means a corporation authorized to issue shares of stock.

"Nonstock corporation" includes every corporation other than a "stock corporation."

"To represent shares" means to vote, to give written consent to corporate action, to dissent therefrom, and to execute waivers of notice of meetings.

"Majority vote" and "two-thirds vote" means votes of the holders of shares or members entitled to exercise, respectively, a majority and two-thirds of the voting power at a shareholders' or members' meeting.

"Directors" includes persons designated in the articles as such and persons designated, elected or appointed by any other name or title to act as directors and their successors.

"Directors," when used in relation to any power or duty requiring collective action, shall be construed to mean "board of directors."

"Mortgage" includes a deed of trust to secure a debt, or any pledge or form of security.

"Written" includes printed, typewritten, engraved, lithographed, telegraphed, cabled, radiogramed, photographed, photostated, telephotographed, or other form of transmitted and recorded messages.

"Redemption price" means the amount payable on shares of any class on the redemption of the shares.

"Liquidation price" or "liquidation preference" means amounts payable on shares of any class upon voluntary or involuntary dissolution, winding-up or distribution of the entire assets of the corporation, including cumulative dividends in arrears, in priority to shares of another class or classes.

"Shares" and "shares of stock" shall be construed to include membership in nonstock corporations unless the context requires otherwise.

"Treasury shares" means shares issued and thereafter acquired by the corporation, but not retired or restored to the status of unissued shares.

A "series" of shares means a subdivision of a class of shares, which shall not be construed to constitute a separate class for the purpose of voting or consent unless specifically so designated.

"Holding corporation"

If a corporation, domestic or foreign, has power either directly or indirectly or through another corporation or series of other corporations, domestic or foreign, to elect a majority of the directors of another corporation, domestic or foreign, any of such corporations having controlling power shall be deemed to be a "holding corporation" in its relation to any corporation which it so controls, and any such corporation which is subject to such control shall be deemed to be a "subsidiary corporation" in its relation to any such controlling corporation.

Section headings

Section headings, wherever they appear in this title, shall not be taken to govern or limit the scope of the sections of this title.

New section

SEC. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code, to be numbered section 281, and to read as follows:

Constitutionality

281. Constitutionality. If any provision of this title, or the application thereof to existing corporations, or to foreign corporations, or to any class of shares or securities issued by any corporation, be held invalid as to any class of corporations, shares or securities or the rights of any class of persons therein, the remainder of this title or the application of any such provision to other classes of corporations now existing or subsequently created or to other classes of shares or securities shall not be affected thereby.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 3. Section 290 Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Articles of incorporation

290 Articles of incorporation. Articles of incorporation shall state:

1. The name of the corporation.

2. The purposes for which it is formed.

3. The county in this State where the principal office for the transaction of the business of the corporation is to be located

4. If the corporation is to be authorized to issue only one class of shares of stock, the total number of shares which the corporation shall have authority to issue and the aggregate par value, if any, of all shares, and (a) the par value of each of such shares, or (b) a statement that all such shares of stock are to be without par value; or if the corporation is to be authorized to issue more than one class of shares, the total number of shares which the corporation shall have authority to issue and the aggregate par value of all shares that are to have a par value, and (a) the number of shares of each class that are to have a par value, and the par value of each share of each such class, and/or (b) the number of shares of each class that are to be without par value.

5. If the shares are to be classified, or if any class of shares is to have two or more series, a statement of the preferences, privileges, and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the respective classes or series of shares and/or upon the holders thereof, and of the number of shares constituting each series. Except as to matters and things so stated, no distinction shall exist between said classes or series of shares or the holders thereof; provided, however, that in lieu of a statement of the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, the redemption price, or the liquidation preferences of any class or of any series of any class or the number of shares constituting any series, the articles may authorize the board of directors, within the limits and restrictions stated therein, to fix the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, the redemption price, the liquidation preferences of any wholly unissued class or of any wholly unissued series of any class of shares, or the number of shares constituting any unissued series of any class, or all or any of them.

6. The number of its directors not less than three; the names and addresses of the persons who are appointed to act as the first directors. The number so fixed shall constitute the authorized number of directors until changed by amendment of the articles or, unless the articles provide otherwise, by a by-law duly adopted by the shareholders.

7. Any provisions which may be desired

(a) Granting, with or without limitations, the power to levy assessments upon the shares or any class thereof;

(b) Granting to shareholders preemptive rights to subscribe to any or all issues of shares or securities;

(c) Imposing such limitations and requirements as are authorized by this title and otherwise regulating the business and affairs of the corporation and the powers of the directors and shareholders in a manner not in conflict with law.

8. If the corporation is not to be authorized to issue shares of stock, or if it is not formed with a view to pecuniary gain or profit to its members, it shall be so stated.

The authorized number and qualifications of its members, the different classes of membership, if any, the property, voting and other rights and privileges of each class of membership, and the liability of each or all classes to dues or assessments, may be set forth either in the articles or in the by-laws

SEC. 4. Section 292 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 1762

292. Execution and filing of articles. Each person named therein as a director shall, and any other persons may, sign the articles. All signatures thereto shall be acknowledged before an officer authorized by the laws of the State or government where the acknowledgment is made to take acknowledgments. Any certificate of acknowledgment taken without the State must be authenticated by the certificate of an officer having the requisite official knowledge of the qualifications of the officer before whom the acknowledgment was made, when Execution and filing of articles taken before any officer other than a notary public or a judge or clerk of a court of record having an official seal.

If the articles conform to law, the Secretary of State shall file them in his office and shall indorse the date of filing thereon. The corporate existence shall begin upon the filing of the articles and shall continue perpetually, unless otherwise expressly provided by law.

Filing of copy

A copy of the articles certified by the Secretary of State, and bearing the indorsement of the date of filing in his office, shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of the county in which the corporation is to have its principal office.

Stats 1931, p. 1762.

SEC. 5. Section 293 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Filing copy of articles in county where real property is held

293. Filing copy of articles in county where real property is held. Every corporation shall file a copy of its articles, certified by the Secretary of State, in the office of the county clerk of every county in the State in which it holds real property, except where certified copies have been filed heretofore or where original articles are on file under an act in force at the time of filing thereof. If any corporation acquires any real property in a county in which its articles, or a certified copy thereof, have not been so filed within ninety days thereafter it shall file with the clerk of said county a certified copy of its articles. The copies filed with the several county clerks and certified copies thereof shall have the same force and effect in evidence as the originals.

Penalty for failure to file.

The only penalty for, or effect of, a failure to comply with the provision of this section is that a corporation can not maintain any action or proceeding in relation to such real property, its rents, issues or profits until such certified copy of its articles is filed in the county in which such property is located.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 6. Section 294 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Classes and series of shares

294. Classes and series of shares. Stock corporations may issue one or more classes and/or series of shares, any of which classes or series may be with par value or without par value, and with full, limited or no voting rights, and with such other preferences, rights, privileges and restrictions as are stated or authorized in their articles. All shares of any one class shall have the same voting rights, conversion, redemption and other rights, preferences, privileges, and restrictions, unless a class be divided into series and in such case all the shares of any one series shall have the same voting rights, conversion, redemption and other rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions. There shall always be a class or series of shares outstanding which has complete voting rights except as limited or restricted by voting rights conferred on some other class or series of outstanding shares.

Redemption

If a class of shares be made subject to redemption by the articles, such right of redemption shall be exercisable at the option of the corporation only, but provision may be made for the accumulation of a sinking fund from the net earnings of the corporation for any year or years which may be required to be applied to the purchase or redemption of such shares.

SEC. 7. Section 295 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

295. Certificates of determination of preferences. Before any corporation issues any shares of any class or of any series of any class of which the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, redemption price and/or liquidation preferences, or the number of shares constituting any series, are not set forth in its articles but are fixed in a resolution adopted by the board of directors pursuant to authority given by its articles, a certificate setting forth a copy of such resolution and the number of shares of such class or series shall be made by its president or a vice president and by its secretary or an assistant secretary and acknowledged by such officers, and shall be filed with the Secretary of State and a copy thereof certified by the Secretary of State shall be filed with the county clerk of the county where the principal office of the corporation is located. Certificates of determination of preferences.

SEC. 7. Section 296 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

296. Option and conversion rights. Subject to any limitation or restrictions contained in its articles, a corporation may: Options and conversion rights.

(a) In connection with the issue, subscription or sale of any of its bonds, debentures, notes, or other obligations, grant to the purchasers or holders thereof the right to convert the same into shares of any class or classes upon such terms or conditions as may be deemed expedient; and

(b) Either in connection with the issue, subscription or sale of any of its shares, bonds, debentures, notes or other securities, or independently thereof, grant options to purchase or subscribe for shares of any class or classes upon such terms and conditions as may be deemed expedient.

The terms and conditions of any such options or conversion rights not fixed by the articles, shall be fixed by a resolution adopted by the board of directors.

The corporation may issue stock purchase or subscription warrants or other evidences of such option rights, setting forth the terms, provisions and conditions thereof, and such option rights may be transferable or nontransferable and separable or inseparable from other securities of the corporation. The terms and conditions of such conversion rights as are granted shall be set forth in the certificates or other instruments evidencing the securities in connection with the issue, subscription or sale of which such rights are granted. Terms of option

If at the time of granting such option or conversion rights or at any later time the corporation be not authorized by its articles to issue all the shares required for the satisfaction thereof, if and when exercised, at least the additional number of shares required to be issued upon the exercise of such option Number of shares or conversion rights shall be authorized by an amendment to the articles.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 8. Section 300a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Valuation of consideration for shares

300a. Valuation of consideration for shares. The board of directors shall state by resolution its determination of the fair value to the corporation in monetary terms of any consideration other than money for which shares with or without par value are issued. In the absence of fraud in the making of such determination of value, such determination shall be conclusive.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 9. Section 300b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stated capital

300b. Stated capital. Every stock corporation shall have a stated capital which shall be an amount made up of the sum of the following amounts:

(1) The aggregate par value of par value shares which have been issued from time to time, except as otherwise provided in this section. If par value shares have been issued as fully paid up for a consideration less than par, only the amount of the agreed consideration for such shares specified in dollars shall be credited to stated capital;

(2) The aggregate amount specified in dollars of the agreed consideration received or to be received by the corporation for all shares without par value which have been issued from time to time, except any portion of the consideration for such shares which has been expressly designated by the board of directors upon or prior to issue as paid-in surplus. In the absence of such designation by the board of directors, the entire amount of the consideration for shares without par value shall be credited to stated capital;

(3) Such amounts as are transferred from surplus to stated capital upon declaration of a share dividend or by resolution of the board of directors;

(4) Less the amounts of any reductions of stated capital made as authorized in this title.

If par value shares be issued for a consideration in excess of the par value thereof, the amount of such excess shall be credited to paid-in surplus.

In case of the issue of shares without par value having a liquidation preference, the entire amount of the agreed consideration therefor shall be credited to stated capital.

Agreed consideration

The agreed consideration for shares with or without par value shall be construed to mean the amount received or to be received by the corporation from the subscriber or person to whom the shares are originally issued, before deducting the charges and expenses of organization and any compensation for the sale or underwriting of such shares.

Stated capital not to be changed

Whenever issued shares having par value are changed or converted into the same or a greater or smaller number of shares without par value or into shares of a different par value, whether of the same or different classes, the stated capital shall not be changed without proceedings for increase or reduction of stated capital in accordance with this title.

Whenever issued shares without par value are changed or converted into the same or a greater or smaller number of shares with or without par value, the stated capital shall not be changed thereby.

SEC. 10. Section 301 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 1762

301. Adoption of by-laws. By-laws may be adopted, amended, or repealed by the vote of shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power of the corporation or by the written assent of such shareholders. Subject to the right of shareholders to adopt, amend, or repeal by-laws, by-laws other than a by-law or amendment thereof changing the authorized number of directors, may be adopted, amended or repealed by the board of directors. Adoption of by-laws

The articles or by-laws may require the vote or written assent of the shareholders entitled to exercise more than a majority of the voting power for the amendment or repeal thereof or of particular by-laws or for the adoption of new by-laws. The articles or a by-law adopted by the shareholders may limit or restrict the power of the directors to adopt, amend or repeal by-laws, or may deprive them of such power.

SEC. 11. Section 303 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p. 1762.

303. What may be regulated in by-laws. The by-laws of a corporation may make provisions not in conflict with law or its articles for: What may be regulated in by-laws

1. The time, place and manner of calling, conducting and giving notice of shareholders' and directors' meetings. The by-laws may dispense with notice of all regular and/or annual meetings of shareholders or directors, except as required under section 312, Civil Code.

2. The requirements for a quorum for a shareholders' meeting, which shall be not less than a majority of the shares entitled to vote in case of a stock corporation.

3. The manner of execution, revocation and use of proxies.

4. The number, qualifications and duties of directors; the time of their annual election; the requirements of a quorum for a directors' meeting, in no case less than one-third of the authorized number of directors nor less than two. The authorized number of directors may be changed by amendment of the articles, or, unless the articles forbid, by a by-law duly adopted by the shareholders.

In any case in which it is proposed to reduce the authorized number of directors below five the votes or written consents of shareholders holding more than eighty per cent of the voting power shall be necessary for such reduction.

5. The appointment and authority of an executive committee and other committees of the board of directors.

6. The appointment, duties, compensation and tenure of office of officers other than directors, and the compensation of directors.

7. Special qualifications of persons who may be shareholders and reasonable restrictions upon the right to transfer or hypothecate shares.

8. The method of publication of notices of meetings of the shareholders or board of directors when publication is required; the mode of determination of shareholders of record; and the making of annual reports and financial statements to the shareholders or dispensing therewith.

9. The issue of certificates for shares prior to full payment.

10. The qualifications of members and different classes of memberships of nonstock corporations, and the property, voting and other rights, interests or privileges of each class.

11. The admission, election or appointment, suspension or expulsion of members.

12. The transfer, forfeiture and termination of membership, and whether the property interest of members shall cease at their death and the mode of ascertaining the property interest, if any, at death or termination of membership.

13. The time and manner in which profits arising from the business may be divided or distributed among members of nonstock corporations for profit. Cooperative corporations for profit may provide in their articles or by-laws for the distribution of the profits arising from the business in whole or in part among certain classes of persons other than the members or shareholders, if any, and the persons to whom and the manner in which such distribution may be made.

14. The fees of admission, transfer fees, dues and assessments to be paid by members or different classes of members of nonstock corporations and the method of collection. Such dues or assessments or both may be authorized upon all classes of membership alike, or in different amounts or proportions or upon a different basis upon different classes of membership, and memberships of one or more classes may be made exempt from either dues or assessments or both.

The amount and method of collection of such dues or assessments or both may be fixed in the by-laws or the by-laws may authorize the board of directors to fix the amount thereof from time to time, and make them payable at such times or intervals, and upon such notice, and by such methods as the directors prescribe. They may be made enforceable by action or by forfeiture of membership, or both, upon reasonable notice.

15. The manner of voting by members of nonstock corporations and whether they have the right of cumulative voting.

16. Any other proper and lawful regulations

New section

SEC. 12. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code, to be numbered section 304 in Chapter V of the General Corporation Law, and to read as follows:

304. Term of office of directors. Directors named in the articles shall hold office until the next annual meeting of shareholders and until their successors are elected, either at an annual or a special meeting of shareholders. Directors, other than those named in the articles, shall hold office until the next annual meeting, unless a shorter term be provided for in the articles, and until their successors are elected. Term of office of directors.

SEC. 13. Section 305 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

305. Powers of directors. Subject to limitations of the articles and of this title as to action to be authorized or approved by the shareholders, all corporate powers shall be exercised by or under authority of, and the business and affairs of every corporation shall be controlled by, a board of not less than three directors. The first directors need not be shareholders of the corporation. Succeeding directors need not be shareholders of the corporation unless the articles or by-laws so require. Powers of directors

SEC. 14. Section 306 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

306. Vacancies in the board of directors. A vacancy or vacancies in the board of directors shall be deemed to exist in case of the death, resignation or removal of any director, or if the authorized number of directors be increased, or if the shareholders fail at any annual, regular or special meeting of shareholders at which any director or directors are elected to elect the full authorized number of directors to be voted for at that meeting. Vacancies in the board of directors

Vacancies may be filled by a majority of the remaining directors, though less than a quorum, or by a sole remaining director unless it be provided otherwise in the articles or by-laws, and each director so elected shall hold office until his successor is elected at an annual or regular or a special meeting of the shareholders.

The shareholders may elect a director or directors at any time to fill any vacancy or vacancies not filled by the directors. If the board of directors accept the resignation of a director tendered to take effect at a future time, the board or the shareholders shall have power to elect a successor to take office when the resignation is to become effective. Shareholders may fill vacancies.

No reduction of the authorized number of directors shall have the effect of removing any director prior to the expiration of his term of office.

SEC. 15. Section 307 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

307. Quorum of board of directors. A majority of the authorized number of directors shall be necessary to constitute a quorum of the board for the transaction of business unless the articles or by-laws provide that a different number shall constitute a quorum, which in no case shall be less than one-third the authorized number of directors, nor less than two. Quorum of directors

Every act or decision done or made by a majority of the directors present at a meeting duly held at which a quorum is present shall be regarded as the act of the board of directors, unless the law, the articles, or the by-laws require a greater number. In the absence of a quorum a majority of the directors present may adjourn from time to time until the time fixed for the next regular meeting of the board.

Stats 1931, p. 1762

SEC. 16. Section 307a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of directors' meetings

307a. Notice of directors' meetings. Unless provided otherwise in the by-laws, all meetings of the board of directors of a corporation shall be called by the president, or, if he be absent or be unable or refuse to act, by any vice president or by any two directors.

Except in the case of regular meetings notice of which has been dispensed with by the by-laws, written notice of the time and place of the meetings of the board of directors shall be delivered personally to the directors, or sent to each director by mail or by other form of written communication, at least seven (7) days before the meeting unless provided otherwise in the by-laws. If in any case the address of a director be not shown on the records or be not readily ascertainable, notice shall be given him by addressing such notice to him at the city or place in which the meetings of the directors are regularly held. Notice of the time and place of holding an adjourned meeting of a meeting need not be given to absent directors if the time and place be fixed at the meeting adjourned.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 17. Section 308 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Officers and committees

308. Officers and committees. Every corporation shall have a president, a vice president, a secretary and a treasurer, who shall be chosen by the board of directors. A corporation may have such other officers as may be deemed expedient, who shall be chosen in such manner and hold their offices for such terms as may be prescribed by the by-laws. Any two or more of such offices, except those of president and secretary, may be held by the same person. Any vice president, assistant treasurer or assistant secretary, respectively, may exercise any of the powers of the president, the treasurer or the secretary, respectively, as provided in the by-laws or directed by the board of directors, and shall perform such other duties as are imposed upon him by the by-laws or the board of directors.

The by-laws may provide for the appointment by the board of directors of an executive committee and other committees and may authorize the board to delegate to the executive committee any of the powers and authority of the board in the management of the business and affairs of the corporation, except the power to declare dividends and to adopt, amend or repeal by-laws. The executive committee shall be composed of two or more directors.

SEC. 18. Section 309 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

309. Place of directors' meetings. Regular meetings of the board of directors shall be held at any place within or without the State which has been designated by the by-laws or from time to time by resolution of the board or by written consent of all members of the board. In the absence of such designation regular meetings shall be held at the principal office of the corporation. Special meetings of the board may be held either at a place so designated or at the principal office. Any regular or special meeting shall be valid wherever held, if held upon written consent of all members of the board given either before or after the meeting and filed with the secretary of the corporation. Place of directors' meetings.

SEC. 19. Section 311 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

311. Effect of common directorship and director's personal interest. Directors and officers shall exercise their powers in good faith, and with a view to the interests of the corporation. No contract or other transaction between a corporation and one or more of its directors, or between a corporation and any corporation, firm or association in which one or more of its directors are directors or are financially interested, shall be either void or voidable by reason of the fact that such director or directors are present at the meeting of the board of directors or a committee thereof which authorizes or approves such contract or transaction, or that his or their votes are counted for such purpose, if: Effect of common directorship and directors' personal interest.

(a) The fact of such common directorship or financial interest be disclosed or known to the board of directors or committee and noted in the minutes, and the board or committee authorize, approve or ratify such contract or transaction in good faith by a vote sufficient for such purpose without counting the vote or votes of such director or directors; or

(b) The fact of such common directorship or financial interest be disclosed or known to the shareholders and they approve or ratify such contract or transaction in good faith by a majority vote or written consent of shareholders entitled to vote; or

(c) The contract or transaction be just and reasonable as to the corporation at the time it was authorized or approved.

Such common or interested directors may be counted in determining the presence of a quorum at such meeting.

SEC. 20. Section 312 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

312. Annual meetings of shareholders. An annual meeting of shareholders shall be held at eleven o'clock in the morning on the first Tuesday of April in each year at the principal office of the corporation, unless a different time or place be provided in the by-laws. At such meetings directors shall be elected, reports of the affairs of the corporation shall be considered, and any other business may be transacted which is Shareholders' annual meetings.

within the powers of the shareholders, provided that written notice of the general nature of the business or proposal shall be given as in case of a special meeting, even though notice of regular or annual meetings be otherwise dispensed with, before action may be taken at such a meeting on:

(1) A proposal to sell, lease, convey, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the property or assets of the corporation except under section 344 of this title;

(2) A proposal to merge or consolidate with another corporation, domestic or foreign;

(3) A proposal to reduce the stated capital of the corporation;

(4) A proposal to amend the articles, except to extend the term of the corporate existence;

(5) A proposal to wind-up and dissolve the corporation;

(6) A proposal to adopt a plan of distribution of shares, securities or any consideration other than money in the process of winding-up.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 21. Section 313 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Special meetings of shareholders

313. Special shareholders' meetings. Special meetings of the shareholders, for any purpose or purposes whatsoever, may be called at any time by the president or by the board of directors or by one or more shareholders holding not less than one-fifth of the voting power of the corporation, or by such other officers or persons as the by-laws authorize.

Upon request in writing by registered mail to the president, vice president or secretary, or delivered to any such officer in person, by any persons entitled to call a meeting of shareholders, it shall be the duty of such officer forthwith to cause notice to be given to the shareholders entitled to vote that a meeting will be held at a time, fixed by such officer, not less than ten nor more than sixty days after the receipt of such request. If such notice be not given within seven days after the date of delivery, or the date of mailing of such request, the person or persons calling the meeting may fix the time of meeting and give the notice in the manner provided by law or by the by-laws.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 22. Section 314 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Notice of shareholders' meetings

314. Notice of shareholders' meetings. Except in the case of regular or annual meetings, notice of which has been dispensed with by the by-laws, notice of all meetings of shareholders shall be given in writing to shareholders entitled to vote by the secretary or an assistant secretary or other person charged with that duty, or, if there be no such officer, or in case of his neglect or refusal, by any director or shareholder.

A notice may be given by the corporation to any shareholder, either personally or by mail or other means of written communication, charges prepaid, addressed to such shareholder at his address appearing on the books of the corporation or given by him to the corporation for the purpose of notice. If a shareholder give no address, notice shall be deemed to have been given him if sent by mail or other means of written communication addressed to the place where the principal office of the corporation is situated, or if published at least once in some newspaper of general circulation in the county in which said office is located.

Notice of any meeting of shareholders shall be sent to each shareholder entitled thereto not less than seven days before such meeting, unless the by-laws provide otherwise.

Notice of any meeting of shareholders shall specify the place, the day and the hour of the meeting, and, in the case of special meetings, the general nature of the business to be transacted.

Adjourned meetings.

When a meeting is adjourned for thirty days or more, notice of the adjourned meeting shall be given as in the case of an original meeting. Save as aforesaid, it shall not be necessary to give any notice of the time and place of the adjourned meeting or of the business to be transacted thereat other than by announcement at the meeting at which such adjournment is taken, unless the by-laws provide otherwise.

Stats 1931, p. 1762.

SEC. 23. Section 315 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Contested elections.

315. Contested elections. Upon the filing of an action therefor by any shareholder, the superior court shall have the power to try and determine the validity of any election or appointment of any director of any domestic corporation, or of any foreign corporation if such election were held or such appointment were made in this State. In the case of a domestic corporation such action shall be brought in the county or the city and county in which the principal office of the corporation is located. In the case of a foreign corporation the action shall be brought in the county or city and county in which the corporation has its principal office in this State or in which the election was held or the appointment was made. The court may determine the person entitled to such office or may order a new election to be held or appointment to be made, and direct such other relief as may be just and proper.

Petition, hearing, etc.

Upon filing the complaint, and before any further proceedings are had, the court shall enter an order fixing a date for the hearing, which shall be within five days unless for good cause a later date is fixed, and requiring notice of the date for the hearing and a copy of the complaint to be served upon the corporation and upon the person or persons whose purported election or appointment is questioned and upon any person or persons (other than the plaintiff) whom the plaintiff alleges to have been elected or appointed, in the manner in which a summons is required to be served, or if the court so direct, by registered mail; and the court may make such further requirements as to notice as may appear to be proper under the circumstances.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 24. Section 319 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Place of shareholders' meetings

319. Place of shareholders' meetings. Meetings of shareholders shall be held at any place within or without the State designated by the by-laws or by written consent of all the shareholders entitled to vote thereat, or designated by the board of directors pursuant to authority granted in the by-laws. In the absence of any such designation such meetings shall be held at the principal office of the corporation.

Any meeting shall be valid wherever held if held by the written consent of all the shareholders entitled to vote thereat, given either before or after the meeting and filed with the secretary of the corporation.

Stats 1931, p. 1762

SEC. 25. Section 320a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Voting rights

320a. Voting rights. Subject to the provisions of sections 320b and 320c of this title, only persons in whose names shares entitled to vote stand on the stock records of the corporation on the day three days prior to any meeting of shareholders, or, if some other day be fixed for the determination of shareholders of record, then on such other day, shall be entitled to vote at such meeting. In the absence of any contrary provision in the articles or in any statute relating to the election of directors or to other particular matters, each such person shall be entitled to one vote for each of said shares. If there be only one class of shares outstanding which is not divided into series, or if there be only one series of shares outstanding, no limitations or restrictions imposed on the voting rights of the shareholders shall be effective.

Written consents

When written consents are given with respect to any shares they shall be given by and accepted from the persons in whose names such shares stand on the books of the corporation at the time such respective consents are given, or their proxies. Any shareholder giving a written consent, or his proxy, or his transferee or personal representative, or their respective proxies, may revoke the same prior to the time that written consents of the number of shares required to authorize the proposed action have been filed with the secretary of the corporation, but may not do so thereafter.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 26. Section 320b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

320b. Voting by fiduciaries, incompetents, minors and corporations.

Voting by Fiduciaries

(1) Shares standing in the name of any person or persons as pledgee, trustee or other fiduciary may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised only by such pledgee, trustee or other fiduciary in person or by proxy, and without proof of authority.

Incompetents

(2) Shares standing in the name of a person adjudged incompetent may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised only by his guardian, in person or by proxy, and of a deceased person only by his executor or administrator, in person or by proxy.

Minors

(3) Shares standing in the name of a minor may be voted and all rights incident thereto may be exercised by his guardian, in person or by proxy, or in the absence of such representation by his guardian, by such minor in person or by proxy.

Corporations

(4) Shares standing in the name of a corporation, domestic or foreign, may be voted or represented and all rights incident thereto may be exercised on behalf of such corporation by any officer or officers of such corporation authorized so to do by the by-laws of such corporation, and in the absence of vote or representation by such officer or officers, by any person authorized so to do by resolution of the board of directors or of the executive committee of such corporation, and in the absence of such vote or representation by any person authorized so to do by proxy or power of attorney duly executed by the president or vice president and secretary or assistant secretary.

SEC. 27. Section 326 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certificates for shares

326. Certificates for shares. All stock corporations must issue certificates for shares, when fully paid, which shall state:

Contents

(1) The name of the record holder of the shares represented thereby;

(2) The number, designation, if any, and class or series of shares represented thereby;

(3) The par value, if any, of the shares represented thereby, or a statement that such shares are without par value;

(4) If the shares of the corporation be classified or if any class of shares have two or more series, a statement of the rights, preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the respective classes or series of shares and upon the holders thereof, and of the number of shares constituting each series, or a summary of such preferences, privileges and restrictions with a reference to the articles therefor, or a statement that the board of directors has authority to fix the dividend rate, conversion rights, voting rights, the redemption price and/or the liquidation preferences of any wholly unissued class or of any wholly unissued series of any class of shares or the number of shares constituting any unissued series of any class of shares;

(5) If redeemable, a statement of that fact and the redemption price;

(6) If convertible, a general statement of the essential terms and period for conversion;

(7) If the shares be subject to liens or to restrictions upon transfer or upon the voting power the fact shall be indicated;

(8) If the shares be assessable, or if assessments are collectible by personal action, the fact shall be plainly stated on the face of the certificate.

Rights of transferee determined by certificate

Subject to the provisions of sections 322, 330.15 and 334a of this title no restriction of the right to transfer shares stated in the articles or by-laws, and no power of assessment, and no liens on shares for assessments or for the unpaid subscription price or other lien in favor of the corporation, shall be effective against a transferee of such shares unless stated on the face of the certificate.

Signatures

Every certificate for shares issued by a corporation must be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary, or must be authenticated by facsimiles of the signatures of its president and secretary or by a facsimile of the signature of its president and the written signature of its secretary or an assistant secretary. Before it becomes effective every certificate for shares authenticated by a facsimile of a signature must be countersigned by a transfer agent or transfer clerk and must be registered by an incorporated bank or trust company, either domestic or foreign, as registrar of transfers.

Death of signer

In case any officer or officers who have signed, or whose facsimile signature has been written, printed or stamped on any certificate or certificates for shares, cease to be such officer or officers of such corporation, because of death, resignation or otherwise, before such certificate or certificates have been delivered by such corporation, such certificate or certificates nevertheless shall be conclusively deemed to have been adopted by such corporation by the use and delivery thereof and shall be as effective in all respects as though signed by a duly elected, qualified and authorized officer or officers, provided it or they be countersigned and registered as above provided.

New section

SEC. 28. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code, to be numbered 326b, and to read as follows:

Compulsory exchange of certificates

326b. Compulsory exchange of certificates. When the articles are amended in any way affecting the statements contained in the certificates for outstanding shares, or it becomes desirable for any reason, in the discretion of the board of directors, to cancel any outstanding certificate for shares and issue a new certificate therefor conforming to the rights of the holder, the board of directors may order any holders of outstanding certificates for shares to surrender and exchange them for new certificates within a reasonable time to be fixed by the board of directors.

Such order may provide that no holder of any such certificates so ordered to be surrendered shall be entitled to vote or to receive dividends or exercise any of the other rights of shareholders of record until he shall have complied with such order, but such order shall only operate to suspend such rights after notice and until compliance. Such duty of surrender of any outstanding certificates may also be enforced by action at law.

SEC. 29. Section 328 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

328. Proof of right to transfer. When a transfer of shares of a domestic or foreign corporation on its books is requested and there is a reasonable doubt as to the right of the person seeking such transfer, the corporation or its transfer agent, before recording the transfer of the shares on its books or issuing any certificate therefor, may require from such person reasonable proof of his right to such transfer, and if there remain a reasonable doubt in respect thereto may refuse a transfer unless such person give adequate security or a bond of indemnity executed by a corporate surety or by two individual sureties satisfactory to the corporation as to form, amount and responsibility of sureties. If not satisfactory to the corporation, the surety or sureties shall justify before a judge of any court of record in the county where the transfer is sought and he shall determine the amount of the security or bond, and the responsibility or sufficiency of the sureties, after opportunity has been given the corporation to examine the surety or sureties as to their financial responsibility. The bond shall be conditioned to protect the corporation, its officers and/or its transfer agent or agents and/or registrar or registrars, against any loss, damage, expense or other liability to the owner of the shares by reason of the recordation of the transfer or the issuance of a new certificate for shares. Proof of right to transfer

If any such proof, security or bond be not furnished when required, as herein provided, neither the corporation nor any officer thereof shall be liable for refusing to record the transfer on its books or issue a new certificate for shares.

SEC. 30. Section 328a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

328a. Adverse claims to shares. If a certificate for shares in a domestic corporation or in a foreign corporation keeping its transfer books in this State, endorsed by the record owner, be presented for transfer on the books and an adverse claim be made either by the record owner or by any other person, the corporation nevertheless may transfer the shares on its books at the instance of the person presenting such certificate without liability to the adverse claimant, unless the adverse claimant give written notice of his claim and within five days after giving such notice give adequate security or bond of indemnity, executed by a corporate surety or two individual sureties, satisfactory to the corporation as to form, amount and responsibility of sureties. If not satisfactory to the corporation the surety or sureties shall justify before a judge of a court of record of the county where the transfer is sought and he shall determine the amount of the security or bond, and the responsibility or sufficiency of the sureties, after opportunity has been given the corporation and the person demanding the transfer to examine the sureties. The bond shall be conditioned to protect the corporation, its officers, transfer agents and registrars, and the record holder, if other than the claimant, and the person demanding the transfer, against damage, expenses or other liability by reason of the refusal to record Adverse claims to shares

SEC. 31. Section 328b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Transfers by trustees

328b. Transfers by trustees. Whenever certificates for shares or other securities issued by a domestic or foreign corporation are to be or have been issued or transferred to a person or corporation as trustee on the books or records of the corporation, whether or not such certificates or other securities or the instrument of transfer describe the trust or identify any beneficiary, it shall be presumed in favor of such corporation and its transfer agent that such trustee has the power to accept and transfer title to such certificates or other securities and there shall be no duty upon the corporation or its registrar or transfer agent to inquire into or determine the existence or validity of any trust or the terms thereof, or whether the trustee is committing a breach of obligation or exceeding his authority. The corporation shall be liable for recording a transfer of such certificates or other securities only if this is done with actual knowledge of a breach of trust or the invalidity of the trust or if it has been enjoined therefrom by a court of competent jursidiction.

SEC. 32. Section 328d of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Transfers to and by foreign executors, etc

328d. Transfers to and by foreign executors, administrators, and guardians. If a certificate for shares or a registered bond or other security of a domestic or foreign corporation standing in the name of a deceased person, or of a minor, ward, or incompetent, not a resident of this State, be presented for transfer, accompanied by letters testamentary, or of administration, or of guardianship, issued by a court of the decedent's, minor's, ward's, or incompetent's domicile, or accompanied by a certified copy thereof, together with such other instrument or order of court or certified copy thereof as may be required under the law of such domicile to authorize a transfer, the shares or bond or other security shall be transferred to the executor or administrator or guardian, or at his order.

Consent of Controller.

No such transfer of shares or other security standing in the name of a deceased person shall be made except on the written consent of the State Controller or person by him authorized to issue such consent under the inheritance tax laws of this State.

SEC. 33. Section 328e of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

328e. Transfers by minors and incompetents. Neither a domestic corporation nor a foreign corporation keeping transfer books in this State shall be or become liable to a minor or incompetent person in whose name shares are of record on its books because of their transfer on its books at the instance of such minor or incompetent or the recognition of or dealing with such minor or incompetent as a shareholder whether or not such corporation shall have had notice, actual or constructive, of the nonage of such minor or of such incompetency. 330.6. Indorsement or delivery effectual in spite of fraud, duress, mistake, revocation, death, incapacity or lack of consideration or authority. The indorsement of a certificate by the person appearing by the certificate to be the owner of the shares represented thereby, or the delivery of a duly indorsed certificate, is effectual except as provided in section 330.7 of this title, though the indorser or transferor— Effect of indorsement

(a) Was induced by fraud, duress or mistake to make the indorsement or delivery; or

(b) Has revoked the delivery of the certificate or the authority given by the indorsement or delivery of the certificate; or

(c) Has died or become legally incapacitated after the indorsement, whether before or after the delivery of the certificate; or

(d) Has received no consideration.

SEC. 35. Section 330.13 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1762.

330.13. Issue of new certificates. Except when a certificate has been lost or destroyed or the shares evidenced by a certificate have been sold for a delinquent assessment or nonpayment of the subscription price, a corporation shall not be compelled to issue a new certificate for shares until the old certificate is surrendered to it. In case any part of the delinquent shares represented by an outstanding certificate are sold or forfeited, such certificate must be surrendered to the corporation before the holder thereof shall be entitled to a new certificate for the unsold or unforfeited shares. Issue of new certificates

SEC. 36. Section 330.24 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1762

330.24. Mutual water companies. Any corporation organized for or engaged in the business of selling, distributing, supplying or delivering water for irrigation purposes, or for domestic use, may provide in its articles or by-laws that water shall be sold, distributed, supplied or delivered only to owners of its shares and that such shares shall be appurtenant to certain lands when the same are described in the certificate issued therefor; and when such certificate is so issued and a certified copy of such articles or by-laws recorded in the office of the Mutual water companies county recorder in the county where such lands are situated the shares of stock shall become appurtenant to the said lands and shall only be transferred therewith, except after sale or forfeiture for delinquent assessments thereon as provided in section 331 of this title.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 37. Section 331 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

See Stats 1933, Ch 928

331. Assessments, how levied. (1) Shares issued by stock corporations are not assessable, except as provided in the articles. If the articles expressly confer such authority upon the corporation or the board of directors, the directors, subject to any limitations contained in the articles, in their discretion may levy and collect assessments upon all shares of any or all classes made subject to assessment by the articles. This authority is additional to that of making calls for the unpaid subscription price of shares.

Assessments, how levied

Nonstock corporations

(2) Nonstock corporations may levy dues or assessments or both upon their members, if such authority be conferred either by the articles or by their by-laws, and subject to any limitations therein contained. Such dues or assessments or both may be levied upon all classes of membership alike, or in different amounts or proportions or upon a different basis upon different classes of membership and memberships of one or more classes may be made exempt from either dues or assessments or both, in the manner and to the extent provided either in the articles or the by-laws.

Amount of levy.

The amount of the levy and method of collection of such dues or assessments or both of nonstock corporations may be fixed in the articles or by-laws, or the articles or by-laws may authorize the board of directors to fix the amount thereof from time to time, and make them payable at such times or intervals, and upon such notice, and by such methods of collection as the directors may prescribe. They may be made enforceable by action or by forfeiture of membership, or both, upon reasonable notice.

Water distributing corporations.

(3) Any corporation organized for or engaged in the business of selling, distributing, supplying or delivering water for irrigation purposes or for domestic use, and which provides in its articles or by-laws that water shall only be sold, distributed, supplied, or delivered to owners of its shares and that such shares shall be appurtenant to certain lands described in the certificate issued therefor, may levy assessments upon its shares, whether or not fully paid, unless provided otherwise in its articles or by-laws. If any shares of any such corporation become delinquent in the payment of assessments, the right to receive water thereon may be denied, and such shares may be sold to pay such delinquent assessments and thereafter may be transferred without said lands as though not appurtenant thereto, and the purchaser or the holder of such shares shall acquire the right to receive the same quantity of water as though such shares had remained appurtenant to said lands, or such shares may be forfeited to the corporation.

SEC. 38. Section 332 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

332. Resolution levying assessment what to specify. Every resolution of a stock corporation levying an assessment must specify the amount thereof, to whom and where payable; fix a day on which the unpaid assessments shall be delinquent, not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of passing the resolution levying the assessment; and fix a day for the sale of delinquent shares not less than fifteen nor more than sixty days from the date on which the shares become delinquent. The resolution also shall fix the hour and place of sale, which place must be in the county where the principal office of the corporation is located. Resolution levying assessment, what to specify.

SEC. 39. Section 333 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

333. Notice of levy and sale. Upon the passing of the resolution levying an assessment by a stock corporation, notice thereof shall be given in substantially the following form: Notice of levy and sale.

(Name of corporation in full. Location of principal office.)

Notice is hereby given that at a meeting of the board of directors held on the (date) an assessment of (amount) per share was levied upon the shares of the corporation payable (to whom and where). Any shares upon which this assessment remains unpaid on the (day fixed) will be delinquent, and unless payment be made prior to delinquency the said shares, or as many of them as may be necessary, will be sold at the (particular place) on the (date) at (the hour) of such day, to pay the delinquent assessment, together with a penalty of five per cent of the amount of the assessment on such shares, or be forfeited to the corporation. (Name of secretary with location of office). Form

SEC. 40. Section 334 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

334. Service of notice. The notice shall be served upon each shareholder personally. In lieu of personal service the notice may be sent through the mail addressed to each shareholder at his last address, as it appears on the books of the corporation, or if it does not appear, at the place where the principal office of the corporation is located, and published once in some newspaper of general circulation published at the city or town of the principal office of the corporation. If there be no newspaper published in the city of the principal office of the corporation, the publication must be made in some newspaper of the county if there be one, or if there be none then in some newspaper published in an adjoining county. Such personal service or service by mail and publication shall be made at least ten days prior to the date of delinquency. Service of notice

SEC. 41. Section 334a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

Lien for assessments

334a. Lien for assessments. The assessment shall be a lien upon the shares assessed from the time of personal service or the publication of the notice of assessment, unless the articles or by-laws provide for such lien from the time of the resolution levying the asssessment. A transfer of the shares on the books after the lien of an assessment has attached shall be a waiver of such lien.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 42. Section 336 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale or forfeiture

336. Sale or forfeiture. At the place and time appointed in the notice of levy and sale, the assistant secretary, secretary or any officer or an attorney of the corporation, shall, unless otherwise ordered by the directors, sell or cause to be sold to the highest bidder for cash as many shares of each delinquent holder of the assessed shares of stock as may be necessary to pay the assessment and charges thereon according to the notice. If payment be made after delinquency and before the sale, the shareholder shall pay a penalty of five per cent of the amount of the assessment on such shares in addition to the assessment. The person offering at such sale to pay the assessment and penalty for the smallest number of shares is the highest bidder, and the shares purchased must be transferred to him on the share register of the corporation on the payment of the assessment and penalty and a new certificate therefor issued to such purchaser. No corporation shall be required to accept an offer for a fraction of a share. If no bidder offer to pay the amount due on the shares, together with the penalty of five per cent thereof, the shares shall be declared forfeited to the corporation in satisfaction of the assessment and penalty thereon. The only remedy for the collection of an assessment on fully paid shares shall be by sale or forfeiture unless the remedy by action is expressly authorized in the original articles or by an amendment of the articles heretofore adopted, or by an amendment hereafter adopted by unanimous consent of the shareholders, and unless a statement of such remedy appears on the face of any share certificate hereafter issued.

SEC. 43. Section 337 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Surrender of old certificate

337. Surrender of old certificate. After a sale or forfeiture of shares for nonpayment of an assessment or of a call for the unpaid balance of the subscription price, the holder or owner of delinquent shares shall surrender his certificate for shares to the corporation for cancellation. This duty may be enforced by order or decree of court and such holder or owner shall be liable for damages to the corporation for failure to surrender the certificate for cancellation upon demand without good cause or excuse. Any certificate not so surrendered forthwith shall become null and void and shall cease to be evidence of the right or title of the holder or any transferee to the shares purporting to be represented thereby and neither the corporation nor the purchaser of such shares shall incur any liability thereon to any such transferee. The purchaser of any shares, at a sale for delinquent assessments thereon, whether heretofore or hereafter made, shall be entitled to the issuance of a new certificate representing the shares so purchased.

SEC. 44. Section 341 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

341. Powers of corporations. Every corporation heretofore or hereafter organized has power: Powers of corporations

(1) To sue and be sued in any court;

(2) To adopt, use and at will alter a corporate seal, but failure to affix a seal shall not affect the validity of any instrument;

(3) To acquire, hold, lease, encumber, convey or otherwise dispose of real and personal property within or without the State and to take real and/or personal property by will, gift or bequest;

(4) To appoint such subordinate officers or agents as its business may require, and to allow them suitable compensation;

(5) To purchase or otherwise acquire its own bonds, debentures or other evidences of its indebtedness or obligations, and subject to the provisions of this title, to purchase or otherwise acquire its own shares;

(6) To assume any obligations, enter into any contracts or do any acts incidental to the transaction of its business or to the issue or sale of its securities, or expedient for the attainment of its corporate purposes;

(7) Subject to the provisions of its articles, to redeem shares thereby made subject to redemption;

(8) To make by-laws;

(9) To borrow money and to issue bonds, debentures, notes, and evidences of indebtedness, and to secure the payment or performance of its obligations by mortgage, deed of trust, pledge or otherwise;

(10) To qualify to do business in any other State, Territory, dependency or foreign country and to conduct business within or without the State;

(11) To acquire, subscribe for, hold, own, pledge and otherwise dispose of and vote and represent shares of stock, bonds and securities of any other corporation, domestic or foreign.

(12) To do any act authorized under this title.

SEC. 45. Section 342 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

342. Acquisition by a corporation of its own shares and shares of a holding corporation. A corporation may not purchase directly or indirectly any shares issued by it or by any corporation by which it is controlled, except as follows: Acquisition by a corporation of its own shares.

(1) To collect or compromise in good faith a debt, claim or controversy with any shareholder;

(2) From shareholders who by reason of dissent from any proposed corporate action are entitled under section 369 of this title to be paid the fair market value of their shares;

(3) From one who as an employee other than as an officer or director has purchased such shares from the corporation under an agreement reserving to the corporation the option to repurchase or obligating it to repurchase such shares;

(4) To eliminate fractional shares;

(5) To redeem or purchase shares subject to redemption at prices not exceeding the redemption price thereof;

(6) To carry out provisions of its articles authorizing conversion of its shares;

(7) Pursuant to section 348b of this title; or

(8) Subject to any limitations contained in its articles, out of earned surplus.

Shares may be acquired either out of stated capital or from any surplus under subdivisions (1) to (5) inclusive of this section. Purchases from earned surplus under subdivision (8) of this section are not limited to cases authorized under other subdivisions of this section.

Upon any purchase of such shares out of earned or paid-in surplus when authorized under this section, the earned or paid-in surplus shall be reduced by an amount equal to the purchase price of such shares, but the stated capital shall not be affected thereby.

A corporation may acquire its own shares or shares of any other corporation, domestic or foreign, by gift or bequest or upon a merger or consolidation with or by distribution of the assets of another corporation, domestic or foreign.

A corporation shall not purchase or redeem shares of any class under this section in any case when there is reasonable ground for believing that the corporation is unable, or, by such purchase or redemption, will be rendered unable, to satisfy its debts and liabilities when they fall due, except such debts and liabilities as have been otherwise adequately provided for. No redemption of shares shall be made if there be reasonable ground for believing that the net assets would be reduced thereby to an amount less than the lowest aggregate liquidation preferences of shares to remain outstanding having prior or equal claims to the assets.

The payment of a debt or liability shall be deemed to have been adequately provided for if the payment thereof shall have been assumed or guaranteed in good faith by a financially responsible person or persons.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit shares being forfeited to a corporation for delinquent assessments or nonpayment of the subscription price thereon.

A corporation shall be deemed to be controlled by another corporation when such other corporation is a holding corporation thereof as defined in this title.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 46. Section 342a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Effect of acquisition of own shares

342a. Effect of acquisition of own shares. When a corporation acquires its shares out of earned surplus, pursuant to subdivisions (1) to (8), inclusive, of section 342, Civil Code, or out of paid-in surplus under subdivisions (1) to (5), inclusive, of section 342, Civil Code or by gift or bequest, or upon the distribution of the assets of another corporation, or upon forfeiture, such shares may be carried as treasury shares or may (at the option of the board of directors) be retired, but no change in the stated capital shall be made either upon the acquisition or retirement of such shares unless proceedings are duly taken to that end under section 348, Civil Code, except that when a corporation acquires its shares by purchase or forfeiture upon which part of the agreed subscription price remains unpaid, the stated capital shall be reduced by the amount unpaid upon such shares without further proceedings.

Out of stated capital.

When a corporation acquires its shares out of stated capital, under subdivisions (1) to (5), inclusive, of section 342, Civil Code, such shares shall be restored to the status of authorized but unissued shares and the stated capital may be reduced by resolution of the board of directors by the amount of stated capital attributable to such shares. The amount of stated capital attributable to a share shall be determined by dividing the stated capital attributed to the class or series of shares to which such shares belong by the number of shares of such class or series outstanding immediately prior to the acquisition of such shares.

Out of surplus

When a corporation acquires its shares out of surplus arising from reduction of stated capital, such surplus shall be reduced by the amount of the purchase price thereof and such shares shall be restored to the status of authorized but unissued shares without reduction of stated capital.

If the articles prohibit the reissue of any shares acquired, then upon their acquisition the authorized number of shares of the class to which such shares belonged shall be reduced by the number of shares so acquired.

Shares of the corporation surrendered to it on the conversion or exchange thereof into or for other shares of the corporation pursuant to authority or provision of the articles, shall, after such conversion or exchange, have the status of authorized but unissued shares, and the stated capital shall remain unchanged thereby and by the issue of the new shares in place of those so retired.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 47. Section 342b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Treasury shares.

342b. Treasury shares. Treasury shares shall not carry voting or dividend rights and shall not be counted as outstanding shares for any purpose, nor as assets for the purpose of computing a surplus available for dividends or the purchase of shares issued by the corporation or the making of any other distributions to its shareholders. Unless otherwise provided in the articles, such shares may be retired and restored to the status of authorized and unissued shares without reduction of stated capital or may be disposed of for such consideration as the board of directors may fix, and the consideration received shall be added to paid-in surplus except as far as needed to write off a deficit of net assets below the amount of stated capital.

Redeemable shares

Redeemable shares which have been acquired from earned surplus and carried as treasury shares may be retired by resolution of the board of directors and stated capital may be reduced thereon as if acquired out of stated capital without proceedings under section 348, Civil Code.

SEC. 48. Section 343 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sale or transfer of entire assets

343. Sale or transfer of entire assets. No corporation may sell, lease, convey, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of its property and assets except under section 344 of this title, unless under authority of a resolution of its board of directors and with the approval of the principal terms of the transaction and the nature and amount of the consideration by vote or written consent of shareholders entitled to exercise a majority of the voting power of such corporation. Such approval may be given before or after the adoption of the resolution by the board of directors, and before or after any such transfer or disposition. Such sale, lease, conveyance, exchange, transfer, or other disposition may be made upon such terms and conditions and for such considerations, which may be money, property, shares of stock and/or other securities of any other corporation or corporations, domestic or foreign, as the board of directors may deem for the best interests of the corporation. The articles may require on such proposal the vote or consent of a larger proportion of the shareholders or the separate vote of a majority or a larger proportion of any class or classes of shareholders.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 49. Section 346 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Cash or property dividends

346. Cash or property dividends. A corporation may declare dividends payable in cash or in property only as follows:

(1) Out of earned surplus; or

(2) Despite the fact that the net assets of the corporation amount to less than the stated capital, out of net profits earned during the preceding accounting period which shall not be less than six months nor more than one year in duration; or

(3) Out of paid-in surplus or surplus arising from reduction of stated capital subject to the provisions of section 348b, Civil Code, only upon shares entitled to preferential dividends; provided that notice shall be given to the shareholders receiving such dividends of the source thereof prior to or concurrently with the payment thereof.

Impaired assets

If the value of the net assets amounts to less, through depreciation, depletion, losses, or otherwise, than the aggregate amount of stated capital attributed to shares having liquidation preferences, the corporation shall not declare dividends out of net profits pursuant to subdivision (2) of this section, except upon such shares, until the value of the net assets has been restored to such aggregate amount of the stated capital attributed to outstanding shares having liquidation preferences.

No dividends shall be declared when there is reasonable ground for believing that thereupon the corporation's debts and liabilities would exceed its assets, or that it would be unable to meet its debts and liabilities as they mature. Dividends

No dividends shall be declared out of the mere appreciation in the value of its assets not yet realized, nor shall any dividends be declared from earned surplus representing profits derived from an exchange of assets unless and until such profits have been realized or unless the assets received are currently realizable in cash.

A wasting asset corporation, that is a corporation engaged solely or substantially in the exploitation of mines, oil wells, gas wells, patents or other wasting assets, or organized solely or substantially to liquidate specific assets, may distribute the net income derived from the exploitation of such wasting assets or the net proceeds derived from such liquidation without making any deduction or allowance for the depletion of such assets incidental to the lapse of time, consumption, liquidation or exploitation; subject, however, to adequate provision for meeting debts and liabilities and the liquidation preferences of outstanding shares and to notice to shareholders that no deduction or allowance has been made for such depletion. Wasting asset corporations.

SEC. 50. Section 346a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p. 1762.

346a. Share dividends. A corporation may declare dividends payable in shares of the corporation only as follows: Share dividends.

(1) Out of earned surplus; or

(2) Out of paid-in surplus and/or surplus arising from reduction of stated capital; provided that notice shall be given to shareholders receiving such dividends of the source thereof prior to or concurrently with payment thereof.

Unrealized appreciation of assets, if any, shall not be included in the computation of surplus available for a dividend in shares.

Upon the declaration of a dividend payable in shares the amount of surplus from which such dividend is declared shall be transferred to stated capital. If a dividend is declared in shares having a par value, the aggregate par value of such shares shall be deducted from the surplus and added to stated capital.

If the dividend is declared in shares without par value, then if such shares are preferred shares they shall be valued at the amount to which such shares are entitled in preference to shares of another class upon involuntary liquidation. If such shares are common shares or have no liquidation preference they shall be valued upon the basis of the estimated fair value of such shares upon issue, as determined and stated by resolution of the board of directors. Upon the declaration of a Nonpar shares dividend payable in shares notice shall be given to the shareholders of the amount per share transferred from surplus and of the particular surplus from which such amount was transferred.

Nothing in this section shall be construed to forbid or limit the power of a corporation to split up or subdivide its shares into a larger number of shares without transferring surplus to stated capital. Upon any such split-up or subdivision of shares into shares without par value, the shareholders shall be given notice of the book value of each share prior and subsequent thereto.

SEC. 51. Section 348 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Reduction of stated capital

348. Reduction of stated capital. A reduction of stated capital may be authorized by a resolution of the board of directors approved by the vote or written consent of the holders of a majority of outstanding shares regardless of limitations or restrictions on voting rights. The resolution of the directors shall set forth the amount of reduction of stated capital and the method by which outstanding par value shares, if any, shall be adjusted to the new stated capital, if any such adjustment be necessary.

Limit.

No such reduction in the stated capital of the corporation shall be made to an amount less than the aggregate par value of all par value shares without liquidation preference to remain outstanding after such reduction and the aggregate amount of the liquidation preferences upon involuntary liquidation of preferred shares with or without par value to remain outstanding after such reduction.

Distribution of surplus resulting from reduction of stated capital 348b. Distribution of surplus resulting from reduction of stated capital. If the amount of stated capital be reduced in any manner permitted by law, including any reduction authorized upon retirement of shares, any surplus resulting therefrom shall be transferred to a reduction surplus account and assets in any amount or amounts not exceeding the amount of such surplus, subject to any limitations contained in the articles, may be distributed or withdrawn only as follows:

Shares· One class

(1) If there be but one class of shares outstanding, a distribution pro rata in cash or in property to the shareholders may be made by the board of directors, or a purchase of any outstanding shares may be authorized by the vote or written consent of the holders of two-thirds of such shares other than those to be purchased.

More than one class.

(2) If there be more than one class of shares outstanding, then with due regard to the relative priorities of the various classes of shares the board of directors may declare dividends on outstanding preferred shares subject to the conditions and restrictions imposed by law on the payment of dividends or may authorize the redemption or purchase of preferred shares subject to redemption at prices not exceeding the redemption price thereof; or may authorize the purchase of preferred shares not subject to redemption upon reasonable and non-discriminatory terms not exceeding the lowest liquidation preference thereof.

No distribution or withdrawal of such reduction surplus may be made under the authority of this section unless the board of directors determine that by such distribution or withdrawal the corporation will not be rendered unable to satisfy its debts and liabilities when they fall due and that the assets of the corporation after such distribution or withdrawal taken at their fair present value will at least equal one and one-quarter times its debts and liabilities. No director shall be held liable to the corporation or any creditor or shareholder thereof for any determination made under this section if he acted in good faith and with reasonable care.

Filing of financial statement before distribution

At least fourteen days before any distribution or withdrawal of such reduction surplus there shall be filed with the Secretary of State a certificate signed and acknowledged by the president or a vice president and also by the treasurer or an assistant treasurer of the corporation stating that the stated capital has been reduced, specifying the amounts from which and to which it has been reduced, the estimated amount of its debts and liabilities, the estimated fair present value of its assets, the amount of the reduction surplus and the amount proposed to be distributed or withdrawn, and stating that the board of directors has determined that by the proposed distribution or withdrawal of such surplus the corporation will not be rendered unable to satisfy its debts and liabilities when they fall due and that the assets of the corporation after such distribution or withdrawal taken at their fair present value will at least equal one and one-quarter times its debts and liabilities.

After such certificate is filed with the Secretary of State, a copy thereof certified by him shall be filed by the corporation in the office of the county clerk in the county in which the corporation has its principal office.

SEC. 53. Section 348a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Adjustment of shares to reduction

348a. Adjustment of shares to reduction. Adjustment of outstanding par value shares to correspond with the stated capital of a corporation as reduced may be effected:

(1) By the voluntary exchange or substitution of par value shares of any class for a different number of shares of the same class or for the same or a different number of shares of another class of a different par value or without par value; or

(2) By the redemption, purchase and/or retirement of shares subject to redemption, purchase and/or retirement in accordance with the provisions of this title; or

(3) By the change of one or more classes of shares from shares having a specified par value into shares having a lesser specified par value or into shares without par value, pursuant to amendment of the articles.

Stats 1931, p 1762

(4) In any other way not repugnant to law.

Inspection of corporate records.

SEC. 54. Section 355 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

355. Inspection of corporate records. The share register or duplicate share register, the books of account, and minutes of proceedings of the shareholders and the board of directors and of executive committees of the directors of every domestic corporation and of foreign corporations keeping any such records in this State, shall be open to inspection upon the written demand of any member or shareholder or holder of a voting trust certificate at any reasonable time, and for a purpose reasonably related to his interests as a shareholder or as the holder of such voting trust certificate, and shall be exhibited at any time when required by the demand of ten per cent of the shares represented at any shareholders' meeting.

Such inspection may be made in person or by agent or attorney, and includes the right to make extracts. The right of the shareholders to inspect the corporate records may not be limited in the articles or by-laws.

Demand of inspection other than at a shareholders' meeting shall be made in writing upon the president, secretary, assistant secretary or general manager of the corporation.

New section

SEC. 55. A new section is hereby added to the Civil Code, to be numbered section 356, and to read as follows:

Director's right to information

356. Director's right to information concerning corporation and its subsidiary corporations. Every director shall have the absolute right at any reasonable time to inspect all books, records, documents of every kind and the physical properties of the corporation, domestic or foreign, of which he is a director, and also of its subsidiary corporations, domestic or foreign. In the case of foreign corporations the right given by this section shall extend only to such books, records, documents and properties of such corporations as are kept or located in this State.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 56. Section 357 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Investigation by order of court

357. Investigation by order of court. Upon refusal of a lawful demand for inspection or upon petition of the holders of ten per cent (10%) of the issued and outstanding shares, the superior court of the county in which the principal office or in which the records are located may enforce the right of inspection with just and proper conditions, or may appoint one or more competent inspectors or accountants to audit the books and records kept in the State, and to investigate the property, funds and affairs of any domestic corporation or any foreign corporation keeping records in this State and of any subsidiary corporation thereof, domestic or foreign, keeping records in this State, and to report thereon in such manner as the court may direct.

It shall be the duty of all officers and agents of the corporation to produce to the inspectors or accountants so appointed all books and documents in their custody or power, under penalty of punishment for contempt of court.

All expenses of the investigation or audit shall be defrayed by the applicant unless the court shall order them to be paid or shared by the corporation.

SEC. 57. Section 358 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762

358. Annual report. The board of directors of every stock corporation shall cause to be sent to the shareholders not later than one hundred twenty days after the close of the fiscal or calendar year an annual report unless such report be expressly dispensed with in the by-laws. Annual report

Such annual report shall include a balance sheet as of such closing date and a statement of income or profit and loss for the year ended on such closing date. Such financial statement shall be prepared from the books and shall be in accordance therewith and shall be certified by the president, secretary, treasurer, or a public accountant, and shall be prepared in a form sanctioned by sound accounting practice for the particular kind of business carried on by the corporation. Contents

Such balance sheet itself or comments accompanying it shall set forth (1) the bases employed in stating the valuation of the assets and any changes in such bases during the preceding year; (2) the amount of the surplus, the sources thereof and any changes therein during the past year; (3) the number of shares of each class of stock authorized and outstanding and the number of shares, if any, carried as treasury shares, the cost thereof and the source from which such cost was paid; (4) the amounts, if any, of loans or advances to or from officers, shareholders and employees. Balance sheet.

Such statement of income or profit and loss shall be of such form as to disclose the amount of income or loss, in such classification as may be appropriate to the business of the corporation, and the additions thereto and deductions therefrom, setting forth in particular the amounts of depreciation, depletion, amortization, interest and extraordinary income or charges, whether or not included in operating income, and the amount and nature of income from subsidiary corporations. Statement of income.

The balance sheet of a holding corporation may be either its separate balance sheet or a consolidated balance sheet of the holding corporation and its subsidiary corporations. If not consolidated, it shall show as separate items the aggregate amount of the investment in shares of subsidiary corporations, the aggregate indebtedness of the holding corporation to subsidiary corporations, the aggregate indebtedness of subsidiary corporations to the holding corporation, and how and in what amounts the profits or losses of subsidiary corporations have been taken into the accounts of the holding corporation. If consolidated, the balance sheet shall state or be accompanied by a statement of the name of each subsidiary corporation and shall be accompanied by a separate balance sheet of the Form of balance sheet.

holding corporation, which separate balance sheet shall contain the same information as though it were not accompanied by a consolidated balance sheet.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 58. Section 359 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Financial statement to shareholders

359. Financial statement to shareholders. Shareholders holding at least ten per cent of the number of shares of any corporation other than a bank, a building and loan association, an insurance company, a public utility, or a nonprofit corporation, may make a written request to the secretary, and assistant secretary or treasurer of the corporation for a statement of its affairs in case no full or adequate statement has been given in written form to its shareholders within the preceding six months.

Form

The statement shall be in the form prescribed for the annual report in so far as such form may be applicable to a balance sheet at a date other than the end of the fiscal year and to a statement of income and profit or loss for a period less than a full fiscal year. The balance sheet shall be as of the end of the calendar month preceding the date of receipt of the written request and the statement of income and profit or loss shall be for the period between the end of the preceding fiscal year and the end of said preceding calendar month. The statement shall be certified to by the president, secretary, treasurer or a public accountant and shall be delivered or mailed to the person or persons making the request within thirty days thereafter, and a copy thereof shall be kept on file in the principal office of the corporation for twelve months, and at all reasonable times shall be exhibited to any shareholder demanding an examination thereof or a copy thereof shall be mailed to such shareholder. Except upon order of court for good cause shown, the corporation shall not be required to prepare more than one such statement in any one period of six months. The superior court shall enforce the duty of the making and mailing or delivering of the financial statements required by sections 358 and 359 and, for good cause shown, may extend the time therefor.

The corporation, upon the written request of any shareholder, shall mail to him a copy of the last annual, semiannual or quarterly profit and loss statement and balance sheet, together with a copy of the certificate, if any, of the company's auditors on said statement and balance sheet.

Applicable to foreign corporations.

This section shall also apply to foreign corporations having the principal place for the transaction of their business in this State or customarily holding meetings of their boards of directors therein.

Stats. 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 59. Section 361 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Merger and consolidation of corporations

361. Merger and consolidation of corporations. Any two or more corporations may be (a) merged into one of such constituent corporations, which is herein designated as "the surviving corporation," or (b) consolidated into a new corporation, which is herein designated as "the consolidated corporation," as follows:

(1) The board of directors of each corporation by resolution shall approve an agreement which shall set forth the terms and conditions of merger or consolidation, and the mode of carrying the same into effect, as well as the manner and basis of converting the shares of the constituent corporations into the shares of the consolidated or surviving corporation. The agreement also may provide for the distribution of cash, property, or securities, in whole or in part, in lieu of shares, to shareholders of the constituent corporations or any class of them; provided, however, that upon such distribution of cash, property or securities, the liabilities of the consolidated or surviving corporation, including those derived by it from the constituent corporations, plus the amount of the stated capital of the consolidated or surviving corporation, shall not exceed the value of the assets of such consolidated or surviving corporation. Approval by board

If the agreement be for a consolidation, it shall state the matters required to be stated in articles of incorporation, and these statements shall be deemed to be the articles of the new or consolidated corporation. Statements in agreement

If the agreement be for a merger, it shall state any matters with respect to which the articles of the surviving corporation are amended, and the articles shall be deemed to be amended accordingly upon the filing thereof with the Secretary of State.

(2) The agreement shall be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary of each corporation, and acknowledged by the officers executing the same on behalf of their respective corporations. Signatures.

(3) The agreement must be approved by the vote of the holders of not less than two-thirds of the issued and outstanding shares of each class, even though their right to vote be otherwise restricted or denied, of each of the constituent corporations, at a meeting duly called upon notice of the time, place and purpose thereof, duly given to each shareholder at least twenty days prior to the date of such meeting. There shall be mailed with the notice of such meeting a statement of the general terms of the proposed agreement. Different series of the same class of shares shall not be construed to constitute different classes of shares for the purposes of voting by classes. Approval by shareholders.

The approval of the shareholders may be given either before or after the approval of the agreement by the board of directors

After such approval by the directors and shareholders has been given, the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary of each corporation shall execute a certificate, which shall be verified by their oath and shall set forth: Certificate, contents.

(a) The time and place of the meeting of the board of directors;

(b) A copy of the resolution adopted thereat;

(c) The vote in favor of such resolution;

(d) The time and place of the meeting of the shareholders, and the total vote of each class of shares by which the agreement was approved;

(e) The total number of outstanding shares of each class;

(f) A statement of the mailing of the notice of the time, place and purpose of the meeting of the shareholders.

Amendments to agreement.

(4) Any amendment to the agreement may be adopted, and the agreement so amended may be approved, by like vote at such meeting of any of the constituent corporations, and if the agreement so amended be approved by like vote at such meeting and by the board of directors of each of the constituent corporations, the agreement so amended shall be signed and acknowledged and shall have certified therewith the approval of the directors and of the shareholders in the same manner as provided for the original agreement, and shall then be considered the merging or consolidating agreement.

Filing of agreement.

(5) The agreement so approved, executed and acknowledged and the certificates of its approval shall be filed with the Secretary of State, and shall thereupon become effective, and the several parties thereto shall be one corporation. A copy of said agreement, certified by the Secretary of State, shall be filed with the county clerks of the counties in which the principal office of each corporation is located and a copy of said agreement so certified shall be filed in the office of the county clerk of each county in which each corporation holds real property. A copy of such agreement or of a certified copy thereof certified by any official having custody thereof shall have the same force in evidence as the original, and, except as against the State, shall be conclusive evidence of the performance of all conditions precedent to such consolidation or merger, and the creation or existence of the consolidated or surviving corporation.

Surplus.

(6) The surplus appearing on the books of the constituent corporations, to the extent to which it is not capitalized by the issue of shares or otherwise, may be entered as earned or paid-in surplus, as the case may be, on the books of the consolidated or surviving corporation, and may thereafter be dealt with as such.

Separate existence

(7) Upon the merger or consolidation, as provided herein, the separate existence of the constituent corporations shall cease, except that of the surviving corporation in case of merger, and the consolidated or surviving corporation shall succeed, without other transfer, to all the rights and property of each of the constituent corporations, and shall be subject to all the debts, and liabilities of each, in the same manner as if the surviving or consolidated corporation had itself incurred them.

Creditors' rights

All rights of creditors and all liens upon the property of each of said former corporations shall be preserved unimpaired, limited in lien to the property affected by such liens immediately prior to the time of the consolidation or merger.

Any action or proceeding pending by or against any of such constituent corporations may be prosecuted to judgment, which shall bind the consolidated or the surviving corporation, or the consolidated or surviving corporation may be proceeded against or substituted in their place.

The directors of the corporation may, in their discretion, abandon such merger or consolidation subject to the rights of third parties under any contracts relating thereto, without further action or approval by the shareholders of the corporation, at any time before the merger or consolidation has been completed.

SEC. 60. Section 362 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 1762.

362. Amendment of articles. By complying with the following provisions, a corporation may amend its articles for any or all of the following purposes: Amendment of articles.

(1) To adopt a new name, subject to the restrictions contained in section 291 of the Civil Code; Purposes.

(2) To change or add to its powers or purposes; or to set forth different or additional powers or purposes;

(3) To change the location of its principal office or place of business to any other county or city and county within the State; but no amendment need be made to change the principal office from one location to another in the same county or city and county;

(4) To change the authorized number of directors or to state the authorized number of directors as changed by amendment of the by-laws or other lawful proceeding, or to limit or forbid change thereof by the by-laws;

(5) To increase or decrease the authorized number of its shares of any class, issued or unissued, or the par value thereof; or to increase or decrease the authorized number of shares of any series, issued or unissued;

(6) To provide for the classification of its shares, or for the subdivision of any class or classes of shares into series, in which event there must be set forth a statement of the number of shares of each class or series and of the preferences, privileges and restrictions granted to or imposed upon the respective classes or series of shares and/or upon the holders thereof;

(7) To change the statement, as to shares issued or unissued, of the classification of shares and/or of the subdivision of any class of shares into series, and/or of the preferences, rights, privileges or restrictions of the shares of any class or series, or to repeal such statement of classification of shares, or of the subdivision of any class of shares into series;

(8) To authorize the board of directors, within limitations and restrictions stated in the amendment, to fix or alter, from time to time, the dividend rate or the redemption or liquidation price of any class or of any series of any class, or the number of shares constituting any series of any class or all classes or any of them, in respect of shares then unissued;

(9) To change shares having par value into the same or a different number of shares without par value; to increase or reduce the par value of shares; to change shares without par value into the same or a different number of shares with or without any par value;

(10) To create classes of par value shares together with classes of shares without par value, or to create classes of shares of different par values, or to restrict, limit, create or enlarge the voting rights of certain classes of shares, or to grant to any class or classes of shares preemptive rights to subscribe for shares, or to enlarge or restrict or revoke existing preemptive rights of any class or classes of shares;

(11) To readopt and restore any provision of its articles which has been superseded or changed by any certificate, instrument or proceeding pursuant to law.

(12) Generally, to add to, omit from, remove or otherwise alter the provisions thereof in any respect lawful at the time of the amendment and not inconsistent with the law under which the corporation exists.

No corporation shall amend its articles to alter the statements which appear in the original articles of the names and addresses of the first directors or of the number of shares subscribed and by whom.

No amendment changing the aggregate par value of par value shares or the number of shares without par value shall affect the stated capital of a corporation.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 61. Section 362a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Proceedings to amend articles

362a. Proceedings to amend articles. Amendments of the articles may be adopted as follows:

(1) Before any shares have been issued or subscriptions for shares other than those set forth in the articles have been accepted or before any members of a nonstock corporation have been admitted other than the incorporators, any amendment may be adopted by a writing signed by two-thirds of the incorporators of any such corporation.

(2) After any shares have been issued or subscriptions for shares have been accepted or members have been admitted by a nonstock corporation other than the incorporators, amendments may be adopted by resolution of the board of directors and the vote or written consent of shareholders holding at least a majority of the voting power given either before or after the adoption of the resolution of the board of directors.

Purposes To change preferences, etc.

If the purpose of an amendment be to change the preferences or restrictions of any class or series of outstanding shares or to authorize the corporation to levy assessments on fully paid shares, such amendment must be approved by resolution of the board of directors and by the vote or consent of the holders of at least two-thirds of the outstanding shares of each class regardless of limitations or restrictions on the voting power thereof. Different series or subdivisions of the same class of shares shall not be construed to constitute different classes of shares for the purpose of voting or consent by classes except when such series is adversely affected by an amendment in a different manner than other shares of the same class.

To reduce number of directors

If the purpose of an amendment be to reduce the authorized number of directors of a stock corporation below five such amendment must be approved by resolution of the board of directors and by the vote or consent of the holders of more than eighty per cent of the voting shares.

The resolution of the board of directors and the resolution or consents of such shareholders approving any amendment, or the writing signed by the incorporators, shall establish the wording of the amendment or amended articles by providing that the articles shall be amended to read as therein set forth in full, or that any provision thereof, which shall be identified by the numerical or other designation given it in the articles or by stating the wording thereof, shall be amended to read as set forth in full in such resolution or consent and/or that the matter therein stated shall be added to or stricken from the articles.

Stats 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 62. Section 362b of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Certificate of amendment. Filing

362b. Certificate of amendment. Upon the adoption of any amendment to the articles a certificate stating the manner of its adoption shall be filed as follows: In case of an amendment adopted by the incorporators the certificate shall state that the signers thereof constitute at least two-thirds of the incorporators and that they adopt the amendment therein set forth, and in the case of a stock corporation that it has issued no shares and accepted no subscriptions therefor since the filing of its articles with the Secretary of State or in the case of a nonstock corporation that it has admitted no members other than the incorporators. The certificate shall be signed by at least two-thirds of the incorporators and shall be verified by the oath of each signer thereof.

Contents

In case of an amendment adopted by the shareholders or by the directors or by the board of directors and shareholders, the certificate shall be signed by the president or a vice president and the secretary or an assistant secretary and shall be verified by their oaths. The certificate shall set forth a copy of the resolution of the board of directors, if required, the time and place of the meeting of the shareholders and a copy of the resolution adopted thereat, if the vote or consent of the shareholders be required, and the total vote by which the amendment was approved or adopted, or, if the approval or adoption was by written consent, the number of shares or members consenting thereto and a copy of the form of written consent, and the total number of shares or members entitled to vote on or consent to the adoption of such amendment; provided, however, if the amendment be required to be adopted by the vote of different classes of shares, the certificate, in addition to the foregoing requirements, shall state the total number of outstanding shares of each class and the number of shares of each class consenting to or voting in favor of the resolution amending the articles.

The certificate shall be submitted to the Secretary of State, who shall file the same and put an indorsement of filing thereon if he find that it shows a compliance with the provisions of the law. Thereupon the articles of incorporation shall be deemed amended in accordance with such certificate and a copy of such certificate, certified by the Secretary of State, shall be prima facie evidence of the performance of the conditions necessary to the adoption of such amendment.

Filing of copy

A copy of said certificate certified by the Secretary of State shall be filed with the county clerk of the county in which the principal office of the corporation is located and of every county in which the corporation holds real property.

Stats 1933, Ch 432.

SEC. 63. Section 362c of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Extension of existence

362c. Extension of existence. Every corporation formed under the laws of this State for a limited period may at any time prior to the expiration of the term of its corporate existence extend such term by an amendment to its articles or certificate of incorporation removing any provision limiting the term of its existence and providing for perpetual existence. Such amendment may be made if adopted either by the vote or written consent of shareholders or members holding at least a majority of the voting power or by resolution of the board of directors adopted by a two-thirds majority of the members of the board, and a certificate of amendment shall be made setting forth the vote or consent by which the amendment was adopted, in the manner and with the effect prescribed by section 362b of this code. This section shall apply to all corporations organized either before or since this code took effect and whether the corporations organized before have heretofore elected or shall hereafter elect to continue their existence under this code or not.

Stats. 1931, p 1762

SEC. 64. Section 363 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful dividends, purchases and distribution

363. Unlawful dividends, purchases and distribution. Except as provided in this title, the directors of a corporation shall not authorize or ratify the purchase by it of its shares or declare or pay dividends or authorize or ratify the withdrawal or distribution of any part of its assets among its shareholders.

Liability of directors.

In case of any wilful or negligent violation of the provisions of this section, the directors under whose administration the same shall have happened, except those who may have caused their dissent therefrom to be entered on the minutes of the meeting at which such action was authorized, or who were not present at the time the board acted, shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation or to its receiver, liquidator or trustee in bankruptcy for the benefit of the creditors of the corporation or any of them and of the shareholders and owners of shares at the time of such violation, for its debts and liabilities existing at the time of such violation, and for the full amount of any loss sustained by such holders and owners of shares other than shares upon which any such payment or distribution was made, in any such case not exceeding the amount of such unlawful dividends, purchase price, withdrawal or other distribution.

Action by creditor

Any judgment creditor of the corporation, or two or more such creditors, if the debt or claim arose prior to the time of such violation, may sue the corporation and any or all of its directors in one action and recover judgment for the amount due such creditors or claimants from the corporation against any or all of such directors guilty of any such violation up to the amount of such unlawful dividends, purchase price, withdrawal or other distribution. An action against such directors for any such violation may be brought by the corporation or by its receiver, liquidator or trustee in bankruptcy for the benefit of all of such creditors, owners of shares and shareholders without the necessity of any prior judgment against the corporation, for the recovery of the amount of such dividends, purchase price, withdrawal or other distribution as far as needed to satisfy such debts and liabilities and the full amount of loss sustained by such shareholders.

Reimbursement and contribution

Any and all directors who satisfy a judgment or claim against the corporation or other liability under this section shall have a right of reimbursement and contribution against any and all shareholders who received any dividend, purchase price, withdrawal or distribution with knowledge of facts indicating that it was not authorized by this title, and such shareholders shall pay or contribute in proportion to the amounts received by them respectively, unless they have returned such amount to the corporation.

Except in case of participation in a fraud, any director who satisfies more than his share of a claim asserted under or pursuant hereto, shall be entitled to contribution from other directors who are liable, pro rata according to the number of such directors. Any number of directors may be sued in the same action.

When directors not liable

A director shall not be held to have been negligent within the meaning of this section if he relied and acted in good faith upon a balance sheet or profit and loss statement of the corporation furnished or exhibited to him by the president or the officer of the corporation having charge of or supervision of its accounts, or certified to be correct and according to the books of the corporation by a public accountant or firm of public accountants selected with reasonable care.

SEC. 65. Section 364 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Improper dividend

364. Improper dividends. Any shareholder or owner of shares who receives any dividend not authorized by this title with knowledge of facts indicating the impropriety thereof shall be liable to the corporation or to its receiver, liquidator or trustee in bankruptcy for the amount so received by him with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum until paid in the event that the corporation is adjudged insolvent or bankrupt in any action or proceeding begun within one year after the receipt of such dividend. Any number of shareholders may be sued in the same action.

Stats 1931, p 1762

SEC. 66. Section 365 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unauthorized sale of shares

365. Unauthorized sale of shares. When a corporation, in violation of any provision of this title, purchases shares issued by it, any shareholder or owner of shares who sells such shares knowing that the corporation is the purchaser with knowledge of facts indicating the impropriety of such purchase shall be liable to the corporation or its receiver, liquidator or trustee in bankruptcy to the extent of the payments received therefor and for the unpaid balance of the subscription price due thereon, if any, in the event that the corporation is adjudged insolvent or bankrupt in any action or proceeding begun within one year after such purchase.

Stats. 1931, p 1762.

SEC. 67. Section 366 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Loans to and guaranties of the obligations of officers, shareholders or others

366. Loans to and guaranties of the obligations of officers, shareholders or others. No corporation or any of its subsidiary corporations shall make any loan of money or property to or guarantee the obligation of (a) any director or officer of any such corporations, directly or indirectly, (b) or any person upon the security of the shares of any such corporations; provided that any such loan or guaranty may be made by the vote or written consent of the holders of two-thirds of the shares of all classes regardless of limitations on voting rights, other than the shares held by the benefited director, officer or shareholder.

If any such loan or guaranty be made without such vote or written consent of the shareholders, the directors, officer or officers of any such corporation who authorize it or assent thereto shall be jointly and severally liable to the corporation as guarantors for the repayment or return of the sum or value so loaned with interest thereon at the rate of six per cent per annum until paid, or for any liability upon such guaranty.

Contribution.

Any officer or director held liable under this section who satisfies any such liability shall be entitled to contribution from any other officer or director who participates in authorizing, making or allowing any such loan or guaranty, and shall be subrogated to any and all rights of the corporation against the borrower or principal obligor.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to banks, building and loan associations, industrial loan companies or credit unions or to loans permitted under any statute regulating any special class of corporations.

SEC. 68. Section 368 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Penalty for failure to comply with various requirements.

368. Penalty for failure to comply with various requirements. Every corporation which neglects, fails, or refuses (a) to keep or cause to be kept or maintained the share register or the books of account required by this title to be kept or maintained; or (b) to prepare or cause to be prepared or submitted the financial statements required by this title to be prepared or submitted, shall be subject to a penalty of ten dollars for each day up to a maximum of one thousand dollars, beginning thirty days after receipt of written request that such duty be performed from one entitled to make the same, that such failure or refusal continues, to be paid to the shareholder or shareholders jointly making such request therefor and damaged thereby, if suit therefor be commenced within ninety days after making such written request; provided, however, that the maximum daily penalty hereunder because of failure to comply with any number of separate requests made on any one day or for the same act shall be one hundred dollars.

If any officer of a corporation charged with the duty of entering a transfer of shares upon the books of the corporation and issuing a share certificate unreasonably neglects, fails or refuses to perform such duty after written request by any person entitled thereto, he shall be subject to a penalty of $100 and the further penalty of $10 for each day beginning five days after such request that such default shall continue, up to a maximum of $500, to be paid to each such person aggrieved, which penalty shall be enforced by action and shall be in addition to all other remedies. Every director or other officer unreasonably causing such neglect, failure or refusal to make such entries upon the books of the corporation or to issue a certificate for shares to a person entitled thereto shall be subject to a like penalty.

Any penalty prescribed by this section shall be in addition to any remedy by injunction or action for damages or by writ of mandate for the nonperformance of acts and duties enjoined by law upon the corporation or its directors or officers.

The court in which an action for any such penalty is brought may reduce, remit or suspend such penalty on such terms and conditions as it may deem reasonable when it is made to appear that the neglect, failure or refusal was inadvertent or excusable.

SEC. 69. Section 369 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Compensation of dissenting shareholders. Demand.

369. Compensation of dissenting shareholders.

(1) In the event that the requisite number of shareholders of a corporation approve its merger or consolidation with another corporation, domestic or foreign, then any holder of voting or nonvoting shares who shall not have approved such merger or consolidation at the meeting at which the same was approved may make written demand upon the corporation of which he is a shareholder for the payment to him of the fair market value of his shares. Such value shall be determined as of the day before the vote of the shareholders approving such action, excluding any appreciation or depreciation in consequence of such proposed action.

Contents of demand.

(2) Such demand must be received by the corporation or any transfer agent thereof within thirty days after the date on which the notice of the approval by the shareholders was mailed to the shareholder. Such demand shall state the number and class of the shares held of record by such shareholder in respect of which he claims relief, and shall contain a request that the corporation state what it claims to be the fair market value of such shares as of the day before the vote of the shareholders approving the merger or consolidation.

Submission of certificates for shares.

(3) Within said period of thirty days the shareholder shall submit to the corporation at its principal office or at the office of any transfer agent thereof his certificates for shares in respect to which he claims such relief, to be stamped or indorsed with a statement that such shares are dissenting shares. Upon subsequent transfers of such shares on the books of the corporation the new certificates issued therefor shall bear a like statement together with the name of the original dissenting holder of said shares.

Dissenting shares and shareholders

(4) The terms "dissenting shares" and "dissenting shareholders" as used herein refer to shares and the holders thereof of record where the steps mentioned in the above paragraphs have been taken with reference to such shares and shall include transferees of record. Holders of dissenting shares shall continue to have all the rights and privileges incident to their shares save as expressly limited by this section, until such time as the fair market value of their shares be agreed upon or determined. A dissenting shareholder may not withdraw his dissent or demand for payment unless the corporation by its board of directors shall consent thereto.

Offers to purchase.

(5) Within five days after receipt of a copy of such demand, the corporation shall deliver or mail to the holder of dissenting shares at his last known address, a written offer to pay for such shares at a price or prices deemed by the corporation to represent such fair market value if such shareholder be entitled to relief. If the corporation and the holder of dissenting shares agree upon the price of such shares, the dissenting shareholder shall be entitled to such price with interest thereon at the rate of seven per cent per annum from the date of the agreement. Any agreements fixing the fair market value of any dissenting shares as between the corporation and the holders thereof shall be filed with the secretary of the corporation.

Acceptance

Action to determine value.

(6) If any dissenting shareholder shall fail to agree with the corporation upon such fair market value, then such dissenting shareholder if he first shall have complied with the conditions provided in paragraphs (2) and (3) of this section, or any interested corporation, within six months after the date on which notice of the approval by the shareholders was mailed to the shareholder, but not thereafter, may file a complaint in the superior court of the county in which such corporation has its principal office praying the court to determine such fair market value of the dissenting shares, or may intervene in any pending action for the appraisal of any dissenting shares. If such complaint be not filed or intervention made within such period as to any dissenting shares the purchase price of which has not been agreed upon, then such shares shall lose their dissenting status and be deemed to be assenting shares.

Parties

(7) Two or more dissenting shareholders may join as plaintiffs or be joined as defendants in any such action and two or more such actions may be consolidated. Dissenting shareholders may intervene in any pending action for the appraisal of any dissenting shares.

Judgment.

(8) On the trial of the action, the court shall determine whether the dissenting shareholder is entitled to relief, and if the court shall so find, the court shall determine or shall appoint three impartial appraisers to determine, the fair market value of said shares.

Appraisers.

(9) The appraisers forthwith shall proceed to determine said fair market value per share, and said appraisers, or a majority of them, shall make a report within the time fixed by the court, and shall file such report in the office of the clerk of the court, whereupon, on the motion of any party, said report shall be submitted to the court and considered on such evidence as the court may consider relevant, and if said award be found to be reasonable and be confirmed by the court, judgment shall be rendered against the corporation for payment of an amount equal to the fair market value of each share multiplied by the number of dissenting shares in respect of which the court shall have found any dissenting shareholder who is a party, or who has intervened, is entitled to relief, with interest thereon at seven per cent per annum from date on which judgment was rendered.

(10) If such appraisers be not appointed, or a majority of them fail to make and file a report within ten days, or within such further time as may be allowed by the court, or the award be not confirmed by the court, the court shall determine the fair market value of said dissenting shares and render judgment therefor as aforesaid.

(11) Any such judgment shall be payable only upon the endorsement and delivery to the corporation of the certificates for the shares described in the judgment. Any party shall have the right of appeal from such judgment.

Appeal.

Costs

(12) The costs of the action, including reasonable compensation to the appraisers to be fixed by the court, shall be assessed or apportioned as the court may consider equitable, but if the appraisal exceed the price offered by the corporation, the corporation shall pay such costs.

Time for payment

(13) Payment of the fair market value of dissenting shares shall be made within thirty days after the amount thereof has been agreed upon upon surrender of the certificates therefor unless provided otherwise by agreement.

Disposition of cash dividends

(14) Cash dividends paid by the corporation upon the dissenting shares after the day on which the vote was taken and prior to payment for such shares by the corporation shall be credited upon the total amount to be paid by the corporation therefor. Any share dividends declared after the shares become dissenting shares shall be treated as part of the dissenting shares.

Abandonment of merger or consolidation.

(15) The right of a dissenting shareholder to relief hereunder shall cease if and when the corporation shall abandon the merger or consolidation entitling the dissenting shareholder to relief. Upon abandonment of the merger or consolidation any dissenting shareholders who have initiated proceedings in good faith under this section shall be entitled to recover from the corporation all necessary expenses incurred in such proceedings and reasonable attorneys fees.

Exemptions

(16) This section shall not apply to classes of shares whose terms and provisions specifically set forth the amount to be paid in respect to said shares in the event of consolidation or merger.

Limitation

(17) The rights and remedies of any shareholder at law or in equity to object to or litigate as to any such merger or consolidation shall be and are hereby limited to the right to receive the fair market value of his shares in the manner and upon the terms and conditions provided in this section, except actions to test whether the number of legal votes of shareholders required by statute to authorize or approve the proposed action of the corporation has been given.

(18) If litigation be instituted to test the sufficiency or regularity of the votes of the shareholders in authorizing such merger or consolidation, the proceedings for compensation of any dissenting shareholder shall be suspended until final determination of such litigation.

SEC. 70. Section 370a of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Proof of existence of foreign corporations.

370a. Proof of existence of foreign corporations. In any action or proceeding, civil or criminal, in any court of this State, a copy of the articles or certificate of incorporation or other incorporation papers of a foreign corporation purporting to be duly certified by the Secretary of State or other competent official of the State, government, territory or country under the laws of which such corporation purports to be incorporated or the original of any such instrument, or copies of such certified copies duly certified, shall be admitted in evidence by all courts and shall be prima facie evidence of the incorporation, existence and powers of such corporation.

Certified copies of such instruments filed in the county clerk's office in the county where such foreign corporation held or holds real property shall be conclusive evidence of the incorporation and powers of such corporation in favor of any bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer of such property for value, whether the corporation be doing business in this State or not.

SEC. 71. Section 373 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1931, p 1762.

373. Designation of person upon whom process may be served. Every domestic corporation may file with the Secretary of State a designation of a natural person, stating his residence or business address in this State, as its agent for the purpose of service of process, and the delivery to such agent of a copy of any process against such corporation shall constitute valid service on such corporation. Such corporation shall file with the Secretary of State notice of any change in the address of the person thus designated, and may revoke any such designation by filing notice of the revocation thereof with the Secretary of State. Designation of person upon whom process may be served.

If such designation has not been filed with the Secretary of State, and if personal service of process against such domestic corporation can not be made with the exercise of due diligence in any other manner provided by law and the fact appears by affidavit to the satisfaction of the court or a judge thereof, such court or judge may make an order that the service be made upon such corporation by delivering to the Secretary of State, or to any person employed in his office in the capacity of assistant or deputy, one copy of such process for each defendant to be served. Service in such manner shall be and constitute personal service upon such corporation. Upon the receipt of such copy of process, the Secretary of State shall give notice of the service of such process to the corporation at its principal office in this State, by forwarding to such office, by registered mail with request for return receipt, such copy of such process. The defendant shall appear and answer within thirty days after delivery of such process to the Secretary of State. Service when no designation.

The Secretary of State shall keep a record of all process served upon him under this title, and shall record therein the time of such service and his action with reference thereto. Record of process served

This section shall not apply to banks, trust companies, insurance companies or any corporation subject to the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission.

SEC. 72. Section 399 of the Civil Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1931, p 1762.

399. Continuation of corporation after dissolution. A corporation which is dissolved by the expiration of its term of existence, by forfeiture of existence by order of court, or otherwise, nevertheless shall continue to exist for the purpose of winding up its affairs, prosecuting and defending actions by or against it, and enabling it to collect and discharge obligations, dispose of and convey its property, and collect and divide its assets, but not for the purpose of continuing business except in so far as necessary for the winding up thereof. No action or proceeding to which a corporation is a party shall Continuation of corporation after dissolution.

abate by the dissolution of such corporation or by reason of proceedings for dissolution and winding up thereof.

Any assets inadvertently or otherwise omitted from the winding up shall continue in the dissolved corporation for the benefit of the persons entitled thereto upon dissolution of the corporation, and on realization shall be distributed accordingly.
