Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In view of the present world crisis it is imperative that the Legislature have the assistance of competent employees and attaches to assist it in its work. The per diem rates set by previous Legislatures are no longer adequate to attract such competent assistants. Consequently, it is imperative that this act be adopted immediately in order that it may be expressly declared in the law that each house of the Legislature can itself, by resolution, set the rate of pay of its own employees and attaches, so that adequate number of competent personnel may be secured without which the Legislature will be unable to function.

CHAPTER 3

An act making an appropriation for the mileage of the members and statutory officers of the Senate, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor January 8, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State January 8, 1943.]

An act to amend Section 961 of the Code of Civil Procedure and Section 1247k of the Penal Code, relating to rules on appeal prescribed by the Judicial Council, extending the time for the reporting of such rules and the time of taking effect thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor January 14, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State January 14, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 961 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read: Stats 1941, p 1785

961. The Judicial Council shall have the power to prescribe by rules for the practice and procedure on appeal, and for the time and manner in which the records on such appeals shall be made up and filed, in all civil actions and proceedings in all courts of this State. Rules of procedure in civil appeals

The Judicial Council shall report the rules prescribed by it to the Legislature on or before March 31, 1943. Report

The rules reported as aforesaid shall take effect on July 1, 1943, and thereafter all laws in conflict therewith shall be of no further force or effect. When rules effective

SEC. 2. Section 1247k of the Penal Code is amended to read: Stats 1941 p. 1945

1247k. The Judicial Council shall have the power to prescribe by rules for the practice and procedure on appeal, and for the time and manner in which the records on such appeals shall be made up and filed, in all criminal cases in all courts of this State. Rules of procedure in criminal appeals immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The entry of the United States into the war in which we are now engaged has resulted in loss of personnel to the Judicial Council, and consequent interruptions of the work of preparation of the rules on appeal authorized and directed by the sections amended by this act. Although proposed rules have been prepared, there has not been opportunity for them to receive the careful study by members of the bench and the bar which they merit. If these rules are reported to the Legislature and take effect at the time prescribed in the existing law, there will not be time for the necessary consideration, and the adoption of hastily considered rules may interfere with the orderly work of the courts. The time for reporting the rules to the Legislature will expire before the usual effective date of the laws enacted by the Fifty-fifth Legislature, and hence to provide sufficient time for study and revision of the proposed rules, it is necessary that this amendatory act extending the time for reporting the rules and the time at which they go into effect take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 5

An act to add Section 3721 to the Political Code, relating to assessment and taxation of property affected by the organization, formation and incorporation of sanitary districts, declaring the urgency thereof and providing that it shall take effect immediately

[Approved by Governor January 25, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State January 25, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 3721 is hereby added to the Political Code, to read as follows:

Time of filing statements of creation of certain sanitary districts

3721. Whenever a sanitary district is organized under and pursuant to the provisions of Part 1 of Division 6 of the Health and Safety Code of this State, and the proceedings thereon have been completed after the first day of February, 1943, and before the first Monday in March, 1943, such organization of such sanitary district shall be effective for the purposes of assessment and taxation if the statement and map or plat required by Section 3720 shall have been filed with the county assessor and with the State Board of Equalization on or before the third Monday in March, 1943.

Constitutionality

SEC. 2. If any clause, sentence, paragraph, or part of this act shall for any reason be adjudged by any court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such judgment shall not affect, impair or invalidate the remainder of this act, but shall be confined in its operation to the clause, sentence, paragraph, or part thereof, directly involved in the controversy in which such judgment shall have been rendered.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Certain proceedings for the formation of a sanitary district under Part 1, Division 6, of the Health and Safety Code have been instituted but can not be completed until after February 1, 1943, and can be completed prior to the first Monday in March, 1943; and it is therefore impossible for a sanitary district so organized to comply with the provisions of Section 3720 of the Political Code. Such sanitary district must nevertheless furnish to the inhabitants within its territory all the benefits of a sanitary district including among other things a sewage disposal system. That the territory of such sanitary district in process of organization is for a great part thereof built up with places of residence now occupied by human beings; that said places of residence have no means of adequate and safe sewage disposal thus constituting a serious menace to the peace, health, safety and welfare of the persons residing within and near to the territory of said district. Therefore, in order to defray the expenses and to meet the cost of necessary sewage disposal and other necessary sanitary matters contemplated by said provisions of said Health and Safety Code to the inhabitants of such district for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943, it is necessary and urgent that the property in such district be assessed and taxed during said fiscal year and be placed on the tax rolls before the beginning thereof.

CHAPTER 6

An act making an appropriation for the additional support of the California Polytechnic School, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor January 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State January 28, 1943] In effect immediately

Appropriation California Polytechnic School

SECTION 1. Out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of one hundred fifty-seven thousand five hundred dollars ($157,500) is hereby appropriated for the additional support of the California Polytechnic School during the Ninety-fourth Fiscal Year.

Disposition of army training funds

SEC. 2. Any money received by the California Polytechnic School for training personnel in the armed forces shall be deposited in the General Fund in the State Treasury for credit to this appropriation.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The California Polytechnic School is an important unit in the defense efforts of this State because of the nature of the training made available. The institution was financed for only one-half of the Ninety-fourth Fiscal Year at the special session of the Legislature held in January, 1942. In order that the school may continue to function for the remainder of the current fiscal year in the interests of State and National defense it is necessary that financial aid, such as is contemplated by this act, be made immediately available. This school has been selected by the United States Navy as one of the 20 United States naval flight preparatory schools for the entire country, and the United States Navy has agreed to reimburse for all costs. The naval flight preparatory program is to start January 7, 1943.

[Approved by Governor February 1, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 1, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3.95 is added to the School Code, to read: New section

While this section is in effect, it shall supersede any existing provisions of law which are in conflict with it, but such provisions are not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted. Duration Existing law

Note.—See Stats. 1943, Ch. 71.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act becomes operative only if the Education Code is enacted by the Legislature at its Fifty-fifth Session, and, in such case, at the same time as said code takes effect; at which time Section 3.95 of the School Code added by this act is hereby repealed. The war in which the United States of America is now engaged requires the most effective use of the manpower of the Nation. In order to make it possible for the personnel and pupils of the public schools to participate in the war effort to the fullest extent at the earliest possible moment without unnecessarily interfering with the essential purposes of the public school system it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to add Section 92.1 to the Agricultural Code, relating to the basis of allocation to county, district or combined county and district fairs, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately. Stats 1933, p 60, amended

[Approved by Governor February 4, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State February 4, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 92.1 is added to the Agricultural Code, to read: New section

92.1. Notwithstanding anything in Section 92 to the contrary each county and district agricultural association which received an apportionment under Section 92 on the basis of the premiums paid at a fair held during the calendar year 1942 shall return to the Fair and Exposition Fund in the State Treasury within 60 days after the effective date of this section the entire amount of such apportionment less the amount used as a base in determining said allocations. The Department of Finance shall apportion the funds so returned to the various counties and district agricultural associations which held fairs during the calendar year 1941 and received an apportionment under the provisions of Section 92 based on the premiums paid at said fairs. The money so apportioned shall be paid to the several counties and district agricultural associations as soon as such apportionment is determined. The funds returned to the Fair and Exposition Fund as provided above shall be apportioned to the various counties and district agricultural associations on the basis of the eligible premiums paid as set forth in the sworn statements of 1941 premiums paid which were filed with the Department of Finance under Section 92 and used in apportioning the funds to the various fairs held during the calendar year 1941. Return of apportionments. Reapportionment of funds returned

The Department of Finance shall apportion any money appropriated by the State for the encouragement of county, district or combined county and district fairs held or to be held during the calendar years 1943 and 1944 on the basis provided under Section 92 but the maximum that may be apportioned to any fair shall not exceed the amount of the Apportionment bases base used in determining the apportionment. The Department of Finance shall apportion the balance of any funds remaining, after the above apportionments have been made, to the several counties and district agricultural associations which held fairs during the calendar year 1941 and received an apportionment under the provisions of Section 92 based on the premiums paid at said fairs. The money so apportioned shall be paid to the several counties and district agricultural associations as soon as such apportionment is determined. The funds remaining as referred to above shall be apportioned to the various counties and district agricultural associations on the basis of the eligible premiums paid as set forth in the sworn statements of 1941 premiums paid which were filed with the Department of Finance under Section 92 and used in apportioning the funds to the various fairs held during the calendar year 1941.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Prior to the start of the war between the United States and the governments of Germany, Italy and Japan the revenues accruing through the operation of the various fairs provided the funds necessary to support the fairs and maintain and preserve their property. Due to war conditions most of the fairs have had to be discontinued temporarily.

The apportionments made as required by existing laws to the few fairs held during the calendar year 1942 were in excess of the reasonable requirements of those fairs. Furthermore, fairs which were temporarily discontinued due to the war lost the revenue which would accrue to them under normal conditions. As a result of the above conditions some of the fairs have more funds than are needed for their reasonable requirements while many of the fairs do not have sufficient funds for their essential maintenance and support which has created a critical situation requiring immediate relief. In order therefore that this inequitable distribution may be corrected, that funds may immediately be made available to protect the public investment in fair property and to maintain such property in a safe condition, it is imperative that this act go into effect immediately and the excess apportionments withdrawn and redistributed.

An act to amend Section 2009 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to the use of affidavits in a proceeding to establish the fact of birth, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 5, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 5, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2009 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read: Stats. 1929, p. 856. See also Stats. 1943, Ch. 821. Use of affidavits 2009. An affidavit may be used to verify a pleading or a paper in a special proceeding, to prove the service of a summons, notice, or other paper in an action or special proceeding, to obtain a provisional remedy, the examination of a witness, or a stay of proceedings, as evidence in an uncontested probate proceeding, including a proceeding relating to the administration of the estate of a decedent, also a proceeding relating to the administration of the estate of a minor or incompetent person after a guardian has been appointed therein, in any uncontested proceeding to establish a record of birth, or upon a motion, and in any other case expressly permitted by some other provision of this code.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Urgency

Documentary proof establishing the vital statistics is daily becoming more in demand. These documents are required for use in connection with the armed services of the United States and with employment in the war industries. A simple, inexpensive and expeditious method of establishing the proof of facts of birth requires that an affidavit or affidavits may be offered as proof in the establishment thereof in any and all uncontested proceedings, instituted for the purpose of establishing record of such birth, and the foregoing amendment to said section of the Code of Civil Procedure is therefore an urgent necessity.

Stats. 1939, p 482, amended

CHAPTER 14

War Production Act

An act to increase production by providing for exemptions from various requirements, relating to employment and working conditions of female employees essential to the war effort, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 5, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 5, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Short title

SECTION 1. This act shall be known as the War Production Act.

Policy

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby declares that, in order to increase production and to win the war in which the United States is engaged, certain restrictions on activities of employees should be temporarily revised, either wholly or partly, such revision of restrictions to be in effect only as provided in Section 10 hereof.

War production permits

SEC. 3. The Governor may, upon the application of an employer, issue a war production permit covering a designated place or places of employment permitting the employment of female employees at or for such hours, and at such type of work, and under such conditions, as may be helpful in increasing production and furthering the war effort without unreasonably increasing the risk of impairing the health or safety of said female employees, in view of the emergency. Such permit when issued shall remain in effect until revoked, modified or suspended under Section 6.

Application

SEC. 4. An application for such a permit shall be filed by an employer within 24 hours after he employs females at or for such hours or at such type of work or under such conditions not permitted by law without a permit under this act, with the State department in which is vested the enforcement of the law from which it is proposed to create an exemption as herein provided. Such State department shall within 15 days after filing of the employer's application recommend the issuance or denial of such a permit. If it recommends the issuance of such a permit, it shall incorporate the terms and conditions upon which it is recommended that the permit be issued. After receipt of the recommendation from the State department concerned, the Governor, within five days after he receives such recommendation from the State department, at his discretion shall either issue or deny the permit requested. If the permit is denied it shall thereafter be illegal to employ females in excess of the existing statutory limits. If a permit is issued, the Governor shall include the terms and conditions within the permit.

Issuance or denial

"State department"

SEC. 5. "State department" includes every department of the State, and every other State board or agency, whether or not created by the Constitution, but does not include any division, bureau or other branch or bureau of a State department.

Revocation, suspension, modification

SEC. 6. The Governor may at any time revoke, suspend or modify any permit. Upon proof being made that the terms and conditions of any such permit have been violated, the department which recommended the issuance of said permit may recommend to the Governor that the permit be suspended, modified or revoked.

Enforcement

SEC. 7. All State departments shall continue to exercise their duties under the laws and rules to insure that the relaxation authorized by the permit does not adversely affect the health or safety of the female employees involved.

Collective bargaining agreement

SEC. 8. No relaxation permit shall have the effect of abrogating any collective bargaining agreement prescribing overtime rates of pay or working conditions or any of the overtime rates prescribed pursuant to law by any State department or agencies of the Federal Government.

Delegation of duty

SEC. 9. Any authority herein given to a State department may be exercised by any official or employee in the department so authorized by the director or other head of the department.

Duration

SEC. 10. This act shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first occurs. While this act is in effect it shall supersede any existing provisions of law which are in conflict with this act; but such provisions are not repealed by this act and after this act is no longer effective shall have the same force as though this act had not been enacted.

Existing law

Urgency

SEC. 11. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The war emergency requires that all facilities of production be utilized to the utmost and that restrictions upon the hours and conditions of work be relaxed to such an extent as may be compatible with the health and safety of the persons affected. This act provides a method whereby production can be increased under safeguards designed to afford full protection to all persons involved and its early effectiveness is necessary to the prosecution of the war effort.

CHAPTER 15

An act to amend Sections 4026 and 4026.1 of the Political Code, relating to county or township officers, deputies, assistants and employees, and their return to county or township service, declaring the urgency hereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 5, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 5, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1941, p 1244

SECTION 1. Section 4026 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read:

Return to office of county and township officers in armed forces

4026. In the event that any member of a board of supervisors or any sheriff, county clerk, district attorney or other county or township officer has resigned or resigns his office to serve or to continue to serve in the armed forces of the United States or in the State Guard or State Militia when in active service he shall have a right to return to and to re-enter upon the office prior to the time at which his term would have ended if he had not resigned on serving a written notice to that effect upon any member of the board of supervisors or the county clerk, either personally or by registered mail, within six months of the termination of his active service with the armed forces.

Vacancies

Regardless of any other provision of law, appointments may be made by the authorized appointing power, including the board of supervisors, to fill any vacancy occurring under this section until whichever of the following first occurs: (i) the resigning officer returns to and re-enters the office from which he resigned or (ii) the term expires for which the resigning officer was elected or appointed.

SEC. 2. Section 4026.1 is hereby amended to read: Stats 1941, p 1244

4026.1. In the event that any deputy, assistant, or employee of the county or township, has resigned or resigns his position to serve or to continue to serve in the armed forces of the United States, or in the armed forces of the State of California he shall have a right to return to the position prior to the time at which his occupancy of the position would have ended if he had not resigned on serving a notice to that effect upon any member of the board of supervisors or the county clerk or the chief personnel officer of the county, if any, either personally or by registered mail, within six months of the termination of his active service with the armed forces. Return to office of county and township employees in armed forces

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and as such shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: Urgency

An emergency exists in the United States and the State of California in providing adequate armies and facilities of defense. National Guard units have been called into the Federal service. Reserve officers have been called into active service. Calls for draft are being made under the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act. The arming of the Nation is resulting in many county or township officers and employees resigning from their positions and employments because of entry into the armed forces. To protect these officers and employees in their positions, and to enable them to return to necessary public work at the expiration of the existing National emergency, it is necessary to immediately adopt laws permitting temporary resignations and reinstatements.

CHAPTER 16

An act to add Chapter 3 to Part 3 of Division 6 of the School Code and to add Chapter 11 to Division 9 of the Education Code, relating to child care centers, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately. Stats 1943 Ch 71, amended

[Approved by Governor February 5, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State February 5, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 3 is added to Part 3 of Division 6 of the School Code, to read: New chapter

CHAPTER 3. CHILD CARE CENTERS

6.780. The policy of the Legislature in enacting this chapter is to provide a means for meeting an emergency, existing Policy in certain communities in this State, created by the employment of women with children in industry as a direct result of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged, without imposing additional taxes on property which the owners of such property can not, because of the burdens imposed by such war, be reasonably expected to bear.

Establishment of centers

6.781. The governing board of any school district may, subject to the provisions of this chapter, establish and maintain such child care centers within the district as it may deem necessary to provide for the proper supervision and care, including such health supervision as may be established under the standards established for child care centers by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as hereinafter provided, of children between two years and 16 years of age living within, and in the custody of persons residing in, the district when such care and supervision can not be provided by such persons because such persons are gainfully employed.

Agreements

6.782. Said governing board may enter into agreements with any city or city and county or other public agency for the furnishing to, or use by, said governing board in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, of property, facilities, personnel, supplies, equipment and other necessary items and such city, county, city and county, or other public agency is authorized to enter into such agreements..

School facilities

6.783. The said governing board may permit the use of buildings, grounds, existing administrative personnel and equipment for the purposes of this chapter.

Standards

6.784. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish reasonable and uniform standards not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter for child care centers established and maintained under the provisions of this chapter and no child care center shall be so established and maintained which does not comply with such standards.

Time maintained

6.785. The hours in any day, the days in any week and the months in any year during which such child care centers may be maintained shall be determined by said governing board.

Hours

6.785-5. Children shall be accommodated at such child centers only during the hours in which the person or persons having custody of such children are at work or unable to care for such children for any reason connected with such work.

Fees

6.786. Said governing board shall charge and collect, in advance, from the person having custody of any child admitted to a child care center a fee which, together with all funds received under Section 6.792, shall be in such amount as will reimburse the district for the cost of maintaining such child care center including supervision and care and the cost of all food furnished such child. The fees charged need not be uniform.

Amounts

6.786-5. Recognizing the fact that certain mothers are forced to work due to the father serving in the armed forces of the United States—the State of California, or as civilians, having been killed, reported missing, or so disabled so as to be unable to follow his employment, as a result of enemy action, it is the intent of the Legislature that consideration be given to the income of such mother and dependent children in setting fees to be charged by the school district for the care of such children.

"Child Care Center Fund"

6.787. The said governing board shall establish in the county treasury a fund to be known as the "Child Care Center Fund" into which shall be paid all funds received for, or from the operation of, child care centers. The costs incurred in the maintenance and operation of child care centers shall be paid from said fund.

School district funds

No funds of a district derived from the receipts of district taxes or derived from moneys apportioned to the district for the support of the schools thereof may be expended for, or in connection with, a child care center.

Rules

6.788. Said governing board may adopt such reasonable rules and regulations governing the child care center or centers maintained by it as are not in conflict with law or the standards established for child care centers by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Such rules and regulations may include, among others, rules and regulations relating to the admission of children to, and their exclusion from, such center or centers.

Employees

6.789. The said governing board may employ in or for a child care center only such persons who hold permits issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. If persons holding such permits are not readily available, persons who do not hold such permits but who meet such standards as may be established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction may be employed for a period not to exceed five months, but such persons shall, during such period of temporary employment, attend such courses of instruction and training approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as will permit, upon the successful completion thereof, such persons to qualify for the appropriate permit.

Retirement system

6.790. No person employed in a child care center under the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed to be a person employed by a school district in a position requiring certification qualifications or employed in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers Retirement System or district retirement system, or an employee subject to the provisions of Article 4 of Chapter 9 of Part 3 of Division 5 of this code.

Permit standards

6.791. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish standards for the issuance of the permits herein provided for. Such standards may be changed from time to time, but changes therein shall not affect then valid permits issued to persons.

Funds

6.792. The governing board of each school district is hereby authorized to accept funds from the Government of the United States or any agency thereof, or from any other source other than funds derived from taxes levied by any taxing agency, for any of the purposes of this chapter and such funds may be accepted subject to such conditions as will further the purpose of this chapter. As used in this section "taxing agency" has the meaning ascribed to the phrase in the Revenue and Taxation Code.

Discontinuation

6.793. Any child care center may be discontinued at any time at the discretion of the governing board of the district upon the giving of the notice herein prescribed.

Not less than 30 days before the discontinuance of a child care center the governing board shall mail to each person having custody of a child in attendance at such child care center a notice of the intended discontinuance of the child care center and the date the discontinuance will become effective, and shall post a similar notice at the child care center.

Insurance

6.794. Said governing board shall insure against the liability, other than a liability which may be insured against under Division 4 of the Labor Code, imposed upon the district by any law of this State, in any insurance company authorized to do business in this State. The cost of such insurance shall be paid out of the "Child Care Center Fund" of the district.

Duration

6.795. This chapter shall have no force or effect from and after July 1, 1945, or six months after the proclamation of the President of the United States that hostilities in the existing war have ceased, whichever is the earlier.

Note.—See Stats. 1943, Ch. 71.

Effect Stats 1943, Ch 71

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act becomes operative only if the Education Code is enacted by the Legislature at its Fifty-fifth Session, and, in such case, at the same time as said code takes effect; at which time Chapter 3 of Part 3 of Division 6 of the School Code added by this act is hereby repealed.

Repeal

Constitutionality

SEC. 4. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act, or of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of this act, or that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, be declared unconstitutional. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act for any reason be held to be unconstitutional and such unconstitutional provision shall have purported to repeal or amend any provision of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, the provision existing and in force at the time of the enactment of this act shall remain and be in full force and effect notwithstanding such purported repeal or amendment.

Urgency

peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Due to the request by the Federal Government that all possible sources of labor be utilized for the successful prosecution of the war effort, many women with children are now employed in industry. Such employment of mothers has created a child care problem, making it imperative that the governing boards of school districts be granted the authority to begin immediately the consideration of whether or not child care centers should be established in such local school districts for the care and supervision of young children of mothers so employed in industry. It is necessary that this act take effect immediately in order that such consideration begin at the earliest possible time.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. Unless funds are made immediately available, the departments can not continue the payment of officers and employees on the first of the month, with the result that accounting procedure will be disrupted and the efficient operation of the government hindered.

charitable, educational, or public purpose, by reason whereof any such person or corporation shall become beneficially entitled in possession or expectancy to any such property or to the income thereof, shall be exempt; provided, however, that such society, corporation, institution or association be organized solely for charitable, educational, public or other like work under the laws of this State or of the United States, or that the property transferred be limited for use within this State; provided further, that if such society, corporation, institution or association be organized or existing under the laws of a Territory or State of the United States (other than California) or of a foreign state or country, all property transferred to such society, corporation, institution or association shall be exempt if at the date of decedent's death the said State or Territory or foreign state or country under the laws of which such society, corporation, institution or association was organized or existing did not impose a legacy or succession tax or a death tax of any character in respect of property transferred to such a society, corporation, institution or association organized or existing under the laws of this State, or if at the date of decedent's death the laws of the State or Territory or foreign state or country under which such society, corporation, institution or association was organized or existing contained a reciprocal provision under which transfers to such a society, corporation, institution or association organized or existing under the laws of another State or Territory or foreign state or country were exempted from legacy or succession taxes or death taxes of every character; providing, said other State or Territory or foreign state or country allowed a similar exemption to such a society, corporation, institution or association organized or existing under the laws of another State or Territory or foreign state or country.

Intangible personalty

(8) The tax imposed by this act in respect of intangible personal property shall not be payable if the decedent is a resident of a State or Territory of the United States or a foreign state or country which at the time of his death imposed a legacy, succession or death tax in respect of intangible personal property of residents of the State or Territory or foreign state or country, but did not impose a legacy or succession tax or a death tax of any character in respect of intangible personal property of residents of this State, or if the laws of the State or Territory or foreign state or country of residence of the decedent at the time of his death contained a reciprocal provision under which nonresidents were exempted from legacy or succession taxes or death taxes of every character in respect of intangible personal property providing the State or Territory or foreign state or country of residence of such nonresidents allowed a similar exemption to residents of the State or Territory or foreign state or country of residence of such decedent.

The Legislature hereby declares that the change effected by this chapter in subdivision (3) of Section 6 of the Inheritance Tax Act of 1935 is not a substantive change in the law, but is declaratory of the law as the Legislature intended it to be when it enacted the legislation contained in Chapter 833 of the Statutes of 1941.

Tax levy

SEC. 3. Inasmuch as it provides for a tax levy for the usual current expenses of the State, this act shall, under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 20

Stats 1937, p 2085, amended

An act to add Section 150.5 to, and to amend Sections 150, 151, and 190 of, the State Civil Service Act, relating to the payment of compensation earned and the computation of vacation and sick leave privileges, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 6, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 6, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1937, p 2085 See also Stats 1943, Ch 395

SECTION 1. Section 150 of the State Civil Service Act is amended to read:

Vacation

Sec. 150. Each employee shall be entitled to a vacation of not to exceed 15 days' duration, excluding time during which he is not regularly assigned to work, with pay, during each year of continuous service. The time when such vacations shall be taken shall be determined by the appointing power of such employee. The board shall provide by rule for the regulation and accumulation of vacations and may provide for vacations for employees who have been employed for a period of at least six months and less than one year.

New section

SEC. 2. Section 150.5 is added to the State Civil Service Act, to read:

Payments on termination of service

Sec. 150.5. Upon a separation from service, without fault on his part, a person shall be entitled to a lump sum payment as of the time of separation for any unused or accumulated vacation or for any time off to which the person is entitled by reason of previous overtime work where compensating time off for overtime work is provided for by the appointing power or by the rules of the board. Such sums shall be computed by projecting the accumulated time on a calendar basis so that the lump sum will equal the amount to which the employee would have been paid had he taken the time off but not separated from the service. As to persons separated from the service through fault of their own, they shall be entitled to a lump sum payment for such compensating time off for overtime work, similarly computed, and in addition such portion, if any, of unused vacation as the board may determine.

Stats 1939, p 2506 See also Stats 1943, Ch 395

SEC. 3. Section 151 of the State Civil Service Act is amended to read:

Sick leave

Sec. 151. Employees shall be entitled to 12 days sick leave, excluding time during which they are not regularly assigned to work, with pay for a calendar year of service, or one day of sick leave with pay for a calendar month of service, on the submission of satisfactory proof thereof as provided by rule of the board. The board shall, by rule, provide for the granting of additional sick leave, with or without pay, or with reduced pay, or for accumulation of sick leave.

Stats 1937, p 2085

SEC. 4. Section 190 of the State Civil Service Act is amended to read:

Payment of salary without board's certificate

Sec. 190. It shall be unlawful for any officer or employee of the State to draw, sign, issue, or authorize the drawing, signing, or issuing of any warrant or check payable out of State funds, to pay any salary or compensation to any one holding a State civil service position, where such person does not lawfully hold such position under this act. Before any pay roll claim to pay the salary or compensation to anyone holding a position in the State civil service is presented to the State Controller for payment, it shall bear the certificate of the board that the persons named in such pay roll are holding positions as provided by law, but this provision shall not prevent payments of such salaries or compensation by revolving fund check in advance of such presentation.

Urgency

SEC. 5. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Many persons are being separated from State service for the purpose of entering the armed forces or vital war industries, and in many cases are moved to far distant points prior to the time they can be paid on regular pay rolls for such accumulated vacation and overtime compensation to which they are entitled. Due to the increasing shortage of man power it is impossible to obtain workers in State service unless payment can be made sooner than is physically possible under the provisions of Section 190 of the State Civil Service Act. For these reasons this act shall take effect immediately.

Stats 1931, p 1442 amended

An act to add Section 78a to the State Employees' Retirement Act, relating to retirement of members of the State Employees' Retirement System, and providing for retention in State service, upon conditions specified therein, of persons who have attained the age of compulsory retirement, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 78a is added to the State Employees' Retirement Act, to read:

Retention of persons over 70

Sec. 78a. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 78, until October 1, 1945, or the termination of the war in which the United States is now engaged, whichever is earlier, any member (other than a person who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol) who would otherwise be retired because he has attained the age of 70 years may be retained in State service, upon (a) the recommendation of the head of the office or department in which he is employed, and (b) the determination of the Board of Administration, by medical examination, that he is not incapacitated for the performance of the duties assigned or proposed to be assigned to him.

Subsequent retirement

On October 1, 1945, or the termination of the war, whichever is earlier, any person who has attained the age of 70 years and who has been retained in State service pursuant to this section shall be forthwith retired in accordance with the provisions of Section 78.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The prosecution of the war in which the United States is now engaged has, by reason of the induction of millions of men into the armed forces and the employment of additional millions in war industries, resulted in an acute shortage of manpower throughout the Nation. This shortage makes it difficult or impossible for the State to replace the many highly trained and experienced officers and employees who must be retired upon reaching the compulsory retirement age. Most of these officers and employees are physically and mentally competent to continue to perform the duties in which they have been engaged, and are willing and eager to do so. Numerous officers and employees holding positions of great responsibility, and consequently most difficult to replace, such as physicians in charge of State hospitals and institutions, will reach the age of compulsory retirement prior to the final adjournment of the Fifty-fifth Legislature. Therefore, to prevent the occurrence of numerous vacancies in important positions in the State service, and the break-down of the administration of the essential services of the State Government, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 22

An act to amend Section 660.5 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to salmon, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

Stats 1933, p 394, amended

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 660.5 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

Stats 1941, p 1706

660.5. In Districts 15, 16, 17, and 18, not more than two salmon may be taken or possessed by any person during one day, between August 16th and August 31st, and no salmon taken during said period in said districts may be sold. The size limit is as provided in Section 661 of this code.

Salmon limit

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Urgency

This act eliminates a conflict between provisions of the Fish and Game Code relating to the periods during which salmon may be taken in fish and game Districts 15, 16, 17, and 18. Under the present provisions of the code the season for commercial taking of salmon and the season when such taking of salmon is restricted overlap. The confusion caused by these conflicting provisions prevents the taking of salmon as the law was intended to permit. In view of the demands of the Federal Government upon the California fisheries for salmon for military and lend-lease purposes and in order to increase the supply of such fish for civilian use it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

CHAPTER 23

Stats 1941, p 1240, amended

An act to amend Sections 2 and 3 of the Sabotage Prevention Act, relating to punishment, declaring the urgency hereof to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1941, p 1240

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the Sabotage Prevention Act is amended to read:

Injury to property

Sec. 2. Whoever intentionally and maliciously destroys, impairs, injures, interferes or tampers with real or personal property with reasonable grounds to believe that such act will hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or of any of the States for defense or for war, or with the prosecution of war by the United States, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison for not more than 10 years, or by a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or both; provided, if such person so acts with the intent to hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or of any of the States for defense or for war, or with the prosecution of war by the United States, the minimum punishment shall be imprisonment in the State prison for not less than one year.

SEC. 2. Section 3 of said act is amended to read:

Making defective articles

Sec. 3. Whoever intentionally and maliciously makes or causes to be made or intentionally and maliciously omits to note on inspection any defect in any article or thing with reasonable grounds to believe that such article or thing is intended to be used in connection with the preparation of the United States or any of the States for defense or for war, or for the prosecution of war by the United States, or that such article or thing is one of a number of similar articles or things, some of which are intended so to be used, shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison for not more than 10 years, or a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or both; provided, if such person so acts or so fails to act with the intent to hinder, delay or interfere with the preparation of the United States or of any of the States for defense or for war, or with the prosecution of war by the United States, the minimum punishment shall be imprisonment in the State prison for not less than one year.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The penalty prescribed by the Sabotage Prevention Act is at present uncertain, and the act can not be fully enforced until the uncertainty has been removed. In order to protect property being devoted to the war effort and prevent serious crimes which may hinder the United States in its war program, it is necessary that the penalty be clearly defined.

Extensions of time

(d) The commissioner, under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing the return and/or for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, disclosed by the return, due or to become due within the period of the extension, whenever in his judgment good cause exists therefor, and he shall keep a record of every such extension. No such extension or extensions shall aggregate more than six months from the due date provided in subsection (c) of this section.

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting the necessity is as follows: Urgency

Most of the people of this State are engaged in the armed services of the United States or in some type of defense work. Officials authorized to administer oaths are not available to many of those people. Therefore, the elimination of the requirement of an oath will greatly facilitate the war effort.

CHAPTER 26

An act to amend Section 8 of The Personal Income Tax Act and Section 17306 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to war losses, declaring the urgency thereof and providing that this act take effect immediately. Stats 1935, p 1090, amended Stats 1939, p 1274, amended

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 8 of The Personal Income Tax Act is amended to read: Stats 1941, p 3042 See also Stats 1943, Ch 659

Sec. 8. In computing net income there shall be allowed as deductions: Deductions from gross income

(a) All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered; traveling expenses (including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging) while away from home in the pursuit of a trade or business; and rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession, for purposes of the trade or business, of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which he has no equity. Business expenses

In the case of any taxpayer the deductions permitted by this subsection shall not be allowed if, and to the extent that they are connected with the production of income not taxable under this act, and proper apportionment and allocation of such deductions with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner.

Interest on debts

(b) All interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness of the taxpayer; provided, however, in the case of any taxpayer the deduction permitted by this subdivision shall not be allowed if, and to the extent that such deduction is connected with income not taxable under this act; and provided further, no such deduction shall be allowed or taken for interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations, the interest upon which is wholly exempt from taxes imposed by this act. The proper apportionment and allocation of such deductions with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner.

Taxes or licenses

(c) Taxes or licenses paid or accrued during the taxable year, other than taxes paid or accrued to the State under this act, and other than taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the taxable year imposed by the authority of (1) the Government of the United States or any foreign country, (2) any State, Territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality or other taxing subdivision of any State or Territory, and other than estate, inheritance, legacy, succession and gift taxes, and other than taxes computed as an addition to, or as a percentage of taxes which are not deductible hereunder and other than taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this shall not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of said taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges. Taxes or licenses paid or accrued to this State or its political subdivisions which are deductible under the provisions of this subsection shall be deductible by nonresidents even though not connected with income from sources within this State.

Losses

(d) Losses sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise:

(1) If incurred in trade or business; or

(2) If incurred in any transaction entered into for profit, though not connected with the trade or business; or

(3) Of property not connected with the trade or business, if the loss arises from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft; or

(4) If incurred by reason of the destruction or seizure of property on or after December 7, 1941, in the course of military or naval operations by the United States or any other country engaged in the present war, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Commissioner.

The basis for determining the amount of deduction for losses sustained, to be allowed under this subsection shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 9.3 (b) of this act for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

Wagering losses

(e) Losses from wagering transactions shall be allowed only to the extent of the gains from such transactions.

Worthless debts

(f) (1) Debts ascertained to be worthless within the taxable year and charged off (or in the discretion of the commissioner a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts) and when satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the commissioner may allow such debt as a deduction, in an amount not in excess of the amount ascertained to be worthless in the taxable year and charged off; provided, however, that if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt ascertained in any prior year to be worthless, regardless of whether charged off or claimed as a deduction in such prior year. This paragraph shall not apply with respect to a debt evidenced by a security as defined in paragraph (3) of this subsection.

(2) If any securities (as defined in paragraph (3) of this subsection) are ascertained to be worthless within the taxable year and are charged off and are capital assets, the loss resulting shall be considered as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of such taxable year, of capital assets.

(3) As used in this subsection, the term "securities" means bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued by any corporation (including those issued by a government or political subdivision thereof) with interest coupons or in registered form.

Loss from disposition of securities

(g) In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained from any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that, within a period beginning 30 days before the date of such sale or disposition and ending 30 days after such date, the taxpayer has acquired (by purchase or by an exchange upon which the entire amount of gain or loss was recognized by law) or has entered into a contract or option so to acquire, substantially identical stock or securities, then no deduction for the loss shall be allowed. If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which is not deductible shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is not less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility of the loss shall be determined under the rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Loss from sale or exchange of capital assets

(h) (1) Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent provided in Section 9.4 of this act.

(2) If any securities (as defined in paragraph (3) of this subsection) become worthless during the taxable year and are capital assets, the loss resulting therefrom shall, for the purposes of this act, be considered as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of the taxable year, of capital assets.

(3) As used in this subsection, the term "securities" means (A) shares of stock in a corporation, and (B) rights to subscribe for or to receive such shares.

Obsolescence, etc

(i) A reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each.

Depletion

(j) In the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits, and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements, according to the peculiar conditions in each case; such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, then such prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this subsection for subsequent taxable years shall be based upon such revised estimate. In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each. The percentage of depletion allowable under this subsection shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of Section 9.5 (b) (3) and (4) of this act.

(k) The basis upon which depletion, exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence are to be allowed in respect of any property shall be as provided in Section 9.5 of this act.

(l) In the case of an individual, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of: Gifts

(1) The United States, any State, Territory or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, for exclusively public purposes;

(2) A corporation, or trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation;

(3) The special fund for vocational rehabilitation authorized by Section 12 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924;

(4) Posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units or societies of any such posts or organizations, if such posts, organizations, units, or societies are organized in the United States or any of its possessions, and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual; or

(5) A fraternal society, order, or association; operating under the lodge system, but only if such contributions or gifts are to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

The deductions under this subsection shall be allowed to an amount which in all the above cases combined does not exceed 15 per centum of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefit of this subsection. Such contributions or gifts shall be allowed as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner. Limitation

In the case of an individual if in the taxable year and in each of the 10 preceding taxable years the amount of the contributions or gifts described in this subsection plus the amount of income, war profits, or excess profits taxes paid during such year in respect of preceding taxable years, exceeds 90 per centum of the taxpayer's net income for each such year, as computed without the benefit of this subsection then the 15 per centum limit imposed herein shall not be applicable.

In the case of a taxpayer other than a resident the deductions under this subsection shall be allowed only as to contributions or gifts to corporations or associations incorporated by or organized under the laws of this State or to the vocational rehabilitation fund above mentioned or to this State or any political subdivision thereof for exclusively public purposes.

(m) An employer establishing or maintaining a pension trust to provide for the payment of reasonable pensions to Pension trust his employees (if such trust is exempt from tax under subsection (f) of Section 12, relating to trusts created for the exclusive benefit of employees) shall be allowed as a deduction (in addition to the contributions to such trust during the taxable year to cover the pension liability accruing during the year, allowed as a deduction under subsection (a) of this section) a reasonable amount transferred or paid into such trust during the taxable year in excess of such contributions, but only if such amount (1) has not theretofore been allowable as a deduction, and (2) is apportioned in equal parts over a period of 10 consecutive years beginning with the year in which the transfer or payment is made.

Nonresidents

(n) In the case of a taxpayer other than a resident the deductions allowed by this section shall unless otherwise provided in this section be allowed only if and to the extent that they are connected with the income arising from sources within this State and taxable under this act to a nonresident taxpayer, and the proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the State shall be determined under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner.

SEC. 2. Section 17306 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Losses deductible

17306. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction losses sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise:

(a) If incurred in trade or business; or

(b) If incurred in any transaction entered into for profit, though not connected with the trade or business; or

(c) Of property not connected with the trade or business, if the loss arises from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft; or

(d) If incurred by reason of the destruction or seizure of property, on or after December 7, 1941, in the course of military or naval operations by the United States or any other country engaged in the present war, subject to the rules and regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Commissioner.

The basis for determining the amount of deduction for losses sustained, to be allowed under this section, shall be the adjusted basis provided in Article 5 of Chapter 6 of this part for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The United States is at war with the Axis nations and as an unavoidable consequence of that conflict, the citizens of California will sustain losses by reason of the destruction or seizure of property. These losses are likely to be of such magnitude as to constitute serious burdens on taxpayers unless they can deduct them from their gross income in computing their income tax.

SEC. 4. Section 2 of this act becomes operative only if Part 10 Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is enacted by the Legislature at its Fifty-fifth Session, and in such case, at the same time as said Part 10 takes effect; at which time, Section 8 of The Personal Income Tax Act amended by this act is hereby repealed. An act to add Section 259.1 to the Vehicle Code, relating to school bus drivers, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately. Stats 1935, p 93, amended

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 259.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read: New section

259.1. Age limit for driving school bus during war emergency. It is unlawful for any person under the age of 17 years to drive a school bus, transporting pupils to or from school. School bus age limit

This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first occurs. While this section is in effect, it shall supersede Section 259 of this code; but Section 259 is not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective, Section 259 shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted. Duration Effect

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Urgency

It is the custom in many school districts to employ 18 and 19 year old student drivers of school buses. This custom results in the saving of about half the expense of operating such buses by employing, as a school bus driver, the student otherwise qualified living the farthest from the school on a particular route so that he may pick up all other students on his route while he drives to school and discharge them on his return to his home. Under this plan school buses make only one round trip per school day. If adult school bus drivers, other than students, must be employed, school buses would make two round trips each school day, owing to the necessity of beginning the day's operation of the school bus at some other point than the extreme end of a route.

It is now impossible to hire student bus drivers because of the drafting of 18 and 19 year old men into the armed services of the United States.

Federal authorities have declared a National policy to conserve rubber and save motor vehicle tires and it is the policy and desire of the State of California and of every political subdivision thereof to cooperate with Federal authorities in win the war efforts and promote public peace, health and safety.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The existing statutes covering the acknowledgment of documents and the administration and certification of oaths and affirmations are such that since the entrance of the United States into the war a large percentage of those serving in or with the armed forces are unable to have needed documents notarized. Essential transactions pertaining to the family affairs of members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard and others serving in or with such forces can not be consummated for this reason. To remedy this situation and to protect and aid the members of our armed forces in the conduct of their and their families' affairs it is urgently necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to amend Section 185 of, and to add Section 186.5 to, the Streets and Highways Code, relating to expenditures for highway purposes, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1937, p 2557

SECTION 1. Section 185 of the Streets and Highways Code is amended to read:

Withdrawals

185. All money withdrawn from the State Highway Fund shall be withdrawn in the manner provided by law upon demands made by the department. Without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements the department, through the Division of Highways, may withdraw from the State Highway Fund moneys in an amount not exceeding one million, five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) in the aggregate at any one time. The amount so withdrawn may be used as a revolving fund where payment of compensation earned or cash advances are necessary.

Revolving fund

New section

SEC. 2. Section 186.5 is hereby added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

Expenditures until July 1, 1945

186.5. From and after the effective date of this section, and until July 1, 1945, notwithstanding the provisions of Section 186, the department and the commission shall be limited in expenditures, for general administration and for maintenance, to an amount not exceeding the net revenue derived from one and one-half cents ($0.01½) per gallon tax on motor vehicle fuel. Except as herein modified, all provisions of this article shall remain in full force and effect.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows. Under the present plan of compensating State officers and employees, payments are first made out of the revolving funds for the various State agencies. The revolving fund available to the Division of Highways is insufficient to permit the orderly meeting of pay rolls from this source. Such method is necessary to meet the emergency existing by reason of the frequent changes in personnel due to entrance into military service or war industries. The advent of gasoline rationing has so decreased the revenues payable into the State Highway Fund from the tax on motor vehicle fuel that insufficient money will be available for maintenance and administration purposes. It is essential to the war effort that existing highways be maintained, to the exclusion of all construction, if necessary. It is therefore provided that this act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 30

An act to add Section 1760.5 to the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to the Youth Correction Authority, authorizing the Authority to require persons committed thereto to perform work on certain public projects, and to make contracts in relation thereto, and making an appropriation, to take effect immediately.

Stats. 1937, p. 1005, amended

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1760.5 is added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

New section

1760.5. The Authority may require persons committed to the Authority to perform work necessary and proper to be done by the Division of Forestry, the Division of Beaches and Parks, and the Division of Fish and Game in the Department of Natural Resources, by the Division of State Lands in the Department of Finance, by the United States Department of Agriculture, and by the Federal officials and departments in charge of National forests and parks within this State. For the purposes of this section, the Authority, with the approval of the Department of Finance, may enter into contracts with Federal and State officials and departments. All moneys received by the Authority pursuant to any such contract shall be paid into the State Treasury to the credit and in augmentation of the current appropriation for the support of the Authority.

Urgency

The Youth Correction Authority has reached an agreement with representatives of the United States Government for the employment of youths committed to the Authority in production of guayule and in forest fire suppression work, under which the Authority is to receive an agreed sum per youth for each day the youth is in the camp established to carry out the project. The guayule to be produced is urgently needed to relieve the current rubber shortage which is restricting the activities of the civilian population and threatening to interfere with the prosecution of the war, and the projects to be undertaken will afford needed wholesome, rehabilitating, outdoor employment for the persons committed to the Authority. The present law authorizing the making of such contracts is indefinite in its terms, and makes no provision for the moneys which may be received. Therefore, in order to permit the inauguration of the contemplated program of urgently needed and beneficial work at the earliest possible moment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

An act to make an appropriation for construction, improvements and equipment of the California Maritime Academy, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Appropriation California Maritime Academy

SECTION 1. Out of any money in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated the sum of four hundred seventy-four thousand three hundred dollars ($474,300) to the California Maritime Academy to be expended during the Ninety-fourth Fiscal Year for the construction of buildings, the making of improvements, and the acquisition of equipment and facilities for said academy at Morrow Cove, Solano County.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The urgent need for training facilities and courses of instruction in seamanship, navigation, and maritime engineering must be promptly met in the interests of the successful prosecution of the war. The appropriation made by this act will provide such facilities, and in order that this may be accomplished without unnecessary delay it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

(1) If he is a member of the military or naval forces of the United States or like forces of any nation with which the United States is allied or associated in time of war. The term "military or naval forces" includes members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Coast Guard; members of the Public Health Service detailed by proper authority for duty with the armed forces; members of the Enlisted Reserve Corps under orders to report for naval service; members of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps; Women's Reserve; and all other organizations or services now or hereafter existing, recognized by the laws of the United States as a part of or auxiliary to the armed forces of the United States.

(2) If he has been accepted for and is awaiting induction into the military or naval forces or is receiving training or education under Government supervision preliminary to induction into any of these forces.

(3) If he is engaged, outside that part of the continental limits of the United States which is south of the 49th parallel of latitude, in any work in connection with a governmental agency of the United States or with the American Red Cross or any other body with similar objects operating with the approval and sanction of the Government of the United States, or of the government of any nation, dominion or commonwealth with which the United States may be allied or associated in time of war.

(4) If he is engaged in time of war in service upon any ship of United States registry.

(5) If he is interned or a prisoner of war in a foreign country or in the United States or any possession or dependency of the United States; or if he is absent from that part of the United States which is south of the 49th parallel of latitude and, due to war conditions, is unable to return freely at his own volition.

(6) If he is engaged in any service in the United States or abroad, arising out of or connected with a state of war, which the court having jurisdiction of the trust shall find prevents him from giving proper attention to his duties.

County of residence

(e) Where in this act reference is made to the county in which a fiduciary resides, that expression shall mean, in case of a corporate fiduciary, the county in which its principal office is located, or the county in which is located the office handling or administering the estate or trust with which the fiduciary or consultant engaged in war service is concerned.

Substitute fiduciary Appointment

SEC. 3. The appropriate court may appoint a substitute fiduciary for a fiduciary engaged in war service upon petition of such fiduciary or of a cofiduciary or of any person interested in the estate or trust. In the case of court trusts, such substitute shall be appointed by the court in which the estate or trust is being administered, and in the case of private trusts, by the superior court in and for the county in which the trustee or trustees of one or more of them reside. Notice of hearing of the petition shall be given as provided in Section 6. Upon hearing the petition, and making such provision if any as the court may deem necessary regarding an accounting by the fiduciary engaged in war service, the court may order a suspension of the powers and duties of such fiduciary for the period of his war service and until the further order of the court; but upon the expiration of his war service, if the trust or estate has not been closed, the fiduciary, upon petition to the court and notice of hearing as provided below, shall be entitled to reinstatement as fiduciary. Upon such reinstatement, any fiduciary appointed as substitute shall be removed and may receive his discharge upon such conditions as the court shall prescribe.

Hearing

Reinstatement

Where there is a qualified and acting cofiduciary, the court shall not be required to appoint a substitute fiduciary, but may vest in the cofiduciary the power and authority of the fiduciary engaged in war service. Any substitute fiduciary (including a cofiduciary in whom authority is vested pursuant to the foregoing provisions) shall have all the power and authority, including discretionary powers, which the fiduciary engaged in war service might have exercised, except discretionary powers which the court shall find are purely personal to him. In the case of trusts having multiple trustees, a substitute trustee shall be appointed in all cases where, in the absence of such appointment, the trusteeship would be vested solely in a beneficiary having a vested or contingent interest in or to the income or principal of the trust.

Cofiduciary

Substitute's powers

Any substitute fiduciary appointed under the provisions of this act shall give bond in the manner and to the extent provided by law. No such substitute fiduciary, nor any fiduciary engaged in war service and reinstated as above provided, shall have any responsibility for, nor, unless expressly directed by the court, any duty to inquire into, the acts or omissions of the predecessor fiduciary.

Bond

SEC. 4. With the court approval hereinafter provided for, a fiduciary engaged in war service may delegate his power and authority as fiduciary (including discretionary powers) to his cofiduciary or fiduciaries, if any, who are not engaged in war service. Delegation may be made for the period during which the fiduciary is engaged in war service and not to exceed six months following the expiration of that period. In the case of court trusts, the approval of the court in which the estate or trust is being administered shall be required to delegation, and in the case of private trusts, the approval of the superior court in and for the county in which the cotrustee or trustees, or one or more of them, reside. The superior court sitting in probate or in equity, as the case may be, is hereby authorized to approve or disapprove any such delegation, upon petition of the delegant or delegate or of a fiduciary or any person interested in the estate or trust. Notice of hearing of the petition shall be given as provided in Section 6. Upon the expiration of his war service, the delegant, upon petition to the court and notice of hearing as provided below, may be authorized by the court to resume the exercise of his functions, and the authority delegated pursuant to the foregoing provisions shall cease.

Delegation of powers of fiduciaries

Petition and hearing

Resumption of duties

Delegation prohibited

The right of delegation provided for in this section shall not exist (a) in the case of a trust, where and to the extent that the court shall find that the powers to be delegated are purely personal to the delegant; or (b) where in the case of a trust, the sole trustee to whom authority might otherwise be delegated under this section is a beneficiary having a vested or contingent interest in or to income or principal of the trust. In the absence of power to delegate under the provisions of this section, or in the absence of its exercise where the power is existent, proceedings may be had for the appointment of a substitute fiduciary under the provisions of Section 3 of this act, except that no substitute fiduciary shall be authorized to exercise powers purely personal to the fiduciary engaged in war service. Such powers of the fiduciary shall remain suspended until their exercise is resumed under earlier provisions of this section.

Responsibility

A fiduciary delegating as provided in this act shall have no responsibility for the acts or omissions of the person or persons to whom such delegation is made.

Delegation of powers of consultants

SEC. 5. A consultant engaged in war service may delegate his power and authority as consultant (including discretionary powers) to his coconsultant or consultants, if any, who are not engaged in war service, or to the trustee or trustees administering the trust. The procedure prescribed in Section 4 relative to delegation by fiduciaries shall govern in such cases. The right of delegation provided for in this section shall not exist to the extent that the court shall find that the powers to be delegated are purely personal to the delegant. In that class of cases, the powers of the delegant shall remain suspended until their exercise is resumed under later provisions of this section.

Where the consultant engaged in war service does not delegate his functions under the foregoing provisions, the appropriate court, as defined in Section 3, upon the petition of the trustee or of any person interested in the trust, and after notice of the hearing of the petition as provided in Section 6, may do any or all of the following: (a) suspend the consultant's authority and powers for the period of his war service and not to exceed six months thereafter; (b) confer these functions (except discretionary powers which the court shall find are purely personal to the consultant) upon any other consultant designated in the trust, or the trustee or trustees, or any other qualified person.

In all cases either of delegation by the consultant or of the suspension of his powers by the court, the consultant, within not to exceed six months following the expiration of his war service and upon petition to the court and notice of hearing as provided below, may be authorized by the court to resume the exercise of his functions. All authority delegated to or conferred upon other persons pursuant to the foregoing provisions shall thereupon cease. Resumption of powers

A consultant delegating as provided in this act shall have no responsibility for the acts or omissions of the person or persons to whom such delegation is made. Responsibility

SEC. 6. In all cases where notice of hearing of a petition for substitution of fiduciaries, or suspension or delegation of the functions of a fiduciary or consultant, or for resumption of these functions is required to be given under any of the provisions of this act, the clerk shall set the petition for hearing and shall post notice of the time and place of hearing in three public places in the county, at least 10 days before the time set for the hearing. The petitioner, at least 10 days before the time set for hearing, shall cause further notice thereof to be given as follows: Notices

(a) Notice shall be mailed, except as prohibited by Federal statute or governmental order or regulation:

(1) To each fiduciary (including consultants if any) who does not join in the petition;

(2) In case of probate estates, to the persons enumerated in the second paragraph of Section 1200 of the Probate Code, in the manner there provided;

(3) In case of trusts, to each person then receiving benefits under the trust, and to each person then presumptively entitled in remainder, in so far as the addresses and identity of the persons referred to in this clause (3) are known to the petitioner or to the trustee. In the case of revocable or terminable trusts, notice shall be sufficient if mailed to the person or persons having such right of revocation or termination.

(b) In the case of guardianships, notice shall be given in the manner required by law upon settlement of a guardian's account.

(c) In addition to the notice specified above, in cases where the fiduciary or consultant engaged in war service is not the petitioner or where his written consent to the relief prayed for is not filed, notice served either personally or by mail, telegraph or cable shall be given to such fiduciary or consultant, unless the court shall find that such notice is impracticable because his whereabouts are unknown and can not reasonably be ascertained, or because of impossibility or difficulty of communicating with him.

(d) In all cases mentioned in this section, such additional notice, if any, shall be given to parties in interest as the court shall direct.

SEC. 7. In all cases where notice is required to be given under any of the provisions of this act, the court shall inquire Finding on notice as to whether proper notice has been given; and a finding or recital as to the giving of due notice contained in the court's order shall, when final, be conclusive on the fiduciary or consultant, as the case may be, and on all persons interested in the estate, trust or guardianship, unless modified or vacated on equitable grounds by a court of competent jurisdiction.

Wills and trusts

SEC. 8. Provisions otherwise lawful, contained in wills and trusts now existing or hereafter made or declared, relating to any of the matters and things dealt with in this act shall be valid though differing from or inconsistent with it.

Application

SEC. 9. This act applies to all court and private trusts now existing or hereafter coming into existence.

Urgency

SEC. 10. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In numerous court and private trusts which are being administered by fiduciaries in war service, the interests of the persons beneficially interested therein are being jeopardized through the consequent total or partial inability of the fiduciary, or of a cofiduciary or consultant, to perform his duties. These trusts involve a sufficient number of persons and amount of property as to constitute a matter of public concern. The public is likewise interested in freeing property from the incidental restraint on the power of alienation which results from the inability of fiduciaries and consultants to perform their customary or required functions. For these reasons, this act is declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, effective immediately.

Urgency SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting the necessity is as follows:

The United States is at war with the Axis Powers. The successful prosecution of this war will be facilitated by the use, by thousands of defense workers, of a simplified State income tax form in that less of their time will be diverted from their war efforts.

Effect Stats 1943 Ch 639 SEC. 4. Section 2 of this act becomes operative only if Part 10, Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is enacted by the Legislature at its Fifty-fifth Session, and, in such case, at the same time as said Part 10 takes effect; at which time, Section 5a as added to the Personal Income Tax Act by this act is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 35

An act to amend Section 3519 of the Political Code, relative to the issuance of patents by the State, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately [Approved by Governor February 9, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 9, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1911, p 1411 See also Stats 1943, Ch 609 Patent to land issued after full payment SECTION 1. Section 3519 of the Political Code is amended to read:

3519. Whenever full payment has been made for any tract of land, the selection of which has been approved by the United States authorities, or when the tract fully paid for is a sixteenth or thirty-sixth section, or a legal subdivision thereof, belonging to the State, or is segregated swamp and overflowed land, or land uncovered by the recession or drainage of water of inland lakes, the register, upon the surrender of the certificate of purchase, must prepare a patent for the land, the said patent to be issued in the name of the original applicant, and send it to the Governor, together with a certificate that the laws in relation thereto have been complied with, that payment in full has been made, and that the party named in the patent is entitled to it. The said patent so issued shall inure to the benefit of the assignees, grantees, or successors in interest of said original applicant.

If the certificate of purchase has been lost or destroyed, or is beyond the control of the owner of the land, the register may require said owner to furnish an affidavit as to the loss of the certificate of purchase or as to his inability to surrender same. The register may, upon finding the facts stated in such affidavit to be true, thereupon prepare the patent for issuance as hereinabove provided. Loss or destruction

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Urgency

This act will permit patents to be issued for the lands specified therein without the surrender of the certificates of purchase. In many instances the certificates have been lost or mislaid, and can not be surrendered, and as a result the patents can not now be issued. The inability to obtain patents prevents the transfer of the lands, many of which are lands suitable for the grazing of live stock, into the hands of persons who will use them for that purpose. A severe shortage of meat exists, which menaces the health of the civilian population. When this act becomes effective, the lands affected can be transferred to persons who will use them for grazing live stock, and as a result the production of meat will be increased, and the health of the people of the State protected. It is therefore necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 36

An act to amend Section 6.37 of, and to add Section 6.38 to, the School Code, and to add Sections 18058 and 18059 to the Education Code, relating to the letting of contracts, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately. Stats. 1943, Ch. 71, amended

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6.37 of the School Code is amended to read: Stats 1941, p 2093 See also Stats 1943, Ch 71

6.37. Any and all supplies, materials or equipment to be used in classes authorized under any program sponsored, Purchase of supplies approved or directed by the State Department of Education or the State Board of Education, in connection with any National emergency training instruction given by any school district of any type or class, may be purchased by such district in accordance with rules and regulations for such purchase adopted by the governing board of said district notwithstanding any provisions of this code in conflict with such rules and regulations.

Duration This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first Existing law occurs. While this section is in effect it shall supersede any existing provisions of law which are in conflict with this section; but such provisions are not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted.

New section See also Stats. 1943, Ch. 71 SEC. 2. Section 6.38 is added to the School Code, to read:

Bids 6.38. In each district governed by a city board of education or in each district having an average daily attendance of 850 or more the governing board may secure from responsible bidders at least three estimates of the cost of materials or supplies to be furnished. The estimates shall be secured from bona fide dealers engaged in handling the goods specified.

Estimates shall be submitted in writing and shall be filed with the clerk or secretary of the board or other officer designated by the board.

Contract If after a bona fide effort the board secures less than three such estimates it may let a contract to the lowest responsible dealer submitting an estimate. If after such effort no estimates are received the board may let a contract for the furnishing of the materials or supplies without the necessity of notice for bids.

Duration This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first Existing law occurs. While this section is in effect it shall supersede any existing provisions of law which are in conflict with this section; but such provisions are not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted.

Note.—See Stats. 1943, Ch. 71.

Effect Stats. 1943, Ch. 71 SEC. 5. Sections 3 and 4 of this act become effective only if the Education Code is enacted by the Legislature at its Fifty-fifth Session, and in such case, at the same time as said Education Code takes effect, at which time Section 6.37 of the School Code amended by this act and Section 6.38

Repeal of the School Code added by this act are repealed.

Urgency SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section

1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall therefore go into effect immediately. The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity:

The United States of America is in a state of war. The continued maintenance of all parts of the public school system being essential to the welfare of the United States and of the State of California, it is necessary that provision be made immediately for the securing of the necessary materials and supplies to operate National emergency training and the public school system. Because of the unsettled condition of prices and because of the scarcity of material it has proven impossible to secure the materials and supplies needed to operate the public school system through ordinary notice and bidding procedure. It is therefore necessary to authorize at once those districts governed by city boards of education to acquire materials and supplies without the necessity of calling for and receiving bids in the ordinary manner. It is also necessary to provide for the continuation of National emergency instruction throughout the war.

CHAPTER 37

An act to amend Sections 4, 4a, 6, 8, 9, 11, 13, 14, 16, 17, 20, 21, 24, 25, 25.1, 27, 28, 29, 30, 32 and 35 of, and to add a new section to be numbered 24.1 to, the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act, relating to bank and corporation taxes, and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately.

Stats 1929, p 19, amended

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.]

In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4a of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1935, p 1245 See also Stats 1943, Ch 352

Sec. 4a. The rate of tax on National banking associations and other banks and financial corporations mentioned in Sections 1, 2 and 4 of this act shall be a percentage equal to the percentage of the total amount of net income, allocable to this State, of every corporation taxable under subdivision (3) of Section 4 of this act, for the next preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended during such calendar year, required to be paid to this State as franchise taxes according to or measured by such net income, and required to be paid to this State or its political subdivisions as personal property taxes during the preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended in such calendar year; provided, however, that said rate of tax shall not exceed 8 per centum. The percentage of the net income of every corporation taxable under subdivision (3) of Section 4 of this act, required to be paid to this State or its political subdivisions in personal property taxes shall be determined by ascertaining the ratio which the total amount of such personal property taxes, less 4 per centum thereof, bears to the total amount of net income of such corporations, allocable to California, increased by the amount of such personal property taxes; provided, however, that if any such corporation sustains a net loss allocable to California the personal property taxes required to be paid by such corporation to this State or its political subdivisions during the preceding calendar year or fiscal years ended during such calendar year shall be considered for the purpose of determining such ratio only to the extent which such personal property taxes exceed such net loss allocable to California.

Rate of tax

Personal property taxes

Net loss

Determination and notice of tax

The commissioner, after public hearing and opportunity given to examine the data on which his determination is based, shall determine not later than the thirty-first day of December of each year the average percentage of net income above specified, and, within 30 days after his determination, shall mail notice of his determination and the amount of tax payable on the basis of such determination to all banks and financial corporations affected thereby, which are then classified on his records as banks or financial corporations, but such determination shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of Section 25 hereof.

Higher tax than authorized

If it be judicially determined that the rate of tax on any bank or corporation is higher than is authorized by law such bank or corporation shall be relieved of liability for any tax imposed by this act only to the extent of the excess beyond that legally authorized.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Gross income

Sec. 6. (a) The term "gross income," as herein used, includes gains, profits and income derived from business, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid; gains, profits or income from dealings in real or personal property; gains, profits or income received as compensation for services, as interest, rents, commissions, brokerage or other fees, or otherwise received in carrying on such business; all interest received from Federal, State, municipal or other bonds, and, except as hereinafter otherwise provided, all dividends received on stocks.

Exemptions

(b) The term gross income does not include the following items which shall be exempt from taxation under this act:

(1) Amounts received under life insurance policies and contracts paid by reason of the death of the insured but if such amounts are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments shall be included in gross income.

(2) Amounts received (other than amounts paid by reason of the death of the insured) under life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts, either during the term or at maturity or upon surrender of the contract, equal to the total amount of premiums paid thereon. In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration by assignment or otherwise, of a life insurance, endowment or annuity contract or any interest therein, only the actual value of such consideration and the amount of the premiums and other sums subsequently paid by the transferee shall be excluded from gross income under paragraph (b) (1) of this section.

Dividends

(c) (1) The term "dividend" when used in this act means any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders, whether in money or in other property, out of its earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, or out of the earnings or profits of the income year (computed as of the close of the income year without diminution by reason of any distributions made during the income year), without regard to the amount of the earnings and profits at the time the distribution was made.

(2) For the purposes of this act every distribution is made out of earnings or profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings or profits. Any earnings or profits accumulated, or increase in value of property accrued, before March 1, 1913, may be distributed without being included in the gross income of the recipient, after the earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, have been distributed, but any such distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Section 21 (b).

(3) Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock and amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock. The gain or loss to the distributee resulting from such exchange shall be determined under Section 19. In the case of amounts distributed (whether before or after the effective date of this amendment) in partial liquidation (other than a distribution within the provisions of subdivision (7) of this subsection of stock or securities in connection with a reorganization) the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits. In the case of amounts distributed (whether before January 1, 1934, or on or after such date) in partial liquidation (other than a distribution within the provisions of subdivision (7) of this subsection or stock or securities in connection with a reorganization) the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits within the meaning of subdivision (2) of this subsection for the purpose of determining the taxability of subsequent distributions by the corporation.

(4) If any distribution (not in partial or complete liquidation) made by a corporation to its shareholders is not out of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913, and is not a dividend, then the amount of such distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Section 21, and if in excess of such basis, such excess shall be included in gross income in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property.

(5) (A) A distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock shall not be treated as a dividend to the extent that it does not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

(B) Whenever a distribution by a corporation is, at the election of any of the shareholders (whether exercised before or after the declaration thereof), payable either (i) in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock, of a class which if distributed without election would not be included in gross income under paragraph (A), or (ii) in money or any other property (including its stock or rights to acquire its stock, of a class which if distributed without election would be included in gross income under paragraph (A)), then the distribution shall constitute a taxable dividend in the hands of all shareholders, regardless of the medium in which paid.

(6) If a corporation cancels or redeems its stock (whether or not such stock was issued as a stock dividend) at such time and in such manner as to make the distribution and cancellation or redemption in whole or in part essentially equivalent to the distribution of a taxable dividend, the amount so distributed in redemption or cancellation of the stock, to the extent that it represents a distribution of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, shall be treated as a taxable dividend.

(7) The distribution heretofore or hereafter made to a distributee by or on behalf of a corporation of its stock or securities or stock or securities in another corporation shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits of any corporation:

(A) If no gain to such distributee from the receipts of such stock or securities was recognized under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution, or

(B) If the distribution was not subject to tax in the hands of such distributee under the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution because it did not constitute income to him within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States or because exempted to him under Section 115 (f) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934, or a corresponding provision of a prior Federal revenue act.

As used in this subsection, the term "stock or securities" includes rights to acquire stock or securities.

(8) As used in this subsection the term "amount distributed in partial liquidation" means a distribution by a corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of a part of its stock, or one of a series of distributions in complete cancellation or redemption of all or a portion of its stock

(9) If the whole or any part of a dividend is paid to a shareholder in any medium other than money the property received other than money shall be included in gross income at its fair market value at the time as of which it becomes income to the shareholder.

(10) The gain or loss realized from the sale or other disposition (after February 28, 1913) of property by a corporation for the purpose of the computation of earnings and profits of the corporation for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, shall be determined by using as the adjusted basis the adjusted basis (under the law applicable to the year in which the sale or other disposition was made) for determining gain. Gain or loss so realized shall increase or decrease the earnings and profits to, but not beyond, the extent to which such a realized gain or loss was recognized in computing net income under the law applicable to the year in which such sale or disposition was made. Where, in determining the adjusted basis used in computing such realized gain or loss, the adjustment to the basis differs from the adjustment proper for the purpose of determining earnings or profits, then the latter adjustment shall be used in determining the increase or decrease above provided.

Where a corporation receives (after February 28, 1913) a distribution from a second corporation which (under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made) was not a taxable dividend to the shareholders of the second corporation, the amount of such distribution shall not increase the earnings and profits of the first corporation in the following cases:

(A) No such increase shall be made in respect of the part of such distribution which (under such law) is directly applied in reduction of the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made.

(B) No such increase shall be made if (under such law) the distribution causes the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made to be allocated between such stock and the property received.

For the purposes of this subdivision, the words "law applicable to the year" shall be deemed to refer to this act or, prior to January 1, 1928, the United States Revenue Act in force for the year in which the distribution, sale or other disposition was made.

(11) (A) If any increase or decrease in the earnings or profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, with respect to any matter would be different had the adjusted basis of the property involved been determined without regard to its March 1, 1913, value, then, except as provided in paragraph (B), an increase (properly reflecting such difference) shall be made in that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

(B) If the application of subdivision (10) to a sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, results in a loss which is to be applied in decrease of earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, then, notwithstanding subdivision (10) and in lieu of the rule provided in paragraph (A) of this subdivision, the amount of such loss so to be applied shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which the adjusted basis of the property used in determining the loss, exceeds the adjusted basis computed without regard to the value of the property on March 1, 1913, and if such amount so applied in reduction of the decrease exceeds such loss, the excess over such loss shall increase that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

Losses

(d) If the indebtedness of a bank or corporation is canceled or forgiven in whole or in part without payment, the amount so canceled or forgiven shall constitute income to the extent the value of the property (including franchises) of the bank or corporation exceeds its liabilities immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness. The remainder of the amount of indebtedness so canceled or forgiven, if any, shall be applied in reduction of the basis of the assets to the extent the basis thereof exceeds the value thereof immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness, such reduction to be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

If an indebtedness is not paid by the time an action to enforce payment is barred by limitation, the indebtedness shall be considered canceled or forgiven within the meaning of this subsection unless it can be established that the period of limitation has been extended by a new promise in writing.

SEC. 3. Section 8 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Deductions from gross income

Sec 8. In computing "net income" the following deductions shall be allowed:

Business expenses

(a) All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the income year in carrying on business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, and rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession for business purposes of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which it has no equity.

Interest on debts

(b) All interest paid or accrued during the income year on indebtedness of the taxpayer to the extent in excess of income of the taxpayer from interest and dividends (other than dividends deductible under the provisions of subdivision (h) of this section and other than dividends from corporations, 50 per centum or more of the outstanding stock of which is owned by the taxpayer), which is not included in the measure of the tax imposed by this act.

Taxes

(c) Taxes or licenses paid or accrued during the income year, other than taxes paid to the State under this act, and other than taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the income year imposed by the authority of (1) the Government of the United States or any foreign country, (2) any State, Territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any State or Territory, and other than taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this shall not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of said taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

Losses

(d) Losses sustained during the income year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, except that such losses may, with the consent of the Franchise Tax Commissioner, hereinafter designated "commissioner," be accounted for as of a different period. In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained in any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that within 30 days before or after the date of such sale or other disposition, the taxpayer has acquired (otherwise than by bequest or inheritance) or has entered into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical property and the property so acquired is held by the taxpayer for any period after such sale or other disposition, no deduction for the loss shall be allowed unless the claim is made by a taxpayer, a dealer in stocks or securities, and with respect to a transaction made in the ordinary course of its business. If such acquisition or the contract or option to acquire is to the extent of part only of substantially identical property, then only a proportionate part of the loss shall be disallowed. Upon the subsequent sale or disposition of shares of stock or securities, in respect of which a loss has been disallowed, the basis for measuring gain or loss in the case of the property so acquired shall be the basis in the case of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, except that if the repurchase price was in excess of the sale price such basis shall be increased in the amount of the difference, or if the repurchase price was less than the sale price such basis shall be decreased in the amount of the difference.

Worthless debts

(e) Debts ascertained to be worthless within the income year and charged off, or, in the discretion of the commissioner, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable in part only the commissioner may allow such debt as a deduction in an amount not in excess of the amount ascertained to be worthless in the income year and charged off; provided, however, that if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt ascertained in any prior year to be worthless, regardless of whether charged off or claimed as a deduction in such prior year.

Obsolescence

(f) A reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business. The basis on which such allowance is to be computed in respect of any property is the adjusted basis provided in Section 21 (b) for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property.

Depletion

(g) (1) In the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements according to the peculiar conditions in each case, such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, then such prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this subsection for subsequent taxable years shall be based upon such revised estimate. In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee.

Basis for depletion allowances

(2) (A) The basis upon which depletion is to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 21 (b) for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property, except as provided in paragraphs (B), (C), and (D) of this subsection.

Mines

(B) In the case of mines (other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines) discovered by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, the basis for depletion shall be the fair market value of the property at the date of discovery or within 30 days thereafter, if such mines were not acquired as the result of purchase of a proven tract or lease, and if the fair market value of the property is materially disproportionate to the cost. The depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection based on discovery value provided in this paragraph shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property upon which the discovery was made, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection be less than it would be if computed without reference to discovery value. Discoveries shall include minerals in commercial quantities contained within a vein or deposit discovered in an existing mine or mining tract by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, if the vein or deposit thus discovered was not merely the uninterrupted extension of a continuing commercial vein or deposit already known to exist, and if the discovered minerals are of sufficient value and quantity that they could be separately mined and marketed at a profit.

Oil and gas wells

(C) In the case of oil and gas wells the allowance for depletion under subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be 27½ per centum of the gross income from the property during the income year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection be less than it would be if computed without reference to this paragraph.

Coal mines, etc

(D) The allowance for depletion under Subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be, in the case of coal mines, 5 per centum, in the case of metal mines, 15 per centum, and, in the case of sulphur mines or deposits, 23 per centum, of the gross income from the property during the income year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property. A taxpayer making his first return under this act in respect of a property shall state whether he elects to have the depletion allowance for such property for the income year for which the return is made computed with or without regard to percentage depletion, and the depletion allowance in respect of such property for such year shall be computed according to the election thus made. If the taxpayer fails to make such statement in the return, the depletion allowance for such property for such year shall be computed without reference to percentage depletion. The method, determined as above, of computing the depletion allowance shall be applied in the case of the property for all years in which it is in the hands of such taxpayer, or of any other person if the basis of the property (for determining gain) in his hands is, under Section 21, determined by reference to the basis in the hands of such taxpayer, either directly or through one or more substituted bases, as defined in that section. The above right of election shall be subject to the qualification that this paragraph shall, for the purpose of determining whether the method of computing the depletion allowance follows the property, be considered a continuation of Section 114 (b) (4) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 and the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, and as giving no new election in cases where either of such sections would, if applied, give no new election.

Dividends taxed to corporation declaring

(h) Dividends received during the income year declared from income which has been included in the measure of the tax imposed by this act upon the bank or corporation declaring the dividends, or from income which has been taxed under the provisions of the Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 to the corporation declaring the dividends.

Gifts

(i) In the case of a bank or corporation, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the income year to or for the use of a corporation, trust, community chest, fund or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or the prevention of cruelty to children (but only if such contributions or gifts are to be used within the United States exclusively for such purposes), no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation; to an amount which does not exceed 5 per centum of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefit of this subsection. Such contributions or gifts shall be allowable as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Return paid by building and loan association on money borrowed, etc

(j) In the case of a building and loan association, organized and operating wholly or partly on a mutual plan, the return paid or credited on or apportioned to the withdrawable shares of such association, but not exceeding the return such shares would receive computed at the average rate paid by all such associations in this State, or by such associations in a particular locality, as the Building and Loan Commissioner of this State may determine, on money borrowed or obtained through the issue during the income year of the association of all classes of notes and investment certificates not evidencing any proprietary interest in the association, such rate to be determined by the Building and Loan Commissioner and certified by him to the Franchise Tax Commissioner on or before the first day of March of each year.

Interest paid to depositors by certain banks

(k) In the case of a mutual savings bank, the entire amount of interest paid to depositors possessing no proprietary interest in the institution or in its surplus, and interest on their deposits to members possessing a proprietary interest in the institution or in its surplus at a rate determined by the State Superintendent of Banks to be the going rate of interest upon savings deposits in the State during the calendar year preceding the taxable year, such rate to be certified by him to the commissioner on or before the first day of March of each year.

Income of cooperative marketing associations

(l) In the case of farmers, fruit growers, or like associations organized and operated in whole or in part on a cooperative or a mutual basis, (1) for the purpose of marketing the products of members or other producers, and turning back to them the proceeds of sales, less the necessary marketing expenses, which may include reasonable reserves, on the basis of either the quantity or the value of the products furnished by them, or (2) for the purpose of purchasing, or producing, supplies and equipment for the use of members or other persons, and turning over such supplies and equipment to them at actual cost, plus necessary expenses, all income resulting from or arising out of such business activities for or with their members carried on by them or their agents; or when done on a nonprofit basis for or with nonmembers.

Other cooperative associations

(m) In the case of other associations organized and operated in whole or in part on a cooperative or a mutual basis, all income resulting from or arising out of business activities for or with their members, or with nonmembers, done on a nonprofit basis.

Pension trusts

(n) (1) An employer establishing or maintaining a pension trust to provide for the payment of reasonable pensions to his employees shall be allowed as a deduction (in addition to the contributions to such trust during the income year to cover the pension liability accruing during the year, allowed as a deduction under subsection (a) of this section) a reasonable amount transferred or paid into such trust during the income year in excess of such contributions, but only if such amount (1) has not theretofore been allowable as a deduction, and (2) is apportioned in equal parts over a period of 10 consecutive years beginning with the year in which the transfer or payment is made.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be subject to the qualification that the deduction shall be allowable only with respect to an income year (whether the year of transfer or payment or a subsequent year) of the employer ending within or with the taxable year of the trust with respect to which the trust would be exempt from tax under the California Personal Income Tax Act if such trust were subject to such act.

Deductions discriminating against national banking associations

(o) If any deduction provided for in this section is finally adjudged discriminatory against a National banking association contrary to Section 5219 of the Revised Statutes of the United States, or is for any reason finally adjudged invalid, in that event the tax of the favored taxpayer shall be recomputed by the commissioner for the taxable year in question, as of the time of allowance of the deduction, by disallowing the deduction, and any difference between the amount of the tax as recomputed and the amount of the tax as originally computed shall be subject to the provisions hereof relating to original computations.

Items not deductible

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property; or for

(b) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made; or for

(c) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under such policy.

(d) Any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction which is allocable to one or more classes of income not included in the measure of the tax imposed by this act.

(e) Except in case of distributions in liquidation, losses from sales or exchanges of property directly or indirectly between an individual and a corporation in which such individual owns directly or indirectly more than 50 per centum in value of the outstanding stock. For the purpose of this subdivision an individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned directly or indirectly by his family and the family of an individual shall include only his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors and lineal descendants.

(f) In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed under Section 8(a), relating to expenses incurred, or under Section 8(b), relating to interest accrued:

(1) If such expenses or interest are not paid within the income year or within two and one-half months after the close thereof; and

(2) If, by reason of the method of accounting of the person or corporation to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless paid, includible under the provisions of The Personal Income Tax Act, Corporation Income Tax Act or this act in the gross income of such person or corporation for the taxable year in which or with which the income year of the taxpayer ends; and

(3) If, at the close of the income year of the taxpayer or at any time within two and one-half months thereafter, both the taxpayer and the person to whom the payment is to be made are persons between whom losses would be disallowed under Section 9(e), or if the corporation to which payment is to be made owns, or is owned by, the taxpayer to the extent of more than 50 per centum in value of the outstanding stock.

The amount of expenses incurred or interest accrued, the deduction of which is disallowed under this subsection in the year incurred or accrued, may be deducted in the year paid.

Sec. 13. (a) Every bank and corporation subject to the tax imposed by this act shall, within two months and 15 days after the close of its income year, transmit to the commissioner a return in a form prescribed by him, specifying, for the income year, all such facts as he may by rule, or otherwise, require in order to carry out the provisions of this act. Any return filed under the provisions of the Corporation Income Tax Act, which discloses the net income for any period, shall likewise constitute a return filed for the same period under this act, if the corporation should have filed a return under this act. Returns Stats 1937, p 2184

In the event that taxes, interest and penalties have been or shall be assessed against, paid by or collected from a corporation under this act, which assessment, payment or collection should have been made under the Corporation Income Tax Act, such taxes, interest and penalties shall be considered as having been assessed, paid or collected under the Corporation Income Tax Act as of the date or dates they were made.

Prepayment of taxes

(c) If a bank or a corporation commences to do business in this State during its first taxable year its tax for that year shall be adjusted upon the basis of the net income received during that taxable year, at the rate applicable to that year, a credit being allowed for the prepayment of the minimum tax. The return for the first taxable year, which shall be filed within two months and 15 days after the close of that year, shall also, in accordance with Sections 23 to 26, inclusive, be the basis for the tax of said bank or corporation for its second taxable year, if its first taxable year is a period of 12 months. In every case in which the first taxable year of a bank or corporation constitutes a period of less than 12 months, or in which a bank or corporation does business for a period of less than 12 months during its first taxable year, said bank or corporation shall pay as a prepayment of the tax for its second taxable year a tax based on the income for the first taxable year computed under the law and at the rate applicable to the second taxable year, the same to be due and payable at the same times and in the same manner as if that amount were the entire amount of its tax for that year; and upon the filing of its tax return within two months and 15 Tax for first and second taxable years days after the close of its second taxable year it shall pay a tax for said year, at the rate applicable to that year, based upon its net income received during that year, allowing a credit for the prepayment; but in no event shall the tax for the second taxable year be less than the amount of the prepayment for that year, and said return for its second taxable year shall also, in accordance with Sections 23 to 26, inclusive, be the basis for the tax of said bank or corporation for its third taxable year.

Tax when business commenced in year other than of incorporation or qualification

(d) When any bank or corporation commences to do business in this State for the first time in any taxable year other than the year of incorporation or qualification, its tax for that taxable year and for the succeeding taxable year shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (c) of this section relative to first and second taxable years, a credit being allowed for any tax payable under subdivision (5) of Section 4 hereof, for the year in which it commences to do business.

Adjusted tax payable

(e) The adjusted tax, as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section, for any taxable year in excess of the prepayment for that year, shall be due and payable in one amount on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of that taxable year, or on or before the expiration of the period of extension where an extension has been granted by the commissioner under the provisions of Section 15 of this act, and, if not so paid, interest shall be added thereto in the manner and at the rate or rates provided in Section 24 of this act.

Deferred income

(f) In the case of a bank or corporation taxable in the manner provided in subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section, reporting income from any source on a deferred basis, the commissioner is authorized to distribute or apportion such income, or deductions applicable thereto, if he determines that such distribution or apportionment is necessary in order to prevent avoidance of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of such bank or corporation.

Reorganized banks and corporations

(g) Subsections (c), (d), and (e) of this section shall not apply to a bank or a corporation which commences to do business in this State, pursuant to a reorganization of a bank or corporation as defined in subsection (j) of this section.

Income of transferor

(h) (1) Where, pursuant to a reorganization, all or a substantial portion of the business or property of a bank or corporation, a party to the reorganization, is transferred to another bank or corporation, a party to the reorganization: (A) The net income of the transferor from the business or property so transferred to any bank or corporation for the taxable year in which the transfer occurs, shall be included in the measure of the tax on the transferee for the taxable year succeeding the taxable year in which the transfer occurs if the taxable year of the transferee in which the transfer occurs ends at the same time as or before the time the taxable year of the transferor in which the transfer occurs ends.

Income of the transferor so included in the measure of the tax on the transferee shall be considered the income of the transferee for the purposes of this act.

Return by transferee

(B) If the taxable year of the transferee in which the transfer occurs ends after the taxable year of the transferor in which the transfer occurs ends, the transferee shall, within two months and 15 days after the close of the taxable year of the transferor in which the transfer occurs, file a return disclosing the net income of the transferor from the business or property transferred for the taxable year in which the transfer occurs, and pay a tax measured by such income.

(2) If, at the time of any of the transfers referred to in the preceding subdivision (1), the transferor has not become subject to a tax measured by its income for a taxable year preceding the taxable year in which the transfer occurs, the transferee shall within two months and 15 days after the close of the month in which the transfer occurs file a return disclosing the net income of the transferor for such preceding year and pay a tax measured by such income.

Rate of tax offset

(3) Whenever under this subsection the transferee is required to pay a tax measured by the income of the transferor, the rate of tax applicable to the transferee shall apply. The transferee shall, pursuant to the provisions of Sections 4 and 26 of this act, be entitled to the same offset against any tax imposed on it measured by the income of the transferor for taxes on the business or property transferred as would have been allowed the transferor had the reorganization not occurred.

(i) Where income of the transferor is required to be included in the computation of a tax on the transferee, such income shall not thereafter be included in the measure of a tax on the transferor.

"Reorganization"

(j) The term "reorganization" as used in this section means (1) a transfer by a bank or corporation of all or a substantial portion of its business or property to another bank or corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its stockholders or both are in control of the bank or corporation to which the assets are transferred; or (2) a mere change in identity, form or place of organization however effected; or (3) a merger or consolidation; or (4) a distribution in liquidation by a bank or corporation of all or a substantial portion of its business or property to a bank or corporation stockholder. As used in this paragraph the term "control" means the ownership of at least 80 per centum of the voting stock and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the bank or corporation.

"Control"

Dissolved banks and corporations offset

(k) Any bank or corporation which is dissolved and any foreign corporation which withdraws from the State during any taxable year shall pay a tax hereunder only for the months of such taxable year which precede the effective date of such dissolution or withdrawal, according to or measured by such proportionate part of the net income of the preceding income year as the number of months of the taxable year prior to the effective date of such dissolution or withdrawal bears to the entire preceding income year; provided, however, that in the case of any bank or corporation which is dissolved, or which withdraws from the State during any taxable year, the offset from the tax for the months of such taxable year prior to the effective date of such dissolution or withdrawal shall not exceed that proportion of the offset computed under Section 26 which the number of said months prior to the effective date of such dissolution or withdrawal bears to the number of months of the preceding income year; and provided further, that the taxes levied under this act shall not be subject to abatement or refund because of the cessation of business or corporate existence of any bank or corporation pursuant to a reorganization, consolidation, or merger. In any event, each such corporation shall pay a tax not subject to offset for such period in an amount equal to the minimum tax provided for in Section 4 of this act.

Abatement or refund

Bank or corporation discontinuing business

(l) When a corporation discontinues doing business within the State during any taxable year and does not dissolve or withdraw from the State during that year, and does not resume doing business during the succeeding taxable year, its tax for the year in which it resumes doing business shall be computed upon the basis of the net income for the year in which it discontinued doing business (except where such income has already been included in the measure of a tax imposed by this act), a credit being allowed for any tax payable under subdivision (5) of Section 4 of this act. One-half the amount of such tax shall be due and payable at the time the corporation resumes doing business, or on or before the fifteenth day of the third month following the close of its income year, whichever is later, and the balance shall be due and payable within six months of the time the corporation resumes doing business, or on or before the fifteenth day of the ninth month following the close of the income year, whichever is later, but, in no event shall the balance of the tax be due and payable later than the close of the taxable year in which it resumes doing business. All the provisions of this act relating to delinquent taxes shall be applicable to such tax if it is not paid on or before its due date.

Banks and corporations which revive

(m) The tax of any bank or corporation which has suffered the suspension or forfeiture provided in Section 32 of this act, and which revives in any taxable year other than the taxable year in which suspension or forfeiture occurred, but did not transact business, as defined in Section 5 of this act, during the period of such suspension or forfeiture, shall be computed in the same manner as provided in subdivisions (c) and (d) of this section relative to the computation of taxes of banks and corporations commencing to do business for the first time after incorporation or qualification. Such a bank or corporation shall, in addition to the taxes, penalties, and interest specified in Section 33 of this act, prepay a tax in an amount equal to the minimum tax provided for in Section 4 of this act as a condition precedent to the issuance of a certificate of revivor.

Tax not a deficiency assessment

(n) Any tax, imposed pursuant to this section, based on the net income as disclosed by the return, shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of Section 25 of this act.

Attaching of liability

(o) The tax liability imposed under this act shall attach whether a bank or corporation has a taxable year of 12 months or of less duration.

SEC. 7. Section 14 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Allocation of income or deductions among affiliated banks and corporations

SEC. 14. In the case of two or more corporations or banks or of one or more banks and one or more corporations owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the commissioner may permit or require the filing of a combined report and such other information as he deems necessary and is authorized to impose the tax due under this act as though the combined entire net income was that of one corporation, or to distribute, apportion, or allocate the gross income or deductions between or among such corporations or banks, if he determines that such consolidation, distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of any such corporations or banks.

Consolidated report

In the case of a corporation doing business within the meaning of this act, whether under agreement or otherwise, in such manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit the members or stockholders of the corporation, or any of them, or any person or persons, directly or indirectly interested in such business, by rendering services of any nature whatsoever, or acquiring or disposing of its products or the goods or commodities in which it deals, at less than a fair price therefor, the commissioner, in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of such corporation, may require a report of such facts as he deems necessary, and may determine the amount which shall be deemed to be the entire net income allocable to this State of the business of such corporation for the calendar or fiscal year, and compute the tax upon such net income. In determining the entire net income the commissioner shall have regard to the fair profits which, but for any agreement, arrangement, or understanding, might be or could have been obtained from dealing in such products, goods or commodities.

In the case of a corporation liable to report under this act owning or controlling, either directly or indirectly, another corporation, or other corporations, and in the case of a corporation liable to report under this act and owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly, by another corporation, the commissioner may require a consolidated report showing the combined net income or such other facts as he deems necessary.

Assessment of tax

The commissioner is authorized and empowered, in such manner as he may determine, to assess the tax against either of the corporations whose net income is involved in the report upon the basis of the combined entire net income and such other information as he may possess, or he may adjust the tax in such other manner as he shall determine to be equitable if he determines it to be necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or to clearly reflect the net income earned by said corporation or corporations from business done in this State.

Ownership or control

Ownership or control of more than 50 per centum of the voting stock of the bank or corporation shall constitute ownership or control for the purposes of this section.

SEC. 8. Section 16 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Computation in absence of return

Sec. 16. If any return required by this act is not made, the commissioner, at any time, may require a return, under oath, or may make an estimate of the net income, from any available information, and may compute and levy the amount of tax, interest and penalties due under this act. All the provisions of this act (not in conflict herewith) relative to delinquent taxes shall be applicable to the tax, interest and penalties computed and levied hereunder. A proceeding in court for the collection of the tax, interest and penalties herein provided for may be begun without assessment at any time.

SEC. 9. Section 17 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Use of inventories

Sec. 17. (1) Whenever, in the opinion of the commissioner, the use of inventories is necessary clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventory shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the commissioner may prescribe, conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice and most clearly reflecting the income.

Method of inventorying

(2) (A) A taxpayer may use the following method (whether or not such method has been prescribed under Subdivision (1)) in inventorying goods specified in the application required under paragraph (B): (1) Inventory them at cost; (2) Treat those remaining on hand at the close of the income year as being: First, those included in the opening inventory of the income year (in order of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the income year; and (3) Treat those included in the opening inventory of the income year in which such method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

(B) The method described in paragraph (A) may be used (1) only in inventorying goods (required under subdivision (1) to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe; and (2) only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in (2) and (3) of paragraph (A) in inventorying (to ascertain income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first income year for which the method described in paragraph (A) is to be used.

Regulations

(C) The change to, and the use of, such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

Inventory at cost

(D) In determining income for the income year preceding the income year for which such method is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in such application shall be at cost.

Change in inventorying method

(E) If the taxpayer, having complied with paragraph (B), uses the method described in paragraph (A) for any income year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent income years unless with the approval of the commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or the commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any period beginning with or during any subsequent income year some procedure other than that specified in (2) of paragraph (A) in inventorying (for ascertaining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) the goods specified in the application, and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in paragraph (A) beginning with such subsequent income year or any income year thereafter. In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

SEC. 10. Section 20 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recognition of gain or loss

Sec. 20. (a) Upon the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss, determined under Section 19, shall be recognized, except as hereinafter provided in this section.

(b) (1) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale, nor stocks, bonds, notes, choses in action, certificates of trust or beneficial interest, or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment.

(2) No gain or loss shall be recognized if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation, or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation.

(3) No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to a reorganization are, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

(4) No gain or loss shall be recognized if a corporation a party to a reorganization exchanges property, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, solely for stock or securities in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

(5) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more taxpayers solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation, and immediately after the exchange such taxpayer or taxpayers are in control of the corporation; but in the case of an exchange by two or more taxpayers this paragraph shall apply only if the amount of the stock and securities received by each is substantially in proportion to its interest in the property prior to the exchange. Where the transferee assumes a liability of a transferor, or where the property of a transferor is transferred subject to a liability, then for the purpose only of determining whether the amount of stock or securities received by each of the transferors is in the proportion required by this paragraph, the amount of such liability (if under subsection (k) it is not to be considered as other property or money) shall be considered as stock or securities received by such transferor.

Distributions in complete liquidation

(6) No gain or loss shall be recognized upon the receipt by a corporation of property distributed in complete liquidation of another corporation. For the purposes of this paragraph a distribution shall be considered to be in complete liquidation only if:

(A) The corporation receiving such property was, on the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, and has continued to be at all times until the receipt of the property, the owner of stock (in such other corporation) possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and the owner of at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends), and was at no time on or after the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation and until the receipt of the property the owner of a greater percentage of any class of stock than the percentage of such class owned at the time of the receipt of the property; and

(B) No distribution under the liquidation was made before the first day of the first taxable year of the corporation beginning after December 31, 1935; and either

(C) The distribution is by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock, and the transfer of all the property occurs within the income year; in such case the adoption by the shareholders of the resolution under which is authorized the distribution of all the assets of such corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock, shall be considered an adoption of a plan of liquidation, even though no time for the completion of the transfer of the property is specified in such resolution; or

(D) Such distribution is one of a series of distributions by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock in accordance with a plan of liquidation under which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is to be completed within three years from the close of the taxable year during which is made the first of the series of distributions under the plan, except that if such transfer is not completed within such period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under subparagraph (A) until the completion of such transfer, no distribution under the plan shall be considered a distribution in complete liquidation.

If such transfer of all the property does not occur within the income year the commissioner may require of the taxpayer such bond, or waiver of the statute of limitations on assessment and collection, or both, as he may deem necessary to insure, if the transfer of the property is not completed within such three-year period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under subparagraph (A) until the completion of such transfer, the assessment and collection of all taxes imposed by this act then due or to become due, to the extent attributable to property so received. A distribution otherwise constituting a distribution in complete liquidation within the meaning of this paragraph shall not be considered as not constituting such a distribution merely because it does not constitute a distribution or liquidation within the meaning of the corporate law under which the distribution is made; and for the purposes of this paragraph a transfer of property of such other corporation to the taxpayer shall not be considered as not constituting a distribution (or one of a series of distributions) in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock of such other corporation, merely because the carrying out of the plan involves (i) the transfer under the plan to the taxpayer by such other corporation of property, not attributable to shares owned by the taxpayer, upon an exchange described in paragraph (4) of this subsection, and (ii) the complete cancellation or redemption under the plan, as a result of exchanges described in paragraph (3) of this subsection, of the shares not owned by the taxpayer.

(c) (1) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (1), (2), (3), or (5) of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

(2) If a distribution made in pursuance of a plan of reorganization is within the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection but has the effect of the distribution of a taxable dividend, then there shall be treated as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under paragraph (1) as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under paragraph (1) shall be treated as a gain from the exchange of property.

(c) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of stock or securities permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then:

(1) If the corporation receiving such other property or money distributes it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, no gain to the corporation shall be recognized from the exchange, but

(2) If the corporation receiving such other property or money does not distribute it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, the gain, if any, to the corporation shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property so received, which is not so distributed.

(e) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (1) to (5), inclusive, of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

(f) If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation, or the threat or imminence thereof) is compulsory or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or into money which is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund, no gain or loss shall be recognized. If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain, if any, shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended.

(g) As used in this section and Section 21:

"Reorganization" (1) The term "reorganization" means (A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock: of at least 80 per centum of the voting stock and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation; or of substantially all the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for voting stock, the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of another, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded, or (C) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its shareholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred, or (D) a recapitalization, or (E) a mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

"Party to a reorganization"

(2) The term "a party to a reorganization" includes a corporation resulting from a reorganization and includes both corporations in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another.

"Control"

(h) As used in this section the term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

Corporation created in foreign country

(i) In determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized in the case of any of the exchanges (made after the date of the enactment of this act) described in subsection (b) (3), (4), (5), or (6), or described in so much of subsection (c) as refers to subsection (b) (3) or (5), or described in subsection (d), a corporation created or organized in a foreign country shall not be considered as a corporation unless, prior to such exchange, it has been established to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income taxes or franchise taxes imposed by this State.

Installment obligations

(j) For nonrecognition of gain or loss in the case of installment obligations, see Section 19 (e) (4).

Assumption or acquisition of liability

(k) Where, upon an exchange, the taxpayer receives as part of the consideration property which would be permitted by subsection (b) (4) or (5) of this section to be received without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and as part of the consideration another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition shall not be considered as "other property or money" received by the taxpayer within the meaning of subsection (c), (d) or (e) of this section and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) or (5); except that if, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition was a purpose to avoid State tax on the exchange, or, if not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove that such assumption or acquisition is not to be considered as money received by the taxpayer, such burden shall not be considered as sustained unless the taxpayer sustains such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence.

SEC. 11. Section 21 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 21. (a) The basis of property shall be the cost of such property; except that:

Basis of property

(1) If the property should have been included in the last inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value thereof.

(2) If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, whichever is lower. If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee, the commissioner shall, if possible, obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner, or any other person cognizant thereof. If the commissioner finds it impossible to obtain such facts, the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the commissioner as of the date or approximate date at which, according to the best information that the commissioner is able to obtain, such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner.

(3) If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a bequest or devise) the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

(4) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, upon an exchange described in Section 20 (b) to (e), inclusive, the basis (except as provided in paragraph (12) of this subsection) shall be the same as in the case of the property exchanged, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer that was recognized upon such exchange under the law applicable to the year in which the exchange was made. If the property so acquired consisted in part of the type of property permitted by section 20 (b) to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, and in part of other property, the basis provided in this paragraph shall be allocated between the properties (other than money) received, and for the purpose of the allocation there shall be assigned to such other property an amount equivalent to its fair market value at the date of the exchange. Where, as part of the consideration to the taxpayer, another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this paragraph, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. This paragraph shall not apply to property acquired by a corporation by the issuance of its stock or securities as the consideration in whole or in part for the transfer of the property to it.

(5) If the property was acquired:

(A) After December 31, 1917, and in an income year beginning before January 1, 1936, by a corporation in connection with a reorganization, and immediately after the transfer an interest or control in such property of 50 per centum or more remained in the same persons or any of them, or

(B) In an income year beginning after December 31, 1935, by a corporation in connection with a reorganization, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the transferor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made. This paragraph shall not apply if the property acquired consists of stock or securities in a corporation a party to the reorganization, unless acquired by the issuance of stock or securities of the transferee as the consideration in whole or in part for the transfer.

(6) If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a corporation:

(A) By the issuance of its stock or securities in connection with a transaction described in Section 20 (b) (5) of this act or Section 9.2 (b) (4) of The Personal Income Tax Act or Section 11 (b) (5) of the Corporation Income Tax Act (including, also, cases where part of the consideration for the transfer of such property to the corporation was property or money, in addition to such stock or securities), or Stats 1935, p 1090 Stats 1937, p 2184

(B) As paid-in surplus or as a contribution to capital, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the transferor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

(7) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion described in Section 20 (f), the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property so converted, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer which was not expended in accordance with the provisions of law (applicable to the year in which such conversion was made) determining the taxable status of the gain or loss upon such conversion, and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer recognized upon such conversion under the law applicable to the year in which such conversion was made.

(8) If the property consists of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under Section 8 (d) of this act, relating to wash sales) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, then the basis shall be the basis of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference, if any, between the price at which the property was acquired and the price at which such substantially identical stock or securities were sold or otherwise disposed of.

(9) In the case of property acquired by a corporation, during a period of affiliation, from a corporation with which it was affiliated, the basis of such property, after such period of affiliation, shall be determined, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner without regard to intercompany transactions in respect of which gain or loss was not recognized. The basis in case of property acquired by a corporation during any period, in the taxable year 1929 or any subsequent taxable year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Section 13½ of this act or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed under Section 13½ of this act or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936. The basis in the case of property held by a corporation during any period, in the taxable year 1929 or any subsequent taxable year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Section 13½ of this act or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, shall be adjusted in respect of any items relating to such period, in accordance with regulations prescribed under Section 13½ of this act or Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, applicable to such period.

(10) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any income year beginning prior to January 1, 1934, and the basis thereof, for the purposes of the Revenue Act of 1932 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (9) of such act, then for the purposes of this act the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Revenue Act of 1932.

(11) In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, if the basis otherwise determined under this subsection, adjusted (for the period prior to March 1, 1913) as provided in subsection (b), is less than the fair market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, then the basis for determining gain shall be such fair market value. In determining the fair market value of stock in a corporation as of March 1, 1913, due regard shall be given to the fair market value of the assets of the corporation as of that date.

(12) If the property was received by a corporation upon a distribution in complete liquidation of another corporation within the meaning of Section 20 (b) (6), then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor.

(13) Whenever a corporation has realized gain or loss upon the receipt after January 1, 1928, at a time when it was subject to a tax under this act measured by income, of all or substantially all of the business or property of a corporation over which it exercised control within the meaning of subsection 20 (h), and such gain or loss actually was not taken into account in the computation of taxes imposed by this act, the basis of the property or business acquired shall be the same as it was in the hands of the transferor.

(14) If the property was acquired after February 28, 1913, in any income year beginning prior to January 1, 1937, and the basis thereof, for the purposes of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (8) of such act, then for the purposes of this act the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Federal Revenue Act of 1934.

(15) (A) If the property was acquired by a shareholder in a corporation and consists of rights to acquire stock in such corporation acquired by him after February 28, 1913, in a distribution by such corporation, and (1) the right to acquire such stock was acquired in an income year beginning before January 1, 1937, (except as provided in subparagraph (B)), or (2) the right to acquire such stock was acquired in an income year beginning after December 31, 1936, and its distribution did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, then the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared and the right to acquire stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands be determined by allocating between the stock and the right to acquire stock the adjusted basis of the stock, such allocation to be made under regulations which shall be prescribed by the commissioner.

(B) If a stock right was acquired prior to January 1, 1928, and it constituted income within the purview of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared shall not be affected and the basis of the right shall be its fair market value as of the date of its acquisition.

(C) Where the shareholder acquired the right to acquire such stock in an income year beginning before January 1, 1943, and sold the same, and there was included in the gross income for such year of sale the entire amount of the proceeds of such sale, then if before the effective date of the 1943 amendments to this act the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of such rights should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the stock shall be determined without regard to paragraphs (A) and (B), and no part of the proceeds of the sale of such rights shall ever be excluded from the gross income for the year of such sale.

Adjusted basis

(b) The adjusted basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, whenever acquired, shall be the basis determined under subsection (a), adjusted as hereinafter provided.

(1) Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made—

(A) For expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items properly chargeable to capital account, including taxes and other carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but no such adjustment shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the income year or prior income years;

(B) For exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1928, and to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this act, except that no deduction shall be made for (1) amounts in excess of the amount which would have been allowable had depreciation not been computed on the basis of January 1, 1928, value; (2) amounts in excess of the adjustments required by Section 113 (b) (1) (B) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1938 for depletion prior to January 1, 1932.

(C) In the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing subparagraphs) for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921).

"Substituted basis"

(2) The term "substituted basis" as used in this subsection means a basis determined under any provision of subsection (a) of this section providing that the basis shall be determined:

(A) By reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor, donor, or grantor, or

(B) By reference to other property held at any time by the person for whom the basis is to be determined.

Whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, then the adjustments provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be made after first making in respect of such substituted basis proper adjustments of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor, or during which the other property was held by the person for whom the basis is to be determined. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of substituted bases.

SEC. 12. Section 24 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1939, p. 2934. See also Stats. 1943, Ch. 352

Sec. 24. (a) If any taxpayer fails to make and file a return required by this act on or before the due date of the return or the due date as extended by the commissioner, then, unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to wilful neglect, 5 per centum of the tax shall be added to the tax for each 30 days or fraction thereof elapsing between the due date of the return and the date on which filed, but the total addition shall not exceed 25 per centum of the tax. The amount so added to the tax shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner. Interest and addition to tax. Failure to file return

If any taxpayer, upon notice and demand by the commissioner, fails or refuses to make and file a return required by this act, the commissioner is authorized to make an estimate of the net income and to compute and levy the amount of the tax due under this act from any available information, and in such case 25 per centum of the tax (in addition to the amounts added under the provisions of the preceding paragraph of this subsection) shall be added to the tax and shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

If any bank or corporation fails or refuses to furnish any information as requested in writing by the commissioner, the commissioner may add a penalty of 25 per centum of the amount of any additional tax assessed by the commissioner concerning the determination of which such information was required.

(b) If any part of any deficiency is due to negligence, or intentional disregard of rules and regulations but without intent to defraud, 5 per centum of the total amount of the deficiency (in addition to such deficiency and other additions provided in this section) shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency. Deficiency

If any part of any deficiency is due to fraud with intent to evade tax, then 50 per centum of the total amount of the deficiency (in addition to such deficiency and other additions provided in this section) shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency.

(c) If the tax imposed by this act (whether determined by the commissioner or the taxpayer) or any installment or Failure to pay portion thereof is not paid on or before the date prescribed for its payment, there shall be collected as a part of the tax interest upon such unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per centum per year from the date prescribed for its payment until it is paid.

If the time for the payment of the tax or any installment thereof is extended by the commissioner, or if collection of a jeopardy assessment is stayed under Section 24.1 of this act, there shall be collected as part of such tax interest thereon at the rate of 6 per centum a year from the date upon which such payment should have been made if no extension had been granted or collection had not been stayed until the date the tax is paid.

Interest upon the amount determined as a deficiency shall be assessed and paid at the same time as the deficiency at the rate of 6 per centum per year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax (or, if the tax is paid in installments, from the date prescribed for the payment of the first installment) to the date the deficiency is assessed; provided, however, if any portion of the deficiency is paid prior to the date it is assessed, interest shall accrue on such portion only to the date paid; and further provided, that interest on the deficiency assessment provided for in Section 4a of this act shall run only from the fifteenth day following the mailing of the first notice to established banks and financial corporations of the commissioner's determination of the bank rate for the year involved.

Where a deficiency, or any interest or additional amounts assessed in connection therewith, or any addition to the tax in case of delinquency provided for in subsection (a) of this section, is not paid in full within 10 days from the date of notice and demand from the commissioner, there shall be collected as a part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per centum a year from the date of such notice and demand until it is paid.

Overpayment. Credit on deficiency

(d) When the correction of an erroneous inclusion or deduction of an item in the computation of income of any year results in an overpayment for one year and a deficiency for another year, the overpayment, if the period within which credit for the overpayment may be allowed has not expired, shall be credited on the deficiency, if the period within which the deficiency may be proposed has not expired, and the balance, if any, shall be credited or refunded as provided in Section 27. No interest shall be assessed on such portion of the deficiency as is extinguished by the credit for the period of time subsequent to the date the overpayment was made.

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 27, no interest shall in any case be allowed on any overpayment to the extent credited on deficiencies pursuant to the provisions of this section.

SEC. 13. Section 24.1 is hereby added to the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act, as follows: New section

Sec. 24.1. (a) If the commissioner finds that the assessment or the collection of a tax or a deficiency for any year, current or past, will be jeopardized in whole or in part by delay, he may mail or issue notice of such finding to the taxpayer, together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax or the deficiency declared to be in jeopardy (including interest, penalties and additions thereto). In the case of a tax for a current period, the commissioner may declare the income period of the taxpayer immediately terminated and shall cause notice of such finding and declaration to be mailed or issued to the taxpayer, together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax based on the period declared terminated, including therein income accrued and deductions incurred up to such date of termination if not otherwise properly includible or deductible in respect of such period, and such tax shall be immediately due and payable whether or not the time otherwise allowed by law for filing the return and paying the tax has expired. Jeopardy assessment

(b) The jeopardy assessments provided for in this section shall be immediately due and payable and proceedings for collection may be commenced at once; provided, that the taxpayer may stay collection and prevent the jeopardy assessment from becoming final by filing, within 10 days after the date of mailing or issuing the notice of jeopardy assessment, a petition for reassessment, accompanied by a bond or other security in such amount as the commissioner may deem necessary, not exceeding double the amount (including interest, penalties, and additions thereto) as to which the stay is desired. The commissioner shall consider such petition for reassessment, and notify the taxpayer of his decision thereon, which decision shall be final. If the taxpayer has so requested in its petition, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to grant said taxpayer, or its authorized representative, an oral hearing. If petition for reassessment, accompanied by bond or other security, is not filed within the 10-day period, the assessment shall become final. Collection

Oral hearing

(c) In any proceeding brought to enforce payment of taxes made due and payable by virtue of the provisions of this section, the finding of the commissioner, made as herein provided, whether made after notice to the taxpayer or not, shall be for all purposes presumptive evidence that the assessment or collection of the tax or the deficiency was in jeopardy. A certificate of the commissioner of the mailing or issuing the notices specified in this section shall be presumptive evidence that such notices were mailed or issued. Finding of commissioner

Certificate

SEC. 14 Section 25 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939, p 2934 See also Stats 1943, Ch 352

Sec. 25. As soon as practicable after the return is filed, the commissioner shall examine it and shall determine the correct amount of the tax. If the commissioner determines Additional tax Notice that the tax disclosed by the original return is less than the tax disclosed by his examination he shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer at its post-office address (which must appear on its return) of the additional tax proposed to be assessed against it. Each notice shall set forth the details of the proposed additional assessment and of computing said tax.

Protest

Within 60 days after the mailing of said notice the taxpayer may file with the commissioner a written protest against the levy of the proposed additional tax, as computed by the commissioner, specifying therein the grounds upon which the protest is based. The protest must be under oath.

Hearing, etc

If no such protest is so filed the amount of the tax shall be final upon the expiration of said 60-day period. If a protest is so filed it shall be the duty of the commissioner to reconsider the computation and levy of the tax complained of, and if the taxpayer has so requested in its protest, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to grant said taxpayer, or its authorized representatives, an oral hearing. After consideration of the protest and the evidence adduced in the event of such oral hearing, the commissioner's action upon the protest shall be final upon the expiration of 30 days from the date when he mails to the taxpayer notice of his action, unless within that 30-day period the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the State Board of Equalization.

Appeal

The appeal must be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the commissioner at Sacramento. Said board shall hear and determine the same and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination, and the reasons therefor. Such determination shall be final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time of such determination unless within such 60-day period the determination is modified in which event it shall become final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time it is modified.

Notice and demand

When a deficiency has been determined and the tax has become final under the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall mail notice and demand to the taxpayer for the payment thereof, and such tax shall be due and payable at the expiration of 10 days from the date of such notice and demand.

A certificate by the commissioner or of said board, as the case may be, of the mailing of the notices specified in this section shall be prima facie evidence of the computation and levy of the deficiency in tax and of the giving of said notices.

Limitation

Except in the case of a fraudulent return, every notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed hereunder shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed and no deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which such return was filed unless such notice is mailed within such period; provided, that in the case of any taxpayer which shall agree with the United States

Commissioner of Internal Revenue for an extension (or renewals thereof) of the period for proposing and assessing deficiencies in Federal income tax for any year, the period for mailing notices of proposed deficiency tax pursuant to this section shall (unless otherwise agreed between the commissioner and the taxpayer) be four years after the return was filed or six months after the date of the expiration of the agreed period for assessing deficiencies in Federal income tax, whichever period expires the later. For the purposes of this paragraph a return filed before the last day prescribed by law for the filing thereof shall be considered as filed on such last day.

Extension of assessment period

Where, before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of the tax, the taxpayer has consented in writing to its assessment after such time, the tax may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

Excess tax due to mathematical error

Any amount of tax in excess of that disclosed by the return, due to a mathematical error, notice of which has been mailed to the taxpayer, shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of this section. The taxpayer shall have no right of protest or appeal as herein provided, based on such notice, nor shall such assessment or collection be prohibited by any of the provisions of this section.

Bankruptcy of taxpayer

Upon the adjudication of bankruptcy of any taxpayer in any bankruptcy proceeding or the appointment of a receiver for any taxpayer in any receivership proceeding before any court of the United States or of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia, any deficiency (together with all interest, additional amounts, or additions to the tax provided for by law) determined by the commissioner in respect of a tax imposed by this act upon such taxpayer may be immediately assessed. In such cases the trustee in bankruptcy or receiver shall give notice in writing to the commissioner of the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver, and the running of the statute of limitations on the making of assessments shall be suspended for the period from the date of adjudication in bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver to a date 30 days after the date upon which the notice from the trustee or receiver is received by the commissioner; but the suspension under this sentence shall in no case be for a period in excess of two years. Claims for the deficiency and such interest, additional amounts and additions to the tax may be presented, for adjudication in accordance with law, to the court before which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending, despite the pendency of proceedings for the redetermination of the deficiency in pursuance of a petition to the Board of Equalization but no petition for any such redetermination shall be filed with said board after the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver. Any portion of the claim allowed in such bankruptcy or receivership proceeding which is unpaid shall be paid by the taxpayer upon notice and demand from the commissioner after determination of such proceeding and may be collected in the manner provided in this act for the collection of delinquent taxes at any time within six years after termination of such proceeding.

SEC. 15. Section 25.1 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Withholding and payment at source

Sec. 25 1. (a) The commissioner may, by regulation, require any bank, corporation or person including any officer or department of the State or any political subdivision or agency of the State to withhold from payments of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), dividends, rent, prizes, winnings, and compensation for personal services, including bonuses, a percentage equal to the rate of tax measured by income imposed by this act on the payee and to transmit the amounts withheld to the commissioner at such time as he may designate. Any bank, corporation or person failing to withhold from any payments and transmit to the commissioner any amounts required by the commissioner pursuant to this paragraph to be withheld and transmitted shall be liable for any taxes due from the taxpayer to which such payments are made for the year in which made to an extent not in excess of the amounts required to be withheld, unless it is shown that such failure was due to reasonable cause.

(b) The commissioner may by notice served personally or by registered mail require any bank, corporation or person, including any officer or department of the State or any political subdivision or agency of the State, to withhold from any payments of any nature to any taxpayer the amount of any tax, interest or penalties due from the taxpayer under this act and to transmit the amount withheld to the commissioner at such times as he may designate. Any bank, corporation or person failing to withhold the tax due from any taxpayer and transmit the same to the commissioner as required by the commissioner pursuant to this paragraph shall be liable for such tax.

(c) Any bank, corporation or person required to withhold and transmit any amount pursuant to this section must comply with such requirement without resort to any legal or equitable action in a court of law or equity, and any bank, corporation or person paying to the commissioner any amount required by him to be paid pursuant to subsections (a) and (b) of this section shall not be liable therefor to the taxpayer from which withheld unless the amount withheld is refunded to the withholding agent.

(d) Any taxpayer from which a tax has been collected by withholding under this section shall be entitled to the remedies set forth in Sections 27 and 30 of this act; provided, however, that any refund of such tax under Section 27 shall be made to the withholding agent instead of directly to the taxpayer, if requested in writing by the withholding agent at the time the amounts refundable were transmitted to the commissioner.

SEC. 16. Section 27 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939 p 2934 See also Stats 1943 Ch 352

Sec. 27. If, in the opinion of the commissioner, or the State Board of Equalization, as the case may be, there has been an overpayment of tax, penalty or interest by a taxpayer for any year for any reason, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any taxes then due from the taxpayer under this act, and the balance shall be refunded to the taxpayer or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or to stockholders upon dissolution. No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made until approved by the State Board of Control. No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made after four years from the last day prescribed for filing the return or after one year from the date of the overpayment, whichever period expires the later, unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor is filed by the taxpayer, or unless before the expiration of such period the commissioner has certified the overpayment to the State Board of Control for approval of the refunding or the crediting thereof. A refund claim upon which action has become final shall not thereafter be considered a refund claim within the meaning of the foregoing provision except to the extent allowed. Every claim for refund must be in writing under oath and must state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded. Credits and refunds. Claim

If the commissioner disallows any claim for refund, he shall notify the taxpayer accordingly. At the expiration of 90 days from the mailing of such notice, the commissioner's action upon the claim shall be final unless within such 90-day period, the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the State Board of Equalization. If the commissioner fails to mail notice of action on any refund claim within six months after the claim was filed, the taxpayer may, prior to mailing of notice of action on the refund claim, consider the claim disallowed and appeal to said board. Appeals must be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the commissioner at Sacramento. Said board shall hear and determine the same and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination. Such determination shall be final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time of such determination unless within such 60-day period the determination is modified, in which event it shall become final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time it is modified. Disallowance Notice. Appeal

error or mistake on the part of the taxpayer, at the rate of 6 per centum per annum as follows:

(1) In the case of a credit, from the date of the overpayment to the date of the allowance of the credit. Any interest allowed on any credit shall first be credited on any taxes due from the taxpayer under this act.

(2) In the case of a refund, from the date of the overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, such date to be determined by the commissioner.

Recovery of erroneous refunds

Any refund or any portion thereof which is erroneously made, and any credit or any portion thereof which is erroneously allowed, may be recovered, together with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date the refund was made or the credit allowed, in an action brought by the commissioner in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California, and such actions shall be tried in the County of Sacramento, unless the court, with the consent of the Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner, orders a change of place of trial. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

Tax illegally levied

In the event that a tax has been illegally levied against a taxpayer, the commissioner shall, in the absence of any other applicable provision in this act, certify such fact to the State Board of Control and said board shall authorize the cancellation of the tax upon the records of the commissioner.

SEC. 17. Section 28 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Attempt to evade tax

Sec. 28. If any taxpayer files a false or fraudulent return, or fails or neglects to file a return, with intent to evade tax, the commissioner, at any time, may require a return, or a supplementary return, under oath, or may make an estimate of the net income from any available information, and may compute and levy the amount of tax, interest and penalties due under this act. All the provisions of this act (not in conflict herewith) relative to delinquent taxes shall be applicable to the tax, interest and penalties computed hereunder. A proceeding in court for the collection of the tax, interest and penalties herein provided for may be begun without assessment at any time.

SEC. 18. Section 29 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Tax liens

Sec. 29. (a) The taxes imposed by this act and disclosed on the return shall constitute a lien upon the real property of the taxpayer, which lien shall have the same force, effect and priority as a judgment lien and shall attach on the first day of the "taxable year," except that in the case of a bank or corporation incorporated under the laws of this State or a foreign bank or corporation qualified to do business within the limits of this State, after the effective date of this amendment, the lien of taxes for the first taxable year of such a bank or corporation shall attach at the time of such incorporation or qualification. The taxes imposed by this act and determined pursuant to Sections 16, 25, or 28 shall constitute a lien upon all real property of the taxpayer located in any county in which there is filed for record in the office of the county recorder a certificate executed by the commissioner stating that payment of a tax determined under the provisions of Sections 16, 25 or 28 of this act has been demanded and has not been paid and specifying the amount thereof and the name of the taxpayer, and such lien shall attach at the time the certificate is recorded and shall have the same force, effect and priority as a judgment lien. The lien provided for in this section shall remain until the taxes are paid or the property subject to the lien is sold for the payment thereof, or until the lien is released or otherwise extinguished. The commissioner may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to the lien from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens if he determines that the taxes are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer or that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of such taxes. A certificate by the commissioner to the effect that any property has been released from the lien herein provided for or that such lien has been subordinated to other liens shall be conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate. Release

(b) No decree of dissolution shall be made and entered by any court, nor shall the county clerk of any county or the Secretary of State file any such decree, or file any other document by which the term of existence of any taxpayer shall be reduced or terminated, nor shall the Secretary of State file any certificate of the surrender by a foreign corporation of its right to do intrastate business in this State unless the taxpayer obtains from the commissioner and files with said court, county clerk or Secretary of State as the case may be, a certificate to the effect the commissioner is satisfied from the available evidence that all taxes imposed by this act have been paid or are secured by bond, deposit or otherwise. Within 30 days after receiving a request for a certificate, the commissioner shall either issue the certificate or notify the person requesting the certificate of the amount of tax that must be paid or the amount of bond, deposit or other security that must be furnished as a condition of issuing the certificate. The issuance of the certificate shall not relieve the taxpayer or any individual, bank, or corporation from liability for any taxes, penalties, or interest imposed by this act. SEC. 19. Section 30 of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Action to recover tax paid

Sec. 30. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against this State or against any officer thereof to prevent or enjoin the assessment or collection of any tax under this act but any taxpayer claiming that the tax computed and levied against it pursuant to Sections 24.1 and 25 of this act is void in whole or in part may bring an action against the commissioner for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount paid. Such action must be filed within four years from the last date prescribed for filing the return or within one year from the date the tax was paid, whichever period expires the later; provided, that no action shall be filed for the recovery of a deficiency assessment unless the taxpayer has made protest to the commissioner of the computation and levy complained of under the provisions of Section 25 hereof.

Limitation

Within 90 days after the mailing of the notice of the commissioner's action upon any refund claim, or in case of an appeal to the State Board of Equalization from the disallowance of any refund claim, within 90 days after the mailing of the notice of the board's determination of the appeal, the taxpayer may bring an action against the commissioner on the grounds set forth in such claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment.

If the commissioner fails to mail notice of action on any refund claim within six months after the claim was filed, the taxpayer may, prior to mailing of notice of action on the refund claim, consider the claim disallowed and bring an action against the commissioner on the grounds set forth in such claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment.

Service of papers

Whenever under the provisions of this section an action is commenced against the commissioner, a copy of the complaint and the summons must be served upon the commissioner or assistant commissioner. A second copy of the complaint and summons must be furnished to the commissioner, but this requirement shall not be considered jurisdictional. At the time the commissioner demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes. In any such action the court shall have power to render judgment for plaintiff for any part or portion of the tax, interest, penalties or cost found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment.

In all actions now pending against the State Treasurer under the provisions of this act, the commissioner shall be substituted for the State Treasurer by the court wherein the action is pending. This substitution shall not in any way affect the rights of the plaintiff in said action. Substitution

If judgment is rendered against the commissioner, the amount thereof shall first be credited against any taxes and interest due from the taxpayer under this act and the remainder refunded to the taxpayer or its successor by the State Treasurer on warrant drawn by the Controller.

In any judgment of any court rendered for any overpayment in respect of any tax imposed by this act, interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum upon the amount of the overpayment, from the date of the payment or collection thereof to the date of allowance of credit on account of such judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, such date to be determined by the commissioner. The jurisdiction of such offense shall be held to be in any county in which any part of such attempted exercise of such powers, or any part of such transaction of business occurred, and the district attorney of the county must prosecute such offense. SECTION 1. Section 1 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Short title

Section 1. This act shall be known and may be cited as "The Corporation Income Tax Act."

Stats 1939, p 2902 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

SEC. 2. Section 2 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Definitions

Sec. 2. For the purposes of this act and unless otherwise required by the context:

(a) The word "commissioner" as used in this act means the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Commissioner.

(b) The term "corporation" as herein used shall include every corporation, association, and Massachusetts or business trust, except a bank or banking association. For the purposes of this act a Massachusetts or business trust includes every business organization consisting essentially of an arrangement whereby property is conveyed to one, or more than one, trustee for purposes other than the mere conservation of assets, collection and disbursing of fixed and periodic income, or the securing of an obligation.

(c) The words "taxable year" mean the calendar year or the fiscal year, upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act; if no fiscal year has been established they mean the calendar year.

"Taxable year" includes, in the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year under the provisions of this act or under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, the period for which such return is made.

(d) The words "fiscal year" mean an accounting period of 12 months ending on the last day of any month other than December.

(e) The words "paid or incurred" and "paid or accrued" shall be construed according to the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed under this act.

(f) The word "State" shall include the Territories of Alaska and Hawaii, the District of Columbia, and the possessions of the United States.

SEC. 3. Section 3 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939, p 2902 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec. 3. There shall be levied, collected and paid for each taxable year, a tax at the rate of 4 per centum upon the net income of every corporation derived from sources within this State on or after January 1, 1937, other than income for any period for which the corporation is subject to taxation under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act, Statutes of 1929, Chapter 13, as amended, according to or measured by net income. There shall be offset against the tax hereby imposed for any period the amount of any tax imposed on the corporation under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act for the same period. In the event that taxes, interest and penalties have been or shall be assessed against, paid by or collected from a corporation under this act, which assessment, payment or collection should have been made under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act, such taxes, interest and penalties shall be considered as having been assessed, paid or collected under the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act as of the date or dates they were made. Tax levy Offset

Income from sources within this State includes income from tangible or intangible property located or having a situs in this State and income from any activities carried on in this State, regardless of whether carried on in intrastate, interstate or foreign commerce.

SEC. 4. Section 6 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939, p 2902 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec. 6. (a) "Gross income" includes gains, profits, and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, businesses, commerce, or sales, or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property; also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits and income derived from any source whatever, including interest which now or hereafter constitutionally may be taxed. Gross income

Exemptions

(b) The following items shall not be included in gross income and shall be exempt from taxation under this act:

(1) Amounts received under life insurance policies and contracts paid by reason of the death of the insured, but if such amounts are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments shall be included in gross income.

(2) Amounts received (other than amounts paid by reason of the death of the insured) under life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts, either during the term or at maturity or upon surrender of the contract, equal to the total amount of premiums paid thereon. In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration by assignment or otherwise, of a life insurance, endowment or annuity contract or any interest therein, only the actual value of such consideration and the amount of the premiums and other sums subsequently paid by the transferee shall be excluded from gross income under paragraph (1) of this subsection.

(3) Income which this State is prohibited from taxing under the Constitution or laws of the United States of America or under the Constitution of this State.

Dividends

(c) (1) The term "dividend" when used in this act means any distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders, whether in money or in other property, out of its earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, or out of the earnings or profits of the taxable year (computed as of the close of the taxable year without diminution by reason of any distributions made during the taxable year), without regard to the amount of the earnings and profits at the time the distribution was made.

(2) For the purposes of this act every distribution is made out of earnings or profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings or profits. Any earnings or profits accumulated, or increase in value of property accrued, before March 1, 1913, may be distributed exempt from tax, after the earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, have been distributed, but any such tax-free distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Section 12.

(3) Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock and amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock. The gain or loss to the distributee resulting from such exchange shall be determined under Section 10. In the case of amounts distributed (whether before or after the effective date of this amendment) in partial liquidation (other than a distribution within the provisions of subdivision (7) of this subsection of stock or securities in connection with a reorganization) the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits. In the case of amounts distributed (whether before January 1, 1934, or on or after such date) in partial liquidation (other than a distribution within the provisions of subdivision (7) of this subsection or stock or securities in connection with a reorganization) the part of such distribution which is properly chargeable to capital account shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits within the meaning of subdivision (2) of this subsection for the purpose of determining the taxability of subsequent distributions by the corporation.

(4) If any distribution (not in partial or complete liquidation) made by a corporation to its shareholders is not out of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913, and is not a dividend, then the amount of such distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Section 12, and if in excess of such basis, such excess shall be taxable in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property.

(5) (A) A distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock shall not be treated as a dividend to the extent that it does not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

(B) Whenever a distribution by a corporation is, at the election of any of the shareholders (whether exercised before or after the declaration thereof), payable either (i) in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock, of a class which is distributed without election would be exempt from tax under paragraph (A), or (ii) in money or any other property (including its stock or rights to acquire its stock, of a class which if distributed without election would not be exempt from tax under paragraph (A)), then the distribution shall constitute a taxable dividend in the hands of all shareholders, regardless of the medium in which paid.

(6) If a corporation cancels or redeems its stock (whether or not such stock was issued as a stock dividend) at such time and in such manner as to make the distribution and cancellation or redemption in whole or in part essentially equivalent to the distribution of a taxable dividend, the amount so distributed in redemption or cancellation of the stock, to the extent that it represents a distribution of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, shall be treated as a taxable dividend.

(7) The distribution heretofore or hereafter made to a distributee by or on behalf of a corporation of its stock or securities or stock or securities in another corporation shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits of any corporation:

(A) If no gain to such distributee from the receipts of such stock or securities was recognized under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution, or

(B) If the distribution was not subject to tax in the hands of such distributee under the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution because it did not constitute income to him within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States or because exempted to him under Section 115 (f) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934, or a corresponding provision of a prior Federal revenue act.

As used in this subsection, the term "stock or securities" includes rights to acquire stock or securities.

(8) As used in this subsection the term "amount distributed in partial liquidation" means a distribution by a corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of a part of its stock, or one of a series of distributions in complete cancellation or redemption of all or a portion of its stock.

(9) If the whole or any part of a dividend is paid to a shareholder in any medium other than money the property received other than money shall be included in gross income at its fair market value at the time as of which it becomes income to the shareholder.

(10) The gain or loss realized from the sale or other disposition (after February 28, 1913) of property by a corporation for the purpose of the computation of earnings and profits of the corporation for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, shall be determined by using as the adjusted basis the adjusted basis (under the law applicable to the year in which the sale or other disposition was made) for determining gain. Gain or loss so realized shall increase or decrease the earnings and profits to, but not beyond, the extent to which such a realized gain or loss was recognized in computing net income under the law applicable to the year in which such sale or disposition was made. Where in determining the adjusted basis used in computing such realized gain or loss the adjustment to the basis differs from the adjustment proper for the purpose of determining earnings or profits, then the latter adjustment shall be used in determining the increase or decrease above provided.

Where a corporation receives (after February 28, 1913) a distribution from a second corporation which (under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made) was not a taxable dividend to the shareholders of the second corporation, the amount of such distribution shall not increase the earnings and profits of the first corporation in the following cases:

(A) No such increase shall be made in respect of the part of such distribution which (under such law) is directly applied in reduction of the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made.

(B) No such increase shall be made if (under such law) the distribution causes the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made to be allocated between such stock and the property received.

For the purposes of this subdivision, the words "law applicable to the year" shall be deemed to refer to this act or, prior to January 1, 1937, the United States Revenue Act in force for the year in which the distribution, sale or other disposition was made.

(11) (A) If any increase or decrease in the earnings or profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, with respect to any matter would be different had the adjusted basis of the property involved been determined without regard to its March 1, 1913, value, then, except as provided in paragraph (B), an increase (properly reflecting such difference) shall be made in that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

(B) If the application of subdivision (10) to a sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, results in a loss which is to be applied in decrease of earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, then, notwithstanding subdivision (10) and in lieu of the rule provided in paragraph (A) of this subdivision, the amount of such loss so to be applied shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which the adjusted basis of the property used in determining the loss, exceeds the adjusted basis computed without regard to the value of the property on March 1, 1913, and if such amount so applied in reduction of the decrease exceeds such loss, the excess over such loss shall increase that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

(d) If the indebtedness of a corporation is canceled or forgiven in whole or in part without payment, the amount so canceled or forgiven shall constitute income to the extent the value of the property (including franchises) of the corporation exceeds its liabilities immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness. The remainder of the amount of indebtedness so canceled or forgiven, if any, shall be applied in reduction of the basis of the assets to the extent the basis thereof exceeds the value thereof immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness, such reduction to be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner. Cancellation of debt

If an indebtedness is not paid by the time an action to enforce payment is barred by limitation, the indebtedness shall be considered canceled or forgiven within the meaning of this subsection unless it can be established that the period of limitation has been extended by a new promise in writing. Stats 1939, p 2902

SEC. 5. Section 7 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec 7. In computing "net income" the following deductions shall be allowed: Deductions from gross income

(a) All the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered, and rentals Business expenses or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession for business purposes of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which it has no equity.

Interest (b) Interest paid or accrued during the taxable year on indebtedness of the taxpayer to the extent that such interest exceeds the corporation's income from intangible personal property (other than dividends deductible under the provisions of subdivision (h) of this section and other than dividends from corporations, 50 per cent or more of the outstanding stock of which is owned by the taxpayer) which is exempt from the tax imposed by this act.

Taxes (c) Taxes or licenses paid or accrued during the taxable year, other than taxes paid to the State under this act, and other than taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the taxable year imposed by the authority of (1) the Government of the United States or any foreign country, (2) any State, Territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any State or Territory, and other than taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this shall not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of said taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

Losses (d) Losses sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise, except that such losses may, with the consent of the commissioner, be accounted for as of a different period. In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained in any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that within 30 days before or after the date of such sale or other disposition, the taxpayer has acquired (otherwise than by bequest or inheritance) or has entered into a contract or option to acquire substantially identical property and the property so acquired is held by the taxpayer for any period after such sale or other disposition, no deduction for the loss shall be allowed unless the claim is made by a taxpayer, a dealer in stocks or securities, and with respect to a transaction made in the ordinary course of its business. If such acquisition or the contract or option to acquire is to the extent of part only of substantially identical property, then only a proportionate part of the loss shall be disallowed. Upon the subsequent sale or disposition of shares of stock or securities, in respect of which a loss has been disallowed, the basis for measuring gain or loss in the case of the property so acquired shall be the basis in the case of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, except that if the repurchase price was in excess of the sale price such basis shall be increased in the amount of the difference, or if the repurchase price was less than the sale price such basis shall be decreased in the amount of the difference.

(e) Debts ascertained to be worthless within the taxable year and charged off, or, in the discretion of the commissioner, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable in part only the commissioner may allow such debt as a deduction in an amount not in excess of the amount ascertained to be worthless in the taxable year and charged off; provided, however, that if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt ascertained in any prior year to be worthless, regardless of whether charged off or claimed as a deduction in such prior year. Worthless debts

(f) A reasonable allowance for exhaustion, wear and tear and obsolescence of property used in the trade or business The basis on which such allowance is to be computed in respect of any property is the adjusted basis provided in Section 12 (b) for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property. Obsolescence, etc

(g) (1) In the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements, according to the peculiar conditions in each case, such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under rules and regulations to be prescribed by the commissioner. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, then such prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this subsection for subsequent taxable years shall be based upon such revised estimate. In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee. Depletion

(2) (A) The basis upon which depletion is to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 12 (b) for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property, except as provided in paragraphs (B), (C) and (D) of this subsection. Basis for depletion: Allowance

(B) In the case of mines (other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines) discovered by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, the basis for depletion shall be the fair market value of the property at the date of discovery or within 30 days thereafter, if such mines were not acquired as the result of purchase of a proven tract or lease, and if the fair market value of the property is materially disproportionate to the cost. The depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection based on discovery value provided in this paragraph shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property upon which the discovery was made, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection be less than it would be if computed without reference to discovery value. Discoveries shall include minerals in commercial quantities contained within a vein or deposit discovered in an existing mine or mining tract by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, if the vein or deposit thus discovered was not merely the uninterrupted extension of a continuing commercial vein or deposit already known to exist, and if the discovered minerals are of sufficient value and quantity that they could be separately mined and marketed at a profit.

Oil and gas wells

(C) In the case of oil and gas wells the allowance for depletion under subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be 27½ per centum of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance under subdivision (1) of this subsection be less than it would be if computed without reference to this paragraph.

Coal mines, etc

(D) The allowance for depletion under subdivision (1) of this subsection shall be, in the case of coal mines, 5 per centum, in the case of metal mines, 15 per centum, and, in the case of sulphur mines or deposits, 23 per centum, of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. Such allowance shall not exceed 50 per centum of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property. A taxpayer making his first return under this title in respect of a property shall state whether he elects to have the depletion allowance for such property for the taxable year for which the return is made computed with or without regard to percentage depletion, and the depletion allowance in respect of such property for such year shall be computed according to the election thus made. If the taxpayer fails to make such statement in the return, the depletion allowance for such property for such year shall be computed without reference to percentage depletion. The method, determined as above, of computing the depletion allowance shall be applied in the case of the property for all taxable years in which it is in the hands of such taxpayer, or of any other person if the basis of the property (for determining gain) in his hands is, under Section 12, determined by reference to the basis in the hands of such taxpayer, either directly or through one or more substituted bases, as defined in that section. The above right of election shall be subject to the qualification that this paragraph shall, for the purpose of determining whether the method of computing the depletion allowance follows the property, be considered a continuation of Section 114 (b) (4) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 and the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, and as giving no new election in cases where either of such sections would, if applied, give no new election.

Such contributions or gifts shall be allowable as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Pension trusts

(m) (1) An employer establishing or maintaining a pension trust to provide for the payment of reasonable pensions to his employees shall be allowed as a deduction (in addition to the contributions to such trust during the taxable year to cover the pension liability accruing during the year, allowed as a deduction under subsection (a) of this section) a reasonable amount transferred or paid into such trust during the taxable year in excess of such contributions, but only if such amount (1) has not theretofore been allowable as a deduction, and (2) is apportioned in equal parts over a period of 10 consecutive years beginning with the year in which the transfer or payment is made.

(2) The provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be subject to the qualification that the deduction shall be allowable only with respect to a taxable year (whether the year of transfer or payment or a subsequent year) of the employer ending within or with a taxable year of the trust with respect to which the trust would be exempt from tax under the California Personal Income Tax Act if such trust were subject to such act.

SEC. 6. Section 8 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. In computing net income no deductions shall be allowed for:

Items not deductible

(a) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property; or for

(e) Except in case of distributions in liquidation, losses from sales or exchanges of property directly or indirectly between an individual and a corporation in which such individual owns directly or indirectly more than 50 per centum in value of the outstanding stock. For the purpose of this subdivision an individual shall be considered as owning the stock owned directly or indirectly by his family and the family of an individual shall include only his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors and lineal descendants.

(f) In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed under Section 7 (a), relating to expenses incurred, or under Section 7 (b), relating to interest accrued:

(1) If such expenses or interest are not paid within the taxable year or within two and one-half months after the close thereof; and

(2) If, by reason of the method of accounting of the person or corporation to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless paid, includible under the provisions of The Personal Income Tax Act or Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act or this act in the gross income of such person or corporation for the year in which or with which the taxable year of the taxpayer ends; and

The amount of expenses incurred or interest accrued the deduction of which is disallowed under this subsection in the year incurred or accrued, may be deducted in the year paid.

SEC. 7. Section 9 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Stats 1937, p. 2184
See also Stats 1943, Ch. 351

Sec. 9. (1) Whenever, in the opinion of the commissioner, the use of inventories is necessary clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventory shall be taken by such taxpayer upon such basis as the commissioner may prescribe, conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice and most clearly reflecting the income.

Inventories

(2) (A) A taxpayer may use the following method (whether or not such method has been prescribed under subdivision (1)) in inventorying goods specified in the application required under paragraph (B): (1) Inventory them at cost; (2) treat those remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being: First, those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the taxable year; and (3) treat those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year in which such method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

Methods of inventorying

(B) The method described in paragraph (A) may be used (1) only in inventorying goods (required under subdivision (1) to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe; and (2) only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in (2) and (3) of paragraph (A) in inventorying (to ascertain income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first taxable year for which the method described in paragraph (A) is to be used.

(C) The change to, and the use of, such method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

(D) In determining income for the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which such method is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in such application shall be at cost.

Change in method

(E) If a taxpayer, having complied with paragraph (B), uses the method described in paragraph (A) for any taxable year, then such method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless with the approval of the commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or the commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any period beginning with or during any subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in (2) of paragraph (A) in inventorying (for ascertaining income, profit, or loss, for credit purposes, or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) the goods specified in the application, and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in paragraph (A) beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter. In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

SEC. 8. Section 11 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Recognition of gain or loss

Sec. 11. (a) Upon the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss, determined under Section 10, shall be recognized, except as hereinafter provided in this section.

(b) (1) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale, nor stocks, bonds, notes, choses in action, certificates of trust or beneficial interest, or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment.

(2) No gain or loss shall be recognized if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation, or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation.

(3) No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to a reorganization are, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

(4) No gain or loss shall be recognized if a corporation a party to a reorganization exchanges property, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, solely for stock or securities in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

(5) No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more taxpayers solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation, and immediately after the exchange such taxpayer or taxpayers are in control of the corporation; but in the case of an exchange by two or more taxpayers this paragraph shall apply only if the amount of the stock and securities received by each is substantially in proportion to its interest in the property prior to the exchange.

Where the transferee assumes a liability of a transferor, or where the property of a transferor is transferred subject to a liability, then for the purpose only of determining whether the amount of stock or securities received by each of the transferors is in the proportion required by this paragraph, the amount of such liability (if under subsection (k) it is not to be considered as other property or money) shall be considered as stock or securities received by such transferor.

(6) No gain or loss shall be recognized upon the receipt by a corporation of property distributed in complete liquidation of another corporation. For the purposes of this paragraph a distribution shall be considered to be in complete liquidation only if: Distribution in complete liquidation

(A) The corporation receiving such property was, on the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation, and has continued to be at all times until the receipt of the property, the owner of stock (in such other corporation) possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and the owner of at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock (except nonvoting stock which is limited and preferred as to dividends), and was at no time on or after the date of the adoption of the plan of liquidation and until the receipt of the property the owner of a greater percentage of any class of stock than the percentage of such class owned at the time of the receipt of the property; and

(B) No distribution under the liquidation was made before the first day of the first taxable year of the corporation beginning after December 31, 1935; and either

(C) The distribution is by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock, and the transfer of all the property occurs within the taxable year; in such case the adoption by the shareholders of the resolution under which is authorized the distribution of all the assets of such corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock, shall be considered an adoption of a plan of liquidation, even though no time for the completion of the transfer of the property is specified in such resolution; or

(B) Such distribution is one of a series of distributions by such other corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all its stock in accordance with a plan of liquidation under which the transfer of all the property under the liquidation is to be completed within three years from the close of the taxable year during which is made the first of the series of distributions under the plan, except that if such transfer is not completed within such period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under subparagraph (A) until the completion of such transfer, no distribution under the plan shall be considered a distribution in complete liquidation.

If such transfer of all the property does not occur within the taxable year the commissioner may require of the taxpayer such bond, or waiver of the statute of limitations on assessment and collection, or both, as he may deem necessary to insure, if the transfer of the property is not completed within such three-year period, or if the taxpayer does not continue qualified under subparagraph (A) until the completion of such transfer, the assessment and collection of all taxes imposed by this act then due or to become due, to the extent attributable to property so received. A distribution otherwise constituting a distribution in complete liquidation within the meaning of this paragraph shall not be considered as not constituting such a distribution merely because it does not constitute a distribution or liquidation within the meaning of the corporate law under which the distribution is made; and for the purposes of this paragraph a transfer of property of such other corporation to the taxpayer shall not be considered as not constituting a distribution (or one of a series of distributions) in complete cancellation or redemption of all the stock of such other corporation, merely because the carrying out of the plan involves (i) the transfer under the plan to the taxpayer by such other corporation of property, not attributable to shares owned by the taxpayer, upon an exchange described in paragraph (4) of this subsection, and (ii) the complete cancellation or redemption under the plan, as a result of exchanges described in paragraph (3) of this subsection, of the shares not owned by the taxpayer.

Particular exchanges

(c) (1) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (1), (2), (3), or (5) of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

(2) If a distribution made in pursuance of a plan of reorganization is within the provisions of paragraph (1) of this subsection but has the effect of the distribution of a taxable dividend, then there shall be taxed as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under paragraph (1) as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under paragraph (1) shall be taxed as a gain from the exchange of property.

(d) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of stock or securities permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then:

(1) If the corporation receiving such other property or money distributes it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, no gain to the corporation shall be recognized from the exchange, but

(2) If the corporation receiving such other property or money does not distribute it in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, the gain, if any, to the corporation shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property so received, which is not so distributed.

(e) If an exchange would be within the provisions of subsection (b) (1) to (5), inclusive, of this section if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by such paragraph to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, then no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

(f) If property (as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation, or the threat or imminence thereof) is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or into money which is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund, no gain or loss shall be recognized. If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain, if any, shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended.

(g) As used in this section and Section 12:

(1) The term "reorganization" means (A) a statutory merger or consolidation, or (B) the acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock: Of at least 80 per centum of the voting stock and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation; or of substantially all the properties of another corporation, but in determining whether the exchange is solely for voting stock, the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded, or (C) a transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its shareholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred, or (D) a recapitalization, or (E) a mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

"Party to a reorganization"

(2) The term "a party to a reorganization" includes a corporation resulting from a reorganization and includes both corporations in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another.

"Control"

(h) As used in this section the term "control" means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 per centum of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 per centum of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

(i) In determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized in the case of any of the exchanges (made after the date of the enactment of this act) described in subsection (b) (3), (4), (5), or (6), or described in so much of subsection (c) as refers to subsection (b) (3) or (5), or described in subsection (d), a corporation created or organized in a foreign country shall not be considered as a corporation unless, prior to such exchange, it has been established to the satisfaction of the commissioner that such exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income taxes or franchise taxes imposed by this State.

Installment obligations

(j) For nonrecognition of gain or loss in the case of installment obligations, see Section 10 (e) (4).

Assumption or acquisition of liability

(k) Where upon an exchange the taxpayer receives as part of the consideration property which would be permitted by subsection (b) (4) or (5) of this section to be received without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and as part of the consideration another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition shall not be considered as "other property or money" received by the taxpayer within the meaning of subsection (c), (d) or (e) of this section and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of subsection (b) (4) or (5); except that if, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition was a purpose to avoid State tax on the exchange, or, if not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove that such assumption or acquisition is not to be considered as money received by the taxpayer, such burden shall not be considered as sustained unless the taxpayer sustains such burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence. Proof

SEC. 9. Section 12 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1939, p. 2902. See also Stats. 1943, Ch. 351.

Sec. 12. (a) The basis of property shall be the cost of such property; except that: Basis of property

(1) If the property should have been included in the last inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value thereof.

(2) If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, whichever is lower. If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee, the commissioner shall, if possible, obtain such facts from such donor or last preceding owner, or any other person cognizant thereof. If the commissioner finds it impossible to obtain such facts, the basis in the hands of such donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of such property as found by the commissioner as of the date or approximate date at which, according to the best information that the commissioner is able to obtain, such property was acquired by such donor or last preceding owner.

(3) If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a bequest or devise) the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

(4) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, upon an exchange described in Section 11 (b) to (e), inclusive, the basis (except as provided in paragraph (12) of this subsection) shall be the same as in the case of the property exchanged, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer that was recognized upon such exchange under the law applicable to the year in which the exchange was made. If the property so acquired consisted in part of the type of property permitted by Section 11 (b) to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, and in part of other property, the basis provided in this paragraph shall be allocated between the properties (other than money) received, and for the purpose of the allocation there shall be assigned to such other property an amount equivalent to its fair market value at the date of the exchange. Where as a part of the consideration to the taxpayer another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this paragraph, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange. This paragraph shall not apply to property acquired by a corporation by the issuance of its stock or securities as the consideration in whole or in part for the transfer of the property to it.

(5) If the property was acquired:

(A) After December 31, 1917, and in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1936, by a corporation in connection with a reorganization, and immediately after the transfer an interest or control in such property of 50 per centum or more remained in the same persons or any of them; or

(B) In a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1935, by a corporation in connection with a reorganization, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the transferor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made. This paragraph shall not apply if the property acquired consists of stock or securities in a corporation a party to the reorganization, unless acquired by the issuance of stock or securities of the transferee as the consideration in whole or in part for the transfer.

(6) If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a corporation:

(A) By the issuance of its stock or securities in connection with a transaction described in Section 11 (b) (5) (including, also, cases where part of the consideration for the transfer of such property to the corporation was property or money, in addition to such stock or securities), or

(B) As paid in surplus or as a contribution to capital, then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the transferor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

(7) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion described in Section 11 (f), the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property so converted, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer which was not expended in accordance with the provisions of law (applicable to the year in which such conversion was made) determining the taxable status of the gain or loss upon such conversion, and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer recognized upon such conversion under the law applicable to the year in which such conversion was made.

(8) If the property consists of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under Section 7 (d) of this act, relating to wash sales) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, then the basis shall be the basis of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference, if any, between the price at which the property was acquired and the price at which such substantially identical stock or securities were sold or otherwise disposed of.

(9) In the case of property acquired by a corporation during a period of affiliation, from a corporation with which it was affiliated, the basis of such property, after such period of affiliation, shall be determined, in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner, without regard to intercompany transactions in respect of which gain or loss was not recognized. The basis in case of property acquired by a corporation during any period, in the taxable year 1929 or any subsequent taxable year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938, shall be determined in accordance with regulations prescribed under Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938. The basis in the case of property held by a corporation during any period, in the taxable year 1929 or any subsequent taxable year, in respect of which a consolidated return is made by such corporation under Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938, shall be adjusted in respect of any items relating to such period, in accordance with regulations prescribed under Section 141 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, or the Federal Revenue Act of 1938, applicable to such period.

(10) If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1934, and the basis thereof, for the purposes of the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (9) of such act, then for the purposes of this act the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Federal Revenue Act of 1932.

(11) In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, if the basis otherwise determined under this subsection, adjusted (for the period prior to March 1, 1913) as provided in subsection (b), is less than the fair market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, then the basis for determining gain shall be such fair market value. In determining the fair market value of stock in a corporation as of March 1, 1913, due regard shall be given to the fair market value of the assets of the corporation as of that date.

(12) If the property was received by a corporation upon a distribution in complete liquidation of another corporation within the meaning of Section 11 (b) (6), then the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor.

(13) If the property was acquired after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, and the basis thereof, for the purposes of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (8) of such act, then for the purposes of this act the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Federal Revenue Act of 1934.

(14) (A) If the property was acquired by a shareholder in a corporation and consists of rights to acquired stock in such corporation acquired by him after February 28, 1913, in a distribution by such corporation, and (1) the right to acquire such stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1937 (except as provided in subparagraph (B)), or (2) the right to acquire such stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1936, and its distribution did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, then the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared and the right to acquire stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands be determined by allocating between the stock and the right to acquire stock the adjusted basis of the stock, such allocation to be made under regulations which shall be prescribed by the commissioner.

(B) If a stock right was acquired prior to January 1, 1937, and it constituted income within the purview of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared shall not be affected and the basis of the right shall be its fair market value as of the date of its acquisition.

(C) Where the shareholder acquired the right to acquire such stock in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1943, and sold the same, and there was included in the gross income for such year of sale the entire amount of the proceeds of such sale, then if before the effective date of the 1943 amendments to this act the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of such rights should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the stock shall be determined without regard to paragraphs (A) and (B) and no part of the proceeds of the sale of such rights shall ever be excluded from the gross income for the year of such sale.

(b) The adjusted basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, whenever acquired, shall be the basis determined under subsection (a), adjusted as hereinafter provided. Adjusted basis

(1) Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made:

(A) For expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items, properly chargeable to capital account, including taxes and other carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but no such adjustment shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years;

(B) For exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1937, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this act;

(C) In the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing subparagraphs) for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax-free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921).

(2) The term "substitutive basis" as used in this subsection means a basis determined under any provision of subsection (a) of this section, providing that the basis shall be determined: "Substituted basis"

(A) By reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor, donor, or grantor, or

(B) By reference to other property held at any time by the person for whom the basis is to be determined.

Whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, then the adjustments provided in paragraph (1) of this subsection shall be made after first making in respect of such substituted basis proper adjustments of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor, or during which the other property was held by the person for whom the basis is to be determined. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of substituted bases.

SEC. 10. Section 14 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1937, p 2184 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec. 14. In the case of two or more corporations or of one or more corporations owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the commissioner may permit or require the filing of a combined report and such other information as he deems necessary and is authorized to impose the tax due under this act as though the combined entire net Apportionment of tax between consolidated corporations income was that of one corporation, or to distribute, apportion, or allocate the gross income or deductions between or among such corporations, if he determines that such consolidation, distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of any such corporations.

In the case of a corporation doing business within the meaning of this act, whether under agreement or otherwise, in such manner as either directly or indirectly to benefit the members or stockholders of the corporation, or any of them, or any person or persons, directly or indirectly interested in such business, by rendering services of any nature whatsoever, or acquiring or disposing of its products or the goods or commodities in which it deals, at less than a fair price therefor, the commissioner, in order to prevent evasion of taxes or clearly to reflect the income of such corporation, may require a report of such facts as he deems necessary, and may determine the amount which shall be deemed to be the entire net income allocable to this State of the business of such corporation for the calendar or fiscal year, and compute the tax upon such net income. In determining the entire net income the commissioner shall have regard to the fair profits which, but for any agreement, arrangement, or understanding, might be or could have been obtained from dealing in such products, goods or commodities.

In the case of a corporation liable to report under this act owning or controlling, either directly or indirectly, another corporation, or other corporations, and in the case of a corporation liable to report under this act and owned or controlled, either directly or indirectly by another corporation, the commissioner may require a consolidated report showing the combined net income or such other facts as he deems necessary. The commissioner is authorized and empowered, in such manner as he may determine, to assess the tax against either of the corporations whose net income is involved in the report upon the basis of the combined entire net income and such other information as he may possess, or he may adjust the tax in such other manner as he shall determine to be equitable, if he determines it to be necessary in order to prevent evasion of taxes or to clearly reflect the net income earned by said corporation or corporations from business done in this State.

Ownership or control

Ownership or control of more than 50 per centum of the voting stock of the bank or corporation shall constitute ownership or control for the purposes of this section.

Stats 1939, p 2902 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

SEC. 11. Section 16 of The Corporation Income Tax Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Time for filing return

Sec. 16. Every corporation deriving income from sources within this State subject to the tax imposed by this act shall, within two months and 15 days after the close of its taxable year, transmit to the commissioner a return in a form prescribed by him, specifying, for the taxable year, all such facts as he may by rule, or otherwise, require in order to carry out the provisions of this act. Returns should be verified by an executive officer of the corporation.

Any return filed under the provisions of the Bank and Corporation Franchise Tax Act which discloses the net income for any period shall likewise constitute a return filed for the same period under this act if a return should have been filed under this act.

Extension

A reasonable extension of time for filing the return may be granted by the commissioner whenever in his judgment good cause exists. Requests for extensions must be made on or before the due date for filing the return. The commissioner is hereby required to keep a record of each extension and the reason therefor. No such extension or extensions shall aggregate more than six months from the due date for filing the return.

See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

SEC. 12. Section 18 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Interest and additions to the tax
Failure to file return

Sec. 18. (a) If any taxpayer fails to make and file a return required by this act on or before the due date of the return or the due date as extended by the commissioner then, unless it is shown that such failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to wilful neglect, 5 per centum of the tax shall be added to the tax for each 30 days or fraction thereof elapsing between the due date of the return and the date on which filed, but the total addition shall not exceed 25 per centum of the tax. The amount so added to the tax shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

If any taxpayer, upon notice and demand by the commissioner, fails or refuses to make and file a return required by this act, the commissioner is authorized to make an estimate of the net income and to compute and levy the amount of the tax due under this act from any available information, and in such case 25 per centum of the tax (in addition to the amounts added under the provisions of the preceding paragraph of this subsection) shall be added to the tax and shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

If any corporation fails or refuses to furnish any information as requested in writing by the commissioner, the commissioner may add a penalty of 25 per centum of the amount of any additional tax assessed by the commissioner concerning the determination of which such information was required.

Deficiency

(b) If any part of any deficiency is due to negligence, or intentional disregard of rules and regulations but without intent to defraud, 5 per centum of the total amount of the deficiency (in addition to such deficiency and other additions provided in this section) shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency.

If any part of any deficiency is due to fraud with intent to evade tax, then 50 per centum of the total amount of the deficiency (in addition to such deficiency and other additions provided in this section) shall be assessed, collected and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency.

Failure to pay

(c) If the tax imposed by this act (whether determined by the commissioner or the taxpayer) or any installment or portion thereof is not paid on or before the date prescribed for its payment, there shall be collected as a part of the tax interest upon such unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per centum per year from the date prescribed for its payment until it is paid.

If the time for the payment of the tax or any installment thereof is extended by the commissioner, or if the collection of a jeopardy assessment is stayed under Section 18.1 of this act, there shall be collected as part of such tax interest thereon at the rate of 6 per centum a year from the date upon which such payment should have been made if no extension had been granted or collection had not been stayed until the date the tax is paid.

Interest upon the amount determined as a deficiency shall be assessed and paid at the same time as the deficiency at the rate of 6 per centum per year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax (or, if the tax is paid in installments, from the date prescribed for the payment of the first installment) to the date the deficiency is assessed; provided, however, if any portion of the deficiency is paid prior to the date it is assessed, interest shall accrue on such portion only to the date paid.

Where a deficiency, or any interest or additional amounts assessed in connection therewith, or any addition to the tax in case of delinquency provided for in subsection (a) of this section, is not paid in full within 10 days from the date of notice and demand from the commissioner, there shall be collected as a part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per centum a year from the date of such notice and demand until it is paid.

New section

SEC. 13. Section 18.1 is hereby added to The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937, to read as follows:

Jeopardy assessments

Sec. 18.1. (a) If the commissioner finds that the assessment or the collection of a tax or a deficiency for any year, current or past, will be jeopardized in whole or in part by delay, he may mail or issue notice of such finding to the taxpayer, together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax or the deficiency declared to be in jeopardy (including interest, penalties and additions thereto). In the case of a tax for a current period, the commissioner may declare the taxable period of the taxpayer immediately terminated and shall cause notice of such finding and declaration to be mailed or issued to the taxpayer, together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax based on the period declared terminated, including therein income accrued and deductions incurred up to such date of termination if not otherwise properly includible or deductible in respect of such period, and such tax shall be immediately due and payable whether or not the time otherwise allowed by law for filing the return, and paying the tax has expired.

Collection

(b) The jeopardy assessments provided for in this section shall be immediately due and payable and proceedings for collection may be commenced at once; provided, that the taxpayer may stay collection and prevent the jeopardy assessment from becoming final by filing, within 10 days after the date of mailing or issuing the notice of jeopardy assessment, a petition for reassessment, accompanied by a bond or other security in such amount as the commissioner may deem necessary, not exceeding double the amount (including interest, penalties, and additions thereto) as to which the stay is desired. The commissioner shall consider such petition for reassessment, and notify the taxpayer of his decision thereon, which decision shall be final. If the taxpayer has so requested in its petition, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to grant said taxpayer, or its authorized representative, an oral hearing. If petition for reassessment, accompanied by bond or other security, is not filed within the 10-day period, the assessment shall become final.

Finding of commissioner

(c) In any proceedings brought to enforce payment of taxes made due and payable by virtue of the provisions of this section, the finding of the commissioner, made as herein provided, whether made after notice to the taxpayer or not, shall be for all purposes presumptive evidence that the assessment or collection of the tax or the deficiency was in jeopardy. A certificate of the commissioner of the mailing or issuing the notices specified in this section shall be presumptive evidence that such notices were mailed or issued.

Certificate

SEC. 14. Section 19 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Additional tax Notice

Sec. 19. As soon as practicable after the return is filed, the commissioner shall examine it and shall determine the correct amount of the tax If the commissioner determines that the tax disclosed by the original return is less than the tax disclosed by his examination he shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer at its post-office address (which must appear on its return) of the additional tax proposed to be assessed against it. Each notice shall set forth the details of the proposed additional assessment and of computing said tax.

Protest

Within 60 days after the mailing of said notice the taxpayer may file with the commissioner a written protest against the levy of the proposed additional tax, as computed by the commissioner, specifying therein the grounds upon which the protest is based. The protest must be under oath.

Hearing, etc

If no such protest is so filed the amount of the tax shall be final upon the expiration of said 60-day period. If a protest is so filed it shall be the duty of the commissioner to reconsider the computation and levy of the tax complained of, and if the taxpayer has so requested in its protest, it shall be the duty of the commissioner to grant said taxpayer, or its authorized representatives, an oral hearing. After consideration of the protest and the evidence adduced in the event of such oral hearing, the commissioner's action upon the protest shall be final upon the expiration of 30 days from the date when he mails to the taxpayer notice of his action, unless within that 30-day period the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the State Board of Equalization. The appeal must be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the commissioner at Sacramento. Said board shall hear and determine the same and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination, and the reasons therefor. Such determination shall be final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time of such determination unless within such 60-day period the determination is modified in which event it shall become final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time it is modified.

Appeal

Notice and demand

When a deficiency has been determined and the tax has become final under the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall mail notice and demand to the taxpayer for the payment thereof, and such tax shall be due and payable at the expiration of 10 days from the date of such notice and demand.

A certificate by the commissioner or of said board, as the case may be, of the mailing of the notices specified in this section shall be prima facie evidence of the computation and levy of the deficiency in tax and of the giving of said notices.

Limitation

Except in the case of a fraudulent return, every notice of additional tax proposed to be assessed hereunder shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed and no deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which such return was filed unless such notice is mailed within such period; provided, that in the case of any taxpayer which shall agree with the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue for an extension (or renewals thereof) of the period for proposing and assessing deficiencies in Federal income tax for any year, the period for mailing notices of proposed deficiency tax pursuant to this section shall (unless otherwise agreed between the commissioner and the taxpayer) be four years after the return was filed or six months after the date of the expiration of the agreed period for assessing deficiencies in Federal income tax, whichever period expires the later. For the purposes of this paragraph a return filed before the last day prescribed by law for the filing thereof shall be considered as filed on such last day.

Extension of assessment period

Where before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of the tax, the taxpayer has consented in writing to its assessment after such time, the tax may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period so agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

Any amount of tax in excess of that disclosed by the return, due to a mathematical error, notice of which has been mailed to the taxpayer, shall not be considered a deficiency assessment within the meaning of this section. The taxpayer shall have no right of protest or appeal as herein provided, based on such notice, nor shall such assessment or collection be prohibited by any of the provisions of this section. Excess tax due to mathematical error

SEC. 15. Section 20 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939, p 2902 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec. 20. If, in the opinion of the commissioner, or the State Board of Equalization, as the case may be, there has been an overpayment of tax, penalty or interest by a taxpayer for any year for any reason, the amount of such overpayment shall be credited against any taxes then due from the taxpayer under this act, and the balance shall be refunded to the taxpayer or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or to stockholders upon dissolution. No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made until approved by the State Board of Control. No such credit or refund shall be allowed or made after four years from the last day prescribed for filing the return or after one year from the date of overpayment, whichever period expires the later, unless before the expiration of such period a claim therefor is filed by the taxpayer, or unless before the expiration of such period the commissioner has certified the overpayment to the State Board of Control for approval of the refunding or the crediting thereof. A refund claim upon which action has become final shall not thereafter be considered a refund claim within the meaning of the foregoing provision except to the extent allowed. Every claim for refund must be in writing under oath and must state the specific grounds upon which the claim is founded. Credits and refunds Claim

If the commissioner disallows any claim for refund, he shall notify the taxpayer accordingly. At the expiration of 90 days from the mailing of such notice, the commissioner's action upon the claim shall be final unless within such 90-day period, the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the State Board of Equalization. If the commissioner fails to mail notice of action on any refund claim within six months after the claim was filed, the taxpayer may, prior to mailing of notice of action on the refund claim, consider the claim disallowed and appeal to said board. Appeals must be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the commissioner at Sacramento. Said board shall hear and determine the same and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination. Such determination shall be final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time of such determination unless within such 60-day period, the Disallowance Notice Appeal determination is modified in which event it shall become final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time it is modified.

Interest

Interest shall be allowed and paid upon any overpayment of any tax, if the overpayment was not made because of an error or mistake on the part of the taxpayer, at the rate of 6 per centum per annum as follows:

(1) In the case of a credit, from the date of the overpayment to the date of the allowance of the credit. Any interest allowed on any credit shall first be credited on any taxes due from the taxpayer under this act.

(2) In the case of a refund, from the date of the overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, such date to be determined by the commissioner.

Recovery of erroneous refunds

Any refund or any portion thereof which is erroneously made, and any credit or any portion thereof which is erroneously allowed, may be recovered, together with interest at the rate of 6 per centum per annum from the date the refund was made or the credit allowed, in an action brought by the commissioner in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California, and such actions shall be tried in the County of Sacramento unless the court, with the consent of the Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner, orders a change of place of trial. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner must prosecute such action and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for.

Tax illegally levied

In the event that a tax has been illegally levied against a taxpayer, the commissioner shall, in the absence of any other applicable provision in this act, certify such fact to the State Board of Control and said board shall authorize the cancellation of the tax upon the records of the commissioner.

SEC. 16. Section 21 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Evasion of tax

Sec. 21. If any return required by this act is not made, or if any taxpayer files a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade tax, the commissioner, at any time, may require a return or a supplementary return under oath, or may make an estimate of the net income, from any available information, and may compute the amount of tax, interest and penalties due under this act. All the provisions of this act, not in conflict herewith, relative to delinquent taxes shall be applicable to the tax, interest and penalties computed and levied hereunder. A proceeding in court for the collection of the tax, interest and penalties herein provided for may be begun without assessment at any time.

Bankruptcy

Upon the adjudication of bankruptcy of any taxpayer in any bankruptcy proceeding or the appointment of a receiver for any taxpayer in any receivership proceeding before any court of the United States or of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia, any deficiency (together with all interest, additional amounts, or additions to the tax provided for by law) determined by the commissioner in respect of a tax imposed by this act upon such taxpayer may be immediately assessed. In such cases the trustee in bankruptcy or receiver shall give notice in writing to the commissioner of the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver, and the running of the statute of limitations on the making of assessments shall be suspended for the period from the date of adjudication in bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver to a date 30 days after the date upon which the notice from the trustee or receiver is received by the commissioner; but the suspension under this sentence shall in no case be for a period in excess of two years. Claims for the deficiency and such interest, additional amounts and additions to the tax may be presented, for adjudication in accordance with law, to the court before which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending, despite the pendency of proceedings for the redetermination of the deficiency in pursuance of a petition to the Board of Equalization but no petition for any such redetermination shall be filed with said board after the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver. Any portion of the claim allowed in such bankruptcy or receivership proceeding which is unpaid shall be paid by the taxpayer upon notice and demand from the commissioner after determination of such proceeding and may be collected in the manner provided in this act for the collection of delinquent taxes at any time within six years after termination of such proceeding.

SEC. 17. Section 22 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1937 p 2184 See also Stats 1943, Ch 351

Sec. 22. The taxes imposed by this act and disclosed on the return shall constitute a lien upon the real property of the taxpayer, which lien shall have the same force, effect and priority as a judgment lien and shall attach on the last day of the "taxable year"; provided, that taxes imposed by this act and determined pursuant to the provisions of Sections 18 (a), 19 or 21 shall constitute a lien on all real property of the taxpayer located in any county in which there is filed for records in the office of the county recorder a certificate executed by the commissioner stating that payment of a tax determined under the provisions of Sections 18 (a), 19 or 21 of this act has been demanded and has not been paid, and specifying the amount thereof and the name of the taxpayer, and such lien shall attach at the time the certificate is recorded and shall have the same force, effect and priority as a judgment lien. The lien provided for in this section shall remain until the taxes are paid or the property subject to the lien is sold for the payment thereof; provided, however, that the commissioner may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to the lien from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens if he determines that the taxes are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer or that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of such taxes. A certificate by the commissioner to the effect that any property has been released from the lien herein provided for or that such lien has been subordinated to other liens shall be conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate. No decree of dissolution shall be made and entered by any court, nor shall the county clerk of any county or the Secretary of State file any such decree, or file any other document by which the term of existence of any taxpayer shall be reduced or terminated, nor shall the Secretary of State file any certificate of the surrender by a foreign corporation of its right to do intrastate business in this State until the tax, penalties, and interest shall have been paid or are secured by bond, deposit, or otherwise.

SEC. 18. Section 23 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Action to recover tax paid

Sec. 23. No injunction or writ of mandate or other legal or equitable process shall issue in any suit, action or proceeding in any court against this State or against any officer thereof to prevent or enjoin the assessment or collection of any tax under this act, but any taxpayer claiming that the tax computed and levied against it pursuant to Sections 18.1 and 19 of this act is void in whole or in part may bring an action against the commissioner for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount paid. Such action must be filed within four years from the last date prescribed for filing the return or within one year from the date the tax was paid, whichever period expires the later; provided, that no action shall be filed for the recovery of a deficiency assessment unless the taxpayer has made protest to the commissioner of the computation and levy complained of under the provisions of Section 19 hereof.

Limitation

Within 90 days after the mailing of the notice of the commissioner's action upon any refund claim, or in case of an appeal to the State Board of Equalization from the disallowance of any refund claim, within 90 days after the mailing of the notice of the board's determination of the appeal, the taxpayer may bring an action against the commissioner on the grounds set forth in such claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment.

If the commissioner fails to mail notice of action on any refund claim within six months after the claim was filed, the taxpayer may, prior to mailing of notice of action on the refund claim, consider the claim disallowed and bring an action against the commissioner on the grounds set forth in such claim for the recovery of the whole or any part of the amount claimed as an overpayment.

Service of papers

and the summons must be served upon the commissioner, or the assistant commissioner. A second copy of the complaint and summons must be furnished to the commissioner, but this requirement shall not be considered jurisdictional. At the time the commissioner demurs or answers, he may demand that the action be tried in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento, which demand must be granted. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner must defend the action. The provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings herein provided for. A failure to begin such action within the time herein specified shall be a bar against the recovery of such taxes. In any such action the court shall have power to render judgment for plaintiff for any part or portion of the tax, interest, penalties or cost found to be void and so paid by plaintiff upon such assessment.

Interest

In any judgment of any court rendered for any overpayment in respect of any tax imposed by this act, interest shall be allowed at the rate of 6 per centum per annum upon the amount of the overpayment, from the date of the payment or collection thereof to the date of allowance of credit on account of such judgment or to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, such date to be determined by the commissioner.

Substitution

In all actions now pending against the State Treasurer under the provisions of this act, the commissioner shall be substituted for the State Treasurer by the court wherein the action is pending. This substitution shall not in any way affect the rights of the plaintiff in said action.

If judgment is rendered against the commissioner, the amount thereof shall first be credited against any taxes and interest due from the taxpayer under this act and the remainder refunded to the taxpayer or its successor by the State Treasurer on warrant drawn by the Controller.

SEC. 19. Section 24 of The Corporation Income Tax Act of 1937 is hereby amended to read as follows:

Collection of delinquent taxes

Sec. 24. (a) At any time within three years after the determination of liability for any tax, penalties, and interest, or any installment thereof, the commissioner may bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the County of Sacramento in the name of the people of the State of California to collect the amount delinquent, together with penalties, and interest, and such action shall be tried in the County of Sacramento unless the court, with the consent of the Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner, orders a change of place of trial. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner must prosecute such action, and the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to service of summons, pleadings, proofs, trials, and appeals are applicable to the proceedings, herein provided for. In such action a writ of attachment may be issued, and no bond or affidavit previous to the issuing of said attachment is required. In such action a certificate by the commissioner showing the delinquency shall be prima facie evidence of the levy of the tax, penalties, and interest of the delinquency and of compliance by the commissioner and the State Board of Equalization with all the provisions of this act in relation to the computation and levy of the tax.

Seizure and sale of property

(b) At any time within which an action can be brought to collect any delinquent amounts as provided in the preceding paragraph, the commissioner may collect the tax, together with penalties and interest, in the following manner: The commissioner shall seize any personal property, owned by the corporation against whom the tax is assessed, and thereafter sell at public auction such property so seized, or a sufficient portion thereof, to pay the tax due hereunder, together with any interest, and any penalty or penalties imposed hereby for such delinquency, and any and all costs that may have been incurred on account of such seizure and sale. Notice of such intended sale and the time and place thereof, shall be given to such delinquent corporation and to all persons appearing of record to have an interest in such property, in writing at least 10 days before the date set for such sale by inclosing such notice in an envelope addressed to said corporation at its last known place of business in this State if any, and, in the case of any person appearing of record to have an interest in such property, addressed to such person at the last known place of residence, if any, and depositing the same in the United States mail, postage prepaid, and by publication for at least 10 days before the date set for such sale in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or city and county in which the property seized is to be sold; provided, however, that if there be no newspaper of general circulation in such county or city and county, then by the posting of such notice in three public places in such county or city and county for said 10-day period. The said notice shall contain a description of the property to be sold, together with a statement of the amount of the taxes, interest, penalties and costs, the name of the corporation, and the further statement that, unless such taxes, interest, penalties and costs are paid on or before the time fixed in said notice for such sale, said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary, will be sold in accordance with law and said notice.

Notice of sale

Disposition of proceeds of sale, etc

At any such sale, the property shall be sold by said commissioner or his duly authorized agent in accordance with law and said notice, and the commissioner shall deliver to the purchaser a bill of sale for the property so sold and such bill of sale shall vest title in the purchaser. The unsold portion of any property so seized may be left at the place of sale at the risk of said corporation. If, upon any such sale, the moneys so received shall exceed the amount of all taxes, interest, penalties and costs due the State from such corporation, any such excess shall be returned to the corporation and a receipt therefor obtained; provided, however, that if any person having an interest in or lien upon the property has filed with the commissioner prior to any such sale notice of such interest or lien the commissioner shall withhold any such excess pending a determination of the rights of the respective parties thereto by a court of competent jurisdiction.

If, for any reason, the receipt of such corporation shall not be available, the commissioner shall deposit such excess moneys with the State Treasurer, as trustee for such owner, subject to the order of such corporation or its successor through reorganization, merger, or consolidation, or its stockholders upon dissolution.

Action in Federal or foreign court

(c) The commissioner may bring an appropriate action (whether in the form of a common law action of debt or indebitatus assumpsit, or a code or other action), in any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States or in a foreign country, in the name of the people of the State of California, to recover the amount of any taxes and interest due under this act. The Attorney General or the counsel for the commissioner of this State must prosecute such action.

Remedies cumulative

(d) It is expressly provided that the foregoing remedies of the State shall be cumulative and that no action taken by the commissioner shall be or be construed to be an election on the part of the State or any of its officers to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this act.

Suspension of corporate powers

Investigation

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Because of the increased demand for workers of all kinds in industries directly connected with the prosecution of the war, and the induction of millions of men into the armed forces, a shortage of manpower exisits throughout the Nation, and particularly in the State of California. Lack of labor threatens shortages of foods, and endangers the successful prosecution of the war. Many recipients of old age aid are eager to contribute to the war effort by accepting employment, and physically able to do so, but are discouraged from accepting gainful employment which would render them ineligible for aid during the period of employment by the belief that the demand of their services is temporary, and the fear that on the cessation of employment, they will be without resources or income during the 90-day period of investigation now required to establish eligibility for aid. The shorter period of investigation of applications of former recipients of aid provided by this act will relieve that fear, and encourage those recipients of aid who are physically able to do so to accept employment and contribute their labor, directly or indirectly, to the war effort. To make this additional source of manpower available at the earliest possible time, and so to avert the threat of food shortages, and hasten the attainment of a victorious peace, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 44

An act relating to the performance by the Department of Public Works of highway and other cooperative work for the Federal Government, making an appropriation for administrative expenses, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In addition to the powers otherwise conferred upon the Department of Public Works, said department and each division thereof is hereby authorized to perform any engineering, architectural, construction, maintenance, or mechanical work for or on behalf of the Government of the United States, when requested so to do in writing by the Public Roads Administration, the Maritime Commission, the Army or the Navy, where such work is to be completely financed by Federal funds, except for general administrative expense, and said department may enter into agreements with the authorized officials of the United States for the performance of any such work. Any architectural or construction work on buildings shall be limited to projects on property owned or controlled by the State. Performance of work for Federal agencies

Any such agreement providing for such work to be done by Division of Architecture or Division of Water Resources shall be subject to the approval of the Department of Finance. Agreements

In the performance of any such federally financed work by the department, it may adopt any procedure as to the letting of contracts for, the conduct of, or the payment for, the work, that is requested by the authorized agents of the above mentioned agencies of the United States or required by Federal law, rules, or regulations. In the absence of any such requirement or request, such work shall be performed in accordance with the laws of this State. Procedure

The department and the California Highway Commission, as to such work to be performed by the Division of Highways, are and each of them is authorized to do any and all things in connection therewith as may be done in connection with State highways and may acquire therefor, in accordance with State law, any necessary property, real or personal, or interest therein. Work of Division of Highways

In addition to the purposes for which moneys are appropriated to said department or any division thereof, all of said moneys or so much thereof as may be necessary, are hereby appropriated and may be expended by the department for the performance of such work, provided that such expenditures shall be limited to those items for which the Government of the United States has agreed to reimburse the State in full, except for general administrative expenses which shall be Expenditures chargeable to the funds appropriated for the support or administration of the division doing the work. Such expenditures, to the extent to which the United States is obligated to reimburse the State, shall be considered as temporary advancements for the performance of such work and shall not be considered as expenditures of State funds. Such expenditures must be excluded in making the computations required by Section 695 of the Political Code, as added by Chapter 923, Statutes of 1933. Moneys received from the Government of the United States as reimbursements for such expenditures shall be deposited in the State Treasury to the credit of the fund from which the advancements were made.

Reimbursements

Appropriation

SEC. 2. The sum of twenty thousand dollars ($20,000) is hereby appropriated out of any moneys in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated, to the Department of Public Works for the support of the Division of Highways to cover the general administrative and administrative engineering expenses incurred by that division on work other than highway work performed for the Federal Government under this act and from said appropriation there shall be paid to the State Highway Fund quarterly an amount equal to 1 per cent of the funds expended for such Federal work, other than highway work. The State Controller shall pay such moneys upon claims filed by said department in the manner provided by law.

Duration

SEC. 2.5. This act shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first occurs, except that within six months thereafter the department may complete any work under way.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: The State of California by reason of its geographical location not only is in a combat zone but is the shipping point for a large portion of the war material being forwarded to the fighting fronts. As a result, there is a huge amount of construction, maintenance and mechanical work being and to be performed in California to further the war effort. The Federal Government is performing a large volume of such work, much of which is such that the Department of Public Works, by reason of its trained personnel, equipment, and facilities, is able to perform it economically and efficiently for the Federal Government. The Federal Government has asked assistance from said department in several instances, and it is necessary for the protection of the State and the efficient conduct of the war that this act take effect immediately so that all such assistance can be promptly given.

CHAPTER 45

An act to add Division 4.5, comprising Sections 6100 to 6149, inclusive, to the Labor Code, relating to benefits payable to employees of the State of California and their dependents, directly or through the medium of insurance, on account of injuries arising out of and occurring in the course of their employment, which injuries or resulting death are not compensable under the provisions of Division 4 of the Labor Code, to take effect immediately.

Submission of controversies

6145 The State, acting by or through any State agency, or when the consent of the opposing party is obtained, shall submit to the commission all controversies under this division susceptible of being arbitrated.

Powers of commission

6146. In acting as arbitrator, the commission has all the powers which it has in compensation cases, and its findings and award upon an arbitration have the same conclusiveness and are subject to the same mode of reopening, review, and enforcement as in compensation cases.

No fee or cost shall be charged by the commission for acting as arbitrator.

Election to sue State

6147. No State agency, either directly or through its adjusting agency, the State Compensation Insurance Fund, shall pay or provide any benefit authorized by this division unless and until the claimant makes and delivers to such State agency or to the fund an agreement in writing that if he, or his dependents in the event of his death, elects or elect to bring suit against the State with respect to the injury or death, except an action before the Industrial Accident Commission pursuant to the provisions of this division, or an action against the State for damages resulting from the negligence of an employee of another State agency, he or they will allow, and take all proper measures to effect, a credit to the reasonable value of all benefits which he or they have received under the provisions of this division, deductible from any verdict or judgment obtained in such suit, and from the date of commencement of suit will forego further benefits under this division.

until the claimant makes and delivers to the insurer an agreement in writing that if he, or his dependents in the event of his death, elects or elect to bring suit against the State or the insurer with respect to the injury or death, except an action before the Industrial Accident Commission pursuant to the provisions of this division, or an action against the State for damages resulting from the negligence of an employee of another State agency, he or they will allow, and take all proper measures to effect, a credit to the reasonable value of all benefits which he or they have received under the provisions of this division, deductible from any verdict or judgment obtained in such suit, and from the date of commencement of suit will forego further benefits under such insurance.

Agreement prior to injury

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Many persons in State employment are sustaining injuries, some fatal, which are not compensable under the workmen's compensation laws of California and they are unable to procure the medical care and support or protection of their dependents, which is urgently required in order efficiently to carry on the work of the State. It is necessary that some form of compensation be provided at the earliest possible moment for injuries to, and death of, such persons arising out of conditions which provide no relief under the workmen's compensation laws.

SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such shall go into immediate effect. Urgency

The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity:

The United States of America is now at war with certain foreign powers and its manpower is being severely taxed to meet the personnel requirements of the Army and Navy and the National defense plants necessary to supply the Army and Navy with materials, supplies and equipment; that the Federal Government has called upon the State and Federal prisons to turn their inmate manpower and equipment previously done by unskilled workmen, such as the harvesting and planting of crops, the fighting of forest fires and the salvaging of scrap to productive war work and particularly to do work of the unskilled workman; that under the present laws the State prisons can not utilize their inmate manpower and equipment to the fullest extent for war work and this act is necessary to accomplish this purpose.

SEC. 7. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Individuals serving the Nation outside its boundaries in time of war are unable to file their income tax returns within the time specified. Therefore it is necessary to the public welfare to permit an extension of time in filing these returns. It is a hardship for individuals serving their country to pay an income tax on the compensation received for these services, and they should be relieved of this burden.

CHAPTER 48

An act to authorize public agencies to withhold amounts from salaries and wages, paid by public agencies and to comply with provisions of internal revenue laws of the United States, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.]

Authorization

SECTION 1. The State, its agencies and political subdivisions, municipal corporations and all other public agencies are authorized to withhold from any wages or salaries paid by them to any person such portion thereof as may be required to be withheld by any law of the United States relating to internal revenue and to pay the sums so withheld at the times and in the manner provided by said law and to make such records, reports and returns as provided by said internal revenue laws, or the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Records and forms

SEC. 2. The Department of Finance of the State of California shall direct the manner and form in which each department, board, commission or other agency of the State of California shall maintain the records incidental to the withholding of funds pursuant to the authority provided in Section 1 and shall prescribe the forms to be used in making any returns, reports or payments except where such forms are provided by the internal revenue laws or the regulations promulgated thereunder.

Deposit and withdrawal of funds State

SEC. 3. All funds withheld pursuant to Section 1 by any unit of the State whose funds are deposited in the State Treasury shall, immediately upon such withholding, be deposited in the State Treasury in a "special deposit fund" as provided by Section 453a of the Political Code and shall be withdrawn in the manner provided by Section 453a.

Counties

SEC. 4. All funds withheld by any county pursuant to the authority set forth in Section 1 shall be deposited immediately upon such withholding in the county treasury as trust moneys and shall be withdrawn only on a warrant issued by the county auditor in fulfillment of the purpose for which said moneys were deposited.

Other public agencies

SEC. 5. Any public agency not within the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 hereinabove shall deposit all moneys withheld pursuant to the authority of Section 1 immediately upon such withholding in the depositary designated for the funds of such agency and such deposit shall be denominated "Victory Tax Trust Deposit" and shall be subject to withdrawal only upon order of the disbursing officer of such agency in fulfillment of the purpose for which said moneys were deposited.

Urgency

SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall take effect immediately. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The Federal Government has imposed a victory tax on all incomes and has provided for the withholding of a portion of all salaries and wages at the source for payment to the Federal Government. The funds so derived are necessary for the financing of the war. There is some doubt whether public agencies are now empowered to withhold such funds and make the necessary reports and payments to the Federal Government. Authorization of such withholding and payment is necessary to prevent impeding the war effort and the preservation of the public health, peace and safety.

SEC. 7. Neither this act nor any thing expressed in it is intended to or is to be construed as a denial of the power of any public agency to withhold wages and salaries prior to its effective date pursuant to the requirements of the Federal internal revenue laws.

CHAPTER 49

An act to amend Section 5.876 of the School Code and to amend Section 14536 of the Education Code, relating to the employment of persons retired under the State Teachers Retirement Act and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

Stats. 1943, Ch. 71, amended

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.]

If any person shall fail to comply with the requirements of the sentence immediately preceding, said employment shall be invalid. At any time prior to July 1, 1945, or prior to the termination of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged, whichever is the earlier, any person heretofore or hereafter retired under Section 5.870 hereof and any person heretofore or hereafter retired under Section 5.872 hereof after attaining an age at which the classification of persons as permanent employees of school districts ceases and who was not otherwise retired under said section because of bodily or mental infirmity may, after giving notice to the retirement board at its office in Sacramento, accept employment in any status requisite for membership in the retirement system or in any teaching capacity in a public school.

Other employment after retirement

Exception

If any person shall accept employment, in a status requisite for membership in the retirement system as provided in Section 5.840 hereof, or in any teaching capacity in a public school, after complying with the requirements of this section, his retirement allowance shall be canceled forthwith.

effect; at which time Section 5.876 of the School Code amended by this act is hereby repealed.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

A grave shortage of teachers for the public schools of California now exists. The employment of teachers heretofore retired under the provisions of the State Teachers Retirement Act but whose employment as teachers in the public schools is now prohibited by the provisions of said act will aid in relieving such shortage. In order that such persons may be so employed at the earliest possible time it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 50

An act to add Section 350.5 to the Political Code, relating to the sale or rental of tools or equipment of the State, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 350.5 is added to the Political Code, to read:

Sale or lease of equipment for war use

350.5. The head of each department, subject to the approval of the Department of Finance, may in his discretion sell or lease any tools or equipment under the control of his department to the Government of the United States or to any person designated by the War Production Board or its successor in authority, provided in either case that the War Production Board or such successor certifies to the head of the department that such tools or equipment or the rental thereof are required for use on any project or projects essential to the war effort. Notwithstanding any law or rule or regulation, such sales or leases may be made on an informal basis without the taking of bids.

Duration

SEC. 2. Section 350.5 as added by this act shall be effective until the cessation of hostilities in the present war, as declared by the President of the United States or by the Congress.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The war effort has made huge demands on available construction tools and equipment. A shortage of such tools and equipment now exists and may hereafter grow more serious. At any time the Federal Government may be required to request the sale or lease of construction equipment and tools owned by the States to itself or to its contractors engaged in projects essential to the war effort. In order that the State may be in position to cooperate to the fullest possible extent with the Federal Government in the prosecution of the war effort, it is necessary that immediate authorization to sell or lease such equipment, if the same be required for the war effort, be granted. It is, therefore, provided that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 51

An act to add Section 704 to the Civil Code, relating to the ownership of United States savings bonds or other obligations of the United States registered in the name of two persons as co-owners or registered in the name of one person with a named survivor, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 704 is added to the Civil Code, to read as follows: New section

704. All United States savings bonds or other bonds or obligations of the United States, however designated, now or hereafter issued, which are registered in the names of two persons as co-owners in the alternative, shall, upon the death of either of the registered co-owners, become the sole and absolute property of the surviving co-owner, unless the Federal laws under which such bonds or other obligations were issued or the regulations governing the issuance thereof, made pursuant to such laws, provide otherwise. U. S. savings bonds

All United States savings bonds or other bonds or obligations of the United States, however designated, now or hereafter issued, which are registered in the name of one person payable on death to a named survivor, shall, upon the death of the registered owner, become the sole and absolute property of the surviving beneficiary named therein, unless the Federal laws under which such bonds or other obligations were issued or the regulations governing the issuance thereof, made pursuant to such laws, provide otherwise.

This section shall not be construed to mean that prior to the enactment hereof the law of this State was otherwise than as herein provided.

IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Doubt has arisen as to the interpretation of Federal regulations governing the issuance of United States war savings bonds and other United States bonds and obligations. In order that questions of ownership be settled and the sale of these bonds be not obstructed by conflicting interpretations, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Stats. 1937, p. 2085, amended

An act to amend Section 86.2 of the State Civil Service Act, relating to oaths to be taken by persons in the State civil service, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor February 10, 1943 Filed with Secretary of State February 10, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1941, p. 1199

SECTION 1. Section 86.2 of the State Civil Service Act is amended to read:

Oath for civil service employees

Sec. 86.2. Every person who has not previously taken and subscribed the oath required by this section, shall within the first 30 days of his employment in a permanent position in the State civil service where such employment continues for 30 days or more, take and subscribe the following oath:

Contents

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm, as the case may be), that I will support the Constitution of the United States and the Constitution of the State of California, and that I will faithfully discharge the duties of the office of_____(insert classification title), according to the best of my ability."

Presumption

All such persons who take, subscribe and file such oath within the time herein provided shall be conclusively presumed to have been and to be legally holding their positions as far as this or any other law is concerned requiring that such person take and/or subscribe and/or file an oath.

Penalty

The failure of any person, required to take and subscribe said oath within the times provided in this section, shall be a cause for dismissal by the board in accordance with the procedure provided in Section 173.

Notification

Every appointing power shall notify every new employee immediately following his appointment of the provisions of this section.

Filing

The oath herein required shall be filed with the board within 30 days of the date when such oath is taken and subscribed. The board shall prepare and furnish printed forms of said oath.

The oath herein required may be taken by any employee before his appointing power or before any person authorized in writing by such appointing power, which authorization shall be filed with the board, or may be taken before any other person authorized by law to administer oaths. No fee shall be charged by any person before whom the oath herein provided may be taken and subscribed. Administration of oath

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the State Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Under the existing law it is necessary for the same individual to take and subscribe the oath prescribed by Section 86.2 of the State Civil Service Act each time he accepts an appointment to a new position, even though he has already taken and subscribed said oath for some other position. Urgency

The amendments made by this section will eliminate the necessity of many thousands of oaths being filed. It is necessary that such elimination be accomplished due to the shortage of supervisorial and clerical help and to save the materials and labor necessary in preparing the blank forms of said oath. It is therefore declared that this act shall take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 53

The prescribed courses have been intensified and shortened in furtherance of the war effort, resulting in students being ready to be graduated at an earlier age and with less experience. It is in the interest of the people of the State that those being graduated be licensed immediately to fill a present shortage of qualified pharmacists. In addition, certain of the students who have completed their courses are imminent for induction in the armed forces but are under 21 years of age, and unless permitted to take the examination now will be under a great handicap when they return from military service.

CHAPTER 58

An act to amend Section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to unlawful detainer.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor April 2, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State April 2, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1933, p. 1315

SECTION 1. Section 1161 of the Code of Civil Procedure is hereby amended to read as follows:

Unlawful detainer

1161. A tenant of real property, for a term less than life, or the executor or administrator of his estate heretofore qualified and now acting or hereafter to be qualified and act, is guilty of unlawful detainer:

Possession after expiration of term

1. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, of the property, or any part thereof, after the expiration of the term for which it is let to him, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be; including the case where the person to be removed became the occupant of the premises as a servant, employee, agent, or licensee and the relation of master and servant or employer and employee or principal and agent or licensor and licensee has been lawfully terminated or the time fixed for such occupancy by the agreement between the parties has expired; but nothing in this subdivision contained shall be construed as preventing the removal of such occupant in any other lawful manner; but in case of a tenancy at will, it must first be terminated by notice, as prescribed in the Civil Code.

Possession after default in rent

2. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, without the permission of his landlord, or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, after default in the payment of rent, pursuant to the lease or agreement under which the property is held, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring its payment, stating the amount which is due, or possession of the property, shall have been served upon him and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also upon such subtenant.

Such notice may be served at any time within one year after the rent becomes due. In all cases of tenancy upon agricultural lands, where the tenant has held over and retained possession for more than 60 days after the expiration of the term without any demand of possession or notice to quit by the landlord or the successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, he shall be deemed to be holding by permission of the landlord or successor in estate of his landlord, if any there be, and shall be entitled to hold under the terms of the lease for another full year, and shall not be guilty of an unlawful detainer during said year, and such holding over for the period aforesaid shall be taken and construed as a consent on the part of a tenant to hold for another year. Notice

3. When he continues in possession, in person or by subtenant, after a neglect or failure to perform other conditions or covenants of the lease or agreement under which the property is held, including any covenant not to assign or sublet, than the one for the payment of rent, and three days' notice, in writing, requiring the performance of such conditions or covenants, or the possession of the property, shall have been served upon him, and if there is a subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, also, upon such subtenant. Within three days after the service of the notice, the tenant, or any subtenant in actual occupation of the premises, or any mortgagee of the term, or other person interested in its continuance may perform the conditions or covenants of the lease or pay the stipulated rent, as the case may be, and thereby save the lease from forfeiture; provided, if the conditions and covenants of the lease, violated by the lessee, can not afterward be performed, then no notice, as last prescribed herein, need be given to said lessee or his subtenant, demanding the performance of the violated conditions or covenants of the lease. Possession after failure to perform conditions of lease

A tenant may take proceedings, similar to those prescribed in this chapter, to obtain possession of the premises let to a subtenant or held by servant, employee, agent, or licensee, in case of his unlawful detention of the premises underlet to him or held by him. Proceedings against subtenant

4. Any tenant, subtenant, or executor or administrator of his estate heretofore qualified and now acting, or hereafter to be qualified and act, assigning or subletting or committing waste upon the demised premises, contrary to the conditions or covenants of his lease, thereby terminates the lease, and the landlord, or his successor in estate, shall upon service of three days' notice to quit upon the person or persons in possession, be entitled to restitution of possession of such demised premises under the provision of this chapter. Subletting, etc., in breach of lease

Services by one district for another

1502. One school district may perform school services for another school district, and receive pay from the other school district for the performance of the school service, whenever a contract approved by the county superintendent of schools covering the performance of and the payment for school service has been entered into by and between the governing boards of the school districts concerned. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to authorize the establishment of separate schools for pupils for any reason other than those set forth in this code.

Interdistrict attendance

1503. The governing board of any school district may admit to the schools or classes maintained in the district any pupils who reside in another school district which maintains schools or classes of the grade level which the pupils desire to attend, whenever an agreement is entered into between the governing board and the governing board of the district of residence stipulating the terms upon which the interdistrict attendance shall be permitted, or, if the terms of a contract can not be agreed upon, whenever the county board of education having jurisdiction over the district of residence gives written authorization permitting the interdistrict attendance on such terms as may be agreed upon by the county board of education and the governing board of the district of proposed attendance.

Pupils may be admitted provisionally for a period of not exceeding two school months, pending decision by the governing boards of the school districts concerned, or by the county board of education relative to their permanent admittance.

Article 2. Change of Names of School Districts

At the hearing the board shall by resolution either grant or deny the petition, and, if granted, the clerk shall notify the county superintendent of the change of the name of the district.

Article 3. Destruction of District Records

Acceptance of affidavits

1551. Whenever in any school year the school register of any teacher, or other records of any elementary or high school district are destroyed by conflagration or public calamity, preventing the teacher and school officers from making their annual reports in the usual manner and with accuracy, affidavits of the teacher, the school principals, or other officers of the school district, certifying as to the contents of the destroyed register or other records, shall be accepted by all school authorities for all school purposes appertaining to the school district, except that of average daily attendance.

Acceptance of regular annual reports

1552. Article 4. Boundaries of Districts

Ascertainment of boundaries

1571. Every county superintendent shall inquire and ascertain whether the boundaries of the school districts in his county are definitely and plainly described in the records of the board of supervisors and keep in his office a full and correct transcript of the boundaries.

Correction

If the boundaries of districts are conflicting or incorrectly described, or if, by reason of the resubdivision of land or other change of property lines, the location of the boundaries becomes indefinite or conflicts with lines of assessment, the board of supervisors may correct and relocate the boundaries to follow definite, established property lines, conforming as nearly as practicable to the general location of the former boundaries.

Where boundary lines are corrected or relocated, the relocation of the new lines shall be made in such a manner that the majority of the area of the parcel or property affected determines the district in which the parcel or property is located. Nothing herein contained authorizes the board of supervisors, in relocating the boundaries, to substantially alter the former boundaries of school districts.

Printing

1572. The county superintendent, if he deems it necessary, may order the description of the district boundaries printed in pamphlet form, and pay for the pamphlets out of the unapportioned county school fund of the county.

Article 5. Formation and Changes in Territory and Status of Districts

Date of completion of proceedings

1591. Except as provided in this article, any action undertaken to form a new school district of any type or class, to annex or unite any territory or school district to or with another school district, to withdraw or exclude territory from any school district, to unionize or merge two or more school districts, to disestablish or disincorporate any school district, or to change the boundaries of any school district, shall be completed prior to the first day of February of the school year in which the action was begun and shall be effective on the first day of July next succeeding.

Effective date of attachment of lapsed district

1592. An order of a board of supervisors attaching the territory of any lapsed elementary school district to one or more adjoining districts shall be effective as of the date of the order for all purposes.

Effective date generally

1593. In the case of every other action referred to in this article, the action shall be effective on the date the action is completed for the following purposes:

(a) The determination of the assessed valuation of any district or districts affected by the action.

(b) The appointment or election of members of the governing boards of the school districts affected.

(c) The preparation and submission of school district budgets.

(d) The election or appointment of employees for the ensuing school year.

(e) The calling and conducting of elections for and the issuance and sale of school district bonds.

(f) The exercise by the governing boards of the school districts affected of other powers and duties vested in governing boards of school districts of the same type or class and not inconsistent with other provisions of this code.

(g) The holding of an election to determine whether a newly formed elementary school district, or a district comprised within a newly formed union or joint union elementary school district shall become a part of a high school district.

When territory may not be annexed

1594. Notwithstanding anything in this code to the contrary, no territory shall be taken from any school district having any outstanding bonded indebtedness and made a part of another district where the action, if taken, would so reduce the assessed valuation of the district from which the territory was taken that the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district would exceed 5 per cent of the assessed valuation remaining in the district. If the territory taken from any school district remains liable for the outstanding bonded indebtedness for which it would have been liable if it had not been taken from any school district, the provisions of this section shall not apply.

Annexation of two or more districts

1595. Whenever provision is made in this code for the annexation of one school district to another, two or more school districts adjoining each other may be annexed simultaneously to a school district contiguous to one or more of the adjoining districts. If one of the adjoining districts is not annexed to the contiguous school district and by reason of the failure to annex the district one or more of the adjoining districts is made noncontiguous to the district to which the district or districts were to be annexed, the annexation of such district or districts shall be void and of no effect.

Noncontiguous territory

1596. No territory which is not contiguous to a school district may be annexed, merged, united, or otherwise attached to, or made a part of, the district except in such cases as are specifically provided for.

Liability for bonded indebtedness

1597. When school districts are created or abolished, or the boundaries changed, the liability to taxation for the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district is as provided in this article. The authorities whose duty it is to levy taxes for the payment of principal and interest on the outstanding bonds, shall levy the taxes upon the districts affected in such proportions as are provided in or are determined under the authority of this article.

Formation of single district

1598. When any school district is united or in any manner merged with one or more school districts so as to form a single district, the district so formed is liable for all the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the districts united or merged.

Annexation to another district

1599. When territory is taken from one school district and annexed to another, the territory becomes liable to taxation for the bonded indebtedness of the district to which it is annexed.

The board of supervisors of the county in which the territory is situated shall, by order entered on its minutes, within 60 days after the changes, determine what proportion of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district from which it was taken was incurred for the acquisition or improvement of school lots or buildings, or fixtures therein, situated in the territory transferred. The district to which the territory was annexed shall thereupon become liable for the proportion of the indebtedness so determined.

Formation of new district from portion of existing district

1600. When any new school district is formed from a portion of the territory of one or more existing districts, either by incorporation of a city, or otherwise, the board of supervisors of the county shall, within 60 days after the formation of the new district, by order entered on its minutes, determine what proportion of the outstanding bonded indebtedness of the district or districts out of which the new district is formed, was incurred for the acquisition or improvement of school lots or buildings, or fixtures therein, situated in the new district. The new district shall thereupon become liable for the proportion of such indebtedness so determined.

In the case of joint districts, the board of supervisors of each county shall in the same manner determine the liability as to the territory in its county.

Withdrawal from existing district

1601. Whenever any territory withdraws from a union elementary or union high school district, the territory withdrawing shall continue to be liable for such portion of the bonded indebtedness of the union elementary school district or union high school district incurred before the withdrawal as it would have been liable for had it not withdrawn.

Effect of repeal

1602. The repeal of Section 2.75 of the School Code shall not impose any liability upon, or affect the liability of, any territory of a lapsed elementary school district situated in one high school district, which during the period when Section 2.75 was effective was attached to an elementary school district lying in another high school district.

Article 6. Districts Partly Within a Chartered City

Control by charter provisions

1621. A school district, a portion of which is embraced within the limits of any city governed by a charter proposed and adopted as provided by Section 8 of Article XI of the Constitution, may be subject to, controlled, and governed by the provisions of the charter relating to and providing for the management of public schools pursuant to this article.

Election

1622. The board of trustees of such school districts may provide for the holding of an election at the time and in the form and manner for holding elections for school trustees, for the purpose of submitting to the electors the question of whether the district shall be governed by the provisions of the charter.

Ballots

1623. The ballots used at the election shall contain the words "Shall the (name of district) be governed by the charter of the city of _____?" and the words "Yes" and "No" so placed that the voters may clearly indicate their choice in this connection.

Election returns

1624. The board having charge of the election shall count the ballots cast on the proposition and make return thereof to the board of trustees of the school district. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast on the proposition is in favor of the proposal, then the board of trustees shall certify the result to the board of education, provided for in the charter of the city. From and after the date of the certificate the school district shall be governed by the provisions of the charter relating to the establishment, management, and control of the public schools.

Participation in subsequent election

1625. If any school district or portion of any school district is embraced within the corporate limits of a city having a charter, and the electors of the school district have participated in and voted at any school election held subsequent to the adoption of and under the provisions of the charter, they shall be deemed to have submitted to be governed in all matters relating to the management of public schools within the school district or high school district as fully and to all intents and purposes as though the electors of the school district or high school district had by their votes elected to be governed by the provisions of the charter.

Electors

1626. All qualified electors residing in a school district described in this article, whether residing within or without the boundaries of the city, shall be entitled to vote for members of the board of education at any election held for that purpose.

Article 7. Districts in More than One County

Concurrent action of boards of supervisors

1651. When any school district is situated partly in two or more counties, all returns, reports, certificates, estimates, petitions, and other papers of any kind required to be filed with or presented to the board of supervisors by this code relating to schools and school districts, shall be filed with or presented to the supervisors of each county in which any portion of the district is situated. All actions required to be taken by the board of supervisors regarding such matters shall be taken by the concurrent action of the respective boards of supervisors of each county in which any portion of the district is situated.

Jurisdiction

1652. Whenever any school district is situated partly within two or more counties, jurisdiction over it is in the county superintendent of schools of the county in which the schoolhouse in the joint district is located.

Designation of superintendent

1653. When a new district is formed, the board of supervisors of each county in which any part of the district is situated shall designate, in the order creating the district, the county superintendent of the county in which the schoolhouse is, or will be located as the superintendent who shall have jurisdiction thereof.

Article 8. Expenses of School District Elections

If there is no newspaper of general circulation published in the district, notices of the election shall be given by posting.

1805. If the trustees neglect or refuse to call the election, then at any time 15 days prior to the date of the election, any three electors of the district may post notices and advertise as provided in Section 1804, except that notices shall be published once a week for two weeks. The cost of posting and advertising shall be a charge against the district.

Precincts and election officers

1806. Trustees or boards of education charged with the calling, conducting, and carrying on of elections, may subdivide the district into election precincts for the holding of the election, and may change and alter the precincts as often as occasion requires. They shall appoint one inspector and two judges of election in each precinct. If none are appointed, or, if those appointed are not present at the time for opening the polls, the electors present may appoint them, and they shall conduct the election.

SEC. 17. The money appropriated under the provisions of this act shall not be in excess of eight million two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($8,250,000) of the amount which otherwise would have been paid from the General Fund in the State treasury had this act not been enacted.

SEC. 18. Any moneys apportioned to the elementary school districts under this act which is in excess of the money which otherwise would have been apportioned under the provisions of Sections 4.1, 4.781, 4.782, 4.784, 4.791, 4.793, 4.794, and 4.796 of the School Code, or Sections 5151, 6952, 6953, 6957, 6972, 6974, 6975 and 6977 of the Education Code, shall be used only for the salaries of certificated employees of the elementary school districts.

SEC. 20. The sections added to the Education Code by this act shall remain in effect until June 30, 1945, and while they are in effect shall supersede any existing provisions of law with which they are in conflict; but such provisions are not repealed by said sections and after said sections are no longer effective shall have the same force as though these sections had not been enacted.

Pursuant to Sections 16 and 34 of the Constitution, the Governor approved Senate Bill 307 (Stats. 1943, Ch. 1085) subject to the following

I hereby reduce the appropriation made in S. B. 307 by reducing the limit of $8,250,000 specified in Section 17 thereof to $4,500,000. With this reduction I approve the bill. The reason for making this reduction is that it is my intention and belief that the amount of $4,500,000 should and will be fully sufficient to provide for the additional expenditures contemplated by the other sections of this bill during the ensuing fiscal year, and before the start of the second year of the biennium I anticipate that the Legislature will again be in session and will undoubtedly consider the need for providing further funds for the same purpose for the last one-half of the biennium.

its order. Whenever the fund is ordered reduced the person using it shall immediately return to the county treasury the amount necessary to reduce the fund, as ordered by the board. If the fund is discontinued, the person using it shall immediately refund the amount thereof to the county treasurer. In either event a reasonable time shall be allowed the person to reimburse himself by bills presented to the school district for expenditures legally made from the fund.

Article 2. Revolving Fund for Warehouse Stock

Establishment

5921. The governing board of any elementary school district, high school district, or junior college district may, if the school district maintains a stock of merchandise for school use, establish a revolving fund for budget control and stock accounting purposes, by adopting a resolution setting forth the necessity for the revolving fund, the purpose for which it shall be used and the amount thereof. Three certified copies of the resolutions shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools, who, if he approves the establishment of the fund, shall indorse his consent upon the resolution, return one copy to the governing board of the school district and transmit one copy to the county auditor.

Whenever two or more school districts have governing boards of identical personnel, the boards may, if the school districts maintain a stock of merchandise for school use, establish a common revolving fund for budget control and stock accounting purposes, by adopting a resolution of each district setting forth the necessity for the revolving fund, the purpose for which it shall be used and the amount thereof. Three certified copies of the resolutions shall be submitted to the county superintendent of schools, who, if he approves the establishment of the fund, shall indorse his consent upon the resolution, return one copy to the governing board of the school districts and transmit one copy to the county auditor.

Amount

5922. The amount of the revolving fund shall be determined as follows: The inventory of stores on hand of each school district at the time of the establishment of the fund, which have been paid for from school district funds and reported to the county superintendent, shall be the amount to constitute the revolving fund of each district.

Where a common revolving fund has been established for two or more school districts governed by governing boards of identical personnel, the amount shall be determined as follows: The inventory of stores on hand of each school district at the time of the establishment of the fund which have been paid for from school district funds and reported to the county superintendent of schools shall be the amount to constitute the revolving fund, and each district shall retain its equity in the common fund.

The fund is established through the sale of stores to the school districts, which shall be paid by warrant. The warrants shall be made payable to the "revolving fund of ____ ____." (Here insert name or names of the school district or school districts establishing the fund.)

Use

5923. The revolving fund, when established, shall be used for the purchase of stores to be placed in stock. Purchases shall be made in the manner prescribed by law. Nothing contained in this article shall be construed as repealing any other provisions of law relating to school district funds.

Custody

5924. The revolving fund shall be kept by the county treasurer as a separate fund and shall be subject to such uses only as are provided by law.

School district charge

5925. The warehouse is a school plant and the costs of maintaining and operating it is a legal charge of the school district, and shall be audited and paid as other claims against the funds of the district.

Article 3. Temporary Transfers From County Funds

Transfer

5941. Whenever prior to the receipt by any school district of its State, county, city and county, or district funds, any school district of a county or city and county does not have sufficient money to its credit to meet current expenses of maintenance, the board of supervisors of the county or city and county shall order, and the auditor and treasurer of the county or city and county shall make a temporary transfer from any funds of the county or city and county not immediately needed to pay claims against them to the school fund of the district of the amount needed, not exceeding 85 per cent of the amount of money which will accrue to the school district during the fiscal year. Upon the making of the transfer the auditor shall immediately notify the superintendent of schools of the county or city and county of the amount transferred. Each transfer of funds requested under this section shall be granted in order of receipt by the board of supervisors, regardless of whether sufficient county funds are available for transfer to meet pending or anticipated requests of school districts.

Retransfer

The funds transferred under this section to the credit of a school district shall be re-transferred by the auditor and treasurer to the fund from which they were taken from the first moneys accruing to the school district and before any other obligation of the school district is paid from the money accruing.

Article 4. Special Building Fund

Purpose

5961. The governing board of a school district may, in the manner prescribed in this article, provide for the accumulation over a period not exceeding five school years of funds derived from the receipts of taxes levied for the district and not required to be used for other than capital outlay purposes.

Survey and recommendation

5962. The Division of Schoolhouse Planning of the State Department of Education upon making a survey of the building needs of any school district shall upon request of the governing board of the district recommend to the board the establishment of a special accumulative building fund of the district in the county treasury, the total amount of money that should be accumulated for capital outlay purposes, and the amount that should be placed in the fund each year.

Establishment

5963. Upon request of the board, the Chief of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning, with the written approval of the governing board of the district, the Superintendent of Public Instruction, and the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district, shall make and file with the auditor and treasurer of the county, the superintendent of schools of which has jurisdiction over the district, identical affidavits setting forth the total amount of money to be accumulated in the special accumulative building fund of the district, the school year in which the accumulation is to begin, and the amount to be paid into the fund for each school year. The affidavits when filed shall establish in the county treasury the special accumulative building fund of the district, and shall become an order on the auditor and treasurer to transfer to the fund during each school year the amounts set forth therein.

Expenditure

5964. During the last school year funds are accumulated in the special accumulative building fund of the district or during the next succeeding school year, the money in the fund shall be expended for capital outlays in accordance with the recommendations of the Chief of the Division of Schoolhouse Planning and the county superintendent of schools having jurisdiction over the district.

Alteration of plan

5965. If at any time during the period of time covered by the affidavits, it becomes necessary or desirable to alter the plan set forth therein for the accumulation of moneys in the special accumulative building fund of the district, affidavits may be filed with the auditor and treasurer in the form and manner provided in Section 5963, setting forth the plan as altered, and the affidavits when filed shall supersede the affidavits first filed and shall constitute an order on the auditor and treasurer to transfer to the fund during each school year the amounts set forth therein.

Continuance of existing funds

Limitation of expenditure

5967. The payment of moneys into, or the expenditure of moneys from, the special accumulative building fund of a school district shall not be subject to any law heretofore or hereafter enacted by the Legislature limiting the expenditures of budgets of school districts.

Excess money

5968. Any moneys remaining in the special accumulative building fund of the district after all expenditures have been made therefrom shall be transferred to the general fund of the district by the auditor and treasurer upon written request of the governing board of the district, and the auditor and treasurer shall notify the county superintendent of schools of the transfer and the amount thereof.

CHAPTER 9. WARRANTS AND ORDERS

Article 1. Orders, Requisitions and Warrants Generally

Payments

6101. Except as otherwise provided in this code, money shall be paid from the funds of any school district for the payment of the expenses of the district, only as provided in this article.

Orders

6102. All payments from the funds of a school district shall be made by written order of the governing board of the district. Orders shall be on forms prescribed by the county superintendent of schools and approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Forms shall be printed and furnished by the board of supervisors.

Signatures

6103. Each order drawn on the funds of a school district shall be signed by at least a majority of the members of the governing board of the district, or by a person or persons authorized by the governing board to sign orders in its name. No person other than an officer or employee of the district shall be authorized to sign orders.

Same

6104. The governing board of each school district shall be responsible for filing or causing to be filed with the county superintendent of schools the verified signature of each person, including members of the governing board, authorized to sign orders in its name. No order on the funds of any school district shall be approved by the county superintendent of schools unless the signatures are on file in his office and he is satisfied that the signatures on the order are those of persons authorized to sign the order.

Contents of orders

6105. Each order drawn against the funds of a school district shall be numbered and shall state: (a) the particular fund or funds of the district against which it is drawn, (b) the purpose and amount of the payment to be made from each fund, and (c) the rate of salary and the period of service of any employee of the district for whom an order is issued for payment of salary or wages. If drawn for any purpose other than the payment of salaries or wages of school district employees, the order shall be accompanied by an itemized bill showing the separate items, and the price of each.

Approval by county superintendent

6106 Each order drawn against the funds of a school district shall be transmitted to the county superintendent of schools, and, if approved and signed by him shall become a requisition on the county auditor.

Same

6107. The county superintendent of schools shall examine each order on school district funds transmitted to him, in the order in which it is received in his office. If it appears that the order is properly drawn for the payment of legally authorized expenses against the proper funds of the district, and that there are sufficient moneys in the fund or funds against which the order is drawn to pay it, he shall indorse upon it "examined and approved," and shall, in attestation thereof, affix his signature and number and date the requisition and transmit it directly to the county auditor, in the order in which the order is received in his office.

Disapproval

6108. If the order is disapproved by the county superintendent of schools, it shall be returned to the governing board of the school district, except as otherwise provided in this code for the registration of warrants, with a statement of his reasons for disapproving the order.

Approval by auditor

6109. The county auditor shall examine each order and requisition on school district funds transmitted to him by the county superintendent of schools. If he allows the order and requisition, he shall indorse thereon "examined and allowed," and shall date, number, and sign it, whereupon it shall become a warrant on the county treasurer. The auditor shall detach any bill attached to the requisition, and shall number the bill, giving it the same number which he gives the warrant, and file it in his office. He shall thereupon return the order, requisition, and warrant to the county superintendent of schools who shall transmit it to the governing board of the school district for issuance to the payee or to his order.

Any requisition of the county superintendent of schools, whether based upon written order of the governing board of a school district or authorized by law, shall constitute full authority for the signature for allowance thereof by the county auditor as a warrant on the county treasurer, and no other authority shall be necessary or required for such action by the county auditor.

"Requisition," as used in this section, includes any order or demand signed by the county superintendent of schools directing the county auditor to draw his warrant on the county treasurer.

Pay roll orders

6110. The governing board of any school district may, with the approval of the county auditor and county treasurer, in lieu of issuing single orders for the payment of the salary or wages of each employee, issue pay roll orders, on forms prescribed by the county superintendent of schools and approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the payment of the salaries or wages of two or more employees. Pay roll orders may be drawn only for the payment of salaries and wages of employees, and shall constitute requisitions on the county auditor and warrants on the county treasurer when approved and signed by the county superintendent of schools and allowed and signed by the county auditor, respectively.

Contents

6111. Each pay roll order drawn pursuant to this article shall be drawn, approved, and issued in the same manner and shall contain the same minimum content as prescribed for single orders. Each pay roll order shall list the names of all employees in whose favor the order is drawn and shall state the amount of money due each. In the case of an attachment of the salary or wages of any employee listed on the order, the attachment shall affect only the salary or wages of the particular employee.

Attachment

Register of warrants

6112. The superintendent of schools of each county shall keep, open to the inspection of the public, a register of warrants, showing the fund upon which the requisitions have been drawn, the number, in whose favor, and for what purpose they were drawn.

Payment

6113. Orders for the payment of wages and pay roll orders for the payment of wages of employees employed full time in positions not requiring certification qualifications shall be drawn twice during each calendar month on days designated in advance by the governing board of each school district to which this section is made applicable. Labor performed between the first and fifteenth days, inclusive, of any calendar month shall be paid for between the sixteenth and twenty-sixth day of the month during which the labor was performed, and labor performed between the sixteenth and the last day inclusive, of any calendar month, shall be paid for between the first and tenth day of the following month.

The governing board of every school district which has an average daily attendance of 5,000, or more, shall make the provisions of this section applicable to the board, whenever a majority of the employees of the district employed full time in positions not requiring certification qualifications petition the board in writing to do so.

The governing board of a district which has an average daily attendance of less than 5,000 may, on the petition in writing of a majority of the employees of the district, employed full time in positions not requiring certification qualifications, make the provisions of this section applicable to the board.

Pay roll

6114. In any county, except counties having a population in excess of 1,000,000, the county superintendent of schools, with the approval of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the county board of education and the county auditor, may prescribe a pay roll procedure, to be followed by all districts in the county, under which the school district governing boards, by use of pay roll orders, shall authorize and direct the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor to draw separate pay roll warrants in the names of the individual district employees for the respective amounts set forth therein to the end that each employee may be furnished with a statement of the amount earned and an itemization of the amounts withheld therefrom under requirements of the law or by direction of the employee.

Such pay roll warrants shall show the closing date of the pay period for which issued and the date of issue, the name of the district by which the payee was employed and a statement that it is drawn by order of the governing board of the district and shall bear the signatures of the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor.

The pay roll order may direct the transfer from the districts' funds to a clearing fund in the county treasury, to be known as the schools pay roll revolving fund, of the total of the amount of the pay roll warrants to be issued under the order to the end that pay roll warrants for all districts may be drawn against a single revolving fund. The pay roll order may further direct the transfer from the districts' funds of the totals of the various deductions set forth therein to the trust funds in the county treasury entitled to receive credit for them and may further direct the proper disbursement of such trust amounts.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 694.)

Article 2. Cancellation of Warrants

Failure to present

6136. Whenever any warrant issued by the governing board of a school district is not presented for payment within two years after the due date of the warrant, or whenever any order, demand, or warrant issued by the governing board of a school district but not approved by the county superintendent of schools for want of funds is not presented for payment within two years after notice that the order, demand, or warrant will be approved upon presentation has been given, the order, demand, or warrant shall be canceled by the governing board of the district issuing it, and the county superintendent of schools shall be notified of the cancellation.

New order

6137. Upon the demand of the owner of any order, demand, or warrant so canceled the governing board of the school district which issued it shall draw a new order in the same amount, in the name of the same person and payable out of the same fund as the order, demand, or warrant canceled.

Records

6138. The county superintendent of schools shall keep a record of all orders, demands, or warrants canceled and of all orders, demands, or warrants issued in lieu of those canceled.

Article 3. Lost or Destroyed Warrants

Affidavit and bond

6151. Whenever any warrant legally drawn on the funds of a school district is lost or destroyed before payment by the county treasurer, the amount due on it may be recovered by the legal owner or custodian thereof, by filing with the county auditor:

(a) An affidavit setting forth the facts of the loss or destruction of the warrant, giving the number, date, amount, and name of the payee, together with all material facts relative to its loss or destruction.

(b) A bond of indemnity, with two good and sufficient sureties, in double the amount of the face of the particular warrant, which shall be referred to the county auditor and to the district attorney, county counsel, or other officer who is the legal adviser of the governing board of the school district, for approval or rejection.

Approval

6152. The county auditor and the district attorney, county counsel, or other officer who is the legal adviser of the governing board of the school district shall examine and pass upon the sufficiency of the bond and approve or reject it within 30 days after it is filed with the county auditor.

Duplicate warrant

6153. Upon the filing of the approved bond, the county auditor shall issue and deliver to the legal owner or claimant, on demand, a duplicate warrant for the full amount of the original warrant. The county treasurer shall pay the duplicate, in lieu of the original warrant. When the legal owner or claimant is the State, a city, county, city and county, school district, or other political subdivision of the State, no bond shall be required.

Records

6154. The auditor and the treasurer shall each make the proper entries on their books showing the warrants to have been lost or destroyed and the issuance of duplicate warrants in lieu thereof.

Article 4. Registration of Orders on District Funds

Lack of funds

6171. When any order against the funds of a school district is presented to the county superintendent of schools, and the order constitutes a valid claim against the funds of the district, and moneys are not available in the funds of the district from which to pay the order, he shall indorse on the order the words "Not approved for want of funds" and shall register the order in the records of his office.

Method of registration

6172. The county superintendent of schools shall number and date the registered order and shall transmit the registered order to the governing board of the school district which drew the order, and it shall deliver the registered order to the payee or his order. From the date of registration the registered order shall bear interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum until the date upon which notice is given, pursuant to this article, that the county superintendent of schools is ready to approve the registered order.

Notice of availability of funds

6173. Whenever moneys are available for the payment of the registered order the county superintendent of schools shall give notice, in a newspaper published in the county, or if there is no newspaper, by written notice posted at the courthouse, stating that he is ready to approve the order. The notice may list any number of registered orders of one or more districts for the payment of which moneys are available, giving the name or names of the district or districts and listing the registered orders in the order of registration for each district.

Presentation

6174. At the time of giving the notice the county superintendent of schools shall set aside in the funds of each district for a period of 60 days the amount necessary for the payment of the registered orders of the district listed in the notice. If any registered order is not presented to the county superintendent of schools for payment within 60 days after the notice has been given, and moneys are not available to pay the registered order at the time of presentation, it shall not be approved until money becomes available for that purpose and notice is again given that the county superintendent of schools is ready to pay it.

Approval and payment

6175. The county superintendent of schools shall approve the registered orders of each district, and sign them as requisitions on the county auditor, in the order of their presentation. He shall enter on each the amount of interest due and the total amount, including principal and interest, payable. Each approved registered order shall thereupon be governed by the procedure established in this code relative to payments from school district funds.

Alternative method of approval and payment

6176. As an alternative to the method provided in Section 6175, when any corporation, firm, or person presents two or more registered orders for payment at the same time, registered on the same date, and issued against the funds of the same district, the registered orders may be approved, allowed, and consecutively numbered by the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor as requisitions and warrants on the funds of the district, and a special interest requisition may be issued by the county superintendent of schools against the funds of the district for the total amount of the interest payable on the registered orders.

Special interest requisition

6177. The special interest requisition shall bear upon its face substantially the following notation: "In full payment of interest due on warrants numbered _____ to _____, inclusive, of the _____ school district."

Numbering

6178. The special interest requisition shall be numbered by the county superintendent of schools and county auditor, being given the number immediately succeeding the number assigned to the last of the requisitions and warrants referred to in Section 6176.

Report of interest

6179. The county superintendent of schools shall report to the county treasurer and the county auditor within 10 days after the end of each month the amount of the interest computed pursuant to this article. The report shall show each district for which interest has been computed, the numbers of the registered orders for which the interest is to be paid, and the total amount of the interest charged to each district. He shall also, upon transmitting to the governing board of any school district registered orders which have been approved and allowed as warrants against the funds of the district, report in writing to the clerk or secretary of the district the amount of interest computed on the registered orders and the numbers of the registered orders for which the interest is to be paid.

Article 5. Optional Method of Registering Warrants

Alternative method of registration

6191. In lieu of the method provided in Article 4 of this chapter for the registration of school district orders, the provisions of this article may be followed upon resolution adopted by the county board of supervisors of any county.

Indorsement and approval

6192. When any order on school district funds is received by the county superintendent of schools and there is insufficient money in the fund or funds against which the order is drawn to pay the order in full, the county superintendent shall indorse on the order "to be registered for lack of sufficient funds," sign, date, and number it as a requisition on the county auditor, and transmit the requisition to the county auditor. The county auditor shall indorse on the order "examined and allowed," sign, date, and number it as a warrant on the county treasurer, and return the warrant to the county superintendent of schools who shall transmit it to the governing board of the school district for issuance to the payee or to his order.

Procedure

6193. When the warrant is presented to the county treasurer for payment, he shall indorse, register, advertise, and pay it, with interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum, in the manner prescribed, as nearly as may be, for county warrants in Sections 4105, 4106, 4107, 4108 and 4110 of the Political Code.

Failure to present

6194. If the warrants are not again presented for payment within 60 days from the time the notice provided for in Section 4106 of the Political Code is given, the fund set aside for the payment of the warrants shall be applied by the treasurer to the payment of unpaid warrants next in order of registry.

Report of interest

6195. Within 10 days after the end of each month, the county auditor shall report to the superintendent of schools the amount of interest added to registered warrants and paid during the preceding month. The report shall show each district to whose registered warrants, paid during the month covered by the report, interest was added and the amount of the interest for the district. The superintendent of schools shall immediately report, in writing, to the clerk or secretary of each district for which interest was paid, the amount of the interest paid for the district.

(b) The budget shall also contain an amount to be known as the general reserve in such sum as the governing board of the district deems sufficient for the school year subsequent to that for which the budget is intended to apply to meet the cash requirements to which the district's credit may be legally extended for that portion of the subsequent school year prior to the receipt of taxes levied for the district.

(c) The budget may also contain an amount to be known as the undistributed reserve. The funds in the undistributed reserve shall be available for appropriation by a two-thirds vote of the members of the governing board, to cover expenditures that have not been provided for or that may have been insufficiently provided for, or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise.

Same

6302. The budget shall show the estimated cash balances on hand for the school district according to the records of the county auditor, exclusive of receipts from bond sales and gifts or donations by reason of bond sales, and appropriations from the State School Fund, the State High School Fund, the State Junior College Fund, the State Vocational Education Fund, and the State General Fund according to the demand upon the State Controller made by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The budget shall also show other known income and estimates of income not definitely known.

Limitation on expenditures

6308. The total amount budgeted as the proposed expenditure of the school district for each major classification of school district expenditures listed in the school district budget forms prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall be the maximum amount which may be expended for that classification of expenditures for the school year. Transfers may be made from the undistributed reserve to any expenditure classification or between expenditure classifications at any time by written resolution of the board of education of any school district governed by a board of education, when filed with the county superintendent of schools and the county auditor, or by written resolution of the board of trustees of any school district not governed by a board of education, when approved by the county superintendent of schools and filed with the county auditor. Nothing in this section shall be construed as affecting the provisions of Sections 6358 and 6359.

Allocation of public money

6309. Notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, whenever money is allocated or apportioned to a school district by the Government of the United States or any agency thereof, or by the State or any agency thereof, through the Department of Education, the Director of Education, Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Board of Education, the State Board for Vocational Education, or any of them, and no provision for the expenditure of the moneys has been made in the budget of the district, the moneys nevertheless shall be placed in the county treasury to the credit of the district and may be expended for the purposes for which the money was allocated to the district during the school year in which it is received, as though the expenditure of the money were provided for in the budget of the district.

Kindergarten

6310. The governing board of every school district in which a kindergarten is maintained shall include in the budget required to be submitted to the county superintendent of schools an estimate of the amount of money which will be required for kindergarten maintenance for the ensuing school year.

Article 2. Financial Reports

Annual statement

6331. On or before the first day of August of each year the governing board of each school district shall prepare and keep on file for public inspection a statement of all receipts and expenditures of the district for the preceding fiscal year and a statement of the estimated total expenses for the district for the current fiscal year.

circulation published within the district, or if there is no newspaper in the district, then in a newspaper published nearest to the district, prior to its adoption. The cost of the publication shall be a proper and legal charge against the school district or districts for which the publication is made, and shall not exceed the rate fixed by the board of supervisors for official advertising. Publication shall be made during the last week in July of each year, and shall contain a notice that a public hearing will be held before the governing board of the school district, in a schoolhouse in the district, or in some other place conveniently accessible to the residents of the district, during the first week of August, at which any taxpayer in the district may appear and object to the proposed budget or any item of the budget. The budget shall not be finally adopted by the trustees until after the public hearing has been held. Public hearing 6335. Any violation of this article or a failure to comply with its provisions by the county superintendent of schools or by the governing board of any school district is punishable under Section 176 of the Penal Code. Violation.

Similar information of value to the public regarding the school system may be printed and distributed from time to time, or published not oftener than once a year, in a newspaper of general circulation published within the district. Pamphlet financial statement

Article 3. District Taxes

6351. After approving the budget of a school district, the county superintendent of schools shall determine the amount of money which must be provided by a school district tax. Determination of tax

6352. He shall determine this amount by deducting from the total estimated needs of the school district as shown by its budget the total estimated income of the school district from all sources other than a school district tax for the current school year as estimated in the budget. The remainder, if any, shall be the minimum amount of the school district tax to be levied by the board of supervisors for the particular school district. Method of determination

6353. The board of supervisors of each county or city and county shall annually at the time and in the manner of levying county or city and county taxes levy and cause to be collected a district tax for each school district whose budget shows a district tax to be necessary. Tax levy

6355. The board of supervisors shall fix such a rate for the district tax as will produce the amount of district tax money requested by the particular district.

Fixing of rate

6356. The board of supervisors shall determine the rate of district tax necessary to be levied as follows:

They shall deduct 10 per cent from the equalized value of the last general assessment roll for the district. The rate is, the amount required to be raised, divided by the remainder of the assessment roll.

Maximum rates

6357. Except as otherwise provided in this code, the maximum rate of school district tax which may be levied for all school purposes, exclusive of bond interest and redemption, for any school district in any school year on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation within the district shall be as follows:

The estimated average daily attendance shall be employed as the actual average daily attendance for that school year for all apportionment purposes.

Public emergency

6787. The average daily attendance of any school district in which the average daily attendance has been materially decreased during any school year, because of conflagration, impassable roads, or other public calamity or because of epidemic of unusual duration and prevalence, or because of an order, as provided in Section 6740, shall be estimated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in such manner as to credit to the school district for apportionment purposes approximately the total average daily attendance which would have been earned had the conflagration, other public calamity, epidemic, or emergency not occurred.

Same

In case of conflagration or other public calamity, or because of the inability to maintain any school or schools, or class or classes, because of an order, as provided in Section 6740, the Superintendent of Public Instruction shall decide whether the attendance of the district has been affected sufficiently to justify the application of the provisions of this article and shall notify the superintendent of schools of the county in which the school district is situated of his decision.

The staff of every 24-hour school shall make adjustment as rapidly as possible in order that the period of time the child is away from ordinary community life may be as brief as possible. They shall place the minors in proper homes where they will be assured of suitable educational opportunities, and shall cooperate with child placement agencies to this end and to stimulate proper care of the minors by their parents.

Establishment

9452. Any elementary school district, with the approval of the State Board of Education, may establish and maintain one or more 24-hour elementary schools in the discretion of the governing board of the district. 9455. The governing board maintaining a 24-hour school may assign to the school any minor between the ages of eight and 16 years who is a resident of the school district whose parent or guardian does not exercise proper care, supervision, and guidance over him, or who is, by reason of insubordinate conduct, or refusal to obey the rules and regulations of the school authorities, in need of special educational training and discipline to prevent him from becoming subject to the provisions of the juvenile court law. The pupil may be assigned to the school by order of the superintendent of schools of the district, approved in writing by the parent, or guardian in compliance with the recommendation of the board of admission. If the parent or guardian of the pupil enters into a contract with the school district for the support of the pupil, he may be maintained in the school for the period of the assignment.

Commitment

9456. If the parent or guardian of the pupil refuses to enter into a contract providing for the payment to the school district of a sum sufficient to meet the average cost of maintaining a pupil within the school, including meals and a reasonable sum for lodging, and if the presence of the child within another school of the district or within its home is a menace to the future welfare of other children or of the child itself, the superintendent of schools of the district shall cause to be filed in the superior court of the county in which the district is located, acting in the department of the court performing the functions of the juvenile court, or in any other court of competent jurisdiction, a complaint asking for an order of the court, committing the child to the 24-hour school and fixing the amount the parent or guardian shall pay for his maintenance until such time as the superintendent of schools of the district reports to the court that the best interests of the minor will be served by his discharge from the school. A copy of the complaint shall at the same time be furnished the parent or guardian. If the parent or guardian is unable to pay the amount, the court may in the order provide for the payment by the county in which the district is located of a sum sufficient to cover the costs of maintenance of the child during the period of his commitment to the school.

Report

9457. The principal of any school in the district in which there has been established a 24-hour school shall report to the superintendent of schools of the district, after conference held with the parent or guardian, any pupil in his school who he believes comes within the provisions and intent of this article. Release

9459. If the minor has been placed in the 24-hour school by order of the superintendent of schools of the district, the parent or guardian with whose consent the minor was placed in the school, upon application to the superintendent of schools who placed him therein, may secure the release of the minor and his restoration to the care, custody, and control of the parent or guardian. The superintendent of the district shall require a written report from the principal of the 24-hour school, giving the progress of the child and the advisability of the release of the child from the 24-hour school. If the report indicates that the minor is in need of further care and treatment and that his release would be detrimental to his own welfare or the welfare of others, the superintendent of the district may report the minor to the juvenile court or other proper court for action.

Return of minor

9460. If, in the opinion of the principal of any 24-hour school, the further detention of any minor is detrimental to the minor, the minor may upon order of the principal be returned to the superintendent of schools of the district in which the school is located or to the court which committed him, as may seem necessary for the best interest of the child.

Absence

9461. Any pupil who absents himself from any 24-hour elementary school without permission being first obtained from the principal shall be deemed an habitual truant within the meaning of paragraph (j) of Section 700 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, and dealt with as such.

Any person who contributes to the absence of any pupil from the school without permission first having been obtained from the principal, or advises, connives at, or aids or assists in such absence or conceals any pupil after such absence is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Residence

9463. The principal shall reside in the 24-hour school and shall be furnished suitable quarters, furniture, food, supplies, and laundry for himself and his family. The governing board of the district may make provision for maintenance of such individual instructors, officers, and employees as the interests of the school in its judgment require to reside on the premises.

Clinics

9464. Each 24-hour school may conduct clinics for the diagnosis and observation of children and may advise parents and school authorities regarding courses of study or treatment in the interests of the normal development of any child and to prevent waywardness and delinquency.

Expenses of school

9465. The cost of securing sites or constructing and equipping buildings and in general the cost of housing and equipping any 24-hour school including the necessary dormitories, dining halls, and other living quarters for pupils and employees of the district shall be a charge against the funds of the school district maintaining it. The governing board of any district may employ such principals, assistants, teachers, and employees as are necessary in the judgment of the board for the proper conduct of the 24-hour school and may pay them from the funds of the school district. The expenses of lodging and boarding pupils residing within the buildings of any 24-hour school shall be paid from the sums received from contracts with the parents or guardians of the pupils, or from the funds of the county within which the school is located paid to the school district in pursuance of court orders for the maintenance of pupils.

All emergency schools shall be maintained in accordance with standards prescribed by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

The county superintendent of schools of any county maintaining one or more elementary emergency schools may, if the county maintains a county library, enter into an agreement with the proper authorities of the county to establish a branch county library in each of the schools under such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon. The agreement may, among other matters, provide for the payment by the county superintendent of schools to the proper authorities for the use of the county library from the unapportioned county elementary school fund of such money at such times as may be agreed upon. All money transferred shall be used solely by the authorities of the county library for the purchase of books and other materials as may be adopted by the county board of education and for the care and distribution of such books and other materials to school libraries which are branch county libraries.

Districts may enter into such agreements and acquire such property. Any funds received by the county superintendent of schools under this section shall be paid by him into the unapportioned county elementary school fund.

Decrease in average daily attendance

13096. Nothing in this article shall be construed as affecting any permanent employee classified as such on August 14, 1931. No decrease in the average daily attendance of any school district shall operate to deprive any permanent employee of the district of his classification.

Attainment of age 65

13097. 13100. If an employee of a school district has served as a probationary employee of the district in a position requiring certification qualifications, for one complete school year, and in the year immediately preceding the service as probationary employee has served as a substitute employee, or as a substitute and probationary employee, serving in both capacities during the same school year in the schools of the district, at least 75 per cent of the number of days the regular schools of the district were maintained, the governing board of the district may count the year of employment as a substitute or as a substitute and probationary employee as one year of the probationary period which he is required by law to serve as a condition to being classified as a permanent employee of the district.

Probationary employees

13101. Governing boards of school districts shall classify as probationary employees, those persons employed in positions requiring certification qualifications for the school year, who have not been classified as permanent employees or as substitute employees.

The school year may be divided into not more than two school terms for the purposes of this section.

(Chapter heading amended by Stats. 1943, Ch. 364.)

[ORIGINAL HEADING]

CHAPTER 9. RIGHTS AND DUTIES OF EMPLOYEES REQUIRING CERTIFICATION

Article 1. General Provisions

Duties

13201. The governing board of each school district shall fix and prescribe the duties to be performed by all persons in public school service in the school district.

Failure to make reports

13202. Any principal, teacher, employee, or school officer of any elementary or secondary school who refuses or wilfully neglects to make such reports as are required by law is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine of not more than one hundred dollars ($100).

Traveling expenses

13203. The governing board of any school district shall provide for the payment of the actual and necessary traveling expenses of any employee of the district when performing services for the district under the direction of the governing board. Employees in war service

13204.1. Every person employed by a school district as a probationary or permanent employee in a position requiring certification qualifications who enters the active military service of the United States of America or of the State of California, including active service in any uniformed auxiliary of, or to, any branch of such military service created or authorized as such auxiliary by the Congress of the United States of America or by the Legislature of the State of California or in the full time paid service of the American Red Cross, during any period of National emergency declared by the President of the United States of America or during any war in which the United States of America is engaged, shall be entitled to absent himself from his duties as an employee of the district.

Such absence shall not affect, in any way, the classification of such employee. In the case of a probationary employee the period of such absence shall not count as part of the service required as a condition precedent to the classification of such employee as a permanent employee of the district, but such absence shall not be construed as a break in the continuity of the service of such employee for any purpose.

Within 90 days after such employee honorably leaves such service or has been placed on inactive duty he shall, subject to the provisions of this section, be entitled to return to the position held by him at the time of his entrance into such military service, at the salary to which he would have been entitled had he not absented himself from the service of the school district under this section.

The governing board of any school district shall not act upon any charges of incompetency unless during the preceding term or half school year prior to the date of the filing of the charge, and at least 90 days prior to the date of the filing, the board or its authorized representative has given the employee against whom the charge is filed, written notice of the incompetency, specifying the nature thereof with such particularity as to furnish the employee an opportunity to correct his faults and overcome his incompetency. "Incompetency" as used in this section means, and refers only to, the incompetency particularly specified as a cause for dismissal in Section 13521 and does not include any other cause for dismissal specified in that section.

Complaint

13530. If the board elects to file a complaint, the complaint shall be filed within 30 days from the date of the employee's demand for hearing. If the complaint is not filed within such period the board's action shall be deemed to be rescinded and all charges dismissed.

The proceeding shall be set for trial at the earliest possible date and shall take precedence over all other cases, except older matters of the same character and matters to which special precedence is given by law.

The referees may examine witnesses under oath, to be administered by any of them, or on affirmation. The referees and either party may have subpenas issued by the clerk of the court requiring the attendance of witnesses or the production of evidence before them.

Rules of evidence

13542. Technical rules of evidence shall not apply to hearings before the referees.

Report

13543. The referees shall make and file with the court a written report of their findings, and of their necessary expenses, within 30 days after their appointment, but the time may be extended by the court, for good cause shown for an additional period not exceeding 60 days. If any vacancy in the referees is created and filled, or if new referees are appointed, or a new report from the same referees ordered, the time for the filing of the report shall run from the date of filling the vacancy or appointing of new referees or ordering a new report from the same referees. Any majority of the referees, who have been present during the entire hearing or trial and who agree thereto may make the report.

Exceptions

13546. Either party may file exceptions, in writing, to the report, specifying the grounds upon which the exceptions are based, at any time within not less than two days prior to the hearings. Any party filing exceptions may appear at the hearing of the report and contest the report.

New reports

13547. After hearing the report and any exceptions thereto, the court may either confirm the report, or may set aside the report and order a new report from the same referees or from other referees appointed by it. If a new report is ordered, the same procedure shall be had as upon the first reference.

Additional evidence

13548. The court in its discretion may take additional evidence of or concerning any fact with respect to which the report of the referees is not sufficient to justify a judgment.

Evidence

13549. No witness shall be permitted to testify at the trial or hearing before the referees, except upon oath or affirmation. No testimony shall be given or evidence introduced relating to matters which occurred more than three years prior to the date of the filing of the complaint. This shall not be construed to prevent the introduction in evidence of records regularly kept by the governing board concerning the employee, but no judgment permitting the dismissal or suspension of any employee shall be made or entered based on charges or evidence of any nature relating to matters occurring more than three years prior to the filing of the complaint.

Records of governing board

13550. All records regularly kept by the governing board concerning employees which relate to the employee charged shall be admissible in evidence, but no dismissal of the employee, or judgment that the governing board may dismiss him may be made on the records alone.

Incompetency

13553. If the cause is incompetency due to physical or mental disability, in lieu of dismissal the judgment may require the employee to take a leave of absence for only such period as may be necessary for rehabilitation from the incompetency. The leave of absence shall not exceed two years. During the leave of absence, the employee shall be entitled to the benefits authorized by this code to employees of school districts absent from their duties on account of sickness.

Costs

13554. If the judgment determines that the employee may be dismissed, it shall provide that each party shall pay its own costs. If the judgment determines that the employee may not be dismissed, it shall provide that the district shall pay the costs and necessary disbursements of the employee. A memo-

The notice shall be deemed sufficient and complete when delivered in person to the employee by the clerk or secretary of the governing board of the school district or deposited in the United States registered mail with postage prepaid, addressed to the employee at his last known place of address.

Exception

13583. Anything in Section 13582 to the contrary notwithstanding, governing boards of school districts having an average daily attendance of 60,000 or more pupils shall dismiss probationary employees for cause only. The determination of the board as to the sufficiency of the cause for dismissal shall be conclusive, but the cause shall relate solely to the welfare of the schools and the pupils thereof.

Article 6. Decrease in Number of Permanent Employees

Procedure

13651. Whenever it becomes necessary to decrease the number of permanent employees in a school district on account of either a decrease in the number of pupils attending the schools of the district, or on account of the discontinuance of any particular kind of service in the district, the governing board may dismiss so many of the employees as may be necessary at the close of the school year. In making dismissals employees shall be dismissed in the inverse of the order in which they were employed. No permanent employee may be dismissed under the provisions of this section while a probationary employee is retained or employed to render a service which the permanent employee is certificated and competent to render.

Reappointment

As to any employee who is so reemployed the period of his absence shall be treated as a leave of absence and shall not be considered as a break in the continuity of his service and any credit for prior service under any State or district retirement system shall not be affected by such absence but the period of such absence shall not count as a part of the service required for retirement. The provisions of this section shall apply to all employees dismissed for the reasons herein specified subsequent to January 1, 1943.

Article 7. Leaves of Absence

13671. Governing boards of school districts may grant leaves of absence to persons employed in positions requiring certification qualifications.

Accident or illness

13672. The governing board of any school district may provide for the leave of absence from duty and may grant compensation during the leave of absence to any employee of the district who is employed in a position requiring certification qualifications and who is compelled to absent himself from his duties because of accident or illness, whether or not the cause of absence arises out of and in the course of the employment of the employee, or because of quarantine which results from his contact with other persons having a contagious disease while performing his duties, or because of temporary inability to perform the services required of him because of illness, accident, or quarantine.

Purpose of study

13673. The governing board of any school district may grant any employee of the district employed in a position requiring certification qualifications, a leave of absence for not to exceed one year for the purpose of permitting study or travel by the employee which will benefit the schools and pupils of the district.

Sabbatical leave

13674. No leave of absence shall be granted to any employee under Section 13673 who has not rendered service to the district for at least seven consecutive years preceding the granting of the leave, and not more than one such leave of absence shall be granted in each seven-year period. The governing board granting the leave of absence may, subject to the rules and regulations of the State Board of Education, prescribe the standards of service which shall entitle the employee to the leave of absence. The leave of absence shall not be considered as a break in the continuity of service toward retirement under this code except that the leave of absence shall not be counted as a year of service toward retirement.

Compensation

13675. Every employee granted a leave of absence pursuant to Section 13673 may be required to perform such services and may receive such compensation during the leave as the governing board of the district, with the approval of the county superintendent of schools, and the employee may agree upon in writing. The compensation shall be the difference between the salary of the employee on leave and the salary of a substitute employee in the position which the employee held prior to the granting of the leave. The governing board of any district which has adopted a rule governing the payment of salaries to employees absent from duty because of illness may, at its option, agree to pay to employees taking leaves of absence under the provisions of Section 13673, compensation at the same rate as provided by the rule governing absences because of illness.

Payment

13676. Compensation granted by the governing board to the employee on leave may be paid in two equal annual installments during the first two years of service rendered in the employ of the governing board following the return of the employee from the leave of absence. The compensation shall be paid the employee while on the leave of absence in the same manner as if the employee were teaching in the district, upon the furnishing by the employee of a suitable bond indemnifying the governing board of the district against loss in the event that the employee fails to render at least two years' service in the employ of the governing board following the return of the employee from the leave of absence. The bond shall be exonerated in event the failure of the employee to return and render two years' service is caused by the death or physical or mental disability of the employee. If the governing board finds and by resolution declares that the interests of the district will be protected by the written agreement of the employee to return to the service of the district and render at least two years' service therein following his return from the leave, the governing board in its discretion may waive the furnishing of the bond and pay the employee on leave in the same manner as though a bond is furnished.

Reinstatement

13677. At the expiration of the leave of absence of the employee, he shall, unless he otherwise agrees, be reinstated in the position held by him at the time of the granting of the leave of absence.

Liability for death or injury

13678. Both the governing board of any district and the district shall be freed from any liability for the payment of any compensation or damages provided by law for the death or injury of any employee of the district employed in a position requiring certification qualifications when the death or injury occurs while the employee is on any leave of absence granted under the provisions of this article.

Effect of leave

13679. No leave of absence when granted to a probationary employee shall be construed as a break in the continuity of service required for the classification of the employee as permanent. The time during which the leave of absence is taken shall not be considered as employment within the meaning of Article 3 of Chapter 8 of this division.

The commission shall prepare an annual budget for its own office which, upon the approval of the county superintendent of schools, shall be included by the governing board in the regular budget of the school district. The county superintendent of schools may reject, but may not amend, the proposed budget. In the absence of agreement between the personnel commission and the county superintendent the budget of the preceding year shall determine the amount of the new budget, and the items of expenditure shall be determined by the commission.

First year

14111. The budget for the first year shall be determined by the governing board. Pending receipt of money raised in the manner prescribed in this article, the governing board may advance funds for the establishment of the work of the commission.

Classification of employees

14112. The commission shall classify all employees and positions within the jurisdiction of the governing board or of the commission. The employees and positions shall be known as the classified service. Positions required to have certification qualifications, and professional experts employed on a temporary basis for a specific project by the governing board or by the commission when so designated by the commission, shall not be included therein.

Rules

The rules shall provide for the procedures to be followed by the governing board as they pertain to the classified service regarding applications, examinations, eligibility, appointments, promotions, demotions, transfers, dismissals, resignations, layoffs, reemployment, vacations, leaves of absence, compensation within classification, job analyses and specifications, service ratings, public advertisement of examinations, rejection of unfit applicants without competition, and any other matters necessary to carry out the provisions and purposes of this article.

Printing and distribution

14115. The rules of the commission and copies of this article shall be printed and made available to employees in the classified service, the public, and those concerned with the enforcement of this article.

14116. The commission shall appoint a personnel director within 90 days after the adoption of a merit system from an eligibility list established from a competitive examination given under the auspices of the commission.

Duties

14117. The personnel director shall be responsible to the commission for carrying out all procedures in the administration of the classified personnel in conformity with this article and the rules of the commission. He shall also act as secretary of the commission and shall prepare, or cause to be prepared, an annual report which shall be sent by the commission to the governing board.

Salary schedule

14118. The commission shall recommend to the governing board salary schedules for the classified service. The governing board may approve, amend, or reject these recommendations. No amendment shall be adopted until the commission is first given a reasonable opportunity to make a written statement of the effect the amendments will have upon the principle of like pay for like service. No changes shall operate to disturb the relationship which compensation schedules bear to one another, as the relationship has been established in the classification made by the commission.

Existing employees

14119. Any person who has been continuously employed in a position defined as a position in the classified service for a period of six months immediately preceding the date on which the procedure set forth in this article is adopted shall be deemed to be in the permanent classified service. New employees

14121. All new employees in the classified service shall be selected pursuant to this article and the rules of the commission, from applicants on eligibility lists which, wherever practicable, as determined by the commission, shall be made up from promotional examinations. Applicants shall be placed on the eligibility lists in the order of their relative merit as determined by competitive examinations. Appointments shall be made from the first two applicants on the eligibility list who are ready and willing to accept the position.

Temporary appointments

14122. When no eligibility list exists for a position in the classified service, new employees may be appointed for a period not to exceed 90 days. During the 90 days an examination shall be held for the classification. No successive temporary appointments shall be made and no person shall be employed in temporary capacities under a given governing board for a total of more than six months in any one year.

Combination of eligibility lists

14122.5. Combinations of successive eligibility lists during their first year may be made whenever dearth of available eligibles makes such combinations desirable. Eligibles on lists established within the first year of the life of another list may be placed in the order of their relative excellence in the examination on the like list, if lists so merged have been promulgated under conditions and techniques which are sufficiently similar to preserve their competitive character.

Successive temporary appointments

Successive 90-day temporary appointments may be made in the absence of an appropriate eligibility list. Successive temporary appointments may be made and persons employed in temporary capacities under a given governing board for a total of more than six months in any one year.

This section shall remain in effect until six months after the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged. While this section is in effect it shall supersede any existing provisions of law which are in conflict with this section; but such provisions are not repealed by this section and after this section is no longer effective shall have the same force as though this section had not been enacted.

The retirement board by rule may modify the method of determining the amount of contributions to be deducted from each salary payment, if a member be employed on a substitute or part time, basis or if the service of a member is interrupted by absence without compensation.

In such event the result of the voting upon the third proposition submitted at the election shall be disregarded.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 575.)

Article 2. Civic Centers

Establishment

19431. There is a civic center at each and every public school building and grounds within the State where the citizens, parent-teachers' association, Campfire Girls, Boy Scout troops, farmers' organizations, clubs, and associations formed for recreational, educational, political, economic, artistic, or moral activities of the public school districts may engage in supervised recreational activities, and where they may meet and discuss, from time to time, as they may desire, any subjects and questions which in their judgment appertain to the educational, political, economic, artistic, and moral interests of the citizens of the communities in which they reside. Governing boards of the school districts may authorize the use, by such citizens and organizations of any other properties under their control, for supervised recreational activities.

Prohibited use

19432. Any use, by any individual, society, group, or organization which has as its object or as one of its objects, or is affiliated with any group, society, or organization which has as its object or one of its objects the overthrow or the advocacy of the overthrow of the present form of government of the United States or of the State by force, violence, or other unlawful means shall not be granted, permitted, or suffered.

Rules

19433. The use of any public schoolhouse and grounds for any meeting is subject to such reasonable rules and regulations as the governing board of the district prescribes and shall in nowise interfere with the use and occupancy of the public schoolhouse and grounds, as is required for the purposes of the public schools of the State.

Management

19434. The management, direction, and control of the civic center is vested in the governing board of the school district.

Powers of governing board

19435. The governing board of the school district shall make all needful rules and regulations for conducting the civic meetings and for such recreational activities as are provided for in this chapter and which aid, assist, and lend encouragement to the activities.

Appointee of governing board

19436. The governing board of any school district may appoint a person who shall have charge of the grounds, preserve order, protect the school property, plan, promote, and supervise recreational activities, and do all things necessary in the capacity of a representative of the board. He shall have the power of a peace officer, to carry out the provisions and the intents and purposes of this chapter.

Free use

19437. The use of schoolhouses, property, and grounds pursuant to this chapter shall be granted free.

Admission fees

19438. In the case of entertainments or meetings where admission fees are charged or contributions are solicited and the net receipts of the admission fees or contributions are not expended for the welfare of the pupils of the district or for charitable purposes a charge shall be made for the use of the schoolhouses, property, and grounds.

The governing board may, however, permit such use, without charge, by organizations, clubs, or associations organized for general character building or welfare purposes, when membership dues or contributions solely for the support of the organization, club, or association, or the advancement of its character building or welfare work, are accepted.

Necessary expense

19439. Lighting, heating, janitor service, and the services of the person when needed, and other necessary expenses, in connection with the use of public school buildings and grounds pursuant to this chapter, shall be provided for out of the county or special school funds of the respective school districts in the same manner and by the same authority as similar services are provided for.

(Chapter 11 added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

NOTE.—Stats. 1943, Ch. 16, which added Chapter 11, contained the following:

SEC. 4. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act, or of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act, and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of this act, or that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, be declared unconstitutional. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act for any reason be held to be unconstitutional and such unconstitutional provision shall have purported to repeal or amend any provision of the act or acts of which this act is amendatory or supplemental, the provision existing and in force at the time of the enactment of this act shall remain and be in full force and effect notwithstanding such purported repeal or amendment.

Purpose

19601. The policy of the Legislature in enacting this chapter is to provide a means for meeting an emergency, existing in certain communities in this State, created by the employment of women with children in industry as a direct result of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged, without imposing additional taxes on property which the owners of such property can not, because of the burdens imposed by such war, be reasonably expected to bear.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Establishment

19602. The governing board of any school district may, subject to the provisions of this chapter, establish and maintain such child care centers within the district as it may deem necessary to provide for the proper supervision and care, including such health supervision as may be established under the standards established for child care centers by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as hereinafter provided, of children between two years and 16 years of age living within, and in the custody of persons residing in, the district when such care and supervision can not be provided by such persons because such persons are gainfully employed.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

19602.5. Said governing board may accommodate in a child care center maintained by it children residing in another district, upon such terms and under such conditions as may be agreed upon by the governing boards of both districts. Nonresidents

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 923. In effect until 181 days after cessation of hostilities in all wars in which United States is now engaged. See note below.)

NOTE.—Stats. 1943, Ch. 923, also contained the following:

SEC. 1.5. In addition to any other sum appropriated, there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, to the California State War Council, to be used by the War Council during the Ninety-fifth and Ninety-sixth Fiscal Years for supplemental support of child care centers created pursuant to Chapter 3 of Part 3 of Division 6 of the School Code and Chapter 11 of Division 9 of the Education Code, where in the discretion of the War Council a demonstrated need for such supplemental support can be established. Any such allocations shall be made by the War Council directly to the governing board of the school district maintaining the child care center for which the allocation is made.

SEC. 2. Of the sum hereby appropriated twenty-two thousand two hundred dollars ($22,200) shall be expended by the State War Council only for the purpose of making allocations to the Director of Education for the purpose of supervising such child care centers.

SEC. 3. The remainder of the sum hereby appropriated shall be expended by the California State War Council only for the purpose of making allocations to local districts which have established such child care centers, for the purpose of supplementing support from the Federal Government, parents of children cared for, and industry where those sources are insufficient to meet the costs of operating the child care centers.

SEC. 4. In making this appropriation, the Legislature makes the following statement of its intent:

(a) That child care centers are intended as emergency institutions, to be conducted for the period of the war only, and are to be discontinued completely within six months after the cessation of hostilities.

(b) That the Legislature views the problem of caring for children whose parents are employed in essential war industries as essentially a part of the National defense effort, and that the obligation of supporting the child care centers is primarily a Federal responsibility.

(c) That since the parents of the children are employed in industry, they are able to contribute to the cost of their care, and are primarily liable for furnishing the necessaries of life for the children.

(d) That participation by the State or locality in payment of the costs of the program should be of supplementary or emergency nature only, until the Federal Government, parents, and industry can maintain its full support.

(e) That limitation of the operation to care for children of day workers only should be encouraged, and industry, parents, and school districts should be encouraged to arrange for employment of mothers in daytime only.

(f) That employment of mothers of more than two children of very tender years appears inadvisable except in extreme cases.

(g) That the Legislature recognizes that the cost of maintenance of the child care centers should not be imposed against local real property, but must be paid for upon a broader tax basis.

SEC. 5. Before allocating the funds appropriated the California State War Council shall make every effort to arrange for support of the child care centers by the Federal Government, parents of the children, and industry. If sufficient funds for the purpose can not be secured from these sources, the War Council may allocate to the respective child care centers such sums as it deems necessary for supplemental use only.

SEC. 6. Before making any allocation to any district, the California State War Council shall determine that the district is operating efficiently In making such allocations the War Council shall not recognize costs based on elaborate organization or standards that are excessively high or extravagant.

SEC. 7. The California State War Council shall make a survey of the respective child care centers petitioning for allocation of funds, and after determining the necessity, costs, and support derived from the Federal Government, parents, and industry, shall allocate such sums to the respective child care centers as it deems necessary to insure their efficient operation.

SEC. 8. This act shall remain in effect until the one hundred eighty-first day after the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, and the powers hereby conferred upon the California State War Council shall thereupon terminate.

SEC. 9. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In order that the successful prosecution of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged be not impeded, it is necessary that State funds be made available for temporary or supplemental financial assistance to child care centers where a demonstrated need can be shown and for proper supervision of child care centers so that parents who are engaged or hereafter must engage in essential war work may have assurance of proper care for their minor children during the hours of their employment. It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Agreements with public agencies

19603. Said governing board may enter into agreements with any city or city and county or other public agency for the furnishing to, or use by, said governing board in carrying out the provisions of this chapter, of property, facilities, personnel, supplies, equipment and other necessary items and such city, county, city and county, or other public agency is authorized to enter into such agreements.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Use of school facilities

19604. The said governing board may permit the use of buildings, grounds, existing administrative personnel and equipment for the purposes of this chapter.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Standards

19605. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish reasonable and uniform standards not in conflict with the provisions of this chapter for child care centers established and maintained under the provisions of this chapter and no child care center shall be so established and maintained which does not comply with such standards.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Hours

19606. The hours in any day, the days in any week and the months in any year during which such child care centers may be maintained shall be determined by said governing board.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Same

19606.5. Children shall be accommodated at such child centers only during the hours in which the person or persons having custody of such children are at work or unable to care for such children for any reason connected with such work.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Fees

19607. Said governing board shall charge and collect, in advance, from the person having custody of any child admitted to a child care center a fee which, together with all funds received under Section 19613, shall be in such amount as will reimburse the district for the cost of maintaining such child care center including supervision and care and the cost of all food furnished such child. The fees charged need not be uniform.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Consideration of income

19607.5. Recognizing the fact that certain mothers are forced to work due to the father serving in the armed forces of the United States—the State of California, or as civilians, having been killed, reported missing, or so disabled so as to be unable to follow his employment, as a result of enemy action, it is the intent of the Legislature that consideration be given to the income of such mother and dependent children in setting fees to be charged by the school district for the care of such children.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

"Child Care Center Fund"

19608. The said governing board shall establish in the county treasury a fund to be known as the "Child Care Center Fund" into which shall be paid all funds received for, or from the operation of, child care centers. The costs incurred in the maintenance and operation of child care centers shall be paid from said fund.

No funds of a district derived from the receipts of district taxes or derived from moneys apportioned to the district for the support of the schools thereof may be expended for, or in connection with, a child care center.

Rules

19609. Said governing board may adopt such reasonable rules and regulations governing the child care center or centers maintained by it as are not in conflict with law or the standards established for child care centers by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. Such rules and regulations may include, among others, rules and regulations relating to the admission of children to, and their exclusion from, such center or centers.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Qualifications of employees

19610. The said governing board may employ in or for a child care center only such persons who hold permits issued by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. If persons holding such permits but who meet such standards as may be established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction are not readily available, persons who do not hold such permits may be employed for a period not to exceed five months, but such persons shall, during such period of temporary employment, attend such courses of instruction and training approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction as will permit, upon the successful completion thereof, such persons to qualify for the appropriate permit.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Effect of employment

19611. No person employed in a child care center under the provisions of this chapter shall be deemed to be a person employed by a school district in a position requiring certification qualifications or employed in a status requisite for membership in the State Teachers Retirement System or district retirement system, or an employee subject to the provisions of Article 5 of Chapter 13 of Division 5 of this code.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Standards for permits

19612. The Superintendent of Public Instruction shall establish standards for the issuance of the permits herein provided for. Such standards may be changed from time to time, but changes therein shall not affect then valid permits issued to persons.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Acceptance of funds

19613. The governing board of each school district is hereby authorized to accept funds from the Government of the United States or any agency thereof, or from any other source other than funds derived from taxes levied by any taxing agency, for any of the purposes of this chapter and such funds may be accepted subject to such conditions as will further the purpose of this chapter. As used in this section "taxing agency" has the meaning ascribed to the phrase in the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Discontinuance

19614. Any child care center may be discontinued at any time at the discretion of the governing board of the district upon the giving of the notice herein prescribed.

Not less than 30 days before the discontinuance of a child care center the governing board shall mail to each person having custody of a child in attendance at such child care center a notice of the intended discontinuance of the child care center and the date the discontinuance will become effective, and shall post a similar notice at the child care center.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 16.)

Approval of standards

19614.5. No standards relating to child care centers proposed to be established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall take effect unless and until such proposed standards have been reviewed and approved by the California State War Council.

(Added by Stats. 1943, Ch. 923. In effect until 181 days after cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged. See note to Section 19602.5.)

Insurance

19615. Said governing board shall insure against the liability, other than a liability which may be insured against under Division 4 of the Labor Code, imposed upon the district by any law of this State, in any insurance company authorized

The scholarship shall thereafter be filled in the same manner as other scholarships are filled. Vacancy

20032. The Regents may, upon the recommendation of the faculty, revoke any scholarship for improper conduct or violation of established rules, and may fill all vacancies which occur in scholarships under competitive examination. Revocation

20057. The deed shall transfer, grant, convey, and confirm to The Regents of the University of California the entire title to the lands, free and clear of all claims and incumbrances whatsoever.
