SEC. 4. Section 1269 of said code is amended to read:

Causes for refusal, etc., of license

1269. (1) The director may refuse to grant a license and may revoke or suspend any license, as the case may require, when after a hearing as herein provided, he is satisfied of the existence of any of the following facts, the existence of which is hereby declared to be a violation of this chapter:

(a) That fraudulent charges or returns have been made by the applicant, or licensee, for the handling, sale or storage of, or for rendering of any service in connection with the handling, sale or storage of any farm products.

(b) That the applicant, or licensee, has failed or refused to render a true account of sales, or to make a settlement thereon, or to pay for farm products received, within the time and in the manner required by this chapter.

(c) That the applicant, or licensee, has made any false statement as to the condition, quality or quantity of farm products received, handled, sold or stored by him.

(d) That the applicant, or licensee, directly or indirectly, has purchased for his, or its own account farm products received by him upon consignment without prior authority from consignor together with price fixed by consignor or without promptly notifying the consignor of such purchase. This shall not prevent any commission merchant from taking to account of sales, in order to close the day's business, miscellaneous lots or parcels of farm products remaining unsold, if such commission merchant shall forthwith enter such transaction on his account of sales.

(e) That the applicant, or licensee, has intentionally made any false or misleading statement as to the conditions of the market for any farm products.

(f) That the applicant, or licensee, has made fictitious sales or has been guilty of collusion to defraud the producer.

(g) That a commission merchant to whom any consignment is made has reconsigned such consignment to another commission merchant and has received, collected, or charged by such means more than one commission for making the sale therefor for the consignor, unless by written consent of such consignor.

(h) That the licensee was intentionally guilty of fraud or deception in the procurement of such license.

(i) That the licensee or applicant has failed or refused to file with the director a schedule of his charges for services in connection with produce handled on account of or as an agent of another; that the applicant, or licensee has indulged in any unfair practice.

(j) That the licensee has rejected, without reasonable cause, or has refused to accept, without reasonable cause, any farm product bought or contracted to be bought from a producer by such licensee.

(k) That the licensee has otherwise violated any provision of this chapter.

(l) That the licensee has knowingly employed an agent, as defined in this chapter, without causing said agent to comply with the licensing requirements of this chapter applicable to agents.

Previous violation

(2) Previous violation by the applicant or by any person connected with him or it of any of the provisions of this chapter shall be good and sufficient ground for denial of a license.

Bankruptcy or insolvency

(3) The director, after hearing, or investigation may refuse to grant a license and may revoke or suspend any license as the case may require, when he is satisfied that the licensee has become bankrupt or insolvent, and is thereby unable to pay producer-creditors of the licensee, or producers with whom the licensee has executory or executed contracts for the purchase of farm products, or for the handling of farm products on consignment.

Time for hearing shortened

In such cases, if the director is satisfied that to permit the dealer or commission merchant to continue to purchase or to receive further shipments or deliveries of farm products would be likely to cause serious and irreparable loss to said producer-creditors, or to producers with whom the said dealer or commission merchant has said contracts, then the director within his discretion may thereupon and forthwith shorten the time herein provided for hearing upon an order to show cause why the license of said dealer or commission merchant should not be forthwith suspended or revoked; provided, however, that the time of notice of said hearing shall in no event be less than 24 hours, and shall within that period call a hearing, at which the dealer or commission merchant proceeded against shall be ordered to show cause why his or its license should not be suspended, or revoked, or continued under such conditions and provisions, if any, as the director may consider just and proper and for the protection of the best interests of the producer-creditors involved. Said hearing, in the case of such emergency, may be called upon written notice, said notice to be served personally or by mail on the dealer or commission merchant involved, and may be held at the nearest office of the director or at such place as may be most convenient at the discretion of the director, for the attendance of all parties involved.

Rights of persons retired

The right to a retirement allowance, of a person who has retired prior to the effective date of the termination of said contract, or who has qualified and applied for retirement by written document received at the board's office in Sacramento, California, prior to said effective date, even though the board shall not approve said application until a later date, and the right of any person to a benefit on account of a death which occurred prior to said effective date, shall not be affected by said termination of said contract, except as herein provided in the event the contracting city shall fail to make contributions required of it because of the participation of its employees in the system.

(5) Upon the termination of said contract, the Board of Administration shall refund to said contracting city such portion of the accumulated contributions then held by the retirement system and credited to, or as having been made by it, as are in excess of an amount actuarially equivalent, as determined by the actuary and approved by the board, to all benefits the system is obligated to pay after the effective date of said termination, to or on account of persons who are or have been employed by said city, and on account of service rendered by said persons to said city. If the said accumulated contributions credited to, or as being made by said city at the date of said termination, shall not be at least equal to said actuarial equivalent, said city shall contribute to the retirement system under terms fixed by the Board of Administration, an amount equal to the difference between said accumulated contributions and said actuarial equivalent. If said city shall fail to make such contribution, the portion of benefits described in the first sentence of this paragraph, payable after the board declares said city in default of said contribution, from the contributions previously made by said city, shall be reduced in the proportion the said accumulated contributions credited to, or as having been made by said city, bears to said actuarial equivalent of said benefits as of the date said board declared the default. The right of an employee of a contracting city, or his beneficiary, to a benefit under the system, whether before or after retirement or death, shall be subject to the adjustment provided in the sentence next preceding. The Board of Administration may postpone the payment of any amount due to said city, under this paragraph, if to make said payment would require the sale of securities, which, in the opinion of the board, would affect adversely the interests of the retirement system. If the board delays said payment longer than the period reasonably necessary for the determination of the amount due and for the necessary action by the board, interest shall be allowed on the amount remaining due and unpaid from time to time, at the rate then in use under the system, and shall be paid to the contracting city at the same time and in the manner as the original amount due.

Employees included within contract

(6) Said municipal corporation shall include under said contract all of its firemen and policemen and/or all of its other employees, except as exclusions in addition to the exclusions specified in this act, may be agreed to between it and the Board of Administration, said exclusions to be based on groups of employees such as by departments, by duties or by age, and not on individual employees. The Board of Administration, however, shall have the right to disapprove the exclusion of any group, if in its opinion said exclusion affects adversely the interests of said retirement system. Membership in the retirement system shall be compulsory for all employees included under said contract.

Correction of errors

(7) Errors in said contract may be corrected through amendments approved by the adoption of suitable resolutions by the contracting parties. Excluded employees may be included under said contract, by groups, through amendments to said contract approved in the manner prescribed in this section for the approval of contracts. Additional benefits on account of prior service, provided in this act but not included in said contract, may be included in said contract, through amendments approved in the manner prescribed in this section for the approval of contracts, except that an election among employees shall not be required.

SEC. 8. Section 38e of said act is amended to read:

Contract with school district

Sec. 38e. Any school district in this State may participate in the State Employees' Retirement System, making all or some of its employees who are not eligible for membership in the California State Teachers' Retirement System, created by the School Code, members of such State Employees' Retirement System by contract entered into between the governing board of the school district and the board of administration of the retirement system. The provision of this act relating to cities, employees of cities, the entering into contracts between cities and the board, the method of computing benefits and the benefits payable to city employees, and all other provisions of this act which relate to cities which elect to include employees under the State Employees' Retirement System shall also apply to school districts in the same manner, to the same extent, and with the same effect as if school districts instead of cities were expressly referred to in such provisions, except as provided in this section. Such provisions shall not apply to employees of school districts who are eligible for membership in the California State Teachers' Retirement System, unless said employees are also employed in a status which is not subject to said Teachers' Retirement System, and in that event, such provisions shall apply only to the extent of said status. Service in two or more school districts governed by the same governing board, shall be considered as though the service were rendered in one school district, but contributions required because of service rendered after the effective date of participation shall be paid by the respective districts, according to the compensation paid to the member by said districts. Contributions required because of prior service, shall be paid by the district or districts by which the member is employed at the time he becomes a member of the retirement system, and in proportion to the compensation being paid by the respective districts to the member at that time.

SEC. 9. Section 38f is added to said act, to read:

Participation of any public agency

Sec. 38f. Any public agency in this State, which is not already authorized to do so, may participate in the State Employees' Retirement System, making all or some of its employees members of said system, by contract entered into between the governing board or head of such agency, and the Board of Administration of the retirement system. The provisions of this act relating to cities, employees of cities, the entering into contracts between cities and the board, the method of computing benefits, and the benefits payable to city employees, and all other provisions of this act, which relate to cities which elect to include employees under the State Employees' Retirement System, shall also apply to public agencies in the same manner, to the same extent, and with the same effect, as if public agencies, instead of cities, were expressly referred to in such provisions.

SEC. 10. Section 38g is added to said act, to read: New section

Sec. 38g. An employee of the State or a contracting city shall receive credit, subject to the provisions of this act, for all service rendered by him as an employee of the State or a contracting city, and the cost of benefits based on such service shall be borne by the respective employers in whose service it was rendered, unless the termination of employment by the State or a contracting city is followed by entry into employment by the State if the previous employment was by a contracting city, or contracting city if the previous employment was by the State or a different contracting city, more than one year after such termination, in which event service as applied to a member who is an employee of the State or an employee of a contracting city, shall be limited to service rendered as an employee of the State or of the contracting city, as the case may be. If a person is employed concurrently by more than one contracting city, or by the State and one or more contracting cities, his status under the retirement system shall be determined in the same manner as if he were employed in more than one office or department of the State. SEC. 11. Section 46 of said act is amended to read: Stats. 1941, p. 2753

Sec. 46. It shall fix and determine how much service rendered in any fiscal year shall be the equivalent of a year of service and parts thereof, but shall credit one year for 250 or more days of service rendered by employees on a per diem basis and one year for 10 months or more of service rendered by employees on a monthly basis, but not more than one year for all service in any fiscal year. In determining the credit to be granted for service rendered on a part-time basis, for purposes of calculating retirement allowances, the service shall be reduced to a full-time basis according to the service required, in the next preceding sentence, for credit for one year of service. In calculating benefits based on service so determined, except in calculating the additional pension provided in Section 84, compensation earnable shall be taken as the compensation which would be earnable if the employment had been on a full-time basis, and with a compensation derived by multiplying the member's compensation by the ratio of full time to the time he was required by his employment to engage in his duties. In calculating the credit to be granted for service rendered on a part-time basis, for purposes of determining qualification for retirement, and of calculating benefits payable upon death before retirement, the service required in this paragraph for credit for a year of service shall not be used, but instead, a year of service shall be credited for each year during which the member was employed throughout the year on a part-time basis and was engaged in his duties the full amount of time he was required by his employment to be so engaged. Credit for fractional years will be granted to the extent of the fraction derived by dividing the time during which the member was engaged in his duties within the year, Service credits; Part-time services

SEC. 12. Section 47 of said act is amended to read:

Absentees

Sec. 47. Time during which a member is absent from State service without compensation shall not be allowed in computing service; except that time during which a member is absent from State service by reason of having been ordered on duty with the armed forces of the United States, or by reason of voluntary service by the member in said forces or on ships operated by or for the United States Government, either during a war involving the United States as a belligerent or in any other National emergency, and for 90 days thereafter shall be considered as time spent in State service, for the purpose of qualification for retirement and death benefits, but not for calculation of retirement benefits unless the member elects to contribute and contributes, under the retirement system. Any member so absent and until his return to service within the said 90 days may resign from the system. Any member so absent shall have the right to contribute to said system, either during his service with the armed forces of the United States or in the Merchant Marine of the United States, and 90 days thereafter or upon his return to the State service, at times and in a manner fixed by the Board of Administration, amounts equal to the contributions which would have been made by him to the system on the basis of his compensation earnable at the commencement of his absence. If he does so contribute, he shall receive credit for State service for such time in the same manner as if he had not been absent from State service. Whenever a member elects to continue and continues his contributions, the State or the contracting city shall thereupon contribute an amount equal to that which it would have contributed under Sections 108 and 109 of this act or under the contract between the board and the legislative body, as the case may be, if the member had not been absent from State service.

Exceptions

Accumulated contributions

Any member so absent or any member absent from State service by reason of having been ordered by an authorized official of the State of California or the United States, to duties outside State service shall be paid upon his request, his accumulated contributions. Such payment shall terminate any election by said member under this section to contribute.

Absence for injury or illness

Time during which a member is absent from State service by reason of injury or illness determined within one year after the end of such absence as arising out of and in the course of his employment, shall be considered as spent in State service, for the purpose of qualification for retirement and death benefits, but not for calculation of retirement benefits, except as he receives compensation, as defined in this act and as distinguished from disability indemnity under the Labor Code, during the absence, and then only to the extent of compensation received.

SEC. 13. Section 49 of said act is amended to read: Stats. 1941, p. 2553

Credit for prior service

Sec. 49. Credit for prior service shall be granted to each person other than persons who are employees of the university or of a contracting city at the time of becoming members of the retirement system, who has rendered such service as defined in this act, and who has become a member of the retirement system on January 1, 1932, or within three years after last rendering prior service, the prior service credited, however, to be one-half year less than the total prior service rendered by him. Credit for prior service shall be granted to each person who is employed by the university at the time of becoming a member of the retirement system regardless of whether he has been retired under the system prior to the effective date hereof, who has rendered such service as defined in this act and who has become a member of the retirement system on August 27, 1937, or within three years after last rendering prior service, the prior service credited, however, to be one-half year less than the total prior service rendered by him.

Credit for prior service shall be granted to each person who is employed by a contracting city at the time of becoming a member of the system, who has rendered such service as defined in this act, and who has become a member of the retirement system within three years after last rendering prior service. Notwithstanding the three sentences next preceding, credit for prior service shall be granted to each person employed by the State including the university, who became a member while employed on a part-time basis, because of amendments to this retirement act, or who became a member prior to said amendments, because of a change in status to a full-time basis, but the prior service credited shall be one-half year less than the total prior service rendered by him. The credit for prior service to be granted persons employed by a contracting city who are included under the retirement system shall be established by contract between the board and the legislative body of such city; and such credit as may be granted to a person shall be in the form of a percentage, not to exceed the analogous percentage applicable to employees of the State, for each year of prior service, of his final compensation in the case of city firemen and city policemen, or average compensation earnable during the three years immediately preceding the date upon which the group or class in which said person was employed, is included in the system in the case of all other employees; and provided further, that said percentage shall be uniform for all city firemen and city policemen employed by any contracting city, according to age at entry into the service of the city, and uniform for all other employees of such city regardless of age at said entry. Prior service so credited shall be the basis for a retirement allowance or benefit as provided in this act only if the membership in the retirement system continues unbroken until retirement on retirement allowance or until the granting of such other benefit; provided, that termination of membership by withdrawal of accumulated contributions followed by the redeposit of such contributions upon reentrance into State service as herein provided shall not constitute a break in membership, but this section shall not be construed to entitle any person to credit as prior service for time during which he was not in State service as defined in this act.

SEC. 14. Section 51 of said act is amended to read:

Actuarial valuation

Sec. 51. It shall keep in convenient form such data as shall be necessary for the actuarial valuation of the Retirement Fund created by this act. On July 1, 1932, and at the end of every four-year period thereafter, it shall cause to be made an actuarial investigation into the mortality, service and compensation experience of the members and beneficiaries under the provisions of this act, and shall further cause to be made an actuarial valuation of the assets and liabilities of the Retirement Fund herein created, and from time to time shall determine the rate of interest being earned on the Retirement Fund.

Postponement

If the war in which the United States is now engaged is not ended before July 1, 1944, the board may postpone the investigation, except as it applies to the mortality among retired persons, and valuation which would otherwise be made in 1944, but such postponement shall not extend beyond the second July 1st next following the end of the war. Upon the basis of any or all of such investigation, valuation, and determination, said board shall adopt such mortality, service and other tables and such interest rate, in lieu of the interest rate specified herein, or any of such items as it shall deem necessary, and shall make such revision in rates of contribution of members as it may deem necessary to comply with the provisions of Section 65 and 65a hereof. No adjustment shall be included in the new rates for time prior to the effective date of such revision.

SEC. 15. Section 58b of said act is amended to read:

Contribution quotation

Sec. 58b. When the legislative body of a municipal corporation desires to consider the participation of said municipal corporation in the retirement system, said body shall ask the Board of Administration for a quotation of the approximate contribution to the retirement system which would be required of the municipal corporation because of such participation. Said approximate contribution quoted by the board and the definitive contribution certified by the board as provided in Section 58c, shall be determined by actuarial valuations of the prior and future service liability under the retirement system, on account of employees of such municipal corporation whose memberships are contemplated, in the determination of the approximate contribution, or who become members, in the determination of the definitive contribution, in the same manner as the contribution required of the State on account of its employees was originally determined; provided, that in consideration of the number of employees of the municipal corporation or other circumstances, a different manner of determining said contribution may be adopted by the board, upon recommendation of the actuary. The approximate and definitive contributions are similar to premiums under insurance policies. Said approximate contribution shall be quoted by the board to the municipal corporation, subject to the understanding that the definitive contribution certified by the board after the approval of a contract as provided in Section 38c, may differ from said approximate contribution because of (1) change in number or salaries of employees included; (2) change in prior service benefits; (3) time elapsed between said quotation and effective date of said contract; (4) change in effective date of membership; (5) change in manner of determining contribution; and (6) any other changes in the facts or assumptions upon which said determination was based.

Data to be furnished by city

It shall be the duty of the municipal corporation to furnish to the Board of Administration such data about its employees as the board may deem necessary for such valuations including an investigation into the experience among said employees. It shall also be the duty of the municipal corporation, at the option of the Board of Administration, to have such valuations and the investigation and valuation required by Section 51 with respect to its employees, made through a consulting actuary, selected by the board, under contract between the consulting actuary and the municipal corporation, said contract to be subject to the approval of the board, and said valuations to be under the direction of the actuary of the retirement system. The services under said contract shall be deemed services rendered to the municipal corporation and not to the State.

Election of Board of Administration

The Board of Administration, however, may elect to have such valuations made in its office under the direction of the actuary of the retirement system, in lieu of having said valuations made through a consulting actuary. Regardless of how such valuations are made, all data in connection therewith, including work sheets, final results, and reports from said consulting actuary, shall be the property of the Board of Administration and shall be delivered to said board at the conclusion of said valuations. The expense of determining initially such approximate and definitive contributions, and of the investigation and valuation required by Section 51 with respect to its employees, shall be assessed against and paid by the municipal corporation on whose account it is incurred, said payment being made directly to said consulting actuary for services rendered under said contract and directly to the Board of Administration for services rendered by its employees. The board may include each year in the contribution required of the contracting city, a reasonable amount which may differ from city to city as determined annually, to cover the costs of administering the system as it affects the active and retired employees of said city. All such payments made to the Board of Administration by municipal corporations shall be credited to the current appropriation for support of the board and available for expenditure by the board.

SEC. 15.1. Section 65a of said act is amended to read:

Sec. 65a. The normal rates of contribution of each member, who is also a member of the California Highway Patrol, shall be based on his age at July 1, 1935, or at his later entrance into the retirement system, and his age when he entered highway patrol service, both ages being taken to the next lower completed quarter year. The age at entrance into the highway patrol service, if said entrance was prior to July 1, 1935, shall be determined by deducting the total of such service credited to the member at July 1, 1935, from his age at that date. The normal rates of contribution of each such member who entered highway patrol service at or below age 45 shall be such as, on the average for such member, if his service on full salary be uninterrupted and when accumulated with regular interest, added to the equal accumulated contributions of the State and applied according to the tables adopted by the board will provide a retirement allowance upon retirement for service at the age of 60 years, or upon completion of 20 years of highway patrol service at an age higher than 60 years, equal to one-half of his final compensation, less that part of the retirement allowance set forth in Section 83a, which is to be provided by contributions of the State on account of highway patrol service rendered prior to January 1, 1932, if such member affirmatively exercises the option in Section 65d; otherwise, less a pension calculated in the same manner as the pension in Section 83a, but on the basis of highway patrol service rendered by him prior to July 1, 1935. If such member entered highway patrol service at an age greater than 45 years, then his normal rate of contribution shall be such as will provide an average annuity at age 65 equal to one-eightieth of his final compensation, according to tables adopted by the board, for each year of highway patrol service after July 1, 1935, or after entrance into the retirement system if he affirmatively exercises the option in Section 65d. The normal rate of contribution of any member who received credit for service rendered as a member of the highway patrol of a county in California, shall be adjusted in such manner as may be necessary to comply with this section.

If no amount is due under clause (3) next following, a member, or a beneficiary after the death of a member, may elect, by written designation, duly executed, and filed with the Board of Administration to have the death benefit provided in clauses (1) and (2), paid in monthly installments, fixed in number or amount, all subject to such rules and regulations as the board may adopt. Regular interest shall be credited on the unpaid balance of such benefit, at rates then in use under the system, as adopted by the board from time to time.

If such member is a member of the California Highway Patrol or is a city policeman or city fireman and if, as determined by the Industrial Accident Commission in the same manner as for all other State or city employees, death shall be the result of injury or disease arising out of and in the course of employment, then in addition to the amounts set forth in clauses (1) and (2), there shall be paid

(3) An amount sufficient, when added to the amounts provided in the next preceding paragraphs (1) and (2), to provide, when applied according to tables adopted by the board, a monthly death benefit allowance, equal to one-half of the compensation earnable by such member during the five years immediately preceding his death, to be paid to the surviving wife to whom said member was married prior to sustaining said injury, to continue as long as she shall live or until her remarriage; or if there is no widow, or if the widow dies or remarries before all children of such deceased member attain the age of 18 years, then to his child or children under said age collectively, to continue until every child dies or attains said age. If payment of the allowance is stopped because of remarriage of the widow or attainment of the age of 18 years by a child, before the sum of the monthly payment made equals the sum of the amounts provided in the next preceding clauses (1) and (2), then an amount equal to the difference between said sums shall be paid in one amount to the remarried widow, or if there is no widow, to the surviving children of the deceased member, share and share alike.

Absence of application to I A C.

In the absence of an application to the Industrial Accident Commission, filed by a proper party, the board shall proceed with the payment of benefits payable under the retirement system when death does not result from injury or disease arising out of and in the course of their employment. If the Industrial Accident Commission determines on the basis of such an application subsequently filed, that death resulted from injury or disease arising out of and in the course of employment, an amount equal to the portion of said benefits which were provided by contributions of the State, shall be deducted from the benefits payable under the retirement system because of such determination.

SEC. 21.5. Section 101 of said act is amended to read:

Effect of workmen's compensation insurance

Sec. 101. No modification of the benefits provided herein shall be made on account of any amounts payable to a beneficiary, as defined herein, under Division 4 of the Labor Code, except that the portion of any retirement allowance or death allowance which is provided by contributions of the State or of a contracting city and which is payable by the retirement system because of the death or retirement of any member of the California Highway Patrol or of any city policeman or city fireman, as a result of injury or illness arising out of and in the course of employment, shall be reduced in the manner hereinafter described, by the amount of any benefits, other than medical benefits, payable to or on account of such member under Division 4 of the Labor Code, because of his death or the disability resulting in his retirement.

If said benefits under Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with said allowance hereunder and shall be due the beneficiary in payments which are equal to or less than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then said portion shall be reduced each month by the amount of said benefits so due during said month, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such reduction than if the retirement system had never existed.

If said benefits under Division 4 of the Labor Code shall run concurrently with the allowance hereunder and shall be due to the beneficiary in payments which are greater than said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance, then payment of said portion shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of said benefits paid, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the retirement system had never existed.

It is the purpose of the preceding paragraphs of this section to reduce the portion of the retirement or death allowance payable from the retirement fund and which is provided by contributions of the State or by a contracting city, by the amount of benefits, other than medical benefits, due to the beneficiary concurrently with said portion, under Division 4 of the Labor Code, and the payment before due date by the commutation through compromise or otherwise of such benefits shall not prevent the reduction of said portion, as provided in this section, in the amounts which would have been payable concurrently with the retirement allowance in the absence of such commutation.

If any benefits, other than medical benefits, shall have been paid under Division 4 of the Labor Code because of a permanent disability concurrently with payments of wages or salary, to said beneficiary, then payment of said portion of the retirement allowance or death allowance shall be withheld until the total of the amounts so withheld shall equal the total of such benefits paid because of the permanent disability, and the beneficiary shall have no more right to such amounts withheld than if the retirement system had never existed. Said benefits which are payable for time during which salary is not paid and prior to the effective date of the retirement or death allowance, shall not be considered hereunder.

The board may enter into a contract with the State Compensation Insurance Fund under which the said insurance fund, for a consideration to it, in its own name or in the name of the board, may do any and all things necessary to recover on behalf of the retirement system any and all amounts which the board might recover from third persons under Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Labor Code, or under any provisions of this act, or which an insurer might recover under Section 11662 of the Insurance Code, or otherwise, including the right to commence and prosecute actions, to file liens, to intervene in court proceedings, or to compromise claims before or after commencement of suit, except that any claim in favor of the retirement system, against such third person, may be compromised only in such amount as may be recommended by said insurance fund and approved by a person duly authorized by the board for such purpose. The agreed cost of such service and the expense incidental thereto is a proper charge against the fund out of which the compensation of an injured State employee is paid; and such cost and expense shall be reimbursed to the retirement system by the contracting city by which an injured member is employed.

An act to amend Section 92 of the Agricultural Code, relating to the basis of allocation to county, district or combined county and district fairs.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 92 of the Agricultural Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

State premium money

92. The Department of Finance shall apportion any money appropriated by the State for the encouragement of county, district or combined county and district fairs to the various agricultural fairs on the basis of the amount which each fair actually paid in premiums for agricultural, horticultural, mineral and live stock exhibits, and exhibits of domestic arts and agricultural mechanics made or manufactured for other than commercial purposes in each year. The money so apportioned shall be paid to the several counties and district agricultural associations as soon as such apportionment is determined.

Advances

The Department of Finance, out of any money on hand to be apportioned, may advance to any county or district agricultural association, for the purpose of paying premiums, at any time during the year, any portion of the money to which, in the opinion of the Director of Finance, the county or district agricultural association will become entitled for that year. The county or district agricultural association shall deposit such money in a separate bank account approved by the Director of Finance in accordance with the provisions of Section 10 of an act entitled "An act to authorize and control the deposit in banks of money belonging to or in the custody of the State and to repeal all acts or parts of acts in conflict with this act," approved April 12, 1923, as amended. Such money may be expended for premiums, capital outlay, including purchase of land, construction, improvements, equipment, or other purposes for the encouragement of county or district agricultural association fairs pursuant to a budget submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Finance subject to the provisions of Section 677.5 of the Political Code.

Expenditures

All sums expended from such moneys for construction and improvements by counties shall be subject to the provisions of Section 4041.18 of the Political Code. The county auditor or secretary of any such fair desiring to share in any such appropriation shall file with the Department of Finance on or before December 31st, of each year, a sworn statement setting forth the actual amount paid for premiums by such fair held in that year.

Statement of premiums paid

Six thousand dollars ($6,000) shall be the maximum base of allocation paid any fair for its first year of operation, and thereafter in each subsequent year in which a fair is held the maximum base of allocation shall increase by 10 per cent over the maximum base for the year in which a fair was last held.

Allocation base

In the event the premiums paid during any year in which a fair is held are less than the maximum base of allocation for that year, the base of allocation for that year shall be the premiums so paid during such year. For any fair operated prior to 1933 which received, or was qualified to receive, money from appropriations for the support of agricultural fairs, the basis may be increased 10 per cent for each year in which a fair was held from the time the fair was first held, except that if no fair was held by the county or district for a period of five or more years the percentage of increase shall apply only from the first fair held after said period. Any fair may pay premiums in an amount greater than that used as the base of apportionment to it.

The Department of Finance shall prescribe rules and regulations for the judging of exhibits, and the maximum amount of premiums which may be offered and paid for all classes, sections, and types of exhibits. No fair shall receive any apportionment of funds under this section unless it complies with such rules and regulations.

Department of Finance Rules and regulations

No allotment from the appropriation herein provided shall be made for more than one fair in any one year in any county or district. The fact that a county or district contracts one with the other or with a county fair association, to hold an agricultural fair shall not bar it from receiving a proper proportion of the moneys herein appropriated, except that no county or district may hold a joint or combined fair and receive an allotment of money under the provisions of this section. No fair for which a separate appropriation is made by the State shall participate in the apportionment of any money appropriated for the encouragement of county and district agricultural fairs. On or after January 1, 1943, allotments from the appropriation herein provided shall be made only to district agricultural associations or counties which received allotments under this section on the basis of the premiums paid at fairs held during the calendar year 1941 except that: (1) A district agricultural association which did not receive an allotment under this section on the basis of the premiums paid at a fair held during the calendar year 1941 may receive an allotment as provided in this section unless a county whose area lies in whole or in part within the boundaries of the agricultural district received an allotment under this section on the basis of the premiums paid at a fair held during the calendar year 1941; (2) A district agricultural association which did not receive an allotment under this section on the basis of the premiums paid at a fair held during the calendar year 1941 may receive an allotment as provided in this section; provided, the board of supervisors of each county, whose area lies in whole or in part within the boundaries of the agricultural district and which received an allotment under this section on the basis of the premiums paid at a fair held during the calendar year 1941, shall by resolution announce its intention to permanently discontinue the holding of fairs for which the county would be eligible to participate in the allocation from the appropriation herein provided. A certified copy of said resolution shall be filed with the Department of Finance. Upon adoption of said resolution by the board of supervisors, and the filing thereof as herein provided, the county referred to shall no longer be eligible to receive allotments under this section and the district agricultural association which becomes eligible to receive an allotment due to the adoption of said resolution shall, for the purpose of determining the maximum base of allocation for said association, be entitled to receive credit for the fairs previously held by said county and said fairs shall be considered as fairs held by the association in calculating the maximum base for said association as provided herein. Within one year from and after the date said resolution is adopted, the county shall pay to said district agricultural association the unexpended balance of any moneys previously apportioned to said county under this section.

Renunciation of legacy

13409. If a legatee under a will renounces the legacy, or any part of it, or agrees that the estate, or any part of it, shall be distributed otherwise than as provided in the will, in consideration of the withdrawal of a contest to the will or for any other reason, the tax is nevertheless computed in accordance with the terms of the will admitted to probate.

Possibility of divestment

In the case of a transfer made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the transferee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the tax is computed as though the contingency or condition has occurred, and at the highest rate possible.

To enable him to pay the tax imposed by this part, the executor, administrator, or trustee may sell so much of the decedent's property as may be necessary, in the same manner as he may be authorized by law to sell the decedent's property for the payment of the decedent's debts. He may be compelled to make the sale by order of the superior court having jurisdiction.

Prerequisite to distribution

14143. No executor, administrator, or trustee liable for the payment of any tax imposed by this part is entitled to credits in his accounts or to a discharge from liability for payment, nor shall the estate of the person who made the transfer on which the tax is imposed be distributed, unless a receipt countersigned and sealed by the Controller pursuant to this article, or a copy of such a receipt certified by the Controller, is filed with the superior court having jurisdiction.

Article 5. Deferment of Payment

Election

14171. Where a transfer has been made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the transferee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the transferee or, if a trust is involved, the trustee may elect to defer the payment of the tax until the contingency or condition occurs

Bond

14172. If the transferee or trustee elects to defer the payment of the tax, he shall execute a bond to the people of the State of California in a penalty of the amount of the tax imposed, plus interest on the tax for five years at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, with such sureties as the superior court having jurisdiction may approve, conditioned as follows:

Conditions

(a) For the payment of the tax imposed, or any lesser tax which may become payable on the happening of the contingency or condition, plus interest on the tax at the rate of 7 per cent per annum commencing on the delinquent date of the tax imposed, at such time as the contingency or condition occurs.

Filing

14173. The bond shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction, and a certified copy shall be immediately transmitted to the Controller.

Time for filing

14174. The bond shall be filed within 90 days after the entry of the order or decree fixing the tax on the transfer, or within such period thereafter as the superior court having jurisdiction may permit.

Verified return of property transferred

14175. Within one year from the date of the order or decree fixing the tax, and at such times thereafter as the superior court having jurisdiction, on the application of the Controller, may require, the transferee or trustee shall file in the office of the clerk of the court a full and verified return of the property transferred.

Renewal bond

14176. The transferee or trustee shall renew the bond every five years from and after the date on which the bond was approved by filing in the office of the clerk of the superior court having jurisdiction a new bond with such sureties as the court may approve, and transmitting a certified copy to the Controller. The penalty of each renewal bond shall be increased by an additional five years' interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum on the unpaid tax.

an action on it to recover the penalty specified. No demand for payment is necessary before the institution of the action.

Insufficient surety

14178. Whenever it appears to the satisfaction of the superior court having jurisdiction that any surety on any bond on file has for any reason become insufficient, the court may, on motion of the Controller after such notice to the transferee or trustee as the court may require, order the filing of a new bond with sufficient sureties in lieu of the bond on file. If the order is made and either a new bond is not filed within the time specified in the order or the sureties on the bond fail to justify when required, all rights obtained by the filing of the original bond or any subsequent bond shall cease, and the tax imposed, plus the interest on the tax, shall become due and payable immediately.

Article 6. Tax Compromises

14191. The Controller may compromise:

Transfer upon contingency

(a) With the executor, administrator, or trustee in charge of the property involved, the taxability of any transfer made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the transferee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged.

Transfer by nonresident

(b) The tax payable on any transfer of property included in the estate of any decedent who it is claimed was not a resident of this State at the time of his death.

Confirmation

14192. No compromise pursuant to this article is legally effective until the superior court having jurisdiction by order confirms a report of the inheritance tax appraiser prepared in accordance with the settlement. The order constitutes a final determination of the matters covered by it, and the payment of the tax as fixed by the order discharges the executor, administrator, or trustee from all liability with respect to the tax.

Article 7. Delinquent Tax Bond

When required

14201. If any executor or administrator fails to pay any tax imposed by this part for which he is liable prior to the delinquent date of the tax, he shall, on motion made by the Controller in his discretion, be required by the superior court having jurisdiction to execute a bond to the people of the State of California in a penalty of 135 per cent of the amount of the tax with such sureties as the court may approve, conditioned for the payment of the tax, plus interest on the tax at the rate of 7 per cent per annum commencing on the delinquent date of the tax imposed, within a certain time to be fixed by the court and specified in the bond.

Article 8. Interest

Interest

14211. The tax does not bear interest if it is paid prior to the date on which it otherwise becomes delinquent. However, except as otherwise provided in this article, if it is paid after that date it bears interest at the rate of 10 per cent per annum from the date it became due and payable and until it is paid.

Remission of interest

14212. If, in the judgment of the superior court having jurisdiction, the estate, or any part of the estate, of any transferor can not be settled prior to the delinquent date of any tax on a transfer of property included in the estate, because of claims against the estate, necessary litigation, or other unavoidable cause of delay, and the tax is not paid before that date, the tax bears interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the delinquent date and until the cause of the delay is removed or until it is paid, whichever is earlier. If paid after the cause of the delay is removed, the tax bears interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the delinquent date and until the cause of delay is removed, and at the rate of 10 per cent interest per annum from the date the cause of delay is removed and until it is paid.

Litigation to defeat the payment of the tax is not considered necessary litigation.

Article 9. Application of Delinquent Payments

Sale to bona fide purchaser

14303. Unless suit for collection of the tax is instituted within five years after the tax becomes due and payable, the lien ceases as to any bona fide purchaser, mortgagee, or lessee of, or beneficiary under a deed of trust on, the property subject to the lien.

14304. If property subject to the lien is sold, exchanged, or otherwise transferred pursuant to the Probate Code, the lien ceases as to the property and attaches to the proceeds or other consideration received.

Subordination of lien

14305. If property subject to the lien is mortgaged, hypothecated, or leased pursuant to the Probate Code, the lien becomes subject and subordinate to the rights and interests of the mortgagee, lessee, or other person so secured or created, and attaches to the proceeds of the mortgage, hypothecation, or lease.

Cessation on approval after deferment bond

14306. Upon the approval of a bond for the deferment of payment of the tax imposed on a transfer subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the transferee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the lien upon the property included in the transfer ceases.

Chapter 11. Proceedings For Determination of Tax

Article 1. Estates in Probate

Appointment of appraiser

14501. At or prior to the time of the appointment of the probate appraiser or appraisers pursuant to Section 605 of the Probate Code, the superior court having jurisdiction in probate of the estate of any decedent, or a judge of that court, shall designate and appoint an inheritance tax appraiser to ascertain and submit a report to the court on the following:

(a) The clear market value of the property included in each transfer subject to this part from the decedent to any person sharing in the estate, whether the property transferred is in the estate or not.

(b) The amount of tax, if any, which is due and payable on each transfer.

(c) Such other facts regarding the tax as will assist the court in the determination of the tax.

Powers of appraiser

14502. Upon his designation and appointment the inheritance tax appraiser has:

(a) Jurisdiction to require the attendance before him of the executor, administrator, any person interested in the estate, or any other person who he may have reason to believe possesses knowledge of the estate, of any property transferred by the decedent by a transfer subject to this part, or of any facts that will aid the appraiser or the court in the determination of the tax.

(b) All the powers of a referee of the superior court.

Subpenas

14503. The appraiser may issue subpenas compelling the attendance of any person before him for the purpose of:

(a) Appraising any property included in any transfer subject to this part made by the decedent.

(b) Determining the amount of any tax due and payable on the transfer.

Examination of witnesses

14504. The appraiser may examine and take the testimony under oath of any person appearing before him concerning any transfer subject to this part made by the decedent, the property included in the transfer, and the value of the property.

Contempt

14505. Any person served with a subpena issued by the appraiser requiring him to appear and testify before the appraiser in respect to any appraisement, or to produce any book or paper under his control or custody which is relevant to the appraisement, who refuses or neglects to do so, is guilty of a contempt of the court by whom the appraiser was designated and appointed.

Report

14506. Upon the completion of his appraisement the appraiser shall file a written report with the superior court setting forth the following:

(a) The clear market value of the property included in each transfer subject to this part from the decedent to any person sharing in the estate, whether the property transferred is in the estate or not.

(b) The amount of tax which is due and payable on each transfer.

(c) Such other facts as may advise the court in regard to the tax, or which the court may require.

In addition to filing the report, the appraiser may file with the court any deposition, exhibit, other evidence, or other information taken before or submitted to him.

Copy to Controller

14507. Upon filing the report the appraiser shall mail a copy to the Controller.

Notice of filing

14508. On the day that the report is filed, or on the next succeeding judicial day, the clerk of the superior court shall give notice of the filing to all persons interested by causing a notice to be posted at the courthouse in the county where the court holds its sessions, and shall mail a copy of the notice to the Controller and to each person chargeable with any tax in the report who has appeared in the probate proceeding.

Order fixing tax where no objections

14509. If no objection to the report is filed prior to the expiration of 10 days from and after the posting and mailing of the notice, the superior court, a judge of the court, or, if the court is located in a county or city and county having a population of 900,000 or more, a court commissioner appointed by the court may, without further notice, make an order confirming the report and fixing the tax in accordance therewith.

Objections

14510. At any time prior to the making of the order, any person interested, including the Controller, may file a written objection to the report.

Notice of hearing

14511. If an objection is filed, the clerk of the superior court shall fix a time, not less than 10 days after the filing, for a hearing on the objection, and shall give notice of the hearing by posting a notice of hearing at the courthouse in the county where the court holds its sessions, and by forthwith mailing a copy of the objection and of the notice to the Controller, the county treasurer, and the inheritance tax appraiser.

Report presumed correct

14512. For the purpose of the hearing the report of the inheritance tax appraiser is presumed to be correct, and at the hearing it is the duty of the objector to proceed in support of his objection.

Order

14513. Upon the completion of the hearing the court may make such order as to it may seem appropriate.

No tax certificate

14514. If it appears to the inheritance tax appraiser upon the completion of his appraisement that no tax is due and payable in the estate, he may so certify to the superior court. At any time thereafter, if no objection to the certificate has been filed, the court or a judge of the court may, without further notice, make an order declaring that no tax is due and payable in the estate, or may make such other order as to it may seem appropriate.

Conclusiveness of order

14515. An order fixing tax or declaring that no tax is due and payable is conclusive only as to such property as may have been returned in the inventory or inventory and appraisement in the probate proceeding, or as may have been included in transfers disclosed to the inheritance tax appraiser before making his report or issuing his certificate.

Procedure where decedent leaves no one to take 14516. Where a decedent leaves no one to take his estate under the laws of this State, no report or certificate shall be filed by the inheritance tax appraiser, and no order fixing tax or declaring that no tax is due and payable shall be made by the court. If the estate is distributed to the State of California and thereafter, pursuant to law, a petition is filed in the Superior Court of the County of Sacramento showing the petitioner's claim or right to the estate or the proceeds thereof, the court shall appoint an inheritance tax appraiser for the County of Sacramento to ascertain and report to the court the amount of tax, if any, that is due and payable. The procedure subsequent to the appointment is the same as that prescribed by this article following the appointment of an appraiser by a superior court having jurisdiction in probate of the estate of any decedent.

Article 2. Proceeding Initiated by Controller

Petition

14531. If, upon the petition of the Controller, it appears to the superior court having jurisdiction (a) that a transfer subject to this part has been made as to which the taxability, tax liability, and amount of tax have not been determined, and (b) that no proceedings are pending in any court in this State in which these matters may be determined, the court shall issue a citation ordering and directing any person who appears liable for the tax, or is known to own all or any part of the property transferred, to appear at a hearing either before the court or before a designated inheritance tax appraiser at a specified time and place, not less than 10 days nor more than one year from the date of the citation, to be examined under oath by the court or by the appraiser, as the case may be, concerning the transfer and all facts connected with it, and concerning the property transferred and its character and value.

15209. Notwithstanding that a donee by his act or omission can divest himself of the property transferred to him, the tax on the transfer is computed as if there were no possibility of divestment.

Transfer subject to contingency

15210. In the case of a transfer made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the donee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the tax is computed as though the contingency or condition has occurred, and at the highest rate possible.

Several gifts as one transaction

15211. When the Controller has reason to believe that several gifts are actually part of one transaction, he may elect to disregard intermediate parts of the transaction, even though they may appear to be separate gifts, and determine the tax as if the entire transaction were one gift, in accordance with the real effect of the transaction.

Computation on failure to file return, etc.

15212. In determining the tax on any gift in the case of a false or fraudulent return or in the case of a failure to file a return, the Controller shall determine the tax as if the gift under consideration had been made immediately after all gifts made by the donor in the preceding calendar year, except that the rates to be applied are those in effect at the date of the gift or those in effect at the date of the determination of the tax, whichever are higher.

Fraction of cent

15213. In computing any tax, penalty, or interest imposed by this part, a fraction of a cent is disregarded, unless it amounts to one-half cent or more, in which case it is treated as one full cent.

CHAPTER 3. COMMUNITY PROPERTY

Transfer to spouse

15301. In the case of a transfer of community property to either spouse, one-half of the property transferred is not subject to this part.

Transfer to other than spouse

15302. If any community property is transferred to a person other than one of the spouses, all of the property transferred is subject to this part, and each spouse is a donor of one-half.

Transfer of separate property into community

15303. If the separate property of either spouse is transferred by agreement into the community property of both spouses:

(a) One-half of the property transferred is subject to this part as a gift from the spouse whose property it was to the other spouse, and the other one-half is not subject to this part.

(b) The one-half which is subject to this part is the one-half of the community property which is not subject to Part 8 of this division on the death of the spouse whose separate property is transferred.

(c) If the wife is the spouse whose separate property is transferred, and upon her death and survival by her husband the entire community property passing to her husband is not subject to Part 8 of this division, the one-half of the separate property not subject to this part under subdivision (a) is subject to this part upon the death of the wife as a gift from the wife to her surviving husband at the time of her death.

Wife's interest in community property

15304. For the purpose of this part, the wife has the same interest in all community property, whenever acquired, if the property is community because of the manner of its acquisition by the spouses, that she has in community property acquired since the effective date of Section 161a of the Civil Code.

Intangibles acquired elsewhere

15305. For the purpose of this part, community property includes any intangible personal property acquired while domiciled elsewhere, which would not have been the separate property of either spouse if acquired while domiciled in this State.

Presumption

15306. As against any claim made by the State for the tax imposed by this part, there is no presumption that property acquired by a spouse after marriage is community property. Any person who claims that any property acquired after marriage is community property has the burden of proving that it is such.

CHAPTER 4. EXEMPTIONS

Article 1. Annual Exemption

Annual exemption

15401. In addition to the specific exemption, property in the aggregate amount of four thousand dollars ($4,000) transferred from any donor to any donee in any calendar year is exempt from the tax imposed by this part.

15426. The exemption allowed by this article shall be applied to the amount of net gifts as the gifts are made. If the exemption, or any unused portion of the exemption, exceeds the net gifts in any calendar year, the excess may be applied to the net gifts in subsequent calendar years until the maximum allowable has been used. Application of exemption

Article 4. Intangibles Exemption

Intangibles of nonresident

15451. Intangible personal property is exempt from the tax imposed by this part if the donor at the time of the transfer of the property was a resident of a Territory or another State of the United States or of a foreign state or country which then imposed a gift tax in respect to intangible personal property of its own residents, but either:

(a) Did not impose a gift tax of any character in respect to intangible personal property of residents of this State; or

(b) Had in its laws a reciprocal provision under which intangible personal property of a nonresident was exempt from gift taxes of every character if the Territory or other State of the United States or foreign state or country in which the nonresident resided allowed a similar exemption in respect to intangible personal property of residents of the Territory or State of the United States or foreign state or country of residence of the donor.

CHAPTER 5. VALUATION

Article 1. Generally

Valuation date

15551. For the purpose of this part, the value of property included in any transfer subject to this part is the market value of the property as of the date of the transfer.

Valuation of future, etc., interests

15552. The value of a future, contingent, or limited estate, income, or interest is determined in accordance with the rules, methods, and standards of mortality and value that are set forth in the actuaries' combined experience tables of mortality for ascertaining the values of life insurance policies and annuities and for determining the liabilities of life insurance companies, save that the rate of interest used in computing the present value of the estate, income, or interest is five (5) per cent per annum.

Same Yearly income, etc

15553. In determining the present value of a future, contingent, or limited estate, income, or interest, other than an annuity in a fixed amount, the yearly income, or the annual value of the use or income, of the estate, income, or interest is considered equivalent to 5 per cent of the appraised value of the property upon which the estate, income, or interest is based.

Death of annuitant or life tenant prior to fixing of tax

15554. If an annuity or a life estate is terminated by the death of the annuitant or life tenant, and the tax upon the transfer of the annuity or estate has not been determined, the value of the annuity or estate is the amount of the annuity or income actually paid or payable to the annuitant or life tenant during the period he was entitled to the annuity or was in possession of the estate.

No allowance for contingency

15556. In determing the value of any estate or interest in property to the beneficial enjoyment or possession of which there is a donee presently entitled, no allowance is made on account of any contingent incumbrance on the estate or interest, nor on account of any contingency upon the happening of which the estate or interest, or some part of it, might be abridged, defeated, or diminished.

Contingent gift where tax not determined

15557. A contingent or defeasible estate in expectancy as to which there has not been any determination of tax or the tax has been held in abeyance, is valued at its full, undiminished value when the person entitled to it comes into the beneficial enjoyment or possession of it, without diminution for or on account of any valuation theretofore made of the particular estate upon which the estate in expectancy may have been limited.

Insurance or annuity contract

15558. Nothing in this article prevents the valuation of an insurance policy or annuity contract at its market value as of the date of gift.

Article 2. Valuation in Inheritance Tax Proceeding

Generally

15571. If a donor dies before filing a gift return for any gift, and it is conceded that the same transfer is also subject to inheritance tax, the value of the property transferred may be determined for submission in the gift return pursuant to this article at the option of the executor of the donor's will, the administrator of the donor's estate, or the donee.

"Election for Gift Tax Valuation"

15572. At any time before the filing of the gift return for the donor and before the filing of the inheritance tax appraiser's inheritance tax report including the gift, the executor or administrator in the probate proceeding involving the donor's estate, the donee, or the respondent in any other proceeding in which the amount of inheritance tax on the transfer will be determined, may file in the proceeding an "Election for Gift Tax Valuation."

Content of election

15573. The election shall show such information as may be required by the Controller, and shall state that the person filing it:

(a) Concedes that the gift is subject to inheritance tax.

(b) Elects that the appointed inheritance tax appraiser shall value the gift for gift tax as well as inheritance tax purposes.

Service of copy

15574. A copy of the election shall be served on the inheritance tax appraiser prior to or concurrently with the filing of the election, or, if the appraiser has not yet been appointed when the election is filed, shall be served on the appraiser immediately after his appointment.

Appraisal and report

15575. As soon as possible after the filing and serving of the election, the inheritance tax appraiser shall without charge appraise the property involved as of the date of the gift and send a report of the appraisal in a form prescribed by the Controller to the person filing the election, showing the value of the gift for gift tax purposes.

Filing of report

15576. The original of the appraiser's report shall be filed as part of the gift return and shall constitute prima facie evidence of the value of the gift for gift tax purposes.

Subsequent filing

15577. If the appraiser's report is not received in time so that it can be filed as part of the gift return within the time during which the gift return may be filed without penalty, the gift return shall contain a statement of the facts and may be filed without the report. The Controller shall for such cases prescribe by rule for the manner of filing the report later or for other means of determining the value of the property.

CHAPTER 6. RETURNS

Article 1. Donor's Return

Time for filing

15651. Every donor shall file a gift return under oath with the Controller on or before the fifteenth day of April following the close of the calendar year in which he makes a gift.

Extension of time

15652. The Controller for cause shown may extend for not more than six months the time for filing the return.

Deceased donor

15653. The Controller may by rule prescribe for the filing of a return for the donor by any other person when the donor is deceased or for any reason can not personally file the return within the time allowed.

Filing by Controller

15654. If no gift return is filed by or for any donor, the Controller may file a return for the donor on such information as he may possess or obtain.

When no return required

15655. In such cases as the Controller may by rule prescribe, no gift return need be filed.

Contents of return

15656. The gift return shall show:

(a) Each gift made during the calendar year for which the return is made.

(b) The exemptions claimed and allowable.

(c) The net gifts to the same donee for each of the preceding calendar years.

(d) Any other information required by the Controller.

Article 2. Donee's or Trustee's Return

Donee's return

15671. The Controller may by regulation require the filing by donees of returns or other information reasonably necessary for the enforcement of this part.

Trustee's return

15672. Any trustee of property transferred in trust who has actual knowledge that the transfer is a gift shall also execute and file a gift return as to the property included in the trust, or shall join in the execution and filing of the gift return of the donor.

Article 3. Penalties

Failure to file return

15681. If no gift return is filed pursuant to this part or the regulations of the Controller, or if a return does not show all transfers made in the year for which the return is filed, a penalty equal to 10 per cent of the tax on the transfers not returned is added to the tax.

Same: Fraudulent return

15682. If the failure to file a gift return or to show any transfers in a gift return is the result of a fraudulent intent to evade the tax imposed by this part, an additional penalty equal to 25 per cent of the tax on the transfers not returned is added to the tax.

When penalties attach 15683. The penalties imposed by Sections 15681 and 15682 attach as of the date of the gift.

Part of tax

15684. The penalties imposed by Sections 15681 and 15682 are part of the tax for the purpose of determining the date when the tax is delinquent and for the purpose of determining interest on the amount delinquent.

Additional penalty

15685. Any person required by this part or the rules and regulations of the Controller to make any return who wilfully fails to make the return shall, in addition to any other penalty, be subject to a penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000). The penalty may be collected by the Controller in a civil action brought in any court of competent jurisdiction.

CHAPTER 7. DETERMINATION OF TAX

Time for determination generally

15801. In a case not involving a false or fraudulent return or failure to file a return, the amount of tax imposed by this part shall be determined by the Controller at any time after the tax is due, but not later than six months after the return is filed. However, a determination is not invalid if made within three years after the return is filed.

False or fraudulent return

15802. In the case of a false or fraudulent return or failure to file a return, the Controller may determine the tax at any time.

Notice of determination

15803. The Controller shall give notice of the amount of tax determined, together with any penalty for failure to file a return or to show any transfer in the return filed, by personal service or by mail to the person filing the return at the address stated in the return, or, if no return is filed, to the person liable for the tax. Copies of the notice may be sent to such other persons as the Controller deems advisable.

Finality of determination Where action to recover tax 15804. If no action is brought within the time allowed by this part to recover any tax paid under protest, the determination by the Controller of the amount of tax due is final 60 days after notice of the determination is given.

Where no action to recover tax

15805. If payment of tax is made under protest and an action is brought pursuant to this part to recover all or any portion of the tax so paid, the determination by the Controller of the amount of tax due, including any modification ordered by the court, is final when the judgment of the court becomes final.

Effect of final determination

15806. When it becomes final, the determination of the Controller fixing the amount of tax due or any determination of the Controller that no tax is due, has the force and effect of a judgment in a civil action.

CHAPTER 8. PAYMENT OF TAX

Article 1. Generally

Personal liability

15901. Both the donor and the donee of a gift are personally liable for the tax imposed by this part. The donor, however, is primarily liable for the tax.

Payment by trustee

15902. Where property has been transferred in trust, the trustee may pay the entire tax on each gift involved out of the corpus of the property transferred.

Transfer subject to a contingency

15903. Where a transfer, in trust or otherwise, has been made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the donee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the tax is payable out of the corpus of the property transferred. The tax shall not be charged against the right, interest, or estate of, nor shall it be collected from, the donee.

Due date

15904. The tax is due at the time the gift is made.

Delinquent date

15905. The tax is delinquent when the determination of the Controller fixing the amount of tax due becomes final.

Postponement

The Controller for good cause may postpone the date of delinquency for not more than six months.

Remittance

15906. The tax shall be paid to the State Controller by remittance payable to the State Treasurer.

Receipt

15907. Upon receiving payment of any tax, interest, or penalty imposed by this part, the Controller shall issue a receipt therefor. The receipt is conclusive evidence of the payment of the tax, interest, or penalty specified therein.

Protest

15908. Any person who is dissatisfied with the Controller's determination of any tax for which he is liable may pay the tax under protest. The protest shall be in writing and shall specify the grounds on which it is made, which may include, but are not limited to, an erroneous valuation or computation.

Election

15931. Where a transfer has been made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the donee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the donee, or, if a trust is involved, the trustee may elect to defer the payment of the tax until the contingency or condition occurs.

Bond

15932. If the donee or trustee elects to defer the payment of the tax, he shall execute a bond to the people of the State of California in a penalty of the amount of the tax imposed, plus interest on the tax for five years at the rate of 7 per cent per annum, with such sureties as the Controller may approve, conditioned as follows:

Conditions

(a) For the payment of the tax imposed, or any lesser tax which may become payable on the happening of the contingency, plus interest on the tax at the rate of 7 per cent per annum commencing on the delinquent date of the tax imposed, at such time as the contingency or condition occurs.

(b) That if there is a noncompliance with the provisions of this article regarding the renewal of the bond and the making of returns, the amount of the tax imposed and the interest on the tax shall immediately become due and payable.

Filing

15933. The bond shall be filed in the office of the Controller before the tax becomes delinquent.

Verified return of property transferred

15934. Within one year from the date on which the tax becomes delinquent, and at such times thereafter as the Controller may require, the donee or trustee shall file in the office of the Controller a full and verified return of the property transferred.

Penalty

15935. The donee or trustee shall renew the bond every five years from and after the date on which the bond was approved by filing in the office of the Controller a new bond with such sureties as the Controller may approve. The penalty of each renewal bond shall be increased by an additional five years' interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum on the unpaid tax.

Action on bond

15936. If the bond is not renewed before the expiration of each five-year period, it becomes due and payable immediately, and if it is not paid forthwith, the Controller may file an action on it to recover the penalty specified. No demand for payment is necessary before the institution of the action.

Insufficient surety

15937. Whenever the Controller determines that any surety on any bond on file has for any reason become insufficient, the Controller may, after such notice to the donee or trustee as the Controller may deem proper, order the filing of a new bond with sufficient sureties in lieu of the bond on file. If the order is made and either a new bond is not filed within the time specified in the order or the sureties on the bond fail to justify when required, all rights obtained by the filing of the original bond or any subsequent bond shall cease, and the amount of the tax, plus the interest on the tax, shall become due and payable immediately.

Article 3. Tax Compromises

Gift upon contingency

15951. The Controller may compromise:

(a) With the donor or donee of the property involved, the taxability of any gift made subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the donee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged.

Gift by nonresident

(b) The tax payable on any gift by a donor who it is claimed was not a resident of this State at the date of the gift.

Approval

15952. No compromise pursuant to this article is legally effective until approved by the Controller personally, a deputy controller, the inheritance tax attorney, or a subordinate inheritance tax attorney. When so approved, the compromise is a final determination of the matters covered by it, and the payment of the tax as fixed by the compromise discharges the donor and donee from all liability with respect to the tax.

Article 4. Interest and Penalties

Interest Generally

15961. Except as otherwise provided in this article, if the tax is not paid before it becomes delinquent, it bears interest thereafter and until it is paid at the rate of 7 per cent per annum.

Where delinquent date postponed

15962. In the event that the date of delinquency is postponed, the tax bears interest during the period of postponement at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from the time when it would have begun to bear interest had no postponement been allowed and until it is paid.

Where return filed after April 15

15963. If a gift return is filed after the fifteenth day of April following the close of the calendar year in which the gift was made, regardless of whether an extension of time for filing the return is obtained, the tax bears interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum commencing on the fifteenth day of June following the close of the calendar year in which the gift was made and until it is paid.

Where failure to file return, etc

15964. If the tax on any gift in the case of a false or fraudulent return or in the case of a failure to file a return is not paid before it becomes delinquent, it bears interest at the rate of 7 per cent per annum from and after the last day allowed by or pursuant to this part for filing a return for the gift and until it is paid.

Additional penalty

15965. Any person required by this part or the rules and regulations of the Controller to pay any tax imposed by this part who wilfully fails to make the payment shall, in addition to any other penalty, be subject to a penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000). The penalty may be collected by the Controller in a civil action brought in any court of competent jurisdiction.

Article 5. Application of Payments

Application of payments

15971. Every payment on the tax imposed by this part is applied, first, to any interest due on the tax, secondly, to any penalty imposed by this part for failure to file a return or to show any transfer in the return filed, and then, if there is any balance, to the tax itself.

Chapter 8. Collection of Tax

Article 1. Suit for Tax

Civil action

16051. The State may enforce its claim for any tax imposed by this part and enforce the lien of the tax by a civil action in any court of competent jurisdiction against any person liable for the tax or against any property subject to the lien.

Article 2. Lien of Tax

Personal property lien

16061. In the case of a gift of personal property, the tax imposed by this part is a lien upon the property from the time the gift is made and until the expiration of 10 years from and after the time the tax becomes delinquent or until the tax is paid, whichever is earlier.

Sale to bona fide purchaser

16062. If any personal property embraced in a gift is sold by the donee or his successor in interest to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth, the lien ceases as to that property and attaches to all other property of the donee, including any after-acquired property, except such part of such other property as is also sold to a bona fide purchaser for an adequate and full consideration in money or money's worth.

Controller's certificate Recording

16063. In any case in which any tax, interest, or penalty imposed by this part is not paid when due, the Controller may file for record in any county a certificate showing the names of the donor and donee, or the name of either one, and the amount of the tax, interest, or penalty due.

Real property lien

16064. From the time of the recording of the certificate the amount of the tax, interest, or penalty set forth constitutes a lien upon any real property then owned or thereafter acquired by the donor or donee named located in the county in which the certificate is recorded. This lien has the same force, effect, and priority as a lien created by the recording of an abstract of judgment pursuant to Section 674 of the Code of Civil Procedure, except that it continues for 10 years from and after the time the tax becomes delinquent or until the tax, interest, or penalty is paid, the property is sold for nonpayment, or the lien is released or otherwise extinguished, whichever is earlier.

Future interests, etc

16065. In the case of any gift of an estate, income, or interest (a) for a term of years or for life, or (b) determinable upon any future or contingent event, or (c) constituting a remainder, reversion, or other expectancy, the tax imposed on the gift is a lien upon the entire property by which the estate, income, or interest is supported.

Release or subordination of lien

16066. The Controller may at any time release all or any portion of any property from any lien imposed by this part to which the property is subject, or may subordinate such lien to any other lien or interest, if he determines that the tax, interest, or penalty involved is sufficiently secured by a lien on other property or that the release or subordination will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of the tax, interest, or penalty.

Certificate of release or subordination

16067. A certificate by the Controller to the effect that any property has been released from any lien imposed by this part, or that the lien has been subordinated to any other lien or interest, is conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate.

Cessation on approval of tax deferment bond

16068. Upon the approval of a bond for the deferment of payment of the tax imposed on a transfer subject to a contingency or condition upon the occurrence of which the right, interest, or estate of the donee may, in whole or in part, be created, defeated, extended, or abridged, the lien upon the property included in the transfer ceases.

Article 3. Writ of Execution

Issuance

16081. At any time after a tax imposed by this part is delinquent, the Controller may have a writ of execution issued for the enforcement of any judgment rendered pursuant to this part in respect to the tax.

Property subject to 16082. The writ shall be executed against any property of the donor or donee, or against any property subject to the lien of the tax.

Fees prohibited

16083. No fee shall be exacted from the Controller for the issuance or execution of the writ.

Article 4. Withholding by Third Persons

Notice to third person

16101. If the payment of any gift tax is delinquent, the Controller may give notice by mail of the amount of the delinquency to any person having in his possession or under his control any credit or other personal property belonging to the person liable for the tax, or owing any debt to the latter.

Duty of person notified

16102. Upon receiving the notice the person notified shall neither transfer nor make any other disposition of the credit, other personal property, or debt until the Controller has consented to a transfer or disposition, or until 20 days have elapsed from and after the receipt of the notice.

Notice to Controller

16103. Within five days after receipt of the notice, the person notified shall advise the Controller of any and all credits or other personal property in his possession or under his control belonging to the person liable for the tax, and of any and all debts which he owes the latter.

Article 5. Miscellaneous

Limitation

16121. Proceedings for the collection of any tax imposed by this part may be commenced at any time after the tax is due and within 10 years from and after the time the tax becomes delinquent.

Controller's certificate

16122. In any proceeding for the enforcement of the gift tax a certificate by the Controller showing the amount due is prima facie evidence of the imposition of the tax, of the fact that it is due, and of compliance by the Controller with all the provisions of this part in relation to the computation and determination of the tax.

Injunction prohibited

16123. No injunction, writ of mandate, or other legal or equitable process shall ever issue in any suit, action, or proceeding in any court against this State or any officer of this State to prevent or enjoin the collection of any tax imposed by this part.

Remedies cumulative

16124. The remedies of the State for the enforcement of the gift tax are cumulative, and no action taken by the Controller or any other State official constitutes an election by the State or any of its officers to pursue any remedy to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this part.

Chapter 9. Refunds

Article 1. When Allowable

Refund of erroneous payment

16221. Any person who has made an erroneous payment of any tax imposed by this part, or an heir, the executor of the will, or the administrator of the estate of any such person, but not his assign, is entitled to a refund in the amount erroneously paid within one year after the payment.

Refund after court judgment

16222. Any person who has paid any tax imposed by this part which later is determined by judgment to have been in excess of the amount legally due, or an heir, the executor of the will, or the administrator of the estate of any such person, but not his assign, is entitled to a refund in the amount of the excess paid within one year after the judgment becomes final.

Refund where property valued without allowance for contingency

16223. If any tax has been paid on a gift subject to a contingent incumbrance or any contingency which might burden, abridge, defeat, or diminish the estate or interest of the donee, and the gift was valued without allowance for the incumbrance or contingency, upon the taking effect of the incumbrance or the happening of the contingency the person who paid the tax is entitled to a refund in an amount equal to the difference between the tax paid and any smaller tax that would have been paid on a valuation of the estate or interest actually enjoyed or of the estate or interest remaining after the taking effect of the incumbrance or the happening of the contingency.

Application

Application for the refund shall be filed within six months after the taking effect of the incumbrance or the happening of the contingency, and the refund shall be made in the manner provided for the making of a refund of a tax erroneously paid.

CHAPTER 3. GROSS INCOME

Article 1. Items Includible

Generally

17101. Gross income includes gains, profits, and income derived from salaries, wages, or compensation for personal service, of whatever kind and in whatever form paid, or from professions, vocations, trades, businesses, commerce, or sales, or dealings in property, whether real or personal, growing out of the ownership or use of or interest in such property; also from interest, rent, dividends, securities, or the transaction of any business carried on for gain or profit, or gains or profits and income derived from any source whatever.

Public officers and employees

17102. Gross income also includes any salary, wages, or compensation of any officer or employee of this State, or of any political subdivision, district, or municipality of this State, and any compensation of officers and employees of the United States or agencies or instrumentalities of the United States to the extent the collection of State taxes thereon is not prohibited by the terms of the "Public Salary Tax Act of 1939," (it being hereby declared to be the policy of this State to comply with the provisions of that act) and all other gains, profits, and income which the State may now or hereafter constitutionally tax.

Purchase or exchange

17103. Where property is acquired in a transaction purporting to be a purchase or an exchange (including transactions described in Article 2 of Chapter 6 of this part, relating to the nonrecognition of gain, but excluding foreclosures or repossessions of properties held for security), and the value thereof is substantially in excess of the value of the money or property surrendered or agreed to be surrendered as a condition of such acquisition, the excess value shall be considered ordinary income taxable under this part unless it can be established (a) that the sole consideration for the acquisition of the property was the money or property surrendered or agreed to be surrendered, or (b) that the excess value was a gift, or (c) that for some other reason the excess value does not constitute income or the gain represented thereby is not recognized.

Article 2. Items Not Includible

Generally

17121. Items excluded from gross income under this article are exempt from taxation under this part.

Life insurance Amounts payable at death

17122. Gross income does not include amounts received under a life insurance contract paid by reason of the death of the insured, whether in a single sum or otherwise, but if such amounts are held by the insurer under an agreement to pay interest thereon, the interest payments shall be included in gross income.

Life insurance Amounts received during life

17123. Gross income also does not include amounts received (other than amounts paid by reason of the death of the insured and interest payments on such amounts and other than amounts received as annuities) under a life insurance or endowment contract, but if such amounts (when added to amounts received before the taxable year under such contract) exceed the aggregate premiums or consideration paid (whether or not paid during the taxable year) then the excess shall be included in gross income.

Annuity contract payment

17124. Amounts received as an annuity under an annuity or endowment contract shall be included in gross income; except that there shall be excluded from gross income the excess of the amount received in the taxable year over an amount equal to 3 per cent of the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for the annuity (whether or not paid during the taxable year), until the aggregate amount excluded from gross income under this part in respect of the annuity, increased by the amount which would have been excluded from gross income in respect of the annuity had this part been in effect continuously from the date at which payments under the annuity were first received, equals the aggregate premiums or consideration paid for the annuity.

Transfer of insurance contract

17125. In the case of a transfer for a valuable consideration, by assignment or otherwise, of a life insurance, endowment, or annuity contract, or any interest therein, only the actual value of the consideration and the amount of the premiums and other sums subsequently paid by the transferee shall be exempt from taxation under Sections 17122, 17123, or 17124.

17152. If the whole or any part of a dividend is paid to a shareholder in any medium other than money, the property received other than money shall be included in gross income at its fair market value at the time as of which it becomes income to the shareholder. Nonpecuniary dividend

17153. For the purposes of this part every distribution is made out of earnings or profits to the extent thereof, and from the most recently accumulated earnings or profits. Any earnings or profits accumulated, or increase in value of property accrued, before March 1, 1913, may be distributed exempt from tax after the earnings and profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, have been distributed, but any such tax free distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Article 5 of Chapter 6 of this part. Earnings before March 1, 1913

17154. Amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in full payment in exchange for the stock, and amounts distributed in partial liquidation of a corporation shall be treated as in part or full payment in exchange for the stock. The gain or loss to the distributee resulting from the exchange shall be determined under Article 1 of Chapter 6 of this part and shall be recognized only to the Corporate liquidation extent provided in Article 2 of that chapter. Notwithstanding the provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 6, 100 per cent of the gain so recognized shall be taken into account in computing net income, except in the case of amounts distributed in complete liquidation of a corporation.

"Complete liquidation"

17155. As used in Section 17154, "complete liquidation" includes any one of a series of distributions made by a corporation in complete cancellation or redemption of all of its stock in accordance with a bona fide plan of liquidation and under which the transfer of the property under the liquidation is to be completed within a time specified in the plan, not exceeding from the close of the taxable year during which is made the first of the series of distributions under the plan (a) three years, if the first of the series of distributions is made in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, or (b) two years if the first of the series of distributions was made in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941.

Nondividend, etc. distributions

17158. If any distribution (not in partial or complete liquidation) made by a corporation to its shareholders is not out of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913, and is not a dividend, the amount of the distribution shall be applied against and reduce the adjusted basis of the stock provided in Article 5 of Chapter 6 of this part, and if in excess of that basis, the excess shall be taxable in the same manner as a gain from the sale or exchange of property.

Stock dividend

17159. A distribution made by a corporation to its shareholders in its stock or in rights to acquire its stock shall not be treated as a dividend to the extent that it does not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States.

17160. Whenever a distribution by a corporation is, at the election of any of the shareholders (whether exercised before or after the declaration thereof), payable either (a) in its stock, or in rights to acquire its stock, of a class which if distributed without election would be exempt from tax under Section 17159, or in money or any other property (including its stock, or rights to acquire its stock, of a class which if distributed without election would not be exempt from tax under Section 17159), the distribution shall constitute a taxable dividend in the hands of all shareholders regardless of the medium in which paid.

Canceled or redeemed stock

17161. If a corporation cancels or redeems its stock (whether or not the stock was issued as a stock dividend) at such time and in such manner as to make the distribution and cancellation or redemption in whole or in part essentially equivalent to the distribution of a taxable dividend, the amount so distributed in redemption or cancellation of the stock, to the extent that it represents a distribution of earnings or profits accumulated after February 28, 1913, shall be treated as a taxable dividend.

Distribution of stock and securities

17162 The distribution heretofore or hereafter made to a distributee by or on behalf of a corporation of its stock or securities or stock or securities in another corporation shall not be considered a distribution of earnings or profits of any corporation:

(a) If no gain to the distributee from the receipt of such stock or securities was recognized under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution, or

(b) If the distribution was not subject to tax in the hands of the distributee under the Federal Revenue Act of 1936 or prior Federal revenue acts in effect at the time of the distribution because it did not constitute income to him within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States or because exempted to him under Section 115 (f) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934, or a corresponding provision of a prior Federal revenue act.

As used in this section, "stock or securities" includes rights to acquire stock or securities.

Determination of gain or loss

17163. The gain or loss realized from the sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, of property by a corporation for the purpose of the computation of earnings and profits of the corporation for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, shall be determined by using as the adjusted basis the adjusted basis (under the law applicable to the year in which the sale or other disposition was made) for determining gain. Gain or loss so realized shall increase or decrease the earnings and profits to, but not beyond, the extent to which such a realized gain or loss was recognized in computing net income under the law applicable to the year in which such sale or disposition was made. Where in determining the adjusted basis used in computing such realized gain or loss the adjustment to the basis differs from the adjustment proper for the purpose of determining earnings or profits, the latter adjustment shall be used in determining the increase or decrease above provided.

Distribution from a second corporation

17164. Where a corporation receives after February 28, 1913, a distribution from a second corporation which (under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made) was not a taxable dividend to the shareholders of the second corporation, the amount of the distribution shall not increase the earnings and profits of the first corporation in the following cases:

(a) No such increase shall be made in respect of the part of such distribution which under that law is directly applied in reduction of the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made.

(b) No such increase shall be made if under that law the distribution causes the basis of the stock in respect of which the distribution was made to be allocated between that stock and the property received.

"Law applicable to the year"

17165. For the purposes of Sections 17163 and 17164, "law applicable to the year" means the State act or the United States Revenue Act in force for the year in which the sale or other disposition was made.

Increase or decrease in profits, etc

17166. If any increase or decrease in the earnings or profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, with respect to any matter would be different had the adjusted basis of the property involved been determined without regard to its March 1, 1913, value, then, except as provided in Section 17167, an increase properly reflecting such difference shall be made in that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

Reduction of loss

17167. If the application of Sections 17163 and 17164 to a sale or other disposition after February 28, 1913, results in a loss which is to be applied in decrease of earnings and profits for any period beginning after February 28, 1913, then, notwithstanding those sections and in lieu of the rule provided in Section 17166, the amount of the loss so to be applied shall be reduced by the amount, if any, by which the adjusted basis of the property used in determining the loss, exceeds the adjusted basis computed without regard to the value of the property on March 1, 1913, and if such amount so applied in reduction of the decrease exceeds such loss, the excess over such loss shall increase that part of the earnings and profits consisting of increase in value of property accrued before March 1, 1913.

Double taxation

Article 4. Forgiveness of Indebtedness

Cancellation of indebtedness

17191. If the indebtedness of a taxpayer is canceled or forgiven in whole or in part without payment, the amount so canceled or forgiven constitutes income to the extent the value of the property of the taxpayer exceeds his liabilities immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness. The remainder of the amount of indebtedness so canceled or forgiven, if any, shall be applied in reduction of the basis of the assets to the extent the basis thereof exceeds the value thereof immediately after the cancellation or forgiveness. The reduction shall be made in accordance with regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Outlawed debt

17192. If an indebtedness is not paid by the time an action to enforce payment is barred by limitation, the indebtedness shall be considered canceled or forgiven within the meaning of this article unless it can be established that the period of limitation has been extended by a new promise in writing.

Article 5. Gross Income of Nonresidents

Sources within the State

17211. In the case of nonresident taxpayers the gross income includes only the gross income from sources within this State. Gross income from sources within this State includes rentals or royalties from property located in this State or from any interest in such property, including rentals or royalties for the use of, or for the privilege of using in this State, patents, copyrights, secret processes and formulas, good will, trade-marks, trade brands, franchises, and other like property.

Intangible personal property

17212. Income of nonresidents from stocks, bonds, notes, or other intangible personal property is not income from sources within this State unless the property has acquired a business situs in this State, except that if a nonresident buys or sells such property in this State or places orders with brokers in this State to buy or sell such property so regularly, systematically, and continuously as to constitute doing business in this State, the profit or gain derived from such activity is income from sources within this State irrespective of the situs of the property.

Estates or trusts

17213. Income of nonresident beneficiaries from estates or trusts is income from sources within this State only if distributed or distributable out of income of the estate or trust derived from sources within this State.

Allocation

17214. Gross income from sources within and without this State shall be allocated and apportioned under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Chapter 4. Deductions from Gross Income

Article 1. Items Deductible

Business expenses

17301. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction all the ordinary and necessary expenses paid or incurred during the taxable year in carrying on any trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for salaries or other compensation for personal services actually rendered; traveling expenses (including the entire amount expended for meals and lodging) while away from home in the pursuit of a trade or business; and rentals or other payments required to be made as a condition to the continued use or possession, for purposes of the trade or business, of property to which the taxpayer has not taken or is not taking title or in which he has no equity.

Nontaxable income

17302. The deductions permitted by Section 17301 shall not be allowed to the extent that they are connected with the production of income not taxable under this part. Proper apportionment and allocation of such deductions with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Employer pension trusts

17303. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction to an employer establishing or maintaining a pension trust to provide for the payment of reasonable pensions to his employees (if such trust is exempt from tax under Article 3 of Chapter 8 of this part, relating to trusts created for the exclusive benefit of employees) in addition to the contributions to such trust during the taxable year to cover the pension liability accruing during the year, allowed as a deduction under Section 17301, a reasonable amount transferred or paid into such trust during the taxable year in excess of such contributions, but only if such amount (a) has not theretofore been allowable as a deduction, and (b) is apportioned in equal parts over a period of 10 consecutive years beginning with the year in which the transfer or payment is made.

Interest

17304. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction all interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness of the taxpayer. However, no deduction shall be allowed (a) to the extent that it is connected with income not taxable under this part; or (b) for interest paid or accrued within the taxable year on indebtedness incurred or continued to purchase or carry obligations, the interest upon which is wholly exempt from the tax imposed by this part. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deduction with respect to taxable and nontaxable income shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Taxes or licenses

17305. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction taxes or licenses paid or accrued during the taxable year, except:

(a) Taxes paid or accrued to the State under this part.

(b) Taxes on or according to or measured by income or profits paid or accrued within the taxable year imposed by the authority of

(1) The Government of the United States or any foreign country.

(2) Any State, Territory, county, city and county, school district, municipality, or other taxing subdivision of any State or Territory.

(c) Estate, inheritance, legacy, succession, and gift taxes.

(d) Taxes computed as an addition to, or as a percentage of, taxes which are not deductible under this section.

(e) Taxes assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to increase the value of the property assessed, but this does not exclude the allowance as a deduction of so much of the taxes assessed against local benefits as is properly allocable to maintenance or interest charges.

17306. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction losses sustained during the taxable year and not compensated for by insurance or otherwise: Losses

(a) If incurred in trade or business; or

(b) If incurred in any transaction entered into for profit, though not connected with the trade or business; or

(c) Of property not connected with the trade or business, if the loss arises from fires, storms, shipwreck, or other casualty, or from theft.

The basis for determining the amount of deduction for losses sustained, to be allowed under this section, shall be the adjusted basis provided in Article 5 of Chapter 6 of this part for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

17307. Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent provided in Article 3 of Chapter 6 of this part. Worthless securities

If any securities become worthless during the taxable year and are capital assets, the loss resulting therefrom shall, for the purposes of this part, be considered as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of the taxable year, of capital assets.

"Securities," as used in this section, means (a) shares of stock in a corporation, and (b) rights to subscribe for or to receive such shares.

17308. Losses from wagering transactions shall be allowed only to the extent of the gains from such transactions. Wagering losses

17309. In the case of any loss claimed to have been sustained from any sale or other disposition of shares of stock or securities where it appears that, within a period beginning 30 days before the date of the sale or disposition and ending 30 days after that date, the taxpayer has acquired (by purchase or by an exchange upon which the entire amount of gain or loss was recognized by law) or has entered into a contract or option so to acquire, substantially identical stock or securities, then no deduction for the loss shall be allowed. Wash sales

If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which is not deductible shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner

If the amount of stock or securities acquired (or covered by the contract or option to acquire) is not less than the amount of stock or securities sold or otherwise disposed of, then the particular shares of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility of the loss shall be determined under the rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

17310. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction debts ascertained to be worthless within the taxable year and charged off or, in the discretion of the commissioner, a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts. When satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the commissioner Worthless debts may allow the debt as a deduction in an amount not in excess of the amount ascertained to be worthless in the taxable year and charged off. But if a portion of a debt is claimed and allowed as a deduction in any year, no deduction shall be allowed in any subsequent year for any portion of the debt ascertained in any prior year to be worthless, regardless of whether charged off or claimed as a deduction in such prior year. This section does not apply to a debt evidenced by a security as defined in Section 17312.

Worthless securities

17311. If any securities, as defined in Section 17312, are ascertained to be worthless within the taxable year and are charged off and are capital assets, the loss resulting shall be considered as a loss from the sale or exchange, on the last day of the taxable year, of capital assets.

"Securities"

17312. "Securities," as used in Sections 17310 and 17311, means bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates, or other evidences of indebtedness, issued by any corporation (including those issued by a government or political subdivision thereof) with interest coupons or in registered form.

Obsolescence, etc

17313. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction a reasonable allowance for the exhaustion, wear and tear of property used in the trade or business, including a reasonable allowance for obsolescence. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each.

Depletion, etc Oil and gas wells

17314. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction, in the case of mines, oil and gas wells, other natural deposits, and timber, a reasonable allowance for depletion and for depreciation of improvements, according to the peculiar conditions in each case; such reasonable allowance in all cases to be made under rules and regulation prescribed by the commissioner. In any case in which it is ascertained as a result of operations or of development work that the recoverable units are greater or less than the prior estimate thereof, the prior estimate (but not the basis for depletion) shall be revised and the allowance under this section for subsequent taxable years shall be based upon the revised estimate.

In the case of leases the deductions shall be equitably apportioned between the lessor and the lessee. In the case of property held by one person for life with remainder to another person, the deduction shall be computed as if the life tenant were the absolute owner of the property and shall be allowed to the life tenant. In the case of property held in trust the allowable deduction shall be apportioned between the income beneficiaries and the trustee in accordance with the pertinent provisions of the instrument creating the trust, or, in the absence of such provisions, on the basis of the trust income allocable to each.

The percentage of depletion allowable under this section shall be computed in accordance with the provisions of Sections 17816 and 17817.

Charitable contributions

17315. In computing net income there shall be allowed as a deduction, in the case of an individual, contributions or gifts payment of which is made within the taxable year to or for the use of:

(a) The United States, any State, Territory, or any political subdivision thereof, or the District of Columbia, for exclusively public purposes.

(b) A corporation, or trust, or community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of which inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual, and no substantial part of the activities of which is carrying on propaganda, or otherwise attempting to influence legislation.

(c) The special fund for vocational rehabilitation authorized by Section 12 of the World War Veterans' Act, 1924.

(d) Posts or organizations of war veterans, or auxiliary units or societies of any such posts or organizations, if the posts, organizations, units, or societies are organized in the United States and if no part of their net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

(e) A fraternal society, order, or association, operating under the lodge system, but only if the contributions or gifts are to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals.

Limit on charitable contributions

17316. Deductions for contributions or gifts shall be allowed to an amount which in all the cases listed in Section 17315 combined does not exceed 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income as computed without the benefit of that section. The contributions or gifts shall be allowed as deductions only if verified under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

When limit on charitable contributions inapplicable

17317. In the case of an individual if in the taxable year and in each of the 10 preceding taxable years the amount of the contributions or gifts described in Section 17315, plus the amount of income, war profits, or excess profits taxes paid during such year in respect of preceding taxable years, exceeds 90 per cent of the taxpayer's net income for each such year, as computed without the benefit of that section, then the 15 per cent limit does not apply.

Article 2. Items not Deductible

Personal expenses, etc

17351. In computing net income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of:

(a) Personal, living, or family expenses.

(b) Any amount paid out for new buildings or for permanent improvements or betterments made to increase the value of any property or estate.

(c) Any amount expended in restoring property or in making good the exhaustion thereof for which an allowance is or has been made.

(d) Premiums paid on any life insurance policy covering the life of any officer or employee, or of any person financially interested in any trade or business carried on by the taxpayer, when the taxpayer is directly or indirectly a beneficiary under the policy.

(e) Any amount otherwise allowable as a deduction which is allocable to one or more classes of income (whether or not any amount of income of that class or classes is received or accrued) wholly exempt from the taxes imposed by this part.

Losses from sales or exchanges between members of family, etc

17352. In computing net income no deduction shall in any case be allowed in respect of losses from sales or exchanges of property, directly or indirectly:

(a) Between members of a family, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 17353.

(b) Except in the case of distributions in liquidation, between an individual and a corporation more than 50 per cent in value of the outstanding stock of which is owned, directly or indirectly, by or for the individual.

(c) Between a partnership and a member thereof, between partnerships where more than 50 per cent of the partnership interests in each are owned by the same persons, and between a partnership and a corporation 50 per cent of the stock of which is owned or controlled by the partnership or members thereof.

(d) Between a grantor and a fiduciary of any trust.

(e) Between the fiduciary of a trust and the fiduciary of another trust, if the same person is a grantor with respect to each trust.

(f) Between a fiduciary of a trust and a beneficiary of such trust.

Ownership of stock

17353. For the purposes of determining, in applying Section 17352, the ownership of stock:

(a) Stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for a corporation, partnership, estate, or trust, shall be considered as being owned proportionately by or for its shareholders, partners, or beneficiaries.

(b) An individual shall be considered as owning the stock or the partnership interest owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his family.

(c) An individual owning (otherwise than by the application of subdivision (b)) any stock in a corporation shall be considered as owning the stock owned, directly or indirectly, by or for his partner.

(d) The family of an individual shall include only his brothers and sisters (whether by the whole or half blood), spouse, ancestors, and lineal descendants.

(e) Stock constructively owned by a person by reason of the application of subdivision (a) shall, for the purpose of applying subdivision (a), (b), or (c), be treated as actually owned by such person, but stock constructively owned by an individual by reason of the application of subdivision (b) or (c) shall not be treated as owned by him for the purpose of again applying either of those subdivisions in order to make another the constructive owner of such stock.

Business expenses and interest accrued

17354. In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed under Section 17301, relating to expenses incurred, or under Section 17304, relating to interest accrued:

(a) If such expenses or interest are not paid within the taxable year or within two and one-half months after the close thereof; and

(b) If, by reason of the method of accounting of the person to whom the payment is to be made, the amount thereof is not, unless paid, includible in the gross income of that person for the taxable year in which or with which the taxable year of the taxpayer ends; and

(c) If, at the close of the taxable year of the taxpayer or at any time within two and one-half months thereafter, both the taxpayer and the person to whom the payment is to be made are persons between whom losses would be disallowed under Section 17352.

The amount of expenses incurred or interest accrued the deduction of which is disallowed under this section in the year incurred or accrued, may be deducted in the year paid.

Shrinkage in value of interest acquired by gift, etc

17355. Amounts paid under the laws of any State, Territory, District of Columbia, possession of the United States, or foreign country as income to the holder of a life or terminable interest acquired by gift, bequest, or inheritance shall not be reduced or diminished by any deduction for shrinkage (by whatever name called) in the value of such interest due to the lapse of time, or by any deduction allowed by this part (except the deductions provided for in Sections 17313 and 17314 for the purpose of computing the net income of an estate or trust but not allowed under the laws of such State, Territory, District of Columbia, possession of the United States, or foreign country for the purpose of computing the income to which such holder is entitled.

Tax-free covenant bond

17356. In computing net income no deduction shall be allowed to the obligor of a covenant bond for the payment of the tax imposed by this part, or any other tax paid pursuant to the tax-free covenant clause, nor shall such tax be included in the gross income of the obligee.

Article 3. Deductions of Nonresidents

Extent

17381. In the case of a nonresident taxpayer the deductions allowed by Article 1 of this chapter shall unless otherwise provided in this article be allowed only to the extent that they are connected with the income arising from sources within this State and taxable under this part to a nonresident taxpayer. The proper apportionment and allocation of the deductions with respect to sources of income within and without the State shall be determined under rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Taxes and licenses

17382. Taxes or licenses paid or accrued to this State or its political subdivisions which are deductible under Section 17305 are deductible by nonresidents even though not connected with income from sources within this State.

Charitable contributions

17383. In the case of a nonresident taxpayer the deductions for contributions and gifts shall be allowed only as to contributions or gifts to corporations or associations incorporated by or organized under the laws of this State or to the Vocational Rehabilitation Fund or to this State or any political subdivision thereof for exclusively public purposes.

Chapter 5. Accounting Factors

Article 1. Inventories

When to be taken

17501. Whenever in the opinion of the commissioner the use of inventories is necessary in order clearly to determine the income of any taxpayer, inventories shall be taken by the taxpayer upon such basis as the commissioner may prescribe as conforming as nearly as may be to the best accounting practice in the trade or business and as most clearly reflecting the income.

Permissible method

17502. A taxpayer may use the following method (whether or not the method has been prescribed under Section 17501) in inventorying goods specified in the application required under Section 17503:

(a) Inventory them at cost;

(b) Treat those remaining on hand at the close of the taxable year as being: First, those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year (in the order of acquisition) to the extent thereof, and second, those acquired in the taxable year; and

(c) Treat those included in the opening inventory of the taxable year in which the method is first used as having been acquired at the same time and determine their cost by the average cost method.

Restrictions on use

17503. The method described in Section 17502 may be used

(a) Only in inventorying goods (required under Section 17501 to be inventoried) specified in an application to use such method filed at such time and in such manner as the commissioner may prescribe; and

(b) Only if the taxpayer establishes to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the taxpayer has used no procedure other than that specified in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 17502 in inventorying (to ascertain income, profit, or loss for credit purposes or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) such goods for any period beginning with or during the first taxable year for which the method described in Section 17502 is to be used.

Regulations

17504. The change to, and the use of, the described method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of the method may clearly reflect income.

First use

17505. In determining income for the taxable year preceding the taxable year for which the described method is first used, the closing inventory of such preceding year of the goods specified in the application shall be at cost.

Change in method

17506. If a taxpayer, having complied with Section 17503, uses the method described for any taxable year, that method shall be used in all subsequent taxable years unless

(a) With the approval of the commissioner a change to a different method is authorized; or

(b) The commissioner determines that the taxpayer has used for any period beginning with or during any subsequent taxable year some procedure other than that specified in subdivision (b) of Section 17502 in inventorying (for ascertaining income, profit, or loss for credit purposes or for the purpose of reports to shareholders, partners, or other proprietors, or to beneficiaries) the goods specified in the application, and requires a change to a method different from that prescribed in Section 17502 beginning with such subsequent taxable year or any taxable year thereafter.

In either of the above cases, the change to, and the use of, the different method shall be in accordance with such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe as necessary in order that the use of such method may clearly reflect income.

Article 2. Allocation of Income and Deductions

Organizations owned by some interests

17521. In any case of two or more organizations, trades, or businesses (whether or not incorporated, whether or not organized in this State, and whether or not affiliated) owned or controlled directly or indirectly by the same interests, the commissioner may distribute, apportion, or allocate gross income or deductions between or among such organizations, trades, or businesses, if he determines that such distribution, apportionment, or allocation is necessary (a) in order to prevent evasion of taxes of any taxpayer or (b) clearly to reflect the income of any of such organizations, trades, or businesses where the income of any taxpayer is affected thereby in such manner as to permit evasion of taxes.

Article 3. Installment Payments

Return of payments

17531. Under regulations prescribed by the commissioner a person who regularly sells or otherwise disposes of personal property on the installment plan may return as income therefrom in any taxable year that proportion of the installment payments actually received in that year which the gross profit realized or to be realized when payment is completed, bears to the total contract price.

Initial payments under 30 per cent

17532. In the case (a) of a casual sale or other casual disposition of personal property (other than property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year) for a price exceeding one thousand dollars ($1,000), or (b) of a sale or other disposition of real property, if in either case the initial payments do not exceed 30 per cent of the selling price, the income may, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, be returned on the basis and in the manner prescribed by this article.

As used in this section, "initial payments" means the payments received in cash or property other than evidences of indebtedness of the purchaser during the taxable period in which the sale or other disposition is made.

Receipts from sales in prior year

17533. If a taxpayer entitled to the benefits of Section 17531 elects for any taxable year to report his net income on the installment basis, then in computing his income for the year of change or any subsequent year, amounts actually received during any such year on account of sales or other dispositions of property made in any prior year shall not be excluded.

Gain or loss in sale of installment obligations

17534. If an installment obligation is satisfied at other than its face value or distributed, transmitted, sold, or otherwise disposed of, gain or loss shall result to the extent of the difference between the basis of the obligation and (a) in the case of satisfaction at other than face value or a sale or exchange—the amount realized, or (b) in case of a distribution, transmission, or disposition otherwise than by sale or exchange—the fair market value of the obligation at the time of the distribution, transmission, or disposition.

Basis of obligation

17535. Any gain or loss so resulting shall be considered as resulting from the sale or exchange of the property in respect of which the installment obligation was received. The basis of the obligation shall be the excess of the face value of the obligation over an amount equal to the income which would be returnable were the obligation satisfied in full.

Transmission at death

17536. Sections 17534 and 17535 do not apply to the transmission at death of installment obligations if there is filed with the commissioner at such time as he may by regulation prescribe, a bond in such amount and with such sureties as he may deem necessary, conditioned upon the return as income, by the person receiving any payment on such obligations, of the same proportion of such payment as would be returnable as income by the decedent if he had lived and had received such payment.

Article 4. Accounting Periods

Accounting period

17556. The net income shall be computed upon the basis of the taxpayer's annual accounting period (fiscal year or calendar year, as the case may be) in accordance with the method of accounting regularly employed in keeping the books of the taxpayer. If no such method of accounting has been so employed, or if the method employed does not clearly reflect the income, the computation shall be made in accordance with such method as in the opinion of the commissioner does clearly reflect the income.

Calendar year basis

17557. If the taxpayer's annual accounting period is other than a fiscal year or if the taxpayer has no annual accounting period or does not keep books, the net income shall be computed on the basis of the calendar year.

Change from fiscal to calendar year, etc

17558. If a taxpayer, with the approval of the commissioner, changes the basis of computing net income from fiscal year to calendar year, a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last fiscal year for which a return was made and the following December 31st. If the change is from calendar year to the fiscal year, a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the last calendar year for which a return was made and the date designated as the close of the fiscal year. If the change is from one fiscal year to another fiscal year, a separate return shall be made for the period between the close of the former fiscal year and the date designated as the close of the new fiscal year.

Separate return on change

17559. Where a separate return is made on account of a change in the accounting period, and in all other cases where a separate return is required or permitted by regulations prescribed by the commissioner to be made for a fractional part of a year, the income shall be computed on the basis of the period for which the separate return is made.

Net income of separate return on change

17560. If a separate return is made on account of a change in the accounting period, the net income, computed on the basis of the period for which the separate return is made, shall be placed on an annual basis by multiplying the amount thereof by 12 and dividing by the number of months included in the period for which the separate return is made. The tax shall be such part of the tax computed on such annual basis as the number of months in such period is of 12 months.

Fractional year return

17561. In the case of a return made for a fractional part of a year, except a return made on account of a change in the accounting period, the personal exemption and the credit for dependents shall be reduced respectively to amounts which bear the same ratio to the full credits provided as the number of months in the period for which return is made bears to 12 months.

Gross income includible

17562. The amount of all items of gross income shall be included in the gross income for the taxable year in which received by the taxpayer unless under the methods of accounting permitted under Section 17556 any such items are to be properly accounted for as of a different period. In the case of the death of the taxpayer there shall be included in computing net income for the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, amounts accrued up to the date of his death if not otherwise properly includible in respect of such period or a prior period.

Deductions and credits

17563. The deductions and credits provided for in this part shall be taken for the taxable year in which "paid or accrued" or "paid or incurred," dependent upon the method of accounting upon the basis of which the net income is computed, unless in order clearly to reflect the income the deductions or credits should be taken as of a different period. In the case of the death of a taxpayer there shall be allowed as deductions and credits for the taxable period in which falls the date of his death, amounts accrued up to the date of his death (except deductions for contributions and gifts) if not otherwise properly allowable in respect of such period or a prior period.

Change in law

17564. The tax for any period beginning in one calendar year ("first calendar year") and ending in the following calendar year ("second calendar year") where the law applicable to the computation of taxes for taxpayers reporting on a calendar year basis differs for the second calendar year from the law applicable to the first calendar year, shall be the sum of:

(a) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law applicable to the first calendar year and at the rates for such year, which the portion of such period falling within the first calendar year is of the entire period; and

(b) The same proportion of a tax for the entire period, determined under the law applicable to the second calendar year and at the rates for such year, which the portion of such period falling within the second calendar year is of the entire period.

Refund or credit on change in law

17565. If any tax that has been paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year exceeds the tax imposed by Section 17564, the excess shall be refunded or credited to the taxpayer. Any tax in addition to that paid under the law applicable to the first calendar year made necessary by that section is immediately due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

Change in resident status

17566. When the status of a taxpayer changes from resident to nonresident, or from nonresident to resident, there shall be included in determining income from sources within or without this State, as the case may be, income and deductions accrued prior to the change of status even though not otherwise includible in respect of the period prior to such change, but the taxation or deduction of items accrued prior to the change of status shall not be affected by the change.

CHAPTER 6. GAIN OR LOSS

Article 1. Computation of Gain or Loss

Gain and loss defined

17651. The gain from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the excess of the amount realized therefrom over the adjusted basis provided in Article 5 of this chapter for determining gain, and the loss shall be the excess of the adjusted basis provided in that article for determining loss over the amount realized.

Sale of property

17652. The amount realized from the sale or other disposition of property shall be the sum of any money received plus the fair market value of any property other than money received.

Recognition of gain or loss

17653. In the case of a sale or exchange, the extent to which the gain or loss determined under this article shall be recognized for the purposes of this part shall be determined under the provisions of Article 2 of this chapter.

Installment payment

17654. Nothing in this article shall be construed to prevent (in the case of property sold under contract providing for payment in installments) the taxation of that portion of any installment payment representing gain or profit in the year in which such payment is received.

Article 2. Recognition of Gain or Loss

Generally

17671. Upon the sale or exchange of property the entire amount of the gain or loss, determined under Article 1 of this chapter, shall be recognized, except as otherwise provided in this article.

Involuntary conversion of property

17672. No gain or loss shall be recognized if property, as a result of its destruction in whole or in part, theft or seizure, or an exercise of the power of requisition or condemnation, or the threat or imminence thereof, is compulsorily or involuntarily converted into property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or into money which is forthwith in good faith, under regulations prescribed by the commissioner, expended in the acquisition of other property similar or related in service or use to the property so converted, or in the acquisition of control of a corporation owning such other property, or in the establishment of a replacement fund.

If any part of the money is not so expended, the gain, if any, shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the money which is not so expended.

Corporate liquidation

17673. No gain or loss shall be recognized to a shareholder from a distribution of stocks or securities in liquidation of a corporation made pursuant to an order of the Federal Securities and Exchange Commission under authority vested in it by the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, as amended prior to January 1, 1939.

Exchange in like kind

17674. No gain or loss shall be recognized if property held for productive use in trade or business or for investment (not including stock in trade or other property held primarily for sale, or stocks, bonds, notes, choses in action, certificates of trust or beneficial interest, or other securities or evidences of indebtedness or interest) is exchanged solely for property of a like kind to be held either for productive use in trade or business or for investment.

Exchange of stock

17675. No gain or loss shall be recognized if common stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for common stock in the same corporation, or if preferred stock in a corporation is exchanged solely for preferred stock in the same corporation.

Exchange of property for stock

17676. No gain or loss shall be recognized if property is transferred to a corporation by one or more persons solely in exchange for stock or securities in such corporation, and immediately after the exchange such person or persons are in control of the corporation; but in the case of an exchange by two or more persons this section applies only if the amount of the stock and securities received by each is substantially in proportion to his interest in the property prior to the exchange.

Where the transferee assumes a liability of a transferor, or where the property of a transferor is transferred subject to a liability, then for the purpose only of determining whether the amount of stock or securities received by each of the transferors is in the proportion required by this section, the amount of such liability (if under Section 17677 it is not to be considered as "other property or money") shall be considered as stock or securities received by such transferor.

Assumption of liability on exchange

17677. Where upon an exchange the taxpayer receives as part of the consideration property which would be permitted by Section 17676 to be received without the recognition of gain if it were the sole consideration, and as part of the consideration another party to the exchange assumes a liability of the taxpayer or acquires from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, the assumption or acquisition shall not be considered as "other property or money" received by the taxpayer within the meaning of Sections 17682 and 17684 and shall not prevent the exchange from being within the provisions of Section 17676; except that if, taking into consideration the nature of the liability and the circumstances in the light of which the arrangement for the assumption or acquisition was made, it appears that the principal purpose of the taxpayer with respect to the assumption or acquisition was a purpose to avoid State tax on the exchange, or, if not such purpose, was not a bona fide business purpose, the assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this article, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange.

In any suit or proceeding where the burden is on the taxpayer to prove that the assumption or acquisition is not to be considered as money received by the taxpayer, the burden shall not be considered sustained unless the taxpayer sustains the burden by the clear preponderance of the evidence.

Exchange on reorganization

17678. No gain or loss shall be recognized if stock or securities in a corporation a party to a reorganization are, in pursuance of the plan of reorganization, exchanged solely for stock or securities in such corporation or in another corporation a party to the reorganization.

"Reorganization"

17679. "Reorganization," as used in this article, means any of the following:

(a) A statutory merger or consolidation.

(b) The acquisition by one corporation in exchange solely for all or a part of its voting stock: Of at least 80 per cent of the voting stock and at least 80 per cent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of another corporation; or of substantially all the properties of another corporation. In determining whether the exchange is solely for voting stock the assumption by the acquiring corporation of a liability of the other, or the fact that property acquired is subject to a liability, shall be disregarded.

(c) A transfer by a corporation of all or a part of its assets to another corporation, if immediately after the transfer the transferor or its shareholders or both are in control of the corporation to which the assets are transferred.

(d) A recapitalization.

(e) A mere change in identity, form, or place of organization, however effected.

"Party to a reorganization"

17680. "A party to a reorganization," as used in this article, includes a corporation resulting from a reorganization and includes both corporations in the case of a reorganization resulting from the acquisition by one corporation of stock or properties of another.

"Control"

17681. "Control," as used in this article, means the ownership of stock possessing at least 80 per cent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock entitled to vote and at least 80 per cent of the total number of shares of all other classes of stock of the corporation.

Gain re other property received on exchange

17682. If an exchange would be within Sections 17674, 17675, 17676, or 17678 if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by those sections to be received without the recognition of gain, but also of other property or money, then the gain, if any, to the recipient shall be recognized, but in an amount not in excess of the sum of such money and the fair market value of such other property.

Distribution having effect of taxable dividend

17683. If a distribution made in pursuance of a plan of reorganization is within Section 17682 but has the effect of the distribution of a taxable dividend, there shall be taxed as a dividend to each distributee such an amount of the gain recognized under that section as is not in excess of his ratable share of the undistributed earnings and profits of the corporation accumulated after February 28, 1913. The remainder, if any, of the gain recognized under Section 17682 shall be taxed as a gain from the exchange of property.

Loss re other property received on exchange

17684. If an exchange would be within Sections 17674, 17675, 17676, or 17678 if it were not for the fact that the property received in exchange consists not only of property permitted by those sections to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, but also of other property or money, no loss from the exchange shall be recognized.

Foreign corporation

17685. In determining the extent to which gain shall be recognized in the case of any of the exchanges (made after June 13, 1935) described in Sections 17676 or 17678, or described in so much of Section 17682 as refers to those sections, or described in Section 17684, a corporation created or organized in a foreign country shall not be considered as a corporation unless, prior to such exchange, it has been established to the satisfaction of the commissioner that the exchange is not in pursuance of a plan having as one of its principal purposes the avoidance of income or franchise taxes.

Article 3. Capital Gains or Losses

"Capital assets"

17711. "Capital assets" means property held by the taxpayer (whether or not connected with his trade or business), but does not include stock in trade of the taxpayer or other property of a kind which would properly be included in the inventory of the taxpayer if on hand at the close of the taxable year, or property held by the taxpayer primarily for sale to customers in the ordinary course of his trade or business, or property used in the trade or business of a character which is subject to the allowance for depreciation provided in Section 17313.

Percentages of gain or loss on sale

17712. In the case of any taxpayer, only the following percentages of the gain or loss recognized upon the sale or exchange of a capital asset shall be taken into account in computing net income:

100 per cent if the capital asset has been held for not more than 1 year;

80 per cent if the capital asset has been held for more than 1 year but not for more than 2 years;

60 per cent if the capital asset has been held for more than 2 years but not for more than 5 years;

40 per cent if the capital asset has been held for more than 5 years but not for more than 10 years;

30 per cent if the capital asset has been held for more than 10 years.

Period for which property is held

17713. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property received on an exchange, there shall be included the period for which he held the property exchanged, if under Articles 4 or 5 of this chapter, the property received has, for the purpose of determining gain or loss from a sale or exchange, the same basis in whole or in part in his hands as the property exchanged.

17714. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held property however acquired, there shall be included the period for which the property was held by any other person, if under Articles 4 or 5 of this chapter the property has, for the purpose of determining gain or loss from a sale or exchange, the same basis in whole or in part in his hands as it would have in the hands of the other person. Same

17715. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities received upon a distribution where no gain was recognized to the distributee under the provisions of Section 112 (g) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1928 or the Federal Revenue Act of 1932, there shall be included the period for which he held the stock or securities in the distributing corporation prior to the receipt of the stock or securities upon the distribution. Same

17716. In determining the period for which the taxpayer has held stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under Section 17309, relating to wash sales) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, there shall be included the period for which he held the stock or securities the loss from the sale or other disposition of which was not deductible. Same

17717. Losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets shall be allowed only to the extent of two thousand dollars ($2,000) plus the gains from such sales or exchanges. Maximum allowable losses

17718. Gains or losses from short sales of property shall be considered as gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets. Short sales of property

17719. Gains or losses attributable to the failure to exercise privileges or options to buy or sell property shall be considered as gains or losses from sales or exchanges of capital assets held for one year or less. Failure to exercise option

17720. Amounts received by the holder upon the retirement of bonds, debentures, notes, or certificates or other evidences of indebtedness issued by any corporation (including those issued by a government or political subdivision thereof), with interest coupons or in registered form, shall be considered as amounts received in exchange therefor. Retirement of bonds, etc

Article 4. Unadjusted Basis for Determining Gain or Loss

17741. Except where otherwise provided in this article, the basis of property shall be the cost of the property. Cost of property

17742. If the property should have been included in the last inventory, the basis shall be the last inventory value thereof. Last inventory value

17743. If the property was acquired by gift after December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner by whom it was not acquired by gift, except that for the purpose of determining loss the basis shall be the basis so determined or the Property acquired by gift fair market value of the property at the time of the gift, whichever is lower.

If the facts necessary to determine the basis in the hands of the donor or the last preceding owner are unknown to the donee, the commissioner shall, if possible, obtain such facts from the donor or last preceding owner, or any other person cognizant thereof. If the commissioner finds it impossible to obtain such facts, the basis in the hands of the donor or last preceding owner shall be the fair market value of the property as found by the commissioner as of the date or approximate date at which, according to the best information that the commissioner is able to obtain, the property was acquired by the donor or last preceding owner.

Transfer in trust after Dec 31, 1920

17744. If the property was acquired after December 31, 1920, by a transfer in trust (other than by a transfer in trust by a bequest or devise) the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the grantor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the grantor upon such transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made.

Transfer in trust prior to Dec 31, 1920

17745. If the property was acquired by gift or transfer in trust on or before December 31, 1920, the basis shall be the fair market value of the property at the time of its acquisition.

Property acquired by inheritance

17746. If the property was acquired by bequest, devise, or inheritance, or by the decedent's estate from the decedent, the basis shall be the fair market value of the property at the time of its acquisition.

Revocable trust, etc

In the case of property transferred in trust to pay the income for life to or upon the order or direction of the grantor, with the right reserved to the grantor at all times prior to his death to revoke the trust, the basis of the property in the hands of the persons entitled under the terms of the trust instrument to the property after the grantor's death shall, after his death, be the same as if the trust instrument had been a will executed on the day of the grantor's death.

For the purpose of this section property passing without full and adequate consideration under a general power of appointment exercised by will shall be deemed to be property passing from the individual exercising the power by bequest or devise.

Exchange

17747. If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, upon an exchange described in Sections 17673 to 17684, inclusive, the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property exchanged, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer that was recognized upon the exchange under the law applicable to the year in which the exchange was made.

If the property so acquired consisted in part of the type of property permitted by Article 2 of this chapter to be received without the recognition of gain or loss, and in part of other property, the basis provided in this section shall be allocated between the properties (other than money) received, and for the purpose of the allocation there shall be assigned to such other property an amount equivalent to its fair market value at the date of the exchange. Where, as part of the consideration to the taxpayer, another party to the exchange assumed a liability of the taxpayer or acquired from the taxpayer property subject to a liability, such assumption or acquisition (in the amount of the liability) shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered as money received by the taxpayer upon the exchange.

Involuntary conversion

17748. If the property was acquired, after February 28, 1913, as the result of a compulsory or involuntary conversion described in Section 17672, the basis shall be the same as in the case of the property so converted, decreased in the amount of any money received by the taxpayer which was not expended in accordance with the provisions of law (applicable to the year in which the conversion was made) determining the taxable status of the gain or loss upon the conversion, and increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss to the taxpayer recognized upon the conversion under the law applicable to the year in which the conversion was made.

Stock acquired by wash sale

17749. If the property consists of stock or securities the acquisition of which (or the contract or option to acquire which) resulted in the nondeductibility (under Section 17309, relating to wash sales) of the loss from the sale or other disposition of substantially identical stock or securities, the basis shall be the basis of the stock or securities so sold or disposed of, increased or decreased, as the case may be, by the difference, if any, between the price at which the property was acquired and the price at which the substantially identical stock or securities were sold or otherwise disposed of.

Property acquired between Feb. 28, 1913 and Jan 1, 1934

17750. If the property was acquired after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1934, and the basis thereof for the purposes of the Federal Revenue Act of 1932 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (9) of that act, for the purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Federal Revenue Act of 1932.

Property acquired by partnership

17751. If the property was acquired after February 28, 1913, by a partnership and the basis is not otherwise determined under any other section of this article, the basis shall be the same as it would be in the hands of the transferor, increased in the amount of gain or decreased in the amount of loss recognized to the transferor upon the transfer under the law applicable to the year in which the transfer was made. If the property was distributed in kind by a partnership to any partner, the basis of the property in the hands of the partner shall be such part of the basis in his hands of his partnership interest as is properly allocable to the property.

Property acquired before Mar 1, 1913

17752. In the case of property acquired before March 1, 1913, if the basis otherwise determined under this article, adjusted (for the period prior to March 1, 1913) as provided in Article 5 of this chapter, is less than the fair market value of the property as of March 1, 1913, the basis for determining gain shall be such fair market value. In determining the fair market value of stock in a corporation as of March 1, 1913, due regard shall be given to the fair market value of the assets of the corporation as of that date.

Property acquired between Feb 28, 1913 and Jan 1, 1936

17753. If the property was acquired after February 28, 1913, in any taxable year beginning prior to January 1, 1936, and the basis thereof for the purposes of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 was prescribed by Section 113 (a) (6), (7), or (8) of that act, for the purposes of this part the basis shall be the same as the basis therein prescribed in the Federal Revenue Act of 1934.

Securities received after Jan 1, 1939

17754. In the case of stocks or securities received by a taxpayer on or after January 1, 1939, under circumstances described in Section 17673 the basis of such stocks or securities shall be the same as that of the stocks or securities for the surrender of which they were acquired.

Right to acquire stock acquired after Feb 28, 1913, in corporate distribution

17755. If the property was acquired by a shareholder in a corporation and consists of a right to acquire stock in the corporation acquired by him after February 28, 1913, in a distribution by the corporation, and

(a) The right to acquire such stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1937 (except as provided in Section 17756), or

(b) The right to acquire such stock was acquired in a taxable year beginning after December 31, 1936, and its distribution did not constitute income to the shareholder within the meaning of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the basis of the stock in respect of which the right was declared and the right to acquire stock, respectively, shall, in the shareholder's hands be determined by allocating between the stock and the right to acquire stock the adjusted basis of the stock. The allocation shall be made under regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Stock right constituting income acquired prior to Jan. 1, 1935

17756. If a stock right was acquired prior to January 1, 1935, and it constituted income within the purview of the Sixteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, the basis of the stock in respect of which the rights were declared shall not be affected and the basis of the right shall be its fair market value as of the date of its acquisition.

Sale of stock right acquired before Jan 1, 1941

17757. Where the shareholder acquired the right to acquire stock in the corporation in a taxable year beginning before January 1, 1941, and sold the right, and there was included in the gross income for the year of sale the entire amount of the proceeds of the sale, then if before July 19, 1941, the taxpayer has not asserted (by claim for a refund or credit or otherwise) that any part of the proceeds of the sale of the right should be excluded from gross income for the year of its sale, the basis of the stock shall be determined without regard to Sections 17755 and 17756, and no part of the proceeds of the sale of the right shall ever be excluded from the gross income for the year of the sale.

Article 5. Adjusted and Substituted Bases

Gain or loss from sale

17781. The adjusted basis for determining the gain or loss from the sale or other disposition of property, whenever acquired, shall be the basis determined under Article 4 of this chapter, adjusted as provided in this article.

Adjustment: Capital account items

17782. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases be made for expenditures, receipts, losses, or other items, properly chargeable to capital account, including taxes and other carrying charges on unimproved and unproductive real property, but no such adjustment shall be made for taxes or other carrying charges for which deductions have been taken by the taxpayer in determining net income for the taxable year or prior taxable years.

Obsolescence, etc.

17783. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases also be made for exhaustion, wear and tear, obsolescence, amortization, and depletion, to the extent sustained prior to January 1, 1935, and for periods thereafter to the extent allowed (but not less than the amount allowable) under this part.

Tax-free stock distributions

17784. Proper adjustment in respect of the property shall in all cases also be made, in the case of stock (to the extent not provided for in the foregoing sections), for the amount of distributions previously made which, under the law applicable to the year in which the distribution was made, either were tax-free or were applicable in reduction of basis (not including distributions made by a corporation, which was classified as a personal service corporation under the provisions of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921, out of its earnings or profits which were taxable in accordance with the provisions of Section 218 of the Federal Revenue Act of 1918 or 1921).

"Substituted basis"

17785. "Substituted basis," as used in this article, means a basis determined under any provision of Article 4 of this chapter, providing that the basis shall be determined:

(a) By reference to the basis in the hands of a transferor, donor, or grantor, or

(b) By reference to other property held at any time by the person for whom the basis is to be determined.

Adjustment in substituted basis

17786. Whenever it appears that the basis of property in the hands of the taxpayer is a substituted basis, the adjustments provided in this article shall be made after first making in respect of such substituted basis proper adjustments of a similar nature in respect of the period during which the property was held by the transferor, donor, or grantor, or during which the other property was held by the person for whom the basis is to be determined. A similar rule shall be applied in the case of a series of substituted bases.

Article 6. Basis for Depreciation and Depletion

Obsolescence, etc.

17811. The basis upon which exhaustion, wear and tear, and obsolescence are to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of the property.

Depletion: Generally

17812. The basis upon which depletion is to be allowed in respect of any property shall be the adjusted basis for the purpose of determining the gain upon the sale or other disposition of such property, except as provided in the remainder of this article.

Mines discovered after Feb 28, 1913

17813. In the case of mines (other than metal, coal, or sulphur mines) discovered by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, the basis for depletion shall be the fair market value of the property at the date of discovery or within 30 days thereafter, if the mines were not acquired as the result of purchase of a proven tract or lease, and if the fair market value of the property is materially disproportionate to the cost.

Limitation

17814. The depletion allowance under Section 17314 based on discovery value provided in Section 17813 shall not exceed 50 per cent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property upon which the discovery was made, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance be less than it would be if computed without reference to discovery value.

Discoveries defined

17815. Discoveries shall include minerals in commercial quantities contained within a vein or deposit discovered in an existing mine or mining tract by the taxpayer after February 28, 1913, if the vein or deposit thus discovered was not merely the uninterrupted extension of a continuing commercial vein or deposit already known to exist, and if the discovered minerals are of sufficient value and quantity that they could be separately mined and marketed at a profit.

Oil and gas well depletion 17816. In the case of oil and gas wells the allowance for depletion under Section 17314 shall be 27½ per cent of the gross income from the property during the taxable year, excluding from such gross income an amount equal to any rents or royalties paid or incurred by the taxpayer in respect of the property. The allowance shall not exceed 50 per cent of the net income of the taxpayer (computed without allowance for depletion) from the property, except that in no case shall the depletion allowance be less than it would be if computed without reference to this section.

Coal mines, etc

17818. A taxpayer making his first return under this part in respect of a coal mine, metal mine, or sulphur mine or deposit shall state whether he elects to have the depletion allowance for the property for the taxable year for which the return is made computed with or without regard to percentage depletion, and the depletion allowance in respect of the property for that year shall be computed according to the election thus made. If the taxpayer fails to make the statement in the return, the depletion allowance for the property for that year shall be computed without reference to percentage depletion. Election in first return

17819. The method, determined pursuant to Section 17818, of computing the depletion allowance shall be applied in the case of the property for all taxable years in which it is in the hands of the taxpayer, or of any other person if the basis of the property (for determining gain) in his hands is, under Articles 4 and 5 of this chapter, determined by reference to the basis in the hands of the taxpayer, either directly or through one or more substituted bases, as defined in Article 5. Application in subsequent years after election

17820. The right of election given the taxpayer is subject to the qualification that this section and Sections 17817, 17818, and 17819 shall, for the purpose of determining whether the method of computing the depletion allowance follows the property, be considered a continuation of Section 114 (b) (4) of the Federal Revenue Act of 1934 and the Federal Revenue Act of 1936, and as giving no new election in cases where either of those sections would, if applied, give no new election. Qualification on election

CHAPTER 7. CREDITS ALLOWED TAXPAYERS

Article 1. Credits Against Net Income

17951. There shall be allowed as a credit against net income, in the case of a single individual, a personal exemption of one thousand dollars ($1,000), or, in the case of a head of a family or a married individual living with husband or wife, a personal exemption of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). A husband and wife living together shall receive but one personal exemption of two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). If the status of the taxpayer in so far as it affects the personal exemption or credit for dependents changes during the taxable year, the personal exemption and credit shall be apportioned, under such rules and regulations as are prescribed by the commissioner, in accordance with the number of months before and after the change. For the purpose of the apportionment a fractional part of a month shall be disregarded unless it amounts to more than half a month, in which case it shall be considered as a month.

Article 2. Credit for Taxes Paid

17976. Subject to the following conditions, residents shall be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes imposed by and paid to another State or country on income taxable under this part:

(a) The credit shall be allowed only for taxes paid to the other State or country on income derived from sources within that State or country which is taxable under its laws irrespective of the residence or domicil of the recipient.

(b) The credit shall not be allowed if the other State or country allows residents of this State a credit against the taxes imposed by that State or country for taxes paid or payable under this part.

(c) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income subject to tax in the other State or country and also taxable under this part bears to the taxpayer's entire income upon which the tax is imposed by this part.

(b) The credit shall not be allowed for taxes paid to a State or country which allows its residents a credit against the taxes imposed by that State or country for income taxes paid or payable under this part irrespective of whether its residents are allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for income taxes paid to that State or country.

(c) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the taxes paid to the State or country of residence as the income taxable under this part and also subject to tax in the State or country of residence bears to the entire income upon which the taxes paid to the State or country of residence are imposed.

State or country of residence and also taxable under this part bears to the entire income taxable under this part.

Residence of estate or trust

17978. For the purposes of this article an estate or trust is considered a resident of the State or country which taxes the income of the estate or trust irrespective of whether the income is derived from sources within that State or country.

Estate or trust both resident and nonresident

17979. If an estate or trust is a resident of this State and also a resident of another State or country, it shall, notwithstanding the limitations contained in Sections 17976 and 17977, be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes imposed by and paid to the other State or country, subject to the following conditions:

A resident beneficiary of an estate or trust who is taxable on the income of the estate or trust under Article 1 of Chapter 8 of this part shall, subject to the following conditions, be allowed a credit against the taxes imposed by this part on such income for net income taxes paid by the estate or trust to another State or country on such income:

(a) Credit shall be allowed only for such proportion of the tax paid to the other State or country by the estate or trust as the income of the estate or trust which is taxable to the beneficiary under this part and also taxed to the estate or trust in the other State or country bears to the entire income of the estate or trust upon which the taxes paid to the other State or country were imposed.

(b) The credit shall not exceed such proportion of the tax payable under this part as the income of the estate or trust which is taxable to the beneficiary under this part and also taxed to the estate or trust in the other State or country bears to the beneficiary's entire income upon which the tax is imposed by this part.

Refund report

17981. If any taxes paid to another State or country for which a taxpayer has been allowed a credit under this article are at any time credited or refunded to the taxpayer, the taxpayer shall immediately report that fact to the commissioner.

Tax on refund

17982. A tax equal to the credit allowed for the taxes credited or refunded by the other State or country is due and payable from the taxpayer upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

credit was allowed under this part to the date of the notice and demand.

Same

17984. If the tax and interest are not paid within 10 days from the date of notice and demand, there shall be collected as a part of the tax interest upon the unpaid amount of tax and interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum from the date of the notice and demand until the amount is paid.

Discrimination on credit allowance

17985. The credit against the taxes imposed by this part for net income taxes paid to another State or country shall not be allowed to any taxpayer or any class of taxpayers if the allowance of the credit will result in an invalid or illegal discrimination against another taxpayer or another class of taxpayers.

CHAPTER 8. TAXATION OF ESTATES AND TRUSTS

Article 1. Income Taxable

Tax imposed

18101. The taxes imposed by this part upon individuals apply to the income of estates or of any kind of property held in trust (other than so-called Massachusetts trusts), including:

(a) Income accumulated in trust for the benefit of unborn or unascertained persons or persons with contingent interests, and income accumulated or held for future distribution under the terms of the will or trust.

(b) Income which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the beneficiaries, and income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct.

(c) Income received by estates of deceased persons during the period of administration or settlement of the estate.

(d) Income which, in the discretion of the fiduciary, may be either distributed to the beneficiaries or accumulated.

Income taxable to estate or trust

18102. Except as otherwise provided in Articles 2 and 4 of this chapter, the income of an estate or trust is taxable to the estate or trust. The tax applies to the entire net income of an estate, if the decedent was a resident, regardless of the residence of the fiduciary or beneficiary, and to the entire net income of a trust, if the fiduciary or beneficiary is a resident, regardless of the residence of the settlor.

Apportionment of trust income. Two or more fiduciaries

18103. Where the taxability of income of a trust depends on the residence of the fiduciary and there are two or more fiduciaries for the trust, the income taxable under Section 18102 shall be apportioned according to the number of fiduciaries resident in this State pursuant to rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Two or more beneficiaries

18104. Where the taxability of income of a trust depends on the residence of the beneficiary and there are two or more beneficiaries of the trust, the income taxable under Section 18102 shall be apportioned according to the number and interest of beneficiaries resident in this State pursuant to rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Tax payment by fiduciary 18105. Taxes on income of an estate or trust which is taxable to the estate or trust are a charge upon the estate or trust and shall be paid by the fiduciary.

Taxability to beneficiary

18106. If, for any reason, the taxes imposed on income of a trust which is taxable to the trust because the fiduciary or beneficiary is a resident of this State are not paid when due and remain unpaid when such income is distributable to the beneficiaries, or in case the income is distributable to the beneficiaries before the taxes are due, if the taxes are not paid when due, such income shall be taxable to the beneficiaries when distributable to them except that in the case of nonresident beneficiaries such income shall be taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Article 2. Deductions; Computation of Net Income

Computation of net income

18131. Except as otherwise provided in this article as to deductions, the net income of the estate or trust shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as in the case of an individual.

Income for charitable purposes

18132. There shall be allowed as a deduction (in lieu of the deduction for contributions authorized by Section 17315) in computing the net income of the estate or trust, any part of the gross income, without limitation, which pursuant to the terms of the will or deed creating the trust is during the taxable year paid or permanently set aside for the purposes and in the manner specified in that section or is to be used exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, or for the establishment, acquisition, maintenance, or operation of a public cemetery not operated for profit.

Amounts distributed to beneficiaries, etc

18133. There shall be allowed as an additional deduction in computing the net income of the estate or trust

(a) The amount of the income of the estate or trust for its taxable year which is to be distributed currently by the fiduciary to the beneficiaries, and

(b) The amount of the income collected by a guardian of an infant which is to be held or distributed as the court may direct, but the amount so allowed as a deduction shall be included in computing the net income of the beneficiaries whether distributed to them or not.

In the case of a nonresident beneficiary his income derived through such an estate or trust is taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Amounts currently distributable

18134. For the purposes of Section 18133, amounts currently distributable to beneficiaries are distributable out of income of the estate or trust for the taxable year if there is income of the estate or trust for the taxable year out of which such distributions may be made and if, under the terms of the will or trust instrument, the distributions may be made out of such income, regardless of the fact that the will or trust instrument provides that the distributions may be made out of the corpus of the estate or trust.

Where taxable year of trust and beneficiary differ

18135. If the taxable year of a beneficiary is different from that of the estate or trust, the amount which he is required, under Section 18133, to include in computing his net income shall be based upon the income of the estate or trust for any taxable year of the estate or trust ending within or with his taxable year.

Prohibition

18136. Any amount allowed as a deduction under Section 18133 shall not be allowed as a deduction under Section 18137 in the same or any succeeding taxable year.

Additional deduction

18137. There shall be allowed as an additional deduction in computing the net income of the estate or trust

(a) In the case of income received by estates of deceased persons during the period of administration or settlement of the estate, and

(b) In the case of income which, in the discretion of the fiduciary, may be either distributed to the beneficiary or accumulated, the amount of the income of the estate or trust for its taxable year which is properly paid or credited during such year to any legatee, heir, or beneficiary, but the amount so allowed as a deduction shall be included in computing the net income of the legatee, heir, or beneficiary.

In such cases the income of the legatee, heir, or beneficiary, not a resident, shall be taxable only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State.

Article 3. Employees' Trusts

Employer's stock bonus, etc pension plan

18156. A trust forming part of a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing plan of an employer for the exclusive benefit of some or all of his employees, to which contributions are made by such employer, employees, or both, for the purpose of distributing to such employees the earnings and principal of the fund accumulated by the trust in accordance with the plan, shall not be taxable under this chapter, but the amount actually distributed or made available to any distributee shall be taxable to him in the taxable year in which so distributed or made available to the extent that it exceeds the amounts paid in by him. However, where the combined normal annual contributions of the employer and any employee to one or more trusts for the benefit of the employee exceed five thousand dollars ($5,000) in any taxable year of the employee, the income of the trust from contributions by the employee shall be taxable as provided in Section 18172, and the contributions of the employer and the income of the trust therefrom shall be taxable to the employee when the employee's right to receive such amounts (whether immediately or in the future) becomes certain and not subject to forfeiture.

Article 4. Trusts Taxable to Grantor

Where title in corpus may revest in grantor

18171. Where the title to any part of the corpus of the trust may at any time revest in the grantor without the consent of any person having a substantial adverse interest in any part of the corpus or the income therefrom, and the revesting is not contingent upon the death of all the beneficiaries, the income of such part of the trust shall be included in computing the net income of the grantor if the grantor is a resident. If the grantor is a nonresident, such income shall be included in computing his income only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State; the balance of the income shall be taxable either to the trust or to the beneficiaries as provided in Articles 1 and 2 of this chapter.

Where income may be distributed to grantor

18172. Where any part of the income of a trust:

(a) Is, or in the discretion of the grantor or of any person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such part of the income may be, held or accumulated for future distribution to the grantor; or

(b) May, in the discretion of the grantor or of any person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such part of the income, be distributed to the grantor; or

(c) Is, or in the discretion of the grantor or of any person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of such part of the income may be, applied to the payment of premiums upon policies of insurance on the life of the grantor (except policies of insurance irrevocably payable for the purposes and in the manner specified in Section 17315, relating to the so-called "charitable contribution" deduction); then such part of the income of the trust shall be included in computing the net income of the grantor if the grantor is a resident. If the grantor is a nonresident, such income shall be included in computing his income only to the extent it is derived from sources within this State; the balance of such income shall be taxable either to the trust or to the beneficiaries as provided in Articles 1 and 2 of this chapter.

"In the discretion of the grantor"

18173. "In the discretion of the grantor," as used in Section 18172, means "in the discretion of the grantor, either alone or in conjunction with any person not having a substantial adverse interest in the disposition of the part of the income in question."

Tax lien

18174. Upon recordation of an abstract of judgment or a copy thereof by the commissioner with the county recorder of any county for any taxes due from the grantor of a trust on income of the trust which is taxable to the grantor under this article, and upon his giving notice of the recording to the fiduciary of the trust, or in case there is more than one fiduciary to any one of the fiduciaries, the amount of the taxes constitutes a lien upon all property of the trust in the county owned by the trust or afterwards and before the lien expires acquired by the trust. The lien has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien.

Notice

18175. The notice required to be given may be served upon the fiduciary personally, or by mail; if by mail, service shall be made pursuant to Section 1013 of the Code of Civil Procedure and shall be addressed to the fiduciary at his address as it appears in the records of the commissioner.

Article 5. Liability of Fiduciary

Certificate of tax payment

18201. If the value of the assets of an estate at the death of the decedent exceeds twenty thousand dollars ($20,000), and if any beneficiary is a nonresident, the final account of the fiduciary shall not be allowed by the probate court unless the fiduciary obtains from the commissioner and files with the court a certificate to the effect that all taxes imposed by this part upon the estate or decedent which have become payable have been paid, and that all taxes which may become due are secured by bond, deposit, or otherwise.

Issuance of certificate, etc.

18202. Within 30 days after receiving a request for a certificate, the commissioner shall either issue the certificate or notify the person requesting the certificate of the amount of tax that shall be paid or the amount of bond, deposit, or other security that shall be furnished as a condition of issuance of the certificate.

Effect of certificate

18203. The certificate of the commissioner does not relieve the estate for which the fiduciary acts of liability for any taxes which are due and unpaid at the time the certificate is issued or which may become due from the decedent or estate under this part after the issuance of the certificate. It also does not relieve the fiduciary of the liability imposed by Section 18204.

Personal liability of fiduciary

18204. Every fiduciary who pays in whole or in part any claim, other than claims for taxes, expenses of administration, funeral expenses, expenses of last illness, and family allowance, against the person, estate, or trust for whom or for which he acts, or who makes any distribution of the assets of the person, estate, or trust, before he satisfies and pays taxes, interest, and penalties, except penalties due from a decedent, which are imposed by this part on the person, estate, or trust for whom or for which he acts, or which constitute a claim against such person, estate, or trust, or which are a lien or charge on or against the assets of such person, estate, or trust, is personally liable to the State for the taxes, interest, and penalties to the extent of such payments and distributions.

Assessments and court proceedings

18205. In the case of income received or accrued during the life-time of a decedent, or by his estate during the period of administration, or by a trust, the commissioner shall mail notices proposing to assess the tax, and shall commence any proceeding in court without assessment for the collection of the tax, within 18 months after written request therefor (filed after the return is made) by the fiduciary of the estate or trust or by any other person liable for the tax or any portion thereof.

Termination of fiduciary capacity

18206. Any person acting in a fiduciary capacity shall assume the duties and, upon giving notice to the commissioner, shall assume the rights and privileges of the taxpayers in respect of any tax imposed by this part (except as otherwise specifically provided), until he gives notice that his fiduciary capacity has terminated. He shall give notice under this section pursuant to rules and regulations prescribed by the commissioner.

Chapter 9. Taxation of Partnerships

Partner's tax liability

18301. An individual carrying on business in partnership is liable for income tax only in his individual capacity. He shall include in his gross income the distributive share of the net income of the partnership received by him or distributable to him during the taxable year.

Computing net income of partnership

18302. The net income of the partnership shall be computed in the same manner and on the same basis as in the case of an individual, except that the deduction for contributions and gifts shall not be allowed to the partnership. Each partner, however, shall be considered as having made payment within his taxable year of his distributive share of any contribution or gift, payment of which was made by the partnership within its taxable year, of the character which would be allowed as a deduction to the partnership but for this section.

Partnership return

18303. Every partnership shall make a return for each taxable year, stating specifically the items of gross income and the deductions allowed by this part. The return shall include the names and addresses of the individuals, whether residents or nonresidents, who would be entitled to share in the net income if distributed and the amount of the distributive share of each individual. The return shall be sworn to by any one of the partners.

Where taxable year of partner and partnership differ

18304. If the taxable year of a partner is different from that of the partnership, the distributive share of the net income of the partnership to be included in computing the net income of the partner for his taxable year shall be based upon the net income of the partnership for any taxable year of the partnership ending within or with the taxable year of the partner.

Chapter 10. Returns

Article 1. Persons Required to File Returns

Joint fiduciaries

18406. Under such rules and regulations as the commissioner may prescribe, a return filed by one of two or more joint fiduciaries is sufficient. The fiduciary filing the return shall state under oath (a) that he has sufficient knowledge of the affairs of the taxpayer for whom the return is made to enable him to make the return, and (b) that the return is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, true and correct.

Provisions applicable

18407. Any fiduciary required to make a return is subject to all the provisions of this part which apply to individuals.

Partnership returns

18408. Returns by partnerships are provided for in Section 18303.

Article 2. Time and Place for Filing Returns

Place and form for filing

18431. Returns shall be under oath, in such form as the commissioner may from time to time prescribe, and shall be filed with the commissioner at his main office or at any branch office which he may establish. The commissioner shall prepare blank forms for the returns and shall distribute them throughout the State and furnish them upon application. Failure to receive or secure the form does not relieve any taxpayer from making any return required.

Time for filing

18432. Returns made on the basis of the calendar year shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of April following the close of the calendar year. Returns made on the basis of a fiscal year shall be filed on or before the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year.

18433. The commissioner, whenever in his judgment good cause exists, and under such rules and regulations as he shall prescribe, may grant a reasonable extension of time for filing the return or for payment of the tax, or any installment thereof, disclosed by the return, due or to become due within the period of the extension. He shall keep a record of every extension No extension or extensions may aggregate more than six months from the due date provided for the filing of returns.

Article 3. Supplementary Returns

Lack of or inadequate return

18451. If the commissioner believes that any taxpayer has failed to file a return, or to include in a return filed, either intentionally or through error, items of taxable income, he may require from the taxpayer a return or a supplementary return, under oath, in such form as he shall prescribe, of all the items of income which the taxpayer received during the year for which the return is made, whether or not taxable under this part.

Federal supplementary return

Omissions from original return

18453. If from a supplementary return or otherwise the commissioner finds that any items of taxable income have been omitted from the original return, he may require the items omitted to be disclosed to him, under oath of the taxpayer, and to be added to the original return.

Relief from penalty

18454. The supplementary return and the correction of the original return do not relieve the taxpayer from any penalty to which he may be liable under this part.

Chapter 11. Payments and Assessments

Article 1. Payment of Tax

When payable

18551. The tax imposed under this part shall be paid on the fifteenth day of April following the close of the calendar year, or, if the return is made on the basis of a fiscal year, on the fifteenth day of the fourth month following the close of the fiscal year.

The first installment shall be paid on the date prescribed for the payment of the tax, the second installment shall be paid on the fifteenth day of the fourth month, and the third installment on the fifteenth day of the eighth month, after that date. If any installment is not paid on or before the date fixed for its payment, the whole amount of tax unpaid shall be paid upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

18553. The taxpayer may elect to pay the tax or any installment prior to the date prescribed for its payment.

Remittances

18554. The tax, and any interest and penalties, shall be paid to the commissioner at Sacramento or to his authorized representatives at any branch office. Remittances may be in the form of uncertified check, payable to the State Treasurer, during such time and under such regulations as the commissioner may prescribe. If a check is not paid by the bank on which it is drawn, the taxpayer tendering the check remains liable for the payment of the tax, and all interest and penalties, as if he had not tendered the check.

Liability of spouse

18555. The spouse who controls the disposition of or who receives or spends community income as well as the spouse who is taxable on such income is liable for the payment of the taxes imposed by this part on such income. Where a joint return is filed by a husband and wife, the liability for the tax on the aggregate income is joint and several.

Article 2. Deficiency Assessments

Power of commissioner

18581. The commissioner may proceed under this article whether or not he requires a return or a supplementary return under Section 18451.

Correct tax determination

18582. As soon as practicable after the original return is filed, the commissioner shall examine it and shall determine the correct amount of the tax.

Deficiency notice

18583. If the commissioner determines that the tax disclosed by the original return is less than the tax disclosed by his examination, he shall mail notice or notices to the taxpayer of the deficiency proposed to be assessed.

Contents of notice

18584. Each notice shall set forth the details and computation of the deficiency.

Joint notice

18585. In the case of a joint return filed by husband and wife, the notice of deficiency may be a single joint notice, except that if the commissioner is notified by either spouse that separate residences have been established, he shall mail to each spouse, in lieu of the single joint notice, duplicate originals of the joint notice.

Limitation

18586. Except in the case of a fraudulent return and except as otherwise provided in Sections 18587 and 18589, every notice of a proposed deficiency assessment shall be mailed to the taxpayer within four years after the return was filed. No deficiency shall be assessed or collected with respect to the year for which the return was filed unless the notice is mailed within the four-year period or the period otherwise fixed.

Federal extension or renewal

18587. If any taxpayer agrees with the United States Commissioner of Internal Revenue for an extension or renewals thereof of the period for proposing and assessing deficiencies in Federal income taxes for any year, the period for mailing a notice of a proposed deficiency shall be four years after the return was filed or six months after the date of the expiration of the agreed period for assessing deficiencies in the Federal income tax, whichever period expires the later.

When return filed

18588. For the purposes of Sections 18586 and 18587 a return filed before the last day prescribed by law for filing shall be considered as filed on that day.

Consent to assessment after 4 years

18589. Where before the expiration of the time prescribed for the mailing of a notice of a proposed deficiency assessment, the taxpayer consents in writing to an assessment after that time, the assessment may be made at any time prior to the expiration of the period agreed upon. The period agreed upon may be extended by subsequent agreements in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

Protest

18590. Within 60 days after the mailing of the notice of a proposed deficiency assessment the taxpayer may file with the commissioner a written protest against the proposed assessment, specifying in the protest the grounds upon which it is based. The protest shall be under oath.

Finality of assessment

18591. If no protest is filed, the amount of the deficiency assessed becomes final upon the expiration of the 60-day period.

Reconsideration and hearing after protest

18592. If a protest is filed, the commissioner shall reconsider the assessment of the deficiency and, if the taxpayer has so requested in his protest, shall grant the taxpayer or his authorized representatives an oral hearing.

Appeal

18593. The commissioner's action upon the protest is final upon the expiration of 30 days from the date when he mails notice of his action to the taxpayer, unless within that 30-day period the taxpayer appeals in writing from the action of the commissioner to the board.

Same

18594. The appeal shall be addressed and mailed to the State Board of Equalization at Sacramento, California, and a copy of the appeal addressed and mailed at the same time to the Franchise Tax Commissioner at Sacramento, California.

Determination of appeal

18595. The board shall hear and determine the appeal and thereafter shall forthwith notify the taxpayer and the commissioner of its determination and the reasons therefor.

Finality of board's determination

18596. The board's determination becomes final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time of the determination unless within the 60-day period the determination is modified. In that event the determination becomes final upon the expiration of 60 days from the time it is modified.

Notice and demand for payment

18597. When a deficiency is determined and the assessment becomes final, the commissioner shall mail notice and demand to the taxpayer for the payment thereof. The deficiency assessed is due and payable at the expiration of 10 days from the date of the notice and demand, unless the taxpayer has elected to pay the tax in installments, in which case the deficiency shall be prorated to the three installments.

Deficiency prorated to installment not due

18598. Except where a jeopardy assessment is made, the part of the deficiency prorated to any installment the date for payment of which has not arrived shall be collected at the same time as, and as part of, the installment.

Deficiency prorated to due installment

18599. The part of the deficiency prorated to any installment the date for payment of which has arrived is due and payable at the expiration of 10 days from the date of the notice.

Commissioner's certificate

18600. A certificate by the commissioner or of the board, as the case may be, of the mailing of the notices specified in this article is prima facie evidence of the assessment of the deficiency and of the giving of the notices.

Mathematical error in return of tax

18601. Any amount of tax in excess of that disclosed by the return, due to a mathematical error, notice of which has been mailed to the taxpayer, is not a deficiency assessment. The taxpayer has no right of protest or appeal as in case of a deficiency assessment, based on such notice, and the assessment or collection of the amount of tax erroneously omitted in the return is not prohibited by any provision of this article.

Article 3. Assessments Against Persons Secondarily Liable

Assessment

18621. The taxes imposed by this part upon any taxpayer for which any person other than the taxpayer is liable may be assessed against such person in the manner provided for the assessment of deficiencies. The taxes may be assessed at any time within which deficiency assessments may be made against the taxpayer.

Collection

18622. The provisions of this part respecting the collection of taxes apply to the collection of the taxes from the person secondarily liable to the same extent and with the same force and effect as though he were the taxpayer.

Article 4. Jeopardy Assessments

Finding and notice

18641. If the commissioner finds that the assessment or the collection of a tax or a deficiency for any year, current or past, will be jeopardized in whole or in part by delay, he may mail or issue notice of his finding to the taxpayer, together with a demand for immediate payment of the tax or the deficiency declared to be in jeopardy, including interest and penalties.

Termination of taxable period

18642. In the case of a tax for a current period, the commissioner may declare the taxable period of the taxpayer immediately terminated. He shall mail or issue notice of his finding and declaration to the taxpayer, together with a demand for a return and immediate payment of the tax based on the period declared terminated, including therein income accrued and deductions incurred up to the date of termination if not otherwise properly includible or deductible in respect of the period.

Collection

Petition for reassessment

18643. A jeopardy assessment is immediately due and payable, and proceedings for collection may be commenced at once. The taxpayer, however, may stay collection and prevent the jeopardy assessment from becoming final by filing, within 10 days after the date of mailing or issuing the notice of jeopardy assessment, a petition for reassessment, accompanied by a bond or other security in such amount as the commissioner may deem necessary, not exceeding double the amount (including interest and penalties) as to which the stay is desired.

When assessment final

18644. If a petition for reassessment, accompanied by bond or other security, is not filed within the 10-day period, the assessment becomes final.

Oral hearing

18645. If the taxpayer has so requested in his petition, the commissioner shall grant him or his authorized representative an oral hearing.

Decision

18646. The commissioner shall consider the petition for reassessment and notify the taxpayer of his decision thereon. His decision is final.

Presumptive evidence

18647. In any proceeding brought to enforce payment of taxes made due and payable by this article, the finding of the commissioner under Section 18641, whether made after notice to the taxpayer or not, is for all purposes presumptive evidence that the assessment or collection of the tax or the deficiency was in jeopardy. A certificate of the commissioner of the mailing or issuing of the notices specified in this article is presumptive evidence that the notices were mailed or issued.

Lack of or false return

18648. If any taxpayer fails to file a return, or files a false or fraudulent return with intent to evade the tax, for any taxable year, the tax may be assessed, or a proceeding in court for the collection of the tax may be begun without assessment, at any time.

Adjudication of bankruptcy

18649. Upon the adjudication of bankruptcy of any taxpayer in any bankruptcy proceeding or the appointment of a receiver for any taxpayer in any receivership proceeding before any court of the United States or of any State or Territory or of the District of Columbia, any deficiency (together with all interest and penalties provided for by law) determined by the commissioner in respect of a tax imposed by this part upon the taxpayer may be immediately assessed.

Notice to commissioner

18650. The trustee in bankruptcy or receiver shall give notice in writing to the commissioner of the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver. The running of the statute of limitations on the making of assessments shall be suspended for the period from the date of adjudication in bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver to a date 30 days after the date upon which the notice from the trustee or receiver is received by the commissioner; but in no case shall the suspension be for a period in excess of two years.

Claim before bankruptcy court

18651. Claims for the deficiency and interest and penalties may be presented, for adjudication in accordance with law, to the court before which the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding is pending, despite the pendency of proceedings for the redetermination of the deficiency pursuant to a petition to the board. No petition for a redetermination may be filed with the board after the adjudication of bankruptcy or the appointment of the receiver.

Collection of unpaid amount after bankruptcy proceedings

18652. Upon notice and demand from the commissioner after termination of the bankruptcy or receivership proceeding, the taxpayer shall pay any portion of the claim allowed in the proceeding which is unpaid. The unpaid amount may be collected in the manner provided in this part for the collection of delinquent taxes at any time within six years after termination of the proceeding.

Rules and regulations

18653. The commissioner may prescribe rules and regulations necessary properly to carry out the provisions of this article.

Article 5. Interest and Penalties

Failure to file return: Penalty

18681. If any taxpayer fails to make and file a return required by this part on or before the due date of the return or the due date as extended by the commissioner, then, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause and not due to wilful neglect, 5 per cent of the tax shall be added to the tax for each 30 days or fraction thereof elapsing between the due date of the return and the date on which filed, but the total penalty shall not exceed 25 per cent of the tax. The penalty so added to the tax shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner

Computation by commissioner

18682. If any taxpayer, upon notice and demand by the commissioner, fails or refuses to make and file a return required by this part, the commissioner may estimate the net income and compute and levy the amount of the tax due from any available information. In such case 25 per cent of the tax, in addition to the penalty added under Section 18681, shall be added to the tax and shall be due and payable upon notice and demand from the commissioner.

Failure to furnish information

18683. If any taxpayer fails or refuses to furnish any information requested in writing by the commissioner, the commissioner may add a penalty of 25 per cent of the amount of any deficiency tax assessed by the commissioner concerning the assessment of which the information was required.

Deficiency due to negligence

18684. If any part of any deficiency is due to negligence, or intentional disregard of rules and regulations but without intent to defraud, 5 per cent of the total amount of the deficiency, in addition to the deficiency and other penalties provided in this article, shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency.

Deficiency due to fraud

18685. If any part of any deficiency is due to fraud with intent to evade tax, 50 per cent of the total amount of the deficiency, in addition to the deficiency and other penalties provided in this article, shall be assessed, collected, and paid in the same manner as if it were a deficiency.

Failure to pay tax

18686. If the tax imposed by this part, whether assessed by the commissioner or the taxpayer, or any installment or portion of the tax is not paid on or before the date prescribed for its payment, there shall be collected, as a part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per cent per year from the date prescribed for its payment until it is paid.

Extension of time

18687. If the time for the payment of the tax or any installment is extended or collection of a jeopardy assessment is stayed, there shall be collected, as part of the tax, interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date upon which the payment should have been made if no extension had been granted or collection had not been stayed until the date the tax is paid.

Interest on deficiency

18688. Interest upon the amount assessed as a deficiency shall be assessed and paid at the same time as the deficiency at the rate of 6 per cent per year from the date prescribed for the payment of the tax (or, if the tax is paid in installments, from the date prescribed for the payment of the first installment) to the date the deficiency is assessed. If any portion of the deficiency is paid prior to the date it is assessed, interest shall accrue on such portion only to the date paid.

Interest for failure to pay deficiency

18689. Where a deficiency, or any interest or penalty imposed in connection therewith under Sections 18681, 18684, 18685, and 18688, or any penalty in case of delinquency provided for in Sections 18681, 18682, and 18683, is not paid in full within 10 days from the date of notice and demand from the commissioner, there shall be collected as a part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per cent a year from the date of the notice and demand until it is paid. If any part of the amount prorated to any unpaid installment is not paid in full on or before the date prescribed for the payment of the installment, there shall be collected as a part of the tax, interest upon the unpaid amount at the rate of 6 per cent a year from that date until it is paid.

Overpayment credited on deficiency

18690. Where an overpayment is made by any taxpayer for any year, and a deficiency is owing from the husband or wife of the taxpayer for the same year, and both husband and wife notify the commissioner in writing prior to the expiration of the time within which credit for the overpayment may be allowed that the overpayment may be credited against the deficiency, no interest shall be assessed on such portion of the deficiency as is extinguished by the credit for the period of time subsequent to the date the overpayment was made.

Same

18691. When the correction of an erroneous inclusion or deduction of an item in the computation of income of any year results in an overpayment for one year and a deficiency for another year, the overpayment, if the period within which credit for the overpayment may be allowed has not expired, shall be credited on the deficiency, if the period within which assessment of the deficiency may be proposed has not expired, and the balance, if any, shall be credited or refunded to the taxpayer. No interest shall be assessed on such portion of the deficiency as is extinguished by the credit for the period of time subsequent to the date the overpayment was made.

Same

18692. Notwithstanding Section 19062, no interest shall in any case be allowed on any overpayment to the extent credited on deficiencies pursuant to Sections 18690 and 18691.

18802. Every individual, partnership, corporation, joint stock company or association, insurance company, business trust, or so-called Massachusetts trust, being a resident or having a place of business in this State, in whatever capacity acting, including lessees or mortgagors of real or personal property, fiduciaries, employers, and all officers and employees of this State or any political subdivision of this State, having the control, receipt, custody, disposal, or payment of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), dividends, rent, salaries, wages, premiums, annuities, compensations, remunerations, emoluments, or other fixed or determinable annual or periodical gains, profits, and income amounting to one thousand dollars ($1,000) or over, paid or payable during any year to any taxpayer, shall make a complete return thereof under oath to the commissioner under such regulations and in such form and manner and to such extent as may be prescribed by him.

Identity of recipient of income

18804. When necessary to make effective the provisions of this article, the name and address of the recipient of income shall be furnished upon demand of the person paying the income.

Withholding tax

18805. The commissioner may, by regulation, require any person, including any officer or department of the State or any political subdivision or agency of the State, to withhold from payments of interest (other than interest coupons payable to bearer), dividends, rent, prizes, winnings, and compensation for personal services, including bonuses, an amount equal to the tax that would be imposed by this part upon such payments if they, together with all similar payments since the beginning of the calendar year, represented net income and the only net income of the payee, and to transmit the amount withheld to the commissioner at such time as he may designate.

Failure to withhold

18806. Any person who fails to withhold from any payments and transmit to the commissioner any amount required by the commissioner pursuant to Section 18805 to be withheld and transmitted is liable for any taxes due from the taxpayer to whom the payments are made for the year in which made to an extent not in excess of the amount required to be withheld, unless it is shown that the failure is due to reasonable cause.

Notice to withhold

18807. The commissioner may by notice served personally or by registered mail require any person, including any officer or department of the State or any political subdivision or agency of the State, to withhold from any payments of any nature to any taxpayer the amount of any tax, interest, or penalties due from the taxpayer under this part and to transmit the amount withheld to the commissioner at such times as he may designate.

18808. Any person failing to withhold the amount due from any taxpayer and to transmit it to the commissioner as required by the commissioner pursuant to Section 18807 is liable for the amount due.

Liability to taxpayer, etc

18809 Any person required to withhold and transmit any amount pursuant to this article shall comply with the requirement without resort to any legal or equitable action in a court of law or equity. Any person paying to the commissioner any amount required by him to be withheld is not liable therefor to the person from whom withheld unless the amount withheld is refunded to the withholding agent.

Taxpayer's remedies

18810. Any taxpayer from whom a tax is collected by withholding under this article is entitled to the remedies set forth in Articles 1 and 2 of Chapter 13 of this part. But a refund of the tax under Article 1 of Chapter 13 shall be made to the withholding agent instead of directly to the taxpayer, if requested in writing by the withholding agent at the time the amounts refundable were transmitted to the commissioner.

Article 2. Suit for Tax

18831. The commissioner may at any time bring an action in a court of competent jurisdiction in the name of the people of the State of California to recover the amount of any taxes, penalties, and interest due and unpaid under this part.

Action in foreign jurisdiction, etc

18835. The commissioner may bring an appropriate action, whether in the form of a common law action of debt or indebitatus assumpsit or a code or other action, in any court of competent jurisdiction in the United States or in a foreign country, in the name of the people of the State of California, to recover the amount of any taxes and interest due under this part. Entry of judgment

18862. The county clerk immediately upon the filing of the certificate shall enter a judgment for the people of the State of California against the taxpayer in the amount of the tax, penalty, and interest set forth in the certificate. The county clerk may file the judgment in a loose-leaf book entitled "Personal Income Tax Judgments."

Lien

18863. An abstract or a copy of the judgment may be recorded with the county recorder of any county. From the time of the recording, the amount of the tax, penalty, and interest set forth constitutes a lien upon all property of the taxpayer in the county, owned by him or afterwards and before the lien expires acquired by him. The lien has the force, effect, and priority of a judgment lien and continues for five years from the date of the entry of the judgment by the county clerk unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Extension of lien

18864. Within five years from the date of the entry of the judgment by the county clerk, or within five years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner provided in this section, the lien may be extended by recording in the office of the county recorder of any county an abstract or copy of the judgment. From the time of the recording the lien extends to the property in the county for five years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Execution

18865. Execution shall issue upon the judgment upon request of the commissioner in the same manner as execution may issue upon other judgments, and sales shall be held under such execution as prescribed in the Code of Civil Procedure.

Article 4. Lien of Tax

18881. If any tax, interest, or penalty imposed under this part is not paid when due, the commissioner may file in the office of any county recorder a certificate specifying the amount of the tax, interest, and penalty due, the name and last known address of the taxpayer liable for the amount, and the fact that the commissioner has complied with all provisions of this part in the computation and levy of the tax.

Within five years from the date of the recording of the certificate, or within five years from the date of the last extension of the lien in the manner provided in this section, the lien may be extended by recording in the office of the county recorder of any county a new certificate. From the time of the recording the lien extends to the property in the county for five years unless sooner released or otherwise discharged.

Release or subordination of lien

18884. The commissioner may, at any time, release all or any portion of the property subject to any lien provided for in this part from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens if he determines that the taxes are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer or that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of the taxes.

Subordination certificate

18885. A certificate by the commissioner to the effect that any property has been released from a lien or that the lien has been subordinated to other liens shall be conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate.

Article 5. Warrant for Collection of Tax

Issuance of warrant

18906. The commissioner or his authorized representative may issue a warrant for the collection of any tax, interest, or penalty and for the enforcement of any lien.

Effect of warrant

18907. The warrant shall be directed to any sheriff, constable, or marshal and shall have the same force and effect as a writ of execution. Fees and expenses

18908. The commissioner shall pay the sheriff, constable, or marshal upon the completion of his services pursuant to the warrant the same fees, commissions, and expenses as are provided by law for similar services pursuant to a writ of execution. The commissioner, and not the court, shall approve the fees for publication in a newspaper.

Article 6. Miscellaneous Provisions

CHAPTER 661

An act to add Section 356.5 to the Streets and Highways Code, relating to the powers of the California Highway Commission and Department of Public Works in respect to the abandonment of State highways, and declaring the urgency hereof to take effect immediately.

Stats 1935, p 248, amended

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1943.]

In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 356.5 is added to the Streets and Highways Code, to read:

New section

356.5. The commission and the department are expressly authorized to abandon and to relocate any portion or portions of route 56 as now established and laid out between the intersection of route 56 and route 55 south of San Francisco and the town of Farallon City, in San Mateo County, and to take any and all action necessary for such abandonment and relocation. Such abandonment may be effected prior to relocation and pending relocation the commission and the department may adopt and maintain any traversable road around the portion or portions so abandoned.

Abandonment and relocation

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall, therefore, take effect immediately. The statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Since the establishment and construction of portions of route 56, as now laid out, the maintenance costs thereon have been greatly excessive, due to development of slides to an extent greatly exceeding anything reasonably to be anticipated at the time the highway was laid out. It now further appears that the final cost of acquisition of right of way on such portions of said route, as now laid out, will likewise be greatly excessive. It is necessary that express authorization be conferred on the responsible State officials to act immediately to abandon, and, if conditions prove necessary, to abandon prior to relocation of the highway around the said portions; otherwise, further expenditure of large sums of State highway funds on portions of the highway which must eventually be abandoned, in favor of less expensive locations, will be unavoidable. The continued use of the portions of the highway, subject to such extensive slides, and falling rocks, is hazardous to the safety of the traveling public, as well as economically disadvantageous to the State and, accordingly, it is necessary that authorization be granted by the Legislature for abandonment without delay.

Stats. 1937, p. 792 amended

An act to add Article 5, comprising Sections 1970 to 1973, inclusive, to Chapter 4, Part 1, Division VI, of the Harbors and Navigation Code, relating to the power of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners for San Francisco Harbor to sell and lease to the United States of America or any of its departments, acting by and through any of its various agencies, property of the State of California under the control and jurisdiction of said board, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New article

SECTION 1. Article 5, comprising Sections 1970 to 1973, inclusive, is added to Chapter 4, Part 1, Division VI of the Harbors and Navigation Code, to read:

Article 5. Leases and Sale of Property to the United States of America

Lease to United States

1970. The board may lease any part of the real property and improvements thereon, under its control and jurisdiction, to the United States of America or any department thereof, acting by and through any of its various agencies. The term of such a lease or any renewal thereof shall not extend beyond the period of one year immediately succeeding the cessation of hostilities. Any such lease and any renewal thereof may include provisions that notwithstanding any provision of law to the contrary, the rental agreed to be paid for the use of the leased property shall be full compensation for the use thereof, and that all vessels, or vessels of particular classes, using or making fast to any wharf on such property shall be free from the payment to the board of any dockage or other port charges fixed by authority of this part, and that any goods discharged from or received by any or all such vessels shall be free from any tolls or other port charges fixed by authority of this part, and such other terms and conditions as may be agreed upon by the parties.

Option to purchase

1971. In and by the terms of any such lease, and any renewals thereof, to the United States of America or any department thereof, acting by and through any of its various agencies, for the whole or any part of the real property described in this section, for a term which, as specified in such lease or in any renewals thereof, may extend beyond the cessation of hostilities, the board may give an option to the lessee to purchase said real property at a reasonable price to be agreed upon by the parties, taking into consideration the value of any improvements made or agreed to be made and any structures erected or agreed to be erected thereon by the board after this article becomes effective, but not the value of any improvements made or structures erected thereon by the lessee after this article becomes effective. The lease and any renewal or renewals thereof shall provide that such option may be exercised by the lessee only during the period subsequent to the cessation of hostilities and prior to the expiration of the lease or any renewals thereof and that any conveyance of any such real property by the State, pursuant to the exercise by the lessee of such option, shall contain an express condition that the grantee shall not convey such real property to any party other than the State of California, and that any conveyance by such grantee to the State of California shall be at a reasonable price to be agreed upon by the parties.

Description of property

The property referred to in this section is all that certain real property situate in the City and County of San Francisco, State of California, bounded and described as follows, to wit:

Beginning at a point located eighty (80) feet easterly from the westerly line of Illinois Street and sixty-six (66) feet southerly from the northerly line of El Dorado Street; running thence easterly and parallel with the northerly line of El Dorado Street to an intersection with the pierhead line as approved by the Secretary of War on March 31, 1941; thence southerly along said pierhead line to the intersection of said pierhead line with the extension easterly of the southerly line of Eighteenth Street; thence westerly along said extension of the southerly line of Eighteenth Street and along the southerly line of Eighteenth Street to a point located eighty (80) feet easterly from the westerly line of Illinois Street; thence northerly and parallel with the westerly line of Illinois Street to an intersection with the northerly line of Seventeenth Street extended easterly; thence easterly along the northerly line of Seventeenth Street extended easterly a distance of four hundred and eighty (480) feet; thence northerly parallel with the westerly line of Illinois Street to the southerly line of Sixteenth Street extended easterly; thence westerly along the easterly extension of the southerly line of Sixteenth Street to a point located eighty (80) feet easterly from the westerly line of Illinois Street; thence northerly parallel with the westerly line of Illinois Street to the place of beginning.

Provisions inapplicable

1972. The provisions of this part or of any other laws of this State (other than this article) restricting the power of the board to lease or sell property or requiring or prescribing publication of notice of intention to lease or sell, advertising for bids, the terms of contracts of lease or sale, or that would in any manner interfere with the purpose of this article which is to provide for cooperation by the State with the United States Government to the fullest extent possible for the successful prosecution of the wars in which this country is engaged, are not applicable to leases and sales made pursuant to this article.

"Cessation of hostilities"

1973. The phrase "cessation of hostilities," as used in this article, means the date of the proclamation of the President of the United States or of the concurrent resolution of both Houses of Congress of the United States determining the last date on which hostilities occur in the present wars between the United States of America and the governments of Germany, Italy, and Japan; or the effective date of the treaty which, by itself, or with other treaties, terminates hostilities in all such wars, whichever date is the earliest.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health, peace, and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

A state of war exists between the United States and the governments of Germany, Italy, and Japan, and there is immediate need of use by various agencies of the United States, of real property of the State and facilities thereon under the control and jurisdiction of the Board of State Harbor Commissioners for San Francisco Harbor for the reception, conditioning, delivery and shipment of goods, equipment and implements for use in the prosecution of the war, and no adequate facilities other than those under the control of the board are available for such uses and the board is not now sufficiently authorized to make such leases or sales as will meet the required needs.

An act to amend Sections 802.6, 803, 823, 828.15, 828.25, 828.4 and 829.2 of the Agricultural Code, relating to standard containers for deciduous fruits and grapes, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1943.]

In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 802.6 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Stats. 1941, p. 1283

802.6. All grapes intended for shipment out of the State of California shall be placed in standard containers numbers 1, 1B, 1C, 2, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 9A, 28, 29, 30A, 37A, 37B, 37C, 37D, 37E, 37F, 37G, 38H, 38I, 38J, 49, and 50 subject to the restrictions and additions specified in this chapter. Except as otherwise designated, all such containers shall be considered as standard for grapes when packed with or without pads.

Grape containers

The depth dimension of containers, exclusive of cleats, designated for grapes in this chapter shall apply only to the depth of the head of each such container.

Containers designated as 37A, 37B, 37C, 37D, 37E, 37F and 37G shall be standard for grapes when used without cleats or with any one of the following defined cleats attached to the top of each end piece; however, no such container shall be less than $4\frac{7}{16}$ nor more than $6\frac{10}{16}$ inches in depth, including the depth of a cleat on each end.

1. Cleat $\frac{3}{8}$ inch depth and $\frac{11}{16}$ inch width.
2. Cleat $\frac{1}{2}$ inch depth and $\frac{11}{16}$ inch width.
3. Cleat $\frac{11}{16}$ inch depth and $\frac{11}{16}$ or $\frac{7}{8}$ or $1\frac{3}{8}$ inch width.
4. Cleat $\frac{3}{4}$ inch depth.
5. Cleat $\frac{7}{8}$ inch depth and $\frac{11}{16}$ inch width.

Only the depth measurement of these cleats shall be used to increase the depth measurements of the container.

Containers designated as 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 9A, 30A, 38H, 38I and 38J shall be standard for grapes when used with or without any style of cleat providing the sides of the container are not placed above the container head.

Containers numbers 28, 29, 49 and 50 shall be standard for grapes only when (1) containing grapes packed in sawdust, cork or similar packing material in sufficient amount to completely surround and cover the grapes and (2) used without cleats.

Containers numbers 30A and 38H shall be standard for grapes only when containing bunches which are (1) individually wrapped in paper or other protective wrapping material and (2) packed in excelsior or other similar packing material.

Container number 37G shall also be considered standard for grapes when each head piece is beveled across each bottom corner at an angle of 45 degrees, starting two inches from each such corner, and is notched at the center of the base by a triangle with a base of 4 inches and an altitude of 2 inches and bottom slats are attached to each bevel and to each side of the notch, so as to affect the contour of the box.

Containers designated as 37D, 37F and 37G shall also be considered standard for grapes when constructed as display lugs defined herein and subject to the following restrictions. No other container shall be considered standard for grapes when so constructed.

Standard Display Lug: Container 37G when constructed as a "display lug" shall have a $5\frac{3}{4}$ inch head (1) "slotted" $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or less from the top or (2) consisting of a top piece $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches deep nailed or fastened to a bottom piece $4\frac{1}{2}$ inches in depth, and shall be used without a cleat or cleats; however, when a pad filler is placed in the bottom of the container a $\frac{3}{8}$ or $\frac{11}{16}$ inch cleat may be placed on each end of the container on top of the head in such a manner as to add $\frac{3}{8}$ or $\frac{11}{16}$ of an inch to the height of each end piece.

Special Display Lug: Container 37F when constructed as a "display lug" shall have a $5\frac{1}{2}$ inch head (1) "slotted" $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or less from the top or (2) consisting of a top piece $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches deep nailed or fastened to a bottom piece $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches in depth, and shall be used without a cleat or cleats.

Special Display Lug: Container 37D when constructed as a "display lug" shall have a $5\frac{1}{8}$ inch head (1) "slotted" $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches or less from the top or (2) consisting of a top piece $1\frac{1}{4}$ inches deep nailed or fastened to a bottom piece $3\frac{7}{8}$ inches in depth, with or without a $\frac{5}{8}$ inch cleat making a total depth of $5\frac{1}{8}$ or $5\frac{3}{4}$ inches.

The term "display lug" shall mean a lug with a two-piece or slotted head (with or without cleats) and sides consisting of two pieces, constructed in such a manner that when packed with grapes and lidded, an entire upper section of the lug, together with the lid, can readily be removed, thereby displaying the grapes.

SEC. 8. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1, of

Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Due to shortages in the supplies of materials used in the manufacture of wooden containers for defense, for private account and for export, the War Production Board has issued an order limiting the manufacture of box shook throughout the Nation to certain specifications. This order very materially affects the deciduous fruit and grape interests in their ability to obtain containers defined as standard in the provisions of the Agricultural Code. In order that changes in the container provisions of the Agricultural Code contained in this act and which are necessary to permit the industry to comply with the War Production Board Order, be applicable to the growing season of the current year it is necessary that the act take effect immediately.

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. The accounting for the Victory tax requires a centralized system of accounting for school district pay rolls. Also the shortage of personnel due to the needs of the armed services demands the employment of administrative short-cuts. To enable the application of the pay roll method for payments to be used for the fiscal year, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Urgency

Wartime restrictions have hampered many sporting and entertainment activities which ordinarily provide healthful recreation for the people of the State. Insofar as it may be done without interference with the war effort, the State should relax as many of the restrictions imposed by the State as are compatible with sound policy. Due to conditions beyond their control certain licensees have been prevented from conducting horse racing meetings at the times and for the periods now provided for by law and regulation. This results in a decrease of the funds made available for the support of agricultural fairs and for aid to educational institutions of this State. In order that the recreational opportunities of the people of the State shall not be further impaired and that such funds for agricultural fairs and educational institutions shall not be further diminished it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

Any proceedings heretofore or hereafter commenced under this chapter shall be dismissed by the court in which the same shall have been commenced or to which it may be transferred on motion of the defendant after due notice to plaintiff, or by the court upon its own motion, unless such action is brought to trial within one year after the plaintiff has filed his action, except where the parties have stipulated, in writing, that the time may be extended. Section 583, Code of Civil Procedure shall not apply to actions commenced under this chapter. Dismissal.

SEC. 9. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows: Urgency.

During the widespread depression, out of which we have now emerged, thousands of parcels of property, because of the inability of taxpayers to pay their taxes, were tax sold or tax-deeded. The appellate courts of this State have heretofore determined that many of said tax deeds or taxes were and are invalid. To permit an action by the taxpayer to contest the validity of tax sales and tax deeds would not only determine the validity of said tax sales and said tax deeds for the benefit of the State, but would also immediately restore properties to the tax rolls and thereby add badly needed revenue for the operation and maintenance of government.

The frames, after removal from the vat, shall be boiled not less than 20 minutes in a solution of lye water. The hives, bodies, bottom boards, covers, and supers shall either be scorched or shall be boiled not less than 20 minutes in a solution of lye water. Honey shall not be salvaged, but shall be drained off with the refuse water. All solid matter, other than wax, remaining after draining the vat shall be burned in an incinerator constructed in accordance with specifications of the director.

Revocation or suspension of license

Any license issued under the provisions of this section may be revoked or suspended by the commissioner, after hearing, whenever he finds that a licensee has not complied with all of the provisions of this section and the rules, regulations and specifications issued hereunder.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

There is a serious shortage of beeswax, a product essential for many military purposes. Present law requires, whenever American foulbrood is found in a colony, that the wax and frames, together with the bees and honey, be burned and the ashes buried. Current demand for wax tends to encourage beekeepers to conceal the presence of disease and attempt to salvage the wax without adequate facilities, thus further spreading the disease. Burning as required by law is difficult under wartime conditions because of scarcity of labor and because burning can not be done at night in certain military zones and can not be done in the daytime without attracting and destroying bees from neighboring colonies.

Under the precautions provided by this section, much wax can be salvaged, as well as frames, materials for which are scarce, without danger of spreading disease. In order that further waste of this essential war material be prevented, and in order to discourage further spread of disease through unsupervised salvage operations, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Stats 1927, p 694, amended

[Approved by Governor May 22, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 22, 1943]

In effect August 4, 1943

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended by adding thereto a new section, to be numbered Section 7 1, and to read as follows:

New section

Sec. 7.1. (a) Whenever the board of directors, by ordinance adopted by a vote of three-fourths of the total vote of the board, shall find and determine that any part of the works of such district has been damaged or demolished by reason of fire, flood, earthquake, sabotage, or act of God or the public enemy, and that the cost of repairing or replacing such works so damaged or demolished will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district, and that public interest requires the incurring of indebtedness for the purpose of providing moneys for the repair or replacement thereof, such board of directors may authorize the incurring of such indebtedness and shall determine the manner in which such indebtedness shall be incurred and evidenced and may authorize the issuance and sale of notes or other evidence of indebtedness for such purpose; provided, however, that (1) indebtedness so incurred shall not exceed one-half of 1 per cent of the assessed valuation of property within the district taxable for district purposes, (2) that the interest payable on indebtedness shall not exceed six (6) per cent per annum payable semiannually, (3) that the term of such indebtedness shall not exceed twelve (12) years. In its discretion the board of directors may provide that any note or other evidence of indebtedness issued hereunder shall be callable at the option of the district on any interest date not earlier than one year from date of issue thereof, at not to exceed 101 per centum of par value thereof, and interest accrued thereon. The denomination or denominations of such notes or other evidence of indebtedness shall be determined by the board of directors. Such notes or other evidence of indebtedness shall be sold at not less than par and accrued interest at public or private sale as the board of directors shall determine and, in the event of public sale after such notice as may be prescribed by the board of directors. The proceeds of any borrowing hereunder (other than accrued interest) shall be applied solely to the purpose specified in the ordinance authorizing the incurring of such indebtedness or to the retirement of the principal of the obligation issued pursuant to such ordinance. Any accrued interest received shall be applied to payment of interest on such indebtedness.

Damaged works

Incurring debts for repair, etc

Refunding of debts

(b) Whenever the board of directors by ordinance adopted by a vote of three-fourths of the total vote of the board shall find and determine that the best interests of the district will be served by refunding any indebtedness theretofore incurred and outstanding under this Section 7.1, such board shall be authorized to refund all or part of such indebtedness and, for that purpose, to issue and dispose of, by exchange or at public or private sale, notes or other evidence of indebtedness at not less than par and accrued interest; provided, that the interest rate on indebtedness incurred for the purpose of refunding any obligation shall not exceed the interest rate on the refunded indebtedness, and the maturity date or dates thereof shall not be later than the maturity date or dates of the respective refunded obligations. Otherwise any refunding notes or other evidence of indebtedness, issued hereunder, shall conform to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this Section 7.1, may be similarly callable and may in turn be refunded in accordance herewith. The proceeds of the disposition of any refunding notes or other evidence of indebtedness shall be applied solely to the retirement of the outstanding indebtedness for the refunding of which such notes or other evidence of indebtedness were issued. The aggregate indebtedness incurred under this Section 7.1 shall not be increased by any refunding transaction except as, during the interval between disposing of the refunding issue and retirement of the outstanding issue, outstanding obligations may be temporarily increased.

Tax levy

(c) If, from any cause, the revenues of the district shall be inadequate to pay the interest or principal of any indebtedness incurred under this Section 7.1, when due, the board of directors shall, at the time of fixing the tax levy and in the manner for such tax levy provided, levy and collect annually until such indebtedness shall be paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of the district set apart for that purpose, sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest thereon, a tax sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness, or such part thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district, as such interest becomes due, and also sufficient to pay such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time when money will be available from the next general tax levy, or such portion thereof as shall not be met from revenues of the district; provided, however, that if the maturity of such indebtedness be made to begin more than one year after the date upon which it was incurred, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually, sufficient when added to revenues of the district available for that purpose, to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute, together with revenues of the district available for such purpose, a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of such indebtedness on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes, shall be unlimited by the provisions of Section 5, subdivision (8) hereof and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected and shall be used for no purpose other than the payment of such indebtedness and interest accruing thereon.

Emergency ordinance

(d) Whenever the board of directors finds it to be of urgent necessity to preserve or protect the property, interests or welfare of the district, then, notwithstanding any other provisions of this act, any ordinance adopted by a vote of three-fourths of the total vote of the board for the purpose of exercising powers conferred upon it by this Section 7.1, may be adopted without introduction on any previous day and shall take effect immediately upon its adoption.

Whenever the United States is engaged in war or whenever the Governor finds and proclaims that an emergency exists, in preparing for the National defense, the board shall have the authority to provide by rule for the making of appointments from employment lists for the duration of such war or emergency in those classes in which the best interests of the service would be served by such appointments, to be known as "duration appointments." Such appointments shall automatically terminate 90 days after the termination of the war or after the Governor finds and proclaims that the emergency no longer exists. Subject to the provisions of this section duration appointees shall be subject to such conditions affecting status and tenure during and after such employment as the board, in accordance with the best interests of the State service, may by rule determine.

A statement of the facts constituting said necessity is as follows:

This act makes provision for the situations created by the granting of such leaves both during the present emergency and at the end thereof. It is necessary that these provisions be made applicable immediately for the best interests of the war effort and the State service.

An act to add Article 1A to Chapter 1 of Division 1 of the Agricultural Code, to include Section 35, relating to the formulation of temporary provisions, conditions, standards, and prices.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor May 25, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 25, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New article

SECTION 1. Article 1A is added to Chapter 1 of Division 1 of the Agricultural Code, to read:

Article 1A. Temporary Provisions, Conditions, Standards or Prices

Declaration of necessity

35. The Legislature hereby declares that in order to protect the agricultural interests of the people of this State and to conserve the agricultural wealth of the State and protect the health and general welfare of our citizens during the continuance of the wars in which the United States is now engaged, and in order to maintain or enforce State laws, orders or regulations prescribing conditions, standards or prices it is necessary that provision be made for the formulation of conditions, standards, or prices to take the place of those conditions, standards or prices which are rendered ineffectual or unenforceable by reason of any conflict with a Federal law, order or regulation made under the Federal war powers.

Preparation of new standards, etc

Whenever the director shall be notified in writing by the Attorney General of this State that any provision, condition, standard or price established by or under authority of this code is in conflict with a Federal law, order or regulation made under the Federal war powers, and is thereby rendered ineffectual and unenforceable, he shall prepare proposed new provisions, conditions, standards or prices to take the place of such provisions, conditions, standards or prices declared by the Attorney General to be in conflict as aforesaid, and shall as soon as reasonably possible call a public hearing to consider the same at a place within the State that he deems suitable.

Notice of hearing

Notice of such hearing shall be given at least five days prior thereto by publication in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the County of Sacramento and in a similar newspaper printed and published in the county where such hearing is held.

Hearing

At such hearing the director shall receive and hear the evidence of all interested persons which shall be taken under oath, and all written evidence and exhibits introduced at such hearing shall be preserved and open to inspection by any interested person.

Findings

If from the evidence and data produced at such hearing and from such other knowledge and information as the director may have he shall find in writing:

1. That the conflict between the existing provision, condition, standard or price and the Federal law, order or regulation and the consequent unenforceability of such provision, condition, standard or price seriously impairs or prevents the effectuation of the purpose and intent of such provision, condition, standard or price or of the statute of which it is a part;

2. That the effectuation of the purpose and intent of such provision, condition, standard or price or of the statute of which it is a part will be best served by the adoption of such new provision, condition, standard or price as will remove such conflict with the Federal law, order or regulation;

3. That the new provision, condition, standard or price is as similar to the existing provision, condition, standard or price as is reasonably possible without being in conflict with such Federal law, order or regulation;

4. That the new provision, condition, standard or price will protect the agricultural interests of the people of this State and conserve the agricultural wealth of the State and protect the health and general welfare of our citizens during the life of the Federal law, order or regulation in conflict with the existing provision, condition, standard or price;

Transmission to Governor

Then, and upon such findings, the director shall transmit his determination and recommendations thereon to the Governor. The Governor shall review the determination and recommendations so submitted and if he finds that the purposes and objectives of this section are to be attained thereby shall issue an order formulating and making effective such new provision, condition, standard or price.

Order

Time effective

Such new provisions, conditions, standards or prices so formulated and made effective shall continue in force and effect only during the life of such Federal law, order or regulation in conflict with the original existing provision, condition, standard or price, and while in force and effect shall supersede the original existing provision, condition, standard or price and be administered and enforced by the director in the same manner and to the same extent, and violations thereof shall be subject to the same penalties, as provided in the case of such original existing provisions, conditions, standards or prices.

Revival of superseded law

Upon the termination of this act all provisions, conditions, standards and prices formulated and made effective hereunder shall immediately terminate and cease and be of no further force or effect and any and all original existing provisions, conditions, standards or prices so temporarily superseded shall be and become in full force and effect as though no new provision, condition, standard or price had been formulated and made effective hereunder. The same shall be true at any sooner time upon the expiration of the life of any such conflicting Federal law, order or regulation as to the particular provisions, conditions, standards or prices affected thereby.

"Director"

As used in this section, "director" means Director of Agriculture, except with reference to Article 1 of Chapter 3 of Division 5 and Article 4 of Chapter 8 of Division 5 of this code; and as to those articles only, "director" means Director of Public Health.

Duration

This article shall remain in force until the ninety-first day after final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first occurs.

Procedure where tax deed has been executed

3902. In all cases where any land or real property within the State is located within one or more taxing agencies, including but not confined to a county, city and county, city, irrigation district, reclamation district, or other taxing agency, having power to assess, levy and collect taxes or assessments, and one or more of such taxing agencies has heretofore or may hereafter assess and levy taxes or assessments upon such real property within its boundaries, and such taxes or assessments have become delinquent, or may hereafter become delinquent and in accordance with the law relating to such taxing agency or agencies, tax or assessment deed to such property has been or may hereafter be made to the taxing agency, or to the State vesting title to said property in the taxing agency or the State, the following steps and proceedings may be taken by any one or more or all of such taxing agencies within the boundaries of which the affected land or real property is located:

Election to be exclusive sales and rental agencies

(a) The first taxing agency, excluding the State, acquiring title to such real property through tax or assessment proceedings vesting title to said real property in such taxing agency or in the State, but including any county or city and county within the boundaries of which real property has been deeded to the State by tax deed, may elect to be the exclusive rental and sales agency for said tax-deeded property by the passage of a resolution and by filing with the office of the State Controller and with the governing board of each taxing agency within the boundaries of which the real property is located of a certified copy thereof, accompanied by a list showing the descriptions of the properties on forms prescribed by the State Controller, by the governing body of such taxing agency or such county or city and county indicating such election, and when such resolution so passed is filed with the State Controller, the exclusive right to rent or sell said land shall thereby be vested in such taxing agency or such county or city and county in accordance with the provisions hereinafter contained and notwithstanding any other provisions of this code,

Suspension of right to sell and the power of the tax collector of any county or city and county to sell or offer for sale at public auction or private sale any real property that has theretofore been deeded to the State for nonpayment of delinquent taxes shall be suspended during the time the provisions of this chapter are effective as to any parcel of tax-deeded property.

Election by agency subsequently acquiring tax title

(b) If the taxing agency first to acquire title to real property within its boundaries has not elected to become the exclusive renting or sales agency for the property, or if any renting or sales agency is terminated, any other taxing agency, excluding the State, subsequently acquiring tax title to said property or any county or city and county within the boundaries of which real property has been deeded to the State by tax deed shall likewise be entitled to elect by the same proceedings as set forth under subparagraph (a) hereof to become the exclusive rental and sales agency of said property.

Contract with other interested taxing agencies

(c) Any taxing agency, including a county or city and county authorized by this chapter to become the exclusive rental or sales agency of real property within its boundaries is also hereby authorized and empowered, by and through its governing body, to contract with any other taxing agency within the boundaries of which the affected land is located, to act as the exclusive rental or sales agency of said property, and any and all taxing agencies within the boundaries of which the affected property is located, whether they have or have not acquired final assessment or tax deed to said property, may contract with any other taxing agency which has acquired title to said property, to act for or with the taxing agency having title to said property in the matter of the renting or sale of said tax-deeded property.

Contract as to rental, sale and revenue apportionment

(d) Any taxing agency electing to be the exclusive rental or sales agency shall endeavor to contract with the governing bodies of the other interested taxing agencies, including a county or city and county within the boundaries of which real property has been deeded to the State by tax deed, as to the rental or sale of tax-deeded property located within the boundaries of the respective taxing agencies, and the contract may provide a minimum rental and a minimum sale price for the rental or sale of the affected property, and may provide for the method and amount and portion of the receipts from rentals and/or sales to be paid to each such taxing agency. If no agreement for proportioning of revenues from rental or sales is agreed upon, the affected property shall only be leased or sold by the taxing agency electing to become the sole rental or sales agency after offering said property for lease or sale after public notice, stating the time and place when and where bids will be received for the sale or lease of the property, of not less than 10 days subsequent to the first publication of such notice in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county or city and county within which said property is situated. Such notice may be published one or more times in the discretion of the taxing agency. No inferior bid shall be accepted if a better or more favorable offer of sale, lease, or method of operation is available. Unless all interested taxing agencies having delinquent taxes or assessments against the affected property do agree upon the proportions or rental or sales receipts to be received by each taxing agency, the proceeds realized from any rentals and from any sales of the affected property shall be apportioned and divided between all interested taxing agencies in the proportion that the total tax and assessment liens for the first year of delinquency, exclusive of penalties, interest, and costs, of each agency, including the interest of revenue districts, bears to the total tax and assessment liens for the first year of delinquency of all such agencies; provided, however, that where any such agency has bonds outstanding and assessment calls are being made therein to service such bonds, then the proportion for that agency shall be computed based upon the total tax and assessment liens for the first year of delinquency in the payment of assessments during which assessments were called for the payment of both principal and interest maturing on such bonds. If the taxing agency levies taxes or assessments in one year covering payment for more than one year, the amount attributable to the first year shall constitute the share of such taxing agency. The county and taxing agencies shall prorate on the same basis the money they receive to themselves and to the revenue districts for which they collect taxes or assessments. Whenever one taxing agency holds a tax deed and another taxing agency otherwise entitled to levy taxes or assessments on the property is unable by reason of such public ownership to levy taxes thereon, and has no delinquent taxes thereon, the last assessment of the taxing agency shall, for the purpose of the apportionment of sales and rentals, be deemed to be its first year of delinquency.

Bids

Apportionment of proceeds

(e) Where there has been deeded to the State by tax deed any real property within the boundaries of any said taxing agency, including any county or city and county, and title has heretofore been acquired or may hereafter be acquired by any of said taxing agencies or the State by tax title through delinquent tax proceedings, or purchase of tax title and/or in or by any of the methods provided for in this code, so that any one taxing agency acquires the interest of the State and of all other interested taxing agencies, the rental hereafter received relating to the affected property shall be apportioned between or among said taxing agencies in such proportions and amounts as the said respective taxing agencies through their respective governing bodies shall by agreement determine, and in the event that all of the interested governing bodies can not agree upon a method of apportioning, then the rentals received from such property shall be apportioned as in subparagraph (d) hereinbefore provided.

Apportionment of rental where title acquired by one tax agency

Quiet title action

3903. Any taxing agency becoming vested with title to such real property by any method shall have the right to and is hereby vested with the power to, by action to quiet title, or by other appropriate proceedings, including the procuring of quitclaim or other deed, release or relinquishment of any private owner or lien holder having or claiming a lien or interest in said property, perfect a merchantable title to said property. No other taxing agency shall be made a party defendant to any quiet title action brought under authority of this section unless the agency or the person bringing the action has acquired the interest of the agency named as a party defendant.

Failure to rent or sell. Termination of agency

3904. In the event that any taxing agency shall elect to become the exclusive leasing and sales agency of tax-deeded property and shall fail, neglect or refuse for a period of two years from the date it received a tax deed to the property from its tax collector or a corresponding officer or from the effective date of this chapter, whichever is the later to either rent the affected property or to sell the affected property the exclusive rental and sales rights then existing in any taxing agency may be terminated by any interested taxing agency passing a resolution by its governing body and serving a certified copy thereof upon the governing body of the taxing agency having obtained the exclusive sales and leasing rights and by filing a certified copy of said resolution with the office of the State Controller and with the governing board of each taxing agency within the boundaries of which the real property is located, and such exclusive rental and sales rights shall thereupon terminate 60 days after the service of said certified copies of said resolution on the interested governing boards and filing of a certified copy thereof with the office of the State Controller. Whenever an exclusive leasing and sales agency is terminated, as provided in this paragraph, the taxing agency whose rights are thus terminated shall not within three years thereafter become the exclusive leasing and sales agency of such property except with the consent of all taxing agencies.

Expenses

3905. In all cases where a taxing agency acts as the leasing or sales agent for any real property, as provided for under this chapter, said taxing agency may deduct 10 per cent from all rental received and 5 per cent from the receipts from a sale of any property sold by said taxing agency, in order to partially or fully reimburse said taxing agency for expenses incurred by it in handling any such property. All other amounts received as rental or sales price shall belong to and shall be paid to the taxing agencies in proportion to their tax or assessment liens as provided for under this chapter.

Period during which taxing agency may be sole leasing or sales agency

3906. When a taxing agency has elected to become the sole leasing or sales agency under the provisions of this chapter, it shall have the right to continue as such for a period of two years subsequent to the date of the filing with the office of the State Controller and with the governing board of each taxing agency within the boundaries of which the real property is located of a certified copy of a resolution of the governing board of such taxing agency of its election to act in that behalf. Said taxing agency may continue to act as sole leasing or sales agency for a further period of not exceeding two years in the event an agreement to that effect shall be entered into between all interested taxing agencies, excluding the State, which shall never have any right to act as a sales or leasing agency either in its own name or through the State Controller or any other State office or department when the alternative method provided for under this chapter is in effect.

Assignments and leases

3907. Every lease or assignment thereof, of tax-deeded property made under any provisions of this code by the State through the office of the State Controller or of any other office or department of the State, shall be assigned to the governing body of the taxing agency electing to be the sole leasing and sales agency.

Procedure to terminate right of redemption

3908. Whenever any taxing agency other than the county or State shall have elected to be the sale or rental agency as in this chapter provided and the interest of the State and county is to be acquired, the following proceeding terminating the right of redemption shall be had:

(1) The county tax collector shall on request of the agency give notice of the intended sale, which notice shall describe the property, state the name of the assessee for each year there are delinquent county taxes against the property, and state that unless sooner redeemed, all right of redemption of said property shall cease 21 days after the first publication of said notice.

(2) The tax collector shall cause said notice to be published once a week for at least three successive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county, or, if none, then by posting copies of the notice in four conspicuous places in the county, one of which shall be in the United States post office nearest the property, and another of which shall be on the property itself.

(3) Within five days after the first publication of the notice, the tax collector shall mail a copy of it by registered mail to the last assessee of each portion of the property at his last known address, or, if no address is known for him, then at the county seat. It is not necessary to mail a copy of the notice to any party who files with the tax collector a written acknowledgment of receipt of a copy of the notice or a waiver of the notice.

(4) The cost of giving the notice shall be paid by the taxing agency by which the property is to be or may be purchased.

(5) Affidavits showing that the notice has been given as prescribed shall be filed in the office of the county tax collector.

(6) If any portion of the property is not redeemed within 21 days after the first publication and mailing of the notice, the tax collector shall, without charge, execute to the taxing agency a deed to the unredeemed property.

(7) On the execution of the deed, all right to redeem the property from sale to the State is terminated. The deed conveys to the taxing agency all the State's interest in the property.

(8) If the lands as to which the right of redemption has been thus terminated are not sold into private ownership within the period the taxing agency is exclusive sales and rental agency, the taxing agency shall execute a deed to the State reconveying to the State all the right, title and interest of the State in the property which such taxing agency obtained by the deed of the tax collector pursuant to this chapter. Thereafter, such property shall be held as tax-deeded property by the State. The Controller shall provide uniform blanks on which such reconveyances shall be made.

There shall be the same number of duplicates as is required for deeds to the State for taxes, and the same procedure shall be followed in recording such deeds as is provided by law for the recording of deeds to the State for taxes.

Notice of execution of deed

3909. On execution of the deed by the tax collector to the taxing agency, and by the taxing agency to the State or private purchaser, notice thereof shall be given to the State Controller and to the governing board of each taxing agency within the boundaries of which the real property is located.

Duration of leases

3910. No lease of tax-deeded property shall be made for a period exceeding two years without the consent of all interested taxing agencies.

Account

3911. The taxing agency acting as the rental or sales agency under this chapter shall on or before February 1st of each year render to all affected taxing agencies an account of all rentals and sales for the preceding calendar year, specifying the same as to each property involved, and pay to the affected taxing agencies the amounts due. A copy of the account shall be furnished to the State Controller.

"Rental"

3912. "Rental" as used in this chapter means rental for cash, crop share, or other consideration, and, in the event the property is farmed by the State or taxing agency, includes the profits derived from such farming.

3534. The Advisory Committee on Tax-Deeded Property is continued in existence. The committee consists of nine members, appointed by the Governor on the recommendation of the Controller and holding office at the pleasure of the Governor. Three members of this committee shall represent the interests of counties of this State, three members shall represent the interests of the cities of this State and three members shall represent the interests of irrigation districts, reclamation districts and water conservation districts. The members of this committee serve without compensation, except that each shall receive his actual and necessary expenses incurred in the course of his duties. Advisory Committee on Tax-Deeded Property

Whenever the word "Committee" is used in this chapter it shall mean the Advisory Committee on Tax-Deeded Property.

3535. The committee shall meet on call of the Controller for the purpose of classifying tax-deeded property and for the Meetings purpose of conference and making recommendations in regard to the restoration of tax-deeded property to the tax rolls and for all other purposes relating to administration of tax-sold property and tax-deeded property.

Chairman

3536. The chairman of the committee shall be elected by and serve at the pleasure of the committee and shall be a member of the committee.

Secretary

3537. The chief of the redemption tax department in the Controller's office, or any other civil service employee of the classifying agency designated by the classifying agency, shall act as secretary of the committee.

Employees

3538. The classifying agency shall, from its personnel, furnish any secretarial, clerical, technical, or other assistance as may be needed by the committee.

"Administering agency"

3539. "Administering agency" means the State or local agency which administers tax-deeded property which has been classified as suitable for a public use The administering agency may be any State department, commission, board or other State agency, or may be a county, city, district, or other local agency.

"Classifying agency"

3540. "Classifying agency" means the Controller, or such State agency as he may designate.

Classification

3541. The classification of tax-deeded property shall include, but is not limited to, the following:

(a) Which property is suitable for public use, and what the public use should be.

(b) Which property is suitable to go back to private ownership.

(c) Which property appears to be essentially waste land not fit for either public or private use with recommendations for its rehabilitation.

Property subject to sale and redemption

3542. Until classified as suitable for public use or as waste land all tax-deeded property is subject to sale, and, unless the right of redemption has been terminated, to redemption.

Reclassification

3543. The committee may at any time reclassify any or all tax-deeded property which has been previously classified. No property shall be finally classified for public use unless some State or local agency has indicated its willingness to become the administering agency for the property.

Application for classification

3544. As prescribed by the committee, any State or local agency may apply to the classifying agency:

(a) To have tax-deeded property classified for public use,

(b) To be the administering agency for property classified for public use.

Limitation

3545. Not more than 5 per cent of the assessed valuation of property in any county shall be finally classified as suitable for public use, except by consent of the board of supervisors. As used in this section, "assessed valuation" means the assessed valuation of all taxable property and the valuation which would be placed on tax-deeded property, and on former tax-deeded property which has been classified for public use, if such property were assessed. On information furnished by the county assessor, the assessed valuation shall be determined by the committee as of each time final classification is made.

Waste land

3546. Tax-deeded property which has been classified as waste land is not subject to sale to private owners.

Purchase price agreement

3547. Before taking over the property for purposes of administration, the administering agency shall agree with the board of supervisors as to the purchase price to be paid for the property and any terms of sale. This purchase price shall not exceed the amount which would have been necessary to redeem the property at the time it was deeded to the State for taxes. This price shall be paid from any funds appropriated or given to the administering agency. The money received under this section shall be distributed in the same manner as money received on sale of tax-deeded property to a private purchaser, except that, if the administering agency is the county, the board of supervisors shall agree with the governing bodies of all revenue districts as to the amount to be paid to such revenue districts by the county.

Copies of agreement

3548. The administering agency shall submit four executed copies of the agreement to the Controller.

Notice

3551. By written authorization, the Controller shall then direct the county tax collector to cause notice of the agreement to be given.

Objection or consent to sale

3552. If the governing body of any taxing agency having a lien on the property for taxes or assessments does not, before the effective date of the agreement, file with the tax collector and the board of supervisors certified copies of a resolution adopted by the governing body objecting to the sale, the taxing agency has consented to the sale. If the taxing agency consents to the sale the lien of its taxes or assessments and any rights which it may have to the property as a result of such taxes or assessments are canceled by a sale under this chapter and it is entitled to its proper share of the proceeds deposited in the Delinquent Tax Sale Trust Fund. If the taxing agency does object to the sale, the lien of its taxes or assessments or any rights which the taxing agency may have to the property are not affected by a sale under this chapter.

If the taxing agency objects to the sale and before the date of sale the administering agency applies in writing to the board of supervisors to be released from the purchase of the property the agreement becomes null and void.

Publication of notice of agreement

3552.2. If the right of redemption has not been terminated a notice of agreement shall be published once a week for at least three successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county, or, if none, then by posting copies of the notice in four conspicuous places in the county, one of which shall be on the property itself.

Notice of agreement

3552.4. The notice of agreement shall state:

(a) A description of the property.

(b) For each year in which there may be delinquent taxes against all or any portion of the property, the name of the assessee of all or such portion of the property.

(c) That an agreement for the sale of the property has been made by the board of supervisors of the county with the administering agency named in the agreement.

(d) That a copy of the agreement is on file in the office of the board of supervisors and tax collector.

(e) There shall also be a statement that if the property is not redeemed before the effective date of the agreement the right of redemption will cease.

Copy to last assessee

3552.6. If the right of redemption has not been terminated, the tax collector shall mail a copy of the notice within five days after the first publication by registered mail to the last assessee of each portion of the property at his last known address, or, if no address is known for him then at the county seat.

It is not necessary to mail a copy of the notice to any party who files with the tax collector a written acknowledgment of receipt of copy of the notice or a waiver of the notice.

Cost of notice

3552.8. The cost of giving the notice of agreement shall be paid by the administering agency by which the property is to be or may be purchased.

Filing of notice

3552.10. A copy of the published notice of agreement shall be filed in the office of the county tax collector.

3552.12. The agreement becomes effective 28 days after the first publication of the notice of agreement.

Redemption

3552.14. If all or any portion of the property subject to redemption is redeemed before the effective date of the agreement, the agreement is null as to the property redeemed.

Termination of redemption

3552.16. If any portion of the property subject to redemption is not so redeemed, the right of redemption is terminated when the terms of the agreement have been met by the administering agency, and the tax collector shall, without charge, execute to the administering agency a deed of the unredeemed property.

Acknowledgement

3552.18. The county clerk shall take acknowledgment of the deed without charge.

Provisions of deed

3552.20. In addition to the usual provisions of a deed conveying real property, the deed shall specify:

(a) That the real property was duly sold and conveyed to the State for nonpayment of taxes which had been legally levied and were a lien on the property.

Effect of deed

3552.22. Except as against actual fraud, the deed is conclusive evidence of compliance with this article and has the same effect as evidence and as a conveyance as a deed to a private purchaser after sale of tax-deeded property.

Termination of redemption

3552.24. If not previously terminated, all right to redeem the property from sale to the State is terminated on the execution of the deed. The deed conveys to the administering agency all the State's interest in the property.

Payments

3552.26. Any payment required by an agreement under this chapter shall be made to the tax collector and shall be deposited in the delinquent tax sale trust fund.

Report of administering agency

3552.28. On the execution of the deed to the administering agency the tax collector shall report the following within 10 days to the Controller, assessor, redemption officer and recorder:

(a) The name of the administering agency.

(b) The date of the deed to the administering agency.

(c) The amount for which the property was sold.

(d) The description of the property conveyed.

(e) The numbers and dates of certificate of sale to the State and of the deed to the State.

Any charges against the officer having custody of the delinquent and current rolls shall be reduced accordingly.

Limitation

3552.34. A proceeding based on alleged invalidity or irregularity of any proceeding instituted under this chapter can only be commenced within one year after the date of execution of the tax collector's deed.

Defense

3552.36. A defense based on the alleged invalidity or irregularity of any proceeding instituted under this chapter can be maintained only in a proceeding commenced within one year after the date of execution of the tax collector's deed.

Quiet title action

3552.38. Whenever tax-deeded property has been purchased from the State, the purchaser or any other person claiming through him may bring suit against the State to quiet title to all or any portion of the property and prosecute it to final judgment.

Forfeiture

3552.40. Whenever it is determined by a court that any sale or deed for taxes under this chapter is void and that the purchaser from the State may not be finally awarded the property, the court shall not decree a forfeiture of the property until the former owner or other party in interest has repaid to the purchaser the purchase price of the property.

Refund

3552.42. The purchaser of tax-sold or tax-deeded property is entitled to a refund of the amount paid as purchase price whenever it is determined by the board of supervisors that the property belongs to the United States, this State, a city, or other political subdivision of this State and should not have been sold for taxes. The refund shall be made in the same manner as a refund of an overpayment of tax.

Purchase of rights

3553. The administering agency may also agree to purchase the rights of other taxing agencies.

Reclassification of waste land

3554. When in the judgment of the committee waste land is rehabilitated it may be reclassified for private or public use.

Information

3555. At any time, all State and local agencies shall supply all information requested by the classifying agency or the committee.

SEC. 14. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of Section 1, of Article IV of the Constitution of this State; and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: Urgency

That at the present time the State Department of Public Health has uncovered extensive frauds perpetrated on the public by groups of persons who have made a racket of the olive oil business, because of war conditions existing at the present time. Lithographed cans of alleged olive oil containing no olive oil whatsoever have been distributed, to such an extent that the California olive oil manufacturers themselves have asked to have this legislation introduced. California produces millions of gallons of olive oil yearly and this market should be protected. The State Department of Public Health feels that this act is urgent, because the olive oil crushing season is now on, and by this legislation the California manufacturers will receive the protection which they so rightfully deserve.

An act to add Section 258.1 to the Vehicle Code, relating to temporary chauffeurs' licenses for school bus drivers, declaring the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately. Stats 1935, p 93, amended

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 26, 1943.] In effect immediately

SECTION 1. Section 258.1 is added to the Vehicle Code, to read: New section

258.1. Until six months after the termination of all current hostilities as declared by the President or the Congress of the United States, chauffeurs' licenses may be issued to persons 17 years of age or over permitting such persons to drive school busses. Duration chauffeur's license

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Under existing law no chauffeur's license may be issued to a person under 18 years of age thus preventing in many cases the employment, for compensation, of persons under such age for the operation of motor vehicles. Because of manpower shortage resulting from the war in which the United States of America is now engaged, it is impossible to secure persons 18 years of age for employment as chauffeurs. It is essential, during the emergency created by the war, that disruption of essential transportation services be avoided by permitting the issuance of chauffeurs' licenses to persons under the conditions, and for the purposes, set forth in this act. In order to avoid such disruption of essential transportation services, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

Stats 1939, p 1274, amended

An act to amend Section 253 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to exemptions from taxes on property, and to provide that this act shall take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor May 26, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 26, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1939, p. 1274

SECTION 1. Section 253 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

Affidavit for veteran's exemption

253. If, because of active military service of the United States in time of war, sickness or other cause found to be unavoidable in the judgment of the assessor, an applicant for the veterans' exemption is unable to attend in person before the assessor, and no deputy is available to go to the place where he is located, then the applicant may make and subscribe the affidavit before any person authorized to administer an oath. If, during time of war, the applicant is in active military service of the United States or of any nation with which the United States is allied, or is outside of the continental limits of the United States, or if the person entitled to the exemption is insane or mentally incompetent, a member of his immediate family, his guardian, or legal representative, having personal knowledge of the facts required to be set forth, may appear before the assessor and may make and subscribe the affidavit on his behalf.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and, therefore, shall go into immediate effect. A statement of facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Due to the fact that the United States is now engaged in a war of world-wide proportions in which a large number of citizens of this State entitled to veterans' exemption are engaged in active military duty making it impossible for them to attend in person before an assessor or his deputy to claim such exemption, and due to the fact many of these persons are beyond the continental limits of the United States where it is difficult, if not impossible for them to exchange correspondence with assessors through which verified exemption claims may be forwarded to the assessors in time to comply with the requirements of law pertaining to the exemption of the veterans' property as of the first Monday in March of 1943, it is essential that some means be found to alleviate the great hardship which would result from the denial of these exemptions under such circumstances.

Upon the filing of any such notice, if requested so to do by the person filing such notice, it shall be the duty of the filing officer to deliver to or mail to such person a certificate under seal, certifying that such notice has been filed, giving the file number and date and hour of filing, and stating therein whether or not there is on file in his office on the date and hour of such filing any other presently effective uncanceled notice of assignment by the assignor named in the notice so filed and setting forth therein the names and addresses of the assignee or assignees named in any such presently effective uncanceled notice or notices then on file. assignee, or an affidavit by the assignee alone, setting out the information required by Section 3019, may be filed in like manner as the original filing. Any filing of such further notice or affidavit shall be effective in like manner and for a like period as an original filing. It shall be the duty of the filing officer to mark, file and index the further statement or affidavit in like manner as the original.

Cancellation of notice

3023. Any notice filed hereunder may be canceled by a certificate executed and acknowledged by the assignee reciting (1) the date of the notice, (2) the date of the filing thereof, (3) the names of the parties thereto, (4) and a statement that the same is canceled.

Certificate of satisfaction

3024. (a) If a notice filed pursuant to the provisions of this chapter contains a declaration that an account or accounts listed therein are to be assigned as collateral security for a specific obligation, then upon payment or satisfaction of such obligation, and upon written demand, delivered personally or by registered mail by the assignor, the assignee shall execute and acknowledge and deliver to the assignor a certificate reciting (1) the date of the notice, (2) the date of the filing thereof, (3) the names of the parties thereto, and (4) a statement that the obligation described in the notice has been paid or otherwise satisfied and discharged.

The rights of a person who purchases or takes a lien upon property so held in trust in good faith and for value without notice of the trust are superior to the rights of the assignee.

Furnishing information

3026. It shall be the duty of any assignee who has filed a presently effective and uncanceled assignment to furnish to any person such information relative to assignments of accounts as the assignor may in writing direct.

3027. The provisions of this chapter Exceptions

States is engaged, certain restrictions on activities of minor employees should be temporarily revised, either wholly or partly, such revision of restrictions to be in effect only as provided in Section 10 hereof.

War production permit

SEC. 3. The Governor may issue a war production permit permitting the employment of minor employees at or for such hours, and at such type of work, and under such conditions, as may be helpful in increasing production and furthering the war effort without unreasonably increasing the risk of impairing the health, education or safety of said minor employees, in view of the emergency. Such permit when issued shall remain in effect until revoked, modified or suspended under Section 6 hereof.

Permits to employers and minors

SEC. 4. The Governor may issue a permit authorizing the issuance of permits to work to minors and permits to work to employers who come within the provisions of Chapters 1 and 2 of Part 2 of Division 1 of the School Code or of Chapters 4 and 5 of Division 8 of the Education Code or any of said chapters, by any one or more of the boards, officers or other agencies or other persons authorized to issue permits to work or permits to employ, acting within their respective jurisdictions as fixed by the School Code or the Education Code, under such conditions as may be helpful in increasing production and furthering the war effort without unreasonably increasing the risk of impairing the health, education or safety of said minor employees, in view of the emergency. Such permit when issued shall remain in effect until revoked, modified or suspended under Section 6 hereof.

SEC. 7. All State departments shall continue to exercise their duties under the laws and rules to insure that the relaxation authorized by the permit does not adversely affect the health, education or safety of the minor employees involved.

Collective bargaining agreements

This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The war emergency requires that all facilities of production be utilized to the utmost and that restrictions upon the hours and conditions of work be relaxed to such an extent as may be compatible with the health and safety of the persons affected. This act provides a method whereby production can be increased under safeguards designed to afford full protection to all persons involved and its early effectiveness is necessary to the prosecution of the war effort.

Sec. 6. Said legislative body shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable in the following manner:

A part, to be determined by said legislative body and which shall not be less than one-twenty-fifth (1/25) part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year, on a day and date and at a place to be fixed by said legislative body and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid; provided, however, that the said legislative body may in its discretion determine and fix a date for the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds, not more than two (2) years from the date of the issue of such bonds, but in this event the whole amount of such indebtedness must be made payable in equal annual parts in not to exceed twenty-five (25) years from the time of contracting the same.

Form and provisions of bonds

The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as said legislative body may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars ($100), nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars ($1,000), and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of five (5) per centum per annum, and shall be paid semiannually; and said bonds shall be signed by the chairman of the said legislative body or by such other officer as the said legislative body shall, by resolution adopted by a four-fifths (4/5) vote of all of its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and also signed by the treasurer of said city, and shall be countersigned by the clerk thereof. All signatures on the bonds, except that of the clerk, may be lithographed. The interest coupons on said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the said treasurer by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

When proceeding under the provisions of this act, its provisions, and none other, need be followed. The said legislative body after the formation of such a district, instead of incurring an indebtedness of such district by issuing bonds of such district, may proceed in the manner hereinabove provided for a bond issue for the purpose of determining whether or not said legislative body shall levy an annual tax of not to exceed ten cents ($0.10) per one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation on all of the land in such district for the objects and purposes hereinabove enumerated, in which case, all proceedings, notices, protests, and requirements shall be the same as hereinabove provided for and preliminary to the issuance of bonds of said district.

If such charges and assessments become delinquent as provided in Section 3420 of this code, in addition to the information contained in the "Record of Assessments and Charges for the Petroleum and Gas Fund" as herein provided, the department shall furnish to the State Controller upon his request the name and address of any owner of property assessed as such name and address last appears in the office of the tax assessor for county in which such land or a major portion thereof is situate.

SEC. 2. Section 3423 of the Public Resources Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1939, p. 1067

3423. The assessment and charges levied under this article are a lien upon all the property of every kind and nature belonging to the persons assessed. The assessments and charges levied upon oil or gas removed from any land in this State are a lien upon the land from which the oil or gas has been extracted. The lien shall attach on the first Monday in March of each year. The lien may be enforced and the charges collected by an action by the State Controller as provided by this article. Lien

When an assessment shall have been levied, but shall not have been paid prior to the first Monday in February following such levy, if the certificate of delinquency is to be recorded as hereinafter provided, the Controller shall, within fifteen (15) days thereafter, mail a notice to the owner of the land at his last known address as it appears in the office of the county assessor for the county in which the land is situate, or if no address appears in the office of the county assessor, then to the last address of the owner of the land as last shown on the records of the said county assessor. The notice shall contain a statement of the amount of the assessment, the date upon which the assessment was levied, the fact that the records of the Controller show the assessment to be unpaid, and shall declare that unless the assessment is paid before the first Monday in March following, the lien provided for in this section will attach. Delinquent notice

When any person assessed shall be delinquent in the payment of the charges, interest or penalties as herein provided, the Controller may, on or before the thirtieth day of May next following the delinquency, file a certificate with the county recorder of the county in which the oil or gas was extracted, specifying the amount of the charges, interest and penalty due, the name and address of the assessee liable for the same, as it appears from his records, the name and address of the assessed owner of the land from which the oil or gas was extracted, together with its description, as it appears on the records of the county tax collector in which the property is located, that there has been compliance with all the provisions of law in Filing of certificate relation to the computation and assessment of the charges.

Effect of filing

Upon filing said certificate the amount of the lien as above provided is determined and shall have the same force, effect and priority as a judgment lien upon the land from which the oil or gas is extracted.

Warrant and sale

A warrant may be issued by the State Controller or his duly authorized representative for the collection of any charges, interest and penalty and for the enforcement of any lien directed to the sheriff or constable, and shall have the same effect as a writ of execution. It may and shall be levied and sale made pursuant to it in the same manner and with the same effect as a levy upon and sale of real property pursuant to a writ of execution.

Redemption

Notwithstanding any provisions of law to the contrary, the owner of said land may redeem from any execution sale within a period of three years upon payment of interest, penalties and charges as provided in the case of other sales of real property under execution.

Fees and expenses

The sheriff or constable shall receive, upon the completion of his services pursuant to a warrant, and the Controller is authorized to pay to him the same fees and commissions and expenses in connection with services pursuant to said warrant as are provided by law for similar services pursuant to a writ of execution; provided, that fees for publication in a newspaper shall be subject to approval by the Controller rather than by the court; said fees, commissions and expenses shall be an obligation of the person or persons liable for the payment of said charges and may be collected from such person or persons by virtue of the warrant or in any other manner provided in this article for the collection of such charges.

Release from lien

In the event that the lien of the charges, penalties or interest attaches to real property from which the oil or gas is extracted and more than one parcel of property is included within the lien, the Controller may release by certificate as hereinabove provided from the lien of said charges, interest, penalties and costs, upon payment by the owner of any parcel or parcels of property of his proportionate share of the assessment of the oil or gas extracted from all land included within said lien owned by him.

The Controller may at any time release all or any portion of the property subject to the lien from the lien or subordinate the lien to other liens if he determines that the charges are sufficiently secured by a lien on other property of the taxpayer or that the release or subordination of the lien will not endanger or jeopardize the collection of such charges. A certificate by the Controller to the effect that any property has been released from the lien herein provided for or that such lien has been subordinated to other liens shall be conclusive evidence that the property has been released or that the lien has been subordinated as provided in the certificate.

Remedies cumulative

It is expressly provided that the remedies provided herein of the State shall be cumulative and that no action by the Controller shall be construed to be an election on the part of the State, or of any of its officers, to pursue any remedy hereunder to the exclusion of any other remedy for which provision is made in this article.

Director of Finance Duties

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the State Director of Finance, and he is hereby empowered to:

(a) Prescribe the form of application to be filed by a local agency for aid for civilian defense purposes. No aid may be given by the State to a local agency until such application has been filed by such agency with the State Director of Finance.

(b) Administer the appropriation hereinafter made and to prescribe the terms and conditions upon which aid shall be allocated therefrom by the State to local agencies for civilian defense purposes; provided, that none of the moneys hereby appropriated shall be expended, allotted, encumbered, or become available for expenditure until moneys equal to or in excess of the amount to be expended from this appropriation shall have been made available by a person, firm, association, corporation, political subdivision, public district, municipality, county or public agency, including agencies of local and Federal Government, but excluding agencies which are a part of the executive department of the State Government, for expenditure for like purposes for which allocations have been made from this appropriation, to the end that any sums expended from this appropriation shall be matched by like or greater amounts from sources other than the State treasury or fund of any agency which is a part of the executive department of the State Government.

(c) Prescribe, amend, modify or rescind such rules and regulations as he may determine to be necessary or convenient to carry out the provisions of this act, and to secure the application of the money allocated to the purpose for which it was made.

Allocation approval

SEC. 4. No moneys may be allocated or facilities provided to any local agency from the appropriation hereinafter made by the State Director of Finance without the written approval of the State Director of Civilian Defense, obtained in advance.

Appropriation

SEC. 5. There is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of two and a half million dollars ($2,500,000) or so much thereof as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Such funds may be expended without regard to fiscal years and only for civilian defense purposes. There shall first be appropriated from this appropriation for the use of the Department of Finance such amount as the Director of Finance shall determine is necessary for administration of the provisions of this act, the total of which amount shall in no event exceed 1 per cent of the total appropriation herein made.

Urgency

SEC. 6. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

At the present time throughout the State persons and property are subject to incalculable injury and damage from war, military, naval or air attack, or from sabotage. Civilian defense is not a purely local problem. It is a joint responsibility of Federal, State and local government, and each must play its part and shoulder its responsibility. Where local agencies have performed or are performing more than municipal functions for civilian defense purposes the State should provide financial assistance to these local agencies. It is necessary that this act go into effect immediately in order that, to the extent of its interest, the State may assist local agencies for civilian defense purposes.

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 27, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 22.5 is added to the Fish and Game Code, to read:

22.5. The commission may:

Insurance for employees and vessels

(a) Procure insurance for its employees against special hazards in connection with their duties occasioned by the existence of a state of war, in addition to workmen's compensation insurance.

(b) Procure insurance for its employees against injury or death in the course of performance of their duties arising from airplane accidents.

(c) Procure insurance on vessels owned or operated by the commission against special hazards occasioned by the existence of a state of war, in addition to usual hazards.

Urgency

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

War conditions have increased the dangers and hazards attendant upon off-shore patrolling by employees of the Fish and Game Commission, in the performance of their duties, and the risk of loss of vessels owned or operated by the Fish and Game Commission. It is necessary to assure to the employees of the commission engaged in such work that they and their families will be protected as far as possible against these increased risks in order to retain and secure employees for such work. In addition, with the present shortage of shipping the value of vessels used by the commission and of replacement vessels, if obtainable, has increased so greatly as to make it expedient to insure against such possible increased loss.

An act to add Section 8821.1 to the Education Code, relating to admission of students to junior colleges, declaring the urgency hereof, to take effect immediately.

Stats 1943, Ch 71, amended

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1943.]

In effect immediately

Note.—See Stats. 1943, Ch. 71.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Urgency

The demands of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged require the services and facilities of the public junior colleges to be fully utilized to prepare qualified persons for their part in the successful prosecution of the war. The existing restrictions on the admission of persons to public junior colleges prevent a direct and effective contribution from being made to the war effort. In order that the public junior colleges may be permitted to immediately make a greater contribution to the winning of the war, than they are now allowed to make, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Stats 1931, p 587, amended

An act to amend Section 2261 of the Civil Code, Section 105 of the Bank Act, and Section 584 of the Probate Code, relating to the investment of funds.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

1872 Code

SECTION 1. Section 2261 of the Civil Code is amended to read as follows:

Standard of care by trustees

2261. (1) In investing, reinvesting, purchasing, acquiring, exchanging, selling and managing property for the benefit of another, a trustee shall exercise the judgment and care, under the circumstances then prevailing, which men of prudence, discretion and intelligence exercise in the management of their own affairs, not in regard to speculation, but in regard to the permanent disposition of their funds, considering the probable income, as well as the probable safety of their capital. Within the limitations of the foregoing standard, and subject to any express provisions or limitations contained in any particular trust instrument, a trustee is authorized to acquire every kind of property, real, personal or mixed, and every kind of investment, specifically including, but not by way of limitation, corporate obligations of every kind, and stocks, preferred or common, which men of prudence, discretion and intelligence acquire for their own account.

Retention of property

(2) In the absence of express provisions to the contrary in the trust instrument, a trustee may continue to hold property received into a trust at its inception or subsequently added to it or acquired pursuant to proper authority if and as long as the trustee, in the exercise of good faith and of reasonable prudence, discretion and intelligence, may consider that retention is in the best interests of the trust.

(3) In the absence of express provisions to the contrary in the trust instrument, a deposit of trust funds at interest in any savings bank or the savings department of any bank (including the savings department of the trustee, if a bank) shall be a qualified investment to the extent that such deposit is insured under any present or future law of the United States, or to such greater extent as a court of competent jurisdiction may authorize. Nothing in this section shall be construed as limiting the right of trustees in proper cases to make deposits of trust moneys in banks, subject, in the case of interest-bearing deposits, to such notice or other conditions respecting withdrawal as may be prescribed by law or governmental regulation affecting such deposits. Deposit in bank

(4) Nothing in this section shall abrogate or restrict the power of the appropriate court in proper cases to direct or permit the trustee to deviate from the terms of the trust regarding the making or retention of investments. Deviation from terms of trust

(5) The provisions of this section shall apply to all trusts now existing or hereafter created. Where, in trusts now existing or hereafter created, the term "investments permissible by law for investment of trust funds," or "authorized by law for investment of trust funds," "legal investments," or "authorized investments," or other words of similar import are used in defining the powers of the trustee relative to investments, such language, in the absence of other controlling or modifying provisions of the trust instrument, shall be construed as authorizing any investment permitted by the terms of subdivision (1) of this section. Application of section

SEC. 2. Section 105 of the Bank Act is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats. 1941, p. 2332

Sec. 105. Except as otherwise provided by law, every trust company shall invest its capital and surplus, in accordance with the provisions of this act relative to the investment or loan of funds deposited with savings banks. Trust funds received by any trust company in connection with its trust business shall be invested as provided in the Civil Code. Trust companies' investments

Any trust company holding funds awaiting investment or distribution may deposit such funds with the savings department or the commercial department of any State or National bank which has been designated as a depositary by the Superintendent of Banks, or in which such deposit will be fully insured under the provisions of any law of the United States, and any trust department of any bank doing a departmental business may deposit such funds so held by it with the savings department or the commercial department of the same corporation or association; provided, however, that no such funds so held awaiting investment or distribution shall be deposited by any trust department of a departmental bank with the savings department or the commercial department of the same Deposit in banks corporation or association or of any corporation or association holding or owning a majority of the capital stock of the trust company making such deposit unless such corporation or association shall first set aside, as security for such deposit, bonds or securities of the kind in which savings banks are permitted to invest and which bonds or securities so set aside shall have a value of not less than the funds so deposited; provided, that no security shall be required in case of any such part of any such deposits as is insured under the provisions of any law of the United States.

Any trust company when acting as executor, administrator, guardian, or testamentary trustee, or trustee under a private trust, unless the instrument creating such trust contains a provision to the contrary, may cause any stock or other securities held in any such capacity to be registered in the name of a nominee or nominees of such trust company. Any such trust company shall be liable for any loss occasioned by the acts of any nominee of such trust company with respect to such stock or other securities so registered. The records of such trust company shall at all times show the ownership of any such stock or other securities. The Retirement Board by rule may provide that members employed on a part time or substitute basis shall not be required to contribute under said paragraph for months during which they serve less time than that required for credit for service of one month, as fixed by the Retirement Board. Contributions

Contributions required by the paragraph immediately preceding, shall be made as service is rendered, being deducted, in the manner prescribed in Section 5.852 hereof, from each salary payment in an amount determined by dividing twenty-four dollars ($24) by the number of salary payments normally to be made throughout the entire school year to members who are in service, without interruption. The Retirement Board by rule may modify the method, described in the sentence next preceding, of determining the amount of contributions to be deducted from each salary payment, if a member be employed on a substitute or part time basis, or if the service of a member be interrupted by absence without compensation. Salary deductions

Any person to whom service rendered outside of the State after January 1, 1914, shall be credited and any person who has claimed exemption from the provisions of the Retirement System or its predecessor or who was a member of the State Employees' Retirement System while serving in a status requisite for membership in this Retirement System or its predecessor, and who later becomes subject to its provisions, shall be required to pay, in addition to the twenty-four dollars ($24) for each year of credited service rendered outside the State or while so exempt or while a member of said other system, interest at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on the amount which would have been contributed had such person been a member of the Retirement System when such service was rendered, said interest to begin on the first day of July next following the end of the school year in which said service was rendered, and to end upon the date of retirement; provided, that contributions for years prior to July 1, 1935, shall carry interest on only twelve dollars ($12) per year. Interest payments

Every person heretofore or hereafter retired who at the time of retirement was not or shall not be credited with twenty-four dollars ($24) as a contribution to the Permanent Fund for each year of service credited to such person, not to include over 30 years of service rendered prior to July 1, 1935, shall pay to the Retirement System such additional amount as is necessary to bring the contributions credited to such person up to twenty-four dollars ($24) for each year of such credited Additional payments service, but not to include over 30 years of service rendered prior to July 1, 1935. Said additional amount or the balance of it remaining unpaid at any time, may be paid in one sum by said person or in installments as a deduction, at the rate of five dollars ($5) per month, from the retirement allowance payable, if said person was retired with 30 or more years of service, or at the rate of four dollars ($4) per month if said person was retired with less than 30 years of service; provided, that until that part of the contributions in arrears, including interest, which is due from persons hereafter retired, because of exemption from the provisions of the Retirement System or its predecessor or to service outside the State, is paid, such monthly installments shall be fifteen dollars ($15) and twelve dollars ($12), respectively.

SEC. 3. Section 5.851 of the School Code is amended to read:

Contributions to Annuity Deposit Fund

5.851. Each person who has or shall become a member of the Retirement System on or after July 1, 1935, and who shall not be required as a condition of employment, to contribute to a local fund, shall be required to contribute to the Annuity Deposit Fund, 4 per cent of each salary payment received by him, less the contribution required as a deduction from said salary payment for the Permanent Fund.

Optional contribution

Each person who was required to contribute, even though no contributions were made, to the Public School Teachers' Permanent Fund, now existing, on or before June 30, 1935, and any member who is required as a condition of employment to contribute to a local fund, may at his option elect to contribute 4 per cent of each salary payment received by him less the contribution required as a deduction from said salary payment for the Permanent Fund. Likewise any member who contributes to the Annuity Deposit Fund at the rate heretofore provided in this section, may at his option elect to contribute to such fund, an additional percentage of each salary payment received by him, his total annuity deposit then being said additional percentage plus said 4 per cent of said salary payment, less the contribution required as a deduction therefrom for the Permanent Fund. A member may at his option elect to cease contributing said additional percentage.

Election to cease contributing

Any member who shall make contributions under this section while employed in a status which is not subject to a local fund, and who thereafter is employed by a local district which, as a condition of employment, requires contributions to a local fund, may elect to cease contributing under this section, even though said member is excluded from said local fund, and accumulated annuity deposits standing to the credit of his individual account, because of service upon the basis of which he will receive a benefit from said local fund, shall be refunded to him upon his request filed with the Retirement Board within two years after he becomes a member of said local fund, or two years after September 1, 1939, whichever shall be the later date, but, otherwise, accumulated annuity deposits standing to the credit of his individual account shall remain so credited and shall not be refunded except as provided elsewhere herein

Any election under this section shall be by written notice to the Retirement Board, consenting and agreeing to the deduction and stating the month with which said deduction shall commence, and an election to contribute 4 per cent shall be irrevocable. Said month shall be any month from September, 1935, to June, 1937, inclusive, with which the deduction began, but otherwise it shall not be earlier than the month next following the month in which the written notice is executed, and if no month be entered in said notice, or if the month entered be earlier than the month next following said month of execution, the member shall be considered as having stated that the deduction shall commence with the month next following said execution.

Salary deductions

Contributions required of a person to the Annuity Deposit Fund shall be deducted from each salary payment in the manner prescribed in Section 5.852 hereof. Notwithstanding the provisions of the two paragraphs immediately preceding, annuity deposit contributions shall not be deducted from salary payments to any member employed as a part time or substitute employee, from which Permanent Fund contributions are not deducted by provisions of this chapter or by rule of the board. Every person accepting employment who is required to contribute under this section, shall be deemed to consent and agree to the deduction of the annuity deposits from his salary payments as provided herein.

Notwithstanding any other law, rule or regulation affecting the salary, pay, compensation, other prerequisites or tenure of any person to whom this chapter applies or shall apply and notwithstanding that the minimum salary, pay, compensation or other prerequisites, provided by law for such person shall be reduced thereby, payment less the contributions required by this section and by Section 5.850 shall be in full and complete discharge and acquittance of all claims and demands whatsoever for service rendered by such teacher during the period covered by such payment, except his claim to benefits to which he may be entitled under the provisions hereof.

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Urgency

Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Under existing provisions of law a large number of persons employed by school districts as instructors in defense training classes or in war production training classes will become permanent employees of school districts if not dismissed from the service of such districts at the close of the then current school year. Inasmuch as most, if not all, of such classes will, in all probability, be discontinued at the conclusion of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged and many of such instructors will then have to be dismissed, it is desirable that they not be given the status of permanent employees of school districts. In order that governing boards of school districts be not required to dismiss many of such instructors at the close of the current school year in order to avoid their becoming permanent employees of such districts, it is necessary that this act take immediate effect.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 5.798-1 is added to the School Code, to read:

Merger of successive eligibility lists

5.798-1. Combinations of successive eligibility lists during their first year may be made whenever dearth of available eligibles makes such combinations desirable. Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

As a direct result of the war in which we are engaged California schools are losing a large and increasing number of officers and employees, particularly in the noncertificated field; there is a sharp and substantial decrease in the number of persons applying to take classified examinations and a marked increase in the number of persons on eligibility lists who decline appointments or fail to report when certified; that in many cases eligibility lists are exhausted immediately after their establishment; that it is now difficult and frequently impossible to establish eligibility lists within 90 days after temporary appointments are made, as prescribed in Section 5.798 of the School Code, and that therefore, essential services rendered by the departments of the school administration are now and will be interrupted or impaired, and, in some cases, will be discontinued if temporary appointments are not permitted to continue for more than 90 days; that continued and continuous rendition of essential services of these schools is essential to the health, welfare and safety of the inhabitants of California school districts, and is of vital importance to a successful local and National defense; that, therefore, this law is enacted for the purpose of providing for all essential services in order that the school administration may function as nearly normally as may be.

Provisions of marketing order

(b) Subject to the legislative restrictions and limitations set forth herein any marketing order issued by the director pursuant to this chapter may contain any or all of the following provisions for regulating or providing methods for regulating producer marketing or the handling or any of the operations of processing or distributing by handlers of any agricultural commodity within this State, but no others:

(1) Provisions for determining the existence and extent of the surplus of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, and providing for the control and disposition of such surplus, and for equalizing the burden of such surplus elimination or control among the producers, processors, distributors or other handlers affected.

Limitations on quantity to be marketed

(2) Provisions for limiting the total quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which may be marketed by producers, processed, distributed or otherwise handled in intrastate commerce, during any specified period or periods, by any and all persons engaged in such producer marketing, processing, distributing or handling; provided, that any such limitation shall be applied under a uniform rule applicable to all such persons so regulated. The total quantity of any such commodity so regulated and permitted to be marketed by producers, processed, distributed or otherwise handled, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is reasonably necessary to supply the market demands of consumers of such commodity.

Allotment of quantity acquired from producer

(3) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may purchase or acquire from, or handle on behalf of, any and all producers thereof, in intrastate commerce, during any specified period or periods under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated based upon the amounts produced or sold by such producers in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or upon the current season's production or sales of such producers, or both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, so purchased or handled in intrastate commerce shall be apportioned equitably among the producers thereof.

Allotment for quantity handled

(4) Provisions for allotting the quantity of any agricultural commodity, or of any grade, size or quality thereof, which each handler may process, distribute or handle in intrastate commerce under a uniform rule, applicable to all handlers so regulated, based upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof of the current season's crop which each such handler has available for such processing, distribution or handling, or upon the quantities of such commodity or of any grade, size or quality thereof so processed, distributed or handled by each such handler in a prior period which the director finds to be representative, or based upon both, to the end that the total quantity of such commodity or any grade, size or quality thereof, processed, distributed or handled in intrastate commerce during any specified period or periods shall be equitably apportioned among all such handlers thereof.

Period for handling or marketing

(5) Provisions regulating the period, or periods, during which any agricultural commodity, or any grade, size or quality of such commodity, may be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed within this State by any and all persons engaged in such processing, distributing or marketing within this State; provided, that the total quantity of such commodity so regulated and permitted to be processed, distributed or otherwise marketed during such period or periods, shall not be less than the quantity which the director finds is necessary to reasonably supply the needs of consumers of such commodity.

Such grading standards for any such commodity shall not be established below any minimum standards now prescribed by law for such commodity.

Advertising

(8) Provisions for the establishment of plans for advertising and sales promotion to create new or larger markets for agricultural commodities grown in the State of California. The director is hereby authorized to prepare, issue, administer and enforce plans for promoting the sale of any agricultural commodity.

Provided, that any such plan shall be directed toward increasing the sale of such commodity without reference to a particular brand or trade name, and

Provided, further, that no advertising or sales promotion program shall be issued by the director which shall make use of false or unwarranted claims in behalf of any such product, or disparage the quality, value, sale or use of any other agricultural commodity.

Unfair trade practices

(9) Provisions relating to the prohibition of unfair trade practices. In addition to the unfair trade practices, now prohibited by law, applicable to the processing, distribution or handling of agricultural commodities within this State, the director is hereby authorized to include in any marketing order issued hereunder provisions designed to correct any trade practice affecting the processing, distributing or handling of any agricultural commodity within this State which the director finds, after a hearing thereupon in which all interested persons are given an opportunity to be heard, is unfair and detrimental to the effectuation of the declared purposes of this act.

Production adjustment benefits

(10) Provisions for the application for, review, certification and equitable payment of, production adjustment benefits to growers from funds collected for such purpose on a uniform basis from all commercial growers of any agricultural commodity in the State, for which production adjustment payments are made. Such funds may be supplemented by funds, if any, received from Federal, State or other agencies for such purpose.

No program of production adjustment adopted hereunder shall authorize payments for the removal of acreages of trees or vines of the species, variety or varieties specified in the program which have, during the three years immediately preceding the date of application, produced an annual yield per acre in excess of the comparably computed average yield from bearing trees or vines of the same species, variety or varieties for the State as a whole, such yields and averages to be determined by the director from statistical data compiled by State or Federal agencies or such other data as the director deems to be representative and reliable.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1939, p 2840

SECTION 1. Section 1526 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

County aid

1526. Except as provided in Sections 1512 and 1557, and subdivision (d) of Section 1526, no county is required to pay aid under this chapter for a child unless the child has had residence in the county in which application is made for the period of one year immediately preceding the date of application.

County residence

For the purposes of this chapter, the county residence of the child shall not be lost until another is gained and shall be determined in accordance with the following rules:

(a) The residence of the father determines that of the child during the lifetime of the father, unless the father has abandoned the child, has been legally deprived of his custody, or is in fact living separate and apart from the mother of the child; in the latter case the residence of the child is determined by the residence of the parent who has his custody.

(b) If the child's residence is not determined under subdivision (a) hereof, then the residence of the mother determines that of the child during the lifetime of the mother, unless the mother has abandoned the child or has been legally deprived of his custody. The residence of the husband shall not be deemed the residence of the wife if they are living separate and apart and in such case each may have a separate residence dependent upon proof of the fact and not upon legal presumptions. The residence of the parent having custody of the child determines his residence.

(c) If the residence of the child is not determined under subdivisions (a) and (b) hereof, then the residence of any individual who has been appointed legal guardian determines the residence of the child; if the child is a ward of the juvenile court, the county in which the court is located shall be considered the residence of the child.

(d) The residence of a foundling shall be deemed to be that of the county in which the child is found.

(e) If the residence of the child is not determined under subdivisions (a), (b), (c), or (d) hereof, and the child has been placed in an institution or boarding home by a public agency, the county in which the child has residence at the time of such placement shall be considered the residence of the child until his residence can be determined under subdivisions (a), (b), or (c) of this section.

(f) If the residence of the child is not determined under (a), (b), (c), (d), or (e) hereof, the county in which the child is living shall be deemed the county of residence, if and when the child has had a physical presence in the county for one year. The county may accept an application in the case of a child living with a relative who does not have legal custody or the county, itself, shall file an application for aid on behalf of the child and also be responsible for its share of the child's support. This subdivision does not apply to a child for whom an application is made under Section 1557.

An act to add Section 6726.1 to, and to amend Section 6727 of, the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to payment for family care and other needs of patients on parole from State hospitals, and declaring the urgency thereof. Stats 1937, p 1005, amended

[Approved by Governor May 28, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 28, 1943.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6726.1 is hereby added to the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read as follows: New section

6726.1. The department may pay any private home, licensed by the department for the care of patients paroled from State hospitals, for the care of any patient paroled to its custody at a rate to be approved by the Department of Finance but not Payment for private home patients exceeding thirty-five dollars ($35) per month during the time such patient shall remain on parole to such private home.

Duration

This section shall remain in effect until the ninety-first day after the final adjournment of the Fifty-sixth Regular Session of the Legislature or until the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, whichever first occurs. Existing law

Stats 1937, p 1005

SEC. 2. Section 6727 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

Clothing and money on discharge

6727. No patient or inmate shall be discharged or paroled from a State hospital without suitable clothing adapted to the season in which he is discharged; and, if it can not otherwise be obtained, the superintendent, under general conditions prescribed by the Department of Institutions, shall furnish the same and money, not exceeding twenty-five dollars ($25), to defray the necessary expenses of such paroled or discharged patient until he can reach his relatives or friends, or find employment to earn a subsistence.

Payments to parolees

The superintendent may, under general conditions prescribed by the Department of Institutions, furnish to patients while on parole such incidental moneys, supplies or services as are necessary and advisable in the care, supervision and rehabilitation of such paroled patients. Payments therefor shall be made from funds available for support of patients in the State hospital or hospitals from which such patients have been paroled.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such shall go into immediate effect.

The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity:

The increased cost of living as produced by the war conditions has affected the program of paroling patients to private homes to an alarming degree; the rate of twenty-five dollars ($25) per month is entirely inadequate to induce private caretakers to care for paroled patients. The increased demands upon the State hospitals in these times of stress, makes it imperative that the program of paroling patients be continued in view of the impossibility of obtaining additional equipment or building new facilities during the war emergency. It is, therefore, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health and safety that the paroled patients be placed in such private homes, and that the incidental needs involved in their care, supervision, and rehabilitation, be provided for during this period of emergency and stress.

Article 18. Multiple Insurer Operations

Application of article

1110. This article does not apply to combination automobile insurance policies in which one insurer issues a policy covering certain classes of insurance on a risk, and another insurer covers certain other classes of insurance on the same risk. This article applies to:

(a) The issuance of a policy in which more than one insurer indemnifies the insured severally, jointly, or jointly and severally with other insurers for all or a specified portion of a risk.

(b) The issuance of a policy which is subject to an automatic reinsurance agreement under which several insurers participate with the insurer or insurers issuing the policy to the same extent as though they were primary insurers, and the contract is negotiated upon the basis of such reinsurance and the policy makes reference to the fact of such reinsurance.

Statement of plan

1111. Insurers desiring to issue policies to which this article is applicable, and to pay commissions to persons who are licensed as insurance agents, but not as agents for all insurers participating in the risk, and who are not licensed as insurance brokers, may file with the commissioner in such form as he may require, a statement of the plan under which they intend to operate, and a list of the insurers that will operate under the plan.

If the commissioner finds that the nature of the plan is not such that the interests of the insuring public will be jeopardized by permitting an agent of one or more of the insurers to act in a transaction with or for all the insurers, or for the particular insurer paying the commission without being licensed as agent for such insurer or as an insurance broker, he may issue a permit authorizing the operation of the plan by or on behalf of the insurers listed in the application, and the payment of commissions pursuant to the plan as approved by the commissioner shall be lawful.

Notice of change in plan

1112. Within 10 days after the withdrawal of an insurer from the plan or from the time additional insurers participate in the plan, notice of the change shall be given the commissioner in writing, and unless such notice is so given, the permit theretofore issued by the commissioner shall expire on the tenth day after such change. Unless the permit expires as provided in the preceding sentence, it shall remain in force continuously unless the commissioner after hearing finds that the insurers have deviated materially from the plan, and that it is against public interest to continue its operation.

1113. For filing application for a permit issued pursuant to this article, the commissioner shall charge and collect the sum of twenty-five dollars ($25). Fee

(h) The paying by any life insurer, or the receiving by life insurance policyholders of special compensations, or the allowing and receiving of credits already agreed upon in life insurance contracts now in force.

(i) The payment by an insurer of any portion of life insurance premiums payable by its employees pursuant to a life insurance program under which 75 per cent or more of its employees are required to carry life insurance on their lives so long as they remain in the employment of insurer.

This act is therefore necessary in order that the people may comply with such military orders and proclamations without the danger of civil liability for violation of State and local laws or ordinances.

peace, health and safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

The prescribed courses in optometry have been intensified and shortened in furtherance of the war effort, resulting in students being ready to be graduated before they are 21. It is in the interest of the people of the State that those being graduated be examined by the board immediately so that when they become 21, they may be issued their certificate or registration and sooner fill the present shortage of qualified optometrists. In addition, many of the students who are under 21 and have completed their courses will be inducted in the armed forces, and unless permitted to qualify now, may be under a great handicap when they return from military service.

An act to amend Section 226 of the Civil Code, relating to the adoption of children.

In effect August 4, 1943

[Approved by Governor May 31, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 31, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats 1943, Ch 283

SECTION 1. Section 226 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

Adoption Petition

226. Any person desiring to adopt a child may for that purpose petition the superior court of the county in which the petitioner resides and the clerk of the court shall immediately notify the State Department of Social Welfare at

Consent

Sacramento in writing of the pendency of the action. In all cases in which consent is required, except in the case of an adoption by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, unless a society licensed by the State Department of Social Welfare to find homes for children and place children in homes for adoption joins in the petition for adoption, the consent of the natural parent or parents for the adoption must be signed in the presence of an agent of the State Department of Social Welfare on a form prescribed by such department and filed with the clerk of the superior court, in the county of the petitioner's residence.

Effect of consent

Such consent, when reciting that the person giving it is entitled to the sole custody of the minor child, shall, when duly acknowledged before such agent, be prima facie evidence of the right of the person making it to the sole custody of the child and such person's sole right to consent.

Duty of Department of Social Welfare

In all cases of adoption in which no agency licensed to place children for adoption is a party, except in the case of an adoption by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the said child, it shall be the duty of the Department of Social Welfare to ascertain whether the child is a proper subject for adoption and whether the proposed home is suitable for the child, prior to accepting the consent of a natural parent to the adoption of the child by the petitioner.

In all cases in which the consent of the natural parent or parents is not necessary and a society licensed to place children for adoption is not a party to the petition, the State Department of Social Welfare shall, prior to the hearing of the petition, file its consent to the adoption with the clerk of the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed. Such consent shall not be given by the Department of Social Welfare unless the child's welfare will be promoted by the adoption.

Report

Except in the case of the adoption of a child by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of the child, it shall be the duty of the Department of Social Welfare to submit to the court a full report of the facts disclosed by its inquiry with a recommendation regarding the granting of the petition within 180 days after the filing of the petition; provided, however, that the court may allow such additional time for the filing of said report as in its discretion it may see fit. The report required of the Department of Social Welfare may be waived by the department in all cases in which a society, licensed by the Department of Social Welfare to place children in homes for adoption, is a party or joins in the petition for adoption. Such waiver may be issued by the department at any time, either before or after the filing of the petition for adoption. Waiver

Whenever any report or findings are submitted to the court by the Department of Social Welfare under any provision of this section, a copy of such report or findings, whether favorable or unfavorable, shall be given to the attorney for the petitioner in the proceedings, if the petitioner has an attorney of record, or to the petitioner.

In case of an adoption of a child by a step-parent where one natural parent retains his or her custody and control of said child, the consent of either or both parents must be signed in the presence of a county clerk or probation officer of any county of this State on a form prescribed by the State Department of Social Welfare and the county clerk or probation officer before whom such consent is signed shall immediately file said consent with the clerk of the superior court of the county where the petition is filed and said clerk shall immediately file a certified copy of such consent to adoption with the State Department of Social Welfare. Adoption by step-parent

If the father or mother of a child to be adopted resides outside the State of California, his or her consent may be signed before a notary and in such case the consent of the Department of Social Welfare will also be necessary. Consent of nonresident parent

A parent who is a minor shall have the right to sign a consent for the adoption of his or her child and such consent shall not be subject to revocation upon such parent reaching his or her majority. Minor parent

If for a period of 180 days from the date of filing the petition, or upon the expiration of any extension of said period granted by the court, the Department of Social Welfare fails or refuses to accept the consent of the natural parent or parents to the adoption, or if said department fails or refuses to file or to give its consent to an adoption in those cases where its consent is required by this chapter, either the natural parent or parents or the petitioner may appeal from such failure or refusal to the superior court of the county in which the petition is filed, in which event the clerk shall immediately notify the Department of Social Welfare of such appeal and the department shall within 10 days file a report of its findings and the reasons for its failure or refusal to consent to the Appeal adoption or to accept the consent of the natural parent. After the filing of said findings, the court may, if it deems that the welfare of the child will be promoted by said adoption, allow the signing of the consent by the natural parent or parents in open court, or if the appeal be from the refusal of said department to consent thereto, grant the petition without such consent.

CHAPTER 10. CIVILIAN DEFENSE WORKERS

Article 1. General

Compensation for injuries

4301. Except as provided in this chapter, a civilian defense worker and his dependents shall have no right to receive compensation from the State, from the civilian defense organization with which he is registered, or from the county or city which has empowered the civilian defense organization to register him and direct his activities, for an injury arising out of and occurring in the course of his activities as a civilian defense worker.

Exclusive remedy

4302. Compensation provided by this division, as limited by the provisions of this chapter, is the exclusive remedy of a civilian defense worker, or his dependents, for injury or death arising out of and in the course of his activities as a civilian defense worker as against the State, the civilian defense organization with which he is registered, and the county or city which has empowered the civilian defense organization to register him and direct his activities. Liability for the compensation provided by this division, as limited by the provisions of this chapter, is in lieu of any other liability whatsoever to a civilian defense worker or his dependents or any other person on the part of the State, the civilian defense organization with which the civilian defense worker is registered, and the county or city which has empowered the civilian defense organization to register him and direct his activities, for injury or death arising out of and in the course of his activities as a civilian defense worker. Exclusive liability

4303. Compensation shall be furnished to a civilian defense worker for any injury arising out of and occurring in the course of his activities as a civilian defense worker, and for the death of any such worker if the injury proximately causes death, in those cases where the following conditions concur: Compensation conditions

(a) Where, at the time of the injury the civilian defense worker is performing services as a civilian defense worker, and is acting within the course of his duties as a civilian defense worker.

(b) Where, at the time of the injury the civilian defense organization with which the civilian defense worker is registered is an accredited civilian defense organization.

(c) Where the injury is proximately caused by his service as a civilian defense worker, either with or without negligence.

(d) Where the injury is not caused by the intoxication of the injured worker.

(e) Where the injury is not intentionally self-inflicted.

4304. No compensation shall be paid or furnished to civilian defense workers or their dependents pursuant to the provisions of this division except from money appropriated for the purpose of furnishing compensation to civilian defense workers and their dependents. Liability for the payment or furnishing of compensation is dependent upon and limited to the availability of money so appropriated. Compensation from appropriated moneys only

After all money so appropriated is expended or set aside in bookkeeping reserves for the payment or furnishing of compensation and reimbursing the State Compensation Insurance Fund for its services, the payment or furnishing of compensation for an injury to a civilian defense worker or his dependents is dependent upon there having been a reserve set up for the payment or furnishing of compensation to that civilian defense worker or his dependents and for that injury, and liability is limited to the amount of the reserve. The excess in a reserve for the payment or furnishing of compensation or for reimbursing the State Compensation Insurance Fund for its services may be transferred to reserves of other civilian defense workers for the payment or furnishing of compensation and reimbursing the State Compensation Insurance Fund, Reserve or may be used to set up reserves for other civilian defense workers.

Provisions applicable

4305. Insofar as not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter, all of the provisions of this division shall apply to civilian defense workers and their dependents, and to furnishing of compensation to them. "Employee," as used in this division, shall include civilian defense worker when liability for the furnishing of compensation exists pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and as limited by the provisions of this chapter.

"Employee"

Article 2. Benefits

Limited compensation

4311. Where liability for compensation exists, such compensation shall be provided as limited by this chapter.

Medical, surgical and hospital treatment

4312. The aggregate payment for the cost of medical, surgical, and hospital treatment provided a civilian defense worker shall not exceed two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) for any one injury.

Temporary total disability

4313. The weekly benefit for civilian defense workers is twenty dollars ($20) in all cases of temporary total disability except where 65 per cent of the average weekly earnings of the civilian defense worker as computed upon the basis of his average income from all sources during the year immediately preceding the date of injury or death is less than twenty dollars ($20), in which event the weekly benefit is 65 per cent of the average weekly earnings as so computed. In no event may the weekly benefit in cases of temporary total disability be less than six dollars and fifty cents ($6.50) nor more than twenty dollars ($20).

Temporary partial disability

4314. If the injury sustained by a civilian defense worker causes temporary partial disability, no disability payment shall be made to the worker during the period of such disability for the loss of wages due to such disability.

Permanent disability

4315. If the injury sustained by a civilian defense worker causes permanent disability, the percentage of disability to total disability shall be determined as for the occupation of a laborer of like age by applying the schedule for the determination of the percentages of permanent disabilities prepared and adopted by the commission. The amount of the weekly payment for permanent disability shall be the same as the weekly benefit which would be paid for temporary total disability pursuant to the provisions of Section 4313.

Maximum disability payments

4316. The aggregate disability payments for a single injury shall not exceed three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600), nor shall the aggregate period for temporary total disability in any event extend beyond 240 weeks from the date of injury.

In no event, and not even if the percentage of permanent disability incurred exceeds 70 per cent, shall disability payments for permanent disability exceed three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600).

Where an injury causes both temporary and permanent disability, the injured civilian defense worker is not entitled to both a temporary and permanent disability payment, but only to the greater of the two.

Death benefit

4317. The death benefit shall be a sum sufficient to equal:

(a) In a case of total dependency, 240 times the weekly benefit which would be paid for temporary total disability pursuant to the provisions of Section 4313, but in no event in excess of three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600), nor less than one thousand five hundred sixty dollars ($1,560).

(b) In a case of partial dependency only, 240 times the amount weekly devoted to support of the dependents by the civilian defense worker, but in no event in excess of three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600).

Except as provided in the following paragraph, the death benefit, when added to all accrued disability payments, shall not exceed three thousand six hundred dollars ($3,600).

Disability payments for disability occurring within 12 months after injury shall not be deducted from the death benefit and shall be paid in addition to the death benefit.

Burial expenses

4318. In addition to the death benefit, reasonable expenses of the civilian defense worker's burial, not exceeding one hundred fifty dollars ($150), shall be paid.

Article 3. Adjustment of Claims

Adjustment agreement

4331. The California State War Council and the State Compensation Insurance Fund (hereinafter referred to as the State Fund) shall enter into an agreement requiring the State Fund, as adjusting agent, to adjust and dispose of claims and furnish compensation to civilian defense workers and their dependents. The agreement shall authorize the State Fund to make all expenditures, including payments to claimants for compensation or for the adjustment or settlement of claims.

Reimbursement of State Fund

4332. The agreement shall provide that the State Fund shall be reimbursed for the expenditures made as adjusting agent and for the cost of services rendered, which reimbursement shall be made out of money appropriated for the purpose of furnishing compensation to civilian defense workers. The reimbursement for cost of services rendered shall not exceed 12½ per cent of the total expenditures for medical treatment and disability and death payments made by the fund in the adjustment of claims arising under this chapter. The agreement shall provide for the setting up of bookkeeping reserves in order that provision may be made for the reimbursement of the State Fund and that liability for the payment or furnishing of compensation may be determined. The agreement shall also provide that the State Fund shall be notified promptly by the California State War Council when a civilian defense organization is certified as an accredited civilian defense organization and when the certification is revoked.

Other provisions

Automatic parties

4333. An accredited civilian defense organization, and the county or city which has empowered the civilian defense organization to register and direct activities of civilian defense workers, automatically become parties to the agreement upon the civilian defense organization becoming an accredited civilian defense organization.

Provisions deemed necessary

4335. The agreement may also contain any other provision not inconsistent with this division deemed necessary by the California State War Council and the State Fund for the furnishing of compensation to civilian defense workers and their dependents in accordance with the provisions of this division, and the serving by the State Fund as adjusting agent. The agreement may be modified by action of the California State War Council and the State Fund.

Modification

Recovery from third person

4336. The State Fund may in its own name, or in the name of the California State War Council do any and all things necessary to recover any and all amounts which might be recovered from third parties due to the California State War Council, the accredited civilian defense organization, or the county or city which has empowered the civilian defense organization to register and direct activities of civilian defense workers, being subrogated to the rights of a civilian defense worker against third persons for damages, including the right to commence and prosecute actions or to intervene in other court proceedings, or to compromise claims before or after commencement of suit. All amounts so recovered shall be used for the furnishing of compensation benefits, and the agreement shall provide for the reimbursing of the State Fund for expense incurred in recovering such amounts and the manner in which such amounts shall be applied to the furnishing of compensation.

Federal aid Compensation reduction

4337. Should the United States Government or any agent thereof, in accordance with any Federal statute or rule or regulation, furnish monetary assistance, benefits, or other temporary or permanent relief to civilian defense workers or to civilian defense workers and their dependents for injuries arising out of and occurring in the course of their activities as civilian defense workers, then the amount of compensation which any civilian defense worker or his dependents are otherwise entitled to receive from the State of California under Division 4 of the Labor Code for any injury shall be reduced by the amount of monetary assistance, benefits, or other temporary or permanent relief the civilian defense worker or his dependents have received and will receive from the United States or any agent thereof as a result of the injury.

Medical treatment

If, in addition to monetary assistance, benefits, or other temporary or permanent relief, the United States Government or any agent thereof furnishes medical, surgical or hospital treatment or any combination thereof to an injured civilian defense worker, then the civilian defense worker has no right to receive similar medical, surgical or hospital treatment under Division 4 of the Labor Code. However, the State Compensation Insurance Fund, as adjusting agent of the California State War Council, may furnish medical, surgical or hospital treatment as part of the compensation provided in Division 4 of the Labor Code in addition to that furnished by the United States Government or its agents.

If, in addition to monetary assistance, benefits, or other temporary or permanent relief, the United States Government or any agent thereof will reimburse a civilian defense worker or his dependents for medical, surgical or hospital treatment, or any combination thereof, furnished to the injured civilian defense worker, the civilian defense worker has no right to receive similar medical, surgical or hospital treatment under Division 4 of the Labor Code, but the State Compensation Insurance Fund, as adjusting agent of the California State War Council, may furnish medical, surgical or hospital treatment as part of the compensation provided in Division 4 of the Labor Code and apply to the United States Government or its agent for the reimbursement which will be made to the civilian defense worker or his dependents. As a condition to the furnishing of such medical, surgical or hospital treatment, the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall require the civilian defense worker and his dependents to assign to the State of California, for the purpose of reimbursing for any medical, surgical or hospital treatment furnished or to be furnished by the State, any privilege or right such civilian defense worker or his dependents may have to reimbursement from the United States Government or any agent thereof.

State compensation preventing Federal

If the furnishing of compensation under the provisions of Division 4 of the Labor Code to a civilian defense worker or his dependents prevents such civilian defense worker or his dependents from receiving assistance, benefits or other temporary or permanent relief under the provisions of a Federal statute or rule or regulation, then the civilian defense worker and his dependents shall have no right to, and shall not receive, any compensation from the State of California under the provisions of Division 4 of the Labor Code for any injury for which the United States Government or any agent thereof will furnish assistance, benefits or other temporary or permanent relief in the absence of the furnishing of compensation by the State of California.

Certification as accredited civilian defense organization

1597. Any civilian defense organization which both agrees to follow the rules and regulations established by the California State War Council pursuant to the provisions of Section 1596 of this code and substantially complies with such rules and regulations shall be certified by the California State War Council. Upon making the certification, and not before, the civilian defense organization becomes an accredited civilian defense organization.

Revocation of certification

1598. Should an accredited civilian defense organization fail to comply with the rules and regulations of the California State War Council in any material degree, the California State War Council may revoke the certification, and upon the act of revocation the civilian defense organization shall lose its accredited status. It may again become an accredited civilian defense organization in the same manner as is provided for a civilian defense organization which has not had its certificate revoked.

Recertification

Appropriation

SEC. 9. Out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated there is hereby appropriated to the California State War Council the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), or so much thereof as may be necessary to be expended by its adjusting agent, the State Compensation Insurance Fund, for the furnishing of workmen's compensation to civilian defense workers and their dependents in accordance with the provisions of Division 4 of the Labor Code, including the reimbursing of the State Compensation Insurance Fund for the cost of services rendered as adjusting agent, in order that patriotism may be encouraged, National and local defense efforts strengthened, and the National Government aided.

Revolving fund

The State Compensation Insurance Fund may draw from the State treasury out of the appropriation made by this section, without at the time presenting vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed in the aggregate one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), to be used as a cash revolving fund. The revolving fund shall be deposited in such banks and under such conditions as the State Department of Finance determines. The Controller shall draw his warrants in favor of the State Compensation Insurance Fund for the amounts so withdrawn, and the Treasurer shall pay such warrants.

Exemption

Expenditures made from the revolving fund in payments on claims for workmen's compensation and for adjusting services are exempted from the operation of Section 669 of the Political Code. Reimbursement of the revolving fund for such expenditures shall be made upon presentation to the Controller of an abstract or statement of such expenditures. Such abstract or statement shall be in such form as the Controller requires.

Effect

Stats. First Ex Sess. 1943, Ch 1

SEC. 10. Sections 1 to 9, inclusive, of this act, become operative at the same time as the California War Powers Act becomes effective.

Urgency

SEC. 11. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows: This is a period of National emergency. The public health, safety and welfare necessitates civilian defense work to which many citizens are patriotically contributing their services. No provisions now exist for compensation for injuries sustained while engaged in such work. Many civilian defense workers may be injured and become burdens on their families or society. It is imperative to guarantee individuals protection from financial loss caused by such injuries. Such expense is justly chargeable to the cost of government which should be borne by all. To defer operation of this act would result in imposing undue hardship and loss on injured civilian defense workers. It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 922

An act to amend Section 2540 of the Elections Code, relating to parties qualified to participate in a primary election. Stats 1939, p 49, amended

[Approved by Governor May 31, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 31, 1943.] In effect August 4, 1943

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2540 of the Elections Code is amended to read: Stats 1941, p 1288

2540. A party is qualified to participate in any primary election: Qualifications

(a) If at the last preceding gubernatorial election there was polled for any one of its candidates who was the candidate of that party only for any office voted on throughout the State, at least 3 per cent of the entire vote of the State, or for any one of its candidates who, upon the date of such gubernatorial election, as shown by the affidavits of registration of voters in the county of his residence, was affiliated with that party and who was the joint candidate of that party and any other party for any office voted on throughout the State, at least 6 per cent of the entire vote of the State; or

(b) If on or before the seventy-fifth day before any primary election it appears to the Secretary of State as a result of examining and totaling the statement of voters and their political affiliations transmitted to him by the county clerks, that voters, equal in number to at least 1 per cent of the entire vote of the State at the last preceding gubernatorial election, have declared their intention to affiliate with that party; or

(c) If on or before the seventy-fifth day before any primary election there is filed with the Secretary of State a petition signed by voters, equal in number to at least 10 per cent of the entire vote of the State at the last preceding gubernatorial election, declaring that they represent a proposed party, the name of which shall be stated therein, which proposed party those voters desire to have participate in that primary election. This petition shall be circulated, signed, verified and the signatures of the voters thereon shall be certified to and transmitted to the Secretary of State by the county clerks substantially as provided for initiative petitions. Each page of the petition shall bear a caption in 18-point black-face type, which caption shall be the name of the proposed party followed by the words "Petition to participate in the primary election." No voters or organization of voters shall assume a party name or designation which is so similar to the name of an existing party as to mislead voters.

Disqualifications

(d) Except that whenever the registration of any party which qualified in the previous direct primary election falls below one-tenth of 1 per cent of the total State registration, that party shall not be qualified to participate in the primary election but shall be deemed to have been abandoned by the voters, since the expense of printing ballots and holding a primary election would be an unjustifiable expense and burden to the State for so small a group. The Secretary of State shall immediately remove the name of such party from any list, notice, ballot, or other publication containing the names of the parties qualified to participate in the primary election.

CHAPTER 923

Stats 1943, Ch 71, amended

An act to add Sections 6.781-5 and 6.793-5 to the School Code and Sections 19602.5 and 19614.5 to the Education Code, and making an appropriation, relating to child care centers, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

In effect immediately

[Approved by Governor May 31, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State May 31, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

New section

SECTION 1. Section 6.731-5 is added to the School Code, to read:

Care of nonresident children

6.781-5. Said governing board may accommodate in a child care center maintained by it children residing in another district, upon such terms and under such conditions as may be agreed upon by the governing boards of both districts.

New section

SEC. 1.1. Section 6.793-5 is added to the School Code, to read:

Review of proposed standards

6.793-5. No standards relating to child care centers proposed to be established by the Superintendent of Public Instruction in accordance with the provisions of this chapter shall take effect unless and until such proposed standards have been reviewed and approved by the California State War Council.

Note.—See Stats. 1943, Ch. 71.

Appropriation

SEC. 1.5. In addition to any other sum appropriated, there is hereby appropriated out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000), or as much thereof as may be necessary, to the California State War Council, to be used by the War Council during the Ninety-fifth and Ninety-sixth Fiscal Years for supplemental support of child care centers created pursuant to Chapter 3 of Part 3 of Division 6 of the School Code and Chapter 11 of Division 9 of the Education Code, where in the discretion of the War Council a demonstrated need for such supplemental support can be established. Any such allocations shall be made by the War Council directly to the governing board of the school district maintaining the child care center for which the allocation is made.

Allocation to Director of Education

SEC. 2. Of the sum hereby appropriated twenty-two thousand two hundred dollars ($22,200) shall be expended by the State War Council only for the purpose of making allocations to the Director of Education for the purpose of supervising such child care centers.

Allocation to local districts

SEC. 3. The remainder of the sum hereby appropriated shall be expended by the California State War Council only for the purpose of making allocations to local districts which have established such child care centers, for the purpose of supplementing support from the Federal Government, parents of children cared for, and industry where those sources are insufficient to meet the costs of operating the child care centers.

Legislative intent

SEC. 4. In making this appropriation, the Legislature makes the following statement of its intent:

(a) That child care centers are intended as emergency institutions, to be conducted for the period of the war only, and are to be discontinued completely within six months after the cessation of hostilities.

(b) That the Legislature views the problem of caring for children whose parents are employed in essential war industries as essentially a part of the National defense effort, and that the obligation of supporting the child care centers is primarily a Federal responsibility.

(c) That since the parents of the children are employed in industry, they are able to contribute to the cost of their care, and are primarily liable for furnishing the necessaries of life for the children.

(d) That participation by the State or locality in payment of the costs of the program should be of supplementary or emergency nature only, until the Federal Government, parents, and industry can maintain its full support.

(e) That limitation of the operation to care for children of day workers only should be encouraged, and industry, parents, and school districts should be encouraged to arrange for employment of mothers in daytime only.

(f) That employment of mothers of more than two children of very tender years appears inadvisable except in extreme cases.

(g) That the Legislature recognizes that the cost of maintenance of the child care centers should not be imposed against local real property, but must be paid for upon a broader tax basis.

Federal, etc., support

SEC. 5. Before allocating the funds appropriated the California State War Council shall make every effort to arrange for support of the child care centers by the Federal Government, parents of the children, and industry. If sufficient funds for the purpose can not be secured from these sources, the War Council may allocate to the respective child care centers such sums as it deems necessary for supplemental use only.

Determination of efficiency, etc

SEC. 6. Before making any allocation to any district, the California State War Council shall determine that the district is operating efficiently. In making such allocations the War Council shall not recognize costs based on elaborate organization or standards that are excessively high or extravagant.

Survey

SEC. 7. The California State War Council shall make a survey of the respective child care centers petitioning for allocation of funds, and after determining the necessity, costs, and support derived from the Federal Government, parents, and industry, shall allocate such sums to the respective child care centers as it deems necessary to insure their efficient operation.

Duration

SEC. 8. This act shall remain in effect until the one hundred eighty-first day after the cessation of hostilities in all wars in which the United States is now engaged, and the powers hereby conferred upon the California State War Council shall thereupon terminate.

Urgency

SEC. 9. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall therefore go into immediate effect. A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

In order that the successful prosecution of the war in which the United States of America is now engaged be not impeded, it is necessary that State funds be made available for temporary or supplemental financial assistance to child care centers where a demonstrated need can be shown and for proper supervision of child care centers so that parents who are engaged or hereafter must engage in essential war work may have assurance of proper care for their minor children during the hours of their employment. It is, therefore, necessary that this act take effect immediately.

SEC. 4. Article 3a, comprising Sections 10159.1 to 10167, inclusive, is hereby added to Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read as follows: New article

Article 3a. Standard Nonforfeiture Law

10159.1. This article is applicable only to policies and contracts issued on or after the operative date as to such policies or contracts of this article. Application of article

10159.2. After December 31, 1943, any insurer may file with the commissioner a written notice of its election to comply with the provisions of this article as to any or all of its policies after a specified date before January 1, 1948. After the filing of such notice, then upon such specified date, this article shall become operative with respect to the policies specified in the notice and which are thereafter issued by such insurer. As to all of its policies with respect to which an insurer makes no such election, the operative date of this article shall be January 1, 1948. Notice of election; Operation of article

10160. Except as provided in Section 10165, no policy of life insurance shall be issued or delivered in this State unless it shall contain in substance the following provisions, or corresponding provisions which are at least as favorable to the defaulting or surrendering policyholder; Required policy provisions

(a) That, in the event of default in any premium payment after premiums have been paid for at least one full year the insurer will grant, upon proper request not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default, a paid-up nonforfeiture benefit on a plan stipulated in the policy, effective as of such due date, of such value as may be hereinafter specified.

(b) That, upon surrender of the policy within 60 days after the due date of any premium payment in default after premiums have been paid for at least three full years in the case of ordinary insurance or five full years in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer will pay, in lieu of any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, a cash surrender value of such amount as may be hereinafter specified.

(c) That a specified paid-up nonforfeiture benefit shall become effective as specified in the policy unless the person entitled to make such election elects another available option not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default.

(d) That, if the policy shall have become paid-up by completion of all premium payments or if it is continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit which became effective on or after the third policy anniversary in the case of ordinary insurance or the fifth policy anniversary in the case of industrial insurance, the insurer will pay, upon surrender of the policy within 30 days after any policy anniversary, a cash surrender value of such amount as may be hereinafter specified.

(e) A statement of the mortality table and interest rate used in calculating the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits available under the policy, together with a schedule showing the cash surrender value, if any, and paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, if any, available under the policy on each policy anniversary either during the first 20 policy years or during the term of the policy, whichever is shorter, such values and benefits to be calculated upon the assumption that there are no dividends or paid-up additions credited to the policy and that there is no indebtedness to the insurer on account of or secured by the policy. At the option of the insurer such schedule may also show such values and benefits for any year or years beyond the twentieth policy year.

(f) A brief and general statement of the method to be used in calculating the cash surrender value and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy on any policy anniversary beyond the last anniversary for which such values and benefits are consecutively shown in the policy with an explanation of the manner in which the cash surrender values and the paid-up nonforfeiture benefits are altered by the existence of any paid-up additions credited to the policy or any indebtedness to the insurer on account of or secured by the policy.

Omission

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may, to the extent inapplicable, be omitted from the policy.

Cash surrender

The insurer shall reserve the right to defer the payment of any cash surrender value for a period of six months after demand therefor with surrender of the policy.

Cash surrender in event of default

10161. Any cash surrender value available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary, whether or not required by Section 10160, shall be an amount not less than the excess, if any, of the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits which would have been provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, if there had been no default, over the sum of (a) the then present value of the adjusted premiums as defined in Section 10163, corresponding to premiums which would have fallen due on and after such anniversary, and (b) the amount of any indebtedness to the company on the policy. Any cash surrender value available within 30 days after any policy anniversary under any policy paid-up by completion of all premium payments or any policy continued under any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit, whether or not required by Section 10160, shall be an amount not less than the present value, on such anniversary, of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy, including any existing paid-up additions, decreased by any indebtedness to the company on the policy. Paid-up policy

10162. Any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due on any policy anniversary shall be such that its present value as of such anniversary shall be at least equal to the cash surrender value then provided for by the policy or, if none is provided for, that cash surrender value which would have been required by this article in the absence of the condition that premiums shall have been paid for at least a specified period. Paid-up nonforfeiture benefit in event of default

10163. The adjusted premiums for any policy shall be calculated on an annual basis and shall be such uniform percentage of the respective premiums specified in the policy for each policy year that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such adjusted premiums shall be equal to the sum of (i) the then present value of the future guaranteed benefits provided for by the policy; (ii) two per cent (2%) of the amount of insurance, if the insurance be uniform in amount, or of the equivalent uniform amount, as hereinafter defined, if the amount of insurance varies with duration of the policy; (iii) forty per cent (40%) of the adjusted premium for the first policy year; (iv) twenty-five per cent (25%) of either the adjusted premium for the first policy year or the adjusted premium for a whole life policy of the same uniform or equivalent uniform amount with uniform premiums for the whole of life issued at the same age for the same amount of insurance, whichever is less. In applying the percentages specified in (iii) and (iv) above, no adjusted premium shall be deemed to exceed four per cent (4%) of the amount of insurance or level amount equivalent thereto. Calculation of adjusted premiums

In the case of a policy providing an amount of insurance varying with duration of the policy, the equivalent level amount thereof for the purpose of this section shall be deemed to be the level amount of insurance provided by an otherwise similar policy, containing the same endowment benefit or benefits, if any, issued at the same age and for the same term, the amount of which does not vary with duration and the benefits under which have the same present value at the inception of the insurance as the benefits under the policy.

Basis of calculation

All adjusted premiums and present values referred to in this article shall be calculated on the basis of the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table for ordinary insurance and the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table for industrial insurance and the rate of interest, not exceeding three and one-half per cent (3½%) per annum, specified in the policy for calculating cash surrender values and paid-up nonforfeiture benefits; except that in calculating the present value of any paid-up term insurance with accompanying pure endowment, if any, offered as a nonforfeiture benefit, the rates of mortality assumed may be not more than one hundred and thirty per cent (130%) of the rates of mortality according to such applicable table; and except that for insurance issued on a substandard basis, the calculation of any such adjusted premiums and present values may be based on such other table of mortality as may be specified by the insurer and approved by the commissioner.

Calculation of cash surrender, etc.

10164. Any cash surrender value and any paid-up nonforfeiture benefit available under the policy in the event of default in a premium payment due at any time other than on the policy anniversary, shall be calculated with allowance for the lapse of time and the payment of fractional premiums beyond the last preceding policy anniversary. All values referred to in Sections 10161, 10162 and 10163 may be calculated upon the assumption that any death benefit is payable at the end of the policy year of death. The net value of any paid-up additions, other than paid-up term additions, shall be not less than the dividends used to provide such additions. Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10161, additional benefits payable (a) in the event of death or dismemberment by accident or accidental means, (b) in the event of total and permanent disability, (c) as reversionary annuity or deferred reversionary annuity benefits, (d) as decreasing term insurance benefits provided by a rider or supplemental policy provision to which, if issued as a separate policy, this article would not apply, and (e) as other policy benefits additional to life insurance and endowment benefits, and premiums for all such additional benefits, shall be disregarded in ascertaining cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits required by this article, and no such additional benefits shall be required to be included in any paid-up nonforfeiture benefits.

Exceptions

10165. This article shall not apply to any reinsurance, group insurance, pure endowment, annuity or reversionary annuity contract, nor to any term policy of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, of 15 years or less expiring before age 66, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the policy, nor to any term policy of decreasing amount on which each adjusted premium, calculated as specified in Section 10163, is less than the adjusted premium so calculated, on such 15-year term policy issued at the same age and for the same initial amount of insurance, nor to any policy which shall be delivered outside this State through an agent or other representative of the company issuing the policy.

Waiver prohibited

10166. No agreement between the insurer and the policyholder or applicant for insurance contrary to this article shall be held to waive any of the provisions of this article.

Omission of paid-up nonforfeiture benefit

10167. Any policy to which this article is applicable which does not contain a paid-up nonforfeiture benefit shall be construed as granting nonparticipating paid-up term insurance as a nonforfeiture benefit under subdivision (a) Section 10160.

New section

SEC. 5. Section 10478 is hereby added to Article 3, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2, of the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Application of article

10478. This article is applicable only to policies and contracts issued prior to the operative date as to such policies or contracts of Article 3a, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 2.

New section

SEC. 6. Section 10479 is hereby added to the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Annual valuation of reserves

10479. The commissioner shall annually value, or cause to be valued, the reserve liabilities (hereinafter called reserves) for all outstanding life insurance policies and annuity and pure endowment contracts of every admitted life insurer, and may certify the amount of any such reserves, specifying the mortality table or tables, rate or rates of interest and methods (net level premium method or other) used in the calculation of such reserves. In calculating such reserves, he may use group methods and approximate averages for fractions of a year or otherwise. In lieu of the valuation of the reserves herein required of any foreign or alien insurer, he may accept any valuation made, or caused to be made, by the insurance supervisory official of any State or other jurisdiction when such valuation complies with the minimum standard herein provided and if the official of such State or jurisdiction accepts as sufficient and valid for all legal purposes the certificate of valuation of the commissioner when such certificate states the valuation to have been made in a specified manner according to which the aggregate reserves would be at least as large as if they had been computed in the manner prescribed by the law of that State or jurisdiction.

New section

SEC. 7. Section 10488 is hereby added to Article 3, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Standards for calculating reserves

10488. Reserves for all policies and contracts to which this article applies may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for all such policies and contracts than the minimum reserves required by this article.

New section

SEC. 8. Section 10489 is hereby added to Article 3, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Adoption of lower standard of valuation

10489. Any insurer which at any time shall have adopted any standard of valuation producing greater aggregate reserves than those calculated according to the minimum standard provided in this article or Article 3a of this chapter may, with the approval of the commissioner, adopt any lower standard of valuation, but not lower than the minimum therein provided.

New article

SEC. 9. Article 3a, comprising Sections 10489.1 to 10489.6, inclusive, is hereby added to Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Article 3a. Standard Valuation Law

Application of article

10489.1. This article and Sections 10479, 10480, 10481, 10483, 10484, 10486 and 10489 shall apply to the valuation of policies and contracts issued on or after the operative date as to such policies or contracts of Article 3a, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 2.

Minimum standard

10489.2. The minimum standard for the valuation of all such policies and contracts shall be the commissioners reserve valuation method defined in Section 10489.3, three and one-half per cent ($3\frac{1}{2}\%$) interest, and the following tables:

Tables

(a) For all ordinary policies of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table.

(b) For all industrial life insurance policies issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table.

(c) For annuity and pure endowment contracts, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such policies—the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table.

(d) For total and permanent disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary policies or contracts—Class (3) Disability Table (1926) which, for active lives, shall be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(e) For accidental death benefits in or supplementary to policies—the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance policies.

(f) For group life insurance, life insurance issued on the substandard basis and other special benefits—such tables as may be approved by the commissioner.

Reserves

10489.3. Reserves according to the commissioners reserve valuation method, for the life insurance and endowment benefits of policies providing for a uniform amount of insurance and requiring the payment of uniform premiums shall be the excess, if any, of the present value, at the date of valuation, of such future guaranteed benefits provided for by such policies, over the then present value of any future modified net premiums therefor. The modified net premiums for any such policy shall be such uniform percentage of the respective contract premiums for such benefits that the present value, at the date of issue of the policy, of all such modified net premiums shall be equal to the sum of the then present value of such benefits provided for by the policy and the excess of (a) over (b), as follows:

(a) A net level annual premium equal to the present value, at the date of issue, of such benefits provided for after the first policy year, divided by the present value, at the date of issue, of an annuity of one per annum payable on the first and each subsequent anniversary of such policy on which a premium falls due; except that such net level annual premium shall not exceed the net level annual premium on the 19-year premium whole life plan for insurance of the same amount at an age one year higher than the age at issue of such policy.

(b) A net one-year term premium for such benefits provided for in the first policy year.

Reserves according to the commissioners reserve valuation method for (1) life insurance policies providing for a varying amount of insurance or requiring the payment of varying premiums, (2) annuity and pure endowment contracts, (3) disability and accidental death benefits in all policies and contracts, and (4) all other benefits, except life insurance and endowment benefits in life insurance policies, shall be calculated by a method consistent with the principles of the preceding paragraph.

Minimum aggregate reserves

10489.4. In no event shall an insurer's aggregate reserves for all life insurance policies, excluding disability and accidental death benefits, be less than the aggregate reserves calculated in accordance with the method set forth in Section 10489.3 and the mortality table or tables and rate or rates of interest used in calculating nonforfeiture benefits for such policies.

Reserves calculated on higher standards

10489.5. Reserves for any category of policies, contracts or benefits as established by the commissioner may be calculated, at the option of the insurer, according to any standards which produce greater aggregate reserves for such category than those calculated according to the minimum standard herein provided, but the rate or rates of interest used shall not be higher than the corresponding rate or rates of interest used in calculating any nonforfeiture benefits provided for therein; provided, however, reserves for participating life insurance policies may, with the consent of the commissioner, be calculated according to a rate of interest lower than the rate of interest used in calculating the nonforfeiture benefits in such policies, but if such lower rate differs from the rate used in the calculation of the nonforfeiture benefits by more than one-half per cent (½%) the insurer issuing such policies shall file with the commissioner a plan providing for such equitable increases, if any, in the cash surrender values and nonforfeiture benefits in such policies as the commissioner shall approve.

Deficiency reserve

10489.6. If the gross premium charged by any life insurance insurer on any policy or contract is less than the net premium for the policy or contract according to the mortality table, rate of interest and method used in calculating the reserve thereon, there shall be maintained on such policy or contract a deficiency reserve in addition to all other reserves required by law. For each such policy or contract the deficiency reserve shall be the present value, according to such standard, of an annuity of the difference between such net premium and the premium charged for such policy or contract, running for the remainder of the premium-paying period.

New section

SEC. 10. Section 10929 is added to the Insurance Code, to read as follows:

Operation under chapter

10929. Insurers operating under and pursuant to this chapter shall be governed exclusively by the provisions of this chapter with respect to reserves required to be maintained upon contracts of life insurance issued by them and with respect to provisions required to be contained in such contracts.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State June 1, 1943.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1941, p 1139

SECTION 1. Section 12003 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

"Insurer"

12003. "Insurer" as used in this part includes insurance companies or associations and reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges. As used in this section, "companies" includes persons, partnerships, joint stock associations, companies and corporations.

Repeal

SEC. 2. Article 1, comprising Sections 12251 to 12256, inclusive, of Chapter 3, Part 7, Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is hereby repealed.

New article

SEC. 3. A new article, comprising Sections 12251 to 12264, inclusive, is hereby added to Chapter 3, Part 7, Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, to be known as Article 1 and to read as follows:

Article 1. Tax Base

Annual tax

12251. Every insurer doing business in this State shall annually pay to the State a tax on the bases, at the rates, and subject to the deductions from the tax hereinafter specified.

Basis of tax

12252. In the case of an insurer not transacting title insurance in this State, the basis of the tax is, in respect to each year, the amount of gross premiums, less return premiums, received in such year by such insurer upon its business done in this State. "Gross premiums" do not include premiums received for reinsurance and for ocean marine insurance. Gross premiums of reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges shall be determined as provided in Section 1530 of the Insurance Code.

Insurer transacting title insurance

12253. In the case of an insurer transacting title insurance in this State, the basis of the tax is, in respect to each year, all income upon business done in this State, except:

(1) Interest and dividends.
(2) Rents from real property.
(3) Profits from the sale or other disposition of investments.
(4) Income from investments.

"Investments"

12254. "Investments" as used in Section 12253 includes property acquired by such insurer in the settlement or adjustment of claims against it but excludes investments in title plants and title records. Income derived directly or indirectly from the use of title plants and title records is included in the basis of the tax.

Exclusion from basis of tax

12255. In the case of an insurer transacting title insurance in this State which has a trust department and does a trust business under the banking laws of this State, there shall be excluded from the basis of the tax imposed by this article the income of, and from the assets of, such trust department and such trust business, if such income is taxed by this State or included in the measure of any tax imposed by this State.

Rate of tax

12256. The rate of tax to be applied to the basis of the tax in respect to each of the years set forth below is the percentage set forth below opposite such year:

Year	Percentage
1943	2.55
1944	2.50
1945	2.45
1946	2.40
1947 and each year thereafter	2.35

Deductions

12257. The deductions which may be made from the tax are:
(1) The principal office deduction.
(2) The real estate deduction.

"Principal office deduction"

12258. The "principal office deduction" consists of the right to deduct from the tax imposed by this article upon an insurer in respect to a particular year the amount of real estate taxes paid by it, in that year, on real property owned by it at the time of payment, and in which was located, in that year, its home office or principal office in this State. Such real property may consist of one building or of two or more adjacent buildings in which such an office is located, the land on which they stand, and so much of the adjacent land as may be required for the convenient use and occupation thereof.

Home or principal office

12259. Where as a result of merger, consolidation, or other method of acquisition of substantially all of the assets of one or more insurers by another insurer, effected prior to January 1, 1939, an insurer owns more than one parcel of real property in this State in which was located a home office or principal office of an insurer immediately prior to such acquisition, the owner shall designate one of such properties as its home or principal office. Real estate taxes paid by it in any of the years 1943 to 1952, inclusive, on such property owned by it at the time of payment and not so designated may also be deducted from the tax imposed by this article in respect to such year and are included within the principal office deduction.

"Real estate deduction"

12260. PART 6. REASSESSMENT

When issuable

SEC. 33. A reassessment shall be issued in any of the following events:

Whenever any assessment heretofore or hereafter made, issued or filed in the office of the clerk, or whenever any bonds issued to represent the amounts of any such assessments in accordance with this act have been set aside by any court of competent jurisdiction or such court has refused to enforce any assessment or has decreed any such bonds issued under this act not to constitute or represent valid and subsisting liens against the lots or parcels of land upon which the assessments represented by them have been levied; or if for any reason such assessments or bonds, or both, are not effective through the curative and waiver provisions of this act or any curative act now or hereafter passed by the Legislature in relation thereto to make them valid and enforceable.

Intent and meaning

SEC. 34. The true intent and meaning of this part is to make the cost and expense of the acquisition and improvement made or attempted to be made through an attempted compliance with this act payable by the real property benefited by such acquisition and improvement by making a reassessment therefor. Such power of reassessment embraces both a full and partial reassessment and is not exhausted by a single attempted exercise thereof.

When reassessment required

SEC. 35. A reassessment shall be ordered under any one of the following circumstances:

(a) Whenever the owner or holder of any bonds issued to represent or be secured by assessments requests the legislative body to order a reassessment and the legislative body is of the opinion that the bonds in question are not enforceable, it shall order the making and issuing of a reassessment covering only the assessments represented by or securing the bonds owned or held by the petitioner.

(b) Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit involving the validity of the obligation of any bond or assessment has for any reason held the lien of the assessment or bond to be unenforceable, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

(c) Whenever any court of competent jurisdiction, in any suit to set aside the lien of any assessment or of any bond representing any assessment or in any suit to quiet title against the lien of any such assessment or bond or in any suit to enjoin the making, filing, confirmation or issuance of any assessment or bond to pay for the cost and expenses of any acquisition and improvement under this act, shall in its judgment decree such assessments or bonds to be void or unenforceable or shall enjoin the making, filing or issuance or confirmation of any such assessment or bond, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

(d) Whenever the lien of any assessment or bond is foreclosed or attempted to be foreclosed by sale as provided in this act, and thereafter any court of competent jurisdiction in any suit contesting the validity and legal force and effect of such sale decrees such sale to be void or unenforceable for any reason, then it shall in and by its decree direct the making of a reassessment to cover the assessments involved in such suit.

Duties of street superintendent

SEC. 36. Upon the entering of a decree of court directing a reassessment or upon the making of an order by the legislative body directing a reassessment, the street superintendent shall proceed to make a reassessment in the following manner:

If the reassessment is a partial one only, then it shall not be necessary for the diagram to show any lots other than the ones covered by such partial reassessment. If it is a full reassessment, then the street superintendent shall prepare and file with the reassessment a diagram showing the lots or parcels of land deemed by him to have been benefited by the improvement.

Amount and basis

SEC. 37. The reassessment shall assess upon and against each of the lots or parcels of land contained therein an amount arrived at as follows: The benefits derived, or to be derived, by each of the lots or parcels of land from the acquisition and improvement estimated as of the date of the filing in the clerk's office of the original assessment shall first be listed. Then there shall be added thereto interest thereon from the date of recording of the original assessment at the rate of seven per cent (7%) per annum, and the total sum shall constitute and be the amount of the proposed several assessments in such reassessment. The total of such reassessment, however, exclusive of interest, shall not exceed the cost and expenses of the acquisition and improvement.

Form and references

SEC. 38. Such reassessment need not be in any prescribed form, but shall refer to the original assessment filed, giving the date of filing of the original assessment, and state that it is made pursuant to the order of the legislative body or decree of the court, as the case may be, and shall be accompanied by a diagram showing the lots or parcels of land to be reassessed and their relation to the improvement.

Presentation

SEC. 39. The reassessment shall then be presented to the legislative body, which shall fix a time for hearing before it, which shall be at least twenty (20) days after the reassessment is so presented. The clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the ordinance of intention for the acquisition and improvement was published unless the legislative body directs publication in some other newspaper. If the reassessment is to be against the property in a district, then this fact shall be set forth and the reassessment diagram referred to for particulars. Such notice shall be published for five (5) insertions, if the newspaper is a daily, or by two (2) insertions if the newspaper is published less frequently.

Notice of hearing

Hearing

SEC. 40. At the time fixed for the hearing, or at any time to which the hearing is adjourned, the legislative body shall consider the objections to the reassessment and in its discretion informally direct the revision, correction and modification of such reassessment in such manner as is most equitable to apportion to each lot or parcel of land thereby benefited the amount of the actual benefits derived from the acquisition and improvement. When the reassessment is revised or corrected or modified to comply with the judgment of the legislative body, it shall pass a resolution confirming the reassessment.

The commission shall consist of three members. Each commissioner shall be a resident and qualified elector of the city. Members of the commission shall serve without compensation.

Terms of commissioners

The commissioners shall hold office for the term of three years from the date of their appointment and qualification and until their successors are appointed and qualified, except that members of the first board appointed shall classify themselves by lot so that one member holds office for one year, one for two years, and one for three years, and, in each instance, until a successor has been appointed and qualified; provided, however, that by a four-fifths vote a commissioner may be removed by the legislative body at any time.

This estimate shall be filed with the legislative body of the city, and said legislative body at the time and in the manner for levying general municipal taxes shall levy and collect upon and against all of the taxable land and improvements within the vehicle parking district a special ad valorem tax sufficient to raise the sum of money estimated as required to be raised by taxation; provided, however, that the tax levy for maintenance and operation of said parking places in any year shall not exceed five cents ($0.05) on each one hundred dollars ($100) assessed value of taxable land and improvements within the district. Said special tax shall be levied and collected at the same time and in the same manner and by the same officers and with the same interest and penalties as general city taxes levied by the legislative body. CHAPTER 972

An act to amend Section 3714 of the Political Code, relating to annual financial estimates of counties.

[Approved by Governor June 1, 1943. Filed with Secretary of State June 1, 1943.] In effect August 4, 1943

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3714 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows: Stats 1941, p. 2131

3714. On or before the tenth day of July in each year, at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct, each county official elective or appointive, or person in charge of any office, department, service, institution or district of the county, excepting irrigation and reclamation and any other district where a tax levy for such district is not carried on the regular county, or city and county assessment roll including township officers and the judges of any court of record, and the executive head of each special district whose affairs and funds are under the supervision and control of the county board of supervisors or for which the county board of supervisors is ex officio the governing body, shall file with the county auditor of such county, an itemized estimate showing both the probable revenues from sources other than taxation that will accrue to his department, office, service, institution, or district, during the fiscal year, to which the budget is intended to apply, and all expenditures required by such department, office, service, institution or district, for the same period, together with a brief explanatory statement of the requested increases in expenditures over the current fiscal year, or if such estimate is not presented before the first day of July, such statement should show the increases in expenditures over the last completed fiscal year. The county board of supervisors shall submit to the county auditor a statement showing all new road and bridge construction and grade separation, classified by funds from which the same are to be financed, for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply, together with the estimated cost thereof. The county board of supervisors shall also submit a similar statement showing their road and bridge maintenance or betterment program, as nearly as can be estimated, as well as an estimate of all expenditures for construction or improvement purposes proposed to be made from the proceeds of bonds or other income not yet authorized; provided, that not to exceed 20 per cent of the moneys belonging to any road district may be carried in an "unappropriated reserve," and shall be available for the use of said district to cover expenditures that may have been insufficiently provided for or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise. Annual financial estimates

School district estimates shall be submitted on the twentieth day of July through the county superintendent of schools in the manner heretofore prescribed by law, on forms prescribed by the State Department of Education, all other estimates required in this section shall be submitted on forms School district estimates prescribed by the State Controller, and may only be varied or departed from with the approval of said department; provided, however, that any county may without disturbing the uniformity of the forms and data prescribed, add to the information required or show the same in more detail. The county auditor is hereby directed to provide such forms, and it is made his duty to prepare the estimates for interest and debt redemption requirements and any other estimates, the preparation of which properly falls within the duties of his office; provided, that in the absence, failure, or disability of any official, or person, required to furnish estimates hereunder, such estimates shall be furnished by the official or employee in charge of such office, department, service, institution, or district, during such absence or disability, or such estimates may be prepared and furnished by the county board of supervisors.

Auditor's tabulation of proposed expenditures and revenues

2 From such estimates, the county auditor shall prepare a tabulation showing the complete expenditure program of the county, school districts and special districts for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply, and the sources of revenue by which it is to be financed. Such tabulation shall set forth the estimated revenue from sources other than taxation for each office, department, service, institution, or district, for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply, compared with the corresponding figures of the last completed fiscal year, the estimated unencumbered surplus, after allowing for outstanding orders, contracts or other commitments, at the close of the current fiscal year, if such estimate is presented before July 1st, or the actual unencumbered surplus at the close of the last completed fiscal year, if such estimate is presented after July 1st, and the amount proposed to be raised by taxation; the estimated expenditures for each office, department, service, institution, or district, for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply, the actual expenditures for the last completed fiscal year, together with the actual expenditures that have accrued for the current fiscal year and an estimate of the expenditures that will accrue for the remainder of such current fiscal year, if such estimate is presented before July 1st, and the sums necessary to be provided as "general reserves," or a general reserve as hereinafter provided.

Classification of expenditures

Such estimates of expenditures shall be classified to set forth the data by funds, organization units, character and objects of expenditure; the organization units may be subclassified by functions and activities at the discretion of the county board of supervisors, but the expenditures for each organization unit shall be classified under the general classes of (1) salaries and wages; (2) maintenance and operation; (3) capital outlay; (4) interest and debt redemption; and, (5) expenditures proposed to be made from bonds or other income not yet authorized.

Within the general class of "salaries and wages" each salary shall be set forth separately, together with the title or designation of the recipient; provided and excepted, that in counties empowered by charter to increase or decrease the number of deputies and assistants in any office an unitemized estimate may be made to cover the salaries and wages of such deputies and assistants. Wages for day labor may be given in totals by designating the general purpose or object for which the expenditure is to be made Expenditures coming under the general classification of "maintenance and operation" shall show the major subdivisions and objects for which such expenditure is to be made. Expenditures coming under the general classification of "capital outlay" shall show the major subdivisions and objects for which such expenditure is to be made, except that expenditures for structural or nonstructural improvements shall be listed separately as to each project. Under the general class of "interest and debt redemption" shall be set forth separately each series or issue of bonds, together with its individual requirements for interest and redemption. The total amount of emergency appropriations made during the last completed fiscal year shall be set forth separately together with a statement showing the amount issued for each emergency, a list of appropriations canceled showing the amount of each and a list showing each appropriation made from the unappropriated reserves and the amount thereof.

Consideration by supervisors

3. The said tabulation shall be submitted by the county auditor to the clerk of the county board of supervisors on or before the thirtieth day of July of each year, at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct. Said county board of supervisors shall, upon receipt thereof, consider the same in detail, and shall on or before the tenth day of August of each year at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct, make, except as otherwise provided in this section, any revisions, reductions or additions therein, that it may deem advisable, setting forth thereon such changes as have been made to make said budget conform to the judgment and conclusion of the county board of supervisors as to a proper financial program for the county for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply; provided, however, that the estimate submitted by any official, or person, as designated herein shall not be increased or reduced until such official or person shall have first had a hearing thereon before said county board of supervisors; it is further provided, that no school district budget shall be revised, reduced or added to except by the board of school district trustees, except to bring it within the maximum tax limits provided by law. In counties empowered by charter to increase or decrease the compensation and number of deputies and assistants in any office, the county board of supervisors shall, on or before the thirtieth day of May of each year adopt a salary ordinance.

Unappropriated reserves

The county board of supervisors may, if it deem advisable, set aside a portion of each fund, other than school funds, to be known as "unappropriated reserves" which shall not exceed 10 per cent of the total amount of said fund exclusive of surplus; provided, that in any fund from which expenditures are to be made wholly from surplus 10 per cent of the estimated expenditures may be so reserved, or in lieu thereof a general unappropriated reserve which shall not exceed 10 per cent of the total budget exclusive of all items for bond interest and redemption. The money in such unappropriated reserves shall be available for appropriation by a four-fifths vote of the members of the county board of supervisors present at any meeting of which all members shall have had reasonable notice, to cover expenditures that have not been provided for or that may have been insufficiently provided for or for unforeseen requirements as they may arise.

General reserves

Said budget shall contain an amount or amounts to be known as a general reserve or "general reserves," if carried in separate funds, in such sum or sums as the county boards of supervisors shall deem sufficient, for the fiscal year for which the budget is intended to apply, to meet the cash requirements of any fund to which the county's credit may be legally extended for that portion of such fiscal year prior to the receipt of taxes therein. Sums withdrawn from such "reserves" shall be returned thereto out of the respective appropriations in favor of which they were so withdrawn, and the amount thereof if found excessive, may, at the end of the fiscal year, be reduced by the county board of supervisors by applying such excess to the reduction of the tax levy. It shall be the duty of the county auditor or a deputy designated by him to attend the board's hearings on the matter contained in his tabulation and the preliminary budget, and to furnish said county board of supervisors with any additional data or information it may require.

Preliminary budget

Said tabulation with such revisions, additions, or changes as have been made therein as herein provided, shall constitute the preliminary county budget for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply. Said budget in which shall be set forth the auditor's tabulation and each individual estimate required as per Subdivisions 1 and 2 hereof, shall, on or before the tenth day of August of each year at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct, be printed or mimeographed in full in pamphlet form in quantities sufficient to supply one copy to each taxpayer requesting same, and said county board of supervisors shall on or before such date cause to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation throughout the county, notice that said budget has been prepared and is available for distribution to the taxpayers desiring a copy thereof. Such printed or mimeographed budget shall show such tabulation and fiscal information as the State Controller may prescribe in order to provide for uniform reports as between various counties; provided, however, that any county may without disturbing the uniformity of data prescribed add to the information required or show the same in more detail. Such notice shall also set forth that on a date named therein, which date shall be not less than 10 days subsequent to date that said budget is available to taxpayers desiring a copy thereof, the county board of supervisors will meet for the purpose of fixing the final budget designating the time and place of such meeting, and setting forth that any taxpayer may appear thereat and be heard for or against any part of said budget.

Hearing on preliminary budget

4. On or before the twentieth day of August of each year at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct, said board, shall meet at the time and place designated in the notice, provided in Subdivision 3 hereof, at which time and place any taxpayer may appear and be heard for or against any part of such budget. Such hearing shall be continued from day to day until concluded, but not to exceed a total of 10 days; provided, however, that such hearing shall be concluded before the expiration of 10 days if there are no requests or applications on file with the board for further hearing. The county board of supervisors shall have power to call in the official or person in charge of any office, department, service, institution, or district, other than school districts at the time the estimates for their respective offices are under consideration, for examination concerning such estimates, and such official or person shall be called by said county board of supervisors upon the request of any taxpayer for questioning upon such estimates.

The board of supervisors shall set aside at least one day of the period within which a hearing on the budget may be had, at which any authorized officer of any city within the county may appear and be heard on matters pertaining to the financing of streets, roads and highways both within and without the incorporated areas of the county.

Adoption of budget

Upon the conclusion of such hearing but not later than the thirtieth day of August of each year at such time as the county board of supervisors may direct, said board shall by resolution, adopt the budget as so finally determined, which resolution may specify appropriations by general classes for "salaries and wages," "maintenance and operation," and "interest and debt redemption," and shall specify by items all appropriations for "capital outlays" and shall file in their offices a copy of the completed budget. The several amounts specified in the resolution as finally enacted, shall be and become appropriated for the several offices, departments, services, institutions or districts, for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply; provided, however, that if the budget as adopted, for any fund, special or school district, requires a tax levy greater than the legal limit as determined by the equalized valuations as shown on the assessment roll, such budget shall be decreased so as to come within the legal requirements, and this revised amount shall be the amount deemed to be appropriated for such purposes for such fiscal year. Nothing in this section shall be construed as removing or in any way affecting any tax limit heretofore fixed by law.

Tax rate and levy

5. The county board of supervisors shall, not later than the first day of September, fix the rates of county and district taxes designating the number of cents levied for each fund upon each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed value of the county for the current fiscal year to raise the amount of the estimated expenditures as finally determined, less the total of the estimated revenues from sources other than taxation, including available surplus, and such expenditures as are to be made from bond sources, and must levy the State, county and district taxes. All taxes shall be levied, upon the taxable property in the county, as provided by law, in specific sums, and the tax for county and local purposes shall not exceed the amount specified in the budget, after allowing for delinquency as provided by law; provided, that it shall not be lawful for any board of supervisors of any county in the State to levy, nor shall any tax greater than seventy-five cents ($0.75) on each hundred dollars ($100) of property be levied and collected in any one year, to pay the bonded indebtedness or judgments arising therefrom, of this State, or of any county or municipality in this State.

Copy of budget and tax levies to Controller

Estimate adopted constitutes appropriation

The estimates of expenditures, classified as required in Subdivision 2 hereof, and as finally fixed and adopted by said county board of supervisors, shall constitute the appropriations for the county for the fiscal year to which the budget is intended to apply and the county board of supervisors and every other county official, or person, including township officers and judges of any court of record, shall be limited in the making of expenditures or the incurring of liabilities to the amount of such appropriations and classifications respectively; provided, that upon a resolution, formally adopted by the county board of supervisors at a regular or special meeting, and entered upon its minutes, transfers or revisions within the general classes of "salaries and wages," "maintenance and operation," and "capital outlay" may be made. Transfers between the general classes provided in Subdivision 2 hereof, shall not be permitted; provided, that in the case of road and bridge maintenance appropriations, any lawful transfer, deemed necessary, may be made; and it is further provided, that the county board of supervisors may by a four-fifths vote of the members present at any meeting of which all members have had reasonable notice cancel any appropriation in whole or in part that is not needed, and return such amount to the "unappropriated reserve" of the fund from which such appropriation was originally made.

Bond issue

Where any budget shall contain an expenditure program to be financed from a bond issue to be authorized thereafter, no such expenditure shall be made or obligations therefor incurred, except such preliminary expenditures as may be now provided by law, until such bonds have been duly authorized and sold. Expenditures made, liabilities incurred, or warrants issued in excess of any of the budget appropriations as originally determined, or as thereafter increased from the "unappropriated reserves" or as thereafter revised by transfer, as herein provided, shall not be a liability of the county, but the official making or incurring such expenditure in an amount known by him to be in excess of the available balance of the appropriation against which it is drawn, shall be liable therefor personally and upon his official bond. The county board of supervisors shall approve no claim, and the county auditor shall issue no warrant for any expenditure in excess of said budget appropriations, as finally adopted or as thereafter increased from the "unappropriated reserves" or by a transfer as herein provided by said county board of supervisors, or as revised under the provisions herein except upon an order of a court of competent jurisdiction, or for an emergency, as hereinafter provided. Limitations

Nothing herein contained shall be construed as affecting any authority now granted the county board of supervisors to enter into any contract for governmental services for a period exceeding one year; provided, that such contract shall only be considered an encumbrance of the fund from which it is to be liquidated in the amount of indebtedness accruing to June 30th of each fiscal year covered by such contract. Construction

It is expressly provided that school districts are included herein for the sole purpose of making possible the printing or mimeographing of a proposed expenditure program of moneys collected through county and district tax levies, in order to make possible a ready analysis of such tax levies by the taxpayers and county officials of the county, and it is further expressly provided that nothing in this section shall be construed as requiring any greater detail in school district budgets, nor as allowing any control, alteration or revision thereof or expenditure thereunder not heretofore provided by law, nor as placing any penalty upon any action of any school district board or officer not so heretofore provided. School districts included

6. Upon the happening of any emergency caused by fire, flood, explosion, storm, earthquake, epidemic, riot, or insurrection, or for the immediate preservation of order or of public health, or for the restoration to a condition of usefulness of any public property, the usefulness of which has been destroyed by accident, or for the relief of a stricken community, overtaken by calamity, or the settlement of approved claims for personal injuries, or for property damages, exclusive of claims arising from the operation of any public utilities, owned by the county, or to meet mandatory expenditures required by law, the county board of supervisors may upon the adoption, by a four-fifths vote of the members present at any meeting, of the time and place of which all the members Emergency expenditures of such board shall have had reasonable notice, of a resolution stating the facts constituting the emergency and entering the same upon the minutes, make the expenditure necessary to meet such emergency.

All emergency expenditures shall be paid by warrant from any moneys on hand in the county treasury, in any fund properly chargeable with such expenditure, and the county treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to pay such warrants out of any moneys in the treasury in such fund. If, at any time, there shall be insufficient moneys on hand in the treasury to pay any of such warrants, then such warrant shall be registered, bear interest, and be called in the manner provided by law for other county warrants.

Unencumbered balances

The unencumbered balance remaining in any fund at the end of the fiscal year shall be carried over to the credit of such fund for the next fiscal year, and shall be deducted from the amount finally determined as necessary to be expended by that fund, for such fiscal year; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting the right of a county to levy, budget, and expend for highway purposes, the maximum tax provided in Sections 2653 and 4041 of the Political Code in addition to such unencumbered balance; provided, that all balances remaining to the credit of any fund which is not to be continued in the succeeding fiscal year, shall revert to the general fund, except as to such funds as belong to special districts and are not a part of general county finances.

All contractual services rendered or deliveries made prior to the first day of July of each fiscal year, shall be taken into account as expenditures of the year in progress.

Reappropriation

If at the beginning of any fiscal year the appropriations necessary for the support of the various county officers, departments, services, institutions or districts for such fiscal year shall not have been made, the several amounts appropriated in the budget of the preceding year for the objects and purposes therein specified, so far as the same shall relate to the operation and maintenance expenses, shall be deemed to be reappropriated for the several objects and purposes specified in said previous year budget until the county board of supervisors shall complete the budget for the current fiscal year and the county auditor shall approve the payments necessary for the support of the various county offices, departments, services, institutions, or districts on the basis of the appropriations of the preceding fiscal year.

Monthly statement by county auditor

7. On or before the tenth day of each month, or such other date in any month as the county board of supervisors may direct, the county auditor shall submit to the county board of supervisors a statement showing such information with respect to the condition of each separate budget appropriation as the county board of supervisors may require.

8. It is hereby made the duty of the State Controller to prescribe forms, to initiate or approve changes therein whenever in his judgment same are advisable, and to promulgate such rules, regulations and classifications as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this act. Duty of State Controller

9. Nothing in this section shall be deemed or construed to apply to, control, or affect the powers, operation, taxes or taxing power of any district in the county whose affairs and funds are not under the supervision and control of the county board of supervisors. Exemption

10. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more of the sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases, be declared unconstitutional. Constitutionality

11. All acts and parts of acts in conflict with this act are hereby repealed. Repeal

12. Inasmuch as this act provides the method by which the appropriations for the usual current expenses of the various counties and districts of the State are to be prepared and submitted and inasmuch as this information and data must be compiled before the beginning of the next fiscal year, it is hereby declared an urgency measure and shall under the provisions of Section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California take effect immediately. Levy of sales tax. Rate

6051. For the privilege of selling tangible personal property at retail a tax is hereby imposed upon all retailers at the rate of 2½ per cent of the gross receipts of any retailer from the sale of all tangible personal property sold at retail in this State on or after August 1, 1933, and to and including June 30, 1935, and at the rate of 3 per cent thereafter, and at the rate of 2½ per cent on and after July 1, 1943, and to and including June 30, 1945, and at the rate of 3 per cent thereafter.

D. Effect of Approval. When any plan under this Section 16.02 shall have been approved by the commissioner, such plan shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association and all of the investors and creditors of such association, other than investors and creditors who shall have filed with the commissioner written dissents from such plan within the time specified in Subsection B of this Section 16.02 and shall not have withdrawn such dissents. Thereupon such steps shall be taken by the commissioner, such association and all other persons affected by such plan, and all acts shall be done, all instruments executed and all securities issued, as may be required by such plan so approved and as may be necessary or desirable for the consummation of such plan. The commissioner shall supervise and direct the consummation of such plan.

Consummation

Withdrawal of dissent

E. Rights of Dissenters. No investor or creditor who shall have filed with the commissioner his written dissent from such plan within the time specified in Subsection B of this Section 16.02 shall be entitled to receive any securities or other participation under such plan (except from payments to the commissioner pursuant to provisions of the plan referred to in the next paragraph) unless such dissent shall be withdrawn, but the commissioner shall set apart and shall thereafter liquidate for such dissenters that part of the assets of such association which in value shall bear the same proportion to all of the assets of such association (due provision being made for any liens, charges, liabilities and expenses entitled to payment in preference to certificate holders and unsecured creditors) as the value of investment certificates in respect of which dissents have been duly filed plus the amount of claims of unsecured creditors in respect of which dissents shall have been duly filed bears to the total sum of the value of all investment certificates of such association plus the amount of all unsecured creditors' claims against such association (such proportion being hereinafter referred to as the "proportion of dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors"); provided, that in all cases the assets so set apart for liquidation shall be of such amount and value that the probable result of the liquidation of such assets for the benefit of the dissenting investors and creditors and of any payments to the commissioner pursuant to the provisions of the plan referred to in the next paragraph shall be not less favorable to the dissenting investors and creditors than the probable result of a liquidation, in the absence of a plan, of all of the assets for the benefit of all investors and creditors.

Setting aside of assets

It is recognized that the proportion of dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors may not be the same as the proportion which the value of shares in respect of which dissents have been duly filed bears to the total value of all shares of such association (hereinafter referred to as the "proportion of dissenting shareholders") or as the proportion which the value of stock in respect of which dissents have been duly filed bears to the total stock of such association (hereinafter referred to as the "proportion of dissenting stockholders"). Accordingly, any plan approved under this Section 16.02 shall provide that if the liquidation of assets set apart pursuant to this Subsection E shall result in the distribution to dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors of the full amounts to which they are entitled and leave additional amounts available for distribution to shareholders or stockholders, such additional amounts shall be either (a) increased (in the event the proportion of dissenting shareholders or the proportion of dissenting stockholders shall be greater than the proportion of dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors) by payments from the association, or from a corporation or trustee to whom assets of such association are to be transferred pursuant to such plan to the commissioner for distribution to dissenting shareholders or dissenting stockholders or (b) decreased (in the event the proportion of dissenting shareholders or the proportion of dissenting stockholders shall be less than the proportion of dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors) by payments from the commissioner to the association, or to a corporation or trustee to whom assets of such association are to be transferred pursuant to such plan. In either case the amounts to be so paid shall be determined by the amounts available for distribution to shareholders or stockholders, respectively, as the result of liquidation by the commissioner of the assets set apart pursuant to this Subsection E and shall be such as to overcome any inequity which would exist in the absence of such payment by reason of the differences between the proportion of dissenting certificate holders and unsecured creditors, the proportion of dissenting shareholders, and the proportion of dissenting stockholders.

Statement of assets set apart

Upon approving a plan of reorganization the commissioner shall determine what assets shall be set apart pursuant to this Subsection E and shall cause a written statement of such determination, including a description of the properties to be so set apart, to be filed in each of his offices. Thereupon the commissioner shall cause notice of the fact that he has made such determination (which notice shall include in general terms a statement of the properties to be so set apart) to be given as follows: Such notice shall be posted in three public places in the county in which such association maintains its office, shall be published at least once in a newspaper of general circulation in said county, and shall be mailed to all investors and creditors whose respective addresses appear on the books of such association.

Application for court hearing

F. Action in Superior Court. Within 30 days after such notice shall have been posted, published and mailed as aforesaid any investor or creditor may apply to the superior court of the county in which such association maintains its office for a determination as to whether the assets set apart pursuant to Subsection E of this Section 16.02 are sufficient in amount and value to conform to the requirements of such subsection.

Notice of hearing

Thereafter such application or applications shall be set for hearing. At least 30 days' notice of such hearing shall be given by posting in three public places in said county, and, if the court shall so require, notice shall also be given by publication and/or mailing at such time or times and in such manner as the court shall prescribe.

Evidence

At such hearing the written statement of the commissioner of his determination as to the assets to be set apart shall be received and shall be prima facie evidence of the correctness of such determination, but the commissioner, the association and any investor or creditor (whether or not dissenting) may introduce evidence in support of or in opposition to the commissioner's determination.

Order

After the conclusion of such hearing the court shall make its order either approving or disapproving such determination by the commissioner, and if the court shall disapprove such determination, the court shall determine and specify in such order the assets to be set apart pursuant to Subsection E of this Section 16.02.

Postponement of plan

G. Appeals. No appeal from such order of court shall stay or postpone the consummation of the plan, unless such court shall deem it necessary to delay such consummation for the proper protection of the appellant or appellants, but in lieu of requiring the consummation of the plan to be delayed such court may restrain the sale, transfer or other disposition by the commissioner, the association or a corporation or trustee to whom assets are to be transferred, of any assets specified by the court, if the retention of such assets is found by the court necessary or advisable to protect the rights of the appellant or appellants.

Restraint on sale

Proposal of plan

Sec. 16.03. Reorganization by Court. A plan of reorganization may be proposed in court pursuant to this Section 16.03 for an association of which the property, business and assets are in the possession of the commissioner. A plan of reorganization of such association may be proposed pursuant to this Section 16.03 (1) by the commissioner, or (2) by the holders of 25 per cent in value of the outstanding investment certificates of the association, or (3) if there are no investment certificates outstanding, by the holders of 25 per cent in value of the outstanding free shares of the association.

Invitation to join

Upon the petition of the holders of 15 per cent in value of the certificates, or, if there are no certificates outstanding, of the holders of 15 per cent in value of the free shares, the court shall order the commissioner to send to all certificate holders, or, if there are no certificates outstanding, to all holders of free shares, an invitation to join in proposing to the court a plan of reorganization, together with any arguments in favor of such proposal prepared by such petitioners. Provided, the form and contents of such invitation and arguments shall be subject to approval by the court as fair and reasonable; and provided further, that the expense of preparation and distribution shall be borne by such petitioners.

Time limit

Provided, however, that no plan may be presented to the court by certificate holders or holders of free shares as provided above, unless it is so presented within nine months after the commissioner has taken possession of the property, business and assets of the association, or, in the case of an association the property, business and assets of which now are in the possession of the commissioner, within nine months after this act shall take effect.

Petition

A. Procedure. Such plan shall be presented by the proposer or proposers to the superior court of the county in which such association maintained or maintains its principal office, with a petition that the court determine the fairness of such plan and what consents are requisite to such plan becoming operative, which petition shall set forth such plan and the fact that it is proposed by a person or persons authorized under this Section 16.03 to propose it and any other facts which such proposer or proposers shall deem material to a consideration of the fairness of such plan. If the commissioner is not the proposer of the plan, the court shall refer the plan to the commissioner and direct him to analyze the plan and the condition of the association. Within 30 days or such additional time as the court may grant, the commissioner shall return the plan to the court with his findings and recommendations, and may propose to the court his own plan. Thereupon the court shall fix the time and place for hearing on the plan presented by petition and on the plan presented by the commissioner, if any, and shall direct that notice of such hearing be given as hereafter provided and shall direct the commissioner to deliver to the clerk of the court, a list of the names and addresses of the investors and creditors of such association as shown by the records of such association, and such other information as the court may deem necessary or proper, whereupon the commissioner shall comply with such direction. Thereafter the clerk of the court shall give at least 30 days' notice of such hearing to the investors and creditors of such association (and to such association, if not the proposer or proposers of such plan), which notice shall include either a copy of such plan or plans or a summary thereof, and a statement that any interested stockholder, shareholder, certificate holder or creditor shall have the right, without the necessity of formal intervention, to appear either in support of a plan or in opposition thereto or may propose a modification or modifications. Such notice shall be approved by the court. The above mentioned list of names and addresses of the investors and creditors

Findings and recommendations

Notice of hearing, etc

delivered to the clerk of the court shall be impounded by him and shall not be subject to inspection except upon order of the court and upon such terms and conditions as the court may prescribe.

Hearing

B. Hearing. At the time and place fixed for such hearing, or at the time and place to which such hearing may be continued by the court, the court shall hear the parties interested therein and, if it deems it necessary, may take testimony relative thereto and/or may receive depositions relative thereto. Such hearing shall be given the same preference as a hearing upon an application for an injunction. At such hearing any interested stockholder, shareholder, certificate holder or creditor may propose a modification or modifications of any plan then before the court or a different plan.

Approval or disapproval

No plan shall be approved by the court unless the court is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable, and feasible. After the completion of such hearing the court forthwith shall approve, modify and approve, or disapprove such plan or plans. No such plan shall become operative unless and until it shall have been approved, in its original form or if modified, in its modified form, by such court, nor unless and until such plan shall have been consented to, after the approval of such plan by the court, by the following persons: (a) if such association shall have stock outstanding, then by the holders of a majority in amount of the stock of such association; (b) if such association shall have shares outstanding, then by the holders of a majority in value of the shares of such association; (c) if such association shall have investment certificates outstanding, then by the holders of two-thirds in value of the investment certificates of such association; and (d) if such association shall have creditors, then by two-thirds in amount of each class of creditors of such association; provided, however, that such consents shall not be required in the case of any certificate holder, shareholder or creditor, or of any class of certificate holders, shareholders or creditors, if (1) the rights of such person or persons shall not be materially and adversely affected by such plan or (2) if such plan shall provide for the payment in cash of the value of the investment certificates, shares or claims held by such person or persons either promptly upon such plan becoming operative or, if the amount or validity of such investment certificates, shares or claims shall not have been finally determined, promptly upon such final determination with further provision in such plan for reserving adequate funds to make such payment upon such final determination; provided further, that such consents shall not be required from the shareholders of any association if the value of the assets of such association shall be less than the liabilities of such association including the value of its investment certificates but not including the value of its shares, nor from the stockholders of

The approval by the court of the plan shall be in writing. The court shall make an order fixing a time and place for a further hearing to determine what consents have been given, and directing the clerk of the court to mail, or cause to be mailed, to each of the stockholders, shareholders, investment certificate holders and creditors of such association, a notice of the time and place fixed for said hearing, a copy or summary of such plan, a statement setting forth the consents necessary to such plan becoming operative and a notice that all parties desiring to consent or dissent may file written consents or dissents with the clerk of the court before the time fixed for said hearing or to which said hearing may be continued. At the time and place so fixed, or any continuance thereof ordered by the court, the court shall take evidence on that subject and upon satisfactory proof at such time of the fact that the requisite number of consents have been given, a further order may be entered providing that such plan shall become operative, which further order shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association, and all its investors and creditors.

Notice

Hearing and order

During the pendency of a proceeding under this Section 16.03 the court shall not stay by reason of the pendency of such proceeding further proceedings in liquidation by the commissioner, but hearing upon any application under Section 13.12 may be stayed, in the discretion of the court; and the court in which the petition under this Section 16.03 is pending is hereby given jurisdiction, if a plan is approved and by the court declared operative, to enjoin thereafter, the commencement or continuance of any action or proceeding against such association or any act, action or proceeding to enforce a lien or charge upon, or to obtain possession of, or to sell or otherwise dispose of (except in conformity with such plan), any property of such association, and to determine all questions required to be determined pursuant to this Section 16.03 including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: Whether the association subject to such plan is included in the class specified in this section as subject to reorganization; whether any plan, either in its original or modified form is fair and equitable; whether it is feasible; whether the plan is more advantageous than liquidation from the standpoint of each class of investors and creditors affected thereby; the liabilities of such association and the value of the assets thereof; the consents requisite under this Section 16.03 to such plan becoming operative, including jurisdiction to determine, for the purposes of the plan and the consents or dissents thereto, the division of the investors and creditors into classes according to the nature of their respective rights and interests. If, pursuant to Section 16.05, provision has been made in any plan for the payment in cash in full of all certificate holders, shareholders and creditors each of whose investment certificates, shares or claims is of such value, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), as shall be specified in such plan, all investment certificates, shares and claims to be paid in cash pursuant to such provision shall be excluded in computing the consents required or given under this Subsection B.

Compensation and reimbursement for costs, etc.

If the court shall approve a plan of reorganization, either in its original form or in modified form, the court may allow reasonable compensation for services rendered, and reimbursements for proper costs and expenses incurred by the persons who were the proposer or proposers of such plan and their attorneys. In fixing such allowance the court shall give consideration only to the services which contributed to the plan approved by the court, or to the refusal of the court's approval of a different plan or plans, or which were beneficial in the proceedings under this Section 16.03, and to the proper costs and expenses incidental thereto.

Payment

All expenses of and charges against the clerk of the court in connection with the mailing, posting and publication referred to in this Section 16.03 shall be paid from the assets of the association in question by the commissioner.

Delivery of plan

C. Building and Loan Commissioner. The proposer or proposers of a plan shall deliver a copy thereof to the commissioner or to one of his deputies either before the petition referred to in Subsection A of this Section 16.03 shall have been filed in court or within two days thereafter. A copy of said plan shall be kept by the commissioner available for public inspection at each of his offices in this State. In the case of any plan pursuant to this Section 16.03 under which all or any part of the business, properties or assets of such association is to be retained by, returned to or transferred to any association (other than a Federal savings and loan association or an association which, pursuant to the plan, is to cease being an association), such plan shall not be approved by the court unless it shall have been first consented to by the commissioner.

Notice of appearance

In any proceeding under this Section 16.03 the commissioner shall if requested by the court, and may upon his own motion, file a notice of his appearance in such proceeding. Upon the filing of such a notice the commissioner shall be deemed to be a party in interest, with the right to be heard on all matters arising in such proceeding, and shall be deemed to have intervened in respect of all matters in such proceeding with the same force and effect as if a petition for that purpose had been allowed by the court.

Binding effect on approval

D. Effect of Approval and Consents. When any plan under this Section 16.03 shall have been so approved by the court and shall have been consented to by or on behalf of the respective required proportions of the investors and creditors, such plan shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association, and all of the investors and creditors of such association. Thereupon such steps shall be taken by the commissioner, such association and all other persons affected by such plan, and all acts shall be done, all instruments executed and all securities issued, as may be required by such plan so approved and as may be necessary or desirable for the consummation of such plan. The association, the commissioner, or such person as the court shall appoint, shall supervise and direct the consummation of the plan subject to the orders of the court.

Consummation of plan

Withdrawal of assets

Sec. 16.04. Withdrawal of Assets. When the property, business and assets of an association are in the possession of the commissioner, unless he is enjoined from proceeding with liquidation under the provisions of this act, investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors of such association may withdraw to themselves or to a corporation nominated by them assets of such association upon the approval of the superior court after notice given and hearing held in the manner hereafter provided in this section.

Petition

A. Procedure. The holders of at least 25 per cent in value of the aggregate outstanding investment certificates of an association, the business, property and assets of which are in the possession of the commissioner, together with any unsecured creditors of such association then desiring to join with them, may themselves, or through a corporation nominated by and representing them, petition the superior court of the county in which the principal office of such association is situated to exchange their investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims for their proportionate share of the assets of such association. Such petition, among other things, shall set forth, in general terms, the method by which the withdrawal of assets is to be accomplished, the interests to be acquired by investors and unsecured creditors should said petition be granted, and whether a corporation is to acquire such assets, and if so, such petition shall also set forth the kind or kinds of securities to be issued by such corporation and the classes of persons to whom such securities are proposed to be issued. A copy of said petition shall be served upon the commissioner or one of his deputies prior to the filing thereof or within three days after the filing thereof. Upon the filing of said petition the court shall fix the time and place for the hearing of such petition and shall direct that the commissioner shall give at least 30 days' notice to investors and creditors of such hearing. The form of such notice shall be approved by order of the court, which order may be made without notice; and the commissioner shall cause such notice to be given. The petitioner or petitioners or their nominee may request other investors and unsecured creditors of such association to join in said petition.

B. Investors and Creditors Joining in Petition. At any time prior to such hearing investors and unsecured creditors of such association not represented by the petitioner or petitioners at the time of the filing of such petition may join with and be represented by the petitioner or petitioners by filing with the court, either directly or through the petitioner or petitioners, a written consent to join in said petition, and thereupon such investors and unsecured creditors shall be deemed to have joined in said petition.

Appraiser

C. Hearing. At least 10 days before such hearing the commissioner shall serve upon the petitioner or petitioners and shall file with the court an appraisal by the commissioner or by appraisers employed by him of each asset of such association (or of each group of assets which are operated as a unit), and such appraisal shall be received in evidence at such hearing and shall be deemed prima facie correct. In such appraisal the various assets shall be classified by the commissioner according to the character of such assets and their operation. At the hearing the court shall determine the total amount of investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims represented by the petitioner or petitioners, and what ratio such total bears to the total amount of investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims outstanding. At the hearing, the commissioner, the petitioner or petitioners, or any other certificate holder or unsecured creditor, may recommend to the court the assets to be segregated, and the court shall determine such segregation and shall allot to the withdrawing certificate holders and unsecured creditors their proportionate share of the assets, and the commissioner shall retain the remainder for liquidation for the benefit of the nonwithdrawing investors and unsecured creditors. Such segregation shall be made so far as practicable by designating for withdrawal approximately the same proportion of each class of assets, the intent being so far as practicable to secure for the withdrawing certificate holders and unsecured creditors a fair and equitable cross-section of the assets, and to retain for the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and unsecured creditors a fair and equitable cross-section of the assets.

Granting of petition

The court shall determine whether such proposed withdrawal is fair both to the withdrawing and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors, and if the court shall determine that such withdrawal is fair as aforesaid, shall grant such petition. No petition for withdrawal of assets shall be granted by the court unless the court is satisfied that the proposed withdrawal of assets in exchange for investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims is fair both to the withdrawing and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors, nor unless the court determines that the ratio which the value of the assets to be withdrawn bears to the value of all of the assets is substantially the same as the ratio which the value of the investment certificates and the amount of unsecured creditors' claims owned by the petitioner or petitioners bears to the total of the value of all investment certificates and the amount of all unsecured creditors' claims. In such determination the court shall give due consideration to liabilities and encumbrances affecting particular assets or groups of assets. If such association has shares outstanding, no petition for withdrawal of assets shall be granted by the court unless either such withdrawal is consented to by the holders of the majority in amount of the shares of such association or the value of the assets of such association shall be less than the liabilities of such association, including the value of its investment certificates but not including the value of its shares; and if such association has stock outstanding, no petition for withdrawal of assets shall be granted by the court unless either such petition is consented to by the holders of the majority in amount of the stock of such association or the value of the assets of such association shall be less than the liabilities thereof, including the value of all outstanding shares and investment certificates.

Exchange of securities

D. Stockholders. Any corporation which is to acquire any assets of such association may, subject to the provisions of this Subsection D, issue securities to the shareholders and/or stockholders of such association in exchange for their outstanding shares, stock, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash; provided, the issuance of such securities is approved by the court and by the petitioner or petitioners; and provided further, that such securities shall contain express provision that no interest, dividends or other distribution shall be paid or made thereon unless and until such corporation shall have retired all securities issued in exchange for claims of investment certificate holders and claims of unsecured creditors; and provided further, that unless the court finds that the shareholders have an existing equity in the assets of the association, the securities issued to the shareholders shall contain express provision that such securities shall have no voting power until such corporation shall have retired all securities issued in exchange for claims of certificate holders and unsecured creditors, and, that unless the court finds that the stockholders have an existing equity in the assets, the securities issued to the stockholders shall contain express provision that such securities shall have no voting power until such corporation shall have retired all securities issued in exchange for claims of shareholders, certificate holders and unsecured creditors.

Approval or disapproval of petition

E. Effect of Order. After the completion of such hearing the court shall have jurisdiction to approve such petition or to disapprove such petition, or may approve such petition as amended, and shall have authority to approve or disapprove the terms and conditions of the issuance of securities in exchange for outstanding securities, claims, or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash. If such petition or amended petition is approved, the court shall order the commissioner to transfer and deliver to the petitioner or petitioners or to a corporation nominated by them the assets selected by the petitioner or petitioners and approved by the court; and upon the transfer and delivery of said assets to the petitioner or petitioners or to such corporation in exchange for investment certificates and/or unsecured creditors' claims in compliance with the order of court, the powers of the commissioner with respect to said assets shall terminate and such association and the State of California shall be forthwith released from all further liability with respect to the assets thus withdrawn. The order of court approving such petition, amended petition or supplemental petition, shall be binding upon the commissioner, such association and all investors and creditors of such association. The powers and duties of the commissioner and the rights of all investors and unsecured creditors as to the assets of such association not withdrawn hereunder shall not be affected by this section.

Effect

Supplemental petition for asset withdrawal

F. Supplemental Petitions. After the approval of such petition and the withdrawal of assets thereunder, the petitioner or petitioners or the corporation to which the assets are withdrawn from time to time may file a supplemental petition in said court for the withdrawal of additional assets in exchange for additional investment certificates and/or unsecured creditors' claims aggregating not less than 10 per cent of the total investment certificates and unsecured creditors' claims outstanding at the time of the first withdrawal of assets. Thereupon such supplemental petition shall be set for hearing and notice of such hearing shall be given as provided in Subsection A of this Section 16.04 and in Section 16.07. At the hearing on such supplemental petition the court shall order additional assets withdrawn if it determines that such withdrawal is fair both to the petitioner or petitioners or said corporation on the one hand and to the nonwithdrawing certificate holders and creditors on the other hand.

G. Section 13.16a Not Repealed. Nothing in this Section 16.04 nor in this Article 16 is intended or shall be construed to repeal Section 13.16a of this act. Construction

Sec. 16.05. Priorities and Value. In any plan proposed pursuant to Section 16.02 or Section 16.03 due consideration shall be given to the rights and interests of all persons affected thereby (with due regard to the feasibility of such plan and the condition of such association), in the following order of priorities: First, secured creditors and other persons, if any, entitled to preference over investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors in the event of liquidation; second, investment certificate holders and unsecured creditors, without preference to one over the other; third, shareholders; and fourth, stockholders; provided, however, that provision may be made in any such plan for the payment in full of all taxes, assessments, insurance, alterations, repairs and other operating expenses, for the payment of expenses of the commissioner in connection with such association or its property, business or assets or in connection with any application of such association under Section 13.12 of this act, and for the payment of expenses in connection with such plan as authorized by this article; and provided further, that provision may be made in any such plan for the payment in cash in full of all certificate holders, shareholders and creditors each of whose investment certificates, shares or claims is of such value, not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), as shall be specified in such plan. Priorities. Payment of expenses, etc.

No plan which provides for the issuance of securities to holders of stock shall be approved unless such securities contain express provision that no interest, dividends or other distribution shall be paid or made thereon unless and until all securities issued in exchange for claims of investment certificate holders, claims of unsecured creditors, and claims of shareholders, if any, have been retired; it being the intent that under such plan each investment certificate holder and unsecured creditor (except those who shall sell or otherwise dispose of their new securities) shall receive the full amount of their original investment, with interest, dividends, or other return thereon before any interest, dividends or other distribution is paid or made on securities issued to shareholders or stockholders, or both, as aforesaid. A plan may provide, however, for the issuance of such securities to the stockholders that after all creditors, certificate holders and shareholders (except those who shall sell or otherwise dispose of their new securities) shall receive the full amount of their original investments or claims, with interest, dividends or other return thereon, the stockholders or their assigns shall own in effect, through their ownership of such securities issued to the stockholders, the remaining assets. Unless the court finds that the shareholders have an existing equity in the assets of the association, the securities issued to the shareholders shall contain express provision that such securities shall have no voting power until such corporation shall have retired all securities Retirement of securities. issued in exchange for claims of certificate holders and unsecured creditors, and, unless the court finds that the stockholders have an existing equity in the assets, the securities issued to the stockholders shall contain express provision that such securities shall have no voting power until such corporation shall have retired all securities issued in exchange for claims of shareholders, certificate holders and unsecured creditors.

Asset valuation

For the purposes of this article, real property, contracts for the sale of real property, loans, and all other assets (whether like or unlike the foregoing) shall be valued at fair market value, and any assets subject to encumbrance shall be valued with due allowance for the amount of such encumbrance. In determining such fair market value, the court or the commissioner, as the case may be, shall give due consideration to the earning power of the property, past, present, and prospective.

Appearance

Sec. 16.06. Hearing. At any hearing before the commissioner pursuant to Section 16.02 or before the court pursuant to Section 16.03 or Section 16.04 any interested certificate holder, shareholder, stockholder or creditor shall have the right to appear either in support of the plan or plans or petition or in opposition thereto; and any such hearing shall be, among other things, upon the fairness of the terms and conditions of the issuance of all securities to be issued pursuant to such plan or plans or petition and of the exchange thereof for outstanding securities, claims or property interests, or partly in such exchange and partly for cash, and all persons to whom it is proposed to issue securities in such exchange shall have the right to appear at such hearing; and the commissioner or court (as the case may be) is hereby authorized to determine whether the terms and conditions of such proposed issuance and exchange of securities are fair and, if so, to grant approval of such terms and conditions.

Subjects of hearing

Contents

Sec. 16.07. Notices. Wherever provision is made in this article for at least a specified number of days' notice to investors and creditors of a hearing, such notice shall state the time and place of such hearing and shall be (a) mailed by first-class mail in sealed envelopes, postage prepaid, to each investor and creditor at his address as shown by the books of such association, or, if no address be there shown, at the city or town in which such association has or last had its principal place of business; (b) posted in three public places in the county in which such city or town is located; and (c) published once in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county. Such mailing, posting and publication shall be made at least the specified number of days before the date fixed for such hearing. Section 8.08 of this act shall not apply to such notices.

Methods

General powers and jurisdiction

Sec. 16.08. Building and Loan Commissioner. The commissioner shall have and may exercise the same jurisdiction, authority and powers with respect to any business, properties or assets retained by or delivered to the commissioner pursuant to any plan as the commissioner shall have with respect to the business, properties and assets of any association of which the commissioner has taken possession; and the commissioner shall have and may exercise the same jurisdiction, authority and powers with respect to any association (excepting a Federal savings and loan association) formed pursuant to any plan or by or to which any business, properties or assets may be retained or returned or transferred pursuant to any plan (excepting a Federal savings and loan association or an association which, pursuant to the plan, is to cease being an association) as the commissioner would have of such association if it had been formed or had acquired its business, properties and assets by means other than a plan.

Continuing supervision

If any part of the business, properties and assets are to be retained by or transferred to a corporation which is not to be an association or a Federal savings and loan association, the plan may provide for the continuing examination or supervision of such corporation by the commissioner and may provide for the right of the commissioner to appoint some or all of the directors of such corporation (including appointments to fill vacancies), and the commissioner shall have and may exercise any and all powers of such continuing examination, supervision or appointment conferred upon him by a plan which has been approved and become operative.

Payment of expenses
