Each report of occupational injury or occupational illness shall indicate the social security number of the injured employee. If the treatment is for pesticide poisoning or a condition suspected to be pesticide poisoning, the physician shall also file a complete report, which need not include the affidavit required pursuant to this section, with the Division of Labor Statistics and Research, and within 24 hours of the initial examination shall file a complete report with the local health officer by facsimile transmission or other means. If the treatment is for pesticide poisoning or a condition suspected to be pesticide poisoning, the physician shall not be compensated for the initial diagnosis and treatment unless the report is filed with the employer, or if insured, with the employer's insurer, and includes or is accompanied by a signed affidavit which certifies that a copy of the report was filed with the local health officer pursuant to the requirements of this section.

(b) As used in this section, "occupational illness" means any abnormal condition or disorder caused by exposure to environmental factors associated with employment, including acute and chronic illnesses or diseases which may be caused by inhalation, absorption, ingestion, or direct contact.

any bank organized under the laws of or doing business in this state, any optional bank holiday as defined in Section 7.1 is not a business day; and provided, that any act appointed by law or contract, or in any other way, to be performed on any day which is an optional bank holiday as defined in Section 7.1, by, at, or through any bank or branch or office thereof, whether acting in its own behalf or in any other capacity whatsoever, may be performed on that optional bank holiday if the bank or branch or office by, at, or through which the act is to be performed is open for the transaction of business on that optional bank holiday, or, at the option of the person obligated to perform the act, it may be performed on the next succeeding business day.

SEC. 3. Section 3440.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3440.1. This chapter does not apply to any of the following:

(1) Prior to the date of the intended transfer, the transferor or the transferee files a financing statement, with respect to the property transferred, signed by the transferor. The financing statement shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State in accordance with Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 9401) of Division 9 of the Commercial Code, but may use the terms "transferor" in lieu of "debtor" and "transferee" in lieu of "secured party." The provisions of Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 9401) of Division 9 of the Commercial Code shall apply as appropriate to the financing statement.

(2) The transferor or the transferee publishes a notice of the intended transfer one time in a newspaper of general circulation published in the judicial district in which the personal property is located, if there is one, and if there is none in the judicial district, then in a newspaper of general circulation in the county embracing the judicial district. The publication shall be completed not less than 10 days before the date the transfer occurs. The notice shall contain the name and address of the transferor and transferee and a general statement of the character of the personal property intended to be transferred, and shall indicate the place where the personal property is located and a date on or after which the transfer is to be made.

(i) Personal property not located within this state at the time of the transfer or attachment of the lien if the provisions of this subdivision are not used for the purpose of evading this chapter.

(j) A transfer of property which (1) is subject to a statute or treaty of the United States or a statute of this state that provides for the registration of transfers of title or issuance of certificates of title and (2) is so far perfected under that statute or treaty that a bona fide purchaser cannot acquire an interest in the property transferred that is superior to the interest of the transferee.

(k) A transfer of personal property in connection with a transaction in which the property is immediately thereafter leased by the transferor from the transferee provided the transferee purchased the property for value and in good faith (subdivision (c) of Section 10308 of the Commercial Code).

SEC. 4. Section 3440.9 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3440.9. Subdivision (2) of Section 2402 and subdivision (a) of Section 10308 of the Commercial Code are not restricted by the provisions of this chapter.

(c) A holder to whom a negotiable document of title has been duly negotiated within the meaning of Section 7501 of the Commercial Code.

(d) A purchaser of chattel paper who gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper in the ordinary course of business.

SEC. 6. Section 697.730 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

697.730. (a) Subject to Section 701.630 and except as provided in subdivision (b), if tangible personal property subject to an execution lien is in the custody of a levying officer and is transferred or encumbered, the property remains subject to the lien after the transfer or encumbrance.

(b) If a levy upon tangible personal property of a going business is made by the levying officer placing a keeper in charge of the business, a purchaser or lessee of property subject to the execution lien takes the property free of the execution lien if the purchaser is a buyer in ordinary course of business (as defined in Section 1201 of the Commercial Code) who, under Section 9307 of the Commercial Code, would take free of a security interest created by his or her seller or the lessee is a lessee in ordinary course of business (as defined in paragraph (15) of subdivision (a) of Section 10103 of the Commercial Code) who, under subdivision (c) of Section 10307 of the Commercial Code, would take free of a security interest created by the lessor.

SEC. 7. Section 697.740 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

697.740. Except as provided in Section 9504 of the Commercial Code and in Section 701.630, if personal property subject to an execution lien is not in the custody of a levying officer and the property is transferred or encumbered, the property remains subject to the lien after the transfer or encumbrance except where the transfer or encumbrance is made to one of the following persons:

(a) A person who acquires an interest in the property under the law of this state for reasonably equivalent value without knowledge of the lien. For purposes of this subdivision, value is given for a transfer or encumbrance if, in exchange for the transfer or encumbrance, property is transferred or an antecedent debt is secured or satisfied.

(b) A buyer in ordinary course of business (as defined in Section 1201 of the Commercial Code) who, under Section 9307 of the Commercial Code, would take free of a security interest created by the seller or encumbrancer.

(c) A lessee in ordinary course of business (as defined in paragraph (15) of subdivision (a) of Section 10103 of the Commercial Code) who, under subdivision (c) of Section 10307 of the Commercial Code, would take free of a security interest created by the lessor.

(f) A bona fide purchaser (as defined in Section 8302 of the Commercial Code) of a security.

(g) A purchaser of chattel paper or an instrument who gives new value and takes possession of the chattel paper or instrument in the ordinary course of business.

(h) A holder of a purchase money security interest (as defined in Section 9107 of the Commercial Code).

(i) A collecting bank holding a security interest in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds, pursuant to Section 4210 of the Commercial Code.

(j) A person who acquires any right or interest in letters of credit, advices of credit, or money.

(k) A person who acquires any right or interest in property subject to a certificate of title statute of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate of title is required as a condition of perfection of the security interest.

SEC. 8. Section 1201 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

1201. Subject to additional definitions contained in the subsequent divisions of this code which are applicable to specific divisions or chapters thereof, and unless the context otherwise requires, in this code:

(1) "Action" in the sense of a judicial proceeding includes recoupment, counterclaim, setoff, suit in equity, and any other proceedings in which rights are determined.

(2) "Aggrieved party" means a party entitled to resort to a remedy.

(3) "Agreement" means the bargain of the parties in fact as found in their language or by implication from other circumstances including course of dealing or usage of trade or course of performance as provided in this code (Sections 1205, 2208, and 10207). Whether an agreement has legal consequences is determined by the provisions of this code, if applicable; otherwise by the law of contracts (Section 1103). (Compare "contract.")

(4) "Bank" means any person engaged in the business of banking.

(5) "Bearer" means the person in possession of an instrument, document of title, or certificated security payable to bearer or indorsed in blank.

(6) "Bill of lading" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for shipment issued by a person engaged in the business of transporting or forwarding goods, and which, by its terms, evidences the intention of the issuer that the person entitled under the document (Section 7403(4)) has the right to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. Designation of a document by the issuer as a "bill of lading" is conclusive evidence of such intention. "Bill of lading" includes an airbill. "Airbill" means a document serving for air transportation as a bill of lading does for marine or rail transportation, and includes an air consignment note or air waybill.

(7) "Branch" includes a separately incorporated foreign branch of a bank.

(8) "Burden of establishing" a fact means the burden of persuading the triers of fact that the existence of the fact is more probable than its nonexistence.

(9) "Buyer in ordinary course of business" means a person who in good faith and without knowledge that the sale to him or her is in violation of the ownership rights or security interest of a third party in the goods buys in ordinary course from a person in the business of selling goods of that kind but does not include a pawnbroker. All persons who sell minerals or the like (including oil and gas) at wellhead or mineralhead shall be deemed to be persons in the business of selling goods of that kind. "Buying" may be for cash or by exchange of other property or on secured or unsecured credit and includes receiving goods or documents of title under a preexisting contract for sale but does not include a transfer in bulk or as security for, or in total or partial satisfaction of, a money debt.

(10) "Conspicuous." A term or clause is conspicuous when it is so written that a reasonable person against whom it is to operate ought to have noticed it. A printed heading in capitals (as: NONNEGOTIABLE BILL OF LADING) is conspicuous. Language in the body of a form is "conspicuous" if it is in larger or other contrasting type or color. But in a telegram any stated term is "conspicuous." Whether a term or clause is "conspicuous" or not is for decision by the court.

(11) "Contract" means the total legal obligation which results from the parties' agreement as affected by this code and any other applicable rules of law. (Compare "agreement.")

(12) "Creditor" includes a general creditor, a secured creditor, a lien creditor and any representative of creditors, including an assignee for the benefit of creditors, a trustee in bankruptcy, a receiver in equity and an executor or administrator of an insolvent debtor's or assignor's estate.

(13) "Defendant" includes a person in the position of defendant in a cross-action or counterclaim.

(14) "Delivery" with respect to instruments, documents of title, chattel paper or certificated securities means voluntary transfer of possession.

(15) "Document of title" includes bill of lading, dock warrant, dock receipt, warehouse receipt, gin ticket, compress receipt, and also any other document which in the regular course of business or financing is treated as adequately evidencing that the person entitled under the document (Section 7403(4)) has the right to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. To be a document of title, a document shall purport to be issued by a bailee and purport to cover goods in the bailee's possession which are either identified or are fungible portions of an identified mass.

(16) "Fault" means wrongful act, omission or breach.

(17) "Fungible" with respect to goods or securities means goods or securities of which any unit is, by nature or usage of trade, the equivalent of any other like unit. Goods which are not fungible shall be deemed fungible for the purposes of this code to the extent that under a particular agreement or document unlike units are treated as equivalents.

(18) "Genuine" means free of forgery or counterfeiting.

(19) "Good faith" means honesty in fact in the conduct or transaction concerned.

(20) "Holder," with respect to a negotiable instrument, means the person in possession if the instrument is payable to bearer or, in the case of an instrument payable to an identified person, if the identified person is in possession. "Holder," with respect to a document of title, means the person in possession if the goods are deliverable to bearer or to the order of the person in possession.

(21) To "honor" is to pay or to accept and pay, or where a credit so engages to purchase or discount a draft complying with the terms of the credit.

(22) "Insolvency proceedings" includes any assignment for the benefit of creditors or other proceedings intended to liquidate or rehabilitate the estate of the person involved.

(23) A person is "insolvent" who either has ceased to pay his or her debts in the ordinary course of business or cannot pay his or her debts as they become due or is insolvent within the meaning of the federal bankruptcy law.

(24) "Money" means a medium of exchange authorized or adopted by a domestic or foreign government and includes a monetary unit of account established by an intergovernmental organization or by agreement between two or more nations.

(25) A person has "notice" of a fact when any of the following occurs:

(a) He or she has actual knowledge of it.

(b) He or she has received a notice or notification of it.

(c) From all the facts and circumstances known to him or her at the time in question, he or she has reason to know that it exists. A person "knows" or has "knowledge" of a fact when he or she has actual knowledge of it. "Discover" or "learn" or a word or phrase of similar import refers to knowledge rather than to reason to know. The time and circumstances under which a notice or notification may cease to be effective are not determined by this code.

(26) A person "notifies" or "gives" a notice or notification to another by taking such steps as may be reasonably required to inform the other in ordinary course whether or not the other actually comes to know of it. A person "receives" a notice or notification when any of the following occurs:

(a) It comes to his or her attention.

(b) It is duly delivered at the place of business through which the contract was made or at any other place held out by him or her as the place for receipt of such communications.

(27) Notice, knowledge or a notice or notification received by an organization is effective for a particular transaction from the time when it is brought to the attention of the individual conducting that transaction, and in any event from the time when it would have been brought to his or her attention if the organization had exercised due diligence. An organization exercises due diligence if it maintains reasonable routines for communicating significant information to the person conducting the transaction and there is reasonable compliance with the routines. Due diligence does not require an individual acting for the organization to communicate information unless the communication is part of his or her regular duties or unless he or she has reason to know of the transaction and that the transaction would be materially affected by the information.

(28) "Organization" includes a corporation, government or governmental subdivision or agency, business trust, estate, trust, partnership or association, two or more persons having a joint or common interest, or any other legal or commercial entity.

(29) "Party," as distinct from "third party," means a person who has engaged in a transaction or made an agreement within this division.

(30) "Person" includes an individual or an organization. (See Section 1102.)

(32) "Purchase" includes taking by sale, discount, negotiation, mortgage, pledge, lien, issue or reissue, gift or any other voluntary transaction creating an interest in property.

(33) "Purchaser" means a person who takes by purchase.

(34) "Remedy" means any remedial right to which an aggrieved party is entitled with or without resort to a tribunal.

(35) "Representative" includes an agent, an officer of a corporation or association, and a trustee, executor or administrator of an estate, or any other person empowered to act for another.

(36) "Rights" includes remedies.

(37) (a) "Security interest" means an interest in personal property or fixtures which secures payment or performance of an obligation. The retention or reservation of title by a seller of goods notwithstanding shipment or delivery to the buyer (Section 2401) is limited in effect to a reservation of a "security interest." The term also includes any interest of a buyer of accounts or chattel paper which is subject to Division 9 (commencing with Section 9101). The special property interest of a buyer of goods on identification of those goods to a contract for sale under Section 2401 is not a "security interest," but a buyer may also acquire a "security interest" by complying with Division 9 (commencing with Section 9101). Unless a consignment is intended as security, reservation of title thereunder is not a "security interest," but a consignment in any event is subject to the provisions on consignment sales (Section 2326).

(b) Whether a transaction creates a lease or security interest is determined by the facts of each case; however, a transaction creates a security interest if the consideration the lessee is to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is an obligation for the term of the lease not subject to termination by the lessee, and

(i) The original term of the lease is equal to or greater than the remaining economic life of the goods,

(ii) The lessee is bound to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods or is bound to become the owner of the goods,

(iii) The lessee has an option to renew the lease for the remaining economic life of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement, or

(iv) The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for no additional consideration or nominal additional consideration upon compliance with the lease agreement.

(c) A transaction does not create a security interest merely because it provides that

(i) The present value of the consideration the lessee is obligated to pay the lessor for the right to possession and use of the goods is substantially equal to or is greater than the fair market value of the goods at the time the lease is entered into,

(ii) The lessee assumes risk of loss of the goods, or agrees to pay taxes, insurance, filing, recording, or registration fees, or service or maintenance costs with respect to the goods,

(iii) The lessee has an option to renew the lease or to become the owner of the goods,

(iv) The lessee has an option to renew the lease for a fixed rent that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal at the time the option is to be performed, or

(v) The lessee has an option to become the owner of the goods for a fixed price that is equal to or greater than the reasonably predictable fair market value of the goods at the time the option is to be performed.

(d) For purposes of this subdivision (37):

(i) Additional consideration is not nominal if (A) when the option to renew the lease is granted to the lessee, the rent is stated to be the fair market rent for the use of the goods for the term of the renewal determined at the time the option is to be performed, or (B) when the option to become the owner of the goods is granted to the lessee, the price is stated to be the fair market value of the goods determined at the time the option is to be performed. Additional consideration is nominal if it is less than the lessee's reasonably predictable cost of performing under the lease agreement if the option is not exercised;

(ii) "Reasonably predictable" and "remaining economic life of the goods" are to be determined with reference to the facts and circumstances at the time the transaction is entered into; and

(iii) "Present value" means the amount as of a date certain of one or more sums payable in the future, discounted to the date certain. The discount is determined by the interest rate specified by the parties if the rate is not manifestly unreasonable at the time the transaction is entered into; otherwise, the discount is determined by a commercially reasonable rate that takes into account the facts and circumstances of each case at the time the transaction was entered into.

(38) "Send" in connection with any writing or notice means to deposit in the mail or deliver for transmission by any other usual means of communication with postage or cost of transmission provided for and properly addressed and in the case of an instrument to an address specified thereon or otherwise agreed, or if there be none to any address reasonable under the circumstances. The receipt of any writing or notice within the time at which it would have arrived if properly sent has the effect of a proper sending. When a writing or notice is required to be sent by registered or certified mail, proof of mailing is sufficient, and proof of receipt by the addressee is not required unless the words "with return receipt requested" are also used.

(39) "Signed" includes any symbol executed or adopted by a party with present intention to authenticate a writing.

(40) "Surety" includes guarantor.

(41) "Telegram" includes a message transmitted by radio, teletype, cable, any mechanical method of transmission, or the like.

(42) "Term" means that portion of an agreement which relates to a particular matter.

(43) "Unauthorized" signature means one made without actual, implied, or apparent authority and includes a forgery.

(44) "Value." Except as otherwise provided with respect to negotiable instruments and bank collections (Sections 3303, 4210, and 4211), a person gives "value" for rights if he or she acquires them in any of the following ways:

(a) In return for a binding commitment to extend credit or for the extension of immediately available credit whether or not drawn upon and whether or not a chargeback is provided for in the event of difficulties in collection.

(b) As security for, or in total or partial satisfaction of, a preexisting claim.

(c) By accepting delivery pursuant to a preexisting contract for purchase.

(d) Generally, in return for any consideration sufficient to support a simple contract.

(45) "Warehouse receipt" means a document evidencing the receipt of goods for storage issued by a warehouseman (Section 7102), and which, by its terms, evidences the intention of the issuer that the person entitled under the document (Section 7403(4)) has the right to receive, hold and dispose of the document and the goods it covers. Designation of a document by the issuer as a "warehouse receipt" is conclusive evidence of such intention.

(46) "Written" or "writing" includes printing, typewriting or any other intentional reduction to tangible form.

SEC. 9. Section 2103 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

2103. (1) In this division unless the context otherwise requires

(a) "Buyer" means a person who buys or contracts to buy goods.

(b) "Good faith" in the case of a merchant means honesty in fact and the observance of reasonable commercial standards of fair dealing in the trade.

(c) "Receipt" of goods means taking physical possession of them.

(d) "Seller" means a person who sells or contracts to sell goods.

5103. (1) In this division unless the context otherwise requires

(a) "Credit" or "letter of credit" means an engagement by a bank or other person made at the request of a customer and of a kind within the scope of this division (Section 5102) that the issuer will honor drafts or other demands for payment upon compliance with the conditions specified in the credit. A credit may be either revocable or irrevocable. The engagement may be either an agreement to honor or a statement that a bank or other person is authorized to honor.

(a) The collateral is in the possession of the secured party pursuant to agreement, or the debtor has signed a security agreement which contains a description of the collateral and in addition, when the security interest covers crops growing or to be grown or timber to be cut, a description of the land concerned.

(b) Value has been given.

(c) The debtor has rights in the collateral.

(2) A security interest attaches when it becomes enforceable against the debtor with respect to the collateral. Attachment occurs as soon as all of the events specified in subdivision (1) have taken place unless explicit agreement postpones the time of attaching.

(3) Unless otherwise agreed, a security agreement gives the secured party the rights to proceeds provided by Section 9306.

(4) A transaction, although subject to this division, is also subject to the Retail Installment Sales Act, Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 1801) of Title 2 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code; the Automobile Sales Finance Act, Chapter 2b (commencing with Section 2981) of Title 14 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code; the Industrial Loan Law, Division 7 (commencing with Section 18000) of the Financial Code; the Pawnbroker Law, Division 8 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Financial Code; the Personal Property Brokers Law, Division 9 (commencing with Section 22000) of the Financial Code; the Consumer Finance Lenders Law, Division 10 (commencing with Section 24000) of the Financial Code; the Commercial Finance Lenders Law, Division 11 (commencing with Section 26000) of the Financial Code; and the Mobilehomes-Manufactured Housing Act of 1980, Part 2 (commencing with Section 18000) of Division 13 of the Health and Safety Code, and in the case of conflict between the provisions of this division and that statute, the provisions of that statute control. Failure to comply with any applicable statute has only the effect which is specified in that statute.

SEC. 12. Section 9206 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

9206. (1) Subject to any statute or decision which establishes a different rule for buyers or lessees of consumer goods, an agreement by a buyer or lessee that he will not assert against an assignee any claim or defense which he may have against the seller or lessor is enforceable by an assignee who takes his assignment for value, in good faith and without notice of a claim or defense, except as to defenses of a type which may be asserted against a holder in due course of a negotiable instrument under the division on negotiable instruments (Division 3). A buyer who as part of one transaction signs both a negotiable instrument and a security agreement makes such an agreement.

(2) When a seller retains a purchase money security interest in goods the division on sales (Division 2) governs the sale and any disclaimer, limitation or modification of the seller's warranties.

SEC. 13. Section 9302 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

9302. (1) A financing statement must be filed to perfect all security interests except the following:

(a) A security interest in collateral in possession of the secured party under Section 9305.

(b) A security interest temporarily perfected in instruments or documents without delivery under Section 9304 or in proceeds for a 10-day period under Section 9306.

(c) A security interest created by an assignment of a beneficial interest in a trust or a decedent's estate.

(d) A purchase money security interest in consumer goods; but filing is required for a motor vehicle or boat required to be registered; and fixture filing is required for priority over conflicting interests in fixtures to the extent provided in Section 9313.

(e) A security interest of a collecting bank (Section 4210) or in securities (Section 8321) or arising under the divisions on sales and leases (see Section 9113) or covered in subdivision (3) of this section.

(f) An assignment for the benefit of all the creditors of the transferor, and subsequent transfers by the assignee thereunder.

(g) A security interest in a deposit account. Such a security interest is perfected:

(i) As to a deposit account maintained with the secured party, when the security agreement is executed.

(ii) As to a deposit account not described in subparagraph (i), when notice thereof is given in writing to the organization with whom the deposit account is maintained.

(h) A security interest in or claim in or under any policy of insurance including unearned premiums. Such interest shall be perfected when notice thereof is given in writing to the insurer.

(2) If a secured party assigns a perfected security interest, no filing under this division is required in order to continue the perfected status of the security interest against creditors of and transferees from the original debtor.

(3) The filing of a financing statement otherwise required by this division is not necessary or effective to perfect a security interest in property subject to any of the following:

(a) A statute or treaty of the United States which provides for a national or international registration or a national or international certificate of title or which specifies a place of filing different from that specified in this division for filing of the security interest.

(b) The provisions of the Vehicle Code which require registration of a vehicle or boat, or provisions of the Health and Safety Code which require registration of a mobilehome or commercial coach; but during any period in which collateral is inventory, the filing provisions of this division (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 9401)) apply to a security interest in that collateral.

(c) A certificate of title statute of another jurisdiction under the law of which indication of a security interest on the certificate is required as a condition of perfection (subdivision (2) of Section 9103).

(d) The provisions of the Health and Safety Code which require registration of all interests in approved air contaminant emission reductions (Sections 40709 to 40713, inclusive, of the Health and Safety Code).

(4) Compliance with a statute or treaty described in subdivision (3) is equivalent to the filing of a financing statement under this division and a security interest in property subject to the statute or treaty can be perfected only by compliance therewith except as provided in Section 9103 on multiple state transactions. Duration and renewal of perfection of a security interest perfected by compliance with the statute or treaty are governed by the provisions of the statute or treaty; in other respects the security interest is subject to this division.

SEC. 14. Section 9312 of the Commercial Code is amended to read:

9312. (1) The rules of priority stated in other sections of this chapter and in the following sections shall govern where applicable: Section 4210 with respect to the security interest of collecting banks in items being collected, accompanying documents and proceeds; Section 9103 on security interests related to other jurisdictions; Section 9114 on consignments.

(3) A perfected purchase money security interest in inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same inventory and also has priority in identifiable cash proceeds received on or before the delivery of the inventory to a buyer if all of the following occur:

(a) The purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the inventory.

(b) The purchase money secured party gives notification in writing to the holder of the conflicting security interest if the holder had filed a financing statement covering the same types of inventory (i) before the date of the filing made by the purchase money secured party, or (ii) before the beginning of the 21-day period where the purchase money security interest is temporarily perfected without filing or possession (subdivision (5) of Section 9304).

(c) The holder of the conflicting security interest receives the notification within five years before the debtor receives possession of the inventory.

(d) The notification states that the person giving the notice has or expects to acquire a purchase money security interest in inventory of the debtor, describing such inventory by item or type.

(4) A purchase money security interest in collateral other than inventory has priority over a conflicting security interest in the same collateral or its proceeds if the purchase money security interest is perfected at the time the debtor receives possession of the collateral or within 20 days thereafter.

(5) In all cases not governed by other rules stated in this section (including cases of purchase money security interests which do not qualify for the special priorities set forth in subdivisions (3) and (4)), priority between conflicting security interests in the same collateral shall be determined according to the following rules:

(a) Conflicting security interests rank according to priority in time of filing or perfection. Priority dates from the time a filing is first made covering the collateral or the time the security interest is first perfected, whichever is earlier, provided that there is no period thereafter when there is neither filing nor perfection.

(b) So long as conflicting security interests are unperfected, the first to attach has priority.

(6) For the purposes of subdivision (5) a date of filing or perfection as to collateral is also a date of filing or perfection as to proceeds.

(7) If future advances are made while a security interest is perfected by filing, the taking of possession, or under Section 8321 on securities, the security interest has the same priority for the purposes of subdivision (5) with respect to the future advances as it does with respect to the first advance. If a commitment is made before or while the security interest is so perfected, the security interest has the same priority with respect to advances made pursuant thereto. In other cases a perfected security interest has priority from the date the advance is made.

SEC. 15. Division 16 (commencing with Section 16101) is added to the Commercial Code, to read:

The Legislature intends that the that action be construed as an amendment of Division 3 (commencing with Section 3101) and Division 4 (commencing with Section 4101), notwithstanding that the action took the form of a repeal and addition of Division 3 (commencing with Section 3101), and a repeal and addition to, and amendment of, or an addition to the provisions of Division 4 (commencing with Section 4101).

16102. The provisions of Division 13 (commencing with Section 13101), Division 14 (commencing with Section 14101), and Division 15 (commencing with Section 15101) shall continue to apply to this code, as this code existed on January 1, 1993, and for this purpose, this code, as it existed prior to January 1, 1993, and this code, as it existed on January 1, 1993, shall be considered one continuous statute.

16103. Nothing in this division shall have the effect of (a) reviving a cause of action barred by limitation before January 1, 1993, or (b) applying Section 3118 or 4111 on limitation of actions to an action commenced before January 1, 1993.

16104. Unless a change in law, as contrasted with a clarification, has clearly been made, this code, as it existed on January 1, 1993, shall be deemed declaratory of the meaning of this code as it existed prior to January 1, 1993.

SEC. 19. Section 22054 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

22054. Any section which refers to this section does not apply to any loan of the bona fide principal amount specified in the regulatory ceiling provision of that section or more if that provision is not used for the purpose of evading this division. In determining under Section 22053, 22053.1, 22451, or 22451.1, or any section which refers to this section whether a loan is a loan of a bona fide principal amount of the amount specified in that section or more and whether the regulatory ceiling provision of that section is used for the purpose of evading this division, the following principles apply:

(a) If a borrower applies for a loan in a principal amount of less than the specified amount and a loan to that borrower of a principal amount of the specified amount or more is made by a licensed personal property broker, no adequate economic reason for the increase in the size of the loan exists, and by prearrangement or understanding between the borrower and the licensee a substantial payment is to be made upon the loan with the effect of reducing the principal amount of the loan to less than the specified amount within a short time after the making of the loan other than by reason of a requirement that the loan be paid in substantially equal periodical installments, then the loan shall not be deemed to be a loan of the bona fide principal amount of the specified amount or more and the regulatory ceiling provisions shall be deemed to be used for the purpose of evading this division unless the loan complies with the other provisions of the section which includes the regulatory ceiling provisions.

that the regulatory ceiling provisions are used for the purpose of evading this division.

SEC. 20. Section 24054 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

24054. Any section which refers to this section does not apply to any loan of the bona fide principal amount specified in the regulatory ceiling provision of that section or more if that provision is not used for the purpose of evading this division. (a) If a borrower applies for a loan in a principal amount of less than the specified amount and a loan to that borrower of a principal amount of the specified amount or more is made by a licensed consumer finance lender, no adequate economic reason for the increase in the size of the loan exists, and by prearrangement or understanding between the borrower and the licensee a substantial payment is to be made upon the loan with the effect of reducing the principal amount of the loan to less than the specified amount within a short time after the making of the loan other than by reason of a requirement that the loan be paid in substantially equal periodical installments, then the loan shall not be deemed to be a loan of the bona fide principal amount of the specified amount or more and the regulatory ceiling provisions shall be deemed to be used for the purpose of evading this division unless the loan complies with the other provisions of the section which includes the regulatory ceiling provisions.

(b) If a loan made by a licensed consumer finance lender is in a principal amount of the specified amount or more, the fact that the transaction is in the form of a sale of accounts, chattel paper, goods, or instruments, or a lease of goods, or in the form of an advance on the purchase price of any of the foregoing, shall not be deemed to affect the loan or the bona fides of the amount thereof or to indicate that the regulatory ceiling provisions are used for the purpose of evading this division.

SEC. 21. Section 26054 of the Financial Code is amended to read:

26054. In determining whether a loan is a loan of a bona fide principal amount of the specified amount or more, the following principles shall apply:

(a) If a borrower applies for a loan in a principal amount of less than the specified amount and a loan to that borrower of a principal amount of the specified amount or more is made by a licensed commercial finance lender, no adequate economic reason for the increase in the size of the loan exists, and by prearrangement or understanding between the borrower and the licensee a substantial payment is to be made upon the loan with the effect of reducing the principal amount of the loan to less than the specified amount within a short time after the making of the loan other than by reason of a requirement that the loan be paid in substantially equal periodical installments, then the loan shall not be deemed to be a loan of the bona fide principal amount of the specified amount or more.

(b) A subsequent advance of money of less than the specified amount pursuant to a revolving or open-end loan agreement or similar agreement between a borrower and a licensed commercial finance lender which gives the borrower the right to draw upon all or any part of the line of credit, or a loan agreement providing for the making of advances to the borrower from time to time up to an aggregate maximum amount which gives the borrower the right to draw all or any part of the total amount, shall be deemed to be a loan of a principal amount of the specified amount or more if the line of credit or the aggregate maximum amount is the specified amount or more and the initial advance was the specified amount or more even though the actual unpaid balance after the advance or at any other time is less than the specified amount.

(c) If a loan made by a licensed commercial finance lender is in a principal amount of the specified amount or more, the fact that the transaction is in the form of a sale of accounts, chattel paper, goods, or instruments, or a lease of goods, or in the form of an advance on the purchase price of any of the foregoing, shall not be deemed to affect the bona fides of the amount thereof.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18035.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18035.3. (a) For every sale by a dealer of a new or used manufactured home or mobilehome, either the purchase order, conditional sale contract, or other document evidencing the purchase thereof, or any attachment to a purchase document signed and dated by the purchaser, shall contain the following:

(1) A description of the manufactured home or mobilehome, a description and the cash price of each accessory, structure, or service included with the purchase, and the total cash price for the purchase. The statement shall also state whether the purchase price includes or excludes the towbar, wheels, wheel hubs, tires, and axles and, if they are not included in the purchase price, the price of each shall be listed.

(2) The amount, if any, charged by the dealer for documentary preparation and, if a documentary preparation charge is imposed, a notice advising the purchaser that the charge is not a governmental fee.

(3) A notice in type no smaller than 8-point that complaints concerning the purchase shall be referred to the dealer and, if the complaint is not resolved, may be referred to the Department of Housing and Community Development, Division of Codes and Standards, Occupational Licensing. The notice shall contain the current address and telephone number of the department.

(4) A notice, in at least 10-point boldface type reading as follows:

(A) Do NOT sign the purchase agreement before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces to be filled in.

(B) You are entitled to a completely filled-in copy of that agreement and, if purchasing a manufactured home or mobilehome covered by a warranty, a copy of the warranty.

(6) The disclosures required by this subdivision need not be contained in the same document.

(b) A failure to disclose pursuant to this section shall not be the basis for rescission of a conditional sales contract.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part to the contrary, a failure to provide the disclosures specified in paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) is a ground for disciplinary action and not a criminal offense.

(d) If the dealer is also licensed as a real estate broker, the sale of a manufactured home or mobilehome being installed on a foundation system pursuant to Section 18551 may be included in the purchase document for the underlying real property, provided that the requirements of this section are met.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 670

(1) Make payments in any manner that will result in an increase in the amount of benefits provided by the plan.

(2) Make the payment of benefits to any party at any time before the member retires, except as provided in paragraphs (3) and (4) of subdivision (a), unless the plan so provides.

(b) If the court orders the division of the community property interest in the system pursuant to Section 2610 of the Family Code, the accumulated contributions and service credit attributable to periods of service during the marriage shall be divided into two separate and distinct accounts in the name of the member and nonmember, respectively. Any service credit or accumulated contributions that are not explicitly awarded by the judgment or court order shall be deemed the exclusive property of the member.

(c) Upon receipt of the court order separating the account of the member and the nonmember pursuant to this section, the board shall determine the rights of the nonmember, taking into consideration the court order and the account of the member. These rights may include the following:

31685.2. (a) The nonmember who is awarded a separate account shall have the right to a refund of the accumulated contributions and interest credited in the separate account of the nonmember.

(b) The nonmember shall file an application on a form provided by the system to obtain the refund.

(c) The refund shall be effective when the system deposits in the United States mail an initial warrant drawn in favor of the nonmember and addressed to the latest address for the nonmember on file with the system.

(d) The nonmember is deemed to have permanently waived all rights in the system and all rights to any future retirement benefits pertaining to the service credit accumulated contributions, or both, when the refund becomes effective.

(e) The nonmember may not cancel a refund once it has become effective.

(f) The nonmember shall have no right to elect to redeposit the refunded accumulated contributions from the nonmember's account after the refund is effective, and shall have no right to redeposit or to purchase service credit after the refund becomes effective.

(g) If at the time of the marriage dissolution or legal separation, the member does not have the necessary minimum credited service to elect deferred retirement, the nonmember shall receive a refund of the accumulated contributions and credited interest placed in the nonmember's account.

(h) If the nonmember receives a refund under this section, the member may elect to redeposit accumulated contributions and interest refunded to the nonmember and to receive credit for the service time that had been forfeited by the nonmember. The election shall be made within five years of receipt of notice from the board of eligibility to redeposit the contributions. The board shall establish the manner of payment and the time period within which the redeposit of contributions may be made. The interest rate established by the board shall be the same as that charged to members on all other redeposits.

31685.3. (a) The nonmember who is awarded a separate account may redeposit accumulated contributions and interest previously refunded to the member in accordance with the determination of the court required by Section 31685.

(b) The nonmember may redeposit only those accumulated contributions and interest that were previously refunded to the member and that the court has determined to be the community property interest of the nonmember in the accumulated contributions.

(c) If the nonmember elects to redeposit, he or she shall repay the accumulated contributions and interest.

(d) An election to redeposit shall be considered an election to repay all accumulated contributions and interest previously refunded that the nonmember is entitled to redeposit.

(e) The right of the nonmember to redeposit is subject to the regulations of the board.

(f) The member has no right to the court-determined nonmember share of any previously refunded accumulated contributions and interest whether or not the nonmember elects to redeposit until the effective date of any refund requested by the nonmember pursuant to Section 31685.2, or the nonmember dies before redeposit is completed. However, any right to redeposit previously refunded accumulated contributions and interest not explicitly awarded to the nonmember by the judgment or court order shall be deemed the exclusive property of the member.

(g) Any redeposit by the nonmember shall be made by lump sum before retirement.

31685.4. (a) The nonmember shall have the right to purchase service credit pursuant to the determination of the court required by Section 31685.

(b) The nonmember may purchase only that service credit that the court has determined to be the community property share of the nonmember spouse.

(c) If the nonmember elects to purchase service credit, he or she shall pay, prior to retirement, the contributions and interest pursuant to the regulations of the board.

(d) The nonmember shall have no right to purchase the service credit after the effective date of a refund of the accumulated contributions in the separate account of the nonmember.

(e) The member has no right to the court-determined nonmember share of the service credit whether or not the nonmember elects to purchase the service credit until the effective date of any refund requested by the nonmember pursuant to Section 31685.2, or the nonmember dies before the service credit is purchased. However, any service credit eligible for purchase that is not explicitly awarded to the nonmember by the judgment or court order shall be deemed the exclusive property of the member.

31685.5. A nonmember shall be retired upon his or her written application to the board if all of the following conditions are met:

(a) The member or nonmember has attained the minimum age prescribed by the applicable service retirement formula of the member.

(b) On the date of marriage dissolution or legal separation, the member had sufficient credited service to retire for service.

31685.6. Retirement shall be effective and the retirement allowance shall begin to accrue as of the date designated in the nonmember's application as the effective date of retirement, or the day following the date of court order dividing the community property of the member and nonmember, if later. In no event shall the retirement become effective or the retirement allowance begin to accrue earlier than the first day of the month in which the nonmember's application is received at an office of the board or by an employee of the system designated by the board.

31685.7. (a) If the nonmember retires before the member retires, "final compensation" means the highest average annual compensation earnable by the member during the three consecutive years, or one year where applicable, prior to the date the nonmember retires. The nonmember may designate an earlier period to be used where the time period of the nonmember's marriage to the member and membership correspond.

(b) If the member has retired before the nonmember, the "final compensation" for the nonmember shall be the final compensation used in calculating the member's retirement.

(c) Upon receipt of an application for retirement by the member, the board shall notify the nonmember that his or her final compensation will not increase any further and shall identify which options are available to the nonmember and the impact thereof.

31685.8. A nonmember entitled to receive a retirement allowance shall receive a retirement allowance based on the service retirement formula applicable to the service credited to the nonmember.

31685.9. If a member becomes disabled, the combined benefit payments to both the member and nonmember shall not exceed the amount that would otherwise be paid to the member alone.

31685.95. (a) Under no circumstances shall a retirement plan be required to make payments in any manner that will result in an increase in the amount of benefits provided under the plan.

(b) All benefits determined pursuant to Part 5 (commencing with Section 2610) of Division 7 of the Family Code and this article shall be determined on the basis of the actuarial economic and demographic assumptions and values prescribed by the board of the affected retirement plan.

31685.96. (a) The age factor applicable to the nonmember shall be based on the age of the nonmember at the time of his or her retirement.

(b) The board shall adopt age factors as recommended by the actuary.

31685.96. This article shall not be operative in any county until the board of supervisors shall, by resolution adopted by a majority vote, make this article applicable in the county.

CHAPTER 672

An act to amend Section 11806 of the Government Code, relating to state agencies and departments, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11806 of the Government Code is amended to read:

11806. Budget contracts entered into pursuant to Section 11805 shall be reviewed by the fiscal subcommittees of the Assembly and the Senate. Any budget contract proposed to be effective for the fiscal year beginning July 1 shall be submitted in draft form no later than January 31 to the fiscal subcommittees of the Assembly and the Senate.

SEC. 2. The Legislature hereby finds and declares that it is essential for the Controller to perform the following tasks:

(a) Prepare the annual financial statements for the state on the basis of generally accepted accounting principles. The annual financial statements are necessary for the marketing of state-issued securities.

(b) Modify computer programs in order to function correctly relative to the commencement of the year 2000. Existing programs established under prior industry-wide standards will not function properly for any dates beyond 1999.

(c) Expand the coding system used for funds and accounts created by the Legislature. The number of new funds and accounts have increased significantly in recent years. Expansion of the coding system, which is an essential component of the state's accounting system, is necessary to maintain proper fiscal controls and accountability for additional funds and accounts that may be established in the future.

SEC. 3. The Controller, subject to approval by the Director of Finance, shall determine the amount of the total appropriation that is to be funded by each special fund. Upon written authorization of the Director of Finance, the moneys appropriated pursuant to this act may be transferred by the Controller, as needed, from each special fund to augment the appropriation made in the 1994–95 Budget Act for the support of the Controller.

It is the intent of the Legislature that costs incurred in subsequent fiscal years for the tasks identified in Section 2 shall be included in Budget Acts enacted for subsequent fiscal years.

CHAPTER 673

An act to amend Sections 44325, 44326, 44327, 44328, and 44830.3 of, to repeal and add Section 44329 of, and to repeal Section 44929.24 of, the Education Code, relating to certificated employees.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) Recent studies have shown that California will continue to experience a shortage of qualified teachers.

(b) One of the most critical areas of the teacher shortage is in the field of special education.

(c) Section 44273 of the Education Code authorizes institutions of higher education to develop accelerated programs. However, the need for qualified special education teachers continues to exist.

(d) The district intern program established pursuant to Article 7.5 (commencing with Section 44325) of Chapter 2 of Part 25 of the Education Code has proven to be a highly successful alternative route to teacher certification.

(e) The creation of a district intern pilot program for special education teachers in the field of special education for pupils with mild and moderate disabilities will serve to address the shortage of special education teachers and provide school districts with a model for another means to recruit, prepare, and retain qualified special education teachers to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities.

SEC. 2. Section 44325 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44325. (a) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall issue district intern certificates authorizing persons employed by any school district that maintains kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, or that maintains classes in bilingual education to provide classroom instruction to pupils in those grades and classes in accordance with the requirements of Section 44830.3. The commission also shall issue district intern certificates, as a pilot program, authorizing persons employed by the Los Angeles Unified School District to provide classroom instruction to pupils with mild and moderate disabilities in special education classes, in accordance with the requirements of Section 44830.3.

(b) Each district intern certificate shall be valid for a period of two years. However, a certificate may be valid for three years if the intern is participating in a program that leads to the attainment of a specialist credential to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities, or four years if the intern is participating in a program that leads to the attainment of both a multiple subject or single subject teaching credential and a specialist credential to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities. Upon the recommendation of the school district, the commission may grant a one-year extension of the district intern certificate.

(c) The commission shall require each applicant for a district intern certificate to demonstrate that he or she meets the minimum qualifications for that certificate, including (1) the possession of a baccalaureate degree conferred by a regionally accredited institution of postsecondary education, (2) the successful passage of the state basic skills proficiency test administered under Sections 44252 and 44252.5, (3) the successful completion of the appropriate subject matter examination administered by the commission, or a commission-approved subject matter preparation program for the subject areas in which the district intern is authorized to teach, and (4) the oral language component of the assessment program leading to the bilingual-crosscultural language and academic development certificate for persons seeking a district intern certificate to teach bilingual education classes.

(d) The commission shall apply the requirements of Sections 44339, 44340, and 44341 to each applicant for a district intern certificate.

SEC. 3. Section 44326 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44326. (a) Persons holding district intern certificates issued by the commission under Section 44325 to teach in grades 9 to 12, inclusive, or in grades 6 to 8, inclusive, in a departmentalized program, or in departmentalized bilingual classes, shall only be authorized to teach in the subject areas in which they have completed an undergraduate academic major or minor.

(b) Persons holding district intern certificates issued by the commission under Section 44325 to teach in kindergarten and grades 1 to 8, inclusive, in a self-contained program or in self-contained bilingual classes who have completed an academic major or minor or a diversified or liberal arts degree that includes the subject matter coursework prescribed in Section 44314 shall be authorized to teach in those grades or classes.

(c) Prior to assignment to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities, persons holding district intern certificates issued by the commission under Section 44325 to teach those pupils shall meet the requirements of either subdivision (a) or (b) and shall teach in the capacity described in either subdivision (a) or (b) for one complete school year. Upon successful completion of that school year, any person holding that certificate may be assigned to teach special education pupils with mild and moderate disabilities.

(d) Each district intern shall be required to teach with the assistance and guidance of certificated employees of the district who have been classified as mentor teachers under Article 4 (commencing with Section 44490) of Chapter 3, or with the assistance and guidance of certificated employees selected through a competitive process adopted by the governing board after consultation with the exclusive teacher representative unit or by personnel employed by institutions of higher education to supervise student teachers. Mentor teachers or other certificated employees shall possess valid certification at the same level or of the same type of credential as the district interns they serve.

SEC. 4. Section 44327 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44327. (a) On or before July 1, 1995, the commission, in consultation with participating school districts and other affected organizations, shall revise existing standards, and adopt additional standards, as necessary, related to the quality of the training, support, evaluation, and performance of district interns. The standards shall be appropriate for an alternative program of teacher recruitment, preparation, and certification. Each school district with a district intern program is responsible for maintaining appropriate records of the program so that the credit earned by each district intern is transferable to his or her academic record in the same manner as if the intern had participated in a college or university program. To the extent feasible, the standards shall also be equivalent to the standards of the commission for professional preparation programs in colleges and universities.

(b) Commencing July 1, 1989, the commission shall periodically review district intern programs on the basis of the standards adopted pursuant to subdivision (a).

(c) The commission is not authorized to approve district intern programs. On or before March 15, 1988, the commission shall inform all school districts in the state of the district intern program option, and shall disseminate its recommended standards to all districts. On or before March 15, 1995, the commission shall inform school districts of the current district intern program options.

SEC. 5. Section 44328 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44328. Unless the commission determines that substantial evidence exists that a person is unqualified to teach, upon the completion of successful service as a district intern pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 44325, and upon the recommendation of the school district governing board, the commission shall award professional credentials to district interns in the same manner as applicants recommended for credentials by institutions that operate approved programs of professional preparation.

Notwithstanding paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 44225, paragraphs (3), (4), (5), and (6) of subdivision (b) of Section 44259, paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) of subdivision (c) of Section 44259, and Sections 44261, 44265, and 44335, it is the intent of the Legislature that upon recommendation by the governing board, district interns shall be issued professional credentials, rather than preliminary credentials, upon the completion of successful service as a teacher pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 44325 unless the governing board recommends, and the commission finds substantial evidence that the person is not qualified to teach. Notwithstanding Section 44261, the professional credential awarded to any district intern holding a certificate to teach bilingual classes shall be a basic teaching credential with a bilingual-crosscultural language and academic development emphasis. Notwithstanding Section 44265, the professional credential awarded to any district intern who holds a certificate to teach special education pupils with mild and moderate disabilities shall be a special education specialist instruction credential appropriate for that group of pupils.

It is the intent of the Legislature that institutions of higher education that operate approved programs of professional preparation work cooperatively with school districts that offer district intern programs for a special education specialist credential to apply the regular education coursework and fieldwork from the special education district intern program toward earning a multiple or single subject teaching credential through the institution.

SEC. 6. Section 44329 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 44329 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44329. The commission shall study the effectiveness of the certificated district intern program and shall report its findings to the Legislature on or before January 1, 1999. If the district intern pilot program in the Los Angeles Unified School District is successful, the report shall include recommendations regarding expanding the program statewide.

SEC. 8. Section 44830.3 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44830.3. (a) The governing board of any school district that maintains kindergarten or grades 1 to 12, inclusive, classes in bilingual education, or in the case of special education programs for pupils with mild and moderate disabilities, the Los Angeles Unified School District, may employ persons authorized by the Commission on Teacher Credentialing to provide service as district interns to provide instruction to pupils in those grades or classes as a classroom teacher. Prior to employing any person as a district intern, the governing board shall certify to the commission on the appropriate statement of need document provided by the commission that an insufficient number of fully credentialed teachers are available. The governing board shall require that each district intern be assisted and guided by a certificated employee of the school district who has been designated by the governing board as a mentor teacher pursuant to Article 4 (commencing with Section 44490) of Chapter 3 or by certificated employees selected through a competitive process adopted by the governing board after consultation with the exclusive teacher representative unit or by personnel employed by institutions of higher education to supervise student teachers. Mentor teachers or other certificated employees shall possess valid certification at the same level, or of the same type, of credential as the district interns they serve.

(b) The governing board of each school district employing district interns shall develop and implement a professional development plan for district interns in consultation with an accredited institution of higher education offering an approved program of pedagogical preparation. The professional development plan shall include all of the following:

(1) Provisions for an annual evaluation of the district intern.

(2) As the governing board determines necessary, a description of courses to be completed by the district intern, if any, and a plan for the completion of preservice or other clinical training, if any, including student teaching.

(3) Mandatory preservice training for district interns tailored to the grade level or class to be taught, through either of the following options:

(A) One hundred twenty clock hours of preservice training and orientation in the aspects of child development and the methods of teaching the subject field or fields in which the district intern will be assigned, which training and orientation period shall be under the direct supervision of an experienced permanent teacher. At the conclusion of the preservice training period, the permanent teacher shall provide the district with information regarding the area that should be emphasized in the future training of the district intern.

(B) The successful completion, prior to service by the intern in any classroom, of six semester units of coursework from a regionally accredited college or university, designed in cooperation with the school district to provide instruction and orientation in the aspects of child development and the methods of teaching the subject field or fields in which the district intern will be assigned.

(4) Instruction in child development and the methods of teaching during the first semester of service for district interns teaching in kindergarten or grades 1 to 6, inclusive, including bilingual classes at those levels.

(5) Instruction in the culture and methods of teaching bilingual children during the first year of service for district interns teaching children in bilingual classes.

(6) Any other criteria which may be required by the governing board.

(7) In addition to the requirements set forth in paragraphs (1) to (6), inclusive, the professional development plan for district interns teaching in special education programs for pupils with mild and moderate disabilities also shall include 120 clock hours of mandatory preservice training and orientation, which shall include, but not be limited to, instruction in the development of exceptional children and the methods of teaching exceptional children.

(8) In addition to the requirements set forth in paragraphs (1) to (6), inclusive, the professional development plan for district interns teaching bilingual classes shall also include 120 clock hours of mandatory training and orientation which shall include, but not be limited to, instruction in subject matter relating to bilingual-crosscultural language and academic development.

(9) The professional development plan for district interns teaching in special education programs for pupils with mild and moderate disabilities shall be based on the standards adopted by the commission as provided in subdivision (a) of Section 44327 of the Education Code.

(c) Each district intern and each district teacher assigned to supervise the district intern during the preservice period, shall be compensated for the preservice period pursuant to subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (3). The compensation shall be that which is normally provided by each district for staff development or in-service activity.

(d) Upon completion of two years of service, or three years of service for interns participating in a program that leads to the attainment of a specialist credential to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities, or four years if the intern is participating in a program that leads to the attainment of both a multiple subject or single subject teaching credential and a specialist credential to teach pupils with mild and moderate disabilities, the governing board may recommend to the Commission on Teacher Credentialing that the district intern be credentialed in the manner prescribed by Section 44328.

SEC. 9. Section 44929.24 of the Education Code is repealed.

SEC. 10. The changes made in Sections 2 to 9, inclusive, of this act shall have no retroactive application or effect upon any individual who has entered any teacher trainee program or district intern program prior to January 1, 1995.

SEC. 11. The Legislature finds and declares that because of the shortage of special education teachers in the Los Angeles Unified School District, a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 674

An act to amend Sections 18400.1 and 18502 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to mobilehome parks, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18400.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

18400.1. (a) The enforcement agency shall enter and inspect all mobilehome parks, as required under this part, at least once every seven years, to ensure enforcement of this part and the regulations adopted pursuant to this part. Any notices of violation of this part shall be issued pursuant to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 18420).

(b) In developing its program for inspections, the enforcement agency shall give first priority to inspections of those mobilehome parks which it believes may have the most serious violations of this part.

(c) Nothing in this part shall be construed to allow the enforcement agency to issue a notice for a violation of existing laws or regulations which were not violations of the laws or regulations at the time the mobilehome park received its original permit to operate or at the time the manufactured home or mobilehome received its original installation permit, unless the enforcement agency determines that a condition of the park, manufactured home, or mobilehome endangers the life, limb, health, or safety of the public or occupants thereof.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends that date.

(e) Any local enforcement agency that relinquishes enforcement authority over to the department shall remit to the department fees collected pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 18502 that have not been expended for purposes of that paragraph.

(f) Each local enforcement agency that has assumed enforcement authority and has collected fees pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (b) of Section 18502, shall provide the department, prior to January 1, 1994, with a status report on its specific inspection program. The report shall include information on the number of parks and spaces in its jurisdiction, the number of parks and spaces that have been inspected, the number of parks and spaces that are scheduled for inspection, the number and types of notices of violations issued against the parks, the number and types of notices of violations issued against the residents, the number of notices of violations appealed, the amount of fees collected and expended for the purpose of the inspection program, and any program deviations that exist between the local enforcement agency and the department.

(g) The department shall, prior to January 1, 1995, submit a report to the Senate Committee on Local Government, Senate Select Committee on Mobilehomes, and the Assembly Committee on Housing and Community Development on the status of the mobilehome park inspection program. The report shall include information on the total number of parks and spaces in the state, the number of parks and spaces that have been inspected, the number of parks and spaces that are scheduled for inspection, the number of notices of violations issued against the parks, the number of notices of violations issued against the residents and the number of notices of violations appealed, and the amount of fees collected and expended for the purpose of the inspection program. The report shall separate the information according to parks inspected by local enforcement agencies, parks inspected by the department, and total program activity. The report shall also include a discussion of any program deviations that exist between the local enforcement agency and the department, obstacles encountered while implementing the program and any recommendations for change to make it operate more efficiently and effectively should the program be extended after January 1, 1999.

SEC. 2. Section 18502 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Chapter 1175 of the Statutes of 1990, is amended to read:

18502. Fees as applicable shall be submitted for permits:

(a) Fees for a permit to conduct any construction subject to this part as determined by the schedule of fees adopted by the department.

(b) Plan checking fees equal to one-half of the construction, plumbing, mechanical, and electrical permit fees, except that the minimum fee shall be ten dollars ($10).

(c) (1) Except for a temporary recreational vehicle park, an annual operating permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and an additional two dollars ($2) per lot or two dollars ($2) per camping party for the maximum number of camping parties to be accommodated at any one time in an incidental camping area.

(2) Except for a special occupancy park, an additional annual fee of four dollars ($4) per lot shall be paid to the department or the local enforcement agency, as appropriate, at the time of payment of the annual operating fee. All revenues derived from this fee shall be used exclusively for the inspection of mobilehome parks and mobilehomes to determine compliance with the Mobilehome Parks Act (Part 2.1 (commencing with Section 18200)) and any regulations adopted pursuant to the act.

(3) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the health and safety of mobilehome park occupants is a matter of public interest and concern and that the fee paid pursuant to paragraph (2) shall be used exclusively for the inspection of mobilehome parks and mobilehomes to ensure that the living conditions of mobilehome park occupants meet the health and safety standards of this part and the regulations adopted pursuant thereto. Therefore, notwithstanding any other provisions of law or local ordinance, rule, regulation, or initiative measure to the contrary, the holder of the permit to operate the mobilehome park shall be entitled to directly charge one-half of the per lot additional annual fee specified herein to each homeowner, as defined in Section 798.9 of the Civil Code. In that event, the holder of the permit to operate the mobilehome park shall be entitled to directly charge each homeowner for one-half of the per lot additional annual fee at the next billing for the rent and other charges immediately following the payment of the additional fee to the department or local enforcement agency.

(d) Temporary recreational vehicle park operating permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25), with no additional fee for the lots.

(e) Change in name fee or transfer of ownership or possession fee of ten dollars ($10).

(f) Duplicate permit fee or amended permit fee of ten dollars ($10).

(g) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. Section 18502 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Chapter 1072 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

18502. Fees as applicable shall be submitted for permits:

(a) Fees for a permit to conduct any construction subject to this part as determined by the schedule of fees adopted by the department.

(c) Except for a temporary recreational vehicle park, an annual operating permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25) and an additional two dollars ($2) per lot or two dollars ($2) per camping party for the maximum number of camping parties to be accommodated at any one time in an incidental camping area.

(d) Temporary recreational vehicle park operating permit fee of twenty-five dollars ($25), with no additional fee for the lots.

(e) Change in name fee or transfer of ownership or possession fee of ten dollars ($10).

(f) Duplicate permit fee or amended permit fee of ten dollars ($10).

(g) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1999.

CHAPTER 675

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 233 of the Vehicle Code is amended to read:

233. (a) Except as provided in subdivision (b), a "bus" is any vehicle, including a trailer bus, designed, used, or maintained for carrying more than 15 persons including the driver.

(b) A vehicle designed, used, or maintained for carrying more than 10 persons, including the driver, which is used to transport persons for compensation or profit, or is used by any nonprofit organization or group, is also a bus.

(c) This section does not alter the definition of a schoolbus, school pupil activity bus, general public paratransit vehicle, farm labor vehicle, or youth bus.

(d) A vanpool vehicle is not a bus.

SEC. 2. Section 400 of the Vehicle Code, as amended by Section 1.5 of Chapter 594 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

That card shall be issued without the payment of any additional fee.

This training shall fully satisfy any other training requirements required by law, including those specified in Section 832.

For purposes of this subdivision, occupancy at a hotel or motel for a continuous period of 30 days or less shall, in the absence of a written agreement to the contrary, or other written evidence of a periodic tenancy of indefinite duration, be exempt from Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1940) of Title 5 of Part 4 of Division 3 of the Civil Code.

CHAPTER 681

An act to amend Sections 44235, 44242.5, 44244, 44270.1, and 44421 of, and to add Sections 44242.7 and 44421.1 to, the Education Code, relating to school employees, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 19, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44235 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44235. Fees shall be levied by the commission for the issuance and renewal of teaching and service credentials. Commencing January 1, 1987, the fee for the issuance and renewal of teaching and service credentials shall be fifty dollars ($50). In subsequent years, the commission may set a different fee, but in no case shall a fee exceed seventy dollars ($70) without express legislative approval.

A single fee, not to exceed the charge for a single supplemental credential, shall be charged for all supplemental credentials applied for at the same time.

Annually, as part of the budget review process, the Department of Finance shall recommend to the Legislature an appropriate credential fee sufficient to generate revenues necessary to support the operating budget of the commission plus a prudent reserve, as determined by the Department of Finance pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 44234.

SEC. 2. Section 44242.5 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44242.5. (a) Each allegation of an act or omission by an applicant for, or holder of, a credential for which he or she may be privately admonished, publicly reproved, or for which his or her application or credential may be denied, suspended, or revoked shall be presented to the Committee of Credentials.

(b) The committee has jurisdiction to commence an investigation upon receipt of any of the following:

(1) Official records of the Department of Justice, of any law enforcement agency, of any state or federal court, and of any other agency of this state or another state.

(2) An affidavit or declaration signed by person or persons with personal knowledge of the acts alleged to constitute misconduct.

(3) A statement from an employer notifying the commission that a credential holder has been dismissed, has been suspended for more than 10 days, has resigned, or has otherwise left employment because of the allegation of misconduct.

(4) A notice from an employer that a complaint was filed with the school district alleging sexual misconduct by a credential holder. Results of an investigation by the committee based on this paragraph shall not be considered for action by the committee unless there is evidence presented to the committee in the form of a written or oral declaration under penalty of perjury that confirms the personal knowledge of the declarant regarding the acts alleged to constitute misconduct.

(c) The committee shall investigate each allegation. Upon commencement of an investigation the committee shall investigate all alleged misconduct and the circumstances in mitigation and aggravation. The investigation shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) Investigation of the fitness and competence of the applicant or credential holder to perform the duties authorized by the credential for which he or she has applied or that he or she presently holds.

(2) Preparation of a summary of the applicable law, a summary of the facts, contested and uncontested, and a summary of any circumstances in aggravation or mitigation of the allegation.

(3) Conduct of a meeting or hearing, in accordance with Section 44244, to consider allegations against an applicant or credential holder.

(4) Determination of probable cause for private admonition or public reproof or for denial, suspension, or revocation of the credential. If the allegation is for unprofessional or immoral conduct, the committee shall, in any meeting or hearing conducted pursuant to paragraph (4) to determine probable cause, permit the employer of the credential holder to be present while testimony is taken. If the allegation of unprofessional or immoral conduct involves sexual abuse, the employer shall be examined in the meeting for any relevant evidence relating to the sexual abuse.

(A) If the committee determines that probable cause for private admonition or public reproof, or for denial, suspension, or revocation of the credential does not exist, the committee shall terminate the investigation.

(B) If the committee determines that probable cause for private admonition or public reproof, or denial, suspension, or revocation of the credential exists, the committee shall initiate an adjudicatory hearing, as prescribed by Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, by filing an accusation or statement of issues.

(d) The committee has jurisdiction to commence a meeting or hearing pursuant to Section 44244 upon receipt of any of the following:

(2) An affidavit or declaration signed by a person or persons with personal knowledge of the acts alleged to constitute misconduct.

(3) A statement described in paragraph (3) of subdivision (b).

(4) Official records of any governmental licensing entity that reflect an administrative proceeding or investigation, otherwise authorized by law or regulation, which has become final.

(e) (1) Upon completion of its investigation, the committee shall report its actions and decisions to the commission, including its findings as to probable cause, and if probable cause exists, its recommendations as to private admonition or public reproof, or denial, suspension, or revocation of the credential. The findings shall describe the committee's concurrence or nonconcurrence with the facts reported in the investigation, the committee's determination as to what acts of misconduct by the credential holder or applicant occurred, and the relationship between the applicant or credential holder's misconduct and that person's ability or fitness to perform the duties for which he or she is certified or seeking certification.

(2) The findings shall be available, upon its request, to the employing or last known employing school district, or, where adverse action is recommended by the committee and a request is made within one year from the date the committee makes a recommendation, to a school district providing verification that the credential holder has applied for employment in the district. The findings shall, for all purposes, remain confidential and limited to school district personnel in a direct supervisory capacity in relation to the person investigated. Any person who otherwise releases findings received from the committee or the commission, absent a verified release signed by the person who is the subject of the investigation, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

(3) The findings shall not contain any information that reveals the identity of persons other than the person who is the subject of the investigation.

SEC. 3. Section 44242.7 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44242.7. (a) Any allegation of an act or omission by the holder of a credential, except for an allegation that involves sexual misconduct with a minor or recurring conduct resulting in a pattern of misconduct, shall be presented to the Committee of Credentials within four years from the date of the alleged act or omission, or within one year from the date the act or omission should reasonably have been discovered.

(b) The Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall adopt regulations specifying conduct that is considered recurring conduct that results in a pattern of misconduct as set forth in subdivision (a).

SEC. 4. Section 44244 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44244. (a) At least 30 days prior to any Committee of Credentials meeting or hearing at which the application or credential of a certified employee is to be considered, the committee shall notify the certified employee of the specific allegations of misconduct for which the application or credential may be denied, suspended, or revoked, or for which the employee may be privately admonished or publicly reproved, in ordinary and concise language setting forth the acts or omissions charged and the statutes or rules violated. Supplemental allegations of misconduct shall be sent to the certified employee at least 30 days prior to the meeting or hearing. The portions of the investigation of the original or supplemental allegations which constitute the basis for the allegations shall be open to inspection and copying by the employee and his or her attorney. The statement of the allegations shall inform the employee that the allegations, if true, are sufficient to cause his or her application or credential to be denied, suspended, or revoked, or to cause him or her to be privately admonished or publicly reproved.

(b) The investigation shall be commenced within 21 days after all allegations of misconduct have been filed with the committee and a meeting or hearing shall be scheduled no later than six months thereafter for the purpose of making a determination either that no adverse action shall be taken; that the allegations are sufficient to cause his or her application or credential to be denied, suspended, or revoked; or that the allegations are sufficient to cause him or her to be privately admonished or publicly reproved. All testimony before the committee shall be verified under penalty of perjury by oath or affirmation. The chairperson of the committee may administer the oath or affirmation. The chairperson may designate staff to administer the oath or affirmation for statements taken during the investigation of allegations of misconduct.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), the chairperson of the commission may grant the committee an extension of time, not exceeding six months, when the committee demonstrates that additional time is necessary to complete its investigation or determination, as described in subdivision (b).

(d) The recommended decision of the committee shall be in writing and a copy of the decision shall be delivered to the certified employee personally or sent to him or her by registered mail within 14 days after the meeting or hearing together with specific information relative to any administrative hearing to which the employee is entitled.

SEC. 5. Section 44270.1 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44270.1. (a) The minimum requirements for the professional services credential with a specialization in administrative services are all of the following:

(1) Possession of a valid preliminary administrative services credential, as specified in Section 44270.

(2) A minimum of two years of successful experience in a full-time administrative position in a public school or private school of equivalent status, while holding the preliminary administrative services credential, as attested by the employing school district or agency, including, but not limited to, the State Department of Education, in the case of state school administrators, and county offices of education, in the case of county school administrators.

(3) Completion of a commission-approved program of advanced preparation. Each candidate, in consultation with employing school district personnel and university personnel, shall develop an individualized program of professional development activities for this advanced preparation program based upon individual needs. Each individualized program will include university coursework and may include, nonuniversity activities or advanced administrative field experiences. The commission shall adopt standards and criteria for the university programs of advanced preparation and nonuniversity activities.

(b) The commission may, at the request of a credential candidate, grant a waiver, pursuant to subdivision (m) of Section 44225, of the requirement of university coursework upon its finding that the candidate, in consultation with personnel of the employing school district and personnel of the university, is not able to develop an individualized program of professional development for the advanced preparation program that meets the individual needs of the candidates.

(c) The professional administrative services credential shall be valid for a period of five years from date of issuance and may be renewed upon completion of professional renewal requirements specified by the commission.

SEC. 6. Section 44421 of the Education Code is amended to read:

44421. The Commission for Teacher Preparation and Licensing shall privately admonish, publicly reprove, revoke or suspend for immoral or unprofessional conduct, or for persistent defiance of, and refusal to obey, the laws regulating the duties of persons serving in the public school system, or for any cause which would have warranted the denial of an application for a credential or the renewal thereof, or for evident unfitness for service.

SEC. 7. Section 44421.1 is added to the Education Code, to read:

44421.1. Notwithstanding Section 44421, the Commission on Teacher Credentialing shall privately admonish, or suspend or revoke the credential of, any certificated person who knowingly and willfully uses school records of pupil data in connection with, or implicitly or explicitly attempts to recruit a pupil to be a customer for, any business owned by the certificated person or in which the certificated person is an employee.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act relating to the Los Angeles Unified School District, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 20, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) This act shall be known and may be cited as the Katz School Safety Act of 1994.

(b) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) According to the Bureau of Justice Statistics, approximately 100,000 of the nation's 45,000,000 pupils take weapons to school each day.

(2) The incidence of weapons being carried onto junior and senior high school campuses has increased dramatically over recent years.

(3) Los Angeles Unified School District, the nation's second largest school district, reported 709 incidents of pupils bringing weapons onto campus in 1992. Of those reports, 182 involved assaults with deadly weapons against pupils.

(4) Two pupils within the Los Angeles Unified School District were fatally shot within a 33-day period in 1993.

(c) In enacting this legislation, the Legislature intends to support increased efforts of the Los Angeles Unified School District to detect weapons that would otherwise be carried onto public school campuses, threatening the safety of our children and our educators.

SEC. 2. The funds allocated to the Los Angeles Unified School District pursuant to Item 6110-171-001 of the Budget Act of 1994 shall be expended no later than 12 months after the funds are received by that district. Those funds shall only be used for the one-time purchase of security devices and equipment, including hand-held and stationary metal detectors, and shall not be used to supplant currently proposed expenditures or salaries.

SEC. 3. The Los Angeles Unified School District shall report to the Legislative Analyst no later than September 1, 1995, on the expenditure of funds allocated pursuant to Item 6110-171-001 of the Budget Act of 1994.

SEC. 4. The Legislature finds and declares that due to unique circumstances existing in the Los Angeles Unified School District affecting the health and safety of pupils attending public schools in that district, a general statute cannot be made applicable within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution.

SEC. 5. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to protect the health and safety of pupils in the Los Angeles Unified School District, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 683

An act to add Sections 103.6 and 103.61 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to AIDS.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 103.6 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

103.6. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The AIDS pandemic continues to devastate California. Over 44,000 Californians have died of AIDS since 1981, and it is estimated that one out of every 200 Californians is infected with HIV, the virus believed to cause AIDS. Education remains the best tool to prevent the ongoing spread of HIV.

(b) The seroprevalence rate of HIV-infected persons is increasing dramatically in some groups. The incidence rate among women, people of color, at-risk youth, substance abusers, rural residents and their sexual partners is increasing, as is the rate of infection among gay and bisexual men, especially in urban areas. It is clear that targeted financial resources must be directed to conduct effective HIV education and risk reduction.

(c) Many AIDS service providers, community-based organizations, and other advocacy groups lack the technical assistance necessary for them to access public and private grant moneys to serve their clients.

(d) In addition to prevention education efforts, there are additional unmet financial needs in the war against HIV infection and AIDS. These unmet needs include, but are not limited to, care and treatment of those with HIV, expanded medical and social behavioral research, funding for HIV antibody testing at both anonymous and confidential test sites throughout California, housing and financial assistance for those with HIV and their families, and mental health programs for people with HIV and those at risk for contracting AIDS.

(e) Numerous state agencies and departments conduct HIV-related programs, including the State Department of Health Services, the State Department of Social Services, the Department of Corrections, the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs, the State Department of Education, the State Department of Mental Health, the Department of the Youth Authority, and the University of California. Coordination of the various state funded programs will enhance the service delivery of HIV-related programs to Californians in need.

(f) An evaluation of state prevention and education efforts was conducted by the Institute for Health Policy Studies at the University of California, San Francisco and published in March of 1993. This report, entitled "HIV Prevention in California," noted both positive achievements of state-run programs as well as opportunities for improvement. Among the primary recommendations of the study was the need to legislatively identify the Office of AIDS in the State Department of Health Services as the lead agency on HIV and AIDS to ensure the goal of state program coordination.

SEC. 2. Section 103.61 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 103.6, to read:

103.61. There is in the State Department of Health Services an Office of AIDS. The State Department of Health Services, Office of AIDS, shall be the lead agency within the state, responsible for coordinating state programs, services, and activities relating to the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), acquired immune deficiency syndrome (AIDS), and AIDS related conditions (ARC). Among its responsibilities, the State Department of Health Services, Office of AIDS, shall coordinate Chapter 1.4 (commencing with Section 140), Chapter 1.85 (commencing with Section 188), Chapter 1.10 (commencing with Section 195), Chapter 1.12 (commencing with Section 199.30), Chapter 1.13 (commencing with Section 199.42), Chapter 1.14 (commencing with Section 199.45), Chapter 1.15 (commencing with Section 199.55), Chapter 1.16 (commencing with Section 199.70), Chapter 1.17 (commencing with Section 199.81), Chapter 1.19 (commencing with Section 199.86), and Chapter 1.20 (commencing with Section 199.95). Any reference in those provisions to the State Department of Health Services shall be deemed a reference to the Office of AIDS.

CHAPTER 684

An act to amend Section 17538.5 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to consumer protection.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The California workplace is rapidly changing.

(b) It is estimated that over 7.5 million Californians operate home-based businesses.

(c) A large number of home-based businesses and other individuals use commercial mail receiving agencies for convenience and numerous support services provided by these businesses.

(d) The commercial mail receiving agency industry is the most appropriate party to establish self-regulation and identification policies to provide consumer confidence.

(e) There is a need for the commercial mail receiving agency industry to have a statewide registry system available to governmental agencies for inspection.

(f) A registry system for commercial mail receiving agencies will provide a mechanism to identify commercial mail receiving agency locations to assist governmental agencies in resolving consumer disputes and complaints.

SEC. 2. Section 17538.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

17538.5. (a) It is unlawful in the sale or offering for sale of consumer goods or services for any person conducting, any business in this state which utilizes a post office box address, a private mailbox receiving service, or a street address representing a site used for the receipt or delivery of mail or as a telephone answering service, to fail to disclose the legal name under which business is done and, except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (b), the complete street address from which business is actually conducted in all advertising and promotional materials, including order blanks and forms. Any violation of the provisions of this section is a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding six months, or by a fine not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), or by both.

(b) (1) This section shall not apply to a person who sells the preponderance of goods and services at retail from trade premises which are open to the public regularly during normal business hours where the post office box or telephone answering service is supportive of and ancillary to the sales made or to any person who provides services pursuant to a license issued pursuant to this code or any other provision of law by a state board or agency or, except for a person conducting a mail order or catalog business, by a city or county or city and county in this state, which has the person's current business street address or home address on record and which is authorized to reveal that address to inquiring persons.

(2) If a person conducts a business described in subdivision (a) from that person's residence, the person is not required to disclose the residence address if both of the following conditions are satisfied:

(A) The person's current business street address or home address is contained in a United States Postal Service (USPS) Form 1583 that is filed with the USPS.

(B) The person has signed an acknowledgement form substantially in accordance with the provisions set forth in subdivision (f) which, among other things, authorizes the commercial mail receiving agency to act as that person's agent for service of process.

(c) A commercial mail receiving agency (CMRA) shall not provide private mailbox receiving service to any customer until it obtains from that customer at least two pieces of identification regarding that customer and provides to that customer an acknowledgment, as set forth in subdivision (f), which (1) acknowledges the obligation to advise the CMRA of any change in address, (2) authorizes the CMRA to act as an agent for service of process, and (3) acknowledges the requirements of Sections 17200 and 17500, which prohibit unfair competition and false advertising. The commercial mail receiving agency shall thereafter maintain a copy of any United States Postal Service Form 1583 for each mailbox service customer, along with a copy of each of the two pieces of identification used by the customer, for a period of two years after the termination of service to that customer. Upon the request of the Department of Consumer Affairs or any law enforcement agency conducting an investigation, the commercial mail receiving agency shall make available to the Department of Consumer Affairs or that law enforcement agency, for purposes of that investigation and copying, its copy of the United States Postal Service Form 1583 and the two pieces of identification used by the customer.

(d) (1) Every person receiving private mailbox receiving service from a CMRA in this state shall be required to sign an agreement, along with a USPS Form 1583, which authorizes the CMRA owner or operator to act as agent for service of process for the mail receiving service customer. Every CMRA owner or operator shall be required to accept service of process for and on behalf of any of their mail receiving service customers, and for two years after termination of any mail receiving service customer agreement. Upon receipt of any process for any mailbox service customer, the CMRA owner or operator shall (A) within 48 hours after receipt of any process, place a copy of the documents or a notice that the documents were received into the customer's mailbox or other place where the customer usually receives his or her mail, unless the mail receiving service for the customer was previously terminated, and (B) within five days after receipt, send all documents by first-class mail, to the last known home or personal address of the mail receiving service customer. The CMRA shall obtain a certificate of mailing in connection with the mailing of the documents. Service of process upon the mail receiving service customer shall then be deemed perfected 10 days after the date of mailing.

If the CMRA owner or operator has complied with the foregoing requirements and provides to any party participating in a lawsuit involving a mail receiving service customer a declaration of service by mail, given under penalty of perjury along with a certificate of mailing, the CMRA owner or operator shall have no further liability in connection with acting as agent for service of process for its mail receiving service customer.

(2) Upon complaint or inquiry concerning any CMRA mail receiving service customer, the CMRA owner or operator shall inform the person making the complaint or inquiry that the CMRA is an authorized agent for service of process on the mail receiving service customer.

(3) Upon presentation of a certified copy of a judgment, the CMRA shall disclose to the judgment creditor the last known address of any of its mail receiving service customers against whom the judgment was obtained.

(e) An owner or operator of a CMRA who, acting in good faith, contacts a governmental agency concerning suspected illegal or fraudulent activities carried out by a mail receiving service customer shall have no liability for claims filed by the customer arising out of that contact. No owner or operator of a commercial mail receiving agency that maintains on file a copy of the United States Postal Service Form 1583 for its private mailbox receiving service customers and complies with subdivision (c) shall be liable for any illegal acts of any mail receiving service customer based only on the fact that the owner or operator of the CMRA provided mail receiving services to the customer.

(f) The following acknowledgement and notice, substantially in the form set forth below, shall be delivered to each person obtaining private mailbox receiving service at a CMRA:

"ACKNOWLEDGEMENT BY PRIVATE MAILBOX SERVICE CUSTOMERS

This acknowledgement is required by Section 17538.5 of the Business and Professions Code.

Any person obtaining private mailbox receiving service in the State of California must read and acknowledge receipt of the following statement, which is to be kept on file at this CMRA and will be made available, upon demand, to the Department of Consumer Affairs or any law enforcement agency conducting an investigation.

By requesting and obtaining use of a private mailbox receiving service in the State of California, I acknowledge that:

1. I am obligated to disclose my actual home address or place of residence on a USPS Form 1583 or other form as may later be developed and I further agree that I will provide prompt written notice to this CMRA of any subsequent change in my home address or place of residence.

2. By signing below, I irrevocably authorize this CMRA to act as my agent for service of process to receive any legal documents that may be served upon me. This authorization shall continue from the date of this agreement until two years after my mail receiving service has been terminated. I understand that this CMRA will (A) place a copy of the documents or a notice that the documents were received into my mailbox or other place where I usually receive my mail, unless my mail receiving service has been terminated, and (B) send all documents by first-class mail to the home or other address last known to the CMRA.

3. I further acknowledge that I understand that use of a private mailbox receiving service for commercial purposes in the State of California requires the user to comply with all applicable laws, including Section 17538.5 of the Business and Professions Code and laws prohibiting unfair competition and false advertising as set forth in Sections 17200 and 17500 of the Business and Professions Code. Violation of these laws may result in criminal or civil penalties or both. I understand that the United States Postal Service Form 1583 that must be prepared for each private mailbox receiving service customer shall be delivered to the local United States Post Office and a copy of the form must be retained by this CMRA and made available upon demand to the Department of Consumer Affairs or any law enforcement agency conducting an investigation. I hereby agree to accept and abide by the foregoing requirements.

In carrying out the investigations, each local health officer shall follow applicable local rules and regulations and all general and special rules, regulations, and orders of the state department. If the local health officer determines that the public health in general or the health of a particular person is endangered by exposure to a person who is known to have active tuberculosis disease, or to a person for whom there are reasonable grounds to believe has active tuberculosis disease, the local health officer may issue any orders he or she deems necessary to protect the public health or the health of any other person, and may make application to a court for enforcement of the orders. Upon the receipt of information that any order has been violated, the health officer shall advise the district attorney of the county in which the violation has occurred, in writing, and shall submit to the district attorney the information in his or her possession relating to the subject matter of the order, and of the violation or violations thereof.

(1) The person has infectious tuberculosis disease, or who presents a substantial likelihood of having infectious tuberculosis disease, based upon proven epidemiologic evidence, clinical evidence, X-ray readings, or tuberculosis laboratory test results.

(2) The local health officer finds, based on recognized infection control principles, that there is a substantial likelihood the person may transmit tuberculosis to others because of his or her inadequate separation from others.

(e) An order for the removal to, detention in, or admission into, a health facility or other treatment facility of a person if both of the following occur:

(1) The person has active tuberculosis disease, or has been reported to the health officer as having active tuberculosis disease with no subsequent report to the health officer of the completion of an appropriate prescribed course of medication for tuberculosis disease.

(2) There is a substantial likelihood, based on the person's past or present behavior, that he or she cannot be relied upon to participate in or complete an appropriate prescribed course of medication for tuberculosis disease and, if necessary, follow required infection control precautions for tuberculosis disease. (h) This section shall apply to all persons except those incarcerated in a state correctional institution.

(i) This section shall not be construed to require a private hospital or other private treatment facility to accept any patient without a payment source, including county responsibilities under Section 17000 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, except as required by Sections 1317 et seq. or by federal law.

(4) The orders shall be in writing, and shall include the name of the person, the period of time during which the order shall remain effective, the location, payer source if known, and other terms and conditions as may be necessary to protect the public health. Upon issuing an order, a copy of the order shall be served upon the person named in the order.

(b) An order for the detention of a person shall do all of the following:

(3) Advise the person being detained that, whether or not he or she requests release from detention, the local health officer is required to obtain a court order authorizing detention within 60 days following the commencement of detention and thereafter shall further seek court review of the detention within 90 days of the court order and within 90 days of each subsequent court review.

(4) Advise the person being detained that he or she has the right to arrange to be represented by counsel or to have counsel provided, and that if he or she chooses to have counsel provided, the counsel will be notified that the person has requested legal representation.

(5) Be accompanied by a separate notice that shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following additional information:

(C) That he or she may supply the addresses or telephone numbers of not more than two individuals to receive notification of the person's detention, and that the local health officer shall, at the patient's request, provide notice within the limits of reasonable diligence to those people that the person is being detained.

(a) A person who is detained solely pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 3285 shall not continue to be detained beyond the minimum period of time required, with the exercise of all due diligence, to make a medical determination of whether a person who is suspected of having tuberculosis disease, has active tuberculosis or whether a person who has active tuberculosis disease has infectious tuberculosis disease. Further detention of the person shall be authorized only upon the issuance of a local health officer's order pursuant to subdivision (d) or (e) of Section 3285.

(b) A person who is detained solely for the reasons described in subdivision (d) of Section 3285 shall not continue to be detained after he or she ceases to be infectious or after the local health officer ascertains that changed circumstances exist that permit him or her to be adequately separated from others so as to prevent transmission of tuberculosis disease after his or her release from detention.

(c) A person who is detained for the reasons described in subdivision (e) of Section 3285 shall not continue to be detained after he or she has completed an appropriate prescribed course of medication.

Upon conviction thereof, in addition to any and all other penalties that may be imposed by law upon the conviction, the person may be ordered by the court confined until the order of the local health officer shall have been fully complied with or terminated by the local health officer, but not exceeding one year from the date of passing judgment upon the conviction, further, the court, upon suitable assurances that the order of the local health officer will be complied with, may place any person convicted of a violation of the order of the local health officer upon probation for a period not to exceed two years, upon condition that the order of the local health officer be fully complied with, further, upon any subsequent violation of the order of the local health officer, the probation shall be terminated and confinement as provided for in this section shall be ordered by the court. (a) It is significant that the Santa Clara County Intergovernmental Council has found that due to changes in the labor force and an increase in the child population, 25 percent of the nation's workers must make child care arrangements.

(c) Allowing and encouraging businesses to open onsite or nearsite employer-sponsored child care centers has had a number of positive effects for Californians, including reduced job absenteeism, closer parent-child relationships, and increased worker productivity.

(d) In a 1990 study, the Department of General Services found that working parents add five to six miles to their daily commute for transporting their children to child care and school, and that the effect of this commute is 1,352 extra miles driven each year and an additional 56 pounds of auto emissions per person per year.

Article 2. Licensing Waivers for Small Businesses

1571.71. To encourage and facilitate the establishment of employer-sponsored child day care centers, the department shall allow for reasonable waivers of those regulations presenting difficulties to small businesses for licensure, provided that the health and safety of all children is maintained and that the applicant has agreed to alternative methods of meeting the purpose and intent of any regulation waived.

A transfer pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be at fair market value if an independent consultant, with expertise in methods of appraisal and valuation and in accordance with applicable governmental and industry standards for appraisal and valuation, determines that fair and reasonable consideration is to be received by the district for the transferred district assets. Before the district transfers, pursuant to this paragraph, 50 percent or more of the district's assets to one or more nonprofit corporations, in sum or by increment, the elected board shall, by resolution, submit to the voters of the district a measure proposing the transfer. The measure shall be placed on the ballot of a special election held upon the request of the district or the ballot of the next regularly scheduled election occurring at least 88 days after the resolution of the board. If a majority of the voters voting on the measure vote in its favor, the transfer shall be approved. The campaign disclosure requirements applicable to local measures provided under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 84100) of Title 9 of the Government Code shall apply to this election.

(2) To transfer, for the benefit of the communities served by the district, in the absence of adequate consideration, any part of the assets of the district, including without limitation real property, equipment, and other fixed assets, current assets, and cash, relating to the operation of the district's health care facilities to one or more nonprofit corporations to operate and maintain the assets.

(A) A transfer of 50 percent or more of the district's assets, in sum or by increment, pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the communities served by the district only if all of the following occur:

(i) The transfer agreement and all arrangements necessary thereto are fully discussed in advance of the district board decision to transfer the assets of the district in at least five properly noticed open and public meetings in compliance with the Ralph M. Brown Act, Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 54950) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code, and Section 32106.

(iv) The transfer agreement commits the nonprofit corporation to operate and maintain the district's health care facilities and its assets for the benefit of the communities served by the district.

(v) The transfer agreement requires that any funds received from the district at the outset of the agreement or any time thereafter during the term of the agreement be used only to reduce district indebtedness, to acquire needed equipment for the district health care facilities, to operate, maintain, and make needed capital improvements to the district's health care facilities, to provide supplemental health care services or facilities for the communities served by the district, or to conduct other activities that would further a valid public purpose if undertaken directly by the district.

(B) A transfer of 33 percent or more but less than 50 percent of the district's assets, in sum or by increment, pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the communities served by the district only if both of the following occur:

(i) The transfer agreement and all arrangements necessary thereto are fully discussed in advance of the district board decision to transfer the assets of the district in at least two properly noticed open and public meetings in compliance with the Ralph M. Brown Act (Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 54950) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code), and Section 32106.

(ii) The transfer agreement meets all of the requirements of clauses (ii) to (v), inclusive, of subparagraph (A).

(C) A transfer of 10 percent or more but less than 33 percent of the district's assets, in sum or by increment, pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be for the benefit of the communities served by the district only if both of the following occur:

(i) The transfer agreement and all arrangements necessary thereto are fully discussed in advance of the district board decision to transfer the assets of the district in at least two properly noticed open and public meetings in compliance with the Ralph M. Brown Act (Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 54950) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code), and Section 32106.

(ii) The transfer agreement meets all of the requirements of (iii) to (v), inclusive, of subparagraph (A).

(D) Before the district transfers, pursuant to this paragraph, 50 percent or more of the district's assets to one or more nonprofit corporations, in sum or by increment, the elected board shall, by resolution, submit to the voters of the district a measure proposing the transfer. The measure shall be placed on the ballot of a special election held upon the request of the district or the ballot of the next regularly scheduled election occurring at least 88 days after the resolution of the board. If a majority of the voters voting on the measure vote in its favor, the transfer shall be approved. The campaign disclosure requirements applicable to local measures provided under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 84100) of Title 9 of the Government Code shall apply to this election.

(E) Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph, a hospital district shall not transfer any portion of its assets to a private nonprofit organization that is owned or controlled by a religious creed, church, or sectarian denomination in the absence of adequate consideration.

(3) If the district board has previously transferred less than 50 percent of the district's assets pursuant to this subdivision, before any additional assets are transferred the board shall hold a public hearing and shall make a public determination that the additional assets to be transferred will not, in combination with any assets previously transferred, equal 50 percent or more of the total assets of the district.

(4) The amendments to this subdivision made during the 1991–92 Regular Session, and the amendments made to this subdivision and to Section 32126 made during the 1993–94 Regular Session, shall only apply to transfers made on or after the effective dates of the acts amending this subdivision. The amendments to this subdivision made during those sessions shall not apply to any of the following:

(A) A district that has discussed and adopted a board resolution, prior to September 1, 1992, that authorizes the development of a business plan for an integrated delivery system.

(B) A lease agreement, transfer agreement, or both between a district and a nonprofit corporation that were in full force and effect as of September 1, 1992, for as long as that lease agreement, transfer agreement, or both remain in full force and effect.

(5) Notwithstanding paragraph (4), if substantial amendments are proposed to be made to a transfer agreement described in subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (4), the amendments shall be fully discussed in advance of the district board's decision to adopt the amendments in at least two properly noticed open and public meetings in compliance with Section 32106 and the Ralph M. Brown Act, (Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 54950) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code).

(6) Notwithstanding paragraphs (4) and (5), a transfer agreement described in subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (4) that provided for the transfer of less than 50 percent of a district's assets shall be subject to the requirements of subdivision (p) of Section 32121 when subsequent amendments to that transfer agreement would result in the transfer, in sum or by increment, of 50 percent or more of a district's assets to the nonprofit corporation.

(7) For purposes of this subdivision, a "transfer" means the transfer of ownership of the assets of a district. A lease of the real property or the tangible personal property of a district shall not be subject to this subdivision except as specified in Section 32121.4 and as required under Section 32126.

(8) Districts that request a special election pursuant to paragraph (1) or (2) shall reimburse counties for the costs of that special election as prescribed pursuant to Section 23524 of the Elections Code.

(9) Nothing in this section, including subdivision (j), shall be construed to permit a local district to obtain or be issued a single consolidated license to operate a separate physical plant as a skilled nursing facility or an intermediate care facility which is not located within the boundaries of the district.

(10) A transfer of any of the assets of a district to one or more nonprofit corporations to operate and maintain the assets shall not be required to meet paragraphs (1) to (9), inclusive, of this subdivision if all of the following conditions apply at the time of the transfer:

(A) The district has entered into a loan that is insured by the State of California under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 436) of Part 1 of Division 1.

(B) The district is in default of its loan obligations, as determined by the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development.

(C) The Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development and the district, in their best judgment, agree the transfer of some or all of the assets of the district to a nonprofit corporation or corporations is necessary to cure the default, and will obviate the need for foreclosure. This cure of default provision shall be applicable prior to the office foreclosing on district hospital assets. After the office has foreclosed on district hospital assets, or otherwise taken possession in accordance with law, the office may exercise all of its powers to deal with and dispose of hospital property.

(D) The transfer and all arrangements necessary thereto are discussed in advance of the transfer in at least one properly noticed open and public meeting in compliance with the Ralph M. Brown Act, Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 54950) of Part 1 of Division 2 of Title 5 of the Government Code and Section 32106. The meeting referred to in this paragraph shall be noticed and held within 90 days of notice in writing to the district by the office of an event of default. If the meeting is not held within this 90-day period, the district shall be deemed to have waived this requirement to have a meeting.

(11) If a transfer under paragraph (10) is a lease, the lease shall provide that the assets shall revert to the district at the conclusion of the leasehold interest. If the transfer is a sale, the proceeds shall be used first to retire the obligation insured by the office, then to retire any other debts of the district. After providing for debts, any remaining funds shall revert to the district.

(q) To contract for bond insurance, letters of credit, remarketing services, and other forms of credit enhancement and liquidity support for its bonds, notes, and other indebtedness and to enter into reimbursement agreements, monitoring agreements, remarketing agreements, and similar ancillary contracts in connection therewith.

(r) To establish, maintain, operate, participate in, or manage capitated health care plans, health maintenance organizations, preferred provider organizations, and other managed health care systems and programs properly licensed by the Department of Insurance or the Department of Corporations, at any location within or without the district for the benefit of residents of communities served by the district. However, that activity shall not be deemed to result in or constitute the giving or lending of the district's credit, assets, surpluses, cash, or tangible goods to, or in aid of, any person, association, or corporation in violation of Section 6 of Article XVI of the California Constitution.

Nothing in this section shall authorize activities that corporations and other artificial legal entities are prohibited from conducting by Section 2400 of the Business and Professions Code.

Any agreement to provide health care coverage that is a health care service plan, as defined in subdivision (f) of Section 1345, shall be subject to the provisions of Chapter 2.2 (commencing with Section 1340) of Division 2, unless exempted pursuant to Section 1343 or 1349.2.

A district shall not provide health care coverage for any employee of an employer operating within the communities served by the district, unless the Legislature specifically authorizes, or has authorized in this section or elsewhere, the coverage.

This section shall not authorize any district to contribute its facilities to any joint venture that could result in transfer of the facilities from district ownership.

(s) To provide health care coverage to members of the district's medical staff, employees of the medical staff members, and the dependents of both groups, on a self-pay basis.

(d) To exercise the right of eminent domain for the purpose of acquiring real or personal property of every kind necessary to the exercise of any of the powers of the district.

(e) To establish one or more trusts for the benefit of the district, to administer any trust declared or created for the benefit of the district, to designate one or more trustees for trusts created by the district, to receive by gift, devise, or bequest, and hold in trust or otherwise, property, including corporate securities of all kinds, situated in this state or elsewhere, and where not otherwise provided, dispose of the same for the benefit of the district.

(f) To employ legal counsel to advise the board of directors in all matters pertaining to the business of the district, to perform the functions in respect to the legal affairs of the district as the board may direct, and to call upon the district attorney of the county in which the greater part of the land in the district is situated for legal advice and assistance in all matters concerning the district, except that if that county has a county counsel, the directors may call upon the county counsel for legal advice and assistance.

(g) To employ any officers and employees, including architects and consultants, the board of directors deems necessary to carry on properly the business of the district.

(h) To prescribe the duties and powers of the health care facility administrator, secretary, and other officers and employees of any health care facilities of the district, to establish offices as may be appropriate and to appoint board members or employees to those offices, and to determine the number of, and appoint, all officers and employees and to fix their compensation. The officers and employees shall hold their offices or positions at the pleasure of the boards of directors.

(i) To do any and all things that an individual might do that are necessary for, and to the advantage of, a health care facility and a nurses' training school, or a child care facility for the benefit of employees of the health care facility or residents of the district.

(j) To establish, maintain, and operate, or provide assistance in the operation of, one or more health facilities or health services, including, but not limited to, outpatient programs, services, and facilities, retirement programs, services, and facilities, chemical dependency programs, services, and facilities, or other health care programs, services, and facilities and activities at any location within or without the district for the benefit of the district and the people served by the district.

(k) To do any and all other acts and things necessary to carry out this division.

(l) To acquire, maintain, and operate ambulances or ambulance services within and without the district.

(m) To establish, maintain, and operate, or provide assistance in the operation of, free clinics, diagnostic and testing centers, health education programs, wellness and prevention programs, rehabilitation, aftercare, and any other health care services provider, groups, and organizations that are necessary for the maintenance of good physical and mental health in the communities served by the district.

(n) To establish and operate in cooperation with its medical staff a coinsurance plan between the hospital district and the members of its attending medical staff.

A transfer pursuant to this paragraph shall be deemed to be at fair market value if an independent consultant, with expertise in methods of appraisal and valuation and in accordance with applicable governmental and industry standards for appraisal and valuation, determines that fair and reasonable consideration is to be received by the district for the transferred district assets. Before the district transfers, pursuant to this paragraph, 50 percent or more of the district's assets to one or more nonprofit corporations, in sum or by increment, the elected board shall, by resolution, submit to the voters of the district a measure proposing the transfer. The measure shall be placed on the ballot of a special election held upon the request of the district or the ballot of the next regularly scheduled election occurring at least 88 days after the resolution of the board. If a majority of the voters voting on the measure vote in its favor, the transfer shall be approved. The campaign disclosure requirements applicable to local measures provided under Chapter 4

(iii) The transfer agreement provides that all assets transferred to the nonprofit corporation, and all assets accumulated by the corporation during the term of the transfer agreement arising out of or from the operation of the transferred assets, are to be transferred back to the district upon termination of the transfer agreement, including any extension of the transfer agreement.

(iv) The transfer agreement commits the nonprofit corporation to operate and maintain the district's health care facilities and its assets for the benefit of the communities served by the district.

(v) The transfer agreement requires that any funds received from the district at the outset of the agreement or any time thereafter during the term of the agreement be used only to reduce district indebtedness, to acquire needed equipment for the district health care facilities, to operate, maintain, and make needed capital improvements to the district's health care facilities, to provide supplemental health care services or facilities for the communities served by the district, or to conduct other activities that would further a valid public purpose if undertaken directly by the district.

(b) A district shall not contract to care for indigent county patients at below the cost for care. In setting the rates the board shall, insofar as possible, establish rates as will permit the district health care facilities to be operated upon a self-supporting basis. The board may establish different rates for residents of the district than for persons who do not reside within the district.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, unless prohibited from doing so by action of the board of directors, the chief executive officer may establish a task force to assist the chief executive officer in operating the district's facilities. The chief executive officer shall, if required to do so by action of the board, select task force members from individuals nominated by the board. Once established, the task force may be dissolved by action of the chief executive officer or the board. SEC. 9. Section 32126 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32126. (a) The board of directors may provide for the operation and maintenance through tenants of the whole or any part of any hospital acquired or constructed by it pursuant to this division, and for that purpose may enter into any lease agreement that it believes will best serve the interest of the district. A lease entered into with one or more nonprofit corporations for the operation of 50 percent or more of the district's hospital, or that is part of or contingent upon a transfer of 50 percent or more of the district's assets, in sum or by increment, as described in subdivision (p) of Section 32121 shall be subject to the requirements of subdivision (p) of Section 32121. (b) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a sublease, an assignment of an existing lease, or the release of a tenant or lessee from obligations under an existing lease in connection with an assignment of an existing lease shall not be subject to the requirements of subdivision (p) of Section 32121 so long as all of the following conditions are met:

(1) The sublease or assignment of the existing lease otherwise remains in compliance with subdivision (a).

(2) The district board determines that the total consideration that the district shall receive following the assignment or sublease, or as a result thereof, taking into account all monetary and other tangible and intangible consideration to be received by the district including, without limitation, all benefits to the communities served by the district, is no less than the total consideration that the district would have received under the existing lease.

(3) The existing lease was entered into on or before July 1, 1984, upon approval of the board of directors following solicitation and review of no less than five offers from prospective tenants.

(4) If substantial amendments are made to an existing lease in connection with the sublease or assignment of that existing lease, the amendments shall be fully discussed in advance of the district board's decision to adopt the amendments in at least two properly noticed open and public meetings in compliance with Section 32106 and the Ralph M. SEC. 10. Section 32127.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

32127.3. (a) Exclusively for the purpose of securing federal mortgage insurance or federal loans for financing or refinancing the construction of new health facilities, the expansion, modernization, renovation, remodeling, or alteration of existing health facilities, and the initial equipping of those health facilities under the federal mortgage insurance programs as are now or may hereafter become available to a local hospital district, and notwithstanding any provision of this division, or any other provision or holding of law, the board of directors of any district may do either or both of the following:

(1) Borrow money or issue bonds, in addition to other financing methods authorized under this division.

(2) Execute, in favor of the United States or appropriate federal agency, first mortgages, first deeds of trust, or other necessary security interests as the federal government may reasonably require with respect to a health facility project property as security for that insurance.

(b) No payments of principal, interest, insurance premiums and inspection fees, and all other costs of financing obtained as authorized by this section shall be made from funds derived from the district's power to tax.

(c) The Legislature hereby determines and declares that the authorizations for executing the mortgages, deeds of trust, or other necessary security agreements by the board and for the enforcement of the federal government's rights thereunder are in the public interest in order to preserve and promote the health, welfare, and safety of the people of the state by providing, without cost to the state, a federal mortgage insurance program for health facility construction loans in order to stimulate the flow of private capital into health facilities construction to enable the critical need for new, expanded, and modernized public health facilities to be met.

(d) The Legislature further determines and declares that the United States or appropriate federal agency named as beneficiary of any first mortgage or other security interest delivered as authorized by this section is not a private person or body within the meaning of Section 11 of Article XI of the California Constitution.

SEC. 11. Section 32132 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

32132. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, or in Chapter 3.2 (commencing with Section 4217.10) of Division 5 of Title 1 of the Government Code, the board of directors shall let any contract involving an expenditure of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for materials and supplies to be furnished, sold, or leased to the district, or any contract involving an expenditure of more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) for work to be done, to the lowest responsible bidder who shall give the security the board requires, or else reject all bids.

Except as otherwise provided in this section, for a local health care district that is a small and rural hospital, as defined in Section 1188.855, the board of directors shall acquire materials and supplies that cost more than twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000), but less than fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), through competitive means, except when the board determines either that (1) the materials and supplies proposed for acquisition are the only materials and supplies that can meet the district's need, or (2) the materials and supplies are needed in cases of emergency where immediate acquisition is necessary for the protection of the public health, welfare, or safety. As used in this paragraph, "competitive means" has the same meaning as used in subdivision (b) of Section 32138.

(b) Subdivision (a) shall not apply to medical or surgical equipment or supplies, to professional services, or to electronic data processing and telecommunications goods and services.

(c) Bids need not be secured for change orders that do not materially change the scope of the work as set forth in a contract previously made if the contract was made after compliance with bidding requirements, and if each individual change order does not total more than 5 percent of the contract.

(d) As used in this section, "medical or surgical equipment or supplies" includes only equipment or supplies commonly, necessarily, and directly used by, or under the direction of, a physician and surgeon in caring for or treating a patient in a hospital.

(e) Nothing in this section shall prevent any district health care facility from participating as a member of any organization described in Section 23704 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, nor shall this section apply to any purchase made, or services rendered, by the organization on behalf of a district health care facility that is a member of the organization.

SEC. 12. Section 7 of this bill shall become operative only if this bill and SB 1546 are both chaptered, in which case Section 6 of this bill shall not become operative.

(B) In the case of owners' awards, the annual amount earned by a California-bred quarter horse for finishing first or second in qualifying races.

(C) In the case of stallion awards, the annual amount earned by California-conceived or California-bred foals of an eligible quarter horse sire for finishing first or second in qualifying races.

(D) In order for earnings from a qualifying race to be considered as eligible earnings, a California-bred quarter horse shall be registered as such with the official registering agency before the date entries were taken by the association for the qualifying race in which that horse earned purse money.

(E) For purposes of this paragraph, the maximum purse considered earned in any qualifying race within this state is two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000) for a win, and eighty thousand dollars ($80,000) for a second place finish.

(F) In determining the purse earned in any qualifying race that is a stakes race, the amount earned shall be based on the added money and other sources of the purse, such as nomination, entry, or starting fees, bonuses, and sponsor contributions, or any combination thereof.

(G) On or before February 1 of any year, the stallion owner shall verify with the official registering agency the eligibility of a stallion to receive the stallion award to which the owner is entitled.

If a sire dies in this state and stood his last season at stud in this state, he shall thereafter continue to be considered an eligible quarter horse sire. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a quarter horse or thoroughbred stallion shall be considered an eligible quarter horse sire only if its owner has verified the stallion's eligibility with the official registering agency for stallion awards on or before February 1 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year for which the awards are being distributed.

(4) "Official registering agency" means the Pacific Coast Quarter Horse Racing Association.

(5) "Owner" means the person who is registered with the paymaster of purses on the date the qualifying race was conducted as the owner of the California-bred quarter horse earning purse money in that race.

(6) "Qualifying race" means all quarter horse races in this state.

(7) "Stallion owner" means the person who is the owner of the eligible quarter horse sire as of December 31 of the calendar year in which that sire's foals had eligible earnings or the person who owned the eligible quarter horse sire on the date that the sire died.

(b) Any association conducting a race meeting which includes quarter horse racing shall deposit with the official registering agency 0.2 of 1 percent of the total amount handled ontrack, and 0.4 of 1 percent of the total amount handled offtrack, in daily conventional and exotic parimutuel pools and a sum equal to 25 percent of those funds specified for purses in Sections 19612.1, 19612.2, 19614.2, 19616, and 19616.1 and the sums specified in Sections 19567 and 19617.5, resulting from quarter horse racing. The deposits shall be made at the following intervals:

(2) For any meeting of more than 20 racing days, the initial deposit shall be made not later than 27 racing days after the commencement of that meeting and every 20 racing days thereafter, with a final deposit made not later than seven days following the last day of that meeting. The initial deposit for that meeting shall be based upon the applicable amount handled during the first 20 racing days of the meeting and deposits thereafter shall be based upon the applicable amount handled during the ensuing periods of 20 racing days with the last deposit being based upon the applicable amount handled from the end of the last 20-racing-day period for which a deposit has been made to the end of the meeting.

(c) After deducting a sum up to, but not to exceed, 10 percent of the total deposits made pursuant to subdivision (b) and the total deposits made pursuant to other provisions of this chapter, including Sections 19612.1, 19612.2, 19614.2, 19616, and 19616.1, to compensate the official registering agency for its administrative costs, the official registering agency shall distribute annually the balance of the deposits in the following manner:

(1) Sixty percent to the breeder fund from which breeder premiums are to be paid.

(2) Twenty-five percent to the owner fund from which owners' awards are to be paid.

(3) Fifteen percent to the stallion fund from which stallion awards are to be paid.

(d) The official registering agency shall make the following payments to the breeder, owner, and stallion owner to encourage agriculture and the breeding of high quality horses in this state:

(1) The breeder shall be paid a sum based on a prorated share of first and second place earnings from qualified races by a California-bred quarter horse.

(2) The owner shall be paid an owners' award, a sum based on a prorated share of first and second place earnings from qualified races by a California-bred quarter horse.

(3) The stallion owner shall be paid a stallion award, a sum based on a prorated share of first and second place earnings from qualified races by a California-bred quarter horse.

Stallion awards shall not be made to the owner of a sire which has been out of the state for breeding purposes during the calendar year.

(4) The breeder premium, and owners' and stallion awards shall be paid not later than March 31 of the calendar year immediately following the calendar year for which the awards or premiums were earned. Any payments for awards or premiums that are uncashed on December 31 of the year issued, shall accrue to the following year for distribution on an equal basis. All uncashed payments for premiums and awards that have accumulated as of December 31, 1994, shall be paid to the 1995 awards program in accordance with subdivision (c).

(e) The amount remaining for distribution under this section, if any, after the payments are made under subdivision (d) shall be used for the payment of quarter horse breeder premiums and owners' and stallion awards on a prorated percentage based on the win and second place shares of the purse, exclusive of all purse money not derived from the parimutuel pools, to the breeders, owners, and owners of sires of quarter horses who have been officially placed first or second in one or more qualifying races.

(f) If there are insufficient funds to make all of the distributions in this section, there shall be no assessments made against any association to fund the deficiencies.

(2) The adoption of departmental regulations, training of driving school instructors, and all other functions necessary to prepare for the implementation of the pilot program shall be performed by the department commencing on January 1, 1995,

(b) Commencing on January 1, 1996, the department may allow a driving school that has operated for at least two years in compliance with Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 11100) of Division 5 to administer the behind-the-wheel driving test portion of the examination required by subparagraph (D) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (a) of Section 12804.9 for a provisional driver's license for any person who is 16 years of age or older, but who is less than 18 years of age, if all of the following conditions apply:

(1) The applicant has complied with the requirements of Section 12507.

(2) The tests given by the driving school are the same as those that would otherwise be given by the department.

(3) The driving school enters into an agreement with the department containing, but not limited to, all of the following provisions:

(A) The department shall annually conduct onsite inspections of the testing operations, or more often as the department determines to be necessary.

(D) No driving school or driving school instructor shall condition

(E) The driving school requires written assurances from an applicant's parent or guardian that the parent or guardian assumes liability for the applicant during the driving test.

(F) The department may cancel, suspend, or revoke the agreement with the driving school, upon giving 15 days' prior written notice of the proposed action to the driving school, if the department determines that the driving school is failing to comply with the standards for the behind-the-wheel driving test or with any other term of the agreement. Upon receiving that notice, a driving school may request a departmental hearing within 10 days from the date of receipt of the notice.

(G) Any departmental hearing requested by the driving school pursuant to subparagraph (D) shall be conducted pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

The action shall be commenced within 90 days from the effective date of the order.

(4) A driving school that has had its agreement canceled, suspended, or revoked by order of the department may not administer a behind-the-wheel driving test during the period that the order is in effect.

(5) (A) Any driving school that has had its agreement canceled pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) may apply for a new agreement at any time.

(B) The suspension of an agreement pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) shall be for a term of not more than 12 months, as determined by the department in accordance with regulations adopted by the department. After the period of suspension has expired, the agreement shall be reinstated upon request of the driving school if the driving school is in compliance with this section.

(C) (i) The revocation of an agreement pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) shall be for a term of not less than one year. A driving school may apply for a new agreement after the period of revocation has expired, upon submission of proof to the department of correction of the deficiencies or violations that resulted in the revocation.

(ii) The department may permanently revoke an agreement pursuant to subparagraph (D) of paragraph (3) for repeated violations or repeated failures to comply with any standard or provision of the agreement.

testing program. The department shall periodically choose at random and retest driving school-certified provisional license applicants for the purposes of evaluating the program.

(7) Any provisional driver's license applicant who takes and passes a driving test administered by a driving school pursuant to this section shall provide the department with a certificate satisfactory to the department that the applicant has successfully passed the driving test.

(8) The department shall charge a fee not to exceed five dollars ($5) for each certificate provided to the department by an applicant. The amount of the fee shall be sufficient to pay for the actual costs incurred by the department in connection with the monitoring of driving schools and retesting of license applicants pursuant to paragraph (6).

(9) (A) This paragraph applies only to driving schools that have administered both behind-the-wheel training and behind-the-wheel driving tests for at least 12 months.

(B) The department shall prohibit a driving school from continuing to administer behind-the-wheel driving tests if the department determines that the driving school has administered behind-the-wheel training and behind-the-wheel driving tests to applicants, the majority of whom have subsequently been subject to any of the following provisions:

(i) Paragraph (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 12814.6.

(ii) Paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) of Section 12814.6.

(iii) Paragraph (7) of subdivision (a) of Section 12814.6.

(10) The establishment of driving school behind-the-wheel testing agreements may be implemented by the department on those dates that the department determines to be necessary to accomplish an orderly provisional driver's license testing program pursuant to this section.

(11) During each year of the two years of the pilot project authorized by this section, not more than 15,000 applicants for provisional driver's licenses may receive the behind-the-wheel driving test at a driving school that meets the criteria specified in this section.

(12) The department shall submit a report to the Legislature on the progress of the driving school testing program authorized pursuant to this section within three years after the date the program is implemented. The report shall compare subsequent driving records, including accidents, convictions, and failures to appear, for provisional driver's license applicants who have been tested by the driving schools and tested by the department. The report shall include, but shall not be limited to, an analysis of the costs and benefits of the program and shall include recommendations by the department.

(13) The director may terminate the driving school testing program at any time that the department determines that continued operation of the program would have an adverse effect on traffic safety. The finding upon which that determination is based shall be reported to the Legislature not later than 30 days after the termination of the program.

(14) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

(7) The information may be disclosed to public agencies, clinical investigators, health care research organizations, and accredited public or private nonprofit educational or health care institutions for bona fide research purposes. However, no information so disclosed shall be further disclosed by the recipient in any way which would permit identification of the patient.

(8) A provider of health care that has created medical information as a result of employment-related health care services to an employee conducted at the specific prior written request and expense of the employer may disclose to the employee's employer that part of the information which:

(A) Is relevant in a law suit, arbitration, grievance, or other claim or challenge to which the employer and the employee are parties and in which the patient has placed in issue his or her medical history, mental or physical condition, or treatment, provided it may only be used or disclosed in connection with that proceeding.

(9) Unless the provider is notified in writing of an agreement by the sponsor, insurer, or administrator to the contrary, the information may be disclosed to a sponsor, insurer, or administrator of a group or individual insured or uninsured plan or policy which the patient seeks coverage by or benefits from, if the information was created by the provider of health care as the result of services conducted at the specific prior written request and expense of the sponsor, insurer, or administrator for the purpose of evaluating the application for coverage or benefits.

(10) The information may be disclosed to a group practice prepayment health care service plan by providers which contract with the plan and may be transferred among providers which contract with the plan, for the purpose of administering the plan. Medical information may not otherwise be disclosed by a health care service plan except in accordance with the provisions of this part.

(11) Nothing in this part shall prevent the disclosure by a provider of health care to an insurance institution, agent, or support organization, subject to Article 6.6 (commencing with Section 791) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code, of medical information if the insurance institution, agent, or support organization has complied with all requirements for obtaining the information pursuant to Article 6.6 (commencing with Section 791) of Part 2 of Division 1 of the Insurance Code.

(12) The information relevant to the patient's condition and care and treatment provided may be disclosed to a probate court investigator engaged in determining the need for an initial conservatorship or continuation of an existent conservatorship, if the patient is unable to give informed consent, or to a probate court investigator, probation officer, or domestic relations investigator engaged in determining the need for an initial guardianship or continuation of an existent guardianship.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2982 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

2982. Every conditional sale contract subject to this chapter shall contain the disclosures required by Regulation Z whether or not Regulation Z applies to the transaction. In addition, to the extent applicable, the contract shall contain the other disclosures and notices required by, and shall satisfy the requirements and limitations of, this section. The disclosures required by subdivision (a) may be itemized or subtotaled to a greater extent than as required by that subdivision and shall be made together and in the sequence set forth in that subdivision. All other disclosures and notices may appear in the contract in any location or sequence and may be combined or interspersed with other provisions of the contract.

(a) The contract shall contain the following disclosures, as applicable, which shall be labeled "itemization of the amount financed":

(1) (A) The cash price, exclusive of document preparation fees, taxes imposed on the sale, pollution control certification fees, and the amount charged for a service contract.

(B) The fee to be retained by the seller for document preparation.

(C) The fee charged by the seller for certifying that the motor vehicle complies with applicable pollution control requirements.

(D) Any donation made to a high polluter repair or removal program.

(E) Taxes imposed on the sale.

(F) The amount charged for a service contract.

(G) The total cash price, which is the sum of subparagraphs (A) to (F), inclusive.

(2) An itemization of the amounts to be paid to any public officer for license, certificate of title, motor vehicle smog impact fee, and registration.

(3) The aggregate amount of premiums agreed, upon execution of the contract, to be paid for policies of insurance included in the contract, excluding the amount of any insurance premium included in the finance charge.

(4) The amount of the state fee for issuance of a certificate of compliance, noncompliance, exemption, or waiver pursuant to any applicable pollution control statute.

(5) A subtotal representing the sum of the foregoing items.

(6) The amount of the buyer's downpayment itemized to show the following:

(A) The net agreed value of the property being traded in.

(B) The amount of any portion of the downpayment to be deferred until not later than the due date of the second regularly scheduled installment under the contract and which is not subject to a finance charge.

(C) The amount of any manufacturer's rebate applied or to be applied to the downpayment.

(D) The remaining amount paid or to be paid by the buyer as a downpayment.

(7) The amount of any administrative finance charge, labeled "prepaid finance charge."

(8) The difference between item (5) and the sum of items (6) and (7), labeled "amount financed."

(b) No particular terminology is required to disclose the items set forth in subdivision (a) except as expressly provided in that subdivision.

(c) If payment of all or a portion of the downpayment is to be deferred, the deferred payment shall be reflected in the payment schedule disclosed pursuant to Regulation Z.

(d) If the downpayment includes property being traded in, the contract shall contain a brief description of that property.

(e) The contract shall contain the names and addresses of all persons to whom the notice required under Section 2983.2 and permitted under Sections 2983.5 and 2984 is to be sent.

(f) (1) Where the contract includes a finance charge determined on the precomputed basis, the contract shall identify the method of computing the unearned portion of the finance charge in the event of prepayment in full of the buyer's obligation and contain a statement of the amount or method of computation of any charge that may be deducted from the amount of any unearned finance charge in computing the amount that will be credited to the obligation or refunded to the buyer. The method of computing the unearned portion of the finance charge shall be sufficiently identified with a reference to the actuarial method if the computation will be under that method. The method of computing the unearned portion of the finance charge shall be sufficiently identified with a reference to the Rule of 78's, the sum of the digits, or the sum of the periodic time balances method in all other cases, and those references shall be deemed to be equivalent for disclosure purposes.

(2) Where the contract includes a finance charge which is determined on the simple-interest basis but provides for a minimum finance charge in the event of prepayment in full, the contract shall contain a statement of that fact and the amount of the minimum finance charge or its method of calculation.

(g) (1) Where the contract includes a finance charge which is determined on the precomputed basis and provides that the unearned portion of the finance charge to be refunded upon full prepayment of the contract is to be determined by a method other than actuarial, the contract shall contain a notice, in at least 10-point boldface type if the contract is printed, reading as follows: "Notice to buyer: (1) Do not sign this agreement before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces to be filled in. (2) You are entitled to a completely filled-in copy of this agreement. (3) You can prepay the full amount due under this agreement at any time and obtain a partial refund of the finance charge if it is $1 or more. Because of the way the amount of this refund will be figured, the time when you prepay could increase the ultimate cost of credit under this agreement. (4) If you default in the performance of your obligations under this agreement, the vehicle may be repossessed and you may be subject to suit and liability for the unpaid indebtedness evidenced by this agreement."

(2) Where the contract includes a finance charge which is determined on the precomputed basis and provides for the actuarial method for computing the unearned portion of the finance charge upon prepayment in full, the contract shall contain a notice, in at least 10-point boldface type if the contract is printed, reading as follows: "Notice to buyer: (1) Do not sign this agreement before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces to be filled in. (2) You are entitled to a completely filled-in copy of this agreement. (3) You can prepay the full amount due under this agreement at any time and obtain a partial refund of the finance charge if it is $1 or more. (4) If you default in the performance of your obligations under this agreement, the vehicle may be repossessed and you may be subject to suit and liability for the unpaid indebtedness evidenced by this agreement."

(3) Where the contract includes a finance charge which is determined on the simple-interest basis, the contract shall contain a notice, in at least 10-point boldface type if the contract is printed, reading as follows: "Notice to buyer: (1) Do not sign this agreement before you read it or if it contains any blank spaces to be filled in. (2) You are entitled to a completely filled-in copy of this agreement. (3) You can prepay the full amount due under this agreement at any time. (4) If you default in the performance of your obligations under this agreement, the vehicle may be repossessed and you may be subject to suit and liability for the unpaid indebtedness evidenced by this agreement."

(h) The contract shall contain a notice in at least 8-point boldface type, acknowledged by the buyer, that reads as follows:

"If you have a complaint concerning this sale, you should try to resolve it with the seller.

Complaints concerning unfair or deceptive practices or methods by the seller may be referred to the city attorney, the district attorney, or the Department of Motor Vehicles, Division of Investigations and Occupational Licensing, P.O. Box 93289, Sacramento, California 94232-3890, or any combination thereof.

After this contract is signed, the seller may not change the financing or payment terms unless you agree in writing to the change. You do not have to agree to any change, and it is an unfair or deceptive practice for the seller to make a unilateral change.

Buyer's Signature"

(i) (1) The contract shall contain an itemization of any insurance included as part of the amount financed disclosed pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) and of any insurance included as part of the finance charge. The itemization shall identify the type of insurance coverage and the premium charged therefor, and, if the insurance expires before the date of the last scheduled installment included in the repayment schedule, the term of the insurance shall be stated.

(2) If any charge for insurance (other than for credit life or disability) is included in the contract balance and disbursement of any part thereof is to be made more than one year after the date of the conditional sale contract, any finance charge on the amount to be disbursed after one year shall be computed from the month the disbursement is to be made to the due date of the last installment under the conditional sale contract.

(j) (1) The dollar amount of the disclosed finance charge shall not exceed the greater of:

(A) (i) One and one-half percent on so much of the unpaid balance as does not exceed two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225), 1⅙ percent on so much of the unpaid balance in excess of two hundred twenty-five dollars ($225) as does not exceed nine hundred dollars ($900), ⅚ of 1 percent on so much of the unpaid balance in excess of nine hundred dollars ($900) as does not exceed one thousand six hundred fifty dollars ($1,650), and $^{13}/_{24}$ of 1 percent on that portion of the unpaid balance which exceeds one thousand six hundred fifty dollars ($1,650); or

(ii) One percent of the entire unpaid balance; multiplied in either case by the number of months (computed on the basis of a full month for any fractional month period in excess of 15 days) elapsing between the date of the contract and the due date of the last installment; or

(B) If the finance charge is determined by the precomputed basis, twenty-five dollars ($25); or

(C) If the finance charge or a portion thereof is determined by the simple-interest basis:

(i) Twenty-five dollars ($25) if the unpaid balance does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), (ii) fifty dollars ($50) if the unpaid balance exceeds one thousand dollars ($1,000) but does not exceed two thousand dollars ($2,000), or (iii) seventy-five dollars ($75) if the unpaid balance exceeds two thousand dollars ($2,000).

(2) The holder of the contract shall not charge, collect, or receive a finance charge which exceeds the disclosed finance charge, except to the extent (A) caused by the holder's receipt of one or more payments under a contract which provides for determination of the finance charge or a portion thereof on the 365-day basis at a time or times other than as originally scheduled whether or not the parties enter into an agreement pursuant to Section 2982.3, (B) permitted by paragraph (2), (3), or (4) of subdivision (c) of Section 226.17 of Regulation Z, or (C) permitted by subdivisions (a) and (c) of Section 2982.8.

(3) If the finance charge or a portion thereof is determined by the simple-interest basis and the amount of the unpaid balance exceeds five thousand dollars ($5,000), the holder of the contract may, in lieu of its right to a minimum finance charge under subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1), charge, receive, or collect on the date of the contract an administrative finance charge not to exceed seventy-five dollars ($75), provided that the sum of the administrative finance charge and the portion of the finance charge determined by the simple-interest basis shall not exceed the maximum total finance charge permitted by subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1). Any administrative finance charge which is charged, received, or collected by a holder shall be deemed a finance charge earned on the date of the contract.

(4) When a contract provides for unequal or irregular payments, or payments on other than a monthly basis, the maximum finance charge shall be at the effective rate provided for in paragraph (1), having due regard for the schedule of installments.

(k) The contract may provide that for each installment in default for a period of not less than 10 days the buyer shall pay a delinquency charge in an amount not to exceed in the aggregate 5 percent of the delinquent installment, which amount may be collected only once on any installment regardless of the period during which it remains in default. Payments timely received by the seller under an extension or deferral agreement shall not be subject to a delinquency charge unless the charge is permitted by Section 2982.3. The contract may provide for reasonable collection costs and fees in the event of delinquency.

(l) Notwithstanding any provision of a contract to the contrary, the buyer may pay at any time before maturity the entire indebtedness evidenced by the contract without penalty. In the event of prepayment in full:

(1) If the finance charge was determined on the precomputed basis, the amount required to prepay the contract shall be the outstanding contract balance as of that date, provided, however, that the buyer shall be entitled to a refund credit in the amount of the unearned portion of the finance charge, except as provided in paragraphs (3) and (4). The amount of the unearned portion of the finance charge shall be at least as great a proportion of the finance charge, including any additional finance charge imposed pursuant to Section 2982.8 or other additional charge imposed because the contract has been extended, deferred, or refinanced, as the sum of the periodic monthly time balances payable more than 15 days after the date of prepayment bears to the sum of all the periodic monthly time balances under the schedule of installments in the contract or, if the contract has been extended, deferred, or refinanced, as so extended, deferred, or refinanced. Where the amount of the refund credit is less than one dollar ($1), no refund credit need be made by the holder. Any refund credit may be made in cash or credited to the outstanding obligations of the buyer under the contract.

(2) If the finance charge or a portion thereof was determined on the simple-interest basis, the amount required to prepay the contract shall be the outstanding contract balance as of that date, including any earned finance charges which are unpaid as of that date and, if applicable, the amount provided in paragraph (3), and provided further that in cases where a finance charge is determined on the 360-day basis, the payments theretofore received will be assumed to have been received on their respective due dates regardless of the actual dates on which the payments were received.

(3) Where the minimum finance charge provided by subparagraph (B) or subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (j), if either is applicable, is greater than the earned finance charge as of the date of prepayment, the holder shall be additionally entitled to the difference.

(4) The provisions of this subdivision shall not impair the right of the seller or the seller's assignee to receive delinquency charges on delinquent installments and reasonable costs and fees as provided in subdivision (k) or extension or deferral agreement charges as provided in Section 2982.3.

(5) Notwithstanding any provision of a contract to the contrary, whenever the indebtedness created by any contract is satisfied prior to its maturity through surrender of the motor vehicle, repossession of the motor vehicle, redemption of the motor vehicle after repossession, or any judgment, the outstanding obligation of the buyer shall be determined as provided in paragraph (1) or (2); provided further that the buyer's outstanding obligation shall be computed by the holder as of the date the holder recovers the value of the motor vehicle through disposition thereof or judgment is entered or, if the holder elects to keep the motor vehicle in satisfaction of the buyer's indebtedness, as of the date the holder takes possession of the motor vehicle.

(m) Notwithstanding any other provision of this chapter to the contrary, any information required to be disclosed in a conditional sale contract under this chapter may be disclosed in any manner, method, or terminology required or permitted under Regulation Z, as in effect at the time that disclosure is made, except that permitted by paragraph (2) of subdivision (c) of Section 226.18 of Regulation Z, provided that all of the requirements and limitations set forth in subdivision (a) of this section are satisfied. Nothing in this chapter prohibits the disclosure in that contract of additional information required or permitted under Regulation Z, as in effect at the time that disclosure is made.

(n) If the seller imposes a fee for document preparation, the contract shall contain a disclosure that the fee is not a governmental fee.

(o) No seller may impose an application fee for a transaction governed by this chapter.

(p) The seller or holder may charge and collect a fee not to exceed fifteen dollars ($15) for the return by a depository institution of a dishonored check, negotiated order of withdrawal, or share draft issued in connection with the contract, if the contract so provides or if the contract contains a generalized statement that the buyer may be liable for collection costs incurred in connection with the contract.

(q) The contract shall disclose on its face, by printing the word "new" or "used" within a box outlined in red, that is not smaller than one-half inch high and one-half inch wide, whether the vehicle is sold as a new vehicle, as defined in Section 430 of the Vehicle Code, or a used vehicle, as defined in Section 665 of the Vehicle Code.

THERE IS NO COOLING OFF PERIOD

California law does not provide for a "cooling off" or other cancellation period for vehicle sales. Therefore, you cannot later cancel this contract simply because you change your mind, decide the vehicle costs too much, or wish you had acquired a different vehicle. After you sign below, you may only cancel this contract with the agreement of the seller or for legal cause, such as fraud.

SEC. 2. Section 14036 of the Government Code is amended to read:

(3) A potential fare policy that would maximize both ridership and yield.

(4) A summary of discussions with Amtrak on the subject of fares.

SEC. 3. Section 66503 of the Government Code is amended to read:

The attorney for the petitioner shall be given a copy of the petition, and any supporting documents. The hearing shall be a civil hearing; however, in order to reduce costs, the rules of criminal discovery, as well as civil discovery, shall be applicable. The standard of proof shall be beyond a reasonable doubt, and if the trial is by jury, the jury shall be unanimous in its verdict. The trial shall be by jury unless waived by both the person and the district attorney. The court may, upon stipulation of both parties, receive in evidence the affidavit or declaration of any psychiatrist, psychologist, or other professional person who was involved in the certification and hearing process, or any professional person involved in the evaluation or treatment of the petitioner during the certification process. The court may allow the affidavit or declaration to be read and the contents thereof considered in the rendering of a decision or verdict in any proceeding held pursuant to subdivision (b) or (c), or subdivision (a) of Section 2972. If the court or jury reverses the determination of the Board of Prison Terms, the court shall stay the execution of the decision for five working days to allow for an orderly release of the prisoner.

(c) If the Board of Prison Terms continues a parolee's mental health treatment under Section 2962 when it continues the parolee's parole under Section 3001, the procedures of this section shall only be applicable for the purpose of determining if the parolee has a severe mental disorder, whether the parolee's severe mental disorder is not in remission or cannot be kept in remission without treatment, and whether by reason of his or her severe mental disorder, the parolee represents a substantial danger of physical harm to others.

CHAPTER 707

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The sum of seven million dollars ($7,000,000) is hereby appropriated from the General Fund to the Department of Forestry and Fire Protection, for expenditure in the 1993–94 fiscal year, in augmentation of, and for the purposes of, emergency fire

(b) The Director of Finance may withhold authorization for the expenditure of funds provided in this section until such time as, and to the extent that, preliminary estimates of potential deficiencies are verified.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the Director of Finance may authorize the temporary redirection of funds from Item 3540-006-001 of the Budget Act of 1994 (Chapter 139 of the Statutes of 1994), for the purpose of maintaining adequate and necessary fire fighting personnel and aerial fire fighting resources through the 1994 fire season.

SEC. 3. Sections 1 and 2 of this act make appropriations for the usual current expenses of the state within the meaning of paragraph (3) of subdivision (c) of Section 8 of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

An act to add Chapter 1.155 (commencing with Section 199.65) to Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to AIDS.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 1.155 (commencing with Section 199.65) is added to Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.155. AIDS EXPOSURE NOTIFICATION

199.65. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) Early knowledge of HIV infection is important in order to permit exposed persons to make informed health care decisions as well as to take measures to reduce the likelihood of transmitting the infection to others.

(2) Individual health care providers, agents and employees of health care facilities and individual health care providers, and first responders, including police, firefighters, rescue personnel, and other persons who provide the first response to emergencies, frequently come into contact with the blood and other potentially infectious materials of individuals whose HIV infection status is not known.

(3) Even if these exposed individuals use universal infection control precautions to prevent HIV transmission, there will be occasions when they experience significant exposure to the blood or other potentially infectious materials of patients.

(b) Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature to provide a narrow exposure notification and information mechanism to permit individual health care providers, the employees or contracted agents of health care facilities and individual health care providers, and first responders, who have experienced a significant exposure to the blood or other potentially infectious materials of a patient, to learn of the HIV infection status of the patient.

199.66. (a) "Attending physician of the source patient" means any physician and surgeon licensed pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 2000) of Division 2 of the Business and Professions Code and any person licensed pursuant to the Osteopathic Initiative Act, who provides health care services to the source patient. Notwithstanding any other provision of this subdivision to the contrary, the attending physician of the source patient shall include any of the following persons:

(1) The private physician of the source patient.

(2) The physician primarily responsible for the patient who is undergoing inpatient treatment in a hospital.

(3) A registered nurse or licensed nurse practitioner who has been designated by the attending physician of the source patient.

(b) "Available blood or patient sample" means blood or other tissue or material that was legally obtained in the course of providing health care services, and is in the possession of the physician or other health care provider of the source patient prior to the exposure incident.

(c) "Certifying physician" means any physician consulted by the exposed individual for the exposure incident. A certifying physician shall have demonstrated competency and understanding of the then applicable guidelines or standards of the Division of Occupational Safety and Health.

(d) "Exposed individual" means any individual health care provider, first responder, or any other person, including, but not limited to, any employee, volunteer, or contracted agent of any health care provider, who is exposed, within the scope of his or her employment, to the blood or other potentially infectious materials of a source patient.

(e) "Health care provider" means any person licensed or certified pursuant to Division 2 (commencing with Section 500) of the Business and Professions Code, any person licensed pursuant to the Osteopathic Initiative Act or the Chiropractic Initiative Act, any person certified pursuant to Division 2.5 (commencing with Section 1797), any clinic, health dispensary, or health facility licensed or exempt from licensure pursuant to Division 2 (commencing with Section 1200), any employee, volunteer, or contracted agent of any group practice prepayment health care service plan regulated pursuant to the Knox-Keene Health Care Service Plan Act of 1975 (Chapter 2.2 (commencing with Section 1340) of Division 2), and any professional student of one of the clinics, health dispensaries, or health care facilities or health care providers described in this subdivision.

(f) "First responder" means police, firefighters, rescue personnel, and any other person who provides emergency response, first aid care, or other medically related assistance either in the course of the person's occupational duties or as a volunteer.

(g) "Other potentially infectious materials" means those body fluids identified by the Division of Occupational Safety and Health as potentially capable of transmitting HIV.

(h) "Significant exposure" means direct contact with blood or other potentially infectious materials of a patient in a manner that, according to the then applicable guidelines of the Division of Occupational Safety and Health, is capable of transmitting HIV.

(i) "Source patient" means any person receiving health care services whose blood or other potentially infectious material has been the source of a significant exposure to an exposed individual.

199.67. Notwithstanding Chapter 1.11 (commencing with Section 199.20) or any other provision of law, the blood or other tissue or material of a source patient may be tested, and an exposed individual may be informed of the HIV status of the patient, if the exposed individual and the health care facility, if any, have substantially complied with the then applicable guidelines of the Division of Occupational Safety and Health and the State Department of Health Services and if the following procedure is followed:

(a) (1) Whenever an individual becomes an exposed individual by experiencing an exposure to the blood or other potentially infectious material of a patient during the course of rendering health care-related services or occupational services, the exposed individual may request an evaluation of the exposure by a physician to determine if it is a significant exposure as defined in subdivision (h) of Section 199.66. No physician or other exposed individual shall certify his or her own significant exposure. However, an employing physician may certify the exposure of one of his or her employees. Requests for certification shall be made in writing within 72 hours of the exposure.

(2) A written certification by a physician of the significance of the exposure shall be obtained within 72 hours of the request. The certification shall include the nature and extent of the exposure.

(b) (1) The exposed individual shall be counseled regarding the likelihood of transmission, the limitations of an HIV test, the need for followup testing, and the procedures that the exposed individual must follow regardless of the HIV status of the source patient. The exposed individual may be tested in accordance with the then applicable guidelines or standards of the Division of Occupational Safety and Health. The result of this test shall be confirmed as negative before available blood or other patient samples of the source patient may be tested for evidence of HIV infection without the consent of the source patient pursuant to subdivision (d).

(2) Within 72 hours of certifying the exposure as significant, the certifying physician shall provide written certification to an attending physician of the source patient that a significant exposure to an exposed individual has occurred, and shall request information on the HIV status of the source patient and the availability of blood or other patient sample. An attending physician shall respond to the request for information within three working days.

(c) If the HIV status of the source patient is already known to be positive, then, except as provided in subdivisions (b) and (c) of Section 199.24 when the exposed individual is a health care provider or an employee or agent of the health care provider of the source patient, an attending physician and surgeon of the source patient shall attempt to obtain the consent of the source patient to disclose to the exposed individual the HIV status of the source patient. If the source patient cannot be contacted or refuses to consent to the disclosure, then the exposed individual may be informed of the HIV status of the source patient by an attending physician of the source patient as soon as possible after the exposure has been certified as significant, notwithstanding Section 199.21 or any other provision of law.

(d) If the HIV status of the source patient is unknown to the certifying physician or an attending physician, if blood or other patient samples are available, and if the exposed individual has tested negative on a baseline HIV test, the source patient shall be given the opportunity to give informed consent to an HIV test in accordance with the following:

(1) Within 72 hours after receiving a written certification of significant exposure, an attending physician of the source patient shall do all of the following:

(A) Make a good faith effort to notify the source patient or the authorized legal representative of the source patient about the significant exposure. A good faith effort to notify includes, but is not limited to, a documented attempt to locate the source patient by telephone or by first-class mail with certificate of mailing. An attempt to locate the source patient and the results of that attempt shall be documented in the medical record of the source patient. An inability to contact the source patient, or legal representative of the source patient, after a good faith effort to do so as provided in this subdivision, shall constitute a refusal of consent pursuant to paragraph (2).

(B) Attempt to obtain the voluntary informed consent of the source patient or the authorized legal representative of the source patient to perform an HIV test on the source patient or on any available blood or patient sample of the source patient. The voluntary informed consent shall be in writing. The source patient shall have the option not to be informed of the test result. An exposed individual shall be prohibited from attempting to obtain directly informed consent for HIV testing from the source patient. If a source patient is incapacitated and therefore is unable to provide informed consent and has no authorized legal representative, then HIV testing on the source patient or available blood or tissue of the source patient shall not be permitted.

(C) Provide the source patient with medically appropriate pretest counseling and refer the source patient to appropriate posttest counseling and followup if necessary. The source patient shall be offered medically appropriate counseling whether or not he or she consents to testing.

(2) If the source patient or the authorized legal representative of the source patient refuses to consent to an HIV test after a documented effort has been made to obtain consent, then any available blood or patient sample of the source patient may be tested. The source patient or authorized legal representative of the source patient shall be informed that an available blood sample or other tissue or material will be tested despite his or her refusal, and that the exposed individual shall be informed of the HIV test results.

(3) A source patient or the authorized legal representative of a source patient shall be advised that he or she shall be informed of the results of the HIV test only if he or she wishes to be so informed. If a patient refuses to provide informed consent to HIV testing and refuses to learn the results of HIV testing, then he or she shall sign a form documenting this refusal. The source patient's refusal to sign this form shall be construed to be a refusal to be informed of the HIV test results. HIV test results shall only be placed in the medical record when the patient has agreed in writing to be informed of the results.

(4) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, if the source patient or authorized legal representative of a source patient refuses to be informed of the results of the test, then the HIV test results of that source patient shall only be provided to the exposed individual in accordance with the then applicable regulations established by the Division of Occupational Safety and Health.

(5) The source patient's identity shall be encoded on the HIV test result record.

(e) If an exposed individual is informed of the HIV status of a source patient pursuant to this section, the exposed individual shall be informed that he or she is subject to existing confidentiality protections for any identifying information about the HIV test results, and that HIV-related medical information of the source patient shall be kept confidential and may not be further disclosed, except as otherwise authorized by law. The exposed individual shall be informed of the penalties for which he or she would be personally liable for violation of Section 199.21.

(f) The costs for the HIV test and counseling of the exposed individual, or the source patient, or both shall be borne by the employer of the exposed individual, if any. An employer who directs and controls the exposed individual shall provide the postexposure evaluation and followup required by the California Division of Occupational Safety and Health as well as the testing and counseling for source patients required under this chapter. If an exposed individual is a volunteer or a student, then the health care provider or first responder that assigned a task to the volunteer or student may pay for the costs of testing and counseling as if that volunteer or student were an employee. If an exposed individual, who is not an employee of a health facility or of another health care provider, chooses to obtain postexposure evaluation or followup counseling, or both, or treatment, then he or she shall be financially responsible for the costs thereof and shall be responsible for the costs of the testing and counseling for the source patient.

(g) Nothing in this section authorizes the disclosure of the source patient's identity.

(h) Nothing in this section shall authorize a health care provider to draw blood or other body fluids except as otherwise authorized by law.

(i) The provisions of this section are cumulative only and shall not preclude HIV testing of source patients as authorized by any other provision of law.

199.68. (a) No health care provider, as defined in this chapter, shall be subject to civil or criminal liability or professional disciplinary action for performing an HIV test on the available blood or patient sample of a source patient, or for disclosing the HIV status of a source patient to the source patient, an attending physician of the source patient, the certifying physician, the exposed individual, or any attending physician of the exposed individual, if the health care provider has acted in good faith in complying with this chapter.

(b) Any health care provider or first responder, or any exposed individual, who willfully performs or permits the performance of an HIV test on a source patient, that results in economic, bodily, or psychological harm to the source patient, without adhering to the procedure set forth in this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by imprisonment in the county jail for a period not to exceed one year, or a fine not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 1797.112, 1797.171, 1797.172, and 1798.200 of, to add Sections 1797.194, 1798.201, 1798.203, and 1798.209 to, to repeal and add Section 1798.202 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to emergency medical services.

[Approved by Governor September 20, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1797.112 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 2 of Chapter 997 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1797.112. (a) The Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund is hereby created in the State Treasury, the funds in which are to be held in trust for the benefit of the authority's testing and personnel licensure program and for the purpose of making reimbursements to entities for the performance of functions for which fees are collected pursuant to Section 1797.172, for expenditure upon appropriation by the Legislature.

(b) The authority may transfer unused portions of the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund to the Surplus Money Investment Fund. Funds transferred to the Surplus Money Investment Fund shall be placed in a separate trust account, and shall be available for transfer to the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund, together with interest earned, when requested by the authority.

(c) The authority shall maintain a reserve balance in the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund equal to at least three months of the annual authorized expenditures for the personnel licensure program including, but not limited to, reimbursements to entities set forth in subdivision (a). Any increase in the fees deposited in the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund shall be effective upon a determination by the authority that additional moneys are required to fund expenditures of the personnel licensure program, including, but not limited to, reimbursements to entities set forth in subdivision (a).

SEC. 2. Section 1797.171 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1797.171. (a) The authority shall develop, and after approval of the commission pursuant to Section 1799.50, shall adopt, minimum standards for the training and scope of practice for EMT-II.

(b) An EMT-II shall complete a course of training on the nature of sudden infant death syndrome in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 1797.170.

(c) In rural or remote areas of the state where patient transport times are particularly long and where local resources are inadequate to support an EMT-P program for EMS responses, the director may approve additions to the scope of practice of EMT-IIs serving the local system, if requested by the medical director of the local EMS agency, and if the EMT-II has received training equivalent to that of an EMT-P. The approval of the director, in consultation with a committee of local EMS medical directors named by the Emergency Medical Directors Association of California, is required prior to implementation of any addition to a local optional scope of practice for EMT-IIs proposed by the medical director of a local EMS agency. No drug or procedure that is not part of the basic EMT-P scope of practice, including, but not limited to, any approved local options, shall be added to any EMT-II scope of practice pursuant to this subdivision.

Approval of additions to the scope of practices pursuant to this subdivision may be given only for EMT-II programs in effect on January 1, 1994.

SEC. 3. Section 1797.172 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 4 of Chapter 997 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

1797.172. (a) The authority shall develop, and after the approval of the commission pursuant to Section 1799.50, shall adopt, minimum standards for the training and scope of practice for EMT-P.

(b) The approval of the director, in consultation with a committee of local EMS medical directors named by the EMS Medical Directors Association of California, is required prior to implementation of any addition to a local optional scope of practice for EMT-Ps proposed by the medical director of a local EMS agency.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the authority shall be the agency solely responsible for licensure and licensure renewal of EMT-Ps who meet the standards and are not precluded from licensure because of any of the reasons listed in subdivision (d) of Section 1798.200. Each application for licensure or licensure renewal shall include the applicant's social security number in order to establish the identity of the applicant and in order to determine whether the applicant has any criminal convictions in this state or any other jurisdiction, including foreign countries. The information obtained as a result of obtaining the applicant's social security number shall be used in accordance with Section 11105 of the Penal Code, and to determine whether the applicant is subject to denial of licensure or licensure renewal pursuant to this division.

(d) The authority shall charge fees for the licensure and licensure renewal of EMT-Ps in an amount sufficient to support the authority's licensure program at a level that ensures the qualifications of the individuals licensed to provide quality care. The basic fee for licensure or licensure renewal of an EMT-P shall not exceed one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125). Separate additional fees may be charged, at the option of the authority, for services that are not shared by all applicants for licensure and licensure renewal, including, but not limited to, any of the following services:

(1) Initial application for licensure as an EMT-P.

(2) Competency testing, the fee for which shall not exceed thirty dollars ($30), except that an additional fee may be charged for the cost of any services that provide enhanced availability of the exam for the convenience of the EMT-P, such as on-demand electronic testing.

(3) Fingerprint and criminal record check.

(4) Out-of-state training equivalency determination.

(5) Verification of continuing education for a lapse in licensure.

(6) Replacement of a lost licensure card. The fees charged for individual services shall be set so that the total fees charged to EMT-Ps shall not exceed the authority's actual total cost for the EMT-P licensure program.

(e) The authority may provide nonconfidential, nonpersonal information relating to EMS programs to interested persons upon request, and may establish and assess fees for the provision of this information. These fees shall not exceed the costs of providing the information.

(f) At the option of the authority, fees may be collected for the authority by an entity that contracts with the authority to provide any of the services associated with the EMT-P program. All fees collected for the authority in a calendar month by any entity designated by the authority pursuant to this section to collect fees for the authority shall be transmitted to the authority for deposit into the Emergency Medical Services Personnel Fund within 30 calendar days following the last day of the calendar month in which the fees were received by the designated entity, unless the contract between the entity and the authority specifies a different timeframe.

SEC. 4. Section 1797.194 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 1797.193, to read:

1797.194. The purpose of this section is to provide for the state licensure of EMT-P personnel. Notwithstanding any provision of law, including, but not limited to, Sections 1797.208 and 1797.214, all of the following applies to EMT-P personnel:

(a) Any reference to EMT-P certification pursuant to this division shall be equivalent to EMT-P licensure pursuant to this division, including, but not limited to, any provision in this division relating to the assessment of fees.

(b) The statewide examination designated by the authority for licensure of EMT-P personnel and the licensure issued by the authority shall be the single sufficient examination and licensure required for practice as an EMT-P.

(c) EMT-P licenses shall be renewed every two years upon submission to the authority of proof of satisfactory completion of continuing education or other educational requirements established by regulations of the authority, upon approval by the commission. If the evaluation and recommendations of the authority required pursuant to Section 8 of Chapter 997 of the Statutes of 1993, so concludes, the renewal of EMT-P licenses shall, in addition to continuing education requirements, be contingent upon reexamination at 10-year intervals to ensure competency.

(d) Every EMT-P licensee may be disciplined by the authority for violations of this division. The proceedings under this subdivision shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, and the authority shall have all the powers granted therein for this purpose.

(e) Nothing in this section shall be construed to extend the scope of practice of an EMT-P beyond prehospital settings, as defined by regulations of the authority.

(f) Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter or interfere with the local EMS agency's ability to locally accredit licensed EMT-Ps.

(g) Nothing in this section shall be construed to hinder the ability of the medical director of the local EMS agency to maintain medical control within the local EMS system in accordance with this division, including, but not limited to, Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 1798).

SEC. 5. Section 1798.200 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1798.200. (a) The medical director of the local EMS agency may, in accordance with regulations adopted by the authority, deny, suspend, or revoke any EMT-I or EMT-II certificate issued under this division, or may place any EMT-I or EMT-I certificate holder on probation, upon the finding by that medical director of the occurrence of any of the actions listed in subdivision (c).

(b) The authority may deny, suspend, or revoke any EMT-P license issued under this division, or may place any EMT-P license issued under this division, or may place any EMT-P licenseholder on probation upon the finding by the director of the occurrence of any of the actions listed in subdivision (c).

(c) Any of the following actions shall be considered evidence of a threat to the public health and safety and may result in the denial, suspension, or revocation of a certificate or license issued under this division, or in the placement on probation of a certificate or licenseholder under this division:

(1) Fraud in the procurement of any certificate or license under this division.

(2) Gross negligence.

(3) Repeated negligent acts.

(4) Incompetence.

(5) The commission of any fraudulent, dishonest, or corrupt act which is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of prehospital personnel.

(6) Conviction of any crime which is substantially related to the qualifications, functions, and duties of prehospital personnel. The record of conviction or a certified copy of the record shall be conclusive evidence of such conviction.

(7) Violating or attempting to violate directly or indirectly, or assisting in or abetting the violation of, or conspiring to violate, any provision of this division or the regulations adopted by the authority pertaining to prehospital personnel.

(8) Violating or attempting to violate any federal or state statute or regulation which regulates narcotics, dangerous drugs, or controlled substances.

(9) Addiction to the excessive use of, or the misuse of, alcoholic beverages, narcotics, dangerous drugs, or controlled substances.

(10) Functioning outside the supervision of medical control in the field care system operating at the local level, except as authorized by any other license or certification.

(11) Demonstration of irrational behavior or occurrence of a physical disability to the extent that a reasonable and prudent person would have reasonable cause to believe that the ability to perform the duties normally expected may be impaired.

(b) This section shall be inoperative until January 1, 1995, and shall become operative on that date.

SEC. 6. Section 1798.201 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 1798.200, to read:

1798.201. (a) When information comes to the attention of the medical director of the local EMS agency that an EMT-P licenseholder has committed any act or omission that appears to constitute grounds for disciplinary action under this division, the medical director of the local EMS agency may evaluate the information to determine if there is reason to believe that disciplinary action may be necessary.

(b) If the medical director sends a recommendation to the authority for further investigation or discipline of the licenseholder, the recommendation shall include all documentary evidence collected by the medical director in evaluating whether or not to make that recommendation. The recommendation and accompanying evidence shall be deemed in the nature of an investigative communication and be protected by Section 6254 of the Government Code. In deciding what level of disciplinary action is appropriate in the case, the authority shall consult with the medical director of the local EMS agency.

SEC. 7. Section 1798.202 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 8. Section 1798.202 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 1798.201, to read:

1798.202. (a) The director of the authority or the medical director of the local EMS agency, after consultation with the relevant employer, may temporarily suspend, prior to hearing, any EMT-P license upon a determination that: (1) the licensee has engaged in acts or omissions that constitute grounds for revocation of the EMT-P license; and (2) permitting the licensee to continue to engage in the licensed activity, or permitting the licensee to continue in the licensed activity without restriction, would present an imminent threat to the public health or safety. When the suspension is initiated by the local EMS agency, subdivision (b) shall apply. When the suspension is initiated by the director of the authority, subdivision (c) shall apply.

(b) The local EMS agency shall notify the licensee that his or her EMT-P license is suspended and shall identify the reasons therefor. Within three working days of the initiation of the suspension by the local EMS agency, the agency shall transmit to the authority, via facsimile transmission or overnight mail, all documentary evidence collected by the local EMS agency relative to the decision to temporarily suspend. Within two working days of receipt of the local EMS agency's documentary evidence, the director of the authority shall determine the need for the licensure action. Part of that determination shall include an evaluation of the need for continuance of the suspension during the licensure action review process. If the director of the authority determines that the temporary suspension order should not continue, the authority shall immediately notify the licensee that the temporary suspension is lifted. If the director of the authority determines that the temporary suspension order should continue, the authority shall immediately notify the licensee of the decision to continue the temporary suspension and shall, within 15 calendar days of receipt of the EMS agency's documentary evidence, serve the licensee with a temporary suspension order and accusation pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) The director of the authority shall initiate a temporary suspension with the filing of a temporary suspension order and accusation pursuant to Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code and shall notify the director of the local EMS agency, and the relevant employer.

(d) If the licensee files a notice of defense, the hearing shall be held within 30 days of the authority's receipt of the notice of defense. The temporary suspension order shall be deemed vacated if the authority fails to make a final determination on the merits within 15 days after the administrative law judge renders the proposed decision.

SEC. 9. Section 1798.209 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 1798.208, to read:

1798.209. The local EMS agency may place on probation, suspend, or revoke the approval under this division of any training program for failure to comply with this division or any rules or regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

SEC. 10. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 710

CHAPTER 711

An act to amend Sections 6155, 6156, 6157, and 6157.2 of, to amend and renumber Sections 6157.5, 6157.6, and 6157.7 of, and to add Sections 6150, 6158, 6158.1, 6158.2, 6158.3, 6158.4, 6158.5, and 6158.7 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to attorneys.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature makes the following findings:

(a) The right to practice law is a "privilege burdened with conditions." Lawyers are officers of the court whose conduct directly affects how the public perceives the civil justice system (In re Rouss (N.Y. 1917), 116 N.E. 782).

(b) Lawyer advertising is a form of commercial speech, subject to First Amendment protection, but also subject to regulation to protect the public from false and misleading advertising (Bates v. State Bar of Arizona (1977), 433 U.S. 350, 53 L. Ed. 2d 810).

(c) Advertisement by way of electronic media is uniquely pervasive and intrusive. Of all forms of communication, "it is broadcasting that has received the most limited First Amendment protection" (FCC v. Pacifica Foundation (1978), 438 U.S. 726, 57 L. Ed. 2d 1073).

(d) Members of the public may be ill-informed or unaware of their legal rights which if not timely exercised, may be lost.

(e) The public has a need for accurate and truthful information about the availability of legal counsel, the nature of the services lawyers offer, and the prices lawyers charge for services, including routine and standardized legal services.

SEC. 2. Section 6155 of the Business and Professions Code is amended to read:

6155. (a) An individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other entity shall not operate for the direct or indirect purpose, in whole or in part, of referring potential clients to attorneys, and no attorney shall accept a referral of such potential clients, unless all of the following requirements are met:

(1) The service is registered with the State Bar of California and (a) on July 1, 1988, is operated in conformity with minimum standards for a lawyer referral service established by the State Bar, or (b) upon approval by the Supreme Court of minimum standards for a lawyer referral service, is operated in conformity with those standards.

(2) The combined charges to the potential client by the referral service and the attorney to whom the potential client is referred do not exceed the total cost that the client would normally pay if no referral service were involved.

(b) A referral service shall not be owned or operated, in whole or in part, directly or indirectly, by those lawyers to whom, individually or collectively, more than 20 percent of referrals are made. For purposes of this subdivision, a referral service that is owned or operated by a bar association, as defined in the minimum standards, shall be deemed to be owned or operated by its governing committee so long as the governing committee is constituted and functions in the manner prescribed by the minimum standards.

(c) None of the following is a lawyer referral service:

(1) A plan of legal insurance as defined in Section 119.6 of the Insurance Code.

(2) A group or prepaid legal plan, whether operated by a union, trust, mutual benefit or aid association, public or private corporation, or other entity or person, which meets both of the following conditions:

(A) It recommends, furnishes, or pays for legal services to its members or beneficiaries.

(B) It provides telephone advice or personal consultation.

(3) A program having as its purpose the referral of clients to attorneys for representation on a pro bono basis.

(d) The following are in the public interest and do not constitute an unlawful restraint of trade or commerce:

(1) An agreement between a referral service and a participating attorney to eliminate or restrict the attorney's fee for an initial office consultation for each potential client or to provide free or reduced fee services.

(2) Requirements by a referral service that attorneys meet reasonable participation requirements, including experience, education, and training requirements.

(3) Provisions of the minimum standards as approved by the Supreme Court.

(4) Requirements that the application and renewal fees for certification as a lawyer referral service be determined, in whole or in part, by a consideration of any combination of the following factors: a referral service's gross annual revenues, number of panels, number of panel members, amount of fees charged to panel members, or for-profit or nonprofit status; provided that the application and renewal fees do not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or 1 percent of the gross annual revenues, whichever is less.

(5) Requirements that, to increase access to the justice system for all Californians, lawyer referral services establish separate ongoing activities or arrangements that serve persons of limited means.

(e) A violation or threatened violation of this section may be enjoined by any person.

(f) With the approval of the Supreme Court, the State Bar shall formulate and enforce rules and regulations for carrying out this section, including rules and regulations which do the following:

(1) Establish minimum standards for lawyer referral services. The minimum standards shall include provisions ensuring that panel membership shall be open to all attorneys practicing in the geographical area served who are qualified by virtue of suitable experience, and limiting attorney registration and membership fees to reasonable sums which do not discourage widespread attorney membership.

(2) Require that an entity seeking to qualify as a lawyer referral service register with the State Bar and obtain from the State Bar a certificate of compliance with the minimum standards for lawyer referral services.

(3) Require that the certificate may be obtained, maintained, suspended, or revoked pursuant to procedures set forth in the rules and regulations.

(4) Require the lawyer referral service to pay an application and renewal fee for the certificate in such reasonable amounts as may be determined by the State Bar. The State Bar shall adopt rules authorizing the waiver or reduction of the fees upon a demonstration of financial necessity. The State Bar may require that the application and renewal fees for certification as a lawyer referral service be determined, in whole or in part, by a consideration of any combination of the following factors: a referral service's gross annual revenues, number of panels, number of panel members, amount of fees charged to panel members, or for-profit or nonprofit status; provided that the application and renewal fees do not exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or 1 percent of the gross annual revenues, whichever is less.

(5) Require that, to increase access to the justice system for all Californians, lawyer referral services establish separate ongoinq activities or arrangements that serve persons of limited means.

(6) Require each lawyer who is a member of a certified lawyer referral service to comply with all applicable professional standards, rules, and regulations, and to possess a policy of errors and omissions insurance in an amount not less than one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) for each occurrence and three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) aggregate, per year. By rule, the State Bar may provide for alternative proof of financial responsibility to meet this requirement.

(g) Provide that cause for denial of certification or recertification or revocation of certification of a lawyer referral service shall include, but not be limited to:

(1) Noncompliance with the statutes or minimum standards governing lawyer referral services as adopted and from time to time amended.

(2) Sharing common or cross ownership, interests, or operations with any entity which engages in referrals to licensed or unlicensed health care providers.

(3) Direct or indirect consideration regarding referrals between an owner, operator, or member of a lawyer referral service and any licensed or unlicensed health care provider.

(4) Advertising on behalf of attorneys in violation of the Rules of Professional Conduct or the Business and Professions Code.

(h) This section shall not be construed to prohibit attorneys from jointly advertising their services.

(1) Permissible joint advertising, among other things, identifies by name the advertising attorneys or law firms whom the consumer of legal services may select and initiate contact with.

(2) Certifiable referral activity involves, among other things, some person or entity other than the consumer and advertising attorney or law firms which, in person, electronically, or otherwise, refers the consumer to an attorney or law firm not identified in the advertising.

(i) A lawyer referral service certified under this section and operating in full compliance with this section, and in full compliance with the minimum standards and the rules and regulations of the State Bar governing lawyer referral services, shall not be deemed to be in violation of Section 3215 of the Labor Code or Section 750 of the Insurance Code.

(j) The payment by an attorney or law firm member of a certified referral service of the normal fees of that service shall not be deemed to be in violation of Section 3215 of the Labor Code or Section 750 of the Insurance Code, provided that the attorney or law firm member is in full compliance with the minimum standards and the rules and regulations of the State Bar governing lawyer referral services.

(k) Certifications of lawyer referral services issued by the State Bar shall not be transferable.

SEC. 3. Section 6156 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6156. (a) Any individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other entity, including, but not limited to, any person or entity having an ownership interest in a lawyer referral service, which engages, has engaged, or proposes to engage in violations of Section 6155, shall be liable for a civil penalty as defined in Sections 17206, 17206.1, and 17536, respectively, which shall be assessed and recovered in a civil action brought:

(1) In the manner specified in subdivision (a) of Section 17206 or Section 17536.

(2) By the State Bar of California.

(b) If the action is brought pursuant to subdivision (a), the court shall determine the reasonable expenses, if any, incurred by the State Bar in its investigation and prosecution of the action. In these cases, before any penalty collected is paid out pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 17206 or 17536, the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred by the State Bar shall be paid to the State Bar and shall be deposited and used as provided in subdivision (c).

(c) If the action is brought pursuant to paragraph (2) of subdivision (a), the civil penalty shall be paid to the State Bar and shall be deposited into a special fund to be used first for the investigation and prosecution of other such cases by the State Bar, with any excess to be used for the investigation and prosecution of attorney discipline cases.

(c) "Advertise" or "advertisement" means any communication, disseminated by television or radio, by any print medium including, but not limited to, newspapers and billboards, or by means of a mailing directed generally to members of the public and not to a specific person, that solicits employment of legal services provided by a member, and is directed to the general public and is paid for by, or on the behalf of, an attorney.

(3) A spokesperson, including a celebrity spokesperson, unless there is disclosure of the spokesperson's title.

(d) A statement that a member offers representation on a contingent basis unless the statement also advises whether a client will be held responsible for any costs advanced by the member when no recovery is obtained on behalf of the client. If the client will not

SEC. 6. Section 6158 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6158. In advertising by electronic media, to comply with Sections 61571.1 and 6157.2, the message as a whole may not be false, misleading, or deceptive, and the message as a whole must be factually substantiated. The message means the effect in combination of the spoken word, sound, background, action, symbols, visual image, or any other technique employed to create the message. Factually substantiated means capable of verification by a credible source.

SEC. 7. Section 6158.1 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6158.3. In addition to any disclosure required by Section 6157.2, Section 6157.3, and the Rules of Professional Conduct, the following disclosure shall appear in advertising by electronic media. Use of the following disclosure alone may not rebut any presumption created in Section 6158.1. If an advertisement in the electronic media conveys a message portraying a result in a particular case or cases, the advertisement must state, in either an oral or printed communication, either of the following disclosures: The advertisement must adequately disclose the factual and legal circumstances that justify the result portrayed in the message, including the basis for liability and the nature of injury or damage sustained, or the advertisement must state that the result portrayed in the advertisement was dependent on the facts of that case, and that the results will differ if based on different facts.

SEC. 10. Section 6158.4 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6158.4. (a) Any person claiming a violation of Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 may file a complaint with the State Bar that states the name of the advertiser, a description of the advertisement claimed to violate these sections, and that specifically identifies the alleged violation. A copy of the complaint shall be served simultaneously upon the advertiser. The advertiser shall have nine days from the date of service of the complaint to voluntarily withdraw from broadcast the advertisement that is the subject of the complaint. If the advertiser elects to withdraw the advertisement, the advertiser shall notify the State Bar of that fact, and no further action may be taken by the complainant. The advertiser shall provide a copy of the complained of advertisement to the State Bar for review within seven days of service of the complaint. Within 21 days of the delivery of the complained of advertisement, the State Bar shall determine whether substantial evidence of a violation of these sections exists. The review shall be conducted by a State Bar attorney who has expertise in the area of lawyer advertising.

(b) (1) Upon a State Bar determination that substantial evidence of a violation exists, if the member or certified lawyer referral service withdraws that advertisement from broadcast within 72 hours, no further action may be taken by the complainant.

(2) Upon a State Bar determination that substantial evidence of a violation exists, if the member or certified lawyer referral service fails to withdraw the advertisement within 72 hours, a civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e) may be commenced within one year of the State Bar decision. If the member or certified lawyer referral service withdraws an advertisement upon a State Bar determination that substantial evidence of a violation exists and subsequently rebroadcasts the same advertisement without a finding by the trier of fact in an action brought pursuant to subdivision (c) or (e) that the advertisement does not violate Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, a civil enforcement action may be commenced within one year of the rebroadcast.

(3) Upon a determination that substantial evidence of a violation does not exist, the complainant is barred from bringing a civil enforcement action pursuant to subdivision (e), but may bring an action for declaratory relief pursuant to subdivision (c).

(c) Any member or certified lawyer referral service who was the subject of a complaint and any complainant affected by the decision of the State Bar may bring an action for declaratory relief in the superior court to obtain a judicial declaration of whether Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 has been violated, and, if applicable, may also request injunctive relief. Any defense otherwise available at law may be raised for the first time in the declaratory relief action, including any constitutional challenge. Any civil enforcement action filed pursuant to subdivision (e) shall be stayed pending the resolution of the declaratory relief action. The action shall be defended by the real party in interest. The State Bar shall not be considered a party to the action unless it elects to intervene in the action.

(1) Upon a State Bar determination that substantial evidence of a violation exists, if the complainant or the member or certified lawyer referral service brings an action for declaratory relief to obtain a judicial declaration of whether the advertisement violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, and the court declares that the advertisement violates one or more of the sections, a civil enforcement action pursuant to subdivision (e) may be filed or maintained if the member or certified lawyer referral service failed to withdraw the advertisement within 72 hours of the State Bar determination. The decision of the court that an advertisement violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 shall be binding on the issue of whether the advertisement is unlawful in any pending or prospective civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e) if that binding effect is supported by the doctrine of collateral estoppel or res judicata.

If, in that declaratory relief action, the court declares that the advertisement does not violate Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, the member or lawyer referral service may broadcast the advertisement. The decision of the court that an advertisement does not violate Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 shall bar any pending or prospective civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e) if that prohibitive effect is supported by the doctrine of collateral estoppel or res judicata.

(2) If, following a State Bar determination that does not find substantial evidence that an advertisement violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, the complainant or the member or certified lawyer referral service brings an action for declaratory relief to obtain a judicial declaration of whether the advertisement violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, and the court declares that the advertisement violates one or more of the sections, a civil enforcement action pursuant to subdivision (e) may be filed or maintained if the member or certified lawyer referral service broadcasts the same advertisement following the decision in the declaratory relief action. The decision of the court that an advertisement violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 shall be binding on the issue of whether the advertisement is unlawful in any pending or prospective civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e) if that binding effect is supported by the doctrine of collateral estoppel or res judicata.

If, in that declaratory relief action, the court declares that the advertisement does not violate Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3, the member or lawyer referral service may continue broadcast of the advertisement. The decision of the court that an advertisement does not violate Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 shall bar any pending or prospective civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e) if that prohibitive effect is supported by the doctrine of collateral estoppel or res judicata.

(d) The State Bar review procedure shall apply only to members and certified referral services. A direct civil enforcement action for a violation of Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 may be maintained against any other advertiser after first giving 14 days' notice to the advertiser of the alleged violation. If the advertiser does not withdraw from broadcast the advertisement that is the subject of the notice within 14 days of service of the notice, a civil enforcement action pursuant to subdivision (e) may be commenced. The civil enforcement action shall be commenced within one year of the date of the last publication or broadcast of the advertisement that is the subject of the action.

(e) Subject to Section 6158.5, a violation of Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 shall be cause for a civil enforcement action brought by any person residing within the State of California for an amount up to five thousand dollars ($5,000) for each individual broadcast that violates Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3. Venue shall be in a county where the advertisement was broadcast.

(f) In any civil action brought pursuant to this section, the matter shall be determined according to the law and procedure relating to the trial of civil actions, including trial by jury, if demanded.

(g) The decision of the State Bar pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be admissible in the civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e). However, the State Bar shall not be a party or a witness in either a declaratory relief proceeding brought pursuant to subdivision (c) or the civil enforcement action brought pursuant to subdivision (e). Additionally, no direct action may be filed against the State Bar challenging the State Bar's decision pursuant to subdivision (a).

(h) Amounts recovered pursuant to this section shall be paid into the Client Security Fund maintained by the State Bar.

(i) In any civil action brought pursuant to this section, the court shall award attorney's fees pursuant to Section 1021.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure if the court finds that the action has resulted in the enforcement of an important public interest or that a significant benefit has been conferred on the public.

(j) The State Bar shall maintain records of all complainants and complaints filed pursuant to subdivision (a) for a period of seven years. If a complainant files five or more unfounded complaints within seven years, the complainant shall be considered a vexatious litigant for purposes of this section. The State Bar shall require any person deemed a vexatious litigant to post security in the minimum amount of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) prior to considering any complaint filed by that person and shall refrain from taking any action until the security is posted. In any civil action arising from this section brought by a person deemed a vexatious litigant, the defendant may advise the court and trier of fact that the plaintiff is deemed to be a vexatious litigant under the provisions of this section and disclose the basis for this determination.

(k) Nothing in this section shall restrict any other right available under existing law or otherwise available to a citizen seeking redress for false, misleading, or deceptive advertisements.

SEC. 11. Section 6158.5 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6158.5. This article applies to all lawyers, members, law partnerships, law corporations, entities subject to regulation under Section 6155, advertising collectives, cooperatives, or other individuals, including nonlawyers, or groups advertising the availability of legal services. Subdivisions (a) to (k), inclusive, of Section 6158.4 do not apply to qualified legal services projects as defined in Article 14 (commencing with Section 6210) and nonprofit lawyer referral services certified under Section 6155. Sections 6157 to 6158.5, inclusive, do not apply to the media in which the advertising is displayed or to an advertising agency that prepares the contents of an advertisement and is not directly involved in the formation or operation of lawyer advertising collectives or cooperatives, referral services, or other groups existing primarily for the purpose of advertising the availability of legal services or making referrals to attorneys.

SEC. 12. Section 6158.7 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6158.7. A violation of Section 6158, 6158.1, or 6158.3 by a member shall be cause for discipline by the State Bar. In addition to the existing grounds for initiating a disciplinary proceeding set forth in a statute or in the Rules of Professional Conduct, the State Bar may commence an investigation based upon a complaint filed by a person pursuant to Section 6158.4. The State Bar's decision pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 6158.4 shall be admissible, but shall not be determinative, in any disciplinary proceeding brought as a result of that complaint.

SEC. 13. Section 6157.5 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6159. The court shall report the name, address, and professional license number of any person found in violation of this article to the appropriate professional licensing agency for review and possible disciplinary action.

SEC. 14. Section 6157.6 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6159.1. A true and correct copy of any advertisement made by a person or member shall be retained for one year by the person or member who pays for an advertisement soliciting employment of legal services.

SEC. 15. Section 6157.7 of the Business and Professions Code is amended and renumbered to read:

6159.2. (a) Nothing in this article shall be deemed to limit or preclude enforcement of any other provision of law, or of any court rule, or of the State Bar Rules of Professional Conduct.

(b) Nothing in this article shall limit the right of advertising protected under the Constitution of the State of California or of the United States. If any provision of this article is found to violate either Constitution, that provision is severable and the remaining provisions shall be enforceable without the severed provision.

CHAPTER 712

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 21, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 40500.1 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

40500.1. (a) Except as required to comply with the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7401 et seq.), fees assessed on stationary sources in the south coast district pursuant to Sections 40500 and 40510 shall not exceed, for any fiscal year, the actual costs of district programs pursuant to this article for the immediately preceding fiscal year with an adjustment not greater than the change in the California Consumer Price Index, for the preceding calendar year, from January 1 of the prior year to January 1 of the current year, as determined by the Department of Industrial Relations.

(b) Unless specifically authorized by statute, the total amount of all of the fees collected by the south coast district from stationary sources of emissions in the 1995–96 fiscal year, and in each subsequent fiscal year, shall not exceed the level of expenditure in the 1993–94 fiscal year, except that the total fee amount may be adjusted annually by not more than the percentage increase in the California Consumer Price Index, as specified in subdivision (a).

(c) Any new state or federal mandate which is applicable to the south coast district on and after January 1, 1994, shall not be subject to this section. However, each of those mandates shall be separately identified by the state board in its annual report prepared pursuant to Section 42311.1.

SEC. 2. Section 40510.5 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

40510.5. The south coast district shall not increase any fee charged for a permit or variance, or for any activity that is required for compliance with the rules and regulations of the south coast district, by a percentage greater than any percentage increase in the California Consumer Price Index for the preceding calendar year, from January 1 of the prior year to January 1 of the current year, as determined by the Department of Industrial Relations.

SEC. 3. Section 40520.5 of the Health and Safety Code is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 40523 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

40523. This limitation shall not affect or limit the fees which may be imposed and collected pursuant to a state or a federal mandate imposed on or after January 1, 1994.

SEC. 5. Section 40720 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

40720. (a) The budget process of any district having an annual budget of fifty million dollars ($50,000,000) or more as of January 1, 1994, shall be governed by this section. Except as otherwise provided in this section, no such district shall expend any funds during a fiscal year except in accordance with an operating budget submitted to the Legislature and the state board pursuant to this section. This section does not apply to appropriations or other authorizations made to carry out a labor contract entered into by the district board.

(b) Each operating budget submitted to the Legislature shall include, but shall not be limited to, a comprehensive plan of financial operations for the fiscal year detailing all of the following:

(1) All anticipated expenditures.

(2) All anticipated sources of income.

(3) An estimate of proposed revenue changes needed to meet anticipated changes in expenditures.

(4) Provisions for reserves for the fiscal year.

(c) The district shall publish, and mail to any person upon request, a budget summary and shall make available for inspection the complete text, and any supporting documents, of the district's preliminary budget, together with schedules of fees proposed to be adopted for the ensuing fiscal year. The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 12101 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

If, in the judgment of the court, a personal or family hardship exists that requires the minor to have a driver's license for his or her own, or a member of his or her own family's, employment or for medically related purposes, the revocation may be waived and the court may restrict the minor's driving privilege to only those employment or medical purposes.

(e) In a proceeding to enforce this section brought pursuant to Article 14 (commencing with Section 601) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court may require the custodial parent or legal guardian of a minor who violates this section to participate in classes on parenting education that meet the requirements established in Section 16507.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(e) In a proceeding to enforce this section brought pursuant to Article 14 (commencing with Section 601) of Chapter 2 of Part 1 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, the court may require the custodial parent or legal guardian of a minor who violates this section to participate in classes on parenting education that meet the requirements established in Section 16507.7 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(f) As used in this section, "responsible adult" means a person at least 21 years of age who is not within a class of persons prohibited from owning or possessing firearms by virtue of Section 12021 or 12021.1 of this code, or Section 8100 or 8103 of the Welfare and Institutions Code.

(g) It is not the intent of the Legislature in enacting the amendments to this section or to Section 12078 to expand or narrow the application of current statutory or judicial authority to limit the rights of minors to be loaned or to possess live ammunition or a firearm for the purpose of self-defense or the defense of others.

SEC. 2. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 3. Section 1.5 of this bill incorporates some of the amendments to Section 12101 of the Penal Code proposed by both this bill and AB 2470. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1995, (2) each bill amends Section 12101 of the Penal Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 2470, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

CHAPTER 718

An act to repeal Section 11034 of the Government Code, relating to state officers.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11034 of the Government Code is repealed.

CHAPTER 719

An act to amend Section 9001 of, and to add Section 9417.5 to, the Public Resources Code, relating to resource conservation districts.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Intense growth and natural disasters have affected our watersheds, contributing to the degradation of California's waters.

(b) Recent firestorms and subsequent erosion have added to nonpoint sources of water pollution.

(c) Nonpoint source pollution is best addressed by comprehensive watershed management with the cooperation of all of local, state, and federal agencies.

(d) Watershed protection, restoration, and enhancement projects are essential to the reduction of nonpoint sources of water pollution. Whenever possible, the federal government and the state should provide funding for these projects. Watershed protection, restoration, and enhancement projects offer many opportunities for the public, including education, fisheries, wildlife, recreation, and physical improvement to the natural resources in our local communities, as well as helping ensure clean water for California's domestic and agricultural uses.

(e) As local agencies, resource conservation districts are well suited to work with state and federal agencies to carry out watershed management projects and to reduce nonpoint sources of water pollution. State and federal agencies should work cooperatively with resource conservation districts, where appropriate, to accomplish watershed protection objectives through state and federal grants and contracts.

SEC. 2. Section 9001 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

9001. (a) The Legislature hereby declares that resource conservation is of fundamental importance to the prosperity and welfare of the people of this state. The Legislature believes that the state must assume leadership in formulating and putting into effect a statewide program of soil and water conservation and related natural resource conservation and hereby declares that this division is enacted to accomplish the following purposes:

(1) To provide the means by which the state may cooperate with the United States and with resource conservation districts organized pursuant to this division in securing the adoption in this state of conservation practices, including, but not limited to, farm, range, open space, urban development, wildlife, recreation, watershed, water quality, and woodland, best adapted to save the basic resources, soil, water, and air of the state from unreasonable and economically preventable waste and destruction.

(2) To provide for the organization and operation of resource conservation districts for the purposes of soil and water conservation, the control of runoff, the prevention and control of soil erosion, and erosion stabilization, including, but not limited to, these purposes in open areas, agricultural areas, urban development, wildlife areas, recreational developments, watershed management, the protection of water quality and water reclamation, the development of storage and distribution of water, and the treatment of each acre of land according to its needs.

(b) The districts, in addition to any other authority provided by law, may do all of the following:

(1) Ensure consistency with the authorities and policies of the United States, this state, counties, cities, public districts, other resource conservation districts, persons, associations, and corporations.

(2) With the consent of the owner, construct on privately or publicly owned lands any necessary works for the prevention and control of soil erosion and erosion stabilization.

(3) Facilitate coordinated resource management efforts for watershed restoration and enhancement.

(c) The districts shall not conserve water for power purposes or produce or distribute power for their own use or for the use of others.

SEC. 3. Section 9417.5 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

9417.5. It is the intent of the Legislature that concerned state agencies, in cooperation with resource conservation districts and other appropriate local entities, work with the agencies of the United States Department of Agriculture and the Department of the Interior, the Environmental Protection Agency, and other federal agencies, to maximize cooperative opportunities for federal, state, and private funding for competitive grants and contracts for watershed protection, restoration, and enhancement programs of resource conservation districts.

CHAPTER 720

An act to amend Section 42301.3 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to air pollution.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42301.3 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42301.3. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature that districts expedite permits for the installation of air pollution control equipment.

(b) (1) This section applies only to air pollution control projects at existing sources, where the project is necessary to comply with emission standards or limitations imposed by law, including, but not limited to, district regulations.

(2) This section does not apply to air pollution control requirements applicable to new or modified sources that are not air pollution control projects necessary to comply with emission standards or limitations imposed by law. However, this section applies to the permitting of air pollution control projects necessary to comply with emission standards or limitations imposed by law that are intended to reduce emissions of one or more pollutants that may or may not result in an increase in emissions of a different pollutant or pollutants.

(c) Each district shall prepare, with input from the regulated community, a list of permitting criteria that identifies streamlined permit application requirements for each type of mandated air pollution control project. The list shall be consistent with the requirements of this section but may also include general facility information, a general description of the equipment affected by the air pollution control project, and specific information regarding the pollution control equipment or operational changes that will reduce emissions.

(d) (1) Within 30 days of the date that the applicant submits the information specified in paragraph (2), the district shall commence evaluation and deem the application complete, subject to the final as-built design submittal being consistent with the preliminary engineering and design information specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2), for the purpose of issuing a permit to construct. Notwithstanding the limitations of Sections 65944, 65950, and 65952 of the Government Code, if final design information results in a material change in the permit evaluation that was based on the preliminary submittal, the application shall undergo a new evaluation based on the final design and the district shall promptly notify the applicant of any further information that is necessary to complete the evaluation.

(2) Prior to the district deeming the application complete pursuant to paragraph (1), the applicant shall provide the following information:

(A) The information specified in the list prepared pursuant to subdivision (c).

(B) Either of the following:

(i) Preliminary engineering and design information or other technical equipment specification data reasonably available during the initial design phase.

(ii) The manufacturer's performance warranty and the associated preliminary engineering data on which the bidding documents for the contract with the manufacturer were based.

(C) Any reasonably required information regarding an air contaminant for which emissions will increase as a result of installation of the air pollution control project.

(D) Any information necessary to make the application complete with respect to any federal requirement adopted or promulgated pursuant to the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7401 et seq.) that applies to the air pollution control project.

(e) Prior to the final approval of the applicant's permit to operate, the applicant shall provide the district with final engineering and design information and other data reasonably necessary to ensure compliance with applicable emission limitations. The information may be based on source test results and other operating data available after startup and shakedown of the control equipment. Once the applicant has provided the information specified in this subdivision, and the final design is consistent with the preliminary design data specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) for purposes of permit evaluation, the district shall deem the application complete for the purpose of issuing a permit to operate.

(f) (1) For projects subject to this section for which the use of continuous emission monitoring systems is required, the air quality permit conditions that relate to emissions monitored by the continuous emission monitoring systems shall be sufficient for measurements and reporting as required to meet the specified emission limit as required by the rule or regulation.

(2) Nothing in this subdivision is intended to limit the applicability of standards or limitations or monitoring requirements set forth in any rule or regulation.

(g) (1) An applicant may petition the district hearing board for a variance from a requirement to install air pollution control equipment or to meet a more stringent emission standard or limitation if there is a delay in the approval of the permit to construct or permit to operate for projects under this section. The finding required by paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 42352 shall be met if the hearing board finds that the delay is not due to the lack of due diligence on the part of the applicant in the permit process, and the delay results in the inability of the applicant to legally comply with the requirement or schedule that requires the installation and operation of air pollution control equipment or achievement of a more stringent emission standard or limitation. The findings required by paragraphs (3), (4), and (5) of subdivision (a) of Section 42352 shall not apply to a variance granted pursuant to this paragraph. Paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) of Section 42352 shall apply to a variance granted pursuant to this paragraph. However, if the district requests that the applicant monitor or otherwise quantify emission levels from the source during the term of the variance pursuant to paragraph (6) of subdivision (a) of Section 42352, that monitoring or quantification required in connection with the variance shall be limited to any monitoring or quantification already being performed for the source for which the pollution control project is required. No variance shall be granted unless the hearing board makes the findings as specified in this subdivision. The hearing board shall not impose any excess emission fees in connection with the grant of the variance. In determining the term of the variance, the hearing board shall consider the period of time that the delay was not due to the lack of due diligence on the part of the applicant.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, "due diligence" means that all of the following conditions exist:

(A) The air pollution control project proposed by the applicant was reasonably expected to achieve compliance with the pertinent emission standard or limitation.

(B) The applicant submitted the permit application in sufficient time for the district to act on the application and for the applicant to complete the project in accordance with the deadline.

(C) The applicant responded in a reasonable time to requests for additional information needed by the district to process the application or prepare any necessary environmental analyses.

(D) The district has not denied or proposed to deny the application on the basis of the project's inability to meet district permit requirements consistent with this section.

(E) During the term of the variance, the applicant will take practicable steps to ensure completion of the project as expeditiously as possible after issuance of the permit.

(3) Paragraph (1) shall not limit the authority of a district to require emissions monitoring or quantification under any other applicable provision of law.

(4) Nothing in this subdivision shall be interpreted as authorizing a hearing board to grant a variance from any requirement for a permit to build, alter, erect, or replace any air pollution control equipment included in a project subject to this section.

(h) If a supplemental or other environmental impact report or other environmental assessment is required for the project pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code) and the district is the lead agency, the district shall prepare and act upon the report or assessment and the permit to construct concurrently in order to streamline the approval process. However, the district shall be required to take that concurrent action only if the applicant has submitted the information required by this section to allow the district to streamline the approval process.

(i) For purposes of this section, "material change" means a change that would result in a material impact on the level of emission calculated.

CHAPTER 721

An act to amend Section 44244 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to air pollution, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44244 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

comprised of one representative from each of the following agencies:

(1) The south coast district.

(2) The Southern California Association of Governments.

(3) The San Bernardino Associated Governments.

(4) The Los Angeles County Transportation Commission.

(5) The Orange County Transportation Commission.

(6) The Riverside County Transportation Commission.

(7) The state board.

(8) A regional ridesharing agency selected by the other members of the committee.

(b) Fees allocated pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 44243 shall be used to provide grants for projects to be funded pursuant to a work program developed and adopted by the committee and approved by the south coast district board in the following manner:

(1) The work program shall be adopted by an affirmative vote of a majority of the committee members.

(2) Upon adoption of the work program, the work program shall be submitted to the south coast district board which, within 60 days, may approve the work program by majority vote of the full south coast district board. If the south coast district board fails to approve the work program within 60 days of receiving it, the work program shall be deemed disapproved. If the south coast district board disapproves the work program, it shall be returned to the committee which shall amend, readopt, and resubmit the work program to the south coast district board for approval or disapproval.

(c) The committee shall establish a technical advisory committee to assist in the development of the work program. [Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 58700) of Part 31 of the Education Code, as added by Chapter 641 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended and renumbered to read:

SEC. 2. Section 58700 of the Education Code, as added by Chapter 641 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended and renumbered to read:

58730. The Legislature finds and declares that gang violence has caused a tremendous strain on the progress of the communities impacted. The loss of life, property, and positive opportunity for growth caused by gang violence has reached an intolerable level.

The Legislature further finds and declares that youth gang violence can be effectively reduced in California schools through the involvement of parents, teachers, school administrators, community organizations, and individuals with firsthand knowledge of the problem.

The Legislature further finds and declares that a strong and consistent relationship between the home and schools would facilitate the learning process and inevitably help control problems associated with gang violence.

The Legislature further finds that the Gang Risk Intervention Pilot Program created by Chapter 1250 of the Statutes of 1988 achieved its stated goals and reduced the probability of youth involvement in gang activities, helped reduce high school dropout rates, reduced violence among pupils on and off school grounds, and developed techniques for early identification of at-risk youth.

SEC. 3. Section 58701 of the Education Code, as added by Chapter 641 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended and renumbered to read:

58731. It is the intent of the Legislature to establish the Gang Risk Intervention Program on a permanent basis for elementary and secondary schoolage pupils, through cooperation between individual schools and existing organizations in communities and to encourage the expansion of this program.

(B) At least 40 percent shall be distributed to county offices of education in counties with a population of at least 723,000 people. This paragraph shall only be applicable if a county office of education meeting these requirements submits a grant application pursuant to this section.

(b) The State Department of Education, upon selecting Gang Risk Intervention Programs to receive grants, pursuant to subdivision (a), shall submit to the Department of the Youth Authority a request for allocation of funds. The Department of the Youth Authority shall then allocate the funds to the Gang Risk Intervention Programs consistent with the department's request and the terms of the annual Budget Act.

CHAPTER 724

An act to amend Sections 460, 461, 462, 463, and 14051 of, and to amend the heading of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 460) of Division 1 of, and the heading of Article 7 (commencing with Section 13550) of Chapter 7 of Division 7 of, the Water Code, relating to water.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 460) of Division 1 of the Water Code is amended to read:

CHAPTER 6. WATER REUSE

SEC. 2. Section 460 of the Water Code is amended to read:

460. This chapter shall be known as and may be cited as the Water Reuse Law of 1974.

SEC. 3. Section 461 of the Water Code is amended to read:

461. It is hereby declared that the primary interest of the people of the state in the conservation of all available water resources requires the maximum reuse of reclaimed water in the satisfaction of requirements for beneficial uses of water.

SEC. 4. Section 462 of the Water Code is amended to read:

462. The department shall conduct studies and investigations on the availability and quality of wastewater and the uses of reclaimed water for beneficial purposes, including, but not limited to, groundwater recharge, municipal and industrial use, irrigation use, and cooling for thermal electric powerplants.

Article 7. Water Reuse

SEC. 7. Section 14051 of the Water Code is amended to read:

14051. The Legislature finds and declares as follows:

(a) Clean water is essential to the public health, safety, and welfare.

(b) Clean water fosters the beauty of California's environment, the expansion of industry and agriculture, maintains fish and wildlife, and supports recreation.

(c) California's abundant lakes and ponds, streams and rivers, coastline, and groundwater are threatened with pollution, which could threaten public health and impede economic and social growth if left unchecked.

(d) The state's growing population has increasing needs for clean water supplies and adequate treatment facilities.

(e) It is of paramount importance that the limited water resources of the state be protected from pollution, conserved, and reclaimed whenever possible to ensure continued economic, community, and social growth.

(f) The chief cause of water pollution is the discharge of inadequately treated waste into the waters of the state.

(g) Local agencies have the primary responsibility for construction, operation, and maintenance of facilities to cleanse our waters.

(h) Rising costs of construction and technological changes have pushed the cost of constructing treatment facilities beyond the reach of many small communities.

(i) Because water knows no political boundaries, it is desirable for the state to contribute to construction of needed facilities in order to meet its obligations to protect and promote the health, safety, and welfare of its people and environment.

(j) The people of California have a primary interest in the development of facilities to reclaim water to supplement existing water supplies and to assist in meeting the future water needs of the state.

(k) A significant portion of the future water needs of California may be met by the use of reclaimed water.

(l) Local public agencies have the primary responsibility for the construction, operation, and maintenance of water reclamation facilities.

(m) Local public agencies need financial assistance to make cost-effective reclamation projects financially feasible.

(n) (1) It is also the intent of this chapter to provide special assistance to small communities to construct facilities necessary to eliminate water pollution and public health hazards.

(2) It is also the intent of this chapter to provide funds for the design and construction of eligible water reclamation projects and for the development and implementation of programs and activities that lead to increased use of reclaimed water in California.

CHAPTER 725

An act to add Sections 44036.2 and 44036.3 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to air pollution.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 44036.2 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

44036.2. (a) To ensure uniform and consistent inspection, tests, and repairs by all qualified smog check technicians and licensed smog check stations, and to ensure consumer protection, manufacturers of motor vehicles shall provide, or cause to be provided, all emission control system service information that is necessary to properly inspect, test and repair those vehicles. Unless otherwise provided, that information shall be required for all 1980 and newer model-year vehicles and shall consist of all of the following:

(1) General specifications showing the make, model, and classification of the vehicle.

(2) The identification, location, and description of all emission control equipment on the vehicle.

(3) The manufacturer's recommended visual and functional inspection procedures for each emissions-related component.

(4) Air injection and evaporative emission purge strategies.

(5) All vehicle manufacturer-specific data stream information, excluding bidirectional control information and reprogramming information unless required by state or federal statute or regulation.

(b) Beginning with the 1998 model year, all emissions-related information required by this section, including diagnostic, service, and training information supplied by vehicle manufacturers to any franchised dealer, shall be provided in an electronic format that is readily accessible, or that can be made readily accessible, to private diagnostic assistance service information vendors or intermediaries, if that information is provided or made available in this format by manufacturers to dealers. In determining the allowable format, the state board shall ensure compatibility with any service information format requirements specified by the Environmental Protection Agency.

(c) (1) The state board shall require motor vehicle manufacturers to provide the service information necessary to comply with this section as a condition of certification.

(2) Should the manufacturer fail to provide the service information necessary to comply with subdivision (a) for any vehicle within an engine family within one year of its retail introduction, the state board may withhold certification for all engine families for subsequent model years, until such time as the manufacturer provides the necessary service information.

(3) The department shall periodically conduct surveys to determine whether the service information requirements are being fulfilled by actual field availability of the information.

(d) The manufacturer shall make accessible, through the vehicle's standard data link, the version number or part number of the vehicle's current computer memory program to allow smog check technicians to determine if the manufacturer's most up-to-date program is installed in the vehicle's computer. This requirement shall apply to all vehicles with reprogrammable computer memory in the vehicle's computer beginning with the 1999 model year. Until the manufacturer provides an electronic computer program identifier system, the manufacturer shall use a mechanical identification system to identify the computer's current program.

(e) (1) Those manufacturers that do not use reprogrammable technology for the vehicle's computer shall use either a mechanical or electronic identification system to identify the current program of the vehicle's computer.

(2) The manufacturer shall also provide or cause to be provided an engine family reprogramming cross-reference to aid smog check technicians in determining the proper computer memory program for that engine. The cross-reference shall either be published by the manufacturer or made available to private diagnostic service information vendors or intermediaries for compilation and distribution.

(f) (1) The information required to be provided under this section shall be limited to only that information which is made available by manufacturers to franchised dealers or other persons engaged in the repair, diagnosing, or servicing of motor vehicles or motor vehicle engines needed to make use of the emissions control diagnostic system prescribed under Section 207 of the Federal Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990 and such other information including instructions for making emission-related diagnosis and repairs. If any of the emissions-related service information required by this section is provided to the manufacturer's franchised dealers in advance of the specific requirements of this section, that information shall also be made available by manufacturers, directly or indirectly, to smog check stations and repair technicians. Manufacturers shall only be required to provide information to vendors or intermediaries in the same manner and format as provided to franchised dealers.

(2) The service information shall be made compatible with computer systems commonly used in the aftermarket repair industry. In addition, the vendor or intermediary may offer the information by other common distribution means when electronic means are unavailable. No information or format will be required in the service information beyond that which is provided by new car manufacturers to franchise dealers.

(g) The provisions of this section that apply with respect to 1994 and newer model-year vehicles shall become inoperative if the state board determines that the Environmental Protection Agency has adopted rules relative to the provision of emissions-related service information for 1994 and newer model-year vehicles.

SEC. 2. Section 44036.3 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

44036.3. (a) The department shall direct licensed smog check stations and technicians to private diagnostic assistance service information vendors or intermediaries who possess the electronically formatted information acquired under Section 44036.2, or with any other emissions-related information needed to improve the effectiveness of smog checks.

(b) The provisions of this section that apply with respect to 1994 and newer model-year vehicles shall become inoperative if the state board determines that the Environmental Protection Agency has adopted rules relative to the provision of emissions-related service information for 1994 and newer model-year vehicles.

CHAPTER 727

An act to amend Sections 39674, 40752, 41512.7, 42300, 42301, 42301.11, 42301.12, 42400, and 42400.4 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to air pollution.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 39674 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

39674. (a) Except as otherwise provided in subdivision (b), any person who violates any rule or regulation, emission limitation, or permit condition adopted pursuant to Section 39659 or Article 4 (commencing with Section 39665) or which is implemented and enforced as authorized by subdivision (b) of Section 39658 is strictly liable for a civil penalty not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day in which the violation occurs.

(b) (1) Any person who violates any rule or regulation, emission limitation, permit condition, order fee requirement, filing requirement, duty to allow or carry out inspection or monitoring activities, or duty to allow entry for which delegation or approval of implementation and enforcement authority has been obtained pursuant to subdivision (l) of Section 112 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Section 7412(l)) or the regulations adopted pursuant thereto, adopted pursuant to Section 39659 or Article 4 (commencing with Section 39665) or which is implemented and enforced as authorized by subdivision (b) of Section 39658 is strictly liable for a civil penalty not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000) for each day in which the violation occurs.

(2) Where a civil penalty in excess of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each day of violation is sought, there is no liability under paragraph (1) if the person accused of the violation alleges by affirmative defense and establishes that the violation is caused by an act which was not the result of intentional or negligent conduct. In a district in which a Title V permit program has been fully approved, this paragraph shall not apply to a violation of federally enforceable requirements that occur at a Title V source.

(3) Paragraph (2) shall not apply to a violation of a toxic air contaminant rule, regulation, permit, order, fee requirement, filing requirement, duty to allow or carry out inspection or monitoring activities, or duty to allow entry for which delegation or approval of implementation and enforcement authority has been obtained pursuant to subdivision (l) of Section 112 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7412(l)), or the regulations adopted pursuant thereto.

SEC. 2. Section 40752 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

40752. The air pollution control officer shall observe and enforce all of the following:

(a) This part and Part 4 (commencing with Section 41500).

(b) All orders, regulations, and rules prescribed by the district board.

(c) All variances and standards which the district hearing board has prescribed.

(d) All permit conditions imposed pursuant to Sections 42301 and 42301.10.

SEC. 3. Section 41512.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

41512.7. (a) No district with an annual budget of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000) shall increase any existing fees for authority to construct permits or permits to operate by more than 30 percent in any calendar year, unless required to comply with the minimum fee requirements of Title V.

(b) No district with an annual budget of one million dollars ($1,000,000) or more shall increase any existing fees for authority to construct permits or permits to operate by more than 15 percent in any calendar year.

(c) Notwithstanding subdivision (b), this section shall not apply to the south coast district.

SEC. 4. Section 42300 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42300. (a) Every district board may establish, by regulation, a permit system that requires, except as otherwise provided in Section 42310, that before any person builds, erects, alters, replaces, operates, or uses any article, machine, equipment, or other contrivance which may cause the issuance of air contaminants, the person obtain a permit to do so from the air pollution control officer of the district.

(b) The regulations may provide that a permit shall be valid only for a specified period. However, the expiration date of any permit shall be eligible for extension upon completion of the annual review required pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 42301 and payment of the fees required pursuant to Section 42311, unless the air pollution control officer or the hearing board has initiated action to suspend or revoke the permit pursuant to Section 42304, 42307, or 42309, that action has resulted in a final determination by the officer or the board to suspend or revoke the permit, and all appeals have been exhausted or the time for appeals from that final determination has been exhausted.

(c) The annual extension of a permit's expiration date pursuant to subdivision (b) does not constitute permit issuance, renewal, reopening, amendment, or any other action subject to the requirements specified in Title V.

SEC. 5. Section 42301 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42301. A permit system established pursuant to Section 42300 shall do all of the following:

(a) Ensure that the article, machine, equipment, or contrivance for which the permit was issued does not prevent or interfere with the attainment or maintenance of any applicable air quality standard.

(b) Prohibit the issuance of a permit unless the air pollution control officer is satisfied, on the basis of criteria adopted by the district board, that the article, machine, equipment, or contrivance will comply with all of the following:

(1) All applicable orders, rules, and regulations of the district and of the state board.

(2) All applicable provisions of this division.

(c) Prohibit the issuance of a permit to a Title V source if the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency objects to its issuance in a timely manner as provided in Title V. This subdivision is not intended to provide any authority to the Environmental Protection Agency to object to the issuance of a permit other than that authority expressly granted by Title V.

(d) Provide that the air pollution control officer may issue to a Title V source a permit to operate or use if the owner or operator of the Title V source presents a variance exempting the owner or operator from Section 41701, any rule or regulation of the district, or any permit condition imposed pursuant to this section, or presents an abatement order that has the effect of a variance and that meets all of the requirements of this part pertaining to variances, and the requirements for the issuance of permits to operate are otherwise satisfied. The issuance of any variance or abatement order is a matter of state law and procedure only and does not amend a Title V permit in any way. Those terms and conditions of any variance or abatement order that prescribe a compliance schedule may be incorporated into the permit consistent with Title V and this division.

(e) Require, upon annual renewal, that each permit be reviewed to determine that the permit conditions are adequate to ensure compliance with, and the enforceability of, district rules and regulations applicable to the article, machine, equipment, or contrivance for which the permit was issued which were in effect at the time the permit was issued or modified, or which have subsequently been adopted and made retroactively applicable to an existing article, machine, equipment, or contrivance, by the district board and, if the permit conditions are not consistent, require that the permit be revised to specify the permit conditions in accordance with all applicable rules and regulations.

(f) Provide for the reissuance or transfer of a permit to a new owner or operator of an article, machine, equipment, or contrivance. An application for transfer of ownership only, or change in operator only, of any article, machine, equipment, or contrivance which had a valid permit to operate within the two-year period immediately preceding the application is a temporary permit to operate. Issuance of the final permit to operate shall be conditional upon a determination by the district that the criteria specified in subdivisions (b) and (e) are met, if the permit was not surrendered as a condition to receiving emission reduction credits pursuant to banking or permitting rules of the district. However, under no circumstances shall the criteria specify that a change of ownership or operator alone is a basis for requiring more stringent emission controls or operating conditions than would otherwise apply to the article, machine, equipment, or contrivance.

SEC. 6. Section 42301.11 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42301.11. It is the intent of the Legislature that, in addition to their responsibilities and obligations under state and federal law, in implementing Title V, districts do all of the following, to the extent feasible:

(a) Develop, in recognition that districts are obligated to issue one-third of the Title V permits within one year of the Title V program's approval by the Environmental Protection Agency, and in recognition that sources are allowed one year to submit a Title V permit application, an equitable program for ensuring that all sources receive as much time as feasible to develop and submit permit applications. In developing the program the districts shall recognize the complexity and size of the facilities, the number and similarity of facilities within each industry category, the level of effort required to develop the permit application, and the resources available to complete the application. The districts should also consider potential incentive programs to promote voluntary early permit application submissions.

(b) Consider the advantages and disadvantages of including the permit shield authorized by subsection (f) of Section 70.6 of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations in all Title V permits to clarify the federal compliance responsibilities of Title V sources.

(c) Consistent with state and federal regulations, allow the use of emission monitoring alternatives, when available and having the accuracy required to ensure enforcement and compliance, in lieu of the use of continuous emission monitors.

(d) Encourage the issuance of Title V permits for five-year terms.

SEC. 7. Section 42301.12 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42301.12. (a) Any district permit system or permit provision established by a district board to meet the requirements of Title V shall, consistent with federal law, minimize the regulatory burden on Title V sources and the district and shall meet all of the following criteria:

(1) Apply only to Title V sources, as defined in Section 39053.5.

(2) Issue permits pursuant to Title V only after the Environmental Protection Agency has approved the district's Title V permit program.

(3) Identify in the permit, to the greatest extent feasible, permit terms and conditions which are federally enforceable and those which are not federally enforceable, so that requirements imposed only by the state are not made federally enforceable solely as a result of being included as part of a Title V permit. A district may make that identification by either of the following means:

(A) Identifying in the permit the terms and conditions which are federally enforceable because they are imposed pursuant to a federal requirement.

(B) Identifying in the permit the terms and conditions which are imposed pursuant to state law or district rules and are not federally enforceable. Districts may further identify those terms and conditions of the permit which are not federally enforceable, but which have been included in the permit to enforce district rules adopted by the district to meet federal requirements.

(4) Utilize, to the extent reasonably feasible, general permits and similar methods to reduce source and district permitting burdens for Title V sources.

(5) Establish clear and simple application completeness criteria.

(6) To the extent feasible, minimize the burden of federally mandated paperwork such as recordkeeping and reporting documents.

(7) Allow sources maximum flexibility in selecting cost-effective, reliable, and representative monitoring methods consistent with applicable state and federal requirements.

(8) If a permit is required to be reopened to comply with Title V requirements, base the reopening upon the federal criteria for reopening and limit the reopening to only the federal component of the Title V permit. This paragraph is not intended to limit in any way the authority under state law to reopen permits.

(9) Authorize administrative permit amendments and minor permit modifications as required by federal law.

(10) Provide that, unless the district determines that a Title V application is not complete within 60 days of receipt of the application, the application shall be deemed to be complete.

(11) Authorize, to the extent consistent with existing state law, mandatory operational flexibility provisions required pursuant to Part 70 (commencing with Section 70.1) of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and consider optional operational flexibility provisions established pursuant to Part 70 (commencing with Section 70.1) of Title 40 of the Code of Federal Regulations. Nothing in this paragraph is intended to affect whatsoever any pending litigation.

(12) Make every reasonable effort, in partnership with Title V sources and the state board, to evaluate and respond to the substance of any objection to a proposed permit and to obtain expeditious approval of Title V permits submitted to the Environmental Protection Agency.

SEC. 8. Section 42400 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42400. (a) Except as otherwise provided in Section 42400.1, 42400.2, 42400.3, or 42400.4, any person who violates this part, or any rule, regulation, permit, or order of the state board or of a district, including a district hearing board, adopted pursuant to Part 1 (commencing with Section 39000) to Part 4 (commencing with Section 41500), inclusive, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

(b) If a violation under subdivision (a) with regard to the failure to operate a vapor recovery system on a gasoline cargo tank is directly caused by the actions of an employee under the supervision of, or of any independent contractor working for, any person subject to this part, the employee or independent contractor, as the case may be, causing the violation is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable as provided in subdivision (a). That liability shall not extend to the person employing the employee or retaining the independent contractor, unless that person is separately guilty of an action that violates this part.

(c) (1) Any person who knowingly violates any rule, regulation, permit, order, fee requirement, or filing requirement of the state board or of a district, including a district hearing board, that is adopted for the control of toxic air contaminants pursuant to Part 1 (commencing with Section 39000) to Part 4 (commencing with Section 41500), inclusive, and for which delegation or approval of implementation and enforcement authority has been obtained pursuant to subdivision (l) of Section 112 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7412(l)), or the regulations adopted pursuant thereto, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

(2) Any person who knowingly makes any false material statement, representation, or certification in any form or in any notice or report required by a rule or regulation adopted or permit issued for the control of toxic air contaminants pursuant to Part 1 (commencing with Section 39000) to Part 4 (commencing with Section 41500), inclusive, and for which delegation or approval of implementation and enforcement authority has been obtained pursuant to subdivision (l) of Section 112 of the Clean Air Act (42 U.S.C. Sec. 7412(l)), or the regulations adopted pursuant thereto, or who knowingly renders inaccurate any monitoring device required by that toxic air contaminant rule, regulation, or permit is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or imprisonment in the county jail for not more than six months, or both.

(3) Paragraphs (1) and (2) apply only to violations that are not otherwise subject to a fine of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more pursuant to Section 42400.1, 42400.2, or 42400.3.

(d) The recovery of civil penalties pursuant to Section 42402, 42402.1, 42402.2, or 42402.3 precludes prosecution pursuant to this section for the same offense. When a district refers a violation to a prosecuting agency, the filing of a criminal complaint is grounds requiring the dismissal of any civil action brought pursuant to this article for the same offense.

(e) Each day during any portion of which a violation of subdivision (a) or (c) occurs is a separate offense.

SEC. 9. Section 42400.4 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

42400.4. (a) In any district where a Title V permit program has been fully approved by the Environmental Protection Agency, any person who knowingly violates any federally enforceable permit condition or any fee or filing requirement applicable to a Title V source is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(b) In any district in which a Title V permit program has been fully approved by the Environmental Protection Agency, any person who knowingly makes any false material statement, representation, or certification in any form or in any notice or report required of a Title V source of a federally enforceable permit requirement, or who knowingly renders inaccurate any monitoring device or method required of a Title V source, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is subject to a fine of not more than ten thousand dollars ($10,000).

(c) The recovery of civil penalties pursuant to Section 42402, 40402.1, 42402.2, or 40402.3 precludes prosecution pursuant to this section for the same offense. When a district refers a violation to a prosecuting agency, the filing of a criminal complaint is grounds requiring the dismissal of any civil action brought pursuant to this article for the same offense.

(d) Each day during any portion of which a violation of subdivision (a) or (b) occurs is a separate offense.

(e) This section shall not become operative in a district until the Environmental Protection Agency fully approves that district's Title V permit program.

(f) This section applies only to violations described in subdivisions (a) and (b) that are not otherwise subject to a fine of ten thousand dollars ($10,000) or more pursuant to Section 42400.1, 42400.2, or 42400.3.

SEC. 10. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 728

An act to amend Section 6 of, and to add Section 4.5 to, Chapter 74 of the Statutes of 1978, relating to tide and submerged lands in the City of Newport Beach.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 4.5 is added to Chapter 74 of the Statutes of 1978, to read:

Sec. 4.5. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(1) In Section 1 of this act, the Legislature granted certain tide and submerged lands in trust to the City of Newport Beach upon express conditions and for certain public trust uses and purposes, but primarily for the promotion and accommodation of commerce, fishing, and navigation.

(2) Portions of those tide and submerged lands were filled and reclaimed as a result of the implementation in the 1920's of a plan of improvement, including the development of lower Newport Bay as a harbor to promote and accommodate commerce, fishing, recreational boating, and navigation. In addition to those filled tide and submerged lands, an additional parcel, as described in Section 6 of this act, as amended by the act adding this section, hereafter designated Parcel D, has been filled and reclaimed as part of the public project of developing lower Newport Bay as a harbor.

(3) Prior to a judicial determination in 1952 that Parcel D and certain adjoining lands were state tidelands and submerged lands granted to the city pursuant to Chapter 70 of the Statutes of 1927, the legal character of the property was subject to question. In 1948, the city leased Parcel D and adjoining property to a private entity which constructed a private club on the adjoining property and a residential apartment complex of 142 units on Parcel D. The term of that lease was extended in 1986, and the lease requires that the use of Parcel D conform to public trust purposes as of December 31, 1998, in the absence of an act of the Legislature, a judicial determination, or an agreement with the State Lands Commission.

(4) Since 1985, the residential apartment complex on Parcel D has produced substantial income, all of which the city has used to directly promote and support public use of tide and submerged lands held in trust by the city by providing services to those public trust lands, including lifeguards, beach cleanup, police, and fire protection, and by constructing facilities which improve the quality and extent of public use of, and access to, tide and submerged lands.

(5) Private residential use of tide and submerged lands, whether filled or unfilled, is in conflict with the common law public trust and the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act.

(6) Many members of the public have made the apartment complex their residence for many years and have come to look upon the apartments as their permanent home despite the nature of their tenancy.

(7) Parcel D, a relatively small portion of the public trust lands in Newport Bay, has been filled and reclaimed so that it is no longer submerged or below the mean high tide line, is not in its present state usable for public trust uses and purposes, and, given the large amount of public trust lands that the City of Newport Beach makes available to the public, Parcel D may be more valuable as a generator of revenue devoted to the support of public trust purposes than as a parcel used by the public for trust purposes.

(8) Public trust land adjacent to Parcel D has been developed as a private club with extremely limited public access. The current lessee of the private club and Parcel D has proposed, and the city has approved, a redevelopment plan which, if implemented, will allow full public access to the majority of the site currently occupied by the private club and will generate substantially more tideland revenue from existing uses. However, the current lessee will be required to pledge revenue from the apartment complex on Parcel D to secure the financing necessary to implement the redevelopment plan, and any uncertainty regarding the permissible use of Parcel D could impede or prevent redevelopment and postpone, for more than 17 years, the public's right of access to the property.

(b) In view of the potential hardships resulting from the removal of the current tenants on or before December 31, 1998, the economic benefit to the trust from the revenue generated by the continuing use of Parcel D as an apartment complex, the benefits to the public if revenue generated by Parcel D is used to secure the financing necessary to implement the redevelopment plan for the adjoining property, which will dramatically improve public access to tide and submerged lands, the availability of current public facilities and the potential needs for expanded facilities for public trust uses and purposes and in recognition of the facts set forth in paragraphs (2), (3), (4), (5), (6), and (7) of subdivision (a), and in view of the amount of public trust land remaining in Newport Bay that is suitable for public trust use, the current nonconforming residential use of Parcel D may continue for the duration of its useful life, until the structure is removed, until the current or new lease expires, or until five years after expiration of the financing secured by Parcel D revenues, whichever occurs first, but in no event later than December 31, 2044, subject to the requirement that all revenue be devoted to public trust uses and purposes as provided in subdivision (f).

(c) If the city determines that land use, economic conditions, and public needs associated with Parcel D will extend beyond the term of the present lease, the city shall apply to the State Lands Commission for a determination by the commission that the continuation of that nonconforming use for an additional period is in the best interest of the public and in furtherance of public trust purposes. If the commission makes that finding, Parcel D may be leased for residential purposes for an additional period, but in no event beyond December 31, 2044.

(d) The consideration received by the city for any future lease or amendment to the current lease which includes Parcel D shall be the fair market rental value of the real property and improvements, subject to any presently existing contractual obligations during the period the property is used for private purposes.

(e) The form of any future lease or amendment of the current lease involving Parcel D, and the consideration to be received by the city, shall be subject to approval by the State Lands Commission.

(f) (1) Effective July 1, 1995, all money received by the city from the existing lease or any future lease that includes Parcel D shall be deposited in the following trust funds:

(A) Ninety-five percent shall be deposited in a city tidelands trust fund with the revenue available only for purposes consistent with the promotion of public trust uses, including public access, over the remaining tide and submerged lands granted to the city.

(B) Five percent shall be deposited in the Land Bank Fund to be available, without regard to fiscal years, pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 8625 of the Public Resources Code, for expenditure by the State Lands Commission for purposes of providing necessary state review of management of public trust property as provided by Sections 6301 and 6306 of the Public Resources Code.

(2) Five years after the effective date of any new lease or amendment to the current lease, the revenue percentages shall be modified to provide for the deposit of 90 percent in the city tidelands trust fund as specified in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) and 10 percent in the Land Bank Fund as specified in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1).

(g) Nothing in this act is intended to limit the application of the California Coastal Act of 1976 (Division 20 (commencing with Section 30000) of the Public Resources Code) or the jurisdiction of the California Coastal Commission.

SEC. 2. Section 6 of Chapter 74 of the Statutes of 1978 is amended to read:

Sec. 6. The parcels of real property referred to in this act are described as follows:

PARCEL A

CHAPTER 730

An act to add Article 18.5 (commencing with Section 743) to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to minors.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 18.5 (commencing with Section 743) is added to Chapter 2 of Part 1 of Division 2 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, to read:

Article 18.5. Repeat Offender Prevention Project

743. Contingent upon the appropriation of funds therefor, there is hereby established a three-year demonstration project which shall be known as the "Repeat Offender Prevention Project." This project shall operate in three counties or regions, each of which shall design, establish, implement, and evaluate a model program to meet the needs of a chronic juvenile offender population identified in exploratory studies conducted in Orange County between 1989 and 1993 by the research staff of the Orange County Probation Department and designated as the "8 percent" population.

744. (a) The Repeat Offender Prevention Project shall be administered by the Department of the Youth Authority and each program shall be under the onsite administration of the chief probation officer in the county selected for participation in the project or under a consortium of chief probation officers representing each region selected for program participation.

(b) Pursuant to this article, a chief probation officer or the regional consortium, with the approval of the appropriate board or boards of supervisors, may apply to the Department of the Youth Authority for funding to implement a program meeting the criteria specified in subdivision (b) of Section 745. The goal of each program shall be to develop and demonstrate intervention strategies which will end each participating minor's escalating pattern of criminal and antisocial behavior, a pattern that leads to chronic delinquency and, potentially, to adult criminal careers. These strategies shall be provided within the parameters of community protection and offender accountability. Application for program funding shall be made in accordance with written guidelines established by the Department of the Youth Authority in consultation with chief probation officers throughout the state.

745. (a) Of the three counties or regions selected for project participation, one county or region shall be from northern California, one from the bay or central area of California, and one shall be another county located in southern California. Of the counties selected for participation, one county shall contain a population of 1,000,000 or more, one county shall contain a population of at least 100,000, but less than 1,000,000, and one county shall contain a population of less than 100,000.

(b) The Department of the Youth Authority shall establish goals and deadlines against which the success or failure of the program may be measured. The department shall also develop selection criteria and funding schedules for participating counties or regions which shall take into consideration, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(1) Size of the eligible target population as defined in Section 746.

(2) Demonstrated ability to administer the program.

(3) Identification of service delivery area.

(4) Demonstrated ability to provide or develop the key intervention strategies described in Section 748 to the eligible target population and their families.

(5) A formal research component utilizing an experimental research design and random assignment to the program.

746. A minor shall be selected for participation in a program established pursuant to this article based upon the following factors:

(a) The minor is 15 years of age or younger, has been declared a ward of the juvenile court for the first time, and is to be supervised by a probation department selected for participation in this project.

(b) The minor has been evaluated and at least two of the following factors, which place the minor at a significantly greater risk of becoming a chronic juvenile or adult offender, have been identified:

(1) School behavior and performance. This shall include at least one of the following: attendance problems, behavior problems, or poor grades.

(2) Family problems. These shall include at least one of the following: poor parental supervision or control; domestic violence; trauma; recent financial problems; or marital or family discord.

(3) Substance abuse. This shall include the abuse of alcohol or drugs by the minor, other than experimentation.

(4) Delinquent behavior. This shall include at least one of the following: a pattern of stealing; running away from home; or gang membership or association.

747. The Department of the Youth Authority shall adopt written minimum standards for project implementation, operation, and evaluation which shall include a written commitment by a county or region to the following objectives:

(a) Teamwork on the part of all treatment and intervention agents involved in the project including the family, the professionals, and any community volunteers.

(b) Empowerment of the family to recognize and, ultimately, to solve the problems related to their minor's criminal behavior and their involvement as an integral part of the treatment team and process.

(c) Creation of a multiagency, multidisciplinary team so that the program can effectively draw on the professional knowledge, skill, and experience of many treatment disciplines in areas including, but not limited to, the following: education; job preparation and search; job skills and vocational training; life skills; psychological counseling; drug and alcohol treatment; health care; parenting skills; community service opportunities; building self-esteem and self-confidence; mentoring programs; restitution programs; gang intervention; recreational, social, and cultural activities; and transportation and child care as needed.

748. Each county or region shall, in implementing their respective programs, provide the following key intervention strategies to ensure the following:

(a) Adequate levels of supervision, structure, and support to minors and their families both during and after the intervention and treatment process, in order to accomplish all of the following:

(1) Ensure protection of the community, the minor, and his or her family.

(2) Facilitate the development of new patterns of thinking and behavior.

(3) Eliminate any obvious stumbling blocks to the family's progress.

(b) Accountability on the part of the minor for his or her actions and assistance to the minor in developing a greater awareness and sensitivity to the impact of his or her actions on both people and situations.

(c) Assistance to families in their efforts to ensure that minors are attending school regularly.

(d) Assistance to the minor in developing strategies for attaining and reinforcing educational success.

(e) Promotion and development of positive social values, behavior, and relationships by providing opportunities for the minor to directly help people; to improve his or her community; to participate in positive leisure-time activities specially chosen to match his or her individual interests, skills, and abilities; and to have greater access and exposure to positive adult and juvenile role models.

(f) Promotion and development of individualized intervention strategies which shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

(1) Delivery of services in close proximity to the minor's or the minor's family's home.

(2) Community case advocates to assist in building bridges of trust, communication, and understanding between the minor, the family, and all treatment and intervention agents.

(g) Provision of a continuum of care with strong followup services that continue to be available to the minor and family as long as needed, not just on a crisis basis.

749. (a) The Department of the Youth Authority shall be responsible for monitoring project implementation in accordance with an annual program plan submitted by the participating counties or regions. Written progress reports and evaluation reports shall be required of participating counties or regions pursuant to a schedule and guidelines developed by the Department of the Youth Authority.

(b) The success of each funded project will be determined, at a minimum, by comparing a control group, consisting of juvenile offenders who were not selected for participation in the project, to an experimental group, consisting of juvenile offenders who have participated in the project. Juveniles in each group will be evaluated at 6-, 12-, 18-, and 24-month intervals, according to the following criteria:

(1) The number of subsequent petitions to declare the minor a ward of the juvenile court, pursuant to Section 602, and the subject matter and disposition of each of those petitions.

(2) The number of days served in any local or state correctional facilities.

(3) The number of days of school attendance during the current or most recent semester.

(4) The minor's grade point average for the most recently completed school semester.

(c) The Department of the Youth Authority, based on reports provided pursuant to subdivision (a), shall report upon request to the Legislature on the effectiveness of these programs in achieving the project and program goals described in this article.

(d) The Department of the Youth Authority shall determine county or regional eligibility for funding and, from money appropriated therefor, the department shall allocate and award funds to those counties or regions applying and eligible therefor and selected for project participation.

(e) The Repeat Offender Prevention Project shall be implemented within six months of the appropriation of funds therefor and shall terminate at the end of three years from that appropriation.

(f) Five percent of the funds allocated each fiscal year for the Repeat Offender Prevention Project shall be set aside for the administrative expenses of the Department of the Youth Authority.

CHAPTER 731

An act to amend Section 51018 of the Government Code, and to add Section 3106.5 to the Public Resources Code, relating to pipelines and oil, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 51018 of the Government Code is amended to read:

51018. (a) Every rupture, explosion, or fire involving a pipeline, including a pipeline system otherwise exempted by subdivision (a) of Section 51010.5, and including a pipeline undergoing testing, shall be immediately reported by the pipeline operator to the fire department having fire suppression responsibilities and to the Office of Emergency Services. In addition, the pipeline operator shall within 30 days of the rupture, explosion, or fire file a report with the State Fire Marshal containing all the information that the State Fire Marshal may reasonably require to prepare the report required pursuant to subdivision (d).

(b) The fire department having fire suppression responsibilities shall immediately notify the State Fire Marshal of the incident, who shall immediately dispatch his or her employees to the scene. The State Fire Marshal or his or her employees, upon arrival, shall provide technical expertise and advise the operator and all public agencies on activities needed to mitigate the hazard.

For purposes of this subdivision, the Legislature does not intend to hinder or disrupt the workings of the "incident command system," but does intend to establish a recognized element of expertise and direction for the incident command to consult and acknowledge as an authority on the subject of pipeline incident mitigation. Furthermore, it is expected that the State Fire Marshal will recognize the expertise of the pipeline operator and any other emergency agency personnel who may be familiar with the particular location of the incident and respect their knowledgeable input regarding the mitigation of the incident.

(c) For purposes of this section, "rupture" includes every unintentional liquid leak, including any leak that occurs during hydrostatic testing, except that a crude oil leak of less than five barrels from a pipeline or flow line in a rural area, or any crude oil or petroleum product leak in any in-plant piping system of less than five barrels, when no fire, explosion, or bodily injury results or no waterway is contaminated thereby, does not constitute a rupture for purposes of the reporting requirements of subdivision (a).

(d) The State Fire Marshal shall, every fifth year commencing in 1999, issue a report identifying pipeline leak incident rate trends, reviewing current regulatory effectiveness with regard to pipeline safety, and recommending any necessary changes to the Legislature. This report shall include all of the following: total length of regulated pipelines, total length of regulated piggable pipeline, total number of line sections, average length of each section, number of leaks during study period, average spill size, average damage per incident, average age of leak pipe, average diameter of leak pipe, injuries during study period, cause of the leak or spill, fatalities during study period, and other information as deemed appropriate by the State Fire Marshal.

(e) This section does not preempt any other applicable federal or state reporting requirement.

SEC. 1.5. Section 51018 of the Government Code is amended to read:

51018. (a) Every rupture, explosion, or fire involving a pipeline, including a pipeline system otherwise exempted by subdivision (a) of Section 51010.5, and including a pipeline undergoing testing, shall be immediately reported by the pipeline operator to the fire department having fire suppression responsibilities and to the Office of Emergency Services. In addition, the pipeline operator shall within 30 days of the rupture, explosion, or fire file a report with the State Fire Marshal containing all the information that the State Fire Marshal may reasonably require to prepare the report required pursuant to subdivision (d).

(b) The Office of Emergency Services shall immediately notify the State Fire Marshal of the incident, who shall immediately dispatch his or her employees to the scene. The State Fire Marshal or his or her employees, upon arrival, shall provide technical expertise and advise the operator and all public agencies on activities needed to mitigate the hazard.

For purposes of this subdivision, the Legislature does not intend to hinder or disrupt the workings of the "incident command system," but does intend to establish a recognized element of expertise and direction for the incident command to consult and acknowledge as an authority on the subject of pipeline incident mitigation. Furthermore, it is expected that the State Fire Marshal will recognize the expertise of the pipeline operator and any other emergency agency personnel who may be familiar with the particular location of the incident and respect their knowledgeable input regarding the mitigation of the incident.

(c) For purposes of this section, "rupture" includes every unintentional liquid leak, including any leak that occurs during hydrostatic testing, except that a crude oil leak of less than five barrels from a pipeline or flow line in a rural area, or any crude oil or petroleum product leak in any in-plant piping system of less than five barrels, when no fire, explosion, or bodily injury results or no waterway is contaminated thereby, does not constitute a rupture for purposes of the reporting requirements of subdivision (a).

(d) The State Fire Marshal shall, every fifth year commencing in 1999, issue a report identifying pipeline leak incident rate trends, reviewing current regulatory effectiveness with regard to pipeline safety, and recommending any necessary changes to the Legislature. This report shall include all of the following: total length of regulated pipelines, total length of regulated piggable pipeline, total number of line sections, average length of each section, number of leaks during study period, average spill size, average damage per incident, average age of leak pipe, average diameter of leak pipe, injuries during study period, cause of the leak or spill, fatalities during study period, and other information as deemed appropriate by the State Fire Marshal.

(e) This section does not preempt any other applicable federal or state reporting requirement.

(f) Except as otherwise provided in this section and Section 8589.7, a notification made pursuant to this section shall satisfy any notification requirement contained in any permit issued by a permitting agency.

SEC. 2. Section 3106.5 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

3106.5. Acting with the approval of the director, the supervisor may annually expend, from the amount appropriated to the division, up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) to support activities at the West Kern Oil Museum.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 4. Section 1.5 of this bill incorporates amendments to Section 51018 of the Government Code proposed by both this bill and AB 3404. It shall only become operative if (1) both bills are enacted and become effective on January 1, 1995, (2) each bill amends Section 51018 of the Government Code, and (3) this bill is enacted after AB 3404, in which case Section 1 of this bill shall not become operative.

11732.5. Rates shall not be unfairly discriminatory. Rates are unfairly discriminatory if, after allowing for practical limitations, price differentials fail to reflect equitably the difference in expected losses and expenses. A rate of an insurer shall not be deemed unfairly discriminatory because different premiums result for policyholders with like loss exposures but different expenses, or like expenses but different loss exposures, as long as the rate reflects the differences with reasonable accuracy.

SEC. 2. Section 11735 of the Insurance Code, as added by Chapter 228 of the Statutes of 1993, is amended to read:

Upon application by the filer, the commissioner may authorize an earlier effective date.

(b) Rates filed pursuant to this section shall be filed in the form and manner prescribed by the commissioner. All rates, supplementary information, and any supporting information for rates filed under this article shall, as soon as filed, be open to public inspection at any reasonable time. Copies may be obtained by any person on request and upon payment of a reasonable charge.

(c) Upon the written application of the insurer and insured, stating its reasons therefor, filed with the commissioner, a rate in excess of that provided by a filing otherwise applicable may be used on any specific risk.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 679.70, no advisory organization may issue nor may any insurer use any classification system or rate, as applied or used, that violates Section 679.71 or 679.72 or that violates the Unruh Civil Rights Act.

11735. (a) Every insurer shall file with the commissioner all rates, rating plans, and supplementary rate information which are to be used in this state. The rates and supplementary information shall be filed no later than 30 days prior to the effective date. If the commissioner finds, after a hearing, that an insurer's rates require closer supervision because of the insurer's financial condition, as determined pursuant to Section 11733, the insurer shall file with the commissioner at least 30 days before the effective date, all of those rates , the supplementary rate information and supporting information as prescribed by the commissioner. Upon application by the filer, the commissioner may authorize an earlier effective date.

(b) Rates filed pursuant to this section shall be filed in the form and manner prescribed by the commissioner. All rates, supplementary information and any supporting information for rates filed under this article shall, as soon as filed, be open to public inspection at any reasonable time. Copies may be obtained by any person on request and upon payment of a reasonable charge.

(c) Upon the written application of the insurer and insured, stating its reasons therefor, filed with the commissioner, a rate in excess of that provided by a filing otherwise applicable may be used on any specific risk.

CHAPTER 733

An act to amend Sections 13575 and 13576 of, and to add Sections 13579, 13580, 13581, and 13582 to, the Water Code, relating to water.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 13575 of the Water Code is amended to read:

13575. (a) This chapter shall be known and may be cited as the Water Recycling Act of 1991.

(b) As used in this chapter, the following terms have the following meanings:

(1) "Recycled water producer" means any local public entity that produces recycled water.

(2) "Recycled water wholesaler" means any local public entity that distributes recycled water to retail water suppliers and which has constructed, or is constructing, a recycled water distribution system.

(3) "Retail water supplier" means any local entity, including a public agency, city, county, or private water company, that provides retail water service.

SEC. 2. Section 13576 of the Water Code is amended to read:

13576. The Legislature hereby makes the following findings and declarations:

(a) The State of California is subject to periodic drought conditions.

(b) The development of traditional water resources in California has not kept pace with the state's population, which is growing at the rate of over 700,000 per year and which is anticipated to reach 36 million by the year 2010.

(c) There is a need for a reliable source of water for uses not related to the supply of potable water to protect investments in agriculture, greenbelts, and recreation and to protect and enhance fisheries, wildlife habitat, and riparian areas.

(d) The environmental benefits of recycled water include a reduced demand for water in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta which is otherwise needed to maintain water quality, reduced discharge of waste into the ocean, and the enhancement of recreation, fisheries, and wetlands.

(e) The use of recycled water has proven to be safe from a public health standpoint, and the State Department of Health Services is updating regulations for the use of recycled water.

(f) The use of recycled water is a cost-effective, reliable method of helping to meet California's water supply needs.

(g) The development of the infrastructure to distribute recycled water will provide jobs and enhance the economy of the state.

(h) Retail water suppliers and recycled water producers and wholesalers should promote the substitution of recycled water for potable water in order to maximize the appropriate cost-effective use of recycled water in California.

(i) Recycled water producers and retail water suppliers should cooperate in joint technical, economic, and environmental studies, as appropriate, to determine the feasibility of providing recycled water service.

(j) Retail water suppliers and recycled water producers and wholesalers should be encouraged to enter into contracts to facilitate the service of recycled and potable water by the retail water suppliers in their service areas in the most efficient and cost-effective manner. Wholesale prices set by recycled water producers and recycled water wholesalers, and rates that retail water suppliers are authorized to charge for recycled water, should reflect an equitable sharing of the costs and benefits associated with the development and use of recycled water.

SEC. 3. Section 13579 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13579. (a) In order to achieve the goals established in Section 13577, retail water suppliers shall identify potential uses for recycled water within their service areas, potential customers for recycled water service within their service areas, and, within a reasonable time, potential sources of recycled water.

(b) Recycled water producers and recycled water wholesalers may also identify potential uses for recycled water, and may assist retail water suppliers in identifying potential customers for recycled water service within the service areas of those retail water suppliers.

(c) Recycled water producers and retail water suppliers may cooperate in joint technical, economic, and environmental studies, as appropriate, to determine the feasibility of providing recycled water service consistent with the criteria set forth in paragraphs (1) to (3), inclusive, of subdivision (a) of Section 13550.

SEC. 4. Section 13580 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13580. (a) A retail water supplier that has identified a potential use or customer pursuant to Section 13579 may apply to a recycled water producer or recycled water wholesaler for a recycled water supply.

(b) A recycled water producer or recycled water wholesaler that has identified a potential use or customer pursuant to Section 13579 may, in writing, request a retail water supplier to enter into an agreement to provide recycled water to the potential customer.

SEC. 5. Section 13581 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13581. If there is a failure to agree on terms and conditions for a recycled water supply agreement within six months after the receipt of the application for recycled water pursuant to Section 13580, either or both parties may request a formal mediation process. If both parties agree to participate in the formal mediation process, the parties shall commence mediation within four months after the mediation request is made. If the parties cannot agree on a mediator, the director shall appoint a mediator. The mediator may recommend to the parties appropriate terms and conditions applicable to the service of recycled water. The cost for the services of the mediator shall be divided equally among the parties to the mediation and shall not exceed twenty thousand dollars ($20,000).

SEC. 6. Section 13582 is added to the Water Code, to read:

13582. This chapter is not intended to alter any rights, remedies, or obligations which may exist pursuant to Article 1.5 (commencing with Section 1210) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2 of this code or Chapter 8.5 (commencing with Section 1501) of Part 1 of Division 1 of the Public Utilities Code.

(a) (1) Except as otherwise provided in subdivisions (b), (c), (f), and (g), it is unlawful for any person to carry on, or engage in, the transportation of hazardous wastes, unless the person holds a valid registration issued by the department, and it shall be unlawful for any person to transfer custody of a hazardous waste to a transporter who does not hold a valid registration issued by the department. A person who holds a valid registration issued by the department pursuant to this section is a registered hazardous waste transporter, for purposes of this chapter. Any registration issued by the department to a transporter of hazardous waste is not transferable from the person to whom it was issued to any other person.

(2) Any person who transports hazardous waste in a vehicle shall have a valid registration issued by the department in his or her possession while transporting the hazardous waste. The registration certificate shall be shown upon demand to any representative of the department, officer of the Department of the California Highway Patrol, any local health officer, or any public officer designated by the department. Any person registered pursuant to this section may obtain additional copies of the registration from the department upon the payment of a fee of two dollars ($2) for each copy requested, in accordance with Section 12196 of the Government Code.

(3) The hazardous waste information required and collected for registration pursuant to this subdivision shall be recorded and maintained in the management information system operated by the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(b) Persons transporting only septic tank, cesspool, seepage pit, or chemical toilet waste that does not contain a hazardous waste originating from other than the body of a human or animal and who hold an unrevoked registration issued by the health officer or the health officer's authorized representative pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25000) are exempt from the requirements of subdivision (a).

(c) Persons transporting hazardous wastes to a permitted hazardous waste facility for transfer, treatment, recycling, or disposal, which wastes do not exceed a total volume of five gallons or do not exceed a total weight of 50 pounds, are exempt from the requirements of subdivisions (a) and (e) and from the requirements of Section 25160 concerning possession of the manifest while transporting hazardous waste, upon meeting all of the following conditions:

(1) The hazardous wastes are transported in closed containers and packed in a manner that prevents the containers from tipping, spilling, or breaking during the transporting.

(2) Different hazardous waste materials are not mixed within a container during the transporting.

(3) If the hazardous waste is extremely hazardous waste or acutely hazardous waste, the extremely hazardous waste or acutely hazardous waste was not generated in the course of any business, and is not more than 2.2 pounds.

(4) The person transporting the hazardous waste is the producer of that hazardous waste, and the person produces not more than 100 kilograms of hazardous waste in any month.

(5) The person transporting the hazardous waste does not accumulate more than a total of 1,000 kilograms of hazardous waste onsite at any one time.

(d) Any person registered as a hazardous waste transporter pursuant to subdivision (a) is not subject to the registration requirements of Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 25000), but shall comply with those terms, conditions, orders, and directions that the health officer or the health officer's authorized representative may determine to be necessary for the protection of human health and comfort, and shall otherwise comply with the requirements for statements as provided in Section 25007. Violations of those requirements of Section 25007 shall be punished as provided in Section 25010. Proof of registration pursuant to subdivision (a) shall be submitted by mail or in person to the local health officer in the city or county in which the registered hazardous waste transporter will be conducting the activities described in Section 25001.

(e) It is unlawful for any person to transport hazardous waste in any truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, or cargo tank not inspected by the Department of the California Highway Patrol or to transport hazardous waste in any container, other than a container packaged pursuant to United States Department of Transportation regulations, which has not been inspected by the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(f) Any person authorized to collect solid waste, as defined in Section 40191 of the Public Resources Code, who unknowingly transports hazardous waste to a solid waste facility, as defined in Section 40194 of the Public Resources Code, incidental to the collection of solid waste is not subject to subdivisions (a) and (e).

(g) Any person transporting household hazardous waste or a conditionally exempt small quantity generator transporting hazardous waste to an authorized household hazardous waste collection facility pursuant to Section 25218.5 is exempt from subdivisions (a) and (e) and from paragraph (1) of subdivision (d) of Section 25160 requiring possession of the manifest while transporting hazardous waste.

(h) This section shall become operative January 1, 1998.

SEC. 3. Section 25168.1 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 3 of Chapter 1084 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

25168.1. (a) The department shall adopt regulations for containers used to transport hazardous wastes not subject to the federal regulations contained in Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall conduct an annual inspection of every truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container, except for any rolloff bin inspected in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 25169.1, used by registered waste transporters to transport hazardous waste on the highways, and every related maintenance facility or terminal and any records of registered waste transporters relating to vehicle maintenance and drivers' hours of service. The inspection shall be designed to determine if each vehicle and operation thereof complies with the Vehicle Code and with regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol under subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 34501 of the Vehicle Code, and by the department for containers used to transport hazardous waste. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall determine whether the construction, design, equipment, and safety features of every such truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container are in compliance with the standards which the department determines are necessary for the safe transportation of hazardous waste.

(b) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 25168.1 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Section 4 of Chapter 1084 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

25168.1. (a) The department shall adopt regulations for containers used to transport hazardous wastes not covered or packaged as required by federal regulations contained in Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall conduct an annual inspection of every truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container used by registered waste transporters to transport hazardous waste on the highways, and every related maintenance facility or terminal and any records of registered waste transporters relating to vehicle maintenance and drivers' hours of service. The inspection shall be designed to determine if each vehicle and operation thereof complies with the Vehicle Code and with regulations adopted by the Department of the California Highway Patrol under subdivisions (a) and (b) of Section 34501 of the Vehicle Code, and by the department for containers used to transport hazardous waste. The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall determine whether the construction, design, equipment, and safety features of every such truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container are in compliance with the standards which the department determines are necessary for the safe transportation of hazardous waste.

(b) This section shall become operative January 1, 1998.

SEC. 5. Section 25169.1 of the Health and Safety Code, as amended by Section 5 of Chapter 1084 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

25169.1. (a) The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall inspect every truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container which is not a rolloff bin subject to subdivision (b), used to transport hazardous waste on the highways at least once a year to ascertain whether its construction, design, equipment and safety features comply with the regulations adopted by the department pursuant to Section 25168.1.

(b) (1) Upon receipt of a properly completed application for a specified number of rolloff bins and payment of the required fee, in accordance with Sections 25168.4, 25168.5, and 25168.6, the department shall issue a certificate of compliance to a hazardous waste transporter for each rolloff bin applied for under subdivision (c).

(2) The department shall determine the size, shape, color, and design of the certificate of compliance issued pursuant to this subdivision, which shall be distinctly different in size, shape, color, and design from the certificates of compliance affixed by the Department of the California Highway Patrol.

(c) A hazardous waste transporter may apply, in writing, to the department for authorization to annually inspect and self-certify rolloff bins owned by the hazardous waste transporter, if all of the following requirements are met:

(1) The rolloff bin was inspected by the Department of the California Highway Patrol before it was placed into service.

(2) The rolloff bins are used only to transport hazardous waste, except extremely hazardous waste, in a solid physical state.

(3) No hazardous materials, including, but not limited to, hazardous waste, as listed in Part 172 (commencing with Section 172.1) of Subchapter C of Chapter I of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, are transported, unless the hazardous material is a miscellaneous hazardous material (Class 9), as specified in Section 173.140 of Title 49 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or is not required to be labeled or placarded by the United States Department of Transportation.

(4) The hazardous waste transporter has a current satisfactory rating from the Department of the California Highway Patrol's terminal inspection for the three immediately consecutive preceding years.

(5) The department issues a letter of acknowledgment indicating approval for the hazardous waste transporter to inspect and certify the transporter's rolloff bins.

(6) The hazardous waste transporter affixes the certificate of compliance issued pursuant to subdivision (b) to the rolloff bin in a position normally visible during transportation.

(7) The hazardous waste transporter either personally inspects and self-certifies each rolloff bin or designates a specific employee to inspect and self-certify each rolloff bin.

(8) The hazardous waste transporter maintains an ability to respond to damages resulting from the operation of that business by obtaining insurance coverage in the minimum amount of one million five hundred thousand dollars ($1,500,000) of combined single limit coverage.

(d) A hazardous waste transporter who is issued a certificate of compliance pursuant to subdivision (b) shall do all of the following:

(1) Document, on a form provided by the department, the inspection of each rolloff bin, noting defects and repair measures taken, and provide to the department a record of the certificate of compliance issued to each rolloff bin. The document shall contain a list of the inspection items specified in paragraph (2) and the identification number of the rolloff bin, the date of inspection, the inspector's signature, the date of certification, and certificate of compliance number. The hazardous waste transporter shall retain a copy of the inspection records for each rolloff bin for three years from the date of certification, except the hazardous waste transporter shall retain these inspection records for longer than three years during the course of any unresolved enforcement action regarding hazardous waste transportation, or as requested by the department.

(2) Certify that each rolloff bin has been inspected visually for all of the following and is free from all of the following defects:

(A) Cracks, holes, and broken welds.

(B) Defects in doors and door hinges, gaskets, seals, and latching devices.

(C) Defects in loading and securement devices of the rolloff bin.

(D) Any other condition, including leakage, corrosion, or dents which render it unsafe for transportation service.

(3) Establish an effective ongoing maintenance program that will ensure that rolloff bins are not transported while loaded in a condition less than that required for certification. The hazardous waste transporter shall retain maintenance records for each rolloff bin for a period of three years from the date the maintenance was performed, except the hazardous waste transporter shall retain these maintenance records for longer than three years during the course of any unresolved enforcement action regarding hazardous waste transportation or as requested by the department.

(e) Authorized employees of the Department of the California Highway Patrol shall make random inspections of at least 25 percent of all rolloff bins certified pursuant to subdivision (b), and shall inspect all maintenance and inspection records of rolloff bins certified pursuant to subdivision (b). The Department of the California Highway Patrol may perform random inspections of rolloff bins and those records on both public and private property.

(f) In addition to the penalties specified in subdivision (g), any person who violates this section shall be punished as prescribed in Article 8 (commencing with Section 25180).

(g) A person who violates this section is subject to the following actions:

(1) For the first violation, the person is subject to a civil penalty of five hundred dollars ($500) for each rolloff bin determined by the Department of the California Highway Patrol or the department to be out of compliance with the requirements of this article.

(2) For the second violation, the person is subject to a civil penalty of one thousand dollars ($1,000) for each rolloff bin determined by the Department of the California Highway Patrol or the department to be out of compliance with the requirements of this article, and the department shall immediately revoke the hazardous waste transporter's authorization to inspect and self-certify the transporter's rolloff bins, pursuant to subdivisions (b) and (c), for a period of not less than one year. The department may deny any future application that the hazardous waste transporter submits to inspect and self-certify the transporter's rolloff bins if the transporter's authorization is revoked pursuant to this section.

(3) Notwithstanding Sections 25186.1 and 25186.2, and subdivision (i), the department may immediately suspend, for a period of one year, the registration of a hazardous waste transporter, who the Department of the California Highway Patrol or the department determines is willfully violating, and is substantially out of compliance with, the requirements of this section.

(4) Any authorized employee of the Department of the California Highway Patrol may remove the certificate of compliance on any rolloff bin certified pursuant to subdivision (b) which fails an inspection.

(h) Notwithstanding Section 25186.2, the department shall deny, suspend, or revoke the registration of any hazardous waste transporter pursuant to Section 25186.1 to prevent or mitigate an imminent and substantial danger to the public health or safety or the environment.

(i) No person shall transport hazardous waste on streets and highways in this state, unless the truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container in which the hazardous waste is being transported displays a certificate of compliance, issued by the department, showing that the vehicle has been inspected within the last 12 months.

(j) For the purposes of this section, the following terms have the following meaning:

(1) "Container" means any reusable portable tank or bin which has a capacity greater than 450 liters (119 gallons) and meets both of the following requirements:

(A) The container bears a permanently affixed, unique identification number or, if a container does not bear an identification number, the hazardous waste hauler affixes a permanent, unique identification number to the container.

(B) The number specified in subparagraph (A) shall be painted in characters not less than 1 inch in height or die stamped in characters not less than $\frac{3}{16}$ inch in height and shall be maintained in a legible condition.

(2) "Rolloff bin" means any box-type container used to store and transport hazardous waste. "Rolloff bin" does not include any tank, or any other packaging, built to a specification or exemption authorized by the United States Department of Transportation.

(3) "Solid physical state" means solid physical hazardous waste in which free liquids are not present.

(4) "Free liquids" means liquids which readily separate from the solid portion of a waste under ambient temperature and pressure. Free liquids are not present when a 100 milliliter representative sample of the hazardous waste can be completely retained in a standard 400 micron conical paint filter for five minutes without loss of any portion of the waste from the bottom of the filter, or if the waste meets an equivalent test approved by the department.

(k) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1998, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 25169.1 of the Health and Safety Code, as added by Section 6 of Chapter 1084 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

25169.1. (a) The Department of the California Highway Patrol shall inspect every truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container used to transport hazardous waste on the highways at least once a year to ascertain whether its construction, design, equipment, and safety features comply with the regulations adopted by the department pursuant to Section 25168.1.

(b) No person shall transport hazardous waste on streets and highways in this state, unless the truck, trailer, semitrailer, vacuum tank, cargo tank, or container in which the hazardous waste is being transported displays a certificate of compliance, issued by the department, showing that the vehicle has been inspected within the last 12 months.

(c) For the purposes of this section, "container" means any reusable portable tank or bin which has a capacity greater than 450 liters (119 gallons) and meets both of the following requirements:

(1) The container bears a permanently affixed, unique identification number or, if a container does not bear an identification number, the hazardous waste transporter affixes a permanent, unique identification number to the container.

(2) The number specified in paragraph (1) shall be painted in characters not less than 1 inch in height or die stamped in characters not less than 3/16 inch in height and shall be maintained in a legible condition.

(d) This section shall become operative January 1, 1998.

SEC. 7. On or before January 1, 1998, the Department of the California Highway Patrol shall prepare and submit a report to the Legislature on the inspection program conducted pursuant to this act, that addresses the cost of continuing the inspection program, the effectiveness of using state resources to conduct the program, and the impact of the program on the public health and safety.

SEC. 8. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to amend Sections 25179.7 and 25179.13 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to hazardous waste, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 25179.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25179.7. (a) The department shall extend the implementation date until January 1, 1996, after which the land disposal of a hazardous waste is prohibited pursuant to Section 25179.6 for the following categories of hazardous wastes:

(1) Any RCRA hazardous waste for which a treatment standard has not been adopted or for which the Environmental Protection Agency has granted a delay of the effective date of the standard pursuant to Section 6924 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(2) Any non-RCRA hazardous waste subject to treatment standards based upon incineration, solvent extraction, or biological treatment.

(3) Any non-RCRA hazardous waste subject to the treatment standard adopted pursuant to paragraph (3) of subdivision (a) of Section 66268.106 of Title 26 of the California Code of Regulations.

(b) On and after January 1, 1996, the categories of waste subject to the extension granted in subdivision (a) shall be disposed of in accordance with the treatment standard adopted for that waste pursuant to Section 25179.6 unless either of the following occurs:

(1) For RCRA hazardous waste for which a treatment standard has not been adopted pursuant to Section 6924 of Title 42 of the United States Code, a treatment standard for that waste is adopted pursuant to Section 6924 of Title 42 of the United States Code before January 1, 1996.

(2) For non-RCRA hazardous wastes for which incineration has been identified as a treatment method pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 25179.6, the department adopts, and implements by January 1, 1996, an alternative treatment standard pursuant to Section 25179.13.

SEC. 2. Section 25179.13 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

25179.13. (a) Not later than January 1, 1995, the department shall issue written findings based upon a reevaluation of the treatment standards adopted for hazardous waste for which incineration has been identified as a treatment method pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 25179.6. This reevaluation shall include an assessment of all of the various treatment methods applicable to each of these hazardous wastes, the effectiveness of each type of treatment method in reducing the harmful properties or characteristics of the waste, and the overall consequences to public health and safety and the environment associated with the required implementation of each treatment method.

(b) If the department finds, based upon the reevaluation required pursuant to subdivision (a), that treating a hazardous waste with a method other than incineration is at least as protective of the public health and safety and the environment as incineration, the department may adopt an alternative treatment standard which allows the use of that treatment method for that waste.

(c) No treatment standard shall be modified pursuant to this section unless the department first provides all interested parties with at least 60 days' notice of its pending action and holds at least three public hearings in three different areas of the state.

(d) Any treatment standard modified pursuant to this section shall become operative in its modified form prior to January 1, 1996.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to ensure that the Department of Toxic Substances Control has sufficient time to comply, in the most effective and thorough manner possible, with requirements relating to the treatment and disposal of hazardous waste, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 740

An act to amend Section 18938 of, and to add Article 8 (commencing with Section 15097.100) and Article 9 (commencing with Section 15097.125) to Chapter 1 of Division 12.5 of, the Health and Safety Code, relating to building standards, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 21, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 22, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 8 (commencing with Section 15097.100) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 12.5 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 8. New State Responsibilities for Seismic Safety in Hospitals

15097.100. (a) The Legislature hereby finds and declares the following:

(1) The Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act of 1983 was created because of the loss of life in the collapse of hospitals during the Sylmar earthquake of 1971.

(2) We were reminded of the vulnerability of hospitals in the Northridge earthquake of January 17, 1994.

(3) Several hospitals built prior to the act suffered major damage and had to be evacuated.

(4) Hospitals built to the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act standards resisted the Northridge earthquakes with very little structural damage demonstrating the value and necessity of this act.

(5) Both pre- and post-act hospitals suffered damage to architecture and to power and water systems that prevented hospitals from being operational, caused the loss of one life, triggered evacuations, unacceptable property losses, and added additional concerns on emergency medical response.

(6) An earthquake survivability inventory of California's hospitals completed by the Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development in December 1989 indicated that over 83 percent of the state's hospital beds were in buildings that did not comply with the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act because they were issued permits prior to the effective date of the act. Furthermore, 26 percent of the beds are in buildings posing significant risks of collapse since they were built before modern earthquake codes. The older hospitals pose significant threats of collapse in major earthquakes and loss of functions in smaller or more distant earthquakes.

(7) The 1989 survey also states: "Of the 490 hospitals surveyed, nine hospitals are in Alquist–Priolo Earthquake Fault Rupture Zones, 31 are in areas subject to soil liquefaction, 14 in areas with landslide potential, 33 in flood zones, and 29 have a possible loss or disruption of access. Two hundred five hospitals had no emergency fuel for their main boilers on hand, 19 had no emergency fuel for their emergency generators. Onsite emergency potable water was available at 273 hospitals and nonpotable water was available at 102 hospitals. Four hundred eighteen hospitals had emergency radios onsite, and 419 hospitals had inadequate or partially adequate equipment anchorage. In terms of available emergency preparedness, inadequate or partially inadequate equipment anchorage is still the most widespread shortcoming."

(8) This survey identifies many of the shortcomings that caused 23 hospitals to suspend some or all operations after the Northridge earthquake. However, one hospital was rebuilt to comply with the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act after an older hospital building had partially collapsed in the 1971 Sylmar earthquake. The rebuilt hospital suffered failures in water distribution systems and had to be evacuated.

(9) The state must rely on hospitals to support patients and offer medical aid to earthquake victims.

(b) Therefore, it is the intent of the Legislature, that:

(1) By enacting this article, the state shall take steps to ensure that the expected earthquake performance of hospital buildings housing inpatients and providing primary basic services is disclosed to public agencies that have a need and a right to know, because the medical industry cannot immediately bring all hospital buildings into compliance with the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act.

(2) The state shall encourage structural retrofits or replacements of hospital buildings housing inpatients and providing primary basic services that place lives at risk because of their potential for collapse during an earthquake.

(3) The state shall also encourage retrofits and enhancements to critical hospital architecture, equipment, and utility and communications systems to improve the ability of hospitals to remain operational for those hospitals that do not pose risk to life.

15097.101. By June 30, 1996:

(a) The Office of Statewide Health Planning and Development, hereinafter called the office, shall develop definitions of earthquake performance categories for earthquake ground motions for both new and existing hospitals that are:

(1) Reasonably capable of providing services to the public after a disaster, designed and constructed to resist, insofar as practical, the forces generated by earthquakes, gravity, and winds, and in full compliance with the regulations and standards developed by the office pursuant to the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act.

(2) In substantial compliance with the pre-1973 California Building Standards Codes, but not in substantial compliance with the regulations and standards developed by the office pursuant to the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act. These buildings may not be repairable or functional but will not significantly jeopardize life.

(3) Potentially at significant risk of collapse and that represent a danger to the public.

(b) The office may define other earthquake performance categories as it deems necessary to meet the intent of this article and the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act.

(c) Earthquake performance categories shall also include subgradations for risk to life, structural soundness, building contents, and nonstructural systems that are critical to providing basic services to hospital inpatients and the public after a disaster.

(d) Earthquake performance categories shall, as far as practicable, use language consistent with definitions and concepts as developed in the model codes and other state and federal agencies. Where the office finds that deviations from other's definitions and concepts are necessary and warranted to comply with the intent of the Alfred E. Alquist Hospital Facilities Seismic Safety Act, the act that added this article, or the specific nature or functions of hospitals, the office shall provide supporting documentation that justifies these differences.

(e) Insofar as practicable, the office shall define rapid seismic evaluation procedures that will allow owners to determine with reasonable certainty the existing applicable earthquake performance categories and the minimum acceptable earthquake performance categories for hospital buildings. These procedures shall allow for abbreviated analysis when known vulnerability is clear and when construction in accordance with post-1973 codes allows for an evaluation focusing on limited structural and nonstructural elements.

(f) The office, in consultation with the Hospital Building Safety Board, shall develop regulations to identify the most critical nonstructural systems and to prioritize the timeframes for upgrading those systems that represent the greatest risk of failure during an earthquake.

(g) The office shall develop regulations as they apply to the administration of seismic standards for retrofit designs, construction, and field reviews for the purposes of this article.

(h) The office shall develop regulations for the purpose of reviewing requests and granting delays to hospitals demonstrating a need for more time to comply with Section 15097.127.

(i) The office shall submit all information developed pursuant to subdivisions (a) to (f), inclusive, to the California Building Standards Commission by June 30, 1996.

(j) The office shall submit all information developed pursuant to subdivisions (g) and (h) to the California Building Standards Commission by December 31, 1996.

(k) "Hospital building," as used in Article 8 and Article 9 of this chapter means a hospital building as defined in Section 15026 and that is also licensed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1250, but does not include these buildings if the beds licensed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 1250, as of January 1, 1995, comprise 10 percent or less of the total licensed beds of the total physical plant, and does not include facilities owned or operated, or both, by the Department of Corrections.

15097.102. The office is responsible for reviewing and approving seismic evaluation reports, compliance schedules and construction documents that are developed by hospital owners, and field review of construction for work done pursuant to this article.

15097.103. For the 1994–95 through 1997–98 fiscal years, the sum of three hundred eighteen thousand dollars ($318,000) is hereby appropriated from the Hospital Building Fund to the office for the purpose of developing regulations pursuant to subdivisions (a) through (j) of Section 15097.101.

15097.104. (a) By December 31, 1996, the California Building Standards Commission shall review, revise as necessary and adopt earthquake performance categories, seismic evaluation procedures, and standards and timeframes for upgrading the most critical nonstructural systems as developed by the office. By June 30, 1997, the California Building Standards Commission shall review, revise as necessary, and adopt seismic retrofit building standards and procedures for reviewing requests and granting delays to hospitals that demonstrate a need for more time to comply with Section 15097.127.

(b) For purposes of this section all submittals made by the office pursuant to subdivisions (i) and (j) of Section 15097.101 shall be deemed as emergency regulations and adopted as such.

15097.105. (a) In the event of a seismic event, or other natural or manmade calamity that the office believes is of such a magnitude that it may have compromised the structural integrity of a hospital building, or any major system of a hospital building, the office shall send one or more authorized representatives to examine the structure or system. "System" for these purposes shall include, but not be limited to, the electrical, mechanical, plumbing, and fire and life safety system of the hospital building. If in the opinion of the office, the structural integrity of the hospital building or any system has been compromised and damaged to a degree that the hospital building has been made unsafe to occupy, the office may cause to be placed on the hospital building either a red tag, a yellow tag, or a green tag.

(b) A "red" tag shall mean the hospital building is unsafe and shall be evacuated immediately. Access to red-tagged buildings shall be restricted to persons authorized by the office to enter.

(c) A "yellow" tag shall mean that the hospital building has been authorized for limited occupancy, and the authorized representative of the office shall write directly on the yellow tag that portion of the hospital building that may be entered with or without restriction and those portions that may not.

(d) A "green" tag shall mean the hospital building and all of its systems have been inspected by an authorized agent of the office, and have been found to be safe for use and occupancy.

(e) Any law enforcement or other public safety agency of this state shall grant access to hospital buildings by authorized representatives of the office upon the showing of appropriate credentials.

SEC. 2. Article 9 (commencing with Section 15097.125) is added to Chapter 1 of Division 12.5 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

Article 9. Hospital Owner Responsibilities

15097.125. (a) Within three years after the adoption of the standards described in Section 15097.104, owners of all general acute care hospitals shall:

(1) Conduct seismic evaluations in accordance with procedures developed by the office pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 15097.101 and submit evaluations to the office for its review and approval.

(B) Trees may not be cut or removed pursuant to this subdivision by the clearcutting regeneration method, by the seed tree removal step of the seed tree regeneration method, or by the shelterwood removal step of the shelterwood regeneration method.

(3) (A) Surface fuels, including logging slash and debris, low brush, and deadwood which could promote the spread of wildfire shall be chipped, burned, or otherwise removed from all areas of timber operations within 45 days from the date of commencement of timber operations pursuant to this subdivision.

(B) (i) All surface fuels, that are not chipped, burned, or otherwise removed from all areas of timber operations within 45 days from the date of commencement of timber operations may be determined to be a nuisance and subject to abatement by the department or the city or county having jurisdiction.

(ii) The costs incurred by the department, city, or county, as the case may be, to abate the nuisance upon any parcel of land subject to the timber operations, including, but not limited to, investigation, boundary determination, measurement, and other related costs, may be recovered by special assessment and lien against the parcel of land by the department, city, or county. The assessment may be collected at the same time and in the same manner as ordinary ad valorem taxes, and shall be subject to the same penalties and the same procedure and sale in case of delinquency as is provided for ad valorem taxes.

(4) All timber operations conducted pursuant to this subdivision shall conform to applicable city or county general plans, city or county implementing ordinances, and city or county zoning ordinances. Nothing in this paragraph is intended to authorize the cutting, removal, or sale of timber or other solid wood forest products within an area where timber harvesting is prohibited or otherwise restricted pursuant to the rules or regulations adopted by the board.

(5) (A) The board shall adopt regulations, initially as emergency regulations in accordance with subparagraph (B), that the board considers necessary to implement and to obtain compliance with this subdivision.

(B) The emergency regulations adopted pursuant to subparagraph (A) shall be adopted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code). The adoption of emergency regulations shall be deemed to be an emergency and necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety, or general welfare.

SEC. 3. Section 4584.5 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

4584.5. Nothing in Section 4584 shall exempt the owner of any timber harvested from registering with the State Board of Equalization or from the payment of any applicable timber yield taxes imposed pursuant to Section 38115 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

SEC. 4. Section 4592 of the Public Resources Code is amended to read:

4592. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, a registered professional forester may in an emergency, on behalf of a timber owner or operator, file an "emergency notice" with the department that shall allow immediate commencement of timber operations. The emergency notice shall include a declaration, under penalty of perjury, that a bona fide emergency exists which requires immediate harvest activities, and that any applicable timber yield taxes will be paid pursuant to Section 38115 of the Revenue and Taxation Code. Those emergencies shall be defined by the board and may include, but are not limited to, the necessity to harvest to remove fire-killed or damaged timber or insect or disease-infested timber, or to undertake emergency repairs to roads.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

Due to prolonged drought conditions, the wildlands of the state are facing an unusually severe fire season and have experienced numerous damaging wildfires earlier than normal. It is important that the process of fire threat reduction be made as expeditious as possible, while ensuring that appropriate taxes imposed on timber yields are collected. In order to streamline the ability of homeowners and others to clear firebreaks and remove flammable vegetation and trees posing a fire threat to structures, and in order to ensure the collection of timber yield taxes on timber operations exempted from preparing timber harvesting plans, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 748

An act to amend Sections 17052.17 and 23617 of, and to amend, add, and repeal Sections 17052.18 and 23617.5 of, the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17052.17 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17052.17. (a) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1988, and before January 1, 1998, there shall be allowed as a credit against the "net tax" (as defined by Section 17039) an amount equal to the amount determined in subdivision (b).

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 30 percent of any of the following:

(A) The cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for the startup expenses of establishing a child care program or constructing a child care facility in California, to be used primarily by the children of the taxpayer's employees.

(B) For each taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1993, the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer for the startup expenses of establishing a child care program or constructing a child care facility in California, to be used primarily by the children of employees of tenants leasing commercial or office space in a building owned by the taxpayer.

(C) The cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to California child care information and referral services, including, but not limited to, those that identify local child care services, offer information describing these resources to the taxpayer's employees, and make referrals of the taxpayer's employees to child care services where there are vacancies.

In the case of a child care facility established by two or more taxpayers, the credit shall be allowed to each taxpayer if the facility is to be used primarily by the children of the employees of each of the taxpayers or the children of the employees of the tenants of each of the taxpayers.

(2) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for any taxable year.

(c) For purposes of this section, "startup expenses" include, but are not limited to, feasibility studies, site preparation, and construction, renovation or acquisition of facilities for purposes of establishing or expanding onsite or nearsite centers by one or more employers or one or more building owners leasing space to employers.

(d) If two or more taxpayers share in the costs eligible for the credit provided by this section, each taxpayer shall be eligible to receive a tax credit with respect to his, her, or its respective share of the costs paid or incurred.

(e) (1) In the case where the credit allowed and limited under subdivision (b) exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, until the credit has been exhausted. However, the excess from any one year shall not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(2) If the credit carryovers from preceding taxable years allowed under paragraph (1) plus the credit allowed for the taxable year under subdivision (b) would exceed an aggregate total of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000), then the credit allowed to reduce the "net tax" under this section for the taxable year shall be limited to fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) and the amount in excess of the fifty thousand dollar ($50,000) limit may be carried over and applied against the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years if necessary, in an amount which, when added to the credit allowed under subdivision (b) for that succeeding taxable year, does not exceed fifty thousand dollars ($50,000).

(f) No deduction shall be allowed as otherwise provided in this part for that portion of expenses paid or incurred for the taxable year which is equal to the amount of the credit allowed under this section attributable to those expenses.

(g) In lieu of claiming the tax credit provided by this section, the taxpayer may elect to take depreciation pursuant to Section 17250. In addition, the taxpayer may take depreciation pursuant to that section for the cost of a facility in excess of the amount of the tax credit claimed under this section.

(h) The basis for any child care facility for which a credit is allowed shall be reduced by the amount of the credit attributable to the facility. The basis adjustment shall be made for the taxable year for which the credit is allowed.

(i) No credit shall be allowed under subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) in the case of any taxpayer that is required by any local ordinance or regulation to provide a child care facility.

(j) (1) In order to be eligible for the credit allowed under subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), the taxpayer shall submit to the Franchise Tax Board upon request a statement certifying that the costs for which the credit is claimed are incurred with respect to the startup expenses of establishing a child care program or constructing a child care facility in California to be used primarily by the children of the taxpayer's employees or the children of the employees of tenants leasing commercial or office space in a building owned by the taxpayer and which will be in operation for at least 60 consecutive months after completion.

(2) If the child care center for which a credit is claimed pursuant to this section is disposed of or ceases to operate within 60 months after completion, that portion of the credit claimed which represents the remaining portion of the 60-month period shall be added to the taxpayer's tax liability in the taxable year of that disposition or nonuse.

(k) In order to be allowed the credit under subparagraph (A) or (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), the taxpayer shall indicate, in the form and manner prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, the number of children that the child care program or facility will be able to legally accommodate.

(l) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 17052.18 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

(b) (1) The amount of the credit allowed by this section shall be 50 percent of the cost paid or incurred by the taxpayer on or after September 23, 1988, for contributions to a qualified care plan made on behalf of any qualified dependent of the taxpayer's qualified employee.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The heading of Division 1 (commencing with Section 63000) of Title 6.7 of the Government Code, as added by Chapter 94 of the Statutes of 1994, is amended to read:

DIVISION 1. THE BERGESON-PEACE INFRASTRUCTURE AND ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT BANK ACT

SEC. 2. Section 63000 of the Government Code, as added by Chapter 94 of the Statutes of 1994, is amended to read:

63000. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) Economic revitalization, future development, and a healthy climate for jobs in California will depend upon a well-conceived system of public improvements that are essential to the economic well-being of the citizens of the state and are necessary to maintain, as well as create, employment within the state for business.

(b) It is necessary for public policy to support the efforts of businesses attempting to expand, businesses seeking to locate in California, and local economic development organizations, public agencies, and new entrepreneurs by dedicating public fiscal resources to confront obstacles and barriers that impede economic growth.

(c) Existing mechanisms that coordinate federal, state, local, and private financial resources are inadequate to attract and sustain that level of private investment that is essential to a growth economy.

(d) The high cost and limited availability of loans and capital has led a number of states to take action to remedy these conditions through concerted public and private investment programs that include efforts to do the following:

(1) Use the state's access to capital markets more effectively for economic development.

(2) Create financing pools to access national capital markets or help government sponsors and public-private economic development organizations obtain credit enhancement on their own.

(3) Facilitate credit enhancement for selected specific projects.

(4) Provide or arrange for loan insurance.

(5) Create and support secondary markets for loan portfolios of urban and rural economic development corporations and others.

(6) Improve access to international capital markets.

(7) Provide opportunities for public pension funds and other institutional investors to play a larger role in state economic development.

(8) Arrange for or provide subordinated debt for selected projects.

(9) Increase support for local infrastructure development.

(e) Local governments in California bear a primary responsibility for the business of promoting job creation and economic development efforts. California's continued reliance on autonomous local entities often fails to adequately consider regional impacts of business expansion. Projects of a regional nature need the benefit of a state coordinating function to augment and enhance local economic development and environmental efforts.

(f) The State of California has not embarked on a major infrastructure financing effort since the decade of the 1960's, despite persistent unemployment and soaring population growth.

(g) California's ability to compete in a global economy depends upon its capacity to implement policies that take maximum advantage of public and private resources at the local, regional, state, and national levels. These policies should be coordinated with any future legislative plan involving growth management strategies designed to make economic growth compatible with environmental protections. It is the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to create a mechanism to finance projects needed to implement economic development and job creation and growth management strategies, and to provide a secure and stable funding source for implementation of this act in order to meet critical economic, social, and environmental concerns.

(h) The State of California needs a financing entity structured with broad authority to issue bonds, provide guarantees, and leverage state and federal funds using techniques that will target public investment to facilitate economic development. The goal is to produce more private sector jobs with less public sector investment.

(i) The mechanisms for financing public improvements and private job creation strategies provided for in this act are in the public interest, serve a public purpose, and will promote the health, welfare, and safety of the citizens of the state.

(j) The public policies and responsibilities of the state, including all of the above purposes and functions, cannot be fully obtained without the use of financing assistance and can be most effectively furthered by the creation of the California Infrastructure and Economic Development Bank.

SEC. 3. Section 63002 of the Government Code, as added by Chapter 94 of the Statutes of 1994, is amended to read:

(1) The redesignation shall be applied to taxable or income years beginning on or after January 1 of the calendar year in which the ordinance or resolution is passed, adopted, or otherwise enacted.

(2) For taxable or income years described in paragraph (1), a taxpayer shall be treated as conducting business activities in an enterprise zone (not a program area), except that the carryover of any unused credits or deductions attributable to the program area from prior taxable or income years shall continue to be allowed and any limitation based upon program area income (or tax attributable to that income) shall be computed using the current income attributable to the enterprise zone.

(c) This section is only applicable to property designated as surplus under the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act of 1988 (P.L. 100-526) or the Defense Base Closure and Realignment Act of 1990 (10 U.S.C. Sec. 2687 et seq.) and is scheduled to be transferred to a city within a county with over one million persons and the transfer takes place pursuant to a base reuse plan adopted by the city council prior to December 1994.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order for the economic benefits of this act to be achieved as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 751

An act to amend Sections 6377, 17053.49, and 23649 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, relating to taxation, to take effect immediately, tax levy.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6377 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

6377. (a) There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of, and the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, any of the following:

(1) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in any stage of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point any raw materials are received by the qualified person and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(2) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily in research and development.

(3) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a qualified person to be used primarily to maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in paragraph (1) or (2).

(4) Tangible personal property purchased for use by a contractor purchasing that property either as an agent of a qualified person or for the contractor's own account and subsequent resale to a qualified person for use in the performance of a construction contract for the qualified person who will use the tangible personal property as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling process, or as a research or storage facility for use in connection with the manufacturing process.

This exemption shall not apply to any tangible personal property that is used primarily in administration, general management, or marketing.

(b) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (a).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Qualified person" means any person that is both of the following:

(A) A new trade or business. In determining whether a trade or business activity qualifies as a new trade or business, the following rules shall apply:

(i) In any case where a person purchases or otherwise acquires all or any portion of the assets of an existing trade or business (irrespective of the form of entity) that is doing business in this state (within the meaning of Section 23101), the trade or business thereafter conducted by that person (or any related person) shall not be treated as a new business if the aggregate fair market value of the acquired assets (including, real, personal, tangible, and intangible property) used by that person (or any related person) in the conduct of his or her trade or business exceed 20 percent of the aggregate fair market value of the total assets of the trade or business being conducted by the person (or any related person). For purposes of this subparagraph only, the following rules shall apply:

(I) The determination of the relative fair market values of the acquired assets and the total assets shall be made as of the last day of the month following the quarterly period in which the person (or any related person) first uses any of the acquired trade or business assets in his or her business activity.

(II) Any acquired assets that constituted property described in Section 1221(1) of the Internal Revenue Code in the hands of the transferor shall not be treated as assets acquired from an existing trade or business, unless those assets also constitute property described in Section 1221(1) of the Internal Revenue Code in the hands of the acquiring person (or related person).

(ii) In any case where a person (or any related person) is engaged in one or more trade or business activities in this state, or has been engaged in one or more trade or business activities in this state within the preceding 36 months ("prior trade or business activity"), and thereafter commences an additional trade or business activity in this state, the additional trade or business activity shall only be treated as a new business if the additional trade or business activity is classified under a different division of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition, than are any of the person's (or any related person's) current or prior trade or business activities in this state.

(iii) In any case where a person, including all related persons, is engaged in trade or business activities wholly outside of this state and that person first commences doing business in this state (within the meaning of Section 23101) after December 31, 1993 (other than by purchase or other acquisition described in clause (i)), the trade or business activity shall be treated as a new business.

(iv) In any case where the legal form under which a trade or business activity is being conducted is changed, the change in form shall be disregarded and the determination of whether the trade or business activity is a new business shall be made by treating the person as having purchased or otherwise acquired all or any portion of the assets of an existing trade or business under the rules of clause (i).

(v) The term "related person" shall mean any person that is related to that person under either Section 267 or 318 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(vi) The term "acquire" shall include any gift, inheritance, transfer incident to divorce, or any other transfer, whether or not for consideration.

(B) That is engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(6) Notwithstanding paragraph (5), "qualified person" shall not include any person who has conducted business activities in a new trade or business for three or more years.

(7) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(8) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(9) "Tangible personal property" does not include any of the following:

(A) Consumables with a normal useful life of less than one year, except as provided in subparagraph (E) of paragraph (10).

(B) Furniture, inventory, equipment used in the extraction process, or equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(C) Any property for which a credit is claimed under either Section 17053.49 or 23649.

(10) "Tangible personal property" includes, but is not limited to, all of the following:

(A) Machinery and equipment, including component parts and contrivances such as belts, shafts, moving parts, and operating structures.

(B) All equipment or devices used or required to operate, control, regulate, or maintain the machinery, including, without limitation, computers, data processing equipment, and computer software, together with all repair and replacement parts with a useful life of one or more years therefor, whether purchased separately or in conjunction with a complete machine and regardless of whether the machine or component parts are assembled by the taxpayer or another party.

(C) Property used in pollution control that meets or exceed standards established by this state or any local or regional governmental agency within this state.

(D) Special purpose buildings and foundations used as an integral part of the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or that constitute a research or storage facility used during the manufacturing process. Buildings used solely for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process are not included.

(E) Fuels used or consumed in the manufacturing process.

(F) Property used in recycling.

(c) No exemption shall be allowed under this section unless the purchaser furnishes the retailer with an exemption certificate, completed in accordance with any instructions or regulations as the board may prescribe, and the retailer subsequently furnishes the board with a copy of the exemption certificate. The exemption certificate shall contain the sales price of the machinery or equipment that is exempt pursuant to subdivision (a).

(d) Notwithstanding any provision of the Bradley-Burns Uniform Local Sales and Use Tax Law (Part 1.5 (commencing with Section 7200)) or the Transactions and Use Tax Law (Part 1.6 (commencing with Section 7251)), the exemption established by this section shall not apply with respect to any tax levied by a county, city, or district pursuant to, or in accordance with, either of those laws.

(e) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), the exemption provided by this section shall not apply to any sale or use of property which, within one year from the date of purchase, is either removed from California or converted from an exempt use under subdivision (a) to some other use not qualifying for the exemption.

(2) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), on or after January 1, 1995, the exemption established by this section shall not apply with respect to any tax levied pursuant to Sections 6051.2 and 6201.2, or pursuant to Section 35 of Article XIII of the California Constitution.

(f) If a purchaser certifies in writing to the seller that the property purchased without payment of the tax will be used in a manner entitling the seller to regard the gross receipts from the sale as exempt from the sales tax, and within one year from the date of purchase, the purchaser (1) removes that property outside California, (2) converts that property for use in a manner not qualifying for the exemption, or (3) uses that property in a manner not qualifying for the exemption, the purchaser shall be liable for payment of sales tax, with applicable interest, as if the purchaser were a retailer making a retail sale of the property at the time the property is so removed, converted, or used, and the sales price of the property to the purchaser shall be deemed the gross receipts from that retail sale.

(g) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2), on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994. The department shall report annually to the Legislature with respect to the determination required by the preceding sentence.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 2. Section 17053.49 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053.49. (a) (1) A qualified taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the "net tax," as defined in Section 17039, equal to 6 percent of the qualified cost of qualified property that is placed in service in this state.

(2) In the case of any qualified costs paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the first taxable year of the qualified taxpayer beginning on or after January 1, 1995, the credit provided under paragraph (1) shall be claimed by the qualified taxpayer on the qualified taxpayer's return for the first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1995. No credit shall be claimed under this section on a return filed for any taxable year commencing prior to the qualified taxpayer's first taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

(b) (1) For purposes of this section, "qualified cost" means any cost that satisfies each of the following conditions:

(A) Except as otherwise provided in this subparagraph, is a cost paid or incurred by the qualified taxpayer for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the date this section ceases to be operative under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i). In the case of any qualified property constructed, reconstructed, or acquired by the qualified taxpayer (or any person related to the qualified taxpayer within the meaning of Section 267 or 707 of the Internal Revenue Code) pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, costs paid pursuant to that contract shall be subject to allocation as follows. Contract costs shall be allocated to qualified property based on a ratio of costs actually paid prior to January 1,

1994, and total contract costs actually paid. "Cost paid" shall include, without limitation, contractual deposits and option payments. To the extent of cost allocated, whether or not currently deductible or depreciable for tax purposes, to a period prior to January 1, 1994, the cost shall be deemed allocated to property acquired before January 1, 1994, and is thus not a "qualified cost."

(B) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) and subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (d), is an amount upon which the qualified taxpayer has paid, directly or indirectly as a separately stated contract amount or as determined from the records of the qualified taxpayer, sales or use tax under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(C) Is an amount properly chargeable to the capital account of the qualified taxpayer.

(2) (A) For purposes of this subdivision, any contract entered into on or after January 1, 1994, that is a successor or replacement contract to a contract that was binding prior to January 1, 1994, shall be treated as a binding contract in existence prior to January 1, 1994.

(B) If a successor or replacement contract is entered into on or after January 1, 1994, and the subject of the successor or replacement contract relates both to amounts for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property described in the original binding contract and to costs for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property not described in the original binding contract, then the portion of those amounts described in the successor or replacement contract that were not described in the original binding contract shall not be treated as costs paid or incurred pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1).

(3) (A) For purposes of this section, an option contract in existence prior to January 1, 1994, under which a qualified taxpayer (or any other person related to the qualified taxpayer within the meaning of Section 267 or 707 of the Internal Revenue Code) had an option to acquire qualified property, shall be treated as a binding contract under the rules in paragraph (2). For purposes of this subparagraph, an option contract shall not include an option under which the option holder will forfeit an amount less than 10 percent of the fixed option price in the event the option is not exercised.

(B) For purposes of this section, a contract shall be treated as binding even if the contract is subject to a condition.

(c) For purposes of this section, "qualified taxpayer" means any taxpayer or partnership engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(d) For purposes of this section, "qualified property" means property that is described as either of the following:

(1) Tangible personal property that is defined in Section 1245(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for use by a qualified taxpayer in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition, that is primarily used for any of the following:

(A) For the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point at which any raw materials are received by the qualified taxpayer and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered tangible personal property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(B) In research and development.

(C) To maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in this paragraph.

(D) For pollution control that meets or exceeds standards established by the state or by any local or regional governmental agency within the state.

(E) For recycling.

(2) The value of any capitalized labor costs that are directly allocable to the construction or modification of property described in paragraph (1).

(3) In the case of any qualified taxpayer engaged in manufacturing activities described in SIC Code 357 or 367 or those activities related to biotech described in SIC Code 8731 or those activities related to biopharmaceutical establishments only that are described in SIC Codes 2830 to 2836, inclusive, "qualified property" also includes the following:

(A) Special purpose buildings and foundations that are constructed or modified for use by the qualified taxpayer primarily in a manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or as a research or storage facility primarily used in connection with a manufacturing process.

(B) The value of any capitalized labor costs that are directly allocable to the construction or modification of special purpose buildings and foundations that are used primarily in the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or as a research or storage facility primarily used in connection with a manufacturing process.

(C) (i) For purposes of this paragraph, "special purpose building and foundation" means only a building and the foundation immediately underlying the building that is specifically designed and constructed or reconstructed for the installation, operation, and use of specific machinery and equipment with a special purpose, which machinery and equipment, after installation, will become affixed to or a fixture of the real property, and the construction or reconstruction of which is specifically designed and used exclusively for the specified purposes as set forth in subparagraph (A) ("qualified purpose").

(ii) A building is specifically designed and constructed or modified for a qualified purpose if it is not economic to design and construct the building for the intended purpose and then use the structure for a different purpose.

(iii) For purposes of clause (i) and clause (vi), a building is used exclusively for a qualified purpose only if its use does not include a use for which it was not specifically designed and constructed or modified. Incidental use of a building for nonqualified purposes does not preclude the building from being a special purpose building. "Incidental use" means a use which is both related and subordinate to the qualified purpose. It will be conclusively presumed that a use is not subordinate if more than one-third of the total usable volume of the building is devoted to a use which is not a qualified purpose.

(iv) In the event an entire building does not qualify as a special purpose building, a taxpayer may establish that a portion of a building, and the foundation immediately underlying the portion, qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building and foundation if the portion satisfies all of the definitional provisions in this subparagraph.

(v) To the extent that a building is not a special purpose building as defined above, but a portion of the building qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building, then all equipment which exclusively supports the qualified purpose occurring within that portion and which would qualify as Internal Revenue Code Section 1245 property if it were not a fixture or affixed to the building shall be treated as a cost of the portion of the building which qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building.

(vi) Buildings and foundations which do not meet the definition of a special purpose building and foundation set forth above include, but are not limited to: buildings designed and constructed or reconstructed principally to function as a general purpose manufacturing, industrial, or commercial building; research facilities that are used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, the manufacturing process; or storage facilities that are used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, completion of the manufacturing process. A research facility shall not be considered to be used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, the manufacturing process if its purpose and use relate exclusively to the development and regulatory approval of the manufacturing process for specific biopharmaceutical products. A research facility which is used primarily in connection with the discovery of an organism from which a biopharmaceutical product or process is developed does not meet the requirements of the preceding sentence.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, "biopharmaceutical activities" means those activities which use organisms or materials derived from organisms, and their cellular, subcellular, or molecular components, in order to provide pharmaceutical products for human or animal therapeutics and diagnostics. Biopharmaceutical activities make use of living organisms to make commercial products, as opposed to pharmaceutical activities which make use of chemical compounds to produce commercial products.

(4) Subject to the provisions in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), qualified property also includes computer software that is primarily used for those purposes set forth in paragraph (1) of this subdivision.

(5) Qualified property does not include any of the following:

(A) Furniture.

(B) Facilities used for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process.

(C) Inventory.

(D) Equipment used in the extraction process.

(E) Equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(F) Any tangible personal property that is used in administration, general management, or marketing.

(G) Any vehicle for which a credit is claimed pursuant to Section 17052.11 or 23603.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (d).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(6) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(7) "Small business" means a taxpayer that meets any of the following requirements during the taxable year for which the credit is allowed:

(A) Has gross receipts of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(B) Has net assets of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(C) Has a total credit of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(f) The credit allowed under subdivision (a) shall apply to qualified property that is acquired by or subject to lease by a qualified taxpayer, subject to the following special rules:

(1) A lessor of qualified property, irrespective of whether the lessor is a qualified taxpayer, shall not be allowed the credit provided under subdivision (a) with respect to any qualified property leased to another qualified taxpayer.

(2) For purposes of paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (b), "binding contract" shall include any lease agreement with respect to the qualified property.

(3) (A) For purposes of determining the qualified cost paid or incurred by a lessee in any leasing transaction that is not treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the following rules shall apply:

(i) Except as provided by subparagraph (C) of this paragraph, subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall not apply.

(ii) Except as provided in subparagraph (B) and clause (iii), the "qualified cost" upon which the lessee shall compute the credit provided under this section shall be equal to the original cost to the lessor (within the meaning of Section 18031) of the qualified property that is the subject of the lease.

(iii) Except as provided in clause (iv), the requirement of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be treated as satisfied only if the lessor has made a timely election under either Section 6094.1 or subdivision (d) of Section 6244 and has paid sales tax reimbursement or use tax measured by the purchase price of the qualified property (within the meaning of paragraph (5) of subdivision (g) of Section 6006). For purposes of this subdivision and clause (iv), the amount of original cost to the lessor which may be taken into account under clause (ii) shall not exceed the purchase price upon which sales tax reimbursement or use tax has been paid under the preceding sentence or under clause (iv).

(iv) With respect to leases entered into between January 1, 1994, and the effective date of this clause, the lessor may elect to pay use tax measured by the purchase price of the property by reporting and paying the tax with the return of the lessor for the fourth calendar quarter of 1994. In computing the use tax under the preceding sentence, a credit shall be allowed under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2 for all sales or use tax previously paid on the lease.

(B) For purposes of applying subparagraph (A) only, the following special rules shall apply:

(i) The original cost to the lessor of the qualified property shall be reduced by the amount of any original cost of that property that was taken into account by any predecessor lessee in computing the credit allowable under this section.

(ii) Clause (i) shall not apply in any case where the predecessor lessee was required to recapture the credit provided under this section pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (g).

(iii) For purposes of this section only, in any case where a successor lessor has acquired qualified property from a predecessor lessor in a transaction not treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the original cost to the successor lessor of the qualified property shall be reduced by the amount of the original cost of the qualified property that was taken into account by any lessee of the predecessor lessor in computing the credit allowable under this section.

(C) In determining the original cost of any qualified property under this paragraph, only amounts paid or incurred by the lessor on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the date this section ceases to be operative under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i), shall be taken into account. In the case of any qualified property constructed, reconstructed, or acquired by a lessor pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, the allocation rule specified in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall apply in determining the original cost to the lessor of qualified property.

(D) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), in the case of any leasing transaction for which the lessee is allowed the credit under this section and thereafter the lessee (or any party related to the lessee within the meaning of Section 267 or 318 of the Internal Revenue Code) acquires the qualified property from the lessor (or any successor lessor) within one year from the date the qualified property is first used by the lessee under the terms of the lease, the lessee's (or related party's) acquisition of the qualified property from the lessor (or successor lessor) shall be treated as a disposition by the lessee of the qualified property that was subject to the lease under subdivision (g).

(4) For purposes of determining the qualified cost paid or incurred by a lessee in any leasing transaction that is treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the following rules shall apply:

(A) Subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be applied by substituting the term "purchase" for the term "construction, reconstruction, or acquisition."

(B) Subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall apply.

(C) The requirement of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be treated as satisfied at the time that either the lessor or the qualified taxpayer pays sales or use tax under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2.

(5) (A) In the case of any leasing transaction described in paragraph (3), the lessor shall provide a statement to the lessee specifying the amount of the lessor's original cost of the qualified property and the amount of that cost upon which a sales or use tax was paid within 45 days after the close of the lessee's taxable year in which the credit is allowable to the lessee under this section.

(B) The statement required under subparagraph (A) shall be made available to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(g) No credit shall be allowed if the qualified property is removed from the state, is disposed of to an unrelated party, or is used for any purpose not qualifying for the credit provided in this section in the same taxable year in which the qualified property is first placed in service in this state. If any qualified property for which a credit is allowed pursuant to this section is thereafter removed from this state, disposed of to an unrelated party, or used for any purpose not qualifying for the credit provided in this section within one year from the date the qualified property is first placed in service in this state, the amount of the credit allowed by this section for that qualified property shall be recaptured by adding that credit amount to the net tax of the qualified taxpayer for the taxable year in which the qualified property is disposed of, removed, or put to an ineligible use.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "net tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "net tax" in the following year, and succeeding years as follows:

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), for the seven succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(2) In the case of a small business, for the nine succeeding years, if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(i) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2), on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (h), until the credit is exhausted.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994. The department shall report to the Legislature annually with respect to the determination required by the preceding sentence.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 3. Section 23649 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23649. (a) (1) A qualified taxpayer shall be allowed a credit against the "tax," as defined in Section 23036, equal to 6 percent of the qualified cost of qualified property that is placed in service in this state.

(2) In the case of any qualified costs paid or incurred on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the first income year of the qualified taxpayer beginning on or after January 1, 1995, the credit provided under paragraph (1) shall be claimed by the qualified taxpayer on the qualified taxpayer's return for the first income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995. No credit shall be claimed under this section on a return filed for any income year commencing prior to the qualified taxpayer's first income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995.

(b) (1) For purposes of this section, "qualified cost" means any cost that satisfies each of the following conditions:

(A) Except as otherwise provided in this subparagraph, is a cost paid or incurred by the qualified taxpayer for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the date this section ceases to be operative under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i). In the case of any qualified property constructed, reconstructed, or acquired by the qualified taxpayer (or any person related to the qualified taxpayer within the meaning of Section 267 or 707 of the Internal Revenue Code) pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, costs paid pursuant to that contract shall be subject to allocation as follows. Contract costs shall be allocated to qualified property based on a ratio of costs actually paid prior to January 1, 1994, and total contract costs actually paid. "Cost paid" shall include, without limitation, contractual deposits and option payments. To the extent of cost allocated, whether or not currently deductible or depreciable for tax purposes, to a period prior to January 1, 1994, the cost shall be deemed allocated to property acquired before January 1, 1994, and is thus not a "qualified cost."

(B) Except as provided in paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) and subparagraph (B) of paragraph (3) of subdivision (d), is an amount upon which the qualified taxpayer has paid, directly or indirectly as a separately stated contract amount or as determined from the records of the qualified taxpayer, sales or use tax under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.

(C) Is an amount properly chargeable to the capital account of the qualified taxpayer.

(2) (A) For purposes of this subdivision, any contract entered into on or after January 1, 1994, that is a successor or replacement contract to a contract that was binding prior to January 1, 1994, shall be treated as a binding contract in existence prior to January 1, 1994.

(B) If a successor or replacement contract is entered into on or after January 1, 1994, and the subject of the successor or replacement contract relates both to amounts for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property described in the original binding contract and to costs for the construction, reconstruction, or acquisition of qualified property not described in the original binding contract, then the portion of those amounts described in the successor or replacement contract that were not described in the original binding contract shall not be treated as costs paid or incurred pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, under subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1).

(3) (A) For purposes of this section, an option contract in existence prior to January 1, 1994, under which a qualified taxpayer (or any other person related to the qualified taxpayer within the meaning of Section 267 or 707 of the Internal Revenue Code) had an option to acquire qualified property, shall be treated as a binding contract under the rules in paragraph (2). For purposes of this subparagraph, an option contract shall not include an option under which the option holder will forfeit an amount less than 10 percent of the fixed option price in the event the option is not exercised.

(B) For purposes of this section, a contract shall be treated as binding even if the contract is subject to a condition.

(c) For purposes of this section, "qualified taxpayer" means any taxpayer engaged in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition.

(d) For purposes of this section, "qualified property" means property that is described as either of the following:

(1) Tangible personal property that is defined in Section 1245(a) of the Internal Revenue Code for use by a qualified taxpayer in those lines of business described in Codes 2000 to 3999, inclusive, of the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual published by the United States Office of Management and Budget, 1987 edition, that is primarily used for any of the following:

(A) For the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling of property, beginning at the point at which any raw materials are received by the qualified taxpayer and introduced into the process and ending at the point at which the manufacturing, processing, refining, fabricating, or recycling has altered tangible personal property to its completed form, including packaging, if required.

(B) In research and development.

(C) To maintain, repair, measure, or test any property described in this paragraph.

(D) For pollution control that meets or exceeds standards established by the state or by any local or regional governmental agency within the state.

(E) For recycling.

(2) The value of any capitalized labor costs that are directly allocable to the construction or modification of property described in paragraph (1).

(3) In the case of any qualified taxpayer engaged in manufacturing activities described in SIC Code 357 or 367 or those activities related to biotech described in SIC Code 8731 or those activities related to biopharmaceutical establishments only that are described in SIC Codes 2830 to 2836, inclusive, "qualified property" also includes the following:

(A) Special purpose buildings and foundations that are constructed or modified for use by the qualified taxpayer primarily in a manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or as a research or storage facility primarily used in connection with a manufacturing process.

(B) The value of any capitalized labor costs that are directly allocable to the construction or modification of special purpose buildings and foundations that are used primarily in the manufacturing, processing, refining, or fabricating process, or as a research or storage facility primarily used in connection with a manufacturing process.

(C) (i) For purposes of this paragraph, "special purpose building and foundation" means only a building and the foundation immediately underlying the building that is specifically designed and constructed or reconstructed for the installation, operation, and use of specific machinery and equipment with a special purpose, which machinery and equipment, after installation, will become affixed to or a fixture of the real property, and the construction or reconstruction of which is specifically designed and used exclusively for the specified purposes as set forth in subparagraph (A) ("qualified purpose").

(ii) A building is specifically designed and constructed or modified for a qualified purpose if it is not economic to design and construct the building for the intended purpose and then use the structure for a different purpose.

(iii) For purposes of clause (i) and clause (vi), a building is used exclusively for a qualified purpose only if its use does not include a use for which it was not specifically designed and constructed or modified. Incidental use of a building for nonqualified purposes does not preclude the building from being a special purpose building. "Incidental use" means a use which is both related and subordinate to the qualified purpose. It will be conclusively presumed that a use is not subordinate if more than one-third of the total usable volume of the building is devoted to a use which is not a qualified purpose.

(iv) In the event an entire building does not qualify as a special purpose building, a taxpayer may establish that a portion of a building, and the foundation immediately underlying the portion, qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building and foundation if the portion satisfies all of the definitional provisions in this subparagraph.

(v) To the extent that a building is not a special purpose building as defined above, but a portion of the building qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building, then all equipment which exclusively supports the qualified purpose occurring within that portion and which would qualify as Internal Revenue Code Section 1245 property if it were not a fixture or affixed to the building shall be treated as a cost of the portion of the building which qualifies for treatment as a special purpose building.

(vi) Buildings and foundations which do not meet the definition of a special purpose building and foundation set forth above include, but are not limited to: buildings designed and constructed or reconstructed principally to function as a general purpose manufacturing, industrial, or commercial building; research facilities that are used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, the manufacturing process; or storage facilities that are used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, completion of the manufacturing process. A research facility shall not be considered to be used primarily prior to or after, or prior to and after, the manufacturing process if its purpose and use relate exclusively to the development and regulatory approval of the manufacturing process for specific biopharmaceutical products. A research facility which is used primarily in connection with the discovery of an organism from which a biopharmaceutical product or process is developed does not meet the requirements of the preceding sentence.

(D) For purposes of this paragraph, "biopharmaceutical activities" means those activities which use organisms or materials derived from organisms, and their cellular, subcellular or molecular components, in order to provide pharmaceutical products for human or animal therapeutics and diagnostics. Biopharmaceutical activities make use of living organisms to make commercial products, as opposed to pharmaceutical activities which make use of chemical compounds to produce commercial products.

(4) Subject to the provisions in subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b), qualified property also includes computer software that is primarily used for those purposes set forth in paragraph (1) of this subdivision.

(5) Qualified property does not include any of the following:

(A) Furniture.

(B) Facilities used for warehousing purposes after completion of the manufacturing process.

(C) Inventory.

(D) Equipment used in the extraction process.

(E) Equipment used to store finished products that have completed the manufacturing process.

(F) Any tangible personal property that is used in administration, general management, or marketing.

(G) Any vehicle for which a credit is claimed pursuant to Section 17052.11 or 23603.

(e) For purposes of this section:

(1) "Fabricating" means to make, build, create, produce, or assemble components or property to work in a new or different manner.

(2) "Manufacturing" means the activity of converting or conditioning property by changing the form, composition, quality, or character of the property for ultimate sale at retail or use in the manufacturing of a product to be ultimately sold at retail. Manufacturing includes any improvements to tangible personal property that result in a greater service life or greater functionality than that of the original property.

(3) "Primarily" means tangible personal property used 50 percent or more of the time in an activity described in subdivision (d).

(4) "Processing" means the physical application of the materials and labor necessary to modify or change the characteristics of property.

(5) "Refining" means the process of converting a natural resource to an intermediate or finished product.

(6) "Research and development" means those activities that are described in Section 174 of the Internal Revenue Code or in any regulations thereunder.

(7) "Small business" means a taxpayer that meets any of the following requirements during the income year for which the credit is allowed:

(A) Has gross receipts of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(B) Has net assets of less than fifty million dollars ($50,000,000).

(C) Has a total credit of less than one million dollars ($1,000,000).

(f) The credit allowed under subdivision (a) shall apply to qualified property that is acquired by or subject to lease by a qualified taxpayer, subject to the following special rules:

(1) A lessor of qualified property, irrespective of whether the lessor is a qualified taxpayer, shall not be allowed the credit provided under subdivision (a) with respect to any qualified property leased to another qualified taxpayer.

(2) For purposes of paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (b), "binding contract" shall include any lease agreement with respect to the qualified property.

(3) (A) For purposes of determining the qualified cost paid or incurred by a lessee in any leasing transaction that is not treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the following rules shall apply:

(i) Except as provided by subparagraph (C) of this paragraph, subparagraphs (A) and (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall not apply.

(ii) Except as provided in subparagraph (B) and clause (iii), the "qualified cost" upon which the lessee shall compute the credit provided under this section shall be equal to the original cost to the lessor (within the meaning of Section 24912) of the qualified property that is the subject of the lease.

(iii) Except as provided in clause (iv), the requirement of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be treated as satisfied only if the lessor has made a timely election under either Section 6094.1 or subdivision (d) of Section 6244 and has paid sales tax reimbursement or use tax measured by the purchase price of the qualified property (within the meaning of paragraph (5) of subdivision (g) of Section 6006). For purposes of this subdivision and clause (iv), the amount of original cost to the lessor which may be taken into account under clause (ii) shall not exceed the purchase price upon which sales tax reimbursement or use tax has been paid under the preceding sentence or under clause (iv).

(iv) With respect to leases entered into between January 1, 1994, and the effective date of this clause, the lessor may elect to pay use tax measured by the purchase price of the property by reporting and paying the tax with the return of the lessor for the fourth calendar quarter of 1994. In computing the use tax under the preceding sentence, a credit shall be allowed under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2 for all sales or use tax previously paid on the lease.

(B) For purposes of applying subparagraph (A) only, the following special rules shall apply:

(i) The original cost to the lessor of the qualified property shall be reduced by the amount of any original cost of that property that was taken into account by any predecessor lessee in computing the credit allowable under this section.

(ii) Clause (i) shall not apply in any case where the predecessor lessee was required to recapture the credit provided under this section pursuant to the provisions of subdivision (g).

(iii) For purposes of this section only, in any case where a successor lessor has acquired qualified property from a predecessor lessor in a transaction not treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the original cost to the successor lessor of the qualified property shall be reduced by the amount of the original cost of the qualified property that was taken into account by any lessee of the predecessor lessor in computing the credit allowable under this section.

(C) In determining the original cost of any qualified property under this paragraph, only amounts paid or incurred by the lessor on or after January 1, 1994, and prior to the date this section ceases to be operative under paragraph (2) of subdivision (i), shall be taken into account. In the case of any qualified property constructed, reconstructed, or acquired by a lessor pursuant to a binding contract in existence on or prior to January 1, 1994, the allocation rule specified in subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall apply in determining the original cost to the lessor of qualified property.

(D) Notwithstanding subparagraph (A), in the case of any leasing transaction for which the lessee is allowed the credit under this section and thereafter the lessee (or any party related to the lessee within the meaning of Section 267 or 318 of the Internal Revenue Code) acquires the qualified property from the lessor (or any successor lessor) within one year from the date the qualified property is first used by the lessee under the terms of the lease, the lessee's (or related party's) acquisition of the qualified property from the lessor (or successor lessor) shall be treated as a disposition by the lessee of the qualified property that was subject to the lease under subdivision (g).

(4) For purposes of determining the qualified cost paid or incurred by a lessee in any leasing transaction that is treated as a sale under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2, the following rules shall apply:

(A) Subparagraph (A) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be applied by substituting the term "purchase" for the term "construction, reconstruction, or acquisition."

(B) Subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall apply.

(C) The requirement of subparagraph (B) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) shall be treated as satisfied at the time that either the lessor or the qualified taxpayer pays sales or use tax under Part 1 (commencing with Section 6001) of Division 2.

(5) (A) In the case of any leasing transaction described in paragraph (3), the lessor shall provide a statement to the lessee specifying the amount of the lessor's original cost of the qualified property and the amount of that cost upon which a sales or use tax was paid within 45 days after the close of the lessee's taxable year in which the credit is allowable to the lessee under this section.

(B) The statement required under subparagraph (A) shall be made available to the Franchise Tax Board upon request.

(g) No credit shall be allowed if the qualified property is removed from the state, is disposed of to an unrelated party, or is used for any purpose not qualifying for the credit provided in this section in the same taxable year in which the qualified property is first placed in service in this state. If any qualified property for which a credit is allowed pursuant to this section is thereafter removed from this state, disposed of to an unrelated party, or used for any purpose not qualifying for the credit provided in this section within one year from the date the qualified property is first placed in service in this state, the amount of the credit allowed by this section for that qualified property shall be recaptured by adding that credit amount to the net tax of the qualified taxpayer for the taxable year in which the qualified property is disposed of, removed, or put to an ineligible use.

(h) In the case where the credit allowed by this section exceeds the "tax," the excess may be carried over to reduce the "tax" in the following year, and succeeding years as follows:

(1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), for the seven succeeding years if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(2) In the case of a small business, for the nine succeeding years, if necessary, until the credit is exhausted.

(i) (1) This section shall remain in effect until the date specified in paragraph (2) on which date this section shall cease to be operative, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (h), until the credit is exhausted.

(2) (A) This section shall cease to be operative on January 1, 2001, or on January 1 of the earliest year thereafter, if the total employment in this state, as determined by the Employment Development Department on the preceding January 1, does not exceed by 100,000 jobs the total employment in this state on January 1, 1994. The department shall report to the Legislature annually with respect to the determination required by the preceding sentence.

(B) For purposes of this paragraph, "total employment" means the total employment in the manufacturing sector, excluding employment in the aerospace sector.

SEC. 4. Notwithstanding Section 2230 of the Revenue and Taxation Code, no appropriation is made by this act and the state shall not reimburse any local agency for sales and use tax revenues lost by that agency under this act.

SEC. 5. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. However, Section 1 of this act shall become operative on the first day of the first calendar quarter commencing more than 45 days after the effective date of this act.

CHAPTER 752

An act to amend Section 743.1 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds that competitive rates for utility electrical service are an essential element in the state's effort to attract and retain business enterprises. It further finds that the currently effective rates offered by the investor-owned utilities for firm service to these heavy industrial customers are not competitive with rates for similar services offered in other states.

(b) The Legislature further finds that the currently effective pricing incentives provided by the investor-owned electrical utilities for interruptible or curtailable electrical service are necessary to keep electrical rates for service to heavy industrial customers near competitive levels, and it further finds that in order to obtain a competitive rate, these customers have to be willing to curtail or interrupt their operations, or both, upon notice from the utility.

(c) The Legislature therefore declares that in order to maintain and improve the competitiveness of California electrical rates, and to enhance the attractiveness of the state as a site for continuing and new industrial enterprises, the firm electrical service rates of the investor-owned utilities should be brought down to the level of current rates for interruptible or curtailable service.

SEC. 2. Section 743.1 of the Public Utilities Code is amended to read:

743.1. (a) Electrical corporations shall make available to qualifying heavy industrial customers optional interruptible or curtailable service. The effective rate for interruptible or curtailable service to qualifying customers shall reflect a pricing incentive for electing to operate under the interruptible or curtailable service option. In no event shall the level of the pricing incentive for interruptible or curtailable service be altered from those levels in effect on January 30, 1993.

(b) The commission shall direct each public utility electrical corporation to renew its efforts to reduce the rates charged heavy industrial customers to a level competitive with other states, and to do so without shifting recovery of costs to other customer classes. In order to permit evaluation of its efforts, each electrical corporation shall report to the commission no later than June 30, 1995, on those measures or practices it has identified that would permit it to reduce its firm service rates for heavy industrial customers to the level of its interruptible or curtailable service rates provided to those customers as of January 30, 1993. Additionally, the report shall reflect the potential for implementing the measures and practices and the import of the reductions on California's overall economy, with particular emphasis on the expansion and retention of employment within the manufacturing sector.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that these efforts to reduce rates will result in a reduction of each electrical corporation's firm service rates for heavy industrial customers to the level of its rates for interruptible or curtailable service provided to those customers in effect as of January 30, 1993. In the event that an electrical corporation's rates for firm service are not reduced to that level before January 1, 1996, the pricing incentives for interruptible or curtailable service shall not be altered from the level established under subdivision (a) prior to January 1, 1999. Any extension of these pricing incentives beyond January 1, 1996, shall not involve any shifting of recovery of costs to other customer classes.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 3. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 753

An act to add Part 10.2 (commencing with Section 15710) to Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to economic development, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Part 10.2 (commencing with Section 15710) is added to Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

PART 10.2. CALIFORNIA ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT FINANCING AUTHORITY

15710. The Legislature finds and declares that:

(a) In order to secure and enhance the economic well-being of Californians, promote economic development in the state, and provide a healthy climate for the creation of jobs, it is necessary for public policy to support the efforts of expanding businesses, businesses seeking to locate in California, local development organizations, public bodies, and new entrepreneurs to gain access to capital through current and potential operations of financial markets.

(b) The high cost and the lack of availability of industrial loans for small and medium size businesses is making it difficult for thousands of these enterprises to get established, to maintain their present employment levels, or to expand employment.

(c) The shortage of loan funds, as well as the underdeveloped nature of some financial markets, has led a number of states to take action to remedy these conditions to the extent possible. Actions of these states have included efforts to:

(1) Use the state's access to capital markets more effectively for economic development.

(2) Pool the financing needs of businesses, economic development organizations, and others that are too small to access national capital markets or obtain credit enhancement on their own.

(3) Facilitate credit enhancement for selected specific projects.

(4) Provide or arrange for loan insurance.

(5) Create and support secondary markets for loan portfolios of urban and rural economic development corporations and others.

(6) Improve access to international capital markets.

(7) Provide opportunities for public pension funds and other institutional investors to play a larger role in state economic development.

(8) Provide advisory services and technical assistance to help small businesses structure cash-flows and arrange covenants.

(9) Arrange for or provide subordinated debt for selected projects.

(10) Support the revolving loan funds of urban and rural economic and community development corporations.

(11) Increase support for local infrastructure development.

(d) The advantages of these activities to the general public in California would include an increase in the gainful employment of residents, a decrease in welfare and unemployment compensation costs, an increase in the tax base, and an increase in the establishment and renovation of business and community physical facilities.

15711. For the purposes of this part, the following words and terms shall have the following meanings unless the context clearly indicates another or different meaning or intent:

(a) "Agency" means the Trade and Commerce Agency and "authority" means the California Economic Development Financing Authority. For purposes of the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4), the authority shall be deemed to be the committee.

(b) "Board" means the Board of Directors of the California Economic Development Financing Authority.

15712. (a) There is hereby established in the Trade and Commerce Agency the California Economic Development Financing Authority. The authority is a body public and corporate.

The authority constitutes, as a component of the agency, a public instrumentality and the exercise by the authority of the powers conferred by this part is the performance of an essential public function.

(b) The authority is placed in the executive office of the Secretary of the Trade and Commerce Agency but shall not be subject to the supervision or control of that office or of any board, bureau, department, or other agency of the state except as specifically provided in this part.

(h) This part shall be administered by the authority which shall have, and is hereby vested with, all powers reasonably necessary to carry out its duties and responsibilities.

(i) The authority may employ any other persons necessary to perform the duties imposed by this part.

15713. (a) The board shall appoint an executive director, upon recommendation of the chair, to carry out its policies. The executive director shall serve at the pleasure of the authority and shall manage the staff of the authority.

Upon the termination of the existence of the authority, all right, title and interest in and to all of its assets and all of its obligations, duties, covenants, and agreements shall vest in and shall be possessed, performed, and assumed by the state.

(f) Any documentary materials or data whatsoever made or received by any member or employee of the authority and consisting of trade secrets or commercial or financial information regarding the operation of any business conducted by an applicant for any form of assistance that the authority is empowered to render, or regarding the competitive position of an applicant in a particular field of endeavor, shall not be deemed public records of the authority. Any discussion of trade secrets or commercial or financial information may be held by the board in executive sessions closed to the public. The purpose of any executive session shall be set forth in the official minutes of the authority and no business which is not directly related to that purpose shall be transacted nor shall any vote be taken during the executive session.

15714. The purpose of the authority is to promote and encourage commerce and industry, and generally to foster economic development in the state. In furtherance of this purpose, the authority may do all of the following:

(a) Adopt and amend bylaws for the regulation of its affairs and the conduct of its business.

(b) Adopt an official seal.

(l) To invest any funds held in reserves or sinking funds, or any funds not required for immediate disbursement, in such investments as may be provided in any financing document relating to the use of those funds, or, if not so provided, as the board may determine.

(m) To apply for and accept subventions, grants, loans, advances, and contributions from any source of money, property, labor, or other things of value. The sources may include bond proceeds, dedicated taxes, state appropriations, federal appropriations, federal grant and loan funds, public and private sector retirement system funds, and proceeds of loans from the Pooled Money Investment Account. The authority may request, and the Pooled Money Investment Board may make, loans to the authority from the Pooled Money Investment Account in accordance with Section 16314.

(n) To provide and pay for such advisory services and technical assistance as may be necessary or desired to carry out the purposes of this part, including contracting with nonprofit economic development or community development corporations to market and develop local projects.

(o) To establish and collect any fees and charges as the authority shall determine to be reasonable, and to receive and apply revenues from fees and charges to the purposes of the agency. The authority may enter into fee-sharing agreements with nonprofit economic development corporations.

(p) To do all things necessary and convenient to carry out its purposes and exercise its powers, provided, however, that nothing herein shall be construed to authorize the authority to engage directly in the business of a manufacturing, industrial, real estate development, or nongovernmental service enterprise. Further, the authority shall not be organized to accept deposits of money for time or demand deposits or to constitute a bank or trust company.

15715. In order to provide or arrange for the financing of economic development projects, the authority may:

(a) Issue taxable revenue bonds to provide financing for economic development projects compatible with the public interest as specified in Section 15720.

Notwithstanding Section 13340, funds collected pursuant to this part are continuously appropriated to the authority for the purposes specified in this chapter, except for funds utilized for the purpose of general administration of the authority. Moneys in the fund shall be available for the purpose of general administration of the authority only upon appropriation by the Legislature, in which no more than 5 percent of any general obligation bond revenues administered by the authority may be expended for costs related to general administration. However, the board may expend continuously appropriated moneys to cover costs that are directly related to servicing and administration of approved debt.

(b) The authority may accept funds from any source, including, but not limited to, bond proceeds, dedicated taxes, state appropriations, the proceeds of loans from the Pooled Money Investment Account, public and private sector retirement system funds, federal appropriations, federal grants or loan funds, and proceeds from investments. The authority shall make a reasonable effort to identify and obtain funds from any source in order to minimize the demand for funds from bond proceeds. (c) All expenses incurred in carrying out the purposes of this part shall be payable solely from funds provided pursuant to this part, and no liability or obligation shall be imposed upon the state and none shall be incurred by the authority beyond the extent to which money shall have been provided pursuant to this division.

(d) The Bond Guarantee Trust Account is hereby established within the fund and shall consist of funds approved by voters in general obligation bond acts that shall be used to guarantee bonds issued for general or specific purposes. (1) General obligation bonds have been authorized for issuance by the bond finance committee.

(b) With regard to funds from general obligation bonds, the board may authorize expenditures upon review and approval by the Legislature. At the end of each fiscal year, the board shall submit a detailed report of these expenditures to the Legislature. The Legislature, by statute, may suspend further expenditure of these funds by the board if the Legislature deems that the public purposes of the disbursals are not being appropriately met.

(c) The authority may administer and distribute among its accounts and subaccounts, the revenues from any general obligation bonds issued in accordance with the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 16720) of Part 3 of Division 4).

15724. Every issue of bonds shall be obligations of the authority payable only out of moneys in the fund, subject only to any agreements with the holders of particular bonds pledging any particular assets, revenues, or moneys.

15725. Any bonds issued under this chapter may be secured by a trust agreement, indenture, or resolution by and between the authority and trustee, which shall be a bank or trust company chartered under the laws of this state or of the United States.

15726. The bonds shall be authorized by resolution or resolutions of the authority, shall be in the form, shall bear such date or dates, and shall mature at the time or times as the resolution or resolutions may provide, except that no bond shall mature more than 50 years from the date of its issue. The bonds shall bear interest at the rate or rates, be in the denominations, be in the form, executed in the manner, be payable in the medium of payment at the place or places within or without the state, be subject to the terms of redemption and contain the terms and conditions as the resolution or resolutions may provide. The bonds of the authority shall be sold at public or private sale by the Treasurer at, above, or below the par value, on the terms and conditions and for the consideration as the authority shall determine by resolution prior to the sale.

15727. Whenever the authority deems that it will increase the salability or the price of the bonds to obtain, prior to or after sale, a legal opinion, other than that of the Attorney General, as to the validity or tax-exempt nature of the bonds, the authority may authorize the Treasurer to obtain a legal opinion. Payment for legal services shall be made out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

15728. The authority may employ financial consultants, advisers, and accountants as may be necessary in its judgment in connection with the issuance and sale of any bonds of the authority. Payment for these services may be made out of the proceeds of the sale of the bonds.

15729. Section 10295 and Sections 10335 to 10382, inclusive, of the Public Contract Code shall not apply to agreements entered into by the authority or the Treasurer in connection with the sale of bonds or notes authorized under this part.

15730. Bonds issued pursuant to this chapter are a legal investment for any state special or trust fund notwithstanding any provision of law limiting the investments which may be made by the special or trust fund. The bonds of the authority shall be legal investments in which all public officers and public bodies of the state, its political subdivisions, all municipalities and municipal subdivisions, all insurance companies and associations and other persons carrying on an insurance business, all banks, savings and loan associations, savings banks and savings associations, investment companies, all administrators, guardians, executors, trustees and other fiduciaries, and all other persons authorized to invest in bonds or in other obligations of the state, may properly and legally invest funds, including capital, in their control or belonging to them. The bonds may be used as security for public deposits. The bonds are also securities which may properly and legally be deposited with and received by all public officers and bodies of the state or any agency or political subdivision of the state and all municipalities and public corporations for any purpose for which the deposit of bonds or other obligations of the state is authorized by law, including deposits to secured public funds.

15731. Revenue bonds issued under the provisions of this part shall not be deemed to constitute a debt or liability of the state or of any political subdivision thereof, other than the authority, or a pledge of the faith and credit of the state or of any political subdivision but shall be payable solely from the funds and the assets of the authority, the revenues received by the authority and the contracts and agreements concerning the repayment of loans. All the revenue bonds shall contain on their face a statement to the effect that neither the State of California nor the authority shall be obligated to pay the principal, or the interest on the revenue bonds, except from the revenues received by the authority and those portions of the revenue bond fund and the assets of the authority as shall be provided by the documents governing the revenue bond issuance, and that neither the faith and credit nor the taxing power of the State of California or of any of its political subdivisions is pledged to the payment of the principal or interest on the revenue bonds. The issuance of revenue bonds under this part shall not directly or indirectly or contingently obligate the state or any of its political subdivisions to levy or to pledge any form of taxation whatever or to make any appropriation for their payment.

15732. No liability shall be incurred by the authority beyond the extent to which moneys have been provided under this part, except that for the purpose of meeting the necessary expenses of initial organization and operation until the date as the authority derives revenues or proceeds from bonds or notes as provided under this part, the authority may borrow money as needed for expenses from any funds available to the authority, including the General Fund in the State Treasury. The borrowed moneys shall be repaid with interest within a reasonable time after the authority receives revenues or proceeds from bonds or notes as provided under this part.

CHAPTER 754

An act to amend Section 7073 of, and to add Section 7073.7 to, the Government Code, relating to economic development.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 7073 of the Government Code is amended to read:

7073. (a) The governing body of any city or county may, either by ordinance or resolution, propose an eligible area plus one commercial or industrial area or both within its respective jurisdiction as the geographic area for an enterprise zone. A county may propose an area within the unincorporated area as the geographic area for an enterprise zone, but shall not propose an area within an incorporated area. This proposed geographic area shall be based upon findings by the governing body that the area is a depressed area and that the designation as an enterprise zone is necessary in order to assist in attracting private sector investment in the area. The city or county shall establish definitive boundaries for the area to be included in the application for designation and, if designated by the agency, the designation shall be binding for a period of 15 years.

(b) Following the application for designation of an enterprise zone by a city or county, the governing body shall apply to the agency for designation. The agency shall adopt regulations and guidelines concerning the necessary contents of each application for designation.

(c) Any city, county, or city and county with an eligible area within its jurisdiction may complete a preliminary application. A maximum of 20 applications may be chosen each year to complete a final application.

(d) (1) From the applications received, the agency may designate not more than 27 enterprise zones within the state, one of which may be designated an airport enterprise zone and not more than three of which may be designated high technology enterprise zones.

(2) In the case of any existing enterprise zone or area established pursuant to Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080), or any new enterprise zone or area established pursuant to Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080) designated on or after the effective date of the act adding this paragraph, a city or county may propose that the enterprise zone or area established pursuant to Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080) within the incorporated area be expanded by 15 percent to include definitive boundaries that are contiguous to the enterprise zone or area established pursuant to Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080). The agency may approve that expansion for enterprise zones based upon the criterion specified in subdivision (g), and for expansion of areas established pursuant to Chapter 12.9 (commencing with Section 7080), the criterion specified in Section 7082.

(3) Notwithstanding any other provision to the contrary, the two additional enterprise zones authorized by the act adding this paragraph shall be designated by the agency pursuant to Section 7073.7. For the purposes of applying any provision of the Revenue and Taxation Code, the two additional enterprise zones designated pursuant to Section 7073.7 shall be deemed designated by this section.

(e) The agency shall review the progress and effectiveness of each enterprise zone within five years of the date of designation, or by December 31, 1999, for zones designated prior to January 1, 1994, and every five years thereafter, and report the findings to the Legislature.

(f) In designating enterprise zones, the agency shall select from the applications submitted those proposed enterprise zones which, based on those applications, meet, to the extent possible, the following criterion:

Those proposed enterprise zones which, upon a comparison of all of the applications submitted, indicate that they propose the most effective, innovative, and comprehensive regulatory, tax, program, and other incentives in attracting private sector investment in the zone proposed.

For purposes of this subdivision, regulatory incentives include, but are not limited to, all of the following: the suspension or relaxation of locally originated or modified building codes, zoning laws, general development plans, or rent controls; the elimination or reduction of fees for applications, permits, and local government services; and the establishment of a streamlined permit process.

Tax incentives include, but are not limited to, the elimination or reduction of construction taxes or business license taxes.

Program and other incentives may include, but are not limited to, all of the following: the provision or expansion of infrastructure; the targeting of federal block grant moneys, including small cities, education, and health and welfare block grants; the targeting of economic development grants and loan moneys, including grant and loan moneys provided by the federal Urban Development Action Grant program and the federal Economic Development Administration; the targeting of state and federal job disadvantaged and vocational education grant moneys, including moneys provided by the federal Job Partnership Training Act of 1982; the targeting of federal or state transportation grant moneys; and the targeting of federal or state low-income housing and rental assistance moneys.

In the process of designating new zones, the agency shall take into consideration the location of existing zones and make every effort to locate new zones in a manner that will not adversely affect any existing zones.

(g) In evaluating applications for designation, the agency shall ensure that applications are not disqualified solely because of technical deficiencies and shall provide applicants with an opportunity to correct the deficiencies. Applications shall be disqualified if the deficiencies are not corrected within two weeks.

(h) For purposes of this section, "high technology enterprise zone" means an enterprise zone which is intended to attract private sector investment in high technology industries and is proposed to be located in an area which would permit the association of those industries with an urban university or college.

(i) The applications and selection criteria for designation adopted pursuant to Section 7076 prior to the effective date of the act adding this subdivision shall apply to this section, as amended by the act adding this subdivision.

(j) Section 7076 shall not apply to the extent it conflicts with the provisions of the act adding this subdivision.

(k) For purposes of this section, "airport enterprise zone" means an enterprise zone intended to attract private sector investment in aviation-dependent industries, commercial aviation, and other commercial and industrial activity and which includes a rural airport located within unincorporated territory.

SEC. 2. Section 7073.7 is added to the Government Code, to read:

7073.7. The agency shall designate two enterprise zones each of which shall meet at least two of the following three criteria:

(a) The unemployment rate in the area has been twice the state average for each of the preceding five years.

(b) The median household income for the area is less than 90 percent of the median household income for the county in which the area is located.

(c) The designated area has grown at least 8 percent in population per year for each of the preceding two years but has not had a corresponding percentage growth in area employment.

(d) For purposes of this section: "qualified employee" means an individual—

(1) At least 90 percent of whose services for the taxpayer during the taxable year are directly related to the conduct of the taxpayer's trade or business located in an enterprise zone, and

(2) Who performs at least 50 percent of his or her services for the taxpayer during the taxable year in an enterprise zone.

(e) The taxpayer shall do both of the following:

(1) Obtain from either the Employment Development Department or the local county or city Job Training Partnership Act administrative entity or the local county GAIN office or social services agency, as appropriate, a certification which provides that a qualified individual meets the eligibility requirements specified in subparagraph (C) of paragraph (1) of subdivision (c).

(2) Retain a copy of the certification and provide it upon request to the Franchise Tax Board.

(f) (1) For purposes of this section:

(A) All employees of trades or businesses (which are not incorporated) which are under common control shall be treated as employed by a single employer, and

(B) The credit (if any) allowable by this section with respect to each trade or business shall be determined by reference to its proportionate share of the qualified wages giving rise to the credit.

The regulations prescribed under this paragraph shall be based on principles similar to the principles which apply in the case of controlled groups of corporations as specified in subdivision (f) of Section 23622.

(2) If an employer acquires the major portion of a trade or business of another employer (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as the "predecessor") or the major portion of a separate unit of a trade or business of a predecessor, then, for purposes of applying this section (other than subdivision (g)) for any calendar year ending after that acquisition, the employment relationship between an employee and an employer shall not be treated as terminated if the employee continues to be employed in that trade or business.

(g) (1) If the employment of any employee, with respect to whom qualified wages are taken into account under subdivision (a) is terminated by the taxpayer at any time during the first 270 days of that employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day in which that employee completes 90 days of employment with the taxpayer, the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year in which that employment is terminated shall be increased by an amount (determined under those regulations) equal to the credit allowed under subdivision (a) for that taxable year and all prior taxable years attributable to qualified wages paid or incurred with respect to that employee.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any of the following:

(i) A termination of employment of an employee who voluntarily leaves the employment of the taxpayer.

(ii) A termination of employment of an individual who, before the close of the period referred to in paragraph (1), becomes disabled and unable to perform the services of that employment, unless that disability is removed before the close of that period and the taxpayer fails to offer reemployment to that individual.

(iii) A termination of employment of an individual, if it is determined under the applicable employment compensation provisions that the termination was due to the misconduct of that individual.

(iv) A termination of employment of an individual due to a substantial reduction in the trade or business operations of the taxpayer.

(v) A termination of employment of an individual, if that individual is replaced by other qualified employees so as to create a net increase in both the number of employees and the hours of employment.

(B) For purposes of paragraph (1), the employment relationship between the taxpayer and an employee shall not be treated as terminated by reason of a mere change in the form of conducting the trade or business of the taxpayer, if the employee continues to be employed in that trade or business and the taxpayer retains a substantial interest in that trade or business.

(3) Any increase in tax under paragraph (1) shall not be treated as tax imposed by this part for purposes of determining the amount of any credit allowable under this part.

(h) In the case of an estate or trust—

(1) The qualified wages for any taxable year shall be apportioned between the estate or trust and the beneficiaries on the basis of the income of the estate or trust allocable to each, and

(i) For purposes of this section, "enterprise zone" means an area for which designation as an enterprise zone is in effect under Section 7073 of the Government Code.

(j) The credit shall be reduced by the credit allowed under Section 17053.7. The credit shall also be reduced by the federal credit allowed under Section 51 of the Internal Revenue Code.

In addition, any deduction otherwise allowed under this part for the wages or salaries paid or incurred by the taxpayer upon which the credit is based shall be reduced by the amount of the credit.

(k) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the net tax for the taxable year, that portion of the credit which exceeds the net tax may be carried over to the net tax in succeeding taxable years for the number of taxable years in which the designation of an enterprise zone under Section 7073 of the Government Code is operative, or 15 taxable years, if longer, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(l) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any taxable year shall not exceed the amount of tax which would be imposed on the income attributed to business activities of the taxpayer within the enterprise zone (as defined in Section 7073 of the Government Code) as if that attributed income represented all of the income of the taxpayer subject to tax under this part. The amount of that attributed income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11, modified for purposes of this section as follows:

(1) For taxable years beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and ending on or before December 31, 1996, income shall be apportioned to the enterprise zone by multiplying total income from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is two.

(2) "The enterprise zone" shall be substituted for "this state."

SEC. 2. Section 17053.8 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17053.8. (a) There shall be allowed as credit against the "net tax" (as defined in Section 17039) for the taxable year an amount equal to the sum of each of the following:

(2) Forty percent for qualified wages in the second year of employment.

(3) Thirty percent for qualified wages in the third year of employment.

(4) Twenty percent for qualified wages in the fourth year of employment.

(A) All employees of trades or businesses that are not incorporated and are under common control shall be treated as employed by a single employer, and

(B) The credit (if any) allowable by this section with respect to each trade or business shall be determined by reference to its proportionate share of the qualified wages giving rise to the credit. The regulations prescribed under this paragraph shall be based on principles similar to the principles which apply in the case of controlled groups of corporations as specified in subdivision (d) of Section 23622.

(2) If an employer acquires the major portion of a trade or business of another employer (hereinafter in this paragraph referred to as the "predecessor") or the major portion of a separate unit of a trade or business of a predecessor, then, for purposes of applying this section (other than subdivision (e)) for any calendar year ending after that acquisition, the employment relationship between an employee and an employer shall not be treated as terminated if the employee continues to be employed in that trade or business.

(e) (1) If the employment of any employee, with respect to whom qualified wages are taken into account under subdivision (a) is terminated by the taxpayer at any time during the first 270 days of that employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day in which that employee completes 90 days of employment with the taxpayer, the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year in which that employment is terminated shall be increased by an amount (determined under those regulations) equal to the credit allowed under subdivision (a) for that taxable year and all prior taxable years attributable to qualified wages paid or incurred with respect to that employee.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any of the following:

(i) A termination of employment of an employee who voluntarily leaves the employment of the taxpayer.

In addition, any deduction otherwise allowed under this part for the wages or salaries paid or incurred by the taxpayer upon which the credit is based shall be reduced by the amount of the credit.

The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(j) The amount of the credit allowed by this section in any taxable year shall not exceed the amount of tax which would be imposed on the income attributed to business activities of the taxpayer within the enterprise zone (as defined in Section 7073 of the Government Code) as if that attributed income represented all of the income of the taxpayer subject to tax under this part. The amount of that attributed income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11, modified for purposes of this section as follows:

(2) "The enterprise zone" shall be substituted for "this state."

(k) (1) Any taxpayer claiming a credit pursuant to this section shall provide, in a form and manner specified by the Franchise Tax Board, the average number of full-time (defined as 35 hours or more per week), part-time, and seasonal employees employed by the taxpayer within an enterprise zone during the base year and during

In addition, any deduction otherwise allowed under this part for the wages or salaries paid or incurred by the taxpayer upon which the credit is based shall be reduced by the amount of the credit.

(2) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (f) for the taxable year, that portion of the credit that exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (f) may be carried over and added to this credit in succeeding taxable years for the number of taxable years in which the designation of a zone under Section 7102 of the Government Code is operative, or 15 taxable years, if longer, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(e) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to increase the basis of the property as otherwise required by Section 164(a) of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to the sales and use tax paid or incurred in connection with the purchase of qualified property.

In the event that a credit carryover is allowable under subdivision (d) for any taxable year after the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designation has expired, the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation. The amount of that attributable income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (g).

(g) Attributable income shall be that portion of the taxpayer's California source business income which is apportioned to the zone. (3) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the taxable year for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the taxable year.

The credit shall be applied first to the earliest taxable years possible.

(g) The amount of the credit allowed by this section, including any credit carryover from prior years, in any taxable year shall not exceed the amount of tax that would be imposed on the income attributable to business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (as defined in Section 7102 of the Government Code) as if that attributable income represented all of the income of the taxpayer subject to tax under this part. In the event that a credit carryover is allowable under subdivision (f) for any taxable year after the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designation has expired, the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation. The amount of that attributable income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (h).

(h) Attributable income shall be that portion of the taxpayer's California source business income which is apportioned to the zone. For that purpose, the business income of the taxpayer attributable to sources in this state first shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101) of Part 11. (i) (1) If the employment of any employee, with respect to whom qualified wages are taken into account under subdivision (a) is terminated by the taxpayer at any time during the first 270 days of that employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day in which that employee completes 90 days of employment with the taxpayer, the tax imposed by this part for the taxable year in which that employment is terminated shall be increased by an amount (determined under those regulations) equal to the credit allowed under subdivision (a) for that taxable year and all prior taxable years attributable to qualified wages paid or incurred with respect to that employee.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any of the following:

(i) A termination of employment of an employee who voluntarily leaves the employment of the taxpayer.

(c) (1) In the case where a credit is allowed for qualified property under more than one section in this part, the taxpayer shall make an election, on the return filed for each year, as to which section applies to that taxpayer.

(2) Any election made under this section, and any specification contained in that election, may not be revoked except with the consent of the Franchise Tax Board.

(d) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (f) for the income year, that portion of the credit that exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (f) may be carried over and added to this credit in succeeding income years for the number of income years in which the designation of a zone under Section 7102 of the Government Code is operative, or 15 income years, if longer, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest income year possible.

(e) Any taxpayer who elects to be subject to this section shall not be entitled to increase the basis of the property as otherwise required by Section 164(a) of the Internal Revenue Code with respect to the sales and use tax paid or incurred in connection with the purchase of qualified property.

(f) The amount of the credit provided by this section, including any credit carryover from prior years, in any income year shall not exceed the amount of tax which would be imposed on the income attributable to business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (designated pursuant to Section 7102 of the Government Code) as if that attributable income represented all of the income of the taxpayer subject to tax under this part. In the event that a credit carryover is allowable under subdivision (d) for any income year after the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designation has expired, the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation. The amount of that attributable income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (g).

(g) Attributable income shall be that portion of the taxpayer's California source business income which is apportioned to the zone. accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17, modified as follows:

(1) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1992 and before January 1, 1998, business income shall be apportioned to the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone by multiplying total business income of the taxpayer by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(2) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the income year.

(3) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the income year.

(i) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as provided in subdivision (d).

SEC. 9. Section 23623.5 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

23623.5. (a) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, and before January 1, 1998, there shall be allowed for hiring qualified disadvantaged individuals on or after May 1, 1992, a credit against the "tax" (as defined by Section 23036) in an amount equal to the sum of each of the following:

In any such case, the credit, if any, allowable by this section to each member shall be determined by reference to its proportionate share of the qualified wages giving rise to the credit. For purposes of this subdivision, "controlled group of corporations" has the meaning given to that term by Section 1563(a) of the Internal Revenue Code, except that:

(i) "More than 50 percent" shall be substituted for "at least 80 percent" each place it appears in Section 1563(a)(1) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(ii) The determination shall be made without regard to Sections 1563(a)(4) and 1563(e)(3)(C) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(B) If an employer acquires the major portion of a trade or business of another employer (hereafter in this paragraph referred to as the "predecessor") or the major portion of a separate unit of a trade or business of a predecessor, then, for the purposes of applying this section (other than subdivision (c)) for any calendar year ending after that acquisition, the employment relationship between an employee and an employer shall not be treated as terminated if the employee continues to be employed in that trade or business.

(c) (1) If the employment of any employee, with respect to whom qualified wages are taken into account under subdivision (a), is terminated by the taxpayer at any time during the first 270 days of that employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day in which that employee completes 90 days of employment with the taxpayer, the tax imposed by this part for the income year in which that employment is terminated shall be increased by an amount equal to the credit allowed under subdivision (a) for that income year and all prior income years attributable to qualified wages paid or incurred with respect to that employee.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any of the following:

(i) A termination of employment of an employee who voluntarily leaves the employment of the taxpayer.

(iii) A termination of employment of an individual, if it is determined under the applicable employment compensation provisions that the termination was due to the misconduct of that individual.

(iv) A termination of employment of an individual due to a substantial reduction in the trade or business operations of the taxpayer.

(v) A termination of employment of an individual, if that individual is replaced by other qualified employees so as to create a net increase in both the number of employees and the hours of employment.

(B) For purposes of paragraph (1), the employment relationship between the taxpayer and an employee shall not be treated as terminated by either of the following:

(i) By a transaction to which Section 381(a) of the Internal Revenue Code applies, if the employee continues to be employed by the acquiring corporation.

(ii) By reason of a mere change in the form of conducting the trade or business of the taxpayer, if the employee continues to be employed in that trade or business and the taxpayer retains a substantial interest in that trade or business.

(3) Any increase in tax under paragraph (1) shall not be treated as tax imposed by this part for purposes of determining the amount of any credit allowable under this part.

(d) In the case of an organization to which Section 593 of the Internal Revenue Code applies, and a regulated investment company or a real estate investment trust subject to taxation under this part, rules similar to the rules provided in Sections 46(e) and 46(h) of the Internal Revenue Code shall apply.

(e) The credit shall be reduced by the credit allowed under Sections 23621, 23622, 23623, and 23625, claimed for the same individual. The credit shall also be reduced by the credit allowed under Section 51 of the Internal Revenue Code.

In addition, any deduction otherwise allowed under this part for the wages or salaries paid or incurred by the taxpayer upon which the credit is based shall be reduced by the amount of the credit.

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (g) for the income year, that portion of the credit that exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (g) may be carried over and added to this credit in succeeding income years while the designation of the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone under Section 7102 of the Government Code is operative or 15 income years, if longer, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest income years possible.

(g) The amount of the credit allowed by this section, including any credit carryover from prior years, in any income year shall not exceed the amount of tax that would be imposed on the income attributed to business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (as defined in Section 7102 of the Government Code). In the event that a credit carryover is allowable under subdivision (f) for any income year after the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designation has expired, the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation. For that purpose, the business income of the taxpayer attributable to sources in this state first shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101). That business income shall be further apportioned to the zone in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17, modified for purposes of this section as follows:

(1) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, and ending on or before January 1, 1998, business income shall be apportioned to the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone by multiplying total business income of the taxpayer by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(2) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the income year.

(3) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the income year.

(i) This section shall remain in effect only until December 1, 1998, and as of that date is repealed. However, any unused credit may continue to be carried forward, as specified in subdivision (g).

(f) In the case where the credit allowed under this section exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (g) for the income year, that portion of the credit that exceeds the limitation imposed by subdivision (g) may be carried over and added to this credit in succeeding income years for the number of income years in which the designation of a zone under Section 7102 of the Government Code is operative, or 15 income years, if longer, until the credit is used. The credit shall be applied first to the earliest income year possible.

(g) The amount of the credit allowed by this section, including any credit carryover from prior years, in any income year shall not exceed the amount of tax that would be imposed on the income attributable to business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (as defined in Section 7102 of the Government Code) as if that attributable income represented all of the income of the taxpayer subject to tax under this part. In the event that a credit carryover is allowable under subdivision (f) for any income year after the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designation has expired, the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation. The amount of that attributable income shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of subdivision (h).

(1) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, and before January 1, 1998, business income shall be apportioned to the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone by multiplying total business income of the taxpayer by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(2) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the income year.

(3) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the income year.

(i) (1) If the employment of any employee, with respect to whom qualified wages are taken into account under subdivision (a) is terminated by the taxpayer at any time during the first 270 days of that employment (whether or not consecutive) or before the close of the 270th calendar day after the day in which that employee completes 90 days of employment with the taxpayer, the tax imposed by this part for the income year in which that employment is terminated shall be increased by an amount (determined under those regulations) equal to the credit allowed under subdivision (a) for that income year and all prior income years attributable to qualified wages paid or incurred with respect to that employee.

(2) (A) Paragraph (1) shall not apply to any of the following:

(i) A termination of employment of an employee who voluntarily leaves the employment of the taxpayer.

(b) A taxpayer who is engaged in the conduct of a trade or business within an enterprise zone designated pursuant to Section 7073 of the Government Code on or after that designation.

(1) (A) A net operating loss shall not be a net operating loss carryback to any income year and, except as provided in subparagraph (B), a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after the date that the area in which the taxpayer conducts a trade or business is designated an enterprise zone shall be a net operating loss carryover to each following income year that ends before the expiration or revocation of the designation of the enterprise zone under Section 7073 of the Government Code or to each of 15 income years following the income year of loss, if longer.

(B) In the case of a financial institution to which Section 585, 586, or 593 of the Internal Revenue Code applies, a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1984, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the five income years following the income year of the loss. Subdivision (b) of Section 24416.1 shall not apply.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision:

(A) "Net operating loss" means the loss determined under Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, as modified by Section 24416.1, attributable to the business activities of the taxpayer within the enterprise zone (as defined in Section 7073 of the Government Code). The attributed loss shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17, modified for purposes of this section as follows:

(i) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and ending on or before December 31, 1996, loss shall be apportioned to the enterprise zone by multiplying total loss from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) "The enterprise zone" shall be substituted for "this state."

(B) A net operating loss carryover shall be a deduction only with respect to income attributed to the business activities of the taxpayer within the enterprise zone (as defined in Section 7073 of the Government Code) determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17, modified for purposes of this section as follows:

(i) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1991, and ending on or before December 31, 1996, income shall be apportioned to the enterprise zone by multiplying total income from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) "The enterprise zone" shall be substituted for "this state."

(c) A taxpayer engaged in the conduct of a trade or business within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone designated pursuant to Section 7102 of the Government Code.

(1) (A) A net operating loss shall not be a net operating loss carryback for any income year and, except as provided in subparagraph (B), a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after the date the area in which the taxpayer conducts a trade or business is designated the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone shall be a net operating loss carryover to each following income year that ends before the expiration or revocation of the designation of the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone under Section 7102 of the Government Code or to each of the 15 income years following the income year of loss, if longer.

(B) In the case of a financial institution to which Section 585, 586, or 593 of the Internal Revenue Code applies, a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1984, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the five years following the income year of the loss. Subdivision (b) of Section 24416.1 shall not apply.

(2) For the purposes of this subdivision:

(A) "Net operating loss" means the loss determined under Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, as modified by Section 24416.1, attributable to the business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (as defined in Section 7102 of the Government Code). The attributable loss shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120), modified as follows:

(i) The loss shall be apportioned to the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone by multiplying the loss from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) "The Los Angeles Revitalization Zone" shall be substituted for this state.

(B) A net operating loss carryover shall be a deduction only with respect to income attributable to the business activities of the taxpayer within the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone (as defined in Section 7102 of the Government Code) determined in accordance with the provisions of paragraph (3).

(3) Attributable income shall be that portion of the taxpayer's California source business income which is apportioned to the zone. For that purpose, the business income of the taxpayer attributable to sources in this state first shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 17 (commencing with Section 25101). That business income shall be further apportioned to the zone in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 , modified as follows:

(i) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1992, and before January 1, 1998, business income shall be apportioned to the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone by multiplying total business income of the taxpayer by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) The property factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the average value of the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year and the denominator of which is the average value of all the taxpayer's real and tangible personal property owned or rented and used in this state during the income year.

(iii) The payroll factor is a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount paid by the taxpayer in the Los Angeles Revitalization Zone during the income year for compensation, and the denominator of which is the total compensation paid by the taxpayer in this state during the income year.

(4) This subdivision shall cease to be operative on January 1, 1998. However, any unused net operating loss may continue to be carried over to following years as provided in this subdivision until the net operating loss has been used.

(d) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995, and before January 1, 2003, a taxpayer engaged in the conduct of a trade or business within a LAMBRA.

(1) (A) A net operating loss shall not be a net operating loss carryback for any income year and, except as provided in subparagraph (B), a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after the date the area in which the taxpayer conducts a trade or business is designated a LAMBRA shall be a net operating loss carryover to each following income year that ends before the expiration or revocation of the designation of a LAMBRA under Section 7116 of the Government Code or to each of the 15 income years following the income year of loss, if longer.

(B) In the case of a financial institution to which Section 585, 586, or 593 of the Internal Revenue Code applies, a net operating loss for any income year beginning on or after January 1, 1984, shall be a net operating loss carryover to each of the five years following the income year of the loss. Subdivision (b) of Section 24416.1 shall not apply.

(2) For the purposes of this subdivision:

(A) "LAMBRA" means a local agency military base recovery area designated in accordance with Section 7114 of the Government Code.

(B) "Taxpayer" means a bank or corporation that conducts a trade or business within a LAMBRA and, for the first two income years, has a net increase in jobs (defined as 2,000 paid hours per employee per year) of one or more employees in the LAMBRA.

(i) The net increase in the number of jobs shall be determined by subtracting the total number of full-time employees (defined as 2,000 paid hours per employee per year) the taxpayer employed in this state in the income year prior to commencing business operations in the LAMBRA from the total number of full-time employees the taxpayer employed in this state during the second income year after commencing business operations in the LAMBRA. For taxpayers who commence doing business in this state with their LAMBRA business operation, the number of employees for the income year prior to commencing business operations in the LAMBRA shall be zero. If the taxpayer has a net increase in jobs in the state, the credit shall be allowed only if one or more full-time employees is employed within the LAMBRA.

(ii) The total number of employees employed in the LAMBRA shall equal the sum of both of the following:

(I) The total number of hours worked in the LAMBRA for the taxpayer by employees (not to exceed 2,000 hours per employee) who are paid an hourly wage divided by 2,000.

(II) The total number of months worked in the LAMBRA for the taxpayer by employees who are salaried employees divided by 12.

(iii) In the case of a taxpayer that first commences doing business in the LAMBRA during the income year, for purposes of subclauses (I) and (II), respectively, of clause (ii) the divisors "2,000" and "12" shall be multiplied by a fraction, the numerator of which is the number of months of the income year that the taxpayer was doing business in the LAMBRA and the denominator of which is 12.

(C) "Net operating loss" means the loss determined under Section 172 of the Internal Revenue Code, as modified by Section 24416.1, attributable to the business activities of the taxpayer within a LAMBRA. The attributable loss shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120), modified as follows:

(i) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995, the loss shall be apportioned to a LAMBRA by multiplying the loss from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) "The LAMBRA" shall be substituted for "this state."

(D) A net operating loss carryover shall be a deduction only with respect to income attributable to the business activities of the taxpayer within a LAMBRA determined in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 (commencing with Section 25120) of Chapter 17 of Part 11, modified as follows:

(i) For each income year beginning on or after January 1, 1995, and before January 1, 2003, income shall be apportioned to a LAMBRA by multiplying total income from the business by a fraction, the numerator of which is the property factor plus the payroll factor, and the denominator of which is 2.

(ii) "The LAMBRA" shall be substituted for "this state."

(iii) If a loss carryover is allowable pursuant to this section for any income year after the LAMBRA designation has expired, the LAMBRA shall be deemed to remain in existence for purposes of computing this limitation.

(e) A taxpayer who qualifies as a "qualified taxpayer" shall, for the income year of the net operating loss and any income year to which that net operating loss may be carried, designate on the return filed for each year the subdivision of this section which applies to that taxpayer with respect to that net operating loss. If the taxpayer is eligible to qualify under more than one subdivision of this section, the designation is to be made after taking into account subdivision (f).

(f) If a taxpayer is eligible to qualify under more than one subdivision of this section as a "qualified taxpayer," with respect to a net operating loss in an income year, the taxpayer shall designate which subdivision of this section is to apply to the taxpayer.

(g) Notwithstanding Section 24416, the amount of the loss determined under Section 24416.1 shall be the only net operating loss allowed to be carried over from that income year and the designation under subdivision (e) shall be included in the election under Section 24416.1.

SEC. 12. This act provides for a tax levy within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 757

An act to add Section 15317 to the Government Code, relating to trade and commerce.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(1) The apparel industry employs approximately 140,000 people in California in more than 3,600 firms. This comprises the second largest concentration of apparel manufacture in the United States. Apparel manufacture is based in clusters in both northern and southern California.

(2) The apparel industry employs a large, diverse concentration of low-skilled minority workers and provides a path out of poverty for those with low skills. Apparel manufacturing firms, contractors, and wholesalers tend to be entrepreneurial businesses with less than 40 employees.

(3) Joint business, labor, and community action can resolve the human resource challenges that have threatened the apparel industry's competitive position and remove both the reality and stigma of sweatshop conditions.

(4) Facing intense domestic and international competition, the apparel industry cannot survive by competing on costs alone. The industry must improve the quality, flexibility, and speed with which it responds to the market, resolve regulatory issues expediently, and promote its unique capabilities throughout the world's markets.

(5) The Trade and Commerce Agency has provided the apparel industry in this state with assistance and promotion through the establishment of a multilevel training plan that includes programs regarding contractor compliance, process streamlining, and high technology training. The Legislature encourages the Trade and Commerce Agency to continue to support the industry's growth, economic health, and status as a major manufacturing employment source.

(b) This act shall be known as and may be cited as the California Apparel Industry Revitalization Act of 1994.

SEC. 2. Section 15317 is added to the Government Code, to read:

15317. The secretary shall direct all relevant components of the Trade and Commerce Agency to coordinate resources within the agency and other state agencies for all of the following purposes:

(a) To act as a regulatory ombudsman for the apparel industry in disputes with state and local government.

(b) To focus state resources that can be applied to the deployment and development of advanced technologies to improve the productivity of the California apparel industry.

(c) To support locally provided training programs for apparel workers, contractors, manufacturers, and other industry participants.

(d) To determine how best to make available to apparel manufacturers and contractors additional financial resources for these purposes through the existing loan and grant programs of the agency and other state and local economic development programs.

(e) To promote actively the products of California's apparel industry domestically and internationally.

CHAPTER 758

An act to add Chapter 6.6 (commencing with Section 1695) to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to medicine.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 6.6 (commencing with Section 1695) is added to Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 6.6. NEONATAL GROUP B STREPTOCOCCAL INFECTION

1695. To the extent that funds are available in the State Department of Health Services' budget for the 1994–95 fiscal year for this purpose, the department shall convene a consensus conference to address the issue of testing or treatment to prevent neonatal group B streptococcal disease (chemoprophylaxis). The conferees shall include, but not be limited to, representation from the California Chapter of the American Academy of Pediatrics, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists District IX, the California Medical Association, the California Conference of Local Health Officers, and the Group B Strep Association. The conference shall convene at least once during the 1994–95 fiscal year. The department shall develop, based on the proceedings of the consensus conference, a standardized written summary on group B streptococcal disease and guidelines on the prevention of neonatal group B streptococcal disease, no later than July 1, 1995. If the department determines that state funds are not available, the department shall make every effort to obtain appropriate federal funds for this purpose.

CHAPTER 759

An act to add Section 1367.69 to the Health and Safety Code, and to add Sections 10123.83 and 11512.295 to the Insurance Code, relating to health coverage.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The specialty of obstetrics and gynecology is devoted to primary-preventive health care of women throughout their lifetime.

(b) Significant numbers of women view their obstetrician-gynecologist as their primary or only physician. For many women, an obstetrician-gynecologist is often the only physician they see regularly during their reproductive years. According to a 1993 Gallup poll, women are more likely to have had a physical examination within the last two years from an obstetrician-gynecologist than from any other type of doctor (72 percent versus 57 percent) and the majority of these women (52 percent) consider their obstetrician-gynecologist to be their primary care physician.

(c) A general medical examination was the second most frequently cited purpose for patient visits to obstetrician-gynecologists in 1989 and 1990, accounting for seven million visits each year, according to data gathered by the National Center for Health Statistics.

(d) Women are opposed to restrictions in accessing obstetrician-gynecologists. Among women who have health coverage, a Gallup poll reported that 78 percent can currently access their obstetrician-gynecologist without going through a "gatekeeper." Seventy-five percent of these women would object to requirements that they be referred by another physician or "gatekeeper" before they may see their obstetrician-gynecologist. Similarly, 74 percent of those who now have restricted access to obstetrician-gynecologists would approve of a system that would eliminate the need for a referral.

(e) Obstetrician-gynecologists refer their patients less frequently than other primary care physicians, thus avoiding costly and time consuming referrals to specialists. According to a 1991 study of physician referral rates, obstetrician-gynecologists had the lowest referral rate of 4 percent compared with the rates of 7.3 percent for general internists and 8.4 percent for general and family practitioners.

(f) More than two-thirds (69.5 percent) of all visits to obstetrician-gynecologists were made by established patients of the physician returning for care of their condition, according to data gathered by the National Center for Health Statistics. Only 4.7 percent of patient visits resulted from referrals from another physician.

SEC. 2. Section 1367.69 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1367.69. (a) On or after January 1, 1995, every health care service plan contract that provides hospital, medical, or surgical coverage, that is issued, amended, delivered, or renewed in this state, shall include obstetrician-gynecologists as eligible primary care physicians, provided they meet the plan's eligibility criteria for all specialists seeking primary care physician status.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "primary care physician" means a physician, as defined in Section 14254 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who has the responsibility for providing initial and primary care to patients, for maintaining the continuity of patient care, and for initiating referral for specialist care. This means providing care for the majority of health care problems, including, but not limited to, preventive services, acute and chronic conditions, and psychosocial issues.

SEC. 3. Section 10123.83 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

10123.83. (a) On or after January 1, 1995, every policy of disability insurance that covers hospital, medical, or surgical expenses and is issued, amended, delivered, or renewed in this state shall include obstetrician-gynecologists as primary care providers provided they meet the insurer's written eligibility criteria for all specialists seeking primary care physician status.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "primary care physician" means a physician, as defined in Section 14254 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who has the responsibility for providing initial and primary care to patients, for maintaining the continuity of patient care, and for initiating referral for specialist care. This means providing care for the majority of health care problems, including, but not limited to, preventive services, acute and chronic conditions, and psychosocial issues.

SEC. 4. Section 11512.295 is added to the Insurance Code, immediately following Section 11512.29, to read:

11512.295. (a) On or after January 1, 1995, every nonprofit hospital service plan contract that provides hospital, medical, or surgical coverage, that is issued, amended, delivered, or renewed in this state, shall include obstetrician-gynecologists as primary care providers provided they meet the plan's written eligibility criteria for all specialists seeking primary care physician status.

(b) For purposes of this section, the term "primary care physician" means a physician, as defined in Section 14254 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, who has the responsibility for providing initial and primary care to patients, for maintaining the continuity of patient care, and for initiating referral for specialist care. This means providing care for the majority of health care problems, including, but not limited to, preventive services, acute and chronic conditions, and psychosocial issues.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 760

An act to add Chapter 1.3 (commencing with Section 135) to Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, relating to women's health.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares all of the following:

(a) The health status of women has significant bearing on the well-being of children, other family members, and the state's economy.

(b) Women's health issues, which include diseases or conditions that are unique to women, more prevalent or more serious in women, or for which specific risk factors or interventions differ for women, have received scant attention both in terms of funding for prevention and treatment services, as well as for research.

(c) There is growing recognition on the part of state and national policymakers of the importance of equity in policy considerations and decisions affecting women's health, and particularly in the administration, funding, and delivery of medical care and health care-related services for women.

(d) There is increasing acknowledgment among the biomedical and health service research communities of systematic biases in the development of basic and applied research directly affecting women's health, and of significant disparities in the use of major diagnostic and therapeutic interventions for women in comparison with men.

(e) Certain women's health problems, specifically, menopause, osteoporosis, and breast and cervical cancers, have recently received increased attention and resources nationally and within California.

(f) Violence is overwhelming our health care and mental health systems. Each year, over 1,000,000 women seek medical assistance for injuries caused by domestic violence. More than one in every three trips by women to an emergency room are the result of battery by their husbands or partners, and one out of four pregnant women seeking prenatal care have been abused.

(g) Teenage pregnancy has had a large impact on the health care delivery system. In 1992, there were 70,867 infants born to teenage mothers in California alone. Adolescent mothers are less likely to receive effective prenatal care, consequently their babies are more likely to suffer health problems.

(h) Women's advocacy groups have recommended that an Office of Women's Health and a statewide Interagency Task Force on Women's Health be established to provide the visibility, prominence, and coordination that women's health issues should command.

(i) A more comprehensive and effective approach to improving women's health problems will require an improved understanding of, and increased focus on, the social, political, and economic forces that affect the health of women.

SEC. 2. Chapter 1.3 (commencing with Section 135) is added to Part 1 of Division 1 of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

CHAPTER 1.3. WOMEN'S HEALTH

135. The Office of Women's Health is hereby established within the State Department of Health Services. For purposes of this chapter, "office" means the Office of Women's Health.

136. (a) The Health and Welfare Agency shall establish an interagency task force on women's health composed of representatives of the State Department of Health Services, the State Department of Developmental Services, the State Department of Social Services, the State Department of Alcohol and Drug Programs, and the Major Risk Medical Insurance Program.

(b) The State Department of Education, the Department of Housing and Community Development, the office of the Attorney General, the State Department of Mental Health, and the Department of Corrections may participate with the interagency task force on women's health when necessary to implement the state strategy developed pursuant to Section 137.

137. The office, in consultation with the interagency task force on women's health, shall develop a coordinated state strategy for addressing the health related needs of women.

138. The office may do any of the following:

(a) Perform strategic planning within the state department to develop departmentwide plans for implementation of goals and objectives for women's health.

(b) Conduct departmental policy analysis on specific issues related to women's health.

(c) Coordinate pilot projects and planning projects funded by the state that are related to women's health.

(d) Identify unnecessary duplication of services and future service needs.

(e) Communicate and disseminate information and perform a liaison function within the state department and to providers of health, social, educational, and support services to women.

(f) Perform internal state department staff training, and training of health care professionals to ensure more linguistically and culturally appropriate care.

(g) Serve as a clearinghouse for information regarding women's health data, strategies, and programs that address women's health issues, including pregnancy, breast and cervical cancers, AIDS, osteoporosis, and menopause, as well as issues that impact women's health, including substance abuse, domestic violence, housing, teenage pregnancy, and sexual assault.

(h) Encourage innovative responses by public and private entities that are attempting to address women's health issues.

(i) Provide technical assistance to counties, other public entities, and private entities seeking to obtain funds for initiatives in women's health, including identification of sources of funding and assistance with writing of grants.

CHAPTER 761

An act to amend, repeal, and add Section 1374.7 of the Health and Safety Code, and to amend, repeal, and add Sections 10123.3, 10140, and 11512.95 of, and to add Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 10146) to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2 of, the Insurance Code, relating to discrimination.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1374.7 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1374.7. (a) No plan shall refuse to enroll any person or accept any person as a subscriber after appropriate application on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring. No plan shall require a higher rate or charge on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment or subscription of any person on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring.

(c) "Genetic characteristics" as used in this section means any scientifically or medically identifiable gene or chromosome, or alteration thereof, which is known to be a cause of a disease or disorder, or determined to be associated with a statistically increased risk of development of a disease or disorder, and which is asymptomatic of any disease or disorder.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2002, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 2002, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 1374.7 is added of the Health and Safety Code, to read:

1374.7. (a) No plan shall refuse to enroll any person or accept any person as a subscriber after appropriate application by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. Such genes shall include, but are not limited to, Tay-Sachs trait, sickle cell trait, thalassemia trait, and X-linked hemophilia A. No plan shall require a higher rate or charge by reason of the fact that the person carries such traits than is at that time required of any other individual in an otherwise identical classification, nor shall any plan make or require any rebate, discrimination, or discount upon the amount to be paid or the service to be rendered under the plan because the person carries such traits.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment or subscription of any person by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. be paid or the service to be rendered under the plan because the person carries those traits.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment or subscription of any person on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring.

(c) "Genetic characteristics" as used in this section shall have the same meaning as defined in Section 10147.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2002, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 2002, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 4. Section 10123.3 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

10123.3. (a) No self-insured employee welfare benefit plan shall refuse to enroll any person or accept any person as a subscriber after appropriate application by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. Such genes shall include, but not be limited to, Tay-Sachs trait, sickle cell trait, thalassemia trait, and X-linked hemophilia A. No plan shall require a higher rate or charge by reason of the fact that the person carries such traits than is at the time required of any other individual in an otherwise identical classification, nor shall any plan make or require any rebate, discrimination, or discount upon the amount to be paid or the service to be rendered under the plan because the person carries such traits.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment or subscription of any person by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. Such genes shall include, but not be limited to, Tay-Sachs trait, sickle cell trait, thalassemia trait, and X-linked hemophilia A.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 2002.

SEC. 5. Section 10140 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

10140. (a) No admitted insurer, licensed to issue life or disability insurance, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, or issue or cancel that insurance, under conditions less favorable to the insured than in other comparable cases, except for reasons applicable alike to persons of every race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation. Race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation shall not, of itself, constitute a condition or risk for which a higher rate, premium, or charge may be required of the insured for that insurance.

(b) Except as otherwise permitted by law, no admitted insurer, licensed to issue disability insurance policies for hospital, medical, and surgical expenses, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, fail or refuse to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, cancel that insurance, charge a higher rate or premium for that insurance, or place a limitation on coverage under that insurance, on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring. This subdivision shall not apply to life and disability income policies issued or delivered on or after January 1, 1995, that are contingent upon review or testing for other diseases or medical conditions.

(c) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of agents or brokers for writing or renewing a policy of disability insurance, other than disability income, on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring.

(d) It shall be deemed a violation of subdivision (a) for any insurer to consider sexual orientation in its underwriting criteria or to utilize marital status, living arrangements, occupation, gender, beneficiary designation, zip codes or other territorial classification within this state, or any combination thereof for the purpose of establishing sexual orientation or determining whether to require a test for the presence of the human immunodeficiency virus or antibodies to that virus, where that testing is otherwise permitted by law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, expand, or limit in any manner the existing law respecting the authority of insurers to conduct tests for the presence of human immunodeficiency virus or evidence thereof.

(e) Any insurer that knowingly violates this section shall for each violation be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court.

(f) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the commissioner to adopt regulations prohibiting discrimination because of sex, marital status, or sexual orientation or to enforce these regulations, whether adopted before or on or after January 1, 1991.

(g) "Genetic characteristics" as used in this section shall have the same meaning as defined in Section 10147.

(h) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2002, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 2002, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 6. Section 10140 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

10140. (a) No admitted insurer, licensed to issue life or disability insurance, shall fail or refuse to accept an application for that insurance, to issue that insurance to an applicant therefor, or issue or cancel that insurance, under conditions less favorable to the insured than in other comparable cases, except for reasons applicable alike to persons of every race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation. Race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, or sexual orientation shall not, of itself, constitute a condition or risk for which a higher rate, premium, or charge may be required of the insured for that insurance.

(b) It shall be deemed a violation of subdivision (a) for any insurer to consider sexual orientation in its underwriting criteria or to utilize marital status, living arrangements, occupation, gender, beneficiary designation, ZIP Codes or other territorial classification within this state, or any combination thereof for the purpose of establishing sexual orientation or determining whether to require a test for the presence of the human immunodeficiency virus or antibodies to that virus, where that testing is otherwise permitted by law. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter, expand, or limit in any manner the existing law respecting the authority of insurers to conduct tests for the presence of human immunodeficiency virus or evidence thereof.

(c) Any insurer that knowingly violates this section shall for each violation be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court.

(d) This section shall not be construed to limit the authority of the commissioner to adopt regulations prohibiting discrimination because of sex, marital status, or sexual orientation or to enforce these regulations, whether adopted before or on or after January 1, 1991.

(e) This section shall become operative on January 1, 2002.

SEC. 7. Article 2.6 (commencing with Section 10146) is added to Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code, to read:

Article 2.6. Underwriting on the Basis of Test of Genetic Characteristics

10146. The purposes of this article are to establish standards regarding unfair discrimination among individuals of the same class in the underwriting of life or disability income insurance on the basis of tests of a person's genetic characteristics; to establish minimum standards for determining insurability which are sufficiently reliable to be used for life and disability income insurance risk classification and underwriting purposes; to require the maintenance of strict confidentiality of personal information obtained through a test of a person's genetic characteristics; and to require informed consent before insurers underwrite on the basis of a test of a person's genetic characteristics. This article and Sections 10140 and 10143 shall constitute the exclusive requirements for insurers' practices relating to genetic characteristics or to tests thereof.

10147. As used in this article:

(a) "Disability income insurance" means insurance against loss of occupational earning capacity arising from injury, sickness, or disablement, and includes insurance which provides benefits for overhead expenses of a business or profession when the insured becomes disabled.

(b) "Genetic characteristics" means any scientifically or medically identifiable gene or chromosome, or alteration thereof, which is known to be a cause of a disease or disorder, or determined to be associated with a statistically increased risk of development of a disease or disorder, and which is asymptomatic of any disease or disorder.

(c) "Life or disability income insurer" means an insurer licensed to transact life insurance or disability income insurance in this state or a fraternal benefit society licensed in this state.

(d) "Policy" means (1) a life insurance policy or a disability income insurance policy delivered in this state, or (2) a certificate of life insurance benefits or disability income insurance benefits, issued under a group life or disability income insurance policy and delivered in this state by a life or disability income insurer or a fraternal benefits society, regardless of the location of the group master policy.

(e) "Test of a person's genetic characteristics" means a laboratory test which is generally accepted in the scientific and medical communities for the determination of the presence or absence of genetic characteristics.

10148. No insurer shall require a test for the presence of a genetic characteristic for the purpose of determining insurability other than in accordance with the informed consent, and privacy protection provisions of this article and Article 6.6 (commencing with Section 791) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, this constitutes the exclusive requirements for informed consent, and privacy protection for that testing.

(a) An insurer that requests an applicant to take a genetic characteristic test shall obtain the applicant's written informed consent for the test. Written informed consent shall include a description of the test to be performed, including its purpose, potential uses, and limitations, the meaning of its results, procedures for notifying the applicant of the results, and the right to confidential treatment of the results.

(b) The insurer shall notify an applicant of a test result by notifying the applicant or the applicant's designated physician. If the applicant tested has not given written consent authorizing a physician to receive the test results, the applicant shall be urged, at the time the applicant is informed of the test results, to contact a health care professional.

(c) The commissioner shall develop and adopt standardized language for the informed consent disclosure form required by this section to be given to any applicant for life or disability income insurance who takes a test for a genetic characteristic.

(d) A life or disability income insurer shall not require a person to undergo a test of the person's genetic characteristics unless the cost of the test is paid by the insurer.

(e) No policy shall limit benefits otherwise payable if loss is caused or contributed to by the presence or absence of genetic characteristics, except to the extent and in the same fashion as the insurer limits coverage for loss caused or contributed to by other medical conditions presenting an increased degree of risk.

(f) Nothing in this chapter shall limit an insurer's right to decline an application or enrollment request for a life or disability income insurance policy, charge a higher rate or premium for such a policy, or place a limitation on coverage under such a policy, on the basis of manifestations of any disease or disorder.

(g) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of agents or brokers writing or renewing a life or disability income policy on the basis of a test of that person's genetic characteristics.

10149. (a) All underwriting activities undertaken by insurers pursuant to this article shall be subject to all applicable provisions of Article 6.6 (commencing with Section 791) of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1.

(b) No life or disability income insurer shall require a genetic characteristic test if the results of the test would be used exclusively or nonexclusively for the purpose of determining eligibility for hospital, medical, or surgical insurance coverage or eligibility for coverage under a nonprofit hospital service plan or health care service plan.

10149.1. (a) This section shall apply to the disclosure of the results of a test for a genetic characteristic requested by an insurer pursuant to this article.

(b) Any person who negligently discloses results of a test for a genetic characteristic to any third party, in a manner which identifies or provides identifying characteristics of the person to whom the test results apply, except pursuant to a written authorization, as described in subdivision (g), or except as provided in this article or in Sections 1603.1 and 1603.3 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not to exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court, which penalty and costs shall be paid to the subject of the test.

(c) Any person who willfully discloses the results of a test for a genetic characteristic to any third party, in a manner which identifies or provides identifying characteristics of the person to whom the test results apply, except pursuant to a written authorization, as described in subdivision (g), or except as provided in this article or in Sections 1603.1 and 1603.3 of the Health and Safety Code, shall be assessed a civil penalty in an amount not less than one thousand dollars ($1,000) and no more than five thousand dollars ($5,000) plus court costs, as determined by the court, which penalty and costs shall be paid to the subject of the test.

(d) Any person who willfully or negligently discloses the results of a test for a genetic characteristic to a third party, in a manner which identifies or provides identifying characteristics of the person to whom the test results apply, except pursuant to a written authorization, as described in subdivision (g), or except as provided in this article or in Sections 1603.1 and 1603.3 of the Health and Safety Code, which results in economic, bodily, or emotional harm to the subject of the test, is guilty of a misdemeanor punishable by imprisonment in a county jail for a period not to exceed one year, by a fine of not to exceed ten thousand dollars ($10,000), or by both that fine and imprisonment.

(e) Any person who commits any act described in subdivision (b) or (c) shall be liable to the subject for all actual damages, including damages for economic, bodily, or emotional harm which is proximately caused by the act.

(f) Each disclosure made in violation of this section is a separate and actionable offense.

(g) The applicant's "written authorization," as used in this section, applies only to the disclosure of test results by a person responsible for the care and treatment of the person subject to the test. Written authorization is required for each separate disclosure of the test results, and shall include to whom the disclosure would be made.

SEC. 8. Section 11512.95 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11512.95. (a) No nonprofit hospital service plan shall refuse to enroll any person or accept any person as a subscriber after appropriate application on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring. No plan shall require a higher rate or charge on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics than is at that time required of any other individual in an otherwise identical classification, nor shall any plan make or require any rebate, discrimination, or discount upon the amount to be paid or the service to be rendered under the plan because the person carries those traits.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment of subscription of any person on the basis of a person's genetic characteristics which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person or that person's offspring.

(c) "Genetic characteristics" as used in this section shall have the same meaning as defined in Section 10147.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 2002, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 2002, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 9. Section 11512.95 is added to the Insurance Code, to read:

11512.95. (a) No nonprofit hospital service plan shall refuse to enroll any person or accept any person as a subscriber after appropriate application by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. Such genes shall include, but are not limited to, Tay-Sachs trait, sickle cell trait, thalassemia trait, and X-linked hemophilia A. No plan shall require a higher rate or charge by reason of the fact that the person carries such traits than is at that time required of any other individual in an otherwise identical classification, nor shall any plan make or require any rebate, discrimination, or discount upon the amount to be paid or the service to be rendered under the plan because the person carries such traits.

(b) No discrimination shall be made in the fees or commissions of a solicitor or solicitor firm for an enrollment or a subscription or the renewal of an enrollment or subscription of any person by reason of the fact that the person carries a gene which may, under some circumstances, be associated with disability in that person's offspring, but which causes no adverse effects on the carrier. Such genes shall include, but are not limited to, Tay-Sachs trait, sickle cell trait, thalassemia trait, and X-linked hemophilia A.

(c) This section shall become operative on January 1, 2002.

SEC. 10. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 762

An act to amend Sections 20603.2, 21252.01, 21252.02, and 21252.6 of, and to repeal and add Section 19827 of, the Government Code, and to amend Section 4800 of, and to add Section 4800.5 to, the Labor Code, relating to public employees, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 22, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 23, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19827 of the Government Code is repealed.

SEC. 2. Section 19827 is added to the Government Code, to read:

19827. (a) In order for the state to recruit and retain the highest qualified employees for the California Highway Patrol, it is the policy of the state to compensate state traffic officers the estimated average total compensation as of July 1 of the year in which comparisons are made for the rank corresponding to state traffic officer within the Los Angeles Police Department, Los Angeles County Sheriff's Office, San Diego Police Department, Oakland Police Department, and the San Francisco Police Department. Total compensation includes, but is not limited to, salary, retirement, health and dental insurance, educational incentives, longevity pay, night shift differential, and other skill or incentive pay.

Any increase in total compensation resulting from this subdivision shall be implemented through a memorandum of understanding negotiated pursuant to the Ralph C. Dills Act (Chapter 10.3 (commencing with Section 3512) of Division 4 of Title 1).

If the provisions of this subdivision are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Section 3517.5, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if the provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

(b) When determining compensation for state excluded sworn classifications of the California Highway Patrol, it is the policy of the state to consider total compensation for corresponding ranks within jurisdictions specified in subdivision (a), as well as other factors, including internal comparisons.

SEC. 3. Section 20603.2 of the Government Code is amended to read:

20603.2. (a) Notwithstanding Section 20603.01, the normal rate of contribution for patrol members for service rendered on and after January 1, 1984, shall be 8 percent of the compensation in excess of eight hundred sixty-three dollars ($863) per month paid those members. The Legislature reserves the right to increase the rate of contribution of patrol members as it may find appropriate from time to time.

(b) If the provisions of this section are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Section 3517.5, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if the provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

(c) The provisions of a memorandum of understanding pertaining to subdivision (a) may be applied to patrol members who either are excluded from the definition of state employee in subdivision (c) of Section 3513, or are nonelected officers of employees of the executive branch of government and are not members of the civil service, provided the Department of Personnel Administration has approved this inclusion and has notified the board.

SEC. 4. Section 21252.01 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21252.01. The current service pension for patrol members and the combined current and prior service pensions for local safety members with respect to local safety service rendered to a contracting agency which is subject to the provisions of this section is a pension derived from the contributions of the employer sufficient when added to the service retirement annuity which is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the patrol member at the date of his or her retirement to equal the fraction of one-fiftieth of his or her final compensation set forth opposite his or her age at retirement taken to the preceding completed quarter-year, in the following table, multiplied by the number of years of Highway Patrol service and local safety service subject to this section with which he or she is credited at retirement.

In no event shall the current service pension and the combined current and prior service pensions under this section for all service to all employers exceed an amount which, when added to the service retirement annuity related to that service, equals 75 percent of final compensation. For state members who retire on or after January 1, 1995, and with respect to service for all state employers under this section, the benefit shall not exceed 80 percent of final compensation. If the pension relates to service to more than one employer and would otherwise exceed that maximum, the pension payable with respect to each employer shall be reduced in the same proportion as the allowance based on service to that employer bears to the total allowance computed as though there were no limit, so that the total of the pensions shall equal the maximum. Where a state member retiring on or after January 1, 1995, has service under this section with both state and local agency employers, the 80-percent limit shall apply and the additional benefit shall be funded by increasing the member's pension payable with respect to the state employer.

This section shall not apply to any contracting agency, unless and until the agency elects to be subject to the provisions of this section by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts or, in the case of contracts made after the date this section is operative, by express provision in the contract making the contracting agency subject to the provisions of this section.

This section shall supersede Section 21252.02, 21252.1, 21252.5, 21252.6, or 21252.61, whichever is then applicable, with respect to patrol and local safety members who retire after the date this section becomes applicable to their respective employers.

Notwithstanding Sections 21208 and 21209, this section shall not apply to warden or forestry members.

The Legislature reserves, with respect to any member subject to this section, the right to provide for the adjustment of industrial disability retirement allowances because of earnings of a retired person and modification of the conditions and qualifications required for retirement for disability as it may find appropriate because of the earlier ages of service retirement made possible by the benefits under this section.

SEC. 5. Section 21252.02 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21252.02. The combined current and prior service pensions for state peace officer/firefighter members subject to this section with respect to state peace officer/firefighter service and the combined current and prior service pensions for local safety members with respect to local safety service rendered to a contracting agency which is subject to this section is a pension derived from the contributions of the employer sufficient when added to the service retirement annuity which is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the state peace officer/firefighter member at the date of his or her retirement to equal the fraction of one-fiftieth of his or her final compensation set forth opposite his or her age at retirement taken to the preceding completed quarter-year, in the following table, multiplied by the number of years of state peace officer/firefighter service subject to this section with which he or she is credited at retirement.

In no event shall the current service pension and the combined current and prior service pensions under this section for all service to all employers exceed an amount which, when added to the service retirement annuity related to that service, equals 75 percent of final compensation. For state members who retire on or after January 1, 1995, and with respect to service for all state employers under this section, the benefit shall not exceed 80 percent of final compensation. If the pension relates to service to more than one employer, or this section and Section 21252.6, and would otherwise exceed that maximum, the pension payable with respect to each section or employer shall be reduced in the same proportion as the allowance bears to the total allowance computed as though there were no limit, so that the total of the pensions shall equal the maximum. Where a state member retiring on or after January 1, 1995, has service under this section with both state and local agency employers, the 80-percent limit shall apply and the additional benefit shall be funded by increasing the member's pension payable with respect to the state employer.

The Legislature reserves, with respect to any member subject to this section, the right to provide for the adjustment of industrial disability retirement allowances because of earnings of a retired person and modification of the conditions and qualifications required for retirement for disability as it may find appropriate because of the earlier age of service retirement made possible by the benefits under this section.

This section may be applied to related supervisory classes or confidential positions for the respective bargaining units specified in this section.

This section shall be operative with respect to state peace officer/firefighter members in Corrections Bargaining Unit No. 6, Protective Services and Public Safety Bargaining Unit No. 7, or Firefighters Bargaining Unit No. 8, in accordance with a memorandum of understanding reached between the state and the exclusive bargaining agent in the respective unit pursuant to the State Employer-Employee Relations Act (Chapter 10.3 (commencing with Section 3512) of Division 4 of Title 1). This section also shall be operative with respect to the state peace officer/firefighter members employed by a California State University police department who are in Public Safety Unit No. 8 in accordance with a memorandum of understanding reached between the Board of Trustees of the California State University and the recognized employee organization pursuant to the Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act (Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1).

This section shall also be operative with respect to a "state peace officer/firefighter member" defined in subdivision (a) of Section 20017.985 if authorized by, and in accordance with, a memorandum of understanding reached between the Trustees of the California State University and the recognized employee organization pursuant to the Higher Education Employer-Employee Relations Act (Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1).

Nothing in this section or in any other provision of law affected by the bill amending this section in 1984 of the 1983–84 Regular Session of the Legislature or the bill amending this section in 1986 of the 1985–86 Regular Session shall be construed as authorizing any future negotiation with respect to whether or not any bargaining unit specified in this section whose memorandum of understanding was previously approved by the Legislature pursuant to law and this section, shall continue to remain within the state peace officer/firefighter membership category.

The operative date of this section with respect to members in each of the bargaining units specified in this section shall be as provided for in the memorandum of understanding.

This section shall not apply to a person whose effective date of retirement is prior to the operative date of this section with respect to the bargaining unit of the person.

This section shall be known as, and may be cited as the State Peace Officers' and Fire Fighters' Retirement Act.

The Legislature reserves the right to subsequently modify or amend this part in order to completely effectuate the intent and purposes of this section and the right to not provide any new comparable advantages if disadvantages to employees result from any modification or amendment.

This section shall not apply to a contracting agency nor its employees unless and until, first, it is agreed to in a written memorandum of understanding entered into by an employer and representatives of employees and, second, the contracting agency elects to be subject to it by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts or in the case of a new contract, by express provision of the contract. The operative date of this section with respect to a local safety member shall be the effective date of the amendment to his or her employers contract electing to be subject to this section.

SEC. 6. Section 21252.6 of the Government Code is amended to read:

21252.6. The combined prior and current service pension for a state safety member, and a local safety member with respect to service to a contracting agency subject to this section, upon retirement after attaining age 55, is a pension derived from contributions of an employer sufficient, when added to that portion of the service retirement annuity which is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the member at the date of his retirement, to equal one-fiftieth of his or her final compensation multiplied by the number of years of state safety, police, fire, or county peace officer service which is credited to him or her as a state safety member or a local safety member subject to this section at retirement. Notwithstanding the preceding sentence, this section shall apply to the current and prior service pension for any other state safety member based on service to which it would have applied had the member, on July 1, 1971, been in employment described in Section 20017.77 or 20017.78 of this code.

Upon retirement for service prior to attaining age 55, the percentage of final compensation payable for each year of credited service which is subject to this section shall be the product of 2 percent multiplied by the factor set forth in the following table for his or her actual age at retirement:

If retirement occurs at age:	The percent for each year of credited service is:
50	0.713
50¼	0.725
50½	0.737
50¾	0.749
51	0.761
51¼	0.775
51½	0.788
51¾	0.801
52	0.814
52¼	0.828
52½	0.843
52¾	0.857
53	0.871
53¼	0.886
53½	0.902
53¾	0.917
54	0.933
54¼	0.950
54¾	0.983

In no event shall the total pension for all service under this section exceed an amount which, when added to the service retirement annuity related to that service, equals 75 percent of final compensation. For state members who retire on or after January 1, 1995, and with respect to service for all state employers under this section, the benefit shall not exceed 80 percent of final compensation. If the pension relates to service to more than one employer and would otherwise exceed that maximum, the pension payable with respect to each employer shall be reduced in the same proportion as the allowance based on service to that employer bears to the total allowance computed as though there were no limit, so that the total of such pensions shall equal the maximum. Where a state member retiring on or after January 1, 1995, has service under this section with both state and local agency employers, the 80-percent limit shall apply and the additional benefit shall be funded by increasing the member's pension payable with respect to the state employer.

This section shall not apply to a person whose effective date of retirement is prior to the operative date of this section.

The Legislature reserves, with respect to any member subject to this section, the right to provide for the adjustment of industrial disability retirement allowances because of earnings of a retired person and modification of the conditions and qualifications required for retirement for disability as it may find appropriate because of the earlier age of service retirement made possible by the benefits under this section.

The percentage of final compensation provided in this section shall be reduced by one-third as applied to that part of the member's final compensation which does not exceed four hundred dollars ($400) per month for service after the effective date of coverage of a member under the federal system. This paragraph shall not apply to a member who retires after the date upon which coverage under the federal system of persons in his employment terminates. It shall not apply to a local safety member employed by a contracting agency electing to be subject to this section after the effective date of the amendments to this section at the 1972 Regular Session unless the agency elects to be subject to this paragraph by amendment to its contract or by appropriate provision of a contract entered into after this provision is effective and as to any member, the reduction in the percentage of final compensation shall apply to all local safety service to the agency, if any of the local safety service has been included in the federal system.

This section shall not apply to a contracting agency nor its employees unless and until the agency elects to be subject to it by amendment to its contract made in the manner prescribed for approval of contracts or in the case of a new contract, by express provision of the contract. The operative date of this section with respect to a local safety member shall be the effective date of the amendment to his employer's contract electing to be subject to this

CHAPTER 3. GENERAL PROVISIONS

20. (a) There shall be submitted to the registered voters within the proposed district boundaries at the first countywide consolidated elections held after January 1, 1995, in the Counties of Los Angeles and Kern, the question of whether the district shall be organized and shall exercise its power in accordance with the provisions of this act.

(b) (1) There shall be printed on the ballot at the election the following question:

"Shall the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District be organized and exercise its powers in accordance with the provisions of the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District Act and impose an initial annual assessment on all properties within the district, to be used for district organization, advance planning, operation, maintenance, repair, and emergency services?"

(2) Following the question shall be the words "Yes" and "No" on separate lines with a voting square at the right.

(c) If a majority of the voters voting on the proposition votes in favor of forming the district, the district may exercise its powers and shall collect an assessment in accordance with subdivision (b) of Section 320.

21. The Cortese-Knox Local Government Reorganization Act of 1985 (Division 3 (commencing with Section 56000) of Title 5 of the Government Code) shall not apply to the formation of the district or the formation or changes in the boundaries of any district division or improvement district. For all other purposes, the district shall be a "district" as that term is defined in the Cortese-Knox Local Government Reorganization Act of 1985.

22. The district may, following notice and a public hearing, annex contiguous land upon approval of its board of directors, by a five-sevenths vote of the board, if the board of supervisors of the county containing the land to be annexed approves of the annexation by a four-fifths vote. In lieu of the required four-fifths vote, the board of supervisors may, at its option, order an election in the area to be annexed.

23. Any judicial action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, annul, or challenge the validity or legality of the formation of the district or an improvement district, any contract entered into by the district or improvement district, any bond or evidence of indebtedness of the district or improvement district, or any assessment, rate, or charge of the district or improvement district shall be commenced within 60 days of the effective date thereof. Any action or proceeding shall be brought pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 9 (commencing with Section 860) of Title 10 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure. The district may bring an action pursuant to those provisions to determine the validity of any of the matters referred to in this section.

24. Claims for money or damages against the district are governed by Part 3 (commencing with Section 900) and Part 4 (commencing with Section 940) of Division 3.6 of Title 1 of the Government Code. Claims not governed thereby, or by other statutes, ordinances, or regulations authorized by law and expressly applicable to the claims, shall be presented to the district's board of directors.

25. If, during the seventh year after formation of the district, 5,000 registered voters of the district sign a petition to terminate the district, the Legislature shall conduct hearings and determine whether to dissolve the district. Nothing in this section precludes the voters of the district from petitioning their representatives regarding the dissolution of the district.

26. For the purposes of this act, an equivalent drainage unit (EDU) is defined as the ratio of the runoff from a given parcel to the runoff from the median single-family residential parcel and is calculated by the following formula:

$$\text{EDU} = \frac{\text{Area of parcel (acres)} \times \text{runoff factor of parcel}}{\text{Area of median single-family residential parcel} \times \text{runoff factor of single-family residential parcel}}$$

For the purposes of assessment determination, grazing lands have the same runoff factor as undeveloped rural land. For purposes of the initial annual assessments levied pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (b) of Section 320, the runoff factor of a parcel shall not exceed the applicable runoff factor utilized by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District in 1992. In no event shall any future runoff factors exceed any applicable runoff factor which may in the future be utilized by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

27. Nothing in this act is intended to exempt the activities, programs, or projects of the district from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act (Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code) where that act is otherwise applicable.

CHAPTER 4. POWERS AND PURPOSES

56. (a) The district may acquire lands, rights-of-way, easements, privileges, and property of every kind and nature, and construct, maintain, and operate any or all works or improvements within the district necessary or proper to carry out any of the purposes of the district, and to complete, extend, add to, repair, or otherwise improve any works or improvements acquired by the district.

57. (a) The district may impose, or cause to be imposed, assessments in accordance with this act and upon approval of the affected voters.

(b) The district may assess developer drainage fees in accordance with applicable provisions of law. The district may also credit developers for assessed fees when they construct improvements to the regional storm water and flood control system under the control of the district.

(c) The district's ability to impose assessments and collect developer drainage fees does not restrict local agencies from imposing assessments and collecting developer drainage fees and continuing to impose assessments and collect developer drainage fees for drainage and flood control improvements and services as permitted by law.

58. The district may incur indebtedness and may issue notes, bonds, warrants, or other evidence of the indebtedness as provided in this act.

59. (a) The district may make contracts and employ appraisers, consultants, attorneys, engineers, other technical advisers, and all employees necessary or convenient for the administration of the district, the maintenance and operation of any works under its jurisdiction, and the planning of any works or construction under this act.

(b) The district may establish its own work force to perform force account work up to ten thousand dollars ($10,000) in total value per project except for any emergency work when necessary in order to protect life and property from flood damage at which time a majority vote of the board of directors may increase this limit.

60. (a) The district may contract with any other public agency or any public utility for the use of any rights-of-way, easements, lands, works, or property owned by that agency or utility that are necessary, convenient, or useful to the district or necessary or convenient for the construction, operation, or maintenance of any flood control works, storm drain works, or water conservation works proposed to be financed by the district.

(b) The district may contract with the state, the federal government, or other public agency or utility for the acquisition, design, planning, or construction by that public agency or utility of any flood control, storm drain, or water conservation works financed by the district, or the maintenance, and operation thereof, or for any or all of the foregoing, and the district may carry out any or all of its powers either separately or in conjunction with one or more of those public agencies, and may make any contract or lease or accept any conveyance or property necessary or convenient for the accomplishment of the purposes of the district.

(c) The powers granted by this section shall be liberally construed.

61. The district may develop property for recreational, wildlife habitat, wetlands, storm water quality management, greenbelts, and related uses and purposes, if beneficial and incidental to the use thereof for flood control or the conservation of waters. The district may impose fees, rents, or other charges for these uses and may contract with any person or entity for the use or development of property for these purposes. Notwithstanding any provision of this act, this act does not permit the district to engage in any activity or project development within one and one-half miles of an airfield or runway that would create or lead to unsafe aircraft flight operations.

62. The district may sell or dispose of real property, or any interest therein or part thereof, whenever, in the judgment of the board of directors, the real property or interest therein or part thereof is no longer required for the purposes of the district and to pay any compensation received therefor into the general fund of the district, to be available for the purposes of the district. The district may lease or let real property or personal property, or any interest therein or part thereof, if, in the judgment of the board of directors, the real property or personal property, or interest therein or part thereof, is no longer required for the purposes of the district or may be leased or let for any purpose without interfering with the use thereof for the purposes of the district, and shall pay any compensation received therefor into the general fund of the district, to be available for the purposes of the district.

63. The district may accept a transfer and conveyance of flood control or storm drain improvements or drainage systems or water conservation facilities lying within or outside the district and thereupon assume sole control and jurisdiction and provide operation and maintenance for those improvements, drainage systems, and water conservation facilities.

64. The district may construct, operate, or maintain, or cause to be constructed, operated, or maintained, works to develop sources of energy and transmission lines for the conveyance thereof. The power generated may be used by the district for its purposes, but may not be offered for sale directly by the district to customers other than a public utility or public agency.

65. The district shall make reasonable efforts to involve all citizens and landowners within the district in the planning and administrative activities of the district.

66. (a) (1) The district shall prepare, not later than three years after the approval of the district by the voters, a plan for flood control and water conservation for the area included within the district, including the suburban, agricultural, and open-space areas.

(2) The board shall include in the plan at least all of the following components:

(A) Flood control and storm water conservation.

(B) Flood peak retarding.

(C) Special zones of benefit for assessment purposes.

(D) Environmental considerations.

(E) Multiple use opportunities.

(F) City and county plans.

(G) Methodologies intended for use. These methodologies shall demonstrate the benefit relationship between a proposed capital project and the area to be assessed.

(3) The district shall establish an advisory committee to assist in the preparation of the plan pursuant to this section and to make recommendations to the board of directors of the district concerning the plan. The advisory committee shall consist of volunteer representatives of urban interests, agricultural interests, industry, business, and other interests as the board of directors of the district determines to be appropriate. In establishing advisory committees, the district may take into consideration the diversity of topography, hydrological conditions, and land use within the large areas covered by the district. In order to assure community dialogue and public support as the plan is developed, advisory committees should by structured to represent the various watershed planning areas of the district. On the basis of land use and hydrology, advisory committee boundaries may overlap the boundaries of one or more internal district boundaries within the district.

(b) (1) The district may plan, construct, own, maintain, operate, regulate, and otherwise manage flood control or storm drain improvements, drainage systems, nuisance water improvements, or water conservation facilities as mutually agreed upon by the district and the various entities that have jurisdiction over those facilities.

(2) The district shall obtain the approval of the governing city or county prior to the construction of any flood control facility.

(c) The district is exempted from local agency approval for any routine maintenance of district facilities.

67. (a) Except as specified in subdivision (b), all existing drainage maintenance districts and existing flood control and drainage facilities shall remain under the existing jurisdiction and in full effect unless the controlling agency and the district mutually agree to convey any or all of the drainage maintenance district to the district, except those drainage facilities in the unincorporated area of Los Angeles County north of the northerly boundary of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District owned and maintained by the County of Los Angeles and those drainage facilities owned and maintained by the Los Angeles County Flood Control District within the boundary of the proposed district shall become part of the district upon the formation of the district.

(b) The district shall turn over annual proceeds received (1) for purposes of operation, maintenance, and repair prior to the district performing those services or (2) prior to the turnover, by the Cities of Palmdale and Lancaster, and the Counties of Los Angeles and Kern, of their current maintenance districts and flood control and drainage facilities, to the local agencies, in a sum proportionate to the annual proceeds received from the constituents of the local agencies, for the purposes for which they were received, less any associated administrative overhead costs. Any annual proceeds turned over to a local agency but not used by the end of two fiscal years from the date the proceeds were turned over to the local agency shall be returned to the district at the end of that two-year period.

68. The district, working with each local agency within the district, may assume the appropriate responsibilities for the national pollution discharge elimination system (NPDES) nonpoint discharge permit process within the district drainage areas and for each local agency within the district as allowed by law.

69. (a) To the extent permitted by federal law, the territory lying within Edwards Air Force Base shall be subject to any assessment levied by the district pursuant to this act.

(b) The district shall pursue all available federal funds for storm water conservation and flood control purposes.

PART 2. INTERNAL ORGANIZATION

CHAPTER 1. THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

100. The district shall be governed by the board of directors. The board consists of seven members elected by division as provided in Section 101. Each director shall be a resident of the division the director represents, and a registered voter in that division. The initial members of the board of directors shall be elected by the voters of the district at the formation election conducted pursuant to Section 20.

101. The district shall be divided into seven divisions for the purpose of electing directors. The divisions shall be numbered first, second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh. The boundaries of the divisions are as described in Section 12.

102. The election, terms of office, and related matters concerning members of the board of directors shall be governed by the Uniform District Election Law (Part 3 (commencing with Section 23500) of Division 14 of the Elections Code) unless otherwise provided in this act.

103. (a) The election of subsequent directors shall be held at the time of the general election referred to in Section 2550 of the Elections Code and shall be consolidated therewith.

(b) Candidates shall declare their candidacy no less than 88 and no more than 113 days before the general election. The candidate for director who receives the highest number of votes cast for candidates for the office of director in the division in which he or she seeks election shall be elected to that office.

(c) If a tie vote makes it impossible to determine which of two or more candidates has been elected, the board shall notify the candidates who have received the tie votes to appear before it either personally or by a representative at a time and place designated by the board. The board shall at that time and place determine the tie by lot and the results thereof shall be declared by the board. The candidate chosen shall qualify, take office, and serve as though elected at the preceding general district election.

104. (a) Whenever a sufficient change in the population occurs in the district after its organization which makes it desirable, in the judgment of the board of directors, to adjust the boundary or boundaries of any division or divisions, or whenever any territory is added to, or excluded from, the district, the board of directors shall, by resolution, adjust the boundaries of the division or divisions so as to equalize, as nearly as practicable, the population in the respective divisions after every federal decennial census.

(b) For this purpose, the board of directors may estimate the population by reference to the register of voters used at the last general election, and may adjust the boundaries of the respective divisions without regard to the places or residence of the directors then in office.

(c) (1) No change in the division boundaries shall be made within the four months immediately preceding the election of any director.

(2) A change in division boundaries does not affect the term of office of any director.

(3) If division boundaries are adjusted, the director of the division whose boundaries have been adjusted, until the office becomes vacant by means of term expiration or otherwise, shall continue to be the director for the respective division bearing the number of his or her division as formerly comprised, whether or not the director is a resident of the division as adjusted.

(4) The successor shall be a resident and voter of the adjusted division.

105. Within 30 days after the approval of the formation of the district by the voters at the election held pursuant to Section 20, the board of directors shall take the official oath of office. The board shall, as soon as practical, meet and organize by the selection of one of the directors as chairperson of the board who shall serve as chairperson for a term of two years. The determination of the terms of office of the original directors shall be in accordance with the Uniform District Election Law (Part 3 (commencing with Section 23500) of Division 14 of the Elections Code). The term of office of all members is thereafter four years.

106. Each director shall receive compensation in an amount not to exceed one hundred dollars ($100) per day for each day of attendance at meetings of the board or for each day of service rendered as a director by request of the board, not exceeding a total of six days in any calendar month, together with any expenses incurred in the performance of his or her duties required or authorized by the board.

107. A vacancy in the office of a member on the board shall be filled pursuant to Section 1780 of the Government Code, provided that the person chosen shall be a resident of, and otherwise qualified to be a director from, the division in which the vacancy occurs.

108. A majority of the members of the board constitutes a quorum, and the decision of a majority of all of the members of the board shall be necessary to take any action, unless otherwise provided in this act. If a meeting is not attended by a majority of the members of the board, a lesser number may adjourn the meeting to a specified time and any meeting may be adjourned by the vote of majority of the members present.

109. The board shall, by resolution, fix a regular time and place of meeting, and notice of each regular meeting shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within the district. The board shall also provide the method of calling special meetings and of giving notice thereof, but no special meeting may be called upon less than 24 hours' notice, except that in an emergency a special meeting may be called upon not less than three hours' notice or may be held pursuant to a waiver of notice signed by all members of the board and filed with the minutes of the meeting. Any emergency call or waiver shall set forth a general statement of the fact deemed to create the emergency. No defect in the statement shall invalidate the special meeting.

110. The board shall, by resolution, make rules and establish procedures that are necessary and convenient for the operation of the district.

111. The district shall be divided into district divisions for purposes of funding, planning, project design, and allocation of operation and maintenance costs as provided in Part 4 (commencing with Section 400).

CHAPTER 2. CONTRACTS AND EMPLOYEES

220. Except as otherwise provided in this act, all contracts for construction or repair of works or improvements shall be awarded pursuant to Article 68 (commencing with Section 21000) of Chapter 2 of Part 3 of Division 2 of the Public Contract Code.

221. The board shall appoint a chief engineer for the district who shall be the principal officer of the district and who shall be charged with the duty of managing and administering the affairs of the district in accordance with this act, subject to the direction and control of the board. The chief engineer shall be a registered civil engineer in this state. The chief engineer shall appoint all assistants, engineers, deputies, maintenance workers, and other persons employed by the district.

222. The board shall provide for the number of assistants, engineers, deputies, maintenance workers, and other persons to be employed by the district and for their compensation and duties.

223. At the request of the district board, cities or counties may from time to time assign various officers or employees to perform as ex officio officers or employees of the district at no additional compensation. The district shall reimburse the city or county for all costs and expenses incurred by reason of the performance of those duties.

PART 3. FINANCIAL PROVISIONS

CHAPTER 1. FUNDS AND ACCOUNTS

300. Any funds of the district may be deposited, to the credit of the district, in the treasury of any county or city within the boundaries of the district.

301. The district may establish and maintain any separate funds and accounts that it deems necessary in carrying out its powers and purposes under this act.

CHAPTER 2. BENEFIT ASSESSMENTS

320. (a) The district may impose assessments within an improvement district in accordance with any valid assessment act, bond act, or combination of assessment act and bond act permitted by law. The assessments may be imposed in any manner that reasonably reflects the benefit that will accrue to the area being assessed for the purpose of the assessment, including, but not limited to, the proportionate water runoff from each parcel assessed. For purposes of this section, proportionate storm water runoff may be used as a measure of benefit pursuant to subdivision (e) of Section 54715 of the Government Code.

(b) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, in the event that a majority of the voters voting on the proposition described in Section 20 vote in its favor, the district shall collect an initial annual assessment of two dollars ($2) per equivalent drainage unit on all properties within the district to be used for district administration, planning, operation, maintenance, repair, and emergency services and an additional annual assessment of three dollars ($3) per equivalent drainage unit on all properties with a density greater than one dwelling unit per two acres for the operation, maintenance, and repair of facilities and upon a majority vote of the district board, for district administration, planning, and emergency services. Funding collected from this assessment shall be used for district administration, planning, operation, maintenance, repair, and emergency services.

(2) The district may impose an assessment in excess of that amount only upon the approval of the voters in accordance with Section 54717 of the Government Code.

321. The district may impose assessments for expenditures made, or expenditures estimated to be required during the next calendar or fiscal year, for any lawful purpose of the district, including, but not limited to, any of the following purposes:

(a) The administration of the district.

(b) The formation expenses of improvement districts.

(c) Engineering and other activities undertaken in connection with the investigation and preparation of a comprehensive plan for flood control and water conservation.

(d) Actions relating to the implementation of the national pollution discharge elimination system (NPDES) permit program.

322. The district may impose assessments within an improvement district by a vote of the voters of that improvement district for improvement district expenditures made, or expenditures estimated to be required during the next calendar or fiscal year, for any lawful purpose of the district, including, but not limited to, any of the following purposes:

(a) Improvement district formation.

(b) Individual district division administration.

(c) Engineering and other activities undertaken in connection with the investigation and preparation of plans, land acquisition, and the design or construction of any work or project within a specific division, combination of divisions, or improvement district.

(d) Operation and maintenance of any district work or project within an improvement district.

(e) Payment of the principal of, and interest on, improvement district special benefit bonds issued in the manner set forth in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 330) and Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 340).

323. The revenues derived from the assessment shall be used for no purpose other than the purpose specified at the time of imposition of the assessment.

324. Any assessment imposed shall be proportionate to the benefit derived and to the degree of contribution to runoff from the affected property.

324.5. No assessment for flood control purposes may be imposed pursuant to this chapter on any property that does not contribute to runoff.

325. The district shall appoint an appeals board for the purpose of hearing comments and other evidence from property owners who seek to demonstrate that their property will not benefit from a proposed assessment. The appeals board may make recommendations to the board of directors to waive the imposition of the assessment or adjust the amount of the assessment based on the evidence presented.

326. The Kern County Water Agency, a body politic organized and existing under the Kern County Water Agency Act, currently receives a portion of the ad valorem property tax collected within Kern County, including areas lying within the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District. This tax shall continue to be collected for the benefit of the Kern County Water Agency, or its successor, and shall not be or become a portion of the assessments imposed by the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District. The Kern County Water Agency share of the ad valorem tax shall not be reduced as a result of this act.

CHAPTER 3. IMPROVEMENT BONDS

330. The district may, in any year, issue improvement bonds in accordance with any valid assessment act, bond act, or combination of assessment act and bond act permitted by law.

CHAPTER 4. SPECIAL BENEFIT BONDS

340. (a) The board of directors may determine that a bonded indebtedness should be incurred to pay the cost of any project that will confer a special benefit on the district as a whole, or a special benefit on any district division or improvement district. The principal of, and interest on, the special benefit bonds shall be paid by revenue derived from an annual assessment imposed on the land benefited by the project for which the bonds were issued.

(b) Before adopting a resolution issuing special benefit bonds, the board of directors shall adopt a resolution of intention stating the intention to issue the special benefit bonds, the proposed amount of the bonds, the proposed denomination and maximum rate of interest of the bonds, a description of the proposed project for which the bonds shall be issued, and a description of the area which shall receive a special benefit from the proposed project and in which an assessment shall be imposed to pay the principal of, and interest on, the bonds. The resolution shall also state the time and place for a hearing by the board of directors on the proposal, at which time any interested person may appear and be heard.

341. (a) Notice of the hearing shall be given by publishing a copy of the resolution of intention in a newspaper of general circulation published in the district, pursuant to Section 6066 of the Government Code, the first publication to be at least 14 days prior to the time fixed for the hearing. The hearing may be consolidated with a hearing on any other proposal affecting the same area.

(b) At the time and place so fixed, or at any time or place to which the hearing is continued, the board of directors shall hold the hearing provided for by the resolution, at which time any interested person may appear and be heard concerning any matter set forth in the resolution or any matter material thereto.

(c) Upon the conclusion of the hearing, the board may abandon the proposal, or order an election on the proposal within the area affected, unless prior to the conclusion of the hearing or any continued hearing, written protests against the proposal signed by 25 percent of the eligible voters within the affected area are filed with the board, in which event further proceedings relating to the proposal shall be suspended for not less than six months following the date of the conclusion of the hearing. If there is no majority protest, the board of directors may not proceed with the proposal before holding an election within the affected area.

(d) A majority of the votes cast at the election shall be required to approve the proposal to issue the bonds.

342. Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings in the calling or conduct of the special bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds authorized by the election.

343. The board of directors shall prescribe by resolution the form of bonds, which shall include a designation of the district or district division and of the interest coupons attached thereto. The bonds shall be payable annually or semiannually at the discretion of the board each and every year on a day and date at a place or places to be fixed by the board and designated in the bonds, together with interest on all sums unpaid on that date until the whole of the indebtedness shall be paid.

344. The board of directors may divide the principal amount of any issue into two or more series and fix different dates for the bonds of each series. The bonds of one series may be made payable at different times from these of another series. The maturity of each series shall comply with this section. The board may fix a date not more than two years from the date of issuance for the earliest maturity of each series issued.

345. The bonds shall be issued in the denomination the board of directors shall determine.

346. The bonds shall be payable on the date at the place fixed in the bonds, and at the interest rate specified in the bonds, and shall be made payable annually or semiannually.

347. The bonds shall be numbered consecutively and shall be signed by the chairperson of the board of directors and countersigned by the auditor or other fiscal officer of the district, and the seal of the district shall be affixed thereto. Either or both signatures may be printed, engraved, or lithographed.

348. The interest coupons, if any, of the bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the auditor or other fiscal officer, or by his or her printed, engraved, or lithographed signature.

349. (a) The proceeds from the sale of bonds shall be paid into the district treasury, placed to the credit of the project funds, and expended only for the purpose for which the indebtedness was created. In the alternative, the proceeds of the sale of the bonds may be placed in the treasury of the County of Los Angeles to the credit of the district and the respective district division or divisions or cooperating improvement district or districts for the uses and purposes of the district, or improvement district, and a proper record of the transaction shall be placed upon the books of the Treasurer of Los Angeles County, and the bond funds shall be used exclusively for the purposes mentioned in the resolution calling for the special bond election.

(b) Payments from bond funds shall be made upon demands prepared, presented, allowed, and audited in the same manner as demands upon the funds of the district. Unexpended bond proceeds may be invested in any manner permitted by law for district investments, and any interest earned thereon shall be credited to the project fund and expended only for the purpose for which the indebtedness was created.

350. Any bonds issued under this chapter, and the interest thereon, shall be paid solely by revenue derived from annual benefit assessments imposed pursuant to this act. No improvement district, nor the property therein, shall be liable for the bonded indebtedness of any other improvement district, nor shall any money derived from assessments in any of the several district divisions be used in payment of principal of, or interest on, or otherwise, of the bonded indebtedness chargeable to any other district division or improvement district.

351. Whenever bonds have been authorized by the district, and the proceeds of the sale thereof have been expended as authorized, and the board of directors, by resolution, determines that additional bonds shall be issued for carrying out any of the purposes of this act, the board of directors may again proceed as provided in this chapter for the issuance of bonds.

352. The board of directors may, by resolution, determine that new bonds should be issued for the purpose of refunding any or all of the bonds outstanding of the district or any district division or participating district division or improvement district. The procedure shall be the same as the procedure upon an original issue of bonds. The refunding bonds may be issued and sold in the manner and form prescribed for an original issue of bonds, and may, if the holders of bonds of an original issue and the board of directors so agree, be exchanged for the original bonds, if the face value of the refunding bonds so exchanged does not exceed the face value of the original bonds. The board of directors may raise money to pay the principal of, and interest on, the refunding bonds in the same manner as prescribed for the payment of bonds of an original issue.

353. Any bonds, original or refunding, may be made callable by resolution of the board of directors adopted at, or prior to, the time of issuing the bonds, and providing for the calling and redemption of the bonds, in numerical order, or by lot, on any interest payment date prior to their fixed maturity, at a premium not exceeding 6 percent above the par value thereof and accrued interest. If any bonds are made callable, a statement to that effect shall be set forth on the face of the bond. Notice of any redemption shall be published in the district pursuant to Section 6063 of the Government Code. The first publication of the notice shall be not less than 30, nor more than 90, days prior to the date fixed for the redemption. After the date fixed for the redemption, if the district has provided funds available for payment of the principal of, and interest on, the bonds so called, interest on the bonds shall thereafter cease.

354. The bonds shall be sold at a public sale to the lowest bidder, after notice of the sale has been given by publication in the district, pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code, at least one week prior to the sale and after any other notice which the board of directors may deem proper.

355. The manner of making, submitting, and opening bids, and conducting the sale, and the terms thereof, shall be determined by the board of directors. The board is hereby given the right to reject any and all bids which in the judgment of the board are not in the best interest of the district. If no bids are received, or if all bids are rejected, the board may either readvertise or sell the bonds at private sale.

356. Any bond issued under this chapter is free and exempt from all taxation with the State of California.

357. Any bond issued under this chapter shall be legal investments for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, commercial and savings banks, and trust companies, for state school funds, and whenever any money or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts, or other districts in this state, the money or funds may be invested in bonds of the district, issued in accordance with this act, and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, school districts or other districts may by law be used as security for the performance of any act, the bonds of the district may be so used.

358. The repeal or amendment of this act, or the dissolution or change in the boundaries of the district, district division, or improvement district shall not in any way affect or release any of the land in the district, district division, or improvement district from its liability on or from the obligations of any outstanding bonds or indebtedness or contracts for which the land is in any way security, until all the bonds and outstanding indebtedness and contracts have been fully paid or discharged.

359. The provisions of this chapter shall apply only to the issuance of special benefit bonds issued in accordance with this chapter.

CHAPTER 5. SHORT-TERM BORROWING

360. The district may borrow money and incur indebtedness in the manner set forth in this chapter by action of the board of directors.

361. Indebtedness may be incurred pursuant to this chapter for any purpose for which the district is authorized to expend funds.

362. Indebtedness incurred under this chapter shall be evidenced by warrants of the district payable not to exceed five years from their date and bearing interest at a rate not to exceed the maximum interest permitted for the sale of bonds of the district.

363. The warrants shall be issued by the district after the adoption by the board of directors of a resolution setting forth the form of the warrant, the maturity date or dates thereof, and the manner of execution thereof.

364. The board of directors may in its resolution provide that the warrant shall be subject to call and redemption prior to maturity, at the option of the district at a price that is determined in the resolution, not exceeding a premium of 6 percent of the par value of the warrants so subject to redemption. The resolution shall fix a method of giving notice of redemption to the holders of warrants to be redeemed and the price at which the warrants shall be subject to redemption. Warrants so subject to call and redemption prior to maturity shall contain a recital to that effect on their face.

365. The warrants issued shall be offered for public sale upon notice inviting sealed bids therefor. The notice shall be given by publication once in a newspaper of general circulation in the district and the sale shall not be held before 10 days after the publication. The board of directors may reject all bids received on public sale and either readvertise or sell the warrants at private sale. The district may sell the warrants at a price below par value not to exceed 6 percent of the par value thereof.

CHAPTER 6. COUNTY AND CITY FUNDING

370. For the purpose of supplementing the general operating revenues of the district, upon request made by the board of directors, the County of Los Angeles, the County of Kern, or any city within the boundaries of the district may grant funds from their general funds, or any other legally available funds, to the district without reimbursement from the district, for use for any purpose of the district within their respective boundaries for which the agencies are authorized to expend funds, including, but not limited to, expenses incurred or estimated to be incurred during the next fiscal year for each of the following:

(a) The formation and administration of the district.

(b) The preparation of a comprehensive flood control, flood plain management, and water conservation plan for the district for coordinating and managing the disposal of drain, flood, and storm water within the district, and improvement districts within the district for those purposes.

(c) The acquisition of works and the construction, repair, operation, and maintenance of the works for the control and disposal of drain, storm, and flood water, and water conservation within the district. Prior to the transfer of funds, each jurisdiction shall make a finding of mutual benefit.

371. The district shall deposit any county or city funds in a separate account and, upon demand of the county or city, demonstrate that expenditures made therefrom were used only for the purposes set forth in this chapter.

CHAPTER 7. MAXIMUM INTEREST AND DISCOUNT RATES

380. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, a bond or evidence of indebtedness of the district, district division, or improvement district may bear interest at a rate or rates as determined by the board of directors in its discretion, but not to exceed 12 percent per year, unless some higher rate is permitted by law.

381. In addition to interest paid on a bond or evidence of indebtedness of the district, the board of directors may sell the bond or evidence of indebtedness at less than its par or face value not to exceed a discount rate of 6 percent.

PART 4. IMPROVEMENT DISTRICTS

400. Improvement districts may be formed in the district in the same manner as improvement districts are formed in irrigation districts under Part 7 (commencing with Section 23600) of Division 11 of the Water Code. Improvement districts and assessment districts may be formed within the boundaries of any district division. District divisions created under this act may jointly participate in a project or projects.

SEC. 2. The Legislature finds and declares that this act, which is applicable only to the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District, is necessary because of the unique and special storm water and flood control management opportunities and problems in the area included in that district. It is, therefore, declared that a general law within the meaning of Section 16 of Article IV of the California Constitution cannot be made applicable and that the enactment of this special law is necessary for the conservation, development, control, and use of that water for the public good.

SEC. 3. Section 2 of this act, which transfers territory of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District to the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District, shall become operative only if the creation of the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District is approved by the voters as provided in this act. The effective date of the transfer shall be July 1, 1995. The transfer of the territory from the Los Angeles County Flood Control District to the Antelope Valley Storm Water Conservation and Flood Control District shall not impair the rights of any bondholder or other creditor of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District. Any properties subject to ad valorem taxation to repay any bonded indebtedness of the Los Angeles County Flood Control District shall remain so subject until the bonds are retired.

SEC. 4. The audit report shall be submitted to the secretary of the agency and the respective director for evaluation and for any response deemed necessary by the director.

SEC. 2. This act shall become operative only if Senate Bill 1462 of the 1993–94 Regular Session is enacted and becomes effective on or before January 1, 1995.

CHAPTER 766

An act to add Chapter 8.2 (commencing with Section 6125) to Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, relating to corrections, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 8.2 (commencing with Section 6125) is added to Title 7 of Part 3 of the Penal Code, to read:

CHAPTER 8.2. OFFICE OF THE INSPECTOR GENERAL

6125. There is hereby created the office of the Inspector General. The Governor shall appoint the Inspector General subject to Senate confirmation of that appointment.

6126. (a) Inspector General shall be housed and supported by the Youth and Adult Correctional Agency, and shall be responsible for reviewing departmental policy and procedures for conducting investigations and audits of investigatory practices and other audits and investigations of the Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, the Board of Prison Terms, the Youthful Offender Parole Board, or the Board of Corrections, as requested by either the Secretary of the Youth and Adult Correctional Agency or a Member of the Legislature, pursuant to the approval of the Inspector General under policies to be developed by the Inspector General with the approval of the secretary.

(b) Upon completion of an investigation or audit, the Inspector General shall provide a response to the requester.

(c) In the accomplishment of investigatory audits, the Inspector General shall also identify areas of full and partial compliance, and noncompliance, with departmental investigatory policies and procedures, specify deficiencies in the completion and documentation of investigatory processes, and recommend corrective actions, including, but not limited to, additional training with respect to investigative policies.

6127. (a) The Department of Corrections, the Department of the Youth Authority, the Board of Prison Terms, the Youthful Offender Parole Board, and the Board of Corrections shall comply with all requests of the Inspector General for any document or record contained on any medium.

(b) The Inspector General may require any employee of either department to be interviewed on a confidential basis. Any employee so requested shall comply and shall have time afforded by the appointing authority for the purpose of an interview with the Inspector General or his or her designee. Any record created by an interview shall be deemed confidential for use by the secretary and the Inspector General only. It is not the purpose of these communications to address disciplinary action or grievance procedures which may routinely occur.

6128. (a) The office of Inspector General may receive communications from any individual employed by any department, board, or authority who believes he or she may have information that may describe a variance from departmental investigatory policies and procedures. The identity of the person providing the information shall be held as confidential by the Inspector General and may be disclosed only to the secretary or the Governor, or the appropriate director or chairperson, in confidence or a law enforcement agency in the furtherance of their duties. It is not the purpose of these communications to redress any single disciplinary action or grievance that may routinely occur.

(b) Any request to conduct an investigation shall be in writing. The request shall be confidential and is not subject to disclosure under the Public Records Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code).

(c) The identity of the person providing the information that initiated the investigation shall not be disclosed without that person's written permission, except to a law enforcement agency in the furtherance of its duties.

6129. (a) Any state employee at any rank and file, supervisory, or managerial level who intentionally engages in acts of reprisal, retaliation, threats, coercion, or similar acts against an employee of either department for having disclosed what the employee, in good faith, believed to be improper activities shall be disciplined by adverse action as provided in Section 19572 of the Government Code. If no adverse action is instituted by the appointing power, the State Personnel Board shall invoke adverse action as provided in Section 19583.5 of the Government Code.

(b) In addition to all other penalties provided by law, any state employee at any rank and file, supervisory, or managerial level who intentionally engages in acts of reprisal, retaliation, threats, coercion, or similar acts against an employee of either department for having disclosed what the employee, in good faith, believed to be improper activities shall be liable in an action for damages brought against him or her by the injured party. Punitive damages may be awarded by the court if the acts of the offending party are proven to be malicious. If reliability has been established, the injured party shall also be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees as provided by law.

(c) The Inspector General may refer matters involving criminal conduct to the proper law enforcement authorities in the appropriate jurisdiction for further action.

SEC. 2. The Department of Finance shall transfer, from the appropriation for the support of the Department of Corrections and the Department of the Youth Authority contained in the Budget Act of 1994, an amount not to exceed two hundred fifty thousand dollars ($250,000) to the Youth and Adult Correctional Agency for the purpose of establishing the office of the Inspector General as provided for in this act.

CHAPTER 767

An act to add and repeal Section 739.3 of the Public Utilities Code, relating to public utilities.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The Legislature finds and declares that electric utility customers residing in extreme climatic zones have higher electric bills than those customers living in other climatic zones and that alternative rate structures can reduce customer costs during extreme weather months.

The Legislature further finds and declares that the current inverted electric rate structure does not reflect costs imposed on the electric system by high-customer usage during extreme weather months.

SEC. 2. Section 739.3 is added to the Public Utilities Code, to read:

739.3. (a) Nothing in Section 739 shall prohibit the development of experimental electrical residential rate schedules where the energy component of the rate charged to the customers paying the experimental rate decreases as consumption increases, if the utility demonstrates and the commission finds that the consumption pattern of those participating customers causes the energy costs of the utility to decrease as consumption increases. Revenues foregone from participating customers as a result of the experimental rate schedule shall not be recovered from other customers.

(b) This section is applicable only within extreme climatic zones 15 and 16, as defined by the State Energy Resources Conservation and Development Commission, and that are located within the service territory of the Southern California Edison Company, and only for residential customers who purchase and install high-efficiency heating or cooling equipment for whom the Southern California Edison Company demonstrates and the commission finds that the consumption pattern of those participating customers causes the energy costs of the utility to decrease as consumption increases.

(c) Nothing in this section shall cause any changes to the baseline quantities or rates established for these climatic zones.

(d) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends that date.

CHAPTER 768

An act to amend Sections 3005 and 3800 of the Fish and Game Code, relating to wildlife, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3005 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

3005. (a) It is unlawful to take birds or mammals with any net, pound, cage, trap, set line or wire, or poisonous substance, or to possess birds or mammals so taken, whether taken within or without this state, except as provided in this code or, when relating to ongoing mining operations, in accordance with a mitigation plan approved by the department.

(b) (1) Mitigation plans relating to mining operations approved by the department shall, among other criteria, require avoidance of take, where feasible, and include reasonable and practicable methods of mitigating the unavoidable take of birds and mammals. When approving mitigation plans, the department shall consider the use of the best available technology on a site-specific basis.

(2) Mitigation plans relating to mining operations approved by the department shall include provisions that address circumstances where mining operations contribute to bird deaths, including ponding of process solutions on heap leach pads and exposure of process solution channels, solution ponds, and tailing ponds.

(3) The mine operator shall prepare a mitigation plan that shall be submitted to the department for approval. For ongoing mining operations, the mitigation plan shall result in an overall reduction in take of avian or mammal species. The department shall provide an opportunity for public review and comment on each mitigation plan during the department's approval process. The mitigation plan shall be prepared on a site-specific basis and may provide for offsite mitigation measures designed to reduce avian mortality. The mine operator shall submit monthly monitoring reports on avian mortality to the department to aid in evaluating the effectiveness of onsite mitigation measures.

(4) The department shall monitor and evaluate implementation of the mitigation plan by the mine operator and require modification of the plan or other remedial actions to be taken if the overall reduction in take of avian or mammal species required pursuant to paragraph (3) is not being achieved.

(5) The mining operator shall reimburse the department for its direct costs to provide appropriate notice of the mitigation plan to affected local government entities and other affected parties. The mine operator shall provide the department a limited number of copies, as determined by the department, of the mitigation plan for public review.

(c) Proof of possession of any bird or mammal that does not show evidence of having been taken by means other than a net, pound, cage, trap, set line or wire, or poisonous substance, is prima facie evidence that the birds or mammals were taken in violation of this section.

(d) This section does not apply to the lawful taking of fur-bearing mammals, nongame birds, nongame mammals, or mammals found to be injuring crops or property, to the taking of birds or mammals under depredation permits, to taking by employees of the department acting in an official capacity, or to taking in accordance with the conditions of a scientific or propagation permit by the holder of that permit.

SEC. 2. Section 3800 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

3800. (a) All birds occurring naturally in California that are not resident game birds, migratory game birds, or fully protected birds are nongame birds. It is unlawful to take any nongame bird except as provided in this code or in accordance with regulations of the commission or, when relating to mining operations, a mitigation plan approved by the department.

(b) (1) Mitigation plans relating to mining operations approved by the department shall, among other criteria, require avoidance of take, where feasible, and include reasonable and practicable methods of mitigating the unavoidable take of birds and mammals. When approving mitigation plans, the department shall consider the use of the best available technology on a site-specific basis.

(2) Mitigation plans relating to mining operations approved by the department shall include provisions that address circumstances where mining operations contribute to bird deaths, including ponding of process solutions on heap leach pads and exposure of process solution channels, solution ponds, and tailing ponds.

(3) The mine operator shall prepare a mitigation plan that shall be submitted to the department for approval. For ongoing mining operations, the mitigation plan alone or in conjunction with regulations adopted by the commission shall result in an overall reduction in take of avian or mammal species. The department shall provide an opportunity for public review and comment on each mitigation plan during the department's approval process. The mitigation plan shall be prepared on a site-specific basis and may provide for offsite mitigation measures designed to reduce avian mortality. The mine operator shall submit monthly monitoring reports on avian mortality to the department to aid in evaluating the effectiveness of onsite mitigation measures.

(4) The mining operator shall reimburse the department for its direct costs to provide appropriate notice of the mitigation plan to affected local government entities and other affected parties. The mine operator shall provide the department a limited number of copies, as determined by the department, of the mitigation plan for public review.

(c) The department shall monitor and evaluate implementation of the mitigation plan by the mine operator and require modification of the plan or other remedial actions to be taken if the overall reduction in take of avian or mammal species required pursuant to paragraph (3) is not being achieved.

CHAPTER 769

An act to amend Section 14771 of, and to add Sections 11530 and 14775 to, the Government Code, relating to state agencies.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11530 is added to the Government Code, to read:

11530. (a) (1) The office shall hear and render a decision on any appeal filed by a business, pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 14775, in the event the business contests the certification by a state agency head that reporting requirements meet established criteria and shall not be eliminated.

(2) Before a business may file an appeal with the office pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 14775, the business shall file a challenge to a form or report required by a state agency with that state agency. Within 60 days of filing the challenge with a state agency, the state agency shall either eliminate the form or report or provide written justification for its continued use.

(3) A business may appeal a state agency's written justification for the continued use of a form or report with the office.

(4) If a state agency fails to respond within 60 days of the filing of a challenge pursuant to paragraph (2), the business shall have an immediate right to file an appeal with the office.

(b) No later than January 1, 1996, the office shall adopt procedures governing the filing, hearing, and disposition of appeals. The procedures shall include, but shall not be limited to, provisions that assure that appeals are heard and decisions rendered by the office in a fair, impartial, and timely fashion.

(c) The office may charge appellants a reasonable fee to pay for costs it incurs in complying with this section.

(d) For purposes of this section, "office" means the Office of Administrative Hearings.

SEC. 2. Section 14771 of the Government Code is amended to read:

14771. (a) The director, through the forms management center, shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish a State Forms Management Program for all state agencies, and provide assistance in establishing internal forms management capabilities.

(2) Study, develop, coordinate and initiate forms of interagency and common administrative usage, and establish basic state design and specification criteria to effect the standardization of public-use forms.

(3) Provide assistance to state agencies for economical forms design and forms art work composition and establish and supervise control procedures to prevent the undue creation and reproduction of public-use forms.

(4) Provide assistance, training, and instruction in forms management techniques to state agencies, forms management representatives, and departmental forms coordinators, and provide direct administrative and forms management assistance to new state organizations as they are created.

(5) Maintain a central cross index of public-use forms to facilitate the standardization of these forms, to eliminate redundant forms, and to provide a central source of information on the usage and availability of forms.

(6) Utilize appropriate procurement techniques to take advantage of competitive bidding, consolidated orders, and contract procurement of forms, and work directly with the State Printer toward more efficient, economical and timely procurement, receipt, storage, and distribution of state forms.

(7) Coordinate the forms management program with the existing state archives and records management program to insure timely disposition of outdated forms and related records.

(8) Conduct periodic evaluations of the effectiveness of the overall forms management program and the forms management practices of the individual state agencies, and maintain records which indicate net dollar savings which have been realized through centralized forms management.

(9) Develop and promulgate rules and standards to implement the overall purposes of this section.

(10) Create and maintain by July 1, 1986, a complete and comprehensive inventory of public-use forms in current use by the state.

(11) Establish and maintain, by July 1, 1986, an index of all public-use forms in current use by the state.

(12) Assign, by January 1, 1987, a control number to all public-use forms in current use by the state.

(13) Establish a goal to reduce the existing burden of state collections of public information by 30 percent by July 1, 1987, and to reduce that burden by an additional 15 percent by July 1, 1988.

(14) Delegate implementing authority to state agencies where the delegation will result in the most timely and economical method of accomplishing the responsibilities set forth in this section.

The director, through the forms management center, may require any agency to revise any public-use form which the director determines is inefficient.

(b) Due to the need for tax forms to be available to the public on a timely basis, all tax forms, including returns, schedules, notices, and instructions prepared by the Franchise Tax Board for public use in connection with its administration of the Personal Income Tax Law, Senior Citizens Property Tax Assistance and Postponement Law, Bank and Corporation Tax Law, and the Political Reform Act of 1974 and the State Board of Equalization's administration of county assessment standards, state-assessed property, timber tax, sales and use tax, hazardous substances tax, alcoholic beverage tax, cigarette tax, motor vehicle fuel license tax, use fuel tax, energy resources surcharge, emergency telephone users surcharge, insurance tax, and universal telephone service tax shall be exempt from subdivision (a), and, instead, each board shall do all of the following:

(1) Establish a goal to standardize, consolidate, simplify, efficiently manage, and, where possible, reduce the number of tax forms.

(2) Create and maintain, by July 1, 1986, a complete and comprehensive inventory of tax forms in current use by the board.

(3) Establish and maintain, by July 1, 1986, an index of all tax forms in current use by the board.

(4) Report to the Legislature, by January 1, 1987, on its progress to improve the effectiveness and efficiency of all tax forms.

(c) The director, through the forms management center, shall develop and maintain, by December 31, 1995, an ongoing master inventory of all nontax reporting forms required of businesses by state agencies, including a schedule for notifying each state agency of the impending expiration of certain report review requirements pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 14775.

SEC. 3. Section 14775 is added to the Government Code, to read:

14775. (a) By June 30, 1995, each state agency shall inventory all reports and forms it requires businesses to complete and submit in order to comply with agency requirements. As part of this inventory, each state agency shall eliminate all forms it determines are no longer needed to enable the agency to carry out its statutory responsibilities. By June 30, 1995, each state agency shall submit this inventory to the Director of General Services in order to enable the director to carry out his or her responsibilities under subdivision (c) of Section 14771.

(b) Commencing December 31, 1995, and annually thereafter, each state agency shall review one-third of the reports and forms it requires businesses to submit for compliance purposes, so that each report or form is reviewed on a triennial basis. Upon review, a report or form shall be eliminated unless the agency head certifies that each reporting requirement meets all of the following criteria:

(1) The continued reporting requirement is necessary for the agency to meet specifically identified statutory responsibilities.

(2) The agency has authority to require the report.

(3) The report is not duplicatory of, or in conflict with, other reports required of business by the agency or other agencies of state government.

(4) The information cannot be obtained in a more cost-effective manner.

(5) The agency actually reviewed, and is actively using, the information obtained in the previous reports required of business.

(c) If an agency head certifies that a reporting requirement meets the criteria specified in subdivision (b), any business required to comply with that requirement may, consistent with Section 8526, appeal that certification to the Office of Administrative Hearings.

(d) Notwithstanding Section 14773, this section shall apply to all state agencies as defined in Section 11000.

(e) This section shall not apply to any report or form required by statute, any regulation adopted pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (Ch. 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340), Pt. 1), or any judicial or administrative order.

(f) This section shall not be construed to eliminate any requirement imposed on a state agency to comply with the rulemaking portion of the Administrative Procedure Act (Ch. 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340), Pt. 1).

CHAPTER 770

An act to amend Sections 1203.016, 1208.2, 1208.3, 1208.5, and 2900.5 of the Penal Code, relating to local corrections.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1203.016 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1203.016. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the board of supervisors of any county may authorize the correctional administrator, as defined in subdivision (h), to offer a program under which minimum security inmates and low-risk offenders committed to a county jail or other county correctional facility or granted probation, or inmates participating in a work furlough program, may voluntarily participate in a home detention program during their sentence in lieu of confinement in the county jail or other county correctional facility or program under the auspices of the probation officer.

(b) The board of supervisors may prescribe reasonable rules and regulations under which a home detention program may operate. As a condition of participation in the home detention program, the inmate shall give his or her consent in writing to participate in the home detention program and shall in writing agree to comply with the rules and regulations of the program, including, but not limited to, the following rules:

(1) The participant shall remain within the interior premises of his or her residence during the hours designated by the correctional administrator.

(2) The participant shall admit any person or agent designated by the correctional administrator into his or her residence at any time for purposes of verifying the participant's compliance with the conditions of his or her detention.

(3) The participant shall agree to the use of electronic monitoring or supervising devices for the purpose of helping to verify his or her compliance with the rules and regulations of the home detention program. The devices shall not be used to eavesdrop or record any conversation, except a conversation between the participant and the person supervising the participant which is to be used solely for the purposes of voice identification.

(4) The participant shall agree that the correctional administrator in charge of the county correctional facility from which the participant was released may, without further order of the court, immediately retake the person into custody to serve the balance of his or her sentence if the electronic monitoring or supervising devices are unable for any reason to properly perform their function at the designated place of home detention, if the person fails to remain within the place of home detention as stipulated in the agreement, if the person willfully fails to pay fees to the provider of electronic home detention services, as stipulated in the agreement, subsequent to the written notification of the participant that the payment has not been received and that return to custody may result, or if the person for any other reason no longer meets the established criteria under this section. A copy of the agreement shall be delivered to the participant and a copy retained by the correctional administrator.

(c) Whenever the peace officer supervising a participant has reasonable cause to believe that the participant is not complying with the rules or conditions of the program, or that the electronic monitoring devices are unable to function properly in the designated place of confinement, the peace officer may, under general or specific authorization of the correctional administrator, and without a warrant of arrest, retake the person into custody to complete the remainder of the original sentence.

(d) Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the correctional administrator to allow a person to participate in this program if it appears from the record that the person has not satisfactorily complied with reasonable rules and regulations while in custody. A person shall be eligible for participation in a home detention program only if the correctional administrator concludes that the person meets the criteria for release established under this section and that the person's participation is consistent with any reasonable rules and regulations prescribed by the board of supervisors or the administrative policy of the correctional administrator.

(1) The rules and regulations and administrative policy of the program shall be written and reviewed on an annual basis by the county board of supervisors and the correctional administrator. The rules and regulations shall be given to or made available to any participant upon request.

(2) The correctional administrator, or his or her designee, shall have the sole discretionary authority to permit program participation as an alternative to physical custody. All persons referred or recommended by the court to participate in the home detention program pursuant to subdivision (e) who are denied participation or all persons removed from program participation shall be notified in writing of the specific reasons for the denial or removal. The notice of denial or removal shall include the participant's appeal rights, as established by program administrative policy.

(e) The court may recommend or refer a person to the correctional administrator for consideration for placement in the home detention program. The recommendation or referral of the court shall be given great weight in the determination of acceptance or denial. At the time of sentencing or at any time that the court deems it necessary, the court may restrict or deny the defendant's participation in a home detention program.

(f) The correctional administrator may permit home detention program participants to seek and retain employment in the community, attend psychological counseling sessions or educational or vocational training classes, or seek medical and dental assistance. Willful failure of the program participant to return to the place of home detention not later than the expiration of any period of time during which he or she is authorized to be away from the place of home detention pursuant to this section and unauthorized departures from the place of home detention are punishable as provided in Section 4532.

(g) The board of supervisors may prescribe a program administrative fee to be paid by each home detention participant that shall be determined according to his or her ability to pay. Inability to pay all or a portion of the program fees shall not preclude participation in the program, and eligibility shall not be enhanced by reason of ability to pay. All program administration and supervision fees shall be administered in compliance with Section 1208.2.

(h) As used in this section, the following words have the following meanings:

(1) "Correctional administrator" means the sheriff, probation officer, or director of the county department of corrections.

(2) "Minimum security inmate" means an inmate who, by established local classification criteria, would be eligible for placement in a Type IV local detention facility, as described in Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations, or for placement into the community for work or school activities, or who is determined to be a minimum security risk under a classification plan developed pursuant to Section 1050 of Title 15 of the California Code of Regulations.

(3) "Low-risk offender" means a probationer, as defined by the National Institute of Corrections model probation system.

(i) Notwithstanding any other law, the police department of a city where an office is located to which persons on an electronic monitoring program report may require the county correctional administrator to provide information concerning those persons. This information shall be limited to the name, address, date of birth, and offense committed by the home detainee. Any information received by a police department pursuant to this paragraph shall be used only for the purpose of monitoring the impact of home detention programs on the community.

(j) It is the intent of the Legislature that home detention programs established under this section maintain the highest public confidence, credibility, and public safety. In the furtherance of these standards, the following shall apply:

(1) The correctional administrator, with the approval of the board of supervisors, may administer a home detention program pursuant to written contracts with appropriate public or private agencies or entities to provide specified program services. No public or private agency or entity may operate a home detention program in any county without a written contract with that county's correctional administrator. However, this does not apply to the use of electronic monitoring by the California Department of Corrections or the Department of the Youth Authority as established in Section 3004. No public or private agency or entity entering into a contract may itself employ any person who is in the home detention program.

(2) Program acceptance shall not circumvent the normal booking process for sentenced offenders. All home detention program participants shall be supervised.

(3) (A) All privately operated home detention programs shall be under the jurisdiction of, and subject to the terms and conditions of the contract entered into with, the correctional administrator.

(B) Each contract shall include, but not be limited to, all of the following:

(i) A provision whereby the private agency or entity agrees to operate in compliance with any available standards promulgated by state correctional agencies and bodies, including the Board of Corrections, and all statutory provisions and mandates, state and county, as appropriate and applicable to the operation of home detention programs and the supervision of sentenced offenders in a home detention program.

(ii) A provision that clearly defines areas of respective responsibility and liability of the county and the private agency or entity.

(iii) A provision that requires the private agency or entity to demonstrate evidence of financial responsibility, submitted and approved by the board of supervisors, in amounts and under conditions sufficient to fully indemnify the county for reasonably foreseeable public liability, including legal defense costs, that may arise from, or be proximately caused by, acts or omissions of the contractor. The contract shall provide for annual review by the correctional administrator to ensure compliance with requirements set by the board of supervisors and for adjustment of the financial responsibility requirements if warranted by caseload changes or other factors.

(iv) A provision that requires the private agency or entity to provide evidence of financial responsibility, such as certificates of insurance or copies of insurance policies, prior to commencing any operations pursuant to the contract or at any time requested by the board of supervisors or correctional administrator.

(v) A provision that permits the correctional administrator to immediately terminate the contract with a private agency or entity at any time that the contractor fails to demonstrate evidence of financial responsibility.

(C) All privately operated home detention programs shall comply with all appropriate, applicable ordinances and regulations specified in subdivision (a) of Section 1208.

(D) The board of supervisors, the correctional administrator, and the designee of the correctional administrator shall comply with Section 1090 of the Government Code in the consideration, making, and execution of contracts pursuant to this section.

(E) The failure of the private agency or entity to comply with statutory provisions and requirements or with the standards established by the contract and with the correctional administrator may be sufficient cause to terminate the contract.

(F) Upon the discovery that a private agency or entity with whom there is a contract is not in compliance pursuant to this paragraph, the correctional administrator shall give 60 days' notice to the director of the private agency or entity that the contract may be canceled if the specified deficiencies are not corrected.

(G) Shorter notice may be given or the contract may be canceled without notice whenever a serious threat to public safety is present because the private agency or entity has failed to comply with this section.

(k) For purposes of this section, "evidence of financial responsibility" may include, but is not limited to, certified copies of any of the following:

(1) A current liability insurance policy.

(2) A current errors and omissions insurance policy.

(3) A surety bond.

SEC. 2. Section 1208.2 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208.2. (a) (1) This section shall apply to individuals authorized to participate in a work furlough program pursuant to Section 1208, or to individuals authorized to participate in an electronic home detention program pursuant to Section 1203.016, or to individuals authorized to participate in a county parole program pursuant to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 3074) of Chapter 8 of Title 1 of Part 3.

(2) As used in this section, as appropriate, "administrator" means the sheriff, probation officer, director of the county department of corrections, or county parole administrator.

(b) (1) A board of supervisors which implements programs identified in paragraph (1) of subdivision (a), may prescribe a program administrative fee and an application fee, that together shall not exceed the pro rata cost of the program to which the person is accepted, including equipment, supervision, and other operating costs, except as provided in paragraph (2).

(2) With regard to a privately operated electronic home detention program pursuant to Section 1203.016, the limitation, described in paragraph (1), in prescribing a program administrative fee and application fee shall not apply.

(c) The correctional administrator, or his or her designee, shall not have access to a person's financial data prior to granting or denying a person's participation in, or assigning a person to, any of the programs governed by this section.

(d) The correctional administrator, or his or her designee, shall not consider a person's ability or inability to pay all or a portion of the program fee for the purposes of granting or denying a person's participation in, or assigning a person to, any of the programs governed by this section.

(e) For purposes of this section, "ability to pay" means the overall capability of the person to reimburse the costs, or a portion of the costs, of providing supervision and shall include, but shall not be limited to, consideration of all of the following factors:

(1) Present financial position.

(2) Reasonably discernible future financial position. In no event shall the administrator, or his or her designee, consider a period of more than six months from the date of acceptance into the program for purposes of determining reasonably discernible future financial position.

(3) Likelihood that the person shall be able to obtain employment within the six-month period from the date of acceptance into the program.

(4) Any other factor that may bear upon the person's financial capability to reimburse the county for the fees fixed pursuant to subdivision (b).

(f) The administrator, or his or her designee, may charge a person the fee set by the board of supervisors or any portion of the fee and may determine the method and frequency of payment. Any fee the administrator, or his or her designee, charges pursuant to this section shall not in any case be in excess of the fee set by the board of supervisors and shall be based on the person's ability to pay. The administrator, or his or her designee, shall have the option to waive the fees for program supervision when deemed necessary, justified, or in the interests of justice. The fees charged for program supervision may be modified or waived at any time based on the changing financial position of the person. All fees paid by persons for program supervision shall be deposited into the general fund of the county.

(g) No person shall be denied consideration for, or be removed from, participation in any of the programs to which this section applies because of an inability to pay all or a portion of the program supervision fees. At any time during a person's sentence, the person may request that the administrator, or his or her designee, modify or suspend the payment of fees on the grounds of a change in circumstances with regard to the person's ability to pay.

(h) If the person and the administrator, or his or her designee, are unable to come to an agreement regarding the person's ability to pay, or the amount which is to be paid, or the method and frequency with which payment is to be made, the administrator, or his or her designee, shall advise the appropriate court of the fact that the person and administrator, or his or her designee, have not been able to reach agreement and the court shall then resolve the disagreement by determining the person's ability to pay, the amount which is to be paid, and the method and frequency with which payment is to be made.

(i) At the time a person is approved for any of the programs to which this section applies, the administrator, or his or her designee, shall furnish the person a written statement of the person's rights in regard to the program for which the person has been approved, including, but not limited to, both of the following:

(1) The fact that the person cannot be denied consideration for or removed from participation in the program because of an inability to pay.

(2) The fact that if the person is unable to reach agreement with the administrator, or his or her designee, regarding the person's ability to pay, the amount which is to be paid, or the manner and frequency with which payment is to be made, that the matter shall be referred to the court to resolve the differences.

(j) In all circumstances where a county board of supervisors has approved a program administrator, as described in Sections 1203.016 and 1208, to enter into a contract with a private agency or entity to provide specified program services, the program administrator shall ensure that the provisions of this section are contained within any contractual agreement for this purpose. All privately operated home detention programs shall comply with all appropriate, applicable ordinances and regulations specified in subdivision (a) of Section 1208.

(k) This section shall remain operative until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 3. Section 1208.3 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208.3. The administrator is not prohibited by subdivision (c) of Section 1208.2 from verifying any of the following:

(a) That the prisoner is receiving wages at a rate of pay not less than the prevailing minimum wage requirement as provided for in subdivision (c) of Section 1208.

(b) That the prisoner is working a specified minimum number of required hours.

(c) That the prisoner is covered under an appropriate or suitable workers' compensation insurance plan as may otherwise be required by law.

The purpose of the verification shall be solely to insure that the prisoner's employment rights are being protected, that the prisoner is not being taken advantage of, that the job is suitable for the prisoner, and that the prisoner is making every reasonable effort to make a productive contribution to the community.

(d) This section shall remain operative until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 4. Section 1208.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208.5. The boards of supervisors of two or more counties having work furlough programs established pursuant to Section 1208, home detention programs established pursuant to Section 1203.016, or county parole programs established pursuant to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 3074) of Chapter 8 of Title 1 of Part 3, may enter into agreements whereby a person sentenced to, or imprisoned in, the jail of one county, but regularly residing in another county or regularly employed in another county, may be transferred from the custody of the sheriff, administrator, as defined in paragraph (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 1208.2, or their designees, of the county in which he or she is confined, to the custody of the appropriate administrator of the county in which he or she resides or is employed, in order that he or she may be enabled to continue in his or her regular employment or education in the other county through that county's work furlough program, home detention program, or county parole program. These agreements may make provision for the support of transferred persons by the county from which they are transferred. The board of supervisors of any county may, by ordinance, delegate the authority to enter into these agreements to the work furlough administrator, corrections administrator, county home detention program administrator, county board of parole commissioners, county parole administrator, or their designees.

This section shall remain operative until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 1208.5 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

1208.5. The boards of supervisors of two or more counties having work furlough programs may enter into agreements whereby a person sentenced to, or imprisoned in, the jail of one county, but regularly residing in another county or regularly employed in another county, may be transferred by the sheriff of the county in which he or she is confined to the jail of the county in which he or she resides or is employed, in order that he or she may be enabled to continue in his or her regular employment or education in the other county through the county's work furlough program. This agreement may make provision for the support of transferred persons by the county from which they are transferred. The board of supervisors of any county may, by ordinance, delegate the authority to enter into these agreements to the work furlough administrator.

This section shall become operative on January 1, 1999.

SEC. 6. Section 2900.5 of the Penal Code, as amended by Section 9 of Chapter 437 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

2900.5. (a) In all felony and misdemeanor convictions, either by plea or by verdict, when the defendant has been in custody, including, but not limited to, any time spent in a jail, camp, work furlough facility, halfway house, rehabilitation facility, hospital, prison, juvenile detention facility, similar residential institution, or home detention program, all days of custody of the defendant, including days served as a condition of probation in compliance with a court order, and including days credited to the period of confinement pursuant to Section 4019, shall be credited upon his or her term of imprisonment, or credited to any fine which may be imposed, at the rate of not less than thirty dollars ($30) per day, or more, in the discretion of the court imposing the sentence. If the total number of days in custody exceeds the number of days of the term of imprisonment to be imposed, the entire term of imprisonment shall be deemed to have been served. In any case where the court has imposed both a prison or jail term of imprisonment and a fine, any days to be credited to the defendant shall first be applied to the term of imprisonment imposed, and thereafter the remaining days, if any, shall be applied to the fine.

(b) For the purposes of this section, credit shall be given only where the custody to be credited is attributable to proceedings related to the same conduct for which the defendant has been convicted. Credit shall be given only once for a single period of custody attributable to multiple offenses for which a consecutive sentence is imposed.

(c) For the purposes of this section, "term of imprisonment" includes any period of imprisonment imposed as a condition of probation or otherwise ordered by a court in imposing or suspending the imposition of any sentence, and also includes any term of imprisonment, including any period of imprisonment prior to release on parole and any period of imprisonment and parole, prior to discharge, whether established or fixed by statute, by any court, or by any duly authorized administrative agency.

(d) It shall be the duty of the court imposing the sentence to determine the date or dates of any admission to and release from custody prior to sentencing, and the total number of days to be credited pursuant to this section. The total number of days to be credited shall be contained in the abstract of judgment provided for in Section 1213.

(e) It shall be the duty of any agency to which a person is committed to apply the credit provided for in this section for the period between the date of sentencing and the date the person is delivered to the agency.

(f) If a defendant serves time in a camp, work furlough facility, halfway house, rehabilitation facility, hospital, juvenile detention facility, similar residential facility, or home detention program in lieu of imprisonment in county jail, and the statute under which the defendant is sentenced requires a mandatory minimum period of time in jail, the time spent in these facilities or programs shall qualify as mandatory time in jail.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code as it pertains to the sentencing of convicted offenders, nothing in this section is to be construed as authorizing the sentencing of convicted offenders to any of the facilities or programs mentioned herein.

(h) This section shall remain operative until January 1, 1999, and as of that date is repealed.

SEC. 7. Section 2900.5 of the Penal Code, as added by Section 10 of Chapter 437 of the Statutes of 1991, is amended to read:

(a) In all felony and misdemeanor convictions, either by plea or by verdict, when the defendant has been in custody, including but not limited to any time spent in a jail, camp, work furlough facility, halfway house, rehabilitation facility, hospital, prison, juvenile detention facility, or similar residential institution, all days of custody of the defendant, including days served as a condition of probation in compliance with a court order, and including days credited to the period of confinement pursuant to Section 4019, shall be credited upon his or her term of imprisonment, or credited to any fine which may be imposed, at the rate of not less than thirty dollars ($30) per day, or more, in the discretion of the court imposing the sentence. If the total number of days in custody exceeds the number of days of the term of imprisonment to be imposed, the entire term of imprisonment shall be deemed to have been served. In any case where the court has imposed both a prison or jail term of imprisonment and a fine, any days to be credited to the defendant shall first be applied to the term of imprisonment imposed, and thereafter the remaining days, if any, shall be applied to the fine.

(b) For the purposes of this section, credit shall be given only where the custody to be credited is attributable to proceedings related to the same conduct for which the defendant has been convicted. Credit shall be given only once for a single period of custody attributable to multiple offenses for which a consecutive sentence is imposed.

(c) For the purposes of this section, "term of imprisonment" includes any period of imprisonment imposed as a condition of probation or otherwise ordered by a court in imposing or suspending the imposition of any sentence, and also includes any term of imprisonment, including any period of imprisonment prior to release on parole and any period of imprisonment and parole, prior to discharge, whether established or fixed by statute, by any court, or by any duly authorized administrative agency.

(d) It shall be the duty of the court imposing the sentence to determine the date or dates of any admission to, and release from, custody prior to sentencing and the total number of days to be credited pursuant to this section. The total number of days to be credited shall be contained in the abstract of judgment provided for in Section 1213.

(e) It shall be the duty of any agency to which a person is committed to apply the credit provided for in this section for the period between the date of sentencing and the date the person is delivered to the agency.

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this code as it pertains to the sentencing of convicted offenders, nothing in this section is to be construed as authorizing the sentencing of convicted offenders to any of the facilities or programs mentioned herein.

(g) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1999.

SEC. 8. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

An act to add Section 10115.15 to the Public Contract Code, relating to state contracts.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 10115.15 is added to the Public Contract Code, to read:

10115.15. (a) Notwithstanding Section 10115.2, when awarding contracts for materials, supplies, or equipment, including electronic data processing goods and services, an awarding department shall accept the submission by a bidder of a minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise utilization plan that has been approved prior to the solicitation due date by the Department of General Services. A business utilization plan shall be considered approved by the Department of General Services as of the date submitted to the department so long as the plan meets the minimum criteria established in paragraphs (1) to (12), inclusive, and shall be valid for a period of one year, unless the department has audited the utilization plan, as authorized under subdivision (b), and disapproves it for reasons specified under subdivision (c). The decision of whether to establish a minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise utilization plan shall be at the option of the vendor. If a bidder cites an approved utilization plan in response to the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise participation requirements of a solicitation that calls for 15 percent minority-owned, 5 percent women-owned, and 3 percent disabled veteran-owned business participation, then that utilization plan shall be considered responsive to the participation goals of the solicitation document. If a solicitation specifies higher participation goals than those in the bidder's utilization plan, the bidder shall meet the goals in the solicitation or make a good-faith effort to do so. At a minimum, the utilization plan shall include the following information:

(1) A statement of the vendor's minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise utilization plan, including the primary objectives of the utilization plan.

(2) An explanation showing sufficient business reasons why the vendor did not meet minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise participation goals set forth in the vendor's minority, women, and disabled veteran business utilization plan submitted to, and approved by, the Department of General Services in the previous year, if applicable. Further, if the vendor did not meet the minority, women, and disabled veteran business participation goals in the previous year, the vendor shall also identify remedial steps it will take to meet the goals in the current utilization plan.

(3) A statement of the vendor's minority, women, and disabled veteran business utilization goals for the succeeding year. At a minimum, these utilization goals shall be equal to the statewide participation goals set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 10115.

(4) Estimated total dollars to be subcontracted by the vendor for sales within the United States for the succeeding year.

(5) Estimated total dollars to be subcontracted by the vendor for sales within the State of California for the succeeding year.

(6) Total dollars expressed as a percentage of the amount estimated pursuant to paragraph (4), intended to be subcontracted with each of the following:

(A) Minority business enterprises.

(B) Women business enterprises.

(7) Total dollars, expressed as a percentage of the amount estimated pursuant to paragraph (5), intended to be subcontracted with disabled veteran-owned business enterprises.

(8) A representative listing of the products and services that the vendor anticipates subcontracting, including an identification of the types of subcontracting planned for minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprises.

(9) The name of the individual employed by the vendor who will administer the vendor's utilization plan, including a description of the duties of the individual.

(10) A description of the efforts that the vendor will undertake to ensure that minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprises will have an equitable opportunity to compete for contracts.

(11) A listing of the records and reports that the vendor will maintain to demonstrate the practices and procedures that have been adopted to comply with the requirements and goals of the utilization plan.

(12) Affirmation that the vendor met the statewide minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise utilization goals for the previous year, if applicable.

(b) The Department of General Services shall conduct random audits of the submitted utilization plans to determine compliance with this article, and shall retain on file all submitted utilization plans for auditing purposes. During any audit of a submitted utilization plan, the Department of General Services may ask a vendor to submit a list of all the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprises included as subcontractors in the vendor's plan for the previous year. This information shall remain confidential. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the Department of General Services to audit all of the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise utilization plans submitted by individual vendors. The Department of General Services may establish appropriate fees to cover the actual costs of conducting random audits and retaining on file all submitted plans.

(c) (1) At any time, the Department of General Services may disapprove a vendor's minority, women, disabled veteran business enterprise utilization plan for any of the following reasons:

(A) The utilization plan fails to evidence a vendor's intention to comply fully with the statewide minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise goals for the succeeding year, as indicated by failure of the utilization plan to contain the information specified in subdivision (a).

(B) The utilization plan fails to evidence sufficient business reasons for failure to achieve the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise goals set forth in a utilization plan submitted in the previous year, if applicable.

(C) The utilization plan fails to evidence sufficient remedial steps the vendor will take if the vendor did not meet the minority, women, and disabled veteran business participation goals in the previous year, if applicable.

(2) If a vendor's utilization plan is disapproved, the vendor may not submit a new utilization plan to the department for a period of one year from the date of disapproval. Prior to disapproval of a vendor's utilization plan, the vendor shall be entitled to a public hearing and to five days' notice of the time and place thereof. The notice shall state the reasons for the hearing.

(3) A vendor that submits a minority, women, and disabled veteran business utilization plan that is approved by the Department of General Services, and that is subsequently awarded a contract to which the vendor would not otherwise have been entitled, and who fails to evidence intention to fully comply with the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise goals in the utilization plan, or fails to evidence sufficient business reasons for failing to achieve the minority, women, and disabled veteran business enterprise goals set forth in the utilization plan, shall:

(A) Pay to the state any difference between the contract amount and what the state's cost would have been if the contract had been properly awarded.

(B) In addition to the amount specified in subparagraph (A), be assessed a penalty in an amount of not more than 10 percent of the amount of the contract involved.

(C) Be ineligible to transact any business with the state for a period of not less than three months and not more than 24 months.

Prior to imposition of any sanction under this chapter, the contractor or vendor shall be entitled to a public hearing and to five days' notice of the time and place thereof. The notice shall state the reasons for the hearing.

CHAPTER 773

An act to amend Section 14171 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to Medi-Cal.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14171 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

14171. (a) The director shall establish administrative appeal processes to review grievances or complaints arising from the findings of an audit or examination made pursuant to Sections 10722 and 14170.

(b) Different administrative appeal processes may be established by the director for grievances or complaints arising from the determinations of a tentative or final settlement based on audit or examination findings made by or on behalf of the department pursuant to Sections 10722 and 14170, except that consistent with existing practice, no administrative appeal shall be available for tentative settlement of cost reports.

(c) The administrative appeal process established by the director for final settlements, including, in the case of hospitals, the application of Sections 51536, 51537, and 51539 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations shall include the procedural requirements of Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code. The impartial hearing shall be conducted by an administrative law judge appointed by the director. The director may subcontract with the Office of Administrative Hearings to conduct hearings on cases involving complicated issues of fact or law, or to reduce the backlog of cases.

(d) The administrative appeal process established by the director for tentative settlements, including, in the case of hospitals, the application of Sections 51536, 51537, and 51539 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations shall be an informal process which, however, guarantees a provider the right to present any grievance or complaint to the department in writing. Any subsequent hearings shall be conducted in an informal manner and shall be held at the discretion of the department.

(e) The time limitations in subdivisions (f) and (g) for the impartial hearing and the final decisions are mandatory. If the department fails to conduct the hearing or to adopt a final decision thereon within the time limitations provided in subdivisions (f) and (g), the amount of any overpayment which is ultimately determined by the department to be due shall be reduced by 10 percent for each 30-day period, or portion thereof, that the hearing or the decision, or both, are delayed beyond the time limitations provided in subdivisions (f) and (g). However, the time period shall be extended by either of the following:

(1) Delay caused by a provider.

(2) Extensions of time granted a provider at its sole request or at the joint request of the provider and the department.

(f) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (c), the administrative appeal process established by the director shall commence with an informal conference with the provider, a representative of the department, and the administrative law judge. The informal conference shall be conducted no later than 90 days after the filing of a timely and specific statement of disputed issues by the provider. The administrative law judge, when appropriate, may assign the administrative appeal to an informal level of review where efforts could be made to resolve facts and issues in dispute in a fair and equitable manner, subject to the requirements of state and federal law. The review conducted at this informal level shall be completed no later than 180 days after the filing of a timely and specific statement of disputed issues by the provider.

(2) Nothing in this subdivision shall prohibit the provider from presenting any unresolved grievances or complaints at an impartial hearing pursuant to subdivision (c). The impartial hearing shall be conducted no later than 300 days after the filing of a timely and specific statement of disputed issues by the provider. For noninstitutional providers, a proposed decision shall be prepared and transmitted to the director and the parties within 60 days after the closure of the record of the impartial hearing. For institutional providers, a proposed decision shall be prepared and transmitted to the director and the parties within 180 days after the closure of the record of the impartial hearing.

(3) (A) Subject to subdivision (g), a final decision in a noninstitutional provider appeal shall be adopted within 180 days after the closure of the record of the impartial hearing, and a final decision in an institutional provider appeal shall be adopted within 300 days after the closure of the record of the impartial hearing.

(B) The department shall mail a copy of the adopted decision to all parties within 30 days of the date of adoption of the decision.

(g) In the event the director intends to modify a proposed decision, on or before the 180th day following the closure of the record of the hearing for noninstitutional providers or the 300th day following the closure of the record of the hearing for institutional providers, the director shall provide written notice of his or her intention to the parties and shall afford the parties an opportunity to present oral and written argument. Following this notice, on or before the 240th day following the closure of the record of the hearing for noninstitutional providers or the 420th day following closure of the record of the hearing for institutional providers, or within that additional time period as is granted pursuant to the sole request of a provider or at the joint request of the provider and the department, the director shall issue a modified decision.

(h) In the event recovery of a disallowed payment has been made by the department, a provider who prevails in an appeal of a disallowed payment shall be entitled to interest at the rate equal to the monthly average received on investments in the Surplus Money Investment Fund, commencing on the date the appeal is formally accepted by the department or the date payment is received by the department, whichever is later.

(i) Except as provided in subdivision (j), commencing 60 days after issuance of the first statement of account status or demand for repayment resulting from an audit or examination made pursuant to Sections 10722 and 14170, interest at the rate equal to the monthly average received on investments in the Surplus Money Investment Fund during the month the first statement of account status or demand for repayment was issued shall be assessed against any unrecovered overpayment due to the department.

(j) (1) Commencing on the day following the last day of the period covered by an audit or examination made pursuant to Sections 10722 and 14170, interest at the rate established under Section 19269 of the Revenue and Taxation Code which is in effect on the date of the commencement of that interest shall be assessed against any unrecovered overpayment due to the department by providers of durable medical equipment or incontinence supplies.

(2) Interest which accrues under this subdivision for recoupment of an overpayment based on the lack of medical necessity for a previously approved claim shall commence to accrue on the date of written demand by the department.

(k) The final decision of the director shall be reviewable in accordance with Section 1094.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure within six months of the issuance of the director's final decision.

CHAPTER 774

An act to amend Section 42239 of the Education Code, relating to summer school attendance.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 42239 of the Education Code is amended to read:

42239. For the 1984–85 fiscal year and each fiscal year thereafter, the county superintendent shall compute an amount for each school district's summer school attendance in the following manner:

(a) Divide the amount received on account of average daily attendance pursuant to Section 42238.6 in the 1983–84 fiscal year by the 1983–84 fiscal year hours of attendance. This amount shall be increased annually by the percentage increase granted to school districts for base revenue limit increases.

(b) Multiply the amount computed in subdivision (a) by the lesser of the 1983–84 fiscal year hours of summer school attendance or the actual fiscal year hours of summer school attendance computed pursuant to paragraph (1) of subdivision (d).

(c) If the fiscal year hours of summer school attendance computed pursuant to subdivision (d) exceed the hours of summer school attendance specified in subdivision (b), multiply the increased hours by one dollar and fifty cents ($1.50). This amount shall be increased annually by the percentage increase granted to school districts for base revenue limit increases.

(d) Commencing in the 1984–85 fiscal year, summer school attendance shall be the sum of paragraphs (1), (2), and (3):

(1) The hours of attendance in the categories identified in Section 42238.6 as it read in the 1983–84 fiscal year.

(2) Any summer school hours of attendance for mathematics, science, English as a second language, or other core academic areas designated by the Superintendent of Public Instruction.

(3) Hours of general, vocational work experience education, if the school district certifies to the Superintendent of Public Instruction that all courses identified in paragraphs (1) and (2) have been offered to meet student demand and if the statewide demand, up to the amounts specified in subdivision (e), as amended by the annual Budget Act, and the amounts specified in the appropriation made for the purposes of this section in the annual Budget Act, has been met for all courses identified in paragraphs (1) and (2). The total statewide amount apportioned for general vocational work experience summer school programs shall not exceed one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) in any fiscal year. If the total statewide entitlement pursuant to this paragraph exceeds one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000), the State Department of Education shall apportion funds on a pro rata basis. As used in this section, reimbursement of "hours of general vocational work experience" shall be based on the number of hours of attendance for that work experience course, at a rate equal to that for a course in paragraph (2) of the same number of credits.

(e) (1) Except as otherwise provided in paragraph (3) of subdivision (d), a school district's maximum entitlement for reimbursement for pupil attendance in summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (d) shall be an amount equal to 5 percent of the district's total enrollment for the prior fiscal year times 120 hours, times the hourly rate for the current fiscal year determined pursuant to subdivision (c).

(2) A district may enroll more than 5 percent of its students, or may enroll students for more than 120 hours per year in summer school programs offered pursuant to paragraphs (2) and (3) of subdivision (d), as long as the total state apportionment to the district for those programs does not exceed the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (1). A district shall earn its entitlement at the per pupil hourly rate pursuant to subdivision (c).

(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, classes may be convened pursuant to this section at the hours and for the length of time during the schoolday, and at the period and for the length of time during the school year, as may be determined by the governing board of the school district.

SECTION 1. Section 5653 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

5653. (a) The use of any vacuum or suction dredge equipment by any person in any river, stream, or lake of this state is prohibited, except as authorized under a permit issued to that person by the department in compliance with the regulations adopted pursuant to Section 5653.9. Before any person uses any vacuum or suction dredge equipment in any river, stream, or lake of this state, that person shall submit an application for a permit for a vacuum or suction dredge to the department, specifying the type and size of equipment to be used and other information as the department may require.

(b) Under the regulations adopted pursuant to Section 5653.9, the department shall designate waters or areas wherein vacuum or suction dredges may be used pursuant to a permit, waters or areas closed to those dredges, the maximum size of those dredges that may be used, and the time of year when those dredges may be used. If the department determines, pursuant to the regulations adopted pursuant to Section 5653.9, that the operation will not be deleterious to fish, it shall issue a permit to the applicant. If any person operates any equipment other than that authorized by the permit or conducts the operation in any waters or area or at any time that is not authorized by the permit, or if any person conducts the operation without securing the permit, the person is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(c) The department shall issue a permit upon the payment, in the case of a resident, of a base fee of twenty-five dollars ($25), as adjusted under Section 713, when an onsite investigation of the project size is not deemed necessary by the department, and a base fee of one hundred thirty dollars ($130), as adjusted under Section 713, when the department deems an onsite investigation is necessary. In the case of a nonresident, the base fee shall be one hundred dollars

($100), as adjusted under Section 713, when an onsite investigation is not deemed necessary, and a base fee of two hundred twenty dollars ($220), as adjusted under Section 713, when an onsite investigation is deemed necessary.

(d) It is unlawful to possess a vacuum or suction dredge in areas, or in or within 100 yards of waters, that are closed to the use of vacuum or suction dredges. (Amended by Stats. 1988, Ch. 1037, Sec. 1.)

SEC. 2. Section 5653.9 of the Fish and Game Code is amended to read:

5653.9. The department shall adopt regulations to carry out Section 5653 and may adopt regulations to carry out Sections 5653.3, 5653.5, and 5653.7. The regulations shall be adopted in accordance with the requirements of Division 13 (commencing with Section 21000) of the Public Resources Code and Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(c) The carrier has recovered in an action against a third party.

(d) A death claim has been compromised over the sole issue of the applicability of the workers' compensation laws of the state.

(e) The exposure has been reassigned to another classification through the revision of an audit, in which case the insurer shall file with the revision of exposure a revision of losses that will reassign all claims to the appropriate classification.

(f) A clerical error in either the classification assignment or the type of injury assignment of a given claim, or a group of claims, has been discovered by the insurer.

(g) A clerical error in either the classification assignment or the type of injury assignment of a given claim has been discovered by the rating organization. The insurer shall, when notified by the rating organization, file a revision of losses or make satisfactory explanation.

(h) A correction is made in a classification assignment of a given claim, or a group of claims, as a result of the organization test audit of an insured for which the experience has been submitted.

(i) The claim has been determined to be a joint coverage claim in accordance with paragraph 1, part F, Section II of the Unit Statistical Plan as published by the Workers' Compensation Insurance Rating Bureau of California and approved January 1, 1983. However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. CHAPTER 778

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In addition, each member shall be reimbursed for his or her necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of his or her official duties. State agencies, including those identified in subdivision (g), may pay a portion of the commission's expenses.

(e) The commission shall report annually to the Governor and Legislature its findings and recommendations on the establishment of one or more state veterans homes in southern California. The findings and recommendations may include, but need not be limited to, the following matters:

(1) Possible sites for one or more state veterans homes. CHAPTER 779

An act to add Chapter 8.1 (commencing with Section 11810) to Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, relating to state agencies and departments, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 8.1 (commencing with Section 11810) is added to Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, to read:

CHAPTER 8.1. STATE GOVERNMENT STRATEGIC PLANNING AND PERFORMANCE REVIEW ACT

Article 1. General Provisions

11810. This chapter shall be known, and may be cited, as the State Government Strategic Planning and Performance and Review Act.

Article 2. Findings and Declarations

11813. The Legislature finds and declares the following:

(a) Waste and inefficiency in state government undermine the confidence of Californians in government and reduces the state government's ability to adequately address vital public needs.

(b) State government, in many instances, is a morass of bureaucratic red tape and regulations that ultimately stifle economic revitalization and further alienate the people the agencies were created to serve.

(c) Legislative policymaking, spending decisions, and program oversight are seriously handicapped by insufficient attention to program performance and results.

(d) Many of the basic components of performance-based government are missing from day-to-day operations in state government. These include strategic planning, performance measurement, management information systems, performance budget contracts, and management flexibility.

(e) The tremendous success of performance reviews in Texas and other states serve as excellent performance-based models of government for California state government.

(f) A performance review of California state government could identify ways to reduce state spending through more efficient and effective operations and programs, without reducing services to residents.

(g) A performance review of California state government could challenge and question the basic assumptions underlying all state agencies and the programs and services offered by the state in order to identify those that are vital to the best interests of the people of the state and those that no longer meet that goal.

(h) The Legislature authorized implementation of performance budgeting pilot projects in Chapter 641 of the Statutes of 1993, which added Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 11800).

(i) Strategic planning is a prerequisite for effective performance reviews and effective performance budgeting.

Article 3. Strategic Planning and Performance Reviews

11815. (a) By March 1, 1995, and by each March 1 thereafter, the Department of Finance, after consultation with the Bureau of State Audits and the Legislative Analyst, shall do both of the following:

(1) Conduct a survey of all state agencies, departments, offices, and commissions, except for the University of California or agencies provided for in Article IV (except Section 20 thereof) or Article VI of the California Constitution. This survey shall determine:

(A) Which agencies, departments, offices, and commissions have completed strategic plans.

(B) The dates on which those plans were completed or last revised.

(C) Which agencies, departments, offices, and commissions have not completed strategic plans.

(2) Identify those agencies, departments, offices, and commissions for which the Department of Finance recommends the development or updating of a strategic plan.

(b) The Department of Finance shall report the results of the survey and recommendation required by subdivision (a) to the Governor and to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee by March 1, 1995, and by each March 1 thereafter.

11816. Each agency, department, office, or commission for which strategic planning efforts are recommended pursuant to Section 11815 shall develop a strategic plan and shall report to the Governor and to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee by April 1, 1995, and by each April 1 thereafter on the steps being taken to develop and adopt a strategic plan. This report shall include a description of the elements to be included in the strategic plan, the process for developing and adopting the strategic plan, and a timetable for the plan's completion. In developing its strategic plan each agency, department, office, or commission shall consult with at least the following affected parties: employee organizations, the Legislature, client groups served, suppliers, and contractors. The report shall also identify the steps being taken to develop performance measures that could be used for a performance budgeting system or a performance review.

11817. It is the intent of the Legislature that strategic plans developed pursuant to Section 11816 form the basis for conducting performance reviews pursuant to this article or for the implementation of performance budgeting systems pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 11800).

11818. By March 1, 1996, and by each March 1 thereafter, the Department of Finance, after consultation with the Controller, the Bureau of State Audits, and the Legislative Analyst, shall recommend to the Governor, and to the Joint Legislative Budget Committee a plan for conducting performance reviews for agencies, departments, offices, and commissions that have completed strategic plans pursuant to this article. This report shall also report the current status of any performance reviews previously authorized by the Legislature.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to promote efficiency and economy in state government, and assist in alleviating serious, recurring fiscal problems facing the State of California, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 780

An act to add Article 8.5 (commencing with Section 65460) to Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, and to add Section 33334.19 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to land use.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 8.5 (commencing with Section 65460) is added to Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, to read:

Article 8.5. Transit Village Development Planning Act of 1994

65460. This act shall be known, and may be cited, as the Transit Village Development Planning Act of 1994.

65460.1. The Legislature hereby finds and declares all of the following:

(a) Federal, state, and local governments in California are investing in new and expanded rail transit systems in areas throughout the state, including Los Angeles County, the San Francisco Bay area, San Diego County, Santa Clara County, and Sacramento County.

(b) This public investment in rail transit is unrivaled in the state's history and represents well over ten billion dollars ($10,000,000,000) in planned investment alone.

(c) Recent studies of transit ridership in California indicate that persons who live within a quarter-mile radius of rail transit stations utilize the transit system in far greater numbers than does the general public living elsewhere.

(d) The use of transit by persons living near rail transit stations is particularly important given the decline of transit ridership in California between 1980 and 1990. Transit's share of commute trips dropped in all California metropolitan areas—greater Los Angeles: 5.4 percent to 4.8 percent; San Francisco Bay area: 11.9 percent to 10.0 percent; San Diego: 3.7 percent to 3.6 percent; Sacramento: 3.7 percent to 2.5 percent.

(e) Only a few rail transit stations in California have any concentration of housing proximate to the station.

(f) Interest in clustering housing and commercial development around rail transit stations, called transit villages, has gained momentum in recent years.

65460.2. A city or county may prepare a transit village plan for a transit village development district that addresses the following characteristics:

(a) A neighborhood centered around a transit station that is planned and designed so that residents, workers, shoppers, and others find it convenient and attractive to patronize transit.

(b) A mix of housing types, including apartments, within not less than a quarter mile of the exterior boundary of the parcel on which the transit station is located.

(c) Other land uses, including a retail district oriented to the transit station and civic uses, including day care centers and libraries.

(d) Pedestrian and bicycle access to the transit station, with attractively designed and landscaped pathways.

(e) A rail transit system that should encourage and facilitate intermodal service, and access by modes other than single occupant vehicles.

(f) Demonstrable public benefits beyond the increase in transit usage, including all of the following:

(1) Relief of traffic congestion.

(2) Improved air quality.

(3) Increased transit revenue yields.

(4) Increased stock of affordable housing.

(5) Redevelopment of depressed and marginal inner-city neighborhoods.

(6) Live-travel options for transit-needy groups.

(7) Promotion of infill development and preservation of natural resources.

(8) Promotion of a safe, attractive, pedestrian-friendly environment around transit stations.

(9) Reduction of the need for additional travel by providing for the sale of goods and services at transit stations.

(10) Promotion of job opportunities.

(11) Improved cost-effectiveness through the use of the existing infrastructure.

(12) Increased sales and property tax revenue.

(13) Reduction in energy consumption.

(g) Sites where a density bonus of at least 25 percent may be granted pursuant to specified performance standards.

(h) Other provisions that may be necessary, based on the report prepared pursuant to subdivision (b) of Section 14045.

65460.3. To increase transit ridership and to reduce vehicle traffic on the highways, local, regional, and state plans should direct new development close to the transit stations. These entities should provide financial incentives to implement these plans.

65460.4. A transit village development district shall include all land within not less than a quarter mile of the exterior boundary of the parcel on which is located a rail transit station designated by the legislative body of a city, county, or city and county that has jurisdiction over the station area.

For purposes of this article, "district" means a transit village development district as defined in this section.

65460.5. A city or county establishing a district and preparing a plan pursuant to this article shall:

(a) Be eligible for available transportation funding.

(b) Receive assistance from the Office of Permit Assistance, pursuant to Section 15399.53, in establishing an expedited permit process pursuant to Section 15399.50, at the request of the city or county.

65460.6. An agency responsible for the preparation and adoption of the congestion management program may exclude district impacts from the determination of conformance with level of service standards pursuant to subdivision (c) of Section 65089.3.

65460.7. (a) A transit village plan shall be prepared, adopted, and amended in the same manner as a general plan.

(b) A transit village plan may be repealed in the same manner as it is required to be amended.

65460.8. No transit village plan may be adopted or amended unless the proposed plan or amendment is consistent with the general plan.

65460.9. No local public works project may be approved, no tentative map or parcel map for which a tentative map was not required may be approved, and no zoning ordinance may be adopted or amended within an area covered by a transit village plan unless it is consistent with the adopted transit village plan.

65460.10. A city, county, or city and county may require a developer to enter into a development agreement pursuant to Article 2.5 (commencing with Section 65864) of Chapter 4 to implement a density bonus specified in the transit village plan pursuant to subdivision (g) of Section 65460.2.

SEC. 2. Section 33334.19 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

33334.19. (a) Notwithstanding Section 33670 or any other provision of this division, an agency may increase, improve, and preserve the supply of low- and moderate-income housing located within a transit village plan adopted pursuant to the Transit Village Development Planning Act of 1994, Article 8.5 (commencing with Section 65460) of Chapter 3 of Division 1 of Title 7 of the Government Code, and is within its territorial limits but outside of a project area. In the event that the agency seeks to comply with any of its obligations under Section 33413 under a transit village plan, it shall provide two units outside of a project area, both of which shall be at the same level of affordability as, and otherwise comply with, all requirements pertaining to the unit that would otherwise have been available inside a project area.

(b) To implement subdivision (a), an agency may increase, improve, and preserve the supply of low- and moderate-income housing which is located within a transit village plan with funds from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund. In using these funds, the agency shall comply with all requirements of the Community Redevelopment Law (Division 24 (commencing with Section 33000) of the Health and Safety Code).

(c) To implement subdivision (a), notwithstanding subdivision (a) of Section 33670, an agency may determine the location and character of any residential construction which is located within a transit village plan and which is to be financed pursuant to Chapter 8 (commencing with Section 33750) and may make mortgage or construction loans to participating parties through qualified mortgage lenders, or purchase mortgage or construction loans without premium made by qualified mortgage lenders to participating parties, for financing residential construction of multifamily rental units located within a transit village plan.

(d) Expenditures from the Low and Moderate Income Housing Fund pursuant to this section shall be deemed to be part of the agency's redevelopment plans, as if those redevelopment plans had been amended to include those expenditures, and the agency is not required to comply with Article 12 (commencing with Section 33450). The Legislature hereby deems those expenditures to benefit the agency's project areas.

CHAPTER 781

An act to add Section 43702 to the Health and Safety Code, relating to air pollution, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. (a) The Legislature hereby finds that diesel fuel regulations adopted by the State Air Resources Board have resulted in changes to the historical patterns of the manufacture, transportation, distribution, and end use of diesel fuel within California. The changes in the composition of diesel fuel mandated by the new state regulations have caused widespread public concern.

(b) It is the intent of the Legislature that the state board shall not adopt any changes in the standard for the formulation of diesel fuel or for the formulation of equivalent diesel fuels, as that standard existed on January 1, 1994, unless the state board finds that an alternative diesel fuel formula meets or exceeds the emission performance standards of diesel fuel that is formulated to that standard.

(c) It is further the intent of the Legislature in enacting this act to provide a means to reimburse owners of diesel engines for damage associated with the diesel fuel mandated by the state board.

SEC. 2. Section 43702 is added to the Health and Safety Code, to read:

43702. (a) Any revenues received by the state board from any variance fees imposed upon manufacturers who receive a variance from the standards for the content of diesel fuel adopted by the state board, which apply on and after October 1, 1993, shall be deposited in the Diesel Fuel Trust Fund, which is hereby created in the State Treasury. The money in the trust fund may be expended only upon appropriation by the Legislature in accordance with subdivisions (b) and (c).

(b) The money in the Diesel Fuel Trust Fund shall be expended to reimburse owners of diesel fuel-powered engines and diesel fuel-powered equipment for damage to fuel injection system elastomer components which can be established as the result of the use of the diesel fuel and which is damage that is not the responsibility of the manufacturer.

(c) The state board shall develop and implement, by November 30, 1994, a reimbursement program to include all of the following:

(1) An application for reimbursement claims, to be submitted to the state board, that requires documentation that supports a claim of damage to diesel fuel injection system elastomer components. The documentation shall consist of repair records from an authorized engine repair business or fleet repair facility which verify that diesel fuel injection system elastomer component damage occurred on and after September 1, 1993, and that the failure occurred as the result of diesel fuel which met the standards for the content of diesel fuel adopted by the state board, which applied on and after October 1, 1993.

(2) Claimants shall demonstrate evidence of ownership of a vehicle or equipment for which damage is claimed by providing copies of ownership records.

(3) Claimants with valid claims shall be reimbursed for the cost of repairs up to a maximum amount for each of the following two classes of vehicle or equipment, as follows:

(A) Owners of light-duty vehicles, small marine engines, and stationary units, including, but not limited to, utility engines, compressors, pumps, and generators, shall be reimbursed for damage not exceeding four hundred fifty dollars ($450) for each claim.

(B) Owners of heavy-duty onroad vehicles and offroad agricultural and construction equipment shall be reimbursed for damage not exceeding five hundred fifty dollars ($550) for each claim.

(4) Claimants shall be limited to one claim for each vehicle or equipment unit.

(5) The state board shall develop an audit component within the reimbursement program to identify fraudulent claims.

(6) All applications for claims shall be postmarked not later than midnight, March 1, 1995. Applications arriving after that deadline are invalid and shall be returned to the sender.

(7) The state board shall not pay any claims until all claims have been reviewed and the state board can make a reasonable estimate of the total amount of valid claims. If the amount exceeds the amount of money in the Diesel Fuel Trust Fund, reimbursement for valid claims shall be prorated in each class specified in paragraph (3).

(8) The state board shall give notice of the reimbursement program by publication in major newspapers of general circulation in the state. That notice shall fully describe the reimbursement program, including, but not limited to, the limits of reimbursement and the possible proration of claims in the event that valid claims exceed the amount of money in the Diesel Fuel Trust Fund.

(9) The state board may expend an amount not to exceed three hundred thousand dollars ($300,000) from the Diesel Fuel Trust Fund to administer the reimbursement program.

(10) The state board may contract with a private mediation firm to review and adjudicate claims.

(11) The state board may adopt guidelines for administrating the reimbursement program after providing adequate opportunity for public review and comment. Guidelines adopted by the state board pursuant to this paragraph shall be exempt from Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code.

(d) The Legislature hereby finds and declares that the reimbursement program shall not be considered to be mitigation for the impacts of the standards adopted by the state board for the formulation of diesel fuel, and by the enactment of this section, the state is not thereby assuming any responsibility for mitigating impacts on operators of diesel vehicles or equipment arising from the implementation of the standards. The Legislature further finds and declares that the reimbursement program is a proper use of public funds and serves a necessary public purpose.

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to avoid further harm to diesel fuel-powered vehicles and diesel fuel-powered equipment, and to alleviate at the earliest possible date the economic hardship to the owners of those vehicles and that equipment, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3159 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3159. (a) Any of the persons named in Sections 3110, 3111, and 3112 may, prior to the expiration of the period within which his or her claim of lien must be recorded under Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 3109), give to a construction lender a stop notice or a bonded stop notice. The construction lender shall be subject to the following:

(2) The construction lender shall withhold funds pursuant to a bonded stop notice filed by any other person named in Sections 3110, 3111, and 3112, unless a payment bond has previously been recorded in the office of the county recorder where the site is located in accordance with Section 3235. If a payment bond has previously been recorded, the construction lender may, at its option, withhold funds pursuant to the bonded stop notice or stop notice, or may elect not to withhold pursuant to the bonded stop notice or stop notice given by anyone other than an original contractor.

(3) If, when giving the construction lender the stop notice or bonded stop notice, the claimant makes a written request for notice of the election, accompanied by a preaddressed, stamped envelope, the construction lender shall furnish the claimant a copy of the bond within 30 days after making the election. A lender shall not be liable for a failure to furnish a copy of the bond if the failure was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error, if the lender maintains reasonable procedures to avoid such an error, and if the error was corrected not later than 20 days from the date on which the violation was discovered. The payment bond may be recorded at any time prior to the serving of the first stop notice. The notice may only be given for materials, equipment, or services furnished, or labor performed.

(b) In the case of a stop notice or bonded stop notice filed by the original contractor or by a subcontractor, the original contractor or subcontractor shall only be entitled to recover on his or her stop notice or bonded stop notice the net amount due the original contractor or subcontractor after deducting the stop notice claims of all subcontractors or material suppliers who have filed bonded stop notices on account of work done on behalf of the original contractor or the subcontractor.

(c) In no event shall the construction lender be required to withhold, pursuant to a bonded stop notice, more than the net amount identified in subdivision (b). Notwithstanding any other provision, no construction lender shall have any liability for the failure to withhold more than this net amount upon receipt of a bonded stop notice.

SEC. 2. Section 3162 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

The construction lender shall be subject to the following:

(1) The construction lender shall withhold funds pursuant to a bonded stop notice filed by an original contractor, regardless of whether a payment bond has previously been recorded in the office of the county recorder where the site is located in accordance with Section 3235.

(2) The construction lender shall withhold funds pursuant to a bonded stop notice filed by any other person named in Sections 3110, 3111, and 3112, unless a payment bond has previously been recorded in the office of the county recorder where the site is located in accordance with Section 3235. If a payment bond has previously been recorded, the construction lender may, at its option, withhold funds pursuant to the bonded stop notice or stop notice, or may elect not to withhold pursuant to the bonded stop notice or stop notice given by anyone other than an original contractor.

(3) If, when giving the construction lender the stop notice or bonded stop notice, the claimant makes a written request for notice of the election, accompanied by a preaddressed, stamped envelope, the construction lender shall furnish the claimant a copy of the bond within 30 days after making the election. A lender shall not be liable for a failure to furnish a copy of the bond if the failure was not intentional and resulted from a bona fide error, if the lender maintains reasonable procedures to avoid such an error, and if the error was corrected not later than 20 days from the date on which the violation was discovered. The payment bond may be recorded at any time prior to the serving of the first stop notice.

(b) In the case of a stop notice or bonded stop notice filed by the original contractor or by a subcontractor, the original contractor or subcontractor shall only be entitled to recover on his or her stop notice or bonded stop notice the net amount due the original contractor or subcontractor after deducting the stop notice claims of all subcontractors or material suppliers who have filed bonded stop notices on account of work done on behalf of the original contractor or the subcontractor.

(c) In no event shall the construction lender be required to withhold, pursuant to a bonded stop notice, more than the net amount identified in subdivision (b). Not more than one-third of a corporate fund shall be allocated to a bond guarantee account. No corporation shall use corporate funds to secure a corporate indebtedness. Corporate funds are state funds and, with the exception of guarantees established pursuant to this chapter, shall not be subject to liens or encumbrances of the corporation or its creditors.

The corporation shall not deposit any of its funds in any financial institution unless the financial institution has been designated as a depository by a vote of the majority of all of the directors of the corporations with corporate funds, exclusive of any director who is an officer or director of the institution so designated. The financial institution that is to act as trustee of the corporate fund shall be designated after review by the board and a vote of the majority of all the corporations with corporate funds. The corporation shall not receive money on deposit.

SEC. 19. Section 14046 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14046. If the board recommends acceptance upon the basis of the facts disclosed by the investigation provided by subdivision (d) of Section 14022 and finds that the proposed incorporation meets all the requirements of this chapter, the director shall approve the articles of incorporation and endorse the approval thereon and forward the same to the Secretary of State for his or her approval and filing. Likewise, the board shall recommend approval or disapproval of all amendments to the articles. The director shall endorse the approval on the amendatory document before the document is forwarded to the Secretary of State for his or her approval and filing.

SEC. 20. Section 14061 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14061. Every corporation shall provide for and maintain a central staff to perform all administrative requirements of the corporation including all those functions required of a corporation by the board and the director.

SEC. 22. Section 14065 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14065. The corporations shall report to the director, or his or her designated representative, all statistical and other reports required by this part, responses to audit reports, budget requirements, invoices submitted for payment by the state, and information concerning loans made or guaranteed.

SEC. 23. Section 14066 of the Corporations Code is amended to read:

14066. The corporation shall make a report to the board, as of the close of business on June 30, of each year describing the corporation's activities and any additional information requested by the director, on or before August 1 of each year.

14070. (a) The corporate guarantee shall be backed by funds on deposit in the corporation's corporate fund and the expansion fund established pursuant to Section 14040.

(b) Loan guarantees shall be secured by a reserve of at least 25 percent to be determined by the director with the approval of the board.

(c) The expansion fund and corporate accounts shall be used exclusively to guarantee obligations and pay the administrative costs of the corporations. A corporation located in a rural area may utilize the funds for direct lending to farmers as long as at least 90 percent of the corporate fund farm loans, calculated by dollar amount, and all expansion fund farm loans are guaranteed by the United States Farmers Home Administration. The amount of funds available for direct farm lending shall be determined by the executive director. In its capacity as a direct lender, the corporation may sell in the secondary market the guaranteed portion of each loan so as to raise additional funds for direct lending. The agency, in consultation with the board, shall issue regulations governing these direct loans, including the maximum amount of these loans.

(d) In furtherance of the purposes of this part, up to one-half of the corporate funds may be used to guarantee loans utilized to establish a Business and Industrial Development Corporation (BIDCO) under Division 15 (commencing with Section 33000) of the Financial Code.

(e) To execute the direct loan programs established in this chapter, the office may loan trust funds to a corporation located in a rural area for the express purpose of lending those funds to an identified borrower. The loan by the office to the corporation shall be on terms similar to the loan between the corporation and the borrower. The amount of the loan may be in excess of the amount of a loan to any individual farm borrower, but actual disbursements pursuant to the office loan agreement shall be required to be supported by a loan agreement between the farm borrower and the corporation in an amount at least equal to the requested disbursement. The loan between the office and the corporation shall be evidenced by a credit agreement. In the event that any loan between the corporation and borrower is not guaranteed by a governmental agency, the portion of the credit agreement attributable to that loan shall be secured by assignment of any note, executed in favor of the corporation by the borrower to the office. The terms and conditions of the credit agreement shall be similar to the loan agreement between the corporation and the borrower, which shall be collateralized by the note between the corporation and the borrower. In the absence of fraud on the part of the corporation, the liability of the corporation to repay the loan to the office is limited to the repayment received by the corporation from the borrower except in a case where the Farmers Home Administration requires exposure by the corporation in rule or regulation. The corporation may use trust funds for loan repayment to the office if the corporation has exhausted a loan loss reserve created for this purpose. Interest and principal received by the office from the corporation shall be deposited into the same account from which the funds were originally borrowed.

(f) Upon the approval of the director, a corporation shall be authorized to borrow trust funds from the office for the purpose of relending those funds to small businesses. A corporation shall demonstrate to the director that it has the capacity to administer a direct loan program, and has procedures in place to limit the default rate for loans to startup businesses. Not more than 25 percent of any trust fund shall be used for the direct lending established pursuant to this subdivision. A loan to a corporation shall not exceed the amount of funds likely to be lent to small businesses within three months following the loan to the corporation. The maximum loan amount to a small business is fifty thousand dollars ($50,000). In the absence of fraud on the part of the corporation, the repayment obligation pursuant to the loan to the corporation shall be limited to the amount of funds received by the corporation for the loan to the small business and any other funds received from the office that are not disbursed. The corporation shall be authorized to charge a fee to the small business borrower, in an amount determined by the office pursuant to regulation. The program provided for in this subdivision shall be available in all geographic areas of the state.

8684.2. (a) It is the intent of the Legislature:

(1) To provide the Governor with appropriate emergency powers in order to enable utilization of available emergency funding to provide guarantees for interim loans to be made by lending institutions, in connection with relief provided for those persons affected by natural disasters or a state of emergency in affected areas during periods of disaster relief assistance, for the purpose of supplying interim financing to enable small businesses to continue operations pending receipt of federal disaster assistance.

(2) That the Governor should utilize this authority to prevent business insolvencies and loss of employment in areas affected by these disasters.

(b) In addition to the allocations authorized by Section 8683 and the loan guarantee provisions of Section 14030.1 of the Corporations Code, the Governor may allocate funds made available for the purposes of this chapter, in connection with relief provided, in affected areas during the period of federal disaster relief, to the Small Business Expansion Fund for use by the Office of Small Business, pursuant to Chapter 1 (commencing with Section 14000) of Part 5 of Division 3 of Title 1 of the Corporations Code, to provide guarantees for low-interest interim loans to be made by lending institutions for the purpose of providing interim financing to enable small businesses that have suffered actual physical damage or significant economic losses, as a result of the natural disaster or state of emergency for which funding under this section is made available, to continue or resume operations pending receipt of loans made or guaranteed by the federal Small Business Administration. The maximum amount of any loan guarantee funded under this paragraph shall not exceed two hundred thousand dollars ($200,000). Each loan guarantee shall not exceed 95 percent of the loan amount, except that a loan guarantee may be for 100 percent of the loan amount if the applicant can demonstrate that access to business records pertinent to the loan application has been precluded by official action prohibiting necessary reentry into the affected business premises or that those business records pertinent to the loan application have been destroyed. The term of the loan shall be determined by the lending institution providing the loan or shall be made payable on the date the proceeds of a loan made or guaranteed by the federal Small Business Administration with respect to the same damage or loss are made available to the borrower, whichever event first occurs.

Applications for interim loans shall be processed in an expeditious manner. Wherever possible, lending institutions shall fund nonconstruction loans within 60 calendar days of application. Loan guarantees for loans that have been denied funding by the federal Small Business Administration, may be extended by the financial institution provided that the loan is for no longer than a maximum of seven years, if the business demonstrates the ability to repay the loan with an extended loan term, and a new credit analysis is provided. All loans extended under this provision shall be repaid in installments of principal and interest, and be fully amortized over the term of the loan. Nothing in this section shall preclude the lender from charging reasonable administrative fees in connection with the loan.

(d) Allocations pursuant to this section shall, for purposes of all provisions of law, be deemed to be for extraordinary emergency or disaster response operation costs, as provided in Section 8690.6, incurred by the Office of Small Business.

(e) The Trade and Commerce Agency may adopt regulations to implement the loan guarantee program authorized by this section. The agency may adopt these regulations as emergency regulations in accordance with Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 11340) of Part 1 of Division 3 of the Government Code, and for purposes of that chapter, including Section 11349.6, the adoption of the regulations shall be considered by the Office of Administrative Law to be necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and general welfare. (f) Within 60 days of the conclusion of the period for guaranteeing loans under any small business disaster loan guarantee program conducted for a disaster as authorized by Section 8684.2 of the Government Code or Section 14075, the agency shall provide a report to the Legislature on loan guarantees approved and rejected by gender, ethnic group, type of business and location, and each participating loan institution.

(c) Grantees may be funded for successive three-year terms by negotiated agreements between the agency and the grantee, at the sole discretion of the agency, based upon grantees' prior performances. However, those grantees shall be required to provide a minimum of 15 percent cash match of the total grant amount each year during an extended grant cycle.

(d) In order to reduce cost to the state, the agency may pursue funds from the federal Small Business Administration SBDC program.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 46009 of the Food and Agricultural Code is amended to read:

46009. (a) Effective January 1, 1993, a nongovernmental certification organization that certifies raw agricultural commodities, eggs, meat, fowl, or dairy products sold as organic shall register with the secretary and shall thereafter annually renew the registration, unless the organization is no longer engaged in the activities requiring the registration. Registration shall be on a form provided by the secretary, shall include the filing of a certification plan as specified in Section 26569.33 of the Health and Safety Code, and payment of the fee specified in subdivision (b). The registration form shall contain the names of all persons involved in making certification decisions or setting certification standards for the certification organization. The secretary shall reject a registration submission that is incomplete or not in compliance with this chapter and Article 4.5 (commencing with Section 26569.20) of Chapter 5 of Division 21 of the Health and Safety Code. The secretary shall make forms available for this purpose.

In lieu of registration pursuant to this subdivision, the secretary may approve a certification organization that is accredited under the federal organic foods law.

(b) Each nongovernmental certification organization shall pay an annual registration fee of five hundred dollars ($500) to the secretary. Any registration submitted by a certification organization, registered with the department, shall be made available to the public for inspection and copying. The secretary may audit the organization's certification procedures and records at any time, but any records of the certification organization not otherwise required to be disclosed shall be kept confidential by the secretary.

(c) The secretary and the county agricultural commissioners under the supervision of the secretary shall, if requested by a sufficient number of persons to cover the costs of the program in a county as determined by the secretary, establish a voluntary certification program for producers of organic food and processors of organic meat, fowl, and dairy products under the enforcement jurisdiction of the secretary. This program shall meet all of the requirements of Sections 26569.31 to 26569.34, inclusive, of the Health and Safety Code. In addition, this program shall meet all of the requirements of the federal certification program, including federal accreditation. The secretary shall establish a fee schedule for participants in this program that covers all of the department's reasonable costs of the program. A county agricultural commissioner that conducts a voluntary certification program pursuant to this section shall establish a fee schedule for participants in this program which covers all of the agricultural commissioner's reasonable costs of the program. The secretary may not expend funds obtained from registration fees collected under this chapter for the purposes of adopting or administering this program.

The certification fee authorized by this subdivision is due and payable on or before the 10th day of the month following the month in which the decision to grant the certification is issued. Any person who does not pay the amount that is due within the required period shall pay the enforcement authority providing the certificate a penalty of 10 percent of the total amount determined to be due, plus interest at the rate of 1½ percent interest per month on the unpaid balance.

(d) This chapter applies to all food sold as organic within the state, wherever produced, handled, or processed, and to all food produced, handled, or processed in the state, wherever sold as organic, except that in lieu of registration under this chapter, the secretary may recognize a certification organization operating outside of the state that certifies raw agricultural commodities, eggs, meat, fowl, or dairy products if the secretary determines that the organization meets minimum standards substantially similar to those contained in subdivision (c) of Section 26569.30, and Sections 26569.32 to 26569.34, inclusive, of the Health and Safety Code. The secretary shall establish, administratively, a procedure for organizations to apply and obtain recognition.

SEC. 2. Section 26569.22 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

26569.22. Except as otherwise provided in this article, no food shall be sold as organic unless it consists entirely of any of the following:

(a) Raw agricultural commodities that meet the following requirements:

(1) The commodity has been produced and handled without any prohibited material or color additive having been applied, and without irradiation.

(2) In the case of any raw agricultural commodity produced from seed, the seed has not been treated with any prohibited material. If untreated seed is not available, seed treated with a fungicide may be used, except for seed used for sprouts, as described in paragraph (6).

(3) Prior to January 1, 1995, in the case of perennial crops, no prohibited material shall have been applied to the crop, field, management unit, or area where the commodity is grown for 12 months prior to the appearance of flower buds. During the 1995 calendar year, in the case of perennial crops, no prohibited material shall have been applied to the crop, field, management unit, or area where the commodity is grown for 24 months prior to harvest. Commencing January 1, 1996, in the case of perennial crops, no prohibited material shall have been applied to the crop, field, management unit, or area where the commodity is grown for 36 months prior to harvest.

no prohibited material shall have been applied to the crop, field, management unit, or area where the commodity is grown for 36 months prior to harvest.

(5) In the case of any raw agricultural commodity that is grown in any growing medium, such as fungi grown in compost or transplants grown in potting mix:

(A) The growing medium must have been manufactured or produced:

(i) Without any prohibited material having been included in the medium.

(ii) Without any prohibited material having been applied to the area where the medium is manufactured or produced during seeding or inoculation of the medium.

(iii) Using methods that will minimize the migration or accumulation of any pesticide chemical residue in food grown in the medium.

(B) No prohibited material shall have been applied to the area where the commodity is grown during seeding or inoculation. If a prohibited material is applied in the area prior to seeding or inoculation, a residue test shall be performed on the commodity grown from that seeding or inoculation.

(6) In the case of any raw agricultural commodity that is grown directly from seed and harvested within 18 days of germination, including, by way of example, sprouts, no prohibited material shall have been applied to the seed, and no prohibited material shall have been applied to the area where the commodity is grown after introduction of the seed. After January 1, 1992, the seed shall have been produced, handled, and processed in accordance with this article.

(b) Processed food manufactured only from raw agricultural commodities as described in subdivision (a), except as follows:

(1) Water, air, and salt may be added to the processed food.

(2) Ingredients other than raw agricultural commodities as described in subdivision (a) may be added to the processed food if these ingredients are included in the national list adopted by the United States Secretary of Agriculture pursuant to Section 6517 of the federal Organic Foods Production Act (7 U.S.C. Sec. 6501 et seq.) and do not represent more than 5 percent of the weight of the total finished product, excluding salt and water.

(c) Processed food manufactured only from a combination of raw agricultural commodities as described in subdivision (a) and processed food as described in subdivision (b).

(d) Meat, fowl, fish, dairy products, or eggs that are produced, distributed, and processed without any prohibited material having been applied or administered.

26569.29. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of law, any producer, handler, processor, or retailer of food sold as organic shall immediately make available for inspection by, and shall upon request, within 72 hours of the request, provide a copy to, the director, the Attorney General, any prosecuting attorney, any governmental agency responsible for enforcing laws related to the production or handling of food sold as organic, or the Secretary of Food and Agriculture of any record required to be kept under this section for purposes of carrying out this article and Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 46000) of Division 17 of the Food and Agricultural Code. Records acquired pursuant to this subdivision shall not be public records as that term is defined in Section 6252 of the Government Code and shall not be subject to Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code.

This subdivision shall be the exclusive means of public access to records required to be kept by producers, processors, handlers, and retailers under this article.

A person required to provide records pursuant to a request under this subdivision, may petition the director or the Secretary of Food and Agriculture to deny the request based on a finding that the request is of a frivolous or harassing nature. The secretary or director may, upon the issuance of such a finding, waive the information production requirements of this subdivision for the specific request for information that was the subject of the petition.

(c) Information specified in subdivision (b) that is required to be released upon request shall not be considered a "trade secret" under Section 26235, Section 1060 of the Evidence Code, or the Uniform Trade Secrets Act (Title 5 (commencing with Section 3426) of Part 1 of Division 4 of the Civil Code).

(f) The director shall not be required to obtain records not in his or her possession in response to a subpoena. Prior to releasing records required to be kept pursuant to this chapter in response to a subpoena, the director shall delete any information regarding the identity of suppliers or customers and the quantity or price of supplies purchased or products sold.

SEC. 4. Section 26569.30 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

26569.30. (a) Commencing January 1, 1996, all organic products shall be certified by a registered certifying organization, and food shall be sold as organic only in accordance with this section, subdivisions (c) and (d) of Section 26569.24, Sections 26569.31 to 26569.34, inclusive, and Section 46009 of the Food and Agricultural Code. The Secretary of Food and Agriculture, director, and the county agricultural commissioners shall carry out this subdivision to the extent that adequate funds are made available for that purpose.

(b) Food sold as organic may be certified only by a certification organization registered pursuant to subdivisions (c) and (d), by the

(1) Be the certification organization for at least five legally separate and distinct, financially unrelated, and independently controlled persons involved in the production or processing of food sold as organic.

(2) Be a legally separate and distinct entity from any person whose food is certified by the organization. A certification organization shall be considered legally separate and distinct notwithstanding the fact that persons or representatives of persons whose food is certified serve as directors, officers, or in other capacities for the certification organization, so long as those persons or representatives of those persons do not exercise decisionmaking authority over certification of that particular food.

(3) Have no financial interest in the sale of the food, except that fees charged by the certification organization to cover the reasonable costs of operating the certification organization do not constitute a financial interest for purposes of this section.

(d) Effective January 1, 1992, a certification organization which certifies processed food sold as organic, except for processed meat, fowl, or dairy products, shall register with the director and shall thereafter annually renew the registration unless no longer engaged in the activities requiring the registration. Registration shall be on a form provided by the director, shall include the filing of a certification plan as specified in Section 26569.33 and payment of the fee specified in subdivision (f). The director shall make forms available for this purpose on or before December 1, 1993. The director shall reject a registration submission that is incomplete or not in compliance with this article.

(e) Commencing July 31, 1991, the director may, upon the request of a sufficient number of persons to fund the program's cost, establish and maintain a certification program for processors of food sold as organic and shall establish and collect a fee from all processors of food certified under that program to cover all of the department's costs of administering the program. The certification program shall be subject to all provisions regarding certification organizations contained in this article, except that the requirements of subdivisions (c) and (d) shall not apply, and the program shall meet all of the requirements for federal certification programs, including federal accreditation.

(f) The registration fee shall be five hundred dollars ($500), unless the certification organization is also registered as a certifier of producers by the Secretary of Food and Agriculture under Section 46009 of the Food and Agricultural Code, in which case the registration fee shall be one hundred dollars ($100).

(g) The director may audit the organization's certification procedures and records at any time. Records of certification organizations not otherwise required to be released upon request or made publicly available shall not be released by the director except to other employees of the department, the Department of Food and Agriculture, a county agricultural commissioner, the Attorney General, any prosecuting attorney, or any government agency responsible for enforcing laws related to the activities of the person subject to this division.

(6) Potentially hazardous food samples shall be maintained at or below 45 degrees fahrenheit. All other food samples shall be disposed of within two hours after cutting.

(7) Utensil and hand washing water shall be disposed of in a facility connected to the public sewer system or in a manner approved by the local enforcement agency.

(8) Utensils and cutting surfaces shall be smooth, nonabsorbent, and easily cleaned or disposed of as approved by the local environmental health agency.

(c) Approved toilet and hand washing facilities shall be available within 60 meters (200 feet) of the premises of the certified farmers' market or as approved by the enforcement officer.

(d) No live animals, birds, or fowl shall be kept or allowed within 6 meters (20 feet) of any area where food is stored or held for sale. This subdivision does not apply to guide dogs, signal dogs, or service dogs when used in the manner specified in Section 54.1 of the Civil Code.

(e) All garbage and rubbish shall be stored, and disposed of, in a manner approved by the enforcement officer.

(f) Notwithstanding Article 11 (commencing with Section 27670), vendors selling food adjacent to and under the jurisdiction and management of a certified farmers' market may store, display, and sell from a table or display fixture apart from the vehicle, in a manner approved by the local enforcement agency.

(e) All garbage and rubbish shall be stored, and disposed of, in a manner approved by the enforcement officer.

(f) This section shall become operative on January 1, 1997.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution for those costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction.

Moreover, for certain costs, no reimbursement is required by this act from the State Mandates Claims Fund because the local agency or school district has the authority to levy service charges, fees, or assessments sufficient to pay for the program or level of service mandated by this act.

However, notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains other costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 787

An act to add Article 4 (commencing with Section 19335) to Chapter 7 of Part 11 of the Education Code, relating to the State Librarian, and making an appropriation therefor.

[Approved by Governor September 24, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 26, 1994.

I am deleting the $50,000 appropriation from the General Fund contained in Senate Bill 1993.

This bill requires the State Librarian to establish and administer the Reading Initiative Program. As part of the program the State Librarian must compile a list of recommended books for pupils in K-12 and develop a program of rewards and related recognition activities for pupils who participate and succeed in the program. The program's purpose is to promote recreational reading by children.

Because of the fiscal condition of the State and limited state resources, funding for the program should be limited to the use of private donations and to the extent possible, accommodated within existing resources. For these reasons, I am deleting the proposed $50,000 appropriation from the General Fund.

PETE WILSON, Governor

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Article 4 (commencing with Section 19335) is added to Chapter 7 of Part 11 of the Education Code, to read:

Article 4. Reading Initiative Program

19335. This act shall be known and may be cited as the Reading Initiative Program.

19336. The State Librarian shall establish the Reading Initiative Program with funds appropriated for that purpose and with funds received from private sources. The State Librarian shall administer the program and shall have the following duties:

(a) Developing a list of recommended books, in consultation with various groups, including, but not limited to, teachers, librarians, parents, writers, publishers, and employees of the State Department of Education. The recommended books shall supplement the state-recommended English/language arts curriculum framework, and shall include recreational reading selections for children.

(b) Developing a method of involving pupils enrolled in kindergarten and grades 1 to 12, inclusive, in the program and an appropriate form of recognition for participating pupils who volunteer to participate in the program and who succeed in the program. Rewards and related recognition activities shall be funded with amounts received from private sources.

(c) To the extent private funds are available, and consistent with subdivision (b), private funds received by the State Librarian for the purposes of this article shall be expended to obtain and make available to the public the books on the list developed pursuant to subdivision (a) of Section 19336.

SEC. 2. The sum of fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) is hereby appropriated to the State Librarian from the General Fund for the 1994–95 fiscal year for the purposes of administering the Reading Initiative Program (Art. 4 (commencing with Sec. 19335), Ch. 7, Pt. 11, Ed. C.).

199.717. (a) The State Department of Health Services shall develop and implement, with the assistance of other state agencies, a pilot project to provide a model women's HIV early intervention center. The Office of AIDS, within the department, shall designate areas of the state in which to implement this pilot project. The selection shall be based on observed HIV and AIDS trends among women. At a minimum, two pilot sites shall be established . Los Angeles County and the Alameda/Contra Costa County area shall be considered as possible sites for the pilot project. The women's HIV early intervention centers shall be linked to, or located with, AIDS outpatient treatment clinics and clinics providing a full range of women's health services.

(c) It is the intent of the Legislature that funding for implementation of this pilot project be provided from funds allocated to the Office of AIDS within the State Department of Health Services for early intervention for the prevention of HIV and AIDS among women, subject to appropriation in the Budget Act of 1994.

(d) The state department shall develop and implement this pilot project on or before July 1, 1995.

(e) This section shall become inoperative on June 30, 1998, and, as of January 1, 1999, is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which becomes effective on or before January 1, 1999, deletes or extends the dates on which it becomes inoperative and is repealed.

CHAPTER 790

An act to amend Sections 18358.15 and 18358.30 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to children's services.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 18358.15 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.15. (a) Each foster family agency participating in the program shall provide or arrange for all the following services for children placed in foster care:

(1) Individualized needs and services plans that ensure continuity and stability in the placement of emotionally disturbed children in certified family homes that meet the needs of children making the transition from institutional placement to noninstitutional placement. The needs and services plan for each child in placement shall describe the specific needs of the child and the appropriate level of services provided to the child pursuant to Section 18358.30.

(2) Education and mental health services for children.

(3) Therapeutic after-school programs for children.

(4) In-home and support services necessary to implement the case plan.

(5) Other necessary services for children in placement, including medical and dental services.

(b) No more than one emotionally disturbed child shall be placed in a certified family home unless the participating foster family agency provides the county welfare department with a written assessment of the risk and compatibility of placing two emotionally disturbed children together. More than two emotionally disturbed children who are siblings may be placed together in the same certified family home if the placement is approved by the interagency review teams of the placing county and the participating county. However, there shall be no more than a total of five children living in a certified family home with two adults, and there shall be no more than a total of three children living in a certified family home with one adult, except in cases where children living in the home other than those placed pursuant to this chapter are 15 years of age or older.

(c) Any use of physical contact to manage the behavior of a child that is reported to the foster family agency pursuant to Section 18538.25 shall in turn be reported by the foster family agency to the Community Care Licensing Division of the department as a special incident pursuant to Section 80061 of Title 22 of the California Code of Regulations.

SEC. 2. Section 18358.30 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

18358.30. (a) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall be exempt from the current AFDC-FC foster family agency rate setting system.

(b) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall be set according to the appropriate pilot classification model based on the level of services provided to the eligible child and the certified foster family. In all of the pilot classification models, the foster family agency programs shall:

(1) Provide social work services with average case loads not to exceed eight children per worker, except that social worker average case loads for children in Pilot Classification Models E and F shall not exceed 12 children per worker.

(2) Pay an amount of one thousand two hundred dollars ($1,200) per child per month to the certified foster parent or parents.

(3) Perform activities necessary for the administration of the programs, including, but not limited to, training, recruitment, certification, and monitoring of the certified foster parents.

(4) Provide a minimum average of service per week, represented by paid employee hours incurred by the participating foster family agency, by the in-home support counselor to the eligible child and the certified foster parents depending on the needs of the child and according to the following schedule:

Pilot Classification Model	In-Home Child/Youth Counselor Hours Per Week
A	31 hours
B	25 hours
C	18 hours
D	12 hours
E	0 hours
F	0 hours

(c) The department or placing county, or both, may review the level of services provided by the foster family agency program. If the level of services actually provided are less than those for the pilot classification model upon which the rate for the child was based, the rate shall be adjusted to reflect the pilot classification model actually provided, and an overpayment may be established and recovered by the department.

(d) (1) The standard rate schedule of pilot classification models for the 1993–94 fiscal year shall be:

Pilot Classification Model	Fiscal Year 1993–94 Standard Rate
A	$3,733
B	$3,423
C	$3,112
D	$2,802
E	$2,490
F	$2,099

(2) For the 1991–92 and 1992–93 fiscal years, the standardized rate for each pilot classification model shall be adjusted by an amount equal to the California Necessities Index computed pursuant to the methodology described in Section 11453, subject to the availability of funds.

(3) Beginning with the 1993–94 fiscal year, the standardized schedule of rates shall be adjusted annually by an amount equal to the California Necessities Index computed pursuant to Section 11453, subject to the availability of funds.

(e) Rates for foster family agency programs participating under this chapter shall not exceed Pilot Classification Model A at any time during an eligible child's placement. An eligible child may be initially placed in a participating intensive foster care program at any one of the five pilot classification levels A to E, inclusive, and thereafter placed at any level, either higher or lower, not to exceed a total of six months at any level other than Pilot Classification Model E, unless it is determined to be in the best interests of the child by the child's county interagency review team and the child's certified foster parents. The child's interagency county interagency placement review team may, through a formal review of the child's placement, extend the placement of an eligible child in a pilot classification model higher than Pilot Classification Model E for additional periods of up to six months each.

(f) It is the intent of the Legislature that the pilot classification model and the rate paid to participating foster family agency programs shall decrease as the child's need for services from the foster family agency decreases. The foster family agency shall notify the placing county and the department of the reduced services and the pilot classification model, and the rate shall be reduced accordingly.

(g) It is the intent of the Legislature to prohibit any duplication of public funding. Therefore, social worker services, payments to certified foster parents, administrative activities, and the services of in-home support counselors that are funded by another public source shall not be counted in determining whether the foster family agency program has met its obligations to provide the items listed in paragraphs (1), (2), (3), and (4) of subdivision (b).

CHAPTER 791

An act to amend Section 1418.8 of, and to add Section 1418.85 to, the Health and Safety Code, relating to long-term health care.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1418.8 of the Health and Safety Code is amended to read:

1418.8. (a) If the attending physician and surgeon of a resident in a skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility prescribes or orders a medical intervention that requires informed consent be obtained prior to administration of the medical intervention, but is unable to obtain informed consent because the physician and surgeon determines that the resident lacks capacity to make decisions concerning his or her health care and that there is no person with legal authority to make those decisions on behalf of the resident, the physician and surgeon shall inform the skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility.

(b) For purposes of subdivision (a), a resident lacks capacity to make a decision regarding his or her health care if the resident is unable to understand the nature and consequences of the proposed medical intervention, including its risks and benefits, or is unable to express a preference regarding the intervention. To make the determination regarding capacity, the physician shall interview the patient, review the patient's medical records, and consult with skilled nursing or intermediate care facility staff, as appropriate, and family members and friends of the resident, if any have been identified.

(c) For purposes of subdivision (a), a person with legal authority to make medical treatment decisions on behalf of a patient is a person designated under a valid Durable Power of Attorney for Health Care, a guardian, a conservator, or next of kin. To determine the existence of a person with legal authority, the physician shall interview the patient, review the medical records of the patient and consult with skilled nursing or intermediate care facility staff, as appropriate, and family members and friends of the resident, if any have been identified.

(d) The attending physician and the skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility may initiate a medical intervention that requires informed consent pursuant to subdivision (e) in accordance with acceptable standards of practice.

(e) Where a resident of a skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility has been prescribed a medical intervention by a physician and surgeon that requires informed consent and the physician has determined that the resident lacks capacity to make health care decisions and there is no person with legal authority to make those decisions on behalf of the resident, the facility shall, except as provided in subdivision (h), conduct an interdisciplinary team review of the prescribed medical intervention prior to the administration of the medical intervention. The interdisciplinary team shall oversee the care of the resident utilizing a team approach to assessment and care planning and shall include the resident's attending physician, a registered professional nurse with responsibility for the resident, other appropriate staff in disciplines as determined by the resident's needs, and, where practicable, a patient representative, in accordance with applicable federal and state requirements. The review shall include all of the following:

(1) A review of the physician's assessment of the resident's condition.

(2) The reason for the proposed use of the medical intervention.

(3) A discussion of the desires of the patient, where known. To determine the desires of the resident, the interdisciplinary team shall interview the patient, review the patient's medical records and consult with family members or friends, if any have been identified.

(4) The type of medical intervention to be used in the resident's care, including its probable frequency and duration.

(5) The probable impact on the resident's condition, with and without the use of the medical intervention.

(6) Reasonable alternative medical interventions considered or utilized and reasons for their discontinuance or inappropriateness.

(f) A patient representative may include a family member or friend of the resident who is unable to take full responsibility for the health care decisions of the resident, but has agreed to serve on the interdisciplinary team, or other person authorized by state or federal law.

(g) The interdisciplinary team shall periodically evaluate the use of the prescribed medical intervention at least quarterly or upon a significant change in the resident's medical condition.

(h) In case of an emergency, after obtaining a physician and surgeon's order as necessary, a skilled nursing or intermediate care facility may administer a medical intervention which requires informed consent prior to the facility convening an interdisciplinary team review.

(i) Physician and surgeons and skilled nursing facilities and intermediate care facilities shall not be required to obtain a court order pursuant to Section 3201 of the Probate Code prior to administering a medical intervention which requires informed consent if the requirements of this section are met.

(j) Nothing in this section shall in any way affect the right of a resident of a skilled nursing facility or intermediate care facility for whom medical intervention has been prescribed, ordered, or administered pursuant to this section to seek appropriate judicial relief to review the decision to provide the medical intervention.

(k) No physician or other health care provider, whose action under this section is in accordance with reasonable medical standards, is subject to administrative sanction if the physician or health care provider believes in good faith that the action is consistent with this section and the desires of the resident, or if unknown, the best interests of the resident.

(l) The determinations required to be made pursuant to subdivisions (a), (e), and (g), and the basis for those determinations shall be documented in the patient's medical record and shall be made available to the patient's representative for review.

(m) This section shall remain in effect only until January 1, 1997, and as of that date is repealed, unless a later enacted statute, which is enacted before January 1, 1997, deletes or extends that date.

SEC. 2. Section 1418.85 is added to the Health and Safety Code, immediately following Section 1418.8, to read:

1418.85. The state department shall convene a committee of representatives of long-term care provider organizations, consumer advocates, long-term care ombudsmen, and representatives from the legal system, including, but not limited to, the public guardian, to assess the need for changes to the requirements and procedures set forth in Section 1418.8. The committee shall make recommendations to the Legislature regarding any identified changes to be made in the requirements and procedures set forth in Section 1418.8 by July 1, 1995.

(4) The credit services organization's principal business address and the name and address of its agent, other than the Secretary of State, in the State of California, authorized to receive service of process.

1789.21. (a) Any buyer injured by a violation of this title or by the credit services organization's breach of a contract subject to this title may bring any action for recovery of damages, or for injunctive relief, or both. Judgment shall be entered for actual damages, but in no case less than the amount paid by the buyer to the credit services organization, plus reasonable attorney's fees and costs. An award, if the trial court deems it proper, may be entered for punitive damages.

(b) Any person, including, but not limited to, a consumer credit reporting agency, as defined in subdivision (d) of Section 1785.3, and any consumer of, or user of, a consumer credit report under the Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies Act (Title 1.6 (commencing with Section 1785.1), and any furnisher of credit information under the Consumer Credit Reporting Agencies Act, may bring an action for the recovery of damages or for injunctive relief, or both, for a violation of this title. Any person bringing such an action who prevails in the action shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

SEC. 5. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

CHAPTER 793

An act to amend Section 664 of the Penal Code, relating to attempted murder.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 664 of the Penal Code is amended to read:

664. Every person who attempts to commit any crime, but fails, or is prevented or intercepted in the perpetration thereof, is punishable, where no provision is made by law for the punishment of such attempts, as follows:

(a) If the offense so attempted is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison, the person guilty of that attempt is punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for one-half the term of imprisonment prescribed upon a conviction of the offense so attempted; provided, however, that if the crime attempted is willful, deliberate, and premeditated murder, as defined in Section 189, the person guilty of that attempt shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for life with the possibility of parole; provided, further, that if the crime attempted is any other one in which the maximum sentence is life imprisonment or death the person guilty of the attempt shall be punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for a term of five, seven, or nine years. The additional term provided in this section for attempted willful, deliberate, and premeditated murder shall not be imposed unless the fact that the attempted murder was willful, deliberate, and premeditated is charged in the accusatory pleading and admitted or found to be true by the trier of fact.

(b) If the offense so attempted is punishable by imprisonment in a county jail, the person guilty of such attempt is punishable by imprisonment in a county jail for a term not exceeding one-half the term of imprisonment prescribed upon a conviction of the offense so attempted.

(c) If the offense so attempted is punishable by a fine, the offender convicted of that attempt is punishable by a fine not exceeding one-half the largest fine which may be imposed upon a conviction of the offense so attempted.

(d) If a crime is divided into degrees, an attempt to commit the crime may be of any of those degrees, and the punishment for the attempt shall be determined as provided by this section.

(e) (1) Notwithstanding subdivision (a), if either attempted willful, deliberate, and premeditated murder or attempted murder is committed upon a peace officer or firefighter, as those terms are defined in paragraphs (7) and (9) of subdivision (a) of Section 190.2, and the person who commits the offense knows or reasonably should know that the victim is such a peace officer or firefighter engaged in the performance of his or her duties, the person guilty of the attempt shall be punished by imprisonment in the state prison for life with the possibility of parole.

(2) This subdivision shall apply if it is proved that a direct but ineffectual act was committed by one person toward killing another human being and the person committing the act harbored express malice aforethought, namely, a specific intent to unlawfully kill another human being. The Legislature finds and declares that this paragraph is declaratory of existing law.

CHAPTER 794

An act to amend Section 825 of the Government Code, relating to public liability.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 825 of the Government Code is amended to read:

825. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this section, if an employee or former employee of a public entity requests the public entity to defend him or her against any claim or action against him or her for an injury arising out of an act or omission occurring within the scope of his or her employment as an employee of the public entity and such request is made in writing not less than 10 days before the day of trial, and the employee or former employee reasonably cooperates in good faith in the defense of the claim or action, the public entity shall pay any judgment based thereon or any compromise or settlement of the claim or action to which the public entity has agreed.

If the public entity conducts the defense of an employee or former employee against any claim or action with his or her reasonable good-faith cooperation, the public entity shall pay any judgment based thereon or any compromise or settlement of the claim or action to which the public entity has agreed. However, where the public entity conducted such defense pursuant to an agreement with the employee or former employee reserving the rights of the public entity not to pay the judgment, compromise, or settlement until it is established that the injury arose out of an act or omission occurring within the scope of his or her employment as an employee of the public entity, the public entity is required to pay the judgment, compromise, or settlement only if it is established that the injury arose out of an act or omission occurring in the scope of his or her employment as an employee of the public entity.

Nothing in this section authorizes a public entity to pay that part of a claim or judgment that is for punitive or exemplary damages.

(b) Notwithstanding subdivision (a) or any other provision of law, a public entity, other than the state as defined in Section 900.6, is authorized to pay that part of a judgment that is for punitive or exemplary damages if the governing body of that public entity, acting in its sole discretion, finds all of the following:

(1) The judgment is based on an act or omission of an employee or former employee acting within the course and scope of his or her employment as an employee of the public entity.

(2) At the time of the act giving rise to the liability, the employee or former employee acted, or failed to act, in good faith, without actual malice and in the apparent best interests of the public entity.

(3) Payment of the claim or judgment would be in the best interests of the public entity.

The discovery of the assets of a public entity and the introduction of evidence of the assets of a public entity shall not be permitted in an action in which it is alleged that a public employee is liable for punitive or exemplary damages.

The possibility that a public entity may pay that part of a judgment that is for punitive damages shall not be disclosed in any trial in which it is alleged that a public employee is liable for punitive or exemplary damages, and that disclosure shall be grounds for a mistrial.

(c) Except as provided in subdivision (d), if the provisions of this section are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 3500) of Division 4 of Title 1, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if such provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

(d) The subject of payment of punitive damages pursuant to this section or any other provision of law shall not be a subject of meet and confer under the provisions of Chapter 10 (commencing with Section 3500) of Division 4 of Title 1, or pursuant to any other law or authority.

(e) Nothing in this section shall affect the provisions of Section 818 prohibiting the award of punitive damages against a public entity. This section shall not be construed as a waiver of a public entity's immunity from liability for punitive damages under Section 1981, 1983, or 1985 of Title 42 of the United States Code.

(f) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (2), a public entity shall not pay a judgment, compromise, or settlement arising from a claim or action against an elected official, if the claim or action is based on conduct by the elected official by way of tortiously intervening or attempting to intervene in, or by way of tortiously influencing or attempting to influence the outcome of, any judicial action or proceeding for the benefit of a particular party by contacting the trial judge or any commissioner, court-appointed arbitrator, court-appointed mediator, or court-appointed special referee assigned to the matter, or the court clerk, bailiff, or marshal after an action has been filed, unless he or she was counsel of record acting lawfully within the scope of his or her employment on behalf of that party. Notwithstanding Section 825.6, if a public entity conducted the defense of an elected official against such a claim or action and the elected official is found liable by the trier of fact, the court shall order the elected official to pay to the public entity the cost of that defense.

(2) If an elected official is held liable for monetary damages in the action, the plaintiff shall first seek recovery of the judgment against the assets of the elected official. If the elected official's assets are insufficient to satisfy the total judgment, as determined by the court, the public entity may pay the deficiency if the public entity is authorized by law to pay that judgment.

(3) To the extent the public entity pays any portion of the judgment or is entitled to reimbursement of defense costs pursuant to paragraph (1), the public entity shall pursue all available creditor's remedies against the elected official, including garnishment, until that party has fully reimbursed the public entity.

(4) This subdivision shall not apply to any criminal or civil enforcement action brought in the name of the people of the State of California by an elected district attorney, city attorney, or attorney general.

CHAPTER 795

An act to amend Section 11322.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to public assistance.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11322.4 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read:

11322.4. (a) In determining which clients shall receive services, counties shall give existing participants highest priority. If resources are not sufficient to serve all existing participants, the county shall temporarily exclude clients from participation in the following order:

(1) Participants who are not members of the target population.

(2) Participants who are members of the target population who do not volunteer for program services.

(3) Participants who are members of the target population who volunteer to receive program services.

(b) If funds are sufficient to serve all existing participants, priority for intake shall be extended to new program registrants according to the following list in descending order:

(1) Members of the target population who are required to register under this article and who volunteer to receive GAIN services.

(2) Members of the target population who are exempt from the requirement to register under this article and who volunteer to receive GAIN services.

(3) AFDC applicants and recipients who are required to register under this article and who are members of the target population who do not volunteer to receive program services.

(4) Recipients of AFDC who are not members of the target population.

(5) Applicants for AFDC who are not members of the target population.

(c) The number of years, in whole year increments, each individual has received AFDC during the immediately preceding two-year period shall determine which individuals shall receive the highest priority in the categories described in paragraphs (4) and (5) of subdivision (b), with those who received AFDC during the greatest amount of time receiving the highest priority.

(d) (1) For purposes of this section, "target population" means a group composed of all or any of the following groups of individuals:

(A) Individuals applying for AFDC aid who have received AFDC aid for 36 of the 60 months immediately preceding the most recent month for which application has been made.

(B) Individuals receiving AFDC aid who have received AFDC aid for any 36 of the preceding 60 months.

(C) Custodial parents under the age of 24 who had little or no work experience in the preceding year.

(D) Custodial parents under the age of 24 who have not completed a high school education and are not enrolled in high school, or in a high school equivalency course of instruction.

(E) Members of a family in which the youngest child is within two years of being ineligible for AFDC because of age.

(2) Nothing in this section shall be interpreted to prohibit a county from allocating funds to target population groups, as defined in paragraph (1), in any order selected by the county, to the extent permitted by federal law, provided that no reduction in federal funding would result from that change. However, a county shall give first consideration to applicants or recipients in any target population group it selects who volunteer to participate in the program. A county may not give lesser priority to any target population group because of estimated costs of supportive services to that group.

(e) For the purposes of this section, "volunteer" means any person eligible to participate in the program, either exempt or mandatory, who expresses a desire to participate.

(f) (1) Notwithstanding any other provision of this article, except as provided in paragraph (2), any individual who fails to obtain unsubsidized employment after receiving post-assessment education and employment training services pursuant to subdivision (a), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 11322.8 shall not receive additional training or education services until all other persons qualified for those services are being served.

(2) Additional training and education services pursuant to subdivision (a), (c), (d), or (e) of Section 11322.8 may be provided in extenuating circumstances as defined by the department. Extenuating circumstances shall be defined to include, but shall not be limited to, cases in which educational and training services previously provided cannot lead to employment within the local labor market area.

(g) This section shall not apply to individuals subject to Article 3.5 (commencing with Section 11331) during that time the article is operative.

CHAPTER 796

An act to add Section 815.3 to the Government Code, relating to governmental tort liability.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 815.3 is added to the Government Code, to read:

815.3. (a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this part, unless the elected official and the public entity are named as codefendants in the same action, a public entity is not liable to a plaintiff under this part for any act or omission of an elected official employed by or otherwise representing that public entity, which act or omission constitutes an intentional tort, including, but not limited to, harassment, sexual battery, and intentional infliction of emotional distress. For purposes of this section, harassment in violation of state or federal law constitutes an intentional tort, to the extent permitted by federal law. This section shall not apply to defamation.

(b) If the elected official is held liable for an intentional tort other than defamation in such an action, the trier of fact in reaching the verdict shall determine if the act or omission constituting the intentional tort arose from and was directly related to the elected official's performance of his or her official duties. If the trier of fact determines that the act or omission arose from and was directly related to the elected official's performance of his or her official duties, the public entity shall be liable for the judgment as provided by law. For the purpose of this subdivision, employee managerial functions shall be deemed to arise from, and to directly relate to, the elected official's official duties. However, acts or omissions constituting sexual harassment shall not be deemed to arise from, and to directly relate to, the elected official's official duties.

(c) If the trier of fact determines that the elected official's act or omission did not arise from and was not directly related to the elected official's performance of his or her official duties, upon a final judgment, including any appeal, the plaintiff shall first seek recovery of the judgment against the assets of the elected official. If the court determines that the elected official's assets are insufficient to satisfy the total judgment, including plaintiff's costs as provided by law, the court shall determine the amount of the deficiency and the plaintiff may seek to collect that remainder of the judgment from the public entity. The public entity may pay that deficiency if the public entity is otherwise authorized by law to pay that judgment.

(d) To the extent the public entity pays any portion of the judgment against the elected official pursuant to subdivision (c) or has expended defense costs in an action in which the trier of fact determines the elected official's action did not arise from and did not directly relate to his or her performance of official duties, the public entity shall pursue all available creditor's remedies against the elected official in indemnification, including garnishment, until the elected official has fully reimbursed the public entity.

(e) If the public entity elects to appeal the judgment in an action brought pursuant to this section, the entity shall continue to provide a defense for the official until the case is finally adjudicated, as provided by law.

(f) It is the intent of the Legislature that elected officials assume full fiscal responsibility for their conduct which constitutes an intentional tort not directly related to their official duties committed for which the public entity they represent may also be liable, while maintaining fair compensation for those persons injured by such conduct.

(g) This section shall not apply to a criminal or civil enforcement action brought on behalf of the state by an elected district attorney, city attorney, or Attorney General.

(h) If any provision of this section or the application thereof to any person or circumstances is held invalid, that invalidity shall not affect other provisions or applications of the section which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this section are severable.

CHAPTER 797

An act to amend Section 825.6 of the Government Code, relating to governmental liability.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 825.6 of the Government Code is amended to read:

825.6. (a) (1) Except as provided in subdivision (b), if a public entity pays any claim or judgment, or any portion thereof, either against itself or against an employee or former employee of the public entity, for an injury arising out of an act or omission of the employee or former employee of the public entity, the public entity may recover from the employee or former employee the amount of that payment if he or she acted or failed to act because of actual fraud, corruption, or actual malice, or willfully failed or refused to conduct the defense of the claim or action in good faith. Except as provided in paragraph (2) or (3), a public entity may not recover any payments made upon a judgment or claim against an employee or former employee if the public entity conducted his or her defense against the action or claim.

(2) If a public entity pays any claim or judgment, or any portion thereof, against an employee or former employee of the public entity for an injury arising out of his or her act or omission, and if the public entity conducted his or her defense against the claim or action pursuant to an agreement with him or her reserving the rights of the public entity against him or her, the public entity may recover the amount of the payment from him or her unless he or she establishes that the act or omission upon which the claim or judgment is based occurred within the scope of his employment as an employee of the public entity and the public entity fails to establish that he or she acted or failed to act because of actual fraud, corruption or actual malice or that he or she willfully failed or refused to reasonably cooperate in good faith in the defense conducted by the public entity.

(3) If a public entity pays any claim or judgment, or any portion thereof, against an employee or former employee of the public entity for an injury arising out of his or her act or omission, and if the public entity conducted the defense against the claim or action in the absence of an agreement with him or her reserving the rights of the public entity against him or her, the public entity may recover the amount of such payment from him or her if he or she willfully failed or refused to reasonably cooperate in good faith in the defense conducted by the public entity.

(b) (1) Upon a felony conviction for a violation of Section 1195 of this code, or of Section 68, 86, 93, 165, 504, or 518 of the Penal Code, by an elected official or former elected official of a public entity for an act or omission of that person while in office, the elected official or former elected official shall forfeit any rights to defense or indemnification under Section 825 with respect to a claim for damages for an injury arising from that act or omission.

(2) If a public entity pays any claim or judgment, or any portion thereof, either against itself or against an elected official or former elected official of the public entity, for an injury arising out of an act or omission of the elected official or former elected official of the public entity, which act or omission constituted a felony violation of Section 1195 of this code, or of Section 68, 86, 93, 165, 504, or 518 of the Penal Code, the public entity shall recover from the elected official or former elected official the amount of that payment upon the felony conviction of the elected official or former elected official for that act or omission. Upon that conviction, the public entity shall also recover from the elected official the costs of any defense to a civil action filed against the elected official for that act or omission.

(c) If the provisions of this section are in conflict with the provisions of a memorandum of understanding reached pursuant to Chapter 12 (commencing with Section 3560) of Division 4 of Title 1, the memorandum of understanding shall be controlling without further legislative action, except that if such provisions of a memorandum of understanding require the expenditure of funds, the provisions shall not become effective unless approved by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

SEC. 2. Notwithstanding Section 17610 of the Government Code, if the Commission on State Mandates determines that this act contains costs mandated by the state, reimbursement to local agencies and school districts for those costs shall be made pursuant to Part 7 (commencing with Section 17500) of Division 4 of Title 2 of the Government Code. If the statewide cost of the claim for reimbursement does not exceed one million dollars ($1,000,000), reimbursement shall be made from the State Mandates Claims Fund. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.

5080.24. (a) The department may enter into an interim agreement with the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation on the same basis as the cancelled contract, except that it shall be modified as specified by subdivisions (b) to (e), inclusive, until the department awards a contract pursuant to Section 5080.25.

(b) Any interim agreement pursuant to subdivision (a) shall provide that the amount of compensation received by the general manager of the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation shall be subject to determination by the Legislature in the annual Budget Act.

(d) Any interim agreement pursuant to subdivision (a) shall provide that the meetings of the board of directors of the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation shall be conducted in accordance with the Bagley-Keene Open Meeting Act (Article 9 (commencing with Section 11120) of Chapter 1 or Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code) and the board of directors shall be considered a state body under Section 11121.2 of the Government Code.

(e) Any interim agreement pursuant to subdivision (a) shall provide that all business and financial records of the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation, including existing records, but not including records that would be personal information under Section 1798.3 of the Civil Code if maintained by an agency, shall be treated as public records subject to disclosure under the California Public Records Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code). The term "employment contract" as used in Section 6254.8 of the Government Code shall be deemed to mean an employment contract between the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation and its employee.

SEC. 2. Section 5080.25 is added to the Public Resources Code, to read:

5080.25. (a) The department shall enter into a contract for the

(b) The contract shall not be advertised for bid, negotiated, renegotiated, or amended in any material respect unless it has been submitted to the Legislature for review.

(c) The contract shall require the concessionaire to pay for administrative costs, capital expenditures, and department staff necessary for the operation of, and improvements to, the Asilomar State Beach and Conference Center, including restoration projects.

(d) The contract shall require all capital improvements to the Asilomar State Beach and Conference Center to be solely the property of the state.

(e) The contract shall require the concessionaire to honor all rates and reservations made by the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation under the interim agreement described in Section 5080.24.

(f) The contract shall require the concessionaire to give preference to the employees of the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation when staffing the operation of the concessionaire.

(g) The contract shall emphasize the importance of protecting the natural and cultural values of the Asilomar State Beach and Conference Center.

(h) In awarding the contract, the department shall consider bids or proposals from both nonprofit and for-profit entities.

(i) If the contract is awarded to a concessionaire governed by a board of directors, the contract shall require the department to be present at meetings of the board of directors relating to the construction, maintenance, finances, or operation of concessions at the Asilomar Conference Grounds, and shall require those meetings to be conducted in accordance with the Bagley-Keene Open Meeting Act (Article 9 (commencing with Section 11120) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code). If the contract is awarded to a concessionaire that is not governed by a board of directors, the contract shall require the concessionaire to hold quarterly meetings at the Asilomar Conference Grounds, relating to the construction, maintenance, finances, or operation of concessions at the Asilomar Conference Grounds, at which the department shall be present, that shall be conducted in accordance with the Bagley-Keene Open Meeting Act (Article 9 (commencing with Section 11120) of Chapter 1 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code).

(j) The contract shall provide that all business and financial records of the concessionaire relating to the construction, maintenance, or operation of concessions at the Asilomar Conference Grounds, including existing records, but not including records that would be personal information under Section 1798.3 of the Civil Code if maintained by an agency, shall be treated as public records subject to disclosure under the California Public Records Act (Chapter 3.5 (commencing with Section 6250) of Division 7 of Title 1 of the Government Code). The term "employment contract" as used in Section 6254.8 of the Government Code shall be deemed to mean an employment contract between the concessionaire and its employee.

(k) In awarding the contract, the department shall consider without prejudice any bid or proposal submitted by the Pacific Grove-Asilomar Operating Corporation.

(l) The department shall, for the purpose of ensuring that all bidders are afforded an equal opportunity to compete for the contract, consider the estimated amount of fees or taxes that might be paid to the state or to a local government by a bidder as a result of the contract among those factors to be used to evaluate the bidder's bid or proposal for the contract. The department shall consult with the Department of Finance and the Board of Equalization to obtain information necessary to estimate the amount of fees or taxes that might be paid by a bidder as a result of the contract.

(m) Any revenues received by the department pursuant to the contract that are identified by the department as funds in excess of the approved operating budget and the approved capital improvement budget for the Asilomar Conference Grounds shall be deposited in the State Parks and Recreation Fund.

(n) On or before January 1, 1995, the department shall submit a request for proposal for the contract to the Assembly Water, Parks, and Wildlife Committee, the Senate Natural Resources Committee, the Assembly Ways and Means Committee, and the Senate Budget and Fiscal Review Committee for review.

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency statute necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting the necessity are:

In order to protect the interests of the people of the state of California at the Asilomar Conference Grounds, and to ensure that the public and the state park system receive a benefit from the operation of the Asilomar Conference Grounds, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 799

An act to amend Sections 3068, 3068.1, 3070, 3071, 3072, and 3073 of the Civil Code, relating to vehicle liens.

[Approved by Governor September 25, 1994. Filed with Secretary of State September 27, 1994.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3068 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3068. (a) Every person has a lien dependent upon possession for the compensation to which the person is legally entitled for making repairs or performing labor upon, and furnishing supplies or materials for, and for the storage, repair, or safekeeping of, and for the rental of parking space for, any vehicle of a type subject to registration under the Vehicle Code, subject to the limitations set forth in this chapter. The lien shall be deemed to arise at the time a written statement of charges for completed work or services is presented to the registered owner or 15 days after the work or services are completed, whichever occurs first.

(b) (1) Any lien under this section that arises because work or services have been performed on a vehicle with the consent of the registered owner shall be extinguished and no lien sale shall be conducted unless either of the following occurs:

(A) The lienholder applies for an authorization to conduct a lien sale within 30 days after the lien has arisen.

(B) An action in court is filed within 30 days after the lien has arisen.

(2) A person whose lien for work or services on a vehicle has been extinguished shall turn over possession of the vehicle, at the place where the work or services were performed, to the legal owner or the lessor upon demand of the legal owner or lessor, and upon tender by the legal owner or lessor, by cashier's check or in cash, of only the amount for storage, safekeeping, or parking space rental for the vehicle to which the person is entitled by subdivision (c).

(3) Any lien under this section that arises because work or services have been performed on a vehicle with the consent of the registered owner shall be extinguished, and no lien sale shall be conducted, if the lienholder, after written demand made by either personal service or certified mail with return receipt requested by the legal owner or the lessor to inspect the vehicle, fails to permit that inspection by the legal owner or lessor, or his or her agent, within a period of time not sooner than 24 hours nor later than 72 hours after the receipt of that written demand, during the normal business hours of the lienholder.

(c) The lienholder shall not charge the legal owner or lessor any amount for release of the vehicle in excess of the amounts authorized by this subdivision.

(1) That portion of the lien in excess of seven hundred fifty dollars ($750) for any work or services, or that amount in excess of four hundred dollars ($400) for any storage, safekeeping, or rental of parking space or, if an application for an authorization to conduct a lien sale has been filed pursuant to Section 3071 within 30 days after the commencement of the storage or safekeeping, in excess of five hundred dollars ($500) for any storage or safekeeping, rendered or performed at the request of any person other than the legal owner or lessor, is invalid, unless prior to commencing any work, services, storage, safekeeping, or rental of parking space, the person claiming the lien gives actual notice in writing either by personal service or by registered letter addressed to the legal owner named in the registration certificate, and the written consent of that legal owner is obtained before any work, services, storage, safekeeping, or rental of parking space are performed.

(2) If any portion of a lien includes charges for the care, storage, or safekeeping of, or for the rental of parking space for, a vehicle for a period in excess of 60 days, the portion of the lien that accrued after the expiration of that period is invalid unless Sections 10650 and 10652 of the Vehicle Code have been complied with by the holder of the lien.

(3) The charge for the care, storage, or safekeeping of a vehicle which may be charged to the legal owner or lessor shall not exceed that for one day of storage if, 24 hours or less after the vehicle is placed in storage, a request is made for the release of the vehicle. If the request is made more than 24 hours after the vehicle is placed in storage, charges may be imposed on a full, calendar-day basis for each day, or part thereof, that the vehicle is in storage.

(d) In any action brought by or on behalf of the legal owner or lessor to recover a vehicle alleged to be wrongfully withheld by the person claiming a lien pursuant to this section, the prevailing party shall be entitled to reasonable attorney's fees and costs, not to exceed one thousand seven hundred fifty dollars ($1,750).

SEC. 2. Section 3068.1 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3068.1. (a) Every person has a lien dependent upon possession for the compensation to which the person is legally entitled for towing or storage of any vehicle subject to registration that has been authorized to be removed by a public agency, a private property owner pursuant to Section 22658 of the Vehicle Code, or a lessee, operator, or registered owner of the vehicle. The lien is deemed to arise on the date of possession of the vehicle. Possession is deemed to arise when the vehicle is removed and is in transit. A person seeking to enforce a lien for the storage and safekeeping of a vehicle shall impose no charge exceeding that for one day of storage if, 24 hours or less after the vehicle is placed in storage, a request is made for the release of the vehicle. If the request is made more than 24 hours after the vehicle is placed in storage, charges may be imposed on a full, calendar-day basis for each day, or part thereof, that the vehicle is in storage.

(b) If the vehicle has been determined to have a value not exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500), the lien shall be satisfied pursuant to Section 3072. Lien-sale proceedings pursuant to Section 3072 shall commence within 15 days of the date the lien arises. No storage shall accrue beyond the 15-day period unless lien-sale proceedings pursuant to Section 3072 have commenced. The storage lien may be for a period not exceeding 60 days if a completed notice of a pending lien sale form has been filed pursuant to Section 3072 within 15 days after the lien arises. Notwithstanding this 60-day limitation, the storage lien may be for a period not exceeding 120 days if any one of the following occurs:

(1) A Declaration of Opposition is filed with the department pursuant to Section 3072.

(2) The vehicle has an out-of-state registration.

(3) The vehicle identification number was altered or removed.

(4) A person who has an interest in the vehicle becomes known to the lienholder after the lienholder has complied with subdivision (b) of Section 3072.

(c) If the vehicle has been determined to have a value exceeding two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) pursuant to Section 22670 of the Vehicle Code, the lien shall be satisfied pursuant to Section 3071. The storage lien may be for a period not exceeding 120 days if an application for an authorization to conduct a lien sale has been filed pursuant to Section 3071.

(d) Any lien under this section shall be extinguished, and no lien sale shall be conducted, if any one of the following occurs:

(1) The lienholder, after written demand to inspect the vehicle made by either personal service or certified mail with return receipt requested by the legal owner or the lessor, fails to permit the inspection by the legal owner or lessor, or his or her agent, within a period of time of at least 24 hours, but not to exceed 72 hours, after the receipt of that written demand, during the normal business hours of the lienholder. The legal owner or lessor shall comply with inspection and vehicle release policies of the impounding public agency.

(2) The amount claimed for storage exceeds the posted rates.

SEC. 3. Section 3070 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3070. (a) Whenever the possessory lien upon any vehicle is lost through trick, fraud, or device, the repossession of the vehicle by the lienholder revives the possessory lien but any lien so revived is subordinate to any right, title, or interest of any person under any sale, transfer, encumbrance, lien, or other interest acquired or secured in good faith and for value between the time of the loss of possession and the time of repossession.

(b) It is a misdemeanor for any person to obtain possession of any vehicle or any part thereof subject to a lien pursuant to this chapter by trick, fraud, or device.

(c) It is a misdemeanor for any person claiming a lien on a vehicle to knowingly violate this chapter.

(d) (1) Any person who improperly causes a vehicle to be towed or removed in order to create or acquire a lienhold interest enforceable under this chapter, or who violates subdivision (c), shall forfeit all claims for towing, removal, or storage, and shall be liable to the owner or lessee of the vehicle for the cost of removal, transportation, and storage, damages resulting from the towing, removal, transportation, or storage of the vehicle, attorneys' fees, and court costs.

(2) For purposes of this subdivision, "improperly causes a vehicle to be towed or removed" includes, but is not limited to, engaging in any of the following acts, the consequence of which is the towing or removal of a vehicle:

(A) Failure to comply with Section 10650, 10652.5, or 10655 of the Vehicle Code.

(B) Misrepresentation of information described in subdivision (b) of Section 10650 of the Vehicle Code.

(C) Failure to comply with Section 22658 of the Vehicle Code.

(D) Failure, when obtaining authorization for the removal of a vehicle from a vehicle owner or operator where a law enforcement officer is not present at the scene of an accident, to present a form for signature that plainly identifies all applicable towing and storage fees and charges by type and amount, and identifies the name and address of the storage facility unless a different storage facility is specified by the vehicle owner or operator, and to furnish a copy of the signed form to the owner or operator.

(E) Failure by the owner or operator of a facility used for the storage of towed vehicles to display, in plain view at all cashiers' stations, a sign not less than 17 by 22 inches in size with lettering not less than one inch in height, disclosing all storage fees and charges in force, including the maximum daily storage rate.

(F) Undertaking repairs or service on a vehicle which is being stored at a facility used for the storage of towed vehicles without first providing a written estimate to, and obtaining the express written consent of, the owner of the vehicle.

(G) The promise to pay or the payment of money or other valuable consideration by any owner or operator of a towing service to the owner or operator of the premises from which the vehicle is towed or removed, for the privilege of towing or removing the vehicle.

SEC. 4. Section 3071 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3071. (a) A lienholder shall apply to the department for the issuance of an authorization to conduct a lien sale pursuant to this section for any vehicle with a value determined to be over two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500). A filing fee shall be charged by the department and may be recovered by the lienholder if a lien sale is conducted or if the vehicle is redeemed. The application shall be executed under penalty of perjury and shall include all of the following information:

(1) A description of the vehicle, including make, year model, identification number, license number, and state of registration. For motorcycles, the engine number shall also be included. If the vehicle identification number is not available, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall request an inspection of the vehicle by a peace officer, licensed vehicle verifier, or departmental employee before accepting the application.

(2) The names and addresses of the registered and legal owners of the vehicle, if ascertainable from the registration certificates within the vehicle, and the name and address of any person whom the lienholder knows or reasonably should know claims an interest in the vehicle.

(3) A statement of the amount of the lien and the facts which give rise to the lien.

(b) Upon receipt of an application made pursuant to subdivision (a), the department shall do all of the following:

(1) Notify the vehicle registry agency of a foreign state of the pending lien sale, if the vehicle bears indicia of registration in that state.

(2) By certified mail, send a notice, a copy of the application, and a return envelope preaddressed to the department to the registered and legal owners at their addresses of record with the department, and to any other person whose name and address is listed in the application.

(c) The notice required pursuant to subdivision (b) shall include all of the following statements and information:

(1) An application has been made with the department for authorization to conduct a lien sale.

(2) The person has a right to a hearing in court.

(3) If a hearing in court is desired, a Declaration of Opposition form, signed under penalty of perjury, shall be signed and returned to the department within 10 days of the date that the notice required pursuant to subdivision (b) was mailed.

(4) If the Declaration of Opposition form is signed and returned to the department, the lienholder shall be allowed to sell the vehicle only if he or she obtains a court judgment or if he or she obtains a subsequent release from the declarant or if the declarant cannot be served as described in subdivision (e).

(5) If a court action is filed, the declarant shall be notified of the lawsuit at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form and may appear to contest the claim.

(6) The person may be liable for court costs if a judgment is entered in favor of the lienholder.

(d) If the department receives the Declaration of Opposition form in the time specified, the department shall notify the lienholder within 16 days of the receipt of the form that a lien sale shall not be conducted unless the lienholder files an action in court within 30 days of the department's notice under this subdivision. A lien sale of the vehicle shall not be conducted unless judgment is subsequently entered in favor of the lienholder or the declarant subsequently releases his or her interest in the vehicle. If a money judgment is entered in favor of the lienholder and the judgment is not paid within five days after becoming final, then the judgment may be enforced by lien sale proceedings conducted pursuant to subdivision (f).

(e) Service on the declarant in person or by certified mail with return receipt requested, signed by the declarant or an authorized agent of the declarant at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form, shall be effective for the serving of process. If the lienholder has served the declarant by certified mail at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form and the mail has been returned unclaimed, or if the lienholder has attempted to effect service on the declarant in person with a marshal, sheriff, or licensed process server and the marshal, sheriff, or licensed process server has been unable to effect service on the declarant, the lienholder may proceed with the judicial proceeding or proceed with the lien sale without a judicial proceeding. The lienholder shall notify the Department of Motor Vehicles of the inability to effect service on the declarant and shall provide the Department of Motor Vehicles with a copy of the documents with which service on the declarant was attempted. Upon receipt of the notification of unsuccessful service, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall send authorization of the sale to the lienholder and send notification of the authorization to the declarant.

(f) Upon receipt of authorization to conduct the lien sale from the department, the lienholder shall immediately do all of the following:

(1) At least five days, but not more than 20 days, prior to the lien sale, not counting the day of the sale, give notice of the sale by advertising once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the vehicle is located. If there is no newspaper published in the county, notice shall be given by posting a Notice of Sale form in three of the most public places in the town in which the vehicle is located and at the place where the vehicle is to be sold for 10 consecutive days prior to and including the day of the sale.

(2) Send a Notice of Pending Lien Sale form 20 days prior to the sale but not counting the day of sale, by certified mail with return receipt requested, to each of the following:

(A) The registered and legal owners of the vehicle, if registered in this state.

(B) All persons known to have an interest in the vehicle.

(C) The department.

(g) All notices required by this section, including the notice forms prescribed by the department, shall specify the make, year model, vehicle identification number, license number, and state of registration, if available, and the specific date, exact time, and place of sale. For motorcycles, the engine number shall also be included.

(h) No lien sale shall be undertaken pursuant to this section unless the vehicle has been available for inspection at a location easily accessible to the public for at least one hour before the sale and is at the place of sale at the time and date specified on the notice of sale. Sealed bids shall not be accepted. The lienholder shall conduct the sale in a commercially reasonable manner.

(i) Within 10 days after the sale of any vehicle pursuant to this section, the legal or registered owner may redeem the vehicle upon the payment of the amount of the sale, all costs and expenses of the sale, together with interest on the sum at the rate of 12 percent per annum from the due date thereof or the date when that sum was advanced until the repayment. If the vehicle is not redeemed, all lien sale documents required by the department shall then be completed and delivered to the buyer.

(j) Any lien sale pursuant to this section shall be void if the lienholder does not comply with this chapter. Any lien for fees or storage charges for parking and storage of a motor vehicle shall be subject to Section 10652.5 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 5. Section 3072 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3072. (a) For vehicles with a value determined to be two thousand five hundred dollars ($2,500) or less, the lienholder shall apply to the department for the names and addresses of the registered and legal owners of record. The request shall include a description of the vehicle, including make, year, model, identification number, license number, and state of registration. If the vehicle identification number is not available, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall request an inspection of the vehicle by a peace officer, licensed vehicle verifier, or departmental employee before releasing the names and addresses of the registered and legal owners and interested parties.

(b) The lienholder shall, immediately upon receipt of the names and addresses, send, by certified mail with return receipt requested or by United States Postal Service Certificate of Mailing, a completed Notice of Pending Lien Sale form, a blank Declaration of Opposition form, and a return envelope preaddressed to the department, to the registered owner and legal owner at their addresses of record with the department, and to any other person known to have an interest in the vehicle. The lienholder shall additionally send a copy of the completed Notice of Pending Lien Sale form to the department by certified mail on the same day that the other notices are mailed pursuant to this subdivision.

(3) The names and addresses of the registered and legal owners of the vehicle and any other person known to have an interest in the vehicle.

(4) All of the following statements:

(A) The amount of the lien and the facts concerning the claim which gives rise to the lien.

(B) The person has a right to a hearing in court.

(C) If a court hearing is desired, a Declaration of Opposition form, signed under penalty of perjury, shall be signed and returned to the department within 10 days of the date the Notice of Pending Lien Sale form was mailed.

(D) If the Declaration of Opposition form is signed and returned, the lienholder shall be allowed to sell the vehicle only if he or she obtains a court judgment or if he or she obtains a subsequent release from the declarant or if the declarant cannot be served as described in subdivision (e).

(E) If a court action is filed, the declarant shall be notified of the lawsuit at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form and may appear to contest the claim.

(F) The person may be liable for court costs if a judgment is entered in favor of the lienholder.

(d) If the department receives the completed Declaration of Opposition form within the time specified, the department shall notify the lienholder within 16 days that a lien sale shall not be conducted unless the lienholder files an action in court within 30 days of the notice and judgment is subsequently entered in favor of the lienholder or the declarant subsequently releases his or her interest in the vehicle. If a money judgment is entered in favor of the lienholder and the judgment is not paid within five days after becoming final, then the judgment may be enforced by lien sale proceedings conducted pursuant to subdivision (f).

(e) Service on the declarant in person or by certified mail with return receipt requested, signed by the declarant or an authorized agent of the declarant at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form, shall be effective for the serving of process. If the lienholder has served the declarant by certified mail at the address shown on the Declaration of Opposition form and the mail has been returned unclaimed, or if the lienholder has attempted to effect service on the declarant in person with a marshal, sheriff, or licensed process server and the marshal, sheriff, or licensed process server has been unable to effect service on the declarant, the lienholder may proceed with the judicial proceeding or proceed with the lien sale without a judicial proceeding. The lienholder shall notify the Department of Motor Vehicles of the inability to effect service on the declarant and shall provide the Department of Motor Vehicles with a copy of the documents with which service on the declarant was attempted. Upon receipt of the notification of unsuccessful service, the Department of Motor Vehicles shall send authorization of the sale to the lienholder and shall send notification of the authorization to the declarant.

(f) At least 10 consecutive days prior to and including the day of the sale, the lienholder shall post a Notice of Pending Lien Sale form in a conspicuous place on the premises of the business office of the lienholder and if the pending lien sale is scheduled to occur at a place other than the premises of the business office of the lienholder, at the site of the forthcoming sale. The Notice of Pending Lien Sale form shall state the specific date and exact time of the sale and description of the vehicle, including the make, year model, identification number, license number, and state of registration. For motorcycles, the engine number shall also be included. The notice of sale shall remain posted until the sale is completed.

(g) No lien sale shall be undertaken pursuant to this section unless the vehicle has been available for inspection at a location easily accessible to the public at least one hour before the sale and is at the place of sale at the time and date specified on the notice of sale. Sealed bids shall not be accepted. The lienholder shall conduct the sale in a commercially reasonable manner. All lien sale documents required by the department shall be completed and delivered to the buyer immediately following the sale.

(h) Any lien sale pursuant to this section shall be void if the lienholder does not comply with this chapter. Any lien for fees or storage charges for parking and storage of a motor vehicle shall be subject to Section 10652.2 of the Vehicle Code.

SEC. 6. Section 3073 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

3073. The proceeds of a vehicle lien sale under this article shall be disposed of as follows:

(b) The balance, if any, shall be forwarded to the Department of Motor Vehicles within 15 days of any sale conducted pursuant to Section 3071 or within five days of any sale conducted pursuant to Section 3072 and deposited in the Motor Vehicle Account in the State Transportation Fund, unless federal law requires these funds to be disposed in a different manner.

(c) Any person claiming an interest in the vehicle may file a claim with the Department of Motor Vehicles for any portion of the funds from the lien sale that were forwarded to the department pursuant to subdivision (b). Upon a determination of the Department of Motor Vehicles that the claimant is entitled to an amount from the balance deposited with the department, the department shall pay that amount determined by the department, which amount shall not exceed the amount forwarded to the department pursuant to subdivision (b) in connection with the sale of the vehicle in which the claimant claims an interest. The department shall not honor any claim unless the claim has been filed within three years of the date the funds were deposited in the Motor Vehicle Account.

SEC. 7. No reimbursement is required by this act pursuant to Section 6 of Article XIII B of the California Constitution because the only costs which may be incurred by a local agency or school district will be incurred because this act creates a new crime or infraction, changes the definition of a crime or infraction, changes the penalty for a crime or infraction, or eliminates a crime or infraction. Notwithstanding Section 17580 of the Government Code, unless otherwise specified in this act, the provisions of this act shall become operative on the same date that the act takes effect pursuant to the California Constitution.
