PRAYER

ARCHBISHOP VATCHÉ HOVSEPIAN, PRIMATE

Armenian Church Western Diocese:

Honorable Willie Brown, Speaker of the California State Assembly:

I am most appreciative of the kind invitation extended to us by the Speaker, the Honorable Willie Brown, a good friend of mine and of the Armenian Community.

As the spiritual and lay leaders, we bring greetings to you from the Armenian Communities living in the West coast. This year, once again, the over seven (7) million Armenians throughout the world, will gather in their respective communities to remember our martyrs of 1915, on the occasion of the 80th Anniversary of the Armenian Genocide. The magnitude of the tragedy that befell our people was so extensive, that today, there scarcely exists an Armenian, whose family was not touched by this horrendous act of genocide. We are unable to forget these horrible events; which are indelible in our psyche.

In reality, to be victimized by genocide is tragedy enough, however, to have the Holocaust of 1915 ignored, and to have the perpetrators pronounce that it never happened, adds to our feelings of victimization and our communal sense of outrage.

In this century, . . . which is hailed as the most progressive in all of human existence, . . . we constantly observe 'the laws of the jungle,' we have moral responsibility to protest against acts of violence. The genocide of any people, no matter how small or how powerless, is an attack on all humanity. Each of us has a moral responsibility to protest against acts of brutality. It is tragedy that in the international politics there are no ethical and moral boundaries. Throughout history, it looks as though small nations are always being victimized and swallowed by the bigger powers. Let everyone know, . . . that in the sight of God, everyone is equal!

I have just returned from Armenia, a country who has risen from ashes, has survived atheistic persecutions and has now declared independence, and now is in the process of building our ancestral homeland. The entire Armenian nation, with jubilation, witnessed the enthronement of the new spiritual leader of the Armenian Church and the Armenian people, His Holiness Karekin I, Supreme Patriarch and Catholicos of All Armenians, on April 9, 1995.

For Armenia, and Armenians, these are the days of resurrection and hope for a bright future, because we are the followers of the eternal message given by our Lord, Jesus Christ:

"Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness, for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven."

We can accept the natural disasters; however, we should never accept the genocide of the Armenians; the Holocaust of the Jewish people and the destruction of the African and Asian nations, and presently, the Kurdish people.

My advice to you is to stand steadfast for justice, truth and beauty and be courageous to repel the evil principalities of the world. Remember that living, by the fear of God, and the Love of God, will truly make this world a better place to live for all mankind.

Now, let us bow our heads for a moment of meditation:

“O’Beneficent, merciful and omnipotent God, with Thy unforgettable knowledge and infinite love of man, We beseech Thee to bestow Thy divine wisdom and grace upon the leaders of the United States, in particular, the members of this Assembly. May they realize, that Thou art the righteous Judge and pure wisdom and Thy divinely instituted laws and commandments are above all the laws of the world.”

As we relive with humility and respect the memories of millions Armenians and martyrs of other nations, let us harken unto the voice of God revealed through the prophet Ezekial. (37: 1-6)

“The hand of the Lord was upon me, and He brought me out by the spirit of the Lord and set me down in the midst of the valley, it was full of bones. And he led me round among them: and behold there were very many upon the valley, and lo, they were dry. And He said to me,

“Son of Man, can these bones live?” And I answered,

“O’Lord, God, Thou knowest,” again he said to me, “Prophecy to these bones and say to them, O’dry bones, hear the word of the Lord. Thus says the Lord God to these bones: Behold, I will cause breath to enter you, and you shall live. And, I will lay sinews upon you, and will cause flesh to come upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you, and you shall live; and you shall know that I am the Lord.”

We pray Thee, O’Lord, to receive the souls for all the martyrs, in particular the souls of millions of Armenians, who became victims of the Turkish atrocities and place them in the abode of just. Bestow Thy divine grace upon us all to live in love, in peace and with one another, and glorify Thy immutable dominion now and forever and unto the ages of ages.”—AMEN.

At 9:16 a.m., Speaker pro Tempore Baca, 62nd District, presiding
