PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, the following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Patti Oshita:

Please join me in a moment of reflection.

This New Year, 2019, is now only seven days old. Let us welcome the year ahead with open minds and warm hearts. Let us try to remain positive and embrace each new day as a fresh start, just as we are embracing a fresh start to this New Year. We can do this if we just remember what we all know to be true.

We know that from the moment we are born, there is no guarantee of even one day of life. Each day is a gift, not to be taken for granted. Too often, we do tend to take for granted the days we are able to live; and too easily, we fail to truly appreciate the people whose lives give meaning to our own.

With our Wisdom Eyes open, we see that there is no guarantee of even one more day of life. With Wisdom Eyes open, we know again that each day we awaken to, is a day to be treasured; and every chance to be with those we love is one to cherish.

In the year ahead, let us try to embrace each new day with open minds and warm hearts. Let us try to wake up each day, happy to be alive; and sleep each night, grateful for the day.

—Namo Amida Butsu, with kindness and gratitude beyond words.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, Assembly Member Melendez then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

*The Honorable Ken Cooley
Chair, Joint Committee on Rules
State Capitol, Room 3013
Sacramento, California*

Dear Assemblymember Cooley: I am writing to you in your capacity as Chair of the Joint Committee on Rules. As the committee moves forward in the effort to rebuild the Capitol Annex, I believe it would be fitting to begin thinking of ways that a new annex could include an appropriate recognition of the late Nancy McFadden.

Nancy was instrumental in every success the Legislature and Governor achieved during her tenure as Governor Brown's Executive Secretary and Chief of Staff. With her passing still fresh in our minds and hearts, now is the time to help ensure Nancy's legacy is honored in this building where she contributed so much to the people of California.

Thank you for your consideration. I look forward to working with you and your committee members to discuss possibilities.

Sincerely,

ANTHONY RENDON
Speaker of the Assembly

Keely Bosler, ChairCalifornia State Public Works Board915 L St., Ninth FloorSacramento, California 95814-3706

RE: Recognition of Executive Secretary Nancy McFadden in the Capitol Annex Project

Dear Chair Bosler: Your soon-to-be convened meeting will take up recognition of the Capitol Annex Projects program. As you know it reflects more than a dozen years of analysis and extensive work, but it is only under the leadership of Governor Brown that four bills in three years were signed to move the project forward.

We are very mindful that early this year, Governor Brown and Mrs. Anne Gust Brown, his staff family, and our Capitol community, all suffered the loss of longtime Executive Secretary and Chief of Staff Nancy McFadden.

While the Capitol Annex Projects are fully summarized in the materials before your Board, we feel it is appropriate to place in your Board's public record our intent to include at some to be determined spot within that project recognition which honors the late Nancy McFadden, the Governor's former Executive Secretary.

In California state government, the public of course plays an essential role, and duly elected public officials play a key role, but equally key, and in many respects more vital is the indispensable role which is played by strong and capable staff. It is staff, dedicated to public service and laboring in the shadows, who make great public achievements possible. Such work forms the foundation for all progress toward improving the collective future of our state and all Californians.

As the attached letter expresses, we believe and intend that the Capitol Annex Building Projects can provide some spot within the larger whole that offers a fitting setting to highlight the life and legacy of the late Nancy McFadden. We believe through tasteful recognition of her, we can also honor all staff who through their devoted public service create a legacy of benefit for the People of California.

Yours in public service,

TONI ATKINS

REPORTS

The following letters of transmittal were presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2018-116

December 20, 2018

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the California State Auditor presents this audit report regarding the response to the 2017–18 hepatitis A outbreak in San Diego County (county) and the city of San Diego (city). This report concludes that the county, which is responsible for the area’s public health matters, took steps to understand the increasing number of reported hepatitis A cases, determine the necessary interventions to contain the outbreak, and identify the characteristics and size of the at-risk populations. However, the county failed to include critical details in planning its response such as identifying the number of vaccinations it would administer, the timelines for administering them, and the resources—primarily, nursing staff—needed to carry out the vaccination program. As a result, the county did not accelerate vaccination efforts until September and October 2017. Had the county hastened its vaccination efforts, it may have more quickly reduced the risk of the disease’s spread, which grew to include 584 reported hepatitis A cases, 398 hospitalizations and 20 deaths by the end of January 2018.

Although the county also identified multiple sanitation measures that could address the outbreak, neither it nor the city promptly implemented all of them. For instance, despite conversations between the county and city as early as June 2017, neither began fully implementing measures related to hand-washing stations, public restroom access, and street sanitation until September 2017 and only after the county’s health officer issued a directive telling the city it had to take action on the sanitation measures. The county health officer did not issue the directive earlier because the county wanted to work with the city first before it resorted to mandating compliance.

Finally, the California Department of Public Health (CDPH), the county, and the city have identified changes to improve their response efforts to future incidents, but room for improvement remains. For example, CDPH created guidance for responding to future hepatitis A incidents, but this guidance omits two critical steps: establishing time frames to achieve target vaccination rates and determining the number of nurses or other resources needed to administer the vaccinations within those time frames. Furthermore, the county acknowledged that it would have been appropriate to include leadership from affected local jurisdictions in a policy group to manage their response, and it has drafted—but not yet finalized—policies related to activating such cooperation in future threats to public health. The city has issued its own report about its response to the incident; however, its analysis was limited to only the time during which the local health emergency was in effect—September 2017 through January 2018. By not also assessing its actions before the local health emergency declaration, the city missed an opportunity to address issues that contributed to delays in implementing sanitation measures.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Health.

California State Auditor

2018-118
December 18, 2018

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the California State Auditor presents this audit report concerning the California Public Utilities Commission's (CPUC) water ratesetting process for investor-owned companies that serve water customers. The CPUC regulates investor-owned water companies (water utilities) and authorizes the rates water utilities may charge customers. To facilitate this authorization process, the CPUC requires large water utilities that serve more than 10,000 connections each, or Class A water utilities, to submit a formal request to change the rates they charge to customers. It requires water utilities to submit these requests, known as general rate case applications, to the CPUC every three years. The CPUC allows small water utilities that serve fewer than 10,000 connections each—Class B, C, and D water utilities—to submit informal requests known as advice letters to change their rates. This report concludes that although the CPUC's general rate case process appears reasonable and it appropriately followed and documented key steps in its processes, it has not provided customers with clear information about water rate increases or its processes for approving those rate changes.

We concluded that the CPUC does not provide sufficient information to customers about why and by how much its general rate case decisions will change their rates over time. Further, the CPUC does not provide customers with readily accessible information related to its regulation of water rates, including the general rate case and advice letter processes. Without this information, customers may not understand how the CPUC reviews and approves water rates proposed by water utilities, or how they can participate in the process. In addition, the CPUC has not ensured that water utilities notify customers about proposed rate increases and public participation hearings—which are conferences that give customers an opportunity to share their perspective on the requested rate change—as required. Because the CPUC does not verify that water utilities are complying with regulations related to publishing notification of public participation hearings in local newspapers, it lacks assurance that customers have the necessary information at the appropriate time to participate in public hearings. In fact, we found that several of the utilities we reviewed did not provide timely notification to customers, which may have limited their participation.

Finally, the CPUC relies on reviews that its independent Public Advocates Office conducts of general rate cases to fulfill its statutory requirement to conduct audits of Class A water utilities. However, because these reviews are not audits, the CPUC risks that it is not fulfilling the intent of the law. Further, the CPUC does not conduct audits of Class B, C, and D water utilities as frequently as required. These audits can provide the CPUC with a better understanding of how water utilities operate, which can influence whether the CPUC approves a utility's request to raise its rates.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Utilities and Energy.
