PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, the following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Patti Oshita:

Please join me in a moment of reflection.

It was reported that the drenching rain and the strong winds of the recent storms had uprooted over 100 trees in Sacramento. One fallen oak tree, shown in the news, seemed to have been over five feet in diameter and clearly weighed thousands of pounds.

From ancient times, our human cultures have personified many trees with virtues to be admired and even emulated. The mighty oak was often seen as regal and strong.

For centuries, in Japan, three trees were associated with the winter season: the pine, the bamboo, and the plum. There is even a special flower arrangement made for the New Year called, “Sho Chiku Bai” (meaning Pine, Bamboo, and Plum), and it is created with those three elements.

The pine is evergreen and symbolizes the virtue of endurance during the most adverse of circumstances. The bamboo embodies the virtue of resilience, for even during the most torrential storms, it would bend, but never break. The plum tree was admired for it would be the first to bloom with life, even as the winter snow remained. The plum tree’s delicate blossoms radiated hope and beauty.

Deep within, we still admire the virtues that our ancestors saw in the wonder of nature all around us. When times seemed hardest, the image of the pine, bamboo, and plum were reminders to endure, to persevere, with gentle resilience; and never give in to despair, for what is hopeful and beautiful within the human spirit will prevail.

—Namo Amida Butsu, Let us live with kindness and gratitude beyond words.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, Assembly Member Grayson then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following budget message from the Governor was received and ordered printed in the Journal:

Governor's Office, Sacramento
January 10, 2019

To the Members of the Senate and the Assembly of the California Legislature:

Since the first North Americans crossed the Bering land bridge, human beings have come to California for fresh starts and new beginnings. Even for those earliest travelers, this land, rich with sunshine and bounty, must have been the stuff of dreams—a place where a prosperous and fulfilling life seemed within reach.

Generations of Californians have etched their dreams into our state's history. Gold rush miners and wagon-wheeled families struck out for gold. Immigrants from Asia and Europe sought opportunities across a vast sea. Servicemen and women returned from theatres of war and sowed entire communities out of cattle land. Dreamers and doers invented the future, from the Silver Screen to Silicon Valley.

The California Dream—the idea that every person can achieve a better life, regardless of where they start out—is central to who we are as Californians. As elected representatives of the people, it's our job to make the California Dream real once more.

Even in a time of economic growth and record employment, too many Californians are experiencing the squeeze of stagnant wages and the rising price of building-block necessities such as housing costs, health care premiums, higher education and child care.

With this new budget—and at this new beginning—I believe we can and must reanimate the California Dream. California for All. That is the driving idea behind this budget proposal and my first year in office.

My predecessor, Governor Jerry Brown—in partnership with the Legislature—restored our state's confidence by pulling state government back from the brink of fiscal insolvency. This budget proposal doubles down on that responsible legacy, finally tearing down the remaining wall of budgetary debt, paying down pension obligations and building up the most robust and prudent budget reserve in state history.

At the same time, this budget demonstrates that responsible budgeting and bold investments are not mutually exclusive.

The following pages detail a comprehensive blueprint for making the California Dream more accessible and affordable for all. It does more than any budget in California history to invest in future generations and confront the real drivers of our state's cost crisis—housing, child care, health care, prescription drugs, preschool and higher education.

The California Dream should be available to every Californian, not just a privileged few. This year's budget presents the best opportunity in decades to move our state closer to that important goal.

With respect,

GAVIN NEWSOM

Accompanying Governor's Budget and Budget Summary ordered filed with the Secretary of State.
