The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2024-109

January 15, 2026

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 319
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As directed by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, my office conducted an audit of the California Department of Housing and Community Development (HCD) to evaluate its oversight of cities' and counties' (local jurisdictions) submissions of housing elements and HCD's procedures for reviewing housing elements. HCD interprets the housing element law and determines whether local jurisdictions' housing elements substantially comply with it. HCD then issues findings letters to local jurisdictions to notify them of its compliance determination, but the law does not require these letters to provide prescriptive instruction for achieving compliance.

We found that HCD's findings letters generally provide valuable feedback to local jurisdictions; however, jurisdictions that are struggling to develop compliant housing elements also require individualized assistance. The complexity of new legal requirements, increased housing allocations, and community resistance to new development, mean that most local jurisdictions required multiple submissions and significant time to achieve compliance during the sixth housing element cycle. HCD met legal deadlines for reviewing submissions for 10 selected local jurisdictions, but those jurisdictions told us that individualized assistance from HCD was important to help them understand and address the department's findings. Although HCD offers detailed online guidance to help jurisdictions, it did not always release this guidance in a timely manner.

Staff availability during its peak workload constrained HCD's ability to provide important individualized assistance to local jurisdictions. Even with HCD's comprehensive training program for new reviewers and reliance on experienced secondary reviewers to ensure consistency, turnover and overlapping submission deadlines have strained its capacity. To improve the housing element review process, we recommended that HCD conduct a workforce analysis and implement more consistent communication practices, and the Legislature could consider staggering submission deadlines to reduce HCD's workload surges.

Respectfully submitted,

GRANT PARKS
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Housing and Community Development.
