PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, the following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Patti Oshita:

Please join me in a moment of reflection.

Over the years, I've asked dozens of children what qualities they admire about their pets. The qualities they shared I felt were what we look for in a friend or future spouse. Here is what the children listed. After cute and cuddly, they chose faithful, devoted, and giving of unconditional love.

Recently, I spoke at the Placer Temple's annual Pet Memorial Service. It was for many a tearful service, for our pets give so much and ask for so little in return. Human beings, we often think we need so many things to be happy, but our loving pets show us how to be content with each day, just as it is. They are there for us, rain or shine. Happy to see us whether we are dressed to impress or just got up in the morning.

And although we may try to teach them things, when we reflect upon the pets we have loved and lost, we see that they have taught us some of life's greatest lessons. They have shown us how to live fully in the moment, how to love unconditionally; and in caring for them, we learn that the deep pain of loss is only equal to the love that we have shared.

Truly some of the most meaningful lessons we will ever learn in life, we have learned from the pets who have been loving members of our families. And some of the best people I will ever know will have four legs and a tail.

—Namo Amida Butsu, with kindness and gratitude beyond words.

REPORTS

The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Speaker and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2019-701
January 23, 2020

The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California

Members of the Assembly: In calendar years 2018 and 2019, the California State Auditor's Office issued reports on various topics as mandated by the Legislature through statute, the budget process, or requests approved by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee. While our recommendations are typically directed to the agencies we audit, we also make recommendations for the Legislature to consider in the interest of more efficient and effective government operations. This special report summarizes the recommendations we made to the Legislature during calendar years 2018 and 2019.

In this special report, we include recommendations intended to address the issue of access to health care services in California. In one report we evaluated the ability of children in the Medi-Cal system to obtain preventative health services. We found that an average of 2.4 million children in Medi-Cal per year did not receive all required preventive services during fiscal years 2013–14 through 2017–18, and that California's utilization rate for preventive services has remained below 50 percent and ranked 40th for all states. One of our recommendations is that the Legislature direct the Department of Health Care Services to implement financial incentives, such as pay for performance, designed to help ensure that managed care plans are more consistently providing preventive services to children in Medi-Cal.

We also made recommendations intended to protect vulnerable populations before, during, and after a natural disaster. For example, our audit to assess counties' emergency preparedness regarding vulnerable populations found that the California Office of Emergency Services (Cal OES) has not complied with state law requiring it to provide guidance to local jurisdictions related to strategies for identifying people with access and functional needs and for evacuating people with disabilities. We recommended that the Legislature require Cal OES to review all counties' emergency plans to determine if they are consistent with best practices and provide necessary technical assistance to counties.

The Appendix that starts on page 51 includes a list of legislation chaptered or vetoed during the first year of the 2019–20 Regular Legislative Session that was related to the subject matter discussed in our audit reports.

If you would like more information or assistance regarding any of the recommendations or the background provided in this report, please contact Paul Navarro, Chief Deputy State Auditor, Operations, at (916) 445-0255.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Accountability and Administrative Review.
