PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, the following prayer was offered by Assembly Chaplain Rev. Patti Oshita:

Please join me in a moment of reflection.

Although only beginning our third month, many have said to me that 2019 has already been overflowing with difficult changes and losses. In living life, we know that we will face difficult challenges and know the painful loss of people we love. In our minds we know this is a part of the cycle of life; but in our hearts, we always wish it did not have to be so.

But we must somehow find our way through the times of emptiness and despair, to be able to see again the value of this wondrous dream of life. We know that it lasts but a moment, and we must savor each new day. Yet still, there are times when my heart just aches with the losses that life has brought our way. If there could only be magic to return to us the contentment of happier days—days shared with those we love and miss so much.

But nowhere is it written that life is easy. Nowhere is it promised that life will be fair. Each of us is born with a unique and wonderful life; and within the span of our lifetimes, we must learn to accept our unique circumstances and do the best that we can, to live as best we can, always doing the best we can.

If we do the best we can to live with our Wisdom Eyes open, we will see how precious each day truly is. With our Wisdom Eyes open, we will cherish every opportunity to be with the people whose lives have given meaning to our own and find love in each day.

—Namo Amida Butsu, with kindness and gratitude beyond words.

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore Mullin, Assembly Member Weber then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.

REPORTS

The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2018-501
March 7, 2019

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: In October 2014, the California State Auditor issued Report 2014-109, Sexual Assault Evidence Kits: Although Testing All Kits Could Benefit Sexual Assault Investigations, the Extent of the Benefits Is Unknown. That report reviewed the process of collecting sexual assault evidence kits, which may contain DNA evidence that can assist in the investigation of sexual assault cases. It further discussed that, although there are concerns over large numbers of untested kits, the extent of the benefits of mandating the testing of all sexual assault evidence kits was unknown. One of the recommendations we made in the October 2014 report sought to increase the availability of case outcome information that would better demonstrate the extent of the benefits of testing all collected kits throughout the State. We indicated that the California Department of Justice (Justice) was uniquely positioned to provide such information because it operates the Rapid DNA Service (RADS) program, through which it already tests all kits collected in 39 counties.

The following report presents the results of a follow-up audit of Justice's progress related to our October 2014 recommendation. This audit concludes that Justice has not made sufficient efforts to obtain case outcome information that could demonstrate the extent of the benefits of testing all collected sexual assault evidence kits. Justice established a database in which local law enforcement agencies can report case outcome information—such as whether they made arrests—for cases in which DNA evidence provided an investigative lead. However, Justice has obtained minimal amounts of this information because it has not notified many RADS participants that they should report the information, has not adequately trained participants on how to report, and does not periodically follow up with those that do not report. As a result, it has failed to provide valuable information that the State can use to determine the extent of the benefits of testing all sexual assault evidence kits.

This report also discusses significant barriers to the investigation and prosecution of sexual assault cases even when sexual assault evidence kits are tested. One such barrier is the insufficiency of resources available to investigate leads from DNA evidence. However, if the Legislature had case outcome information, it could better identify obstacles and act to direct resources to address them. Therefore, we recommend that if the Legislature amends state law to require testing of all sexual assault evidence kits, it should include a requirement that law enforcement agencies report case outcome information to Justice. If the Legislature does not amend state law to mandate testing, we recommend that it require Justice to obtain case outcome information from RADS participants and summarize that information in an annual report to the Legislature.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Public Safety.
