REPORTS

The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Speaker and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2015-609/2015-610

April 21, 2015

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: The California State Auditor presents this report updating our previous assessment of the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (Corrections) as a high-risk agency and the State's 2011 public safety realignment as a high-risk issue. In 2007 we designated Corrections as a high-risk agency because of overcrowding in the state prisons, the state of the prison health care system, and its lack of consistent leadership. In 2013 we designated the 2011 public safety realignment, which transferred responsibility for certain nonserious, nonviolent offenders from the State to the counties, to be a high-risk issue because the State lacked reliable and accessible data on the legislation's effects.

This report concludes that Corrections continues to warrant its designation as a high-risk agency. Although Corrections has continued to reduce the state prison population, achieving the final inmate population target of 137.5 percent of the prisons' design capacity for the first time in February 2015, we continue to have concerns about the remaining two areas. Specifically, despite demonstrating improvement, the prison health care system remains under the direction of the federal court-appointed receiver. Additionally, Corrections continues to lack a succession plan for its senior leadership positions and has no timeline for when such a plan will be complete. Until Corrections has an opportunity to successfully demonstrate that it can maintain the level of care established by the receiver, and can further demonstrate that it has developed a succession plan, we will continue to designate Corrections as a high-risk agency.

In contrast, we conclude that the 2011 public safety realignment is no longer a high-risk issue at the state level because of steps taken by the Board of State and Community Corrections to collect information on realignment programs and practices for counties to use when making decisions related to criminal justice. Although many counties continue to face challenges related to overcrowded jails because of realignment, these challenges are local responsibilities rather than statewide issues that can be addressed by any particular state agency.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Public Safety.
