PRAYER

Upon invitation of Assistant Speaker pro Tempore Bauer-Kahan, the following prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain Rabbi Julia Weisz of the Congregation Or Ami in Calabasas:

Overwhelmed by the hundreds, no thousands, of shoes lining the walls of what is left of the Auschwitz Concentration Camp barracks, I turned to Sarah, the Holocaust survivor on our trip. I said, “Sarah, how can you continue to tour this awful place filled with memories of torture and fear?” I will never forget when she looked up at me while standing next to the barrack she slept in for months while starved, exhausted, and sick. “Julia, honey, those shoes you saw of all the victims. Well, remember that my shoes are in there too.”

“Remember.” Such a simple request, yet so difficult for us to achieve.

I fear that we have become numb to the horrors of the Holocaust. Modern life has forced us to confront violence and terror on a global scale. We witness the demonization of the “other” on a near-daily basis. Civil discourse and compromise have all but disappeared from public, and private, life.

But today’s ceremony in this distinguished Assembly gives me hope. Hope that there are those among our political leadership who understand that we can, that we must, remember the lessons of the Holocaust. That treating thy neighbor as thyself is “the” universal theme of all the world’s religions—not just limited to Jews, Christians, and Muslims, and certainly not just limited to the Jews, Christians, and Muslims who practice their beliefs exactly as I do.

As my colleague Rabbi Sharon Brous teaches, “Hope is not naive, and hope is not an opiate. Hope may be the single greatest act of defiance against a politics of pessimism and against a culture of despair.”

And so I invite you to join me in a prayer of defiance.

Holy One of Blessing, may You instill within us the ability to fight against our pessimism and despair, even as we remember. To see the shoes, and even as we see them, to recognize that it is within each of us to ensure the horrors of the Holocaust are never repeated. Give strength to the survivors among us today, that they may continue to serve as reminders of the work before us for years to come. Help us to find hope, and let that hope guide the hands of those who lead this great state, so that we can continue to be a light unto the nations, and to this nation.

Ken yhi ratzon, may this be God’s will.—AMEN.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Assistant Speaker pro Tempore Bauer-Kahan, Assembly Member Bloom then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.
