PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Wood, the following prayer was offered by Guest Chaplain Rabbi Scott Fox, of the Temple Israel Long Beach:

Every prayer, is a call to a source of greater influence to be heard. So I offer this prayer to this esteemed group of leaders and legislators of our beautiful state of California, one my family has called home for four generations and yet we still check the date on our passports after every election, still quiet our speech in the coffee shop when a Hebrew word emerges. I ask see us, hear us.

And if anyone can be Jewish, then let me offer that gift and burden to you today, just for a minute, your children carrying the load of generations wandering the earth because laws inscribed no Jews. Today for us a great fear rises again, in the country we love and call home and will live and die for, but we now need those same laws to say, yes Jews, you are home here, you are welcome here, and we see you, we hear you.

Today is a day of remembrance, because it's easy to forget, 10% of people under 40 in the US right now have never heard of the Holocaust. So see us, hear us. "Never forget," Gerda told me a few weeks before she died, her bright childhood spent in a dark space underneath the floorboards of a house, because a small group of people allowed hate and media to mix and go too far.

And we know that Jewish-hate is just another form of the same hate that charges fear into the hearts of so many of our sibling communities including the Muslim community. I stand here today with the honor of this microphone and humbly add your voice to ours and lovingly say too, I see you, I hear you.

We remember because even the best of societies can devolve overnight, we remember because the harmless words shared in private homes, that now loudly joke, and then question, and then influence the world over, tell that an anger towards the "other" lives strong and well in the hearts of people across this beautiful state.

We remember because we don't have a choice not to, the traumas burned in our minds, our hearts, our bodies. And prayer is also a call to look up to something greater, an opportunity to voice a vision without the burden of how, and so I offer all of us this hope. At this sacred assembly, as we remember the very worst of what a world can fall into, I offer too the reminder of the very heights we can reach. One where every person lives safe and free, can share and be proud of who they are, and live peacefully and happily in this beautiful place we call home.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

Upon request of Speaker pro Tempore Wood, Assembly Member Berman then led the Assembly in the pledge of allegiance to the Flag.
