COMMUNICATIONS

The following communications were presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

June 9, 2026

*The Honorable Robert Rivas
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Room 219
Sacramento, California*

Dear Mr. Speaker: Jefferson wrote that government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed, echoing a principle that has guided my service in the California State Assembly.

Following my election to the United States House of Representatives, I hereby resign from my current office as Assemblymember for California's Third Assembly District, effective at close of business on June 9th, 2026.

Remaining committed to the principles of liberty, accountable government, and public service, I look forward to continuing to represent my communities in Congress.

One of the greatest privileges of my life has been representing the great people of Northern California, and I remain honored and grateful for their trust and support.

This is the end. 12 years goes by quick.

When I am sworn in to Congress, it will be the first time ever I have been in the majority. I've spent my entire political career in the minority. It's sharpened my skills, it's refined my acumen, it's made me stronger. It's given me an appreciation for ensuring fair treatment of the minority party in a democracy. It's given me an opportunity to be a voice of conscience. And I think that has made a difference on more than a few occasions.

It's been a pretty wild ride. I want to thank my amazing wife, Janna, and our five children: Kate, Maggie, Kellen, Conor, and Ronan, for being along for that ride. And my dedicated staff, many of whom have been with me all 12 years.

We are stewards of this office. Our job is to leave it better than we came into it. I hope that I did so. A long-time lobbyist once told me "When you think you are the only one who can do this job, it's time to go." I'm glad ego never got the best of me. It's good that we provide for term limits. Our republic needs new eyes and perspectives.

Some Gallagher words of wisdom (for whatever they are worth):

Seek the truth. Give yourself time, research, and room to find out what is true—what is really true about an issue, not what people or advocates say about it. Stand for your convictions. Pursue a righteous cause even if it puts you at odds with allies or people you respect. Surprise people.

Don't take it to heart. Don't burn a bridge. There's always another issue and another vote, and you never know with whom you might find common cause.

Stand up for the institution. The legislative branch is the most important to our republic, but right now it is the weakest.

In the end, I hope you saw someone who genuinely cares, and who represented his district well. We are all flawed individuals. I hope you looked past my flaws—my flesh—and saw Jesus instead. If there was anything good you saw in me, it was Christ working in me, the hope of glory.

Many of you are believers as well. You are my brothers and my sisters on both sides of the aisle. We battle not against flesh and blood; our battle is spiritual. There is nothing I can add or take away from His work that is already finished. God's grace is for all. It is the great equalizer. Our work here is worthy, but it will all pass away. There is no greater gift I can give than to tell you that God loves you, Christ died for you, and he stands at the door ready to give you Living Water in which you will never thirst.

I have been convicted many times by the story of the Good Samaritan. Someone asked Jesus once: "Who is my neighbor?" And he told them of a Samaritan. The Samaritans were despised by the Jews because their beliefs were all wrong. They even worshiped on the wrong mountain. Yet in the parable, the Good Samaritan was the only one who was a true "neighbor" and helped a wounded traveler. We don't worship on the same mountain. Democrats and Republicans, urban and rural. But sometimes a Samaritan can show you the better way.

There's a dichotomy to serving in this place. You have to be intractable at times, and also find compromise. You have to see this as a battlefield and also as a family dinner table. You have to have strife and debate, and then friendly banter afterward. There's a time to unite and a time to divide.

I love this place and I hate it. I've had special moments with each of you, even some of my bitterest rivals. But I hate that my people still don't have a real shot to govern themselves. Decisions are made for them, often against their clear will or desire. And that's pretty frustrating. I get compromise, I get that the minority can't win most of the time, but when you lose all of the time it's debilitating.

So I say this with love and make it my last request: Let my people go! Pass AJR 23 and give us a shot at self-determination. It's the American Way.

Exodus 4:11-12

JAMES GALLAGHER, Assemblyman

REPORTS

The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2025-122
June 9, 2026

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 319
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As directed by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, my office conducted an audit of the Riverside Unified School District (district). Our assessment focused on the district's oversight and management of the STEM Education Center (STEM Center) project, and we determined in general that delayed decision-making and inconsistent communication regarding the STEM Center have contributed to delays, higher costs, and reduced transparency.

The district's progress on the STEM Center has stalled for nearly a decade because of multiple site changes, an extended California Environmental Quality Act review, and University of California, Riverside's (UC Riverside) decision to place the project on hold. Although the environmental impact report (EIR) for the project was complete, UC Riverside had not submitted the EIR or the required lease agreements to the UC Board of Regents for certification and approval—steps necessary before the district could proceed. As a result, the project remained on indefinite hold for nearly a year before both agencies eventually announced in May 2026 that they are no longer seeking to develop the STEM Center on UC Riverside's campus. Meanwhile, longstanding facility deficiencies and safety hazards at the existing Riverside STEM Academy campus continue to affect students, even as demand for enrollment far exceeds available capacity.

We also found that the district's inconsistent communication about its use of Measure O funding—a 2016 bond measure authorizing the district to issue $392 million for school facility projects—reduced transparency and contributed to public concerns. Although district spending complied with the Measure O ballot language, the district could have more effectively communicated its early decision to dedicate bond funding to new school construction, including the STEM Center and three other schools. Rising construction costs, shifted funding priorities, and expanded project scopes meant that the district has delivered fewer projects than it had initially planned. Moreover, the district inconsistently reported and documented how much Measure O funding it allocated to the STEM Center, sometimes without clear board approval. This lack of clear records reduced transparency and hindered the public’s and board’s ability to understand the extent of actual funding commitments.

Respectfully submitted,

GRANT PARKS
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Education.
