California State Auditor

2003-137
June 24, 2004

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the Bureau of State Audits presents its audit report concerning our review of independent water districts—a type of special district—and their policies and procedures for accumulating and using cash reserves, for providing benefits and compensation to directors, and for conflicts of interest. This report concludes water districts do not always have sufficient policies guiding the accumulation and use of resources. As of the end of fiscal year 2002–03, the eight water districts we visited had accumulated resources, commonly known as reserves, totaling $485 million, an amount that would be sufficient to cover their total annual expenses for about 2.2 years. However, we acknowledge that water districts will ultimately use these resources for various purposes, not all of which will be to cover operating expenses. We did not conclude that these accumulations are excessive. However, five of the eight water districts might have trouble defending to ratepayers and taxpayers the need for some portion of their accumulated resources because either they had no reserve policies or the policies they do have are weak. Regarding reserves held by special districts, an opinion from the Office of the Legislative Counsel stated that the Legislature cannot lawfully enact a statute that would transfer to the State's General Fund money in a special district's reserve fund and allocate those moneys for a purpose other than that for which the special district was created.

Further, some directors' expenses did not appear to be a reasonable and necessary use of public funds. Our review of expense records found that three of the eight water districts paid attendance or similar fees for their directors' participation in events such as retirement, anniversary, and holiday celebrations; social mixers; and chambers of commerce functions. In some instances, these water districts paid their directors a stipend for attending the events and paid for the directors' spouses to attend. Moreover, one water district appeared to be overly generous in the amounts it paid for some directors' meals, paying almost $18,000 for meals on 15 different occasions attended by directors and others. Also, one water district did a much better job than did the others of disclosing reimbursements for individual expenses made by its directors as required by law, thus enabling ratepayers and taxpayers to more easily see the purposes and amounts of these reimbursements. Finally, we noted that one water district director made questionable decisions in which she had financial interests in apparent violation of the State's conflict-of-interest laws.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Local Government.
