PRAYER

Upon invitation of Speaker pro Tempore Ma, the following prayer was offered by Assembly Member Steve Knight, of the 36th Assembly District:

Our Heavenly Father, We thank You today for the precious gift of life, for each and every one of us in this wonderful state of California. We further thank You for the great gift of freedom You have given each of us here today, and have so generously bestowed upon all who reside in the United States of America.

Two hundred and thirty-six years ago this week, in a hall some 3000 miles away, our nation was officially born. Its Founders, each of whom pledged a firm reliance on the protection of Your Divine Providence, affixed their signatures to a Declaration of Independence that, for the first time in human history, acknowledged the truth that all men are created equal, that each and every human being on the face of this earth is endowed by You, O Lord, with certain unalienable rights — rights that no man and no government can take away.

It is therefore the duty of each one of us, particularly those who are privileged to serve in positions of elected office and public trust, to further the cause of these unalienable rights and timeless truths, which today are but imperfectly realized. To this end, we invoke Your blessings, Your strength, Your wisdom, guidance and support, and humbly offer our sincere thanks.

As we today hear the words that announced the birth of a new nation, we also ask You to confer Your blessings, Your mercy, and Your healing grace upon all those who have defended our freedoms, particularly those brave men and women who have suffered the injuries of battle and who have given their last full measure of devotion to the nation to which we pledge our allegiance. May all who have served in the armed forces of the United States of America, together with their families and loved ones, fully appreciate the magnitude of our thanks for their service and their sacrifice. And may we all be heartened and healed by Your mercy and grace.

For all of this we pray.—AMEN.

PRESENTATION OF COLORS AND PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE TO THE FLAG

The Presentation of Colors by the Adjutant General's Honor Guard from the California National Guard: Sergeant Richard Aller, Sergeant Carl Trujillo, Sergeant Sarath Khim, and Sergeant Thomas DeGeorge, was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the Flag, led by Assembly Member Cook.

California State Auditor

2011-116.2
May 31, 2012

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the California State Auditor (state auditor) presents this audit report concerning the Department of General Services, Division of the State Architect's (division) processes related to reviewing and approving plans for school construction.

This report concludes that the division has been able to keep the amount of time plans wait for review—bin time—under six weeks primarily due to a decrease in workload. Should the division's workload return to previous levels, it will likely struggle to maintain this goal. Recently, the division was prevented from contracting for plan review and instead drew on staff from its construction oversight activities. Further, although the division has a goal for keeping bin time below six weeks, it does not have goals for how long it should take to review plans. Without a plan review time goal, the division has less assurance that it is reviewing plans efficiently and school districts' design professionals have little certainty about how long they should expect to wait for the division to return plans to them for correction.

Also, the division's monthly performance reports on the length of each phase of the plan approval process do not report clear or accurate information. For example, the division includes in its reports some projects for which no plan review activity has occurred because the applications were incomplete, counting the length of time it took to complete each phase as zero days. Finally, the division cannot provide assurance that it has received and approved all plan changes before the start of related construction. After the division approves plans, districts must submit changes to the division for review and approval before undertaking related construction. However, the division does not have a process to ensure that it has received and approved all relevant plan changes. If the division does not approve plan changes before construction, construction may not comply with building standards and risks being unsafe.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Business, Professions and Consumer Protection.

California State Auditor

2011-119
June 26, 2012

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the California State Auditor presents this audit report concerning the Physical Therapy Board of California's (physical therapy board) adherence to conflict-of-interest and other state requirements and its process for investigating complaints against its licensees.

This report concludes that one of the physical therapy board's expert consultants has served as the in-house consultant since approximately 2003, performing cursory reviews of certain complaints before they may be referred to other expert consultants in the field. Although this individual has served in this capacity for approximately nine years, the physical therapy board has not tried to hire a state employee to fulfill this function at a reduced cost. We believe that the physical therapy board may be able to save approximately $28,000 to $35,000 annually if it can hire a state physical therapy consultant at existing state rates to perform the same work as its in-house consultant. The physical therapy board also lacks a process to formally evaluate its in-house or other expert consultants' performance, which limits its ability to demonstrate that it maximized the efficacy of the nearly $95,000 it spent on expert consultants in fiscal year 2010–11.

In addition, we found that the Department of Consumer Affairs does not ensure that members of its boards participate in required board member orientation, nor does it ensure all necessary employees attend required ethics training. We also found that two former board members submitted their statements of economic interests significantly after state deadlines. When board members do not submit these statements in a timely manner, the public and the board members themselves may be unaware of potential conflicts of interest that may disqualify the board members from dealing with particular issues that come before the board.

However, our testing indicates that the physical therapy board appropriately investigates complaints and imposes discipline. In addition, we found that the physical therapy board's relationships with professional organizations are appropriate. Finally, we found that the physical therapy board complies with the agenda, public-comment, and closed-session requirements of the Bagley-Keene Open Meeting Act.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Business, Professions and Consumer Protection.

California State Auditor

2011-131
June 28, 2012

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly
of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 3196
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As requested by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, the California State Auditor presents this audit report concerning the management and finances of the City of Vernon (city) and its Light & Power Department (power department). This report concludes that although the city is enacting reforms, it has not yet developed policies necessary to implement some reforms and for others it will take years to achieve the full benefits.

The city also has not properly managed its executive positions by failing to establish minimum qualifications for several key leaders, including the city administrator. Further, the city may not have chosen positions in the most comparable cities for its May 2011 survey of executive salaries, potentially skewing salaries upward. The city may have also provided legally questionable retirement benefits to certain past and current executives. The city has weak internal controls over contracting and our analysis revealed problems in 21 of the 25 service and consultant contracts we reviewed. Further, the city did not always ensure compliance with its conflict-of-interest code, which requires it to determine whether consultants it hires perform duties that require disclosure of economic interests.

For more than 20 years the city's general fund has operated at a structural deficit because the current revenue structure does not fully pay for the general fund's services. The city has funded past general fund deficits through reserves, transfers and loans from other funds, and one-time revenues. Although such practices may be common among cities, the city's continued reliance on other funds to cover its general fund deficit is now problematic because the funds available from these sources have decreased. As of March 2012 the city had $571 million in outstanding bonds, mostly for its power department. However, the power department has struggled to manage its debt burden while maintaining competitive electric rates. The power department is forecasting a $24 million deficit in fiscal year 2013–14, creating a need for electric rate increases.

Our finance and energy expert found that the city could not demonstrate that it performed the expected analyses for past energy decisions, such as purchasing a 15-year supply of natural gas for the city's power plant, which it then sold nearly two years later. Because the city used tax-exempt bonds to purchase the gas, selling the power plant created the need for the city to also sell this prepaid natural gas supply to an eligible buyer or risk losing the bond's tax-exempt status; as a result, it sold the gas at a significant discount. Finally, the city has used interest rate swaps to hedge risks associated with issuing bonds, which is a practice consistent with other cities. However, our finance and energy expert found that the city's use of swaps has proved costly—it terminated all but two of its swaps at a cost of $33.4 million, and as of February 2012, it would have needed to pay $47 million to terminate the remaining two swaps.

Respectfully submitted,

ELAINE M. HOWLE, CPA
State Auditor
