In the name of God, the most gracious, the most merciful:

Almighty God, As we convene today, we seek Your guidance and blessing. Grant us clarity to understand the matters at hand, wisdom to make decisions that reflect Your justice, and compassion to serve with sincerity. Guide our discussions and actions so that they are marked by mutual respect and a commitment to the common good. Help us to find common ground and work together towards positive and meaningful outcomes. May our efforts be fruitful and our intentions pure, contributing to the well-being of all those we serve. We place our trust in Your divine wisdom and grace.—Ameen.

REPORTS

The following letter of transmittal was presented by the Chief Clerk and ordered printed in the Journal:

California State Auditor

2023-134
August 20, 2024

*The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Room 319
Sacramento, California*

Members of the Assembly: As directed by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee, my office conducted an audit of Los Angeles County (Los Angeles) and its efforts to care for and supervise youth for whom the Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) within the California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation had previously been responsible. We determined that Los Angeles has yet to spend tens of millions of dollars in funding the State issued to assist the county in providing rehabilitative services for youth for whom responsibility was realigned (realigned youth), and we found that its efforts to restructure the care model for such youth are ongoing.

Since fiscal year 2021–22, the State has provided to Los Angeles $88 million in funding for the care and supervision of realigned youth. However, as of late June 2024, the county had spent only $9.7 million of this funding. One reason for the low spending rate is that Los Angeles has yet to begin delivering many of the services that it planned to provide to realigned youth. For example, the county assigned its Probation Department (Probation) the responsibility to provide 26 programs, services, and goods for which this funding was intended to pay. However, Probation had begun providing only six of these items as of late June 2024. Therefore, we believe that Los Angeles would better ensure the provision of services and programs to realigned youth if it took additional steps to use available funding in a timely manner.

Los Angeles has implemented 12 of 27 recommendations made to it in a December 2020 report that focused on the transition of youth from DJJ to county custody. The county's limited progress in implementing these recommendations, along with its low level of spending of state funding for realigned youth, demonstrate that the county's efforts to restructure its care model for youth realigned from DJJ are still in progress.

Respectfully submitted,

GRANT PARKS
California State Auditor

Above report referred to the Committee on Public Safety.
