PRAYER

Bless Thou the deliberations of this Assembly. Give to each member a full measure of Thy wisdom and Thy grace. Make us all realive, O Lord, that true greatness results not from self-seeking but from self-sacrifice, that true wealth is not attained by getting but by giving, and that true happiness is only achieved as we lose ourselves in love to Thee and to our fellow men; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty and Merciful God, This world is indeed a place of confusion, tumult, fear, and tension; not because Thou didst create it so, but because men have flaunted Thy commands and insisted upon walking in their own ways. Help us, O Lord, to hear above the discordant sounds of life today Thy still, small voice; grant that beyond the glitter of the world's gaudy prizes we may see the crown of righteousness which Thou dost offer men; enable us in spite of the threatening uncertainties that chill the soul to feel the warm strength of Thy presence. Direct us, calm us, sustain us, and grant us Thy peace; through Christ, our Lord—AMEN.

Grant, O Lord, that the decisions which issue from this Assembly may give clear testimony to the high purpose which motivates our actions, and to the high hopes which dwell in the hearts of our people; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

Almighty and Most Merciful God, Who dost rejoice at every victory achieved on earth for the cause of peace, help us to realize that a new world cannot be constructed of old fears, suspicions, and hatreds; that it takes men who are at peace in their hearts to build a peaceful society. Capture our souls with Thy love, O Lord, that we might be free—free from all envy and enmity, pride and prejudice. Grant that today we may strive to think and speak and act that in our small circle at least peace on earth will be a reality and good will among men more than an empty dream; through Jesus Christ, the Prince of Peace.—AMEN.

PRAYER

O Lord God, Creator of Heaven and Earth, Who didst establish times and seasons for the life of man, grant us the wisdom to distinguish between the things which must be done today and the things which are better left until tomorrow. Every tick of the clock announces that precious moments are passing; give us grace, O Lord, not to bruise them with hasty words and deeds, nor lose them with inactivity and indecision, but rather use them with judgment and courage; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

Almighty and Most Merciful God, Whose power is endless, whose wisdom is eternal, whose love is everlasting; sustain us in our days of doubt and weakness. Keep us ever mindful that the question for us is not whether good or evil will ultimately triumph, but on which side we shall stand; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Gracious God and Heavenly Father, Who dost desire that Thy children may know wisdom and truth; remind us that the most important things in life cannot be bought, begged, borrowed, or stolen; they are only received as they are given away. Make us know that love and peace, happiness and friendship, must be shared in order to be possessed. Lead us, O Lord, into the paths of unselfish service, that in losing ourselves for Thee and for our neighbors, we may find ourselves and know the true joy of living; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

Gracious God and Merciful Father in Heaven, Who didst send Thy Son, Jesus Christ, into the world, and who didst allow Him to die upon the Cross, that men might live; grant that we may see in the evil darkness of that first Good Friday the blackness of our own sin. But even more, as we stand before that Cross, may we behold the brightness of the measureless love Thou hast for us. Help us to believe in Thy Son and to live in His way, that we may prove to be worth saving, and may declare to the world that the sacrifice on Golgotha's summit was not in vain; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, Our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty and Everlasting God, We who have celebrated another Easter rejoice in the glory of Christ's resurrection and all that it means. We thank Thee for declaring that though death is inevitable, it is not invincible; though love be nailed to a cross, it will not stay there; though truth be trampled in the dust, it will rise again; though goodness be buried in a rock-walled tomb, it will burst forth once more, radiant, alive! Grant, O Lord, that we, knowing Thou wilt conquer ultimately in all things, may have hope for every tomorrow; for in Thee, O Lord, do we put our trust; through Jesus Christ, our risen and living saviour;—
AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Eternal God and Heavenly Father, Who hast declared in Thy word that righteousness exalteth a nation; give us wisdom and integrity that we might lead Thy people toward greatness. Remind us that character is not the result of laws, but that laws are the direct expression of character. We know that goodness cannot be coerced and that morality cannot be legislated, but we pray, O Father, that Thou wouldst make us new on the inside that our decisions might speak clearly of the honest purposes, the unselfishness, and the faithfulness which motivate our actions; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Dear God and Father of Mankind, Forgive us our foolish egotism and the proud independence which makes us feel we can manage life without Thy help. As we day by day face decisions which concern millions of acres, millions of dollars, and millions of people, sustain us by Thy wisdom and power. Deliver us from the atheism of thinking that we are owners of the things of this world and may do with them as we please. All things are Thine, O Lord, and we are Thine; keep us ever conscious of our position as Thy agents for the accomplishing of Thy purposes. May Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven, and may it be done by us; through Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

Almighty and Most Merciful God, Whose goodness is renewed to us each morning, and whose providential care is with us throughout each day; we thank Thee for life and love, for family and friends, for work and play, for opportunity and responsibility. Grant that we may not become so engrossed in the madding muddle of life's busyness that we forget our chief business—that of serving Thee and our fellow men. Bless our State and its people, and help us to bear with honor the mantle of leadership Thou hast placed upon us; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

O Lord Jesus Christ, Who didst send forth Thy disciples to shine as lights in the darkness of the world, forgive the feeble witness we have made. How often we have sought the easy way, how quick we have been to compromise; how willing we have been, under the guise of necessity, to forget our principles. How often we have used the gift of speech to conceal the truth, rather than reveal it; how quick we have been to point the finger at others that we might not be too closely examined; how willing we have been to take the credit which others have earned. Forgive us, O Lord, our trespasses; cleanse us from selfishness, rid us of pride, free us from vacillation. Make us new from the inside out, that our lives may show forth Thy glory and Thy truth—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty and Most Merciful God, Who from eternity and to eternity art Lord of heaven and king of earth, make us remember that the moving finger of time, as it records its journal day by day, never returns to make changes and erasures, or to gloss over the stained and smudged portions of the story. What is written is written; the life that is lived today cannot tomorrow be corrected; the words we speak today can never be unsaid, the deeds we do today can never be undone. Grant us wisdom, O Lord, and courage, to choose carefully the items which shall make up this day's record, so that as they stand forever they may stand in righteousness, truth, and peace; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

Almighty and Everlasting God, Who by the death of Thy Son Jesus Christ hast destroyed death, and by His glorious resurrection hast brought life and immortality to light, we give Thee thanks for that hope which pierces the grave and stretches victoriously beyond the reaches of time. We are grateful for the example of Thomas J. Doyle, who for so many years and with such faithfulness served Thee and the people of this State. As we bring our humble and simple tribute to his memory, grant that we may apply our hearts to wisdom and renew our faith in Thee, so that when the final trumpet shall sound its summons for you and me, we shall be able to answer, "I am ready, Lord"; through Jesus Christ, our risen and living Saviour.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Gracious God and Mighty Creator, Who art owner and ruler of the earth and all its treasures; grant us the wisdom to appreciate the value of money—the time, the talent, and the energy it represents. But also, help us to recognize the impotence of money—it cannot buy happiness, justice, peace, or love. Make us mindful that budgets and balances, funds and finances, are only of real worth when they are established and administered by men of real worth. Grant, O Lord, that the resources of this great commonwealth may so be employed that they truly become the common wealth of all the people and for all the people; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Eternal God and Heavenly Father, Who hast placed before us great opportunities and grave responsibilities; grant that we may prove worthy of Thy confidence and equal to our task. Make us men who will not take orders from the rich, nor take advantage of the poor; who can win without bragging, and lose without complaining; who are too kind to pass judgment upon others, but are too honest to gloss over our own sins. Help us to be a little better than our word, a little more faithful than our pledge, a little more generous than our promise; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

O Lord, our Lord, How excellent is Thy name in all the earth! Before the mountains were brought forth, or ever Thou hadst formed the earth and the world, even from everlasting to everlasting Thou art God. Help us ever to remember that Thou art the creator, sustainer, and owner of all things; that Thou didst pack with potential the land, the rivers, and the mountains; and that Thou wilt demand of us an accounting of the way we have used Thy good gifts. What are we doing with the life Thou didst give us? How are we employing the resources of the earth which Thou hast placed under our dominion? Are we making the most of our opportunities to serve Thee and our fellow men? Grant, our Father, that our daily lives may give unselfish answer to these questions, and that some day we may hear Thy commendation, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Through Christ, our Lord—AMEN.

Erase from our hearts all pride and self-seeking; make us not only good, but good for something; in all that we do and say help us to carry out Thy holy will, that the people of our State may be benefited and we may know the peace of a quiet conscience; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

Upon invitation of the Speaker, the following prayer was offered by the Rev. A. E. Syverud, Executive Director of the Lutheran Welfare Service for Northern California:

Gracious Heavenly Father, History and experience have given us so many evidences of Thy guidance to leaders of nations and individuals. We should never doubt Thy power or Thy willingness to direct us. May we never doubt this Thy Word, "Whatsoever you shall ask the Father in My Name, believing, you shall receive." May every individual here this morning feel and know Thy willingness to help, lead, and guide them in decisions they make that affect the lives of us all. We are beginning to understand that the things that are really wrong with the world are the sum total of all the things that are wrong with us as individuals. We all know perfectly well what we ought to do, but our trouble so often is that we do not want to do it. We are so afraid of having convictions and making decisions. Thy help is our only hope. Give Thy Holy Spirit to each of these people so that their decisions this day are Thy decisions. We pray for each person here individually. Bless them in their homes. Bless their loved ones. Forgive all of us of our many sins of commission as well as sins of omission. We crave Thy Spirit's presence this day in this place. In the Blessed Name of Jesus we offer this prayer.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty and Most Merciful God, Who dost walk beside Thy children all the days of their lives; make us conscious of Thy presence that we may move through these precarious times without fear. Though the earth should be covered with the fury of twisting winds and the thunder of mountains trembling and the roaring of rivers rising; help us to hear Thy still, small voice saying, "Fear not, for I am with thee." Make us remember that Thou didst never promise Thy people immunity from trouble and suffering; make us never forget that Thou didst promise the strength to live triumphantly in spite of trouble and suffering. Grant us Thy power, O Lord, that we can meet each day as it comes, and master it; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

Gracious God, our Heavenly Father, We thank Thee that Thou hast protected us through the night from all danger and harm, and that Thou hast safely brought us to the beginning of this day. Grant that we may meet its challenges with clear heads, with clean hands, and with hearts cleaving to Thee and Thy word. Help us to be more concerned with what we can do for people, and not what we can do to people; make us more interested in what we can give to others, than in what we can get from others; lead us to be more conscious of the debt we owe to our fellow men, instead of complaining that we aren't receiving our due. Capture our hearts, O God, that we may be free—free to serve and to give and to love; through Christ our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty God, The creator and sustainer of all that exists; before us stands another day, clean, unmarked, unmarred, fresh with opportunity and bright with possibility; forbid it, Lord, that we should stain this day with unlovely thoughts, caustic words, or shabby deeds; fill our minds with Thy beauty, touch our lips with Thy truth, lift our hands with Thy love. Help us ever to remember that our lives are not our own, but they are Thine, given to us in trust, to use for Thee in service and in love. Lead us away from temptation, strengthen us to resist evil, defend us against adversity, and above all, keep us in the sunshine of Thy love; through Christ, our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Heavenly Father and Gracious God, By Whose mercy and goodness we stand at the beginning of another day; defend us in the same by Thy mighty power, and grant that this day we fall into no sin, neither run into any kind of danger, but that all our doings, being ordered by Thy governance, may be righteous in Thy sight. Help us to see the many proposals which stand before us for decision not merely as words printed upon paper, as means to bring about benefits for a few selected groups, or as puzzles designed to take up the time of those who consider them; but rather may we see them as the tools, which, if carefully sharpened and faithfully used, can forge a glorious day of justice and prosperity for all our people; through Christ, our Lord.—AMEN

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

O God, Thou Almighty and Righteous Judge, Some day all of us shall stand before Thee to render account of our stewardship here upon earth. What shall we answer when Thou wilt ask, "What didst thou do with the life I gave thee?" Help us to realize, O Lord, that the answer we give in that day is being forged in this day by the things we do and the things we leave undone. Deliver us from the pride that hinders progress, the greed that crushes goodness, the selfishness that kills satisfaction. Fill us with Thy spirit that we might ever seek the best for our neighbor, the greatest good for the greatest number, and the highest victory in life for ourselves—the victory which comes from losing ourselves in sacrifice and service; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son, our Lord.—AMEN.

Gracious and Merciful Father in Heaven, Who hast never promised that life would be without difficulty and perplexity, but hast rather assured Thy people that Thou would sustain them if only they would trust in Thee; give us the faith, O God, to meet each day unafraid, to accept disappointment without giving in to despair, to look into the face of tragedy and be not broken, to feel the heavy hand of pain and not whimper, to see our best hopes fading and still not raise the angry fist of bitterness. Make us strong enough to be trouble's master and not its slave; give us faith enough to see beyond life's apparent defeats the victories which Thou art preparing for the steadfast; through Christ, our Lord.—AMEN.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Robert S. Romeis:

Almighty God, our Heavenly Father, As we begin the last day of this legislative session, we lift our hearts in humble gratitude to Thee for Thy gracious presence during the days past. We know that we have not done all things well; forgive our failures—the things left undone, the matters considered too hastily, the ones with which we deliberately dallied; forgive the anger that at times put an edge to our words, the pride that made us intolerant, the self-concern that made us narrow. But, the things which have been accomplished, O Lord, add to them Thy blessing and Thy power, that they may bring progress, prosperity, and peace to the people of our land. Bless each legislator, his family, his friends; be with our Governor, our Speaker, our Senators, and all who have labored faithfully during these crowded days. Above all, dear Lord, impress upon us again that the secret of success lies in serving, the key to greatness lies in giving, and the heart of happiness lies in helping; through Jesus Christ, Thy Son our Lord, who liveth and reigneth with Thee and the Holy Ghost, ever one God, world without end.—AMEN.
