MESSAGE TO THE LEGISLATURE

By Governor Edmund G. Brown
Special Session Convened June 26, 1962

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California:

I have convened this special session for one purpose only—to permit us to consider together the submission of a bond issue to the voters on November 6 for the financing of California's most urgent public building needs for the next two years

A similar proposal was before the voters June 6 and was defeated. Under most circumstances, all of us would have regarded such a decision as conclusive.

As you know, however, there are a number of highly unusual factors involved in the defeat of Proposition 3

Neither its title nor its wording were sufficiently descriptive of its urgent purpose—the financing of construction of facilities for the University of California, the state college system, and public junior colleges, for facilities for treatment of the mentally ill and retarded; for narcotic control and other correctional institutions and camps, and for fire control facilities

I have received hundreds of communications from leaders and voters of both parties who believe the lack of a clear statement of purpose was responsible for the defeat of Proposition 3, and who have asked for a special session for its resubmission

They have been joined in this request by many organizations dedicated to the public purposes involved Their concern is not only with the failure to provide adequate information to primary voters of the specific contents of the proposal, but with the equal failure to communicate the urgent needs involved in the brief time available before the primary election

All segments of higher education, including the private colleges and universities which would not benefit directly, have also urged another submission

So too have those concerned with the equally vital need to provide hospital beds and facilities for the mentally ill and retarded—currently in such short supply that there is now a growing waiting list for hospitalization of retarded children.

So too have our correctional authorities administering strict new narcotic control policies and sentences

My mail appears to reflect an almost unanimous consensus among thoughtful Californians that the bond issue should be re-submitted.

There also have been a wide variety of suggestions for changes and improvements I have given each careful and dispassionate consideration

Having weighed the various equities and necessities involved, I am again proposing a $270 million bond issue measure, but incorporating the following improvements:

(1) The bond issue will be titled Proposition A-1 and will appear at the top of the list of other proposals on the November ballot.

(2) The title and the actual "FOR" and "AGAINST" language on the ballot will specify the character of the facilities to be financed, thus removing any possible "blank check" concerns There will be a provision requiring that 80 percent of the $270 million be spent for higher education facilities, instead of the previous declaration of intent, which was not binding.

(3) A clause permitting junior colleges to use their funds to pay debt service has been removed and this measure requires that all funds go for new construction.

In addition, I am submitting with this measure a full project-by-project list of classes of expenditures under this bond act.

Only those already approved in the 1962-63 Budget are fully committed The others represent the best present estimate of what the agencies involved will submit to the Legislature for inclusion in the 1963-64 Budget The list cannot and should not be binding because it is, as always, subject to final executive and legislative action, but it does permit public evaluation of the general program.

Most of the other changes proposed involve variations based on what I regard as undesirable principles.

Some would attempt to set up competition among the various programs needed to meet the challenges of California's growth. They would, for example, pit the needs of higher education against the needs of the mentally ill and retarded, forcing a choice between two equally critical programs—although not of equal size. Some would even put the various segments of higher education in competition, pulling apart that which the Master Plan for Higher Education has pulled together with resulting efficiency and economy in our educational effort.

Another approach has been to suggest that we put the financing on a "take care of this year and let next year take care of itself" basis. This shortsighted proposal completely ignores the continuing character of our expansion needs and the long-term planning required to meet them. It would also presume an expensive special election sometime in 1963.

I think the proposal I am recommending is a far more candid, complete measure, offering the voters the best opportunity for an informed decision in November.

As a matter of information, I also want to assure you that your actions will not alter the fact of a balanced 1962-63 Budget.

You approved a balanced budget of $141 million in capital outlay expenditures, $89 million was contingent upon approval of a new state construction bond issue.

The primary election decision on Proposition 3 did not unbalance the budget. It simply dictated that $89 million in projects not be constructed, and language already in the budget provided for that eventuality.

The same language will permit the expenditure of that $89 million in projects, however, if another proposal is placed on the November ballot and is approved.

There is no fiscal or budget crisis involved. No matter what the decision of the Legislature or of the voters, there will be no deficit. The State's general fund revenues are coming in at almost exactly the predicted rate. We have just had another $100 million bond sale at below the national average of interest rates for such bonds—the surest possible sign of sound credit and national confidence in the fiscal integrity of this administration.

The crisis we face is far different. It is a crisis of the progressive consensus in California—the bi-partisan agreement that every investment California has made in its future has brought more than ample dividends, whether that investment has been in education, water, highways or state mental and correctional institutions or other programs to conserve and develop our human and natural resources and potential.

This bond issue offers nothing new. The pattern of investment is the same that we have had in California since World War II, the pattern that has brought us true primacy in the American union.

That pattern was developed with the support of both Democrats and Republicans. This is not the time to let the tides of population sweep over and inundate what we have built in California by working together.

As I told you earlier this year, growth and quality have been the hallmarks of modern life in California.

This bond issue is urgently needed to sustain both The future of the kind of California we have built is at stake

Let me add this:

I am not opening the special session for submission of another park and recreation bond issue at this time

To date, there has been little indication of the kind of bipartisan support that has been offered the construction bond issue

If, however, the Republican Party's legislative leadership will work with the Democratic Party's legislative leadership to provide bipartisan support for a specific park and recreation bond issue proposal, I will consider reopening the session.

I know you join me in hoping that we can take care of the urgent business of the State swiftly and well this week, and without clouding the results of our work with needless partisan controversy.

THE RESOURCES AGENCY OF CALIFORNIA
DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
1120 N STREET, SACRAMENTO, May 9, 1962

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol
Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit Bulletin No. 39-60, "Water Supply Conditions in Southern California during 1959-60." As the most recent in a series of annual reports, the bulletin was prepared pursuant to Sections 225 and 226 of the California Water Code.

During the report period, precipitation was again generally below normal throughout the area. In coastal regions, precipitation was approximately 70 percent of mean, and major stream runoff amounted to about 28 percent of mean.

Continuation of the drought has also meant that the supply of water available in the area has diminished. This is evidenced by a decrease in the amount of water stored in surface reservoirs (down to 18 percent of capacity on October 1, 1960, from 23 percent of capacity a year earlier), a general lowering of ground water levels, and a rather marked increase in the volume of water imported.

The Metropolitan Water District of Southern California and the City of Los Angeles imported an all-time high of 1,158,000 acre-feet of water through their aqueducts. This represents a 16 percent increase over their importations of water in the previous year.

Despite such large increases in volume of imported water, ground water levels continued to decline. Consequently, sea water continued to intrude ground water basins in coastal areas, degrading water quality in portions of those basins. Rather large advances of intruding sea water were noted in the ground water basins in the Oxnard Plain of Ventura County and the coastal plain of Orange County.

In view of the extent and complexity of water supply problems discussed in this bulletin, those programs which seek to alleviate or solve such problems appear to warrant continued attention and support.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E WARNE, Director

LOS ANGELES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

LOS ANGELES, June 22, 1962

To the Honorable Edmund G. Brown, Governor and Members of the California Legislature

Subject. 1962 Third Extraordinary Session

Re: State Bond Issues

GENTLEMEN Your attention is invited to the following suggestions in respect of resubmission of state bond issues which were rejected at the June 5 primary election

State Construction Program Bond Act

As a part of its continuing study of subjects affecting the broad public interest, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce studied very carefully the $270,000,000 State Construction Program Bond Act (Proposition No. 3 on the June ballot). As a result of its consideration, the State and Local Government Committee recommended that the measure be opposed. However, because time prevented the scheduling of spokesmen representing the university and state colleges, the action of the Chamber's Board of Directors, upon motion of the study committee chairman, was to take NO POSITION on Proposition No. 3.

The need of the university and state colleges for additional facilities was never questioned by the study committee. However, the injection of an entirely new philosophy for state financing of capital improvements of junior colleges, and the proposed use of state bond funds to pay debt service on bonds already voted by junior college district electorates was severely criticized. The people of California deserve the opportunity to vote on this issue separately. Furthermore, the "disclaimer" language in Senate Bill No. 31 (1962 First Extraordinary Session) as to the expenditure of funds and the elimination of requirements to follow priorities gave the legislation a "blank check" aspect which many prudent citizens resented.

Now the Legislature has been summoned into extraordinary session on June 26 to consider resubmission of this proposal to the electorate in November. Our board of directors has taken action to endorse resubmission of a proposal for needed university and state college capital projects and other essential state construction—but urges strongly that important changes be made.

First, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce recommends:

(a) That the Legislature refuse to include in any proposed state bond issue authorization of bond fund expenditures to pay debt service on junior college district bonded indebtedness;

(b) That the Legislature exclude from any proposed state bond issue, funds for junior college district capital outlays, at least until such time as local tax sources, as measured by existing legislation, are exhausted.

We would strongly oppose the allocation of funds for payment of debt service on presently authorized or outstanding junior college district bonds. We would also oppose the use of state funds for junior college construction purposes, at least until such time as the junior college districts (including junior colleges which are financed as a part of unified school districts) have exhausted their local borrowing capacity.

We know of no junior college district which has exhausted its present legal bonding capacity, and few are even near it. While the integration of junior colleges into the Master Plan for Higher Education may be sound in concept, it is our belief that substantial state assistance under the ADA formulae and the eligibility of the junior colleges to participate in the State School Building Aid Program provide adequately, on the financial level, for junior colleges.

The fact that the vast majority of junior college students live in the districts that support the college appears to us to lend validity to the argument that local tax sources should be used, at least to legislatively established limits. Local junior college districts are now under control of local boards of education who are responsible to the people living within them. Local boards are now entirely responsible for junior college capital construction. We should oppose dilution of this responsibility through the offer of state funds.

Second, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce recommends:

That the Legislature exclude from any state bond proposals language similar to that contained in Senate Bill No. 31 (Chapter 23, 1962 First Extraordinary Session, Section 2) which would permit it to deviate from planned projects or release it from the requirement of following priorities.

We urge that a priority list of projects, to be financed from the proceeds of the bond issue, be established—and followed—and that language releasing the Legislature from the responsibility of following priorities be omitted from any bond proposal contemplated by the extraordinary session.

In our own local school districts a so-called "bond bible" is made up prior to submission of bond proposals to the electorate—and, when the authorization to issue bonds is approved by a two-thirds vote of the electorate, that "bond bible" is followed, and the citizens of the Los Angeles City School Districts can rely on the project listings to be constructed in the order of their greatest need. While our local bond issues failed to garner the necessary two-thirds vote at the June election—due, many of us believe, to the fact that there were so many questions about the state bond proposals among thoughtful citizens that a "NO" psychology developed and affected the results on the local issues; however, our local bond issues did receive a substantial majority of affirmative votes—which was certainly not the case with State Propositions No 3, No. 4, and No. 5.

It has been widely suggested that Proposition No 3 on the June ballot was defeated because of confusion over the purposes for which the funds were to be expended. This we doubt. But some confusion could not be avoided with the "disclaimer" language in the bill. And it also may well be true, and we believe it is, that the negative result was influenced by an awareness that its approval would inject a new philosophy of junior college capital financing and control (which goes with the purse-strings), and embark the State of California on a new financing program which, once established, could grow to tremendous proportions—even to the point of injuring the possibility of providing adequately for university and state college capital requirements.

Third, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce believes that the Legislature should require that a study be made of the long-term budgetary impact of the state construction bond financing program on the State's financial responsibilities—and inform itself regarding it.

Consternation has frequently been voiced regarding the state budget because, with the passage of time, the portion subject to policy determination by the Legislature continues to shrink. May we point out that continuation of the present program of financing capital improvements from bond funds indefinitely can only aggravate this condition, because the State will, within a very few years, face the situation where annual bond maturity appropriations (not subject to policy determination) will equal or exceed the annual capital outlay program to be financed by bond sales—with the added frustration that interest payments (also not subject to policy determination) will become a substantial and non-productive state expense This is a situation which must be FACED—AND SOLVED—on a current basis.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce believes, as do the responsible public officials of California, that we cannot afford to have state institutions, the university, or the state colleges unable to handle the expanded numbers that must be accommodated, due to our growth in population It is important, in our opinion, in appealing for voter support, that the electorate of California be asked to approve only those projects that have been clearly justified as necessary to meet those needs, and that long-term borrowing should be proposed only for those projects which cannot be financed in any other way

The chamber hopes that these observations and suggestions will be of assistance to you in determining the form in which the state construction bonds will be resubmitted to the electorate

State Park and Recreation Bonds

The Governor has suggested that the Legislature may be requested to resubmit the Park and Recreation Bond Program (Proposition No 5 on the June ballot) which was so decisively defeated.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce urges that this proposal NOT be resubmitted—at least in the same form as that rejected by the voters

Our organization has a long record of supporting proper and fully justified development of public park and recreation areas Our study of Proposition No 5 caused the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce to oppose the measure because of our conviction that the expenditure of funds in the manner set forth in the proposal (Senate Bill No 2, Chapter 24, 1962 First Extraordinary Session) could not be justified The increase in amount from the original $100,000,000 recommended by the Governor to $150,000,000 was not supported by appropriate study or indication of need It is our belief that lack of urgency provides ample time for a more thorough study of statewide needs than has been made available thus far to the people of California.

The Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce urges that this proposal be held for the 1963 General Session, at which time, we would hope, sufficient careful consideration can be devoted to this problem to develop a program which will deserve support Certainly, we feel that the electorate of California should not be faced with essentially the same proposal in November which it rejected in June—particularly on a ballot which is already heavily weighted with 22 state propositions, plus two initiative constitutional amendments

You may find the attached tabulation interesting It should be borne in mind that resubmitted state bonds will face an uphill struggle, at best Every effort should be made to submit to the people proposals for essentials only.

Respectfully submitted,

HAROLD W. WRIGHT, General Manager

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. Waldie arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: In the event that the Temporary Rules are not adopted, is there anything in the rules of general procedure to prohibit the reference of a bill to committee?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that there was not.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Levering arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: What is the reasoning behind this ruling?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that the Rules expired with the last session; and that the House would, therefore, operate under Mason's Rules of Legislative Procedure until new rules were adopted at this session; and that under the rule of majority control, until the Rules have been adopted, a majority vote of those present would adopt the resolution.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Lanterman arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: If the resolution by Mr. Waldie requires only a majority vote of those present and voting, why was it not declared adopted?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that he had not yet announced the vote, so therefore the resolution was not adopted.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Lanterman arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: Why was the vote not announced?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that some of the members were absent; and that he desired that all members have an opportunity to vote on the resolution.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Lanterman arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: Since there were 39 votes for the resolution, why was it not adopted?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that the resolution would not be adopted until the vote has been announced.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Lanterman arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: Do you know where the absent members are?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that he did not

Point of Order

Mr. Waldie arose to the following point of order: That, since his motion for a call of the Assembly was put and carried, the vote on the resolution can not be announced until after the call has been lifted.

Ruling by Speaker

The Speaker ruled the point of order well taken.

Parliamentary Inquiry

Mr. Flournoy arose to the following parliamentary inquiry: In the absence of the adoption of Rules, would it not be possible for the Speaker to refer the bill to committee for hearing; and if the Rules are adopted, can not the Speaker do precisely the same thing?

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied in the affirmative.

INTRODUCTION, FIRST READING, AND REFERENCE OF ASSEMBLY BILLS (RESUMED)

The following bills were introduced, and read the first time:

Assembly Bill No. 1: By Messrs. Mulford, Chapel, Wolfrum, Bagley, Beaver, Bradley, Busterud, Cologne, Cusanovich, Flournoy, Francis, Holmes, Monagan, Pattee, Sedgwick, Sumner, and Veneman—An act to provide for meeting the building needs of higher education in

Inquiry of Mr. Mulford

Speaker Unruh inquired of Mr. Mulford if he desired that his bill be referred to committee at this time.

Reply by Mr. Mulford

Mr. Mulford replied that he had no objection to its reference under the normal procedure after the adoption of the Rules

Reply by Speaker

Speaker Unruh replied that adoption of the Rules is not necessary for the proper reference of the bill to committee.

Mr Reagan arose to the following parliamentary inquiry Is there any doubt in the Speaker's mind as to the opinion of the bond counsel if the Rules are adopted by only a majority vote of those present?

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA

June 27, 1962

Hon. Lloyd W. Lowrey
Assembly Chamber

Water—No. 4326

DEAR MR. LOWREY: You have asked us three questions relating to two recent actions brought by the Johnson Rancho County Water District and the Stone Corral Irrigation District against the California Water Commission and the Yuba County Water Agency. These questions are set forth and considered separately below

Question No. 1

What is the effect of the alternative writs of mandate and prohibition granted against the California Water Commission?

Opinion and Analysis No. 1

It is our understanding that the following factual situation gave rise to the dispute in question:

The subject matter of the action here involved is two applications for permits, numbered 5631 and 5632, to appropriate unappropriated water of the State from the Yuba River. These applications were originally filed by the Department of Finance, a predecessor of the California Water Commission, and are each now held by the commission (see Pt. 2 (commencing with Sec 10500), Div. 6, Wat C.)

Under the provisions of Section 10504 of the Water Code, the Yuba County Water Agency has requested an assignment and the Johnson Rancho County Water District has requested a release from priority of these two applications from the California Water Commission.

The California Water Commission, and a subcommittee of the commission, have held hearings on this matter as required by Section 10504.1 of the Water Code. The subcommittee has filed its recommendations with the commission, but the commission itself has not made any decision or order with respect to the two competing agencies.

Prior to a decision upon this matter by the commission, the Johnson Rancho County Water District filed a petition for an alternative writ of mandate and for a writ of mandate or prohibition in the alternative in the Sacramento County Superior Court. The Stone Corral Irrigation District at the same time filed a petition for an alternative writ of prohibition and for a writ of prohibition in the Tulare County Superior Court. Each of these courts has granted the alternative writs requested, and has ordered the California Water Commission and the Yuba County Water Agency to desist and refrain from further proceedings in connection with the assignment of the applications in question or to show cause why this should not be done. Hearings on these court orders have been set.

We think it is clear from the orders of the two courts granting the two writs that the California Water Commission is commanded to desist from granting, and the Yuba County Water Agency is commanded to desist from accepting, assignment of the applications in question, until further order by the court. Thus, the effect upon the commission is that it still holds these applications pursuant to law (Sec. 10504, Wat C), and it cannot assign them to the Yuba County Water Agency, if at all, until the courts have acted upon this matter.

Question No 2

What will be the effect upon the request of the Yuba County Water Agency for the assignment of these applications from the California Water Commission if the petitioners are finally successful in their superior court actions for a writ of mandate or a writ of prohibition?

Opinion and Analysis No 2

If the superior court should enter final judgment commanding the California Water Commission to refrain from assigning the applications to the Yuba County Water Agency, it would appear that the situation would revert to the status quo. In other words, the applications would still be held by the commission for the purposes specified by law. The commission could then release from priority or assign the applications, pursuant to Section 10504 of the Water Code, to agencies other than the Yuba County Water Agency.

It should be noted, however, that the judgment of the court may order reconsideration of the case and order the respondent to take further action on the case (see Sec. 1094.5, subd. (e), C.C.P.), or the case may be appealed to a higher court by either party (see Sec. 1094.5, subd. (f), C.C.P.). The result of such an order or an appeal is highly conjectural and therefore we offer no opinion on these matters.

Question No 3

If a writ of mandate or a writ of prohibition is finally granted prohibiting the California Water Commission from granting the applications in question to the Yuba County Water Agency, what effect would such a prohibition have upon other water projects in Northern California, including the Oroville Dam and the State Water Plan?

Opinion and Analysis No 3

The actions in question involve only the applications sought by the Yuba County Water Agency and thus any writs finally granted would not directly affect any other water projects. However, as mentioned in our answer to your previous question, the final granting of a writ of mandate or a writ of prohibition would result in the applications in question being available for assignment or release from priority to agencies other than the Yuba County Water Agency. To this extent, then, the final granting of such a writ might affect other water projects in Northern California.

Very truly yours,

A. C. MORRISON

An act to provide for meeting the building needs of the State by providing the funds necessary therefor through the issuance and sale of bonds of the State of California, and by providing for the handling and disposition of said funds, and making an appropriation therefor, and providing for the submission of the measure to the people at a special election to be consolidated with the 1962 general election

[Approved by the Governor July 12, 1962 Filed with the Secretary of State July 12, 1962, Chapter 2]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1 The purpose of this act is to provide the necessary funds to meet the building construction, equipment and site acquisition needs for California State Colleges, public junior colleges, the University of California, facilities for the mentally ill and retarded, narcotics control and correctional institutions, conservation camps, and forestry fire-fighting facilities. The bond proceeds shall be used only for the purposes specified by this section. Not less than eighty percent (80%) of the total amount of bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be used for the building construction, equipment and site acquisition needs of the California State Colleges, public junior colleges, and the University of California. At least twenty million dollars ($20,000,000) of the bonds authorized to be issued under this act shall be used only for building construction, equipment and site acquisition for public junior colleges.

SEC 2. Bonds in the total amount of two hundred seventy million dollars ($270,000,000), or so much thereof as is necessary, may be issued and sold to provide a fund to be used for carrying out the purposes expressed in Section 1 of this act. Said bonds shall be known and designated as State Construction Program bonds and, when sold, shall be and constitute a valid and binding obligation of the State of California, and the full faith and credit of the State of California are hereby pledged for the punctual payment of both principal and interest on said bonds as said principal and interest become due and payable.

SEC 3. There shall be collected each year and in the same manner and at the same time as other state revenue is collected, such sum in addition to the ordinary revenues of the State as shall be required to pay the principal and interest on said bonds maturing in said year, and it is hereby made the duty of all officers charged by law with any duty in regard to the collection of said revenue to do and perform each and every act which shall be necessary to collect such additional sum.

SEC 4. There is hereby appropriated from the General Fund in the State Treasury for the purpose of this act, such an amount as will equal the following:

(a) Such sum annually as will be necessary to pay the principal and interest on bonds issued and sold pursuant to the provisions of this act, as said principal and interest become due and payable.

(b) The sum of seventy-five thousand dollars ($75,000) to be used as a revolving fund to pay the expenses incurred by the State Treasurer in preparing and advertising the sale or prior redemption of bonds issued pursuant to this act, to defray expenses incurred by the State Construction Program Committee pursuant to Government Code Section 16758, and for the payment of legal services upon approval of the State Board of Control, pursuant to Government Code Section 16760.

(c) Such sum as is necessary to carry out the provisions of Section 7 of this act, which sum is appropriated without regard to fiscal years.

SEC. 5 The proceeds of bonds issued and sold pursuant to this act, together with interest earned thereon, if any, shall be deposited in the State Construction Program Fund. The money in the fund derived from the sale of bonds authorized by this act may be expended only for the purposes specified in this act and only pursuant to appropriation heretofore or hereafter made by the Legislature in the manner hereinafter prescribed.

SEC. 6. A section shall be included in the Budget Bill for each fiscal year bearing the caption State Construction Bond Act Program. Said section shall contain proposed appropriations for the program contemplated by this act. No funds derived from the bonds authorized by this act may be expended pursuant to an appropriation unless the appropriation is contained in said section of the Budget Act of 1962 or in said section of any subsequent budget act. For this purpose this act may be cited as the State Construction Program Bond Act of 1962. The Department of Finance, which is hereby designated as the board for the purposes of this act, shall annually total the Budget Act appropriations referred to in this section and, pursuant to Section 16730 of the Government Code, request the State Construction Program Committee to cause bonds to be issued and sold in quantities sufficient to carry out the projects for which such appropriations were made.

SEC. 7 For the purposes of carrying out the provisions of this act the Director of Finance may by executive order authorize the withdrawal from the General Fund of an amount or amounts not to exceed the amount of the unsold bonds which have been authorized to be sold for the purpose of carrying out this act. Any amounts withdrawn shall be deposited in the State Construction Program Fund. Any moneys made available under this section to the board shall be returned by the board to the General Fund from moneys received from the sale of bonds sold for the purpose of carrying out this act, together with interest at the rate of interest fixed in the bonds so sold.

SEC. 8 The bonds authorized by this act shall be prepared, executed, issued, sold, paid and redeemed as provided in the State General Obligation Bond Law (Chapter 4 of Part 3, Division 4, Title 2 of the Government Code), and all of the provisions of said law are applicable to said bonds and to this act, and are hereby incorporated in this act as though set forth in full herein.

SEC. 9 The State Construction Program Committee is hereby created. The committee shall consist of the Governor, the State Controller, the State Treasurer, the Director of Finance, and the Director of Public Works. For the purpose of this act the State Construction Program Committee shall be "the committee" as that term is used in the State General Obligation Bond Law.

SEC. 10 Out of the first money realized from the sale of bonds issued pursuant to this act there shall be redeposited to the credit of the appropriation made by subdivision (b) of Section 4 of this act such sums as have been expended for the purposes specified in said subdivision (b) of Section 4. The amounts so redeposited may be used for the same purposes whenever additional sales of bonds are made pursuant to this act. When all the bonds authorized by this act have been sold, the unexpended and unobligated balance of the appropriation made by subdivision (b) of Section 4 of this act, shall revert to the General Fund.

SEC. 11 Sections 1 to 10 of this act shall take effect upon the adoption by the people of the State Construction Program Bond Act of 1962, as set forth in Sections 1 to 10 of this act. Sections 11 to 18 of this act contain provisions relating to and necessary for the submission of the State Construction Program Bond Act of 1962 to the people, and for returning, canvassing, and proclaiming the votes thereon, and shall take effect immediately.

SEC. 12 A special election is hereby called to be held throughout the State on the sixth day of November, 1962. The special election shall be consolidated with the general election to be held on that date. The consolidated election shall be held and conducted in all respects as if there were only one election and only one form of ballot and ballot pamphlet shall be used. Except as otherwise provided in this act, all of the provisions of law relating to the submission of measures proposed by the Legislature shall apply to the measure submitted pursuant to this act. The Secretary of State shall distribute the ballot pamphlets to the county clerks not less than 80 days before the election, and the county clerks shall commence to mail those pamphlets to the voters not less than five days before the election. The distribution of ballot pamphlets in all other respects shall be conducted in accordance with the provisions of Section 3573 of the Elections Code.

If the measure is not adopted unanimously by the house in which it originated, one member of the house in which it originated, who voted against it, shall be appointed by the presiding officer of that house to write an argument against it.
