Upon invitation of the Chief Clerk, the following prayer was offered by the Reverend Richard C. Dwyer, Chaplain of the Assembly for the 1961 Regular Session:

It is most fitting that we bow our heads in prayer at the beginning of the important work God has given us to do—

Almighty and Eternal God, We humbly pray Your blessing on the work of this Assembly. We ask Your light and strength for those whom You have invested with Your authority, that they might be ever mindful of their responsibility to You and Your people. Help them to keep always in their minds and deep in their hearts the words that shine always before their eyes, "Legislatorum est iustus leges condere" "It is the duty of the legislator to enact just laws." May Your purpose direct them, Your love animate them, Your light guide them, Your courage strengthen them. These things we pray in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost—AMEN

When Senate amendments to an Assembly bill are concurred in, the bill shall be forthwith ordered enrolled, and the Chief Clerk shall notify the Senate of such concurrence.

Nonconcurrence in Senate Amendments

83 If the Assembly refuse to concur in Senate amendments to an Assembly bill, and when notified that the Senate has refused to concur in Assembly amendments to a Senate bill, the Speaker shall appoint a committee of three (3) on conference, and the Chief Clerk shall immediately notify the Senate of the action taken by the Assembly and request the appointment of a like committee.

Committee on Conference

84. The Speaker, in appointing a committee on conference, shall select two members from those voting with the majority on the point about which the difference has arisen, and the other member from the minority, in the event there is a minority vote.

Whether a member has voted with the majority or minority on the point about which the difference has arisen is determined by his vote on the appropriate roll call, as follows:

(a) The roll call on the question of final passage of a Senate bill amended in the Assembly when the Senate has refused to concur with the Assembly amendments,

(b) The roll call on the question of concurrence with Senate amendments to an Assembly bill.

Meetings and Reports of Committees on Conference

85 The Chairman of the Senate committee on conference for the same bill shall arrange the time and place of meeting of such committee. It shall require an affirmative vote of not less than two of the Assembly members and two of the Senate members constituting the committee on conference to agree upon a report, and the report shall be submitted to both the Senate and the Assembly. Such report is not subject to amendment, and if either house refuses to adopt such report, the conferees shall be discharged and other conferees appointed. No member who has served on a committee on conference shall be appointed a member of another committee on conference on the same bill. The presentation and consideration of any report of a committee on conference shall always be in order, except during a roll call or when a member has the floor. It shall require the same affirmative recorded vote to adopt any conference report as required by the Constitution upon the final passage of the bill affected by such report. It shall require an affirmative recorded vote of two-thirds of the entire elected membership of the Assembly to adopt any conference report affecting any Assembly bill which contains an item or items of appropriation which are subject to reduction or elimination under the provisions of Section 34a of Article IV of the Constitution.

The vote on concurrence or upon the adoption of such conference report by the Assembly shall be deemed the vote upon final passage of such bill.

Engrossing and Enrolling Bills

86 The Engrossing and Enrolling Clerk shall engross and enroll all bills which shall come to his hands for such purpose, in compliance with provisions of Section 9503 of the Government Code, and in the order of time in which the same shall be acted upon by the Assembly.

Enrollment

87 After final passage by both houses, any Assembly bill not amended by the Senate shall be forthwith ordered by the Speaker to be enrolled, as provided in Sections 9508 and 9509 of the Government Code. The Committee on Engrossment and Enrollment shall report both the day and hour each enrolled bill is presented to the Governor, which report shall be entered in the Journal.

Adoption of Resolutions

88 House resolutions and concurrent resolutions that do not require a recorded roll-call vote, such as resolutions of congratulation or sympathy, except resolutions regarding Members or former Members of the Legislature, shall be listed under a separate heading in the printed Daily File. They shall be considered for adoption under that order of business, or at any other time as determined by the Speaker.

SECTION 4 PARLIAMENTARY PROCEDURE

Motions and Questions

Precedence of Motions During Debate

89 When a question is under debate or before the Assembly, no motions shall be received but the following, which shall take precedence in the order named:

First—To adjourn;

Second—To recess to a time certain,

Third—To lay on the table;

Fourth—For the previous question;

Fifth—To set as a special order,

Sixth—To postpone indefinitely,

Seventh—To refer to or re-refer,

Questions of Order Decided Without Debate

90. All incidental questions of order, arising after a motion is made for any of the questions named in Rule 89 and pending such motion, shall be decided by the Speaker without debate, whether on appeal or otherwise

Appeal From Decision of the Speaker

91. Any member may appeal from a decision of the Speaker without waiting for recognition by the Speaker, even though another member has the floor. No appeal is in order when another is pending, or when other business has been transacted by the Assembly prior to the appeal being taken

Upon the appeal being seconded, the Speaker may give his reasons for the decision, and the member taking the appeal may give his reasons for making his appeal, and the Speaker shall forthwith put this question to the Assembly "Shall the decision of the Speaker be sustained?"

An appeal cannot be amended and yields only to a motion to recess or adjourn, to lay on the table, or a question of personal privilege. If an appeal be laid on the table, such action shall have no effect on the pending question

An appeal cannot be debated when relating to indecorum, transgression of rules, or priority of business. A majority vote of the members present shall decide any appeal

Speaker Explains Order of Business

92. The Speaker may, on his own motion or upon the motion of any Member of the Assembly, explain the order of business when the motion pending before the Assembly is not debatable. Such explanation is not to consume more than two minutes

To Adjourn

93. A motion to adjourn is not debatable and cannot be amended, and is always in order, except (a) when another member has the floor, (b) when the Assembly is voting, (c) during a call of the Assembly. The name of any member moving an adjournment and also the hour at which the motion was made and adjournment taken shall be entered in the Journal. A motion to adjourn must be adopted by a majority vote of the members present

When a motion to adjourn is made and seconded, it shall be in order for the Speaker, before putting the question, to permit any member to state to the Assembly any fact relating to the condition of the business of the Assembly which would seem to render it improper or inadvisable to adjourn. A statement shall not occupy more than two minutes and shall not be debatable

To Recess to a Time Certain

94. A motion to recess to a time certain shall be treated the same as a motion to adjourn, except that such motion is debatable when no business is before the Assembly, and can be amended as to the time and duration of the recess. It yields only to a motion to adjourn.

To Lay on the Table

95 A motion to lay on the table is not debatable and cannot be amended.

A motion to table a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent or joint resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership.

Any motion to lay on the table, if carried by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, carries with it the main question and everything that adheres to it, provided, however, that a motion to lay an amendment on the table, if adopted, does not carry with it a bill, constitutional amendment, concurrent, joint, or House resolution.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

The Previous Question

96 The previous question shall be put only when demanded by five members, and in this form: "Shall the question be now put?" and its effect, when sustained by a majority of the members present, shall be to put an end to all debate and bring the House to a vote only on the question then pending; except that the proponent of the matter pending shall be allowed not to exceed five minutes to close the debate.

Motion to Set Special Order

97 A motion to set any matter before the Assembly as a special order of business must be adopted by a two-thirds vote of the members elected. It is debatable only as to the propriety of setting the main question as a special order of business, and may be amended only as to the time.

Motion to Postpone to a Time Certain

98 A motion to postpone to a time certain shall be deemed and treated as a motion to set as a special order.

Motion to Postpone Indefinitely

99 When a motion is made to postpone indefinitely any bill, motion, or amendment, it opens the main question to debate. Should the motion to postpone indefinitely prevail by a majority vote of the entire elected membership, the main question shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Amend

100 A motion to amend may itself be amended, but no "amendment to an amendment" can be amended. A motion to amend is debatable, except where the main question to be amended is not debatable. Any motion to amend may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

A motion to amend having been decided in the negative, shall not again be in order on the same day, or at the same stage of proceeding. A motion to amend by striking out certain words having been decided in the negative, shall not preclude a motion to amend by adding words, or a motion to amend by striking out and inserting words; but in no case shall a further amendment be substantially the same as the one rejected.

Subject to the above provisions of this rule, a motion to amend is in order during the second or third reading of any bill.

A motion to lay an amendment on the table may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present, as provided in Rule 95.

Amendment to Be Germane

101. No amendment to any bill, whether reported by a committee or offered by a member, shall be in order when such amendment relates to a different subject, or is intended to accomplish a different purpose, or requires a title essentially different from the original title of any bill.

No amendment shall be in order which adds or deletes the name of a member as an author or co-author, or which changes the original number of any bill.

Substitute Motion

102. A motion to substitute shall be deemed and treated as a motion to amend.

Motions in Writing

103. Upon request of the Speaker all motions shall be reduced to writing and shall be read to the Assembly by the Speaker before the same are acted upon.

Constitution of Motions

104. No motion, whether oral or written, shall be adopted until the same shall be seconded and distinctly stated to the Assembly by the Speaker.

Division of Question

105. Any member may call for a division of the question, and the Speaker shall order the question divided if it comprehend propositions in substance so distinct that, one being taken away, a substantive proposition shall remain for the decision of the Assembly.

Withdrawal of Motions

106. After a motion is stated by the Speaker, or a bill, resolution, or petition read by the Clerk, it shall be deemed to be in the possession of the Assembly.

Motion to Be Germane

107. No motion or proposition on a subject different from that under consideration shall be admitted as an amendment.

Motion to Withdraw and Recall Bills

108. A motion to withdraw a bill or resolution from committee, or to re-refer a bill or resolution from one committee to another committee may be made during the regular order of business. A motion to re-refer shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

No bill or resolution shall be withdrawn from committee and placed upon the file except upon two days' notice thereof and except by a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Re-reference of Measures on File

109. A motion to re-refer a bill or resolution that is on the Assembly Daily File to committee may be made during the regular order of business. The motion shall only be debatable as to the propriety of such reference, and shall require a recorded vote of a majority of the elected members.

Bills Stricken From File

110. A motion to strike from the file any bill or house resolution requires a majority vote of the entire elected membership. Such bill shall not be acted upon again during the session.

Motion to Rescind Action and Expunge Record

111. Previous to the approval of the Journal by the Assembly any action may be rescinded and its record ordered expunged by an affirmative recorded vote sufficient to take such action originally, except that no action shall be rescinded and the record expunged by a vote less than a majority of the entire elected membership. No motion to rescind the action and expunge the record shall be made twice on the same proposition.

Whenever any action of the Assembly is rescinded and its record ordered expunged, the record of the action expunged shall not appear in any form whatsoever, but the record of the proceedings on the motion to rescind and expunge shall appear in the Assembly Journal as and when printed.

Reconsideration of Vote

112. (a) A motion to reconsider on the next legislative day (1) the vote whereby any bill was passed or refused passage, or (2) the vote whereby any motion, amendment, concurrence, Assembly resolution or proposition other than a bill was passed or refused passage, must be made on the same day the vote to be reconsidered was taken. No motion to reconsider shall be in order on the last day, or the day preceding the last day, for consideration of Assembly or Senate bills in the Assembly. No motion to reconsider shall be adopted unless it receives an affirmative recorded vote of 41 members, except that it shall require such a vote of 54 members or 60 members, respectively, to reconsider the vote on any matter originally requiring 54 votes or 60 votes, as the case may be. A motion to reconsider may be voted on without a second.

A motion to reconsider a vote must be made by a member voting on the question, and shall take precedence over all motions, except a motion to adjourn. Upon such motion being made, the matter to be reconsidered shall forthwith be placed upon the unfinished business file, and no further action shall be taken prior to the next legislative day. When a motion to reconsider has once been made, the same shall be considered to be the property of the Assembly. When reconsideration is granted, the matter to be reconsidered shall resume its exact position before the Assembly previous to its being voted upon.

(b) Any member voting on any motion, amendment, concurrence, Assembly resolution or proposition other than a bill may move to take up on the same day the motion to reconsider such a question, previously made by another member. The motion to take up the reconsideration on the same day shall take precedence over the motion to reconsider.

and upon demand of any member the motion to take up the reconsideration on the same day must be put to an immediate vote. If the motion to take up the reconsideration on the same day is adopted, the motion to reconsider shall be the next order of business before the house.

Call of Assembly

113 After the roll has been called, and prior to the announcement of the vote, any member may move a call of the Assembly. A majority of the members present may order a call of the Assembly, and the Speaker shall immediately order the Sergeant at Arms to lock all doors and shall direct the Clerk to prepare a list of absentees as disclosed by the last roll call, which list of absentees shall be furnished to the Sergeant at Arms. Thereupon no members shall be permitted to leave the Assembly Chamber except by written permission of the Speaker, and no person shall be permitted to enter except such member as is taken into custody as herein provided, or Senators, officers, attaches, or employees of the Legislature in the official performance of their duties.

Those members who are found to be absent, and for whom no leaves of absence have been granted, shall be forthwith taken into custody wherever found by the Sergeant at Arms or his assistants or any person designated by the Sergeant at Arms, including members of the California Highway Patrol, the State Police, and sheriffs or their deputies, and brought to the Assembly Chamber. No recess or adjournment shall be taken during a call of the Assembly. During such call, the Assembly may consider and transact any matter of business by unanimous consent. No call of the Assembly shall be ordered on any matter while the Assembly is already under call. A call of the Assembly may be dispensed with at any time upon a majority vote of the members present, such action to become effective upon the completion of the roll call and the announcement of the vote upon the matter for which the call was ordered.

Resolutions

114 The adoption of any resolution authorizing the expenditure of money shall require an affirmative recorded vote of a majority of all members elected to the Assembly. All House resolutions shall be numbered and shall be referred to the appropriate committee by the Speaker.

Motions and Resolutions

115 Any motion or resolution not otherwise provided for under the Rules shall be placed before the Assembly only under this order of business. Unless otherwise provided by law or Assembly rule, any motion or resolution may be adopted by a majority vote of the members present.

Adjournment

116 Adjournment sine die shall be ordered by concurrent resolution. The resolution for adjournment sine die shall be adopted by the Assembly not less than seven days before the date set therein for such adjournment.

Members' Decorum and Privileges*Order in Speaking to Questions

117 When a member desires to address the Assembly, he shall rise from his seat and respectfully address himself to "Mr Speaker." Upon being recognized, he may speak, confining himself to the question under consideration. When two or more members rise at the same time, the Speaker shall designate the member who is entitled to the floor.

No member shall speak more than once during the consideration of any one question on the same day and at the same stage of proceeding, except that the author of a bill or resolution or the mover of a question shall have the right to open and close the debate thereon. No member shall be allowed to speak more than 10 minutes to open and five minutes to close the debate thereon, and no member other than the author or the mover of the question shall be allowed to speak more than five minutes thereon. No member shall yield to any other member the time for which he is entitled to speak on any matter.

Motions

118 When a member desires to make a motion, he shall obtain recognition as provided in Rule 117. Upon being recognized he shall open by stating his motion, except in the case of a nomination, and in any other case shall not speak to the merits of the motion at that time and shall confine his remarks to those necessary to explain the motion. If the motion is in order and is seconded, it shall be stated to the Assembly by the Speaker. If the motion is debatable, the member who made it shall then be entitled to recognition to open the debate thereon.

When a member obtains the floor during debate upon any question that is pending before the Assembly and addresses the Assembly regarding the merits of the pending question, he shall not be permitted to conclude his debate by making any motion or by demanding the previous question.

Leave of Absence

119 No member shall absent himself from attendance at any session of the Assembly without leave of the Assembly, and no member shall obtain such leave of absence or be excused for nonattendance, except by a two-thirds vote of all members elected to the Assembly, or by unanimous consent.

Personal Privilege

120 Any member may rise to explain a matter personal to himself and shall forthwith be recognized by the Speaker, but shall not discuss a question in such explanation. Such matters of personal privilege yield only to a motion to recess or adjournment.

Objection to Reading of Any Paper

121 Any member upon recognition by the Speaker may object to the reading of any paper before the Assembly. After such objection, the question of reading shall be determined without debate by a majority vote of the members present, upon a brief statement of its substance by the Speaker.

Members Called to Order for Transgressing Rules

122 a If any member transgresses the Rules of the Assembly, the Speaker shall, or any member may, call the offending member to order.

The member so called to order shall immediately take his seat, until the Speaker without debate, shall have determined whether he is in order or not. Such decision by the Speaker shall be subject to an appeal to the Assembly.

b. If any member be called to order for offensive words spoken in debate, the person calling him to order shall state to the Assembly the words to which exception is taken. No member shall be held to answer, or be subject to censure by the Assembly, for language used in debate, if other business shall have been transacted by the Assembly prior to exception being taken to the words spoken.

Members Voting

123 Every member in the Assembly Chamber when a roll call is required shall record his vote openly and without debate, unless the Assembly shall, by a majority vote of the members present, excuse him.

The name of any member who refuses to vote as required by this rule, after being requested by the Speaker to do so, shall be entered in the Journal of the Assembly, together with a statement that he was present and did so refuse to vote. Any member who refuses so to vote may, if he so desires, and immediately after the announcement of the vote, submit a written explanation of his failure to vote and have such explanation printed in the Journal, provided no such explanation shall exceed 50 words in length.

In addition to the entry of his name in the Journal, any member who refuses so to vote when required, and who has not been excused from doing so, may, immediately after the announcement of the vote, in the discretion of the Speaker or upon demand of any member, be summoned to appear before the bar of the Assembly for public censure by the Speaker or by any member designated by the Speaker. Censure of a member as provided by this rule shall not constitute a bar to proceedings for his expulsion from the Assembly pursuant to Section 9 of Article IV of the Constitution.

A member may submit a written explanation of his vote on any bill or House resolution, and have such explanation printed in the Journal immediately following such vote, provided no such explanation shall exceed 50 words in length.

Compensation and Expenses of Member Convicted of Felony

124 If a Member of the Assembly is convicted of a felony by a superior court, his right to further compensation or expenses is thereupon suspended and his membership on any interim committee is suspended. If such conviction becomes final, the right of the member to further compensation or expenses shall terminate and any compensation or expenses withheld shall be forfeited to the State. If a conviction is reversed by an appellate court or a motion for a new trial is granted and the member is thereafter found not guilty or the charges against him are dismissed, the amounts of the withheld compensation or expenses shall be paid to the member and the suspension of his committee membership shall terminate.

Whenever a member is convicted of a felony in the superior court, the Assembly Rules Committee shall give written notice to the State Controller, directing him to discontinue any further payments to the member unless and until the Rules Committee notifies the State Controller that the member has been found not guilty or that the charges against him are dismissed. The State Controller shall not draw any warrant payable to any such member except as provided in this rule.

Ayes and Noes

125 The ayes and noes shall be recorded by the electrical voting system on the final passage of all bills, or by viva voce when demanded by three members or when ordered by the Speaker, and on any other question when called for by three members or ordered by the Speaker, the names of which members shall be entered in the Journal.

Voting Not to Be Interrupted

126 When once begun, voting shall not be interrupted, except that before the vote is announced, any member may have the total pending vote flashed on the visible vote recorder. Prior to the announcement of the vote the Speaker shall inquire if all members have voted. Any member may move a call of the Assembly after the completion of the roll and prior to the final recording, but no member shall be allowed to change his vote, or have his vote recorded after the vote is announced.

Members at Clerk's Desk

127 No member or other person shall be allowed at the Clerk's desk while the ayes and noes are being recorded or the votes counted.

Tie Vote

128 In case of an equal division, or tie vote, the question shall be lost.

"Two-thirds of the Entire Elected Membership" Defined

129 Wherever the words or figures, "two-thirds of the entire elected membership" appear in any rule, it shall mean 54 votes.

Assembly Expenses Between Sessions

130 Pursuant to the powers vested in the Assembly Committee on Rules, and during such times as the Assembly is not in session, the committee is authorized and directed to incur and pay such expenses of the Assembly not otherwise provided for as the committee determines are reasonably necessary, including repair, alteration, improvement and equipping of the Assembly Chamber and the offices provided for the Assembly in the State Capitol.

As directed by Assembly Concurrent Resolution 85, 1961, (Mills) and by the Assembly Rules Committee, your Committee on Transportation and Commerce has undertaken a study of the driver license suspension and revocation program currently operative in New Jersey.

Initial information from the New Jersey Director of Motor Vehicles indicates there may be some misunderstanding reflected in the resolution as to the type of program in force in that state, since they do not suspend licenses for indefinite periods. In our opinion, however, New Jersey's system is sufficiently different from California's to warrant a comparative study as outlined in Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 85.

A conference on this subject will be arranged in conjunction with an inspection and analysis of New Jersey's motor vehicle inspection system, as directed by House Resolution No 323 (1961-Chapel). The results of this study will appear in this committee's final report to the 1963 Legislature.

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California:

I present to you a $2,885,523,247 Budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year. It is the fourth consecutive soundly balanced Budget transmitted to you by this Administration.

It is the third consecutive Budget requiring no new taxes.

It recognizes in size and scope that this is the year when California takes its destined place as the first State in the Union, as the leader in population, in government, in education, and in dedication to the principles of equal opportunity

It contemplates no major new expenditure programs

It includes increases in existing programs only where they are required by growth and quality, the two traditional hallmarks of life and government in California

It is once more based on an allocations system which guarantees that the state government will live within its resources without impairment of that level of services which has made California the most attractive State in the Union—to its citizens, to new population and to new industry and commerce

It adheres to strict standards of austerity and economy

Expenditure increases were limited to those areas in which direct services to people were involved. New administrative workload and overhead costs were pared from departmental budgets, even when formulas and ratios justified the requests involved. The only major exceptions were in our revenue collecting agencies where added staff costs demonstrably would produce even more added revenue.

I renew my annual invitation to the Legislature to produce even more economies to reduce this Budget wherever possible without stunting the State's growth or reducing the quality of its essential services.

I also renew my pledge to economize in the administration of this Budget.

I believe the record of the past three years reveals that both the invitation and the pledge are sincere.

As evidence, I offer the fact that this Administration has averaged $27 million a year for the last three years in savings from legislative appropriations. In the 10 years prior to my election, two preceding administrations averaged $15 million and $14 million respectively.

This last year we have also held thousands of authorized positions vacant for long periods of time in order to achieve greater productivity and slow the expansion of the work force.

Together, in these three years, you and I have restored California's fiscal responsibility, returned its bonds to an envied status in the national financial market place and turned a $68 million deficit into a $20 million surplus.

At the same time, we have kept faith with the future of this great State.

This Budget is founded not alone on principles of economy, but on a deep conviction that we must meet both the needs of the present and the challenges of the future.

The major cost increases in this massive Budget testify to our adherence to the principle of investment—investment in the education of our youth, investment in the development of water and the other great natural resources, and investment in people and programs designed to make California a better place to live and work.

Consider education, the area in which the largest growth is taking place and in which the most significant new investments are being made.

Local school districts will have 212,000 more students next year, bringing the total to 3,775,000 students in the elementary and seconddary grades through junior college. The districts will receive $58 million more in operating and debt service costs. The total proposed expenditure is $863 million.

The rapidly expanding State College System will have 8,500 more students in 1962-63, bringing the total enrollment to 86,440. The trustees, the 16 present campuses and the two new ones will receive $19 million more in state funds for operation and construction purposes. The total proposed expenditure is $149 million.

The great University of California, destined to double in size in this decade, will admit 5,128 more students in 1962-63, increasing total enrollment to 57,203. The proposed state-supported budget for the university calls for an increase of $16 million. The total proposed state contribution is $197 million.

Next in importance among the few major increases are those resulting from 1961 legislation to improve health care for the aged and meet other deficiencies in the State's programs for the aged, the blind and the disabled. The forecast last year was for a $70 million increase in these items in 1962-63, the first full year of operation. The estimate now is for $54 million.

Another major cost factor is the first general pay increase for state employees in two years, a 5 percent raise to be retroactive to January 1 of this year on the urgent recommendation of the State Personnel Board, the official fact-finding agency on proper state salary levels. That will cost $39.8 million in 1962-63.

State employees themselves have helped to finance this raise with increased productivity. Their efforts in work improvement plans and their money-saving suggestions submitted through the Merit Award System have also helped give impetus to the formulation of new standards of efficiency and economy in many departments.

If you examine the Budget in another way, a different kind of increase factor stands out. Of the entire Budget, $1,514,200,000, or some 55 percent, is in local assistance, an increase of $145.6 million in school, welfare, health and flood control programs administered at the local level where the burden would otherwise fall on the property taxpayer.

California continues to have the largest local assistance program of any state.

Fortunately, this Budget was prepared at a time of growing prosperity in California and the Nation.

The revenue estimates on which it is predicated reflect the same steadfast confidence and faith in California's future that I expressed in less auspicious circumstances just one year ago.

Our determination then to press forward with anti-recession measures in partnership with the federal government has been more than justified by events.

In almost every category of economic activity, California is at record highs and is continuing its steady upward climb.

Having doubled personal income in California in the last decade, we should see another increase of 8.6 percent in 1962. The Nation's income will go up only 6.8 percent.

The employment situation, already better, will continue to improve. As the State's population increases another 600,000, requiring 245,000 new jobs for proper support, we actually anticipate the creation of 288,000 new jobs. That would permit a welcome and substantial reduction in unemployment.

This splendid economic climate in California is not an accident. Government and industry and labor have worked hard to create and sustain it.

Recent comprehensive national surveys show that California is the leading choice of business executives for new and expanded plant capacity, not only because of our large and growing market, but because of the high level of publicly financed education here, a level essential to the advanced technology of most modern industry.

This is especially true of the Nation's burgeoning new business giant, the interrelated electronics and space exploration industries. It is in such areas that California's unique investment in higher education is paying dividends not only in culture and civilization, but in new levels of personal income and prosperity.

This Budget, just as the other budgets I have transmitted to you, has other contributions to make to a thriving economy.

There is an accelerated thrust in the California Water Program as it surges toward peak construction activity at Oroville and at the San Luis Reservoir, and the Nation's finest highway program is progressing ahead of schedule.

We are also continuing our assault on the ills of our society with some marked successes.

Despite our huge growth in population, a splendid treatment program has reduced the number of mentally ill in our state institutions to the lowest point in eight years.

The Prisoner Conservation Camp Program has a record number of adult and juvenile offenders doing useful and self-rehabilitating work in our forest and wilderness areas. Without their firefighting efforts in the last two years, untold thousands of acres more of California forests would have gone up in smoke.

The comprehensive narcotics program begun last year is still gathering momentum, but has already swept hundreds of addicts off the streets and out of the contagious centers of infection. This is a costly program, but one worth every dollar we have to pay to rid ourselves of this sordid traffic in human misery and degradation.

These, and other comparable expenditures, are largely in the pattern pioneered in previous years of this Administration.

In one area, however, I am supporting a drastic new approach to a task at which the State has long been laboring with only partial success.

I feel that our recreation programs have not kept pace with our needs.

Despite the greatest fiscal and planning effort of any Administration in the State's history, we still have not met the challenge fully. Lands which should be held for public use have slipped away into private hands because of inadequate funds for acquisition. The costs of other available and desirable lands is moving swiftly out of the range of the limited public purse, and within 10 years will be completely beyond our resources

Moreover, much property now held is not adequately developed to meet immediate public demand for recreational facilities

Therefore, with this Budget, I plan to submit a $100 million bond issue proposal to finance an immediate five-year program of acquisition of land for beach, park and other recreational purposes

At the same time, I am earmarking the General Fund money heretofore used for acquisition to accelerate the pace of our development program from $4 million to $6 million a year

I will ask that the Legislature place the new recreation bond issue on the general election ballot

If it is approved, as I confidently expect, then I would ask that the Legislature work out, at the 1963 Session, a method and program of acquisition which would take into account not only the needs of the State as a whole, but those of individual communities, counties and regions

The 1962-63 Budget contemplates other bond financing but with only one other basic variation from the traditional pattern of use of long-term capital outlay bonds in California. That one is of critical importance, however

To the category of institutions for which proper expenditures from state construction bonds can be made legally, now including the University of California, the State College System, mental hospitals, prisons, government buildings and other purely state institutions, I propose we add the State's junior colleges

Because the Master Plan for Higher Education adopted in 1960 calls upon the junior colleges to assume a major new role in meeting added statewide responsibilities in the field of higher education, a beginning capital outlay appropriation of $5 million was authorized by the Legislature last year

It was agreed by all concerned, however, that no permanently satisfactory solution to the shared responsibility of the State and junior college districts was achieved at that time

The Coordinating Council for Higher Education is now hard at work on this matter, and I am confident that the 1963 Session of the Legislature, acting after it has had the benefit of the council's study and advice, will be able to write adequate legislation covering the very complex problem of financing new junior college facilities co-operatively.

It will be important that there be funds available immediately to implement that decision next year, and I am therefore asking that the new state construction bond issue be so written as to permit the Legislature to use construction bond funds for junior college facilities

As of the beginning of the new fiscal year, only $52 million of the state construction bonds authorized in 1958 will be available to meet the capital outlay needs of $141 million projected in this Budget

I therefore ask this session of the Legislature to place a new bond issue of $270 million on the June primary ballot to meet the remaining needs for 1962-63 and the probable needs in 1963-64

Building at the new campuses of the University of California and the State College System will be at its highest level for the next few years as the five-year building plan submitted with this Budget discloses. In addition, as indicated above, junior college assistance, perhaps as much as $20 million, may be required in the 1963-64 Budget.

Thus, more than 80 percent of the total $270 million bond issue will be devoted to meeting the drastic needs of our institutions of higher education as they absorb the first full impact of the postwar population boom.

The increased use of bonds in these two areas is more than offset by decreased use in two other areas.

The declining volume of new bond sales required to sustain the self-liquidating California Veterans' Farm and Home loan program will permit drastic reduction in the renewed bond authority sought and the amount to be offered.

Instead of the $400 million issue required two years ago, I am recommending that the new issue be limited to $250 million for the next two years without making any changes or restrictions in the loan program. Ample funds on hand will permit the issue to wait to go on the general election ballot in November.

The bond program for assistance in local school construction has done its job well in reducing drastically the number of double sessions in the State. There is now for the first time in years no backlog of requests waiting on a priority basis.

The slackening of demand makes it possible for me to recommend that we reduce the two-year school construction bond issue from the $300 million level authorized two years ago to $200 million for the next two years.

I would further recommend that this issue be placed on the primary ballot in June with the $270 million state construction bond issue.

The net effect of these four proposals will be to reduce rather than to increase the number of general obligation bond sales in California during the next fiscal year while shifting the focus of long-term financing to the areas of greatest need.

California has already sold more than $500 million in bonds this year, and, because of steadily increasing confidence in California's fiscal soundness, it has sold them at the lowest rates of interest since the state surpluses of the postwar years disappeared in the prior Administration.

Yet, next year, we will be able to make a $50 million sale of water bonds if necessary and still hold the total to little more than $400 million.

To any among you with lingering doubts as to California's fiscal health, I would cite two remarkable facts.

California has the lowest net bond debt among nine comparable industrial states and ranks 37th in the Nation.

California ranks 27th among the states in tax rate per $100 of personal income.

In the last 10 years, the tax rate per $100 of personal income in all states has gone up an average of 20 percent and in such industrial states as New York and Pennsylvania has gone up 36 percent and 50 percent respectively. California's rate is up just 5 percent.

The fiscal moral is clear. Together you and I have kept economic faith with the people of California and with their future.

I submit this Budget to you with the utmost respect, and with confidence that your ultimate judgment will not stem from narrow partisanship, but will reflect your traditionally broad outlook on what is required to keep California in the position which she is just achieving, that of first among equals in this great Union.

SUMMARY

In summary, this Budget totals $2,885,000,000, including $141,000,000 of bond financing of essential State building needs. It represents an increase of almost $199 million, or 6.7 percent over current year requirements. Total revenues will reach $2,653,000,000, a corresponding increase of 8 percent.

Of particular importance are the General Fund obligations of $1,917,000,000 contained in this total, up 10 percent over current requirements. General Fund income for this Budget is anticipated at $1,883,000,000, a comparable increase of 10 percent over the present year.

MESSAGES FROM THE GOVERNOR

The following Budget Message of the Governor was received

Budget Message by Governor Edmund G. Brown

To the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California

I present to you a $2,885,529,247 Budget for the 1962-63 fiscal year. It is the fourth consecutive soundly balanced Budget transmitted to you by this Administration.

It is the third consecutive Budget requiring no new taxes.

It recognizes in size and scope that this is the year when California takes its destined place as the first State in the Union, as the leader in population in government, in education, and in dedication to the principles of equal opportunity.

It contemplates no major new expenditure programs.

It includes increases in existing programs only where they are required by growth and quality, the two traditional hallmarks of life and government in California.

It is once more based on an allocations system which guarantees that the state government will live within its resources without impairment of that level of services which has made California the most attractive State in the Union—to its citizens, to new population and to new industry and commerce.

It adheres to strict standards of austerity and economy.

Expenditure increases were limited to those areas in which direct services to people were involved. New administrative workload and overhead costs were pared from departmental budgets, even when formulas and ratios justified the requests involved. The only major exceptions were in our revenue collecting agencies where added staff costs demonstrably would produce even more added revenue.

I renew my annual invitation to the Legislature to produce even more economies to reduce this budget wherever possible without stunting the State's growth or reducing the quality of its essential services.

I also renew my pledge to economize in the administration of this Budget.

I believe the record of the past three years reveals that both the invitation and the pledge are sincere.

As evidence, I offer the fact that this Administration has averaged $27 million a year for the last three years in savings from legislative appropriations. In the 10 years prior to my election, two preceding administrations averaged $15 million and $14 million respectively.

This last year we have also held thousands of authorized positions vacant for long periods of time in order to achieve greater productivity and slow the expansion of the work force.

Together, in these three years, you and I have restored California's fiscal responsibility, returned its bonds to an envied status in the national financial market place and turned a $68 million deficit into a $20 million surplus.

At the same time, we have kept faith with the future of this great State.

This Budget is founded not alone on principles of economy, but on a deep conviction that we must meet both the needs of the present and the challenges of the future.

The major cost increases in this massive budget testify to our adherence to the principle of investment—investment in the education of our youth, investment in the development of water and the other great natural resources, and investment in people and programs designed to make California a better place to live and work.

Consider education, the area in which the largest growth is taking place and in which the most significant new investments are being made.

Local school districts will have 212,000 more students next year, bringing the total to 3,775,000 students in the elementary and secondary grades, through junior college. The districts will receive $58 million more in operating and debt service costs. The total proposed expenditure is $563 million.

The rapidly expanding State College System will have 8,500 more students in 1962-63, bringing the total enrollment to 86,440. The trustees, the 16 present campuses and the two new ones will receive $19 million more in state funds for operation and construction purposes. The total proposed expenditure is $149 million.

The great University of California, destined to double in size in this decade, will admit 5,128 more students in 1962-63, increasing total enrollment to 57,203. The proposed state supported budget for the university calls for an increase of $16 million. The total proposed state contribution is $197 million.

Next in importance among the few major increases are those resulting from 1961 legislation to improve health care for the aged and meet other deficiencies in the State's programs for the aged, the blind and the disabled. The forecast last year was for a $70 million increase in these items in 1962-63, the first full year of operation. The estimate now is for $74 million.

Another major cost factor is the first general pay increase for state employees in two years, a 5 percent raise to be retroactive to January 1 of this year on the urgent recommendation of the State Personnel Board, the official fact-finding agency on proper state salary levels. That will cost $39.8 million in 1962-63.

State employees themselves have helped to finance this raise with increased productivity. Their efforts in work improvement plans and their money-saving suggestions submitted through the Merit Award System have also helped give impetus to the formulation of new standards of efficiency and economy in many departments.

DEAR MR OHNIMUS I wish to express the appreciation of our entire organization for the Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 112 which was adopted on May 5, 1961, a specially prepared copy of which you sent to us

We are very pleased that the Assembly recognized the great team effort which was necessary to bring about the first space flight by Astronaut Alan B Shepard, Jr

Of course, we are all proud of this achievement but we also recognize that it was just the beginning of a great undertaking which will explore space for peaceful purposes and for the benefit of all mankind

We wish to assure the author of the resolution and the other Members of the Assembly that we will bring the resolution to the attention of the 372 cities of the State of California and urge the city officials thereof to provide borders on steps leading to and from public buildings This should prove to be as effective as the mandatory legislation which was rejected by the Assembly, while at the same time avoiding liability which would have followed if cities failed to act pursuant to the proposed legislation

EXECUTIVE OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

OFFICE OF THE DIRECTOR
WASHINGTON 25, D C, June 23, 1961

Hon Arthur A Ohnimus, Chief Clerk of the Assembly
California Legislature
3165 State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR OHNIMUS. Reference is made to your letter of May 25, 1961 to President Kennedy enclosing a copy of "Assembly Joint Resolution No 33" concerning civil defense stockpiles. The resolution has been referred to this agency for consideration.

The question of stockpiling survival items is a very complicated one. A major problem is the location of storage sites which are at the same time sufficiently removed from probable target areas and yet are readily available to supply needy areas after attack.

Because the situation with regard to stockpiling differs for each of the items (food, clothing, and medicine), I will discuss them separately.

- 1 The question of a food stockpile is under serious consideration by the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization and the Department of Agriculture. In March of this year, Governor Brown requested that Secretary of Agriculture Freeman and I send an OCDM-USDA survey team to California for an on-the-spot review of the reserve food situation in your State. The team was sent to California in early May to make the study. Based on their reports, OCDM and USDA are discussing the movement of Commodity Credit Corporation grain stocks to California for use as a food reserve and I expect that a decision on this issue will be reached in the near future.
- 2 The U. S. Public Health Service which is responsible, under the policy guidance and central program control of OCDM, for managing the OCDM medical supplies stockpile is conducting a program to preposition medical supplies in local areas. Medical stocks presently stored in California include (1) in excess of $1,000,000 worth obtained with the assistance of the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization on a matching fund basis, (2) over $8,000,000 worth of the OCDM medical supplies stockpile, and (3) 115 civil defense emergency hospital units. These supplies are located in dispersed areas throughout the State.
- 3 The suggestion that we stockpile clothing for use in an emergency has been considered in detail by OCDM and it has been determined that such action is not necessary. Studies have shown that, without regard to clothing in trade channels, most people have more clothes on hand than the minimum requirements in an emergency situation and would be able to share with those less fortunate. Furthermore, it is very difficult to store clothing because of the comparatively fast deterioration of the cloth.

I am glad to see that the California Legislature is maintaining its interest in civil defense planning and intends to keep California in the forefront in state civil defense work.

Sincerely,

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: Secretary Udall asked us to thank you for sending him with your letter of June 26 a copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 38 concerning Fort Funston. This also will acknowledge your letter of the same date to the Director of the National Park Service.

By letter dated March 2, Assistant Secretary of the Interior John A. Carver, acting in accordance with provisions contained in the Surplus Property Act of 1944, as amended, forwarded a determination to the Administrator of General Services Administration that the 116-acre tract at Fort Funston, which is being sought by the City and County of San Francisco is suitable and desirable for public park and recreation purposes. This letter emphasized the critical need for open space in the Bay Area and the fact that this property represents the last remaining natural shore area along this section of the coast.

Determination as to the final disposition of the property is now in the hands of General Services Administration.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Arthur A. Ohnismus, Chief Clerk
California Legislature

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: Receipt is acknowledged of your letter of June 26, transmitting a copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 38 of the California Legislature, which requests that disposal of the Fort Funston property be deferred until the State of California has an opportunity to take such action as may be necessary to acquire the property.

On March 2, 1961, the Department of the Interior advised General Services Administration that it had determined the Fort Funston property suitable and desirable for park and recreational use as requested by the City of San Francisco in its application of November 15, 1960. The city's application was made pursuant to Section 13(h) of the Surplus Property Act of 1944 (50 U.S.C. app. 1622(h)) which authorizes conveyance to any state, political subdivision, instrumentality thereof, or municipality, all of the right, title, and interest of the United States in and to any surplus land, including improvements and equipment located thereon, which in the determination of the Secretary of the Interior is suitable and desirable as a public park or recreational area. Conveyances pursuant to this authority are made at a price equal to 50 percent of the fair market value of the property conveyed, based on the highest and best use of the property at the time it is offered for disposal.

All necessary determinations and findings have been made by GSA for conveyance of this property to the city. Completion of the transaction has been deferred until January, 1962, to allow the city time to obtain the necessary funds for its purchase through a bond election to be held in November, 1961. Under the circumstances, we believe that it is incumbent upon the State and the city to co-ordinate their respective requirements for acquisition of this acreage for park and recreation activities. In the absence of an indication from the city that it wishes to amend or withdraw its application, we plan to proceed with the conveyance of the property to the city if the necessary funds become available.

Sincerely yours,

J. E. MOODY, Acting Commissioner
Utilization and Disposal Service

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: The Postmaster General has asked me to thank you for your letter of June 26, enclosing a copy of Assembly Joint Resolution No. 39, adopted by the California Legislature on June 6, 1961, for the issuance of a commemorative postage stamp to mark the 50th anniversary of the death of John Muir in 1964.

Acknowledgment is also made of a copy of your letter of the same date to the President, which has been referred to me.

You may be sure that this proposal will be brought to the attention of our Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee for consideration when the 1964 program is formulated, which is usually the latter part of the year preceding the anniversary date.

It is difficult, however, to offer encouragement for the approval of any particular stamp since we have on file so many requests for important events and outstanding persons and our commemorative issues are limited to 15 a year.

As a matter of information, the suggestion for the issuance of a commemorative stamp in honor of John Muir to be issued in July, 1962, in conjunction with the celebration of the completion of the Martinez-Benicia Highway Bridge in California, is already before the Citizens' Stamp Advisory Committee for consideration in the program for 1962.

Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 65 requests this department to proceed "as rapidly as feasible" to initiate and perform a geological and hydrological survey of the Chico Basin.

DEAR MR OHNINUS Further reference is made to the portion of your letter of June 26, 1961, pertaining to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 116. This resolution requested delay in the commencement of construction of the proposed Grove-Shafter Freeway south and west of Broadway in the City of Oakland until after the June 1, 1962, election of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District

For some time prior to the receipt of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 116, the Department of Public Works and the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District have been working closely and cooperatively toward the possibility of joint use of the freeway right-of-way in this vicinity for freeway and rapid transit purposes. By my letter of May 31, 1961, to Mr. John M. Pence, General Manager, San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District, understandings were reached wherein no construction would be programmed by the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, for this portion of the Grove-Shafter Freeway until after July 1, 1962. This understanding was on the basis that an election would be scheduled for the early summer of 1962 wherein a determination would be made as to the Rapid Transit District's ability to participate in the added cost of joint use of freeway and rapid transit right-of-way. Acceptance of this understanding by the Board of Directors of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District was contained in a resolution adopted on June 8, 1961.

It is considered that the present arrangements between the Department of Public Works, Division of Highways, and the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District comply fully with the meaning and intent of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 116. We look forward to continuing close cooperation between our two agencies.

The portions of your letter of June 26, 1961, relating to Assembly Concurrent Resolutions Nos. 79, 83 and 134 are the subjects of separate reports being submitted to you.

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: Reference is made to your letter of June 26, 1961, transmitting Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 122 concerning the Franklin Canyon Highway (State Highway Route 106) from U.S. 40 near Hercules to State Highway Route 77, near Concord, in Contra Costa County.

This resolution requests that the California Highway Commission consider allocating funds for the reconstruction of this highway into a modern freeway at the earliest practical time, giving due regard to the other needs in Contra Costa County.

The Department of Public Works and the California Highway Commission are in complete accord with the intent of Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 122 and planning has proceeded in that direction. All of the preliminary steps, including the establishment of the freeway route and the execution of the necessary freeway agreements between the State and the local governmental bodies, have been completed for this section of the Franklin Canyon Highway. The commission has allocated funds for the acquisition of rights-of-way, including $265,000 for the 1961-62 fiscal year and an additional $310,000 for the 1962-63 fiscal year.

Contract plans are being prepared so that construction can begin with a minimum of delay after funds are made available. The Legislature may be assured that the California Highway Commission during the preparation of future state highway budgets will give every consideration to providing funds for freeway construction on this highway as soon as possible consistent with the other highway needs in Contra Costa County.

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Assembly Bulletin 93, titled "Saline Water Demineralization and Nuclear Energy in the California Water Plan," dated December 1960. This is a comprehensive review of the various processes used in converting saline water into fresh water. In addition, the role of nuclear energy in the California Water Plan is discussed.

The report was initiated partially as a result of House Resolutions Nos. 88 and 284, of 1957, in which the Legislature expressed its desire that the department give full consideration to saline water conversion and nuclear energy in the California

Water Plan. In addition, the department realized its obligation to keep water leaders of the State informed on these subjects. This bulletin should serve both purposes.

OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the California State Assembly a report entitled "Progress Report on the North Coastal Area Investigation," dated May, 1961. This comprehensive water resources investigation was initiated by the department in 1956, under the California Water Development Program. Its purpose is to formulate plans for the orderly and economical development of major north coastal projects to sustain and augment the water yield potential of the State Water Resources Development System, and to provide additional local benefits for the North Coastal Area.

This investigation was first given legislative sanction by the inclusion of study funds in the Budget Act of 1956. Work accomplished during the initial year consisted mainly of the formulation of an overall physical plan for development of the water resources of the North Coastal Area, subsequently published in 1957 in Bulletin No. 3, "The California Water Plan." Preliminary engineering studies and collection of field data were initiated in July, 1957. This investigation is scheduled for completion by July, 1964. However, additional studies of greater detail, but of lesser areal scope, should continue beyond 1964, looking toward the definition of an initial export development to augment available water supplies in the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta.

This report is submitted at this time to inform all concerned of the progress made to date on the investigation. The report and available background material will also provide information which may be useful to interested local agencies and to the department in its continuing phases of the investigation.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE, Director

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith, for the information of the California State Assembly, a report entitled "Quality of Surface Waters in California, 1957."

This bulletin contains an evaluation of surface water quality in 100 streams and lakes throughout California during the period January through December, 1957. The surface waters in Northern California were of excellent quality. The quality in Southern California during the same period varied from excellent to poor. The poorer quality was observed to be in lakes which receive huge volumes of drainage water and which have high evaporation rates.

This bulletin contains an evaluation of surface water quality in 132 streams and lakes throughout California during the period January through December, 1958. For the most part, the waters in Northern California continued to be of excellent quality and suitable for most uses with only insignificant changes from previous years. Surface waters in Southern California during the same period, on the other hand, varied in quality from excellent to poor with the poorer quality waters found in the lakes of that area.

Bulletin No. 39-59—Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1958-1959

THE RESOURCES AGENCY OF CALIFORNIA

DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES

1120 N STREET, Sacramento, November 14, 1961

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith for the information of the State Assembly Volume I of Department of Water Resources, Bulletin 39-59, entitled "Water Supply Conditions in Southern California During 1958-59." This is the latest in the Bulletin 39 series resulting from 1929 legislative authorization. In that year the Legislature, by enacting Chapter 832, directed that a continuing investigation be conducted of basic hydrologic data to promote the conservation, development, and utilization of water resources of Southern California. The effect of this legislation was included in Sections 225 and 226 of the State Water Code when the code was established in 1943. This report is one of a series begun in 1932 as a result of the foregoing authorization.

Bulletin No. 39 contains a description of surface water supply, ground water supply, sea-water intrusion, surface water outflow and sewage discharge to the ocean, weather modification operations, and construction activities affecting water supply conditions. Bulletin 39-59 has been published in three volumes. The text of the report is contained in Volume I, supplemented by data tabulations in Volumes II and III. The last two volumes are useful primarily to agencies concerned with detailed engineering studies of water supply conditions.

The data assembled herein indicate the 1958-59 season was very deficient in precipitation, with the resulting effect that water stored in both surface reservoirs and ground water basins generally declined. This condition, combined with increased population, makes Southern California more dependent on imported water. This dependence has been increased by the dry years of 1950-60 and 1960-61, with the 1960-61 season being the driest in the history of the Weather Bureau records at Los Angeles and San Diego.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, STATE BOARD OF EDUCATION
JANUARY 1, 1962

To the California Legislature

Pursuant to the provisions of House Resolution No. 77, adopted by the California Assembly on February 17, 1961, we are submitting a report, "Accounting for the Expenditures and Revenues of Junior Colleges." The report was prepared by the Department of Education and was approved for transmittal to the Legislature by the State Board of Education at its meeting on December 1, 1961.

This report also deals with Senate Bill 1261 (Chapter 1802, Statutes of 1961), introduced by Senator Miller, which requires that the State Board of Education "shall by rule and regulation define and establish methods for accounting for revenues and expenses for junior college purposes."

The program of development to meet the assignments required by the two measures mentioned above will permit school districts to report expenditures and revenues for junior college purposes for the 1961-62 fiscal year and to account for such expenditures and revenues in accordance with State Board of Education regulations, beginning with the 1962-63 fiscal year.

We shall be pleased to be of every assistance to the Legislature in its consideration of this report.

DEAR MR. OHNMUS: It is my pleasure to transmit to you for the information of the Assembly the enclosed copy of Bulletin No. 110, "North Bay Aqueduct," and a news release thereon. This bulletin summarizes our studies regarding the water requirements and costs of water service in portions of Marin, Sonoma, Napa, and Solano Counties adjacent to the northern shore of the San Francisco Bay system.

In 1957 the Legislature authorized the North Bay Aqueduct as a feature of The California Water Plan, and appropriated $1,340,000 for completion of engineering studies and preparation of construction plans and specifications. Local water supply developments, changes in economic conditions and establishment of certain pricing policies have necessitated a review of the feasibility of the North Bay Aqueduct. This work was funded from the appropriation made in 1957.

We conclude that supplemental water in large quantities will be necessary in the north bay counties and water is urgently needed by 1960 in Napa County. The North Bay Aqueduct, which is the only presently authorized project of the magnitude necessary to economically meet all of the water needs, is a feasible source of supplemental water. The system can be readily constructed in stages, and if early action is taken by local agencies to contract for water supplies, it can be completed to Napa County in time to meet its needs and also provide water to Solano County. The aqueduct can be subsequently extended to serve water in southern Sonoma County and Marin County. We plan to work closely with the water agencies to assist them in evaluating the merits of the North Bay Aqueduct and other alternatives which they may wish to consider.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE, Director

Submitted herewith is the Report of the Division of Housing, Department of Industrial Relations, on the present status of the farm labor centers established in California by the Farm Security Administration and now under the control of local housing authorities. This report was requested by the 1961 Legislature under Senate Concurrent Resolution No 27.

Following receipt of the Legislature's request, the Division of Housing received a grant from the Rosenberg Foundation to conduct a comprehensive study of agricultural worker family housing needs. A seven-member advisory committee was appointed to guide the study. Members of the committee were Senators Paul L. Byrne and John A. Murdy, Jr., co-authors of Senate Concurrent Resolution No 27, Dr. Karl Falk, head of the Social Science Division of Fresno State College, Allan J. Gruhn, President of the California Labor Federation, AFL-CIO, Leland J. Yost, Riverside County grower; Lawrence Livingston, Jr., planning consultant, and Mrs. Hubert Wyckoff, Jr., member of the Governor's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth.

Although this report constitutes only a part of the Division of Housing's study of agricultural labor housing problems under the Rosenberg Grant, it was the desire of the advisory committee and the division that it be transmitted to the Legislature prior to the special session in fulfillment of Senate Concurrent Resolution No 27.

Yours very truly,

Bulletin No. 65-59—Quality of Surface Waters in California, 1959

1120 N STREET, SACRAMENTO, JANUARY 29, 1962*Hon Arthur A. Ohnismus*
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit, for information of the California State Assembly, Bulletin No. 65-59, entitled "Quality of Surface Waters in California, 1959, Part I, Northern and Central California." The period January through December 1959 is covered in this fifth volume of a continuing chronological series on quality of surface waters in California. Surface waters in Northern and Central California are discussed in Part I, Southern California surface water quality will be reported in Part II.

At the request of the State Water Pollution Control Board, a statewide surface water monitoring program was commenced in April 1951. As authorized by Section 229 of the Water Code, the Department of Water Resources has administered this program in cooperation with the State Department of Public Health, Bureau of Sanitary Engineering, the State Department of Fish and Game, the United States Geological Survey, and various other agencies and individuals. Under the statewide program samples from 210 stations, located on 143 different water sources, are collected and analyzed monthly to maintain surveillance on quality of surface waters in California. This volume reports the results of monitoring at 178 of these stations, located on 110 streams and lakes, in Northern and Central California.

During 1959 quality of surface waters in Northern and Central California was generally excellent, with only insignificant changes from previous years. During late summer and fall, the lower San Joaquin River and the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta contained water with mineral concentrations which were the maximum of record. The high mineral concentrations often caused the water to be classed as poor in quality. The poor quality water was attributed to low flows, resulting from below normal precipitation, which afforded only minor dilution to poor quality drainage and effluent ground waters entering the lower reach of the river and the delta.

Part II of this bulletin, which will include an evaluation of surface water quality conditions in Southern California, will be published at a later date.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE, Director

CALIFORNIA STATE PERSONNEL BOARD
801 CAPITOL AVENUE, SACRAMENTO
December 15, 1961

Edmund G. Brown, Governor of California, and Members of the Senate and the Assembly of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: The State Personnel Board, in accordance with Government Code Section 18712, submits this report on matters relating to civil service personnel under the jurisdiction of the Personnel Board.

The Legislature, in delegating to the Personnel Board the authority to set and adjust salary ranges for civil service employees, has directed the Personnel Board to: (a) consider proper internal salary relationships between state classes, (b) consider the salaries for comparable service in private employment and in other governmental agencies, and (c) keep expenditures for salary adjustments within the appropriation limits provided by the Legislature (Government Code Section 18550). The following summarizes the salary situation:

- 1 After funds were appropriated by the Legislature, the Personnel Board granted at least a 5 percent increase to almost all employees effective July 1, 1960. Approximately 3,800 state college professors and administrators received an additional 2.5 percent (a total of 7.5 percent). Approximately 22,800 other employees received an additional 5 percent (a total of 10 percent). This adjustment program generally brought salaries of state employees in line with those prevailing in other governmental jurisdictions and in private industry as of July 1, 1960.
- 2 The Personnel Board in its Annual Report dated December 1, 1960, made recommendations for salary increase funds for the 1961-62 fiscal year which would provide a 5 percent adjustment for about half the state employees. The Personnel Board submitted a supplemental report to the Governor and the Legislature on April 21, 1961, after reviewing the results of the March, 1961 salary surveys. This report stated, "In view of these salary comparisons and trends, it now appears that a 5 percent increase will be warranted for almost all state classes by January 1, 1962."
- 3 Thereafter, the appropriation for salary increase purposes was limited to $2,231,000 specifically earmarked to provide a 5 percent increase effective July 1, 1961, for approximately 10,800 employees in the Psychiatric Technician classes. No other funds have been available for salary increase purposes during the 1961-62 fiscal year.
- 4 Surveys conducted by the Personnel Board in October 1961 showed wage increases of about 6.2 percent since March, 1960. The increase in wage levels has been more pronounced in many occupations during this period.
- 5 A direct comparison between salaries in private industry and those in state service showed that in October, 1961, salaries and wages in private industry were about 4.8 percent higher than salaries for corresponding positions in state service, and 6.1 percent higher when clerical positions are excluded. It is estimated that the current salary increase trend will continue and that the State will be more than 5 percent behind prevailing rates by January, 1962.

Contributing to this trend are a large number of contracts with guaranteed future wage increases and contracts for wage increases negotiated since October, 1961.

- 6 A comparison of state salaries on a class-by-class basis with salaries paid by other governmental agencies indicates that a large number of these classes in state service have fallen behind their counterparts in other governmental agencies.
  - 7 The data from private and governmental employers justify a general salary adjustment of 5 percent as of January 1, 1962, for practically all state employees.
  - 8 In addition to a salary increase fund approximating 5 percent, these data disclose need for substantial funds for specific additional salary adjustments to meet greater changes in rates in certain occupational areas in private industry and other governmental jurisdictions. Special funds are also required to meet inequities and problems arising from changes in internal relationships, recruit ment situations, changes in duty assignments, and departmental reorganizations.
- Based on these considerations, the following recommendations for salary increase funds for the 1961-62 and 1962-63 fiscal years is submitted. The recommendation provides only for civil service employees and for the cost of retirement contributions. Estimates of salary increase needs for the University of California, the State College System, and other exempt employees are not included.

- 1 The estimated cost of the 5 percent increase recommended by the Personnel Board to be effective January 1, 1962, is $7,200,000 from the General Fund and $7,100,000 from special funds for the remaining six months of the 1961-62 fiscal year.
- 2 To recognize changes in internal relationships and in rates prevailing in government and industry, it is estimated that an appropriation of $3,300,000 will be needed from the General Fund to provide for special salary adjustments for the remaining six months of the 1961-62 fiscal year. Commensurate amounts will be needed from special funds.
- 3 It is anticipated that funds in the amount of $2,750,000 from the General Fund will be required for special salary adjustments during the 1962-63 fiscal year, plus a commensurate amount from the special funds. The total annual costs for 1962-63, including a continuance of adjustments recommended for January 1, 1962, will be $24,500,000 from the General Fund and $23,000,000 from the special funds.

In addition to information on salaries, this report covers some of the important problems and aspects of personnel management in state service. These discussions may be summarized as follows:

- 1 Difficult recruiting problems continue, especially in such technical and professional groups as engineers, nurses, auditors, physicians, social workers, psychologists, teachers, and librarians. To improve its recruiting efforts, the Personnel Board has continued its affirmative steps to protect the principle of recruitment and hiring on merit alone by eliminating unfair discrimination wherever it appears, and by utilizing all sources of qualified personnel without regard to race, religion, age, sex, politics or immaterial physical handicaps.
- 2 The principal training activities of the Personnel Board during the past year included a management development program, specialized training, agency training programs, supervisory training, and driver safety training.
- 3 The Personnel Board has acted to provide a framework for sound employer-employee relations within state service. The first action was the establishment of a formal system for adjusting employee grievances within the state departments. Second, to give effect to the recently adopted legislation concerning employer-employee relations in the public service, the Personnel Board has scheduled hearings for the adoption of appropriate rules and regulations.
- 4 The responsibility for taking disciplinary actions rests with the operating departments with the right of appeal to the Personnel Board. The actions taken are summarized in this report.

Respectfully submitted,

DEAR SPEAKER UNRUH AND MEMBERS House Resolution No 222, introduced by Assemblyman Don Mulford, required a study of the desirability and necessity of licensing, regulating and training of operators of small craft on the waters of California. The resolution further required that a report of this study be made to the Assembly on the first day of the 1962 Budget Session.

This interim committee held hearings on this subject in Newport Beach on September 13, 1961, and in San Francisco on November 2, 1961, where considerable testimony was received on the subject under study.

Some preliminary conclusions can be reached concerning secondary problems in this field. Information has been requested from other states and the United States Coast Guard. However, this committee feels that a proper recommendation of licensing of boat operators cannot be reached until all of this information is received and analyzed.

In addition, studies will be conducted by this interim committee in conjunction with House Resolution No. 352, requiring a study of boating safety and education. The committee concludes from hearings held to date that studies on these subjects must be concluded, because of their related value to licensing, before any final recommendation can be made.

The committee's report to the 1963 Legislature will include findings and recommendations on the overall problem of boating safety in California, of which licensing is a part.

Respectfully submitted,

REN M. CUNNINGHAM, Chairman

OPINION OF ATTORNEY GENERAL*OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL

State of California

Attorney General

Robert L Bergman
Deputy Attorney General

No 61/218

January 29, 1962

THE HONORABLE MALCOLM H. MERRILL, M D, DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC HEALTH, and THE HONORABLE JAMES M SHUMWAY, COUNTY COUNSEL OF SOLANO COUNTY, have each requested the opinion of this office on questions relating to the new Caliifornia Restaurant Act We have consolidated the questions into a single opinion The questions asked are

1. Does the selling for consumption off the premises of food, by a church, P T A. or other nonprofit organization come under the provisions of the California Restaurant Act.

- (a) If sale is to members only?
- (b) If sale is to members and guests?
- (c) If sale is to the general public?

2 Does the serving of a meal by a church, P T A. or other nonprofit organization come under the provisions of the California Restaurant Act.

- (a) If service is to members only?
- (b) If service is to members and guests?
- (c) If service is to the general public?

3 Must every school building be classified as a restaurant under the terms of this act even though there is no cafeteria in the building?

4 May food prepared in a private home be consumed in a school building by adults or children at an activity not sponsored by or under the control of the school? In other words, may potluck meals be served in any school buildings at any time when the food has been prepared in private homes?

5 May school employees bring food prepared in their private homes to the school or school-owned building for consumption solely by other employees of the district during their rest period or coffee break?

6 Under the terms of the California Restaurant Act, is it possible for food prepared in a private home to be offered for sale, sold, or given away at a school or in a school building at any time by any group? ("Any group" refers to pupils, employees of the school district, parents of school pupils, and persons with no direct affiliation with the school.)

The conclusions are:

The California Restaurant Act does not apply to the selling to the public of food for consumption off the premises by a nonprofit organization, nor does the act apply to the serving of meals by such organization to its members and the members' guests if no employee or member is assigned full time to care for and operate equipment used in such arrangement. However, it does apply where such organization serves meals to the public. These conclusions are not affected by the character of the ownership of the premises, that is, whether private or school-owned. If the activity is subject to the Restaurant Act, then the food served may not be prepared in a private home. The employees of schools or other organizations may serve food prepared in their own homes and brought to the place of employment for the purpose of serving the same solely to the employees of the school or organization so long as no employee is assigned full time to care for and operate the equipment involved in the food serving activity. The California Restaurant Act forbids the serving in a restaurant of food prepared in a private home.

Analysis

The California Restaurant Act (Chapter 633 of the California Statutes of 1961) comprises Sections 28520 through 28696 of the Health and Safety Code (All section references are to the Health and Safety Code unless otherwise specified ) Whether a particular activity is subject to the provisions of the California Restaurant Act depends upon whether the activity constitutes a restaurant as that term is defined in Section 28522. That section provides as follows:

“‘Restaurant’ means any coffee shop, cafeteria, short-order cafe, luncheonette, tavern, cocktail lounge, sandwich stand, soda fountain, private and public school cafeteria or eating establishment, in-plant or employee eating establishment, and any other eating establishment, organization, club, including veterans’ club, boardinghouse, guesthouse, or political subdivision, which gives, sells, or offers for sale, food to the public, guests, patrons, or employees as well as kitchens in which food is prepared on the premises for serving elsewhere, including catering functions. The term ‘restaurant’ shall not include itinerant restaurants, vending machines, vehicles, cooperative arrangements by employees who purchase food or beverages for their own consumption and where no employee is assigned full time to care for or operate equipment used in such arrangement, or private homes, nor shall the term ‘restaurant’ include private clubs or other nonprofit organizations which purchase food or beverages for the consumption of their members and where no employee or member is assigned full time to care for or operate equipment used in such arrangement.”

The first question describes activities exemplified by the traditional cake sales conducted by churches, the P T A, and other nonprofit organizations for the purpose of raising funds to finance their activities. The determinative characteristic of this activity is the sale of food for consumption off the premises. The definition of a restaurant in Section 28522, quoted above, commences by enumerating several specific types of establishments which are classed as restaurants, such as coffee shop, cafeteria, sandwich stand, school cafeteria, and others. These are all establishments which commonly serve food for consumption on the premises. The enumeration continues with the all-inclusive generic term “any other eating establishment,” and twice more uses the term “eating establishment.”

This phraseology shows an intent on the part of the Legislature to include in the definition of the word “restaurant” that type of eating operation where food is served to the public, not sold to the public for consumption by the purchaser at his own home. The section speaks in terms of “gives, sells, or offers for sale,” rather than serves. However, to say that the Legislature intended that the act apply whenever food is sold, given away, or offered for sale to the public for consumption at the purchaser’s home, would be to broaden the definition to include such food-selling establishments as grocery stores, meat markets, and candy stores. This, we think, the Legislature did not intend.

The occasional cake sale type of food selling operation by a church or other nonprofit organization is distinguishable from the catering type of operation, in that the latter operation contemplates the preparation and serving of the food including the furnishing of serving utensils. Webster’s New International Dictionary, 2d edition, unabridged, defines “caterer” as “one who provides provisions and service.” (Emphasis added.) Consequently, we believe that the Legislature by expressly including the catering type operation where food is prepared in a central kitchen for service elsewhere did not thereby intend to include the traditional cake sale in definition of "restaurant." This is confirmed by the Legislature's words "kitchens in which food is prepared on the premises for serving elsewhere, including catering functions" (Emphasis added)

We, therefore, conclude in answer to the first question that the California Restaurant Act does not apply to the selling of food to the public for consumption at the purchaser's home by a church, P T A or other nonprofit organization

The second question describes the serving of a meal by a church, P T A or other nonprofit organization to members, members and their guests and to the public. The last sentence of section 28522 refers to nonprofit organizations. That sentence provides in part:

"nor shall the term 'restaurant' include private clubs or other nonprofit organizations which purchase food or beverages for the consumption of their members and where no employee or member is assigned full time to care for or operate equipment used in such arrangement".

By this exclusion the Legislature, in our opinion, intended that the definition of "restaurant" include those establishments or organizations which have for their primary purpose and function the serving of food and exclude nonprofit organizations such as church groups and parent-teacher groups which serve food as a mere incident of some nonprofit purpose or function. Thus, if such a nonprofit organization serves a meal to its members and does not have a member or employee assigned on a full-time basis to care for and operate the equipment, the California Restaurant Act does not apply. If, on the other hand, such nonprofit organization serves meals to the public, it does not come within the exclusion. If the nonprofit organization serves its members, together with its members' guests, the problem becomes more complex because the exclusion speaks in terms of "members." However, the Legislature must have known that this type of organization usually allows members to bring guests. In our opinion, the mere fact that guests of some of the members consume a meal does not take the activity out of the exclusion. However, if the ratio of the number of members to the number of "guests" becomes so disproportionate as to evidence a ruse for the purpose of evading the statute, the act no doubt would apply.

In the third question we are asked whether every school building is classed as a restaurant even though there is no cafeteria in the building. The definition of "restaurant" includes private or public school cafeterias. If there is no food served in a school building, it is, of course, not a restaurant. The only problem that might arise is when a building in which no school cafeteria is located is used for the purpose of the serving of a meal by a nonprofit organization. In such case the activity should be analyzed as set forth above in the answer to Question No. 2, that is, whether the organization is in fact a nonprofit organization, whether it serves food to its members or to the public, and whether a member or employee cares for and operates the equipment on a full time basis.

In the fourth question we are asked whether food prepared in a private home may be consumed in a school building at an activity not sponsored by or under the control of the school Section 28571 provides in part as follows:

"No food or beverage prepared in a private home shall be used in the preparation of foods or beverages, offered for sale, sold, or given away in a restaurant" (Emphasis added)

If the activity is classed as a restaurant, the above quoted provision prohibits the serving of food prepared in a private home. If, on the other hand, the activity is not classified as a restaurant, then there is no prohibition upon the serving of food which has been prepared at home. In the exclusion there is no distinction made between the serving of food on school premises by a nonprofit organization which is affiliated with a school and by one which has no connection with a school but which is permitted by the school to carry on this activity on school premises. Consequently, in determining the answer to this question in any given instance, the analysis must be, as pointed out in answer to the second question, to wit, whether a nonprofit organization is serving the public or only its members and their guests, and whether a member or employee cares for and operates the equipment on a full time basis.

We are asked in the fifth question whether school employees may bring food which is prepared in their private homes to the school for consumption solely by other school employees during their rest period or coffee break. This question is somewhat similar to the fourth question above, in that Section 28521 prohibits the serving in a restaurant of food prepared in a private home. Section 28522, above quoted, contains another exclusion, as follows:

"The term 'restaurant' shall not include itinerant restaurants, vending machines, vehicles, co-operative arrangements by employees who purchase food or beverages for their own consumption and where no employee is assigned full time to care for or operate equipment used in such arrangement" (Emphasis added)

Thus, there is an exclusion created for an activity which might otherwise be classified as an employee eating establishment within the definition of "restaurant". By this exclusion, school employees may bring food prepared in their own homes to the school for consumption solely by other employees during their coffee break if no employee is assigned full time to care for and operate any equipment used in such arrangement.

What we have heretofore said answers Question No. 6.

STATEMENT BY MR. GAFFNEY

Somewhere in Holy Script we find the query "What profiteth a man if he possesses the whole world and forfeits his soul?"

In contradistinction, Dag Hammarskjöld gave his only possession, his very life, in loving devotion to all mankind on the altar of world peace. May his martyrdom in the cause of peace inspire men and women throughout the world to persevere toward the goal of universal brotherhood and peace by emulating the good will toward and love for fellow man as exemplified in the life and death of Dag Hammarskjöld.

The dream of world peace can only become a reality by acceptance of the message of the Angels at Bethlehem: "Peace on earth to men of good will."

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

Hon. Carl A. Britschgi
2715 Delaware Avenue
Redwood City, California

Lobbying—No. 1297

DEAR MR. BRITSCHGI:

You have furnished us with a copy of a letter received from a registered legislative advocate and have asked for our opinion on the questions raised by him. The pertinent portion of the letter reads as follows:

"During the interim I attend interim committees to listen to the debate and to report to my principals the trends in legislative matters. True, while before or after the meeting I might meet with legislators to pass the time of day. Now then, if I were to go to San Francisco to attend a Public Health Committee meeting and make no presentation and have no witnesses, are these expenses to influence the passage of legislation? Prior to now we have always been of the opinion that these were reporting ventures and no legislation was either passed or defeated at interim committees, and have not kept track of those expenses except for our principals to reimburse us. Is it your opinion or the opinion of the committee that we should file these expenses?"

In our opinion the legislative advocate should report these expenses if he attends such meetings pursuant to his engagement for the purpose of influencing legislation.

Section 9906 of the Government Code requires "Any person who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation" to register "before doing anything in furtherance of such object." After registration such person must "so long as his activity continues, file a detailed report under oath of all money received and each expenditure of twenty-five dollars ($25) or more during the preceding calendar month in carrying on his work." The report must also contain other specified information.

The "activity" referred to in Section 9906 is obviously activity involving (1) attempts to influence legislation (2) as a paid legislative advocate, or stating it in another way, activity undertaken pursuant to a contract to attempt to influence legislation and recognized by the parties to the contract as assisting in achieving the objectives of that contract. This construction of "activity" is supported by the requirement that a report be made of expenditures incurred "in carrying on his work"—a phrase which obviously covers expenditures for activities required by the contract.

Under the particular facts related to us the individual apparently is registered under subdivision (a) of Section 9906. Therefore, we assume that he has contracted for a consideration to attempt to influence legislation.

He must render monthly reports for periods in which his activity has continued. He must include in such report expenditures made in carrying on his work. Under the facts stated the individual's only "activity" is to attend interim committees, listen to the proceedings, and report to his principals the trends in legislative matters. If this is done pursuant to the contract whereby he engaged himself for pay or any consideration for the purpose of influencing legislation then his "activity" has continued and he would be required to render a report under subdivision (b) of Section 9906. Any expenditures made in connection with such activity would constitute expenditures made "in carrying on his work" and would have to be included in the report. We note that under the facts stated it appears that the individual is reimbursed by his principal for expenses incurred in connection with attendance at the interim committee meetings. This indicates that both parties to the contract recognize that the individual's activities in connection with the interim committee meetings are undertaken pursuant to his contract to attempt to influence legislation and that they will further the objectives of that contract. The acts of the parties under a contract afford one of the most reliable means of arriving at their intention (Commercial Discount Co v Cowen (1941), 18 Cal 2d 610, 615).

Very truly yours,

A C MORRISON, Legislative Counsel

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr. Beaver was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, CALIFORNIA, February 5, 1962

Hon. Jack A. Beaver
Assembly Chamber

Motor Vehicles' Delinquent Fees and Taxes—No. 1717

DEAR MR. BEAVER:

Question

You have asked whether a bill to provide for a reduction in the penalties for the late registration of station wagons, electric powered vehicles and out-of-state vehicles originally registered in this State, and in the penalties for the delinquent payment of vehicle license fees for trailer coaches, could be considered at the 1962 Budget Session.

Opinion

The Legislature at a budget session may consider "only the Budget Bill for the succeeding fiscal year, revenue acts necessary therefor, the approval or rejection of charters and charter amendments of cities, counties, and cities and counties, and acts necessary to provide for the expenses of the session" (Art IV, Sec 2, Cal Const)

There has been no judicial construction of the term "revenue act" as used in the constitutional provision which we have quoted. However, we believe that the test which would be followed by the courts as to whether a particular measure constitutes a "revenue act" is whether the principal object of the measure is the production of revenues for the State that are available for appropriation by the Budget Bill, either by increasing or decreasing such revenues. This test has been used by the courts in determining the meaning of the term "bill for raising revenue" in the constitutional requirements of other states that all bills for raising revenue shall originate in the lower house of the state legislature (see Public Utilities Commission v Manley (Colo.), 60 Pac. 2d 913, 916; Dearborn v Johnson (Ala.), 173 So. 864, 865). It is also the test applied in determining whether a bill is a revenue or regulatory measure (see Maryland Theatrical Corp v Brennan (Md.), 24 Atl. 2d 911, 913-914). The Attorney General has also used this test in determining whether a measure is a revenue act (15 Ops. Cal. Atty. Gen. 81).

The result of the enactment of a bill of the kind here in question would be a reduction in the amount of revenue available for appropriation by the Budget Bill because of a reduction in revenues accruing to the State from the payment of penalties for the delinquent registration of station wagons, electric powered vehicles, and out-of-state vehicles originally registered in California, and from the payment of penalties for delinquent license fees for trailer coaches. Therefore, we think that it is clear that the bill under consideration would constitute a revenue act within the meaning of Section 2 of Article IV.

The remaining question is whether such a revenue act is necessary for the Budget Bill.

Section 34 of Article IV of the State Constitution states that the "budget shall be accompanied by an appropriation bill covering the proposed expenditures, to be known as the Budget Bill." This establishes a relationship between the Budget Bill and state revenues, for the budget is designed to comprehend "all proposed expenditures" and "all estimated revenues" (State Const., Art. IV, Sec. 34).

The apparent purpose of the provision in Section 2 of Article IV of the State Constitution that permits the Legislature at a budget session to consider revenue acts necessary for the Budget Bill for the succeeding fiscal year is to enable the Legislature to use its best judgment in adjusting upward or downward the revenues of the State with reference to proposed expenditures for the ensuing fiscal year, in order to avoid either a deficit or excess income in the State Treasury. The necessity for any such act with respect to the Budget Bill presents principally a question of fact, the determination of which is to be made by the Legislature.

It is our opinion, therefore, that if the Legislature makes such a determination by enacting the bill in question at the Budget Session, the courts will consider the legislation a revenue act necessary for the Budget Bill

Very truly yours,

A C MORRISON, Legislative Counsel

DEAR MR. SPEAKER, I am transmitting herewith the Progress Report to the 1962 Session of the California Legislature of the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation.

I. Administration

The Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation was created by House Resolution No. 361 of the 1961 Session. The committee as created consisted of those members who had served on it during the session with the addition of Assemblymen Holmes, Pattee, and Kilpatrick, for a total of 19 members. The death of W. A. Hicks and the resignation of William Munnell reduced that number to the present 17 Assemblymen.

The committee established offices in the State Capitol at Sacramento and at 1902 W. Florence Avenue, Los Angeles. Mr. Steven E. Smith of Los Angeles was employed as committee consultant. Mrs. Freda Parker replaced Mrs. Irene Anderson as committee secretary during the interim period. Jack Newman, a U.C.L.A. graduate student, was employed as committee intern.

The committee chairman announced the appointment of four subcommittees at the August 15, 1961 meeting of the committee. These subcommittees are:

Subcommittee on Tax Administration

Members: Assemblymen Charles H. Wilson (Chairman), Chappel, Dahl, DeLotto, Holmes, Knox, Pattee, Petris, and Thomas.

Subject Matter Assignments: Assembly Bills Nos. 250, 475, 1230, 2286, 2888, 3104, and 3147 and HR 284.

Members: Assemblymen Charles H. Wilson (Chairman), Bradley, Dills, Hawkins, Hegland, Kilpatrick, Lanterman, Mulford, and Shell.

Subject Matter Assignments: AB 77, 391, 525, 1310, 2586, 2720, 2946, ACA 31, and HR 280, 377.

Subcommittee on Revenue Sources

Members: Assemblymen Charles H. Wilson (Chairman), Dills, Hawkins, Holmes, Knox, Pattee, and Petris.

Subject Matter Assignments: AB 2919, and HR 102, 381, 386, 445.

Members Assemblymen Kilpatrick (Chairman), DeLotto, Lanterman, Mulford, and Charles H. Wilson

Subject Matter Assignment ACA 43

The committee believes that the system of holding all hearings before subcommittees has worked exceptionally well. The system has permitted a greater number of hearings with greater frequency. The success of the subcommittee system is evidenced by the unusually high attendance of members at the hearings.

Since the adjournment of the last session the full committee has met twice on August 15, 1961, and on February 2, 1962, in Sacramento. The Subcommittee on Tax Administration has met three times: October 25-26 in San Francisco, October 27 in Sausalito, November 20-21 in Los Angeles; the Subcommittee on Property Taxation four times: September 21-22 in San Diego, November 6-7 in Inglewood, December 18 in San Francisco, and December 19 in Richmond; the Subcommittee on Revenue Sources twice: October 12-13 in Los Angeles and October 25-26 in San Francisco. The Subcommittee on ACA 43 has not met to date.

II Subject Matter Studies

Public hearings have been held on the following items assigned for study. Further hearings will not be necessary and appropriate recommendations will be contained in this committee's report to the 1963 Session.

ACA 31

Hearings have been held on the following items assigned for study. Information received at the hearings indicates the need for supplementary staff study and investigation and further hearings may be required prior to the 1963 session.

AB 525, 2286

HR 280, 284, and 377

The following items have been assigned to the committee staff for study and investigation. Public hearings may be scheduled if necessary.

AB 475, 616, 810, 1230, 2348, 2754, 2831, 2888, 2919, 3068

HR 102, 322, 386

III. Findings and Recommendations on Major Subject Matters Studied*1 HR 445 (Wilson)—Financing of Road and Street Deficiencies

Under the terms of HR 445 the committee is required to report not later than March 1, 1962. Additional statements on this subject have been received and are presently being analyzed by the Subcommittee on Revenue Sources. A report will be made on or prior to the due date.

2 HR 280 (Hawkins)—Property Tax Deferral for Senior Citizens

The proposal embodied in the resolution is that taxes on the homes of citizens over 65 years of age would be deferred and would become a lien on the property at the time of transfer of ownership. A state revolving fund would reimburse the temporary tax loss to local government.

The committee believes that this proposal, because of the lien feature, is not a satisfactory answer to this difficult problem.

The committee intends to continue to give attention to this problem with emphasis on the advisability of granting a $1,000 exemption for property owners over 65 years of age for the property and improvements in which they reside, similar to the veterans' exemption.

3 HR 377 (Hawkins)—Standard Assessment Ratio

Richard Nevins of the State Board of Equalization informed the committee that some additional time would be needed to secure a consensus of opinion among county assessors as to a workable formula for establishing uniform ratios of assessed value to full cash value.

The committee will give its attention to such proposals as the Board of Equalization and/or the various county assessors may make prior to the 1963 Session.

4 HR 284 (Fournoy)—Tar Exemption for Certain Homes for the Aged

The "welfare exemption" set forth in Section 214 of the Revenue and Taxation Code has been extended to exempt the property of several homes for aged persons of the middle to upper income group, under the decision last year in the case of Fifield Manor v County of Los Angeles.

The committee finds that in California some $10,000,000 in property is now exempt under this ruling and previous court decisions. Taxes lost to local governments are conservatively estimated at $838,000 annually. Almost one third of this assessed valuation is controlled by Fifield Manor, Inc., and the Southern California-Arizona Conference of the Methodist Church (which entered the Fifield Case as amicus curiae).

The committee will hold an additional hearing on this matter prior to the 1963 Session and will attempt to formulate equitable reform legislation to prevent abuses of the intent of the welfare exemption.

5 AB 250 (Pattee)—Sales Tax on Food.

Further refining amendments have been prepared for this bill as a result of a public hearing in Salinas. Under these amendments the sales tax would not apply to food sold to farm laborers by a concessionaire hired by the farmer if the price charged for such food is the same as that price established by international agreement to which the United States is a party under which nationals of another country enter this State to work as farm laborers.

If a bill embracing these qualifying amendments is introduced at the 1962 Session this committee will recommend favorable consideration by the Legislature.

6. AB 3147 (Rees)—Possessory Interest Tax

On January 12, 1962, the chairman of the committee, Assemblyman Charles H. Wilson, sent a letter to Governor Edmund G. Brown personally recommending a special session call on this important item of legislation.

This committee concurs in that recommendation and portions of that letter are hereby incorporated as the committee's report on AB 3147, as follows.

On November 7, 1961, the Subcommittee on Property Taxation held a public hearing in Inglewood on the subject of AB 3147 (Rees). Extensive testimony was heard in favor of this bill. No opposition testimony was offered by any person.

The bill adds Sections 107.2 and 107.3 to the Revenue and Taxation Code and relates to the taxation of possessory interests. If passed by the California Legislature, it would have the effect of returning to a permanent basis the taxation of possessory interests in land and improvements that basis of taxation which existed prior to 1956.

The bill does not create an exemption in any way. It simply provides that the private tenant's interest under such a lease shall be valued at its market value determined in accordance with the same standards used for valuing such leases when the same are being taken by the courts in condemnation proceedings.

This means that the lease only has a value to its holder to the extent that economic rent on the property in question exceeds the rent being paid to the public body as lessor.

This was the rule established for taxation by the California Supreme Court in Blunn Lumber Company v. County of Los Angeles, 216 Cal. 474, decided in 1930. It is the rule under which such leases were consistently valued throughout the State of California for tax purposes by county and city assessors for a period of 26 years thereafter.

It is also the basis of valuation of similar interests in other states for tax purposes to the extent that they are not, by statute, entirely exempted from property taxation. Even in California the interest of the beneficiary is entirely exempted in the San Francisco Harbor by a special statutory provision.

Public bodies presently engaged in leasing land at harbors and airports, primarily, although this seems also to be the case in certain marinas and other public developments, have strenuously represented to the committee that the effect, since 1956, of disregarding the rental in valuation for tax purposes of these possessory interests has in effect made the leasing bodies pay the taxes instead of private tenants. This seems unfair since, by general provision of the Constitution, publicly owned and used property is exempt from taxation.

Certain extreme instances of hardship at the Los Angeles Airport, at the Long Beach Harbor, and elsewhere throughout the State have been cited to the committee.

The bill has been strenuously supported, not only by the Port Authorities Association of California, but by representatives of public harbor, port and airport managements.

With reference to the detailed provisions contained in the bill, particularly subsections 3 and 4 of paragraph 1, and all of paragraph 2, investigation by the committee determined that they simply restate the manner in which these possessory interests were successfully assessed in Los Angeles County from 1930 to 1956, and during most of that time used in other maritime counties of the State.

Respectfully submitted,

DEAR MR SPEAKER For the high school students who were given the opportunities to share in the 14th Annual Model Legislature in Sacramento, the study of government can never again be dull. Our participation in the Model Legislature and the privileges which we enjoyed at the State Capitol have given us an idea of the problems which face the California State Legislature. We will wish to exercise our responsibility as citizens to the fullest degree in support of those who carry that responsibility.

As Youth Secretary of the State, I have been asked by members of the 14th Annual California YMCA Model Legislature to express our deep appreciation to the Members of the Assembly of the State of California for the privilege of the use of the Assembly Chamber and committee rooms and of the individual help which many members and the staff of the Legislature gave us.

SACRAMENTO, FEBRUARY 8, 1962

Hon Jesse M Unruh
Speaker of the House
State Capitol Building
Sacramento 14, California

DEAR SPEAKER UNRUH In response to Senate Concurrent Resolution 62, relative to muskrats, I submit the attached report A copy of this report is also being submitted to the State Senate

This analysis of the muskrat problem was prepared after a study by specialists in the State Department of Agriculture The report indicates that damage may be alleviated by appropriate control methods, but that complete eradication is not possible in the Delta area

Recommendations for control include proper construction of head gates, culverts and levees, the elimination of small ponds of standing water, the encouragement of fur trappers to take muskrats during trapping season, and the reduction of the muskrat population in trouble spots by the use of the several methods available

The study indicates that adequate control measures are available under existing laws, thus no legislation is recommended

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

COMMITTEE ON LEGISLATIVE REPRESENTATION, March 7, 1962

*Hon. Jesse M. Unruh
Speaker of the Assembly
California Legislature
Sacramento, California*

DEAR MR. UNRUH: The Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation receives a list of advocates filing forms 3 (expense forms) on the 16th of every month from the Legislative Budget Committee and advocates filing forms are checked off on cards set up for that purpose in the Assembly committee office

The attached is a list of the legislative advocates compiled from the reference cards. It includes the names of legislative advocates and, if they are registered for more than one association, the key word titles for the association. The association names in total were not included.

The list shows the forms 3 not received by the Legislative Budget Committee during the interim period. If the advocates did not have expenses over $25 for any of the months they are not liable to file these forms. If, however, they had expenses over that amount for any of the months listed, they must file this form as stated in Government Code Section 9906(b)

It would be appreciated if the attached list could be printed in the Assembly Daily Journal so that it can be brought to the attention of the advocates. A number of advocates are not listed because they have filed the forms and their records are up to date. The list was compiled as of February 28th.

Yours very truly,

CARL A. BRITSCHGI, Chairman

House Resolution No. 53

Relating to the San Diego Research Library

WHEREAS, It has recently been reported that a number of filing cabinets and a safe, containing documents which are alleged to be the private property of the San Diego Research Library, were seized by state officers at the San Diego National Guard Armory on the claim that they were state property and being illegally stored there, and

WHEREAS, The files purportedly contain documents compiled by various individuals for the Research Library which is a private organization dedicated to Americanism and to fighting Communism and subversion, and

WHEREAS, Such seizure by the State of the records may hinder the Research Library in continuing its resistance to subversion and the purpose of its being, and

WHEREAS, Refusal to return private property to its rightful owner constitutes a violation of civil rights, and

WHEREAS, It appears that additional legislation may be needed to clarify the law to prevent incidents of a similar nature from arising in the future, and

WHEREAS, There have been conflicting stories and statements about the seizure, the people of this State have the right to know the truth through proper hearings, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the subject matter of this resolution, including a thorough study, is assigned to the Committee on Rules for reassignment by it to an appropriate committee, which shall act and submit its final findings in a report filed with the Chief Clerk of the Assembly not later than 120 days from the enactment of this resolution, and be it further

Resolved, That the Chief Clerk shall forthwith transmit a copy of the report to each Member of the Assembly

Resolution read, and referred by the Speaker pro Tempore to the Committee on Rules

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr Z'berg was granted unanimous consent that the following poem in memory of the late Assemblyman W A (Jimmie) Hicks, composed by Assemblyman Charles B Garrigus prior to the recess on February 6, 1962, be ordered printed in the Journal.

IN MEMORIAM. THE HEART OF JIMMY HICKS

By Charles B. Garrigus

They say that Jimmy Hicks is gone;
His friendly heart has stopped, they say.
The gentle man folks leaned upon
Has left his friends and gone away
It's strange what fiction folks will tell
In honest faith and meaning well!
Our Jimmy gone? It can't be true if logic still is sound;
And you will see our Jimmy still, if you will look around.
Do hearts still meet in fellowship and raise the cup of cheer?

Is Erin still an Island which to Irish hearts is dear?
Do honest men still gladly seek to serve the public need,
And turn from praise while others reap the harvest of their seed?
Ah, yes, they do, and it is true for men of faith and will
That while we keep these in our hearts, our Jimmy's with us still

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT

Mr Z'berg asked for unanimous consent that the poem by Mr. Garigus be printed in the same form as are suitably engrossed Assembly resolutions, for presentation to the family of Mr. Hicks.

Request referred to the Committee on Rules.

Use of School Building Aid Funds—No 1758

DEAR MR KILPATRICK,

Question

1 May the Local Allocation Board apportion state school building aid funds for the paving of streets contiguous to school sites?

2 May gas tax money allocated to cities be used for such work on local streets?

Opinion

In our opinion the answer to both questions is "yes "

Section 19562 * of the Education Code provides

"19562 In addition to the purposes for which apportionments may be made to school districts under Section 19560, apportionments may also be made to school districts for the construction, repair, attachment or development of off-site facilities, utilities or improvements which the board determines are necessary to the proper operation or functioning of the school facilities for which apportionments are made, all of which purposes are hereby declared to be, and are, public works "

This section, in our opinion, clearly allows the State Allocation Board to apportion state school building and money to school districts for the improvement, including paving, of streets contiguous to school sites. Under this section the State Allocation Board may determine not only whether it will apportion any money whatsoever for the purposes prescribed in the section, but also the amount of money to be apportioned and consequently the extent or scope of the off-site facility, utility, or improvement for which it apportions money.

Section 203 of the Streets and Highways Code allows the expenditure of gas tax money for the construction of a street connected with the school premises on which a school building is constructed with state school building aid money when the city requires the construction of the street. The section reads

"203 Whenever a school district constructs a school building for the construction of which any apportionment is made pursuant to Chapter 16 of Chapter 19 of Division 3 of the Education Code and the city, city and county, or county in which such school building is situated requires the construction of any street or road connected with the school premises on which such school building is constructed, the State Allocation Board shall review the requirement and recommend to the governing body of the city, city and county, or county a plan of construction adequate to meet the needs of the school district and the safety of the public. If a different plan of improvement or improvement to higher standards than that recommended by the State Allocation Board is required by the governing body of the city, city and county or county, the additional cost thereof shall be borne by the city, city and county, or county in which such school building is situated. Notwithstanding any other provision of this code or any other law limiting the purposes for which money allocated to cities, cities and counties, or counties from the Highway Users Tax Fund or the State Highway Fund may be expended, any of the money so allocated may be expended for the construction of the streets or roads referred to in this section.

* Part of the State School Building Aid Law of 1952 (commencing with Ed. C. Sec. 19951) which provides for the apportionment of state school building aid money to school districts of the Local Allocation Board.

"Nothing in this section shall be construed to require each cost item included in any charge made pursuant to this section to be separately stated"

The word "construction" is defined to mean construction, reconstruction, replacement, or any improvement except maintenance as defined in Section 27 of the Streets and Highways Code (S & H C, Sec 29) The word "maintenance" is defined to include the preservation of roads in the safe and usable condition to which it has been improved or constructed, but does not include reconstruction or other improvement Hence, Section 203 of the Streets and Highways Code authorizes the use of gas tax money to pave a street connected with the site of a school building constructed with state funds if the paving is a construction, reconstruction, replacement or other maintenance, except a maintenance which merely preserves the road in its pre-existing safe and usable condition

It should also be noted that, in general, gas tax money can be used by a city for the construction of streets in the system of major city streets and for the maintenance of major city streets and secondary city streets (S & H C, Sec 195)

THE UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY 4, CALIFORNIA, March 8, 1962

*The Assembly of the State of California
Attention Mr Arthur A. Ohnuki, Chief Clerk
State Capitol, Sacramento*

GENTLEMEN At its 1961 Regular Session the Legislature adopted Senate Concurrent Resolutions Nos 12 and 20, Senate Resolution No 156 and House Resolution No 312, requesting that consideration be given by the University of California to Fresno, Sacramento and Long Beach, respectively, as locations for new medical schools. In response to these resolutions, and pursuant to its responsibility for instruction in the profession of medicine, the University has completed a staff study which examines the long range needs for physicians in California and surveys the feasibility of potential locations throughout the State as sites for the additional medical schools which may be needed. Ten copies of the study report are transmitted herewith and additional copies can be furnished if needed.

Copies of the report also have been furnished to the Coordinating Council for Higher Education which, under Senate Concurrent Resolution No 37 adopted at the 1961 Session, is engaged in preparing a long range plan for expansion of medical education in California for presentation to the Legislature during the 1963 General Session.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARK KERR

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 445

Assembly, California Legislature
1961 General Session

Introduced by Mr. Charles H. Wilson

Relating to an interim study of the financing of the county and city road and street network needs

WHEREAS, The Department of Public Works has reported that a more than 12-billion-dollar deficiency exists on the county road and city street network throughout the State of California, and

WHEREAS, The Legislature has been requested to provide a means of producing revenue to help correct this deficiency, and

WHEREAS, Several methods of producing the needed revenue have been proposed, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the subject matter of this resolution be referred to the Committee on Rules for reference to the appropriate interim committee or committees, for study and a report to the Legislature not later than March 1, 1962

Read and adopted June 16, 1961

I. SCOPE OF THE REPORT

The subcommittee takes note of the excellent work done by the Division of Highways of the State Department of Public Works in preparing a very thorough and factual report on road and street deficiencies as directed by Senate Concurrent Resolution No 62 of the 1959 Session of the Legislature. The subcommittee accepts the statistical findings contained in the "SCR 62 Report" as to existing and projected gross deficiencies in the several counties and cities of the State as factual.

At the outset the subcommittee limited itself to consideration of the subject of the need, if any, for additional state assistance through legislation in the field of revenue and taxation, and attempted so far as was possible to avoid consideration of such subjects as the relationship of city streets and county roads to the overall motor vehicle transportation problem, the efficacy of local transportation planning, or priorities as between freeways, collector or arterial streets, and secondary or residential streets

The subcommittee believes that its mandate from the committee, and in turn the committee's mandate from the Rules Committee was limited to the study of additional state financial participation in local road building and improvement projects in the coming years

II. HEARINGS

The subcommittee held two public hearings on the subject matter of House Resolution No. 445. The first was held in the new State Building in Los Angeles on October 12-13 and the second in the State Building in San Francisco on October 25-26.

Much of the testimony presented was from officials of local government and was necessarily repetitious in nature. By and large those presenting testimony are to be commended for factual and detailed accounting of present and future financial needs.

The subcommittee was particularly impressed with the presentation of the San Fernando Valley Wide Committee on Streets and Roads, an organization representing chambers of commerce and other community organizations in an area of Los Angeles County which has experienced phenomenal population growth in recent years. Officials of the Valley Wide Committee presented a proposal at the Los Angeles hearings which will be discussed below under "Findings." It was apparent to the subcommittee that these public-spirited citizens had spent many hours of study in preparing the presentation made before our subcommittee, and before other public bodies and private associations.

III. FINDINGS AND RECOMMENDATIONS

1. As of October 31, 1961 there were 8,940,184 motor vehicles registered in the State of California. By 1980 it is estimated that more motor vehicles will be registered in the State than there were human inhabitants as of the 1960 federal census. The Legislature has a continuing responsibility to make certain that the system of vehicular transportation is as adequate as we can make it.

2. California's highways are generally understood to be the finest in the Nation. Our fine highway system is the result of a policy decision made many years ago to devote a major portion of the material resources available to state government to the development and improvement of our public highways. The subcommittee finds that 20.9 percent of the total expenditures by the state government in the current fiscal year is devoted directly to financing highway transportation.

Without implying criticism in any way the subcommittee believes that many local governmental agencies have not evidenced to date a similar commitment in the appropriation of revenues presently available to them.

In fact, testimony before the subcommittee revealed that there is a lack of uniformity between the 58 counties and the 372 cities (incorporated as of last June) as to the portions of present state subventions of revenues derived from motor vehicle and highway user taxes actually devoted by local governments to road and street construction and improvement.

We believe that it is reasonable for the Legislature to anticipate a more uniform standard of commitment of revenues from both present state subventions and local revenue sources to street and road projects before any additional assistance from the State is considered.

3 The proposal made by representatives of the San Fernando Valley Wide Committee on Streets and Roads was that the Legislature authorize local county boards of supervisors to impose by ordinance an annual motor vehicle registration fee of $10 for each passenger vehicle and from $20 to $30 for each truck. This proposed legislative authorization is similar to the present law on the 1 percent sales tax which is imposed by most county and city governments on top of the State's 3 percent tax.

We believe that this type of approach should be considered only if requested by a number of county boards of supervisors sufficient to convince the Legislature that the proposal for such a state legislative authorization is widely supported by these governmental agencies. Our subcommittee invited representatives of associations of county and city officials to solicit resolutions from boards of supervisors and city councils formally requesting state authorization for a local motor vehicle registration fee.

Only a few such requests have been directed to our attention. The subcommittee must therefore conclude that there is not sufficient interest in this type of approach.

Notwithstanding this finding, the subcommittee believes that such a local tax merits additional study.

4 The only other specific proposal considered by the subcommittee was that of raising the state gasoline tax. The subcommittee finds that, while a great number of states impose a higher per gallon tax on gasoline than does California, in almost all cases the revenues derived are not devoted as they are in this State exclusively to highway construction and maintenance. Further, in no state are the public highways used to such a great extent as in California. This State leads the Nation in gallons of gasoline sold per year.

The subcommittee believes, however, that the gasoline tax, predicated on the belief that gallons of gasoline consumed can be approximately equated with highway use and that the costs of building and maintaining highways should be borne in proportion to the extent of use, is the most equitable base for revenue for highway, road and street projects.

In considering an increase in the gasoline and diesel fuel taxes we believe that the Legislature should be mindful of the present system of careful state control over the expenditures in state highway projects. The subcommittee cannot recommend an increase in these taxes nor the allocation of a greater share of the revenues from these taxes so long as the above cited disuniformity among the counties and cities in the degree of local effort exists.

5. The subcommittee believes that any increase in state taxes or any increase in the "local share" of these revenues from present taxes would be inadvisable unless the Legislature is prepared to require greater control over the expenditure of such funds, i.e., a mandatory standard proportion of local financial contribution as against state contribution in local road and street construction and improvement projects, a statewide master plan for overall vehicular transportation encompassing freeways, highways, arterial and collector streets, and county roads, and similar state requirements

The subcommittee believes, to the contrary, that any such imposition of statewide standards and state control over the expenditure of revenues derived from state subventions to local governments would seriously impair the traditional concepts of "home rule." Local governments have only recently given the Legislature evidence of their continued commitment to the "home rule" approach to solving problems which are essentially local in character.

6 The subcommittee reiterates its belief that, while the State should take an interest at close hand in all aspects of the system of vehicular transportation, the improvement of existing city arterial and collector streets yields a demonstrable benefit, largely economic in character, to the local community which undertakes such improvement projects. The economic enhancement that safe and adequate major streets bring to a local community more than justifies, we believe, the public expense involved.

7 Specifically, the subcommittee recommends a That the Assembly Interim Committee on Revenue and Taxation be empowered to continue to receive and analyze specific proposals from local and state agencies and private persons and organizations on the subject matter of House Resolution No 445 for further report to the 1963 Session,

b That the subject matter of House Resolution No 445 also be referred to that interim committee of the Assembly competent to make judgments on the complex questions of overall transportation planning, construction priorities, and related questions not directly associated with the subject of new state revenues (but including the subject of revision of the present state-local sharing of present revenues for highway purposes);

c That the Senate be invited to participate in the continuing study of this subject, perhaps through the creation of a special joint committee consisting in part of the chairmen of the Assembly and Senate committees dealing with highway transportation and the Chairmen of the Assembly and Senate Committees on Revenue and Taxation.

INTRODUCTION

On October 29, 1960, the California State Polytechnic College football season came abruptly to an end. As the team left a foggy Toledo airport, bound for Santa Maria, its plane crashed, killing 22 of the 48 passengers aboard and injuring the others.

The crash has been called by some the "worst accident involving an American athletic group."<sup>1</sup> It has resulted in tragic loss of life, serious injuries, broken family units and a host of intricate legal complexities.

Because of its concern for those affected by the Cal Poly disaster, the Assembly of the State of California requested the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary to inquire into the nature of the crash and the problems arising from it.<sup>2</sup> This report is submitted in response to that request.

THE CRASH

Transporting an entire football team across the country is, at best, an expensive process, especially for small schools with rather meager athletic funds. For its game with Bowling Green State University, California State Polytechnic College officials were quoted a rate of almost $10,000 by scheduled airlines. Far more reasonable was the $6,748.70 offer made by Independent Airlines Association, of Washington, D. C., which arranges flights for a number of nonscheduled carriers around the country. That Independent Airlines was a responsible firm seemed obvious. It had recently received a letter from E. R. Quesada, then Administrator of the Federal Aviation Agency, which read, in part, as follows:

You have set an enviable goal for the rest of the industry. Your achievement speaks well for the rigid safety standards and careful adherence to the principles of air safety.<sup>3</sup>

The contract was negotiated with Independent Airlines Association and Arctic-Pacific, Inc., with principal offices in Oakland, California, was designated as the carrier to make the trip. The aircraft to be used was a Curtiss Wright Super C-46F. It had been leased by Arctic-Pacific, Inc., from the Barter Island Company, Spenard, Alaska.

Flight plans called for the carrier to leave Oakland on October 27, pick up the California State Polytechnic College team in Santa Maria and fly them to Toledo, arriving on October 28. After transporting the Youngstown University football team to and from a game in New Haven, Connecticut, it would return to Toledo and, on October 30, board the California State Polytechnic College group and return them to Santa Maria.

On the evening of October 30, the Toledo Express Airport was enveloped in fog. All regular air carriers had cancelled both inbound and outbound flights due to poor visibility. Shortly before the Arctic plane took off, the weather report was partial obscuration with visibility at zero. Arctic-Pacific, Inc. minimums for takeoff from the Toledo Express Airport were 300 feet ceiling and one-mile visibility, or 400 feet ceiling and  $\frac{1}{2}$ -mile visibility.

<sup>4</sup> The decision to take off was at that time completely within the pilot's discretion. Since then, the Federal Aviation Agency has instructed its control operators to withhold takeoff clearance when the visibility is less than one-quarter of a mile or the runway visual range is less than 2,000 feet. Civil Aeronautics Board Aircraft Accident Report, File No. 1-0047, January 22, 1962, p. 20.

After inspecting the runway, he decided to go ahead. The Civil Aeronautics Board describes the events that followed:

At 22 01, the aircraft was heard to pass the tower. Surviving passengers [felt] a swerve to the right followed by a swerve or violent swerve back to the left during the latter part of the takeoff run. These swerves were followed by an abrupt or lurching type takeoff. Passengers also described a shuddering or vibration shortly after takeoff followed by a left wing-down, nose-down attitude. Passengers aboard the aircraft and earwitnesses positioned on the airport stated they heard perceptible changes in the sound of the engine or engines. These witnesses also describe a momentary silence prior to the impact noise. The impact was described by witnesses as a "dull boom." At no time after the aircraft [crashed in] the taxiway had it been seen by any of the personnel on the airport due to heavy fog.<sup>5</sup>

As the airplane crashed it separated at about the wings. The forward portion cartwheeled for several yards and was engulfed in flames. The rear portion escaped serious damage.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD STUDY

The airplane disaster was studied by the Civil Aeronautics Board. Its findings include the following:<sup>6</sup>

1. No en route inspections were made of Arctic-Pacific, Inc. by the Federal Aviation Agency during the year 1960. Neither the Operations or Maintenance Federal Aviation Agency Air Carrier Inspectors assigned to Arctic-Pacific, Inc. had inspected the ill-fated carrier during the previous 11 months of operation because of duties with other assigned carriers.

2. The left engine of the crashed carrier was an Air Force surplus engine which had been overhauled in 1957. Arctic-Pacific, Inc. purchased the engine in 1960 from a salvage company. Prior to installation on the aircraft, the engine was not adequately inspected internally in accordance with Civil Air Regulations.

3. The engine was delivered to Newark Air Service, a certificated repair station, for installation on the aircraft. Newark Air Service failed to attest to the "airworthiness" of the engine as required by Civil Air Regulations.

4. The left engine of the carrier experienced a power loss of some magnitude, either because of engine maloperation, or because the throttles were retarded by the crew in an attempt to get back to the airport, or both. The most likely sources of engine maloperation were:

a. Ground-fouled spark plugs caused by black carbon deposits on them. Such deposits result when aircraft engines are ground-operated at low power for a considerable length of time, as these were. The majority of spark plugs would have functioned normally, however, had the engines been run up properly just prior to takeoff.

5 The pilot, Captain Chesher, experienced difficulty controlling the direction of the airplane as he was taking off. Recognizing his inability to maintain the aircraft on the runway, he had to elect whether to abort the takeoff or make a premature liftoff. The decision was made to continue and a premature liftoff resulted.

6 The maximum allowable takeoff weight for the aircraft for departure from the Toledo Express Airport was 46,850 pounds. By estimation, the actual weight at takeoff was 48,859 pounds, 1,759 pounds over the maximum gross weight of the aircraft and 2,009 pounds over the maximum allowable takeoff weight at Toledo.

The conclusions of the board were stated, in part, as follows:

The board believes that the loss of power caused by the maloperation of engines not properly runup immediately prior to takeoff and the swerving takeoff due to erratic engine performance and poor visibility resulted in a premature takeoff. The pilot was unable to remain airborne due either to a stall condition or a loss of power, or both.

The board determines the probable cause of this accident was loss of control during a premature liftoff. Contributing factors were the overweight aircraft, weather conditions, and partial loss of power in the left engine.

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE<sup>7</sup>

Within hours after the news of the airplane disaster had reached California, many public-spirited citizens were offering financial contributions to those affected by the crash. Several funds were quickly established to administer assistance to the needy. Citizens from the Bakersfield, California area raised and distributed approximately $6,000 to the students and their families from Kern County who were involved in the accident. A trust fund of $500 was established by the residents of Paso Robles, California for a child of one of the victims of the crash.

The largest source of financial assistance has been provided by the Cal Poly Memorial Fund. Established by the administration, alumni and students of California State Polytechnic College on November 2, 1960, it has now been incorporated as a nonprofit corporation in the State of California. As of February 3, 1962, total receipts of the Fund, from the Mercy Bowl charity football game and other contributions, totaled $207,193.75. Disbursements, as of that date, amounted to $47,193.75. These were used for the following: (1) funeral, mortuary and cemetery expenses; (2) medical expenses not covered by insurance; (3) minimal living expenses for students, or widows and orphans of students, unable to provide for their own needs or for whom other financial assistance was not available; and (4) emergency needs of those directly involved in the crash.

The future of the Cal Poly Memorial Fund is indefinite, due to the uncertainty of future revenues. Its present receipts will enable it to continue, in some amount, the above-mentioned disbursements. In addition, all known student bills incurred as a direct result of the accident will be paid, and a $6,000 college scholarship will be established for each child of a student affected by the crash.

LEGAL COMPLEXITIES

The serious injuries and loss of life resulting from the airplane disaster have created a host of intricate legal problems. Liability for the accident has been alleged against most connected with it. As of this date, however, none have assumed legal responsibility. Thus, a multitude of lawsuits are now pending in the courts.

Arctic-Pacific, Inc., the now-defunct airline which carried the Cal Poly group, is named in many of these suits. So are Independent Airlines Association, which arranged the flight, and Barter Island Company, lessor of the Arctic-Pacific, Inc. aircraft.

The United States Government which, through the Federal Aviation Agency, is responsible for airplane transportation throughout the Country, has been named as defendant in numerous suits brought under the Tort Claims Act. In addition, several complaints have been filed against the State of California, as principal for the school officials who had a part in negotiating the Toledo trip.

The student body association at California State Polytechnic College, the school football coach and various companies servicing the crashed aircraft have been joined as defendants in many of these proceedings.

Arctic-Pacific, Inc. carried insurance on its carrier with underwriters of Lloyds of London and the British Aviation Agency. Both groups have refused to honor any claims on the ground that their policies were void if Arctic-Pacific, Inc. operated a carrier which was not "airworthy." The claimants contend that the plane was "airworthy" and, even if it was not, liability exists under the policies if the pilot was negligent in operating the aircraft. A declaratory relief action, in which all plaintiffs and defendants have been joined, is now pending in the federal district court to finally determine these issues.

While the courts prepare to determine where the liabilities for the crash lie, other procedures for obtaining compensation are being instituted. Several plaintiffs have filed sizeable claims before the California State Board of Control. In addition, a number of students, claiming to have been employees at California State Polytechnic College, have filed for relief under the Workmen's Compensation Law.

FINDINGS AND CONCLUSIONS

The California State Polytechnic College airplane disaster has resulted in loss of life and serious injuries. It has taken men from their families and created severe financial hardships for many. The Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary is strongly sympathetic to those affected by the crash and hopes that they will, in some way, be compensated for their losses.

Upon whom should this burden of compensation fall? Generally, our system of justice places it upon those whose action or nonaction has caused the loss in question. The plaintiffs, quite properly, have chosen to adjudicate this issue in the courts. Until that action is completed the amount of loss suffered will not be known.

The courts could conceivably find that no one is legally responsible for the airplane crash. Should this determination be made, the plaintiffs could appeal to their legislative representatives for relief in the form of a claim by legislative appropriation.<sup>3</sup> The amount of relief and the circumstances under which it may be given are necessarily questions for future legislatures. Therefore, the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary recommends that no action be taken by the Legislature at this time.

Airplane Crash Compensation—No. 1940

DEAR MR. SUMNER: You have asked us to discuss the legal problems which would be involved in legislation to compensate survivors and dependents of those killed in the crash of the airplane in October, 1960, carrying the California State Polytechnic College football team.

We have assumed that the compensation contemplated is in addition to any rights for damages which the survivors and dependents may have at law. House Resolution No. 356 of 1961 (Assembly Journal, 1961, p. 4934) making the subject of compensation to such persons an item of study for an appropriate interim committee, states as one of the reasons why relief is needed, that "Litigation has not yet provided relief and gives no indication of doing so without expensive and lengthy loss of time and resources." Therefore, we have not considered what rights the survivors and dependents might have in a legal action against the State. We have treated the proposal under consideration as a plan to provide compensation for the survivors and dependents, which the survivors and dependents could accept without obligation and without limiting their legal rights against the State.

The main problem with legislation of the type contemplated is that it might be characterized as providing for a gift in violation of Article IV, Section 31, of the Constitution. However, there is the possibility that this problem may be avoided if the Legislature makes a direct appropriation to the survivors and dependents under the claim bill procedure.

The California Constitution, Article IV, Section 31, prohibits the Legislature from authorizing the making of any gift of public money or other thing of value to any individual, municipal, or other corporation. In California an obligation based only on moral consideration is not sufficient to satisfy this provision (Condon v. Board of Supervisors (1893), 99 Cal. 17). However, an appropriation does not violate the gift provision if it is made for a public purpose and is of some benefit to the governmental agency appropriating such funds (Patrick v. Riley (1930), 209 Cal 350; Alameda County v Janssen (1940), 16 Cal. 2d 276).

A person who has a claim against the State, the settlement of which is not provided for by law, may present his claim to the Legislature for consideration. Under the present legislative claim procedures, the State Board of Control is authorized to examine and adjust claims against the State and, with the approval of the Governor, report to the Legislature such facts and recommendations concerning them as it deems proper (see Gov C, Secs 600 et seq.)

The Legislature may then appropriate funds to the Secretary of the State Board of Control for the payment of such claims (see, e.g., Item 27b, Budget Act of 1961). The Secretary may thereafter withdraw this money from the Treasury and pay those claims against the State which the Legislature has approved.

However, it is not necessary that all claims approved by the Legislature be processed through the Board of Control. Section 625 of the Government Code provides:

"This article shall not be construed an exclusive means for presenting claims to the Legislature nor as preventing the Legislature from making such appropriations as it deems proper for the payment of claims against the State which have not been submitted to the board or recommended for payment by it pursuant to this article."

Thus, if the Legislature desires to make a direct appropriation for the payment of a claim, it may include the claim in the budget or a claim bill without first submitting the claim to the Board of Control. It should be noted that if this procedure is used, the survivors and relatives of those involved in the air crash would be considered claimants and presumably should, in some manner, make claims against the State.

It is next necessary to consider what types of claims may be approved by the Legislature. In the case of Stevenson v. Colgan (1891), 91 Cal 649, a statute made an appropriation for the relief of petitioner and provided that the money paid pursuant thereto should be accepted in full payment of all claims petitioner may have against the State for services or otherwise. The act appropriated a sum of money payable to Stevenson, which the State Controller refused to pay. Thereupon Stevenson brought a mandamus action to order the Controller to make payments in accordance with the act. The answer of the Controller alleged that Stevenson had no valid claim against the State of California and that the services and expenditure of money by Stevenson which constituted the foundation of his claim had been made prior to the admission of California as a state. The Controller contended that the appropriation made by the Legislature was intended to be a gift to Stevenson. However, none of the facts alleged in the Controller's answer appeared upon the face of the legislation in question. The court declared that in passing upon the constitutionality of a statute it must confine itself to a consideration of those matters which appear upon the face of the law and those facts of which it can take judicial notice. The court declared:

"When the right to enact a law depends upon the existence of facts, it is the duty of the legislature before passing the bill, and of the governor before approving it, to become satisfied in some appropriate way that the facts exist, and no authority is conferred upon the courts to hear evidence, and determine, as a question of fact, whether these co-ordinate departments of the state government have properly discharged such duty " (at p 652)

While the court declared that if the facts were as alleged in the answer of the defendant the act under consideration should never have been passed, it was not competent for the court to receive evidence to establish such facts and thus to impeach and overthrow a law, which upon its face and independent of proof is presumptively valid (see also Rankin v Colgan (1891), 92 Cal 605)

In the case of Bourn v Hart (1892), 93 Cal 321, the court held invalid a statute making an appropriation to pay the claim of the petitioner where the act showed on its face that he was a guard at the state prison who had suffered the loss of his arm while in the discharge of his duties under the orders of his superior officer, and where the court concluded for the purpose of the decision that the loss of his arm was to be attributed to the negligence of his superior officer. The court declared that the State was under no legal liability in these circumstances and that the Constitution prohibited the Legislature from appropriating funds to pay such a claim.

Following these decisions the practice developed of enacting claim bills which did not contain any statement as to the facts upon which the claim was based and which showed only the name of the claimant, the amount of the claim and the fund from which the claim was to be paid. The present procedure is to appropriate funds in the Budget Act to the Secretary of the State Board of Control and to designate the fund from which the appropriation is to be paid (see Budget Item 276, Budget Act of 1961; Stats 1961, Ch 888)

In the case of Dittus v Cranston (1959), 53 Cal 2d 284, the State Controller, upon the advice of the Attorney General, rejected a portion of the budget item appropriation to be paid to the Secretary of the State Board of Control. The appropriation, according to the records of the Board of Control, was to be paid to certain fishermen and fish processing companies. The situation arose out of the enactment of two statutes in 1957. One of the statutes closed certain waters to commercial fishing for shad and salmon (Stats 1957, Ch 960, F & G C, Sec 8670). The other (Stats 1957, Ch 2099, p 3722) declared that it was the public policy of the State to reimburse, where possible, persons whose boats, nets, and other fishing equipment were rendered valueless by the enactment of Section 8670 of the Fish and Game Code. Such persons were given permission to file claims with the Board of Control and the board was to make a full report thereon to the Legislature during the 1958 Regular Session. In its opinion the court stated the rule of judicial restraint exercised by courts in passing upon legislation, and reaffirmed the Stevenson case, supra. The court then went on to discuss and determine that the purpose of the Legislature in appropriating funds to purchase the property of fishermen and fish processing companies could have been to encourage compliance with the law closing the area to commercial fishing. The fact that the court found it necessary to discuss and approve the action of the Legislature in this case raised some doubt as to the extent the court would look at the facts behind legislative claim bills.

However, in the second case of Dittus v Cranston (1960), 186 Cal App 2d 837 (hearing denied by California Supreme Court January 25, 1961, 186 Cal App 2d 843), the Third District Court of Appeal upheld another claim appropriation enacted by the Legislature to pay the widow of a legislator a sum equal to the amount of salary the legislator would have received if he had finished his term. The court followed the rule of judicial restraint set forth in the first Dittus case. However, it rested its decision primarily on the Stevenson case, supra, stating that such case presented a striking parallel to the case before it. The respondent urged that the court could take judicial notice of certain facts which did not appear on the face of the law. In brief, the facts were that the legislator did not earn the salary paid to his widow and there was no specific legislative authority to pay such salary to her. The respondent, therefore, claimed that the appropriation and the purpose of the Legislature in enacting it was to make a gift to the legislator's widow. The court then stated:

"We think it is now apparent that the rule declared in Stevenson v Colgan, supra, is decisive of this case

"Although, as said in Stevenson v Colgan, supra, 'it may be difficult to assign any good reason' for the expenditure of public funds involved 'this does not affect the question of the power of the legislature to so provide, nor authorize the court to declare that the act was enacted in absolute disregard of the constitution' "

Perhaps the reason the court in the first Dittus case, involving fishing equipment, felt it necessary to approve the action of the Legislature was because the Legislature had adopted a law stating that the owners of the fishing equipment should be reimbursed by the State (Stats 1957, Ch 2099). In the second Dittus case, involving a payment to a legislator's widow, there was no prior enactment containing any reference to facts upon which the claim appropriation was based.

From the above review it appears that the claim procedure would be the procedure that would present the least problems since claim appropriations do not include the facts upon which the legislative action is based. It would seem that the claim appropriation could either be made in the Budget Act or by a separate appropriation bill. It could follow a form similar to the claim appropriation made to the Secretary of the State Board of Control (see Item 276, Budget Act of 1961; Stats 1961, Ch 888).

The difficulty with adopting an act, appropriating funds, for example, to "all survivors and dependents of those killed in the airplane crash carrying the football team of the California State Polytechnic College," is that the facts upon which the legislative action is based appear upon the face of the law. Where language of this nature is used, the problems of gift and the adoption of a special law are present (Cal Const., Art IV, Secs 25 and 31, Bourn v Hart (1892), 93 Cal 321, Patty v Colgan (1893), 97 Cal 251; Frohlinger v Richardson (1928), 63 Cal App 209)

It also appears that the Legislature should make the claim appropriations directly, as authorized by Government Code Section 625. The State Board of Control should not process these claims since, if the board is used, it would probably be necessary to enact a statute declaring that it is the policy of the Legislature to grant certain funds to the survivors and dependents here involved. Such legislative action would be necessary in order to insure approval of the claims by the board. Otherwise, the board might consider and deny these claims on the basis that the claimants have an adequate remedy at law. If the Legislature enacts a law stating that it is the legislative policy for the Board of Control to approve these claims, the enactment would, of necessity, contain information or facts to guide the board. The situation would then be similar to the first Dittus case, involving fishing equipment (see Stats 1957, Ch 2099) and a court might find it necessary to consider the merits of the legislative action and to examine the facts behind the claim appropriation.

Even if the procedure outlined above is followed, it is impossible to predict what a court would do if claim appropriations to survivors and dependents of the air crash are challenged. It should be remembered that the court in the Stevenson and both Dittus cases has reserved the right to take judicial notice of facts related to the law under consideration. In the Stevenson and second Dittus cases the court decided not to take such notice even though it may have had the facts before it. However, if a situation arises in the future where an appropriation is made which is outrageously against public policy and is clearly a violation of a constitutional provision, the court might decide to take judicial notice of certain facts behind the appropriation or in some other manner declare the appropriation invalid.

However, if the court applies the law as it did in the Stevenson and the second Dittus cases, then an appropriation made directly by the Legislature under the claim procedure would be upheld because the legislative enactment would be valid on its face and the court would not examine the facts behind the law upon which the Legislature's action was based.

Very truly yours,

Information Sheet

History

Early Sunday, October 30, 1960, inquiries were received by the college regarding a "vehicle" by which individuals and organizations could contribute funds to be used for the alleviation of financial distress of survivors and dependents of those killed in the airplane accident on October 29, 1960—the accident involving the Cal Poly football team. A committee was established representing the college administration, San Luis Obispo Campus, Kellogg-Voorhis Campus, Alumni Association, the San Luis Obispo and Kellogg-Voorhis Student Bodies. Formation of the committee was approved by the president of the college, and the first meeting of the committee occurred on November 2, 1960. At the second meeting of the committee "Criteria for Acceptance and Disbursements of Memorial Funds" were adopted. Those criteria have been widely publicized and are included below.

The Memorial Fund Committee was incorporated on June 1, 1961 as a nonprofit corporation in the State of California. As such, exemption from State Franchise Tax was approved. Minutes of the Memorial Fund Committee and Board of Directors are confidential, however, the fiscal records are open to public inspection.

Current Fiscal Status of Memorial Fund

Net Proceeds from Mercy Bowl Game.....	$171,758 54
Other Contributions.....	83,349 28
Total Receipts.....	$255,107 82
Disbursements to Date.....	47,914 07
Balance .....	$207,193 75

Disbursements

Disbursements from the fund have been made for the following types of expenses: funeral, mortuary and cemetery expenses, medical expenses not covered by insurance, living expenses for those unable to provide for their own needs, living expenses for widows and orphans for whom other financial assistance was not available, emergency needs of those directly involved in the crash.

It had not been planned at the inception of the Memorial Fund to have to meet medical or funeral expenses. The failure of the airline company to keep its commitment regarding the coverage of all such expenses has imposed a severe hardship on those involved; therefore, the Memorial Fund has been used to alleviate financial distress in these areas.

Plans

There is as yet no definite knowledge of when living allowances can or should be terminated. There is as yet no definite knowledge of when medical emergencies will be discontinued; hence, specific estimates of cost in these two areas cannot be determined. Last April the Board of Directors of the Fund established the following goals, however, on the basis of the kinds of expenses previously incurred and estimates for the future.

$75,000 for scholarships for the children involved (approx. $1500 per year for four years of college education for each child)
60,000 Medical Expenses
35,000 Funeral Expenses
30,000 Individual and Family Maintenance Costs
50,000 Memorial Loan Fund

$250,000 Total

Based on the experience subsequent to last April, it appears that the estimates for scholarships, funeral expenses and loan funds are realistic. The estimate of need for only $30,000 for individual and family maintenance costs now appears grossly inadequate. Favorable medical insurance provisions have made it possible now to reduce the estimate for medical expenses to $40,000 and to increase accordingly the individual and family maintenance allowances to $50,000.

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

*Hon Jesse M Unruh
Speaker, State Assembly
Room 3164, State Capitol*

DEAR SPEAKER UNRUH: Enclosed herewith is the report on House Resolution 321, relating to the keeping of state and county records

Sincerely,

GORDON H WINTON, JR

HOUSE RESOLUTION NO. 321

Relating to the Keeping of State and County Records

House Resolution No. 321 of the 1961 Legislative Session, which was referred to this committee for study by the Committee on Rules, asks for a report on the keeping of records in the State Capitol at the 1962 Budget Session, with the remainder of the findings due in 1963.

Records in the State Capitol are predominantly legislative records—of which there are two types: records and correspondence of each member and committee records.

The records and correspondence of each member is personal in nature, and the keeping and disposition of such material is solely the prerogative of the member.

Under Joint Rule No. 37, records of legislative committees are to be turned over to the office of the Legislative Analyst when the committee has "concluded" its work. The question of when a committee has concluded its work and what records should be preserved is one that Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post feels probably must be left to the chairman of the committee. The Analyst's office does not receive committee records at the completion of each two-year interim, but rather receives the records of the committees on completion of their work over a long period of time.

Upon receipt of the records by the Analyst's office an inventory is made of the contents, a receipt is given the chairman for the records, and a permanent index is made for use by the Legislature on request.

The records are stored in a vault on the second floor of the Capitol Annex in the offices now occupied by the Legislative Counsel—offices which, when the Capitol was built, were intended for use by the Analyst's staff. At the present time, approximately 80 transfer cases of committee materials are stored in the vault—which is about one-half the maximum capacity.

Regarding recordkeeping policies of the administrative agencies within the State Capitol, a program of paper work management and control was instituted during 1961 to clarify responsibility in the creation of maintenance of and disposition of records and to achieve savings in the use of space and equipment.

A survey by the Organization and Cost Control Division of the Department of Finance, which was completed in April, 1961, turned up the following figures:

"During the fiscal year 1959-60 approximately 25,000 state workers with annual salaries amounting to $113 million were engaged in producing or handling records on a full-time basis. If we add the time spent by administrative, professional, technical, and institutional personnel in processing records, total personnel costs for paperwork handling would approximate $200 million.

"The 25,000 full-time paper workers occupy 2,000,000 square feet of office space, with an average annual rental value of $8 million. This space is equal to four Employment Buildings. In addition, space to house the 600,000 cubic feet of records stored in office files costs more than $2 million annually. The office space required for these records is equivalent to three Motor Vehicle Buildings.

"The information available on the total file cabinet inventory of the State is incomplete. We have estimated, however, that it would take the equivalent of 80,000 five-drawer letter-size file cabinets to store these records. The cost of these cabinets would amount to approximately $10 million at current prices. Replacements or additions to the file cabinet inventory cost the State $250,000 annually. The State's inventory of small office machines such as typewriters, adding machines, and calculators, estimated at $30 million, requires replacements or additions costing $3 million per year. Rental costs of tabulating machines and electronic data processing equipment currently amount to $2½ million annually.

"State agencies pay approximately $2 million each year for stationery, commercially printed forms, and small office supplies such as pencils, rulers, staplers, and paper clips. Another $4 million is spent for letterheads, reports, and forms printed by the State Printing Office.

"The overall cost of current record-making and record-keeping activities of the state government is approximately $135 million annually. This is 29 percent of the State's estimated total expenditure for state operations during fiscal year 1959-1960. If the part-time effort of administrative, professional, technical and institutional personnel is included, the total cost would exceed $200 million."

Subsequently, a new paperwork management program has been instituted and responsibilities for control of records has been divided between three groups—the agency involved, the Department of Finance, and the Secretary of State.

Each agency:

- 1 Appoints an individual who is responsible for the overall coordination of paperwork management activities in the agency.
- 2 Provides effective controls over the creation, maintenance, and use of records in the conduct of current business.
- 3 Inventories its records and establishes retention periods for the various types of records.
- 4 Disposes of records after approval of disposition schedules by the Department of Finance.
- 5 Submits to the Department of Finance such reports as may be required for administration of the program.
- 6 Provides training for records personnel.
7. Controls the purchase of new file equipment and ensures that existing equipment is utilized efficiently.
- 8 Co-operates with the Department of Finance in applying standards and techniques designed to improve the administration of the State's paper work management program.

In the Department of Finance, the Organization and Cost Control Division:

- 1 Establishes standards, procedures, and techniques for the administration of the program.
- 2 Develops general disposition schedules for classes of records common to most agencies.

3 Advises agencies in the techniques of developing a records inventory and establishing retention periods

4. Establishes and maintains a forms control program for all state standard forms

5 Assists agencies in the installation of systems to manage forms, reports, correspondence, directives, and files.

6 Obtains such reports from agencies as may be required to administer the program and evaluate its progress Prepare and distribute periodically a consolidated report on statewide progress under the program

7 Assists agencies in controlling the purchase of file equipment and ensures that present equipment is utilized fully.

8. Collaborates with the office of the Secretary of State to develop standards for the operation of all state records centers.

The Audits Division ·

1 Approves disposition schedules submitted by the agencies, provided proper recognition has been given to the administrative, legal, fiscal, and historical or research values of the records

2 Reviews agency paperwork management practices, during the course of its regular audit, to determine whether they conform to established standards in SAM

3 The Budget Division reviews agency requests for records equipment, personnel, and office space in order to determine whether standards prescribed in Section 1640 have been met

In the Office of the Secretary of State,

1 Central Record Depository

a Provides low-cost records center facilities for the storage and servicing of inactive agency records

b In collaboration with the Department of Finance, develops standards for the operation of state record centers

c Prepares and submits such reports as may be required by the Department of Finance on the volume, use, rate of records accessions and disposals, and other aspects of the State's records center program

2 Archives

a Identifies, preserves, and makes available to the public those records which have enduring value for historical or research purposes

b Reviews records disposition schedules to select archival materials

General disposition schedules have been drawn up for a great many records that are statewide in nature and used by all agencies For example, Form 682, authorization for overtime, is recommended for disposition two years after the Department of Finance audit. For the complete list, see State Administrative Manual Number 1646 1

Where records are not covered by general disposition schedules, agencies are expected to make a decision on the detention period for the records using the following criteria ·

1 Administrative uses value and necessity of the record as an administrative tool in carrying out the functions for which the agency was established.

2 Legal requirements: total time a record must be retained to comply with specific statutes or rules of government agencies, or to protect the legal rights and interests of the State.

3. Fiscal requirements total time required for the performance of a variety of fiscal activities, including auditing, collection, and budgeting

4 Historical and research values identification of records of enduring value which reflect significant historical events and document the administrative history and development of an agency.

The Assembly Interim Committee on Social Welfare has, in the main, consisted of staff work and attendance by individual members of the committee at various public and private agency conferences, work shops and sessions. In addition to traditional interim committee functions, the committee has assumed the responsibility for payment of two members' attendance to the Governor's Commission on Aging, and the Governor's Citizens' Committee to review social welfare in California. The latter committee (and its subcommittee) has been meeting upwards of four times every six weeks.

The committee held its organization meeting in Los Angeles County. A full legislative hearing on the development of the ATD program was held in Sacramento. This hearing was attended by all members of the committee.

In view of the fact that the action of the 1961 Legislature in this field did not become effective, in the main, until January 1 of this year, the committee realized that it should wait to hold its full committee hearings after the impact of our 1961 legislation could be more adequately measured. Therefore, it is anticipated that the committee will hold hearings as indicated hereinafter on the following described subject matters.

Meetings*

- 1- 3 The operation of the Medical Aid to the Aged program (AAA) (One meeting in Sacramento, one meeting in San Francisco and one meeting in Los Angeles )
- 4 One hearing to be held on the Aid to the Needy Blind program.
- 5 One hearing to be held on the Aid to the Disabled program
- 6 One hearing to be held on the Old Age Security program
- 7 One hearing to be held on the effect on the legislation in the area of responsible relatives.
- 8-10 Three hearings in Sacramento, Lower San Joaquin Valley and Los Angeles on the Aid to Needy Children on taking advantage of the ANC-Unemployed Fathers legislation (These latter hearings will be held in close co-operation with the County Board of Supervisors Association )
- 11 A hearing on the operation of the Short-Doyle Act
- 12 A hearing to review the drug rebate aspects of the Public Assistance Medical Care (PAMC) program
- 13 Hearings on employment opportunities for the handicapped will be held between now and July 30, and the balance will be held the latter half of this year
- 14-15 Two hearings on the $100,000 bond issue providing housing for the elderly.

Total number of hearings to be held—15

All members of the committee were present at the organization hearing in Los Angeles and the full committee hearing in Sacramento.

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr Coolidge was granted unanimous consent that the following letter of transmittal to the Report by the Joint Legislative Audit Committee Reviewing the Hearing of February 14, 1962 on Squaw Valley State Park be ordered printed in the Journal, and that the report transmitted therewith be ordered filed with the Secretary of State.

LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL

JOINT LEGISLATIVE AUDIT COMMITTEE
CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

The Honorable President of the Senate
The Honorable Speaker of the Assembly
The Honorable Members of the Senate and Assembly of the Legislature of California
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

SIRS We transmit herewith a report reviewing the hearing of February 14, 1962 on Squaw Valley State Park held by your Joint Legislative Audit Committee

The objective of this committee is the independent reporting of audit findings which can be effective in aiding the Legislature and the executive branch to establish sound fiscal and administrative policies for state government It is our belief, as a result of testimony given before this committee, that current financial operations at Squaw Valley State Park are not in the best interests of the State and its taxpayers

In a 21-month period—April 1, 1960 to December 31, 1961—excess of combined expenditures over revenues at Squaw Valley cost the State $902,904 California incurs a net loss of approximately $25,000 on Squaw Valley each month At the same time, citizens using State-subsidized facilities—which are actually controlled by private concessionaires—pay the same prices as those using private resorts Federal legislation, moreover, may require that the State lose even larger amounts The attached report contains your committee's review of these problems, as well as recommendations for action

Respectfully submitted,

Assemblymen
RONALD B CAMERON
NICHOLAS C PETRIS
GLENN E COOLIDGE
Chairman

REQUEST FOR UNANIMOUS CONSENT TO PRINT IN JOURNAL

Mr DeLotto was granted unanimous consent that the following opinion of the Legislative Counsel be ordered printed in the Journal:

OFFICE OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

SACRAMENTO, March 14, 1962

Hon Bert DeLotto
Assembly Chamber

State College Teachers' Salaries—No. 2491

DEAR MR DELOTTO

Question

You ask whether the Trustees of the California State Colleges may adjust salaries of employees of the trustees by classification or merit, or both, once a blanket budgeted amount is provided to the trustees for a fiscal year

Section 22607 of the Education Code provides.

" . The trustees shall establish and adjust the salaries and classifications of all academic, nonacademic, and administrative positions and neither Section 18004 of the Government Code nor any other provision of law requiring approval by a state officer or agency for such salaries or classifications shall be applicable thereto. In establishing and adjusting such salaries, consideration shall be given to the maintenance of the state colleges in a competitive position in the recruitment and retention of qualified personnel in relation to other educational institutions, private industry or public jurisdictions which are employing personnel with similar duties and responsibilities. The establishment and adjustment of salaries for nonacademic employees shall be in accordance with the standards prescribed in Section 18550 of the Government Code. The trustees, however, shall make no adjustments which require expenditures in excess of existing appropriations available for the payment of salaries . . ."

In our opinion, this provision clearly authorizes the Trustees of the California State Colleges to adjust salaries of its employees so long as the adjustments require no expenditures in excess of the appropriation available for the payment of salaries.

Very truly yours,

A C MORRISON
Legislative Counsel

DEAR MR SPEAKER In accordance with your request the Assembly Interim Committee on Agriculture authorized under House Resolution No 361, submits herewith the Interim Committee Progress Report

A list of subject matters studied to date is attached Although this list includes two special objects of investigation, subjects specifically referred to the committee for interim study form the bulk of its contents In this latter category, problems relating to marketing orders and weights and measures have been most prominent As of this date, no further study is contemplated on any of these subjects

It would be premature to state whether or not remedial legislation will be proposed, since the final report has not yet been submitted to the members of the committee for their recommendations and approval This will occur sometime during the month of March

The committee has held four two-day, formal interim study hearings Los Angeles, September 18th and 19th; San Francisco, October 9th and 10th, Bakersfield, October 26th and 27th, and Sacramento, December 5th and 6th. DEAR MR UNRUH In compliance with House Resolution 361, Section 12, the following brief general progress report of the activities of the Assembly Interim Committee on Civil Service and State Personnel is submitted

1 This committee has held four two-day hearings during the interim period to date. Following is a list of subject matters and bills which have been studied, together with a short summary of the status of each:

(a) A B 802 (Hawkins) (Provides that where a civil service examination is written in part, the weight to be given to the oral phase of the examination together with all other phases of the examination exclusive of the written phase shall not exceed 15 percent of the total weight of the examination.) This bill was heard in Los Angeles on February 15, 1962, and further study is indicated.

(b) A B 1340 (Meyers) (Eliminates prohibition against State Personnel Board making salary adjustments which require expenditures in excess of existing appropriations available for salary increase purposes.) This bill was heard in San Francisco on March 5, 1962, and further study is contemplated.

(c) A B 1966 (Kennick) ("The California Plan"—Public Employees Representation.) Three hearings have been held on this controversial subject; two in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles. Further hearings are contemplated in this regard, and legislation will undoubtedly be proposed after further investigation.

(d) A B 2585 (Meyers) (Workmen's Compensation Includes State Police and State Harbor Police within those persons to whom certain presumptions concerning hernia, tuberculosis, heart trouble and pneumonia apply with respect to injuries on the job, and who are entitled to leave of absence with pay in lieu of temporary disability payments when disabled on the job.) Two hearings have been held on this bill; one in Los Angeles, and one in San Francisco. It is planned to hold another hearing in Sacramento and legislation is contemplated after further investigation.

(e) A B 3128 (Meyers) (Polygraph tests Provides that no state agency shall demand, require, request or permit any applicant for employment or any employee to submit to or take a polygraph, lie detector, or similar test or examination as a condition of employment or continued employment.) Two hearings have been held on this very controversial subject and it is planned to study this subject further, after which legislation is contemplated.

The following bills which were referred to this committee for study have not been heard to date, but action is contemplated during the remaining interim period:

(a) A B 649 (Z'berg) (Retirement allowances of members of State Employees' Retirement System )

(b) A.B 1337 (Meyers) (Death Benefits under State Retirement System )

(c) A B 2601 (Shell) (Los Angeles Metropolitan Transit Authority—establishment of civil service system )

(d) A B. 3078 (Meyers) (Uniform schedule of penalties for state employees )

In addition, the following subjects which were referred to our committee for study and investigation will be on the agenda during the remaining interim period: H R. 409 (Health Insurance) , the hiring of retired employees; and nonmember retirement credit

GENTLEMEN Pursuant to House Resolution No 361, Section 12 (1961) the Interim Committee on Constitutional Amendments herewith submits a summary of its activities for the period June, 1961, through February, 1962

1. Interim Study of Constitutional Amendments

Following the adjournment of the 1961 Regular Session, the Assembly Rules Committee assigned ten (10) constitutional amendments to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments for study during the current interim. In addition, A B 3065, relating to A C A 89, was also assigned to the committee for study. Budget items relating to public fund investment and constitutional reform were also assigned to the committee.

Assembly Constitutional Amendment No 75 (Carrell) and A C A. 77 (Bane) relating to reapportionment of senatorial districts were assigned to this committee. Inasmuch as a special committee to study Senate reapportionment was appointed pursuant to action of the 1961 Session of the Legislature, the Chairman of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments suggested to the Speaker of the Assembly that to avoid duplication with respect to these subjects that the Committee on Constitutional Amendments should not make an independent study on these proposed constitutional amendments until such time as the special committee rendered their report.

The subject of public fund investment was included in A C A. 45 (Reagan) and A C A 50 (Don A. Allen) and this study is being made by the Joint Senate and Assembly Committee on Public Investment and Pension Funds appointed pursuant to action of the 1961 Session.

The following constitutional amendments which had been heard by the Committee on Constitutional Amendments during the Regular Session of 1961 were assigned for interim study by the Rules Committee to the committees hereinafter designated: A C A 28 (Chapel) Judiciary; A C A 31 (Charles H. Wilson) Revenue and Taxation, A C A 35 (Pattee) Fish and Game, A C A 43 (Kilpatrick) Revenue and Taxation, A C A 83 (Lanternman) Elections and Reapportionment; and A C A 90 (Meyers) Municipal and County Government.

2. Committee Hearings

On January 15 and 16, 1962, the committee conducted hearings in San Francisco relating to the subject matter of A C A. 38 (Francis) and took such subject matter under advisement. It has not as yet been determined whether additional hearings will be held on this subject matter.

On March 6, the committee held a joint meeting in Sacramento with the Assembly Committee on Ways and Means relating to the proposal to submit a Constitutional Amendment repealing Section 4, Article IX of the State Constitution respecting the School Land Fund. It has not as yet been determined whether additional hearings will be held on this subject.

3. Proposed Studies

The authors of A C A. 65 (Charles H. Wilson) and A C A. 73 (Don A. Allen) have advised the committee that they do not desire to have hearings held upon the subject matter of their respective constitutional amendments.

Arrangements are presently being made to hold hearings on the remainder of the constitutional amendments and other items referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments for study.

Respectfully submitted,

In Re Committee Progress Report

The Assembly Interim Committee on Criminal Procedure has held the following hearings:

1. Organizational meeting at Monterey, California, September 27, 1961.
2. Synanon, Narcotics Rehabilitation Center, Santa Monica, October 19, 1961.

The committee was interested in appraising the work of this privately organized and sponsored narcotics rehabilitation center. We made a personal inspection of the facilities and heard testimony from a number of residents, sponsors, and professional persons who aid the foundation on a voluntary basis.

This foundation offers a unique opportunity to compare the results of rehabilitation efforts in a voluntary program with those made within the Department of Corrections. The existence of such a private program also offers valuable possibilities for collecting comparative data on costs.

3. Dangerous Drugs, Increased Restrictions

Los Angeles, October 20, 1961

The Governor's Special Study Commission on Narcotics recommended that the same penalties, regulations and controls that now apply to illegal trafficking in narcotics should be extended to illegal trafficking in dangerous drugs. This hearing was held to learn whether this recommendation would receive substantial support from the medical profession. An overwhelming majority of witnesses opposed the recommendation.

4. Police Procedures and the Laws of Arrest

Sacramento, December 13 and 14, 1961

This hearing encompassed the following subjects: The new Disorderly Conduct Statute; civil liability of peace officers; the use of citations in lieu of arrests for certain misdemeanors, arrests later termed detentions; telephone calls for arrested persons; and Section 834a P.C., prohibiting forceful resistance to any arrest—whether lawful or unlawful.

5 Minimum Standards for Local Jails

Sacramento, January 15 and 16, 1962

(This was a hearing of the Subcommittee on Custodial Institutions)

This hearing was designed to solicit suggestions from local officials as to possible methods of bringing substandard local jails up to statutory minimum standards

No further hearings are planned on the Synanon Foundation or the increased regulation of Dangerous Drugs

Further hearings are planned on Police Procedures, Laws of Arrest, and Minimum Jail Standards

The Assembly Interim Committee on Education established four subcommittees for the interim period 1961-63 These subcommittees are Public School Finance, Adult Education, Special Education, and Higher Education The following report will describe the activities of each of the respective subcommittees

Because of the number of bills assigned to the committee and the ongoing nature of the school finance study being made, no recommendations as to legislation are made at this time.

There have been 12 meetings of the various subcommittees, approximately 19 more are scheduled.

Subcommittee on Public School Finance

Chairman: Richard T. Hanna

Members: Casey, Collier, Flournoy, Porter, Reagan, Winton

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 330, the Rules Committee assigned this committee the study of the system of state and local financial support of the public school system.

According to this mandate and at the request of this committee, A. Alan Post, the Legislative Analyst, is preparing studies in depth on the various aspects of school finance. Extensive reports, and in some cases, questionnaires, have been completed and presented at seven meetings to date on the subjects of: State School Fund; County School Service Fund; Basic and Equalization Aid. Further reports will be presented at public meetings on the subjects of: Special Education, Driver Education; Pupil Transportation; Growth Apportionment; Project-connected Pupils; Final Apportionment.

The subcommittee is also considering general matters relating to education: Teachers' Retirement, District Reorganization, the subject matter of Senate Bill 939 (Teachers' Retirement).

Further studies and meetings are projected through July, 1962. There will be subsequent hearings on the recommendations contained in the Legislative Analyst's study, and consideration of the bills and measures assigned to this subcommittee.

Subcommittee on Adult Education

Chairman: Charles B. Garrius

Members: Bruce F. Allen, Brown, Hanna, Hegland, Sedgwick, Waldie

Pursuant to House Resolution No. 320, this subcommittee is assigned a study of the subject of adult education. There has been special emphasis placed upon determining the need for retraining programs to meet the problem of labor displacement caused by automation and other factors.

The first hearing, in Fresno in November 1961, evidenced a need for improved liaison between industry, labor, education and employment. The needs and surfeits of the labor market are not being fully anticipated in the planning of retraining programs.

A second meeting is scheduled in Los Angeles to bring together representatives of labor, industry and the State Departments of Education and Employment. This hearing will seek answers to specific questions about the way each group foresees production changes requiring new skills, and their plans for cooperation with the other agencies. Further study is necessary before responsible legislation can be considered.

Subcommittee on Special Education

Chairman: Carlos Bee

Members: Busterud, Casey, Cusanovich, Elliott, Gaffney

Pursuant to various resolutions and bills, hearings are being held on Divergent Youth Education, Emotionally and Physically Handicapped, Neurologically Handicapped, Aviation Education, Public Speaking Programs and Child Day Care

There is much controversy over the problem of education for the emotionally handicapped, and much interest in the other areas, especially that concerning help to divergent youth at the elementary and junior high school level. Three hearings have been held on a group of measures: A B 2602, A B 2389 and H R 167, all dealing with the divergent youth problem. Three hearings are scheduled to consider: A B 2629 relating to public speaking in the secondary schools, A B 2708 relating to teachers of the mentally and physically handicapped, and the general subject matter of education of emotionally, physically and neurologically handicapped minors

Subcommittee on Higher Education

Chairman: Harold T. Sedgwick

Members: Casey, Gaffney, Hegland, Flournoy, Waldie

This subcommittee has been assigned: A B 2240 relating to a State Colleges biennial evaluation; A B 2769 relating to scholarships to the California Maritime Academy; A B 3085 relating to Junior College Boards, and A C R 32 relating to the admission policies of the University of California and the state colleges

The subcommittee met in October of 1961 at the University of California at Los Angeles to hear opinions of the representatives of the educational institutions on the effectiveness of the Master Plan for Higher Education. It was clear from this meeting that more time was needed to judge the Master Plan.

Another hearing is planned in September 1962 at the University of California at Davis to again consider progress reports of the institutions and persons charged with the operation of the Master Plan. At that time the new State College Board of Trustees, and the Coordinating Council for Higher Education will have formulated plans. The subcommittee can then, with better perspective, consider recommendations for the 1963 Session of the Legislature

Chairman Sedgwick has scheduled a hearing in July to consider the evaluation of state colleges called for in A B 2240

I. Introduction

By virtue of H R 361, of the 1961 Session of the Legislature, the Assembly Interim Committee on Elections and Reapportionment was created and assigned for study "the subject matter embraced in the Elections Code, uncodified laws on the same subject, and matters relating to elections and reapportionment."

Subsequently, a number of House resolutions and the subject matter of several unsuccessful bills were referred to the committee for study by the Committee on Rules

In conducting its work, the committee has recognized that the bills and resolutions which have been introduced have resulted from various problems that exist. An attempt has been made to study the underlying problem—its extent and magnitude—and then, if needed, proposed solutions to the problem, including but not limited to the particular bill referred to the committee

To date, the committee has held five one-day hearings and an organizational meeting. Two days were spent examining the need for political party reorganization, another two days were devoted to hearing the pros and cons of A B 1263 relating to Communists on the ballot; and one hearing was devoted to voting machines and literacy tests

II. Political Party Reorganization

As a result of legislation introduced by Assemblyman Bert DeLotto in 1961, A B 2312, and referred to this committee, a comprehensive survey into all phases of political party organization is being conducted to determine what, if any, changes are needed in the statutory framework in which the parties operate.

Primary interest to date has been centered on the organization and functions of the county and state central committees, the question of pre-primary endorsements, and the relationship of unofficial and official party organizations

In many areas of California, seats on the Democratic and Republican County Central Committees are going begging. There apparently is just not enough citizen interest in serving on the county committees to inspire people to seek office.

The average voter, thus, is left without any say as to how his party is to be run in the county as he generally has no candidate alternatives on the ballot. (Where there are candidate alternatives, however, the situation is not much better. There is virtually no press coverage of the county committee races, the job is not worth, in the eyes of the candidates, the spending of a great deal of money in order to become known to the voter, and the districts are too large to campaign on an individual basis. The result is often, as described by one county committee member, a "lottery" where place on the ballot and designation under the name are all important. There are instances where voters have had definite issues placed before them and candidate alternatives available. Some races in San Bernardino and Santa Clara Counties are examples. Often, too, the various Republican and Democratic clubs play a role in informing the voter.)

In 32 California counties, from 1954 through 1960, candidates exceeded vacancies in only 27 percent of the district races. In 562 districts, 46 percent of the total, there were fewer candidates than vacancies. Yet, even the prospect of becoming a member of the county central committee without a contest failed to attract candidates.

Cumulative, statewide, 5,677 candidates filed for 5,453 seats—and on the Republican side, there were less candidates than vacancies across the board. By removing San Francisco County, the same would hold true for the Democrats.

Under consideration as possible solutions to this problem are providing for election of committeemen from a smaller district than at present—possibly by precinct, the appointment of some of the members of the county committees by nominees and unofficial party groups, and making the duties of a county committeeman more meaningful.

A related problem involves the timing in the election of both the county committeemen and the state party officers. There is a turnover in both offices after the June primary and while new officers and committeemen are getting accustomed to their duties, a vacuum results. As the campaigns are under way as much as six months prior to this time, this seriously interferes with the work of the party in this vital area.

Julius A. Leetham, Chairman of the Republican Central Committee of Los Angeles County, speaking before the committee in Berkeley, observed, "The election of the County Central Committee at the primary necessitates re-organization of programs developed for the general campaign, and shifts and change-overs in party leadership, just at the beginning of the general campaign. Time and energy which should be devoted to the party's candidates must be expended on reorganization which, however minimal, cannot help but disrupt the smooth functioning of political campaigns."

Most of the witnesses presenting testimony to the committee to date have discussed the question of preprimary endorsements—now accomplished in California by voluntary groups, the California Democratic Council and the California Republican Assembly—with the general consensus being that such endorsements are a valuable and necessary part of the political process. Speaking before the committee, Dr. Joseph P. Harris, Professor of Political Science at the University of California, cited the fact that, where no endorsements are made, candidates are often elected because of a similarity in name to a well-known figure or other factors extraneous to the candidate's ability. In addition, an endorsement is only valuable when it carries some weight with the voters. Otherwise it becomes a liability and as long as the California primary is open to all comers it cannot be abused, according to Professor Harris.

Speaking in opposition to preprimary endorsements, Mr. Vincent Monroe Townsend, 38th Congressional District Director of the Republican Assembly, declared they violate the spirit of the direct primary and should be curtailed.

The committee is also studying a number of secondary topics related to political party reorganization.

III. Assembly Bill No. 1263

At the present time California law prohibits from the ballot any party which advocates the overthrow of the government by force or violence. The existing law, which is Section 6431 of the Recodified Elections Code, reads as follows: "No party shall be recognized or qualified to participate in any primary election which either directly or indirectly carries on, advocates, teaches, justifies, aids, or abets the overthrow by any unlawful means of or which directly or indirectly carries on, advocates, teaches, justifies, aids, or abets a program of sabotage, force and violence, sedition or treason against, the government of the United States or of this State."

Assembly Bill No. 1263 would name the Communist Party specifically within this statute. Prior to 1953, the law was worded in a similar manner but was declared unconstitutional by the California Supreme Court by Communist Party v. Peck in 1942. More recently a Legislative Counsel's opinion, cited by Assemblyman Robert W. Crown at the October 6, 1961 meeting of the committee, declared that A B 1263 would be held unconstitutional by the courts.

Proponents of the bill feel that the court would not adhere to the principle of stare decisis and uphold a new law on the subject as constitutional. They note that the U S S R was an ally of our government in 1942 and cite decisions and statutes since that time which have found the Communist Party to be an agent of a foreign power seeking to overthrow the government of the U S A.

Also pointed out is the fact that, in Black v. Cutter Laboratories the Communist Party was not considered to be a legitimate political party. Further, the proponents point out that under the present statute the finding would have to be made based on evidence that the Communist Party definitely falls within existing Code Section 6431. Under the bill they feel all that would be necessary is to show that the Communist Party was participating and this would be illegal per se.

Opponents of the bill pointed out that the bill is unconstitutional and that current law has successfully kept the Communist Party off the ballot. In order to qualify for a place on the ballot, a party must file a petition in which voters equal to 1 percent of the vote in the last gubernatorial election declare their intention to affiliate with the party. Even if the party could muster 44,000 people who would be willing to state that they were Communists, the party still could not qualify for the ballot as Section 6431 would preclude any such eventuality. In addition, they note no Communist identified on the ballot as such has ever been elected to office in California. It is more likely that Communists will disguise themselves and run under other party labels—a situation which A B 1263 aids and abets. Recent federal legislation, they argue, did not make membership in the Communist Party a crime but simply required that they register as agents of a foreign government and outlawing the party by name is ineffective because all the party has to do is change its name if it wants to attempt to run a slate of candidates.

It is doubtful that any legislation on this subject will be proposed by the committee for action at the 1963 Session of the Legislature for the reason that the proponents are taking the issue directly to the people in the form of an initiative constitutional amendment. The vote of the citizens at large would then be controlling, one way or another, providing the proponents can get enough signatures to qualify for the ballot.

IV. Miscellaneous

Among other items considered by the committee thus far are: a proposal for mandatory use of voting machines in all but California's two smallest counties; a measure which would require literacy tests at the time of registration; a technical change in the registration of former aliens, and a proposed addition to the nonprofit corporation law relating to political corporations.

These subjects have all been taken under advisement by the committee and a complete report will be made to the 1963 Session of the Legislature.

DEAR JESSE: Attached hereto is our progress report, made to you in compliance with House Resolution No. 361, 1961 Regular Session.

In addition, according to your request of January 29 we have prepared and attached a chart of committee members' attendance at interim committee hearings.

As you will note in the introductory remarks of the progress report, we intend to publish a preliminary report this spring which will deal with three of the subjects the committee has considered thus far. Thus, we have made the attached as succinct as possible so as to avoid duplication of detail.

Six subcommittees of the Finance and Insurance Committee have conducted a total of seven public hearings to date.

Three inquiries have aroused such wide interest that the committee will publish a preliminary report this spring in order to make its findings a matter of record. The subjects to be covered in the report include fire insurance, land sale contracts and the Cal-Vet insurance program.

Insurance

A. Fire Insurance

The General Insurance Subcommittee has conducted two public hearings on the fire insurance surcharge prescribed for property owners in three mountainous areas of Southern California by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau.

No further hearings are planned but developments are being watched closely in view of the probability that legislative recommendations will be made to the 1963 Legislature.

B. Cal-Vet Insurance

On July 14, 1961, the Assembly Rules Committee gave this committee jurisdiction over the insurance program of the Department of Veterans Affairs by virtue of the reassignment of the subject matter of two bills (A B 2926 and A B 2927) for interim study. Accordingly, a Subcommittee on Veterans Mortgage Insurance was appointed and on October 17 a public hearing on the fire and hazard insurance agreement with the National American Insurance Company was held in San Francisco.

Primarily because the current five-year agreement is between the DVA and one insurer (in contrast to the 238 insurance companies participating in the previous agreement) it has aroused some controversy. The hearing gave both sides the opportunity to present their views in detail before the committee and the committee has obtained an Attorney General's opinion on the legal issues involved

Although no further hearings are planned, the committee's interest in the matter continues

C. Health Insurance

House Resolution No 390 authorizes a broad investigation into the cost, availability and quality of service rendered under all types of prepaid health programs On January 30, 1962, the Subcommittee on Prepaid Medical Care conducted a public hearing on a number of subjects in this field The subject matter of Assembly Bills Nos 568, 569, 570 and 2083 was given particular attention at that time

Study in this field indicates that serious instances of misrepresentation and fraud have occurred and are likely to occur with regard to nonprofit health service organizations as a consequence of the total lack of regulation and/or scrutiny by the government The committee will probably recommend corrective legislation

D. Automobile Insurance

A study of the cost and availability of Public Liability Coverage, as well as an inquiry into charges of discrimination and arbitrary cancellation, will be undertaken later this year

E. Miscellaneous Insurance Problems

The committee has had assigned to it several matters, such as insurance producers' licenses, for interim study. These will be considered subsequent to the 1962 Budget Session

Social Insurance

A. Workmen's Compensation

Several problems in the field of workmen's compensation were referred to the Finance and Insurance Committee for interim study On December 12 the Subcommittee on Workmen's Compensation held an exploratory hearing on the subject of rehabilitation Draft legislation, based largely on A B 278 of the 1961 Session, provided the basis for discussion Judging from the wide divergence of views on the draft, further hearings will be necessary before the committee can make its final recommendation In the course of these hearings attention will be given to the other items referred to this committee through the Rules Committee

B. Unemployment Insurance

H R 420 authorizes a study of a number of facets of the Unemployment Insurance program (e.g, the role of merit rating, attachment to the labor market, increased participation of women and retired persons in the labor market) In addition, H R 421 calls for a study of the feasibility of including agricultural workers in the program These studies will be consummated in the next several months

Finance

A. Land Sale Contracts

A hearing by the Land Sale Contracts Subcommittee was held in Richmond Several hundred home buyers in Contra Costa, Napa, and Solano Counties were placed in a distressed condition due to the failure of the fee owner of the properties to forward payments to holders of encumbrances against the properties.

A B. 856, A B. 1607 and 1608 and A B. 2179, which were assigned to Finance and Insurance for interim study by the Rules Committee were considered in light of the testimony regarding the distressed tracts.

Further hearings on this method of selling real property may be scheduled

Legislation is necessary to give adequate protection to home buyers purchasing by means of land sale contract financing. Bills will be prepared for the 1963 Regular Session

B. Sale of Trust Deeds

In order to assess the effectiveness of the Real Property Securities Dealer Law a hearing was held in San Francisco on November 30

The Subcommittee on Trust Deeds heard testimony on the need for licensing appraisers of real property and the necessity of regulating trustors who are actively engaged in the buying and selling of real property on which they borrow money.

Additional hearings of the Trust Deed Subcommittee may be held prior to preparing amendments to the omnibus Real Property and Real Property Securities Dealers Law (A B. 1344) enacted in 1961

C. Construction Financing

Data has been collected relative to contract retention practices by prime contractors of homes and buildings. In general the allegation has been made that the interim retention of 10 percent of the amount owing the subcontractor or material dealer has shifted the burden of financing from the prime contractor to the subcontractor.

Hearings scheduled for this summer will study the problems relative to lien laws, trust funds and bonding.

D. Lending Institutions

The committee is in the process of compiling the responses made by savings and loan associations to a letter sent by the committee requesting schedules of fees and charges and the criteria to be used in arriving at the size of the fee to be charged on home purchase and home construction financing.

A hearing on the above subject is not contemplated at this time.

Assigned to this committee for interim study were 15 items on specific subjects—11 House resolutions, one Assembly concurrent resolution and three Assembly bills for which resolutions were not submitted. In addition, Assembly Joint Resolution No 7, of a general nature, was assigned this committee.

The committee held a one-day organizational meeting on August 22, 1961, at which all items before the committee were reviewed and priorities for committee attention established. Six of the 15 specific items before the committee were judged to be related to A J R 7. Thus, study of A J R 7 involves study of six separate items. During the period covered by this report, the committee has studied 7 of the 15 items assigned to it. Three hearings were held and the subjects and preliminary findings are summarized below.

I. Problems of Commercial Fisheries—A J R. 7 (H.R. 333, H.R. 360, H.R. 362, A.B. 535, A.B. 536, A.B. 1314)

The problems of commercial fisheries in California are not easily summarized. In the simplest terms, there are three outstanding conflicts: (1) domestic vs. foreign industries, (2) commercial vs. recreational fishing, and (3) commercial and recreational use vs. military use of ocean space. Only the second of these is within the full responsibilities of this committee.

The committee held a hearing, September 28, 1961, in Long Beach on Southern California Ocean Space Conflicts, which aimed at unravelling the specific nature of conflict among types of boats, types of gear, types of fish sought and fishing area restrictions.

Realizing, however, that solution to many of the problems of commercial fisheries in California are of an interstate, state-federal, or international nature—and therefore outside the scope of this committee's activities—the chairman and the consultant traveled to Washington, D.C., in August 1961 to encourage federal attention to the problems. This trip was instrumental in precipitating a hearing in California by the Subcommittee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries of the US Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee. The hearing was chaired by Senator Clair Engle; the subject was Problem of Declining Pacific Fisheries.

Much excellent testimony was presented by members of the scientific community. Informed sources have intimated to this committee that new federal legislation will be proposed at the 1962 Session of Congress. Information from the Senate hearing and from this committee's hearing in Long Beach should result in a comprehensive report on those aspects of the total fisheries problem which lie in state jurisdiction. However, another hearing by this committee will probably be necessary sometime during the summer of 1962 and no statement on the desirability of new state legislation can be made at this time.

II. Status of Salmon and Steelhead on the North Coast—H.R. 241

California has long been famous for its anadromous fish resources—primarily the King Salmon and Steelhead. They compose a major part of the State's sport fishery and the commercial fishery is not inconsequential. Because the most critical portions of the fishes' life cycle are spent in fresh water, their populations have been severely affected by the State's economic progress—dams, mining, logging, irrigation, pollution and so forth.

A noticeable decline in anadromous fishes has occurred. Concern over this matter prompted the second of the committee's hearings during this interim. The hearing, entitled Status of Salmon and Steelhead on the North Coast, was held in Crescent City on October 10, 1961. Much useful testimony was presented by the Department of Fish and Game, local officials and citizens, the Regional Water Pollution Control Board, and the U.S. Forest Service.

The committee finds this problem increasingly acute. Certain legislation now on the books, particularly A.B. 261, which provides for consideration of fish and game and other recreational resources within initial project costs for dams and related water developments, opens ways for mitigating the present trend. However, much more comprehensive planning will be required before these means may be implemented. The present policy of piecemeal alleviation of anadromous fish losses can only lead to the total loss of this valuable resource.

Accordingly, the committee's consultant has undertaken a comprehensive review of present policies and the directions which new and needed planning must take. It is likely that further legislation will be recommended.

III. Fish and Game Commission—H.R. 367, H.R. 307, H.R. 369

Three items relating to the Fish and Game Commission were referred to this committee for interim study.

Honse Resolution No. 367, introduced by Assemblyman Pattee, would instigate a constitutional amendment to abolish the present Fish and Game Commission and replace it with a Joint Legislative Commission.

The other two resolutions were introduced by Assemblywoman Davis at the request of the Associated Sportsmen: (1) to have the director of the Department of Fish and Game appointed by the commission rather than by the Governor, (2) to have the Fish and Game Commission hold certain additional hearings in setting the fish and game policies as they apply to seasons and bag limits.

A subcommittee of this committee was appointed to study these proposals and Assemblyman Pattee assumed its chairmanship. The subcommittee held a hearing in San Francisco on December 6, 1961, which generated considerable interest in the press.

The subject of this hearing differed significantly from the subject matter of other hearings of the committee in that it dealt primarily with policy.

Opinion at the hearing was unanimously opposed to abolishment of the commission. It was about equally divided on the proposal to change the responsibility of the director of the department and was generally in favor of the proposal to increase the number of the commission's meetings. It is likely that new legislation will be recommended in regard to the contents of H R 369.

IV. Deer Management

In light of the long-standing controversy over the Department of Fish and Game's policy of management of California deer herds, the committee undertook a recount of the returns of deer tags from the 1961 season. The department's figures have been questioned on a number of occasions from outside, though not disinterested, sources.

We found no significant discrepancy (none greater than one-half of one percent—attributable to human error in counting) in the total number of tags. However, the committee questions the breakdown of total take by deer management units and intends to investigate further. It could be that perhaps new legislation may be presented on this subject at the next general session.

V. Future Plans of the Interim Committee

Three items related to A J R 7 and five other items remain to be heard before the committee. We estimate that at least four more hearings and possibly seven will be required for adequate treatment. Funds permitting, these hearings will be scheduled as soon as possible after the 1962 Budget Session.

Chairman Mrs. Davis feels it mandatory that the committee receive recognition for adequate funds in order to be able to employ a consultant well-versed in the field of fish and game. She feels that the Office of the Legislative Analyst is of no help to the committee due to a continual turnover in staff and that they cannot, therefore, give proper evaluation of the budget of the Department of Fish and Game.

The Department of Finance does not have a specialist in this field and since the federal moneys forthcoming from Dingell-Johnson and Pitman-Robertson are allocated according to federal law and expended at the discretion of the Department of Finance and the Director of the Department of Fish and Game, and since a great amount of money is involved, Mrs. Davis feels it would be wise for a private firm of accountants, solely responsible to our Fish and Game Committee, to make an accounting of the books of the Department of Fish and Game. Therefore, consideration must be given in the budget for such a contract.

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

March 8, 1962

HON JESSE M UNRUH
Speaker, State Assembly
Sacramento, California

DEAR SPEAKER UNRUH. Pursuant to House Resolution 361 and your letter of January 9, 1962, transmitted herewith is the Progress Report of the Committee on Government Organization for the period from June, 1961, to February, 1962, along with the record of attendance for committee hearings

Respectfully submitted,

GORDON H. WINTON, JR

PROGRESS REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

June 1961-March 1962

I. Introduction

The Assembly Interim Committee on Government Organization was created by House Resolution No 361 of the 1961 Legislature to study "the subject matter embraced in the Government Code relating to State Government, uncodified laws relating thereto, laws relating to alcoholic beverage control, liquor law enforcement, and horse racing, and other matters relating to the organization and operation of State Government "

Three two-day hearings have been held to date—two on the subject of alcoholic beverage control and one on the subject of architectural competitions and the work of the California State Division of Architecture Background material has been collected on the other topics assigned to the committee for study, and hearings will be held when time and funds permit On the subject of horse racing—a topic on which the committee has accumulated considerable information—we have delayed any hearing on the subject until the California Horse Racing Board comes to a decision on the question of granting thoroughbred racing days to Los Alamitos Race Track

II. Architectural Competitions and the Division of Architecture

In studying legislation by Assemblyman Thomas M Rees calling for architectural competitions for certain classes of buildings, the committee held a two-day hearing on the subject—one at San Jose State to get a close look at buildings designed and built under the direction of the Division of Architecture and one at Berkeley to examine similar buildings produced as a result of architectural competitions

At San Jose State, the committee discovered that a million dollar library unit designed by the Division of Architecture and opened in 1956 is now closed because the floors have developed a sag of up to 2½ inches in places It was estimated that over one hundred thousand dollars would be needed to repair the structure Mr Charles Herd, Chief Construction Engineer of the Division of Architecture, testified that the division wasn't sure what caused the sagging but was studying the problem, as they didn't want to make the same mistake again

After touring the campus, Assemblyman Rees noted that almost every major building built in the last four years had major cracks in the concrete and that Centennial Hall—a classroom building—was a potential disaster area due to poor planning on the stairways.

Dr. Richard Tansey, Professor of Art History at San Jose State, told the committee that the new art building was a botched job and not functional.

At Berkeley, Dr. William Wurster, Dean of the College of Environmental Design and a nationally renowned architect, explained the role of the architectural competition in developing the University of California. He observed that the first competition held in 1899 and 1900 put the University on the map and “gave it an international status that it never would have had otherwise.” Recent buildings at the University developed as a result of competitions are the Student Union and Residence Halls.

III. Alcoholic Beverage Control

Several problems relating to alcoholic beverage control have come to the attention of the committee. One major problem is the fact that the costs of liquor licenses when transferred are continuing to rise. For the first six months of 1961, the average transfer cost of an off-sale license was $11,536; for the last six months of 1961, the average transfer cost was $14,198.

Counties in which licenses are transferred for substantial sums are those to which licenses cannot be transferred under present intercounty transfer provisions. Yet, there are a number of related factors which make one license in a county much more valuable than others. One of the causes for the increase in the transfer price is the fact that there are not enough licenses available to meet the demand.

Several suggestions to solve the problem were proposed. Alcoholic Beverage Control Director Malcolm Harris proposed a prohibition on the transfer of a license that was not connected to a business.

Other proposals forwarded were to prohibit all transfers and provide for the issuance of unlimited licenses at the state level; to prohibit the issuance of new licenses and provide for a free flow of intercounty transfer of licenses; and to prohibit chain stores from holding any more liquor licenses.

The Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control indicates that a problem in enforcing the current law regarding Alcoholic Beverage Control violations exists. Some licensees are continuing to violate the provisions of the A B C. Act time and time again, and there is no method by which the department can take action to get compliance. The situation arises when the department revokes or suspends a license and the licensee appeals the decision to the courts. While the appeal is pending, which is often a matter of years, the licensee continues to violate the law. The problem is particularly acute in the fair trade areas.

Several other matters relating to alcoholic beverage control are also under study, including the definition of “university” for the purpose of the exclusionary limits around campuses, ambiguous language relating to the order of a parent, fines based on the volume of business, and problems of licensees who remain open after hours for activities other than serving food.

Speaker of the Assembly

State Capitol

DEAR SPEAKER UNRUH: In compliance with your request I respectfully submit herewith a brief summary of the activities to date of the Assembly Interim Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy. A separate record of attendance for members is attached.

To date this committee has held hearings and made studies concerning eight items of legislation referred to it by the Rules Committee. Four field studies have been made. Numerous conferences have been held with federal, state and local agencies, including the California Attorney General, Real Estate Commissioner, Corporation Commissioner, State Planning Office, State Building Standards Commission, Urban Renewal and Community Redevelopment agencies, and many civic, labor, professional, and community organizations.

A major interest of this committee since July, 1961, has been the study of subdivision practices, both in-state and out-of-state. In cooperation with the California Real Estate Commissioner, and the Oregon and Nevada Real Estate Commissions, as well as County Extension Service officials and local businessmen, a subcommittee and staff field trip of several days was made to study the laws and representative land promotions in those two states. In addition, the chairman and staff together or separately have made on the spot studies of numerous subdivisions in Kern, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Imperial Counties.

As the result of this work to date, the California Real Estate Commissioner has expanded and strengthened the highly important subdivision public report, issued a number of new regulations, and secured from the Attorney General a formal opinion enabling the use of broad powers under the 1955 Subdivision Act untouched prior to this time. In addition, voluntary action by both subdividers and mass media has been pledged toward raising standards in land sales and advertising. I expect to hold additional hearings on this general subject.

Attached is an outline indicating the specific legislative subjects considered, type of study, and possible legislation or other action.

Respectfully yours,

LESTER A. McMILLAN, Chairman
Assembly Interim Committee on Governmental Efficiency and Economy

Studies Concluded

Studies have been concluded on H R. 245, A B 3006, H R 136, and H R 304. One more hearing in the general field of Employment Training and Economic Development is contemplated at the present time. The committee will have legislative proposals for consideration for recommendation to the Legislature. These would be in addition to any preliminary recommendations.

Preliminary Findings

The committee's investigations in the fields of employment training and economic development have necessarily ranged over a variety of subjects, all of vital public concern. These include unemployment, retraining of workers, the youth employment problem, school "drop-outs," relationship of employment to delinquency, minority group problems relating to employment training and unemployment, public school employment training facilities, private employment training institutions, the physically and mentally handicapped and their employment problems, and the technological displacement of workers, and automation.

The committee has found that federal appropriations for vocational rehabilitation have increased at an accelerated rate while state appropriations have increased at a slower rate. This fiscal year approximately $1,860,000 in federal funds is available to California but cannot be matched. Next year the figure will be $3,100,000 with the prospects of a further increase the year following. To match the money would require approximately 49 percent state matching.

A major concern of the committee has been automation and technological change in general, their economic and social impact, and their relationship to legislative and general governmental responsibilities. Automation may be leading mankind toward a golden age, but without proper safeguards it could produce serious social and economic disturbances in the process. Its effects have already been serious. While the committee has compiled considerable information from testimony of witnesses on this subject, which will be digested in its final report, it believes a more thorough and concentrated study should be made by a special subcommittee of the Industrial Relations Committee on this subject.

Preliminary Recommendations

While its final recommendations will not be submitted until its studies have been completed and the final report submitted, the committee does wish to make the following preliminary recommendations:

- 1 That the Assembly create a Subcommittee of the Industrial Relations Committee on the subject of automation, such committee to consist of five members to be appointed by the Chairman of the Industrial Relations Committee, including one to be designated by him as chairman.
- 2 That the Legislature adopt a joint resolution memorializing Congress to enact legislation providing for funds to the states for employment training programs similar to S 1991, the "Manpower Development and Training Act of 1961," now pending in the Congress of the United States.
- 3 That the Governor place on special call—and a bill be enacted—to make possible the utilization of unmatched federal funds in the vocational rehabilitation budget for the purpose of providing vocational rehabilitation services to young and handicapped adults in special classes in public schools.

- 4 That consideration be given to providing additional matching funds for federal funds for the vocational rehabilitation of handicapped persons
- 5 That the Governor place on special call and a bill be enacted permitting the State to use Short-Doyle Act moneys received from counties to match federal funds available to the State, but not being used at the present time, for the vocational rehabilitation of mentally handicapped persons
- 6 That S B 20 of the 1961 Regular Session, be broadened to extend its exemptions to persons certified by the Bureau of Vocational Rehabilitation of the Department of Education during the processing prior to their actually receiving vocational training

Acknowledgments

The committee wishes to express its sincere thanks and appreciation to the witnesses who appeared before the committee and gave it the benefit of their experiences, studies, and convictions, and others who have aided it in its studies

DEAR MR SPEAKER: The Assembly Committee on Interstate Co-operation was created during the 1961 Session of the Legislature by House Resolution No 57.

On May 1, 1961, Assembly Concurrent Resolution No 71, (Cologne and others), and Assembly Joint Resolution No 31, (Cologne and others), were referred to this committee by the Rules Committee for interim study

A series of three meetings were held in order that testimony could be heard by the opponents as well as the proponents of these measures. The meetings were held on the following dates:

November 14, 1961—Needles, California

November 15, 1961—Blythe, California

November 16, 1961—El Centro, California

A great deal of testimony was heard at these meetings and it is felt that further meetings with a like committee from the State of Arizona are necessary in order to reach a decision

During the first nine months of the 1961-62 interim period, the Assembly Interim Committee on Judiciary undertook a heavy schedule of activity. Six days were devoted to public hearings at which intense consideration was given to eight subjects. In addition, various bits of background information were submitted to the committee members to be read and digested in preparation for the hearings.

The following are those subjects which the committee has specifically devoted its attention to thus far. Unless otherwise noted, no further hearings on these matters have been scheduled. They will be considered by the committee, however, at a series of executive sessions to be held during the coming months.

1. Pre-trial Conferences

Section 575 of the Code of Civil Procedure allows the Judicial Council to promulgate rules governing pre-trial conferences in civil cases arising in superior and municipal courts. Pursuant to this authority, the Judicial Council has required mandatory pre-trial conferences in all civil cases in superior courts except cases requiring less than two hours to try and trials de novo upon appeal from a justice or small claims court.

The Judicial Council rule has met with strong opposition from some segments of the bench and bar who argue that, while a pre-trial conference is conducive to the efficient administration of justice in some cases, it is not so in all cases. These groups conclude that pre-trial conferences should be made discretionary with the parties involved in the dispute or the judge trying it and that legislation should be enacted to this effect.

A.B. 1745 (Z'berg), introduced at the recent session, provided for discretionary pre-trial conferences. Failing passage, its subject matter was referred to the Judiciary Committee for interim study.

A hearing was held on the matter in September. It took place in Monterey in conjunction with the State Bar Convention and the Conference of California Judges Convention. Testimony was taken from members of the bench and bar, who represented both points of view on this subject

The California State Bar and the Judicial Council are now attempting to reach a mutually acceptable compromise regarding the pre-trial conference problem. This would be done by amending the rules for the superior courts, which are promulgated by the Judicial Council. The Judiciary Committee plans to review the compromise agreement before determining whether legislation is needed in this area.

2. Judges' Retirement Provisions

At each general session, the Legislature is confronted with bills relating to judges' retirement. Generally, these bills propose to alter the conditions and manner in which a judge can become eligible for retirement benefits.

Because of the depleted condition of the Judges' Retirement Fund and the need for uniformity in its provisions without regard to individual situations, the subject matters of most of the judges' retirement bills introduced at the past session were referred to the Judiciary Committee for interim study.

At a hearing in September, a representative of the Conference of California Judges testified that extension of judicial service credit for nonjudicial service is creating a serious overdraft in the Judges' Retirement Fund. It is contemplated that legislation will be introduced at the next general session to correct this problem.

3. Judges' Salaries

California is among a minority of states which stagger the salaries of judges in major trial courts upon a population basis. Some have questioned whether population is an equitable and logical criterion upon which to base the compensation of our superior and municipal court judges. Accordingly, the subject was scheduled for interim study by the Judiciary Committee.

At the September hearing, the Conference of California Judges took the position that no change should be made in the present law staggering the compensation of superior and municipal court judges. They reasoned that judges in superior and municipal court districts with smaller populations are, in effect, "part-time" judges, and that to pay these individuals the same as "full time" judges would be inequitable.

Since there seems to be a correlation between the population of a superior or municipal court district and the man hours required of a judge in that district, no legislation altering the present salary schism in those courts is contemplated.

4. Adoptions

During the recent session, numerous pieces of legislation concerning adoption law were introduced. Private and county adoption agencies, the State Department of Social Welfare, the State Bar and various citizens interested in adoption procedures participated in the formulation and discussion of these measures. After extensive hearings, the subject matters of most of the bills were referred to the Judiciary Committee so that a thorough and complete interim study might be undertaken.

Hearings on this matter were held in San Francisco, in November, and in Los Angeles, in January. Many pages of transcripts are now filled with conflicting arguments concerning our present adoption laws and the interpretation of them.

Because of the complexities involved in this area, and the diametrically opposed positions of many who are involved in the adoption field, the committee has not, as yet, determined whether legislation is called for. Much additional time will be devoted to this subject during the committee's forthcoming executive sessions.

5. Interlocutory Decree of Divorce

A B 207 (George A. Willson), introduced at the past legislative session, would have reduced the interlocutory period of divorce in California from one year to three months. The measure, which failed passage, is based upon the premise that California's present waiting period is not realistic and, instead of being in the public interest, actually encourages immorality. This subject was referred for interim study by the Judiciary Committee so that a thorough exploration of all its ramifications could be made.

The subject was considered, along with adoption law, at the committee's November and January hearings. Members of the bench and bar, academicians involved in the field and interested citizens presented their views at that time.

As with adoptions, the interlocutory divorce waiting period involved exceedingly complex policy problems. For this reason, further study in executive session will be needed before the advisability of legislation can be determined.

6. Compensation of Jurors

At the recent legislative session, A B 493 (O'Connell) was introduced and heard by the Assembly Judiciary Committee. The purpose of the bill was to encourage service on juries and would have required the employer to assume the cost of jury service by allowing the employee time off for jury duty without loss of pay. Because the question of who should assume the financial burden of jury duty presents a far-reaching policy problem, and a possible constitutional issue, the subject was referred for interim study.

This matter was considered at a hearing on February 7. Representatives from employer and employee groups presented testimony to the committee. It has not, as yet, been determined whether legislation relating to this problem will be introduced at the next general session.

7. Marriage Powers of Judges and Other Civil Officials

At the recent session, the Judiciary Committee was confronted with proposals to allow retired judges to solemnize marriages, to permit other civil officials, such as county clerks and court commissioners, to conduct the marital ceremony, and to amend the law governing the times during which judges can collect fees for performing marriages. As the hearings progressed, doubt was raised in some members' minds as to the wisdom of allowing increased secular certification of what many consider to be an essentially nonsecular occasion. Further, the committee questioned whether performance of a civil marriage should be a service for which payment can be exacted. For these reasons, the subject matters of most of the measures, were referred for interim study.

The proposals were considered by the committee at its February 7 hearing. Support for them by the bench, bar and interested citizenry was almost negligible. It has not been determined whether legislation will be introduced on these matters at the next general session.

8. California State Polytechnic College Airplane Disaster

On October 29, 1960, an airplane carrying the California State Polytechnic College football team crashed in Toledo, Ohio. Twenty-two of the 48 persons aboard were killed, including 16 players and a student manager. The remaining passengers were injured, some so seriously that they have not yet recovered. The crash has been called by some the worst accident involving an American athletic group.

Because of its concern for those affected by the Cal Poly disaster, the Assembly requested the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the nature of the crash and the problems arising from it.

The committee, after studying the disaster, submitted its report to the Assembly on March 9, 1962. Since legal actions for damages resulting from the accident are now pending in the courts, no legislative measures to compensate the victims of the crash were recommended at this time.

DEAR MR. UNRUH: In compliance with your request of January 9, 1962, the following is a Progress Report of the Assembly Interim Committee on Legislative Representation.

On July 19, 1961, letters were sent to all registered legislative advocates who represented city, county and state governments asking if they saw need to have a meeting on the lobbying activities on the city, county and state level. From the replies received, it was indicated that there was no need at the present time to have a hearing on this matter.

In the latter part of July, 1961, the list of legislative advocates, their addresses and their associations was printed, and all legislative offices and legislative advocates were either mailed copies or furnished them if their offices were in the Capitol. The number amounted to 515 legislative advocates with association registrations of 492.

On September 27, 1961, an opinion from the Legislative Counsel was received with regard to the reporting of advocates' expenses during the interim period. Copies of this opinion were forwarded to all registered legislative advocates informing them that if they had expenses of over $25 for any one month they were required by law to file a Form 3 with the Legislative Budget Committee. All advocates received a copy of this opinion for their files.

On November 2, 1961, an opinion from the Legislative Counsel was received with regard to the reporting of testimonial dinner tickets. This opinion was for information purposes and copies of it were furnished to the Budget Committee and it will be distributed to advocates rather than mailed.

An opinion was received by this committee from the Legislative Counsel asking for a detail of the statement "influence of legislation" as it pertains to legislative advocates. This opinion, dated January 30, 1962, was printed in the Assembly Daily Journal on February 6, 1962. All advocates have this opinion available to them through the Legislative Budget Committee.

A check system has been worked out between the Legislative Budget Committee and the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation. When the Form 3 (expense form) has been received by the Legislative Budget Committee, a list of those received is sent down and checked off in the Assembly Committee office. Each advocate has a separate expense card for each association he is registered for showing the months of 1961 and his registration date. The cards for 1962 are prepared and January Form 3's are being processed. This way it is shown at a glance which advocates are tardy in the filing of forms due on the 15th of the month. If the advocates have not had expenses of over $25, they are not required by law to file this form.

The Form 3 has been revised with a space to show the months for which the advocates have been inactive. The new Form 3, along with the check list, should come out to a balance of months for which they had expenses and those which had none. If there is a month missing, it will be called to the advocates' attention so that they may file the form.

Many questions have been raised in the interim period with regard to this filing. A study of this area during the coming interim should provide a satisfactory solution. A meeting on this subject for the purpose of clarification to the Legislature and to the legislative advocates is expected.

During the interim period also the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation was informed of many changes in the list as published in 1961. There have been many terminations and they have been noted. The committee also had requests for the Legislative Advocates book by advocates, libraries and interested individuals. These requests were complied with, with the exception that copies of the advocate books were held out for the Budget Session of the Legislature and the committee furnished all legislative offices with an extra copy during the 1962 Budget Session. The notations of changes in addresses of the advocates and terminations and some other corrections were made and distributed to all offices rather than having it reprinted. The changes are not so numerous as to warrant another printing of the book during the coming interim period.

A meeting of the Legislative Representation Committee was held in Room 2170 on February 6, 1962. The purpose of the meeting was to call to the attention of the committee members the changes in registration of advocates and to pass on the applications of the new registrants. The committee passed on the list and it was printed in the Assembly Daily Journal on that date. Distribution was made on the same day of the supplemental list, and the copy of the advocates book held out for this purpose.

It has been the aim of the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation to put the sections of the Government Code which affect advocates into working order. Many advocates are not aware of the regulations of the code as they pertain to their filing of expense forms during the interim and, in a great number of cases, the committee has not been notified of terminations or changes in the registrations of advocates.

A new application form has been suggested to the Legislative Budget Committee so the advocates can list a telephone number. This number would be listed in the advocates book when it was compiled. Many requests have been received for telephone numbers where the advocates may be reached, and unless the committee has been notified beforehand, the numbers are not available.

It is hoped that this is the information requested of this committee. If you would like, I will be only too glad to discuss this matter with you. The committee is working to maintain the records of the Legislative Budget Committee and those of the Assembly Committee on Legislative Representation in close harmony. It has worked out well at present and it is anticipated that it will continue in the future.

Yours very truly,

CARL A. BRITSCHGI, Chairman

Reporting by Legislative Advocates—No. 687

DEAR MR BRITSCHGI You point out that subdivision (b) of Section 9906 of the Government Code requires a legislative advocate to file, between the first and fifteenth day of each calendar month, "so long as his activity continues," a report of money received and expenditures. You ask whether this requirement applies only during legislative sessions or is year-round.

In our opinion the requirement applies year-round so long as the advocate's activity continues.

Section 9906 of the Government Code provides, in part

“(a) Any person who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation by the Legislature of the State of California or the approval or veto of any legislation by the Governor of the State of California shall, before doing anything in furtherance of such object, register . . .”

“(b) Each such person so registering shall, between the 1st and 15th day of each calendar month, so long as his activity continues, file with the clerk and secretary a detailed report under oath of all money received and each expenditure of twenty-five dollars ($25) or more during the preceding calendar month in carrying on his work . . .”

The activity referred to—that of influencing passage or defeat of legislation or approval or veto by the Governor—can be carried on between sessions as well as during sessions. Subdivision (b) requires that so long as his activity continues, the advocate shall file the prescribed report “each calendar month,” and there is no language which qualifies this to mean “each calendar month during the session.” We therefore conclude that the reporting requirement applies year-round.

Very truly yours,

Testimonial Dinner Reporting by Legislative Advocates—No. 900

Question

DEAR MR. BRITSCHGI: You have asked whether a registered legislative advocate, under the provisions of the statute regulating legislative representation, must report the purchase of tickets to a testimonial dinner for a legislator. The receipts from the sale of such tickets will be used to finance the election campaign of the legislator.

Opinion

In our opinion such expenditures are not required to be reported.

Analysis

The provisions of the statute regulating legislative representation which are applicable to your question are Sections 9901 to 9903, inclusive, and Sections 9905 and 9906 of the Government Code. These are the provisions which require any person (including a corporation), except a political committee, who solicits, collects or receives money or any other thing of value to be used principally to aid, or the principal purpose of which is to aid, in influencing the passage or defeat of legislation, to report expenditures to the Legislative Analyst, and which also require any person (or corporation) who engages himself for pay for the purpose of influencing legislation to register and report expenses.

This office has consistently expressed the view that the purpose of these provisions is to require the reporting of only those expenditures which are made by persons who have solicited or received money for the purpose of influencing legislation, or who have engaged themselves for pay to influence legislation, and which are expended for that purpose or in the course of such activities. That is, it would appear that there must be specific intent to effect such purposes in order for the statute to be applicable to any given transaction.

With respect to this particular expenditure, there is apparent no intent except to honor a legislator for his past public services or at most to influence his re-election as a legislator. If it could be shown that the expenditure was made with the specific intent that certain prospective legislation might thereby be influenced, this could perhaps cause the statute to become applicable. However, the provisions regulating legislative representation are penal statutes and we do not believe that a court would give them such extensive application as to say that an intent to honor a legislator or to influence the election of a candidate for the Legislature is per se equivalent to an intent to influence legislation. To give such extensive application to these provisions would appear to be contrary to the accepted rules of the construction of criminal statutes. It is well established that a penal statute should be construed to reach no further than its words and that no person should be made subject to its terms by implication. Lobbying—No. 1297

DEAR MR. BRITSCHGI: You have furnished us with a copy of a letter received from a registered legislative advocate and have asked for our opinion on the questions raised by him. The pertinent portion of the letter reads as follows:

"During the interim I attend interim committees to listen to the debate and to report to my principals the trends in legislative matters. True, while before or after the meeting I might meet with legislators to pass the time of day. Now then, if I were to go to San Francisco to attend a Public Health Committee meeting and make no presentation and have no witnesses, are these expenses to influence the passage of legislation? Prior to now we have always been of the opinion that these were reporting ventures and no legislation was either passed or defeated at interim committees, and have not kept track of those expenses except for our principals to reimburse us. Is it your opinion or the opinion of the committee that we should file these expenses?"

In our opinion the legislative advocate should report these expenses if he attends such meetings pursuant to his engagement for the purpose of influencing legislation.

Section 9906 of the Government Code requires "Any person who shall engage himself for pay or for any consideration for the purpose of attempting to influence the passage or defeat of any legislation" to register "before doing anything in furtherance of such object." After registration such person must "so long as his activity continues, file . . . a detailed report under oath of all money received and each expenditure of twenty-five dollars ($25) or more during the preceding calendar month in carrying on his work." The report must also contain other specified information.

The "activity" referred to in Section 9906 is obviously activity involving (1) attempts to influence legislation (2) as a paid legislative advocate, or stating it in another way, activity undertaken pursuant to a contract to attempt to influence legislation and recognized by the parties to the contract as assisting in achieving the objectives of that contract. This construction of "activity" is supported by the requirement that a report be made of expenditures incurred "in carrying on his work"—a phrase which obviously covers expenditures for activities required by the contract.

Under the particular facts related to us the individual apparently is registered under subdivision (a) of Section 9906. Therefore, we assume that he has contracted for a consideration to attempt to influence legislation.

He must render monthly reports for periods in which his activity has continued. He must include in such report expenditures made in carrying on his work. Under the facts stated the individual's only "activity" is to attend interim committees, listen to the proceedings, and report to his principals the trends in legislative matters. If this is done pursuant to the contract whereby he engaged himself for pay or any consideration for the purpose of influencing legislation then his "activity" has continued and he would be required to render a report under subdivision (b) of Section 9906. Any expenditures made in connection with such activity would constitute expenditures made "in carrying on his work" and would have to be included in the report. We note that under the facts stated it appears that the individual is reimbursed by his principal for expenses incurred in connection with attendance at the interim committee meetings. This indicates that both parties to the contract recognize that the individual's activities in connection with the interim committee meetings are undertaken pursuant to his contract to attempt to influence legislation and that they will further the objectives of that contract. The acts of the parties under a contract afford one of the most reliable means of arriving at their intention (Commercial Discount Co. v Cowen (1941), 18 Cal. 2d 610, 615)

A. Summary of Interim Activities

1 Committee Hearings

a On August 9, 1961, your committee met in Monterey to organize for interim work. The committee held an informal discussion concerning the subject matters assigned for study. These included:

- (1) A B 358 (Rees, 1961), relating to the purchase of colored oleomargarine for state institutions.
- (2) H R 429 (Britschgi, 1961), relating to the study of the cost of labor in the production of milk.
- (3) A B 1259 (Porter, 1961), relating to unfair practices in the sale of milk and dairy products.
- (4) H R 244 (Belotti, 1961), relating to the production and marketing of manufacturing milk.

It was agreed to hear all measures assigned to the committee at each of its hearings in various parts of the State.

b On October 4, 1961, your committee met in Anaheim to hear witnesses from the State Department of Agriculture and from industry relating to A B 1259 and A B 358. Five witnesses testified regarding A B 1259 and four witnesses were heard on A B 358.

c On October 5, 1961, your committee met in Anaheim to hear seven witnesses testify regarding H R. 429 and six witnesses regarding H R 244.

d On January 30, 1962, your committee met in Petaluma and obtained testimony from 12 witnesses relating to A B. 1259, H R. 244, and H.R. 429.

2. Research

With the support of your committee, the State Department of Agriculture entered into a contract with the University of California to carry on studies relating to the pricing of milk for manufacturing uses.

Approximately 40 percent of the total commercial milk production of California is utilized for manufacturing purposes. Of this amount, about half is supplied from "excess" Grade A production and the remainder from Grade B or manufacturing milk. Thus, these two sources of supply of milk for manufacturing are in direct competition for the "market" for dairy products. Inasmuch as the Grade A portion of this supply comes under the price jurisdiction of the Bureau of Milk Stabilization but the Grade B (or manufacturing) portion does not, certain inequities appear to have resulted in the returns to some producers of manufacturing milk. Legislation designed to bring all milk prices under control has been introduced in the 1959 Legislature (S B 1167) and in the 1961 Legislature (S B 40), and both bills were referred for further study to the Interim Committee on Livestock and Dairies.

The present research project is designed to investigate procedures which might be used to establish prices for milk for manufacturing purposes. The specific objectives of this study are:

- a To analyze and evaluate the basis for establishing different use (price) classifications for milk for manufacturing purposes, and to determine the appropriate number of classes for such milk in California markets

- b To develop procedures for estimating appropriate price levels for milk used for dairy product manufacture

- c To devise a method whereby payments for milk for manufacture can be "pooled" to provide uniform returns to all producers

B. Proposed Studies

1. Tentative Hearings

In addition to the particular assignment to study A B 358, H R 429, A B 1259, and H R 214, attention has been called to several important and related problems. These include

- a The problem of unregulated Grade A milk which developed in 1959 after the establishment of a classified price system for Grade A milk for Class II and Class III purposes. In an attempt to handle the inequities which occurred, the stabilization and marketing plans were revised in October, 1961, but it is as yet too early to ascertain whether the desired result has been accomplished—eliminating the handling of over-contract Grade A milk on an unregulated basis.

- b The controversy over the definition of "distributor" in accordance with A B 777, Chapter 288, of the 1961 Session. Upon review of all types of licenses by the Bureau of Milk Stabilization, some operators failed to qualify within the department's interpretation of the law. Many of these operators have objected to the department's ruling that their licenses would not be renewed. Some administrative hearings and perhaps some litigation will be required for resolution of this problem.

- c The problem relating to the pricing of milk on a fat and solids not fat basis, in accordance with the provisions of A B 2742, Chapter 2146, of the 1961 Session. The establishment of minimum prices on a milk fat and nonfat basis, as required by the bill, has proved to be very difficult. Further hearings on the subject have been scheduled in the hope that an acceptable method can be determined.

d The problem of developing a single class of milk, without reference to pools, classes, or grades. It has been suggested that this could simplify the administration of a price plan, if it were possible to achieve.

e The problem of the general lack of knowledge about what charges go into the price of a quart of milk, particularly the labor cost component. More public information on this subject has been considered desirable.

C. Related Matters: Litigation

1. In March, 1960, an action was filed by the United States Government to enjoin the Director of Agriculture and the Attorney General from enforcement of minimum prices for fluid milk sold to military installations. In April, 1961, the court ruled that the Department of Agriculture could not enforce either its minimum producer prices or minimum wholesale prices in the sale of milk to military establishments. Although a Stay Order was issued in July, 1961, removing that portion of the injunction relating to the producer price, the department encountered difficulty in enforcing the minimum producer price. In a suit tried before the Tulare County Superior Court, the judge ruled that the State had no jurisdiction. The United States Supreme Court on January 15 advised the department it would hear the appeal from the Federal District Court decision, and it is hoped that a favorable decision will be obtained, thereby overruling the Tulare County Superior Court decision.

(Relating to this litigation, proposed legislation is expected to be introduced in the Congress of the United States authorizing the federal establishment of a prevailing Class I price for the purpose of milk sales to the federal government.)

2. In a recent lawsuit before the Santa Clara Court, a ruling had been made that dock operation and producer ranch operations are legally the same, there being no basis for distinguishing between the two for price purposes. If upheld throughout the State, this decision could have an important effect upon the present price differentials existing between the two operations.

It is anticipated that during the period prior to the 1962 Session, additional hearings will be held by your committee in various parts of the State as yet unrepresented. In addition, your committee is always interested in hearing from the industry and from the state enforcement agency on current problems encountered. These and related matters will continue to receive careful study.

House Resolution No. 391

Relating to marketing of petroleum products.

WHEREAS, The retail gasoline industry has been engaged in a statewide price war for many months, and

WHEREAS, Such chaotic conditions have existed in one degree or another in this industry for many years, and

WHEREAS, Many independent dealers and distributors are affected adversely to the point that many have had to go out of business after sustaining tragic financial losses, and

WHEREAS, Such conditions do not bring a compensating long range benefit to the consumer, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the subject matter of this resolution and any other matter pertaining to the marketing of petroleum products including the pricing thereof to wholesale and retail customers and conditions of rental and leasing of service station properties, be referred by the Committee on Rules to the proper Assembly interim committee for study and report thereon to the Assembly not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1963 Regular Session of the Legislature

Introduction

Benefiting from prior hearings and studies regarding the marketing of petroleum products, the committee members were cognizant of the complex problems involved in the business of retailing gasoline; and we were equally aware of the broad effect these problems could have upon the people of California and the economy of their communities

Also, the committee was convinced that the dealers, distributors, and producers of petroleum products were faced with continuing problems, which were deserving of attention and consideration.

Public hearings were scheduled with two major objectives as our guide and goals:

1. A thorough review and up-dating of the problems by hearing testimony by men from all segments of the industry who must cope with these problems daily.

2. To determine honestly and objectively what the State Legislature could contribute toward the solution of the problems in the best interests of all the people of California.

Interim Hearings to Date

August 14, 1961—The Military and Veterans Affairs Committee held its organizational meeting at the University of California, Riverside. Testimony was taken on S.B. 857, (Shaw), on the advisability of the State's acquisition of the former U.S. Naval Hospital at Corona for use as a veterans' home and hospital. The committee toured the installation.

October 16, 1961—The committee held a public hearing at the State Building, Los Angeles, on the following: A.B. 2344, (Rees), requires bid call for life insurance coverage for Cal-Vet program purchasers; A.B. 2731, (Rees), limits time veterans have to apply for Cal-Vet loans; A.B. 2915, (Marks), authorizes Cal-Vet loans for fallout shelters; A.B. 3070, (Meyers), appropriates $60,000 to reinstate claims services programs of veterans organizations, and H.R. 375, (Frew), military leave policies. Although not scheduled, the committee also heard additional testimony on S.B. 857.

November 7, 1961—The committee inspected the rehabilitation program at the California Veterans Home, Yountville, and took Northern California testimony on A.B. 2915, A.B. 3070 and H.R. 375.

December 11, 1961—The subcommittee on military service rights, chairmanned by Assemblyman Don Mulford, met in Sacramento to hear testimony concerning the rights of servicemen called from the reserves and National Guard to active duty as a result of the Berlin crisis.

February 5, 1962—The committee met in Sacramento to hear testimony on state civil defense preparations.

Future Plans

The committee presently has no plans for additional hearings, however, at some of the earlier sessions there were indications more information might be required before the committee can submit its final report to the 1963 Session. This is particularly true in the field of civil defense, which has been subject to rapid change in recent months. In this field and perhaps others, the possibility of the need for additional hearings cannot be ruled out.

Legislation Proposals

As of this date the committee has made one specific recommendation for legislation. It has urged Governor Brown to place on special call the subject matter of A B 2915, (Marks), relating to the authorization of Cal-Vet loan funds for fallout shelters.

Additional legislative proposals probably will be made in the committee's final report for the 1963 General Session.

PROGRESS REPORT OF THE ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON MUNICIPAL AND COUNTY GOVERNMENT

Thus far in the 1961-62 interim, the Assembly Interim Committee on Municipal and County Government has held three full committee hearings, in addition to its initial organization meeting. Following is a list of these hearings, together with the general topics considered at each.

1. October 4, 1961 (San Francisco)—Organization Meeting
2. October 25 and 26, 1961 (San Francisco)—Bay Area Regional Planning, Multi-Purpose Metropolitan District, State Metropolitan Advisory Body

3. November 16 and 17, 1961 (Los Angeles)—Multi-Purpose Metropolitan Districts, State Metropolitan Advisory Body, Investment of County Retirement Funds through Lease-Purchase Arrangements, Municipal Sewer and Parking Districts
4. January 17, 1962 (Sacramento)—Supervisory Redistricting; Authority of Boards of Supervisors over Independent Special Districts

Résumés follow of committee activities in each of the subject areas it has studied (including studies still in progress) together with a list of anticipated future studies

Studies Which Have Been Concluded

1. Bay Area Regional Planning (A B 2560—Rumford, A B 3044—Meyers) Hearings have disclosed that local jurisdictions in the San Francisco Bay area feel that necessary regional planning can be, and in fact is being, satisfactorily accomplished by voluntary agreements and by voluntary associations (e.g. Association of Bay Area Governments) Need for legislative creation of such a district has not been demonstrated
2. Municipal Sewer District Acts of 1911 and 1939 Committee hearings have indicated that consolidation of these statutes is both feasible and desirable The committee is preparing suitable legislation for introduction at the 1963 General Session
3. Parking Districts
  - (a) Vehicle Parking District Act of 1943 and Parking District Act of 1951 (A B 1847—Bradley)

A suggested consolidation of these two statutes has been shown to involve little opportunity for genuine consolidation Wording similar provisions of each act similarly would effect some technical improvement
  - (b) Municipal Parking Revenue Bond Law of 1949 This statute is apparently unnecessary It has apparently never been used and never will be Legislation will be prepared to repeal it

Studies in Progress

1. Metropolitan Areas (A B 2728—Rees; A B 1530—Rees)

Hearings in both the San Francisco and Los Angeles metropolitan areas have elicited little expression of support, either popularly or from local jurisdictions, for areawide multi-purpose districts as a practicable solution to problems of metropolitan organization Proposals for a state metropolitan advisory body encountered similar reaction At the present time the policy of local jurisdictions toward multi-purpose districts is in a state of flux The League of California Cities, which had formerly endorsed the principle of the multi-purpose district, withdrew its endorsement after the 1961 legislative session until its policy could be fully re-examined at a state-wide meeting That meeting, held in Sacramento on February 1 and 2, produced a strong policy statement disapproving multi-purpose districts The County Supervisors Association of California, while not withdrawing its former endorsement of the principle of multi-purpose districts, has emphasized that this policy may well change as a result of a spring conference of that organization. An additional hearing may be held.

- 2 Investment of County Retirement Funds Through Lease-Purchase Arrangements (A B 1921—Bradley)

Such contracts between a county and a county retirement fund are alleged to be of questionable constitutionality because they enable a county to incur long-term debt without approval by the electorate. They are also assailed on the grounds that the interlocking nature of a board of supervisors and a county retirement fund board makes difficult any attempt at arms length dealing. Finally, such agreements are alleged to have a generally adverse effect on the marketability of California municipal bonds. The committee is endeavoring to determine the truth of these allegations and to decide upon the propriety, worth and need of such agreements. No future hearings are anticipated.

- 3 Supervisory Redistricting—(A B 2100—Bradley, A B 2323—Burton).

It has been amply demonstrated that county supervisory redistricting is not performed on any regular basis and that in many counties large population changes have occurred since previous redistricting efforts. Numerous arguments have been advanced, however, that population equality should not be the sole dominant factor in redistricting, the factors of assessed valuation and rural representation have been stressed as equally important alternatives. The committee's present efforts are directed at finding a suitable formula for regular supervisory redistricting which will achieve some measure of population equality. No future hearings are anticipated.

- 4 Authority of Boards of Supervisors Over Special Districts (A B 2853, 2855, 2856—Bradley)

The committee hearing on this subject was exploratory in nature and centered mainly on the general question of whether boards of supervisors should be allowed to initiate consolidation or dissolution proceedings in special districts within their jurisdiction. There has been general approval of this type of power provided appropriate procedural safeguards would be established. No future hearings are anticipated.

Anticipated Future Studies

1. Improvement Acts of 1911, 1913, 1915

Committee action will be directed at consolidating, restating and generally clarifying these important but sometimes confusing and contradictory statutes.

2. County Employees (A B 2092—Rumford; A B 2673—Waldie).

The committee plans to explore proposals—

(a) to establish a prevailing rate wage standard for county employees, and

(b) to require compulsory civil service in counties with a population of 25,000 or greater.

3. Construction in County Road Camps and Industrial Farms (A B 192—Hegland)

The committee plans to review the present limitations on the amount of construction, improvement or repairs which may be done by inmates of industrial farms or road camps on the facilities thereof

MR. SPEAKER AND MEMBERS OF THE ASSEMBLY A total of six hearings and five field trips were held by the Assembly Interim Committee on Natural Resources, Planning, and Public Works and its subcommittees during the interim period from June, 1961 through February, 1962

Roadside Fires

The committee held a hearing in Arbuckle on October 17, 1961, on roadside fires on state highway rights of way at which time the Northern California Fire Chiefs' Association presented the results of a questionnaire on this problem which had been circulated among all the fire districts north of Fresno County. This questionnaire detailed information on the number of roadside fires, the equipment and manpower furnished by the districts to suppress these fires, and the cost to each of the districts involved in such fire suppression. This was found to be a complex problem and another hearing on the subject was held in Sacramento on February 19, 1962.

Forest Practice Act

At Eureka on October 19, 1961, the committee received testimony on the logging practices on the California North Coast and other phases of the Forest Practice Act. Various suggestions for the revision of the Forest Practice Act were presented by the industry representatives.

On October 18 the committee toured the Mendocino National Forest observing brush conversion. Of particular interest was the controlled burning, conversion of chamise to grass, making all resources of forest lands—soil, water, wildlife and recreation—fully productive in accordance with the multiple use principle. On October 19, 1961, the committee toured up the divide to the coastal slopes of the main Redwood belt, arriving in Eureka for the afternoon hearing on October 20. The committee toured the Simpson Lumber Company operations on October 21, and after a short briefing by their chief forester, the group boarded special company buses to travel on private truck roads to see at first hand the company's North Fork logging operations.

The Harlow Fire

At the urgent request of Assemblyman Gordon Winton, the committee scheduled a hearing in Fresno on October 30, 1961, in order to hear testimony relative to the Harlow Fire in Madera County which burned in excess of 42,000 acres, cost two lives, destroyed some 80 to 90 homes and businesses, completely wiped out the communities of Ahwahnee and Nipmawasee and cost somewhere in the neighborhood of $2,000,000

Subcommittee on Fort Funston

The subcommittee met in San Francisco on October 31, 1961, to hear testimony on A B 3120 which provides funds for the acquisition of Fort Funston as a state park. On November 1, the subcommittee was conducted on a tour of the Fort Funston property. In the November 7 election, the City of San Francisco voted bonds to purchase the Fort Funston property from the federal government.

Subcommittee on Bay and Water Pollution

The Subcommittee on Bay and Water Pollution heard testimony on December 27, 1961, in San Francisco relative to the following bills: A B 3057, public officers elected to water pollution control board; A B 3089, adding two members to State Water Pollution Control Board; A B 3091, industrial waste and sewage discharges; and H R 408, investigation of pollution of waters of California. The problems of water pollution are continuing ones and it will be necessary to schedule further hearings on these subjects during the ensuing interim.

Testimony was also heard on A J R 45, establishing a federal water pollution control research facility in California, and the subcommittee was conducted on a field trip to view various locations in the Bay area for such a facility on December 28.

Fire Problems

On February 19, 1962, the committee heard further testimony at a hearing in Sacramento on the following subjects: (1) The use of chemicals as a fire prevention measure on roadsides and forest lands; (2) Air and ground contracts for emergency fire fighting equipment, and (3) Adding auxiliary booster pumps to 100 Civil Defense fire trucks to convert them to mobile units for fire suppression. Legislation will undoubtedly be introduced on the last item at the 1963 Session of the Legislature.

Proposed Hearings

It appears that a hearing on pollution should be held in Southern California. Speaker Unruh, the University of Southern California and other interested parties have indicated a strong desire for such a hearing for the area south of the Tehachapies.

One additional hearing is scheduled to be held in Bakersfield in April relative to a proposed wilderness area in Kern County. Proposed dates are now scheduled for April 23 and 24.

Other Activities

In an effort to secure information on the use of excess equipment by the various soil conservation districts throughout the State, a questionnaire was circulated among the districts inquiring as to their need for such equipment. The compilation of data secured from this questionnaire is available in the committee office.

Chairman Lowrey was invited to participate in a Conference on Land and People held in Washington, D.C. on Monday, January 15, 1962, at the invitation of Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman. In his capacity as Chairman of the Natural Resources Committee, Mr. Lowrey was authorized by the Speaker to attend this conference.

Respectfully submitted,

ning and Public Works

Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health

Authorization and Organization

The Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health, created by House Resolution No 361 of the 1961 Regular Session of the Legislature, was by the terms of that resolution, assigned, "the subject matter of the Health and Safety Code and the subject matter of the healing arts in the Business and Professions Code, all uncodified laws relating thereto, and other matters relating to the public health." In addition, the following specific topics were assigned to the committee by the Assembly Rules Committee

- (1) Air Pollution (A B 1228, A B 2406, H R 411)
- (2) Cosmetology (A B 244, A B 1056, A B 1057)
- (3) Fire Protection (A B 132, A B 3024, H R 296, H R 380)
- (4) Hospitals and Medical Facilities (A B 567, A B 843, A B 1279, A B 1550, A B 1942, A B 2738, H R 447)
- (5) Detention of Mentally Ill (A B 2519)
- (6) Narcotic Addict Treatment (H R. 300, H R 353)
- (7) Radiation Protection (H R 331)
- (8) Trailer Parks (A B 496, A B 2029)

In order to facilitate the study of these matters, the committee organized into subcommittees. Their activities are reported as follows

Subcommittee on Air Pollution and Radiation Protection

Members: Thelin (Chairman), Cameron, Marks, Rumford, Wolfrum

Meetings: Los Angeles, October 10, 1961
 San Francisco, November 7, 1961
 San Francisco, December 11, 1961

Fuel Additives and Smog

On October 10, 1961, the subcommittee held a hearing on the composition of motor fuels and the use of fuel additives in relation to the creation of smog.

The central issues discussed at the hearing involved the effects of lead additives (tetraethyl lead and tetramethyl lead) on the exhaust fumes, their further effect on smog conditions, and finally their impact upon the health of the people of California. Testimony was offered on the three points by witnesses from the Citizen's Anti-Smog Committee, the Department of Public Health, the Ethyl Corporation, the Kettering Laboratory of the University of Cincinnati, and the Western Oil and Gas Association.

The Bureau of Air Sanitation of the Department of Public Health is at the present time undertaking a continuing study of lead blood levels. As of February 26, 1962 the data have supported the conclusion which the department had offered in October; as yet there is no evidence that exposures to lead in community air pollution have resulted in a hazard to health, in increasing body lead storage, or in chronic lead poisoning.

X-Ray Equipment Regulation and Licensing

November 7, 1961 the subcommittee heard testimony on the progress made by the Department of Public Health in drafting regulations governing X-ray devices. H R 331 directed the Public Health Committee to study the regulations being promulgated and report its findings to the Assembly by March 9, 1962. This subject, therefore, has been covered in a separate report which concludes that X-ray equipment used by doctors and dentists produce 95 percent of man-made radiation to which the public is exposed, and thus of necessity these machines should be subject to registration and inspection. It was also found that the regulations drafted for this purpose conform closely to the authoritative standards set by the National Committee on Radiation Protection, and that the regulations adopted by the Board of Public Health on December 8, 1961 have been accepted by the practitioners in the medical and dental professions.

Fallout Shelters and Public Agencies

During the afternoon session of November 7, the subcommittee heard testimony from state and local officials on the status of plans for fallout shelters within their governmental jurisdictions. The Director of the State Disaster Office testified that a uniform shelter program is part of the national defense posture, and that it is expected that Congress will take action on a program during its 1962 Session. Testimony was also heard that several localities are going ahead with programs.

The investigation of radiation problems and public health is one of the areas of continuing study by the Public Health Committee.

Bay Area Air Pollution Control District Tax Increase

Assembly Bill No. 1228 would have raised over a two-year period the maximum tax rate of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District from the present one cent to a maximum of two cents. Testimony at the December 11, 1961 hearing of the subcommittee indicated that the board of directors of the district feels that a maximum of one and six-tenths cents would be sufficient to finance an increased field inspection program. There was no opposition presented at the hearing, but complete accord on the implementation of the program has not been reached among the six counties affected. The committee has been informed that no further action will be requested during the special session.

A burning permit bill, A B 2406, will not be studied by the subcommittee.

Subcommittee on Cosmetology

Members: Hegland (Chairman), Cunningham,
Dills, Holmes, Lunardi, Thelin

Meeting: San Diego, October 11, 1961

At this hearing, attended by approximately 250 persons, testimony was given on A B 244, A B 1056, and A B 1057. Each of these bills would alter in a significant manner the cosmetology sections of the Business and Professions Code. There is general agreement that the code is deficient in several aspects and further study is anticipated in view of the active interest in this subject.

Subcommittee on Fire Protection

Members: Mulford (Chairman), Coolidge, Dahl, Grant, Wolfrum

Meeting: Los Angeles, December 1, 1961

Containers for Flammable Liquids

Assembly Bill No 132 relates to the storage and sale of flammable liquids in glass containers. At the direction of the chairman of the subcommittee, the State Fire Marshal has held a meeting with interested parties and differences have been resolved. The committee is planning no further study on this subject, and legislation will be introduced in the 1963 Session.

Hotel Fires

The purpose of Assembly Bill No 3024 was to find a means of reducing hotel fires caused by carelessness with cigarettes. Under such an amendment guilt on the part of the person in whose name a hotel room was registered would have been presumed. Legislative Counsel Opinion (No 1176 Dec 27, 1961) states that such an approach would be unconstitutional as a violation of due process. No legislation or further study of this measure is contemplated.

H.R. 296—Fire Protection

The subcommittee at the time of its hearing in Los Angeles held discussions with representatives of the Los Angeles City Fire Department relative to the staggering losses in Bel Air and Topanga Canyons, and toured the entire area to observe the loss of property and watershed. It was demonstrated in the Bel Air fire that undoubtedly homes with wood shingle roofs suffered a higher incidence of damage. In the opinion of the subcommittee further investigation on this subject appears to be in order.

Subcommittee on Hospitals and Medical Facilities

Members: Dahl (Chairman), Cameron, Coohdige, Cunningham, Dills, Mulford, Rufford, Wolfrum

Meetings: Los Angeles, November 2 and 3, 1961; Oakland, November 27 and 28, 1961

This subcommittee has conducted hearings on six bills, as well as inquiring into the future building requirements of the Department of Public Health, and an examination of the compliance with state regulations by nursing homes in Los Angeles City and County.

A B 567—proposed that hospitals licensed by the State be required to file with the State Department of Public Health a schedule of fees and charges for all services and goods ordinarily provided by the hospital. The committee heard testimony that there was not a pressing need for such legislation since there was no evidence that abuses in billing by hospitals were occurring.

A B 813—was introduced due to evidence that out-of-state laboratories have been issuing test results from medical specimens without actually examining the specimens. The Chief of the Laboratory Field Services of the Department of Public Health indicated at the hearing that the use of unlicensed, unscrupulous, out-of-state laboratories is one of the most important uncontrolled issues facing the State at the present time. Proposals for remedying the problem are now under consideration by the committee, and legislation is anticipated for the 1963 Session.

A B 1279 and 1550—Testimony was also heard on two proposals to require the sale of certain drugs to be carried out under the supervision of a registered pharmacist, and to further regulate the distribution of drugs in hospitals

A B 1912—The present law does not permit a local district hospital to hire doctors to provide emergency care. This bill was introduced to alleviate a particularly pressing problem of emergency facilities in a district hospital in Alameda County. Alternative means of remedying the situation are being explored by local jurisdictions and the medical profession, and no further hearings are planned.

A B 2738—Testimony was presented on this proposal relative to the transfer of responsibility for the filing of birth and death certificates from the county recorders in certain counties to the county health departments, and indicated that with new advances in microcopying, the epidemiological needs of county health departments can be met without further legislation.

H R 447—Inquiry was made into the factors associated with the present location in Berkeley of the Department of Public Health, its plans for expansion due to increases in its legislatively-determined work load and health research, and the attendant problems of a change of location to Sacramento. The subcommittee has referred the matter to the full committee for further hearings.

Subcommittee on Narcotics and Mentally Ill

Members: Marks (Chairman), Cunningham, Dills, Grant, Holmes, Mulford, Thelin, Wolfrum.

Meeting: San Francisco, November 6, 1961

A B 2519—Relates to detention of the mentally ill, and a hearing on this subject will be held within the next few months.

Exempt Narcotic Prescriptions

Testimony was heard at the November 6 meeting on exempt narcotic prescription procedures particularly as related to changes proposed in A B 2582 introduced in the 1961 Session. The Bureau of Narcotic Enforcement recommended that certain medicinal narcotic preparations prescribed on a single copy prescription be placed on a triplicate prescription system reportable to them. Witnesses testified there was not sufficient justification for a change in the present law.

Subcommittee on Trailer Parks

Members: Lunardi (Chairman), Grant, Hegland, Holmes

Legislation referred to this subcommittee has been set aside upon advice from the sponsors that the issues would be satisfactorily resolved by recent legislative action permitting the Division of Housing to promulgate rules and regulations governing recreational and temporary trailer parks. Hearings will not be held unless it is found that accord cannot be reached between the industry and the Division of Housing.

The Assembly Interim Committee on Public Utilities and Corporations was created by House Resolution No 361 of the 1961 Legislative Session. This interim committee has held five meetings during the period June 1961 through February 1962, as follows:

July 28, 1961—Los Angeles—Organizational Meeting

September 13, 1961—Newport Beach—H R No 222

November 2, 1961—San Francisco—H R No 222

December 11 and 12, 1961—Los Angeles—A B No 152

February 15 and 16, 1962—San Francisco—Air Carriers

House Resolution No 222, relative to licensing of boat operators.

A progress report, as required by this resolution, was filed with the Assembly on February 5, 1962, and printed in the Assembly Daily Journal on February 6, 1962.

In the study of licensing of boat operators, considerable testimony was received relative to the overall study of boating safety and education required by House Resolution No 352. Since the studies required by these resolutions are of interrelated subjects, the committee felt that any recommendation on licensing of boat operators could not be made pending the completion of the study into the whole field of boating.

Some preliminary conclusions can be reached concerning secondary problems in this field.

1. The lack of safety requirements and operator licensing of sightseeing vessels operating on non-navigable state waters (sightseeing vessels operating on navigable waters are controlled by the United States Coast Guard) is an area where corrective legislation is indicated.

2. The failure to maintain records on citations issued for California boating law violations results in an inability for local justices to determine previous violations by boating operators. Before any effective decision can be made on licensing of boat operators a proper record-keeping program on citations issued and disposition of cases must be established.

3. Testimony received to date indicates a decided lack in enforcement of boating regulations. Further study on this subject will be included on studies under House Resolution No. 352.

A B 152—California Commercial Air Operators and Air Service:

Two meetings have been held to date on the desirability and necessity of regulation of wholly intrastate airline and air charter operations. This committee has received widely diversified testimony on the need for this type of control, ranging from support by individual communities to relative consistent opposition by the airline industry and charter operators. This committee received a thorough briefing of the federal government's activities from Washington representatives of the Federal Aviation Agency and Civil Aeronautics Board.

While additional studies will still be required on this subject, a secondary problem of lack of uniform insurance requirements for commercial operating aircraft appears to exist. This committee will watch with interest proposed legislation before the current session of Congress prior to additional hearings on this subject.

The following items have been assigned to committee staff for preliminary study and investigation:

House Resolution No. 416—Natural gas supply

House Resolution No. 417—Car rentals

House Resolution No. 448—Los Angeles Metropolitan Transit Authority

* House Resolution No. 352—Regulations of boating

* Assembly Bill No. 1552—For-hire vessels

It is anticipated that public hearings on the above listed subjects will be held after the conclusion of the preliminary staff investigations.

1. Committee Hearings

Following the adjournment of the 1961 Regular Session, the Assembly Rules Committee assigned 48 items (38 bills and 10 resolutions) to your Committee on Transportation and Commerce for study during the current interim. To date, the full committee and the Transportation Safety Subcommittee have held seven days of hearings and received testimony from 106 witnesses on 20 of the assigned items.

On September 14, 1961, your committee met in San Francisco to consider A B 2102 (Bruce F. Allen), relating to motor vehicle sales, and A B 2796 (Meyers), relating to motor vehicle repair shop licensing.

On September 15, 1961, your committee met in Redwood City to consider A B 2264 (Bradley), relating to minimum age for drivers' licenses and H.R. 262 (Dahl), relating to weight restrictions on city streets.

On November 15, 1961, your committee conducted an exhaustive hearing devoted exclusively to various proposals for periodic motor vehicle inspection: A B 639 (Rees) and A B 2135 (Chapel); H.R. 150 (Ralph M. Brown) and H.R. 323 (Chapel).

A hearing scheduled for November 16, 1961, in Los Angeles was canceled at the request of Assemblyman Carrell, author of H.R. 394 (relating to auto dealers and sales practices) which was to be heard at that hearing. The subject matter has not been rescheduled.

On November 17, 1961, your committee held a hearing in the Palm Springs City Hall on A B 641 (Dahl), relating to glazing materials in auto glass.

2. Staff Research

As directed by House Resolution No. 323, an intensive comparative study was initiated on periodic motor vehicle inspection systems currently operative in other areas. To date, all states and cities having some type of inspection program have responded to the committee's request for information and material. A complete analysis of this material will appear in the committee's final report to the 1963 Legislature.

Similarly, a comparative study directed by House Resolution No. 349 (Thomas) is under way on the establishment and operation of port authorities in various areas of the United States, Canada and South America.

3. Related Activity

During the period covered by this report, your committee was presented at a Joint Meeting on Highway Safety Compacts called by the Western Governor's Conference and the Western Interstate Committee on Highway Policy Problems. These groups will meet again in 1962 on driver licenses and vehicle safety equipment legislation to be presented to the California Legislature in 1963 and committee representatives will be in attendance to assist in drafting these proposals.

B. Proposed Studies

1. Tentative Hearings

Immediately following adjournment of the 1962 Budget Session, your committee tentatively plans a hearing on sand blasting and blowing problems and efforts of the Division of Highways to cope with this situation on state highways in desert areas.

A two-day hearing has been scheduled for late August, 1962, on seven bills and resolutions authored by Assemblyman Meyers, all relating to various aspects of transportation facilities and planning in the San Francisco Bay area.

A two-day hearing-field trip will be conducted in 1962 on the desirability and feasibility of establishing a port authority for the operation of the Los Angeles and Long Beach harbors.

No additional meetings are contemplated on those subject matters already heard unless committee members desire further information not readily obtainable by conference or correspondence.

2. Staff Research

During the remainder of the interim, the comparative studies of vehicle inspection and port authorities cited above will be completed. Additionally, a project will be undertaken to implement ACR 85 (Mills), relating to the effectiveness of New Jersey's driver license suspension and revocation system and accident prevention clinics.

C. Transportation Safety Subcommittee

1. Committee Hearings to Date

Pursuant to paragraph 2 of House Resolution No. 227, Chairman Beaver appointed the following members of the full committee to constitute the Assembly Interim Subcommittee on Transportation Safety: Edward M. Gaffney (Chairman), Frank P. Belotti, Joseph M. Kennick, Vernon Kilpatrick, W. Byron Rumford, and Chet Wolfrum (ex officio). At the request of the subcommittee chairman, the full committee secretary and consultant have acted in staff capacities for the subcommittee.

On October 19, 1961, the subcommittee held a meeting in Los Angeles to consider right-of-way proposals (A B 's 1653, 1654, 1655, 1656, Wolfrum, A B 's 2245 and 2246, Holmes), auto tail light legislation (A B 2581, Kennick, and A B 2612, Porter) and school zone markings (A B 67, Carrell, and A B 1331, Grant)

On October 31, 1961, the subcommittee met in San Francisco to discuss compressed airbrake safety devices and administration of Section 26310 of the Vehicle Code. A subsequent hearing and field trip on this subject was held at the Institute of Transportation and Traffic Engineering in Richmond, December 5, 1961. Both sessions drew more than capacity crowds.

2 Proposed Studies

The subcommittee will continue its investigation into vehicle equipment and rules of the road proposals assigned for study by the full committee and two tentative hearings have been scheduled, one for the Bay area and the other in Los Angeles.

B. Proposed Studies

1. Tentative Hearings

During the remainder of the interim, the subcommittee contemplates conducting four hearings on the following subjects: lumber trucking loading and unloading requirements (Eureka), vehicle lighting equipment and highway signs and markings (Bay area), seat belts and other safety equipment (Los Angeles); and farm labor transportation and implements of husbandry problems (Fresno).

2. Field Trips

The subcommittee will conduct two field trips to investigate the adequacy of runaway truck escape ramps on the Grapevine and Cuesta Grade highways, and to investigate the possibility of such additional facilities as may be necessary. These field trips will be designed to implement a motion unanimously adopted by the subcommittee at its San Francisco hearing on October 31, 1961.

Areas of Study

1 Ground Water (H R. 179)

The resolution directing this study calls for an examination of the "legal, physical, economic and managerial problems of full utilization of the ground water basins of this State." These underground basins supply slightly more than one-half of the total water used annually in California. The committee, therefore, is approaching its ground water studies on the broadest possible basis.

The continued depletion of these ground water reserves in many areas of the State, particularly in certain parts of Southern California, has become an acute problem. Although in recent years several revolutionary recharge projects have been instituted in these areas by local districts, the serious threat to this vital water supply remains. Additional ground water problems result from sea water intrusion in our coastal areas.

The committee's seven days of ground water meetings held thus far were primarily to assess the nature and severity of ground water problems, to learn what local areas are doing to remedy these problems, and to learn more about the relationship of these ground water problems to the surface supplies to be provided by the State Water Facilities.

There has been virtually no significant ground water legislation in the past and interest in ground water matters has developed only in recent years. The committee has found that the lengthy court procedures for adjudication of pumping rights which now exist are further complicated by a paucity of pumping records and geologic information on ground water basins.

Experience indicates that because of these factors several years of further experimentation and analysis undoubtedly will be required before comprehensive legislation can be drafted which will provide answers to our major ground water problems on a statewide basis. Consequently, further field hearings will be held during the remainder of this year. Drawing upon the material collected at these field hearings,

* Subcommittee individual ground water bills referred to the committee will then be considered

2. Expenditure Control (H.R. 368)

The complex subject of internal fiscal control of expenditures for the State Water Facilities by the Department of Water Resources under the continuing appropriation authority of the Burns-Porter Act is being studied by a subcommittee (Assemblyman Carley V. Porter, Chairman). A public hearing was held in August and staff work in this regard is still being undertaken. However, the subcommittee submitted a detailed progress report on its initial findings to the Speaker of the Assembly on January 2, 1962. Further study of this subject is anticipated.

3. Relocation Agreements (H.R. 435)

The Central Valley Project Act includes special procedures (Water Code Sections 11590-11595) for the execution of agreements between the Department of Water Resources and public utilities and state agencies for the relocation of utility and state agency property needed to make way for state water projects. These procedures were studied by this committee during the 1959-60 interim and the modifications in these procedures which were proposed at the 1961 Session (A B 2136) have been referred to further interim study.

House Resolution No. 435 requests the Department of Water Resources to submit proposed relocation agreements to the committee 30 days prior to execution and authorizes the committee to study these agreements and to hold public hearings on them "if the committee . . . finds a hearing is appropriate to protect the public interest."

The committee has limited the agreements studied to those involving more than $100,000 and thus far has reviewed several agreements. At this date it has not been necessary to hold any public hearings on relocation agreements, but this study is a continuing one and hearings may be held in the future.

4. Saline Conversion and Nuclear Energy

For several years a subcommittee (Assemblyman Jack A. Beaver, Chairman) has conducted a continuing investigation of current saline water conversion and nuclear energy developments on the state and national level. A hearing of the subcommittee was held in December 1961 to receive the latest information available and to review the State's activities in these areas. Particular attention is being directed by the subcommittee to the possibilities of utilizing nuclear energy to meet power requirements of the Feather River Project. Further hearings by the subcommittee will be scheduled from time to time.

5. Study of District Laws (H.R. 434)

House Resolution No. 434 directs the committee to "study the subject of the laws relating to the organization, powers and duties of water districts and to direct the committee to submit an analysis of existing district laws and the reasons for their variations . . ." The committee staff is compiling this information, which is intended to serve as a source document for the Legislature. No hearings have been scheduled on this subject, which will continue for the remainder of the interim.

6. Other Studies

Most of the individual bills assigned to the committee for study pertain either to general programs of assistance for local projects or specific project appropriations. Hearings will be held on these bills during the summer and fall of 1962. It is anticipated that these hearings will profit from information becoming available through the continuing investigations and planning activities of the various state agencies.

ASSEMBLY INTERIM COMMITTEE ON WAYS AND MEANS*Progress Report 1962 (February)

The Assembly Interim Committee on Ways and Means is considering eight subjects during this interim period. They are: 1—State Long-Range Budgeting and Forward Planning, 2—Special Funds; 3—State Purchasing, 4—Capital Outlay; 5—Leave Pay, 6—Lake Earl, 7—Institutional Costs, 8—Tourist Trade.

An organizational meeting of the entire interim committee was held in Monterey on September 7, 1961, under the chairmanship of Assemblyman Jesse M. Unruh, Los Angeles. At this meeting preliminary discussions of all study subjects were held.

Following the election of Mr. Unruh to the Speakership of the Assembly, Assemblyman Robert W. Crown, Alameda, was named Chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

On November 20, 1961, at Los Angeles, a second meeting of the entire Assembly Interim Committee on Ways and Means was held, focusing on the long-range budgeting study but including also progress reports by subcommittee chairmen and others involved in the studies.

Long-Range Budgeting and Forward Planning

The study of Long-Range Budgeting and Forward Planning is being considered by the committee as a whole. This is an attempt to find and propose methods of overcoming the weaknesses of year-to-year budget development by looking to the fiscal effects of programs over a five-year or longer period. Preliminary research in this subject has been contracted to the firm of Griffenhagen-Kroeger of San Francisco, which will present a report to the committee before the close of the interim period.

At the Los Angeles meeting, Mr. Louis Kroeger presented an outline for the long-range budgeting study indicating that this would necessarily be a pilot study yet one which would attempt to advance to the point of outlining forecasting and programming techniques that will be directly applicable by the Legislature to actual budget-making processes.

Special Funds

The Special Funds study is also under consideration by the committee as a whole. This is a continuation of a legislative program started during the 1961 Regular Legislative Session. The objective is to inquire into those areas where special funds might be eliminated by incorporation into the General Fund to permit more flexible legislative and administrative control in the economical utilization of state moneys.

State Purchasing

The Subcommittee on State Purchasing, pursuant to H.R. 451, is looking into the relative costs of various methods of textbook adoption and school supply purchasing. A hearing was held in Fresno on December 20 and 21, 1961, at which progress on the recommendations of the Ways and Means Committee Report of April 27, 1961, regarding textbook production and disposition was surveyed. It was found that movements had been made in the recommended directions, but major problems remained in production cost accounting procedures and statewide distribution procedures.

This subcommittee will hold about five additional hearings on this subject matter.

Capital Outlay

The Subcommittee on Capital Outlay, pursuant to H R 460, is surveying the relative costs of all methods employed by the State in acquiring office space. At a hearing in Sacramento on December 19, 1961, evidence was presented to indicate that the State generally fares better in owning rather than leasing its buildings, even when local tax losses are considered. However, other considerations enter, such as the duration of the State's need in a particular area.

Efficiency of utilization is also a key factor in ultimate costs to the taxpayer, and will be closely considered in subsequent hearings. Parking is another major consideration in state operated facilities, and the subcommittee will be investigating the possibility of establishing a standard policy for all departments as to acquisition and fees.

Also included in this subcommittee's work will be an investigation of possible misuse of state automobiles, pursuant to H R 407.

Leave Pay

The Subcommittee on Leave Pay, pursuant to H R 456, is studying the matter of leaves of absence for public employees. The study has been restricted to the areas of temporary military leave for training, leave for specialized job training, and under A B 64, leave for Civil Air Patrol search and rescue missions.

A nationwide survey of states' practices regarding temporary military leave has been conducted showing that in almost every case the privileges are less than those granted by California. Private industry in California generally allows less also, but several agencies have expressed concern that a cutback in state allowances might adversely affect the National Guard and Army Reserve programs. At least two public hearings are to be scheduled following the budget session.

Lake Earl

Pursuant to A C R 51, the Subcommittee on Lake Earl will hold hearings this summer to consider development and conservation problems in the Lake Earl watershed area in northwestern California near the Oregon border.

Institutional Costs

The Subcommittee on Institutional Costs is concerned with costs of maintaining inmates in state prisons and patients in state hospitals.

The major part of the subcommittee's work will relate to sentencing and parole practices of the prison authorities, considered especially from an efficiency standpoint. A first hearing on this subject was held on February 6 and 7, 1962. At least two subsequent hearings and visitations at various prisons are planned.

Information is being prepared in anticipation of the release later in 1962 of the Master Plan for Mental Hygiene, at which time the subcommittee will study its financial consequences.

Tourist Trade

The Subcommittee on Tourist Trade held its first hearing in Anaheim on January 11 and 12, 1962, at which time considerable support was expressed by public and private organizations for the establishment of a state office to coordinate general activity in aiding Califorma's tourist industry. It was reported that ours is the only state without such an office.

A major concern of this committee is the current overcrowding of existing parks and campgrounds and programs for developing new facilities, particularly in depressed areas of the State where recreation may be the only potential major industry. Further hearings in this field will be held in Monterey, San Francisco and Redding.

The Ways and Means Interim Committee has two additional bills from the 1961 Session under study, A B 2549 extending the period for which state highway funds may remain credited to counties for their use, and A B 3148 which would make expenditures from the State Highway Fund subject to the same budgetary and fiscal controls as other expenditures of state funds.

Subject: Joint Committee on New School Building Shelter Facilities Final Report

DEAR JESSE: I am transmitting herewith copies of the following:

1. Special report on shelters in schools prepared by the California Disaster Office
2. Transcript of committee hearing—January 22, 1962, Los Angeles.
3. Transcript of committee hearing—January 29, 1962, San Francisco

In addition to the two hearings, on March 5, 1962, the members of the committee and the California Disaster Office held an executive meeting to discuss the possible recommendations pursuant to Assembly Concurrent Resolution No. 113.

The committee came to the conclusion that it would withhold any recommendations at this time, but may be interested, in the future, in filing a statement with the Legislature that would be printed in the Daily Journals in regard to the Governor's proposal on the general school bond, which the committee understands will include some language pertaining to a shelter program.

Sincerely yours,

PAULINE L. DAVIS, Chairman
Joint Committee on New School

House Resolution No 331

Relating to X-ray equipment used in professional offices

WHEREAS, Assembly Bill No 1975, a bill having overall coverage of atomic power and ionization, contains provisions for the regulation and licensing of X-ray equipment used in professional offices, and

WHEREAS, The inclusion of such X-ray equipment was for the purpose of having legislation which could be the basis of agreements with the federal government on radiation control, and

WHEREAS, It has been asserted that statutes pertaining to X-ray equipment used in professional offices should be separate and distinct legislation and not combined with other problems of radiation, and

WHEREAS, That assertion was recognized by the members of the Public Health Committee when they provided that the portion of Assembly Bill No 1975 which relates to such licensing shall not take effect until July 1, 1962, and

WHEREAS, The delay in operation was provided with the intent that an interim study be made of the regulation and licensing of X-ray equipment and that the recommendations of such interim study be used as the basis for legislation in the event an item on such subject is included by the Governor in any special session, now, therefore be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is hereby directed to assign to the appropriate interim committee for study the regulation and licensing of X-ray equipment and to direct such committee to report its findings to the Assembly by the fifth calendar day of the 1962 Regular Session

Summary

The regulations dealing with X-ray machines in professional offices which have been promulgated by the Department of Public Health recognize the very important distinction between regulation of the X-ray machine and the professional use to which it is put. The inclusion within the Radiation Control Law of 1961 of the authority to regulate X-ray machines used in the healing arts permits a comprehensive approach to the problems of radiation which can work to the advantage of both the regulated and to the purpose for which the legislation was passed—the protection of the health and safety of the people of California.

Conclusion

There is no need at the present time for amendments to the Radiation Control Law sections dealing with X-ray machines in professional offices.

Introduction

In 1961 the California Legislature passed A B 1975, the Radiation Control Law, which had two closely related purposes:

- 1 To serve as a basis for the transfer of federal regulatory authority over sources of ionizing radiation to the State
- 2 To serve as a statutory framework for the issuance for the first time within the State of regulations dealing with X-ray machines (including fluoroscope machines) within professional offices

This report will refer to this second purpose.

The enactment by Congress of the 1959 amendments to the Atomic Energy Act (Public Law 86-373) portends to have a considerable effect upon the role of the states in the regulation of certain radioactive sources. Until these amendments were adopted, the federal government, specifically the Atomic Energy Commission, had virtually complete jurisdiction. The changes in the law provide for a decentralization of certain aspects of the regulation of radioactive sources to the state level providing that each state which applies for assumption of the responsibility meets A E C requirements.

As of February 1, 1962, California and 12 other states had passed legislation permitting them to enter into agreements with the A E C.<sup>1</sup> Section 25830 of the Health and Safety Code reads

The Governor on behalf of this State, may enter into agreements with the federal government providing for discontinuance of certain of the federal government's responsibilities with respect to sources of ionizing radiation and the assumption thereof by this State. Such agreements shall become effective only when ratified by law.

X-Ray Machines and Public Health

While the inclusion of authority within the Radiation Control Law to permit the Department of Public Health to issue regulations on inspection and operation of X-ray devices was not an integral part of the anticipated agreement with the A E C, the reasoning which led to the coupling of the programs centered on the fact that the type of hazard to the public health is identical. The effects of radiation are the same whether received from medical and dental X-rays, industrial exposure, or fallout. At the present time there are over 21,000 X-ray machines in California<sup>2</sup> producing an estimated 95 percent of the population's man-made exposure to radiation.<sup>3</sup> It is acknowledged that the reduction of medical and dental exposure by only a few percent would be "more than equivalent to eliminating all other sources of man-made radiation exposure."<sup>4</sup>

Unwarranted exposure to radiation must be avoided if the immense and acknowledged benefits from the use of atomic energy and X-rays are to be fully realized. Several studies have indicated that there is unnecessary exposure to patients and operating personnel as a result of faulty techniques and hazardous equipment. Even though an X-ray machine initially meets the manufacturer's standards and specifications, it should continue to be subject to inspection for compliance with state regulations. The National Committee on Radiation Protection after many years of maintaining that the public safety could be adequately secured through the method of "education and voluntary compliance" has recognized that "conditions are changing rapidly and that state control may become a necessity with the accelerating growth of radiation uses."<sup>5</sup>

Procedure in the Formation and Adoption of the Regulations

After the adoption of the Radiation Control Law, the State Board of Public Health appointed a 12-member Advisory Committee consisting of representatives from medicine, medical radiology, dentistry, medical physics, industry, labor, and local health departments. This group examined in detail and made revisions in the first draft of regulations prepared by the Bureau of Radiological Health in the Department of Public Health, based on model regulations proposed by the A E C, the U S Public Health Service, and the Council of State Governments as well as recommendations from the National Committee on Radiation Protection <sup>6</sup>

The Advisory Committee's action resulted in a second draft which was circulated to approximately 500 persons in affected professions and industries, followed by public hearings held October 17 in Los Angeles and October 20 in Berkeley. At these meetings the tentative regulations were subject to full discussion and subsequently a third draft was prepared by the Advisory Committee utilizing information received through oral and written comments that had been offered. After review by the Coordinator of Atomic Energy Development and Radiation Protection,<sup>7</sup> the State Board of Public Health on December 8, 1961, adopted the regulations. At this meeting no basic changes were requested.

The Regulations

These regulations add California to the list of at least 19 other states which have control programs for X-ray equipment.<sup>8</sup> The regulations adopted by the Board of Public Health consist of five groups.<sup>9</sup>

- 1 Registration of Sources of Radiation
- 2 Licensing of Radioactive Materials
- 3 Standards for Protection Against Radiation
- 4 Transportation of Radioactive Materials
5. Participation by Local Health Departments

It is group three, Article 7, dealing with "Special Requirements for the Use of X-rays in the Healing Arts," which is particularly relevant to this report. These requirements follow closely the specifications recommended by the most authoritative body on the subject, the National Committee on Radiation Protection.<sup>10</sup>

The Assembly Interim Committee on Public Health at its hearing on November 7, 1961 in San Francisco received testimony from interested parties on the regulations. No strong objections to the intent of these regulations, nor to their specific content were voiced. Dr. Eugene Ziegler representing the Joint Legislative Committee of the California State Dental Association and the Southern California State Dental Association, suggested that the necessarily highly technical language of the regulations should be translated into terminology which the practitioner could more easily understand and implement.<sup>11</sup> Dr. John Heslep, Acting Chief of the Bureau of Radiological Health has indicated to the committee that the bureau will issue a descriptive summary clarifying the requirements of the regulations which should resolve this difficulty.

The Implementation of the Regulations

The size of the inspection staff is closely tied to the fee of five dollars for each reportable radiation machine.<sup>12</sup> At the present time it is anticipated that approximately 2,000 machines per year will be inspected, with priority assigned to those areas where potential improvement is greatest.

we would prefer not to call this an inspection, actually because our hope is that the greatest purpose that can be accomplished by our people as they enter a practitioner's office is to point out to him some of the operational problems with respect to controlling unnecessary exposure and to convince him by rational argument that (he) should do certain things in certain ways to provide this protection<sup>13</sup>

With regard to the place of professional judgment he declared that, a point that I stressed was that we have no intent or desire of interfering with the professional judgment. What we're talking about really here are some physical engineering factors that influence the amount of radiation exposure in a procedure, and our intent is to make these factors as favorable as possible from this standpoint<sup>14</sup>

Memorializing John B. Long

WHEREAS, The Members of the Assembly are profoundly grieved to learn of the death of John B. Long, an outstanding member of the newspaper profession who made an immeasurable contribution to his profession, this State and our Nation over more than half a century, and

WHEREAS, John B. Long's distinguished and dedicated career began with his publication as a child of the "Daily Midget" a one-sheet newspaper which he circulated among his neighbors, and included, when he was 14, the posts of editor of his high school newspaper and, a year later, editor of his high school annual, and

WE TEACH PATRIOTISM

In the Elementary Schools

Los Angeles City Schools

Division of Instructional Services

PATRIOTIC, LOYAL, INFORMED CITIZENSDear Parents:*

One of our tasks is to develop in pupils from the earliest grades an appreciation of the gifts that are ours as Americans. As these pupils mature, we undertake to build an understanding of how these gifts were won for us, and the price that was paid.

The teaching of patriotism is based upon a dynamic, vital faith in American ideals. In our schools, we teach about the men, the ideals, and the institutions that have shaped our Nation's heritage. We are dedicated to an uncompromising belief in the worth and dignity of the individual.

Cooperation between the home and school is indispensable in the development of patriotic, loyal, and informed citizens. The sharing of this responsibility develops citizens who are committed to the strengthening and preserving of American ideals.

JACK P. CROWTHER

I believe in the United States of America as a Government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed, a democracy in a Republic; a sovereign Nation of many sovereign States; a perfect Union, one and inseparable, established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice, and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my Country to love it, to support its Constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its Flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

WHEREAS, These properties of the University of California are exempt from taxation and, consequently, make no financial contribution to the local support of the schools of the Albany Unified School District; and

WHEREAS, A considerable part of California industry is in defense contracts, strikingly exemplified in the Los Angeles-Long Beach area where 27 percent of the labor force is employed on such contracts, and

WHEREAS, California's extraordinary growth has been the result of some five major factors, two of these being defense based industries which received 56 billion dollars in defense contracts in 1961 and military establishments within the State which account for additional billions of defense monies spent here, and

WHEREAS, Termination or substantial reduction in these defense expenditures can result in sudden and serious disruption of the State's economy, and

WHEREAS, The impact on the individual employees and employers could be softened by effective economic planning and action, and

WHEREAS, If the universal desire for a lessening of world tensions is fulfilled, we should not then find that we are dependent on a defense oriented economy to achieve the material goals set by the people of this State, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Economic Development Agency is hereby requested to compile and submit to the Assembly information on the effects of a curtailment of defense spending in California and its recommendations as to the steps necessary to maintain full employment and a high level of economic activity in the event of such curtailment

Annual Report on Surplus Proprietary Lands Property Acquisition Division—Department of Finance

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE
SACRAMENTO, February 28, 1962

*Hon. Glenn M. Anderson
President of the Senate
Hon. Jesse M. Unruh
Speaker of the Assembly*

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with the requirements of Section 11011 of the Government Code, submitted herewith is the "Annual Report to the State Legislature on Surplus Proprietary Lands", by the Department of Finance.

On October 10, 1961, the department instructed each state agency under the subject "Annual Inventory and Report of Excess State Land," to review all lands under its jurisdiction and submit a report thereon to the Department of Finance. The instructions read in part as follows: "The report will in all cases include a statement that a review of all lands owned by the agency has been made, and will list those lands determined to be excess. Lands previously reported as excess shall not be included in the current report."

In response to the above, the various agencies have declared 11 parcels comprising 212.4 acres to be surplus to their foreseeable needs. The salable properties, having an estimated value of $372,010, are described in detail in the body of this report. It is recommended that bills be passed in the manner prescribed in said Section 11011 by each house of the Legislature, in this, its current session, authorizing the sale, exchange or other disposition of these properties. The department has caused such bills, now before you, to be introduced for this purpose.

Since commencement of the present surplus property disposal program established by the Legislature in 1951, the Department of Finance has caused approximately 7,490 acres of land to be sold or permanently encumbered and returned to the tax rolls with the exception of those properties conveyed to local tax-exempt governmental agencies. The cumulative total revenue resulting from the department's activities over the years has been $6,832,491.12 including $2,527,237.12 produced in the past calendar year. This latter amount includes proceeds from the sale of five parcels to state agencies operating almost entirely on funds derived from non-state sources.

The volume of sales in 1961 increased substantially over previous years. In spite of this the revenue did not reach the amount forecasted.

A serious setback to the sales program occurred early in 1961 when the surplus portion of the Fairview State Hospital site in Costa Mesa, containing 351 acres and valued in excess of $4,000,000 became the subject of litigation instituted by the former owners who are demanding reversion of title. The department's Property Acquisition Division was in the process of announcing the sale date for this land, divided into 8 salable units, when the Board of Control received notice of the action. Due to its effect on the marketability of title, further action is being withheld until this cloud is dispelled.

With the advent of President Kennedy's energetic program for disposal of unused federal government installations, the unit handling the disposal of surplus state lands was directed to give its attention to the acquisition of federal lands fitting programmed needs of the agencies. Federal regulations provide for granting public agencies substantial discounts from fair market value, depending on intended use of the property. Thirty-seven (37) surplus U.S. Government properties were investigated by the division, with negotiations now under way for the acquisition of four parcels at an expected savings to the State of approximately $7,650,000. The division's activities in this field achieved direct benefits for the State, far offsetting the resultant slowdown in sales of state lands. A summary of the parcels offered to the State last year is contained in Supplement "C" of this report.

The need for action was implied and taken on legislation enacted in 1961, wherein directives required conveyances at no cost or, as distinguished from the larger more valuable properties at hand, for relatively low dollar volumes. These parcels represented nearly half those authorized for disposal.

Late in the year, the Property Acquisition Division also initiated a program whereby surplus properties of certain agencies, such as the Division of Highways, the Reclamation Board, and the Department of Water Resources, exempt from the provisions of Section 11011, are first made available to other state agencies before being offered on the open market. Based on its proven value with respect to federal and other state lands, this new program is expected to provide further benefits and savings to the State. Commencing in the 1963 report, results of this practice will be described in detail.

Your attention is directed to Supplements "A" and "B" herein, which respectively set forth in detail all parcels disposed of in 1961 and the progress made on those yet unsold. Unless otherwise specified by the enactment, all parcels conveyed in fee were first made available to the various state and local agencies, who expressed no need for them.

Respectfully,

HALE CHAMPION Director of Finance

House Resolution No. 91

Relating to the financial burdens of the Albany Unified School District arising from attendance of pupils residing on property of the University of California

WHEREAS, No less than 10 percent of the pupils enrolled in the schools maintained by the Albany Unified School District are children of students of the University of California residing on properties of the University in housing facilities provided for married students; and

WHEREAS, These properties of the University of California are exempt from taxation and, consequently, make no financial contribution to the local support of the schools of the Albany Unified School District; and

"136.1—For payment of overtime, to be allocated by the Department of Finance to the Department of the California Highway Patrol, in augmentation of Item 136, in such amount as will make sufficient money available to pay members of the California Highway Patrol in the classification of state traffic sergeant and state traffic officer for overtime working hours of duty performed in addition to those hours spent in the regular duty status, payable from the Motor Vehicle Fund -----

742,000

The purpose of this appropriation is to increase the available man-hours for road patrol and to limit any state traffic sergeant or state traffic officer to the expenditure of a maximum of 80 hours of compensatory time off in the fiscal year 1962-63. This shall not be construed as prohibiting the expenditure of compensatory time off earned by these personnel in fiscal year 1961-62.

These funds shall not be used to pay individuals for overtime

in the performance of any of the following duties

- 1 When in travel status
- 2 When in a training status
- 3 When assigned to desk or office duties
- 4 When attending or participating in competitive pistol matches
- 5 When participating in monthly pistol qualifications
- 6 When attending monthly unit organizational meetings
- 7 For time in excess of actual hours worked when in "callback status"

The above limitations shall not preclude or be construed as preventing the Personnel Board or the Department of the Califor the Highway Patrol imposing any additional limitations which they may deem necessary for the proper administration of payment of overtime"

Memorandum to: Professional organizations relative to increase in state college instructional personnel salaries.

The undersigned constituted themselves an unofficial task force to seek a special augmentation in the budget. This was the reason for their abstention on the amendments proposing such increase on the Assem-

REMARKS BY MR. MONAGAN RELATIVE TO ASSEMBLY BILL NO. 1

Mr. Speaker and Members:

I do not know whether I appear before you as the farcical leader of the task or as leader of the task "farce" as Mr. Crown has so aptly identified us. In either case, no long, dramatic, impassioned, inflammatory statements are necessary at this time.

Most apropos of the occasion would be the remarks of Abraham Lincoln, who stated that the world will little note nor long remember what we say here. However, the people of California will long note and remember what we do here this year and for many years to come.

We have been challenged by the Governor and by the majority party leaders to reduce the budget that the Governor refers to as austere and balanced. We accepted this challenge, knowing that the job would be difficult. Mr. Crown has already alluded to the fact that the Legislature has no control over a major portion of the finances of the State of California. In addition, many political implications are involved, as the majority party attempts to protect—and properly so—our Governor, who is a member of their party. It would be extremely difficult for them to propose any substantial cuts in a budget that the Governor has referred to as finely balanced and austere.

Mr. Crown has also referred to our nonappearance before the Ways and Means Committee. We were waiting for the Ways and Means Committee to properly perform its function and, if they had met the challenge of major reductions in the budget, it would not have been necessary for us to make any additional suggestions.

Now let us talk about the related facts to this problem. The Administration in this budget is spending down to their very last nickel. Surplus, estimated at the end of the current fiscal year, is minute in comparison to a nearly $3 billion budget. Even under the most rosy of economic conditions and if everything they say comes to pass, they still must balance their budget by pulling out of thin air a $6 million forced savings program.

We have heard a great deal of conversation about a balanced budget. Let's properly place this in focus. This budget is no more balanced than my meager budget at home. They are doing this by using up the last dollar of a surplus created by the largest tax increase in the history of California in 1959; by transferring moneys from special funds to the General Fund that will never again be available, and by use of $141 million in bonds, a substantial portion of which the people of California have not yet authorized.

We have noted in the last four years a 45 percent increase in state expenditures, that is parallel to only a 13 percent increase in population.

The most fantastic of their suggestions is that the revenues for the State of California will increase by better than 10 percent in general.

funds in the next year. The figures show that in the last 10 years, discounting 1959, we have averaged only a 7 percent increase in revenues. Under the best of circumstances, these revenue trends do not measure up. They are based on extremely optimistic estimates that are sharply in doubt, even more so now that President Kennedy stated only last week that the "economic performance has fallen below expectations". A 1 percent decrease in these revenue estimates is equivalent to more than $25 million and is the real reason why we have attempted to find reductions in the budget or additional revenues to offset this eventuality.

All services of government required for and requested by our citizens have some merit and are only limited by our ability and willingness to meet these obligations and responsibilities by paying the price either in taxes or in long-term debt.

I would have far more respect for the Executive Branch and the Department of Finance if they had honestly faced the facts as they exist and asked for the necessary increase in taxes that are required to meet this gigantic expenditure program, as detailed in the budget. Election year politics, of course, do not permit this candid approach.

I have a great deal of respect for the legislative process and for the integrity of Mr. Crown, the members of the Ways and Means Committee and all of my colleagues. It is my hope that they would meet the challenge of economic chaos ahead before presenting this budget for our consideration. We have waited until the last moment to suggest ways of bringing the budget in balance, because of the experience that we have noted in the Ways and Means Committee where million-dollar augmentations have been made and eleventh-hour reductions have been instituted without any witnesses or full consideration.

Today we had before us amendments that would have made it possible to reduce this budget by approximately $15 million. All were rejected by the majority party. Other specific suggestions have been made that would meet our legislative responsibilities in this economic challenge, but all have been ignored. Under conditions of both the current and forecast of our state expenditures and revenue program, it is imperative that we reduce spending. Although all programs of state expenditures have some merit, it is my contention that we cannot afford all in every degree. In the form that we have before us, this is not even the Governor's budget and I would suggest that even he would not approve it.

I ask for a 'No' vote.

Report of Capitol Building and Planning Commission

CAPITOL BUILDING AND PLANNING COMMISSION

Hon. Jesse M. Unruh
Speaker of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento

DEAR MR. UNRUH: Pursuant to Assembly Bill No. 2896, Chapter 2018, Regular Session 1961, the Capitol Building and Planning Commission is pleased to report the successful completion of the architectural competition for the proposed Governor's Mansion.

The competition was conducted in accordance with the rules of the American Institute of Architects for such competitions and with the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 2986. The unanimous choice of the jury of award was the entry of Worley K. Wong, Allen Don Fong, H. W. Namitz and Terry Tong, San Francisco. It was the opinion of the jury that this entry seemed to possess the true feeling of California, and met with great skill the double function of a Governor's Mansion.

The second award was made to Herbert D. Kosovitz, San Francisco, the third award to William Guy Garwood, Palo Alto, and the fourth award to Louis Angelakis and Paul Bailly, Beverly Hills.

The winning designs were selected on February 17, 1962, from a group of 10 designs selected earlier by the jury from among the 197 entries submitted in the first stage of the competition.

The awards were made by a jury consisting of Pietro Belluschi, Dean of the School of Architecture and Planning, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, who served as chairman; Frank W. Kent, Director of the Crocker Art Gallery, Sacramento; Stephen C. Pepper, Professor of Philosophy, Emeritus, University of California; and Lulah Maria Riggs, Santa Barbara Architect; William W. Wurster, Dean of the College of Environmental Design, University of California; and Daniel J. Nacht, Sacramento architect, served as the professional advisers.

In accordance with the provisions of Assembly Bill No. 2986, the architects of the winning design will be appointed to prepare the working drawings and specifications for the Mansion. In this connection the jury of award concurred with the earlier recommendation of the Capitol Building and Planning Commission that the apartment house located at one corner of the block site be removed at an early date in order to assure the privacy of the Chief Executive's family and to fully realize the magnificent dignity of the winning design.

Respectfully,

ALBERT M. DREYFUSS, Chairman
 Capitol Building and Planning Commission

Relative to a study of the Antelope Valley-East Kern Water Agency

WHEREAS, There is considerable doubt as to whether all of the land within the Antelope Valley-East Kern Water Agency can be benefited by being within the agency; and

WHEREAS, Both houses of the Legislature found it desirable to exclude certain lands from that agency by approving Assembly Bill No. 776 of the 1961 Regular Session, and

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Assembly Bill No 13:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 28, 1962

To the Honorable Members of the Assembly and Senate

Assembly Bill No. 13, "An act to amend Section 6956 of, and to add Section 6956.1 to, the Business and Professions Code, relating to license fees of collection agencies, to take effect immediately" in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This is an emergency bill for the reason that the additional revenues for which it provides are necessary to enable the Collection Agency Licensing Bureau to carry out effectively the functions conferred on it by law.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Assembly Bill No 13 as an emergency measure

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G BROWN, Governor

"Sec 36. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

There exists an extreme shortage of physical facilities for the operation of the custodial, mental treatment, educational, administrative, military and other agencies of the State government, the present facilities being entirely inadequate due to great increases in population and added governmental responsibilities. The capital outlay appropriations in this budget are all in continuation of an existing program to remedy the above-said shortage of facilities and to promote and sustain the economy of the State. If they are not available for expenditure on July 1, 1962, the existing program will be delayed. The expeditious correction of such condition and the efficient operation of the State's business required the immediate availability of the new capital outlay appropriation and the uninterrupted availability of reappropriated capital outlay items contained in this measure. It is therefore necessary that this act go into immediate effect."

STATEMENT OF GLENN E. COOLIDGE

ASSEMBLY, CALIFORNIA LEGISLATURE

April 3, 1962

On April 2, 1962, I was serving as a member of the Free Conference Committee when I was advised that ACA 5, the reapportionment bill, was ready for vote in the Assembly I was excused from the Conference Committee to go to the floor of the Assembly to record a "NO" vote on this measure After having done so, I returned to the Free Conference Committee However, after I had left the Assembly, the vote on this bill was expunged because some members had voted for other members who were not present I was not made aware of the fact that the record had been expunged, and a new vote was being taken. Consequently the record shows that I was absent or not voting.

Had I been present instead of in the Free Conference Committee I would have voted against the reapportionment bill

TEMPORARY SUSPENSION OF ASSEMBLY RULE NO. 113

Mr. Hawkins was granted unanimous consent that Assembly Rule No 113 be temporarily suspended for the purpose of placing a call of the Assembly on any matter before the House.

PRAYER

The following prayer was offered by the Chaplain, Rev. Richard C. Dwyer:

Bless Us, O Lord, We Pray Thee, On this the beginning of another day. Guide rightly our actions that we, in our uncertain human wisdom, may know Thy holy will and do it. Bestow upon us the light of Thy Truth, that in all things we be guided by Thee and walk in Thy paths Through Christ, Our Lord —AMEN.

Letter of Transmittal
Reconnaissance Report on Upper Putah Creek Basin Investigation
 DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
 SACRAMENTO, April 3, 1962

Hon. Arthur A. Ohnimus
Chief Clerk of the Assembly
State Capitol, Sacramento, California

DEAR MR. OHNIMUS: I have the honor to transmit herewith Bulletin No. 99 of the Department of Water Resources, "Reconnaissance Report on Upper Putah Creek Basin Investigation," authorized under Item 256 of the Budget Act of 1960.

This bulletin presents basic data and information which identifies water problems of the Upper Putah Creek Basin and includes reconnaissance appraisals of various possibilities for development of additional surface and ground water supplies. The principal problem associated with water development in the upper basin is a provision in the water right permit granted to the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation for storage in Lake Berryessa on Putah Creek. This provision states that an annual amount of 33,000 acre-feet of water is reserved for upstream use, providing the water is put to beneficial use before it is needed for the purposes of the downstream Solano Project. The bureau estimates the firm yield of Lake Berryessa (except for the foregoing mentioned 33,000 acre-feet) will be utilized by 1974. Thereafter, the portion of the 33,000 acre-feet that has not been committed to use in the upper basin will be utilized in the service area of the Solano Project.

Bulletin No. 99 recommends that local interests continue to proceed with development of their water resources as fast as is economically possible so that the possibility for the loss of right to appropriate water which would be induced by the culmination of the Monticello Project, will be kept to a minimum. To that end, the information presented in this bulletin should serve to help the local people understand the nature and extent of their water problems and to reach agreement on the necessary steps that should be taken toward their solution.

Sincerely yours,

WILLIAM E. WARNE, Director

Above transmitted report referred by the Speaker to the Interim Committee on Water.

Letter of Transmittal

Bulletin No. 58—Northeastern Counties Investigation

DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, June 6, 1960

Hon. Edmund G. Brown, Governor, and Members of the Legislature of the State of California, and California Water Commission

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to transmit herewith the revised and final edition of Bulletin No. 58, "Northeastern Counties Investigation," preparation of which was initiated from funds provided by Item 249 of the Budget Act of 1954.

The preliminary edition of this bulletin, dated December 1957, was published and distributed early in 1958. In September and November of 1958, the Department of Water Resources and the California Water Commission jointly held four hearings to receive comments from interested individuals and agencies. After consideration of these comments, a number of revisions were made in this bulletin. In addition, pertinent comments received at the hearings have been included as an appendix to the bulletin.

This bulletin presents results of a comprehensive analysis of present and probable ultimate water needs of the 15 Northeastern Counties of California: Butte, Colusa, Glenn, Lake, Lassen, Modoc, Plumas, Shasta, Sierra, Siskiyou, Sutter, Tehama, Trinity, Yolo, and Yuba.

The estimates of future water requirements are predicated upon the full development of all natural resources, and include the requirements for irrigation and domestic and industrial uses of water, as well as for the maintenance of fish and game and for development of the recreational potential of these northern areas. The bulletin also contains estimates of limited ultimate mean seasonal water requirements for areas within the northeastern counties where the available water supply is inadequate to completely meet the ultimate water requirements.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Above transmitted bulletin referred by the Speaker to the Interim Committee on Water.

Letter of Transmittal

Bulletin No. 93—Saline Water Demineralization and Nuclear Energy in the California Water Plan

DEPARTMENT OF WATER RESOURCES
SACRAMENTO, December 30, 1960

Hon. Edmund G. Brown, Governor, and Members of the Legislature of the State of California

GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to transmit herewith Bulletin No. 93 of the State Department of Water Resources, entitled "Saline Water Demineralization and Nuclear Energy in the California Water Plan."

The various processes used in producing fresh water from the oceans, and the present and predicted future costs for the most promising processes are described in this bulletin. The possible application of nuclear energy to sea water conversion and to the energy demand for pumping water supplies developed by the State Water Facilities are discussed.

Although no saline water demineralization technique yet developed can compete with the costs of large-scale development of natural sources of water in California, it is probable that saline water conversion plants will have a definite place in the water program. The Department of Water Resources will continue to take a definite and continuing interest in those areas of research and development that may have promise of eventually producing low-cost converted water.

The study of the applications of nuclear energy to the various aspects of the problem of development of a practical and economic water program is of prime importance to the welfare of this State. The Department of Water Resources will maintain continued and detailed surveillance of developments in this field and their application to water development and distribution.

The information presented in the report should serve as an orientation to the complex problems of sea water conversion and the application of nuclear energy to California's water needs.

Very truly yours,

HARVEY O. BANKS, Director

Above transmitted bulletin referred by the Speaker to the Interim Committee on Water.

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Senate Bill No. 3:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 14, 1962

To the Honorable Members of the Senate and Assembly:

Senate Bill No. 3, "An act to amend Section 7729 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to the Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers" in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This is an emergency bill for the reason that the additional revenues for which it provides are necessary to enable the Board of Funeral Directors and Embalmers to carry out effectively the functions conferred on it by law.

I, therefore, recommend consideration of Senate Bill No 3 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

RESOLUTION TO INVOKE CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISION

The following resolution was offered:

By Mr. Winton:

Resolved, That Senate Bill No. 4 presents a case of urgency, as that term is used in Article IV, Section 15, of the Constitution, and the provision of that section requiring that the bill be read on three several days in each house is hereby dispensed with, and it is ordered that said bill be read the second and third times, and placed upon its passage.

CONSIDERATION OF SENATE BILL NO. 4

Senate Bill No. 4—An act to amend Section 2458 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to fees charged by the Board of Medical Examiners.

Recommendation of the Governor

In accordance with Article IV, Section 34, of the Constitution, the Governor presented the following communication recommending the consideration of Senate Bill No. 4:

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, GOVERNOR'S OFFICE
SACRAMENTO, March 14, 1962

To the Honorable Members of the Senate and Assembly:

Senate Bill No. 4, "An act to amend Section 2458 of the Business and Professions Code, relating to fees charged by the Board of Medical Examiners" in my opinion constitutes an emergency bill within the meaning of that term as used in Section 34 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, the consideration of which should not await the final enactment of the Budget Bill.

This is an emergency bill for the reason that the refund provision to which it is addressed results from an inadvertent error in certain 1961 legislation which should be corrected at the earliest possible time to avoid losses of revenue. There may be insufficient time remaining for its passage if it must await final enactment of the Budget Bill.

1, therefore, recommend consideration of Senate Bill No. 4 as an emergency measure.

Respectfully submitted,

EDMUND G. BROWN, Governor

Enlighten our minds with the gift of faith, strengthen our souls with the firmness and resolution of hope, enflame our hearts with the fervor of true love of Thee and our neighbor. Thus directed, encouraged and inspired may we render to Thee that service that will earn for us the reward promised to Thy good and faithful servants. We beg these things in the name of Jesus Christ Our Lord—AMEN

PRAYER

Almighty God, Just Judge and Loving Father, Help us to be aware of the solemn significance to be found in the holy season of Lent. Each one of us is conscious of his numerous sins, offenses and negligences. Give us the grace to repent our sins, to repair the injury of our waywardness and to do penance in this time of preparation for our final judgment by Thee. May we appear before Thee with a contrite and humble heart, worthy to have our souls washed whiter than snow by Thy forgiveness. Through Christ Our Lord—AMEN

PRAYER

O God, the Protector of All Who Trust in Thee, We pray for the good estate of this our beloved land that it may please Thee to preserve to us the blessings of an equal and impartial freedom. Unite in mutual understanding, men of alien race and faith, revive in all hearts a spirit of devotion to the public good, that strife and tumult may be appeased and justice and truth exalted. Enable us and all Thy people faithfully to discharge the duties of our different spheres, so that the Kingdom of Brotherhood and Peace may be hastened upon the earth and Thy will be done even as now it is done in heaven. Through Christ, Our Lord—AMEN
