Eternal God, We are grateful for the gift of memory, which brings to our immediate situation things in the past which have been creative and helpful, and gives us a launching platform for present decisions. We pray also for the ability to forget past slights, grievances, and alienations. May we not reopen old wounds. Give us the ability to learn from the past, but not have old prejudices dictate our present decisions. As Thou dost forgive us, may we forgive one another, and use these days for the maximum fulfillment of seeking to do Thy will, and serving our fellow man. In our Lord's Name.—AMEN

RESOLUTIONS

The following resolutions were offered

By Assemblyman Garrigus.

House Resolution No. 12

Relating to pupil achievement measures

WHEREAS, Legislation proposed during the 1965 Regular Session of the Legislature to grant increased local autonomy to school districts in the matter of curriculum scheduling was largely unsuccessful, and

WHEREAS, State law with regard to the subjects which must be taught and the hours during which they must be offered is specific and lacks flexibility, and

WHEREAS, The main emphasis of existing law is toward requiring the physical presence of students in the classroom, rather than on requiring a minimum level of student competency in any particular subject field, and

WHEREAS, With the advent of stronger unified school districts throughout the state, it can be expected that local school boards may become better equipped to make detailed curriculum decisions for themselves rather than to rely on existing state requirements, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is directed to assign to an appropriate interim committee for study the subject of replacing state curriculum requirements with "pupil achievement standards," and to direct such interim committee to present its findings, together with any appropriate recommendations, to the Assembly not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature

Resolution read, and referred by the Speaker pro Tempore to the Committee on Rules

By Assemblyman Lanterman

House Resolution No. 13

Relative to interim study of street sign procurement practices

WHEREAS, Local agencies of government and state government divisions and departments are fabricating in increasing volume street and directional signs by force account instead of contracting by competitive bids for the normal manufacturing processes, and

WHEREAS, Competitive bidding is the accepted method of supplying high quality standards of workmanship and materials at the most economical price; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Assembly Rules Committee is requested to assign the subject matter of this resolution to the Ways and Means Committee for study and to require the committee to report to the Legislature not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature

Resolution read, and referred by the Speaker pro Tempore to the Committee on Rules

By Assemblymen Knox and Marks:

House Resolution No. 14

Relative to a study on determination of county salaries

WHEREAS, The California Constitution requires the Legislature to regulate the compensation of the district attorney, county auditor, and members of the board of supervisors of each non-chartered county; and

WHEREAS, As a matter of practice the Legislature merely approves the recommendation of the board of supervisors and grand jury of the particular county, and

WHEREAS, The function of the Legislature in this area seeming to be unnecessary, there may be value to the idea of having the boards of supervisors determine such salaries or to find some other criteria for determining such salaries in the Legislature, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Rules Committee be directed to assign to an appropriate interim committee for study the subject of legislative provision of salaries of county supervisors, district attorneys and auditors, and to report its findings and recommendations to the Assembly no later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature

Resolution read, and referred by the Speaker pro Tempore to the Committee on Rules

SEC. 14. Chapter 35 (commencing with Section 6271) is added to Part 1, Division 2, of said code, to read:

CHAPTER 35. VEHICLES, VESSELS AND AIRCRAFT

Article 1. Definitions

6271 Except where the context otherwise requires, the definitions given in this chapter govern the construction of this chapter.

6272 "Vehicle" is as defined in Section 670 of the Vehicle Code.

6273. "Vessel" means any boat, ship, barge, craft, or floating thing designed for navigation in the water except:

(a) A seaplane,

(b) A watercraft of the type defined by subdivision (d) (2) of Section 651 of the Harbors and Navigation Code,

(c) A watercraft of a type designed to be propelled solely by oars or paddles,

(d) A watercraft of eight feet or less in length of a type designed to be propelled by sail.

A motor or other component of a vessel, whether or not detachable, shall be deemed to be part of the vessel when sold therewith.

6274 "Aircraft" means any powered contrivance designed for navigation in the air except a rocket or missile.

6275. Every person making any retail sale of a vehicle required to be registered under the Vehicle Code or of a vessel or an aircraft as defined in this article, as a retailer for the purposes of this part of the vehicle, vessel or aircraft, regardless of whether he is a retailer by reason of other provisions of this part

6276 Except when a vehicle is purchased outside this state from the manufacturer or from a vehicle dealer, whenever the purchaser of a vehicle is required to pay the use tax to the Department of Motor Vehicles, the sales price shall be presumed to be its market value at the time of the purchase as that value is determined to measure vehicle license fees imposed under Part 5 of Division 2 of this code. The presumption may be rebutted by evidence which establishes that the sales price was other than such market value

Article 2 Special Exemptions

6281 There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of, and the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, a vehicle required to be registered under the Vehicle Code or a vessel or aircraft, when such property is included in any transfer of all or substantially all the property held or used in the course of a business activity of the person selling the property, and when after such transfer the real or ultimate ownership of such property is substantially similar to that which existed before such transfer. For the purposes of this section, stockholders, bondholders, partners, or other persons holding an interest in a corporation or other entity are regarded as having the "real or ultimate ownership" of the property of such corporation or other entity.

6282 There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from sales of vehicles required to be registered under the Vehicle Code when the retailer is other than a person licensed or certificated pursuant to the Vehicle Code as a manufacturer, dealer, or dismantler.

6283 There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of a vessel or of an aircraft when the retailer is other than a person holding a valid seller's permit issued pursuant to Article 2 of Chapter 2 of this part.

6284 If a person is engaged in the business of selling vehicles, vessels or aircraft he shall not be excused from the requirements of Article 2 of Chapter 2 of this part, by reason of the exemptions provided in Sections 6282 and 6283.

6285 There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from the sale of and the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of a vehicle required to be registered under the Vehicle Code, or of a vessel or an aircraft, when the person selling the property is either the parent, grandparent, child or spouse of the purchaser and the person selling is not engaged in the business of selling the type of property for which the exemption is claimed.

Article 3 Auxiliary Collection Provisions

6291 Notwithstanding Section 6451, the use taxes imposed by this part with respect to the storage, use or other consumption in this state of vehicles required to be registered under the Vehicle Code and of vessels and aircraft as defined in this chapter are due and payable by the purchaser at the time the storage, use or other consumption of the property first becomes taxable. Delinquency penalties and interest with respect to use tax for vehicles registered with the Department of Motor Vehicles shall be as provided in Section 6292. Delinquency penalties and interest with respect to use tax for vessels and aircraft shall be imposed as if the due date of the tax were fixed by Section 6451.

6292 (a) When a vehicle required to be registered under the Vehicle Code is sold at retail by other than a person licensed or certificated pursuant to the Vehicle Code as a manufacturer, dealer or dismantler, the retailer is not required or authorized to collect the use tax from the purchaser, but the purchaser of the vehicle must pay the use tax to the Department of Motor Vehicles acting for and on behalf of the board pursuant to Section 4750.5 of the Vehicle Code.

(b) If the purchaser does not make timely application to that department, but is subject to penalty because of delinquency in effecting registration or transfer of registration of the vehicle, he then becomes liable also for penalty as specified in Section 6591 of this code, but no interest shall accrue.

(c) Application to that department by the purchaser shall relieve the purchaser of the obligation to file a return with the board under Section 6452

SEC 15 Section 6367 of said code is amended to read.

6367 There are exempted from the taxes imposed by this part the gross receipts from occasional sales of tangible personal property and the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of tangible personal property, the transfer of which to the purchaser is an occasional sale. This exemption does not apply to the gross receipts from the sale of, or to the storage, use, or other consumption in this state of, a vessel or aircraft, as defined in Article 1 of Chapter 35 of this part, or a vehicle required to be registered under the Vehicle Code. This section shall not preclude the exemption afforded under Section 6281

SEC 16 Section 6379 is added to said code, to read

6379 Payments under a contract in the form of a lease entered into prior to August 1, 1965, for the furnishing of retail store fixtures, building improvements and equipment which does not state a charge for sales or use tax reimbursement, shall be exempt from the taxes imposed by this part

6381 There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from the sale of any tangible personal property to

SEC 18 Section 6389 of said code is repealed

6389 ~~There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the gross receipts from sales of motor vehicles subject to registration under the Vehicle Code when the retailer is a person other than a dealer certificated under Section 11711 of the Vehicle Code, or a wrecker licensed under Sections 11500, 11501, 11502, and 11503 of that code, holding a valid seller's permit under Section 6068 of this code. This exemption does not apply to the gross receipts from the sale of a motor vehicle whenever the purchaser is not required to register the motor vehicle under the Vehicle Code and the sale is one of a series of sales sufficient in number, scope and character to constitute an activity requiring the person making the sale to hold a seller's permit.~~

SEC 19 Section 6422 of said code is repealed

6422 ~~If a purchaser of a motor vehicle from a person other than a dealer certificated under Section 11711 of the Vehicle Code, or a wrecker licensed under Sections 11500, 11501, 11502, and 11503 of that code, holding a valid seller's permit under Section 6068 of this code, claims that no use tax is due from him under this part, he may submit to the board through the Department of Motor Vehicles the facts on~~ which such claim is predicated, and if the board determines that no tax is due, it shall so certify to the Department of Motor Vehicles, which is then authorized to complete registration or transfer of registration of the motor vehicle without payment of the use tax.

SEC 20 Section 6390 is added to said code, to read:

6390 There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the rentals payable under a lease of tangible personal property (a) when such rentals are required to be included in the measure of the use tax or (b) when such property is situated outside this state

6391 There are exempted from the computation of the amount of the sales tax the rentals payable under a lease of tangible personal property for any period of time for which the lessor is unconditionally obligated to lease the property for an amount fixed by the lease prior to the operative date of this section and the lessor did not elect under Sections 6091 or 6211 to pay use tax measured by the amount of the rental charge

SEC 22 Section 6392 is added to said code, to read

6392 If it is established to the satisfaction of the board that sales or use tax has been paid measured by the sales price of property to the lessor, and the lessor has made no use of the property other than leasing it and has not made separately stated charges to the lessee for tax reimbursement, a credit shall be allowed to the first lessee of such property against use tax due from or payable by such lessee measured by the rental payments during the remaining period for which the lessee is unconditionally obligated to lease the property. The credit shall be the amount of the tax previously paid by the lessor, reduced by the amount of sales or use tax which would have been paid on rents payable prior to the operative date of this section had such rentals been subject to sales or use tax. This section shall be applicable only to a lease entered into prior to the operative date of this section

6401 The storage, use, or other consumption in this state of property, the gross receipts from the sale of which are required to be included in the measure of the sales tax, is exempted from the use tax; provided, however, that this exemption does not extend to the possession of, or the exercise of any right or power over, tangible personal property by a lessee under a lease

SEC 24 Section 6422.1 is added to said code, to read

6422.1 The board may provide for exemption certificates and other tax clearance certificates to be issued by it or by retailers selling vehicles as defined in Article 1 of Chapter 35 of this part. Such certificates shall be used to allow a completion of registration of a vehicle by the Department of Motor Vehicles. The certificates may indicate that the board finds that no use tax is due or is likely to become due with respect to the storage, use or other consumption of the vehicle, or that the tax has been paid or is to be paid in a manner not requiring the withholding of a registration or transfer of registration. The certificates shall be in such form as the board may prescribe and shall be executed, issued and accepted for clearance of registration on such conditions as the board may prescribe. The issuance, alteration, forgery or use of any such certificate in a manner contrary to the requirements of the board constitutes a misdemeanor.

The amount of the prepayment shall constitute a credit against the amount of the taxes due and payable for the quarterly period ending March 31, June 30, September 30, or December 31, as the case may be. This section is without application to taxes imposed under ordinances adopted pursuant to Part 15 (commencing with Section 7200) of this division nor to persons filing returns for other than quarterly periods.

(b) If the purchaser does not make timely application to that department, but is subject to penalty because of delinquency in effecting registration or transfer of registration of the motor vehicle, he then becomes liable also for penalty as specified in Section 6501 of this code, but no interest shall accrue.

SEC. 28. Section 6454 5 is added to said code, to read:

6454 5 If the person has made a prepayment pursuant to Section 6451 5, the person shall deliver the return for the quarterly period in which the prepayment is made to the board together with a remittance of the difference between the amount of the prepayment and the amount shown due by the return.

(a) The credit shall be only with respect to tangible personal property being depreciated over a period of more than one year for income tax purposes

(b) The credit shall not apply with respect to property the rentals of which are not within the measure of the sales or the use tax on and after August 1, 1965, or to property with respect to which the lessee is eligible to a credit under Section 6392

(c) The amount of the credit shall be 80 percent of the amount of tax reimbursement or use tax previously paid with respect to the property purchased on or after February 1, 1965, and prior to August 1, 1965, and 40 percent of the amount of tax reimbursement or use tax previously paid with reference to the property purchased on or after February 1, 1964, and prior to February 1, 1965

OPINION OF LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL

State of California
Office of Legislative Counsel
Sacramento, June 30, 1965

Honorable Jesse M. Unruh Assembly Chamber

Property Tax Exemptions—No 26663

Dear Mr. Unruh:

Question

Is Assembly Bill No 13, as introduced, within the scope of any item in the Governor's proclamations for the 1965 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature?

Opinion

In our opinion, it is not

Analysis

Assembly Bill No 13, as introduced, proposes to amend Section 210 of, and to add Section 222 to, the Revenue and Taxation Code. It would revise the provision relating to the householder's exemption from personal property taxation and would exempt other furnishings and personal effects from the tax

When the Governor has called a special session, the Legislature has no power to legislate on any subjects other than those specified in the proclamation, except to provide for the expenses of the session (Art V, Sec 9, Cal Const). The courts have held that it is mandatory that the Legislature only consider matters relating to, germane to and having a natural connection with the subjects placed on special call (Martin v Riley (1942), 20 Cal 2d 28, 39).

We have found no item in the Governor's proclamations for the 1965 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature which appears germane to the subject of personal property tax exemptions. Therefore, it is our opinion that such exemptions are not within the scope of the special call.

Very truly yours,

GEORGE H. MURPHY
Legislative Counsel
By Russell L. Sparling
Deputy Legislative Counsel

Two copies to Honorable Tom Carrell, pursuant to Joint Rule 34.

The following resolutions were offered.

By Assemblyman Unruh

House Resolution No. 30

Relative to social welfare

WHEREAS, Some county governments in California have expressed increasing difficulties in financing and administering social welfare programs, and

WHEREAS, The quality and scope of social welfare programs differ from county to county, and

WHEREAS, There is evidence that the maintenance of 55 separate county welfare administrations necessitates a duplication of necessary functions resulting in excessive overhead costs, and

WHEREAS, The county share of welfare costs falls inequitably upon the property taxpayer, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Committee on Rules is directed to assign to an appropriate interim committee for study the feasibility of relieving county government of various costs and responsibilities for social welfare services

By Assemblyman Z'berg.

House Resolution No. 31

Relating to planning for transportation

WHEREAS, The State of California is now the most populous and fastest-growing state in the Union, with the 1965 population of eighteen million expected to increase to twenty-eight million by the year 1980, and

WHEREAS, The State of California is possessed of a unique and rich variety and abundance of natural resources of land, water, minerals, wildlife, vegetation, and scenery, each of which is increasingly subject to the impact of continued rapid population growth, and

WHEREAS, An important dimension of meeting this explosive population growth is providing for the rapid, efficient, comfortable, and safe movement of large numbers of people and large quantities of goods from place to place, and

WHEREAS, The emphasis on planning for the movement of people and goods by the state is on providing highways and freeways for use by the individual automobile, and is producing an increasingly serious imbalance in meeting the need for balanced mass transportation throughout the state, with comprehensive planning being undertaken locally only when it becomes apparent that dependence on the individual automobile as the sole means of transportation fails to meet the total regional transportation requirements, and

WHEREAS, Annual travel mileage in California is expected to increase from 76 billion vehicle miles in 1962 to 200 billion vehicle miles by 1980, and motor vehicles from eight million in 1965 to sixteen million in 1980, and

WHEREAS, The attempt to meet this overwhelming demand by the independent planning of freeways and limited regional transportation systems does not appear to be the most effective long-range method of coping with this demand, and

WHEREAS, The placement of major transportation arterials has profound impact on the environment by irreversibly changing the land and resource use pattern in the immediate vicinity as well as determining the long-term economic growth potential of the area, and it is therefore of fundamental importance that the most comprehensive and meaningful evaluation possible be made of the number and location of regional transportation corridors, and

WHEREAS, A balanced, efficient, economical safe, comfortable, and articulated statewide system of mass transportation is of fundamental importance to the well-being of the people, to the orderly and responsible development of the natural environment, to the statewide tax structure, and to the growth and development of industry throughout California, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Assembly Committee on Rules is directed to authorize and direct an appropriate interim committee to ascertain, study, and analyze all facts relating to the development of a comprehensive integrated statewide transportation system, which takes cognizance of the interrelationships of all modes of transportation, including the latest scientific discoveries showing promise in this field, and to direct such interim committee to report thereon not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session of the Legislature

By Assemblyman Lanterman

House Resolution No 32

Relative to an interim study as to freeway reports

WHEREAS, In the annual report to the Governor and the Legislature on the activities of the Department of Public Works, Section 214 of the Streets and Highways Code requires that there be included a summary of all public meetings held by the department and of all hearings held by the California Highway Commission and full information as to the adoptions of locations as freeways during the year covered by the report; and

WHEREAS, The information as to the adoption of freeway locations contained in the most recent annual report, and particularly the information as to the adoption of the location of the proposed freeway on Route 210 in La Canada, does not meet the standards expected by the Legislature in the enactment of Section 214 of the Streets and Highways Code, in that the information is not full and complete, is misleading, and does not present an accurate reflection of the proceedings involved with the appropriate local governmental agencies, now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the Assembly of the State of California, That the Committee on Rules is directed to assign to an appropriate interim committee for study the subject of the practices and procedures of the California Highway Commission and the Department of Public Works with respect to the formulation and presentation of the information as to freeway location adoptions required to be included in the department's annual report pursuant to Section 214 of the Streets and Highways Code, and be it further

Resolved, That such interim committee shall report its findings and recommendations to the Assembly not later than the fifth legislative day of the 1967 Regular Session

House Resolution No. 33

Relative to Charles E Mier

WHEREAS, Mr Charles E Mier is leaving his employment after nine years as a Sergeant at Arms for the Assembly of the State of California in order to enter the life insurance business, and

WHEREAS, Mr Mier, a fifth generation Sacramentan and a graduate of Sacramento High School and Sacramento City College, has served the Assembly with honor and distinction in his post as a Sergeant at Arms and has earned the respect and esteem of the Members of this body and of his comrades, and

WHEREAS, While it is with regret that the Members have learned of Mr Mier's departure, they feel certain that he will be successful in his business endeavors, now, therefore, be it

Relative to commending Captain Charles H Kimes

WHEREAS, On June 28, 1965, 143 passengers boarded a sleek jet bound for Hawaii, completely unaware that they were soon to participate in a terrifying experience, and

WHEREAS, Within minutes after takeoff an explosion blew one of the powerful engines and 30 feet of wing off the plane, and

WHEREAS, In an exhibition of flying skill and unparalleled courage, he brought the smoking plane to a safe landing 19 minutes after takeoff, a feat which all agree was a miracle, and

Mr. Allen was granted unanimous consent that the following letter printed in the Journal:

Committee on Elections and Reapportionment

Sacramento, July 1, 1965

*Alan Ferdon, Esq., District Attorney
City Hall, San Francisco, California*

My Dear Mr. Ferdon The enclosed news story was filed in your city, either Wednesday, June 9, or Thursday, June 10, with the UPI, by a person titled, Cyril Stevenson, Jr, of the California Republican Association. His charges in this matter that I acted as a lobbyist for the Harris Voteromics Manufacturing or that there is any suggestion of a conflict of interest is entirely false.

I declare no hesitancy in stating that I have never been employed or received any compensation, nor do I own any stock in any voting device, tabulating equipment, nor does any member of my family. The only capacity in which I appeared before the Board of Supervisors in Los Angeles was in my official capacity as a member of the Assembly of the 63rd District and the chairman of the Elections Reapportionment Committee of the State Assembly.

Their records will show I made it explicit and clear that I did not represent or have any interest in any company whatsoever. These records consist of the transcription of actual verbatim testimony of the Board on the occasion of my appearance before it. I was informed by Gordon Nesvig, the Clerk of the Board that they would be willing to allow your investigator to hear the tape recorded testimony or they would be happy to furnish your office with a transcript made by a qualified reporter.

Dr. Joel Harris, Professor Emeritus of the School of Political Science, Retired, from the University of California at Berkeley, one of the inventors of a voting device had made a request that he be allowed to exhibit or to donate his machines for the purposes and use as a test measure in an assembly district in Los Angeles County. He informed me that a suggestion was made to him that it would be difficult to find any Member of the Assembly who would allow such a test to be conducted. As my committee was in the process of investigating these devices, I stated that I would volunteer my district for such a test.

My appearance before the Los Angeles Board of Supervisors was solely based on the Harris machine. I told them I would be willing to allow my district to be used for the trial of any device which had been tested and approved by the Voting Machines Commission of the State of California, which is comprised of the Governor, Attorney General, and the Secretary of State. We legislators have no influence in the selection of these machines.

Enclosed you will find a report filed by me as directed by the Senate Assembly for the interim studies on Elections and Reapportionment for 1963-64. Nowhere in this document will you find any personal recommendation of any voting equipment whatsoever. Such references are the reports of district attorneys and the election officials of each county.

My purpose in writing this letter is to ascertain your opinion on the desirability and feasibility for filing charges for criminal libel against this person who has no basis or foundation of fact whatsoever. I do not intend to file a civil libel action.

Recently the senior United States Senator of California, The Honorable Thomas Kuchel set the pattern when he, with great courage, filed a suit against individuals who attempted to assassinate his character.

We have only to look at the tragic record of the lives of men and women in public office whose lives and character have been ruined by false, unwarranted and scurrilous charges by individuals who do not know better, or the thoughtless meddlers and scandalmongers.

I have and always will repudiate that lunatic fringe, those fanatics, the barnacles on the body politic who use contemptible and venomous hatred to ride on the band wagon of both parties. No party should want them and the country doesn't need them. Those maggots and harpies of hate are the enemies of all good Americans.

I do not intend to stand idly by and be the melancholy victim anyone who seeks to use my good character for his personal aggrandizement. I think that it is your duty to determine whether this situation exists with respect to the statement made concerning my actions.

I am asking your office, because the act was committed in your county, to carefully investigate my statements and compare them with the statements of that individual who has made the statement. I think the only way to protect myself and other persons in public office is to make known to the public the true state of affairs.

I would appreciate your cooperation in this matter.

Very truly yours,

DON A. ALLEN, SR.

Eternal God, We are grateful for the beauty of this world. May we who live in city canyons receive uplift and inspiration from the mountains and lakes which inspire us by day and at night as we look up and see the stars we realize anew that the heavens declare Thy glory and the firmament shows forth Thy handiwork. In the midst of our creations of roads, buildings, and dull necessities, may we still preserve some areas of Thy creation where in solitude and beauty we may have our total perspective restored, and be equipped to return to the battles of life with a quiet center of Thy peace. Wilt Thou give to this assembly the needed rest during the summer so they may return to their strategic tasks in leading the people of this state. We pray in our Lord's name—AMEN

Twin City Observer-Sun Publishing Co., Inc.

THE TWIN CITY OBSERVER

Thursday, June 17, 1965

CALIFORNIA VOTERS CAST a shadow on their state's civil rights picture last year by defeating a fair housing proposal. But the California legislature recently made a move that could help to remove the stigma.

A new law requires the teaching of Negro history in California's high schools. The mandate states unequivocally: "The governing board of each high school district shall include only such textbooks which correctly portray the role and contribution of the American Negro in the total development of the United States and the State of California."

By this unprecedented legislative action, California becomes the first state in the Union to have such a law. In this unique position it stands as a beacon, lighting the way to educational revelations still unheard of in most of the nation.

When history books throughout the land are re-written to admit the Negro, at long last, into his rightful place in the saga of American life, the new era will mark the beginning of the end of the weary months and years of social upheaval and racial strife.

Columbia Valedictorian Cites Obligations
A Voice for Restraint on the Campus

Yoram B. Szekely—An Israeli who moved to New York in 1960, Yoram B. Szekely delivered this valedictory address at Columbia College. He was hissed and booed, the first time in Columbia history that a valedictorian was jeered by his classmates. His address is reprinted from the Chicago Sun-Times.

The occasion for which we are gathered here today marks for some of us the end of one stretch in the road of life. As such, it possesses a reflective quality. It provides us with an opportunity to stop for a while, turn back and reconsider some episodes and experiences of our four years on this campus. In doing so, we of course should cherish the good and the pleasant, but at the same time we must not ignore issues and events which could bear some critical examination.

I propose to devote the following remarks to one such issue, namely the problem of student involvement in political activities—not campus politics, but active involvement with national and international political issues.

A critical approach would not seem totally inappropriate, in view of the general apathy which has hitherto prevailed in this matter. Individual acts have been occasionally criticized by members of the faculty, administration and student body, but those were merely the more conspicuous manifestations of a wider problem.

Problem Untouched

The problem itself remained untouched. Not even after the unsavory outbreaks during the recent Naval Reserve Officer Training Corps ceremonies (in which a hundred jeering college students succeeded in blocking the commissioning ceremonies) was there any widespread tendency to question as such the right of students to engage in political activities while on campus. This right has been regarded as one aspect of academic freedom, and its denial was therefore held unthinkable.

Under these circumstances a small but vociferous student minority has been able to create an impression of numerical strength and influence which was quite out of proportion with reality.

Now is not the proper occasion to analyze the merits and demerits of the views propounded by this minority. We should rather consider the general problem in its relation to Columbia's academic practice and purposes.

A good portion of student political activity has involved confrontation with the university administration. Such affairs as the unionization dispute (when Congress of Racial Equality picketers staged a four-day sit-in and hunger strike to protest allegedly low wages paid to Negro and Puerto Rican cafeteria workers), the NROTC disturbance and demonstrations against certain foreign guests of the university (such as Queen Frederika of Greece and Mme. Nhu of Vietnam) constituted a direct challenge to established university policies.

Disregard for Authority

They were bound to cause considerable official embarrassment, and it is difficult to imagine that this possibility had eluded their student organizers beforehand. The fact that they did not reconsider their plans indicates therefore not only lack of maturity and good taste, but outright and spiteful disregard for university authority.

It constituted interference with matters bearing no relation to student interests, matters which are quite irrelevant to those concerns which are a student's purpose and justification for being at Columbia.

Those political acts were ill-conceived attempts on the part of individual pressure groups among the student body to force the university to undertake a certain course of action commensurate with their private views and inclinations. The administration wisely did and should continue to, resist such attempts. The student body should give it unqualified support by voicing disapproval of the conduct of their colleagues.

To those in my audience who might be surprised to find a student championing the cause of the administration, I would point out a simple fact. We students have come to Columbia for a single purpose—to obtain an education. We ought therefore to devote all our efforts to this purpose alone, and leave teaching to the teachers and administration to the administrators. A university like Columbia consists of a complex of institutions, groups and individuals, with different, sometimes conflicting, views and purposes.

If each of these elements were to pressure the university into acceptance of policies agreeable with its own views, the academic community would have disintegrated into chaos long ago.

A Time for Self-Restraint

Individual self-restraint and respect for the academic authorities are therefore in order. It would be erroneous to take them for evidence of weakness or suppression of academic freedom. They are as voluntary as the process of higher education itself, by dint of the very fact that it cannot proceed smoothly without them.

In adopting these attitudes, the individual would undertake a voluntary curtailment of his personal freedom to action, to facilitate the good of the academic community of which he is part. The decision to do so is indicative not of weakness, but of good judgment and strength of character.

We would arrive at similar conclusions if we examine the problem from still another point of view. Looking at the state of higher education in the United States during the past two decades, two trends become immediately clear. On the one hand, the cost of running a college or university has risen steadily, and so has tuition.

At Columbia College, for instance, tuition rose from $380 a year in 1944 to $1,700 a year in 1964, an increase of 350%. Under these circumstances it is not surprising that a large number of students receive financial aid. At Columbia, 65% of all college undergraduates held scholarships, from one source or another, during the academic year 1963-64.

On the other hand, the number of places in the institutions of higher learning has not kept pace with the rise in applications. This resulted in ever larger numbers of qualified applicants being rejected for lack of space. At Columbia College, the number of applicants for the class of 1969 increased by approximately 10% over that of 1968, with 3,360 applicants competing for about 700 available places.

A Right or a Privilege?

The conclusion to be drawn from these facts is clear: A student ought to know that admission to an institution of higher learning, and especially a school of Columbia's quality and stature, is not an inherent right of his. It is rather a privilege to be grateful for and an honor to take pride in.

Having been selected after fierce competition, he should realize that he was deemed capable of meeting the requirements and fulfilling the goals inherent in the college's academic standards. A trust has thereby been placed in him, and with this trust the obligation of doing it justice. It is incumbent upon him to feel himself bound by this obligation to take the best advantage he can of the academic opportunity accorded him.

Involvement in political activities does anything but further this aim. It consumes time and energies which should have been used to increase academic excellence. It constitutes a waste of intellectual resources, which is quite unforgivable under existing circumstances.

Those who spend their time at rallies and picket lines instead of in the library would do well to remember that they are not only squandering their own opportunity, but also denying it to others, who might have used it better. Moreover, by neglecting their own efforts they are jeopardizing the educational quality of the college as a whole, a quality which depends perhaps as much on the student body as it does on the faculty.

Studies Come First

Academic considerations have always occupied a paramount position in the life of Columbia College. Although not necessarily incompatible with political activity, they should take clear precedence whenever a conflict of interest arises. The obligation that devolved upon the student at his admission to the college should weigh more heavily in his mind than dedication to any political beliefs.

For as long as his academic education lasts, he should impose voluntary restraint on his political sensibilities, and thereby eliminate a source of distraction and impediment. It is, after all, not a question of an official ban on political activities, but rather one of voluntary individual renunciation or at least curtailment.

It is not a question of academic despotism, but rather one of putting an end to a practice which is neither intellectually rewarding itself nor a means of relaxation from the academic strain.

Such voluntary restraint would appear to be only a modest return, a mere token of appreciation for what is perhaps the best opportunity of a lifetime. Those who feel themselves incapable of making this small and temporary adjustment had best reexamine the sincerity of their commitment to academic excellence.

I am confident that Columbia College and Columbia University, for their part, could fare quite splendidly even without the services of the Fair Play for Cuba Committee. Thank you.

Statement by Assembly Speaker Unruh

Thanks for all the courtesies and kindnesses which you have shown to me during this and past sessions I am deeply intrigued by governmental service but, far above and beyond that, I love the legislative branch of government I think we have taken many criticisms this year because of our attempts to build this Legislature into a coordinate branch of government I apologize for the fact that all of you have been subject to this criticism

Hopefully, in the long run the opinion makers in this state will recognize, as the national magazines already have recognized, that this Legislature embodies the best product of any legislative branch of government throughout the nation I am prepared to state that this is by far the best equipped House of any Legislature to deal with the complicated and sophisticated problems that face an America which today is becoming more metropolitanized every minute, where some 8 percent of our people now produce all of the agricultural products and manufactured products, and where that figure will shortly go down to 2 percent, so that more and more of our people will be employed in the more complex field of human relations, and where we simply cannot afford a horse and buggy Legislature

And if the price for making this Legislature a modern, effective, informed, intelligent arm of government is to receive criticism for too much centralization of power, or the buildup of too much staff, if the misinterpretations of the executive branch that we are unduly challenging them leads to more strife I do apologize, but I believe a supine Legislature which can be walked on at will by either the executive branch of government or the special interest groups, which are always present even though governors come and go, adds nothing to the effectiveness of a representative democratic form of government

As a consequence, I would hope that regardless of what happens, whether we are praised or condemned, this Assembly would rededicate itself to finding better ways of legislating I think we have already traveled a fair way along that road, and I believe that many of the criticisms that have been voiced in this session of the Legislature were properly voiced, but wrongly directed And I believe that if the two parties can work together as we have learned to do, we can find further ways of making this by far the best Legislature in the land.

At the present time I am First Vice President of the National Conference of State Legislative Leaders, and next year expect to be president, and I can tell you that I believe I can fairly assess this House in relation to any other state legislative house in the land And we stand second to none.

Thanks to each and every one of you for your cooperation and understanding in moving toward that goal and to ask your tolerance and forgiveness for the criticisms we may all have to take during the process

And now just prior to adjournment, let me again thank those of you who presided during my illness—Mr Bee and Mr. Waldie—and my thanks to the minority leadership—Mr Monagan and Mr Mulford—for their cooperation in moving the business of this House forward so expeditiously.
