PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRIES

3/16/09, Is it appropriate to place a procedural motion on call? (DeVore); reply: that pursuant to Assembly Rule 101, any vote before the body may be placed on call as long as the call is moved prior to the announcement of the vote (Saldana), 579

9/1/09, Would the Speaker give his assurance that the nine bills noticed for removal from the Inactive File over the past two days will only be used for the purpose of technical budget clean-up and not for any other purpose? (Hagman); reply: that it is not the prerogative of the Chair; it is the prerogative of the author to determine the content of proposed amendments. The bills were noticed to be removed from the Inactive File in compliance with the Rules of the House (Hall), 2868

9/2/09, Would the Speaker clarify for the Body what budget related work remains that would require 23 trailer bills be removed from the inactive file over the past three days? (Hagman); reply: that Assembly Member Hagman's question is not a parliamentary inquiry as parliamentary inquiries relate to procedures of the Floor. The purpose of moving the bills is the prerogative of the author and the procedure to do so is in order pursuant to the Rules of the House (Saldana), 2940

9/9/09, During debate the presiding officer interrupted and offered remarks. Has section 96 of Mason's Manual of Legislative Procedure been abrogated, amended, or in any other way been dispensed with by this Body? (DeVore); reply: in the negative (Saldana), 3156

9/10/09, In regard to your statement relating to permission to read on the Floor, would you clarify if the rule applies to the author presenting the bill as well as Members arising to speak on the bill? (Anderson); reply: that pursuant to Assembly Rule 112, authors presenting bills and Members arising to speak on bills are required to request permission to read statements during debate; however, they may refer to notes (Saldana), 3257

9/10/09, Will Assembly Rule 112, requiring Members to request permission to read a paper on the Floor, be applied equally to Members of both Parties? (Hagman); reply: that Assembly Member Hagman's question is not a parliamentary inquiry. Members are reminded that pursuant to Assembly Rule 112, referring to notes is acceptable during debate, but reading prepared statements is not allowed (Saldana), 3258

PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRIES—Continued

- 9/11/09, Is it correct that the Rules allow a Member to refer to notes without permission, but must request permission to read a paper? (Jeffries); reply: in the affirmative. That pursuant to Assembly Rule 112, authors presenting bills and Members arising to speak on bills are required to request permission to read statements during debate; however they may refer to notes (Saldana), 3328
- 4/22/10, Would an amendment to the bill to add coauthors be appropriate at this time? (Harkey); reply: in the negative (Ma), 4813
- 4/26/10, Is it permissible to ask a question of the coauthor? (Adams); reply: that it is the usual custom and practice to direct questions to the author of the measure before the Body. It would require unanimous consent of the Body to grant permission to direct a question to the coauthor (Ma), 4852
- 6/3/10, Is reconsideration in order as today is the last day to pass bills out of the house of origin? (Hagman); reply: that the motion to reconsider is in order as tomorrow, Friday, June 4, 2010 is the last day to pass bills out of the house of origin pursuant to the Joint Rules Calendar (Ma), 5587
- 8/31/10, Is the motion to pass temporarily out of order? (Saldana); reply: that pursuant to Section 494 of Mason's Manual the motion to pass temporarily is in order (Ma), 6968
- 8/31/10, Will Assembly Member Jeffries' time for debate be limited by the motion by Assembly Member Calderon? (Adams); reply: Assembly Member Jeffries will receive the full time for debate on the measure (Ma), 6980
