PREPRINT SENATE BILLS—1977-78 SESSION

Preprint S.B. No. 1—Behr.

An act to amend Section 1916.5 of the Civil Code, relating to variable interest rates

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGESTVariable interest rates

Existing law requires a security document containing a variable interest rate provision to include various provisions as a prerequisite to an increase in interest provided for in such document, including a provision permitting a borrower to prepay the loan in whole or in part without a prepayment charge within 90 days of notification of any increase in the rate of interest.

This bill would make the provision precluding a prepayment charge applicable, in addition, to any prepayment occasioned by the borrower's sale or exchange of the property subject to the security document.

This bill would also require such security document to contain a provision permitting a borrower to make all except specified transfers of title of property subject to such security document without the acceleration of the maturity date of the principal and accrued interest and would make the waiver of such a provision void and unenforceable.

This bill would require that the initial rate of interest on any contract loan subject to the aforementioned variable interest rate provisions of this bill and existing law made by a bank or savings and loan association be at least $\frac{1}{4}$ of 1% lower than that made by the same lender on comparable property under comparable conditions to a comparable borrower with a fixed rate interest provision.

This bill would provide that its provisions are applicable only to instruments executed on and after the effective date of the bill and are not intended to affect the application of any other provision or principle of law to any type of acceleration other than those specifically described in the bill.

Preprint S.B. No. 2—Behr.

An act to add Section 1916.6 to the Civil Code, relating to variable interest rates

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGESTVariable interest rates

Existing law provides that no increase in interest provided for in any provision for a variable interest rate contained in a security document or evidence of debt issued in connection therewith shall be valid unless, among other things, the document contains each of the following provisions:

(1) A provision that the rate of interest shall change not more often than once during any semiannual period and that at least 6 months shall elapse between any 2 such changes.

(2) A provision that the change in the interest rate shall not exceed $\frac{1}{4}$ % in any semiannual period, and shall not result in a rate of more than 2.5 percentage points greater than the rate for the first loan payment.

(3) A provision that the rate of interest shall not change during the first semiannual period.

This bill would permit a contract executed pursuant to existing law governing variable interest rate provisions to provide that the rate of interest shall not change until 5 years after execution and not more frequently than every 5 years thereafter. In every contract so executed, the bill would provide that the provisions of existing law governing variable interest rate provisions shall be applicable, except those provisions specifically enumerated above.

Preprint S.B. No. 4—Behr.

An act to add Section 2924 7 to the Civil Code, relating to real property transfers

LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGESTReal property transfers acceleration

Existing law precludes the acceleration of the maturity date of the principal and accrued interest on any loan secured by a mortgage or deed of trust on residential real property, as defined, solely by reason of 1 or more specified transfers in title to the real property

This bill would preclude an acceleration for transfers of residential real property, other than those subject to existing law, where the transfer would not unreasonably impair the obligee's security in a note, contract, or other indebtedness secured by a mortgage or deed of trust and the transferee agrees in writing to assume the transferor's obligations under such note, contract, or other evidence of indebtedness and to pay an assumption fee not to exceed the lessor of 1% of the then unpaid principal balance or $100.

This bill would make the obligor's waiver of the foregoing provisions void and unenforceable.

This bill would apply only to loans executed or refinanced on or after January 1, 1978

This bill would specify that it is not intended to affect the application of any other provision or principle of law to any type of acceleration provision other than those specifically described in the bill.

There is no provision of existing law which directs state agencies which invest funds in securities issued by privately owned business organizations to consider matters of social or environmental policy with respect to how such business organizations conduct their affairs

This bill would enact the "Investment Policy Act of 1977" to declare a state policy against such investment by the state in businesses which practice discrimination, deny basic rights of citizenship, or seriously pollute the environment. LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

State property use in school integration

Under current law, the Department of Parks and Recreation may acquire and hold property for state park purposes. This bill would require the Department of Parks and Recreation to lease state park property to school districts and the Secretary of the Agriculture and Services Agency to lease a substantial portion of the California Museum of Science and Industry to the Los Angeles Unified School District for $1 per year when such leases would facilitate the attainment of racial and ethnic balance in the schools of the district.

GOVERNOR'S REORGANIZATION PLAN—1977(Page numbers refer to Senate and Assembly Journals for 1977-78 Regular Session)

No. 1—Relating to drug abuse.LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

Executive reorganization, drug abuse

The existing law provides for a State Office of Narcotics and Drug Abuse in the Health and Welfare Agency with prescribed duties relating to narcotics and drug abuse programs and services and narcotics and drug abuse prevention, care, treatment, and rehabilitation.

This bill would implement the provisions of Reorganization Plan No. 1 of 1977, without substantive change, and in that connection would make the statutory changes necessary to reflect the abolishment of the State Office of Narcotics and Drug Abuse and the vesting of all its duties, powers, purposes, responsibilities, and jurisdiction in the State Department of Health. This bill would also make the statutory changes necessary to reflect the creation of an Advisory Council on Narcotics and Drug Abuse of specified membership, with specified duties to exist until July 1, 1979.

GOVERNOR'S REORGANIZATION PLAN—1978

No. 1—Relating to State government reorganization: occupational safety and health.
LEGISLATIVE COUNSEL'S DIGEST

Under existing law there is within the Department of Industrial Relations a Division of Industrial Safety whose responsibility it is to administer and enforce the provisions of the California Occupational Safety and Health Act.

Existing law requires the State Department of Health, among other things, to perform certain functions with regard to the development, promulgation, and enforcement of occupational health standards; permits the State Department of Health, under specified conditions, to enter into an agreement with a local health department authorizing such local health department to conduct inspections and evaluations of occupational health problems; and requires the State Department of Health to evaluate certain proposed health standards and variances from adopted standards.

Existing law also requires the State Department of Health Services to develop and present proposed standards to the Occupational Safety and Health Standards Board for substances as to which there exists a preponderance of evidence of carcinogenicity and for which the federal government has not promulgated standards, requires such department to make prescribed inspections of uses of carcinogens, and requires such department and the Department of Industrial Relations to enter into a prescribed agreement defining the responsibilities of such department with respect to enforcement of occupational safety and health standards relating to carcinogens.

This bill would abolish the Division of Industrial Safety and create a Division of Occupational Safety and Health Administration within the Department of Industrial Relations and would establish an Occupational Health and an Occupational Safety Unit within such division. An Occupational Carcinogen Control Unit would also be created within the Occupational Health Unit with responsibility for implementing the division's obligations under the Occupational Carcinogen Control Act.

Under the provisions of this bill, the Division of Occupational Safety and Health Administration would succeed to all present functions and responsibilities of the Division of Industrial Safety and the Occupational Health Branch within the State Department of Health Services, except that laboratory services would continue to be provided by interagency agreement with the State Department of Health Services. All employees engaged in transferred functions would become employees of the Department of Industrial Relations.

Existing law requires the State Department of Health Services to maintain occupational health and occupational disease prevention programs for purposes of, among other things, investigating causes of occupational disease and developing recommendations for their control, providing technical assistance in such matters to specified entities and private individuals, and collecting statistical data on the causes and prevalence of occupational diseases.

This bill would specify that such provisions are intended to implement, within the State Department of Health Services, a research and development capability and a repository of hazardous substances capability for purposes of reinforcing and strengthening the administration of the California Occupational Safety and Health Act. Appropriation no Fiscal committee no State-mandated local program no.
