CODE COMMISSIONER'S NOTES ON THE CODIFIED COUNTY GOVERNMENT ACT.

The Code Commissioner's "Notes on Amendments to the Codes" will appear in the Index to the Laws, 1850 to 1907, to be compiled by the Code Commissioner, as authorized by the Legislature (Chap. 301, p. 572).

The codified County Government Act comprises the Act of April 1, 1897, entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of county and township governments" (Stats. 1897, 452), hereafter in notes to this title referred to as the "Act of 1897," together with all acts to date amendatory or supplementary thereto.

All changes therein, and additions thereto, have been noted. All sections of said Act of 1897, except sections 11, 12, 13, 232, 233, and 234 have been inserted. Sections 11 and 12 have been omitted, as they properly form part of Chapter II in the preceding title, to which they have been added in another bill introduced at this session. Section 13 has been omitted because it has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court (Ex parte Anderson, 134 Cal. 53). Sections 232, 233, and 234 are excluded as unnecessary.

Sections 4007, 4020, 4220, and 4221 are respectively Sections 4007, 4107, 4273, and 4271 of the present Political Code carried into this title under the former numbers. Sections 4000 to 4347, both inclusive, now in Title II, Part IV of the Political Code, are repealed, as the subject-matters therein contained are fully covered by the said title as now reported.

By the insertion of the County Government Act into this code, its reenactment at almost every session of the Legislature will be avoided, as amendments may be made after the passage of this act by mere amendment of the respective sections of the Political Code herein contained.

The provision, that "all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith are hereby repealed," generally found in them, leaves in their train portions of former acts in force. The Supreme Court on the 23d of June, 1899, for instance, in the case of Davis vs. Post, 125 Cal. 210, decided "that section 191 of the County Government Act of 1893, being a later expression of legislative will than section 2641 of the Political Code, with which it is inconsistent, must prevail," and yet since the date that the Act of 1897 went into operation it was the act governing the several counties, notwithstanding the County Government Act of 1893. For an interesting discussion on the effect of such repealing clauses as "All acts and parts of acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed," in connection with County Government Acts, see also Freman vs. Marshall, 137 Cal. 159, 163. How many more provisions of the various County Government Acts which have been heretofore enacted will be brought up as occasions arise in litigation it is impossible to say. In this state of affairs, it is recommended that after this revision of the title shall have been in force long enough not to affect incumbents holding under the old acts, all County Government Acts enacted in other form be expressly repealed.

This codified County Government Act is not new legislation, but is a codification to date of such former legislation on the subject as is still in force; and the Fee Bill Act of 1895, and a few other statutes which, it is thought, properly come within the scope of county government, have also been codified herein.

Section 4000. Every county is a body corporate and politic, and as such has the powers specified in this title, and such other powers as are necessarily implied from those expressed. This section is drawn from section 1 of the County Government Act of 1897 (Stats. 1897, 452), and present section 4000 of the Political Code.
