STATUTES OF CALIFORNIA

Fifty-First Session of the Legislature,

Began on Monday, January seventh, and adjourned on Sunday, June sixteenth, nineteen hundred thirty-five
CHAPTER 1.

An act to legalize bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by municipalities where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the electors of such municipalities voting upon the question of incurring such indebtedness, and providing for a levy of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such bonds and declaring the urgency of said act.

[Approved by the Governor January 17, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. In all cases in which proceedings have been taken for the authorization and issuance of bonds of any municipality in this State and the proposition of issuing such bonds has been submitted to the qualified electors of the municipality at an election held for the purpose of voting thereon, and not less than two-thirds of the voters voting upon such proposition voted for the issuance of such bonds, the power to issue such bonds and all of the acts and proceedings leading up to and including the issuance and sale of such bonds if such bonds have heretofore been issued and sold, and all acts and proceedings heretofore taken if such bonds have not been issued and sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes. The bonds heretofore issued and sold are declared to be and shall be, in the actual form in which such bonds have been issued, the legal and binding obligations of the municipality issuing same, and bonds hereafter issued and sold are declared to be and shall be the legal and binding obligations of the municipality issuing same, and the full faith and credit of the municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Sec. 2. The legislative branch of such municipal corpora-

Sufficient to pay the annual interest on such bonds and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of the issuance of such bonds, such tax shall be levied and collected at the time and in the manner aforesaid annually each year, sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

Exceptions

Sec. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value, or any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

Urgency

Sec. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Cities in this State have taken proceedings to incur bonded indebtedness for proper city purposes. Furthermore, bonds have been voted for the construction of public buildings to replace public buildings destroyed by earthquake and the public business is now being carried on in temporary quarters which are entirely inadequate for that purpose. Large numbers of persons are unemployed and in dire need. Real or purported irregularities in such proceedings have or will delay the issuance of the bonds voted and will delay the cities in getting necessary funds. The immediate validation of such bonds will permit the sale thereof at once or in the near future and such public works will relieve unemployment and preserve the public peace, health and safety, and the construction of such public buildings will provide safe housing conditions for the public officials and employees and a safe repository for important public records.
CHAPTER 2.

An act making an appropriation for the mileage of members and officers of the Senate, the act to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor January 21, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two thousand five hundred dollars is hereby appropriated for mileage of members and officers of the Senate.

Sec. 2. Inasmuch as this act provides an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, it shall under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 3

An act making an appropriation for the mileage of members and officers of the Assembly, the act to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor January 21, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Out of any money in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of ten thousand dollars is hereby appropriated for the mileage of members and officers of the Assembly.

Sec. 2. Inasmuch as this act provides an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State it shall under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 4

An act to amend section 2 of the "Los Angeles County Flood Control Act," approved June 12, 1915, relating to powers of the district, declaring the urgency hereof and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor January 28, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 2 of the "Los Angeles County Flood Control Act." is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 2. The objects and purposes of this act are to provide for the control and conservation of the flood, storm and other waste waters of said district, and to conserve such waters for beneficial and useful purposes by spreading, storing, retaining or causing to percolate into the soil within said district, or to save or conserve in any manner, all or any of such waters, and to protect from damage from such flood or storm waters, the harbors, waterways, public highways and property in said district.

Said Los Angeles County Flood Control District is hereby declared to be a body corporate and politic, and as such shall have power:

1. To have perpetual succession.
2. To sue and be sued in the name of said district in all actions and proceedings in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.
3. To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.
4. To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise or lease, hold, use, enjoy, and to lease or dispose of real or personal property of every kind within or without the district necessary to the full exercise of its power.
5. To acquire or contract to acquire lands, rights of way, easements, privileges and property of every kind, and construct, maintain and operate any and all works or improvements within or without the district necessary or proper to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, and to complete, extend, add to, repair or otherwise improve any works or improvements acquired by it as herein authorized.
6. To have and exercise the right of eminent domain, and in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use, to take any property necessary to carry out any of the objects or purposes of this act, whether such property be already devoted to the same use by any district or other public corporation or agency or otherwise, and may condemn any existing works or improvements in said district now used to control flood or storm waters, or to conserve such flood or storm waters or to protect any property in said district from damage from such flood or storm waters.
7. To incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds in the manner herein provided.

7a. In addition to the powers given in the next preceding subsection, to borrow money from the United States of America, any agency or department thereof, or from any nonprofit corporation, organized under the laws of this State, to which the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of an act of Congress, entitled "Reconstruction Finance Corporation Act," or other agency, or department, of the United States government, has authorized, or shall hereafter authorize, a loan to enable such nonprofit corporation to lend money to said Los Angeles County Flood Control District, for any flood control work authorized under this act, and to repay the same, in annual installments, over a period of not to exceed twenty (20) years, with interest at a rate of not to exceed four and one-fourth per centum (4½%) per annum, payable semiannually, and, without the necessity of an election when authorized by resolution of the board of supervisors, as evidences of such indebtedness, said district is hereby authorized to execute and deliver a note, or a series of notes, or bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, signed by the chairman of the board of supervisors of said district, which notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, shall be negotiable instruments if so declared in said resolution of the board of supervisors providing for their issuance, and said notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, may have interest coupons attached to evidence interest payments, signed by the facsimile signature of said chairman of said board. All applications for such loans shall specify the particular flood control work or projects for which the funds will be expended, and when received, the money shall be deposited in a special fund, and shall be expended for those purposes only which are described and referred to in the applications. If a surplus remains after the completion of said work, such surplus shall be applied to the payment of the note, notes, bonds, or other evidences of indebtedness, executed as aforesaid, for the loan including interest coupons. The board of supervisors shall annually, levy a tax upon the taxable real property of said district, clearly sufficient to pay the interest and installments of principal, as the same shall become due and payable, under any loan made pursuant to the authority of this section, and to create and maintain a reserve fund to assure the prompt payment thereof, as may be provided by said resolution of the board of supervisors; provided, however, that the amount of taxes levied in any year, pursuant to the provisions of this subsection, shall, pro tanto, reduce the authority of the board of supervisors, during any such year, to levy taxes under section 14 of this act, but this proviso shall not be a limitation upon the power and duty to levy and collect taxes under this subsection.

Notwithstanding anything in this subsection 7a to the contrary, the total amount which said district may borrow under the authority of any or all of the provisions of this subsection is limited to and shall not exceed in the aggregate the sum of four million five hundred thousand dollars.

8 To cause taxes to be levied and collected for the purpose of paying any obligation of the district in the manner hereinafter provided.

9. To make contracts, and to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary for the full exercise of all powers vested in said district, or any of the officers thereof, by this act.

10. To grant or otherwise convey to counties, cities and counties, cities or towns easements for street and highway purposes, over, along, upon, in, through, across or under any real property owned by said Los Angeles County Flood Control District.

11. To remove, carry away and dispose of any rubbish, trash, debris or other inconvenient matter that may be dislodged, transported, conveyed or carried by means of, through, in, or along the works and structures operated or maintained here-under and deposited upon the property of said district or elsewhere.

12. To pay premiums on bonds of contractors required under any contract wherein the amount payable to the contractor exceeds five million dollars; provided, that the specifications in such cases shall specifically so provide and state that the bidder shall not include in his bids the cost of furnishing the required bonds.

13. To lease, sell or dispose of any property (or any interest therein) acquired in fee otherwise than by condemnation, whenever in the judgment of said board of supervisors said property, or any interest therein or part thereof, is no longer required for the purposes of said district, or may be leased for any purpose without interfering with the use of the same for the purposes of said district, and to pay any compensation received therefor into the general fund of said district and use the same for the purposes of this act; provided, however, that nothing herein shall authorize the board of supervisors or other governing body of the district or any officer thereof to sell, lease or otherwise dispose of any water, water right, reservoir space or storage capacity or any interest or space therein, except as hereinafter provided by section 17 of this act.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

A disastrous forest fire occurred in November, 1933, completely denuding approximately seven square miles of the mountainous watershed above the towns of La Crescenta, Montrose and La Canada, in Los Angeles County, thereby permitting boulders, debris and dirt to wash down upon the populous communities lying below said watershed. The immediate construction of debris dams at the mouths of various canyons below said burned-over watershed and the construction of channels below said debris basins are necessary in order to protect the lives of persons living in said communities and to protect the homes and other property from destruction. The Seventy-third Congress of the United States adopted an act known as “H. R. 7599,” appropriating $5,000,000 to be loaned by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation for the repair or reconstruction of flood control systems and other property damaged or destroyed by floods or other catastrophes in the year 1933 and in the months of January and February, 1934, and said corporation has indicated its willingness to loan a portion of said funds to the Los Angeles County Flood Control District for the construction of said debris basins and channels in said area, provided the said district is given the authority to borrow said funds and to repay the same over a period of twenty years. Said act provides the only available means whereby funds may be procured immediately for said work.

CHAPTER 5.

An act to amend sections 38 and 48 of the “California Water District Act,” approved June 13, 1913, relating to petitions for exclusion and inclusion of lands from and within water districts, to take effect immediately and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor January 28, 1935. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 38 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 38. The owner or owners in fee of one or more tracts of land which constitute a portion of a water district may jointly or severally file with the board of directors of the distict a petition, praying that such tract or tracts, and any other tracts contiguous thereto, may be excluded and taken from said district. The petition shall state the grounds and reasons upon which it is claimed that such lands should be excluded, and shall describe the boundaries thereof, and also the lands of such petitioner or petitioners which are included within such boundaries; but the description of such lands need not be more particular or certain than is required when the lands are entered in the assessment-book by the county assessor. Such petition must be acknowledged in the same manner and form as is required in the case of a conveyance of land, and the acknowledgment shall have the same force and effect as evidence as the acknowledgment of such a conveyance.

Sec. 2. Section 48 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 48. The holder or holders of title, or evidence of title, or a majority of holders of title, or evidence of title, of any tract or tracts of land may file in the office of the board of directors of any water district a petition praying that said tract or tracts of land be included within said districts; provided that if there is more than one holder of title or evidence of title of said land the petitioners must include the holders of title or evidence of title of at least one-half of the area of said land. If any petitioner is the owner of an undivided interest in said land, or any of it, he shall be deemed to be the owner of such proportion of the area of the land in which he has an interest as his interest bears to the whole of such land.
Each signature to such petition shall be acknowledged or proved as provided by law for signatures to an instrument to title it to be recorded.
SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health, and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such it shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: Continued dry years have made immediate action imperative in the various water districts in order to conserve the waters of the present rainy season in order to save not only extensive sections of crops, but also water for industrial and domestic purposes. An adequate supply of water for agricultural, domestic and industrial purposes is necessary for the public peace, health and safety of the communities affected in the State of California.

An act authorizing savings banks, commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, mortgage companies, mortgage insurance companies, building and loan associations, trust companies, or fiduciaries or fiduciary institutions, or agencies, public or private, to make in certain cases loans, or advances or credit, which are insured pursuant to the provisions of the National Housing Act, and to invest in, or purchase, insured mortgages and obligations of national mortgage associations or similar credit institutions, the act to take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. It shall be lawful for savings banks, commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, mortgage companies, mortgage insurance companies, building and loan associations, or trust companies, to invest in, or purchase, with their funds or the moneys in their custody or possession, including but not being restricted to, all trust funds or funds the investment of which is regulated by law, such classes of first liens as are commonly given to secure advances on, or the unpaid purchase price of, real estate which have been accepted for insurance by the Federal Housing Administrator in accordance with the provisions of Title II of the National Housing Act.

SEC. 2. It shall be lawful for savings banks, commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, mortgage companies, mortgage insurance companies, building and loan associations, trust companies or fiduciaries or fiduciary institutions, or agencies, public or private, to invest in, or purchase, with their funds or the moneys in their custody or possession, including but not being restricted to, all trust funds, or funds the investment of which is regulated by law, obligations of national mortgage associations or similar credit institutions now or hereafter organized in accordance with the provisions of Title III of the National Housing Act. All bonds of national mortgage associations or other similar credit institutions now or hereafter organized in accordance with the provisions of Title III of the National Housing Act may be used as security for any depository bond or obligation wherein any kind of bonds or other securities are required or may by law be deposited as security.

Sec. 3. It shall be lawful for savings banks, commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, mortgage companies or mortgage insurance companies to make, invest in, or purchase loans or advances of credit insured pursuant to Title I of the National Housing Act.

Sec. 4. It shall be lawful for savings banks, commercial banks, insurance companies, personal finance companies, mortgage companies, mortgage insurance companies, building and loan associations, or trust companies, to make such loans secured by real property or leasehold, as the Federal Housing Administrator insures, or makes a commitment to insure, pursuant to Title II of the National Housing Act, and to obtain such insurance.

Sec. 5. No law of this State, prescribing the nature, amount or form of security or requiring security upon which loans or investments may be made, or prescribing or limiting interest rates upon loans or advances of credit or prescribing or limiting the period for which loans or investments may be made, shall be deemed to apply to loans or investments made pursuant to the foregoing sections of this act.

There are various statutory limitations upon loans and investments by the above mentioned investing institutions which restrict their ability fully to cooperate with or benefit from the national housing program. Similar limitations upon the lending powers of national banks have already been removed by act of Congress. The provisions of this act will enable such institutions so to cooperate and to benefit and thus greatly and rapidly further the restoration of favorable economic conditions.

It is therefore essential to the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety that each and every part of this act be enacted and be immediately effective.
CHAPTER 7.

An act relating to the relief of debtors and guarantors, and permitting postponement of foreclosures and sales under mortgages, deeds of trust, or contracts of purchase of real property, or postponement of forfeitures and terminations under such contracts of purchase, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that it shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor January 31, 1935. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. A large proportion of the real property in this State is held subject to mortgage or deed of trust or under contract of purchase, and many owners and purchasers thereof are finding it extremely difficult or impossible, because of present economic conditions, to meet their obligations to retain their property. Prices for farm products are at present so low and unemployment in industry and business is so widespread, that farmers and wage earners, and those who do business with them, have as a class lost a considerable part of their income, and large numbers of such individuals have no income or scarcely enough for food and other necessities.

The value to the State of a large body of owners of land is inestimable, as such owners have a vital interest in the State and its welfare, and participate in governmental affairs to such an extent and in such a way that they constitute an essential factor in the political and economic life of the State.

If steps are not taken immediately to permit delay of foreclosures and sales under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase, and forfeitures and terminations under contracts of purchase, a large number of owners of real property will be forced to abandon their interests in their property.

An emergency therefore exists, and it is necessary to provide for the permitting of delays of foreclosures and sales under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase, or of forfeitures and terminations under contracts of purchase. The following provisions are intended to permit such delays and to safeguard the interest of creditors who will be affected thereby.

Sec. 2. Until thirty days from and after the effective date of this act, no sale shall be held (a) under any deed of trust upon real property, (b) under any power of sale conferred by a mortgage upon real property, or (c) under any decree of foreclosure of any mortgage or deed of trust upon real property; and no decree of foreclosure of a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property shall be entered, nor shall the interest of any purchaser under a contract of purchase of real property be foreclosed, terminated, or forfeited, and in the event the period of redemption upon any mortgage or trust deed on real estate heretofore foreclosed would expire within thirty days from and after the effective date of this act, the period of such redemption is extended so as not to expire prior to thirty days from and after the effective date of this act.

Sec. 3. At any time within thirty days from and after the effective date of this act, or within thirty days from and after the recording of the notice of default under section 2924 of the Civil Code, but in any event not later than September 1, 1935, the trustor under any deed of trust upon real property, or the mortgagor under any mortgage upon real property conferring the power of sale, may file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such real property or the major portion thereof is situated, praying for an order postponing the sale of such real property under such deed of trust or under such power of sale conferred by such mortgage. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the trustee and the beneficiary under such deed of trust or upon the mortgagor under such mortgage, as the case may be, in the manner provided by law for the service of summons in a civil action, and a notice of pendency of such petition shall immediately be recorded in each county in which any of such real property is situated. Such notice of pendency shall state the name of the petitioner and the nature of the petition, and the book and page of the records of the county recorder in which the mortgage or deed of trust is recorded.

Upon application of the petitioner after service of such petition, or upon application of any other party in interest after the filing of the petition, a hearing shall be had thereon within twenty days after such application, upon such notice as the court prescribes. After the filing of such petition and the recording of the notice of pendency thereof as provided in this act, no sale shall be held under such deed of trust or under the power of sale conferred by such mortgage until the court makes its order in the matter. Upon such hearing the court may make its order, if it finds equitable grounds for relief, ordering that the sale shall not be held until on or after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event beyond September 1, 1935. If the court orders the sale postponed it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor as determined by the court, and shall require the trustor or mortgagor to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties. The court must include in such order provisions requiring maintenance and repair, regulating the disposition of any income from the property, and such other provisions as it deems just and equitable for the protection of the security.

Sec. 4. In any decree hereafter rendered, prior to September 1, 1935, foreclosing a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property, the court may provide that the sale of the property shall not be held until on or after such date as the court considers just and equitable, but in no event later than September 1, 1935. If the court provides in such decree that the sale shall not be held until on or after such date as it shall fix, it shall determine the reasonable value of the income from such property, or if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of such property, or if the property is unimproved, a reasonable sum to be paid by the trustor or mortgagor as determined by the court, and shall require the trustor or mortgagor to pay all or at least a reasonable part of such income, rental value, or sum so determined by the court, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, or principal of the indebtedness at such times and in such manner determined to be just and equitable under the circumstances.

In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties. The court must include in such order provisions requiring maintenance and repair, regulating the disposition of any income from the property, and such other provisions as it deems just and equitable for the protection of the security.

Sec. 4a. Where any mortgage or trust deed upon real property has been foreclosed and the period of redemption has not yet expired, the period of redemption may be extended for such additional time as the court may deem just and equitable, but in no event beyond September 1, 1935; provided that the mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession of said property shall, prior to the expiration of the period of redemption, apply to the superior court having jurisdiction of the matter, on not less than ten days’ written notice to the mortgagor or trustee, or the attorney of either, as the case may be, for an order determining the reasonable value of the income on said property, or, if the property has no income, then the reasonable rental value of the property involved in such sale, and directing and requiring such mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession, to pay all or a reasonable part of such income or rental value, in or toward the payment of taxes, insurance, interest, mortgage or trust deed indebtedness at such times and in such manner as shall be fixed and determined and ordered by the court.
In no event shall the court order the payment of a lesser sum than that necessary to pay (a) current taxes, (b) all delinquent taxes, except that such taxes may be paid in installments as may be provided by law, and (c) any insurance premiums required to be paid by the debtor under the contract between the parties.

The court shall thereupon hear said application and after such hearing shall make and file its order directing the payment by such mortgagor, trustor or owner in possession, of such an amount at such times and in such manner as to the court shall, under all the circumstances, appear just and equitable. Provided that upon the service of the notice or demand aforesaid that the running of the period of redemption shall be tolled until the court shall make its order upon such application.

SEC. 5. The purchaser of any real property under any contract of purchase may at any time within thirty days after the effective date of this act, or at any time prior to the foreclosure, termination, or forfeiture of his interest under such contract, but in no event later than September 1, 1935, file a petition in the superior court of the county in which such real property, or the major portion thereof, is situated for an order postponing the foreclosure, termination, or forfeiture of his interest thereunder. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the vendor, and notice of pendency of such petition shall be recorded, and a hearing shall be held at the same time and in the same manner as is provided in section 3 of this act in respect to petitions in relation to sales under deeds of trust and mortgages conferring a power of sale.

SEC. 6. Upon the petition of any party in interest prior to the time to which the postponement was made, and after notice and hearing as in the case of a petition for postponement, the court may alter or supplement its order or decree of postponement upon the presentation of evidence that the provisions of the order or decree require alteration or supplementing to make them just and reasonable.

If the trustor, mortgagor or purchaser commits waste or defaults in any payment or act required by the order or decree of the court, the court may order that the sale, foreclosure, termination or forfeiture postponed by the original order or decree, proceed as provided by law if it finds after hearing upon such notice to the applicant or his attorney as it prescribes, that there has been such waste or such default, amounting to a material breach of the order or decree of postponement.

SEC. 7. No suit or action shall be commenced against the guarantor of any note secured by a mortgage or deed of trust upon real property in any case while by virtue of any law no sale may be made under any power of sale contained in such mortgage or deed of trust, or while no sale may be made under the final decree of foreclosure rendered in an action to foreclose such mortgage.
SEC. 8. Whenever the time within which an action may be commenced upon any obligation founded upon a written instrument secured by mortgage, deed of trust or contract of purchase of real property, would expire by virtue of section 337 of the Code of Civil Procedure during the period of postponement ordered pursuant to the provisions of this act, such time is hereby extended to the extent of such period of postponement.

SEC. 9. Nothing contained in this act shall apply to or be deemed to affect (a) any mortgage, deed of trust or contract of sale upon real property executed after the effective date of this act, or (b) any mortgage or deed of trust securing the payment of bonds or other evidences of indebtedness authorized or permitted to be issued by the Commissioner of Corporations or made by public utilities subject to the provisions of the Public Utilities Act.

SEC. 10. As used in this act:

(a) The terms "mortgagor," "mortgagee," "trustor," "trustee," "purchaser," "vendor," and "guarantor," shall include their personal representatives, assigns or successors in interest, and the singular shall include the plural.

(b) The term "trustee" shall also include the beneficiary of a deed of trust.

SEC. 11. Nothing contained in this act precludes any trustor under a deed of trust or any mortgagor under a mortgage or any purchaser under a contract for the purchase of real property from executing and delivering at any time a grant deed to his beneficiary, mortgagee or vendor, as the case may be, and the execution and delivery of any such deed by any such trustor, mortgagor or purchaser shall constitute a waiver of the benefit of all the provisions of this act. The failure on the part of any trustor, mortgagor or purchaser to file a petition within the times specified in this act shall be deemed a waiver of the benefit of the provisions of this act.

SEC. 12. Any sale of real property under a deed of trust or mortgage made in violation of this act shall be voidable, except as against a bona fide purchaser or encumbrancer for value, at the instance of the record owner of such real property at the time of such sale; provided that any action to avoid such sale or any deed executed pursuant thereto must be brought within one year of the date of such sale.

SEC. 13. There shall be no filing fees for the filing of any document with the county clerk under the provisions of this act.

SEC. 14. If any feature or application of this act is finally determined by the courts to be unconstitutional, such feature or application shall no longer apply, but all other features and applications shall continue in full force and effect, it being the intent of the Legislature to make this act as effective as possible to relieve debtors in the manner herein provided.
Ch. 8] FIFTY-FIRST SESSION 61

Sec. 15. Whenever any petition under this act is to be or is being heard by the court, the interested parties may submit to the court, in writing, a composition of the indebtedness involved in the proceeding, or a compromise settlement of the proceeding, and the court shall have jurisdiction and may by its order confirm and approve such composition or settlement.

The facts constituting the necessity are the dangers to the State and to the people involved in the unusually large number of foreclosures, sales, forfeitures and terminations which will result in the near future under mortgages, deeds of trust, and contracts of purchase of real property, because of defaults in payments by the owners or purchasers of such property. Such defaults are the result of exceptionally depressed economic conditions in this State, which have deprived a large proportion of the landowners and land purchasers of sufficient income to meet their obligations. The dangers in the situation are such as to threaten the maintenance of law and order, and to lead to the pauperization of many persons who have hitherto constituted an important part of the self-supporting and economically independent people of this State. This act will provide a means for delaying such sales, foreclosures, terminations, and forfeitures so as to permit landowners and land purchasers to find means of meeting their obligations, and at the same time will protect the interests of creditors. The dangers mentioned will thus be avoided.

CHAPTER 8.

An act relating to and providing for a moratorium with respect to forfeitures of State school lands as provided for in section 3513 of the Political Code, and declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. A moratorium is hereby declared with respect to the forfeiture of State school lands effective on the date of the approval of this act and terminating upon the thirty-first day of January, 1937; provided, however, that this act shall not be construed as otherwise modifying the provisions of section 3513 of the Political Code, and during the period of the moratorium herein declared, the obligations contained in outstanding certificates of purchase to pay interest shall not be affected by this act, and any and all penalties which have accrued, or which may accrue during the period of this moratorium herein declared, on account of failure to pay interest as provided for in section 3513 of the Political Code, shall not be affected by this act.

SEC. 2. No person may claim the benefit of this moratorium who has allowed the county and local taxes to become delinquent and has not discharged said delinquency within sixty (60) days after the said taxes became delinquent.

SEC. 3. This act is hereby declared an urgency measure deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and as such it shall take effect immediately. The facts constittuting such necessity are as follows:

Extensions of time given by statutes of this State similar to this act will soon cease. The Legislature declares that an economic crisis and period of financial distress still exists in this State. It is necessary for this act to take effect immediately to prevent the loss of lands and homes by a large number of school land purchasers.

CHAPTER 9.

An act to repeal section 11a of an act entitled "An act to aid commerce and navigation by authorizing certain improvements in and about Islais Creek and as a means thereof creating a reclamation district to be called and known as the 'Islais Creek Reclamation District,' fixing the boundaries thereof, providing for the management and control thereof, vesting certain powers therein, and authorizing a method for the reclamation of the lands of said district; and to aid and assist such works of reclamation granting to the City and County of San Francisco and its successors any title of the State in or to any public highways lying in said district with certain reservations; and dissolving any reclamation district wholly situate within the boundaries of said Islais Creek Reclamation District," approved April 6, 1925, relating to delinquent installments of assessments, and declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11a of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby repealed.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency mea-ure, deemed necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall therefore take effect immediately. The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: It has been found necessary to immediately refund the bonds of the Islais creek reclamation district due to the decrease in revenues from taxation. The present bondholders refuse to accept any refunding bonds because of the fact that the penalties for delinquent installments of assessments levied under the provisions of the act cited in the title hereof have been reduced to an amount which is unsatisfactory, and therefore in order to immediately effect a plan to provide for the issuance of refunding bonds and to assure the present bondholders, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 10.

An act for the relief of certain assessment districts, and for that purpose empowering counties to render financial aid to such districts and making available to such districts the provisions of Chapter 9 of the act of Congress entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," approved July 1, 1898, as amended, and to declare the urgency of this act, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935 In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In all cases where bonds have heretofore been issued under the provisions of the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and amendments thereof or the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925 and amendments thereof for the payment of the cost of any public improvement made, things done, rights acquired, or proceedings taken within the territorial limits of any county, or any incorporated city thereof, the board of supervisors of such county shall have the right and power to purchase or redeem, at a discount, such bonds and/or any interest coupons issued with such bonds, where the public improvements made, things done, rights acquired, or proceedings taken are of general county interest, use or benefit, or where the general county interest will be served and such county materially benefited by the purchase or redemption of such bonds or interest coupons. The purchase of bonds or coupons herein authorized may be carried out upon such terms and in such manner as said board of supervisors may deem most convenient subject only to the restrictions contained in this act.

SEC. 2. In all cases where the purchase or redemption of bonds and/or coupons is authorized by this act, the board of supervisors of such county shall also have the right and power to contribute and/or transfer at any time, such amount of money to the interest and sinking fund of such district or districts as in the judgment of said board of supervisors should be transferred to accomplish the objects and purposes of this act, provided that the amount so contributed or transferred for any district shall not exceed fifty per cent of the total face value of all outstanding and unpaid bonds of such district.

Sec. 3. The moneys herein provided to be expended for the purchase or redemption of such bonds or interest coupons or to be transferred or contributed to the interest and sinking fund of any such district or districts may be paid out of the general fund of such county or any fund available or that may be made available for that purpose under any law of this State or from any fund which may be hereafter especially provided. Boards of supervisors are hereby authorized to raise and provide by general taxation such moneys as may in their opinion be necessary to carry out the purposes of this act, subject, however, to the provisions of section 20 of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of California. Bonds of such county may be issued and sold under the provisions of section 4088 of the Political Code or any other law of this State now or hereafter existing governing the issuance and sale of general county obligations, for the purpose of providing funds with which to purchase or redeem such bonds and/or coupons or make the contributions or transfers provided in this act to be made and for any other purpose for which funds may be expended under this act.

Sec. 4. Before any moneys may be actually paid out in aid of any district by such board of supervisors for any of the purposes specified in this act, said board of supervisors shall by resolution duly adopted by four-fifths vote declare that public convenience and necessity demand and that the general county interest will be served and promoted by the expenditure of such county moneys, and every such resolution shall specify in detail the maximum amount to be expended or contributed for such district, the manner in which the same is to be used, a concise statement of the facts and circumstances showing the manner in which and the reason why the general county interest and welfare will be served and promoted by the expenditure to be made.

Sec. 5. Bonds and/or coupons purchased or redeemed under the provisions of this act may be purchased or redeemed at not to exceed fifty per cent of the face value thereof and any bonds or coupons so purchased may be held as the property of such county to be placed for safe keeping with the treasurer of such county and presentment for payment thereof may be made from time to time by said county as directed by its board of supervisors, in the same manner as though said bonds or coupons were owned and held by a natural person. Said board of supervisors may, if it deems it advisable in its sole discretion, publicly cancel or destroy all or any portion of the bonds and/or coupons so purchased or redeemed. Said board of supervisors may retain all or any portion of said bonds and/or coupons as hereinbefore provided and in connection with such bonds or coupons retained, may by ordinance forever waive any right or rights accruing to the county by reason of the ownership of said bonds or coupons. Boards of supervisors may reduce the rate of interest upon bonds retained and/or may reduce the face value of any bonds and/or coupons so retained and/or may forever waive the right of the county as owner of such bonds or coupons to require an annual levy upon the lands within said district to pay principal or interest on bonds due or past due at the date of the annual tax levy in such district.

In the event any right or rights acquired by the county under such bonds or coupons be waived or the interest rate or face value thereof reduced as above provided an appropriate notation of that fact shall be plainly stamped, printed or written across the face thereof.

SEC. 6. In the event that bonds or coupons so purchased or redeemed are canceled, discharged or destroyed by such board of supervisors, said board of supervisors shall have the right to order canceled from the tax records of such county, by appropriate resolution, all or any portion of the uncollected assessments or special assessment taxes, interest, penalties, or costs appertaining thereto, which have been levied for the payment of the bonds or coupons so canceled; provided, however, that any cancellations made as provided in this paragraph, in any district shall be made in such manner as to reduce the burden uniformly and proportionately upon all of the lands in such district.

SEC. 7. Any moneys accruing to any county as a result of or through the ownership of bonds or coupons purchased or redeemed under this act through the collection of principal or interest from district interest and sinking funds shall be deposited in the general fund of such county; provided, however, that in the event county bonds have been issued to provide funds with which to purchase or redeem district bonds and coupons then and in that event moneys accruing to such county in the cases above specified shall, so far as necessary, be set apart in the county treasury to be applied to payment of the principal and interest of the county bonds so issued.

SEC. 8. Whenever it is deemed necessary or advisable in furtherance of the purposes of this act, the officials or boards who have the power to levy the special assessments within any district or districts mentioned in this act, are hereby authorized and empowered to avail themselves, on behalf of such district or districts of all of the provisions, conditions and advantages of that certain act of Congress of the United States entitled "An act to establish a uniform system of bankruptcy throughout the United States," as approved July 1, 1898, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto and more particularly the provisions of Chapter 9 thereof providing for the emergency temporary aid of insolvent public debtors and to preserve the assets thereof and for other related purposes, approved May 24, 1934.
Sec. 9. The purpose of this act is to provide a complete scheme whereby any financially distressed and delinquent or insolvent district or districts created under the provisions of the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925 and amendments thereof, or the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and amendments thereof may be refunded or the bonded indebtedness thereof adjusted with the financial aid of the county in which the same may be situated and without the necessity or expense of destroying the structure or operation of such district, and without issuing refunding bonds or reassessing the same under any assessment refunding statute. Boards of supervisors are hereby vested with power and jurisdiction to do all and singular the things authorized by this act and to do such additional and incidental things as may be necessary and proper to give county financial aid in keeping with the purpose expressed in this section where such things and additional and incidental things as may be necessary and proper to give county financial aid in keeping with the purpose expressed in this section may be done without invading the vested rights of any property owner or bond holder of such district or districts. In addition to the expenditures expressly authorized in this act, boards of supervisors are empowered to provide from the sources heretofore mentioned for all necessary incidental, legal and other expense incurred in carrying out the provisions of this act.

This act shall in no wise affect any other act or acts now existing or which may hereafter be passed covering the same subject nor apply to any proceedings thereunder but is intended to and does provide an alternative system for using the funds of any county to assist special assessment districts of the types covered by this act. This act and all of its provisions shall be liberally construed to the end that the purposes hereof may be made effective and if any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases thereof be declared unconstitutional.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:
During the fifteen years last past hundreds of districts have been organized throughout the State of California under the provisions of the Road District Improvement Act of 1907 and the Acquisition and Improvement Act of 1925. Many of these districts were created during times of great economic prosperity and high land values. In many of such districts, due to the optimism of the times, or other causes, bonds for public improvements were issued in amounts in excess of the ability of the lands of such districts to bear the assessments necessary to pay the principal and interest on such bonds. Millions of dollars in assessed land valuation are located within districts created under these acts. Due to the present economic depression land values throughout the State have shrunk to the point where, in many cases, the total assessed valuation of all lands within a given district is less than the face value of the bonds outstanding in such district. Annual assessments upon individual parcels of land within these districts amount in many instances to more than the assessed value of such land.

Under present economic conditions property owners are unable to meet these high assessments and hundreds of such districts throughout the State have reached a point of hopeless delinquency.

Inasmuch as the property owners of these districts cannot, under the law, pay their county or municipal taxes without at the same time paying the district assessments many cities and counties are unable to collect large sums of money badly needed for the purposes of government. Many hundreds of properties in these districts are being deeded to the State for delinquent taxes and assessments and unless the financial aid of the counties is immediately made available to assist these overburdened districts thousands of parcels of lands will be stricken from the tax rolls this year; thousands of property owners will lose their homes, millions of dollars in governmental revenue will be uncollectible and at the same time thousands of bondholders will be unable to realize any return upon their investments.

CHAPTER 11.

An act to add section 3888a to the Political Code, relating to the payment of taxes.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 3888a of the Political Code is hereby added to read as follows.

3888a. Any county warrant upon a general or special fund of the county may by resolution of the board of supervisors, passed by a four-fifths vote be received in the payment of taxes levied by the county issuing the warrants where the amount of the warrant is equal to or less than the amount of taxes due.

Sec. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore go into immediate effect.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: Various counties of the State have registered warrants of their own issue outstanding in large amounts, and the merchants and the banks in those several communities are overloaded with such warrants and are unable to take up more of them, all of which tends to impair and threatens to continue to impair the credit of the counties of the State. The provisions of this act are calculated to tend to reedy this situation, wherefore it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 12.

An act authorizing the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works to prosecute efforts to secure Federal aid and assistance in financing the construction of the Central Valley Project, as said project is authorized and defined in the Central Valley Project Act of 1933, making an appropriation therefor, and declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take immediate effect.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works is hereby authorized to prosecute efforts to secure Federal aid and assistance in financing the construction of the Central Valley Project as said project is authorized and defined in the Central Valley Project Act of 1933 (Chapter 1042, Statutes 1933), including necessary surveys, plans, estimates, preliminary engineering and other preliminary expenses for the construction of said Central Valley Project.

Sec. 2. In addition to any sums heretofore appropriated for the use of the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works, the sum of fifty thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the funds of the State treasury, not otherwise appropriated for defraying the expenses of carrying out the purposes and objects of this act, to be expended through and upon the authorization of the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works. The State Controller is hereby authorized and directed to draw his warrants on the State treasury in payment of claims of the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works of said expenses and the State Treasurer is hereby directed to pay said warrants. The Water Project Authority of the State of California shall return this appropriation, or so much thereof as may be used, with interest thereon at the rate of four per cent per annum, to the general fund in the State treasury from the proceeds of the first sale of revenue bonds issued for the construction of said project under the provisions of said Chapter 1042, Statutes of 1933, creating said Water Project Authority of the State of California.

Sec. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

The Water Project Authority of the State of California, created in and by Chapter 1042 of the Statutes of 1933 and designated the Central Valley Project Act of 1933, has heretofore submitted to the Federal Public Works Administration, created by and functioning under the National Industrial Recovery Act, approved June 16, 1933 (Public No. 67, 73d Congress, H. R. 5755), an application for Federal aid and assistance in financing the construction of the Central Valley Project, as said project is authorized and defined in said Central Valley Project Act of 1933, and information at hand indicates that the Congress of the United States at its forthcoming session will have under consideration the matter of extending such financial aid and assistance, and in order to secure such Federal aid and assistance it is necessary that immediate steps be taken to further present the merits of said project to the appropriate Federal agencies; and it is further necessary, in order to secure such Federal aid and assistance, that contracts be obtained by the Water Project Authority with responsible public districts and State agencies for the purchase, sale and use of water and power, and it is necessary for the general welfare of the people of the State of California that said project be constructed as soon as possible, and said project can not be constructed at this time without such Federal aid and assistance; and it is further necessary to make immediate provisions for funds to defray the necessary expense preliminary to actual construction so that in the event of favorable action by the Congress of the United States construction of said project may proceed immediately and there are at present no funds available to defray the expense of an immediate prosecution of the objects and purposes aforesaid.

With adequate funds made immediately available, the Division of Water Resources of the Department of Public Works will be enabled to accomplish the above and foregoing objects and purposes continuously and uninterruptedly and without delay.
CHAPTER 13.

An act to validate bonds of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class, and providing for the levy of a tax to pay the same, and declaring the urgency of said act.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1933 In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Where in any school district, high school district, or junior college district, of any kind or class, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of voting, issuing and selling bonds of such district for any purpose or purposes, all acts and proceedings of the officers of election and of the board of trustees, board of education, or other governing body of such district, and all acts and proceedings of the board of supervisors of the county within which such district is situated, leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds if they have been heretofore sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of such district and of the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated to issue such bonds is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and bonds heretofore sold are declared to be and shall be, in the form and manner in which such bonds have been actually issued and delivered, the legal and binding obligations of and against such district and bonds hereafter sold are declared to be and shall be legal and binding obligations of such district, and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby declared to be pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Sec. 2. For the purpose of paying interest on such bonds as it becomes due and the principal thereof at maturity, the assessors, treasurers, boards of supervisors and other officers of the respective counties shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as are provided by law relative to the assessment, levy and collection of taxes and custody of funds for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class, respectively.

Sec. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such district voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity: Many school districts within the State of California are without sufficient money with which to purchase school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings or making alterations or additions to same or restoring or rebuilding school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus, for improving school grounds, for liquidating any indebtedness already incurred for said purposes or refunding any valid outstanding indebtedness of such district evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof. Many school districts have within the last two years voted bonds for raising money for such purposes and the proceedings in many of such bond elections were irregular but complying with all the provisions of this act, and by reason of such minor irregularities and defects in such proceedings, not jurisdicitional, such bonds can not now be sold. The population of many of these districts has increased so rapidly that the present school facilities of such districts are unable to meet the needs of the great increase of pupils in such districts and it is necessary and urgent that such bonds and the proceedings thereunder be validated at an early date in order that said school buildings, lots, equipment and facilities may be purchased or built before the opening of the next school year which in many instances would be impossible if this act did not go into effect immediately but was required to await until ninety days after adjournment of this Legislature.

An act relating to rural relief or rehabilitation corporations or agencies, and authorizing persons holding State offices or employments to participate therein, declaring the urgency of this act and providing that it shall go into immediate effect

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935 In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Any person who holds the office of relief administrator or of member of the relief commission, created by section 10 of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of California, or who holds any other State office or who being an employee of the State is thereunto designated by the State officer, department, board or commission under whom he is employed, may participate in the organization, ownership, control, direction, management and operation of such rural relief or rehabilitation corporations or agencies as Federal law or the regulations of the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator or similar Federal body may authorize and prescribe, and grants to the State by the Federal Government for such corporations or agencies shall be transmitted to the corporations or agencies and used and expended thereby in the manner authorized and prescribed by such Federal law and regulations. All expenses of organization, management and operation of such corporations or agencies shall be paid out of Federal grants to the State of California for such purposes.

Sec. 2. Said corporations or the Relief Administrator may employ such legal counsel as they or it may deem necessary to carry out the objects of this act.

This act is intended to facilitate cooperation with the Federal Government in connection with a comprehensive program for rural relief and rehabilitation in the State of California and the United States. It is necessary to establish agencies in this State to provide credit facilities to carry out the purposes and to assist in the administration of this program. It is anticipated that the Federal Government will make substantial grants to be utilized through such agencies for such purposes. Immediate establishment and functioning of such agencies are essential to secure assistance as early as possible in accordance with Federal plans and policies, and until such agencies are established this State will be unable to participate in the benefits of such plans and policies. This act will place this State in a position to receive and enjoy such benefits without delay, and should therefore go into immediate effect.

An act in relation to and regulating the commencement and continuation of proceedings to enforce or foreclose the lien of special assessment bonds issued for public improvements, and declaring the urgency hereof, and providing that it shall take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Subject to the provisions hereinafter mentioned, no proceeding at law or otherwise shall be commenced or continued by the holder of any special assessment bond issued for any public improvement in the State of California that constitutes a lien upon any real property described in said bond, to foreclose or enforce the lien thereof, until February 28, 1937.
After the expiration of thirty days from the date this act takes effect, this act shall not prohibit the commencement of any such proceeding in any case where any interest upon such bond is delinquent at the time any such proceeding is commenced.

Sec. 2. This act shall not be deemed to authorize any such proceeding in any case where such proceeding would not be authorized if this act had not been adopted.

Sec. 3. The period of time within which any proceeding or action must be taken or filed to foreclose or enforce the lien of such special assessment bond pursuant to any law or laws is hereby extended for such period of time as such foreclosure or enforcement is prohibited according to the provisions of this act. The periods of time prescribed by sections 581, 581a, 581b and 583 of the Code of Civil Procedure are hereby extended in the case of any such proceedings affected by this act, for the period of time during which the foreclosure or enforcement of such lien is prohibited according to the provisions of this act.

Sec. 4. Anything to the contrary herein notwithstanding, this act shall not be deemed to prohibit the continuation of any such proceedings taken or instituted prior to the date that this act takes effect, if the commencement of any such proceeding after the date this act takes effect, would not be prohibited pursuant to the provisions of section 1 of this act, or if the said real property has, prior to the date this act takes effect, been sold for delinquency on, or a judgment entered foreclosing the lien of, such bond.

Sec. 4a. Anything to the contrary in any other statute notwithstanding, the officer charged with the duty of receiving payment on account of such bond is, until the date mentioned in section 1 hereof, authorized to accept the payment of any interest and penalties for delinquencies in the payment thereof, and such bond without the payment of any installment or principal due or past due on such bond; provided that he has not received notice pursuant to any statute that an action or proceeding has been commenced to enforce the lien of such bond.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: The peace, safety and welfare of the citizens of this State are dependent upon immediate relief from the payment of the principal or installments thereof due upon said special assessment bonds. Because of the present economic crisis, the owners of property upon which such special assessment bonds are a lien are unable to pay principal due thereon and unless foreclosure and enforcement of such bonds is delayed where such principal or installments thereof are unpaid, such owners will lose their property and will cause great financial loss.

CHAPTER 16.

An act to validate contracts heretofore executed by county water districts with the United States and all proceedings relative thereto, including creation of improvement districts, and to provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay any sums required by the terms of such contracts and to declare the urgency hereof.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935 In effect immediately ]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever proceedings have heretofore been taken by any district organized or existing under the County Water District Act of this State for the execution by the district of any contract with the United States for the construction of works, whether for irrigation, drainage, flood control, or for the development of electric or other power, or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of such works or for a water supply or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States and the board of directors of such district has, by resolution, determined that the whole of the district will not be benefited by the accomplishment of the purpose of such contract and determined what portion of the district will be so benefited and by such resolution constituted such portion of such district as an improvement district of such county water district and the execution of such a contract has been approved and authorized by two-thirds of the votes cast at an election by the qualified electors residing within such improvement district and such contract has thereupon been executed on behalf of the district and the United States, then all acts and proceedings of the board of directors and officers of the district, of the State Engineer, the California Districts Securities Commission and all other public officers and bodies in connection therewith leading up to and including the creation of such improvement district and the execution of such contract, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes and the power of such district to execute, carry out, perform and observe such contract and every provision thereof is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared and such contract is hereby declared to be in all respects the legal and binding obligation of, against and in favor of such district, and the full faith and credit of the district is hereby pledged for the prompt payment of all sums required by the terms of such contract.
SEC. 2. For the purpose of paying all sums required by the terms of such contract as such sums become due, the board of directors of the county water district and other officers who are charged with duties in connection with the assessment, levy and collection of taxes for the district shall have the same powers and perform the same duties as are provided by law relative to the assessment, levy and collection of taxes and custody of funds for the payment of sums coming due under contracts of such districts with the United States at the times and in the manner set forth in the respective law or laws authorizing the execution of contracts with the United States by such districts for payment thereof.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows: One or more contracts have been executed between county water district or districts and the United States providing for the construction by the United States of irrigation works which will require the expenditure of millions of dollars for labor and will lead to the early improvement of many thousands of acres of land in California, which land is now barren desert. It is anticipated that, on condition that such contract or contracts be determined to be valid, the United States will finance and construct such irrigation works in the immediate future. Such works are a part of a comprehensive plan made by the United States for the construction of irrigation works in California, upon a part of which works construction has actually been initiated. The early consummation of such entire plan is necessary as a part of efforts being made by the Nation and the State of California to cope with widespread depression and unemployment which endanger the existence of the State and Nation.

An act to authorize the execution of contracts between any irrigation district or districts and any county water district or districts organized under the laws of this State, each of which districts shall have executed with the United States a contract or contracts under the provisions of the Federal Reclamation Law for construction of works, acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of such works or for a water supply or electric power rights or privileges or assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States, or for any of said purposes and which such districts shall propose to divert or carry water for use in such districts by means of a single main canal or system of works and providing certain purpoises for which such contracts between such districts may be executed, providing for the manner of authorization of such contracts and validating such contracts heretofore executed, declaring the urgency hereof and providing that this act shall go into immediate effect.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1935 In effect immediately ]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Whenever any irrigation district or districts and any county water district or districts organized under the laws of this State shall each have executed with the United States a contract or contracts under the provisions of the Federal Reclamation Law for the construction of works, whether for irrigation, drainage, flood control, or for the development of electric or other power or for the acquisition, purchase, extension, operation or maintenance of such works, or for a water supply, or for the assumption as principal or guarantor of indebtedness to the United States, or for any of said purposes, and such districts shall propose to divert or carry water for use in such districts by means of a single main canal or system of works, then and in that event such irrigation district or districts and county water district or districts shall have the power to contract with each other for the purposes provided in this act, and shall have full power to carry out, perform and observe such contracts in accordance with the tenor and spirit thereof, and such contracts shall be liberally construed so as to effectuate the same according to their true intent and meaning.

SEC. 2. In any such contract or contracts between such districts, whether executed before or after the execution of the above mentioned contract or contracts with the United States, such irrigation district or districts and county water district or districts are hereby authorized to contract among other things for the following purposes:

(a) Compromising and settling as between themselves any controversy or controversies existing between them as to the extent or priority of their respective rights and claims to the use of water, and agreeing between themselves upon the limitation and definition of the areas within such districts respectively upon which such waters shall be beneficially used.

(b) Providing that applications theretofore filed by such districts respectively with the Division of Water Resources of this State shall be amended to conform to the provisions of such contract, and that permits and licenses be issued to them respectively in accordance therewith.

(c) Compromising and settling any controversy or controversies existing between such districts as to power possibilities, power rights, power resources and power privileges, (hereinafter collectively styled power rights), upon any such canal or other water system, and for such purposes any of such districts may demise to another such district or districts all of such power rights which such demising district may then have or thereafter obtain. Such lease may be made for any term not exceeding 99 years and may vest in the lessee district or districts the operation, management, development and control of such power rights and the use, sale and control of power produced therefrom and may provide for the payment of rentals and such other matters relevant to the leasing of such power rights as such districts may in their discretion deem advisable, not in conflict with the Constitution of this State nor contrary to the express terms of the statutes under which such districts are respectively organized and exist, nor acts amenodatory thereof or supplementary thereto.

(d) Providing that when any such lease has been executed, the lessor district or districts may be required upon such terms as may be agreed to procure for the lessee district or districts contracts or applications for electrical energy signed by certain consumers in the lessor district or districts; and that the lessee district or districts shall serve electrical energy in the lessor district or districts upon such rates and under such terms and conditions as may be prescribed in such contract.

(e) Providing that the parties to such contract shall cooperate to obtain permits and licenses to appropriate water for power purposes and to construct power facilities from the Division of Water Resources of this State and/or Federal Power Commission or other Federal agency in such manner as may be prescribed in such contract.

(f) Providing for such other matters as may be authorized by law.

SEC. 3. The execution of any such contract may be authorized by resolution of the respective boards of directors of the contracting districts.

SEC. 4. Any and all such contracts as have heretofore been executed by and between any such districts and all acts of boards of directors and other officers of such districts leading up to and including the execution of such contract or contracts, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes, and the power of such districts to execute, carry out, perform and observe such contracts and every provision thereof is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared valid and such contracts are hereby declared to be in all respects the legal and binding obligations of, against and in favor of each of such contracting districts.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

The contracts herein authorized and validated are part of a comprehensive plan made by the United States for the construction of irrigation works in California, upon a part of which works construction has actually been initiated. The early consummation of the entire plan is necessary as a part of efforts being made by the nation and this State to cope with widespread depression and unemployment. The immediate operation of this act will further the early expenditure of large sums of money for labor for the improvement of many acres of land now barren, and so will contribute measurably to the bettering of such conditions.

An act making an appropriation to pay the cost of printing constitutional amendments and referendum measures for the 1933 and 1934 elections, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1933  In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The sum of sixty-four thousand six hundred sixty-nine and seventy-seven hundredths ($64,669.77) is hereby appropriated to the Secretary of State out of any money in the State treasury, not otherwise appropriated, to pay the cost of printing constitutional amendments and referendum measures for 1933 and 1934 elections.

Sec. 2. Inasmuch as this act provides an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, it is hereby declared an urgency measure and shall, under the provision of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 19.

An act making an appropriation to the emergency fund specified in item 201 of section 1 of an act entitled "An act making appropriations for the support of the government of the State of California and for several public purposes in accordance with the provisions of section 31 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, approved and adopted by the people at the general election held November 7, 1922, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately," approved May 11, 1933, for the purposes therein specified, and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor February 1, 1933  In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Out of any moneys in the State treasury not otherwise appropriated, the sum of two hundred eighty thousand dollars ($280,000), together with the unexpended balance of the moneys in the special emergency fund specified in Item 202 of section 1 of the act cited in the title hereof, is hereby appropriated to the emergency fund specified in Item 201 of section 1 of said act, to be expended as provided in said Item 201 of said section 1 of said act during the remainder of the eighty-sixth fiscal year.

Sec. 2. This act, inasmuch as it provides for an appropriation for the usual current expenses of the State, shall, under the provisions of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of this State, take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 20.

An act to provide for the formation, government, operation, and dissolution of pest abatement districts, for the assessment, levy, collection, and disbursement of taxes therein, to declare the urgency hereof, and to provide that this act take effect immediately.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1 As used in this act, the term "pest" includes any plant, animal, insect, fish, or other matter or material, not under human control, which is offensive to the senses or interferes with the comfortable enjoyment of life, and is not protected under any other provision of law. It is the purpose of this act to provide for the abatement of pests, and the provisions of this act shall be cumulative to any other provisions of law relating to the abatement of pests or nuisances.

Sec. 2. The organization of a pest abatement district may be initiated by a petition, describing the exterior boundaries of the proposed district, and the nature of the pest or pests to be controlled or abated. The petition may fix the maximum rate of assessment to be levied for the district.

Sec. 3. The petition shall be signed by registered voters resident in the proposed district equal in number to ten percent of the votes cast therein at the last preceding general election. The petition may consist of any number of separate instruments, which shall be duplicates, except as to the signatures and addresses of the signers. Each person who signs the petition shall also include his address.

Sec. 4. The petition shall be presented to the clerk of the county in which the land in the proposed district is situated. The clerk shall compare the signatures on the petition with the names of the registered voters for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not the petition contains sufficient signatures.
Sec. 5. If the petition lacks the necessary number of signatures the clerk shall certify that fact, and at any time within sixty days thereafter additional signatures may be presented to supplement the signatures on the original petition and such signatures shall be compared by the clerk in the manner above prescribed. If sufficient additional signatures are not so presented, proceedings under such petition shall be terminated, without prejudice to the right to file a new petition.

Sec. 6. If the petition is found to contain the requisite number of signatures the clerk shall make a certificate to that effect and shall present the petition, with his certificate, to the board of supervisors.

Sec. 7. If the board of supervisors finds that the petition has been properly presented, the board shall, by resolution, fix a time for the hearing of said petition not less than two nor more than five weeks from the time of presentation thereof, and shall cause notice to be given of the time and place of said hearing by publication in some newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said county, for not less than two weeks prior to the time of said hearing.

Sec. 8. At the time of the hearing or at any time to which it may be adjourned the board shall determine whether or not the notice required herein has been published as required and shall hear and consider all competent and relevant testimony or evidence offered in support of or in opposition to the formation of such district. The board may make such changes in the proposed boundaries of the district as it may deem advisable, and upon the application of the owner of any land within the proposed district may exclude such land, or upon the application of the owner of any land outside of the district and contiguous thereto, may include such land within the district, if the board determines that such exclusion or inclusion is proper.

Sec. 9. If, upon such hearing, the board determines that the public interest or welfare of the proposed territory and the inhabitants thereof require the formation of such district, the board, by resolution, shall declare its findings, and shall order that the territory within the boundaries determined by the board be created into a pest abatement district, under an appropriate name to be selected by the board.

Sec. 10. The clerk of the board shall immediately cause to be filed in the office of the county recorder in which the district is situated a certified copy of such order, and shall cause to be filed a certified copy thereof with the Secretary of State, and after the date of the last mentioned filing the district named herein shall be incorporated as a pest abatement district, with all of the rights, privileges, and powers set forth in this act, or necessarily incident thereto.

Sec. 11. Within thirty days after such incorporation the board of supervisors shall appoint a board of trustees, consisting of five members, as the governing body of such district. The members of the board of trustees shall hold office at the pleasure of the board of supervisors, and shall serve as such trustees without compensation, but shall be allowed their necessary traveling and other expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties.

Sec. 12. The board of trustees of such district shall have power to take all necessary or proper steps for the extermination of the pest or pests referred to in the petition, subject to the control of municipal or other public authorities having jurisdiction in the matter. The board of trustees may purchase supplies, and other personal property; may employ such labor as may be necessary; may acquire by purchase, condemnation, or otherwise, in the name of the district, any necessary lands, rights of way, easements, real property, or other property or material, necessary for any of the purposes of the district; may make contracts to indemnify or compensate any owner of land or other property for any injury or damage caused by the exercise of the powers conferred by this act or incident thereto; and may sue and be sued and do all things that are necessary to carry out the powers herein conferred and to carry out the objects of the formation of the district.

Sec. 13. The board of trustees of each district shall annually before the tenth day of July file with the board of supervisors an estimate of the amount of money necessary to be raised by taxation for the purposes of the district during the ensuing fiscal year.

Sec. 14. The board of supervisors shall levy, annually, a tax sufficient to raise the amount required for the purposes of the district. The board of supervisors shall determine the rate of such tax by deducting fifteen per cent from the total assessed value of the taxable property of the district as it appears upon the assessment roll and then dividing the sum required for the purposes of the district by the remainder of such assessed value. If the rate has been fixed by the petition, the rate fixed by the board shall not exceed such rate.

Sec. 15. All taxes levied under the provisions of this act shall be assessed and collected at the same time and in the same manner as other taxes are collected for county purposes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of the district.

Sec. 16. The funds of the district shall be withdrawn from the treasury upon the warrant of the board of trustees. The board of supervisors, from time to time, may order a temporary transfer from other funds in the treasury available for the purpose to the credit of the fund of the district. Such temporary transfer shall be made only upon resolution adopted by the board of supervisors directing the treasurer to make such transfer, and shall not exceed eighty-five per cent of the taxes accruing to the district, and shall not be made prior to the first day of the fiscal year nor after the last Monday in April of the current fiscal year. Any funds so transferred shall be replaced from the taxes accruing to such district before any other obligation of the district is met from such taxes.

Sec. 17. At any time after the incorporation of the district, upon petition of the owners of land contiguous thereto, such land may be annexed to the district, if the board of supervisors find that such annexation shall be for the benefit of the land so annexed and for the benefit of the district.

Sec. 18. Upon application of such persons as could have initiated proceedings for the formation of a district, the board of supervisors may, after notice of hearing, published in the manner herein prescribed for the notice of a hearing of a petition, dissolve such district if it appears to the board that such dissolution is proper. The dissolution of a district shall not have any effect on any assessment theretofore levied. Upon such dissolution the board of supervisors shall succeed to all the powers and jurisdiction of the board of trustees for the purpose of winding up the affairs of the district, and may continue to levy such assessments as are necessary in the winding up of the affairs of the district. No district shall be finally dissolved until all outstanding obligations of the district, including the repayment of funds transferred to the credit of the district from other funds of the county, have been fully paid and discharged.

In certain areas within this State there exist pests, the abatement of which is necessary and desirable in order to promote the comfort and welfare of the residents of such areas. The purpose of this act is to provide a method for the abatement of such pests. Facilities of the State Emergency Relief Administration are now available to assist in the work of eradicating or controlling these pests in cooperation with local governmental units such as a district, the organization of which is herein provided for. These facilities may not long continue to be available and in order to utilize these facilities, and in order that the work of abating these pests and relieving persons from the discomforts caused by such pests may be accomplished as soon as possible, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.
CHAPTER 21.

An act to validate bonds of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class and providing for the levy of a tax to pay the same, and declaring the urgency of said act.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Where in any school district, high school district, or junior college district, of any kind or class, proceedings have been taken for the purpose of voting, issuing and selling bonds of such district for any purpose or purposes, all acts and proceedings of the officers of election and of the board of trustees, board of education, or other governing body of such district, and all acts and proceedings of the board of supervisors of the county within which such district is situated, leading up to and including the issuance of such bonds if they have been heretofore sold, and all such acts and proceedings heretofore had, although the bonds are not sold, are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and validated to all intents and purposes, and the power of such district and of the board of supervisors of the county in which such district is situated to issue such bonds is hereby ratified, confirmed and declared, and bonds heretofore sold are declared to be and shall be, in the form and manner in which such bonds have been actually issued and delivered, the legal and binding obligations of and against such district and bonds hereafter sold are declared to be and shall be legal and binding obligations of such district, and the full faith and credit of such district is hereby declared to be pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

Sec. 2. For the purpose of paying interest on such bonds as it becomes due and the principal thereof at maturity, the assessors, treasurers, boards of supervisors and other officers of the respective counties shall have the same powers and shall perform the same duties as are provided by law relative to the assessment, levy and collection of taxes and custody of funds for the payment of the principal and interest of bonds of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class, respectively.

Sec. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds which have been sold for less than par, nor legalize any bonds the issuance of which has not received the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors of such district voting at an election held for the purpose of determining whether such indebtedness should be incurred, nor to legalize any bonds which mature more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

Sec. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California, and shall take effect immediately. The following is a statement of the facts constituting such urgency: Many school districts within the State of California are without sufficient money to purchase school lots or to build school buildings or to make alterations or additions to school buildings or to repair, restore or rebuild school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, or to supply school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus of a permanent nature. Many school districts have within the last two years voted bonds for raising money for such purposes or some of them and the proceedings in many of such bond elections were irregular, and by reason of such irregularities such bonds can not now be sold. The population of many of these districts has increased so rapidly that the present school facilities of such districts are unable to meet the needs of the great increase of pupils in such districts and it is necessary and urgent that such bonds and the proceedings thereunder be validated at an early date in order that the bonds may be sold and said school buildings, lots, equipment and facilities may be purchased or built before the opening of the next school year which in many instances would be impossible if this act did not go into effect immediately but was required to await until ninety days after adjournment of this Legislature.

Bonds have also been voted to raise money to repair, rebuild or reconstruct in whole or in part school buildings destroyed or seriously injured by earthquake or to strengthen buildings now deemed unsafe in case of earthquake, and such work is required immediately in order to protect the health and safety of school children. Because of irregularities some bonds voted for such purposes cannot now be sold but can be sold and moneys therefrom be made available at once if this act goes into effect immediately.

An act to amend sections 86, 89, 90 and 94 of the California Irrigation District Act, relating to the inclusion of land in irrigation districts and fixing conditions under which such lands may be included, and the liability of such included lands for the obligations of such irrigation districts, declaring the urgency thereof, the act to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 2, 1935 In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 86 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 86. The holder or holders of title, or evidence of title, or a majority of the holders of title, or evidence of title of any tract of land may file in the office of the board of directors of any irrigation district a petition praying that said tract of land be included within said district; provided, that if there is more than one holder of title or evidence of title of said land, the petitioners must include the holders of title or evidence of title of at least one-half of the area of said land. If any petitioner is the owner of an undivided interest in said land or any of it, he shall be deemed to be the owner of such proportion of the area of the land in which he has an interest as his interest bears to the whole of such land. Each signature to such petition shall be acknowledged or proved as provided by law for signatures to an instrument to entitle it to be recorded. The petition may state that if the land described therein is included within the district, it shall not become liable by assessment or otherwise for any of the outstanding obligations, bonded or otherwise, of the district, and that the land then within the district shall not be liable for assessment or otherwise on account of any costs or expenses for the acquisition or construction of works, waters, water rights, or other property to be used or now used for the irrigation of the lands to be included, but that the lands to be included shall be subject to such assessments and charges as may be necessary to provide for all or part of the costs of works, water, water rights and other property necessary to provide for the irrigation thereof, and the cost of maintaining and operating such works or the liability of the lands to be included may be limited solely to the fixing and collecting of tolls and charges for the use of water on such lands, and the petition may set forth any other terms or conditions with respect to the inclusion of the land described in the petition and the liability of said land for any costs or expenses to be incurred thereafter.

Sec. 89. The board of directors to whom such petition is presented, may require, as a condition precedent to the granting of the same, that the petitioners shall severally pay to such district such respective sums, as nearly as the same can be estimated (the several amounts to be determined by the board), as said petitioners or their grantors would have been required to pay to such district as assessments, had such lands been included in such district at the time the same was originally formed; or may require such other conditions as said board may consider proper.

Sec. 3. Section 90 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 90. If the board of directors, after the hearing provided for in section 88 hereof, shall determine that said petition complies with the requirements of section 86 hereof and that the inclusion within the district of the tract of land described in said petition, or some portion or portions thereof, will be for the best interests of the district, and if no protest against the inclusion of such land is made as provided in section 91 hereof, or if such protest be made and enough signatures be withdrawn therefrom so that said protest is no longer sufficient, the board shall order the boundaries of the district to be changed so that said tract of land, or such portion or portions thereof as the board shall deem it for the best interests of the district to include, subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed, shall be included within the district, but no land shall be so included unless the board, after the hearing aforesaid, shall determine that it can be irrigated by means of some of the works of the district or by means of practicable works connecting therewith and will be benefited by such irrigation; and if the board determines that only a portion or certain portions of the tract of land described in said petition should be included, said petition shall be dismissed unless the petitioners include a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of said portion, or of each of said portions, of said tract, representing also at least one-half the area of said portion, or of each of said portions, or unless, within sixty days from the time such determination is made, there shall be filed with the board the consent in writing, acknowledged or proved as required in section 86 hereof, of a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of said portion, or of each of said portions of said tract of land, representing also at least one-half of the area of said portion or of each of said portions. The order shall describe the boundaries of the land so included within the district, and if said land adjoins any portion of the district the order shall also describe that portion of the boundary of the district which coincides with the boundary of the land so included, and for the purposes of said order the board may cause a survey to be made of such portions of said boundaries as may be deemed necessary. If so requested and provided in the petition for inclusion the board may provide that such lands included within said district shall not become liable by assessment or otherwise for any of the outstanding obligations, bonded or otherwise, of the district, and that the lands then within the district shall not be liable for assessments or otherwise on account of any costs or expenses for the acquisition or construction of works, waters, water rights, or other property used or to be used for the irrigation of the lands to be included, but that the lands to be included shall be subject and liable to such assessments and charges as may be necessary to provide for all or part of the costs of works, waters, water rights and other property necessary to provide for the irrigation thereof, and the cost of maintaining and operating such works, and the board of directors shall be authorized and empowered to levy assessments, annual or otherwise, and to fix such assessment rate, upon such lands so included, as may be necessary to raise and pay the amount of the obligations so assumed by said included lands as they accrue, or such amount may be raised in whole or in part by, or the liability of such included lands for the payment of any indebtedness may be solely limited to, the fixing and collection of tolls and charges for the use of water on such lands and all the provisions of this act in reference to the levy of assessments and the fixing of tolls and charges for the use of water shall be applicable to such included lands to the extent of the liabilities assumed by such lands under the provisions of the order or orders of inclusion. If more than one petition for the inclusion of land has been presented, the board may in one order include within the district any number of separate tracts of land. Any public land of the United States of America may be included within any irrigation district by such order of the board of directors without any petition therefore except as may be required by the laws of the United States, if such land can be irrigated by means of any of the works of the district or by any practicable works connecting therewith and will be benefited by such irrigation. When the board finds that the inclusion of any land within an irrigation district without condition would work an injury to the land already within the district, the board may prescribe conditions upon such inclusion of land either by providing for priority of right to water for the land already in the district or for the payment of an additional annual charge upon the land included or such other conditions as may to the board seem just. If any such conditions are prescribed by the board all the owners of the land subject to such conditions must, before any order for its inclusion is made, sign an agreement with the district describing the land so to be included and specifying such conditions. The signatures to said agreement must be acknowledged or proved as provided by law for the signatures of instruments to be recorded, and said agreement must be recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which such lands are situated, and thereupon and upon the recording of a copy of the order including such lands as hereinafter provided, such lands shall become a part of the district subject to the conditions of said agreement. Or in lieu of the execution and recording of such agreement signed and acknowledged by the owners of land to be included subject to such conditions the board of directors may adjourn said hearing for not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days and shall give notice of the time and place of such adjourned hearing by publication in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county in which the office of the board of directors is located and in which the lands affected are situate for not less than once a week for three consecutive weeks; said notice so published shall set out at length the conditions proposed to be imposed and directing all persons interested to appear at the time and place specified in said notice and show cause, if any they have, why such conditions should not be imposed. At such hearing, or at any further adjournment thereof duly entered upon the minutes, the board of directors may by resolution adopt, reject, or modify such conditions as may be just and make the order hereinabove provided for containing such of said conditions as may have been adopted and such order shall be final and conclusive upon a copy thereof duly certified by the secretary of the board having been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the lands affected are situate; provided, that said certified copy of such order shall not be recorded for a period of thirty days from and after the making of such order, during which thirty days a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of the land described in the petition for inclusion and representing also more than one-half of the area of said tract or tracts of land, may file with the secretary of the board of directors a statement or statements in writing signed and acknowledged in the form required for the conveyance of real property, objecting to the inclusion of such lands with the conditions imposed thereon, whereupon said objections shall be laid before the board of directors and if the board finds the same to be in the form required by this section and signed by a majority of the holders of title or evidence of title of the tract or tracts of land described in said petition for inclusion, and also representing more than one-half of the area of land described in said petition, then the board of directors shall enter in its minutes an order dismissing said petition for inclusion and no further proceedings shall be had thereon, but such order of dismissal shall be without prejudice to the filing of another petition or other petitions for inclusion of the same land or any part thereof; and provided further, that agreeable to the laws of the United States and the proper regulations or consent of any authorized department thereof, or the laws of this State as the case may be, such conditions as the board of directors shall deem equitable and just may be imposed upon any public lands of the United States or of this State as a part of the order of inclusion without the agreement or hearing provided for in this section.

Sec. 4. Section 94 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 94. Upon a change of the boundaries of a district being made, a copy of the order of the board of directors ordering such change, certified by the president and secretary of the board, shall be filed for record in the recorder’s office of each county within which are situated any of the lands of the district, and thereupon the district shall be and remain an irrigation district, as fully, and to every intent and purpose, as if the lands which are included in the district by the change of the boundaries, as aforesaid, had been included therein at the original organization of the district, save and except that such included lands shall be and remain subject to such terms, conditions and liabilities as may have been fixed and imposed upon them by such order of inclusion.

ately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows: Many parcels of land adjoining irrigation districts in this State are without means of irrigation or providing for the means of irrigation or the cost of such irrigation as may be available is so excessive that said lands will remain of little value and the residents on such lands will be unable to raise sufficient foodstuffs either for their own sustenance or the sustenance of their families or for sale in order to purchase other necessities of life for themselves and families and great distress and ill health will be caused and exist by reason thereof unless water can be immediately furnished to such lands at a reasonable cost. That it is impossible under present financial and economic conditions to obtain the necessary money through irrigation district bond issues and the only method of financing is either through loans from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other agencies of the United States with limited time to make loans, or through private capital only available for a very short period of time, which can be obtained if such lands are immediately included in the adjoining irrigation districts and under the conditions in this act set forth. That if such lands are not so immediately included in such districts the opportunity so to do will be lost; and such lands and the owners thereof and the residents thereon will suffer great and irreparable injury as hereinbefore set forth.

CHAPTER 23.

An act to authorize the city of Napa to execute certain conveyances to the United States of America, declaring the urgency thereof, and providing that this act shall take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 2, 1935 In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The city of Napa, to fulfill the purposes of this act, is hereby authorized and empowered to make and execute, in such form as may be necessary and proper, such deeds or other conveyances as may be necessary to convey to the United States of America the title which the city of Napa now has or may hereafter acquire in and to those certain parcels of land situated in the county of Napa, State of California, and commonly known as Jack's Bend and Carr Bend.

Sec. 2. The title hereby authorized to be conveyed is a fee simple interest in and to Jack's Bend and an easement in and to Carr Bend to allow such land to be excavated to sufficient depth and width to provide a navigable canal to become a part of the Napa River. The purpose for the con-vement of these titles is to straighten the Napa River and improve the navigability thereof.

Sect. 3. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, and shall therefore take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

Because of the existing economic conditions which make it imperative and necessary to furnish as much work as possible so that unemployment may be relieved, the work necessary to straighten the Napa River and increase its navigability will furnish needed employment. By the immediate conveyance to the United States of the titles to these parcels of land, the plan for the work to be so done on the Napa River can be presented to the Congress of the United States at its present session, thus enabling the actual work to be started before the forthcoming winter season.

Sect. 92. An act to amend section 92 of the Agricultural Code, relating to agricultural fairs, to declare the urgency hereof, and to provide that this act take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor February 9, 1935  In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 92 of the Agricultural Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

92. Any money appropriated by the State for the encouragement of county, district or combined county and district agricultural fairs shall be expended under the supervision of the State Department of Finance for premiums for agricultural, horticultural and live stock exhibits only. The Department of Finance shall apportion the money appropriated for the various agricultural fairs on the basis of the amount which each fair actually paid in premiums for agricultural, horticultural and live stock exhibits in each year. The Secretary of any such fair desiring to share in any such appropriation shall file with the Department of Finance on or before December 31st, of each year, a sworn statement setting forth the actual amount paid for premiums by such fair held in that year. No allotment from the appropriation herein provided shall be made for more than one fair in any one year in any county or district. The fact that one county joins with another county, or with several others, or that one district contracts with a county or county fair association, to hold an agricultural fair shall not bar it from receiving a proper proportion of the moneys herein appropriated. No fair for which a separate appropriation is made by the State shall participate in the apportionment of any money appropriated for the encouragement of county and district agricultural fairs.

A statement of the facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Owing to the existing economic depression many agricultural fairs were discontinued during the year 1934. The section of the Agricultural Code amended by this act, provides for the allocation of funds appropriated for agricultural fairs upon the basis of premiums paid in the preceding year. Unless this section is amended, no appropriation will be permitted on behalf of any fair which was discontinued for the year 1934, and this condition will continue to exist in future years unless the section is amended.

The holding of agricultural fairs is a matter of interest to the people of the State, and the appropriation for agricultural fairs should be distributed equally among all fairs entitled to participation, regardless of the fact that due to economic conditions some fairs were discontinued, and in order that the law may provide for the proper allocation of these funds in the current year, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

CHAPTER 25.

An act relating to the transfer and expenditure of moneys for relief of hardship and destitution due to and caused by unemployment, and declaring the urgency hereof.

[Approved by the Governor March 14, 1935. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The Controller must, when the "Relief Fund" created by section 10 of Article XVI of the Constitution is exhausted or there is no money therein, and there is money in some other fund not required to meet any demand which has accrued or may accrue against it, report such fact to the Governor and the Treasurer. If they find that the money is not needed in such other fund, the Governor may order the Controller to direct the transfer of such money, or any part thereof, to the "Relief Fund." All money so transferred must be returned to the fund from which it was transferred as soon as there is sufficient money in the "Relief Fund" to return it. Nothing in this section authorizes the transfer of any money from any fund so as in any manner to interfere with the object for which such fund was created.
SEC. 2. The relief administrator is hereby authorized and directed to expend the moneys so transferred to the "Relief Fund" as direct grants to relief beneficiaries, without making such grants to or through any county, city and county, municipality, district or other political subdivision.

There are not sufficient Federal relief funds available to meet current relief needs. Unless this act takes effect immediately, over one million persons in California will receive inadequate relief budgets during the present and succeeding months, and there will be danger of serious unrest. In fact, it is probable that relief operations will have to be suspended during the present month. It is therefore necessary that Federal relief funds be supplemented immediately, and that aid be administered as herein provided to secure efficient and orderly distribution thereof, and to secure maximum Federal cooperation, in accordance with understandings and agreements heretofore made.

An act to authorize the legislative bodies of counties, cities and cities and counties, directly, or through a duly authorized representative or representatives, to attend the sessions of the Legislature of the State of California and to appear before said Legislature and the committees thereof and making the cost incidental thereto a proper charge against the funds of the county, or city or city and county, and declaring the urgency thereof.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The legislative body of any county or city or city and county may directly, or through a duly authorized representative or representatives, attend the sessions of the Legislature of the State of California and present to said Legislature of the State of California, or any committee thereof, such information as the county, or city or city and county may deem necessary for the purpose of aiding in the passage of any legislation which in the judgment of said county, or city or city and county may be deemed beneficial thereto, or for the purpose of preventing the passage of any legislation which said legislative body of said county, or city or city and county may deem detrimental to said county, or city or city and county, and the cost and expense incident thereto shall be a proper charge against the funds of said county or city or city and county.

Sec. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of California and shall therefore go into effect immediately. A statement of facts constituting such necessity is as follows:

Bills are now pending before the Legislature of the State of California that are of vital and of immediate importance to the counties, cities and counties of the State of California. Many of these bills directly concern taxation, revenue, special assessment districts, publicly owned public utilities and other matters of moment to the finances of counties, cities and counties and counties, while others concern the social well-being and welfare of the citizens of the counties, cities and counties and counties. Because of the importance of these bills, it is both equitable and necessary that representatives from the counties, cities and counties and counties be permitted to attend and to appear before the Legislature of this State and before its committees to the end that counties, cities and counties and counties may have the opportunity to be heard on all measures affecting said counties, or cities or cities and counties. Unless this authority is granted immediately and the expense of sending representatives is made a proper charge against the county, or city or city and county, the counties, cities and counties will be precluded from proper representation before the Legislature and its committees. Because of the direct concern of the counties, cities and counties and counties in bills now assigned to committees it is urgently necessary that this bill be acted upon immediately and go into effect immediately.

proof of ability to respond in damages is given, another such judgment is rendered against said person for any accident occurring prior to the date of the giving of said proof and such person fails to satisfy the latter judgment within the amounts specified herein within fifteen days after the same became final, then the department shall again suspend the operator’s or chauffeur’s license of such judgment debtor and the registration cards and license plates issued for all motor vehicles registered in the name of such judgment debtor as owner and shall not renew the same and shall not issue to him any operator’s or chauffeur’s license or a registration card or license plate for any motor vehicle while such latter judgment remains unsatisfied and subsisting within the amounts specified herein.

411.5. [Relief From Suspension Upon Failure of Insurer to Pay Judgment.] Any person whose operator’s or chaufffeur’s license or certificate of registration have been suspended, or are about to be suspended or shall become subject to suspension under the provisions of this chapter, may relieve himself from the effect of such judgment as hereinbefore prescribed in this chapter by filing with the department an affidavit stating that at the time of the accident upon which such judgment has been rendered he was insured, that the insurer is liable to pay such judgment, and the reason, if known, why such insurance company has not paid such judgment. He shall also file the original policy of insurance or a certified copy thereof, and such other documents as the department may require to show that the loss, injury or damage for which such judgment was rendered, was covered by such policy of insurance.

If the department is satisfied from such papers that such insurer was authorized to issue such policy of insurance in the State of California at the time of issuing such policy and that such insurer is liable to pay such judgment, at least to the extent and for the amounts hereinbefore provided in this chapter, the department shall not suspend such license or licenses and such certificate or certificates, or if already suspended, shall reinstate them.

412. Action Against Nonresident. (a) If the person against whom any such judgment is rendered is a nonresident and such person fails within said time to satisfy the same in full or to the extent specified herein, all privileges of operating a motor vehicle in this State given to such person under this code and all nonresident permits for any foreign motor vehicles owned by him shall be suspended while such judgment remains in effect and so unsatisfied in this State or elsewhere and until such nonresident gives proof of his ability to respond in damages in the manner and to the extent hereinafter specified for accidents occurring after the date of the giving of such proof.

(b) The department shall also forward a certified copy of such judgment of a court of record or a certified copy of the docket of a court not of record to the appropriate officer in charge of the registration of vehicles or the licensing of drivers thereof in the State of which said person is a resident.

413. When Judgment Deemed Satisfied. Every such judgment shall for the purposes of this chapter be deemed satisfied:

(a) When five thousand dollars has been credited, upon any judgment in excess of that amount, or upon all judgments, collectively, which together total in excess of that amount, for personal injury to or death of one person as a result of any one accident.

(b) When, subject to said limit of five thousand dollars as to one person, the sum of ten thousand dollars has been credited, upon any judgment in excess of that amount, or upon all judgments, collectively, which together total in excess of that amount, for personal injury to or death of more than one person as a result of any one accident.

(c) When one thousand dollars has been credited, upon any judgment in excess of that amount, or upon all judgments, collectively, each of which is in excess of one hundred dollars, and which together total in excess of one thousand dollars, for damage to property of others as a result of any one accident.
414. Proof of Ability to Respond in Damages. Proof of ability to respond in damages when required by this code means proof of ability to respond in damages resulting from the ownership or operation of a motor vehicle, and arising by reason of personal injury to, or death of, any one person, of at least five thousand dollars, and, subject to the limit of five thousand dollars for each person injured or killed, of at least ten thousand dollars for such injury to or the death of, two or more persons in any one accident, and for damage to property (in excess of one hundred dollars) of at least one thousand dollars resulting from any one accident. Such proof of ability to respond in damages may be given by any of the following:

(a) The written certificate or certificates of any insurance carrier duly authorized to do business within the State, that it has issued to or for the benefit of the person named therein a motor vehicle liability policy or policies as defined in section 415, which, at the date of said certificate or certificates is in full force and effect, and designating therein by explicit description or by other appropriate reference all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is granted by the policy certified to. The department shall not accept any certificate or certificates unless the same cover all motor vehicles registered in the name of the person furnishing such proof. Additional certificates shall be required as a condition precedent to the registration of any additional motor vehicle or motor vehicles in the name of the person required to furnish such proof.
Said certificate or certificates shall certify that the motor vehicle liability policy or policies therein cited shall not be canceled except upon ten days prior written notice to the department.

(b) The bond of a surety company duly authorized to do business within the State, or a bond of individual sureties each owning unencumbered real estate, approved by a judge of a court of record. Such bond shall be conditioned for the payment of the amount specified in this section, and shall provide for the entry of judgment on motion of the State in favor of any holder of any final judgment on account of damage to property over one hundred dollars in amount, or injury to any person caused by the operation of such person's motor vehicle, in the same manner as provided in section 942 of the Code of Civil Procedure for the entry of judgment upon appeal bonds.

(c) Evidence presented to the department of a deposit by such person with the State Treasurer of eleven thousand dol-ars. The department shall not accept a deposit of money where any judgment or judgments theretofore recovered against such person as a result of damages arising from the operation of any motor vehicle shall not have been paid in full. The Treasurer of the State shall accept any such deposit and issue a receipt therefor.
415. Requisites of Motor Vehicle Liability Policy. "Motor vehicle liability policy," as used in this code, means a policy of liability insurance issued by an insurance carrier authorized to transact business in this State to the person therein named as insured. Such policy shall designate, by explicit description or by appropriate reference, all motor vehicles with respect to which coverage is intended to be granted by said policy, and shall insure the insured named therein, and any other person using or responsible for the use of any such motor vehicle, with the consent, express or implied, of such insured, against loss from the liability imposed upon such insured by law or upon such other person for injury to, or death of, any person, other than such person or persons as may be covered, as respects such injury or death by any workmen's compensation law, or damage to property, except property of others in charge of the insured or the insured's employees growing out of the maintenance, use or operation of any such motor vehicle in the United States of America; or which policy shall, in the alternative, insure the person therein named as insured against loss from the liability imposed by law upon such insured for injury to or death of any person, other than such person or persons as may be covered as respects such injury or death by any workmen's compensation law, or damage to property, except property of others in charge of the insured or the insured's employees, growing out of the operation or use by such insured of any motor vehicle, except a motor vehicle registered in the name of such insured, and occurring while such insured is personally in control, as driver or occupant, of such motor vehicle within the United States of America, to the amount or limit of five thousand dollars, exclusive of interest and costs, on account of injury to or death of any one person, and, subject to the same limit as respects injury to or death of one person, of ten thousand dollars, exclusive of interest and costs, on account of any one accident resulting in injury to or death of more than one person; and of one thousand dollars for damage to property of others, as herein provided, resulting from any one accident; or a binder pending the issuance of any such policy, or an endorsement to an existing policy as hereinafter provided. This section shall not prevent such insurance carrier from granting any lawful coverage in excess of or in addition to the coverage herein provided for, nor from embodying in such policy any agreements, provisions or stipulations not contrary to law.

416. Installment Payments of Civil Judgments. (a) The department shall not suspend a license or registration of a motor vehicle and shall restore any suspended license or registration following nonpayment of a final judgment when the judgment debtor gives proof of financial responsibility for future damages and when the trial court in which such judgment was rendered orders the payment of such judgment in installments and while the payment of any said installment is not in default. Whenever the trial court orders the payment of a judgment in installments as provided in this section such court shall forward a certified copy of such order to the department.

(b) The trial court may order the payment of a judgment in installments only upon the written consent of the judgment creditor. Such order shall fix the amounts and times of payment of the installments and shall be without prejudice to any other legal remedies available to the judgment creditor.

(c) In the event that it is made to appear to the court that the judgment debtor has failed to pay any installment as permitted by the order of the court, then the court shall give notice of such default to the department and the department shall forthwith suspend the license and registration certificates and registration plates of the judgment debtor until said judgment is satisfied as provided in this act.

DIVISION VIII. GARAGES, REPAIR SHOPS, SERVICE STATIONS AND PRIVATE BUILDINGS.

CHAPTER 1. LIENS ON VEHICLES.

425. Labor and Material Liens on Vehicles. Every person has a lien dependent upon possession for the compensation to which he is legally entitled for making repairs or performing labor upon, and furnishing supplies or materials for, and for the storage, repair or safe-keeping of, any vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder, subject to the limitations set forth in this chapter.

426. Revival of Liens Lost; Duties of Lienholder. (a) Whenever such lien upon any such vehicle is lost by reason of the loss of possession through trick, fraud, or device, the repossession of such vehicle by the lienholder revives such lien but any lien so revived is subordinate to any right, title or interest of any person under any sale, transfer, encumbrance, lien or other interest acquired or secured in good faith and for value between the time of such loss of possession and the time of repossession.

(b) That portion of such lien in excess of one hundred dollars, for any work, services, care, storage or safe-keeping rendered or performed at the request of any person other than the holder of the legal title, is invalid, unless prior to commencing any such work, service, care, storage or safe-keeping, the person claiming such lien gives actual notice in writing either by personal service or by registered letter addressed to the legal owner named in the registration certificate. If any portion of a lien includes storage charges upon a vehicle for a period in excess of sixty days, the portion of the lien which accrued after the expiration of such period is invalid unless the provisions of sections 438 and 439 have been complied with by the holder of said lien.

427. Sale to Satisfy Liens. If the lien holder is not paid the amount due, and for which the lien is given, within ten days after the same becomes due, then such lien holder may proceed to sell said property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to satisfy said lien and costs of sale at public auction.

428. Notice of Sale; Disposition of Proceeds. Prior to any such sale said lien holder shall give at least ten days' notice of such sale by advertising in some newspaper published in the county in which said property is situated; or if there is no newspaper printed in such county, then by posting notice of sale in three of the most public places in the town or place where such property is to be sold, for ten days previous to the date of the sale. Prior to the sale of any vehicle to satisfy any such lien, twenty days' notice by registered mail shall be given to the legal owner and to the registered owner of said vehicle, if registered in this State, as the same appear in the registration certificate, and also to the department by registered letter. The department shall in like manner immediately notify the legal owner and the registered owner of the proposed sale, but failure on the part of said department to give such notice shall not affect the validity of any such sale. The proceeds of the sale must be applied to the discharge of the lien and the cost of keeping and selling the property. The remainder, if any, shall be paid to the legal owner.

428.5 Sale of Certain Vehicles by Lienholder. Where the vehicle subject to the lien is appraised at a value not exceeding twenty-five dollars by an officer or employee of the department, the lienholder may sell such vehicle at public sale, upon the giving of notice as provided in this section. At least ten days before the sale, the lienholder shall notify the legal owner, the registered owner, and the department by registered mail of the time and place of the sale. At least ten days before the sale, the lienholder shall also post a notice of the sale in a conspicuous place on the premises where the vehicle is stored, giving the date of the sale and a description of the vehicle, including the make, model, type, and license number.

429. Redemption from Sale. Within twenty days after such sale, the legal owner may redeem any such vehicle so sold to satisfy said lien upon the payment of the amount thereof, all costs and expenses of said sale, together with interest on said sum at the rate of twelve per cent per annum from the due date thereof or the date when the same were advanced until the repayment.

430. Unlawful Removal or Obtaining of Vehicle Subject to Lien. It is a misdemeanor for any person to obtain possession of any vehicle or any part thereof subject to a lien under this chapter through surreptitious removal or by trick, fraud, or device perpetrated upon the lien holder.
CHAPTER 2. CONDUCT OF GARAGES AND REPAIR SHOPS AND OF PERSONS RENTING PRIVATE BUILDINGS.

438. Records of Garage Keepers. (a) Every keeper of a garage shall keep a written record of every vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder stored therein for compensation for a period longer than twelve hours.

(b) Such record shall contain the name and address of the person storing the same and a brief description of the vehicle including the name or make, the motor or other number of the vehicle, and the license number shown by the license plates or registration card if either of the latter is attached to the vehicle in a clearly discernible place.

(c) All such records shall be open to inspection by any peace officer.

439. Report of Vehicles Known or Suspected to Have Been Abandoned or Unlawfully Stored. Whenever any vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder has been stored in a garage for thirty days and the ownership of said vehicle is unknown to the keeper thereof said keeper shall thereupon report the presence of such vehicle to the sheriff’s office of the county or the police department of the city wherein such garage is located. At the same time, whether the name of the registered owner is known or not, said keeper shall report such fact to the department by receipted mail and the department shall at once notify the legal owner as of record.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

439. Report of Vehicles Known or Suspected to Have Been Abandoned or Unlawfully Stored. Whenever any vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder has been stored in a garage for thirty days and the ownership of said vehicle is unknown to the keeper thereof said keeper shall thereupon report the presence of such vehicle to the sheriff’s office of the county or the police department of the city wherein such garage is located. At the same time, whether the name of the registered owner is known or not, said keeper shall report such fact to the legal owner of the vehicle by registered mail if the address of said legal owner is ascertainable from the records of the department.

440. Report of Vehicles Showing Bullet Marks. Whenever any vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder which shows evidence of having been struck by a bullet is stored in a garage or repair shop, the keeper thereof shall within twenty-four hours after receiving such vehicle report such fact to the sheriff’s office of the county or police department of the city wherein such garage or repair shop is located giving the motor or other number of the vehicle, the license number if ascertainable, the name and address of the person storing the same or the name and address of the owner shown by the registration card if the same is attached to the vehicle in a clearly discernible place.

441. Report of Renting of a Private Building in Which a Vehicle is Stored. Every person other than the keeper of a garage renting any private building used as a private garage or space therein for the storage of a vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder, when the agreement to rent includes only such building or space therein, shall within twenty-four hours after any such vehicle is stored therein report such fact together with the name of the tenant, and a description of said vehicle including the name or make, the motor or other number of the vehicle and the license number if any, to the sheriff’s office of the county or the police department of the city wherein such building is located. “Private garage” as used in this section does not include a public warehouse or public garage.

442. Penalty for Failure to Make Reports or Keep Records. Every person required under this chapter to keep a record or make a report who wilfully fails, refuses or neglects to comply with any of the provisions of this chapter is guilty of a misdemeanor.

443. Unlawful Use Of or Tampering With Vehicles. Every person having the storage, care, safe-keeping, custody or possession of any vehicle of a type subject to registration hereunder who, without the consent of the owner, takes, hires, runs, drives or uses such vehicle or who takes or removes therefrom any part thereof is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding one thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding one year or by both.

Every person riding a bicycle or riding or driving an animal upon a highway is subject to the provisions of this division applicable to the driver of a vehicle, except those provisions which by their very nature can have no application.

The provisions of this code applicable to the drivers of vehicles upon the highways apply to the drivers of all vehicles while engaged in the course of employment by this State or any political subdivision thereof or any municipal corporation therein, subject to such specific exceptions as are set forth in this code with reference to authorized emergency vehicles.

CHAPTER 6. SPEED LAWS.

510. Basic Speed Law. No person shall drive a vehicle upon a highway at a speed greater than is reasonable or prudent having due regard for the traffic on, and the surface and width of, the highway, and in no event at a speed which endangers the safety of persons or property.

511. Prima Facie Speed Limits. The speed of any vehicle upon a highway not in excess of the limits specified in this section is lawful unless clearly proved to be in violation of the basic rule declared in section 510 hereof.

The speed of any vehicle upon a highway in excess of any of the limits specified in this section is prima facie unlawful unless the defendant establishes by competent evidence that any said speed in excess of said limits did not constitute a violation of the basic rule declared in section 510 hereof at the time, place and under the conditions then existing.

The prima facie limits referred to above are as follows:
(a) Fifteen miles per hour:
(1) When passing a school building, or the grounds thereof, contiguous to the highway during school recess or while children are going to or leaving such school during opening or closing hours or while the playgrounds of any such school are in use by school children.
(2) When traversing a grade crossing of a steam, electric or street railway if during the last one hundred feet of the approach to such crossing the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such crossing and of any traffic on such railway for a distance of four hundred feet in both directions along such railway.
(3) When approaching or upon a curve or any other part of a highway in the event the driver’s view is obstructed within a distance of one hundred feet along the highway in the direction in which such driver is proceeding.

(4) When traversing any intersection of highways if during the last one hundred feet of his approach to such intersection the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such intersection and of any traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of one hundred feet along all such highways, except upon a through highway or at traffic-controlled intersections, in which event in a business or residence district the district speed shall apply and elsewhere the speed shall be thirty miles per hour.

(b) Twenty miles per hour:

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

511. Prima Facie Speed Limits. The speed of any vehicle upon a highway not in excess of the limits specified in this section is lawful unless clearly proved to be in violation of the basic rule declared in section 510 hereof.

The speed of any vehicle upon a highway in excess of any of the limits specified in this section is prima facie unlawful and warrants conviction for illegal speed except that the defendant is entitled to an acquittal in the event it is established by competent evidence that any said speed in excess of said limits did not constitute a violation of the basic rule declared in section 510 hereof at the time, place and under the conditions then existing.

The prima facie limits referred to above are as follows:

(a) Fifteen miles per hour:

(1) When passing a school building, or the grounds thereof, during school recess or while children are going to or leaving such school during opening or closing hours or while the playgrounds of any such school are in use by school children.

(2) When traversing a grade crossing of a steam, electric or street railway if during the last one hundred feet of the approach to such crossing the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such crossing and of any traffic on such railway for a distance of four hundred feet in both directions along such railway.

(3) When approaching or upon a curve or any other part of a highway in the event the driver’s view is obstructed within a distance of two hundred feet along the highway in the direction in which such driver is proceeding.

(4) When traversing any intersection of highways if during the last one hundred feet of his approach to such intersection the driver does not have a clear and unobstructed view of such intersection and of any traffic upon all of the highways entering such intersection for a distance of two hundred feet along all such highways.

(1) In any business district.

(2) When upon the grounds of a State university or any State, county or municipal institution.

(c) Twenty-five miles per hour in any residence district.

513 Exceeding Prima Facie Limit Not Negligence as Matter of Law. In any civil action proof of speed in excess of any prima facie limit declared in section 511 hereof at a particular time and place shall not establish negligence as a matter of law but in all such actions it shall be necessary to establish as a fact that the operation of a vehicle at such excess speed constituted negligence.

514. Minimum Speed Law. No person shall drive upon a

(c) Official signs may be erected directing slow moving traffic to use a designated lane or allocating specified lanes to traffic moving in the same direction and drivers of vehicles shall obey the directions of every such sign.

In every event the overtaking vehicle must return to the right-hand side of the roadway before coming within one hundred feet of any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction.

605.2. [Code Applies to Crossings.] All of the provisions of this code not inconsistent with the provisions of this division shall be applicable to vehicular crossings; as to provisions of this code which are inconsistent with any provision of this division, this division shall control.

CHAPTER 2. POLICING.

606. [Policing of Vehicular Crossings by Highway Patrol.] The California Highway Patrol shall have the authority and it shall be its duty to provide for proper and adequate policing of all vehicular crossings to insure the enforcement thereon of this code and of any other law relating to the use and operation of vehicles upon highways or vehicular crossings, and of the rules and regulations of the Department of Public Works in respect thereto, and to cooperate with the Department of Public Works to the end that such vehicular crossings be operated at all times in such manner as to carry traffic efficiently. Such authority of the California Highway Patrol is exclusive except as to the authority conferred by law upon the Department of Public Works in respect to such vehicular crossings.

606.2. [Police Authority of Toll Takers on Vehicular Crossing.] The employees of the Department of Public Works, designated or classified as toll takers, shall have all the power of peace officers while so employed on any vehicular crossing or as may be necessary to the performance of their duties as toll takers while not upon such vehicular crossing. Such employees shall wear, while on duty, a uniform which shall

CHAPTER 4. TEST AND APPROVAL OF LAMPS, LAMP EQUIPMENT AND SIGNAL DEVICES.

645. Headlight Requirements. The headlights of motor vehicles shall be so constructed, arranged and adjusted that they will at all times mentioned in section 618 and under normal atmospheric conditions, produce ample driving light for the use of the operator of such vehicle but will not project a glaring light to persons approaching such lights or to persons whom such headlights may approach.

Headlights are presumed to comply with this division if they comply with the following requirements and limitations when the vehicle upon which they are affixed is fully loaded and if such headlights are affixed to such vehicle in the manner required by this division and are of a type, or are equipped with lenses, reflectors or control devices which meet such requirements and limitations by the laboratory test provided in this chapter and when used in accordance with the instructions of the testing agency.

646. Required Projection of Light. The light projected by such headlights shall be as follows:

(a) In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamps on a level with the centers of the lamps, not less than one thousand eight hundred apparent candlepower.

(b) In the median vertical plane, one degree of arc below the level of the center of the lamps, not less than seven thousand two hundred apparent candlepower and there shall not be less than seven thousand two hundred apparent candlepower anywhere on the horizontal line through this point one degree to the left or to the right of this point.

(f) Three degrees of arc below the level of the center of the lamps and six degrees of arc to the left and to the right, respectively, of the median vertical plane, not less than two thousand apparent candlepower nor less than this amount anywhere on the line connecting these two points.

(g) The maximum beam shall not exceed fifty thousand candlepower nor shall the maximum intensity exist lower than two degrees of arc below the level of the lamps.

Variations from Minimum Requirements. It is lawful, when all other requirements and limitations are complied with, to so construct or equip the headlights of motor vehicles as to permit that the beams of light projected therefrom be depressed downward not more than three degrees of arc below the level otherwise required under this division, but without diminishing the amount of light projected from the lamp bulb when so depressed. When the department determines that any such device when so operated during the times and under the conditions mentioned in section 618 will project a glaring or dazzling light to persons in front of such headlights or that such headlights when equipped or constructed with such device fail to produce ample driving light for the use of the driver of such vehicle, the department shall refuse approval for the use thereof.

The department may refuse approval to any device which will be in actual use unsafe or impractical as to mechanical construction, or mounting on a vehicle. Upon such refusal the department must furnish the applicant a detailed statement setting forth the reasons for such refusal.

to enable a headlight to comply with the provisions of this division is used upon any motor vehicle, such headlight or headlight control device shall first be submitted to and tested by a testing agency appointed by the department and a certificate of approval as hereinafter specified procured from such testing agency.

(b) The department shall appoint skilled deputies or agents possessing proper qualifications and laboratory equipment to carry out the tests specified in this division.

(c) Any person may submit to the department a headlight or headlight control device and make application that the same be tested as to conformity with the requirements of this division.

649. Procedure Upon Application for Test: Fee. Upon an application for a test the department shall, upon notice to the applicant, submit such device to a testing agency appointed by the department with the request that such device be tested as to conformity with the provisions of this division when used separately or in connection with approved headlamps or headlight control devices. Each applicant shall upon the filing of his application pay to the department a fee of fifty dollars. All such fees shall be paid by the department into the motor vehicle fund.

650. Mechanics of Test. The testing agency shall adjust each device in accordance with the printed instructions of the manufacturer thereof and conduct an exact scientific and laboratory test of every device submitted to it to determine whether or not the device submitted will conform with the requirements of this division. Each device submitted shall be tested with twenty-one standard candlepower lamp or bulb, thirty-two standard candlepower lamp or bulb, and any standard candlepower lamp or bulb between these two limits. If all the provisions of sections 645, 646 and 647 hereof are complied with by any headlight, and in addition thereto such headlight is so constructed that the light source thereof is not visible at any point above a horizontal plane through the top of the aperture of such headlight when the same is mounted in accordance with this division, and no reflected light of any greater intensity than eight hundred apparent candlepower except as specified in subdivision (c) of section 646 is projected by such headlight in any direction above the horizontal plane above described, a standard bulb of any candlepower to be certified and approved by the testing agency for use in such headlight, may be used in such headlight.

651. Reports of Tests. The testing agency shall submit in duplicate a detailed report of each such test to the department. Such report shall give in detail the apparent candlepower of light projected at each point of the test, the candlepower of the lamp or bulb used to produce the amount of light nearest the maximum requirement of sections 645, 646 and 647, any... particular adjustments required by the testing agency which are not included in the manufacturer's printed instructions, together with the reasons for such additional requirements, and a statement as to whether or not the device is approved and will conform with the requirements of this division when used in accordance with the instructions of the testing agency. Each such report shall be signed by the person who made the test and by an officer of the institution under which said test has been made. Reports of all such tests shall be accessible to the public and a copy thereof shall be furnished by the department to the applicant for the test.

652. Department to Issue Certificate of Approval Whenever the department receives from the testing agency a report that a particular device has been tested and approved, together with instructions as to the candlepower lamp or bulb and any particular adjustments to be used in connection with such device, the department shall issue to the applicant a certificate of approval, together with a copy of the instructions of the testing agency relative to the use of such device.

653. Distribution of Copies of Certificate by Department. The department shall transmit a copy of every certificate of approval of a headlight device, together with a copy of the instructions of the testing agency in connection therewith, to the county clerk of every county in this State, who shall file the same, and to every city, town or county police department, whose duty it is to enforce the provisions of this code.

654. Retests After Complaint. Whenever the department receives a written complaint that any headlight lens, reflector or headlight control device sold commercially which has been approved by the department does not under ordinary conditions of use comply with the requirements of this division, the department in its discretion may, upon notice to the manufacturer thereof, require that such headlight lens, reflector or headlight control device be retested by a testing agency appointed by the department. Upon any such retest the testing agency shall determine whether or not such headlight lens reflector, or headlight control device meets the requirements of this division. If the same is approved, the department shall issue a certificate of approval to the manufacturer thereof. No fee shall be charged for any such retest.

655. Unlawful to Sell or Offer for Sale Headlights or Headlight Equipment Not Approved. It is unlawful to sell or offer for sale any headlight lamp or headlight equipment unless it is of a type which has been approved by the department, and unless such device is accompanied by a printed sheet of instructions describing the device in detail, its method of mounting and adjustment, candlepower limits of lamps to be used and any other adjustment that may be necessary to insure its conformity with the requirements of this division, and with the conditions specified in the report of the testing.

Approval of Signal Devices. The department shall not approve any stop signal device unless such signal when used upon a vehicle gives a stop signal plainly visible during the times specified in section 618, for a distance of at least one hundred feet to the rear of such vehicle, or any device intended to give a signal that the vehicle upon which it is used is about to turn, unless such device, when used upon a vehicle, clearly indicates the direction in which such vehicle is to be turned, which signal shall be plainly visible at least one hundred feet to the rear of the vehicle upon which the same is used.

Whenever the department approves a signal device as meeting the above requirements, it shall give to the applicant a certificate of approval.

CHAPTER 4. TEST AND APPROVAL OF LAMPS, LAMP EQUIPMENT AND SIGNAL DEVICES.

645. What Lamps and Devices Must Be Tested and Approved Before Sale or Use. (b) With any such lamp or device the applicant shall submit a statement as to the adjustment of the same deemed appropriate and the candlepower of the light source intended to be used therewith and any other information relative thereto requested by the department.

647. Laboratory Tests. The department shall make or cause to be made such scientific laboratory test of every lamp or device submitted for approval as the department determines is appropriate or as may be required herein to determine whether or not the same will conform to the requirements of this act. The department shall report its approval or disapproval of the same within sixty days after submission of such lamp or device for approval accompanied by the proper fee.

The department may reconsider any disapproval within sixty days thereafter without receiving a new application and without further fee.

649. Laboratory Specifications Governing Headlamps. The department shall determine whether any pair of headlamps submitted for test will in actual use, when mounted upon a motor vehicle as provided in this code, produce ample light to reveal any vehicle or person within a distance of approximately one hundred seventy-five feet but without projecting above the horizontal plane passing through the centers of such lamps any glaring light and as a means of determining such qualities every pair of headlamps before receiving approval shall meet the following laboratory test as to intensity and distribution of light.

The light projected by such headlights shall be as follows:

(a) In the median vertical plane parallel to the lamps on a level with the centers of the lamps, not less than 3000 apparent candlepower.

(e) In no direction shall there be more than twenty-five thousand apparent candlepower.

651. Test of Lamp Equipment Regulating Light Emitted From Light Source. The department shall make or cause to be made such tests as it may deem appropriate with reference to any lamp equipment regulating the light emitted from the light source in a lamp in order to determine whether such equipment when used in connection with lamps on motor vehicles would be practical and efficient and of aid in enabling lamps to conform to the requirements of this code or whether such equipment would detract from the performance of such lamps.
652. Grounds for Disapproval. The department shall disapprove any such lamp, lamps, device, lamp equipment or red reflector if it determines:

(a) That any of the same will not conform to the requirements hereof.

(b) That any lamp or lamps will not meet the laboratory specifications declared herein.

(c) That any lamp equipment is impractical, inefficient or does not enable the lamp to conform to the requirements hereof or detracts from the performance of such lamp even though the resultant performance might be within the maximum and minimum candlepower laboratory specifications declared herein.

(d) That any of the same are not so constructed as to be safe or practical in actual use, even though the same may meet the laboratory specifications or other tests declared herein.

654. Issuance and delivery of Certificate of Approval and Instructions. (a) The department upon approving any such lamp or device, shall issue to the applicant a certificate of approval together with any instructions included in or accompanying its report approving the same.

(b) Upon request of any police department, the Department shall forward a copy of any such certificate of approval together with any said instructions to such police department.
655. Printed Instructions to Accompany Sale. No person shall sell or offer for sale either separately or as a part of the equipment of a new motor vehicle any lamp or device subject to approval and approved by the department unless such lamp or device bears thereon the trade-mark or name under which it is approved so as to be legible when installed and is accompanied by printed instructions when required by the department as to candlepower of the light source to be used therewith and any particular methods of mounting or adjustment as to focus or aim necessary for compliance with this code and any other instructions as determined by the department.

656. Revocation of Certificate of Approval. Whenever the department receives information that any lamp or device of a type sold commercially and which has been approved by the department does not under ordinary conditions of use comply with the requirements of this code the department in its discretion may upon thirty days’ notice to the manufacturer thereof require that such lamp or device be retested by the department. For such retest the department may purchase in the open market one or more units of such approved lamp or device. In the event such lamp or device upon such retest fails to meet the requirements of this code the department shall have authority to suspend or revoke the certificate of approval previously issued therefor. No fee shall be charged for any such retest.

CHAPTER 5. REGULATION OF LAMPS.

660. Adjustment of Lamps in Use. Headlamps and auxiliary driving or fog lamps upon a motor vehicle upon a highway shall be so adjusted and maintained as to conform as nearly as practical with the requirements of sections 649 and 650 hereof respectively, relative to the intensity and distribution of light projected therefrom and shall be mounted and adjusted in accordance with the instructions of the department.

661. Road Test for Glare. As a practical means of determining whether headlamps or auxiliary driving or fog lamps glare the following test shall apply: Any such lamp shall be deemed to be glaring if any part of the main bright portion of the beam strikes the body of a person, vehicle, screen or other object higher than the lamp centers twenty-five feet or more ahead of the vehicle.

662. Members of Highway Patrol May Inspect Lamps. Any member of the California Highway Patrol having reasonable grounds to believe that any headlamp or auxiliary driving or fog lamp upon a vehicle emits a glaring light as defined in section 661 hereof or otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of this code may require the driver of such vehicle to stop and submit such lamp to an inspection or test.

In the event any headlamp or auxiliary driving or fog lamp emits a glaring light as defined in section 661 hereof or otherwise fails to comply with this code, the officer making the inspection may give said driver a notice of arrest and further require said driver of the vehicle to produce in court satisfactory evidence that such lamp or lamps have been made to conform with the requirements of this code.

662. Use of Upper and Lower Beams. Any member of the California Highway Patrol having reasonable grounds to believe that any headlamp or auxiliary driving or fog lamp or any device subject to approval upon a vehicle emits a glaring light as defined in section 661 hereof or otherwise fails to comply with the requirements of this code may require the driver of such vehicle to stop and submit such lamp to an inspection or test. In the event any such lamp or device is not of a type which has been approved by the department, the officer making such inspection shall require the driver of such vehicle to remove such illegal lamp within twenty-four hours and may arrest such driver and give him a notice to appear and may further require such driver or the owner of the vehicle to produce in court satisfactory evidence of the removal of such illegal lamp.

In the event any headlamp or auxiliary driving or fog lamp of a type which has been approved by the department by reason of faulty adjustment or otherwise emits a glaring light as defined in section 661 hereof or otherwise fails to comply with this code, the officer making the inspection shall direct the driver to make such lamp or lamps conform to the requirements of this code within forty-eight hours. Such officer may also arrest such driver and give him a notice to appear and further require said driver or the owner of the vehicle to produce in court satisfactory evidence that such lamp or lamps have been made to conform with the requirements of this code.

663. Driver Must Stop and Submit to Inspection or Test of Lamps. Whenever the driver of a vehicle is directed by a member of the California Highway Patrol to stop and submit such lamps upon said vehicle to an inspection or test under the conditions stated in the last preceding section it shall be the duty of such driver to stop and submit to such inspection or test and a failure or refusal so to do is a misdemeanor.

664. Driver Must Stop and Submit to Inspection or Test of Lamps. Whenever the driver of a vehicle is directed by a member of the California Highway Patrol to stop and submit such lamps upon said vehicle to an inspection or test under the conditions stated in the last preceding section it shall be the duty of such driver to stop and submit to such inspection or test and a failure or refusal so to do is a misdemeanor.

665. Official Lamp and Brake Testing Stations. (a) The department may designate, furnish instructions to and supervise official stations for adjusting headlamps, auxiliary driving or fog lamps or brakes upon vehicles to conform with the provisions of this code. The department may prescribe the qualifications of any such station as a condition of such designation and further may suspend or revoke any such designation upon determining that the business of such station is improperly conducted.

(b) Whenever any such station upon an inspection or after an adjustment, made in conformity with the instructions of the department, determines that the headlamps, auxiliary driving or fog lamps or the brakes upon any vehicle conform with the requirements of this code, said station shall issue to the owner or operator of such vehicle a certificate of adjustment on a form prescribed by the department which certificate shall contain the date of issuance, the make and registration number of the vehicle, the name of the owner of the vehicle and the official designation of said station.
CHAPTER 7. OTHER EQUIPMENT.

670. Brakes. (a) No person shall operate on any highway any motor vehicle or combination of motor vehicle and other vehicle or vehicles of a type subject to registration hereunder unless such motor vehicle or at least one unit of any such combination of vehicles is equipped with brakes adequate to bring such motor vehicle or combination of vehicles to a complete stop when operated upon dry asphalt or concrete pavement surface where the grade does not exceed one percent at the speeds set forth in the following table within the distances set opposite such speeds:

(b) No member of the California Highway Patrol shall require a test of any vehicle for brake efficiency upon a highway at a speed in excess of twenty miles per hour.

(c) If a vehicle is equipped with more than one system of brakes, each shall be maintained in good working order.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to implements of husbandry, special mobile equipment nor equipment operated under special permit as authorized in this code nor shall the stopping distances above specified apply to any chassis without body or load but such chassis shall be equipped with brakes adequate to reasonably control such vehicle.

670. Brakes. (a) No person shall operate on any highway any motor vehicle or combination of motor vehicle and other vehicle or vehicles of a type subject to registration hereunder unless such motor vehicle or at least one unit of any such combination of vehicles is equipped with brakes adequate to bring such motor vehicle or combination of vehicles to a complete stop when operated upon dry asphalt or concrete pavement surface where the grade does not exceed one percent at the speeds set forth in the following table within the distances set opposite such speeds:

(b) No member of the California Highway Patrol shall require a test of any vehicle for brake efficiency upon a highway at a speed in excess of twenty miles per hour.
(c) If a vehicle is equipped with more than one system of brakes, each shall be maintained in good working order.

(d) The provisions of this section shall not apply to implements of husbandry, special mobile equipment nor equipment operated under special permit as authorized in this code nor shall the stopping distances above specified apply to any chassis without body or load but such chassis shall be equipped with brakes adequate to reasonably control such vehicle.

(e) The driver of any vehicle who fails or refuses to stop and submit the vehicle to a brake test when so instructed by an officer of the California Highway Patrol is guilty of a misdemeanor.

671. Horns or Warning Devices. (a) Every motor vehicle when operated upon a highway shall be equipped with a horn in good working order and capable of emitting sound audible under normal conditions from a distance of not less than two hundred feet but no horn shall emit an unreasonably loud or harsh sound. The driver of a motor vehicle shall when reasonably necessary to insure safe operation give audible warning with his horn but shall not otherwise use such horn when upon a highway.

(b) No vehicle shall be equipped with nor shall any person use upon a vehicle any siren except as otherwise permitted in this subdivision. Any authorized emergency vehicle may be equipped with a siren of a type approved by the department but such siren shall not be used except when such vehicle is operated in response to an emergency call or in the immediate pursuit of an actual or suspected violator of the law in which said latter events the driver of such vehicle shall sound said siren when necessary to warn pedestrians and other drivers of the approach thereof.

672. Sirens and Illegal Speed of Escorts. Every police and traffic officer is hereby expressly prohibited from using a siren or driving at an illegal speed when serving as an escort of any vehicle or vehicles on a highway.

673. Mufflers—Prevention of Noise. Any motor vehicle on a highway shall at all times be equipped with a muffler in constant operation to prevent any excessive or unusual noise and no such muffler shall be equipped with a cut out, by-pass or similar device which can be operated by the driver or any occupant of such vehicle. All exhaust pipes shall be directed parallel to the ground or upward.

674. Mirrors. Any motor vehicle which is so constructed or loaded as to obstruct the driver's view to the rear thereof from the driver's position, shall be equipped with a mirror so located as to reflect to the driver a view of the highway for a distance of at least two hundred feet to the rear of such vehicle.
675. Windshield Required on Commercial Vehicles. Every commercial vehicle shall be equipped with an adequate windshield.

675.5 Safety Glass Required. (1) On and after January 1, 1936, no person shall sell any new motor vehicle nor shall any new motor vehicle be registered thereafter, nor shall any person operate any motor vehicle sold as a new motor vehicle in this State after January 1, 1936, unless such motor vehicle is equipped with safety glass wherever glass is used in partitions, doors, windows, or windshields.

(2) The term “safety glass,” as used in this code shall be construed as meaning glass so treated or combined with other materials as to reduce, in comparison with ordinary sheet glass or plate glass, the likelihood of injury to persons by objects from external sources or by glass when the glass is cracked or broken.

(3) The Department of Motor Vehicles shall approve and maintain a list of the approved types of glass, conforming to recognized specifications, tests and requirements for safety glass as defined in this section and shall not register any new motor vehicle after January 1, 1936, unless such motor vehicle is equipped with an approved type of safety glass.

(4) On and after January 1, 1936, every application for the original registration of a new motor vehicle sold in this State shall be accompanied by an affidavit of the transferer of the vehicle indicating the type of glass used in the partitions, doors, windows, and windshields thereof.

676. Windshield and Windows Must Be Unobstructed.

(a) No motor vehicle upon a highway shall have any sign, poster, card, sticker or other nontransparent material upon the windshield, side wings, or side or rear windows of the vehicle, except that such signs, posters, cards, stickers or other materials may be placed on said windshield within a seven inch square in the lower corner farthest removed from the driver’s position.

(b) The provisions of this section shall not apply to direction, destination or terminal signs upon a passenger common carrier motor vehicle.

677. Signs Required on Special Mobile Equipment. Special mobile equipment, when upon a highway, shall have permanently attached to or conspicuously printed upon each unit thereof a sign, not less than two inches in height, giving the name and address of the owner.

677. Defective Windshields Prohibited. It shall be unlawful to operate any motor vehicle upon a highway when the windshield is in such a defective condition as to impair the driver’s vision.

In the event any windshield fails to comply with this code the officer making the inspection shall direct the driver to make such windshield conform to the requirements of this code within forty-eight hours. The officer may also arrest said driver and give him a notice to appear and further require said driver or the owner of the vehicle to produce in court satisfactory evidence that said windshield has been made to conform to the requirements of this code.

(3) Width of tire more than nine inches, one and one-half inches thick.

(b) Every solid tire shall meet the above requirements as to thickness of resilient rubber measured between the surface of the roadway and the nearest metal part of the base flange to which the tire is attached at the point where the concentrated weight of the vehicle bears upon the surface of the roadway and shall have said thickness of rubber upon the entire traction surface above the edge of the flange on its entire periphery. Furthermore, the entire solid tire shall be securely attached to the channel base and shall be without flat spots or bumpy rubber.

(c) With respect to dual solid rubber tires there shall not be an average difference greater than one-eighth inch between the outside diameters of each of the single tires composing said dual tire.

(d) No tire on any vehicle upon any State highway shall have on its periphery any block, stud, flange, cleat, ridge, bead or any other protuberance of metal or wood which projects beyond the tread of the traction surface of the tire. This subdivision shall not prohibit the use of tire chains of reasonable size to prevent skidding when upon wet surfaces or when upon snow or ice nor shall the restrictions of this subdivision apply to vehicles operated upon unimproved roadways when necessary in the construction or repair of highways nor to traction engines or tractors when operated under the conditions of a permit first obtained from the State Department of Public Works.

679. Unlawful to Operate Vehicle Without Required Equipment or in Unsafe Condition. No person shall operate or move on any highway any motor vehicle or any combination of vehicles unless said vehicle or combination of vehicles is equipped as required by this code and is in such safe mechanical condition as not to endanger the driver or other occupant or any person upon the highway.
680. Members of Highway Patrol May Inspect Vehicle and its Equipment. (a) Any member of the California Highway Patrol having reasonable cause to believe that any vehicle or combination of vehicles is not equipped as required by this code or is in such unsafe condition as to endanger the driver or other occupant or any person upon the highway, may require the driver thereof to stop and submit such vehicle or combination of vehicles to an inspection of the mechanical condition or equipment thereof and such test with reference thereto as may be appropriate.

(b) In the event such vehicle or combination of vehicles is found to be in an unsafe mechanical condition or is not equipped as required by this code the officer making the inspection may give such driver a notice of arrest and further require said driver or the owner of the vehicle to produce in court satisfactory evidence that such vehicle or its equipment has been made to conform with the requirements of this code. Every officer giving such directions or a notice of arrest as above provided shall mail a copy or otherwise give notice thereof to the owner and any legal owner of such vehicle if other than the driver.

(c) No person shall operate any vehicle or combination of vehicles after notice of such unsafe condition or that the vehicle is not equipped as required here in, except as may be necessary to return such vehicle or combination of vehicles to the residence or place of business of the owner or driver or to a garage until said vehicle and its equipment has been made to conform with the requirements of this code.

(d) Whenever the driver of a vehicle is directed by a member of the California Highway Patrol to stop and submit the mechanical condition of the vehicle or its equipment to an inspection or test under the conditions stated in this section it shall be the duty of such driver to stop and submit to such inspection or test and a failure or refusal so to do is a misdemeanor.

681. Regulations Governing Armored Cars. No person shall operate on any highway any armored car unless a special permit to operate such car has first been obtained from the director. The director may issue a permit for the necessary and legitimate operation of an armored car and may revoke such permit if any unnecessary or illegal use is made of the armored car for which issued.

The director shall maintain a record of all such permits issued and of all such permits revoked.

Any person violating the provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not to exceed six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

DIVISION XI. SIZE, WEIGHT AND LOADING OF VEHICLES.

703. Gross Weight of Vehicle With Three Axles. (a) The gross weight of any vehicle and load shall not exceed thirty-four thousand pounds when such vehicle is equipped with three or more axles, no two of which are in the same vertical transverse plane, and with six or more wheels running on the highway nor shall the gross weight of a four-wheel motor vehicle and a two-wheel semitrailer and any load exceed thirty-four thousand pounds.

(b) When the gross weight of any vehicle first registered after January 1, 1930, and its load exceeds twenty-two thousand pounds, and such vehicle is equipped with two or more rear axles such axles shall be spaced not less than forty inches apart measured lengthwise with the vehicle from the centers of said axles.

704. Vehicles Registered Before January 1, 1930. As to vehicles first registered prior to January 1, 1930, the gross weight upon any one axle shall not exceed eighteen thousand pounds nor shall the weight upon any one wheel resting upon the roadway exceed eleven thousand pounds. As to vehicles first registered after January 1, 1930, the gross weight upon any one axle of a vehicle shall not exceed seventeen thousand pounds nor shall the gross weight upon any one wheel resting upon the roadway exceed ten thousand pounds.

704. Excess Gross Weight and Axle or Wheel Weight Offense. Whenever the gross weight and any axle or wheel weight of a vehicle are in excess of the limits set forth in the foregoing sections, such excess weights shall be deemed one offense in violation of this code.

705. Elevated Wheels Permitted Only on Motorcycles and Semitrailers. No vehicle other than a motorcycle shall be provided with means for the lifting or raising of any wheel or wheels from the roadway except that a detachable semitrailer may have a wheel or wheels which rest upon the ground only when such vehicle is being loaded or unloaded.

706. Gross Weight per Inch Width on Certain Tires. (a) The gross weight upon a solid tire upon a vehicle shall not exceed six hundred pounds upon any inch of the channel base width of such tire.

(b) The gross weight of any vehicle and load resting upon any metal tire in contact with the roadway shall not exceed five hundred pounds upon any inch of the width of such tire but this limitation shall not apply to traction engines or tractors, the propulsive power of which is not exerted through wheels resting upon the roadway but by means of a flexible band or chain, known as a movable track, when the portions of the movable track in contact with the surface of the roadway present plane surfaces.

707. Officers May Weigh Vehicles and Require Removal of Excess Loads. (a) Any peace officer having reason to believe that the weight of a vehicle and load is unlawful is authorized to require the driver to stop and submit to a weighing of the same either by means of portable or stationary scales and may require that such vehicle be driven to the nearest public scales in the event such scales are within five miles.

(b) Whenever an officer upon weighing a vehicle and load as above provided determines that the weight is unlawful, such officer may require the driver to stop in a suitable place and remove such portion of the load as may be necessary to reduce the gross weight of such vehicle to those limits permitted under this code. All material so unloaded shall be cared for by the owner or operator of such vehicle at the risk of such owner or operator.

(c) Any driver of a vehicle who fails or refuses to stop and submit the vehicle and load to a weighing, or who fails or refuses when directed by an officer upon a weighing of the vehicle to stop and otherwise comply with the provisions of this section, is guilty of a misdemeanor.
710. Permits for Increased Size, Weight, etc. (a) The State Department of Public Works with respect to highways under its jurisdiction and local authorities with respect to highways under their jurisdiction may at their discretion upon application in writing and if good cause appears issue a special permit in writing authorizing the applicant to operate or move a vehicle or combination of vehicles of a size or weight of vehicle or load exceeding the maximum specified in this code, or to use corrugations on the periphery of the movable tracks on a traction engine or tractor the propulsive power of which is not exerted through wheels resting upon the roadway but by means of a flexible band or chain, or, under emergency conditions, to operate or move a type of vehicle otherwise prohibited hereunder, upon any highway under the jurisdiction of the party granting such permit and for the maintenance of which said party is responsible.

(b) The application for any such permit shall specifically describe the vehicle or vehicles and load to be operated or moved and the particular highways over which permit to operate is requested, and whether such permit is requested for a single trip or for continuous operation.

(c) The State Department of Public Works or local authority is authorized to issue or withhold such permit at its discretion; or, if such permit is issued, to limit the number of trips, or to establish seasonal or other time limitations within which the vehicle or vehicles described may be operated on the highways indicated, or otherwise to limit or prescribe conditions of operation of such vehicle or vehicles when necessary to assure against undue damage to the road foundations, surfaces or structures, and may require such undertaking or other security as may be deemed necessary to protect the highways and bridges from injury, or to provide indemnity for any injury resulting from such operation.

(d) Every such permit shall be carried in the vehicle or combination of vehicles to which it refers and shall be open to inspection of any peace officer or traffic officer, any authorized agent of the Department of Public Works or any other officer or employee charged with the care or protection of such highways.

(e) It is a misdemeanor for any person to violate any of the terms or conditions of any such special permit.

711. When State Department of Public Works May Increase Weight Limits. The State Department of Public Works, whenever it determines after an engineering investigation that any highway under its jurisdiction will with safety to itself sustain vehicles and loads weighing more than the maximum weight limits set forth in this code, shall have authority to so declare and to fix a weight limit for such highway greater than the maximum weight limit set forth in this code. Thereupon and thereafter it shall be lawful to operate or move vehicles and loads of a gross weight upon such highways so designated by said department equal to but not in excess of the maximum weight limit fixed by said department.

712. When Local Authorities May Increase Weight Limits.
(a) The legislative body of any county, city and county or city shall have power by ordinance to permit the operation and moving of vehicles and loads upon highways under their respective jurisdictions of a maximum gross weight in excess of the maximum gross weight of vehicles and loads specified in this code.

(b) This section shall have no application to highways in the State highway system.

713. When Cities May Reduce Weight Limits.
(a) Any incorporated city, or city and county may by ordinance prohibit the use of a street to be described in said ordinance by any commercial vehicle or by any vehicle exceeding a maximum gross weight limit to be specified in the ordinance, except with respect to any vehicle which is subject to the provisions of section 501 of the Public Utilities Act.

(b) No such ordinance shall be effective until appropriate signs are erected indicating either those streets affected by such ordinance or those streets not so affected as such local authority may determine will best serve to give notice of such ordinance.

(c) Except as permitted in this section, no city, or city and county shall have any authority to impose limitations upon the weight of vehicles and loads less than those set forth in this code.

(d) This section shall have no application to highways in the State highway system.

(a) Any incorporated city, county, or city and county may by ordinance prohibit the use of a street to be described in said ordinance by any vehicle exceeding a maximum gross weight limit to be specified in the ordinance, except with respect to any vehicle which is subject to the provisions of section 501 of the Public Utilities Act.

(b) No such ordinance shall be effective until appropriate signs are erected indicating either those streets affected by such ordinance or those streets not so affected as such local authority may determine will best serve to give notice of such ordinance.

(c) Except as permitted in this section, no city, county, or city and county shall have any authority to impose limitations upon the weight of vehicles and loads less than those set forth in this code.

(d) This section shall have no application to highways in the State highway system.

714. When Supervisors May Reduce Weight Limits.
(a) Boards of supervisors in their respective counties may by ordinance reduce the permissible weight of vehicles and loads upon unimproved county highways or upon county bridges.

(b) Boards of supervisors may also by ordinance reduce the permissible weight of vehicles and loads upon improved county highways, subject to the limitations hereinafter set forth. For the purposes of this section, an improved county highway means a highway paved with cement concrete or...

Said boards of supervisors may by ordinance reduce the permissible weights upon those improved highways only which by reason of deterioration will be destroyed unless such weights are reduced but no such reduction shall extend for a period of more than ninety days unless actual repair of such highway is begun within such time and thereafter continuously carried on to completion.

In the event any person protests in writing to the clerk of such board of supervisors within fifteen days after the adoption of an ordinance reducing the permissible gross weight upon an improved highway, then such reduction in weight shall not become final unless and until the State Department of Public Works after a hearing approves such action of said board of supervisors in such reduction. Said hearing shall be held in the county in which such highway is located within twenty-five days after a request therefore, and shall be conducted by one or more engineers of the department to be designated by the director of the department. The engineer or engineers shall hear all evidence presented and report its findings in writing to the director. The director shall, upon the basis of such findings, declare in writing the approval or disapproval of the reduction.

(c) Whenever any weight limit different from those specified in this code is fixed in accordance with this section, the board of supervisors shall cause signs indicating the weight so fixed to be erected at all entrances to such highway upon which the permissible gross weight is altered.

714. When Supervisors May Reduce Weight Limits. (a) Boards of supervisors in their respective counties may by ordinance reduce the permissible weight of vehicles and loads upon unimproved county highways or upon county bridges.

(b) Boards of supervisors may also by ordinance reduce the permissible weight of vehicles and loads upon improved county highways, subject to the limitations hereinafter set forth. For the purposes of this section, an improved county highway means a highway paved with cement concrete or asphaltic concrete, or a highway with a roadway of hard surface not less than four inches thick made up of a mixture of rock, sand or gravel bound together by an artificial binder other than natural soil.

Said boards of supervisors may by ordinance reduce the permissible weights upon those improved highways only which by reason of deterioration will be destroyed unless such weights are reduced but no such reduction shall extend for a period of more than ninety days unless actual repair of such highway is begun within such time and thereafter continuously carried on to completion.

In the event any person protests in writing to the clerk of such board of supervisors within fifteen days after the adoption of an ordinance reducing the permissible gross weight upon an improved highway, then such reduction in weight shall not become final unless and until the State Department of Public Works after a hearing approves such action of said board of supervisors in such reduction. Said hearing shall be held in the county in which such highway is located within... twenty-five days after a request therefor. Five days' notice thereof shall be given the protestants.

(c) Whenever any weight limit different from those specified in this code is fixed in accordance with this section, the board of supervisors shall cause signs indicating the weight so fixed to be erected at each end of the portion of such highway upon which the permissible gross weight is altered.

715. Unlawful to Exceed Weight Capacity of Bridge or Other Structure. (a) No person shall drive a vehicle over any bridge, causeway, viaduct, trestle or dam constituting a part of a highway when the weight of such vehicle and load thereon is greater than the maximum weight which such bridge or other structure with safety to itself will sustain.

(b) Whenever in the judgment of the State Department of Public Works any such bridge or other structure over which it has jurisdiction will not sustain with safety to itself the maximum weights permitted under this code or upon request of any board of supervisors or other body having jurisdiction over any such bridge or other structure, said department shall determine after a public hearing the maximum weight which such bridge or other structure with safety to itself will sustain. Said department shall cause an engineering investigation to be made and shall hear all evidence presented and declare in writing the maximum weight which such bridge or other structure with safety to itself will sustain. Thereupon, said department shall erect suitable signs specifying the weight so declared at a distance of not less than one hundred feet or more than one hundred fifty feet from each end of such bridge or other structure or any approach thereto.

(c) Upon the trial of any person charged with violating this section, proof of said determination of the maximum weight by said department and the existence of said signs shall constitute prima facie evidence of the maximum weight which such bridge or other structure with safety to itself will sustain.

715.5. Reduction of Weights on Certain Highways. (a) No person shall drive a vehicle having a total weight of vehicle and load on any secondary State highway as defined by law when the weight of such vehicle and load is greater than the maximum weight which such highway will sustain.

(b) Whenever in the judgment of the Department of Public Works any secondary State highway will not with safety to itself sustain the maximum weights permitted under this code for such highway, the department shall determine, after a public hearing, the maximum weight which such highway will sustain. Said department shall give notice of the time and place of said hearing by posting a notice in the county seat of each county in which any affected portion of such highway is located and shall also post copies of said notice at intervals of not more than one mile along said highway and a notice at each end of the affected portion thereof. Notice of said hearing shall be given for not less than ten days and the hearing shall be had at the county seat of the county in which such affected highway is situated or at some other place convenient to the portion of the highway affected. The hearing shall be conducted by one or more engineers appointed by the Director of Public Works. Said engineer or engineers shall hear all evidence presented at the time and place mentioned in the notice and shall report findings made in writing to the Director of Public Works. Upon the basis of such findings the Director of Public Works shall declare in writing the maximum weight which can be maintained with safety upon such secondary State highway. In no event shall such weight be less than sixteen thousand pounds. Thereupon the Department of Public Works shall erect suitable signs at each end of the affected portion of the highway and at such other points as the department deems necessary to give adequate notice of such weight limits.

(e) Upon the trial of any person charged with a violation of this section, proof of the determination and the maximum weight by the Department of Public Works and the existence of the signs constitutes prima facie evidence of the maximum weight which such secondary State highway will sustain.

716. Liability for Damage to Highway or Bridge. (a) Any person driving any vehicle, object or contrivance over a highway or bridge shall be liable for all damages which said highway or bridge may sustain as a result of any illegal operation, driving or moving of such vehicle, object or contrivance or as a result of operating, driving or moving any vehicle, object or contrivance weighing in excess of the maximum weight specified in this code but authorized by a special permit issued as provided in this division.

(b) Whenever such driver is not the owner of such vehicle, object or contrivance but is so operating, driving or moving the same with the express or implied permission of said owner then said owner and driver shall be jointly and severally liable for any such damage.

(c) Such damage may be recovered in a civil action brought by the authorities in control of such highway or bridge.

(a) No peace officer or other person shall use a speed trap in arresting, or participating or assisting in the arrest of, any person for any alleged violation of Division IX of this code nor shall any speed trap be used in securing evidence as to the speed of any vehicle for the purpose of an arrest or prosecution under this code.

(b) A speed trap within the meaning of this chapter is a particular section of a highway measured as to distance and with boundaries marked, designated or otherwise determined in order that the speed of a vehicle may be calculated by securing the time it takes said vehicle to travel such known distance.

(c) No evidence as to the speed of a vehicle upon a highway shall be admitted in any court upon the trial of any person for an alleged violation of Division IX of this code when such evidence is based upon or obtained from or by the maintenance or use of a speed trap.

752. When Officer or Person Is Incompetent as a Witness. (a) In any prosecution under Division IX of this code upon a charge involving the speed of a vehicle every officer or other person shall be incompetent as a witness if the testimony of such officer or person is based upon or obtained from or by the maintenance or use of a speed trap.

(b) Every officer arresting, or participating or assisting in the arrest of, a person so charged while such officer was on duty for the exclusive or main purpose of enforcing the provisions of Division IX of this code is incompetent as a witness if such officer at the time of such arrest was not wearing a full distinctive uniform or was using a motor vehicle not painted the distinctive color specified by the department.

753. Admission of Illegal Testimony or Evidence Divests Court of Jurisdiction to Render Judgment. Every court shall be without jurisdiction to render a judgment of conviction against any person for a violation of Division IX of this code involving the speed of a vehicle if such court admits any evidence or testimony secured in violation of, or which is inadmissible under, the foregoing provisions of this chapter.

754. Record of Suspension or Revocation of Driving License or Privilege Inadmissible in a Civil Action. No record of the suspension or revocation of an operator's or chauffeur's license or of a nonresident's driving privilege by the department, nor any testimony of or concerning or produced at the hearing terminating in such suspension or revocation, shall be admissible as evidence in any court in any civil action.

755. Record of Conviction Inadmissible in a Civil Action. No record of the conviction of any person for any violation of this code, nor any testimony of or concerning or produced at the trial terminating in such conviction, shall be admissible as evidence in any court in any civil action.

CHAPTER 4. PRESUMPTIONS.

758. Presumption as to Character of District. Every highway shall be conclusively presumed to be outside of a business or residence district unless its existence within a business or residence district is established by clear and competent evidence as to the nature of the district and unless such district is duly signposted when and as required by this code.

CHAPTER 5. PENALTIES.

760. Unlawful Acts Constitute Misdemeanors Unless Otherwise Expressly Provided. It is unlawful and constitutes a misdemeanor for any person to violate any provision of this code unless such violation is under the provisions of this code expressly declared to be a felony or a public offense which is punishable either as a felony or misdemeanor.

761. Penalty for Felony. Unless a different penalty is expressly provided by this code, every person convicted of a felony for a violation of any provision of this code shall be punished by a fine of not less than one thousand dollars or more than five thousand dollars or by imprisonment in the State Penitentiary for not less than one year or more than five years or by both such fine and imprisonment.

762. Penalties for Misdemeanors Under Divisions IX, X, and XI. Every person convicted of a misdemeanor for a violation of any of the provisions of Divisions IX, X or XI of this code, except where a different penalty is expressly provided in said divisions, shall be punished upon a first conviction by a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding five days and for a second conviction within a period of one year by a fine of not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding ten days or by both such fine and imprisonment and for a third or any subsequent conviction within said period of one year by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail. for not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

763. Penalty for Misdemeanor. Unless a different penalty is expressly provided by this code, every person convicted of a misdemeanor for a violation of any of the provisions of this code shall be punished by a fine of not exceeding five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail for not exceeding six months or by both such fine and imprisonment.

764. Imprisonment Until Fine Satisfied. A judgment that a person convicted of any violation of this code be punished by a fine may also order, adjudge and decree that such person be imprisoned until said fine be satisfied. In every such case, the judgment must specify the extent of such imprisonment which shall no exceed one day for every two dollars of fine nor extend in any such case beyond the term for which the defendant might be sentenced to imprisonment for the offense of which he was convicted.

DIVISION XIII. DISPOSITION OF FEES, FINES AND FORFEITURES.

CHAPTER 1. FINES AND FORFEITURES.

770. Disposition by Cities of Certain Fines and Forfeitures. All fines and forfeitures collected from any person charged with a misdemeanor under this code following arrest by an officer employed by a city, shall be paid into the treasury of such city and deposited in a special fund to be known as the “street improvement fund.”

771. Disposition of Other Fines and Forfeitures. All fines and forfeitures collected from any person charged with a misdemeanor under this code following arrest by any officer employed by the State or by a county shall be paid into the treasury of such county in which is located the court imposing such fine or forfeiture and all such money shall be deposited in a special fund to be known as the “special road fund.”

772. Penalty for Disobedience by Officials. Failure, refusal or neglect on the part of any judicial or other officer or employee receiving or having custody of any fine or forfeiture in this chapter mentioned either before or after deposit in said respective fund to comply with the foregoing provisions of this chapter shall constitute misconduct in office and shall be ground for removal therefrom.

CHAPTER 2. MOTOR VEHICLE FUND.

776. Report and Deposit of Money. The department shall file daily with the State Controller a report of all money received by the department and at the same time deposit all such money with the State Treasurer, who shall place the same to the credit of “the motor vehicle fund” which fund is hereby created in the State treasury. The department shall also file with the Controller, on or before February 1 and August 1 of each year, a detailed account of the receipts and disbursements of the department for the six months next preceding. Such accounts shall be open to public inspection when filed.

777. Appropriation for Maintenance of Department. There is hereby appropriated out of such motor vehicle fund all moneys received as transfer fees, operators' and chauffeurs' license fees and duplicate operators' and chauffeurs' license fees and all fees for the test of headlights, headlight control devices, auxiliary lighting equipment and signal devices, and in addition thereto such portion of the remainder of such motor vehicle fund not exceeding in any registration year thirty-five per cent thereof as may be necessary for the maintenance of the department to be expended by the department in carrying out the provisions of this code and in enforcing any other laws regulating the operation of vehicles or the use of the highways. All salaries and expenses of the department shall be paid from such appropriation. There shall be deducted from the sums which the department is allowed to expend hereunder such amount as may be allowed to said department in each calendar year under budget appropriation. The department may draw, without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements, sums not to exceed in the aggregate one hundred thousand dollars, said sums so drawn to be used as a revolving fund where cash advances are necessary. At the close of each fiscal year the moneys so drawn must be accounted for and substantiated by vouchers and itemized statements submitted to and audited by the Department of Finance and by the State Controller.

778. Balance of Motor Vehicle Fund Known as "Net Receipts." The balance of the motor vehicle fund after the expenditure of so much thereof as may be permitted by this code for the maintenance and support of the department shall be known as the "net receipts" and shall be devoted to the purposes, and used in the manner, hereinafter provided.

779. Apportionment to Counties. (a) One-half of such net receipts from the motor vehicle fund is hereby appropriated and shall be paid to the counties of this State and the State Controller shall in the months of February and August of each year draw his warrants upon said net receipts in favor of the county treasurer of each county for the amount to which each said county is entitled hereunder. Said payments shall be made to the counties in proportion to the number of vehicles registered in such counties as determined by the places of residence of the owners to whom the registration cards are issued.

(b) In the event the actual domicile, residence or place of abode of an owner of any vehicle registered hereunder is in a county other than the county which the owner has designated as his place of residence in his application for registration and as shown by the records of the department, then the county auditor of the county receiving such funds from the State as hereinabove provided may draw his warrant in favor of the county wherein is located the actual domicile, residence or place of abode of such owner. Such warrant when so drawn shall be in such total sum as to cover all such vehicles as may properly be attributed to the latter county hereunder in order to secure payment to each county of sums in proportion to registration of vehicles therein according to the actual residences of the owners thereof.

780. No Payments to Counties Until Road Fund Established and Reports Made. The State Controller shall not draw his warrant upon the motor vehicle fund in favor of the county treasurer of any county which has not established a road fund as required by law, or which has failed, neglected or refused to file the report required by law showing the amount of money theretofore received by such county from the motor vehicle fund and the disposition thereof until such county has established such road fund and until such county has made all reports required by law.

781. Remainder of Motor Vehicle Net Receipts Deposited in the State Highway Fund. All moneys remaining in the net receipts in the motor vehicle fund after the expenditures hereinbefore authorized, shall be paid into a fund to be known as the "State highway fund," to be expended in accordance with law.

[Original Section.]

74. All moneys received by the State Treasurer from the United States government under project agreements relating to Federal aid road work shall be credited by the State Controller to such funds for highway purposes as the commission designates, and shall not be expended other than in the manner and for the purposes provided by law for expenditures from the fund designated.

75. Except as otherwise provided by law, the commission at any time and from time to time may:

(a) Select, adopt, and determine the location for State highways on routes authorized by law.

(b) Allocate, from the funds available therefor, moneys for the construction, improvement or maintenance of the various highways or portions thereof under the jurisdiction of the department. The commission may determine in each case the maximum sum of money that shall be made available therefor.

(c) Authorize preliminary surveys to determine the advisability of including in or excluding from the State highway system any highway or portion thereof.

76. There is hereby delegated to the commission by the Legislature of the State of California full power and authority to accept on behalf of the State of California any grant or grants or modifications of grants made by the Secretary of War pursuant to authority in him vested by section 6 of the act of Congress approved July 5, 1884 (23 Stat. 104), whereby rights of way for the extension, maintenance or operation of State roads or bridges across a military reservation have been granted to the State of California or to any political subdivision thereof.

77. Whenever the commission shall have by appropriate resolution accepted a grant or modification of a grant of a right of way for any of the roads mentioned in section 76, across a military reservation, the said acceptance on behalf of the State of California shall obligate the State of California, through its Legislature, to make application to the Congress of the United States for a retrocession of jurisdiction over the rights of way as granted or relocated by each grant or modification or amendment thereof, in any case where the State of California has ceded its jurisdiction to the United States over such military reservation, and shall obligate the said State in case such retrocession of jurisdiction is granted by Congress to accept such retrocession of jurisdiction and to assume the responsibility for managing, controlling, policing and regulating traffic thereon, subject to the following limitations and to such other limitations as Congress may prescribe:

(a) That nothing in said grant or permit contained shall be construed to give to the State of California or any of its agents, authority at any time to regulate traffic of military personnel or vehicles upon the said bridge or roads. All traffic upon said highways and upon said bridge shall be free from any tolls, charges or any form of obstruction by State or other agencies, against military and naval personnel and their dependents, civilians of the army and navy traveling on government business under military authority, and government traffic.

(b) That whenever in the judgment of the Secretary of War or his authorized representative any emergency exists which justifies it, he may assume exclusive control and management of any such bridge or roads and may then in his discretion prohibit, limit or regulate traffic thereon.

(c) That nothing in said grant or permit contained shall be construed to confer upon the State courts the right to try persons subject to military law for crimes or offenses committed on said roads, or upon any bridge within the boundaries of the respective military reservations involved, but the courts of the United States or military tribunals as now or hereafter provided by law, shall retain exclusive jurisdiction to try such persons for such offenses.

78. Any of the said grants received by the State of California and accepted by the commission, or relocations of such rights of way so received in any military reservation, shall by the acceptance thereof become a part of the system of public highways of the State.

(Added by Ch. 144, Stats. 1935.)

79. This delegation of power to the commission shall not be deemed exclusive, but any of the powers herein enumerated may continue to be exercised by the Legislature itself while in session.

(Added by Ch. 144, Stats. 1935.)

Article 3. The Department of Public Works.

100. The department shall have full possession and control of all State highways. The department is authorized and directed to lay out and construct all State highways between the termini designated by law and on the most direct and practicable locations as determined by the commission, and to improve and maintain such highways as provided in this code. The department shall maintain any existing traversable highway which is between the termini of, and approximately on, any route included in the State highway system. The department may do any act necessary or proper for the construction, improvement, maintenance or control of all highways and properties which are under its control, including the construction, improvement, and maintenance of detours.

100.5. Whenever the location of a State highway is such that a ferry must be used to completely traverse said highway, and there is no existing ferry furnishing service to traffic on said highway, the department may construct, maintain and operate such a ferry, or may, by cooperative agreement, delegate the construction, maintenance or operation thereof to a county, or if the termini of a ferry are within one or more cities, to the cities concerned. Whenever a highway between the termini of which a publicly owned ferry is used, is declared to be a State highway, the title to the ferry and all appurtenances thereof vests in the State. The department is authorized to promulgate reasonable rules and regulations governing the hours of operation of such ferries. It is unlawful to operate on any such ferries or the approaches thereto, a vehicle of a size or weight or at a speed, greater than that which any such ferry or its approaches, with safety to itself and to the traveling public, will permit. The department shall determine the maximum size, weight and speed of vehicles which with safety can be permitted on such ferries and shall by appropriate signs notify the public of its determination. It is prima facie evidence of violation of this section to exceed the limit specified by the department upon such signs. The department is authorized to recover by civil action any damages done to such ferries or the approaches thereof by reason of a failure to comply with the provisions of this section and a violation of the limits specified on the signs erected by the department is prima facie evidence of such violation.

101. The department shall keep in repair all objects or markers adjacent to a State highway which have been erected to mark registered historical places and shall keep such markers free from vegetation which may obscure them from view.

101.5. The department may file for record with the Division of State Lands of the Department of Finance such maps as are necessary to furnish an accurate description of any ungranted swamp, overflow, tide or submerged lands, the bed of any navigable channel, stream, river, creek, lake, bay or inlet, or other sovereign lands of the State of California which, in the opinion of the department are needed as a right of way for and for the protection of any State highway, or as a source of materials for the construction, maintenance or improvement of any such highway. Upon the approval of such map by the chief of said Division of State Lands, the lands described therein are reserved for such use by the department and the department is therupon authorized to enter upon, occupy and use such lands for such purpose or purposes. Any subsequent grant or permission to use such lands shall be subordinate to such reservation. Any such reservation may be released by the written certificate of the director filed with said Division of State Lands. This section shall not apply to School lands exempt.

102. In the name of the people of the State of California, the department may condemn for State highway purposes, under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain, any real property or interest therein which it is authorized to acquire. The department shall not commence any such proceeding in eminent domain unless the commission first adopts a resolution declaring that public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion by the State, acting through the department, of the improvement for which the real property or interest therein is required and that the real property or interest therein described in such resolution is necessary for the improvement.

103. The resolution of the commission shall be conclusive evidence:

(a) Of the public necessity of such proposed public improvement.

(b) That such real property or interest therein is necessary therefor.

(c) That such proposed public improvement is planned or located in a manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

104. The department may acquire, either in fee or in any lesser estate or interest, any real property which it considers necessary for State highway purposes. Real property for such purposes includes, but is not limited to, real property considered necessary for any of the following purposes:

(a) For rights of way, including those necessary for State highways within cities.

(b) For the purposes of exchanging the same for other real property to be used for rights of way. Real property may be acquired for such purposes only when the owner of the property needed for a right of way has agreed in writing to the exchange and when, in the opinion of the commission, an economy in the acquisition of the necessary right of way can be effected thereby.

(c) For rock quarries, gravel pits, or sand or earth borrow pits.

(d) For offices, shops, or storage yards.

(e) For parks adjoining or near any State highway.

(f) For the culture and support of trees which benefit any State highway by aiding in the maintenance and preservation of the roadbed, or which aid in the maintenance of the attractiveness of the scenic beauties of such highway.

(g) For drainage in connection with any State highway.
(h) For the maintenance of an unobstructed view of any portion of a State highway so as to promote the safety of the traveling public.

(i) For the construction and maintenance of stock trails approximately paralleling any State highway. The right of way of any existing State highway superseded by relocation may be retained for stock trail purposes.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

104. The department may acquire, either in fee or in any lesser estate or interest, any real property which it considers necessary for State highway purposes. Real property for such purposes includes, but is not limited to, real property considered necessary for any of the following purposes:

(a) For rights of way, including those necessary for State highways within cities.

(b) For rock quarries, gravel pits, or sand or earth borrow pits.

(c) For offices, shops, or storage yards.

(d) For parks adjoining or near any State highway.

(e) For the culture and support of trees which benefit any State highway by aiding in the maintenance and preservation of the roadbed, or which aid in the maintenance of the attractiveness of the scenic beauties of such highway.

(f) For drainage in connection with any State highway.

(g) For the maintenance of an unobstructed view of any portion of a State highway so as to promote the safety of the traveling public.

(h) For the construction and maintenance of stock trails approximately paralleling and adjoining any State highway. The right of way of any existing State highway superseded by relocation may be retained for stock trail purposes.

Conveyances of real property.

104.5. The director is authorized to execute in the name of the people of the State of California all necessary conveyances of any real property or lesser estate or interest therein which has been acquired by the department for the purposes of exchange.

Stock trails.

105. The department shall post notices upon such stock trails, and upon each highway at the entrances of such trails, directing all persons to drive all unattended stock thereon.

Any person who drives any unattended stock upon any State highway which is paralleled by such a stock trail is guilty of a misdemeanor, and, in addition thereto, is liable for all damage thereby done to said highway.

106. Whenever in its opinion the public convenience and necessity require it for State highway purposes, the department may enter into a cooperative agreement:

(a) To construct a bridge across any river, stream, or inlet of the sea.

(b) To reconstruct or replace an existing, privately owned bridge over any river, stream or inlet of the sea, which bridge is used for highway purposes by the public and the owner.

(c) To acquire an existing bridge, or a right of way over the location of such bridge, whenever the acquisition of such bridge or right of way by the State alone would ordinarily require an excessive expenditure of State highway money.

Parties.

107. Any such agreement may be:
(a) With any person for the construction of a new bridge and the use of any such bridge thereafter jointly by such person and the public.

(b) With the owner of any existing bridge for the reconstruction thereof, or for the replacement thereof by a new bridge, and the use of any such bridge thereafter jointly by such owner and the public.

108. Any agreement made under the authority of sections 106 and 107 may provide:

(a) Either for apportionment of the expense of any such construction, reconstruction, replacement, improvement, or maintenance between such owner or person and the State, or for the surrender to the State of the rights and property of the owner and the construction, reconstruction, replacement, improvement, or maintenance of any such bridge partly or wholly at the expense of the State.

(b) For the terms and conditions upon which the owner may use such bridge jointly with the public after the construction, reconstruction, replacement or improvement thereof.

(c) For other pertinent matters to give effect to sections 106 and 107.

109. Any such bridge acquired, constructed, reconstructed replaced or improved in the manner provided in sections 106, 107 and 108 is a part of the State highway system and title thereto shall vest in the State. Any funds which, without such cooperative agreement, would be available for the construction, reconstruction, replacement, improvement or maintenance of a bridge at such location on the State highway system, shall be available for a similar use under such cooperative agreement.

110. Nothing in this article shall prohibit any county or city from contributing to the State, in the manner provided by law, funds or real property or interests therein for the acquisition, construction, reconstruction, replacement, improvement or maintenance of any such bridge as is provided for by sections 106, 107 and 108, nor prohibit the relinquishment of any such bridge by the department to any county or city. Upon relinquishment such bridge shall be under the supervision and control of the county or city to which it is relinquished.

111. Whenever the natural course of a State highway passes into or through any city and a State highway route through or around such city is not specifically described by law, the commission shall determine the location of the connecting portion necessary to make the State highway continuous. Such location may be either through or around such city, depending upon the commission’s determination as to which location will be of the greatest benefit to through traffic upon such State highway.

Any portion of any street or highway, within the limits of such city, may be adopted by the commission as a part of the State highway system without compensation to the city.

112. (Repealed by Ch. 514, Stats. 1935.)
112. Upon completion any such connecting portion or part thereof may be retained and maintained as a part of the State highway system, or may be relinquished to such city.

113. Upon a request from the department the governing body of any city may acquire any real property or interest therein needed for State highway purposes and lying within such city. The title to such real property or interest therein may be taken in the name of the State or of the city.

Any such city may aid in the construction, improvement or maintenance of any State highway within its boundaries by contributing any part of the expense thereof to the department out of any city funds available or to become available for construction, improvement or maintenance of streets within the city.

114. When the commission has allocated any funds for the construction, improvement or maintenance of any portion of a State highway within a city, the department may enter into a cooperative agreement with such city for the performance of any such work by the department or by such city, or for the apportionment of the expense of such work between the department and such city.

115. All work performed pursuant to any provisions of sections 111, 113 and 114 shall be performed to the satisfaction of and subject to the approval of the department.

116. The department may delegate to any such city any part of the powers and jurisdiction vested by law in the department, except the power of approval, with respect to any portion of any such State highway within such city, and may withdraw such delegation.

117. Any right of way over any real property for State highway purposes, acquired by the department after August 21, 1933, includes the right of the department to issue, under the provisions of Chapter 3 of this division, permits for the location in such right of way of any structures or fixtures necessary to telegraph, telephone or electric power lines, or of any ditches, pipes, drains, sewers, or underground structures.

118. Whenever the department determines that any real property or interest therein, heretofore or hereafter acquired by the State for highway purposes, is no longer necessary for such purposes, the department may sell or exchange such real property or interest therein in the manner and upon the terms and conditions approved by the commission. Any such conveyance shall be executed on behalf of the State by the director and the purchase price shall be paid into the State treasury to the credit of any fund, available to the department for highway purposes, which the commission designates.

Any such real property or interest therein may in like manner be exchanged, either as whole or part consideration, for any other real property or interest therein needed for State highway purposes.
119. Any real property or interest therein which has passed to the State and has been accepted on behalf of the State by the department for highway purposes, inadvertently or by mistake, may be reconveyed to the persons entitled thereto. The reconveyance of any such real property or interest therein shall be executed by the director on behalf of the State. Such reconveyance shall not be made until the consideration originally received therefor by the grantor is first refunded or reconveyed to the State, or to any other party entitled thereto.

120. With the consent and approval of the Railroad Commission, the department may abandon that portion of any State highway which crosses the tracks or right of way of any railroad or street railroad, and may close such crossing.

121. With the exception of those in property which is a part of the University of California, and with the exception of those within State prison grounds, any of the following highways which existed on August 21, 1933, shall be maintained, and any of them constructed after that date shall be both constructed and maintained, by the department acting through the Division of Highways:

Any construction, improvement or maintenance of highways, other than State highways, within State parks shall be subject to the approval of the park authority.

123. The provisions of section 122 shall neither affect nor limit the department's authority, possession or control of any State highway even though any portion of such State highway is located within a State park.

124. The department may restrict the use of, or close, any State highway whenever the department considers such closing or restriction of use necessary:

(a) For the protection of the public.

(b) For the protection of such highway from damage during storms or during construction, improvement or maintenance operations thereon.
125. To notify the public that a State highway is closed or its use restricted, the department may:

127. The California Highway Patrol shall cooperate with the department in the enforcement of the closing, or restriction of use, of any State highway.

128. The department may file for record, in the office of the recorder of the county in which any State highway is located, detailed layout sheets and right of way maps showing the boundaries of such State highway and also general route maps of such highway or blueprints of any such sheets or maps, which the county recorders of the several counties shall accept and file for record without fee. No certificate need be attached thereto other than the usual title of the department showing the approval of such sheets or map by the proper officer or engineer of the department.

129. Each county recorder shall keep all such State highway maps and sheets, or blueprints thereof, filed in separate map books provided by the department for that purpose and each designated “State Highway Map Book No. ___ County.” Each such map or sheet, or blueprint thereof, shall be numbered in the order of filing and indexed in a separate index showing the number and the date of filing.

130. The department may enter into a contract with any county, city, or joint highway district, or with any combination of them, in respect to the proportion of the expense of the acquisition, construction, improvement or maintenance of any State highway to be borne by the respective parties to such contract. Any such contract may provide for the acquisition of rights of way and for the doing of the work, or any portion thereof, by any party to the contract, pursuant to the laws governing such party with reference to such type of acquisition or such character of work.

131. Upon the application of the governing authority of any of the following governmental units, to wit: any county, city, permanent road division, or road or boulevard district, the department may:

The governing authority of any such governmental unit may pay into the State treasury, as provided in this subdivision, any moneys raised by tax levy or the issuance of bonds, which moneys are available for use by such authority for highway purposes.

132. For any cooperation rendered under the provisions of subdivisions (a), (b), (c) or (d) of section 131, the department may require the applicant to pay any portion of the expense, and in such event the department shall determine what amount such applicant shall pay.

Any expense incurred in carrying out the objects of any provision of section 131 is part of the administrative expense of the department.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

133. As used in this section, the term "high-type paving" includes only asphalt concrete pavement and Portland cement concrete pavement as designed by the Division of Highways.

Whenever any high-type paving work is to be done by contract under the control and direction of the department and such work is to be paid for in whole or in part with moneys coming out of the State highway fund, and in the judgment of the department the conditions do not require the use of a particular type of pavement, the department shall cause to be prepared alternate plans and specifications contemplating the use of asphalt concrete pavement and Portland cement concrete pavement. The department shall then advertise and call for bids for the doing of such work based on the use of such alternate materials and upon receipt of such bids shall proceed to the award of a contract to the lowest qualified bidder.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

135. The department may enter into contracts for the removal or relocation of structures or improvements situated upon real property over which a right of way for State highway purposes has been or is to be acquired, in lieu of the payment to the owner of such property of the expense of such removal or relocation, and in lieu of any damages which will accrue by reason thereof.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

135. The department may enter into contracts for the removal or relocation of structures or improvements situated upon real property over which a right of way for State highway purposes has been or is to be acquired, in lieu of the payment to the owner of such property of the expense of such removal or relocation, and in lieu of any damages which will accrue by reason thereof. Such contract is not subject to the provisions of the State Contract Act, except that the department may require of the contractor a faithful performance bond executed as provided in section 13 of the State Contract Act. If the total consideration of such contract exceeds the sum of five hundred dollars, such contract shall be subject to the provisions of that certain act entitled, "An act to secure the payment of the claims of persons employed by contractors upon public works, and the claims of persons who furnish materials, supplies, teams, implements or machinery used or consumed by such contractors in the performance of such works, and prescribing the duties of certain public officers with respect thereto", approved May 10, 1919, Statutes of 1919, page 487. The department need not retain at any time any percentage of the sums payable on account of any contract authorized under this section, except on a claim verified and filed as provided in said act approved May 10, 1919.

136. The department may enter into contracts for the leasing or renting of tools or equipment for State highway purposes.

136.5. The contracts referred to in sections 135 and 136 are not subject to the provisions of the State Contract Act. Whenever the total consideration of such a contract exceeds five hundred dollars, it shall be awarded to the lowest, responsible bidder, after competitive bidding on such reasonable notice as the department may prescribe. Posting of notice for five days in a public place in the district office of the Division of Highways within which the work is to be done, or the equipment used, is sufficient.

137. The department shall determine the kind, quality, and extent of all highway work done under its control, and may prepare and approve all plans, specifications, and estimates for all such work.

138. The department may employ an attorney at law and such assistant attorneys as are necessary, said attorney to act as the attorney and legal adviser of the department in all highway matters. No contract relating to highways, awarded by the department shall be binding on the State

140. The department, through the Division of Highways, may establish and maintain shops for the construction, repair, and servicing of any equipment owned or used by the department. The department may purchase and supply such materials and parts, and furnish such labor, as is necessary in the construction, repair, and servicing of equipment for other State departments. The other departments receiving them shall reimburse the department for the cost of such materials, parts, and labor, including overhead charges.

(d) Call upon any State, county, city or district official to furnish any information which such official has and which relates to, or is in any way necessary to the proper performance of, the highway work of the department. Any such official shall furnish such information without charge.

142. All expense incurred in carrying out the objects of section 141 is part of the administrative expense of the department.

143. The department shall make a biennial report to the Governor, at least thirty days before each regular session of the Legislature, covering for the previous two years the work and investigations of the Division of Highways and making such recommendations as are considered desirable for changes in the laws affecting the Division of Highways.

Article 4. Highway Standards.

160. The width of the right of way for all State highways shall be at least forty feet.

The department may maintain any State highway having a lesser width of right of way, but shall not expend any money

(c) The department may maintain any State highway having a lesser width of right of way, but shall not expend any money thereon for major construction or improvement until the width of right of way is at least eighty feet.
(d) State highways already established as such.

Article 5. Funds for Highway Purposes.

180. The State highway general fund in the State treasury is continued in existence. Any moneys contributed by any county, city, public corporation, district or person may be placed by the commission in the State highway general fund, and shall be expended for the purpose for which contributed. In case the entire sum contributed is not necessary for such purpose, the balance unused shall be returned to the contributor and may be withdrawn in the manner provided by law upon demands made by the Division of Highways.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

180. The "State highway general fund" in the State treasury is continued in existence. Any moneys contributed by any county for highway purposes, Federal aid road moneys, or other funds coming under the control of the Division of Highways which are not otherwise specifically appropriated, may be placed by the commission in the State highway general fund.

181. Any money placed in the State highway general fund may be withdrawn for such highway purposes as the Division of Highways directs, except that moneys received from the Federal government as reimbursement for advancements made, when not again expended as advancements, shall be expended with respect to primary and secondary State highways and within the county groups as provided for expenditure of money from the State highway fund; and provided, further, that as to the expenditure of Federal emergency funds allocated primarily for the purpose of relieving unemployment, employees used on any projects so financed shall be obtained from the various counties according to and in proportion to unemployment needs so far as may be practical and only to such extent as will not conflict with any requirement of the government of the United States.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

181. Any money placed in the State highway general fund may be withdrawn for such purposes as the Division of Highways directs, except that all money received from the Federal government pursuant to cooperative highway agreements between the State and the Federal government shall be expended, with respect to primary State highways and secondary State highways and within the county groups, as provided in this article for the expenditure of money from the State highway fund.

182. The "State highway fund" in the State treasury is continued in existence. The State highway fund is the successor to the State highway maintenance fund and the State highway construction fund, and any appropriation made from the State highway fund, the State highway maintenance fund or the State highway construction fund before the effective date of this code shall continue to be available for the purposes for which it was made.

183. With the exception of money authorized by law to be deposited in the State highway general fund, all money available for the acquisition of real property or interests therein for State highways, or for the construction, maintenance or improvement of State highways or highways in State parks shall be deposited in the State highway fund. The moneys in said fund are appropriated and shall be allocated and expended for the purposes and in the manner provided in this code.

184. The department shall set up and keep the accounts necessary to show all expenditures from the State highway fund for the several purposes authorized or required by this article, and shall make and keep on file in the office of the department an annual statement showing all expenditures from that fund.

185. All money withdrawn from the State highway fund shall be withdrawn in the manner provided by law upon demands made by the department. Without at the time furnishing vouchers and itemized statements the department, through the Division of Highways, may withdraw from the State highway fund moneys in an amount not exceeding five hundred thousand dollars in the aggregate at any one time. The amount so withdrawn may be used as a revolving fund where such advances are necessary.

186. For general administration and for maintenance, the department and the commission shall be limited in expenditures, out of the money available each year in the State highway fund, to an amount not exceeding the net revenue derived from one cent per gallon tax on motor vehicle fuel. Of that amount the department shall expend such proportion as the commission determines is necessary for each of the following:

(a) General administration purposes.

(b) Maintenance of all State highways, including all traversable highways between the termini of and approximately on authorized State highway routes.

(c) Maintenance of highways in State parks.

187. For the purpose of allocating State funds available for highway purposes the counties of the State are placed in these two groups:
Group No. 2. All those counties not included in Group No. 2.

Group No. 2. The counties of San Luis Obispo, Kern, Mono, Tulare, Inyo, Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Orange, Riverside, San Diego and Imperial.

188. Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in this article, all money in the State highway fund not expended for general administration purposes or for maintenance or for the purpose specified in section 194, shall be allocated and expended as follows:

(a) One-half such money shall be allocated to and expended upon primary State highways. The annual expenditures thereof shall be made within each county group enumerated in section 187 in amounts which shall bear the same proportion to the total amount available for primary State highways during the current year as the number of miles of primary State highways within each such group bears to the total number of miles of primary State highways in the State.

(b) The remaining one-half shall be allocated to and expended upon the secondary State highways. One-half of such expenditures shall be made in each county group enumerated in section 187. Not more than four per cent of the money allocated to the secondary State highways in a particular group may be used as State aid to joint highway districts within such group in accordance with the laws pertaining to the financing of highways within joint highway districts.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

188. Subject to the provisions hereinafter contained in this article, all money in the State highway fund not expended for general administration purposes or for maintenance shall be allocated and expended as follows:

(a) One-half such money shall be allocated to and expended upon primary State highways. The annual expenditures thereof shall be made within each county group enumerated in section 187 in amounts which shall bear the same proportion to the total amount available for primary State highways during the current year as the number of miles of primary State highways within each such group bears to the total number of miles of primary State highways in the State.

(b) The remaining one-half shall be allocated to and expended upon the secondary State highways. One-half of such expenditures shall be made in each county group enumerated in section 187. Not more than four per cent of the money allocated to the secondary State highways in a particular group may be used as State aid to joint highway districts within such group in accordance with the laws pertaining to the financing of highways within joint highway districts.

189. All State highway fund money which is allocated to and available for expenditure upon primary State highways in county Group No. 1 shall be subject to the appropriation therefrom made by Chapter 5, Statutes of 1933, and all State highway fund money allocated to and available for expenditure upon either primary or secondary State highways in county Group No. 1 shall be subject to the appropriation therefrom made by Chapter 9, Statutes of 1933.

190. (a) In the event the commission determines that the amount of money required to be allocated from the State highway fund to the primary State highways in either county group is larger than is necessary adequately to meet traffic requirements, then the department may, on the authorization of the commission, expend not more than fifty per cent of the money thus allocated to the primary highways in such county group, upon the secondary highways in the same county group.

(b) In the event the commission determines that the cost of constructing or improving the primary highways in either county group is greater than can be met by the money required to be allocated to such primary highways, then the department may, on the authorization of the commission, expend not more than fifty per cent of the money, allocated to the secondary highways in such county group, upon the primary highways in the same county group.

191. As a further flexible provision with respect to the expenditure of money allocated to primary and secondary State highways from the State highway fund, the department in constructing, improving or maintaining highways within cities within a particular county group may, on the authorization of the commission, expend for such purposes money allocated to either the primary or secondary State highways in such county group.

192. In apportioning the State highway fund money as required by this article, there shall be excluded from the computations of moneys expended any sums contributed by any person or governmental unit to pay any portion of the cost of constructing, improving or maintaining any State highway.

Except as otherwise permitted in this article, any annual or biennial balances remaining unexpended to the credit of any particular county group shall remain credited to such county group.

193. The State highway fund money allocated and available each year for primary and secondary State highways, respectively, shall be expended by the department:

(a) On the locations determined by the commission, to acquire the necessary real property or interests therein for, and to construct or improve to standards justified by traffic requirements, the primary and secondary State highways respectively, in the State highway system.

(b) To construct or improve highways in State parks in the manner provided by law.

194. The commission shall allocate annually, and the department shall expend or cause to be expended within the cities of this State, from the State highway fund, an amount equal to the net revenue derived from one-quarter cent per gallon of tax on motor vehicle fuel.

Such expenditures shall be made within each city in the proportion that the total population of such city bears to the total population of all cities in this State. For the purpose of this section the population in each city is that determined by the last preceding Federal census. In the case of a city incorporated subsequent to the last census, or in the case of unincorporated territory being annexed to a city subsequent to the last census, the department shall ascertain the population of the city, or of the annexed territory, by multiplying the number of registered electors therein by three.

[AS AMENDED BY CH. 514, STATS. 1935]

194. Within the cities in this State the department shall annually expend from the State highway fund an amount equal to one-eighth of all money paid into said fund from the motor vehicle fuel tax. Such expenditures shall be made within each such city in the proportion that the total population in such city bears to the total population in all cities in this State. For the purpose of this section the population in each city is that determined by the last preceding Federal census.

In the case of a city incorporated subsequent to the last census, the department shall ascertain its population by multiplying the number of registered electors therein by three.

The department shall expend within each city not less than the amounts provided in this section and may expend any larger amount upon any State highways lying therein.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

194. Within the cities in this State the department shall annually expend from the State highway fund an amount equal to one-eighth of all money paid into said fund from the motor vehicle fuel tax. Such expenditures shall be made within each such city in the proportion that the total population in such city bears to the total population in all cities in this State. For the purpose of this section the population in each city is that determined by the last preceding Federal census.

195. Except as provided in section 200, all moneys allocated under the provisions of section 194 shall be expended for the acquisition of real property or interests therein for, or the construction, maintenance, or improvement of streets of major importance within such city, other than State highways, as are agreed upon by the department and the legislative body of the city.

Such expenditures shall be limited to that portion of the street available for use by vehicular traffic except that such funds may be expended for pedestrian underpasses or pedestrian overhead crossings and the installation and maintenance of traffic control devices, but such funds shall not be expended for street lighting, or for the construction or maintenance of sidewalks, or, except as hereinbefore expressly authorized, for the construction or maintenance of any structure or facility in, over, or under the street which is not of direct and primary service in providing a way for vehicular traffic. Sidewalks may be constructed with such funds to replace those removed or damaged by construction or improvement of the street.

195. Any expenditure of money from the State highway fund within any city, as authorized by this article, may be delegated by the department to the governing body of such city if the department is satisfied that such city is equipped to conduct the particular work in an efficient and economic manner.
196. Any expenditure of money from the State highway fund, as provided in section 194, shall be delegated by the department to the governing body of such city if the department is satisfied that such city is equipped to conduct the particular work to be delegated in an efficient and economic manner and if the city has set up by ordinance a "Special gas tax street improvement fund."

No moneys shall be expended by the city from such fund except for items specified in the budget and approved by the department as required in this article.

In making any such delegated expenditure a city shall follow the law governing it in regard to the doing of the particular type of work in cases which are not exclusively municipal affairs.

No State officer or employee shall be liable for anything done, or omitted to be done, by any city in the performance of any delegated work.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

196. The money from the State highway fund allocated to each city shall be expended upon State highways within such city. In the discretion of the department, such expenditures may be made first for acquisition of any real property or interest therein, or for the construction, improvement or maintenance of State highways within such city.

In the event that the amount of money allocated to any one city is greater than is necessary to maintain and improve to adequate standard all State highways within such city, then any surplus amount accruing to such city shall be expended for the acquisition of any real property or interest therein for, or for the construction, improvement or maintenance of, such other streets of major importance within the city as are agreed upon by the department and the governing body of such city.

197. It shall be the duty of the legislative body of each city, on or before the first day of June of each year, to prepare and to submit to the department a budget on such forms as the department may specify, showing the estimated expenditure of such funds recommended to be made during the ensuing fiscal year.

The department may refuse to approve any such budget or any item thereof if in the opinion of the department the work proposed to be done or the expenditures proposed to be made, as outlined therein, do not comply with the requirements of this article as to the purposes for which such funds may be expended. The department may also refuse to approve any such budget or any item thereof if in the opinion of the department the proposed expenditure or expenditures are excessive for the work to be done, or if in the opinion of the department adequate provision has not been made in such budget to serve traffic on streets on which any previous expenditure of funds allocated under section 194 has been made, other than such expenditures previously made for maintenance.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

197. To permit the accomplishment of a major project in its entirety, the governing body of any city may authorize the accumulation of money accruing over a period of years from the State highway fund, or may authorize the advancement of money from such fund in anticipation of moneys thus to accrue. Such accumulation or advancement of money shall not be made without the approval of the department.

198. The department shall pay quarterly, as revenues are received in the State highway fund, to each city to which any expenditure has been delegated, that proportion of its prorata share which has been delegated, unless a different schedule of payment is agreed upon between the city and the department. All payments received by a city shall be deposited in its "Special gas tax street improvement fund."

In the event that any sums are taken or borrowed from the State highway fund, or from the motor vehicle fuel fund, to augment the State general fund, or to pay any appropriations made from the State general fund, the department is authorized to reduce the amounts expended in each proportionately to the reduction in the State highway fund, such reduction to be made up when and if the State highway fund is reimbursed from the State general fund.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

198. The governing body of any city may authorize the department to allocate and expend any money accruing to such city from the State highway fund upon any State highway, or highway of major importance, outside the limits of such city.

199. Before expending any such funds for construction, or improvement of any street except for preliminary engineering, the city shall furnish to the department for approval such surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates of cost therefor as the department may require. When the department has approved the plans, specifications, and estimates, the city may proceed to advertise for bids. The written consent of the department must be secured before any contract may be awarded for an amount in excess of the estimates of cost, or to other than the low bidder on the grounds that the low bidder is not responsible, or before the work may be done by day's labor.

The written consent of the department must likewise be obtained before the amount of any item specified in the budget for maintenance or acquisition of real property is exceeded.

200. To permit the accomplishment of a major project in its entirety, the governing body of a city may authorize the accumulation of money accruing over a period of years from the State highway fund. The legislative body of a city may include in its budget and the department may approve projects for the expenditure of any money accruing to the city under the provisions of this article upon any State or county highway or other major traffic street, including those outside the limits of such city.

201. Each city to which an expenditure or expenditures was delegated shall file with the department annually at such time as the department may designate a report showing all expenditures made for maintenance in such detail as the department may require.

Within sixty days after the completion by any city of a delegated project for the acquisition of real property for, or for the construction or improvement of, any street, such city shall file with the department a final report in respect thereto, in such detail as the department may require.

202. Any city may contract with the department for the performance by the department of any or all street work in such city and for such purpose may transfer to the department, for deposit in the State treasury, any moneys available for expenditure by such city for street purposes.

Any city may with the approval of the department contract with the county within which such city is located, for the performance by such county of maintenance projects within such city, which projects have been approved by the department.

203. The commission shall allocate and the department shall expend, or cause to be expended, from the moneys required to be allocated by section 188, an amount not less than the net revenue derived from one-quarter cent per gallon tax on motor vehicle fuel, on State highways within cities.

Such expenditures shall be made within each city in the proportion that the total population of such city bears to the total population of all cities in this State. The population of each city shall be determined as provided in section 194.

Any expenditure of moneys allocated under this section may be delegated by the department to the city, in the discretion of the department, and on such terms as may be agreed upon by the department and the city.

The provisions of this section guarantee and require the expenditure of not less than the amount specified herein but shall not be deemed to prevent the expenditure by the department of a larger amount on the State highways within the cities in this State. The expenditures required by this section shall be made first for the acquisition of real property, or interests therein, for, or the construction, improvement, or maintenance of State highways within cities.

In the event that the department determines that the amount of money available under this section for expenditure in any city is greater than is necessary to adequately maintain and improve to adequate standard all State highways within such city then any surplus amount available for expenditure therein under this section shall be expended for the acquisition of real property or interests therein, for, or the construction, maintenance, or improvement of streets of major importance within such city, other than State highways and such expenditure shall be made in the same manner and for the same purposes as the expenditure of any money allocated to a city under section 194.

(Added by Ch. 642, Stats. 1935.)

204. The department shall exercise the same powers and duties with respect to State highways within cities as with respect to other State highways.

(Added by Ch. 642, Stats. 1935.)

Chapter 3. The Care and Protection of State Highways.

660. As used in this chapter:
(a) The term "highway" includes all or any part of the entire width of right of way of a State highway, whether or not such entire area is actually used for highway purposes.

(b) The term "encroachment" includes any tower, pole, pole line, pipe, pipe line, fence, billboard, stand or building, or any structure or object of any kind or character not particularly mentioned in this section, which is placed in, under or over any portion of the highway.

661. In addition to persons, public corporations, and districts specified in this chapter, this chapter shall apply to all private corporations authorized by law to establish or maintain any works or facilities in, under or over any public highway. This chapter shall not limit the powers and duties vested by law in the Railroad Commission of this State, and in the event of any conflict with regard to the powers and duties given the department in this chapter, those of the Railroad Commission shall prevail.

670. The department may issue written permits, as provided in this chapter, authorizing the permittee to do any of the following acts:
(a) Make an opening or excavation for any purpose in any State highway.

(b) Place, change or renew an encroachment.

(c) Place or display in, under or over any State highway any kind of advertising sign or device. Any such sign or device placed or displayed contrary to the provisions of this section is a public nuisance and the department may immediately remove it. The provisions of this section shall not prohibit the posting of any notice in the manner required by law or by the order of any court of this State.

(d) Plant, remove, cut, cut down, injure or destroy any tree, shrub, plant or flower growing within any State highway.
Any person who does any of the acts specified in this section, without the authority of such a permit, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

671. Any act done under the authority of a written permit, issued pursuant to the provisions of this chapter, shall be done in accordance with the applicable provisions of this chapter, and the terms and conditions of such permit.

672. Any permit issued under the provisions of this chapter may provide that the permittee will pay the entire expense of replacing the highway in as good condition as before, and may provide such other conditions as to the location and the manner in which the work is to be done as the department finds necessary for the protection of the highway.

673. Any permit for the location or establishment of any encroachment in, under or over any State highway shall also contain a provision that in the event the future improvement of the highway necessitates the relocation or removal of such encroachment the permittee will relocate or remove the same at his sole expense.

674. The department may, but is not required to, supervise any work done under any permit, issued under the provisions of this chapter in which event the permittee shall pay the reasonable cost of such supervision to the department, but no cost of supervision shall be charged by the department to any public corporation.

675. (a) Permittees may excavate openings in State highways to make repairs in cases of emergency requiring immediate action. In such cases the appropriate representative of the Division of Highways shall be promptly notified of any such action, and such permittee, at his own expense, shall immediately replace such State highway in as good condition as before such excavation.

(b) A city or public corporation supplying water service to its inhabitants may, within its corporate limits, excavate a State highway without a permit in cases of emergency requiring immediate action; but in such cases the State highway shall, at the expense of the city or public corporation, be replaced in as good condition as before such excavation.

676. The department may delegate to any city any of the department's powers, duties, and authority, other than those of approval, under this chapter as to any State highway, or any part thereof, within such city, and may withdraw any such delegation of authority.

677. Before granting a permit under any provision of this chapter, the department may require the applicant to file with the department a satisfactory bond payable to the people of the State of California in such amount as the department deems sufficient, conditioned on the proper compliance by the permittee with the provisions of this article.

678. Except as otherwise provided in this section, such a bond shall not be required of any county, city, public corporation or political subdivision which is authorized by law to establish or maintain any works or facilities in, under or over any public highway, nor shall the application of any such governmental unit for a permit be denied. Every such applicant is entitled as a matter of right to a permit, but is otherwise subject to the provisions of this article and to all reasonable conditions and provisions made by the department in any such permit.

The department may require of any such applicant a bond in a sum not to exceed twenty thousand dollars, if such applicant has in fact prior to such application failed to comply with the provisions of this article or with the provisions of a previous permit.

679. Any city, municipal utility district, municipal water district or metropolitan water district is entitled to a blanket permit, renewable annually, for the installation of its service connections and for ordinary maintenance of its facilities located or installed in State highways; but the department may revoke any such blanket permit if the permittee fails to comply with the provisions of this article. When any such permit is revoked in a proper case such municipal utility district, municipal water district or metropolitan water district is entitled to a permit only on furnishing a bond as provided in section 677.

680. Whenever a franchise shall have been granted by any county or city in any public highway which has been or is subsequently constituted a State highway, the department may enforce any obligations of the grantee or holder of such franchise in respect to the repair of the highway. The department may require any person who has placed and maintained any pole, pole line, pipe, pipe line, conduit, street railroad tracks, or other structures or facilities upon any State highway, whether under such or any franchise, to move the same at his own cost and expense to such different location in the highway as is specified in a written demand of the department, whenever necessary to insure the safety of the traveling public or to permit of the improvement of the highway; provided, that no such change of location shall be required for a temporary purpose. The department shall specify in the demand a reasonable time within which the work of relocation must be commenced and the grantee or owner must commence such relocation within the time specified in said demand and thereafter diligently prosecute the same to completion.

The department may likewise serve such a demand on the owner of any encroachment to require its removal entirely from the right of way, where the owner does not have an existing franchise right to place and maintain the same therein.

In case the owner fails to comply with any such demand, the encroachments specified in the demand become subject to the provisions of Article 3 of this chapter.

681. Whenever a franchise shall have been granted by any county or city in any public highway heretofore or hereafter constituted a State highway, all of the rights of the grantor under such franchise, including the right to collect and receive tolls, charges or payments thereunder other than the rights transferred to the department by section 680, are reserved to such county or city.

720. If any encroachment exists in, under or over any State highway, the department may require the removal of such encroachment in the manner provided in this article.

Notice shall be given to the owner, occupant or person in possession of the encroachment, or to any other person causing or suffering the encroachment to exist, by serving upon any such person a notice containing a demand for the immediate removal of such encroachment from within such highway. Any such notice shall describe the encroachment complained of with reasonable certainty as to its character and location. In lieu of service upon such person, service of such notice may also be made by registered mail and by posting, for a period of five days, a copy of the notice on the encroachment described in the notice. In the case of an owner, occupant or person in possession, who is not present in the county, the notice may be given to his agent in lieu of service by mailing and posting.

721. The department may immediately remove from any State highway any encroachment which:

(a) Is not removed, or the removal of which is not commenced and thereafter diligently prosecuted, prior to the expiration of five days from and after the service of the notice.

(b) Obstructs or prevents the use of such highway by the public.

(c) Consists of refuse.

(d) Is an advertising sign of any description, unless excepted by subdivision (c) of section 670.

722. In the name of the people of the State of California, the department may commence and prosecute, in any court of competent jurisdiction, an action to recover the expense of such removal, costs and expenses of suit and, in addition thereto, the sum of ten dollars for each day such encroachment remains within any State highway after service of the notice in the manner provided in section 720.

723. If the owner, occupant, or person in possession of the encroachment, or person causing or suffering the encroachment to exist, or the agent of any of them, disputes or denies the existence of the encroachment, or refuses to remove or permit the removal of the encroachment, the department, in the name of the people of the State of California, may commence, in any court of competent jurisdiction, an action to abate the encroachment as a public nuisance. If judgment is recovered by the department it may, in addition to having such encroachment adjudged a nuisance and abated, recover ten dollars for each day such encroachment remains after the service of the notice in the manner provided in section 720, and may also recover its costs and expenses incurred in such action.

724. Unless such encroachment is authorized under the provisions of article 2 of this chapter, any person owning, controlling or placing, or causing or suffering to exist, any encroachment within any State highway after the service upon such person of the notice, in the manner provided in section 720, is, in addition to any civil liability therefor, guilty of a misdemeanor.

725. It is unlawful for any person to do any of the following acts:

(a) Drain water, or permit water to be drained, from his lands onto any State highway by any means which results in damage to the highway.

(b) Obstruct any natural water course so as to:

(1) Prevent, impede or restrict the natural flow of waters from any State highway into and through such water course, unless other adequate and proper drainage is provided.

(2) Cause waters to be impounded within any State highway, to the damage of the highway.

(3) Cause interference with, or damage or hazard to public travel.

(c) Store or distribute water for any purpose so as to permit it to overflow onto, to saturate by seepage, or to obstruct any State highway, to the damage of the highway.

726. When notice thereof is given by the department, in the manner provided by section 720, to any person permitting or suffering such damage to be done to any State highway, or permitting or suffering any such condition to exist, such person shall immediately cease and discontinue such diversion of waters or shall discontinue and prevent such drainage, seepage, or overflow and shall repair the highway at his own expense.

727. If any person is thus notified, and fails, neglects or refuses to cease and discontinue such diversion, or to discontinue and prevent the drainage, seepage or overflow of such waters, or to make the repairs required by section 726, the department may make such repairs and may also perform such work as is necessary to prevent the further drainage, diversion, overflow, or seepage of such waters.

The department, in the name of the people of the State of California, may recover in an action at law, in any court of competent jurisdiction, the amount expended for such repairs and work and in addition thereto, the sum of ten dollars for each day such drainage, diversion, overflow or seepage of such waters is permitted to continue after the service of the notice in the manner required by section 726, together with the costs and expenses incurred in such action.
728. Any person proposing or desiring to excavate or construct ditches in, under or over any State highway, to carry water for any purpose, shall construct, without expense to the State, such bridges, culverts, pipes, siphons or crossings as are necessary adequately and properly to carry such water in, under or over such State highway.

Any such construction shall be done in accordance with the permit and pursuant to section 671, and shall be subject to the approval of the department. The issuance of any such permit may be withheld until the department finds that proper and adequate provision is made for the protection of such State highway and for the safety of travel thereon.

729. Upon the neglect or refusal of any person to comply with the provisions of section 728, the department may construct any such crossing and may recover, in the name of the people of the State of California, in an action at law in any court of competent jurisdiction, the expense of such construction, together with the costs and expenses incurred in any such action.

730. Any person who by any means wilfully injures or damages any bridge, culvert or structure in or on any State highway is liable for the repair thereof, and the department, in the name of the people of the State of California, may recover, in an action in any court of competent jurisdiction, the amount expended for such repairs, together with the costs and expenses incurred in any such action.

Any person thus injuring any bridge, culvert or structure in or on any State highway is guilty of a misdemeanor.

731. Any vehicle or structure parked or placed wholly or partly within any State highway, for the purpose of selling the same or of selling therefrom or therein any article or thing, is a public nuisance and the department may immediately remove such vehicle or structure from within any such highway.

Any person parking any such vehicle or placing any such structure wholly or partly within any such highway for the purpose of selling such vehicle or structure, or of selling therefrom or therein, any article or thing, and any person selling, displaying for sale, or offering for sale any article or thing either in or from any such vehicle or structure so parked or placed, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

The California Highway Patrol and all peace officers shall enforce the provisions of this section and shall cooperate with the department to that end.

The provisions of this section shall not prohibit a seller from taking orders or delivering any commodity from a vehicle on that part of any State highway immediately adjacent to the premises of the purchaser.

732. Any person who wilfully injures, defaces, breaks down or removes any monument or stake placed, erected or used by the department to designate any point in the boundary or survey of any State highway or proposed State highway is guilty of a misdemeanor.

733. All money recovered under the provisions of this chapter shall be paid into any fund which is available to the department for highway purposes and is designated by the department to receive such payment.

734. The procedure provided in this article is not exclusive and shall not prohibit the department from exercising any other remedy provided by law to prevent damage to or to protect any State highway.

CHAPTER 4. cooperation by and with the State.

Article 1. County Aid to State.

760. Whenever it is determined by a four-fifths vote of the membership of the board of supervisors of any county that such acquisition or contribution, or both, will promote the interests of the county and such acquisition or contribution, or both, is recommended in writing by the department, the board thereafter may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of its members, determine:

(a) To acquire any real property or interest therein needed for State highway purposes and described in such recommendation. The board shall proceed, if necessary, to condemn any such real property or interest therein. The title to such property or interest may be taken in the name of the State or the county. The resolution of the board is the only preliminary procedure required prior to the acquisition of such property or interest, or to the commencement of such condemnation action.

(b) To contribute bridges, fencing, money, labor, materials, and appurtenances toward the construction of State highways within the limits of the county.

Such acquisitions or contributions, or both, shall be for the use of the State as provided in section 762.

761. The expense of any such acquisition of real property or interest therein, or of any such contribution, or of both, may be charged to the general fund of the county, the general road fund of the county, or the district fund of the district benefited.

762. The State may receive and use the benefits provided under section 760, and any money contributed by a county under that section shall be paid into a State fund available for highway purposes and designated by the board of supervisors in the resolution determining such contribution.

Article 2. Cooperative Highway Construction and Improvement.

790. The board of supervisors of any county may, by a vote of not less than three-fifths of its membership, petition the department to cooperate, under the provisions of this article, in the improvement of an existent highway or the construction of a proposed highway in that county when such existing highway connects, or such proposed highway will connect, a forest highway system road or national park road which is already built or under construction, with any State highway. Such connecting highway shall not exceed fifty miles in length.

When any highway sought to be improved or constructed under the provisions of this article is situated in two or more counties, a petition, or concurrence in such a petition, passed by a three-fifths vote of the membership of the board of supervisors of each of such counties is required to initiate the proceeding under this article.

791. Such petition shall contain:
(a) A description of the highway proposed to be improved or constructed.
(b) A statement as to whether the county will supply, at its own expense, such rights of way as are necessary.
(c) A statement of the funds which such county already has available, or proposes to provide, for such construction.
(d) Such other information or data as the department requests.

792. Upon the receipt of such petition, if the department determines that public necessity and convenience will be served thereby, it may cooperate with the petitioning county or counties, in any manner agreeable to all parties, for the purpose of procuring preliminary estimates of the cost of the proposed project. After such preliminary estimates are made and submitted to it, the department may enter into an agreement with any petitioner or with the several petitioners for the purpose of securing detailed surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates of the cost of the proposed project.

793. All such surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates of cost shall be subject to the approval of the department. Upon such approval, a copy of the petition and approved documents shall be filed with the department, and with the clerk of the board of supervisors and the county recorder of each petitioning county.

794. Upon such approval the department may enter into a written agreement with any petitioner or with the several petitioners for the improvement or construction of the highway in question. The cost of such improvement or construction shall be prorated between the contracting parties in any agreed proportion.

795. If the proposed construction or improvement lies wholly within one county, the board of supervisors of the county may designate the county surveyor or any engineer to take charge of the work. If two or more counties are petitioners they shall agree as to the engineer or county surveyor who will take charge of the work and after so agreeing they shall notify the department that they are ready to proceed with the work.

796. When a written agreement has been entered into as provided in section 794, detailed plans and specifications shall be prepared by the engineer or surveyor named to take charge of the proposed construction or improvement and shall be submitted to the department for its approval. If such plans and specifications meet with the approval of the department it shall so notify the petitioning board or boards of supervisors.

797. The board shall then proceed to advertise for bids and let the contract for the improvement or construction of such highway after first securing the department’s written approval of the proposal submitted by the successful bidder. If the bids for improving or constructing such highway exceed a figure which the department considers reasonable, such bids shall be rejected. In such case the project may be readvertised and if, upon such readvertisement, no satisfactory bid is received the work proposed may, subject to the approval and under the inspection of the department, be undertaken by day labor.

798. Payment for the work done under this article shall be made in the manner provided by law for the payment of claims against counties. Upon satisfactory evidence being presented to the department that the work done conforms to its requirements, the department shall pay, in the manner provided by law, its pro rata share of the cost of the work as agreed upon. Such payment shall be made out of any funds available to the department for such purposes.

810. Any county, city or permanent road division, within the limits of which there is a State highway, may do or order to be done on any such highway any paving, curbing, highway work or sewer work authorized by law. Such governmental unit shall first obtain from the department a permit to do any such work. All grades, elevations or curb lines sought to be established or pavement proposed to be constructed by any such governmental unit shall first be approved by the department. Such governmental unit shall restore, to the satisfaction of the department, any existing pavement which is damaged as a result of such work.

820. The State of California assents to the provisions of the Federal Highway Act, as amended and supplemented. All work done under the provisions of said act or other acts of Congress relative to Federal aid, or other cooperative highway work, or to emergency construction of public highways with funds apportioned by the government of the United States, shall be performed as required under acts of Congress, and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder. Laws of this State inconsistent with such laws, or rules and regulations of the United States, shall not apply to such work, to the extent of such inconsistency.

821. The department, on behalf of the State, shall submit to the Secretary of Agriculture, or other properly authorized officer of the United States, such project statements as may be required and may agree with the proper officials of the United States as to the kind, quality, and extent of all such work. The department shall file in its office all approved plans, specifications, and estimates.
(Added by Ch. 360, Stats. 1935.)

822. The department is authorized to do any and all acts and things with reference to any public street or highway in, or to be constructed in, this State necessary to the performance of any such agreement, including but not limited to the construction or improvement of streets, highways or roads which are not a part of the State highway system.
(Added by Ch. 360, Stats. 1935.)

823. In addition to the purposes for which the moneys in, and to be received in, the State highway fund and the State highway general fund have been appropriated, all of said moneys, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated to, and may be expended by the department for, the performance of such street or highway construction or improvement projects as are agreed upon with the properly authorized officers of the United States, including projects on public highways in the State of California which are not a part of the State highway system. As to such projects on streets or highways which are not a part of the State highway system, such expenditures shall be limited to those items for which the government of the United States has agreed, and is obligated, to reimburse the State in full, except that the general administrative and engineering expense for which the Federal government will not repay the State is properly chargeable to the general administration of the Division of Highways.

824. Expenditures made from the State highway fund or the State highway general fund to the extent to which the United States is obligated by a project agreement to reimburse the State, shall be considered as advancements made by this State for performance on behalf of the United States, and shall not be considered as expenditures of State funds. Such advancements are not subject to any provisions of law relative to allocation of State highway fund, or State highway general fund moneys. Such advancements must be excluded in making the computations required by section 695 of the Political Code, as added by Chapter 923 of the Statutes of 1933 and the amount of such advancements made and to be so excluded during any given period of time shall be deemed to be equal to the amount received from the government of the United States as reimbursement for street or highway projects and deposited in the State treasury during said period of time.
825. In the absence of Federal law, ruling, or regulation to the contrary, the department is directed to present for approval by the proper officers of the United States, projects which will result in the expenditure of all Federal funds apportioned to the State of California for highway construction or improvement as near as may be in compliance with the provisions of law governing the allocation of State highway fund money, or State highway general fund money, as between the two county groups.

826. All moneys received from the government of the United States as reimbursement for street or highway construction projects shall be deposited in the State treasury to the credit of the fund from which the advancements were made. The department shall certify to the State Treasurer the fund in which each payment is required to be deposited, or if any one payment represents advancements from both the State highway fund, and the State highway general fund, the amount which should be deposited in each.

827. The department may insert in the specifications for any contract for any project as to which a project agreement has been executed by and between the State and the United States a stipulation that the contractor shall forfeit to the State the sum of ten dollars for each calendar day, or portion thereof, for each person who is employed upon the project in violation of the specifications relating to selection of labor, wages, hours, and conditions of employment, and the contractor shall be bound thereby.

The department may insert in the specifications for any such contract all special provisions required by the rules and regulations of the properly authorized officers of the United States, regardless of whether or not any such provision tends to increase the cost of the work.

CHAPTER 5. VACATION AND ABANDONMENT OF HIGHWAYS.

835. The commission may retain or may summarily vacate and abandon any portion of a State highway which portion has been superseded by relocation, except in case such abandonment would cut off all access to the property of any person which, prior to such relocation, adjoined the highway. The commission shall either retain such highway or relinquish it to the county.

836. The commission shall act to abandon any easement, or to vacate any highway, by resolution. A certified copy of such resolution may be recorded without acknowledgment, certificate of acknowledgment, or further proof, in the office of the county recorder of each county wherein any portion of the easement to be abandoned, or the highway to be vacated, lies. No fee shall be charged for such recordation. On such recordation, the abandonment or vacation is complete.
(Added by Ch. 514, Stats. 1935.)

837. On abandonment of an easement, title thereto reverts to the owner of the underlying fee. On vacation of a highway, where the State owns only an easement, title likewise so reverts. Where the State owns the property on which the vacated highway was located in fee, the department shall dispose of the property as provided in section 118.
(Added by Ch. 514, Stats. 1935.)

CHAPTER 6. HIGHWAY PROCEEDINGS AFFECTING PRIVATE PROPERTY.
(Heading added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)

Article 1. Change of Grade.

854. Whenever the commission shall deem it expedient to alter the established grade of any State highway, or portion thereof, within a city, the commission shall by resolution declare its intention to alter such established grade, in which resolution must be briefly specified the grade to be established, together with a reference to a place where a profile map or maps showing the new grade and the old may be examined, and a place in the city where objections may be presented. A copy of such profile map or maps shall be furnished to the governing body having jurisdiction of any highway intersecting or intercepting any affected portion of the State highway.

855. Notice of such proposed change of grade shall be given by posting and publication of such resolution. Publication shall be made at least once a week for two consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation published in the city in which the portion of State highway affected is located, or if there is no newspaper in such city, then in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county. If there is no newspaper in either the city or county, notice by posting is sufficient. Notice by posting shall be given by posting copies of the resolution, indicating thereon the date of the first publication thereof, if any, in conspicuous places along the portion of the highway affected at intervals of not to exceed 200 feet, and in the event such highway is intersected or intercepted by other highways at least two of such notices shall be posted in each block. In no event shall less than three copies of the notice be posted. Postings shall be made within five days of the date of the first publication, if any. Within five days after the same is posted, a copy of such notice shall be furnished to the governing body having jurisdiction of any such intersecting or intercepting highway.
856. Within sixty days after the completion of posting, any person may make and file at the place specified in said resolution his written objection to such proposed change in grade, setting forth the amount in which he claims that his interest in any real property will be damaged if such change be completed. Such objections may be filed by mailing them by registered mail, return receipt requested, or by personal delivery to the address specified in the notice as the place for presenting objections.

Any person failing to file such written objection within such sixty day period waives his right to compensation for any damage to his property by such change of grade.

857. After the expiration of such sixty day period, the commission may by resolution officially change and reestablish the official grade of said highway in accordance with such resolution of intention.

858. The department shall not make any change in the physical grade of said highway affecting any property as to which an objection has been filed until it has been finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that the objection filed is without merit or until compensation shall have first been made to, or paid into court for, each person filing an objection, as required by section 14 of Article 1 of the Constitution of California.

859. In the event that such changed grade of a State highway fails to meet the grade of any intersecting or intercepting highway, the department is authorized and directed, at the same time, to do such work as is necessary in order to cause such intersecting or intercepting highway to meet the State highway at grade and to restore it to its previous condition of surface, as near as may be. The procedure set forth in this article for the change of grade of the State highway in a city may be followed as to the portion of such intersecting or intercepting highway, the grade of which is changed. In lieu of, or in addition to, the above procedure mentioned in this section, the department and the governing body having jurisdiction over any such intersecting or intercepting highway may enter into a cooperative agreement in respect to the doing of any work authorized by this article, or the taking of any action in respect to such intersecting or intercepting highway as may be authorized by law.

Article 2. Establishment of Boundaries.

862. The department may proceed as provided in this article to establish the boundaries of any State highway right of way where such boundaries are unknown or uncertain.

(Added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)
863. A right of way map shall be filed as provided in section 128, showing such boundaries as are claimed by the State. Such map shall delineate such boundaries to be established with sufficient detail to enable the lines to be located on the ground by survey.

864. After filing such map, the department shall publish a notice at least once in a newspaper of general circulation published in the county wherein the unknown or uncertain boundaries are located. Such notice shall contain:

(a) A statement that proceedings are being taken under this article of this code for the establishment of the boundaries of a certain section of highway, describing such section briefly.

(b) A reference to the said recorded map, by number, or map book and page, for definite information as to said boundaries.

(c) An address within the county at which objections in writing to such boundaries may be filed.

(d) A statement that failure to file such objection within six months from the date of publication of notice constitutes a waiver of any owner's rights to object to the boundaries so established.

865. Within fifteen days from the publication of such notice, the department shall post signs along and approximately on the boundaries delineated on such map in conspicuous places and at intervals of not more than one-fourth of a mile, and in no event no less than three signs. Such signs shall bear in letters at least one inch high the words "Highway Line" and in smaller print shall state:

(a) All the information required in the notice provided for in section 864.

(b) The date of the publication of such notice.

866. The department shall restore any such signs which have been destroyed or become illegible in the third month after the first posting.

867. Any owner of property abutting on any highway, the boundary of which is so proposed to be established, who disputes the correctness of the highway boundary claimed and so proposed to be established, must file his written objection at the place specified in said notice within six months of the date of publication of notice, specifying in what respect and to what extent the proposed boundary, as it affects his property, is erroneous.

(Added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)

868. Any owner who fails to file such objection within such six months period waives his right to object and is conclusively presumed to have agreed to the boundary delineated on the map and the same becomes, as to his property, the agreed and established boundary of such highway.

869. If an objection is filed the department shall not perform any work on the property claimed by the objector until it has been finally determined by a court of competent jurisdiction that the objection filed is without merit or until compensation shall have first been made to, or paid into court for, the person filing the objection, as required by section 14 of Article I of the Constitution of California. This section shall not apply in so far as any objector may make claim to a part of the established traveled way.

870. The proceedings hereby authorized may be taken only to establish the boundary of a public easement for highway purposes, and it is not presumed that any nonobjecting owner has agreed to any greater interest than an easement in the public.

Article 3. Procedure.

(Heading added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)

875. The procedure provided in this chapter is not exclusive and shall not prohibit the department from proceeding in any other manner authorized by law.

(Added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)

876. Nothing in this chapter shall be construed as a waiver of any right heretofore acquired by the public for highway purposes and no proceeding authorized in this chapter shall constitute a waiver of any statute of limitations.

(Added by Ch. 689, Stats. 1935.)

DIVISION II. COUNTY HIGHWAYS.

Chapter 1. General Provisions.

900. The authority conferred upon boards of supervisors by this division shall be exercised subject to such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by this division or by other provisions of law, shall be in addition to any authority elsewhere conferred, and, except as otherwise expressly provided, shall be exercised only in relation to highways within their respective counties.

901. All county highways, once established, shall continue to be county highways until abandoned by order of the board of supervisors of the county in which such highways are situated, by operation of law, or by judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. No county highway laid out by the board of supervisors as provided in this division, or used and worked as provided in this division, shall be abandoned or cease to be a county highway except as prescribed in this section.

902. Except as otherwise provided by law, any toll trail, toll road or toll bridge, for which the franchise has expired by limitation or nonuser, becomes a free county highway. No claim shall be valid against the county for the right of way, or for the land or material comprising such toll trail, toll road or toll bridge.

903. After one year from the making of an order by a board of supervisors pursuant to this division, opening a highway over any land, the county acquires title to the highway.

904. No route of travel used by one or more persons over another's land shall become a county highway by use.

905. By taking or accepting land for a county highway, the public acquires only the right of way and the incidents necessary to enjoy and maintain the same, subject to the regulations provided in this and the Civil Code.

906. The width of all county highways, other than bridges, alleys, lanes, and trails, shall be at least forty feet, except as provided by section 969. This section shall not increase or diminish the width of any county highway established or used as such prior to January 1, 1873.

907. Any owner or occupant of land may construct a sidewalk on the county highway along the line of his land, subject to the authority conferred by law on the board of supervisors and the county road commissioners. Any person using such sidewalk, other than as a pedestrian, without permission of the owner or occupant, is liable to such owner or occupant in the sum of five dollars for each trespass, and for all damages caused by such usage.

908. The clerk of the board of supervisors shall include in the minutes of the board all its proceedings relative to each road district or county highway, including orders for laying out, altering, and opening highways. The clerk shall also keep a road register in which he shall enter:

(a) The number and name of each county highway.
(b) A general reference to its terminal points and course.
(c) The date of the filing of the petition or other papers.
(d) A memorandum of every subsequent proceeding in reference to such highway, with the date of such proceeding, and the page and volume of the minute book where it is recorded.

909. No agreement entered into by the board of supervisors for the purchase, hire or rental of any apparatus used in the construction, improvement or maintenance of highways shall create a charge against the county, unless:

(a) Such agreement is in writing.
(b) Such writing is signed by at least three members of the board of supervisors.
(c) A copy of such writing is certified by and filed with the county clerk.

All such writings and copies are public documents.
CHAPTER 2. POWERS AND DUTIES OF BOARDS OF SUPERVISORS.

940. Boards of supervisors shall have general supervision, management, and control of the county highways.

941. Boards of supervisors shall by proper order cause those highways which are necessary for public convenience to be established, recorded, constructed, and maintained in the manner provided in this division.

942. Such boards may enact and enforce ordinances and regulations for the construction, improvement or maintenance of county highways, and for the protection on, supervision, management, control, or use of such highways.

943. Such boards may:

(a) Acquire any real property or interest therein for the uses and purposes of county highways. When eminent domain proceedings are necessary, the board shall require the district attorney to institute such proceedings. The expense of and award in such proceedings may be paid from the general road fund or the general fund of the county, or the road fund of any district benefited.

(b) Lay out, construct, improve, and maintain county highways.

(c) Incur a bonded indebtedness for any of such purposes, subject to the provisions of section 944.

944. No bonded indebtedness shall be incurred for any purpose specified in section 943 until after the question of the issue of bonds therefor has been submitted to the qualified electors of the county, at the next general election or at a special election called for that purpose, and two-thirds of the electors of the county voting at such election have voted in favor of issuing such bonds. The election shall be called and held and the bonds, if authorized, shall be issued, sold, and made payable as prescribed by law.

945. Such boards may expend from the county general fund the moneys necessary to pay the whole or any part of the cost of the improvement of any highway lying within any city in the county, whenever any real property belonging to the county and used for public purposes is included within the assessment district formed to pay for any such improvement. Such expenditures shall not exceed the amount which, but for such public ownership and use, would be properly chargeable to and assessed against such real property under the provisions of the law governing such improvement.

946. No liability shall be created against the county in connection with any such improvement conducted by a city unless the board, by resolution, determines and declares the amount to be expended and directs that such sum be set apart and reserved out of any moneys available for such purpose in the general fund of the county, to be used exclusively for paying the expense of such improvement.

947. Every instrument or judgment which constitutes evidence of title to a right of way, or incident thereto, in relation to county highways shall particularly describe the lands included in such right of way or incident.

948. The board of supervisors of each county shall cause to be recorded with the county recorder, in relation to every county highway within the county, proper evidences of title to every right of way, and all incidents thereto.

In cases of acquisitions by conveyance or condemnation, the property or incidents conveyed or condemned shall be particularly described in the instruments recorded.

949. The board of supervisors may plant shade and ornamental trees on the county highways, and provide for their care. The cost of planting and caring for such trees may be paid from the county general fund.

The board may also encourage, under such regulations as it adopts, the planting and preservation of shade and ornamental trees on the county highways, and may pay a sum not exceeding one dollar to any person planting and cultivating a living tree, payment to be made when the tree is four years of age.

950. For the purpose of sprinkling county highways with oil or water, the board of supervisors may erect or maintain waterworks, tanks or reservoirs, and may purchase or lease real or personal property therefor.

The board may charge the cost of erecting or maintaining such waterworks, tanks or reservoirs and of such sprinkling to the county general fund, the general road fund, or the district fund of any district benefited.

951. (a) Such board may set apart on any county highway a strip of land for a side path, and make an order designating the width of such path, and cause the lines separating the path from the highway to be located and marked by stakes or posts, placed at such distances apart as the board considers proper.

(b) After a path is set apart, and the lines separating it from the highway are located and marked, as provided in subdivision (a) of this section, the use of such path is restricted to pedestrians and riders of vehicles propelled solely by the power of the rider.

(c) The board may charge the expense of erecting and maintaining such path to the county general fund, the general road fund, or the district fund of any district benefited.

952. Such board shall cause properly inscribed guideposts to be erected and maintained at all county highway crossings and forks lying outside of any city.

953. A board of supervisors may, acting separately or in conjunction with State or Federal agencies, or with another county, burn or remove debris, rubbish, brush, and grass from the county highways. When acting in conjunction with other agencies or counties, a board may so act outside its county.

The expense incurred by a county, acting pursuant to this section, shall be paid out of any road fund of the county. When a county is acting in conjunction with another agency or county the share of the expense to be borne by each shall be arrived at by agreement.
954. Except in the case of highways dedicated to the public by deed or by express dedication of the owner or acquired through eminent domain proceedings, all county highways which for a period of five consecutive years are impassable for vehicular travel, and on which during such period of time no public money is expended for maintenance, are unnecessary highways, subject to abandonment pursuant to sections 955 and 956. Any interested taxpayer of the county may petition the board of supervisors to abandon any such unnecessary highway.

955. Upon the filing of such petition the board shall by order fix a day for the hearing of the petition, and shall post notices conspicuously along the line of the highway proposed to be abandoned. Such notices shall be posted not less than five hundred feet apart, but at least three shall be posted. Such notices shall state the filing of such petition and the time and place of the hearing.

956. The board shall, on the day fixed for the hearing, or on the day to which the hearing is postponed or continued, hear the petition and the evidence offered in support thereof. If the board finds from such evidence that all or some part of the highway is unnecessary within the meaning of section 954, the board shall make its order abandoning all or such part of the highway. The clerk shall cause a certified copy of such order, attested by the clerk under the seal of the board, to be recorded in the office of the county recorder.

957. Any ten freeholders, two of whom are residents of the road district in which some part of the highway affected is situated, and are taxable therein for highway purposes, may petition the board to abandon all or any part of any county highway.

958. Upon the filing of such petition, the board shall by order fix a day for hearing the petition and shall give notice to all freeholders in the road district of the time and place fixed for the hearing. Such notice shall be given by publication in some newspaper published in the county and designated in the order by the board, for at least two successive weeks prior to the day fixed for the hearing. The board shall also conspicuously post a similar notice along the line of the highway proposed to be abandoned.

959. The board shall, on the day fixed for the hearing, or on the day to which the hearing is postponed or continued, hear the evidence offered by any party interested. If the board finds, from all the evidence submitted, that any county highway described in the petition, or any part of such highway, is unnecessary for present or prospective public use, the board may make its order abandoning such highway or part thereof.

960. Upon the making of such order of abandonment, the public easement in the highway or part abandoned ceases and the title to the land previously subject thereto reverts to the respective owners thereof free from the public easement. The clerk shall cause a certified copy of such order attested by the clerk under the seal of the board of supervisors to be recorded in the office of the county recorder.

961. Whenever a county highway is in danger of being damaged by storm waters or floods, the board shall take measures necessary to prevent such damage. The board of supervisors may, by ordinance, establish a district, and adopt a general plan of protection from storm waters and floods therein.

962. The board may cause a part or all of the road taxes collected in such district to be apportioned to a fund and expended to prevent such damage, and may also apportion to such fund and expend for such purpose an amount not exceeding ten per cent of the general road fund of the county.

963. To aid in the prevention of such damage, the board of supervisors may, at the time of levying taxes for general county purposes, levy a special tax not exceeding fifty cents on each one hundred dollars of the taxable property in the district as shown by the last assessment roll. The board shall not levy such special tax until the proposition to levy such tax is submitted to the qualified voters of the district and receives a majority of all the votes cast on said proposition.

964. Whenever the board finds that any county highway has been damaged or is in danger of being damaged by storm waters or floods, the board shall adopt all measures necessary to repair or prevent such damage. The board may condemn the right of way for, and may construct, flumes, ditches or canals for the purpose of carrying off such storm waters or floods.

The board may cause any expense incurred under this section to be paid out of the county general fund, or out of the funds of any road districts in which the highways are protected from damage or repaired by the work done.

965. The board of supervisors shall, by order, direct the district attorney of the county to institute eminent domain proceedings, in the name of the county, whenever it is necessary to acquire real property or any interest therein to do any of the following things for the protection of a county highway:

(a) Raise the banks along any stream.
(b) Remove obstructions from any stream.
(c) Widen, change, deepen or straighten the channel of any stream.
(d) Construct flumes, ditches or canals, or make any improvements for the purpose of carrying off storm waters or floods.

966. (a) The board of supervisors may provide for the erection and maintenance of gates on the county highways to avoid the necessity of building highway fences. The board may prescribe rules and regulations for closing such gates, and penalties for violating such rules and regulations.
(b) The person, for whose immediate benefit the gates are erected or maintained, shall in all cases bear the expense of such erection and maintenance.
967. Whenever a right of way for a highway is conveyed to a county and the sole consideration for the conveyance is an agreement by the county to construct and maintain a highway on the right of way and to construct highway fences on the right of way boundaries, and thereafter such right of way becomes a county highway, the board of supervisors may, within five years from the date of such conveyance, construct highway fences along the boundaries of such right of way.

968. The board may cause the expense of constructing such fences to be charged to and paid from the county general fund, the general road fund of the county or the district fund of each district benefited, but not more than one-half of the expense may be paid from the county general fund.

969. Whenever a road is of general utility and of public convenience and constitutes the only or principal means of communication between one town or village and another town or village in the same county, the board of supervisors may determine, by a two-thirds vote of its membership, that the public convenience and necessity demand the acquisition and reconstruction of such road. Thereafter, by a resolution passed by a two-thirds vote of its membership, the board may determine to, and after such determination may proceed to, acquire and reconstruct such road although it is not of the width required by section 906. The board shall charge the expense of such acquisition and reconstruction to the county general fund, the general road fund of the county, or the district fund of each district benefited, or to any two or more of such funds in such proportions as the board considers just and equitable.

970. The owners of land along a county highway may petition the board of supervisors to have a name adopted and applied to the highway. The petition shall set forth the proposed name and a description of the highway to be named, and shall be signed by three-fourths of the owners of land on the highway. If the petition conforms to the provisions of this section, the board shall make an order in its minutes, officially designating the name of such highway. Thereafter the highway shall be known by the name thus designated.

This section shall not apply to any State highway or to any highway under the control or supervision of the department.

971. Any county highway which has not been officially named may be officially named by the board of supervisors upon motion of the board and without the presentation of any petition. Such naming shall be by an order duly made and entered in the minutes of the board. Thereafter the highway shall be known by the name thus designated.

This section shall not apply to any State highway or to any highway under the control or supervision of the department.

972. A board of supervisors may, by ordinance, permit the use of any county highway which connects with a main county highway of an adjoining county, by the board of supervisors or highway commissioners of such adjoining county for the purpose of constructing and maintaining thereon a highway serving the needs of residents of both counties.

973. The board of the county seeking the use, if it accepts the provisions of the ordinance adopted by the board of the county granting the use, may:

(a) Construct and maintain any such highway.
(b) Construct and maintain on such highway such bridges as it deems necessary.
(c) Improve such highway in such manner as it determines.
(d) Acquire real property or interests therein adjacent to such highway in an adjoining county for county purposes, and expend thereon such amounts as the board deems necessary for county purposes.

974. The expense of any work done or acquisition made pursuant to section 973 shall be paid by the county to which the use is granted out of the county general fund, or such other fund of the county as the board designates or makes available.

975. The board of any county to which the use is granted, pursuant to the provisions of section 973, may, by mutual consent expressed through ordinances of the respective boards, retransfer the use, control, and maintenance of any highway, constructed under the provisions of sections 972 and 973, to the county originally granting the use.

976. The board of supervisors of any county may purchase or lease with the consent of the owner, or may obtain by gift, and may hold, improve or maintain any real property or interest therein for the uses and purposes of county highways. Such real property or interest need not be within the boundaries of the county acquiring it, if it is convenient thereto in an adjoining county. In all such cases such property or interest is subject to the control of the county acquiring it and to the ordinances, rules, and regulations of such county.

Nothing in this section shall affect the power of any county to acquire property within its boundaries by proceedings in eminent domain in the manner prescribed by law.

977. The board of supervisors of any county desiring to act under section 976 may, by unanimous vote of its membership, determine what real property is necessary and proper for the uses and purposes of county highways. Any county thus desiring to purchase or lease with the consent of the owner, or to obtain, hold, improve or maintain, real property or an interest therein situated within an adjoining county shall first obtain the consent by resolution of the board of supervisors of the adjoining county.

978. Whenever the United States government grants real property to a county for highway uses and purposes, the county may take and dispose of such real property and the board of supervisors shall have, with regard to such real property, the powers of management, control and disposition provided by law for other county property.

979. The board of supervisors shall keep in repair all objects or markers adjacent to a county highway which have been erected to mark registered historical places and shall keep such markers free from all vegetation which may obscure them from view.

980. The board of supervisors shall cause to be prepared, either by the county surveyor or by the county planning commission or by some other qualified person selected by the board of supervisors, a classification of all publicly owned roads and highways, but not including State highways in the county. Such classification shall include mileage, character of improvement and traffic density. Such classification shall be corrected annually.

981. The board of supervisors shall annually cause to be prepared by the county surveyor or by such other qualified person a statement, setting forth requirements for new construction, reconstruction or maintenance of the county road system. This statement shall be based on requirements of the county as a whole. This statement shall be in numerically itemized form, and each item shall be inclusive of all expenses entering into the item, including labor, materials, equipment rental, costs of rights of way, damage and all other incidental items. This statement shall be made a part of the statement of new road and bridge construction and grade separation, required to be submitted by the county board of supervisors to the county auditor under the provisions of section 3714 of the Political Code.

982 Except as provided in this section, the board of supervisors shall have power to temporarily close all or any part of any public highway, road, street, avenue, alley, lane or place and grant the possession and use thereof, together with the management and control thereof, to any person, firm or corporation operating, managing and controlling any exhibition or fair in aid of which the granting of public moneys or other things of value has been authorized by the Constitution or laws of this State upon such terms and conditions, and for such periods of time, as the board of supervisors may determine. Such possession, use, management and control to terminate not later than one year after the closing of such exhibition or fair. As to State highways, the exercise of any power granted hereby shall be subject to the approval of the department.

CHAPTER 3. ROAD DISTRICTS AND ROAD COMMISSIONERS.

1020. The boards of supervisors shall divide their respective counties into suitable road districts, may change the boundaries thereof, and may create new districts. The board shall not include in such road district any city wherein street work and improvements are done by virtue of any law relating to street work and improvements within such city.
1021. Each supervisor shall be ex officio road commissioner in his supervisory district, and shall see that all orders of the board of supervisors pertaining to the county highways in his district are properly executed.

1022. If the supervisors of any county are not elected by districts, for the purposes of this chapter the board, by an order entered in its records, shall:

(a) Divide such county into supervisory districts to correspond to the number of supervisors.

(b) Assign to each supervisor one of such districts, of which he shall be road commissioner.

1023. When not otherwise provided by law, each supervisor shall receive for his services as road commissioner twenty cents per mile, one way, for all distances actually traveled by him in the performance of his duties as road commissioner, but he shall not, in any one year, receive more than three hundred dollars for such duties.

1024. Each road commissioner, under the direction and supervision of the board of supervisors, shall:

(a) Perform the duties required of him by law and by the ordinances and orders of the board of supervisors.

(b) Take charge of the county highways within his district, and keep them in good repair.

(c) Employ all men, teams, and equipment necessary in his district to do all highway work other than that let by contract. No road commissioner shall be interested, directly or indirectly, in any contract or work done in his road district.

(d) Keep the county highways in his district clear from obstructions, and destroy, at least once a year, all thistles, Mexican cockleburs, and noxious weeds, growing or being or any portion of such highways.

(e) Grade all banks, construct necessary bridges and causeways, keep such banks, bridges, and causeways in good repair, and renew them when they are destroyed.

1025. The board shall not allow any claim for labor performed in any road district unless the claim is accompanied by a report showing the nature of the labor, where it was performed, the number of animals used and the kind of equipment used. If the labor was performed under the direction of a foreman or timekeeper, the foreman or timekeeper shall cover in his report all work performed under his direction, and in such case his report is sufficient to warrant the payment of all claims for labor so performed.

The board shall prescribe rules and blank forms, not inconsistent with law, for the making of the reports required by this section.

1026. Whenever the board of supervisors finds that any road district in such county is or will be unreasonably burdened by the expense of constructing or maintaining any county highway, or any bridge or tunnel connecting or forming a part of such highway, or by the expense of the purchase of any toll roads, the board may:
(a) Order the whole or any portion of the aggregate expense to be paid out of the general road fund of the county.

(b) By a majority vote of the board's membership, order the whole or any portion of the expense of construction or repair of such bridges or tunnels, or a portion of the expense of the purchase of such toll-roads, to be paid out of the county general fund.

(c) By unanimous vote of the board's membership, order the whole or any portion of the expense of material for highway construction to be paid out of the county general fund.

(d) By a four-fifths vote of the board's membership, order to be paid out of the county general fund or the general road fund, or both, the whole or any portion of the expense of constructing, reconstructing or repairing any bridges or highways destroyed or damaged by storms, floods or calamities.

1027. When the alteration of an old or the opening of a new county highway necessitates the removal of fences on real property acquired for highway purposes, the road commissioner shall serve upon the owner, his occupant or his agent, a notice to remove the fences, or in lieu of such service may post such notice on the fences which are to be removed.

If, within ten days after such service or posting, the removal is not completed, or is not commenced and then being prosecuted with due diligence, the road commissioner may cause the fence to be carefully removed at the expense of the owner, and may recover judgment of him for the cost of such removal. The road commissioner may sell the fence material and apply the proceeds toward the satisfaction of the judgment.

1028. The board of supervisors may call, semiannually, a special meeting of the board which the road commissioners shall attend on the days set apart by the board for their respective districts. At such special meetings the board shall hear highway and bridge reports and complaints from officers and citizens, and shall take such action regarding the reports and complaints as the public welfare demands.

1029. The board of supervisors of any county at their option may appoint the county surveyor or other person qualified in road construction to act as road commissioner of and for any or all road districts in the county. The board of supervisors may consolidate the existing road districts into one road district which shall comprise all of the territory lying within the county excepting incorporated areas. The duties of the road commissioner shall be those outlined in sections 1021 and 1024 of this code.

In counties having such a road commissioner, he shall perform the duties prescribed in section 980 and 981 of this code. In the event that such road district consolidation is effected, it shall be without prejudice to the legal requirement that all supervisory road district taxes collected in any one such district shall be expended in that district.

1030. The board of supervisors shall fix the salary or compensation of such a road commissioner, and may appoint such deputies, assistants and employees as such road commissioner shall nominate, at salaries or rates of compensation to be fixed by the board of supervisors. Such road commissioner shall file with the county clerk a bond with sufficient sureties in such sum as may be required by the board of supervisors for the faithful and proper discharge of his duties as such road commissioner.

(Added by Ch. 641, Stats. 1935.)

Chapter 4. Methods of Performing Highway Work.

Article 1. By Boards of Supervisors.

1070. Whenever a board of supervisors, by a four-fifths vote of its membership, determines that the public convenience and necessity demand the acquisition or construction of a new county highway or the improvement, repair or maintenance of any existing county highway, and that the expense of such new highway or the expense of improving, repairing or maintaining such existing highway is too great to pay out of the road fund of the district, the board may, by a resolution passed by a four-fifths vote of its membership, determine to make such acquisition or do such work, and charge the expense thereof to the county general fund, the general road fund of the county or the district fund of any district benefited.

1071. Whenever the board of supervisors finds that the estimated expense of any necessary work upon any county highway exceeds the sum of two thousand dollars, the board shall order definite surveys of the proposed work to be made and shall direct the preparation of profiles, cross-sections, plans, and specifications.

1072. Upon receipt of such profiles, cross-sections, plans, and specifications, the board shall publish a notice calling for sealed bids for the performance of the work specified. The notice shall refer to said profiles, cross-sections, plans, and specifications, and shall set a time at which bids will be opened. The board shall cause this notice to be published for at least ten consecutive times, prior to the date set for opening bids, in a daily newspaper of general circulation printed and published in the county and designated by the board, or for at least two consecutive times prior to such date in a weekly newspaper printed and published in the county and designated by the board.

1073. At the time specified in the notice, the board shall publicly open all bids received and shall award the contract for the work to the lowest responsible bidder, unless the board finds that the bids are too high, and that the work can be done more cheaply by day labor. In such case the board shall reject the bids and order the work to be done by the road commissioners in whose districts the work is situated. In any case the board may reject all bids and advertise for new bids in the manner specified in this article.
1074. Whenever the board finds that the estimated expense of any work to be done upon any county highway is two thousand dollars or less, the board may let a contract for such work without calling for bids, or may purchase the materials and do the work by day labor.

1075. In any county employing a competent engineer as road commissioner, the board may have any work upon county highways done under the supervision and direction of such engineer. Such work may be done:
   (a) By letting a contract covering both work and material. In such event the contract shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder as provided in this article.
   (b) By purchasing the material and letting a contract for the doing of the work.
   (c) By purchasing the material and having the work done by day labor.

Article 2. By Road Viewers.

1100. Any ten freeholders who will be accommodated by the highway, two of whom are residents of the road district in which any part of the highway is situated and are taxable therein for highway purposes, may petition the board of supervisors to alter or construct a county highway.

1101. When a petition asks for a county highway upon the dividing line between two counties, the same course shall be pursued as in other cases, except that the petitioners shall file a copy of the petition with the board of supervisors of each county. Each board shall appoint viewers who shall act jointly, and report their action to their respective boards.

1102. The petition shall set forth the general route of the highway to be altered or constructed, and, if known, the names of the persons over whose land the highway is to run. If such names are not known the petition shall state that fact.

1103. The petitioners shall accompany the petition with a good and sufficient bond, approved by the board of supervisors, in double the amount of the probable cost of the viewing, surveying, and laying out of the proposed alteration or construction. The bond shall be conditioned that the bondsmen will pay all the costs of viewing and surveying in case the petition is not granted.

1104. Upon the filing of such petition and bond, the board may appoint three viewers, one of whom shall be a surveyor. The viewers shall view, survey, and lay out the proposed alteration or construction, and shall submit to the board an estimate of the expense thereof, including the purchase of any right of way, and their opinion of the necessity of such alteration, construction or purchase of right of way.

1105. The road viewers shall be disinterested citizens of the county and shall not be signatories to the petition. They shall be sworn to discharge their duties faithfully. They shall view, survey, and lay out the proposed alterations or new highway over the most practicable route, and in the performance of this duty they shall make the proposed alterations or new highway over the same lands mentioned in the petition, but are not confined to any particular route indicated therein. The viewers shall give notice of the proposed route to the resident owner, or the agent of the owner, of the land over which it passes.

1106. A majority of the viewers, if one of that majority is a surveyor, shall be competent to act in all matters pertaining to their duties.

1107. In making the order appointing viewers, the board may direct the viewers to view the proposed alteration or construction and, if the viewers believe it is impracticable, to discontinue further proceedings in the matter, and report accordingly.

1108. The viewers, other than the surveyor member, shall receive compensation for their services at a rate per diem fixed by the board, but not to exceed six dollars. The surveyor member shall receive a compensation per diem fixed by the board, but not to exceed ten dollars, for the time occupied in viewing, surveying, and mapping the highway and making the plat and field notes, which he shall file before he receives his compensation.

The board shall cause the compensation provided by this section to be paid from the road fund of any district through which the highway passes.

1109. When the view and survey of the proposed alteration or new highway is completed, the viewers shall file with the board of supervisors a report showing:

(a) The course, termini, length, and probable cost of the proposed alteration or new highway.

(b) The estimate of damage to the owner of any land over which it is proposed to run the highway.

(c) The names of landowners who consent to give the right of way, with their written consent attached.

(d) The names of landowners who do not consent, and the amount of damage claimed by each. When there are landowners not resident in the county, and there is no agent on the land upon whom notice can be served, such nonresident landowners shall be considered as nonconsenting landowners unless their written consent is attached to the report.

(e) Such other facts bearing upon the subject as the board should know.

(f) They may, or upon the order of the board they must:

(1) Report upon the feasibility and cost of any route over the same lands mentioned in the petition, other than the route petitioned for, which will subserve the same purposes.

(2) Report as to the necessity of a greater or the practicability of a less width of highway than that requested in the petition.

1110. The board of supervisors shall, the first time it is in session after the filing of the viewers' report, fix a day for hearing the report, and shall give notice to the nonconsenting landowners of the time and place of such hearing.

1111. The board shall give such notice by publication for at least two successive weeks before such hearing in a newspaper published in the county and designated by the board. If there is no newspaper published in the county, the board shall post the notices at least two weeks before such hearing, one at a conspicuous place on the land over which the highway is to run and one at the court house.

1112. Such notice shall contain:

(a) A description of the highway to be altered or constructed.

(b) A description of all land over which the highway is to run.

(c) The names of the landowners of such land when known, and if not known, a statement of that fact.

1113. The board, on the day fixed for the hearing or to which it is postponed or continued, shall:

(a) Hear the evidence offered by parties interested for or against the proposed alterations or new highway.

(b) Ascertain and by order declare the amount of damage awarded to each nonconsenting landowner, whether his name is known or unknown, over whose land the board orders the alteration or new highway to pass.

(c) Declare the report of the viewers to be approved or rejected, in whole or in part.

1114. Upon making any order establishing the alteration or location of any highway, the board shall order the amount of damages, as finally fixed and assessed by the board, to be set apart in the county treasury out of the road fund of the proper district. The board shall cause such amounts to be paid to the proper owner or claimant if known, and to be kept for the proper claimant or owner if unknown, and to be paid to such owner or claimant upon his showing or establishing a right or title to the lands or improvements affected by such order.

1115. Any person interested in the highway may place in the proper fund in the county treasury the whole or any part of the amount necessary to meet the demands made upon such fund by such order of the board. Any money placed or set apart, as provided in this section or section 1114, shall be returned to the persons from whom it was received or the fund from which it was set apart, if not paid to or accepted by the proper owner or claimant.

1116. If any award of damages is not accepted within ten days of the date of the award, it shall be deemed rejected by the nonconsenting landowner. To procure the right of way, the board shall by order direct the district attorney to institute proceedings in eminent domain against all nonconsenting landowners who do not accept the award within the time provided by this section.

1117. The board shall, by order, declare the highway a county highway and open to the public whenever:
(a) The viewers’ report is approved by the board and there are no nonconsenting landowners.
(b) The awards of damages to all nonconsenting landowners are accepted.
(c) The right of way is procured by eminent domain over the land of nonconsenting landowners who have not accepted the awards.

1118. No informality in the procedure of the board shall vitiates the eminent domain proceedings, but the order of the board directing the district attorney to institute proceedings in eminent domain shall be conclusive proof of the regularity of the board’s procedure prior to such order. The court or jury in the eminent domain proceedings shall determine all matters involved in such proceedings except the regularity of the board’s procedure prior to such order.

1119. The board shall order to be paid out of the road fund of the proper district all awards of damages, whether ascertained by the board or by the proper court in eminent domain, and all expense of viewing, surveying, laying out, constructing or altering any county highway, except the following:
(a) Any portion of the awards or expenses which are paid by interested parties on the order of the board.
(b) Any portion of the awards or expenses which the board, by a two-thirds vote of its membership, orders to be paid from the general road fund of the county, after the board finds the road district will be unreasonably burdened by the payment of all awards and expenses. Not to exceed ten per cent of the general road fund may be devoted to such purposes in any one fiscal year.

1120. If the highway lies in more than one district, the board shall apportion the burden of all awards and expense between the road funds of such districts according to the mileage of such highway in each district. If money for awards or expenses, or both, is paid out by any interested person, the amount of such payment may be credited, at the discretion of the board, to the fund of any district in which the highway lies or to the general road fund.

1121. Whenever the petition provided by section 1102 shows that the general route of the highway to be altered or constructed crosses the track or right of way of any railroad or street railroad, the county clerk of the county wherein the petition is filed shall immediately, upon the appointment of viewers by the board, transmit to the Railroad Commission a certified copy of the petition and of the order appointing viewers.

1122. Upon receipt of such certified copy of the petition and of the order appointing viewers, the Railroad Commission shall fix a day for the hearing of the petition. Such hearing shall be held at the rooms of the board of supervisors. The commission shall give notice of the time and place of such hearing to the viewers, to the clerk of the board of supervisors and to the district attorney of the county wherein the petition is filed, and to the resident owner or agent of the owner of the railroad or street railroad over whose tracks or right of way the highway is to cross.

1123. At the hearing the Railroad Commission shall hear the evidence offered as to the proposed highway across such track or right of way. The Railroad Commission shall determine whether the highway will, if constructed, be constructed across the track or right of way at grade or otherwise, and shall determine and prescribe the manner of constructing such crossing, including the particular point at which the crossing is to be constructed, and the terms of installation, operation and maintenance, use and protection of the crossing. The Railroad Commission shall report its determinations to the board of supervisors.

1124. The board of supervisors shall by order fix a day for hearing the viewers' report and the determinations of the Railroad Commission, both of which shall be heard on the same day. The board shall give notice of the hearing in all respects as prescribed by sections 1111 and 1112, and, in addition to such notice, the county clerk shall notify the Railroad Commission of the time and place of the hearing.

1125. At such hearing the board shall first consider the determinations of the Railroad Commission, and if they are rejected, there shall be no further proceedings in the matter. If the determinations are approved, the board shall proceed in the manner provided by this article to act upon the viewers' report. The board shall have no power to change or modify the determinations of the Railroad Commission except by and with the consent of that commission.

1126. Whenever county highways are laid out to cross canals or ditches on public lands, the owners or persons using such canals or ditches shall, at their own expense, prepare their canals or ditches so that the users of the county highway may pass over such canals or ditches without danger or delay.

1127. Whenever the right of way for a county highway is obtained through the judgment of any court across any railroad, canal or ditch, no damages shall be awarded for the simple right to cross such railroad, canal or ditch Article 3. By Permanent Road Divisions.

1160. As used in this article:
(a) "Division" means permanent road division.
(b) "Last equalized assessment roll" means the last assessment roll made up by the county assessor, including the changes ordered by the board of supervisors sitting as a board of equalization.

1161. Any portion of a county, not already contained in a division, may be formed into a division under the provisions of this article. When formed, each division shall have the powers enumerated in this article. For the purpose of this article, a city is not a division, but may be included in a division.
1162. A petition for the formation of a division may be presented to the board of supervisors of the county wherein the division is proposed to be formed. The petition shall contain:

(a) The name of the proposed division.
(b) The signatures of at least a majority of the landowners residing within the proposed division.
(c) The boundaries of the proposed division.
(d) The number of acres therein and the assessed valuation of such acreage according to the last equalized assessment roll of the county.
(e) The value of the improvements on real estate and of the personal property within the proposed division according to the last equalized assessment roll.
(f) The number of inhabitants therein, as nearly as can be ascertained.
(g) A particular description of the location of any highway which it is desired to construct or improve and a statement showing the necessity for such work.

1163. Such petition shall be accompanied by an affidavit stating that affiant has compared the valuations given in the petition with those on the last equalized assessment roll and that such valuations are complete and correct. The affiant shall be a person over the age of eighteen who is not a signatory to the petition and who owns no taxable property in the division.

1164. Such petition shall be published in the manner authorized by section 1196, together with a notice stating the time of the meeting at which the board will consider the petition. The board shall determine such time, which shall not be more than ten days after the last publication of the petition and notice.

1165. Such petition shall be presented either at a regular meeting of the board or at a special meeting called to receive and consider it. On the day stated in the notice the board shall hear the petition and may adjourn such hearing from time to time, but not longer than one month in all.

1166. On the final hearing the board may make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed division as the board finds proper and shall define and establish such boundaries. Such changes shall not include any territory outside of the boundaries described in the petition unless the board has given at least fifteen days' notice of its intention to include such territory in such division. Such notice shall be given by publication, in the manner authorized by section 1196, and by leaving a copy of the notice at each place of abode in such outside territory.

1167. The boundaries established by the board shall be the boundaries of the division until such boundaries are changed in the manner provided in this article.

1168. If the board finds that the boundaries thus established for such division are incorrectly described, it shall direct the county surveyor to ascertain and report a correct description of the boundaries in conformity with the orders of the board. At the first regular meeting of the board after the filing of the county surveyor’s report, the board shall cause to be published, in the manner authorized by section 1196, a notice that the report will be considered at the next regular meeting of the board, stating the day. At the appointed meeting the board shall ratify the report of the surveyor, with such modifications as the board considers necessary. The boundaries established pursuant to this section shall be the legal boundaries of the division.

1169. At any time after, the time of forming a division, any ten or more resident freeholders thereof may petition the board to have plans prepared for the construction or improvement of all or any part of any highway lying within the division, whether or not such highway is mentioned in the petition for the formation of the division.

1170. Such petition for construction or improvement shall state:

(a) The recommendations of the petitioners as to the materials to be used and the manner of constructing or improving such highway.

(b) An estimate of the probable expense of such work.

(c) A request that the board appropriate for such work a specified sum of money from the general road fund of the county.

(d) A request that the board appropriate for such work a specified sum of money from the road district funds of the road districts in which any part of the division is located.

(e) A request that, in order to raise the balance necessary for such work, a special tax be levied or bonds of the division be issued.

1171. Upon receiving such petition the board shall cause to be prepared estimates, plans, and specifications for the work mentioned in the petition, and for any other highway or work which the board considers a necessary part of the highway mentioned in the petition.

1172. When it has adopted plans and specifications for such work, the board may set apart therefrom from the general road fund of the county, and from the funds of any district of which the division is a part, such sums as the board considers equitable.

The board shall not set apart from the funds of any such district less than seventy-five per cent of the sum which bears the same ratio to the whole fund of the particular district as the assessed valuation of that part of the division lying in the district bears to the whole assessed valuation of the district. The board may set apart more than this percentage. The board shall cause these sums to be set apart in a fund known as the "permanent road fund of ___ division," specifying the division by name.

1173. When a special tax is petitioned for, the board shall immediately order an election within the division to determine whether such tax will be levied. The board may submit to the electors at such election the question whether the balance of the estimated cost of the proposed work will be raised by a special tax in one year or spread equally over two, three, four, five or six successive years.

1174. The board shall call such election by posting notices in the manner provided in section 1195, and by publishing notice of the election in the manner authorized by section 1196.

1175. Such notice of election shall contain:
(a) The time and place of holding the election.
(b) The amount of money proposed to be raised.
(c) The purpose for which such money is to be used, including a brief description of the proposed work and materials to be used.
(d) Whether it is proposed to raise the amount in one or more years, stating the number of years and the amount to be raised each year.

1176. For the purposes of this election, the board shall establish, by order, one or more precincts and appoint three judges for each precinct to conduct the election. The election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in conformity with the general election laws, but no particular form of ballot need be used. The ballots shall contain the words "Tax—Yes" and "Tax—No". No informality in conducting the election shall invalidate the election if it was otherwise fairly conducted.

1177. The officers of the election shall certify the result of the election to the board, giving the whole number of votes cast, and the number for and the number against the tax. If the majority is against the tax, the money transferred to the fund of such division shall revert to the funds from which it was taken.

1178. If the majority of the votes cast is for the tax, the board shall, at the time of levying the county taxes, levy a tax upon all the taxable property in the division sufficient to raise the amount voted for the current fiscal year. The board shall ascertain the rate of taxation by deducting fifteen per cent for anticipated delinquencies from the aggregate assessed value of the property in the division as it appears on the last equalized assessment roll of the county and then dividing the sum voted by the remainder of such aggregate assessed value.

1179. The tax so levied shall be computed and collected in the same manner as county taxes, and when collected shall be paid into the county treasury for the use of the division in which the tax is voted.

1180. If the petition proposing the work asks for the issuance of bonds of the division, the board shall call an election in such division and submit to the electors thereof the question whether the bonds of the division shall be issued. The board shall call such election by posting notices in the manner provided in section 1195 and by publishing notice thereof in the manner provided in section 1196.

1181. Such notice of election shall contain:
(a) The time and place of holding the election.
(b) The boundaries of the election districts. No election precinct shall be partly in each of two or more of such districts.
(c) The names of three judges for each election district, to conduct the election.
(d) The hours, which shall not be less than eight, during which the polls will be open.
(e) The amount and denomination of the bonds, the rate of interest, and the greatest number of years for which the last-maturing bonds will run.
(f) The purpose for which the proceeds of the bonds are to be used, including a brief description of the proposed work and the materials to be used.
(g) The signature of the chairman of the board, attested by the county clerk.

1182. The election shall be conducted as nearly as practicable in accordance with the general election laws, but no particular form of ballot need be used. No informality in conducting the election shall invalidate the election if it was otherwise fairly conducted. At such elections the ballots shall contain the words "Bond—Yes" and "Bond—No."

1183. The officers of the election shall certify the result of the election to the board, giving the whole number of votes cast and the number for and the number against the bonds.
If two-thirds of those voting on the proposition are in favor of issuing the bonds, the board shall cause an entry of that fact to be made upon the minutes of the board.

1184. The board may then issue the bonds of the division to the number and amount provided for in the election proceedings. The bonds shall be payable out of the funds of the division, and the money for the redemption of and the interest on the bonds shall be raised by taxation upon the property in the division. The total amount of bonds so issued shall not exceed fifteen per cent of the taxable property of the division as shown by the last equalized assessment roll of the county.

1185. The board, by an order entered upon its minutes, shall prescribe:
(a) The form of the bonds and of the interest coupons attached thereto.
(b) The time when the several bonds shall become due, not exceeding forty years from the date thereof.
(c) The rate of interest the bonds shall bear, not exceeding seven per cent per annum.

1186. The interest on such bonds shall be payable annually.
Each bond and each coupon shall bear the signature or facsimile printed signature of the chairman of the board and of the county clerk. The county treasurer shall, after reasonable notice, sell the bonds to the highest and best bidder, but not for less than par plus any accrued interest.

1187. If, at the election on the question of whether or not bonds are to be issued, the bonds are not authorized, the money transferred to the fund of the division shall revert to the funds from which it was taken.

1188. The board shall cause the highway work, provided for in this article, to be done in accordance with the provisions of sections 1071 to 1075, inclusive, except that the notice calling for bids shall be published in a newspaper published in the division if there is such a newspaper. The successful bidder shall give a bond in such sum as the board requires, conditioned on the faithful performance of the contract, and on the payment of all labor employed and material used in the work. The bondsmen shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of all such labor employed and material used.

1189. Before opening the bids for doing any work provided for in this article, the board may appoint such inspectors as it considers necessary and fix their compensation, or may proceed as provided in either section 1075 or section 1191. Such compensation shall be paid out of the funds of the division. Such inspectors shall:

(a) Inspect from time to time the work being done under the contract.

(b) File with the board at least once a month reports on the manner in which the contractor is performing the work, setting forth in detail any objections they or any of them have to the manner in which the work is being done, with recommendations as to changes desirable and provided for in the plans and specifications.

(c) State in each report the amount of unsatisfactory work done during the period for which the report is made, and estimate the value thereof.

1190. The board shall make no payment on account of work which is reported by the inspectors to be unsatisfactory, until the objections are investigated and determined to be unfounded, or until the contractor has performed the work in strict compliance with the plans and specifications.

1191. In lieu of the appointment of inspectors as provided in section 1189, or in lieu of proceeding pursuant to section 1075, the board may employ an engineer who shall prepare plans and specifications, supervise the work, and perform such other services as the board requires.

1192. From time to time as the work progresses, the board may make payments on account, but shall not, before the completion of the contract, pay more than seventy-five per cent of the contract price of the amount completed. The board shall not make final payment until the work is accepted by the board.

1193. Any money in the fund of the division, after completion of, and final payment for, the work contracted for, shall remain in such fund and be expended solely in maintaining the highways of that division.
1194. On the payment of all debts of the division or on the failure of the division at two successive elections to vote a special tax or bonds for any proposed work, the division shall cease to exist. The second election for a special tax or bond issue shall be held not less than six months nor later than one year after the election at which a special tax or bond issue was defeated.

1195. The board shall cause the notices, which are required to be posted by sections 1174 and 1180, to be posted at least fifteen days before the election along every highway proposed to be constructed or improved, at distances not more than one mile apart, and not less than three such notices.

1196. The board shall cause all publications, required by this article, particularly sections 1164, 1166, 1168, 1174 and 1180, in any proceeding or election, to be published in a newspaper published within the division, if any newspaper is published therein. If there is no newspaper published within the division, the board shall cause such publication to be made in a newspaper published within the county and considered by the board best adapted to give notice to the residents of the division. One publication each week for three successive weeks shall be a sufficient publication under this article, the last publication to be not less than seven days prior to the event of which the publication is notice.

1197. The expenses of organizing a division and of conducting any election, pursuant to the provisions of this article, shall be a county charge payable out of the county general fund.

Article 4. By County Highway Commissions.

1220. As used in this article, "county commission" means a county highway commission created pursuant to the provisions of this article.

1221. Upon receiving a petition requesting that the matter of issuing bonds of the county for highway purposes be submitted to the electors of the county, the board of supervisors may appoint a highway commission for such county.

Such petition shall be signed by persons who are both freeholders and electors of the county, and who are equal in number to at least ten per cent of the votes cast for Governor in the county at the last election.

1222. The county commission shall consist of three members who are, and have been for two years, bona fide residents and freeholders of the county. Each member shall be especially qualified to have charge of the construction and improvement of highways. The board shall appoint the commissioners for the term of two years and until their successors are appointed and qualified, and shall fill any vacancy in the commission by appointment for the unexpired term.

1223. Each commissioner shall give a bond, approved by the board and in such amount as the board requires, for the faithful performance of his duties. No member of the board may act or be appointed as a commissioner under this article.

1224. The county commission shall cease to exist whenever:
   (a) The proposition for the issuance of bonds fails to carry at the election held pursuant to this article.
   (b) All the highway construction or improvement, for which bonds are voted pursuant to this article, is completed.
   (c) Any surplus remaining in the highway improvement fund, after the completion of all such construction or improvement, has been expended on other highways.

1225. Whenever a county commission ceases to exist pursuant to section 1224, the board may appoint another commission pursuant to section 1221.

1226. For the purposes of this article a main county highway is a highway connecting different cities in the same or different counties, or a highway connecting any city in one county with the county highway system of another county. Under this article work may be done upon any number of such highways jointly if such work is paid for with the proceeds of one bond issue.

1227. Immediately after appointment the county commission shall:
   (a) Investigate carefully the main county highways of the county and their condition.
   (b) Cause a map to be made showing such highways, their connections, and such other information as the county commission considers necessary to carry out the purposes of this article.
   (c) Ascertain which of such highways should be constructed or improved with the proceeds of a bond issue, and the kind of construction or improvement to be carried on.
   (d) Estimate the expense of such construction or improvement.

1228. Immediately after appointment the county commission shall also:
   (a) Investigate carefully the question of constructing in the county any new county highways which the commission considers necessary.
   (b) Cause a map to be made showing such proposed new highways, their connections, and such other information as the commission considers necessary to carry out the purposes of this article.
   (c) Ascertain whether any of such new highways should be constructed with the proceeds of a bond issue, and the kind of work to be done thereon.
   (d) Estimate the expense of such construction.

1229. With the consent of the board of supervisors the county commission may employ, at the expense of the county, competent engineers and other experts to make any necessary surveys and prepare any maps, and to assist the commission in determining the best material to be used and the best manner of performing the highway work, and to assist in estimating the expense thereof.

1230. All surveys made for the purpose of determining the location of county highways shall be approved by the county surveyor or, in a county not having a county surveyor, by the officer having similar duties and authority, before such surveys are adopted by the county commission.

1231 After ascertaining the work which should be done, and the estimated cost proposed to be covered with the proceeds of a bond issue, the county commission shall file with the board a report setting forth:
   (a) By termini, any main county highway proposed to be constructed or improved.
   (b) A general description of the kind of work to be done thereon.
   (c) A statement of the estimated cost of such work, and the amount to be raised by bonds.
   (d) A request that the board call an election for the issuance of bonds of the county for the estimated amount.

1232. If the county commission’s report is not approved, the board may refer it back to the commission for further consideration. If the board approves the report the board shall adopt it, and shall without delay call an election to determine whether the bonds of the county will be issued in the amount recommended by the commission, for the purposes stated in the report.

1233. The election shall be called and held and the bonds issued, sold, and paid, and all proceedings in regard to such bonds shall be conducted, in accordance with all of the provisions of law relating to county bond elections and to the issuance, sale, and payment of county bonds. The provisions of this section are subject to the provisions of sections 1234 and 1235.

1234. The board may form bond election precincts by consolidating the precincts established for general election purposes to a number not exceeding six general election precincts for each bond election precinct. The board shall appoint only one inspector, two judges, and one clerk to conduct the election in each bond election precinct.

1235 It is sufficient to set forth the purpose of the bond issue in such proceedings by describing the highways to be constructed or improved as they are described in the report of the commission. Any defect or irregularity in the proceedings prior to the calling of the bond election shall not affect the validity of the bonds.

1236. The bonds shall not be sold for less than par, and the proceeds thereof shall be paid into the county treasury to the credit of a special fund denominated the “highway improvement fund.” Such fund shall be used for the purposes set forth in the report of the county commission, or for such other purposes as are authorized by this article.
1237. If, after the completion of work upon any highway, there is any surplus of money voted for such work, the surplus may be used for the construction or improvement of other main county highways, under the control and direction of the county commission.

1238. The county commission may receive and accept donations from any person for any work which the commission is authorized to have done. All donations shall also be paid into the highway improvement fund. No money shall be paid out of that fund except upon the warrant of the county auditor issued upon the order of the county commission, and allowed by the board of supervisors.

1239. The county commission shall control and direct the doing of the work for which bonds are issued. The final acceptance of such work shall be by the board of supervisors.

1240. As soon as the money raised by the sale of bonds is in the highway improvement fund, the county commission shall proceed to prepare detailed specifications, plans, and profiles for the work to be done, or for such parts as the commission considers advisable to have done separately. For this purpose the commission may hire assistants, with the consent of the board of supervisors. The commission shall then present to the board the specifications, plans, and profiles, with recommendations in regard to the doing of the work and the letting of contracts. The board shall either adopt or reject the specifications, plans, profiles, and recommendations as presented.

1241. If the board adopts the specifications, plans, profiles, and recommendations, it shall advertise for bids for doing all or any part of the work which the county commission recommends to be done separately, in accordance with the plans, profiles, and specifications. The board shall advertise by publishing a notice for ten days in a daily newspaper, or for two weeks in a weekly newspaper, published at the county seat. In the advertisements the board shall state the amount of security required by it on each bid.

1242. Except as provided in section 1243 the board, after advertising for bids, shall let every contract for any part of the work, or for materials, tools, or equipment for doing any such work, to the lowest responsible bidder who will give security in the amount fixed by the board for the faithful performance of his contract, with sureties satisfactory to the board.

1243. The board may authorize the county commission to make contracts, without advertisement for bids, for any of the work the cost of which does not exceed one thousand dollars.

1244. The board may reject all bids and may either re-advertise for bids for doing any part or all of the work, or authorize the county commission to purchase the necessary material, purchase or hire tools and equipment, and hire laborers, and to do all or any part of the work without letting any contract for such work. In the event the board determines not to re-advertise for bids, the commission shall let all contracts for materials, tools or equipment, amounting to more than one thousand dollars in value, to the lowest responsible bidder in the manner provided in this article.

1243. The county commission may, with the consent of the board, hire all necessary engineers, inspectors, and superintendents to supervise the performance of any contract or to have charge of the doing of the work without contract.

1246. All highway work done under this article shall be of a permanent character. The county commission may determine how such highways are to be improved or constructed, and the character of the materials to be used in such improvement or construction.

1247. If the county commission determines that any of the main county highways should be paved, then the paved portion of the roadbed constructed or improved under this article shall not exceed eighteen feet in width, unless donations are made to the county commission to construct or improve to a greater width. If such donations are made, the county commission may use them to defray the increase in cost resulting from the construction or improvement of the paved roadbed in excess of the eighteen-foot width on any part of the highway specified by the donors, but no part of the proceeds of any bond issue shall be expended for such purpose.

1248. Except for crossings duly authorized by the board of supervisors, no railroad of any kind shall be constructed upon any portion of any highway, if such portion includes a roadbed constructed or improved under the provisions of this article. No board shall grant any franchise for any such railroad construction except for crossings. This section is subject to the provisions of section 1249.

1249. When any highway or portion thereof constructed or improved under the provisions of this article, is subsequently included within the boundaries of any city, the provisions of section 1248 shall not prohibit the granting of any such franchise by the proper city authorities upon any such highway, or portion thereof, included within the boundaries of any city. Any such franchise shall be granted only upon the express condition that the grantee will pay to the county, for the benefit of the county general fund, an amount equal to the cost of the improvement or construction of such portion of the roadbed or highway, constructed or improved under the provisions of this article, as is occupied by the tracks of such railroad.

1250. Whenever the county commission recommends it as necessary, the board of supervisors may cause to be done any highway work thus recommended, and for that purpose the board may acquire any real property or interest therein, in the name of the county. The board may order any such condemnation and direct the district attorney to bring an action in the name of the county for that purpose under the provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to eminent domain. In such action the order of the board is conclusive evidence of the regularity of all prior proceedings.
The board shall cause the expense of acquiring such real property or interest therein to be paid out of the highway improvement fund.

1251. No work shall be performed, under the provisions of this article, upon any highway lying within the corporate limits of any city. When such work is being performed upon any highway which passes through any city, that city may construct or improve the portion of such highway lying within its corporate limits. To raise the necessary funds for such work, the city may issue bonds in the manner provided by law for the issuance of bonds by such city for public improvements.

1252. Whenever any of the highways of a county are constructed or improved pursuant to the provisions of this article, the board of supervisors of the county shall have charge of the maintenance and repair of such highways. The board may employ a superintendent or inspector to have charge of the repair and maintenance of all such highways under the orders and direction of the board, and may employ such workmen and purchase such materials, equipment, tools, and appliances as are necessary to maintain such highways and keep them in repair. The board shall cause the cost of such maintenance and repair to be paid out of the county general fund.

Nothing contained in this section shall prevent the board from having any such repair or maintenance done in accordance with the provisions of Article 1 of this chapter.

1253. The county commission shall, at least once in every six months, file with the board a detailed statement of the commission’s proceedings since the last statement, showing:

(a) The amount of money in the highway improvement fund at the time of the last statement of the commission.
(b) The amount of all donations received since the last statement, and the purposes for which such donations were made.
(c) The amount expended, with the purposes for which it was expended, and the balance remaining.
(d) The outstanding contracts or obligations entered into by the commission.
(e) The highways in course of construction or improvement and those completed since the last statement.
(f) The condition of the work on each highway.
(g) Any other information that the commission considers of interest to the public.

1254. Each member of the county commission shall receive as compensation the sum of five dollars for each day actually and necessarily spent in the discharge of his duties, together with his actual and necessary traveling expenses, to be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid monthly.

1255. The compensation and expenses, and all other demands against the county which the county commission is authorized to incur, shall be paid out of the county general fund until there is money in the highway improvement fund derived from the sale of bonds. When there is money in the highway improvement fund, the general fund shall be reimbursed from the highway improvement fund for the amounts so expended, and thereafter such compensation, expenses, and other demands shall be paid out of the highway improvement fund.

1256. After the preparation and filing of their report and recommendation for the issuance of bonds, the members of the county commission shall not receive any such compensation or expenses unless there is money in the highway improvement fund to pay them.

Article 5. Maintenance and Improvement of Bond Issue Highways.

1270 Whenever any county highway is improved under a general county bond issue, the board of supervisors shall provide for a continuous system of maintenance and improvement with money from the county highway maintenance fund.

1271. The board may annually, for each fiscal year, levy a tax not to exceed ten cents on each one hundred dollars of taxable property of the county, for each one hundred miles or fraction thereof of county highways improved under a general county bond issue.

1272. The several officers charged with the collection of other county taxes shall collect this tax in the same manner and at the same time as other county taxes are collectible. The money derived from such tax shall be paid to the county treasurer and the county treasurer shall place it in a separate fund known as the "County highway maintenance fund." The money derived from such tax shall be applied solely to the maintenance or further improvement of county highways improved under a general county bond issue.

CHAPTER 5. COUNTY BRIDGES AND SUBWAYS.

1300. No tolls shall ever be charged for crossing any bridge constructed under the provisions of this chapter.

1301. The provisions of this chapter and of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act shall be construed together, and if the provisions of this chapter conflict with or contravene the provisions of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act, the provisions of the latter shall prevail. Any action taken under the provisions of this chapter shall be taken not only in compliance with the requirements of this chapter but also in compliance with any applicable requirements of the California Toll Bridge Authority Act.

1302. Nothing in this chapter shall limit or affect the acquisition or construction by the department of bridges upon State highways or of bridges over navigable streams, swamps, navigable estuaries, ponds, or arms of bay.
Article 2 Construction, Maintenance, and Repair

1320. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, may construct, operate, manage or maintain summer bridges under such rules and regulations and at such times and places as they consider necessary. The boards shall cause any expenditure with regard to such bridges to be paid out of the county general fund.

1321. All county bridges, not otherwise specially provided for, are maintained by the road district in which they are situated, by the road districts into which they reach, and the county at large, in the same manner as county highways are maintained. Such bridges are under the management and control of the board of supervisors. The whole or any part of such bridge lying within a road district is under the immediate management and control of the road commissioner of that district, subject to the supervision and direction of the board.

The expense of constructing, maintaining, and repairing any part of such bridge lying within a road district is primarily payable out of the road fund of such district.

1322. If the road commissioner of one road district, after five days' notice from the commissioner of an adjoining district in the same county requesting aid in the repair of a bridge in which both are interested, fails to give such aid, the commissioner giving notice may make the necessary repairs, and the board of supervisors shall allow him a pro rata compensation for making such repairs out of the road fund of the defaulting district.

1323. If the road commissioner of any road district, chargeable with the repair of a bridge, fails to make the needed repairs, after being informed that the bridge is impassable or unsafe and after such repairs are requested by two or more freeholders of the district in which the bridge is situated or of the two districts which it unites, the freeholders may present the facts to the board of supervisors. Upon being satisfied that the bridge is unsafe, the board shall cause it to be repaired, and shall pay for such repairs from the funds of the district chargeable therewith, or, if considered necessary, from the general road fund of the county.

1324. If the expense of construction or repair of a county bridge will exceed two thousand dollars, such bridge shall not be constructed or repaired except on the order of the board of supervisors.

1325. Except as provided in sections 1328 to 1332, inclusive, whenever the cost of construction or repair of any bridge will exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, such construction or repair shall be done by contract. Such a contract is void unless it is let as provided in sections 1326 and 1327.

published in the county. Such notice shall be published for at least ten consecutive times in a daily newspaper of general circulation published in the county or for at least two consecutive times in a weekly newspaper published in the county. If there is no newspaper published in the county, such notice shall be given by posting in three public places in the county for at least two weeks.

1327. The board shall afford all bidders an opportunity to examine such plans, specifications, strain sheets, and working details, and shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. The person to whom the contract is awarded shall execute a bond, approved by the board, for the faithful performance of the contract. Such person shall perform the work in accordance with the plans, specifications, strain sheets, and working details, unless all or any of them are modified by a four-fifths vote of the members of the board. In every such case if the cost of the work is reduced by reason of the modification, the person to whom the contract is awarded shall make an allowance on the contract price to the extent of such reduction.

1328. If the board of supervisors is advised by the county surveyor or, in a county not having a county surveyor, by the officer having similar duties and authority, that the work can be done for a sum less than the lowest responsible bid, the board may reject all bids and order the work done by day labor, under the supervision and direction of the county surveyor or officer having similar duties and authority. In such case, the road commissioners in their respective districts shall employ all labor required, and direct the conduct of the work.

1329. In the event of great emergency, upon the unanimous vote of the whole board, the board may proceed at once to replace or repair any and all bridges without adopting plans, specifications, strain sheets or working details, without letting contracts or without calling for bids. Such work may be done by day labor under the direction of the board, or by contract, or by a combination of the two. If done wholly or in part by contract, the contractor shall be paid the actual cost of material and labor expended by him in doing the work, plus not more than fifteen percent to cover all profits, supervision, use of machinery and tools, and any other expense. No more than the lowest current market prices shall be paid for materials.

1330. In counties employing a purchasing agent, the purchasing agent may purchase materials and supplies, costing not more than two thousand dollars, for use in the work mentioned in sections 1325, 1328, and 1329. Such purchases shall be made in accordance with the law relating to purchases by such purchasing agents, but may be made without obtaining bids, letting contracts or preparing specifications as required by sections 1325, 1326, and 1327 for purchases costing more than five hundred dollars.
1331. Whenever any county has adopted a county charter pursuant to Article XI, section 7\frac{1}{2} of the Constitution, providing for the appointment of a road commissioner as a county officer, and for the organization of a permanent road department for the construction, improvement, and maintenance of highways and bridges, such road commissioner shall have charge of the construction and maintenance of all county bridges in the county, under the order and direction of the board of supervisors as provided in section 1332.

1332. The board of supervisors may authorize such road commissioner to employ such workmen and purchase such materials, equipment, tools, and appliances and cause such work to be done as is necessary to construct or maintain such bridges and to keep them in repair without adopting plans and specifications, strain sheets or working details and without advertising for bids as required in sections 1325, 1326, and 1327. The cost of such construction, maintenance or repair shall be paid out of the county road funds or out of the county general fund.

Article 3. Joint Bridges.

1390. Any bridge crossing the line between a city and a road district may be constructed and maintained, as provided in section 1391, by the city and by the county from the road fund of the district into which such bridge extends.

Any bridge crossing the line between cities may be constructed and maintained by such cities as provided in section 1391.

1391. Any bridge referred to in section 1390 may be constructed by contract, let as provided by law, by any city into which the bridge extends, or by the county into which such bridge extends or in which such bridge is located. Any such city or county may contribute toward the expense of the construction or maintenance of such bridge by the appropriation for such purpose of any money in its treasury not otherwise appropriated, upon such terms and conditions as are prescribed by ordinance or resolution of the governing body of such city.

1392. If the proportion to be paid by any such city or county can not be otherwise determined, the expense of construction or maintenance of any such bridge shall be borne equally by the city and from the road fund of the road district into both of which the bridge reaches, or by the cities into which the bridge reaches.

1393. The proceeds of any bonds authorized by the voters of any such city or county for the acquisition, construction or completion of any such bridge, or any portion thereof, may be expended or contributed as provided in sections 1391 and 1392.

1394. (a) Any county may join with any city located within such county in the acquisition, construction or maintenance of any bridge or viaduct within the county, whether such bridge or viaduct is or is to be located within or without any such city.

(b) The expense of the acquisition, construction or maintenance of any such bridge or viaduct shall be borne by such county and such city in such proportion as the legislative bodies thereof determine by resolution or ordinance and may be paid out of any funds available for such purpose.

(c) The authority and responsibility for the acquisition, construction or maintenance of any such bridge or viaduct shall vest in the county or in the city, or in both, as provided in the ordinances or resolutions apportioning the expense.

1395. Any bridge which crosses the line between counties, unless otherwise specially provided for, shall be constructed by the counties into which such bridge reaches. Each of the counties into which any such bridge reaches shall pay that portion of the expense of the bridge previously agreed upon by the boards of supervisors of such counties, even though such bridge reaches within the limits of a city.

1396. The boards of supervisors in their respective counties may erect free county bridges on county highways across navigable bodies of water in this State.

1397. If a navigable body of water is the boundary line between counties, the boards of such counties may join in the construction of a free county bridge upon the terms to which they agree. In the event of a failure to agree, either county may build a bridge and retain control thereof.

1398. The board of supervisors of any county may declare that it is necessary for the public convenience to construct a bridge across any body of water or swampland which lies in or extends into the county, and may prescribe the points between which such bridge will be built. Thereafter the board may let any contract to build the bridge, and pay for any such work out of the county general fund.

1399. The boards of supervisors of two adjoining counties may enter into an agreement with any person with whom such boards desire to collaborate for the purposes specified in section 1400, if such boards find that any of the following circumstances exist:

(a) That any bridge is necessary for highway purposes over any navigable body of water lying between such counties.

(b) That any existing bridge over any navigable body of water lying between such counties, and used wholly or in part for highway purposes, whether owned by either county or both counties, or used by either or both by agreement with the owner of the bridge, requires, in the interest of commerce or because of lack of repair:

(1) Reconstruction.

(2) Replacement by a new structure.

(3) Relocation at a place on such navigable body of water better suited to the use of the bridge or to the use of such navigable water.
1400. The agreement authorized by section 1399 may provide for any of the following:
   (a) The construction of a bridge.
   (b) The reconstruction of the existing bridge or its replacement by a new structure.
   (c) The rebuilding of the bridge at another location.
   (d) The joint use of the resulting bridge thereafter by such person and the public.
   (e) The apportionment of the expense of any bridge work between each of the counties and such person jointly using or to use the bridge. In no event shall either county agree to contribute more than one-third of the expense of construction, reconstruction, relocation, replacement or repair of any such bridge.
   (f) The construction and use of the bridge in the manner and upon the terms and conditions agreed upon between such counties and such person.

1401. Any work done pursuant to such an agreement is exempt from any provisions of law regarding the letting of contracts by counties for the performance of any work upon bridges.

1402. The board of supervisors of any county now controlling or maintaining, by virtue of any statute, any bridge across any navigable stream, which bridge is wholly or in part within any city, may whenever necessary:
   (a) Reconstruct all or any part of such bridge.
   (b) Replace such bridge by a new structure.
   (c) With the consent of the governing body of such city, change the location of such bridge to a location on the stream better suited to the use of the bridge or to the use of the navigable stream. The board of supervisors may abandon any such existing bridge and build a new bridge at such changed location.

1403. The board of supervisors reconstructing, replacing or relocating such bridge may enter into an agreement with any person who is then maintaining any bridge across any such navigable stream, for the building of a joint bridge in order to prevent the impeding of commerce on such navigable stream, and to apportion the expense between the county and the person in any manner mutually agreed upon.

1404. The expense of such reconstruction, or of the building of a new bridge is payable from the same fund provided by law for the maintenance and repair of any such bridge. If the county makes such an agreement with any person for the building of a joint bridge, the county shall pay from such fund only its portion of the cost of the joint bridge, as settled by the agreement. In no event may the county pay more than one-half the expense of construction, repair or reconstruction of any such joint bridge.
Article 4. Subways.

1430. For the purposes of this article, "subway" includes tube or tunnel.

1431. Whenever in the interests of commerce, for the benefit of the residents of the county, or for the purpose of expediting travel between points on opposite sides of any navigable body of water, the board of supervisors of any county finds it advisable to construct for the public use any subway under any such navigable body of water, at a location determined upon by the board, the board shall call an election and submit to the electors of the county the question whether bonds of the county will be issued and sold for the purpose of constructing such a subway.

1432. The order calling such an election shall be valid and effectual when signed by two-thirds of the members of the board. The election shall be held and the bonds issued in accordance with the provisions of law governing county bond elections and the issuance of county bonds.

1434. Whenever any such subway is proposed to be constructed under any navigable body of water forming the dividing line between counties, the boards of supervisors of each of the counties into which any such subway will reach shall first agree as to what portions of the expense of such subway will be paid by each county. Thereafter the board of each county may take the proceedings it considers proper under the provisions of this article.

1435. Such a subway shall not be constructed under any navigable body of water forming the dividing line between counties, unless all the counties into which such subway reaches first authorize such work and also authorize the issue of bonds therefor in the manner provided in this article.

1436. Whenever any such proposed subway will reach within the limits of any city, if the governing body of each such city and the board of supervisors of the county in which each such city is situated first agree, the board of supervisors may call an election and submit to the electors of the county, in the manner provided in this article, the question whether bonds of the county will be issued and sold for the purpose of constructing such a subway in the manner prescribed in this article.
CHAPTER 6. OBSTRUCTIONS AND INJURIES TO COUNTY HIGHWAYS.

1480. As used in this chapter:

(a) The term "highway" includes all or any part of the entire width of right of way of a county highway, whether or not such entire area is actually used for highway purposes.

(b) The term "encroachment" includes any structure or object of any kind or character placed, without the authority of law, either in, under or over any county highway.

1481. The road commissioner of any road district may, by notice, require the removal of any encroachment from any county highway within his district.

1482. Notice shall be served upon the occupant or owner of the land, or the person causing, controlling or owning the encroachment, or shall be left at the place of residence of such occupant, owner or person if he resides in the county and is known to the person giving such notice. If the person upon whom notice is to be served does not reside in the county, the notice shall be posted on the encroachment. The notice shall specify the breadth of the highway, the place and extent of the encroachment, and shall require the removal of such encroachment within ten days.

1483. If the encroachment is not removed, or its removal not commenced and diligently prosecuted, prior to the expiration of ten days from and after the service or posting of the notice, the person causing, owning or controlling the encroachment forfeits ten dollars for each day the encroachment continues unremoved. The road commissioner shall immediately remove any encroachment which is such as effectually to obstruct and prevent the use of the highway by vehicles.

1484. If the encroachment is denied, and the owner or occupant of the land, or the person causing, owning or controlling the alleged encroachment refuses either to remove it or permit its removal, the road commissioner shall commence, in any court of competent jurisdiction, an action in the name of the county to abate the encroachment as a nuisance. If the commissioner recovers judgment he may, in addition to having the nuisance abated, recover a penalty of ten dollars for each day such nuisance remains after service or posting of notice, and also the costs in the action, as provided in section 1496.

1485. If the encroachment is not denied, but is not removed within five days from and after service or posting of the notice, the road commissioner may remove the encroachment at the expense of the owner or occupant of the land, or the person causing, owning or controlling the encroachment. The commissioner may recover from such owner, occupant or person, in an action brought in the name of the county for that purpose, the commissioner's court costs and the expense of removal and also a penalty of ten dollars for each day the encroachment remained after service or posting of the notice, as provided in section 1496.
1486. Gates shall not be allowed on any county highway except gates allowed by the board of supervisors in accordance with the provisions of section 966. If the expense of the erection and maintenance of such allowed gates is not paid as required by section 966, such gates shall be removed as an obstruction.

Any person who leaves any such gate open, or who wilfully and unnecessarily rides over ground adjoining the highway on which the gate is erected, shall be liable to the injured party for treble damages.

1487. Any person who, by means of ditches or dams, obstructs or injures any county highway, diverts any water-course into any such highway, or drains water from his land upon any such highway, to the injury of the highway, is liable to a penalty of ten dollars for each day such obstruction or injury remains, recoverable as provided in section 1496, and is also guilty of a misdemeanor.

1488. Any person who, in storing or distributing water for any purpose, permits water to overflow or by seepage to saturate any county highway, to the injury of the highway, shall, upon notification by the road commissioner of the district where such overflow or seepage occurs, repair the injury occasioned by such overflow or seepage. If such repair is not made by such person within a reasonable time, the road commissioner shall make such repairs and recover the expense of such repairs from such person in an action at law brought in the name of the county.

1490. The board of supervisors of any county may construct and maintain bridges over any ditches which are used exclusively for irrigation purposes and which cross county highways in the county. Such board may, with the consent of the owners of such ditches, declare any of such bridges to be public property, and may then maintain and repair such bridges at the expense of the county.

1491. Any person who wilfully injures any county bridge is guilty of a misdemeanor, and is also liable for actual damages for such injury, to be recovered by the county in a civil action.

1492. Any person who wilfully removes or injures any mile-board, milestone or guide-post, or any inscription thereon, erected on any county highway, is liable for a penalty of ten dollars, recoverable as provided in section 1496, for every such offense, and is also guilty of a misdemeanor.
1493. Any person may notify the occupant or owner of any land, from which a tree or other obstruction has fallen upon any county highway, to remove such tree or obstruction forthwith. If it is not thus removed, the owner or occupant is liable for the expense of removal and for a penalty of one dollar for every day after such notification that such tree or obstruction is not removed. The penalty and the expense of removal are recoverable as provided in section 1496.

1494. Any person who cuts down a tree which falls into any county highway shall immediately remove the tree, and is liable for a penalty of ten dollars, recoverable as provided in section 1496, for every day such tree remains in the highway.

1496. Each road commissioner, as to his respective road district, shall recover all penalties or forfeitures given in this chapter and the recovery of which is not otherwise provided for, by suit in the name of the county in which the road district is situated. He shall pay such recoveries into the road fund of his district.

The provisions of this section are applicable to sections 1484, 1485, 1487, 1492, 1493, 1494, and 1495, and to any other provision in this chapter imposing penalties or forfeitures.

Chapter 7. Highway Taxes.

1550. Each year, at the meeting at which the board of supervisors levies the property tax for general county purposes, the board shall estimate the amount of property tax for highway purposes which will be necessary for the ensuing year, and shall fix the amount of, and levy, the property tax for highway purposes. The property tax for highway purposes shall not, in any one year, exceed the sum of forty cents upon each one hundred dollars of assessable property.

Nothing contained in this section shall authorize any property tax for highway purposes to be levied or collected by a county within any city wherein work and improvements upon the streets are done by virtue of any law relating to street work and improvements within such a city.

1551. When levied, the property tax for highway purposes shall be annually assessed and collected by the same officers and in the same manner as other county taxes are assessed and collected. All collections shall be paid into the county treasury.

1552. Except as otherwise provided in this code, all property tax for highway purposes collected in each road district shall be expended for highway purposes within the district in which collected.
The board of supervisors shall cause such tax collected each year to be apportioned to the several road districts entitled thereto, and to be kept by the county treasurer in separate funds.

1553. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, may levy a special road fund tax, not to exceed two mills on each dollar of assessed valuation, on all the property in such counties outside of any city. This tax is in addition to all taxes otherwise provided for, and the fund so created shall be expended for the construction and maintenance of the main county highways in the several road districts, in proportion to the amount collected from such districts.

1554. In addition to all taxes otherwise provided for, the board of supervisors may levy, and upon the petition of a majority of the property owners of any road district the board shall levy, an additional special road fund tax not to exceed two mills on each dollar of assessed valuation on all the property in such road district, to be expended in the maintenance of the county highways in such district.

Chapter 8. Highway Funds.

1580. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, shall audit all claims on the funds set apart for highway purposes and specify the funds from which the whole or any part of any claim shall be paid.

1581. The board of supervisors shall make and keep on file a highway mileage record which is corrected to date and shows, for each road district of the county, every highway upon which county funds are expended for construction, improvement or maintenance. The board may determine such mileage by automobile speedometer. Each supervisor shall keep an account of the actual work done in his district and the cost per mile of such work, except in a county in which the highway work is not in charge of supervisors acting ex officio as road commissioners or in a county governed by a county charter adopted pursuant to the provisions of Article XI of the Constitution.

Article 2. The General Road Fund.

1600. The board of supervisors may, at the meeting at which it is required to levy the property tax for highway purposes, establish a "general road fund" and order to be apportioned thereto an amount not exceeding thirty-five percent of the aggregate property tax for highway purposes collected from all sources.

1601. Subject to the provisions of section 1602, the money in the general road fund shall be applied to the following purposes only:
(a) The payment of the expense of general county highway improvements in which the inhabitants of all of the road districts within the county are interested.

(b) The assistance of weak and impoverished road districts in keeping highways in repair.

(c) The payment of such demands as are payable by law out of the general road fund.

1602. No greater proportion of the general road fund shall be used or expended in any road district than the amount collected in such road district, unless the board of supervisors, by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorizes the expenditure in such district of such greater proportion. The board has no power to create a debt on any road district in excess of the estimated amount of receipts from such district for the current year.

1604. All contracts, authorizations, allowances, payments, and liabilities to pay which are made or attempted to be made in violation of this article, shall be void, and shall never be the foundation or basis of a claim against the treasury of the county. All officers of the county are charged with notice of the condition of the treasury of the county, and the extent of the claims against it.

1605. Any supervisor or other county officer authorizing, aiding to authorize, auditing or allowing any claim or demand upon or against any fund in the county treasury, in violation of any provision of this article, shall be liable in person and upon his official bond to any person damaged by such illegal action to the extent of such person's loss by reason of the nonpayment of such person's claim. The treasurer paying any claim authorized, allowed or audited in violation of this section shall be liable on his official bond to refund the amount of the claim to the county treasury.

Article 3. Other Highway Funds.

1620. Each county shall use the money deposited, from the sources provided by law, in its "special road fund" exclusively in the construction, maintenance, and improvement of streets, county highways, bridges, and culverts within the limits of that county.

1621. The board of supervisors of each county shall make an annual report to the department not later than three months after the close of the county's fiscal year, upon forms provided by the department. This report shall show:

(a) The amount of money received from the "motor vehicle fund" of the State and from the "motor vehicle fuel fund" of the State during the preceding fiscal year.
(b) The disposition of such money, specifying in such detail as is required by the department the highways, bridges, and culverts constructed, maintained, improved or repaired out of such money and the sums applied to the several items of such construction, maintenance, improvement or repair.

1622. All amounts paid to each county, out of money derived from motor vehicle fuel license taxes and vehicle registration license fees imposed by the State, shall be deposited in a “special road improvement fund” which each board of supervisors shall establish for that purpose. Except as otherwise provided in this article, such money shall be expended by the county receiving it exclusively in the construction, maintenance or improvement of county highways, bridges or culverts in that county.

1623. The board of supervisors of any county may expend any portion of the amounts thus received by that county in the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of streets, bridges, and culverts within those cities in the county the governing bodies of which by ordinance or resolution authorize such work of construction, maintenance, improvement or repair.

1624. The board of supervisors of any county may, as provided in section 1625, expend any portion of the amounts paid to that county, and deposited in the special road improvement fund, for the construction of any public highway outside of its county limits, whenever such construction is authorized by ordinance or resolution of the board of supervisors of the county in which the highway is to be constructed.

1625. Where such authorization is given, the board of supervisors of the county desiring the construction may:

(a) Expend, through its own officers or agencies, the amounts authorized by section 1624.

(b) By resolution transfer such amounts to the account of the commission or to the account of the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States, and may by such resolution specify and determine the location and type of construction of such highway. The amount thus transferred shall, if accepted by the Commission or the Secretary of Agriculture, be expended exclusively for the purpose specified and determined in the resolution.

1625.5. With reference to bonds of the county, or of any city therein, the board of supervisors may expend any portion of the money, received by the county from the motor vehicle fund, for the payment of any portion of the principal or interest of, or for the purchase or redemption at a discount of, or for transfer to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of, highways, bridges or culverts within such county or any city therein. When such bonds have been purchased or redeemed the board may at any time in its discretion cancel or retire them.

(Amended by Ch. 784, Stats. 1935.)

1625.5. With reference to bonds of the county, or of any city therein, the board of supervisors may expend any portion of the money, received by the county from the motor vehicle fund, for the payment of any portion of the principal or interest of, or for the purchase or redemption of, or for transfer to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of, highways, bridges or culverts within such county or any city therein.

1626. In accordance with the provisions of sections 1627 and 1628, the boards of supervisors in their respective counties may purchase or redeem at a discount, and may at any time in their discretion cancel or retire, bonds of any special assessment district, for the payment of which special assessments, levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands, or levied by direct assessment, have been or are to be levied, if the proceeds of such bonds are or have been used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of highways, bridges or culverts within such county or any city therein. The board may also pay any portion of the principal or interest of, or transfer such amount as the board deems proper to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of, any of such bonds. Such bonds may be redeemed or purchased at not to exceed eighty per cent of the face value of the unpaid principal and interest of such bonds.

1626. In accordance with the provisions of sections 1627 and 1628, the boards of supervisors in their respective counties may purchase or redeem at a discount, and may at any time in their discretion cancel or retire, bonds of any special assessment district, for the payment of which special assessments, levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands, have been or are to be levied, if the proceeds of such bonds are or have been used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of highways, bridges or culverts within such county or any city therein. The board may also pay any portion of the principal or interest of, or transfer such amount as the board deems proper to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of, any of such bonds. Such bonds may be redeemed or purchased at not to exceed eighty per cent of the face value of the unpaid principal and interest of such bonds.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

1626. In accordance with the provisions of sections 1627 and 1628, the boards of supervisors in their respective counties may purchase or redeem at a discount, and may at any time in their discretion cancel or retire, bonds of any special assessment district, for the payment of which special assessments, levied wholly or partly in accordance with the assessed value of lands, have been or are to be levied, if the proceeds of such bonds are or have been used exclusively for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of highways, bridges or culverts within such county or any city therein. The board may also pay any portion of the principal or interest of, or transfer such amount as the board deems proper to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of, any of such bonds. Such bonds may be redeemed or purchased at not to exceed eighty per cent of the face value of the unpaid principal and interest of such bonds.

1627. The expenditures authorized in section 1626 may be made from:

(a) The general fund of the county.

(b) Not to exceed twenty per cent of any money received by the county under the provisions of any statute providing for the disposition of State motor vehicle fuel license taxes. Authority for the expenditure of such money is limited to bonds issued prior to August 21, 1933, or bonds issued in any proceeding initiated prior to January 1, 1933.

(c) Any money received by the county under the provisions of any statute providing for the disposition of vehicle registration license fees imposed by the State.

When any purchase of bonds, authorized in sections 1625.5 or 1626, is made from funds received pursuant to the provisions of any statute providing for the disposition of State motor vehicle fuel license taxes or vehicle registration license fees, the proceeds received from any such bonds shall be deposited in a special fund and expended by the board of supervisors exclusively for any of the purposes for which the funds derived under any of those statutes may be used.

1628. Before any expenditures are made under the authority of sections 1625.5, or of sections 1626 and 1627, the board of supervisors of the county shall, by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of the members of the board, determine that the bonds under consideration were issued to acquire rights of way or easements for, or to construct, maintain, improve or repair public highways, bridges or culverts of general county use, and not of a purely local use.

It is the intention of this section that the expenditures authorized in section 1625.5 shall not be made, and that the funds specified in section 1627 shall not be expended for any of the purposes authorized in section 1626, if the public highways, bridges, or culverts are of only local use.

Article 4. Apportionment of Road District Funds.

1650. For the purposes of this article, the unencumbered funds of the district are the sum of all money, uncollected taxes, and other uncollected accounts belonging to or due to such district, in excess of an amount sufficient to pay all claims and accounts against the district, including both claims and accounts lawfully payable from the funds of such district on the date of annexation or incorporation, and claims and accounts which will become payable from such funds by reason of lawful contracts in force on that date.

1651. Wherever any territory is included in any city, either at the original incorporation of such city, or by subsequent annexation thereto, and such territory constitutes all or part of a road district, the county surveyor or, in a county not having a county surveyor, the officer having similar duties and authority, shall indicate on the map books of the county assessor the property incorporated or annexed.

1652. The assessor shall then ascertain from his records the assessed value of such incorporated or annexed property on the first Monday of the preceding March at twelve o'clock noon and shall certify to the county auditor such value thus ascertained.

1653. The auditor shall then calculate the proportion that the assessed value, on the first Monday in the preceding March at 12 o'clock noon, of the property annexed or incorporated bears to the total assessed value, as of that day and hour, of all the property in the district from which the annexation or incorporation was made. He shall prepare a claim in favor of the city, to be allowed by the board of supervisors and paid by warrant on the treasurer, for that part of the unencumbered funds of the district which bears the same proportion to the whole of such unencumbered funds as the assessed value of the property annexed or incorporated bears to the total assessed value of all the property in the district from which the annexation or incorporation was made.

1654. Such city shall repay to the county its proportion of all taxes for highway purposes on the annexed or incorporated portion of such district which are subsequently refunded or canceled. The money paid to such city, pursuant to this article, shall be expended for highway purposes only.

CHAPTER 9. COOPERATION BY COUNTIES.

1670. The board of supervisors of any county may enter into cooperative agreements with the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States for the survey, construction, and maintenance of highways or trails within such county, or for the survey, construction, and maintenance of highways or trails outside of its county limits where authorization therefor is given by ordinance or resolution of the board of supervisors of the county in which such highways or trails are to be constructed.

1671. Such agreements shall be entered into pursuant to the provisions of section 8 of the act of Congress, approved July 11, 1916, entitled "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the states in the construction of rural post roads and for other purposes," or pursuant to the provisions of section 23 of the Federal highway act, upon such terms as may be agreed upon by such county and the Secretary of Agriculture. The board of such county may incur expenses necessary to perform its part of such cooperative agreements, and may pay the cost and expenses of such agreements out of the county general fund or such other fund as the board designates or otherwise provides.

1672. Upon request of the proper officer of the United States, together with the order of the board of supervisors of the county, the county treasurer shall deposit with the Federal Reserve Bank to the credit of the United States all money set aside by the board of supervisors under agreements entered into with the United States in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Aid Road Act, and subsequent acts of like nature. Such money shall be paid out by the proper fiscal agent of the United States pursuant to such agreements.

Article 2. Cooperation with Cities.

1680. The board of supervisors of any county may, by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of its members, determine that any of the following activities are of general county interest and that county aid shall be extended therefor:
(a) The laying out, opening, construction, improvement, maintenance, repair, or altering of all or any part of any street within a city or extending along or across the boundary of a city.
(b) The establishing, modifying or changing the grade of any such street.
(c) The separation of the grades of any two or more such streets which intersect.
(d) The separation of the grade of any such street from the grade of any steam, electric or street railroad crossing such street.
(e) The construction of the necessary pavements, curbs, culverts, bridges, tunnels, subways, viaducts, drainage facilities or structures incident to or a part of such street.
(f) The acquisition of any real property or interest therein, rights of way or other property necessary for any of the purposes mentioned in this section.
(Amended by Ch. 629, Stats. 1935.)

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

1680. The board of supervisors of any county may, by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of its members, determine that any of the following activities are of general county interest and that county aid shall be extended therefor:
(a) The laying out, opening, construction, improvement or altering of all or any part of any street within a city or extending along or across the boundary of a city.
(b) The establishing, modifying or changing the grade of any such street.
(c) The separation of the grades of any two or more such streets which intersect.
(d) The separation of the grade of any such street from the grade of any steam, electric or street railroad crossing such street.
(e) The construction of the necessary pavements, curbs, culverts, bridges, tunnels, subways, viaducts, drainage facilities or structures incident to or a part of such street.
(f) The acquisition of any real property or interest therein, rights of way or other property necessary for any of the purposes mentioned in this section.

1681. Such resolution shall specify the proposed new or existing street or portion of street, the general nature of the improvement proposed, the nature of the aid to be furnished by the county, and any funds from which the aid is to be paid.
1682. Thereafter and in accordance with such resolution the county may give aid in one or more of the following ways:
   (a) Contribute money.
   (b) Acquire and deliver material.
   (c) Furnish labor or engineering services.
   (d) Loan its road building machinery.
   (e) Pay or contribute money to be used for the payment of interest upon, or for the payment or redemption of, bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for, or which have been issued in payment for, work mentioned in this article.

1683. The expense of such aid may be paid from one or more of the following:
   (a) The county general fund.
   (b) The general road fund.
   (c) The special road improvement fund.
   (d) The proceeds of any county bond issue voted for the purpose of laying out, constructing, maintaining, improving or repairing county highways or for the acquisition of any real property or interest therein, rights of way or other property necessary for such purposes.
   (e) Any other fund available for such purposes.

1684. The city shall use all aid which it receives in the activities described in the resolution and shall return to the county any portion of such aid which is not thus used.

Article 3. Extension of County Highways Through Cities.

1700. The board of supervisors of any county may, by a resolution adopted by a four-fifths vote of its members, declare any highway in the county lying in whole or in part within a city to be a county highway.

1701. A copy of such resolution shall be forwarded to the governing body of the city within which is included any portion of the highway. Such governing body may consent to the establishment of such included portion as a part of the county highway. Upon the taking effect of a city ordinance containing such consent, such portion of such highway shall become a county highway with respect to its construction, maintenance, improvement, and repair.

1702. Thereafter the board of supervisors of the county may improve and maintain such highway as other county highways are improved and maintained, and may pay for such work out of one or more of the following:
   (a) The county general fund.
   (b) The general road fund.
   (c) The special road improvement fund.
   (d) The proceeds of any county bond issue voted for the purpose of laying out, constructing, maintaining, improving or repairing county highways.
   (e) Any other fund available for such purposes.

1703. Nothing contained in this article shall limit in any manner the police power of any city with reference to any such street or portion of street improved under the provisions of this article.

1704. At any time after all or a portion of a city street becomes a county highway, as provided in this article, and all improvements commenced by the county, or its agents thereon, have been fully completed, the board of supervisors of such county may adopt a resolution declaring that all or any portion of such street is no longer a county highway. Ten days after the filing of such resolution with the clerk of the city within which the street lies, such street, or the portion thereof described in the resolution, shall cease to be a county highway.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

1704. At any time after all or a portion of a city street becomes a county highway, as provided in this article, the board of supervisors of such county may adopt a resolution declaring that all or any portion of such street is no longer a county highway. Ten days after the filing of such resolution with the clerk of the city within which the street lies, such street, or the portion thereof described in the resolution, shall cease to be a county highway.

1705. Whenever county bonds are voted or a special tax is levied for paving a county highway, and the natural course of such highway runs into or through any city, the board of supervisors shall pave within such city that portion of the highway which is designated by the chief executive of the city and the county supervisor in whose district such portion is located. Such highway portion shall be constructed to standards equal to those of the highway approaching such city. If such chief executive and such supervisor do not agree as to what street will be thus designated, then the chairman of the commission shall designate the street and his judgment shall be final and conclusive.

CHAPTER 10. COUNTY FERRIES.

1750. The boards of supervisors in their respective counties may maintain, control, construct, repair or manage public ferries within the county.

1751. The boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, may construct, operate, manage or maintain summer ferries under such rules and regulations and at such times and places as they consider necessary. The boards may cause the expense of such ferries to be paid out of the county general fund.

1752. Whenever the board of supervisors of any county considers it advisable and for the best interests of the public that the county own and operate any ferry within such county, the board may purchase, establish or operate any ferry across any stream or river within the county. The board may operate any such ferry as a free ferry.

1753. Such board may acquire landing places for any such ferry and may pay the expenses of purchasing, establishing or operating such ferry out of the general road fund of the

The California Pacific International Exposition will open on the twenty-ninth day of May of this year at San Diego, the primary object and purpose of which is to stimulate recovery in the West and to aid in ending unemployment and the severe economic depression now existing throughout the United States. It is of the utmost importance that California in its capacity as host to the nations of the world do all in its power to further the objects and purposes of this exposition and to that end to make arrangements immediately for a State exhibit. A very short time remains to make the necessary preparations before the opening of the exposition on May 29, 1935, for which reason it is imperative that this act take effect immediately.

An act relating to the operation of motor vehicles used in unemployment cooperative relief work, and declaring the urgency thereof and that this act shall go into immediate effect.

[Approved by the Governor April 8, 1935. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

(b) Every application for permit hereunder must be accompanied by an affidavit duly verified by the owner of the motor vehicle for which permit is requested, which affidavit shall set forth such facts as will enable the Department of Motor Vehicles to determine if such vehicle is entitled to be operated under such permit without payment of the registration fees therefor.

CHAPTER 36.

An act to amend section 11 of The California Districts Securities Commission Act, relating to the levy of annual assessments by irrigation districts, providing that said section shall remain in effect until November 1, 1937, and declaring this act an emergency measure enacted under the police power.

[Approved by the Governor April 8, 1935 In effect September 15, 1935]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 11 of The California Districts Securities Commission Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 11. Whenever any district has levied the annual assessment required by The California Irrigation District Act or any acts amendatory thereof or supplemental thereto and when the money derived from said assessment, together with any other revenue allocated to payment of bond interest and principal, is insufficient to meet the bond interest or principal when due and said district defaults on its bond principal or interest, or both, to the extent of not less than twenty per cent (20%) of the amount due, said defaulting district may become subject to this section and to the control and direction of the commission as herein provided upon the application of such district and the approval thereof by the commission. Thereafter it shall continue subject to this section and to such control and direction during the effective period of this section unless and until the amount raised by its annual assessment as hereinafter provided, together with other revenue derived from any source and allocated to bond service or other outstanding obligations, shall be sufficient to meet and pay off all matured and uncanceled or unfunded obligations of such district, bonded or otherwise, in which event it shall cease to be subject to this section and such control and direction shall terminate so long as said district does not again default as aforesaid. Upon receipt of written notice from any such district, the California Districts Securities Commission shall make such an investigation of the affairs of the district at the expense of the district as it may deem proper and for which funds are available in order to inform itself as to the financial affairs of the district and its lands, and to enable it to carry out the provisions of this section intelligently.

The board of directors of any such defaulting district, in levying the annual assessment of the district, may, notwithstanding section 39 of The California Irrigation District Act or any other provision of law governing such district, levy only for such total amount as in their judgment by a finding of fact, approved by the commission it will be reasonably possible for the lands in said district, taken as a whole, to pay without exceeding a delinquency of fifteen per cent. In determining the amount it is possible for the lands to pay, at the time of each annual assessment, the board of directors shall consider the productivity of lands in the district, crops growing and to be grown during the year, market conditions as well as they can be forecast, the cost of producing and marketing crops, and obligations of the land respecting taxes and public liens. Out of the money derived from such annual assessment the board of directors of the district may set aside such sum as, in the judgment of said board, and approved by the commission, may be necessary, in addition to other revenue allocable to that purpose, for the operation and maintenance of said district and its works for the ensuing year. The balance of said money derived from such annual assessment shall be prorated to bond interest, bond principal and to other outstanding obligations of the district in the proportion that the total amount due on each of said items shall bear to the said balance.

Notwithstanding anything in this section contained, in any case in which an irrigation district has heretofore defaulted or shall hereafter default in the payment of its indebtedness as in this act provided, no district shall be deemed to be or have been under the control or direction of the commission as in this section defined or under the supervision or control of the commission as to the fiscal affairs of such district until and unless the commission has or shall have made its order approving a reduced assessment.

This section shall remain in effect only until the first day of November, 1937, unless sooner repealed. The Legislature expressly declares that this section is intended to be applicable to all bonds, obligations and assessments of districts which have defaulted to the extent hereinbefore set forth, and the Legislature expressly declares that, except as otherwise expressly provided by law, it applies, and shall be construed to apply, to all bonds now or hereafter issued and outstanding. Nothing in this section contained, however, shall be deemed to extinguish or cancel any obligation due from any district, and whenever the annual assessment, levied as hereinbefore provided, leaves matured bond principal or interest or other matured obligations unpaid, said unpaid balance shall continue as a district obligation until paid or refunded in accordance with law.

Sec. 2. The agricultural emergency referred to in section 2 of Chapter 60 of the Statutes of 1933 continues to exist, and it is necessary for the same reasons that section 11 of the act cited in the title hereof was enacted to continue the section in effect until November 1, 1937.

CHAPTER 37.

An act to amend sections 41c and 42 of the California Irrigation District Act, relating to the payment of irrigation district assessments.

[Approved by the Governor April 9, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 41c of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

41c. Such resolution must be adopted at or prior to the time of the levy of any annual assessment to be affected thereby and can not be rescinded or modified so as to affect any assessment theretofore levied. Whenever the board of directors have so determined, thereafter the first installment of the assessment levied shall become delinquent at six o'clock p.m. on the last Monday of December, and the second installment thereof shall become delinquent at six o'clock p.m. on the last Monday of June next thereafter; provided, that where an assessment has been levied as provided in section 34 of this act the whole of such assessment shall become delinquent on the last Monday in December.

When provision is made as herein provided, for the payment of said assessments in two installments, the publication of the delinquent list provided for in this act, shall not be made before the first day of July, but the first publication thereof must be made on or before the first day of August, and except as otherwise in this section provided, all the provisions of this act relative to the assessment, payment and collection of assessments, notice of assessments, publication of delinquent list, and sale for delinquent assessment, and all other provisions relative to such assessments shall be applicable.

Sec. 2. Section 42 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 42. On or before the first day of February, except as provided in section 41c hereof, the collector must commence the publication of the delinquent list, which shall contain the names of the persons and the description of the property delinquent, and the total amount of the assessments, penalties and costs due thereon. He must publish with the delinquent list a notice that unless the assessment's delinquent, together with penalties and costs accrued thereon, as shown in the list, are paid, the real property upon which such assessments are a lien will be sold to the district. Such delinquent list and notice must be published three times; to wit, once a week for three successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county in which the property delinquent is situated; provided, however, that only such lands as may be situated in such county need be set forth in such publication; and provided further, that if any property assessed to the same person or corporation shall lie in more than one county, then such publication may be made in any county in which any portion of such property may lie. The notice must designate the time and place of the sale. The time of sale must be not less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from the first publication, and the place must be at some point designated by the collector within the district, or it may be at the office of the district if said office is not within the district; provided, however, that if there should occur any error in the publication of the notice of the sale of the delinquent property, or the delinquent list, which might invalidate a sale made thereunder, and such error is discovered prior to sale thereunder, the collector shall at once republish the notice of the sale of that property affected by such error, making such republication conform to the provisions of this law, and the time of sale designated in such republication must be not less than twenty-one nor more than twenty-eight days from the first republication; and the place of sale must be at some point designated by the collector within the district, or it may be at the office of the district if said office is not within the district, and stated in such republication.

Service upon the licensee or applicant of the charges against him or of the notice of the time and place of trial shall be fully effected by mailing a true copy of such charges or notice by United States registered mail in a sealed envelope with postage fully prepaid thereon to the licensee or applicant at his latest address of record in the Real Estate Division. Within ten days after service of a copy of the charges, the defendant shall be required to appear and file a verified answer to such charges.

In case a hearing is called on an application for a broker’s license, the commissioner, upon the request of the applicant, and upon the payment of a fee of five dollars, shall issue a temporary broker’s license to any applicant who held an unrevoked or unsuspended license on December thirty-first of the preceding year as an individual broker, a corporation, an officer of a corporation, a copartnership or member of a copartnership, but such temporary broker’s license shall expire at the time the decision rendered by the commissioner takes effect as hereinafter provided.

Thereupon the commissioner shall, within thirty days, make and certify such transcript. In suspending or revoking any license, or in denying any application for license where the applicant is a holder of a temporary license, either as a broker or salesman, issued in accordance with this act, the decision of the commissioner shall not take effect until ten days after its date. Under the provisions of this section, the commissioner shall have power to deny, suspend or revoke the license of a corporation as to any officer or agent acting under its license, and the license of a copartnership as to any member acting under its license, without revoking the license of such corporation or of such copartnership.

After receiving such a statement the Real Estate Commissioner may require such additional information concerning the project as he may deem necessary, and for which purpose he shall be empowered to prepare a questionnaire for the owner, his agent or subdivider, to answer.

issues, circulates, publishes or distributes the same, or shall cause the same to be issued, circulated, published or distributed, or who, in any other respect, wilfully violates or fails to

[Approved by the Governor April 11, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 821 of the Agricultural Code is hereby Stats 1933, p 195 amended to read as follows:

821. Apples shall conform to one of the following standards:

(a) The "extra fancy" grade consists of well grown, properly matured apples of one variety which are clean, hand picked, well colored, normally shaped for the locality where produced, free from decay, visible Baldwin spot, Jonathan spot, scald, internal breakdown, visible watercore, bruises (except such bruises as are necessarily caused in proper sorting or packing), broken skin, insect pests, limbrub, spray burn, sun scald, russetting except within the basin of the stem, drought spot, hail mark, frost injury, internal browning, apple scab and other diseases, insect bites, and other defects.

Apples of this grade shall be uniform in size and well packed in clean, standard boxes.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, of the apples in any container may be below the requirements of apples of this grade, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause.

(b) The "fancy" grade consists of well grown, properly matured apples of one variety which are clean, hand picked, normally shaped for the locality where produced, free from decay, visible Baldwin spot, Jonathan spot, soft scald, internal breakdown, visible watercore, bruises (except such bruises as are necessarily caused in proper sorting or packing), broken skin, and insect pests; and free from appreciable damage caused by limbrub, spray burn, sun scald, russetting, drought spot, hail mark, frost injury, internal browning, apple scab, flyspeck fungus and other diseases, insect pests, sun spots, and other defects. Apples of the Gravenstein variety of this grade shall show red stripes or tinge of distinct red color.

Apples of this grade shall be uniform in size and well packed in clean, standard boxes.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, of the apples in any container may be below the requirements of this grade, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance, shall be allowed for any one cause.

(c) The "commercial" grade shall conform in all respects to the fancy grade except that there shall be no color requirements.

(d) The "fancy loose" grade shall conform in all respects to the fancy grade except that the apples in this grade shall not be wrapped or well packed, and shall be of a size that will not pass through a ring two and one-fourth inches in diameter, and need not be packed, uniform in size, or in clean or standard boxes.

(e) The "commercial loose" grade shall conform in all respects to the fancy loose grade except that there shall be no color requirements.

(f) The "C" grade consists of properly matured apples of one variety which are virtually clean, hand picked, free from decay, soft scald, internal breakdown, visible watercore, bruises (except such bruises as are necessarily caused in proper sorting or packing), broken skin, and insect pests; and free from serious damage caused by stem punctures, visible Baldwin spot, Jonathan spot, sun scald, spray burn, hail marks, frost injury, internal browning, apple scab, insect pests and blossom end cracks.

Apples of this grade shall be uniform in size and well packed in clean, standard boxes.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, of the apples in any one container, may be below the requirements of this grade, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause.

(g) The "C grade loose" shall conform in all respects to the C grade except that the apples in this grade shall not be wrapped or well packed, and need not be hand picked, packed, uniform in size or in clean or standard boxes.

(h) The combination fancy and C grade loose shall meet all requirements of C grade loose apples and shall include in each container not less than fifty per cent, by count, of apples meeting all requirements of the fancy loose grade. None of the apples of the grade combination fancy and C grade loose shall be of a size that will pass through a ring two and one-fourth inches in diameter.

(i) The combination commercial and C grade loose shall meet all requirements of C grade loose apples and shall include in each container not less than fifty per cent, by count, of apples meeting all requirements of the commercial loose grade. None of the apples of the grade combination commercial and C grade loose shall be of a size that will pass through a ring two and one-fourth inches in diameter.

Although the tolerances specified for the various standards necessarily are placed on a package basis, not more than one-fourth of the packages in any lot may be permitted to exceed the tolerance established by not more than one-half of the amount allowed. The entire lot shall average within the tolerance established. No container shall have more insect pests or decay than the amount specified in the tolerance established.

Sec. 2. Section 827 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

827. As used with reference to apples in this chapter:

(a) "Hand picked" means apples which do not show evidence of having been on the ground.

(b) "Clean" means free from dust or dirt and free from visible spray residue.

(c) "Well packed" means packed in regular, compact, diagonal arrangement of all of the fruit in any container, the fruit being compacted, at the time of packing, with sufficient solidity so that it will not move in the container when lidded, the top and bottom of the box, when lidded, having a bulge of not less than one-half inch, and, where wrappers are used, all of the apples in the box being properly wrapped, with the exception of the bottom layer, which may be flagged.

(d) "Flagged" means incompletely covered by the use of wrappers which are not closed.

(e) "Uniform in size" means in boxes containing one hundred twenty-five apples, or less, a variation of not more than one-half of one inch in diameter, when measured through the widest portion of the cross section between the fruits in any one container; in boxes containing one hundred thirty-eight apples, or more, a variation of not more than three-eighths of one inch when so measured.
(f) "Cross section" means that section of the apple taken at a right angle to a straight line drawn from the stem end to the blossom end thereof.

(g) "Properly matured" means that the apples to which it refers, at the time they were taken or fell from the tree, had reached that stage of development necessary to insure the proper completion of the ripening process. Apples of the varieties Alexander, Red Astraehan, White Astraehan, Beigheimer, White Winter Pearmain, Greening, and Fall Pippin need not be properly matured in order to meet the requirements of any grade except extra fancy. Apples of the Gravenstein variety, which are of a size that will not pass through a ring two and five-eighths inches in diameter, need not be properly matured to meet the requirements of C grade loose. Apples of the Gravenstein variety shall be properly matured to meet the requirements of the C grade loose when in the combination fancy and C grade loose or the combination commercial and C grade loose grades.

(h) "Insect pests" include San Jose scale, codlin moth and other insects or the larvae, nymphs or pupae thereof, and any apple which has been infested with codlin moth and bears evidence of such infestation, with the exception of superficial, well healed codlin moth stings.

The facts constituting the necessity are as follows:

During the past several years the growers of Gravenstein apples in this State have experienced considerable difficulty in the profitable marketing of their crop. This was caused particularly in the foreign markets by competition from foreign countries as well as by competition from certain sections of the United States. From a careful study of the facts it has been very apparent that something must be done immediately, otherwise the Gravenstein apple industry will suffer materially. This act will place upon the markets a product far superior to that which has been offered during the past. It is imperative that the growers receive this protection for the coming season's crop which is harvested during normal years, starting the latter part of June and ending about the middle of August. If this law should not be passed as an urgency measure the growers will not receive any benefits until 1936.
CHAPTER 46.

An act to amend section 47a of the California Irrigation District Act by adding thereto a provision authorizing payment of current assessments upon partial redemption.

[Approved by the Governor April 11, 1915 In effect September 15, 1915]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Sec. 47a of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 47a. In all cases where a lot, piece, or parcel of land contained in any assessment has been sold or may hereafter be sold to the district for delinquent assessments and the time for redemption has not expired, a redemption of a portion of said lot, piece or parcel of land may be made, separately from the whole assessment, of any such lot, piece or parcel of land as follows:

If such lot, piece or parcel of land has a separate valuation shown on the assessment book, the collector shall estimate the amount due according to the valuation shown on the assessment book, and the redemption shall be made in the manner provided for in sections 46 and 47 of this act. If such lot, piece or parcel of land or such fractional part of such lot, piece or parcel of land does not have a separate valuation shown on the assessment book, the collector shall submit the description of the lot, piece or parcel of land, or the fractional part thereof, upon which redemption is requested to the assessor, who must place a valuation thereon. The collector shall estimate the amount due according to the valuation so placed upon the parcel upon which redemption is requested, and shall then refer said proposed redemption to the board of directors who may confirm, modify or set aside the act of the assessor, or the board may refuse to authorize such redemption, and the decision of the board shall be final and conclusive, and the collector shall conform therewith and the redemption, if authorized by said board of directors, shall be made in the manner provided for in sections 46 and 47 of this act.

Upon redemption of a portion of a lot, piece or parcel of land in the manner herein authorized the person redeeming such portion may also pay that part of the current assessment levied against the lot, piece or parcel of land out of which the portion was redeemed, as may be determined by the board to be fair and just, based upon the valuation placed on said lot, piece or parcel of land as shown on the current assessment book. Upon payment of the amount fixed as the sum to be paid as the current assessment on the portion of land so redeemed the collector shall enter on the assessment book a reference to the order of the board authorizing payment of part of the assessment, the amount paid, and date of payment; thereafter the portion redeemed shall be separately described on the assessment books.

SECTION 1. The legislative body of any city within this State is hereby authorized to adopt by ordinance a personnel system, merit system, or civil service system, for the selection, employment, classification, advancement, suspension, discharge and retirement of appointive officers and employees. Such legislative body may provide for the appointment of a Civil Service Commission or personnel officer and may delegate to such Civil Service Commission or personnel officer such powers and duties in relation thereto as in its discretion may be deemed advisable.
It is intended by the provisions of this act to enable the legislative body of any municipality within this State to adopt such a personnel system, merit system, or civil service system as may be adaptable to the size and type of municipality involved; such system may consist merely of the setting up of minimum standards of employment and qualifications for the various classes of employment in said municipality or may consist of a comprehensive civil service system as in the sound discretion of said legislative body may be for the best interests of the public service in said municipality.

Sec 2. In said ordinance creating such system said legislative body shall designate the departments, appointive officers or employees of the city which shall be placed under such merit system or civil service system; such legislative body may from time to time, by ordinance, add additional departments, appointive officers or employees of the city to the list originally designated in the ordinance creating such system. Said legislative body shall not have the authority to withdraw any departments, appointive officers or employees from the operation of such system unless and until the withdrawal thereof shall have been submitted to the qualified electors of said city at a special or regular municipal election held in said city and shall have been approved by not less than a two-thirds vote of the electors voting on such proposition.

Sec 3. The legislative body of any municipality may contract with the legislative body or governing board of any other municipality or county within this State, or with any State department for the conducting of competitive examinations to ascertain the fitness of applicants for positions and employment in the city service, and for the performance of any other service in connection with personnel selection and administration.

Sec 4. Any ordinance adopted by the legislative body of any municipality under the provisions of this act shall include the following provision and penalty: No person holding an office or place in any department placed by the legislative body under a merit system or civil service system, pursuant to the provisions of this act, shall seek or accept election, nomination or appointment as an officer of a political club or organization, or take an active part in a county or municipal political campaign, or serve as a member of a committee of such club or organization or circle, or seek signatures to any petition provided for by any law, or act as a worker at the polls, or distribute badges or pamphlets, dodgers or handbills of any kind favoring or opposing any candidate for election, or for nomination to a public office, whether county or municipal; provided, however, that nothing in this act shall be construed to prevent any such officer or employee from becoming or continuing to be a member of a political club or organization, or from attendance at a political meeting, or from enjoying entire freedom from all interference in casting his vote or from seeking or accepting election or appointment to public office.

Any wilful violation thereof or violation through culpable negligence, shall be sufficient grounds to authorize the discharge of any officer or employee.

vided by the Probate Code for sales of property of deceased persons, and all the provisions of law regarding such sales

An act to amend section 779 of the Political Code, relating to publication of court reports.

[Approved by the Governor April 18, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 779 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

779. Before entering into said contract, it shall be the duty of the Secretary of State to advertise for proposals for the publication of said reports, for three days, in one daily paper in Sacramento, and one daily paper in San Francisco.
It shall be the duty of said reporter, Secretary of State, and Attorney General, to consider all proposals for the publication of said reports which may be made to them, and to award the contract to the person or persons who may agree to publish and sell the same on the terms most advantageous to the State and public.
CHAPTER 54.

An act confirming and validating the consolidation of irrigation districts, and declaring the urgency thereof, the act to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor April 18, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In any case in which the State Engineer has heretofore made a written report, recommending the consolidation of two or more irrigation districts organized or existing under the California Irrigation District Act and describing the boundaries of the proposed consolidated district, and an election has been held to determine whether said districts should be consolidated and for the election of officers of such proposed consolidated district, and the result of said election has been declared to be in favor of such consolidation and directors for such proposed consolidated district have been declared elected, and the persons so declared elected as directors have organized as the board of directors of such consolidated district, and a resolution or order of said board of directors specifying the date on which such consolidation became effective and designating a name for such consolidated district and describing the boundaries thereof has been recorded in the office of the county recorder of the county in which the territory within such consolidated district, or any part thereof, is located, and such consolidated district has functioned as an irrigation district for more than one year before the time at which this act takes effect, then the territory declared in said resolution or order to constitute such consolidated district, with any additions thereto or less any exclusions therefrom as may have been made by order of the board of directors of such district on petition or petitions for the inclusion of land therein or the exclusion of land therefrom, is hereby recognized and established as a consolidated irrigation district under the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the consolidation of districts organized or existing under the California Irrigation District Act," approved May 31, 1921, as amended, with the name designated in said resolution or order, and all acts or proceedings in or in connection with such consolidation are hereby confirmed and validated and declared sufficient, and each such consolidated district is hereby constituted and declared to be an irrigation district within the meaning of and subject to the provisions of the California Irrigation District Act and all acts amendatory thereof and supplementary thereto, except as provided in said act approved May 31, 1921, as amended, and each such consolidated district may exercise all the powers now or hereafter conferred upon irrigation districts in this State and may issue bonds as provided in the California Irrigation District Act to fund or refund any outstanding indebtedness contracted by any or all of the districts.
participating in such consolidation, provided that such bonds shall be subject to any provisions that may have been made for the apportionment of the indebtedness of such participating districts.

Sec. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution, necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety, and shall take effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

All of the districts which have been formed in this State by the consolidation of irrigation districts have taken proceedings for the refunding of bonded indebtedness for which they are liable and have applied to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, an agency of the United States, for loans to enable them to refinance such indebtedness. On account of the depression prevailing throughout this State for more than four years and still prevailing, it is impossible for such districts to meet the amounts due and to become due by the terms of said outstanding bonds, and if said districts are not enabled to refinance speedily and are compelled to levy the assessments required by the terms of said outstanding bonds, many land owners therein will be unable to pay such assessments and will lose their lands and great distress will exist in such districts, and the ability of such districts to operate their works for the distribution of water will be impaired and the revenues of other governmental agencies will be reduced. In the course of such refunding operations, questions have arisen as to the sufficiency of certain acts and proceedings for the consolidation of such districts, and it is necessary that such acts and proceedings be validated forthwith in order that such refinancing may be speedily effected.

Stats. 1933, p. 60. An act to amend section 810.5 of the Agricultural Code, relating to asparagus.

[Approved by the Governor April 18, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Stats. 1933, p. 188. Section 810.5 of the Agricultural Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

810.5. Fresh asparagus shall not be wilted, or crushed (except such injuries as are necessarily caused in proper sorting or packing); stalks shall not have badly broken, badly spreading or badly seeded tips and shall be free from decay and from damage caused by dirt, disease, insects, mechanical injury or other causes. Stalks of asparagus, when bunch packed, shall not be badly crooked. "Damage" means any injury from the causes mentioned which materially affects the quality.

Not more than ten per cent, by count, of the asparagus stalks in any one container or bulk lot may be below these requirements, but not to exceed one-half of this tolerance shall be allowed for any one cause. Asparagus which fails to meet these requirements only because of being "badly crooked" shall be considered as complying with this standard if the container in which it is packed is plainly marked on the outside of the end bearing other markings required by this section, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the word "crooks."

Bunches of asparagus classified according to the following designated size grades shall contain the number of stalks indicated in each classification and shall weigh not less than two pounds net when packed, except that bunches smaller than two pounds net when packed, with a proportionately less number of stalks per bunch, may be so classified if the container is conspicuously marked, on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half inch in height, with the number of bunches and the minimum weight per bunch. Not less than twelve bunches of asparagus so classified may be packed in standard container number 51 or 52.

Colossal, not more than fourteen stalks to a bunch.
Jumbo, fifteen to twenty stalks to a bunch.
Extra select, twenty-one to twenty-eight stalks to a bunch.
Select, twenty-nine to forty-two stalks to a bunch.
Extra fancy, forty-three to sixty-seven stalks to a bunch.
Fancy, sixty-eight to one hundred stalks to a bunch.

In view of differences in climatic and other natural conditions prevailing south and east of San Gorgonio Pass, which causes fresh asparagus grown in that area to be satisfactory in quality only if a large portion of the stalk is green or colored, and therefore must be cut at a shorter length, as compared to asparagus grown in the area north and west of the San Gorgonio Pass, stalks of asparagus produced in the area south and east of San Gorgonio Pass shall have not more than two inches of white on the butt, except that not more than twenty per cent of the stalks in any bunch, or when not packed in bunches, twenty per cent of the stalks in any container, may have not to exceed two and one-half inches of white. When the stalks of asparagus produced in this area are less than seven and one-fourth inches in length and packed in bunches they shall be classified according to the following designated size grades:
Mammoth, not more than seventeen stalks to a bunch.
Giant, eighteen to twenty-four stalks to a bunch.
Fancy regal, twenty-five to thirty-four stalks to a bunch.
Regal, thirty-five to fifty-two stalks to a bunch.
Fancy standard, fifty-three to seventy-eight stalks to a bunch.

Standard, seventy-nine to one hundred fifteen stalks to a bunch.

"Crooks" when packed in bunches shall have no more than sixty-seven stalks to a bunch.

The number of stalks of asparagus packed in bunches shall not vary more than ten per cent from the count of the grade classification as marked, except that ten per cent, by count, of the bunches in any one container may exceed this tolerance.

All containers of asparagus packed in bunches shall bear upon them in plain sight and in plain letters on one outside end, the name of the person who first packed or authorized the packing of the asparagus, or the name under which such packer is engaged in business, together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer, the net weight, and in letters not less than one-half inch in height, the grade classification as herein established, except that crates of bunch packed asparagus which is badly crooked and so marked with the designation "crooks" need not bear any other grade classification; and in the case of bunches smaller than two pounds, with the number of bunches and minimum weight per bunch. When bunches of different grades are packed in one container, the markings on each container shall clearly show the number of bunches of each grade.

If ninety per cent, by count, of the stalks of asparagus in any container have less than fifty per cent of the length of the stalk white, the containers may be marked with the term "green."

Asparagus packed in bunches in which the stalks are seven and one-fourth inches or longer in length shall be in standard container number 51. Asparagus packed in bunches in which the stalks are less than seven and one-fourth inches in length shall be in standard container number 52. Other size containers may be used if conspicuously marked on the outside of the end which bears any marks intended to describe the contents of such container, in letters not less than one-half of an inch in height with the words "irregular container."

For the purpose of ascertaining all the facts mentioned or required in this section, the clerk, at the time the license is applied for may, if he deems it necessary in order to satisfy himself as to matters in this section enumerated, examine the applicants for a license on oath, which examination shall be reduced to writing by the clerk, and subscribed by them.

Application for a marriage license must be made at least three days and not more than thirty days, before the license shall be issued, upon a form which the county clerk shall furnish without charge. One of the parties to the marriage must sign the application before the county clerk; the other party need not appear in person at the time of making the application but must sign the application before some officer authorized by law to administer oaths and such officer shall take the acknowledgment of such signature without charge. This petition shall be set for hearing not sooner than ten days after the filing of said petition and notice thereof shall be given by the clerk of the court by posting a notice at the place where the court is held. On the day of hearing the petition proof shall be offered in behalf thereof showing the reasons for the making of said sale, mortgage, or deed of trust. If the court finds that it will be for the best interests of all persons concerned in the estate of said missing person to have said sale, mortgage, or deed of trust made, it shall order the trustee to sell any or all said property, real, personal or both, or to mortgage or give a deed of trust upon any of said real property, in the manner provided by this code for sales of property of deceased persons, and all the provisions of law regarding such sales shall govern

Before remitting to the treasury any sums collected under the provisions of this section, the Department of Finance may deduct an amount not to exceed fifty per cent of the sum or sums so received, the amount so deducted to be used in paying for services and other expenses incidental to the recovery of money or property as herein set forth.

The State Controller, upon approval of the Department of Finance, is hereby authorized and directed to approve for payment any claim to pay expenses incidental to the recovery of such money, which claim is not in excess of fifty per cent of any sum or sums received under the provisions of this section and remitted to the State treasury. Such claims shall be paid out of the fund in the State treasury, to the credit of which said sum or sums have been remitted.

SEC. 2. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution and will therefore take effect immediately. The facts constituting the necessity are that large sums of money owing the State of California in taxes is not being collected on account of tax evasion and unchecked shipments of taxable merchandise and that unless immediate investigation and action is undertaken, the State will lose large sums of money due it for taxes. The danger mentioned will be avoided if this act goes into immediate effect.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 5 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 5. Before calling said election the board of supervisors shall divide the proposed district into five wards or subdistricts, the boundaries of which shall be so drawn that each shall contain approximately an equal number of electors, as nearly as may be. The municipalities and any other territory included in the proposed district may be divided for the purpose of establishing the boundaries of said wards or subdistricts.
Sec. 2. Section 10 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 10. The acts of the board of directors shall be expressed by motion, resolution or ordinance; provided, no ordinance shall be passed by said board on the day of its introduction, nor within three days thereafter, nor at any time other than a regular or adjourned regular meeting. No ordinance, resolution or motion shall have any validity or effect unless passed by the affirmative votes of at least three directors. Except as elsewhere in this act specifically provided all ordinances shall be published once a day for at least seven days in some newspaper of general circulation printed or published or circulated in such district.

The enacting clause of all ordinances shall be as follows:

"Be it enacted by the board of directors of ________ municipal utility district;"

All ordinances shall be signed by the president of the board of directors, or vice president, and be attested by the secretary.

Sec. 3. Section 12 of the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 12. Any municipal utility district incorporated as herein provided shall have power:

First—To have perpetual succession.

Second—To sue and be sued, except as otherwise provided herein or by law, in all actions and proceedings, in all courts and tribunals of competent jurisdiction.

Third—To adopt a seal and alter it at pleasure.

Fourth—To take by grant, purchase, gift, devise, or lease, or condemn in proceedings under eminent domain, or otherwise acquire, and to hold and enjoy real and personal property of every kind within or without the district necessary to the full or convenient exercise of its powers. The directors of the district may lease, mortgage, sell or otherwise dispose of any real or personal property within or without the district when in their judgment it is for the best interests of the district so to do. The provisions of this section shall apply to all sales or mortgages heretofore or hereafter made.

Fifth—To acquire, construct, own, operate, control or use, within or without, or partly within and partly without, the district, works or parts of works for supplying the inhabitants of said district and municipalities therein, with light, water, power, heat, transportation, telephone service, or other means of communication, or means for the disposition of garbage, sewage, or refuse matter; and to do all things necessary or convenient to the full exercise of the powers herein granted; also to purchase any of the commodities or services aforementioned from any other utility district, municipality, person, or private company, and distribute the same. Whenever there is a surplus of water, light, heat or power above that which may be required by such inhabitants or municipalities within the district, such district shall have power to sell or otherwise dispose of such surplus outside of the district to persons, firms, and public or private corporations, or municipalities outside said district.

Whenever any of the facilities, works, or utilities of the district, or part thereof, is not used or employed to its fullest capacity for the benefit or requirements of the district or its inhabitants, such district shall have power to enter into an agreement or agreements with counties, cities, municipalities, irrigation districts, public utility companies, or any public corporations or agencies, upon such terms and conditions as may be satisfactory to its board of directors, for renting, leasing, or otherwise using the available portion or parts of such facilities, works, or utilities, and in connection with any such agreement, renting or leasing, the district may undertake or perform any services incidental thereto.

Sixth—To have or exercise the right of eminent domain in the manner provided by law for the condemnation of private property for public use. Seventh—To construct works across or along any street or public highway, or over any of the lands which are now or may be the property of this State, and to have the same rights and privileges appertaining thereto as have been or may be granted to municipalities within the State, and to construct its works across any stream of water or watercourse. The district shall restore any such street or highway to its former state as near as may be, and shall not use the same in a manner to unnecessarily impair its usefulness.

Eighth—To borrow money and incur indebtedness, and to issue bonds or other evidences of such indebtedness; also to refund or re-pay any indebtedness that may exist against or be assumed by the district; provided, no indebtedness shall be incurred exceeding the ordinary annual income and revenue of the district without the approval of a two-thirds vote of the electors voting on the proposition to incur such indebtedness; provided, however, that a further vote of the electors is not required for any indebtedness heretofore or hereafter incurred within the purposes and not exceeding the available amount of any previously authorized bond issue and as to such indebtedness the proceeds of any of such bonds unexpended in the treasury of the district, or the par value of any of such bonds which are unsold shall be deemed a part of the ordinary annual income and revenue of such district; provided further, that any district operating a utility under rules and regulations requiring applicants for extensions to advance the expenses of such extensions and facilities for serving additional territory may enter into agreements to refund to such applicants in a subsequent year the whole or any part of such expenses so advanced and such refunds may be paid out of the revenues of such subsequent years.

Ninth—To levy and collect, or cause to be levied and collected, taxes for the purpose of carrying on the operations and paying the obligations of the district.

Tenth—To make contracts, to employ labor, and to do all acts necessary and convenient for the full exercise of the powers herein in this act granted.

Eleventh—To proceed in the name of the district in case of condemnation proceedings.

Twelfth—To invest any surplus money in the district treasury, including money in any sinking fund established for the purpose of providing for the payment of the principal or interest of any bonded or other indebtedness or for any other purpose, not required for the immediate necessities of the district, in its own bonds, or in the treasury notes or bonds of the United States, or of this State, or bonds of any city and county, city, school district or county water district situated within the county or counties in which the municipal utility district is situated in whole or in part, or bonds of any county which includes any part of such municipal utility district, and such investment may be made by direct purchase of any issue of such bonds or treasury notes, or part thereof, at the original sale of the same or by the subsequent purchase of such bonds or treasury notes. Any bonds or treasury notes thus purchased and held may from time to time be sold and the proceeds reinvested in bonds or treasury notes as above provided. Sales of any bonds or treasury notes thus purchased and held shall from time to time be made in season so that the proceeds may be applied to the purposes for which the money, with which the bonds or treasury notes were originally purchased, was placed in the treasury of the district.

Sec. 4. Section 15b of the above-entitled act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 15b. All bonds heretofore or hereafter issued by the district shall be legal investment for all trust funds, and for the funds of all insurance companies, banks, both commercial and savings and trust companies, and for the State school fund, and for all sinking funds under the control of the State Treasurer, and whenever any moneys or funds may by law now or hereafter enacted be invested in, or loaned upon the security of, bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts, in the State of California, such moneys or funds may be invested in, or loaned upon the security of the bonds of the said district; and whenever bonds of cities, cities and counties, counties, or school districts by any law now or hereafter enacted may be used as security for the faithful performance or execution of any court or private trust or of any other act, bonds of the said district may be so used.

The bonds of the district, to the same extent as bonds of any other municipality, shall also be legal for use by any State or national bank or banks in the State as security for the deposit of funds of the State or of any county, city and county, city, municipality or other public or municipal corporation within the State.

Sec. 5. A new section is hereby added to the above-entitled act, to be numbered 15e, and to read as follows:

Sec. 15e. Whenever the board of directors shall by resolution passed by a vote of two-thirds of all its members determine that the refunding of the whole or any portion of its bonded indebtedness will be of advantage to the district, said board may refund such bonded indebtedness or any portion thereof and issue refunding bonds of the district therefor. The refunding bonds shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding the interest rate on the refunded bonds and shall mature serially in amounts to be fixed by the board of directors; provided that the payment of said bonds shall begin not later than one year from the date thereof and be completed in not more than forty years from said date. Said bonds shall be issued in such denominations as the board of directors determine except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place or places fixed in said bonds, with interest at the rate specified therein, which interest shall be payable semi-annually. Said bonds shall be signed by the president of the board of directors of the district or by such officer thereof as the board of directors shall by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members authorize and designate for that purpose. They shall also be signed by the treasurer thereof and be countersigned by the secretary thereof. The coupons of said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and be signed by the treasurer. In case any of such officers whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of said bonds to the purchaser, such signatures or countersignatures shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes the same as if they had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

Said bonds may be issued and sold by the board of directors of the district as they determine but for not less than their par value.

The proceeds of the sale of such refunding bonds shall be placed in the treasury of the district to the credit of the “Refunding fund” and shall be applied only to the purchase, or retirement at not more than par and accrued interest, of the bonded indebtedness for which said refunding bonds shall have been issued. In lieu of selling such refunding bonds and purchasing with the proceeds thereof the bonds to be refunded, the board of directors of the district may exchange refunding bonds at not less than par and accrued interest for the bonds, so refunded.
Whenever such outstanding bonds shall be refunded, they shall be surrendered to the treasurer of the district, who shall proceed to cancel the same by indorsing on the face thereof the manner in which the refunding shall have been effected (whether by exchange or purchase, and the amount for which so purchased, if any) and by perforating through each bond and each coupon attached thereto, the word "canceled" together with the date of cancellation.

All moneys which shall remain in said "Refunding fund" after all outstanding bonds which were proposed to be refunded therefrom have been taken up and canceled, shall be paid into the sinking fund of such district and become a part thereof.

The issuance of said refunding bonds shall not be construed as the incurring or increase of an indebtedness within the meaning of the provisions of section 12, subdivision eighth, or section 15 of this act, or of any other provision of this act.

The board of directors shall provide for the levy and collection of taxes to pay the principal and interest on said bonds and to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal of said bonds on or before maturity in accordance with the provisions of section 15 of this act.

The provisions of section 15b and 16 of this act shall apply to such refunding bonds except that the board of directors may cause refunding bond validation proceedings to be brought within sixty days from the date of the resolution authorizing the issuance of said refunding bonds.

CHAPTER 76.

An act to provide a method for improving public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts and places within municipalities of the sixth class, and for levying and collecting assessments upon property to pay for such improvements, and declaring the urgency hereof, to take effect immediately, and repealing an act approved May 25, 1933, relating to the same subject.

[Approved by the Governor April 26, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Definitions. (a) "Municipality" as used in this act shall mean and include any city of the sixth class incorporated under and existing by virtue of the provisions of "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations," approved March 13, 1883.

(b) "Streets" as used in this act shall mean and include the whole or any portion of any public street, avenue, lane, alley, court, or places within a municipality of the sixth class.
(c) "Improvement" as used in this act shall mean and include grading or regrading, paving or repaving, macadamizing or remacadamizing, reconstruction or repair of culverts, conduits, crosswalks, steps, parking or driveways, or for the repair of any street as herein defined.

(d) The words "city engineer" as used in this act shall mean the city engineer, superintendent of streets or other officer having the duties and powers ordinarily vested in such officers.

Sec. 2. Whenever the public interest or convenience require the improvement of any street in any municipality and eighty per cent (80%) of the abutting property owners on said street who own property which comprises at least fifty per cent (50%) of the front feet of the property fronting on said street petition the city council for the improvement of same, the city council may, by resolution passed by a four-fifths vote, declare its intention to improve such street. Such resolution shall hereinafter be referred to as the resolution of intention. Such resolution of intention shall describe the street or streets proposed to be improved and fix the time and place when the city council will hear protests in relation to said improvement, which time shall not be less than fifteen days nor more than thirty days from the date of the passage of said resolution of intention. It shall not be necessary to describe in detail such improvements but in such resolution of intention reference may be made to specifications, plans, cross-sections, profiles or any or all thereof pertaining to such improvement on file in the office of the city engineer for further particulars and descriptions of such improvement.

The city council shall not adopt said resolution of intention unless there are available to pay the entire cost of labor on the proposed improvement, funds obtained for such purpose from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or other Federal agency or from a charitable or relief organization or funds made available by the State for unemployment relief.

Sec. 3. The city clerk shall cause said resolution of intention to be published twice in some newspaper of general circulation published in said municipality. If no newspaper be published in said city, then the publication shall be made in some newspaper published in the county in which said city is located.

Upon the adoption of said resolution of intention, the city engineer shall thereupon cause to be conspicuously posted along all streets where work is to be done or improvement made, not more than three hundred feet apart and not less than three in all, notices of the passage of said resolution of intention. Said notices shall be headed "Notices of Improvement" in letters not less than one inch in height and shall in legible characters state the fact of the passage of said resolution, the date of its approval, the character of the improvement proposed, and shall refer to said resolution for further particulars. Said notices shall also contain a statement of the time and place when written protests to the proposed improvement may be filed with the city clerk, and the date, hour and place said protests will be heard by the city council as stated in the resolution of intention. In every case, all posting shall be completed at least ten days before the date set for hearing protests.

Sec. 4. The council shall direct the clerk to mail notices of the adoption of the resolution of intention to all persons owning real property proposed to be assessed, whose names and addresses appear on the last assessment roll for city taxes prior thereto or as known to the clerk, but the mailing of such notices shall not be essential to obtaining jurisdiction by the council and the failure so to do shall not affect in any manner the validity of any proceedings taken hereunder. Such notices shall contain a statement of the time, place and purpose of the hearing on the resolution of intention and a statement of the total estimated cost of the proposed improvement, together with a statement that any person interested may file protest as provided in this act. Said notice shall be mailed at least fifteen days prior to the date fixed for said hearing. The city clerk shall, upon the completion of the mailing of said notices, file with the city council an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with the above requirements for mailing notices.

Sec. 5. At any time, not later than the time set for hearing objections to the proposed improvement, as provided in the resolution of intention, the owner of any real property abutting on that portion or portions of the street or streets to be improved may file with the city clerk, addressed to the city council, a written protest respecting such improvements describing the property owned by him abutting on said improvement. At the time set for hearing protests or at the time to which the hearing of protests may be continued, the city council shall hear such protest or protests and pass upon the same and its decision thereupon shall be final and conclusive.

Sec. 6. If no written protest has been delivered to the city clerk up to the hour for hearing the protest provided in the resolution of intention or upon the overruling of any protest or protests filed, the city council may, by resolution, order such improvement and may direct the city engineer to make such improvement and to purchase the materials and employ the labor necessary therefor, and the city clerk shall deliver a copy of such order to the city engineer, who shall forthwith commence and proceed diligently with and complete such improvement without unnecessary delay and substantially in accordance with the specifications therefor.

If the expenditures for such improvement authorized by this act exceed the sum of five hundred dollars, the city council may advertise for bids and proceed in accordance with the provisions of section 874 of "An act to provide for the organization, incorporation and government of municipal corporations,' approved March 13, 1883; or the city council may direct the city engineer to make such improvement in the manner provided in the first paragraph of this section.

Sec. 7. Upon the completion of the improvements, the city engineer shall compute the cost and incidental expenses thereof, exclusive of any and all costs of labor on the improvement, and shall assess such amount against the several parcels of property fronting or abutting on the street or parts of streets along such improvement. The amount of each assessment shall become a lien against the parcel of property so assessed as of the date of the filing with the city council of the petition for improvement of the street or parts of streets; provided that said lien shall be subject to the confirmation of said assessment by the city council, as hereinafter provided.

Sec. 8. The city engineer shall prepare an assessment roll which shall briefly refer to the resolution of intention pursuant to which the improvements were made and shall show in detail the items of cost thereof, together with all incidental expenses; the name of each street improved; a description of each lot or parcel assessed; the amount of each assessment against each lot or portion of the lot so assessed; the name of the owner of each lot or portion thereof assessed as such ownership appears on the assessment roll of the city or as known to the city engineer, and the date of said assessment. There shall be appended to said assessment roll a certificate of the city engineer that said assessment roll shows in detail the items of costs and expenses of making such improvement. There shall be attached to said assessment roll a diagram delineating each street on which any work has been done, showing the relative location of each lot or portion thereof, the number to correspond with the number of the assessments. Said assessment roll shall also provide space to show the penalties for delinquency in the payment of the assessment and the date of payment. The said assessment shall be filed with the city clerk.

Sec. 9. Said clerk shall then give notice of the filing of said assessment and of a time to be therein fixed by said clerk when all persons interested in the work done or in the assessment will be heard by the city council. Such notice shall be posted for not less than five days on or near the council chamber door and, in addition, to be published twice in a newspaper published in such city, if there be one, and if there be none, then in some newspaper published in the county in which such city is located. The first of such publications shall be not less than fifteen days before the time fixed for such hearing.

Such notice shall also be given by mailing a notice at least fifteen days prior to the time fixed for such hearing to the owner of each lot listed according to the name and address appearing on the last assessment roll for city taxes prior thereto or as known to the clerk. Such notices shall designate the property abutting on said improvement and belonging to said owner by street number or some other description sufficient to enable the property owner to identify the property and a statement of the amount proposed to be assessed against such property. The city clerk shall, upon the completion of such mailing, file with the city council an affidavit setting forth the time and manner of the compliance with the above requirement for such mailing. The failure of the clerk to give such notice by mailing or of the person addressed to receive same shall not affect the jurisdiction of the council to proceed with the hearing noticed. Reference shall be made in said notices to the resolution of intention, the date of its passage, or a description of the work therein mentioned and no other description thereof shall be necessary.

Sec. 10. Any property owner affected under this act feeling aggrieved by the act or determination of said city engineer or said city council relating to said improvement, or who may claim that said improvement was not made in a workmanlike manner or having any objections to the correctness or legality of the entries in said assessment roll, may, in writing, at any time prior to the time for hearing protests stated in the notice provided for in section 9 hereof, make and file with the city clerk his objections or protests at the time so fixed for protests.
The city engineer shall present to the city council said assessment roll and the entries thereon pertaining to said assessment roll. The city council at said time shall consider any and all objections or protests which may have been duly filed. Thereupon, or at any time to which the matter may be adjourned, the city council may remedy or correct any error or informality in the proceedings and revise and correct any of the acts and determinations of said city engineer or any other officer of the city relating to said improvement, and may confirm, amend, set aside, alter, modify or correct said changes entered in said assessment roll in such manner as it shall deem just and equitable. The decision and determination of the city council in such matters shall be final and conclusive upon all persons entitled to object or protest under the provisions of this act.

Sec. 11. Upon confirmation of said assessment, the city engineer shall record said roll in a suitable record book and shall give notice by publication once in a newspaper published in such city, if there be one, and if there be none, then in some newspaper published in the county in which such city is located, that said assessment has been confirmed and that all sums assessed in said assessment roll pursuant to this act are due and payable immediately and that the payment of said sum or sums is to be made to the city engineer within forty-five days after the date of the first publication, which date shall be stated in said notice. Said notice shall also contain a statement that all assessments not paid before the expiration of said forty-five days will become delinquent and that from and after the date of such delinquency all assessments shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum for a period not to exceed twelve months, and upon the expiration of said twelve months following the date of delinquency, a penalty of ten per cent of the assessment will be imposed and added thereto.

Sec. 12. The city engineer shall immediately, upon publication of the notice required by section 11 hereof, mail, postage prepaid, to each property owner or reputed owners of property to be assessed for said improvement, at his last known address as the same appears on the assessment roll of said city or as known by the city engineer, a notice of the amount of his assessment, the date on which same will be delinquent, and the costs and penalties that will accrue in the event of nonpayment before delinquency.

Sec. 13. Upon the expiration of the said period of forty-five days, all assessments then unpaid shall become delinquent and the city engineer shall cause each such assessment to be marked "Delinquent" in said assessment roll and shall cause the costs and penalties as set forth in section 11 hereof to be added thereto and recorded in said assessment roll.

Sec. 14. All moneys due and collected by the city engineer for such improvement shall be properly entered in a suitable record book as provided for in section 11 hereof and said moneys shall be turned over to the city treasury at the expiration of any month in which any collections have been made accompanied by a statement of credits as entered in said record book of the city engineer.

Sec. 15. The city engineer shall, on the first day of July of each and every year, add a penalty of five per cent to the amount of each delinquent assessment unpaid on said date, provided such assessment has been delinquent and unpaid for a period of at least twelve months and has already had imposed and added thereto the costs and penalties prescribed in section 11 hereof; and thereupon he shall deliver to the city clerk who, in turn, shall deliver to the county assessor, the assessment roll, together with an abstract of the entries in said assessment roll herein provided to be kept. Such abstract shall show each and every delinquent assessment, together with the costs and penalties, the property affected and the amount charged there against.

The amount of such charges and penalties shall be a lien against the respective property charged therewith of the same character and effect and shall be collected in the same manner and at the same time as city taxes, between the fifteenth day of November of each and every year and the date upon which taxes become payable. Such charge or charges and penalties shall bear the same costs and penalties that delinquent taxes bear as provided by law.

Sec. 16. The city council may, by resolution, at the time the resolution of intention is adopted, assume the payment of a proportion of the cost of said improvement or all costs over and above a certain amount. The cost to the owners of property abutting on said street proposed to be improved, shall in no event exceed ten per cent of the assessed valuation of said property, excluding improvements thereon, and any assessment levied to pay the cost of such improvement shall not exceed ten per cent of the assessed valuation of said property.

Sec. 17. Nothing contained in this act shall be construed to supersede, limit or change any of the provisions of the Special Assessment, Investigation, Limitation and Majority Protest Act of 1931.

No action or proceedings for the improvement of any street in any municipality shall be taken under the provisions of this act when there exists or is outstanding any assessment whatsoever for street improvement against the property abutting said street for which the improvement is proposed.

Sec. 18. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase of this act is for any reason held to be unconstitutional, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portion of this act. The Legislature hereby declares that it would have passed this act and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more sections, subsections, sentences, clauses or phrases be declared unconstitutional.

Sec. 19. "An act to provide a method for improving public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts and places within municipalities of the sixth class, and for levying and collecting assessments upon property to pay for such improvements, and declaring the urgency hereof, to take effect immediately," approved May 25, 1933, is hereby repealed.

The facts constituting such necessity are as follows:

The continuance of the widespread depression has kept many people out of employment and continues to make it impossible for them to obtain work. By allowing street improvements to be made in accordance with this act, such work can be begun more quickly and thereby employment can be furnished to needy persons throughout the State, thereby relieving unemployment and removing many persons from the relief rolls.

Sec. 21. This act shall become ineffective and inoperative on and after May 1, 1936.

CHAPTER 78.

An act to provide for the formation of districts within municipalities for the acquisition, construction or extension of water works, water systems or water distribution systems; for the issuance, sale and payment of bonds of such districts to meet the cost of such water works, water systems or water distribution systems; and for the acquisition, construction or extension of such water works, water systems or water distribution systems.

[Approved by the Governor April 26, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Any portion of a municipality incorporated under the laws of this State may be formed into a municipal water district for the purpose of creating an indebtedness, to be represented by bonds of said district, the proceeds from the sale of which shall be used for the acquisition, construction or extension of water works, water systems or water distribution systems for supplying said district and the inhabitants thereof with water for domestic, agricultural, industrial or other purposes which such municipality is authorized by law to acquire, construct or extend. Such districts shall be formed and such bonds shall be issued and sold in the manner and under the proceedings hereinafter set forth.

Sec. 2. Whenever a petition verified by one or more persons and signed by not less than ten per cent of the qualified electors residing in the territory which is proposed to be formed into a municipal water district, setting forth a general description of the water works, water system or water distribution system to be acquired, constructed or extended and a general description of the exterior boundaries of such proposed district, shall have been filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city, and the genuineness of the signature thereto shall have been certified to by the city clerk, said legislative body may adopt an ordinance declaring its intention to call an election in said proposed district, or as the same may have been modified as herein provided, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of said district the proposition of authorizing the issuance and sale of bonds of such district in the manner and for the purpose set forth in said ordinance of intention. Said legislative body shall have power to change or modify the boundaries of said district and the nature, character or extent of such proposed water works, water system or water distribution system. Said ordinance of intention shall also contain:

1. An accurate description of the exterior boundaries of the proposed municipal water district;

2. A general description of the water works, water system or water distribution system proposed to be acquired, constructed or extended;
3. An estimate of the cost of the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system and an estimate of the incidental expense in connection the work;

4. That upon a certain date fixed therein an election will be held in such district for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters thereof the proposition of incurring indebtedness by the issuance of bonds of such district to pay the cost and expenses of the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system, and that a map showing the exterior boundaries of said district with relation to the territory immediately contiguous thereto, and a general description of the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system are on file in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of such city; which said map shall govern for all details as to the extent of the said district;

5. A date, hour and place fixed for the hearing of protests.

SEC. 3. Said ordinance shall be published once a day for at least six days in some newspaper of general circulation published at least six days a week in said city, or once a week for two weeks in some newspaper published less than six days per week in such municipality, and one insertion each week for two succeeding weeks shall be sufficient publication in such newspaper published less than six days per week. Such ordinance, unless otherwise provided by charter of the municipality, shall take effect upon the completion of said publication. In municipalities where no such newspaper is published such ordinance shall be posted in three public places therein, and in case of posting notice such ordinance shall take effect two weeks after date of such posting of notice.

SEC. 4. Any person interested, objecting to the formation of said district, or to the extent of said district, or to the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system, or to the acquiring, construction or extension thereof, or to the inclusion of his property in said district, may file a written protest, setting forth such objection, with the clerk of the legislative body at or before the time set for the hearing of said petition. The clerk of said legislative body shall indorse on each such protest the date of its reception by him, and, at the time appointed for the hearing above provided for, shall present to said board all protests so filed with him. Said legislative body shall hear said protests at the time appointed or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and pass upon the same, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If any of such protests against the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system, or against the acquisition, construction or extension thereof be sustained, no further proceeding shall be had or taken pursuant to the petition, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained. If any of such protests be against the extent of said district, or against the inclusion of property in said district, then the legislative body shall have power to make such changes in the boundaries of the proposed district as it shall find to be proper and advisable, and shall define and establish such boundaries. But said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries so as to include any territory which will not in its judgment, be benefited by said water works, water system or water distribution system.

Said legislative body shall not modify such boundaries except after notice of its intention so to do, given by one insertion in said newspaper, describing the proposed modification and specifying a time for hearing objections to such modification, which time shall be at least ten days after the publication of said notice. Written objections to said proposed modification may be filed with the clerk of said legislative body by any interested person at or before the time set for hearing the same. Said legislative body shall hear and pass upon such objections at the time appointed, or at any time to which the hearing thereof may be adjourned, and its decision thereon shall be final and conclusive. If such objections, or any of them, be sustained, no further proceedings pursuant to such petition shall be taken, but a new petition for the same or a similar purpose may be filed at any time after the expiration of six months from the date such protest was sustained.

At the expiration of the time within which protests may be filed, if none be filed, or if protests be filed and after hearing be denied, or at the expiration of the time within which objections to the modification of the boundaries of the district, in case such modification be proposed, may be filed, if none be filed, or if such objections be filed, and, after hearing, be overruled, as above provided, then said legislative body shall be deemed to have acquired jurisdiction to proceed further in accordance with the provisions of this act.

Sec. 5. At any time after said legislative body shall have so acquired jurisdiction, it may call an election to be held within the district described in the ordinance or resolution calling the election, which description shall conform with any changes in boundaries that may have been made under section 4 hereof, and provide for the submission to the qualified voters thereof, the proposition of incurring a debt by the issuance of bonds of such district, for the purposes set forth in the ordinance of intention. The ordinance or resolution calling such election, shall also recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed indebtedness is to be incurred, the nature of the water works, water system or water distribution system, contemplated thereby, the estimated cost thereof, the estimated cost of the incidental expense in connection therewith, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred therefor, which principal of indebtedness shall not exceed twenty-five per cent of the assessed value of the taxable land in said district as shown by the assessment-roll of such city last equalized at the time such election is held, and the rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness; provided, rate of interest.
however, that in its discretion said legislative body may recite in such ordinance or resolution a maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness, which rate when so recited, shall not be exceeded in the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness; and said ordinance or resolution shall fix the date on which such election shall be held, the manner of holding the same and the manner of voting for or against said proposition. The maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be six per centum per annum, payable semiannually.

Sec. 6. For the purposes of said election said legislative body shall in said ordinance, or resolution, establish one or more precincts within the boundaries of said district, designate a polling place and appoint one inspector, one judge and one clerk for each such precinct. In all particulars not recited in such ordinance, or resolution, such election shall be held as provided by law for the holding of general municipal elections in such city. Said ordinance, or resolution, ordering the holding of said election shall, prior to the date fixed for such election be published five times in a daily, or twice in a weekly or semiweekly newspaper of general circulation, printed and published in said city and designated by said legislative body for said purpose. In cities where no such newspaper is published, such ordinance, or resolution, shall be posted in three public places therein two weeks preceding the date fixed for the holding of such election. No other notice of such election need be given. If at such election two-thirds of all the voters voting at said election, shall vote in favor of incurring such bonded indebtedness, then such legislative body shall thereupon be authorized and empowered to issue the bonds of said district for the amount provided for in such proceedings, payable out of funds of such district, to be provided as in this act prescribed.

Sec. 7. Said legislative body shall, subject to the provisions of this act, prescribe the form of said bonds, and of the interest coupons attached thereto. Said bonds shall be payable in the following manner:

Manner of payment. A part, to be determined by said legislative body, and which shall not be less than one-fortieth part of the whole amount of such indebtedness, shall be payable each and every year, on a day and date, and at a place to be fixed by said legislative body and designated in such bonds, together with the interest on all sums unpaid on such date, until the whole of said indebtedness shall have been paid; provided, however, that said legislative body may in its discretion determine and fix a date for the earliest maturity of the principal of such bonds, not more than ten (10) years from the date of the issue of such bonds, but in this event the whole amount of such indebtedness must be made payable in equal annual parts in not to exceed forty years from the time of contracting the same.
The bonds shall be issued in such denomination as said legislative body may determine, except that no bonds shall be of a less denomination than one hundred dollars, nor of a greater denomination than one thousand dollars, and shall be payable on the day and at the place fixed in such bonds, and with interest at the rate specified in such bonds, which rate shall not be in excess of six per centum per annum, and shall be paid semiannually; and said bonds shall be signed by the chief executive of the municipality, or by such other officer thereof as the legislative body of the municipality shall, by resolution adopted by a two-thirds vote of all its members, authorize and designate for that purpose, and also signed by the treasurer thereof, and shall be countersigned by the clerk. The interest coupons on said bonds shall be numbered consecutively and signed by the treasurer of such municipality by his engraved or lithographed signature. In case any such officers, whose signatures or countersignatures appear on the bonds or coupons shall cease to be such officer before the delivery of such bonds to the purchaser, such signature or countersignature shall nevertheless be valid and sufficient for all purposes, the same as if such officer had remained in office until the delivery of the bonds.

At any time prior to the sale of said bonds and notwithstanding the fact that a tax may have been levied to pay principal and interest or principal or interest of any of said unsold bonds, the said unsold bonds may be redated and the maturities, denominations, form, interest rate or any thereof may be changed, and, after such changes are made, the bonds issued pursuant thereto may be sold; provided, the interest rate of the bonds shall not exceed the rate authorized at the election. If a tax has theretofore been levied to pay principal and interest or principal or interest of any of said unsold bonds, the said tax, when collected, shall be used to pay the principal and interest or principal or interest of the bonds actually issued and sold.

Sec. 8. Said legislative body may issue and sell the bonds of such district authorized as hereinabove provided, at not less than par value, and the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be placed in the treasury of such municipality to the credit of the proper district fund and shall be applied exclusively to the purposes and objects mentioned in the ordinance or resolution ordering the holding of the bond election as aforesaid and to the incidental expense in connection therewith.

At any time prior to the actual sale of any of the bonds of any issue authorized under the provisions of this act, a petition verified by one or more persons and signed by not less than twenty-five per cent of the qualified electors residing in the municipal water district and praying that no bonds be sold and the entire issue be canceled and all proceedings thereunder abandoned may be filed in the office of the clerk of the legislative body of said city.
The genuineness of the signatures thereeto must be examined and certified to by the city clerk within two weeks from and after the filing thereof and within three weeks after the clerk has so certified the legislative body of the city must by ordinance call an election and submit to the qualified electors within the district the proposition of whether or not the bonds shall be canceled and all proceedings for the issuance thereof abandoned. The ordinance or resolution calling such election shall fix the date thereof and recite the objects and purposes for which the proposed bonded indebtedness was to be incurred, the nature of the water works, water system or water distribution system contemplated: hereby, the estimated cost thereof, the estimated cost of the incidental expenses in connection therewith, the amount of the principal of the indebtedness to be incurred, and the rate of interest all as specified in the ordinance or resolution calling the election upon the proposition of incurring the bonded debt. In all other particulars such election shall be called and held in the manner provided by section 6 of this act.

If at such election a majority of the voters voting thereat vote in favor of canceling the bonds and abandoning proceedings for the issuance thereof, then such legislative body shall order the bonds canceled and declare the proceedings for the issuance thereof abandoned and thereafter the legislative body shall have no power to issue the said bonds. If said bonds have been printed or prepared for delivery they shall forthwith be destroyed.

In case the proceeding is abandoned the legislative body of such city shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect a tax upon the taxable land within the boundaries of the district theretofore formed under this act, sufficient to pay the engineering, legal and other incidental expenses incurred by such city in the proceedings theretofore had under the provisions of this act and to reimburse the said city for such sums as it may have advanced therefor, and from the funds derived from said tax shall pay such engineering, legal and other incidental expenses and reimburse the city for such sums as it has advanced therefor.

Sec. 9. The legislative body of such city shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy, and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect a tax each year upon the taxable property in such district sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds for that year, and such portion of the principal thereof as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy; provided, however, that if the maturity of the indebtedness created by the issue of such bonds be made to begin more than one year after the date of such issue, such tax shall be levied and collected, at the time and in the manner aforesaid, each year sufficient to pay the interest on such indebtedness as it falls due, and also to constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal thereof on or before maturity. Such tax shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and when collected shall be paid into the treasury of such city and be used for the payment of the principal and interest on such bonds, and for no other purpose. The principal and interest on such bonds shall be paid by the treasurer of such city in the manner provided by law for the payment of principal and interest on bonds of such city.

Sec. 10. All contracts for the construction or extension of any water works, water system or water distribution system, or for furnishing labor, materials or supplies therefor as herein provided, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder. The legislative body of such city shall advertise for two or more days in a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in such city, inviting sealed proposals for furnishing labor, materials and supplies for the proposed water works, water system or water distribution system before any contract shall be made therefor. The said legislative body shall have the right to require such bonds as it may deem best from the successful bidder to insure the faithful performance of the contract, and shall also have the right to reject any and all bids; provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting the municipality itself from constructing or extending such water works, water system or water distribution system and employing the labor necessary therefor, without a contractor; and provided further, that in municipalities operating under a charter heretofore or hereafter framed under the provisions of the Constitution of the State of California, all acts required to be performed subsequent to the sale of such bonds by this act, shall be done and performed by the proper body, board, officer or commission of such municipality, as is required or authorized by such charter to perform such acts, and in case such charter also prescribes the manner of letting and entering into contracts for the furnishing of labor, materials or supplies for the constructing or extending of such water works, water system or water distribution system, the contracts therefor shall be let and entered into in conformity with such charter.

Sec. 11. Said municipality shall, by and through its proper officers, have full power and authority to expend the proceeds acquired from the sale of such bonds for the acquisition, construction or extension of the water works, water system or water distribution system set forth in the ordinance calling said election, and shall also have full power and authority to acquire, construct or extend such water works, water system or water distribution system and such water works, water system or water distribution system so acquired, constructed or extended shall be the property of such municipality.

Sec. 12. Whenever the legislative body of any municipality in which a municipal water district has been formed hereunder, shall by resolution declare that it is no longer necessary to expend the money raised by the sale of bonds of such municipal water district for the purpose for which said bonds were voted, by reason of the fact that such purpose has been accomplished by other means, or by reason of the fact that the acquisition, construction or extension of the water works, water system or water distribution system for which said bonds were voted is no longer required by the public interest, convenience, and necessity, or if a surplus remains in said bond fund after the completion of such water works, water system or water distribution system for which said bonds were voted, the legislative body of said municipality shall by resolution order that said money be placed into a sinking fund for the purpose of paying the principal and interest of said bonds.

In the event that after the legislative body shall have found that it is no longer necessary to expend the money raised by the sale of bonds for any municipal water district for the purpose for which said bonds were voted as therein provided; or if upon the completion of such water works, water system or water distribution system a surplus exists in the sinking fund created for the purpose of paying the principal and interest on said bonds, then and in that event the legislative body may authorize and direct the city treasurer to advertise for the purchase of any outstanding bonds at par. Said treasurer shall thereupon cause to be published once in a newspaper of general circulation in the municipality a notice that upon a day and hour certain the said treasurer will purchase at par and to the extent of the surplus remaining any outstanding bonds of the district. In purchasing said bonds the treasurer shall purchase any bonds offered in the inverse order of their maturity. Any bonds so purchased shall be canceled and the interest and sinking fund credited therewith.

CHAPTER 85.

An act to amend section 98 of the California Irrigation District Act and to repeal sections 99, 99 1/2, 106, 107 and 108 of said act, all relating to the cancellation and destruction of unissued or unsold bonds and coupons of irrigation districts, and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor April 26, 1935. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 98 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Sec. 98. Whenever the whole or any portion of any issue of bonds of any irrigation district organized or existing under the provisions of this act, including original and refunding and refunding issues or any of them, shall remain unsold or unissued for more than one year after the date of the election at which such bonds were authorized, the board of directors of said district may in its discretion, by a resolution adopted by the affirmative votes of directors constituting at least two-thirds of the membership of said board, cancel all or any of said bonds so remaining unsold or unissued and all coupons attached or appurtenant thereto, and thereafter no other bonds shall be issued in pursuance of the proceedings taken in relation to the issuance of the bonds so canceled; provided, that whenever any such resolution is offered the consideration thereof shall be postponed to a date to be fixed by the board and said resolution shall be published once a week for at least two successive weeks in a newspaper published in the county in which the office of the district is located together with a notice stating the time fixed by the board for the consideration of said resolution. Any bonds and coupons so canceled shall be destroyed under the direction of said board.
Sec. 2. Section 99 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby repealed.
Sec. 3. Section 99 1/2 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby repealed.
Sec. 4. Section 106 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby repealed.
Sec. 5. Section 107 of the California Irrigation District Act is hereby repealed.

The following is a statement of the facts constituting such necessity:

Due to present depressed economic conditions many bond issues of irrigation districts previously authorized but unsold can not be sold and other bonds issued by such districts are in default, and it is necessary that such outstanding bonds be refinanced in order that said districts may continue to function. Federal agencies have offered to come to the relief of such districts but as a condition precedent to the granting of such aid by the Federal agencies it is necessary that such authorized or unsold bonds be immediately canceled, and it is necessary that means be afforded for the immediate cancellation and destruction of such unissued and unsold bonds and coupons as herein provided.

CHAPTER 86.

An act to amend sections 656 and 663 of the Political Code, to abolish the Division of Service and Supply in the Department of Finance and to provide for the membership of the State Board of Control as a result thereof.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 656 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

656. CHAPTER 89.

An act to confirm and validate the boundaries of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor April 27, 1925. In effect immediately.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. The boundaries of every school district, high school district or junior college district, of any kind or class, as the same one year prior to the taking effect of this act, were established or were actually defined on the maps or plats of such district provided or furnished to the assessor of the county or counties in which such district, or any part thereof, is situated, are hereby confirmed, validated and declared to be legally established; provided that within one year prior to the taking effect of this act any school tax purporting to be for school purposes of such school district, high school district or junior college district has been levied in such district.

school districts, high school districts and junior college districts within the State of California have been established, enlarged, changed or altered within the last two years, and many of such districts thereafter have voted bonds for raising money with which to purchase school lots, for building or purchasing one or more school buildings, or making alterations or additions to same, or restoring or rebuilding school buildings damaged, injured or destroyed by fire or other public calamity, for insuring school buildings, for supplying school buildings with furniture or necessary apparatus, for improving school grounds, for liquidating any indebtedness already incurred for said purposes or refunding any valid outstanding indebtedness of such districts evidenced by bonds or warrants thereof. The proceedings in the establishment, enlargement, change or alteration of boundaries of such districts in many instances were irregular and by reason of such minor irregularities and defects in such proceedings not jurisdictional such bonds can not now be sold. The present school facilities of such districts are inadequate to meet the needs of the pupils in such districts, and it is necessary and urgent that such proceedings be validated at an early date.

CHAPTER 90.

An act to legalize refunding bonds heretofore issued and sold, or to be issued and sold, by counties or cities and counties where authority for such issuance has already been given by a vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such counties or cities and counties voting upon the proposition of incurring such indebtedness, and providing for a levy of taxes to pay the principal and interest of such refunding bonds.

[Approved by the Governor April 27, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In all cases where the board of supervisors of any county or city and county in this State has deemed it necessary to refund an outstanding indebtedness evidenced by bonds or warrants of such county, and has called an election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of such county or city and county the proposition whether such indebtedness shall be refunded, and where not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting on any such proposition shall have voted in favor of refunding such indebtedness, and authorized the issuance of refunding bonds of such county or city and county for such purposes, the power of such county or city and county to issue refunding bonds not exceeding the amount so authorized and all acts and proceedings of such county or city and county leading up to and including the issuance and sale, or the proposed issuance and sale of refunding bonds to such amount are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such refunding bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value, are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such county or city and county so issuing and selling the same, and the full faith and credit of such county or city and county is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of such refunding bonds.

Sec. 2. The board of supervisors of such county or city and county, at the time of making the next general tax levy after incurring the indebtedness of any such refunding bonds, and annually thereafter until all of such refunding bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of such county or city and county set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for principal and interest on such refunding bonds, must levy a tax for that year upon the taxable property of such county or city and county for the interest and redemption of such refunding bonds, which shall be in addition to all other taxes, and such tax must not be less than sufficient to pay the interest on such refunding bonds, and such portion of the principal, if any, as is to become due before the time for making the next general tax levy and in any event must be sufficient to raise annually for the first half of the term such refunding bonds have to run, a sufficient sum to pay the interest thereon; and during the balance of the term sufficient to pay such annual interest, and to provide annually a proportion of the principal of such refunding bonds equal to a sum produced by taking the whole amount of such refunding bonds outstanding and dividing it by the number of years such refunding bonds then have to run. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for county or city and county purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other county or city and county taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said refunding bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

Sec. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any refunding bonds of any county or city and county that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, received the affirmative vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such county or city and county voting upon the proposition of refunding such indebtedness, or any refunding bonds which have been sold for less than their par value, or any refunding bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.
CHAPTER 91.

An act to validate the organization and existence of school districts, high school districts and junior college districts of every kind and class.

Sec. 2. The legislative branch of such municipality shall, at the time of fixing the general tax levy and in the manner for such general tax levy provided, levy and collect annually each year until said refunding bonds are paid or until there shall be a sum in the treasury of said municipal corporation set apart for that purpose sufficient to meet all sums coming due for the principal and interest on such refunding bonds, a tax sufficient to pay the annual interest on such refunding bonds and also such part of the principal thereof as shall become due before the time for fixing the next general tax levy. The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said refunding bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

[Approved by the Governor April 27, 1935 In effect September 15, 1935]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. In all cases where the legislative branch of any municipality in this State has deemed it necessary to incur an indebtedness in excess of the ordinary annual income and the revenue of such municipality, and has called an election for the purpose of submitting to the qualified electors of such municipality the question whether such indebtedness shall be incurred, and where at such election so held, after due notice thereof was given, for the time and in the manner prescribed by law, not less than two-thirds of all the qualified electors voting thereat shall have voted in favor of incurring such indebtedness, and the mode of creating such indebtedness has been by the proposed issuance of the bonds of such municipality, the power of such municipality to issue such bonds and all the acts and proceedings of such municipality leading up to and including the issuance and sale, or the proposed issuance and sale of such bonds are hereby legalized, ratified, confirmed and declared valid to all intents and purposes; and all such bonds, sold either before or after the passage of this act for not less than their par value, are hereby legalized and declared to be legal and valid obligations of and against such municipality so issuing and selling the same, and the faith and credit of such municipality is hereby pledged for the prompt payment and redemption of the principal and interest of said bonds.

The taxes herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for municipal purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other municipal taxes are collected and be used for no other purpose than for the payment of said bonds and the accruing interest thereon.

Sec. 3. This act shall not operate to legalize any bonds of any municipality that have not, at the time of the passage of this act, been authorized by the vote of not less than two-thirds of the qualified electors of such municipality voting at any such election, or any bonds which have been sold for less than their par value, or any bonds which mature at a date more than forty years from the time of their issuance.

many of its citizens unable to pay the principal sum of their debts or to otherwise finance their loans. As a result thereof, through foreclosure actions, they are being deprived of their property. The provisions of the mortgage moratorium statute are being evaded by persons who in addition to the security afforded by real estate mortgages and deeds of trust on real estate, also take chattel mortgages to secure the same obligation. Consequently the evil sought to be corrected by statutes relating to moratoria on mortgages and deeds of trusts on real estate can not be completely effective unless the situation covered by this act is remedied.

In case partial redemption has been made the above form shall be modified so as to conform to the facts. Where property has been sold to the district and a deed for it has been given to the district as the purchaser, such district shall have the same rights thereto, and to the rents, issues and profits thereof, as a private purchaser. The title so acquired by the district may be conveyed by deed, executed and acknowledged by the president and secretary of the board of directors; provided, that authority to so convey must be conferred by resolution of the board of directors entered on its minutes fixing the price at which such sale may be made.

CHAPTER 134.

An act authorizing municipalities to afford special assessment relief by the appropriation of money for the reduction of special assessments and the payments on bonds issued to represent such assessments, and by the payment of any portion of the principal or interest of, or by the purchase or redemption at a discount of, or by the transfer to the streets, bridges and culverts within such cities, and providing a method for the making of such appropriations.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. The legislative body of any municipality may by resolution, adopted by a four-fifths vote of the members thereof, determine that any improvement of streets within such municipality is of more than local benefit, that the assessments theretofore levied against the property fronting thereon or in the assessment district are unjust and are in excess of the benefits derived from such improvements, and that public moneys be appropriated to reduce such assessments. Such resolution shall refer to said improvement as designated in the assessment proceedings, state the amount of money to be appropriated and the fund or funds from which it is to be paid.

may be used for: the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of streets, or for the acquisition of rights of way therefor, or from any other fund available for the purposes of this act.

SEC. 3. Said appropriations may be made to reduce special assessments and special assessment bonds levied and issued against real property fronting upon such public improvements or in the district estimated to have been benefited thereby; for the payment of any portion of the principal or interest of, or for the purchase and redemption at a discount of, or the transfer to the interest and sinking fund for the discharge and payment of bonds, the proceeds of which have been used for the acquisition of rights of way or easements for, or for the construction, maintenance, improvement or repair of streets bridges or culverts within such municipality.
CHAPTER 135.

An act to remit to holders of certificates of purchase of State lands one-half of any penalty which has accrued on account of failure of any such purchaser to pay interest when due, in consideration of the payment by any such purchaser, on or before December 31, 1935, to the State of California, of any sums due the State on account of interest, plus the remaining one-half of any accrued penalties.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Each and every purchaser of any lands sold by the State of California by virtue of certificates of purchase shall be entitled to a remission of one-half of any penalty accrued on account of failure to pay interest in accordance with the law governing the sale of any such land, upon condition that any such purchaser make payment in full to the State of California on or before December 31, 1935, of any and all sums then due the State on account of interest, together with the balance of any such penalty.

CHAPTER 136.

An act to confirm, ratify and make valid ordinances heretofore passed by the city council or the people of any incorporated city creating a Civil Service Commission and placing employees of the city under control of said civil service commission.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Ordinances creating civil service commissions and placing employees thereunder, are hereby ratified.

Sec. 2. In all acts where, prior to the passage of this act, a civil service commission has been created by ordinance either by the city council or by the electors of the city, and employees of the city have been placed under such civil service commission, such ordinance shall be, and shall be held and deemed as valid and legal as the same would have been if express authority to pass such ordinance had been heretofore granted by the Legislature.
An act to amend an act entitled "An act relating to the redemption of property sold to irrigation districts for delinquent assessments, and declaring the urgency thereof," approved September 20, 1934, by amending sections 1 and 3 of said act and adding a new section to be numbered 4 and to validate redemptions heretofore made, and declaring the urgency thereof.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect immediately]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 1 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:

Section 1. In all cases where land has been sold to an irrigation district prior to September 30, 1934, for any delinquent irrigation district tax or assessment and the district still holds the certificate of sale, and a deed for the land has not been taken by the district at any time prior to redemption of the land as provided by law, or by this act, and if all Installments of taxes or assessments which have become due and payable after July 1, 1934, are paid, then the owner of said land may, notwithstanding any of the provisions of sections 43 and 46 of the California Irrigation District Act, or the provisions of any other section or sections of said act or the provisions of the Palo Verde Irrigation District Act, as amended, redeem the same by the payment of the original amount of all unpaid assessments in ten equal annual installments plus seven percent interest on said total amount from July 1, 1934, to the date of the first payment, and thereafter interest at the same rate on all deferred payments. More than one installment may be paid on or before the due date thereof. The first installment shall be paid on or before July 1, 1935, and the second installment shall be paid on or before July 1, 1936, and each succeeding installment on or before July 1 of each respective calendar year thereafter, provided that no such installation shall be accepted by the collector unless there is paid therewith or shall have been paid prior thereto the full amount of any assessment or assessments that shall have become due and payable since the payment of the last previous installment, together with all penalties and costs, if any, which shall have accrued thereon. No other amount shall be required to be paid in order to effect such redemption either by way of penalties for delinquencies, redemption penalties or costs. This act is not intended to repeal or modify any of the provisions of the California Irrigation District Act, nor any of the provisions of the Palo Verde Irrigation District Act, as amended, except as to those sales for delinquent assessments made prior to September 30, 1934.

Section 2. Section 3 of said act is hereby amended to read as follows:
Sec. 3. This act shall not affect the operation of any existing law providing for such redemption by installments, but shall be a separate independent means of such redemption. Provided, that the redemptioner may at his option change from any previous installment plan of redemption provided by law for the redemption of such property and redeem the same by the payment of the amount of the unpaid portion of the total amount of said delinquent assessments as in this act provided, in which event he shall receive credit for all payments exclusive of interest made under such previous plan.

Sec. 3. Any payment on account of the redemption of any land heretofore received by the collector of any irrigation district under an erroneous construction of the act of which this act is amendatory is hereby declared valid and sufficient for the purpose for which such payment was accepted, provided such payment was in an amount equal to at least one-tenth of the total amount of the assessments then delinquent on said land.

Sec. 4. This act is hereby declared to be an urgency measure within the meaning of section 1 of Article IV of the Constitution necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health and safety and as such shall take effect immediately.

The following is a statement of facts constituting such necessity:

The act amended by this act was passed as an urgency measure and the necessity for the same still exists. Many redemptions have been made in accordance with the provisions of the act, or in an attempt to comply with the provisions of the act, but owing to the wording of the act various irrigation district collectors have placed different interpretations on some of its provisions. This act is for the purpose of clarifying those provisions and as the right of the landowner to make redemption under the act will expire on July 1, 1935, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 138.

An act to amend sections 3366 and 4041.14 and to repeal section 3381 of the Political Code, relating to the licensing of businesses by the counties.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935 In effect September 15, 1935]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

This section shall not be deemed to repeal any act vesting municipal corporations with power to license for revenue purposes.

Sec. 2. Section 4041.14 of the Political Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

4041.14. Under such limitations and restrictions as are prescribed by law, and in addition to jurisdiction and powers otherwise conferred, the boards of supervisors, in their respective counties, shall have the jurisdiction and powers to license, in the exercise of their police powers, and for the purpose of regulation, as herein provided, and not otherwise, all and every kind of business not prohibited by law, and transacted and carried on within the limits of their respective jurisdictions, and all shows, exhibitions, and lawful games carried on therein, to fix the rate of license tax upon the same, and to provide for the collection of the same by suit or otherwise; provided, that every soldier, sailor or marine of the United States who has received an honorable discharge or a release from active duty under honorable conditions from such service shall have the right to hawk, peddle and vend any goods, wares or merchandise, except intemperate liquor, without payment of any license, tax or fee whatsoever, whether municipal, county or State, and the board of supervisors or legislative body shall issue to such soldier, sailor or marine without cost, a license therefor; provided, however, no license can be collected, or any penalty for the nonpayment thereof enforced against any commercial traveler whose business is limited to the goods, wares and merchandise sold or dealt in in this State at wholesale; provided further, that counties may for the purpose of revenue license individuals, other than merchants having a fixed place of business in the county, their employees, and farmers selling farm products produced by them, acting as hawkers, itinerant peddlers or itinerant vendors.

Sec. 3. Section 3384 of the Political Code is hereby repealed.

CHAPTER 139.

An act to add a new section to be numbered section 28a to an act entitled “An act to provide for work in and upon public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, and other public property and rights of way, in whole or in part, including property over which possession and right of use has been obtained under the provisions of section 14 of Article I of the Constitution within municipalities, or within unincorporated territory and one or more municipalities, or lying within two or more municipalities, and for establishing and changing the grades of any such public streets, avenues, lanes, alleys, courts, places, sidewalks, highways, roads, properties or rights of way; and providing for the issuance and payment of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost thereof, and providing a method for the payment of such bonds,” approved April 7, 1911, relating to assessments and bonds.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the act cited in the title hereof is hereby amended by the addition of a new section, number 28a, to read as follows:

Sec. 28a. Notwithstanding any other provision of this act, the city council of any municipality proceeding thereunder shall have power at any time before the assessments levied thereunder are fully paid and discharged to order a reassessment under the following terms and conditions:

Whenever the city council shall determine that the improvement for which an assessment was previously made was for the construction, alteration, repair, improvement or betterment of any major traffic artery designed for or generally used by the people of the municipality as a whole, the said city council may, in its discretion, determine to aid the same by appropriating any funds available for such purpose. It shall not be necessary to set forth or give notice of such contribution in the resolution of intention or other proceedings hereunder. Upon appropriating any such funds in aid of any of the work, the city council by resolution shall thereupon direct the street superintendent to apportion said sum to be advanced because of the said appropriation pro rata between all properties assessed upon the original assessment for aiding the work or any reassessment made therefor, whichever is the latest in point of time. Such sum shall be apportioned in the same ratio that the original assessments bore to the total assessment against all properties assessed. He shall thereupon prepare a reassessment after deducting such apportionment rebate and shall thereupon return the same to the city council. Such reassessment need not be in any prescribed form but shall refer to the original assessment filed, giving the date of filing of said original assessment, and shall state that it was made pursuant to the order of the city council of the municipality and shall be accompanied by a diagram showing the lots to be reassessed and their relation to the work. Such diagram may be the original assessment diagram if it otherwise conforms to the provisions of this section.

Upon receipt of the same the council shall thereupon fix a time and place where any and all persons objecting to said proposed reassessment may be heard. Such time must be at least twenty (20) days after the reassessment has been presented. The city clerk shall then advertise the time of such hearing before the legislative body by publishing a notice in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made was published, unless the legislative body directs publication in some other paper. If the reassessment will affect the lots fronting the improvement, this fact shall be stated in the notice. If the reassessment is to be against property in a district, the fact shall be stated in the notice and a description of the assessment district shall be given therein and reference shall be made to the reassessment and diagram of the street superintendent for full particulars. Such notice shall be published for five (5) insertions if the paper be a daily, or for two (2) insertions if the paper be a weekly or published less frequently. At the time fixed for the said hearing or at such time or times to which the same may be continued the legislative body shall consider any objections to said reassessment and may correct inequalities or mistakes therein. When such reassessment shall have been revised or corrected or modified so as to comply with the judgment of said legislative body, then it shall pass a resolution confirming such reassessment. The street superintendent shall thereupon record the reassessment and diagram, in his office, with a certificate at the end thereof executed by the city clerk that it is the reassessment approved by the legislative body of the city. He shall also note opposite the several assessments in the original assessment that have been displaced by the reassessment the fact that the reassessment has been made, giving its date and shall credit upon such reassessment all payments theretofore made upon the original assessment or upon the bonds issued to represent the same. Such reassessment shall be collectible and payable in the same manner as an original assessment and shall be enforceable by suit in the same manner provided in this act for enforcing an original assessment and shall have the same weight in evidence. In the event that bonds issued under or upon the security of the original assessment, no reassessment made pursuant to this section shall change the security or lien of any such bond in any manner whatsoever or the method of the enforcement thereof. The lien of such reassessment shall hold its relative rank as to other special assessment liens as of the date of filing of the original assessment. Upon confirming the said reassessment, the city shall transfer into the bond and assessment redemption fund the amounts so apportioned among the several assessments.

Whenever prior to ordering said reassessment any payments shall have been made on any assessment, or on any bond issued to represent any such assessment, the owner of record of the property against which such assessment was levied, at the time such payment was made, shall be entitled to receive a return in an amount in the proportion that the payment or payments made bears to the difference between the original assessment and said reassessment, with respect to the lot, piece or parcel of land for which such payment or payments were made. The balance of any such appropriation, as determined by the reassessment, shall be credited pro rata to the bonds in payment thereof, applying such payment first to the interest due and then upon the principal. Thereafter the city treasurer shall pay to the holder of each bond the payment so credited from said bond and assessment redemption fund. The city treasurer is hereby authorized and directed to make all payments of refunds as authorized by this section. Whenever it shall appear to the legislative body that payments shall have been made on any such assessments or bonds prior to the said reassessment, it shall be its duty to cause to be published in the newspaper in which the notice of award of contract for the improvement for which the assessment was made a notice stating the fact of such reassessment and calling upon all property owners affected by the said improvement to make claim for refund within one year from date of a first publication of the said notice. If a reassessment was against the lots fronting the improvement, this fact should be stated in the notice. If the reassessment was against the property in a district, then this fact shall be stated in the notice and a description of the district shall be set forth and the assessment diagram referred to for all particulars. Such notice shall be published once a week for five (5) weeks. In case claim for such refund shall not be made within said period, then all claims therefor shall be barred and the said amount remaining unclaimed shall revert to the fund from which said supplemental appropriation was made by the city council. No suit shall be brought to contest, modify, annul, review or in any way attack the validity of such reassessment and the proceedings had under this section unless the same shall have been commenced within thirty (30) days after the recording of the diagram and reassessment, and thereafter all persons shall be barred from any such action or any defense of invalidity of the reassessment and all bonds issued thereon.

In making any such reassessment the street superintendent shall first deduct from the amount appropriated by the city council the estimated cost of the reassessment proceedings. In case such estimate should for any reason exceed the actual cost thereof, then the excess of such fund reserved for the payment of the said costs shall revert to the fund on which the appropriation was made. In the event that the said estimate shall prove to be insufficient to meet the costs of the said reassessment, then the said city council shall appropriate such additional sums as may be necessary to meet the excess costs and expenses thereof.

CHAPTER 140.

An act to amend section 1704 of the Streets and Highways Code, relating to county highways.

NOTE.—See Stats. 1935, Ch. 29.

An act to amend sections 859 and 860 of the Penal Code, relating to the examination of a case before a magistrate, and to add section 859a of the Penal Code, relating to a plea of guilty to the complaint before a magistrate.

[Approved by the Governor May 2, 1935. In effect September 15, 1935.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Section 1. Section 859 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

859. When the defendant is charged with the commission of a public offense, over which the superior court has original jurisdiction, by a written complaint subscribed under oath and on file in a court within the county in which the public offense is triable, he shall, without unnecessary delay, be taken before a magistrate of the court in which such complaint is on file. The magistrate shall immediately deliver to him a copy of the complaint, inform him of his right to the aid of counsel, ask him if he desires the aid of counsel, and allow him a reasonable time to send for counsel; and the magistrate must, upon the request of the defendant, require a peace officer to take a message to any counsel whom the defendant may name, in the city or township in which the court is situated. The officer must, without delay and without fee, perform that duty.

Sec. 2. A new section is hereby added to the Penal Code to be numbered 859a and to read as follows:

The foregoing provisions of this section shall not be construed to authorize the receiving of a plea of guilty from any defendant not represented by counsel.

Sec. 3. Section 860 of the Penal Code is hereby amended to read as follows:

860. If the public offense is

1. Not a felony, but within the jurisdiction of the superior court, or is

The magistrate must, immediately after the appearance of counsel, or if, after waiting a reasonable time therefor, none appears, proceed to examine the case; provided, however, that a defendant represented by counsel may when brought before the magistrate as provided in section 858 or at any time subsequent thereto, waive his right to an examination before such magistrate, and thereupon it shall be the duty of the magistrate to make an order holding the defendant to answer, and it shall be the duty of the district attorney within fifteen days thereafter, to file in the superior court of the county in which the offense is triable the information; provided, further, however, that nothing contained herein shall prevent the district attorney nor the magistrate from requiring that an examination be held as provided in this chapter. Nothing contained in this section shall affect the jurisdiction or procedure of the superior court sitting as a juvenile court.

The terms of office of commissioners in office at the time this section, as amended, goes into effect, are hereby shortened to permit the holding of office of their successors as herein provided. There shall be an election for harbor commissioners within every harbor district formed hereunder on the first Tuesday after the first Monday of November of each even numbered year. All the candidates for harbor commissioners must be residents of the proposed harbor district and qualified electors therein, and shall qualify for such election by securing a nomination paper signed by not less than twenty-five (25) nor more than fifty (50) qualified electors of said proposed harbor district, proposing such candidate for the office of harbor commissioner. Any qualified voter in such proposed harbor district may sign as many nomination papers as there are harbor commissioners to be elected at any election. At the first election herein provided for harbor commissioners, all candidates for harbor commissioners must file their nomination papers with the county clerk of the county, at least twenty (20) days before the day of said election, and all candidates for harbor commissioners at any subsequent election must file their nomination papers with the board of harbor commissioners at least twenty (20) days before the day of election.

40. The existence of insurers formed prior to the date this code takes effect shall not be affected by the enactment of this code nor by any repeal of the laws under which they were formed, but such insurers shall thereafter operate under the provisions of this code.
41. All insurance in this State is governed by the provisions of this code.
100. Insurance in this State is divided into the following classes:

ing to a marine, inland marine, transit or transportation insurance including liability for loss of or damage arising out of life insurance or surety bonds); but except as herein specified, shall not mean insurances against loss by reason of bodily injury to the person.

precious metals, whether used in business or trade or otherwise and whether the same be in course of transportation or otherwise.

to property, or property interests of others but does not include workmen’s compensation, common carrier liability, boiler and machinery, or team and vehicle insurance.

109. Workmen’s compensation insurance includes insurance against loss from liability imposed by law upon employers to compensate employees and their dependents for injury sustained by the employees arising out of and in the course of the employment, irrespective of negligence or of the fault of either party.

110. Common carrier liability insurance includes insurance against loss resulting from liability of a common carrier for accident or injury, fatal or nonfatal, to any person but does not include liability or workmen’s compensation insurance.

115. 116. 117. Mortgage insurance includes the guaranteeing of the payment of the principal, interest and other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note or bond secured by mortgage, or other sums secured under the terms of any such mortgage, in its entirety, or of any undivided or other partial interest in any such mortgage, or in a group of such mortgages, and the guaranteeing or insuring, directly or indirectly, against loss thereon.

118. Aircraft insurance includes insurance of aircraft owners, users, dealers or others having insurable interests therein, against loss through hazards incident to ownership, maintenance, operation and use of aircraft, other than against loss resulting from accident or physical injury, fatal or nonfatal, to any natural person.

121. Except as otherwise stated, the enumeration in this chapter of the kinds of insurance in a particular class does not limit any such kind to any one of such particular classes, inasmuch as the classification of similar insurance may vary with the subject matter, risk, and connected insurances; but the fact that similar kinds of insurance occur in different classes does not extend or change the scope of any such class.
CHAPTER 2. PARTIES, EVENTS, AND INTERESTS.

150. Any person capable of making a contract may be an insurer, subject to the restrictions imposed by this code.
151. Any person except a public enemy may be insured.

170. Unless the policy otherwise provides, if a mortgagor of property effects insurance in his own name providing that the loss shall be payable to the mortgagee, or assigns a policy of insurance to a mortgagee, the insurance is deemed to be upon the interest of the mortgagor and the mortgagor does not cease to be a party to the original contract.
171. In case of such a provision or assignment, any act of the mortgagor, prior to the loss and which would otherwise avoid the insurance, will have the same effect, although the property is in the hands of the mortgagee; but any act which, under the contract of insurance, is to be performed by the mortgagor, may be performed by the mortgagee therein named, with the same effect as if it had been performed by the mortgagor.
172. If an insurer assents to the transfer of insurance from a mortgagor to a mortgagee, and, at the time of the assent, imposes further obligations on the assignee, the acts of the mortgagor can not affect the rights of the assignee.

Article 3. Events Subject to Insurance.

250. Except as provided in this article, any contingent or unknown event, whether past or future, which may damnify a person having an insurable interest, or create a liability against him, may be insured against, subject to the provisions of this code.
251. A lottery or its outcome shall not be insured against. Lottery 252. A policy executed by way of gaming or wagering, is void. Wager.

Article 4. Insurable Interest: Generally.

280. If the insured has no insurable interest, the contract is void.
281. Every interest in property, or any relation thereto, or liability in respect thereof, of such a nature that a contemplated peril might directly damnify the insured, is an insurable interest.
282. An insurable interest in property may consist in:
1. An existing interest;
2. An inchoate interest founded on an existing interest; or,
3. An expectancy, coupled with an existing interest in that out of which the expectancy arises.
283. A mere contingent or expectant interest in anything, not founded on an actual right to the thing, nor upon any valid contract for it, is not insurable.

284. Except in the case of a property held by the insured as a carrier or depositary, the measure of an insurable interest in property is the extent to which the insured might be damni-

285. A carrier or depositary of any kind has an insurable interest in a thing held by him as such, to the extent of its value.

286. An interest in property insured must exist when the insurance takes effect, and when the loss occurs, but need not exist in the meantime; an interest in the life or health of a person insured must exist when the insurance takes effect, but need not exist hereafter or when the loss occurs.

286. An interest insured must exist when the insurance takes effect, and when the loss occurs, but need not exist in the meantime.

287. Every stipulation in a policy of insurance for the payment of loss whether the person insured has or has not any interest in the property insured, or that the policy shall be received as proof of such interest, is void.

Article 5. Insurable Interest: Effect of Transfer.

300. Except in the cases specified in the next four sections, and in the cases of life and disability insurance, a change of interest in any part of a subject insured, unaccompanied by a corresponding change of interest in the insurance, suspends the insurance to an equivalent extent until the interest in the subject and the interest in the insurance are vested in the same person.

301. A change of interest in a subject insured, after the occurrence of an injury which results in a loss, does not affect the right of the insured to indemnity for the loss.

302. A change of interest in one or more of several distinct subjects, separately insured by one policy, does not avoid the insurance as to the others.

303. A change of interest by will or succession, on the death of the insured, does not avoid insurance; and his interest in the insurance passes to the person taking his interest in the subject matter insured.

304. In the case of partners, joint owners, or owners in common, who are jointly insured, a transfer of interest by one to another thereof does not avoid insurance, even though it has been agreed that the insurance shall cease upon an alienation of the subject insured.

305. The mere transfer of subject matter insured does not transfer the insurance, but suspends it until the same person becomes the owner of both the insurance and the subject matter insured.
CHAPTER 3. NEGOTIATIONS BEFORE EXECUTION.

330. Neglect to communicate that which a party knows, and ought to communicate, is concealment.

331. Concealment, whether intentional or unintentional, entitles the injured party to rescind insurance.

332. Each party to a contract of insurance shall communicate to the other, in good faith, all facts within his knowledge which are or which he believes to be material to the contract and as to which he makes no warranty, and which the other has not the means of ascertaining.

333. Neither party to a contract of insurance is bound to communicate information of the matters following, except in answer to the inquiries of the other:

1. Those which the other knows.
2. Those which, in the exercise of ordinary care, the other ought to know, and of which the party has no reason to suppose him ignorant.
3. Those of which the other waives communication.
4. Those which prove or tend to prove the existence of a risk excluded by a warranty, and which are not otherwise material.
5. Those which relate to a risk excepted from insurance, and which are not otherwise material.

334. Materiality is to be determined not by the event, but solely by the probable and reasonable influence of the facts upon the party to whom the communication is due, in forming his estimate of the disadvantages of the proposed contract, or in making his inquiries.

335. Each party to a contract of insurance is bound to know:

(a) All the general causes which are open to his inquiry equally with that of the other, and which may affect either the political or material perils contemplated.

(b) All the general usages of trade.

336. The right to information of material facts may be waived, either (a) by the terms of insurance or (b) by neglect to make inquiries as to such facts, where they are distinctly implied in other facts of which information is communicated.

337. Information of the nature or amount of the interest of one insured need not be communicated unless in answer to an inquiry, except as prescribed by section 381, or by the provisions of the insurance contract if such provisions are prescribed by this code as part of a standard form.

338. An intentional and fraudulent omission, on the part of one insured, to communicate information of matters proving or tending to prove the falsity of a warranty, entitles the insurer to rescind.

339. Neither party to a contract of insurance is bound to communicate, even upon inquiry, information of his own judgment upon the matters in question.
Article 2. Representation.

350. A representation may be oral or written.
351. A representation may be made at the time of, or before, issuance of the policy.
352. The language of a representation is to be interpreted by the same rules as contracts in general.
353. A representation as to the future is a promise, unless it is merely a statement or a belief or an expectation.
354. A representation cannot qualify an express provision in a contract of insurance; but it may qualify an implied warranty.
355. A representation may be altered or withdrawn before the insurance is effected, but not afterwards.
356. The completion of the contract of insurance is the time to which a representation must be presumed to refer.
357. When an insured has no personal knowledge of a fact, he may nevertheless repeat information which he has upon the subject, and which he believes to be true, with the explanation that he does so on the information of others; or he may submit the information, in its whole extent, to the insurer. In neither case is he responsible for its truth, unless it proceeds from an agent of the insured, whose duty it is to give the information.
358. A representation is false when the facts fail to correspond with its assertions or stipulations.
359. If a representation is false in a material point, whether affirmative or promissory, the injured party is entitled to rescind the contract from the time the representation becomes false.
360. The materiality of a representation is determined by the same rule as the materiality of a concealment.
361. The provisions of this chapter apply as well to a modification of a contract of insurance as to its original formation.

Chapter 4. The Policy.

Article 1. Definition and Scope.

380. The written instrument, in which a contract of insurance is set forth, is the policy.
381. A policy shall specify:
(a) The parties between whom the contract is made.
(b) The property or life insured.
(c) The interest of the insured in property insured, if he is not the absolute owner thereof.
(d) The risks insured against.
(e) The period during which the insurance is to continue.
(f) Either:
(1) A statement of the premium, or
(2) If the insurance is of a character where the exact premium is only determinable upon the termination of the contract, a statement of the basis and rates upon which the final premium is to be determined and paid.

382. Covering notes may be issued to bind insurance temporarily pending the issuance of the policy. Within ninety days after issue of a covering note a policy shall be issued in lieu thereof, including within its terms the identical insurance bound under the covering note and premium therefor.

383. It is a misdemeanor:

(a) For any insurer, or any agent of any insurer, to issue a policy in violation of the requirements of subdivision (f) of section 381.

(b) For any insurance agent or broker to assist in arranging for the insurance where the policy violates such requirements.

(c) For any insurer to violate the provisions of section 382.

384. Except in the case of mutual fire insurers, whenever by the terms of a policy issued in this State the insured is liable in any event to pay an assessment in addition to the premium stated in the policy, the policy shall have conspicuously printed in plain type upon the back or the outside cover, under the name of the issuer, the words: "Notice; under the terms of this policy insured is liable for future assessments."

385. For a violation of section 384, the Insurance Commissioner shall forthwith suspend the certificate of authority of the insurer for a period of not less than one year or revoke the certificate.

386. All policies issued by incorporated insurers shall be subscribed by the president or vice president, or, in case of the death, absence, or disability of those officers, by any two of the directors, and countersigned by the secretary of the corporation. All such policies are as binding and obligatory upon the corporation as if executed over the corporate seal.

387. When the name of the person intended to be insured is specified in a policy, it can be applied only to his own interest.

388. When an insurance contract is executed with an agent or trustee as the insured, the fact that his principal or beneficiary is the real party in interest may be indicated by describing the insured as agent or trustee, or by other general words in the policy.

389. To render an insurance effected by one partner or part-owner applicable to the interest of his copartners, or of other part-owners, it is necessary that the terms of the policy should be such as are applicable to the joint or common interest.

390. When the description of the insured in a policy is so general that it may comprehend any person or any class of persons, only he who can show that it was intended to include him can claim the benefit of the policy.

391. A policy may be so framed that it will inure to the benefit of whomsoever, during the continuance of the risk, becomes the owner of the interest insured.
Article 2. Types of Policies.

410. A policy is either open or valued.
411. An open policy is one in which the value of the subject matter is not agreed upon, but is left to be ascertained in case of loss.
412. A valued policy is one which expresses on its face an agreement that the thing insured shall be valued at a specified sum.
413. A running policy is one which contemplates successive insurances, and which provides that the object of the policy may be from time to time defined, especially as to the subjects of insurance, by additional statements or endorsements.

Article 3. Insurer’s Name on Policy.

430. The policies issued by every insurer shall be entitled by its own name, printed on each policy in large bold type; except in the case of an underwriter’s policy issued under a name or title approved by and registered with the commissioner.

Article 4. Warranties.

440. A warranty is either express or implied.
441. A statement in a policy of a matter relating to the person or thing insured, or to the risk, as a fact, is an express warranty thereof.
442. A particular form of words is not necessary to create a warranty.
443. Every express warranty made at or before the execution of a policy shall be contained in the policy itself, or in another instrument signed by the insured and referred to in the policy, as making a part of it.
444. A warranty may relate to the past, the present, the future, or to any or all of these.
445. A statement in a policy, which imports that there is an intention to do or not to do a thing which materially affects the risk, is a warranty that such act or omission will take place.
446. Whenever before the time arrives for the performance of a warranty relating to the future, a loss insured against happens, or performance becomes unlawful at the place of the contract, or impossible, the omission to fulfill the warranty does not avoid the policy.
447. The violation of a material warranty or other material provision of a policy, on the part of either party thereto, entitles the other to rescind.
448. Unless the policy declares that a violation of specified provisions thereof shall avoid it, the breach of an immaterial provision does not avoid the policy.
449. A breach of warranty without fraud merely exonerates an insurer from the time that it occurs, or where the warranty is broken in its inception, prevents the policy from attaching to the risk.

CHAPTER 5. THE PREMIUM.

480. An insurer is entitled to payment of the premium as soon as the subject matter insured is exposed to the peril insured against.

481. Unless the insurance contract otherwise provides, a person insured is entitled to a return of premium if the policy is canceled or rescinded, as follows:

1. To the whole premium, if no part of his interest in the thing insured is exposed to any of the perils insured against.

2. Where the insurance is made for a definite period of time, and the insured surrenders his policy, to such proportion of the premium as corresponds with the unexpired time, after deducting from the whole premium any claim for loss or damage under the policy which has previously accrued. The provisions of section 482 apply only to the expired time.

482. Except as provided by section 481, or by the insurance contract, if a peril insured against has existed, and the insurer has been liable for any period, however short, the insured is not entitled to return of premiums, so far as that particular risk is concerned.

483. A person insured is entitled to a return of the premium:

(a) When the contract is voidable, on account of the fraud or misrepresentation of the insurer.

(b) When the contract is voidable on account of facts, of the existence of which the insured was ignorant without his fault.

(c) When, by any default of the insured other than actual fraud, the insurer did not incur any liability under the policy.

484. An acknowledgment in a policy of the receipt of premium is conclusive evidence of its payment, so far as to make the policy binding, notwithstanding any stipulation therein that it shall not be binding until the premium is actually paid.

485. In case of an overinsurance by several insurers, the insured is entitled to a ratable return of the premium, proportioned to the amount by which the aggregate sum insured in all the policies exceeds the insurable value of the subject at risk.

486. When an overinsurance is effected by simultaneous policies, the insurers contribute to the premium to be returned in proportion to the amount insured by their respective policies.

487. When an overinsurance is effected by successive policies, those only contribute to a return of the premium who are exonerated by prior insurance from the liability assumed by them, and in proportion as the sum for which the premium was paid exceeds the amount for which, on account of prior insurance, they could be made liable.
CHAPTER 6. LOSS.

Article 1. Transfer of Interest After Loss.

520. An agreement not to transfer the claim of the insured against the insurer after a loss has happened, is void if made before the loss.

Article 2. Causes of Loss.

530. An insurer is liable for a loss of which a peril insured against was the proximate cause, although a peril not contemplated by the contract may have been a remote cause of the loss; but he is not liable for a loss of which the peril insured against was only a remote cause.

531. An insurer is liable:
   (a) Where the thing insured is rescued from a peril insured against, and which would otherwise have caused a loss, if, in the course of such rescue, the thing is exposed to a peril not insured against, and which permanently deprives the insured of its possession, in whole or in part.
   (b) If a loss is caused by efforts to rescue the thing insured from a peril insured against.

532. If a peril is specially excepted in a contract of insurance and there is a loss which would not have occurred but for such peril such loss is thereby excepted even though the immediate cause of the loss was a peril which was not excepted.

533. An insurer is not liable for a loss caused by the wilful act of the insured but he is not exonerated by the negligence of the insured, or of the insured’s agents or others.

550. In case of loss upon an insurance against fire, an insurer is exonerated if notice thereof is not given to him without unnecessary delay by an insured or some person entitled to the benefit of the insurance.

551. Except in the case of life, marine, or fire insurance, notice of an accident, injury, or death may be given at any time within twenty days after the event, to the insurer under a policy against loss therefrom. In such a policy, no requirement of notice within a lesser period shall be valid.

552. When preliminary proof of loss is required by a policy, the insured is not bound to give such proof as would be necessary in a court of justice; but it is sufficient for him to give the best evidence in his power at the time.

553. All defects in a notice of loss, or in preliminary proof thereof, which the insured might remedy, and which the insurer omits to specify to him, without unnecessary delay, as grounds of objection, are waived.

554. Delay in the presentation to an insurer of notice or proof of loss is waived, if caused by an act of his, or if he omits to make objection promptly and specifically upon that ground.
555. If a policy requires, by way of preliminary proof of loss, the certificate or testimony of a person other than the insured, there is sufficient compliance with the requirement if the insured (a) uses reasonable diligence to procure the certificate or testimony, and (b) in case of refusal to give it to him, furnishes reasonable evidence to the insurer that the refusal was not induced by just grounds of disbelief in the facts necessary to be certified or testified.

556. It is unlawful to:

(a) Present or cause to be presented any false or fraudulent claim for the payment of a loss under a contract of insurance.

(b) Prepare, make, or subscribe any writing, with intent to present or use the same, or to allow it to be presented or used in support of any such claim.

Every person who violates any provision of this section is punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding three years, or by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by both.

Chapter 7. Double Insurance.

590. A double insurance exists where the same person is insured by several insurers separately in respect to the same subject and interest.

591. In case of double insurance, the several insurers are liable to pay losses thereon as follows:

(a) In fire insurance, each insurer shall contribute ratably, without regard to the dates of the several policies.

(b) In marine insurance, the liability of the several insurers for a total loss, whether actual or constructive, where the policies are not simultaneous, is in the order of the dates of the several policies. No liability attaches to a second or other subsequent policy, except as to the excess of the loss over the amount of all previous policies on the same interest. If two or more policies bear the same date, they are deemed to be simultaneous, and each insurer on simultaneous policies shall contribute ratably. The insolvency of any of the insurers does not affect the proportionate liability of the other insurers.

All insurers on the same marine interest shall contribute ratably for a partial or average loss.

Chapter 8. Reinsurance.

620. A contract of reinsurance is one by which an insurer procures a third person to insure him against loss or liability by reason of such original insurance.

621. A reinsurance is presumed to be a contract of indemnity against liability, and not merely against damage.

622. Where an insurer obtains reinsurance, he must communicate all the representations of the original insured, and also all the knowledge and information he possesses, whether previously or subsequently acquired, which are material to the risk.
623. The original insured has no interest in a contract of reinsurance.

CHAPTER 9. RESCISSION.

650. Wherever a right to rescind a contract of insurance is given to the insurer by any provision of this part such right may be exercised at any time previous to the commencement of an action on the contract.

PART 2. THE BUSINESS OF INSURANCE.

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL REGULATIONS.

680. An insurer shall not transact any class of insurance which is not authorized by its charter.

Article 2. Capital Structure.

690. If any paid in capital of an insurer is, or is to be, represented by shares of stock, such insurer shall not be organized in this State or admitted to transact any class of insurance in this State, unless all of such shares, authorized or issued, have a specified par value.

Article 3. Certificate of Authority.

700. A person shall not transact any class of insurance business in this State without first being admitted for such class. Such admission is secured by procuring a certificate of authority from the commissioner. Such certificate shall not be granted until the applicant conforms to the requirements of this code and of the laws of this State prerequisite to its issue. After such issue the holder shall continue to comply with the requirements as to its business set forth in this code and in the laws of this State.

701. Every certificate of authority shall expire on the first day of July after its issuance, unless sooner revoked.

702. A certificate of authority shall not be granted or renewed to any insurer in arrears to the State, or to any county or city in the State, for fees, licenses, taxes, assessments, fines, or penalties, accrued on business transacted in the State, nor while such insurer is otherwise in default for failure to comply with any of the laws of this State regarding the governmental control of such insurer by the State.

703. Except when performed by a surplus line broker, the following acts are misdemeanors when done in this State:

(a) Acting as agent for a nonadmitted insurer in the transaction of insurance business in this State.

(b) In any manner advertising a nonadmitted insurer in this State.

(c) In any other manner aiding a nonadmitted insurer to transact insurance business in this State.
In addition to any penalty provided for commission of misdemeanors, a person violating any provision of this section shall forfeit to this State the sum of five hundred dollars, together with one hundred dollars for each month or fraction thereof during which he continues such violation.

704. The commissioner may suspend the certificate of authority of an insurer for not exceeding one year whenever he finds, after proper hearing following notice, that such insurer engages in any of the following practices:

(a) Conducting its business fraudulently.
(b) Not carrying out its contracts in good faith.
(c) Habitually and as a matter of ordinary practice and custom compelling claimants under policies to either accept less than the amount due under the terms of the policies or resort to litigation against such insurer to secure the payment of the amount due.

The order of suspension shall prescribe the period of such suspension.

Action shall not be taken by the commissioner under this section unless he first gives notice to such insurer and cites it to appear at a specified time and place and show cause why its certificate of authority should not be suspended or revoked.

705. The commissioner shall require the payment of ten dollars in lawful money of the United States, in advance, as a fee for issuing each annual certificate of authority authorizing any insurer to transact business in this State.

706. Prior to admission each insurer shall file with the commissioner a certified copy of its last annual statement or a verified financial statement exhibiting its condition and affairs.

707. A domestic insurer shall, prior to admission, file with the commissioner a copy of its articles of incorporation and certificate of any increase or diminution of its capital stock, certified by the Secretary of State to be a copy of that which is filed in his office.

708. A foreign insurer shall, prior to admission, file with the commissioner the following:

(a) If organized in a jurisdiction which requires articles to be filed, a copy of its articles of incorporation, duly certified by the officer having the custody of such articles.

(b) If organized in a jurisdiction which does not require articles to be filed, a copy of the law, charter, or deed of settlement under which the insurer is organized, duly certified by the proper custodian thereof, or proved by affidavit to be a copy.

(c) A certificate under the hand and seal of the officer, if any, having supervision of insurance business in the jurisdiction of its organization, stating that the insurer is organized under the laws of such jurisdiction, and has the amount of capital stock or assets required by this code.
709. If the insurer is organized in any other State, it shall, prior to admission, file with the commissioner a certificate setting forth:

(a) The nature and character of its business.
(b) The location of its principal office.
(c) The names of the following parties:
   (1) If the insurer is not incorporated, and there are more than ten owners of interests therein, the names of the ten persons who own the largest interests; if there are ten or less such owners, the names of all such owners.
   (2) If the insurer is incorporated, the names of all officers and persons by whom the business is managed.
   (d) The amount of actual capital to be employed therein.

The certificate must be verified by the affidavit of the chief officer, secretary, agent, or manager of the company.

710. If there are any written articles of agreement or association, a copy thereof shall accompany such certificates.

711. An insurer organized out of the United States shall also file such certificate and articles, but the certificate need not contain the names of any officers or managers other than those resident within the United States, nor any statement of capital not employed within the United States, and the affidavit shall be made by the chief executive officer or manager in the United States.

712. The commissioner shall require the payment of fifty-five dollars in lawful money of the United States, in advance, as a fee for filing papers required under sections 707, 708, 709 or 711.

713. A copy of the instrument or record of the action making any change in any of the documents filed with the commissioner pursuant to this article, proved by certificates of custodian of the original, or by affidavit, shall be filed with the commissioner.

714. The commissioner shall require the payment of ten dollars in lawful money of the United States, in advance, as a fee for filing papers required under section 713, on account of changes or changes made at one time.

715. The commissioner shall have no authority to issue a certificate of authority to any domestic insurer, whether organized and promoted directly or by means of a holding company, where the commissioner's examination shows that the expense of organization and promotion exceeds fifteen percent of the total amount actually paid on its capital stock exclusive of surplus.

Article 4. Examination by Commissioner.

730. The commissioner, whenever he deems necessary or whenever he is requested by verified petition, signed by twenty-five persons interested as shareholders, policyholders, or creditors of any admitted insurer showing that the insurer is insolvent under this code, shall examine the business and affairs of the insurer relating to its insurance business. He shall so examine every domestic insurer before issuing to it a certificate of authority other than a renewal.

731. Whenever any foreign insurer applies for admission the commissioner may make, or cause to be made by the insurance authority of the State where the insurer is organized, an examination of its insurance business and affairs.

732. An insurer organized or existing under the laws of any country outside of the United States shall be deemed to be organized, within the meaning of this article, in any State wherein such insurer maintains the deposits to protect policyholders as required by this code.

733. In making such examination the commissioner:
   (a) Shall have free access to all the books and papers of the insurer.
   (b) Shall thoroughly inspect and examine all its affairs.
   (c) Shall ascertain its condition and ability to fulfill its obligations.
   (d) Shall ascertain if it has complied with all laws applicable to its insurance transactions.

734. Every insurer examined under the provisions of this article shall open its books and papers for the inspection of the commissioner, and otherwise facilitate such examination. The commissioner may administer oaths and examine under oath any person relative to the business of the insurer. If he finds the books to be carelessly or improperly kept or posted, he shall employ sworn experts to rewrite, post, and balance the books at the insurer’s expense.

735. Such examination shall be conducted in the county where such insurer has its principal office, and shall be private unless the commissioner deems it necessary to publish the result of such investigation. In the latter case he may publish the results in two public newspapers, one published in the city of San Francisco and the other in the city of Los Angeles.

736. All examinations shall be at the expense of the insurer payable in advance. If any insurer refuses to pay such expenses in advance, the commissioner may refuse to issue its certificate of authority and shall revoke any existing certificate of authority.

737. All examination expense moneys collected by the commissioner under the provisions of this article shall be paid into the State treasury in trust. The procedure for the withdrawal thereof shall be that provided by law for the withdrawal of trust funds from the State treasury.

738. The commissioner shall have the same powers and authority to examine the State Compensation Insurance Fund as are conferred upon him by law relative to the examination of other insurers.

Article 5. Unlawful Rebates, Profits, and Commissions.

750. An insurer, insurance agent, broker, or solicitor, personally or by any other party, shall not offer or pay, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to insurance on any subject-matter in this State, any rebate of the whole or part of the premium payable on an insurance contract, or of the agent's or broker's commission thereon, and such rebate is an unlawful rebate.

751. An insurer, or an insurance agent, broker, or solicitor, personally or otherwise, shall not offer or pay, directly or indirectly, as an inducement to enter into an insurance contract, any valuable consideration which is not clearly specified, promised or provided for in the policy, or application for the insurance, and any such consideration not appearing in the policy is an unlawful rebate.

752. Any person named as the insured in any policy or named as the principal, or obligee, in any surety policy or the agent or representative of any such person who, directly or indirectly, knowingly accepts or receives any unlawful rebate is guilty of a misdemeanor.

753. Excep. in the case of covering notes, the allowing of credit by an insurer, insurance agent, broker or solicitor without interest at current rates, by means of extending the time of paying premiums beyond sixty days after the end of the month in which an insurance policy becomes effective is an unlawful rebate unless:

(a) The policy is not delivered within fifty days after the end of the month in which the policy becomes effective. In such case there may be a credit without interest for ten days after the end of the month in which delivery of such policy is made.

(b) By the terms of the policy, part or the whole of the premium is not due when the policy becomes effective. In such case a credit of sixty days without interest may be allowed after the end of the month in which the premium becomes due.

754. Payment to an agent or broker authorized to receive it is sufficient to end the periods prescribed by section 753.

755. The paying or allowing of any commission or other valuable consideration on insurance business in this State to other than an admitted insurer or a licensed insurance agent, broker or solicitor is an unlawful rebate.

756. When the premium on a policy insuring an employer is based upon the amount or segregation of the employer’s pay roll, and the employer, personally or knowingly through his employee, procures a lower premium by willfully misrepresenting the amount or segregation, such misrepresentation is an unlawful rebate as to the employer.

In addition to any penalty provided by law for unlawful rebates, the employer in such case is liable to the State in an amount ten times the difference between the lower premium paid and the premium properly payable. The commissioner shall collect the amount so payable and may bring a civil action in his name as commissioner to enforce collection unless the misrepresentation is made to and lower premium procured from the State Compensation Insurance Fund. In the latter case the liability to the State under this section shall be enforced in a civil action in the name of the State Compensation Insurance Fund and any amount so collected shall become a part of that fund.

757. When a statement of the amount or segregation of a payroll is materially false, and an insurer, through a person employed by it in a managerial capacity, accepts the statement as the basis for the premium on a policy, the acceptance is an unlawful rebate if the accepting employee knows of the falsity.

758. Every insurer shall exercise reasonable diligence in securing the observance of this article by its agents.

759. It is unlawful for any insurer to appoint an agent for the purpose of enabling such agent, or the employer or person requesting the appointment of the agent, to obtain insurance at a cost less than that specified in the policy, or at a cost less than that specified in the application therefor.

760. When an insurance agent, broker or solicitor transacts insurance other than life with himself or his employer as the insured, if the total of the premiums thereon exceeds the total premiums on such insurance transacted by him with other parties as insureds, the receipt of commissions on any of such excess is an unlawful rebate.

761. Any insurer, insurance agent, broker or solicitor, and any officer or employee of an insurer, insurance agent or broker, that makes an unlawful rebate is guilty of a misdemeanor.

762. Any other person who knowingly receives an unlawful rebate is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine equal to three times the amount of such rebate or by imprisonment in the county jail for a period of not exceeding thirty days or by both.

763. The following acts are not unlawful rebates:

(a) The return by an insurer issuing policies on a participating plan, of any portion of the premium as a dividend after the expiration of the term covered by such policy.

(b) The payment of commission by any insurer, or insurance agent, broker or solicitor, to another insurer, or insurance agent, broker or solicitor, upon insurance lawfully transacted in that capacity.

(c) The allowance by any marine insurer, or marine insurance agent, broker, or solicitor to any insured, of such usual discount as is sanctioned by custom among marine insurers as being additional to the agent's or broker's commission.

(d) The paying by an insurer to another insurer, or to an insurance agent, broker, or solicitor, of a commission in respect to a policy under which the payee is insured, or the receiving by such payee of such commission.

(e) The paying by an insurer of bonuses to policy holders on nonparticipating life insurance or otherwise abating their premiums, in whole or in part, out of surplus accumulated from nonparticipating insurance.
(f) The return as a dividend by a life insurer of any portion of the premium on policies issued on a participating plan at any time.

(g) The return, by an insurer transacting industrial insurance on the weekly payment plan, to policyholders who have made premium payments for a period of at least one year directly to the insurer at its home or district office, of a percentage of the premium which the insurer would have paid for the weekly collection of such premiums.

(h) The paying by any life insurer, or the receiving by life insurance policyholders of special compensations, or the allowing and receiving of credits already agreed upon in life insurance contracts now in force.

764. Any person may be compelled to testify or produce evidence at the trial or hearing on a charge of violating a provision of this article, even though such testimony or evidence may incriminate him. A prosecution shall not be brought or maintained against such person for any act concerning which he thus testifies or produces evidence, except for perjury committed in so testifying.

765. If an insurer knowingly violates any provisions of this article, or knowingly permits any officer, managerial agent, or managerial employee so to do, the commissioner, after a hearing, may suspend the insurer’s certificate of authority to do the class of insurance in which the violation of this article occurred.

766. If an insurance agent, broker, or solicitor knowingly and wilfully violates any of the provisions of this article, the commissioner, after a hearing, may suspend or revoke the violator’s license.

767. Unless the parties thereto otherwise stipulate, any action to review an act of the commissioner done under the provisions of this article shall be brought:

(a) In the case of a natural person, in the county in which he resides.

(b) Otherwise, in the county where the plaintiff has its principal office in this State.

780. An insurer or officer or agent thereof, or an insurance broker or solicitor shall not cause or permit to be issued, circulated or used, any misrepresentation of the following:

(a) The terms of a policy issued by the insurer or sought to be negotiated by the person making or permitting the misrepresentation.

(b) The benefits or privileges promised thereunder.

(c) The future dividends, payable thereunder.

781. A person shall not make any misrepresentation (a) to any other person for the purpose of inducing, or tending to induce, such other person either to take out a policy of insurance, or to refuse to accept a policy issued upon an application therefore and instead take out any policy in another insurer, or
(b) to a policyholder in any insurer for the purpose of inducing or tending to induce him to lapse, forfeit or surrender his insurance therein.

782. Any person violating the provisions of section 780 or 781 is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars or by imprisonment not exceeding six months.

783. Whenever any insurance agent, broker, or solicitor knowingly violates any provision of sections 780 or 781, the commissioner after proper hearing may suspend the license of any such person for not exceeding three years.

784. Any person may be compelled to testify and produce books and writings at the trial or hearing of any person charged with violating any provision of sections 780 or 781 even though such testimony or evidence may ineriminate him. A person shall not be prosecuted for any act concerning which he is compelled so to testify or produce evidence, except for perjury committed in so testifying.

Article 7. Restrictions on Underwriting.

800. This article shall not apply to:
(a) Insurers made exempt therefrom by other provisions of this code.
(b) Insurance upon the interests of common carriers engaged in interstate trade, or upon property in their custody.
(c) Insurance contracts executed without this State, but which during the term thereof temporarily cover subject matter within this State.

The requirements of section 904 do not apply to insurers or insurance exempted from the provisions of this article.

801. Except as provided by this article, an admitted insurer shall not cause to be executed or renewed any contract of insurance covering subject matter located in this State at the time of execution or renewal, except either (a) through a resident agent, or (b) after approval in writing by such an agent.

802. Such agent shall (a) countersign all such policies or renewals thereof, and (b) receive or be credited with the premium thereon when paid.

Any commission paid or allowed on such premium must be received by an admitted insurer or a resident agent, broker, or solicitor.

803. Policies of reinsurance need not be countersigned by a resident agent, if the policies so reinsured have been executed otherwise in accordance with the provisions of this article.

804. An insurer shall not by nonresident officers, agents, or managers, execute contracts of insurance upon blanks previously countersigned by an agent in this State when the subject matter of the insurance is located in this State at the time of execution.

805. Any admitted insurer may, by means of temporary binders, execute contracts of insurance at offices outside this State upon subject matter located in this State if policies therefor are thereafter issued by it and countersigned by such resident agents of the insurer as are specified above. In such case, such agents shall receive or be credited with the premium thereon when paid and any commission paid on such premium shall be received by an admitted insurer or a resident agent, broker, or solicitor.

806. An admitted insurer shall not in any manner assume or reinsure any of the liability of a nonadmitted insurer on insurance upon subject matter located in this State, except in a case where the admitted insurer assumes the entirety of such insurance of the nonadmitted insurer together with all the liabilities arising therefrom.

807. When an insurer issues all policies and renewal certificates at offices outside of this State, such issue is permitted if a resident agent countersigns such policies and certificates covering subject matter in this State after issue. Such agent shall keep a record of policies and certificates so countersigned, including the premium thereon, and such insurers shall in all respects comply with the other provisions of this article.

808. Upon information that any insurer has violated any provision of this article, the commissioner shall examine the insurer at any office of the insurer located in the United States. If a violation is found, the commissioner shall collect the expense of the investigation from the insurer guilty of the violation. The refusal of any insurer to submit to such examination, or to exhibit its books and records for inspection, shall be prima facie evidence of such violation and shall also constitute a violation of this article.

809. Any insurer wilfully violating any provision of this article is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by a fine not exceeding five hundred dollars for each violation thereof, or the commissioner may suspend the certificate of authority of such insurer for the remainder of the term thereof.

Article 8. Issue of Securities.

820. The terms used in this article shall be given the meanings herein set forth, but such meanings shall not, merely by reason of enactment in this article, govern the interpretation of any other provision of this code.

821. "Security" means every instrument commonly known by that term, except:

(a) Commercial paper when issued, given or acquired in a bona fide way in the ordinary course of legitimate business, trade or commerce.

(b) Promissory notes, whether secured or unsecured, if not offered to the public, and if not sold to an underwriter of the sale for the purpose of resale.

(c) Mortgage participation certificates issued under and in accordance with the provisions of Chapter 2, Part 6, Division 2.
(d) Policies of insurance issued by an insurer.

822. Except as otherwise provided by this article, "sale" or "sell" means every disposition, or attempt or arrangement to dispose, of a security for value, whether done by direct or indirect means. A security is conclusively presumed to be sold for value if given with any purchase of any nature or if given as a bonus on account of a purchase.

823. (a) A privilege pertaining to a security giving the holder the privilege to convert such security into another security of the same insurer is not a sale of such other security.

(b) A right pertaining to a security and entitling the holder of such right to subscribe to another security of the same insurer is not a sale of such other security, but the exercise of such right is a sale of such other security.

824. "Broker" means every person, other than an agent, who in this State engages either wholly or in part in the business of (a) dealing in any security issued by others, (b) underwriting any issue of such securities, (c) purchasing such securities with the purpose of reselling them, or (d) offering such securities for sale to the public.

825. "Agent" means every person employed or appointed by an insurer or broker who, within this State and for a compensation, sells any security.

826. "Insurer" includes every business organization organized for the purpose of transacting any insurance business.

827. An insurer shall not sell in this State, except upon a sale for delinquent assessment made in accordance with the provisions of the general corporation law, any security of its own issue until it secures from the commissioner a permit authorizing it so to do.

828. Except in the case of a broker holding a broker's certificate then in effect, a person, desiring or proposing to sell a security to be issued by any insurer, shall not issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement, pamphlet, prospectus, or circular concerning any such security until the insurer secures from the commissioner a permit authorizing it to sell such security.

829. A person shall not issue, circulate, or publish any advertisement or writing concerning any security sold by him, unless either his name is subscribed thereto, and a true copy thereof is filed in the office of the commissioner at least one day prior to the issue, publication, or circulation, or the commissioner first authorizes or consents to the issuance, circulation or publication.

830. A person shall not issue, circulate, or publish any such advertisement or writing after receipt of notice in writing from the commissioner that, in his opinion, the same contains any statement that is false or misleading or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof.

831. Every security issued by any insurer without a permit of the commissioner authorizing the same in effect at the time of the issue, shall be void. Every security issued by any insurer under a permit of the commissioner shall be void unless its provisions conform to the provisions, if any, required by the permit.

832. Every insurer that commits any of the following acts is guilty of a public offense and punishable by fine not exceeding ten thousand dollars:

(a) Selling or causing to be issued a security contrary to the provisions of this article or not in conformity with the permit of the commissioner.

(b) Applying any of the proceeds of sale of a security to any purpose other than as specified in the permit, or to a purpose specified in the permit, but in excess of the amount limited for that purpose.

833. Every person who commits any of the acts specified in this section is guilty of a public offense and punishable by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding five years or in a county jail not exceeding two years, or by fine not exceeding five thousand dollars, or by both.

(a) Knowingly authorizing, directing, aiding, causing, or assisting in causing the issue, execution, or sale of, any security, in nonconformity with a permit of the commissioner then in effect and authorizing such issue, or contrary to the provisions of this article.

(b) Knowingly making any false statement or representation in any application to the commissioner, or in any proceeding before him, or in any examination, audit, or investigation made by him, or by his authority.

(c) With knowledge of the falsity, causing to be filed in the office of the commissioner any false statement or representation concerning an insurer, the property which the insurer then holds or proposes to acquire, the insurer’s officers, the insurer’s financial condition or other affairs, or the insurer’s proposed plan of business.

(d) With knowledge of the falsity of any such statement or representation, causing any security to be issued, executed, or sold without first informing the commissioner of the falsity of such statement in writing.

(e) Directly or indirectly, knowingly causing or assisting in causing any part of the proceeds from the sale of any security to be applied to any purpose contrary to the provisions of the permit authorizing the issue of such security, or to any purpose in excess of the amount specified in such permit for such purpose.

(f) Selling a security with knowledge that it has been issued or executed in violation of any of the provisions of this article.

(g) Causing a writing concerning a security to be issued, circulated, or published while having knowledge that such matter contains any statement that is false, misleading, or otherwise likely to deceive a reader thereof.
(h) In any respect, wilfully violating or failing to comply with any of the provisions of this article.

836. If the applicant is a corporation, it shall file with its application a copy of all minutes of any proceedings of its directors, stockholders, or members, relating to or affecting the issue of such securities, and also a copy of its articles of incorporation, by-laws, and any amendments to either thereof.

837. If the applicant is a foreign corporation or association, it shall also file with its application:

Such service shall have the same effect as if the applicant was a domestic insurer lawfully served with process in this State.

838. Upon the filing of such application, the commissioner shall examine it and the other papers and documents filed therewith. He may, if he deems it advisable, cause to be made a detailed examination, audit, and investigation of the applicant and its affairs.

839. The commissioner shall issue a permit if he finds that:
(a) The proposed plan of business of the applicant is not unfair, unjust or inequitable,
(b) The applicant intends to fairly and honestly transact its business, and
(c) The securities the applicant proposes to issue and the methods to be used by it are not such as, in his opinion, will work a fraud upon the purchaser thereof.
Otherwise, he shall deny the application and notify the applicant in writing of his decision.

840. The commissioner may prescribe in the permit the amounts, considerations, terms, and conditions governing the issue and disposal of the securities and the permit authorizes such issue and disposal only in accordance with its provisions.

841. Every permit shall recite in bold type that the issuance thereof is permissive only and does not constitute a recommendation or endorsement of the securities permitted to be issued.

842. The commissioner may impose conditions requiring the deposit in escrow of securities and the impoundment of the proceeds from the sale thereof, limiting the expense in connection with the sale thereof, and otherwise requiring such method of dealing as he deems reasonable and either necessary or advisable to insure the disposition of the proceeds of such securities in the manner and for the purposes provided in the permit.

843. The commissioner may, from time to time and for cause, amend, alter or revoke any permit issued by him hereunder, or temporarily suspend the rights hereunder of the applicant. He also may establish such rules and regulations as are reasonable or necessary to carry out the purposes and provisions of this article.

844. Every insurer authorized by the commissioner to sell securities shall thereafter, at such times and in such form as he requires, make and file in his office a report, setting forth:
(a) The securities sold by it under the authority of any permit issued by him.
(b) The proceeds derived therefrom.
(c) The disposition of such proceeds.
(d) Such other information concerning its property, officers, or affairs, and relating to or affecting the value of such securities, as the commissioner requires.

845. No person may act as an agent or broker except under authority of a certificate. Every such certificate shall expire on the first day of July next after its issue, unless sooner suspended or revoked.

846. To secure such certificate, the applicant shall make and file in the office of the commissioner an application therefor in writing, verified by or in behalf of the applicant. Such application shall set forth:

The bond shall be conditioned upon the following conduct by the broker, his agents, and employees:
   (a) Strict compliance with the provisions of this article.
   (b) Honest and faithful application of all funds received.
   (c) Honest and faithful performance of all obligations and undertakings in the purchase or sale of securities.
   (d) Payment of all damages suffered by any person damaged or defrauded by reason of the violation of any of the provisions of this article, or by reason of any fraud connected with or growing out of any transaction contemplated by the provisions of this article.

848. Any person who sustains an injury covered by such Action on bond. bond may, in addition to any other remedy that he has, bring an action in his own name upon the bond for the recovery of damages for the injury.

849. Upon such action being commenced the commissioner may, in his discretion, require the filing of a new bond. Immediately upon the recovery in any action on such bond, such broker shall file a new bond. Failure to file the new bond within ten days in either case constitutes sufficient grounds for the suspension or revocation of such broker's certificate.

850. If the applicant is a foreign corporation or association, it shall file with its application:
   (a) A copy of its articles of incorporation or association.
   (b) A certificate of the proper officer of the jurisdiction in which it is organized, executed not more than thirty days before the filing of such application, showing that the applicant is authorized to transact business in that jurisdiction.
(c) In such form as the commissioner prescribes, its written instrument irrevocably appointing the commissioner and his successor in office its true and lawful attorney upon whom all process in any action or proceeding against it, arising out of or founded upon the fraud of such applicant in the sale of securities within this State, or in any action upon any bond provided by this article, can be served. Such service shall have the same effect as if the applicant was a domestic corporation or association lawfully served with process in this State.

851. The commissioner shall examine such application, and shall make such further investigation of the applicant and its affairs as he deems advisable. He shall issue the certificate if, from such examination, the commissioner is satisfied that:

(a) The business reputation of the applicant and, in the case of a firm or corporation, its officers or members, is good.

(b) The sale of the securities proposed to be sold by it would not be unfair, unjust or inequitable to the purchasers thereof.

(c) Neither it nor its officers or members have violated any of the provisions of this article.

(d) Neither it nor its officers or members have engaged or are about to engage in any fraudulent transaction.

Otherwise, he shall deny the application and notify the applicant of his decision.

852. The commissioner may at any time suspend or revoke any broker’s or agent’s certificate issued by him if he finds that the holder thereof is of bad business repute, or has violated any provision of this article, or has engaged, or is about to engage in any fraudulent transaction.

853. Every broker shall, at such times as the commissioner requires, make and file in the office of the commissioner a true and correct statement concerning any security sold or offered for sale by the broker. The statement shall show:

854. After receipt of notice in writing from the commissioner, stating that the sale of a security would, in the commissioner’s opinion, be unfair, unjust, or inequitable to the purchaser, no broker shall sell such security until and unless the commissioner in writing withdraws the objection.

855. All writings filed with the commissioner under this article shall be open to public inspection except where, in his judgment, the public welfare or the welfare of any insurer demands that any portion of such information be not made public. In such cases he may, in his discretion, withhold such information from public inspection for such time as in his judgment is necessary.

856. The commissioner may at any time give or make public any information concerning any insurer or any securities sold within this State if, in his judgment, the giving or publishing of the information will be of public interest or will tend to prevent the fraudulent sale of such securities.

857. For filing an original or supplemental application for a permit to issue securities, the commissioner, as a fee, shall collect ten dollars for the first $20,000, or portion thereof, of the aggregate value of the securities sought to be issued, plus an amount computed at the following rates:

(1) On the next $30,000, or portion thereof, of the aggregate value, at the rate of one-twentieth of one per cent.

(2) On the next $50,000, or portion thereof, at the rate of one-twenty-fifth of one per cent.

(3) On the next $400,000, or portion thereof, at the rate of one-fiftieth of one per cent.

(4) On all above $500,000 at the rate of one-one-hundredth of one per cent.

858. For the purpose of determining the above fees:

(a) The value of such securities is taken as their par value unless the consideration for such securities is in excess of such par value. In the latter case the value is taken as the amount of the consideration so received.

(b) Where the securities proposed to be issued have no nominal or par value:

1. Until a new value is established, each share of no par value stock to be issued is taken at a value equal to the value established by previous sales, for money or other property, of other shares of the same class.

2. Otherwise, the value of such securities is taken as the price at which the insurer proposes to sell them. To establish this price, the value of consideration other than money, to be received in exchange for the securities, shall be taken at the value alleged in the application.

3. Rights, warrants or other certificates evidencing stockholders' rights to purchase additional securities are taken at a value equal to the difference between the selling price of the securities represented by such rights, warrants or other certificates and the market value of the securities so represented at the date of filing of application.

4. Where an application is made to issue securities containing a provision entitling the holder or holders thereof to convert or exchange them for a different class of securities, the value of the securities to be so issued is taken at twice the amount of the consideration to be received for the securities containing the conversion or exchange provision.

859. The commissioner shall also collect the following fees:
(a) For filing any application for an amendment to an existing permit to issue securities, or for a permit to negotiate for the sale of securities, ten dollars.

twenty-five dollars.
(c) For filing any application for an agent’s certificate, five dollars.
(d) For an examination, audit, or investigation, the actual amount of expenses reasonably incurred in the performance of the work, plus the following amount for each day or fraction thereof that the party doing the work is necessarily absent from his office for that purpose:
(1) If made by the commissioner, ten dollars.
(2) If made by an employee of the commissioner, the actual amount of the compensation paid to such employee for that time.

860. No fees shall be charged or collected for copies of papers, records, or official documents furnished to public officers for use in their official capacity or for the reports of the commissioner in the ordinary course of distribution.

Article 9. Registration of Insurers’ Names.

880. Except as provided in this article, every insurer shall conduct its business in this State in its own name.

881. The commissioner shall require the name of every domestic insurer to be submitted to him before the commencement of business. He may reject any name so submitted when it is an interference with, or too similar to, one already appropriated, or when it is likely to mislead the public in any respect. In such case a name not liable to such objection must be chosen.

882. An insurer proposing to issue an underwriter’s policy or any policy under a name differing from that of the insurer, must first file the name or title under which the policy is to be issued with the commissioner and pay a registration fee

923. The commissioner shall cause to be prepared, and shall furnish on demand to each of the insurers, printed forms of the statements herein required. He may make such changes from time to time in the form of such statements and reports as shall seem to him best adapted to elicit from the insurers a true exhibit of their condition. The same forms must be so furnished on demand to all insurers engaged in the same kind of business.

924. The commissioner shall collect the sum of one hundred dollars from any admitted insurer that wilfully fails to make and file in his office within the time prescribed by law any statements or stipulations required by this code. He shall also collect an additional penalty of $200 for each and every month or fractional part of a month thereafter that such insurer continues to transact the business of insurance until such statements and stipulations are filed.

Article 11. Deposit of Securities.

940. The commissioner shall accept and hold securities in trust for the policyholders of an insurer and for their benefit, whenever (a) the law of another State or of a foreign country requires such a deposit with an officer of this State as a prerequisite to transacting insurance business in that State or country, or (b) the law of this State requires such a deposit with an officer of this State.

941. Such deposited securities shall not be estimated above their par value nor above their market value.

942. The commissioner shall, upon the receipt of such securities, forthwith make a special deposit thereof in the State treasury, in packages marked with the name of the insurer from whom received. The securities shall remain there as security for policyholders of the insurer to whom they respectively belong.

943. So long as the insurer continues solvent the commissioner shall permit it to collect the interest or dividends on the securities so deposited, and from time to time to withdraw any such securities on depositing other securities in the stead of those to be withdrawn. Such new securities shall be of the same value as those withdrawn and of the character mentioned in this article.

944. Securities deposited under the provisions of this article shall not be withdrawn from the State treasury except upon the written order of the insurer making the deposits, with the endorsement of the commissioner thereon, or upon the order of some court of competent jurisdiction.

945. If the deposit is of mortgages, it shall be accompanied either by full abstracts of title with the fees for examination of title, or by policies of title insurance or certificates of title issued by an admitted title insurer. The fees for appraisal of the property shall be paid by the insurer making the deposit.
946. If the deposit is of stocks or bonds, it shall be accompanied by the fees necessary for the appraisal thereof.

947. If the deposit is of notes or bonds secured by instruments evidencing a lien on property which has been brought under the operation of the land title law, commonly called the Torrens title law, it shall be accompanied by a certificate of the registrar of titles as to the condition of the title to the encumbered property.

948. Such certificate shall state the items and amount of securities so deposited, and their value.

949. The commissioner shall require the payment of five dollars in lawful money of the United States, in advance, as a fee for each certificate issued pursuant to this article.

Whenever such a depositing insurer has paid, canceled, or reinsured all its unexpired policies outstanding in this State, and all its liabilities under such policies are extinguished, or assumed by other responsible insurers, it may apply to the commissioner for return of its deposit. Such application shall be in writing and verified. If on such application, and from an examination of the books of the insurer and of its officers under oath, the commissioner is satisfied that all of its policies are so paid, canceled, extinguished, or reinsured, he shall deliver up to the insurer the securities deposited.

951. Pending such examination the securities requested to be withdrawn may continue subject to withdrawal and substitution as provided by section 943.

952. Whenever the laws of any other State or country, by reason of which sections 940 or 1560 and 1561 are brought into force, are repealed and abrogated, then any deposit with the commissioner under and by reason of those sections shall be delivered up to the depositing insurer.

953. Whenever a domestic insurer deposits securities with an officer of this State, in order to enable it to do business in another State pursuant to the laws of such other State, if such insurer thereafter ceases to do business in such other State and files conclusive evidence that all policies written in such other State have expired or been paid, canceled or reinsured, the securities shall on demand be returned to the depositing insurer.

954. The commissioner shall make an annual examination of the securities received by him from each insurer. If it appears at any time that the securities deposited by any such insurer amount to less than the sum required for the purposes for which the deposit was made, he shall notify the insurer thereof. Unless the deficiency is made up within thirty days after the notice, the commissioner shall revoke the insurer's certificate of authority, countermand all the certificates issued to the insurer under this article, and give notice thereof to the officers of the several States to whom the certificate has been transmitted.

955. All appraisal fees collected by the commissioner under the provisions of this article shall be paid into the State treasury in trust and withdrawn as provided by law for withdrawal of trust funds from the State treasury.

Article 12. Bond for Payment of Taxes.

970. Except as provided in section 973, the commissioner shall require every insurer as a condition precedent to transact insurance business in this State, to file in his office a bond in favor of the people of the State of California, approved by the commissioner.

The penal sum of such bond shall be twenty thousand dollars except in cases where the insurer has transacted insurance business in this State for two years or more and the total amount of State taxes assessed and levied against the insurer on business done during the preceding calendar year was less than ten thousand dollars. In such cases the penal sum shall be two thousand dollars plus any amount needed to make such sum equal to at least twice the total amount of such taxes.

970. Except as provided in section 973, the commissioner shall require every insurer, as a condition precedent to transacting insurance business in this State, to file in his office a bond in favor of the people of the State of California, approved by the commissioner.

The penal sum of such bond shall be twenty thousand dollars except in cases where the insurer has transacted insurance business in this State for two years or more and the total amount of State taxes assessed and levied during the preceding calendar year was less than ten thousand dollars. In such cases the penal sum shall be two thousand dollars plus any amount needed to make such sum equal to at least twice the total amount of such taxes.

971. The conditions of such bond shall be as follows:

(a) That the insurer and its agents will pay all State taxes, in the manner and at the time prescribed by law.

(b) That the insurer will conform to all the provisions of the revenue and other laws made to govern it.

(c) That the insurer will promptly pay all fees, assessments, taxes, penalties and fines that may be laid upon or against it.

972. If such bond is in a penal sum of twenty thousand dollars, it may be made applicable to the period covered by the current certificate of authority and to all periods covered by renewals thereof, and if such bond is in a penal sum of less than twenty thousand dollars, it may be made applicable alike to the period covered by the current certificate of authority and to periods covered by renewals thereof if both the principal and the sureties thereon, by endorsement, increase or decrease the penalty therein to make such bonds conformable to the requirements of this article. A fee shall not be required for filing such endorsement. In all other respects the bond shall be subject to the rules governing official bonds.

(Amended by Ch. 255, Stats. 1935.)

973. Any insurer may deposit with the commissioner, in lieu of such bond, securities of the kind and character set forth in sections 1170 to 1240, in a sum not less than the required amount of the penal sum of said bond. Such securities shall be held in trust by the commissioner for the fulfillment of the same terms and conditions as in the case of a bond required by section 971.

974. Such securities may be withdrawn at any time and new securities of equal value deposited in lieu thereof, and may be withdrawn whenever a bond, covering all liability for which such deposit of securities is applicable, is filed as provided in this article.

(Amended by Ch. 255, Stats. 1935.)

975. Whenever the same insurer desires to collect premiums for more than one insurer, the commissioner shall require a separate bond or deposit of securities for each other insurer so represented by such insurer.

976. The commissioner shall require in advance, in lawful money of the United States as a fee for filing bond or receiving securities pursuant to this article, five dollars.

Article 13. Insolvency.

980. As used in this article, "liability" includes liability for losses reported, expenses, taxes, and all other indebtedness not included in those categories.

981. Any fire or marine insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis and on other than the mutual plan, is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks would so far impair its capital paid in as to reduce such capital below $200,000, or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock. For the purpose of this computation, provision for reinsuring outstanding risks shall be estimated (a) at fifty per cent of the premiums received and receivable on all fire risks and marine time risks, and (b) at the full premiums received and receivable on all other marine risks.
982. A fire or marine insurer on the mutual plan issuing policies on a reserve basis is insolvent unless the sum of its available cash assets is at least $200,000 in excess of the amount necessary to provide for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks. Such reinsurance shall be estimated as provided in section 981.

983. Any liability insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks, estimated as provided in Article 1, Chapter 1, Part 3, Division 2, would so far impair its capital paid in as to reduce it either below $100,000 or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

984. Any mortgage insurer is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for unearned income would, after exhausting its required insurance surplus, impair its capital paid in so as to reduce it below $250,000 or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

985. Any land value insurer is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for the reserves required to be maintained by it would, after exhausting its required surplus, so far impair its capital paid in as to reduce it below $500,000 or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

986. A life insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis is insolvent whenever its assets are exceeded by the amount necessary to provide for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all its outstanding risks at the following rates:

(a) In the case of contracts issued in a foreign country, upon the lives of residents thereof, by a domestic insurer authorized to and doing business in that foreign country, the rates shall be in accordance with the standard of mortality approved by the commissioner, as provided by law.

(b) In the case of group insurance, at the rates required by law for valuation thereof.

(c) In the case of all other outstanding risks written prior to January 1, 1892, at the rates based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of four and one-half per cent per annum.

(d) In the case of all its other outstanding risks written from and after December 31, 1891, up to and including December 31, 1907, at rates based upon the Combined Experience or Actuaries' Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum.

(e) In the case of all its other outstanding risks written from and after December 31, 1907, at rates based upon the American Experience Table of Mortality with interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum.

987. A title insurer is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities would, after exhausting its required surplus, so far impair its capital paid in as to reduce it below $100,000, or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

988. A surety insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for reinsuring all outstanding risks would so far impair its capital paid in as to reduce such capital below $250,000, or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

For the purpose of determining proper provision for reinsurance of such outstanding risks, such risks shall be estimated on the basis of the unexpired term of bonds and undertakings issued and outstanding.

989. In the case of an insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis and not doing business on the mutual plan, if the standard for determining its solvency is not otherwise set forth in this article, such insurer is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks would impair its capital paid in so as to reduce such capital below $100,000, or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

The commissioner shall prescribe such standards for estimating reinsurance as will provide adequate safeguards for the policyholders, creditors and the public. The commissioner shall prescribe standards not lower than those accepted by the insurance authorities of the State of New York at the effective date of this code.

990. In the case of an insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis and operating on the mutual plan, if the standard for determining its solvency is not otherwise set forth in this article, such insurer is insolvent unless the sum of its available cash assets is at least $100,000 in excess of the amount necessary to provide for its liabilities and for reinsurance of outstanding risks. Such reinsurance shall be computed as provided in section 989.

991. In the case of an insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis and not on the mutual plan, doing more than one class of insurance, such insurer is insolvent whenever provision for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks would impair its capital paid in so as to reduce such capital below the total amount of capital paid in required for the doing of such classes by one insurer, or below seventy-five per cent of the aggregate par value of its issued capital stock.

992. In the case of an insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis and operating on the mutual plan, doing more than one class of insurance, such an insurer is insolvent whenever the amount necessary to provide for its liabilities and for reinsurance of all outstanding risks is not exceeded by its available cash assets to the extent required for the doing of such classes by one such insurer.

993. For the purpose of estimating reinsurance under the provisions of sections 991 and 992, the reinsurance shall be estimated for each class of insurance in accordance with the provisions of this article for estimating reinsurance in the case of an insurer doing only that class of insurance.

(Article 14 amended by Ch. 291, Stats. 1935.)

1010. The provisions of this article shall apply to all persons subject to examination by the commissioner, or purporting to do insurance business in this State, or in the process of organization with intent to do such business therein, or from whom the commissioner's certificate of authority is required for the transaction of business, or whose certificate of authority is revoked or suspended.

1011. Upon the filing, by the commissioner, with the superior court in the county in which is located the principal office of such person in this State, of a verified application showing any of the following conditions to exist:

(a) That such person has refused to submit its books, papers, accounts, or affairs to the reasonable inspection of the commissioner or his deputy or examinee.

(b) That such person has neglected or refused to observe an order of the commissioner to make good within the time prescribed by law any deficiency in its capital if it is a stock corporation, or in its reserve if it is a mutual insurer.

(c) That such person, without first obtaining the consent in writing of the commissioner, has transferred, or attempted to transfer, substantially its entire property or business or, without such consent, has entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge, consolidate, or reinsure substantially its entire property or business in or with the property or business of any other person.

(d) That such person is found, after an examination, to be in such condition that its further transaction of business will be hazardous to its policy holders, or creditors, or to the public.

(e) That such person has violated its charter or any law of the State.

(f) That a certificate of authority of such person has been revoked under section 10711.

(g) That any officer of such person refuses to be examined under oath, touching its affairs.

(h) That any officer or attorney-in-fact of such person has embezzled, sequestered, or wrongfully diverted any of the assets of such person.

(i) That a domestic insurer does not comply with the requirements for the issuance to it of a certificate of authority, or that its certificate of authority has been revoked;

Or, upon the filing, by the commissioner, of a verified application accompanied by a certified copy of the commissioner's last report of examination of any person to whom the provisions of this article apply showing such person to be insolvent within the meaning of Article 13, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1 of this code, said court shall issue its order vesting title to all of the assets of said person, wheresoever situated, in the commissioner or his successors in office, in his official capacity as such, and directing the commissioner forthwith to take possession of all of its books, records, property, real and personal, and assets, and to conduct, as conservator, the business of said person, or so much thereof as to the commissioner may seem appropriate, and enjoining said person and its officers, directors, agents, servants and employees from the transaction of its business or disposition of its property until a further order of said court.

1012. Said order shall continue in force and effect until, on the application either of the commissioner or of such person, it shall, after a full hearing, appear to said court that the ground for said order directing the commissioner to take title and possession does not exist or has been removed and that said person can properly resume title and possession of its property and the conduct of its business.

1013. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any of the conditions set forth in section 1011 exist or that irreparable loss and injury to the property and business of a person specified in section 1010 has occurred or may occur unless the commissioner so act immediately, the commissioner, without notice and before applying to the court for any order, forthwith shall take possession of the property, business, books, records and accounts of such person, and of the offices and premises occupied by it for the transaction of its business, and retain possession subject to the order of the court. Any person having possession of and refusing to deliver any of the books, records or assets of a person against whom a seizure order has been issued by the commissioner, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars or imprisonment not exceeding one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

1014. Whenever the commissioner makes any seizure as provided in section 1013, it shall, on the demand of the commissioner, be the duty of the sheriff of any county of this State, and of the police department of any municipal corporation therein, to furnish him with such deputies, patrolmen or officers as may be necessary to assist the commissioner in making and enforcing any such seizure.

1015. Immediately after such seizure, the commissioner shall institute a proceeding as provided for in section 1011 and thereafter shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of this article.

1016. If at any time after the issuance of an order under section 1011 it shall appear to the commissioner that further efforts to proceed under said section would be futile, he may apply to the court for an order to liquidate and wind up the business of said person. Upon a full hearing of such application, the court may make an order directing the winding up and liquidation of the business of such person by the commissioner, as liquidator. The title to all property and assets of such person, vested in the commissioner under section 1011, shall remain in the commissioner, as liquidator, for the purpose of carrying out the order to liquidate and wind up the business of such person.

1017. In his application for an order for the liquidation of a domestic corporation, or at any time thereafter, the commissioner may apply for, and the court shall make, an order dissolving such corporation, and thereupon the commissioner, as liquidator, shall become the statutory successor thereof.

1018. The recording in the office of a county recorder of any county in the State of an order entered pursuant to section 1011, 1016 or 1017 shall impart the same notice that would be imparted by the recording of a deed, bill of sale or other evidence of title duly executed by such person.

1019. Upon the issuance of an order of liquidation under section 1016, the rights and liabilities of any such person and of creditors, policyholders, shareholders and members, and all other persons interested in its assets shall, unless otherwise directed by the court, be fixed as of the date of the entry of the order in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the application was made.

1020. Upon the issuance of an order either under section 1011 or 1016, the court shall issue such other injunctions or orders as may be deemed necessary to prevent any or all of the following occurrences:

(a) Interference with the commissioner or the proceeding.
(b) Waste of assets of such person.
(c) The institution or prosecution of any actions or proceedings.
(d) The obtaining of preferences, judgments, attachments, or other liens against such person or its assets.
(e) The making of any levy against any such person or its assets.

1021. Upon the making of an order to liquidate the business of such person, the commissioner shall cause to be published notice to its policyholders, creditors, shareholders, and all other persons interested in its assets. Such notice shall require claimants to file their claims with the commissioner, together with proper proofs thereof, within six months after the date of first publication of such notice, in the manner specified in this article.

1022. Such notice shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation, published in the county in which the proceeding is pending, not less than once a week for four successive weeks. A copy of the notice, accompanied by an affidavit of due publication, including a statement of the date of first publication, shall be filed with the clerk of the court.

1023. A claim must set forth, under oath, on the form prescribed by the commissioner:

(a) The particulars thereof, and the consideration therefor.
(b) Whether said claim is secured or unsecured, and, if secured, the nature and amount of such security.
(c) The payments, if any, made thereon.
(d) That the sum claimed is justly owing from such person to the claimant.
(e) That there is no offset to the claim.
(f) Such other data or supporting documents as the commissioner requires.

1024. Unless such claim is filed in the manner and within the time provided in section 1021, it shall not be entitled to filing or allowance, and no action may be maintained thereon. In the liquidation, pursuant to the provisions of this article, of any domestic insurer which has issued policies insuring the lives of persons, the commissioner shall, within thirty days after the last day set for the filing of claims, make a list of the persons who have not filed proofs of claim with him and to whom, according to the books of said insurer, there are amounts owing under such policies, and he shall set opposite the name of each person the amount so owing to such person. Each person whose name shall appear upon said list shall be deemed to have duly filed, prior to the last day set for the filing of claims, a claim for the amount set opposite his name on said list.

1025. Claims founded upon unliquidated or undetermined demands must be filed within the time limit provided in this article for the filing of claims, but claims founded upon such demands shall not share in any distribution to creditors of a person proceeded against under section 1016 until such claims have been definitely determined, proved and allowed. Thereafter, such claims shall share ratably with other claims of the same class in all subsequent distributions.

An unliquidated or undetermined claim or demand within the meaning of this article shall be deemed to be any such claim or demand upon which a right of action has accrued at the date of the order of liquidation or accrues within the time limit provided in this article for the filing of claims, and upon which the liability has not been determined or the amount thereof liquidated; provided, however, that claims founded upon judicial surety bonds and undertakings securing unmatured obligations shall be deemed to be unliquidated and undetermined demands within the meaning of this section.

1026. Whenever any person has a cause of action against an insured and such cause is covered by a liability policy, such person, if the insurer is adjudged insolvent, may file a claim in the liquidation proceeding even if the claim is undetermined or unliquidated.

1027. A claim by a third party founded upon an insurance policy may be allowed by the liquidator without requiring such claim to be reduced to judgment, provided it can be reasonably inferred from the proof presented that the claimant would be able to obtain a judgment upon his cause of action against the insured and that such judgment would represent a liability of the person in liquidation under the policy of insurance upon which such claim is founded.
In the event several claims founded upon one policy or bond are filed, and the aggregate amount of such claims exceeds the liability limit of said policy or bond, and one or more of such claims is unliquidated and undetermined, then all of such claims shall be deemed unliquidated and undetermined; provided, however, that should one or more of said claims become determined and proved within the time provided in this article, the liquidator, upon any distribution to creditors, shall impound the distribution percentage of the face amount of said claim or claims so determined and proved, not exceeding the policy or bond limit, and upon such claim or claims becoming liquidated as to amount, the liquidator shall release to such claimant the distribution percentage of the final liquidated value of such claims out of the funds so impounded.

1028. A judgment taken by default, or by collusion, against an insured shall not be considered as evidence, in the liquidation proceeding, either of the liability of such insured to such claimant upon such cause of action or of the amount of damages to which such claimant is entitled.

1029. A claim of a secured claimant shall not be allowed in a sum greater than the excess over the value of the security of the amount for which the claim would be allowable if unsecured, unless the claimant surrenders the security to the liquidator. Upon such surrender the claim may be allowed in the full amount for which it is valued.

1030. The value of the security to be credited upon such claim shall be determined by an appraiser appointed by the liquidator and approved by the court. Such claimant shall elect to accept the security or to release it to the liquidator.

1031. In all cases of mutual debts or mutual credits between the person in liquidation under section 1016 and any other person, such credits and debts shall be set off and the balance only shall be allowed or paid, but no set-off shall be allowed in favor of such other person where any of the following facts exist:

(a) The obligation of the person in liquidation to such other person does not entitle such other person claiming such set-off to share as a claimant in the assets of such person in liquidation.

(b) The obligation of the person in liquidation to such other person was purchased by, or transferred to, such other person with a view to its use as a set-off.

(c) The obligation of such other person to the person in liquidation is to pay an assessment levied against such other person or to pay a balance upon a subscription for shares of the capital stock of the person in liquidation.

1032. When a claim is rejected by the commissioner, written notice of rejection shall be given by mail, addressed to the claimant at the address set forth in his claim. Within thirty days after the mailing of the notice the claimant may apply to the court in which the liquidation proceeding is pending for an order to show cause why the claim should not be allowed.

1033. Claims allowed in a proceeding under this article shall be given preference in the following order:

1. Expense of administration; 2. Claims having preference by the laws of the United States and by the laws of this State; 3. All other claims.

1034. After the issuance of an order of liquidation under section 1016, any of the following transactions occurring within four months prior to the application for such order shall be voidable by the commissioner if such transaction has the effect of giving to or enabling any creditor of such person to obtain a preference over any other creditor of the same class, or a greater percentage of his debt than any other creditor of the same class:

(a) A transfer of property of such person.
(b) The creation of a lien on the property of such person.
(c) The suffering of a judgment against such person.

1035. In any proceeding under this article, the commissioner shall have the power to appoint and employ under his hand and official seal, special deputy commissioners, as his agents, and to employ such clerks and assistants and to give to each of them such power as may by him be deemed necessary. The compensation of special deputy commissioners, clerks and assistants appointed to carry out the provisions of this article, and all expenses of taking possession of, conserving, conducting, liquidating, disposing of or otherwise dealing with the business and property of such person under this article, shall be fixed by the commissioner, subject to the approval of the court, and shall be paid out of the assets of such person.

1036. The Attorney General shall have the power to appoint and employ such legal counsel as may by him be deemed necessary to assist the commissioner in the performance of his duties under this article. The compensation of such legal counsel shall be fixed by the Attorney General, subject to the approval of the court, and shall be paid out of the assets of the person against whom the commissioner has proceeded under this article.

1037. Upon taking possession of the property and business of any person in any proceeding under this article, the commissioner, exclusively and except as otherwise expressly provided by this article, either as conservator or liquidator:

(a) Shall have authority to collect all moneys due such person, and to do such other acts as are necessary or expedient to collect, conserve or protect its assets, property and business, and to carry on and conduct the business and affairs of such person or so much thereof as to him may seem appropriate.
(b) Shall collect all debts due and claims belonging to said person, and shall have the authority to sell, compound, compromise or assign, for the purpose of collection upon such terms and conditions as he deems best, any bad or doubtful debts. If a purchaser for any bad or doubtful debts can not be obtained and it appears improbable that recovery thereon can be had and that the costs of actions to enforce collection of the same would probably be lost, said court may direct either the abandonment thereof or that suits thereon need not be brought.

(c) Shall have authority to compound, compromise or in any other manner negotiate settlements of claims against such person upon such terms and conditions as he shall deem to be most advantageous to the estate of the person being administered or liquidated or otherwise dealt with under this article.

(d) Shall have authority without notice, to acquire, hypothecate, encumber, lease, improve, sell, transfer or otherwise dispose of or deal with, any real or personal property of any such person at its reasonable market value, or, in cases other than acquisition, sale or transfer on the basis of reasonable market value, upon such terms and conditions as he may deem proper; provided, however, that no transaction involving real or personal property shall be made where the market value of the property involved exceeds the sum of one thousand dollars without first obtaining permission of said court, and then only in accordance with such terms as said court may prescribe.

(e) May, for the purpose of executing and performing any of the powers and authority conferred upon him under this article, in the name of the person affected by the proceeding or in his own name, prosecute and defend any and all suits and other legal proceedings, and execute, acknowledge and deliver any and all deeds, assignments, releases and other instruments necessary and proper to effectuate any sale of any real or personal property or other transaction in connection with the administration, liquidation, or other disposition of the assets of the person affected by such proceeding; and any deed or other instrument executed pursuant to the authority hereby given shall be valid and effectual for all purposes as though the same had been executed by the person affected by any proceeding under this article or by its officers pursuant to the direction of its governing board or authority. In cases where any real property sold by the commissioner under this article is located in a county other than the county wherein the proceeding is pending, the commissioner shall cause a certified copy of the order of his appointment, or order authorizing or ratifying the sale, to be filed in the office of the county recorder of the county in which said property is located.

The enumeration, in this article, of the duties, powers and authority of the commissioner in proceedings under this article shall not be construed as a limitation upon the commissioner, nor shall it exclude in any manner his right to perform and to do such other acts not herein specifically enumerated, or otherwise provided for, which he may deem necessary or expedient for the accomplishment or in aid of the purpose of such proceedings.

1038. Any application under section 1011 or 1016 shall be served upon the person named in such application in the manner prescribed by law for personal service of summons or as provided by section 1039.

1039. In lieu of the service required by section 1038, service may, upon application to said court, be made in such manner as the court directs whenever it is satisfactorily shown by affidavit (a) in the case of a corporation, that the officers of the corporation upon whom service is required to be made as above provided, have departed from the State or keep themselves concealed therein with intent to avoid the service, or, (b) in the case of a Lloyd’s association or interinsurance exchange, that the individual attorney in fact or the officers of the corporate attorney in fact can not be served because of such departure or concealment, or, (c) in the case of a natural person, that the natural person upon whom service is required to be made as above provided, has departed from the State or keeps himself concealed therein with intent to avoid the service.

1040. At any time after an order is made under section 1011 or 1016, the commissioner may remove the principal office of the person proceeded against to the City and County of San Francisco or to the city of Los Angeles. In event of such removal, the court wherein the proceeding was commenced shall, upon the application of the commissioner, direct its clerk to transmit all of the papers filed therein with such clerk to the clerk of the City and County of San Francisco or of the county of Los Angeles as the case may require. The proceeding shall thereafter be conducted in the same manner as though it had been commenced in the county to which it had been transferred.

1041. The commissioner shall be the custodian of all moneys collected by him or coming into his possession in the course of any proceeding under this article, but he may deposit such moneys, or any part thereof, in a bank approved by said court.

1042. The commissioner and a special deputy commissioner appointed pursuant to section 1035 shall have the power to subpoena witnesses and examine them under oath upon any subject relating to the affairs and business of any person affected by proceedings under this article. The penalties provided in Chapter II, Title III, Part IV of the Code of Civil Procedure shall apply to any witness who fails or refuses to appear in accordance with such subpoena, or to testify in connection therewith.

1043. In any proceeding under this article, the commissioner, as conservator or as liquidator, may, subject to the approval of said court, and subject to such liens as may be necessary, mutualize or reinsure the business of such person, or enter into rehabilitation agreements. Such rehabilitation or reinsurance agreements shall provide that, subsequent to the date thereof and for such period of time as the commissioner may determine, no investment or reinvestment of the assets of the person rehabilitated or reinsured shall be made without first obtaining the written approval of the commissioner.

Every party to such agreement, and every director, officer, agent and employee of such person, and every other person who knowingly in violation thereof directs or aids or assists in causing to be made an investment or reinvestment of any of said assets without first having obtained the written approval of the commissioner, or who makes such investment or reinvestment in nonconformity with the written approval of the commissioner then in effect authorizing such investment or reinvestment, is guilty of a public offense and shall be punished by imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding five years or in the county jail not exceeding two years, or by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or by both such fine and imprisom-ment.

1044. In connection with a rehabilitation agreement under section 1043, which affects a life insurer, and in an agreement made for the reinsurance of the business of a life insurer under said section, there may be included in such rehabilitation or reinsurance agreement a provision for, and the commissioner shall have authority to impose and declare, a moratorium against the provisions of the life insurance polici-ies therein involved calling for the making of loans on the security of such policies and for the payment of money upon the surrender of such policies, such moratorium to continue for such period and to such extent as may be directed by said court.

1045. If at any time after the issuance of an order under section 1011 affecting a life insurer issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis and organized with a capital stock evidenced by shares thereof it shall appear to the commissioner that the purposes of section 1011 can be best attained by the mutualization of such life insurer, the commissioner may formulate a plan for the mutualization of such insurer.

1046. Said mutualization plan shall include provisions for:

(a) The acquisition by such insurer of all outstanding shares of its capital stock at a price and upon terms and conditions to be fixed as hereinafter provided.

(b) The retirement of said shares of stock when acquired by such insurer.

(c) The amendment of the charter of such insurer so as to enable it to transact its business as a mutual insurer issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

(d) The manner in which and the time within which, after mutualization is effected, matured and maturing claims against such insurer shall be paid to the lawful holders thereof.

(e) The submission of said mutualization plan to the policyholders of such insurer under such procedure as shall be set forth in the plan or prescribed by said court, for their approval or rejection.

(f) Notice to the shareholders of such insurer, in such manner and at such time after the approval of said mutualization plan by said policyholders, as the court may direct.

1047. Said mutualization plan may include provisions:

(a) Imposing a moratorium against the provisions of the life insurance policies issued by such insurer and then in force calling for the making of loans on the security of such policies and for the payment of money upon the surrender of such policies, for a period and to an extent to be named in such provisions imposing such moratorium, and subject to extension change or prior termination only upon the written approval of the commissioner.

(b) Imposing liens upon policyholders of such insurer in respect of such policyholders' equities, but no lien shall be imposed in respect of such equities for the purpose, or which has the effect, of creating or making available for distribution to the shareholders of such insurer assets otherwise unavailable therefor or reflecting the intangible value of the business of such insurer commonly known as goodwill; nor shall the aggregate amount of such liens be greater than will be required, after making allowance for the effect of said mutualization plan and for costs and expenses to be incurred in connection with the execution thereof and with the conduct of such insurer's business under this article, to create a paid-in capital, as defined in section 36 (c) (1), exceeding by $50,000 the paid-in capital required to be maintained by such insurer.

(c) Regulating and adjusting the respective rights of holders of policies of different classes to participate in the profits or savings which may be made by such insurer when mutualized.

(d) Regulating the manner in which and the time at which the shareholders of such insurer shall be compensated for their proprietary interest, then existing, in the assets of such insurer other than goodwill.

(e) Regulating the manner in which the shareholders of such insurer shall be compensated for their proprietary interest in the goodwill, if then existing, of such insurer; provided, however, that no shareholder shall be compensated for his proprietary interest in such goodwill while any moratorium imposed under subdivision (a) of this section is in effect, nor while any lien imposed under subdivision (b) of this section exists, nor until all other indebtedness of such insurer existing at the time of mutualization has been fully paid and discharged or full provision made for its payment, nor otherwise than out of surplus earnings.

(f) Regulating such other matters as may, in the opinion of the commissioner, require regulation in the interest of expediency or otherwise.

1048. Upon formulation of said mutualization plan the commissioner shall submit the same to said court with his application for order to submit plan.
application for an order of said court directing the commissioner to submit said mutualization plan to the persons named in subdivision (e) of section 1046, under such procedure as shall be set forth in the plan or prescribed by said court, for their approval or rejection and the court shall issue such order.

1049. Each policyholder of such insurer shall be entitled to one vote, regardless of the amount for which, or the number of policies under which, he is insured. Such mutualization plan shall be deemed approved by the said policyholders if a majority of the policyholders voting for and against it shall have approved it, and shall be deemed rejected if a majority of the policyholders voting for and against it shall have rejected it. In the event that said plan of mutualization is rejected by the policyholders of such insurer, the commissioner shall certify the fact of such rejection to said court, whereupon he may proceed further as hereinbefore provided in this article.

1050. In the event that said plan of mutualization is approved by said policyholders, the commissioner shall certify to the said court the fact of such approval and the number of votes cast for and against such mutualization plan. Said court shall thereupon issue its order directing the commissioner to give notice, as provided in said mutualization plan or as the court may otherwise prescribe, to the shareholders of such insurer of the approval of said mutualization plan by said policyholders. Said order shall direct the commissioner to transmit to each such shareholder by mail address to his address as it appears upon the records of such insurer, a true copy of said order and of said mutualization plan approved by said policyholders, and shall fix a time, not less than thirty nor more than sixty days from the date of such order, within which any such shareholder may file with said court a petition for the disapproval of said mutualization plan or for its modification in such manner as shall be set forth in such petition, and within which any such shareholder and the commissioner may file with said court a petition for the appointment of one or more appraisers to appraise the value of the then outstanding shares of capital stock of such insurer.

1051. After the expiration of the time fixed in the order provided for in section 1050, and upon the filing of such petition, said court shall direct notice of a hearing of said petitions to be given to the commissioner and to such petitioners as are shareholders of such insurer. At such hearing, all petitions for the disapproval and all petitions for the modification of said mutualization plan shall be given precedence over all petitions for the appointment of one or more appraisers. Upon hearing of all such petitions for the disapproval and for the modification of said mutualization plan, said court shall either approve said mutualization plan, or disapprove it or modify it in such manner and to such extent, not inconsistent with the provisions of this article, as to said court shall seem appropriate. In the event of the disapproval of said mutualization plan the court shall deny all petitions for the appointment of one or more appraisers. In the event of the approval or modification of said mutualization plan, the court shall, upon hearing of the petitions for the appointment of appraisers, appoint one or more appraisers, who shall appraise the then outstanding shares of the capital stock of such insurer, without regard to any appreciation or depreciation arising out of said mutualization plan as so approved or modified. Such appraisal shall fix the reasonable value of such shares of capital stock, including the goodwill, if any, of such insurer, and shall state the value, if any, assigned to such goodwill; and if the appraisers shall have found that such insurer has no goodwill, such finding shall be stated. Such appraisal, when confirmed by said court, shall be final and conclusive.

1052. Thereupon the commissioner shall:

(a) Pay to each of such shareholders or his assignee or nominee, upon surrender of the shares held by such shareholder, the value of said shares so ascertained; subject, however, to the restrictions of subdivisions (d) and (e) of section 1047, and subject, also, to the terms and conditions of the mutualization plan as approved or modified.

(b) Appoint, with the approval of the court, the requisite number of directors in whom shall thereafter be vested the control and management of the assets and business of such insurer until their successors shall have been elected and qualified.

(c) Transfer, upon the order of said court, to the appropriate officers appointed by such directors, the property, real and personal, and the books, records, accounts and papers of such insurer; provided, however, that the commissioner may retain, as a deposit, so much of such property as he deems necessary to defray additional costs and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with any proceeding under this article affecting such property or business.

1053. Immediately upon the appointment of the directors as provided in subdivision (b) of section 1052, the directors thereupon holding office shall cease to hold office, and all rights of the shareholders of such insurer to vote at any meeting of such insurer shall absolutely cease and such shareholders shall retain only such interest in such corporation or in the property or assets thereof as shall be provided in said mutualization plan, and such insurer shall thereupon be and become a mutual life insurer under such corporate name as may have been set forth in its charter, as amended, to be conducted not for profit, but solely for the mutual benefit, ratably, of all its policyholders, and shall, upon issuance to it by the commissioner of a certificate of authority, have power to issue nonassessable policies on a reserve basis subject to all provisions of law applicable to incorporated life insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis, but shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 7, Part 2, Division 2 of this code.
1054. Such insurer, after mutualization, shall be a continuation of the original insurer, and such mutualization shall not affect existing suits, rights or contracts except as provided in said mutualization plan as approved. Such insurer, after mutualization, shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties conferred or imposed by law upon insurers writing the classes of insurance written by it, and to protect rights and contracts existing prior to mutualization, subject to the effect of said mutualization plan.

1056. All costs and expenses connected with proceedings for the mutualization of such insurer shall be paid by the commissioner out of the funds of such insurer, whether or not mutualized, subject to the approval of said court.

1057. In all proceedings under this article, the commissioner shall be deemed to be a trustee for the benefit of all creditors and other persons interested in the estate of the person against whom the proceedings are pending.

1058. In any proceeding pending under the provisions of this article, the court in which such proceeding is pending shall have jurisdiction to summarily hear and determine, in such proceeding, all actions or proceedings then pending or thereafter instituted by or against the person affected by a proceeding under this article.

1059. The commissioner, in the performance of any of his duties under this article, shall be deemed to be a public officer acting in his official capacity on behalf of the State, and the provisions of section 4295 of the Political Code shall apply to him.

1060. The commissioner shall transmit to the Governor an annual report showing:

(a) The names of the persons proceeded against under this article.

(b) Whether such persons have resumed business or have been liquidated or have been mutualized.

(c) Such other facts as will acquaint the Governor, the policyholders, creditors, shareholders and the public with his proceedings under this article.

1061. The provisions of section 658 of the Political Code shall apply to the books and accounts of the commissioner as conservator or liquidator under this article or under Article 8, Chapter 2, Part 6 of Division 2 of this code.

In addition to the times permitted or prescribed by said section for the examination of such books and accounts, such books and accounts shall be examined at the time of the retirement from office of the commissioner. The expense of examining and experting the books and accounts of the commissioner as conservator or liquidator under this article or under Article 8, Chapter 2, Part 6 of Division 2 of this code shall be paid out of the insurance fund in the State treasury and shall, upon order of the court or courts before which the proceedings under said articles are pending, be ratably reimbursed to said insurance fund out of the assets of the estates administered by the commissioner as conservator or liquidator under this article or under Article 8, Chapter 2, Part 6 of Division 2 of this code.

(Article 14 amended by Ch. 291, Stats. 1935.)

1010. The commissioner, in any appropriate case, shall proceed either in the manner prescribed by sections 1010 to 1017 or in the manner prescribed by sections 1018 to 1033.

1011. Whenever the commissioner ascertains that any insurer is insolvent, he may revoke the insurer's certificate of authority. In such case he shall send by mail, addressed to the insurer at its principal place of business, or deliver to it, a notice of such revocation and cause a copy of such notice together with the proof of such service to be filed in his office.

1012. After the commissioner revokes the certificate of authority of any insurer which is not a corporation on the ground that such insurer is insolvent, any person may commence insolvency proceedings against such insurer. Such proceedings must be taken in all respects as provided for in the then existing insolvency laws of the State.

1013. If any insurer, after revocation of its certificate of authority under section 1011 and within ninety days after the receipt of the notice of revocation, repays its capital to such an extent that it is not insolvent within the provisions of article 13 of this chapter, then upon the fact of such repair being made to appear to the commissioner, he may issue a new certificate of authority in the same manner and to the same effect as an original certificate of authority.

1014. When the commissioner ascertains that any domestic insurer is insolvent, he may certify such fact to the Attorney General. Upon receipt of the certificate, the Attorney General shall commence an action against such insurer under the provisions of Chapter V, Title X, Part II of the Code of Civil Procedure.

1015. If on the trial of any such action, it appears to the court that such insurer is insolvent, before causing judgment to be entered, the court may order the insurer and its officers to levy an assessment on the capital stock sufficient to enable the insurer to pay its debts. In such order the court shall give full directions as to the manner of levying such assessment and the amount thereof, and such assessment shall be levied before judgment is entered.

1016. In all other respects the relief awarded against the insurer shall be the same as provided in Chapter V, Title X, Part II, of the Code of Civil Procedure. Any receiver thereafter appointed to liquidate the affairs of such insurer, may bring such actions as may be necessary for the purpose of recovering the amounts of the assessments levied.

1017. In any action commenced pursuant to the provisions of section 1014 the court may authorize the insurer, or the receiver appointed to liquidate the affairs of such insurer, to reimburse all or any part of the insurance theretofore written by such insurer.

1018. Sections 1018 to 1033 shall apply to all persons subject to examination from time to time by the commissioner, or purporting to do insurance business in this State, or in the process of organization with the intent to do such business therein.

1019. The commissioner may apply for and procure an order directing such person to show cause why the commissioner should not take possession of its property and conduct its business, and for such other relief as the nature of the case and the interest of its policyholders, creditors, and the public, whenever any of the following conditions exist or acts have been committed:
(a) Such person is insolvent.
(b) Such person has refused to submit its books, papers, accounts or affairs to the reasonable inspection of the commissioner or his deputy or examiner.
(c) Such person has neglected or refused to observe an order of the commissioner to make good within the time prescribed by law any deficiency in its capital if it is a stock corporation, or in its reserve if it is a mutual insurer.
(d) Such person, without first obtaining the consent in writing of the commissioner, has transferred or attempted to transfer substantially its entire property or business, or without such consent, has entered into any transaction the effect of which is to merge substantially its entire property or business in the property or business of any other person.
(e) Such person is found, after an examination, to be in such condition that its further transaction of business will be hazardous to its policyholders or creditors, or to the public.
(f) Such person has willfully violated its charter or any law of the State.
(g) Such person is organized under this code and is found, after examination, to be in such condition that it can not meet the requirements for incorporation and authorization specified by this code.
(h) Any officer of such person refuses to be examined under oath touching its affairs.
(i) An officer or attorney in fact of such person has embezzled, squandered, or wrongfully diverted any of such person's assets to his own benefit.

1020. Such application shall be made to the superior court, or any judge thereof, in the county in which is located the principal office of such person in this State.

1021. On such application, or at any time thereafter, the court may issue an injunction restraining such person from the transaction of its business or disposition of its property until the further order of the court.

1022. On the return of such order to show cause, and after a full hearing, the court shall either deny the application or direct the commissioner forthwith to take or retain possession of the property and conduct the business of such person.

In the latter case the court shall direct the commissioner to retain such possession and conduct such business until, on the application either of the commissioner or of such person, after a like hearing, it appears to the court that the ground for such order directing the commissioner to take possession has been removed and that such person can properly resume possession of its property and the conduct of its business.

1023. Whenever it appears to the commissioner that any person has committed any of the acts set forth in section 1019 and that irreparable loss and injury to the property and business of a person specified in section 1018 and involved in such act has occurred, or may occur unless the commissioner so acts immediately, the commissioner, without notice and before applying to the court for any order, forthwith shall take possession of the property, business, books, records and accounts of such person, and of the offices and premises occupied by it for the transaction of its business, and retain possession subject to the order of the court.

1024. The commissioner may request and obtain the aid of all peace officers to enforce such seizure and possession.

1025. Immediately after such seizure the commissioner shall apply for the order authorized in section 1019 and thereafter shall proceed in such application as provided in this article.

1026. After the hearing of an order to show cause issued pursuant to section 1019, if the court orders the liquidation of the business of such person, such liquidation shall be made by and under the direction of the commissioner. He may deal with the property and business of such person in his own name as commissioner or in the name of such person, as the court directs.

1027. The commissioner shall be vested by operation of law with title to all of the property, contracts and rights of action of such person as of the date of the order directing liquidation.

1028. The recording of such order in any county recorder's office of the State shall impart the same notice that would be imparted by the recordation of a deed, bill of sale or other evidence of title duly executed by such person.
1029. The rights and liabilities of any such person and of creditors, original policyholders, shareholders and members, and all other persons interested in its assets shall, unless otherwise directed by the court, be fixed as of the date of entry of the order in the office of the clerk of the county wherein the application was made.

1030. At any time during a proceeding under this article the court may issue such other injunctions or orders as may be deemed necessary to prevent:
(a) Interference with the commissioner or the proceeding.
(b) Waste of assets of such person.
(c) The prosecution of any actions or proceedings.
(d) The obtaining of preferences, judgments, attachments, or other liens against such person or its assets.
(e) The making of any levy against such person or its assets.

1031. Upon the making of an order to liquidate the business of such person, the commissioner shall cause to be published notice to its policyholders, creditors, shareholders, and all other persons interested in its assets. Such notice shall require the filing of claims in the manner therein specified and with proper proofs thereof, against such person within six months after the date of first publication.

1032. Such notice shall be published not less than once a week for four successive weeks. A copy of the notice, accompanied by an affidavit of due publication, including a statement of date of first publication, shall be filed with the clerk of the court within thirty days after the first publication.

1033. A claim filed in accordance with such notice shall set forth under oath:
(a) The particulars and consideration upon which it is based.
(b) The security, if any, held for its payment.
(c) The payments, if any, made thereon.
(d) That the sum claimed is justly owing from such person to the claimant.
(e) That there is no offset to the claim.
(f) Such other data or supporting documents as the commissioner requires.

1034. Unless such claim is filed in the manner and within the time herein provided it shall not be entitled to filing or allowance, and no action may be maintained thereon.

1035. Except as provided by section 1037, a contingent claim shall not share in a distribution of the assets of a person that has been adjudged to be insolvent, except where such claim becomes absolute prior to the date of final for the filing of claims against his assets, or except where there is a surplus and the liquidation is thereafter conducted upon the basis that such person is solvent.

1036. Whenever any person has a cause of action against an insured and such cause is covered by a liability policy, if the insurer is adjudged insolvent, such person may file a claim in the liquidation proceeding, even if the claim is contingent.

1037. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1035, such a claim on a liability policy may be allowed if (a) it can be reasonably inferred from the proof presented that the claimant would be able to obtain a judgment upon his cause of action against the insurer and (b) the claimant furnishes suitable proof that no further valid claims arising out of his cause of action and other than those already presented can be made against the insurer, unless for good cause shown the court in which the liquidation proceeding is pending otherwise directs. In the allowance of such contingent claims the total liability of such insurer to all claimants arising out of the same act of its insured shall be no greater than if the insurer was not in liquidation.

1038. A judgment taken by default, or by collusion, against such an insured shall not be considered as evidence in the liquidation proceeding, either of the liability of such insured to such claimant upon such cause of action or of the amount of damages to which such claimant is therein entitled.

1039. A claim of a secured claimant shall not be allowed in a sum in excess of the difference between the amount for which the claim is allowed and the value of the security, unless the claimant surrenders the security to the commissioner. In such event the claim shall be allowed in the full amount for which the claim is valued.

1040. The value of the security to be credited upon such claim shall be determined by an appraiser appointed by the commissioner and approved by the court. Such claimant shall elect to accept the security or to release it to the commissioner.
1041. When a claim is rejected by the commissioner, written notice of rejection shall be given by registered mail, addressed to the claimant at the last known address. Within thirty days after the mailing of the notice, the claimant may apply to the court in which the liquidation proceeding is pending for an order to show cause why the claim should not be allowed.

1042. Claims allowed in a proceeding under this article shall be given preference in the following order: 1. Expense of administration; 2. Claims having preference by the laws of the United States and by the laws of this State; 3. All other claims.

1043. After the issuance of an order pursuant to this article to the commissioner to take possession of the property of any person, the commissioner may avoid any of the following transactions occurring within four months prior to the application for the order: if such transaction results in a creditor of such person obtaining or being enabled to obtain either a greater percentage of his debt or a preference over another creditor of the same class:

(a) A transfer of property of such person.
(b) The creation of a lien on the property of such person.
(c) The suffering of a judgment against such person.

1044. The compensation of special deputy commissioners, clerks and assistants appointed to carry out the provisions of this article, and all expenses of taking possession and conducting the business of liquidating the property of such person shall be fixed by the commissioner, subject to the approval of the court, and shall, on certificate of the commissioner, be paid out of the assets of such person.

1045. The Attorney General may appoint and employ such legal counsel as he deems necessary to assist the commissioner in the performance of his duties under this article. The compensation of such legal counsel shall be fixed by the Attorney General, subject to the approval of the court, and shall be paid out of the assets of the person under liquidation.

1046. The rights and duties of the commissioner with reference to incorporeal foreign receivers and assets shall be those exercised by and imposed upon ancillary receivers of foreign corporations in this State under the law in effect prior to August 21, 1933.

1047. Except as otherwise provided by law, in all cases arising under this article the powers and duties of the commissioner with relation to the assets and business of any insurer placed under his control shall be those exercised by and imposed upon receivers of corporations within this State on July 22, 1919.

1048. The order to show cause and the papers upon which the same is made in any proceeding instituted under the provisions of this article shall be served upon the person named in such order in the manner prescribed by law for personal service of summons upon a domestic corporation or as provided by section 1049.

1049. In lieu of the service required by section 1048 the order to show cause may provide for its service in such manner as the issuing court may direct; whenever it is satisfactory shown by affidavit (a) in the case of a corporation, that the officers of the corporation named in the said order to show cause, and upon whom service is required to be made as above provided, have departed from the State or keep themselves concealed therein with intent to avoid service, or (b) in the case of a Lloyds' association or interinsurance exchange, that the individual attorney in fact or the officers of the corporate attorney in fact cannot be served because of such departure or concealment.

1050. At any time after the commencement of proceedings under an order of liquidation made pursuant to this article, the commissioner may remove the principal office of such person in liquidation to the City and County of San Francisco. In event of such removal the court wherein the proceeding was commenced shall, upon the application of the commissioner or its clerk to transmit all of the papers filed therein with such clerk to the San Francisco county clerk. The proceeding shall thereafter be conducted in the same manner as though it had been commenced in the City and County of San Francisco.

1051. Unless otherwise provided by law, the moneys received by the commissioner or coming into his possession under or pursuant to the provisions of this article or from other similar sources shall not be deposited in the State treasury.

1052. The commissioner shall transmit to the Legislature, in his biennial report:

(a) The names of the persons so proceeded against.
(b) Whether such persons have resumed business or have been liquidated.
(c) Such other facts as will acquaint the policyholders, creditors, shareholders and the public with his proceedings under this article.

To that end, the special deputy commissioner in charge of any such person shall file annually with the commissioner a report of the affairs of such person.

1053. For the purposes of sections 1018 to 1052 of this article the commissioner may, subject to the approval of the court, make and prescribe such rules as he considers proper.

Article 15. Withdrawal of Insurers.

1070. Any insurer, upon payment of the fees and costs therefor and surrender to the commissioner of its certificate of authority, may apply to withdraw from this State. Such application shall be in writing, duly executed, accompanied by evidence of due authority for such execution, and properly acknowledged.

1071. The commissioner shall publish such application for withdrawal, daily, for one week, in each of two daily newspapers of general circulation, one published in the city of San Francisco, and the other in the city of Sacramento. The expense of such publication shall be paid in advance by the insurer.

1072. The commissioner shall make an examination of the books of the insurer. If, upon such examination, he finds that the insurer has no outstanding liabilities to residents of this State and no uncanceled policies in favor of the residents of this State, he shall cancel the insurer’s certificate of authority. The commissioner may, in his discretion, waive any or all of the above requirements for canceling the certificate of authority of such insurer if, after such examination, he finds it to be in a solvent condition. All such examinations shall be at the expense of the insurer, and such expense shall be paid in advance.

1072. The commissioner shall make an examination of the books of the insurer. If, upon such examination, he finds that the insurer has no outstanding liabilities to residents of this State and no uncanceled policies in favor of the residents of this State, he shall cancel the insurer’s certificate of authority. All such examinations shall be at the expense of the insurer, and such expense shall be paid in advance.

1073. Whenever any insurer withdraws from business in this State, and whenever for any reason the commissioner revokes or cancels the certificate of authority admitting any insurer, the commissioner shall thereafter cause a notice of the revocation, cancellation or withdrawal to be published in one daily newspaper published in the city of San Francisco and one daily newspaper published in the city of Los Angeles. The expense of such publication shall be paid by the insurer.

1074. Upon the failure of such insurer to pay the expense of such advertising within thirty days after the presentation of the bill therefore, the commissioner shall collect such fee from the surety in the bond furnished in accordance with the provisions of Article 12 of this chapter or out of securities furnished thereunder.
1090. An insurer which is insolvent, retiring from business in this State, or the required paid-in capital of which is impaired, shall not reinsure its business until its plan to effect such reinsurance is first submitted to the commissioner and approved by him.

1100. In this State, all investments and deposits of the assets of an insurer, all purchases on behalf of an insurer, and all sales made of the property and effects of an insurer shall be made in its own name, or in that of a corporation authorized to act as a trustee under the laws of this State.

1101. An insurer's officers, directors, trustees and any persons who have authority in the management of the insurer's funds, shall not, unless otherwise provided by this code:

(a) Except on behalf of the insurer, accept or be the beneficiary, directly or indirectly, of any gift, compensation or other consideration for or on account of any transaction by or on behalf of the insurer with any third party.

(b) Be pecuniarily interested, as borrower, principal, co-principal, agent, attorney or beneficiary, in such a transaction.

1102. An officer, director, agent or employee of any insurer shall not, directly or indirectly for his own personal benefit, purchase, or be interested in the purchase of, any of the assets of the insurer for a sum less than their current market value.

1103. Every person violating any provision of section 1101 or 1102 shall, for each offense, forfeit to the people of the State twice the market value of any such assets so purchased.

1104. An officer of any insurer shall not, directly or indirectly, for himself or as a partner or agent for others, borrow any of the funds of such insurer.

1105. This article shall not prevent:

(a) The purchase by any person of any asset which the commissioner requires to be sold, at a price approved by the commissioner.

(b) The borrowing in accordance with its terms by any person upon a policy of life insurance upon his own life.

(c) The payment of a fee to any attorney for legal services rendered to any such insurer.

(d) The receipt of advances under agency contracts by agents of life insurers.

1106. Any officer of an insurer who violates section 1104 is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Chapter 2. Incorporated Insurers.

1140. Except as otherwise provided in this code, incorporated insurers are subject to the provisions of the general corporation law in like manner with other corporations.
Article 2. Restrictions on Activities.

(Amended by Ch. 253, Stats. 1935.)

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

1150. A domestic incorporated insurer shall not purchase, hold or convey real property other than the following:

   (e) Real property conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in the course of its dealings.

1151. All real estate specified in subdivisions (c), (d), (e), (f), and (g) hereof, so acquired, which is not requisite for the accommodation of such corporation in the convenient transaction of its business, shall be sold and disposed of within five years after the acquisition of title thereto, unless the time for any such sale or disposal shall be extended by the commissioner in writing.

(Amended by Ch. 253, Stats. 1935.)

1151. Except as otherwise provided by this code, real property acquired as mentioned in subdivisions (c), (d) and (e) of section 1150, and which is not requisite for the accommodation of the insurer in the transaction of its business, shall be sold and disposed of within five years after acquisition of title thereto.

1152. Dividends upon shares of stock in domestic incorporated insurers shall be paid only out of net profits. For this purpose the moneys received and notes taken for premiums on risks which are undetermined and outstanding at the time of making the dividend shall not be treated as profits, except as provided in this code.
Article 3. General Investments.

1170. Domestic incorporated insurers may invest their assets in the purchase of any of the securities specified in this article, or in loans upon such securities, if the purchase price or amount loaned does not exceed the market value of the securities at the date of investment.

1171. Such insurers may invest in obligations of the United States or obligations for which the faith and credit of the United States are pledged for payment of principal and interest.

1172. Such insurers may invest in obligations of the Dominion of Canada or of any province of the Dominion of Canada, or obligations for which are pledged the faith and credit either of the Dominion or of any province of the Dominion, for the payment of principal and interest.

1173. Such insurers may invest in obligations issued under authority of law by any county, municipality, or school district in this State or in any other State or in any province of the Dominion of Canada, if neither the obligor nor the State or province in which it is located has, within two years next preceding the investment, defaulted in the payment of any part of either principal or interest upon any legally authorized obligation issued by it.

1174. Such insurers may invest in bonds of this State or those for which the faith and credit of this State are pledged for the payment of principal and interest, and bonds of any other State in the United States that has not, within five years next preceding such investment, defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest upon any legally authorized bond issue.

1175. Such insurers may invest in bonds of any permanent road division in this State, and such bonds of districts as the law of this State expressly makes legal investments for savings banks or insurers.

1176. Such insurers may invest in notes or bonds secured by mortgage or other first lien upon unencumbered real property, if:

(a) There exists no condition or right of reentry or of forfeiture under which such lien can be cut off, subordinated, or otherwise disturbed.

(b) The principal so loaned or the entire note or bond issue so secured does not exceed sixty per cent of the market value of such real property, or of such real property together with improvements which are taken as security at the date of investment.

(c) Where the loan is made or the notes or bonds are issued for a building loan on real property, the principal so loaned, or the entire outstanding notes or bonds so issued, at no time exceeds sixty per cent of the market value of the real property together with the actual cost of the improvements thereon taken as security.
Real property is not incumbered within the meaning of this section if subject only to one or more of the following:
(a) tax liens, (b) outstanding mineral, oil or timber rights, (c) rights of way, (d) sewer rights, (e) rights in walls, (f) building restrictions or other restrictive covenants, or leases under which rents or profits are reserved to the owner.

1177. Such insurers may invest in notes or bonds secured by mortgage guaranteed as to payment by a policy of mortgage insurance, and mortgage participation certificates issued by a mortgage insurer in accordance with the provisions of this code.

1178. Such insurers may invest in collateral trust bonds or notes, secured by any of the following:

(b) A deposit of bonds authorized for investment by this article or Articles 4, 5 or 6 of this chapter, together with other securities, the combined market value of the deposit being at least twenty per cent in excess of the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes issued, with the par value of the collateral trust bonds or notes not exceeding the market value of the deposited bonds which are authorized for investment by this article or Articles 4, 5, or 6 of this chapter.

1179. Such insurers may invest in farm loan bonds issued under the Federal Farm Loan Act, approved July 17, 1916.

Article 4. Property Authorized for Excess Funds Investments.

1190. Any domestic incorporated insurer after investing an amount equal to its required minimum paid in capital in securities specified in Article 3 of this chapter, may invest the remainder of its assets in the purchase of, or loans upon the securities set forth in this article. Such investments are known as excess funds investments and are subject to the restrictions set forth in this article.
1191. Excess funds investments may be made in the stock of any corporation organized and carrying on business under the laws of this or any other State when such stock has a market value at date of investment which is not less than its purchase price or the amount loaned upon its security, except that excess funds investments shall not be made in mining corporation stock.

1192. Excess funds investments may be made in interest-bearing obligations issued by a corporation organized under the laws of any state.

1193. Excess funds investments may be made in bonds of any permanent road division, or any district of any state when such bonds are legal investments for savings banks of this State.

1194. Excess funds investments may be made in bonds issued by any county, municipality, or school district in this State to represent assessments for local improvements authorized by law. At the date of such investment the purchase price or principal loaned shall not exceed fifty per cent of the market value of the real property or of the real property together with the improvements thereon, upon which the bond is the first lien.

1195. This article does not authorize investments in obligations of any corporation or district which, within five years next preceding, has defaulted in payment of any part of either principal or interest of any obligation issued by it.

1196. Excess funds investments shall not be made in any stock or obligation unless:

(a) The stock or obligation is rated as a first-class security.

(b) In case of a purchase, the price paid for the security is not in excess of the current market value at the date of purchase.

(c) In case of a loan, the amount loaned does not exceed eighty-five per cent of the market value at the date of the loan, of the collateral taken as security.

1197. Excess funds investments shall not be made in a loan to any one borrower in an amount exceeding ten per cent of the capital stock and surplus of the lending insurer when the security for the loan consists of shares of the capital stock of one or more corporations.

1198. Excess funds investments shall not be made in purchases of or loans upon shares of the capital stock of any one corporation in an amount exceeding twenty-five per cent of the capital stock and surplus of the investing insurer.

1199. Except in the case of the purchase by an admitted domestic insurer of the stock of another admitted domestic insurer, a domestic incorporated fire, life or marine insurer shall not make excess funds investments in purchases of, or loans upon more than thirty per cent of the total in par value or number of outstanding shares of the capital stock of any one corporation.
1200. An excess funds investment shall not be made unless approved by a vote of two-thirds of all the directors of the investor. Such approval shall be entered upon the records or minutes of the investor.

1201. The entry of approval shall show:
(a) The fact of making such investment.
(b) The amount thereof.
(c) The name of each director voting to approve the investment.
(d) The amount, character and value of the security purchased or taken as collateral.
(e) If the investment is a loan, the name of the borrower, the rate of interest thereon and the due date thereof.

1202. The secretary of any such investing insurer shall report the investments set forth in this article and the data above set forth respecting excess funds investments. Such a report shall be made in writing to the commissioner during January and July of each year. The first such report shall include all investments since commencing business. Every other report shall include all investments since the last previous report. The commissioner may require the corporation to sell or dispose of any excess funds investments.

Article 5. Life Insurance Policies.

1220. Domestic incorporated life insurers may also invest any funds in loans upon any of their own policies in an amount not exceeding the reserve against such policy at the time the loan is made, but policy loans shall not be deposited with the commissioner under Article 2, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2.

1221. The amount thus loaned by an insurer upon its own policies shall be credited to the insurer in determining the amount of deposit required to comply with the provisions of Article 2, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2. Such loans shall be deducted from the net value of the registered policies.

Article 6. Foreign Investments.

1240. When any domestic incorporated insurer does business in a foreign country, and in so doing inures an obligation in such foreign country in conformity to the laws thereof, the insurer may invest so much of its funds as are required to meet that obligation in the same kind of securities issued in the foreign country as are permitted for investment by this code. Such investment shall be subject to the limitations imposed by this code.

Article 7. Valuation of Investments.

1250. When any domestic incorporated insurer has, pursuant to the laws of this State, invested any of its funds in purchases of, or loans upon, the stock or obligations of a corporation or of a nation, state, or political or municipal division of a state, if the commissioner has reason to believe that such stock or obligations are not amply secured or are not yielding an income, he may direct the insurer to report to him under oath the amount of the stock or obligation, the security therefor and its market value.

1251. A stock, bond or other evidence of debt if in default as to principal or interest, or if not amply secured, shall not be valued as an asset of the insurer above its market value.

1252. All bonds or other evidences of debt held by an admitted incorporated insurer if amply secured and if not in default as to principal or interest may, in the discretion of the commissioner, be valued as follows:

(a) If purchased at par, at the par value.
(b) If purchased above or below par, on the basis of the purchase price adjusted so as to bring the value to par at maturity and so as to yield the effective rate of interest on the price at which the purchase was made.
(c) In such valuation, the purchase price shall in no case be taken at a higher figure than the actual market value at the time of purchase.

The commissioner shall have full discretion in determining the method of calculating values according to the foregoing rule, the values found by him in accordance with such method being final and binding.

1253. Any such insurer may report such bonds or other evidence of debt at market value or book value, but in no event at an aggregate value exceeding the aggregate of the values calculated according to the rule prescribed by section 1252.

Chapter 3. Reciprocal Insurers.

1280. This chapter shall not in any way affect the rights, duties, or obligations of members of or subscribers at any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange which has been adjudged insolvent and ordered to be liquidated prior to the date this code takes effect. All such rights, duties, or obligations shall be governed by the law applicable thereto prior to such date.

1281. Reciprocal or interinsurance contracts, the exchange thereof, the subscribers, attorneys-in-fact, agents, and representatives, and all matters incident to or concerned with such contracts and relationship, shall be exclusively subject to and regulated by the provisions of this chapter, and by no other law relating to insurance heretofore or hereafter enacted, except as provided in this chapter, or when such other law relating to insurance specifically uses the words "reciprocal" or "interinsurance."

The definitions contained in the "General Provisions" of this code, as the terms therein defined may be used in this code, other than in this chapter, shall not apply to or include reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, their subscribers, attorneys-in-fact, agents or representatives.

1282. The provisions of the following articles and chapters shall be applicable to reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges:

Chapter 1, Part 1, Division 1;
Article 14, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1;
Article 16, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1;
Article 1, Chapter 1, Part 3, Division 2;
Article 2, Chapter 1, Part 3, Division 2;
Article 1, Chapter 2, Part 3, Division 2;
Article 2, Chapter 2, Part 3, Division 2; Article 1, Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 2; and Article 2, Chapter 3, Part 3, Division 2.

Article 2. Organization of Exchange.

1300. Any persons may exchange reciprocal or interinsurance contracts with one another providing insurance other than life or surety, among themselves against any loss which may be insured against under other provisions of law.

1301. Such persons are termed subscribers.

1302. Any domestic corporation, in addition to the rights, powers and franchises specified in its articles of incorporation, has full power and authority to enter into insurance contracts of the kind and character mentioned in this chapter. The right to enter into such contracts is incidental to the purposes for which such corporations are organized and as fully granted as the rights and powers expressly conferred.

1303. The organization under which such subscribers are don exchange contracts is termed a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange.

1304. Neither the name of the organization nor of the attorney-in-fact shall be so similar to the name of any insurer or attorney-in-fact as to confuse or deceive as to identity.

1305. Such contracts may be executed by an attorney-infact, agent or other representative duly authorized and acting for such subscribers under powers of attorney. Such authorized person is termed the attorney, and may be a corporation.

1306. The principal office of the attorney shall be maintained at a place designated by the subscribers in the power of attorney.

1307. The power of attorney and contracts made thereunder may:

(a) Provide for the right of substitution of attorney and revocation of the contract or power.
(b) Impose such restrictions upon the exercise of the power as are agreed upon by the subscribers.
(c) Provide for and limit the maximum amount to be paid by subscribers, except that contracts of exchanges writing either liability or workmen’s compensation insurance shall be subject to the provisions of Article 6 of this chapter.
(d) Provide for the exercise of any right reserved to the subscribers directly or through a board or other body.
1308. The body exercising the subscribers' rights shall be selected under such rules as the subscribers adopt. It shall supervise the finances of the exchange and shall supervise its operations to such extent as to assure conformity with the subscriber's agreement and power of attorney.

1309. Such body shall have authority to procure the audit of the accounts and records of the exchange and of the attorney-in-fact, at the expense of the exchange.

1310. Such body shall be composed of subscribers or agents of subscribers. Not more than one-third of the members serving on such body shall be agents, employees or shareholders of the attorney.

Article 3. Filing of Documents.

1320. The attorney shall verify and cause to be filed with the commissioner copies of the following forms used by the exchange:

(a) The form of the power of attorney.

(b) The form of each application for insurance and the form of each contract for exchange of indemnity.

(c) Every amendment to such forms.

1321. If the name of the exchange does not contain either the words "interinsurance," "reciprocal" or "exchange," then such forms shall have printed under such name the words "an interinsurance exchange" in a prominent place on each of such forms.

1322. The attorney also shall file with the commissioner a declaration verified by his oath or, where such attorney is a corporation, by the oath of its duly authorized officers. Such declaration shall set forth or have annexed thereto:

(a) The name of the attorney and the name under which contracts are to be made.

(b) The location of the principal office of the exchange.

(c) The classes of insurance to be exchanged.

(d) A copy of each form of policy under or by which insurance is to be exchanged.

(e) A copy of the form of the power of attorney or agreement under and by which such insurance is to be exchanged.

(f) A statement that executed contracts or bona fide applications, to be concurrently effective, have been made for the exchange of indemnities by at least one hundred separate subscribers.

(g) In the case of employer's liability or workmen's compensation insurance, a statement that there have been executed contracts or bona fide applications, to be concurrently effective, representing a total of not less than $1,000,000.

(h) A statement that there are in the possession of such attorney subject to the supervision of the advisory board, assets conforming to the requirements of Article 5 of this chapter.
(i) A financial statement under oath in the form prescribed by the commissioner for the annual statement.

(j) The instrument authorizing service of process as provided in this chapter.

(k) A certificate showing any deposits of funds or securities.

1323. Concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for by the terms of section 1322 the attorney shall file with the commissioner an instrument in writing executed by him, providing that after the issuance of the certificate of authority actions against the exchange may be brought either in the county in which the person or property insured is located, or in which the exchange has its principal office or place of business in the State; and also providing that service of process may be had upon the attorney-in-fact or upon the commissioner in suits against the exchange.

1324. Except as provided in sections 1330 and 1331 of this code, the attorney, concurrently with the filing of the declaration provided for in section 1322, also shall file with the commissioner a bond, approved by the commissioner, in favor of the people of the State of California.

1325. Such bond shall be executed by the attorney with two sureties or with an admitted surety insurer as surety.

1326. The attorney's bond shall be in the penal sum of $50,000, conditioned that the attorney will faithfully account for all moneys and other property which come into his hands or are handled by him under the terms of the power of attorney and the rules of the exchange, and that he will neither withdraw nor cause to be withdrawn nor appropriate for his own use, from the funds of the exchange, anything of value to which he is not entitled under the terms of the power of attorney and the rules.

1327. The attorney's bond may be sued upon in one and the same action either by any subscriber or any number of subscribers suffering loss through a violation of its conditions or by the receiver or trustee in liquidation of the exchange. Liability thereunder may be enforced by any one or more of such parties.

1328. Any amount recovered on the attorney's bond shall be deposited in and become a part of the funds of the exchange.

1329. Where provision is made, by the power of attorney executed by the subscribers or the rules adopted by the exchange, for the bonding of the attorney-in-fact against fraud and dishonesty with a bond conditioned as provided by this chapter and in a penal sum at least equal to the amount set forth in section 1326, the bond executed in accordance with such power of attorney or rules may be filed with the commissioner in lieu of any other bond required by this chapter and shall be actionable in similar manner and for similar purposes as such other bond.

1330. Where the home office of an exchange is located outside of this State and the attorney files such a bond in the home State, there may be filed with the commissioner, in lieu of such bond, either a certified copy or duplicate thereof or an affidavit from the insurance authority of the home State to the effect that such a bond has been filed with it.

1331. The commissioner shall not accept for filing any bond having a corporate attorney as principal with sureties who are officers of the corporate principal.

1350. The commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the attorney upon compliance with the requirements of this chapter, and the payment of a fee of fifty dollars. Such certificate shall authorize the making, by the attorney, of contracts of insurance under the provisions of this chapter. It shall also specify:
(a) The classes of insurance to be effected.
(b) The name of the attorney.
(c) The location of the principal office.
(d) The name under which such contracts of insurance are issued.

1351. Such certificate shall be renewed annually upon a showing that the required standard of solvency has been maintained and all fees and taxes required have been paid. For such renewal a fee of ten dollars shall be paid.

Article 5. Finances.

1370. Every exchange shall maintain its required assets in any one, or more, or all of the following forms:
(a) in cash or deposits in solvent banks;
(b) invested in securities of the kind designated for the investment of assets of incorporated insurers having a capital stock by the laws of the State where the principal office is located;
(c) invested in real property acquired by or for it to secure the payment of loans heretofore contracted or for moneys heretofore due, or purchased at sales upon deeds of trust or upon judgments obtained for such loans or debts, or conveyed to it in satisfaction of debts heretofore contracted in the course of its dealings. Such real property may be acquired, held and conveyed on behalf of such exchange in trust by the attorney, but shall be sold and disposed of within five years after acquisition of title thereto unless the time for any such sale or disposal is extended by the commissioner in writing.

[ORIGINAL SECTION]

1370. Every exchange shall maintain its required assets in cash or invested in securities of the kind designated for the investment of assets of incorporated insurers having a capital stock by the laws of the State where the principal office is located.
1371. If an exchange does either liability or workmen's compensation insurance, it shall at all times maintain assets in a sum sufficient to discharge all liabilities and to provide a surplus over all liabilities of $100,000.

1372. Every other exchange shall maintain at all times assets in a sum sufficient to discharge all liabilities and to provide a surplus over all liabilities of $50,000.

1373. Any exchange having a certificate of authority on or before August 20, 1933, shall have until December 31, 1935, to make good a deficiency in such surplus requirements if, prior to the latter date, it continuously maintains assets in an amount not less than $50,000 in excess of the sum of all liabilities other than the unearned premium reserve.

1374. In estimating the financial condition of any exchange the commissioner shall observe the following rules:

(a) He shall charge as liabilities the same reserves as are required of incorporated insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

(b) There shall be allowed as admitted assets the surplus deposits of subscribers, except that in the case of any subscriber whose premium deposit is due and unpaid for ninety days, such premium deposit shall be first charged against such surplus deposit.

(c) The surplus deposits of subscribers shall not be charged as a liability.

(d) All premium deposits due and unpaid for a period not exceeding ninety days shall be allowed as admitted assets, as in the case of incorporated insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

(e) An assessment levied as provided in this chapter, and not collected shall in no event be allowed as an asset.

(f) The computation of reserves shall be based upon premium deposits without any deduction for the compensation of the attorney.

1375. Where the subscribers are grouped by industries or otherwise under any ruling or agreement which exempts the funds of one group from liability in whole or in part for the payment of losses or expenses chargeable against another group, each such independent group shall maintain the reserves and surplus required for a separate exchange and the requirements of subdivisions (f) and (g) of section 1322 relative to the number and amount of risks to be assumed must be observed as to each group.

Article 6. Assessment of Liability and Workmen’s Compensation Insurers.

1390. The provisions of this article shall apply only to exchanges writing liability or workmen’s compensation insurance.

1391. Whenever an exchange writing liability or workmen’s compensation insurance is not possessed of admitted assets sufficient to discharge all liabilities and to maintain the required surplus, the attorney shall make an assessment for the amount, subject to the limits provided by this article, needed to make up the deficiency. If the attorney fails to make the assessment within thirty days after the commissioner orders him to do so, the commissioner shall make the assessment. If liquidation of such an exchange is ordered, the assessment shall be levied for such an amount, subject to limits provided by this article, as the commissioner determines to be necessary to discharge all liabilities of the exchange, including the reasonable cost of liquidation.

1392. Except as provided by sections 1397 and 1398, every subscriber of an exchange writing liability or workmen's compensation insurance shall be liable to pay, and shall pay, his proportionate part of any such assessment, in accordance with law and his contract covering any such deficiency assessment, if he is notified by either the attorney or the commissioner of intention to levy such assessment within one year after the expiration or cancellation of his policy.

1393. Each such subscriber's share of the deficiency for which an assessment is made pursuant to this article, shall be determined by applying to the premium earned on the member's policy or policies during the period to be covered by the assessment, the ratio of the total deficiency to the total premiums earned during such period, upon all policies subject to such assessment.

1394. Subscribers liable to assessment under this article shall pay the same without offsetting any claim for unearned premiums or losses payable to or for the account of the subscriber.

1395. Assessments under this article shall be made upon the members liable to assessment therefor, in proportion to their several liabilities.

1396. Notice of all such proposed assessments shall be filed with the commissioner and the assessments shall not take effect until approved by him after such investigation as he deems necessary.

1397. Assessments under this article, whether levied by the attorney, or the commissioner in the liquidation of such an exchange or otherwise, shall be of no greater amount than specified in the power of attorney.

1398. The power of attorney of an exchange subject to this article may limit the contingent liability of the subscriber for assessment, but such contingent liability shall not be less than an amount equal to and in addition to the amount of the premium deposit provided in the policy.

1399. Each subscriber to an exchange writing liability or workmen's compensation insurance may maintain with the exchange, in addition to the premium deposit provided in the policy, a further deposit to be held as the surplus deposit of such subscriber.

1400. Each such subscriber maintaining a surplus deposit equal to, and in addition to, the amount of the total current annual premium deposit provided in his policy, shall have no liability for assessment during the period such surplus deposit is so maintained.

1401. If an exchange subject to this article is certified by the commissioner as having a surplus of admitted assets over all liabilities in a sum equal to one and one-half times the minimum paid-in capital required of incorporated insurers issuing policies on a reserve basis and doing the same classes of insurance, then during the continued maintenance of such surplus of assets, subscribers at such exchanges shall not be liable to assessment.

1402. All funds of such exchange and the proceeds of the contingent liability of its subscribers shall be available for the payment of any liability of the exchange.

Article 7. Dividends.

1420. Savings or credits may be returned to the subscribers irrespective of the source from which such savings or credits accrue whenever such returns do not constitute an impairment of the assets or reserves required to be maintained. There shall be no discrimination in the making of such returns as between persons or places.

Article 8. Reports and Examination.

1430. The attorney shall make a report, under oath, to the commissioner covering each calendar year. Such report shall be made annually during the time limited for the filing of annual statements by insurers transacting the same class of insurance. It shall show the financial condition of the exchange.

The attorney shall at any time furnish such additional information and reports, other than names and addresses of subscribers, as the commissioner requires. The attorney shall not be required to furnish the names or addresses of any subscribers except in case of an unpaid final judgment against the exchange.

1431. The assets, business affairs and records of every exchange and of its attorney shall be subject to examination by the commissioner at any reasonable time. Such examination shall be at the expense of the exchange. The examination of the attorney shall be restricted to such of his records and accounts as are concerned with the business of the exchange.

1432. The commissioner has:

(a) The right of examination of and supervision over reciprocal or interinsurance exchanges, their attorneys, agents and brokers.

(b) The right to hold and conduct hearings in the manner and under the same procedure as in the case of other insurers.

1433. The commissioner's right of examination shall include the right to examine the records containing the names and addresses of the subscribers. Any information obtained from such records shall be confidential and the disclosure thereof, except under order of court, constitutes a breach of official duty.

1434. Where the principal office of the attorney is located in another State, the commissioner, in lieu of examination may accept a certified copy of the report of examination made by the insurance authority of another State.

Article 9. Suits.

1450. The exchange may sue or be sued in its own name as in the case of an individual. Any judgment rendered against the exchange shall be binding upon each subscriber only in such proportion as his interests may appear.

1451. No action shall lie against any subscriber, upon any obligation made or incurred in the name of the exchange, until a final judgment has been obtained against the exchange and remains unsatisfied for thirty days.

1452. When process is served upon the commissioner pursuant to this chapter, three copies of such process shall be delivered to the commissioner. He shall:

(a) File one copy in his office.

(b) Forward one copy by registered mail addressed to the attorney at the principal office of the exchange, as set forth in the declaration filed with the commissioner.

(c) Return one copy with his admission of service.

1453. A judgment rendered in any case where service of process has been made on the commissioner shall be binding against the subscribers as their interests appear.

Article 10. Policy.

1470. In any form of policy prescribed by this code, the attorney may insert provisions or conditions required by the plan of reciprocal or interinsurance if the plan is not inconsistent with, or in conflict with, any law of this State.

1471. The policy of the exchange, in lieu of conforming to the language and form prescribed by this code, shall be held to conform thereto in substance if such policy includes a provision or indorsement reciting that the policy shall be construed as if in the language and form prescribed by this code. Any such indorsement shall first be filed with the commissioner.

Article 11. Rebates.

1490. It is unlawful for any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, its attorney, agent or broker, directly or indirectly, to give or offer to a subscriber, an allowance, gift, setoff or payment as an inducement to secure an exchange of indemnities, except in the case of savings or credits to be returned to a subscriber in accordance with the power of attorney or reciprocal or interinsurance contract of the subscriber.

1500. The provisions of this code regarding the appointment, licensing, qualification and regulation of insurance agents, brokers and solicitors, apply neither to the attorney in fact of a reciprocal or interinsurance exchange, nor to the salaried representatives of such exchange or attorney who receive no commissions, but do apply to any agent, broker or solicitor of any reciprocal or interinsurance exchange who receives any commission. The fee for issuing the annual license of such agents or solicitors shall be one dollar.

Article 13. Penalties.

1510. Any attorney-in-fact or representative of such an attorney who exchanges, or solicits or negotiates the exchange of, any contracts of insurance of the kind and character specified in this chapter, except as provided in section 1511, without compliance by the attorney with the provisions of this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

1511. For the purpose of organization, and upon issuance of permit by the commissioner, powers of attorney and applications for such policies may be solicited without compliance with the provisions of this chapter, but no attorney, agent or other person shall execute any such policies until all of the provisions of this chapter are complied with.

1512. In addition to the foregoing penalties and where not otherwise provided, the penalty for failure or refusal to comply with any or all of the provisions of this chapter upon the part of the attorney, shall be the refusal, suspension or revocation of certificate of authority. Before such refusal, suspension or revocation, notice and hearing shall be given such attorney to show cause why such action should not be taken.

1530. In lieu of all other taxes, licenses or fees whatever, State or local, each exchange shall pay annually on account of the transaction of such business in this State, the same fees as are paid by mutual insurers transacting the same kind of business, and an annual tax upon all sums paid in the preceding calendar year by subscribers in this State by reason of the insurance exchanged, whether termed premium deposit, membership fee, or otherwise, after deducting therefrom premium deposit returns or cancellations, consideration for reinsurance and all amounts returned to subscribers and/or credited to their accounts as savings; such tax to be computed at the same rate as fixed by law for the taxation of mutual insurers transacting the same kind of business.

transacting the same kind of business, and an annual tax upon the gross premium deposits collected from subscribers in this State during the preceding calendar year, after deducting therefrom premium deposit returns or cancellations, consideration for reinsurance and all amounts returned to subscribers and/or credited to their accounts as savings; such tax to be computed at the same rate as fixed by law for the taxation of mutual insurers transacting the same kind of business.

CHAPTER 4. FOREIGN INSURERS.

1560. When by the laws of any other State or country, any taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of money or other securities, or other obligations or prohibitions are imposed on domestic insurers doing business in such other State or country, or upon their agents therein, in excess of such taxes, fines, penalties, licenses, fees, deposits of securities or other obligations or prohibitions, imposed upon insurers of the United States government, or of those of the State of California, or in interest-bearing bonds of any of the counties or incorporated cities and towns of the State of California, not in default for interest on such bonds. Such deposit shall be subject to the provisions of Article 11, Chapter 11, Part 2, Division 1.

Article 2. Deposit of Securities.

lar insurers, an insurer organized or existing under the laws of any country outside of the United States shall not transact any insurance in this State without first making the deposit required by this article. Such deposit shall be continuously maintained thereafter, so long as any obligation arising out of such insurance remains in existence for any purpose whatever and shall be in addition to any other deposits required by law.

1581. Such deposit shall be of securities authorized for investment of the assets of domestic incorporated insurers.

1582. Such deposits may be made with the insurance authority, or with the auditor, controller or general fiscal officer of any State in which the insurer is authorized to transact such insurance, or otherwise held in trust for the purposes specified in section 1585 as provided by the laws of the State of deposit.

1583. The amount of deposit shall be equal to the miniimum amount of the capital paid in or available cash assets required by this code to transact the classes of insurance for which the insurer is admitted. Such deposit shall be maintained as assets in excess of the same items of deduction, for liabilities or otherwise, as in the case of required paid-in capital, and may be treated as a part of the required assets of the depositing insurer. For the purpose of computing the amount of the deposit, the value of the securities shall not be estimated in excess of the par value or market value.

1584. If such deposit is not so maintained in this State such deposit shall be deemed to be in existence as required by this article only when a certificate, issued by the proper authority of the State of deposit and showing in detail the contents of the deposit, is delivered to the commissioner at least annually whenever required by the commissioner.

1585. Such deposits shall be for the benefit and security of all the policyholders of the insurer in the United States.

1586. Securities deposited with the commissioner pursuant to this article shall be specially deposited by him in the State treasury, in packages marked with the name of the insurer from whom received.

1588. Deposited securities shall not be withdrawn from the State treasury except upon the written order of the depositing insurer, indorsed by the commissioner or, if the indorsement is refused, under the authority of some court of competent jurisdiction.

1589. Whenever such a deposit is made with the commissioner, he shall issue to the depositing insurer a certificate under his official seal stating the items and amount of securities so deposited, and their value, to the best of his knowledge. In case of withdrawal and substitution, he shall issue a supplemental certificate of similar nature.

1590. The commissioner shall require the payment of five fee dollars in lawful money of the United States, in advance, as a fee for issuing each certificate of deposit of securities under this article.

agent in any action or other legal proceeding against the insurer, and such service gives jurisdiction over the person of such insurer.

1603. The agent so appointed and designated shall be deemed in law a general agent, and shall be the principal agent of the insurer in this State.

1604. Every foreign insurer, as a further condition precedent to admission and in consideration thereof, shall file with the commissioner an agreement or stipulation, executed by the proper authorities of such insurer, in form and substance as follows:

"The (giving name of insurer) does hereby stipulate and agree, in consideration of the permission granted by the State of California to it to transact insurance business in this State, that if at any time it leaves this State, ceases to transact business in this State or is without an agent for service of process in this State, then in any case where such agent could be served, service may be made upon the Insurance Commissioner, and such service upon the commissioner shall have the same force and effect as if made upon the insurer."

When a foreign insurer, prior to the date this code takes effect, has filed with the commissioner an agreement for service upon him pursuant to the provisions of section 616 of the Political Code as then in effect, such filing is a compliance with this section while such agreement remains in effect.

1605. Whenever such service is made upon the commissioner, within ten days thereafter he shall transmit a copy of the paper served to the insurer. Such transmission shall be by mail, postage paid, and the package containing the papers shall be addressed to the manager, president, or secretary of the insurer at its home or principal office. The sending of such copy by the commissioner is a necessary part of the service of the papers.

1606. When any paper is served upon the commissioner pursuant to this article, the service as to the insurer is complete at the end of sixty days after the date of the delivery of the paper to the commissioner.

But only a natural person may act as a solicitor, and a person shall not at the same time be licensed to act as a solicitor and also as an agent or as a broker.

1660. An insurance agent may be a broker with relation to insurers for which he is not an agent, but in order to act as a broker he must also be licensed as such.

1661. Each applicant for a license to act as an insurance agent, broker, or solicitor, who, at the time of the application, has not within two years previous to date of application, held a license to act in any one of those three capacities, shall take and pass a qualifying examination provided by this article.

If any such license issued to a copartnership, association or corporation is revoked, a member of the copartnership or officer or director of the corporation shall not be entitled to such a license for the same period of time, unless the commissioner finds that such member, officer, or director was not in any way personally at fault in the matter on account of which the license was revoked.
1669. An action to review an act of the commissioner under this article shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which is located the principal office or residence of the party bringing it, unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

1670. A violation of any of the provisions of this article by any insurance solicitor or employee of any licensed agent or broker shall not cause a suspension or revocation of the license of the employer of such solicitor or employee unless it appears to the commissioner, upon a hearing, after reasonable notice to such employer, that the employer had knowledge of, and permitted or benefited by such violation. This provision shall not relieve the broker from civil liability or his surety from liability under the bond filed as provided in this article.

1671. Clerical help necessary in performing any of the functions of insurance agents or brokers and salesmen selling merchandise in connection with insurance where premiums are included in the purchase price need not be licensed under this article. Such unlicensed clerical help shall not solicit insurance other than life, nor countersign policies unless licensed as an insurance agent, broker or solicitor.

1672. Upon the application of a nonresident that is duly licensed to transact insurance other than life under the laws of the State wherein such an applicant resides, if the State in which the applicant resides does not prohibit residents of this State from acting as an insurance broker therein, the commissioner may issue to such applicant a license to act as an insurance broker in this State upon the payment of the fee prescribed in this article. The issue of such license shall be subject, however, to the same qualifications, requirements and restrictions as apply to residents of this State, except that the applicant shall not be required to maintain an office in this State for the transaction of an insurance business.

1673. The commissioner may, in his discretion, accept in lieu of examination of such nonresident applicant, a certificate of the insurance authority of the state of the applicant's residence to the effect that the applicant has the following qualifications:

1674. The commissioner shall conduct or arrange for a written examination, to be given at least twice a year upon questions, prepared by the commissioner, as to the qualifications of applicants or members or officers of applicants to act as insurance agent, broker or solicitor.

1675. The examinations shall be of sufficient scope to satisfy the commissioner that the applicants have sufficient knowledge of, and are reasonably familiar with, the insurance laws of the State and with the provisions, terms, and conditions of the insurance that they propose to transact, and have a general and fair understanding of the obligations and duties of an insurance agent, broker or solicitor.

1676. A license shall not be issued under this article to any person required to pass an examination, until such examination has been passed, but the commissioner may issue to an applicant a certificate of convenience, operative for a period not extending beyond six months from issuance nor beyond the first day of July next succeeding issuance, permitting such applicant to act as agent, broker, or solicitor, as the case may be, pending a fulfillment of the examination requirements.

1677. Failure by an applicant to take the examination within thirty days after notification by the commissioner of readiness to hold the examination constitutes a failure to fulfill the examination requirements. Upon such failure by the holder, all privileges under any certificate of convenience shall terminate. In such case return of the application fee shall not be made.

1678. The commissioner shall require in advance the following fees:

(a) For issuing each original annual license to an insurance broker, ten dollars.

Such penalty shall be in addition to the fee for issue of the license and shall be paid at the same time as the fee.

1680. Any person who acts, offers to act, or assumes to act, as an insurance agent, broker or solicitor without a valid and subsisting license so to act, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Article 2. Life Agents.

1700. (Repealed by Ch. 283, Stats. 1935.)

1700. This article shall not apply to mutual benefit and life insurance associations organized and operating under Chapter 8, Part 2, Division 2, or to their solicitors or agents.

1701. Any person licensed under this article is a life agent, within the meaning of this article.
1702. Nothing in this article gives a life agent authority to act under the provisions of Article 1 of this chapter without obtaining a license thereunder, except that an agent licensed under the provisions of this article may act as a disability agent of the insurer for which he is licensed under this article without obtaining a license under Article 1. An agent licensed under Article 1 shall not act as a life agent under the provisions of this article without obtaining a license hereunder. A licensee under this article, in order to act as authorized by his license, need not also obtain a license under Article 1.

1703. A person shall not act within this State as a life agent of any life insurer before obtaining a license under the provisions of this article.

1704. An applicant for a license under this article shall file with the commissioner a statement by a duly authorized representative of the insurer which the agent seeks to represent, setting forth the following:

(a) The applicant is known to him.

(b) The applicant has had experience or instruction in life insurance, or will, within thirty days from the issuance of his license, be given the necessary instruction.

(c) The nature of any business other than insurance in which the applicant is engaged and the name under which such business is conducted.

(d) The applicant is of good reputation.

(e) The applicant is worthy of a license.

1705. The applicant shall answer under oath such interrogatories as the commissioner himself or through his deputies propounds on forms prepared by the commissioner.

1706. A license shall not be issued until the commissioner has satisfied himself upon evidence presented and recorded as to the integrity of the applicant and that said applicant is qualified in the following respects to hold a license:

(a) That the applicant is of good reputation.

(b) That the applicant has had experience or instruction in life insurance, or will be given the necessary instructions within thirty days after the issuance of the license, to the end that the interests of the insuring public and of the insurers may be reasonably served.

(c) That the applicant intends to engage in business as a life agent to do an insurance business with the general public and is not actuated principally in applying for a license by the prospect of insuring the life or health of himself or that of relatives or employers, or of a single person.

(d) That the applicant has never been refused a license or had a license revoked by any public insurance authority for reasons that should preclude the granting of the license applied for.

(e) That the applicant intends to carry on in good faith the business of life agent.

(f) That the applicant does not seek the appointment for the purpose of avoiding or preventing the operation or enforcement of the insurance laws of this State.
(g) That the granting of the license applied for will not be in violation of such laws either in letter or in spirit.

1707. A license shall not be refused by the commissioner without providing an opportunity to the applicant within thirty days to be heard and produce evidence in support of his application.

1708. The commissioner upon notice from any admitted life insurer of the appointment of a person to act as its agent, shall, subject to the provisions of this article, issue to such person a license in such form as the commissioner prescribes.

1709. Unless revoked by the commissioner, or unless the insurer by notice to the commissioner cancels the authority of the agent, the license shall expire on the first day of July next after its issue or renewal. The commissioner may renew a life agent's license for a succeeding year by a renewal certificate without requiring the detailed information required by this article.

1710. The commissioner shall give notice to a life agent, ordering the agent to appear before the commissioner and show cause why his license as a life agent should not be suspended or revoked, whenever it is brought to the attention of the commissioner, or written charges are filed with him, that any of the following facts exist:
   (a) The agent has wilfully misstated any material fact in his application.
   (b) The purpose of applying for such license was to avoid or prevent the operation or enforcement of any provision of this code.
   (c) The agent conducts his business in a dishonest manner.
   (d) The agent misrepresents the policies or contracts he sells or misrepresents the policies or contracts of other agents or other insurers.
   (e) The agent is incapable or is conducting his business in such a manner as to cause injury to the public or those dealing with him.
   (f) The agent obtained his license in an unfair manner or by concealment or misrepresentation.

1711. If, at the hearing of the order to show cause, it appears that any fact exists as specified in section 1710 and in the notice and order to show cause, then the commissioner shall revoke the license of such agent, or suspend the license for a period fixed by the commissioner. In such case the commissioner shall notify the agent and the insurer such agent represents of the revocation or suspension.

1712. An action to review an act of the commissioner under this article shall be commenced and tried in the superior court of the county in which such applicant or agent resides unless the parties thereto stipulate otherwise.

1713. The fee for the issuance or renewal of a life agent's license is one dollar.

1714. Any person who acts, offers to act or assumes to act as a life agent when not licensed by the commissioner as provided in this article, or after such license granted to him has been suspended or revoked, unless proceedings are pending in the courts to review the act of the commissioner, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Article 3. Fiduciary Funds of Insurance Agents, Brokers and Solicitors.

1730. All funds received by any agent, broker or solicitor, as premium or return premium on or under any policy are received by such agent, broker or solicitor in his fiduciary capacity. Any agent, broker or solicitor who diverts or appropriates such funds to his own use is guilty of theft and punishable for theft as provided by law.

1760. Any citizen of this State may negotiate and effect insurance on his own property with any nonadmitted insurer.

1761. Except as provided in section 1760, a person within this State shall not transact any insurance, marine insurance and insurance on the property of steam railroads or of other common carriers engaged in interstate trade excepted, on property or risks located within this State with nonadmitted insurers, except by and through a surplus line broker upon the terms and conditions prescribed in this chapter.

1762. An insurance broker, not acting by and through a surplus line broker, may solicit or place marine insurance, or insurance on property of common carriers engaged in interstate trade, with nonadmitted insurers only if three-quarters of the insurers admitted for such class of insurance are first offered and refuse such insurance at equal rates and on the same conditions, as are obtainable in good faith from insurers authorized to do the same class of insurance in the State of New York.

1763. A surplus line broker may solicit and place insurance, other than as excepted in section 1761, with nonadmitted insurers only if such insurance can not be procured from a majority of the insurers admitted for the particular class of insurance. Such part of the insurance as can not be so procured may be procured from nonadmitted insurers.

1764. Before any insurance is so procured or placed with nonadmitted insurers under authority of a surplus line broker's license, such broker shall satisfy himself that the insurance thus to be placed is only such part of the insurance required as can not be procured from a majority of insurers admitted for that class of insurance.

1765. The commissioner shall issue a license authorizing any applicant that is trustworthy and competent to transact an insurance brokerage business in such manner as to safeguard the interest of the insured, to act as a surplus line broker from the date of such license until the first day of July succeeding, on the following conditions:

(a) Payment in advance to the commissioner of a fee of $25. Fee.
(b) Delivery to the commissioner of a bond to the State of California in the sum of $5,000 with an admitted surety insurer or individuals having the qualifications mentioned in section 1057 of the Code of Civil Procedure, conditioned that said licensee will fully and faithfully comply with the requirements of this chapter.

1766. If in the opinion of the commissioner the solvency of any surety on a bond required in this chapter has become impaired or doubtful, he shall notify the broker, and unless within ten days after receipt of such notice the solvency of such surety is proved to the satisfaction of the commissioner, or a new bond is substituted therefor, the commissioner shall revoke the license of the broker.

1767. A surplus line broker shall maintain in good faith an office in this State.

1768. Such broker shall keep in said office complete books of the business transacted by him, with nonadmitted insurers under his license as a surplus line broker, showing:

1769. Whenever required so to do by the commissioner, such surplus line broker shall furnish to the commissioner a list of the majority of the admitted insurers from which the entire amount of insurance desired was not obtainable.

1770. The commissioner, whenever he deems necessary, may examine the books and accounts of any surplus line broker for the purpose of determining whether or not the broker is conducting his business in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. For the purpose of making such examination such broker shall allow the commissioner free access at all times to all the broker’s books and papers, and the commissioner shall thoroughly inspect and examine all of the broker’s affairs.

1771. All examinations by the commissioner shall be at the expense of the surplus line broker, such expenses to be paid in advance. If any such broker refuses to pay such expenses in advance, the commissioner may refuse to issue a renewal of the license of such broker and shall revoke the license of the broker.

1772. The surplus line broker, within one week or as soon thereafter as practicable, after receipt by him of the information as to what nonadmitted insurers and at what rate insurance has been placed, shall file with the commissioner a report showing:

1774. On or before the first day of March of each year the surplus line broker shall file with the commissioner a sworn statement of all business transacted under his license during the last preceding calendar year. Such statement shall contain accounts of:

1775. All such reports and statements shall be made on blanks furnished to the surplus line broker by the commissioner on application therefor.

1776. Any surplus line broker who wilfully fails or refuses to report to the commissioner any insurance on subject matter located within this State placed under his name with non-admitted insurers, or who, by wilful omission from the records required to be maintained by him for such purpose, attempts to evade the payment of taxes on any such insurance, is, in addition to being required to pay the tax, punishable by a fine not exceeding one hundred dollars for each offense.

1777. The following acts shall constitute a termination of the authority of a surplus line broker, and shall constitute revocation of his license, whether or not the commissioner formally revokes the same:
(a) The removal of the broker’s office from this State.
(b) The removal of the accounts of his business from this State.
(c) The closing of his office for a period of more than twenty consecutive days.
(d) Wilful failure or refusal to perform any of the other duties specified in this chapter.

1778. When a surplus line broker’s license is revoked for any reason other than the insufficiency of his sureties, a new license shall not be issued to him within one year after such revocation and until all indebtedness of the broker on former business has been paid to the commissioner.
1779. Every insured for whom insurance has been effected with nonadmitted insurers shall, upon request in writing by the commissioner, produce for the commissioner's examination all policies, contracts, and other documents evidencing such insurance, and shall disclose to the commissioner the amount of the gross premiums paid or agreed to be paid for such insurance. For refusal to obey such request, such insured shall forfeit to the State of California the sum of two hundred dollars for each refusal.

DIVISION 2. CLASSES OF INSURANCE.

PART 1. FIRE AND MARINE INSURANCE.

CHAPTER 1. THE MARINE CONTRACT.

Article 1. Insurable Interests Peculiar to Marine Insurance.

1880. The owner of a ship has in all cases an insurable interest in it, even when it has been chartered by one who agrees to pay him its value in case of loss.

1881. The insurable interest of the owner of a ship hypothecated by bottomry is only the excess of its value over the amount secured by bottomry.

1882. Freightage, in marine insurance, signifies all the benefit derived by the owner, either from the chartering of the ship or its employment for the carriage of his own goods or those of others.

1883. The owner of a ship has an insurable interest in expected freightage which he would have certainly earned but for the intervention of a peril insured against.

1884. The interest mentioned in the last section exists, in the case of a charter party, when the ship has broken ground on the chartered voyage. If a price is to be paid for the carriage of goods it exists when they are actually on board, or there is some contract for putting them on board, and both ship and goods are ready for the specified voyage.

1885. In marine insurance, a person who has an interest in the thing from which profits are expected to proceed, has an insurable interest in the profits.

1886. The charterer of a ship has an insurable interest in it, to the extent that he is liable to be damaged by its loss.

1900. In marine insurance each party is bound to communicate, in addition to what is required in the case of other insurance:

(a) All the information which he possesses and which is material to the risk, except such as is exempt from such communication in the case of other insurance.

(b) The exact and whole truth in relation to all matters that he represents or, upon inquiry assures to disclose.
1901. In marine insurance, information of the belief or expectation of a third person in reference to a material fact is material.

1902. A person insured by a contract of marine insurance is presumed to have, at the time of insuring, knowledge of a prior loss, if the information might possibly have reached him in the usual mode of transmission and at the usual rate of communication.

1903. In a marine insurance, concealment in respect to any of the following matters does not vitiate the entire contract but merely exonerates the insurer from a loss resulting from the risk concealed:
(a) The national character of the insured.
(b) The liability of the subject matter to capture and detention.
(c) The liability to seizure from breach of foreign laws of trade.
(d) The want of necessary documents.
(e) The use of false and simulated papers.

1904. In marine insurance, if a representation by the insured is intentionally false in any respect, whether material or immaterial, the insurer may rescind the entire contract.

1905. The failure of subsequent circumstances to conform to a representation as to expectation does not, in the absence of fraud, avoid marine insurance.

Article 3. Implied Warranties Peculiar to Marine Insurance.

1920. In every marine insurance upon a ship or involving transportation by ship, a warranty is implied that the ship is seaworthy.

1921. A ship is seaworthy when reasonably fit to perform the services and encounter the ordinary perils of the voyage contemplated by the parties to the policy.

1922. An implied warranty of seaworthiness is complied with if the ship is seaworthy at the time of the commencement of the risk, except in the following cases:
(a) When the insurance is made for a specified length of time, the implied warranty is not complied with unless the ship is seaworthy at the commencement of every voyage it undertakes during that time.
(b) When the insurance is upon the cargo and, by the terms of the policy, description of the voyage, or established custom of the trade, the cargo is to be transshipped at an intermediate port, the implied warranty is not complied with unless each vessel upon which the cargo is shipped or transshipped is seaworthy at the commencement of its particular voyage.

1923. A warranty of seaworthiness extends not only to the condition of the structure of the ship itself, but also requires that it be properly laden and provided with:
(a) A competent master.
(b) A sufficient number of competent officers and seamen.
(c) The requisite appurtenances and equipments.
(d) Other necessary or proper stores and implements for the voyage.

1924. Where any portion of the voyage contemplated by a policy differs from other portions in respect to the things requisite to make the ship seaworthy therefor, a warranty of seaworthiness is complied with if, at the commencement of each portion, the ship is seaworthy with reference to that portion.

1925. When a ship becomes unseaworthy during the voyage, an unreasonable delay in repairing the defect exonerates the insurer from liability on any loss arising from the defect.

1926. A ship may be seaworthy for the purpose of insurance upon itself and, at the same time, unseaworthy for the purpose of insurance upon the cargo because of unfitness to receive the cargo.

1927. Where the nationality or neutrality of a ship or cargo is expressly warranted, it is implied that:
   (a) The ship will carry the requisite documents to show such nationality or neutrality.
   (b) It will not carry any documents which cast reasonable suspicion thereon.

Article 4. Effect of Course of Voyage.

1940. When the voyage contemplated by marine insurance is described by the places of beginning and ending, the voyage insured is one which conforms to the course of sailing fixed by mercantile usage between those places.

1941. If the course of sailing is not fixed by mercantile usage, the voyage insured by marine insurance is that way between the places specified which, to a master of ordinary skill and discretion, would seem the most natural, direct, and advantageous.

1942. Deviation is:
   (a) A departure from the course of the voyage insured.
   (b) An unreasonable delay in pursuing the voyage.
   (c) The commencement of an entirely different voyage.

1943. A deviation is proper:
   (a) When caused by circumstances over which neither the master nor the owner of the ship has any control.
   (b) When necessary to comply with a warranty, or to avoid a peril, whether or not the peril is insured against.
   (c) When made in good faith and upon reasonable grounds of belief in its necessity to avoid a peril.
   (d) When made in good faith, for the purpose of saving human life or relieving another vessel in distress.

1944. Every deviation not specified in the last section is improper.

1945. An insurer is not liable for any loss happening to the subject matter of marine insurance after an improper deviation.
Article 5. Loss in Marine Insurance.

1960. A loss is either total or partial.
1961. A total loss is either actual or constructive.
1962. An actual total loss is caused by:
(a) A total destruction of the subject matter of insurance.
(b) The loss of the subject matter by sinking, or by being broken up.
(c) Any damage to the subject matter which renders it valueless to the owner for the purposes for which he held it.
(d) Any other event which entirely deprives the owner of the possession, at the port of destination, of the subject matter.

1963. A constructive total loss is one which gives to a person insured a right to abandon, under section 1971.

1964. An actual loss may be presumed from the continued absence of a ship without being heard of. The length of time which is sufficient to raise this presumption depends on the circumstances of the case.

1965. When a ship is prevented, at an intermediate port and by the perils insured against, from completing the voyage, the master shall make every exertion to procure, in the same or a contiguous port, another ship for the purpose of conveying the cargo to its destination. The liability of a marine insurer on the cargo continues after it is thus reshipped and such insurer is additionally liable as prescribed in section 1966.

1966. In addition to the liability mentioned in section 1965, a marine insurer is liable, up to the amount insured, for damages, expenses of discharging, storage, reshipment, extra freightage, and all other expenses incurred in saving cargo reshipped pursuant to section 1965.

1967. Upon an actual total loss, the insured is entitled to payment without notice of abandonment.

1968. Where it has been agreed that an insurance upon a particular subject matter, or class of subject matter, is to be free from particular average, a marine insurer is not liable for any particular average loss not depriving the insured of the possession, at the port of destination of the whole of such subject matter or class, even though the subject matter or class becomes entirely worthless; but such insurer is liable for his proportion of all general average loss assessed upon the subject matter insured.

1969. When insurance is confined in its terms to an actual total loss, it does not cover a constructive total loss, but it does cover any loss which necessarily results in depriving the insured of the possession, at the port of destination, of the entire subject matter insured.

1970. Abandonment, in marine insurance, is the act of the insured by which, after a constructive total loss, he declares the relinquishment to the insurer of the insured’s interest in the subject matter.

1971. In marine insurance, after abandonment of the subject matter of insurance or of any particular portion thereof which is separately valued by the policy or otherwise separately.
rately insured, in a case where the cause of the loss is a peril insured against the insured may recover for a total loss, as described in section 1963, if:

(a) More than half in value of the subject matter is actually lost by such peril, or would have to be expended to recover it from the peril.

(b) The subject matter is injured to such an extent as to reduce its value more than half.

(c) The subject matter is a ship, and either the contemplated voyage can not be lawfully performed without incurring either an expense to the insured of more than half the value of the ship abandoned or a risk which a prudent man would not take under the circumstances.

(d) The subject matter is cargo or freightage and the voyage can not be performed, nor another ship procured by the master to forward the cargo, within a reasonable time, with reasonable diligence and without incurring an expense to the insured of more than half the value of the subject matter or a risk which a prudent man would not take under the circumstances.
But freightage can not in any case be abandoned unless the ship also is abandoned.

1972. An abandonment can not be either partial or conditional.

1973. An abandonment can be made only at a time limited by all of the following:

(a) Within a reasonable time after the information of the loss.

(b) After the commencement of the voyage.

(c) Before the insured has information of the completion of the voyage.

1974. Where the information upon which an abandonment has been made proves incorrect, or the subject matter of insurance is not restored when the abandonment is made that there is in fact no total loss, the abandonment is not effective.

1975. Abandonment is made by giving oral or written notice thereof to the insurer.

1976. A notice of abandonment shall be explicit, and shall specify the particular cause of the abandonment, but need state only enough to show that there is probable cause therefor, and need not be accompanied with proof of interest or of loss.

1977. An abandonment can be sustained only upon the cause specified in the notice thereof.

1978. An abandonment is equivalent to a transfer to the insurer of the insured’s interest, with all the chances of recovery and indemnity.

1979. Whenever a marine insurer pays for a loss as if it were an actual total loss, he is entitled to whatever remains of the subject matter insured, or its proceeds or salvage, to the same extent as in the case of a formal abandonment.
1980. Upon an abandonment, acts done subsequent to the loss and in good faith by persons who at the time were the insured’s agents in respect to the subject matter insured, are at the risk of the insurer, and for his benefit.

1981. An acceptance of an abandonment is not necessary to the rights of the insured, and is not to be presumed from the mere silence of the insurer at the time of receiving notice of abandonment.

1982. The acceptance of an abandonment, whether express or implied, is conclusive upon the parties and admits the loss and the sufficiency of the abandonment.

1983. An abandonment once made and accepted is irrevocable, unless the ground upon which it was made proves to be unfounded.

1984. On an accepted abandonment of a ship, freighting earned previous to the loss belongs to the insurer of the freighting; but freighting subsequently earned belongs to the insurer of the ship.

1985. If an insurer refuses to accept a valid abandonment, he is liable as upon an actual total loss, after deducting from the amount of the loss any proceeds of the insured subject matter which have come to the hands of the insured.

1986. If an insured omits to abandon, he may nevertheless recover his actual loss.

1987. (a) A valuation fraudulent in fact entitles a marine insurer to rescind the contract.

(b) When the subject matter has been hypothesized by bottomry or respondentia, before its insurance and without the knowledge of the person actually procuring the insurance, such person may show the real value.

(c) Otherwise a valuation in a policy of marine insurance is conclusive between the parties in the adjustment of either a partial or total loss if the insured has some interest at risk and there is no fraud on his part.

1988. In a case of partial loss, a marine insurer is liable only for such proportion of the amount insured by him as the loss bears to the value of the whole interest of the insured in the subject matter.

1989. Where profits are separately insured in marine insurance, in case of loss the insured is entitled to recover that proportion of such profits which the value of the subject matter lost bears to the value of the whole.

1990. In case of a valued policy of marine insurance on freighting or cargo, if only a part of the subject matter is exposed to risk, the valuation applies only in proportion to such part.

1991. When profits are valued and insured by marine insurance, a loss of them is conclusively presumed from a loss of the property out of which they were expected to arise, and the valuation fixes their amount.

1992. In estimating a loss under an open policy of marine insurance, the following rules are to be observed:
(a) The value of a ship is its value at the beginning of the risk, including all articles or charges which add to its permanent value or which are necessary to prepare it for the voyage insured.

(b) The value of cargo is either its actual cost to the insured, when laden on board, or, where that cost can not be ascertained, its market value at the time and place of lading, adding the charges incurred in purchasing and placing it on board, but without reference to:

(1) Any losses incurred in raising money for its purchase.
(2) Any drawback on its exportation.
(3) The fluctuations of the market at the port of destination.
(4) Expenses incurred on the way or on arrival.

(c) The value of freightage is the gross freightage, exclusive of primage, without reference to the cost of earning it.

(d) The cost of insurance is in each case to be added to the value thus estimated.

1993. If cargo insured against partial loss arrives at the port of destination in a damaged condition, the loss of the insured is computed as follows:

(a) Deduct the market price, at port of destination, of the damaged subject matter from its market price there when sound.

(b) Take that proportion of the value which the remainder thus ascertained bears to such market price when sound.

1994. A marine insurer is liable for all the expense attendant upon a loss which forces the ship into port to be repaired. Where it is agreed that the insured may labor for the recovery of the property, the insurer is liable for the expense incurred thereby. In either case, the liability for such expense is in addition to the liability for a subsequent total loss.

1995. In marine insurance, when an insured is required to make a contribution in respect to the subject matter of insurance toward a general average loss, if the average was called for on a loss by a peril insured against, the insurer is liable for the insured's loss through the contribution.

1996. In marine insurance, where an insured has a demand against others for contribution, he may claim the whole loss from the insurer, subrogating the insurer to the insured's right to contribution. But no such claim can be made upon the insurer after the separation of the interests liable to contribution, nor after the insured, having the right and opportunity to enforce contribution from others, neglects or waives the exercise of that right.

1997. In the case of a partial loss of a ship or its equipments, the old materials are to be applied towards payment for the new. Whether the ship is new or old, a marine insurer is liable for only two-thirds of the remaining cost of the repairs after such deduction, except that anchors and cannon must be paid for in full, and sheathing metal at a depreciation of only two and one-half per cent for each month that it has been fastened to the ship.

Article 6. Exemptions.

2010. The provisions of sections 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808, and 809 shall not apply to marine insurance.

CHAPTER 2. THE FIRE INSURANCE CONTRACT.

2030. An insurer is entitled to rescind a contract of fire insurance upon an alteration in the use or condition of the subject matter insured from that to which it is limited by the policy, when such alteration is made without the consent of the insurer by means within the control of the insured, and increases the risk.

2031. When a contract of fire insurance does not restrict use or condition of insured subject matter, such contract is not affected by an alteration in such use or condition if the alteration does not increase the risk.

2032. After the execution of a contract of fire insurance, an act of the insured does not affect the contract unless the act violates policy provisions, even though such act increases the risk and causes a loss.

Article 2. Measure of Indemnity.

2050. The effect of a valuation in a fire policy is the same as in a marine policy.

2051. Under an open policy, the measure of indemnity in fire insurance is the expense to the insured of replacing the thing lost or injured in its condition at the time of the injury, such expense being computed as of the time of the commencement of the fire.

2052. Whenever the insured desires to have a valuation named in his policy insuring any building or structure against fire, he may require such building or structure to be examined by the insurer and the value of the insured’s interest therein shall be fixed at that time by the parties. The cost of the examination shall be paid by the insured.

2053. A clause shall be inserted in such a valued policy, stating substantially that the value of the insured’s interest in the insured building or structure has been thus fixed.

2054. In the absence of any change increasing the risk without the consent of the insurer or of fraud on the part of the insured, and except as provided in section 2056, the insurer under such a valued policy shall pay losses as follows:

(a) In case of a total loss, the whole amount insured upon the insured’s interest in such building or structure, as stated in the policy and upon which the insurers have received a premium.
(b) In case of a partial loss the full amount of the partial loss.

c) In case there are two or more policies covering the insured's interest, each policy shall contribute pro rata to the payment of such whole or partial loss.

2055. Except as provided by section 2056, the insurer shall not be required to pay more than the amount stated in such a valued policy.

2056. Stipulations in a valued policy concerning the repairing, rebuilding or replacing of buildings or structures wholly or partially damaged or destroyed shall prevail over the provisions of sections 2054 and 2055.

Article 3. California Standard Form Fire Insurance Policy.

2070. All fire policies on subject matter in California shall be on the standard form, and, except as provided by this article, shall not contain additions thereto. No part of the standard form shall be omitted therefrom.

2071. The following is adopted as a standard form of fire insurance policy for this State:

CALIFORNIA STANDARD FORM FIRE INSURANCE POLICY.

The company will not be liable beyond the actual cash value of the interest of the insured in the property at the time of loss or damage nor exceeding what it would then cost the insured to repair or replace the same with material of like kind and quality; said cash value to be estimated without allowance for any increased cost of repair or reconstruction by reason of any ordinance or law regulating repair or construction of buildings, and without compensation for loss resulting from interruption of business or manufacture.
This policy is made and accepted subject to the foregoing stipulations and conditions and those hereinafter stated, which are hereby specially referred to, and made part of this policy, together with such other provisions, agreements or conditions as may be endorsed hereon or added hereto, and no officer, agent, or other representative of this company shall have power to waive any provision or condition of this policy except by writing endorsed hereon or added hereto, and no person, unless duly authorized in writing, shall be deemed the agent of this company.

STIPULATIONS AND CONDITIONS SPECIALLY REFERRED TO.

Property not covered. (a) This company shall not be liable for loss to accounts, bills, currency, evidences of debt or ownership or other documents, money, notes or securities; nor, (b) unless liability is specifically assumed hereon, for loss to bullion, casts, curiosities, drawings, dies, jewels, manuscripts, medals, models, patterns, pictures, scientific apparatus, business or store or office furniture or fixtures, sculptures, frescoes, decorations, or property held on storage or for repair.

Hazards not covered. This company will not be liable for loss by (a) theft; or (b) by neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire, or when the property is endangered by fire; or (c) (unless fire ensues, and in that event for the damage by fire only) by explosion of any kind or lightning; or (d) by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or (except as hereinafter provided) by military or usurped power, or order of any civil authority, but the company will be liable (unless otherwise provided by endorsement hereon or added hereto) if the property is lost or damaged, by fire or otherwise, by civil authority or military or usurped power exercised to prevent the spread of fire not originating from a cause excepted hereunder and which fire otherwise probably would have caused the loss of or damage to the insured property.

Matters avoiding policy. This entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstances concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or, (b) in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto, this entire policy shall be void, (a) if the insured now has or shall procure any other insurance, whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy, or
(b) if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership, or (c) if the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple, or (d) if with the knowledge of the insured foreclosure procedings be commenced or notice given of sale of any property covered by this policy by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed, or (e) if this policy be assigned before a loss.

Matters suspending insurance. Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured; or (b) if the subject of insurance be a manufacturing establishment, while it is operated in whole or in part at night later than ten o'clock or while it ceases to be operated beyond the period of ten consecutive days; or (c) while mechanics or artisans are employed in building or altering or repairing the described premises for more than fifteen days at any one time; or (d) while illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein; or (e) while there be kept, used or allowed on the described premises (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding) calcium carbide, phosphorus, dynamite, nitro-glycerine, fireworks or other explosives; or exceeding one quart each of benzine, gasoline, naphtha or ether; or more than twenty-five pounds of gunpowder; or (f) while a building herein described whether intended for occupation by owner or tenant is vacant or unoccupied beyond the period of ten (10) consecutive days; (g) while the interest in, title to or possession of the subject of insurance is changed excepting: (1) by the death of the insured; (2) a change of occupancy of building without material increase of hazard; and (3) transfer by one or more several copartners or coowners to the others.

Such suspension shall not extend the term of this policy nor create any right for refund of the whole or any portion of premium, nor affect the respective rights of cancellation.

Chattel mortgage. Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing endorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, but the liability of the company upon other property hereby insured shall not be affected by such chattel mortgage.

Fallen building clause. Unless otherwise provided by agreement endorsed hereon or added hereto, if a building or any material part thereof fall, except as the result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease.

Removal when endangered by fire. Should any of said property be necessarily removed because of danger from fire, and there is no other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, or, if there is other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of its proportion of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, shall, for the ensuing five days only, cover said removed property in its new location or locations.

Cancellation. This policy shall be canceled at any time at the request of the insured, in which case the company shall, upon surrender of this policy, refund the excess of paid premium above the customary short rates for the expired time. This policy may be canceled at any time, without tender of unearned portion of premium, by the company by giving five (5) days' written notice of cancellation to the insured and to any mortgagee or other party to whom, with the written consent of the company, this policy is made payable, in which case the company shall, upon surrender of the policy or relinquishment of liability thereunder, refund the excess of paid premium above the pro rata premium for the expired time.

Duty of insured in case of loss. When a loss occurs the insured must give to this company written notice thereof without unnecessary delay; and shall protect the property from further damage; forthwith separate the damaged and undamaged personal property and put it in the best possible order; and without unnecessary delay make a complete inventory stating as far as possible the quantity and cost of each article, and the amount claimed thereon.

Within sixty days after the commencement of the fire the insured shall render to the company at its main office in California named herein preliminary proof of loss consisting of a written statement signed and sworn to by him setting forth:—
(a) his knowledge and belief as to the origin of the fire; (b) the interest of the insured and of all others in the property; (c) the cash value of the different articles or properties and the amount of loss thereon; (d) all incumbrances thereon; (e) all other insurance, whether valid or not, covering any of said articles or properties; (f) a copy of the descriptions and schedules in all other policies unless similar to this policy, and in that event, a statement as to the amounts for which the different articles or properties are insured in each of the other policies; (g) any changes of title, use, occupation, location or possession of said property since the issuance of this policy; (h) by whom and for what purpose any building herein described, and the several parts thereof, were occupied at the time of the fire.

If the company claims that the preliminary proof of loss is defective and within five days after the receipt thereof (without admitting the amount of loss or any part thereof) notifies in writing the insured, or the party making such proof of loss, of the alleged defects (specifically stating them) and requests that they be remedied by verified amendments the insured or such party within ten days after the receipt of such notification and request must comply therewith or, if unable so to do, present to the company an affidavit to that effect.

tions of any buildings, fixtures or machinery destroyed or damaged; and the insured shall exhibit to any person designated in writing by this company all that remains of any property herein described and shall submit to examination under oath, as often as required, by any such person, and subscribe to the testimony so given and shall produce to such person for examination all books of account, bills, invoices and other vouchers, and permit extracts and copies thereof to be made, and in case the originals are lost certified copies, if obtainable, shall be produced.

Ascertainment of amount of loss. This company shall be deemed to have ascertained the amount of the loss claimed by the insured in his preliminary proof of loss, unless within twenty days after the receipt thereof, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments, the company shall notify the insured in writing of its partial or total disagreement with the amount of loss claimed by him and shall also notify him in writing of the amount of loss, if any, the company admits on each of the different articles or properties set forth in the preliminary proof or amendments thereto.

If the insured and this company fail to agree, in whole or in part, as to the amount of loss within ten days after such notification, this company shall forthwith demand in writing an appraisement of the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement and shall name a competent and disinterested appraiser, and the insured within five days after receipt of such demand and name, shall appoint a competent and disinterested appraiser and notify the company thereof in writing, and the two so chosen shall before commencing the appraisement, select a competent and disinterested umpire.

The appraisers together shall estimate and appraise the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement, stating separately the sound value and damage, and if they fail to agree they shall submit their differences to the umpire, and the award in writing duly verified of any two shall determine the amount or amounts of such loss.

The parties to the appraisement shall pay the appraisers respectively appointed by them and shall bear equally the expense of the appraisement and the charges of the umpire.

If for any reason not attributable to the insured, or to the appraiser appointed by him, an appraisement is not had and completed within ninety days after said preliminary proof of loss is received by this company, the insured is not to be prejudiced by the failure to make an appraisement, and may prove the amount of his loss in an action brought without such appraisement.

Options of company in case of loss. This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liabilities hereunder, repair, rebuild or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments.

There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

Appportionment of loss. This company shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of any loss on the described property, or for loss by, and expenses of, removal from the premises endangered by fire, than the amount hereby insured bears to the entire insurance covering such property whether valid or not, or by solvent or insolvent insurers.

Loss when payable. A loss hereunder shall be payable in thirty days after the amount thereof has been ascertained either by agreement or by appraisement; but if such ascertainment is not had or made within sixty days after the receipt by the company of the preliminary proof of loss, then the loss shall be payable in ninety days after such receipt.

Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination. This company shall not be held to have waived any provision or condition of this policy or any forfeiture thereof, by assenting to the amount of the loss or damage or by any requirement, act, or proceeding on its part relating to the appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

Subrogation. If this company shall claim that the fire was caused by the act or neglect of any person or corporation, this company shall, on payment of the loss be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all right of recovery by the insured for the loss resulting therefrom, and such right shall be assigned to this company by the insured on receiving such payment.

Time for commencement of action. No suit or action on this policy for the recovery of any claim shall be sustained, until after full compliance by the insured with all of the foregoing requirements, nor unless begun within fifteen months next after the commencement of the fire.

Definitions. Wherever in this policy the word "insured" occurs, it shall be held to include the legal representatives of the insured in case of his death, and wherever the word "loss" occurs, it shall be deemed the equivalent of "loss or damage," and wherever the words "the time of loss or damage" are used they shall be deemed the equivalent of "the time of the commencement of the fire."

2072. There shall be printed on the outside fold of the policy, in type not smaller than small pica, the following words in this form:

consecutively.

2074. The blanks in the standard form shall be appropriately filled.

2075. By special agreement indorsed on the policy or added thereto, the provisions regarding appraisement or apportionment of loss may be waived and the valuations of all or any of the insured subject matter in case of total loss may be agreed upon in advance of loss.

2076. The insurer may add to the standard form any matter relating to its financial condition, directors, officers, shareholders and history, and the address of its home office and principal office in the United States.

2077. The insurer may add to the standard form, in red ink, any provisions required or permitted in its policies by the State or country of its organization, respecting limitation of liability of the insurer, its shareholders or members.

2080. Except as otherwise provided by this article, clauses imposing specified duties and obligations upon the insured and limiting the liability of the insurer may be attached to the standard form. Such clauses shall be in separate riders in type larger than pica.

2081. Whenever a clause is inserted, or rider attached, affecting the standard form liability of the insurer for loss or damage by fire occasioned either directly or indirectly by earthquake, hurricane, volcanic action or other disturbance of nature, such clause or rider shall be printed in red ink in type larger than small pica and at the head of the policy there shall be printed in red ink and in large bold-faced type the words, "This policy contains limitations of liability not permitted in the California standard form."

2082. Any insurers, other than corporations, issuing policies on subject matter in California, shall use the standard form, changing only such words as refer to the corporation or company, to officers or agents of the corporation or company, or to its organization. Such other insurers may substitute, in place of the words having peculiar reference to corporations, appropriate words having similar reference to themselves.

2083. It is a misdemeanor for any insurer or any agent to countersign or issue a fire policy covering in whole or in part property in California and varying from the California standard form of policy otherwise than as provided by this article. Any policy so issued shall, notwithstanding, be binding upon the issuing insurer.

3012. An incorporated marine insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis shall not transact marine insurance in this State unless it has a paid-in capital of at least $200,000.

3013. Except as restricted by its charter, such an incorporated marine insurer may transact, in addition to marine insurance, any of the following classes of insurance if its total paid-in capital is at least $200,000 in excess of the sum of the amounts set forth opposite the classes of insurance transacted:

3014. Unless the required capital of such incorporated fire or marine insurer is paid up in cash within twelve months from the filing of the articles of incorporation the insurer is subject to involuntary winding up by shareholders or forfeiture of corporate existence upon action by the attorney general, both proceedings being under the provisions of the general corporation law. Policies shall not be issued, nor risks taken, until such capital is paid up.

3015. In the case of a stock corporation, the president and a majority of the directors shall, within thirty days after the payment of twenty-five per cent of the capital stock, and also within thirty days after the payment of the last installment or assessment of the fixed capital stock, prepare, subscribe, and swear to a certificate setting forth the amount of the fixed capital and that the proportion named or full amount is paid up. They shall file the certificate in the office of the county clerk of the county where the principal place of business of the insurer is located, and shall file a duplicate thereof, similarly executed, with the commissioner.
3016. Domestic incorporated stock, fire or marine insurers shall be governed in the making of dividends exclusively by the provisions of this section. They may make dividends from funds remaining on hand only after retaining unimpaired the aggregate of the following:

(a) The aggregate par value of the entire issued or subscribed shares.

(b) All the premiums received and receivable upon all unexpired marine risks, other than time risks.

(c) A fund equal to one-half of the amount of all premiums received and receivable upon:

(1) All unexpired fire risks running one year or less from the date of the policy.

(2) All marine time risks.

(d) A pro rata amount of all premiums received and receivable upon all unexpired fire risks running more than one year from the date of the policy.

(e) A sum sufficient to pay all losses reported or in course of settlement and all liabilities for expenses and taxes.

3017. An incorporated fire or marine insurer, having a subscribed capital stock of less than $200,000 shall not declare any dividends, except from profits remaining on hand after reserving the aggregate of:

(a) A sum necessary to form, with the subscribed capital stock, the aggregate sum of $200,000.

(b) A sum equal to the total of all the premiums received or receivable on outstanding marine or inland risks, except marine time risks.

(c) A sum equal to one-half the total of all premiums on fire risks and marine time risks not terminated at the time of making such dividend.

(d) A sum sufficient to pay all losses reported or in course of settlement, and all liabilities for expenses and taxes.

Article 2. Guaranty Surplus and Special Reserve Funds.

3030. Sections 3030 to 3068 may be cited and known by the title, "An act to provide for the establishment and maintenance by fire insurance corporations of guaranty surplus funds and special reserve funds and thereby limiting liability of such corporations."

3031. Every domestic incorporated stock fire insurer may create a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund.

3032. To create such funds, a resolution by its board of directors declaring its desire and intention to create such funds and to do business under sections 3030 to 3068, shall be adopted at a regular meeting of the board and a copy thereof filed with the commissioner.

3033. The commissioner shall thereupon examine the insurer and make a certificate of the result. The certificate shall particularly set forth the amount of surplus funds held by the insurer at the date of the examination, and the total... a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund, to the extent necessary to constitute the two funds. This certificate shall be filed in the office of the commissioner.

3034. Thereafter all policies of fire insurance and renewals of such policies issued by such insurer shall contain a provision that they are issued under and in pursuance of sections 3030 to 3068, referring either to the title set forth in section 3030, or to the section numbers. All such policies and renewals shall be subject to the provisions of those sections, and a policyholder, by accepting the policy, becomes bound thereby.

3035. After the passage and filing of such resolution, the insurer shall not declare or pay in any form any dividend exceeding seven per cent per annum upon its capital stock and surplus funds until after its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund together amount to twice the minimum amount of its required paid-in capital.

3036. Each such fund is fully accumulated when it is equal in amount to the minimum paid-in capital required of admitted incorporated fire insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis.

3037. Until both such funds are fully accumulated, the entire profits of the insurer above such annual dividend of seven per cent shall be equally divided between and set apart to constitute such guaranty surplus and special reserve funds. These funds shall be held and used only as provided in this article.

3038. Any such insurer which declares or pays any dividend contrary to the provisions of this article, shall forfeit its charter upon so doing.

3039. Until both the guaranty surplus fund and special reserve fund are fully accumulated, profits of any such insurer shall be estimated, for the purpose of transferring assets to those funds, by deducting the sum of the following items from the gross assets of the insurer, including those funds:

(a) The amount of all outstanding claims.

(b) An amount sufficient to meet the liability of the insurer for the unearned premiums upon all of its unexpired policies of every class. This amount shall be at least equal to the unearned premiums on policies having one year or less to run, and a pro rata proportion of the premiums received on the policies having more than one year to run, and shall be known as the reinsurance liability.

(c) The amount of its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund.

(d) The amount of its capital stock.

(e) Interest at the rate of seven per cent per annum upon the amount of its capital stock and of those funds, for whatever time has elapsed since the last preceding cash dividend.

3040. The balance, after the deduction set forth in section 3039, constitutes the net surplus of the insurer subject to 3041. When the insurer notifies the commissioner that it has fulfilled the requirements of sections 3031 to 3040, and that both its guaranty surplus fund and its special reserve fund are fully accumulated, he shall examine the insurer and make a certificate of the result thereof.

3042. Thereafter such insurer may add any or all subsequent profits of its business to such funds, but, except as provided in section 3059, when any addition is made to the special reserve fund an equal sum shall be carried to the guaranty surplus fund.

3043. The guaranty surplus fund shall be held or may be invested by such insurer in the same manner as investments of the insurer other than excess funds investments. This fund shall be liable and applicable in the same manner as the capital of the insurer to the payment generally of its losses.

3044. Until the special reserve fund is fully accumulated, it shall be invested in the same manner as investments of the insurer other than excess funds investments.

3045. After full accumulation any additional sum added to the special reserve fund shall be invested by the insurer in any securities authorized for investment of the insurer’s assets.

3046. The assets constituting the special reserve fund shall be deposited with the commissioner from time to time, as the fund accumulates and is invested. It is a fund to protect such insurer and its policyholders other than claimants for losses existing at the time of or arising out of an extraordinary conflagration. It shall be regarded as part of the assets of the insurer and liable for any claim for loss by fire or otherwise only as provided in this article.

3047. While such insurer maintains a guaranty surplus fund and a special reserve fund, each fully accumulated, it may, as permitted by section 2079, insert in any policy of fire insurance thereafter issued by it a provision, in such form as to it seems desirable and in type not smaller than small pica with subheads in type larger than pica, to the effect that the insured, by accepting the policy agrees, in case of any claim thereunder to look solely to the assets and property of the insurer as and to the extent provided in this article.

3048. When any extensive conflagration occurs, whereby the claims upon the insurer exceed the amount of its capital stock and surplus, including the guaranty surplus fund but excluding the special reserve fund, the insurer shall notify the commissioner of the conflagration and claims.

3049. The commissioner shall then examine the insurer and issue in duplicate his certificate of the result. The certificate shall show the amounts of capital, guaranty surplus fund, special reserve fund, reinsurance reserve, and all other reserves, liabilities and assets. One of such duplicates shall be given the insurer, and the other shall be filed in the office of the commissioner.

3050. The special reserve fund shall be immediately held to protect all policyholders of the insurer other than then existing claimants, and other than claimants in consequence of the conflagration.

3051. The amount of such special reserve fund if fully accumulated, together with an amount equal to the unearned premiums of the insurer, shall constitute the capital and assets of such insurer for the protection of policyholders other than such claimants, and for the further conduct of its business. Such certificate of the commissioner shall be binding and conclusive upon all parties interested in the insurer.

3052. In the case of claims existing at the time of or caused by such general conflagration, there shall be paid to the claimants, to each in proportion to his claim, the full sum of the capital, guaranty surplus fund, and assets of the insurer, except only the assets constituting the special reserve fund together with an amount of its assets equal to the reserve of the insurer for unearned premiums, as certified by the commissioner. Upon such payment, such insurer is forever discharged from any and all further liability to such claimants on any insurance issued after the full accumulation of the special reserve fund.

3053. Upon demand by the insurer after the issue of a certificate under the provisions of section 3049, the commissioner shall transfer to it all of its securities which have been deposited with him as such special reserve fund except as provided by section 3056.

3054. If, at the time of the demand by the insurer, the special reserve fund is not fully accumulated, the commissioner shall issue a requisition upon the stockholders to contribute thereto sufficient assets to create a fully accumulated special reserve fund.

3055. If the insurer, after such requisition, fails to make up its special reserve fund to at least such amount as directed, the special reserve fund shall be held as security and liable for all losses occurring upon policies of such insurer after such conflagration but shall not constitute the capital of the insurer for the purpose of doing further business.

3056. If more than the amount of a full accumulation of the special reserve fund has been deposited with the commissioner as such fund, he shall retain of such securities a sum equal to one-half of the amount in excess of such a full accumulation for the purpose specified in section 3058, and shall transfer the balance thereof to the insurer as provided by section 3053.

3057. The amount so transferred to the insurer, if equal or if supplemented by shareholders' contribution until equal, to the minimum required paid-in capital of an admitted incorporated fire insurer, shall, from the time of such transfer, constitute the capital paid in of the insurer for the further conduct of its business.

3058. The sum retained by the commissioner, pursuant to section 3056, shall thenceforth constitute the special reserve fund of the insurer and shall be accumulated and held in the same manner, for the same purposes and under the same conditions as provided by this article for the original special reserve fund of the insurer. The insurer, in subsequent annual statements to the commissioner, shall set forth the amount of such special reserve fund and of its guaranty surplus fund.

3059. If from any cause the guaranty surplus fund is reduced below the amount of the special reserve fund, the directors of the insurer may, at the time of making any division of the net profits, carry a larger sum to the guaranty surplus fund than to the special reserve fund and the provisions of section 3042 shall not apply to such transfer. This privilege shall cease when the two funds are made equal in amount.

3060. Whenever an insurer, acting under the provisions of this article, has deposited with the commissioner a sum in excess of the required minimum amount of the special reserve fund, upon request of such insurer evidenced by delivery to him of a certified copy of a resolution of the board of directors he shall return to such insurer the excess, or the portion thereof, requested to be so returned.

3061. The policy registers, insurance maps, books of record and other books in actual use by the insurer in its business, are not to be considered as assets, in the computations relating to the guaranty surplus or special reserve funds, but shall be held by it for its use in the protection of its policyholders who are not claimants for losses at the time of such general conflagration or on account thereof.

3062. If, after the accumulation of such special reserve fund, it appears, upon examination by the commissioner, that the required paid-in capital of the insurer has, in the absence of any such extensive conflagration, become impaired, he shall order a call upon the shareholders to make up the impairment. The board of directors may either comply with such order and require the necessary payments of the shareholders, or it may apply for that purpose so much of the special reserve fund as will make the impairment good.

3063. An insurer doing business under sections 3031 to 3063 shall not insure any larger amount upon any single risk than is permitted by law to an insurer possessing the same amount of paid-in capital irrespective of the guaranty surplus and special reserve funds.

3064. Any domestic incorporated fire insurer, after establishing guaranty surplus and special reserve funds may, at a regular meeting of its board of directors, adopt a resolution declaring its intention to discontinue such funds and to cease to do business in pursuance of sections 3031 to 3063. In order to do so it shall file a certified copy of such resolution with the commissioner.

3065. Upon the filing of such resolution, all rights of such insurer to withhold such special reserve fund from its general creditors shall be terminated, it shall discontinue printing in its policies or renewals the notice provided for in section 3034, and thereafter the provisions of sections 3031 to 3063 shall cease to apply to such insurer.

3066. After the passage of such a resolution of discontinuance, the special reserve fund and guaranty surplus fund of such insurer shall continue to be held and invested under the provisions of this article, but only for the purpose of assuring to the holders of policies, at the time such resolution is filed with the commissioner, such rights and privileges as may inure to them under this article.

3067. Upon the expiration of five years after the adoption and filing of such resolution of discontinuance by the insurer, the special reserve fund shall be reduced to an amount equal to the unearned premium upon, together with all losses incurred and unpaid under, any remaining policies which were outstanding at the time of filing of such resolution and the excess of the assets in the special reserve fund above that amount shall be returned by the commissioner to the insurer.

3068. When all policies which were outstanding at the time of the filing of such resolution, and all liabilities under such policies, are finally terminated, the entire balance of such special reserve fund shall be returned to the insurer.

Article 3. Restrictions.

3080. Incorporated fire and marine insurers shall never insure any one risk, whether it is a marine insurance or an insurance against fire, in a sum exceeding one-tenth part of their capital actually paid in and intact at the time of taking such risk, without at once reinsuring the excess above one-tenth.

Chapter 4. Mutual Fire Insurers.

4010. This chapter shall not apply to unincorporated interindemnity compacts.

Article 2. Formation, Powers and Dividends.

4020. Corporations or associations may be formed under the general corporation law for the purpose of making contracts for fire insurance, automobile insurance, or both, covering the property of their members.

4021. The trustees or directors of any such insurer shall adopt such by-laws, not in conflict with the laws of this State, as they deem proper for the government of its affairs and the conduct of its business. Such by-laws shall provide for the liability of its members in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

4022. An insurer formed under this chapter shall not make any dividend except from profits on hand after retaining unimpaired a net cash surplus of $50,000 over and above the aggregate of all liabilities together with reinsurance reserve. It shall also retain not less than five per cent per annum of all profits thus available for dividends until $200,000 is accumulated in such a net cash surplus.

4023. The net cash surplus thus accumulated shall be invested in the manner provided for in Articles 3, 4, 5 and 6 of Chapter 2, of Part 2, Division 1.

Article 3. Membership.

4040. Every person accepting a policy in any such mutual insurer thereby becomes a member of the insurer, and liable for losses and expenses as provided by this article.

4041. Every member is liable for payment of his proportionate share of any assessment levied by the insurer and, in accordance with this chapter and his contract, on account of losses and expenses incurred while he is a member.

4042. Any member may withdraw at any time by surrendering his policy to the insurer, serving written notice of his intention to withdraw on a date not less than thirty days after date of service and paying his share:

(a) Of all losses which have accrued or occur at any time prior to the end of the time specified in the notice.

(b) Of all assessments levied prior to the date specified in the notice of intention to withdraw. The insurer may retain the customary short rate for the expired portion of the policy period.

4043. The insurer may cancel any policy by giving the insured five days' written notice to that effect, and returning to the insured that proportion of the premium which the unexpired portion of the term of the policy bears to the stated term of the policy.

4044. Such insurer shall charge and collect upon its policies the full premium in cash.

4045. It may, in its by-laws, fix the liability of its members for the payment of the losses and expenses not provided for by its cash funds as follows:

(a) If the insurer has, in the regular course of business, accumulated cash assets of at least $200,000, of which $50,000 is net cash surplus, it may limit such liability to any amount specified in its policies issued during the time of maintenance of such financial condition.

(b) Otherwise, it shall not limit such liability below the amount of one annual premium equal and in addition to the annual cash premium of the insured.

4060. Such insurer may issue policies for a term not exceeding five years and not exceeding the term of the insurer's existence.

4061. Every such insurer must print upon its policies such by-laws or mutual conditions as will define the liability of a policyholder but is exempt from the provisions of section 384.
4062. A policy shall not be for an amount in excess of $2,500 on any one risk, except:
(a) When protected by reinsurance in insurers having sufficient assets and surplus to entitle such insurers to be admitted.
(b) After there is a total of $1,000,000 of insurance outstanding on the books of the insurer, for each additional such total of $1,000,000 an additional $1,000 a risk may be assumed.

4063. For the purpose of section 4062, two or more buildings situated in the same city block, or separated by less than one hundred feet, constitute one risk.

4064. A policy shall not be issued by any such insurer until the following facts exist:
(a) At least $500,000 of insurance, in at least five hundred separate risks, have been subscribed for and are entered upon its books.
(b) It has on hand, collected from insurance premiums, at least $10,000 in cash over and above the total of all liabilities other than reinsurance reserve.
(c) It has contingent funds, consisting of the liability of its members liable to assessment, in addition to cash premiums collected, amounting to at least $50,000, as shown by the signed applications of its members.

Article 5. Expenses and Assessments.

4080. For any calendar year the expenses of such insurer, including commissions and fees to agents and officers, shall not exceed thirty per cent of the remainder of the gross premiums actually received during that year, after deducting therefrom the return and reinsurance premiums paid out or contracted for during the year.

4081. A violation of section 4080 renders the officers and directors jointly and severally liable to the insurer for any of the excess amount used for expenses.

4082. If the insurer fails or refuses to recover excess expense moneys so paid, the commissioner, for the benefit of the policyholders, may recover the moneys from any one or all of the persons made liable by this article.

4083. An officer or other person who passes upon the risks and upon whose decision the application for insurance is accepted or rejected by the insurer, shall not receive, as any part of his compensation, a commission upon the premiums. His compensation shall be a fixed salary and such share of the net profits as is determined by the directors.

4084. Such insurer shall maintain its cash funds at an amount equal to, or in excess of, the aggregate of its accrued losses, other liabilities, and reinsurance reserve. Whenever such funds fall below such amount, the insurer shall assess its members, each in proportion to his liability, a sum sufficient to make up the deficit.

4085. The insurer shall record, in a book kept for that purpose, the order of such assessment together with a statement setting forth the condition of the insurer at the date of the order. Such statement shall include the amount of its cash assets and contingent funds liable to assessment and the amount of the assessment called for.

4086. The record of assessment shall be made and signed by the directors who vote for the order, before any part of the assessment is collected. Any person liable to assessment may inspect and take a copy of the record.

Article 6. Foreign Insurers.

5000. A foreign mutual fire insurer which desires admission shall file its financial statement with the commissioner. Such statement shall show its condition on the December thirty-first next preceding the date of its application for admission and shall be signed by its president and secretary under oath.

5001. If the applicant is not authorized to assume risks upon automobiles, the statement shall show that it is possessed of cash assets of not less than $200,000, of which not less than $70,000 is net cash surplus over and above the sum of all liabilities together with its reinsurance reserve.

5002. If the applicant is authorized by its charter to assume hazards upon automobiles, then the statement shall show that it is possessed of cash assets of not less than $250,000, of which not less than $100,000 is net cash surplus over and above all liabilities together with its reinsurance reserve.

5003. The applicant shall also file a certificate from the insurance authority of the State under the laws of which it is organized, certifying that in the judgment of that authority, the statement is correct and that the insurer is possessed of the required cash assets and surplus.

5004. The commissioner, after receipt and examination of such statement and certificate, upon satisfying himself of the correctness thereof and of the insurer's compliance with the provisions of this chapter, shall issue to such insurer a certificate of authority granting it full power to transact business under this chapter.

Article 6. Finances and Statements.

5020. On or before the first day of March of each year, every insurer operating under this chapter shall file with the commissioner its financial statement. (b) That proportion of the premiums upon all unexpired fire and automobile risks running more than one year from date of policy which the unexpired periods of the policies bear to the terms of the policies.

Article 7. Insolvency.

5022. Any insurer operating under this chapter is insolvent whenever:
   (a) Its admitted cash assets are less than the aggregate of its liabilities for losses reported, expenses and taxes together with its reinsurance reserve.
   (b) The available resources of any such insurer are less than the requirements under section 4064.

Chapter 5. County Mutual Fire Insurers.

Article 1. Formation and Organization.

5050. Twenty-five or more persons residing in one county of this State, owning insurable property aggregating not less than $50,000 in value, and desiring to insure such property, may incorporate for the purpose of mutual fire insurance.

5051. Such persons shall file with the commissioner a declaration of their intention to incorporate for the purposes expressed in section 5050. The declaration shall be signed by all of such persons, and shall contain a copy of the articles of incorporation proposed to be adopted.

5052. The commissioner shall examine the proposed articles of incorporation. If they conform to this chapter he shall deliver to such persons a certificate permitting them to incorporate such insurer. The certificate shall be directed to the clerk of the county in which such insurer is proposed to be organized and shall contain a copy of the proposed articles of incorporation.

5053. The duly executed articles of incorporation and a copy, certified by the county clerk, of the certificate of the commissioner shall be filed with the Secretary of State in conformity with section 293 of the Civil Code. Upon organizing under such articles of incorporation, such county mutual fire insurer may carry on a fire insurance business as provided by this chapter.

5054. The articles of incorporation and certificate obtained by any county mutual fire insurer operating under the provisions of this chapter are subject to control and modification by the Legislature of this State.

5055. The by-laws and all amendments thereto shall be filed with the commissioner within sixty days after their adoption.

5056. Such insurer shall have not less than seven, nor more than eleven directors, a majority of whom shall constitute a quorum to do business. These directors shall be elected by ballot from the members of the insurer. They shall hold office for one year, and until their successors are elected and qualified.
5057. The annual meeting of the members of the insurer shall be on the third Monday in January of each year.

5058. In the election of the first board of directors each member shall be entitled to one vote. At every subsequent election each member shall be entitled to as many votes as there are directors to be elected, together with an equal additional number for every policy he holds in the insurer.

5059. A member may cast his votes in person or by proxy, distributing them among the directors to be elected, or among a less number of the directors, or cumulating them upon one candidate, as he sees fit.

5060. The directors shall elect, from their own number, a president and a vice president. They shall also elect a treasurer and a secretary, who need not be members of the insurer nor natural persons. All of such officers hold their office for one year from the date of their election, and until their successors are elected and qualified.

5061. The treasurer and secretary shall give bonds to the insurer for the faithful performance of their duties, in such amounts as are prescribed by the board of directors.

Article 2. Powers.

Article 3. Membership.

Any person having an insurable interest in property in the county in which any such insurer is formed or any person having such an interest in property in any adjoining county may become a member by insuring therein. Every member shall be entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining to membership, except that a person not residing in the county in which the insurer is formed shall not become one of its directors.

5091. Any member of such insurer may commence to withdraw therefrom by surrendering his policy for cancellation, and by giving notice in writing to the secretary at any time during the life of the policy and while the insurer continues the business for which it was organized.

5092. The withdrawal may be completed by paying the member’s share, if any, under the terms of his policy, of all claims that exist against the insurer on the day of such completion.

5093. The insurer may cancel any policy by giving the insured five days’ written notice and returning to him by check or otherwise any excess premium, paid during the term of the policy, over the cost of his insurance in accordance with the customary cancellation tables in use in this State. Such notice may be served in person or by registered mail, addressed either to the member’s last post-office address or, if this is not known, to the address given upon the application which is part of the policy.

5094. In case of cancellation by the insurer it shall also notify in the same manner any holder of a mortgage whose name appears, either on the signed application which is a part of the policy, or otherwise upon the policy and any party to whom loss, if any, is payable.

Stipulations and Conditions Specially Referred To.

Stipulations and conditions—Property not covered. (a) This company shall not be liable for loss to accounts, bills, currency, evidence of debt, or ownership or other documents, money, notes, or securities; nor (b) unless liability is specifically assumed hereon, for the loss to bullion, casts, curiosities, drawings, dies, jewels, manuscripts, medals, models, patterns, pictures, scientific apparatus, business or store or office furniture or fixtures, sculptures, frescoes and decorations, or property held on storage or for repair.

Hazards not covered—This company shall not be liable for loss by (a) theft, or (b) by neglect of the insured to use all reasonable means to save and preserve the property at and after a fire, or when the property is endangered by fire; or (c) unless fire ensues, and in that event for the damage by fire only, by explosion of any kind, or lightning; or (d) by invasion, insurrection, riot, civil war, or commotion, or (except as hereinafter provided) by military or usurped power, or order of any civil authority, but the company will be liable, unless otherwise provided by indorsement hereon or added hereto, if the property is lost or damaged, by fire or otherwise, by civil authority or military or usurped power exercised to prevent the spread of fire not originating from a cause excepted hereunder and which fire otherwise probably would have caused the loss of or damage to the insured property.

Matters avoiding policy—This entire policy shall be void (a) if the insured has concealed or misrepresented any material fact or circumstance concerning this insurance or the subject thereof; or (b) in case of any fraud or false swearing by the insured touching any matter relating to this insurance or the subject thereof, whether before or after a loss.

Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this entire policy shall be void (a) if the insured now has or shall procure any other insurance whether valid or not, on property covered in whole or in part by this policy, or (b) if the interest of the insured be other than unconditional and sole ownership, or (c) if the subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by the insured in fee simple, or (d) if with the knowledge of the insured foreclosure proceedings be commenced or notice given of sale of any property covered by this policy by virtue of any mortgage or trust deed, or (e) if this policy be assigned before a loss.

Matters suspending insurance—Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage occurring (a) while the hazard shall be materially increased by any means within the control of the insured, or (b) if the subject of insurance be a manufacturing establishment, while it is operated in whole or in part at night later than ten o'clock or while it ceases to be operated beyond a period of ten consecutive days; or (c) while mechanics or artisans are employed in building or altering or repairing the described premises for more than fifteen days at any one time; or (d) while illuminating gas or vapor be generated in the described building (or adjacent thereto) for use therein; or (e) while there be kept, used or allowed on the described premises (any usage or custom of trade or manufacture to the contrary notwithstanding), calcium carbide, phosphorus, dynamite, nitroglycerine, fireworks or other explosive; or exceeding one quart each of benzine, gasoline, naphtha or ether, or more than twenty-five pounds of gunpowder; or (f) while a building herein described whether intended for occupation by owner or tenant is vacant or unoccupied beyond the period of ten (10) consecutive days; (g) while the interest in, title to or possession of the subject of insurance is changed excepting: (1) by death of the insured; (2) a change of occupancy of building without material increase of hazard; and (3) transfer by one or more several copartners or coowners to the others.

Such suspension shall not extend the term of this policy nor create any right for refund of the whole or any portion of premium, nor affect the respective rights of cancellation.

Chattel mortgage—Unless otherwise provided by agreement in writing indorsed hereon or added hereto this company shall not be liable for loss or damage to any property insured hereunder while encumbered by a chattel mortgage, but the liability of the company upon other property hereby insured shall not be affected by such chattel mortgage.

Fallen building clause—Unless otherwise provided by agreement indorsed hereon or added hereto, if the building or any material part thereof fall, except as a result of fire, all insurance by this policy on such building or its contents shall immediately cease.

Removal when endangered by fire—Should any of said property be necessarily removed because of danger from fire, and there is no other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, or, if there is other insurance thereon, that part of this policy in excess of its proportion of the value of the insured property remaining in the original location, shall, for the ensuing five days only, cover the said removed property in its new location or locations.
Cancellation—This policy may be canceled and the insured form as a member of this company may withdraw therefrom by the insured surrendering his policy for cancellation at any time during the life of the policy and while the company continues the business for which it was organized, by giving notice in writing to the company and by paying such obligations as may have accrued against him on the day of cancellation; provided, that this company shall have the power to cancel or terminate any policy by giving the insured five days written notice to that effect either in person or by registered mail to his last post-office address or if this is not known then to the address given upon the application blank which is a part of this policy and by returning to him in the same manner by check or otherwise any excess premium he may have paid during the term of this policy, over the cost of his insurance as measured, on the pro rata basis, by the customary rate of fire insurance companies doing business in this State.

Also, in case of cancellation by this company it must also notify in the same manner any holder of a mortgage or deed of trust whose name appears either on the signed application which is part of this policy or upon a pasteur or otherwise upon this policy or the party names "to whom loss if any is payable to ________"; provided, however, that if the insured shall fail to pay the premium on this policy within thirty days from date thereof, then this policy shall be suspended and of no further force and effect until reinstated by the payment of all delinquent charges or fees; and provided further, that this policy shall not be suspended as far as the interest of said mortgagee or other party to whom, with the written consent of the company this policy is made payable until and after ten days written notice of such failure.

Assignment—This company may give its consent in writing allowing the assignment of this policy upon the bona fide sale of the property insured herein; provided, within thirty days from the transfer of the title to the within property and upon the assignment thereof such purchaser or his agent signs an agreement becoming a member and accepting the conditions of the within policy; otherwise this policy to be null and void, except as to holders of a mortgage or deed of trust.

Duty of insured in case of loss—When a loss occurs the insured must give to this company written notice thereof without unnecessary delay; and shall protect the property from further damage; forthwith separate the damaged and undamaged personal property and put it in the best possible order; and without unnecessary delay make a complete inventory stating as far as possible the quantity and cost of each article, and the amount claimed thereon.

Within sixty days after the commenceement of the fire the insured shall render to the company at its main office in California named herein preliminary proof of loss consisting of a written statement signed and sworn to by him setting forth: (a) his knowledge and belief as to the origin of the fire; (b)
the interest of the insured and of all others in the property; (e) the cash value of the different articles or properties and the amount of loss thereon; (d) all incumbrances thereon; (e) all other insurance, whether valid or not, covering any of said articles or properties; (f) a copy of the descriptions and schedules in all other policies unless similar to this policy, and in that event, a statement as to the amounts for which the different articles or properties are insured in each of the other policies; (g) any change of title, use, occupation, location or possession of said property since the issuance of this policy; (h) by whom and for what purpose any building herein described, and the several parts thereof, were occupied at the time of the fire.

If the company claims that the preliminary proof of loss is defective and within five days after the receipt thereof (without admitting the amount of loss or any part thereof) notifies in writing the insured, or the party making such proof of loss, of the alleged defects (specifically stating them) and requests that they be remedied by verified amendments the insured or such party within ten days after the receipt of such notification and request must comply therewith or, if unable so to do, present to the company an affidavit to that effect.

The insured shall also furnish, if required, as far as it is practicable to obtain the same, verified plans and specifications of any building, fixtures or machinery destroyed or damaged; and the insured shall exhibit to any person designated in writing by this company all that remains of any property herein described and shall submit to examination under oath, as often as required, by any such person, and subscribe to the testimony so given and shall produce to such person for examination all books of account, bills, invoices and other vouchers, and permit extracts and copies thereof to be made, and in case the originals are lost certified copies, if obtainable, shall be produced.

Ascertainment of amount of loss—This company shall be deemed to have assented to the amount of the loss claimed by the insured in his preliminary proof of loss, unless within twenty days after the receipt thereof, or, if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments, the company shall notify the insured in writing of its partial or total disagreement with the amount of loss claimed by him and shall also notify him in writing of the amount of loss, if any, the company admits on each of the different articles or properties set forth in the preliminary proof or amendments thereto.

If the insured and this company fail to agree, in whole or in part, as to the amount of loss within ten days after such notification, this company shall forthwith demand in writing, an appraisement of the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement and shall name a competent and disinterested appraiser, and the insured within five days after receipt of such demand and name, shall appoint a competent and disinterested appraiser and notify the company thereof in writing, and the two so chosen shall before commencing the appraisement, select a competent and disinterested umpire.

The appraisers together shall estimate and appraise the loss or part of loss as to which there is a disagreement, stating separately the sound value and damage, and if they fail to agree they shall submit their differences to the umpire, and the award in writing duly verified of any two shall determine the amount or amounts of such loss.

The parties to the appraisement shall pay the appraisers respectively appointed by them and shall bear equally the expense of the appraisement and the charges of the umpire.

If for any reason not attributable to the insured, or to the appraiser appointed by him, an appraisement is not had and completed within ninety days after said preliminary proof of loss is received by this company, the insured is not to be prejudiced by the failure to make an appraisement, and may prove the amount of his loss in an action brought without such appraisement.

Option of company in case of loss—This company may, at its option, take all or any part of the property for which insurance hereunder is claimed at its ascertained or appraised value, and may also, at its option, in satisfaction of its liability hereunder, repair, rebuild, or replace any building or structure or machine or machinery used therein, with other of like kind and quality, within a reasonable time, upon giving notice within twenty days of its intention so to do after the receipt by it of the preliminary proof of loss, or if verified amendments have been requested, within twenty days after their receipt, or, within twenty days after the receipt of an affidavit that the insured is unable to furnish such amendments. There can be no abandonment to this company of any property.

Apportionment of loss—This company shall not be liable under this policy for a greater proportion of any loss on the described property, or for loss by, and expense of, removal from the premises endangered by fire, than the amount hereby insured bears to the entire insurance covering such property whether valid or not, or by solvent or insolvent insurers.

Assessment for deficiency—When the amount of any loss shall have been ascertained, which exceeds in amount the cash funds of the company, the president shall convene the directors of this company, who shall proceed in the manner as provided in section 12 of this act.

Notice of assessment—It shall be the duty of the secretary, whenever assessment shall have been made, to immediately notify every person holding a risk in this company, personally, by an agent, or by letter directed to his usual post-office address, of the amount of such loss, and the sum due from him, as his share thereof, and of the time and to whom such payment is made; but such time shall not be less than thirty days, nor more than ninety days from date of such notice. No assessments can be levied under this policy in excess of five times the premium named herein.

Action for neglect or refusal to pay assessments—An action may be brought against the member whose property is insured herein and this policy is automatically suspended if the insured shall not have paid, before it is delinquent, his portion of any assessment levied or other liability due this company for a period in excess of ninety days. The directors of this company who shall wilfully refuse or neglect to perform the duties imposed upon them by law or the by-laws of the company, shall be liable in their individual capacity to the person sustaining such loss. An action may also be brought and maintained against this company by members thereof for losses sustained if payment is withheld after the amount of such losses have been determined and is due by the terms of the policy.

Nonwaiver by appraisal or examination—This company shall not be held to have waived any provision or condition of this policy or any forfeiture thereof, by ascertaining to the amount of the loss or damage or by any requirement, act or proceeding on its part relating to the appraisal or to any examination herein provided for.

Subrogation—If this company shall claim that the fire was caused by the act or neglect of any person or corporation, this company shall, upon payment of the loss be subrogated to the extent of such payment to all right of recovery by the insured for the loss resulting therefrom, and such right shall be assigned to this company by the insured on receiving such payment.

Time for commencement of action—No suit or action on this policy for the recovery of any claim shall be sustained, until after full compliance by the insured with all of the foregoing requirements, nor unless begun within fifteen months next after the commencement of the fire.

Definitions—Wherever in this policy the word "insured" occurs, it shall be held to include the legal representatives of the insured in case of death, and wherever the word "loss" occurs, it shall be deemed the equivalent of "loss or damage," and wherever the words "time of loss or damage" are used they shall be deemed the equivalent of "time of the commencement of the fire."

There shall be printed on the outside fold of said policy in type not smaller than eleven point the following words in this form:

6011. The blanks in said standard form shall be appropriately filled.

6016. Clauses may be added to the policy providing for and defining the rights, duties and obligations of mortgagees, assignees, and other parties having an interest in, right to or lien upon the insured subject matter.
6017. Insurers authorized to limit their assessment liability in accordance with the terms of this chapter may make such changes in the standard form as will properly accomplish that purpose.
6018. No clause shall be inserted nor rider attached affecting the standard form liability of the insurer for loss or damage by fire occasioned either directly or indirectly by earthquake, hurricane, volcanic action or other disturbance of nature, unless such rider or clause is printed in red ink in twelve point type, and unless there is printed at the head of the policy in red ink and in large bold-faced type the words: "This policy contains limitations of liability not permitted in the California standard form."

6021. It is a misdemeanor for any insurer or its agent to countersign or issue a county mutual fire insurance policy covering in whole or part subject-matter in this State in violation of this article. Any policy so issued shall notwithstanding be binding upon the issuing insurer.

Article 5. Risks

6040. Such insurer may issue policies on dwellings, schoolhouses, churches, community, creamery, or farm buildings and property contained in or on such insured premises or owned by the insured and stored in public or private warehouses.

6041. Insurance permitted by this chapter upon personal property owned by the insured, including automobiles and livestock, shall continue in full force and effect during the use or transportation of the property in the ordinary course of the insured's affairs if the property is located at the time of loss within this State. Otherwise such insurance is governed by section 6048.

6042. Policies may be executed for any time not exceeding five years and not extending beyond the time limited for the existence of the insurer.

6043. All members of such an insurer shall agree in writing to pay their pro rata share to the insurer of the necessary expense and loss by fire sustained by any member thereof during the time for which their respective policies are in force. They shall also, at the time of effecting the insurance, pay the insurer such percentage of the estimated cost and such other charges as are required by law or the insurer's rules and by-laws.

6044. All such insurers shall classify the subject matter insured by them at the time of issuing policies thereon. Such classification shall be under rates corresponding as nearly as practicable to the greater or less risk from fire loss attached to the several kinds of subject matter insured.

6045. For the purpose of this chapter:

(a) "A city or town block" is an area of not more than one hundred sixty thousand square feet having at least one frontage in a closely built up district fronting on a used public highway, surrounded on all sides by a clear space at least equal in width to the clear space of such public highway.

(b) "Closely built up district" means territory abutting a public highway where for not less than a quarter of a mile the buildings average less than one hundred feet apart.

(c) "One risk" means one hazard under one or more policies, subject to one fire and relates to the amount named in the policy or policies.

(d) "Clear space" means space free from combustible material likely to communicate fire.

6046. Such insurer that has been organized less than three months shall not write insurance in excess of $2,000 subject to one risk without immediately reinsuring all such excess.

An insurer organized more than three months shall not write insurance subject to one risk in excess of one per cent of the amount of insurance in force as shown by the insurer's books at the time of writing, without immediately reinsuring all such excess.

6047. Except as provided in this section, such insurer shall not issue policies to an amount in excess of $6,000 on any one risk, whether under one or more policies, without immediately reinsuring the excess amount in some other insurer. Any such insurer having in force insurance on property worth more than $10,000,000 as shown by its books may, for each $1,000,000 in excess of $10,000,000, write $500 additional insurance in excess of $6,000 on each such risk.

6048. Except as provided in section 6041 such insurer shall insure only property within the limits of the county wherein it is organized, or in a county next adjoining the county of organization.

6049. Such an insurer shall not assume any risks on property situated within any one block of a closely built up district or of territory within the limit of any incorporated city, unless it immediately reinsures all of the amount at risk which is in excess of the limit provided in this article.

6050. Where the amount of insurance in policies already written equals the amount limited by the provisions of this article, no additional insurance shall be written by such insurer on country property within a radius of one hundred feet of an existing risk. Such radius shall continue at not less than seventy-five feet during the life of the policy, unless insurance within the radius is covered by reinsurance.

6051. Except in the case of class A or class B buildings having no exposures which constitute a special hazard, or in the case of country property under fire protection within a fire protection district, such insurer shall not write insurance on farm or country property in excess of seventy-five per cent of its actual cash value and additional insurance shall not be allowed.

Article 6. Reinsurance.

6070. Any such insurer may reinsure or accept reinsurance in any insurer operating under the provisions of this chapter or under any agreement for mutual reinsurance between two or more county mutual fire insurers. In any such case the reinsurance taken by any one insurer shall not exceed the amount of the risk retained by the insurer originating the business.

6071. Such insurer may also reinsure in any authorized insurer organized for the purpose of providing reinsurance for county mutual insurers. In such case the amount retained by the originating insurer shall be not less than ten per cent nor less than $500.

6072. The restrictions imposed by this chapter upon any insurer as to original insurance shall apply to reinsurance written by it.

Article 7. Loss.

6090. Every member of such insurer who sustains loss by any hazard covered by his policy shall immediately notify the insurer in accordance with the terms of his policy.

6091. An action may be brought and maintained against any such insurer by its members to recover for losses insured against by the insurer, if payment is withheld after the amount of such losses is determined, and is due by the terms of the policy.

Article 8. Assessments.

7010. When any loss exceeds in amount the cash funds of the insurer and also exceeds one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of the insurer's insurance in force, its president shall convene its directors to make an assessment.

7011. Upon being convened for the purpose, the directors shall make an assessment upon all of the property insured in the insurer. Such assessment shall be in proportion to the amount for which each piece of property is insured, taken in connection with the rate of premium under which it is classified.

7012. When the amount of such loss does not exceed one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance in force in the insurer, its directors may, by resolution in writing signed by two-thirds of all the directors while present at a meeting, borrow money in the name of the insurer and give its evidence of indebtedness therefor, i.e., a total amount not exceeding one-eighth of one per cent of the total amount of insurance thus in force.
7013. The term of any such loan shall not be greater than twelve months nor shall the date of maturity be in excess of thirty days beyond the date of the next annual meeting of the insurer.

7014. The board of directors may at its annual meeting levy an assessment not to exceed twenty-five cents on the $100 of the first class of insurance and a pro rata amount on lower classes. The sum so raised shall constitute a reserve fund to be used in emergency cases only. Another assessment for this fund shall not be made while this reserve fund remains intact.

7015. No assessment or assessments can be levied upon any policy in excess of five times the amount of the premium named therein.

8073. If in any case there is a failure of the parties to agree upon the amount of such loss they may submit the question of the amount to arbitration. In that event the president of the reinsurer shall appoint one disinterested person to act as an arbitrator, and the member shall appoint another.

8074. If the two arbitrators thus appointed fail to agree upon the amount of such loss, they shall select a third disinterested person to act with them.

8075. Such arbitrators so appointed may examine witnesses and do all other things necessary to the proper determination of the amount of loss sustained by the claimant.

8076. The arbitrators shall make their award in writing to the president of the reinsurer and to the member. Such award shall be final as to the amount of the loss sustained.

8077. The pay of each arbitrator shall be five dollars per day for each day’s services rendered, and five cents for each mile necessarily traveled in the discharge of his duties. Such compensation shall be paid by the claimant unless the award of the arbitrators exceeds the sum offered by the reinsurer in liquidation of the loss. Article 8. Reports and Statements.

Annual statements.

9030. The secretary shall prepare an annual statement, showing the condition of such reinsurer on December thirty-first and a supplemental report of the business of the reinsurer to January thirty-first and present both reports at the ensuing annual meeting.

CHAPTER 7. FRATERNAL FIRE INSURERS.

9080. Except as provided by this chapter an association organized and operating under this chapter is not governed by the provisions of this code or other insurance laws of this State.

9081. Secret fraternal societies, having lodges, councils or granges in this State, conducting their business and securing their membership on the lodge, council or grange system exclusively, and having ritualistic work and ceremonies in their lodges, councils or granges, may form an insurer by association of the members of their order or society, binding themselves to contribute to each other's loss by fire.

9082. Such association shall be formed by filing a certificate in the office of the Secretary of State and a like certificate in the office of the clerk of each county in which a member has property insured in said association. Each such certificate shall state:

(a) Generally, the objects of the association.
(b) Its principal place of business.
(c) The names of its officers.

Such certificates shall be signed by the officers of the association and verified by at least three of them.

9083. The officers of the association shall be members of the association, having property insured therein.

9084. Such an association may insure the property of its members against loss or damage by fire for an amount not exceeding $4,500 on any one risk subject to the following conditions as to amount:

(a) A risk in excess of $3,500 shall not be binding as to such excess until risks to the amount of $200,000 have been written and all premiums paid thereon.
(b) A risk of more than $1,500 shall not be binding as to such excess until risks to the amount of $100,000 have been written and all premiums paid thereon.
(c) A risk, regardless of amount, shall not be binding until risks to the amount of $75,000 have been written and all premiums paid thereon.
(d) A risk shall not be insured for an amount in excess of seventy-five per cent of the cash value of the property insured. Concurrent or additional insurance shall not be allowed.

9085. A risk shall not be written by such association except for members in good standing on the books of the society forming the association. A suspension or withdrawal from membership in such society shall suspend the insurance until the member is restored to good standing in the society and association. A restoration to membership after suspension therefrom shall not extend the term of the insurance.

9086. All such associations shall classify the property insured by them at the time of issuing policies on such property. The classification shall be under different rates, corresponding as nearly as practicable to the greater or less risk from fire loss attached to the insured property.
9087. Such association shall not issue policies of insurance on any property within the limits of cities of the first, first and a half, second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth classes. A dwelling within the corporate limits of any city or town shall not be insured if there is any other building within one hundred feet or any risk other than a dwelling or private barn within two hundred feet of the insured dwelling.

9088. Such association shall provide in its by-laws for the ascertainment of loss or damage by fire, and for the payment thereof.

9089. Such association by and in its own name may:

(d) Make such by-laws, not inconsistent with the laws of this State, as are necessary for its government and for the transaction of its business.

9090. Such association creates a mutual agreement of its members to participate in each other's loss by fire.

9091. Every insured shall give to the association a written instrument binding him to pay his share, proportioned to his insurance in the association, of the expense of operation and of the fire loss sustained by it during the term of his policy. Such loss consists of amounts paid or owing to insured by reason of losses under the terms of fire policies issued by the association, together with the necessary expenses of the association in respect to such losses.

9092. Persons insuring property with the association shall, at the time of effecting the insurance, pay such a percentage in cash, and such other charges, as are required by the rules or by-laws of the association.

9093. Policies of the association may be canceled by either party thereto. In such case settlement or adjustment shall be made in accordance with the terms of the by-laws of the association.

Chapter 8. Underwriters Fire Patrols.

Article 1. Scope of Chapter and Definitions.

10020. As used in this chapter, an underwriters' corps means a corps of men with proper officers and equipment, maintained to discover and prevent fires and save life and property from fire.

10021. This chapter shall not impair or interfere with the powers or duties of the regular fire department of any municipality.
10022. Any act of an underwriters' corps shall not justify any owner of any property in abandoning such property.

Article 2. Formation and Organization.

10040. Any domestic corporation of insurance underwriters, organized to discover and prevent fires and save life and property from fire and doing business within any municipal corporation of this State, may at its own expense maintain an underwriter's corps.

10050. For the effective discharge of such duties, an underwriter's corps may enter any burning building or any building in which property is burning, or any building such corps or any officer thereof deems to be immediately exposed to an existing fire or in danger of taking fire from a burning building, and may remove or otherwise protect any property from fire or damage by water during and immediately after such fire.

10051. Such corporation, with its officers and corps, when going to a fire with its equipment, has the same right of way as the regular fire department of the municipality in which such corporation is operating, except as to such fire department.

10052. All ordinances passed by the municipal authorities of any city or town wherein such a corporation carries on business, and all laws of this State applicable to such municipality which provide for the punishment of any person or persons wilfully or carelessly obstructing the progress of the apparatus of the fire department of such municipality while going to a fire, or of any person or persons wilfully or carelessly injuring any animal or property of said fire department, shall likewise apply to such corporation to the same extent as to such fire department. Such laws and ordinances and their penalties, may be enforced in the same courts and in the same manner, and with equal force and effect in the case of such corporation as in the case of the fire department.

Article 4. Meetings and Assessments.

10070. In July of every year, there shall be held a meeting of every corporation created for the purpose specified in this chapter.

10071. Ten days' notice of the meeting shall be inserted in at least one daily newspaper published in the municipality in which the corporation is established.

10072. At such meeting each insurer or insurance agent, doing a fire insurance business in the municipality, whether a member of the corporation or not, has a right to be represented and is entitled to one vote.

10073. A majority of the whole number so represented may decide the question of sustaining the fire patrol organized by the corporation and may fix the maximum amount of expenses to be incurred therefor during the ensuing fiscal year.

10074. The amount of expense so fixed shall not exceed two per cent of the aggregate premiums returned as received, as provided in section 10076. The whole of such amount, or so much thereof as is necessary, may be assessed upon all insurers or insurance agents who assume risks or accept premiums for fire insurance in said municipality. Such assessment shall be made in proportion to the several amounts of premiums returned as received by each in the statement required by section 10076.

10075. Such assessment is collectible by and in the name of the corporation, in any court of competent jurisdiction, in such manner and at such time or times as the corporation determines.

10076. In order to pay persons employed by the corporation, and to maintain apparatus for saving life and property and suitable quarters the corporation may require a statement to be furnished, semianually, by all persons mentioned in section 10074, setting forth the aggregate amount of premiums received for insuring property in the municipality during the six months next preceding July first and January first, respectively, of each year.

10077. Each statement shall be under oath and shall be handed to the secretary of the corporation within ten days after each first day of July and each first day of January. A statement covering the receipts of a natural person shall be sworn to by the person whose receipts it covers. Otherwise the statement shall be sworn to by the president, secretary or agent of the person whose receipts it covers.

10078. The secretary of such corporation shall, within the prescribed ten days, by written demand signed by him, require the statement from every person assessable under this chapter.

10079. The demand may be delivered personally at the office of every person required to furnish the statement.
Every such person, or officer thereof, who, for fifteen days after said demand, neglects to render the statement forfeits fifty dollars for the use of the corporation, and also forfeits for its use twenty-five dollars in addition for every day such neglect is continued after the expiration of the fifteen days. Such additional penalty may be computed and collected up to the time of the trial of any action brought for its recovery.

10080. The corporation may bring action to recover such penalty, with costs, in any court of competent jurisdiction.

PART 2. LIFE AND DISABILITY INSURANCE.

CHAPTER 1. THE CONTRACT.

10110. Every person has an insurable interest in the life and health of:
(a) Himself.
(b) Any person on whom he depends wholly or in part for education or support.

c) Any person under a legal obligation to him for the payment of money or respecting property or services, of which death or illness might delay or prevent the performance.

d) Any person upon whose life any estate or interest vested in him depends.

10111. In life or disability insurance, the only measure of liability and damage is the sum or sums payable in the manner and at the times as provided in the policy to the person entitled thereto.

(Amended by Ch. 246, Stats. 1935.)

10111. In life or disability insurance, unless the interest of an insured is susceptible of exact pecuniary measurement, the measure of indemnity is the sum fixed in the policy.

10112. In respect of life or disability insurance, or annuity contracts, heretofore or hereafter issued to or upon the life of any person not of the full age of twenty-one years for the benefit of such minor or for the benefit of the father, mother, husband, wife, child, brother, or sister, of such minor, the insured or annuitant shall not, by reason only of such minority, be deemed incompetent to contract for such insurance or annuity, or for the surrender thereof, or to exercise all contractual rights thereunder, or to give a valid discharge for any benefit accruing or for any money payable thereunder: Provided, that all such contracts made by a minor under the age of sixteen years, as determined by the nearest birthday, shall have the written consent of a parent or guardian, and that the exercise of all contractual rights under such contracts, or the surrender thereof, or the giving of a valid discharge for any benefit accruing or money payable thereunder, in the case of a minor under the age of sixteen years, as determined by the nearest birthday, shall have the written consent of a parent or guardian.

10113. Every policy of life, disability, or life and disability insurance issued or delivered within this State on or after the first day of January, 1936, by any insurer doing such business within this State shall contain and be deemed to constitute the entire contract between the parties and nothing shall be incorporated therein by reference to any constitution, by-laws, rules, application or other writings, of either of the parties thereto or of any other person, unless the same are indorsed upon or attached to the policy; and all statements purporting to be made by the insured shall, in the absence of fraud, be representations and not warranties. Any waiver of the provisions of this section shall be void.

(Added by Ch. 245, Stats. 1935.)
Article 2. Transfer.

10130. A life or disability policy may pass by transfer, will or succession to any person, whether or not the transferee has an insurable interest. Such transferee may recover upon it whatever the insured might have recovered.

10131. Notice to an insurer of a transfer of a life or disability policy is not necessary to preserve the validity of the policy unless expressly required by the policy.

10132. The beneficiary under a life policy which provides for the payment of its proceeds in periodical installments, may be restrained by its provisions from disposing of or incumbering his interest in any such installment prior to the date when it becomes due and payable by the insurer.

10150. The provisions of this article shall not apply to annuities, industrial policies or to term contracts issued for periods of twenty years or less.

10151. Every contract or policy of life insurance hereinafter made by any person or corporation, with and upon the life of a resident of this State, and delivered within this State, shall provide, in event of default of any premium payment after three full annual premiums shall have been paid on such policy, that without any action on the part of the insured, the net value of such policy based upon the reserve basis used in computing the premiums and values thereunder (the policy to specify the mortality table and rate of interest so adopted) which net value shall be at least equal to its entire net reserve at the date of default, including that of dividend additions, if any, based upon a standard not lower than the American experience tables of mortality with interest at three and one-half per cent yearly, less a surrender charge of not more than two and one-half per cent of the face amount of the policy and of any existing dividend additions thereto and less any indebtedness to the company on or secured by the policy, shall be applied as a single premium to the purchase of one of the following stipulated forms of insurance:

First—Paid-up nonparticipating term insurance in the amount of the face of the policy, plus dividend additions, if any, for such a period as the net value outlined above will purchase at the net single premium, at the attained age of the insured at the time of the lapse, based upon the reserve basis described in the policy; provided, however, that under endowment contracts the term shall not extend beyond the endowment period named in the original contract, and the excess value, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium to purchase in the same manner paid-up pure endowment insurance, payable at the end of the endowment period named in the contract if the insured be then living, or,

Second—Paid-up nonparticipating term insurance in the amount of the face of the policy, plus dividend additions, if any, and less any outstanding indebtedness, for such a period as the net value outlined above will purchase at the net single premium, at the attained age of the insured, based upon the reserve basis described in the policy; provided, however, that under endowment contracts the term shall not extend beyond the endowment period named in the original contract, and the excess value, if any, shall be applied as a net single premium to purchase in the same manner paid-up pure endowment insurance, payable at the end of the endowment period named in the contract if the insured be then living, or,

Third—Paid-up nonparticipating insurance payable at the time and on the conditions named in the policy for such an amount as the net value outlined above will purchase at the net single premium, at the attained age of the insured, based upon the reserve basis described in the policy.

10152. In lieu of the application of the provisions for automatic insurance upon nonpayment of premium the policy may be surrendered to the insurer at its home office, upon due application by the legal owner thereof, within one month after date of premium default for a specified cash value which shall be at least equal to the sum which would be otherwise available for the purchase of the automatic form of insurance provided therein. The insurer may defer payment of such cash value for not more than six months after application therefore is made.

10153. No agreement between the insurer and the policy holder or applicant for insurance contrary to the foregoing shall be held to waive any of the provisions of sections 10151 and 10152.

10154. Any life policy issued upon the life of a resident of this State and delivered within this State, which does not contain an automatic nonforfeiture value in conformity with section 10151 shall be construed as granting the nonparticipating term insurance as provided in paragraph first of section 10151. Such a benefit shall be read into the policy.

Article 4. Payment and Proceeds.

10170. An insurance upon life may be made payable:

(a) On the death of the insured.
(b) On his surviving a specified period.
(c) Periodically as long as he lives.
(d) Otherwise contingently on the continuance or determination of life.

10171. Any life policy may provide that the proceeds thereof or payments thereunder shall not be subject to transfer, anticipation or commutation or encumbrance by any beneficiary, and shall not be subject to the claims of creditors of any beneficiary or any legal process against any beneficiary.

10172. When the proceeds of a life policy are due on the death of insured, the insurer shall pay the proceeds:

(a) To the beneficiary designated therein.
(b) If no beneficiary is designated therein, to the estate of the insured.

(c) If the policy has been assigned, to the assignee thereof. Such payment shall satisfy all obligations of the insurer with respect to said policy.

Article 5. Exemption.

10190. The provisions of sections 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 838 and 809 shall not apply to life insurance.

10200. Any life insurer may issue life, disability, term, and endowment insurance on the group plan, with or without annuities, and with premium rates less than the usual rates for such insurance.

(Amended by Ch. 305, Stats. 1935.)

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

10200. Any life insurer may issue life or endowment insurance on the group plan, with or without annuities and with premium rates less than the usual rates for such insurance.

10201. The only forms of group life insurance are those set forth in this chapter.

10202. Life insurance conforming to all the following conditions is one form of group life insurance:

(a) Covering not less than fifty public or private employees.

(b) Written under a policy issued to the employer, the premium on which is to be paid by the employer or by the employer and employees jointly, and insuring either all of the employees or all of any class thereof, determined by conditions pertaining to the employment.

(c) For amounts of insurance based upon some plan which will preclude individual selection.

(d) For the benefit of persons other than the employer.

(e) When the premium is to be paid by the employer and employee jointly and the benefits of the policy are offered to all eligible employees, insuring not less than seventy-five percent of such employees.

Such insurance may be issued either with or without medical examination.

10203. Life insurance conforming to all the following conditions is another form of group life insurance:

(a) Covering the members of any of the following:

(1) Any labor union.

(2) The national guard.

(3) Any association of governmental or public employees.

(b) Written under a policy issued to such union or association.

(c) The premium on the policy to be paid jointly by the union or association and the members thereof.

(d) Insuring only members of such union who are actively engaged in the same occupation or members of such association.
(e) Insuring for amounts of insurance based upon some plan which will preclude individual selection.

(f) Insuring for the benefit of persons other than the union or association or its officials.

(g) When a premium is to be paid by the union or association jointly with its members and the benefits are offered to all eligible members, insuring not less than seventy-five percent of such members. In such case, when members apply and pay for additional amounts of insurance, a smaller percentage of members may be insured for such additional amounts of insurance.

10204. For the purpose of this chapter, the term "employer" includes the association or union designated by section 10203, and the term "employee" shall include the members thereof.

10205. A policy of group life insurance shall not be issued or delivered in this State until a copy of its form is filed with the commissioner and approved by him. Except as provided in section 10211, such policy shall not be so issued or delivered unless it contains in substance the provisions set forth in sections 10206 to 10210 hereof.

10206. The policy shall provide that it is incontestable after two years from its date of issue, except for nonpayment of premiums and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war.

10207. The policy shall contain a provision that:

(a) The policy, the application of the employer and the individual applications, if any, of the employees constitute the entire contract of insurance.

(b) All statements made by the employer or by the individual employees are, in the absence of fraud, representations and not warranties.

(c) Such statements will not be used in defense to a claim under the policy, unless contained in a written application.

10208. The policy shall contain a provision for the equitable adjustment of the premium or the amount of insurance payable in the event of a misstatement of the age of an employee.

10209. The policy shall contain a provision that the insurer will issue to the employer for delivery to the insured employee an individual certificate setting forth:

(a) A statement as to the insurance protection to which the employee is entitled and to whom payable.

(b) A provision that if the employment terminates for any reason whatsoever and the employee applies to the insurer within thirty-one days after such termination, paying the premium applicable to the class of risk to which he belongs and to the form and amount of the policy at his then attained age, he is entitled, without producing evidence of insurability, to the issue by the insurer of an individual life policy in any one of the forms, other than term insurance, customarily issued by the insurer.
(c) A statement that such policy in lieu of group insurance will be in an amount equal to the amount of his protection under such group insurance at the time of such termination.

10210. The policy shall contain a provision that to the group or class originally insured there will be added from time to time all new employees of the employer eligible to insurance in such group or class.

10211. Policies of group life insurance may conform to the following conditions, any other provisions of this chapter notwithstanding:

(a) When issued in this State by any foreign insurer, they may contain any provision required by the law of the State under which the insurer is organized.

(b) When issued in other States or countries by domestic insurers, they may contain any provision required by the laws of the State, or country, in which they are issued.

(c) They may contain provisions on any of the requirements set forth in sections 10205 to 10210, which, in the opinion of the commissioner, are more favorable to the employer or to the employee than the required provisions.

10212. Except as provided in this chapter, in every group policy issued by a domestic life insurer, the employer is the policyholder for all purposes within the meaning of this code. If entitled to vote at meetings of the insurer, he shall be entitled to one vote.

10213. A policy of group life insurance or the proceeds thereof paid to the insured employee or the beneficiary thereunder, shall not be liable, either before or after payment, to be applied by any legal or equitable process to pay any liability of any person having a right under the policy. The proceeds thereof, when not made payable to a named beneficiary, shall not constitute a part of the estate of the employee for the payment of his debts.

Chapter 3. Burial Contracts.

10240. A "burial contract" is a life policy embodying an agreement for valuable consideration, to embalm or dispose of, or to procure the embalming or disposal of the remains of any person living at the time of the execution of such policy.

10241. Burial contracts of any charitable, religious, benevolent or fraternal benefit society, or organization not having for its object pecuniary profit, are not subject to the provisions of this code as to other provisions of law relating to insurance.

Chapter 4. Standard Provisions in Disability Policies.

Article 1. Scope of Chapter and Definitions.

10270. This chapter shall not affect workmen's compensation insurance or any general or blanket policy of insurance issued to any organization of which the officers, members, employees, or members of classes or departments are insured for their individual benefit against specified accidental bodily injuries or sickness while exposed to the hazards of the occupation or otherwise, in consideration of a premium intended to cover the risks of all the persons insured under such policy.

10271. Except as provided in section 10292, this chapter shall not apply to or in any way, affect life insurance, endowment or annuity contracts or contracts supplemental thereto which contain no provisions relating to accident or health insurance except (a) such as provide additional benefits in case of death by accidental means and except (b) such as operate to safeguard such contracts against lapse, or to give a special surrender value, or special benefit, or an annuity, in the event that the insured or annuitant becomes totally and permanently disabled as defined by the contract or supplemental contract.

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

10271. Except as provided in section 10292, this chapter shall not affect contracts providing additional benefits for accidental death which are supplemental to contracts of life insurance. Nor shall this chapter apply to provisions in such supplemental contracts which operate to safeguard such insurance against lapse or to provide a special surrender value if the insured becomes totally and permanently disabled by reason of accidental bodily injury or by sickness.

10272. The term "indemnity," as used in this chapter means benefits promised.

Article 2. Approval of Commissioner.

10290. A disability policy shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State until:

(a) A copy of the form thereof and, if more than one class of risks is written, of the classification of risks, and the premium rates pertaining thereto are filed with the commissioner.

(b) Either:

(1) Thirty days expires without notice from the commissioner after such copy is filed, or,

(2) The commissioner gives his written approval prior to that time.

10291. If the commissioner notifies the insurer, in writing, that the filed form does not comply with the requirements of law, specifying the reasons for his opinion, it is unlawful thereafter for any such insurer to issue any policy in such form.

10292. A supplemental contract of the kind mentioned in section 10271 shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State until a copy of the form thereof is submitted to and approved by the commissioner. The commissioner may make reasonable rules and regulations concerning the provisions in such contracts and their submission to and approval by him.

Article 3. Policy Form, Generally.

10310. Such disability policy shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State:
(a) Unless the entire consideration therefor is expressed in the policy.

(b) Unless the times at which the insurance takes effect and terminates are stated in a portion of the policy above the evidence of its execution by the insurer.

(c) If the policy purports to insure more than one person.

(d) Unless every printed portion and any indorsements or attached papers are plainly printed in type of which the face is not smaller than ten point.

(e) Except in the case of railroad ticket policies sold only by railroad employees at railroad stations or ticket offices, unless a brief description of the policy is printed on its first page and on a filing back in type with the face not smaller than fourteen point.

(f) Unless the exceptions of the policy are printed with the same prominence as the benefits to which they apply.

(g) Unless, if any portion of such policy purports, by reason of the circumstances under which a loss is incurred, to reduce any indemnity to an amount less than that provided for the same loss occurring under ordinary circumstances, such portion is printed in bold-face type and with greater prominence than any other portion of the text of the policy.

10311. Such a policy shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State if it contains any provisions purporting to make any portion of the charter, constitution or by-laws of the insurer a part of the policy unless such portion is set forth in full in the policy, except in the case of the incorporation of or reference to a statement of rates or classification of risks filed with the commissioner in accordance with the provisions of Article 2 of this chapter.

10312. Except as provided by section 10314, such a policy shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State if it contains any provision contradictory, in whole or part, of any of the provisions designated in this chapter as "Standard provisions" or as "Optional standard provisions."

10313. Indorsements or attached papers shall not vary, extend, or conflict with any of the "standard provisions" or "optional standard provisions."

10314. The disability policies issued by a foreign insurer may contain, when issued in this State, any provision which is prescribed for insertion in such policies by the law of the State under which the insurer is organized.

10315. The disability policies issued by a domestic insurer may, when issued or delivered in any other State or country, contain any provision required by the laws of the State or country in which the same are issued.

10330. Except as otherwise provided by this chapter, every disability policy issued and delivered to a person in this State shall contain certain standard provisions, which shall be in the words, and in the order of the number, of each provision as set forth in this article and shall be preceded in every policy by the caption, "Standard Provisions."

10331. In each such standard provision wherever the word "insurer" is used, there shall be substituted therefor "company," "corporation," "association," "society" or such other word as will properly designate the insurer.

10332. There shall be a standard provision relative to the contract which shall be in either of the following two forms. Form (A) shall be used in policies which do not provide for reduction of indemnity on account of change of occupation, and form (B) shall be used in policies which do so provide.

If form (B) is used and the policy provides indemnity against loss from sickness, the words "or contracts sickness" may be inserted therein immediately after the words "in the event that the insured is injured."

(A) 1. This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance. No reduction shall be made in any indemnity herein provided by reason of change in the occupation of the insured or by reason of his doing any act or thing pertaining to any other occupation.

(B) 1. This policy includes the endorsements and attached papers, if any, and contains the entire contract of insurance except as it may be modified by the insurer’s classification of risks and premium rates in the event that the insured is injured after having changed his occupation to one classified by the insurer as more hazardous than that stated in the policy, or while he is doing any act or thing pertaining to any occupation so classified, except ordinary duties about his residence or while engaged in recreation, in which event the insurer will pay only such portion of the indemnities provided in the policy as the premium paid would have purchased at the rate but within the limits so fixed by the insurer for such more hazardous occupation.

If the law of the State in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued requires that prior to its issue a statement of the premium rates and classification of risks pertaining to it shall be filed with the State official having supervision of insurance in such State then the premium rates and classification of risks mentioned in this policy shall mean only such as have been last filed by the insurer in accordance with such law, but if such filing is not required by such law then they shall mean the insurer’s premium rates and classification of risks last made effective by it in such State prior to the occurrence of the loss for which the insurer is liable.

10333. Except in the case of railroad ticket policies when sold by railroad employees at railroad stations or ticket offices, there shall be a standard provision relative to changes in the contract, which shall be in the following form:

2. No statement made by the applicant for insurance not included herein shall avoid the policy or be used in any legal proceeding hereunder. No agent has authority to change this policy or to waive any of its provisions. No change in this policy shall be valid unless approved by an executive officer of the insurer and such approval be endorsed hereon.

10334. Except in the case of railroad ticket policies when sold by railroad employees at railroad stations or ticket offices, there shall be a standard provision relative to reinstatement of policy after lapse, which shall be in any of the three following forms: Form (A) shall be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident; form (B) shall be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness; and form (C) shall be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness.

(A) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy, but only to cover loss resulting from accidental injury thereafter sustained.

(B) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

(C) 3. If default be made in the payment of the agreed premium for this policy, the subsequent acceptance of a premium by the insurer or by any of its duly authorized agents shall reinstate the policy but only to cover accidental injury thereafter sustained and such sickness as may begin more than ten days after the date of such acceptance.

10335. There shall be a standard provision relative to time of notice of claim, which shall be in any of the three following forms. Form (A) shall be used in policies which insure only against loss from accident: form (B) shall be used in policies which insure only against loss from sickness, and form (C) shall be used in policies which insure against loss from both accident and sickness. If form (A) or form (C) is used the insurer may at its option add thereto the following sentence: "In event of accidental death immediate notice thereof must be given to the insurer."

(A) 4. Written notice of injury on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury.

(B) 4. Written notice of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within ten days after the commencement of the disability from such sickness.

(C) 4. Written notice of injury or of sickness on which claim may be based must be given to the insurer within twenty days after the date of the accident causing such injury or within ten days after the commencement of disability from such sickness.

10336. There shall be a standard provision relative to sufficiency of notice of claim, which shall be in the following form and in which the insurer shall insert in the blank space such office and its location as it may desire to designate for such purpose of notice.

5. Such notice given by or in behalf of the insured or beneficiary, as the case may be, to the insurer at __________ or to any authorized agent of the insurer, with particulars sufficient to identify the insured, shall be deemed to be notice to the insurer. Failure to give notice within the time provided in this policy shall not invalidate any claim if it shall be shown not to have been reasonably possible to give such notice and that notice was given as soon as was reasonably possible.

10337. There shall be a standard provision relative to furnishing forms for the convenience of the insured in submitting proof of loss, as follows:

6. The insurer upon receipt of such notice, will furnish to the claimant such forms as are usually furnished by it for filing proofs of loss. If such forms are not so furnished within fifteen days after the receipt of such notice, the claimant shall be deemed to have complied with the requirements of this policy as to proof of loss upon submitting within the time fixed in the policy for filing proofs of loss, written proof covering the occurrence, character and extent of the loss for which claim is made.

10338. There shall be a standard provision relative to filing proof of loss which shall be in the one of the following forms appropriate to the indemnities provided.

(A) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the date of the loss for which claim is made.

(B) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office within ninety days after the termination of the period of disability for which the company is liable.

(C) 7. Affirmative proof of loss must be furnished to the insurer at its said office in case of claim for loss of time from disability within ninety days after the termination of the period for which the insurer is liable, and in case of claim for any other loss, within ninety days after the date of such loss.

10339. Except in the case of railroad ticket policies when sold by railroad employees at railroad stations or ticket offices, there shall be a standard provision, relative to examination of the person of the insured and relative to autopsy, which shall be in the following form:

8. The insurer shall have the right and opportunity to examine the person of the insured when and so often as it may reasonably require during the pendency of claim hereunder, and also the right and opportunity to make an autopsy in case of death where it is not forbidden by law.

10340. There shall be a standard provision relative to the time within which payments other than those for loss of time on account of disability shall be made. Such provision shall be in either of the following two forms and may be omitted from any policy providing only indemnity for loss of time.
on account of disability. The insurer shall insert in the blank space either the word "immediately" or appropriate language to designate such period of time, not more than sixty days, as it desires. Form (A) shall be used in policies which do not provide indemnity for loss of time on account of disability and form (B) in policies which do so provide.

(A) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy will be paid after receipt of due proof.

(B) 9. All indemnities provided in this policy for loss other than that of time on account of disability will be paid after receipt of due proof.

10341. There shall be a standard provision relative to periodical payments of indemnity for loss of time on account of disability. Such provision shall be in the following form and may be omitted from any policy not providing for such indemnity. The insurer shall insert, in the first blank space of the form, appropriate language to designate the proportion of accrued indemnity it desires to pay, which may be all or any part not less than one-half. In the second blank space the insurer shall insert any period of time not exceeding sixty days.

10. Upon request of the insured and subject to due proof of loss accrued indemnity for loss of time on account of disability will be paid at the expiration of each during the continuance of the period for which the insurer is liable, and any balance remaining unpaid at the termination of such period will be paid immediately upon receipt of due proof.

10342. There shall be a standard provision relative to indemnity payments which shall be in either of the two following forms. Form (A) shall be used in policies which designate a beneficiary and form (B) in policies which do not designate any beneficiary other than the insured:

(A) 11. Indemnity for loss of life of the insured is payable to the beneficiary if surviving the insured, and otherwise to the estate of the insured. All other indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

(B) 11. All the indemnities of this policy are payable to the insured.

10343. Except in the case of railroad ticket policies when sold by railroad employees at railroad stations or ticket offices, there shall be a standard provision providing for cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insured, which shall be in the following form:

12. If the insured shall at any time change his occupation to one classified by the insurer as less hazardous than that stated in the policy, the insurer, upon written request of the insured, and surrender of the policy, will cancel the same and will return to the insured the unearned premium.

10344. There shall be a standard provision relative to the rights of the beneficiary under the policy. Such provision shall be in the following form and may be omitted from any policy not designating a beneficiary:

13. Consent of the beneficiary shall not be requisite to surrender or assignment of this policy, or to change of beneficiary, or to any other changes in the policy.

10345. There shall be a standard provision limiting the time within which suit may be brought upon the policy, as follows:

14. No action at law or in equity shall be brought to recover on this policy prior to the expiration of sixty days after proof of loss has been filed in accordance with the requirements of this policy, nor shall such action be brought at all unless brought within two years from the expiration of the time within which proof of loss is required by the policy.

10346. There shall be a standard provision relative to time limitations of the policy, as follows:

15. If any time limitation of this policy with respect to giving notice of claim or furnishing proof of loss is less than that permitted by the law of the state in which the insured resides at the time this policy is issued, such limitation is hereby extended to agree with the minimum period permitted by such law.

10360. A disability policy issued or delivered to any person in this State and containing any provision set forth below, shall embody such provisions in the words and figures and in the order set forth for optional standard provisions by this article:

(a) Relative to cancellation at the instance of the insurer.

(b) Limiting the amount of indemnity to a sum less than the amount stated in the policy and for which the premium has been paid.

(c) Providing for the deduction of any premium from the amount paid in settlement of claim.

(d) Relative to other insurance by the same insurer.

(e) Relative to the age limits of the policy.

Such provisions are hereby designated "optional standard provisions."

10361. The insurer may at its option omit from the policy any such optional standard provision.

10362. Such optional standard provisions, if inserted in the policy, shall immediately succeed the standard provisions named in Article 4 of this chapter.

10363. There may be an optional standard provision relative to cancellation of the policy at the instance of the insurer, as follows:

16. The insurer may cancel this policy at any time by written notice delivered to the insured or mailed to his last address, as shown by the records of the insurer, together with cash or the insurer's check for the unearned portion of the premiums actually paid by the insured, and such cancellation shall be without prejudice to any claim originating prior thereto.

10364. There may be an optional standard provision relative to reduction of the amount of indemnity to a sum less than that stated in the policy, as follows:

17. If the insured shall carry with another company, corporation, association or society other insurance covering the same loss without giving written notice to the insurer, then in that case the insurer shall be liable only for such portion of the indemnity promised as the said indemnity bears to the total amount of like indemnity in all policies covering such loss, and for the return of such part of the premium paid as shall exceed the pro rata for the indemnity thus determined.

10365. There may be an optional standard provision relative to deduction of premium upon settlement of claim, as follows:

18. Upon the payment of claim hereunder any premium then due and unpaid or covered by any note or written order may be deducted therefrom.

10366. There may be an optional standard provision relative to other insurance by the same insurer. It shall be in the one of the following forms appropriate to the indemnities provided. In the blank spaces the insurer shall insert such upward limits of indemnity as are specified in the insurer’s classification of risks filed as required by this chapter.

(A) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity in excess of $______, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(B) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $______, weekly, the excess insurance shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

(C) 19. If a like policy or policies, previously issued by the insurer to the insured be in force concurrently herewith, making the aggregate indemnity for loss other than that of time on account of disability in excess of $______, or the aggregate indemnity for loss of time on account of disability in excess of $______ weekly, the excess insurance of either kind shall be void and all premiums paid for such excess shall be returned to the insured.

10367. There may be an optional standard provision relative to the age limits of the policy. It shall be in the following form and in the blank spaces the insurer shall insert such number of years as it elects:

20. The insurance under this policy shall not cover any person under the age of _____ years nor over the age of _____ years. Any premium paid to the insurer for any period not covered by this policy will be returned upon request.
Article 5. Interpretation of Policy.

10380. The falsity of any statement in the application for any policy covered by this chapter shall not bar the right to recovery under the policy, unless such false statement was made with actual intent to deceive or unless it materially affected either the acceptance of the risk or the hazard assumed by the insurer.

10381. The following shall not operate as a waiver of any of the rights of the insurer in defense of any claim arising under such disability policy:

(a) The acknowledgment by any insurer of the receipt of notice given under any policy covered by this chapter.
(b) The furnishing of forms for filing proofs of loss.
(c) The investigation of any claim thereunder.

10382. There shall not be any alteration of written application for insurance except by, or with the written consent of, the applicant. The making of any such alteration without the consent of the applicant is a misdemeanor. If such alteration is made by any officer of the insurer, or by any employee of the insurer with the insurer’s knowledge or consent, such alteration is deemed to be performed by the insurer issuing the policy upon such altered application.

10390. A policy issued in violation of this chapter is valid but is construed as provided in this chapter. When any provision in such a policy is in conflict with any provision of this chapter, the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the policyholder and the beneficiary shall be governed by this chapter.

Article 7. Exemption.

10395. The provisions of sections 800, 801, 802, 803, 804, 805, 806, 807, 808 and 809 shall not apply to disability insurance.

Article 8. Penalties.

10400. Any insurer, or any officer or agent thereof, that issues or delivers any policy in wilful violation of the provisions of this chapter is punishable by fine not exceeding $100 for each offense. The commissioner may revoke the license of any foreign insurer or of the agent thereof, that wilfully violates any provisions of this chapter.

10401. Any incorporated insurer admitted for disability insurance and any agent of such insurer, that makes or permits any discrimination between insureds of the same class in any manner whatsoever with relation to such insurance, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Chapter 5. General Regulation of Life Insurers.

10480. An admitted life insurer shall not issue or deliver in this State, any securities or any special or advisory board or other contracts of any kind promising returns and profits.
as an inducement to insurance nor shall it permit its agents, officers or employees to do so.

10431. A life insurer which, as an inducement to insurance, issues or permits its agents, officers, or employees to issue any such securities or contracts in this State or any other State shall not be admitted.

10432. A corporation or stock company, acting as agent of a life insurer and its agents, officers, or employees shall not sell, agree or offer to sell, or give or offer to give, directly or indirectly, any such securities or contracts as an inducement to insurance or in connection therewith.

10433. Upon proof, after notice and hearing, that any such insurer or agent has violated any of the provisions of sections 10430, 10431, or 10432, the commissioner shall revoke the certificate of authority or license of the insurer or agent so offending.

10434. An insurer transacting life or disability insurance in this State shall not pay nor contract to pay, directly or indirectly, any compensation contingent upon the acts set forth in subdivision (a) to any of the parties specified in subdivision (b):

1. The writing or procuring of any policy of life, disability or both classes of insurance in such insurer.
2. Procuring an application therefor by any person.
3. The payment of any renewal premium or the assumption of any life, disability or both of these classes of insurance by such insurer.

10435. Whenever any insurer violates the provisions of section 10434, the commissioner shall revoke its certificate of authority.

Article 2. Registration of Life Policies.

10450. Any insurer transacting life insurance in this State may register its policies with the commissioner.

10451. When an insurer elects to register any of its policies, it shall register every policy thereafter issued by it until it discontinues registration.
10452. Such registration shall in each case show the name and age of the insured, number and date of the policy and the kind and amount of insurance.

10454. An insurer registering policies shall maintain a special deposit of securities with the commissioner for the benefit of such registered policies. Such securities shall be of the character specified in Articles 3, 4 and 6 of Chapter 2, Part 2, Division 1, or specified in sections 10459 and 10460.

10455. The commissioner shall give his receipt for the securities and the State shall be responsible for the custody and safe return of any securities so deposited.

10456. Such deposit shall be maintained in an amount equal to the full net value of all policies registered up to the time of making the deposit, less the amount loaned on such registered policies.

10457. Upon receipt of such securities, the commissioner shall immediately deposit them in the State treasury in accordance with the provisions of sections 940 to 947, where they must remain as a special security for the benefit of such registered policies.

10459. If such insurer owns the building in which it has its principal office and the land upon which it stands, or if it owns other real property located in this State and requisite for its accommodation in the convenient transaction of its business, it may, with the permission of the commissioner, mortgage such property to the commissioner for such sum, not exceeding the market value thereof, as he determines.

10460. Such mortgage may be deposited in the State treasury as part of the securities required by this article. Such mortgage is withdrawable in like manner with other securities in the deposit. The commissioner shall require the mortgage to be recorded before acceptance for deposit.

10461. The commissioner may release any such mortgage or may foreclose it in case such foreclosure becomes necessary.

10462. Should any insurer thus registering policies become insolvent, the commissioner may reinsure all or any part of such registered policies, using the securities thus deposited for that purpose.

10463. The commissioner shall require in advance, in lawful money of the United States, as a fee for registering each policy and issuing certificate as provided by this article, twenty-five cents.

Article 3. Valuation of Life Policies.

10480. On or before the first day of February of each year every domestic incorporated life insurer shall furnish the commissioner the necessary data for determining the valuation of all its policies outstanding on the last preceding thirty-first of December.

10481. Every admitted foreign life insurer shall, upon the written demand of the commissioner, furnish him, at such time as he designates, the requisite data for determining the valuation of all its policies then outstanding.

10482. Except as provided in sections 10484 and 10485, valuations of life policies must be based on the standards set forth in section 986.

(Amended by Ch. 237, Stats. 1935.)

10482. Except as provided in sections 10484 and 10485, valuations of life policies must be based on the standards set forth in section 916.

10483. When the laws of any other State require a valuation of the outstanding policies of a domestic life insurer by any standard of valuation different from that named in this article, the commissioner may make such valuation for use in such other State, and issue his certificate in accordance therewith.

10484. In the case of insurance issued by a domestic insurer authorized to do business in a foreign country upon the lives of residents of that country, the commissioner may vary the mortality standard to a standard applicable to that country.

10485. Any life insurer issuing policies of group life insurance may value such policies on any accepted table of mortality with interest assumption adopted by the insurer for that purpose if such standard is not lower than the American Men Ultimate Table of Mortality with interest assumption at three and one-half per cent per annum.

10486. All policies of group insurance shall be segregated by the insurer into a separate class and the mortality experience kept separate. The number of policies, amount of insurance, reserves, premiums and payments to policyholders thereunder, together with the mortality table and interest assumption adopted by the insurer, shall be reported separately in its annual financial statement.

10487. When the insurance authorities of any other State do not accept the commissioner's certificate of the valuation of the policies of a domestic life insurer in lieu of a valuation of the policies by the insurance authority of such other State, and the certificate is one based on a valuation pursuant to this article, then every admitted insurer organized under the laws of such other State shall have a separate valuation of its policies made under the authority of the commissioner, as provided in this article.

CHAPTER 6. INCORPORATED LIFE INSURERS ISSUING POLICIES ON A RESERVE BASIS.

10510. An incorporated life insurer issuing policies on the reserve basis shall not transact life insurance in this State unless it has a paid-in capital of at least $200,000.

10511. If authorized by its charter, such an incorporated life insurer may transact, in addition to life insurance, any of the following classes of insurance if its total paid-in capital is at least $200,000 in excess of the sum of the amounts set forth opposite the classes of insurance transacted:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Number and name of class transacted</th>
<th>Amount of capital to be added</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>6 Disability</td>
<td>$50,000</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8 Liability</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9 Common carrier liability</td>
<td>$50,000 for all</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10 Workmen's compensation</td>
<td>or any of them</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Article 2. Dividends.

10530. A domestic incorporated life insurer issuing policies on the reserve plan shall not make any dividends, except from profits remaining on hand after retaining unimpaired assets amounting to the aggregate of the following:

(a) The entire capital stock.
(b) A sum sufficient to pay all losses reported or in course of settlement, and all liabilities.
(c) A sum sufficient to reinsure all outstanding policies, determined upon the basis of the rates specified in Article 3 of Chapter 5 of this part.

CHAPTER 7. MUTUAL LIFE AND DISABILITY INSURERS.

10560. Every incorporated insurer formed for the purpose of mutual life or disability insurance shall have a capital stock of not less than two hundred thousand dollars.

10561. If more than the requisite amount of capital stock is subscribed, the stock shall be distributed pro rata among the subscribers. Any subscription may be rejected in whole or in part by the board of directors or its committee.

10562. Such insurer shall not transact any business as a corporation until its capital stock is fully paid up in cash, and until it has obtained a fund, to be known as a “guarantee fund” of not less than $250,000.

10563. Such guarantee fund shall consist of the promissory notes of solvent parties approved by the board of directors and by each such party. The amount of the notes given by any one such party shall not exceed the sum of $5,000, exclusive of interest. Such notes shall be payable to the insurer or its order at such times, in such modes, in such sums with or without interest, and conformable in all other respects to such requirements as the board of directors prescribes.

10564. Guarantee fund notes shall be negotiable, and may be dealt with by the insurer at its discretion, without reference to any contingency of losses or expenses.

10566. Until the guarantee fund is discharged from its obligations, no note may be withdrawn from the fund unless another note of equal value and character is substituted therefor with the approval of the board of directors.

10569. Whenever the fixed capital of the insurer is obtained, its president and its actuary, or its secretary if there is no actuary, shall make a declaration in writing, sworn to before some notary public stating the amount of such fixed capital, the particular kinds of property composing that capital and the nature and amount of each kind. Such declaration shall be filed with the original articles of incorporation. A copy of the declaration, certified by the officer with whom they are filed, shall be published for at least four successive weeks, in a newspaper published in the county where the principal business of the insurer is situated and shall be filed with the clerk of that county.

10570. Upon the filing of such declaration the guarantee fund is discharged of its obligation and all notes of the fund remaining in the control of the insurer and not affected by any lien or claim shall be surrendered by it to the makers, respectively, or other parties entitled to receive the same.
10571. The fixed capital of the insurer shall not be subject to division among the shareholders or parties dealing with it. It shall not be expended in any manner otherwise than is required in payment of the insurer’s debts and actual expenses, until the business of the insurer is closed, its debts paid, and all outstanding policies and obligations canceled or provided for. If from any cause a deficiency at any time occurs in such fixed capital, further division of profits shall not take place until such deficiency has been made up.

Article 2. Directors and Members.

10590. The number of directors specified in the articles of incorporation may be altered from time to time during the existence of the insurer, but shall not be reduced below five. Such alteration shall be by resolution, at the annual meeting of a majority of those entitled to vote at the election of directors.

10591. After the filing of the declaration of the fixed capital, the holders of life policies for the term of life, on which the premiums are not in default, may vote at the election of directors. Each holder has one vote for each one thousand dollars insured by his policy.

10592. The insurer may, by its by-laws, limit the number of shares which may be held by any one person. It may make such other provisions for the protection of the shareholders, and the better security of those dealing with it, as seem proper to a majority of the shareholders and are not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter.

Article 3. Premiums.

10610. All premiums shall be payable either wholly in cash or one-half or a greater proportion in cash, with the remainder in promissory notes bearing interest, as the by-laws provide.

10611. Policies issued by the insurer may be upon the basis of full or partial participation in the profits or without any participation therein, as provided by the by-laws and agreed between the insurer and insured.

Chapter 8.

(Chapter 8 added by Ch. 283, Stats. 1935.)

10640. Every association having the following characteristics or doing business under the following conditions, is a mutual benefit life association engaged in the business of life insurance upon the mutual benefit assessment plan, and shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter:

(a) Such association is organized to provide money benefits payable upon the death of its members.

(b) Such association provides for the payment of such death benefits by assessments.
(c) Such association provides for the expense of management of the business by collecting membership fees and the annual dues specified in this chapter.

(d) The member's liability to contribute to the payment of losses accrued, or to accrue, is not a fixed sum but is dependent on the amount needed to pay such losses in full as they arise during his membership. Such liability does not cease upon lapsation of such membership.

10641. Mutual benefit life associations shall not be governed by the provisions of Chapters 9 or 10 of this part.

Article 2. Special Exemptions.

10650. Except as provided in section 10651, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the following associations:

(a) Fraternal benefit societies operating under "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, or Chapter 10 of this part.

(b) Benefit and relief associations formed by churches, lodges, labor unions, or employees of a common employer, the privileges and applications for membership in which are confined to the members of such churches, lodges, or labor unions, or to employees of such common employer, or employees or officers of such common employer, or employees of companies or corporations of which a single employer owns at least one-quarter of the issued capital or voting stock, or to those who were such corporate officers or employees at the time of becoming members of such association.

10651. The provisions of sections 10660 and 10661 and Articles 4 and 13 of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of this code shall apply to associations exempted by the provisions of subdivision (b) of section 10650.

Article 3. Qualification.

10660. The articles of incorporation shall contain the statements required by section 595 of the Civil Code, except that they shall provide that

(a) The voting power of the respective members is equal.

(b) The property rights of each member of the association are measured by that proportion of the total of the assets of the association represented by the proportion of the members' death benefit to the total of such benefits in all policies issued by the association and in force at the time when the determination of rights is made.

(c) If the association ceases to do business, the property rights of the members as to one another are those which exist at the time of such cessation of business.

10661. Any such association operating under the provisions of this chapter shall file with the commissioner:

(a) A certified copy of its articles of incorporation.

(b) A copy of its by-laws.
(e) Copies of any contracts or benefit certificates which it proposes to issue.
(d) Copies of applications for membership.
(e) A statement containing the names and addresses of its officers. All of such officers shall be bona fide residents of this State.
(f) A certified copy of any amendment or change in any matter set forth in any of the foregoing documents.
10662. Such association shall furnish a bond to the commissioner in the penal sum of ten thousand dollars in favor of the commissioner as trustee for all persons benefited by its terms. Such bond shall be executed by the association with an admitted surety insurer, approved by the commissioner, as surety thereon.
10664. Such bond shall provide that if the association fails, within one year after the issuance of the permit to solicit applications, to qualify as provided by Article 5 of this chapter, each applicant will be repaid the money which he pays to the association under the provisions of that article.
10666. On and after January 1, 1936, no association may be organized or admitted to operate under this chapter, except as provided in Article 4 of this chapter.

Article 4. Existing Corporations May Continue.

10669. Any domestic corporation now transacting business under the provisions of Chapter IV of Part IV, Title II, Division First of the Civil Code shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter, but may carry to completion under the terms of said chapter of the Civil Code the following contracts:
(a) Contracts existing on the date this section takes effect.
(b) After the lapse of any such existing contract, a contract which constitutes a reinstatement thereof within sixty days after such lapse, even though such lapse and reinstatement occurs after this section takes effect, and notwithstanding any provisions of such reinstatement contract which set forth that such contract shall take effect as a new contract from the date of such reinstatement.
10670. Any such existing association having assets, excluding any right of assessment, which, on the date this section takes effect, are not equal to its outstanding claims and debts, shall show to the satisfaction of the commissioner a continuous improvement in its condition and shall accumulate the benefit fund prescribed by section 10694 by June 30, 1936.
10671. It is the intention of the Legislature, by the enactment of this article, to permit any existing domestic association now engaged in transacting business of life insurance on the mutual benefit assessment plan to continue its corporate existence and business under the provisions of this chapter.
without the necessity of reincorporating or requalifying, except as provided by this article.

Article 5. Commencement of Business.

10680. Any association hereafter organized shall not execute or issue any benefit certificate until it qualifies by showing the following facts to the satisfaction of the commissioner:
(a) That a minimum of one thousand eligible persons have applied in writing to the association for membership and insurance therein.
(b) That such applicants have each paid an amount of not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars.
(c) That the association has on deposit in a bank or trust company authorized to do business in this State for the benefit fund an amount equal to the largest benefit contracted to be paid by it to any one person.

10681. Upon such qualification the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the association to transact business under this chapter.

10690. The affairs of all such associations shall be governed by not less than three nor more than seven directors. Such directors shall be residents of this State and shall be elected from and by the members, present in person or by proxy, at such time and place and for such period not exceeding four years, as is prescribed in the by-laws. Not less than thirty days' notice of every election of directors shall be given by mail to the members. Any director shall be eligible for reelection and, as far as practicable, an equal number shall be elected at such election. Whenever the directors are elected, a certificate under the seal of the association shall be filed with the commissioner, stating the names of such directors. Vacancies in the board of directors shall be filled as prescribed in the by-laws.

10691. The association may
(a) Make such by-laws as are necessary for the government and the transaction of its business, not inconsistent with the provisions of this chapter or the general laws.
(b) Sue and be sued in its own name.
(c) Establish and maintain a benefit fund.
(d) Establish and maintain an expense fund.
(e) Establish and maintain a trust fund in which shall be placed all advance assessments paid by members and such payments shall be credited to the member's account.

10692. The benefit fund of such association shall be used exclusively for the payment of claims arising out of contracts of insurance or benefit certificates issued by it and taxes applicable thereto and costs of defending disputed claims in litigation not in excess of twenty per cent of the face value of the certificate sued upon. Within sixty days after the association receives due proof of any loss, it shall either approve or reject the claim. Upon approval of any claim which exceeds in amount the benefit fund of the association, the president shall convene the directors of the association. Thereupon the directors shall levy assessments against all members, pursuant to the provisions of their certificates, for an amount sufficient to pay such loss or all losses of the association due at the time said assessment is made, and for an amount in excess thereof sufficient to maintain the minimum amount of the benefit fund prescribed by this chapter. All payments received pursuant to such levy, regardless of lapsation shall be placed in the benefit fund.

When suit is brought against such association on any rejected claim, an assessment shall thereupon likewise be levied against all members, pursuant to the provisions of their certificates, for an amount which will produce at least fifty percent of the amount of benefits stated on the face of the certificate on which suit was brought; provided, however, that the commissioner, upon a proper showing, may excuse the levy of such assessment, or after hearing may require the levy of such assessment for a larger or smaller per cent. The proceeds of such levy shall be placed in the trust fund provided by section 10691 and held therein until final determination of the suit. After such final determination, the amount of such proceeds shall be withdrawn from the trust fund and placed in the benefit fund prescribed by this chapter.

10693. In order to provide for the contingency of an unexpected number of deaths, any such association may levy assessments additional to those required by the preceding section, whenever the board of directors, in its discretion, believes such additional assessments to be advisable. All the proceeds of such additional assessments shall be placed entirely in the benefit fund and the benefit fund shall not in any case be permitted to exceed a sum greater than twenty-five thousand dollars.

10694. On and after June 30, 1936, the minimum amount of such benefit fund shall be the amount of the largest benefit certificate outstanding.

10695. Such fund may be held in cash or invested in securities specified as legal for investment of all assets of domestic insurers by Article 3 of Chapter 2, Part 2, Division 1 of this code.

10696. Whenever the benefit fund of any association falls below the amount required by this chapter and is not replenished within ninety days, the association is insolvent and the commissioner shall proceed against such association as provided for in Article 14 of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1 of this code.

10697. Every such association shall keep an expense fund out of which all operating expenses other than those chargeable to the benefit fund shall be paid. For the purpose of maintaining such fund the association may charge membership fees and dues to its members. Such dues, exclusive of initial membership fees payable in the first policy year, shall not exceed twelve dollars a year for each one thousand dollars or fraction thereof, of the death benefits contracted to be paid.
The term "membership fees" shall mean the amount paid by an applicant, in addition to dues or assessments. After an association has commenced business under this chapter a membership fee in excess of five dollars per thousand dollars, or fraction thereof, of insurance shall not be charged.

10698. Whenever any assessment is levied, the association shall immediately mail properly addressed notice thereof to each member. Such notice shall set forth the amount and the purpose of the assessment and shall also state the time when the payment of the assessment is to be made. The time so stated shall not be less than ten nor more than thirty days from the date of such notice. Unless the payment is made on or before the time so stated in any notice or notices of such assessment, the association shall send to the member a final notice, by registered mail, return receipt demanded, requiring the payment of such assessment within ten days following the date of mailing such final notice. The association may include a charge of not to exceed twenty per cent of the amount of such assessment as a penalty for the member's failure to pay the assessment within the time specified on the original notice.
A member's certificate shall not be lapsed for the failure of a member to pay any assessment, membership fees or dues unless the final notice by registered mail shall have been given in the manner hereinbefore provided in this section. Unless a payment on behalf of the member equal in amount to the assessment together with the penalty, if required is received by the association on or before the tenth day so specified, the certificate of the member shall lapse. Where advance payments have been made from which assessments are to be deducted, then the notices hereinabove specified shall not be necessary as to such members.

10699. The assessments authorized to be levied for mortuary purposes pursuant to the provisions of this chapter shall be as provided in the respective certificates held by the members.

If the proceeds of any assessment levied for mortuary purposes under the provisions of this chapter are not sufficient to pay the claims for which such assessments are levied, additional assessments sufficient to meet such claims shall promptly be levied.

10700. The assessments for mortuary purposes provided in this chapter shall be established in accordance with one of the following methods:

(a) In proportion to face amount of the certificate held by each member.

(b) In accordance with some accepted experience table of mortality:

(1) According to age at issue of the certificate;
(2) According to attained age at date of assessment. Every certificate hereafter issued by such association shall fully set forth the method by which is to be determined the amount of any assessment to be levied against the member. Such association shall not concurrently issue certificates providing for more than one method of assessment.

10701. Those officers of such association who have the custody of its funds shall give bond with an admitted surety insurer, approved by the commissioner, as surety thereon. Such bond shall be in an amount at least equal to the sum of the benefit fund together with the trust fund as reported in the annual statement last filed with the commissioner, conditioned upon the faithful performance of their duties and the accounting for the funds delivered into their custody. The form of every surety bond shall be approved by the commissioner before acceptance by him.

Article 7. Membership.

10710. Every such association shall maintain at least one thousand members in good standing.

10712. Upon revocation of its certificate of authority the association shall either liquidate and dissolve under the supervision of the commissioner, or merge or consolidate its business as provided in Article 9 of this chapter.

Article 8. Forms and Amount of Benefit Certificates.

10720. No association subject to the provisions of this chapter may hereafter issue or deliver in this State any benefit certificate for an amount greater than three thousand dollars nor may it so issue or deliver such certificate until after a copy of the form thereof, including the form of application and any rider or endorsement, is filed with and approved by the commissioner.

10721. The commissioner shall approve or disapprove such form within thirty days thereafter; otherwise such form shall be deemed approved. Before disapproving such form he shall notify the association, giving his reasons for disapproval, and shall grant a hearing to the association thereon.

10722. Every such certificate may provide for payment by the insured thereunder of membership fees, and shall provide for the payment of the insured thereunder of dues and assessments. The certificates may provide for the payment of assessments at a fixed rate pursuant to levy by the association after a death, or for the payment of such assessments at a fixed rate at periodic intervals in advance of deaths. The certificates may provide for the payment of fractional parts of membership fees or dues at periodic intervals.

No such benefit certificate hereafter issued may contain any provision purporting to limit the number of mortuary assessments which may be levied in accordance with this chapter. No such benefit certificate hereafter issued may call for or designate any payments by members, except membership fees, dues or assessments. Any provision in a certificate limiting another provision shall be printed with the same prominence as the provision which it limits.

10723. In determining whether or not he will approve any such form, the commissioner shall consider whether or not it takes into consideration the provisions of this chapter and all standard provisions applicable thereto.

10724. The provisions of such form shall be clearly and unambiguously stated. The form shall not contain any provision with respect to surrender values, except that it may provide that if the member has paid advance assessments which have been placed in the trust fund and credited to the member’s account, the unused portion of such advance assessment will be refunded on termination of his membership.

10725. Such certificate shall not be issued or delivered unless it contains, in substance, the following provisions:

(a) A provision that the certificate shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured member for a period of three years from its date of issue, or from the date of any reinstatement thereof, except for nonpayment of assessments or dues made pursuant to the provisions of this chapter and except for violation of the conditions of the certificate relating to military and naval service in time of war, and suicide.

(b) A provision that the certificate constitutes the entire contract between the member and the association, but if the association desires to make the application a part of the contract or certificate, it may do so if a copy of such application is endorsed upon or securely attached to the certificate when issued. In such case, the policy or certificate shall contain a provision that it, with the application therefor, shall constitute the entire contract between the member and the association.

10726. Any certificate hereafter issued containing any provision purporting to provide for the payment of mortuary assessments in stipulated amounts at specific intervals shall clearly state, in type no less prominent than that used to state the benefits to be paid under the certificate, that the member is subject to assessment at any time to cover his proportion of any claims occurring during his membership.

10727. Every contract of insurance executed by an association operating under this chapter shall be embodied in a benefit certificate.
10728. If the commissioner fails to approve or disapproves any such form within thirty days after it is filed with him, his act or decision thereon shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I, Part III, Title I of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon such review the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant and the court shall receive and consider pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary concerning the action of the commissioner under review, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in failing to approve or in disapproving any such form. No such certificate or form may be issued or delivered pending the final determination of any such review.

Article 9. Merger or Consolidation.

10730. Any such association may merge or consolidate with, or transfer its membership certificates and assets to, any other association operating under the provisions of this chapter.

10731. The agreement of merger, consolidation or transfer shall be submitted to and approved by a two-thirds vote of the members of the ceding association present in person or by proxy at a meeting called to consider that agreement. A written or printed notice of such meeting shall be mailed to each member at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting.

10732. Before the merger, consolidation or transfer is effected, the association which proposes to assume the liabilities of the ceding association shall submit to its members the question of merger, consolidation or transfer, as the case may be, and a similar notice shall be given and a similar vote required as in the case of members of the ceding association.

10733. If the vote in the case of both associations is in the affirmative by the required majority, a certified copy of all proceedings relating to the proposed merger, consolidation or transfer, shall be filed with the commissioner. If the commissioner finds that the proceedings have been in accordance with law, he shall approve the agreement.

10734. Upon the approval by the commissioner of such agreement, the consolidated association shall thereupon issue certificates of assumption to each and every member of the ceding association. Such certificates shall be in a form approved by the commissioner.

10735. The approval of the commissioner of the agreement of merger, consolidation or transfer, shall operate to dissolve the ceding association, and all its liability upon its insurance contracts or benefit certificates shall thereupon cease, but its officers may thereafter perform any act necessary to close its affairs. The officers of the ceding association shall file a certified copy of the agreement and of the approval of the commissioner in the office of the Secretary of State. Such certified copy shall be in lieu of the certificate of dissolution required by the provisions of the general corporation laws.

10736. The consolidated association shall be entitled to all the assets of the ceding association and shall assume all its liabilities. The policies or benefit certificates in force at the date of the merger, consolidation or transfer shall continue in full force and effect in all their provisions, agreements and undertakings, and shall be construed according to the provisions of law under which they were issued.

Article 10. Transformation.

10739. Whenever any domestic association subject to the provisions of this chapter has accumulated a fund of twenty-five thousand dollars or more in excess of all liabilities for undisputed claims or expenses incurred and taxes, it may, at its option, elect to transform itself into and to operate as a mutual life and disability insurer on the stipulated premium plan with provision for assessments as defined in Chapter 9 of this part.

10740. Any such association at its option, instead of depositing twenty-five thousand dollars as provided for in section 10739 of this chapter, may, beginning not later than two years after the effective date of this chapter, deposit five thousand dollars at the time of transformation, and the balance of twenty thousand dollars as follows: Five thousand dollars within one year after the certificate of authority is issued to such association, five thousand dollars within two years after the certificate of authority is issued to such association, five thousand dollars within three years after the certificate of authority is issued to such association, and five thousand dollars within four years after the certificate of authority is issued to such association. If any such association fails to deposit any of such installments when due or within any extension of time granted by the commissioner, it shall be subject to liquidation by the commissioner for failure to comply. No portion of such deposit may be considered as part of the reserves as defined in section 10870 of this code until the total thereof equals twenty-five thousand dollars.

Such deposit shall be in cash or in such securities in which domestic incorporated insurers are allowed by this code to invest their capital.

10741. Such action shall be taken by resolution adopted by not less than a two-thirds vote of the membership or certificate-holders present in person or by proxy at a meeting duly called for that purpose. A written or printed notice of such meeting shall be mailed to each member or certificate-holder at least thirty days before the date fixed for the meeting.

10742. A certified copy of all proceedings relative to such action shall be filed with the commissioner and, if he finds that the proceedings have been in accordance with law, the commissioner shall approve the resolution.

10743. Such transformed association shall amend its articles of incorporation and by-laws to conform to the transformation, but shall be a continuation of the original corporation by the same name, or by any other name approved by the commissioner.

10744. Thereafter the transformed association shall not include in its contracts the provisions required by this chapter, but shall be subject as to subsequent business to the provisions of Chapter 9 of Part 2 of Division 2 of this code. The transformation of such association shall not affect the rights or obligations of the association to its members on any contract theretofore made.

Article 11. Contributions.

10745. Any person may advance any sum of money to any association operating under this chapter for the purpose of conserving the association’s business or to enable it to qualify as a mutual life and disability insurer on the stipulated premium plan with provision for assessments, as defined in Chapter 9 of this part, or to comply with the laws of any State. The return of such money, together with such interest thereon as was agreed upon, not exceeding eight per cent per annum, shall be payable only out of surplus remaining after providing for all required reserves, surplus, or minimum funds and other liabilities, whether required by the laws of this State or any other State in which the association does business.
The obligation to return such money shall not be a liability or claim, whether as to principal or interest, against the association or any of its funds or assets.

10746. Commission or promotion expense shall not be paid in connection with the advance of any such money to the association.

10747. The amount of such advance shall be reported in each annual statement.

10748. When any association authorized under this chapter discontinues business, after the payment of or provision for all claims or liabilities following a determination made by the commissioner, any surplus shall be returned to the person who advanced it. If the money advanced was repaid, then such surplus shall be distributed or disposed of as is determined by the superior court of the county in this State in which such association has its principal place of business.

10749. The advance of any sum of money or contribution for the purposes specified in this article shall be evidenced by contribution certificates in such form as is approved by the commissioner.

The repayment, in whole or in part, of the principal of such contribution or advance shall not be made without prior approval in writing by the commissioner.

10750. If the commissioner, on investigation, ascertains that any such association has exceeded its powers, has failed to comply with any provision of this chapter or the law under which it was organized, or is conducting its business fraudulently, he shall proceed in accordance with Article 14 of Chapter 1, Division 1, Part 2 of this code. Except as prescribed by this chapter, the commissioner may proceed against an association operating under this chapter upon any other grounds specified in that article.

Article 13. Insurance Laws Applicable.

10770. Except as expressly provided to the contrary in this chapter or elsewhere, or inconsistent with this chapter all insurance or benefit contracts hereafter made, relative to life insurance upon the mutual benefit assessment plan, and any association issuing such contracts within this State, shall be subject to all laws now in effect or hereafter enacted relating to life insurance.

10771. All agents of such associations in this State shall be subject to the provisions of Article 2 of Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 1 of this code.

[10780.] 10880. Any such association or any officer or agent thereof refusing to comply with or violating any provision of this chapter is, except as otherwise provided, guilty of a misdemeanor.

(Chapter 8 repealed and added by Ch. 283, Stats. 1935.)

[ORIGINAL CHAPTER.]

CHAPTER 8. MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATIONS.

Article 1. Scope of Chapter.

10640. Mutual benefit associations shall not be governed by the provisions of chapters 9 or 10 of this part.

Article 2. Formation and Organization.

10650. Twenty-five or more persons may incorporate a mutual benefit association as a life insurer, to pay death benefits to the nominee of any member upon the death of the member.

10651. The articles of incorporation shall contain the statements required by section 595 of the Civil Code, except that they shall provide that:

(a) The voting power of the respective members is equal.

(b) The property rights of each member of any association are that proportion of the total of the assets of the association represented by the proportion of the member’s death benefit to the total of such death benefits in all the policies issued by the association and in force at the time when the determination of rights is made.

(c) If the association ceases to do business, the property rights of the members as to one another are those which exist at the time of such cessation of business.
10632. Any such association incorporated under the provisions of this chapter after August 20, 1933, shall file with the commissioner:
(a) A certified copy of its articles of incorporation.
(b) A copy of its by-laws.
(c) A bond conditioned as provided in this article.
(d) Copies of the forms of any policies which it proposes to issue.
(e) A statement containing the names and addresses of its officers, all of whom must be bona fide residents of this State.

10633. Such bond shall be executed by sureties approved by the commissioner. It shall be in the penal sum of $10,000 in favor of the commissioner as trustee for all persons benefited by its terms.
10634. Such bond shall provide that if the association fails to qualify, as provided by Article 3 of this chapter within one year after the issuance of the permit to solicit applications, each applicant will be repaid the money which he pays to the association under the provisions of Article 3 of this chapter.
10635. After the documents required by this article are filed with him, the commissioner, at the request of the association, shall issue to it a permit to solicit applications for membership and insurance.

Article 3. Commencement of Business.
10670. Such association shall not execute any contract of insurance until it qualifies by showing the following facts to the satisfaction of the commissioner:
(a) A minimum of one thousand persons have applied in writing to the association for membership and insurance therein.
(b) Such applicants have each paid an amount of not less than five dollars nor more than ten dollars on account of their applications.
(c) The association has on deposit in a bank or trust company authorized to do business in this State an amount equal to the largest benefit contracted to be paid by it to any one person.
10671. Upon such qualification the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to the association to transact business under this chapter.

10690. The association may:
(a) Make such by-laws as are necessary for its government and the transaction of its business.
(b) Sue and be sued in its own name.
(c) Loan such funds as it has on hand.
(d) Own sufficient real property for its business purposes and such as it becomes necessary to purchase on the foreclosure of its mortgages.
10691. The death benefit paid by the association shall not exceed an amount equal to three dollars for each of the number of thousands of dollars and fractions thereof contained in separate policies in force and shall not exceed the sum of three thousand dollars.

Article 5. Membership.
10710. Every such association shall maintain at least one thousand members in good standing.
10711. If the membership at any time falls below the minimum, the association shall immediately notify the commissioner of that fact. Thereafter the association shall increase its membership to the required minimum within ninety days unless the commissioner allows additional time. Unless the membership is thus increased the commissioner shall revoke its certificate of authority.
10712. Upon revocation of its certificate of authority the association shall either liquidate and dissolve under the supervision of the commissioner, or merge or reinsure its business as provided in Article 8 of this chapter.
10713. An association organized under this chapter shall not accept any member nor issue any policy to any person who is more than fifty-five years of age.

Article 6. Dues, Assessments and Premiums.
10750. Every mutual benefit association may, on the death of a member, levy and collect an assessment on the surviving members in an amount not exceeding three dollars for each $1,000 of insurance or fraction thereof carried by such member. Out of the proceeds of the assessment it shall pay the benefits provided for in the decedent's policy to the beneficiary. Any residue from the proceeds of such assessment shall be deposited in the emergency mortality fund of the association.
10731. Such association may also provide for the payment of annual dues by members. Except as provided in this section, such annual dues, exclusive of the initial membership fee payable in the first policy year, shall not exceed the aggregate in the aggregate not in excess of $1,000 or fraction thereof of insurance. A member shall not be subject to the payment of any annual dues in excess of that established upon the issuance of the policy held by him. The limitations of annual dues shall not apply to associations existing on August 21, 1933, under the provisions of "An act relating to mutual benefit and relief associations," approved March 28, 1874.

10732. Any mutual benefit association may provide for the payment by members of stipulated amounts at periodic intervals as advanced premiums. The portion of such advanced premiums which are to constitute part payment or part payment for mortality purposes, shall be carried on the association's books as a trust fund in the name of the paying member.

10733. Amounts chargeable to the member as they become due shall be withdrawn from such trust funds and shall be used for payment of policy claims or the replenishment or creation of the emergency mortality fund or apportioned for both purposes.

10734. Any unused portion of such trust fund shall be the member's credit balance and subject to the terms of the policy held by such member.

10750. Every mutual benefit association may, in addition to other assessments authorized by this chapter, levy and collect assessments for the purpose of creating, maintaining and replenishing an emergency mortality fund.

10751. An assessment for the emergency mortality fund shall not exceed three dollars for each one thousand dollars of insurance or fraction thereof carried by the member.

10752. Such emergency mortality fund may be used for financing the collection of assessments accruing to it, and for payment of policy claims, inspections, taxes, professional services, reinsurance and expenses incidental to such uses. No such payment shall be made out of such fund for the payment of any death claim to an amount in excess of the net proceeds of the last preceding assessment.

10753. Notwithstanding the payment of any death claims out of the emergency mortality fund, the association may, in addition to the special assessment for the emergency mortality fund, levy an assessment in the same manner as though for the payment of the death claim, but the proceeds thereof shall be paid into said fund to replenish it for the loss arising out of the payment of the death claim.

Article 8. Merger, Consolidation and Reinsurance.

10770. Any mutual benefit association and any association doing business on August 20, 1933, under the act entitled "An act relating to mutual beneficial and relief association," approved March 28, 1874, may merge, consolidate, or reorganize its membership and business, or any part thereof, or any amount of any liability under any policy or policies issued by it. Such merger, consolidation or reorganization shall be with any solvent admitted life insurer, under any plan approved by the commissioner.

Article 9. Special Exemptions.

10780. Any association of employees or other persons, organized under the provisions of this chapter and which does not directly or indirectly pay, or agree to pay, any compensation for solicitation of applications for membership or insurance therein, shall not be subject to the laws of this State applying to or regulating the transaction of insurance business, with the exception of sections 725, 729 to 735, 10630, 10651, 10690, 10691, 10730 to 10734, and 10750 to 10753.

10781. The provisions of sections 980, 981, 982, 983, 984, 985, 986, 987, 988, 989, 990, 991, 992, 993, 1700, 1701, 1702, 1703, 1704, 1705, 1706, 1707, 1708, 1709, 1710, 1711, 1712, 1713, and 1714 shall not apply to mutual benefit associations operating under this chapter.

(Section 10781 was originally part of Chapter 8, Part 2, Division 2, repealed by Ch. 283, Stats. 1955, as follows: "Chapter 8 of Part 2 of Division 2 of the Insurance Code, comprising sections 10640 to 10780, inclusive, is hereby repealed.")
CHAPTER 9. MUTUAL LIFE AND DISABILITY INSURANCE ON THE STIPULATED PREMIUM PLAN, WITH PROVISION FOR ASSESSMENTS.

(Chapter 9 added by Ch. 282, Stats. 1935.)

10810. Every contract whereby a benefit is to accrue to a person named therein through the death of the insured, or his physical disability from accident or sickness, or for the payment of any sum of money as an annuity or endowment, if the benefit is conditioned, not upon fixed payments but upon the collection from time to time of stipulated premiums with provision requiring additional payments from insured members by assessment, shall be a contract of mutual insurance on the stipulated premium plan; and the business involving the issuance of such contracts shall be carried on in this State only by duly organized corporations subject to this chapter.

Article 2. Special Exemptions.

10811. Except as provided in this section, the provisions of this chapter shall not apply to the following associations:

(a) Fraternal benefit societies operating under "An act for the regulation and control of fraternal benefit societies," approved May 1, 1911, as subsequently amended or Chapter 10 of this part.

(b) Benefit and relief associations formed by churches, lodges, labor unions, or employees of a common employer, membership in which is confined to the members of such churches, lodges, or labor unions, or employees or officers of such common employer, or employees or officers of companies or corporations of which a single employer owns at least one-quarter of the issued capital or voting stock, or to those who were such corporate officers or employees at the time of becoming members of such association.

Section 10815, Article 4 and Article 13 of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1 of this code shall apply to any such society, association or corporation exempted by subdivision (b) of this section.

Article 3. Formation and Organization.

10815. Seven or more persons, residents of this State, may form a mutual corporation for the purpose of transacting the business of life, disability, or life and disability insurance as defined in this chapter. Such corporation shall be formed in the manner prescribed in, and shall be subject to the provisions of Article 3 of Chapter 10, Part 2, Division 2 of this code, so far as applicable to such a corporation not operating on the lodge plan. Except as is otherwise expressly herein provided this section shall not apply to existing corporations. Applicants may be accepted as to insurability as the by-laws of such corporation may provide.
10816. The name of the corporation shall contain the word "insurance" and shall be first submitted to and approved by the commissioner. A name shall not be approved which is so similar to that of an existing insurer as to lead to confusion.

10817. Officers chosen at the first meeting of the incorporators shall hold office until the next succeeding meeting of the company for the election of officers, the date of which shall be within two years of the time of organization, and shall be prescribed by the by-laws. At that meeting and thereafter at least quadrennially the officers shall be chosen and shall hold office until their successors are elected and qualified.

10820. A domestic corporation now engaged in transacting the business of insurance under Chapter VI of Division 1, Part IV, Title II of the Civil Code of this State, may continue to exercise all rights, powers and privileges conferred by said chapter, or its articles of incorporation not inconsistent herewith, subject to this chapter, except that corporations heretofore organized shall be privileged to carry to completion under the terms of said Chapter VI their existing contracts, but no new policy shall be issued except under the provisions of this chapter.

10821. A certificate of incorporation granted under the provisions of this chapter shall not continue valid after one year from the date thereof, unless the organization shall have been completed and business begun thereunder.

Article 5. Issuance of Policies.

10830. An insurer hereafter organized under this chapter shall neither assume any liability nor collect any other than the advance premium, nor issue any policy or certificate until all the following conditions are complied with:

(a) At least one thousand persons have subscribed in writing agreements for each to be insured therein for a death benefit or not less than one thousand dollars if life insurance, or for a disability benefit of not less than five dollars per week if disability insurance.

(b) Each such subscriber has paid one full stipulated premium or assessment of not less than five dollars, to be held in trust for the beneficiaries, and which has been deposited as provided in section 10901 of this code, and such deposited fund is at least equal to the largest benefit provided in any contract of insurance applied for.

(c) The insurer has deposited twenty-five thousand dollars with the commissioner.

(d) The commissioner certifies that the insurer has complied with the provisions of law and is authorized to transact business.
10831. The commissioner may require of the applicants for such policy or certificate, and at any time of the officers of any such corporation evidence, under oath or otherwise, relative to its affairs as he may consider it necessary. If it appears that the incorporators or persons acting in their behalf have advanced to or for the subscribers the stipulated premiums or assessments herein required to be paid, an authorization shall not be issued and the corporation shall be immediately dissolved. It is the intent of this chapter that no person shall have a proprietary interest in such corporation except equally with all other members.

Article 6. Reinsurance, etc.

10840. Such insurer may reinsure with, or transfer its membership certificates or policies and funds to, any insurer doing business under this chapter, or to any stock or mutual insurer admitted to transact the business of life, disability or life and disability insurance.

10841. The contract of reinsurance or transfer shall be submitted to and approved by a two-thirds vote of the policy or certificate holders of the ceding insurer present in person or by proxy at a meeting called to consider the same. A written or printed notice of such meeting shall be mailed to each policyholder or certificate holder, at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting. If the vote is in the affirmative, a certified copy of all proceedings relating to the proposed reinsurance shall be filed with the commissioner, who, if he finds that the proceedings have been in accordance with law, shall approve the contract.

10842. The reinsuring corporation shall be entitled to all the assets of the ceding insurer and shall assume all of its liabilities, but the commissioner may make such requirements as to segregation of assets and accounts as will best protect the interest of policyholders of both corporations. If such vote of approval of reinsurance or transfer includes an agreement for the transfer to the reinsuring corporation of a reserve fund deposited with the State, the commissioner shall approve an order for the transfer of the deposit fund to such corporation, and the State Treasurer shall thereupon pay over the deposited fund to the reinsuring corporation or credit said corporation with it as a deposit.

10843. If the corporation assuming the reinsurance or transfer is subject to this chapter, the proposed contract of reinsurance shall be submitted to its policy or certificate holders, and a similar notice given and a two-thirds affirmative vote required of its policy or certificate holders the same as is required of the policy or certificate holders of the ceding insurer.

10844. The policies or certificates in force at the date of reinsurance or transfer shall continue in full force and effect in all their provisions, agreements and undertakings and shall be construed according to the provisions of law under which they were issued. Any defenses or evidence relative to such policies or certificates available under their provisions shall constitute a defense, and shall be received as evidence in any controversy between the parties to and interested in such policies or certificates.

10845. Any such insurer may reinsure any individual policy or policies, or any part thereof, issued by it with any insurer admitted to transact life, disability, or life and disability insurance business without submitting the reinsurance thereof for approval to the commissioner.

10846. Any insurer authorized to do business under this chapter may reinsure or assume, in whole or in part, the contracts of any association authorized to do business under Chapter 8 of Part 2, Division 2 of this code; except that no individual contract shall be so reinsured or assumed and the contract of reinsurance or assumption in all such cases shall be subject to the approval of the commissioner.

10847. The approval by the commissioner of a contract of reinsurance or transfer of all of its business shall be cause for dissolving the ceding insurer, and all its liabilities shall thereupon cease, but its officers may thereafter perform any act necessary to close its affairs.

Article 7. Amount of Benefit to be Specified, Payment of Benefit, etc.

10850. Every policy issued by any such insurer shall specify:

(a) The amount of money which it promises to pay upon the contingency insured against.

(b) The number of days after satisfactory proof of the happening of such contingency and of the liability of the insurer when such payment will be made.

Upon the occurrence of such contingency and the lapse of the specified number of days after proof, the beneficiary may maintain an action upon such policy in his own name.

10851. If the commissioner is satisfied, on investigation, after a hearing upon notice of not less than thirty days, that any such insurer has refused or failed to pay a policy claim within a reasonable time after it became due and after proper demand, he shall notify the insurer that until such indebtedness is fully paid, and while such notice is in force, no officer or agent of the insurer may make, sign or issue any policy or contract of insurance.

10860. An insurer subject to the provisions of this chapter shall neither issue nor deliver in this State any contract of life insurance until a copy of the form thereof, including the form of application and any rider or indorsement, has been filed with and approved by the commissioner. The commissioner shall approve or disapprove such form within thirty days thereafter. Otherwise such form shall be deemed approved. Before disapproving such form he shall notify the insurer of his reasons therefor and grant a hearing to the insurer thereon.

10861. In considering whether a form of policy shall be approved, the commissioner shall consider whether or not it takes into consideration the provisions of this chapter and all standard provisions applicable thereto; and such policy shall not be so issued or delivered unless it contains in substance the following provisions:

(1) A provision that the insured (after three months’ premiums have been paid) is entitled to a grace not less than twenty days within which time the payment of any premium or assessment after the first may be made, subject at the option of the insurer to an interest charge not in excess of six per centum per annum for the number of days of grace elapsed before the payment of the premium or assessment during which period of grace the policy shall continue in full force, but in case the policy becomes a claim during the said period of grace before the overdue premium or assessment or the deferred premiums of the current policy year if any are paid, the amount of such premiums or assessment with interest on any overdue premium or assessment may be deducted from any amount payable under the policy in settlement.

(2) A provision that the policy shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the insured for a period of three years from its date of issue or from the date of any reinstatement thereof except for suicide and except for nonpayment of premiums or assessments and except for violation of the conditions of the policy relating to military or naval service in time of war or relating to additional insurance with the insurer upon the monthly or weekly payment plan without special indorsement and at the option of the insurer provisions relative to benefits in the event of total and permanent disability and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident may also be excepted.

(3) A provision that the policy shall constitute the entire contract between the parties, but if the insurer desires to make the application a part of the contract it may do so provided a copy of such application, except for insurance on the weekly or monthly premium basis, shall be indorsed upon or securely attached to the policy when issued, and in such case the policy shall contain a provision that the policy and the application therefor shall constitute the entire contract between the parties.

(4) A provision that if the age of the insured has been misstated the amount payable under the policy shall be such as the premium or assessment would have purchased at the correct age in accordance with the table of premium rates of the insurer on file with the commissioner.
A policy, or any application, indorsement or rider form used in connection with any policy issued in violation of this section, shall nevertheless be held valid but shall be construed as provided in this section, and when any provision in such policy, application, indorsement or rider is in conflict with any provision of this section, or of any other statutory provision, the rights, duties and obligations of the insurer, the policyholder and the beneficiary shall be governed by the provisions of this section. Any such policy may be issued or delivered in this State which, in the opinion of the commissioner, contains provisions on any one or more of the several foregoing requirements more favorable to the insured than hereinbefore required. The provisions of this section shall not apply to policies of reinsurance. Every such insurer shall file with the commissioner complete schedules of its premiums, rates and classifications.

10862. If the commissioner fails to approve within thirty days any such form or disapproves the same, his act or decision thereon shall be subject to review, in accordance with the provisions of Chapter I, of Part III, Title I of the Code of Civil Procedure. Upon such review the burden of proof shall lie upon the appellant, and the court shall receive and consider any pertinent evidence, whether oral or documentary, concerning the action of the commissioner under review, but shall be limited to a consideration and determination of the question whether there has been an abuse of discretion on the part of the commissioner in failing to approve or in disapproving any such form. Such policy or form shall not be issued or delivered pending the final determination of any such review.

Article 9. Life Insurance Reserves.

10870. Every insurer subject to the provisions of this chapter shall hold and maintain, upon every contract of life insurance issued on and after the date upon which it becomes subject to the provisions of this chapter, assets in excess of other liabilities, to provide for reserves not less than the minimum tabular reserves prescribed herein. The statutory deposit required by law may be considered as a part of such reserves or of other required policy reserves.

The basis for minimum reserves under this act shall be the American Experience Table of Mortality, with Fary's Table No. 3 or Craig's Extension for ages under ten, and interest at four per centum per annum; provided, however, that contracts issued on a weekly premium basis and providing therein for valuation according to the Standard Industrial Table of Mortality and interest at four per centum per annum shall be valued according to such industrial table of mortality and rate of interest. Such contracts may provide for not more than one year preliminary term insurance by incorporating therein a clause plainly showing that the first year's insurance under such contracts is term insurance, purchased by the whole or a part of the premiums to be received during the first contract year, and such contracts may be valued on the basis of the mortality table and interest rate above prescribed by the preliminary term plan; provided, however, that the reserve according to such standard for the first to the fifth policy years, inclusive, may be reduced by the following percentages: first year, eighty per cent; second year, eighty per cent; third year, sixty per cent; fourth year, forty per cent; fifth year, twenty per cent; and provided, further, that at no time shall the reserve be less than the value of any nonforfeiture provision contained in the policy.

In computing reserves as required by this section, no allowance or reduction may be made in consideration of the fact that members may be assessed to make up a deficiency.

Article 10. Additional Premiums or Assessments.

10875. All life contracts issued or delivered in this State by corporations subject to this chapter shall provide, in addition to the stipulated premiums, for the payment of additional premiums or assessments, to the extent needed to pay for their share of claims and expenses and to maintain the tabular reserves required by this chapter, or shall require such additional amount to be charged as an indebtedness, at a rate of interest specified in the contract, not exceeding the tabular reserves on the contract and shall provide for terminating the contract whenever the total indebtedness thereon equals such tabular reserves. On such contract no liability may be charged in any valuation for any deficiency in future contributions so long as such payments are actually collected or such charges are actually made. No such additional premiums or assessments may be enforced against any holder of a life contract except upon due notice to such holder.

Every such holder shall have the option of paying such additional premiums or assessments in cash or permitting the same to be charged as an indebtedness against the tabular reserves as above provided but if no option selection is made within thirty days after the mailing of such notice the second option shall become applicable and said additional premiums or assessments shall become a lien upon said contract, and it is further provided that all said life contracts and notices of said additional premiums or assessments shall contain a statement to that effect.

Article 11. Conversion to Mutual Legal Reserve.

10880. If a domestic insurer subject to the provisions of this chapter is possessed of admitted assets in excess of all liabilities, and such excess is equal to the minimum paid-in capital required by sections 10510 and 10511 of this code to transact the classes of insurance which it proposes to transact, such insurer may, at its option, without reincorporation, elect to operate as a mutual legal reserve insurer.
Such action shall be by resolution adopted by not less than a two-thirds vote of the policy or certificate holders present in person or by proxy at a duly called meeting for that purpose. A written or printed notice of such meeting shall be mailed to each policy or certificate holder at least thirty days before the day fixed for the meeting. A certified copy of all proceedings relative to such action shall be filed with the commissioner, who, if he finds that the proceedings have been in accordance with law, shall approve the same.

10881. Such transformed corporation may amend its articles and by-laws, and shall be considered a continuation of the original corporation by the same name.

10882. Thereafter the insurer shall not include in its policies the provisions required by the preceding article, but shall be subject as to subsequent business to the test of solvency provided for life, disability, and life and disability insurers by this code and to all other provisions relating to mutual life, and disability insurance not on the stipulated premium plan. But such election shall not affect the rights or obligations of the insurer or its members on any contract theretofore made.

Article 12. Contributions.

10885. Any person may advance any sum of money to an insurer operating under this chapter, such advance being made for the purposes of organization or to promote or conserve the insurer’s business or to enable it to qualify as a mutual legal reserve insurer as provided herein, or to comply with the laws of any State. The return of such money, together with such interest thereon as may have been agreed upon, not exceeding eight per cent per annum, shall be payable only out of the surplus remaining after providing for all required surplus, reserves and other liabilities, whether required by the laws of this State or any other State in which the insurer does business. The obligation to return such money shall not be a liability or claim, either as to principal or interest, against the insurer or any of its assets. Commission or promotion expenses shall not be paid in connection with the advance of any such money to the insurer. The amount of such advance shall be reported in each annual statement.

When any insurer organized under this chapter discontinues business, after the payment of or provision for all liabilities, following a determination made by the commissioner, any surplus fund must be returned to the person or persons who advanced it; or if the money advanced is repaid then such surplus shall be distributed or disposed of as may be determined by the superior court of the county in which such insurer has its principal place of business.

10886. The advance of any sum of money or contribution for the purposes specified in the preceding section shall be evidenced by contribution certificates in such form as may be approved by the commissioner.
The repayment, in whole or in part, of the principal of such contribution or advance shall not be made without the prior approval in writing of the commissioner.

10890 Any insurer subject to the provisions of this chapter which issues life policies shall keep separate accounts of its life insurance business and shall segregate the assets relating to that business such assets and the interest thereon together with all premiums or assessments on life policies shall be held for the sole benefit of such business, provided that there may be paid from the premiums and assessments a reasonable amount for the proportion of the insurer's expenses due to its life insurance business. The holder of a life insurance policy shall not be liable as such to assessment for losses incurred other than in connection with the life insurance business of the insurer. The holder of a contract other than of life insurance shall not be liable as such to assessment for losses incurred in connection with the life insurance business of the insurer. It is the intention of this provision that the life insurance business and the disability insurance business of an insurer subject to this chapter and doing both classes shall each be self-sustaining and not dependent one upon the other.

10895. If the liabilities of any insurer organized or operating under this chapter exceed its resources, and it can not within a reasonable time, not more than three months from the date of the original default on any obligation, pay its accrued indebtedness in full, without impairment of the reserves for its business as required by this chapter, it is insolvent. When the commissioner has given the notice required by section 10851 of this chapter, he shall proceed without delay to investigate the condition of the insurer, and if it appears to him that such insurer is insolvent, he shall proceed in accordance with the provisions of Article 14 of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1, of this code. The provisions of this section shall not prevent the commissioner from proceeding under said Article 14 for any other cause stated therein.

10896. If an undisputed claim arising out of the death or disability of a policy holder is not paid within sixty days after the filing, pursuant to the policy, of satisfactory proof of such death or disability, and available assets of the insurer are not sufficient to pay the claim, then unless the insurer levies an assessment or otherwise obtains funds to provide for the payment, the commissioner may revoke its certificate of authority.

Article 15. Statutory Deposit and Investment of Funds.

10901. The statutory deposit and reserves required by this chapter shall be invested in securities in which domestic incor 10915. If the commissioner, on investigation, is satisfied that any such insurer has exceeded its powers, failed to comply with any provision of law or is conducting business fraudulently, he shall proceed in accordance with Article 14 of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1, of this code.

Article 17. Foreign Corporations May Be Admitted.

(f) A copy of its policy and application, showing that benefits are provided for by stipulated premiums or assessments upon policyholders.

(g) Evidence satisfactory to the commissioner that it has accumulated and maintains a deposit and reserves equal in amount to that required by this chapter, and that such accumulation is permitted by the law of its incorporation, is held in trust for the benefit of policyholders only, and is securely invested.

10921. The commissioner shall thereupon make or cause to be made an examination, as provided by Article 4 of Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1, Part 2 of this code, and if he is satisfied thereby he shall issue a certificate of authority authorizing such corporation to do business in this State until July first following unless it is sooner revoked. Such certificate may be renewed annually by the commissioner before that date upon written application of the insurer. Such certificate shall be revoked if the commissioner, on investigation, is satisfied that such corporation is not paying in full the maximum amount named in its policies, or that it has otherwise failed to comply with any provision of this chapter or its own contracts. Upon such revocation the commissioner shall cause notice thereof to be published in such manner as he deems necessary for the protection of the public. [ORIGINAL CHAPTER]

CHAPTER 9. LIFE AND DISABILITY INSURANCE ON THE ASSESSMENT PLAN.

10810. Every contract of life or disability insurance, the benefits of which are dependent in any degree upon the collection of assessments or dues from persons holding similar contracts, is a contract of mutual insurance upon the assessment plan. Policies evidencing such contracts shall, by their terms show that the liabilities of the insured are not limited to fixed premiums.

10811. Every such policy issued by an insurer operating under this chapter shall specify the sum or sums to become due upon the happen-10812. Unless such a policy is invalidated by fraud or breach of its conditions, the insurer shall pay the beneficiary the amount specified in the policy at the time therein named. Such obligation is a lien upon all the property of such insurer, with priority over all indebtedness thereafter incurred, except in case of insolvency.

10813. An insurer’s right to do business in this State is forfeited by failure to make payment within thirty days after notice at the home office by mail of a final judgment on an obligation under a policy of mutual insurance on the assessment plan, unless waiver is made by the beneficiary.

10814. Every policy issued by an insurer doing business under this chapter must be founded upon written application therefor.

10815. Except where the application is either for disability insurance only, or for $5,000 or less life insurance, or for policies issued upon the group plan, the application must be accompanied by the report of a reputable physician. Such report shall contain a detailed statement of his examination of the applicant, showing the applicant to be in good health and recommending the issuance of a policy.

10816. In cases of policies issued upon the group plan, medical examinations shall be discretionary with the board of directors of the insurer.

10817. A policy issued by any insurer doing business under the provisions of this chapter does not lapse for the nonpayment of any assessments, dues or premiums unless the insurer collects specific amounts at specific dates under the provisions of the policy, or unless it first mails to the insured a notice setting forth the amount to be paid and the time the amount is due and payable.

10818. Such notice must be mailed to the member at his last given post office address, at least fifteen days before the assessment is due.

10819. An affidavit made by the officer, bookkeeper, or clerk in charge of mailing the notices of any such insurer setting forth the required facts as they appear on the records in the office of the insurer, and showing that such notice was mailed and the date of mailing, is conclusive evidence of the mailing.

10820. The benefits to be paid as provided by the policies issued by an insurer doing business under this chapter are not liable to attachment nor to be applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any liability of the policyholder or of any beneficiary named in the policy.

10821. Any person making a false or fraudulent statement to any insurer doing business under this chapter, with reference to any application for insurance, or for the purpose of obtaining any money or benefit from such insurer, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

10822. Any person who makes a false statement of any material fact or thing in a sworn statement as to the death or disability of a policyholder in any such insurer for the purpose of procuring or aiding the beneficiary or policyholder in procuring the benefit named in the policy, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Article 2. Domestic Assessment Plan Life or Disability Insurers.

10840. Insurers may be incorporated and formed to carry on the business of mutual life or disability insurance upon the assessment plan. They are subject, as to such business, only to the provisions of this chapter and exempt from other provisions of this code except section 156 and those provisions prior to Division 1 entitled “General Provisions.”

10841. Such insurer shall not enter into contracts of insurance until at least one thousand persons apply in writing to the commissioner for membership or insurance therein, and pay $25,000 to the treasurer of such insurer. This sum shall be invested in securities approved by the commissioner, or deposited in some bank in this State where it will earn interest.

10842. Such securities or evidences of such deposit shall be delivered to the commissioner and by him deposited with the State Treasurer. The principal sum of such securities or evidences shall be held in trust for the policyholders of such insurer, with the right in the insurer to exchange the securities or evidences for others of like value.

10843. Such insurer shall, as a condition precedent to issuing any policy, obtain the written certificate of approval of the commissioner. Such certificate shall state that it has complied with the requirements of this chapter, and that the name of the insurer is not the same as that of any other insurer of this or other States, as indicated by the records in his office. The commissioner shall not approve any name so closely resembling another as to mislead the public.

10844. An insurer formed hereunder has no legal existence after one year from the date of filing its articles with the Secretary of State, unless its organization has been completed and business commenced. An insurer or individual representing it shall not solicit, or cause to be solicited, any assessment plan, life or disability insurance until such insurer has complied with the provisions of Article 2, Chapter 5, Part 2, of Division 1 of this code.

10845. Any existing insurer engaged in the business of life or disability insurance on the assessment plan may reincorporate under the provisions of this chapter, but is not obliged to do so. It may, without such reincorporation, exercise the rights, powers, and privileges conferred by this chapter.

10846. Within a year from the date of the filing of its articles with the Secretary of State, every domestic insurer organized or doing business under this chapter shall accumulate a reserve fund. Such fund shall at all times be not less than the largest benefit contracted to be paid by it to any one person.

10847. The reserve fund shall be invested and deposited, as provided in section 10842, with the right in the insurer to exchange any such securities for others of equal value. The deposit required by section 10842 may constitute a part of the reserve fund, at the option of the insurer.

10848. When any such insurer discontinues business, this reserve fund shall be returned to it or disposed of as determined by the superior court of the county in which is located the insurer's principal place of business.

Article 3. Foreign Insurers.

10860. A foreign incorporated insurer organized to transact the business of life or disability insurance on the assessment plan shall, as a condition precedent to transacting business in this State, comply with the provisions of section 405 of the Civil Code, and shall deposit with the commissioner:

(a) A certified copy of its charter or other instrument required by its home authorities.

(c) An appointment of a general agent, service upon whom binds the insurer.
(d) A certificate that for the next preceding twelve months it has paid in full its liabilities under its policies.
(e) A certificate from the proper officer of the State or government under the laws of which it is organized, that like insurers of this State are legally entitled to do business in such State or country.
(f) Copies of its proposed forms of policies and applications. These shall show that the liabilities of its members are not limited to fixed premiums.
(g) Evidence satisfactory to the commissioner, that the insurer has accumulated a fund equal to that required of like domestic insurers constituting a reserve fund held in trust for the benefit of its policyholders, and so invested and held as required by the laws of the State or government under which such insurer is organized.

10861. Upon such deposit, the commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to such insurer to do business in this State. This certificate shall be renewed annually unless revoked.

10862. The certificate of authority may be revoked whenever it is ascertained that the statements required by this article are not true. Upon such revocation, notice thereof must be given by the commissioner by daily publication for two weeks in some newspaper published in the City and County of San Francisco and new insurance shall not be made by the insurer in this State.

Article 4. Reports, Statements and Examinations.

10880. Every admitted insurer doing business under this chapter shall annually, on or before the first day of March, file a statement with the commissioner. Such statement shall be in such form as he prescribes, and shall set forth the insurer's affairs for the year ending on the preceding December thirty-first.

10881. Every insurer subject to the provisions of this chapter shall maintain on its books separate accounts for the money received and the disbursements of its funds for its life, disability, and general business.
The accounts shall show the amounts received from initiation fees, dues, premiums, interest, assessments and general income according to class of business.

10882. The commissioner may at any time examine the affairs of any domestic insurer doing business or claiming to do business under this chapter. He shall make such examination at least once a year.

10883. The commissioner shall commence proceedings to revoke the certificate of authority of such an insurer if, after an examination of its affairs, he finds that any of the following facts exist:

(a) It is not doing its business in conformity to this chapter.
(b) It is doing a fraudulent or unlawful business.
(c) It is not carrying out the terms of its policies.
(d) It can not, within three months from the date of notice of default, pay its obligations.

He shall commence such proceedings by issuing an order requiring that the president, secretary, manager or general agent of the corporation, or any or all of them, appear before the commissioner at a designated time and place, to show cause why the insurer's certificate of authority should not be revoked. If on further proceeding cause is not shown, then the commissioner shall report the facts to the Attorney General of this State. In such case the Attorney General shall commence proceedings in the proper court to restrain the insurer from doing any further business.

Article 5. Registration of Policies.

10900. Insurers authorized to do business under this chapter may register life policies issued by them, and make and maintain a deposit, under the provisions of and in the manner provided by Article 2 of Chapter 5 of this part.

10901. A full legal reserve shall be maintained in connection with such registered life policies, at rates based upon the American experience table of mortality, with interest at three and one-half per cent per annum.

10902. The reserve required to be maintained under the provisions of section 10846 may be included in and computed as part of the deposit required to cover registered policies.

Article 6. Promotion, Conservation and Change to Reserve Basis.

10920. Any person may advance any sum of money to an insurer operating under this chapter, such advance being made to promote or conserve the insurer's business or to enable it to comply with the laws of any State.

10921. Such money, together with any agreed interest not exceeding eight per cent per annum, is repayable only out of the surplus remaining after providing for all reserves and liabilities required by the laws of this State or any other State in which the insurer is admitted or authorized to transact insurance. Such repayment is not otherwise liable to recurum against the insurer or any of its assets.

10922. Commission or promotion expenses shall not be paid in connection with any such advance to the insurer. The amount of such advance shall be reported in each annual statement of the insurer.

10923. When any such insurer discontinues business, after the payment of, or provision for, all required reserves, liabilities and reinsurance, the balance in this fund shall be returned to the person to whom it is owed. Any surplus in the fund shall be retained by the insurer or disposed of as determined by the superior court of the county in which is its principal place of business.

10924. Any domestic insurer subject to this chapter and having admitted assets equal to at least $200,000 in excess of all required reserves and liabilities may, at its option and without reincorporation, elect to operate as a mutual insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis. In such case, such insurer may, subject to section 10926 transact such other insurances as are permitted to be transacted by an incorporated life insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis whenever its admitted assets are equal to the paid in capital required of such an insurer for such purposes.

10925. Upon a two-thirds majority vote of its directors such insurer may amend its articles and by-laws in such manner as to transform itself into a mutual insurer issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis. In such case it may continue to operate under the same name or its directors may adopt a new name, subject to the provisions of this code relating to names of admitted insurers. Such amendment shall take effect only after approval by a majority of the aggregate, taken as a whole, of members and policyholders.
10926. After such amendment, upon procuring from the commissioner a certificate of authority as a mutual insurer issuing nonassessable policies upon a reserve basis, it may do the classes of business in this State permitted by such certificate and which it is entitled to do by virtue of assets held as required by section 10924.

10927. Such policies thereafter executed need not include the provisions required by Article 1 of this chapter. The insurer shall be subject as to all its subsequent business to the tests of solvency and other provisions of law relating to insurers issuing policies on a reserve basis. But such change shall not affect the rights or obligations of the insurer or its members on any policy theretofore executed.

Article 7. Fees and Expenses.

10940. The fees for filing statements, certificates, or other documents required by this chapter, or for any service or act of the commissioner, and the penalties for any violation of this chapter shall, except as otherwise provided herein, be the same as in the case of other life insurers and shall be disposed of in the same manner.

of July succeeding issue, at the time when the new certificate of authority is issued or expressly refused.

11063. When the commissioner, after investigation, finds failed to comply with any provisions of this chapter, is conducting business fraudulently, or is not carrying out its contracts in good faith, he shall notify the society of his finding, ordering it to show cause why its certificate of authority should not be revoked. The notice and order to show cause shall specify the facts constituting the basis for his finding and shall name a date, a reasonable time after notice, for hearing on the order.

11064. If on the date named in the notice the society does not present good and sufficient reasons why its authority to transact business in this State should not be revoked, the com-existence of one year or more, has a membership of less than four hundred or determines to discontinue business, the commisssioner may present the facts relating thereto to the Attorney General.

11067. In such case the Attorney General may commence an action against the society to forfeit its corporate existence in a court of competent jurisdiction. Any of the grounds set forth in section 11066 constitutes sufficient cause for such forfeiture.

11068. If, upon hearing of such case, it appears that the society should be liquidated, it shall be enjoined from carrying on any further business and some person shall be appointed receiver of such society.

11069. The receiver appointed under the provisions of section 11068 shall proceed at once to take possession of the books, papers, moneys and other assets of the society and shall forthwith, under the direction of the court, proceed to liquidate the society and to distribute its assets to those entitled thereto.

11070. Such proceedings shall not be commenced by the Attorney General against any society until notice is served on the chief executive officers of the society and a reasonable opportunity is given to it, on a date named in the notice, to show cause why such proceedings should not be commenced.
11071. An application for injunction against, proceedings for the dissolution of, or the appointment of a receiver for, any domestic society or branch thereof shall not be entertained by any court unless made by the Attorney General.

11072. When the commissioner refuses to issue a certificate of authority to any society, or revokes its certificate of authority to do business in this State, he shall reduce his ruling, order or decision to writing and file it in his office. Upon request he shall furnish a copy thereof, together with a written statement of his reasons, to the officers of the society.

11090. Every admitted society and every society applying for admission, shall appoint the commissioner and his successors in office its attorney upon whom all legal process in any action or proceeding against it may be served. Such appointment shall be made in writing and filed with the commissioner.

11091. In the writing containing the appointment the society shall agree that when any lawful process is served upon such attorney the service will be of the same legal effect as if served upon the society, and that such appointment shall continue in force so long as any liability of the society remains outstanding in this State.

11092. Service on the society shall be made only upon such attorney. Such service shall be made in duplicate upon the commissioner or, in his absence, upon the person in charge of his office and shall be sufficient service upon such society.

11093. Such service is not valid against any such society when it is required thereunder to file its answer, pleading or defense in less than thirty days from the date of mailing the copy of such service to such society.

11094. When legal process against any such society is served upon the commissioner, he shall forthwith forward one of the duplicate copies prepaid by registered mail, directed to the secretary or corresponding officer of the society.

Article 7. Membership and Policies. Limits of Insurable Age.

11110. Any person not less than sixteen nor more than sixty years of age may be admitted to beneficial, general or social membership in any fraternal benefit society in such manner and upon such showing of eligibility as the laws of the society provide.

11111. If a member has a wife, husband, or children and has not, since issuance of the policy, become dependent upon a charitable institution, only the following persons may be beneficiaries under the certificate: the member's wife, husband, relative by blood to the fourth degree, father-in-law, mother-in-law, son-in-law, daughter-in-law, stepfather, stepmother, stepchildren, children by legal adoption, parents by legal adoption, persons upon whom the member is dependent, persons dependent upon the member, persons of his family or a trustee for the sole benefit of any such beneficiary.

11112. If, after issuance of the policy such member becomes dependent upon a charitable institution, he may, with the consent of the society, designate such institution as beneficiary, either direct or in trust.

11113. If the member has no wife, husband or children, he may designate any beneficiary, direct or in trust, permitted by the laws of the society.

11114. A beneficiary shall not have any vested interest in the benefits provided in the policy until such benefits become due and payable in conformity with the provisions of the insurance contract. The member may change the beneficiary in accordance with the laws, rules and regulations of the society.

11115. The commissioner shall not issue a certificate of authority, other than a renewal of an existing certificate, to a domestic society unless the rate of stated periodical contributions is sufficient to provide for meeting the mortuary obligation contracted, when valued as follows, with an interest assumption, in each case, of not more than four per cent per annum:

(a) For death benefits, upon the basis of the national fraternal congress table of mortality as adopted by the national fraternal congress August 23, 1899, or any standard having a higher mortality rate at the option of the society.
(b) For disability benefits, by tables based upon reliable experience.
(c) For combined death and permanent total disability benefits, by tables based upon reliable experience.

11116. Every fraternal benefit society shall provide for the payments of benefits upon the death of its members, either within a term of years or at any time, and may provide for:

(a) Benefits payable upon its members reaching seventy years of age.
(b) The payment of benefits in case of total and permanent disability.
(c) The payment of benefits in the event of temporary disability.
(d) Monuments or tombstones to the memory of its deceased members.
(e) The payment of funeral benefits.

11117. Any fraternal benefit society may enter into life or disability insurance contracts in such other forms and granting such benefits as its laws authorize if it provides for the accumulation and maintenance of assets to be required for the payment of such benefits. For this purpose such benefits shall be valued upon an interest basis not exceeding four per cent per annum and with mortality standards adopted by it within the limitations of this code relating to fraternal benefit societies, or, at the option of the society, the limitations of this 11118. Every policy issued by any fraternal benefit society shall specify the amount of benefit provided by it, and shall provide that the following documents constitute the agreement between the society and the member:

(a) The policy.

(b)The corporation's charter or the association's articles of association, as the case may be.

(c) The constitution and laws of the society.

(d) The application for membership and medical examination, signed by the applicant.

(e) All amendments to each such document.

11119. Copies of the documents specified in section 11118, certified by the secretary of the society, or corresponding officer, shall be admissible in evidence without further proof of execution and shall be evidence of the terms and conditions of the documents.

11120. Any changes, additions or amendments to the charter, articles, constitution or laws of the society, duly made subsequent to the issuance of the policy, shall bind the member and his beneficiaries and shall govern and control the contract of insurance in all respects as though such changes, additions or amendments had been made prior to and were in force at the time of the application for membership.

11121. The constitution and laws of the society may provide that no subordinate body, nor any of its subordinate officers or members shall have the power or authority to waive any of the provisions of the laws and constitution of the society. Such provision shall be binding on the society and every member and beneficiary of a member.

11122. Officers and members of the supreme, grand or any subordinate body of any incorporated fraternal benefit society shall not be individually liable for the payment of any disability or death benefit provided for in the laws and contracts of such society. Such benefits are payable only out of the funds of such society and in the manner provided by its laws.

11123. Money or other aid paid or rendered by any such society, shall not be liable, either before or after payment, to attachment, or to be applied by any legal or equitable process or operation of law to pay any liability of a member or any person having a right thereto.

Article 8. Insurance of Juveniles.

11140. Any admitted fraternal benefit society may, in addition to other benefits provided for in its laws, provide for the payment of death and annuity benefits upon the lives of children under eighteen years of age. Such insurance shall be based upon the application of such adult person as the laws of such society prescribe and upon whom the child is dependent for support and maintenance. Policies issued under this article for such purpose are known as juvenile policies.

11141. Any such society may organize and operate branches for such children. Membership in local lodges shall not be required of such children, nor shall they have any voice in the management of the society.

11142. A society shall not issue its first juvenile policy under this article unless it simultaneously puts in force at least five hundred such juvenile policies, on each of which at least one assessment is paid.

11143. In the case of such insured children, the death benefits shall in no case exceed the following amounts at the following ages:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Years of age at birthday following death</th>
<th>Maximum benefits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>One</td>
<td>$100.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Two</td>
<td>200.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Three</td>
<td>400.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Four</td>
<td>600.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Five</td>
<td>800.00</td>
</tr> </tbody>
</table>

unless otherwise authorized by law:

Six to eighteen ------------ 1,000.00

11144. A juvenile policy shall not take effect as to any child until after such examination or inspection as the laws of the society require.

11145. The death benefit contributions to be made upon such juvenile policy shall be based upon one of the following tables, with rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum:

(a) The "Standard Industrial Mortality Table."
(b) The "English Life Table Number Six."
(c) A table based upon the juvenile experience of the society, covering at least ten years of such experience and not less than one hundred thousand lives.
(d) A table having mortality rates higher than any specified in this section.

11146. Any society issuing juvenile policies shall maintain reserves on all such policies the reserve required by the standard of mortality and interest adopted by the society for computing contributions.

11147. Contributions on juvenile policies may be waived or returns may be made from any surplus held in excess of required reserve and other liabilities, as provided in the laws of the society. Extra contributions shall be made if the required reserves become impaired.

11148. The funds representing the benefit contributions, together with all accretions thereon, shall be kept as separate and distinct funds of the society. Until the child becomes a member of the society, such funds shall not be liable, nor used, for the payment of debts and obligations of the society other than the benefits herein authorized under this article.
11149. A society may provide for admission into beneficial membership of a child insured pursuant to this article. Upon becoming eligible for benefit membership such child may be admitted into such society upon compliance with such requirements as are provided by the laws of the society. Upon such admission any reserve upon his juvenile policy shall be transferred to the benefit or reserve fund of the society.

11150. If the child is not admitted to benefit membership, the juvenile policy shall terminate upon the child’s reaching age of eighteen, or any younger age fixed by the laws of the society as the maximum age at death for the payment of benefits under this article.

11151. Upon such admission of a child into beneficial membership, he may nominate an eligible beneficiary. Such nomination shall not be affected by the existence of any person having claims under the juvenile policy prior to such admission. All such claims cease upon such admission.

11152. In the annual report to the commissioner by any society availing itself of the provisions of this article, there shall be a separate statement of business transactions, assets and liabilities arising from transactions under such provisions.

11153. The separation of assets, funds and liabilities required by this article shall not be terminated, rescinded or modified and the funds shall not be diverted other than as specified in section 11149, as long as any juvenile policies issued under this article remain in force. This requirement shall be enforced in any liquidation, reinsurance, merger or other change in the condition or the status of the society.

11154. Any society may provide in its laws, and in the juvenile policies, for payment on account of the expense or general fund. The laws of the society may provide for or prohibit the mingling of such payments with the general fund of the society.

11155. Pursuant to this article, a society may provide, in respect to juvenile policies:

(a) For means of enforcing payment of contribution.
(b) For designation of beneficiaries and changing such designations.
(c) In all other respects for the regulation, government and control of juvenile policies and all rights, obligations and liabilities incident thereto and connected therewith.

Article 9. Reports and Statements.

11170. Every society transacting business under this chapter shall file with the commissioner a duly certified copy of all amendments of, or additions to, its constitution and laws, within ninety days after the enactment of the same.

11171. Printed copies of the constitution and laws as amended, changed or added to, certified by the secretary or corresponding officer of the society are prima facie evidence of the legal adoption thereof.
11172. Every admitted society shall annually, on or before the first day of March, file with the commissioner a statement in such form as he requires, under oath of its president and secretary or corresponding officers.

11173. Such a statement must show the condition and standing of the society on December thirty-first next preceding, and its transactions for the year ending on that date. The society also shall furnish such other information as the commissioner deems necessary to a proper exhibit of its business and plan of working.

11174. Each such society shall pay a fee of twenty dollars to the commissioner for, and at the time of filing such annual statement.

11175. The commissioner may at other times require any further statement he deems necessary, relating to such society.

Article 10. Examination.

11190. The commissioner may inspect and examine the affairs of any domestic society. He shall have free access to all the books, papers and documents that relate to the business of the society, and may summon, qualify as witnesses under oath and examine any persons in relation to the affairs, transactions and condition of the society.

11191. The expense of such examination shall be paid by the society examined, upon receipt of statement furnished by the commissioner. The examination shall be made at least once in three years.

11192. The commissioner may examine any foreign society which is admitted or applying for admission. He shall have free access to all the books, papers and documents that relate to the business of the society. He may summon, qualify as witnesses under oath and examine any persons in relation to the affairs, transactions and condition of the society.

11193. In lieu of his own examination he may, in his discretion, accept the examination of the insurance authority of the jurisdiction where such society is organized.

11194. The actual expenses of examiners making any such examination shall be paid by the society upon receipt of statement furnished by the commissioner.

11195. If any such society or its officers refuse to submit to such examination or to comply with the provisions of this article relative thereto, its certificate of authority shall be suspended or issuance or renewal refused until satisfactory evidence is furnished to the commissioner relating to the condition and affairs of the society. During such suspension the society shall not write further insurance in this State.

11196. The commissioner shall neither make public nor permit to become public any financial statement, report or finding affecting the status, standing or rights of any such society until a copy is served upon such society, at its home office and such society is afforded a reasonable opportunity to make such showing in connection therewith as it desires.
11197. The provisions of sections 1018 to 1053 do not apply to fraternal benefit societies.

11210. In addition to its annual report, each society shall annually report to the commissioner a valuation of its policies in force on the last preceding December 31st. In cases where the contributions for the first year are used in whole or in part for current mortality and expenses, there shall be omitted from valuation those policies which were issued during the year preceding the valuation date.

11211. Each such valuation report shall set forth clearly and fully the mortality and interest basis and the method of valuation.

11212. Such valuation report shall be either on a standard reserve basis set forth in this section or on the accumulation basis described in Article 14 of this chapter. If on a standard reserve basis, such report of valuation shall show the value of policies either in the manner set forth in subdivision (a) or in the manner set forth in subdivision (b), following:

(a) It may show as contingent liabilities, the present mid-year value of the benefits provided for under policies then subject to valuation. In such case it shall show as contingent assets, the present mid-year value of the future net contributions provided for under such policy as the same are in practice actually collected.

(b) It may show the net value of the policies subject to the valuation computed on the basis of net premiums under the experience table and rate of interest in use by the society. Such net value, when computed in the case of monthly contributions, may be the mean of the terminal values for the end of the preceding and of the current insurance years.

11213. Such valuation shall be certified by a competent accountant or actuary or, at the request and expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the insurance authority of the home state of the society. It shall be filed with the commissioner within ninety days after the submission to him of the annual report.

11214. A report of such valuation and an explanation of the facts concerning the condition of the society thereby disclosed shall be printed and mailed to each beneficiary member of the society not later than June 1st of each year. If not printed separately, but published in the society’s official paper, the issue containing the report shall be mailed to each beneficiary member of the society.

11230. A society providing for disability benefits shall keep the net contributions for such benefits separate from all other funds unless a combined contribution table is used by a society for both death and permanent total disability benefits. If such combined table is used, the valuation shall be according to tables of reliable experience.

Article 13. Valuation of Life Policies and Maintenance of Reserves on Standard Reserve Basis.

11240. Except in the valuation of disability benefits, the legal standard of valuation for all policies on standard reserve basis shall be one of the following, with rate of interest not greater than four per cent per annum:

(a) The national fraternal congress table of mortality as adopted by the national fraternal congress August 23, 1899.

(b) Any table having a higher mortality rate than that specified in subdivision (a).

(c) A table based upon the society's own experience of at least twenty years and covering not less than one hundred thousand lives.

11241. The laws of a society on the standard reserve basis shall provide that if the stated periodical contributions of the members are insufficient to pay all matured death and disability claims in full and to provide for the creation and maintenance of the funds required by its laws, additional increased or extra rates of contribution shall be collected from the members to meet such deficiency.

11242. Such laws may provide that, upon the written application or consent of the member, his policy may be charged with its proportion of any deficiency disclosed by valuation, with interest thereon not exceeding five per cent per annum.

11243. In the case of the valuation of the policies of a society on the standard reserve basis, the valuation at the close of every third year following December 31, 1917, shall be taken as the triennial valuation under this article. Whenever the triennial valuation shows that the sum of the present value of future net contributions together with the admitted assets is less than the present value of the promised benefits and accrued liabilities, such society shall thereafter maintain a financial condition with no greater deficiency at each succeeding triennial valuation than was shown in the valuation as of December 31, 1917, or, if the society did not transact business in this State until after December 31, 1917, than was shown at the first triennial valuation during which it does such business. The provisions of section 11244 shall apply when such standard is not maintained.

11244. At any triennial valuation succeeding that one at which the deficiency in reserves was shown, if such society shows a greater deficiency, the commissioner shall direct that it lessen the deficiency to the amount specified in section 11243. If the next succeeding triennial valuation after the receipt of such notice shows that the society has failed to lower its deficiency as directed, the commissioner may, in the absence of good cause shown for such failure, institute proceedings for the dissolution of such society or revocation of its certificate of authority, as specified in Article 5 of this chapter.

11245. Whenever such a society is shown by such triennial valuation to have allowed such an increase of deficiency, unless within two years thereafter it makes such improvement as to eliminate such increase, such society shall be governed as to stated rates of new members' contributions by the provisions of section 11115. In such case the net mortuary or beneficiary contributions and funds of new members shall be kept separate and apart from the other funds of the society.

11246. If such required improvement is not shown by the succeeding triennial valuation, then the new members may be required to be placed in a separate class and their policies valued as an independent society in respect of contributions and funds.

11247. Policies are on the tabular basis when they are issued, rated or readjusted, on a standard reserve basis. The tabular reserve is the reserve required by such standard.

11248. A policy shall be valued on the tabular basis unless on the first such valuation a deficiency in assets covering its reserve is shown for such policy. If such deficiency is shown, the policy shall be valued on the accumulation basis set forth in Article 14 of this chapter.

11249. Any member may transfer to any plan adopted by the society having net rates on which tabular reserves are maintained. On such transfer he shall be entitled to make such application of the existing credit on his policy under another plan as the laws of the society provide.

11260. In lieu of the standard reserve basis, any society accepting in its laws the provisions of this article may value its policies on the accumulation basis. Any policy having a deficiency in its reserve as specified in section 11247 shall also be valued on the accumulation basis.

11261. Valuation on the accumulation basis shall be made by crediting each member with the net amount contributed for each year with interest at approximately the net rate earned and by charging him with his share of the cost of insurance for the year. Any balance shall be carried to his credit on his policy.

11262. The charge for the cost of insurance shall be in accordance with the table of mortality, modified by taking a proportion thereof according to the ratio which the total losses of the society for the year bear to the total probable losses computed on the table. The table of mortality used for such computation shall be one authorized by this chapter. The charge shall be based on the amount at risk during each year. Such amount is the amount payable at death less the credit to the member.
11263. Except as specifically provided in the society's articles, laws, or contracts, a charge shall not be carried forward from the first valuation under this article against any member for any past share of losses exceeding the contributions and credit.

11264. If, after the first valuation on the accumulation basis, any member's share of losses for any year exceeds his credit, including the contribution for the year, the contribution shall be increased to cover his share of the losses. If the credit at the time any benefit becomes payable during the lifetime of the member, including any available funds, does not equal such benefit, the amount of deficiency shall be added to the contributions to be made by the member or on his behalf or shall be paid out of a fund or contributions especially created or required for such purpose.

Article 15. Surpluses and Deficiencies.

11280. In any society having members upon the tabular basis and upon the accumulation basis, whenever the total of the charges for costs of insurance under the accumulation basis for any year is insufficient to meet the actual death and disability losses for the year, the deficiency shall be met for the year from one of the following sources:

(a) The available funds after setting aside assets equal to the total of all accumulation basis credits and standard reserves.

(b) Increased contributions.

(c) An increase in the number of assessments, applied to the society as a whole or to such classes of members as are specified in its laws.

Savings from an amount of death losses lower than provided for may be returned in such manner as is specified in the laws of the society.

11281. When the society does not maintain reserves on the tabular basis, it shall with each annual report file a table showing the rates being paid by and the credits to individual members at each age and year of entry. Such table shall also show, opposite each credit, either the tabular rates and the tabular reserve required for the character and amount of the member's insurance or the required reserve for such insurance on the rate actually paid by the member, taken as a level net rate according to assumptions for mortality and interest recognized by the laws of this State and adopted by the society. There shall be included, in either case, any benefit payable at a specified age or on account of old age disability. A society reporting under this section shall also furnish the matter required by section 11233 to each member before every July first.

11282. If the laws of a society so provide, the assets representing the reserves of any separate class of members may be carried separately for such class as if for an independent society, and the required reserve accumulation of such class so set apart shall not thereafter be mingled with other assets of the society.

11283. A society reporting under section 11281 shall furnish to each member either a copy of the table required by section 11281 or a statement giving the data in the table for the particular member. For this purpose, individual bookkeeping accounts for each member shall not be required and all calculations may be made by actuarial methods.

11284. A society may maintain such surplus, over and above the credits on the accumulation basis and the reserves on the standard basis, as it provides by or pursuant to its laws.

11285. An individual member has no right or claim to any reserve or credit other than as provided in the contract and the laws of the society.

11300. The annual valuation report shall not be a test of the financial solvency of the society. Each society is legally solvent so long as the funds in its possession are equal to or in excess of its matured liabilities.

11301. The funds from which benefits are paid and the funds from which the expenses of the society are defrayed shall be derived from periodical or other payments by the members of the society and accretions of proceeds of such payments.

11302. All domestic societies hereafter incorporated and foreign societies hereafter admitted shall have assets equal to the credits and reserves under their policies. Such assets shall not be disbursed except in fulfillment of the terms of the policies for the protection of which the assets are maintained.

11303. Payments due from the society but deferred as to date and instalments owing but not yet due on claims against the society shall be deemed to become fixed liabilities on the happening of the event which terminates the contingency as to such payment. Such liability shall be the present value of such future payments or installments upon the rate of interest and mortality assumed by the society for valuation. The society shall maintain a fund sufficient to meet such liability, in addition to any proposed future collections.

11304. When a society, or a class or section thereof, has assets equal to the reserves and credits on its policies, it may collect periodical or other contributions from the members of the society, class or section which, with interest accretions, will be sufficient to accomplish all the following:

(a) Pay the claims arising from its policies.
(b) Pay for the expense of management of the society.
(c) Maintain a fund sufficient to meet its accrued liabilities.
(d) Maintain assets equal to the reserves and credits.

Societies not operating pursuant to this section shall comply with section 11305.
11305. Unless it operates under section 11304 a society, or class or section thereof, shall collect from its members both stated contributions expressly segregated for the mortuary or disability funds and stated contributions expressly segregated for the expense or management funds. Both of such contributions may be included in the member's periodical payment to the society. The society shall not use the money in the mortuary or disability funds nor the interest accretions thereon for expense purposes.

Article 17. Property Not Connected With Insurance.

11320. Any society may maintain and use an emergency, surplus or other similar fund, consistent with the purposes for which such society is organized. Such funds may include hospital and help, sanatoria, home, thrift, pension for its employees, patriotic, educational and relief funds, in accordance with its laws.

11321. Any such society may own real estate and buildings within or without the State of its incorporation, for any purposes for which it may use funds. It may receive gifts and bequests for such purposes and may be named in policies as beneficiary in trust for such purposes.

11322. Unless otherwise provided in the contracts of the members, such funds shall be held, invested, and disbursed for the use and benefit of the society, and no member or beneficiary shall have or acquire individual rights therein or become entitled to any apportionment thereof.

Article 18. Investments of Funds.

11340. Every domestic society shall invest its funds only in securities permitted by the laws of this State for the investment of the assets of life insurers issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis. Such securities shall be valued according to the methods used in valuing similar securities held by such insurers.

11341. An admitted foreign society shall invest its funds either under the same restrictions as domestic societies or in accordance with the laws of the State in which it is incorporated.

11342. Any admitted foreign society may deposit securities in accordance with the laws of any State.

Article 19. Mergers and Reinsurance of Societies.

11360. A domestic fraternal benefit society shall neither consolidate or merge nor reinsurance any of its risks with any other fraternal benefit society, nor assume, nor reimburse any of the risks of any other fraternal benefit society, except as provided in this article.

11361. A fraternal benefit society or subordinate body thereof shall not merge or consolidate with or be reinsured by any insurer other than an admitted benefit society.
11362. When any fraternal benefit society proposes to consolidate or merge its business, to enter into any contract of reinsurance, or to assume or reinsure the whole or any portion of the risks of any other fraternal benefit society, one of the parties to the transaction being a domestic society, the proposed contract shall be in writing. Such contract shall set forth the terms and conditions of such proposed consolidation, merger or reinsurance and shall be submitted, after due notice, to the legislative or governing bodies of each society.

11363. If approved by such bodies, the approved contract shall be submitted to the commissioner for his approval. The parties to the contract shall at the same time submit a sworn statement showing the financial condition of each of the parties on the thirty-first of December preceding the date of the contract or, at the discretion of the commissioner, showing such condition on the last day of the month preceding the date of the contract.

11364. The commissioner shall thereupon consider the contract and shall approve the contract as submitted if he is satisfied that under it the interests of the policyholders of the parties are properly protected, that such contract is just and equitable to the members of each of the parties, and that there exists no reasonable objection to it.

11365. In case the parties to such contract are incorporated in different States such contract shall be submitted as provided in this article to the insurance authority of each of such States to be considered and approved separately by each such authority.

11366. When the contract of consolidation, merger or reinsurance is approved, the approving insurance authority shall issue a certificate to that effect. When all such certificates required by this article are issued, the contract shall take effect.

11367. In case such contract is not approved, the fact of its submission and its contents shall not be disclosed by the commissioner.

11368. All necessary and actual expenses and compensation incident to the consolidation, merger or reinsurance proceedings shall be paid only as provided by the contract.

11369. An itemized statement of all such expenses shall be filed in the same manner as the contract with the same insurance authorities, subject to their approval. When approved by all the authorities whose approval of the contract is required, the statement shall bind the parties to the contract.

11370. Brokerage or commission shall not be included as expense or compensation in any such statement or contract. Compensation shall not be paid to any officer or employee of either of the parties to such contract for directly or indirectly aiding in effecting such contract, and shall not be included in any such statement. Except as fully expressed in such contract or itemized statement of expenses approved by the proper authorities, compensation for negotiating, aiding or promoting such a consolidation, merger or reinsurance shall not be paid to any person.

11371. Any person violating any provision of this article is guilty of a felony and punishable by a fine not exceeding $5,000, or imprisonment in the State prison not exceeding five years, or both.

Article 20. Penalties.

11390. It is a felony for any officer, director, agent or employee of any fraternal benefit society to, directly or indirectly, for himself or as partner or agent of others:
   (a) Borrow any of the funds of such society.
   (b) Become indorser or surety for loans by the society to others.
   (c) In any manner be obligor for moneys borrowed or loaned by such society.

11391. It is a felony for any officer, trustee, agent or employee of a fraternal benefit society to ask, receive, or consent or agree to receive anything of value for procuring or endeavoring to procure a loan to any person from the trust funds of, or funds belonging to, a fraternal benefit society.

11392. Any person who solicits membership for, or in any manner assists in procuring membership in, any nonadmitted fraternal benefit society is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine not less than fifty dollars nor more than $200.

11393. Any person who knowingly or wilfully makes any false or fraudulent statement or representation in or with reference to any application for membership, or for the purpose of obtaining money or benefit from any fraternal benefit society is guilty of a misdemeanor and punishable by fine not less than $100 nor exceeding $500, or imprisonment in the county jail not less than thirty days nor exceeding one year, or both.

11394. Any person who willfully makes any false statement in any verified report or declaration under oath required or authorized by this chapter is guilty of perjury and punishable as provided by law.

Chapter 10A—Firemen’s, Policemen’s, or Peace Officers’ Benefit and Relief Associations.

(Chapter 10A added by Ch. 161, Stats. 1935.)

11400. Firemen’s, policemen’s or peace officers’ benefit and relief associations now existing, or which may be formed hereafter for the purpose of aiding their members or dependents of their members in case of sickness, accident, distress, or death, shall be subject to the provisions of this chapter. While such an association operates strictly in accordance with this chapter, it shall not be subject to any other provision of this code nor to any law of this State relating to insurance, whether now existing or hereafter enacted, except when expressly designated therein.

11401. Such an association shall not operate or do business in this State without a certificate of authority. The commissioner shall issue a certificate of authority to any such association unless he determines, after examination, the cost of which shall be borne by such association, that it does not comply with the provisions of this chapter.

11402. Such association may be incorporated or unincorporated, but if incorporated it shall neither issue nor be authorized to issue shares of stock.

11403. The membership of such association shall consist solely of the following or any combination thereof:
   (a) Members of police departments of municipal or public corporations or districts.
   (b) Members of fire departments of municipal or public corporations or districts.
   (c) Peace or law enforcement officers who are regular and salaried officers or employees of the State or of a single county or other political subdivision or public or municipal corporation.
   (d) Persons who at the time of becoming members of such association were qualified pursuant to subdivisions (a), (b) or (c) of this section.

11404. Such association shall not pay, promise or agree to pay, either directly or indirectly, any consideration of any nature for the solicitation or procuring of members or applications for membership.

11405. The trustees, directors or governing body of such association, by whatever name their office is known or designated, shall be elected by the membership of the association.

11406. Moneys or property directly or indirectly contributed to such association by its members shall not be paid out as benefits to any persons other than its members, their dependents, or beneficiaries nominated in writing by them.

11407. Such association shall be supported mainly by contributions from its members, whether in the form of fees, dues, assessments, or otherwise, and by donations made to it from time to time.

(Chapter 10A added by Ch. 161, Stats. 1935.)

CHAPTER 11. CHANGE BY ASSESSMENT PLAN INSURER TO RESERVE PLAN.

11420. Any domestic insurer providing life insurance upon the assessment plan may transform itself into an incorporated life insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis with such name as its directors or trustees determine. If incorporated, such insurer may make the transformation by amendment of its articles and by-laws, either by a majority vote of its directors or trustees or in any other lawful manner. If unincorporated it may make the transformation by incorporating.

11421. After completing such transformation and procuring from the commissioner a certificate of authority to transact business in this State as an incorporated insurer issuing policies on a reserve basis, it may incur the obligations and enjoy the benefits of such insurer.

11422. The transformed insurer is a continuation of the original insurer. Its officers elected before or during the transformation serve through their respective terms as provided in the articles and by-laws under which they were elected. Their successors shall be elected and serve as the law and its articles and by-laws provide after the transformation. Such transformation shall not affect existing suits, rights or contracts.

Article 2. Capital Adjustments.

11440. Any insurer so reorganized shall have assets representing a paid-in capital represented by shares of stock apart from any assets described in section 11441. At least $200,000 of such capital shall be paid up before such insurer issues any policies on the reserve plan.

11441. All assets belonging before transformation to any such insurer or arising or accruing from policies issued upon the assessment plan, shall be used only for the benefit of the holders of such policies. Such assets shall not be used or considered as any part of the paid in capital provided for by section 11440.

11442. If, at or after the time of the transformation, it appears, either from the last preceding annual report by such insurer to the commissioner, or from an investigation made by the commissioner, that the present value of the contributions to be received from the holders of policies on the assessment plan, together with all assets owned by the insurer that have been accumulated from assessments paid by members on that plan, are not equal to the present value of the benefits, including all matured liabilities, to be derived by members under the assessment plan, the insurer shall set aside and maintain a fund for the purpose set forth in section 11443. Such fund together with the present value of contributions and assets, shall equal the present value of such benefits.

11443. The fund required by section 11442, shall be used for the payment of matured liabilities arising under the assessment plan when other assets applicable thereto are exhausted. It may be derived from the excess over $200,000 of the paid in capital of the insurer. It need be maintained only during the existence of conditions set forth in section 11442.

Article 3. Transfer of Insurance.

11460. Members of the insurer who are in good standing prior to the transformation may thereafter transfer their insurance, without change of amount and without medical examination, from the assessment plan to the nonassessable reserve basis at the reserve rates. The interest and the assets of the insurer credited to the person so transferring shall become a part of the assets of the insurer on the reserve basis.

11470. The insurer, after such transformation, shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties conferred or imposed by law upon insurers writing the classes of insurance written by it.

11471. Such insurer shall exercise all the rights and powers and perform all the duties necessary to protect rights and contracts existing prior to reorganization.

11472. The commissioner shall exercise the powers and discharge the duties, concerning any such insurer, that are applicable to domestic insurers issuing policies of the same class. He shall issue a certificate of authority to transact the proper classes of insurance in this State to any such insurer which is solvent as to its reserve basis policies under Article 13, Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1, and has fully complied with the laws of this State.

Article 5. Valuation of Policies.

11490. Any life insurer which has transformed its business pursuant to this chapter, shall value its assessment policies according to the standard of valuation which would be used in the absence of the transformation, and shall value its nonassessable reserve basis policies according to the standard of valuation set forth in Article 3, Chapter 5, Part 2, Division 2. The various kinds of insurance written shall be governed by the provisions of this code applicable thereto.

Chapter 12. Grants and Annuities Societies.

11520. The following organizations and persons may receive transfers of property, conditioned upon their agreement to pay an annuity to the transferor or his nominee:

(a) Any charitable, religious, benevolent or educational organization, pecuniary profit not being its object or purpose, after being in active operation for at least ten years.

(b) Every organization or person maintaining homes for the aged for pecuniary profit, after obtaining from the commissioner a certificate of authority so to do.

11521. Upon granting to such organization or person a certificate of authority to receive such transfers, the commissioner shall require it to establish and maintain a reserve fund in accordance with the standard of valuation based upon McClintock’s table of mortality among annuitants, with interest assumption at three and one-half per cent per annum. For any failure on its part to establish and maintain such reserve fund, the commissioner shall revoke its certificate of authority. This table shall also be the standard of valuation of future benefits, set forth in section 11523.

11522. Every organization or person holding a certificate of authority to receive transfers under this chapter, shall file with the commissioner a copy of each agreement entered into between such permit or certificate holder and the transferor.

11523. Such annuity agreement must show:
   (a) The value of the property transferred.
   (b) The amount of annuity agreed to be paid to the transferor or his nominee.
   (c) The manner in which, and the intervals at which, such annuity is to be paid.
   (d) The reasonably commensurate value, as of the date of such agreement, of the benefits thereby created. This value shall not exceed by more than fifteen per cent the net single premium for such benefits, determined in accordance with the standard of valuation set forth in section 11521.

11524. Except as prescribed in this chapter, such organization or person shall be otherwise exempt from the provisions of this code and other insurance laws of this State.

CHAPTER 13. VOLUNTARY MUTUALIZATION OF INCORPORATED LIFE AND LIFE AND DISABILITY INSURERS HAVING A CAPITAL STOCK AND ISSUING NONASSESSABLE POLICIES ON A RESERVE BASIS.

(Chapter 13 added by Ch. 530, Stats. 1935.)

Article 1. Authority and Requirements to Mutualize.

11525. A solvent domestic incorporated insurer having a paid-in capital represented by outstanding shares of capital stock and issuing, on a reserve basis, nonassessable policies of life insurance or of both life and disability insurance, may convert itself into an incorporated mutual life insurer, or life and disability insurer, issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis. To that end it may provide and carry out a plan for the acquisition of the outstanding shares of its capital stock for the benefit of its policyholders by complying with the requirements of this chapter.

11526. Such plan shall include appropriate proceedings for amending the insurer’s articles of incorporation to give effect to the acquisition, by said insurer, of the outstanding shares of its capital stock and the conversion of the insurer from a stock corporation into a nonstock corporation for the profit of its members. All such members shall be policyholders of said insurer. Such plan shall be:
   (a) Adopted by a vote of a majority of the directors.
   (b) Approved by the vote of the holders of at least a majority of the outstanding shares at a special meeting of shareholders called for that purpose.
   (c) Submitted to the commissioner and approved by him in writing.
(d) Approved by a majority vote of all the policyholders voting at an election by the policyholders called for that purpose, subject to the provisions of section 11528. For the purpose of this chapter such policyholders include the employer to whom, or a president, secretary or other executive officer of any corporation or association to which a master group policy has been issued, but exclude the holders of certificates or policies issued under or in connection with a master group policy.

(e) Filed in the office of the Secretary of State after having been approved as provided in subdivisions (b), (c) and (d) of this section.

11527. The commissioner shall examine the plan submitted to him under the provisions of subdivision (c) of section 11526. He shall not approve such plan unless in his opinion the rights and interests of the insurer, its policyholders and shareholders are preserved, nor unless he is satisfied that the plan will be fair and equitable in its operation.

11528. At the election prescribed by subdivision (d) of section 11526, every policyholder whose insurance shall have been in force for at least one year prior to such election shall have one vote, regardless of the number of policies or amount of insurance he holds, and regardless of whether such policies are policies of life insurance or policies of disability insurance. Notice of such election shall be given to such policyholders by mail from the principal office of such insurer at least thirty days prior to the date set for such election, in a sealed envelope, postage prepaid, addressed to each such policyholder at his last known address.

Voting shall be by one of the following methods:

(a) At a meeting of such policyholders, held pursuant to such notice, by ballot in person or by proxy.

(b) If not by the method described in subdivision (a) of this section, then by mail pursuant to a procedure and on forms to be prescribed by such plan.

Such election shall be conducted under the direction and supervision of three impartial and disinterested inspectors appointed by the insurer and approved by the commissioner. In case any person appointed as inspector fails to appear at such meeting or fails or refuses to act at such election, the vacancy, if occurring in advance of the convening of the meeting or in advance of the opening of the mail vote, may be filled in the manner prescribed for the appointment of inspectors and, if occurring at the meeting or during the canvass of the mail vote, may be filled by the person acting as chairman of said meeting or designated for that purpose in such plan. The decision, act or certificate of a majority of the inspectors shall be effective in all respects as the decision, act or certificate of all. The inspectors of election shall determine the number of policyholders, the voting power of each, the policyholders represented at the meeting or voting by mail, the existence of a quorum and the authenticity, validity and effect of proxies. They shall receive votes, hear and determine all challenges and questions in any way arising in connection with the right to vote, count and tabulate all votes, determine the result, and do such other acts as are proper to conduct the vote with fairness to all policyholders. The inspectors of election shall, before commencing performance of their duties, subscribe to and file with the insurer and with the commissioner an oath that they, and each of them, will perform their duties impartially, in good faith, to the best of their ability, and as expeditiously as is practicable. On the request of the insurer, the commissioner, a policyholder or his proxy, the inspectors shall make a report in writing of any challenge or question or matter determined by them and execute a certificate of any fact found by them. They shall also certify the result of such vote to the insurer and to the commissioner. Any report or certificate made by them shall be prima facie evidence of facts stated therein. All necessary expenses incurred in connection with such election shall be paid by the insurer. For the purpose of this section, a quorum shall consist of five per centum of the policyholders of such insurer entitled to vote at such election.

Article 2. Execution of Plan

11529. In carrying out any such plan, the insurer may acquire any shares of its own stock by gift, bequest or purchase. Any shares so acquired shall be acquired in trust for the policyholders of the insurer as hereinafter provided. Such shares shall be assigned and transferred on the books of such insurer to three trustees appointed by the insurer and approved by the commissioner. Such trustees shall hold in trust and vote such stock at all corporate meetings at which stockholders have the right to vote, until all of the outstanding shares of capital stock of such insurer have been acquired. Thereupon all said shares shall be canceled, the certificate of amendment of the insurer’s articles of incorporation giving effect thereto shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of section 362b of the Civil Code, and the insurer shall become a nonstock corporation for the profit of its members. Thereafter such corporation shall be conducted for the mutual benefit, ratably, of its policyholders and shall, upon issuance to it by the commissioner of a certificate of authority, have power to issue nonassessable policies on a reserve basis subject to all provisions of law applicable to incorporated life insurers or life and disability insurers, as the case may be, issuing nonassessable policies on a reserve basis, but shall be exempt from the provisions of Chapter 7 of Part 2 of Division 2 of this code.

11530. Every payment for the acquisition of any shares of the capital stock of such insurer, the purchase price of which is not fixed by such plan, shall be subject to the prior approval of the commissioner. Neither such plan, nor any such payment, may be approved by the commissioner unless he finds that the rights and interests of the insurer, its policyholders and shareholders are preserved, nor unless at the time of each such approval, the paid-in capital of the insurer, after deducting the amount described in subdivisions (a) or (b) of this section, as is proper thereunder, is sufficient at least to qualify such insurer to be admitted as to the classes of insurance transacted by it in this State. The amounts to be deducted as provided in this section are as follows:

(a) The aggregate sum fixed by such plan for the acquisition of any part or all of its shares of capital stock.

(b) In case of any payment not fixed by such plan and subject to separate approval after the approval of such plan, the amount of such payment.

11531. The trustees referred to in section 11529 shall file with such insurer and with the commissioner a verified acceptance of their appointments and verified declarations that they will faithfully discharge their duties as such trustees. All dividends and other sums received by said trustees on the shares held by them, after paying the necessary expenses of executing their trust, shall be immediately repaid to such insurer for the benefit of all who are, or may become, policyholders of such insurer and entitled to participate in the profits thereof and shall be added to and become a part of the assets of such insurer.

11533. The provisions of Article 8 of Chapter 1 of Part 2 of Division 1 of this code shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) Shares of the capital stock of such insurer acquired as provided in section 11529 and assigned and transferred to the trustees as is provided in said section, and the assignment and transfer of said shares as so provided.

(b) Any certificate or other instrument issued to a policyholder of such mutualized insurer conferring or evidencing membership in such mutualized insurer or conferring or evidencing such member's right to participate in the profits or share in the assets of such mutualized insurer by virtue of his membership therein, and the issuance of such certificate or other instrument.

(c) The plan for the acquisition of the outstanding shares of the capital stock of such insurer authorized by the provisions of this chapter, the submission of said plan to the commissioner and to the policyholders of such insurer as provided in this chapter, and the approval and carrying out of said plan or any part thereof in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

(Chapter 13 added by Ch. 530, Stats. 1935.)

(b) Reinsurance premiums and premiums on policies canceled.

(c) Unearned premiums on policies in force.

11553. As used in this article, the terms "loss payments," and "loss expense payments," mean all payments to claimants or on account of claims. Such payments include but are not restricted to those for:

(a) All outstanding indebtedness of such insurer.

(b) A premium reserve on policies in force, equal to the unearned portions of the gross premiums charged for covering the risks and computed on each respective risk from the date of the issuance of the policy.

11556. The reserve for outstanding losses under such liability or compensation insurance, shall be the sum of the amounts set forth in sections 11558 to 11561.

11557. Whenever the liability or compensation loss reserves of any insurer, computed pursuant to this article, seem inadequate to the commissioner, he shall require such insurer to maintain additional reserves upon such basis as he prescribes.

11558. For liability suits being defended by the insurer there shall be charged as part of the reserve under section 11556 the following amounts, respectively:

(a) Suits under policies written more than ten years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, $1,500 for each suit.

11560. For all compensation claims under policies written more than three years prior to the date as of which the statement is made, there shall be charged as part of the reserve under section 11556 an amount equal to the aggregate of the present values, at four per cent interest, of the determined and the estimated future payments.

11561. For all compensation claims under policies written in the three years immediately preceding the date as of which the statement is made, there shall be charged as part of the reserve under section 11556 an amount computed by taking seventy per cent of the earned compensation premiums of each of such three years, and deducting all loss and loss expense payments made in connection with such claims under policies written in the corresponding years from such seventy per cent; except that for the furthest preceding year of any such three-year period there shall be charged not less than the present value at four per cent interest of the determined and the estimated unpaid compensation claims under policies written during such year.

11562. All unallocated liability loss expense payments made in a given calendar year subsequent to the first four years in which an insurer has been issuing liability policies, shall be distributed as follows:
(a) Thirty-five per cent shall be charged to the policies written in that year.

11580. A policy insuring against losses set forth in subdivision (a) shall not be issued or delivered to any person in this State unless it contains the provisions set forth in subdivision (b). Such policy, whether or not actually containing such provisions, shall be construed as if such provisions were embodied therein.

(a) Unless it contains such provisions, the following policies of insurance shall not be thus issued or delivered:

1. Against loss or damage resulting from liability for injury suffered by another person other than a policy of workmen's compensation insurance.

2. Against loss of or damage to property caused by draught animals or any vehicle, and for which the insured is liable.

(b) Such policy shall not be thus issued or delivered to any person in this State unless it contains all the following provisions:

1. A provision that the insolvency or bankruptcy of the insured will not release the insurer from the payment of damages for injury sustained or loss occasioned during the life of such policy.

2. A provision that whenever judgment is secured against the insured in an action brought by the injured person, or by his heirs or personal representatives in case death results from the accident, then an action may be brought against the insurer, on the policy and subject to its terms and limitations, by such judgment creditor to recover on the judgment.

11581. Upon any proceeding supplementary to execution, such judgment debtor may be required to exhibit any policy carried by him, insuring him against the liability for the loss or damage for which judgment was obtained.

Article 3. Capital Requirements of Reserve Basis Insurers.

11600. An incorporated insurer issuing policies of liability, workmen's compensation, or common carrier liability insurance, shall not transact any such insurance in this State unless it has a paid-in capital of at least $100,000.

11601. Except as restricted by its charter, such an incorporated insurer, having such a paid-in capital, may transact all three of such insurances.
11602. Any such insurer which on July 26, 1919, was authorized by its charter to transact liability insurance may transact workmen's compensation and common carrier liability insurance as though expressly permitted by its charter to do so.

11603. Except as restricted by its charter or otherwise provided by section 12054, such an incorporated insurer may transact, in addition to those three insurances, any of the following classes of insurance if its total paid in capital is at least $100,000 in excess of the sum of the amounts set forth opposite the classes of insurance transacted:

11604. A liability, workmen's compensation or common carrier liability insurer which also transacts surety insurance is governed by the provisions of section 12054 as to permitted insurances and capital requirements.

Chapter 2. Workmen's Compensation Policies.

Article 1. Definitions.

11630. As used in this chapter, the term "compensation" means the benefits insured by workmen's compensation insurance.

11631. As used in this chapter, the term "insurer" includes the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

Article 2. Policy Provisions.

11650. Every contract insuring against liability for compensation and every compensation policy is conclusively presumed to contain all of the provisions required by this article.

11651. Every such contract or policy shall contain a clause to the effect that the insurer will be directly and primarily liable to any proper claimant for payment of any compensation for which the employer is liable, subject to the provisions, conditions and limitations of the policy.

11652. Every such contract or policy shall contain a clause to the effect that, as between the employee and the insurer, notice to or knowledge of the occurrence of the injury on the part of the employer will be deemed notice or knowledge, as the case may be, on the part of the insurer.
11653. Every such contract or policy shall contain a clause to the effect that jurisdiction of the employer will, for the purpose of the law imposing liability for compensation, be jurisdiction of the insurer.

11654. Every such contract or policy shall contain a clause to the effect that the insurer will in all things be bound by and subject to the orders, findings, decisions or awards rendered against the employer under the provisions of the law imposing liability for compensation, subject to the provisions, conditions and limitations of the policy. The insurance contract shall govern as between the employer and insurer as to payments by either in discharge of the employer’s liability for compensation.

11655. Such policy shall not contain any provisions relieving the insurer from payment when the employer becomes insolvent or is discharged in bankruptcy, or otherwise, during the period that the policy is in operation or the compensation remains owing.

11656. Such policy shall also provide that the employee has a first lien upon any amount which becomes owing to the employer from the insurer on account of the policy, and that in case of the legal incapacity or inability of the employer to receive the money and pay it to the claimant, the insurer will pay it directly to the claimant. To the extent of such payment, the obligations of the employer to the claimant are thereby discharged.

11657. Subject to the provisions of sections 11658, 11659, and 11660, limited workmen’s compensation policies may be issued insuring either the whole or any part of the liability of any employer for compensation. Subject to those provisions, any such policy may restrict or limit such insurance in any manner whatsoever.

11658. A workmen’s compensation policy limited pursuant to section 11657 shall not be issued by any insurer unless it is previously approved, as to substance and form, by the commissioner. Before approving such a policy, the commissioner shall consult concerning it with the Industrial Accident Commission.

11659. Such approved form of policy, limited pursuant to section 11657, shall not be otherwise limited except by endorsement thereon in accordance with a form prescribed by the commissioner or in accordance with rules adopted by the commissioner. Before prescribing such form or adopting such rule, the commissioner shall consult concerning it with the Industrial Accident Commission.

11660. Failure to observe the requirements of sections 11658 and 11659, shall render any such policy, issued under section 11657 and not complying therewith, unlimited.

11661. An insurer shall not insure against the liability of the employer for the additional compensation recoverable for serious and wilful misconduct of the employer or his agent.
11662. Whenever any employer is insured against liability for compensation with any insurer, such insurer is subrogated to the rights of the employer to recover losses arising out of any of the following acts by the insurer:

(a) Assuming the liability of the employer for compensation in the manner provided by the law relating thereto.

(b) Payment of any compensation for which the employer is liable.

Such insurer may enforce any such subrogated rights in its own name.

CHAPTER 3. REGULATION OF BUSINESS OF WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE.

Article 1. Bond to Protect Beneficiaries.

11690. Except in the case of the State Compensation Insurance Fund or as provided by section 11715, every insurer desiring admission for workmen's compensation insurance shall, as a prerequisite to such admission, maintain on file in the office of the commissioner a bond in favor of the commissioner as trustee for the beneficiaries of awards of compensation against the insurer.

11691. Such bond shall be executed by the insurer and some admitted surety insurer approved by the commissioner.

11692. A certificate of authority to transact workmen's compensation insurance in this State shall not be issued nor renewed to any insurer until such bond is filed with the commissioner and approved by him. The commissioner shall notify the Industrial Accident Commission concerning the approval and filing of every bond given pursuant to this article.

11693. Every such insurer shall, on or prior to every July first, file in the office of the commissioner a new bond covering the succeeding twelve months, in the penal sum and conditions as required by this article.

11694. Upon the filing of each annual new bond, approved as required, all liability under the previous bond shall terminate.

11695. The new bond shall embrace the entire liability of the previous bond except as already paid or discharged.

11696. The commissioner shall require any compensation insurer at any time to file an additional bond conditioned as required by this article, whenever he finds that the amount of the bond then on file is insufficient to cover the compensation liability of the insurer, or whenever he finds the surety on the bond is insufficient.

11697. The commissioner shall, before approving any such bond, satisfy himself of the financial ability of the surety to assume the obligations imposed thereby. He shall not approve a surety if it has assumed obligations in excess of the limits prescribed by standards of suretyship recognized as reasonable and proper. The commissioner shall promulgate such standards for uniform application in such cases.

11698. Two or more surety insurers may be accepted as sureties on a bond under this article, or separate bonds may be executed with different sureties for amounts aggregating the sum specified by the commissioner. In such cases each of such sureties shall be jointly and severally liable to the extent of the amount of the liability assumed by it.

11699. The bond shall be in an amount:
(a) Not less than the insurer’s required reserve for outstanding losses on compensation insurance in this State on the preceding December thirty-first, calculated as prescribed by this code.
(b) Not less than $100,000.
(c) If such reserve exceeds $50,000, not more than double the amount of that reserve.

11700. After the first annual statement to the commissioner covering business of the insurer for a full year in this State, the bond shall be computed from the figures shown in the last preceding report of business as of December 31, filed in the office of the commissioner.

11701. Where such insurer has ceased to do such business in this State the bond shall be fixed by the commissioner at such amount as he deems sufficient for the protection of the beneficiaries of the policies of such insurer.

11702. It shall be provided in such bond that, in the event the insurer fails to pay any compensation award rendered against it by the Industrial Accident Commission, the surety will, to the extent of its liability under said bond, pay the award to the commissioner as trustee for the beneficiary within thirty days after the award becomes final.

11703. The bond shall further provide that if the insurer suspends payment or becomes insolvent or enters receivership, the surety will pay such awards, to the extent of its liability under the bond, upon the expiration of thirty days after the awards become final and without regard to any proceedings for the liquidation or reinstatement of the insurer.

11704. It shall be further provided in such bond, as an additional remedy, that if the insurer fails to pay any such award within thirty days after the award becomes final, a separate award may be rendered against the surety and in favor of the commissioner as trustee for the beneficiary of the original award against the principal. Such separate award may be rendered by the authority which rendered the original award and may be rendered without notice to the surety. It shall be in the amount of the unpaid portion of the original award against the principal.

11705. The Industrial Accident Commission is vested as to such awards against the surety, with the same power, authority and jurisdiction as it has over the insurer. It shall issue a certified copy of such award upon the application of any party affected thereby.
11706. Such party may file a certified copy of any such award in the office of any county clerk of this State. Upon the filing of such copy the clerk shall immediately enter a judgment thereon against the surety.

11707. Such certified copy of award together with such judgment shall constitute the judgment roll and shall establish the liability of the surety without any additional evidence in any and all proceedings to renew said judgment or to enforce the payment thereof.

11708. Such bond shall provide for the payment by the surety of all court costs, including reasonable attorney’s fees, of actions or proceedings taken to enforce payment, to the extent of the penal sum of the bond, of such awards or judgments against the surety.

11709. A stay of execution of any such judgment shall not be granted except upon the order of the Industrial Accident Commission.

11710. The liability of the sureties, under and to the limit and amount of the bonds required by this article, shall be the entire liability of the principals named therein for the payment of awards of compensation rendered or to be rendered against the principals under workmen’s compensation laws. Such surety’s liability shall exist without regard to the time when the injury, upon which an award is based, occurs but shall not include any other liability of the insurer. A payment made under any such bond by such a surety shall not be applied otherwise than in satisfaction of such awards.

11711. The liability of such surety is limited to the penal sum of its bond. Payment by the surety of awards aggregating the amount of its bond shall constitute a full discharge of all its liability under the bond.

11712. Any such surety shall have the right to require the principal on its bond, on thirty days notice, to furnish a new bond approved by the commissioner. In the event of a failure to do so, such principal shall forfeit its right to continue to issue compensation policies in this State.

11713. The commissioner may act as trustee for all beneficiaries under workmen’s compensation awards rendered by the Industrial Accident Commission. He may take assignments of such awards in his own name as trustee. As such trustee he may commence and maintain actions against such sureties and, upon his collection of any of the awards, he shall pay the proceeds to the parties entitled thereto.

11714. The payment of any of such award by the commissioner shall constitute a satisfaction of the award to the extent of the payment made. In the event any judgment is entered on any such award, the commissioner shall file a proportionate satisfaction thereof in the office of the clerk of the court wherein such judgment is entered.

11715. Any workmen’s compensation insurer may, in lieu of and subject to the same conditions as the bond required by section 11690, deposit with the commissioner cash or approved interest-bearing securities readily convertible into cash. Such deposit shall be made from time to time as demanded by the commissioner. He shall forthwith redeposit such cash and securities as a separate deposit with the State Treasurer. Such deposit shall be maintained at an amount equal to the required reserves, at the time of deposit or of increase or decrease of deposit, for outstanding losses on the workmen's compensation business of the insurer in this State.

11716. Such deposit shall be security for the payment of the insurer's obligations on workmen's compensation insurance transacted in this State. If the insurer maintaining such deposit suspends payment or becomes insolvent or enters receivership, all proper claims against it for workmen's compensation shall be reduced to final awards as soon as practicable, whereupon it shall be the duty of the Industrial Accident Commission to transmit to the commissioner its certificate of final awards, supported by a certified schedule listing the persons to whom such final awards are payable and the amount payable to each. Such deposit shall not be withdrawn except upon the written order of the commissioner in payment of compensation claims, but shall be forthwith payable by the State Treasurer to the commissioner upon such order.

11716. Such deposit shall be security for the payment of the insurer's obligations on workmen's compensation insurance transacted in this State. It shall not be withdrawn except upon the written order of the commissioner in payment of compensation claims, but shall be forthwith payable by the State Treasurer to the commissioner upon such order.

11717. Any such deposit, or any remainder thereof, may be repaid to the insurer either upon satisfactory showing to the commissioner that every liability to pay compensation is reinsured with a solvent insurer or fully paid and discharged, or upon filing a bond pursuant to this article.

11718. Such deposit shall be used only for the payment of compensation claims so long as there remains unpaid any such claim or any part thereof.

11719. The commissioner may revoke the certificate of authority to transact workmen's compensation insurance in this State of any insurer failing to comply with the requirements of this article.

Article 2. State Rate Supervision.

11730. The term "merit rating," as used in this article, includes "schedule rating," in which the rate is varied according to physical conditions, and also includes "experience rating," in which the experience of the particular insured is used as a factor in raising or lowering his rate.

11731. As used in this article, the term "insurer" includes the State Compensation Insurance Fund.
11732. The commissioner shall approve or issue, as adequate for all admitted workmen's compensation insurers, a classification of risks and premium rates relating to workmen's compensation insurance. He may also approve or issue a system of merit rating. Such classification and system shall be uniform as to all insurers affected.

11733. The commissioner shall not approve or issue any rating system or classification of risks and premium rates dealing with workmen's compensation insurance covering mining or mining property unless such system or classification provides for separation of risks and rates as to types of mining employments having different hazards or loss experience in accordance with the hazard or loss experience involved. Such system or classification shall provide for separation at least of rates for office, surface and subsurface employment.

11734. The commissioner may change any such classification or system previously approved or issued if he first holds a hearing to determine the effect of the proposed change upon the adequacy or inadequacy of rates. Such changes shall also be uniform as to all insurers affected.

11735. Such classification or system shall take no account of any physical impairment of employees or the extent to which employees may have persons dependent upon them for support.

11736. An insurer shall not issue, renew or carry beyond next anniversary date any workmen's compensation insurance under a law of this State at premium rates which are less than the rates approved or issued by the commissioner.

11737. If the commissioner approves or issues such a system of merit rating, insurers may apply it to any risks subject thereto, but shall show basis rates no less than the rates under the classification approved or issued by the commissioner. Any reductions from the basis rates on account of the application of such system of merit rating shall be clearly set forth in the insurance contracts or policies or indorsements attached thereto.

11738. Nothing in this article shall affect the right of any insurer to issue compensation participating policies. A refund by reason of a participating provision in a compensation policy shall not be made to policyholders by any insurer except from surplus accumulated from premiums on workmen's compensation policies issued pursuant to laws of this State governing workmen's compensation insurance.

11739. The statistical and actuarial data compiled by the Industrial Accident Commission and the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall at all times be available to the commissioner for his use in judging the adequacy or inadequacy of rates and schedules filed. The manager of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, or other officers of the fund designated for such duty by the Industrial Accident Commission, shall render all possible assistance to the commissioner in carrying out the provisions of this article.
11740. The commissioner may require every insurer issuing workmen's compensation insurance under the law of this State to file with its annual statement a sworn report of its loss experience, in such detail and form as the commissioner prescribes.

11741. The commissioner may, after hearing, suspend or revoke any insurer's certificate of authority to write liability, workmen's compensation and common carrier liability insurance for violating any of the provisions of this article.

11742. The violation of this article by any insurance broker, agent or solicitor, or by any insurer's employee is a misdemeanor.

CHAPTER 4. THE STATE COMPENSATION INSURANCE FUND.

11770. The State Compensation Insurance Fund is continued in existence, to be administered by the State Industrial Accident Commission for the purpose of transacting workmen's compensation insurance, and insurance against the expense of defending any suit for serious and wilful misconduct against an employer or his agent, and insurance to employees and other persons of the compensation fixed by the workmen's compensation laws for employees and their dependents. Any appropriation made therefrom or thereto before the effective date of this code shall continue to be available for the purposes for which it was made.

11771. The State shall not be liable beyond the assets of the State Compensation Insurance Fund for any obligations in connection therewith.

11772. There shall not be any liability in a private capacity on the part of the commission nor any member, officer or employee thereof or on account of any act performed or obligation entered into in an official capacity, when done in good faith, without intent to defraud and in connection with the administration, management or conduct of the fund or affairs relating thereto.

11773. The fund shall be a revolving fund. It shall consist of:

(a) Such specific appropriations as the Legislature from time to time makes or sets aside for the use of the fund.

(b) All premiums received and paid into the fund for insurance issued by it.

(c) All property and securities acquired by and through the use of moneys belonging to the fund.

(d) All interest earned upon moneys belonging to the fund and deposited or invested as provided in this chapter.

11774. The assets of the fund shall be applicable to the payment of losses sustained on account of insurance and to the payment of the salaries and other expenses charged against it in accordance with the provisions of this chapter.

11775. The fund shall, after a reasonable time during which it may establish a business, be fairly competitive with other insurers, and it is the intent of the Legislature that the fund shall ultimately become neither more nor less than self-supporting. For that purpose loss experience and expense shall be ascertained and dividends or credits may be made as provided in this article.

11776. The actual loss experience and expense of the fund shall be ascertained on or about the first of January in each year for the year preceding. If it is then shown that there exists an excess of assets over liabilities, necessary reserves, and a reasonable surplus for the catastrophe hazard, then a cash dividend may be declared to, or a credit allowed on the renewal premium of, each employer who has been insured with the fund.

11777. Such cash dividend or credit is to be an amount which the commission in its discretion considers to be the employer's proportion of divisible surplus.

11778. The fund may transact workmen's compensation insurance required or authorized by law of this State to the same extent as any other insurer.

11779. The fund may insure employers against their liability for compensation or damages under the United States Longshoremen's and Harbor Workers' Compensation Act, as fully as any private insurer.

11780. The fund may also insure an employer against his liability for damages under the laws of the State of California arising out of bodily injury to or death of his employees occurring within the State of California if the fund also issues workmen's compensation insurance to the employer as to his employees.

11781. The commission is hereby vested with full power, authority and jurisdiction over the State Compensation Insurance Fund. It may perform all acts necessary or convenient in the exercise of any power, authority or jurisdiction over the fund, either in the administration thereof or in connection with the insurance business to be carried on by it under the provisions of this chapter, as fully and completely as the governing body of a private insurance carrier.

11782. All business and affairs of the fund shall be conducted in the name of the State Compensation Insurance Fund, and in that name, without any other name or title, the commission may perform the acts authorized by this chapter.

11783. The commission may, on behalf of the fund and in the name of the State Compensation Insurance Fund:

(a) Sue and be sued in all actions arising out of any act or omission in connection with the fund, or in connection with its business or affairs.

(b) Enter into any contracts or obligations relating to the State Compensation Insurance Fund which are authorized or permitted by law.

(c) Invest and reinvest the moneys belonging to the fund as provided by this chapter.
(d) Conduct all business and affairs and perform all acts relating to the fund, whether or not specifically designated in this chapter.

11784. In conducting the business and affairs of the fund, the manager of the fund or other officer to whom such power and authority are delegated by the commission may:

(a) Enter into contracts of workmen’s compensation insurance.

(b) Sell annuities covering compensation benefits.

(c) Decline to insure any risk in which the minimum requirements of the commission with regard to construction, equipment and operation are not complied with, or which is beyond the safe carrying of the fund. Otherwise he shall not refuse to insure any workmen’s compensation risk under State law, tendered with the premium therefor.

(d) Reinsure any risk or any part thereof.

(e) Cause to be inspected and audited the pay rolls of employers applying to the fund for insurance.

(f) Make rules for the settlement of claims against the fund and determine to whom and through whom the payments of compensation are to be made.

(g) Contract with physicians, surgeons and hospitals for medical and surgical treatment and the care and nursing of injured persons entitled to benefits from the fund.

11785. The commission shall have power to appoint a manager of the fund to hold office at the pleasure of the commission. The manager shall manage and conduct the business and affairs of the fund under the general direction and subject to the approval of the commission, and shall perform such other duties as the commission prescribes.

11786. Before entering on the duties of his office, the manager shall qualify by giving an official bond approved by the commission, in the sum of $50,000 and by taking and subscribing to an official oath. The approval of the commission shall be by written endorsement on the bond. The bond shall be filed in the office of the Secretary of State.

11787. The commission may delegate to the manager of the fund, or to any other officer, under such rules and regulations and subject to such conditions as it from time to time prescribes, any power, function or duty conferred by law on the commission in connection with the fund or in connection with the administration, management and conduct of the business and affairs of the fund. The officer to whom such delegation is made may exercise such powers and functions and perform such duties with the same force and effect as the commission, but subject to its approval.

11788. The State Treasurer shall be custodian of all moneys and securities belonging to the State Compensation Insurance Fund, except as otherwise provided in this chapter. He shall be liable on his official bond for the safe-keeping thereof.

11789. All moneys which belong to the fund and are collected or received under this chapter shall be delivered to the State Treasurer or deposited to his credit in such bank or banks throughout the State as he designates.

11790. All securities belonging to the fund shall be delivered to the Treasurer and held by him until otherwise disposed of as provided in this chapter.

11791. Upon such delivery or deposit, such moneys and securities shall be credited by the State Treasurer to the fund. No moneys received or collected on account of the fund shall be expended or paid out without first passing into the State treasury and being drawn therefrom as provided in this chapter.

11792. The commission may, with the approval of the State Department of Finance, withdraw from the State Compensation Insurance Fund in the State treasury, without at the time presenting vouchers and itemized statements, a sum not to exceed in the aggregate five hundred thousand dollars, to be used as a cash revolving fund. Such revolving fund shall be deposited in such banks and under such conditions as the commission determines, with the approval of the State Department of Finance. The Controller shall draw his warrants in favor of the commission for the amounts so withdrawn, and the Treasurer shall pay such warrants.

11793. Expenditures made from the revolving fund in payments on claims arising out of policies issued by the State Compensation Insurance Fund are exempted from the operation of section 669 of the Political Code. Reimbursement of the revolving fund for such expenditures shall be made upon presentation to the Controller of an abstract or statement of such expenditures. Such abstract shall be in such form as the Controller requires.

11794. Each calendar month the commission shall submit to the Department of Finance an estimate of the amount necessary to meet the current disbursements from the State Compensation Insurance Fund during the succeeding calendar month. When such estimate is approved by the department, the Controller shall draw his warrant on the State Compensation Insurance Fund in favor of the commission for the approved amount, and the Treasurer shall pay the warrant. At the end of each calendar month, the commission shall account to the department and to the State Controller for all moneys so received, furnishing proper vouchers therefor.

11795. During the months of January and July of each year the Department of Finance or the Commission shall cause a valuation to be made of the properties and securities acquired and held for the State Compensation Insurance Fund, and shall report the results of the valuation to the State Controller.

11796. The State Controller shall keep a special ledger account showing all of the assets pertaining to the State Compensation Insurance Fund. In the State Controller's general ledger this account may appear as a cash account, like other accounts of funds in the State treasury, and only the actual cash coming into the State Compensation Insurance Fund shall be entered in the account.

11797. The commission shall cause all moneys in the State Compensation Insurance Fund which are in excess of current requirements to be invested and reinvested, from time to time, in securities authorized by law for the investment of funds of savings banks.

11798. The commission shall, from time to time, submit to the Department of Finance an estimate of the amount required by it for investment. Such estimate shall be accompanied by a full description of the kind and character of the investments to be made. When such estimate is approved by the department, the Controller shall draw his warrant for the estimated amounts on the State Compensation Insurance Fund in favor of the commission, and the Treasurer shall pay the warrant.

11799. At the end of each calendar month the commission shall account to the Department of Finance and the State Controller for all moneys received for investment, furnishing proper vouchers therefor.

11800. All moneys in the State Compensation Insurance Fund, in excess of current requirements and not otherwise invested, may be deposited by the State Treasurer from time to time in banks authorized by law to receive deposits of public moneys, under the same rules and regulations that govern the deposit of other public funds. The interest accruing thereon shall be credited to the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

Article 2. Rates.

11820. Subject to the provisions of Article 2, Chapter 3, of this part, the commission shall establish the rates to be charged by the State Compensation Insurance Fund for insurance issued by it. Such rates shall be fixed with due regard to the physical hazards of each industry, occupation or employment.

11821. Within each class of business insured such rates shall be fixed, so far as practicable, in accordance with the following elements:

(a) Bodily risk or safety, or other hazard of the plant, premises or work of each insured employer.
(b) The manner in which the work is conducted.
(c) A reasonable regard for the accident experience and history of each such insured.
(d) A reasonable regard for the insured's means and methods of caring for injured persons.

Such rates shall take no account of the extent to which the employees in any particular establishment have or have not persons dependent upon them for support.

11822. The rates fixed by the commission shall be that percentage of the payroll of any employer which, in the long run and on the average, will produce a sufficient sum, when invested at three and one-half per cent interest:
(a) To carry all claims to maturity. The rates shall be based upon the "reserve" and not upon the "assessment" plan.
(b) To meet the reasonable expenses of conducting the business of the fund.
(c) To produce a reasonable surplus to cover the catastrophe hazard.

11823. When the premium rates for insurance in the State Compensation Insurance Fund are fixed, the commission shall furnish schedules of rates and copies of the forms of policy to the Department of Industrial Relations and to the clerk and the treasurer of every county and city in the State.

Every public officer to whom the schedules and copies are furnished shall fill out and transmit to the manager of the fund applications for insurance in the fund. Such officer shall also receive and transmit to the manager all premiums paid on account of any policy issued or applied for. For this service such officers may be allowed such commission or other compensation as the commission directs.

11840. The insurance contracts or policies of the State Compensation Insurance Fund may be either limited or unlimited. The insurance contracts or policies may be issued for one year or, in the form of stamps or tickets or otherwise, for one month, for any number of months less than one year, for one day, for any number of days less than one month or during the performance of any particular work, job or contract. The rates charged shall be proportionately greater for a shorter than for a longer period and a minimum premium charge shall be fixed in accordance with a reasonable rate for insuring one person for one day.

11841. Nothing in this chapter shall prevent:
(a) Any applicant for insurance from being covered temporarily until the application is finally acted upon.
(b) An insured from surrendering any policy at any time and having returned to him the difference between the premium paid and the premium at the customary short term for the shorter period which such policy has already run.

11842. The fund may at any time, after due notice, cancel any policy upon a pro rata basis of premium repayment.

11843. The State Compensation Insurance Fund may issue policies including, with their employees, employers who perform labor incidental to their occupations, and including also members of the families of such employers engaged in the same occupation.

11844. Such policies covering employers shall insure to such employers and working members of their families the same compensations provided for their employees, and at the same rates.

11845. The estimations of the wage values, respectively, of such insured employers and members of their families shall be reasonable and shall be separately stated in and added to the valuation of the pay rolls upon which their premium is computed.

11846. Such policies may likewise be sold to self-employing persons and to casual employees. Such insureds, for the purpose of such insurance, shall be deemed to be employees within the meaning of the workmen's compensation laws.

Article 4. Reports and Statements.

11860. Each quarter the commission shall make a report to the Governor of the business done by the State Compensation Insurance Fund during the previous quarter and a statement of the fund's resources and liabilities at the close of that previous quarter. The State Department of Finance shall audit such reports and statements and cause an abstract thereof to be published one or more times in at least two newspapers of general circulation in the State. The commission shall likewise make to the commissioner all reports required by law to be made to him by other insurers.

Article 5. Coverage of Public Employers.

11870. The State, any agency, department, division, commission, board, bureau, officer or other authority thereof, and each county, city and county, city, school district, irrigation district, any other district established by law, or other public corporation or quasi public corporation within the State, excluding any public utility operated by a private corporation may insure against its liability for compensation with the State compensation insurance fund and not with any other insurer unless such fund refuses to accept the risk when the application for insurance is made. Where the State or any agency, department, division, commission, board, bureau, officer or authority thereof is the insured, the premium for such insurance shall be a proper charge against any moneys appropriated for the support of or expenditure by the insured, except that in the case of an insured supported by or authorized to expend moneys appropriated out of more than one fund, the insured, with the approval of the Director of Finance, may determine the proportion of such premium to be paid out of each fund. In such case the insured, with the approval of the Director of Finance, may pay the entire premium out of any of such funds and thereafter the funds used for payment shall be reimbursed in proper proportion out of such other funds. In case a county, city and county, city, school district, irrigation district, or other district established by law, or other public corporation or quasi public corporation within the State is the insured, the premium therefore shall be a proper charge against the general fund of such insured.

(Amended by Ch. 202, Stats. 1935.)
11870. The State and each county, city and county, city, school district or other public corporation, or quasi-public corporation within the State, excluding any public utility operated by a private corporation, may insure against its liability for workmen's compensation with the State Compensation Insurance Fund and not with any other insurer unless such fund refuses to accept the risk when the application for insurance is made. The premium therefor shall be a proper charge against the general fund of each such political subdivision of the State.

Article 6. Penalties.

11880. Any person who willfully misrepresents any fact in order to obtain insurance from the fund at less than the proper rate for such insurance, or in order to obtain any payments out of such fund, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Chapter 5. Mutual Workmen's Compensation Insurers.

Article 1. Definition and Scope of Chapter.

11910. This chapter shall not apply to unincorporated interindemnity compacts.

11911. The term "employer" as used in this chapter includes every employer subject to the operation of the Workmen's Compensation Laws, except public or municipal corporations, State agencies or political subdivisions.

Article 2. Formation and Organization.

11930. Insurers consisting of a mutual association of any number of employers, not less than five, may, subject to the approval of the commissioner, be formed by incorporating under the laws of this State, for the purpose of issuing workmen's compensation insurance to their members.

11931. The commissioner may limit the membership of any such association to those employers engaged in the same general character of industry or to employers within a limited part of the State, whenever in his judgment such limitation is required for the protection of the members of such association or their employees.

11932. The articles of incorporation shall not be filed, until a copy is submitted to and approved by the commissioner.

11933. The articles of incorporation shall set forth:
(a) First—The names of the employers entering into such association, their places of residence, the nature of the business in which they are engaged and the number of persons employed by each.
(b) Second—The name by which such association is to be known.
(c) Third—The period for which such association is incorporated.
(d) Fourth—The number of directors and the names and residences of the directors for the first year.
(e) Fifth—The location of the principal place of business.
11934. Such articles shall be executed, acknowledged, and filed as provided by law for the formation of other corporations.

11935. The name of the association shall include the word "mutual" or, if the liability of members is limited, the words "limited mutual."

11936. There shall not be less than five nor more than eleven directors of the association.

11937. The location of the principal place of business of the association shall be in this State.

11938. The members of any such association shall have power to make such by-laws, not inconsistent with law as are deemed necessary:

(a) For the government of its officers and members.
(b) For the admission of new members.
(c) For the assessment and collection of premiums and assessments.
(d) In general, for the proper conduct of its affairs.

Such by-laws shall become effective upon approval by the commissioner of a copy filed with him.

11939. Any association organized under this chapter may amend its articles of incorporation and by-laws at its regular annual meeting or at special meetings called and held as provided in its by-laws. Such amendments shall not become operative until approved and filed in the same manner as the original articles and by-laws.

Article 3 Acquisition and Withdrawal of Members.

11950. A policy shall not be issued by any association organized under this chapter until applications for insurance have been received from at least one hundred employers with an aggregate annual pay roll of at least $500,000 or employing an aggregate of at least one thousand employees, nor until the amount in cash in hand, over and above all liabilities other than unearned premiums, is not less than $15,000 and not less than one full annual premium upon each risk.

Whenever either the number of employers insured falls below one hundred, or both their aggregate annual pay roll falls below $500,000 and the aggregate number of employees covered falls below one thousand, then no further policies shall be issued until there are received applications sufficient to avoid the operation of this section.

11951. Every employer accepting a policy in any insurer organized under this chapter shall thereby become a member of such insurer and shall become liable for his proportionate share of losses and operating expenses.

11952. Any member of any insurer organized under this chapter may withdraw at any time after giving thirty days' written notice of his intention to withdraw, surrendering his policy and discharging all his obligations to the insurer existing at the time of his withdrawal.
11953. The termination of the insurance shall not release the withdrawing member from liability for the payment of his share of all assessments made to make up deficiencies due to injuries happening while he was insured by the association.

11954. Upon the member's withdrawal, there shall be returned to him the excess of the premium for his surrendered policy over the customary short term premium for the time during which the policy was in force.

11955. The association may cancel any policy after giving the insured five days' written notice to that effect and returning to the insured his proportionate part of the premium. Such proportionate part shall be the ratio which the time the policy was in force bears to the total period covered by the premium.

Article 4. Assessments.

11970. Every insurer organized under this chapter shall in its by-laws and policies fix the contingent liability of its members for the payment of losses in excess of its available cash funds. Such contingent liability shall not be less than an amount equal to one annual premium and shall be in addition to the annual premium charged.

11971. Whenever any insurer organized under this chapter is not possessed of cash funds sufficiently in excess of the total of its unearned premiums, reserve for claims and liabilities, so that such excess will pay incurred losses and expenses, such association shall assess the amount needed to pay such losses and expenses upon its members in proportion to their several liabilities therefor.

11972. Such insurer shall cause to be recorded in a book kept for that purpose:

(a) The order for such assessment.
(b) The amount of the assessment called for.
(c) A statement setting forth the condition of the insurer at the date of the order, including the amount of its cash assets and contingent funds.

11973. Such record of assessment order and supporting data shall be signed by the directors who vote for the order. Approval of the record by the commissioner shall be procured before any part of the assessment is collected. Any person liable to assessment may inspect and take a copy of the record.

Article 5. Annual Statement and Finances.

11990. Every insurer organized under this chapter shall file its financial statement with the commissioner on or before the first day of March of each year. Such statement shall exhibit the condition of the insurer on the preceding December thirty-first. Such statement shall be made as provided in the blanks furnished by the commissioner.

11991. The administrative expenses for any calendar year of any insurer organized under this chapter, including commissions and fees to agents and officers but not including expenses incurred for the prevention of injuries, shall be limited to thirty per cent of the aggregate amount of gross premiums actually received during that year. The liability prescribed in section 11992 accrues when expenditures are made in excess of this amount.

11992. Expenditures in violation of section 11991 render the officers, directors and all persons having similar powers in relation to the insurer jointly and severally liable to it for the amount of any such excess. In the event that such insurer fails or refuses to recover such excess of expenditures, the commissioner may sue for and recover the excess from any person liable, for the benefit of the insurer's members.

11993. In the case of a person whose duty it is to determine the character of the risks and to decide what applications shall be accepted and what applications shall be rejected by such insurer, such person shall not receive a commission upon premiums as any part of his compensation. Such person's compensation shall be a fixed salary and such share of the net profits as the directors or trustees determine.

11994. The directors of every such insurer shall create a surplus fund. Each year an amount equal to at least twenty-five per cent of all available profits shall be added to the surplus fund until such fund is at least equal to the remainder of the amount of all premiums charged upon all insurance in force, after deducting therefrom the amount of premiums charged for risks reinsured in other insurers.

11995. After setting aside the required amount of profits to the surplus fund, if such fund is then not less than $15,000 and also amounts to at least twenty-five per cent of all premiums charged over and above the premiums received on reinsured risks, the directors of such insurer, at such times as their by-laws provide, shall make, declare and pay dividends to their members. So much of the additional available profits accrued from the business of the association and interest on moneys invested may be thus paid in dividends as appears advisable to the directors.

11996. A dividend shall not be declared without previous approval by the commissioner.

11997. The funds of any insurer organized under this chapter shall be invested in the manner allowed for the investment of the funds of other insurers.

Article 6. Insolvency.

12010. Whenever the liabilities of any such insurer for losses reported, expenses and taxes, together with its unearned premiums and claims reserve aggregate a greater amount than its admitted cash assets, such insurer is insolvent.

12020. The directors of any such insurer shall make and enforce reasonable rules and regulations for the prevention of injuries on the premises of members. For this purpose the inspectors of the insurer shall have free access to all such premises during regular working hours. Any employer or employee aggrieved by any such rule or regulation may petition the Industrial Accident Commission for a review, and it may affirm, amend or annul the rule or regulation.

12021. Any insurer organized under this chapter may own, hold and acquire such property as is necessary for the transaction of its business.

12022. Any such insurer may sue and be sued, with the same rights and obligations as a natural person. In addition to the powers otherwise enumerated, it shall exercise all such rights and powers as are necessarily incidental to the exercise of the powers expressly granted to it.

12023. Auditors, inspectors and other agents of the insurer shall, for the purpose of verifying pay rolls, have free access to the wages, accounts and pay rolls of members.

PART 4. MISCELLANEOUS CASUALTY INSURANCES.

12050. An incorporated insurer issuing surety policies on the reserve basis shall not transact surety insurance in this State unless it has a paid-in capital of at least $250,000.

Article 2. Administrative Control.

12070. The commissioner shall make up and certify to the county clerk of each county of the State a complete list of all admitted surety insurers. Such list shall set forth:
   (a) The full corporate name of such insurer.
   (b) The name of the State or country under whose laws such insurer is organized.
   (c) The date of the certificate of authority issued to such insurer to transact surety insurance in this State.

12071. From and after the date when such list is certified, the commissioner shall likewise certify to the county clerk of every county of this State, the same facts concerning any other surety insurer thereafter admitted.

12072. Whenever such insurer’s certificate of authority is surrendered, revoked, canceled, annulled or suspended or whenever any such insurer, after such abrogation of its certificate again is admitted, the commissioner shall forthwith certify to the county clerk of every county of this State the name of such insurer and the date of such abrogation of, or of renewal of, such certificate.

Article 3. Special Restrictions on Business.

12090. An admitted surety insurer shall not become surety on any one undertaking, or accept reinsurance on such undertaking, when its liability thereon, in excess of the amount reinsured by it in an admitted insurer, amounts to more than ten per cent of its capital and surplus as shown by its last statement on file in the office of the commissioner.

12091. Whenever a surety insurer fails to maintain such a financial condition that assets allowed under subdivision (a) are equal in value to the aggregate of the charges prescribed under subdivision (b), the commissioner shall act as prescribed in section 12092.
   (a) In estimating its condition the commissioner shall allow as assets only such as are allowed under law in force at the time of the estimate.
   (b) The charges to be aggregated shall be:
      (1) Eighty per cent of the paid-in capital.
      (2) All outstanding indebtedness.
      (3) A premium reserve equal to fifty per cent of the premiums charged by the insurer upon all policies then in force.

12092. Whenever such an insurer fails to maintain the financial condition required by section 12091, the commissioner shall require the deficiency to be made up in sixty days. If it is not made up as required, he shall issue a certificate showing the extent of such deficiency. He shall publish the certificate once a week for three weeks, in a daily San Francisco paper. From the time of first publication until such deficiency is made up, the insurer shall not do business in this State.

CHAPTER 2. OTHER CASUALTY INSURERS ON RESERVE BASIS; CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS AND PERMITTED INSURANCES.

12110. If an insurer transacts any insurance specified in section 12111 and also is admitted to transact insurance not so specified and which is regulated as to permitted insurances and capital requirements by provisions in another chapter of this code, such insurer is governed, as to such insurances and requirements, by such other provisions and is not governed by the provisions of section 12111.

12111. Except as provided in section 12110, an incorporated insurer may issue policies on a reserve basis of any of the following insurances if it has a paid-in capital of $50,000 in excess of the sum of the amounts set forth opposite the insurances transacted:

Such fund shall be known as the "Title insurance surplus fund."

12371. The title insurance surplus fund shall be maintained as a further security to holders and beneficiaries of the title policies issued by the insurer. If at any time the fund is impaired by reason of a loss, the amount by which it is impaired shall be restored in the manner provided for its accumulation. The reporting of a loss is an impairment of such fund for the purposes of this section.

12372. Any such domestic insurer, after having its required capital paid in and depositing its required guarantee fund with the State Treasurer, may invest an amount not exceeding fifty per cent of its subscribed capital stock in the preparation and purchase of materials and plant necessary to enable it to engage in the title insurance business. In all statements and proceedings required by law for the ascertainment and determination of the condition of such insurer, such materials and plant shall be treated in one of the following ways:

(a) They may be treated as an asset, valued at actual cost to the insurer.

(b) They may be treated as an asset, at such lesser value than cost as the insurer estimates.

(c) They may be omitted entirely from the statement or proceeding.

12373. A title insurer shall not make any dividends except from profits remaining on hand after retaining unimpaired assets aggregating in value an amount equal to the sum of the following:

(a) The entire subscribed capital stock.

(b) The amount set apart as the title insurance surplus fund.

(c) A sum sufficient to pay all liabilities for expenses and taxes, and all losses reported or in course of settlement, without impairment of the amount required to be set apart as the title insurance surplus fund.

12374. A title insurer shall not directly or indirectly make a loan from its assets to any of its officers, directors or employees, or to any member of the family of any officer or director. Any officer, director, agent, or employee of any such insurer who knowingly consents to any violation of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

12375. Whenever a title insurer, upon withdrawing from insurance business in this State, desires to reinsure its policies with a title insurer whose "title insurance surplus fund" is not fully made up, the commissioner may require the reinsurer to increase its "title insurance surplus fund." The amount of increase shall not be greater than the amount in the withdrawing insurer’s "title insurance surplus fund" nor greater than will fully make up the reinsurer’s title insurance surplus fund. Such increase may be made a condition of the commissioner’s approval of the reinsurance plan.

12390. Every domestic title insurer may issue title policies and may also insure:

12392. If a domestic incorporated title insurer is authorized by its articles of incorporation to act as executor, administrator, guardian, assignee, receiver, depositary, agent or trustee, or to do a general trust business, and if such insurer has a capital paid in of not less than $300,000 it may also do business as a trust company, and maintain a trust department as well as a title insurance department, on compliance with the conditions set forth in this article.

12393. When such title insurer desires to do such a departmental business, it shall first obtain the consent of both the Superintendent of Banks and of the commissioner. In its application for such consent, it shall include a statement making a segregation of its capital and surplus for each such department. At least $200,000 of its capital shall be apportioned by such statement to its trust department. When such apportionment is approved by the Superintendent of Banks and by the commissioner, the part of such capital and surplus apportioned to each department shall be treated as the separate capital and surplus of each such department, as if each such department was a separate business.

12394. Such insurer, as to its title insurance department, shall be subject to and shall comply with all the requirements of the insurance laws and the rules and regulations of the commissioner. It may invest its assets apportioned to its title insurance department, and the accumulations therefrom, in the manner in which the assets of title insurers are allowed by the laws of this State to be invested.

12395. Such insurer, as to its trust department, shall be subject to and shall comply with all the requirements of the banking laws and rules and regulations of the Superintendent of Banks of this State, and may invest its assets apportioned to its trust department, the accumulations therefrom, and trust funds received by it, in accordance with the laws of this State relative to the investment of funds of trust companies.

Every mortgage participation trust and the administration thereof shall at all times be and hereby is expressly made subject to the inspection, supervision and control of the Superintendent of Banks as fully and completely as if the same constituted a court trust under the provisions of the Bank Act.

12528. Mortgage participation certificates and securities guaranteed by mortgage policies issued in conformity with the provisions of this chapter shall be legal investments for all trust funds held by any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee or other person holding trust funds, and for the funds of insurers, banks, banking institutions and trust companies.

12529. Such certificates and securities shall be accepted by this State and its officers and officials, as securities comprising any part of any fund or deposit required by law to be made with this State, or with any officer or official thereof, by an admitted insurer or a trust company doing business in this State.

12530. All premiums required to be paid according to the terms of any mortgage policy, may be charged to or paid out of the income from the security covered thereby.
12531. The right of substitution hereinbefore provided and the exercise thereof shall not alter or affect the status of any mortgage participation certificates as legal investments or as securities acceptable by the State of California, its officers and officials, as comprising or constituting any such fund or deposit.

12532. The legality or validity of mortgage policies, securities guaranteed thereby and of mortgage participation certificates heretofore issued which at the date of issuance fully conformed to and complied with the law then in force shall not be affected or impaired by the provisions of this chapter.
Such securities guaranteed by mortgage policies and such mortgage participation certificates shall continue to be legal investments and to be acceptable by the State of California, its officers and officials, as deposits, to the extent and in the manner provided by the law in force at date of such issuance.

Article 7. Amendment, Cancellation and Exchange of Mortgage Participation Certificates and Securities.

12540. Any mortgage insurer which has heretofore issued mortgage participation certificates in accordance with the provisions of the law of this State in force at the time of such issuance may, with the consent of the commissioner:

(a) Amend such certificates and any mortgage policy issued in connection therewith.

(b) Cancel and retire all or any part of such certificates presently outstanding and issue in exchange therefor other new certificates representing a similar proportionate interest in the group of assets held in trust for the benefit of the holders of such presently outstanding mortgage participation certificates.

12541. The plan under which such amended certificates or such other new certificates are to be issued, and the form of such amended certificates and such other new certificates, shall be submitted to the Insurance Commissioner for his approval.
All such amended or new certificates and any agreement under which the same may be issued and any mortgage policy issued in connection therewith shall contain, notwithstanding anything in this code to the contrary, such terms and provisions as are approved or required by the commissioner.

12542. Any executor, administrator, guardian, trustee, insurer, bank, banking institution or trust company, and any officer of this State, now holding one or more mortgage participation certificates as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made with this State, may consent to the amendment of such certificates or may exchange such certificates for other new certificates issued as herein provided, and may hold such amended certificates or such other new certificates as legal investments or as securities eligible for deposit with this State or with its officers or officials in the same manner and to the same extent as the particular mortgage participation certificates so amended, or the particular certificates in exchange for which such other new certificates are issued, are now held.

12543. At any time during the emergency period as hereinafter defined any amendments or modifications of any trust agreement under which mortgage participation certificates are issued or of such certificates or of any mortgage policy issued in connection therewith, or of any term, covenant, condition or provision of such agreement, certificates or policy, shall, if made as hereinabove provided, become fully effective and binding upon all of the holders of such certificates outstanding under such trust agreement when consented to in writing by the holders of seventy-five per cent in interest of all certificates outstanding under such trust agreement.

The term "emergency period" as used in this section shall mean the period commencing May 15, 1933, and ending September 1, 1936; except that said emergency period may be terminated at any time prior to September 1, 1936, by order of the commissioner.

(Amended by Ch. 559, Stats. 1935.)

[ORIGINAL SECTION.]

12543. At any time during the emergency period as hereinafter defined any amendments or modifications of any trust agreement under which mortgage participation certificates are issued or of such certificates or of any mortgage policy issued in connection therewith, or of any term, covenant, condition or provision of such agreement, certificates or policy, shall, if made as hereinabove provided, become fully effective and binding upon all of the holders of such certificates outstanding under such trust agreement when consented to in writing by the holders of seventy-five per cent in interest of all certificates outstanding under such trust agreement.

The term "emergency period" as used in this section shall mean the period commencing with the effective date of this section and ending September 1, 1935; except that said emergency period may be terminated at any time prior to September 1, 1935, by order of the commissioner.

Article 8. Conservatorship.

12550. In all cases where a mortgage insurer has issued mortgage participation certificates evidencing a share or interest or right to participate in a security or group of securities deposited with a depository or trustee, the commissioner may, by verified petition, apply to the superior court of the county in which the principal office of the mortgage insurer affected by such petition is located, for an order requiring the depository or trustee to show cause why a conservator should not be appointed to take possession of all the property and assets held in such trust and to conserve, operate, manage, control or liquidate the same and distribute the avails thereof to the holders of the mortgage participation certificates which evidence an interest in such assets.

12551. A similar petition may be made by any mortgage insurer if the holders of a majority in interest of the mortgage participation certificates issued under any trust affected by such petition have consented in writing to the filing of such petition and such consent is filed with such mortgage insurer.
12552. In the petition for the appointment of such conservator the petitioner may nominate or recommend any person believed by such petitioner to be competent to act as such conservator, but such nomination or recommendation shall not be controlling on the court.

12553. A copy of the petition and of the order to show cause shall be served on the depositary or the trustee in the same manner as a summons is served in civil actions. Such other notice of the pendency of the proceedings shall be given as the court prescribes.

12554. Said superior court shall have jurisdiction of said petition and of the proceedings thereon and may make all such orders as justice and equity require, including orders:
   (a) Requiring the depositary or trustee to account.
   (b) For the discharge of the depositary or trustee.
   (c) For the appointment of a conservator.
   (d) For the winding up of the trust and the distribution of the trust property.
   (e) For the presentation of claims and demands against the trust estate and the barring from participation of creditors and claimants failing to make claims and present proofs as required.

12555. Any notice required, other than notice to the depositary or trustee, may be given in such manner as the court directs.

12556. On the return day of such order to show cause, or on any day to which the hearing is continued, the court shall either deny the petition or appoint a competent person to act as conservator.

12557. If the court appoints a conservator, it shall direct the conservator forthwith to take possession of all the assets in the trust. Thereupon the conservator shall be vested by operation of law with the title to all such assets, including all the securities, contracts and rights of action of the depositary or trustee and of said mortgage insurer pertaining to the trust property, as of the date of the order so appointing the conservator.

12558. The court shall further order that the depositary or trustee file its account and shall fix the date for the hearing of said account.

12559. On the filing of such petition, or at any time thereafter, the court may in its discretion issue an injunction restraining the depositary or trustee, the mortgage insurer, the holders of participation certificates, and all other persons having or asserting claims or demands against the depositary or trustee or the trust property from taking any action or proceeding with respect to the assets in the trust without leave of court first had and obtained.

12560. In all cases arising under the provisions of this article the conservator shall have and possess full power and right to deal with the property and assets held in such trust in his own name, as conservator, or in the name of the insurer or of the depositary or trustee, as the court directs.

12561. In addition to all powers and duties herein mentioned the conservator shall have and possess all the powers and duties of a receiver appointed upon the dissolution of a corporation.

12562. In the conservation, operation, management, control or liquidation of the affairs of any trust hereunder the conservator, subject to the approval of the court and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the trust indenture under which the trust is established, may sell, mortgage, or otherwise encumber or exchange any of the property or assets held in such trust upon such terms as he deems advisable and in the best interests of the certificate holders thereunder, and may accept a deed in lieu of foreclosure. The conservator may also do any act or execute any instrument not expressly authorized by this article upon an order of the court made after a hearing on such notice as the court shall prescribe.

12562. In the conservation, operation, management, control or liquidation of the affairs of any trust hereunder the conservator, subject to the approval of the court and notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the trust indenture under which the trust is established, may sell, mortgage, or otherwise encumber or exchange any of the property or assets held in such trust upon such terms as he deems advisable and in the best interests of the certificate holders thereunder.

12563. Sales of real property may be made by the conservator for cash, or for cash and/or notes secured by mortgage on the property sold. Such sales may be made to the mortgage insurer or to any other purchaser.

12564. Such conservator may, subject to the approval of the court, determine and prescribe the amount of interest and principal which may be paid out of the assets of such trust and the times of payment thereof, and may make, rescind or amend all such further rules, regulations and conditions relative to the conservation, management, control or liquidation of such trust as he deems advisable and in the best interests of the certificate holders.

12565. If the conservator becomes satisfied that it may safely be done and that it would be in the interest of the certificate holders and the insurer, he may apply to the court for an order terminating the conservatorship. Upon the making of his account and its approval by the court, such conservatorship shall be terminated and the property and assets of the trust shall be returned to the depositary or trustee.

12566. If the conservator at any time determines that such trust should be wound up and the avails thereof distributed, he shall petition the court for an order for final winding up of the trust and distribution of the trust assets.

12567. After notice is served upon the depositary or trustee and the insurer, and upon such other parties as the court directs, the court may order such final winding up of the trust and distribution of the trust assets.

12568. In winding up the affairs of any trust the conservator, subject to the approval of the court, may sell, exchange or dispose of all or any part of the assets in the trust to a corporation organized under the laws of this state for a consideration which may include shares of stock or other securities in such corporation, or participation certificates issued by a domestic mort'gage insurer, if such sale, exchange or other disposition has been approved by the consent in writing of the holders of participation certificates representing more than fifty per cent in interest of all mortgage participation certificates issued and outstanding under such trust.

12569. The conservator may distribute such shares of stock, participation certificates or other consideration, or the proceeds thereof among the holders of participation certificates in the trust under liquidation in proportion to their several interests therein, as directed or confirmed by the court.

Article 9. Appraisers and Appraisements.

12580. Before investing in any security or making or issuing any mortgage policy thereon or participation certificate therein, every mortgage insurer shall cause an appraisal of the real property with improvements thereon securing the same to be made by a competent person appointed as appraiser by resolution of the board of directors of the insurer.

12581. Such appointment of appraiser shall not be valid or effective unless and until approved by both the commissioner and the Superintendent of Banks. Such appointment shall be revocable at any time by either the commissioner or the Superintendent of Banks should they or either of them consider said appointee incompetent or any appraisals made by said appointee improper, after a hearing upon due notice thereof first given to the appraiser and the appointing insurer.

12582. Such approved appraiser shall examine and appraise the property and determine its fair market value without deducting therefrom the amount of any outstanding and unpaid taxes, bonds or assessments. He shall thereafter make his verified report to the mortgage insurer.

12583. Such appraiser's report shall state whether such property is improved or productive and shall contain a general statement showing:

(a) The character of the property appraised.
(b) The purposes for which it is being used.
(c) The kind and condition of the improvements.
(d) The fair market value of each parcel of land and of the improvements thereon.
(e) Such other information as is ordered by the commissioner or the Superintendent of Banks.

12584. Reports of appraisals thus made by an approved appraiser shall, in the absence of any negligence, gross error, fraud or collusion, be conclusive as to the facts therein stated.
Article 10. Reports and Statements.

12600. Every mortgage insurer shall make a report in writing to the commissioner. Such report shall be made monthly and shall be verified by the oath of the insurer's president or vice president and its secretary or treasurer. Such report shall be in such form and contain such information as the commissioner requires.

12601. There shall be filed with such report an appraisement made by an approved appraiser, in accordance with the provisions of article 9 of this chapter, of each separate parcel of property securing any security which has been guaranteed or insured during the month covered by the report, and which is not covered by such an appraisement theretofore filed in accordance with the provisions of this section or of section 12524.

12602. Each appraisement shall be signed and verified by the approved appraiser making the same. It shall be accompanied by a certificate, signed and verified by an officer of the mortgage insurer, to the effect that the insurer has in its possession and control evidences of title consisting of a full abstract of title, a full certificate or guarantee of title, or a policy of title insurance, showing that the mortgage securing such loan is a first mortgage upon the appraised real estate and the improvements thereon, if any.

12603. Concurrently with the filing of the monthly report to the commissioner, a verified copy of such report, together with a copy of all appraisements filed therewith, shall be sent by the insurer to the superintendent of banks.

12604. In addition to the above monthly report every mortgage insurer shall make and file with the commissioner an annual report covering the calendar year, in such form and containing such information as the commissioner requires.

12605. In case of the neglect or failure of any such mortgage insurer to make and file such monthly reports in the office of the commissioner before the twentieth day of the next succeeding month, or to file such annual report covering any calendar year on or before the first day of March next following the close of such calendar year as herein provided, such insurer shall forfeit to this State ten dollars per day for every day after those dates during which said neglect or failure continues; except that the insurance commissioner may extend the time within which any report shall be filed.

Article 11. Moratoria on Securities.

12620. In the event actions for the foreclosure of real estate mortgages, or sales on execution or under power of sale contained in any mortgage or by direction of court in an action for the recovery of a debt or for the enforcement of a right secured by a mortgage or other lien shall be extended or postponed pursuant to or by any law of this State or of the United States, or by any order or ruling of any officer of this State or of the United States, or in the event the date when payment of either principal or interest shall become due under any note secured by a mortgage on real estate shall be extended or postponed pursuant to or by any law of this State or of the United States, or by any order or ruling of any officer of this State or of the United States, then and in each of such cases there shall be an extension for a like period of time of the date or dates upon which mortgage insurers are required to make any and all payments under and by reason of any and all policies of mortgage insurance or mortgage participation certificates then issued and outstanding.

12629. (a) The provisions of this section shall apply to any mortgage insurer (1) the property, business and assets of which are in possession of the commissioner; (2) which is no longer able to conduct the normal business of a mortgage insurer; (3) which is unable to discharge its debts or other obligations as they become due; (4) which is in such condition that unless such insurer is liquidated or a plan of reorganization consummated a preference is likely to be obtained by some holders of mortgage participation certificates over other such holders, or by some creditors over other creditors of the same class; (5) which is in such condition that it will probably be necessary, unless a plan of reorganization is consummated, to liquidate such insurer or to sell or otherwise dispose of a substantial part of its assets at substantially less than the amount which might reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the ordinary and proper conduct of a going business. The determination of the commissioner that a mortgage insurer is included in one or more of the foregoing classifications shall be prima facie evidence of such fact.

In the case of a mortgage insurer which has issued mortgage participation certificates under mortgage participation trusts pursuant to the provisions of Chapter VIII, Title II, Part IV, Division First of the Civil Code, such mortgage participation trusts, the mortgage participation certificates issued thereunder and any policies of mortgage insurance issued in connection therewith shall be subject also to the provisions of this section whenever a revision, modification or termination of such trusts, certificates or policies is found by the court to be necessary or advantageous in connection with any plan submitted to it as hereinafter provided.

(b) The term "plan" as used in this section means any plan for the rehabilitation, readjustment or reorganization of any mortgage insurer or of all or any part of the business, properties and assets of such insurer, or for the readjustment, modification or reorganization of the rights or interests of any or all of the holders of mortgage participation certificates or other certificates or securities or policies of mortgage insurance of such insurer, or of any creditors of such insurer and other persons, if any, interested therein. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, a plan may provide for any one or more of the following: (1) For the delivery of all or any part of the business, properties, or assets of such insurer to the commissioner and the return thereof to such insurer after the plan is fully consummated; (2) for the transfer of all or any part of the business, properties, or assets of such insurer to another corporation or to two or more other corporations, which corporation or corporations, or any of them, may, but need not be, a mortgage insurer or a National mortgage association; (3) for the modification, revision or termination of any mortgage participation trusts which have been created by such insurer; (4) for the issuance of new mortgage participation certificates or amended mortgage participation certificates or stock, bonds, debentures or other securities of such insurer or of any other corporation or corporations, to which the business, properties or assets, or any part thereof, of such insurer have been transferred, and for the exchange thereof to the holders of mortgage participation certificates issued by such insurer or to other creditors of such insurer for the outstanding mortgage participation certificates or other obligations of such insurer or for the sale or other disposition of such new certificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities. Any new mortgage insurer formed pursuant to a plan to continue the business of an existing insurer may adopt and continue to use the name of such existing insurer or any part of such name.

(c) A plan (1) may be proposed by the commissioner or Proposal of plan. (2) may be proposed subject to the approval of the commissioner by any mortgage insurer through action of its board of directors. No plan shall be proposed or approved by the commissioner unless the commissioner is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable and does not discriminate in favor of any class of certificate holders, investors, creditors or other persons affected thereby, and is feasible. A plan, if proposed or approved by the commissioner, shall be presented by the proposer to the superior court of the county in which the principal office of such insurer is located, with a petition that the court determine the fairness of such plan and the approvals requisite to such plan becoming operative, which petition shall set forth such plan and the fact that it has been proposed or approved by the commissioner and any other facts which such proposer shall deem material to a consideration of the fairness of the plan. Thereupon the court shall fix the time and place for the hearing of such petition and shall direct that notice thereof shall be mailed to each of the known certificate holders, investors and creditors of such insurer affected by such plan and to the trustee or depositary under all mortgage participation trusts created by such insurer and then in existence, together with either a copy of such plan or a summary thereof, which summary shall be either prepared or approved by the commissioner. If the commissioner shall be the proposer of such plan the court shall direct such insurer to deliver to the commissioner a list of the names and addresses of all certificate holders, creditors, investors and other known persons affected by such plan. Said notices shall be mailed, postage prepaid, to the respective addresses as shown on such list, or if no address be there shown, to the last known address. In addition the proposer of such plan shall cause notice of the time and place fixed for such hearing to be posted in three public places in said county not less than twenty days before the day fixed for such hearing and to be published at least once, not less than twenty days nor more than thirty days before the day fixed for such hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in said county.

(d) At the time and place fixed for such hearing or at the time and place to which such hearing may be continued by the court, the court shall hear the parties interested therein and if it deem it necessary may take testimony relative thereto and may accept proof in affidavit form as to any fact or circumstance material thereto. Such hearing shall be, among other things, upon the fairness of the terms and conditions of the issuance of all new or amended mortgage participation certificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities to be issued pursuant to such plan and of the exchange thereof for outstanding mortgage participation certificates, claims or property interests, or partly for such exchange and partly for cash, and all persons to whom it is proposed to issue such certificates, stock, bonds, debentures or other securities in such exchange shall have the right to appear and be heard at such hearing. No plan shall be approved by the court unless the court is satisfied that the plan is fair and equitable and does not discriminate in favor of any class of investors, creditors, certificate holders or other persons affected thereby and is feasible. In case an insurer has outstanding mortgage participation certificates issued under one or more than one mortgage participation trust, the holders of mortgage participation certificates in each of such trusts may be considered as one class. After the completion of such hearing the court shall approve, modify or disapprove such plan. No such plan shall become operative unless and until it shall have been approved in its original form or, if modified, in its modified form, by such court and the commissioner, nor unless and until such plan shall have been consented to either in person or by a duly appointed agent, attorney or committee by the following persons: (a) If the plan affects the stockholders of such insurer, then by the holders of a majority in amount of the outstanding stock of such insurer; (b) if the plan affects mortgage participation trusts or the holders of mortgage participation certificates issued thereunder, then by the holders of two-thirds in interest of all mortgage participation certificates outstanding under each or all, as the court may determine, of the mortgage participation trusts which may be so affected; (c) if such insurer shall have creditors, then by two-thirds of each class of creditors of such insurer; and (d) by two-thirds in amount of each class of other known persons, if any, affected by the plan; provided, however, that such consent shall not be required in the case of any stockholder, mortgage participation certificate holder, creditor or other person, or any class thereof, if (1) the rights of such person or class shall not be materially affected by such plan, or (2) such plan shall provide for the payment in cash of the value of the right or interest of such person or class; and provided, further, that such consents shall not be required from stockholders of any insurer if the value of the assets of such insurer shall be less than the liabilities thereof (mortgage participation certificates and policies of mortgage insurance not being included as liabilities), or if the business, properties and assets of such insurer be then in the possession of the commissioner. For the purpose of this section real property, contracts for the sale of real property, loans and all other assets (whether like or unlike the foregoing) shall be valued at what may reasonably be expected to be realized therefrom in the ordinary and proper conduct of a going business. The consents required by this section may be given before the plan is presented to the court or after such presentation and before the court has approved it or after such approval. If at such time as the plan is approved by the court the proportions above required of the stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby shall not have consented to the plan, the order of court may provide that upon satisfactory proof of the fact that such consents have been given a further order may be entered ex parte providing that such plan shall become operative, which further order shall be binding upon the commissioner, the insurer and all such stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby.

The superior court in which such petition is pending is hereby given jurisdiction to determine all questions required to be determined pursuant to this section including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the following: Whether the insurer subject to such plan is included in one or more of the classes specified in paragraph (a) hereof; whether any such plan, either in its original or modified form is fair and equitable; whether it discriminates in favor of any class of certificate holders, creditors or other persons affected thereby; whether it is feasible; whether the terms and conditions of any proposed issuance and exchange of stock, mortgage participation certificates, bonds, notes, debentures or other securities thereunder are fair, and to approve or disapprove such terms and conditions; the total liabilities and total assets of such insurer; the approvals requisite under this section to such plan becoming operative, including jurisdiction to determine, for the purposes of the plan and the consents, the division of the creditors and other known persons, if any, affected by the plan into classes according to the nature of their respective claims and interests.

(e) When the plan shall have been approved by the court and the commissioner, as hereinbefore provided, and shall have been consented to by or on behalf of the respective proportions herein required of stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any, affected thereby, such plan shall be binding upon the commissioner, the mortgage insurer affected thereby, all the stockholders, certificate holders and creditors of such insurer, and all other persons, if any, affected thereby; and such insurer, the trustees and depositaries under all mortgage participation trusts affected thereby and all stockholders, certificate holders, creditors and other persons shall be conclusively deemed to have consented to all the terms and conditions of such plan whether or not all of such persons shall actually have consented thereto and whether or not all of them shall have received notice of such plan or of such hearing, as hereinbefore provided. Thereupon such steps shall be taken by the commissioner, the insurer and all persons affected by the plan, and all acts shall be done, or instruments executed and all new or amended certificates, stock, bonds, debentures, notes or other securities issued as may be required by such plan so approved and as may be necessary or desirable for the consummation of such plan. In all cases where the plan involves the revision, modification or termination of mortgage participation trusts and as an incident thereto the transfer of the title to trust assets, the title to and management of such trust assets pending the hearing on such plan and its approval by the court and the commissioner and for such further period as the court may prescribe and subject to such reserve powers as may be granted by the trust agreement to the insurer, or conferred by the court, shall continue in the trustee or depository under the respective mortgage participation trusts affected. Upon the approval of such plan by the court and the commissioner the trust assets of all such trusts shall be transferred, conveyed, assigned, delivered, or otherwise dealt with, conformably to such plan, as the court may order and direct, upon application of the proposer of such plan.

The superior court shall retain jurisdiction of all parties to said proceeding until the plan approved is fully carried out and consummated and the carrying out and consummation of such plan shall be subject to the supervision and control of such court. In connection therewith the court may make all orders and decrees by way of injunction or otherwise as may be necessary, proper and equitable in order to carry out and consummate said plan and make the same fully effective.

(f) No appeal from an order of the superior court approving or modifying a plan shall be effectual for any purpose unless within thirty days after the entry of such order the appellant or appellants shall file with the clerk of such court a bond executed on the part of the appellant or appellants by at least two sureties to the effect that the appellant or appellants, in the event such order is affirmed on appeal, will pay all of respondent's costs, expenses and reasonable attorney's fees arising from such appeal, and also all losses and damages to the certificate holders, creditors and other persons, if any affected by such plan, arising from any delay in consummating such plan during the pendency of such appeal. The form of such bond shall be approved and the amount thereof fixed by the superior court but in no case shall such bond be for an amount greater than one per cent of the total liabilities of such insurer, provided that if mortgage participation certificates are affected by such plan such bond shall be for an amount not more than one per cent of the total liabilities of the insurer plus one per cent of the aggregate face amount of all mortgage participation certificates of such insurer outstanding. Appeals from orders approving plans shall be given preference in the hearing on appeal over all other appeals, except contested election cases and cases in which the people of the State are parties.

(g) The term "securities" as used in this section shall include not only stock of one or more classes issuable by corporations generally but also shares of national mortgage associations or other Federal agencies or corporations organized under Federal authority, whose purposes include the loaning of money on real estate, and also mortgage participation certificates, bonds, notes, debentures, warrants or evidences of indebtedness or of beneficial interests or of any other classes or rights. A mortgage insurer may issue and may invest in, hold, own, sell, exchange or otherwise dispose of, pursuant to a plan approved under this section, any one or more of the above mentioned kinds of securities, regardless of any provisions of the laws of this State to the contrary. None of the provisions of the Corporate Securities Act shall apply to any securities issued pursuant to a plan approved under this section, whether or not such securities are issued by a mortgage insurer, except that brokers, as defined in said act, shall be subject to the provisions of said act with respect to all transactions involving such securities.

(h) Any executor, administrator, guardian or receiver, and any trustee of any kind or nature, and any insurer, bank, banking institution or trust company, and any officer of the State of California, holding any securities or certificates of a mortgage insurer as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made by the State of California, may, without the necessity of obtaining any specific court approval (a) consent to any plan which has been approved by the court pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section; (b) exchange any mortgage participation certificates or other securities or rights or claims for certificates, amended certificates or securities issued pursuant to such plan; and (c) may continue to hold as a legal investment or as a fund or deposit required by law to be made with the State of California any certificates, amended certificates or securities so received.

(i) No plan shall be operative pursuant to this section unless approved by the court and consented to as required by this section during the emergency period, which period, for the purposes of this section, shall commence with the effective date of this section and shall expire April 1, 1937, or at such earlier date as the commissioner shall find and declare that such emergency period has terminated; provided, however, that if, prior to the expiration or termination of said emergency period, such plan shall have been approved by the superior court and shall have been consented to as required by this section, such plan shall become operative, unless such approval be set aside on appeal, notwithstanding the fact that such approval of the superior court was not final at the expiration or termination of such emergency period.

12630. A violation of any of those terms or provisions of this chapter which forbid a particular insurance or investment by a mortgage insurer shall not affect the force or validity of any certificate, security or mortgage policy of a mortgage insurer, but any officer, director, agent or other employee of any such insurer who knowingly consents to any such violation is guilty of a misdemeanor.

12631. Any person who commits any of the following acts without complying with the provisions of this chapter, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

(a) Engaging as a business in the making or issuing in this State of mortgage policies or mortgage participation certificates.

(b) Advertising in this State the making or issuing of such policies or certificates.

(c) Publicly offering in this State to make or issue such policies or such certificates.

Any officer, director, agent or other employee of any such person, who knowingly consents, permits or commits any violation of any of the terms or provisions of this section is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Chapter 3. Land Value Insurance.

Article 1. The Policy.

12660. The forms of all agreements for, or policies of, land value insurance shall, before execution, be submitted to the commissioner. Such agreements or policies shall not be executed unless the forms are approved by the commissioner.

12661. All land value policies shall be limited to the insuring of the value of lots and parcels of land, exclusive of any improvements thereon other than grading, street work, sidewalks and sewers.
