ADDENDUM

PROCLAMATIONS UNDER CHAPTER 229 STATUTES OF 1943

The following four proclamations of the Governor, designated as "War Powers Proclamations," have been issued prior to publication of this volume. They are reproduced here from the originals because they either supplement or supersede portions of Chapter 229, Statutes of 1943, as printed in this volume, by virtue of the provisions of that statute. War Powers Proclamations Nos. 1, 2 and 3 were issued under Section 15 of Chapter 229, and No. 4 under Section 4. The latter proclamation, No. 4, supersedes Sections 1, 2 and 3 of Chapter 229.

WHEREAS, Section 15 of Chapter 229, Statutes 1943, entitled an act to provide for precautions against enemy attack, including blackout and dimout regulations, etc., provides as follows:

“Whenever the State War Council after such study, investigation or hearing as it may make, direct or conduct shall find and determine that additional or different air raid precaution regulations are required in order to protect life or property, the State War Council shall address its findings to the Governor and if the Governor and the Commanding General of the Western Defense Command or such other military agency as may be designated by the Secretary of War concurs therein, the Governor shall proclaim such additional or different air raid precaution regulations which shall thereupon become effective and shall have the same effect as laws of this State. Such regulations shall supersede to the extent of any conflict the provisions of this chapter (including persons or subjects herein excluded from the operation of this chapter) and also any other provision of law which interferes with the purposes of this chapter. The violation of any such regulations shall constitute a misdemeanor and shall be punishable as a violation of this chapter.” And

WHEREAS, The State War Council has duly found, determined and recommended that additional air raid precaution regulations, concerning railroads, are required for the protection of life and property; and

WHEREAS, The Commanding General of the Western Defense Command has concurred in the said findings, determinations and recommendations of the State War Council; now, therefore,

I, EARL WARREN, Governor of the State of California, do hereby proclaim the following air raid precaution regulations:

REGULATION CONCERNING RAILROADS

1. These regulations apply to all railroads operated by steam or diesel power and such operations of electric railways for which a written permit is issued by the State Director of Civilian Protection making such regulations applicable to such operations.

2. Responsibility for Warnings. It is the responsibility of each railroad company to make the necessary arrangements with civilian defense authorities to obtain necessary information of yellow, blue, red and white air raid signals, and to establish their own communications to notify the necessary railroad personnel when such communication is necessary to supplement the regular air raid warning system.

3. Operation During Air Raid Alarms. Subject to the provisions hereinafter expressed, railroad trains shall continue to operate as nearly in accordance with normal standards as possible during blackout periods and periods of air raid alarm. Because of the time required to put such measures in effect, all hoods as specified in paragraphs 8 and 9 shall remain affixed at all times, and window shades shall be drawn on all passenger cars from sunset to sunrise, whether or not a blackout period is in force. Immediately upon the receipt of a yellow air raid warning it is the responsibility of each railroad company to transmit said warning by the fastest available means of communication to personnel in charge of trains operating in or approaching the area of air raid alarm so that light control practices in respect to locomotives, cars, and trains shall be put into effect immediately upon commencement of the blackout period.

4. Light Control. During blackout periods in areas of air raid alarm, illumination in connection with railroad operations shall be permitted, extinguished or controlled as provided in paragraphs 5 to 15, inclusive, hereof.

5. Signal Lights. All signal lights essential to safe operation will be continued in service during blackout periods.

6. Passenger Cars. All passenger coaches, pullman, dining, lounge, club, observation and other passenger cars shall be shielded so that no light is visible from out-of-doors, except that vestibule ceiling lights in vestibules of passenger cars, equipped with type S—14, 15-watt, 34 volt medium base, amber-orange lamp with one-half square inch of clear glass at bottom of the globe, may be left in operation at all times without any special shielding of the vestibule.

7. Mail and Baggage Cars. Mail, express and baggage cars shall be shielded so that no light is visible from out-of-doors during blackout periods in areas of air raid alarm. To blackout full Railway Post Office cars and mail compartments of other cars, use may be made of S. P. Blackout Panels for Postal windows approved November, 1942, by the General Superintendent of Railway Mail Service, Washington, D. C.

8. Other Train Lights. Marker lights on railroad trains shall remain in operation, but they shall be hooded to reduce the upward light to a minimum. Illuminated signs on trains must be extinguished during blackout periods in areas of air raid alarm.

9. Locomotives. Locomotive headlights must be hooded so as to reduce to a minimum the amount of upward light and the light normally cast along the side of the right of way, and such headlights shall be operated on dimmer control; backup headlights shall be hooded in accordance with the requirements for headlights, and may be operated as required if the beam candlepower is no greater than that of the headlight on dimmer control; gauge and classification lights shall remain in operation but shall be hooded so as to reduce the upward and outward light to a minimum; cab deck lights shall be extinguished; enginemen's cab reading lights shall be hooded to reduce the amount of upward and outward light to a minimum and shall be extinguished except when actually required to read orders or schedules; stack lights shall not be used except in tunnels or snow sheds; and enginemen shall avoid popping of locomotives and must control the flash from the fire boxes to reduce the amount of upward and outward light to a minimum.

10. Electric Locomotives. Power shall be shut off at gaps in third rail, crossovers and other points where arcing might occur; power shall be shut off on locomotives or other rolling stock equipped with overhead collectors at section breaks where trolley construction is such that continuous contact is not maintained between overhead collectors and trolley wire; and when lowering overhead collectors all power shall be shut off.

11. Freight and Work Trains. Lights in all cabooses and living quarters of work trains, must be extinguished or shielded so that no light is visible from out-of-doors.

12. Emergency Repairs. Emergency repair and wrecking crews may continue such operations as are immediately necessary to restore transportation service, and may use the minimum amount of light required for such operations during blackout periods, provided that all lights shall be shielded so that no direct rays from any light source are emitted above the horizontal, except when an actual air raid is in progress in the vicinity in which event all lights shall be extinguished except such lights as are permitted in Section 12 of Chapter 229, Statutes 1943.

13. Flagging and Signaling. During blackout periods in areas of air raid alarm, flagging will be performed only with red lanterns and torpedoes so far as possible; fuses must not be used unless and to the extent absolutely essential for safety; normal switchmen's and trainmen's hand lanterns may be used for necessary signaling, but care must be taken to keep overhead signals to a minimum and such lanterns shall be extinguished or kept under cover so that they are not visible from out-of-doors when not actually in use for signaling. Acetylene hand lamps must not be used.

14. Action During Raid. When an actual raid is occurring in the immediate vicinity, train crews will endeavor to clear the main track at the first available siding, and shall stop the train and extinguish all headlights, backup lights and gauge, classification and reading lights until the raid is over; all switch engines in yards will move into the clear, stop and extinguish all lights; and all repair and wrecking crews shall extinguish all lights and take shelter; provided, however, that illumination which is permitted generally under Section 12, Chapter 229, Statutes 1943, shall also be permitted as required by railroad crews during aid raids.

15. Inspection and Servicing. Filtered flashlights, as specified in Section 12, Chapter 229, Statutes 1943, and carmen's hand lanterns may be used as required for work which is necessary to maintain scheduled operations, such as car and engine inspection, oiling, coaling, watering and sanding. Care must be exercised to keep upward light to a minimum, and all lights must be extinguished or covered when not actually required for operations. Fixed lights on sandhouses, oiling, coaling and watering stations and similar service facilities may be operated during blackouts only when and to the extent required for servicing operations which are immediately necessary for the safe maintenance of scheduled operations, provided that all such lights shall be shielded so that no direct rays from any light source are emitted above the horizontal out-of-doors.

All lighting restrictions hereinafter provided shall be applicable and observance thereof required at all times from one-half hour after sunset until one-half hour before sunrise each night from 1 October to 30 April, and from one hour after sunset until one hour before sunrise each night from 1 May to 30 September.

Section 3. RESTRICTIONS IN BOTH LIGHTING ZONES A AND B Subject to the exceptions hereinafter provided, during the hours specified in Section 2 hereof illumination within Lighting Zones A and B shall be controlled as follows:

(a) Advertising and Decorative Lighting. Illuminated signs and ornamental, decorative and display lighting of every description which are located out-of-doors, and flood-lighting which illuminates buildings or signs, shall be extinguished.

(b) Upward Light. All light sources of every description shall be situated or shielded so that no direct rays from any light source are emitted above the horizontal out-of-doors.

(c) Outdoor Area Illumination. Illumination on any outdoor area shall not exceed one foot candle at any point.

Section 4. ADDITIONAL RESTRICTIONS IN LIGHTING ZONE B. Subject to the exceptions hereinafter provided, during the hours specified in Section 2 hereof, any light source located within Lighting Zone B which is directly visible from the sea, as hereinafter defined, shall be either extinguished or shielded so that it is no longer directly visible from the sea, in addition to the applicable restrictions provided in Section 3 hereof.

Section 5. RESTRICTIONS IN LIGHTING ZONE C. Subject to the exceptions hereinafter provided, during the hours specified in Section 2 hereof illumination within Lighting Zone C shall be controlled as follows:

(a) Upward Light. All electric incandescent lamps in excess of 100 watts capacity, and all other light sources producing equivalent light intensity, when located out-of-doors, shall be shielded so that no direct rays from any light source are emitted above the horizontal out-of-doors. Any accumulation of light sources located within or above any ten foot square of outdoor ground area shall be deemed to be a single light source, and if the aggregate intensity of such an accumulation of light sources exceeds the limit expressed in the preceding sentence, then all such light sources shall be shielded.

(b) Outdoor Area Illumination. Illumination on any outdoor area shall not exceed five foot candles at any point.

Section 6. EXCEPTIONS. Certain exceptions from the foregoing restrictions are made as follows:

(a) Industry, Safety, Health and Welfare. Variations from any of the restrictions of this Proclamation may be permitted by the written approval of the Commanding General of the Western Defense Command, or any agency designated by such commander to approve such variations, obtained in advance, but only when and to the extent required to achieve and maintain maximum industrial efficiency, or reasonable safety of persons or property, or to maintain health and welfare and only to the extent consistent with the requirements of military necessity as determined from time to time by the Commanding General of the Western Defense Command. All approvals of lighting variations shall be reported to, and subject to revocation by the Commanding General, Western Defense Command. All approvals presently in effect under the provisions of Chapter 229, Statutes 1943, in respect to any illumination within Lighting Zones A, B or C, established herein, shall remain in effect as if reissued hereunder.

(b) Interior Lighting. Upward light emitted out-of-doors from any light source shall be permitted if the light source is (1) within any building and more than six feet from the nearest window or other opening in the wall of the building, or (2) at any location within a building used primarily as a residence, apartment, hotel or residential club, if all the direct rays emitted above the horizontal out-of-doors are shielded by any customary residential type of lamp shade; but in either case no direct rays from any light source shall be emitted through any skylight, and all indoor light sources within Lighting Zone B shall be shielded so that they are not directly visible from the sea. (See Section 5 for further exception of interior light sources in Lighting Zone C.)

(c) Recreational Lighting. Outdoor area illumination up to a maximum of thirty foot candles is permitted in any location more than three miles from the sea as hereinafter defined, but only when and to the extent actually required and primarily used for sports or recreation, and when otherwise in compliance with the applicable restrictions of Sections 3 and 4 hereof.

(d) Vehicle Lights. All vehicle lights required by law are permitted; provided, however, that within Lighting Zone B, in areas visible from the sea as hereinafter defined, driving lamps shall be operated only on the low or depressed beam. (g) Highway Flares and Obstruction Lights. Fuses or similar flares in an emergency, or so-called bomb type flares and warning lanterns, are excepted from all the foregoing restrictions, but only when and to the extent actually and immediately required to warn traffic of obstruction.

(i) Street and Highway Lights. All street and highway lights are excepted from the restrictions of Sections 3 and 5 hereof, but they must be shielded so that each light source emits no more than ten per cent of its total lamp lumens above the horizontal and must be controlled so that such light sources contribute no more than three foot candles of illumination at any point upon the ground, and in Lighting Zone B must be situated or shielded so that the light sources are not directly visible from the sea as hereinafter defined.

Section 7. DEFINITION. As used herein, the following words and phrases shall have the following meanings:

(a) "Light Source": Any light generating element and the bright portion of any reflector, lens, luminaire, transparency, or other equipment associated therewith for the control or diffusion of light.
