Maximum amount of time price differential

(c) The amount of the time price differential in any conditional sale contract for the sale of a motor vehicle, with or without accessories, shall not exceed 1 percent of the unpaid balance multiplied by the number of months, including any excess fraction thereof as one month, elapsing between the date of such contract and the due date of the last installment, or twenty-five dollars ($25), whichever is greater; provided, that such contract may provide for interest on any delinquent installment from and after the date of delinquency, and for reasonable collection costs and fees in the event of delinquency.

Satisfaction before final maturity date

(d) Any provision in any conditional sale contract for the sale of a motor vehicle to the contrary notwithstanding, the buyer may satisfy in full the indebtedness evidenced by such contract at any time before the final maturity thereof, and in so satisfying such indebtedness shall receive a refund credit thereon for such anticipation of payments. The amount of such refund shall represent at least as great a proportion of the time price differential, after first deducting from such time price differential a minimum charge of not to exceed twenty-five dollars ($25), as the sum of the periodic time balances after the month in which such contract is paid in full bears to the sum of all of the periodic time balances under the schedule of payments in the contract, both sums to be determined according to the monthly balances which would result if the indebtedness were paid according to the terms of the contract; provided, however, that the provisions of this subsection shall not impair the right of the seller or his assignee to receive a minimum time price differential of twenty-five dollars ($25), or to receive interest on delinquent installments or reasonable collection costs and fees, as provided in subsection (c) of this section; and provided further, that where the amount of such refund credit would be less than one dollar ($1), no refund need be made.

Recovery of amount paid

(f) If the holder of such contract, except as the result of an accidental or bona fide error in computation, shall violate any provision of subdivision (d) of this section, the buyer may recover from such holder in a civil action the total amount paid on the contract balance by the buyer to such holder pursuant to the terms of such contract.

Notice of intent to sell a repossessed motor vehicle

(g) Any provision in any conditional sale contract for the sale of a motor vehicle to the contrary notwithstanding, at least five days' written notice of intent to sell a repossessed motor vehicle must be given to all persons liable on the contract. Such notice may be given by mail and need be given only to such persons as have furnished the seller or his assignee with an address to which such notice may be sent. If given by mail and either the place of deposit in the mail or the place of address is outside of this State, however, the period of such notice shall be 10 days instead of five days. During such period after such notice is sent, the person or persons liable on the contract may pay in full the indebtedness evidenced by such contract. Such persons shall be liable for any deficiency after sale of the repossessed motor vehicle only if notice has been given pursuant to this subdivision.

Acceleration clauses

(h) No such contract shall contain any provision by which, in the absence of default by the buyer in the performance of any of his obligations under the contract, the holder may accelerate the maturity of any part or all of the amount owing thereunder or repossess the motor vehicle.

CHAPTER 283

An act to amend Section 19582 of the Education Code, relating to school building aid.

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 5, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19582 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19582. The board by the adoption of rules shall provide for the manner of determining the area of adequate school construction existing in an applicant school district at the time of application. Such rules shall define and provide for the method of determining building areas that are to be included in whole or in part, or to be excluded from the area of existing adequate school construction.

The board may make exceptions to the provisions of this section or to the rules adopted pursuant to such section when it determines that such will be for the benefit of children affected.

For the purposes of this section, "service area" may be defined as (1) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which the provisions of Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would not apply, whether or not such sections were in effect at the time when the building was constructed, or (2) buildings which when constructed were intended to be used for a purpose to which Education Code Sections 15451 to 15465, inclusive, would apply, whether or not such sections were in effect when the building was constructed, but which building has been converted or is intended to be converted, as shown by the application, to use for purposes to which such sections would not apply. Service area may include, but is not limited to, construction used as bus garages, maintenance shops, centrally located district storage and warehouses, teacherage and custodial houses, utility shelters, administration offices, transformer vaults, and service yards.

The board shall exclude from the building area of a district the area of any building which is or will be used exclusively for a parent co-operative nursery education facility, and for no other purpose, and which building at the time of acquisition thereof by the district was incidental to the purchase of a school site and unsuitable for classroom purposes or which was acquired by the district without expenditure of school district funds.

The area of adequate school construction existing in a district at the time of application shall be initially computed as all of the construction area of a district except (1) such areas as may be eligible for replacement under standards established by the board, and (2) such areas in an existing structurally inadequate building for which an application has been filed for structural rehabilitation or in a building previously structurally rehabilitated under either Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive, or Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive, of the Education Code, that exceeds the maximum building area allowed by Section 19581 for a number of pupils, equivalent to those that could be housed in the building after rehabilitation. The board shall prescribe by rule the method of computing the number of pupils which could be so housed for the purposes of this subsection. If such area of adequate school construction, when added to the minimum facilities needed by the district, results in a total construction area in excess of the amount prescribed in Section 19581, then the board may make the following adjustments to the initial computation or such revisions thereof as the board, in its discretion, deems desirable:

(a) Service areas constructed prior to July 19, 1947, shall be excluded, except as provided in (c) below.

(b) Service areas constructed subsequent to July 19, 1947, shall be recomputed by multiplying the total number of square feet of said service area by the percentage determined from dividing the actual construction cost per square foot as determined by the Director of Finance by the estimated average cost per square foot of the new school facilities for which the district has made application.

(c) If any inadequate nonservice area constructed prior to July 19, 1947, is, or will be, converted to a service area, such area shall be recomputed by multiplying said area by the percentage determined by dividing the depreciated value of said area by the replacement cost as such value and cost are determined by the Director of Finance.

(d) If, after the revised computation of service areas is made as prescribed under subsections (a), (b), and (c) of this section, the existing and requested building area of the district is in excess of the schedule set forth in Section 19581, the existing building area of nonservice facilities may be determined on the basis of the number of pupils housed by such facilities at an allowance per pupil which is not more than 25 percent in excess of the amount per pupil prescribed in Section 19581.

The board shall prescribe by rule the method for computing the number of adequately housed pupils for purposes of this subsection.

9307. In any proceeding the court may order that the plot shall be deemed abandoned and full title revert to the cemetery district.

The order of the court shall not become final until one year after the date on which it is made. During that time, any person may petition the court to reopen the proceeding and the court, after notice to the cemetery district, may reopen the proceeding and may hear and consider any additional evidence regarding the ownership of the plot, and may modify or amend the order which it made or, if the court makes any of the determinations mentioned by Section 9306, it shall dismiss the proceeding.

The cemetery district shall, within 30 days after the date on which the court order is made, publish notice of the order pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code and by mailing a copy of the order by registered mail to the last known owner of the plot, or the right of interment in a plot.

CHAPTER 294

An act to amend Section 19590 of the Education Code, relating to state school building aid.

[Approved by Governor May 5, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 5, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19590 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19590. No apportionment to a school district shall become final unless: (a) the total amount of outstanding bonds of the district exceeds ninety-five percent (95%) of the maximum amount of bonds which the district could have had outstanding under any law on the date the conditional apportionment is made, or (b) if the total amount of the bonds of the district outstanding and unpaid is less than ninety-five percent (95%) of the amount of the bonds permitted to be issued by the district, the amount of district bonds outstanding is within twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) of the total bond limit permitted, as of the date on which the conditional apportionment is made. At the time the board makes a conditional apportionment pursuant to Section 19571, it shall determine what portion of the total amount of bonds which a district is permitted to issue and sell by law shall be issued and sold by such district, the proceeds of which shall be applied toward the cost of the project for which the apportionment is sought; provided, that in the event the school district has previously received apportionments, such proceeds shall first be applied toward the reduction, in chronological order beginning with the earliest, of any apportionments previously made to the district, before being applied toward the cost of the project for which an apportionment is sought, provided further that no such proceeds shall be applied toward the reduction of any apportionment for a site made pursuant to Section 19577 prior to the combination of such site apportionment with a construction apportionment pursuant to subsection (d) of Section 19577. The portion so determined by the board shall be not less than the minimum amount required for such apportionment to become final under this section. Any apportionment made by the board pursuant to Section 19571 shall be conditioned upon the approval and sale of such bonds by the district. The amount of any apportionment for a construction project made as a consequence of applying district bond proceeds toward the reduction of prior apportionments pursuant to this section instead of applying the district bond proceeds toward the cost of such construction project, shall be excluded in determining the amount chargeable against the apportionments authorized by the electorate of the district to be accepted, expended and repaid. It is hereby declared that this provision, added by the amendment to this section enacted at the 1958 First Extraordinary Session of the Legislature, is not intended as a change in the law, but rather as a declaration of existing law.

Any provision of this code to the contrary notwithstanding, whenever the electors of a district, subsequent to any requirement by the board for the sale of bonds in connection with an apportionment, authorize the issuance of bonds for any purpose for which an apportionment could lawfully be made, such authorization shall, in addition to the purposes specified, be deemed to constitute the consent of the electors to apply the proceeds of the bonds so required to be sold by the board toward the reduction of any apportionment previously made to such district. Any bond funds used to reduce any apportionment pursuant to this section shall be transferred to the State School Building Aid Fund and shall be available for reapportionment by the board. The portion so determined by the board shall be not less than the minimum amount required for such apportionment to become final under this section. Any apportionment made by the board pursuant to Section 19571 shall be conditioned upon the approval and sale of such bonds by the district.

No apportionment to a school district shall become final unless, at an election called by the governing board of the district, two-thirds of the qualified electors of the district voting thereat have authorized the governing board of the district to accept, expend, and repay, as provided in this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive), an apportionment under the provisions of this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive). Such election shall be combined with and held at the same time as the bond election to authorize the amount of bonds required by the board, if any, and shall be called, held, and conducted in the same manner as are elections to authorize the issuance of school district bonds, except that the ballot, in addition to the bond proposition, shall contain substantially the following words.

"Shall the governing board of the _____ school district be authorized to accept and expend an apportionment in an amount not to exceed _____ dollars ($_____) from the State of California under and subject to the provisions of Chapter 10 (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive) of Division 14 of the Education Code which amount is subject to repayment as provided by said chapter? Yes _____ No _____."

SEC. 3. Section 922 2 of said code is amended to read:

Contract conditions for deductions

922.2 No such deductions specified in Sections 922.1 and 922.15 shall be made or allowed unless the contract of reinsurance contains provision in substance as follows:

The portion of any risk or obligation assumed by the reinsurer, when such portion is ascertained, shall be payable on demand of the ceding insurer at the same time as the ceding insurer shall pay its net retained portion of such risk or obligation, with reasonable provision for verification before payment, and the reinsurance shall be payable by the reinsurer, on the basis of the liability of the ceding insurer under the contract or contracts reinsured without diminution because of the insolvency of the ceding insurer In the event of insolvency and the appointment of a conservator, liquidator or statutory successor of the ceding company, such portion shall be payable to such conservator, liquidator or statutory successor immediately upon demand, with reasonable provision for verification, on the basis of claims allowed against the insolvent

The reinsurance agreements may provide that the conservator, liquidator or statutory successor of a ceding insurer shall give written notice of the pendency of a claim against the ceding insurer indicating the policy or bond reinsured, within a reasonable time after such claim is filed and the reinsurer may interpose, at its own expense, in the proceeding where such claim is to be adjudicated, any defense or defenses which it may deem available to the ceding company or its conservator, liquidator or statutory successor. The expense thus incurred by the reinsurer shall be payable subject to court approval out of the estate of the insolvent ceding insurer as part of the expense of conservation or liquidation to the extent of a proportionate share of the benefit which may accrue to the ceding insurer in conservation or liquidation, solely as a result of the defense undertaken by the reinsurer.

The original insured or policyholder shall not have any rights against the reinsurer which are not specifically set forth in the contract of reinsurance, or in a specific agreement between the reinsurer and the original insured or policyholder.

SEC. 4. Section 922.3 of said code is amended to read:

922.3. No such deductions specified in Sections 922.1 and 922.15, nor any credit whatsoever, shall be allowed in any accounting or financial statement of the ceding insurer in respect to any so-called reinsurance contract unless, in such contract, the reinsurer undertakes to indemnify the ceding insurer, not only in form but in fact, against all or a part of the loss or liability arising out of the original insurance. Article 4.5. Unauthorized Insurers False Advertising Process Act

1620.1. (a) The purpose of this article is to subject to the jurisdiction of the commissioner and to the jurisdiction of the courts of this State, insurers not authorized to transact business in this State which place in or send into this State any false advertising designed to induce residents of this State to purchase insurance from insurers not authorized to transact business in this State. The Legislature declares it is in the interest of the citizens of this State who purchase insurance from insurers which solicit insurance business in this State in the manner set forth in the preceding sentence that such insurers be subject to the provisions of this article. Purpose

In furtherance of such state interest, the Legislature in this article provides a method of substituted service of process upon such insurers and declares that in so doing, it exercises its power to protect its residents and also exercises powers and privileges available to the State by virtue of Public Law 15, 79th Congress of the United States, Chapter 20, 1st Session, S. 340, which declares that the business of insurance and every person engaged therein shall be subject to the laws of the several states; the authority provided in such sections to be in addition to any existing powers of this State.

For the purpose of this section, the domiciliary state of an alien insurer shall be deemed to be the state of entry or the state of the principal office in the United States.

Failure to cease after notice

1620.4. If after 30 days following the giving of the notice mentioned in Section 1620.3 the insurer has failed to cease making, issuing, or circulating such false misrepresentations or causing the same to be made, issued or circulated in this State, and if the commissioner has reason to believe that a proceeding by him in respect to such matters would be to the interest of the public, and that the insurer is issuing or delivering contracts of insurance to residents of this State or collecting premiums on such contracts or doing any of the acts enumerated in Section 1620.5, he shall take action against the insurer under the Unfair Trade Practice Act.

Business transactions considered as consent to service

Service of a statement of charges and notice

(b) Service of a statement of charges and notices under the Unfair Trade Practice Act shall be made by any deputy or employee of the Department of Insurance delivering to and leaving with the commissioner or some person in apparent charge of his office, two copies thereof. Entry of order, judgment

(d) No cease or desist order or judgment by default under this section shall be entered until the expiration of 30 days from the date of the filing of the affidavit of compliance.

(e) Service of process and notice under the provisions of this article (commencing with Section 1620.1) shall be in addition to all other methods of service provided by law, and nothing in these sections shall limit or prohibit the right to serve any statement of charges, notices or process upon any insurer in any other manner now or hereafter permitted by law.

Severability of provisions

1620.6. If any provision of this article (commencing with Section 1620.1) or the application thereof to any person or circumstance is held invalid, such invalidity shall not affect other provisions or application of this article which can be given effect without the invalid provision or application, and to this end the provisions of this article are declared to be severable.

28740. This chapter shall be known as the California Hazardous Substances Labeling Act. Short title

28741. Unless the provisions or the context otherwise requires, these definitions, rules of construction, and general provisions shall govern the construction of this chapter. Definitions

28742. "Department" means the State Department of Public Health. "Department"

28743. "Hazardous substance" means any of the following substances or mixture of substances: "Hazardous substance"

(a) Any substance or mixture of substances which (1) is toxic, (2) is corrosive, (3) is an irritant, (4) is a strong sensitizer, (5) is flammable, or (6) generates pressure through decomposition, heat, or other means; if such substance or mixture of substances may cause substantial personal injury or substantial illness during or as a proximate result of any reasonably foreseeable handling or use, including reasonably foreseeable contact, ingesting, or inhalation, by children.

(b) Any substances which the department by regulation finds meet the requirements of subdivision (a) of this section.

(c) Any radioactive substance, if, with respect to such substance as used in a particular class of article or as packaged, the department determines by regulation that the substance is sufficiently hazardous to require labeling in accordance with this chapter in order to protect the public health.

Exceptions

28744. The term "hazardous substance" shall not apply to any of the following:

(a) Foods, drugs, or cosmetics subject to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040) or Chapter 2 (commencing at Section 26200) or Chapter 3 (commencing at Section 26450) of this division.

"Toxic"

28745. The term "toxic" shall apply to any substance, other than a radioactive susbtance, which has the capacity to produce personal injury or illness to man through ingestion, inhalation, or absorption through any body surface.

"Highly toxic"

28746. "Highly toxic" means any substance which falls within any of the following categories:

(a) Produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more laboratory white rats each weighing between 200 and 300 grams, at a single dose of 50 milligrams or less per kilogram of body weight, when orally administered.

(b) Produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more laboratory white rats each weighing between 200 and 300 grams, when inhaled continuously for a period of one hour or less at an atmospheric concentration of 200 parts per million by volume or less of gas or vapor or two milligrams per liter by volume or less of mist or dust, provided such concentration is likely to be encountered by man when the substance is used in any reasonably foreseeable manner.

(c) Produces death within 14 days in half or more than half of a group of 10 or more rabbits tested in a dosage of 200 milligrams or less per kilogram of body weight, when administered by continuous contact with the bare skin for 24 hours or less.

Precedence of human data

28747. If the department finds that available data on human experience with any substance indicate results different from those obtained on animals with the dosages or concentrations stated in Section 28746, the human data shall take precedence.

"Corrosive"

28750. "Strong sensitizer" means a substance which will cause on normal living tissue through an allergic or photodynamic process a hypersensitivity which becomes evident on reapplication of the same substance and which is designated as such by the department. Before designating any substance as a strong sensitizer, the department, upon consideration of the frequency of occurrence and severity of the reaction, shall find that the substance has a significant potential for causing hypersensitivity.

"Extremely flammable"

28751. The term "extremely flammable" shall apply to any substance which has a flash point at or below 20 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue open cup tester, and the term "flammable" shall apply to any substance which has a flash point of above 20 degrees to and including 80 degrees Fahrenheit, as determined by the Tagliabue open cup tester; except that the flammability of solids and of the contents of self-pressurized containers shall be determined by methods found by the department to be generally applicable to such materials or containers, respectively, and established by regulations issued by it, which regulations shall also define the terms "flammable" and "extremely flammable" in accord with such methods.

"Radioactive substance"

28752. "Radioactive substance" means a substance which emits ionizing radiation.

"Label"

28753. "Label" means a display of written, printed, or graphic matter upon the immediate container of any substance and a requirement made by, or pursuant to, this chapter that any word, statement, or other information appear on the label shall not be considered to be complied with unless such word, statement, or other information also appears (a) on the

"Misbranded package"

28755. "Misbranded package" or "misbranded package of a hazardous substance" means a hazardous substance in a container intended or suitable for household use or storage in the home which, except as otherwise provided by, or pursuant to Section 28775, 28778 or 28779, fails to bear a label which satisfies each of the following requirements:

(a) States conspicuously (1) the name and place of business of the manufacturer, packer, distributor, or seller; (2) the common or usual name or the chemical name, if there be no common or usual name, of the hazardous substance or of each component which contributes substantially to its hazard, unless the department by regulation permits or requires the use of a recognized generic name; (3) the signal word "DANGER" on substances which are extremely flammable, corrosive, or highly toxic; (4) the signal word "WARNING" or "CAUTION" on all other hazardous substances; (5) an affirmative statement of the principal hazard or hazards, such as "Flammable," "Vapor harmful," "Causes burns," "Absorbed through skin," or similar wording descriptive of the hazard; (6) precautionary measures describing the action to be followed or avoided, except when modified by the department pursuant to Section 28775, 28778, or 28779; (7) instructions, when necessary or appropriate, for first-aid treatment; (8) the word "Poison" for any hazardous substance which is defined as "highly toxic" by Section 28748; (9) instructions for handling and storage of packages which require special care in handling or storage; and (10) the statement "Keep out of the reach of children," or its practical equivalent.

Such an act shall result in the hazardous substance being in a misbranded package. As used in this section, the terms "drug" and "food" shall have the same meaning as in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 26200) and in Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 26450) of this division.

Guarantee Effect

28766. If the guarantee is to the effect that such article is not misbranded within the meaning of the Federal Hazardous Substances Labeling Act (Public Law 86-813, 74 Stat. 372), it shall be sufficient for all the purposes of this chapter and have the same force and effect as though it referred to this chapter whether given by a person residing in the United States or elsewhere.

Exemptions: Minor hazards, etc.

28778. If the department finds that, because of the size of the package involved or because of the minor hazard presented by the substance contained therein, or for other good and sufficient reasons, full compliance with the labeling requirements otherwise applicable under this chapter is impracticable or is not necessary for the adequate protection of the public health and safety, the department may exempt such substance from these requirements to the extent it determines to be consistent with adequate protection of the public health and safety.

Requirements imposed by other laws adequate

28779. The department may exempt from the requirements established by, or pursuant to, this chapter any container of a hazardous substance with respect to which it finds that adequate requirements satisfying the purposes of this chapter have been established by, or pursuant to, any other law enacted by the Legislature.

CHAPTER 322

An act to amend Section 689 of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to third party claims in attachment and execution proceedings.

[Approved by Governor May 11, 1961 Filed with Secretary of State May 11, 1961]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 689 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

689. If tangible or intangible personal property levied on, whether or not it be in the actual possession of the levying officer, is claimed by a third person as his property by a written claim verified by his oath or that of his agent, setting out the reasonable value thereof, his title and right to the possession thereof and delivered, together with a copy thereof, to the officer making the levy, such officer must release the property and the levy unless the plaintiff, or the person in whose favor the writ runs, within five days after written demand by such officer, made by registered or certified mail within five days after being served with such verified claim, gives such officer an undertaking executed by at least two good and sufficient sureties, in a sum equal to double the value of the property levied upon.

Such undertaking shall be made in favor of and shall indemnify such third person against loss, liability, damages, costs and counsel fees, by reason of such levy or such seizing, taking, collecting, withholding, or sale of such property by such officer; provided, however, that where the property levied upon is required by law to be registered or recorded in the name of the owner and it appears that at the time of the levy the defendant or judgment debtor was the registered or record owner of such property and the plaintiff, or the person in whose favor the writ runs, caused the levy to be made and maintained in good faith, and in reliance upon such registered or record ownership, there shall be no liability thereunder to the third person by the plaintiff, or the person in whose favor the writ runs, or his sureties, or the levying officer.

Exceptions to the sufficiency of the sureties and their justification may be had and taken in the same manner as upon an undertaking on attachment. If they, or others in their place, fail to justify at the time and place appointed, such officer must release the property and the levy; provided, however, that if no exception is taken within five days after notice of receipt of the undertaking, the third person shall be deemed to have waived any and all objections to the sufficiency of the sureties.

If objection be made to such undertaking, by such third person, on the ground that the amount thereof is not sufficient, or if for any reason it becomes necessary to ascertain the value of the property involved, the property involved may be appraised by one or more disinterested persons, appointed for that purpose by the court in which the action is pending or from which the writ issued, or by a judge thereof, or the court or judge may direct a hearing to determine the value of such property.

If, upon such appraisal or hearing, the court or judge finds that the undertaking given is not sufficient an order shall be made fixing the amount of such undertaking, and within five days thereafter an undertaking in the amount so fixed may be given in the same form and manner and with the same effect as the original.

The officer making the levy may demand and exact the undertaking herein provided for notwithstanding any defect, informality or insufficiency of the verified claim delivered to him. Such officer shall not be liable for damages to any such third person for the levy upon, or the collection, taking, keeping or sale of such property if no claim is delivered as herein provided, nor, in any event, shall such officer be liable for the levy upon, or the holding, release or other disposition of such property in accordance with the provisions of this section.

If such undertaking be given, the levy shall continue and such officer shall retain any property in his possession for the purposes of the levy under the writ; provided, however, that if an undertaking be given under the provisions of Section 710b of this code, such property and the levy shall be released.

Whenever a verified third party claim is delivered to the officer as herein provided, upon levy of execution or attachment (whether any undertaking hereinabove mentioned be given or not), the plaintiff, or the person in whose favor the writ runs, the third party claimant, or any one or more joint third party claimants, shall be entitled to a hearing in the court in which the action is pending or from which the writ issued for the purpose of determining title to the property in question. Such hearing must be granted by the said court upon petition therefor, which must be filed within 15 days after the delivery of the third party claim to the officer. Such hearing must be had within 20 days from the filing of such petition, unless continued as herein provided. Ten days' notice of such hearing must be given to the officer, to the plaintiff or the person in whose favor the writ runs, and to the third party claimant, or their attorneys, which notice must specify that the hearing is for the purpose of determining title to the property in question; provided, that no such notice need to be given to the party filing the petition. The court may continue the hearing beyond the said 20-day period, but good cause must be shown for any such continuance. Whenever the petition for such hearing is filed by the third party claimant, or by any one or more joint third party claimants, neither such petition nor proceedings pursuant thereto may be dismissed without consent of the plaintiff or the person in whose favor the writ runs. The court may order the sale of any perishable property held by such officer and direct the disposition of the proceeds of such sale. The court may, by order, stay execution sale, or forbid a transfer or other disposition of the property involved, until the proceedings for the determination of such title can be commenced and prosecuted to termination, and may require, as a condition of such order, such bond as the court may deem necessary. Such orders may be modified or vacated by the judge granting the same, or by the court in which the proceeding is pending, at any time prior to the termination of such proceedings, upon such terms as may be just. At the hearing had for the purpose of determining title, the third party claimant shall have the burden of the proof. The third party claim delivered to the officer shall be filed by him with the court and shall constitute the pleading of such third party claimant, subject to the power of the court to permit an amendment in the interest of justice, and it shall be deemed controverted by the plaintiff or other person in whose favor the writ runs. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to deprive anybody of the right to a jury trial in any case where, by the Constitution, such right is given, but a jury trial shall be waived in any such case in like manner as in the trial of an action. No findings shall be required in any proceedings under this section. At the conclusion of the hearing the court shall give judgment determining the title to the property in question, which shall be conclusive as to the right of the plaintiff, or other person in whose favor the writ runs, to have said property levied upon, taken, or held, by the officer and to subject said property to payment or other satisfaction of his judgment. In such judgment the court may make all proper orders for the disposition of such property or the proceeds thereof. If the property or levy shall have been released by the officer for want of an undertaking, and final judgment shall go for the plaintiff or other person in whose favor the writ runs, the officer shall retake or levy upon the property on such writ if the writ is still in his hands, or if the writ shall have been returned, another writ may be issued on which the officer may take or otherwise levy upon such property. An appeal lies from any judgment determining title under this section, such appeal to be taken in the manner provided for appeals from the court in which such proceeding is had.

Despite the pendency of this question, the Walker River Irrigation District of the State of Nevada is proposing to proceed in April of this year with the financing of an irrigation project in that state, which project would severely interfere with proposed uses of the waters of the Walker River by water users in this State. This act would terminate California's recognition of appropriative rights in the State of Nevada in connection with the Walker River. In order for this act to be effective prior to the commencement of financing and construction of the proposed irrigation project in Nevada, it is necessary that this act go into immediate effect.

[Approved by Governor May 15, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1961]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 585 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

585. Judgment may be had, if the defendant fails to answer the complaint, as follows:

1. In an action arising upon contract for the recovery of money or damages only, if the defendant has, or if more than one defendant, if any of said defendants have, been personally served and no answer or demurrer or notice of motion to strike (of the character hereinafter specified) or notice of motion to quash service of summons pursuant to Section 416.1 of this code or notice of the filing of a petition for writ of mandate as provided in Section 416.3 of this code has been filed with the clerk or judge of the court within the time specified in the summons, or such further time as may be allowed, the clerk, or the judge if there be no clerk, upon application of the plaintiff, and proof of such service of summons, must enter the default of the defendant or defendants, so served, and immediately thereafter enter judgment for the principal amount demanded in the complaint or a lesser amount if credit has been acknowledged, together with interest allowed by law or in accordance with the terms of the contract, and the costs against said defendant, or defendants, or against one or more of said defendants. If, by rule of court, a schedule of attorney fees to be allowed has been adopted, the clerk may include in the judgment an attorney fee in accordance with such schedule if the contract provides that an attorney fee be allowed in the event of an action thereon; provided, that plaintiff shall have the right, upon filing a written request at the time of application for entry of the default of the defendant or defendants, to have the attorney fee fixed by the court, whereupon, after the entry of said default, the court shall hear the application for determination of the attorney fee and render judgment for the same and for the other relief demanded in the complaint, or a lesser amount if credit has been acknowledged, and the costs against said defendant, or defendants, or against one or more of said defendants.

2. In other actions, if the defendant has been personally served and no answer or demurrer or notice of motion to strike (of the character hereinafter specified) or notice of motion to quash service of summons pursuant to Section 416.1 of this code or notice of the filing of a petition for writ of mandate as provided in Section 416.3 of this code has been filed with the clerk or judge of the court within the time specified in the summons, or such further time as may be allowed, the clerk, in courts having a clerk, must enter the default of the defendant; and thereafter the plaintiff may apply to the court for the relief demanded in the complaint; in courts which have no clerk, the court must hear the evidence offered by the plaintiff, and must render judgment in his favor for such sum (not exceeding the amount stated in the complaint), as appears by such evidence to be just. If the taking of an account, or the proof of any fact, is necessary to enable the court to give judgment or to carry the judgment into effect, the court may take the account or hear the proof, or may, in its discretion, order a reference for that purpose. And where the action is for the recovery of damages, in whole or in part, the court may order the damages to be assessed by a jury; or if, to determine the amount of damages, the examination of a long account is involved by a reference as above provided.

3. In all actions where the service of the summons was by publication the plaintiff, upon the expiration of the time for answering, may, upon proof of the publication, and that no answer or demurrer or notice of motion to strike (of the character hereinafter specified) or notice of motion to quash service of summons pursuant to Section 416.1 of this code or notice of the filing of a petition for writ of mandate as provided in Section 416.3 of this code has been filed, apply for judgment; and the court must thereupon require proof to be made of the allegations of the complaint; and if the defendant is not a resident of the State, must require the plaintiff, or his agent, to be examined, on oath, respecting any payments that have been made to the plaintiff, or to anyone for his use, on account of any demand mentioned in the complaint, and may render judgment for the amount which he is entitled to recover; provided that, in all cases affecting the title to or possession of real property, where the service of the summons was by publication and the defendant has failed to answer, no judgment shall be rendered upon proof of mere occupancy, unless such occupancy shall have continued for the time and shall have been of the character necessary to confer title by prescription, and in all cases where the plaintiff bases his claim upon a paper title, the court shall require evidence establishing plaintiff's equitable right to judgment before rendering such judgment; provided further, however, that in actions involving merely the possession of real property where the complaint is verified and shows by proper allegations that no party to the action claims title to the real property involved, either by prescription, accession, transfer, will or succession but only the possession thereof, the court may render judgment upon proof of occupancy by plaintiff and ouster by defendant.

A notice of motion to strike within the meaning of this section is a notice of motion to strike the whole or any part of a pleading filed within the time within which the moving party is required otherwise to plead to said pleading. The notice of the motion to strike shall specify a hearing date not more than 15 days from the filing of said notice, plus any additional time that the moving party is otherwise required to give the adverse party. The filing of such notice of motion does not extend the time within which to demur.

4. In the cases referred to in subdivisions 2 and 3 of this section, excepting those cases which involve the dissolution or annulment of marriage or separate maintenance or the custody of children, or upon application to have an attorney's fee fixed by the court pursuant to subdivision 1 of this section, the court in its discretion may permit the use of affidavits, in lieu of personal testimony, as to all or any part of the evidence or proof required or permitted to be offered, received or heard in such cases. The facts stated in such affidavit or affidavits shall be within the personal knowledge of the affiant and shall be set forth with particularity, and each affidavit shall show affirmatively that the affiant, if sworn as a witness, can testify competently thereto.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 348.6 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

Inspection en route

348.6. No inspection is required prior to transportation to a point and from an area designated by the chief pursuant to this section as one in which inspection may be made en route or at destination. Whenever the chief determines that in any particular area in which there is operating a licensed slaughterhouse, public sales yard or stockyard, or other cattle sales market, the volume of shipments or other factors render it impossible or impractical to have inspection prior to shipment he may, by order, authorize inspection en route or at point of destination. The order shall specify the point to which and the area from which such shipments may be made. All cattle so shipped shall be accompanied by a certificate of ownership or certificate of consignment, the original of which shall be surrendered to the inspector prior to the inspection of the cattle. The certificate of consignment or certificate of ownership shall show the date, loading point, address of the owner, destination of shipment, number and description of cattle including brands if any, and motor vehicle license number of the vehicle transporting the cattle. A copy of the certificate shall be kept on file in the office of the seller for a period of one year after the sale. Proof of ownership 349.2. If, upon inspection, there is found any animal or hide which does not bear the recorded brand of the person presenting the same for inspection, such person shall show the inspector a bill of sale, certificate of inspection, or other proof of ownership of such animal or hide.

SEC. 4. Section 349.8 of said code is amended to read:

Cattle shipped for slaughter. Brand inspection

349.8. Cattle shipped for slaughter which have been inspected prior to shipment shall be given a brand inspection at destination and no charge made for such inspection when the duplicate copy of a certificate of inspection or a sales yard bill of sale is produced which was issued within five days prior to slaughter or if the cattle, owned by the slaughterer, are held in enclosures which are used exclusively by the slaughterer and located within one mile of the slaughterhouse and the cattle are driven, not transported, from said enclosure to said slaughterhouse.

SEC. 5. Section 350 of said code is amended to read:

Release

350. The chief may release, or provide for the release of, cattle, carcasses, and hides without the inspection required by Section 349.9, but inspection shall be made en route or at point of destination and the owner shall keep such cattle segregated until inspected.

SEC. 6. Section 353 of said code is amended to read:

Fees

353. All brand inspection fees are due and payable at the time of inspection and the amount due for all inspections made shall be paid to the inspector within fifteen (15) days after the issuance of the brand inspection certificates therefor unless there is on deposit with the bureau a bond in an amount and form approved by the chief or a cash deposit to cover the payment of such fees. Any fees due and payable for brand inspections made and remaining unpaid or not having been paid as required by this section may be recovered by the director in accordance with the provisions of Section 28.6 of this code. Inspection services may be refused for nonpayment of prior services rendered.

Term of license

2451. Licenses issued before January 1, 1962, expire and become invalid at 12 p.m. on December 31, 1961, if not renewed. Licenses renewed on or after December 31, 1961, and before March 1, 1964, and licenses issued after December 31, 1961, and before March 1, 1964, expire and become invalid at 12 p m. on February 29, 1964, if not renewed. Thereafter, all licenses expire and become invalid at 12 p m. on the last day of February of each even-numbered year if not renewed.

To renew an unexpired license, the licensee shall, on or before each of the dates on which it would otherwise expire, apply for renewal on a form prescribed by the board, and pay the prescribed renewal fee, if any.

SEC. 9. Section 2451.1 is added to said code, to read:

Initial license fee

2451.1. Every person to whom a license is issued after December 31, 1961, shall, as a condition precedent to its issuance, and in addition to any application, examination or other fee, pay the prescribed initial license fee, if any. The board may, by regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of the initial license fee, however, where the license is issued less than 45 days before the date on which it will expire.

SEC. 10. Section 2451.2 is added to said code, to read:

Renewal period

2451.2. Except as provided in Section 2452, a license which has expired may be renewed at any time within five years after its expiration on filing of application for renewal on a form prescribed by the board and payment of the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date. If the license is not renewed within 30 days after its expiration, the licensee, as a condition precedent to renewal, shall also pay the prescribed delinquency fee, if any. Renewal under this section shall be effective on the date on which the application is filed, on the date on which the renewal fee is paid, or on the date on which the delinquency fee, if any, is paid, whichever last occurs. If so renewed, the license shall continue in effect through the expiration date provided in Section 2451 which next occurs after the effective date of the renewal, when it shall expire and become invalid if it is not again renewed.

The provisions of this section govern the renewal, and the fees payable therefor, of licenses which expired under the law in effect before October 1, 1961, as well as licenses which expire on October 1, 1961, or thereafter. A license which was forfeited or suspended for failure to renew under the law in effect before October 1, 1961, shall be considered to have expired on the date that it became forfeited or suspended.

SEC. 11. Section 2452 of said code is amended to read:

Suspended licenses

2452. A suspended license is subject to expiration and shall be renewed as provided in this article, but such renewal does not entitle the licensee, while the license remains suspended, and until it is reinstated, to engage in the licensed activity, or in any other activity or conduct in violation of the order or judgment by which the license was suspended.

A license revoked on disciplinary grounds is subject to expiration as provided in this article, but it may not be renewed. If it is reinstated after its expiration, the licensee, as a condition to reinstatement, shall pay a reinstatement fee in an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last preceding regular renewal date before the date on which it is reinstated, plus the delinquency fee, if any, accrued at the time of its revocation.

SEC. 12. Section 2452.1 is added to said code, to read:

Effect of failure to renew

Obtaining new license Requirements

2452.1. A person who fails to renew his license within five years after its expiration may not renew it, and it may not be restored, reissued, or reinstated thereafter, but such person may apply for and obtain a new license if:

(a) He is of good moral character,

(b) No fact, circumstance, or condition exists which, if the license were issued, would justify its revocation or suspension,

(c) He takes and passes the examination, if any, which would be required of him if he were then applying for the license for the first time, or otherwise establishes to the satisfaction of the board or examining committee, as the case may be, with authority to pass on the qualifications of applicants for such license that, with due regard for the public interest, he is qualified to practice or engage in the profession or activity in which he again seeks to be licensed, and

(d) He pays all of the fees that would be required of him if he were then applying for the license for the first time.

The board may, by regulation, provide for the waiver or refund of all or any part of the examination fee in those cases in which a license is issued without an examination pursuant to the provisions of this section.

This section shall not be construed to authorize the issuance of a license or certificate of drugless practitioner, or a license or certificate to practice midwifery, or to practice naturopathy.

SEC. 13. Section 2454 of said code is amended to read:

Contingent fund

2454. The receipts of the initial license fees and renewal fees collected by the Board of Medical Examiners from persons licensed under this chapter shall be paid into the contingent fund of the Board of Medical Examiners of California, and shall be used to carry out the provisions of this chapter relating to the compilation, publication, and sale of a directory.

If there is any surplus in these receipts after the expenses of issuing the directories have been paid, the board may apply the surplus to any of the other expenses incurred by it under the provisions of this chapter.

SEC. 14. Section 2457.5 of said code is amended and renumbered to read:

Exemption from renewal fee

2217. Every person licensed under this chapter, including a person licensed by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners, is exempt from the payment of the renewal fee in any one of the following instances:

(a) While engaged in full-time active service in the Medical Corps of the Army, Navy, Air Force or Marines or in the United States Public Health Service.

(b) While fulfilling his full-time period of training and active service, whether as a draftee or volunteer, under the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 and any amendments or additions thereto or acts supplementary thereof.

Every person exempted from the payment of the renewal fee by this section shall not engage in any private practice and shall become liable for such fee for the current renewal period upon the completion of his period of full-time active service and shall have a period of 60 days after becoming liable within which to pay the fee before the delinquency fee becomes applicable. Any person who completes his period of full-time active service within 60 days of the end of a renewal period is exempt from the payment of the renewal fee for that period.

The time spent in such full-time active service or full-time training and active service shall not be included in the computation of the five-year period for renewal of a license provided in Sections 2451.2 and 2452.1.

SEC. 15. Section 2458 of said code is amended to read:

Fee schedule

2458. The amount of fees and refunds prescribed by this chapter in connection with physicians and surgeons certificates, certificates to practice chiropody, certificates to practice midwifery, certificates of drugless practitioners, and certificates of naturopaths is that fixed by the following schedule:

(a) The fee for each applicant for a certificate by written examination, unless otherwise provided in this chapter, shall be fixed annually by the board at an amount not to exceed fifty dollars ($50) nor less than fifteen dollars ($15). If the applicant's credentials are insufficient or if he does desire to take the examination, the sum of ten dollars ($10) shall be retained and the remainder of the fee is returnable on application.

(b) Each applicant for a certificate based upon a national board diplomate certificate, and each applicant for a reciprocity certificate, shall pay an application fee in the sum of ten dollars ($10) at the time his application is filed. If the applicant qualifies for a certificate, he shall be notified and, in addition to the initial license fee, shall pay a fee which shall be fixed annually by the board at a sum not in excess of one hundred dollars ($100) nor less than five dollars ($5) for the issuance of the certificate.

(c) Each applicant for a certificate under Article 6 shall pay an application fee in the sum of ten dollars ($10) at the time his application is filed. If the applicant qualifies for a certificate, he shall be notified and, in addition to the initial license fee, shall pay a fee which shall be fixed annually by the board at a sum not in excess of forty dollars ($40) nor less than five dollars ($5) for the issuance of the certificate.

(d) The renewal fee shall be fixed by the board at a sum not in excess of twenty dollars ($20) nor less than two dollars ($2).

(e) The delinquency fee is ten dollars ($10).

(f) The duplicate certificate fee is two dollars ($2).

(g) The endorsement fee is five dollars ($5).

(h) The fee for issuance of a duplicate certificate upon a change of name authorized by law of a person holding a certificate under this chapter shall be two dollars ($2).

(i) The initial license fee is an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued, except that if the license will expire less than one year after its issuance, then the initial license fee is an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the license is issued.

SEC. 16. Section 2459 is added to said code, to read:

Same

2459. The amount of fees payable in connection with permits issued under Section 2393 is as follows:

(a) The initial permit fee is an amount equal to the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the permit is issued, except that, if the permit will expire less than one year after its issuance, then the initial permit fee is an amount equal to fifty percent (50%) of the renewal fee in effect on the last regular renewal date before the date on which the permit is issued.

(b) The renewal fee shall be fixed by the board at not more than twenty dollars ($20) nor less than two dollars ($2).

(c) The delinquency fee is ten dollars ($10).

SEC. 17. Section 2393 of the Business and Professions Code, as amended by Senate Bill No. 481, of the 1961 Regular Session, is amended to read:

Fictitious, false, etc., names

2393. The use of any fictitious, false or assumed name, or any name other than his own, by the holder of any certificate, either alone or in conjunction with a partnership group, in any sign or advertisement in connection with his practice, or in any advertisement or announcement of his practice, or in any public announcement of his practice, except as hereinafter expressly permitted, constitutes unprofessional conduct within the meaning of this chapter. Holders of physicians' and surgeons' certificates and holders of certificates to practice podiatry issued under this chapter may practice, within the scope of their respective certificates, in partnerships or groups of physicians and surgeons or of podiatrists, respectively.

Any physician and surgeon or partnership or group of physicians and surgeons, or any podiatrist or partnership or group of podiatrists, engaging in practice under any name that would otherwise be a violation of this section may practice under such name if, and only if, such individual, partnership or group holds an outstanding unexpired, unsuspended, and unrevoked permit issued by the board under the provisions of this section.

Permit: Requirements

The board shall issue written permits authorizing the holder to use a name specified in the permit in connection with his or their practice if, and only if, the board finds to its satisfaction that:

(a) The applicant or applicants are either duly licensed physicians and surgeons or podiatrists, as the case may be;

(b) The place or establishment, or the portion thereof, in which the applicant or applicants practice, is owned or leased by the applicant or applicants, and the practice conducted at such place or establishment, or portion thereof, is wholly owned and entirely controlled by the applicant or applicants.

(c) The name under which the applicant or applicants propose to operate contains at least one of the following designations: "Medical Group," "Medical Clinic," "Podiatrists' Group" or "Podiatrists' Clinic";

(d) All licensed persons practicing at the location designated in the application hold valid and outstanding licenses and that no charges of unprofessional conduct are pending against any person practicing at such location.

Permits issued under this section by the Board of Medical Examiners shall expire and become invalid unless renewed at the times and in the manner provided in Article 15 for the renewal of certificates issued under this chapter. Permits issued under this section by the Board of Osteopathic Examiners shall expire on December 31st of each year, and may be renewed by the board on payment of the fee equal to the annual tax and registration fee payable by licentiates of the Board of Osteopathic Examiners.

Any permit issued under this section may be revoked or suspended at any time that the board finds that any one of the requirements for original issuance of a permit is no longer being fulfilled by the individual or group to whom the permit was issued. Proceedings for revocation or suspension shall be governed by the Administrative Procedure Act.

In the event charges of unprofessional conduct are filed against the holder of a permit issued under this section, or a partnership or a member of a group to whom a permit has been issued under this section, proceedings shall not be commenced for revocation or suspension of the permit until final determination of such charges of unprofessional conduct and unless such charges have resulted in revocation of license.

The amendments to this section enacted at the 1955 Regular Session of the Legislature shall not be applicable to establishments licensed under Chapter 1 of Division 2 of the Health and Safety Code.

SEC. 2. Section 3352.5 is added to said code, to read:

3352.5. In each unified school district, each district included in whole in a unified school district formed under this chapter (commencing at Section 3001), the boundaries of which are coterminous with the unified school district in which it was included, shall cease to remain in existence and the liability for the bonded indebtedness of such district shall become the liability of the unified school district.

Each school district wholly included in a unified school district formed pursuant to Chapter 6 (commencing with Section 2401) of this division shall be continued in existence for the purpose of retaining liability for the bonded indebtedness of such included district, if the boundaries of the included district are not coterminous with those of the unified district. Effect: Assembly Bill No 463

An act to amend Section 30774 of the Streets and Highways Code, as added by Chapter 1784 of the Statutes of 1959, and to amend Section 30794 of the Streets and Highways Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 1194 of the 1961 Regular Session, relating to San Francisco Bay area toll bridges, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor May 15, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 30774 of the Streets and Highways Code, as added by Chapter 1784 of the Statutes of 1959, is amended to read:

30774. As an alternative method of financing, the California Toll Bridge Authority may pay for the cost of the reconstruction and improvement work on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge or the Dumbarton Bridge, including repayment to the State Highway Fund for funds advanced for studies, from any funds now on hand or from future revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge up to and including December 31, 1962, insofar as such funds are determined by the authority to be available after providing for the payment for the work necessary to complete the reconstruction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge as authorized by Section 30609. In the event the work is so financed the authority shall continue to assess, and the department shall collect, tolls on the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton Bridges after the repayment of all bonds secured thereby either at rates then in effect or at rates equal to or in excess of those payable on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. All revenues so collected shall be paid into the same fund as revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and shall be available for expenditure for the same purposes as the revenues from the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, including the pledging thereof as security for future issues of revenue bonds that may be authorized by the authority. Alternative method of financing

SEC. 2. Section 30794 of the Streets and Highways Code, as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 1194 of the 1961 Regular Session, is amended to read:

30794. As an alternative method of financing, the California Toll Bridge Authority may pay for the costs of the Same reconstruction and improvement work on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge or the Dumbarton Bridge, including repayment to the State Highway Fund for funds advanced for studies, from any funds now on hand or from future revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge up to and including December 31, 1962, insofar as such funds are determined by the authority to be available after providing for the payment for the work necessary to complete the reconstruction of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge as authorized by Section 30609. In the event the work is so financed the authority shall continue to assess, and the department shall collect, tolls on the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton Bridges after the repayment of all bonds secured thereby either at rates then in effect or at rates equal to or in excess of those payable on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge. All revenues so collected shall be paid into the same fund as revenues of the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge and shall be available for expenditure for the same purposes as the revenues from the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, including the pledging thereof as security for future issues of revenue bonds that may be authorized by the authority.

Effect: Stats 1961, Ch 57

SEC. 3. Notwithstanding Section 4 of this act, Section 2 of this act shall become operative only if Section 30794 of the Streets and Highways Code as proposed by Assembly Bill No. 1194 is enacted by the Legislature at its 1961 Regular Session, and in such case at the same time as Assembly Bill No. 1194 takes effect; at which time Section 30774 of the Streets and Highways Code, as added by Chapter 1784 of the Statutes of 1959 and as amended by Section 1 of this act, is repealed.

Urgency

SEC. 4. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

All bonds outstanding against the revenues of the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton Bridges will soon be called and redeemed, and there are now certain categories of vehicles wherein the present law would require an increase in the tolls on the San Mateo-Hayward and Dumbarton Bridges at the time the bonds are paid off and there is no necessity for such increase at this time. To prevent such increases being imposed, it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 403

An act to add Section 6607 to the Business and Professions Code, relating to the practice of barbering.

[Approved by Governor May 15, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 6607 is added to the Business and Professions Code, to read:

6607. It is unlawful for any barber college to render any service under the representation that the fee which is to be, or is, charged for such service is at a discount, or under the representation that the fee which is to be, or is, charged for such service is at a percentage or otherwise less than the average fee than that regularly charged under like conditions by the college so licensed or by other persons for such service.

The provisions of this section shall not be construed to modify or establish fees or to modify or affect in any manner any other provision of this chapter.

CHAPTER 404

An act to amend Section 14052 of the Education Code, relating to the State Teachers' Retirement System.

[Approved by Governor May 15, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 16, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 14052 of the Education Code is amended to read:

14052. Service shall be computed by school years and not by calendar years, portions of years served being accumulated and counted as service. All of the service rendered during any one school year in employment requisite for membership in this system shall not count for more than one year, and the service credited under this system to any member as rendered during any school year, shall not exceed the fraction of a year which makes one year of service, when added to the service credited to such member under the State Employees' Retirement System, the Retiring Annuities System of the University of California, or any locally administered retirement system in California except a local system as defined by Section 13824, as rendered during such year. No time shall be included for which, or on the basis of which a member is entitled to receive a pension in a lump sum or installment payments, for other than naval or military service from any source other than this system or a local retirement system. If a retired member becomes entitled to such a pension, his retirement allowance shall be reduced thereafter to exclude the time upon which the pension is based, without other change in his retirement status. No time shall be included during which a member is on retirement under this system If, at retirement, there are contributions to the Permanent Fund and the Retirement Annuity Fund remaining to the credit of the member which were made with respect to time on the basis of which the member will not be entitled to receive a benefit from those funds, the board shall refund to the member such contributions as it may allocate to said time with credited interest.

In lieu of any other benefits provided by this chapter (commencing with Section 13801), any member who rendered service prior to July 1, 1956, shall receive retirement benefits for that service at least equal to the benefits which he would have received for that service under the provisions of this chapter as they existed on June 30, 1956.

Short title

SEC. 10. This act may be cited as the First Validating Act of 1961.

Urgency

SEC. 11. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The peace, health and safety of the citizens of the State require the orderly and unhampered functioning of public bodies and such functioning depends upon the validity of the organization, boundaries, and governing officers or boards of public bodies, and upon the validity of acts, proceedings, and bonds of public bodies, and it is therefore imperative and essential that such matters be validated so that during the period before this act would otherwise become effective:

(1) Citizens of the State can be afforded the protection of the police, fire, safety, sanitary, and other regulations and protections provided by public bodies;

(2) Public works and construction by public bodies can be commenced and continued without delay or restriction, to provide sewers, waterworks, schools, storm drains, flood control works, sanitary facilities, electric and other utility works, firehouses and facilities, police stations and facilities, streets,

(1) The ordinance has been in effect for a period of 30 days prior to the filing of the tentative map of any subdivision for which payment of a fee is required;

(2) The ordinance refers to a drainage element of a general plan adopted pursuant to Section 65469 of the Government Code, which contains an estimate of the total costs of constructing the local drainage facilities required by the plan;

(3) The drainage plan, in the case of a city, situated in a county having a countywide general drainage plan, has been determined by resolution of the governing body of the county to be in conformity with the county drainage plan, or in the case of a city situated in a county not having a countywide general drainage plan but in a district having a general drainage plan, has been determined by resolution of the governing body of the district to be in conformity with the district general plan, or in the case of a city situated in a county having a countywide general drainage plan and in a district having a general drainage plan, has been determined by resolution of the governing body of the county to be in conformity with the county drainage plan and by resolution of the governing body of the district to be in conformity with the district general plan;

(4) The costs, whether actual or estimated, are based upon findings by the governing body that subdivision and development of property within the planned local drainage area will require construction of the facilities described in the drainage plan, and that the fees are fairly apportioned within the local drainage area either on the basis of benefits conferred on property proposed for subdivision or on the need for local drainage facilities created by the proposed subdivision and development of other property within the local drainage area;

(5) The fee as to any property proposed for subdivision within a local drainage area does not exceed the pro rata share of the amount of the total actual or estimated costs of all facilities within the local drainage area which would be assessable on such property if such costs were apportioned uniformly on a per acre basis.

(6) The drainage facilities planned are in addition to existing local drainage facilities serving the area at the time of the adoption of the drainage plan for the area.

Fees required by an ordinance adopted pursuant to this section shall be paid into a "planned local drainage facilities fund." A separate fund shall be established for each local drainage area. Moneys in such fund shall be expended solely for the construction or reimbursement for construction of local drainage facilities within the planned local drainage area from which the fees comprising the fund were collected. An ordinance adopted pursuant to this section may provide for the acceptance of cash or other consideration in lieu of the payment of fees.

A county or city imposing fees pursuant to this section may advance money from its general fund to pay the costs of constructing drainage facilities within a local drainage area and reimburse the general fund for such advances from the planned local drainage facilities fund for the local drainage area in which the drainage facilities were constructed.

A county or city imposing fees pursuant to this section may incur an indebtedness for the construction of drainage facilities within a local drainage area; provided that the sole security for repayment of such indebtedness shall be moneys in the planned local drainage facilities fund.

CHAPTER 429

An act to amend Sections 11043, 11066 and 11136 of the Insurance Code, relating to fraternal benefit societies.

[Approved by Governor May 20, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 20, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 11043 of the Insurance Code is amended to read:

11043. A society may grant nonforfeiture benefits, cash surrender values, certificate loans and such other options as its laws may permit. Nonforfeiture benefits

In the case of certificates issued after September 21, 1952, other than those for which reserves are computed on the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, the 1941 Standard Industrial Table or the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, the value of any nonforfeiture benefit granted and the amount of any cash surrender value granted shall not be less than the excess, if any, of (a) over (b) as follows:

(a) The reserve under the certificate determined on the basis specified in the certificate; and

(b) The sum of any indebtedness to the society on the certificate, including interest due and accrued, and a surrender charge of not more than two and one-half per centum of the face amount of the certificate, which, in the case of insurance on the lives of children, shall be the ultimate face amount of the certificate, if death benefits provided therein are graded.

However, in the case of certificates issued on a substandard basis or in the case of certificates, the reserves for which are computed upon the American Men Ultimate Table of Mortality, the term of any extended insurance benefit including accompanying pure endowment, if any, may be computed upon the rates of mortality not greater than 130 per centum of those shown by the mortality table specified in the certificate for the computation of the reserve

In the case of certificates issued after September 21, 1952, for which reserves are computed on the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, the 1941 Standard Industrial Table or the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, the value of any nonforfeiture benefit granted and the amount of any cash surrender value granted shall not be less than the corresponding amount ascertained in accordance with the provisions of Sections 10161, 10162, 10163, 10163.5, 10164, and 10165 applicable to life insurance companies.

SEC. 2. Section 11066 of said code is amended to read:

11066. After September 21, 1952, no life insurance benefit certificate shall be delivered or issued for delivery in this State unless a copy of the form, the application therefor and Filing and approval of form any endorsements or riders attached thereto shall have been filed with and approved by the commissioner and unless the certificate shall have a title clearly and correctly describing its form on the face and filing back and contain in substance the following standard provisions; provided, however, that the commissioner may approve and thereby authorize the delivery or issuance for delivery in this State of any such form which in his opinion contains provisions relating to any one or more of the several requirements hereinafter set forth which are more favorable to insured members than the one or ones herein required.

(a) A provision stating the amount of premiums which are payable by the insured under the certificate, and a provision that the member shall be obligated to pay, as a condition of the continuance in force of the certificate, additional premiums imposed in accordance with the constitution or laws of the society then in force or thereafter lawfully enacted.

(b) A provision that the member is entitled to a grace of not less than a full month (or 30 days at the option of the society) in which the payment of any premium, after the first, may be made, and that during such grace period the certificate shall continue in full force. However such certificate may provide that in case a loss occurs during the grace period before the overdue premium is paid, the amount of such overdue premium or premiums may be deducted in any settlement under the certificate.

(c) A provision that the member shall be entitled to have the certificate reinstated at any time within three years from the date of default in payment of premiums, unless the certificate has been completely terminated through the application of a nonforfeiture benefit, upon the production of evidence of insurability and good health satisfactory to the society and the payment of all overdue premiums and any other indebtedness to the society upon the certificate, together with interest on such premiums and such indebtedness, if any, at a rate not exceeding 6 per centum per annum compounded annually; but a society may provide for a minimum interest payment of not exceeding ten cents ($0.10) for each month's premium in arrears at the date of reinstatement, if such premiums do not exceed 12 in number.

(d) Except in the case of pure endowment, annuity or reversionary annuity contracts, or term certificates of uniform amount, or renewal thereof, of 15 years or less expiring before age 66, for which uniform premiums are payable during the entire term of the certificate, or term certificates of decreasing amount on which the granting of a nonforfeiture benefit is not required in order to comply with the minimum values specified in this chapter, a provision that, in the event of default in payment of any premium after three full years' premiums have been paid, or after premiums for a lesser period have been paid if the contract so provides, the society will grant, upon proper request not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default, a nonforfeiture benefit on the plan stipulated in the certificate, effective as of such due date, of such value as specified in this chapter.

(e) A provision that one nonforfeiture benefit as specified in the certificate in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (d) above shall become effective automatically unless the member elects another available nonforfeiture benefit or, if society makes available a cash surrender value, such cash surrender value, not later than 60 days after the due date of the premium in default.

(f) A statement of the mortality table and rate of interest used in determining all nonforfeiture benefits and cash surrender values available under the certificate, and after September 21, 1954, a brief general statement of the method used in calculating such benefits and values available under the certificate on any certificate anniversary beyond the last anniversary for which such benefits and values are consecutively shown in the certificate with an explanation of the manner in which such benefits and values are altered by the existence of paid-up additions credited to the certificate or by any indebtedness to the society on the certificate.

(g) A table showing in figures every nonforfeiture benefit and cash surrender value available under the certificate for each certificate anniversary either during the first 20 certificate years or during the term of the certificate, whichever is shorter, such benefits and values to be calculated upon the assumption that there are no dividends or paid-up additions credited to the certificate and that there is no indebtedness to the society on account of or secured by the certificate.

(h) A provision that the certificate shall be incontestable after it has been in force during the lifetime of the member for a period of two years from its date of issue except for nonpayment of premiums, risks limited or not assumed, violation of the provisions of the certificate relating to military, aviation, or naval service, and violation of the provisions relating to suspension or expulsion as substantially set forth in the certificate. At the option of the society, supplemental provisions relating to benefits in the event of temporary or permanent disability or hospitalization and provisions which grant additional insurance specifically against death by accident or accidental means, may also be excepted. The certificate shall be incontestable on the ground of suicide after it has been in force during the lifetime of the member for a period of two years from date of issue. The certificate may provide, as to statements made to procure reinstatement, that the society shall have the right to contest a reinstated certificate within a period of two years from date of reinstatement with the same exceptions as herein provided.

(i) A provision that if it shall be found at any time before final settlement under the certificate that the age or sex of the insured (or the age or sex of any other person, if considered in determining the premium) has been misstated, and the discrepancy and the premium payment involved have not been adjusted, the amount payable under the certificate shall be such as the premium would have purchased at the correct age and sex, except that if the correct age was not an insurable age under the society's charter, constitution or bylaws, only the premiums paid to the society, less any payments previously made to the member, shall be returned or, at the option of the society, the amount payable under the certificate shall be such as the premiums would have purchased at the correct age and sex according to the society's promulgated rates and any extension thereof based upon actuarial principles.

(j) A provision or provisions which recite fully, or which set forth the substance of, all sections of the charter, constitution, laws, rules or regulations of the society, in force at the time of issuance of the certificate, the violation of which will result in the termination of, or in the reduction of, the benefit or benefits payable under the certificate.

Any of the foregoing provisions or portions thereof not applicable by reason of the plan of insurance may, to the extent inapplicable, be omitted from the certificate. The word "premiums" as used in this section means premiums, rates, or other required contributions by whatever name known.

SEC. 3. Section 11136 of said code is amended to read:

Certified valuation

11136. Such valuation shall be certified by a competent actuary or, at the expense of the society, verified by the actuary of the insurance supervisory official of the state of domicile of the society, and the legal minimum standard of valuation shall be as follows:

(a) All benefits promised by certificates issued prior to September 22, 1952, and the rates therefor shall be valued in accordance with the provisions of law applicable thereto as of the date of issuance, but not lower than the standards and interest assumptions used in the calculation of rates for such benefits.

(b) In the case of certificates issued after September 21, 1952, the minimum standard for the valuation of all such certificates shall be 3 percent interest and the following tables:

(i) For all ordinary certificates of life insurance issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such certificates—the American Men Ultimate Table of Mortality, with Bowerman's or Davis' Extension thereof, or, at the option of the society, the Commissioners 1941 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table or the Commissioners 1958 Standard Ordinary Mortality Table, using actual age of the insured for male risks and an age not more than three years younger than the actual age of the insured for female risks.

(ii) For all industrial life insurance certificates issued on the standard basis, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such certificates—the 1941 Standard Industrial Mortality Table.

(iii) For annuity and pure endowment certificates, excluding any disability and accidental death benefits in such certificates—the 1937 Standard Annuity Mortality Table or the Annuity Mortality Table for 1949 Ultimate, or any modification of either of these tables approved by the commissioner.

(iv) For disability benefits in or supplementary to ordinary certificates—Hunter's Disability Table or the Class 3 Disability Table (1926), modified to conform to the contractual waiting period, or the tables of Period 2 disablement rates and the 1930 to 1950 termination rates of the 1952 Disability Study of the Society of Actuaries with due regard to the type of benefit. Any such table shall, for active lives, be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance certificates.

(v) For accidental death benefits in or supplementary to certificates—the Inter-Company Double Indemnity Mortality Table or the 1959 Accidental Death Benefits Table. Either table shall be combined with a mortality table permitted for calculating the reserves for life insurance certificates.

(vi) For temporary accident and health benefits in or supplementary to certificates—Class 3 Disability Table (1926) with Conference Modifications.

(vii) For life insurance issued upon the substandard basis and other special benefits—such tables as may be approved by the commissioner.

(c) The commissioner may, in his discretion, accept other standards for valuation if he finds that the reserves produced thereby will not be less in the aggregate than reserves computed in accordance with the minimum valuation standard prescribed. Whenever the mortality experience under the certificates valued on the same mortality table is in excess of the expected mortality according to such table for a period of three consecutive years, the commissioner may require additional reserves when in his judgment deemed necessary on account of such certificates.

(d) Notwithstanding the provisions of subsections (a) and (b) of this section, any society, with the consent of the insurance supervisory official of the state of domicile of the society, and under such conditions, if any, which he may impose, may establish and maintain reserves on its certificates in excess of the reserves required thereunder, but the contractual rights of any insured member shall not be affected thereby.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1300.13 of the Agricultural Code is amended to read:

1300.13. (a) The Director of Agriculture shall administer and enforce the provisions of this act and shall have and may exercise any or all of the administrative powers conferred by Sections 11180 to 11191, inclusive, of the Government Code upon the head of a department of the State. In order to effectuate the declared purposes of this act, the Director of Agriculture is hereby authorized to issue, administer and enforce the provisions of marketing orders hereunder regulating producer marketing or the handling of agricultural commodities within this State.

(b) Whenever the director has reason to believe that the issuance of a marketing order, or amendments to an existing marketing order, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of this act with respect to any agricultural commodity, he shall, either upon his own motion or upon application of any producer or handler of such commodity, or any organization of such persons, give due notice of, and an opportunity for, a public hearing upon a proposed marketing order or such amendments to such existing marketing order.

(c) (1) Notice of any hearing called for such purpose shall be given by the director by publishing a notice of such hearing for a period of not less than five (5) days in a newspaper of general circulation published in the capital of the State and in such other newspaper or newspapers as the director may prescribe. No such public hearing shall be held prior to five (5) days after the last day of such period of publication.

(2) The director shall also mail a copy of such notice of hearing and a copy of such proposed marketing order, or proposed amendments, to all producers or handlers of such agricultural commodity whose names and addresses appear upon lists of such persons, on file in the Department of Agriculture, who may be directly affected by the provisions of such proposed marketing order or such proposed amendments.

(3) Such notice of hearing shall set forth the date and place of said hearing, the agricultural commodity, and the area, covered by such proposed marketing order or such proposed amendments and a statement that the director will receive, at such hearing, in addition to testimony and evidence as to other necessary and relevant matters set forth in Section 1300.14 hereof, testimony and evidence with respect to the accuracy and sufficiency of lists on file with the director which show the names and addresses of producers or handlers of such agricultural commodity directly affected by such proposed marketing order or proposed amendments, and the quantities of such commodity delivered by such producers to handlers or handled by such handlers in the marketing season next preceding such hearing.

(4) Such hearing shall be public and all testimony shall be received under oath. A full and complete record of all proceedings at such hearing shall be made and maintained on file in the office of the director. At such hearing the director shall receive, in addition to other necessary or relevant matters, testimony and evidence upon the matters set forth in Section 1300.14 hereof, and testimony and evidence with respect to the accuracy and sufficiency of the lists on file with the director which show the names of the producers or handlers of such agricultural commodity, directly affected by the provisions of such proposed marketing order or proposed amendments, and with respect to the quantities of such agricultural commodity delivered by such producers or handled by such handlers in the marketing season next preceding such hearing.

(d) (1) In order to provide the director with accurate and reliable information, in the event such information is not then on file in the Department of Agriculture, with respect to the persons who may be directly affected by the provisions of any proposed marketing order for any agricultural commodity, the director is hereby authorized and directed, whenever said director has reason to believe that the issuance of a marketing order will tend to effectuate the declared policy of this act or upon receipt of a written application for a hearing pursuant to subsection (b) of this Section 1300 13, to notify all handlers of such agricultural commodity, by publication of a notice as hereinafter required, to file with the director within ten (10) days from the last date of such publication a report, properly certified, showing:

(d) The quantities of such agricultural commodity received by such handler from each such producer in the marketing season next preceding the filing of such report.

(2) Said notice to handlers requiring them to file said report shall be published by the director for a period of not less than five (5) days in a newspaper of general circulation published in the capital of the State and in such other newspaper or newspapers as the director may prescribe

The director shall also mail a copy of such notice to file such report to all handlers of such agricultural commodity whose names and addresses appear upon the lists on file in the Department of Agriculture who may be directly affected by the provisions of such proposed marketing order.

Each handler of such agricultural commodity, directly affected by the provisions of such proposed marketing order shall file such verified report with the director within the time specified herein. Failure or refusal of any handler to file such report as herein specified shall not invalidate any proceeding taken or marketing order issued hereunder. The director is authorized and directed to proceed upon the basis of such information and reports as may otherwise be available.

(3) From such reports so filed and the information so received or available to the director, including any proper corrections, the director shall prepare a list of the names and addresses of such producers and the volume of such commodity produced or marketed by all such producers and a list of the names and addresses of such handlers and the volume of such commodity handled by all such handlers, directly affected by the provisions of such proposed marketing order, or amendments thereto, in the preceding marketing season. Such lists shall constitute complete and conclusive lists for use in any finding made by the director pursuant to the provisions of Section 1300 16 (a) hereof and such findings shall be conclusive.

The information contained in the individual reports of handlers filed with the director pursuant to the provisions of this section shall not be made public by the director in such form but the information contained in such reports may be prepared in combined form for use by the director, his agents, or other interested persons, in the formulation, administration and enforcement of a marketing order, or may be made available pursuant to court order, but shall not be made available to any one for private purposes.

(e) In order to effectuate the declared policy of this act, the director shall have the power, after due notice and opportunity for hearing, to enter into marketing agreements with processors, distributors, producers and others engaged in the handling of any agricultural commodity, regulating the preparation for market and handling of such agricultural commodity. Such marketing agreements shall be binding upon the signatories thereto exclusively. The purposes and provisions of the chapter relating to marketing orders shall be applicable to marketing agreements except as follows:

(1) The provisions of paragraph 3 of subdivision (d) of this section requiring the preparation of an official list of the names and addresses of all producers and the volume of such commodity produced or marketed by all such producers in the preceding marketing season and a list of the names and addresses of all handlers and the volume of such commodity handled by all such handlers, during the preceding marketing season, shall not be applicable to marketing agreements.

(2) The provisions of paragraphs (1) and (2) of subdivision (a) of Section 1300 16, and the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 1300 16 insofar as the provisions of said subdivision (c) prescribe requirements for termination by request in writing, shall not be applicable to marketing agreements; provided, however, that prior to the issuance of any marketing agreement, or amendment thereto, the director shall find, in addition to the findings set forth in subdivision (c) of Section 1300.14 hereof, that said marketing agreement or any amendment thereto has been assented to by a sufficient number of signatories who handle a sufficient volume of the commodity affected to accomplish the objectives of such agreement or amendment thereto and provide sufficient moneys from assessments levied to defray the necessary expenses of formulation, issuance, administration and enforcement.

(3) The provisions of subdivision (a) of Section 1300.19 shall not be applicable to marketing agreements.

(f) In the preparation of the list of producers to be used in the formulation or amendment of any marketing order or marketing agreement pursuant to this section, the director may omit from such list the names of persons who make only casual sales of the product involved or whose sales or marketings of such product are incidental to urban home ownership or the result of activity other than a commercial farm business venture. Any person or class of persons who are excluded from such lists shall not be subject to the provisions, including the payment of any assessments, applicable upon producers, as prescribed in any such marketing order or marketing agreement. At any public hearing held in connection with the formulation or amendment of a marketing order or marketing agreement, the director shall receive testimony with respect to the establishment of the official producer list applicable, and may thereafter issue rules and regulations to effectuate the provisions of this subdivision and of this chapter.

The Legislature hereby declares that the addition of this subdivision (f) is made for the purpose of clarification of the existing law.

(g) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 1300 12 of this chapter, the director is authorized to issue and make effective marketing agreements or marketing orders affecting handlers only which include only provisions authorized in paragraphs (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13) of subdivision (b) of Section 1300 15 of this chapter, or any of such provisions, but no others, as may be applicable to the agricultural commodity regulated which is handled within this State, without regard to whether or not such agricultural commodity is produced within this State.

The legislative body shall also have the power to make such improvements on city streets adjacent to the pedestrian mall where such improvements are necessary or convenient to the operation of the mall. 11304. Not later than the hour set for hearing any person owning, or having any legal or equitable interest in, any real property which might suffer legal damage by reason of the establishment of the proposed pedestrian mall may file with the clerk of the legislative body a written claim of damages. The filing of such claim shall operate as a bar in any subsequent action to the recovery of any damages or compensation in excess of the amount stated in such claim. Any such claim may be withdrawn by the claimant at any time by written withdrawal with the same effect as if it had never been filed.

SEC. 9. Section 11400 of said code is amended to read:

Actions for damages

11400. If following the hearing the legislative body shall determine that the pedestrian mall shall be established, and if at that time there remain any written claims for damages which have not been allowed pursuant to Section 11310 or which have not been withdrawn, the legislative body shall direct that an action or actions be brought in the superior court in the name of the city by the county counsel, district attorney, or city attorney, as the case may be, or other attorney designated by the legislative body for a determination of the damages, if any, to which the claimant may legally be entitled because of the establishment of the pedestrian mall. Such action shall be in the nature of a proceeding in eminent domain for the condemnation of the right or rights in real property, the taking of which by the establishment of the pedestrian mall results in the damages claimed. Except as may otherwise be provided in this part, such action and proceeding shall be governed so far as the same may be made applicable by those provisions of the Code of Civil Procedure relating to actions and proceedings in eminent domain; provided, however, that the time within which the proceedings may be abandoned pursuant to Section 1255a of said code and the time within which the sum of money assessed must be paid under Section 1251 of said code are hereby extended to one year from the date of the final judgment. In any such action the resolution of intention adopted pursuant to this part and the resolution adopted under Section 11311 shall be conclusive evidence of the public necessity of the proposed pedestrian mall; that the property or rights in property to be taken are necessary therefor, and that the pedestrian mall is planned and located in the manner which will be compatible with the greatest public good and the least private injury.

Repeal

SEC. 10. Section 11403 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 11. Section 11501 of said code is amended to read:

Proceedings under this part and the adoption of such ordinance notwithstanding, the city and its legislative body shall retain its police powers and other rights and powers relating to the city streets constituting a part of the pedestrian mall. No action taken pursuant to this part shall be interpreted or construed to be a vacation or abandonment, in whole or in part, of any city street or any right therein, it being intended that the establishment of a pedestrian mall pursuant to this part be a matter of regulation only. Nothing in this part shall be interpreted or construed to prevent the city and its legislative body at any time subsequent to the adoption of the ordinance provided for in this chapter, from abandoning the operation of the pedestrian mall, from changing the extent of the pedestrian mall, or from changing or repealing any of the rules and regulations pertaining to the pedestrian mall but Section 11304 shall not operate as a bar to any claim of damages resulting solely from changes made subsequent to the adoption of the ordinance provided for in this chapter.

expenditures required during the ensuing fiscal year for the maintenance, operation, repair and improvement of the pedestrian mall and shall deduct from such estimate the amount of revenues, if any, which the legislative body estimates will accrue to the city during such year from the operation of the pedestrian mall 11804. The legislative body may levy and collect in any year upon and against all of the taxable land and improvements within the district a special ad valorem assessment sufficient to raise a sum of money not exceeding the net amount determined pursuant to Section 11803 but the rate of assessment in any one year shall not exceed twenty-five cents ($0.25) on each one hundred dollars ($100) assessed value as shown on the assessment roll used by the city for city taxation.

SEC. 2. Title 9 (commencing with Section 1280) is added to Part 3 of the Code of Civil Procedure, to read:

TITLE 9. ARBITRATION

CHAPTER 1. GENERAL PROVISIONS

Definitions

1280. As used in this title:

(a) "Agreement" includes but is not limited to agreements providing for valuations, appraisals and similar proceedings and agreements between employers and employees or between their respective representatives.

(b) "Award" includes but is not limited to an award made pursuant to an agreement not in writing.

(c) "Controversy" means any question arising between parties to an agreement whether such question is one of law or of fact or both.

(d) "Neutral arbitrator" means an arbitrator who is (1) selected jointly by the parties or by the arbitrators selected by the parties or (2) appointed by the court when the parties or the arbitrators selected by the parties fail to select an arbitrator who was to be selected jointly by them.

(e) "Party to the arbitration" means a party to the arbitration agreement:

(1) Who seeks to arbitrate a controversy pursuant to the agreement;

(2) Against whom such arbitration is sought pursuant to the agreement; or

(3) Who is made a party to such arbitration by order of the neutral arbitrator upon such party's application, upon the application of any other party to the arbitration or upon the neutral arbitrator's own determination.

(f) "Written agreement" shall be deemed to include a written agreement which has been extended or renewed by an oral or implied agreement.

References to other laws

1280.2. Whenever reference is made in this title to any portion of the title or of any other law of this State, the reference applies to all amendments and additions thereto now or hereafter made.

CHAPTER 2. ENFORCEMENT OF ARBITRATION AGREEMENTS

Validity of agreements

1281. A written agreement to submit to arbitration an existing controversy or a controversy thereafter arising is valid, enforceable and irrevocable, save upon such grounds as exist for the revocation of any contract.

Court order

1281.2. On petition of a party to an arbitration agreement alleging the existence of a written agreement to arbitrate a controversy and that a party thereto refuses to arbitrate such controversy, the court shall order the petitioner and the respondent to arbitrate the controversy if it determines that an agreement to arbitrate the controversy exists, unless it determines that:

(a) The right to compel arbitration has been waived by the petitioner; or

(b) Grounds exist for the revocation of the agreement.

If the court determines that a written agreement to arbitrate a controversy exists, an order to arbitrate such controversy may not be refused on the ground that the petitioner's contentions lack substantive merit.

If the court determines that there are other issues between the petitioner and the respondent which are not subject to arbitration and which are the subject of a pending action or special proceeding between the petitioner and the respondent and that a determination of such issues may make the arbitration unnecessary, the court may delay its order to arbitrate until the determination of such other issues or until such earlier time as the court specifies.

Stay of action

1281.4. If a court of competent jurisdiction, whether in this State or not, has ordered arbitration of a controversy which is an issue involved in an action or proceeding pending before a court of this State, the court in which such action or proceeding is pending shall, upon motion of a party to such action or proceeding, stay the action or proceeding until an arbitration is had in accordance with the order to arbitrate or until such earlier time as the court specifies.

If an application has been made to a court of competent jurisdiction, whether in this State or not, for an order to arbitrate a controversy which is an issue involved in an action or proceeding pending before a court of this State and such application is undetermined, the court in which such action or proceeding is pending shall, upon motion of a party to such action or proceeding, stay the action or proceeding until the application for an order to arbitrate is determined and, if arbitration of such controversy is ordered, until an arbitration is had in accordance with the order to arbitrate or until such earlier time as the court specifies.

If the issue which is the controversy subject to arbitration is severable, the stay may be with respect to that issue only.

Appointment of arbitrator

1281.6. If the arbitration agreement provides a method of appointing an arbitrator, such method shall be followed. If the arbitration agreement does not provide a method for appointing an arbitrator, the parties to the agreement who seek arbitration and against whom arbitration is sought may agree on a method of appointing an arbitrator and that method shall be followed. In the absence of an agreed method, or if the agreed method fails or for any reason cannot be followed, or when an arbitrator appointed fails to act and his successor has not been appointed, the court, on petition of a party to the arbitration agreement, shall appoint the arbitrator.

When a petition is made to the court to appoint a neutral arbitrator, the court shall nominate five persons from lists of persons supplied jointly by the parties to the arbitration or obtained from a governmental agency concerned with arbitration or private disinterested association concerned with arbitration. The parties to the agreement who seek arbitration and against whom arbitration is sought may within five days of receipt of notice of such nominees from the court jointly select the arbitrator whether or not such arbitrator is among the nominees. If such parties fail to select an arbitrator within the five-day period, the court shall appoint the arbitrator from the nominees.

CHAPTER 3. CONDUCT OF ARBITRATION PROCEEDINGS

Arbitrator

1282. Unless the arbitration agreement otherwise provides, or unless the parties to the arbitration otherwise provide by an agreement which is not contrary to the arbitration agreement as made or as modified by all of the parties thereto:

(a) The arbitration shall be by a single neutral arbitrator.

(b) If there is more than one arbitrator, the powers and duties of the arbitrators, other than the powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator, may be exercised by a majority of them if reasonable notice of all proceedings has been given to all arbitrators.

(c) If there is more than one neutral arbitrator:

(1) The powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator may be exercised by a majority of the neutral arbitrators.

(2) By unanimous agreement of the neutral arbitrators, such powers and duties may be delegated to one of their number but the power to make or correct the award may not be so delegated.

(d) If there is no neutral arbitrator, the powers and duties of a neutral arbitrator may be exercised by a majority of the arbitrators.

Hearing

1282.2. Unless the arbitration agreement otherwise provides, or unless the parties to the arbitration otherwise provide by an agreement which is not contrary to the arbitration agreement as made or as modified by all the parties thereto:

(a) The neutral arbitrator shall appoint a time and place for the hearing and cause notice thereof to be served personally or by registered or certified mail on the parties to the arbitration and on the other arbitrators not less than seven days before the hearing. Appearance at the hearing waives the right to notice.

(b) The neutral arbitrator may adjourn the hearing from time to time as necessary. On request of a party to the arbitration for good cause, or upon his own determination, the neutral arbitrator may postpone the hearing to a time not later than the date fixed by the agreement for making the award, or to a later date if the parties to the arbitration consent thereto.

(c) The neutral arbitrator shall preside at the hearing, shall rule on the admission and exclusion of evidence and on questions of hearing procedure and shall exercise all powers relating to the conduct of the hearing.

(d) The parties to the arbitration are entitled to be heard, to present evidence and to cross-examine witnesses appearing at the hearing, but rules of evidence and rules of judicial procedure need not be observed. On request of any party to the arbitration, the testimony of witnesses shall be given under oath.

(e) If a court has ordered a person to arbitrate a controversy, the arbitrators may hear and determine the controversy upon the evidence produced notwithstanding the failure of a party ordered to arbitrate, who has been duly notified, to appear.

(f) If an arbitrator, who has been duly notified, for any reason fails to participate in the arbitration, the arbitration shall continue but only the remaining neutral arbitrator or neutral arbitrators may make the award.

The deposition shall be taken in the manner prescribed by law for the taking of depositions in civil actions. The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19664 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19664. Whenever, subsequent to the date on which a conditional apportionment becomes final, territory is withdrawn from a state-aided district and no portion of the apportionment was expended for school property acquired by the acquiring district:

(1) If the acquiring district is a state-aided district, the assessed valuation in the territory acquired shall be included in determining assessed valuation of the property in the acquiring district, and shall thereafter be excluded in determining assessed valuation of the property in the state-aided district, for purposes of the computations under Sections 19601 to 19607, inclusive;

(2) If the acquiring district is not a state-aided district, the State Controller shall determine the percentage relationship, at the time of the withdrawal, between (a) the assessed valuation in the territory acquired, together with the current assessed valuation in all other territory theretofore acquired by the acquiring district from the state-aided district since the date of its first conditional apportionment under this chapter, and (b) the current assessed valuation of the state-aided district as it was territorially constituted on such latter date.

If the percentage of assessed valuation in acquired territory is, in the aggregate, a percentage equal to or greater than 10 percent, the State Controller shall, by deducting such percentage from 100 percent, obtain the "complement percentage." Until the next withdrawal of territory from the state-aided district to the acquiring district, the assessed valuation of the state-aided district for purposes of the computations under Sections 19601 to 19607, inclusive, shall be determined by dividing the current assessed valuation of the state-aided district as territorially constituted immediately subsequent to the last withdrawal, by the complement percentage.

Whenever, pursuant to this section, the assessed valuation of the state-aided district is adjusted for repayment computation purposes by use of the complement percentage, liability for the annual repayment computed shall be apportioned between the state-aided district and the acquiring district by multiplying such annual repayment by the complement percentage, the product representing the liability of the state-aided district, and the remainder of the computed repayment representing the liability of the acquiring district.

(3) In the event that two or more nonstate-aided districts acquire territory from the aforesaid state-aided district, the Controller shall determine the formulae for apportioning liability for such annual repayment between the districts affected (including the formulae for determining what assessed valuations shall be used within the affected districts or territories withdrawn, and the dates of determination thereof), as will in his opinion best comply with the principles set forth above, irrespective of whether such formulae are in literal compliance therewith.

24601. If contributions are paid by an employer to or under a stock bonus, pension, profit-sharing, or annuity plan, or if compensation is paid or accrued on account of any employee under a plan deferring the receipt of such compensation, such contributions or compensation shall not be deductible under Section 24343 (relating to trade or business expenses) but if they satisfy the conditions of the section, they shall be deductible under this section, subject, however, to the following limitations as to the amounts deductible in any year: Deduction for contributions to stock bonus, etc., fund

In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a pension trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust for which the trust is exempt under Section 17501 of this code, in an amount determined as follows:

(a) An amount not in excess of 5 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to all the employees under the trust, but such amount may be reduced for future years if found by the Franchise Tax Board upon periodical examinations at not less than five-year intervals to be more than the amount reasonably necessary to provide the remaining unfunded cost of past and current service credits of all employees under the plan; plus

(b) Any excess over the amount allowable under paragraph (a) necessary to provide with respect to all of the employees under the trust the remaining unfunded cost of their past and current service credits distributed as a level amount, or a level percentage of compensation, over the remaining future service of each such employee, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, but if such remaining unfunded cost with respect to any three individuals is more than 50 percent of such remaining unfunded cost, the amount of such unfunded cost attributable to such individuals shall be distributed over a period of at least five taxable years, or

(c) In lieu of the amounts allowable under paragraphs (a) and (b) above, an amount equal to the normal cost of the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, plus, if past service or other supplementary pension or annuity credits are provided by the plan, an amount not in excess of 10 percent of the cost which would be required to completely fund or purchase such pension or annuity credits as of the date when they are included in the plan, as determined under regulations prescribed by the Franchise Tax Board, except that in no case shall a deduction be allowed for any amount (other than the normal cost) paid in after such pension or annuity credits are completely funded or purchased.

(d) Any amount paid in an income year in excess of the amount deductible in such year under the foregoing limitations shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time to the extent of the difference between the amount paid and deductible in each such succeeding year and the maximum amount deductible for such year in accordance with the foregoing limitations.

SEC. 4. Section 24603 of said code is amended to read:

Same

24603. (a) In the income year when paid, if the contributions are paid into a stock bonus or profit-sharing trust, and if such income year ends within or with an income year of the trust with respect to which the trust is exempt under Section 17501 of this code, in an amount not in excess of 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during the income year to all employees under the stock bonus or profit-sharing plan. If in any income year there is paid into the trust, or a similar trust then in effect, amounts less than the amounts deductible under the preceding sentence, the excess, or if no amount is paid, the amounts deductible shall be carried forward and be deductible when paid in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any such succeeding income year shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such succeeding income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. In addition, any amount paid into the trust in any income year in excess of the amount allowable with respect to such year under the preceding provisions of this subsection shall be deductible in the succeeding income years in order of time, but the amount so deductible under this sentence in any one such succeeding income year together with the amount allowable under the first sentence of this subsection shall not exceed 15 percent of the compensation otherwise paid or accrued during such income year to the beneficiaries under the plan. The term "stock bonus or profit-sharing trust," as used in this subsection, shall not include any trust designed to provide benefits upon retirement and covering a period of years, if under the plan the amounts to be contributed by the employer can be determined actuarially as provided in Section 24601. If the contributions are made to two or more stock bonus or profit-sharing trusts, such trusts shall be considered a single trust for purposes of applying the limitations in this subsection.

(b) In the case of a profit-sharing plan, or a stock bonus plan in which contributions are determined with reference to profits, of a group of corporations which is an affiliated group within the meaning of Section 1504 of the Federal Internal Revenue Code of 1954, if any member of such affiliated group is prevented from making a contribution which it would otherwise have made under the plan, by reason of having no current or accumulated earnings or profits or because such earnings or profits are less than the contributions which it would otherwise have made, then so much of the contribution which such member was so prevented from making may be made, for the benefit of the employees of such member, by the other members of the group, to the extent of current or accumulated earnings or profits, except that such contribution by each such other member shall be limited, where the group does not file a consolidated return, to that proportion of its total current and accumulated earnings or profits remaining after adjustment for its contribution deductible without regard to this subsection which the total prevented contribution bears to the total current and accumulated earnings or profits of all members of the group remaining after adjustment for all contributions deductible without regard to this subsection. Contributions made under the preceding sentence shall be deductible under subsection (a) by the employer making such contribution, and, for the purpose of determining amounts which may be carried forward and deducted under the second sentence of subsection (a) in succeeding income years, shall be deemed to have been made by the employer on behalf of whose employees such contributions were made.

SEC 5. Section 24605 of said code is amended to read:

Same

24605. If a stock bonus, pension, or profit-sharing trust would qualify for exemption under Section 17501 of this code except for the fact that it is a trust created or organized outside the United States, contributions to such a trust by an employer which is a resident, or corporation, or other entity of the United States, shall be deductible under the preceding sections.

(b) In the case of a refund, from the date of the overpayment to a date preceding the date of the refund warrant by not more than 30 days, such date to be determined by the Franchise Tax Board

SEC 8. Section 26134 of said code is amended to read:

Remedies

26134. Any taxpayer from which a tax is collected by withholding under this article shall be entitled to the remedies set forth in Chapter 22. [Approved by Governor May 24, 1961 Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 1961]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1985 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Subpoenas

1985. The process by which the attendance of a witness is required is the subpoena. It is a writ or order directed to a person and requiring his attendance at a particular time and place to testify as a witness. It may also require him to bring with him any books, documents, or other things under his control which he is bound by law to produce in evidence.

Subpoena duces tecum

An application before trial for a subpoena duces tecum shall be, or contain, an affidavit showing good cause for the production of the matters and things described in such subpoena and shall specify the exact matters or things desired to be produced, shall set forth in full detail the materiality thereof to the issues involved in the case, and shall state that the witness has the desired matters or things in his possession or under his control.

SEC. 2. Section 2016 of said code is amended to read:

Depositions

2016. (a) Any party may take the testimony of any person, including a party, by deposition upon oral examination or written interrogatories for the purpose of discovery or for use as evidence in the action or for both purposes. Such depositions may be taken in an action at any time after the service of the summons or the appearance of the defendant, and in a special proceeding after a question of fact has arisen therein. After commencement of the action, the deposition may be taken without leave of court, except that leave of court, granted with or without notice, and for good cause shown, must be obtained if the notice of the taking of the deposition is served by the plaintiff within 20 days after service of the summons on, or appearance of, the defendant. The attendance of witnesses or the production of books, documents, or other things at depositions may be compelled by the use of subpoena as provided in Chapter 2 (commencing with Section 1985), Title 3, Part 4 of this code.

(b) Unless otherwise ordered by the court as provided by subdivision (b) or (d) of Section 2019 of this code, the deponent may be examined regarding any matter, not privileged, which is relevant to the subject matter involved in the pending action, whether it relates to the claim or defense of the examining party, or to the claim or defense of any other party, including the existence, description, nature, custody, condition and location of any books, documents, or other tangible things and the identity and location of persons having knowledge of relevant facts. It is not ground for objection that the testimony will be inadmissible at the trial if the testimony sought appears reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence. All matters which are privileged against disclosure upon the trial under the law of this State are privileged against disclosure through any discovery procedure. This article shall not be construed to change the law of this State with respect to the existence of any privilege, whether provided for by statute or judicial decision, nor shall it be construed to incorporate by reference any judicial decisions on privilege of any other jurisdiction.

(c) Examination and cross-examination of deponents may proceed as permitted at the trial under the provisions of this code

(d) At the trial or upon the hearing of a motion or an interlocutory proceeding, any part or all of a deposition, so far as admissible under the rules of evidence, may be used against any party who was present or represented at the taking of the deposition or who had due notice thereof, in accordance with any one of the following provisions:

(1) Any deposition may be used by any party for the purpose of contradicting or impeaching the testimony of deponent as a witness.

(2) The deposition of a party to the record of any civil action or proceeding or of a person for whose immediate benefit said action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or of anyone who at the time of taking the deposition was an officer, director, superintendent, member, agent, employee, or managing agent of any such party or person may be used by an adverse party for any purpose.

(3) The deposition of a witness, whether or not a party, may be used by any party for any purpose if the court finds: (i) that the witness is dead; or (ii) that the witness is at a greater distance than 150 miles from the place of trial or hearing, or is out of the State, unless it appears that the absence of the witness was procured by the party offering the deposition; or (iii) that the witness is unable to attend or testify because of age, sickness, infirmity, or imprisonment; or (iv) that the party offering the deposition has been unable to procure the attendance of the witness by subpoena; or (v) upon application and notice, that such exceptional circumstances exist as to make it desirable, in the interest of justice and with due regard to the importance of presenting the testimony of witnesses orally in open court, to allow the deposition to be used.

(4) Subject to the requirements of this section, a party may offer in evidence all or any part of a deposition, and if such party introduces only part of such deposition, any party may introduce any other parts.

Substitution of parties does not affect the right to use depositions previously taken; and, when an action in any court of the United States or of any state has been dismissed and another action involving the same subject matter is afterward brought between the same parties or their representatives or successors in interest, all depositions lawfully taken and duly filed in the former action may be used in the latter as if originally taken therefor.

(e) Subject to the provisions of subdivision (c) of Section 2021 of this code, objection may be made at the trial or hearing to receiving in evidence any deposition or part thereof for any reason which would require the exclusion of the evidence if the witness were then present and testifying.

(f) A party shall not be deemed to make a person his own witness for any purpose by taking his deposition. Except where the deposition is used under the provisions of paragraph (2) of subdivision (d) of this section, the introduction in evidence of the deposition or any part thereof for any purpose other than that of contradicting or impeaching the deponent, or for explaining or clarifying portions of the said deposition offered by an adverse party, makes the deponent the witness of the party introducing the deposition, as to the portions of the deposition introduced by said party. At the trial or hearing any party may rebut any relevant evidence contained in a deposition whether introduced by him or by another party.

SEC. 3. Section 2034 of said code is amended to read:

Refusal to answer

2034. (a) If a party or other deponent refuses to answer any question propounded upon examination during the taking of a deposition, or refuses to produce at a deposition any books, documents or other things under his control pursuant to a subpoena duces tecum, the examination shall be completed on other matters or adjourned, as the proponent of the question may prefer. Such proponent, on reasonable notice to all persons affected thereby, may apply to the court in which the action is pending (if the deponent is a party or otherwise subject to the jurisdiction of such court), or if such court does not have jurisdiction over the deponent, to the superior court of the county in which the deposition is taken for an order compelling an answer or if good cause is shown, the production of such book, document, or other thing. Such motion may also be made, without further notice, if the proponent notifies the refusing party or other deponent at the time of such refusal that the proponent will apply to the court for an order pursuant to this subdivision of this section, at a specified time not less than 10 nor more than 30 days from the date of such refusal, in which event the officer before whom the deposition is taken shall direct the refusing party or other deponent to attend a session of said court at said time. Not less than five days prior to the hearing on any such motion, the proponent must lodge with the court the original transcript of such deposition. Upon the refusal of a party to answer any interrogatory submitted under Section 2030 of this code, the proponent of the question may on like notice make like application for such an order. Upon the refusal of a party to admit or deny the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, after having been served with a request under Section 2033 of this code, the party serving such request may on like notice make like application for an order requiring further answers to such request or, in the alternative, for an order that the genuineness of said documents or the truth of said matters of fact be deemed admitted for the purpose of the action. If the motion is granted and if the court finds that the refusal was without substantial justification the court may require the refusing party or deponent and the party or attorney advising the refusal or either of them to pay to the examining party the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney's fees If the motion is denied and if the court finds that the motion was made without substantial justification, the court may require the examining party or the attorney advising the motion or both of them to pay to the refusing party or witness the amount of the reasonable expenses incurred in opposing the motion including reasonable attorney's fees.

(b) (1) The court may punish as a contempt (i) the refusal of any person to obey a subpoena issued by that court to attend a deposition or to be sworn as a witness, or (ii) the refusal of any person to attend a session of court (either personally or by his attorney) after having been directed to attend in the manner provided in subdivision (a) of this section, or (iii) the refusal of any person to obey any order made by the court under subdivision (a) of this section.

(2) If any party or person for whose immediate benefit the action or proceeding is prosecuted or defended, or an officer, director, superintendent, member, agent, employee or managing agent of any such party or person refuses to obey an order made under subdivision (a) of this section, or if any party or an officer or managing agent of a party refuses to obey an order made under Sections 2019, 2031 or 2032 of this code, the court may make such orders in regard to the refusal as are just, and among others the following:

(i) An order that the matters regarding which the questions were asked, or the character or description of the thing or land, or the contents of the paper, or the physical or mental or blood condition of the person sought to be examined, or any other designated facts shall be taken to be established for the purposes of the action in accordance with the claim of the party obtaining the order;

(ii) An order refusing to allow the disobedient party to support or oppose designated claims or defenses, or prohibiting him from introducing in evidence designated documents or things or items of testimony, or from introducing evidence of the physical or mental or blood condition of the person sought to be examined;

(iii) An order striking out pleadings or parts thereof, or staying further proceedings until the order is obeyed, or dismissing the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or rendering a judgment by default against the disobedient party;

(iv) An order requiring the disobedient party or the attorney advising such disobedience to pay to the party obtaining an order under this section the reasonable expenses incurred in obtaining the order, including reasonable attorney's fees.

(v) In lieu of any of the foregoing orders or in addition thereto, an order directing the arrest of any party or agent of a party for disobeying any of such orders except an order to submit to a physical or mental or blood examination;

(vi) Where a party has failed to comply with an order under subdivision (a) of Section 2032 of this code requiring him to produce another for examination, such orders as are listed in (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subdivision of this section, unless the party failing to comply shows that he is unable to produce such person for examination.

(c) If a party, after being served with a request under Section 2033 of this code to admit the genuineness of any documents or the truth of any matters of fact, serves a sworn denial thereof and if the party requesting the admissions thereafter proves the genuineness of any such document or the truth of any such matter of fact, he may apply to the court in the same action for an order requiring the other party to pay him the reasonable expenses incurred in making such proof, including reasonable attorney's fees. If the court finds that there were no good reasons for the denial and that the admissions sought were of substantial importance, the order shall be made.

party, or dismiss the action or proceeding or any part thereof, or enter a judgment by default against that party, or impose such other penalties of a lesser nature as the court may deem just, and may order that party or his attorney to pay to the moving party the reasonable expenses in making such motion, including reasonable attorney's fees.

CHAPTER 497

An act to amend Section 1461 of the Probate Code, relating to guardianship.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 1961.]

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1461 of the Probate Code is amended to read:

1461. Any relative or friend may file a verified petition alleging that a person is insane or incompetent, and setting forth the names and residences, so far as they are known to the petitioner, of the relatives of the alleged insane or incompetent person within the second degree residing within or without the State. The clerk shall set the petition for hearing by the court and issue a citation directed to the alleged insane or incompetent person setting forth the time and place of hearing so fixed by him.

If the alleged insane or incompetent person is within the State the citation and a copy of the petition shall be personally served on him in the same manner as provided by law for the service of summons. If the alleged insane or incompetent person is not within the State the citation and a copy of the petition shall be delivered to him, personally. In all cases service shall be made on the alleged insane or incompetent person at least 10 days before the time of hearing unless the time is shortened by the court for good cause shown.

Notice of the nature of the proceedings and of the time and place of the hearing shall be mailed by the petitioner to each of the relatives of the alleged insane or incompetent person named in the petition at least 15 days before the time of hearing unless the time is shortened by the court for good cause shown. The court may order that similar notice be given to other persons in such manner as the court may direct. Any relative or friend of the alleged insane or incompetent person may appear and oppose the petition.

If the alleged insane or incompetent person is within the State and is able to attend, he must be produced at the hearing, and if he is not able to attend by reason of physical inability or by reason that the presence of such person in court would retard or impair the recovery of such person or would increase his mental debility, such inability or harmful effect must be evidenced by the affidavit or certificate of a duly licensed medical practitioner, unless such alleged insane or incompetent person is a patient at a county or state hospital in this State in which case the affidavit or certificate shall be by the medical director or medical superintendent or acting medical director or medical superintendent of such county or state hospital.

If the alleged insane or incompetent person is not within the State and if the court determines that his attendance at the hearing is necessary in the interest of justice, the court may order him to be produced at the hearing upon penalty of dismissing the petition if he is not produced. If such an order is made and it is contended that the alleged insane or incompetent person is not able to attend by reason of physical inability or by reason that the presence of such person in court would retard or impair the recovery of such person or would increase his mental debility, such inability or harmful effect must be evidenced by the affidavit or certificate of a duly licensed medical practitioner, unless such alleged insane or incompetent person is a patient at a county or state hospital in which case the affidavit or certificate shall be by the medical director or medical superintendent or acting medical director or medical superintendent of such county or state hospital.

All affidavits or certificates provided by this section shall be prima facie evidence of the facts contained therein.

[Approved by Governor May 24, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 24, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 17207 of the Revenue and Taxation Code is amended to read:

17207. (a) (1) There shall be allowed as a deduction any debt which becomes worthless within the taxable year (2) When satisfied that a debt is recoverable only in part, the Franchise Tax Board may allow such debt in an amount not in excess of the part charged off within the taxable year, as a deduction. Worthless debt deduction

(b) For purposes of subsection (a), the basis for determining the amount of the deduction for any bad debt shall be the adjusted basis provided in Section 18041 for determining the loss from the sale or other disposition of property.

(c) In lieu of any deduction under subsection (a), there shall be allowed (in the discretion of the Franchise Tax Board) a deduction for a reasonable addition to a reserve for bad debts.

(d) (1) (A) Subsections (a) and (c) shall not apply to any nonbusiness debt; and

(B) Where any nonbusiness debt becomes worthless within the taxable year, the loss resulting therefrom shall be considered a loss from the sale or exchange, during the taxable year, of a capital asset held for not more than six months.

(2) For purposes of paragraph (1), the term "nonbusiness debt" means a debt other than—

(A) A debt created or acquired (as the case may be) in connection with a trade or business of the taxpayer; or

(B) A debt the loss from the worthlessness of which is incurred in the taxpayer's trade or business.

(e) This section shall not apply to a debt which is evidenced by a security as defined in Section 17206(g)(2)(C).

(f) A payment by the taxpayer in discharge of part or all of his obligation as a guarantor, endorser, or indemnitor of a noncorporate obligation the proceeds of which were used in the trade or business of the borrower shall be treated as a debt becoming worthless within such taxable year for purposes of this section (except that subsection (d) shall not apply), but only if the obligation of the borrower to the person to whom such payment was made was worthless (without regard to such guaranty, endorsement, or indemnity) at the time of such payment.

SEC. 2. Section 17612 of said code is amended to read:

Adjustments

17612. (a) If—

(1) The method of accounting from which the change is made was used by the taxpayer in computing his taxable income for the two taxable years preceding the year of the change, and

(2) The increase in taxable income for the year of the change which results solely by reason of the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) exceeds three thousand dollars ($3,000), then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in taxable income shall not be greater than the aggregate of the taxes under this part (or under the corresponding provisions of prior income tax laws) which would result if one-third of such increase were included in taxable income for the year of the change and one-third of such increase were included for each of the two preceding taxable years.

(b) If—

(2) The taxpayer establishes his taxable income (under the new method of accounting) for one or more taxable years consecutively preceding the taxable year of the change for which the taxpayer in computing taxable income used the method of accounting from which the change is made;

then the tax under this part attributable to such increase in taxable income shall not be greater than the net increase in the taxes under this part which would result if the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) were allocated to the taxable year or years specified in paragraph (2) to which they are properly allocable under the new method of accounting and the balance of the adjustments required by Section 17611(b) was allocated to the taxable year of the change.

(c) For purposes of this section—

(1) There shall be taken into account the increase or decrease in tax for any taxable year preceding the year of the change to which no adjustment is allocated under subsection (a) or (b) but which is affected by a capital loss carryover (as defined in Section 18152(b), determined with reference to taxable years with respect to which adjustments under subsection (a) or (b) are allocated.

(2) The increase or decrease in the tax for any taxable year for which an assessment of any deficiency, or a credit or refund of any overpayment, is prevented by any law or rule of law, shall be determined by reference to the tax previously determined for such year.

SEC. 3. Section 17736 of said code is amended to read:

Deductions allowed estates and trusts

17736. The benefit of the deductions for amortization of emergency, grain storage, or atomic energy facilities provided by Section 17212 shall be allowed to estates and trusts in the same manner as in the case of an individual. Trust receipt transaction

3014. (1) A trust receipt transaction within the meaning of this chapter is any transaction to which an entruster and a trustee are parties, for one of the purposes set forth in subdivision (3) of this section, whereby

(a) The entruster or any third person delivers to the trustee goods, documents or instruments in which the entruster (i) prior to the transaction has, or for new value (ii) by the transaction acquires or (iii) as the result thereof is to acquire promptly, a security interest; or

(b) The entruster gives new value in reliance upon the transfer by the trustee to such entruster of a security interest in instruments or documents which are actually exhibited to such entruster, or to his agent in that behalf, at a place of business of either entruster or agent, but possession of which is retained by the trustee; provided, that the delivery under paragraph (a) or the giving of new value under paragraph (b) either:

(i) Be against the signing and delivery by the trustee of a writing designating the goods, documents or instruments concerned, and reciting that a security interest therein remains in or will remain in, or has passed to or will pass to, the entruster, or

(ii) Be pursuant to a prior or concurrent written and signed agreement of the trustee to give such a writing.

The security interest of the entruster may be derived from the trustee or from any other person, and by pledge or by transfer of title or otherwise.

If the trustee's rights in the goods, documents or instruments are subject to a prior trust receipt transaction, or to a prior equitable pledge, Section 3016 5 and Section 3015, respectively, of this chapter, determine the priorities.

"Trust receipt"

(2) A writing such as is described in subdivision (1) paragraph (i), of this section signed by the trustee, and given in or pursuant to such a transaction, is designated in this chapter as a "trust receipt." No further formality of execution or authentication shall be necessary to the validity of a trust receipt.

(3) A transaction shall not be deemed a trust receipt transaction unless the possession of the trustee thereunder is for a purpose substantially equivalent to any one of the following:

(a) In the case of goods, documents or instruments, for the purpose of selling or exchanging them, or of procuring their sale or exchange; or, also, in the case of durable goods having a per unit retail value of at least five hundred dollars ($500), for the purpose of leasing them in the ordinary course of business; or

(b) In the case of goods or documents, for the purpose of manufacturing or processing the goods delivered or covered by the documents, with the purpose of ultimate sale, or for the purpose of loading, unloading, storing, shipping, transshipping or otherwise dealing with them in a manner preliminary to or necessary to their sale; or

(c) In the case of instruments, for the purpose of delivering them to a principal, under whom the trustee is holding them, or for consummation of some transaction involving delivery to a depositary or registrar, or for their presentation, collection, or renewal.

SEC. 2. Section 3014.5 of said code is amended to read:

Trust receipt transactions

3014 5. A trust receipt transaction is also one in which, pursuant to a trust receipt, a motor vehicle, house trailer, trailer, semitrailer or aircraft dealer or a dealer in other durable goods as trustee obtains new value from an entruster upon the transfer to the entruster of a security interest in new or used motor vehicles, house trailers, trailers, semitrailers or aircraft or upon the transfer to the entruster of a security interest in new or used other durable goods having a per unit retail value of at least five hundred dollars ($500), whether or not such vehicles, trailers, aircraft or other durable goods are owned or possessed by the trustee prior or subsequent to the execution of the trust receipt document, and whether or not such vehicles, trailers, aircraft or other durable goods are thereafter retained in the trustee's possession.

All provisions of this chapter which are applicable to the trust receipt transactions enumerated in Section 3014 are applicable to the trust receipt transaction specified in this section.

SEC. 3. Section 3016.5 of said code is amended to read:

Negotiable instruments

3016.5. (1) Purchasers of negotiable documents or instruments. (a) Nothing in this chapter shall limit the rights of purchasers in good faith and for value from the trustee of negotiable instruments or negotiable documents, and purchasers taking from the trustee for value, in good faith, and by transfer in the customary manner instruments in such form as are by common practice purchased and sold as if negotiable, shall hold such instruments free of the entruster's interest; and filing under this chapter shall not be deemed to constitute notice of the entruster's interest to purchasers in good faith and for value of such documents or instruments, other than transferees in bulk.

Negotiation by trustee

(b) The entrusting (directly, by agent, or through the intervention of a third person) of goods, documents or instruments by an entruster to a trustee, under a trust receipt transaction or a transaction falling within Section 3015 of this chapter be equivalent to the like entrusting of any documents or instruments which the trustee may procure in substitution, or which represent the same goods or instruments or the proceeds thereof, and which the trustee negotiates to a purchaser in good faith and for value.

Rules where purchaser is not protected

(2) Where a purchaser from the trustee is not protected under subdivision (1) hereof, the following rules shall govern:

(a) Sales by trustee in the ordinary course of trade.

(i) Where the trustee, under the trust receipt transaction, has liberty of sale and sells to a buyer in the ordinary course of trade, whether before or after the expiration of the 30-day period specified in subdivision (1) of Section 3016.4 of this chapter, and whether or not filing has taken place, such buyer takes free of the entruster's security interest in the goods so sold, and no filing shall constitute notice of the entruster's security interest to such a buyer. When the trustee, under the trust receipt transaction, has liberty to lease and leases to a lessee in the ordinary course of trade, whether before or after the expiration of the 30-day period specified in subdivision (1) of Section 3016.4, and whether or not filing has taken place, such lessee takes his interest as lessee under the lease free of the entruster's security interest in the goods so leased, and no filing shall constitute notice of the entruster's security interest to such a lessee, but the entruster's security interest continues and shall not be otherwise affected by such lease

(ii) No limitation placed by the entruster on the liberty of sale granted to the trustee shall affect a buyer in the ordinary course of trade, unless the limitation is actually known to the latter.

(b) Purchasers other than buyers in the ordinary course of trade. In the absence of filing, the entruster's security interest in goods shall be valid, as against purchasers, save as provided in this section; but any purchaser, not a buyer in the ordinary course of trade, who, in good faith and without notice of the entruster's security interest and before filing, either (i) gives new value before the expiration of the 30-day period specified in subdivision (1) of Section 3016.4, or (ii) gives value after said period, and who in either event before filing also obtains delivery of goods from a trustee shall hold the subject matter of his purchase free of the entruster's security interest; but a transferee in bulk can take only under (ii) of this paragraph (b).

(c) Liberty of sale. If the entruster consents to the placing of goods subject to a trust receipt transaction in the trustee's stock in trade or in his sales or exhibition rooms, or allows such goods to be so placed or kept, such consent or allowance shall have like effect as granting the trustee liberty of sale.

Purchase on credit

(3) As to all cases covered by this section the purchase of goods, documents or instruments on credit shall constitute a purchase for new value, but the entruster shall be entitled to any debt owing to the trustee and any security therefor, by reason of such purchase; except that the entruster's right shall be subject to any setoff or defense valid against the trustee and accruing before the purchaser has actual notice of the entruster's interest.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 30, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19426 of the Education Code is amended to read:

Restriction on apportionment to a school district

19426. No apportionment shall be made to a school district for any grade level if the estimated cost of the project, as approved by the Director of Finance, is (1) an amount which would result in an apportionment to the district exceeding the amount authorized at the district election held under Section 19422, or (2) is an amount which if raised by the issuance and sale of bonds of the district running for 25 years bearing the current going rate of interest as determined by the board and the principal of which is payable in 25 equal annual payments, would require the levy of a tax under Section 22101 upon property in the district which would, when added to the tax actually being levied upon property in the district for the grade level as determined by the Director of Finance under said section, amount to less than thirty cents ($0.30) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of assessed valuation of property in the district during the next fiscal year.

Interest

At the time the board makes an apportionment, it shall, with the approval of the Director of Finance, fix the interest to be paid by the district on the sum apportioned to it at a rate equal to the effective rate paid by the State upon the bonds sold from the proceeds of which the apportionment is made, giving effect to the price at which the bonds are sold and the premium, if any, paid thereon, adjusted to the next highest one-eighth of 1 percent, to cover the cost of sale and issuance of the bonds and costs of administration, to be compounded annually through the 30th day of June of each year.

SEC. 2. Section 19439 of said code is amended to read:

Deduction for apportionment and interest

19439. The State Controller shall make the deduction provided by Section 19436 during each fiscal year, as herein provided, until the principal amount of the apportionment made to the district for such grade level, and all accrued interest due thereon, has been withheld; but no interest shall accrue or become due and payable to the State with respect to the principal amount of any such apportionment after the expiration of 25 years from the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding the date of the warrant issued by the State Controller covering the payment to the county treasurer of each portion of such apportionment. At the expiration of 30 years from the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding the date of the warrant issued by the State Controller covering the payment to the county treasurer of each portion of such apportionment, any unpaid balance of the principal amount of any such apportionment, including all interest included in such principal amount, shall be canceled on the books of the State Controller, and the State shall have no further right to the repayment of such unpaid balance.

Cancellation

SEC. 3. Section 19441 of said code is amended to read:

Record of amount due

19441. The State Controller shall determine and maintain a record of the amount due the State in connection with each apportionment made to each grade level of a district under the provisions of this chapter (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive). He shall compute interest on the original amount of the apportionment at the rate fixed by the board, from the date of issuance of the State Controller's warrant covering the payment to the county treasurer of any portion of the apportionment until the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding that in which such warrant was issued. Thereafter, interest shall accrue to and be compounded as a part of the principal amount due the State pursuant to such apportionment through the 30th day of the following June of each year, until the principal and interest have been paid, or until the interest ceases to accrue, as provided in this chapter (Sections 19401 to 19486, inclusive). Interest on unpaid school building aid apportionments shall be computed as if the annual repayment were credited on the first day of July of the fiscal year in which such repayment is withheld.

SEC. 4 Section 19596 of said code is amended to read:

Fixing rate of interest

19596 Notwithstanding any provision to the contrary after June 28, 1955, at the time the board makes an apportionment, the board, with the approval of the Director of Finance, shall, pursuant to this section, fix the rate of interest to be paid by the district on the sum apportioned to it. The board shall compute the average of the rates of interest which the State pays upon the state school building bonds, authorized by Article XVI, sold at the three sales of state school building bonds occurring immediately prior to the apportionment, or, if the board so determines, at all of the sales of such bonds occurring in the two years immediately prior to the apportionment, giving effect to the price at which the state school building bonds sold at such sales, and the premium, if any paid, thereon. Such average rate shall be adjusted to the next highest one-tenth of 1 percent to cover the cost of sale and issuance of the bonds and costs of administration. Such adjusted average rate shall be the rate paid by the district on its apportionment, and shall be compounded annually through the 30th day of June of each year.

SEC. 5 Section 19608 of said code is amended to read:

Multipurpose room

19608. If an apportionment is made for a project which includes a multipurpose room the board shall determine and specify the portion of the apportionment that is allocated to the cost of the multipurpose room.

If a district receives an apportionment a portion of which is for a multipurpose room it shall repay the principal amount of such portion of the apportionment as an additional payment as provided by this section. Interest on the total apportionment shall be paid as provided in Section 19614. Such repayment is in addition to the repayments required on the total of all apportionments to the district, which shall be repaid as otherwise provided in this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive).

Notwithstanding the provisions of Sections 19614 and 19616 for cancellation of the principal amount of apportionments the State Controller shall continue to make the deduction provided by Section 19611 during each fiscal year thereafter until the principal amount of the portion of the apportionment that was allocated to the cost of the multipurpose room and was made and disbursed to the district has been withheld, or for an additional period of 10 years, whichever first occurs. At the expiration of 40 years from the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment became final, the unpaid balance of the principal amount of such portion of the apportionment shall be canceled on the books of the State Controller and the provisions of Section 19614 shall thereupon become applicable thereto and the board shall execute a conveyance to the district as provided in Section 19616.

SEC. 6. Section 19614 of said code is amended to read:

Deduction for apportionment and interest

19614. The State Controller shall make the deduction provided by Section 19611 during each fiscal year, as herein provided, until the principal amount of the apportionment made and disbursed to the district for such grade level, and all accrued interest due thereon, has been withheld; but no interest shall accrue, or become due and payable, to the State with respect to the principal amount of any such apportionment, or any portion thereof, for any period of time following the expiration of 25 years after the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment becomes final. At the expiration of 30 years from the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment became final, any unpaid balance of the principal amount of any such apportionment disbursed to such district, including all interest included in such principal amount as provided in Section 19617, shall be canceled on the books of the State Controller, and the State shall have no further right to the repayment of such unpaid balance. Notwithstanding the provisions of this section, that portion of the "annual repayment," if any, computed by the State Controller under Section 19607 prior to the date of cancellation of the principal amount of an apportionment under the provisions of this section, which has not been withheld by the State Controller, as provided by Section 19611, prior to the date of such cancellation, shall be withheld by the State Controller, as provided by said Section 19611, subsequent to the effective date of such cancellation; and the amount so withheld shall be credited to the school district in determining the principal amount of the apportionment, including all interest included therein, which is canceled under the provisions hereof. Such grade level shall be excluded from any computations provided under Sections 19601, 19602, 19606, and 19607, in making the computations, after the effective date of such cancellation, to determine the "annual repayment," if any, that may thereafter be due the State from such school district with respect to other grade levels thereof.

SEC. 7. Section 19617 of said code is amended to read:

19617. The State Controller shall determine and maintain a record of the amount due the State in connection with each apportionment made to each grade level of a district under the provisions of this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive). He shall compute interest, at the rate fixed by the board, on each amount disbursed by the State pursuant to any such apportionment, from the date of issuance of the State Controller's warrant covering the payment to the county treasurer of such amount until the first day of July of the fiscal year next succeeding that in which such warrant was issued. Thereafter, interest shall accrue to and be compounded as a part of the principal amount due the State pursuant to such apportionment, through the 30th day of the following June of each year, until the principal and interest have been paid, or until the interest ceases to accrue, as provided in this chapter (Sections 19551 to 19689, inclusive). The total contribution, in such case, for the agencies as a group shall be established and from time to time adjusted by actuarial valuation of the liability for the benefit or benefits on account of the employees of all such agencies. Adjustments shall affect only future contributions and shall take into account the difference between contributions on hand and the amount required to fund the allowances or benefits for which entitlement has already been established as well as liability for future entitlements to benefits. The contribution as so established and adjusted from time to time shall be allocated between the agencies on a basis which in the opinion of the board, after recommendation of the actuary, provides an equitable distribution between the agencies; provided, however, that such allocation shall not be based on differences in the incidence of death or disability in the respective agencies.

All contributions in such account, irrespective of the agency from which they were received, shall be available for payment of the benefit or benefits with respect to the employees of any agency included, and in the event of termination of any such agency's participation in the system the liability with respect to all such benefits to which the agency's employees have become entitled, after establishment of such rate and prior to the termination, shall be its contributions, as established under Section 20141, which have become due and payable as of the date of termination.

Earned interest not credited to contributions shall remain in the funds as a reserve against deficiencies in interest earned in other years, losses under investments, and other contingencies. The board, however, may apply to reduce the book value of securities purchased, all or part of the excess of the proceeds of the sale or redemption prior to maturity of securities over the book value of the securities sold or redeemed; provided, the purchase of securities is made with said proceeds; and provided further, that the terms of both securities from the date of sale, redemption, or purchase, as the case may be, to the respective dates of maturity, do not differ by more than five years. All such applications of excess of sales or redemption proceeds, even with greater difference in terms, heretofore made by the board are hereby validated and confirmed.

14001.3. A person who has been excluded from membership in this system under the provisions of subdivisions (d), (e), (f), or (g) of Section 14001 and who subsequently becomes a member shall receive credit for the service rendered while so excluded; provided, he elects to pay, and pays, prior to retirement and in a manner provided by the board, contributions with respect to such service with interest at the rates currently being used from time to time to credit interest on contributions made for service rendered after July 1, 1944 to date of payment. Said contributions shall be equal to what they would have been had he not been excluded from membership but calculated at the rate of contribution first applicable to him as a member, or upon his re-entry to membership.

SEC. 3. Section 14104 of said code is amended to read:

Same

14104. Any person to whom service rendered outside of the State after January 1, 1914, is credited and any person who has claimed exemption from the provisions of the retirement system or its predecessor or who is excluded from the retirement system because of being a member of another retirement system while serving in a status requisite for membership in this retirement system or its predecessor, and who later becomes subject to its provisions shall pay, in addition to the sum due under Section 14101 for each year of credited service rendered prior to July 1, 1944, either outside the State or while exempt or while a member of any other system, interest at the rate of 5 percent per annum on the amount which would have been contributed had he been a member of the retirement system when the service was rendered. Interest shall begin on the first day of July next following the end of the school year in which the service was rendered, and shall end upon the date of retirement.

SEC. 4. Section 14105 of said code is amended to read:

Contributions due at retirement

14105. Every person who retires on or after July 1, 1944, and who is entitled to receive a retirement salary, but who at the time of retirement is not credited with the full amount of contributions to the Permanent Fund required of him by Section 14101, shall pay to the retirement system such additional amount as is necessary to bring the contributions credited to him up to the full amount of contributions to the Permanent Fund required of him by Section 14101. Such Permanent Fund contributions as are due for service rendered after July 1, 1944, shall accumulate interest at the rates currently being used from time to time to credit interest to member's contributions. Such interest shall accumulate from the first of the year following the year in which the service was rendered.

SEC. 5. Section 14411 of said code is amended to read:

Prior membership in other retirement system Deposit of back contributions 14411. If a member of this retirement system who is or has been a member of another retirement system ceases to be entitled to retirement benefits from the other retirement system for any service rendered after July 1, 1944, which qualifies for credit under this retirement system and for which he has not contributed to the Retirement Annuity Fund under Section 14108, but continues to be a member of this retirement system, upon receipt of refund of his contributions to the other retirement system he may elect at any time prior to retirement to deposit in the Retirement Annuity Fund an amount equal to the contributions which he would have been required to make during such service if he had not then been a member of the other retirement system, with interest from the first of the year next following the date on which such contributions would have been payable to the first of the month following the date said election is received in the office of the system in Sacramento, California, at the rates of interest currently being used from time to time to credit interest to Retirement Annuity Fund contributions.

Subject to minimum payments and time limits fixed by the board, the member may make the deposit of said amount in one or more sums, but if not made within 30 days after said election to deposit is received in the office of the system in Sacramento, California, the member shall also deposit in the Retirement Annuity Fund interest on the unpaid portion of said amount at said rate.

Unless such deposit is made the member shall not be entitled to benefits from the Retirement Annuity Fund based upon service rendered after July 1, 1944, for which he has not contributed to the Retirement Annuity Fund pursuant to Section 14108, and the minimum retirement allowance applicable to such member shall be the minimum allowance calculated as if the deposit were made, and then reduced by the amount of the annuity which would have been the actuarial equivalent of such deposit. If the member elects to make the deposit, his rate of annuity fund contributions with respect to service rendered after the first of the month in which the election is received in the office of the system in Sacramento shall be based on his age at the beginning of the service under the other retirement system after July 1, 1944, or on a lower age, as determined under this chapter (commencing at Section 13801), because of other credited service. If the member does not make the election to deposit, his rate of annuity fund contributions shall be determined under this chapter.

If a member has elected to make the deposit and does not make it in accordance with rules established by the board, the election shall be canceled and his rate of annuity fund contributions shall be determined retroactively under this chapter and as it would have been had the election not been made; any payments made under the election shall be refunded to the member after deducting any retirement annuity fund contributions due because of the adjustment in his rate.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1689 of the Civil Code is amended to read:

1689. (a) A contract may be rescinded if all the parties thereto consent.

Rescission Consent of parties

Same: One party

(b) A party to a contract may rescind the contract in the following cases:

(1) If the consent of the party rescinding, or of any party jointly contracting with him, was given by mistake, or obtained through duress, menace, fraud, or undue influence, exercised by or with the connivance of the party as to whom he rescinds, or of any other party to the contract jointly interested with such party.

(2) If the consideration for the obligation of the rescinding party fails, in whole or in part, through the fault of the party as to whom he rescinds.

Notice

(a) Give notice of rescission to the party as to whom he rescinds; and

Restoration

(b) Restore to the other party everything of value which he has received from him under the contract or offer to restore the same upon condition that the other party do likewise, unless the latter is unable or positively refuses to do so.

When notice of rescission has not otherwise been given or an offer to restore the benefits received under the contract has not otherwise been made, the service of a pleading in an action or proceeding that seeks relief based on rescission shall be deemed to be such notice or offer or both.

When a contract has been rescinded in whole or in part, any party to the contract may seek relief based upon such rescission by (a) bringing an action to recover any money or thing owing to him by any other party to the contract as a consequence of such rescission or for any other relief to which he may be entitled under the circumstances or (b) asserting such rescission by way of defense, counterclaim or cross-complaint.

If in an action or proceeding a party seeks relief based upon rescission and the court determines that the contract has not been rescinded, the court may grant any party to the action any other relief to which he may be entitled under the circumstances.

Claim for damages

A claim for damages is not inconsistent with a claim for relief based upon rescission. The aggrieved party shall be awarded complete relief, including restitution of benefits, if any, conferred by him as a result of the transaction and any consequential damages to which he is entitled; but such relief shall not include duplicate or inconsistent items of recovery.

Delay in restoration

A party who has received benefits by reason of a contract that is subject to rescission and who in an action or proceeding seeks relief based upon rescission shall not be denied relief because of a delay in restoring or in tendering restoration of such benefits before judgment unless such delay has been substantially prejudicial to the other party; but the court may make a tender of restoration a condition of its judgment.

Requirements

The causes of action so united must all belong to one only of these classes except as provided in cases of conspiracy, and must affect all the parties to the action, and not require different places of trial, and must be separately stated; but an action for malicious arrest and prosecution, or either of them, may be united with an action for either an injury to character or to the person; provided, however, that in any action brought by the husband and wife, to recover damages caused by any injury to the wife, all consequential damages suffered or sustained by the husband alone, including loss of the services of his said wife, moneys expended and indebtedness incurred by reason of such injury to his said wife, may be alleged and recovered without separately stating such cause of action arising out of such consequential damages suffered or sustained by the husband; provided, further, that causes of action for injuries to person and injuries to property, growing out of the same tort, may be joined in the same complaint, and it is not required that they be stated separately.

SEC. 9. Section 537 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Current and prior service pensions for local safety members

21252.5. The combined current and prior service pensions for a local safety member who is an employee of a contracting agency which is subject to the provisions of this section, is an annual pension which when added to the service retirement annuity that is derived from the accumulated normal contributions of the member shall equal the sum of the following:

(a) A temporary annuity based on age at retirement and length of service computed according to the following formula:

(1) 0.50 times the product of his age at retirement and his years of credited prior and current service not in excess of 20 years, plus

(2) 0.40 times the product of his age at retirement and his years of credited prior and current service in excess of 20 years.

(b) The percentage of final compensation set forth opposite his age at retirement in the following table multiplied by the number of years of credited current and prior service as a safety member in the employ of all contracting agencies subject to this section at the time of his retirement:

If retirement occurs at age:	The percent for each year of credited service is:
60	1.250
60¼	1.275
60½	1.300
60¾	1.325
61	1.350
61¼	1.375
61½	1.400
61¾	1.425
62	1.450
62¼	1.475
62½	1.500
62¾	1.525
63	1.550
63¼	1.575
63½	1.600

If retirement occurs at age:	The percent for each year of credited service is:
64¼	1.675
64½	1.700
64¾	1.725
65	1.750

If the member retires before attaining age 60, the prior and current service pension under this section shall be reduced to that amount which the value of the pensions, as deferred to age 60, will purchase at the actual age of retirement.

The temporary annuity under subdivision (a) of this section shall not be subject to the optional settlements under Article 4 of this chapter and shall be payable monthly until the retired member attains or would have attained age 65. Should his death occur prior to age 65, the commuted value of any remaining installments shall be paid to his designated beneficiary in the manner provided in Section 21332.5 for payment of death benefits under optional settlement one.

The agency's liability for prior service shall be in the same proportion to the total reserves required as the years of credited prior service bear to the total years of credited service. The agency's liability for current service shall consist of the remainder of the total reserves required after deducting the liability for prior service and the accumulated normal contributions of the member.

Applicability to contracting agencies

This section shall apply only to a contracting agency which elects to be subject hereto by an amendment to its contract or by express provision of a contract hereafter entered into; provided, the agreement executed by the board pursuant to Section 218, Social Security Act, is or has been modified to include therein the employees of the agency in positions covered or to be covered by this system as local safety members.

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 20041 is added to the Government Code, to read:

"Dependent"

20041. "Dependent," in reference to any benefit provided, upon the death of a member, for a surviving dependent husband or dependent parent, or parent dependent upon the member for support, shall mean receipt of at least one-half of the husband's or parent's support from the member at the time of the member's death determined according to rules of the board.

SEC. 2. Section 21365.5 of said code is amended to read:

Benefit payment upon death before retirement

21365.5. Upon the death while in state service, other than state service as defined in Section 20801.1, and before the effective date of his retirement of a member who has attained the minimum age for voluntary service retirement applicable to him in his employment at the time of death, and who is credited with 20 or more years of state service, a monthly allowance equal to one-half of the unmodified retirement allowance which the member would have been entitled to receive if he had retired for service on the date of his death shall be payable:

(a) To the surviving wife of a male member as long as she lives or until her remarriage; or

(b) To a dependent surviving husband of a female member as long as he lives or until remarriage.

(c) To the children under age 18 collectively if there is no surviving spouse or if the surviving spouse dies or remarries before all children of the deceased member attain age 18, until every child dies or attains age 18; provided, that no child shall receive any allowance after marrying or attaining the age of 18.

Where a member does not have a surviving spouse nor any children under the age of 18 years at the time of death, no allowance shall be payable under this section.

No allowance shall be payable under this section if a special death benefit or a benefit under Section 21337 is payable.

Allowance in lieu of basic death benefit

The allowance provided by this section shall be paid in lieu of the basic death benefit but a person or, such person's guardian, qualifying for the allowance may elect before the first payment on account of it to receive such basic death benefit in lieu of the allowance.

Any person who is receiving the allowance under this section on October 1, 1959, shall have the right to elect, not later than ninety (90) days after the date upon which notice of such right is mailed to him by this system, to receive in lieu of further payments of the allowance, a sum equal to the excess of the basic death benefit which was otherwise payable on account of the member's death over the sum of the monthly payments made prior to such election.

If the total of the payments made hereunder is less than the basic death benefit which was otherwise payable on account of the member's death, the amount of the basic death benefit less any payments made pursuant to this section shall be paid in a lump sum as follows:

(a) If the person last entitled to the allowance is the remarried spouse of such member, to such spouse;

(b) Otherwise, to the surviving children of the member, share and share alike, or if there are no such children, to the estate of the person last entitled to the allowance.

The board shall compute the amount by which benefits paid pursuant to this section exceed the benefits which would otherwise be payable and shall charge any such excess against the contributions of the State so that there shall be no increase in contributions of members by reason of benefits paid pursuant to this section. As used in this section, "a surviving wife" means a wife that was married to the member for at least one year prior to his death, a "dependent surviving husband" means a dependent husband that was married to the member for at least one year prior to the member's death, and "child" includes a posthumously born child of the member.

If an instrument of credit is received by the governing body in lieu of a bond or cash deposit, the agreement or contract may provide for the partial release of the obligation of the instrument upon the acceptance of the work as it progresses, under rules established by the governing body. An act to amend Sections 629, 659, 664 and 681a of the Code of Civil Procedure, relating to motions for judgment notwithstanding verdict and for new trial.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 30, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 629 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

Motion for directed verdict

629. When a motion for a directed verdict, which should have been granted, has been denied and a verdict rendered against the moving party, the court, either of its own motion or on motion of the aggrieved party, shall render judgment in favor of the aggrieved party notwithstanding the verdict.

Motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and new trial

A motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict shall be made within the period specified by Section 659 of this code in respect of the filing and serving of notice of intention to move for a new trial. The making of a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict shall not extend the time within which a party may file and serve notice of intention to move for a new trial. The court shall not rule upon the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict until the expiration of the time within which a motion for a new trial must be served and filed, and if a motion for a new trial has been filed with the court by the aggrieved party, the court shall rule upon both motions at the same time. The power of the court to rule on a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict shall not extend beyond the last date upon which it has the power to rule on a motion for a new trial. If a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is not determined before such date, the effect shall be a denial of such motion without further order of the court.

Appeal

If the motion for a directed verdict and the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict be denied and if a new trial be denied, the appellate court shall, when it appears from the whole of the evidence that a verdict should have been so directed at the trial, order judgment to be so entered on appeal from the judgment or from the order denying the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict.

Where a new trial is granted to the party moving for judgment notwithstanding the verdict and the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is denied, the order denying the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict shall nevertheless be reviewable on appeal from said order by the aggrieved party. If the court grants the motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict or of its own motion directs the entry of judgment notwithstanding the verdict and likewise grants the motion for a new trial, the order granting the new trial shall be effective only if, on appeal, the judgment notwithstanding the verdict is reversed, and the order granting a new trial is not appealed from or, if appealed from, is affirmed.

SEC. 2. Section 659 of said code is amended to read:

Notice of motion for a new trial

659. The party intending to move for a new trial must file with the clerk and serve upon the adverse party a notice of his intention to move for a new trial, designating the grounds upon which the motion will be made and whether the same will be made upon affidavits or the minutes of the court or both, either

1. Before the entry of judgment; or

2. Within 30 days after the entry of the judgment or 10 days after service upon him by any party of written notice of the entry of judgment, whichever is earlier.

Said notice shall be deemed to be a motion for a new trial on all the grounds stated in the notice. The time above specified shall not be extended by order or stipulation.

SEC. 3. Section 664 of said code is amended to read:

Entry of judgment

664. When trial by jury has been had, judgment must be entered by the clerk, in conformity to the verdict within 24 hours after the rendition of the verdict (provided that in justice courts such judgment shall be entered in the docket at once), whether or not a motion for judgment notwithstanding the verdict be pending, unless the court order the case to be reserved for argument or further consideration, or grant a stay of proceedings. If the trial, in a superior or municipal court, has been had by the court, judgment must be entered by the clerk, in conformity to the decision of the court, immediately upon the filing of such decision; in justice courts, judgment must be entered within 30 days after the submission of the cause. In no case is a judgment effectual for any purpose until entered.

SEC 4. Section 681a of said code is amended to read:

Stay execution of judgment

681a The court, or the judge thereof, may stay the execution of any judgment or order; provided, that no court shall have power, without the consent of the adverse party, to stay the execution of any judgment or order, the execution whereof would be stayed on appeal only by the execution of a stay bond, for a longer period than 10 days in justice courts, nor for a longer period than 30 days in other courts. If a motion for a new trial or for judgment notwithstanding the verdict is pending, execution may be stayed until 10 days after the determination thereof.

In a case where the adopting parent is permitted to appear by counsel, the agreement may be executed and acknowledged by such counsel for such absent party, or may be executed by such absent party before a notary public, or any other person authorized to take acknowledgments including the persons authorized by Sections 1183 and 1183.5 of this code; provided, that in any case where said adoptive parent is permitted to appear by counsel hereunder, or otherwise, the court may, in its discretion, cause such examination of said adoptive parent, other interested party, or witness to be made upon deposition, as it deems necessary, said deposition to be taken upon commission, as prescribed by the Code of Civil Procedure, and the expense thereof to be borne by the petitioner. The petition, relinquishment, agreement, order, and any power of attorney and deposition must be filed in the office of the county clerk and shall not be open to inspection by any other than the parties to the action and their attorneys and the State Department of Social Welfare except upon the written authority of the judge of the superior court.

"Co-operative bargaining association"

1223. As used in this chapter a "co-operative bargaining association" is a farmer association organized and functioning under Chapter 4 (commencing with Section 1190) of Division 6 of this code, for the purpose of group bargaining between its producer members and the first handler or processor, with respect to the sale of any agricultural commodity except milk, cotton or cotton seed.

Right to join associations

1224. It is the public policy of the State of California to establish and support the right of any farmer to join voluntarily and belong to co-operative bargaining associations.

Unfair trade practices

1225. It is an unfair trade practice, and unlawful, for any processor, handler, distributor, or agent thereof, or for any other person to do any of the following:

(a) Interfere with, restrain, coerce or boycott producers in the exercise of the rights guaranteed pursuant to Section 1224.

(b) Discriminate against producers with respect to price or other terms of purchase of raw agricultural commodities, by reason of the producer's membership in or contract with co-operative bargaining associations

(c) Pay or loan money, or give any other thing of value to a producer as an inducement or reward for refusing to or ceasing to belong to a co-operative bargaining association.

(d) Maliciously or knowingly give false reports about the finances, management or activities of a co-operative bargaining association.

Penalty

1226. The willful violation of any provisions of this chapter is a misdemeanor punishable by a fine of not less than fifty dollars ($50) nor more than five hundred dollars ($500) for each and every such violation.

producers against any processor, handler, distributor or any agent thereof, or any other person, with respect to violations of the unfair trade practices specified in Section 1225. Upon verification of the complaint the director shall, or upon his own motion may, make any and all necessary investigations, examinations or inspections of any transaction involving a suspected violation of any provision of this chapter.

Actions to enjoin violations

1228. The director may bring an action to enjoin the violation or threatened violation of any provision of this chapter in the superior court of the county in which such violation occurred or is about to occur. Actions against different defendants may be consolidated, in the discretion of the court, if the alleged violations are of the same provision, have occurred in the same or an adjoining county, relate to the same agricultural commodity, occurred in the same production season, and such consolidation can be done without prejudice to a substantial right of any defendant. Any proceedings brought pursuant to this section shall be governed in all other respects by the provisions of Chapter 3 (commencing with Section 525) Title 7 of Part 2 of the Code of Civil Procedure.

Power of director

1229. The director shall have and may exercise any or all of the powers conferred by Article 2 (commencing with Section 11180), Chapter 2, Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code upon the head of a department of the State with respect to hearings and investigations under this chapter.

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 1241 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

1241. Before property can be taken, it must appear:

1. That the use to which it is to be applied is a use authorized by law;

2. That the taking is necessary to such use; provided, when the board of a sanitary district or the board of directors of an irrigation district, of a transit district, of a rapid transit district, of a public utility district, of a county sanitation district, or of a water district or the legislative body of a county, city and county, or an incorporated city or town, or the governing board of a school district, shall, by resolution or ordinance, adopted by vote of two-thirds of all its members, have found and determined that the public interest and necessity require the acquisition, construction or completion, by such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or school district, or sanitary, irrigation, transit, rapid transit, public utility, county sanitation, or water district, of any proposed public utility, or any public improvement, and that the property described in such resolution or ordinance is necessary therefor, such resolution or ordinance shall be conclusive evidence; (a) of the public necessity of such proposed public utility or public improvement; (b) that such property is necessary therefor, and (c) that such proposed public utility or public improvement is planned or located in the manner which will be most compatible with the greatest public good, and the least private injury; provided, that said resolution or ordinance shall not be such conclusive evidence in the case of the taking by any county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or school district, or sanitary, irrigation, transit, rapid transit, public utility, county sanitation, or water district, of property located outside of the territorial limits thereof.

3. If already appropriated to some public use, that the public use of which it is to be applied is a more necessary public use; provided, that where such property has been so appropriated by any individual, firm or private corporation the use thereof for a public street or highway of the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or the use thereof by the State, a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town, or joint highway district, or a municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a rapid transit district, a public utility district, or a water district for the same purposes to which it has been appropriated or for any public purpose, shall be deemed a more necessary use than the public use to which such property has been already appropriated; and provided, further, that property of any character, whether already appropriated to public use or not, including all rights of any nature in water, owned by any person, firm or private corporation may be taken by a county, city and county, or any incorporated city or town or by a municipal water district, or an irrigation district, a transit district, a rapid transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, for the purpose of supplying water, or electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes to such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or an irrigation district, a transit district, a rapid transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, or the inhabitants thereof, or for the purpose of supplying any other public utility, or for any other public use. And such taking may be made, either to furnish a separate and distinct supply of such water, and such electricity for power, lighting or heating purposes, or to provide for any such separate and distinct other public utility or other public use; to furnish such a supply or provide for any such other public utility or other public use in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore provided for or that may thereafter be provided for in so supplying or providing for such county, city and county, or incorporated city or town, or municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a rapid transit district, a public utility district, or a water district, or the inhabitants thereof; or in conjunction with any other supply or with any other public utility or other public use that may have been theretofore determined upon or that may thereafter be determined upon in accordance with law by the people of any such county, city and county, incorporated city or town or municipal water district or an irrigation district, a transit district, a rapid transit district, a public utility district, or a water district. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as in any way limiting such rights as may be given by any other law of this State to counties, cities and counties, incorporated cities or towns or municipal water districts or irrigation districts, transit districts, rapid transit districts, public utility districts, or water districts.

But private property appropriated to the use of any county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal water district, or irrigation district, or transit district, or rapid transit district, or public utility district, or water district, may not be taken by any other county, city and county, incorporated city or town, or municipal district, or irrigation district, or transit district, or rapid transit district, or public utility district, or water district, while such property is so appropriated and used for the public purposes for which it has been so appropriated.

CHAPTER 611

An act to amend Section 5077 of the Welfare and Institutions Code, relating to commitment of the mentally ill.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor May 27, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State May 30, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 5077 of the Welfare and Institutions Code is amended to read.

5077. The reasonable cost of maintenance of a person committed under the provisions of Section 5076, in a sum to be fixed by the court at the time of the commitment, shall be defrayed out of the estate of the patient so committed or shall be a charge upon his relatives liable for his maintenance.

If, however, the patient is found to be an indigent resident of the county, in accordance with the definition of such residence prescribed in Article 2 of Chapter 2 of Division IV of the Welfare and Institutions Code as amended, and without funds or relatives responsible for his maintenance able to pay such charge, then the expense of his maintenance shall be a charge upon the county in which the court has jurisdiction and shall be paid out of the county treasury upon a written order of the judge of the superior court of the county, directing the county auditor to draw his warrant upon the county treasurer specifying the amount of such expense

All funds expended by the county for the maintenance of such patient, or such maintenance in a sum or rate per day or per month fixed by the board of supervisors where such patient is cared for in a county institution, shall be a charge against such patient or against his husband, wife, father, mother, or children, in the order named and the county shall be entitled to reimbursement therefor. If such patient has property or acquires any the county shall have a claim against him or his estate, if deceased, to the amount of expense incurred and said claim shall be enforced, if necessary, by action against him or his estate, if deceased, upon order of the board of supervisors of the county incurring such expense If the patient has such husband, wife, father, mother, or children liable to him for his maintenance, the county shall have a claim against such relatives, or any of them, in the order named, to the amount of expense incurred, and said claim shall be enforced, if necessary, by action against such relatives, or any of them, upon order of the board of supervisors of the county incurring such expense.

If the indigent patient is a nonresident of the county or if a relative or a friend of the patient is found outside the county, of whose ability and willingness to assume the responsibility and the expense of the proper care of the patient the court is satisfied, the court may release the patient to the custody of such relative or friend and the cost and expense of transporting the patient to the home of the relative or friend or to the county or state where the patient has a legal residence shall be a charge upon the county in which the court has jurisdiction and shall be paid in the manner prescribed in this section for the payment of other expenses for the care of such patients.

If an indigent patient is confined in a medical institution as the result of a diagnosis of tuberculosis, and it is suspected that the patient is or has become mentally ill, he shall be returned for commitment proceedings to that county from which he entered the medical institution

Where the county has incurred expense upon order of court or is likely to incur such expense for the maintenance of such patient and he has estate for which no guardian has been appointed out of which the county is or may be entitled to reimbursement, the district attorney or county counsel, as the case may be, shall apply to the proper court for the appointment of a guardian of the estate of such patient. It shall be competent for a county employee to act as such guardian. Where such county employee is appointed and acts as such guardian he shall act without guardianship fees being charged or received from said estate, and the board of supervisors may order that expenses necessary in the conduct of the guardianship and the necessary premiums on the bonds of the guardian be advanced by the county, and if so ordered by said board of supervisors such expenses shall be a charge against the county, but the county shall be reimbursed therefor out of any funds or property of the estate of such patient by said guardian.

Any such guardian may sell or encumber the property of the estate of such patient under the provisions of Section 1530 of the Probate Code and from the proceeds of any such sale or encumbrance or from any other funds of the estate which may come into his possession, he shall pay to the county the expense incurred by it for the maintenance of such patient and shall pay, when available, the expense subsequently incurred by the county for any such maintenance.

No fee shall be charged or received by the county clerk for the filing of any such guardianship petition nor for any official service performed by him in the course of the guardianship proceedings.

The tax herein required to be levied and collected shall be in addition to all other taxes levied for district purposes and shall be collected at the time and in the same manner as other district taxes are collected, and be used for no other purpose than the payment of said bonds and accruing interest.

Such acts by the board shall constitute a valid assessment of the property and a valid levy of the tax so fixed The board must immediately thereafter transmit to the county auditor a statement of the rate of taxes so fixed by said board for each zone into which the district may be divided and the county auditor shall enter such rate upon the county tax roll. Such taxes so levied shall be collected

The board may call a special election for the purpose of submitting to the voters of the district a resolution to authorize the board to set a tax rate not exceeding fifty cents ($0.50) on each one hundred dollars ($100) of the assessed valuation of such property during the years specified in the resolution If a majority of the votes cast at the special election approve the resolution, the board is authorized to set the tax rate in accordance with the resolution.

24749. It is the declared policy of the State that it is necessary to regulate and control the manufacture, sale, and distribution of alcoholic beverages within this State for the purpose of fostering and promoting temperance in their consumption and respect for and obedience to the law. In order to eliminate price wars which unduly stimulate the sale and consumption of alcoholic beverages and disrupt the orderly sale and distribution thereof, it is hereby declared as the policy of this State that the sale of alcoholic beverages should be subjected to certain restrictions and regulations. The necessity for the enactment of provisions of this chapter is, therefore, declared as a matter of legislative determination.

Minimum retail price schedules

(b) A price for each of such packages shall be in a minimum retail price schedule setting forth with respect to each package the exact brand, trademark or name, capacity, and type of package, type of distilled spirits, age and proof, where stated on the label, and the minimum selling price at retail. The price for any such package may be filed separately and differently for the trading area of Southern California and the trading area of Northern California. The trading area of Southern California shall consist of the Counties of Santa Barbara, Ventura, Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and San Diego. The Northern California trading area shall consist of the other counties of the State. No more than one person shall file a schedule for the same package for the same trading area. For the purpose of this section, a competitive brand shall mean any brand of the same type of distilled spirits having a filed selling price at retail within one dollar ($1) per gallon of the brand for which a competitive price is filed.

"Loss leader"

No retailer shall sell any package of distilled spirits as a loss leader. "Loss leader," as used in this section, means a sale below cost as such cost is defined in Sections 17026 to 17029, inclusive, of this code, except that a sale below cost made under the provisions of Section 17050 of this code shall not be deemed a loss leader sale.

The department shall reject any price schedule which does not comply with this subdivision.

Permission to sell at lower price

(e) No offsale licensee shall sell any package of distilled spirits at any price less than the effective filed price of such package unless written permission is granted by the department, for good cause shown and for reasons not inconsistent with this division.

(f) The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

Exemptions

At the place of any closeout sale and upon any package of distilled spirits to be so sold and in any advertisement in connection therewith, public notice shall be given of the sale as a closeout sale. Following the conclusion of a closeout sale, the retailer who conducted such sale shall not sell the same brands of distilled spirits for a period of at least one year.

(2) Sales made with the approval of the department when the distilled spirits or the package is damaged or deteriorated in quality and notice of this fact is given to the public at the place of any such sale and upon the package offered for sale and in any advertisement in connection therewith.

(3) Sales made by any officer acting under the orders of any court.

Filing minimum schedule

(g) A minimum retail price schedule containing a minimum retail price for each package of any brand of beer may be filed under the provisions of this chapter by the person in control of such brand and when so filed, the provisions of this chapter and any rules adopted by the department for the administration of the provisions of this chapter shall apply to the sale of packages of such brand of beer.

The presumptions in this section mentioned are conclusive in favor of any person dealing in good faith and for a valuable consideration with such married woman or her legal representatives or successors in interest, and regardless of any change in her marital status after acquisition of said property.

Presumptions

Limitations of actions

In cases where a married woman has conveyed, or shall hereafter convey, real property which she acquired prior to May 19, 1889, the husband, or his heirs or assigns, of such married woman, shall be barred from commencing or maintaining any action to show that said real property was community property, or to recover said real property from and after one year from the filing for record in the recorder's office of such conveyances, respectively.

(d) If a homestead has been selected from the separate property of either, in cases in which the decree is rendered upon any ground other than incurable insanity, it shall be assigned to the former owner of such property, subject to the power of the court to assign it for a limited period to the party to whom the divorce or decree of separate maintenance

Homestead: Rights of surviving spouse

If the homestead was selected from the separate property of the decedent without his consent, or if the surviving spouse has conveyed the homestead to the other spouse by a conveyance which failed to expressly reserve homestead rights as provided by Section 1242 of the Civil Code, the homestead vests, on death, in his heirs or devisees, subject to the power of the court to set it apart for a limited period to the family of the decedent as hereinabove provided. In either case the homestead is not subject to the payment of any debt or liability existing against the spouses or either of them. at the time of the death of either, except as provided in the Civil Code.

For the purposes of this section, the term "quasi-community property" has the meaning given that term by Section 15300.

If any property described in this subdivision is acquired by a negotiated purchase and sale after the lien date but prior to the commencement of the fiscal year for which current taxes are a lien on the property, the amount of such current taxes shall not be transferred to the unsecured roll, and neither the person from whom the property was acquired nor the public agency shall be liable for the payment of such taxes. If, however, the property is so acquired after the commencement of the fiscal year for which the current taxes are a lien on the property, that portion only of such current taxes, together with any allocable penalties and costs thereon, which are properly allocable to that part of the fiscal year which ends on the day before the date of acquisition of the property, shall be transferred to the unsecured roll and be collectible from the person from whom the property was acquired. which are a lien against such land or improvements, prorated for the fiscal year for which such current taxes, penalties and costs are or will be due and payable, shall be paid out of the award. If the amount of the current tax is not ascertainable at the time the proration is made the same shall be estimated and computed by the court based upon the last equalized assessed value of the property in its entirety regardless of any segregation which may occur by reason of the taking, and the tax rate levied on the property for the immediate prior year. The court shall further order canceled the public agency's portion of any prorated current tax. The subject of the amount of the taxes which may be due on the property shall not be considered relevant on any issue in the condemnation action, and the mention of said subject, either on the voir dire examination of jurors, or during the examination of witnesses, or as a part of the court's instructions to the jury, or in argument of counsel, or otherwise, shall constitute grounds for a mistrial in any such action.

All grapefruit intended for shipment out of the State of California, before being so shipped, shall be packed in closed standard container number 59 and shall be uniform in size. All oranges (except tangerines and mandarins), or lemons offered for distribution or sale within the State of California, before being so offered, shall be packed in closed standard container number 58 or 60 and shall be uniform in size. All grapefruit offered for distribution or sale within the State of California, before being so offered, shall be packed in closed standard container number 59 or 61 and shall be uniform in size. The provisions of this section shall not apply to (1) the sale, marketing or transportation for sale or marketing of oranges, grapefruit or lemons for charitable purposes, unemployment relief or for use by the United States government or its agencies for relief distribution, or (2) the sale, marketing or transportation for sale or marketing of oranges, grapefruit or lemons in closed containers intended for sale to the consumer in their unbroken form and the net contents of which do not exceed 25 pounds, or (3) the sale, marketing, or transportation for sale or marketing of oranges, grapefruit or lemons not in standard containers when transported directly from the State of California to the State of Baja California, Republic of Mexico, or (4) to oranges, grapefruit or lemons in a retail establishment in possession of a retailer for the purpose of resale directly to consumers; nor to oranges, grapefruit or lemons sold by a grower or packer regularly engaged in the growing or packing of these fruits directly to consumers on the premises where produced or packed or at a retail stand operated by such grower or packer near the point of production, which in no case shall be outside of the county in which the fruit was produced. As used in this section, "consumer" means a person who buys oranges, grapefruit or lemons for use as a food and not for resale. Exceptions

Packed citrus fruit imported into this State from another state need not be packed in standard containers as specified in this code for such fruit if it is packed in containers conforming to the applicable laws or regulations of the state of origin or of the United States.

SEC. 3. Section 796.3 of said code is repealed. Repeal

SEC. 3.5. Section 796.3 is added to said code, to read:

796.3. (a) The marking requirements of Section 796.1 and the packing requirements of Section 796.2 shall not apply to citrus fruits being transported within the State in containers holding more than 500 pounds when being so transported to a repackaging plant within the State for further packing; provided the packer has made application to and a permit has been issued by an enforcing officer. Such permit shall be issued in Shipment to repackaging plant writing in a form provided by the director and shall be valid for one year from the date of issuance, unless revoked or suspended. The permit shall bear a permit number and show the name of the packer together with a sufficiently explicit address to permit ready location of such packer. A manifest or other shipping document shall accompany each load sold, transported or received pursuant to this section, shall be plainly and conspicuously marked with the permit number issued to the packer, and shall show the name of the person operating a repackaging plant to whom the load is being transported together with a sufficiently explicit address of the repackaging plant to which the load is destined to permit ready location of such person and such repackaging plant. It is unlawful to ship, transport or receive citrus fruits pursuant to this section unless the permit number issued hereunder appears on the manifest or other shipping document.

Repackaging plant

(b) For purposes of this section, (1) a repackaging plant is defined as any location that has commercial equipment normally used for packaging citrus fruits in consumer-size packages and (2) consumer-size packages are defined as those which when full, contain 25 pounds or less of fruit.

Affidavits of compliance, etc.

(c) A permittee shall upon request of any enforcing officer furnish such affidavits, receipts and other evidence as the enforcing officer reasonably may require as proof that the citrus fruits have been disposed of in accordance with the provisions of this chapter and the terms of the permit.

Refusal of permit

Any enforcing officer may refuse to issue a permit hereunder or may revoke or suspend any permit if the permittee or applicant for permit has previously violated any of the provisions of this section or the terms of any permit issued hereunder, or has failed or refused to furnish the evidence required by the enforcing officer as hereinabove provided. Any order of the enforcing officer refusing to issue a permit or suspending or revoking the same shall be in writing.

Appeal, hearing

Any person may appeal to the director, within 10 days, for a hearing upon a written order of the enforcing officer refusing to issue a permit, or suspending or revoking the same. The proceedings for such hearing shall be conducted in accordance with Chapter 5 (commencing with Section 11500), of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, except that the provisions of Sections 11505 and 11506 thereof shall not apply, and the statement of issues or accusation, as the case may be, shall be delivered or mailed to the parties as provided in Section 11509 of said code.

Nothing herein contained shall be construed to allow a permittee or applicant to operate pending the disposition of his application or petition. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to prevent the enforcing officer from suspending or revoking a permit forthwith, and without notice or hearing; provided, however, that such peremptory action must be supported by previous investigation, the results of which reasonably indicate to said enforcing officer that to allow an existing permit to remain in use pending a hearing would encourage, allow or permit additional or other violations of the provisions of this section.

Repeal

SEC. 4. Section 796.4 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 5. Section 796.5 of said code is repealed.

SEC. 6. Section 796.6 of said code is amended to read:

SEC. 2. Section 802 of said code is amended to read:

802. As applied to grapes: Definitions

(a) "Mature" means that each bunch of the varieties classified above in Group A shall test not less than 17 percent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; however, in view of differences in climatic conditions prevailing north and west of San Gorgonio Pass, which results in the Thompson Seedless and Malaga varieties of grapes grown in that area having, at maturity, a higher percentage of soluble solids than mature grapes of these varieties grown in the area south and east of San Gorgonio Pass, Thompson Seedless and Malaga grapes produced in the area north and west of San Gorgonio Pass shall so test not less than 18 percent, except that Thompson Seedless grapes produced in the area north and west of San Gorgonio Pass shall be considered mature if they so test not less than 17 percent and if the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of 25 parts to every part of acid contained in the juice (the acidity of the juice to be calculated as tartaric acid without water of crystallization); however, the varieties Emperor, Gros Colman, Bleu Grau, Drodelabi, Fresno Beauty, Servian Blue, Pierce Isabella, Pierce, Isabella Regia, California Concord, Concord, Dattier de Beyrouth, Red Malaga, Khalili, Persian 23, Dizmar, Ribier, Delight, Perlette and Queen shall so test not less than 16 percent and the varieties Olivette Blanche, Ladyfinger, Rish Baba, and Khandahar shall so test not less than 15 percent; however, the Blackrose, Cardinal and Exotic varieties shall so test either not less than 16 percent or not less than 15 percent if the juice contains soluble solids equal to or in excess of 25 parts to every part of acid contained in the juice (the acidity of the juice to be calculated as tartaric acid without water of crystallization).

Same. Other varieties

"Mature" in the case of all other varieties shall mean that the average or composite test of all the grapes in any container or bulk lot shall be not less than 17 percent soluble solids in juice, as determined by the Balling or Brix scale hydrometer; however, white varieties of the Muscat type shall test not less than 18 percent and the variety Burger shall test not less than 16 percent.

In the event that the maturity standard fixed for the Thompson Seedless and Malaga varieties of grapes produced in that area northwest of the San Gorgonio Pass should be declared void, it is the intent of the Legislature that the other maturity standards prescribed in this section shall prevail.

Any varieties included in Group A may be placed in the standard for juice grapes and other varieties may be placed in the standard established for table grapes, but regardless of standard, the maturity of varieties included in Group A shall be determined by testing the juice from entire bunches representative of the least mature grapes in any container and constituting not less than 10 percent by weight of the contents of the container. The maturity of all varieties not included in Group A shall be determined by testing the juice from a composite sample representative of the average of the grapes in any container or bulk lot. The standards provided by this section are minimum standards, and the tolerances allowed by Sections 800 and 801 shall not be applied to any test made in accordance with this section for the purpose of determining whether any lot of grapes complies with the maturity standard for the variety; however, no lot of grapes of the varieties classified in Group A shall be considered as failing to meet the maturity requirements of this section because the sample of grapes from one container fails to meet the required test.

(b) "Waterberry" means a disease characterized by a watery, soft or flabby condition of the berries. Such affected berries are low in sugar content, have tender skins and are very easily crushed.

(c) "Redberry" means a condition closely resembling waterberry generally found in black varieties. Such grapes show a red or brownish-red color in addition to the general characteristics of waterberry.

(d) "Raisined berries" means grape berries which are fully cured, resembling raisins, which do not contain sufficient juice to drop from the berry under ordinary pressure between thumb and finger.

(e) "Sunburned or dried berries" means grapes which show complete drying out, from any cause, of part or all of any individual berries

(f) "Severe freezing injury" means damage affecting the pulp of the berries.

Urgency

SEC. 3. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

That in order to properly produce and market Exotic grapes during the current season and to avoid waste of this product this act must take effect immediately.

CHAPTER 663

An act to amend Section 9953, 9954 and 9957 of, and to add Sections 9361, 9554, 9555, 10011 and 10012 to, the Education Code, relating to school textbooks, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by Governor June 2, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State June 2, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 9361 is added to the Education Code, to read:

Contracts for the purchase of textbooks, etc.

(b) That, if at any time during the term of said contract the textbook or teachers' manual should be sold at a lesser price to any state or school district in the United States under an agreement entered into or amended as to price after the date of said contract, said lesser price shall forthwith become the price at which the textbook or teachers' manual shall be sold in California pursuant to such contract.

(c) That, if at any time during the term of said contract the textbook or teachers' manual shall be offered to any state or school district in the United States under terms and conditions which, when construing the contract as a whole, are more favorable to the purchaser than those applicable under the contract, said terms and conditions shall become applicable at the option of the board to all textbooks or teachers' manuals thereafter furnished pursuant to such contract.

(d) That, upon the willful failure of the seller to comply with the requirements of the contract specified by this section, the seller shall be liable to the State of California in the amount of three times the total sum which the seller was paid in excess of the price required under subdivisions (a) or (b) of this section, and in the amount of three times the total value to the State of the performance of the terms and conditions to which the State is entitled under subdivision (c) of this section.

(a) That the supplementary textbook shall be sold at a price at the publisher's depository in California which, including all costs of transportation to that place, shall not exceed the lowest price at which the seller offers said supplementary textbook for sale to any state or school district in the United States.

(b) That, if at the time of sale of such supplementary textbook the publisher furnishes teachers' manuals or instructional services in connection with such textbook free of charge to any state or school district in the United States, said teachers' manuals and instructional services shall to the same extent be furnished free of charge to the purchaser of such supplementary textbook in California.

(c) That, upon the willful failure of the seller to comply with the obligations imposed by this section, the seller shall be liable to the State of California in the amount of three times the total sum which the seller was paid in excess of the price required under subdivision (a) of this section, and in the amount of three times the total value of the materials and services which the State is entitled to receive free of charge under subdivision (b) of this section.

Each copy of an invoice covering such supplementary textbooks shall contain the publisher's certification, under penalty of perjury, that the obligations imposed by this section have been met.

As used in this section, "publisher's depository in California" includes any office or depository maintained in accordance with Section 9957 of this code.

SEC. 2.5. Section 9555 is added to said code, to read:

Elementary schools

9555. The provisions of Section 9554 shall apply to the purchase of supplementary textbooks for use in elementary schools under Sections 7203 and 7352 of this code.

SEC. 3. Section 9953 of said code is amended to read:

Bond

9953. The bond shall provide that the publisher will furnish the books offered by him and listed by the State Board of Education to any high school district at a price at the publisher's depository in California which, including all costs of transportation to that place, shall not exceed the lowest price at which the publisher offers said books for sale to any state or school district in the United States.

SEC. 4. Section 9954 of said code is amended to read:

Same

9954. The bond shall also provide that the publisher will reduce the price automatically to purchasers within the State to the extent that reductions are made elsewhere in the United States.

SEC. 4.5. Section 9957 of said code is amended to read:

Same

9957. The bond shall further provide that the publisher will maintain an office and depository in California or arrange with an independently owned and operated depository in California to receive and fill orders for the textbooks.

SEC. 5. Section 10011 is added to said code, to read:

Obligations of publisher

10011. Textbooks adopted pursuant to this article and sold by a publisher for use in a public high school within the State shall be sold pursuant to a purchase order upon each copy of which there shall be clearly set forth the obligation of the publisher to comply with each of the following:

(a) That the textbook shall be sold at a price at the publisher's depository in California which, including all costs of transportation to that place, shall not exceed the lowest price at which the seller offers said textbooks for sale to any state or school district in the United States.

(b) That, if at the time of sale of such textbook the publisher furnishes teachers' manuals or instructional services in connection with such textbook free of charge to any state or school district in the United States, said teachers' manuals and instructional services shall to the same extent be furnished free of charge to the purchaser of such textbook in California.

(c) That, upon the willful failure of the seller to comply with the obligations imposed by this section, the seller shall be liable to the State of California in the amount of three times the total sum which the seller was paid in excess of the price required under subdivision (a) of this section, and in the amount of three times the total value of the materials and services which the State is entitled to receive free of charge under subdivision (b) of this section.

Each copy of an invoice covering such textbook shall contain the publisher's certification, under penalty of perjury, that the obligations imposed by this section have been met.

As used in this section, "publisher's depository in California" includes any office or depository maintained in accordance with Section 9957 of this code.

SEC. 5.5. Section 10012 is added to said code, to read:

High school textbooks

10012. The provisions of Section 10011 shall apply to the purchase of high school textbooks under Sections 7203 and 7352 of this code.

Urgency

SEC. 6. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public peace, health or safety within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and Sections 1, 2, 2.5, 5 and 5.5 thereof shall go into immediate effect. The facts constituting such necessity are:

The Legislature is presently engaged in investigating prices of textbooks purchased by school districts and by the State Board of Education. There is reason to believe that the prices set by the manufacturers are much too high, and that even with the changes made by this act, the manufacturers' profits will still be substantial. In order to give the manufacturers sufficient time to submit their revised prices for textbooks for the 1961-1962 school year, it is necessary that Sections 1, 2, 2.5, 5 and 5.5 of this act go into effect immediately.

CHAPTER 664

1. If the appeal be on questions of law alone, a certified copy of the entries in the docket relating to the action, all written pleadings filed in the action, the statement as settled, all exhibits, notices, affidavits, orders, and other papers and documents on file with the court in such action which are referred to in the statement by designations sufficient to identify them, the notice of appeal and the undertakings filed; or,

When the action is for the recovery of or to enforce or foreclose a lien on specific personal property, the undertaking must be conditioned that the appellant will pay the judgment and costs appealed from, and obey the order of the court made therein, if the appeal be withdrawn or dismissed, or any judgment and costs that may be recovered against him in said action in the reviewing court, and will obey any order made by the court therein

When the judgment appealed from directs the delivery of possession of real property, the execution of the same cannot be stayed unless a written undertaking be executed on the part of the appellant, with two or more sureties, to the effect that during the possession of such property by the appellant, he will not commit, or suffer to be committed any waste thereon, and that if the appeal be dismissed or withdrawn, or the judgment affirmed, or judgment be recovered against him in the action in the reviewing court, he will pay the value of the use and occupation of the property from the time of the appeal until the delivery of possession thereof; or that he will pay any judgment and costs that may be recovered against him in said action in the reviewing court, not exceeding a sum to be fixed by the judge of the court from which the appeal is taken, and which sum must be specified in the undertaking

1. Where, in the absence of a written stipulation extending the time, such appeal is not brought to trial or to a hearing within one year from the date of filing such appeal in said superior court, if, upon hearing after notice, it should appear to the satisfaction of said superior court that the delay in bringing said appeal to trial or to a hearing within said one-year period was occasioned by lack of reasonable diligence on the part of the appealing party; or,

This section is applicable only in the superior court.

SEC 7. Section 982 of the Code of Civil Procedure is amended to read:

CHAPTER 694

An act to authorize the inclusion of the Orcutt Sanitary District within the Laguna County Sanitation District, relating to sanitary and sanitation districts.

In effect September 15, 1961

[Approved by Governor June 6, 1961. Filed with Secretary of State June 6, 1961.]

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

Orcutt Sanitary District

SECTION 1. The facilities of the Orcutt Sanitary District in Santa Barbara County are not adequate to meet the demands for services which are being made upon the district and the district does not have sufficient financial resources to enable the district to expand its facilities to the extent necessary to meet such demands for services. The Laguna County Sanitation District in Santa Barbara County has existing facilities and financial resources to enable it to provide the services if the territory of the Orcutt Sanitary District were included within the Laguna County Sanitation District and the Orcutt Sanitary District dissolved. There is, at the present time, no law which permits a sanitary district to be included within a county sanitation district by action of the respective governing boards of the districts and provides for the dissolution of the sanitary district upon its inclusion within the county sanitation district. It is, therefore, necessary that a special law be enacted which will authorize the inclusion of the Orcutt Sanitary District within the Laguna County Sanitation District and provide for the dissolution of the Orcutt Sanitary District upon such inclusion.

Requesting inclusion by resolution

SEC. 2. The district board of the Orcutt Sanitary District may, by resolution, request the inclusion of the district within the Laguna County Sanitation District. A verified copy of the resolution shall be filed with the Secretary of State and with the board of directors of the Laguna County Sanitation District.

Approval, inclusion by resolution, etc.

SEC. 3. If the board of directors of the Laguna County Sanitation District approves of the inclusion of the Orcutt Sanitary District within the Laguna County Sanitation District, it shall adopt a resolution declaring the Orcutt Sanitary District included within the Laguna County Sanitation District. Upon the filing of a verified copy of the resolution with the Secretary of State, the Orcutt Sanitary District is included within the Laguna County Sanitation District and is dissolved.

Property, funds

The property, funds and obligations of the former district shall become the property of the Laguna County Sanitation District.

Property continues subject to tax

SEC. 4. The property in the territory now constituting the Orcutt Sanitary District shall remain subject to tax to pay off any outstanding indebtedness of the Orcutt Sanitary District at the time of its inclusion within the Laguna County Sanitation District. The tax shall be levied by the board of directors

Section 1. Such lands or portions thereof are located within that segment of the Wilmington Oil Field designated as Fault Block IV, as said Fault Block IV descriptive boundaries are set forth in the officially published Findings of Fact and Orders of the State Oil and Gas Supervisor, dated February 26, 1959, and are the subject of presently existing contracts or royalty arrangements between the City of Long Beach and the following oil operators: the Termo Company-Oakes-Combs Group, General American Oil Company of Texas, Signal Oil and Gas Company, Hancock Oil Company, D. D. Dunlap Oil Company, Royalty Service Corporation, Ltd., the Superior Oil Company and Humble Oil & Refining Company, hereinafter called "enumerated oil operators." Said contracts or royalty arrangements provide for the production of oil and gas therefrom, which contracts or royalty arrangements will expire by their terms within the next five years or thereafter. Such lands are located within a subsidence area, as fixed and established pursuant to Section 3336 of the Public Resources Code, and it is necessary in aid of the legislative declarations contained in Article 5.5 (commencing at Section 3315), Chapter 1, Division 3 of the Public Resources Code, that the City of Long Beach be empowered and authorized to extend, amend, and modify such contracts or royalty arrangements in order to make it feasible for the city and the enumerated oil operators, their successors or assigns, to enter into unit or co-operative agreements providing for the repressuring of a portion or all of such lands in order to arrest or ameliorate subsidence. CHAPTER 2A. MORTGAGE GUARANTY INSURANCE

Article 1. Definitions

12640.01. This chapter may be cited as the Mortgage Guaranty Insurance Act. Short title

Definitions

12640.02. The definitions set forth in this article shall govern the construction of the terms used in this chapter but shall not affect any other provisions of this code.

"Mortgage guaranty insurance"

(a) "Mortgage guaranty insurance" means insurance against financial loss by reason of nonpayment of principal, interest and other sums agreed to be paid under the terms of any note or bond or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument constituting a lien or charge on real estate.

"Authorized real estate security"

(b) "Authorized real estate security" means an amortized note, bond or other evidence of indebtedness, not exceeding ninety (90) percent of the fair market value of the real estate, secured by a mortgage, deed of trust, or other instrument constituting a first lien or charge on real estate; provided:

(1) The real estate loan secured in such manner is originated by a bank, savings and loan association, or an insurance company, which is supervised and regulated by a department of this State or an agency of the federal government.

(2) The improvement on such real estate is a residential building or buildings designed for occupancy by not more than four families.

(3) The lien on such real estate may be subject and subordinate to the following:

(i) The lien of any public bond, assessment, or tax, when no installment, call or payment of or under such bond, assessment or tax is delinquent.

(ii) Outstanding mineral, oil or timber rights, rights-of-way, easements or rights-of-way or support, sewer rights, building restrictions or other restrictions or covenants, conditions or regulations of use, or outstanding leases upon such real property under which rents or profits are reserved to the owner thereof.

"Contingency reserve"

(c) "Contingency reserve" means an additional premium reserve established for the protection of policyholders against the effect of adverse economic cycles.

"Policyholder surplus"

(d) "Policyholders surplus" means the aggregate of capital, surplus and contingency reserve.

Article 2. Capital, Surplus and Contingency Reserve Requirements

Capital and surplus requirements

12640.03. An insurer shall not transact the business of mortgage guaranty insurance unless it has paid-in capital of at least one million dollars ($1,000,000) and paid-in surplus of at least one million dollars ($1,000,000).

Contingency reserve

12640.04. In addition to the paid-in capital and surplus provided in Section 12640.03, each mortgage guaranty insurer shall establish a contingency reserve out of net premiums remaining (gross premiums less premiums returned to policyholders) after establishment of the unearned premium reserve. To the contingency reserve the insurer shall contribute an amount equal to fifty (50) percent of such remaining premiums. The yearly contributions to the contingency reserve made during each calendar year shall be maintained for a period of 180 months, except that withdrawals may be made by the insurer in any given year in which the actual losses exceed the expected losses. The commissioner shall, by regulation, determine when an insurer may make withdrawals from its contingency reserve.

Outstanding total liability

12640.05. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall not at any time have outstanding a total liability under its aggregate insurance policies exceeding 25 times its policyholders surplus, such liability to be computed on the basis of the insurer's liability under its election as provided in Section 12640.09. In the event that any insurer has outstanding total liability exceeding 25 times its policyholders surplus, it shall cease transacting new business until such time as its total liability no longer exceeds 25 times its policyholders surplus.

Dividends

12640.06. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall not declare any dividends except from undivided profits remaining on hand over and above the aggregate of its paid-in capital, paid-in surplus and contingency reserve.

Article 4. Limitations and Restrictions for Transacting Business

By whom transacted

12640.07. Mortgage guaranty insurance may be transacted in this State only by a stock or mutual casualty insurer holding a certificate of authority for the transaction of such insurance pursuant to this chapter (commencing with Section 12460.01), and shall be written only to insure loans secured by authorized real estate securities as defined in Article 1 (commencing with Section 12604.01) of this chapter. Any reciprocal insurer engaging in this type of business shall be bound by all provisions of this chapter, including the requirements as to paid-in capital and paid-in surplus.

Loans secured by housing tract

12640.08. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall not insure loans secured by properties in a single housing tract or a contiguous tract in excess of ten (10) percent of the insurer's policyholders surplus. In determining the amount of such risk, applicable reinsurance in any assuming insurer authorized to transact mortgage guaranty insurance in this State shall be deducted from the total direct risk insured. "Contiguous," for the purposes of this section, means not separated by more than one-half mile.

Limitation on coverage

12640.09. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall limit its coverage to a maximum of twenty (20) percent of the outstanding balance of the loan insured, but the insurer's liability shall in no event exceed the actual loss or as provided in Section 12640 095. In lieu of paying the percentage of the loan insured as specified in the policy, a mortgage guaranty insurer may elect to pay the entire indebtedness to the insured and acquire title to the authorized real estate security.

Same

12640.095. A mortgage guaranty insurer shall limit its coverage to a maximum of twenty (20) percent of the outstanding balance of the loan insured, but in lieu of complying with Section 12640.09, the insurer's liability shall in no event exceed eighty (80) percent of the actual loss. In lieu of paying the percentage of the loan insured as specified in the policy, a mortgage guaranty insurer may elect to pay the entire indebtedness to the insured and acquire title to the authorized real estate security.

Transaction of other insurance

12640.10. A mortgage guaranty insurance insurer which anywhere transacts any class of insurance other than mortgage guaranty insurance is not eligible for the issuance of a certificate of authority to transact mortgage guaranty insurance in this State nor for the renewal thereof.

Right to impose other requirements

12640.11. Nothing in this chapter (commencing with Section 12640.01) shall be construed as limiting the right of any mortgage guaranty insurer to impose reasonable requirements upon the lender with regard to the terms of any note or bond or other evidence of indebtedness secured by a mortgage or deed of trust, such as requiring a stipulated down payment by the borrower.

Article 5. Rebates and Commissions

Schedule of premium charges

12640.12. Every mortgage guaranty insurer shall adopt, print and make available a schedule of premium charges for mortgage guaranty insurance policies. The schedule shall show the entire amount of premium charge for each type of mortgage guaranty insurance policy issued by the insurer.

Prohibited commissions

12640.13. No mortgage guaranty insurer shall pay to any person who is acting as agent, representative, attorney or employee of the owner, mortgagee of the prospective owner, or mortgagee of the real property or any interest therein, either directly or indirectly, any commission, or any part of its premium charges or any other consideration as an inducement for or as compensation on any mortgage guaranty insurance business.

Prohibited rebates

12640.14. No mortgage guaranty insurer shall make any rebate of any portion of the premium charge shown by the schedule required by Section 12640.12. No mortgage guaranty insurer shall quote any premium charge to any person which is less than that currently available to others for the same type of mortgage guaranty insurance policy. The amount by which any premium charge is less than that called for by the current schedule of premium charges is an unlawful rebate.

Suspension or revocation of certificate

12640.15. The commissioner may after a hearing suspend or revoke the certificate of authority of any mortgage guaranty insurer which, after 10 days written notice from the commissioner requiring it to cease and desist, continues to pay any commission or to make any unlawful rebate in willful violation of the provisions of this article (commencing with Section 12640.12). The hearings of the commissioner shall be conducted in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act, Chapter 5, Part 1, Division 3, Title 2 of the Government Code, and the commissioner shall have all the powers granted therein.

Article 6. Financial Statements

Law applicable

12640.16. (a) The provisions of Article 10 (commencing with Section 900), Chapter 1, Part 2, Division 1, relating to financial statements, shall apply to mortgage guaranty insurers.

Unearned premium reserve

(b) The unearned premium reserve shall be computed in accordance with the other applicable sections of this code, except that on all policies covering a risk period of more than one year the unearned premium reserve shall be computed in accordance with standards promulgated by the commissioner after appropriate hearings.

Loss reserve

(c) In addition to the contingency reserve required under Section 12640.04, the case basis method shall be used to determine the loss reserve, which shall include a reserve for claims reported and unpaid and claims incurred but not reported, including:

(i) Estimated losses on insured loans which have resulted in the conveyance of property which remains unsold.

(ii) Insured loans in the process of foreclosure.

(iii) Insured loans in default for four or more months.

Article 7. Applicability of Other Laws

Laws applicable

12640.17. All the applicable provisions of this code and of other statutes of this State, except as the same may be in conflict herewith, shall apply to the operation and conduct of the business authorized by this chapter (commencing with Section 12604.01).

Article 8. Additional Powers of Commissioner

Rules and regulations

12640.18. The commissioner may adopt, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 5 of Part 1 of Division 3 of Title 2 of the Government Code, such reasonable rules and regulations as may be necessary to carry out the provisions of this chapter (commencing with Section 12604.01), including, but not limited to, appropriate restrictions as to investments, giving full consideration to the desirability of high liquidity.

Article 9. Advertising

Reference to "insured loans"

12640.19. No bank, savings and loan association or insurance company, any of whose authorized real estate securities are insured by mortgage guaranty insurance pursuant to this chapter (commencing with Section 12640.01) may state in any brochure, pamphlet, report or any form of advertising that the real estate loans of the bank, savings and loan association or insurance company are "insured loans" unless the brochure, pamphlet, report or advertising also clearly states that the loans are insured by private insurers and the names of the private insurers are given and shall not make any such

However, if the money or the value of other property to be paid or delivered under said order or judgment does not exceed one thousand dollars ($1,000), the court may direct that the money or property be paid or delivered to the father or mother, without bond. If the court approves the compromise or the execution of the covenant and the money or the value of other property to be paid or delivered under the compromise or covenant exceeds ten thousand dollars ($10,000) it must require a general guardian to be appointed and must direct that the money or other property be paid or delivered to such guardian or in lieu thereof it must require that any moneys so paid be deposited in a bank or banks, or a trust company or companies, or be invested in an account or accounts in an insured savings and loan association or associations, subject to withdrawal only upon the order of the court or, as to any property to be received by the minor shall prescribe such conditions as the court may deem proper. The father or mother or the guardian, upon receiving such money or other property may execute a full release and satisfaction of, or execute a covenant not to sue on the claim of the minor; provided, however, that such release and satisfaction or covenant not to sue shall not be effective for any purpose until the money to be paid under the compromise or covenant shall have been deposited in the bank or trust company or invested in an account in an insured savings and loan association as directed in the order of the court. The clerk of the court shall not charge any fee for filing the petition. The term "account in an insured savings and loan association" used in this section means shares issued by a federal savings and loan association, or investment certificates issued by a state-chartered building and loan association or savings and loan association doing business in this State which is an "insured institution" as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act, or shares issued by a state-chartered building and loan association or savings and loan association doing business in this State which does not issue investment certificates and which is an "insured institution" as defined in Title IV of the National Housing Act.

The court may likewise, in its discretion, after notice to the adverse party, allow, upon such terms as may be just, an amendment to any pleading or proceeding in other particulars; and may upon like terms allow an answer to be made after the time limited by this code.

Postponement of trial

When it appears to the satisfaction of the court that such amendment renders it necessary, the court may postpone the trial, and may, when such postponement will by the amendment be rendered necessary, require, as a condition to the amendment, the payment to the adverse party of such costs as may be just.

Relief from judgments, etc.

The court may, upon such terms as may be just, relieve a party or his legal representative from a judgment, order, or other proceeding taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise or excusable neglect. Application for such relief must be accompanied by a copy of the answer or other pleading proposed to be filed therein, otherwise the application shall not be granted, and must be made within a reasonable time, in no case exceeding six months, after such judgment, order or proceeding was taken; provided, however, that, in the case of a judgment, order or other proceeding determining the ownership or right to possession of real or personal property, without extending said six months period, when a notice in writing is personally served within the State of California both upon the party against whom the judgment, order or other proceeding has been taken, and upon his attorney of record, if any, notifying said party and his attorney of record, if any, that such order, judgment or other proceeding was taken against him and that any rights said party has to apply for relief under the provisions of Section 473 of the Code of Civil Procedure shall expire 90 days after service of said notice, then such application must be made within 90 days after service of such notice upon the defaulting party or his attorney of record, if any, whichever service shall be later.

Clerical mistakes

The court may, upon motion of the injured party, or its own motion, correct clerical mistakes in its judgment or orders as entered, so as to conform to the judgment or order directed, and may, on motion of either party after notice to the other party, set aside any void judgment or order.

SEC. 2. Section 473a of said code is amended to read:

Time to answer where defendant not personally served

473a. When from any cause the summons in an action has not been personally served on the defendant, the court may allow, on such terms as may be just, such defendant or his legal representatives, at any time within one year after the rendition of any judgment in such action, to answer to the merits of the original action; provided, however, that, without extending said one year period, in the case of a judgment, order or other proceeding determining the ownership or right to possession of real or personal property, when a notice in writing is personally served within or without the State of California both upon said defendant and upon his attorney of record, if any, notifying said defendant and his attorney of record, if any, that such judgment had been rendered against him and that any rights said defendant has to apply for relief under Section 473a of the Code of Civil Procedure shall expire 180 days after service of said notice, then the time within which said defendant or his legal representatives may apply for such relief shall not exceed 180 days after said service of said notice upon said defendant or his attorney of record, if any, whichever service shall be later.

782. In the case of a private sale, the notice must state a place where bids or offers will be received, and a day on or after which the sale will be made, and the sale must not be made before that day, but must be made within one year thereafter; but if it is shown that it will be for the best interests of the estate, the court or judge may, by an order, shorten the time of notice required by Section 6063 of the Government Code to one week, and such notice must then be published pursuant to Section 6061 of the Government Code or, in proper cases, posted for one week prior to the date of the sale or, in the case of a private sale, prior to the day on or after which the sale is to be made and otherwise in accordance with Section 780 of this code. CHAPTER 729

An act to amend Section 19577 of the Education Code, relating to state school building aid, declaring the urgency thereof, to take effect immediately.

[Approved by the Governor June 7, 1961 Filed with Secretary of State June 7, 1961.] In effect immediately

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19577 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19577. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this chapter, a district which applies for an apportionment for the purchase of a site or comprehensive master plan, or for the cost of the preparation of plans and specifications, which is not a part of a construction project, shall make a separate application for such site, comprehensive master plan, or plans and specifications in the same manner as prescribed by Section 19571.

All of the provisions of this chapter apply to such application and apportionment except that:

(a) If the Department of Education determines that within five years in the case of an application for an elementary grade level maintained by the district, or within seven years, in the case of an application for a high school grade level maintained by the district, from the date of the application for the site or comprehensive master plan, or for the plans and specifications, there will be sufficient enrollment in the district to show the need of such site or comprehensive master plan, or for the plans and specifications, it may approve the application. The board may modify a determination respecting future enrollment in connection with an application for an elementary grade level maintained by the district to utilize a period of seven years from the date of the application if it is necessary to meet the emergency conditions existing in that certain district due to a rapid increase in the enrollment of pupils, or due to the scarcity of land within the district, or both. Any application referred to the board pursuant to this section may be either approved in whole or in part, not exceeding the amount applied for, as the board may deem appropriate, pursuant to Sections 19571 and 19576, except that the board may approve additional portions of an application and make an additional apportionment or apportionments within five years of the original approval without requiring a district to issue additional bonds. No additional approval pursuant to the original application or apportionment thereunder may be made unless the board first has investigated and determined the necessity of such additional approval or apportionment, and has received a report thereon from the Department of Education. Any provision of Section 19571 inconsistent with this section shall not apply to such application. As used in this section, and "elementary grade level maintained by the district" is a grade level composed of the grades and maintained by the districts specified in (1) of subdivision (e) of Section 19553. As used in this section a "high school grade level maintained by the district" is a grade level composed of the grades and maintained by the districts specified in (2) of subdivision (e) of Section 19553.

(b) Section 19556 does not apply.

(c) An application for a site pursuant to this section may include an amount for the preparation of plans and specifications for school facilities and for the development of the site, which will conform to those eligible for construction under this chapter.

(d) If the application is approved and an apportionment granted therefor the district shall repay the full amount of such apportionment and the interest thereon. The repayment of the apportionment for a site or comprehensive master plan, and the interest thereon, may be over a period of years, not to exceed 30 years from the first day of January of the fiscal year next succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment became final. The repayment of the apportionment for plans and specifications, and the interest thereon, may be over a period of years, not to exceed 30 years from the first day of January of the second fiscal year succeeding the fiscal year in which such apportionment became final. The number of years allowed for repayment shall be determined by the board at the time it fixes interest on the apportionment. Such repayment is in addition to any other repayment required under this chapter. If an apportionment is granted pursuant to this section for a site and such site is subsequently used in a construction project for which an apportionment is received under other provisions of this chapter, or if an apportionment is granted pursuant to this section for plans and specifications and such plans and specifications are subsequently used in a construction project for which an apportionment is received under other provisions of this chapter, the district shall not be required to make any further repayments for the site, or the plans and specifications, as the case may be, pursuant to this section and the unpaid balance of the apportionment and interest owing on the apportionment for the site, or the plans and specifications, as the case may be, pursuant to this section shall be added to the principal amount of the apportionment and accrued interest thereon for the construction project. Such site shall be deemed to be "subsequently used in a construction project" within the meaning of the preceding sentence, if it is used in connection with a construction project at the same grade level by any district receiving a construction apportionment therefor, this being not intended as a change in the present law, but as a statement of the existing law. In addition, such site shall be deemed to be "subsequently used in a construction project" within the meaning of such reference, if it is used in connection with such construction project by any district receiving a construction apportionment therefor at a different grade level, providing that in such latter instance the board in its discretion consents by resolution to the combination of such site and construction apportionments.

SEC. 2. This act is an urgency measure necessary for the immediate preservation of the public health within the meaning of Article IV of the Constitution and shall go into effect immediately. The facts constituting such necessity are: Urgency

It is felt that there is an inequity in the present law inasmuch as it has been held that successor districts may combine "site only" apportionments made to a former district, with construction apportionments made to such successor districts for use on said site at the same grade level, but may not combine the same where the construction apportionments are made for such use at a different grade level, thereby in the latter case requiring such successor districts to repay the "site only" apportionments in full. To grant financial relief to hard-pressed school districts from this inequity at the earliest possible moment it is necessary that this act take effect immediately.

In effect September 15, 1961

The people of the State of California do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section 19483 of the Education Code is amended to read:

19483. Whenever, subsequent to the date on which a conditional apportionment becomes final, territory is withdrawn from a state-aided district and no portion of the apportionment was expended for school property acquired by the acquiring district:

(1) If the acquiring district is a state-aided district, the assessed valuation in the territory acquired shall be included in determining assessed valuation of the property in the acquiring district, and shall thereafter be excluded in determining assessed valuation of the property in the state-aided district, for purposes of the computations under Sections 19430 to 19434, inclusive;

(2) If the acquiring district is not a state-aided district, the State Controller shall determine the percentage relationship, at the time of the withdrawal, between (a) the assessed valuation in the territory acquired, together with the current assessed valuation in all other territory theretofore acquired by the acquiring district from the state-aided district since the date of its first conditional apportionment under this chapter, and (b) the current assessed valuation of the state-aided district as it was territorially constituted on such latter date.

If the percentage of assessed valuation in acquired territory is, in the aggregate, less than 10 percent, the assessed valuation in all such acquired territory shall be excluded, until the next withdrawal of territory from the state-aided district to the acquiring district, in determining the assessed valuation of the state-aided district for the purposes of the computations under Sections 19430 to 19434, inclusive.

If the percentage of assessed valuation in acquired territory is, in the aggregate, a percentage equal to or greater than 10 percent, the State Controller shall, by deducting such percentage from 100 percent, obtain the "complement percentage." Until the next withdrawal of territory from the state-aided district to the acquiring district, the assessed valuation of the state-aided district for purposes of the computations under Sections 19430 to 19434, inclusive, shall be determined by dividing the current assessed valuation of the state-aided district, as territorially constituted immediately subsequent to the last withdrawal, by the complement percentage.

Whenever, pursuant to this section, the assessed valuation of the state-aided district is adjusted for repayment computation purposes by use of the complement percentage, liability for the annual repayment computed shall be apportioned between the state-aided district and the acquiring district by multiplying such annual repayment by the complement percentage, the product representing the liability of the state-aided district, and the remainder of the computed repayment representing the liability of the acquiring district.

(3) In the event that two or more non-state-aided districts acquire territory from the aforesaid state-aided district the controller shall determine the formulae for apportioning liability for such annual repayment between the districts affected (including the formulae for determining what assessed valuations shall be used within the affected districts or territories withdrawn, and the dates of determination thereof) as will in his opinion best comply with the principles set forth above, irrespective of whether such formulae are in literal compliance therewith.
